A CRIPPLE FROM RHEUMATISM

Tortured Four Years Until He Took "Fruit-a-lives"

RIDGECROWN, ONT., May 21st, 1913.
"Your 'Fruit-a-lives' cured me of Rheumatism. It was the only medicine that made any impression on me. I was a terrible sufferer from Rheumatism. I was laid up for four winters with Sciatica and Muscular Rheumatism, and was a cripple completely, not being able to do anything. I doctored with four different physicians, but they did not help me. Other advertised remedies were equally unsatisfactory, and I have taken several.

Some neighbor of mine told me that 'Fruit-a-lives' helped him, and I took them faithfully every day and the result was marvellous. For over two years now, I have been free from any Rheumatic pains whatever, and give 'Fruit-a-lives' the full credit for making a remarkable cure."

W. T. RACHER

If you are subject to Rheumatic Attacks, Sciatica, Lumbago or Neuralgia, take 'Fruit-a-lives' right now and start the permanent cure which 'Fruit-a-lives' will complete if taken faithfully. 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. My Christmas Present From the Skies.
(Written for the Courier.)
My Christmas present from the skies brings joy and gladness to my eyes; 'Tis just as sweet this very day As when it in the manger lay.

Presented to me with God's love By angels from His courts above; The universe doth silence keep, While God through angel voices speaks.

"Fear not, we bring you tidings sweet; A star shall guide your wandering feet To where that precious Gift is found. In sacred Bethlehem, Lovely Town."

"Glory to God in the highest," they sing, Peace on earth His coming bring; Good will towards all the human race For all doth need His saving grace.

This day is born the Prince of Peace; Go lay your treasures at His feet, All nations shall in Him be blessed If they obey His high behest.

The Gift God gave me from above Was Jesus and His fullest love; He sent Him down to rescue me From out the jaws of death, you see.

Thanks for the Gift God sendeth me, 'Tis salvation full and free; The only way by which we can Be changed from death to life again.

Oh, how I praise His glorious name! That Jesus Christ His Son thus came, A willing substitute for me, And died upon the accursed tree.

I now with angels join and sing, Halleluia to the newborn King; I do accept, oh God, this day The Babe that in the manger lay.

ROSEWAY

A NEW YEAR'S HOUSE PARTY.

We were two boys and three girls in our family, the youngest fifteen, the oldest twenty six, when we gave the new year's house party that proved a turning point in my life. Every room in the house was occupied, some of them by three persons. We had scarcely got together when we began a series of practical jokes on one another, at which the girls were far more adept than the boys. The very first night the sheets in every fellow's bed were soiled, and the next day at luncheon there were cream cakes on the table filled with cotton provided by the girls. One fellow swallowed his cake, cotton and all, rather than confess himself stung.

We sat up so late nights and some of us were sitting so early in the morning that we were ready to fall asleep at any moment. One evening when playing the game "twenty questions" I was sent into another room while the others chose something for me to guess. There was no light in the room where I waited, but there was an easy chair I sat down in the chair and fell asleep.

I was awakened by a kiss, I grabbed a girl, but she got away from me, though only after a struggle. When I had once lost her it was easy to find her, though the rustling of her skirts was a disadvantage to her, while my greater weight, rendering my tread heavier, was constantly betraying me. She dodged me for some time, when all became quiet. Then suddenly I heard the door open and close. Since the adjoining room was also dark I knew that the others had turned on the lights to enable the girl I was after to escape. The escape having been effected, I went to the door to go out. I found it locked.

It was some ten minutes before it was opened, and I joined the others, the room having been relighted. I cast my eyes from one girl to another with a view to discovering who had me. The first girl I looked at had a scratch on her nose. But the second one also had a scratch, and the third. Indeed, every girl was scratched. I looked at the fellows and saw that they were laughing at me.

Now, among our guests there was one girl for whom my heart had begun to beat. I would have given a kingdom if I had had for proof that Maria had done the kissing. Whoever had done it had doubtless been dared. Whether my preference for Maria had been noticed by the other girls and when I was found asleep she had been chosen to play the joke on me I didn't know. If she had done the kissing she certainly showed no evidence of the fact—that is, any more than the rest of the girls—a scratched nose. But there was one thing that led me to suspect her. While every other girl in the room was kept up to the highest pitch of mischief, their eyes dancing, their lips, cheeks, every feature smiling, Maria seemed simply unconcerned.

At 2 a. m. I went to bed no wiser as to the identity of the kisser than before. But the next morning after having dressed, noticing that I needed to change my handkerchief, I jerked it from the outside pocket of my coat and heard something land on the floor. stooping, I picked up a stick pin.

It at once occurred to me that during the scuffle of the evening before the pin had fallen from the lady's apparel, probably from about the neck, and caught on my handkerchief. Unfortunately it was a very inexpensive article with an imitation pearl for a head and did not identify my particular girl. I realized the importance of keeping my find a secret. Going down to break fast, I found that three different girls were pins that were duplicates of the one I possessed. They were the most likely to be suspected, and among them was Maria. Doubtless if there had been enough such articles to go round every girl would have worn a stickpin as well as a scratched nose. By and by it occurred to me that when the pin was in transit from the girl to my pocket it had made the scratch on her nose.

The problem was now narrowed down to three girls, for doubtless the girl who had done the kissing was among those who wore pins. It seemed to me that I must make her betray herself or the victory would be with the girls. I sat down to the breakfast table, ignoring my find. But while the girls were rinsing their dainty fingers in their finger bowls I said:

"I have found something that belonged to the girl who kissed me last night."

Every girl expressed by her behavior a keen interest in what I said except Maria, who took advantage of rinsing her fingers to bend over the little glass bowl before her. I made up my mind that I was getting "warm," as the children say in hide and seek, and concluded on a bold stroke. I continued:

"You may think that a little stickpin she lost when trying to get away from me is what I refer to. It is not."

Every girl stopped smiling and looked serious. I could see Maria wince.

"The girl who kissed me I love," I went on, "and I am ready to proclaim it here before you all."

I fixed my eye on Maria. A hot flame sprang into her cheeks. To conceal it she turned away and presently threw up the sponge by covering her face with her napkin.

The next year Maria and I entertained the same party in our own house.

Swept by Storm

New York, Dec. 26—New York and vicinity, and miles of the North Jersey coast suffered today from a combination of wind, rain and tide, incident to a storm which began last night and increased in fury near dawn.

Many fishermen's shacks were destroyed, hotels undermined and the Central Railroad of New Jersey put out of commission. Small craft here and there broke away from their moorings and were either damaged or lost.

A driving rain storm gave way to snow for a time during the afternoon.

A Busy Day

It was a busy day in the butcher shop. The butcher yelled to the boy who helped him out in the shop.

"Hurry up, John, and don't forget to cut off Mrs. Murphy's leg and break Mrs. Jones's bones, and don't forget to slice Mrs. Johnson's tongue."

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Digby, January 2, 1914

—We are just entering on another year. What use are we going to make of it? No people ever started out with such peaceful skies and favoring winds as we have had so far. Forty-six years of Confederation have produced wonderful results. The statesmen of that day who planned and carried it out, were wise and patriotic. Party strife was for a time laid aside, and all combined for the general good. No man now wherever he may be hesitates to own himself a Canadian and show his pride in his Country.

All walks of life in the United States are enriched by men who first saw the light in Canada. Many of them are national characters, others are leaders in the States, others loom above the multitude in the cities, or stand out in the colleges or other circles of activity. The responsibility rests with us of carrying on a work so well begun, of making a clean and honest nation, whose thoughts, ideals and aspirations shall be fitted for the great career that is undoubtedly opening up before us. We are a people virile, energetic and confident. Everywhere from the east to the west are felt the strong pulse beats of national life.

We are straining every nerve in preparing for the future. Building terminals and providing facilities for the handling of passengers and freight at our ports, widening and deepening our canals and waterways, adding yearly to our system of railways and with commendable foresight getting ready for the place we must fill in the world of trade and commerce. If the twentieth century is to be Canada's, it will not find us unprepared. One great task will be to assimilate and convert into good Canadians the constantly increasing number of immigrants, who now at the rate of a thousand a day, are landing on our shores. We have a great object lesson before us in the experience of our neighbors, who have in this respect found it unwise to admit newcomers indiscriminately, and to keep out those who from any cause, are not likely to make good citizens. We will find it much easier to keep out degenerates and the morally unfit than to take care of them after they come in. We must prevent the introduction and perpetuation of the vicious and degenerate.

This is a duty we owe both to ourselves and to those coming after us. It is the children of the people coming into the country that should be looked after, placed in schools and taught to speak the English language who will in time become useful citizens. There is enough to tax our minds in supplying our needs from year to year.

Have we warrant after all in our present circumstances and condition for looking so hopefully to the future? We believe we have. We occupy a position on this continent which gives us advantages over all other nations in carrying on trade between the eastern and western worlds. Our agricultural possibilities are great. Our mines, our forests, our fisheries, our great lakes and mighty rivers, our water power, yet to be developed, and above all the character of our people justify all, and more than all that has been said. In the words of Bishop Berkley: "Time's noblest offspring is her last."

Christmas at the Alma House

THE ANNUAL ENTERTAINMENT WAS A BIG SUCCESS.

The annual Christmas tree and entertainment at the Alma House, Wednesday Dec. 24th, was a decided success. Owing to the disagreeable weather only a few were able to attend. The early part of the evening was delightfully spent in music, both vocal and instrumental. The tree, well laden with gifts of all kinds and huge bags of candy, nuts, oranges and raisins, was a gorgeous sight. At about 9 p. m. Santa appeared and was greeted with shouts of joy by both young and old. He then proceeded to distribute the gifts. All were liberally remembered, the children especially so. Mr. James Woodman, as Santa, was a great success. During the evening large baskets of fruit arrived, which were greatly appreciated. At the conclusion of the festive, one of the elder ladies, now in her 90th year, delighted all present by singing a hymn in Indian and in Portuguese. On the day following a sumptuous goose dinner was served, followed by a desert of pumpkin, apple and mince pie, also candy, nuts and oranges. The keeper and matron wish to thank the merchants of Digby, and all those who so kindly gave their aid in the good cause. Great credit is due Mr. and Mrs. Marshall for the able way in which they handled both the entertainment and dinner.

Fined $10 and Costs

Cyril Raymond was fined $10 and costs last week, or ten days in jail, for shooting partridge during the closed season.

Bijou Dream Theatre

THE BATTLE OF WATERLOO IN FOUR REELS

Nearly half an hour before time to start Monday night's show the Bijou Dream theatre was packed to the doors and at 8 o'clock the "standing room only" sign was displayed. While the show consisted of seven reels, the big attraction was "The Battle of Waterloo" in four reels. This is considered the best war picture ever shown in the maritime provinces. It was obtained at an enormous expense but manager Cripps, determined to give his patrons good value for their money, arranged to put this picture through his entire circuit of theatres and to repeat it at Digby tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon and evening. The afternoon entertainment commenced at 2 o'clock and will give adults and children, not only from around town, but those from the surrounding county who cannot get here any other time, a chance to see all four reels. In the evening the whole house is reserved in order to give the people a chance to get their tickets in advance at Holdsworth's drug store and thus avoid the usual rush at the box office. We predict big houses both during the afternoon and evening as it will be the last chance for the public in this part of the province to witness the Battle of Waterloo.

Christmas Tree at Bay View

Mr. and Mrs. James Hayden, st., were generously remembered by their family on Tuesday evening, Dec. 23d, by way of surprise. While they were busy in other parts of the house, making preparations for Christmas, their curiosity was suddenly aroused by strains of a Christmas carol coming from the parlor, and they, thinking that they were the only occupants of the house, went to investigate as to the source of the music. On entering the parlor they found as many of the family as could be present, and in one corner of the room a large Christmas tree which had been brought in quietly by the front door, decorated and laden with gifts from every member of their family, children and grand children, numbering in all about forty. Those who could not be present were generously represented by gifts. Mr. and Mrs. Hayden are fully convinced that "Santa" hasn't forgotten them.

Death of Capt. John Kinkade.

Capt. John Kinkade, of the Salvation Army, who had been ill for some time, died Wednesday, Dec. 24th, at the residence of the provincial officers, Pitt Street, St. John. He was 28 years of age, and had been with the army for about five years. He was a native of Scotland, and joined the army in New Glasgow, and since then had been stationed in various places in the maritime provinces, including Digby. His last appointment was in Moncton, coming to St. John about three months ago. The funeral took place Friday afternoon. A memorial service was held in Charlotte street chapel Sunday evening. When Capt. Kinkade was stationed in Digby he was a very popular and efficient officer and made large circles of friends here who will regret to hear of his death.

Death of Mrs. Sophronia Morton.

A Centerville correspondent writes: Mrs. Sophronia Morton, who left her home in October to spend the winter months with her niece, Mrs. Stewart Gates, was suddenly taken ill while there and died Dec. 14th, aged 83 years. She was highly respected and dearly beloved by a large circle of friends. Her death will be regretted by all and she will be greatly missed in the community.

The concert rendered by the Front Street Sunday School on Christmas evening was exceptional in its character. Instead of being composed of unrelated numbers it took the form of a cantata. Solos, duets, choruses and dialogues, all remarkably rendered.

—Lead up to a grand climax, when Santa Claus appeared. He came after having a very rough trip well loaded with Christmas remembrances for the little folks of the entire audience. Great credit is due those who contributed to the success of the evening's entertainment. In this connection special mention should be made of Miss Evelyn Hains and Mrs. Albert Outhouse.

Not for many years have their lumber yards been so clear as now. Mr. Clarke is optimistic as to the future of Bear River and hopes before many years to see the great lumber and water power possibilities of that place supporting important manufacturing industries.

Predicts a Big Engine Business.

Mr. Churchill Sallows, of Tiverton, who has been attending a salesman's convention in St. John, and returning his yearly contract with the Canadian Fairbanks-Morse Company, was a passenger from St. John Wednesday. In an interview with the COURIER, Mr. Sallows said that the prospects were good for a big gasoline engine business during 1914. When asked if he thought the high price of gasoline would interfere with his sales, he said it would not and reminded us that he and his brother Gordon, were the first to use marine motors at Tiverton, now the home of one of the largest motor fishing fleets along the coast. Gasoline was then 27 cents per gallon in lots of several barrels. It afterwards dropped to 15 cents, but has since been gradually increasing in price, reaching the original figures. Mr. Sallows knows the engine business from A to Z, is an excellent salesman and very popular with all who know him.

Married at Princeade.

FISH—SANFORD. A happy event took place at the home of the bride's parents, Princeade, Annapolis county, Christmas' day, when Mr. Harold Fish, of A. J. Westbaver's meat market, Digby, formerly of Allston, Mass., was married to Miss Hazel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Zenas Sanford. The bride, who was unattended, was prettily dressed in white. The ceremony was performed by Rev. A. Daniel, pastor of the Bear River Methodist church, after which luncheon was served to the immediate friends who were present. The happy couple arrived in Digby on Monday, where they will for the present reside.

Good for Capt. Sims.

Boston Herald, Dec. 20: When the steamship Boston arrived yesterday from Yarmouth, N. S., passengers told how the ship had to quit that harbor with only part cargo because the only gale that raged would have held them in port indefinitely had not Capt. Sims put to sea as he did. The passengers said nice things about the Boston's commander, who landed them here in time for Christmas dinner at home, instead of lying storm-bound at a Provincial port.

The Department at Ottawa has sent Mr. G. E. Torrie, fishery officer for Digby county, the following information: Owing to a break in the telegraph cable between Grand Manan and the main land, Overseer Fraser has been unable to send out bait reports since Dec. 12th.

St. John Globe of Saturday: The C. P. R. S. S. St. George moved over to Carleton this morning alongside the Grampian, to take on the two turbine rotaries she has been waiting for. The pieces of machinery weigh seventeen and one half tons each and were brought out from England by the Grampian. The St. George will sail for New York on Sunday and while there will be thoroughly overhauled. Some alterations will, it is understood, be made to adapt her better to the requirements of the R. V. service.

The COURIER is indebted to Mr. G. E. Torrie, Digby county's fishery officer, for the following information: As the herring fishing season is practically over on the New Brunswick side of the Bay of Fundy, the New Brunswick Officers have accordingly been instructed by the Department to send a telegram, only on the occasion when a reasonable large quantity of bait has been landed, in the course of the next three months. It will thus be understood that on the days when no telegram is received from New Brunswick no bait is available.

Tuesday's Yarmouth Herald: Steamer Boston sailed from Boston on Friday shortly after her scheduled time, and after proceeding as far as a lighthouse was met by a wireless return, as a fresh gale was blowing and there were 6 passengers left on the dock. The vessel was less than a term N. E. gale was raging in the New Jersey shore and the New York reported a 90 mile gale. Capt. Sims returned to the pier, and it was decided that he remain in port until the gale was later received from Cape Cod and Cape Sable. The Boston sailed again at 7:30 on Saturday morning, and jugged along in the teeth of the gale (which had somewhat moderated) and a heavy head sea, arriving here at 8 on Sunday morning. She came under steam the greater part of the passage. She was discharged and reloaded and sailed from Yarmouth about 2:30.

French People in State of Panic.

"PHANTOM HANDS" AGAIN APPEAR AND MURDER FARMER IN HIS HOME.

CANNEB, France, Dec. 28.—The people of the outlying districts are in a state of panic over what they believe to be the reappearance of the "Phantom hands" who terrorized the country-side for years by a series of murders and outrages, which long baffled the efforts of the authorities. Last night a farmer was shot dead through a window as he was sitting with his family at the supper table. The previous night another farmer was shot at, but not hit. In each case a thorough search of the surroundings failed to reveal the slightest clue to the perpetrators.

Some of the most experienced detectives of Paris were engaged for months in running down the band of terrorists and they succeeded in arresting several men whom they believe to be the principal members of the band. They are now in jail awaiting trial. Gunmen and special detectives have been dispatched to the district to investigate the new series of outrages.

The Mexican War.

REPORT THAT HUERTA WILL RESIGN AND TAKE THE FIELD.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 27.—Mexico has forwarded to its representative at Washington which, it is announced, will be presented to the state department, against alleged assistance by Americans to the rebels at Tampico. The complaint is based on representations made by the governor of Tamaulipas and the federal authorities at Mazatlan to the department of the interior.

The governor alleges Clarence A. Miller, the American consul at Tampico, helped the rebels to obtain arms and made adverse comments against the federals. He further alleges that the rebels used launches flying the American flag to communicate with the forces along the river, and that during the attack against Tampico provisions were furnished to the rebels in these launches.

The authorities at Mazatlan, in their complaint, asserted that American vessels along the coast were in constant communication with the rebels and furnished them with war material. These complaints were taken under consideration by the American foreign office, and a protest was prepared.

WARNING TO CORRESPONDENTS.

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 27.—El Diario Oficial today carried a warning to foreign correspondents that they would be deported as undesirable aliens if they sent out of Mexico alarming or false stories.

H. HUERTA TO QUIT JOB

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 27.—That Enrique Geroztola, minister of justice, will become president of Mexico early in the new year, and that General Huerta will take the field against the rebels who refuse to conform to this arrangement is the report that has been received with credence by some of the diplomatic representatives here. Geroztola is to be named minister of foreign affairs, according to the report, and General Huerta will retire from the presidency, in which the foreign minister succeeds him.

Senor Geroztola is well along in years. He was a lawyer at Monterey, who was brought to the capital to take the port folio of finance but instead was appointed minister of justice.

ACTIVITIES ARE GROWING.

Canada's Trade and Immigration Show a Big Increase.

In spite of the world-wide depression of which Canada is getting her share, or perhaps a little less, the year has been a record one in almost every department of the national life. That this is Canada's century is shown by the marvellous growth in the volume of trade. Figures just compiled for the twelve months ending Oct. 1 show that the total trade of Canada was $1,113,997,253. This is an increase for the corresponding period of 1910, only four years ago, of nearly four hundred million dollars.

Of this enormous total $688,292,457 was imports, and $425,704,796 exports, so that the balance of trade is still greatly against Canada, though the past year has seen a large increase in exports as against imports. Our exports in manufactures are particularly growing, increasing from $39,047,906 in 1912 to $50,280,990 in 1913.

For the eight months of the present fiscal year, ending November last, the exports of agricultural produce easily take the lead. During this period domestic agricultural exports were $142,338,000; for the corresponding eight months of the last fiscal year, domestic agricultural exports were $96,349,000. During the eight months of the present fiscal year the exports of domestic animals and their produce was $38,834,000, compared with $33,949,000 for the corresponding period of 1912. The fisheries were never in a more flourishing condition. For the eight months of the present fiscal year Canada exported of domestic fish $13,556,000, compared with $10,499,000 for the corresponding eight months of 1912.

In many instances the rapid growth of the country has required that an former surplus stock should be sold at home. The cattle export trade is steadily decreasing. In 1905, 1,000,000 head of cattle were sent out; in 1912, the figure had dropped to less than one-twentieth with 49,000 exported, while in 1913 it was much lower.

The influx of new citizens into the Dominion has gone ahead by leaps and bounds. The total immigration to Canada during the first eight months, April to November, of the present fiscal year was 340,399; made up of 132,461 British, 86,272 American and 122,166 from all other countries.

During the eight corresponding months of the last fiscal year the total number was 321,068, composed of 124,813 British, 108,036 American and 88,219 from all other countries. The increase is six per cent.

With these two factors of increased population and material supply of necessities the natural result has been the new dominant problem of the high cost of living. The index at Ottawa, where statistics are kept, is creeping up. In October the toll-tale pointer stood at 136.8. At the end of November it read 138.4. The increase was due to the advance in the prices of grains and fodder, beef, sheep, dairy products, (especially eggs), and fresh vegetables. These increases, however, were somewhat offset by declines in flour, glucose, honey, raw cotton and silk, coke, iron, pipe, linseed oil, resin and raw rubber.

The level was higher than a year ago in animals and meats, dairy products, textiles, hides, leathers, boots and shoes, lumber, miscellaneous building materials, furniture and crockery. A lower level than last year appeared in grains and fodder, fish and paints and oils. Fruits and vegetables were slightly higher, but miscellaneous groceries were somewhat lower than last year.

The feature of the month in retail prices was the advance in eggs, but the movement was also upward in butter, potatoes, coal, milk and prunes. Beef, veal and mutton advanced in some localities, but fresh pork and lard showed in a number of Canadian cities.

Ascension Island Has None and Has No Need For It.

The island of Ascension, in the Atlantic, belonging to Great Britain, is of volcanic formation, eight miles by six in size, and has a population of about 450. It was uninhabited until the confinement of Napoleon at St. Helena, when it was occupied by a small British force. It is 280 miles northwest of St. Helena. Vast numbers of turtles are found on its shores, and it serves as a depot and watering place for ships.

Ascension is governed by a captain appointed by the British admiralty. There is no private property in land, no rents, no taxes and no use for money. The flocks and herds are public property, and the meat is issued as rations. So are the vegetables grown on the farms. When an island fisherman makes a catch he brings it to the guardroom, where it is issued by the sergeant major. Practically the entire population are sailors, and they work at most of the common trades. The muleteer is a Jack tar; so is the gardener; so are the shepherds, the stockmen, the grocers, masons, carpenters and plumbers. Even the island trapper who gets rewards for the tails of rats is a sailor.

The climate is almost perfect, and anything can be grown.—London Family Herald.

ELEPHANT SERVANTS.

An Easy Solution of the Nuisance Problem in Bengal.

In "Tigerland" the author relates an extraordinary comedy witnessed by a friend who was sitting in the veranda of his tent in Bengal watching his elephants, which were picketed under some trees a short distance off.

He saw the wife of one of the mahouts emerge from her tent to shelter with an infant in her arms. She took it close up to a huge "tusker," to whom she made a low salaam; then put the sleeping child down before it and salaamed again. Next she spread a blanket on the ground and placed the baby in the center of it, well within reach of the tusker's proboscis. Then salaaming again, more ostentatiously, went off to the bazaar.

Presently the child awoke and soon began to crawl toward the edge of the blanket. But when it had gone a foot or two the elephant, stretching out his trunk, gently pulled it back to its original position. Again and again the baby attempted similar excursions to regions beyond the blanket's edge, but always with the same result. Exploration under elephantine supervision finally proved too dull, and so the child lay quiet for awhile, gazing up at its huge nurse, then dropped off peacefully to sleep again.

Social Calls in China.

It is difficult for a Chinaman to master the English pronunciation, and this accounts in great measure for the prevalence of pidgin English. The latter is almost always sounded like i, so we have kiln or keen for green and lain for rain. "Too much late just now" is often heard, "just now" being a favorite expression to denote the immediate present. In calling upon a lady one says to the boy whose servant of any age from sixteen to sixty, "Misses have got?" and the answer comes, "Have got?" or "No have got," according to whether she is in or out. This recalls the time honored, true story of the lady who called and the boy reported to his mistress of the house, "One piece man down side, b'long missus." Scarcely complimentary to the "piece man"—Amy W. Hutchings to National Magazine.

Clock Story Variation.

A very young enthusiast at the Central telegraph office, says the Manchester Guardian, really wanted to know about things, and, being unable to gain certain technical information from his colleagues, he decided to unscrew one of the elaborate instruments from the desk and take it home to examine it and find out for himself how it worked. Some weeks later a box of pieces was returned to the engineer in chief with the following note: "I am not quite certain how to put the enclosed instrument together, so have inclosed five for the mechanic's time. It took me four hours to unscrew it."

Where George Elliot Went to School. The ancient cottage at Griff, Warwickshire, in which nearly a century ago was held the first school attended by George Elliot, is situated two miles from Nuneaton, exactly opposite the entrance gates of Griff House, which for twenty years was the residence of George Elliot's father, Robert Evans, the original Adam Bede, and subsequently tenanted by Isaac Evans, the Tom Tulliver of "The Mill on the Floss."—London Times.

Impostor and Malefactor. Carlyle used to tell of an old Scotch woman who, speaking to her family, said: "There's two sons, bith dola' weel in Glasgow. Tane's an impostor, and tither's a malefactor." It was found that she meant "upholsterer" and "manufacturer."

Where the Cost Comes. "Does it take much money to send a boy to college?" asked the boob. "No," replied the cheerful idiot. "It's keeping him there that takes the coin."—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Coral Tooth Powder. The debris left from coral made into articles of jewelry, etc., is crushed and used as a tooth powder at a high price by some Indian perfumers.

PREPARING FOR OLD AGE.

If You Reach Sixty-five Years What Will Be Your Condition?

Actuaries say that of each thousand men living at the age of twenty 500 will still be alive at sixty-five. Economists declare that of the 500 living at sixty-five 200 will be in want; that eight-ninths of the pauperism in America is among people who have passed this same age of sixty-five.

A man is, of course, sometimes brought to want in old age through accident, through continued illness of himself or his family, through a dozen and one mischances against which even the wisest is helpless adequately to provide. In spite of this, however, there are certain tried and proved recipes by which a young man may guarantee at least the probability that he will not be found among the unfortunate 200 after the age of sixty-five.

Avoidance of wasteful, destructive habits; thrift, economy, the practice of spending habitually less than one earns, the habit of study, which increases one's usefulness and earning power—such are a few of the stable qualities which distinguish the young man approaching an independent old age from the one approaching a condition of want. Stand the actuary's thousand men in a row, divide them into two groups, the one possessing the habits and qualities noted above and the other lacking them, and there would be little difficulty in telling from which group will come the 200 and from which the 300—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

WOOD FROM THE MOON.

Queer Decision of the Most Primitive Race on Earth.

The "north pole natives" alluded to by Captain Amundsen in a recent lecture were discovered by him while he was navigating his little craft, the Gjoa, through the Northwest passage in 1903-7.

He christened them "Nechilli" and considered them to be the most primitive race on earth. No white man had ever before invaded their icy fastnesses. Consequently they were ignorant of the use of iron. Their fishing implements were long spears, fashioned out of reindeer horn. They knew no other method of procuring fire than that of rubbing two pieces of wood together. They were, in short, still in the stage of civilization reached by our ancestors of the stone age.

So cut off were they from others of their kind that they imagined their tribe was the only one in the world and displayed the utmost astonishment when told of populous countries far to the south, where neither ice nor snow was. The Gjoa and her crew they thought to have dropped from the moon, and the first Nechilli to come aboard felt the deck, masts, boats, oars, all the while whispering to one another in amazement, "How much wood there is in the moon—how very much!"—London Standard.

Too Eager.

There is a lady in Richmond who has in her employ a dark servant of a most curious disposition.

"Did the postman leave any letters, Lily?" the mistress asked on one occasion on returning from a call in the neighborhood.

"There ain't nuthin' but a postal card, ma'am," said Lily.

"Who is it from?" asked the mistress curiously.

"Deed, I don't know, ma'am," said Lily, with an air of entire innocence.

"Well, any one that sends me a message on a postal card is either very stupid or impertinent," suggested the lady of the house.

"Excuse me, ma'am," said Lily, with dignity, "but that ain't no way to talk 'bout yo' own mother!"—Philadelphia Ledger.

Population of Earth.

The population of the entire earth is around 1,000,000,000. Of this number, Asia has over half, 550,000,000; Africa, 127,000,000; North America, 120,000,000; South America, 45,000,000; Australia, 5,000,000; Europe, 380,000,000; polar regions, 800,000. There are no means of estimating the increase in the earth's population, owing to the paucity of statistics and the comparatively recent date at which any sort of statistics were possible. But it is safe to say that from now on, owing to the spread of science the human increase will be greater than ever before. New York American.

Dodges the Germs.

"I understand that your neighbor Jinks has a deadly fear of microbes and takes every possible precaution to avoid infection."

"That's true. He won't even read a book or article if he thinks it contains any germs of thought."—Baltimore American.

Mr. Fred Aymar, son of Fishery Officer Aymar, is home from the United States to spend the Christmas holidays with his parents.

Midnight mass was celebrated in our church with the usual splendor. Under the skillful direction of our young ladies, the altars were artistically decorated. The Revd. Fr. Bafou, of St. Ann's College, officiated. The Revd. Fr. Cote officiated at the convent.

Spring weather, no snow on the ground; sun shining bright and warm. On the calm and blue waters of the bay appears a four master, sailing down, while here and there can be seen a number of travelers from the islands, reaping a rich harvest from out of the briny deep.

Friday evening, 26th, Mr. Daniel P. Dugas was found dead in his room by his brother, John. Medical aid was summoned but it was of no avail, as life was found to be extinct. The deceased was about 88 years old and unmarried. Heart failure was pronounced to be the cause of death. The late Mr. Dugas had been for some time in poor health. He lived with his brother John.

The joys of the Christmas bells were dimmed by the sudden death of Mr. Benjamin Corporon, who died suddenly on Christmas Eve at about 8 p. m., at the age of eighty years. He had retired early so as to rest a little in order to attend to the mid night mass. His wife, who was in the room, hearing a groan, rushed to the bed, there to find him dead. The late Mr. Corporon was formerly a member of the church choir.

Feed the good food grown on your own farm—hay, oats, bran, clover, etc. You know what these things cost you and what they will do."

ROYAL PURPLE is an aid to these natural foods and if you use it as directed, we can guarantee better results than if you feed any of the concoctions offered on the market as "prepared foods."

JOHN HALLAM, LIMITED

BOWSER TRIES IT

Tires of Home Comforts and Goes to Board.

ONE DINNER SETTLES HIM.

He Finds His Vision of a Dainty Table and Congenial Companionship but Fights of the Imagination—He Has to Crawl.

By M. QUAD.
(Copyright, 1913, by Associated Literary Press.)

ON this particular evening Mr. Bowser's dinner was not a banquet.

There were various good reasons for it. Mrs. Bowser had spent the afternoon at the stores, the cook had burned her hand, the butcher had sent a tough steak, and the grocer had entirely forgotten the potatoes.

"I am sorry," she said as they sat down to the meal.

"Humph!" was the sulky reply.

"These things will happen now and then, and nobody's to blame for it."

"Humph!"

"You shall have an extra good dinner tomorrow to pay for it."

"Humph!"

That was the extent of the conversation at the table. It was when they had finished the meal and reached the sitting room that Mr. Bowser asked:

"YOU HAVE COME TO THE RIGHT HOUSE."

"Have I got a wife, or haven't I?"

"You have," was replied.

"Have I got a home, or haven't I?"

"You have."

"Am I expected to sit down to a picked up, mixed up, wretched meal or to have something fit to eat?"

"I explained how it came about. It may never happen again."

"But I can't eat explanations. Mrs. Bowser, this house is run like a logging camp."

"I deny it. It is run as good as any house in the state."

Some Boarding Houses Better.

"There are boarding houses where they have better cooking."

"You know nothing about it."

"And where they have more palatable meals."

"Then why don't you try one?"

"I'm thinking of it mightily seriously."

"I wouldn't think any more. I'd go right off and find the place!"

"You know you are talking to do you?" he demanded, rather taken aback by her readiness to see him go.

"I do, sir. There is no occasion to quarrel. You are signing for the matchless meals of a boarding house. Try them for a couple of days. Stay a week if you want to."

"You mean that, do you?"

"I surely do. If you are dissatisfied here the thing to do is to get out."

"By thunder, I will!"

"That's the way to talk," said Mrs. Bowser. "I can get along fine without you."

"Oh, you can! Then I'll start out in the morning and look for a place."

"I shall wish you every luck. If you have any rows with the landladies you won't want to let them get into the papers."

"What will I have rows about?" he innocently queried. "The room, the bed and the cooking will be all right, and there'll be no occasion for any hard words."

Bowser Weakens a Little.

Half an hour later, however, he weakened enough to say that he was sorry for the cook.

In half an hour he said that he didn't expect things to always go smooth around the house.

Just before going to bed he remarked that he knew a man who banged himself because he had to live in a boarding house.

Mrs. Bowser made no answer. He had the nightmare during the night, but she did not arouse him. At breakfast he tried to joke with her, but as the meal ended he said:

"Are you going to have your trunk called for during the day?"

"My—my trunk?"

"Yes. You are going to try a boarding house, you know."

His jaw fell, and his face went blank, but after a minute he braced up and answered:

"I may leave the trunk here for a day or two. I'll take myself off now so as not to be in your way."

Mr. Bowser lost no time in looking out for quarters. He knew of a score of boarding houses not too far away, and within an hour he was pulling the bell at the top of a flight of steps. It was the landlady herself who answered the ring, and when she understood that he was in search of a temporary home, the frozen look she had put on for the benefit of a canvasser was replaced by a smile that she tried her best to make appear motherly.

"I think I understand you," she said, with a friendly nod. "You are looking for a place which will extend the comforts of home, and you have come to the right house. You are used to a good bed and a dainty table, and you desire to meet congenial people around the festive board."

"Exactly, ma'am, and Providence seems to have guided my footsteps. I am sure we shall get along famously. I may send my trunk over during the day, and be here for dinner. What are your figures?"

No Kickers Wanted.

"For an elegant front room, newly papered and with running water and plenty of heat for this room and my luxurious table I must ask you $12 per week. I could have got $15 yesterday, but I didn't like the looks of the man. He looked to me like what they call a kicker. I have never had one of my boarders find a word of fault yet. We are the same as a family, you know, and many of us call each other by our given names. It will be the same as adopting you into a tender-hearted Christian family. You don't look like a faultfinder."

"I hope not, ma'am."

"And instead of great hunks of corn beef you prefer dainties at table?"

"Exactly. Your terms are all right, and I think I'll join the family."

He was just in time for dinner. For an hour past he had been thinking of oyster soup, porthouse steak, French fried potatoes and Mocha coffee, and he sat down with an appetite. Soup was brought him. It was thin soup, it was watery soup; it was soup that tasted like nothing in particular. He slipped a spoonful and glanced around him at the "family" and realized that he was in for a row. There was steak, but it was not porthouse; there were mashed potatoes, but they were full of lumps.

Mr. Bowser chewed at his meat a moment, tasted of the potatoes and then leaned back in his chair. Had Mrs. Bowser been there she would have felt the earth trembling and has been to prevent a calamity, but the landlady saw no signs. When she saw that Mr. Bowser did not eat she tenderly said:

"I suppose, poor man, you are thinking of the wife who is far away, and so you have no appetite."

Criticism Fosters Board.

"Mum, is this what you were pleased to term your festive board?" he queried in reply as he waved his hand over the table.

"Is anything wrong?"

He was about to reply that there was and to give particulars when the "family" froze him into silence with their looks. There were eleven of them, and they were "agin" him to the last one.

Realizing the situation, he rose up as calmly as possible, left the room and went up to the newly papered room with southern exposure. The landlady followed him. It was her duty as the head of the "family" and a motherly woman to comfort the disconsolate.

"You and your wife have been parted very often, I take it?" she said as Mr. Bowser opened the door to her.

"Look here, woman, what kind of a boarding house do you call this?" he demanded as he turned to her and instinctively looked around for the cent.

"Sir, sir! Is it possible that you are speaking to me?" she demanded.

"Of course I am. Do you expect that a man who has ever had a home of his own can put up with such food as was placed before me? That soup was slop; that beef came from a neck piece. Your slovenly cook did not half mash her potatoes. Why, if my cook had dared to eat such a meal before me I'd have—have—"

"You are intoxicated, sir!" she interrupted.

"Bosh!"

"Then, sir, there is no excuse for your language, and as the head of this Christian family and as the owner of this festive board downstairs I shall have to ask you to vacate this room."

Bowser's Theories Exploded.

"I was going on my own accord," replied Bowser, who wanted to kick over chairs and jump at the cent. "I have always had a theory that a boarding house which would feed its patrons on lamb chops instead of bull beef, on potatoes mashed with a club instead of a crowbar, on Java or Mocha coffee—"

"Never mind your theories, sir!" interrupted the "mother of the family" as she waved him out of the room and along the hall and downstairs. The other boarders had gathered to see the clown depart. They were tall, thin, cadaverous boarders and most of them two weeks behind with their cash, and they lined up in the hall and looked coldly and cruelly at Bowser as he passed.

When the door had closed behind him with a bang and he had descended the steps he looked around at the darkness and thought of Mrs. Bowser and the cent, and a tear gathered in his eye and ran down his nose.

He must go back to them. He must crawl. He must back water. He had tried boarding house life, and his bluff had been called. The cent would grin and Mrs. Bowser would say something sarcastic, but he must go—must go!

And he went.

The tree being lighted with candles made a very pretty appearance. The school room was crowded and a great many had to stand outside. The teachers and scholars deserve great credit. Principal A. R. Longly left Monday for his home in Annapolis Co.

We had special Xmas music in the Baptist Church on Sunday.

On Dec. 16th, Miss Georgie Welch passed away aged 35. She had been a great sufferer and death came as a great relief.

Miss Hazel Harris is home for the Christmas holidays.

In Union Hall Tuesday evening, the cantata entitled "Partners of Santa Claus," was given to a crowded house who fully appreciated it. We think Mrs. Balfour Speights deserves a lot of credit. She must have worked hard and had more than the usual stock of patience or she never could have accomplished as much. The proceeds amounted to thirty-five dollars for the benefit of the hall.

Predicts Mild Winter.

A recent issue of the St. John Standard says: "The predictions of a big Indian native of the New Brunswick, who was in the city yesterday, are to be taken into consideration, St. John will not experience an old-fashioned winter."

"How do I know that we are going to have mild weather and little snow this winter?" said the big redskin.

"There are always certain signs by which we living in the woods can tell what kind of winter we are going to have. The birds and animals are our best guides."

"The hair on the feet of the birds this year is thin. That indicates the winter will not be cold. I have noticed in other years that when the hair on the feet of the birds is thick and fluffy, the winter has always been severe. If you ask for men they will tell you that the fur taken from the animals this year is thin. That is another indication that we will have mild weather. I have noticed that when the fur is thick the winter is cold. The thin hair on the feet of the birds also shows that the snow fall will be light."

Christmas Row.

VIRGINIA MAN USED BEATING POWDER FOR HIS MURDEROUS PURPOSE.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Dec. 26—Closely guarded by deputies, Thomas Ellis was brought to jail here today charged with the murder of his wife on Christmas night. I had had quarrel, according to the authorities, and while the woman was asleep Ellis is alleged to have placed a quantity of blasting powder in the middle of the floor of their mountain cabin near Winfield, W. Va., and exploded it with a fuse. The explosion which tore the cabin to pieces aroused the settlement and Ellis was captured. Officers searched him in a coal mine during the night to prevent his infuriated neighbors from lynching him.

WOMAN COULD NOT WALK

She Was So Ill—Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Pentwater, Mich.—"A year ago I was very weak and the doctor said I had a serious displacement. I had backache and bearing down pains so bad that I could not sit in a chair or walk across the floor and I was in so much pain all the time. I felt discouraged as I had taken everything I could think of and was no better. I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I am strong and healthy."—Mrs. ALICE DARLING, R.F.D. No. 2, Box 77, Pentwater, Mich.

Read What Another Woman says: Peoria, Ill.—"I had such backaches that I could hardly stand on my feet. I would feel like crying out lots of times, and had such a heavy feeling in my right side. I had such terrible dull headaches every day and they would make me feel so drowsy and sleepy all the time, yet I could not sleep at night."

"After I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a week I began to improve. My backache was less and that heavy feeling in my side went away. I continued to take the Compound and am cured."

"You may publish this if you wish."—Miss CLARA L. GAUWITZ, R.R. No. 4, Box 62, Peoria, Ill.

Such letters prove the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for woman's ills. Why don't you try it?

Hangman 37 years, Balke at First Job
DREW PAY DURING THAT TIME, BUT NOW ASKS TO BE EXCUSED

NEW YORK Jan. 3.—Sandy Mc-Mickle, the grey haired executioner of Bermuda, has not hanged a man in 37 years, but has drawn the modest salary that goes with the job. Last week he was notified that he would have to preside at the hanging of a negro recently convicted of murdering another negro. The court fixed Tuesday as the day of the execution.

Sandy asked to be excused because he was old, his nerves a bit unsteady and because he was woefully out of practice. The authorities decided to let Sandy off and engaged a British soldier, in prison in Bermuda for assaulting his superior officer, to do the job. The soldier, surnamed Piper, said he was willing provided he received freedom, £20 and free passage to England. This was granted, and it is said by Bermudian passengers of the liner Caribbean, he may not officiate, as the visitors there have asked the authorities to postpone the hanging until April. This is now seriously being considered.

NEW YORK LETTER.

The Christmas Trade in a Big City. Disagreeable Weather.

A GENEROUS NEWSPAPER MAN—THE SALVATION ARMY FED HUNDREDS OF POOR PEOPLE—TWO BIG CHRISTMAS TREES BRILLIANTLY LIGHTED IN PUBLIC SQUARES.

[Special correspondence to the Courier.] It occurred to me that a short letter at this season from this part of the world might be acceptable and of some interest to at least a section of your readers. We cannot report ideal weather for Xmas Day. It opened with an east wind and threatening sky and about four o'clock in the afternoon rain began to fall. This kept on increasing to a down pour which lasted all night and in a modified form until Friday forenoon. Preparations for the day had been going on for the past week or ten days and the big department stores in New York and Newark report the heaviest trade in their history. A visit to one of these great centres of trade whilst a tire some experience was surely an interesting one. The parcel post system was taxed to its utmost to transport the mass of Xmas gifts being sent to friends all over the country, and no doubt if the system had extended to Canada the volume of business would have been larger. The post office staff are not disposed to find fault with the limitation and in this view they have the sympathy of the express companies who are but hard by this system. It is the general practice in all families here to erect a Christmas tree in their houses and these are decorated at, in many cases, a great expense. In fact any family in moderate circumstances would consider it no Christmas at all if one of these trees did not find a place in their homes. These trees, the size of one of the small spruce or fir trees, which too commonly exist in Nova Scotia pastures, sell for about a dollar a piece and it is certain a great number are sold. I am told that the stock in the State of Maine is being rapidly depleted and we would think some of our Nova Scotia people might find the exportation of these a profitable business. The writer had his first experience in the trimming of one of these Xmas trees and certainly when completed as done here it presents a very pretty sight. The City of New York erected one in Madison Square Park. Long Island was scouring to find one that met the requirements and a spruce sixty feet tall was put up, covered with electric bulbs and decorations and the lights turned on Xmas eve. Hearst, the millionaire newspaper publisher, who issues his papers in leading cities extending from the Pacific to the Atlantic, decided not to be outdone in this matter, so at his own expense he had one seventy feet high placed in City Hall Park and it was decorated in the same way, and Xmas eve he had Mayor Klein to be on hand to deliver an address, a noted lady singer to furnish music and a number of clowns to make things merry. A crowd of over 25,000 was on hand to enjoy the treat. Under his management at the 69th Regiment Armory a grand distribution was made to the deserving poor of the great metropolis. In support of this praiseworthy object the aid and personal support of a large number of the wealthiest and most distinguished people had been secured. Nine thousand two hundred baskets, each containing a fowl and other things sufficient for a dinner for five, were given out and then the poor children were given toys, etc. Over 14,000 dolls were given away. Many of these were dressed by the wives and daughters of the multimillionaires of New York. One lady out of her private fortune provided funds to cover cost of one of the best bands in the city. The New York American had been publishing requests for all who wished to participate in this distribution to call at the office with a blue tag pinned on them. 9500 called, their names taken and a careful enquiry instituted to ascertain whether they belonged to the deserving class or not. When this was completed, if found all right, this tag entitled the wearer to a share of the gifts. In deciding the gift of dinner baskets those with a family of five or under wore a red tag, over that number a blue one. Thus by the contributions coming from various sources augmented by his own enormous outlay, Mr. Hearst was able to make a vast army of New York's poor the recipients of a good Christmas dinner and the little ones in addition a lot of toys so much coveted by children.

The Salvation Army, true to its mission in the great work of ameliorating the condition of the poor, planned to feed about a quarter of a million. Geo. W. Loft, the great candy manufacturer, distributed 2000 baskets, and various other big hearted men and charitable institutions gave very liberally in the same direction. All of this is evidence that in the matter of charity, New York did its share at this Christmas time. We have been considerably impressed lately with the spirit of philanthropy that seems to be giving enlarged expression to itself in this age. Recently a proposition was made to raise a large fund to give greater possibilities for usefulness to the Young Men and Women's Christian Associations. Several ladies of great wealth and social prominence in New York became interested in the movement and at once decided to make an appeal for $1,000,000. Subscriptions were solicited and in a short time the amount pledged exceeded this sum.

In this State a man was arrested last spring charged with being guilty of a most atrocious murder. Circumstances pointed strongly against him and he was generally considered guilty. An extremely wealthy lady, Mrs. Jasper Lynch, was satisfied that he was innocent and as he had no funds to provide for his defence was likely to be sent to the electric chair for a crime he had not committed, she took up his case, employed eminent lawyers, appeared at the trial last week in person and the result was the acquittal of the prisoner after a brief deliberation by the jury.

The trial of Hans Schmidt, the self confessed murderer of Anna Amuller, is now on and a most strenuous effort is being made to prove him insane. Evidence of his past life has been brought from Germany and a fund of $15,000 raised to aid in his defence.

I went over to New York a few Sabbaths ago and visited the Temple situated on 63rd St. near Central Park, west side, to hear the famous Pastor Russell. He gave a most interesting address, subject, "Consider the lilies of the field, etc." The pastor is a very distinguished looking man, is a most fluent speaker and appears to have the Bible at his tongue's end. Anyone visiting the big city when the eloquent pastor is in town would do well to drop in and hear him.

A rather singular marine disaster occurred in New York harbor recently. The steamship Julia, of the Red D. Line, was loading for the West Indies. A heavy shift was being hoisted on board. It slipped out of the slings and went down through the bottom of the ship making a large hole. The ship filled rapidly and sank and it is said that $100,000 will be required to raise her.

The U. S. Congress adjourned on Tuesday last after having passed the currency bill. It received the signature of President Wilson and thus another of the pledges of this distinguished statesman has become law. It makes important changes in the banking system of this country and is being most favorably received. As soon as it passed a perceptible rise took place in stocks and business generally seemed to experience an impulse. But I must not trespass upon too much of your space, so wishing you, Mr. Editor, and your many patrons a most Happy New Year.

Very sincerely,
P.

Bloomfield, N. J., Dec. 26th, 1913.

Absent-Minded.

Prof. Highbrow was typically absent minded. It was quite surprising however, even in him, to see him come down the street carrying a joint of meat in his arms.

"Goodness me!" exclaimed the professor upon being interrogated as to his strange state of affairs. "I know something was wrong. My wife told me to put her Sunday hat on the bed, to place this piece of meat in the oven, and to take the baby and the dog out for a walk."

"You've not put the baby in the oven, surely," said the normal person. "I've put something in it," said the professor, "but I don't know whether it was the baby or the dog."

Without delay they hurried to the professor's house. The baby was on the bed, also the dog. But the professor's wife's hat was in the oven.

DIGBY'S PROSPERITY.

Annual Report Sent to the Halifax Chronicle.

THE TOURIST BUSINESS AN USUAL CONTRIBUTED LARGELY TO THE GENERAL PROSPERITY, AND FARM CROPS AND FISHERY CATCHES WERE GOOD.

[Special correspondence to Halifax Chronicle.] Digby, Dec. 31, 1913.—The year just passed has been a successful one in the history of Digby and the entire County. The number of new buildings erected have been up to the average, including a large skating rink, and a lot of repair work has been carried on. The tourist season was a good one. While perhaps two or three of the large hotels did not do as big a business in July as in some former years, they had more business during August than they could handle.

The tourist business at Smith's Cove, a suburban village, was away above the average and great preparations are being made to take care of next season's business in that village. The same can be said of Sandy Cove and every other village in Digby County, which pretends to be a summer resort. The "Colonial Arms," the popular house near the Bear River Bridge, did a record business.

The fishing business has been good, both prices and catches being above the average.

There has been more lumber shipped from the port of Digby this year than any previous one. The Government has made many improvements in Digby's shipping facilities by constructing a spur pier, making extensive improvements on the main pier and by dredging both the harbor and the Raguette, the latter being of particular benefit to the fishermen and whole sale dealers.

Crops have been up to the average. The farmers find a ready market in Digby for all the produce they can raise, the prices for many products being the highest in the Province. It is regretted, considering the large number of farms throughout the County, that Digby merchants are compelled to import quantities of butter and eggs, pork, lard, bacon, beans, etc. Digby will have in the near future an all night electric light service. We already have an all night telephone service, and a Dominion Express Delivery which puts us to the front for a town of its present population. Digby has progressed rapidly under Mayor Short's administration and it is hoped he can be induced to accept the office for another term, having already gone in by acclamation for several years.

Taking all things into consideration Digby has a bright future before her and if she could succeed in obtaining a few local manufacturers the whole town and surrounding country would take on quite a boom. As it is real estate is fair and being held for good prices, very few sales taking place in 1913. The C. P. R. appears to be interested in the welfare of our town and the double daily service across the Bay between Digby and St. John during the summer months has done much to place Digby before the public, especially as Nova Scotia's leading summer resort. This service will be continued next season on even a larger scale, and it is reported that a new C. P. R. hotel will be erected here in the near future.

The Wireless Telephone.

The day may soon come when we can talk to our friends at sea as easily as we can now reach them by telegraph. The experiments of the Marconi Company have proved so successful that the manager of the company Mr. Godfrey Isaacs, predicts that the time is not far distant when a wireless telephone service between ship and shore will be possible. As soon as the company has thoroughly proved the value of its new apparatus in practical operation, and can be sure of making the instrument profitable commercially, it will make a definite announcement of its plans.

Oh, These Children!

Tommy—May I stay up a minute longer?
Ethel—What do you want to stay up for?

Tommy—I want to see you and Mr. Green playing cards.

Mr. Green—But we are not going to play cards.

Tommy—Oh, yes you are! for I heard mamma saying to Ethel that everything depended on the way she played her cards tonight.

The Truth of It.

"Now tell me, boys," said the hostess, "would the apples you have just eaten taste so good had you stolen them?"

"No, ma'am," answered little Willie Smith with surprising frankness.

"I am certainly glad to hear you say that, little man," responded the spinster with a glow of pleasure. "Why wouldn't they have tasted so good?"

"Because," came the equally frank reply of Willie, "we wouldn't have had no ice cream and cake with them."

Why Canada Should Mill Her Own Wheat.

A despatch from Ottawa recently reported that a delegation of the great milling companies of Canada had been to see the Minister of Trade and Commerce regarding the discrimination which at present exists between the ocean freights on wheat and the ocean freights on flour exported from Canada. We doubt very much whether any question under discussion at Ottawa in the last few weeks is of more importance to the Maritime people than this one. Our readers may recall that some time since we had an article based on information carefully obtained with regard to "Maritime Consumption of Feeds." We showed in that article that the feed bill of our farmers during the Spring months is a very large one indeed and that in some cases it has been known to represent the difference between a profitable year and an unprofitable one to our farmers. When we have a long, backward Spring in the Provinces our bill for imported feeds runs high. It is one of the greatest handicaps of the Provinces, particularly with regard to farming, that we should have these cold spells in which vegetation seems to stand still, while, in other parts of Canada, it is progressing. We refer to these facts, because they have an indirect connection with our present subject. Being large consumers of feeds we are naturally interested in obtaining them at the lowest possible price, and it seems to us, if, as the millers make out, the transportation companies are discriminating against the manufacturers of flour in Canada, then the injury is not solely confined to the milling industry. If the making of more flour in Canada means a greater supply of bran and middlings, and it certainly does, then the Maritime Provinces should spare no effort to have the present condition corrected. Of course, it may happen that even with a larger production in Canada the present price will be maintained, because, since the reduction in the American tariff, it is quite possible that we shall find a big market across the border. But we shall have to take our chances of that. There is one thing sure though, which is that the more wheat we grind in Canada, the more middlings we have to sell to somebody, whereas, if we send our wheat to England, and if it is ground there, there is scarcely any chance in a thousand that we in the Maritime Provinces will ever have an opportunity to buy a pound of the by products in this market. There is something, too, to be said about the labor employed in the milling industry. The men that are working in the flour mills and barrel factories are just as valuable to the country as any other wage earners we have, and while it is the policy of the country to protect Canadian industries, it seems inconsistent that it should tolerate the condition of affairs described by the Ottawa delegation, if it can do anything to remedy it. We fancy that it might do something so far as the Canadian railways and the subsidized steamship lines are concerned, but how far an interference with them would be effective, in removing the discrimination it is very hard to say. Our reference to the master is with the view of urging our readers to endorse the efforts which the Canadian millers have made at Ottawa. Whatever disagreements they may have with them on other points there is no doubt whatever that they should be very glad to see them double their output of mill feeds. They will never be able to do this unless there is an increase of the wheat mill in this country.—The Maritime Merchant.

25 Years Ago.

[From the Yarmouth Times Files.] A protest from Hon. E. R. Oakes and twelve other Digby men who were not satisfied with the Digby St. John service wired their views to Ottawa. Mr. Humphrey, manager of the line, had chartered the tug Lillio to perform the service pending other arrangements. Freight from St. John for Digby was being forwarded via Halifax. Engineers from Ottawa were surveying the road from Digby to Annapolis, at the instance of the government, in order to obtain an estimate of the cost of the completion of the railway. A despatch from Ottawa to J. I. Jones, M. P., for Digby, stated that the government steamer Lunenburg would be put on the St. John Digby route for the winter.

Weymouth, signal station erected; Brion Island light rebuilt.

The total expenditures during 1913 for public works in this county were over $170,000.

Plans are now being prepared for public landings at Brighton, Caldwell's Cove, East Ferry and Frevport, and these works will be proceeded with, in the near future, as well as Comeau's Cove, where the site for the breakwater is being expropriated.

The dredging at Digby and Weymouth was of a very important nature. That in the harbour at Digby was absolutely necessary for the improved service put on by the C. P. R. across the Bay, and was of advantage to transportation in both this province and New Brunswick. The work in the Racquette has meant everything to the fish dealers as well as the fishermen, who are now able to get into the docks without the difficulty heretofore experienced. This means a lot to Digby's chief industry upon which the prosperity of the town depends. It has been wanted for many years and from time to time hopes were held out and a couple of starts made, but nothing was accomplished. The job was certainly a difficult one.

The dredging at Weymouth involved the cutting through of the two bars across the entrance to the river. This was a matter which had been agitated for by the people of Weymouth for years, but it was given as the opinion of the engineers who examined the locality that much rock would be met with, and a special plant of great cost required. The cutting, however, proved to be through clay gravel and small rocks, and was finally completed. This is the first move towards improving Weymouth River, and giving the people of Digby Neck the benefit of connection with the railway on the mainland by the shortest route. The fishermen of Weymouth have also found the dredging of this bar to be of great benefit, enabling them to get in from the grounds on the early flood, where formerly they had to lay off in the Bay until their boats would pass over the bar.

There are in a county like Digby many demands for improvements and public works, and these are being dealt with as rapidly as they can be overtaken. It is not possible to do all at once, and some must be completed before others can be begun. Time is showing, however, that they are being given due consideration, and those which have not yet been dealt with will soon be reached and attended to in a satisfactory manner.

In referring to matters of interest in this county we cannot but refer to the Fenian Aid Veterans' bounty. The COURIER has received some enquiries as to when this bounty was authorized and we would now state for the benefit of our readers who are interested that the Act was passed by the Borden government in the year 1912, upon the recommendation of Col. Hughes, the minister of militia of Canada. The $100 bounty is payable to those veterans (or their estates) who were living on the first day of April, 1912, and whose claims properly certified by a comrade were filed before the end of December, 1913.

The COURIER learns that there were about 800 Veterans' claims from Digby county, most of which have been approved. The payment of $100 to each Veteran would amount to $80,000, which will shortly be distributed. The cheques will be sent direct to the Veterans' address from Ottawa. A further lot of claims were filed after the Commissioners sat at Digby and Church Point to take evidence, and these will be dealt with later. Owing to the large number of claims it will take considerable time for those entitled to them to receive the cheques. With but few exceptions the 800 old claims have been personally attended to by Mr. Jameson, the member for Digby, who has certainly had a busy year attending to the requirements of this county.

—Fire at Barton.
THE ENTIRE VILLAGE HAD A NARROW ESCAPE FROM DESTRUCTION SUNDAY NIGHT.

With a north-east gale blowing down St. Mary's Bay Sunday at midnight, fire was discovered in an outhouse at the rear of Mr. Haliburton Jones' residence at Barton. Prompt assistance was soon rendered by the neighbors and by those living several miles east and west of the burning building. A small portion of the furniture was saved, but the house was entirely destroyed.

The people soon recognized that if the Barton House, a summer hotel, near the burning building, got on fire beyond control, the entire village, situated on the north side of the main road extending as far west as Mr. J. F. McKay's blacksmith shop, would be destroyed.

All the furniture was removed from the Barton House, and both the house and the stable were on fire several times, but the flames were extinguished by the untiring efforts of those who were present. The proprietor, Mr. George McNeill, was at the Pines Hotel, Digby, when the fire was discovered, and being summoned by telephone, reached home within an hour.

The fire is supposed to have started from an ash barrel in the woodshed. Mr. Jones' loss will reach more than $1,500 with no insurance.

PIDGIN ENGLISH.

Language Used in Shops and Homes in Chinese Ports.

In Shanghai in all shops one finds Chinese familiar with English, but often using much pidgin English. "Pidgin" is supposed to be derived from several changes on the word "business," which was first shortened to "busin," then through the form of "plishu" and finally became "pidgin." Pidgin English is the language used in trade and households in the ports of China, where the Chinese and foreigners deal with one another. It is similar in its origin to the mixture of languages known as Lingua-Franca in the Levant and in other parts of the Mediterranean. It is a direct translation of Chinese into English and strictly idiomatic. For instance, they say, "That book, pay my," instead of "Give me the book."

The Chinese talkers speak fluently in this odd English. An American lady went to a Chinese tailor in Shanghai to see him regarding putting feather interlining in a suit. The tailor seemed a little daunted as to what she wanted and said, "B'long allo same chicken fur?" He wanted to prove his intention of treating his customer right and told her, "My b'long allo same you, you b'long allo same my—b'long my vally good friend," and later, wishing to ask after one of the lady's daughters, remarked, "Miss A., have catches master?" When this was said China had not come out for woman's suffrage.—Amy W. Hotchkiss in National Magazine.

ELIZABETH ISLAND.

Its Curious Little Colony of Zoological Total Abstinence.

Recent investigations on the little known and rarely visited Henderson or Elizabeth Island have led to the discovery of a complete and curious little colony of zoological total abstinence.

The island, which is uninhabited, is situated about 120 miles northeast of Pitcairn Island—itsself sufficiently out of the way, but famous as the home of the descendants of the mutineers of the Bounty.

There is no water on it, not even a swamp, and it is only six miles long, yet it harbors quite a menagerie—a kind of rat, a lizard, described as very abundant, and no fewer than four kinds of birds, all peculiar to the island. These are a fruit pigeon, a tortoise or honey eating parakeet, a little rail or crane and a red warbler.

The strange thing about the inmates of this curious little natural aviary of coral rock, surrounded by waves instead of wind, is that two of its inmates are birds, one especially associated with fresh water—the rail and the warbler. These, like the rest, must do without drinking unless the dew can make their thirst or they have acquired toleration for sea water as a beverage.—Argonaut.

Flight of a Great Nebula.

One of the most striking spectacles revealed by telescopes is that of the great nebula in Orion. In the complexity of its glowing streams, spirals and strangely shaped masses, intercepted by yawning black gaps and sprinkled over with stars arranged in suggestive groups and lines, it has few rivals in the heavens. The impression of astonishment made by the sight of this nebula is heightened by knowledge of its enormous size. The entire solar system would appear as a tiny speck beside it. Yet this tremendous aggregation of nebulous clouds and starry swarms has been proved by the researches of the astronomers to be flying away from the earth and the sun at the rate of eleven miles in every second. But so vast is its distance that 100 years reveal no visual effects of the great nebula's swift retreat.

Not Really Lost.

Bertie's sister, who is five years older than Bertie, is trying to teach him to take care of his books. The other day she could not find "Robinson Crusoe" on the nursery bookshelf.

"Where is it?" she asked. "I haven't seen it for several days. What have you done with it?"

"I know where it is," said Bertie, trying to speak with assurance.

"Well, where?"

"Why, it's only lost a little," he faltered; "kinder in the barn, or round outdoors, some're; p'raps up garret, or behind the woodpile, I guess!"—Youth's Companion.

A Faulty Statue.

Perhaps the worst equestrian statue in the world is that erected in front of Trinity college, Dublin, to the memory of King William III. Among other faults one of the forelegs of the horse is straight, and the other curved considerably, yet both hoofs meet side by side on the pedestal.—London Spare Moments.

Such Is Life.

"Happiness is unattainable."

"How now?"

"It was always my dream to get rich and have a cat from dog on the lawn. It took me forty years to get rich and now cat from dogs are out of style!"—Washington Herald.

Queer Job.

"Here's a man who has a queer job," said the cheerful idiot as he looked up from his paper.

"What does he do?" asked the boob. "He is bookkeeper for a bookseller," replied the cheerful idiot.—San Francisco Chronicle.

The who man is informed on what is right, the inferior man on what will pay.—Confucius.

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations

COAL mining rights of the Dominion, in Ontario, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 250 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be sketched out by the applicant himself.

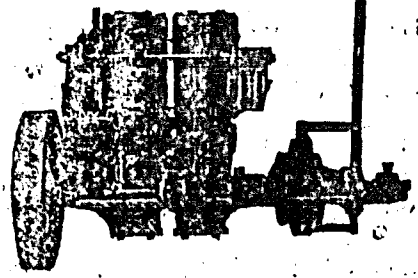

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns, accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $100 an acre. For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

Parisian Sage is the Preparation That Grows Hair, Stops Dandruff and Makes Hair Gloriously Radiant.

Money back says H. E. Jones, a Parisian Sage does not eradicate dandruff, stop splitting hair, falling hair and scalp itch, and put life and lustre into the dull faded hair of any man, woman or child.

Parisian Sage is pleasant and refreshing. No cheap perfume of a cheaply agreeable concoction, but a daintily perfumed tonic—one that is sticky or greasy—that proves itself the best the first time you use it.

Hairdness and luster are both caused by dandruff germs. Parisian Sage kills the germs and causes the hair to grow abundantly.

Yarmouth's Fishing News.

(From the Yarmouth Times.)

Friday, January 2.—The fishing schooner Morning Star reported inwards at the customs to-day with 25,000 pounds of mixed fish, taken off the fishing grounds to the south of this port. She sailed from here in company with the Albert J. Lutz, about midnight Tuesday. The latter has arrived with 10,000 pounds.

The American schooner Meritt H. Perry, which has been fishing out of this port for the past year, will shortly be taken to her home port in Maine.

Captain J. H. Smith, who has been in charge of her, will take the Kormoran out of Liverpool for a time, until the harbor season opens at least, when he will take the Yarmouth Trading Company's schooner Eddie James.

The schooner Dorothy M. Smart arrived yesterday to resume fishing after the Christmas holidays. The Dorothy G. Snow after taking out at Grand Manan has arrived to pick up the balance of her crew.

Lobsters sold in Boston yesterday at 82¢ for large and 81¢ for mediums—a drop of 8¢ for the latter.

Tuesday January 6.—The Consumers' Fish Company's wharf was a busy place today three schooners landing their fares. The first was the Albert J. Lutz with 5,000 pounds of mixed fish, the Dorothy G. Snow commenced to discharge about 11 o'clock. She had 20,000 pounds. The Morning Star this afternoon had 32,000 pounds. The first two fares were bought by the Consumers at 15 cents. The Star's fare was landed for transportation. The American schooner Angie B. Watson is also in port with 9,000 pounds, which she will likely hold on to for the present, as being a power boat her fish is sent, as being a power boat her fish is sent, as being a power boat her fish is sent.

The Watson will shortly be put under the British flag and registered. The Dorothy M. Smart, which arrived Sunday and anchored near Bunker's Island, had 7,000 pounds. She sailed for the grounds again this morning. The Smart sails in Digby.

Men are at work on the Eddie James fitting her for lobster fishing. New knees and bins are being put in and when the season opens about March 1st, she will be in good shape.

Maurice A. Nickerson, of Clark's Harbor, purchased the hull and material of the wrecked American fishing schooner Donna, at Emerald Island, a few days ago. It is said the price paid was about $100. Mr. Nickerson is confident he will be able to float the vessel after the hull is removed.

The American schooner Ruth, Capt. Wm. Devine, which has been fishing out of this port for some time past, has returned home to Boston.

The Boston cargo on Saturday consisted of the following: 335 crates five lobsters, 677 boxes codfish, 550 boxes dry salt fish, 39 barrels salt mackerel, 1 barrels salt herring, 110 barrels codfish, 13 cases pickled fish, 18 barrels fish waste, 81 boxes haddies, 84 cases fresh fish, 1 cases fresh lobsters, 2 barrels fresh lobsters, 10 barrels fresh lobsters, 2 cases eggs, 7 barrels apples, Value $15,021. To Havana, 100 crates of yeast fish to Brazil, 229 tubs ling to London, 102 cases canned lobsters to Hamburg, 200 cases do, Total value, $25,770.

The Digby schooner Loran H. Snow, Capt. in Carey, arrived today on her first trip to the grounds since Christmas.

The American schooner Meritt H. Perry is in port with 10,000 pounds.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Courier:

Sir—The Sheriff asks in a postscript to his last letter for information about the salmon trout. All right, Sheriff, no man needs it more. You shall have it. Give the information contained in CORRESPONDENCE, MAY 29, 1903.

WOMAN'S STORY.

The salmon trout from "Toronto Hatchery" promised, arrived yesterday in charge of Mr. Andrew Hallett, of the Marine and Fisheries Department, Ottawa. He brought with him the young black bass fish for "Digby's lake." These welcome embryos of what will be the near future forms a desirable addition to the already much frequented waters of "Port's and Halls' lakes," were taken in charge by Major Daley and at once taken to the waters named and placed there to grow for the next few years undisturbed. These fish when full grown will weigh from two to three pounds and will be found in the deepest water of these lakes. They can only be captured by the use of boat trolling which will make lots of sport for fishing parties during the tourist season. The young fry looked none the worse for their long journey and were apparently healthy and strong. Much credit is due Major Daley for his untiring efforts to stock our waters with game fish as well as our forests with deer and pheasants.

The Sheriff asks in his second edition to never take back the late W. S. Gilpin at sixth lake camp or anywhere else. All right, Sheriff. The truth is ever lovely. What you stated in the Hall then, was not true. He says in his letter the white fish and black bass were never heard of after being put out. That also is not true. I should be in my last letter that the white fish were heard of, whether in the lakes now or not I don't know. Sometime during 1912 I had a present sent to me by Capt. Austin, of black bass, put up at his cannery at Little River. They were caught in the weir at Mink Cove and had evidently followed the little outlet of the lake when the fishing was on and went over the cliff into St. Mary's Bay, to be caught in the weir. I believe there are lots of them in the lake to-day, and if a close copper were netting was placed across the outlet to prevent the escape would prove a valuable asset, as those I got were the most delicious canned fish I ever tasted. Those are the only fish that stay in the spawning beds and protect their young from all comers until they are able to protect themselves, the sparrows of the fishy tribe, and like them, hard fighters.

I would like to correct Mr. O'Dell in a statement he made in his letter in support of the Sheriff. I notice he is in on the Sixth Lake camp story except to say that I caught a fish shot 28 inches. I never could have done so, as it was not true. I may have said it. In October, 1901, I shot my last moose which made me 15 1/2 bulls and 1 cows, which is all I claim to have shot. In this correspondence I had no case to make out or prove; the facts were well known. Merely to refute misstatements, etc., which I stated myself to have done without resorting to uncalled for or ungentlemanly language.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your indulgence,

I remain,

Yours, etc.,

JOHN DALRY

Game Warden, Digby Co.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR,—Frequent enquiry has been made of me, since being the local member of the Board of Equity, both personally and by letter, what is the regular fee for making out Fenian Rod Volunteer bounty claims?

Now for the benefit of all who are interested I would say in reply, that it has been decided by those in authority that the fee should not exceed the sum of one dollar for each claimant and as much less for those issuing the claims could afford to make it. Evidently the real and honest intention of the Minister of Militia was to remunerate the old veterans for their time and labor in the country in the days gone by, many of whom are very old and much in need of the proffered aid; therefore any excessive charges would be very much out of place, to say the least.

Yours for the right,

W. O. DENTON.

ZIGZAG TRAIL

"She came out of Cox's store, got on her pony and went a kiting for the west bank of the creek. I followed her a little ways, thinking she was a tender foot and I'll be damned if she didn't turn sprang into Zigzag trail and disappear!"

Hamp Tetlow looked around at his companions gathered about the mossy table in the bunk house at the Twin Star ranch.

"Zigzag trail, eh?" repeated Jink Frodo, helping himself to another hot biscuit.

"Yes."

"Have you ever travelled that devious route?" pursued Jink in his deliberate way.

"No but I've heard tell that since the landslide there ain't footing there for man or beast."

"No more there, eh?" returned Jink, buttering his mouth hot biscuit.

"That's why I reckoned you was dreaming when you said you saw a girl and pony disappear down the trail."

"It was bright moonlight and I saw her plain as day," returned Hamp, undisturbed by Jink's skepticism. "Besides, I went back to the store and asked Dan Cox who she was."

"And who is she?" demanded a dozen eager voices.

"Dan said he didn't know; said she never asked for mail and that, although she bought plenty of supplies from him, he didn't know any more about her than he did at first. Been around these parts about four weeks, Dan says."

Hamp Tetlow might have continued to discourse upon his chance encounter with a strange girl, but his companions were more interested in discussing the approaching roundup than listening to him.

Perhaps he would risked their ridicule and described the singular beauty of the girl, but he had little desire to talk to empty air and presently forgot the stranger.

One man among those at the table listened to Hamp's story, and because he was new to the country Bob Deering asked questions about Zigzag trail.

Jink Frodo answered the questions readily and went so far as to tell the newcomer that somewhere along the abandoned trail was the tumble-down cottage of a sheep herder, who had the country at the time when cattle had crowded the sheep from the ranges.

The next day Bob Deering was sent in search of a lost steer.

His search led him down the west bank of Red Spider creek, and eventually he came to the point where there were traces of an old trail that zigzagged down the canyon and disappeared in a heap of broken rocks and earth.

"Zigzag trail!" he exclaimed, bending down to examine the grass grown way.

Twelve years of cattle ranching since college days had made signs of earth and sky as an open book to him.

For the trained eye there was much to be read in the old trail.

"The lost critter went this way," mused Bob, "and the girl goes this way too. Why there isn't a blamed thing on this trail except the hut—I have Jink's word for that—so the girl must have been bound for the hut."

"I scent a mystery, and, as duty calls me, I hunt for the stray critter, here goes!"

Bob Deering left his horse and scrambled along the trail that zigzagged among the rocks in the most puzzling manner. So intently were his windings that Bob presently found himself scrambling on to the main trail again and starting his horse in the face.

"Daniel, if you laugh at me I'll sell you to a soap factory!" panted Bob as Daniel resumed his nipping of the way side grass. "I've certainly got to get on to the right trail if it takes me all day. I mislaid a turn somewhere."

Bob turned about and once more scrambled along the trail. At an egg-shaped rock he paused and studied the ground, and then, plunging through a thicket of mesquite, he found himself on a well worn trail that circled the shoulder of a hill and gradually led upward.

Occasionally he stopped to study the ground, and each pause only strengthened his belief that he was on the right trail of the lost steer.

"Hands up!" came a sharp voice, and instinctively Bob's hands went over his head with quick discretion.

When he could discover the source of the unexpected holdup on Zigzag trail he found himself confronting a beautiful, dark-eyed young woman, who held a pistol at him with each steady hand.

She was the most beautiful creature he had ever seen. Bob was sure of that—jet black hair, waving about, shell pink ears, creamy skin, a pair of wonderful eyes, sometimes black, occasionally almost green. She wore a riding skirt of khaki and a white shirt waist. Her head was bare.

"Well," asked Bob pleasantly, "is it my money or my life?"

have seen such a one. It has the twin star brand."

He stopped short, for the girl's face had turned scarlet and then white. The hands that held the gun waved.

"I've seen it," she said at last in a rather shaky voice.

"Where is it?" he asked quickly.

The girl's face went very white, and she leaned against a tree for support, the pistols hanging limply from her hands.

"It's—dead!" she said at last.

"Dead?" he echoed, puzzled by her agitation.

"We killed it. We needed it for food. I suppose we will hang for it," she said, with a desperate attempt at calmness, although Bob could see that she was panic stricken.

He sat down on a stone and clasped his sun browned hands around his knees. His broad hat lay on the ground, and the wind ruffled his crisp, fair hair.

"I hope you will pardon me. I'm not a bit curious, but I can see that you are in trouble of some sort. This is a lonesome country to be in when old man Trouble hikes along, so perhaps I can help you out. You may place perfect confidence in me."

The girl studied his face with her wonderful, changing eyes. Then with a little gasp of her breath, she said:

"If I tell you you must never betray my confidence."

"You may trust me said Bob."

"The girl drew a sharp breath. "My father lies hidden in the hut yonder. He is a fugitive from justice. He killed a man. I came with him."

Bob smothered an exclamation.

"What can I do to help you?" he asked quickly.

"Keep every one away and help me to get some supplies. Father is almost crazy with grief and remorse, and he is anxious to return and give himself up; but," she ended fiercely. "I have told him he must not—now!"

In the eyes of God he is innocent and he should not be punished."

"Thank you for the confidence you repose in me. I will do what I can to keep others away. Give me a list of things you need, and I will pack them here tonight."

Fifteen minutes later Bob Deering mounted his patient horse and sped about his business for the Red Star ranch.

After supper that night he rode over to Red Spider post office and astonished Dan Cox by purchasing a large quantity of supplies, including some fine cigars and a number of magazines and newspapers.

Bob read the papers while he waited for his packages, and when he finally turned into the trail along the creek his face was a study of mingled pleasure and regret.

The trip along Zigzag trail in the moonlight, with his supplies for the needy strangers, was no easy matter, and Bob was quite breathless when he reached the sheep herder's hut.

"Good news, Miss Greyson," he said after he had received her thanks and those of her aged, careworn father.

"Good news for us!" she asked in credulously.

He nodded and, pulling a newspaper from his pocket, held it to the light streaming from the doorway and read a paragraph that turned the current of their lives.

It appeared that the man whom James Greyson had struck in self defense had recovered and every effort was being made to discover the whereabouts of the missing financier and his beautiful daughter.

Bob Deering shared in their rejoicing, and it was he who helped them get away.

When they parted James Greyson held the young man's hand in his.

"The best ranch in the country for you whenever you say the word. Deering. Maybe you'll be getting married some day and settle down."

"Maybe," said Bob dreamily, for he was holding Helen's hand in his. "Maybe."

Why Some boys Leave the Farm.

He told his twelve year old son to milk the cows, feed the horses, slop the pigs, hunt up the eggs, feed the calves, catch the colts and put him in the stable, cut some wood, split the kindling, stir the cream, pump fresh water in the creamery after supper, and be sure to study his lessons before he went to bed. Then he went to the farmers' club to discuss the question, "How to keep the Boys on the Farm."

Eat Fish.

WHY BOTHER ABOUT THE HIGH PRICE OF EGGS?

[N. Y. Fishery Gazette.]

Anyone who reads the papers of the country carefully cannot fail to note the great amount of space that is being devoted daily to "placing boycotts on eggs" and similar stuff, which at this time seems to be the sole aim of the women who are said to be the active leaders in various consumers' leagues and other associations and organizations which have for their alleged purpose the curtailment of the cost of living of both the poor and the fairly well-to-do. If these so called leaders would do less cackling in relation to forcing down prices of eggs and instead would try to find some substitute for meat they would be conferring a great benefit upon humanity; whereas, now they are simply securing personal publicity which means nothing to the public in general and is more glorification. From what we read about eggs one would think that there is nothing in the world except eggs to take the place of meat; whereas, the logical substitute for the animals of the earth are the animals of the sea. Fish we have always had and always at low prices. There are occasions, of course, when some varieties of fish are high in price, because they are fancy stock and there is a big demand from the large hotels patronized by those who would feel offended if they ate frog legs and received a check for less than $2 per portion. Every week in the year there are low priced fish to be had, and never is it necessary for the consumer to have the same variety of fish two weeks in succession. There are codfish, flounders, salt water muller, white perch, snells and whiting and haddock which enables the consumer to have pan fish one day, baked fish on another occasion and boiled fish at such times as his palate dictates. There are often other varieties of low priced fish in addition to those mentioned above, so it will be plain to everyone that the right thing to do is to eat fish and advise others to do so. Shellfish was never cheaper than at this time. Oysters are as low in price now as they have ever been in the past. While practically all other varieties of edibles have been advancing in price, fish, oysters, clams and scallops can now be had just as cheaply as it was possible to purchase them twenty years ago. Eat fish and shellfish. You will be in better health and save money.

A Great Canadian Battle.

The many thousand visitors to Niagara Falls each year are made aware of the region might hold anything of historic interest for them. They are too much impressed with the majesty and grandeur of the Falls to concern themselves about its historical associations. Yet "almost within sound of the Falls" was fought one of the greatest battles ever waged on Canadian soil.

It was during the war of 1812 between England and the United States that the Battle of Lundy's Lane was fought. The chief battles of the war, aside from a number of sea fights, were fought along the Canadian-American border. It was not natural that the contending forces should come together along the Niagara river. The battle is variously known as the Battle of Lundy's Lane, Battle of Niagara and Battle of Bridgewater. The contest waged furiously, but at the conclusion of the engagement both armies withdrew from the field.

Since that time there has been uninterrupted peace between Canada and America, notwithstanding their several thousand miles of unfortified border line. A hundred years of peace is a long time for nations thus situated. But even a hundred years does not go back to the beginning of that old familiar friend in Canadian households, Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. This liniment was first compounded in 1810, or 1813 years ago. For over 100 years it has been a family reliance in Canada as well as in states across the border. What a world of aches, pains, strains, coughs, colds and sore throats it has relieved. The number of people who have used it cannot be estimated, but what a story of usefulness in these 101 years! O her ailments come and go. Few live more than a score of years, but Johnson's remains. The fourth and fifth generations of users find it as valuable as the first generation did. The great battle at Niagara Falls is as interesting as a matter of history, but Johnson's Anodyne Liniment, compounded before the war began, is a living force, relieving more ailments for more people than ever before in its history.

25 Years Ago.

From a Yarmouth Times file.)

George Purdy, Bear River, and Wallace Hopkins, Barrington, at an examination held before the local marine board, passed as masters, and Ernest Kinney, of Yarmouth, as mate.

The Digby temperance people went to a house near the pier, and raided it, seizing the liquor, removing the furniture and taking the proprietor to jail. The event caused considerable excitement.

Iodine from Seaweed.

Seaweed burning in Norway is an industry of some proportions. The seaweed is gathered up on the beach and spread out like hay to dry, after which it is burned and the ashes are exported to Scotland, where they sell for a little over a cent a pound. Iodine is the principal item manufactured from them. Norwegian peasants who possess riparian rights are considered fortunate and rarely ever, with such to purchase.

Bridegrooms Do the Weeping.

An Australian traveller, who has returned from round the Torres Straits archipelago, found it was the correct thing for bridegrooms among the Christianized natives of Badu Mul grave Island, to weep at the altar.

"An indispensable condition for a wedding," Mr. Walker states, "is that the bridegroom must cry when the knot is tied. The tears flow copiously—quite a shower of them."

"It is extraordinary how the native can produce tears just whenever they are wanted. The bride does not weep. It is her day out. Everybody grips her by the hand and says nice things, while her tear-strained partner stands apart a picture of abject misery."

An Adv. in the Courier is Read by Everybody

HE RILED GLADSTONE.

And It Was the Only Time Disraeli Laughed in the Commons.

Disraeli, it is said, laughed only once in the house of commons. Mr. Gladstone had made an impassioned speech in favor of the union of Wallachia and Moldavia. Mr. Disraeli, speaking in opposition, pointed out that the result would be the extinction of the independence of these people, and the only thing left would be the remorse "which would be painted with admirable eloquence by the rhetorician of the day."

In reply Mr. Gladstone said that he would not be guilty of the affected modesty of pretending to be ignorant that that designation "the rhetorician of the day" was intended for himself. Mr. Disraeli interrupted with the remark: "I beg your pardon. I really did not mean that." Disraeli sat down with a satisfied smile that told of his enjoyment.

Mr. Gladstone's face expressed amazement and indignation. His opponent had placed him in the mortifying position of applying a remark to himself which had no such personal reference, therefore Gladstone's wrath and Disraeli's smile. The Liberal leader proceeded with his speech and condemned the "sesquipedalian words and inflated language" of the leader of the Conservatives.

SWALLOWING A PILL.

By Being Too Conscious of the Act We Make It Difficult.

Reduced to plain words, the scientific reason why so many people find it exceedingly difficult to swallow a pill is because they try to.

While this sounds paradoxical, it is, nevertheless, true, according to the best of authorities. The explanation is that in entering our food we swallow it almost automatically and give no thought to the act of swallowing, but with a pill we put it in the mouth and say to ourselves, "This is a very small object and will be difficult to swallow; I must make an effort to do this."

And right there is where the difficulty comes with most people. The muscular effort made to swallow the pill, accompanied by the thinking about the act, really hinders the proper working of the throat muscles that would otherwise act properly in carrying the pill down the throat.

A similar condition is that of a musician playing well when alone and faltering in the presence of listeners. It has been advanced that fear loosens the nervous system, causing the musician to fumble and the pill swallower to procrastinate.—New York World.

Majority and Plurality.

In politics the plurality is the greatest of more than two numbers and is also the excess of the highest number of votes cast for any one candidate over the next highest number. When a candidate receives out of 10,000 votes cast 4,000 and two other candidates receive respectively 3,500 and 2,500, the first is elected by a plurality, though he has received less than a majority of the whole vote, and he is said to have a plurality of 500 votes. If the numbers are 6,000, 3,000 and 1,000, the majority is 2,000 and the plurality is 3,000. A majority, therefore, must be more than half the entire vote cast, and a candidate's majority is, then, the difference between the number of votes he received and the combined number of votes cast for all other candidates; his plurality is the difference between his own number and the number received by the candidate nearest to him.

Timid About Bathing.

Archibald Colquhoun relates that "there is a strong prejudice in Nicaragua against bathing and even washing while on a journey and for some days afterward. The dust is not washed off the face for some days after arrival, especially if the traveler has come from the 'terras calientes' (hot country, or lower region), for a too sudden opening of the pores of the skin will certainly produce fever, according to popular belief. The people of Nicaragua, according to Squier, 'are generally scrupulously clean in their persons, except when travelling, and then the use of water is prohibited.'"

The Agriculturist's View.

Two farmers on a visit to Liverpool stood upon the platform of a railway station, when a lady passed dressed in the height of fashion. "There, Jim," said one, "what do you think of that, lad?" Jim looked at her for a minute and then said, "Ay, Tom, it's bad ground that takes so much top dressing!"—Liverpool Mercury.

Fate.

"My good man, how did you come to be in prison?"
"Fate, I guess, ma'am."
"Fate? I don't understand you."
"Well, you see, it must have been ordained that somebody would be in this cell when you came along asking fool questions, and of course I had to be the guy."—Detroit Free Press.

How She Knew.

Nan—When young Mr. Gayman was introduced to me the other day I thought he seemed painfully embarrassed.
Fam—He didn't seem so to me, but on looking him up in the commercial directories, I found he was.—Boston Transcript.

Seeking to Be Exact.

"My grandpa had a perplexity fit yesterday," said small Dorothy.
"Perplexity fit?" echoed little Clarice.
"You mean a paralytic stroke, don't you?"—Stray Stories.

HAD TO STOP WORK FROM THE PAIN

Suffered Ten Years Until "Fruit-a-tives" Cured Him

St. THOMAS, ONT., May 22nd, 1913. "I was troubled for ten years with the most distressing Constipation and Indigestion of the worst form.

No one could have been worse with these troubles than I was for this long time.

The pain from indigestion was so severe that many times, I have had to stop work and lie down until the acute spasms passed away.

I took a lot of medicine in fact, I guess I took about everything that was advertised—and gave them all a fair test—but got no relief. About a year ago, however, I was advised to try "Fruit-a-tives". I am mighty glad I did so for they seem to be made exactly for me.

They gave results in a very short time and I am now free from these diseases and enjoying perfect health.

My wife also used "Fruit-a-tives" and we both think they are the best medicine ever made."

Feed the good food grown on your own farm—hay, oats, bran, clover, etc. You know what these things cost you and what they will do. OF COURSE THE BOY WON.

He Made Plain the Reason For His Coming Back.

FRIDAY afternoon Mr. Grigson was busy and, being particularly anxious to get away early from the office, greatly resented the arrival of visitors. Still, business is business, and word had come up that there was a gentleman downstairs waiting to see him on an important matter. So Mr. Grigson swallowed his resentment and bade the messenger bring up the gentleman. The gentleman entered—a cheery looking little whippersnapper, four feet nothing in his socks. Mr. Grigson glared at him angrily. "What the dickens do you mean by saying you want to see me on an important business?" he thundered. "Aren't you the boy who was here a week or so ago looking for a job?" "Yes, sir."

"Then what the—?" began Mr. Grigson, now purple in the face. But the youth interrupted him. "You said then, sir," he remarked calmly, "that you wanted an older boy. That's why I've come back again now!"—London Answers.

Preocious Infant.

Seven-year-old Mary was studying her Sunday school Bible lesson. For several minutes she was still as a mouse, but a pucker between her brows betokened deep thought. Finally she asked: "Mamma, how old are babies before they can talk?" "You began talking when you were two years old, dear."

"Don't they begin any younger than that?"

"Not very often, dear."

"Never when they are very, very young?"

"No, dear, why do you ask?"

"Because it says here in my Bible, 'Job cursed the day he was born.'"

—St. Louis Post Dispatch.

Not Surprised.

"There are 450,000 words in the English language," said the fussy little man in the corner in his usual impressive manner.

"I thought it was more than that," said the mild man with the talkative wife.

And the fussy man collapsed.—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Next—the Rugs.

"Please, sir," said the maid to the head of the house, "there's a gentleman here to see you on business."

"Tell him to take a chair."

"Oh, he's already taken them all, and now he's after the table. He's from the installment house."—New York Herald.

Strict Economy.

"More so," answered the visitor. "I'm in the lumber business. We don't waste even the bark."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Wrong Medicine.

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Bloating Sides and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments into garbage in a swirl barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fogginess, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. London, Ont.—"I am a farmer's wife

I was taken with severe pains in my tor and I was under his care for some time, but he did me little or no good.

One day a friend of mine told me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as she had been greatly helped by it. I began taking it and soon got well, and my periods became natural again. Since then I have had perfect health. In fact I have never felt so well in my life. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a medicine

A Blow.
"This life is full of shocks," said Pa.
"A friend proves false you thought was true;
And every day or two there are
A lot of things that trouble you.
The stock you buy proves worthless stuff,
And disappointments line your brow,
A promise fair turns out a bluff,
And mother wants a silk skirt now.

"The sure thing that you bet upon
Runs next to last, and so it goes;
You find your trusted clerk has gone
With all your coin, where no one knows.
From cloudless skies come thunder bolts
And out of peace springs up a row;
This life is surely full of jolts,
Your mother wants a silk skirt now.

"In life there's no security.
There is no joy that we can hold;
The calmest, gentlest summer sea
May suddenly be tempest-rolled,
A merry song the robin sings,
Then suddenly departs the bough;
Strange changes every minute bring,
Your mother wants a silk skirt now.

"We've lived together twenty years
And hand in hand we've trod life's lane;
We've shared each other's smiles and tears
And shared our pleasures and our pain.
And here he comes the dearest cut
To which I've ever had to bow,
I would have bet she wouldn't, but
Your mother wants a silk skirt now!"

The ship was steaming westward along the Long Island coast. The aeroplane, rising toward the land, passed over the eastern end of the island and gradually passed out of sight. The Orinoko reached Sandy Hook about noon, but, being delayed at quarantine, was not docked till the next morning. Every passenger was on deck and eager to read the account of the aeroplane flight, the start of which he had witnessed. Not a single newspaper mentioned it.

Mr. Mickleton passed out of the minds of the passengers of the Orinoko as he had passed out of their sight over Montauk Point and was forgotten.
But the time came when they read the newspaper account, which was a very different one from what they had been told about. It reported how the eldest smuggler working between Europe and America, who had long evaded customs officers, had been caught red handed: Among his smug-

AN AERONAUT

When the steamer Orinoko, on her way from Naples to New York, stopped at Gibraltar a man came aboard with a number of boxes, which were marked "Machinery." He was a pleasant spoken, tall fellow, well met sort of person. Who made acquaintance rapidly with the other passengers. He bet freely on the daily run of the ship and if he won opened wine to celebrate his good luck and if he lost opened wine to celebrate the winner's luck. In either case he opened wine, Billy Mickleton, the gentleman referred to, soon became known as the best fellow on the ship.

"What's in all those boxes, Mickleton, you brought aboard with you?"
asked a passenger.

"When we approach the Atlantic coast you shall know. I'm going to make an experiment that will attract the attention of the world."

"Why not tell us now?"

"I'm under contract with a New York newspaper to keep the secret till the last moment. The paper is to have the exclusive rights of publication."

Nothing so absorbs people as curiosity, and the Orinoko had not long passed Madeira before everybody was talking about Mickleton and the experiment he was going to make. Some believed it to be a trial trip of a new kind of boat, whose parts were packed in the boxes.
Others guessed that he had invented a light submarine to be managed by one person. He would put it in the water when the ship was off Sandy Hook and, moving under water, beat her to her dock. A third crowd guessed that Mickleton intended to shoot out of a mortar from the ship's deck and come down with a patent parachute.

When the ship was 500 miles from port Mickleton secured the permission of the captain to remove the contents of the boxes to the upper deck. When they had been unpacked and carried to the deck Mickleton set to work and put together an aeroplane. The passengers gathered about him to watch, some who knew something about aeroplanes curious to see the machinery put in. But Mickleton waited till they all turned in for the night to do this work, and when they came on deck in the morning they found the aeroplane concealed under a canvas cover.

The captain kindly ordered the ship's carpenter to make a passage for the machine by taking down the stern rails and otherwise render a start possible. When all these things were done and the passengers had nothing to do but wait they crowded around the aeroplane and piled him with questions. "Is it a new power you're going to test?" "Are you going in ahead of the ship, or going to make a transatlantic flight?" "Is it to break a record for speed or for height or for distance?"

Mickleton said that it grieved him not to be able to satisfy them, but that he was dependent on the newspaper with which he had made his contract for funds to carry out his experiment and if he let out anything he would forfeit a small fortune. When a man became too persistent Billy opened a bottle of wine.

Fire Island was sighted at 9 o'clock in the morning. At 10 Mickleton was ready for his flight. The last article he put in his machine was a small box.
He opened it and showed provisions.
From the size of the box it might contain food and drink to last a week. It was evident from this that the flight was to be a long one, and it was the opinion of most of the passengers that Mickleton was intending to make straight across the Atlantic back to Gibraltar. If necessary he would have stopping points at the Azores and Madeira.

Just before starting Mickleton went to the wireless office and sent a message in cipher to a New York newspaper. If any one had any doubts as to the truthfulness of the aeroplane's excuses for not telling his intention this removed them. Leaving the wireless office, he returned to his aero-plane, went under the canvas, made a final inspection of the parts, then, removing the cover, got aboard. Sailors on a run pushed him along the deck; he caught the air, hardly striking the water surface, then rose gradually.

The ship was steaming westward along the Long Island coast. The aeroplane, rising toward the land, passed over the eastern end of the island and gradually passed out of sight. The Orinoko reached Sandy Hook about noon, but, being delayed
at quarantine, was not docked till the

been told about. It reported how the eldest smuggler working between Europe and America, who had long evaded customs officers, had been caught red handed: Among his smuggling devices the article gave an account of his getting a million dollars of diamonds in free duty by means of an aeroplane from the deck of a liner.

A Good Advertisement for Us AN ATTRACTIVE BOOK ISSUED BY THE CANADIAN MANUFACTURERS' ASSOCIATION.

One of the best advertisements of the Province of Nova Scotia that we have seen, is the illustrated book just issued by the Nova Scotia branch of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, a copy of which has reached us this week.
This publication is 9x7 inches in size, and printed on very fine paper. The cover presents a stirring scene along the water front of a giant industry.
The book contains fifty full page pictures of the leading manufacturing plants of the Province. In addition there are thirty odd pages of articles on transportation, agriculture, horticulture, fisheries, lumbering and coal mining, illustrated with beauty spots throughout the Province.

The briefest glance through the pages reveals an unexpected wealth of industrial activity in this Province.
There are now 1,480 manufacturing industries in Nova Scotia, paying out eleven million dollars in wages to 29,000 employees.
This publication shows that our Province is conspicuously a great workshop of Canada. The whole work is of great excellence, and surpasses anything of the kind hitherto attempted in the Maritime Provinces. We understand that an edition of 50,000 copies is being issued and that it will be distributed throughout Canada and the old country.

The booklet is so illustrative of the progress which we are making as a province of manufacturers that we would suggest to our readers that they write the Secretary of the Publicity Committee, P. O. Box 680, Halifax, for a copy. The members of the Publicity Committee who were in charge of the issue of the booklet are George Henderson of Brandon Henderson, Limited, I. C. Stewart of The Imperial Publishing Company, Limited,
Arthur S. Barnstead, Secretary of Industries and Immigration, and A.
J. Campbell as secretary of the Committee.

The O. P. R.
The completion of the C. P. R. to the coast made the development of British Columbia possible. In London now the agent of the great province can proudly boast that British Columbia has 250,000,000 acres of public lands. Of this only 2 per cent has been sold. It has 93,000,000 acres reserved for homesteads, of which almost 2,000,000 have been surveyed and are ready for settlers, and the settlers are coming fast owing to the splendid propaganda of the province to the better class of Britishers—people with a little money, who would find in the Pacific province the conditions which they had left, conditions mimicking the customs, usages and climate and scenery of the Mother Country.

Of course the British Columbia government has been active during the last five years; but the O. P. R. made the first impression, with its exhibits, its lectures, its specimens of growths and minerals, and especially with its tempting stories of possibility for the middle class of Britishers, who would be asked only to mingle with those on a social parity with them.

Wedding Anniversary
Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Piper, formerly of Yarmouth County, N. S., celebrated their 25th anniversary at their home, 4 James Street, Boston, husband was very prettily decorated for the occasion with potted plants, cut flowers and evergreen. Mrs. Piper was assisted in receiving her guests by her daughter, Miss Gladys May, her cousins, Miss May and Miss Elvira Titus; also Mrs. Vedder of New York, and the ing were heartily enjoyed by all. Guests were present from Milton, Cambridge,

New York, Alton, Summerville, and Jamaica Plain, among which were Rev.
Herbert S. Johnson and wife of Warren Avenue Baptist Church. Refreshments were served, after which all sang "God all joined in wishing Mr. and Mrs.

Piper many more years of happy wedded life. Mr. and Mrs. Piper were the recipients of many beautiful pieces of silverware, a number of gold and silver coins, besides many other valuable and useful gifts.

25 Years Ago.
The steamer City of Monticello was purchased in New York for $50,000, to be placed on the Bay route between St.
John, Digby and Annapolis. The ship was built in Delaware in 1889 and had

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Digby, January 23, 1914

THE TOWN REPORT

On another page in today's COURIER is published the general balance sheet from the auditors' annual report for the town of Digby. The whole report, as usual, is being issued in book form and will be ready for distributing among the ratepayers in a few days. A week's delay was caused in handing the copy to the printer, owing to the illness of the town clerk. In the meantime copy of the entire report is on file at the town office where it can be inspected by any ratepayer.

Hockey at Victoria Rink

DIGBY DEFEATED BRIDGETOWN FRIDAY NIGHT—ANAPOLIS BEAT DIGBY WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

The hockey match at Victoria Rink last Friday night, Digby vs. Bridgetown, resulted in a score of 7 to 1 in favor of Digby. The figures were as follows: Digby, G. Markel 3, L. Smith 2, Kelley 1, R. Dakin 1, Bridgetown, Salter 1, Umpire, W. J. Cahoon. Attendance 200.

It was unfortunate Wednesday night the weather was very disagreeable which, of course, cut down the attendance. The Annapolis boys arrived on a special train, accompanied by quite a large number of people from our sister town. The train was nearly an hour later than was expected. The game started at 7.10 with the following line up:

Annapolis	Digby
J. Rippey	G. Markel
C. E. Brittain	C. P. Kelley
B. Crowe	R. Dakin
R. Becker	R. W. Markel
E. McDermott	L. W. Kelley
R. King	G. L. Smith
R. Mahoney

Spore men—O'Dell, Annapolis; H. S. and H. Taylor, Digby; Umpire, J. McNeill. Attendance 250. Score 6 to 0 in favor of Annapolis.

There was certainly some good playing Wednesday night. The Annapolis boys show good practice and play together. Our boys require a lot more practice and should make more combination moves. Digby has never had the opportunity for inside hockey playing until this season, but we believe we have a good team and before the season is over, look for some good scores in favor of our home boys.

Death of Mrs. Sears Mullen

Mrs. Sears Mullen died at her home in New Tuxton on Friday morning, Jan. 9th, aged sixty-eight years. Her suffering had been long and painful but she bore with patience and Christian fortitude. Having trusted in God for many years she patiently waited the call, and anticipated a happy future. Besides a sorrowing husband she leaves to mourn their loss, four sons, Allen, Herbert and Brenton at home and Harry in Dorchester, Mass., and six daughters, Mrs. Heber Green, Mrs. Felix Salcan and Mrs. Frank Mullen, New Tuxton; Mrs. S. V. Krouthen, Cliffdale, Mass.; Mrs. V. O. Marshall, Marshalltown, and Mrs. Harold Sabine, of Riverdale; also three brothers, William and Cyrus MacNeill, of North Lancaster, and Robert, of Rossway, and one sister, Mrs. Gilbert Robbins, Rossway. The funeral services were held from her late home on Sunday afternoon, with interment in the New Tuxton Baptist cemetery, being conducted by Rev. Mr. Webb, and largely attended notwithstanding the bad weather. The family have the sympathy of the entire community and of many friends abroad in their bereavement, having lost through her death all that a loving and faithful wife and mother could be.—Cont.

Presentation and Surprise at the Baptist Church

A large congregation gathered Tuesday evening, Jan. 20th, in the Baptist Church to enjoy the special service led by the pastor and Evangelist P. S. MacGregor. At the close of the meeting, Mr. B. Haver asked the people to remain and called on Mr. H. L. Warner to complete the good work which he had begun and in which he had been warmly assisted. Mr. Warner came to the platform and in an apt and interesting address, told how the church and congregation of Digby and Hill Grove had responded to the scheme of making the pastor and wife a presentation. He then in behalf of the church and friends, gave Rev. J. D. Brehaut a beautiful fur lined overcoat and gold. Though almost speechless with surprise they thanked the people for their valuable gifts and the kindness and good will which prompted them. They appreciate the gifts very highly but more the love and generosity that caused this expression of esteem. A fine spirit of fellowship binds together the hearts of pastor, wife and people.

Freemason Wedding

Quite a large number of friends assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Thurber on the evening of Jan. 7th, to witness the marriage of their second daughter, Flora Laurion to Charles T. Stevens, also of Freeport. The bride was charmingly attired in a dress of satin striped cream veil, with satin and drop bead trimmings, wore the conventional veil and orange blossoms and carried a handsome bouquet of lilies and ferns. Miss Rose Thurber, the bride's sister, acted as bridesmaid, and wore a dress of white with lavender trimmings, and the groom being supported by his brother Dalton. The bride party stood beneath an arch of evergreens and ferns and were united in marriage by Rev. F. H. Eaton. Miss Goldie Stevens, sister of the groom, played the wedding march.

Mr. and Mrs. Stevens are both from among Freeport's popular young people, and they received some elegant and substantial gifts in linen, silver, china, etc., along with the wishes from many friends for a long and happy wedded life.

"Canadian Fisherman"

We have received a copy of the Canadian Fisherman, a new monthly magazine published in Montreal and edited by Mr. F. William Wallace, Canada's well known writer of marine stories, who has made many trips on board several of Digby's fishing vessels. This is one of the most interesting magazines that has ever been received by the Courier. Its field is the whole of Canada and we know it will soon have a large circulation both at home, in the United States and other foreign countries. Every fisherman should become a subscriber. It is only $1.00 per year, payable in advance. Mr. Frank L. Anderson is the local agent for Digby and vicinity and a dollar sent him will bring the Canadian Fisherman to you every month, and we know you will appreciate its visits. Try it.

Seeds.

To the Farmers of Digby Co.

The supply of seeds for the members of the Digby Co. Farmers' Association has been ordered. We know what the prices are. As a whole they are much the same as last year. Clover seed is cheaper, however, and a few other changes are noted. We recognize the fact that some dissatisfaction prevailed among the farmers last year in regard to the seeds costing too much. This was occasioned by sending in their orders at too many different times. This made too many shipments, consequently the freight was very high. This year we ordered the seeds sent in one shipment so that these extra freight charges have been avoided. The seed lists will be ready in a few days and will be sent to the directors of the various districts. We advise those who are in need of seeds to apply to their director for a member's ticket which only costs twenty five cents and avail themselves of the opportunity of obtaining their seeds at wholesale prices. All orders for seeds must be sent in by the 10th day of February.

W. A. BACON, President Digby Co. Farmers' Association, Jan. 22nd, 1914.

BOWSER HONORED

Flattering Recognition by the One Drink Club.

BUT HONOR WAS EMPTY ONE.

Yet It Afforded Considerable Pleasure Until a Sad Discovery, Which Shook the Recipient's Faith in Mankind in General and Artists in Particular.

By M. QUAD.
(Copyright, 1913, by Associated Literary Press.)

MR. BOWSER had been smoking and playing with the cat, and Mrs. Bowser had been reading, when she suddenly said:

"Look here, Mr. Bowser are you thinking of buying a flying machine?"

"Of course not," he replied. "Then is it another patent fuel or something to melt the snow off?"

"I had nothing of that sort in mind." "You are not going to write a play and take the leading part yourself?"

"I could do both, but I shan't." "No more boys or girls around here, understand?"

"When I want a boy or a girl I shall get one, but it may be years first. What are you trying to get at, anyhow? What idea jumped into your head all of a sudden?"

"There's been something mysterious going on around here for several days," she replied. "You have worn a look as if you had some great secret to conceal."

"I deny the charge!" "There's been a long haired, wild eyed man hanging around to meet you at the gate. Mrs. Taylor also saw you with him in a doorway downtown the other afternoon, and she said you had your heads together like two anarchists."

"Mrs. Taylor has enough to do to mind her own business," he replied as he let the cat drop. "But you were two miles from your office."

"And suppose I was six?" "Baseless Suspicion."

"Mr. Bowser, if you get mixed up with the bomb business don't come to me to save you."

"By thunder, woman, you are off your head," he shouted as he jumped up. "Me in the bomb business! Who the deuce do you think I am?"

"Well, what is it, then? Unroll the mystery. If it isn't bombs what is it? Who is the long haired man?"

"I hadn't ought to tell you a blamed thing, but I guess I will show you what an idiot you are. That man is an artist."

"An artist in murder?" "No, my man, an artist with the brush. He also does crayon work."

"And what does he want of you?" "And I'll explain that too. You will probably remember, if you bring a tremendous strain to bear on that brain of yours, that I became a member of the One Drink club a few months ago."

"Yes, I believe I do," she answered. "I know there was a drink in it, but whether it was one, two or three I have forgotten."

"I haven't attended very regularly, but it seems that I have made something of a hit just the same. The club desires a crayon of me to hang on the walls of the parlor."

Flattered Beyond Measure. "But you never attended but one night."

"No, I guess not, but the members appeared to be struck by what I said."

"What did you say? You didn't make a speech, and I think you came home and told me that things were slow."

"No matter what I said," retorted Mr. Bowser, with a nettled feeling at being boxed up. "The club wants my picture and is going to get it. I consider it one of the greatest honors ever paid me."

"So that man with flying hair and wild eyes was an artist?" she queried. "One of the best in town. He wanted a photograph as well as three or four sittings, and he has turned out something to be proud of. I am expecting it to arrive any minute. I wanted you to see it and give me your opinion before I sent it to the club."

"So that's what you were up to? Well, I hope it is a good likeness. Who is the artist?"

"Name's Parini, I believe, and he belongs to the Italian school. He's a jim dandy at crayon work, and his prices are very moderate. If he wasn't hoping to get other orders from the club he'd never have touched this for $50. With frame and all it only stands me $70."

Mrs. Bowser's heart sank, but she tried to keep her feelings out of her face, and Mr. Bowser smiled and continued:

Even the Cat Was Amused. "The attitude will probably surprise you. I stand with my left hand on my breast—so—and my right lifted to heaven."

"But what for?" "To make a strong picture, like those of the ancients."

USE SHORT SENTENCES.

The Benefit of Brevity Very Pointedly Emphasized by a Writer.

Writers who wish to impart to their p. o. ductions power and pungency, who wish to keep the reader's attention upon the tip-top of activity, who don't want to escape the imputation of pedantry and who seek to surcharge their sentiments with sparkle and spirit, will do well to bear in mind constantly that long, lingering sentences, unduly over-burdened with an abundance of phrases, clauses and parenthetical observations of a more or less digressive character, are apt to be tiresome to the reader, especially if the subject matter be at all profound or ponderous, to place an undue strain upon his powers of concentration and to leave him with a confused concept of the ideas which the writer apparently has been at great pains to concentrate, while short, snappy sentences, on the other hand, with the frequent recurrence of subject and predicate, thus recalling and emphasizing the idea to be expressed as the development of the thought proceeds, like numerous sign posts upon an untravelled road, these frequent breaks having the effect of taking a new hold upon the reader's attention, oases in the desert of words, as it were, will be found to be much more effective, much more conducive to clarity and far better calculated to preserve the contact, the wireless connection, so to speak, between the writer and the reader, provided, however, and it is always very easy to err through a too strict and too literal application of a general rule, the sentences are not so short as to give a jerky, choppy and sketchy effect and to scatter the reader's attention so often as to send him wool-gathering completely.

China's Stiff Problem.

China was confronted with a stiff problem at the introduction of the telegraph. It was hopeless to think of combining the western Morse dots and dashes in sufficient variety to express the 2,000 or 4,000 characters used by a fairly literate Chinese, not to speak of the entire 40,000 or so known to the highly educated men of that race. A phonetic system was barred by the fact that the same Chinese monosyllable means different things according to the context or intonation and also by the diversity of dialects.

A Dane, Prof. Schellorup, found the solution. The 7,000 characters most commonly used are given their equivalents in a code of numerals and these numerals are telegraphed.

"That," "each" in the code is 630. The institution of its Parliament also brings embarrassment to China, there being so many dialects within the vast republic. Pidgin-English has long been the Esperanto of China. A traveler tells, for instance, how he heard a man from Canton and a native of Tientsin resort to it as the only possible medium for mutual understanding. But why not write the speeches instead of speaking them? Not only are the written characters the same throughout China, but they are almost identical in China, Japan and Korea, however widely the spoken words differ.

The Ugliest Beast.

Probably the ugliest beast in the world is a monkey, a gruesome looking animal called the bearded saki. This is so utterly grotesque a beast that it would scarcely be safe to let a child or nervous person see it. The ugliness is not of an amusing kind, but of an evil, sinister nature. The beast has a sort of beard and a countenance unlike anything else in shape and lines. The monkey itself is not particularly savage, but is so hideous that the natives of its country, South America, say that no beast of prey, however hungry, will tackle it. Even a hungry jaguar will starve in a cageful of sakis.—London Mail.

Lived to Fight Another Day.

Frederick the Great lost his head at Mollwitz, his first battle. Had he not been a king he would have been shot at the next sunrise. In the heat of the carnage he thought his army was being overwhelmed, so he put the spurs to his horse and rode many miles before he stopped in his wild flight. Late at night he was discovered in an old mill awaiting, as he thought, capture by the enemy. Then he discovered that the army he deserted had won the battle. As Frederick was a prince, everybody tried to forget the incident just as quickly as possible, and after that in battle the king was just as brave as any other soldier.

Sympathy For the Minister.

A minister recently told this story on himself: One of his first sermons, which he thought an excellent one, was preached in his home church and, seeking a compliment from a prominent member, to draw him out spoke disparagingly of it to him. "Oh, well," was the response, we all knew that you were not feeling well this morning.—Congregationalist.

Between Friends.

"Isn't Percy Greener the most polite man you ever knew? He'll go out of his way any time to say sweet things about people."

"You, but I don't believe he's at all sincere."

"Of course he isn't. Why, only yesterday he told me what a perfect figure you had."

A Protracted Service.

They must have long church services in a certain town where a paper announced of a certain church, "The regular services will commence next Sunday at 3 p.m. and continue until further notice."

A White Jackjaw.

A jackjaw, pure white all over, including the back and legs, has been shot on Mr. Buckenham's farm, The High, Hillieray.

Gracious!

An old lady, wishing to pay a compliment to the preaching of the new vicar, told him:

"Really, sir, we didn't know what sin was until you came to the parish."

Chicago News.

A Come Down.

"I thought he was making $10,000 a year?"

"That was before the income tax went into effect. Now he admits he's getting only $1,500!"—Detroit Free Press.

SEVERE COLD ON LUNGS AND CHEST QUICKLY RELIEVED

by Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne.

Mr. J. Seward, Bromptonville, Que., writes:

"Two weeks ago I took a severe cold which settled in my lungs and my chest was very sore, breathing light and severe hacking cough. I was feeling miserable. I bought a bottle of Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne and after a few doses I felt great relief and I went into a sound sleep, a thing I was not able to do for some nights. Next day I was able to be around again, and before completing the bottle, felt as well as ever. It is a fine cough and cold cure."

Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne relieves the irritation and "stuffed-up" feeling in the air passages, soothes the tickling which makes you cough, loosens the phlegm and drives out the cold before it gets troublesome.

ODDITIES OF FASHION

HOW WOMEN OF OTHER RACES BEAUTIFY THEMSELVES.

Long Eyebrows and Finger Nails Enhance the Attractiveness of the Chinese Belle, While a Big Hole in the Ear Does the Same for the Burmese Miss—Brass Tubing and Rods Are Chic in Peking.

There is nothing in which women are more united than the desire to be beautiful, and as a consequence many members of the fair sex attempt to increase their personal charm by artificial means, says a writer in London Ideas. Specially is this so in foreign countries, and the man who takes a trip round the globe will come to the conclusion that beauty is seldom skin deep, and even in those parts of the hemisphere where civilization takes a back seat.

They are waking up a bit in China and Peking are fast going out of fashion, but as likely as not the girls there will continue to compress their feet. If you were to invite one to you would find that such a feat would be a physical impossibility with her. Nevertheless her poor deformed feet are still compared by her own countrymen to "Golden Lilies." In order to add attraction to her face the Chinese Miss continually plucks her eyebrows so that they may grow in length and spread but little, and she will allow her finger-nails to grow to a monstrous length if she has any social standing to speak of.

In order to appear beautiful to the eyes of the men-folk the Burmese girl must have her ears bored. When she is quite young her mother gives a party, and all the guests look on while the girl is thrown to the ground and a golden wire thrust through the lobe of each ear and twisted into a ring. As soon as the wound is healed a bigger wire is put in, and this is followed by a bigger one, until the hole becomes a large in circumference as a man's thumb. Then a plug of gold or silver is put into the ear, and is worn there afterwards as an ornament.

The Peking canon of beauty decrees that each female who wishes to be a la mode must be decorated about the neck and limbs with thick coils of brass tubing or rods. This is begun in early girlhood. The father of the girl lays her upon the ground, and taking hold of a length of tubing, hammers it into shape on neck and limbs, round and round until it resembles a gigantic spring. Fresh coils are added at various intervals.

To be considered a Tahitian beauty a lady must have a long nose, and in order to produce an elongated organ of smell she compresses it with wooden contrivances. The Hottentot lady, on the other hand, must have a broad, flat nose if she wishes to be considered pretty.

In some parts of the world the shape of the head is of the utmost importance, and the ladies will compress it into all manner of shapes. The females of Arakhan must, to be beautiful, have broad, smooth, flat foreheads, and the baby girls are born a plate of lead is tied to the head and kept there until the forehead is flatter than a pancake.

An Arabian baby girl, on the seventh day after birth, has six holes bored in her ears, and when she is two months' old heavy gold rings are attached to them, which she is to wear throughout her lifetime.

The mutilation of the teeth is observed by many races. The female members of the Sunda Islanders blacken all their teeth, but two with burned coconut, while the two accepted teeth are either pulled out and their place taken by gold ones or covered with plates of gold. The ladies of the Malay Archipelago file their teeth into points like those of a saw, and Arabian women not only file their teeth but color them, and stain their lips blue and their fingers and toes red.

In some of the islands of the Pacific the ladies are not considered fashionable unless they wear clothing of mulberry bark, which they beat with mallets and wash until all the soft parts of its substance have been taken out of it, leaving the textile portion only. A piece of any size can be made by hammering the edges of many pieces together, and if neatly done the joints are not perceptible. Among the wealthy islanders it is the custom for a woman to wear a piece of mulberry bark as much as 30 or 40 feet in length, and this she wraps round her body in the manner of a robe.

Using an Old Device.

The modern world is rediscovering the device of pouring oil upon the waves, which, scholars tell us, was known to Aristotle and practised by Pliny. Prof. Ray Lankester says that so small a quantity as a pint an hour is sufficient to secure a zone of calm round a ship, so that boats can be launched in safety. It is not improbable that oil will be carried for this purpose hereafter.

Recognized.

Merchant—Have you collected that bill of Smith's?
Collector—Have I collected it? I called at the house and found that seven Smiths lived there. Six declared they owed nothing, and the seventh kicked me out of the house.
Merchant—That's the one. Go back and get the money.—London Telegraph.

Well Powdered.

Jack—I hear that Mahol is an occasional contributor to magazines.
Edith—Judging from the quantities of powder she is purchasing, I should think she is the chief of ornaments.

"MY ONLY MEDICINE"

Says Mrs. Corbett, Are "Fruit-a-lives" "They Keep Me In Perfect Health"

Mrs. ANNIE A. CORBETT

AVON, Ont., May 14th, 1913
"I have used 'Fruit-a-lives' for indigestion and Constipation with most excellent results, and they continue to be my only medicine. I am highly pleased with 'Fruit-a-lives' and am not ashamed to have the facts published to the world. When I first started, about six years ago, to use them, I took four for a dose, but I cured myself of the above troubles and gradually reduced the dose to one tablet at night.

Before taking 'Fruit-a-lives' I took salts and other pills but the treatment was too harsh. I thought I might as well suffer from the disease as from these treatments.

Finally, I saw 'Fruit-a-lives' advertised with a letter in which someone recommended them very highly, so I tried them. The results were more than satisfactory and I have no hesitation in recommending them to any other person. They have done me a world of good. I get satisfaction from them, and that is quite a lot!"

Make Your Stock and Poultry Pay Better withRoyal Purple

STOCK AND POULTRY SPECIFICS

At a cost of less than a cent a day per health stock around his place. Try it on head of stock, it will increase their value 25 per cent. Permanently cures Colic, Debility, Worms, Bots and Skin Diseases. Tones up run-down animals so that they quickly gain weight and vigor. Increases the yield of milk cows three to five pounds a day, enriching the quality of the milk. ROYAL PURPLE is not a food. It is a conditioner—the best ever sold. If there was any other stock to eat the natural food they should eat and get the most benefit from it. Here is the advice of all thorough veterinarians: "Feed your stock on four parts of natural food and one part of ROYAL PURPLE." It does not interfere with the food they eat, but it makes the food more digestible, so that after a time they cannot digest good, wholesome food. Feed the good food grown on your own farm—oats, bran, chop, etc. You know what these things cost you and what they will do. ROYAL PURPLE is an aid to these natural foods and if you use it as directed, we can guarantee better results than if you feed any of the concoctions offered on the market as "prepared foods."

Try It On a Poor-Conditioned Animal

If there is a run-down, poorly nourished animal on your farm, see what ROYAL PURPLE SPECIFIC will do for it. A 50-cent package lasts a cow or horse 70 days. The cost is so trifling that no farmer in Canada has any excuse for having out-

GRANDPA'S REMINISCENCES.

WHEN grandpa gets his scrap book out. We have to sit around and listen while he talks about things joyous or mournful. How Grand became a president, and Patti—how she sang, and how some old election went to beat some ancient song.

The various scandals and the fights which flourished in his youth. They make us yawn in truth. But grandpa knows them all by heart. His pleasures are so few. That when his memory makes a start we have to hear him through.

We have our heroes nowadays. And singers wondrous sweet; Men struggle in the public gaze To glory or defeat; With interest the world's a-thrill, But grandpa gravely quiescent. And really thinks it has stood still Since he quit taking notes. —Washington Star.

The Test.

"How," the president of the Fat Man's club was asked, "did you prevent fraud among your applicants for members? Didn't some men try to get in that weren't up to the standard weight?"

"Yes," the portly officer replied, "but it was no use. Applications had to be presented in person at the Polk building, fifth floor. There was no elevator. The applicant climbed the five flights of stairs. At the top he met a man who asked, 'Were you looking for the Fat Man's club?'"

"Yes," the man said. "Your application is rejected. We receive no man who can climb five flights of stairs." —Weekly Telegraph.

Preliminary Advertisement.

It was evident the moment she entered the parlor that he was angry.

"What do you mean by suing me for breach of promise?" he demanded. "I never proposed to you in my life."

"Why, of course you didn't," she answered in a conciliatory tone. "And I wouldn't have accepted you if you had. But you know I am going on the stage, and I must make some preparations." —New York Globe.

Wanted to Be Shown.

"Supposing I decided to let you have the money, how do I know that I shall get it back at the time you mention?" said Spinkins.

"I promise it, my boy, on the word of a gentleman," replied Blenkins.

"Ah, in that case I may think better of it. Come round this evening and bring him with you." —Princeton Tiger.

Good Excuse.

"I wonder," said the boy who was looking at an old photograph, "why grandfather wore those large whiskers?"

"Possibly," replied Mr. Meekton, "he was willing to do almost anything to conceal our family custom of letting the wives select the husbands' neckties." —Washington Star.

A Tragical Cook.

Guest (who has been invited to supper by an actress)—Our hostess prepared this little feast with her own hands, so she tells me. What do you say to that?

The Other Guest (shrugging his shoulders)—That she is a tragedienne in the art of cookery also. —Flegende Blatter.

His Alias.

"See here!" said his wife. "I hear you acted scandalous on that trip with those Knights of Sparta."

"Me? How's that?"

"Mr. Wombut says you posed as the Isaac Walton of the party. What do you mean by going around under an assumed name?" —Boston Advertiser.

Coincidence.

Billonaire's Son—My dad says he was happier when he was working for $10 a week.

Friend—Everybody was. —Chicago Daily News.

Explanation.

"Do you mean to say such a physical wreck as he gave you that black eye?" asked the magistrate.

"Sure, your honor, he wasn't a physical wreck till after he gave me the black eye," replied the complaining wife. —London Telegraph.

Must Do Something in It.

"Do you believe there is really any such thing as love at first sight?"

"Certainly. If there was no such thing how many of the married men whom you know would ever have been able to enchant their wives?" —Chicago Record-Herald.

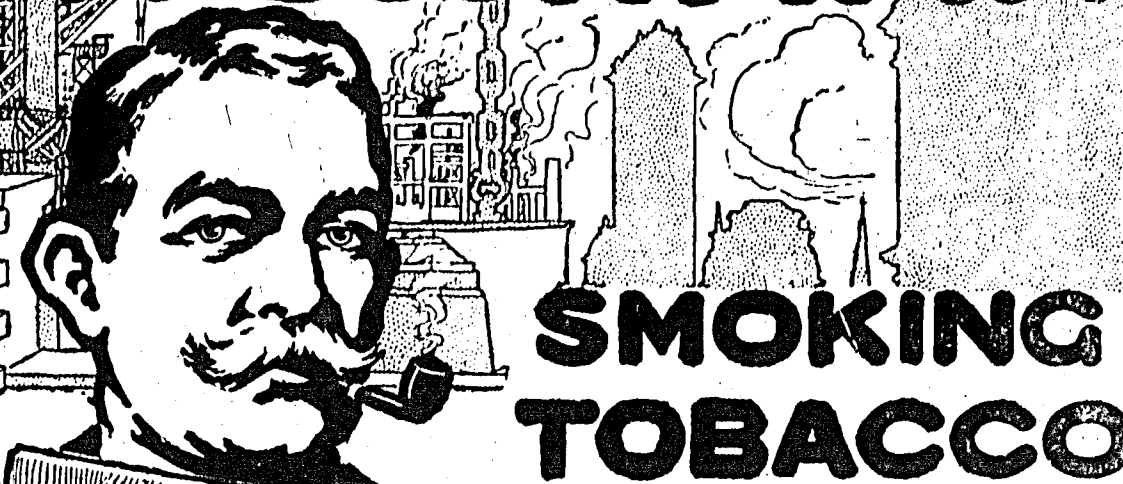

The Parting.

Aunt (to engaged niece)—So Henry went away yesterday. I hear. Parting is very painful, isn't it?

Niece—I should think so. Every rib in my body is aching today. —Flegende Blatter.

HOW THIS WOMAN FOUND HEALTH

Would not give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for All Rest of Medicine in the World.

Utica, Ohio.—"I suffered everything from a female weakness after baby came. I had numb spells and was dizzy, had black spots before my eyes, my back ached and I was so weak I could hardly stand up. My face was yellow, even my fingernails were colorless and I had displacement. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and now I am stout, well and healthy. I can do all my own work and can walk to town and back and not get tired. I would not give your Vegetable Compound for all the rest of the medicines in the world. I tried doctor's medicines and they did me no good."—Mrs. MARY EARLEWINE, R.F.D. No. 3, Utica, Ohio.

Another Case.
Nebo, Ill.—"I was bothered for ten years with female troubles and the doctors did not help me. I was so weak and nervous that I could not do my work and every month I had to spend a few days in bed. I read so many letters about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound curing female troubles that I got a bottle of it. It did me more good than anything else I ever took and now it has cured me. I feel better than I have for years and tell everybody what the Compound has done for me. I believe I would not be living to-day but for that."—Mrs. HETIE GREENSTREET, Nebo, Illinois.

HACKING COUGH OF TWO MONTHS STANDING

Cured by Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne
You know how hard it is to get rid of a cough that has hung on for even two weeks, let alone two months. So you will appreciate what Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne did for Mr. Patrick Holland, of East Baltic, P. E. I. He says:
"I suffered from a hacking cough for over two months. I tried several remedies, but they failed to cure me. At last I tried Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne, and got such relief that I tried more, and after using three bottles was absolutely cured."
The unique, scientific combination of three such reliable remedies makes Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne the best preparation that has ever been offered for all sorts of colds and coughs. Get a 25c or 50c bottle from your Druggist and see for yourself how effective it is. National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girl! Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glitters with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. Thin, destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fall out, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

Inspector under Canada Temperance Act in and for the Municipality of the District of Digby.

Dated at Weymouth, N. S., this 13th day of January, A. D. 1914.

To the Warden and Councilors of the Municipality of the District of Digby.

GENTLEMEN: Shortly after the appointment of H. H. Woodman, Esq., as Inspector under the C. T. Act in January, 1913, he instructed me to take proceedings against one, Joseph Amaro, of Smith's Cove. I found that we already had a conviction against this man which had not been satisfied. I accordingly had the necessary papers issued and Amaro lodged in jail. He subsequently paid his fine and costs and was released.

In April, 1913, Mr. Woodman instructed me to have papers issued against John Therio junior, of East Perry, who was convicted on the 18th day of December, 1911, but who had not satisfied said conviction and who was reported to be again engaged in the sale of liquor. I accordingly had the necessary papers issued against this party on the 12th day of April, 1913, and he was committed to jail and served in accordance with the commitment.

On the 28th day of January A. D. 1913, under instructions from Mr. Woodman I had an information laid against David Wagner before S. McCormack, Esquire, for unlawfully selling intoxicating liquor at Plympton Station on or about the 26th day of January A. D. 1913. He admitted the offence and was convicted of a first offence under the act accordingly.

Dated at Digby, N. S., this 12th day of January, A. D. 1914.

Ordered that W. F. Read, M. D., be, and he is hereby appointed Jail Surgeon for the ensuing year.

Upon reading report of Committee on Tenders and Public Property ordered to be received and adopted.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE ON TENDERS AND PUBLIC PROPERTY
To the Warden and Councilors of the Municipality of the District of Digby.

GENTLEMEN: Your Committee on Tenders and Public Property begs leave to present the following report for the year 1913.

COURT HOUSE.
The contract for janitor at $25.00 a month was continued with H. A. P. Smith, Esq., during the year. Mr. Elton Saleau was employed to remove and replace the soft and cracked bricks which had shown themselves in the walls of the Court House and jail during the past year. Mr. Saleau advised for the preservation of the brick that it should be given a good coat of oil. The whole cost of replacing bricks and oiling amounted to $171.58. The work was performed during the month of July, and has added greatly to the appearance of the brick work as well as serving as a great protection against the weather.

The orders passed for Court House maintenance amount to $922.03. The amount voted last year was $800.00, being $200.00 less than in 1912. Your Committee recommends a vote of $800.00 for the present year.

JAIL.
The contract with the jailor was continued at $375.00 for the year. Orders for $153.55 were passed during the year. To this must be added the jailor's salary $375.00 making $528.55 spent for maintenance which is 299.55 less than last year. It is difficult to make an estimate for this service as it varies according to the number committed to jail. Last year the vote was $700.00. Your Committee recommends a vote of $600.00 for the current year.

ALMS HOUSE.
There have been no additions during the year which could be properly charged to this account. The insurance for $6000.00 was renewed for three years from the 12th day of November, 1913. Premium $102.00. There was no vote for this service last year, although your Committee recommended a vote of $100.00. Your committee recommends a vote of $175.00 this year.

POOR OUTSIDE.
We have expended on the support of the poor outside the Home $830.06 during 1913. Last year we spent $365.52. This account seems to be increasing from year to year in spite of the greatest care exercised by our Committee. There were several large items of expenditure which we are hopeful will not be duplicated during the present year. We would recommend a vote of $500.00 for the current year.

POOR INSIDE.
Orders for $2642.47 have been passed during the year for the poor and harmless insane inside the Home. We would recommend a vote of $3000.00 for the current year for the poor and harmless insane inside the Home.

REPORT OF KEEPER OF HOME.
Inmate during the year 1913.

The Bijou Dream Theatre

"The Law and the Outlaw" in two reels is a feature of tomorrow night's program of moving pictures at the Bijou Dream Theatre, presenting Tom Mix, the world's most daring cowboy in an incidental series of sensational, death defying stunts. It is said to be the greatest western film ever produced in motion pictures. The other reels to-morrow night, "A trip through the Rockies," and "The Wrong Pair," are also good. The latter is an excellent comedy, but the trip through the Rockies not only exhibits some beautiful scenery, but is very instructive. A full house is anticipated.

Digby's Electric Light

There seems to be some misunderstanding in regard to the discounts on the first item $1.15. The discount will be 12 1/2 cts., leaving one dollar to pay. The Council's notice of Dec. 26th makes that quite clear. The meters are being inspected and sealed at the station, by the government inspector.

Good Cows

A number of our prominent citizens are having a lot of friendly competition at present regarding the qualities of their cows. Several of whom appear to have the farmers beat in reference to the size of the estimated revenue. Mr. O. O. Jones has a Jersey cow and calf, for which he has received $100.00. Mr. John Larche has a grade Guernsey, for which he has also received $100.00. Mr. W. E. VanBlarcom has a Holstein, which is said to be second to none. Mr. N. W. Hogg has a Jersey, the revenue from which is reported to be more than $100.00 per year.

Remarkable Figures

It will no doubt be interesting to many people to know that by actual computation the output of "SALADA" from the Montreal Branch alone, for the year 1913, was equivalent to 30,000 one hundred pound Chests of Tea, which, if placed one on top of the other would reach a distance of about 60,000 feet, or nearly 12 miles high. This may convey some slight idea of the enormous sale of the famous "Salada" Tea.

R. station agent, was in Kentville this week. During his absence Mr. Lynda, of Truro, had charge of the work here. Capt. Manning Trask, of Little River, one of Digby county's most prominent and successful wholesale fish dealers, made the COURIER a friendly call last Friday afternoon. Mrs. R. J. Thorne, Digby, made a short visit in Windsor with her sister, Mrs. E. W. Dakin, on her way to Halifax this week. Mrs. Thorne will again visit Windsor on her return. Rev. Dr. McDonald, of McPhail, of Memorial Baptist church, Ottawa, Sunday night, asked his congregation to release him from the pastorate. He has been appointed editor of the Maritime Baptist, published in St. John, N. B. We regret to state that Miss Lillian Winchester, the popular manager of the Western Union Telegraph office, at Digby, is again in Halifax for medical treatment. An operation will be performed tomorrow morning at ten o'clock, which her many friends trust will be successful. Her mother, Mrs. Edward Winchester, who accompanied her to Halifax, returned home yesterday, but leaves again today to be present at the operation. Mr. Harry Keane, of Port Wade, who for a number of years has been book-keeper and clerk with Mr. W. L. Holdsworth, tinmith, plumber and kitchen furnisher, has resigned that position and returned to Port Wade for the present. Mr. Keane was not only popular with the young folks who regret his departure. Mr. Daniel McNeil has been employed by Mr. Holdsworth in Mr. Keane's place. Dr. Edward Breck, the author and scientist, whose family spent last winter in Digby, is having a busy season as a lecturer on nature subjects and on ornaments and war. Dr. Breck has already spoken before the Public Library Association in Boston, the City Club and the Boston Athletic Association in Boston, as well as in New York and many smaller places. Dr. Breck speaks on naval matters as the official representative of the American Navy League. In his nature lectures does not suffer. A letter from Dr. Breck appears in our columns today. We understand that Dr. Breck's family is residing in Boston, but will spend the summer, as usual, at South Milford, Annapolis county, where Dr. Breck himself has spent the greater part of each year since 1902, making a close study of the fauna, the fishing and hunting of our province.

Special Train for Bridgetown

DIGBY VS BRIDGETOWN AT BRIDGETOWN IN TONIGHT'S HOCKEY EVENT.

The suburban train which leaves Digby at four o'clock this afternoon for Annapolis, will run through to Bridgetown as a special where the Digby hockey team will play a return match with Bridgetown, the game to commence at 8 o'clock.

The Bridgetown team has been considerably strengthened since their defeat in Digby and it is said that the game is liable to be a close one. Mr. G. K. Dodge was in town Wednesday completing arrangements. The round trip ticket from Digby are $1.05 each, and we trust that the special will be well patronized, as a substantial guarantee had to be placed with the D. A. R. before this privilege could be obtained. The special train will return to Digby the same evening, after the game.

SHIPPING AND FISHING

Live lobsters sold in Boston Monday at $35 for large and $21 for small. Schr. Anthony, Capt. Gates, sailed Tuesday from Digby with lumber for Boston, shipped by H. H. Marshall, M. P. P. Dredge Provincial has been hauled up for the remainder of the winter in the Racquette. Tag Leader, Capt. Delyos, sailed for St. John Monday. Arrivals at D. Sproule & Company's this week: 1157 lbs. of mixed fish from boatmen; shipped 147 boxes of human haddies and 20 drums of dried fish. Mr. W. S. Trask, of Little River, made his last shipment of canned lobsters to Boston Tuesday, via S. S. Westport to Yarmouth, thence via S. S. Boston—88 cases. Arrivals at the Maritime Fish Corporation this week: Schr. Cora Gertie, 27,989 lbs. of haddock, 2,039 lbs. of hake; other sources, 6,850 lbs. of haddock, 2,043 lbs. of cod, 692 lbs. of hake. Capt. MacKinnon, master of the S. S. Westport III being ill, Capt. Ernest H. Lewis, of Knappton, is now in charge of that steamer. Capt. Lewis' steamer Stadium is in winter quarters at St. John.

The red lobster which was caught recently near Rockland, Maine, and was sent to New York City was put on exhibition. One man, insisting that it was boiled, put his finger inside one of its claws—and then went for a doctor.

Captain Simons, of steamer Boston, on her outward passage to Boston on Thursday last passed the abandoned schr. George W. Anderson, 8 miles S. of Thatcher's Island. He sent a wireless to Boston and the cutter Greaham went in search of the vessel and towed her into Gloucester the same day. She had drifted 30 miles in 30 hours since being abandoned. The following vessels have reported at the Digby customs house since Jan. 22nd: Inward—Jan. 27th, Schr. Cora Gertie, Crocker, Freeport; 28th, S. S. Bear River, Woodworth, St. John. Outward—Jan. 23rd, Schr. St. Anthony, Gates, Boston, 97,851 ft. lumber, 167,000 ft. hake; 24th, S. S. Leader, Delyos, St. John; 27th, schr. Cora Gertie, Crocker, Freeport; 28th, S. S. Bear River, Woodworth, Bear River. A truly pathetic incident connected with the Cobeguid disaster is that of a little boy, a passenger on the steamer, who upon landing at the wharf in Yarmouth from the rescue steamer, said to one of the onlookers: "Do you see that big fellow over there? He waded through water above his waist this morning to try to get us a cup of coffee. He tried to make a fire in a big pot to heat the water, but couldn't do it." The little boy's crude way of expressing his gratitude was unique as well as demonstrative.

The wreck of the Cobeguid has disappeared from sight except for a little of the stern which is visible at low water.

At Port Maitland and other places along the shore the impression is that the upper works washed off during Sunday's gale, but Captain Landry, of the wrecking steamer Bridgewater, thinks the vessel has "aquatized" down as she lay, and that her upper works are still intact. Wrecking operations have been suspended and the Bridgewater returned to Halifax Tuesday. A live cat was found on board on Friday and was rescued. Yarmouth's fishing news, Friday's Yarmouth Times says: Fish news along the water front has been fairly quiet since Tuesday. On Wednesday the Loran B. Snow and Dorothy G. Snow discharged 8,000 and 5,000 pounds respectively, at the Consumer's wharf. Today the Cassio Belle, Captain Cheney, which arrived from Tiverton yesterday, is discharging about 15,000 lbs. The Cassio Belle will in the future make weekly trips here. She is picking up fish caught by the boat fishermen at Monk Cove, Little River, Tidville, East Ferry and Tiverton. Tuesday's Times: Fishing news still continues scarce. Only three fares have arrived since Friday and of these only one has been sold. They were the Dorothy G. Snow, with 15,000 pounds and the Loran B. Snow and Arlyle B. Watson, 8,000 lbs. each. The Dorothy sold yesterday to the Consumers at 3 1/2 cents—a low price. The Dorothy reports fish getting scarce on the off-shore grounds.

As it is almost impossible at this season of the year for us to make a personal canvass, we hereby request all electors to kindly support and endorse us, and to assure you that if you do us the honor of electing us, we on our part will endeavor to discharge our duties with the best of our ability, ever keeping in mind the interest of the rate payers and if possible a lowering of expenditure, consistent with the requirements of the town and thus make our taxes lower if such a thing is possible. LADIES AND GENTLEMEN—Having been requested by a largely signed requisition of the prominent ratepayers of the town asking me to again allow myself to be nominated as a candidate for Mayor at the ensuing civic election to be held on Tuesday, Feb. 3rd, and after having given the matter careful consideration, I have decided to accept of the nomination and allow my name to be placed in nomination. If my record for the past three years as your Mayor has been such that you will all afford me great pleasure to again serve you should you do me the honor of electing me. I have always taken the keenest interest in the affairs of the town, and in cases of this kind the position should seek the man and I will therefore be unable to make a personal canvass for my support. I am proud to have your support, and I assure you that I will in the future, as in the past, do my utmost at all times to safeguard your interests, and endeavor to conduct the business affairs of the town in an economical manner. Thanking you for the continued confidence you have bestowed upon me by again asking me to accept the nomination, I remain, Respectfully yours, H. B. SHORT.

During the two years that I held office, I gave my best attention to the public business, and endeavored to perform my duty honestly and impartially. Should I be elected, it will be my aim to render to all the people of the Town that careful and satisfactory service, which they have the right to expect from their chosen officials. Trusting to receive your votes and support, I am, Respectfully yours, W. W. HAYDON.

To the Electors of the Town of Digby:

I have at heart the best interests of the town, and desire to see its affairs conducted with efficiency and with due regard to economy, good order and justice to all. Should I be elected, I undertake to apply myself zealously and with such ability as I possess to the service of the public in all matters relating to the Town. LEATHER FROM FISH SKINS.
All Kinds of Fish Supply Leather Both Curious and Beautiful.
Many kinds of leather are got from sea creatures, some of which are very curious and beautiful. The skin of sharks, says The Youth's Comp' alone, is a beautiful burnished gray or bluish color. The surface resembles finely grained leather, inasmuch as it shows many tiny prickles not all one way. They are quite invaluable to the naked eye, but there are so many and they are so finely set that you distinctly feel the roughness of the surface if you rub your hand over the skin in the direction opposite to that in which the prickles point.
This property of shark skin renders it especially valuable to the manufacturer of "shagreen." Since the skin is at once tough and easy to work, it can be used for any purposes where decorative effects are desired.
In spite of its lumpy armor, the sturgeon furnishes a valuable and attractive leather. It has been found that when the bony plates are removed, the patterns remain on the skin, just as the patterns of alligator scales remain on alligator leather, a circumstance that adds greatly to the value of the product. From the sturgeons that abound on our Pacific coast and in the great lakes we get a tough leather that is used for the making of leathers to join leather belting for machinery. It is said that the facing frequently outwears the belting itself.
There is found in Turkish waters a strikingly unattractive fish called the angel fish, classed among the littoral sharks. This fish yields an extremely high quality of green leather, much esteemed in the Ottoman dominions.
In Russia certain peasant costumes are trimmed with the skins of a food fish, the turbot, and in Egypt men wear sandals made from the skins of fish caught in the Red Sea. In our own country, too, the cod has been used in a similar manner, for in bygone days a good many shoes and gloves have been made in Gloucester from the skin of the humble cod.
Eelskin is used for many purposes, among them the manufacture of leather binding for books and for braiding into whips.
Gibraltar Has Red Rain.
A curious phenomenon was witnessed at Gibraltar recently. Lurid coppery masses of cloud suddenly shrouded the heavens over the rock and surrounding bay. Then a heavy shower of rain, the color of reddish mud, fell, leaving a pinkish stain in many parts of the town.
Following the red rain a yellow rainstorm was experienced. Vessels arriving there reported having noted the same phenomenon. The inhabitants depend on rainwater for drinking purposes and concern is expressed regarding the sediment in the tanks.
It is conjectured that in a sandstorm in the neighboring African wilds particles of sand had been gathered into the air and that they fell with the rain.
Taste and Temperature.
The sense of taste resides in little flask shaped pockets embedded in the skin of the surface of the tongue and in the upper part of the throat. Each of these bulbs has a fibril of a nerve connecting it with the larger nerves of its region. Anything to be tasted must be in a dissolved or gaseous condition so as to reach the interior of the bulbs, and differences in taste depend upon the varying intensity with which the impression is transmitted through the nerves. It is not surprising, then, that taste is much influenced by temperature and may temporarily be stopped by extreme heat or cold. The sense of taste is strongest at a temperature between 60 and 60 degrees F.
Voices Heard From Airship.
We wonder how many people realize the extraordinary extent to which it is possible to hear from an airship at night. A man snoring in bed can actually be heard from a great altitude, and at 4,000 feet, says a pilot, it is possible to hear "people talking, dogs, sheep, cartwheels, tramway cars, troops marching, transport, artillery, cavalry, and this without training." For scientific purposes, of course, it is in the present stage of their development, must thus be most extraordinarily valuable.—London Globe.
Successful.
A young Welshman applied to the head of a big drapery firm in London for a job. "Where do you come from?" he was asked. "From Llanpumpnant." What may that name mean? "It means the place of the five saints," was the ready answer. "Are there five saints there still?" "There are only four since I left," said the young Welshman. At the head of the firm came from the same neighborhood, the young man got the situation.—London Mail.
Why She Kept Quiet.
A nervous matron was upbraiding her negro maid and the servant remained silent. This exasperated the matron, who shouted: "Mandy, why don't you say something? Why do you keep quiet?" "Cause, m'fay," replied Mandy meekly, "It takes two to make a fight, an' it ain't propah foh ladies to fight."
His Sorrow.
"You know that box of cigars you gave me on my birthday, dear?" said a man to his wife.
"Yes."
"Well, I took them down to the office, and none one stole them."
"I'm awfully sorry."
"So am I—for the thief!" was the cruel remark.
An Advantage.
"There's an advantage in a phonograph."
"What is it?"
"It doesn't matter who's singing, you can be right on talking."

LEATHER FROM FISH SKINS.
All Kinds of Fish Supply Leather Both Curious and Beautiful.
Many kinds of leather are got from sea creatures, some of which are very curious and beautiful. The skin of sharks, says The Youth's Comp' alone, is a beautiful burnished gray or bluish color. The surface resembles finely grained leather, inasmuch as it shows many tiny prickles not all one way. They are quite invaluable to the naked eye, but there are so many and they are so finely set that you distinctly feel the roughness of the surface if you rub your hand over the skin in the direction opposite to that in which the prickles point.
This property of shark skin renders it especially valuable to the manufacturer of "shagreen." Since the skin is at once tough and easy to work, it can be used for any purposes where decorative effects are desired.
In spite of its lumpy armor, the sturgeon furnishes a valuable and attractive leather. It has been found that when the bony plates are removed, the patterns remain on the skin, just as the patterns of alligator scales remain on alligator leather, a circumstance that adds greatly to the value of the product. From the sturgeons that abound on our Pacific coast and in the great lakes we get a tough leather that is used for the making of leathers to join leather belting for machinery. A FEMALE POPE.

Fanatical Polish Woman Founds New Religion.

A woman in Plock, Poland, Mary Kozłowska, is, in the estimation of her fanatical followers, a pope—the only woman pope in the world.

The secret of her rise to power lies in the fact that she sees visions and acts on them. She takes no decision before going into a trance, when, she says, voices from heaven tell her what to do.

She was past forty when the first vision came as she sat in her work-room making garments for the workers at the old cathedral up on the hill. She told young priests that she had talked with God and the Blessed Virgin.

She began to hold prayer meetings, where more and more people came. She and they then vowed to destroy the anticlericalism they believed to be at the bottom of all the world's sin.

Scores rallied around her, taking strictest vows of self-sacrifice and poverty. They lead simple lives, eat no meat, drink no alcohol, go barefooted in the sharpest frost, wear hair shirts next their skins and devote their lives to the poor.

For them the will of emperors in the will of God, and the most reproachful measures may only be resisted by prayer. They are most earnest missionaries, drawing to their churches people who had long ceased to worship anything but themselves.

When Rome called on them to give up various doctrines and discard the woman who saw visions they refused, were excommunicated and declared the woman their pope instead.

Their cult had spread to all the poor and industrial districts of the country. When they refused to leave the churches in which their priests preached there was war, with broken heads and lost lives.

When the Roman priests complained the Russian Government openly favored her. Her followers, who killed people in the fights for churches, have been acquitted by Russian courts, and Roman priests are imprisoned for writing against her. In less than two years after her excommunication she had built thirty churches, with schools, which are now dotted over the country.

Hunger and Play.

Herodotus learned from the Lydians that the Greek ball game originated in a prolonged famine in Lydia. For some time they endured it, but at last they invented dice, knuckle bones, the ball and all other games except drafts. One day they played these games so as to keep their minds off food; the next they took food and did not play. This alternation ended out their provisions for 18 years, at the end of which time, the situation still being desperate, half the population emigrated. One can only suppose that the ball games were not very athletic; otherwise the increased appetite given by them must have undone much of the saving.

Earliest Newspaper.

The earliest English newspaper, Nathaniel Butter's "Weekly Newes," some copies of which are to be seen at the Advertising Exhibition, had several predecessors abroad. The first of these in point of time was the "Ordinell Nyttis," the publication of which began at Strasburg in 1609—fourteen years before the appearance of Nathaniel Butter's venture. In 1620 Abraham Verhoeven founded the "Nieuwe Tijdingen" at Antwerp, and this continued to appear weekly for 227 years. The oldest existing newspaper is apparently the Swedish official gazette, which dates back to 1644.

The Words That Won.

In London one of the weekly papers offered a prize for the best list of strong words to number ten. The announcement specified that but ten words would be considered from any one person and a committee of literary men would select from the numbers offered the ten strongest words in the English language.

These are the words that won: Hate, blood, hungry, dawn, coming, gone, love, dead, alone, forever.

Do you think of any stronger, fuller or of suggestion.

Court and Witness Agree.

An amusing incident occurred in one of the New York courts the other day. The lawyer for the defense was making a very lengthy cross examination of an old lady when he was interrupted by the judge with the remark, "I think you have exhausted this witness."

"Yes, judge," she exclaimed, "I do feel very much exhausted."

A Quotation.

Mr. Ferris is in the apartment house business and was talking one morning with an acquaintance.

"Yes, business is very good," said Mr. Ferris. "Every apartment but one in my house is rented."

"And that," said the other, "I suppose, is last, but not least."

His Start in Life.

"How much of an income would it be necessary for you to have in order to be satisfied to retire?"

"If I could be sure of $10,000 a year I would quit business and be thoroughly satisfied."

FREE OF ALL THREE DISEASES

"Fruit-a-lives" Brought Him Perfect Health

AVON, ONT., May 14th, 1913.

"I am younger since I have been taking 'Fruit-a-lives'. I was troubled very badly with Piles, Constipation and Stomach Disorder, but I found 'Fruit-a-lives' was the panacea for the whole three."

Now I am free of all these diseases and enjoying perfect health, and able to work whenever I like. Five years ago, I started taking 'Fruit-a-lives'. I took two every night and they worked wonders for me.

No other medicine I could get was so good and I took lots of different remedies before I found out how good 'Fruit-a-lives' were.

I keep 'Fruit-a-lives' on hand all the time, and am never without them. I even take them with me when I go motoring, so I can have them handy. 'Fruit-a-lives' are worthy of every good word I can say about them. The fact that they cured me of Piles, was something to be everlastingly thankful for."

Salomon's Convention.

THE EMPLOYEES OF A BIG PAINT CONCERN GET TOGETHER FOR MUTUAL BENEFIT.

Salomon's Conventions among the progressive manufacturing firms of this continent are now well established institutions; in fact, no large manufacturing industry is today without them. They are peculiarly the product of the northern half of this western hemisphere, where the intimacy between employer and employee is much closer, and perhaps more sympathetic than in the older countries across the sea. We might describe them as the annual clearing house for complaints and suggestions with regard to the conduct of the business, with which the different members of the selling staff are identified. The Convention of the Brandram Henderson, Limited, makers of Brandram's B. B. Genuine White Lead and B. B. "English" Paints, was held at Digby at the end of 1913, and in the previous year it was held at Montreal. In order to give the eastern and western men a better chance to fraternize, however, the last one was held at Toronto. It opened on the morning of the 18th of December at the Queen Hotel, and two whole days were given to conferences and discussions on various subjects connected with the selling of paints and varnishes. A stenographer reported the deliberations and each man was permitted to express his opinion on all questions that arose in this connection. On the last day the decisions arising out of the numerous suggestions and requests of the salesmen, were made known and were of a character to give pronounced satisfaction.

The work of the Brandram Henderson salesmen and the sales plans of the Company are of especial interest to our readers, because Brandram Henderson, Limited, are makers and distributors in Canada of the world's famous B. B. Genuine White Lead. This product has now been the world's standard among White Leads for over a century. The Company's plant at Montreal in which this lead is produced, is one of the finest of its kind in the world and was built at a cost of $300,000. It is with the product of this plant that Brandram Henderson "English" Paints are made at the Company's paint factories in Montreal and Halifax.

In addition to their factories and offices at Montreal and Halifax, they have sales branches at St. John, Toronto and Winnipeg, also a distributing depot at Elmton, and their staff of over thirty salesmen have not only the wide area of the Dominion of Canada as their field, but also the Island of Newfoundland, the West India Islands and other countries where they are rapidly developing an export trade. Their sales agent in Digby is Messrs. Dakin Bros. where a full assortment of B-H products can be obtained.

A Tough Experience.

GLOUCESTER FISHERMEN, SEPARATED FROM THEIR VESSELS REACH HALIFAX.

HALIFAX, Jan. 22.—Out of that blinding blizzard that separated eleven dory men from their schooners near Halifax on Wednesday every fisherman has turned up safely. This was learned upon communicating with villages along the western shore.

Given up for dead by their comrades, two fishers from the Boston schooner Pontiac reached Halifax last night after coming by coach from Ostron Lake. They were taken to the office of John Mackenzie, where they told of their hardships and thrilling escape. Finding out for the first time who they were and then only by sight, their shipmates entered later and the welcome they expressed on recognizing the rescued men was extremely affecting. One big fellow was so overjoyed on again seeing his chum, Frederick Theriault, that he actually hugged him, holding the posture while the stories were related.

The returned men were Charles Brinston, of Newfoundland, and Fredrick Theriault, of East Ferry, Digby county, and the man who up to a late hour was still unreported, is Frank Palmer. Palmer made land on the eastern side of East Jeddore harbor, but he is suffering so much from his harrowing experience that he will be unable to start for this city until Monday. He is receiving medical attention at the home of Walter Baker, the light in whose house he was the beacon that served to bring him out of the storm when he was lost in the night blackened sea.

Yesterday morning the glad news came that the two men grounded by Boston schooner Elsie had drifted ashore at Sambro Island and were being cared for by the lighthouse keeper. They were picked up along with the other six at Ketch Harbor when the Elsie sailed out of the harbor yesterday day.

This makes one of the most miraculous escapes in the annals of the sea—eleven men lost in a blizzard blowing off land and still worming out a strong tide tending to carry them out to sea; making safety on but a chance reckoning.

A FATAL ACCIDENT

George Salmon, of Montreal, Killed at Victoria Bridge

STRUCK BY A PILE DRIVER AT RIGHT O'CLOCK LAST NIGHT—INQUEST HELD BEFORE CORONER HICK, OF BEAR RIVER—SAID TO BE A NATIVE OF ENGLAND

A special telephone message to the CORNER last night conveyed the sad news of another fatal accident which had just occurred at Victoria Bridge.

It appears that about eight o'clock in the evening one of the employees named George Salmon was in some way struck by the pile driving machinery and thrown from the bridge into the river, a fall of about fifteen feet. His body having floated, a gas olene boat immediately picked him up and landed him on the Digby county side, but the accident had proved fatal.

The body was removed to the Foundation Company's office on the east side. Dr. Lovitt was immediately summoned, also undertaker James Purdy and Coroner Arthur Rice, of Bear River.

An inquest was held before Coroner Rice during the evening and a verdict returned in accordance with the facts. The deceased, who was a general favorite with his companion workmen, and all who know him, belonged to Montreal, but is said to be a native of England. He was about 28 years of age, and single.

A sister, who resides in England will be communicated with by cable at an early hour this morning.

It is thought the remains will be interred in Bear River.

Mr. Salmon was a member of the Church of England.

Weymouth.

Miss Oda VanBlarcom, of Barton, has been the guest of her aunt, Mrs. J. Boyd McNeill.

Miss L. Goodwin, of Maine, is spending the winter with relatives at the Goodwin Hotel.

We regret to announce that through indisposition, Dr. Elderkin has been confined to his residence for a fortnight.

Thomas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. O. Hanksin, had the misfortune last week to so seriously cut his knee as to require Dr. Hallett to take three stitches to close the wound.

The boys had preparations made on Saturday to drive to Church Point to play a game of hockey with the College team. Owing to the inclement weather the game was postponed.

The excellent sleighing of last week was taken advantage of by a number of citizens. On Friday afternoon a party of a dozen young folks drove to Corberie and spent the evening, returning at about 3 the next morning.

The annual business of the Church of England was held at the rectory on Monday evening, the 19th. The various reports showed the parish to be in a most satisfactory condition. Herbert Jones, Esq., and Lyman Bartlett were elected wardens for the ensuing year for St. Peter's and St. Thomas' churches respectively. The treasurer's report showed a balance of upwards of $40 on hand.

A special meeting of the Executive of the local branch of the League for the protection of the Feeble minded was held last Tuesday evening. The president and secretary were appointed a committee to write to the local members of the Provincial Government requesting them to give the matter careful consideration so that when it comes before the House of Assembly they will be in a position to advocate such action as may be feasible for the better care and protection of the feeble minded in this province.

Belliveau's Cove.

Schr. Rosalie Belliveau is taking in a cargo of lumber for the West Indies. The schr. Rosalie Belliveau, lying at the wharf here came near being burnt, the sail catching fire from the fire in the stove pipe. This happened at midnight. Fortunately a lady noticed from her window a flash of light. The schooner would without doubt, have been destroyed.

Mrs. Peter Blinn died on the 19th inst., after a lingering illness of many years, at the age of 71 years, leaving to mourn their loss her husband, six sons and two daughters. Five of the sons reside in the U. S. The Rev. Fr. Augustus Blinn, one of the sons, came from Escanaba, Mich., to assist at the funeral. Fr. Blinn returned to his parish on Tuesday via St. John.

Councillor Varne referring to the action brought by Mrs. Etta Varne against the Town of Digby for damages for water over flowing her land, stated that he had had an interview with Mrs. Varne during which she had authorized him to make the following proposal of settlement of the action to the Town Council, viz:—

That she would discontinue the action provided the Town put a drain through her property from the point where the water course at present crosses King Street in a straight line to the North-eastern corner of the barn of Mrs. Minnie Hutchinson and put a bridge across the drain so that she would be able to cross the drain to her land on the South side of the drain and each party to the action to pay their own costs.

On motion of Councillors Jordan and Dutton the offer of settlement made by Mrs. Varne was accepted and the Town Solicitor was directed to prepare an agreement of settlement of the action on the terms stated.

The Council adjourned at 8:45 p. m.

The O. O. F. Appreciated.

Mr. Thomas W. Cook, of North Range, who called on the Council Wednesday, says he greatly appreciates the way in which the officers and members of the Canadian Order of Foresters have treated Mr. Cook, himself and family since the sad death of their only son E. Kanah N., who was killed on the D. A. R. a couple of months ago. The late Mr. Cook had joined Bay View court, C. O. F., Barton, just a few days before his death. The officers and members of the local court did everything they could at the time of the accident, brother Foresters at Digby volunteered their services when his son was removed to that town for medical aid before he passed away; the officers and members of Court Bay View stood around the funeral in a body. The funeral benefits of $50.00 has since been paid. Monday Mr. Cook received a cheque for $1,000, his son's life insurance in full. He says no order could have been better, all of which is much appreciated by the bereaved ones.

Old Coin Found in Annapolis.

A coin of metal, evidently of copper, was found some distance below the surface at the mouth of the little brook at the brick works, Annapolis Royal. It is about the size of the English penny and bears on the obverse the resemblance of a conical structure, under which is the legend "Old powder house," above it around the edge are the words "Semi-centennial 1892" On the reverse side around the upper semi-circle is the motto "Municipal freedom, civic national strength," across the coin is the name Somerville and around the lower semi-circle "founded 1842, established a city 1872."

Much Appreciated Gift.

Mr. J. F. Cripps, manager of the Bijou Dream Theatre, has presented the Digby Hockey Team with a set of expensive uniforms which he purchased from Mr. Gilbert E. Hart, gentle-furnisher, Digby, and which have been on display for several days in one of Mr. Hart's windows, Water street.

Nova Scotia Farmers' Association.

The annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Farmers' Association is in session, this week in Bridgewater. Among those in attendance from Digby county are E. J. Wagner, Westville; Gustaf Nichols, D. C. McKay, Acadville; Charles Burns, Sandy Cove.

—Dust siftings cost much less than pure whole leaf "Salada" Tea, and then again duty tea is neither pleasant to drink or wholesome, while "Salada" Tea is always clean, pure and delicious. Get a package of the new price "Salada," at 25c per pound. It is wonderfully good tea, and remarkably value.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The 1914 Assessment.

To the Editor of the Courier.

SIR,—As one of the assessors for the Town of Digby this year I beg leave to place a few facts before the rate payers. A word as to our qualifications: Capt. Howard Anderson represented the fishing industry and the north end of the town generally; Mr. Aubrey Brown the summer tourist business and in a general way the south end of the town; whereas I helped to fill in between, with property in the centre of the business section and among the higher assessed residences, besides a number of acres in the unimproved portion of the town.

The property we were directly and indirectly interested in is assessed for $4,850 dollars, or more than one-twentieth of the whole assessment.

The reason for the large increased assessment in some of the property is simply because we believed it much too low. Having only finite minds we may have made some mistakes, although we tried hard not to, and there can be no fair criticism of the assessment until every name and property has been gone over and carefully compared.

The property I represented we assessed for 13,595 dollars which is 1492 dollars more than last year although 22 feet on Water street has since been transferred and this year is assessed to Mr. H. H. Syda.

The schedules were not filled out in such a way as to give us any definite idea as to the stocks of merchandise in the town. I therefore trust that any merchant who feels he or she has been over assessed on their stock will appeal and under oath state just how much their average sales amounts to.

Just here I would say for the benefit of your out of town readers that we are in the midst of a rather interesting civic election and the raised assessment is being used as a canvass against the candidates we Assessors are supporting. There has been a great deal of street talk, evidently with intent to deceive, in connection with our refusing to assess incomes.

The truth is the schedules returned to the assessors were not filled in as to the amount of incomes; the law in this respect compelling the rate payer to fill in these schedules has not been enforced in this town or any other town in the province, therefore your assessors did not care to be the first to attempt the enforcement of this act.

Had we assessed the incomes as they appeared on the 1913 assessment roll after applying the new two dollar exemption we would have been left with the unlucky number of thirteen income tax payers instead of twenty-five last year only one of whom is not a fairly large tax payer.

We added to the assessment of the property in which I am interested a sum more than fourteen times as large as my income assessment.

Together we three assessors added to our own and the property we are directly connected with a sum much greater than the whole income assessment would amount to for 1914.

This income assessment talk as heard about the streets and elsewhere reminds me of that other campaign bubble that burst in the town council chamber last Monday evening.

A majority of the smaller tax payers of the town will find their taxes for 1914 less than for 1913 and a large percentage of the whole will find there will be little or no difference in their taxes, provided the present assessment is not materially changed. Left as it is the rate will be reduced to $1.65 or less.

In conclusion let me add that I firmly believe when the sober second thoughts return to those who are to-day in doubt, we shall find them supporting Messrs. Short, VanBlarcom, Dutton and P. L. Anderson who have offered to give their time and best endeavours to the management of the town affairs.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for the space you have so kindly given me.

I am, Yours faithfully,

T. R. G. LUNCH.

To the Editor of the Courier.

SIR:—As I am partly responsible for the Assessment of 1914, kindly grant me space to answer critics of same. They ask why it was raised? No reasoning person would ask that question as every one knows that the chief aim of any city or town is to keep all property assessed to market value and to keep the rate low; also any school child can tell you that an assessed value is a dead value, values are increasing every year.

The Assessment of Digby has not been raised for about ten years except locally on some stranger or non-resident. About one tenth of the present raise is borne by properties represented by the three assessors, two-thirds of the remainder is on the property that has been going soft free, the rest from natural increase.

The also ask "What are they going to do with extra funds?" As two of the proposers of this question are running for Mayor and Councillor it is up to them to answer it. They seem to be on the fence, but may reduce the assessment pro rata. Looks as if they were afraid to handle the money. They had better keep repeating that sentence in the Lord's Prayer, "Lead us not into temptation."

The men I am going to vote for will lower the rate.

Some ponderous "Cuss" has started the story that the increase in our assessment will mean that we will have to pay a larger amount into the Municipality. The town pays one-fifth of certain expenses of the Municipality and that one-fifth is not controlled by our assessment.

Another assertion of the so called Annapolis Club is that Lord Lodge property has not been raised. The facts are: Our 1913 assessment was $17,650, including $500 for auto which was sold last spring, leaving the property to be assessed this year $17,150; add Gundy property at $1300, making $18,450. It is now $19,950, a raise of $1500. The only times the property has been raised, except for additions, is when I have been assessor, showing that in the opinion of the other assessors the property was high enough.

While on town matters let me say this: Digby is a town that should be in the front rank. It is not a manufacturing town and money or energy is wasted in trying to make it so, but it is a great fishing center. It is ahead of any other town in the Province in situation and climate for a summer resort and it has

What Are Salmon-Trout?

To the Editor of the Courier.

SIR,—I have been keenly interested in the lively correspondence between those hardened old sportsmen, Messrs. Daley, O'Dell and Smith. A little electricity like that spruces things up mightily and tones up the system. As I was President of the Guides' Association at the time the last were put in, and have ideas on the subject, you may judge of my own self control when I refrain from saying anything on the subject! What I wish to ask now is: What are salmon-trout? I have spent a long time poring over ichthyological works in my life, but I cannot myself answer that question. I know that our brook-trout is a char, and differ somewhat in construction from the real trout, which are more like the salmon. These latter therefore might, to distinguish them from the char, be called locally salmon-trout. But there are very many kinds of trout that are not char, as, for example, the rainbow and the brown trout of Europe. On the other hand the lake-trout, or nannayush, is not a real trout but a char, and therefore it would be quite wrong to call it a salmon-trout. What I complain of is this: Maj. Daley starts out to give Sheriff Smith some "information", but only confuses his readers. The mention of which only complicates the matter. This fish, while often reckoned among the salmonidae, is never called a trout any more than the grayling is. Of what use is "information" that does not inform? Tell us: what were those salmon-trout?

One other thing: the man who puts black bass into Nova Scotia waters runs a huge risk of getting himself deservedly cursed through all the ages to come, as the chances are that they would in time class out of our waters the most beautiful fish in the world, the brook-trout. Providence has given us this fish; why not concentrate our efforts upon increasing its numbers?

Little River Sunday School.

The year 1913 has drawn to a close, and a new year with all its opportunities is upon us. The old year has been one of advance in our Sunday School work in this place. Though not so large as some schools in Digby Co., yet according to our number on the roll we are not behind in this good work.

We had an average attendance of fifty-one last year. We use the class envelope system for contribution which have been up to the average.

Our expenses for last year for school supplies and library books were forty dollars. We have a balance in the treasury of twenty-two dollars. The last Sunday in every month is set apart as missionary day and the collections on that day are used for missionary purposes only. We have raised thirty-four dollars and seventy-five cents which has been sent to different branches of missionary work.

This, with our other collections, amounting to, makes a total of ninety-six dollars and seventy-five cents in the past year.

Our officers and teachers are very regular in their attendance and earnest in the work. May we attempt greater things for God in this work in the year 1914 than we ever have before.

The Boston Comedy Company

(Norman Maine, Addresser)
In returning thanks to the people of Norway in his speech at the Opera House last night, H. Price Webber spoke of the very liberal patronage he had received for the past 35 years and paid a just tribute to the memory of Mr. George L. Bond and Frederick Howe, two of our best citizens, who were prominent in helping Mr. Webber, when under adversity in his earlier days of management. The large audience present cordially endorsed Mr. Webber's timely and graceful remarks and were pleased at his announcement of a return visit next season. He thanked the editor of the Advertiser for courtesies received and eventually mentioned the editor's fitness to be Prime Minister of Canada, the audience thoroughly agreeing in the remark.

Mr. Webber's company closed their season of 41 weeks and left for their homes this morning. The next season will open on Monday and will be Mr. Webber's 36th consecutive year. It was a joy to Mr. Webber before the show that owing to our show factor a being closed down just now that it was thought he would not have as large an audience as usual, but he says there were more dollars received from the house than dollars received from the show. There would be people present. As a showman and a man H. Price Webber has a big hold on the people that has lasted well on towards a century.

Rev. A. T. Dykeman Has Resigned.

BROKER EXPRESSED AT RETIREMENT OF PART OF WEST END BAPTIST CHURCH.

(From the Halifax Chronicle)
At the close of the morning service on Sunday Rev. A. T. Dykeman, M. A., pastor of the West End Baptist church, tendered his resignation as pastor to take effect April 15th. Three years ago Mr. Dykeman came to this city from the Stratford street Baptist church, West Roxbury, Mass., during which time he has very efficiently filled the pulpit of the West End Baptist church. He is an earnest, forcible preacher and considered one of the strong men of the denomination, having held successful pastorates in Quebec, Fairville, N.B., New Glasgow, Middleton and Digby, N.S. Under his able leadership the church has continued to manifest evidences of prosperity and growth. The spirit of optimism and progressiveness which has characterized the West End church since its inception, has been manifest during the last three years.

During his stay in the city he has made many warm friends, all of whom will be sorry to learn of his decision.

Some C. P. R. Figures.

As an instance of the manner in which the business of the C. P. R. has grown during the past few years it may be stated that whereas the revenue from passengers amounted a few years ago to something like $8,000,000 per annum, it now amounts to $35,000,000 per annum. To earn this money meant that the company had to carry 1,766,982,013 passengers one mile. A decade ago the revenue from freight was something like $50,000,000. To-day it is $89,656,323, which means that 11,242,690,998 tons were carried one mile during the year, while the total tons of all classes of freight during the year were 12,986,619,155. This gives an illuminating idea of the strides the company has made since the original mail carrying contract was entered into with the C. P. R. and other companies. Especially does it show the standard quality and capacity reached in so few years—so that even in districts which have yet to yield a noticeable volume of business the character of the operating is of the highest, in respect of everything entering into a first class system. This has its effect in the general result, but the point is that the C. P. R. has aimed at providing the amplest accommodation, not only in the East, where the population is denser, but even in sparsely populated districts in the West which, nevertheless, will yield the fruit of which the company has sown the seed in confident faith.

It enables your stock to eat the natural food they should eat and get the most benefit from it. Here is the advice of all thorough veterinarians: "Feed your stock on food of your own growing—not pamper them with soft predigested mush so that after a time they cannot digest good, wholesome feed. Feed the good food grown on your own farm—hay, oats, bran, clover, etc. You know what these things cost you and what they will do."

ROYAL PURPLE is an aid to these natural foods and if you use it as directed, we can guarantee better results than if you feed any of the concoctions offered on the market as "prepared foods."

TWO WOMEN SAVED FROM OPERATIONS

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Their Own Stories Here Told.

Edmonton, Alberta, Can. — "I think it is no more than right for me to thank you for what your kind advice and Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound have done for me.

"When I wrote to you some time ago I was a very sick woman suffering from female troubles. I had organic inflammation and could not stand or walk any distance. At last I was confined to my bed, and the doctor said I would have to go through an operation, but this I refused to do. A friend advised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and now, after using three bottles of it, I feel like a new woman. I most heartily recommend your medicine to all women who suffer with female troubles. I have also taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Liver Pills, and think they are fine. I will never be without the medicine in the house."—Mrs. FRANK ENSLEY, 903 Columbia Avenue, Edmonton, Alberta.

The Other Case.
Beatrice, Neb. — "Just after my marriage my left side began to pain me and the pain got so severe at times that I suffered terribly with it. I visited three doctors and each one wanted to operate on me but I would not consent to an operation. I heard of the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was doing for others and I used several bottles of it with the result that I haven't been bothered with my side since then. I am in good health and I have two little girls."—Mrs. R. B. CHILD, Beatrice, Neb.

BUSSEY FARM PROPERTY IN WEST ROXBURY TO BE PUT UP INTO BUILDING LOTS.

One of the most important real estate transactions recently recorded has just closed through the office of Harold G. King, where by the well known Bussey Farm property in West Roxbury, between Forest Hills and Rosindale square, has been sold by J. Sumner Draper and Mark Temple Downing, by whom it was purchased from the president and fellows of Harvard College a few months ago, to John A. Havesy and Walter G. Richardson, both of West Roxbury. The parcel comprises 2,800,000 square feet of land, a large stone dwelling and a stable and is assessed on a valuation of $375,000. Engineers are preparing plans for cutting the tract into building lots which are to be placed on the market. There is more than 9000 feet frontage on Washington street, South street and Hyde Park avenue.

[We reprint the above from the Boston Herald. John A. Havesy is a son of Mr. and Mrs. B. Havesy, of this town, and when a boy lived at Westport and Freeport. He is one of the largest real estate operators in West Roxbury district.]

25 Years Ago

From the Yarmouth Times files: So great was the gale on Monday, and about Digby, that it caught up one of the spans of a new iron bridge, being erected over Bear River, and blew it into the water. The span was 127 feet long. The bridge was built by the King Bridge Co., of Ohio, U.S.A., for the provincial government. The loss was about $5,000.

THE WORLD'S WORK DEPENDS ON THE WORLD'S DIGESTION

From the captain of industry to the hod carrier—from milady in the auto to the woman with the scrubbing brush—the accomplishments of every one of us depend absolutely on the accomplishment of our stomachs. Backed by a good digestion, a man can give the best that is in him. When his stomach fails, he becomes a weakling.

To this loss of power no one need submit. Right habits of eating, drinking, sleeping and exercise, aided by Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, will restore and maintain the full efficiency of the human mind and body. Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets contain the active principles needed for the digestion of every kind of food. They go to the assistance of the weakened stomach, and enable the sufferer, right from the start, to assimilate and get the benefit of the food eaten. With this assistance, the digestive organs regain their tone, and the use of the tablets is no longer necessary.

If your stomach is not working properly, try Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, sold at your druggist's. National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited, Montreal.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrivel, loosen and die—the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

Gynthia's Blue Gown

Ned Harkness hurried home that night and found supper waiting for him in the cheerful dining room of the small flat where they lived. Cynthia, his wife, was flying around with pink cheeks putting the last touches to the little dinner she had prepared with her own hands. The Harknesses were a very happy couple, despite the fact that Ned had not yet attained the highest pinnacle of clerkship in Marsh's office and Cynthia still did her own house work with the occasional help of a "woman by the day." Besides, they lived more quietly and saved more money than Ned's fellow clerks, who lived more showily and spent every penny of their incomes.

Tonight was a special night. The blue gown had come home on "approval." Ned and Cynthia had discussed the wisdom of putting so much money into one frivolous dress of blue satin and tissue, but at last they had decided that the blue gown of Cynthia would be a good investment. Ned's employer had invited them to dinner in his own home, and that pressed a promotion, and Cynthia's wardrobe was simple to actual plainness.

"You look like a peach," admired Ned after dinner as he walked around his lovely wife garbed in the charming gown of delicate blue.

"You're a dear to say such nice things," murmured Cynthia delightedly. "I feel so wicked, Ned, taking all that money out of the bank to buy one foolish gown."

"It's all right, Cynthia. You know, Mr. Marsh expects his clerks to dress well, and I suppose he knows our wives must keep up with us," laughed Ned carelessly. "By the way, Cynthia, Brown says he and Mrs. Brown bought a Paris model for the occasion. Amber chiffon, I think he called it."

"That will be charming for Mrs. Brown, who is so dark," Cynthia, slipping out of the new gown. "Then you think we may venture on this, dear?"

"Certainly! You better go in and pay for it tomorrow."

The next day Ned Harkness telephoned to his wife that he would not be home to dinner that night. A special customer of the firm had appeared in town, and Mr. Marsh had asked Ned to take the stranger out to dinner.

The quiet hotel where they dined was noted for its excellent cuisine, and while the restaurant was not crowded, the tables were well filled with hand-somely gowned women and their escorts.

Ned and his companion sat down in a palm screened corner and watched the changing crowd coming and going. Mr. Farnshaw had an eye for a pretty woman, and more than once he called Ned's attention to some beautiful woman.

While they were eating their soup Farnshaw suddenly laid his hand on Ned's arm.

"Look there, Harkness: that's my ideal woman!" He nodded toward a table in the center of the room.

Ned turned around just in time to see a woman in a blue gown sink gracefully into a chair opposite his office companion, James Brown. Brown was a handsome, black eyed young man, and he was paying devoted attention to his companion.

Of course Ned Harkness couldn't tell Farnshaw that the "ideal woman" was his wife. He scarcely believed it himself, though the swift glimpse he had of her profile as she sat down with her back toward him convinced him that it was Cynthia. And she was wearing the blue gown they had chosen last night, and on her head was a large feathered hat that tipped back until the edge of the brim almost touched her bare shoulders.

What was Cynthia doing here with James Brown?

Over and over again that question drummed itself through Ned's jealous mind.

More than once he turned and glanced at the couple sitting so absorbed at the prominent table under the cluster of lights. Once Brown caught his eye and nodded good naturedly. But Ned only glared coldly in return.

He made up his mind that when the meal was concluded he would walk up to Brown's table and—of course he would accomplish it quietly—tell Cynthia that he would escort her home.

He wondered if the blue gown was not at the bottom of it all. He had heard that women's heads were turned by beautiful cloths, and although he had never thought much about such matters in connection with Cynthia, why, of course, it might happen to Cynthia, and although his faith and trust in her were unshaken, still he blamed himself for putting temptation in her way in the shape of the blue gown.

As for her being with Brown, why, that was alright if she wanted to, he told himself with a sickly smile. She knew the Browns well, and it was very likely an accident that she and Brown had met in time for dinner.

All this argument was perfectly ridiculous in the face of the fact that he knew Cynthia detested the Browns heartily and that she was not in the habit of dressing herself in an elaborate gown and happening to meet many friends in fashionable restaurants. Moreover, at this hour Cynthia Harkness was more likely to be at home preparing a modest dinner or playing Chopin in the parlor of their little flat.

Still, there she was and who could explain it? "Well, Harkness, I don't know whether you're married or not, but if you're not you certainly must be dead in love," laughed Mr. Farnshaw at last.

"Why?" asked Ned, startled.

"Nothing, only you've called me Cynthia three times."

"I beg your pardon," stammered Ned; "I was thinking of my wife."

"You're excused," smiled his guest, but Ned was careful after that to keep his wandering thoughts in check. When they had concluded the meal they arose from the table just in time to see James Brown and his fair companion leave the restaurant. By the time they had reached the lobby of the hotel the pair had entered a taxi and were driven away.

"There goes my ideal," murmured Farnshaw lightly as they passed at the door.

Ned was silent. In one brief hour the whole course of his life had changed. He would go home and face Cynthia and then tell her that if she was weary of him he would go away and efface himself from her sight forever. He had an uncle who was a missionary in central China, and there was a wide field for laborers there.

Merged as he was in these gloomy meditations, it is not strange that Mr. Farnshaw excused himself on plea of an engagement and went off to spend the evening in a music hall.

Ned plunged into the nearest subway station and went home.

It might be hours before Cynthia came home, and again she might arrive within an hour especially if she feared Ned's disapproval of her action in dining with Brown.

He climbed the stairs to the third floor of their modest apartment house and turned the key in the hall door. A dim light burned there, unusual, the faint red glow that always welcomed him home.

There was a busy humming sound from the dining room, a dear familiar sound that he could not associate with the wearer of the blue gown and the big black hat.

The sound belonged distinctly to Cynthia, his dear, busy little wife!

It was nothing less than Cynthia's sewing machine whirling away. He pushed open the door and looked in, haggard with his evening's dread.

The sewing machine was pulled under the central light, and under it sat Cynthia in her little house gown stitching merrily away at breaths of misty blue satin. A deep rose stained her cheeks, and her dark brown hair curled distractingly around her pretty ears.

"Why, Ned!" she cried delightedly. "Now, don't be cross, dear, but I've a confession to make."

"I can guess what it is," said Ned grimly.

"Then you've been spying, and it's not fair!" she said. "I thought it was a great surprise."

"The biggest surprise I ever had," retorted Ned.

"Let me explain. You see, I got to thinking about the price of that blessed blue gown, and I knew I could duplicate it for one quarter of the price. Miss Cassidy will come tomorrow and help me. And so, when Mrs. Brown came this morning and fell in love with it and wanted to buy it, why, I just let her do it. But I told her I was going to duplicate it but she doesn't care, for she isn't going to wear mine. She said they were going to dine at the Humboldt. By the way, dearie, did you have a good time?" Cynthia got up and tucked her hand in his arm.

"Fine time," he said honestly. "Cynthia, dear, I don't mind your changing the gown. You are such a darling! How am I ever going to make up to you for what you're to me!"

Cynthia smiled demurely.

"Well, the next time you dine at the Humboldt and see the Browns don't be jealous of me, Ned. Maybe Mrs. Brown just went there out of mischief to bewilder you with that blue gown. I told her you were going there to night."

Miss Hilda McCaull entertained the young people on Saturday evening, 3rd of January. A very enjoyable evening was spent in music and games. Among the guests was Mr. Pearl Henderson, of Bear River.

Freeport has gone to the expense of building a nice out building with a cement receptacle, which I think

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Digby, February 6, 1914

Our Electric Light Service.

DIGBY HAS A MORNING LIGHT, BRINGING AS AN EXPERIMENT.

The most convenient public utility that the town of Digby has possessed since its incorporation is the morning electric light service which Mr. Daley has been giving his patrons since Feb. 1st. The light comes on at sharp six o'clock and is continued until a short time after sun rise.

By referring to the report of the Public Utilities Commission which appeared in our issue of Dec. 23, 1913, it will be noticed that Mr. Daley will not be compelled to continue this service unless there are a sufficient number of lights on to more than pay the extra expense of the morning run. We report to state that up to the present the lights burned every morning have not been up to the required number.

It is certainly a great convenience to the hotels, the wholesale fish firms, transient employees and the laboring class generally. It those who want it would turn on their lights in fall every morning during the experiment, it would be continued every year from October to March lat., but if not we will lose, as we stated above, the best public utility ever put before the people of Digby.

Government Estimates.

Among the government estimates appears the following items:

Freeport, breakwater, $13,000.
Grosbeak Cove, breakwater and improvements to breakwater, $2,000.
Meteghan, breakwater repairs, $3,000.
Meteghan River, repairs to breakwater, $2,000.
Saulnierville, breakwater improvements, $3,000.
Weymouth Harbor, improvements, $7,000.

ANNAPOLIS COUNTY.

Public building in Middleton, $15,000.
Annapolis Harbor improvements, $10,000.
Goat Island wharf, $10,000.
Parker's Cove, breakwater extension and repairs, $7,100.
Young's Cove, breakwater, $4,000.

Special Train For Bridgetown.

The special train scheduled for last Friday night was cancelled owing to the disagreeable weather. If the weather continues fine and the ice is good, a special train leaves Digby this afternoon at 4 o'clock for Bridgetown with the Digby hockey team and excursionists on board. The round trip tickets from Digby are $1.05 each. From intermediate stations the round fare will be the same as a one way first-class ticket. We trust this excursion train will be well patronized as the boys have been compelled to put up a good sized guarantee. The manager of the Bridgetown team informs us that the lady friends of their hockey club are preparing a supper for all who may arrive, the proceeds for which will be placed in the Club's treasury.

Wedding Bells.

A Salmon River correspondent, writing under date of January 31st, says: A very pretty wedding took place in Salmon River, N. B., on Friday, Feb. 1st morning, the principals being Delphis Theriault, of Saulnierville and Miss Fanny Deveau, youngest daughter of John M. Deveau, of Salmon River. The bridesmaids were Miss Mary M. Deveau and Miss Emma Bridgford, of Doucette Lake. The groom was assisted by Samuel G. Deveau and Moses Mallett. After the ceremony the happy couple drove to Hectanooga and took the train for Annapolis and thence to spend a few days. Mr. and Mrs. Theriault were the recipients of a number of beautiful presents, and Mrs. Theriault's friends were very sorry to see her going away. They will reside in Saulnierville for a time and then in Maine.

The publisher of the best Farmer's paper in the Maritime Provinces in writing to us states:

"I would say that I do not know of a medicine that has stood the test of time like MINARD'S LINIMENT. It has been an infallible remedy in our household ever since I can remember, and has outlived dozens of would-be competitors and imitations."

A Nova Scotia man is agitating for the formation of a company to operate a steamship service from Shelburne and points on the South Shore of Nova Scotia to Portland. His idea is that a boat equipped with cold storage running to Portland would enable the fishermen of the South Shore to sell their products in Montreal, Toronto and other upper Canadian markets, as well as to points in the United States, in much quicker time and in better condition than is possible by the Halifax route.

One thing has always hindered the success of canned tuna as a rival of salmon and other canned fish, and that is the fact that the supply of fish has always given out just as the demand for it grew permanent. A San Diego, Cal., man is now hunting for the winter haunts of the fish. He believes that within a hundred miles or so of that port tuna can be found during the winter in quantities sufficient to supply the world. Very little is known about this fish in comparison with existing knowledge of other fish.

A St. John paper says that the S. S. St. George will be placed on the St. John-Digby route the coming summer. Another report says that the ship will be sent to the Pacific. The St. George is now in New York.

Schr. Albert J. Lutz, Capt. Longmire, arrived in Yarmouth on Sunday with a fare of 35,000 lbs. mixed fish, which were forwarded by train to Digby, having been purchased by the Maritime Fish Corporation, who paid a better price than could be obtained in Yarmouth.

The one for Riverport will be the sixth built by this firm for the same parties, which is sufficient evidence that the work of Messrs. McKay and Son is satisfactory.

Fishing News.

(From the New York Fishing Gazette.)

During the salmon canning season of 1912, 294,762,576 tins cans were used. If they were laid end to end they would extend for 21,500 miles.

A Newfoundland fisherman recently caught a salmon, a loon and an otter at one haul in his net. This was certainly a mixture of scales, feathers and fur, and the top record for mixed fishing!

Canadian wholesalers of fish have noted a gratifying increase in sales of late, and believe it to be an indication that consumers are coming more and more to realize that fish is a cheap and wholesome substitute for meat.

The salmon pack in British Columbia turned out to be much greater than first estimates made it. The exact figures are now given as 1,353,901 cases, a record pack. The industry is now the third largest of the province.

"As a fishing centre Iceland is supreme," says Carl Laentzen, the Arctic explorer, who recently returned from the "isolated island." "It has one of the largest fishing banks in the world, and the fleets of England, France and Holland go up there every year."

Total catch of the Nova Scotia fishing fleet was almost the same in 1913 as in 1912 but there were fewer vessels engaged, and thus the catch is greater. In 1912 there were 136 vessels with a catch of 211,080 quintals, or 1,552 quintals per schooner. In 1913 there were 121 vessels, total catch 211,405 quintals or 1,747 quintals per schooner.

The sailing brigantine "Carnegie" recently arrived in New York Harbor, after three and a half years on the brassy deep. She has been charting the earth's magnetic currents, in order to have authoritative data concerning the variation of the compass needle in any part of any ocean. Not a bit of iron or steel, except her stove grate and a part of her engine was used in her construction, and during her long voyage she covered 93,000 miles, cruising back and forth.

Eighty thousand drunken fish are celebrated Christmas in the Schuylkill River, a result of an explosion in a distillery, which three thousands of gallons of fermenting mash into the river. Apparently they have lost all caution and are taking bait recklessly. Residents along the banks are responsible for the rumor that voices have been heard chanting "We won't go home until morning," but the editor will not vouch for this. It sounds fishy.

THE LAST OF THE SHOGUNS.

Passing of a Picturesque Military Figure of Old Japan.

With the death of Prince Ketki Tokugawa passed the last surviving link between the old and the new Japan. Here was a man who gave up a sceptre of empire to become a citizen, whose magnificent surroundings of ancestral prestige for the sake of his country was but one more example of the capacity of his race for peaceful revolution. The last of the Shoguns was a typical representative of a nation born without a pang. His presence in modern history was like the rise and reform of a Pharaoh from the sands of Egypt. Forty-five years ago this man was the arbiter of the entire orient. To have looked into his face would have been a capital crime.

In that physically diminutive figure, shrunk with age, but large in the melancholy marks of vanished splendor, was displayed the last extant symbol of what was once the most absolute rule on earth. It was of this man that the people used to say: "His will is law and his voice is thunder." But the man was left; and once stripped of the mediaeval trappings of judicial jugglery and enforced usurpation, the Shogun arose to the true spirit of his race, heard the cry of the people, and became as one of them, a subject of the sovereign he once outshone, himself a partaker of the freedom he bestowed upon his country.

The figure of a Shogun, always appealing to the western imagination, first cast its shadow across the kingdom of Japan in the 12th century. The Shoguns came as a reaction of a vigorous people against an effeminizing influence spreading from the court.

To satisfy the demand for gorgeous dress, the looms of Japan began weaving the wonderful fabrics for which the country became famous. Social fortunes turned on successful costumes and the men of the court began to powder and paint their faces like women, while a grand lady of the time was judged by the quantity of her habiliments.

A reaction favored the growth of a military class, then in embryo, and the shoguns emerged in glittering raiment, but as fighters and vigorous men. They were the embodiment of the spirit of the Iron Chancellors, the War Lords, the Prime Ministers of the later days.

The title of Shogun at first signified, as did the Roman term Imperator, only a commander in chief, but with the rise of the Shoguns to power in the empire the title conveyed an authority of supreme ruler, a double role of civil and military sovereign, subject in theory to the Mikado, but supreme in fact.

Prince Ketki was the 15th in a line extending back for nearly 700 years when he ascended to power in 1866 at the age of 29. Within a few months after his accession he was confronted with the national convulsion, originated several years before with the object of obliterating the regency and reinstating the Imperial house. But for Tokugawa's enlightened conviction that at the time had come for putting an end to the onerous dual system of authority, and his readiness to sacrifice a despotic power, the revolution could never have been consummated with so little bloodshed.

After the restoration he kept altogether aloof from politics and spent his time in shooting and manly sports.

He Took the Drink.

Archibald Forbes was fond of recounting his experience in Leven, Fifeshire, Scotland, during a lecture tour. When Forbes entered the hall there was not a single soul present. After a bit, however, a man stroiled in and calmly proceeded to choose a seat. It seems he was a commercial traveler, putting up at the place for the night, who had found time hanging heavily on his hands. Nobody else coming, Forbes said to the "audience":

"Will you have the lecture, or will you have a drink?"

"A drink," said the traveler.

Flower of the Family.

De Smythe had been waltzing with his host's ugly elder daughter and was now in a corner repairing damages. Here his would be papa-in-law exploded him. "If you know," he remarked, referring to De Smythe's late partner, "that girl in the flower of my family?"

"So it seems," answered the young man. "But it's a pity she comes off so, isn't it?" he added, as he made another vigorous rub at the white spots on his coat sleeve.

A Safeguard.

"But you don't speak the language of the country in which you desire a diplomatic position."

"Well," replied the determined applicant, "a man isn't nearly so liable to make indiscreet remarks if he has to get a lexicon and look up the meaning of every word he utters."

Quick Change.

"Who," she asked, "is that scrawny, bow-legged, ridiculous-looking person talking to Miss Rockingham?"

"That is Count Risticzekentz."

"Oh! What an aristocratic, noble bearing he seems to have now that he has shifted his position so that the light strikes him properly!"

Right In His Line.

"Yes," said Mrs. Twickenbury, "I've had a good deal of trouble with my eyes lately, but the other day I went to an optician, and he told me that he thought they'd soon be all right again."

What Changed His Mind.

"I had supposed, until yesterday, doctor, that the days of the bleeding of patients were past."

"And so they are. But what changed your mind?"

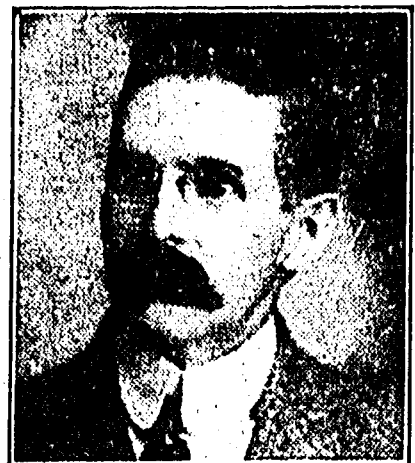

"The bill you sent me."

Parsons' Pills give quick relief without distressing.

Guaranteed Relief From All Bowel Ills

If your bowels are out of order, instead of using some harsh salt or other physic, take Rexall's Relief tonight, and tomorrow you will feel great. They taste good and act so easily that there isn't a particle of griping or purging, nor the excessive looseness that follows the taking of salts and most pills. They soothe and strengthen the bowels, promptly relieving the constipation, making it unlikely to occur again.

We don't believe there is any other bowel remedy anywhere near as good, and at the same time so easy and pleasant to take as Rexall's Relief. We know you will agree with us and believe you will thank us for telling you about them. If they don't satisfy you in every way, come back and tell us and we will give back your money without a word or question. You have no reason to hesitate when we give you the opportunity, as we hereby do, to try them at our risk. In vest pocket medicine, Rexall's Relief is the only one you can buy. Rexall's Relief is sold only by Rexall's Relief, and in this town only by us. P. W. Holdsworth Digby.

A Wonderful Discovery.

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam Buk. Just think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is insured against blood poisoning! Not one species of microbe has been found that Zam Buk does not kill.

Then again, as soon as Zam Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this.

Again, as soon as Zam Buk is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam Buk's secret of healing. The tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam Buk cures are permanent.

Only the other day Mr. Marsh, of 101 Delorimier Ave., Montreal, called upon the Zam Buk Co., and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. Today—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of eczema.

All druggists sell Zam Buk at 50c box, or we will send free trial box if you send this advertisement and a 1c stamp (to pay return postage). Address Zam Buk Co., Toronto.

The Port Wade people cannot be excelled in getting up a "royal feast." Rev. Mr. Cornwall, the pastor, was present and acknowledged receipt of $100.50 in a few well chosen remarks. Deacon W. H. Anthony presented the sum as part of the allotment of this District and stated in his remarks that he hoped Mr. Cornwall would see his way clear to stay with us indefinitely or as much longer period than is now his intention. CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR: I was appointed by the Digby Co. Farmers' Association as representative for Digby Co. to attend the Nova Scotia Farmers' Association, which met at Bridgewater, N. S., week beginning Monday, Jan. 20th.

We arrived there on the evening of that date. Tuesday, I had the privilege of meeting a gentleman who asked me if I would like a drive. I said I would be glad to accept his invitation. So he hitched up his handsome pair of iron grey colts and gave me an excellent drive all over the town. Mr. Editor, this shows the kindness of the people and how we were treated while there.

Our meetings opened on Tuesday, with a large number of ladies and gentlemen present from all over the province. The music was excellent, led by a cornetist. The discussions at the other meetings were well talked over by the speakers, the principal topics being spraying and trimming trees, cultivating the soil, registered stock and exhibition matters.

I also had the privilege while there of driving to Cornwall Bank, some three miles from Bridgewater, and visiting my cousin, Capt. James J. Warner and family, also Mrs. (Capt.) John Warner. I had not seen the captain for 30 years. I wish to thank all those who gave me the privilege of attending the Association this year, and I also hope to see more reports from the leading delegates of Digby.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your valuable space.

I remain, E. J. WARREN.

Digby, N. S., Feb. 2nd, 1914.

To the Editor of the Courier:

SIR:—In the current number of the Canadian Magazine there is an account of the "Saladin" piracy and murder case in 1814 by Professor Archibald MacMechan. In it Dr. MacMechan says that Carr, the cook of the Saladin, a native of North Shields, who was acquitted at the trial, settled in Digby County and died there not long ago. Can this be true? Does any old resident remember such a person? If so where did he live and what was his occupation? Many years after I had grown up I became acquainted with a well known school teacher in the county named Kerr and was told that when he first came there a stranger, some people foolishly imagined that he was Carr of the Saladin; but I never heard of the real Carr ever being in the County. I was 13 when the Saladin case occurred.

I did not find a record of the Department that a shipment of black bass was planted in Digby's Lake (so called), Digby County, in 1902, and in the following spring, 1903, a shipment of salmon trout (ry. hatched from eggs collected near Warton, Georgian Bay, was planted in lakes of the same county. Both of these shipments were in charge of the above named officer.

It enables your stock to eat the natural food they should eat and get the most benefit from it. Here is the advice of all thorough veterinary doctors: "Feed your stock on food of your own growing—not pamper them with soft predigested mush so that after a time they cannot digest good, wholesome food. Feed the good food grown on your own farm—hay, oats, bran, clover, etc. You know what these things cost you and what they will do. ROYAL PURPLE is an aid to these natural foods and if you use it as directed, we can guarantee better results than if you feed any of the concoctions offered on the market as "prepared foods."

12 Tumors Removed Without An Operation

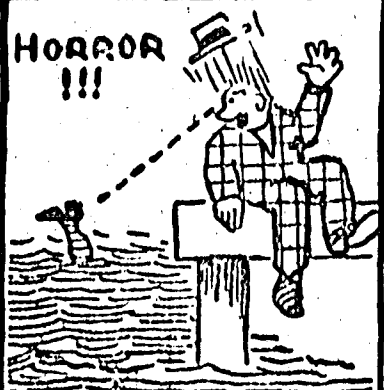

Dear Mrs. Currah—I am enjoying better health than I have for eight years, and I think I am entirely cured. I have none of the old symptoms. I am very grateful for your present health, and think Orange Lily is the greatest treatment for women the world knows. It has done for me what no other medicine could. I have gained 12 pounds in weight, and my appetite is as good as ever. Some were as large as a hen's egg, and others smaller, down to the size of a walnut. You may use my case in your advertisement, for it is in the solid truth, and you cannot describe all the good it has done for me. Mrs. Louise E. Bolte-ridge.

This letter gives an indication of the positive benefits that always follow the use of Orange Lily. It is an applied treatment, and comes in direct contact with the suffering organs. It produces results from the start in all cases of women's disorders, including painful periods, falling of womb, irregularities, leucorrhoea, etc. I will send a sample box containing 10 days' treatment absolutely free to any suffering woman who has not yet tried it. It will send me her address. Enclose 5 stamps and address MRS. FRANCES E. CURRAH, Windsor, Ont.

Authoritative Information.

It was the hour of the spelling lesson, and the teacher of the primary grades was pronouncing the words while the small persons in front of her laboriously wrote them down. According to the usual custom, she called for volunteers to define each word as it was written down.

"Lunch," she said. "Now, who can tell me what 'lunch' means?" There was a long period of silence, then a hand went up.

"Well, Johnny, you may tell us what 'lunch' is."

"A lunch," said Johnny. "Is what you have for dinner when your father is away."—Philadelphia Ledger.

Going Up!

"There is only one way," said the cynic, with a dyspeptic smile, "that I ever knew of bringing up children which was never criticised nor condemned by some smart Aleck."

"What way," inquired the distinguished educational expert, "is that way of bringing up children?"

"In the elevator," responded the cynic. —Baltimore American.

A Belated Reminder.

The soft male man stalked into the office of a great financier with whom he had an appointment.

"You probably don't remember me," he began, "but twenty years ago, when I was a poor messenger boy, you gave me a message to carry."

"Yes, yes!" cried the financier. "Where's the answer?"—Christian Reg later.

The Badgered Barber.

The Patron: How old are you, barber?

The Barber: (used to badgering)—Thirty-nine, sir.

The Patron: And how long have you been bald?

The Barber:—Lemme see, sir. Ah, yes, I was quite bald thirty-nine years ago, sir. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Good Reason For It.

A gentleman who was raising bees and was the owner of several hives was telling some children they must not bother them at all. One little girl said, "Brother picked up one this morning, but he let it go again." —Pittsburgh Leader.

A Judicial Opinion.

She stood at the bar of Justice, A creature wan and wild, In figure too young for a woman, In features too old for a child.

"You can't tell anything about 'em in these d-dirty gowns," remarked the Judge. —Louisville Courier Journal.

Ouch!

She: Don't you agree with me that women are braver than men? He: Well, when it comes to taking chances with matrimony, yes. —Philadelphia Record.

A Giveaway.

Mrs. Della: Perched blusher every time he opens his mouth. Waverly: I'll bet there is a woman in the case. —Youngstown Telegram.

The Way They Kiss in Clare.

(Written for the Courier.)
The Comeauville girl bows her stately head, And fixes her stylish lips In a firm, hard way, and lets them go In spasmodic little sips.

The Grossu Cyquo girl renounces her speech, And freezes her face with a smile, And sticks out her lips like an open book, And chews her gum in a muffled style.

The McLaughlin girl says never a word, And you'd think she was rather tame, With her practical view of the matter in hand She gets there just the same.

The Church Point girl, the pride of the world, In her clinging and snuggly way, Absorbs it all in a yearful yearn As big as a bale of hay.

The Quaco girl gets a grip on herself, As she carefully takes off her hat, Then she grabs up her kiss in a frenzied way Like a rather shaking rat.

The Convent girl so gentle and sweet, Lets her lips meet the coming kiss, With a rapturous warmth, and the youthful soul Floats away on a sea of bliss.

We have sung you a song of the girls who kiss, And it is about the coming kiss, But to reach the height of only bliss Kiss a Meteghan girl.

With your arm 'round her waist, her face up turned, In a sweet, fondling way, You can't get a cent for the whole wide world, Tho' the wind through your whiskers play

And close together your lips you draw Till they meet in rapturous glow, And the sweetest of hidden beauties the fence Cries "Gladly, let her go."

This Old Gentleman Cured of Rheumatism

By One Box of GIN PILLS

YARMOUTH, N. S.
"I have been bothered with Rheumatism for the past year and have taken a good many different kinds of medicine and found no relief for it."

One day a friend advised me to try GIN PILLS, and after taking one box of them, I felt like a new man. I thought I would write you a few lines to let you know how thankful I am for the relief they gave me, and would advise all sufferers from Rheumatism to try GIN PILLS."

WM. CONY
Don't bother with liniments and so-called "cure-alls." They won't help your kidneys, and Rheumatism is caused by weak, strained or irritated kidneys. The only possible way to cure Rheumatism is to cure the kidneys. GIN PILLS will do this as nothing else will. Take GIN PILLS NOW and be free from Rheumatism this winter. SEVERE COLD ON LUNGS AND CHEST QUICKLY RELIEVED

by Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne

Mr. J. Seward, Bromptonville, Que., writes:

"Two weeks ago I took a severe cold which settled on my lungs and my chest was very sore, breathing tight and severe hacking cough. I was feeling miserable. I bought a bottle of Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne and after a few doses I felt great relief and I went into a sound sleep, a thing I was not able to do for some nights. Next day I was able to be around again, and before completing the bottle, felt as well as ever. It is a fine cough and cold cure."

Na-Dru-Co Syrup of Linseed, Licorice and Chlorodyne relieves the irritation and "stuffed-up" feeling in the air passages, soothes the tickling which makes you cough, loosens the phlegm and drives out the cold before it gets troublesome.

In 25c and 50c bottles, at your Druggist's. National Drug and Chemical Co. of Canada, Limited. 322

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girls! Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glitters with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scourge robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fester, loosen and die; then the hair falls out. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

Digby, February 13, 1914

Fenian Raid Bonities.

Some inquiries have been made as to the probable time of payment of Fenian Raid Bounty Claims, which it was expected would be paid before this time.

The cause of delay is that a very much larger number of claims than had been expected were filed with the Department, many of them not being received until late in the year just passed. All of these claims had to be carefully examined, and in many cases approved before payment could be made. Because of the unexpectedly large number which had to be dealt with, it was impossible for the Department to complete payment of all claims before the end of December, 1913, up to which time the Act authorized payment.

It is now necessary to have a new Act enlarging the time for payment passed. This will be done and the claims will be paid as early as possible.

Where Is He From?

A sailor by the name of Henry Ryder has applied for the $1000 St. John's Harbour Gloucester, but certain information bearing directly on his eligibility is first necessary. His memory is somewhat defective, and as many of Nova Scotia's sailors know American sailors, perhaps someone may be able to furnish some particulars. He is commonly known as "Daddy Henry," and claims to have been one of the crew of the ship "Ben Franklin" in 1880 and also worked as a rigger. He says he knew Dan Morrison, Arthur Rowe and a chap named Baker, but is hazy about other things, and inquiries are being sent out to see if someone knows anything further to help him. COULDER readers, possessing any information, might communicate with Roderick McDonald, shipping commissioner at Gloucester, who will notify the authorities, so that the poor old chap may get a helping hand.

Married in Digby.

Miss Caroline Louise O'Connor and Mr. Percy V. Ross were married by the Rev. Father Grace in St. Patrick's church, Digby, at ten o'clock Tuesday morning, Feb. 10th. The bride was dressed in a handsome blue tailor made costume with hat to match. The church was filled with friends. The service was very impressive. Rev. Father Grace preached an appropriate sermon and the music under the direction of Prof. Adams was exceptionally fine. The happy couple left the same day for St. John where they intend to reside. Both bride and groom have a host of friends in Digby, who join the COURIER in extending congratulations and best wishes. The bride is a talented musician and for several years was in charge of the music for the St. John's Dream circle of theatres.

Bear River's Latest Sensation.

TOMMY'S WIFE IS CAUSING A LOT OF TALK IN OUR SISTER TOWN.

One of the best entertainments ever planned for Bear River will take place in Oskidene Hall, in that town next Tuesday evening, Feb. 17th. It is a three act farce, entitled "Tommy's Wife," and will be put on by local talent under the auspices of the Bear River Troupe. Full sheet posters have been issued from the COURIER press. Programmes will be sent out tomorrow. The play is said to be an excellent one and well suited to the performers. The admission is 25 and 35 cents. Homemade candy will be sold between the acts.

Services Will Be Recognized.

In the House of Commons last week reference was made by Mr. Law to the desirability of officially recognizing the bravery shown by Captain Edgar McKinnon, of the steamer Westport, and Captain Adelbert McKinnon of the John I. Cann, in saving the passengers of the wrecked Colquhoun. The matter could be taken up by Mr. Henson, as both Mr. Law and Mr. J. Mackenzie, of Digby, had brought it to his attention and he agreed with them that the heroism shown by the captains and their merited recognition by the government.

Cold Weather.

Yesterday was the coldest day in Digby for many years, the glass registering 12 below zero at sun time. It was 10 below at 10 o'clock, and 11 below at 11 o'clock. On Wednesday it was 4 below in some parts of the town. This was accompanied by a thick vapor on the water which made navigation almost impossible. The S. S. Yarmouth did not cross the Bay Wednesday or yesterday between St. John and Digby, which is the first time this boat ever missed two trips in one week.

What Does He Want It For?

The Yarmouth papers have always impressed us that Yarmouth was an open port, free from ice the entire year. We reprint, however, the following paragraph from an Ottawa despatch in Friday's Yarmouth Times: "There was considerable discussion of the work of the ice breakers along the maritime coast. Mr. Carroll urged the need of more work at Sydney and Mr. B. B. Law, pressed for an ice breaker at Yarmouth."

Once more we wish to remind correspondents that we cannot publish communications without knowing the name of the author. We particularly wish this time to a writer in Sandy Cove.

Mr. R. C. Benson, Bear River's popular boat builder, has under construction a modern 28 ft. open launch for Mr. Alex. Adams, Bay View. "Sandy" will now be able "to go some" without the installation of as much power as required in his former sail boat in order to win.

Mr. John Raymond arrived last week with a handsome new up-to-date fishing boat designed and built for him by Mr. Joseph J. Theriault, at Belliveau's Cove. She is fitted with a 7 1/2 h. p. Mian gasoline motor and shows good speed. Mr. Raymond is now offering his open pleasure launch for sale.

Hockey.

DIGBY DEFEATED BRIDGETOWN FRIDAY NIGHT—SCORE TWO TO ONE.

Last Friday night a special train conveyed the Digby Hockey Team and a large number of their friends to Bridgetown where they won a closely contested game, the score being 2 to 1 in favor of our boys. All who visited Bridgetown via the special are loud in their praise of the manner in which they were used in our sister town. Everybody had a good time and the people of Bridgetown will long be remembered for the kindness extended to the visitors.

The Monitor describes the game as follows: A most keenly contested game of hockey was played on the Bridgetown open air rink under a bright moon and on a crisp ice on Friday night last. The Bridgetown A. C. Club against the crack puckpushers from Digby. A special train was sent up with the Digby club. The Bridgetown boys smarting under the severe defeat of two weeks ago—9 to 1—set their teeth and tapped the ice for the whistle, for another chance to show the Digby fans that the Bridgetown boys could play. However, P. B. Beckwith gave the whistle for center at eight o'clock, and in a moment the contest was on. It was noticeable that the home team was undersized when compared with the Digby team. But with a rush the home team put the puck right up to the enemy's goal and for nearly the whole period kept the goal-keeper, Anderson, on the jump. It was almost impossible for the Digby players to get away from their goal, and not till Dechenman passed the puck to Bent who made a slick shot for goal, was Digby allowed to get across the ice. The balance of the first period was taken up by Digby rushes. Shot after shot that went straight in the Bridgetown goal was neatly turned by Lorain Crowe. That boy is a horned goat keeper and a cracker-jack in that position. The home fans went wild with delight at the clever defence.

The period closed with one goal for Digby as well. A clean good play and no penalties in this half. The second period was played with greater vim than the first and some rough playing was the result. Several players were led off the ice, one and two at a time, but all in good humor. The Digby team made rush after rush for the Bridgetown goal but could not make the connection, being blocked every time by Crowe. Just before the period closed Dakin made a good shot which went over Crowe's head as he leaned low in watching the ice. Two to one for Digby was the best they could do this time.

To night's game, Yarmouth League vs. Antigonish in the Victoria Rink, Digby, was one of the best games of the season. There will be a special train from Yarmouth and another from Antigonish. The game is supposed to start at 8 o'clock. Admission 25cts.

Recognition of Bravery.

We are pleased to note that the Board of Trade and private citizens of St. John, N. B., have taken a step to make a tangible acknowledgment of the bravery of the officers and crew of the steamers Westport III, and John I. Cann in rescuing the passengers and crew of the steamer Colquhoun. A subscription list was circulated and met with a generous response. Checks for $10 have been loaned for each member of the two crews and a handsome gold watch to each of the Captains, McKinnon, and these are waiting presentation as soon as the watches can be suitably engraved. They will be presented upon the arrival of the boats in St. John.

Lobsters are reported very scarce at Brier Island. Last Saturday two lobsters were secured after handling one hundred and fifteen traps. Another fisherman hauled thirty-two traps from which he received none.

It may be interesting to note that Grand Manan winter owners are sending to Maine this winter for poles for their weirs. Owing to the high tides long poles are required for weirs in all parts of the Bay of Fundy.

Saturday's Yarmouth Post: The Government steamer Aberdeen arrived here Tuesday evening and went out again yesterday to put a new bell buoy on Cat Rock, Gannet dry ledge, atteny to the Yarmouth bell and also the Meteghan bell.

Steamer Boston, which was detained in Yarmouth Sat. night until 10 15 o'clock on account of the heavy gale, was 70 miles from Yarmouth at 8 o'clock on Sunday morning. She reached Boston about 6:30 on Monday morning, after experiencing a very rough trip.

Turn schooner Catherine, Capt. Wilkie, which was loading lumber at Bear River for the West Indies shipped by Clarke Bros., was forced to Digby Tuesday by storm. Bear River and docked at the government pier, where she will complete her cargo shipped by the Bloodfield Lumber Co.

A 74 pound lobster was taken by Boston by the Annie Perry and sold to Othor Rhodes at T wharf Thursday morning for $1.50. According to Captain Sullivan of the Perry, it was a matter of minutes to determine whether the lobster was to be brought over the side of the fisherman's dory which caught it, or whether the dory was to be carried off by the big shell fish, which put up a strong fight.

Yarmouth Fishing News from Friday's Times: There have been no fresh fish arrivals here since Tuesday. The Digby schooner Dorothy G. Snow, which has been to Brown's Bank, ran to her home port with a fare of 80,000 pounds. The Digby fishermen are dissatisfied with conditions here. They say they are not receiving a fair "cell," and they will bring no more fish here until assured of a better deal.

Capt. Amos Sabean has sailed from Trinidad reporting the arrival there of the stern schr. Edith Theriault in distress. The Halifax owned three-master, was 35 days on passage from Bear River via Digby, her progress being retarded by stormy weather. Capt. Sabean commanded since a year ago, when he sold the E. A. Sabean to Mobile parties.

Died at Wolfville.

(From the Wolfville Acadam.)

He was an exceedingly amiable boy and a great favorite with all who knew him. His going away is a matter of deep sorrow to many friends, who will join THE ACADIAN in sympathy for his bereaved mother and sister and other relatives. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon at the service here conducted by Rev. G. W. Miller. Appropriate music was furnished by a quartette consisting of Messrs Beckwith and West and Messrs. Give That Puny Child This Guaranteed Remedy

If your child is under-weight, listless, ill, liable to get sick easily, it needs a medicine to build its weight and strength. For this purpose there is nothing else we know of that we can so strongly endorse as Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. The remarkable success of this splendid medicine is due to the fact that it contains ingredients that tone the nerves, enrich the blood and furnish to the entire system the strength, weight and health-building substances it needs. And, it does all this without injuring the stomach. In fact, Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is not only pleasant to take, but even the most sensitive stomach is benefited by it, and the digestion improved. On the other hand, it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs, which must prevent of itself giving their children. It does its good work by taking hold of the weakness and builds the body up to its natural strength, at the same time making it strong to resist disease.

If Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion doesn't build your child up, feed the stunted, puny muscles, and make the little one live a strong, well and full of the animal spirits children are meant by nature to have, come back and tell us and get your money back. We don't want you to lose a cent. We think this is no more than fair, and it leaves you no cause to hesitate. For old people also—for convalescents—for all who are nervous, tired out, run down, no matter what the cause—we offer Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion with the same guarantee of entire satisfaction or money back. Sold only at the 7,000 Rexall Stores and in this town only by us. $1.00. P. W. Hildsworth, Digby.

Flour trial is essential but— it is not your work!

Flour varies from time to time in baking quality. This is because wheat continually varies according to soil conditions, etc.

Therefore, if baking results are to be constantly high, baking tests are essential. It is unreasonable to expect you to make these tests at your expense.

So from each shipment of wheat delivered at our mills we take a ten pound sample. This is ground into flour. Bread is baked from the flour. If this bread is high in quality and large in quantity, we use the shipment. Otherwise we sell it.

By simply asking for FLOUR bearing this name you can always be sure of more bread and better bread.

"ORANGE LILY SAVED MY LIFE"

These words or expressions having the same meaning are contained in hundreds of the letters I have received during the past year. Many were from women who had suffered agonies from falling of womb; others from women who had escaped dangerous surgical operations, as the tumors and ulcers had been removed by the action of Orange Lily; and others who had suffered from suppressed menstruation, leucorrhoea, painful periods, etc. For all these and the other troubles known in general as Women's Disorders, Orange Lily furnishes a positive scientific, never-failing cure. It is applied direct to the suffering organ, and its operation is certain and beneficial. As a trial actually proves its merit, I hereby offer to send absolutely free, a box worth $1.00, sufficient for ten days' treatment, to every suffering woman who will write for it. Enclose 2 stamps. WONDERFUL SOLDIER DOGS.

Which the German Army Finds Quite Indispensable.

There is in Germany a regular dog corps for service in time of war. Although these soldier dogs do not shoot guns or fire cannons, there are duties for them to perform that are quite as important as carrying arms. Most of the dog corps are composed entirely of Pomeranians or Spitzers, and these are mostly white in color. Occasionally a gray dog is chosen on account of his color, for he can escape more easily than a white dog, though even the white dogs are not likely to stay white in time of war. Each dog is equipped with a light but strong metal collar and a pouch for letters.

The soldier dog is given a peculiar education and it is given with regularity and care. First of all, the dog is taught to recognize men by their uniforms and is carefully taught the difference between the uniforms of Germany and those of foreign countries. Then he is taught the uniforms of the officers of the German army. This is done by patient and regular training.

After he has mastered the uniforms of the various armies the soldier dog is taught how to tell his master of the approach of an enemy or friend or of any other unusual discovery he may make.

His next step in education is the delivering of letters. These letters are placed in his pouch and the soldier dog runs from post to post delivering them. He is taught to know many other posts besides his own, to recognize them by name, to take a pouch full of letters to any post designated, to deliver them to an officer, to wait for a reply, and to return to his own post. After he can do this satisfactorily and without error he is "graduated" into a higher class and his education is partially completed.

The next lesson of the soldier dog is to look after the wounded. He is taught to discover wounded soldiers, to take water to them, and to tell superior officers of his discovery. He is also taught to take care of stragglers of the regiment. After this and after he knows whom to and whom not to obey, his education is completed and he is a real "soldier" and is assigned to a regiment.

Comets.

Statistics collected by Borrelly, the French astronomer, show that since the sixteenth century 376 comets have been discovered, of which 106 were periodic and 19 have been seen at more than one return and 56 have been visible to the naked eye, with 7 that could be seen in full daylight. Nearly two-thirds of the discoveries appear to have been made in the morning before sunrise, more than half in the second half of the year. The French observatories have led in discoveries, 67 of the comets having been first detected at Marseilles and 46 at Paris, but only 16 at Geneva, which has the next highest record: 15 at Florence and 14 at the Lick Observatory.

A Trade in Mummified Cats.

There were 180,000 cats mummified in the hope of nine blessed hereafter once found by a laborer who dropped into a pit at Ilem Hassan, about 10 miles from Cairo. At the bottom of the pit he discovered that he had chanced upon a cat cemetery. An Alexandrian speculator brought the lot, for the Levantine merchant will traffic in anything. He shipped them in the steamers Pharoas and Thebes, consigned to order in Liverpool. Here they were sold at auction by Leventon & Co., being knocked down in ton lots at a figure that averaged 10 cats for a penny. The ultimate utilization of the sacred animals was to enrich the English fields.

Slighted His Chance.

At a singing contest at Frankfurt, Kaiser Wilhelm, who attended, was served by several high school boys as pages. According to Jugend, he was attracted by the bright face of one of them and asked his name. "Korner, your majesty," said the boy.

"And your first name is Theodore?" said the emperor, thinking of the patriot poet Theodore Korner, whose war songs stirred Germany. "I'm sorry," replied the uncourtier-like youngster, "but it's only Wilhelm."

When Kaiser Wilhelm broke into a hearty laugh at the answer the page realized his missed opportunity.

Her Little Confidence Game.

"We're playing railroad train," she said as she pulled her father's paper away, "and I'm the conductor. Tickets, please."

He took a card from his pocket and handed it to her. She looked at it intently for a minute and then handed it back. "That was issued yesterday," she said, "and isn't good to-day. You'll have to pay cash or get off the train."

He gave her a dime. He knew he had been "worked," but what else could he do?

Businesslike Father.

"Father always appeals everything," said Miss Gladys Cunnor tearfully. "I'll never again tell him when anybody proposes to me."

"What has he done?" "When Mr. Brown Funch asked for my hand, I told him to ask father. And when he called father looked through a card index and said: 'There are three ahead of you, but I don't think any of them will suit. Come around next Thursday.'"

Dance Names.

The word "quadrille" is derived from the position of the dancers, the French word "quadrille" meaning a little square. "Country dance" does not mean a rustic dance, but is a corruption of the French term contredanse, which relates to the position of the couples—opposite to each other.—London Globe.

At Xmas times when all the young people were home for the holidays several dances were given in Burns' Hall, which were largely attended. Then again we have our different clubs, namely, the Social Club, which met with Mrs. Carl Eldridge on Thursday evening; the Whist Club which Dr. and Mrs. F. E. Stomach Health--
Or No Cost To You

Very likely others have advised you to use Rexall's Dyspepsia Tablets, because scores of people in this community believe them to be the best remedy ever made for Dyspepsia and Indigestion. That is what we think, too, because we know what they have done for others and what they are made of. We have so much faith in them that we urge you to try them at our risk. If they don't help you, they don't cost you a cent. If they don't do all that you want them to do—if they don't restore your stomach to health and make your digestion easy—just tell us and we will give back your money without a word of question.

Containing Pepsin and Bismuth, two of the greatest digestive aids known to medical science, they soothe the inflamed stomach lining, help in the secretion of gastric juice, check heartburn and distress, promote regular bowel action, and make it possible for you to eat whatever you like whenever you like, with the comforting assurance that there will be no bad after effects. We believe them to be the best remedy made for dyspepsia and indigestion. Rexall's only at the more than 2,000 Rexall's stores and in this town only at our store, W. H. Holdsworth, Digby.

The Bijou Dream.

A SHORT SKETCH OF DIGBY'S WELL KNOWN THEATRE.

The "Bijou Dream," Digby, N. S., was opened on June 10, 1911, under the management of James F. Clippis. It has continued under the same management to date and from present indications will do so for some time. It is absolutely sanitary and is equipped with an up-to-date heating system. The ventilating especially in the summer season is excellent and has received many complimentary remarks.

The management believes in improvements and the theatre has undergone some great changes since Mr. Clippis has had it. The improvements are noticeable from the time one enters until the rear of the house is reached. The office is tastefully furnished, the new vestibule has proven its worth in time and time again during the winter. In the operating room, which is built entirely of fireproof material, there is a Power's 6A machine. The seating capacity is 320. There is a five-piece orchestra. The production is excellent and the pictures are always projected with care.

The pictures have been furnished by the General Film Company, St. John, Branch, since the house opened and the class of pictures shown have always been all.

The management has just completed alterations to the stage which will allow the playing of any company visiting the Maritime provinces. The stage dimensions are as follows: Width from wall to wall 33 feet. Depth from curtain line to back wall 18 ft. 8 in. Height of proscenium opening 11 ft. 0 in. Height from stage to ceiling 12 ft. 0 in.

The new dressing rooms are annexed to the stage by an enclosed runway and 25 or 30 people can easily be accommodated.

Upon entering the runway we come to the green room, which is 8 ft. 5 in. x 15 ft. 3 in. We next enter room "A" which is finished in a salmon shade and is 8 ft. 6 in. x 10 ft. 3 in. Room "B" is finished in the same shade as "A" and about the same dimensions. Room "C" is finished in a pretty shade of blue and is 6 ft. 7 in. x 8 ft. 6 in.

The floors are all covered and the rooms are equipped complete with washstands, mirrors, individual dressing lights and clothes hangers.

The first company to use the new stage will be Perry's Players, who will play at the Bijou from Wednesday, March 18, and "A Royal Prisoner," Thursday, March 19. The staging of these plays will be gorgeous as the company will use all their own scenery. No more scenery or effects left at the station on account of being too large for the stage.

Mr. Clippis figures he will more than be paid for his expenditure by the fact that he will be able to give his patrons the plays.

A New Canadian Cruiser.

The revenue cruiser Margaret, built to the order of the Canadian Customs Department for patrol service on the Atlantic coast, by Messrs. Thornycroft, of Southampton, Eng., was launched at that place on Jan. 31st, the launching ceremony being fittingly performed by the granddaughter of the late Lord Strathcona, Mrs. J. B. Kitson, wife of Lieut. J. B. Kitson, R. N. The vessel took the water in an unusually advanced condition, both as regards hull and machinery, accommodation, etc., as well as propelling equipment being practically complete. The vessel was, in fact, almost ready for trial when floated. The keel was laid just twelve months ago. The principal dimensions are as follows: Length over all, 200 feet; length between perpendiculars, 185 feet; moulded breadth, 32 feet; depth moulded, 10 feet; and the draft is limited to 10 feet 6 inches, when carrying a load of 105 tons. The ram, stem and cruiser stern add to the appearance of the boat, which, indeed, is a fine looking craft.

NOTE.—Capt. George M. May, of Quebec, formerly in command of the revenue cutters Constance and Levee, has been appointed to command the Margaret. Owing to Captain May's long and successful work in the revenue service, both in the Lower St. Lawrence and Gulf, no better appointment could be made and the Government are to be congratulated on their choice. —Quebec Chronicle.

[Capt. May's many friends in Digby will join most heartily in congratulating him on his appointment to this first class vessel. Wherever Capt. May is known he is highly esteemed both as an officer and a gentleman, and his best wishes will follow him in his new position.]

Wedding at Roxbury, Mass.

A very pretty wedding was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris, 69 Zeigler St., Sunday evening, Feb. 8th. The bride, Mildred A. Simonds, a niece of Mrs. Harris, was united in marriage to Frederick W. Kleinmeier, of Buffalo, N. Y. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. J. H. Holden, pastor of the First Universalist Church, of Buena Vista St., Roxbury. The bride was becomingly dressed in a gown of blue crepe de chine over silk and carried bride roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Edwina Kelly, cousin of the bride, was dressed in blue silk. The groom was attended by Mr. Elmer Simonds, a brother of the bride. The house was very daintily trimmed for the occasion. The couple received many useful gifts. A reception followed the ceremony. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gilliland, Miss Louisa Raymond, Miss Jessie Raymond, Mrs. Emma Doucett, of Southville, N. S.; Mrs. Frank Simonds, of Malden; Mrs. Addie Tucker, of Somerville; Mr. and Mrs. Boyd A. Bishop, of Boston.

After a short wedding trip the happy couple will reside in Springfield, Mass.

Freeport.

Sorry to report Mrs. David Thurber on the sick list.

Mr. Vespe Ossinger spent Sunday with friends here.

Miss Eva Crocker, who has been visiting friends in Digby, has returned home.

Mr. Arnold Moran, who has spent the last three years in New York, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Moran.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR: I have read with interest the report of the doings of the Municipal Council as they appeared in recent issues of the Courier. I notice the Council intend to petition the government to pass such legislation as will enable them to increase their pay to five dollars a day. They must assume that their doings are so satisfactory to the ratepayers that they will cheerfully submit to the increase of taxation. About twelve years ago the Municipality was taxed eleven or twelve thousand dollars, and a large proportion of the amount went to pay railroad tax. Last year it appears the Council spent over twenty-three thousand dollars.

I notice the Council at last session ordered their treasurer to borrow two thousand dollars to pay amount over-expended last year while at the same time, according to the reports, there is over four thousand dollars due by the several collectors, some of which has been due over ten years. We wonder if the Council are so lenient with their private debtors. We would think by letting these matters run so long, it might be possible for bondsmen to die or become insolvent and so the Municipality lose the debt. It might be well for the ratepayers to petition for legislation that would make the Council personally responsible for any loss sustained by the Municipality through their neglect. Were such a law in force collectors and their bondsmen would be looked after more sharply. Again, I think it would be more satisfactory if we could have a plain statement of all receipts and expenditures of the Municipal funds. The Scott Act Inspector has presented a clear statement and it would be gratifying to know what amount was paid over by the several Clerks of License and also fines collected by the magistrates throughout the Municipality. The Municipal Council are employed by the people to transact such business as may come under their jurisdiction and no matter how correct their proceedings are the people who pay over the dollars disbursed by them feel better satisfied when they can see just where the money goes.

RATEPAYER.

Digby Co. Lobster Fishing a Failure For Jan. 1914.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR:—As near as I can learn from the various fishing localities of Digby Neck, the lobster fishing from January 1st to the 1st of February, 1914, was almost a failure. To prove this it might be well to give you a few figures, and catches made by some of our hardy fishermen. One man, I am told, pulled 130 traps and received six (6) count lobsters. Another party pulled 110 traps and counted out the round number of three. The third party or boat pulled just thirty traps and returned with only one lobster. But one count lobster. So you cannot say that this fellow caught the last one, can you? Another better proof of the great shortage is taken from the Insular Steamship Co.'s freight books. This company's steamer Westport III carries practically all the exported lobsters from Digby and Westport, a distance of 20 miles, or taking in both ways 40 miles of good fishing grounds. The manager of this Company tells me, that in the month of Jan., 1913, they carried 332 crates of lobsters to Yarmouth. And this year, the corresponding month, they only carried 222 crates, a shortage of 110 crates and out of this total only 91 crates were what you call large lobsters, 10 in. or over. If you will take the trouble to compare any of the above figures with this Co.'s books, say fifteen or twenty years ago, you will believe, be convinced, as I am, that this great industry is about to a finish. Now, Mr. Editor, being a fisherman, I am no great writer, but would like to hear from others more familiar with the pen.

A FISHERMAN.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR: In a recent issue of your paper I notice the report of Mr. Hartlett, late Scott Act Inspector, in which he gives a very plain statement of his doings during the year. I notice, however, that he or rather the magistrate, who tried his cases imposed a fine in every case of forty dollars and costs. Now I think the law fixes the penalty of fifty dollars for a first offence, one hundred dollars for a second offence, and for third and subsequent offences, imprisonment. It would therefore seem that some of those who were fined a legal and therefore could not have been enforced had the defendants refused to pay the fine. The magistrate having tried and convicted a man of a first offence could not under the circumstances convict the same man of an other first offence because he clearly knows it is not a first but a second at best. It is doubtful whether today a money penalty can be imposed legally upon any rumrunner in the Municipality of Digby.

AJAX.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR: In your issue of February 7th, there is an inquiry by H. A. W. Searcy in regard to the where abouts of one Carr, after he was tried and acquitted on the charge of murder in connection with the Saladin piracy in 1841 and whether he afterward lived in Digby County.

I remember very well a man named Carr who taught school in the village of Hill Grove between 1850 and 1859. It was generally believed and talked at the time that this schoolmaster and the alleged pirate were one and the same person. I do not know that Carr ever alluded or denied the stories, although he must have known what was being said of him. Carr boarded with Wilford Aymer, and later married a lady living in Bear River, where he went to live, and where a number of years later he died.

There are probably persons in Bear River who remember Carr and know his history.

Respectfully,
L. M. CHASE

STOCK AND POULTRY SPECIFICS

At a cost of less than a cent a day per head of stock, it will increase their value 25 per cent. Permanently cures Colic, Debility, Worms, Bots and Skin Diseases. Tones up run-down animals so that they quickly gain weight and vigor. Increases the yield of milk cows three to five pounds a day, besides enriching the quality of the milk. ROYAL PURPLE is not a food. It is a conditioner—the best ever sold. If there was any better we would be making it. It enables your stock to eat the natural food they should eat and get the most benefit from it. Here is the advice of all thorough veterinarians: "Feed your stock on food of your own growing—not pamper them with soft predigested mush so that after a time they cannot digest good, wholesome food. Feed the good food grown on your own farm—hay, oats, bran, chop, etc. You know what these things cost you and what they will do. ROYAL PURPLE is an aid to these natural foods and if you use it as directed, we can guarantee better results than if you feed any of the concoctions offered on the market as "prepared foods."

Try It On a Poor-Conditioned Animal

If there is a run-down, poorly nourished beast on your farm, see what ROYAL PURPLE SPECIFIC will do for it. A 50-cent package lasts a cow or horse 70 days. The cost is so trifling that no farmer in Canada has any excuse for having out-of-health stock around his place. Try it on the poorest-conditioned animal you have and we know you'll be surprised at the result. A short treatment. Cattle and hogs fatten up a month earlier than without it, which means you save a month's feed and a month's labor. You can bring six pigs to the pink of condition at the cost of $1.50. Steers treated in the same way cost no more than $1.00 each to put in prime state for market. ROYAL PURPLE SPECIFIC fattens and keeps well horses, mares, colts, cows, calves, steers, hogs. Sold in packages, 50c and all-right line, $1.50.

Ty ROYAL PURPLE POULTRY SPECIFIC on Your Hens

Do you know that ROYAL PURPLE POULTRY SPECIFIC makes hens lay in winter as well as in summer, and keeps them free from disease? It does, and helps them over the moult, fattens and keeps them in vigorous health. A 50c package lasts 25 hens over 70 days. Shouldn't you try it? We have hundreds of recommendations from all parts of the country. If ROYAL PURPLE does not give you better results than anything you ever used, or give you satisfaction, we will refund your money. No matter what your opinion of other preparations, we want you to give ROYAL PURPLE POULTRY SPECIFIC a chance to show what it can do for your poultry—and a 50c package will show you some fine results. Sold in 25c and 50c packages and $1.50 all-right line.

WE ALSO SELL
Royal Purple Cough Specific for cough and croup. (Will cure any ordinary cough in four days). 50c, by mail 60c.

Loss of the General Wolseley.

(From the Vancouver News-Advertiser)

Captain Harvey Copp, one of the best known mariners and old timers of Vancouver, sends the following verses, inspired by a recent wreck near a spot where he had himself been wrecked. He writes:

Sir,—The stranding of the S. S. Coburg on the dangerous hidden shoal called Trinity Lodge, near the mouth of the Bay of Fundy, which lies some ten miles off shore from Yarmouth, N. S., and directly in the pathway of ships bound to St. John, has brought to my mind the loss of the bank General Wolseley under my command some forty years ago on Gull Rock Lodge, lying three miles off the westernmost point of Briar Island and a few miles north of Trinity Shoal, where the Coburg was wrecked.

I took a great interest in the report that the S. S. Coburg had sent out a distress call by wireless, knowing, as I did, the dangers that existed in that vicinity, and I feared for the safety of the lives on board during the interval of time, between the “S. O. S.” call for help until the people on board were rescued through the instrumentality of wireless telegraphy, another proof of the great value of wireless in saving life at sea.

In my case it was thick fog instead of snow and, although our ship broke up and the only place of safety was the fifteen rigging, the mizzen mast fell a few minutes after we were rescued. The following verses constitute a brief account of the loss of the ship, and may be a warning to navigators who are unacquainted with the dangerous shoals and current that exist near the mouth of the Bay of Fundy:

Ye mariners that navigate the Nova Scotia Coast
And say your bearings are not all correct, the tide runs very queer
And expect a bad day in the course you are to steer
The reason that I say this, experience has taught me
A lesson to the writer, a lesson dearly bought.
And I learn from that experience, by trusting to a log,
Dead reckoning, 'taint always safe in a Bay of Fundy fog.

If you listen I will tell you how I lost a fine new ship
‘Twas on my way from Liverpool—it was my second trip
I was bound to St. John City with about two thousand tons
Of autumn goods for merchants. I'd had a splendid voyage
By rounding and dead reckoning, whilst running up the Bay.
I altered a course to clear Gull Rock, and watched my patent log,
But I lost the ship and cargo in a Bay of Fundy fog.

When I passed up by the Lurcher Shoal, I stopped and took a sound
I got ten fathoms by the mark, with sand and mud
Then I ran a mile longer; then I took another cast.
For I expected deeper water, when the Lurcher I did get
I did get deeper water, and I thought I was all right.
I then took a sound, with head off shore to wait for daylight.
But the soundings had deceived me, she'd overrun her log,
And I lost the General Wolseley in a Bay of Fundy fog.

The tide had set her to the east, inside St. Mary's Bay
And set her north full twenty miles in less than an hour
She struck her bottom, then her keel, between the rocks did wedge,
And then I knew that she was on the reef
And there she struck, the tide went down, and left her high and dry,
And when she'd sunk we'd got her off at least I'd have a try.
But the jagged rocks that hid her fast hung round her
And that was how the ship was lost in a Bay of Fundy fog.

When the tide was low we laid out warps, we got ready for to heave,
But when it rose she swung around, we saw the rollers throw her broadside on those cruel jagged rocks,
Then up and down she struck the whist, some very heavy knocks,
I made ready to leave the ship, whilst she remained there,
I was trying to get three ladies and a baby in the boat.
Just then I was attracted by the barking of a dog,
When I saw a ship approaching in a Bay of Fundy fog.

Two fishermen were in this skiff; they turned their head to tide
They waited and the current brought the little boat alongside
They said, “We'll save the ladies, if you can get them out,
Your ship is on a dangerous reef, about four miles from town.”
The ladies then were lowered down in the little life boat.
The little skiff was then about as deep as an sho would float.
The rollers struck our other boat, she capsize
But the skiff—hot out and disappeared in the Bay of Fundy fog.

Then the life boat's crew they got away and lay to close to tide
But they could not come to save us in that mighty rushing tide.
The fore and mainmast lay alongside, the ship all broke in two,
And I climbed up the mizzen, with the balance of my crew.
And then we saw that mast must fall, the ship was now a wreck,
Then a half full of water, came sweeping along the deck.
We left the mizzen for the boat, we also saved the dog.
And we found our way to Westport in a Bay of Fundy fog.

I then was very thankful that we'd all got safe on shore,
Although I'd lost a fine new ship—yet there I was,
And the lesson taught me not to trust a chart and patent log,
In the thick fog of Fundy, in a Bay of Fundy fog.

“You can't miss it, Nell,” called Mrs. Beckman as the big motorcar drew away from the curb. “The sign is over the porch, Happy Day Cottage,” and if you arrive there first just go ahead and start the dinner, will you. Jackman said the supplies would be waiting there. Goodby. Sorry you won't come with us.”

It was 11 o'clock when Nell reached Silver Lake. The road was an unfamiliar one, for she had never been to the little resort before. It was late September and most of the cottages edging the lake were untenanted, but Happy Day Cottage was at the very edge of the shore road, and Nell left her car in the shade of the trees and went up on the little rustic porch. The door was locked and it was evident that she was the first on the scene. She determined to go ahead and prepare dinner for the hungry motorists, for it had been agreed that the women of the party were to do the cooking.

Around the back door was Nell, her arms burdened with luscious peaches she had found in two, and a bottle of cream, which delicacy she was certain Mrs. Beckman would forget. The back door was unlatched, and Miss Gains stepped into the little kitchen and found a grocery's basket heaped with packages and tins. She hung her hat and cloak in the little passageway and pinned a convenient towel over her linen gown in lieu of an apron, and set to work to clove a meal from the contents of the basket.

There was bread and butter, cereals, flour, eggs, sugar, coffee, tinned meats and fish, vegetables and, last of all, a torn bit of paper on which was scrawled in pencil:

“The stake is in the refrigerator.” And in a tiny tin filled box in the pantry Nell found a juicy sirloin steak about large enough for two people. Where were the other hungry six to come in!

Nell shrugged her shoulders and set the sardines and tinned salmon aside. Nell Gains was an excellent cook. Deftly she flew here and there, making herself quite at home.

When everything was ready Nell went into the living room and sat down by the window.

Her eyes became accustomed to the cool dimness of the little room, and she noted with growing surprise that it was rather disorderly. Pipes and to be littered a smoking stand, books and magazines were heaped on chairs and tables, a tennis racket lay on a window seat and an artist's easel and painting kit cluttered another corner. A pair of masculine slippers stood in vitally before the empty fireplace.

There was a sound from the kitchen and Nell hastened there, flushed and lovely with the anticipation of the general surprise when they should find dinner in readiness.

She stopped short and stared. Framed in the open window, with his elbows on the sill, was a perfect giant of a young man, attractively homely as to features, with steady gray eyes and stubby hair. His face was tanned to a warm brown and his hands and arms above his elbows, were his shirt sleeves were rolled up, wore the same golden tan.

So Nell stared at him and he stared at Nell until her face flushed a deeper rose and she made another step forward.

“Good morning,” she said rather coldly.

“Ah, good morning,” he said still staring.

“Mrs. Beckman has not arrived yet,” she said significantly.

“Indeed!” he asked with polite surprise in his tone.

“If you care to wait for Mrs. Beckman I am sure she will be along any moment now. I promised to have dinner ready, and there are some comfortable chairs on the front porch,” said Nell, feeling rather frightened at the presence of this grave faced young man.

Perhaps he recognized her fear, for almost at once he lifted his head from his fists and went around the path to the front porch, the sun shining warmly down on his untidy thatch of hair.

“Oh, dear, I wish they would come! The dinner will be spoiled!” At that instant came the distant toot of a motor horn, and Nell fled back to the kitchen and prepared the coffee and broiled the steak.

Between whiles she laid another place at the table for the unexpected guest who was undoubtedly some friend of Mrs. Beckman's.

At the end of another fifteen minutes Nell went out and looked up and down the road, but there was no sign of motor or the expected party.

“I'm as hungry as a bear,” sighed Nell at last. “It's after 1 o'clock and I've got to eat!”

That's a very small steak for nine people, isn't it?” she asked anxiously. “I could eat every scrap myself,” he announced as he neatly slipped the steak to a hot platter and carried it into the dining room.

“I forgot to introduce myself,” he said pleasantly. “I am Delbridge Ellis.”

“And I am Eleanor Gains,” said Nell, acknowledging his introduction with simple courtesy. “Will you have a cupful of coffee now, Mr. Ellis?”

“If you please,” he said, passing her a plate containing the choicest portion of the steak.

“This is great,” he said as he attacked the meaty baked potatoes. “I tell you keeping bachelor's hall isn't all its cracked up to be. Why, I've eaten so many earldines that the junkman has to call once a week for the empty tins. That's almost a fact.”

“Then you live around here, too?” asked Nell, with interest.

“Why yes,” he answered, with a puzzled glance at her. After that he was silent for a long time, but they fell to chatting on indifferent subjects, and by the time they had discussed the sliced peaches and the thick, yellow cream the time had passed so swiftly that Mr. Ellis announced reluctantly that it was 3 o'clock.

“Oh, dear! I am afraid something has happened!” cried Nell anxiously as they arose from the table.

“Pardon my asking the question, Miss Gains, but will you please tell me who is Mrs. Beckman?”

Nell stared. “Who is Mrs. Beckman?” she repeated. “Why, don't you know?”

He shook his head, smiling in the particularly winning way that was very attractive to Nell Gains. “I never heard of her before, and I am wondering why she has honored me by holding a sort of glorified picnic here in my bachelor quarters.”

“In your bachelor quarters?” echoed Nell blankly. “Why, Mr. Ellis, surely you are mistaken. This is Mrs. Beckman's place, isn't it—Happy Day Cottage? Why, I read the sign over the porch.”

“To be sure you did!” he exclaimed after a moment. “I see it all now. It was a very natural mistake to make, Miss Gains, and I'm in a perfectly glorious dinner, but I'm afraid you have missed a delightful time with your friends. Please come around to the front porch with me.”

A very bewildered Nell followed him around and together they gazed at the little white painted sign nailed over the porch.

“Happy Day Cottage,” it read, sure enough.

“You see, Miss Gains, the village boys run down here out of season and amuse themselves by transferring the signs from one cottage to another, much to the indignation and confusion of the owners. This Happy Day sign has been on my cottage for a week, and I let it stay. This is really Pine Cottage, and I saw that sign down on the big red cottage at the end of the row. Very likely your friends are down there feasting and wondering where you are. Shall we go down there now and explain?”

“Oh, let me think for a moment!” cried Nell.

The result of her cogitations, together with the sage advice of her host, was that she alone should drive up to the real Happy Day Cottage and say nothing of her odd adventure.

“You must let me clear away this wreckage,” insisted Ellis as he helped Nell into her cloak. “I don't mind in the least, and I shall never forget my surprise at finding you here and the pleasant hours we have spent. Indeed, this shall always be to me Happy Day Cottage, for it marks a very happy day.”

So Nell allowed him to put her into the runabout and gave him permission to call upon her some day, and she rolled slowly up to the real Happy Day Cottage, where the astounded motorists brought her remains of their cold dinner and marveled at her lack of appetite.

And the next year after Nell had married Delbridge Ellis, they spent the summer at Silver Lake, and Ellis always called the place “Honeycomb Cottage,” though the name over the door plainly said “Pine Cottage.”

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Digby, February 20, 1914

—A short review of the work carried on at the Agricultural Short Course recently held in connection with the Provincial College Farm at Truro, cannot fail to impress the observer with the fact that more attention is being paid to the farming interests of Nova Scotia, and will provide faith that this profitable industry is very much in the ascendancy in the Province.

When the Short Course was first instituted by Principal Cumming, the attendance was not such as to encourage a man of talents or indicate that his labor would early bear fruit. A large percentage of the students were drawn from Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick. These other Provinces, in the Maritime group equalled in attendance and outpointed Nova Scotia in interest. This year the very reverse was the case. The students were almost exclusively drawn from the Province of Nova Scotia and the attendance was a record one. By actual count 351 students were on the register. In addition to this number there were present over ninety of the students who are taking the regular two-year course at the institution, and many who came to attend one or the other of the several conventions which were held during the fortnight, and who occasionally helped to swell the number at the classes. These conventions covered The Nova Scotia Dairyman, The Veterinary Association, The Maritime Stock Breeders' Association, Poultrymen's Association and the Women's Institutes.

Getting back to the actual work of the Short Course, the interest and attention paid was a feature which particularly impressed those of the instructors who for the first time were on the faculty. These men frequently lent expression to this fact and Prof. Treuman, who has had over twenty years' experience in the faculties of leading Agricultural Colleges in the United States, stated that he never saw a body of men so eager for information or more anxious to make note of the experience of others, who may have had much success along lines and perhaps under similar conditions to those which surround the majority of Nova Scotia farmers. It was indeed an inspiring sight to see a class of sturdy men; some old, some young, for no difference is made in age, gathered around the large pavilion, vying with each other in their judgment of live stock or listening to an expert placing a herd of splendid cattle as he believed they should be placed in the show ring on their merit and giving his reasons for so doing.

No branch of farm husbandry is neglected or omitted from these Short Courses. While the farmer from the highlands of Cape Breton was attending a class in sheep directed by a capable animal husbandman, over in another building could be found an equally attentive group learning how to best conquer the insect pests which infest orchards for, these men came from the fruit districts. Or it might be some of the boys who were interested in the poultry branch of their home farms that could be found listening to one of the poultry experts dilate on the different breeds and the better methods of caring for them. Dairying and cow testing was continuously being taught and many availed themselves of the opportunity to learn how to handle the Babcock tester. Again, perhaps the great class was all drawn together as seeds and grains were judged or the subject of better roads, so vital to rural life, treated of. While the men were so employed, the ladies, and they were not a few, were interested in dairying, both butter and cheese making, the growing of small fruits, and domestic science, embracing both culinary arts and nursing.

From start to finish it was a highly interesting session and one of the biggest boosts the farming interests of Nova Scotia ever received. No man who was present but went home the more enthused with his daily toil, saw less of the drudgery and more of the profits and was filled with a determination to farm along better lines. His calling was raised in his estimation, he met and talked with brother farmers, who believed that while their vocation was second to none in the world, that they also lived in one of the most productive spots under the starry canopy. By co-operation and improved practice they were convinced that the Nova Scotia farmer would come into his own; the Hand of Providence had endowed the Province with natural resources, the hand of man must reap the reward.

THE STORM IN DIGBY OF A LOCAL NATURE

Worst Sea Ever Witnessed in Bay of Fundy

STREETS BLOCKED WITH SNOW—BREAKWATER DAMAGED AT TROUT COVE—BOATS ANCHORED AT TIVERTON AND LITTLE RIVER SUCCESSFULLY LITTLER.

The worst storm in the recollection of the oldest inhabitants occurred here Monday night. During the first part of the evening the wind was southerly and after midnight changed suddenly and blew a severe gale from the north, accompanied by snow, blocking the streets. Superintendant E. J. and a crew of men have been busily engaged, and have done good work.

Mr. Leander Ellis, the popular light and fog alarm keeper at Point Prim, shut down his diaphane at 11 o'clock Tuesday morning after 13 hrs. steady running, a record breaker for a snow storm. Mr. Ellis reports the worst sea at Point Prim from 3 to 4 a. m. Tuesday morning that he had ever witnessed.

Schr. Dorothy M. Smart, Capt. William Snow, passed out by Point Prim at 4:30 Monday afternoon and must have experienced a rough time in the Bay. She was at Westport, Brier Island, on Wednesday.

The Digby fishing schooner Albert J. Lutz, Capt. Arthur Lougmitre, reached Shelburne the same night. The schooner Dorothy G. Snow, Capt. Ansel Snow, which left here Friday, was at Westport, Brier Island. The schooner Loran B. Snow, Capt. Arthur Casey, remained in Digby during the blow, sailing yesterday morning.

At Trout Cove on the Bay of Fundy shore, 12 miles west of Point Prim, the new government breakwater under construction by Contractor Reid, was damaged to the extent of about $500. At the same place a gasoline fishing boat owned by Orwell Outhouse and Shannon Raymond was totally destroyed. The boat was badly damaged. Other boats belonging to the Trout Cove fleet sunk and were more or less injured.

The lobster fishermen in both the Bay of Fundy and St. Mary's Bay lost more than half their catches, which broke apart in the crates. This will be keenly felt, as the season's catch has been small all round.

At Tiverton Frank Lent's large gasoline motor boat from Westport went ashore with a cargo of haddock, but fortunately both boat and cargo were saved.

At Little River the S. S. Westport got ashore in St. Mary's Bay, but was floated with very little damage, and proceeded on her trip to St. John.

The S. S. Yarmouth, Capt. McDonald, arrived at Digby from St. John about an hour late after a rough trip across the Bay.

The Halifax and Yarmouth express trains were several hours late, the mails not being assured at Digby until nearly 6 o'clock Tuesday night.

The Digby N. S. mail reached Digby Wednesday afternoon.

The Electric Light.

Everything is now running along smoothly with Digby's electric light, and the meter system is greatly appreciated by all users of electric current, as everything is getting what they pay for and paying for what they get. The morning light is being consumed, but as it is now quite light at 7 a. m., less current than ever is being used. We would suggest to anyone requiring a good light to have their houses wired throughout and, with a meter, need only use what current they require so that their electric lighting system need not cost them much over a dollar a month, if properly regulated.

A convenient thing for all concerned would be a telephone in the electric power house. The use of one was badly required Saturday night when two crossed wires were causing a fire on Water street. Mr. Daley promptly shut down the plant as soon as word reached him and thus prevented further danger. A fire during Saturday night's blizzard would have been a big proposition for the firemen to handle and would have meant a big loss of property. A telephone in the station would be a great convenience to the public as well as to Mr. A. D. Daley, the careful and efficient operator of Digby's entire electric system.

Death of Maurice Geddrie. Meteghan

Monday, 9 inst., at about 8 a. m., Mr. Maurice Geddrie quietly departed this life for a better world at the age of 51 years. Deceased had been ailing for some years but had been only confined to bed for about six weeks. At the time of his demise he was thought to be improving. He was a true and devout Christian, giving to charities to the poor and to the church. He died fortified by all the rites of the Roman Catholic church of which he was always an obedient member. He leaves a wife and two daughters to mourn his absence. The funeral took place Wednesday morning at Meteghan. He was a member of L'Assomption Branch 28. To the members of the family we offer our most profound sympathies in their great bereavement.

Death of Mrs. Marguerite Sarette.

The death occurred at 8:10 Brook on February 9th, at the home of her son, Cyril Sarette, of Marguerite Sarette, widow of Francis Sarette, aged 84 years. She was a native of Salmon River, Digby Co., and was the mother of twelve children—seven daughters and five sons. Nine are dead and three are living: Cyril and Maggie, at 8:10 Brook, and Marie, in Stonewall, Nova Scotia. The burial took place on February 11th at 8 o'clock in the morning.

Death of Mrs. Leander H. Deveau.

Sunday, 15th inst., Mrs. Leander H. Deveau, nee Adele Melanson, departed this life at the age of 41 years. Deceased had only been sick six days, suffering with pneumonia and pleurisy. She leaves a father and mother, several brothers and sisters, and also several children to mourn her death. The funeral took place at Salmon River under the management of Undertaker Deveau, of Meteghan.

Married in Digby.

At the Baptist parsonage, Wednesday, Feb. 18th, a quiet marriage was solemnized, when Harry Leigh Davidson and Florence Bennett, formerly of Digby, were united in marriage by the Rev. J. D. Deveau. The happy couple left on the west bound train en route to Dorchester, Mass., where they will reside for the present.

The Yarmouth curlers passed through Digby enroute to St. John Tuesday.

—What's the matter with Digby's Board of Trade? Is it not time for the annual meeting?

—Vernon Hill, of Westville, Digby Co., claims the distinction of having the first butterfly of the season.

—Mass will be celebrated in St. Patrick's R. C. church Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Devotions in the evening at 7 p. m.

—It is estimated that California's crop of oranges this year will fill 40,000 cars and provide 15 oranges for each man, woman and child in the United States.

—Mr. Fritz Dakin, who believes in having his store lighted at night, turned his lights off and on by the use of an alarm clock, without anyone being present.

—We regret to learn that a large quantity of vegetables were frozen in several of the cellars in Smith's Cove on Thursday of last week. Similar reports have reached us from other parts of the county.

—Thousands of men were engaged in Boston Sunday clearing the streets of snow, which completely blocked travel. All the railway trains were off time, and the street cars made a very poor showing all that day.

—Mr. J. D. Thunberg, a native of Freeport, but now a resident of Vancouver has our thanks for a copy of the Daily News-Advertiser, of that city, from which we are reprinting a poem. It appears on our first page.

—Preaching services in the Baptist Church next Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Morning subject, "The Shepherd's Psalm"; evening, "Reasons for making a public confession of Christ." Prayer meeting Wednesday evening at 7:45. Welcome to all who care to worship with us.

Death of William McDonald.

ONE OF DIGBY'S SUMMER TOURISTS SUCCESSFUL IN BRIGHT'S DISKARE AT HIS HOME IN LINDEN, N. J.

(From Monday's New York Herald.)

Mr. William McDonald, a widely known manufacturer of paint and head of the firm of William McDonald & Son, of No. 180 Front street, died of Bright's disease at his home in Linden, N. J., yesterday. Mr. McDonald's health failed two years ago and from that time the malady from which he suffered refused to yield to medical treatment.

Mr. McDonald was one of the best known men in Linden, a devout churchman and for many years he gave up his commodious residence on Sundays to Father Terrell and McQuaker for the celebration of the mass, a privilege he granted until the edifice of St. Elizabeth's Catholic Church, of which he was a member, was erected. Mr. McDonald was born in St. John, N. B., in 1841, and came to New York when a child. He was educated in the public schools of Brooklyn, where he later married Miss Henrietta Hines, who died in 1892.

Removing to Linden in 1888, Mr. McDonald was for a time president of the Borough Council of that place and several terms a member of the Board of Education. He was actively interested in civic affairs and he was widely known for his benevolence and humanitarian work. He was a director of the Lincoln Trust Company of Jersey City and member of the Catholic Benevolent Legion and the Paint, Oil and Drug Club of New York. He leaves a wife and three sons.

Mr. McDonald was one of Digby's well known summer tourists, having for many years spent his vacations at the Myrtle House.

Hockey at Victoria Rink.

YARMOUTH DEFEATED ANNAPOLIS FRIDAY NIGHT AND MONCTON DEFEATED DIGBY WEDNESDAY NIGHT.

One of the best hockey matches in Digby this year was witnessed by more than five hundred people in Victoria rink last Friday evening. The special train for Yarmouth was cancelled owing to disagreeable weather in the morning and the game was postponed until Friday morning and the hockey boys arrived via the regular express, returning home the following afternoon. A special brought the boys from Annapolis, accompanied by a large number of their friends who did lots of cheering whenever their boys made good plays.

The line up was as follows:

Reference—Henderson, Yarmouth; L. G. Smith, Digby. Game started at 8:30. Score 6 to 3 in favor of Yarmouth.

Wednesday night's game at Victoria Rink between Digby and Moncton did not attract as large a crowd as was present Friday night, the attendance being 230. The game was quite rough and several players were penalized. The following was the line up and result of the game:

Wednesday, 11th inst., Mr. Matias LeBlanc, son of Mr. Charles M. LeBlanc, was in the woods cutting logs, he was struck in the back by a tree and thrown unconscious to the ground. His little brother, who was with him, had to run about two miles for help. When he arrived he was still unconscious, and almost frozen. He was taken home and Dr. MacDonald, of Meteghan, immediately summoned. Dr. MacDonald, who was on his way from Church Point, arrived in due time, and seeing the seriousness of the case decided to have him removed to the Victoria Hospital in Halifax. He was taken there Thursday morning under the physician's care.

Latest reports are that, though very seriously hurt, there is good hope of his recovery. Mr. LeBlanc is a fine young man, 22 years old and a member of the A. O. F.

Arrivals at the Maritime Fish Corporation this week: Schr. Cora Gertie, 11, 245 lbs. of haddock, 2,708 lbs. of cod.

The finding of the three bodies and the discovery of wreckage indicates that the Sunderland steamer Arnauld, of 535 tons, foundered with all hands in a gale off Land's End, England.

Schr. Cora Gertie, Capt. M. G. Crocker, which arrived here Wednesday with a load of fresh fish for the Maritime Fish Corporation, had a rough experience in Tuesday's gale at the breakwater in Tiverton.

The Norwegian barque Valdivia, Capt. Anderson, which left Dextero, Brazil, Dec. 4 for Weymouth, has not yet reached that port. On her arrival she will take in lumber—furnished by D. R. Saunders, of Yarmouth, for Buenos Ayres.

The schooner Herald, Capt. Ingles, from St. John for Weymouth, to load pulp for New York for the Campbell Lumber Co., got caught in the ice in St. Mary's Bay and drifted ashore on Weaver's Point, a short distance west of Weymouth light. The vessel is surrounded by ice, but is said to be unhurt. The Herald is owned by R. C. Ekin & Co., St. John.

Stmr. Boston, which was detained at Yarmouth until Friday at 10 a. m. on account of the ice and bad weather arrived in Boston at 8 o'clock Saturday morning. She left on her return Monday noon and arrived at Yarmouth Tuesday noon, badly laded up and a few of the pilot house windows smashed. Capt. Sims says it was the roughest trip he ever experienced in the Bay. She left on time Wednesday night.

Stmr. Bear River, Capt. Woodworth, which arrived from St. John Saturday, discharged her Digby freight at Turnbull & Co.'s wharf and proceeded to Bear River as usual. While going up the river she got caught in the ice. She grounded with the forward part of the boat in the ice and the after end in the mud. Her cargo has been discharged and conveyed to Bear River in teams. It is thought the steamer will be floated without damage.

ARIZONA KICKLETS

The Mayor-Editor's Chronicles of a Red Letter Week.

IS ON HIS OFFICIAL DIGNITY.

Never Again Will Armed Argument Bluff Him—Weather Bureau isn't infallible, and the Gulch is No Place For Overambitious Showmen.

By M. QUAD.

(Copyright, 1913, by Associated Literary Press.)

FOR the seventh time we have been elected mayor of this town by the largest majority ever given a candidate for any office. We are the only man ever elected to a third term as mayor. We think we can say without egotism and without denial that we are the only human critter in this territory who has been picked up by an enthusiastic multitude after the ballots were counted and carried half a mile on the shoulders of eminent statesmen.

The reports telegraphed around the country the other day to the effect that the mayor of this town (who is himself) had been thrown out of a window at a meeting of the aldermen contain only a small grain of truth. As presiding officer we refused to entertain a motion which was clearly out of order. Simultaneously with our refusal we reached for our gun, but at once discovered that it had been left at the office. Six aldermen at once drew down upon us and demanded that we entertain the motion, and not being anxious to be made a fish net of, we promptly and cheerfully complied. No one was thrown out of a window. No one was shot. No one struck a blow. Six aldermen simply bluffed the mayor to a standstill for the first and only time in his life, and the business of the corporation proceeded after the usual program.

At the next meeting we shall have at least two guns, but we do not anticipate any trouble. There have been several occasions when we held the six aldermen up and satisfied them of the soundness of our position, and we have faith that we can do it again. We admit that we lost prestige in the affair, but with six guns looking at us we had to lose something or other and concluded to let the prestige go.

Our Weather Bureau. We have again established a weather bureau in connection with the Kicklet office, and every day at noon we shall put out a bulletin giving the probabilities for the coming twenty-four hours. A year ago Colonel McFarland entered our office and proceeded to kick the upholstery out of everything he could reach because we predicted a cyclone which didn't come. Six months later Mayor Taylor did the same thing and shot the hands off our eight day clock to boot because it rained when we predicted dry weather.

We now wish it distinctly understood that our only facilities for weather predicting are a set of compasses, a carpenter's rule, a lead pencil and a rheumatism leg. We shall make mistakes, but they will be errors of the rule and pencil instead of the heart. Our aim will be to come as closely as possible, and with that the public must be satisfied.

Arousing Public Wrath.

Last Tuesday a party arrived in town and set up a sideshow in which "The Kentucky fat boy" was the principal attraction, although a three legged kangaroo was supposed to hold him a close second. It was soon discovered that the kangaroo was a stuffed Japanese dog and that the fat boy, who was advertised to weigh 350 pounds, was padded out with hay or some other substance. Some of the audience wanted to feel of him to make sure that all was aboveboard, but this the showman would not permit. Soon after his refusal the ball opened. The air was thick with flying frills of the kangaroo, the fat boy was dusting down the river road, and the showman was disappearing into the woods to the east. Somebody set fire to the tent, which was totally consumed, and then the joyful crowd enthusiastically dispersed.

We are a backwoods town and a primitive people, but three legged dogs and stuffed boys can't pull the wool over Uncle Joshua's eyes at 15 cents admission. A spotted cow might be worked off on us for a rhinoceros from South Africa, but even then the showman ought to have the Lord's Prayer ready at hand.

Zam-Buk took out all the fire, and quickly gave him ease. Within three weeks of commencing with Zam-Buk treatment, every sore had been cured."

This is but one of the many letters we are constantly receiving from people who have proved the healing powers of Zam-Buk. For eczema, piles, sores, burns, cuts and all skin troubles there is nothing like this wonderful balm. No skin disease should be considered incurable until Zam-Buk has been tried.

I OWE MY LIFE TO "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

They Did Me More Good Than All Other Treatments Combined

Mrs. H. S. WILLIAMS

PAINTERSTON, ONT., June 20th, 1913. "I really believe that I owe my life to 'Fruit-a-tives'. Ever since childhood, I have been under the care of physicians and have been paying doctors' bills. I was so sick and worn out that people on the street often asked me if I thought I could get along without help. The same old stomach trouble and distressing headaches nearly drove me wild. Some time ago I got a box of 'Fruit-a-tives' and the first box did me good. My husband was delighted and advised a continuation of their use. 'Fruit-a-tives' completely cured me.

Today, I am feeling fine, and a physician meeting me on the street, noticed my improved appearance and asked me the reason. I replied, 'I am taking Fruit-a-tives'. He said, 'Well, if 'Fruit-a-tives' are making you look so well, go ahead and take them. They are doing more for you than I can'.

Mrs. H. S. WILLIAMS.
'Fruit-a-tives' are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. or sent on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

WOMEN CURED AT HOME

Women's disorders always yield from the very beginning of the treatment to the mild but effective action of Orange Lily. Within two or three days after commencing its use the improvement becomes noticeable, and this improvement continues until the patient is completely cured. Orange Lily is an applied or local treatment, and acts directly on the womanly organs, removing the congestion, toning and strengthening the nerves, and restoring perfect circulation in the diseased parts. In order to convince all suffering women of the value of this remedy, I will send a 35-cent box, enough for ten days' treatment, absolutely FREE to each lady sending me her address. MRS. FRANCES E. "What got you into all this trouble?" asked the self-made man of his sons, whose business affairs he was trying to straighten out.

"It all came about on account of a verbal contract that the men wouldn't live up to."

"What's the use of men having an education and making such breaks? Didn't I warn you before you began business to have all of your verbal contracts in writing?"

Sour Grapes.
Is it really such a much
At the northern point to touch?
Is it hard to find the pole
As it is to rustle coal
For the loved ones in the shack,
Who might freeze ere you came back?
Is it hard the world to mount
With a well expense account?
Any one could turn the trick
Could the pole be found on tick.

Had a Reputation.
"What can I do for you, my good man?"
"Don't 'my good man' me."
"Oh, no offense, but why not?"
"Me pals might hear it and cut me dead."

Opposite Kinds.
"He has written one of the best sellers of the day."
"I suppose he wrote it in an attic."
"No; in a basement—in fact, one of the worst cellars of the day."

Any One Could.
"He always brings his pay home to his wife."
"That is nice of him. What is he getting?"
"He isn't working now."

Suited Him.

"Can you give me some work, lady?"
"I am afraid not."
"Just a little that I may get something to eat."
"I have very little work."
"Well, give me half of that."

Sure Cure.
"I just can't understand women."
"Why don't you marry one?"
"Will I understand them then?"
"No, but you will quit trying."

Good Reason.
"Why are you so hard up?"
"Accident."
"What sort?"
"I fell on the payroll."

Variety of Shapes.
"Is he on the level?"
"I think he is on the square."
"When will he be round?"

Identified.
"He talks like a book."
"What book?"
"H-y-l-e's Games."

Don't All Do That.
"Did she return his love?"
"No, just his presents."

Non-Attendance At Church.

(From the Vancouver Sun.)

The warning issued not long ago by ex President Taft that unless the people of United States returned to the old time custom of attending church there would be no hope for the future of the institutions of the nation, seems to have made a deep impression throughout the country. It was at any rate immediately followed by the initiation of a movement for Sunday church going, and that movement, it is said, is steadily gaining ground among the people.

There is no doubt that church attendance has fallen off greatly even within the past ten or twenty years. People no longer consider church attendance the supreme mark of respectability nor do they look upon non-attendance as indicating contempt, for religion or laxity of morals. Even in Canada, where we have not advanced so far in up to date ideas as the Americans have, a man may pass as a decent citizen though he never darkens the doors of a church. Nor can it be denied that thousands of those who habitually remain from church fulfill their duties as husbands, fathers and citizens, quite as faithfully and well as the most exemplary of the church members.

Specialist Could Not Remove Stone in The Bladder

GIN PILLS PASSED IT

JOLYETTE, P. Q.

"During August last, I went to Montreal to consult a specialist at the Hotel St. Charles, who told me that he could not remove my stone in the bladder. He decided to operate but said the stone was too large to remove and too hard to crush. I returned home and was recommended by a friend to try GIN PILLS.

They relieved the pain. I took two boxes and went back to the specialist. He said the stone was smaller but he could not remove it although he tried for two hours and a half. I returned home and continued to take GIN PILLS, and to my great surprise and joy, I passed the stone.

GIN PILLS are the best medicine in the world and because they did me so much good, I will recommend them all the rest of my life."

NEW YORK LETTER.

Weather Conditions Similar to Nova Scotia's.

COST $300,000 TO CLEAR THE STREETS OF NEW YORK—MANY HAVE GONE TO THE WEST INDIES AND PANAMA TO ESCAPE THE COLD.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR: Whilst the good people of Digby and vicinity have been of late experiencing extremely severe weather, with us weather conditions have not been any better. From the middle of last week up to this date, very wintry weather has prevailed with a snowfall of unusual proportions. It is estimated that the cost of clearing the streets of New York city will exceed $300,000 and under most favorable conditions, occupy ten or twelve days. Like many other evils in this world, good comes out of it as it will furnish work for the large number of unemployed. Nothing is more dreaded than a big snow storm in a great city. Very many who can afford the trip are going to the West Indies and Panama to escape the cold weather and at the same time get a view of the great canal. The Pastors on her last trip took one of Gotham's multimillionaires and a party of his friends, six in all, paying for five rooms $2500.00 exclusive of fares, etc. Before sailing Mr. Cheesborough, who heads the party, said he had a bad cold and thought a trip south would be the surest remedy for it. I might suggest to any of your readers who are similarly afflicted and may be contemplating employing the same remedy that there are cheaper means of getting relief from a malady of this kind.

Col. Goethals, who has charge of the construction of the Panama Canal, will arrive in New York this week. During his stay he is to be presented with a medal for his distinguished services. Mayor Mitchell has secured his acceptance of the position of Police Commissioner of New York, provided legislation is procured giving him unrestricted authority over the police force. No doubt if this can be brought about the big city will have the most efficient police service it ever had. Strange to say this policy of the Mayor's is meeting considerable opposition in influential quarters and delegations are off for Albany to obstruct it if possible. The second trial of Hans Schmidt, who murdered Annie Aumuller in September last and afterward dismembered the remains and after putting it in parcels dropped it at different times in the Hudson River, terminated in his conviction last week. He has since been sentenced to death, March 23rd, and removed to Sing Sing to await the event. An appeal has been taken and this will stay the execution until disposed of. Your correspondent visited the Supreme Court one day to see the accused party and to hear some of the evidence. That session was taken up by alienists, who were making a strong move to make it appear that he was insane. His appearance is that of a crafty, deceitful fellow ready to resort to any lie or deception that would help his case. As he had never had a hair cut or shave since his arrest his appearance had greatly changed. The general makes up of a court here differs very materially from one in Canada. The prisoner sits in a seat near his counsel, lawyers dispense with gowns and the judge sits on the bench clad in an ordinary business suit with nothing on to distinguish him from the chairman of a public meeting.

The committee on harbor improvements at Washington have appropriated $13,000,000 for improving navigation in New York harbor. Obstructions will be cleared away and the channel deepened to meet the requirements of the big ships now on the regular routes from the port.

An enquiry has been going on for some time in connection with the various public services in the state of New York in which District Attorney Whitman plays an important part. Several public men have been sentenced to the state prison for corrupt practices and this week the State Treasurer committed suicide rather than face the investigation. The work is still going on and it is safe to assume that before it closes, many more in high official positions and representing much wealth will be behind prison bars.

The great Catskill Aqueduct running from the foot of the Catskill Mountains to Brooklyn, a distance of over 17 miles, is nearly completed. It will cost over $170,000,000 and is the biggest thing of the kind in the world. To cross the Hudson it went 1,000 feet below the bed of the river.

In an address delivered at a banquet in the Waldorf Astoria the Collector of the Port D. D. Malone, said the revenue of New York for one year exceeded $209,000,000 and the post-natal statement that last year's postal receipts exceeded $30,000,000. These figures give some idea of the enormous resources of the city and the great volume of business done.

The great Art collections of the late Benj. Altman and J. P. Morgan have been placed in the Metropolitan Museum of Art, Central Park East, and are now open to the public. As the combined value of these wonderful works of art reaches the sum of over twenty-five millions of dollars the privilege of inspecting these is surely a great one.

The great motor boat show in Madison Square Garden the first week in this month was on a grand scale. Some magnificent boats of all sizes and all forms of machinery used in equipping them, were displayed. I found a visit a most enjoyable occasion. Business conditions are materially improving, stocks advancing, mills increasing their output, orders coming in more freely and a general optimistic feeling is apparent.

Already preparations are being made for the fall elections and as the Governorship of New York state is to be tested, some political skill will be brought into requisition from now until the end. It is generally supposed that the present Governor Glynn will aspire to the democratic nomination and the republican party favor Whitman, the present district attorney of New York City. Amongst the progressives, Teddy Roosevelt is strongly talked of and notwithstanding his spectacular career he would no doubt pull a large vote.

Parson me for trespassing upon so much of your space.

Very sincerely,

Feb. 18, 1914.

Fairville, Sept. 30, 1902.

No Boat From Yarmouth.

S. S. BOSTON WITHDRAWN FROM THE ROUTE, ON ACCOUNT OF ICE IN YARMOUTH HARBOR.

Mr. A. E. Williams, Yarmouth agent of the Boston S. S. Co., received a telegram Monday, announcing the withdrawal of the stmr. Boston from the Boston-Yarmouth service. It is not known how long the service will be discontinued. It was at first reported that the Boston would be put on the direct route between Boston and Digby for the remainder of the winter, or until Yarmouth harbor becomes open for navigation. The ship, however, went into dry dock in Boston last Tuesday morning. In the meantime passengers and freight are passing through Digby, going to Boston via St. John. The Yarmouth people are very much worried in reference to losing their direct boat between that port and Boston.

Yesterday's Yarmouth Herald says: This is a most serious matter and one which will not long be tolerated. It is the first time since February, 1887, that there has been no steamship service between this port and Boston. The Yarmouth was withdrawn during February for overhauling and repairs, and her place was taken by the Dominion. The latter being a wooden steamer, with low power, became frozen in and could not break her way out. She was finally sawed out about the first of March, and continued on the route until the Yarmouth relieved her.

The withdrawal of the steamship service between this port and Boston, even for one trip, is regretted not only by every class of our citizens, but by those of the western portion of the Province. It will severely handicap the traffic, and entail a heavy loss upon the lobster fishermen and shippers of fresh fish, while the interruption of the passenger traffic will cause much inconvenience and loss.

Representations by telegram have been sent to the officials in Halifax and Ottawa by officials in Yarmouth, asking that a Government steamer be sent here to break up the ice and clear the channel, but up to yesterday morning nothing was done, until the situation became desperate and the wires were kept hot, when it was officially stated that the steamer Stanley would be sent here at once to break up the ice on the bay, but wireless messages were at once sent urging her immediate dispatch.

Murray has been appointed Assistant Superintendent of the hospital. Dr. Hattie will be in Digby Monday evening.

Predicted A Frost For His Home Port.

Yesterday's Yarmouth Times says: It would seem that Bowman B. Law, M. P., is getting to be a strong rival of old man Hicks. Who would have thought, he was far enough south to see the suspension of the Boston-Yarmouth service when he is located here?

Hockey at Victoria Park.

DIGBY DEFEATED THE WESTPORT HOCKEY TEAM OF HERVEY TUESDAY NIGHT.

It was regretted that more were not present at the best hockey match of the season, which took place in Victoria Park Tuesday evening. It was a clean game throughout and the visitors were as nice a lot of fellows as ever shot the puck in our local rink and soon became general favorites for their honest playing.

The Digby boys are improving at every game and deserve a lot of praise for the way they handled themselves last Tuesday night.

The line up was as follows:
Westport: F. Plank, G. F. I. Anderson, J. Grace, G. R. Baker, J. Skinner, J. W. Merkel, E. Bennett, R. W. G. Merkel, G. Sanner, I. W. H. Syde, J. Robinson, W. F. McPherson.
Referee: W. J. Cahoon, Digby; C. Crocker, Westport.

Attendance 197.
The game started at 8 o'clock and it was soon learned that Digby was up against a good team.

In the first period Skinner made the first score, Bennett made 2 and Robinson 1.

In the meantime Digby was doing some good playing, Smith scoring 2 and J. Merkel 1. The period thus closed with a score of 4 to 3 in favor of the visitors.

The second period was now commenced with keen interest. Goal keeper Anderson, of Digby, played a great game, was continually on his job and prevented the visitors from making a score. Digby, however, obtained 2, J. Merkel and Smith 1 each. Score now standing 4 to 5 in favor of Digby.

The third period was an exciting one. H. Dakin led by Gerald Syde who played point. Both teams succeeded in scoring 1 each, made by Robinson of Westport, and Smith, of Digby. This made the total 6 to 5 in favor of the home team.

Our boys were loudly cheered by the visitors who took their defeat like true sportsmen. The best of feeling exists between the two clubs and we trust that a return match can be arranged.

Next Monday night the Canning boys, who are members of the same league as Westport, and who have already defeated the latter, will play our boys in Digby which should prove an excellent test match. We trust that Victoria Park will be filled with spectators.

Westport beat Annapolis 7 to 6 Wednesday evening on the Annapolis rink.

Death of Mrs. Archibald's Mother.

Wednesday's St. John Times said: News, and unexpected, came to the home of Rev. A. J. Archibald, pastor of the Charlotte street Baptist church, West End, in a telegram from Chester, N. B., announcing the death of Mrs. Archibald's mother, Mrs. Lucinda Oxner, there. As there had been no word that she had been ill, and as no particulars were contained in the telegram, it is believed that her death was sudden. Mrs. Oxner was about seventy years of age, and is survived by six children. Not only in West St. John, but throughout the city there will be deep sympathy for Mrs. Archibald in her great loss. She and her husband left for Chester on the Halifax train today and expect to return on Saturday.

Boston Has a Fish Famine.

According to the Boston Herald prospects of a fish famine loom at St. John with the Lenten season in sight. Schooners are not making their "salt," according to the fishermen. Since February opened, gales have seriously interfered with operations of the off-shore fleet and shore craft have had too much dodging into harbor to fill their holds with paying fares.

Cod and haddock are soaring into the trout class with continuance of heavy weather—at least, prices paid by wholesalers at the fish pier stamp the common variety of sea food as a luxury. The freezers have been called on to help out till storage concerns complain that the stock is dwindling rapidly.

From one schooner comes the report that several of the crew paid for doctors' services practically their entire earnings for a ten days' experience at sea that ended with pneumonia.

Glamorous complaints that the cod snags have covered flats with ice so as to put a stop to digging. The ice appears well the note of discontent with complaint that the cod holes are frozen up and the mud won't yield to jabbing.

Lobstermen ruefully collect remnants of traps from the beaches and vow they will do no more baiting till the weather gets settled. Thousands of dollars in gear has been destroyed within the past two days and valuable power dories owned by fishermen have been wrecked.

Rev. H. L. Kinman, pastor of the First United Baptist church, Digby Neck, will give a lecture in the Union Hall, Barton, Digby Co., on Tuesday, March 3rd, at 7:30 p. m. SHIPPING AND FISHING

D. Sproule & Co.'s shipments this week: 50 boxes finnan haddies.

Schr. Cora Gerlie, Capt. M. G. Crocker, sailed from Digby Monday for Freeport. Joseph E. Snow's shipments this week: 515 boxes of finnan haddies and 75 boxes of fillette.

A telephone message from Shelburne says the harbor is frozen to Sand Point, a distance of nine miles.

Steamer Bear River is still fast in the ice in the river, but is now considered out of danger as all the freight has been discharged.

February, 1914, will go down in history as the roughest month for fishing on the coast of Nova Scotia, for more than a quarter of a century.

It is reported that the steamer Granville is after an increased federal subsidy for the service between St. John and Annapolis River ports.

The schooner Haines Brothers, of Tyngsboro, will have a new name, Snow Mail, on, permission having been obtained from the marine department, to make the change.

Owing to rough weather, the Digby branch of the Maritime Fish Corporation, reports no fish receipts this week. The first time this has happened in the history of the firm.

The three-masted schooner Catherine, Capt. Wilkie, is at the government pier ready to sail for Glenfuegos with 280,000 ft. of lumber, shipped by Clarke Bros. and the Bloomfield Lumber Co.

Fourteen lifeboat men were drowned when they went out from Portland to rescue the crew of the Norwegian barque Mexico, driven on the rocks near the Saltes Islands, Westford, Friday night.

The gasoline ferry boat, Port Wade, Capt. Edward Keane, was slightly damaged by fire, while lying at Turnbull's wharf Monday night. The flames were extinguished and the boat proceeded on her regular trip.

The captain and crew of the steamer Westport have expressed their hearty thanks to the Mayor and Commissioners of St. John, N. B., for their recognition of the efforts in connection with the rescue of those on board the wrecked steamer Cobeguid.

Capt. Charles McBride, of Waterville, has gone to Mobile to take command of the Annapolis sch. Georgina Keop.

The Georges River is now bound from St. John for Mobile. On the outward passage Capt. Pitman, of Annapolis, was lost overboard.

Owing to the scarcity of fish the finnan haddie shipments are averaging only two hundred boxes a day. The Digby fleet is all on the banks, and when they return local shippers will be able to fill the orders now rushing in from the upper provinces for the Lenten season.

Friday's Yarmouth Times: The first fare of fish which has arrived in port in almost two weeks came in today on the Albert J. Lutz, from Brown's Bank.

The Morning Star also arrived today but has no fish. The Squanto towed to sea this afternoon after being tied up here for ten days by heavy weather.

Schr. Herald, Capt. Ingles, ashore and surrounded by ice in St. Mary's Bay, was floated and got into Weymouth River without assistance, but has been unable to reach a wharf, owing to the ice in the river.

The sch. Susan H. Davis, from Weymouth, with pulp for New York, which was also caught in the St. Mary's Bay ice, got away a few days ago under her own sail.

Yarmouth's fishing news from Tuesday's Times: The schooner Albert J. Lutz sold her fare of 25,000 pounds of mixed fish to the Consumer's Company, on Saturday. She discharged in the sound to the towboats Freddie V. and Wanda which brought the fish to the wharf.

There was a rumor yesterday that the schooner Morning Star had been dragged ashore in the Sound by the ice on Sunday, but as she has since sailed for the grounds it is likely the rumor was unfounded. The American fishing sch. Lillian, Captain Chester Morrissey, entered inwards yesterday hauling for 18,000 lbs mixed fish.

Fears are expressed for the safety of two Nova Scotia sailing vessels, now long overdue at the ports for which they sailed. The sch. Unity, which sailed on Jan. 20th, from New London for Halifax, a passage of four days or less, in now four weeks out. She has not yet been reported. While it is thought that she may have put into port along the coast, H. D. Mackenzie & Son, to whom her cargo is consigned, have received no word of this. The Unity is a vessel of 298 tons, carries a crew of eight and is commanded by Capt. McLennan.

The other vessel which is long overdue is the 90 ton schooner, Oregon, which sailed from Shelburne Jan. 8th, with a cargo of lumber for Barbados and was not yet reported. She is now forty five days out from Shelburne. The Oregon is commanded by Capt. Eckenbauer and is owned by Rheinhardt Bros. of L'Anse-au-Loup.

The Unity is owned at L'Anse-au-Loup.

She was attended by her sister Edna V. as bridesmaid, while Lloyd Bruce did honors for the groom. Her going away suit was of tan broadcloth with hat to match.

The ceremony was followed by a delicate collation, Mr. and Mrs. Fraser leaving later in the evening amid showers of rice for their new home in Granville Centre.

We join in wishing them many years of happiness and prosperity.

The Steamer Boston

SHIP HAS HAD VERY ROUGH WEATHER DURING THE WINTER MONTHS.

(Yarmouth Times)

The steamer Boston, which left Boston at 1 o'clock on Friday did not arrive here until 12:50 Saturday noon, having again been delayed by a heavy north-east gale and thick snow storm.

She brought 80 passengers, Captain A. W. McKinnon, of the steamer Prince George, which is now in Boston undergoing a cleaning and painting preparatory to being put into service between Boston and Yarmouth, was a passenger by the Boston and on arrival here assumed command of the ship, relieving Captain Simms who has been granted a short vacation after upwards of sixteen months continuous work.

Capt. Simms on Saturday told the Times that in all his twenty-seven years' experience on the route between Yarmouth and Boston this winter has broken all previous records for bad weather. Going through his log book from the first of January it is almost impossible to find a trip either going or coming, that was free of more or less violence but not one encountered.

"The last three or four weeks," said the general captain, has been worse than ever, for the ship has been held in port to avoid bad weather, and when she did get away would run into weather even worse than that which she held for—and last night was no exception.

After reaching the harbor on Saturday much difficulty was experienced in getting the ship docked, owing to the thick ice. She brought in a full cargo and did not sail to return until Sunday morning when she got away at 8:30 with 18 passengers, arriving in Boston at 8:30 Monday morning.

What Tommy Did To Save His Father.

Tommy Wilson was the son of an Edinburgh postman. His mother was dead and his only sister had gone to service. Tommy was not strong, and could not therefore run about the streets and amuse himself like many boys of his age. His father was much of the time from home, and to Tommy the days seemed often long and dreary. Then his father was found of drink, so that beside the long, lonely days, Tommy's father was often sooty, and his father, when under the influence of drink, was often unkind to him.

Tommy's littlebed-tod in a recess in the wall, and before it hung a faded, tattered curtain. As his father frequently came home late, Tommy often crept into his bed as soon as it began to grow dark. One night his father came home later than usual, and after he had closed and bolted the door stood quite still a moment, and then said, "Are you asleep, Tommy?" Tommy made no answer, for he feared that his father had been drinking. "Are you awake?" asked his father again, and again there was no answer. Then the father took from his pocket a letter, and dexterously squeezed out a sovereign without breaking the cover. He then held the piece of gold to the light and turned it over and over again. In doing so, it slipped from his hand and rolled across the floor. The father started, looked toward the bed, and then in a low voice called out, "Are you awake, Tommy?" Receiving no answer, he crept softly over the floor, picked up the piece of gold, and thrust it into his pocket. Then taking the letter, he was about to throw it into the grate, but, seeing that the fire had gone out, crumpled it in his hands and placed it under a brick which he found in one corner of the room. Then putting out the light he lay down to sleep.

But poor Tommy could not sleep. He lay in his little bed thinking of all that he had seen. He knew that his father had taken what did not belong to him, and he knew, too, that if he was found out he would be punished. He lay quite still thinking of this, and wondering what he could do to save his father.

In the morning as soon as his father had gone out, the boy dressed himself and made his way as well as he could to a house in another part of the city where an aunt lived at service.

"I want a sovereign," he said to her, as soon as he had found her.

"You want a sovereign?" exclaimed his aunt. "I shall not give it to you. Your father wants it for drink, I know, and he shall not get it from me."

Tommy felt that he must not betray his father, and finding that he could not get from his aunt the sovereign, as he had hoped, went out again into the street, wondering what he could do next.

As he walked along he saw a gentleman approaching him, holding his watch in his hand. If I could only get that watch, thought poor Tommy, I could exchange it for a sovereign, and darting forward he snatched the watch and then ran with all his might, for he heard behind him the cry of "stop thief!" He rushed into a hiding place, and when his pursuers had passed out of sight, came forth, and threading his way as cautiously as he could to a pawnbroker's shop, offered the watch for sale.

"What do you want for it?" asked the man.

"A sovereign," answered the boy eagerly.

"I will give you half a sovereign," was answered.

"No, no I must have a sovereign," said the boy.

It was given him, and the watch passed into the hands of the pawnbroker.

As fast as he could travel, Tommy made his way to his own house, took the letter from its hiding place, pressed it out as well as he could, slipped into the sovereign, and then carried it to the person whose address was upon the cover.

He was just returning from this errand when he was startled by a voice near him crying out "Stop thief! that is the boy who stole my watch!"

Quickly as his tired limbs could carry him, Tommy hastened forward, a policeman in pursuit. To escape him, Tommy rushed across the street, in his flight not noticing a cab which was approaching, driven at a rapid rate. Too late Tommy saw his danger. He fell and the cab passed over him crushing his limbs. He was carried to a hospital, where he lingered a short time in great suffering and then died. Before his death, in a feeble voice and with hands and eyes lifted to Heaven, he said, "Jesus, forgive me. I did it to save my father."

I cannot tell you what became of Tommy's father, but I think his heart must have been almost broken to know that his bad conduct had caused the death of his child.

How thankful you ought to be, dear children, because you have pleasant homes and kind, loving parents; and how full of pity your hearts should be for those who are not so blessed!

OTHERS JUST LIKE HUBBY.

Not in a Class by Himself, According to Wife's Dream.

When Jenkins finally managed to wake up he found his wife weeping uncontrollably. "My darling," he exclaimed, "what in the world is the matter?" "Oh, I've had such a dream!" she said.

Jenkins begged her to tell it to him, and finally she consented to say this much:

"I thought I was walking down the street and came to a shop where it said, 'Husbands for sale.' You could get beautiful ones for $5,000 and very nice looking ones for even as little as $500."

"And were there any that looked like me?" asked Jenkins, not altogether lugubriously.

The sales became suddenly violent. "Dozens of them!" gasped Mrs. Jenkins. "Done up in bunches like asparagus and marked 25 cents a bunch."—New York Post.

A Fatal Compliment.

This one is told of a very young married woman. When her very young husband came home for dinner he found her flushed, but very triumphant. When they were seated at the table she could hardly wait to say:

"How do you like your meat, dear? Don't you think I have begun pretty well as a cook?"

And he answered: "Yes, darling. If there's anything in the old saying that 'well begun is half done' you have certainly begun well on this steak."

It started their first quarrel. —Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Responsive at Last.

"Well," sadly sighs the young man, "there is nothing left for me but to try to forget. I shall enlist in the army and go to Mexico."

"How splendid!" she exclaims. "And do this for me, Harold," she puts, while his eyes begin to regain their gleam of interest—"when you get to Mexico find out how they do that Mexican dance work and send me the directions."—Judge.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR,—I have read with no small degree of interest the pros and cons of your different correspondents to moose, deer, caribou, salmon trout and various other animals and fish, but the proverbial straw that broke the camel's back was put to shame in Mr. A. Brown's last letter in your Courier when he tells your readers the Walrus gave him a tip to talk of other things. If Dr. Breck, H. A. P. Smith, or Major Daley permits this to go by without comment it will have to be conceded, Mr. B. has the wonder of the age, and that Mr. B. pips, our energetic show man, is a little slow.

We presume, of course, the Walrus meant that Mr. B. should give the town's assessment roll a rest, that he and the other assessors have been trying to bolster up as fair and just. The best answer to this is there are over thirty appeals from the present assessment which include three-fourths of the largest business firms of our town and the very best that can be said about it is that it is out of order and incomplete. I am pleased to learn, however, that Mr. B. sees his mistake and the timely hint of his Walrus friend, who I understand enjoys the distinction of drifting with the strong current. I regret, however, that Mr. B. should attempt to retrieve himself in the crude and unkind manner he has by attacking Mr. Vye, our Street Commissioner, for whom every citizen has respect as a man amongst men. To get down to cases, as he puts it, and just so, the writer will not be misunderstood. He does not mean cases marked for personal use, he means cases of economy. Just what the tax payers of our town are demanding and are going to have. He calls to mind the fact that a town equally as large as Digby for some years. I presume he means Wolfville, where no doubt he will refer the Mayor and Council, should they consider his application to do our street work for one thousand dollars per year, but qualifies his offer by saying "under certain conditions." There is no doubt there are times in the lives of the best of us when we feel we could level Mr. Beaman with a single blow of the hammer. He also tells your readers that time and space forbids him telling them of a great many other cases of waste. Can they believe Mr. B. is sincere when we have but to look back but a few weeks to find him and his friends doing everything possible to elect some of the very men who have caused the town to feel we could level Mr. Beaman with a single blow of the hammer. He also tells your readers that time and space forbids him telling them of a great many other cases of waste. Can they believe Mr. B. is sincere when we have but to look back but a few weeks to find him and his friends doing everything possible to elect some of the very men who have caused the town to feel we could level Mr. Beaman with a single blow of the hammer.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your time and space.

W. S. THORP.

To the Editor of the Courier:

Sir:—At the present time the fight in the U. S. senate for free tolls of American boats to pass through the canal is occupying the attention of the world at large.

When you hear or read the able speeches for free tolls, they seem fair and reasonable and when you hear those against it, they seem equally good.

However, I think that if the U. S. senate would look at the canal investment as a business which should pay its own expenses, the canal would do, they should make each vessel passing pay.

As far as the greater proportion of vessels going through the canal, will be American coast wise vessels, it would be unbusiness like to exempt them and prevent the U. S. from earning interest on the $100,000,000 investment which they have "in trust" from the people.

It has been found already that the Panama Canal has not been built large enough and it may take $200,000,000 more to complete the work in the near future.

The enlarged German Canal at Kiel, has proven that cost to be true.

TORTURED WITH RHEUMATISM

Could Not Walk, Until "Fruit-a-lives" Completely Cured Him

CHATHAM, ONT., April 3rd, 1913.

"I am a veteran of the Crimean War and the Indian Mutiny, volunteering from the Royal Artillery into the Royal Engineers, and served under Lord Roberts during the Indian Mutiny, and am a pensioner of the British Government. Piece hard-to-hand fighting and constant exposure, left me a great sufferer from Rheumatism, so much so that my legs swelled up, making it impossible for me to walk. My bowels were so constipated that I only had one passage a week until I got to using 'Fruit-a-lives'. They cured me of both the Rheumatism and Constipation. In my regular employment, I walk thirty miles a day and enjoy perfect health. No more Rheumatism or Constipation. You are at perfect liberty to publish this letter if it will be advantageous to 'Fruit-a-lives'."

This New Medicine Saves You Money

We are druggists right here in your town and make a living out of the drug business, but it is because people have to have drugs and not because we like to see people suffer—we don't. Our duty is to render the best service we can, and when someone is ailing, we are interested in seeing them take the best medicine there is for their particular trouble. We don't recommend "cures all," as we don't believe there are such things. We don't want you to spend more than you have to. Some of you get small wages, and when you're sick, and you should get the most you can for your money.

We recently came across a new remedy for increasing strength and building up people who are run-down and emaciated. We know that a slight trouble sometimes grows into a serious one, and to stop it in the beginning, will save you money in the end. This new compound is called ROLLER OIL Emulsion. It is the best remedy, when you are run-down, tired out, nervous—no matter what the cause. It doesn't merely stimulate you and make you feel good for a few hours, but takes hold of the weakness and builds you up to a healthy, normal condition. It is a real nerve food tonic and builder of good blood, strong muscle, good digestion. It contains hypophosphites, which tone the nerves, and pure Olive Oil, which nourishes the nerves, the blood and the entire system. Pleasant to take. Contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. We promise that if you are not perfectly satisfied with it, we'll give back your money as soon as you tell us. Sold only at the 7,000 Retail Stores, and in this town only by us. $1.00. P. W. Holds worth.

HAVE PRETTY HAIR

Thick, Soft, Fluffy, and no Dandruff—Use Parisian Sage

It your hair is losing its natural color, coming out and splitting, or lacks that enviable softness, gloss and beauty, do not despair—pretty hair is largely a matter of care. Is it too thin? Is it too dry? Is it harsh and brittle, often it up—lubricate it. If you have dandruff it is because the scalp is too dry and flakes off. Freshen up the scalp with Parisian Sage—All dandruff disappears, falling hair and itching head cease, your hair is doubly beautiful.

Parisian Sage, sold by H. E. Jones and at all drug counters, is just what you need—a large bottle costs 50 cents. It surely makes the hair lustrous and seems twice as abundant. You cannot be disappointed in Parisian Sage.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girl! Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a 25-cent bottle of Dandruff.

If you care for heavy hair that glitters with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Dandruff. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have too heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scourge robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandruff from any drug store and just try it.

WOMAN IN TERRIBLE STATE

Finds Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cape Wolfe, Canada.—"Last March I was a complete wreck. I had given up all hope of getting better or living any length of time, as I was such a sufferer from female troubles. But I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am in good health and have a pair of twin boys two months old and growing finely. I surprised doctors and neighbors for they all know what a wreck I was.

"Now I am healthy, happy and hearty, and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies. You may publish this letter if you like. I think if more women used your remedies they would have better health."—Mrs. J. T. Cook, Lot No. 7, Cape Wolfe, P.E.I., Canada.

"Because your case is a difficult one, and doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has remedied many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and it may be exactly what you need.

"The Pinkham record is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of women—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?"

A Tribune to H. Price Webber.

Kennebec Journal, Feb. 12: The extraordinary demand for tickets for the Armistage Club entertainment, to be given the evening of Feb. 19, at the Parish House, springs not alone from public interest in the work of that organization, but from the fact, also, that it gives our people an opportunity to see Mr. and Mrs. Webber in their own home.

Price, as he is known by everybody, is a really unique figure in the theatrical world. He is not only a star comedian, but he is the Dean of his profession, having been in active service as manager actor longer than any man in this country. Having just closed a very successful season, he has been before the public for 39 consecutive years, staging something like 300 performances a year and being himself, "on the bill" every day. It is a record without any parallel, we think, in the history of the American stage. And it is not only a test of his judgment to his skill, but what a story it tells of courage and of health, or right thinking and of clean living. We take off our hat to Price Webber, he has made life a success. And whatever tribute may be paid to him applies with equal force to Mrs. Webber. For during their entire married life she has been his leading lady, taking part in every performance, and by her fine character giving ample evidence that the stage is not devoid of true womanhood. All hail to them both and may they long live to enjoy the reward of real merit!

Our party consisted of five Boy Scouts, of which one was my son, Charles, one Scout Commissioner, one Scout Master and another married couple beside Mrs. Chas and me; a total of eleven.

We left New York on the 8. 8 "Caribbean" sailing 1 a. m., Tuesday, December 19th. Before I forget it let me commend this boat as a very comfortable and able vessel. It has only been on this run since September. Formerly under the name of "Dunnotter Castle" it used to run from Queens town to Cape Town and frequently carried Lord Roberts who always preferred this vessel.

After an uneventful trip we anchored off Hamilton Friday morning and landed via a lighter, as owing to the narrow, tortuous channel and the fact that the "Caribbean" has but a single screw she is not able to make her way in safety all the way to the dock.

Of course, you know that the Islands are wholly of coral formation. The soil is redish and varies in depth from a few inches to not over three feet.

With very few exceptions all of the houses and buildings of all kinds are built of the coral rock. This rock before exposure to the air is quite soft and almost pure white. To quarry it a long handled chisel is used to make a hole just large enough to insert a saw very much like that which is used in harvesting ice. The rock is sawed into blocks of the desired size and is then piled up to age which hardens the rock so that it can be handled very well. During building operations if a block is too large for any particular space it is sawed to fit just like a piece of lumber. The walls, partitions and even roofs are all made of these blocks laid up with cement mortar in the ordinary way. The roofing blocks are about two inches thick and overlap very much as slate or shingles do.

After the building is completed it is painted all over with a white cement wash which renders the building moistureproof. It may be of interest to you to know that this cement wash, about the consistency of milk, is not applied the day it is made but is permitted to age about twenty-four hours, as the claim is made that it sticks very much better than if applied fresh.

It is extremely novel and picturesque to look upon a town with practically every building of dazzling whiteness. The effect is certainly unique. One must see it in order to properly appreciate it.

After passing the customs we were carried in a barge to our destination, St. George's, at the opposite end of the Islands, and about twelve miles distant.

The horses all over the Islands are remarkable for their fine condition and for the way in which they can cover the ground. They trot almost every step of the way up hill and down dale. We were told that the government keeps a sharp eye on the horses and is very severe with owners who permit the condition of their horses to run down.

The roads are perfect and are built of crushed coral rock which packs down smooth almost like cement, the exception being that the coral roads have much more resilience than cement.

We reached St. George's and put up at the block house located on the City Square. This house is very old and unique in the fact that the floor levels vary most unexpectedly so that one has to use a care that he does not measure his length at every turn.

There are no wells on the Islands as a few feet below the surface such water as is reached is brackish. They depend wholly upon rains for their water and every drop is carefully collected and saved.

The elaters instead of being below the ground as is customary in this country are located above the ground. They are large and rectangular in shape, have curved roofs and are built entirely of coral rock.

The government has built large sheds of coral rock to collect water for the garrigues.

Those of us who expected to find difficulty in drinking were very agreeably disappointed. It was as clear as crystal and as tasteless as any water we ever drank. The lime in the cement wash helps to keep it sweet.

During months of drought in order to keep the water from spoiling those in charge stir up the water in the elaters with long handled dippers so as to aerate it.

There are no water works. Each house or group of houses pump as needed from individual elaters.

The foliage all over the Islands is quite varied. There is not the dense growth that one would expect to see in a semi-tropical climate. The principal trees are cedar. Growing amongst them are several varieties of palms. In the gardens are guavas, paw paw, bananas, etc. The bananas are all consumed by the natives. They are very sweet and the flavor better I think than that of the varieties we get at home.

The public and private gardens contain wonderful collections of semi-tropical trees and shrubs.

TRIP TO BERMUDA

Some of Digby's Summer Tourists Enjoy a Winter Cruise.

A DESCRIPTION OF THE TOWNS AND THEIR BUILDINGS—ENTERTAINED BY A FORMER FREEMONT GENTLEMAN NOW A RESIDENT OF ST. GEORGE'S—A PARTIAL LINK CONTINGENT BETWEEN THE ISLAND AND NEW YORK.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR,—Having returned from a most delightful visit to Bermuda I thought possibly you and other members of the Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club and friends might like to have an account of it.

Our party consisted of five Boy Scouts, of which one was my son, Charles, one Scout Commissioner, one Scout Master and another married couple beside Mrs. Chas and me; a total of eleven.

We left New York on the 8. 8 "Caribbean" sailing 1 a. m., Tuesday, December 19th. Before I forget it let me commend this boat as a very comfortable and able vessel. It has only been on this run since September. Formerly under the name of "Dunnotter Castle" it used to run from Queens town to Cape Town and frequently carried Lord Roberts who always preferred this vessel.

After an uneventful trip we anchored off Hamilton Friday morning and landed via a lighter, as owing to the narrow, tortuous channel and the fact that the "Caribbean" has but a single screw she is not able to make her way in safety all the way to the dock.

Of course, you know that the Islands are wholly of coral formation. The soil is redish and varies in depth from a few inches to not over three feet.

With very few exceptions all of the houses and buildings of all kinds are built of the coral rock. This rock before exposure to the air is quite soft and almost pure white. To quarry it a long handled chisel is used to make a hole just large enough to insert a saw very much like that which is used in harvesting ice. The rock is sawed into blocks of the desired size and is then piled up to age which hardens the rock so that it can be handled very well. During building operations if a block is too large for any particular space it is sawed to fit just like a piece of lumber. The walls, partitions and even roofs are all made of these blocks laid up with cement mortar in the ordinary way. The roofing blocks are about two inches thick and overlap very much as slate or shingles do.

After the building is completed it is painted all over with a white cement wash which renders the building moistureproof. It may be of interest to you to know that this cement wash, about the consistency of milk, is not applied the day it is made but is permitted to age about twenty-four hours, as the claim is made that it sticks very much better than if applied fresh.

It is extremely novel and picturesque to look upon a town with practically every building of dazzling whiteness. The effect is certainly unique. One must see it in order to properly appreciate it.

The public and private gardens contain wonderful collections of semi-tropical trees and shrubs.

St. George's is the oldest town and originally the capital of the Islands. Most of the streets are quite narrow and the houses and stores arranged in a way which in spite of considerable irregularity never offend the eye.

The style of architecture is quite uniform and should be maintained in order to preserve the picturesqueness of the Islands. There are in a few instances houses built of coral rock having lines of modern frame buildings. They are an eye sore and the building of such should be stopped.

The population is very largely negro. They do not have the flat nose and thick lips of the African. In general their features are good and their speech very English and on the whole show in general a culture which is not seen in the negroes of this country.

A good deal of the business is conducted by the negroes. Many of them are light in color and all make a good type of citizens in spite of the fact that many are very poor.

We presented our letter of introduction to Wm. E. Meyer, Commodore of the St. George's Yacht Club, who afterwards called upon us and showed us around through his own and his mother's beautiful places.

Before the St. David's Island Light house was built wrecks on the Island were a good deal more frequent than now. In the old days there was a large business in repairing wrecked vessels and refitting those who were driven into the harbor in a dismantled condition.

It is the custom now by means of the cable to notify owners of such vessels who tow them away to be refitted at the home port.

In the harbor of St. George's are a half dozen redolents, the hulls of which are used for storing coal. This harbor is one of the finest in the world.

The government is now cutting a straight channel to the sea. When that is completed a company promises to establish a line to New York which will make the trip with but one night at sea.

The coral reefs surrounding the Islands make it unsafe to undertake to enter the Hamilton harbor except in daylight. All vessels for either harbor are obliged to approach the Islands from the eastern end where St. George's is located, and work along the northern shore to the opposite end where Hamilton is located.

Certainly no party could have been treated more royally than was ours by the good people of St. George's. The acting mayor, Albert Inglis, Esq., called upon us a number of times and attended several functions to which we were invited. The ex mayor, Joseph Ming Haywood, Esq., now seventy eight years old, entertained us at his own home. He is a most interesting gentleman and has done a great deal for the Islands. It was largely due to his efforts that the St. David's Lighthouse was built. His wife lighted the light for the first time. He is also overjoyed at the building of the new ship channel, to secure the accomplishment of which he has worked for so many years.

He showed us King George's signature which was signed in 1891 when he visited the Islands as Prince of Wales. He also showed us Lady Brassy's signature signed when she visited the Islands December 25th, 1883.

One of Mr. Haywood's sons is now city editor of the New York Evening Post. Another is connected with a well known commission firm of this city.

Col. Salter Willett, C. R. E., with his charming wife entertained our party at his own home.

You will be interested to learn that Capt. W. D. Lant, of Freeport, N. S., is now one of the leading citizens of St. George's. He settled there in 1901, married a resident and now runs one of the stores. His home is one of the oldest and most delightfully situated places in St. George's. Our party was entertained there at an afternoon tea at which all of the leading citizens with their families were in attendance.

For Christmas in addition to turkey and other "fixins" we had cassava pie. No Christmas dinner at Bermuda is complete without one. The cassava root is treated to extract the sap which is poisonous and after drying is ground and used as flour. Pork, beef and chicken form the body of the pie. We understood that the pies while made at home, were baked at the public bakery.

Capt. Chas. Christensen, who owns two small steamers, the "Daisy" and "Consort," which are used for towing and ferrying purposes, showed us through the Masonic Lodge rooms. They are very old and in them are China plates, platters, silverware and regalia of very ancient times.

Mr. R. R. Swainson, who has charge of the public garden, was extremely kind. The day we left he presented the ladies of the party with some cuttings which they hope to raise.

One of the things that showed how considerate the good people of St. George's are was shown in the order prohibiting the blowing of whistles at the dock, because it would frighten the horses and might cause injury to someone.

Chimneys are used only for cooking and commercial purposes as it is seldom a fire is needed for warmth. There are no chimneys on the stores.

There is practically no manufacturing done on the Islands. A couple of machine shops and a bottling works were the only industries we saw at St. George's.

Our trip to Crystal Cave was extremely interesting. The entrance to the cave was discovered by a couple of youngsters who in spite of the fact that they were obliged to lower themselves by means of a rope, did so and then constructed a raft on which they poled themselves around. The entrance has been enlarged and cement steps make it comparatively easy to go down. The lake covering the whole bottom of the cave is, of course, salt water largely charged with lime.

Lime water is constantly dripping from the stalactites which hang in a great variety of fantastic shapes from the entire roof. Pontoon bridges enable visitors to reach the uttermost parts of the cave. The electric lights are arranged so as to produce very beautiful effects. The stalagmites in some cases make a union with the stalactites.

In the Devil's Hole, another inland salt water lake in a cavern, is filled with thousands of fishes of various varieties. Visitors have a good deal of fun fishing with bits of salt cod tied to a line. The fish bite savagely and sometimes will not let go until hauled up to the bridge from which we enjoyed the sport.

Over at St. David's the fishermen have built cages into which they put their fish during the slack season and keep them there and feed them until higher prices are secured during the busy season. The fish become so accustomed being fed when they see anyone approach they will hold their mouths open and out of water to receive the expected meat. They actually seem almost human in their motions.

The sea gardens were wonderful too. These were viewed through glass bottomed boats. Coral, sponges and other tropical growth of most beautiful coloring and shapes could be seen very clearly in spite of the fact that the water was from twenty to forty feet deep.

Everywhere the water surrounding the Islands was very clear and colored in delicate tints of blue and green. Dark spots indicated that a reef was close to the surface.

At Hamilton some of the boatmen made their living by ferrying people across the harbor. When rowing without a load they invariably stood up facing the bow. Their charges were very moderate.

On one of the Hamilton buildings we saw the sign "Ancient Lights." This meant that the law prohibited anyone from building near enough to interfere with the light of the building on which such a sign was placed.

The first day of our return trip was very rough. Of one hundred and forty passengers but eight showed up that day to dinner. I happened to be the only one of our party who did not miss a meal.

Our stateroom steward said that he had been following the sea for twenty five years and had been on the New York Bermuda run but five months. During these five months he stated that he had seen more seasickness and rough weather than the whole twenty five years put together.

An one of the passengers said, "On the trip you go through hell, but on arrival you reach heaven."

I also called on the Hamilton Digby Club and the Royal Bermuda Yacht Club but did not meet any of the officers as the active season is in the summer and my call was simply to report as a member of the Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club.

Yours truly,
CHAS. F. CHASE.

Confesses When Arrested.
ANOTHER EPWORTH LEAGUE MEMBER GONE WILDING

A New York despatch says: George W. Acker, who sings tenor in the choir of the Trinity Methodist church and teaches a class in the Sunday School, was arrested last night and identified according to Detectives Lyons, Wagner and McCarthy, by Mrs. Charles Rose as the young man who posed as a gas inspector, and then beat her with a pistol in an effort to rob her in her own home, at No. 351 Cypress avenue, the Bronx.

The man, who struck Mrs. Rose in the face with his revolver, made the error of leaving his hat behind when he escaped after a long struggle with her. The hat led to the door of the young tenor, George W. Acker.

When the detectives reached Mrs. Rose's apartment, a few minutes after the man had escaped, they found a stranger's hat, and Mrs. Rose recalled that he had fled bareheaded. The hat bore the initials "G. W. A."

The space between the band and the hat served as an envelope for several tracts issued by the Trinity Methodist church, on 118th street, between First and Second avenues, and also for several colored cards awarded for continuous attendance at the Sunday School of that church.

Going to the church the detectives got a list of every member whose name begins with "A" and found the name of George W. Acker. Persons who knew Acker said that the hat left by the intruder was similar to one worn by Acker.

Acker was at dinner in his home at No. 622 East 137th street last night with his aunt, when the detectives called. They asked him if he had lost a hat. They said he became pale and stammered that he believed he had not. Then they showed him the hat found in Mrs. Rose's room and the tracts and Sunday School cards found in the hat. He then said they were his, according to the detectives.

"As these tracts and cards were in the hat we will arrest you," they told him, and he began to weep. It was not long, the detectives said, before he told them how he had been out of work and in need of money, and of how he had gone to the house on Cypress avenue, thinking it easy to take money from a woman.

"It would have been all right," the detectives said he told them, "if that woman had held up her hands when I ordered her to do so. Instead of that she grasped the revolver and fought me. I didn't want to hit her, but I had to. She offered a hard fight and dragged me all over the rooms."

"I started out with the intention of getting into some apartment, as a gas inspector, where there would be a woman alone—one I could frighten into giving money to me. I never knew a woman would fight like that."

Acker, who is twenty two years old, lives with his parents and an aunt, who is said to be possessed of considerable money. He has been a member of the Trinity Methodist Church since a boy, and for several years has been singing in the choir. He has taken a deep interest in the work of the church, being a member of the Epworth League and a teacher of a class of boys and girls in the Sunday School.

Mrs. Rose called at the Alexander avenue police station and identified the man.

Willing to Save Trouble.
When Bobbie went to see his grand mother he was much interested in whatever went on in the kitchen. One day she said to him: "I'm going to make you a nice little pie in a saucer all for yourself. Don't you think I'm pretty good to take so much trouble?"

Bobbie pondered. "Grandma," he said at length, "mother told me not to be a bother, and if it's going to be any trouble, you can just as well make my pie regular size."

Digby, March 6, 1914

Schr. Unity Abandoned at Sea

CAPT. ARTHUR LONGMIRE, WELL KNOWN TO THE BAY, WITH DERELICT ON BROWN'S BANK.

Schr. Albert J. Lutz, Capt. Arthur Longmire, which arrived here last Monday morning, fell in with the abandoned schooner, Unity, on Brown's Bank and secured the captain's nautical instruments, a quantity of rope, blocks and other gear. He was unable to either sail the vessel to port or tow her and therefore set the derelict on fire as she was very dangerous, especially in the night, to the large fleet of fishing vessels continually cruising in that vicinity. When interviewed by the Courier, Capt. Longmire made the following statement:

Left Shelburne, Feb. 23rd at 9 A. M. to run to Brown's Bank on a fishing voyage. We sailed 43 miles by pattern on a S. W. by course. At 3:30 P. M. sighted a tern schooner on starboard bow under very small sail. Hauled up for her to find out if she needed assistance, hauled her and got no answer. Boarded her at 5:30 P. M. and found her to be the Unity, of Bridgetown, abandoned, abandoned, heading to S. W. S. W. under mizzen tri sail, reefed main sail and jib. All other sails furled. It began to get dark it was decided to lay by until morning. We put an anchor light in the starboard fore rigging and returned on board our own vessel, which fresh N. N. W., no other vessel in sight.

Feb. 21, 9:30 P. M. boarded Unity again and trying the helm found the rudder gone. Upon examination found the spar, fore sail and fore stay sail furled on the boom, but too badly split and torn to be of any use. The usual means of taking her in tow was also too badly split to be of any use in working the vessel to port. Sounded the pumps and found about 24 inches of water in the hold. It began to breeze up from the North East with a choppy sea running and occasional snow squalls, and having no power on board to take her in tow, and thinking her an obstruction to navigation it was decided to move her from the path of vessels. Built a fire in the after cabin, removed main hatch and left the wreck. Lay too around her awhile and upon wind increasing and the weather thickening with snow it was decided to give the wreck a berth. The last seen of her by us was 11 A. M. heading to the W. N. W. all alone from the mizzen mast aft. There were several fishing vessels in sight at the time but could not secure their names. The supposed position of wreck at the time of leaving her was South 1/2 West by compass from Seal Island, distance 45 miles. New York, Feb. 27.—British schr. Unity, from Perth Amboy (N. J.) for Halifax, was abandoned at sea on Feb. 19 in latitude 43, longitude 65. Captain MacLennan and his crew of five men were rescued by the British steamer Manchester Importer, from St. John for Manchester. They reached here late today on the Austrian steamer Lucia, from the Mediterranean, to which they had been transferred at sea on Feb. 21.

The Unity left Perth Amboy on Jan. 22. After leaving the harbor she encountered a succession of heavy gales and rough seas. Her boat was swept overboard and on Feb. 10 the rudder was carried away and she became unmanageable.

On Feb. 10 the Manchester Importer overtook the crippled Unity and rescued all hands. The vessel was reported to be transferred to the first west-bound steamer encountered. Four days later the Lucia was sighted and the wreck safely transferred to the Lucia's deck.

The Unity was built in 1901 and registered 225 tons. She was owned by Alexander Watson, of Tatamagouche (N. S.), and she carried 350 tons of coal.

The rescued men are: Capt. William Alexander MacLennan, St. John (N. B.); Richard H. Russell, mate; A. S. Day, steward; Oscar Anderson, Harry Burns and Joseph Doucette, seamen.

Death of Miss Maye E. Turnbull.

After a very short illness, Maye E. Turnbull, eldest daughter of late George Henry and Emma Turnbull, died at the home of her brother, A. R. Turnbull, Monday night, of typhoid pneumonia, aged 35 years. Miss Turnbull resided at her home, Lighthouse Road, and was spending the night at her brother's, Carleton street, when she was taken ill. A physician was immediately summoned, a trained nurse procured from St. John and everything possible was done for her recovery, but she passed peacefully away at 7:30 Monday evening, after considerable suffering during the week. The deceased had many friends and was very prominent in religious work. She was a member of the Methodist church, the Epworth League, and one of the librarians of the Sunday School. Her death is keenly felt by her relatives and friends and will cause a vacancy which will be hard to fill. She is survived by two brothers and two sisters, A. R. Turnbull, of Turnbull & Co., grocers; Ernest Turnbull, Mrs. Henry Trask and Miss Annie Turnbull, all of Digby.

The funeral, which was very largely attended, took place Wednesday afternoon, with interment in the Methodist cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. L. Daniel, pastor of Grace Methodist church. The pall bearers were her cousins, George and William Turnbull, Curtis Young, and Ralph Warrington. The floral tributes were beautiful. The Courier extends its deepest sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Death of a Former Digby Lady.

Mrs. Rachel O. Letteney, widow of the late J. W. Letteney, passed away Feb. 7, 1914, of pneumonia at the home of her youngest son, Dr. James T. Letteney, Rochester, N. H., aged 75 years, 3 months and 4 days. She was a lady of bright intellect, cheerful, always ready to lend a helping hand and made many friends wherever she went, especially among little children who dearly loved her. For the past few years she made her home among her children, who adored her and found a welcome always waiting for her when she came. A faithful, loving mother she will be greatly missed. Funeral services were held at Rochester Feb. 10. The beautiful floral tributes showed the high esteem in which she stood. She leaves four sons and three daughters, William S. of Portland, K. H. of Billerica, Mass., Harry G. of Raymond, N. H., Mrs. J. Sumner Twichell and Mrs. George Sande, of Beverly, Mass.; Miss Annie L. Letteney, of Belmont, Mass., and 24 grand children to mourn their loss.

ANOTHER MYSTERY

Strange Horse and Carriage Found in The Woods Near the Bay Road

HORSE HAD BEEN KILLED WITH AN AXE—OCCUPANTS OF THE TEAM EVIDENTLY LEFT IN A HURRY—MAN AND WOMAN'S TRACKS NEAR THE WAGON.

Word reached Digby yesterday morning that a strange horse and carriage had been discovered in the woods on the east side of the Bay Road, a short distance west of the cross roads, some five miles from Digby.

Chief of police Bowles and a Court representative immediately commenced an investigation. They found that the horse had been killed with an axe while in the harness. He was found carefully covered with two quilts, and a horse blanket. In the buggy was a pair, containing two bags, in which were oats and meal. On the ground, in front of the forward wheel was a bag of hay. At the horse's head was an old fashioned axe. Considerable blood was on the snow in the vicinity of the team. Nearby was a small land pail containing a quantity of tea, which had been stepped over an open fire. In the carriage was a small can containing a paper bag of tea. One of the bags of food contained a lumbermen's large safety pin.

The horse was evidently quite a valuable one, weighing in the vicinity of 1100, and appeared to have been in a good condition, when he met his cowardly death blow.

When the team entered the woods it evidently came from the westward, and after the cruel deed had been done the occupants of the team evidently started toward Digby.

Near the team were tracks made by a woman with fairly new rubbers, who also wore gaiters. The man probably wore rubber boots. There were also moccasin tracks, but the chief of police and the Court representative were not the first people there after the occupants had departed.

It is thought that the team was left at an early hour yesterday morning, probably just daylight and not later than ten o'clock.

Two strange men were seen walking towards Digby passing by the cross roads about eight o'clock. On return to Digby yesterday, we learned that two young men answering the same description were seen loitering about the railway station before the departure of the east bound express.

Chief of Police Bowles has the axe in his possession.

If any team has been stolen or is missing from any stable in this vicinity the Courier will be pleased to receive information by wire immediately.

All sorts of theories and strange stories are in circulation this morning, many of which point toward foul play, but no sufficient evidence has yet come forward to warrant an arrest.

The Fishing Fleet is Port.

FOUR OF DIGBY'S LARGEST FISHING VESSELS HAVE ARRIVED THIS WEEK.

The reports sent out from Yarmouth a few weeks ago to the daily papers, before that port was filled with ice, caused lots of amusement for the Digby readers. "Scare heads" announcing the big fares being landed at that port appeared over articles containing the amount of the various catches in pounds which would generally reach one good sized fare when the figures were all added together for an entire week.

In the meantime hundreds of thousands of pounds of fresh fish were being landed in Digby from the schr. Dorothy M. Smart, Capt. Gertie and dozens of auxiliary and motor craft from along the Bay Fundy shore.

Last Sunday the schr. Dorothy G. Snow, Capt. Ansel Snow, arrived here with more than 100,000 lbs. fresh fish; the same night the schr. Dorothy M. Smart, Capt. Wm. Snow, arrived with also more than 100,000 lbs.; Monday morning the schr. Albert J. Lutz, Capt. Arthur Longmire, arrived with 85,000 lbs.; and Wednesday night the schr. Loran B. Snow, Capt. Arthur Casey, arrived with 85,000 lbs.

The four catches when weighed out totaled more than 400,000 lbs. These fish were all purchased by local wholesale fish firms and were not all shipped fresh as when landed in Yarmouth, but smoked and cured in various ways in Digby, thus giving employment to hundreds of men along our water front.

Digby's fishing industry is a big one and we are glad to report that our wholesale fish firms are doing a rushing business and are all prosperous concerns. We wish them continued success.

Death of Mrs. Bernard Nickerson.

A telegram received here Saturday announced the sudden death of Harriet, wife of Mr. Bernard Nickerson, which took place suddenly at Somerville, Mass. The deceased, who was about 25 years of age, was the daughter of Mr. Rupert Harris, of Bear River, and is survived by her grief stricken husband and father, five sisters and two brothers. Mrs. Nickerson had a large circle of friends and was a general favorite with all and her sudden death has cast a gloom both over her native village and in the town in which she resided. The remains arrived here via Yarmouth, passing through Digby yesterday, accompanied by Mr. Nickerson and her two sisters Melita and Josephine. Interment took place in Bear River yesterday afternoon. Mr. Nickerson's sisters, the Misses Jennie and Katherine Nickerson, being among those from Digby who were present at the funeral which was largely attended. Mr. Nickerson is a son of Mr. George Nickerson, of Brighton, Digby county, and like the remainder of the bereaved ones, has the sincere sympathy of a host of friends.

—The hockey match between Caning and Digby, which was scheduled to take place last night, was postponed on account of the weather. The Caning boys returned home Tuesday.

—In the future the COURIER will not print marriage and death notices later than the second week in which they occur. A Beverly correspondent mailed us Feb. 21st a story of a death which occurred Feb. 7th. It should have been sent in time for our issue of Feb. 13th.

—We wish to call particular attention to Mr. P. W. Holdsworth's advertisement in today's COURIER. His last gift of gold fish was very much appreciated by his customers and we believe that today and tomorrow will be two busy days for the proprietor and his obliging staff of salesmen.

—Regular preaching services in the Baptist church next Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7 p. m. Morning subject, "What is a Christian?" Special offerings will be taken at the morning service for denominational purposes. Bible school will meet at the close of the morning service. Pastor meeting Wednesday evening at 7:45.

—Mr. David Sproule, of Digby, has been appointed local agent for the Dominion Karakul Sheep & Fur Co., Ltd., of Lawrenceville, N. S. This company has been formed for the purpose of the rearing of costly lamb fur in Canada, a new industry of unlimited possibilities. We would advise investors to get some particulars from Mr. Sproule for it is quite evident that the new company's dividend will be a large one, increasing annually.

Olive Babes The Heaviest Twins.

COMBINED WEIGHT 48 LBS.—NEITHER HAS BEEN ILL A SINGLE DAY.

(Lynn Evening News.)

Henry and Helen Olive, the 10 month old twins of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Olive, nee George N. Moore, 61 Glenwood street, have the honor of being the heaviest twins of their age in the city. When nine months old their total weight was 48 pounds.

Helen is a little heavier of the two, weighing 24 pounds, while her brother is a half pound lighter. Both of the twins are robust children, healthy and happy.

Helen is the merry one of the pair, always wearing a smile and greeting visitors with a happy chuckle. Henry is more sober and looks as if he had grave cares of state on his mind to solve.

The twins were born on April 13. The children since their birth have been the object of a great deal of interest from everybody who have seen them and many visitors have called at the Olive home to see the wonderful couple.

When they appear on the street sitting side by side in their double carriage, they fill it from side to side and cause passers by to stop and look at them.

Since their birth neither of the twins have had a sick day, both keeping in the best of health. Mrs. Olive attributes their size and good health to the fact that she has taken full care of them and has not depended on fancy foods for children.

Methodist Social at Smith's Cove.

THIS ANNUAL EVENT WAS LARGELY ATTENDED AND A GREAT SUCCESS.

The annual social gathering of the Methodist congregation at Smith's Cove was held at the home of Capt. Robert Austin on Tuesday evening of this week. The house was almost crowded with people, young and old. The program for the evening was in charge of Miss Frances J. Austin, whose splendid selections on the piano were greatly enjoyed by all present. After refreshments were served the offering, in aid of the church, which amounted to $47.65, was taken. As an expression of esteem a present in money was made to the pastor's wife. Before the company separated the pastor, Rev. L. Daniel, gave a short address in which he expressed his pleasure at being present and thanked the friends for their kindness and interest in his work. The people of Smith's Cove certainly know how to have a good time. A fine Christian feeling exists among the different denominations in the place, and it is not to be wondered at that so many tourists and others like to go to this beautiful village to spend their summers.

Digby Board of Trade

ANNUAL MEETING HELD WEDNESDAY NIGHT AND OFFICERS ELECTED.

The annual meeting of the Digby Board of Trade was held in the Council Chamber, Wednesday evening with the President in the chair.

The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. The financial statement for the year was read and adopted. President Lynch gave a verbal report covering the business transacted in the past year.

The Secretary was, on motion, duly ordered to pay the balance of expense of E. A. Gidney, delegate to Halifax to represent the permanent road down Digby Neck.

Mr. T. E. G. Lynch, who was also a delegate to Halifax in reference to a permanent road for Digby Neck, declined to accept payment from the Board, paying the entire expense himself. The Board extended to Mr. Lynch a hearty vote of thanks.

The following officers were on motion duly elected:—P. W. Holdsworth, President; David Sproule, Vice President; Frank W. Nichols, Secy. Treas.; H. B. Short, J. L. Peters, Dr. Road, H. T. Warner, O. S. Dunham, W. E. VanBlarcom, Dr. J. E. Jones, Capt. Wyman, Council; Stanley A. Keen, C. F. McBride, Auditors.

The matter of danger to pedestrians, automobiles and teams at the corner of First Alley and Sydney Street was brought up by Mr. Keen, and after considerable discussion, and on motion of Messrs. T. E. G. Lynch and O. S. Dunham, Mr. Stanley A. Keen was appointed a committee of one to bring the matter to the attention of the Town Council with a view to having "Danger" signs placed in proper positions at this corner for caution to teams, automobiles and pedestrians.

A letter from W. C. Denton, on behalf of the Barton Board of Trade, re the charter for building an electric railway from Bear River to Yarmouth was then taken up and discussed and on motion the Secretary and President were chosen a committee to look into the matter and report at a future meeting of the Council of the Board.

Mr. O. S. Dunham brought up the matter of placing street signs in the principal parts of the town, stating that it would be a great convenience to strangers. On motion of Messrs. Dunham and Lynch the Secretary was instructed to bring this matter up before the Town Council and urge them to take action and have this much needed improvement put into effect.

There being no further business the meeting adjourned.

Good Words for Mr. Wallace.

Our Port Wade correspondent writes: Capt. John D. Appl, Port Wade, left the fishing schooner, the "The Fisherman," J. Lutz, who has been closely connected with the fishing business for over 20 years, states that he is intimately acquainted with the editor of the Canadian Fisherman, Mr. F. William Wallace, that he has also been shipmates with him and found him not only a very interesting writer, but a man well up in the practical knowledge of fishing in all its branches. When the crew had learned that Mr. Wallace had joined them they felt assured that a high time trip would be secured on that voyage. Mr. Wallace has also proven himself a clever navigator, having been on many trips across the ocean when a tory, with his father, who was a captain of one of the big ocean liners and judging his ability from experience and his achievements in the past, we predict for him a brilliant future as editor of the Canadian Fisherman.

Capt. McLeod, of the dredge Provincial, has returned to Digby from St. John and is now getting his dredging plant in order to resume work at Digby.

Steamer Boston is in dry dock in Boston repairing damage to her rudder received in the ice in Yarmouth harbor on her last trip. The rudder, a new one, was bent to an angle of 35 degrees.

S. S. Prince Arthur, of the Boston-Yarmouth Steamship Co., is undergoing repairs at Bath, Maine. Among the improvements will be the addition of 52 staterooms, enlarging the after deck, and placing new davits for extra boats.

Schr. Sawyer Bros., Capt. Color, with lumber from Annapolis for Cuba, shipped by F. W. Pickles Co., was towed here Monday by star. Granville and towed to sea Tuesday night by the same steamer. The Granville continued on her trip to St. John for a general cargo.

Yarmouth Times: The Loran B. Snow was in port yesterday with a fare of 80,000 pounds which was offered here. As it was early and no word had been received from Boston as to the resumption of the steamship service, the local dealers would not buy and she sailed for Digby.

Mr. Leander Ellis, the popular and efficient keeper of Point Prim light and fog alarm, reports sighting a large whale off the Point Saturday morning just before the arrival of the S. S. Yarmouth, from St. John. He also reports Fairway buoy sounding again, its whistle having been frozen.

The ice in Yarmouth harbor has been broken by the government steamer Stanley and the Boston-Yarmouth service again resumed. S. S. Prince George arrived here from Boston Wednesday afternoon, her passengers arriving here yesterday's express, remaining in Yarmouth over night.

Arrivals at Joseph E. Snow's this week: Schr. Dorothy G. Snow, 85,200 lbs. of haddock, 8,300 lbs. of cod, 12,000 lbs. of cod; schr. Loran B. Snow, 85,000 lbs. of mixed fish; shipped 218 drums of hake, 8 quantities of pollock, 10,900 lbs. of fresh haddock, 3,050 lbs. of fresh cod, 175 boxes of fillets and 540 boxes of finnan haddies.

Arrivals at the Maritime Fish Corporation this week: Schr. Dorothy M. Smart, 80,854 lbs. of haddock, 14,120 lbs. of cod, 9,600 lbs. of cod, 100 lbs. of cod; 511 lbs. of halibut; schr. Albert J. Lutz, 77,450 lbs. of haddock, 5,400 lbs. of cod, 2,800 lbs. of cod, 400 lbs. of hake, 100 lbs. of cod; other sources, 13,000 lbs. of haddock.

Shipbuilding is remarkably brisk at Lunenburg and the orders are piling in thick and fast. The impetus given this industry by the call for vessels to engage in the fresh fishing business, caused by the transfer of American firms to the Nova Scotia ports, is inducing the builders to get an extra haul. Smith & Rhuland, the reliable builders there, whose vessels have made names for themselves, wherever sailed, have just laid the keels, for two new schooners and have orders booked ahead for nearly a year.

The schr. Susie H. Davidson arrived at Portland, Me., on Tuesday from Tusk, lumber laden. The schooner has been a long time on the passage, hard luck having pursued her at every turn. She arrived at Tusk about Christmas and after taking on her cargo of lumber was frozen in. After being towed to Yarmouth where she remained for some weeks she was frozen in for quite awhile in St. Mary's Bay. When the ice broke up the schooner started out with it in the center of a field a mile square, losing an anchor and 90 fathoms of chain before the ice around her gave way.

A Parrboro despatch says: The schooner which has been adrift in the ice in the Bay, and which has been sighted several times in the south shore, was beached Sunday near Spencer's Island, N. S., and proved to be the Lyra, of Parrboro, 99 tons register, owned and commanded by Robert Newcombe. She was bound from St. John for Parrboro in ballast. The wind was blowing a gale Monday from the southeast, which will drive much of the ice down the Bay where it will break up, and as soon as it comes northwest again the schooner will probably go to Spencer's Island pier or Parrboro.

Oh, my, Edwin, wilt thou love me? By the faithful fire that shines On the mantelpiece above me, I will be forever thine! I will joyfully thy bread win, I will slave and toil for thee— Only whisper, gentle Edwin, Whisper that thou lovest me!

Sweet, no longer in the city Shalt thou droop thy little head; Thou shalt tend thy flowers, my pretty, In thy garden here instead; Thou shalt warble like a starling Mid the roses on the wall— Thou thyself, my coy, wee darling, Fairest bud among them all!

I will keep thee in cigars, love— Nay, dear Edwin, wherefore groan? By the moon and sun and stars, love, Thou shalt always choose thine own.

Then, my darling, do not tremble, Do not shrink from my caress! Ah, I know it—don't dissemble— Darling Edwin, answer ye! —Ted Robinson in Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Valuable Advice.

"A cat sits on my back fence every night, and he yowls and yowls and yowls," complained a young lawyer's client. "Now, I don't want to have any trouble with Neighbor Smith, but this thing has gone far enough, and I want you to tell me what to do."

The lawyer looked as solemn as an owl and said not a word.

"I have a right to shoot the cat, haven't I?"

"I would hardly say that," replied the young lawyer. "The cat does not belong to you, as I understand it."

"No, but the fence does."

"Then," concluded the light of the law, "I think it safe to say you have a perfect right to tear down the fence." —Everybody's.

Ready Answer.

Better Off.

Father—Upon my word, you children are getting too dainty for anything. Jam and butter on the same piece of bread, indeed! Why, when I was your age I was glad to get enough dry bread to eat.

"Everybody go to Church Sunday"

A VIEW FROM THE PULPIT.

(Written for the Courier.)

The discussion of this latest movement, or innovation, in connection with religious or church life, one, which has so obviously evoked the support of the press, and in some instances that of civic powers, viz: "Everybody go to Church Sunday," has aroused in many minds the query—when the need? What are the causes which make such an enterprise necessary? There can, of course, be but one answer to this enquiry—the evident disinterestedness in church life, as indicated by the small percentage of people who attend the public services. Depleted congregations are true, not only of rural, but also of town and city churches. On the other hand, particularly as it now seems, there never was a time in the history of the church, when financial support was so liberal, not only to local church schemes, but to missions. Is not this, in itself, a tacit acknowledgement of the rightful claims of the church as an institution, but as some thing not necessary to the individual? The empty pew problem is forcing itself home to thinking Christians. From it no doubt, sprang the idea of the "everybody go to church Sunday," which at least deals with effect and not with cause. Some of the immediate causes, which contribute to the disregard of public worship, by so large a proportion of the people, are as follows: First, we are led to believe, that the idea of worship, as an individual duty and privilege, has been lost of to a large extent. The expectation of meeting God in his Sanctuary, has been obscured by externalisms. For instance, the undue importance placed upon special music provided by the choir, the members of which, we are afraid, do not always sing with the spirit, and the understanding. However beautiful and pleasing church music may be, it can only minister to the spiritual welfare of the church when it ceases to become an adjunct, and becomes an act of worship. Again it is the truth that needs no proof, the attraction of good music is strong, consequently, in communities where there are several churches, the tendency with the young and occasionally older ones, is to follow the band, or in other words, to go where they hear the best music. This habit of wandering from church to church, too often ends in wandering out of church life altogether. The moral is, greater efforts should be made to revive congregational singing, and give less attention to providing high class entertainment for a few esthetic lovers of music. The trend of the times is towards less worship, and the culprit is not unknown. The man not the message, is the drawing power. If the preacher is endowed by nature with personal magnetism, versatile mind, fluent speech, ready to accommodate himself to the spirit of the times, adherents to all denominations, will gravitate to his church, or in other words, he will attract those who attend church from other motives than worship. We have no desire to undervalue good music, nor yet a winning manner, they should be an incentive, and inspiration to a proper spirit. Existing conditions, suggest to one however that of late years, too much dependence has been placed on them. Many congregations have lost sight of the prime idea of worship in their struggles to secure popular music and attractive preaching. They say we must have a preacher that will draw and as someone has aptly remarked having secured him, they sit back and watch him draw. Result—spiritual apathy on the part of the church members, followed, sooner or later by laxity in attendance.

Home influence in relation to the church. First, the church in the home, then the home in the church. The passing of the family altar, is an outstanding menace to the religious life of the church. Rush of business, demands of pleasure, the strenuous school life of the present time, have combined to eliminate the religious atmosphere from the home. The free criticism, kindly or otherwise, of preacher, sermon, and choir in the family, in the presence of the children have done much to destroy the respect and reverence of the young for sacred things. In consequence of this, many of leaders and members of the church, are openly discussed in a way calculated to make children distrustful of professing Christians, consequently, the sanctity of the church is held in low esteem. Possibly the style of literature which flows so many of our homes, plays its part in keeping people at home on the Sabbath, sending them out in pursuit of pleasure or recreation. The free handling of social and religious problems, by present day writers, in many cases, enables the reader, by a process of reasoning, satisfactory to himself, to arrive at the conclusion that he can worship God, in a manner profitable to him, in the privacy of his study, or in his own home, rather than to his Maker, under the approved way of assembling in the Sanctuary on the Sabbath. Again parents are remiss in their duties, in regard to the training of children in the habit of church going. Too often the work and pleasure of the week, infringe on Sabbath morning, with the result, that the family is represented at the morning service, it is only one or two members at best. In the evening father and mother will go, perhaps one of the boys, the boy will sit down by the door, with his chums, while the parents occupy the family pew alone. If there are girls in the family, they will be in another part of the church with a girl friend—another member of the family, perhaps in another church. A haphazard way of church attendance. Let parents and children sit together, in this way associations are formed, and ties woven, which are hard to sever. Bring the children up to regard church attendance as a sacred duty. The empty pew problem, will find a partial solution, at least, in the home. The decadence of church life, can never be remedied by any unusual methods, however novel they may be, not even by the setting aside of special days, to be known as "Everybody go to Church Sunday." The root of the matter lies too deep. The largest hundreds and thousands, can never be reclaimed by the efforts of one day, even tho' that day be marked in the history of the church by overflowing congregations. Let the worship of the All Father, be given its rightful place in the home, the church, and the school. Preachers, teachers, and parents inculcate reverence for God. His house, and the importance of public worship as a result we may hope to see "Everybody go to church every Sunday."

The theatre goers of Digby will no doubt be greatly pleased to learn that Manager Cripps of the Bijou Dream has secured Perry's Peerless Players for a return engagement of two nights only, March 18th and 19th.

This Company have been playing throughout Ontario this season, and they certainly pleased their audiences with the very clever offerings they present.

During their brief engagement here the Company will present "Just Plain Molly" and "A Royal Prisoner," two of New York's greatest successes, complete in every detail, and it is positively the first time these productions have been played anywhere at popular prices.

New and novel vaudeville specialties will be introduced between the acts by different members of the company.

Don't miss seeing the favorites on their visit here, as you know they put on only first class productions.

Death of Lord Minto.

FORMER GOVERNOR GENERAL OF CANADA HAS PASSED AWAY.

A London despatch received on Sunday announced the death of Lord Minto, which took place at four o'clock that morning.

Entering the Government's service as ensign of the Scots Guards at the age of 22, Gilbert John Murray Elliot, fourth Earl of Minto, became at sixty Viceroy of India. The most important and lucrative post in the British Colonial Governments. He was born in 1847, and after being educated at Eton and Cambridge, there were thirty years filled with brilliant exploits as a soldier, six as Governor General of Canada, and five in governing India.

He was in Paris during the communist uprising in 1871. He followed the Carlist army in Spain as a war correspondent. He witnessed the operations of the Turkish army on the Danube and was present during the bombardment of Nopopolis and the historic crossing of the Danube. He was with General Roberts in the Afghan campaign and later served as his private secretary in South Africa. He fought the Egyptians as a captain of mounted infantry in 1882, and was severely wounded at Maghar.

GOVERNOR GENERAL OF CANADA. Later he became Military Secretary to Lord Lansdowne, the Governor General of Canada, and during this service he helped to put down the Northwest Rebellion as chief of staff under General Middleton. Returning to his home land, he served as Brigadier General of volunteer infantry in Scotland.

Lord Minto was appointed Governor General of Canada in 1898, a position he held until 1904.

Great as was his service in Canada, the British public will probably best remember him as Viceroy of India, the successor of Lord Curzon. He closed his long public life in 1909, when he resigned from the Viceroyalty.

Lord Minto was possessed of great wealth, most of which he inherited.

VISITED DIGBY TWELVE YEARS AGO.

Lord and Lady Minto visited Digby in 1901. They arrived here by special train Saturday evening July 27th. They were met at the station by the town officials and after being driven around town were presented with an address by Mayor G. I. Letteney. Sunday morning they attended service at Holy Trinity church. At 3 o'clock in the afternoon they embarked on the Canadian cruiser Curlew, en route to St. John where they arrived the same evening. Those who met them here have very pleasant recollections of the Vice Regal visit and regret to learn of His Excellency's death.

CORRESPONDENCE.

Town Politics and Glass Houses.

To the Editor of the Courier.

DEAR SIR,—All men in their conceit flatter themselves by thinking they are reasoning beings, but it is absurd to a reasoning being to think that because a man is a member of a certain religious, political or fraternal sect or society, that he is therefore best qualified to be a road mender, assessor or guardian of the peace. There is just as much reason in thinking that because a goose is white and has wings it is an Angel.

Why is it that a decent man cannot throw off these trivial trammels, political or otherwise, and be a reasoning being when he takes on the Council to safeguard the interests of his fellow citizens? It would seem that those trammels are stronger than his business sense. These words may offend, but neither the half veiled hints of personal abuse from W. S. Troop, nor any other man can hinder me from exercising my right as a citizen to criticize the methods in vogue of doing the business of this town.

For instance: W. S. Troop posed as the defender of the poor widow and the fisherman from the "quintessence of the last assessment." About his first official act was to lower the assessment of his house and his own, by so doing he automatically raises the rate on the poor widow, the fisherman and the rest of us.

If the assessment stands as it is W. S. Troop will likely pay less taxes in 1914 than in 1913. Mr. Troop refused as a Councillor my offer to save the town $700. He says there were conditions attached to it, why did he not quote conditions in his letter? Or why did he not move to have a hard and fast contract drawn up and offered me if he thought I was bluffing. Bew the way I ask every Councillor WHY??? The excuse that there was $700 spent on permanent work on the Riquette won't hold water.

I claim that at the very lowest estimate that can be made there was $1000 spent on repairs of streets last year and offering to do it for $1000. The conditions were as to payment of contract and difference between permanent and repair work.

His statement in former letter, Mr. Troop mentions chapter and page revised statutes but that does not alter the fact as I stated, that our raise in assessment did not add one cent to the amount we pay to the Municipality.

AS TO GLASS HOUSES.

I have not been throwing stones at Mr. Troop's friend Mr. Vye, whom Mr. Troop is defending because of the waste of $700 on the streets. Why should Mr. Troop saddle Mr. Vye with that waste? I did not.

A wise man once said, "I can take care of my enemies but I deliver me from my friends." I wonder if Mr. Vye would not like to say, "Them's my sentiments." I am made of mortal clay, check full of sins, faults and failings and for that reason am chary of throwing stones.

As far as I know personally and judging by his letter, my critic W. S. Troop, may be and probably is, a dutiful son, a loving husband, a kind father, considerate to his employees, fair to his enemies, a faithful friend, a church member of good standing, and a Christian gentleman.

Now Mr. Editor, all reasons worth combating are advanced to show why my offer was not considered, why the Guardian of the Peace cannot control the influx of "Boot Leggers" and "Blind Tigers," why the school house was allowed to get into such a disgraceful condition and is not yet "habitable," why three men were selected for assessors who are not well acquainted with the real estate values here, why the water is allowed to run to waste in the winter so that if we had a fire it would be very disastrous, why we should be twenty years behind other towns of our class in sewers, sidewalks and fair distribution of water privileges, I will refrain from calling on you for space in your columns although I have annual reports from other towns which compared with ours would not make pleasant reading for the most of us.

Yours,

AUBREY BROWN.

To the Editor of the Courier.

DEAR SIR:—The publishing of Admiral Dewey's memoirs, seems to have stirred up a tempest in German naval circles, but there does not seem to be much interest by the public. As the affair in question has ceased to be a factor, it will not create any strained relations between the two countries.

However, one amusing incident has cropped out. In relating his vision in the German paper, the German Admiral mentions the kind of presents exchanged after their dispute had been settled. Admiral Dewey sent the German Admiral a frozen New Zealand mutton. The German sent a Chinese calf, which means in German calling a man a "quintessence of the other meaning a stupid thing."

They certainly both had much satisfaction, but hardly becoming an officer of their respective navies.

COMPLIMENTARILY.

March 5th, 1914.

Carr of the Maladine.

To the Editor of the Courier.

SIR,—For the information of those who think they knew Carr, the cook of the Saladin, as a resident of Digby County, I will give the following description of him from Dr. Mac-Mechan's history of the mutiny and piracy, which of course is taken from contemporary reports of the time and newspaper articles, and no doubt is perfectly reliable. "William Carr, the cook, a stocky, pockmarked, fresh coloured Englishman from North Shields, who could read and write." I may add that a man of his nativity and condition would be sure to confuse the initial H. C. G. he would call "habbit" and "animal" a "hamball". I am so-called that Carr, the cook of the Saladin, did not settle in Digby County.

A. W. SAVARY.

Lost Overboard.

Letters just received convey the news that Louis Amiro, son of Capt. Adolphe Amiro, of Amherst's Hill, was washed overboard from the schooner, Capt. Clayton Mortimer, a few days ago. He was 18 years of age. No further particulars are available.

From each shipment of wheat delivered at our mills we take a ten-pound sample. It is ground into flour. We bake bread from this flour. If this bread is high in quality and large in quantity we use the shipment of wheat from which it came. Otherwise, we sell it.

Humor and Philosophy

By DUNCAN M. SMITH

PITIFUL IGNORANCE.

THOUGH everybody else is wise And painfully aware That there is basis for the claim And something in the air, The trust itself is innocent; Confess to that it must. Whatever else it understands, It won't know it's a trust.

At the suggestion that perhaps It's running a combine A sad expression slowly fits Across its face benign. It raises piously its hands That are not stained by toil As though from anything like that In horror to recoil.

It may own ninety-nine per cent Of everything in sight Connected with its line of trade And have the lid on tight, But still that little one per cent Appears unto its eyes Like competition strong and keen That one should not despise.

Oh, yes, the trusts are innocent! We get that knowledge straight. It comes to us direct from them And so is up to date. But every person must admit Who will his eyes believe The limitation they put up An expert might deceive.

Quite Uncertain.
"I wonder how old she is."
"I really could not say."
"But you have known her all her life."
"Oh, she was born thirty-five years ago, but that may not have any bearing on the subject."

Pardonable Error.

There was great excitement on Mars as the earth drew near. Astronomers had their eyes glued to the telescopes and postage stamps to love letters, and their meals were fed to them by subterranean injections.

Excited crowds outside were gathered around the bulletin board, which had just announced that the earth had several thousand satellites in addition to the one big moon—either that, it was stated, or else the earth people were able to pick up their houses and wait.

Just then Professor Zazazaza, who had been scratching a few hours' sleep, woke up, turned his trained eye on the earth and informed the waiting crowds that the women of the earth wore hats four times as large as their selves, which had led to the curious mistake.

Mad Him Located.

"All is lost," said the discouraged politician, "but honor."

"What is that?" said the deaf man who had a way of hearing part of what was said and jumping at the rest. "His honor lost? No; that can't be! I had a drink with him in a saloon around the corner just a few minutes ago."

Fair in War.

"Do you think George Washington ever told a lie?"
"Certainly not."
"Never."

"Well, he may have told a few white lies to the red men during the colonial wars."

Turn About.

"I hope you do not begrudge me a meal," said the tattered wanderer.
"Certainly not," replied the generous householder, "and I hope you wouldn't begrudge my dog one if you were to come a step further."

Suggests Prosperity.

"Why is it that all actors, whether great or small, always want to play faufler?"
"Let's see. Isn't that the show in which the ghost walks?"

Light Headed.

"If I had a pistol I would blow out my brains."
"Don't take a pistol."
"Why not?"
"Use a feather duster."

Two Models.

"When he was building his ship I suppose he spent a good deal of time watching the birds fly."
"Yes, but he spent more watching money fly."

Certainly.

"I do hate to wait for a train."
"Yes, so do I, but I hate still more to have a train not wait for me."

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

As for the past, with many about the most successful thing that it ever did was to get by.

Without any leaning toward generosity we all like to see strict justice for the other fellow.

Luckily there is some pleasure in being an ultimate consumer, for there is no profit.

A man may be excused for feeling like a plutocrat if last Christmas' bills are all paid.

Full dressmakers must show some perfectly darling aeroline models.

You Can't Earn Money When You're Laid Up

There are a lot of people in this town who cannot afford to be sick. Perhaps none of you feel that you can, but certainly some of you can't, for as soon as you are sick, your wages stop and worry and debts begin to pile up. The sensible thing for you to do, as soon as you feel run-down and worn out, no matter what the cause, is to take something just as quick as you can to build up strength and health. Make yourself more comfortable and provide against serious sickness.

We don't believe there is any other medicine made that will do as much towards saving your health and thus helping you save your money as it—call Olive Oil Emulsion. It is a medicine that gets right at the trouble and collects it by on the nerves, enriching the blood, and giving new strength and health to the whole body. It doesn't do this by means of alcohol or habit-forming drugs, because it contains none. Its strength and health giving power is due to pure Olive Oil and the Hypophosphites, long endorsed by successful physicians, the one for its food value, the other for its tonic value. Here, for the first time, they are combined, and the result is a real nerve, blood and body building medicine—a real strengthener that we are proud to tell you about. You don't need to hesitate in using it, because if it doesn't do all we say it will satisfy you in every way, it will cost you nothing. If it doesn't make you strong and well again, come back and get your money. It will be given to you without word or question. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us. $1.00 P. W. Holdsworth, Digby.

Increased Four Trip Per Week
Sailings.

YARMOUTH TO BOSTON VIA THE "YAR-MOUTH LINE."

To meet the growing demand on the part of shippers and the travelling public and afford means of more frequently reaching the New England markets, the management of the Boston & Yarmouth S. S. Co., Ltd., popularly known as the "Yarmouth Line," will augurate a four trip per week sailing effective from Yarmouth on Tuesday, March 24th.

The days of sailings from Yarmouth will be Tuesdays, Wednesdays, Fridays and Saturdays, from Boston, Sundays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Fridays, with steamers "Prince George" and "Boston" in commission.

The head "Boston" in commission from Yarmouth will be a long wished for boon, especially to the fishermen of the South Shore of Nova Scotia, for it will enable shippers of lobsters and fresh fish to reach the Boston markets four days in the week instead of two as in former years.

The inauguration of the four trip per week service from Yarmouth to Boston, marks a new era in the history of transportation, not only from the western part of Nova Scotia, but the whole Maritime Provinces in general, and will be cordially welcomed by the shippers and travelling public of Nova Scotia and New England.

We Have Faith In This Stomach Remedy

A woman customer said to us the other day, "Say, you ought to tell everyone in town about Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets. I would myself if I could." That set us to thinking. So many people have used them and have so enthusiastically sounded their praises both to us and their friends, that we had an idea you all knew about them. But, in the chance that some of you suffer from indigestion, heartburn, dyspepsia, or some other stomach complaint, don't know about them—we are writing this.

They contain Bismuth and Pepsin, two of the greatest digestive aids known to medical science. They soothe and comfort the stomach, promote the secretion of gastric juice, help to quickly digest the food and convert it into rich, red blood, and improve the action of the bowels. We believe them to be the best remedy made for indigestion and dyspepsia.

We certainly wouldn't offer them to you entirely at our risk unless we felt sure they would do you a lot of good.
If Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets do not relieve your indigestion, check the heartburn, and make it possible for you to eat what you like whenever you like, come back and get your money.

Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only at our store, Three sizes, 25c, 50c, and $1.00. P. W. Holdsworth, Digby.

THE MYSTERIOUS RIG

Drivers of Strange Horse Fugitives
From St. John Reformatory.

BOYS WHO DROVE HORSE AND CARriage NEAR DIGBY DELIVERED TO BE FRED WILSON, OF ST. JOHN, AND LEO MCGINN, OF MONCTON—DE-SCRIPTIONS CORRESPOND.

[From The St. John Times.]

That the two strange boys who have been seen in the neighborhood of Digby and left a horse and carriage in the woods, which rig the police of the town think was stolen, are Fred Wilson and Leo McGinn who escaped from the Industrial Home for Boys at East St.
John on the night of February 28th. It is the opinion of the St. John police that the boys, who were in telephone communication this morning with Chief Bowles, of Digby police force, are the same boys who were in telephone communication with the chief corresponds to the most minute detail with that of Wilson and Mc-Ginn, the latter, a French Canadian originally from Moncton, who speaks broken English. The boys are apparently aged about 19 and 18 respectively, though they are actually both eighteen years old. Each has dark hair and is dark complexioned. The boys known to have used the mysterious rig at Digby answered to this description exactly.
They wore blue overalls which had evidently been taken from the home, had no overcoats, and they had their overall straps outside their jackets.

Both of the boys have records in the police ledgers. Fred Wilson, of St. John, having been an English girl at the station of her ticket to the old country and a sum of money, committed another theft in the market and a third at the Dufferin hotel. McGinn, the French Canadian of Moncton, has also been convicted of robbery.

there, and who disappeared suddenly, reappeared yesterday afternoon. It is sent back to the old country and a sum of money, committed another theft in the market and a third at the Dufferin hotel. McGinn, the French Canadian of Moncton, has also been convicted of robbery.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Courier.

Sir,—That the public roads are not receiving the attention from our governments that their importance requires must be apparent to any one who gives thought to the matter. Millions are being spent each year upon railways, canals, wharves, harbor improvements, etc., etc., but comparatively nothing upon the public roads. About one half of the population of the country live in the rural districts and of the more than two hundred million dollars annually spent by our governments, scarcely a dollar is being spent for the benefit of that portion of the people. The fishermen are given bounties and have thousands of dollars spent in building wharves and break-waters from year to year for their benefit while the public roads remain in the deplorable condition in which they have existed since the first settlement of the country. There can be no more important matter of public improvement than that of the highways. Take the case of a man living say at New Tuscot or Corbie. He has a quantity of produce to get to the market. It takes him a day to haul a load to Weymouth and return.
If he had a good macadamized road to haul over he would haul four times as much as he can at present and with much less wear upon his team and vehicle.
Instead of spending four days upon the road he would have three days to spend upon his farm. In no way can the agriculturists of the rural districts, be benefited more than by improving the roads. Nearly half a million dollars are spent annually to keep up the experimental farms and how many farmers have ever received a dollar benefit from them. We would suppose these model farms should teach us how to make our farms more remunerative. We would suppose that these farms after the large amount it has cost the country to purchase lands, equip them with buildings the most improved machinery and implements of all kinds, should after all these years at least be self sustaining; but what do we find? According to the public accounts our experimental farms last year made one dollar of revenue for fifteen dollars of expenditure. What would be the state of the country if we managed our farms on such principles? If instead of multiplying experimental farms the money was used to improve the public roads farmers as well as others would be much more benefited. Our federal government is spending annually almost thirty dollars per capita of the population which if judiciously disbursed would in a few years give us first class roads all over the country.

But I hear some one say, "roads don't belong to the federal government." True, but should they not? Are not transportation facilities the most important matter with which governments have to deal? Public roads being the most important in general should be under the joint jurisdiction of the Federal,
Local and Municipal governments.

To the Editor of the Courier.

Sir,—Towards both honor and pecuniary, have been and are to be conferred upon the officers and crews of the two steamers Westport III and John L.
Cann for their work in rescuing the people of the Cobeguid and it is gratifying to know that their services in that connection are being so widely and generally recognized.

May I venture, however, to enquire why it is that no word of praise has been given to those volunteers, citizens of Westport, who supplemented the crew of the S. S. John L. Cann on that occasion.
They left comfortable homes and warm firesides when the word came that memorable afternoon that the Cobeguid was on Trinity ledge and that lives were in danger. Surely those men are as deserving of public recognition as are the regular members of the crew and strange indeed it is that it has been withheld.

This Fence Has Vast Strength

For a fourth less than the price we pay, we could get hard-drawn steel wire. But that kind, though used in most other wire fence, hasn't the life, the springiness, the strength we insist on for Maritime Wire Fence.

So we make this fence of extra-heavy hard drawn steel wire of nine-gauge. Constantly we test it for quality. And so we know this fence has more strength than it probably will ever need.

Yet the price of Maritime Wire Fence is no higher than you must pay for ordinary fence. But the life of the Maritime Fence is far longer—and the fence surely reliable.

On this extra-quality wire we put a smooth, even heavy coat of galvanizing. We put on more than enough—that's our way. You gain by the longer life of this better fence. And we lock laterals and uprights rigidly, yet springily, with a cross-leverage lock that simply CANNOT let go under the hardest strain.

You can bank on the strength of this fence. Make the test for yourself and your neighbors. Then get the agency—it will pay you well. Address NEW BRUNSWICK WIRE FENCE CO., LTD., Moncton, N.B.

News to most women!

Oven-tested flour is for sale. Instead of buying ordinary flour you can buy flour whose baking ability has been proven in an oven:

A ten pound sample is taken from each shipment of wheat at the mill. This is ground into flour. The flour is baked into bread.

If this flour bakes into bread high in quality and large in quantity we keep the whole shipment of wheat and grind it. Otherwise we sell it. More bread and better bread from this flour is a certainty!

WE can always find something to be dissatisfied with if we set about it carefully and with malice aforethought.

It is easy to be indolent, though it seldom leads to ease.

People for whom the best isn't good enough are generally found hanging over the bargain counter sorting out the seconds.

It is hard to think ill of a man who boasts of his own game, no matter what his motives may be.

The careless way in which some people spill and slop language around at most warrants the belief that they were reared aboard ship.

Getting Wise.

A story is told of the rounds of an American heiress who invited a duke or a prince with an imposing title and debts to match to choose himself.

Some bright girls are willing to learn by the experience of others. Some girls can see the point when it is illustrated with a diagram and copious footnotes.

To the romantic young girl a prince looks like the real thing. He knows how to wear clothes that are not paid for and can hand out a line of small talk that would do credit to a ribbon salesman, but when it comes to bringing home a pay envelope on Saturday night he falls down like an amateur flying machine.

The fall styles in husbands are not running to dukes, and it is a hopeful sign.

Worked Both Ways.

"One cannot be too careful about marrying. This falling in love is all nonsense. A man should pick his life partner with as much intelligence as he would select a horse or an automobile."

"I fear you will never marry."
"Why not? Isn't that a common sense plan?"
"Yes, but that kind of a girl might be as particular herself."

Easy.

"Tell me what a man eats and I will tell you what he is like."
"Can you do it?"
"There's Jenkins, who eats free lunch."
"Like a sponge."

Rank Poison.

"Poor Nick has been convicted of arson."
"You don't say?"
"Yes."
"Then he is really arson Nick."

Kept Him Busy.

"I hear Jones has hooked up with this girl."
"Yes, he married in haste."
"To repeat at his leisure?"
"He has had no leisure since."

Way Behind.

"Pa, is the baseball season over?"
"I don't know. Ask your mother."
"Huh, she don't even know that it is started."

More Practical.

"Will you love me always?"
"Till the sun grows cold."
"How about when the sun gets chilly?"

No Discount.

"Do you think her age is what she says it is?"
"Well, all of that."

Uncertain.

"When shall we get married?"
"Tomorrow, or some other day that never comes."

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the fuel quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at a price to be agreed upon by the lessee and the Secretary of the Department of the Interior.

DOCTORS DID NOT HELP HER

But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Mrs. Bradley's Health—Her Own Statement.

Winnipeg, Canada.—"Eleven years ago I went to the Victoria Hospital, Montreal, suffering with a growth. The doctors said it was a tumor and could not be removed as it would cause instant death. They found that my organs were affected, and said I could not live more than six months in the condition I was in. After I came home I saw your advertisement in the paper, and commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it constantly for two years, and still take it at times, and both my husband and myself claim that it was the means of saving my life. I highly recommend it to suffering women."—Mrs. ORILLA BRADLEY, 224 Johnson Ave., Winnipeg, Manitoba, Can.

Why will women take chances or drag out sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound? For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc. If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

The Way They Kiss in Clare.

PART II.
Busy body, you see, Is as smart as a flea; He's getting lots of bites, O, from many a kiss. To have a public taste, One day he jumped in haste, But the girl was too quick And she did catch him slick. I bet he'll brag no more What he can do encore, For he was caught red hot Right on the very spot.

"The way they kiss in Clare," Well Sir, I do declare. To put the like in prose, If this is not a moose.

Better your writing leave, Or the girls will believe You are a kissing bug, Or a regular bump.

'T would be best in future, Such a kind of lecture, To keep right in your trunk, I'd rather smell a skunk.

'T is said, once in awhile, (With a sweet little smile) To steal a little kiss, Is something of a bliss.

So you better beware How they do kiss in Clare, Don't brag at every lass Like a stupid Jackass.

Answer to Busy Body.

Busy Body with his head in a whirl, Over his kisses and his Meteghan River girl, Did not expect his match to meet In an answer so complete.

Clare holds a lot of girls; Out of many some are pearls, Whether it be Comeauville, Meteghan, Quaco, Church Point, Grosses Coques or Pablico.

Next time Busy Body makes his round, And has covered all his ground; All the girls that he can kiss— We sure will him eternal bliss!

Of those he named he cannot boast, Tho' he may go from coast to coast. He certainly would not publish his bliss, If he could get the right kind of a kiss.

It isn't to Busy Body's credit, And he surely got a merit, By publishing about his bliss, There are some girls he cannot kiss.

Oh poor girls you have our sympathy! To be kissed out in the old poetry, We hope this lesson you will learn, After this to let him yearn!

Should Eat Fish in Lent.

The New York Fishing Gazette says: It is said that hell is paved with good intentions; and there is no doubt that our country contains many persons eager to aid their fellowmen, who still fall far short of the mark in trying to do so. The Philadelphia Record last Sunday had a portion of a page devoted to suitable menus for each meal for a whole week. Strange to say the intention of the good person who took the trouble to compile the data was to provide economical meals, yet fish appeared in the list only once, and that Friday, while oysters were mentioned twice, once stewed and again in a cock tail. Why was not fish on the list at least six times? Fried fish is a delicacy for breakfast; baked or broiled fish is delicious for dinner, while sardines or salmon are appetizing for lunch. And why confine oysters to luncheons. The cook book of the Oysters Growers and Dealers Association shows many ways in which they may be prepared for breakfast and dinner. The culinary experts of the daily papers are either dense or lazy. Some philanthropist ought to furnish them with cook books; then the public might receive some information concerning cooking, which might be of value.

Little Willie Agals.

"Pa!" came little Willie's voice from the darkness of the nursery. Pa gave a bad imitation of a snore. He was tired and did not wish to be disturbed.

"Pa!" came a little voice again. "What is it, Willie?" replied his father sleepily.

"Turn in here; I want to ask you dumpy," said the little voice. So Pa rose up from his downy and slipping into his bath robe and slippers marched into the nursery.

"Well, what is it now?" he asked. "Pa, Pa," said little Willie, "if you was to feed the cow on soap would she give shaving cream?"

A Household Remedy

THE POORHOUSE GIRL

"Selina Dustin's taken a girl from the poorhouse," remarked Elsie Sayles to the assembled Ladies' Aid Society.

Fourteen needles were suspended in midair, and twenty eight eyes sought Elsie's countenance.

"Not the girl that was found sitting by Willow pond last month, the one who couldn't remember her name?" questioned Mrs. Deacon Oliver.

"I guess it's the same one—poor, michin' looking critter," replied Mrs. Sayles briskly. "Looks like she had con summation."

"I saw her the day we went up to the poorhouse to entertain the paupers," broke the Angeline Petty. "I thought she was real pretty. She had nice blue eyes."

"Angeline's always looking at people's eyes," remarked Fanny Lawson. "What do you think, girls—somebody told me something one of the old men at the poorhouse said after we'd gone away that day?"

"What did he say?" asked Mrs. Deacon Oliver. "I know they was real pleased at our taking the trouble to entertain them."

Fanny laughed maliciously. "He said they felt sorry for us—the Ladies' Aid, mind you, girls—and that they were coming down to entertain us some day."

"Why is he sorry for us?" asked Angeline curiously.

"He says we're 'panper minded,'" Fanny exploded this bombshell and folded up her work preparatory to going home.

"Panper minded?" they shrieked in chorus. "What does he mean?"

"Give it up. Goodbye, all!" said Miss Lawson, with an airy wave of her hand. "Do you suppose she made it up?"

asked Elsie Sayles after Fanny's trim figure had passed through the front gate.

"She ain't smart enough. She don't know the meaning of panper minded," snapped Mrs. Oliver crossly. She had been the one to inaugurate a monthly day of entertainment for the benefit of the inmates of the county almshouse, and she had a real grievance not only against the aged man who had voiced the unhappy opinion, but against the institution and all its inmates.

"If that's all the gratitude them paupers have got I guess I won't take no notice of Selina Dustin's poorhouse girl," she added severely.

Angeline Petty moved indolently in her chair.

"I am going to call on her and ask her to come to Sunday school," she remarked.

"Anybody want to come with me to call on the poorhouse girl?" she asked, tucking her work into the ample black bag in her lap and rising to go.

Mrs. Petty sniffed audibly. Angeline, you'll go on your own responsibility," she protested.

"I'm not afraid," retorted Angeline quietly. "None of my relations died in the almshouse. I ain't a bit sensitive about calling on that girl. She's young, and she's nice, even if she is poor and not exactly right in her head. It ain't her fault that she can't remember her name, is it?"

"What do they call her?" asked Mrs. Oliver stiffly.

"Mary Jones. Well, I've got to go all alone, I see. Ma, don't look so sick over it. 'Tain't as if I was going to elope." Angeline waved a plump hand at her faintly smiling parent and waded comfortably out of the room and down the path to the gate.

At the gate she paused for a few moments and looked uncertainly up and down the road, and then, as if suddenly coming to a decision, Angeline crossed the road and plunged into the footpath that led through the oak woods to the crossroads where Selina Dustin lived in a long white house half hidden among locust trees and lilac bushes.

In Selina Dustin's front yard Mary Jones was sitting on the circular bench under the largest locust tree. She was delicately fair, with deep blue eyes and little white hands that looked as if they had never done a day's hard work. The hands were idly folded on the lap of her blue cotton dress.

"She's fleshing up and growing prettier every day," said Angeline to Selina Dustin, who was sitting on the side porch.

"I ain't the only one who thinks so," murmured Selina, with a satisfied smile at the graceful form under the tree.

"What do you mean?" asked Angeline, sinking into a chair.

"I mean that Raymond Ellis is sweet on her. Don't tell any one, Angeline," pleaded Selina softly. "If you do, sure so fate some of them old tabby cats will talk about her."

"Raymond Ellis!" repeated Angeline dazedly. "Why, Selina, he's never taken notice of a Red River girl before. He's so lofty and proud."

"He's been here a dozen times, spang up to the front door and asked for her like a gentleman. Nothing sneaking and underhanded about it. Ellis' boy," said Selina warmly. "I allowed her to entertain him in the parlor, and she played on the old pianer and sang to him in the sweetest voice you ever heard. Sung in some furrin language, too!"

"Before he went home Raymond came out into the sitting room where I was and he said to me: 'Miss Dustin, we got to find out about Miss Jones; she's refined and educated, and it's evident that she comes from nice people. Can't you help her remember her name?'"

"And I faced him and I says sharp ly, 'what business is it of yours, Raymond Ellis?'"

"What did he say?" whispered Angeline eagerly.

"He flushed up and looked handsome or that ever, but he spoke firm. 'It's my business, because I'm going to marry her if she'll have me, but I want to give her all the chance there is to find out about her folks if she can remember.' So he told me he was going to bring down a great specialist from the city who would examine her. I told him to go along and do it, but I don't know, Angeline. I hope I'm doing right."

"He's a noble fellow," said Angeline, whipping away a tear. "I came to call on her and ask her to come to Sunday school," she went on.

"She'll be glad to go, Angeline. It's made me real mad to see how the village girls are acting about Mary. It ain't Christian like."

And I had spent most of my money for food and night's lodging at an inn. I couldn't remember what had happened to me. I couldn't remember my name or where I lived. Then I came to Red River, somebody found me, and I was committed to your almshouse. Then dear Miss Selina Dustin found me and brought me here, not so much because I could help her, but because she was sorry for me."

"Dr. Wainwright has broken the spell of silence that has oppressed my mind. I have remembered my name and my people, and tomorrow I am going home." She clasped her hands joyously.

"But she is coming back some day as my wife," said Raymond Ellis, who had wooed a poorhouse girl and found a wife in the person of Marjorie Dale, the daughter of a New York merchant, who had sought far and wide for his missing child.

And Angeline Petty and Selina Dustin fell on each other's neck and wept for joy, while the Ladies' Aid society filed past Marjorie Dale and tendered awkward congratulations on her restoration to health and name.

And now not one of them begrudges Angeline or Selina her intimacy and friendship with Raymond Ellis' beautiful young wife.

WEYMOUTH.

School Compositions on Our Sister Town.

FIRST EQUALLY AWARDED TO DAISY FREEM, OF GRADE IX AND PHILIP FILLEUL, OF GRADE XI, BOTH PUPILS BEING ABOUT SIXTEEN YEARS OF AGE.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR: Some few weeks ago the pupils of the Advanced Department of the Weymouth school were given an exercise in composition writing, the subject being Weymouth.

About twenty five papers were handed in to the principal as a result.

A committee was appointed to examine them. After considerable labor, for so many efforts were of such a degree of excellence, considering the youthfulness of the writers, the choice of "first," in respect to general efficiency was equally awarded to Daisy Freem, of Grade IX and Philip Filleul, of Grade XI, both being about 16 years of age.

As an extra incentive for good efforts the pupils were promised that the work, receiving best marks from the judges, would be published in the "Courier," should you receive it.

In accordance with that promise I am herewith enclosing the papers mentioned above.

Trusting you may find space to publish them, and thus encourage a worthy feature of school work.

I remain, Yours truly,

O. H. CHURCHILL.

WEYMOUTH.

Weymouth is situated on the Sissiboo River, a short distance from its mouth. It is in Digby County and is about one hundred and seventy miles from Halifax, the capital of Nova Scotia. The principal roads in Weymouth lead to New Tuskent, Yarmouth, Weymouth Falls and Digby. The outlying districts are New Tuskent, Ashmore, Weymouth Falls and St. Bernard's.

Some of the first settlers of Weymouth were United Empire Loyalists. They were of British origin. The reason of their settling here was because of their allegiance to Great Britain during the time of the American Revolution. They chose the Maritime Provinces because of their being more like Britain than any other part of Canada. Weymouth was first called Sissiboo, deriving its name from the River. The name Sissiboo was given to the River by some Indians who were travelling up it in a canoe. They saw six o

Perry's Fearless Players.

PUT ON TWO GOOD SHOWS IN DIGBY THIS WEEK.

Mr. G. Both plays were good and delighted the large audiences which greeted them.

Mr. Perry and his entire company are general favorites in Digby and are always well patronized. In fact they are general favorites wherever they are known. TAKES OFF DANDRUFF. HAIR STOPS FALLING Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Dandruff right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp, of dandruff—that awful scourge. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Dandruff tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandruff from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Dandruff. Save your hair! Try it!

SEES A BLACK CONSPIRACY.

With Mrs. B. Doing Her Best to Destroy Home and Happiness—Nothing Left but to Consult His Lawyer—Mrs. B.'s Sensational Acknowledgments.

By M. QUAD.

(Copyright, 1913, by Associated Literary Press.)

MRS. BOWSER was looking out the window as Mr. Bowser dropped off the cat. There was a certain hitch to his legs and a certain bump to his shoulders which meant mischief. He kicked the gate open and kicked it shut, and there was a stony glare in his eyes as he unlocked the front door.

"Are you ill, dear?" queried Mrs. Bowser.

"Ill?" he growled. "The wonder is that I am not in my grave!"

"Have you got one of your old fashioned headaches?"

"Old fashioned bosh! I suppose hash is ready, but I don't want any. You can go along and eat by yourself!"

"Shan't I send for the doctor?"

"Send for nothing and nobody!" he shouted as he passed on to the sitting room and sat down on the lounge.

He threatens to leave home.

Mrs. Bowser knew that it was useless to persist, and she went to her dinner alone. When she had finished and returned Mr. Bowser was standing before the fireplace, with his arm on the mantel. He looked at her for thirty seconds as a lion looks at his prey and then said:

"Woman, things have got to go different around this house or I leave it!"

"What's the matter now?" she asked.

"Ten thousand things are the matter! Who took a sledgehammer and broke that pane of glass in the front window?"

"Why, you cracked it the day you were hanging a picture and fell off the stepladder!"

"Never! Never hung a picture or fell off the stepladder in my life. In on, as he wheeled around and drummed on it with his knuckles. "Here's a glass that cost me $75, and because you thought I wasn't going to the poor house fast enough you stand off with a club and whack and pound it and smash and break and ruin it!"

Mr. Bowser paid only $30 for that glass, because it had a damaged spot down in one corner—the spot he was now pointing at with arm outstretched. He knew it, and Mrs. Bowser knew that he knew it, and so she maintained silence.

Discovers More Outrages.

"And look at this furniture! Is there a chair in this room that isn't knee-sprung and lopsided? Who called in a tramp from the street and gave him 50 cents to take a crowbar and pound my favorite armchair to pieces?"

Mrs. Bowser preserved a discreet silence, and Mr. Bowser walked up and down with a tramp, tramp, and it was several minutes before he could find any other excuse for opening his mouth. All of a sudden the clock stopped. It was an eight day clock and a pet of his, and nobody had ever been allowed to wind it but him.

"And there goes the clock!" he yelled. "There being nothing else left to break and destroy, some one has bored a hole in this clock with an auger or baked it in a hot oven! Woman, do you hear me—the clock has stopped!"

"It has run down," she replied.

"But why—why has it run down?"

"Because you didn't wind it!"

"Oh, I didn't! Didn't wind it up, eh? It hasn't been thrown into the back yard, kicked down cellar or tossed up stairs? Mrs. Bowser, look at me!"

Decides to Send For His Lawyer.

"I am going to my room! I must not be disturbed! Early in the morning I will send for my lawyer to arrange about the alimony, and you can probably take the 2 o'clock train for your mother's! Woman, go out and get a fence rail and use it to smash doors and windows and furniture, and thus make a clean wreck before you go! Good night to you; good night!"

"Just wait a moment, please," called Mrs. Bowser.

"Well, madam?"

"You might as well know the worst. Two clothespins are missing!"

He flushed up.

"And a hand is loose on one of the kitchen knives!"

He went pale.

"And the cook has broken the handle of a teaspoon!"

"Woman!"

"And I think the rats are eating at the coal!"

"You—you—"

"And I found a trousers button down cellar today!"

A woman who had gone to a hospital to be operated upon wrote two post-cards.

My Dear Husband—I have had the operation and am sorry to tell you that I did not survive.

Putting Mrs. B. in Her Place.

"Don't talk back to me, Mrs. Bowser! When I say a thing is so, that ends it."

on, as he wheeled around and drummed on it with his knuckles. "Here's a glass that cost me $75, and because you thought I wasn't going to the poor house fast enough you stand off with a club and whack and pound it and smash and break and ruin it!"

Mr. Bowser paid only $30 for that glass, because it had a damaged spot down in one corner—the spot he was now pointing at with arm outstretched. He knew it, and Mrs. Bowser knew that he knew it, and so she maintained silence.

Discovers More Outrages.

"And look at this furniture! Is there a chair in this room that isn't knee-sprung and lopsided? Who called in a tramp from the street and gave him 50 cents to take a crowbar and pound my favorite armchair to pieces?"

Mrs. Bowser preserved a discreet silence, and Mr. Bowser walked up and down with a tramp, tramp, and it was several minutes before he could find any other excuse for opening his mouth. All of a sudden the clock stopped. It was an eight day clock and a pet of his, and nobody had ever been allowed to wind it but him.

"And there goes the clock!" he yelled. "There being nothing else left to break and destroy, some one has bored a hole in this clock with an auger or baked it in a hot oven! Woman, do you hear me—the clock has stopped!"

"It has run down," she replied.

"But why—why has it run down?"

"Because you didn't wind it!"

"Oh, I didn't! Didn't wind it up, eh? It hasn't been thrown into the back yard, kicked down cellar or tossed up stairs? Mrs. Bowser, look at me!"

Decides to Send For His Lawyer.

"I am going to my room! I must not be disturbed! Early in the morning I will send for my lawyer to arrange about the alimony, and you can probably take the 2 o'clock train for your mother's! Woman, go out and get a fence rail and use it to smash doors and windows and furniture, and thus make a clean wreck before you go! Good night to you; good night!"

"Just wait a moment, please," called Mrs. Bowser.

"Well, madam?"

"You might as well know the worst. Two clothespins are missing!"

He flushed up.

"And a hand is loose on one of the kitchen knives!"

He went pale.

"And the cook has broken the handle of a teaspoon!"

"Woman!"

"And I think the rats are eating at the coal!"

"You—you—"

"And I found a trousers button down cellar today!"

Mr. Bowser tried his best, but it wouldn't work—he couldn't reply.

We Know They're Good Delays Are Dangerous You Risk No Money

Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets, in addition to other ingredients, contain Pepsin and Bismuth, two great digestive aids used by the entire medical profession. They soothe the inflamed stomach, check the heartburn and distress, stimulate a healthy secretion of the gastric juice, aid in rapid and comfortable digestion of the food and help to quickly convert it into rich red blood, and thereby into flesh, bone and muscle. They relieve stomach distress promptly, and, used regularly for a short time, tend to restore the stomach to a comfortable, easy-acting, healthy state. They aid greatly to promote regular bowel action.

Don't neglect indigestion, for it frequently leads to all sorts of ills and complications. The pain and discomfort is not the most unfortunate part. The fact that when the stomach is not acting right, the material needed to repair the wastes that are constantly taking place in the body is not being given to the blood either in the proper condition or fast enough is far more serious. Nothing will cause more trouble than an unhealthy stomach. The blues, debility, lack of strength and energy, constipation, biliousness, headaches and scores of other serious ailments result from the failure of the stomach to properly do its work.

Our willingness to have you use Rexall Dyspepsia Tablets entirely at our risk proves our faith in them. MEDICAL INSPECTION OF SCHOOLS IN TORONTO

By W. E. STRUTHERS, B.A., M.D., L.R.C.P., M.R.C.S.
Chief Medical Inspector

Medical inspection of the schools was begun in Toronto by the Board of Education in a tentative way, early in 1910. Miss Lina I. Rogers was appointed superintendent of nurses, and began work April 24th, investigating the down town schools, seeking out the dispensaries, settlement work, and hospitals where attention could be secured for the children of the poor. At this time there were seventy schools, four homes, two industrial schools, with a school attendance of 45,000 children under the Board's jurisdiction. On May 6th, two assistant nurses were appointed, and on September 15th, two medical inspectors and on Nov. 3rd two more nurses. The two medical inspectors and four nurses could only care for about twenty schools with an attendance of about 12,000 children, giving an average of one inspection for every three schools.

The work of the medical inspectors and nurses disclosed such serious conditions of health that arrangements were undertaken by the Board to organize a system at the beginning of 1911 that would cover the whole city. On February 2nd, a Chief Medical Inspector was appointed, and on March 2, eight assistant medical inspectors, one dental inspector, and thirteen nurses were added to the staff. The city was divided into six districts, each medical inspector having two groups of schools, the medical inspector visiting one of his groups every other day, and the nurse making daily visits to each school. On February 15, 1912, six additional nurses, and on March 21, ten additional medical inspectors were added to the staff; on March 6, 1913, three more medical inspectors, and twelve nurses were appointed, to complete the medical and nursing staff, so that now there is an every day service by both medical inspector and nurse for every school. This year dental rooms were equipped in four schools, and four dental chairs were installed. On April 3rd, 1913, two dental surgeons were appointed, and later two more were added, so that four dental chairs are now in operation from 9 to 12 a. m., including Saturday. The total staff comprises a chief medical inspector on whole time in charge of the department; 21 medical inspectors on part time, one dental inspector and four dental surgeons on part time, one superintendent of nurses and 37 school nurses on whole time. The city is divided into 20 districts with a medical inspector and two nurses in charge of each (in three districts only one nurse). The Medical Inspector and nurses of each district are expected to have an accurate knowledge of the prevalence of disease, sanitary conditions, home environments and cleanliness, and the number of indigent families of their districts. One of the Assistant Medical Inspectors has been given as his special work the investigation of tuberculosis cases among the school children. This work is now being thoroughly organized. All known positive cases are being recorded and every suspected child will be specially examined and given the tuberculin test. It is expected, therefore, that we will soon have accurate information as to the prevalence and extent of tuberculosis among our school children. The children will, as far as possible, be sent to the Weston Free Hospital, the Preventorium, or the Forest Schools, according to the conditions found in each case. The district medical inspectors and nurses will assist the Special Tuberculosis Examiner by referring suspected cases to him and reporting home surroundings and conditions, especially any known cases of tuberculosis among adults or other children in the same home.

It should not need a severely logical mind, to recognize even by a very casual attention to the subject that it is practically impossible to magnify the importance of removing early in a child's life every handicap to its mental and physical development. There are many things about which there may be differences of opinion, many things which lend themselves to academic discussion, which can be very usefully set aside. There are so many self evident, sane, practical things to attend to in child development that we can easily feel satisfied to set aside facts, pet ideas, or set theories. There is today such persistent neglect of the laws of health and outrageous violation of the laws of the human body that there is plenty to do to teach even the rudimentary truths, and care for manifest physical defects and disease. It is not the children of the ignorant, the intemperate, the vicious, or the too busy only, who suffer from parents' lack of knowledge of even the rudimentary truths of physiology and hygiene, but also the children of well to do and well educated parents. It is most astounding to learn the extent of prejudice and superstition in regard to health matters among the well educated (Well educated in other ways).

It would appear that the majority of people when considering the physiology and hygiene of their own bodies, when considering their health or ailments leave the realm of common sense to enter a mysterious realm of magic, folklore, and superstition. Anyone's "senses" is taken as an undeniable fact, because, forsooth, they claim to have had experience. Many lives are annually sacrificed on the altar of false deductions in experience with disease. The wisest, ablest, and best trained, scientific minds are continually alert and on guard in diagnosis of disease. Even the wisest, ablest, and keenest physician may be wrong in his diagnosis. Yet how frequently we find a child with serious defect or disease, neglected because some old grandmother said "He will grow out of it," or "it is only a touch of prickly heat." Thus young lives have been wrecked or lost, children left blind or deaf, crippled or deformed, maimed for life, or left prone to disease because of the dictum of some one who knew nothing of the condition. The simple laws of health, the most out standing and ordinary laws of the human body are today so persistently, heedlessly, and outrageously violated that it must be assumed that the belief is general, that no penalty will follow such violation. Because a sharp, immediate penalty does not follow the violation of a natural law of the body, many people assume that the violation may continue with impunity. Nature may exact the extreme penalty of death for the violated law on the instant, but commonly nature deals very leniently with us, even when its laws are violated persistently and outrageously. But the penalty will inevitably come; it may need a vision of five or ten or even 15 or twenty years to see it.

TEACHING OF HYGIENE.
Parents are either ignorant, heedless, or wilfully neglectful of the simplest fundamental laws of the hygiene of food, drink, clothing, ventilation, and cleanliness. For one child that dies for want of food and clothing there are a thousand die from improper feeding and over feeding, improper clothing and over clothing, and codling. So we have endeavored to make the teaching of these simple truths of the hygiene of child life the important basis of all our work believing we will accomplish more for the coming generations by inculcating the laws of health and the simple but important truths of the hygiene of the body, than in any other way.

FOOD.
It is time to sound a general alarm in the matter of children's food, drink, sleep and amusement. Our children are suffering, degenerating, dying, not from want of food, but because of improper and unwholesome food. In this as in so many essential things, parental control seems fast disappearing. I do not know whether it is from parental lack of knowledge or indifference or both. Parents tell me they let their children eat and drink whatever they want—and they call it kindness. A little girl at school was asked what she had for breakfast, "A glass of lemonade and a bit of cake" was the answer. Her puny body showed that this was a habit not an accident.

DRINK.
In the matter of drink, water and milk, especially in the cool weather, are being fast forgotten. Tea, coffee, cocoa, are invariably handed out to children of all ages, even babies in arms. The tea and coffee habit is having a marked effect on our rising generation. It is helping to produce high strung, nervous, insubordinate children, that later in life fall into penitentiaries and insane asylums.

SLEEP.
Parents who believe that babies can sleep in their arms, in a baby carriage or go-cart when they get about with them at Hanlan's Point or Scarborough Beach Park will have a sorry awakening some day. But they will ascribe it to something else, not their own gross abuse of the baby. Most of our children do not get enough rest and sleep; rest should mean complete relaxation of the muscles. A young babe should be in its bed by 7 o'clock, and stay there till morning, except for necessary feeding and care.

AMUSEMENTS.
There is one thing our children do not get enough of and that is amusement, they get too much of the stimulating, exciting, and unhealthy kind of amusement. A child needs amusement, but of the simplest kind, and largely in the nature of play. Moving picture shows, band concerts, days and nights at Hanlan's Point, Scarborough Beach, the Midway at the Exhibition, and light operas at the theatre are making our children blasé before they are out of their teens, and giving them a weak, unstable, nervous system, and a mushy sentiment which they dream is genuine feeling.

CLOTHING AND FOOTWEAR.
The wearing of sweater coats at all seasons of the year is an almost universal fad among our boys and girls. The sweater coat has its legitimate use, but the school boy and girl, often encouraged by its mother, thinks it should never come off after it goes on in the morning. Girls wear heavy three quarter length Boys wear them under their coats or a jersey under the sweater. These are not worn going and coming from school only, but all day in the classroom. In winter I have found boys and girls wearing big heavy sweaters in class rooms 70 and 72 degrees. Some of them were sitting beside radiators hot enough to destroy any child's health. At the recess periods overcoats are frequently worn over the coat and sweater.

In the winter weather it is common to find children who keep their rubbers on all day. This habit will always have an injurious effect on the health. In the summer months many children are found wearing tennis shoes and running shoes; these also have rubber soles and are injurious to health.

PEDICULOSIS.
Another condition requiring a lot of attention is the child's hair. Infected heads are pretty common in some schools, and it requires a lot of watchfulness and strict supervision on the part of the nurse to keep certain schools even fairly free of pediculosis. This is much more common among girls than boys. In fact, I believe that girls living in tenement houses who have persistently unclean heads should always have their hair cut, because it is almost impossible to keep the head clean (free from vermin). We have induced quite a number of mothers to consent to this. In England the law allows the hair to be cut at the school if the mother does not keep the head clean after being notified. Here in some particularly distressing home circumstances the nurse attends to the combing herself. In one charitable institution as many as 150 to 160 of the school children's heads were combed in one morning, and one third to one half found infected. We want to keep these children free from infection without losing too much time from school. It would be much better if the girls' hair were cut.

NOSE BLOWING DRILLS.
In my last annual report I spoke of the great difficulty of keeping children's noses clean and of keeping them supplied with handkerchiefs. Pieces of cotton and even the paper towels are sometimes used in lieu of hankerchiefs. Ninety per cent. of school children do not seem to know how to blow the nose so as to keep the nasal passages free from discharge. This neglect causes an unhealthy catarrhal condition of the nasal and respiratory passages. Our Superintendent of Nurses has inaugurated preventive measures which will, I hope, result in keeping the nasal passages clean, and giving relief from many colds and catarrhal conditions. Children are taught how to use a handkerchief so as to thoroughly clear the nose of discharge, and class "nose blowing drills" have been started in most schools. It is hoped also that by keeping the nasal passages clean, free from obstruction and inflammation, the very reprehensible habit of mouth breathing may be to some extent prevented.

TONSILS AND ADENOIDS.
It is astonishing how frequently one finds a dirty tongue and foul breath in a child that should be as clean and sweet as a rose. It only indicates the prevalence of an improper diet with the presence of carious teeth, diseased tonsils and adenoids. We have had many striking examples of the results of attention to the teeth, removal of diseased tonsils and adenoids. In these cases there was a rapid improvement of general nutrition, a quickened intelligence, and a readier application to school work with a marked improvement of school progress. During the year nearly 200 children have had adenoids removed, 100 diseased tonsils removed, and 900 have had both adenoids and tonsils removed. The change from dull, slow, colorless, stupid looking boys with discharging noses, sleepy eyes, round shoulders, contracted chests and puny bodies, to clean, alert, erect, active, bright eyed and intelligent looking boys is a striking picture not soon to be forgotten by those who have had the pleasure of observing it. The statement of this fact does not cause the quickening of the pulse of a single reader, but the realization in the living flesh of even one of such cases makes pessimists into optimists in the twinkling of an eye. In a number of flagrant cases of neglect of such conditions that we believed the child's life was imperiled or its development seriously handicapped, a report was sent to the Juvenile Court. The parents were summoned to court and fined, with the result that almost all these children obtained remedial treatment.

DECAYED TEETH.
A foul, unclean, unhealthy mouth and throat is always found where teeth are decayed and uncared for, and an unclean mouth is a great breeding place for disease germs. School dental clinics are the solution of the question of the care of children's teeth, and it will not be long ere it is generally recognized that a school is incomplete without a dental chair. And the policy should be to do dental work for all children who require it up to at least 12 years of age. The second set of teeth are then about completely erupted. Through the Medical Inspection Department of the Board of Education the school children of Toronto were supplied with 10,000 tooth brushes, sold at 10c. and 5c. each, and 13,000 tubes of tooth paste sold at 5c. a tube. This attention to the cleanliness of the teeth alone must be of great benefit to the children. Some principals have their teachers ask their pupils each morning how many brushed their teeth before coming to school. In one school the report from the classes varied from 50 to 91 per cent. During the past year also 3,010 children had their teeth filled, 746 children had badly decayed teeth or roots extracted, and 292 had their teeth filled and others extracted.

DEFECTIVE VISION.
Many children have had their eyes tested. Quite a number of children were found with defective vision, whose parents never dreamed of such a defect being present. As a result of this faithful work 670 children were fitted with glasses and 40 had to be refitted. The Board supplied 61 children with glasses free of cost. This furnishes some indication of the small number, less than 10 per cent., unable to purchase glasses for their children and of the care of the nurses in the selection of the cases in which they recommended free glasses. Free glasses are recommended only after careful investigation of financial circumstances, by the nurse.

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Digby, March 27, 1914

Death of Mrs. Cynthia Mount.

Mrs. Cynthia Mount, one of the oldest residents of Digby, passed peacefully away from her home in Marshalltown, on Tuesday morning, March 24th, at the age of 87 years. Although an invalid for many years she will be greatly missed by the community at large and particularly by the hour circle to whom she was greatly attached. Deceased was formerly a Miss DuRand, of Brighton, and was twice married. She leaves to mourn their loss three sons, George, Milledge and Charles, and two daughters, Mrs. Frederick Dakin, of Digby, and Mrs. John McGuire, of Smith's Cove; also one sister, Mrs. Adams, of Brighton, and one brother, besides thirty six grand-children and a number of great-grandchildren.

The funeral service took place from her late home Thursday with interment in the Baptist cemetery at Marshalltown.

Brought Home For Interment.

Our Tiverton correspondent writes: The remains of the late Gordon Soloway, accompanied by his widow and brother Churchill, arrived here Wednesday. Hardly Fair.

It is unfortunate that certain Nova Scotia members of the Opposition attempted to belittle the sister town of Bear River when the estimates for public buildings were up in Parliament last week.

Mr. Kite, the Nova Scotia Whig, stated repeatedly that the population was not more than 400. Of course no public building would be erected to serve a population of 400. Fortunately the Minister of Public Works, Hon. Robt. Rogers, had accurate information and was able to dispose of the attack.

Bear River has long been given the go by, by the Dominion Government, and now that its requirements are being looked after, up crops opposition in unexpected quarters.

Death of Mrs. Welthy A. McKay.

Our Tiverton correspondent writes: We regret to chronicle this week the death of Mrs. Welthy Ann McKay, which took place at the home of her nephew, Mr. Hiram Outhouse, on Tuesday evening, March 17th, aged 80 years. Robbins, one brother, Mr. Lyons Outhouse, Tiverton, and a large number of relatives and friends. Funeral took place on Thursday from Mr. Outhouse's home and was largely attended. How a cut led to 4 years of suffering

Mr. J. D. Arsonault, a Justice of the Peace and station master at Wellington, on the P. E. I. Ry., says: "Four years ago I fell on a freight truck, sustaining a bad cut on the front of my leg. I thought this would heal, but instead it developed into a bad ulcer, and later into a form of eczema which spread very rapidly and also started on the other leg. Both legs became so swollen and sore that I could only go about my work by having them bandaged."

"I consulted two doctors, and tried all the salves, liniments and lotions I heard of, but instead of getting better I got worse."

How Zam-Buk cured.

"This was my condition when I got my first box of Zam-Buk. Greatly to my delight that first box gave me relief. I continued to apply it to the sores, and day by day they got better. I could see that at last I had got hold of something which would cure me, and in the end it did."

"It is now over a year since Zam-Buk worked a cure in my case, and there has been no return of the eczema."

Purely herbal in composition, Zam-Buk is a sure cure for all skin diseases, cold sores, chapped hands, ulcers, blood-poisoning, varicose sores, piles, ringworm, inflamed patches, cuts, burns and bruises. All druggists and stores sell at 50c. box, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price.

FIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is fussy, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhea, full of cold, gives a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

Na-Dru-Co Laxatives are especially good for children because they are pleasant to take, gentle in action, do not irritate the bowels nor develop a need for continual or increased doses. 25c. a box, at your Druggist's.

TUMOR IN THE STOMACH

Completely Removed When She Took "Fruit-a-lives"

NEWBURY, ONT., April 4th, 1913.

"Some years ago, I was sick in bed, and thought I was going to die. I had a growth in my stomach, which the doctors said was a tumor and they said that the only thing to do was to go to the hospital and have the tumor cut out. I dreaded an operation although both doctors said it was the only cure. I said I would die before being operated on.

At this time, my mother in Alvinston sent me some "Fruit-a-lives" and induced me to try them as she had heard of another woman who had been cured of a similar growth in the stomach by taking "Fruit-a-lives".

To please my mother, I began to take "Fruit-a-lives" with the happy result that they cured me. I have not been to see a doctor since and my health is first class.

I recommend "Fruit-a-lives" every time I get a chance and I will be glad to have you publish this letter as some other woman may now be a sufferer from the same trouble and "Fruit-a-lives" will cure her." MRS. A. McDONALD.

Concrete Fence Posts Last Forever

THEY never rot away in the ground. They stand the hardest knocks and never have to be replaced, for they are practically everlasting. They are easily and cheaply made and are the most satisfactory of all fence posts.

Concrete Drain Tile Cannot Decay

Concrete drains do not decay and are cheaper, because they do not crumble and stop up drains, hence they need no digging up or relaying.

Let us send you this free book, "What the Farmer can do with Concrete." It shows you how to make concrete fence posts and will save you many dollars when doing other building round the farm.

Humor and Philosophy

PERT PARAGRAPHS.

SPEAK kindly to the quarrelsome man. It may surprise him to such an extent that he will forget his grouch.

Woman might not make a good grafter, but she might make the grafter's make good.

A sick man is sure there is nothing doing in the world but his ailment.

Now is a good time to begin saving up for that Christmas present your wife is going to buy you.

Work off your grouch on a bucksaw, not on your wife.

Quite Useful.
Man needs a wife
To keep him straight
When he is prone
To celebrate
To guide him with A smile or frown
When he gets gay
To call him down.

Who else will give Him good advice,
Unselfish, too,
And minus price?
Who else will serve
The truth on toast
The moment that
He needs it most?

When he is making Foolish breaks
And while dear
His finger shakes
He knows it's time
For him to back
And shut upon Another tack.

Who else will give
The word of cheer
When he is down
And out of gear?
Who else a warning
Glance will fling
When he is asked
To rise and sing?

Man needs a wife.
He never knows
His faults until
The light she throws
Upon the goods
That line his shelf
Nor takes a tumble
To himself.

Would Help Some.

"I'm up against it good and proper."
"Sorry, old fellow. Wish I could help you."
"You can."
"I'm afraid not. I am hard up myself."
"Well, you can refrain from offering me advice."

Doomed to Frostbite.
Some of the cunningest little presidential booms that were ever looked at through a microscope are now being placed on exhibition by admiring friends.

The original Bill Jones man is abroad, and he rises to whoop 'er up for his favorite, evidently under the impression that the people are not the least bit particular as to their presidential candidates.

As it is three years now until the patriotic voter will have to stay down town nights to save the country the average man isn't getting excited over the nominations that are offered. He knows that most of the booms sprung now will be planted under the daisies and forgotten long before the critical moment arrives.

Off His Guard.

"You were late this morning, Mr. Slowly."
"Yes, my train got blocked."
"That is a poor excuse."
"Well, you struck me so suddenly I didn't have time to think of a better one."

Helps Along.

"I suppose the landlord speeds the parting guest."
"That depends."
"On what?"
"Well, he kicks you out if you don't pay your bill."

What is the Answer?

"The world owes me a living, anyway."
"Does it?"
"It does."
"How did it contract the debt?"

No Know.

"I am all in," said the discouraged one.
"In what?" asked the facetious friend.
"In the soup."

Needed Corroboration.

"Are you willing to take a hint?"
"Under certain conditions."
"Indeed! What conditions?"
"If its references are satisfactory."

Obvious.

Do those who'd pay the tax begrudge it
And long to rise and kill
The holy, blooming British budget?
Will water run down hill?

Backed Up.

"How would you feel in a sleeping bag?"
"Like the salt of the earth."

The schooner Kewa, Gibson and Maple Leaf, Baird, came down the river from Annapolis Monday and proceeded to their destinations, the former for Port Wadsworth to load piling for Boston and the latter for St. John with brick.

Schr. Albert J. Lutz put back from fishing Tuesday night to land her skipper, Capt. Arthur Longmire, who is suffering with measles. She sailed again Wednesday night in charge of her former skipper, Capt. John Apt, of Port Wadsworth.

A party of Digby and Montreal yachtsmen are talking about chartering the schr. Albert J. Lutz, for the purpose of taking in the International yacht races off Sandy Hook in September. Should this occur Capt. John Apt will go in command and will have his vessel in yacht-like appearance for the excursion.

Yarmouth Herald: During the month of March the following officers have passed the marine examinations successfully before Capt. J. T. Murphy, James Lecain, Choverly, N. Thursday's St. John Telegraph: A shipment of 9,000 lbs. of fresh haddock, the first American lot of the season, arrived on the steamer Calvin Austin from Boston for our local wholesalers. The wholesale fish dealers in the city say that there is very little fresh haddock to be had from New Brunswick or Nova Scotia fishermen. The American fish received is said to be a good article, practically the same grade of fish brought here from Digby, as both the Boston and Digby fishermen frequent the same grounds, Brown's Bank, off Cape Sable.
