1877-1977

Now and then a printing job had a save in parchment paper which required a special kind of printers' ink which smelled very bad some days. I always dreaded it when "Mac" would take you to the largest press in spite of the fact he always opened an outside door to lessen the odors on the room itself.

One of the jobs I had to do, besides putting and grinding down the staff, was to... I cleaned one and then... One day not long after I started to get to the grating plant. I decided to climb the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned for some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily. He thought the remark pretty good and whole.

Sometimes the gasoline engine, a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and the "Man" fix it. A man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results. Man would then stand back and come out dramatically then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of coaxing."

On other occasions when my wife refused duty for me and seemed to be brokenhearted, I would say, "use a little oil" and sure enough after that is said, I took them often since, have I heard of the value of that remark and the actual need of oil in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the time I told "Mac", of four teenage boys who in the spring season of 1958 got together just before dark one evening and decided to mutilate the newly built outdoor Penn Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just out of the pool, nobody else seemed to be around except the four boys, no thought or time for bathing suits, so in the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one went jumping in. The rest quickly followed and across the pool the swim rest quickly followed and across the pool the boys swam. "Mac" inferred to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Swims Officially Open Pines Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the four? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Earl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars (second world and Korean), was awarded the Victoria Cross; Sidney L. Smith, now prominent druggist; for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale importer of hardware and myself.

As a young treasurer I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day "Mac" said to me how about writing your version of the story told about "The Marooning of Jerome". I did it and read it aloud to two somewhat different groups of the men who was found marooned on a French Island some place on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Duffy County. When I read this man's tongue had been cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Jerome" appeared to have been a man of considerable social standing and, possibly, of considerable wealth. However, the only thing I could or would ever ask after before he was taken for by some family in the French shore was something that sounded like "Ours" before either could not, or, would not, say, "who he was (or why he was left in the hands of a was, and, in one of Digby County, New Brunswick, and different ideas have been put forward in years concerning this man. However, I felt no urge to pursue the matter further about this man. The fact has been very well explored by other people, and he was a sort of a people who lived where he lived."

free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students, one of which was J.J.'s daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Abbott of Tibet, Connecticut, Digby Co.). Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters. I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print." I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and trimming paper stock, trying like for certain desired colors, and so forth, but, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "go", the printers name for a confused mess.

There was a taste of trying to sell people outside the plant. Work was a little less an early fall day and so Mac said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried to make several calls. I spent most of the time at one particular house, and got out an order, but

WOMAN IN TERRIBLE STATE

Finds Help in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Cape Wolfe, Canada.—"Last March I was a complete wreck. I had given up all hope of getting better or living any length of time, as I was such a sufferer from female troubles. But I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and today I am in good health and have a pair of twin boys two months old and growing finely. I surprised doctors and neighbors for they all know what a wreck I was.

"Now I am healthy, happy and hearty, and owe it all to Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies. You may publish this letter if you like. I think if more women used your remedies they would have better health."—Mrs. J. T. Cook, Lot No. 7, Cape Wolfe, P.E.I., Canada.

Because your case is a difficult one, and doctors having done you no good, do not continue to suffer without giving Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial. It surely has remedied many cases of female ills, such as inflammation, ulceration, displacements, tumors, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, and it may be exactly what you need.

The Pinkham record is a proud and peerless one. It is a record of constant victory over the obstinate ills of women—ills that deal out despair. It is an established fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has restored health to thousands of such suffering women. Why don't you try it if you need such a medicine?

CORRESPONDENCE.

Cause of Insanity.

To the Editor of the Courier

DEAR SIR:—A Commission on Lunacy in California recently reported that sixty per cent of those in the Asylums are there because of alcohol—that is five thousand maniacs made so by drink.

Dr. Dawson, Medical Superintendent of the Sonoma State Hospital for feeble-minded, last month told the Alameda County Social Workers' Club that there are over 9000 feeble-minded folk in California and said that alcohol is the greatest known cause of feeble-mindedness.

When addressing the National Medical Association at Indianapolis a few weeks ago Dr. Alderman, a New York specialist in nervous and mental diseases, said, "Alcohol creates more insanity than all other causes combined."

The most serious point is that alcoholic drinks often start insanity in an otherwise healthy family, and that it becomes hereditary running down through several generations.

We must all be mad, if we do not grapple with this dreadful evil.

The Bijou Dream.

The management of the Bijou Dream suggests that if you are a lover of clean photographs, if you desire your children or your younger friends shall see the best in film, that you tell them about the Famous Players' Features that are running at this theatre every Tuesday evening.

We wish to call your attention especially to the fact that these features are being shown for the first time in Nova Scotia, and some of them have not as yet been seen in the city of St. John.

Our prices for these subjects are lower than charged in the big cities, therefore we expect our patrons to give us their hearty support.

We feel that by using these features in Digby we are boosting things along and under the present conditions we think that everybody should boost.

Everybody be a booster to boost for a bigger and better Digby.

Are you a part of your town or are you merely living off it?

Those of you that have not seen our shows give us a call and we will convince you that we can certainly show the pictures to perfection, even though we will admit that we have a hard time in staging a big road show.

How many of you are going to miss our Famous Features? How many of you are missing our regular shows? Do you realize that we enter for everybody?

A very enjoyable evening was spent and at a late hour they returned to their homes, wishing Mrs. McKay many happy returns of the day.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girl Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine.

If you care for heavy hair that glitters with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scourer robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not removed it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fall out, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

DIGBY DRUGGIST HAS VALUABLE AGENCY.

H. E. Jones has the Digby agency for the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler's, the remedy for constipation. It produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fall out, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Danderine from any drug store and just try it.

TOLLING SEPT. DUCKS

Good Sport With a "Tolling" Dog in Western Nova Scotia

(By H. A. P. S. in Itod and Gun)

The open season for blue wing or black ducks in Nova Scotia begins on September 1st, and although the birds have not attained their full weight so early in the season and are yet carrying pin feathers, they are strong upon the wing, and most of them fly from the many lakes, ponds, and still waters with which our woods abound, where they have been hatched, to the salt flats, there to gorge themselves upon the ocean's food supply, consisting chiefly of tiny snails and shellfish, returning to their secluded homes when the rising tide has covered their feeding beds. At this time of the year the young birds are comparatively unsuspicious, and if the shooter keeps to leeward of the flock, and makes no noise, it is not very difficult to approach them within range. But it is surprising how quick they "take the hint", and after one or two shots have been discharged in their midst, they are apt to choose their location for sleep and play in some practically impossible position.

In nearly all our lakes, ledges of rocks will be uncovered here and there during the drought of early fall, and these rocky strips are generally remote enough from the wooded shores to afford the birds perfect immunity from the smoothbore. Here they sit upon the flattest stones, sleep, preen their feathers, and take an occasional swallow of water, enjoying themselves immensely, until some old mother duck awakens the sleepers, and announces with harsh quack, that the tide has ebbed off and the feeding beds are again exposed. Whereupon they fly out in small and large flocks, leaving not a duck behind.

If you happen to know a lake where these birds have a haunt such as I have tried to describe, and if you own a "Tolling Dog" sport awaits your pleasure, and most delightful sport at that. Chances are your gun has been idle since the duck season closed on March 1st, sleeping in her case, well oiled, where she was put to bed by your loving hands, unless possibly you are situated where you intercept the line of plover and other shore birds during their migration Southwards. At these you may have taken a day or two off after the opening day, which in Nova Scotia is on August 15th. But after all shooting beneath a summer sun is not serious sport.

Now, however, your quick eye has caught the red and yellow color of the hard woods just changing from their summer dress of green, and a something indescribable has taken possession of your being, you feel it in your blood, and ten chances to one your wife catches you unawares as you examine the "left over" stock of smokeless shells, or take a look to see if the tent needs repairing, or a dozen other little signs she knows so well. If you are blessed with the right sort of a woman she anticipates your pleasure, and you are happy to share it together. Your duck dog (a "Toller" of course) has been eyeing your movements with suspicion since the first night's frost lay white upon the front lawn, and now scarcely leaves your heels. All at once you seem to understand the symptoms, and oh yes, why of course! If you fall! What that means to you if you are a lover of the great outdoors it is not necessary to learn record. There is only one cure for it, viz: The woods, your dog, and gun. Now is the time of year to take your wife along too, and live outdoors in perfect comfort, provided there is a little woodcraft in your make up. No turning flies to spoil her trip, nor burning flies to 11ster her tender skin. Reader do you ever take yours? I do, and we both are homesick for the woods, when we turn our faces homeward. The temperature of the streams has fallen, and the lusty trout again wait with keen appetites in the ripples and runs, whence they left for the deep cooling "spring holes" as the summer's heat became oppressive. Therefore our outfit shall be tolling dog, gun, fly rod, tent, and grub. Our canoe has been sent on ahead to Porter's lake, some fourteen miles from home, and this will be our objective point. Here a few "summer tourists" have escaped the maddening heat of cities, and enjoyed the hospitality at Leonard's, for where can one find such home cooking as Mrs. Leonard prepares—delicious fresh hens, cream, eggs, and berries wet with dew, not to mention trout just from the water. To those who have not yet discovered Porter's Lake let me gently intimate there is still another charm awaits them down here by the sea. Leonard is making cider from the luscious windfalls which carpet the orchard as we drive in through the gate, and in answer to our question "any ducks?" replies:

"I hear them quacking up the lake every day, guess a mighty lot hatched out last spring."

We carry our canoe on to the lake shore, and after landing our tent, and other duffle therein, chirp to Lily, our tolling bitch standing the little craft with the paddle as she springs on board and curls up between our feet. Paddling up the lake to a small island where young birch trees afford us ample fuel for fire, and also spruces grow, the tips of whose branches we will use to make our bed upon, we push ashore and put up the tent. Soon the kettle boils and the fry pan sings, and our forest home is complete. Pull back the tent flap and take a look inside. The spruce browse makes a most inviting bed does it not, with the heavy wool blankets unrolled and spread upon them and how deliciously fragrant. Extra clothes, wool socks, and various little neck knacks beloved by the gentler sex, hang upon the dry line which stretches overhead below the ridgepole; the fire crackles out in front and the kettle steams on the fire stick. Talk about living! Well, after all it is the only life worth while. The tide is low out to the sea shore and no ducks are now in the Porter's Lake, but we will paddle up to the inlet and land a few trout for supper, and also take a look for duck "signs." Passing close by a rocky ledge of stones just showing in a long strip above the water, we find their haunt. See the feathers spilled as the birds have preened themselves, floating here and there among the stones, while upon every flat boulder fresh droppings lie, proof enough that a large flock of blue wings have been using here, and now note how well their high tide home is chosen. The nearest land is a hundred and fifty yards away; a small island it is with about three yards width of rocky beach. Two or three granite boulders stand upon the point while hard hacks and brakes grow in profusion all about them. Just behind stands a stunted spruce tree, its low spreading limbs growing out above the boulders completing a perfect natural "blind." A passage between the rocks leading to the beach just wide enough to "run the dog" completes the whole. If the wind does not blow from our blind towards the ledge the birds are "using" tomorrow morning, we are sure of ducks, for it must never be forgotten that ducks will not "toll" to windward, across wind, fair wind, or calm, and the birds will come to a tolling dog properly played nine times out of ten.

We pull off from shore and paddle up to the inlet, and soon a half dozen trout lie flapping their tails on the canvas bottom of our canoe. "Any old fly" takes this time of year, for the fish are hungry owing to the absence of flies and insects upon the water, and each cast has brought a quick response from the rips and eddies. Six trout are ample for our needs, both for supper and early breakfast, so we reel in, and before they cease to squirm they are frying in hot pork scraps until done to a dark chestnut brown. I have heard some people say they did not care for trout, but I have often wondered if they ever tasted them when properly cooked, and under the above conditions. The tide will be half flood by sunrise on the morrow and we must be waiting in our blind before the ducks return. Remember the old adage "Early to bed, early to rise, etc." We act accordingly, and at an early hour stretch out upon our fragrant bed of balsams, pull the warm blankets over us and are soon asleep. It is "goose grey" in the morning when our breakfast is dealt and the fire having been deadened with a tin or two of lake water, we leave our little island home behind.

A few quick strong strokes of our paddles and the blind is reached. Stepping out we lift the canoe on shore, and push her bottom up among stunted bushes, for even if the birds we seek are young their keen eyes detect any unusual object. Now the sun comes up above the trees flooding the lake with the light and warmth. How beautiful the various colors of the autumn trees appear, reflected in the quiet water. The varying colors of the maple ranging from bright crimson down to purple, the fringes of hard hacks with their bright red foliage and brighter berries, blend with those of the larger of the trees, the deep green of the soft woods mirrored in the water looking like play trees, which as children we all loved to pull from out of our "Noah's Ark" on Christmas morning. Even the wide yellow leaves of the dogwood do not stand out in discord, but seem to mingle in such a way as to please the eye and complete the whole. The little island back of us looks like a gently trimmed lady's hat creation, and she of the corduroy skirt at once names it "Lady Hat Island." A belated muskrat "ateams" in towards shore, causing "Lily" to prick her ears and intently watch his passage. Two loons begin calling to each other from either end of the lake, their weird high pitched screams echoing and reaching from shore to shore. On our island a red squirrel scolds us with little nervous, coughing, wheezing chirps, as he jerks himself along a convenient limb to gratify his curiosity. Little solitary prisoner, he must have crossed upon the ice last winter or taken a long swim from shore this summer, little suspecting the chance he ran that some hungry lake trout did not spy him and pull him under. We suddenly forget it all as the rush of downward curved wings sounding like escaping compressed air smites our ears, and glancing upward, we see a flock of some three hundred ducks or more toboggan down from above the trees, alighting with swish swish—on the glassy surface of the lake close to their favorite ledge, some of their number even dropping upon the stones in their greed to take possession of the best roosting and sleeping spots. No trouble to toll they have just come from the salt flats; every bill is quickly submerged, only to be raised and lowered again and again, as the cool lake water slakes their burning thirst. We wait a few minutes until all have drunk their fill then pulling forth from our pocket an old leather glove rolled up and tied tightly about with string, I toss it over the boulder to our left on the narrow beach below. Lily will "play" on any object, even a stone if nothing else be handy, but the glove makes no noise as it falls upon the shale, and this is desirable this morning, there being no wind or lap of waves upon the beach to destroy the sound of a stick or harder object would occasion. The bitch is so near the color and appearance of a fox (even to her white tipped brush) that it would be impossible to distinguish her from a royanard at any great distance.

She "plays" very fast this morning, being exceedingly keen, this being her first day with the gun for the season. The sun shines full upon her dense coat of fox red, and as the birds observe her, up goes every head as they look in wonder and surprise. First one, then another swims a few yards nearer, and catching the curiosity from these, every bird swims as fast as pads will propel them towards the dog. Back and forth she scampers disappearing as she runs behind the rocks to drop the glove into my waiting hand. The birds all unmindful of their danger press on, the hindmost rise and fly in front in their mad curiosity to see that streak of yellowish red. I motion as if to throw and pull back my arm. "Lily" stops upon a slanting granite, and looks down into the blind. Showing her the glove, she telegraphs her pleasure with her busy tail, which flips and wiggles above the ferns and hard hacks. Faster yet swim the now hypnotized ducks, until the leaders are almost in our blind. So close are they, that by peering between the stones we can see their pads opening and shutting beneath the water! A downward motion of the hand brings "Lily" cowering and trembling at our feet. Losing sight of her, the birds swim up and down, hither and thither until they mill together in one solid bunch. Crack snaps the smokeless, and crack again as the now terrified ducks jump. Eight birds lay in a string where your first barrel cut a lane through the thickest of them, and a little beyond four others are scattered. Two of these are cripples and start to swim away, but both flatten out as two narrow strips of No. 6 cut across their necks. "Lily" is now in her glory, so rapidly does she swim in her anxiety to retrieve the dead birds, the water scarcely meets above her back. Again and again she fetches her bird, running to a convenient boulder from which to spring each time, until all are safely landed. Twelve ducks at one shot may seem dangerously near the "game hog" line, and if persisted in certainly would put one in that class. Much prettier shooting can be had if the birds come in to water in small bunches, and you "show the dog" as soon as they have lit. In this manner many shots can be had while the flights lasts, and quick retrieving is necessary in order to recover the dead before other ducks fly in and take alarm at the swimming dog. I believe that the Western part of Nova Scotia is the only place in the world where the Tolling Dog is bred and trained. In intelligence and affection I know of no member of the canine race that can quite approach him; and I am a lover of the "Bird Dog" having had very wide experience with them all.

Motors Make Dear Ten Says London Paper.

Ten, all except China, has gone up in price from two pence to four pence a pound since this time last year. The finest Indian has gone up four pence, ordinary Indian and Ceylon teas two pence a pound.

The reason, curious as it may seem, is the fact that more and more people are buying motor cars every year.

Brisk selling in the motor world means a growing demand for rubber for wheel tires. This led in the time of the rubber boom to a sharp rise in the price of rubber. It is so happen that rubber and tea are two crops that require exactly the same conditions of soil and climate, with the result that ever since the beginning of the rubber boom more and more tea planters have dropped tea for rubber. The effect of the shorter supplies of tea is just beginning to be felt in the present rise of price.

So that is why our tea is dear. If your tea merchant is not raising his price he is giving you poorer quality for your money. The cost of your cup of tea is going to rise further, too.

A famine in carbon paper seems likely. Manufacturers' stocks of carbon papers and typewriter ribbons are almost depleted. I would advise any customers to replenish their stock at once. Even though you may be able to fill your requirements the prices are bound to advance later on.

KING GEORGE AND DUKE OF CONNAUGHT, AT LEFT, BRITISH ARTILLERY IN ACTION AND SOLDIERS ON THE MARCH.

British Taste Victory and Defeat On Sea.

CONVERTED STEAMER CARMANIA WINS GLORIOUS VICTORY OVER SAME CLASS OF GERMAN VESSEL.

LONDON, Sept. 22, 11 20 p. m.—There has not been a gun fired in the North Sea for days, so far as the British public knows, but the admiralty issued tonight bulletins of important encounters in far off waters. Successes and misfortunes were both chronicled impartially.

The admiralty reports say that since the outbreak of the war the British light cruiser Pegasus, under command of John A. Inglis, had been working from Zanzibar, and had rendered very useful services, including the destruction of Dar-Es-Salaam (a seaport in German East Africa), the sinking of the German gunboat Mowe and a floating dry dock.

"Early this morning," continues the statement, she was attacked by the Koenigsberg while anchored in Zanzibar harbor, cleaning boilers and repairing machinery. The Pegasus, thus taken at a disadvantage, and somewhat outraged by the newer four inch guns of the Koenigsberg, was completely disabled after suffering a loss, unofficially reported at 25 killed and 80 wounded. This is a high proportion out of a crew of 241.

"The damage done to the Koenigsberg is not known. She was last seen steaming to the southward."

On September 10 the German cruiser Emden, from the China station, after being completely lost for six weeks, suddenly appeared in the Bay of Bengal, and during the period including September 10 to 14, captured six British ships, as follows: The Indus, Loyalty, Eddington, Cashback and Katanga, of which five were sunk, and the sixth was sent to Calcutta, with the crews of the others. The Emden is now reported at Rangoon, and it is possible that she has made other captures.

CARMANIA IN SUCCESSFUL DUEL.

"The British auxiliary cruiser Carmania, Captain Noel Grant, royal navy, went into action Sept. 14 off the east coast of South America. She was with a German armed merchant cruiser, supposed to be the Cap Trafalgar, or Berlin, mounting eight 4-inch guns. The action lasted one hour and forty five minutes, when the German ship was captured and sank, her survivors being rescued by an empty collier."

"Of the German's crew nine men were killed and five seriously wounded. None of the officers was injured. The first lord of the admiralty has sent the following telegram to Captain Grant: 'Well done—you have fought a fine action to a successful finish.'"

"The British cruiser Cumberland, Captain Fuller, R. N., reports from the Kamerun river that a German steamerboat on the night of Sept. 14 attempted to sink the British gunboat Dwarf, Commander Frederick Strong, with an infernal machine in her bows. The attempt failed, and the steamboat, with one prisoner, was captured."

On the night of the 15th the Dwarf was purposely rammed by the Nachtgall, a German merchant ship. The Dwarf was slightly damaged, but sustained no casualties. The Nachtgall was wrecked. The enemy lost four white men and two colored men, and eight white and fourteen colored men are missing."

A letter report from the Cumberland today says that two German launches, one carrying explosive machinery, were destroyed. The enemy's losses were one white man killed and three white men and two natives taken prisoners.

German Losses 10 Times Those of the Allies.

(By E. Ashmead Bartlett, war expert of the London Daily Telegraph)

LONDON, Sept. 22—1 was talking last night to a British cavalry officer who had returned from the front to some remounts. He told me that the fighting on the Aisne was of a most desperate character, the Germans concentrating their main effort against the British army in the neighborhood of Lecon. Our losses, he said, were very heavy, but those of the Germans must have been ten times as great, for they still adhere to the old habit of attacking in close formation.

The officer was of the opinion that no troops could continue the fight much longer at the existing pressure. The Germans and the allies had now been fighting almost continuously for three weeks, very often day and night. The losses on both sides were very heavy, and the men had been called upon to perform feats of superhuman endurance.

The officer expressed great admiration for the German army as a machine, but he had not got a very high opinion of the individual soldier. They advanced in solid formation because they were forced to do so by their officers, but the men were not naturally courageous. He was, however, full of admiration for the German headquarters staff and above all for the manner in which they had conducted the retreat from the Marne to the fortified positions on the north of Paris.

When I asked him how the Germans were treating our wounded, he told me that in an engagement near Rheims two men of his regiment were hit and left on the ground by the squadron which had to retire when the ground was reoccupied. Two hours later the two men were found, bandaged by German doctors who worked under a heavy fire. On the other hand, he told me of an officer in the 9th Lancers who, having dismounted to remove a lance which a brother officer had received in the chest, was shot dead by some wounded German soldiers.

Wedding Bells at East Boston.

At the French Roman Catholic church, at Chelsea, Mr. Raymond Mulse and Miss Estelle Mulse, of Ed Brook, Yarmouth county, N. S., were united in marriage, Wednesday, Sept. 10th, by the Rev. Father A. Millet, Mr. Ben Mulse, brother of the groom, acted as best man and Miss Edith Mulse, the bride's sister, was bridesmaid. The bride was dressed in white crepe de chene, trimmed with white shadow lace. The bridesmaid wore a suit to match the bride's.

After the ceremony, the happy couple, accompanied by the bridesmaid and best man, returned to the home of the bride's father, Mr. Ephraim Mulse, where a bounteous supper was served and attended by a large gathering of relatives and friends. After luncheon, the bride and groom, accompanied by their suite, were escorted to the Armory Hall, East Boston, where the evening reception took place.

Mr. and Mrs. Mulse were the recipients of many useful presents. The new couple will reside at No. 247 Princeton St., East Boston.

OF A LOCAL NATURE

—It is said that the only fruit the Belgians object to is a "Northern Spy".

—The minutes of the regular monthly meeting of the town council will appear in our next issue.

—Don't forget the date of the Digby county exhibition, which will be held in Bear River on Tuesday, Oct. 6th.

—The Sunday evening service in the Digby churches will begin until further notice at 7 o'clock instead of 7:30.

—The U. P. R. employees on the steamboat pier, Digby, have contributed one day's pay to the Canadian Patriotic Fund.

—Master Frankie Handsaker, of Mr. Pleasant, discovered a number of ripe strawberries in that village on September 28th.

—The owner can have a purse containing a small sum of money, which was picked up on the street, by calling at the County office.

—At the court supper recently held at the residence of Mr. A. H. Nichols, Lunenburg, the sum of $4400 was realized for church purposes.

—Miss Nellie Conwell has purchased the Steadman property, formerly the home of the late Captain Charles Burns, Montague Row, and with her brother, Frank, will reside there.

—There seems to be no authority for the rumor around town that Walter Drummond, who recently left Digby to join the Goldstone Guards at the front, has been wounded or killed.

—The sum of $14.00 was realized at the ice cream social held in the Methodist hall last week under the auspices of the Epworth League. A very pleasant evening was enjoyed by all present.

—The Beulah class of the Digby Methodist church will hold a good time social in the Methodist hall, Tuesday evening, October 6th, in aid of the Epworth League. Admission 10 cents. All are invited.

—Mr. J. F. Cripps, the enterprising proprietor of the B-Jon Dream Theatre, is putting on some excellent features. East Lynne was a beautiful attraction last Tuesday evening, which drew a large audience.

—A meeting of the Digby Amateur Athletic Association will be held in the Firemen's Hall next Monday evening, at which will be presented a new set of bye laws. A large attendance of all interested is requested.

—What is the Municipality of Digby doing in reference to the Patriotic Fund? Many residents of the outlying districts are waiting for collectors to call on them. Others are in favor of a Municipal grant, the way it was done in Clare.

—Mr. C. E. Walker, proprietor of Victoria Park, wishes us to announce that beginning with next Monday evening, the price of skating will be reduced to 10 cents, which will be continued during the remainder of the roller season.

Leaves Digby for Boston

Miss Jennie Nickerson, a popular and faithful member of J. L. Peters' day goods store for the past ten years, has resigned that position and left Saturday for Boston where she has accepted similar employment. On the eve of her departure, Friday evening, a number of her lady and gentlemen friends met at her boarding home, "Oxy Cottage," and presented her with a beautiful necklace. Miss Nickerson was taken by complete surprise but made a suitable reply to the presentation address. The evening was spent in games, music, etc., all extending to Miss Nickerson's heartiest wishes for her future success. Miss Nickerson is a daughter of Mr. Geo. N. Nickerson, of Brighton, and has a host of friends wherever she is known.

Fire in Windsor

A fire in the Commercial Block, Windsor, early Sunday morning badly damaged that block. Schr. Dorothy G. Snow, Capt. Ansel Snow, from the Seal Island grounds with 80,000 pounds of fresh fish, mostly haddock, docked at the Riquette Friday morning. The trip was sold to Joseph E. Snow and E. M. Robertson. The Dorothy G. Snow proceeded to sea at a Monday morning, preventing a pretty appearance beating out of Digby Gut in a strong northwester.

The following vessels reported at the Digby custom house since Sept. 24th: Toward:—Sept. 25th, sch. Dora, Canim; Parrashoro; sch. Maple Leaf, Baid; Parrashoro; Sept. 25th, sch. Cora Gertie, Crocker, Freeport; sch. Effort, Ogilvie, St. Stephen. Outward:—Sept. 25th, sch. Dora, Canim, St. John; sch. Cora Gertie, Crocker, Freeport; Sept. 26th, sch. Quickstep, Longmire, Dublin; Sept. 30th, sch. Maple Leaf, Baid, St. John. In for harbor, Sept. 27th and 28th, tug G. R. King, Golding, Bear River for St. John.

The first shipment of this year's potato crop from Digby to the West Indies went by the St. John boat Tuesday and more shipments are to follow immediately, all for the next West India boat from St. John.

The auxiliary schooner Cora Gertie arrived Saturday from Westport, Tiverton and Little River with 16,000 pounds of fresh haddock for the Maritime Fish Corporation. Captain Crocker, who purchased the fish from boats at those places, says fishing among the boat fishermen down the bay is poor. The Cora Gertie went to sea again Sunday morning.

The sardine industry of the Bay of Fundy is enjoying one of the most profitable seasons in its history. The fish are very plentiful and the prices have run all the way from $10 to $30 per hoghead. Some fishermen have taken as high as $20,000 worth of fish and there are yet two months of the fishing season unexpired. The boats of the fish have been sold to Maine packers. The big Canadian sardine factory at St. Andrews, which cost over half a million dollars, and which had been closed down for over a year owing to financial difficulties, was recently sold to the Bank of Nova Scotia for $270,000. It is expected that this factory will open up under new auspices another season.

A Yarmouth correspondent writes the Gloucester Daily Times:—The fall fish have started in at Yarmouth. Dog fish, which have been such a pest on the ground for

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known in the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietor has so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for full particulars.

Everyone is glad to have the privilege of listening to the Archdeacon again. He made many friends when here in June.

Sandy Cove Bath Churns.

HILLCOTE FARM A POPULAR SUMMER RESORT.

(Written for the Courier.)

Before leaving Sandy Cove I want to write you a little about it. I have been here nearly four months this summer and three months last summer, and to me it is one of the beauty spots of the world. I wish you could go with me to a little bungalow on one of the highest points and see the wonderful outlook. From the east porch, we see in the distance St. Mary's Bay, sparkling in the sunshine and we even look across it four miles away to the little town of Weymouth. Half way between the house and the bay nestles a wee little lake down in the hollow. On a hill beyond stands the little white church and a few scattered houses. On the left looms up old Shibal Mountain, the highest point of all and the landmark of the sailors. Now we sit a while on the front porch and look across beautiful green fields sloping up to a background of dark firs, and at the back of the house are more big fields of clover with the fir covered hills beyond. Last of all comes the grand view of Fundy, almost like the ocean, since one can see no land beyond, and at night the spectacle over it is gorgeous beyond description.

Ah! but you should go out on its waters some morning, about a mile or less, with the long rowing boat, in plain sight, and catch the big beautiful fish. One day one of our little party of four caught a thirty-five pound pollock. No wonder he thought he had caught his hook in the bottom. He fought well and our good Captain Amasa had to get the golf and help him into the boat. He was a beauty. Another day we four brought in between three and four hundred pounds of fish which we caught in a few hours. Then you should see the great curved sandy beach where we have the picnic suppers and the immense drift wood fires, built as no one but our host at Hillcote can build. I must not forget the coves and the rocks with the big caves in them. They are always drawing one down on them, they are so fascinating with the surf dashing up over them. There is a walk from our house up across the fields and along by the fir woods and rocky cliffs over to the church. There isn't a prettier walk in the world. And that is only one of many lovely walks. Best of all is the peaceful quiet. The quacking of the ducks and the tinkle of the cow bells, the peeping of the chickens and the singing of the birds are all the noises to be heard. Such blissful nights to sleep, with plenty of warm covers for them are always on hand. And now I must leave all this loveliness and go back to the noisy confusing city.

THE EUROPEAN WAR

German Left Wing Crumbles Up Under French Attack.

ENEMY'S RIGHT IS ALSO RECEDING ALLIES PRESSING HOME ATTACK—ITALY WARNS AUSTRIA TO TAKE CARE OF DEATH DEALING MINES IN ADRIATIC.

LONDON, Sept. 30, 10:01 p.m.—The nineteenth day of the battle of the Aisne finds the allied armies pushing with all the strength they can bring to bear in their great effort to outflank the German right wing and force it back from its line of communications through Belgium.

There is evidence that this movement is beginning to tell and that unless something unforeseen happens this portion of the German army must fall back to another defensive line.

The French report issued this afternoon says that the action continues to develop to the northward; so that the French left must now be pushing to ward Cambrai, as yesterday it was in the neighborhood of Albert.

Even further north than this the French cavalry are operating, and last week a German force which was sent to Orchies, sixteen miles southeast of Lille, to punish France Tiers for an alleged attack on a German hospital at that place, met with superior forces and had to fall back.

The Germans, too, admit that they have been unable to stop the French advance against their right wing, and also that the allies have advanced on their right front. Indeed, there seems to be some agreement in the official reports of the belligerents on the events in this part of the battlefield.

The German reports refer to an advance of the allies, while the French communication says that a vigorous attack made by the Germans on Tracy Le Mont, northeast of the forest of Aigue, was repulsed with heavy losses. Of course, these reports may refer to different incidents, but they nevertheless agree that the advantage is with the allies.

In the centre, from Rheims to the Meuse, the armies appear still to be waiting for the outcome of the fighting on the wings, as there has been a lull in the battle there.

ITALY INFLAMED OVER MINE MENACE

The sowing of floating mines by the Austrians to harass the French and English warships in the Adriatic has resulted in the sinking of an Italian fishing boat, and the Italian government has entered a protest at Vienna. The incident has created bitter feeling in Italy, where it is said the mines have drifted from the Austrian to the Italian side of the Adriatic, and have terrorized the fishing industry, which is the chief resource of this region.

Marquis Di San Giuliano, the foreign minister, who is one of the chief friends of the Triple Alliance in Italy, is seriously ill, and Premier Salandra has taken charge of the foreign office. It is suggested in London that this might bring some change in the policy of Italy, as the premier is said to be in favor of Italy joining the allies, to which Marquis Di San Giuliano was strongly opposed.

The ladies of the community are invited to be present at the weekly meetings of the Red Cross society held every Monday afternoon at four o'clock in the Masonic kitchen. Any one desiring to do sewing or knitting to add to the comfort of our soldiers can get work to take home by calling at the above mentioned room any day in the week (Sunday excepted) between three and four o'clock.

Weymouth.

(From another Correspondent.)
Mr. John MacDonald made a business trip to Tiverton via S. S. Sissiboo last Wednesday returning Saturday. The ladies of Weymouth are very actively engaged just at present in making up and collecting clothing for the relief of destitute Belgians, large quantities of which have been sent from the district of Clare where the people have very heartily responded to the call for help.

Among the overseas contingent recently sent out from Quebec to England, after several weeks' preparation at Valcartier, are two of Weymouth's loyal native sons: Rex MacDonald, of the Royal Bank staff at Toronto and a member of the Queens' own Rifles in that city, son of Mr. and Mrs. John MacDonald, and Benjamin Journeay, son of the late Lindly and Mrs. Journeay, now residents of St. John West, the latter going with the cavalry company from that city to Valcartier. Beside the above are five sons of Moun E. Stehelin, residents of Weymouth, who have been called to their native country, France, all of which have nobly responded to the call.

Belgian Relief Fund and Red Cross Work

THEIR APPEAL FOR AID MEETS WITH A BIG RESPONSE FROM DIGBY AND VICINITY

DIGBY
The people of Digby and vicinity have responded nobly to the Belgian Relief call. Many of our local merchants have shipped individual cases of new goods direct to Halifax. The citizens have sent to the town hall a lot of second hand clothing, bedding, boots and shoes, underwear, etc., a large quantity of which is almost as good as new. These have all been packed by the committee, which consists of the following: Messrs. Short, Rev. Wm. Duffield, T. E. G. Lynch, John F. McLennan and Capt. Jacob Wyman.

As these goods now stand ready for shipment, they consist of 20 cases of clothing and bedding, 20 bbls. of apples and potatoes, 1 case of boots and shoes. Among the cases of clothing there are at least 50 ladies' warm coats and 50 suits of men's clothing, including several warm ulsters. Packages are up and labelled and were not opened by the committee.

The committee feels very proud of the collection and wishes to inform our local readers that it is not yet too late to send contributions to the town hall, all of which will be thankfully received.

Vegetables for shipment from Digby should reach the town hall about the 15th inst., so that they can be forwarded in first class condition.

Mrs. W. J. Agate, a member of the committee in Digby, wishes to acknowledge the sum of $10.00 from Capt. Ansel Snow and crew of the schooner Dorothea G. Snow, and $10.00 from Mr. James Buchanan. This money was judiciously expended for new clothing and promptly delivered at the town hall to go forward with the Digby shipment.

E. R. Mowbray, Esq., Secy.-Treas. S. E. L. & Quill Club, Digby, N. S., has received your favor of 25th inst., with cheque for $11.35 enclosed for the Belgian Relief Fund. Would you kindly convey to the ladies of your Club the grateful acknowledgement of the Belgian Relief Committee.

Yours truly,
C. W. FRAZER, Treasurer.

Mrs. H. Green, secretary of the local Red Cross Association, informs the COURIER that the ladies are busily engaged in the good work. Fifteen of the Hospital Ship Fund has been returned for the use of Red Cross work and has been delivered among the committees from the various churches for the purchase of supplies to carry on the work.

All ladies wishing to engage in this work will kindly apply to a member of the committee in one of the churches, a list of whom were published in our last issue.

PORT WADE.

The fund opened for the relief of the Belgians was generously responded to in addition to the bbls. of flour and numerous boxes and barrels of clothing and food, the treasurer wishes to acknowledge the following cash contributions, which were promptly forwarded to the Honorary Treasurer, C. W. Frazer, of the Royal Bank, Halifax—Capt. Ansel Casey $5.00, F. W. Thompson $7.00, Joseph Taylor $3.50, Capt. E. Russell $1.00, William West $1.00, Mr. C. McWhinnie $1.00, Mr. Wm. Ziegler $1.00, Mrs. John Middleton $1.00, Howard Burke $1.00, James Johns $2.00.

EDWARD KEANS, Treas.

SANDY COVE

The people of Sandy Cove are alive to the great and urgent appeal that is being made for the Belgians. A few weeks ago the people of Sandy Cove took off two very large boxes and a barrel full of very fine wearing apparel and on Monday evening the Rev. Harry Burgess gave them his naval lecture entitled "Three Years With a British Squadron in West Indian Waters" by lantern light. The lecture was beautifully illustrated and gave very great pleasure to the large audience which filled the hall and listened with breathless interest to the descriptive working of the world's largest fleet and its bravest men. $8.05 was netted for this popular fund.

CENTREVILLE

The people of Centreville turned out in great numbers and overflowing filled the hall of that place on Tuesday night, Sept. 29th, and showed their appreciation and intense pleasure by their quiet attention and compliment to their remarks and their offering of $28.70 towards this same worthy fund. The Rev. Joseph Hildner, of the Baptist Church, Centreville, has been a noble effort to successful issues. His home has been opened to receive offerings of all kinds while he and his good lady have sorted the materials and itemized and packed them for shipping and seen them off for the Hildner depot in readiness for the front. This whole country-side is awake to the crisis of the hour and all its citizens are on the move to help their allies in Belgium and supply their needs while Patriotic, Red Cross and Hospital Ship calls find willing and sympathetic listeners and glad helpers.

This latter contribution from lectures makes now a little over $100.00 obtained by this means. It is a gathering up of the crumbs that nothing be lost.

Deaths of Mrs. Harry Brooks.

The funeral of the late Mrs. Jennie L. Brooks, wife of Mr. Harry S. Brooks, of the office staff of the Eastern S. S. Corporation, Boston, took place at Weymouth on Sunday, with interment in the Methodist cemetery. Deceased passed away in Boston in the 27th year of her age, and the remains were brought on Friday to Weymouth, her husband's native town. She leaves no family, was a daughter of the late Rev. Robert Williams, Methodist minister, of Pictou, N. S., who was adopted by Mr. Oswald McMillan of Lockport, Her sister, Miss Maud Williams, also accompanied the remains from Boston. Mr. Brooks was at one time baggage-master on the boats between Weymouth and Boston, and has many friends in this country and elsewhere, who will sympathize with him in his sad bereavement.

Digby Baptist Church Without a Pastor.

Rev. J. D. Brebant, who has been pastor of the Digby Baptist church for a little more than a year, preached his farewell sermon Sunday night and he and Mrs. Brebant left Wednesday for New York. Mr. Brebant, being a very quiet gentleman, perhaps did not get as well acquainted in Digby, as some of his predecessors. He was, however, thoroughly accord with the crowd work in which he is engaged and has many friends here, who regret his departure. The COURIER wishes him every success in his new field of labor.

A Letter From Valcartier Camp.

ENGINEER CONNELL, FROM DIGBY, WRITES HIS FRIENDS AT HOME.

"DEAR FRIENDS AT HOME:—I wish I could tell you more of the life here. We are kept constantly on the go. The call seems so urgent that we are drilled every possible moment, to whip us into shape. We engineers do every thing from ditch digging to rifle practice, and all our time is filled up from 6:30 a. m. to 6:30 p. m.; and then we have our own personal work to attend to after that, such as washing clothes, etc. Indeed, it is a common occurrence to be pulled out after we go to bed for the drill. One night I remember, we turned out three times before 12 p. m. Of course in the drill the point of dress is not at all strict, as you will understand when I tell you that on the last drill, there were several who turned out minus all their uniform but boots, and some of them were not mates. The main point in the drill is to get there, and that quickly.

You people at home can form no idea of the number of men here. Thirty or thirty-five thousand does not seem to be such a great number, when compared to the men at the front; but when you stand on the hill at head quarters, and look over the lines of tents, stretching almost as far as you can see, and remember that they average six or seven men each, perhaps more, and see the men themselves like a lot of ants on an ant hill—then is the "thirty-five thousand men" means.

Every day I see columns of men, (coming to and from the ranges), over a mile long and marching four deep at that. The camp itself is a very pretty sight. Coming from the station you ascend a slight hill to head quarters, passing through the lines of the Motor Service Corps, as you go. Behind head quarters the main camp lies. It is stretched out between two rather low ranges of hills which nearly meet at the far end. The Valcartier River runs through this gap in the hills and follows the western range through the camp. It is especially pretty here at night as the government has installed electric lights on all the main roads and the tents are pitched fairly regularly, in lines running at right angles to these roads. The camp is over two miles long and much more than a mile wide. Then of course the parade grounds take up a lot of room besides this. The grub is not too bad, although sometimes a little over or under done. Altogether we don't have too bad a time if the weather is not too dirty.

At any rate we have lots of work to sharpen our appetites and make the ground soft to lay on nights. Some of the companies have left in the last few hours and we expect to in the next day or so. It is hard to tell though, we may be here a week. However, I will say good-bye now and be sure of it, for I may never have time to write another letter from here. When the call comes it means a very few hours' notice, then pull up stakes and leave. Good-bye to all and remember the one who is "a thousand miles from home and only one mother."

Yours
G. W. CONNELL.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To the Editor of the Courier

MY DEAR SIR,—Will you kindly say in your present week's issue that the Rev. Harry Burgess has very kindly given us the proceeds of his Naval lectures towards the Belgian Relief fund, namely that of Ashmore's Baptist Church held on the 21st, which was $9.05 and that of Plympton Methodist Church which was $12.18. He also gave us the lecture proceeds of the one given in the Shesbo Hall in Weymouth for the Red Cross Movement which amounted to $22.25, a total of $44.03. At these lectures the people from all the churches were present and gave largely to the work. The ladies of this town are all very busy helping twice a week in session making garments for the distressed folk in Belgium, and preparing parcels to be rushed to the front on the steamer which shortly leaves Halifax.

Yours, very gratefully,
SIMON STRICKLIN.

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is fussy, listless, stomach sour, breath bad, has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

ARMY OF BRITAIN NOT HUGE FORCE

Small Compared With Continental Establishments.

GENERALS OF EXPERIENCE.

Kitchener and Others Have Seen Service in Egypt, India, China, South Africa and Elsewhere—French Called "Europe's Finest Leader of Cavalry."
Territorial Force Available For Home
Defense, but Not Considered Match For European Soldiers—Well Supplied With Aeroplanes and Ordnance.

WITH the prestige of centuries of history of successful warfare to its credit in every continent on earth, the British army, comparatively small in size, is expected to give a good account of itself whenever it is called upon for action. Its officers include some of the world's greatest living strategists and tacticians. In Field Marshal Lord

Kitchener it possesses a general ranked equal to any now alive. Sir John D. P. French has been called "the greatest cavalry leader in Europe," and others of its men have been tried in the fire of warfare in Egypt, China, Afghanistan and South Africa. Its royal general, the Duke of Connaught, Queen Victoria's soldier son, although aging now, is a warrior who knows the ins and outs of the military game as well as any of his royal relatives in Germany or elsewhere. The men are recruited from all parts of the United Kingdom and Ireland.

The new chief of staff of the British army, who acquired the position in March, 1914, when Sir John D. P.
French resigned the position (but not his place in the army) over Ulster troubles, is Sir C. W. H. Douglas.

Small Army Compared With Others.

Compared with the gigantic military establishments of the great powers of continental Europe, the British army seems almost pitifully small. Its numbers on a war footing probably do not exceed 700,000. Its smallness is due to two reasons principally; one is the absence of compulsory military service in Great Britain and Ireland and the dependencies, such as obtains in the countries on the continent, and the other is the disproportionate attention paid in England to the navy.

The British navy is the strong right arm of the empire, possibly overdeveloped at the expense of the land force.
The army is a comparatively weak left arm, able to deliver a strong blow if rightly directed, but distinctly inferior to the sea force. England is therefore not expected to count for much in military operations on land in a general European war. It cannot spare all of its army, of course, to engage in expeditionary work on foreign soil, since it must maintain a sufficient home force, drilled in the use of military weapons, to maintain its shores in case, by the fortunes of war, an enemy should succeed in slipping past the navy and invade the coasts of Britain.
But until the dream of the recent revolution, who saw the German emperor seated on the ancient throne at Westminster, came true the Englishman must trust the main defense of his home to the British power on sea.

The regular army of Great Britain and Ireland on a peace footing numbers 137,500 men. The army reserve strength is 130,000, and the special reserve has 61,000 men. In the territorial force, which corresponds roughly to our American national guard, there are 200,000 men. The regular army maintained in India for the support of the British "raj" in that vast territory is 70,700 men, considered on a war footing. These forces cannot,
of course, be seriously depleted for use in a European war, since there have been many rumors of discontent in India with the British rule, and a repetition of the Indian mutiny would weaken the government at home very seriously.

British Forces in the Colonies.

The great colonies, such as the Dominion of Canada, the commonwealths of Australia and South Africa, maintain militia forces, many of whom members are trained soldiers and are available for defense of the home country if called upon. In very recent years Great Britain has formed what is called a "national reserve," but enlistment in that force has carried no obligation of training or service, and the force up to a very recent time was without organization, equipment, arms or uniform. In addition the territorial militiamen "are not fit to take the field against continental troops. Their training and equipment are only to be completed after the outbreak of war, and it is expected that some months must elapse before they are ready for service."

Compulsory military service has never met with general approval in Great Britain, although some high army officers have urged it on the nation to meet just such an emergency as that which arose when Austria declared war on Serbia and the entire continent went into the arms of Great Britain was drawn into the imbroglio.

On May 20, 1913, Colonel J. B. B.
Seely, then secretary of state for war, defined the attitude of the government when he stated that "his majesty's government have no intention whatever of adopting a system of compulsory service for fighting units. Far from abandoning the voluntary principle, they intend to foster, encourage and extend it by every means in their power."

The regular British army of first line has as its object the supply of garrisons and field forces for India, Egypt, South Africa and other foreign districts and the maintaining of home battalions to supply defense for the troops abroad and to furnish expeditionary forces to be completed to war strength by the reserve, it being the function of the special reserve to make good the wastage of war.

The territorial force or second line is intended to defend the home territory without obligation to serve abroad, but with the hope that individuals or units might volunteer for foreign service at need, and to that end officers and men of this force register in times of peace for "imperial service" in war, there being, according to a recent computation before the war fever broke out in Europe, over 200,000 officers and

FIELD MARSHAL LORD KITCHENER.

men who had so registered and were consequently available for such service.

The total number of effectives of all branches of the service on Jan. 1, 1913, was put at 724,180.

Organization of the Army.

The organization of the British regular army, considered by arms, is as follows:

Cavalry, thirty-one regiments, divided into three household cavalry, seven of dragoon guards, three of dragoons,
six of lancers and twelve of hussars.
There are five cavalry depots to train
the recruits to post and draft for regiments and to take care of matters connected with the reserve and mobilization. The various regiments are also connected in pairs, and the regimental establishment consists of 601 men and 534 horses, plus eight or nine horses boarded out. This number it was planned to increase to 120. In the colonial peace establishment the numbers are 624 men and 472 horses, while in the Indian establishment the numbers are 624 men with about 600 horses.
The war establishment in the field was for home and colonies 634 men and 568 horses, and for India 475 men
and 568 horses.

In 1913 there was a reorganizing of the field artillery organizations at home, due to the return from South Africa of a number of units that had been in colonial service. Various changes were made to increase the efficiency of this arm of the service. The total number of service batteries and companies at home and abroad is twenty-five horses, 135 field, nine mountain, ninety-seven garrison companies, including twelve heavy batteries.

The infantry of the British army consists of four regiments in the brigade of guards, comprising nine battalions; sixty-seven regiments of infantry of the line and two rifle regiments, with a total of fourteen battalions. The normal composition of a line regiment has been two battalions, but in 1913 it was decided to establish four battalions of each regiment, and steps were taken to carry the measure into effect.

Exclusive of the Indian army there are eighty-five troops, companies and other formations of engineers for field bridging, searchlight, railway, survey and similar duties. A new army signal force was formed recently, composed of royal engineer wireless and telegraph men and infantry and cavalry signallers. The army service corps was organized in eighty companies, including fifty-six for horse transport, fifteen for mechanical transport, five supply and four remount companies.

Well Supplied With Aeroplanes.

As in the case of all the European armies, the number of military aeroplanes in use in Great Britain is not known with absolute certainty. A recent computation, believed to be accurate, places it at 350. Besides this there are several large military dirigible balloons. Great Britain has about 1,000 men trained in the use of aeroplanes, and most of them are available for service.

The British army officer is generally considered a keen soldier, with a sense of his duties and responsibilities, although the custom of appointing officers from the so-called "upper" classes has had its usual deleterious effect.
Of "Tommy Atkins" much good and bad has been said recently, and his qualities are only to be determined in the crucible of fire. But he has a long and honorable record to sustain him.
It is not believed that he is in good physically as his predecessors, since the crowding of the British into the cities has acted injuriously on the physique of the recruits for the army.

The British artillery is made up at home, at Woolwich and elsewhere.
The British guns and ammunition are highly rated by experts.

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations

COAL mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre.
Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5, which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the mer-chantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY,
Deputy Minister of the Interior.

SYNOPSIS OF DOMINION LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead
a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta.
The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years.

A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $30.00 per acre.

Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $30.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

FEELS LIKE A NEW WOMAN

As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Dispelled Backache, Headaches and Dizziness.

Piqua, Ohio.—"I would be very ungrateful if I failed to give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound the praise it deserves, for I have taken it at different times and it always relieved me when other medicines failed, and when I hear a woman complain I always recommend it. Last winter I was attacked with a severe case of organic weakness. I had backache, pains in my hips and over my kidneys, headache, dizziness, lassitude, had no energy, limbs ached and I was always tired. I was hardly able to do my housework. I had taken Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound on one other occasion, and it had helped me so I took it again and it has built me up, until now I feel like a new woman. You have my hearty consent to use my name and testimonial in any way and I hope it will benefit suffering women."—Mrs. Ophelia Turner, 431 S. Wayne St., Piqua, Ohio.

Women who are suffering from those distressing ills peculiar to their sex should not doubt the ability of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore their health.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (Confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Meteghan.

Mgr. A. B. Cote returned from Quebec Saturday, the 26th inst.

Mr. Frank McChoir is visiting her brother, Capt. James McChoir, Harbor Master.

Miss Alma Thibault, trained nurse, of Mayflower, Digby Co., was in this vicinity enroute for Little Brook, on Monday.

Mr. Joseph H. Robichaud and Mrs. Ben Aymer left Monday, the 28th inst., for a month in the Annapolis Valley. Their many friends wish them a pleasant voyage and a speedy return to our midst.

Your correspondent and Dr. Deveau were down to Maville last week. Dr. Deveau, since his arrival here has proven an efficient and skilful doctor, and has managed to work for himself a very good practice.

The sch. Cora May came off from Mr. J. B. Robichaud's marine railway and was immediately replaced by the Tribby, the Elizabeth is also on a cradle near by, and as soon as the Tribby will be launched. The Mizpah, from High Head, Grand Manan, will take her place.

Mr. John F. Deveau has John H. Benson's marine railway here at Meteghan. Mr. Deveau is an energetic and enterprising young man, to whom we wish success all along the line. The railway is in excellent condition and is ready to accommodate wooden vessels of all descriptions.

On the 14th of October, the Right Revd. Mgr. Cote will celebrate his first Pontifical High Mass since his elevation to the title of Domestic Prelate, by the Holy Father, the Pope Pius X. The occasion will be one of great rejoicing in Meteghan. His Grace Mgr. McCharty, Archbishop of Halifax, and His Grace Mgr. LeBlanc, Bishop of St. John, N. B., and about forty priests will be present. Their Grace will arrive on the 13th and will be met at the railway station by a delegation of citizens who will then proceed to the Glebe House. On arriving a procession will be formed to escort the distinguished visitors to the church. There an address of welcome will be read to their Grace, followed by the solemn Benediction of the Holy Sacrament. In the evening the Glebe House and the church will be illuminated, and a display of fire works will be given from the balcony of the Glebe House. On the 14th Pontifical High Mass will be sung at about 9 o'clock a. m., in the course of which addresses and purposes will be presented to the Right Revd. Mgr. Cote by the members of the different societies of the parish. In the afternoon will be sung solemn Pontifical Vespers and Benediction of the Holy Sacrament. In the evening of the 14th, the Reverend Sisters of the Sacred Heart will give a concert at the convent to the members of the visiting clergy and addresses in English and French will be read to Mgr. Cote. The convent will be also illuminated. Every parishioner is asked to have at least a flag floating to the breeze on those memorable days and those who can to illuminate their houses.

HAVE PRETTY HAIR

Thick, Soft, Fluffy and no Dandruff—
Use Parisian Sage

If your hair is losing its natural color, coming out and splitting, or lacks that enviable softness, gloss and beauty do not despair—pretty hair is largely a matter of care. If it is too thin make it grow. If it is harsh and brittle soften it up—lubricate it. If you have dandruff it is because the scalp is too dry and flakes off. Freshen up the scalp with Parisian Sage—all dandruff disappears, falling hair and itching scalp cease, your hair is doubly beautiful.

Parisian Sage sold by H. E. Jones and at all drug counters, is just what you need—a large bottle costs but 50 cents. It surely makes the hair lustrous and seem twice as abundant. You cannot be disappointed in Parisian Sage.

THE EUROPEAN WAR

World Still Waiting for Result of the Great Battle in France

BRITISH WAR OFFICE SPEAKS OF DASH AND BRAVERY OF FRENCH ARMY BUT IS SILENT ON WHAT BRITISH SOLDIERS ARE DOING.

While the world awaits news of the great battle in which the British and French allied forces and the Germans in Northern France have engaged for twenty-six days, the meagre official reports from the front vouchsafe little information of the actual operations. Today it is a small piece of ground lost, and tomorrow the same ground has been regained. Meanwhile the French forces are moving northward, but are gaining little to the eastward, which would be essential to the outflanking of the German right wing.

As a matter of fact, Gen. Von Kluck, in command of that section of the German army, with heavy reinforcements, which have reached him in the past week, has taken a decided offensive, and day by day the same announcement is made by the French war office that the "violent battle continues."

The British official bureau reports that the French army is fighting with the greatest dash and bravery, but is silent on what the British are doing. The French officials report an advance on certain points on the centre, and the re-taking of the ground previously yielded in Roye district.

Recently masses of German cavalry have been seen near Lille, and behind them German forces moving on a line between Tourcoing and Arras. This important unit of the German army, which it was thought might serve to break the French line, the French report, has been held in check, and to the north of Lille has been driven back. On two wings, it is added, the German attacks have been repulsed.

LINE NOW CLOSE TO BELGIAN BORDER
The northward movement of the French line brings it close to the Belgian frontier, and coincidentally there have been engagements between the Belgians and the Germans in the environs of Ypres, twenty miles south of Ostend, and at Audenarde, fifteen miles southwest of Ghent.

While the East Indian troops have reached France, and may have already reinforced Field Marshal French's army, operating in the neighborhood of Soissons, the whereabouts of 33,000, has been a matter of conjecture. It is now announced that they are about to be landed in England, and will be sent to an inland training camp.

The situation as between the Russians and Germans and Austrians is somewhat problematical, but a very frank statement from Berlin admits that the German forces on the frontier of East Prussia have assumed a strategic defensive movement, and that they abandoned the bombardment of Osovetz fortress, in Russian Poland. This statement adds that the fighting at Augustowo and in Suwalki was of a most sanguinary nature, and that while the German machine guns finally turned the scale of battle in favor of the Germans, the slaughter of the German artillerymen was terrific. The movements of the German troops were greatly hampered by the physical condition of the country.

The forty-third German casualty list issued at Berlin, contains 10,600 names in dead, wounded and missing. Berlin also reports that the fighting on the German right wing in France has been successful, and that in the assault on Antwerp two more forts have fallen into German hands.

THE BOMBARDMENT OF ANTWERP
The Belgian government has been removed from Antwerp to Ostend, several of the ministers and many thousands of refugees having reached there. The bombardment of Antwerp, it is reported, has already begun, following a notification from the commander of the German troops that non-combatants and others desiring to do so, should withdraw from the city.

President Poincaré, accompanied by Premier Viviani and the minister of war, Millerand, has returned to Paris after a visit to the battle front. It has been reported that the French government would return to Paris from Bordeaux at an early date, but officially this transfer has not been made as yet.

A British submarine has made an other dash close to the German base in the North Sea and has torpedoed a German torpedo boat destroyer. There is a report that a German cruiser also was torpedoed, but this is not confirmed.

The Japanese have occupied the Island of Yap, of the Caroline group, and, at the same time, have notified the state department at Washington that the occupation is only temporary and solely for military purposes.

The second son of the German Emperor, Prince Eitel Frederick, is reported to have been injured by a fall from his horse in a recent battle. Already two other sons of the Emperor have suffered physical ailments. Prince Joachim having received a bullet wound, and Prince Oscar having been eaten with a heart affection after an exhausting engagement.

THE FRENCH OFFICIAL STATEMENT
PARIS, Oct. 7, 11:28 p. m.—The official communication issued by the French war department tonight announces that the ground previously ceded by the French, between Chaumes and Roye, has been retaken, and that on the centre the French have advanced on certain points.

The text is as follows:
"Except on the two wings where the German attacks have been repulsed there has been nearly complete calm along the front."

"On our left wing the German cavalry has been held in check; to the north of Lille it has been driven back."

"Between Chaumes and Roye the ground previously ceded has been retaken."

"On the centre we have made an advance on certain points."

"There is nothing to report on our right wing."

German Destroyer is Sunk by British Submarine.

DARING BRITISH NAVAL COMMANDER IN SECOND SUCCESSFUL ATTACK.

LONDON, Oct. 7, 8:30 p. m.—Submarine E-9, of the British navy, under command of Lieut. Commander Max Horton, yesterday made another raid into German waters, off the mouth of the River Ems, and succeeded in sinking a German torpedo boat destroyer. It was this same submarine, under the same command, which made a similar dash and sank the German cruiser Hela off Heligoland September 13. As on the former occasion, the E-9 has safely returned to her home port. The action took place at 1 o'clock yesterday, and was witnessed by the Dutch coast guards on the Dutch Island Schiermonnikoog, in the North Sea, off the province of Friesland.

The weather was clear and the sea calm, and the destroyer could plainly be seen cruising before the mouth of the Ems. Suddenly the observers saw a high column of water rise near the bow of the destroyer. The vessel immediately turned over and sank in three minutes. Shortly after the explosion the periscope of the submarine came above the surface of the water for a moment, but as soon as those on board the plunger saw that their torpedo had struck its mark, the vessel was again submerged. A German cruiser and torpedo boats came quickly to the rescue of the crew of the ill-fated destroyer, who could be seen swimming about in the vicinity of the explosion. The wreckage of the vessel was seen for some time.

As Schiermonnikoog is close to the Island of Borkum, where the Germans have a naval base, and within sixty miles of Heligoland and the naval arsenal at Wilhelmshaven, the dash of the submarine is considered here a particularly daring one.

The Dutch naval staff announces that the sinking of the destroyer occurred seven miles off Schiermonnikoog and well outside Dutch territorial waters.

SUBMARINE'S CREW IS JOYFUL.
HARWICH, via London, Oct. 8, 12:50 a. m.—The members of the crew of the submarine E-9, which has arrived here, are jubilant over the second successful engagement of their little craft against a German warship. One of the members of the crew in an interview said that while the sinking of the torpedo boat destroyer off the Dutch coast was more easily accomplished than was the case when the E-9 sent the German cruiser Hela to the bottom, luck was with the submarine.

"We knew when we left Harwich harbor," said the sailor, "that it was a case of hit or miss." When we rose we saw two German destroyers traveling at a speed of about thirty knots. Our commander was at the periscope and ordered the forward tubes to be fired. I fired the first tube but could not say whether my missile hit. We then rose to the surface and the commander said, 'Look at her; the beggar is going down.' Then we saw the German rise periscope and her men rush to her stern and dive into the water. The submarine then was submerged again and made her way back to Harwich.

"I don't want to boast, but we got our torpedoes home."

Sports at Centerville.

NEARLY TWO HUNDRED DOLLARS ADDED TO THE BELGIAN RELIEF FUND.

(Special to the Courier.)

On Saturday 3rd instant, sports and a picnic were held at Centerville in aid of the Nova Scotia Belgian Relief Fund. The sports took place in a field kindly lent for the occasion by Mr. James Boutillier and consisted of sack races, three-legged races, tug of war, etc. There was also old Aunt Sally designated for old Mrs. Kaiser, a shooting gallery, refreshment stall and a dance floor erected specially for the occasion. A tea was also served on the grounds, which was gaily decorated with flags.

The various events on the sports programme were keenly contested and afforded great amusement to both spectators and competitors. Old Aunt Sally or Mrs. Kaiser was well patronized during the afternoon as were the shooting gallery, dancing floor and refreshment stall.

In the evening a picnic was held in the hall where upwards of fifty people were disposed of at good prices. Afterwards dancing was indulged in to the strains of the violin and organ played by Mr. Gus Omeau and Mr. G. F. Thompson, the proceedings closing just before midnight with the singing of God Save the King, three cheers for the King being heartily given.

Although these events were primarily started by the fishermen there was hardly a house in Centerville, Waterford or Sea Wall, that did not contribute to the success. The net financial result was $187.70. This amount it is expected, will be made up to $200.00 and then placed in the bank to the credit of the Nova Scotia Belgian Relief Fund. We heartily congratulate the promoters on the success of their venture, the enjoyable way in which everything passed off.

Patriotic Concert at Tiverton.

On Sunday evening, Oct. 4, the Christian Church was filled to the doors with the people of Tiverton who listened to a very nice programme given for the Belgian Relief Fund. Wedding Bells.

ANDREWS-DOTY.
A very pretty wedding took place in Ashmore, Digby, on the 2nd Wednesday evening, at eight o'clock, at the home of Mr. Gilbert Doty, when his eldest daughter Lytha Mae, was united in marriage to Ernest Arthur Andrews, of Hill Grove. The bride was attended by her sister, Floris G. Frank Andrews, brother of the bride, acting as best man.

The contracting parties entered the room at the strains of the wedding bells which were well rendered by Mildred Doty, sister of the bride. The house was tastefully decorated, the bridal party standing under an arch of ferns and cut flowers.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Josiah Webb, pastor of the Weymouth and New Tusket Baptist churches.

The flower girls were Myrtle Kinney and Geraldine Omeau. The bride looked charming in a wedding gown of white silk with trimmings of white satin, roses, pearl and shadow lace, bridal veil and orange blossoms. Both sisters wore pink silk with shadow lace. After congratulations a delectable luncheon was served to about ninety guests. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received, including silver, china, glass, etc. Mr. and Mrs. Andrews will reside at Hill Grove.

Olan-Hogging.

Some of us who live near the shore, and the outlying clam flats, are not a little exercised at the rate at which the shell fish of the coast are being devastated by certain apparently insatiable parties. Particularly in the case of quahog flats that are being planted and cultivated by the capital, but which at certain tides are fair game. Under the law the capacity of the free booters is outrageous, so there was a general laugh one day this week when a little girl, aged somewhere about seven, exclaimed: "Oh! mother, there's those men out clam hogging again."

Baptists Meet at Weymouth.

QUARTERLY MEETING HELD IN THAT TOWN MONDAY AND TUESDAY.

(Special to the Courier.)

The Digby Co. quarterly meeting of Baptist churches was held at Weymouth North United Baptist Church on Monday and Tuesday of this week. The first session was held Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock and opened with a song service conducted by the President, Rev. L. H. Crandall of Bear River, in the absence of Rev. A. H. McLeod of Barton, who was slated to take this part of the service. Rev. J. S. McPadden, of Clementsport, gave an excellent address on Education as a preparation for service which was well received and ordered to be published in the Maritime Baptist. Rev. L. L. Kinsman, of Digby Neck, followed with an address on Missions; Foreign and Home. The Rev. gentleman was given a gigantic task, he being asked to fill the vacancies of two strong men, Rev. I. W. Porter and Rev. J. D. Brehaut. The audience felt that the speaker fulfilled his duties manfully.

Tuesday's morning and afternoon sessions passed off very pleasantly and profitably.

Tuesday evening's meeting was the final one and drew out a large congregation who listened most appreciatively to an eloquent and strong sermon by Preceptor's young and talented pastor, Rev. F. H. Eaton. It may be said that as we listened to the speaker it occurred to us that he was destined to take a foremost place in the ranks of his church, his personality and strength of intellect guaranteeing it.

The President, Rev. A. H. Crandall, by his rare tact and concise statements, did much to make the Quarterly a grand success.

Dear River Wedding.
(Bridgetown Monitor.)
MILLER-WOODWORTH

On the evening of Sept. 30th at 8 o'clock, the home of Captain and Mrs. J. R. Woodworth, of Bear River, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when their daughter Bertha Mae, was united in marriage to Mr. Roy Miller, of that place.

The parlor was tastefully decorated in clematis, sweet peas and potted plants where the bride entered on the arm of her father and stood under an arch of clematis and evergreen. The ceremony was performed by Rev. L. H. Crandall assisted by Elder Ruggles. The wedding march was played by the groom's sister, Miss Annie Miller.

The bride was dressed in white satin and shadow lace with pearl trimmings. She wore the conventional veil with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of white roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Hattie Woodworth, who wore yellow silk and carried a bouquet of yellow rose buds and maiden hair ferns.

The groom was supported by Mr. Ralph Harris, of Bear River. The ceremony was followed by a very dainty collation, after which the happy couple left by automobile amid the good wishes of all present, to visit different parts of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. The bride's travelling suit was brown, with hat to match.

The gifts were numerous and beautiful, including silver, cut glass and hand embroidery. The groom's gift to the bride was a diamond and pearl pendant and chain; to the bridesmaid a pearl brooch, and to the groomsmen a gold stick pin.

"Leah Kleschna" Will Thrill Humanly

"Leah Kleschna," the internationally famous play by the noted dramatist, C. M. S. McClellan, interpreted by the distinguished American actress, Carlotta Nilson, which will be shown in the Bijou Dream theatre, Digby, Tuesday evening, Oct. 13th, is certain to stir the civilized world with its plea for the criminal who has never been shown the right way to live. The situation of the woman burglar, reformed by the kindness of the man whose house she attempted to rob, is overpowering in its effective and unaffected portrayal. Leah, who has been taught to steal from early childhood, and who is suddenly brought into contact with this regenerating influence, realizes that all her soul had been struggling in darkness. From that moment she strives to liberate her spirit from the evil in which it had so long been submerged. She leaves her father, the master thief of France, and lives a secluded life far from Paris, where she finds the solitude good for her soul, until a great love enters into her life, and she finds the man who brought her into the light.

News From the Stethelin Brothers.

Mr. Stethelin, of Weymouth, has received good news from three of his sons at the front. Paul is at Antwerp; Maurice, after having passed through the battle of the Marne, was at the time of his last letter, dated Sept. 5th, at Nantes, for a week's rest; Bernard was on the firing line, attached as interpreter to the British army. Two more of his sons are en route to the front.

Langford Wins.

BOSTON, Oct. 6.—Sam Langford, of Weymouth, N. S., the negro heavyweight, tonight knocked out Colin Bell, of Australia, in the fourth round of a scheduled twelve round bout. The men fought a fifteen round draw in Australia a year ago.

GREAT BRITAIN'S MIGHTY FLEET

The Armament in Home and Foreign Waters.

IRON DUKE GREAT FIGHTER.

Flagship and Commander of the First Division Ordered to Sea—The New, Heaviest and Swiftest Vessels. Battle Cruisers Strong and Swift. Armament to Cope With Aerial Warfare—Phenomenal Speed Attained by New Battle Cruisers of King George.

THE fleet of British battleships which sailed at the end of July under sealed orders from Portland in command of Sir George Callaghan is a division of the first home fleet of Britain. This division is known to the navy as the first fleet and is always kept ready, fully manned, for sea service. Neither the second nor the third fleet has been kept fully manned, as many of the officers and men are training on shore and would not be able to go into action without first taking a period of training at sea.

The flagship of the commander in chief of the home fleet, Admiral Sir George Callaghan, is the battleship Iron Duke. She is of 20,400 tons displacement, 20,000 horsepower and has a speed of twenty-one knots. Her armament consists of ten 13.5-inch guns in double turrets on center line, twelve six-inch guns mounted in an armored battery and six three-pounders. She has four torpedo tubes.

The flagship of Vice Admiral Sir Lewis Bayly, commanding the first battle squadron, is the Collingwood. The other battleships of the first squadron are the St. Vincent, Hercules, Colossus, Neptune, Marlborough, Vanguard and Superb. These are among the biggest and most powerful fighting ships in the world, costing about $12,500,000 each. The guns are mounted in pairs in turrets, one of which is placed in the bows, two side by side amidships and two astern, one behind the other. The weight of the projectile is 850 pounds, and it has a muzzle velocity of 2,000 feet a second and a range of about twelve miles. This squadron has also a battle cruiser squadron comprising four vessels and one attached cruiser.

Second, Third and Fourth Squadron. The second battle squadron comprises the battleships Ajax, Audacious, Centurion, Conqueror, King George V, Monarch, Orion and Thunderer.

The second battle squadron also has a cruiser squadron of four vessels as well as an attached cruiser.

The third battle squadron comprises the battleships Edward VII, Africa, Britannic, Commonwealth, Dominion, Hibernia, Hindustan, Zealandia and an attached cruiser. Four cruisers constitute the third cruiser squadron.

The fourth battle squadron, forming a part of the first fleet, consists of the Agamemnon, Bellerophon, Temeraire and Dreadnought, which is the flagship of Vice Admiral Sir Douglas A. Gambia, commander of this squadron. The Dreadnought is of 17,000 displacement, length 530 feet, beam 82 feet, draft 31 feet and speed 21 knots. She carries ten twelve-inch guns and twenty-four twelve-pounder quick firing guns. The Agamemnon is of 10,500 displacement, has four twelve-inch, ten 9.2-inch, fifteen twelve-pounder and five torpedo tubes. The Bellerophon and Temeraire were built after the Dreadnought and are of 18,000 displacement, 520 feet long, 82 feet beam and carry ten twelve-inch and sixteen four-inch guns and three torpedo tubes.

The fourth battle squadron has also an attached cruiser and three other cruisers.

Second and Third Home Fleets. There are also a second and third home fleet. The second home fleet or division comprises two battle squadrons, numerically the fifth and sixth. The fifth battle squadron comprises eight battleships, an attached cruiser and a cruiser squadron of two vessels.

The sixth battle squadron comprises two battle squadrons and a cruiser squadron of three vessels; also a light cruiser squadron of four vessels.

The third home fleet has also two battle squadrons, known numerically as the seventh and eighth. The seventh battle squadron consists of eight battleships, one attached cruiser and a cruiser squadron of seven vessels. In the eighth battle squadron besides six battleships are five distinct cruiser squadrons of six vessels each.

The first home fleet comprises in addition to the vessels already mentioned four distinct flotillas, each comprising a cruiser, a depot boat and fifteen to twenty torpedo boat destroyers. The second home fleet is accompanied by a mine layer squadron of seven ships.

Battle Cruisers. England's first home fleet comprises four vessels of the class known as battle cruisers.

Germany and England are the only nations in the group which have built any battle cruisers. These are huge cruisers of high speed and of great offensive power. They are in reality battleships, in which some thickness of armor has been sacrificed in order to permit the installation of powerful driving machinery to obtain speed. They might be called fast battleships. What they lack in armor is made up in speed. Still, they are heavily armored, though not so heavily as are battleships of the Dreadnought type. England has nine and Germany four of these battle cruisers.

Squadrons in Far Waters. As its name implies, the home fleet lies in home waters. The navy maintains patrol flotillas to the number of four, besides a submarine flotilla numbering forty-seven vessels. Each patrol flotilla comprises a cruiser and about twenty torpedo boat destroyers. These vessels patrol the seas.

In the Mediterranean squadron there are eleven cruisers, heavy and light, and ten destroyers. The eastern squadron in China waters comprises six cruisers, six attached ships, ten river gunboats and eight destroyers. Both the Mediterranean and the eastern squadrons are likely to become involved in case of a general European conflict. Small squadrons, chiefly cruisers, are maintained in Australian waters, in the East Indies, around the Cape of Good Hope and off the west coast of America.

The Iron Duke. The new battleship Iron Duke, the first of the five large ships of the 1911-12 program to be completed, was commissioned only last March for duty as the flagship of Admiral Sir George Callaghan, the commander in chief of the home fleet.

The Iron Duke is the sister ship of the Emperor of India. She was laid down Jan. 15, 1912, and was over two years in construction.

The Iron Duke and the Emperor of India are the first Dreadnought ships in the British navy to carry the six inch gun, previous ships, with the exception of the famous Dreadnought, first of her class, which was furnished with twelve pounders, mounting four inch guns.

Another unique feature of this class is the provision of two twelve-pounder guns on high angle mountings for use against aerial warships. The training and elevating gears of these mountings are arranged to permit of large and rapid movements of the guns in both directions. The effective high angle ranges is stated to be about 7,000 yards at an angle of not less than 80 degrees. The displacement of the Iron Duke and Emperor of India is 20,400 tons, speed 22½ knots.

The fleet flagship of the German navy is the Friedrich der Grosse, having a displacement of 21,310 tons and an armament of ten twelve-inch guns.

Great Britain's Best Ships. Since the beginning of 1913 the already mammoth British navy has been re-enforced by several ships of the Dreadnought, or super-Dreadnought type, several of which appear in the lists of the battle squadrons of the home fleet above cited. Among these new monsters are the Conqueror, King George V, Centurion, Ajax and Audacious and the battle cruisers Princess Royal, Queen Mary, New Zealand and Australia. The Princess

AFRAID SHE WAS DYING

Suffered Terribly Until She Took "Fruit-a-lives"

ST. JUAN DE MATHIA, JAN. 27th, 1914.

"After suffering for a long time with Dyspepsia, I have been cured by 'Fruit-a-lives'. I suffered so much that I would not dare eat for I was afraid of dying. Five years ago, I received samples of 'Fruit-a-lives'. I did not wish to try them for I had little confidence in them but, seeing my husband's anxiety, I decided to do so and at once I felt relief. Then I sent for three boxes and I kept improving until I was cured. While sick, I lost several pounds, but after taking 'Fruit-a-lives', I quickly regained what I had lost. Now I eat, sleep and digest well—in a word, I am completely cured, thanks to 'Fruit-a-lives'."

largest guns are twelve inch. The Princess Royal has reached a maximum speed of 32.7 knots, while the Queen Mary has been credited with the phenomenal rate of 33.7 knots. Other vessels of the 1911 program may be added to Great Britain's naval armament should she engage in a protracted war.

The British fleet is scattered around the world, but the British sea lords have never failed to have a strong right arm of their naval power concentrated in home waters under the domination of the home fleet. The British fleet in the Mediterranean is nothing compared to the wonderful aggregation of steel concentrated in the home fleet. Great Britain is depending upon France to look after her naval interest in conjunction with the British battle cruiser squadron in the Mediterranean.

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations

COAL mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty years or an annual rental of $1.00 per acre. Not more than 2,560 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be stated out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $2 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns according to the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 per acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. V. CONY, Deputy Minister of the Interior.

DOCTORS DID NOT HELP HER

But Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Mrs. Bradley's Health—Her Own Statement.

Winnipeg, Canada.—"Eleven years ago I went to the Victoria Hospital, Montreal, suffering with a growth. The doctors said it was a tumor and could not be removed as it would cause instant death. They found that my organs were affected, and said I could not live more than six months in the condition I was in."

"After I came home I saw your advertisement in the paper, and commenced taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I took it constantly for two years, and still take it at times, and both my husband and myself claim that it was the means of saving my life. I highly recommend it to suffering women."—Mrs. ORILLA BRADLEY, 284 Johnson Ave., Winnipeg, Manitoba, Can.

Why will women take chances or drag out a sickly, half-hearted existence, missing three-fourths of the joy of living, when they can find health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?

For thirty years it has been the standard remedy for female ills, and has restored the health of thousands of women who have been troubled with such ailments as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, tumors, irregularities, etc.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

The Call of England.

My children! O, my children!
Come back to me again!
For War is pounding at my door
With threats of want and pain.
Come home, my sons, from far away!
Hear my troubled cry.
Lest 'neath the blows of foreign hate
Your mother bleeding lie!

The young and strong must shield the old,
Come, sons, the wife's world over.
And hurl the foe of England
Across the Straits of Dover!
O, England! Mother England
You do not call in vain.
We come, to throbs of life and drum
Across the heaving plain.
Your lands from loyal Canada,
From Australasian Isles,
From Africa and India—
We hurry anxious on.

The heart within us bounding red
To shield our Mother's breast,
Here, England, are your eaglets,
Come home to guard the nest!
My children! O, my children!
Why have I called ye back
To make a bulwark of your youth
To save me from the wreck?
Better I meet the foe I made,
Unflinching and alone,
Than sacrifice the Future's hope.
And add to all her moan.
My children of the fair new lands
Ye hold beyond the sea,
Turn home and leave me to my fate—
I will not summon ye!

O, Mother! Noble Mother!
You cannot send us home,
For Home is always England,
Where'er the English roam.
You fed us valor from your breast,
And taught our knees to touch faith,
And at the call of England
We find no resting in death.
We come! To fight your battles!
To die on your dear soil!
And all we ask: The blessing
Of England and of God!

Girls! Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a 25 cent bottle of Dandruff.

If you care for heavy hair that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Dandruff. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive agent robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandruff from any drug store and just try it.

BANISH WAR.

International Peace Tribunal Suggested to Prevent Disturbance.

VIOLATORS OF PACT PUNISHED BY ALL—WOULD RESTRICT NUMBER OF SHIPS AND SIZE OF ARMAMENT FOR EACH NATION.

This earth has no government; it is an anarchy, and as such cannot have peace. A supreme government must be established by its own peoples.

The folly of disarmament has been proved, competitive preparations for war, a general menace; alliances have complicated and generalized war, while the Hague Tribunal has been completely ignored.

However, the tribunal is one step in the right direction and the only stumbling block has been to find a means to force the powers to apply there for judgment and to enforce the law as laid down by that tribunal.

There is a way, however, so simple and of such mutual protection, that it should prove easy to arrange with all nations when peace has been restored and the sufferings and heavy losses of the present war, still fresh in the minds and all eager to accept offers of security, to form a new international peace tribunal, consisting of an equal number of diplomats from each country, these diplomats to be entirely free from business connections of any kind; they, in turn, to elect their own president to remain in office for a short term. All nations must pledge themselves to bring their disagreements for judgment before the tribunal, which should sit in session until a verdict is reached. Should this tribunal fail to agree, they should be replaced by an entirely new one.

The first and most important laws that this tribunal must set down as immovable are:

1. That no nation, under any circumstance, no matter what the provocation, shall attack another nation or colony.

2. No alliances or ententes permitted, save the one international alliance of the world.

The penalty for failure to apply at the tribunal for judgment or attacking another nation or colony is the same, viz:

To remove and exile the offensive government, replacing same by a new one elected by its own people.

We now arrive at the salient point; that of enforcing the international laws and verdict of the tribunal. For this purpose, the tribunal should reach a decision on how large an army and navy is necessary to overpower at least two of the most powerful nations. This large army and navy, being simply that existing at present, each nation remaining at home, but ready to furnish at once whatever amount of ships, armament and men as agreed upon as her contribution to form the international guard.

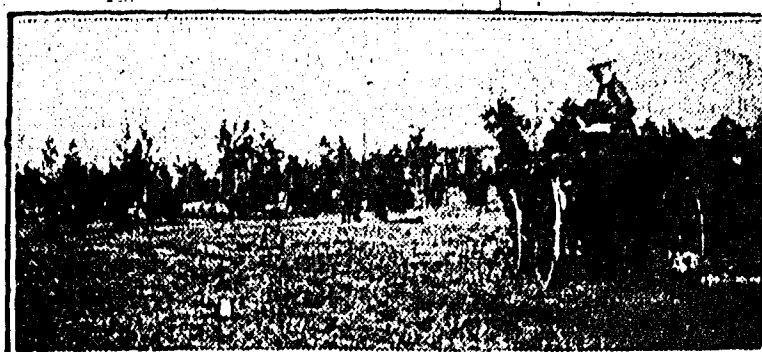

Each nation is to be restricted by the tribunal as to the amount of ships and armament she can produce, and no nation allowed to buy or manufacture ships or armament without the consent of the tribunal, with the only exception of its own coast, frontier or internal fortifications, to remain where built; but also restricted if carried to excess.

In the eventuality of a nation violating the peace treaty or attacking a nation or colony, the entire military force of all countries is to invade the offensive country, the nearest neighbors leading the advance, march to the capital, peacefully, if no resistance is offered, overpowering, if necessary, seize the government and exile all connected with it.

No government, however greedy, or fame-crazed, would be so foolhardy as to attack with the certain knowledge of exile. If, however, one should attempt it, the populace would offer little or no resistance, being probably pleased at having a government removed who would slaughter their people and cripple their business, also knowing that such resistance would be useless.

As no nation would dare to challenge the world single handed, there would be no more war (excepting in internal revolution) no more exhausting expense for armament and for rebuilding destroyed cities, and each country, having no fighting to occupy its army and navy, could occupy them commercially allowing sufficient time for necessary training to keep efficient for any emergency that would probably never happen during the life of this plan, but would soon return to old conditions if nations, growing too sure of their security, were to disarm.

There undoubtedly will be many individual objections offered against this idea, mostly by those delighting in bloodshed, when shed by his neighbor, by manufacturers of armament, and all those enriching themselves in blood, or, the strongest, perhaps, by those fearing overpopulation of the globe. This may occur, but not for many years to come, and if human beings must be weeded out like plants in the vegetable kingdom, it is folly to kill the mature and most able bodied, leaving the unfit to populate the earth. The human mind has solved

Farmers of Nova Scotia. This is Your Opportunity!

To the Farmers of Nova Scotia:
The war now raging is certain to cause a heavy decrease in the production of food stuffs in Europe during 1915. All the able bodied men of France, Germany Austria and Russia are engaged in fighting. The principal grain fields of Central Europe are being destroyed by marching armies. Little of this year's harvest will be saved, and practically no preparation can be made for next season's crop.

The grain fields of Europe in the hands of women workers will yield only a small percentage of the grain required for European consumption. The same condition applies to all other farm products employed to sustain life in man and beast. Whether this war will prove to be of short or long duration it is certain there will be a very serious decrease in the supply of food and fodder in Europe, for a long time to come. It is stated that of the 650,000,000 quarters of wheat yearly produced in the world 350,000,000 are grown in the countries now at war.

No man occupies a more important place in the present crisis than the farmer. The food supplies available will probably enter into the final success more than any other condition. The farmer, therefore, who means to produce all the food supplies that he can on the farm during the next year is just as useful a patriot as the farmer who shoulders his gun and goes to the war.

You should devote this autumn to the task of preparing your farms for the very largest crop that it is possible to raise. In doing so you can be of inestimable assistance to the Motherland while developing the agricultural resources of this Province and materially adding to your own incomes. Nova Scotia, owing to its comparative nearness to Europe, is a natural base of supply for the products that will be most sorely needed. Agricultural experts who have looked over this Province have

CONSUMPTION TAKES HUNDREDS OF PEOPLE

Hundreds of people succumb to consumption every day.
Science proves that the germs only thrive when the system is weakened from colds or sickness, overwork, confining duties or when general weakness exists. The best physicians point out that during changing seasons the blood should be made rich and pure and active by taking Scott's Emulsion after meals. The cod liver oil in Scott's Emulsion warms the body by enriching the blood; it peculiarly strengthens the lungs and throat, while upholds the resistive forces of the body to avoid colds and prevent consumption.

If you work indoors, tire easily, feel languid or nervous, Scott's Emulsion is the most strengthening food-medicine known. It is totally free from stupefying drugs. Avoid substitutes.
14-41 Scott & Borne, Toronto, Ontario.

always been impressed with the great possibility for increased food production on our farms. There are hundreds of acres of land that have been either down to hay for a great many years or have been in pasture, that can be plowed up, sown to oats, wheat or barley and seeded down to clover and timothy to the benefit of the farmer even in times of peace. But now that the present crisis demands that every effort should be made to increase the food supply I would urge you to make preparations for 1915, plow up these lands and produce all the grains, potatoes and other food products which you can.

It will pay you to make use of every acre possible in producing grain as it is sure to be needed. You may be assured of a market for all and more than you can raise. Indeed there will probably be strong competition for cereals in the latter part of next year. In view of the conditions you would be justified in utilizing extra labour for extending your operations.

If this greater cultivation of Nova Scotia lands is to be undertaken it should be proceeded with at once. With few exceptions, as you are aware, fall plowing not only results in bigger crops than spring plowing, but it expedites work. A man may intend to plow up much larger areas of land in the spring and put in extensive crops, but cold and wet weather and the rush of work often seriously interfere with this plan.

If, therefore, as much land as possible is plowed this fall, the spring work will be facilitated and much larger areas sown to grain and roots than could be under any other circumstances.

Farmers of Nova Scotia, this is your hour of opportunity. Remember it is the products that you can produce which will be in greatest demand—grains, roots, bacon, pork and beans and apples. I would urge those of you who are now ploughing your lands to plow still larger areas and I would strongly advise and urge those who have not yet begun, to proceed to the work as promptly and with as much diligence as possible.

A solemn duty has been laid upon your shoulders as farmers. You are expected to enlarge the output on your farms while not only maintaining but, where over possible, increasing its productive power. I cannot too strongly emphasize the fact that this work is just as truly practical patriotism as is the work of the soldier in the trenches. Our kinsmen in the Motherland have to be fed; so do also the people of the countries devastated by war. You in peaceful Nova Scotia are now in a position to do much for the cause of humanity and for the enduring benefit of our Empire.

INCREASED DEMAND FOR BEEF SHOULD MAKE FARMERS RAISE MORE CATTLE

OTTAWA, Oct. 15.—A special bulletin from the Commission of Conservation says:

The outbreak of the war in Europe and the consequent demand which is naturally to be expected for increased exports of meats finds Canada in a very much denuded condition as regards live stock.

As a result of the removal of the American tariff on cattle a heavy export trade developed to the south. In some districts in eastern Canada nearly every thing has been shipped out of the country except dairy cows. This export trade, together with many farmers selling their calves for veal, can have but one result in Canada, viz., a greater scarcity of meat than at present exists even in the normal market.

The meat industry in Canada should not be allowed to dwindle—rather, the production of hogs, sheep and cattle on Canadian farms should be greatly increased. To obtain this increase does not mean that farmers should devote their whole attention to live stock. The majority of farmers will admit that with very little effort and expense they could increase by several head the live stock on their farms without in any way interfering with their present system of farming.

From reports to the Commission of Conservation, present conditions indicate the world wide scarcity of live stock with little likelihood of an over-crowded market for many years to come. The opportunity for Canadian farmers is therefore apparent. To take advantage of this, farmers should save their heifer calves to produce more cattle while the others may be turned off not as veal but as beef.

Expert stockmen advise that there are good times ahead for those raising sheep. The high price of mutton and of wool and the comparative ease with which a flock of sheep may be sustained upon land which is otherwise unsuitable for agriculture, should suggest a great increase in the number of sheep raised by Canadian farmers.

Increased production in hogs can be brought about more quickly than in any other class of live stock, and consequently should receive immediate attention.

Animal production on the farm is desirable because it increases the fertility and crop raising ability of the soil. Good prices are sure to be obtained for any surplus which farmers will have to sell on account of the inevitable shortage of supply resulting from war conditions in Europe. These two conditions should be an incentive to Canadian farmers to increase their live stock production. A little fore sight now with modern methods of feeding, will make increased production easily possible.

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Digby, October 16, 1914

Body Identified.

IT WAS THE BODY OF THE LATE JAMES F. DUNLAVY WHICH WAS PICKED UP OFF SANDY COVE.

The discovery of the clothing on the body picked up in the Bay of Fundy off Sandy Cove as reported in our last issue, led to the belief that the corpse was that of the late James F. Dunlavy aged 41 years who resided on Union street, West St. John, and who was drowned in St. John harbor on the night of August 19th at 10.15 o'clock when the gasoline tank of his motor boat exploded. With Dunlavy were Frank Craft and Frank Deyman who were rescued by James Keefe of the dredge St. John. Although the harbor was dragged and every effort made to discover the body of the missing man, no trace was even found of him until a description of the body found off Sandy Cove appeared in the newspapers.

Mr. Fred J. Kee, of 183 St. James street, St. John, brother-in-law of the late Mr. Dunlavy, arrived in Digby via S. S. Yarmouth Friday morning and was met at the wharf by a Countess representative who gave him what information he required. Mr. Kee immediately proceeded by auto to Sandy Cove, a distance of 20 miles, where he positively identified the body and had it conveyed by Undertaker J. F. Rice to Digby and prepared for transportation across the bay. The funeral took place Saturday afternoon from Rice's Point, where on the arrival of the S. S. Yarmouth from Digby, the service at the grave was conducted by Rev. H. A. Cady with interment in Greenwood cemetery, attended by relatives and immediate friends of the deceased.

An inquest was held before Coroner Barnes at Sandy Cove with a verdict of accidental drowning.

The late James F. Dunlavy is survived by two sisters, Mrs. W. J. Morgan, of San Francisco, and Mrs. F. J. Kee, of St. John, and one brother, William Dunlavy, of Vancouver, formerly of Digby, is a cousin of the deceased.

Mr. Fred J. Kee, during his short stay in Digby and Sandy Cove, made many friends who endeavored to render every possible assistance during his sad trip.

The COURIER extends its deepest sympathy to the bereaved ones.

The Digby Glee Club.

Last April a few young men of Digby who are musically inclined organized "The Digby Glee Club," and held a few practice rehearsals before the busy season stopped regular meetings for the summer. But these few meetings proved that there is talent here, and the members, realizing the pleasure of singing together, and the benefit of musical training, decided to make the organization permanent.

At a business meeting last week a constitution and by-laws were adopted and the following officers elected:

President, Paul Yates.
Vice President, P. W. Holdsworth.
Secretary, Roy S. Whynacht.
Managing Committee, Percy W. Holdsworth, Chairman.
Music Committee, Boyd Ellis, Chairman.

Conductor, Paul Yates.
A piano was engaged and a temporary quartet secured. Membership fees were fixed at $1.00 with annual dues of $2.00. Rehearsals will be held every Thursday night at 8 o'clock sharp. Any young man with a good voice and an ear for music, whether he has any musical training or not, is eligible, and the club would be glad to hear of any such persons. Part of each rehearsal will be given up to musical instruction and voice training.

It is said that the culture of a community is indicated by its interest in good music, hence Digby will welcome this new organization which can undoubtedly benefit the town if its members are in earnest, willing to work hard, and determined to attend rehearsals regularly and punctually. When the Glee Club has demonstrated its ability, it is to be hoped that a Ladies' Auxiliary will be added, and an orchestra. This, in time would grow into a creditable Choral Union of which the town might well be proud.

Death of Mrs. Rachel Carby.

Mrs. Rachel Carby, who for the past seven years had resided with her son Charles in Digby, but who was visiting her former home in Lansdowne, died there last Monday morning, aged 87 years. The deceased was a member of the Baptist church and highly respected by all who knew her. Her husband died several years ago. She leaves three daughters, Mrs. Melbourne Rice, Lansdowne; Mrs. James Rice, Bay Road; and Miss Annie at home, and one son, Mr. Charles H. Carby, of Digby. She is also survived by a brother, Mr. Edward Dunn, of Lansdowne, fourteen grand children and three great-grandchildren. The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon at 2.30 with interment in Mount Hope cemetery, Bear River, the services being conducted by Rev. Mr. Crandall, pastor of the Bear River Baptist church.

Death at Annapolis.

Griffin O'Dell, aged fifty-four years, brother of Mr. Carmen O'Dell, Provincial Game Inspector, died at his home in Annapolis Tuesday evening. He is survived by a widow and seven children. He also leaves a mother more than eighty-five years of age. The deceased served several terms as town councillor, and on the death of Charles Munro in 1908 was appointed to the office of prothonotary of the supreme court, which he held for several years, but being incapacitated, was forced to resign. He was a member of Annapolis Royal Lodge of Free Masons and will be buried with Masonic honors this afternoon, interment to take place in Woodlawn cemetery.

A Freak Apple.

Mr. Leonard Comeau, who resides near Porter's Lake, sent the editor this week a medium sized dark red apple, juicy, and of excellent flavor which was grown on a gravelly tree on the same branch and within a few inches of large and beautiful golden apples. How this strange variety got there and its name are a puzzle to all who have seen it.

Fond of Butter.

Great Britain is the greatest butter eater among nations. The English eat 18 pounds a year, as against four pounds in France, eight pounds in Germany and two pounds in Russia.

OF A LOCAL NATURE

—Twenty carloads of war horses are at St. John waiting shipment for England.

—The lady who lost a silk parasol last Saturday morning can obtain the same by applying at the Countess club.

—Thanksgiving Day was quietly observed in Digby. A large number of our residents spent the day out of town.

—The Provincial government has appointed Mr. Ingram Saunders, of Sandy Cove, a Deputy Issuer of Marriage Licenses.

—Dr. S. B. McGregor, who returned last week from a successful moose hunting trip, has the editor's thanks for some excellent steak.

—Mr. Fred Blaney, formerly of Barton, who recently returned from the West, has purchased Mr. George Thomas' property, Neck Road.

—Letters for Canadian soldiers who have left Valcartier for Europe should be addressed: "Canadian Overseas Contingent, care War Office, London, England."

—The sum of $30.65 was realized at the Marshalltown bean supper on the 14th inst. The funds will be used in buying yarns and other material in aid of "Red Cross Work."

—Rev. Mr. Ryder, who occupied the pulpit of the Digby Baptist church last Sunday, will preach here again next Sunday morning and evening and at Hill Grove in the afternoon.

—Mr. George Potter, of Smith's Cove, has the editor's thanks for a number of apples grown in 1913 which were as sound and appeared to have as good flavor as apples grown the present season.

—Last Monday being a holiday, the regular meeting of the Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club will be held in their rooms next Monday evening, Oct. 19, at which a full attendance is especially requested.

—Friday's Yarmouth Telegram: Among the shipments to Boston on Wednesday were a few boxes of blueberries. We believe this is the latest shipment ever known in the history of the Province.

—The concert at Barton on the 8th inst. was a great success. The receipts amounted to $23.00. The programme was repeated at Smith's Cove Wednesday night at which the sum of $11.45 was realized.

—We wish to call attention to Miss Hazel's advertisement in today's COURIER. This is an excellent opportunity to learn shorthand and typewriting in Digby. A letter to Miss Coombs will bring full information.

—The Rev. J. W. O'Brien, of Bear River, preaches in Grace Methodist church next Sunday forenoon, and evening, exchanging with Rev. Robert McArthur. The interests of the Temperance and Moral Reform Department of the Methodist church in Canada will be dealt with at one of the services.

Death of Fred A. Broad.

HAD LOOKED AFTER CLAIMS FOR THE CITY OF LYNN FOR THE PAST EIGHTEEN YEARS.

The Lynn Evening Item devotes more than two columns to the death and funeral of the late Fred Broad, City Claim Agent and Clerk of State Aid and Soldiers' Relief, who was one of Lynn's best and most favorably known city officials. The deceased passed away at his home, 18 Barrill Avenue, early Sunday morning at the age of 52 years. Mr. Broad was a prominent Oldfield, being a Past Grand of Richard W. Brown Lodge. He was also a member of the Lynn Eocompant I. O. O. F.; Abraham Lincoln Lodge, Knights of Pythias; Sons of the Isles; Improved Order of Red Men; and a former member of the Park Club, Ly. He leaves a wife and mother, Mrs. A. F. Broad; two brothers, James H., an inspector of the Lynn police force, and Frank, a Lynn druggist. He was a nephew of Mr. Charles Aymer, of Westville, Digby County, and a cousin of Mr. H. A. Boney of the town.

The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon from his late residence with interment in the family lot in Pine Grove Cemetery. The services were conducted by Rev. Arthur E. Barrill, D.D., pastor of the East Baptist Church. Mayor Newhall and the Municipal Council attended in a body, the city hall being closed from noon to 1 o'clock in honor of the deceased. The floral tributes were extensive, including many large pieces from relatives and friends and business and fraternal organizations. Great sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones.

Boston Wins.

THE SCORE IN YESTERDAY'S GAME WAS 3 TO 1 AGAINST PHILADELPHIA.

Boston, October 15.—The Boston National League club completed the most sensational record in modern baseball history by defeating the Philadelphia Athletics in the fourth and final game of the world's series at Fenway Park today by a score of 3 to 1. Beginning with their rush from last place in the senior league in the middle of July, the Braves have broken traditions and records in the national spot and speed, during the last three months they averaged in the third and fourth place in the league, leaving a trail of startling surprises and upsets in their wake, which it will be hard to duplicate in years to come.

Last, and far from the least of their accomplishments, was the overthrow, in four straight games, of the world-famous baseball machine of Connie Mack, with his hundred thousand-dollar infield, home run heroes and corps of skillfully blended veteran and youthful pitching stars. Tonight the new champions, gathered under the management of George Stallings, are celebrating their ascent to the championship throne, while the wreck of the Athletics' baseball juggernaut is bound for the home of William Penn, stunned and stupefied by the unlooked for calamity which, temporarily at least, racked it to the smallest cog.

To the victors belongs the spoils and the credit, and unexpected as was the crushing defeat, the Mackmen took it in sportsmanlike spirit, praising the winners, and offering no excuses for their failure to hold their National League rivals in check. In fact, none are available, for the Boston club outplayed and outgamed their more experienced opponents in every game and department of play.

Due to the shortness of the series, the club owners and National Commission divide a smaller sum of money than in any world's series since 1910.

Beautiful Farm House Destroyed.

KEYS ESTATE BURNED TO GROUND SATURDAY EVENING.

One of the most beautiful farm houses and barns in this section was destroyed by fire early Saturday evening when the Keys estate on Peverly Hill road, occupied by John Coleman and his family, was consumed. The house, of eleven rooms, was burned to the ground before assistance could arrive.

Shortly after 6 o'clock Mr. Coleman discovered a fire raging in the rear of the house, and it is alleged that a lantern left in the kitchen caused the conflagration.

No hydrant water could be secured in the vicinity of the house and the neighbors assisted as much as possible before the flames became too hot.

The furniture in the parlor, including a valuable piano, was all that was saved. The auto chemical with Chief William F. Woods saw the blaze as they were returning from the Newington and turned full speed to offer assistance.

The fire gained headway rapidly and when the firemen arrived there was no possible way to save the property.

The large house and barn were destroyed and the loss is estimated between $5,000 and $8,000.

The Keys property consisted of a large house with but a few rooms, a stable covered residence and a well known to every autoist in this vicinity. The property was partly insured.

[We reprint the above from the P. C. month, N. H. Times of Monday, Oct. 5th. The owner of the property, Mr. John H. Wright, at one time resided at Sandy Cove, Digby, and has many friends there who will regret to hear of his loss.]

Canada's New Song.

GUESTS AT THE WINCHESTER HOUSE WERE PLEASANTLY ENTERTAINED SATURDAY EVENING.

"It's a Long, Long Way to Gay Paree" is the title of a new song that bid fair to rival "Tappery," so the guests at the Winchester House, on Saturday evening, in the presence of the other guests of the house, were certainly just as catchy as "Tappery." The writer of the song, Mr. G. M. Stuart, the well known 11-tion, Ont., commercial traveller, was present, and he kindly rewrote the verses for the occasion, and after the entertainment was over he destroyed the copy. The original is now in the hands of a well known Canadian music publishing house, and the song is expected to be ready for the Canadian public in the very near future, and it is destined to become the Canadian war song. The first edition is to be sent to the Canadian troops at the front. The chorus refers in a very humorous manner to Kaiser William's illusion of eating his dinner in Paris on a certain date. Sir Edward Grey comes in for special honors, and the poor Belgians are not forgotten. Before being accepted by the music publishing house, the song was most favorably passed upon by a well known dramatic critic of Montreal. The guests of the Winchester House felt very grateful to Mr. Stuart for his thoughtfulness, and his song was certainly the hit of the evening's entertainment.

Yarmouth's Fishing News.
(From the Times.)

The schooner Nathalie is in port with 6,000 pounds of halibut 4,000 cod, 12,000 eels and 6,000 salt cod. She was only out a week and stocked $800, her crew sharing $55 to a man.

The Eddie James which sailed yesterday was in Sandy Point for bait today. Owing to the failure of the local fishing boats to supply sufficient fish to keep the Gateway Fish Company's smoke houses and flakes going, this company has fitted up one of their buildings as a bunk house, with accommodations for 32 men and have arranged with Digby county fishermen to bring their boats here. Four line motor boats have already arrived and others will follow. Almost all our local fishermen have hauled their boats up for the winter regardless of the fact that the best fishing is just about commencing. Sitting by a warm fire on the sunny side of a wharf, comparing notes on the hard (7) times, seems to be the height of the ambition of many of them.

Last Night's Automobile Accident.
Isiah Kinghorn, a fisherman from Victoria Beach, was struck last night on Water street by an automobile driven by a Halifax gentleman who had with him in the car at the time a lady from Church Point. Kinghorn was carried into Bent's Restaurant and Dr. DuVernet immediately summoned. The man was somewhat out about the head but not seriously injured. The lady and gentleman had supper at the Winchester House, and were starting out towards Church Point at 11 o'clock. The car was going slow at the time of the accident. It had the lights were burning and the driver was sounding his horn. After the gentleman had learned that the injured man was receiving every attention possible, they proceeded on their journey.

This firm is also loading with pickled fish for Portland the schooner Hattie Loring, Capt. Potter, which brought them a cargo of salt from Halifax.

Joseph E. Snow's arrivals this week: 5,540 lbs. of mixed fish from boatmen; sch. Dorothy G. Snow, 31,600 lbs. of haddock, 8,000 lbs. of cod, 25,800 lbs. of eels, 10,000 lbs. of hake, 500 lbs. of haddock; sch. Loran B. Snow, 29,950 lbs. of haddock, 18,000 lbs. of eels, 7,200 lbs. of hake, 7,400 lbs. of cod; shipped 585 boxes of fluman haddies, 45 boxes of fllets, 14 lbs. fresh haddock, 3 cases salt cod.

Fishery patrol boat A., Capt. Hadley Blackford, left here Wednesday for St. Mary's Bay after making a visit to the headwaters of the Bay of Fundy. Capt. Blackford says that illegal lobster fishing is going on in St. Mary's Bay continually through the close season. Off Little Brook one day he hauled eighty four traps, which were destroyed after the lobsters were liberated, and further up the bay in one locality he destroyed twelve traps.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. It cures the disease, restores the system, and gives the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little Stomach, liver and bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a 5-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

The Rexall Stores of Canada

CONTRIBUTE TO

The Canadian Patriotic Fund

The Rexall Stores of Canada, 100 of the leading Drug Stores in Canada, have unanimously agreed to contribute to the Canadian Patriotic Fund, FIVE PER CENT. of their total purchases of all Rexall Toilet Goods, Rexall Remedies and other merchandise manufactured or sold by the United Drug Company, Limited, Toronto, from October 15th to December 31st, 1914.

This action of the Rexall Drug Stores of Canada has been undertaken co-operatively, because as a co-operative organization, they realize how much more can be done unitedly than individually, and it has been taken for two reasons—to fulfil a humane duty in raising a fund for the relief work of the Canadian Patriotic Organization, and a patriotic duty in an endeavor to keep a large staff of Canadian employees busy.

The 100 Rexall Stores of Canada make an appeal to your sympathy and support in their doubly worthy cause for increasing the funds of the Canadian Patriotic Organization and for the support of Canadian workmen because:

The fund that would be raised on the basis of last year's business can be tremendously increased if every man and woman in Canada will help a little by the simple process of purchasing Rexall Goods at the Rexall Stores.

No need to give space in this announcement to emphasize the high quality of Rexall Toilet and Medicinal goods. Sufficient to say that 7,000 of the leading Drug Stores in Canada, Great Britain, and the United States place their personal and collective reputations behind them; that the public in these countries endorse them to the extent of several millions dollars worth of purchases a year.

Better goods are not made, and you take no risk in buying, for every Rexall Store will return you your money if any Rexall Product is not entirely satisfactory and do it, too, without the slightest objection.

There's a full list of Rexall Products waiting for you at the Rexall Store in your town.

Ask for it—kindly pass the word along to your friends. It is the collective purchases of all that will make this Rexall Store Fund for the Canadian Patriotic Organization work a big one.

The Fund will be collected from each Rexall Store in Canada by the United Drug Company, Limited, Toronto, and will be paid by them direct to the officers of the Canadian Patriotic Organization, and the amount so collected will be published in this paper when paid over.

The Homeland's Call

(By Ronald McCall in Maclean's Magazine)
Hearken, ye whelps of the Lion!
Still ye, awake from your dream!
Mark to the world-long challenge,
List to the eagle's scream:
Thrown in the teeth of the nations
Terrific, menacing, grim,
Hear ye the words of defiance,
Hurled to the Empire's rim?
"Stand from the path of my southern mate,
Stand aside lest ye be too late
And I tear thee limb from limb."

Hearken, ye whelps of the Lion,
Hear ye his arrogant cry!
"Where is there one to dare me,
One who'll do battle and die?
For I the bear that was conquered,
Cowed by the small yellow man!
I fled I the squeaks of an upstart
I ground in the dust of Bedlam!
Who talks to me of the Lion's way?
A lion's cub may be eagle's prey!
And mercy is none of my plan."

Hearken, ye whelps of the Lion,
What says thy mother's roar?
"Who is this Teuton boaster
To grate so loud at war?
Long have I stood his insult,
Long have I lashed my might,
But never brooked dishonored peace,
The time has come to fight!
Rise then ye whelps of the Lion's breed,
Thy mother's call is the Empire's need
And battle for the right!"

"Send me the men from the Southern Cross
Eager to do their part;
Send me my sons from the frozen north,
Men of the mighty heart.
Give me the men from the sun-baked veldt,
Bred to the rifle's crack;
Send me alike both rich and poor;
No fear that men I lack:
Making one cause with my sons at home,
Warring on land or on salt sea foam,
To fight for the Union Jack."

GONE TO THE WAR

For The Canadian Contingent

The Minister of Militia has accepted our offer of a quantity of Red Cross Spearmint to be sent to the front for the Canadian Contingent.

This evidences an appreciation of the value of pure chewing gum in guarding health by its aid to digestion and its usefulness in allaying fatigue.

It goes with our best wishes that it will serve its purpose and soften, to some extent, the hardships of campaigning for the Canadian Troops.

10 CENT "CASCARETS"

IF BILIOUS OR COSTIVE

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments into garbage in a swirl barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret to-night will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

THE EUROPEAN WAR

Ostend Has Been Abandoned But Not French Ports.

THE EXACT POSITIONS OF THE BULK OF THE ALLIED ARMIES ARE BEING KEPT STRICTLY SECRET—CANADIANS LANE AT PLYMOUTH.

PARIS, Oct. 15, 12.91 a. m.—The exact positions of the bulk of the allied armies are being kept strictly secret, but it is believed that the forces in France and Belgium have joined hands since the fall of Antwerp.

The German cavalry around Hazebrouck, France, which masked a movement of the infantry, had already suffered a rude check from the allies before the battle at Ypres, because the Germans were unable to operate freely in masses, owing to the nature of the ground, where they were virtually at the mercy of the allied infantry and artillery.

Some lively street fighting occurred in Hazebrouck, on which place the Germans had made a daring raid, while at Arras the town hall was burned to the ground during a bombardment.

A portion of the line where the encounters have been the severest has suddenly changed from Royo to Lasigny, where the Germans had tried to make a breach through the allies. The battle, however, is still progressing there, and Royo has been taken and retaken at least twelve times.

LONDON, Oct. 14, 9.40 p. m.—While it is fully expected that the Germans will reach Ostend and other ports in the northwest of Belgium, if they have not done so already, they will be met with a very stubborn resistance in their attempt to extend the right wing of their main army through Pas de Calais to the French northern ports. They have, in fact, fallen back in this region in the face of the allies' offensive.

A few days ago the German cavalry were fighting as far west as Hazebrouck and Cassel, but today according to the French official communication issued this afternoon, the front of this battle extends from La Bassée through Estaires to Baillou on the Belgian frontier, while across the border the allies have occupied Ypres. This is a very distinct gain for the allies, and now that the German attempt to work around their left has failed, the German right being sent back toward Lille and Courtrai, both of which places the invaders hold with strong forces.

It is here that the heavy blows, that both sides hope will bring about a decisive result in the long drawn out battle, will be struck, and it is for this reason that the Germans will be able to make their way to Ostend, although even there some allied troops have been left to inflict what damage they can before joining the larger body further south.

The censorship has prohibited any mention of the operations to the north of Arras, which is probably responsible for the belief that the allies have prepared what one military critic declares is "a smashing blow, while the longer it is delayed, will be the more crushing in its effect."

Of the recent fighting elsewhere, the French communication simply says that the operations are proceeding normally on the left wing, as far as the Oise; that the Allies progress in the Berry Au Bac region is confirmed, and that on the right wing there is nothing new.

Plymouth, via London, Oct. 15, 3.40 a. m.—To Plymouth with its wonderful history has fallen the honor of welcoming the Canadian contingent for Great Britain's expeditionary force.

As soon as it was known on Wednesday morning that the transports were arriving great crowds hurried to all points overlooking Plymouth Sound, and greeted the men swarming the decks with enthusiastic cheers, to which the Canadians heartily responded.

The vessels anchored off Devonport, the bands aboard played lively tunes, and sounds of merriment came across the water all day long as the succeeding ships came to anchor. The last of the transports arrived at 9 o'clock at night.

An Ottawa despatch says:—The fact of the landing at Plymouth is taken here to mean that the Canadians will march straight to the training camps at Salisbury Plain. Previous detailed announcements as to the arrival of the Canadian troops at Southampton were unauthorized and, as events have shown, decidedly imaginative.

The trip across the Atlantic has taken practically two weeks, which is about the time expected by the officials here when the transports started. The landing of 32,000 Canadian troops in England takes place within two months from the time the mobilization orders went out from Ottawa and under all the circumstances, the organizing, equipping, training and transporting of such a body of selected troops within so short a time is a feat of which the militia department and the citizens of Canada may well be proud.

So far as is known here there were no untoward circumstances connected with the trip across. Shortly after the transports started a few of the homes on home of the ships had to be shot in consequence of being hurt through stampeding in the close quarters in which they had to be confined.

Boer Uprising of Little Importance.

MARITZ ALWAYS IRRECONCILABLE, AND HAS SMALL FOLLOWING IN SCARCELY SETTLED PROVINCE.

LONDON, Oct. 13.—In itself the action of Col. Maritz is not regarded as of serious importance. His following is small and his force is situated in a district where it can be of least value to the Germans in South West Africa. Maritz has always been known to be irreconcilable and is certain to seize any opportunity of making trouble. It is assumed that Premier Botha will lose no time in having him arrested.

A man well acquainted with South African affairs told your correspondent today that General Botha was probably very glad of the opportunity to proclaim martial law, as it would enable him to take measures which ordinary law would not permit.

"It is a mistake to judge South African affairs by English standards," said this authority, "their methods are much more rough and ready, and Botha will lose no time in taking measures to squelch Maritz and his followers."

"Hertzog, leader of the Dutch opposition in the House, has nothing to do with the affair, and one result of Maritz will be to drive waverers into Botha's ranks and give a great stimulus to recruiting. Botha can get 10,000 men to Uptington, where Maritz is, in a very short time, and if I do not mistake the Boers of the Black Veldt, they will not only not sympathize with Maritz, but will give him the shortest shrift."

The Patriotic Fund.

Warden C. H. Purdy was in Weymouth on Monday last and made arrangements to organize the Municipality of the District of Digby for the purpose of soliciting subscriptions for the Patriotic Fund. A circular letter, a copy of which appears below, is to be sent to each of the twelve councillors of the Municipality.

It is hoped that the residents of the Municipality will make a hearty and generous response to the canvass for this worthy object.

CANADIAN PATRIOTIC FUND. Municipality of the District of Digby.

Executive: C. H. Purdy, Chairman; J. A. Grier, Secretary.

DEAR SIR:—As you are doubtless aware, the Municipality of the District of Nova Scotia is organizing for the purpose of raising a Patriotic Fund, designed to provide for the needs of dependants and relatives of those who have served in Canada or abroad. The undersigned were recently appointed the executive of said fund for the Municipality of the District of Digby. We wish to request that you, as Councillor of your polling district, call a public meeting at once and organize your poll by having yourself appointed Chairman and Treasurer, also have appointed a Secretary and such number of collectors as you may require so as to thoroughly canvass your poll for voluntary subscriptions to said fund.

The money when collected is to be paid into the Savings Bank Department of the Bank of Nova Scotia at Digby, to the joint credit of C. H. Purdy and J. A. Grier, in trust for the "Patriotic Fund," and will be paid out for relief as necessities require.

But few of us are able to go to the front and do our share in defending our country and upholding the cause of liberty. It therefore becomes our duty to contribute what we can to support the dependants of those who are fighting our battles for us. It is hoped the response will be generous and spontaneous.

Yours respectfully,

Secy. Municipal Executive.

(Counter-signed) C. H. Purdy.

Chairman Municipal Executive.

Weymouth, N. S., Oct. 14, 1914.

Big Time at Watford.

EVERYONE SHOULD BE IN THAT VILLAGE NEXT THURSDAY TO SWELL THE BELGIAN RELIEF FUND.

Arrangements are being made for a big entertainment on Mr. Charles Rolichaud's grounds, Watford, Digby Neck, next Thursday, Oct. 22nd, afternoon and evening, proceeds of which will go towards the Belgian Relief Fund.

Amusements of various kinds, including dancing, will be held on the grounds. Supper will be served by the ladies and if the weather is too cool for an outdoor meal, Mr. Rolichaud's house will be thrown open for the occasion.

It is hoped that this worthy object will receive the patronage of the entire neighborhood and that people will be present from the surrounding towns and villages. Should the weather be stormy, this entertainment will be held the first fine day.

Belgian Relief Fund.

E. R. Mowbray, manager of the Royal Bank of Canada, acknowledges receipt of the following amounts for credit of the above fund.

Previously acknowledged: Ethel Davis, Westport, $288.85; Captain Charles H. H. Westport, $5.00; William H. Porter, South Range, $2.00.

Mrs. Ruel Outhouse, Tiverton, N. S. DEAR MRS. OUTHOUSE: The Belgian Relief Committee gratefully acknowledge receipt of $152, enclosed in your letter of October 8th. I think you are to be congratulated on the substantial sum you have raised. We hope to have a very large shipload, but the ship is a pretty large one, and it is quite possible that we may not have quite enough to completely fill it.

Yours truly, C. W. FRAZER, Treasurer.

Sandy Cove.

Death has again entered our community and taken as its prey one of our bright and promising young men, Mr. Leelyn Bishop, youngest son of Capt. and Mrs. Robt. Bishop.

The deceased had been a great sufferer with that dreaded disease, consumption, having spent last winter at Los Angeles and other places for his health, but to no avail.

He returned home throughout the summer, where he passed peacefully away on Saturday morning at the early age of 26 yrs.

He leaves to mourn his loss a devoted father and mother, four sisters, Mrs. Henry Nagel, of Baltimore; Mrs. James McLeod, of New York; Mrs. Melbourne Eldridge, of Portsmouth; and Mrs. Arthur Mitchell at home; and two brothers, Ira, of New York, and Boyd, of Boston, beside a host of friends and relatives.

He was a member of the Baptist church. Interment took place on Tuesday in the Baptist cemetery, Rev. J. Harvey, of Little River, officiating, assisted by Rev. J. Hale, pastor of the Methodist church.

Much sympathy is extended to the bereaved ones.

Healthy Bowels Rexall Orderlies

Perfect health can only be obtained by keeping the bowels regular. If your bowels do not daily carry away the waste left after the food is digested, decay sets in, producing poisons which are taken up by the blood, frequently resulting in Typhoid Fever, Appendicitis and other serious and fatal diseases.

To keep the bowels healthy and regular you must help, not drive, Nature by using Rexall Orderlies which are mild and gentle in their action, producing neither griping, nausea, nor any other discomfort.

Rexall Orderlies cannot injure the delicate tissue of the bowels, and, as they do not re-act, it is only necessary to take them for a short time to cure constipation.

If after you have tried Rexall Orderlies you are not perfectly satisfied with them, we will return your money.

WHAT A SWAMPSCOTT, MASS. MAN THINKS OF OUR BROTHER TOWN AS A SUMMER RESORT.

When Mr. John R. Merritt, of Swampscott, Mass., was in Weymouth during the month of September he wrote the Lynn Evening Item as follows:

The weather here for the past 10 days, with the exception of one or two has been delightful. In this great rolling country of hills and plain, lapped by the bright blue waters of St. Mary's bay as it washes the distant shores of Digby Neck some 35 miles in length from Brighton to Westport, the entrance to the bay, from the sea. "Weymouth is situated on the Sissiboo River, three miles from its source; on the Dominion Atlantic Railway, Yarmouth to Halifax. The town itself is styled the Bridge by the town folk, the business portion being separated by a span over the river, and for a small place there are many stores, two banks and several churches. A number of wharves run out from the water front, where vessels load with wood pulp and lumber for ports in the States, the West Indies and to Europe. This is a farming and timber country, which no doubt brings a fair return to the people who produce and the men engaged in the work.

"All along the shore are many fine places with pretty houses and beautiful lawns, with hedges of a dark green which give the place along the shore drives a very pleasant and restful feeling. Many of these places are summer homes of those from the States as well as those who make the town their permanent residence.

"Weymouth also has many fishermen who ply their vocation along shore and in the bay of Fundy, shipments of fish being sent to the States and also to the West Indies. This certainly is an ideal place for the tourist who comes here to cast a line for fish, and claims are plenty. There is no danger of the latter being contaminated with the wash of sewage along the shores.

"We are writing from Weymouth North, where the Sissiboo enters St. Mary's bay, one of the most delightful places to us as far as we have seen. Our domicile is called Sunset resting on a high bluff some 200 feet above the sea with a lawn about the same width and 60 rods from the shore. From the broad piazza one can look south and west over the slopes and across the bay to Digby Neck for miles and miles.

"From Weymouth south and west we pass along the French shore of the bay for many miles, through prosperous looking villages and over roads that are a credit to the residents who maintain them by their individual labor each citizen being compelled to contribute either in money or labor upon them the equivalent of $1 per annum. There is not the travel over these roads to tear them up as is the case in the States, but at this time of year they are pretty well patronized. We pass over one of these roads in an automobile to Comeauville, some 20 miles west, passing through Church Point, where are situated St. Ann's church and college building of the French people, who constitute nearly the entire population of this section. We also passed an other very fine French Catholic church building nearly completed, and the wonder is where and how they raise the funds to build these magnificent churches. We entered the one at Church Point and were shown about by one of the priests, a student, no doubt, who was connected with the college. It is quite beyond us to describe the place, but outside the great cathedral in Boston it is the most beautiful church edifice we were over in.

"At Comeauville we stopped to inspect the quaint old Hotel Comeau 150 years old, rate $1 per day, one of the rarest of old buildings, it is said, in Nova Scotia, and surely one of the best hotels in the province. The floors were of wood, said to be hand hewed. The ceilings also of wood with the painted rooms, both sleeping and living, we have seen anywhere. The house is run by a French lady and the gracious manner in which she receives and entertains her guests does one good to see and something of a reminder of the old country inns we read of which perhaps few of us have ever seen.

"At the present time with nearly all Europe at war with each other and England trying to do her part to stop the thing by fighting as well the people of Nova Scotia, like all Canada, are greatly concerned as to the outcome of the struggle. A great military camp has been established at Valcartier, Quebec, where it is expected 20,000 men will be assembled to drill and be fitted for the war. Already some 10,000 men are in camp and recruits are arriving every day. A regiment of 1000 men from this province of Nova Scotia is being organized and the new made soldiers can be seen about the villages every day uniformed and leaving for Valcartier.

Every one seems to be talking war and the enthusiasm runs high, bringing to our mind the scene of years ago when the young men and boys of our own land were anxious to go to the front in defence of the union and the flag of their country. A feeling of sadness comes over us as we see these fine young fellows eager and willing to go over the seas in defence of their country. Also, will they all be returned to their dear distant homes in Canada when hostilities cease? God grant they may, but it is extra-ly doubtful.

"This place is surely a beautiful one to pass a few weeks, particularly for one coming from the States, away from the dazzling lights of street and shop and the constant din and rattle to which one is accustomed at home. The automobile is here, as everywhere, though not to that extent as in the States, but the Canadians have their share of them in the cities.

"We are in a province of a country at war with Germany and Austria, 3000 miles from the battle lines of the opposing armies. May we never be at less distance. Canada is assembling her men to fit them for the fray. Every one is discussing the war and they tell us the country is feeling its effects in the falling off of the usual lines of trade. God grant the war may be short and that the people who have had no part in bringing on this terrible strife may be speedily returned to their loved ones and homes."

St. John Wants New Industry.

ITS BUSINESS MEN SHOULD ORGANIZE A FLEET OF OFF SHORE FISHERMEN.

(Special Correspondence to the Canadian Fisherman)

"If St. John wants to establish a new industry its business men should take up the question of organizing a fleet of off-shore fishermen," said Lewis Connors, of Connors Brothers, Black's Harbor, recently.

"If I had any money to spare I would put it in off-shore fishing vessels," added Mr. Connors. "Digby has built up quite a fleet of off-shore fishermen and they have done well. According to reports, some of the Digby fishing vessels made big money last year: in fact some vessels stocked enough to pay for themselves during the winter. Where Digby has made a success there is no reason why St. John or any St. Andrews should not. Some years ago St. John had a few fishing vessels, but they were rather small, and probably did not do very well, as their operations were confined to the Bay of Fundy. What is needed to carry on the fishing business on a successful basis are vessels of from 100 to 150 tons, capable of working on the banks on the southern coast of Nova Scotia in the winter time. Most of the American vessels make their winter catches on the lesser banks lying off the coast of Nova Scotia. The Digby vessels also make their catches on Browns, Lahave and Cape Sable banks.

"Vessels can be built in this country as cheaply as in Gloucester, and there should be no difficulty in maintaining them. Many of the best skippers running fishing vessels out of Gloucester or Boston were at one time fishing out of New Brunswick ports on the Bay of Fundy or from Nova Scotia. "Today there is a big market for fish in Canada, at certain seasons of the year some of the fish dealers in St. John have to import fish from the States, paying duty on their consignments. This is a condition we should strive to abolish. Vessels running from the Banks on the south shore of Nova Scotia can reach St. John almost as quickly as they can get into Digby and from here to the big markets of Montreal and Toronto is a shorter haul than from Digby. St. John would be a fishing port of considerable importance, but it will not be so until the local fish dealers wake up to their opportunities."

The sardine fishermen of St. John and the Bay of Fundy have been enjoying a great season. Prices have been ranging from $16 to $24 a hogshead.

A Charlotte County weir owner is reported $50,000 in pocket as a result of the sardine run to date. A local man disposed of sixty hogshead at $20 last week.

October Rod and Gun

Although the opening article in the October number of Rod and Gun in Canada magazine, published by W. J. Taylor, Ltd., Woodstock, Ont., is descriptive of a notable Canadian canoe race in which canoe men racing on the Riviere and Ottawa Rivers covered over two hundred miles in sixty hours, the table of contents shows a predominance of big game hunting stories. "How 1913 Turned Out Lucky for One Bull Moose" is the story of a moose hunt in Quebec Wilds; "An Unusual Hunting Trip" describes an American sportsman's outing after moose in New Brunswick forests; while "Moose Hunting in the Riding Mountains of Manitoba" tells of a winter hunt in that province. "Trapped" is an amusing story of how a Western sportsman outwitted the R. N. W. M. P. representative. Other stories and the regular department make up an interesting big game issue for Canadian sportsmen.

FALLING HAIR AND ITCHING SCALP

Needless—Use Parisian Sage
Now that Parisian Sage can be had at any drug counter it is certainly needless to have thin, brittle, matted, stringy or faded hair. No matter how unsightly the hair, how badly it is falling, or how much dandruff, Parisian Sage is all that is needed. Frequent applications and well rubbed into the scalp will do wonders—it acts like magic. The hair roots are nourished and stimulated to grow new hair, itching scalp, dandruff and falling hair cease—your head feels fine. Best of all, the hair becomes soft, fluffy, abundant and radiant with life and beauty. You will be surprised and delighted with Parisian Sage. Try at least one fifty cent bottle from H. H. Jones. He will refund the purchase price if you are not satisfied.

WORLD'S GREATEST KIDNEY REMEDY

"Fruit-a-lives" Have Proved Their Value In Thousands of Cases

WONDERFUL RECORD OF A WONDERFUL CURE

Only Remedy That Acts On All Three Of The Organs Responsible For The Formation Of Uric Acid In The Blood.

Many people do not realize that the Skin is one of the three great eliminators of waste matter from the body. As a matter of fact, the Skin rids the system of more Urea (or waste matter) than the Kidneys. When there is Kidney Trouble, Pain In The Back and Acid Urine, it may not be the fault of the kidneys at all, but be due to faulty Skin Action, or Constipation of the bowels.

"Fruit-a-lives" cures weak, sore, aching Kidneys, not only because it strengthens these organs but also because "Fruit-a-lives" opens the bowels, sweetens the stomach and stimulates the action of the skin.

"Fruit-a-lives" is sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations

COAL mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, in the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,000 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the right is applied for, or is situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions and sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be sketched out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $100 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

W. W. CORY, Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N. B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

SYNOPSIS OF DOMINION LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within ten miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt quarter section along side his homestead in each of three years.

Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption six months in each of three years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has cashed his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $300 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

W. W. CORY, Deputy of the Minister of the Interior.

TWO NERVOUS WOMEN

Made Well By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I had a severe case of nervous prostration, with palpitation of the heart, constipation, headaches, dizziness, noise in my ears, timid, nervous, restless feelings and sleeplessness."

"I read in the paper where a young woman had been cured of the same troubles by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound so I threw away the medicines the doctor left me and began taking the Compound. Before I had taken half a bottle I was able to sit up and in a short time I was able to do all my work. Your medicine has proved itself able to do all you say it will and I have recommended it in every household I have visited."—Mrs. MARY JOHNSON, 210 Siegel Street, Philadelphia, Pa.

Another Bad Case. Ephrata, Pa.—"About a year ago I was down with nervous prostration. I was pale and weak and would have hysterical spells, sick headaches and a bad pain under my shoulder-blade. I was under the care of different doctors but did not improve. I was so weak I could hardly stand long enough to my dishes."

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me well and happy and I have begun to gain in weight and my face looks healthy now."—Mrs. J. W. HORNBERGER, Rt. No. 3, Ephrata, Pa.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (Confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

Right Versus Might.

(Written for the Courier)

They hear thy call from lands afar,
Oh Motherland!
They answer quickly—here we are,
Dear Motherland!

From East and West, from South to North Oceans that divide us cannot part
Those gallant bands of volunteers
Their answer give to Toton-encers,
We come with thee to take our stand
Oh Motherland, dear Motherland.

Australia and South Africa,
Oh Motherland,
New Zealand and our Canada,
Dear Motherland,
From India comes a mighty host,
From every coast, from East to West,
From hill and valley, lake and shore
They gather to the fields of war
In love we come to take our stand Along thy side, dear Motherland.

Thy soldiers give in love their lives,
Oh Motherland!

Thy cause is right for this we strive,
Dear Motherland!
But Europe's borders are forced to fight,
They are not slaves and might is right,
They come the tyrant's will to voice,
His will is theirs they have no choice,
To love thy children take their stand,
Like bands of steel, dear Motherland.

And if again the danger comes,
Oh Motherland,
Yet mightier hosts shall leave their homes,
Dear Motherland!

The tyrant back shall forced be,
He and his slavish hordes shall flee,
The age of might be trumped down,
The dawn of right shall gladden the crown,
And all the world will understand Why they are great dear Motherland, Old Tie.

Dr. Morse's Indian Root Pills

Microbes in Your Scalp
Authorities say that a microbe causes baldness. If you are losing hair try our remedy at our risk.

Professor Anna, of Germany, and Dr. Sabouraud, the great French Dermatologist, claim that a microbe causes baldness, and that the hair falls out because of the action of this microbe. This microbe destroys the hair follicles, in time causing the scalp pores to close and the scalp to become scaly. Then, it is believed, nothing will revive the growth. If treated before this occurs, baldness may be overcome.

We know of nothing that has given such universal satisfaction in treating the scalp as hair as Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic. It has been designed after long study to overcome the cause of falling hair as discovered by Prof. Anna and Dr. Sabouraud and other scalp and hair specialists, and we believe it will do more than anything else can to remove dandruff and stop falling hair, and if any human agency can promote a new growth of hair it will do that, too.

We want you to make us prove it. We will pay for a month's treatment of Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic used according to directions, and are not thoroughly satisfied. When we will do this, you surely should not hesitate to at least try it.

Start the treatment today. Your money request will get your money back if you want it. Two sizes, 50c and $1.00.

You can buy Rexall's "93" Hair Tonic in this community only at our store:

THE LAST BLACK FLAG

I didn't get a medal for what happened to me on the day I was fourteen years old, which is more than sixty years ago, but I had the fun of fighting a pirate ship and knowing that she was the last one that ever dared to fly the black flag. That's better than to have read a hundred pirate stories.

I was a cabin boy on board an Australian packet ship, and she was making the voyage from London to Australia. She was called the Ruby Castle and a fine craft she was. Things never went better with any of the liners till we were south of St. Helena and the beginning of our trouble was the sighting of a brig which stood out to us from the African coast. We soon felt sure she was a pirate vessel and was coming to attack the Ruby Castle.

They must have known that we were armed and had a strong crew aboard, but pirates were men to take long chances. When the four boats were ready to leave the brig's side I counted fifty two men in all, and it seemed as if many more were left behind. You will wonder how we took matters aboard the pirate. Of the thirty or more male cabin passengers, five or six showed the white feather, and of course most of the women were greatly frightened. Among the emigrants were about fifty men and half grown boys. To a man of them they volunteered to help the crew, and muskets and cutlasses and boarding pikes to some. The boats divided as they came on, and when half the distance had been passed their crews began cheering. Our first shot from one of the big guns could not have been better. The solid shot struck one of the boats fair in the stem and split her open full length, and of those not killed outright only two or three were picked up. The disaster only made the rascals more desperate. Raising a cheer the three boats dashed at us and were soon so close that the big guns were of no further use. We met them with fire, and we heaved cold shot into the boats as they hooked on, and no gang of pirates ever got a harder drubbing. Although we lost two killed and several wounded, and only two boats and eighteen men returned to the pirate ship. We knew they would not make another attack, and it was generally believed that when the breeze came the pirate would sail away. It was 4 o'clock in the afternoon before the calm was broken, and to our surprise and anxiety the pirate did not show her heels. On the contrary she began working down toward us, and as soon as within cannon shot she opened fire. She had four guns in broadside, the same as the Ruby Castle, and for an hour we had a square fight of it. She sailed much better than we did and was more easily handled, but in spite of all her tricks we gave her the worst of it and finally drove her out of range.

That night all the dead aboard us were buried and the ship put to rights as far as could be, and only the women and children slept. The wounded were replaced, shot holes plugged up, and there is no reason why we should not safely make the Cape.

When daylight came we congratulated each other over our victory, and the captain had just decided to make a sort of holiday in honor of the event when a thunder storm came racing up behind us, and in the midst of the black cloud was the pirate brig. Instead of sailing away in search of a haven or of another prey, when she had repaired damages she had picked up our trail and was going to give us another brush. When we had her crippled the night before we could have destroyed her, but Captain Wilson simply sailed away. He now promised the crew to sink her if he could, and there was cheering as the men went to the guns. Down came the black cloud and with it down came the pirate, with his black flag flying, and as he ranged up on our port quarter at half shot he opened fire. His first shot struck a gun and killed three men, and his second wounded five men. Then, though the firing continued, no great damage was done on either side. Daylight was turned into evening by the storm so terrific and continuous was the roll of thunder that the reports of the guns were unheard. You felt the concussion along the deck, but the report was lost in the war of the elements.

Loading and firing every gun which could bear as fast as possible, the Ruby Castle rushed forward on her course, and, hanging to her quarter like a bulldog to his prey, followed the pirate ship. Of a sudden there was a great crash aloft, and down came the fore and main topmasts together. The men were called from the guns to clear the wreckage, and the ship was in danger of broaching to and being swept when there came a flash of lightning that seemed to burn the eye balls. This followed by a thunder-clap which seemed to lift the ship out of the water, and then fifty pairs of eyes saw a great specter flame shoot up out of the sea. In the midst of the flames were masts, yards and sails and flying objects. The brig had been struck by lightning, and her magazine had blown up. There was a puff, a boom, a gust of red flame, and that was the end. She was blown into matchwood, with her black flag whipping the gale and her crew working at the guns, and the last pirate craft to plow the south Atlantic was no more.

Another Appeal

To the People of Nova Scotia:

The generous response which the people of this and the neighboring Provinces have made to the appeal on behalf of the badly distressed Belgians which I recently had the privilege of making, is a matter of just pride and gratification to all of us. Nova Scotia was the first portion of the overseas British Dominions to respond to the appeal for the relief of the Belgian people.

Already a large quantity of supplies and clothing has been received at Halifax and the other depots throughout the Province where the gifts are being sorted and packed for shipment. Generous subscriptions in money have also been received and this money will be expended in the purchase of flour and other staple commodities. More money if forwarded immediately, could be expended to advantage in the same way. The committee have relied upon this coming in voluntarily with any personal solicitation.

I am pleased to be able to state that the British Admiralty has placed at our disposal a ship of sufficient capacity to carry all contributions that may be received for the people of Belgium.

Every mail brings further evidence that the needs of the brave Belgians are immediate and pressing. It is therefore of great importance that our ship should sail at the earliest possible moment. We expect to have the ship delivered to us on Monday, 19th October, ready for loading and it is imperative that the loading should be completed as quickly as possible after that date.

I therefore take this opportunity to remind the people of this province who contemplate giving, but have not yet done so, to forward their gifts as soon as possible either to Halifax or to the nearest depot.

I have had many communications from people who have expressed a desire to give but who may have overlooked the pressing need of giving quickly. The purchasing committee have already bought for immediate delivery food stuffs at a cost of over twenty thousand dollars. This exceeds the amount now available, but they felt justified in relying upon further contributions to supplement the funds in hand.

The highly commendable spirit which our people have already manifested encourages me to direct your attention again to this most important matter. It will be a source of great satisfaction to have the relief ship sail at the earliest date, fully laden with tangible expressions of sympathy for the thousands of homeless and penniless people who have suffered in our behalf.

I need not further urge this upon you for I know that Nova Scotians will splendidly complete the task which has been so well begun.

Face and Hands Covered With Sores.

ZAM BUK WORKED COMPLETE CURE.

Mrs. P. Watson Drummond, of Theford Mines, Que., writes: "Every fall for three years, as soon as cold weather set in, my daughter's face and hands would be covered with rough watery patches, which before long would turn into nasty sores. These would itch and smart terribly, and she would suffer in this way from fall to spring. Nothing we could get did her any good until I started using Zam-Buk. This wonderful ointment quickly relieved the irritation. We persevered with Zam-Buk, and to our great delight it worked a complete cure. I have also used Zam-Buk for cuts and burns, and think there is nothing to compare with it."

For eczema, piles, abscesses, ulcers, cuts, burns, bruises, or any skin disease or injury, Zam-Buk is unequalled. As soon as applied, it commences its work of healing, quickly alleviates the pain, and builds up new healthy tissue.

At all druggists and stores, or from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, 50c. per box. See the name on the box and refuse all substitutes.

A Gentle German Governess Found Out.

Ottawa, Oct. 22.—An Englishman in Ottawa has received a letter, dated October 14, from relatives in England. In the course of it the following passage occurs:

"The M. of G. had a German governess for the children. The police called at G. castle a few days ago and asked to have her sent out for a walk, as they wished to search her room. This they did, and found a number of bombs, maps, etc., concealed in her trunks and about her room, and they say other German governesses on round hereafter have been found doing the same thing."

A General Conflict

"Why Johnny what's the matter with you?"

"We had a free fight, mother."

"There's a 23 fighting' nationalities in our school, and only three stayed neutral."

THE BRITISH NAVY

The Warden of the Empire's Frontiers.

THE POWER OF THE BRITISH FLEET HANGS TO THE ENDS OF THE EARTH—EVERYTHING ACCOMPLISHED SINCE THE OUTBREAK OF WAR IS PRIMARILY DUE TO THE STRENGTH OF THE NAVY.

For nine weeks, as memorable as any in our history, the British fleet has kept ward over the ocean frontiers of our empire. That empire is unlike anything the world has ever before seen. And the activities of our navy are equally without precedent. In this crisis in our fate its chief station lies, of course, in the North Sea. But its power ranges to the ends of the earth. Nothing we have accomplished since the outbreak of war but is primarily due to the fighting strength of the wonderful instrument entrusted to the direction of Sir John Jellicoe.

The magnificent army which, under Sir John French, is adding fresh laurels to the glorious traditions of our country, would never have set foot on the soil of France but for the invincible ravages caused by incessant fighting and marching in the ranks of the expeditionary force. This is entirely due to the predominance of our fleet.

In the terrible days following the retreat from Mons, when our soldiers were tried by an ordeal such as had never before tested British fibre and British hearts, the great silent power commanding the North Sea held open the avenue along which passed the gallant stream of men, guns and horses to fill the huge gaps torn in our fighting line. Our soldiers are incomparable, but at every crisis in our fate we are reminded that, without the command of the seas, nothing can save us from being reduced to impotence, and nothing can avert the destruction of our empire.

So unostentatiously has the navy done its work that we hardly realize the full measure of its glory. No other power in the world's story ever sent across the seas such an army. In the days of the South African war it was rightly considered a marvellous achievement to transport a large army, with all needed supplies and equipment, over thousands of miles of ocean. But President Kruger had no fleet. He had none of the resources of a mighty empire which for half a century has made the art of war its special study. Germany has a splendid fleet, second only to the British. When war broke out all the highly trained intellect at the disposal of the kaiser was naturally devoted to the solution of the problem as to how the British army could be tied fast to these shores. Though nothing has been revealed on the subject, we may be sure that all the naval genius of Germany was concentrated on a supreme effort to find the answer to this question. No answer could be found. The British navy held the key, and neither material force nor force of intellect could wrest it from it. The kaiser was outmatched in brain and brawn and gun metal. Nor must it be forgotten that the transport of troops from these shores was only part of the duty fulfilled by the navy, so that an army completely representative of the empire might deploy upon the battlefields of France.

War had scarcely broken out when it was announced that troops were coming to take part in the struggle from every quarter of the globe. Australia, Canada, New Zealand, India, all desired to lend their swords to the motherland. Here was a maritime mobilization without a precedent in history. Our dominions and India were eager to be in the fray, but not a transport dare weigh anchor to sail for Europe until the admiralty had given the word that the track was clear. That is not so easy a matter as it seems at first sight. There could be no relaxation of the vigil in the North Sea.

The great trade routes had to be guarded that our commerce might go on its way just as the civilization were not rocking on its foundations. Our Armada is a mighty one, but the ocean is a mighty field to patrol when dealing with an enemy as powerful, as resourceful, as unscrupulous as Germany. But it was all done punctually and without a hitch.

Tremendous things were expected from our fleet, and tremendous things have been accomplished. Its highest work has yet to come. The German high seas fleet has not yet come out for a fair and square fight. The hour will come when it must do so. That will be its last hour as a great fighting force. That is the hour that Admiral Jellicoe and his men are longing for, and, proud and confident as well it may be, the empire serenely awaits the issue. But, meanwhile, when now comes through that the battle of the Atlantic has at last been won, we must not forget that our seamen made possible that staggering blow at German arms.

Mr. George Delaney returned home last week from his trip to Kingston with a very nice coll.

Weymouth.

Miss Blanche Outhouse is visiting her sister, Mrs. E. F. Hankinson.

Mr. J. Boyd McNeil returned on Saturday from a short trip to Boston.

Miss Lennie McDonald has been visiting Misses Prime and McDonald for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jones have been spending a fortnight with relatives in Waltham.

Mr. and Mrs. Jasper Journey have been enjoying a visit from their son, Mr. Selwin Journey.

Schooner Lillian Blauvelt sailed this week for Cuba, with a cargo of 234,000 feet of lumber.

Rev. H. Burgess, the popular pastor of the Methodist church, purposes exchanging pulpits with Rev. Mr. Hale, of Sandy Cove, on Sunday.

Sch. Bessie L. Morse, Capt. Morse, owned in Grand Manan, is in port for registration. She will also load a cargo of lumber for that place.

Dr. MacTavish, of St. John, has been spending several days in town at the Goodwin Hotel. On Friday evening he delivered a stirring address on the Temperance question to a full house in the Oddfellows' hall.

On Sunday morning the annual Harvest Home and Children's Day services combined, were held in St. Thomas' church. The coloring of fruits, vegetables, flowers and autumn leaves in the chancel was very pleasing. The rector, Rev. M. Taylor, preached an appropriate sermon for the occasion.

This week will see the completion of the contract of Messrs. Powers and Brower with the C. P. R. for the concrete work on the new bridge. Twelve piers and two abutments have been erected since the first of May. Owing to a setting of one of the western piers, due to insecure foundation, additional time will be required to remedy this unavoidable defect, thus prolonging the stay of the contractors, a few weeks. During the summer the work has progressed with remarkable rapidity and orderliness. With the exception of a few minor accidents to the workmen, there has been nothing to mar the harmony and the good fellowship which existed between employers and employees. In the very few instances where accidents occurred, no blame could be attached to either Mr. E. F. Powers or his Superintendent, Mr. Jack Powers, both of whom have exhibited a large amount of foresight and skill as well as kindly consideration for those working for them. The removal of this company will be sincerely regretted, as their workmen have been most quiet and orderly when off duty, and regular attendants at the various churches on Sunday.

Port Wade.

Miss Dora Fleming went to Boston last week for the winter.

Mr. Ralph Apt went to Perotte moosehunting last week.

Mrs. Geo. Westaver and son Roy, were visiting at Annapolis Royal last week.

Mr. Harry Keans went to Fredericton, N. B., last week, to attend school of Telegraphy.

Mrs. Lena Covert returned to New York Saturday, 17th, after spending the summer at her home here.

Mr. Andrew Litch spent the week end at home here. He is fishing on the sch. Quikstep, Capt. A. Long mire.

A sewing circle has been organized among the ladies here, first Wednesday was held with Mrs. W. Covert. Proceeds for the Belgian Relief Fund.

Mrs. Ralph Hayden went last Monday to the Kentville Sanatorium, accompanied by Mrs. David Hayden, for medical examination, returning home Tuesday evening.

The farmers were quite disappointed last Friday on account of the apple crop not coming. Many loads of cider apples are standing near the station and more to be hauled. There is quite a large crop of all kinds of apples here.

The edible varieties are very smooth and finely colored, thus showing (as there has been no spraying in this vicinity) that spraying is not necessary for good apples. The right kind of season is preferable.

The contents of the Ministers' Box was measured out on the 13th, Tuesday, at the home of Mr. J. K. Winchester, Lower Granville, and was found to be 27 bus. oats, 9 for each of the ministers who labor in this field. Mr. Winchester made the presentation speech, which was in his usual happy style. The three ministers being present, responded in turn and Mrs. Winchester was on hand with some light refreshments, which of course went to the right spot. Mr. Winchester says he and the other contributors made this small gift as a token of their appreciation of three very nice men. The Winchester's wish through this medium to thank all who in any way contributed to the success of the "Ministers' Box." Those who were present claim a very enjoyable event, and hope to see more of the same spirit in years to come.

Meteghan.

We have to register the death of Mrs. Margaret Theriault, relict of the late Hilaire Melanson, of this place, who passed away on Tuesday last at the age of 79 years. Funeral took place on Thursday morning, after a long illness. A large crowd of people was in attendance.

On Wednesday next, the 28th inst., there will be at Meteghan the convention of all the Secretary Treasurers of the Artisans Society in the Maritime Provinces. The General President, the General Secretary Treasurer, and one of the directors will be present.

The members of the Meteghan branch are preparing to welcome them.

Miss Minnie A. Sheehan, of the Royal Hotel, who left a few weeks ago for the United States, has entered the Taunton City Hospital to be a trained nurse. Miss Sheehan is a very clever and accomplished young lady. She will certainly succeed in such a noble vocation. We understand that she is much liked and has already gained confidence of her superiors. We wish Miss Sheehan great success and perseverance.

At the Royal Hotel last week: Rev. Fr. Hamelin, P. P., Amfrault Hill; Dr. and Mrs. A. R. Melanson, LeBrook; R. W. E. Landry, Esq., L. L. B., Dr. and Mrs. T. Melanson, Mr. and Mrs. Harry McKinley, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Murphy, B. B. Law, Esq., M. P., W. Spinney, Yarmouth; Miss Marie Rosa Melanson, St. Bernard; J. A. A. Cullen, book keeper, and H. Lemire, artist, Digby; A. Bonning, representing Manchester, Robertson & Allison, St. John; R. L. Roach, Annapolis, representing Baird & Peters, St. John; R. O. Clarke, Bear River; F. G. McPherson, Inspector of bridges, Geo. Graham, representing the Robert Taylor Co., Halifax; Miss Helen Amiraub, New Edinburgh, and Miss Marie Anne Belliveau, of Bellevue's Cove.

Tiverton.

Mr. William Howard, of Westport, is visiting his son, Mr. Wm. Howard. We are pleased to see Mr. Ward Cossaboom out again after being very ill.

Mrs. Thomas Clifford, who has been very ill, we are pleased to report better.

We congratulate Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Smith on the arrival of a son Oct. 15th.

Capt. Arthur Payson, his wife and son Harold, of Westport, are in town for a few days.

Mrs. George Cossaboom and sister, Mrs. Wm. Cossaboom, visited relatives at Danvers recently.

Mrs. Omer Farnsworth and sister, Miss Della Wyman, visited relatives at Brighton and Digby recently.

We are very sorry to report one of our school teachers, Miss Myra Ring, on the sick list and wish her a speedy recovery.

Mrs. Cutler Snow has returned to her home at Sandy Cove after spending a few days with her son, Mr. Delma Outhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Outhouse and daughter Guowilyn, of G. M., who are visiting relatives here, will return to their home this week.

Mrs. Percy and Joseph Robinson and Stewart Morse, of White Head, G. M., are spending a few days here, also Mr. Archie Treachan, of G. M.

In last week's items the name of Miss Zena Outhouse, one of the young ladies who worked so faithfully in getting clothing for the Belgians, was omitted. These three young ladies did good work and deserve credit.

Grosses Coques.

Miss Marguerite LeBlanc, of this place, daughter of Mr. Theophile M. LeBlanc, has been between life and death for a few weeks, but thanks to the good doctor, E. O. Hallett, of Weymouth, who has attended her, she is improving now. Her sickness was a severe case of typhoid fever. She proves to be one of the brightest of school pupils. Let us hope to see her well in a short time.

Grosses Coques school came out first at the Little Brook exhibition we notice for school work. Miss Eulalie LeBlanc obtained 1st prize for map drawing; Miss Celeste Melanson obtained 1st prize for design drawing; Miss Therese LeBlanc obtained 1st prize for best penmanship which is one of the most important factor in school work. To my knowledge it is the most important of exhibits. It will encourage the pupils of our schools to be more careful about their work.

Last year being the first exhibition held here I don't think school work was included in their booklet at all, whilst this year there were prizes for painting, map drawing, design drawing and penmanship. I sincerely hope that next year they will have still more prizes to be won by school pupils, essays in addition to the above, some kind of book keeping or arithmetic work.

Hill Grove.

Mr. Ryder, of Wolfville, occupied the pulpit here on Sunday.

Mrs. Geo. Taylor, of Sissiboo Falls, was an over Sunday guest of Mrs. Willie Marshall.

Mrs. Fred Shoemaker, of Leon, Instor, Mass., visited her aunt, Mrs. Frank Gates this week.

Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Warne and family, who have been living in their house here, have gone to Digby.

Mrs. A. C. Bacon, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Chas. Armstrong, returned home last week.

Mrs. Ralph Marshall, who has been spending the summer with her mother, Mrs. Goudy Nichols, has gone to her home in Marshalltown.

Princedale.

Mr. Gardner Wright spent Tuesday at Bear River.

Mr. Elder Milner, who is working at Perotte, spent Sunday at his home here.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Fraser and son Truman spent Saturday at Annapolis Royal.

Mr. William Dondale left last

Wednesday to pick apples in the Annapolis Valley.

About thirty of the young people enjoyed an apple paring at Mr. Geo. Wright's Wednesday evening.

Messrs. Dennis Wright and Carol Clarke, from Bear River, spent Saturday at the former's home here.

Litchfield.

Rev. Mr. James Smith and wife are spending a few days here.

Miss Eva McCaul left on Friday for Rosedale, accompanied by her sister, Miss Charlie.

Mrs. Charlie Turner entertained a number of people from Hillsburn and Litchfield on Monday last, Thanks giving.

Mr. Henry Orde, of Millford, and Mr. Henry Longmire, of Hillsburn, called on friends in Litchfield on Monday last.

Mrs. Charlie Burnie attended the W. H. F. M. Woman's Foreign Mission Aid Society at Middleton a few days last week.

The people of Litchfield responded generously to the appeal for the Belgian relief fund:

Mr. Edward Wilson	$2.00
Samuel Milbury	1.00
Mrs. Primrose Halliday	1.00
Mr. Harry Longmire	1.00

Death of Rainsford W. Lovely.

PERITH, N. B., LOVES OF OUR MOST PROMINENT CITIZENS.

[From the Victoria County News.]
 In the death of Rainsford W. Lovely on Sunday evening, Oct. 4 inst., at his home, Perth, Nova Scotia, another of its old and respected landmarks has fallen.

Mr. Lovely has been gradually failing for the past year, but few people knew that the end was so near. He had however gone past the three score and ten mark, having passed his 75th birthday. He was not only a native of Perth, but has always lived on the home place, where he was born, a beautiful spot which he dearly loved.

Mr. Lovely has always taken a very active interest in everything that tended to build up the country. Development of the country from its infancy, from stage coach and tow boat and steamboat, as well as the old fashioned dug out canoe from Fredericton to Perth as a means of transit, was inspiring to him in his day, but finally came the railway, (narrow gauge) and then standard gauge, bicycle, telephone and automobile, together with the building of the town of Perth, and the general improvement of the whole country on a vast scale. With the individual energy he himself was able to put into these great developments, made life to him one grand moving picture, well worth living to enjoy. And to say that he did enjoy life is only putting it mild, and even at his advanced age, all who knew Rainsford W. Lovely will learn of his demise with sorrow.

It will be remembered that Perth in the past was noted for its singing. No corner in all the Province. No Brunswick could render such beautiful singing as Perth, and under the leadership of the late Barnabas Armstrong, Sr., Mr. Lovely, from his singing school days up to within a few months ago could always be found among the good singers, as it was his life. He was a most devoted husband and father, and a man who took great pride in his home. Perth will miss him.

His father was Daniel Lovely who died when Rainsford was a small boy. His mother, who was Phoebe Larlee, married again, her second husband being the late Abraham Toham. They moved to Perth, Michigan, in the early 60's, where a little later they both died.

His only sister was Mrs. Samuel Gaughey, who at one time lived at Caribou, Me., finally in 1870 moved to Perth, Minn., where she died in 1881.

Mrs. Hulda Craig, a half sister died last spring, 1913, and beside her he leaves two half brothers and a half sister. Mr. Joseph A. Toham of Staples, Minn., Mr. Bernard G. Toham of East Saginaw, Mich., and Mrs. Annie L. Coggins of Flint, Mich.

Beside a sorrowing wife, daughter of the late Stillman Armstrong, he leaves three daughters and six grand children, Mrs. Captain H. A. Henshaw of Wolfville, N. S., and her two sons Vaughn and Eben attending college.

Mrs. John H. Weaver of Annapolis, Alberta, and her four children, and Mrs. A. G. Ganter, who at home with her mother.

The funeral was held from his residence on Wednesday the 7th inst., and was one of the largest seen in Perth for many years, probably not since the funeral of his son Herbert in 1911, who was brought home from Washington. The sermon was preached by Rev. W. M. Field, from a text of his own selection, from St. John 14:1, 2, 3. Mr. Lovey was happy in the thought of meeting his friends and loved ones on the other shore.

The pall bearers were his six nephews, George E. Armstrong of Perth, Charles DeMerchant of South Tisbury, Charles M. Armstrong of Stevensville, Me., Henry Armstrong of Caribou, Me., Manley H. Craig and J. Whitfield Craig of Perth.

The choir rendered some beautiful selections, most of which were hymns loved and so often sung by the departed. Those in the choir were: Mrs. John McNair and Mrs. D. Roy Craig, soprano; Mr. H. E. Blakelee and Mr. Birmingham, tenor; Mrs. James Anderson and Mrs. Herbert Smith, alto; Mr. A. W. Sisson and Mr. D. Roy Craig, bass.

Interment took place in his lot in Larlee Creek Cemetery. The floral tributes were many and beautiful, some coming from a great distance.

Meteghan.

A GREAT RELIGIOUS AND PATRIOTIC DEMONSTRATION.

Never has Meteghan seen such a demonstration nor such a crowd as that witnessed here Wednesday, 14th inst. The cause of such a great gathering was the investiture of the Rev. and H. B. Cote, rector of Meteghan, now the Right Rev. Mgr. Cote, with the title and insignia of Domestic Prelate of His Holiness the Pope.

The grounds surrounding the Glebe house and the church had been tastefully and artistically decorated. Two arches of spruce and cedar had been erected, one in front of the glebe house, the other in front of the church. The balcony and verandah of the glebe house was hung with cedar garlands and festoons, and innumerable flags and pennants. The interior of the church was also tastefully ornamented. The altars were a mass of palms, ferns and cut flowers, and were vacillating with innumerable wax tapers and candles. His Grace Archbishop McCarthy, arrived on the 13th and was met at the station by the Right Rev. Cote and other members of the clergy. Dr. Deveau and a delegation of the parishioners and, accompanied to the glebe house, after which all blended up their way processionally to the church to the strains of "Sacros et Pontifex."

On entering the church, the organ, under the skillful touch of Miss Katie Deveau, played out the notes of "Marchons au combat à la gloire," followed by the solemn benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, presided by His Grace Archbishop McCarthy. In the evening a concert was given at the convent to the members of the visiting clergy and a few invited guests. The vocal selections and solos were rendered, while Miss Blanche Stuart presided at the piano. Two addresses, one in French and one in English, a purse of gold and floral tributes were presented to the hero of the occasion. The room had been tastefully decorated in white and gold, the papal colors, by the good sisters in charge. After the singing of the National Anthem, a reception was held in the parlors of the convent.

Present, His Grace Archbishop McCarthy, Mgr. Cote, Rev. Fr. Young, of Yarmouth; Rev. Fr. Deveau, of Wedgeport; Rev. Fr. Comeau, of Ed Brook; Rev. Fr. Hamelin, of Anticosti; Rev. Fr. Doucet, of Quinlan; Rev. Fr. Dunn, of Weymouth; Rev. Fr. Thibault, of Plympton; Dr. and Mrs. Melanson, of Ed Brook; Dentiste and Mrs. Melanson, of Yarmouth; Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Heche, organizer of the H. C. F., of Meteghan; J. A. Deveau, J. P., of Meteghan; and Miss Marie Rose Melanson, of Coderie, sister of the Rev. Fr. Melanson, of St. Bernard's, and of Dentiste Melanson, of Yarmouth.

On the morning of the 14th, solemn High Mass sung by Mgr. Cote, with the Rev. Fr. Deveau as Deacon, and the Rev. Fr. Comeau, as Sub-Deacon, commenced at 9 o'clock. On the throne was His Grace the Archbishop, having as Deacon and Sub-Deacon of Honor, the Rev. Fr. Young and the Rev. Fr. Hamelin. Before Mass the celebrant went and knelt down before His Grace to receive the insignia of his royal office. Then the Rev. Fr. Deveau gave reading of the Papal decree, appointing the Right Rev. Mgr. Cote to the charge of Domestic Prelate of the Papal household. The Royal Mass was well rendered under the direction of Mr. Thibault, Mr. C. F. Comeau presiding at the organ. The sermon was given by the Rev. Fr. Comeau, of Ed Brook, it being a masterpiece of oratory. After Mass, Mr. A. F. Heche, accompanied by Mr. Frank B. Comeau, of Meteghan, Mr. E. Comeau, postmaster at Meteghan River, advanced to the altar railing, and Mr. Heche, lecturer of an address prepared by J. A. Deveau, J. P., while Mr. Robichaud presented a well-filled purse. After a suitable response to the address from the part of Mgr. Cote, and the solemn chanting of the "Te Deum," all repaired to well-dressed tables, where a suitable repast was furnished by the ladies of the parish. On the 14th, besides the clergymen already mentioned were the Rev. Fr. Chasson, Superior of St. Anne's College; the Rev. Fr. LeDore, of Church Point, and the Rev. Fr. Bracq, of Salmon River.

In the evening of the 14th, the church, the glebe house and the convent were all brilliantly illuminated, as well as the dwellings of Mr. Julius F. Deveau and Mrs. Maggie Deveau, mother of our talented friend, Dr. Deveau. Mr. Lemire, photographer, and Mr. J. A. Cullen, of Digby, were also present. The Rev. Fr. Gauthier, of Tigheville, and Messrs. Cummings and Tremblay, of Truro, came down on purpose to congratulate Mgr. Cote, after which they visited the ceremony and were enchanted with the results obtained so far. His Grace left on Wednesday afternoon with the Rev. Fr. Young, for Yarmouth. His Grace Bishop LeBlanc was also to be present, but he was compelled to attend a similar ceremony in his diocese. The Rev. Fr. Young was the first to come and congratulate Mgr. Cote, and to bring him the first purple insignia. "Ad Multos Annos."

A Pleasant Event in Bear River.
A pleasant gathering took place at the home of Miss Marion Ray on Monday evening, Oct. 12th, to celebrate her birthday. The party was a great success. The guests were in number about twenty. In the first of the evening Miss Ray was presented with a beautiful sterling silver mantle set which shows the high esteem in which she is held by all her friends. After a very pleasant evening spent in games and music refreshments were served.

After wishing her long life and much happiness the guests dispersed, every one having spent a delightful evening.

HIS HEALTH IN A TERRIBLE STATE

"Fruit-a-lives" Healed His Kidneys and Cured Him

HAGERSVILLE, ONT., Aug. 26th, 1913.

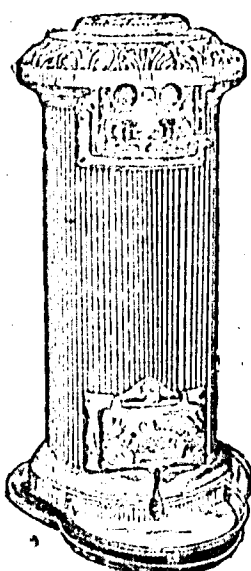

"About two years ago, I found my health in a very bad state. My kidneys were not doing their work and I was all run down in condition. I felt the need of some good remedy, and having seen 'Fruit-a-lives' advertised, I decided to try them. Their effect, I found more than satisfactory.

Their action was mild and the result all that could be expected. My kidneys resumed their normal action after I had taken upwards of a dozen boxes, and I regained my old-time vitality. Today, I am enjoying the best health I have ever had."

B. A. KELLY
"Fruit-a-lives" is the greatest Kidney Remedy in the world. It acts on the bowels and skin as well as on the kidneys, and thereby soothes and cures any kidney soreness.

"Fruit-a-lives" is sold by all dealers at 50c a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c, or will be sent on receipt of price by Fruit a lives Limited, Ottawa.

TAKES OFF DANDRUFF, HAIR STOPS FALLING

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

THE EUROPEAN WAR

Allies, Aided by British Fleet, Gain Ground and Russians Rout Germans

ITALY NOT TO PARTICIPATE IN WAR BUT MAY OCCUPY ALBANIAN PORT—SUBMARINES AND AEROPLANES PROVING WORTH—BRITISH MARINES LANDED.

Both French and British pay tribute to the valor of the Belgians, who, with the allies, are holding back the German advance along the North Sea coast. Incessant fighting has been in progress from the coast line as far south as La Bassée, a distance of about fifty miles, but this line is divided into several fronts, on which separate engagements are being fought. It is this line that the Germans are endeavoring to break in their attempt to reach Dunkirk and other French seaports.

Three British monitors, the Severn, Humber and Mersey, with six inch and other heavy guns are shelling the Germans in the vicinity of Ostend, where, it is said, terrible execution has been done, and machine gun detachments have been landed from these vessels and are assisting in the defence of Newport.

The British admiralty, which for a day or two withheld the news that the British fleet was participating in the coast operations, now takes occasion to compliment the monitors and the blue jackets for their meritorious service.

There has been hard fighting in the Lille region, where the British are in action. The important French town of Lille is still in the hands of the Germans, and the encounters in this neighborhood have been of a hard and character, evidently with little advantage to either side.

REAL ACTION TAKEN FOR BELGIAN RELIEF.

At last real action has been taken for the relief of the Belgians, upon whom has fallen the great burden of the suffering from the war.

An American commission, headed by Herbert C. Hoover, of California, and composed of Americans resident in London and Brussels, will, by reason of an agreement reached between Belgium, Great Britain and Germany, take under its charge the care of hundreds of thousands of Belgians who are threatened with starvation in their own country. Already a large consignment of food has been purchased and will be shipped to Belgium within a few days. This will be followed by further large consignments to various points where the need is greatest on specially chartered steamers.

Optimistic reports, from the Russian viewpoint, came from Petrograd, where it is officially announced that the German troops have been driven from the roads leading to Warsaw and are in full retreat, having left their wounded on the field of battle.

Similarly the Russians report that the advances of the Austrians in Galicia have been stayed.

Sasebo, the naval port of Japan, reports that the Japanese have destroyed the military equipment and seized large quantities of gold and munitions for use in the German islands recently occupied in the South Seas. The Japanese embassy in Rome announces that the Japanese have captured an auxiliary cruiser of the German squadron and that another cruiser sank.

By order of the Russian emperor the students of the universities and high schools have been called to the colors.

GERMANS LOSE OSTEND. London, Oct. 22, 3:01 a. m.—A despatch to the Daily Chronicle from the Belgian frontier says:

"The theatrical excursion of the German army to the North Sea has reached an inglorious conclusion. The attempted coast raid to Calais has completely failed.

"Ostend has been evacuated by the Germans, they will make no attempt to hold Bruges. Their retreat is being closely followed by the Allies."

A Folkestone despatch to the Chronicle says that wounded Belgian soldiers who arrived at Folkestone late yesterday night declared that the Germans have been driven out of Ostend.

—Anne College Cadets Won First Prize.

CHURCH POINT, October 22.—The college Ste. Anne's cadet corps, No. 1, the winner of the first prize in the Imperial Challenge Shield of the National Rifle Association for the year 1914. Williams, minister and instructor of cadet corps in the 6th divisional area, Halifax, and which reads as follows:

"To Mr. N. A. Barrill, Lieut. Instructor of the Sainte Anne's College Corps:

"Please accept and convey to your corps my congratulations in winning the Imperial Shield. You have done the corps was organized by Major (1st) in October, 1913, and was not therefore, one year old when it competed for the prize. The cadets were from the very outset been models of the spirit of discipline and military obedience to orders. Their instructor, Mr. Barrill, has infused in all of them a love of the order and exactness which he has possessed himself and which is so conducive to success in all walks of life. The training which they have received has been regularly and assiduously pursued.

INFORMATION REGARDING TO BROWN TAIL MOTH.

O chardlers in picking their fruit will very often come across nests of the Brown Tail Moth in process of formation.

These nests can be easily identified by one or more leaves being tied up to form an irregular nest, the webbing about the nest at the present time being a dirty brown color which will later bleach to almost white. The nest will contain a large number of very small caterpillars and during feeding time a large number of the small caterpillars will be found feeding on the leaves near the nest. About one half dozen leaves near the nest are always partially or wholly skeletonized, that is the green tissue eaten away and the brown skeleton of veins left. The clusters of brown skeletonized leaves can be very easily seen at the present time and in the centre of each cluster will be found a brown-tail moth nest.

In assisting in the campaign against the Brown-tail Moth, orchardists would do well to notify their pickers to gather and burn all such nests found in picking. The nests should not be dropped to the ground as the young caterpillars will survive there as well as on the trees. The nests should in every case be burned.

As a large number of the nests now on the trees will drop to the ground naturally before the inspectors can make their rounds of the orchards the orchardists can readily realize that by gathering all nests noticed in picking they will be rendering invaluable assistance in controlling the Brown-tail Moth which is becoming a decided menace in many localities.

Any owner finding a large quantity of nests on his premises, in order that the inspectors may visit his orchard early in the season and so render their work in that section more efficient, should report the same to G. E. Saunders, Dominion Field Officer in charge of Brown tail Moth work, Bridgetown, N. S., mentioning the above item in the COURIER.

Sprung a Leak in the Bay.

SAVED BY TIMELY ARRIVAL OF DIGBY LIFEBOAT.

Schooner Effort, Sprung for St. Andrews, coal laden, sprung a leak in the Bay Saturday after leaving Spencer's Island. As there was no going back on account of the heavy easterly gale, Captain Ogilvie was forced to make for Digby. All day long the crew kept the pumps going, but water gained on them and it was only by timely arrival of the Digby life boat Daring, in charge of Capt. John W. Hayden, to the rescue that the Effort was able to reach Digby.

Followed down the Bay by Capt. Rowe, in the schooner Rolle, the latter sighted the Effort flying signals of distress when two miles away from Digby. Gut. Owing to heavy sea, Capt. Rowe was unable to render assistance. Capt. Rowe reported the Effort's position to the life saving station. The life boat went out, and putting men aboard to replace the exhausted crew at the pumps towed the Effort into port, docking her at the steamboat pier.

Had not the life boat gone to the rescue the Effort would probably have gone down in the opinion of Capt. Ogilvie and crew, and they themselves met a watery grave.

The leak, however, proved an easy one to repair, it being below the water line, owing to the vessel's heavy cargo. The Effort is now as tight as ever and will proceed on her voyage as soon as weather permits.

Credit Where Credit is Due.

GOVERNMENT RAILWAYS' SLEEPING, PARLOR AND DINING CAR SERVICE APPRECIATED.

"Railroad men have so many knocks that I want to throw one bouquet. The Intercolonial is operating an excellent service between St. John and Montreal, and have no doubt other portions of the line are equally well served. You have the best class of sleeping and parlor car conductors it has been my good fortune to meet, and your dining car employees food and service leave nothing to be desired."

An officer of the Canadian Government Railways received the above from a much travelled official of one of the most important railways across the border.

No Fees on the Fenian Raid Bounties

An Ottawa despatch says: The Department of Militia has issued the following statement:

"It has come to the attention of the Department of Militia and Defence that in certain parts of the country persons are endeavoring to collect sums of money from those entitled to the Fenian Raid Bounties. The claim is put forward on the pretence of assistance in filling up the claim papers. The Department does not intend to recognize, and will not recognize any such attempt to extract money from the veterans, and hopes that no veteran will be misled into paying a claim of this kind.

Indians Now in France Are Among Britain's Finest Fighting Men

THE news that the Indian Expeditionary Force of 70,000 men has arrived in Europe to fight side by side with the gallant army in France has aroused general enthusiasm.

That the military assistance of these brave troops is a powerful factor is indicated by the fact that Britain herself have practically 76,000 of her own soldiers in India. The native army consists of 2,751 officers and 161,085 other ranks. There are also 35,700 reservists.

In addition, many of the rulers of the native states, who number nearly 700 in all, maintain private armies, which they have with one accord placed at the disposal of the King. These vary in strength, but in most cases consist of some of the finest cavalry in the world.

Born of a race of horsemen, these native cavalrymen practically live their lives in the saddle. Of unexampled bravery and recklessness and superb riders, they are, in addition, magnificently mounted and trained.

The relations of the native princes to British authority differ very widely. Some are practically independent sovereigns, except that they are not permitted to make war upon one another or to form alliances with foreign states.

THE CONTROLLED STATES.

Others, however, are under tolerably strict control. As a rule, they govern their states under the advice of an English Resident appointed by the Governor-General. Of immense wealth and influence among their peoples, these native princes have now shown a splendid spirit of loyalty to their Emperor-King.

The total number of native states is between 600 and 700, ranging from Hyderabad, with an area of over 82,000 square miles and a population of over 13,000,000, to small states consisting of only a few villages.

The Gurkhas, who are strongly represented in the Expeditionary Force, were once described by the Crown Prince of Germany as the finest soldiers possessed by Great Britain. Of small stature and somewhat resembling the Japanese in appearance, they displayed great bravery and fidelity in the Afghan and Sikh wars, and lent valuable aid to the British in the suppression of the Mutiny. Ten regiments of Gurkhas form a most valuable element in our native Indian army.

The Sikhs are also splendid fighting men, and showed their loyalty during the critical period of the Mutiny. A northerly race, they are strongly religious, and have a supreme contempt for death in battle.

Sure of the "Pop."

A laborer in one of our plantations a few days ago went up to one of the overseers and in a serious manner, which evidently showed that he was really seeking enlightenment, said in his local vernacular, which we cannot attempt to reproduce: "Massa, is it true that before the war the Kaiser sent a box of rice to King George and told him, 'King George, I got as many soldiers as they is rice in the bag,' and that King George sent the Kaiser a bottle of nigger peppers and told him: 'I only got as many soldiers as is in this pepper bottle, but you just bite one and then you'll see if your soldiers like these?'"

Barbados Standard.

Children Wanted to Fight.

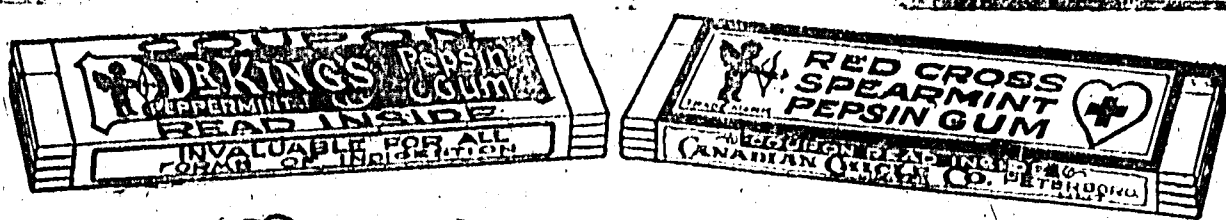

A Bourgeois correspondent says: "Among the spectators acclaiming the French artillery passing through here were four lads, the eldest about thirteen. Several marches later the boys were found in a circle of the troops partaking of the mess."

"They swore to follow until they come in contact with the enemy and to lay down their lives for their country. A collection was immediately raised among the soldiers. The boys were terribly depressed at being compelled to return home as of age, charged with vagabondage under the military law. The magistrate, with tears in his eyes, acquitted them."

French Adopt War-Cry.

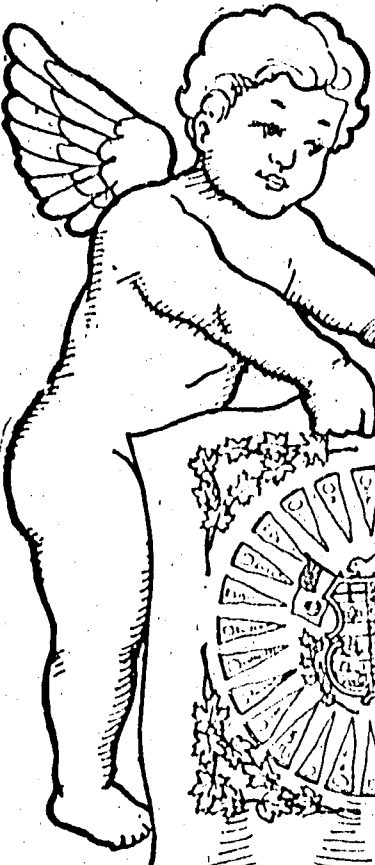

"Are we down-hearted? No!" has become one of the war-cry of Tommy Atkins in France, and it has such a wholly British sound in the French ear that it has been translated and enthusiastically adopted by the soldiers of the Republic. The French rendering is: "Est-ce que nous avons le coeur brisé? Non!" It is said that the French soldier's full-throated "No!" is quite as effective as Tommy's tremendous "No!"

SYNOPSIS OF COAL MINING REGULATIONS

(10) Mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

An application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be sketched out by the applicant.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchandise output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns, accounting for the full quantity of merchandise coal mined and the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lease may be extended to include whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $100 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

ONLY SIXTEEN, GIRL VERY SICK

Tells How She Was Made
Well by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

New Orleans, La.—"I take pleasure in writing these lines to express my gratitude to you. I am only 16 years old and work in a tobacco factory. I have been a very sick girl but I have improved wonderfully since taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and am now looking fine and feeling a thousand times better."

—Miss AMELIA JAQUILLARD, 3961 Tchoupitoulas St., New Orleans, La.

St. Clair, Pa.—"My mother was alarmed because I was troubled with suppression and had pains in my back and side, and severe headaches. I had pimples on my face, my complexion was sallow, my sleep was disturbed, I had nervous spells, was very tired and had no ambition. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has worked like a charm in my case and has regulated me. I worked in a mill among hundreds of girls and have recommended your medicine to many of them."

—Miss ESTELLA MAGUIRE, 110 Thwing St., St. Clair, Pa.

There is nothing that teaches more than experience. Therefore, such letters from girls who have suffered and were restored to health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be a lesson to others. The same remedy is within reach of all.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

THICK, GLOSSY HAIR
FREE FROM DANDRUFF

Girl's Trial! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a 25 cent bottle of Dandruff.

If you care for heavy hair that glitters with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Dandruff. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have also heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive agent robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots fall out, loosen and die, then the hair falls out, leaving a bare scalp. Surely get a 25-cent bottle of Dandruff from any drug store and just try it.

HIS CHUMP OF A CHUM

I was proud that he could speak to me on terms of perfect equality, for I was merely out for a little vacation stroll, whereas he was pursuing his life work.

"You see," said he, "like all other vacations, hobnobbing has its disappointments. Chiefest of these is chums. It's hard to find a chum that'll stick."

He tightened his clothes line belt, selected a grassy knoll beside the meadow, and tore off an offending flap from the sole of a tattered shoe. I waited.

"No sooner do you begin to chum up to a fellow, got used to his ways, begin to think him a swell hand out; no sooner, I say, when he jumps, jinks the Salvation Army or goes to work. Disgusting, say I."

I sympathized.

"Now, for example, there was Pete. I come mighty near loving Pete. To begin with, Pete was fat. Back to back on a frosty night, Pete equalled a furnace. And jolly he was, too; always up to some joke or other—'havin' some fun,' as he called it—and it was most in general at my expense."

"Loved freedom, Pete did. I tell you, I sure thought I had Pete trained for the profession; but, no, sir, lido the rest, I lost him—and how! By trying to get even on him with his jokes."

"Last summer Pete and I were still ambling down yonder in Gallow's country, State of Maine, you know. Long towards late one afternoon we found a cozy haycock by the road, with the nearest house a full quarter mile away. Bed for the night was O. K., but our larder was lousy."

"Pete," says I, full of deceit, as you'll see, "Pete, I'm going to tackle you domestic for inner man refreshment; I'm hungry."

"Well," says Pete, "amble away," whereupon he curled his huge torso into the hay and snored like a threshing machine.

"Thus left to my own devices, as it were, I turned up my collar, pulled my hat over my nose, trotted real peart up to the house, and rapped at the front door. Didn't have long to wait, for I smelt the country parlor—business behind the nicest kind of an old lady's as she stood in the doorway blinking to make me out."

"Madam," says I, in my politest tone—and I can be right pleasant on occasion, though I say it as hadn't ought—"madam," says I, "I'm a detective."

"She gave a kind of start and looked back, over her shoulder. 'I'm searching,' I hurried up to say, for a desperate murderer. Have you heard or seen anything of a very fat man wearing whiskers, two weeks or so growth, and very possibly disguised as a tramp? I've tracked him in the same kind of togs up to this very neighborhood, but this morning he gave me the slip. He couldn't have got far, though, I think."

"She seemed mighty excited, and cal'd back into the darkness behind her, 'David!'"

"David was the old man, and a right husky old coddler he was. 'Describe your man,' says he; 'I've overheard you so far.'"

"The old fellow looked so mighty serious and a bit excited, too, that I got kind of scared; but a joke's a joke, so I plunged and gave a polished round off of Pete's general float."

"That's my man to a T, Martha," says he.

"Why, yes," he answered; "I'm Sheriff Luncombe, of this here county, and I've been hot foot after that fellow since the very morning after he murdered Sal's husband. I suppose you're the city detective we sent for to help us out?"

"Yes," says I, swallowing cold, but braced for anything. "Can you give me any particulars of the crime?"

"Particulars! We wired you every thing!"

"Sure, I knew," says I, "but I mean, any further particulars. Can you tell me where I can meet any of the parties most concerned?"

"I was looking hard for a quick get away and thought I'd hit my cue."

"Why, yes," he answered; "Sal, the widow's back here in the kitchen. Come on in."

"Sure death or no, in I went, and was introduced to Sal."

"Well, now, mebbe I ain't hard to please, but any way Sal's favor suited me to a rivet clinch. Of course she was a little soggy after so much crying, but I calculated that those eyes looked mighty nice, wet or dry. Well, she told me all about it."

"It seems that the murdered man, her husband, had been a pretty hard one after the booze and had treated her downright shameful, so that why she was a crying I could not make out."

"He'd got to going off unexplained like from time to time, and when he was last seen alive he was in company with a fellow whose description surely did fit Pete. I began to feel a little sorry for Pete."

"Yes," went on Sal, crying soft into a black handkerchief, "and I don't know what I'd a done if I hadn't been for the Luncombes. They're only been in these parts a

The Funniest Man in Pictures

JOHN BUNNY, KNOWN WHERE EVER HIS TURES ARE SHOWN.

(From A Correspondent)

John Bunny is the funniest, fattest man in the "movies." He's the "Sunny Jim" of thousands of homes. He weighs 250 pounds! His escapades and dilemmas, narrow escapes, bumps, falls and "happenings to" would fill the library shelves with laughs if they were ever compiled.

Bunny is the eighth generation of "Bunnies." And that's the answer to the question we've all been asking about his real name.

Now for a peep at him off the screen. I had a good one. The merriest evening I spent while on my trip among the eastern moving picture players was in the home of this far famed favorite, says a prominent film producer.

He lives in a charming two story home of his own over in Brooklyn with a wife and a grown son who are as interesting as he. Mr. Bunny in reality is an exact likeness of Bun in the pictures. Jolity is his natural state of mind, apparently, and laugh is an habitual companion.

Funny Bunny takes the picture business in deadly earnest. And in the bosom of his family, he recounts with fervor the days when in the "light," he brought tears to the eyes of thousands with tragic bits of acting. Just think—Bunny doing tear scenes!

My invitation to come and see his pictures was given me in the early afternoon over at the Vitagraph plant where I ran into the "movie" laugh maker propping his weight against the wall, waiting for a studio call. He was dressed in one of those noisy big check suits. A tiny derby was cocked on the very tip top of his big, round, monolithic and his eyes were made up to make him look a bit "devilish."

When I was a little boy, "even" he told me, "I thought that some day in the dim future I would be a Tragedian. But it never once occurred to me that I might play comedies."

"Any way I followed up the trail from the amateur to the winking part and from the walking part to the small talking part. It was a life of little beer and much kittles, let me tell you."

"By degrees I discovered the path that opens on to Broadway. Then it was Frohman and Schubert and Henry Savage, this season and that; this role and that; this place and that. I opened the Astor theater with Annie Russell in New York, and was with Maude Adams in her first coast tour when she played the "Little Minister."

I had been on the stage, previous to my picture work, for 26 years.

John Bunny believes that there is a great and wonderful future for the moving picture. He says it is to be the new educational medium of the child.

The walls of his study are hung with all sorts of rare pictures and photographs of notable people and players; many of them autographed. He recently spent four months with an English company in England and Ireland, taking special pictures, among them the wonderful Pickwick pictures.

Just so he shouldn't lose valuable time, he did the "John Bunny All at Sea" picture on board ship going over. The camera men and he were the only regular "movie" people there. The others were first class passengers who thought it a great lark and a novel pastime to "be in a movie."

With the European struggle raging and putting to the test all the modern means of warfare, it seems likely that new uses will be found for the motor car beyond the mere matter of transportation. For example, it seems probable, in view of experiments recently made with a Ford, that the right kind of automobile can be used as a traveling wireless station.

Successful experiments along this line were made recently by Allan M. Thomas, a student of electrical engineering at Toronto University, who has been for several months engaged in research work in connection with radio communication. Mr. Thomas rigged a testing aerial and instruments on a Ford touring car. His experiments with this improvised travelling wireless station were made under the auspices of the Ontario Amateur Wireless Association.

Mr. Thomas had the choice of several cars but he selected the Ford because of its agility and its ability to travel anywhere under any circumstances. In his tests it was necessary to jump a ten inch curb stone and run along the lawns in order to make a satisfactory ground connection. With his improvised apparatus Mr. Thomas was able to pick up several stations.

$150,000,000 Worth of Supplies
Approximately $150,000,000 worth of supplies, food, blankets, motor trucks, ammunition, etc., not including horses and mules, have been sold to European nations now engaged in the great war, Germany excepted, in the last ten weeks. Marshall, Field & Co., Chicago, have received a request for bids on 200,000 blankets, both woolen and cotton, from a New York buyer for the allied armies. W. S. Tate, manager of the wagon department of the International Harvester Company, admitted that the bids had been asked of that firm on four thousand wagons.

One Who Knows
"Does any one in the class," asked the teacher, "know the origin of the corn law?"

"Yes, me!" answered the shaggy haired pupil. They were written by John Bunton.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dread disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known for the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

How He Does It

The editor was deeply engrossed in his work when he was suddenly interrupted by the office boy who remarked:

"There's a tramp at the door, sir and he says he ain't had nothin to eat for six days."

"Fetch him in," said the editor. "If we can find out how he does it we can run the paper for another week."

The year 1914

This year 1914, will likely be the most wonderful year for a long period. The sinking of the Empress of Ireland, the Newfoundland sealing disaster, the assassination of the crown Prince of Austria and his wife, the European war, the opening of the Panama Canal, and the death of Pope Pius X, are a few of the outstanding features.

HIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little stomach, liver and bowels.

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad, has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently move out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

Schr. Isua, Capt. Colin Thompson, loaded by the E. O. Bowers' Co., Ltd., for Messrs. Lord Bros., of Portland, Me., sailed on the 25th inst.
Arrived on the 24th inst., F. B. Lent and wife from St. John, also Miss Blanche Hicks, from Fredericton. Arrived 22nd, Mrs. W. E. Kent, from Halifax.

We regret to announce that Capt. John Thompson, 24 inst., fell from a box on which he was standing and broke his leg. This same leg had been broken when he was a boy, and this time it was broken in the same place. We tender our sympathy.

The O. D. S. Arranmore has landed the past week 100 tons of coal for the fog alarm. It must be very expensive coal when it has to be brought here by so expensive a vessel and crew as the above. It would be cheaper and more satisfactory to give this work to some of our coasting schooners.

There has been sent from Westport to the Belgian Fund, 36 packages and 1 cask dry fish and 6 cases wearing apparel. We would ask the ladies of Westport to hurry up their contribution of goods to the Patriotic Fund or Red Cross fund. Every family could make up a roll of bandages or a pair of socks, or even a pair of wristlets 9 inches in length. There are articles being made up all over the Dominion and we must not be lacking. He who gives quickly gives twice.

As Geo. W. Clements was rowing out of the harbor at about 6 a. m. on the 21st, deeply engrossed in thought he did not hear the approach of the motor boat owned by Edward and Geo. Thomas, who were entering the harbor and in a moment the boat crashed into his frail dory and he had merely time to throw himself over the bow of the motor boat as his own boat was crushed. Gray dawn was merely breaking and as the genial George crawled in over the bow, Edward Thomas, who was at the helm, thought surely a mermaid or some denizen of the deep was forcibly entering his ship to take possession. A few words from our mutual friend of a reassuring nature calmed those on board. G. W. seemed the most distressed for fear that his pipe had been lost. When he found that he could not prevail upon them to pay for the loss of his small ship, he persuaded them to take the remnants in tow and land him in front of his home a poorer man financially than when only a short time before he had set forth with golden visions of a boatful of fish that he was going to land that night. Little George as he heaved the tide, that the angel of death was close at his side.

Three Towns Taken by Bayonet Attacks.

PETROGRAD, Oct. 25.—The following communication was issued tonight from general headquarters.

"On October 23 and 24 the Russian troops effected several defeats on the German rear guards, who were attempting to hold positions along the rivers Rukva, Sierovka and Ryka.

"Lewitz, Skiernewicz and Rawa were taken by bayonet attacks.

"The Austrians, in retreat with the Germans on the roads near Radom, having received reinforcements, and profiting by the wooded and rolling character of the region, offered stubborn resistance to our offensive, which developed into an engagement of considerable dimensions. At this place we captured prisoners, cannon and rapid-firers.

"Along the River Sira and south of Pzemyel desperate fighting continues. Attempts by the Austrians to turn the Russian left wing south of Pzemyel failed, the Austrians suffering great losses.

"An Austrian column, which descended the Carpathian near the town Dolina (twenty-two miles from Stry), has been defeated and dispersed.

GERMANS AGAIN REPULSED ALONG ENTIRE FRONT.

PARIS, Oct. 20 11:33 p. m.—The following official communication was issued by the French war office tonight: "In Belgium, Nieuport has been violently bombarded, and the effort of the Germans has continued on the front between Nieuport and Dismude, without, according to the latest advice, any result whatever having been reached.

"All the front comprised between Liebasse and the Somme has been equally the object of violent attacks at night, all of which have been repulsed.

"On the remainder of the front there is nothing to report."

DETAILS OF BATTLE IN WHICH THE BRITISH LANDED MEN AND SHIPS FIRED BROADSIDES.

LONDON, October 25.—A dispatch to the Evening News from Dunkirk gives heretofore unpublished details of the bombardment of the Germans on the coast of Belgium by British monitors.

The admiralty had stated previously that the British naval loss was slight and the correspondent sustaining this says that only one ship was damaged, but adds that the landing party which the admiralty statement referred to as going ashore with a machine gun, suffered severely, losing a lieutenant and a number of men, who were picked off by German sharpshooters.

The gun was of necessity abandoned, and only a handful of the Britishers got back to their ship.

The correspondent states that the Germans placed guns in gaps between houses along the shore, adding: "The British ships steamed down the coast at full speed, giving the Germans their starboard guns. Then they turned and came back, letting go their port guns. By the time they next came by the German guns were silent, and an ambulance had appeared and was picking up the dead and wounded.

"The Duchess of Sutherland is in Dunkirk with a party of physicians."

GERMANY TO LAND TROOPS IN CANADA IF POSSIBLE.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Germany's right to land troops in Canada, if possible, and thus secure at least a temporary foothold on the American continent, was upheld today by Count Von Bernstorff, German ambassador here, who declared that it would not be a violation of the Monroe Doctrine. The ambassador suggested that, as Canada was sending soldiers to Europe to fight against his country, the United States should not consider it in any sense an infringement on the Monroe Doctrine if Germany should land an armed force on Canadian soil.

Discussing his now much talked of note of September 3 to the state department here explaining the attitude of the German government towards the Monroe Doctrine, and giving assurances that Germany was not contemplating any American colonization scheme in event of victory over the Allies, the ambassador said only South America was referred to at that time, because there had never been any attempt to take any of the German attempts to seek colonization in any other part of the American hemisphere.

15 YEARS SUFFERING FROM PILES

Mr. J. McEwen of Dundas, Ont., writes:—"For fifteen years I suffered with Piles and could get no permanent cure until I tried Zam-Buk. Perseverance with this herbal balm resulted in a complete cure, and I have not been troubled with the painful ailment since."

Mr. Henry Fougere of Poulamond, N.S., says:—"I suffered terribly with Piles and could find nothing to give me relief until I tried Zam-Buk. This cured me. I consider Zam-Buk the finest ointment on the market."

The above are specimens of the many letters we are constantly receiving from men and women who have ended their suffering by using Zam-Buk. Why not do likewise?

Zam-Buk is best for eczema, blood poisoning, ulcers, sores, cuts, bruises, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box, all druggists and stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Send this advertisement with name of paper and one cent stamp for free trial box.

Town Council.

The Town Council met October 20th, at 8 p. m.
Present:—His Worship the Mayor and all the Councillors.
The minutes of the last meeting of the Council were read and approved.
The report of G. A. Vye, Superintendent of Streets and Water, was read as follows:

Digby, October 20th, 1914.
To His Worship the Mayor and Council:
Dear Sirs:—I wish to submit the following report to you and the Council:
The work done to streets this month was repairs on Jacquesville Hill, upon and Water Streets, also on the North Water Street. Grass drains and culverts were flushed out. Repairs made on small dam at Lilly Lake. One new system put in for the House Mount Pleasant. Took up the half inch lead system at Miller Rink and replaced it with one inch iron pipe. Two leaking service systems repaired.

(Sgd.) G. A. Vye, Supt.

On motion of Councillors Rice and Winchester the report was received and adopted.
Councillor Winchester, chairman of the Fire Committee, reported in the matter obtaining a suitable place to keep a hose reel in the south end of the town, that a suitable building was obtainable on the Oliver property on First Avenue. Mr. D. Havey owned the building and he preferred to sell the building rather than rent it, and would sell for $40.00. Mr. Oliver would lease the land on which the building stood for $5.00 a year. The building would need some repairs. After some discussion the matter was referred back to the Fire Committee to obtain further information as to cost of repairs, etc.

Mr. O. S. Dunham, Manager of the Courier Publishing Co., addressed the Council in reference to the resolution passed at the last meeting of the Council regarding water supply for the Company's motor and asked the Council to rescind the resolution.

After discussion it was on motion of Councillors Rice and Warner resolved that the resolution passed by the Town Council on the 28th of September last "that the Courier Printing and Publishing Company be notified that the Town will not be able to supply them with water for their motor after the 1st day of December, 1914," be rescinded.

On motion of Councillors Rice and Troop it was resolved that the water superintendent be instructed that where the occupants of premises supplied with water allow their taps to remain open and waste the water he shall refuse the water supply so that only sufficient can pass through the pipes to supply the premises.
Key of W. L. Oliver to Fire Hall was read and on motion of Councillors Warner and Troop referred to the Committee on Public Property.

The following bills were read and on motion ordered to be paid:

W. L. Oliver	$ 2.25
Horton Stark	3.85
H. W. Dowling	55.00
Charles Small	9.00
Digby Courier	3.10

Pay Roll (Streets & Water)	50.00

On motion of Councillors Troop and Jordan it was resolved that the Town Clerk render a bill to the heirs of Mrs. Martell, now an inmate in the Alms House, chargeable to the Town of Digby, for the amount charged the Town for her support.

Messrs. Howard Anderson and Charlton Mullen having declined to act as Assistant Assessors, on motion of Councillors Jordan and Wightman, David Sproule and Stanley A. Keen were appointed Assistant Assessors.

On motion of Councillors Troop and Warner the Street Committee was instructed to advise Mr. Vye to discontinue putting in bridges or crossings for private parties.

The Council adjourned at 10.50 p. m.

MARITIME FAIRLY IN ATTACK, LEAVING TWO DEAD BEHIND—COLONIALS GUARD SUEZ CANAL.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—The Pretoria, Transvaal, correspondent of Reuters Telegram Company, has forwarded the following official statement:
"Lieut.-Col. Maritz (the head of the rebellion in British South Africa) attacked Keimoes (Cape province) at 5 o'clock on the morning of October 22nd, with a force of over 1,000 men, including several hundred Germans, and artillery and machine guns.
"Our casualties were ten wounded. The enemy left two dead, one a German and the other a native."

COLONIALS ON CANAL.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—A despatch to Reuters Telegram Company from Amsterdam says that the following message has been received at Berlin from Constantinople:

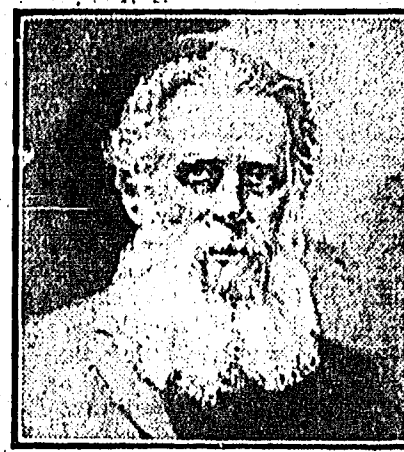

"According to news received from well informed quarters in Constantinople the British government during the last few days has sent numerous colonial troops."

Fourteen thousand men have been stationed along the Suez Canal."

A bulletin received yesterday says 12,000 Australians have been assigned to duty on the canal.

THE EUROPEAN WAR

Russians are Routing Germans; Allies Win Close Battle.

CZAR'S FORCES WINNING BACK RUSSIAN POLAND—GERMANS HALTED IN WEST FLANDERS BATTLE, FARTHER FROM COAST TOWNS THAN EVER

PETROGRAD, Oct. 28th.—Official information shows that the Germans have been steadily driven back, fighting over a front extending 120 miles. Since the last official news was received the retreat has carried the Germans back about eighteen miles over the greater part of this wide front.

They are moving backwards with the greatest rapidity on the left and still maintain a more forward position about the centre, where at one point, Glovachov, they are still only six miles west of the Vistula. This, however, is a single isolated point where the Germans have managed to keep their position so far forward. From Glovachov southward for thirty odd miles to the river Dniester the German front remains almost the same as before the great battle began, but the Russians here also have crossed the Vistula and are beginning to drive their enemy's forces back before them.

The Germans in this region are in retreat along the road leading from Novo, Alexandria toward Radom and at Zvolen the Russians have taken prisoners fifty officers and 3,000 men, and have captured eight guns and a number of maxims.

LONDON, Oct. 28th, 9:40 p. m.—The limit of human endurance has been reached in the battle in West Flanders, and the fighting, which slackened yesterday came to an almost complete stop today. There may have been some infantry attacks, and these may continue, but despatches from points along the Dutch frontier state that the artillery firing has ceased. Passengers crossing the channel tonight bring the same news.

It was this, doubtless, that led to the report coming from Northern France that the Germans had retired, having given up their attempt to reach the channel ports.

The fact is that the two armies have fought themselves out temporarily, and that the Germans' first effort to break through the allies lines has failed. Neither side could continue any longer, the men having been without sleep or rest for the ten days that the battle has been in progress, over ground which at best is a morass.

The Germans succeeded last Saturday in getting some men across the Yser canal, and they put more men across Sunday. But the force facing them was too formidable, and now the opposing armies are taking a long needed rest.

There is every evidence, however, that the Germans intend to renew their attempt to force their way through to Dunkirk.

They are bringing up fresh men and more ammunition and guns, but at the same time are taking the precaution to prepare a second line of defence, should their forward movement again meet with defeat.

The new attempt, it is believed, will be made further inland, for the failure of the first one was largely due to the bombardment that the troops and artillery had to undergo from the British and French warships off the coast of Belgium.

The British fleet is still operating against the Germans off Belgium with as yet not one vessel being struck. A battleship has now joined in the bombardment using her 12 inch guns.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 28.—Official despatches made public here tonight by the French embassy reported success for the allies all along the line. "Reports state that everywhere the enemy has received a serious check," said the cablegram.

RUSSIANS GETTING UPPER HAND IN GREAT BATTLE.

PARIS, Oct. 27, 12:10 a. m.—The Havas Agency has received from Petrograd the following official communication issued in the Russian capital:

"The combats on the routes leading to Petrograd and Riga have assumed the character of a great battle, of which the front extends over 100 versts (a verst is two thirds of a mile), from Rawa to Novomosk and Bialozozh, as far as the mouth of the River Dniester."

"The evening of October 24, north of Rawa, we attacked the Germans at the point of the bayonet, inflicting upon them considerable losses. In the villages of Morchido alone we buried 500 Germans."

"Our troops command the forest of Nimglova, southeast of Rawa, where we took over 100 prisoners. In the forest between Radom and Koznitz the fiercest combats continue."

"We have progressed along the routes from Nova to Alexandria, where we captured numerous prisoners and cannon."

"The stubborn resistance of the Austrians in Galicia is weakening, and our troops are making vigorous progress in the region south of Sambor and Staromastov, where we took eleven cannon and many caissons."

"The entire valley of the River Sprynie is covered with bodies of the enemy, estimated to aggregate at least five thousand."

"All attempts by the Germans to resume a partial offensive on the Eastern Prussian front have been repelled."

TWO GUNS CAPTURED BY BRITISH DIVISION.

LONDON, Oct. 29, 1914 p. m.—The official press bureau issued the following statement at 10:10 this evening:

"The situation continues to be satisfactory. The fighting is severe and continuous, but ground is being gained, and many prisoners have been taken. "One of our divisions has captured two guns."

Will Recruit Across the Dominion—10,000 INFANTRY FOR SECOND CONTINGENT TO BE ASSEMBLED AT DIFFERENT CENTRES

OTTAWA, Oct. 29.—By the middle of this week it is expected that the 10,000 infantry called for from the various divisions will be recruited and assembled at the different local mobilization centres all across the Dominion. They will be much better trained than the first contingent for they will have more time before sailing than the first force had. Besides being well trained in infantry drill the men will get this practice in galleries (that will be provided) on the outside of the ranges in places like Toronto and Victoria when the weather is not unduly cold. There will also be thorough training in the use of the bayonet.

There will be no difficulty about equipping the next contingent and the time of its departure, supposed to be in December, will probably depend upon the time when the first contingent leaves Salisbury Plains for the front. As the Canadian troops just arrived in England are likely to be given a very thorough training before crossing the channel, the second contingent is not likely to reach Salisbury Plains till near the end of December. The time spent here, however, after recruiting, will be used to the very best advantage and the force will also have the benefit of a longer and more intimate association of the officers with their men than was possible with the first contingent.

In addition to the 30,000 men, who will be kept in training in Canada, for service in Europe from now till the end of the war, and the ten thousand more on guard duty and home defence, there is a possibility of the militia regiments in the cities being mobilized. This has not been decided as yet, however.

General Sam Hughes is expected back from England in about a fortnight. The only thing that would stop him would be the prospect of the Canadian troops leaving for the front at an early date, which case he would doubtless accompany them, but that is not considered probable.

German Submarine Rammmed and Sunk.

BRITISH DESTROYER BADGER, CAPTAIN FLEMING, ACHIEVES DARING EXPLOIT OFF DUTCH COAST.

LONDON, Oct. 25.—Official announcement made that a German submarine has been rammmed and sunk by the British destroyer Badger, Commander Chas. Freemantle, off the Dutch coast. The Badger's bow was somewhat damaged.

EFFECTIVE FIRE FROM NAVAL GUNS.

LONDON, Oct. 24, 5:31 p. m.—The admiralty today issued the following announcement:

"All of yesterday's monitors and other vessels of the British bombardment fleet fired on the German right wing, which they searched thoroughly and effectively, in concert with the operations of the army."

"All the German attacks on Neuport were repulsed."

"Much damage was done to the enemy by naval fire which enfilades the German lines and prisoners taken yesterday and the day before testify to the heavy losses the enemy has suffered from this cause."

"Fire was opened in the afternoon on the German batteries near Oland. A neutral flag now has a fine display of vessels very suitable for this work but at the same time not of great value."

"During the day our ships were persistently attacked by an enemy submarine and torpedoes were fired without success at the Wilhelms and the destroyer Mysmidon."

"On October 25th, again attacked the submarine. Naval aeroplanes and balloons aided in directing the fire."

"The weather conditions were fine and favorable. No loss was sustained by the British yesterday."

Two Fatalities in the Canadian Regiment.

LONDON, October 25.—Two fatalities within the first week of their arrival have marked the start of the Canadian soldiers at Salisbury Plains. The first victim was Private William Hartley, whose death was reported early last week. The second case is that of Gunner Percy Sawyer, who was killed to death by a horse on Wednesday. Sawyer was an Old Countryman from a Surrey village, who had served in the Q. B. Garrison artillery, and was a gunner with the headquarters staff of the Canadian artillery. An inquest was held on Friday at Westdown North Camp by the county coroner. The evidence showed that the horse had bolted, dragging Sawyer, who had the rope around his wrist. Death was due to a fractured skull. The coroner complimented James Edgar Buck for picking up the body of the victim while the horse was kicking wildly. He also expressed regret that the gunner should have lost his life before having an opportunity to fight for his country.

Not Her First Foremast

To the Editor of the Courier

DEAR SIR:—I noticed an item in your paper yesterday about the ship, Emma E. Potter still having the first foremast in her that was in when she was launched.

Now this is a mistake, as I can assure you. She sprung her first one on her first voyage to the West Indies and on her return had a new one put in.

I was in the vessel at the time. The party who told you about the present one being the first one, could not have known. Yours truly,

The funeral services took place from St. Thomas' church Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The deceased was upwards of 80 years of age.

A provisional cadet corps has been organized here recently. All boys 14 years old and upwards desirous of joining may do so. Second hand rifles are to be obtained from the Digby Academy for gun drill. Rev. M. Taylor, the instructor of the cadets, holds a lieutenant's commission in the army, and is well qualified to make the undertaking a success. The obvious object is not to train these youths for war, but by discipline and strict attention to duty, to endeavor to develop a high quality of manhood as well as a poise of body. The drill is to be held on Saturday afternoons.

Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear

Before the wool is spun into yarn for Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear it is washed, scoured, picked and combed many times. When the garments are knit they are again tested out in the wash tub—the "Shrink" is taken out of every garment of Stanfield's Underwear before it leaves the factory giving the wearer Health, Comfort and Long Wear.

Each garment of Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear must undergo most rigid inspection. No weak spots or dropped stitches, no rough seams to irritate and annoy. Buttons put on to stay on, reinforced where the wear comes most, and hand tailored to insure a perfect fit.

Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear is made in the largest and most scientifically clean factory in Canada.

We carry a full line of Stanfield's Unshrinkable Underwear for Men and Boys in all weights and fabrics. Warm, heavy ribbed—beautifully soft knitted garments, and the in between. Two piece suits or combinations with Stanfield's Patented Closed Crotch.

England the Sir Gallahad Knight.

(By G. I. Letteney.)

In the ages past, and centuries gone,
Did the champion knight put his armour on,
And go forth to the rescue of some or else,
To avenge the wrong or appease his ire.
The poet's song of their wonderful feat;
The historian placed them in lofty seats;
But the glitter and splash, glory and show
Revealed not the purpose as was hidden below.

But we wish to tell in verse and rhyme
Of the greatest knight of the sweetest of time, Whose purpose was true and his conscience sublime.

Whose eye was clear, whose hand was steady,
The palm on the hilt and the blade always ready,
Standing amidst the turbulent sea,
Watching its waves and guarding its lea.

With ear attuned to the low muffled sound,
With body bent forward to rush with a bound,
To rescue from peril the down trodden few,
To save from the spoiler the tender and true.

Our guardian knight, watching the stars
in their flight,
Was startled by an infantile cry in the night;
Not the anguish of heart with a stab by a fright,

But the shriek of a mother, who for her young has to fight!
It was then that our hero, the one belted knight,
Had a vision, and buckled on his armour, at the first streak of light.

With heart stirred with pity and courage afire,
With conscience and judgment both urging the same,
All mountains and hills were swept to a plain.

Well he knew of the million, who were anxious and ready
To fight and to stand and be perfectly steady; Whose blood would flow like down pour of rain,

And whose nerves would stand the severest of strain.
He heard the voices of the sirens on German hills—
We will pay you and bless you if you will only be still.

He looked at the task with one steady gaze,
And the more he did look, the more settled the haze.
He felt the stagnation of commerce and trade;
He feared that the national prestige might fade.

He saw a new race dwelling on his fair Isle,
And the once noble Briton away in exile.
He saw the great German stand forth in his pride,
And scatter the paper all around by his side.

The paper to which he had pinned his fair name,
But his conscience was scared and had no respect for the same.

He heard the brave Belgian tell the marauder to stay
And bring not a straw on his kingdom to lay.
Oh the night, it sickened him, for the German did say,
And laid the old patriot as low as the hay.

In his vision he saw a child bereft of it all,
Save the battered old dolly and a bright rubber ball.
The homes of the aged and the dwellings of all
With the sacred spirit in kitchen and hall
Swept away by fire, chancel and hall.

The dream carried the mind to the cathedral ground,
Where the choirs sing and the priests take their stand,
The Isles and the pews all covered with plaster
The work of the wild and villainous band.

High up on the rafters, low down on the rail Did the bullets and balls come down as the ball
Upon the carved altar, written in corporeal
red.

Were the words disaster to the worshippers fled,
As he looked, the slight-made him turn very
red;
Then a voice from the chancel called Galahad!
Galahad!

Go forth to the rescue, strike down the dark foe,
Care not for the danger—go forth—I say go!
Our knight heawoke and went forth to the fight.

He crossed o'er the channel like a bird in a flight,
And there on the plains of the fair land of France
Did the foemen meet foe, with saber and lance
And the cannon belched forth its hot breath of hell
And the bristler and mauzer, caused them never to tell.

Oh that night, that night, the night of the war
Will brand our humanity with an indelible scar,
For the passions engendered by carnage and stripes
Linger long and rankle and remain ever ripe.

Our noble Sir Galahad has returned from the fight,
With a patch on his eye and bandaged up tight
He'll never be blind and always walk lame,
But his heart is serene for he has not lived in vain.

Makes.

OTTAWA, Nov. 5.—Canadian Trade commissioners in Great Britain report a large increase in the number of applications from British importers for Canadian commodities to replace supplies formerly drawn from the continent and now cut off by war. Among the commodities largely in demand are mentioned wheat, household and hardware sundries, brushes, flannels, tool handles, matchwood, office desks, tissue paper, etc.

OWES HER LIFE TO "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

Cured Both Stomach Trouble and Headaches

PALMERSTON, ONT., JUN. 26th, 1913.

"I really believe that I owe my life to 'Fruit-a-tives'. Ever since childhood, I have been under the care of physicians and have been paying doctor's bills. I was so sick and worn out that people on the street often asked me if I thought I could get along without help. The same old Stomach Trouble and distressing
Headaches nearly drove me wild.
Sometime ago, I got a box of 'Fruit-
a-tives' and the first box did me good.
My husband was delighted and advised a continuation of their use.

Today, I am feeling fine, and a physician meeting me on the street, noticed my improved appearance and asked the reason. I replied, 'I am taking Fruit-a-tives'. He said, 'Well, if Fruit-a-tives are making you look so well go ahead and take them. They are doing more for you than I can'.

Mrs. H. S. WILLIAMS.

"Fruit-a-tives" are sold by all dealers at 50c. a box. 6 for $2.50, trial size 25c. or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Another British Cruiser Gone.

THE HERMES, 5,000 TONS, TORPEDOED
BY SUBMARINE AND GONE DOWN.

DOVER, via London, Nov. 1.—It is ascertained that the British cruiser Hermes, which was sunk by a German submarine yesterday, was attacked twelve miles east, by southeast, of Goodwin Sands, in the Straits of Dover, at 8.15 o'clock in the forenoon.

A number of torpedo boat destroyers and other vessels immediately rushed to the assistance of the wounded ship, which floated three quarters of an hour after being struck, and then heeled over and sank.

Meantime the destroyers rescued the greater number of the crew of 300 men, while other vessels secured the rest in an endeavor to locate the submarine.
Two men were killed by the explosion, and nine were injured. About forty others are missing. The survivors were landed here.

The cruiser Hermes, sunk in the Straits of Dover, is the seventh British cruiser to meet such a fate at the hands of German submarines or to be destroyed by mines. (O here in the list are the light cruiser Amphion, sunk by a mine on Aug. 6; the scout cruiser Pathfinder, sunk by a submarine Sept.
5; the armored cruiser Guesay, Hogue and Aboukir, sunk by a German submarine Sept. 22; and the cruiser Hawke, sunk by a submarine Oct. 15.)

The Hermes was a sister ship of the Havoc and Highflyer, the latter of which sank the German steamer Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse. She was a vessel of 5,000 tons displacement, 350 feet long, 51 feet beam and had a depth of 20.5 feet. Her main armament consisted of eleven six inch guns, and she carried a complement of 135 officers and men. She entered the service in 1900.

German Losses Enormous

LONDON, Nov. 1.—"The way to B. ages is now open to the Allies owing to their recapture of Roulers, and the Germans are digging new trenches behind Ghent with feverish energy. To do this is to annul their retreat."

This statement is made in the Sunday Observer in a despatch dated, N. S., the Franco-Belgian frontier. The message continues:

"Their (the Germans) losses have been enormous. A German officer captured yesterday estimated that there have been 150,000 killed or wounded since the occupation of Ostend, in Northwest Flanders alone. Whole batteries and battalions have been annihilated by the shell fire from the warships. Thousands have been drowned as the result of the opening of the dykes. In hand to hand fighting the German losses have far exceeded those of the Allies. Thousands of bodies of Germans floating on the inland sea bear bayonet wounds.

"Only the main roads and railroad tracks remain exposed above the flooded area. The shattered German regiments are being given no time to reform and amalgamate. They are abandoning their wounded, guns and transport. Unless their fleet comes out to create a diversion they will be driven from the Belgian coast within a week."

Balkan Nations Must Act.

ON THE WILL NOT BE INVITED TO THE BANQUET WHEN WE LEAVE.

ROME, Nov. 1.—A great impression has been produced in Rome by an article appearing in the Russian newspaper Novoye Vremya, which is considered in Italian political circles to be an ultimatum for the Balkan States, and also a warning for neutral nations.

"The Balkans," the newspaper says,
"cannot forget their past slavery, and that they become free chiefly through Russian intervention. Now the main ent has come, not for words, but for deeds. Who ever is not with us is against us."

"Hellas, freed by Russia, cannot remain a spectator in the war. Her least attempt at accord with an enemy of Russia will be considered treason.
Bulgaria must choose between Turkey and Russia."

"At the end of the war on the participants in the gigantic conflict," the newspaper concludes, "will be invited to the banquet. Who ever fails to will snatch a momentful thought being made the necessary sacrifices will be much mistaken."

"If war affects your decision to buy a Typewriter, why not place your order with us to deliver a Remington or Smith Premier Typewriter to you the day that Peace is declared."

A. Milne Fraser, Halifax, N. S.

THE EUROPEAN WAR

Admiralty Skeptical of German Victory
In The Pacific

GERMAN WITHDRAWAL FROM COAST BE COMES MORE MARKED BUT ATTACK ON BRITISH IN YPRES DISTRICT BE COMING FIERCER AND AT ONE POINT IN FRANCE ALLIED LINES ARE HARD PRESSED.

LONDON, Nov. 4—9.30 p. m.—Tur
as now definitely broken off diplo matic relations with Great Britain, France, Russia and Serbia. Her diplomatic representatives in the capitals of these countries, acting on orders from the Porte, today deman ded and received their passports.
Some of them already have left their posts, while the others will depart tomorrow.

Although no statement to this effect has been given out, it is understood that Turkey's apology for the actions of her fleet in bombarding Russian Black Sea ports and Russian ships proved unacceptable to the powers of the Triple Entente, in that Turkey was not prepared to accede to the de mand that the German officers in her service be dismissed, and the ships purchased from Germany dismantled.

The powers which the Ottoman government thus defied are already taking warlike action against Turkey.
The British have destroyed Fort Akabiah, in Arabia, the Russians have advanced Asia Minor, and an Anglo French fleet is bombarding the forts of the Dardanelles.

Now that Turkey has aligned her self among the nations at war, specu lation is rife as to what the other Balkan powers will do. Greece is said to be preparing to take sides with the Allies, while Bulgaria has given assurances of her neutrality. Bulgaria, however, is mobilizing, for, as a Bul garian diplomat said "with Turkey in the area of the war. Bulgaria must be prepared for any eventualities."

GERMANS SOUGHT TO LURE HIS SHIPS.
Next to the Turkish situation the appearance of German warships off the coast of England is causing most of the discussion in this country today.
There is a disposition among naval men to believe that no serious raid was intended, but that the Germans hoped to induce British warships to follow them and, by laying mines as they retired, to catch some of the bigger ships, as they did the submar ine D 5.

The fact that the Germans did lay mines seems to indicate to the naval experts here that the ships engaged in this work were old ones. These ex perts argue that Germany would not take such risks with new vessels. As if to prove their contention, the experts say that the firing at the British cruiser Halcyon, which resulted in slight damage to that vessel, showed that the Germans were not armed with modern guns.

The official reports of the fighting on land, as issued today, recorded only advances at various points, and repulses of enemy attacks at others.
There is, in fact, no great change in the situation, according to these re ports. It is definitely announced that the Germans have given up their positions along the Yser, having been driven out there by the flooded country and the gun fire of the allied troops and warships.

LONDON, Nov. 5th—120 a. m.—
The Admiralty has issued a state ment in which it says it has received from German sources details of a naval engagement off the Chilean coast, in which the British cruiser Monmouth was sunk, and the cruiser Good Hope severely damaged. The statement says the Admiralty has no confirma tion of the report.

The statement was issued through the official press bureau in the name of the Admiralty and says:
"Rumors and reports have been re ceived at the Admiralty from various sources of a naval battle having oc curred off the Chilean coast. The Admiralty has no official confirmation of this and such accounts as they have received rest admittedly on German evidence.

"It is reported that the Scharnhorst,

Gneisenau, Leipzig, Dresden and Nürnberg concentrated near Valpa raiso and that an engagement was fought with a portion of Rear Admiral Sir Christopher Cradock's squadron on Sunday last. The German report asserts that the Monmouth was sunk and the Good Hope very seriously damaged. The Glasgow and the auxiliary cruiser Otranto broke off the action and escaped.

"The Admiralty cannot accept these facts as accurate at present, for the battleship Canopus, specially sent to strengthen Rear Admiral Cradock's squadron and would have given him a decided superiority not mentioned in them. Further, although five German ships concentrated in Chilean waters only three entered Valparaiso harbor. It is possible, therefore, that when the full account of the action is received, it may considerably modify the German version. Effective mea sures have been taken to deal with it in any event.

The Canopus, mentioned by the Admiralty with such significance is a battleship of 12,950 tons and though built in 1899 has an armament of four 12 inch guns, twelve 6 inch, ten 12 pounders and six smaller guns. Her complement is 700 and her speed 18.5 knots an hour.

The Admiralty announces that one officer and twenty men were lost in the sinking of the British submarine
D 5 by a German mine in the North Sea yesterday.

News From the Canadian Contingent
A WEYMOUTH BOY'S STORY OF THE TRIP ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

Extracts from letters received by Mr. and Mrs. John MacDonald, of Weymouth, from their son R. x., now in Salisbury Plains, England, with Canadian Contingent.

We arrived in England a. k. after a practically uneventful voyage. Need less to say I was seasick, but after that passed, I had an appetite big as a horse and ate everything in sight. I am in deed feeling better than I have ever been before, and am enjoying myself.
We have so far been well fed, and not over worked, an eminently satisfactory combination.

Monday night we landed at Doven port and marched from there to Plym mouth, where we remained for Amer bury. At about seven o'clock, next morning we left the latter place and marched to Bostard Camp, a distance of about eight miles.

Aeroplanes are scouting around the camp continually and are now no longer a novelty; nevertheless they possess a great fascination for me, representing as they do the progress of civilization.

What I have seen of English towns confirms the previous impression I had formed. They are quaint and peaceful with a suggestion of great age; the roads are excellent, very hard and numerous; the fields are still won derfully green and the trees have not changed color.

The following is a list of the trans ports which composed the fleet carry ing the Canadians, together with the names of the ships sailed in three lines as follows:

BIRTHS
Porter, At Sea (book, Oct. 31st, to Mr. and Mrs. William Porter, a son.

The Digby Neck Auto Express.

THE PUBLIC APPRECIATES THIS UP-TO-DATE PASSENGER AND MAIL SERVICE.

What for years was the most difficult route to travel on has become one of the most convenient since the Digby Neck
Auto Express Co. has been established.
We refer to the passenger and mail route to Limer and Long Islands, via Digby Neck.

This company's enterprise gives the people west of Sandy Cove a daily mail service which under the old system could not be accomplished.

Of course this system can only be main tained during the summer months. The auto went on the route this year May 15th and continued until last Monday,
Nov. 2nd. The popular driver, Mr. Guy Morehouse, has lauded the mails, rain or shine, through to last ferry, (Port Passage) about 5.30 p.m. daily, a record hard to surpass. Here they were taken in charge by the well known ferryman,
Mr. Byron Blackford, who delivered them at Tiverton, to his brother, Mr. Ed ward Blackford, the efficient proprietor of the Long Island Express, who put them through Long Island, via Central Grove, on express time, turning them over at Freeport, to Mr. Ralph Morrell, another well known ferryman, who de livered them at the Westport Post Office between 8 and 8.15 p.m.

In the past these mails would reach Sandy Cove, 20 miles west of Digby, about the time, under the new system that they reach Westport, the end of the route. They would leave Sandy Cove at 6.30 the following morning and arrive at Westport at noon; thus the people of Boston read the Nova Scotia papers some three hours ahead of Freeport and West port residents.

The auto service is certainly an ex cellent public convenience, which deserves every possible assistance. The federal government is encouraging the enter prise. Now let the Nova Scotia govern ment put the roads in first class con dition and the public will be satisfied.

We wish to publicly thank the gen eral drivers, ferryman and members of the auto company for the interest they have taken in the forwarding of the mails and passengers during the past summer.
Another very important matter in con nection with the above route is the new boat landing, or breakwater now being completed at East Ferry, which was ob tained by our federal member. The same conveniences at Tiverton and Westport greatly aid in the transportation of mails and passengers.

Death of Commodore Thomson
THE HEAD OF THE FIRM OF WILLIAM
THOMSON & CO. PASSED AWAY
FRIDAY MORNING.

Robert Thomson, head of the widely known firm of shipbrokers, William Thomson & Co., died at his home at St.
John early on Friday morning. He had apparently been in the best of health until the day of his death, when he was seized with an attack of the heart, and quickly passed away. He was 72 years of age and was still the active head of the firm. He was at his office all the previous day, in the evening received friends at his home and retired in his usual health.
The news of his death came as a great shock to the business community. His surviving children are: Percy W., Miss Mabel, home, and Mrs. H. W. Clineh, of Folkestone, England. His widow and one sister, Mrs. C. Cruikshank, also survive. The funeral took place on Sun day, 800 persons being in the procession, and the streets were lined with spectators.
Six members of the R. K. Y. C. carried the pall and the procession was headed by the members of the R. K. Y. C., of which the deceased was for a long time commander. The members of St. An drew's Society and a deputation from St.
Patrick's Society followed the hearse at their rear.

The funeral was the most impressive members of the office staff of Wm. Thom son & Co., and the session and board of trustees of St. Stephen's church, followed by a vast following of citizens.

The floral tributes were numerous, including a large steering wheel from the R. K. Y. C., and other appropri ately designed pieces from organiza tions and individuals.

Friday's St. John Times in referring to the above contained the following:
"Flags at half-mast on the harbor ship ping today are a silent token of the sense of loss felt by the people of St.
John at the death of Robert Thomson, so long prominently identified with the shipping interests of the port, and all his life a generous, hearty, honorable and worthy citizen."

Jamaica Plain Wedding.
A pretty home wedding took place on the eve of Oct. 28, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Cousins, Jamaica
Plain, Mass., when their only daugh ter, Miss Lucy M., was united in mar riage to Mr. William A. Grant, of Providence, R. I. The Rev. Dr. Walter Galley, of the First Baptist church, of Jamaica Plain, performed the cere mony, the double ring service being used. The bride, gowned in white crepe meteor with veil, looked very pretty as she entered the parlor on the arm of her father, who gave her away.
She carried a large bouquet of valley flowers. The wedding march was played by Miss Beattie Archibald. The bride was attended by Miss Madeline Rid didge, of Dorchester, who wore pink crepe de chene and carried pink roses.
The groom was supported by his brother,
Mr. Lyman Grant, of Providence. A short reception followed, after which a dainty collation was served by four of the bride's friends, Miss Josie and Margaret Connor, of Jamaica Plain;
Miss Isabelle Whitaker, of Somerville;
and Miss Kitty Hines, also of Jamaica Plain. The evening came to a close, when the happy couple left by auto mobile amid showers of confetti for their future home in Forest Hills. The bride's going away suit was of forest green velvet, with hat to match.

Veteran Strategists Assisted Beatty to Plan Brilliant Raid

THE story of Rear Admiral Beatty's raid upon the German warships lying under the shelter of Heligoland will live in the annals of British sea exploits along with the feats of Drake, Greyhound and Blake, and the press of the Empire has buzzed with eulogies of the young admiral who executed this attack.

It is not to be supposed, however, that Rear Admiral Beatty operated off his own bat. Behind the raid lay the best brains the navy possesses.

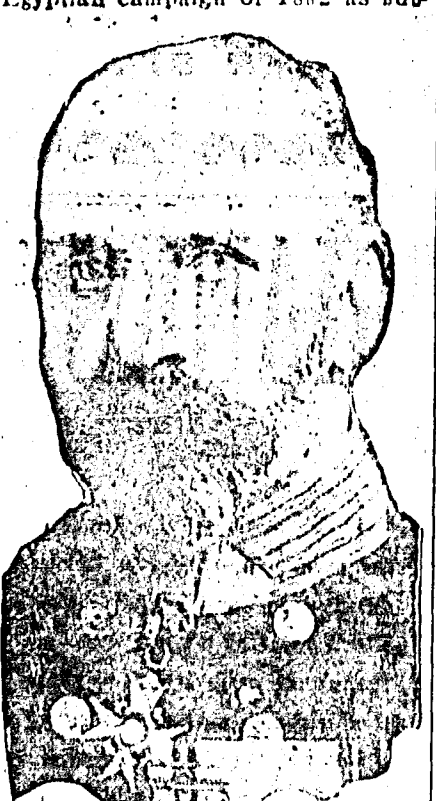

It is not to be supposed, however, that Rear Admiral Beatty operated off his own bat. Behind the raid lay the best brains the navy possesses.

and at least two of the members of the Council of War, which laid out the plan, are among Britain's shrewdest and most experienced old commanders—Rear Admiral Christian and Rear Admiral Moore. They have served and fought in many corners of the world, and upon such as they will rest the maintenance of the Empire's command of the ocean routes.

SERVED IN NIGER CAMPAIGN. Rear Admiral Arthur Henry Christian, M.V.O., has a long record of active service to his credit, most of his fighting having taken place on the East and West coasts of Africa. He commanded part of the Naval Brigade against King Koko on the Niger in 1895; he was in the brigade which captured M'Well, the stronghold of the Arab chief, Mburuk, and he took part in the Somaliland Campaign. Earlier in his career he was flag captain on the Highflyer, the ship which sank the German raider, Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, a few weeks ago. He has also been in command of the Royal Naval College at Osborne, and now commands the Second Cruiser Squadron, his flagship being H. M. S. Shannon.

SAW SERVICE IN EGYPT. Rear Admiral Archibald Gordon Henry Wilson Moore, C.V.O., C.D., was born in 1862. He served in the Egyptian campaign of 1882 as sub-

REAR ADMIRAL MOORE. Lieutenant in the Monarch, and 10 years later was severely injured by a gun mishap in the Camperdown. After a long period of absence he became, in 1907, Naval Assistant to the First Sea Lord, vacating this appointment to assume the duties of Chief of Staff, Home Fleet, in December, 1908. He was appointed an aide-de-camp to the King in October, 1909. He was serving as Director of Naval Ordnance when he was promoted to rear admiral in March, 1911. In June the following year he became Third Sea Lord, and vacated this post on the outbreak of war to join the fleet.

Tied Flags to Horse's Tails. Those Prussian troops who rode through Brussels with Belgian flags tied to their horses' tails forgot the mare's caution that broken windows have to be paid for. The French Government has already been moved, in honest indignation at the tale of German barbarities, to cut down the hitherto very generous ration allowed to German officers, who are prisoners in France.

The sympathy of the whole civilized world is being alienated from Germany by the official reports of the barbarous conduct of the German armies.

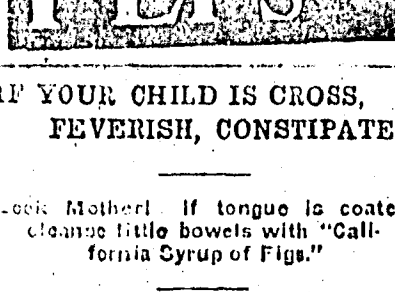

LOOK!

If you were told of a new discovery for the treatment of coughs, colds and bronchitis, as certain in its action on all chest troubles as anti-toxin is on diphtheria, or vaccination on small-pox, wouldn't you feel like giving it a trial? Especially if you could try it for fifty cents!

Pepp's is the discovery! Pepp's little tablets, neatly wrapped in air and germ-proof silver foil. They contain certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapour, and are at once breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the capillaries and tiny air sacs in the lungs.

In a word, while no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Pepp's tablets get there first, and at once commence their work of healing. Pepp's are entirely distinct from the old-fashioned liquid cough cures, which are merely swallowed into the stomach, and never reach the lungs. Pepp's treatment of coughs and colds is direct treatment.

If you have not yet tried Pepp's, cut out this article, write across it the name and date of this paper, and mail it (with 15c stamp to pay return postage) to Pepp's Co., Toronto. A free trial packet will then be sent you. All druggists and stores sell Pepp's at 50c. box.

IF YOUR CHILD IS CROSS, FEVERISH, CONSTIPATED

Look Mother! If tongue is coated, cleanse little bowels with "California Syrup of Figs."

Mothers can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up waste, bile and fermenting food quietly moves out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Sick children needn't be coaxed to take this harmless "Fruit Laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure.

Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations

(1) Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Maritime Provinces and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories, and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty years, or for a term of 25 years, or for a term of 30 years, or for a term of 35 years, or for a term of 40 years, or for a term of 45 years, or for a term of 50 years, or for a term of 55 years, or for a term of 60 years, or for a term of 65 years, or for a term of 70 years, or for a term of 75 years, or for a term of 80 years, or for a term of 85 years, or for a term of 90 years, or for a term of 95 years, or for a term of 100 years.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

SYNOPSIS OF DOMINION LAND REGULATIONS

ANY person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, may, and shall, upon application to the Dominion Land Office, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta, be granted a lease of land in any of the Dominion Lands, Agency or Sub-agency for the purpose of farming, stock raising, or other agricultural purposes, on certain conditions, by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteaders.

Leases—Six months residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within five miles of his homestead on a farm of 80 acres, solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may preempt quarter section along side his homestead. Price $300 per acre.

Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or occupation six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A home holder who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $300 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

AILING WOMEN OF MIDDLE AGE

Mrs. Doucette Tells of her Distressing Symptoms During Change of Life and How She Found Relief.

Belleville, Nova Scotia, Can.—“Three years ago I was suffering badly with what the doctors called Change of Life. I was so bad that I had to stay in bed. Some friends told me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it helped me from the first. It is the only medicine I took that did help me and I recommend it. You don't know how thankful and grateful I am. I give you permission to publish what your good medicine has done for me.”—Mrs. SIMON DOUCETTE, Belleville, Yarmouth Co., Nova Scotia, Canada.

Such warning symptoms as sense of suffocation, hot flashes, headaches, back-aches, dizziness, nervousness, timidity, sounds in the ears, palpitation of the heart, sparks before the eyes, irregularities, constipation, variable appetite, weakness and inquietude, and dizziness, are promptly headed by intelligent women who are approaching the period in life when woman's great change may be expected.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound invigorates and strengthens the female organism and builds up the weakened nervous system. It has carried many women safely through this crisis. If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman, and held in strict confidence.

Home Is Where the Heart Is

To the mother who sits in twilight alone
There comes a deep sigh of unrest,
Like that of a bird in the Fall of the year
That sings to an empty nest.
She sighs that the harvest of life is past,
That her work for the children is done,
For the sweetness of life that ebbed slowly Away.

As they left her one by one.

With folded hands as the night comes on,
She sits by the open door,
Watching in dreams the faces glow
As they came in days of yore.

There was Ned, the first born, noble and true,
With his father's stature and face,
And Alice, light-hearted, whose laugh sent a ray

Of sunshine to every place.

Then Robert, the thoughtful, and Reuben his twin.

And Henry, their studious boy.

And Ruth, the musician, whose sweet happy song

Filled the hearts in the home full of joy.
Then Bessie, the wee one, who ruled all the rest

With her innocent, winsome ways,
Twenty years she was "baby," but now she is gone—

The bride of a week and a day.

"There are none in the home now but father and I."

She mourns in the deepening gloom—
The bright happy face I see in my dreams
Are but shadows about the bare room.

Soon we too, will leave the home happy home
For another that's brighter than this.

There is neither the children back one by one
In our arms for the good morning kiss—

Then a day like the old days with the circle complete.

Will dawn under heaven's bright dome
If we find when the angel calls—the long call.

That our children are all at home
That Robert and Reuben, Henry and Ned,
Ruth, Alice and Bessie so fair,
Are gathered about us, ah, then we shall know
It is home, for the children are there.

THE CAPTAIN'S YARN

There lived in our village when I was a boy a genial old gentleman known to every one as Capt. T.

He had served in the United States navy nearly all his life, entering as a common sailor when only a young fellow, and gaining promotion by his conspicuous gallantry in several naval battles of our late war. He was retired in 1877, at which time he held rank as captain. To put it in his own words, "he was stranded by the department along in the '70s, but had finally drifted out west and anchored in a snug little cove" in Wisconsin.

It was there I knew him.

The captain was very popular with the young people, who liked nothing better than to listen to his yarns of the salty deep, for the captain was a rare story teller and, stowed away in his memory, he had a generous fund of anecdote and a perfect treasury of sea tales.

I have known him to hold the attention of his little fireside audience for a whole evening while he would spin a yarn of the time when he was a youngster and sailed with Perry or Farragut.

We were gathered around the fire

one night the captain and some of us boys, cracking nuts and telling stories and here is the tale the captain told:

"Well boys, he began, "as you know, I worked my way up from hawse hole to quarter deck, as a sailor would say, and at the time of my story I was just about to board the United States frigate—

It happened in the summer of '45—you remember our country and England were engaged at that time in putting down the African slave trade. That summer we went cruising up and down the Guinea coast on the look out for slaves.

"On one occasion we had anchored just inside the mouth of a little land locked bay, formed by the widening of a stream of considerable size. We had reason to suspect the existence of what is called a 'factory' or slave market,

not far inland on the same stream, so the captain had determined to lie about for a few days and keep watch of things. It was while we were lying there doing nothing that I came about as near to death as I care to come.

"Two anchors had been thrown out from the bow and later the wind had veered completely around; swinging the ship around and crossing the cables just beneath the bow.

"A close watch was kept and the fourth day of this sort of blockade a low, rakish craft was sighted in the offing evidently making for the mouth of the river but as soon as she sighted

us she concluded she had business

further up the coast and soon passed from sight behind the 16th headland that helped shut in the bay. The captain ordered the anchors weighed immediately, intending to make chase.

"Now, as I said before, the cables were crossed, the port chain lying over the starboard chain. The starboard anchor was pulled in first but as the port anchor still held, it fouled the port chain and I was ordered down to clear it away. I swung down on the cat tackle and was lowered away till

I reached the port chain which being taut offered good support, so I lay along that and worked to loosen them.

The ship had swung around so as to give me the usual amount of room between her bow and the chain, and I let myself down between them in such a way that as I lay across the chain

on my stomach I could brace back against the ship and push.

"It was a dangerous position for one to be in, for if the chain and the ship came together again, they would act like the jaws of a ponderous vice on anything that came between them, and never occurred to me what the consequences might be.

"Finally by much tugging I succeeded in catching the cat hook where

I wanted it and passed the word up to Lieut. Maxwell, the officer of my vessel who was leaning over the rail watching me. I could see him as he stood inspecting my work and directing me now and then.

"Suddenly a quick, anxious look came over his face, and, 'Quick, man,

out of that, for your life!' he shouted.

I was surprised, as my position was an easy one but moved quickly to get up the chair meaning to climb up to the cat tackle. I was too late. Before I could pull myself up something grabbed me like a vice across the hips

and I knew the chain had tightened and was holding me against the bow.

I was pressing upon my hips and stomach and seemed cutting me in two. I suffered untold agony. In moments like those one is intensely conscious of his own existence, much as though he were able to regard himself from the outside, and that moment of suffering I took on a personality a stranger to myself. I had an intense pleasure for the poor sailor in the chains.

I seemed that he must die, for I knew of no possible help that might avail.

Still that terrible chain crept tighter.

Summoning all his strength he shouted 'O, deck there, lower away on the port chain. His voice was strange it had a ring I had not heard before.

Then I awoke from a half conscious condition, and I had a hazy impression that I had shouted, but I was not certain. Some one had shouted a command but it was not obeyed. On deck I heard quick ringing orders—something about sails slack—but I thought they did not concern me.

I was lonesome in my agony, it seemed the ship was about to sail and leave me to my fate. I saw the white dying faces of the lieutenant and the men as they looked upon my suffering and yet were powerless to aid me.

"The whole period of the accident did not exceed two minutes as they afterward told me, yet it seemed an age.

"Then the pain must have got the better of my reason. I fought madly against the ponderous weight that was crushing the life out of me. Strange fancies and bits of delirium flashed across my mind. The soft lapping of the waves became myriad voices. I saw again the old home and my mother as I had seen her last, but through it all, never letting lose its terrible hold, was that murderous chain. I rallied against the inexorable fate that held me there to my death.

Then all was blank and I knew no more till I awoke to find myself in a hospital hammock with Lieutenant

Maxwell bending over me. Observing that I was awake, he said, half jokingly: "Oh, you're wanted in this world yet awhile. No don't talk you're on detached duty just now

so go to sleep and get rested."

"When I again awoke and looked about me I saw I was in the cabin of some vessel, probably some schooner.

Lieutenant Maxwell soon came to me and, expressed his satisfaction at finding me so much improved. He then related what had happened since my accident.

"As soon as he had seen my peril he had turned and ordered flat back what sails were already set in the hope that the wind might force the ship round again and release me. The idea was well timed; the sails filled and the ship swung back; the huge torture machine into which I had so unwittingly stepped opened its terrible jaws and dropped me into the sea. I was brought on board and put in the hospital, where I remained till I was transferred, as I shall tell you pre-

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Digby, N. S., Nov. 13, 1914

Special Offer

For a short time we will give a picture of the King or Queen to every new subscriber to the COURIER. Terms $1.00 per year in advance in Canada, $1.50 per year in the United States. Kindly remit at once and let us know which picture you prefer.

A Big Crowd at H. T. Wane's

WHAT ONE NEWSPAPER ADVERTISEMENT CAN ACCOMPLISH.

A three column advertisement, 8 inches deep, in last Friday's COURIER announced a "Big Fire Sale of Goods" furnished by H. T. Wane's. There were no doctored cutouts, no announcement made on black boards (which very few people read), no letter carriers mailed; Mr. Wane simply depended on the circulation of the COURIER to tell the people about the sale.

What was the result? Long before it was time to open the store yesterday morning the side walk was crowded with people who at nine o'clock made one grand rush for the interior of the store. The gentle furnishing department was at once filled. "Standing room only" would not even express it, for there wasn't enough room to stand anywhere. The side walk was crowded all the morning and very little difference was noticed up to a late hour yesterday afternoon.

Did any one say there was no money in the country? They certainly made a mistake if they did. Many who forgot to pay their COURIER subscription yesterday were busy pouring out the cash over Mr. H. T. Wane's counter, purchasing marked down goods, some of which were more or less injured by fire and water. Mr. Gilbert E. Hart, who had charge of the sale, had a number of clerks assisting him, but was sure he understated the crowd that a single COURIER ad could bring to his store. He realizes it now. Mr. Wane, who is away, knew the crowd would be there. He had a similar experience when he sold out a stock of boots and shoes a few years ago.

Digby Has Another Fire

Fire was discovered in the upper story of the Victoria Boarding House, lower Water street, at 4:30 Tuesday afternoon. The firemen's apparatus was on the scene almost instantly and in two minutes the fire was under control. The fire was in the direction of Mr. Frank L. Anderson, captain of Digby's fire company, with the able assistance rendered by the other officers and members, the fire was soon under control and in about 30 minutes entirely extinguished, being confined almost entirely to the room in which it first started. The building was damaged by fire and water to the extent of several hundred dollars and a large portion of its contents was either severely damaged or totally destroyed. The building was known as the Stark block and was owned by Mr. Nathaniel McCreigh, night watchman on the S. S. Yarmouth, of the Bay of Fundy service, and is insured for $40,000.

The contents were owned by Mr. C. A. Gaudet who used the building as a boarding house and grocery. He, unfortunately, carried no insurance.

Married in Pubnico

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the church of the Immaculate Conception, Lower East Point, at 8 o'clock on Wednesday morning, Oct. 28th, when Miss Laura Amiro, daughter of Mr. Louis Amiro, was married to Mr. Edward Comeau, of Saultville. The bride was dressed in white, with veil and orange blossoms. She was attended by her sisters, Misses Adele and Jane Amiro, and Mr. Frank Bourque, of East Brook, and William Burns were groomsmen. A sumptuous dinner followed at the bride's home, and in the evening a large number of friends tripped the light fantastic until a late hour. They left next morning for their future home in Saultville.

Digby Boys Going to the Front

Mr. Bernard Hutchinson, of Jones' drug store staff, has volunteered for the front. He passed a satisfactory medical examination in Yarmouth Wednesday and was a passenger to Halifax via yesterday's express. He goes as a member of the medical corps. Messrs James Merkel and Edward Webber have also volunteered and are awaiting further orders. They go as chauffeurs. We wish our boys every success.

The Coming Entertainment

The Ladies' Poudre Minstrels being arranged by Mrs. Mowbray to be held in the Bijou Dream Theatre on Thursday, November 20th, promises to be a spectacular performance, including solos, choruses, stump speech, cake walk and other specialties. After the minstrel there will be some modern dances, and a short play, followed by patriotic music. We hope there will be a full house as the proceeds are to go to the Belgians.

Volunteers for the Front

Two men belonging to Digby's fishing fleet have volunteered for the front and left Digby for Halifax via Tuesday's express. They were Loran P. Dunphy, of St. John's, Nfld., and John W. Ryan, of Port Mulgrave. Both men were members of the crew of the Lila G. Boudier, Capt. Arthur Casey, Frank Calder, of the schr. Dorothy G. Snow, Capt. Ansel Snow, also among the volunteers.

Building Moved From Bear River to Annapolis.

A building used by Powers & Brewer, contractors for the railway bridge at Bear River, was purchased by W. H. Edwards, of the Farmers' Hotel, and was moved to Annapolis by 4 yoke of oxen, which left there on Thursday, 20th ult., and arrived in town on Tuesday. The building is to be used as a garage.

Surprise Party

A number of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Collins' friends met at their home, Brier street, Tuesday evening in the form of a surprise party. Music and games followed by refreshments, and a very enjoyable programme, all present spending a very pleasant evening. Mr. and Mrs. Collins formerly resided in Westport.

OF A LOCAL NATURE

—Nearly eighty per cent of the alcohol made in Germany comes from potatoes.

—The German losses to date—killed, wounded and prisoners—are estimated at 2,000,000.

—R. V. Mr. Lundy will preach at the Mt. Pleasant school house, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

—Master Elias Sallows, of Tiverton, has our thanks for a branch of raspberries, containing ripe berries, green ones and blossoms.

—Mr. Evan E. Dunn has about completed the bungalow at Bay View which he has built for Mr. Wallace Abbott, of Marshalltown.

—Mr. H. G. Turnbull, proprietor of the South End Grocery, has our thanks for another lot of cultivated strawberries sent in from his garden yesterday.

—The pastor, Everett Dyer, of the Bear River Advent church, will preach next Sunday afternoon, on the Prophetic Significance of the European Conflict.

—The S. S. Monticello founded in the mouth of St. Mary's Bay on a trip from St. John to Yarmouth 14 years ago last Tuesday when several lives were lost.

—Mr. Stehelin, of Weymouth, received a message last week from his sons, saying they were well and were at the front in Paris, as interpreters for the British troops.

—We wish to call special attention to H. Price Webster's visit to Digby on Nov. 23 and 24. The opening programme appears on the first page, 5th column, of today's COURIER.

—We understand that Mrs. Emma Outhouse has sold her pleasantly situated house and property at Freeport to Mr. George Young, of that town. Mrs. Outhouse and family now reside in St. Andrews.

—Dakin Bros. have recently installed a Boasting Furnace in the residence of Mr. Arthur Turnbull and have made a necessary complete rearrangement of the piping of the heating plant in the residence of Mrs. L. H. Morse.

—Don't forget the ladies' Poudre Minstrels to be held in the Bijou Dream Theatre on Thursday evening November 20th, the proceeds of which are to be devoted to the Belgians, and it is hoped the receipts will be large.

—One of the best programmes of moving pictures ever exhibited in Digby was shown last Tuesday evening, the most attractive road being the opening episode of "Lucille Love; The Girl of Mystery." This will surely draw large audiences during its run in Digby.

—Rev. W. S. Ryder, who is becoming very popular among the Baptist congregation, will again occupy the pulpit of the Digby Baptist church next Sunday morning and evening. At the latter service his subject will be "The War of the Nations." There will be a special music.

—Mr. H. T. Wane's big sale of goods' furnishings evoked up things considerably around town yesterday and many business men in other lines of trade felt the effects of Mr. Wane's advertising. The COURIER wishes to thank a number of subscribers who settled their accounts during the day.

—Mr. Wm. Agate, Jr., who is second engineer of the British transport St. Edmund, has our thanks for a bundle of very interesting London papers. Mr. Agate, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Agate of the Waverly Hotel, takes an interest in his work and is making good in the St. Edmund's big engine room. We wish him continued success.

—We are pleased to state that the Town Council is arranging for a new fire alarm. The old bell is better than the present steam whistle, neither one of which can be heard half the length of the town. A few years ago a good whistle was installed on the electric light station, which worked all right for awhile, but which was afterwards, for some reason, condemned.

—Lectures will be held at Weymouth Methodist Church, Thursday evening, the 19th, and at Barton, Saturday evening, in aid of the Parsonage Committee's work, by the Rev. Harry Burgess on "An Evening with a Scotchman and What He Learned." This is the first of a series on Nations, Character Study, comprising Irish, American, French and German life and doings.

Serving His King and Country

The many Digby and other friends of Lieut. A. MacGregor, R. N. R., formerly marine superintendent of the Dominion Atlantic R. Way and Steamship Company, will be glad to hear that he is engaged in an advisory capacity on one of the big British warships in the North Sea.

The exact amount awarded to Mr. Hart was $2,700 and the undamaged goods thrown in.

SHIPPING AND FISHING

Schr. Trilby arrived at Boston from Digby, Nov. 7th.

Schr. Valdaro arrived at Boston from Bear River last Saturday.

Schr. Nova is chartered to load hard coal at Perth Amboy for Digby.

Schr. B. B. Hardwick arrived at Boston from Weymouth, N. S., Nov. 7th.

Nova Scotia Fish Company's arrivals: 7,800 lbs. of mixed fish from boatmen; shipped 320 boxes of human haddies.

Sailed Sunday, schr. Hattie McKay, Bear River for Parrabore with a cargo of apples, having put in here Saturday for harbor.

D. Sproule & Company's arrivals this week: 10,438 lbs. of mixed fish from boatmen; shipped 370 boxes of human haddies.

Schr. Wilfred L. Snow, Capt. Herbert Clayton, arrived here Wednesday night from Yarmouth, having sold her fare at that port.

Mrs. Parry, of Yarmouth, has received a telegram saying that her husband, Captain Parry, of the steamer Candor, and his crew, arrived in London on Tuesday.

Yarmouth Telegram: Dredge Beacon Bar finished her work in the harbor a day or two ago and is now ready to leave for St. John, as soon as a tug arrives to take her in tow.

Capt. McDonald, of schr. Beacon Bar, which put in here for harbor, was taken ill after leaving Yarmouth and left for his home in St. John, by the steamer Westport to Weymouth.

Schr. Dora, Capt. Canning, which discharged a cargo of soft coal at Little River for the S. S. Mary's Bay steamship company, sailed Tuesday for Church Point for repairs, after which she goes to St. John.

Maritime Fish Corporation arrivals this week: Schr. Cora Gertie, 15,455 lbs. of haddock, 4,320 lbs. of hake, 1,907 lbs. of cod, 320 lbs. of eels; other sources, 705 lbs. of cod, 2,239 lbs. of haddock, 608 lbs. of hake.

Joseph E. Snow's arrivals this week: From boatmen, 2,573 lbs. of hake, 2,020 lbs. of haddock, 673 lbs. of cod, 67 tins of dry hake; shipped, 45 boxes of human haddies, 65 boxes of fillets, 250 drums of dry hake.

The final haddie shipments from Digby to the markets of Upper Canada for the month of October totaled 349 215 pounds, all going via the St. John boat. This is far in excess of the total shipments for the same month of last year.

Yesterday's Halifax Herald: The term schooner Eddie Therault came off the ship yesterday and will shortly clear for St. John's, where she will load fish for Brazil. The term schooner Alvina Therault will go on the ship today.

A survey was held at Parrabore on Thursday on the wrecked schooner Babs and she was condemned as a total wreck. She was sold Saturday by public auction as she lies in the river, to Lawson Cochran, of Port Oreville, for seventy-five dollars.

Tugs Lord Wobley and Lord Kitchener with dredge Beacon Bar and two crews in tow, left Westport at nine o'clock Wednesday morning from Yarmouth for St. John, and must have experienced rough weather in the Bay during Wednesday night's electrical storm.

The following vessels sailed from Digby yesterday: schr. Emma Potter, Captain Walker, with lumber for Boston; Effort, Capt. Ogilvie, with staves for Hillsboro, N. S.; Rolfe, Bowe, for St. John to load a general cargo for Parrabore; Patrol A, Capt. Hadley Blackford for Tiverton.

FAIR REPORTS: Nov. 6th, 108 hogsheads herring at Grand Manan; 7th, 80 hogsheads herring at Grand Manan; 20 hogsheads herring at Letangie; 9th, 220 hogsheads herring at Grand Manan; 10th, 40 hogsheads sardines at Grand Manan; $3.00; 11th, 61 hogsheads sardines at Grand Manan.

The Digby schooner Loran B. Snow was reported at Yarmouth Tuesday with only 10,000 pounds fresh fish. The rest of the home fleet are out on the grounds, but bad weather continues to interfere with operations. The Digby fresh fish market is bare for the first time this season.

Capt. Saintclair Brown, formerly of Freeport, but now of Edgartown, Mass., whom we already reported sailing for southern ports in a new motor auxiliary yacht, was in St. Augustine last Sunday. He was sixteen days on the inside route from Annapolis, Md. He reports the weather delightful, but hears complaints of dull times at every port he has called.

Flying the flags of nearly every maritime nation except Germany, 90 steamships are bound for Baltimore, Md. to load cargoes of all kinds of commodities for Europe. Most of the vessels, however, will take out grain. Some of the ships will be fitted up to carry a thousand horses each. Others will have their holds filled up with barbed wire for use as entanglements upon battlefields. At least half of the steamships are British.

The largest shipment of eggs ever sent from the United States to England left Boston on Friday, on the steamer Anglian bound for London. She carried 80,000 cases containing 2,880,000 eggs, valued at $30,000. The eggs came from the west and required 23 refrigerator cars to transport them. They will be used by the British army at the front. The Anglian will also take out 90,000 bushels of wheat, 1,200 tons of flour and 200 tons of provisions. The entire shipment will be used by the troops now in France.

The following vessels have reported at the Digby customs house since Nov. 6th: Inward—7th, schr. Rolfe, Rowe, Parrabore, N. S.; schr. Mary M. Lord, Johnson, Annapolis; 9th, schr. Cora Gertie, Crocker, Freeport; 10th, schr. Mary M. Lord, Johnson, Bear River; 11th, schr. Effort, Ogilvie, Hillsboro, N. B.

The Yarmouth Herald says: Saturday was an unusually busy day along the water front. The following were the arrivals: Consumers' Fish Co.—schr. Myrtle L, Capt. Hiram Young, 3,000 lbs. Loran B. Snow, Capt. Roy Long, 12,000 lbs. Nelson A. Capt. Leizen Amiro, 9,000 lbs. Quickstep, Capt. Arthur Longmire, 16,000 lbs. Viola, Capt. Clarence Lennox, 2,500 lbs. Lucy A, Capt. Burnett, 3,000 lbs. Albert J. Lutz, Capt. Apt, 12,000 lbs.

Schr. Dorothy G. Snow came in on Sunday, with about 20,000; schr. Kenwood and Lila G. Boudier, Capt. Arthur Casey, each with about 10,000.

Yarmouth Herald: Anyone visiting the wharf of the Consumers' Fish Co. on Saturday would have witnessed a very busy scene. There were seven schooners discharging their cargoes of fresh fish, which were being fed, placed in racks and shipped to Boston. The entire lot was 150 large cases and was from the following vessels: Yada, of East Brook; Myrtle L, Loran B. Snow, Quickstep and Albert J. Lutz, Digby; Lucy A, Wedgeport; Nelson A, Yarmouth. One detail that took us by surprise was that no one in which these fish are shipped are returned. The Company using none but new cases. This, in itself, gives employment to a number of men, as well as distributes a large amount of cash. It also tends largely to the sale of the fish, as no one desires to eat fish out of a dirty package. The premises have been greatly improved, new private and public offices, having been recently fitted up and the whole wharf and premises brilliantly lighted by electricity. An ice breaker, driven by electricity, is also one of the new installations to the plant. It is, indeed, a busy place on shipping days, and is a valuable industry to our port.

Perilous Night on the Basin

LIFE BOAT DURING RESCUE CLAM FISHMEN FROM GOAT ISLAND

Several Digby men engaged in clam digging were marooned on Goat Island for two days, taking with them only enough food for one day. Their families being alarmed over their unusual absence of two nights from home, a telephone message was sent to the Life Saving Station at Bay View. The life boat during, in charge of Capt. J. V. Hayden, immediately left for Goat Island. This was about 8:30 Tuesday night. The weather was thick and dark with frequent N. easterly squalls. After a faithful search they found the men in a motor boat and a dory, drifting among the dangerous ledges in the South Channel, between Goat Island and Clements point shore. The motor boat being disabled, Capt. Hayden got a tow line to both boats and landed the men and their fare of clam at Digby about midnight. The COURIER is in receipt of the following communication which we publish in full:

Capt. Hamilton, Messrs James E. Robinson, Archibald Parker, Stephen Raymond, Henry T. Sibley, Edward Robinson and John Robinson, desire to heartily thank Capt. J. V. Hayden and the crew of the life boat attached to the Life Saving Station at Bay View, for their heroic services in bringing them with their boat to Digby pier on the night of 10th inst., during a dense fog and thick storm, as their boat was in an unmanageable condition.

Died at Rosaway

Mrs. Mary S. Fındal died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Wilfred Robbins, Rosaway, Wednesday night, aged 72 years, having suffered from paralysis for several months. The deceased formerly resided at Clyde River, Shelburne county, but after the death of her husband a few years ago, she moved to Rosaway. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Wilfred Robbins, with whom she resided, and one step-daughter, Mrs. Herbert Wright, of Digby. She also leaves two brothers, John and Hugh McKay, of Clyde River, and three sisters, Mrs. Kate Snow, who resides in the U. S., and the Misses Bessie and Maggie McKay, of Clyde River. Mrs. Fındal was a member of the Congregationalist church, and was highly respected by all who had the pleasure of her acquaintance. A service at the house to day will be conducted by Rev. William Driffield, rector of Holy Trinity Church, Digby, after which the remains will leave here via D. A. R. express enroute to Clyde River, where the burial services will take place conducted by the pastor of the Presbyterian church in that village. The remains will be accompanied from Digby by Mr. and Mrs. Robbins; her sister, Miss Maggie McKay, and niece, Mrs. James Dexter and Miss Sadie Jones, the latter from Shelburne. The COURIER extends its deepest sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Severe Electrical Storm

DIGBY CATHOLIC CHURCH DAMAGED AT CHURCH POINT—MR. STELHIN'S NARROW ESCAPE

Digby county was visited Wednesday night by the worst electrical storm ever experienced here for several years. Lightning struck the steeple of the big Catholic church, at Church Point, causing a damage, which will reach in the vicinity of $2,000. This edifice is the most expensive church east of Montreal. At the time of the disaster, Mr. Emilio Stelin, of New France, was passing in his town. The carriage was damaged and horses injured, but the occupant of the team miraculously escaped. Mr. Stelin's four brothers are at the firing line with the French army. Their father resides at New France near Weymouth, N. S.

Death of Mr. Antoine J. Doncott

At Bellevue's Cove on the 8th inst., Mr. Antoine J. Doncott passed away after an illness of a day or two and which was thought to be only a slight indisposition, aged 68 years. Mr. Doncott was highly respected and a well to do farmer. He leaves to mourn their loss a widow, one son and two daughters, Rev. Father Michel Doncott, of Yarmouth Co., Rev. Sister in Quebec and a daughter at home. Funeral took place on Wednesday at St. Bernard's and was largely attended.

Picked up at Brier Island

Mr. Charles Buckman, the popular and efficient keeper of Northern Point Light, Brier Island, picked up a bottle recently, which contained a leaf from a memorandum book on one side of which was an Eastern S. S. Co's. advertisement and on the other side was written:

More Fresh Apples

Mr. J. L. Sallis, of Smith's Cove, was in Digby Wednesday and presented the COURIER with what very much resembled a basket but which gave out three apples and within a few inches of other Fall fruits. He also gave in three apples of the Alexander variety, the smallest of which measures 12 1/2 inches in circumference.

Pacific Cable, Cut by Germans, Repairs.
THE CRUISER NURNBERG, UNDER FALSE COLOURS, LANDED PARTY ON FANNING ISLAND, DESTROYED PLANT.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Nov. 11.—The Pacific Cable, which connects Canada with Australia has been reopened. It was put out of business on September 7 when the German cruiser Nurnberg steamed up to Fanning Island flying a French flag and accompanied by a collier.

So sure were the cable men that the ships were friendly that they launched a boat to greet the newcomers. They had hardly started when two cutters loaded with German sailors and machines, in tow of a launch, came for the beach at full speed. The Germans jumped over into the waist deep water and with bayonets fixed charged a shore and seized the cable headquarters. The Nurnberg's guns covered the landing party.

The Germans then lined up the cable operators. Several parties were decked to leave the shore and of the cable and this was blown to atoms by dynamite. Other men blew up the engine room, the boiler room, the refrigerating room and the dynamo room. All the instruments were smashed with sledge hammers. Papers were taken from the office and were transferred to the Nurnberg. These revealed the fact that spare instruments and arms and ammunition were buried in various parts of the island and that there was $3200 in the office safe.

An officer went ashore, ordered the cable blown open and took the money. The arms, ammunition and instruments were found and destroyed.

CORRESPONDENCE.

The Seventh Day Advent.

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR: Members of the local Seventh Day Adventist church were greatly cheered over the remarkable progress their denomination has made in various ways during the past year as given in a report that has just been received from the statistical secretary of the General Conference, the governing body, which has its headquarters in Washington, D. C. There has been a large increase in the membership to the extent of more than eight thousand, and a wonderful growth in tithes and offerings, and the movement itself has penetrated into a number of new countries until the heralding of the message, telling of the soon coming of the Saviour, which is one of the principal bulwarks of the church, is now being sounded in 85 countries. The report, which was sent by Mr. H. E. Rogers, is as follows:

"Funds to the amount of $2,866,727.40 (two million dollars, etc.), a per capita of $23.42 for each communicant, were contributed for evangelistic work in the Seventh day Adventist denomination during the last fiscal year.

"The net increase over the amount received for the preceding year was $164,528.38, the per cent of increase being $6.10. Of the total amount contributed, $2,079,238.07 (72.23 per cent) was raised in North America; $495,418.70 (17.28 per cent) in Europe; $12,272.70 (4.3 per cent) in Asia, and $279,796.93 (9.74 per cent) in all other countries. There was received in tithes, $1,771,389.60, or 61.81 per cent; in offerings, $640,373.29, or 22.34 per cent; by Sabbath schools in contributions to foreign missions, $291,711.76, or 10.18 per cent; by church schools for their maintenance, $138,272.66, or 4.82 per cent; by Missionary Volunteer Societies, $24,380.20, or .85 per cent. The per capita for the 71,863 communicants in North America was $28.33; for 69,625 communicants outside North America, $15.58 an average of $23.42.

"Since this denomination was organized fifty-one years ago there has been contributed for evangelistic work alone a total of $28,585,404.96. Of this amount, $19,730,499.66 (68.99 per cent) has been tithes; $2,009,206.65 (7.03 per cent) has been Sabbath school offerings (of which $80.00 per cent has been contributed for foreign missions); $3,731,164.65 (13.05 per cent) has been foreign mission offerings. Of that amount, $22,279,943.29 (77.94 per cent) was contributed in North America, and $6,305,446.67 (22.06 per cent) was raised outside this country.

"There was a gain of 8,180 in the membership for the year which is the largest gain ever recorded in any year since this work was begun. In North America there were 71,863 communicants; in Europe, 31,772; in Asia, 2,713; in other countries, 16,038. The total baptisms during the year were 12,734. The difference between the number added by baptism and the net gain is 4,614. Deducting the number of deaths, there is left a relatively small number of apostasies from the faith. It is a cause of great satisfaction to note the large number of baptisms during 1913, the number being the largest ever accounted for in any year.

"The number of churches at the close of 1913 was 3,589. This is a gain of 715, or 24.87 per cent. The number of new church members added in 1913 was 10,513. This number is greater than the entire membership of the denomination eighteen years after its organization. It may be explained that the number of members which was transferred during 1913 from companies to churches was 8,333. Deducting this amount from 10,513, the number of new church members added during the year, there is left the net gain in communicants (members of churches, companies and other Sabbath-keepers) namely, 8,180.

"The report further says that the denomination is operating in 85 different countries through a force of laborers comprised as follows: 9,388 ordained ministers, 672 licensed ministers, 1,508 licensed missionaries, 2,060 colporteurs, 1,511 teachers in mission, primary and advanced schools, 734 laborers in denominational publishing houses, 1,727 physicians, nurses and other employees in sanitariums and treatment rooms, and 252 other persons not included in these classes, thus making a total force of 34,772 laborers engaged in all lines of work, or an average of one laborer for every thirteen members.

"The report also tells in an extensive manner of the educational system which the denomination conducts in a uniform way throughout the world and also of the 37 publishing houses, which turned out nearly two million dollars' worth of Christian literature during the past year.

"Of the Educational work the report says: 'The following general classes of schools are conducted by the denomination: Primary schools (grades 1-5), of which there are 610, taught by 592 teachers, and having an enrollment of 10,206; and advanced schools (grades 6-10), of which there are 70, taught by 557 teachers, and having an enrollment of 7,663. In addition to these two general classes, there are certain mission schools conducted in non-Christian and non-Protestant countries (a separate report of which is prepared), the present number comprising

Look at the tongue, mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is fussy, listless, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold; give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the food, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a 50-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

A POSITIVE CURE FOR RHEUMATISM

Hundreds of People Have Found "Fruit-a-tives" Their Only Help

READ THIS LETTER

Superintendent of Sunday School in Toronto Tells How He Cured Himself of Chronic Rheumatism After Suffering for Years.

55 DOVERCOURT ROAD, Oct., 1st, 1913.

"For a long time, I have thought of writing you regarding what I term a most remarkable cure effected by your remedy 'Fruit-a-tives'. I suffered from Rheumatism, especially in my hands. I have spent a lot of money without any good results. I have taken 'Fruit-a-tives' for 18 months now, and am pleased to tell you that I am cured. All the enlargement has not left my hands and perhaps never will, but the soreness is all gone and I can do any kind of work. I have gained 35 pounds in 18 months."

R. A. WAUGH

Rheumatism is no longer the dreaded disease it once was. Rheumatism is no longer one of the "incurable diseases". "Fruit-a-tives" has proved its marvellous powers over Rheumatism, Sciatica, Lumbago—in fact, over all such diseases which arise from some derangement of stomach, bowels, kidneys or skin.

"Fruit-a-tives" is sold by all dealers at 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. or sent postpaid on receipt of price by Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

296 training schools, head school and out schools, with a teaching force of 302, and an enrollment of 9,610. Thus the total number of schools conducted by the denomination is 786, taught by 1,511 teachers, and having a total enrollment of 27,379. The total investment in these schools is $2,338,328.14. A total of 828 students were trained in all these schools sufficiently to enter some line of denominational work at the close of the last school year."

"Of the publishing houses the report says: 'At the close of 1913 there were 37 publishing houses and branches, having assets amounting to $1,488,388.46, employing 734 persons, and the total denominational literature sales for the year were $1,809,714.48. This literature is issued in the form of approximately 360 bound books 325 pamphlets, 1,200 tracts, 128 periodicals, in 80 different languages. The total literature sales from the time this work was organized approximate $19,556,690.02. As previously noted, this literature is distributed by 2,060 colporteurs, 805 of whom are in North America, and 1,255 in other countries. Work is being conducted orally in all the 85 countries covered by this cause in 107 languages and dialects.

"The total number of Young People's Missionary Volunteer Societies stand at 964, with a membership of 19,428, an annual increase of 5,400 or 38.59 per cent. The per cent of members belonging to these societies as related to the entire number of communicants is the highest yet attained, being 15.88. The total contributions for the year were $24,380.20, being $1.25 for each member of these societies. Of this amount, $13,432.49 was contributed for foreign missions.

BYRON OUTHOUSE,

Even Russia.

To the Editor of the Courier

DEAR SIR: Russia has prohibited the sale of Vodka, their national drink, this to continue even after the war, and visitors say that there is such a change that the country is hardly recognizable. Peasants, who before the war had fallen into hopeless indolence and depravity have already become self-respecting citizens. The fluff on character is already visible in neatly brushed clothes instead of the former ragged and slovenly attire. Hats which were dilapidated are now repaired and improved.

Society has become more orderly and the peasants indulge in wholesome amusements. They now save fifty-five per cent of their wages which was formerly spent for drink and their earning power has been increased through sobriety. This extra money is now spent for necessities and comforts. This startling regeneration of the peasantry is, in the opinion of the Russian authorities, likely to have an important effect on the social and economic conditions of all Russia.

Why cannot we have a similar blessing? Are we not badly in need of it? H. ARNOTT, M. B., M. C. P. S.

Mrs. Henry Outhouse was a passenger to Weymouth via S. S. Siasiboo on Saturday last.

Miss Helen Outhouse is spending a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Edgar Bates at Westport.

Mrs. Cheney and two children, of Lubec, Me., are visiting her mother, Mrs. Rachel Greenlaw.

We are sorry to report Altha, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Sollows, very sick.

A birthday party was held at the home of Mrs. William Howard on Tuesday evening, Oct. 27th.

Mrs. Auldin Small, after a successful operation in the hospital at Boston, returned home last week.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Stoddart have returned from Westport. Also Mr. Joseph Ossinger and son Hubert.

Miss Nellie Clifford gave a Halloween party to her young friends on Saturday evening. All report a good time.

On Sunday morning, Nov. 1st, death came in our village and entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Young, claiming as its victim Little Llewellyn, youngest child of the home, aged 2 years and 9 months. The little one was ill but eleven days with whooping cough, and although he suffered much, there was still hopes for his recovery. He leaves to mourn, a grief-stricken mother and father, three sisters and five brothers, who have the sympathy of all. Funeral took place on Monday. Rev. Durbee conducted the services.

On Tuesday evening, Oct. 27th, Mrs. Edgar Outhouse received the sad news that her sister, Mrs. George E. Oliver, died very suddenly at her home in Popham Beach, Me., aged 44 years. The deceased died on her birthday, Oct. 27th, and had many friends here who regret to learn of her death. She leaves to mourn their loss, a husband, and adopted daughter, three sisters, Mrs. Edgar Outhouse, Tiverton, two others living at Popham Beach and a large number of relatives and friends. The community extend sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Bear River is to have moving picture shows two nights a week in the building now owned by Mr. J. Arthur Rice, formerly the Army Barracks.

Mrs. F. E. Nichols was called to Shelburne on Wednesday, of last week, on account of the serious illness of her father, who has since died. The funeral took place on Oct. 30th.

The regular meeting of the Red Cross society will be held on Tuesday afternoon at three o'clock in the masonic kitchen. The room will be open on Tuesdays and Saturdays from three to four to give out and receive finished work.

You have a bad cold!

Then listen I Cold attacks the lungs and the breathing passages. To cure it you need to get at these organs direct. Ordinary cough mixtures and syrups do not touch the lungs, but go direct to your stomach, which is not illing. Peps, on the contrary, go direct to the very seat of the trouble.

Peps are tablets containing essence and medicinal ingredients so prepared that when placed upon the tongue they immediately turn into vapor, and are breathed down the inflamed air passages to the lungs, direct.

Peps medicine takes the form of healing vapor, and cures colds, coughs, bronchitis and lung troubles, just as living in Pine woods and breathing Pine-daden air prevents consumption and cures chest weakness. Tightness across the chest, pain between the shoulders, hacking cough, sore throat, asthma and bronchitis are the ailments which, in particular, Peps have been designed to cure. Peps will soon end your bad cold.

Testimonials for Peps have been given by members of the Canadian Parliament, doctors, lawyers, eminent Canadian musicians; all going to prove that Peps have been found a cure for throat and chest trouble, often when other remedies had entirely failed.

FREE TRIAL.—Cut out this article, attach it with a stamp (for return postage) to Peps Co., 100 St. George Street, Toronto, and we will send you a free trial package of Peps. All druggists and stores sell Peps, 50c box or 3 for $1.25. See the name Peps (the letters only) before buying.

YOU CAN'T EARN MONEY WHEN YOU'RE LAID UP

There are a lot of people in this town who cannot afford to be sick. Perhaps none of you feel that you can, but certainly none of you can, as soon as you are sick, your wages stop and worry and debts begin to pile up. The sensible thing for you to do, as soon as you feel run-down and worn out, no matter what the cause, is to take something just as quick as you can to build up strength and health. Make yourself more comfortable and provide against serious sickness.

We don't believe there is any other medicine made that will do so much towards saving your health and thus helping you save your money as REXALL OLIVE OIL EMULSION. It is a medicine that gets right at the trouble and relieves it by toning the nerves, enriching the blood, and giving new strength and health to the whole body. It doesn't do this by means of alcohol or habit-forming drugs, because it contains none. Its strength and health-giving power is due to pure Olive Oil and the Hypophosphites, long endorsed by successful physicians, the one for its food value, the other for its tonic value. Here, for the first time, they are combined, and the result is a real nerve, blood and body-building medicine—a real strengthener that we are proud to tell you about. You don't need to hesitate in using it, because if it doesn't do all we say it will and satisfy you in every way, it will cost you nothing. If it doesn't make you strong and well again, come back and get your money. It will be given to you without word or question. Sold only at the more than 7,000 Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us.

RYAN & BLACKADER, Weymouth

P. W. HOLDSWORTH, Digby

The Rexall Store

There is a Rexall Store in nearly every town and city in the United States, Canada and the British Isles. There is a distinct benefit to nearly every ordinary human being—each especially designed for the particular ill for which it is recommended.

Girl! Try It! Hair gets soft, fluffy and beautiful—Get a 25 cent bottle of Dandruff.

If you care for heavy hair that glitters with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Dandruff. Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff. You can not have nice healthy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots flail, loosen and die; then the hair falls out. Surely, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Dandruff from any drug store and just try it.

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations

(1) Mining rights of the Dominion in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the lands are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be sketched out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not being operated, such returns shall be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $100 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands, W. W. CORRY, Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

SYNOPSIS OF DOMINION LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must apply in person to the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions. If by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within nine miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt quarter section alongside his homestead. Price $300 per acre.

Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-empt six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has not yet earned his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $300 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

W. W. CORRY, Deputy Minister of the Interior.

N.B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

Recruiting at Digby

As will be seen by our advertising columns and by posters circulated this week, Maj. A. K. Van Horne and Maj. D. C. McKay, of the 11th Brigade, will be at the Royal Hotel, Digby, next Monday, Nov. 23rd, to enroll recruits for the second overseas contingent. During the past our boys have been enrolling at Yarmouth, Melville Square and in St. John, and their names have been recorded in the newspapers as having from the above places. Digby town and county will do its share and a number are expected to add their names to the roll of honor in Digby next Monday.

Monday's Southeast Gale

MANY WEIRS DESTROYED AND HARVESTS DAMAGED—STEAMERS SKEW SHELFER.

A southeast gale, which started early Monday morning, kicked up a bad sea in St. Mary's Bay, Bay of Fundy and Annapolis Basin. Owners of fish weirs along the coast met with heavy losses. At East Ferry, on the east side of Petite Passage, Charles Harris and Cutler Theriault had their wharves almost totally destroyed but some of the buildings were saved.

At Tiddville, the Tiddville Weir Company, of which G. W. Wightman, of Digby, is manager, suffered severely. Their seine boat and float washed ashore and became a total loss and it is thought their weir is too badly damaged to catch many more fish this season.

Weirs were damaged at Little River, Mink Cove, Sandy Cove, Scallow and all along the northwest side of St. Mary's Bay.

Steamers Centerville, from Centerville for St. John; Graville from Annapolis for St. John, and Bear River from Bear River for St. John, all harbored at Digby. The latter heavily loaded with apples to be shipped via an English steamer from St. John, was several miles off Point Prim when she was compelled to return to port. The only vessel anchored off Digby was the tern schooner Igna, with lumber from Bear River for the West Indies. She rode out the gale in safety.

Schooner Loran B. Snow, Capt. Roy Longmire, arrived during the worst of the gale with 35,000 pounds of mixed fish, which were purchased by Capt. Joseph E. Snow.

The English steam trawler St. Leonard arrived Sunday night with 150,000 pounds of mixed fish, purchased by the Maritime Fish Corporation.

The storm bound fleet passed out the following day.

Death at Hill Grove

MRS. SOPHIA WARNE, A HIGHLY RESPECTED RESIDENT, HAS PASSED AWAY.

Mrs. Sophia Warne, aged 79 years and 10 months, died at her home in Hill Grove last Friday afternoon. She was a very prominent lady in the community in which she resided, had been a member of the Hill Grove Baptist church for more than sixty years, and was highly respected by a large circle of relatives and friends. Her husband, the late W. J. Warne, died eleven years ago. She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Henry Kinney, of Ashmore; Mrs. Janet Minard and Miss Nettie Warne at home, and one son, Mr. H. T. Warne, Digby's well known merchant. She leaves one sister, Mrs. Joseph Parsons, of Gloucester, Mass., and two brothers, Robert and Wentworth Sabean, of Weymouth North. She also leaves a large number of grand-children and great grand children.

The funeral took place from her late home Sunday afternoon with interment in the Hill Grove Baptist church. It was very largely attended and the floral tributes were beautiful. The services at the house and at the grave were conducted by the Rev. W. S. Ryder.

Death at Coluden

On Wednesday evening, Nov. 11th, as was noted in last week's COURIER, the death agony passed over the little village of Coluden, and called, to the better land, Mr. Thomas VanTassel, in the seventy-sixth year of his age, after an illness of several months.

He leaves to mourn their loss a widow, five sons, John and Thomas at home; Edward, of Mt. Pleasant; Frederick and Harry, of Brighton, Massachusetts; and three daughters, Mrs. Nathan Gilbert Kirkland, Washington; Mrs. Martha Trask, of Digby; and Mrs. Maude Cavalier, Halifax; six of whom were present at his funeral, which was held at the Baptist church on Friday afternoon, Nov. 13th, at 2 o'clock. Interment was at Coluden cemetery.

The deceased was an industrious, upright citizen, highly respected by all who knew him, and one of the aged residents of Digby Co. who, a few weeks ago, received their Pension Bonus.

Wrestling Matches

Lucille L. & The Girl of Mystery

(Serial No. 3—Two parts)

At the opening of the third chapter, Lucille L. is discovered more dead than alive on the beach of the South Sea Island, where she has been cast by the storm which had wrecked the small boat in which she escaped from the burning liner "Empress." As she regained consciousness she makes sure that she has the papers which she had taken from Loubeque, the return of which will save her father and sweet heart from disgrace. She has them in the bosom of her dress.

As she looks about she sees a band of savages and tries to escape. They overtake her and make her captive. The savages, however, seem to consider her a sacred being, and the chief takes her to his hut where his little daughter is sick and asks Lucille to cure her. Lucille sets to work and nurses the chief's daughter. She quite her and makes her comfortable. The chief then assigns a house to her and in the sign language tells her that she will be perfectly safe there.

In this but Lucille for the first time learns the secret of Loubeque's life through reading his diary and seeing the picture of her own mother.

When the chief of the illness of the chief's little daughter is past, and she recovers, the chief is extravagant in his praise, and gives her a sacred amulet, or charm, in the shape of a white elephant. By virtue of his sacred object all the natives become Lucille's slaves. The chief hangs the charm about Lucille's neck, and as a token of service she has rendered she is permitted to ride the holy elephant as a mark of the royal favor, and all the natives bow before her.

But Loubeque has escaped the fury of the waves, too, and has been cast up on the same island which is now Lucille's refuge. Loubeque sees the hut or which is being conferred upon the girl who has the secret dispatches which she took from the desk in his cabin, and he is filled with hate and determination to get them back. There comes upon the scene at this moment a native of an anarchistic turn of mind, who hates anything which has to do with the white woman. Loubeque sees him and by virtue of their common cause they join forces. Loubeque, however, chokes the savage nearly to death to show him who is master.

Together they plot to make away with Lucille. Soon an opportunity ofers. Lucille is restless and as she is regarded as a sacred person and can go anywhere without harm, she wanders on the sand dunes. The native, Loubeque's new slave, surprises her and starts to strangle her. In a moment it would have all been over had not the sacred amulet, which the chief had hung about her neck, escaped from her dress and attracted the attention of the savage. The talisman works. He desists and bows three times before her. She is saved.

But Loubeque will not be defeated so easily. He plots to drive Lucille out of the hut so that he can search it for the dispatches, and for that purpose he and the native catch snakes and put them through the grass walls of Lucille's hut. Lucille, of course is terrified and runs out into the night. Loubeque searches the hut, but cannot find the papers and goes away more angry and determined than ever. The girl fears to stay there and resolves to escape through the jungle. She goes to the chief's hut, but decides not to wake him and slips away into the doubly dark shadows of the jungle. But nothing can escape the eagle eye of the spy. He has followed every movement of the girl, who does not even suspect that her enemy is on the island.

Loubeque is not the only enemy that Lucille has to contend with. The jungle is full of wild beasts, and she has not gone far before she encounters a ferocious lion. Lucille is horrified and tries desperately to escape. [The pictures of this story are shown in the Bijou Dream Theatre every Tuesday night.]

Miss Margaret R. Malanson Dead.
NATIVE OF PORT GILBERT, N. S., BUT SPENT MOST OF LIFE HERE.

[Monday's Gloucester Times.]
Miss Margaret R. Malanson passed away at her home, 12 Harold avenue, yesterday at the age of 21 years and 11 months after a long illness. The deceased was born in Port Gilbert, Digby county, N. S., and was the daughter of Digby Peter and Susan R. (Amers) Malanson. She came to this city when quite young, and was graduated from St. Ann's Parochial school.

She leaves a mother, Mrs. George Tibbets, a step-father, and two sisters, Miss Mary E. Malanson and Mrs. Catherine Monroe.

The funeral will take place tomorrow morning from her home, 12 Harold avenue, at 8 o'clock, followed by a requiem high mass at St. Ann's church at 9 o'clock. Interment will be at Calvary cemetery.

Red Cross Work

The ladies of the local branch of the Red Cross Society met every Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the Council Chamber, Town Building, at which every lady is especially requested to be present. There was a very enthusiastic meeting last Wednesday afternoon to make arrangements for Saturday's shipment, which goes forward from Digby tomorrow.

All who have completed work on hand will please deliver the same at Mrs. Elmer Turnbull's this afternoon in order to make tomorrow's shipment as large as possible.

Dear Visit Digby

Three deer, a buck and two does, made their appearance in town Saturday morning, passing through the west end of the town from north to south, skipping over high fences with little effort. At the south end one of the does took a notion to try the proposed new route to Smith's Cove and went across the Basin, a distance of about one mile, thus cutting off five or six miles by land, while its companions strolled through the Public Park south of Warwick Street, where they were last seen.

Another Digby Boy Volunteers for the Front
G. A. son of Mr. G. E. Torrie, Fishery Officer for Digby County, has volunteered for the front.

He received a medical examination by Dr. Reid and Major R. F. MacNeil, recruiting officer at Melville Square, Annapolis County, is arranging for his transportation. He leaves for Halifax next week. We wish our young townsman every success.

The proprietor of the Parramore Leader has gone to the front and has advertised his newspaper for sale.

Sheriff Smith Receives a Letter From the Front.

The following letter under date of Oct. 25th, has been received by Sheriff Smith from one of the Stehelin brothers at the firing line.

H. A. P. Smith, Esq.
High Sheriff Digby County.

DEAR HARRY:—My letter will certainly surprise you. I did not have time to shake hands with you before leaving Nova Scotia, and I have been thinking of you a lot ever since. I hope you are well and have enjoyed your annual moose hunting. If you want real game where they don't run from you, come over here. It is a—hard shooting sometimes, but we have got the goods and hope to have them on the run for good before long. My four brothers and myself are attached to an English Cavalier regiment as interpreters. Fine people, they are, splendid soldiers and the horsemen the finest lot of men you can see. They cannot be beaten and they don't want to be beaten. It is going to be a long and hard war, Harry, but we will come back to Digby even if we do have to go to Berlin first.

We are waiting for the Canadian contingent. They are not in France yet, giving rest to their horses in England. Likely some of us will be attached there. They depend here a lot on the Canadians—all fresh troops, fresh horses. If you could see the state of the horses after two months' campaign. Bill Bonenfant would not dare to harness them. We nurse them and fix them up and again they go to the front.

The spirit of the people in France is admirable. The coolness of the English soldiers is wonderful. We are dressed in Khaki. The first interpreters, who went to the front with French uniforms were mowed down by the Germans, so now they give us English officers' outfits.

Give my regards to those who inquire about me. We will do our duty and bring back some scalps.

Look out for the spies. There are plenty of them everywhere, playing the game of American citizenship. They found lots of them in France, lots in England. There are some in Canada. For God's sake kick them out. They are no good. If you could see the way the Germans use the French women, girls and children as I have seen it. It is terrible.

Good bye, Harry, write me if you have time. It will follow me slowly, but I will get it somewhere.

With hope for the best,
Sincerely yours,

CHARLES STEHELIN,
Commissioner Franco Anglo-Saxon, Nantes, France.

National Prohibition

ATLANTA, GA., Nov. 14.—The question of national prohibition was considered by the Woman's Christian Temperance Union at its general convention here today. Many of the speakers declared the sale of all liquors soon would be forbidden in the United States, through action of Congress.

TORTURED BY CONSTIPATION

"Fruit-a-lives" Cured Paralyzed Bowels and Digestion

ST. BONIFACE DE SHAWINIGAN, QUEBEC, Feb. 3rd, 1914.

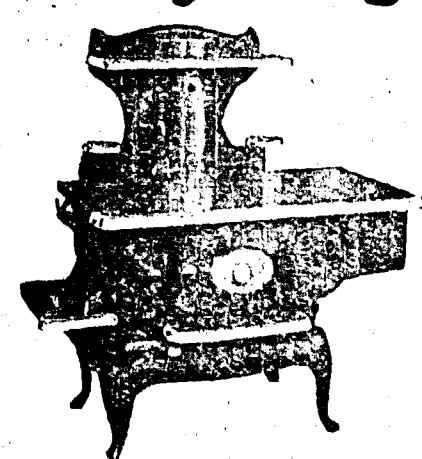

"It is a pleasure to me to inform you that after suffering from Chronic Constipation for 3 1/2 years, I have been cured by 'Fruit-a-lives'. While I was a student at Berthier College, I became so ill I was forced to leave the college. Severe pains across the intestines continually tortured me and it came to a point when I could not stoop down at all, and my Digestion became paralyzed. Some one advised me to take 'Fruit-a-lives' and at once I felt a great improvement. After I had taken four or five boxes, I realized that I was completely cured and what made me glad, also, was that they were acting gently, causing no pain whatever to the bowels. All those who suffer with Chronic Constipation should follow my example and take 'Fruit-a-lives' for they are the medicine that cures."

10 CENT "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Cure Sick Headache, Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath—Candy Cathartic.

No odds how bad your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your head aches, how miserable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish bowels—you always get relief with Cascarets. They immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet and head clear for months. They work while you sleep.

Meteghan.

Mr. Elisee S. Robichaud is back from Grand Manan, where he has been building a school house.

Miss Emilie Surrette and Mrs. Joseph L. Deveau, of Yarmouth, are the guests of Mrs. Archie Morrison, sister of Mrs. Duvoau.

Mrs. Frank Richard and Mrs. Oliver G. Doucet, of Woodvale, Digby Co., visited relatives and friends at Meteghan River last week.

Mr. Edward Deveau, of Meteghan Centre, and Mr. August L. Deveau, of Meteghan, left Saturday for the United States, the former for Gloucester, Mass.

Mr. A. F. Hache, organizer of the Artisans Canadiens Francais for the Maritime Provinces, left Saturday for Combeville and Church Point in the interests of the society.

Mr. Philip A. Robichaud, of Meteghan Centre, and Messrs. Willie H. Robichaud, Joe L. Robichaud and Albert A. Deveau arrived last week from Round Hill, Annapolis Co.

Mr. William German arrived Friday from Moncton, N. B., where he had been attending a general convention of the Mutual Society L'Assomption, as a delegate of the Meteghan Branch.

The marriage is announced for the 21st inst. of Mr. Joseph LeBlanc, son of Mr. Augustin LeBlanc, and Miss Emma Saulnier, daughter of Mr. Ambroise Saulnier, both of Cheticamp, Digby Co.

Mr. Joe H. Robichaud and Mr. Ben Aymor arrived Saturday from a five weeks' trip through the Annapolis Valley. They are delighted with the beauties of the places visited. Their friends were happy to welcome them back in their midst.

The "Royal George," the new motor boat built by Mr. Joseph J. Robichaud, of Meteghan, for Mr. George V. Comeau, of Comeau's Cove, will be ready to launch this week. Mr. Robichaud, as his boats testify, is a skilled mechanic and boat builder.

The recent storms and high seas have greatly damaged the Meteghan breakwater. By the look of things at present it will not be surprising if the whole is not a mass of ruins before spring. There was money voted, timbers bought and on the premises, but the work was postponed.

The new breakwater at Comeau's Cove, built by Messrs. Condon and Denton, of Digby, was completed last week. The structure, which is of crib work and stones is 175 feet long. It was begun in May last. These gentlemen during their stay down here have endeavored themselves to all and we are glad to see their huge undertaking brought to a finish without any accidents. Before long we hope that the government will see fit to add another 60 feet and then Comeau's Cove will be one of the best fishing stations on the coast.

Friday night, 13th inst., occurred one of the most terrific tempests witnessed in this part of the country. The wind was blowing a gale, whilst the rain was falling in torrents from ink black clouds, changing at intervals to hail as large as bullets. Lightnings flashed from the four corners of the heaven and the heavy peals of thunder in spite of the fury of the wind put one in mind of the roar of the machine guns of the Germans. The lightning struck a barn belonging to Mr. Daruse Thibault, of Brier Lake, causing considerable damage.

A man giving his name and address as Lucar, Col. C. Grosville Harston, Chief Inspector of Arms and Ammunition for Canada, Naval and Military Club, London S.W., accompanied by another gentleman from Montreal, drove down here by auto last week in quest of sand for military purposes. Asked if there was no sand to be found round about Montreal. They gave for answer that the sand there was already frozen. They seemed anxious to know also the depth of water in the bay, and if there were any obstructions to navigation.

Princetown.

Mr. Lloyd and Miss Violet Wright spent Friday at Bear River.

Mr. Carrol Brown, from West Springfield, spent the week end at Mr. Leonard Dunn's.

Miss Samatha Millbury, from Clements, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. James Feeney.

Mr. Kenneth Dondale, from Deep Brook, was the Sunday guest at Mr. Manning Dondale's.

Miss Elith Mailing, from Clements, spent over Sunday guest at Mr. Manning Dondale's.

Messrs. William Hearn and Leon Wright visited relatives and friends at Clements Sunday.

Mr. William Dunn returned home Saturday after spending the past summer working for Clarke Bros.

Mr. Thomas Miller and son Eder, who are working at Perotte, spent the week end at their home here.

Messrs. Albert Dunn and G. M. Dondale spent Friday at East Waldeck working for G. R. McClelland.

Messrs. Leslie David and Lenley Foster drove twenty seven head of beef cattle through this place on the 16th for Mr. Herbert Williams.

Westport.

Some damage was done to our wharves during the heavy gale of 16th inst.

H. P. Bowers returned on the 12th inst. from Portland, Me., where he had been in connection with the business of his firm.

The ladies of the Baptist Missionary Aid society held their annual thank offering service on the evening of Nov. 10th. Amount of offering $27.61.

A surprise party was given to Capt. Evans Frost on the evening of the 3rd inst., the anniversary of his natal day. A very enjoyable evening was spent.

The ladies of Westport forwarded a donation last week to the Red Cross society, of 40 pairs of socks, 1 jersey, 2 pairs of wristlets and a parcel of bandages for the men at the front.

Rev. Frank Eaton, of Freeport, exchanged pulpits on Sunday evening, 15th inst., with Rev. Mr. Kinsman, of Westport. We understand that the people of Westport were very much pleased with the patriotic sermon in the evening.

Died at Westport 16th inst., Handley Coggins, in the 77th year of his age, leaving a widow, one son Charles, in Boston and one daughter, Eva, wife of Willard E. Keenpton, of Yarmouth, and a large circle of relatives to mourn their loss. He was an active life. He never knew what sickness was until about eight weeks ago, since which time he has been confined to his home. His step at his birthday, a few weeks ago was as active and smart as a young man of 20. He followed his duties as a fisherman the year round. You never saw him loafing in the corner grocery; when not at work, home was the best place. He was a good citizen and will be much missed in our community. He came from a long lived race. His father was an octogenarian and his mother in the nineties at the time of her decease. He has a sister, Mrs. James Collins, still living, some 82 years of age. We tender our sympathy to the afflicted relatives.

Schr. Flora M., owned by Jones Bros., is in port taking in a cargo of lumber for Mr. G. O. Hankinson, to be shipped to the American market.

Mr. Chester McDonald returned on Saturday to resume his duties as manager of the Royal Bank at Middleton. He was accompanied by Mrs. McDonald.

Last week large catches of fresh mackerel were made in St. Mary's Bay and extensive shipments were made to the American markets. This is rather an unusual occurrence at this season and has proved a source of wealth to the Digby Neck fishermen owning vessels.

"An Evening with a Scotchman, and what I learned," was the subject of the lecture given Thursday evening in the Methodist church by Rev. H. Burgess, to a fair sized audience. Appropriate Scotch songs were rendered by the choir during the evening. The sum of seven dollars was raised to augment the fund for the Ladies' Aid.

BEAUTIFUL HAIR--A CLEAN, COOL SCALP

Use Parisian Sage. It Makes the Hair
Fluffy and Abundant.

It is needless for you to have hair that is anything short of perfect. If it is falling out, losing color, splitting, or if the scalp burns and itches, immediately get from H. E. Jones or any drug counter a 50 cent bottle of Parisian Sage—use it frequently—the first application removes dandruff, invigorates the scalp, and beautifies the hair until it is gloriously radiant. Parisian Sage supplies hair needs—is perfectly harmless. It contains the exact elements required to make the hair soft, wavy, glossy and to make it grow thick and beautiful. You will surely like Parisian Sage. It is one of the best and most delightful hair tonics known.

Nurses Outfit Costly

CANADA'S NURSES HAD TO HAVE AN EXTENSIVE EQUIPMENT.

"Just where are you going to see service?" we asked many of the nurses who had assembled at Quebec's Emigration Hospital preparatory to embarking with Canada's troops," writes a newspaperman.

"Oh, we do not know just what is ahead of us for we go under sealed orders. But we are ready for any thing."

That was their favorite reply to our questions.

But after a survey of the ninety-five nurses at the Emigration Hospital, we wondered if it really were true that they were ready for anything.

Twenty-five is the youngest age at which the Nursing Sisters of Canada's Army Medical Corps are accepted for service. But we saw many girlish faces and figures at that hospital that seemed almost too youthful for those years. True, you never can tell a woman's age, but if some of those tender young things there were twenty-five, then we wish that they would write a series of beauty articles for us, telling how they did it. We wondered how some of them could stand the exacting labour before them. But then perhaps they were stronger than they looked.

Canada's nurses had been given $100 to buy their outfits, but many of them must have robbed poor father to get their entire trousseau. For the prices were so extortionate. A lady in private life would have had to take gas before she would have surrendered $22.50 for the ordinary blue coat, with which our nurses were outfitted. Then as for their caps of which they had to buy eight, 25 cents apiece was charged for them if unhemmed, that meant that they paid a quarter for a yard square of muslin while if they wanted a one inch hem on them, forty-five cents was demanded for each cap. However, possibly we should rejoice that the wage of the seamstress is at last going up.

As for the white aprons of which each nurse had to buy twelve, one dollar apiece was charged for aprons with square bibs, crossed straps and pockets. Then there were eight sets of collars and cuffs, bishop pattern which cost 38 cents a set. Other articles of dress included gait buttons by the score, 14 each with lieutenant's stars, two on each shoulder, a tan leather belt, with a clasp which cost anywhere from $2.75 to $5, tan lace boots $4.50, tan stockings and gloves. The list was really modest, for it was only $175. No white undershirts the orders read, but they asked taking an umbrella. Uniform only was taken though we wondered why a lady in a pale pink silk negligee and boudoir cap was going to do with those articles, perhaps she thought that those giddy articles did not come under the direction, that "no plain clothes are required."

But it is not only uniforms, etc., that make up the nurse's outfit. Here is a list of her other requirements.

After you've read them all, perhaps you can understand the army nurse who declares women nurses are a nuisance, for they need so much luggage. Here is what our nurses took:

1. Steamer trunk, plainly marked, owner's name.
1. Waterproof canvas hold all, plainly marked with owner's name
1. Travelling rug.
1. Pillow with washable cover.
1. Folding mirror to hang on stand.
1. Waterproof coat, navy preferably
1. Pair India rubber boots.

CAMP KIT

1. Telescopic cot bedstead; 1. Wolf-sley kit; 1. Waterproof sheet, 7 feet by 4 feet 6 inches; collapsible canvas basin; 1 mug, enamelled; a case or bag to contain all, plainly marked with owner's name.

Three general service blankets are obtained free, under regimental arrangements and the government also provides a camp stool and an automatic folding lantern.

When You're Sick YOUR WAGES STOP

You know what that means—misery—worry—big bills—debt!

You know you can't afford to get sick. Keeping in good health means food and clothing for you and your family. It is up to you to take care of yourself. It is up to you, whenever you don't feel right, to take something to make you right, to strengthen you, build you up, ward off worse sickness—protect you and your family.

That's what we have in Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. In offering it to you, we protect you against money-risk, by personally promising you that, if it does not restore your health, we will give back your money without word or question. We believe it is the best builder of health, energy and strength you can get. It is helping many of your neighbors. If it don't help you, we will give back your money.

Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion is composed principally of pure Olive Oil and the Hypophosphite. Each has long been endorsed by successful physicians. Here they are for the first time combined. The result is a remarkable nerve, blood and strength-building remedy that is both food and medicine. For all who are nervous, run-down and debilitated—no matter what the cause; for old people; for convalescents; for puny children, we know of nothing that will give health and strength so quickly as Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. It is a real builder of good blood, strong muscles, good digestion. Pleasant to take, it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs. If you don't feel well, economize both money and strength by beginning today to take Rexall Olive Oil Emulsion. Sold only at the Rexall Stores, and in this town only by us. $1.00.

Worn out with Coughing?

Nothing is more exhausting than a persistent cough. Old folks and very young folks alike, find a bad cough most distressing. No need to go on suffering!

Peps will end the worst cough or cold. Peps contains the balsamic essences and fumes of the Pine tree, with other medicinal ingredients, so prepared, that as soon as a Peps is put into the mouth it dissolves and these medicinal fumes are liberated. They are then breathed down the throat, and direct to the lungs.

Ordinary cough mixtures go to the stomach. Peps goes to the lungs—there's a great fundamental difference between the old fashion d forms of treatment, and the Peps treatment.

Most cough mixtures contain opium and other poisons. Peps don't. Better for children!

The most stubborn cases of asthma, bronchitis, catarrh, tightness across the chest, cold, or winter cough, will yield to Peps treatment.

All druggists and stores sell Peps at 10c. box or you may obtain post free by sending price to Peps Co., Dupont St., Toronto. If you have not tested this unique remedy, send 1c. stamp to above address (to pay return postage) and you will receive a free trial packet of Peps.

LOOK!

If you were told of a new discovery for the treatment of coughs, colds and bronchitis, as certain in its action on all chest troubles as anti-toxin is on diphtheria, or vaccination on small-pox, wouldn't you feel like giving it a trial? Especially if you could try it for fifty cents!

Peps is the discovery!
Peps is a little tablet, neatly wrapped in air and germ-proof silver foil. They contain certain medicinal ingredients, which, when placed upon the tongue, immediately turn into vapour, and are at once breathed down the air passages to the lungs. On their journey, they soothe the inflamed and irritated membranes of the bronchial tubes, the delicate walls of the air passages, and finally enter and carry relief and healing to the capillaries and tiny air sacs in the lungs.

In a word, while no liquid or solid can get to the lungs and air passages, these Peps fumes get there direct, and at once commence their work of healing. Peps are entirely distinct from the old-fashioned liquid cough cures, which are merely swallowed into the stomach, and never reach the lungs. Peps treatment of coughs and colds is direct treatment.

If you have not yet tried Peps, cut out this article, write across it the name and date of this paper, and mail it (with 1c. stamp to pay return postage) to Peps, Toronto. A free trial packet will then be sent you.

All druggists and stores sell Peps at 50c. box.

GIVE THAT PUNY CHILD THIS GUARANTEED REMEDY

If your child is under-weight, listless, liable to get sick easily, it needs a medicine to build its weight and strength. For this purpose there is nothing else so effective as we can so strongly endorse as RECALL OLIVE OIL EMULSION. The remarkable success of this splendid medicine is due to the fact that it contains ingredients that tone the nerves, enrich the blood and furnish to the entire system the strength and health-building substances it needs. And, it does all this without injuring the stomach. In fact, Recall Olive Oil Emulsion is not only pleasant to take, but even the most nervous stomach is benefited by it, and the digestion improved. On the other hand, it contains no alcohol or habit-forming drugs, which most parents object to giving their children. It does its good work by taking hold of the weakness and builds the body up to its natural strength, at the same time making it strong to resist disease.

If Recall Olive Oil Emulsion doesn't build your child up, feed the stunted, puny muscles, and make the little one lively, strong, well, and full of the animal spirit children are meant by nature to have, come back and tell us and get your money back. We don't want you to lose a cent. We think this is no more than fair, and it leaves you no cause to hesitate. For old people also, for convalescents, for all who are nervous, tired-out, run-down, no matter what the cause—we offer Recall Olive Oil Emulsion with the same guarantee of entire satisfaction or money back. Sold only at the 7,000 Recall Stores, and in this town only by RYAN & BLACKADER, Weymouth and P. W. HOLDSWORTH, Digby.

The Recall Store
There is a Recall Store in nearly every town and city in the world. There is a different Recall Store for nearly every ordinary human ailment, especially designed to remedy the particular ailment for which it is recommended.
The Recall Stores are America's Greatest Drug Stores.

GLORIOUS HAIR

Girls and women of all ages want to be beautiful and attractive, but an untidy, thin and lifeless hair destroys half the beauty of a pretty face. If your hair is losing its natural color, is falling out, dull, streaky, full of dandruff, too dry, or if the scalp itches and burns do not be alarmed, use Parian Hair Care. It will do it all. It will go right to the hair roots, nourish them, and stimulate the hair to grow long and beautiful. It removes dandruff with one application, stops itching scalp, falling hair and makes the head feel fine.

Parian Hair Care supplies the hair with what is needed to make it soft, fluffy, thick and gloriously radiant. It is sold in fifty-cent bottles by H. E. Jones and at all drug stores. Look for the trade mark "The Girl with the Auburn Hair." Accept no other.

SOUR, ACID STOMACHS, GASES OR INDIGESTION

Each "Pape's Diaphepsin" digests 3000 grains of food, ending all stomach misery in five minutes.

Time! In five minutes all stomach distresses will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching of gas, acid, or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, bloating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diaphepsin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest stomach remedy in the whole world and besides it is harmless. Put an end to stomach trouble forever by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diaphepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach doctor in the world.

A SALISBURY LETTER

G. W. Connell Writes an Interesting Letter to the Courier.

THE ENGLISH PAPER CALL THE CANADIAN THE "HOLYWARMS OF OLD ENGLAND" GIVEN A BIG RECEPTION WHEN THEY ARRIVED ACROSS THE ATLANTIC. THE CANADIAN SOLDIERS GET HEAVY MAILS AND ARE SAID TO CONSUME THREE TONS OF CHOCOLATE PER WEEK WHILE AT SALISBURY.

To the Editor of the Courier
DEAR MR. DUNHAM:—I thought perhaps you might have room for a few lines in the Courier and, having the day to myself, I decided to put in the time writing. As you can understand, I have very little time to write to my friends and if you can find room for me I shall be much obliged. I think probably the Courier readers will like to hear directly from the Continent anyway. The papers call the Canadian soldiers the "holymarks of old England" without waiting to see whether they are or not. Still a little bit goes a long way once in a while, you know. However, they are sincerely grateful to Canada for her assistance and the people take every opportunity to show their good will. The papers are full of the doings of the Canadians.

The English soldiers or "Tommys" get several shillings a day less than the Canadian, and you know how a Canadian spends his money. The people cannot get over it. The canteen men must be able to realize what quantity they must buy to keep in stock. Why they fairly stood agape for the first few days.

Everyone who can afford it, takes a trip out to camp in one of the big cars that hold about thirty, and the boys along the road get fully showered with packages of cigarettes and sweet chocolate. All a fellow has to do is to let out the car and he is a Canadian and he gets treated like a prince.

We had a beautiful trip over. The weather was fine and very little swell was going. There was only one day that was at all bad and the night of that same day I woke up to find myself hanging onto the side of the bunk with the ceiling to one side of me in stead of over head. I soon returned to my place again without any effort on my part. However, I took good care not to leave my little cot again that way. Before we had been out very long the sameness of things day after day began to wear on us, but there was very little trouble on board. Our boat was the Zeland. She carried the First and Second Field Companies and the 10th Infantry. We sighted land on the morning of Oct. 14th, and that afternoon passed Edystone Light. That night we anchored under the forts at the entrance of Plymouth Harbor.

The next morning tugs towed us up to the docks. As each boat came up the bank they were cheered from every dock there and from the shore. The number of us we passed one little group of cottages close to the shore, half a dozen women and girls came running out with sheets and blankets, waving them till we were out of sight. Then they ran around to the sloping roof at the back of the cottages and climbed to the peaks of the roofs. As we passed each boat on the way up they cheered and shouted "Hurrah for Canada!"

"Atte down here!" At this last we did a little shouting of our own. The harbor was simply full of boats of all descriptions and sizes, from fishing boats to the big battleships and cruisers, and their crews all did their little share to make a racket. We tied up finally in Devonport which is further up than Plymouth. In the next day or so the ammunition and heavy stores were taken off, but we were not allowed ashore until Sunday. Then we were ashore about 10.30 a.m. and marched to Plymouth Hoe for church services. After we got aboard and got our dinners we started to unload the baggage and put them on the transport wagons. Working in shifts it took us until twelve that night, when we were served with breakfast and a day's rations. At one o'clock we were ordered to march to the station. At noon the next day (Monday, Oct. 19) we reached Amesbury station. After a couple of hours' rest we marched to South Down Camp and here we are.

It was a foot sore, weary, lot of engineers at five o'clock. You see we had done no walking for nearly three weeks and the seven or eight miles Sunday morning, followed the three to the station and nine from Amesbury to camp was rather hard on us, especially when we worked in the engine room and had to keep for three six hours. The roads here are all macadamized, and not being used to their hardness, added to our discomfort. The 3rd Field was not on the Zeland with us and they had reached camp several days before. Of course the three companies like to "rub it in" each other when they have a chance, and as we marched up the 3rd greeted us with hoots and jeers and called us "The Second Contingent."

However, we did not let it affect our sleep that night.

There were some fellows always kicking in Valeriet but they have found that it was a palace compared to this. Salisbury Plains make a fine camping ground in summer but in winter the horses and men tramping around mix the turf into a regular mud heap. There are few dry spots in the lanes and most places the mud is anywhere from two to eight inches deep. This may seem a little "stretched" but it is an absolute fact. What could you expect when it rains six and three-quarter days out of every week? Under these conditions it is impossible to do any proper drilling, and field engineering is out of question, here at any rate. However, I think we will move in a short time to a more suitable site.

One thing can be said of Col. Sam and that is that he certainly looked after his men in Valeriet. There are no electric lights here and the water system is not convenient, although the water is good. The rain is what causes most of our trouble here. We've been here for nearly three weeks now and I've never had dry feet once in all the time. If we get our tunics wet, (and that happens about every day) there is no way to get them dry for the next two or three days at least. I washed some clothes and it took just a week to get them dry. By washing clothes, I mean scrubbing soap on them and squeezing water out, then repeat the operation until they are as matted as felt. I have to roll my clean (?) underwear in a different manner from the soiled, so I'll know the difference. We have no washboards or hot water here. By the way, I wish some of you housewives would write and tell me how to keep woollens from shrinking when washed. My shirts are crawling up my back at such a rate that I'll soon be able to use them for muffs or string ties.

The good nature with which the boys take things is almost wonderful. Of course, sometimes, when things go particularly wrong, there are quite a lot of queer phrases and smoky language used, but on the whole we are a happy-go-lucky lot. You people there at home with many conveniences and best of all, dry floors and roofs that don't leak, cannot form any idea of what we have to put up with. But then again, we in our turn, pity the boys at the front in the trenches, and that perhaps helps us to bear with what we have. Of course we know that this is all in the game. We know, or most of us do, at any rate, that we were not going on any picnic and were going to play the game to the finish. Every fellow here is anxious for the time to come when he will have his little chance to contribute to the store of German sausage meat. We need some training yet, though. But we can't get it here and that is why we don't expect to be here long.

The engineers, I suppose you know, are the boys who have to build the bridges and they are also supposed to be able to show the infantry where and how to build their roads and dig their fire trenches. Therefore, it takes a lot of instructing and constructing to put us into shape. A good many of them are engineers who have left good paying jobs to come and help settle the "bow." For instance, of my seven tent mates, one is a civil engineer, another an automobile mechanic, one a mining engineer, a mill mechanic, an electrical engineer and a telephone engineer. A good many of them have college education, and all of them have a trade, or were learning one, bearing on to field engineering. There are a great many carpenters with the engineers also.

The troops that make the finest showing though, are the Highlanders, (which most form nearly a third of the whole contingent) and the Dragoons. The Highlanders are tanned and hardened, until they well deserve the nickname we have for them, which is "Oatmeal Savages."

The country here is certainly very beautiful and the villages, which are numerous, are very picturesque with their thatched and ivy covered stone cottages and high stone walls and trimmed hedges. Just the same I'm Canada for me just the minute I'm free to do as I like. And what's more, I'm certain that more than ninety-five per cent of the whole contingent will say the same, notwithstanding the fact that over half of us are British born.

Two weeks ago today (Oct. 21), we were reviewed by Lord Roberts and last Wednesday their Majesties, the King and Queen, and all the "big bugs" reviewed us. I remember while we were waiting for our place in the review, one of the bands started playing "The Maple Leaf." I think every man there was homesick for a minute or two. At any rate there was not a sound made or a word spoken for several minutes. Even the Englishmen, who have only been in Canada for a few years, seem as fond of the place as if they were their mother country.

Another thing which the papers dwell

on, is the amount of letters written by the Canadian troops; also, they have taken the trouble to reckon up the amount of chocolate that the Canadians consume in a week. They say we consume three tons a week, and taking the amount that my company got away with, as the average, I guess its correct.

I was over to the canteen today trying to get a pair of moccasins for my boots. They had nothing left smaller than No. 9's and he tried to smooth over the fact by saying that the Canadians had such small feet that the medium size were all they had left. I told him I would see that the military authorities had the fault remedied.

Well, I've nothing to say about myself except that I am getting so fleshy that I have had to make a new hole in the end of the belt I used to wear with the buckle in the fourth.

I may get a chance to send some more of our doings home, but if I don't you'll have to wait till I come back to "God's country. And don't forget to buy tobacco from O. H. Warnes. (This did not tell me to say this.)

If any will write to me I shall be much obliged. Address them,—

Every fellow here is anxious for the time to come when he will have his little chance to contribute to the store of German sausage meat. We need some training yet, though. But we can't get it here and that is why we don't expect to be here long.

The engineers, I suppose you know, are the boys who have to build the bridges and they are also supposed to be able to show the infantry where and how to build their roads and dig their fire trenches. Therefore, it takes a lot of instructing and constructing to put us into shape. A good many of them are engineers who have left good paying jobs to come and help settle the "bow." For instance, of my seven tent mates, one is a civil engineer, another an automobile mechanic, one a mining engineer, a mill mechanic, an electrical engineer and a telephone engineer. A good many of them have college education, and all of them have a trade, or were learning one, bearing on to field engineering. There are a great many carpenters with the engineers also.

The troops that make the finest showing though, are the Highlanders, (which most form nearly a third of the whole contingent) and the Dragoons. The Highlanders are tanned and hardened, until they well deserve the nickname we have for them, which is "Oatmeal Savages."

The country here is certainly very beautiful and the villages, which are numerous, are very picturesque with their thatched and ivy covered stone cottages and high stone walls and trimmed hedges. Just the same I'm Canada for me just the minute I'm free to do as I like. And what's more, I'm certain that more than ninety-five per cent of the whole contingent will say the same, notwithstanding the fact that over half of us are British born.

Two weeks ago today (Oct. 21), we were reviewed by Lord Roberts and last Wednesday their Majesties, the King and Queen, and all the "big bugs" reviewed us. I remember while we were waiting for our place in the review, one of the bands started playing "The Maple Leaf." I think every man there was homesick for a minute or two. At any rate there was not a sound made or a word spoken for several minutes. Even the Englishmen, who have only been in Canada for a few years, seem as fond of the place as if they were their mother country.

Another thing which the papers dwell

on, is the amount of letters written by the Canadian troops; also, they have taken the trouble to reckon up the amount of chocolate that the Canadians consume in a week. They say we consume three tons a week, and taking the amount that my company got away with, as the average, I guess its correct.

I was over to the canteen today trying to get a pair of moccasins for my boots. They had nothing left smaller than No. 9's and he tried to smooth over the fact by saying that the Canadians had such small feet that the medium size were all they had left. I told him I would see that the military authorities had the fault remedied.

Well, I've nothing to say about myself except that I am getting so fleshy that I have had to make a new hole in the end of the belt I used to wear with the buckle in the fourth.

I may get a chance to send some more of our doings home, but if I don't you'll have to wait till I come back to "God's country. And don't forget to buy tobacco from O. H. Warnes. (This did not tell me to say this.)

If any will write to me I shall be much obliged. Address them,—

THE EUROPEAN WAR

British Admiralty Extends Mine Field in North Sea.

ITALY IS WATCHING CAREFULLY THE ADVANCE OF AUSTRIA AND HER AMBASSADORS ARE CALLED TO ROME FOR A CONFERENCE.

A London despatch says: Two big battles, either or both of which may have decisive results, are being fought in Poland, and a third conflict, of almost as great importance, is progressing in East Prussia.

Of the three battles, that which is now being fought between the Austrians and the Russians in Poland, is the most exciting, the greatest interest.

The Germans, it is believed, have brought up by their line of strategic railways in Posen and Silesia at least half a million men in an effort to break the Russian line at this point.

Weather conditions, the frozen ground and the situation of the battle-field favors a really decisive battle to a degree which has not existed on any other field of the present war.

The other battle in Poland is taking place on the Cracow-Czestochowa front, and both the Russians and the Germans claim that it is proceeding satisfactorily.

In the East Prussia the Russian advance is moving slowly thru the country surrounding the Mazurian lakes, which is difficult of passage. In Galicia the Russians are going steadily westward, and at the same time are seizing the passes of the Carpathians.

There is now almost a complete absence of any active attacks in the western front, and the artillery fighting is of much less violence. All that region about Dixmude through which the Yser canal passes is inundated, and the only serious fighting appears to be taking place at present to the south of Ypres, where cannonading of considerable intensity is in progress.

Very bad weather, which necessarily hampers operations, has been experienced, and snow has fallen in some places. There has been no important action in the French front, but in the Argonne region the Germans have made vigorous attacks which, the French say, were repulsed.

On the night of the 24th the Germans retained the village of Chauvignotte, which they blew up a few days ago. The activity of the Germans in the vicinity of Rheims has slackened.

The advance by Austria into Servia is creating uneasiness in Bulgaria as to the future of the Balkan states. The question as to whether Bulgaria should remain neutral or throw in her lot with the allies was discussed today in the Sublime Porte. Leaders of the democratic party suggested that the allies should be consulted as to their intentions regarding the future of the Balkan states.

Italy, too, has been affected by the Austrian advance, and her ambassadors at the European capitals have been called home to confer with the cabinet. Marquis Imperiali, the Italian ambassador to Great Britain, will leave for home tomorrow.

In order to prevent supplies of tea reaching Germany from England through neutral countries, the exportation of tea to European countries has been prohibited, except those of the allies and Spain and Portugal. Since the outbreak of the war the exports of tea to Holland have reached enormous proportions.

The admiralty has taken further steps for the protection of the east coast ports by the extension of the mine field. This seems to give some support to the rumors which have been prevalent for several days, to the effect that a German raid on the east coast is expected. In fact, it is generally believed here that when Germany is balked in her other designs she will attempt to attack England, no matter how desperate such an expedition is considered.

Subscriptions to the war loan continue to come in, and it was reported unofficially tonight that the applications aggregated between three and one-half billion dollars. The war loan calls for only $1,750,000,000.

LONDON, Nov. 22, 11:40 p. m.—"Messages from Berlin and Holland state that German activity prevails at Emden," says a despatch from the Exchange Telegraph Company's correspondent. The telegram continues:

"Fishermen who daily cruise near the German waters, say that the German fleet is preparing for decisive action in the North Sea. Prince Henry of Prussia was at Emden yesterday for an inspection of the torpedo and submarine craft."

877 LOST ON CRUISER GOOD HOPE.
LONDON, Nov. 22, 9:12 p. m.—A casualty list giving the names of the men lost on board the British cruiser Good Hope, which was sunk Nov. 1 in the battle off Chile with German cruisers, shows that the crew, exclusive of officers, aggregated 877.

ain, a brief, snailily report of Captain Von Muller, of the German cruiser Emden's last fight, in which she was defeated by the Australian cruiser Sydney.

The report, which was transmitted to the admiralty by Joseph C. Grew, charge d'affaires of the American embassy here, was an undramatic tale of the beating down of the Emden's fire by the Sydney's superior armament, the exhaustion of the German's ammunition, of the beaching of the helpless cruiser, and of the return of the Sydney to finish its work of destruction.

TURKISH NAVY IN ARTILLERY BATTLE.
PETROGRAD, Nov. 22.—The following communication from the general staff of the Russian army in the Caucasus was issued today:

"On the morning of Nov. 21, the Turkish cruiser Hamidieh, followed by a flotilla of torpedo boats, appeared off Tauris and opened fire, hurling 125 projectiles into the neighborhood. The Russian artillery immediately replied with a very effective fire. Our losses consisted of three soldiers and a soldier of charity wounded; one civilian killed and ten other civilians injured. The material damage was insignificant."

"In the direction of E-zrum one of our columns has made important progress above Jazzeran. Our advance posts continued to tread the heels of the Turks. Other detachments are inactive."

RUSSIA BOWS MINES IN THE BLACK SEA.
PETROGRAD, Nov. 22, via London, 4:50 p. m.—It was officially announced today that the Russian fleet of the Black Sea has been mined in many places for a distance of sixty miles from the coast. Ships are absolutely forbidden to sail at night in or out of the Russian ports on the Black Sea, through the mouths of the rivers Danube and Bug, and in the Gulf of Kerch.

COPPER HIDDEN ON CAPTURED STEAMER.
LONDON, Nov. 21, 4:55 p. m.—The Norwegian steamer Sa Tye has been detained at Glasgow, according to a despatch to the Central News. Giving the reason, the correspondent says that 4000 tons of copper ore, which are contraband of war, were discovered in the bottom of the Norwegian steamer's holds, hidden among a cargo of general merchandise, port, and the Chilean authorities have ordered their capture.

NOT INTENDED AS HOSTILE ACT.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 21.—Captain Benton C. Decker, of the cruiser Tennessee, has reported that the firing on the ship's launch by Turkish forts at Smyrna, Asia Minor, was not intended as a hostile act.

After a conference with President Wilson, Secretary Tamm today gave out the following statement:

"The public already know what happened: Namely, a boat from the Tennessee tried to enter the harbor, a harbor which the Turkish government had declared closed. A shot was fired across her bow to stop her. The captain of the Tennessee reported that it was not intended as a hostile act."

"A full investigation of the matter is being made, and explanations have been asked of the Turkish government. Previous attempts to communicate with Ambassador Morgenthau in Constantinople have failed to delay of as much as a week."

ONLY INTENDED AS CUSTOMARY WARNING.
WASHINGTON, Nov. 22.—Turkey has voluntarily explained to the United States government, through Ambassador Morgenthau, that the shot fired toward the launch of the American cruiser Tennessee last Monday were intended merely as the customary warning that the port of Smyrna was closed and closed to navigation.

Although the explanation was issued informally, and the United States government is still waiting a reply to formal representation which Ambassador Morgenthau was instructed to make to the Turkish foreign office, it is generally admitted at the White House, state and navy departments, that all danger of serious complications over the incident has been removed.

Ambassador Morgenthau reported that the members of the Ottoman cabinet, the ministers of interior and war, had fully explained the occurrence to him, and high officials here said his message was filed before the instructions sent from Washington to discuss the subject officially with the grand vizier could have been received by Mr. Morgenthau. President Wilson and his cabinet regard the informal explanation as a certain proof of a satisfactory formal explanation, and that guarantees for the protection of Americans and their interests will also be forthcoming from the Turkish government.

The message from Mr. Morgenthau, dated November 16, but delayed in getting, was received last Saturday, and relieved a delicate situation.

GERMANS CAPTURED IN TURKISH VESSEL.
LONDON, Nov. 22.—The Antwerp correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company sends the following:

"A British destroyer has captured a Turkish sailing vessel, on which were two German officers in disguise. They were proceeding to Smyrna."

"An Anglo-French squadron fired some Turkish torpedo boats in the Dardanelles, but the latter disappeared. THIS MEANS KAYSERLICHE CRUISE?"

BUENOS AIRES, Nov. 22.—The German steamer Santa Cordoba arrived here today, and debarked the passengers and crew of the British steamer La Corrientina and the crew of the French ship Union.

The Cordoba left Montevideo, October 17, for an unknown destination. The last report of the La Corrientina was that she was overtaken by a patrol on a voyage from Buenos Aires to the Union left Port Talbot, Wales, September 9, for Valparaiso.

German Cruiser and Two Torpedo Boats Sunk.
NEW YORK, November 20.—A news agency despatch from Petrograd, published here this afternoon, says a German squadron which bombarded Libau was later attacked by the Russian fleet, and that in the fight which followed a German cruiser and two torpedo boat destroyers were Another Letter From the Front.

W. J. DRUMMOND WHO FORMERLY RESIDED IN DIGBY, WOUNDED SEVERAL TIMES.

Mr. C. E. Walker, proprietor of the Victoria Rink, Digby, has received the following letter from Mr. W. J. Drummond, a member of the Coldstream guards, who left Digby for the front as soon as war was declared:

"DEAR MR. WALKER: No doubt this will come as a good shock for you, but must ask your forgiveness for not living up to my promise sooner. I am pleased to say, I have managed to roll up as far as home again, but not without a good souvenir. I've been and stopped a bullet with my right arm, at least I didn't stop it, as part of my muscle went as well, so you can guess I'm in pretty poor shape now, but am hoping to get into shape in time. It's healing very steadily, but I don't think it will ever be thoroughly strong again. No doubt you have followed things up and noticed the battle going on at Ypres. Well, that's the spot I came to grief and I think I might add I got off light. It is very fierce up there, but I think the boys will manage to give them a little medicine when the fresh troops get up to reinforce them. We were among the first to go up there and had to advance upon open ground part of the way and woods the other part and you may guess they had good range on us, but with rifle and artillery fire, but am sorry to say we got within 300 yards of them and had to retire back about 10 yards into the woods for cover, but it was a fatal retirement for us. We had 37 up with our platoon and I only count of five who got back without a wound. They fairly cut us up, but am pleased to say reinforcements went up the same night (Oct. 26) and got the position safe, and much better. They are advancing steadily, so I think we can shake hands with ourselves, as Kaiser Bill and his chums planned on breaking our line, but they are further away than ever now."

I was very lucky after I was wounded. I threw my kit away, except my rifle and a little ammunition in case of any stragglers, etc., and went back for about a mile. Shots were coming over me very lively and I admit I said more than one prayer on that journey. At the same time I didn't give up hope, although my chances looked slim. Eventually I reached the emergency hospital and then I went a little farther, quite a little distance. After arriving there we were far from safe, as it was not long before a couple of shells visited us, one skinned the roof and bursted in the back, shook all the windows out, and then the other went past the side about as close to the wall as it could pass without touching. I think for one day that was plenty. Eventually they got us away at dusk, but I can't shake those guys off yet. If I hear a door slam I jump up in the air. I hope I shall improve or I don't know what people will think."

On the 24th October I had another little scrimmage and managed to get off with a shot through my cap, quite close enough to please me. That was also a very hard day for us, but we were getting used to them. That happened at Langemark, Belgium. Another little adventure I had was Sept. 25th at the battle of the Aisne. We were shelled very heavily and I was hit in my right foot. I had to lay in that trench from 10 a. m. until dark when they got me away, but what a time I had. I don't think I shall ever forget that day. Well these are just a few happenings. If I had a book I think I could fill it very easily, but I hope, if all goes well, to be able to come back to you all at Digby. I can then probably tell you a little of what we have all been through. I hope you are having every success with the Rink, also that you are keeping well including Mrs. Walker and the little ones. I would be glad if you would remember me very kindly to Mr. Swabey and family; also all who are at all interested in me at Digby. I must ask you to excuse the pencil, but I have my arm in a sling and can't lift to the ink and it makes things awkward. Well must close now. Hoping to hear from you. Remember me kindly to the boys. Am having a good time at home, have to go to the hospital every day to have my arm dressed, and theatre at night. They let the wounded everywhere free including railways, so I'm in no hurry to get well."

Enclosed you will find a snapshot of the past, the other is my chum, poor fellow was killed, and if he had lived he was recommended for Victoria Cross. Hoping it will be acceptable.

I am,
Yours very sincerely,
W. J. DRUMMOND.

Russian Fleet Battered Turkish Cruiser.

FOLLOWING A SALVO FROM THE RUSSIAN GUNS A SERIES OF EXPLOSIONS OCCURRED ON THE FORMER GERMAN WAR SHIP, WHICH DISAPPEARED IN THE FOG AFTER FOURTEEN MINUTES FIGHTING IN THE BLACK SEA.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 19.—The following official statement was given out today by the Russian Ministry of Marine regarding the naval battle in the Black Sea between the Russian and Turkish fleet.

"On November 18th a division of the Black Sea fleet, returning from its cruise to Subatopol near the coast of Anatolia, sighted, 25 miles from the Bosphorus Light, a Turkish detachment consisting of the Goeben and the Breslau. The Russian fleet immediately drew up in battle order, bringing the enemy to starboard, and opened fire at a distance of forty cable lengths (about five miles). The first salvo of 12 inch guns from the flagship Admiral Evstafy struck the Goeben and caused an explosion amidship, setting her on fire. Following Evstafy, the other Russian ships opened fire, the Russian guns giving an excellent account of themselves."

"A series of explosions were seen in the hull of the Goeben, which opened fire slowly. The enemy seemed not to have expected to meet us. The Germans fired salvos of their heavy guns, directing them exclusively at the flag ship. The on counter continued for fourteen minutes, after which the Goeben withdrew and disappeared in the fog, taking advantage of her speed."

"The Breslau took no part in the fight, holding herself on the horizon. The Evstafy suffered only insignificant damage. The Russian losses were a lieutenant, three ensigns and twenty-nine sailors killed, a lieutenant and nineteen sailors seriously wounded, and five sailors slightly wounded."

Cruiser Glasgow Will Repair at Rio FIVE HOLES IN THE HULL MADE BY GERMAN SHELLS.

RIO JANEIRO, Brazil, Nov. 19.—The British cruiser Glasgow, which arrived here November 17, to repair the damages sustained in the naval battle off the Chilean coast November 1, has obtained permission from the Brazilian Government to enter dry dock and to receive the most urgent repairs. The repairs must be completed within seven days, and at the expiration of that time the vessel will immediately sail for the high seas.

The Glasgow has five holes in her hull, made by shells in the battle, and four sailors were wounded.

From conversations with the officers of the Glasgow, it became known today that at the beginning of the battle the cruiser Good Hope, Rear Admiral Sir Christopher Craddock's flag ship, considering the higher power of the German squadron's guns, ordered the Glasgow and the transport Otranto to seek a place of refuge. Notwithstanding this order, the Glasgow answered the fire of the German cruisers and received a number of shells.

In the first part of the fight, the officers of the Glasgow say, the Good Hope had one of her 9.2 inch guns dismantled, and then her gun powder stores exploded. Admiral Craddock and the crews of the Good Hope and the Monmouth went down with their ships.

The British battleship Canopus, the officers say, speeding at only sixteen knots an hour, could not arrive in time to participate in the battle.

Last Cry of Heroic Zouaves.
PARIS, Nov. 23, 4:10 p. m.—There was given out semi-officially in Paris this afternoon the following:

"The other day in Belgium a German column was advancing to attack the forest of Brice, defended by a detachment of Zouaves. Our men noticed that before them the German forced a Zouave along and at the same time they heard cries of 'stop firing.' For an instant our riflemen, and the men in charge of our machine guns hesitated."

"Then from the German ranks they heard the voice of the Zouave prisoner, who called to them: 'Shoot, d—n it! (Tirez donc, nom de Dieu)'"

"There then flashed out from the ranks of the Zouaves a general discharge of rifles and machine guns. This fire laid low the assailants of the Zouaves, and with them fell the heroic soldier whose devotion made it possible for his countrymen to checkmate the rage of the enemy."

"If the name of this brave man is unknown, at least his regiment will retain forever the remembrance of his sacrifice, which is equal to any of the most courageous personal incidents recorded in our glorious history."

10 CENT "CASCARETS" IF BILIOUS OR COSTIVE

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

LATEST WAR NEWS

Armies of Czar Crush German Army in Poland.

TURNING POINT IN WORLD EASTERN CAMPAIGN APPEARS TO HAVE BEEN REACHED—LEGIONS STILL GATHERING IN FORCE FOR THIRD ONSLAUGHT IN FLANDERS WHICH DOES NOT APPEAR TO BE FULLY UNDER WAY.

LONDON, Nov. 25, 9.40 p. m.—While the Russian army headquarters remain silent, and the Germans claim to have checked attempts on the part of the Russians to take the offensive, the military party in Petrograd has shown its full confidence in the unofficial reports of a Russian victory in northern Poland by celebrating the event.

It is even said in the Russian capital that the victory was greater than has been reported previously, and there is talk in Petrograd of an entire German army corps having been broken up. Reports received there say that trains have been ordered which will accommodate 50,000 wounded and prisoners. Heretofore Grand Duke Nicholas, commander in chief of the Russian forces, has withheld his reports until the work he set about to do had been completed, so that the world may have to wait for some days yet for his official statement.

In East Prussia, and before Cracow, Galicia, the Germans claim to have brought the Russian advance to a stop. The other side is yet to be heard from in regard to this statement.

Probably the most significant piece of news regarding the Russian operations comes from Budapest, where it is admitted that the Russian troops again have invaded Hungary, and have reached the country of Ung, which is about thirty five miles south of the Carpathians, and the county of Zemplin, fifty miles to the south of these mountains.

The troops which invaded Ung, according to this report, have been driven back to the frontier, while action is being taken against those in Zemplin.

GERMANS STILL PREPARING FOR FINAL DASH.

Except to the northwest of Verdun, where the Germans made an attack, were repulsed and asked for an armistice which was refused, the fighting in the western theatre still consists, to a large extent, of artillery duels. There is evidence, however, that the Germans contemplate another desperate effort to get through to the French coast ports.

Every report from Belgium, by way of Holland, shows that the Germans are bringing up reinforcements and guns, but so closely is the secret guarded that there is no indication as to where the blow is to be delivered. It will doubtless be a heavy one, backed by all the men, guns and other machines of war, of which the Germans seem to have such unlimited supplies.

The Allies have made every preparation to meet this assault. At the same time, preparations have been completed for the defence of the east coast of England, for the opinion still holds here that if the Germans fail in their latest plans, they may attempt a raid on England with warships and transports, for which German submarines are trying to prepare the way.

The statement by the French war office that the allies have been able to bombard Arrasville is considered significant by military experts. Arrasville is on the Lorraine frontier, and is only eleven miles southwest of the city of Metz, where one of Germany's great fortresses is located.

There is considerable diplomatic activity in the Balkans and important developments are anticipated. It is considered in official circles here that with the Austrian army on her soil, Serbia will be more likely to listen to the demand of Bulgaria for a slice of Macedonia as the price of her support. There is also talk of an arrangement between Roumania and Bulgaria, in fact, of a re organization of the Balkan league, which would bring all the Balkan states over to the side of the Allies.

Lucille Love, the Girl of Mystery.
(Series No. 1—Two parts.)

As the fourth installment opens the lion is trying to break down the door of the desperate girl's shelter, and is only foiled by a spear in Lucille's terrified hands. But Lucille is not so easy to turn from his purpose of recovering the papers, which mean the accomplishment of his revenge and the disgrace of General Love. He instructs his native slave to collect dry grass and teaches him how to weave a rope. This he stretches from his own hut to Lucille's and ignites, the end in his hut. In a short time the fire cuts its way to the hut where the daughter of his enemy is asleep.

To make assurance doubly sure, Lucille's native summons the tribe to which he belongs, and which is hostile to that by which Lucille is captured, to assist him. Lucille, scarcely awakened from her sleep, is driven from the hut by the fire and almost runs into the arms of Lucille. He struggles with her and attempts to seize the papers. But Lucille's savages are at hand and attack the spy before he can recover the papers. The natives, however, are very superstitious and deathly afraid of the "imprisoned fire" in Lucille's automatic revolver. One shot is enough. The tribe falls down before him in fear and subjection.

In the meantime Lucille has made good her escape and has entered the chief's hut. But while the natives are afraid of the white man, they are not afraid of the savages which support him, and a terrible battle ensues between the rival tribes.

In order to stop the carnage, Lucille resolves to take advantage of the superstitions of the natives and dresses herself all in white, improvising her garments from sacks and white cloths. Climbing on the great white elephant she goes among the warriors and the fighting ceases like magic. All bow down to the sacred objects, the color white, the sacred elephant and the sacred healing woman.

But Lucille is not discouraged and at this juncture there comes to his assistance an ally in the person of a woman from the tribe to which his slave belongs. After discussing ways and means, Lucille decides to try a clever bit of deception on Lucille. He sends the woman to the chief, in whose house Lucille is carefully guarded, with instructions to tell the chief that she is from a neighboring tribe which is friendly. She is to say that her master lies ill and at the point of death, and that she has heard of the wonderful white healing woman who cured the chief's daughter, and had been sent to get her to heal her master.

The ruse succeeds, both the chief and Lucille himself are completely taken in and Lucille starts immediately on her back with the false guide. In the meantime her companion, under Lucille's direction, has dug a pitfall and cleverly covered it with brush. When Lucille's horse comes cantering down the trail, leaving his rider on her errand of mercy both crash into the pit, in one of the most sensational pictures thus far shown in the series. The horse is killed instantly and Lucille lies like one dead. The two slaves of Lucille climb down into the pit, and the woman takes the papers from the body of Lucille's dress. She returns them in triumph to her new master, who decides that while he lacks the sacred amulet which is still around Lucille's neck, his present mission is but half accomplished.

OKUMA AT THE HELM GUIDES

Japan's Fighters of a Decade Ago Are Gone, But Veteran Remains.

NEWS from the Far East would go to show that Kato-chau is scarcely the impregnable fortress in China which German soldiers and strategists have boasted it to be. Indeed, like many another much-praised part of Germany's machine for the conquest of the world, it has done rather badly under the severe test put upon it by the Japanese naval and military forces.

Japan's war—if we may describe as war a mere expeditionary operation of the sort—has called into prominence one great figure of the Russo-Japanese conflict. Of the older group Okuma alone figures in the public prints. Togo, Nogi and Oyama have disappeared from the scene, and in their places have come Admirals Dewa and Kaminura, both veterans, but scarcely known in the West. They fought in the great struggle of a decade ago and if a serious disaster were to occur to the British North Sea fleet the probability is that Japan would widen the scope of her operations and they would be heard from in Western waters.

OKUMA TO THE FORE.

Although Japan's operations are on a smaller scale than before there is still serious work being done in Tokyo, and among the statesmen now occupied with the responsibilities of war there is none busier than Count Okuma, nor is there one whose personal history is more romantic or whose ability more remarkable than the Prime Minister of Japan.

Okuma, now 77 years of age, was born of a ruling caste, trained to war for 20 years, to participate in the aristocratic privileges of defending the country. He was brought up to enjoy the immunities of feudalism. His family was steeped in the ideas of national exclusion, by war if necessary, in blind hatred of all foreigners, and fanatical condemnation of their religion. Okuma threw overboard the aristocratic principles of his

AGAIN NEW WAR LEADERS

He Is the Statesman Who Put the Country in Front of the Nations.

Westerners, locating his legations in the ancient temples if he took the fancy, scoffing at the venerable religion as "heathenism," ignoring the ceremonial etiquette which was the symbol of centuries of ideals, and preparing to appropriate whatever wealth the country possessed to milk it dry. He saw the fire of native resentment break into flame with attacks upon the foreigners for which the people had to pay exorbitantly—$3,000,000 tribute to England, France, America, and Holland in 1864; $500,000 in addition for the life of one British trader.

That Japan was saved to herself, that the powers her Emperor unwittingly signed away to the foreigners were regained through a revolution of the rights and privileges enumerated above the signature on those first scraps of paper, that the people of Japan have learned to defend the sovereignty they so nearly lost, and change their position among the nations from one of condescending toleration to one of admiration and commanding respect in due to a small band of high-minded patriots of whom Okuma takes a pre-eminent place.

OUTSIDER FEUDALISM.

He helped to eliminate feudalism; he used his rare gifts of eloquence to persuade the aristocracy to give up its privilege of alone defending their land, to admit the commoner and the peasant into the army. Of giant physique and strong, athletic build, quite unlike the typical Japanese, his stern face little resembling the mobile countenance characteristic of his countrymen, Okuma is outwardly typical of the things different from the past for which he stands in modern Japan. His character, however, could not be more deeply Japanese because it is absolutely and thoroughly Japanese at the core—so much so that there is no room for anything else. Okuma became Prime Minister only last May. It is but a short time since, but the war clouds were not then visible to the eyes of ordinary folk. His first act, however, was to demand an increase in the army and navy. His acceptance of office at this time would be in itself an indication of circumstances necessitating his leadership—in other words, war.

REAR-ADMIRAL DEWA.

Droll Tommy Atkins.

"Ah! It is the cool drollery of your men that is just splendid," said a French officer who had been on the right of the British position and had been part of the force driven in upon the British right flank. "Just splendid," he kept repeating. "There is nothing in the world like it."

"Three of your soldiers argued about the merits of Gumbout Smith—then they stop and are steadily, laughing. When the 'Gumbout' comes, then they begin again on Gumbout Smith."

"I said to one, 'We shall beat the Germans nearer Paris and finally rout them.' 'Why not do it here,' he said to me, 'and save us and them walking all that distance.'"

A French officer summed it up thus: "We French are personal in this fight. You British are scientific."

Emperor's Prize Cattle Taken.

A despatch to The Star, from Petrograd, says that among the remarkable war trophies arriving at Smolensk is the entire stock of Emperor William's famous pedigree cattle and stud horses captured by the Russians from the Emperor's estate at Sandzha in East Prussia. They were taken to Moscow and presented to the Russian agricultural institute for distribution to agricultural breeding associations.

Wounds Not Grievous.

The entrance wound caused by the modern bullet is not a gruesome spectacle. It is small, and its appearance has been compared to that produced by the bite of a certain parasite insect. Often there is but little external bleeding, but this is not to be taken as a danger signal, as might be popularly supposed.

Communication Cut Off.

Police-men are stationed in the English Church at Dresden to prevent prayer for the success of the Allies.

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations

(COAL mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty-one years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 250 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent of the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the tract applied for shall be staked out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns, accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are being operated, such returns should be furnished at least once a year.

The lease will include the coal mining rights only, but the lessee may be permitted to purchase whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine at the rate of $10.00 an acre.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of Dominion Lands.

SYNOPSIS OF DOMINION LAND REGULATIONS.

A NY person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years of age, may homestead a quarter section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at the agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of the intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years. A homesteader may live within five miles of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres, solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister. In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt quarter section along side his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre.

Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-empt six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $30.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

Notice of Assignment

IN THE MATTER OF THE ASSIGNMENT OF GILBERT E. HART.

Notice is hereby given that Gilbert E. Hart, of Digby, in the County of Digby, merchant, has been declared an assignee of his property under the provisions of Chapter 115 of the Revised Statutes of Nova Scotia, 1914, entitled "The Assignment Act" and amendments, assigned all his property to me in trust for the benefit of his creditors.

A meeting of the creditors of the said Gilbert E. Hart will be held at my office, Water Street, Digby, on Thursday, the 10th day of December, 1914, at eleven o'clock in the forenoon, to receive a statement of the affairs of the said assignor and for giving directions for the disposition of the same.

Creditors are requested to have their claims, proven in sufficient, filed with me on or before the date of said meeting.

JOHN DUFFY,
Official Assignee.

Dated at Digby, Nova Scotia, November 29, 1914.

AT MY BOX FACTORY, L. SULLIVAN, Digby.

Weymouth.

Rev. Fr. Dion spent part of last week in St. John.

Mrs. H. A. Blackadar returned last week from a fortnight's visit in Halifax.

Mr. Thomas Powers left Thursday for a week's visit at his home, Grand Falls.

Mr. Alfred Hood returned last week from a visit to his brother in Shelburne.

Rev. M. Taylor attended the Deanery meeting at Bridgetown the first of the week.

Miss Frances Rice arrived last week from Halifax to visit Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Rice.

The Salvation Army advertise a stereoscopic service in Sissiboo Hall Friday evening. The subject is India.

Price Webber and company presented plays in Sissiboo Hall on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of this week.

Mrs. William Dunbar and Miss Rosa Jones recently left for Boston to remain the winter months.

Mrs. Lindley Journey, of St. John, has been visiting her sister, Mrs. Robert Journey, for a few weeks.

Messrs. Powers Bros. introduced special attractions in the Bijou Dream Monday night in the appearance of Prof. Smart, "The Colored Prince."

Inspector L. S. Morse, of Digby, was a guest at the Guelwin Hotel a few days last week, while upon his annual visit to the Weymouth schools.

Mr. Vroom, the new meat man, has been joined by Mrs. Vroom, from Clements, and they have engaged Mrs. Jasper Journey's house for the winter.

Messrs. Raymond Corbin, Burdett Bartlett and Ralph Griffin were passengers to Halifax Saturday to join the army drilling there for the second contingent.

Messrs. Payne and Saunders, of Annapolis, were in Weymouth a few days last week collecting brown tail moth nests. In a few weeks they purpose making a complete tour of the county endeavoring to rid it of this pest to fruit trees.

Mr. Stanley Hallett arrived home Wednesday from King's College, Windsor, and left Friday for Halifax, having enlisted as a cyclist for the front. He is the only son of Dr. and Mrs. E. O. Hallett. His "send-off" was genuinely enthusiastic.

The comparative few persons present Wednesday evening, at the stirring address given in the Methodist church by Rev. W. J. Smith, of Montreal, were afforded a rare treat.

The speaker took as his subject the Social Service of the church, dealing with the Temperance and Moral Reform movements in various parts of Canada.

Residents of Weymouth turned out en masse Thursday morning assembling at the railway station to bid farewell to three young men who left that morning for Fredericton to join the army.

The young men leaving were Messrs. Ralph and Aubrey Butler, sons of Mr. Henry Butler, and Mr. John Mullen, son of Mr. John Mullen, sen. The recently organized cadet corps was in attendance and after offering repeated cheers, fired several volleys of shot in honor of the departing young men.

Weymouth talent did itself creditably Tuesday evening at the Patriotic concert in Sissiboo Hall. The large audience was most enthusiastic throughout the evening, the various numbers on the program being heartily received. It would be imposing upon good nature to make extended remarks concerning the excellence of the performance, as considerable space of last week's issue was devoted to an article bearing upon the subject. We shall review being considered invidious in remarking that general satisfaction and commendation have been expressed upon the success of particularly the young ladies' flag drill and the comedy presented. The performers went by auto and team on Friday evening to Little Brook where the entertainment was repeated to a full house and a goodly sum was added to the Patriotic fund as a result.

Meteghan.

The Right Rev. Mgr. Cote visited Halifax last week.

We are sorry to report Mrs. William Aymer as being in poor health.

The Rev. Fr. Bragg, rector at Salmon River, Digby county, was at the Glebe House, Saturday.

Thursday, Nov. 26th, Mr. and Mrs. Telesphore Comeau, of Comeau's Cove, celebrated the 25th anniversary of their marriage. They were the recipient of many happy returns of the day.

END STOMACH TROUBLE, GASES OR DYSPEPSIA

"Pape's Diaphepsin" makes Sick, Sour, Gassy Stomachs surely feel fine in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, fullness, nausea, bad taste in mouth and stomachache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diaphepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder. It's the quickest, surest stomach doctor in the world. It's wonderful.

will ensue. He is under the skillful care of Dr. McDonald.

The report comes from Salmon River that Mr. Joseph P. Comeau's barn was totally consumed by fire Tuesday, Nov. 24, as well as all its contents. His five year old son almost perished in the flames; luckily no other buildings near by were burnt.

Mr. A. A. Hache arrived Saturday from Yarmouth, where he had spent a few days in the interests of the Mutual Society, "Les Artisans Canadiens Francois." Suffice it to say that Mr. Hache, since his appointment as organizer for the maritime provinces, has spared no pains for the advancement of the society and the welfare of its members.

The schr. Nina German, Capt. German, arrived in port last week. She left Meteghan for St. Paul Island, C. B., on the 19th August. She then visited Sydney, Marimichi, N. B., New York and St. John, N. B. On her voyage from New York to St. John, loaded with fertilizer, she encountered a gale and high sea, and it was almost through superhuman efforts that she came out safe and sound. She is now loading pilings for the American market.

Tuesday, 21th, occurred the marriage of Mr. Joseph LeBlanc and Miss Emma Saulnier, both of Cheticamp. The ceremony was performed by Mr. Cote. The bride wore a suite of navy blue cashmere, trimmed with white lace and silk, with hat to match, and was attended by Miss Maggie May Comeau, teacher at Bear Cove. The bridegroom was attended by Mr. Wallace Saulnier, a brother of the bride. Their many friends wish them joy and prosperity in their new state of life.

The ladies of the Methodist church held their annual pie social on Thursday, Nov. 25th. The sum of $27.79 was realized, the ladies wish to thank the friends in Colloiden and Mount Pleasant who helped to make the pie social a success.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional treatment. Deafness is caused by an inflammation of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out of this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; since cases of deafness are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness caused by catarrh that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars.

A Steady Stream of British Soldiers Landing in France

AUSTRIAN TROOPS SUFFER—ONLY BEER
SOLD IN CANADIAN CAMP—CAN-DIAN DOCTORS IN FRANCE—OUR NURSES ENGAGE ROOMS IN FRENCH HOTELS AT SIX FRANCS PER DAY.

PETROGRAD, Nov. 28, via London,
2:55 p. m.—A review of the war published in a newspaper of Cracow, dated November 10th, and found in the Austrian trenches, describes the Austrian troops as suffering from the handicaps from their continuous fighting, marching and trench digging.

The same paper says that Adam Didur, a base singer, in now a prisoner of the Austrian military authorities in Cracow.

He is soon to be brought before a military court martial court, according to this newspaper, for hearing on charges, which involve infraction of the military regulations.

STEADY STREAM OF BRITISH SOLDIERS.

HAVRE, France, Nov. 10.—Directly following Lord Kitchener's speech at the Lord Mayor's Banquet in London, in which he said he had 1,250,000 men ready to land in France, there had been a steady stream of transports from England to Havre. As many as 200 ships, of various sizes, have been lying outside the harbor at one time.
Here they are landed on, and the ships can gain berth. The troops are mostly Territorials, but well seasoned.
After a march from the docks through the streets of Havre, cheering and singing, they disappeared. The incoming troops seem in high spirits, sing and whistle on the march.

NOT CONFIRMED.

LONDON, Dec. 1.—Following the report from Petrograd on damage inflicted upon the German fleet by the Russians in September, comes the report through Paris that the German cruiser Hertle has been sunk near Liban.

There also are rumors that the German battleship Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse has been torpedoed in the Baltic Sea.
Both these reports lack confirmation.

HEARD BY BRITAIN'S WARING.

VALPARAISO, Chile, Dec. 1.—The authorities here have declined to allow the American-Hawaiian Steamship Company's steamer Minnesota, which arrived at Punta Arenas, November 10th, to proceed to Iquique. It is alleged that the vessel has 7,000 tons of coal on board, and the authorities say they believe she will attempt to deliver it to German warships off the coast of Chile.

OTTAWA, Nov. 20.—A government statement issued yesterday in regard to the wet canteen which is permitted by the war office in the Canadian camp at Salisbury draws attention to the fact that the Canadian government and the Canadian military department has no direct control over the camp regulations in England, which are under the jurisdiction of the war office.
It is noted the Canadian government can, of course, make representations to the war office and these representations would undoubtedly receive careful and respectful consideration. The government has, however, assumed that the reported troubles in regard to drinking among the soldiers came from the purchase of liquor in neighboring towns and villages, when the men obtained leave of absence. After careful consideration General Alderson determined that it would be better to have a regulated wet canteen, at which beer might be sold at certain hours and under careful supervision.

These regulations permit such can-tees to be opened for one hour a day,
and for three hours in the evening.
Beer only is sold and non-commissioned officers are always on duty.

The government has now been assured that the trouble in the neighboring villages, which occasioned much concern at first, has practically ceased since the opening of these regulated and supervised canteens.

100 CANADIAN DOCTORS AIDE IN FRANCE

LONDON, Nov. 20 (Montreal Gazette Cable)—A Daily News correspondent, writing from Northern France, reports the arrival of an advance guard of the Canadian contingent in the form of one hundred doctors, who are establishing a hospital.

This is evidently the staff of No. 2
General Hospital, which your correspondent was ready to leave Salisbury Plain ten days ago. The hospital in question is at a well known seaside resort, and is in a grand old castle, the quarters of which have been taken over by the military authorities. The Canadian nurses who left London a fortnight ago for service on the continent have a base at Boulogne.

The professional nursing world is very indignant over the vexed question of the lady amateurs employed in nursing by the Red Cross Society. The Mirror makes the statement that Canadian nurses, on arriving at a hotel at six francs a day, whereupon lady amateurs disposed of them by buying their room over their head at eight francs.

10 CENT "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Cure Sick Headache, Constipation, Biliousness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath—Candy Cathartic.

No odd how had your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your headaches, how miserable you are from constipation, indigestion, biliousness and sluggish bowels—you always get relief with Cascarets. They immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess billiousness from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet and head clear for months. They work while you sleep.

nation to have German wounded under their care.

GERMANS HAVE 700,000 MEN NEAR ARRAS.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The Weekly Despatch's Boulogne correspondent says:
"The Germans have collected 700,000 men in the neighborhood of Arras, where they are preparing for a determined effort to break through the Allies' line."

"Heavy fighting already has begun."
ALLIES CAPTURED IMPORTANT POSI-TIONS SOUTH OF YPRES.

PARIS, Nov. 20 (10:35 p. m.)—The following official communication was issued by the War Office tonight:

"Quiet prevails along the whole front, except in the Argonne region, where the German attacks have not been more successful than preceding attacks."

"Yesterday the enemy's cannonading was more active, but carried on chiefly with 77 millimeter pieces; his heavy artillery has made itself felt very little. Under these conditions, the artillery struggle has turned practical advantage to the Allies."

"In Belgium our infantry captured several supporting positions to the north and to the south of Ypres. In the country to the north of Arras, one of the enemy's attacks undertaken by nearly three regiments has definitely failed, after several counter-attacks, carried out in all directions."

"Between the Somme and Chaulnes we have made perceptible progress. In the neighborhood of the village of Pav, our troops came into immediate contact with the wire entanglements of the defense."

"In the region of the Aisne, between Vailly and Berry-au-Bac, a group of machine guns and emplacement for 30 centimeter pieces were destroyed by our shells, one of which caused an explosion in one of the enemy's batteries."

"In the Vosges three counter-attacks undertaken by the Germans for the purpose of re-capturing ground previously taken by us in the Basse Supt region were successively repulsed."

RUSSIAN'S GREAT VICTORIES.

LONDON, Nov. 20.—The Russian official statement issued at the Embassy in London today confirms great victories for the Czar's troops with the capture of thousands of prisoners, many guns and much stores. Several German generals are officially reported among the dead. An even greater victory to the Germans came through the capture of thousands of prisoners, many guns and much stores. Several

GERMAN TROOPS SURROUNDED.

PARIS, Nov. 28.—Three German army corps are now practically surrounded in the Biz-ziny Strikow region in Poland. One corps has been captured and another, scattered according to a Petrograd despatch to the Mail today.
"It has been learned from highest authority, the despatch states, that the German losses are considerably more than one army corps in men who have been captured, another corps has been routed, and three corps are now practically surrounded in the Biz-ziny Strikow region."

MORE OF GERMANY'S INHUMAN TREAT-MENT.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 30 (via London, 6:50 p. m.)—A message from Brussels to the Handelsblad states that the German governor of the province of Brabant, in which Brussels is located, convoked a meeting of financiers and told them that Belgium must pay $7,000,000 monthly for the maintenance of German troops.

In addition to this sum, it is said,
Belgium must contribute a war levy of $75,000,000 as a penalty for violations of neutrality by Belgium, and losses ensuing therefrom to Germany.

Floating Mine Outside New York Harbor.

STEAMER CAPTAIN SAYS IT IS NEAR FIRE ISLAND, IN LANE OF ATLANTIC LINERS.

NEW YORK, Nov. 30.—A mine, with five triggers extending from it, is said to be floating off Fire Island Light, according to Captain Davis, of the tug ship Eonion, in today from London.

Captain Davis said that he passed the mine about 10 o'clock this morning, while his ship was bound in.

The spot where the mine is said to be adrift lies in the pathway traveled by all trans Atlantic vessels leaving the harbor for New York harbor. How the mine came there, he does not know, but what means it was set adrift, whether its presence was accidental or by design, were problems to be cleared up this afternoon.

British Aviator Blows up Train

LONDON, Nov. 28, 3:11 a. m.—A despatch to the Daily Chronicle from a correspondent in Northern France, says:

Wednesday about noon a tremendous explosion was heard and felt for miles along the allies line. The source of the explosion apparently was behind the German line. Later it was learned that a British naval aviator had dropped a bomb squarely on a German ammunition train, which blew up.

Town Council.

The Town Council met November 30th, at 8 p. m.

Present: His Worship the Mayor and all the Councilors.

The minutes of the last regular meeting of the Council and of the special meeting of the 9th of November inst.
were read and approved.

The report of G. A. Vye, Supt. of Streets and Water, was read as follows:

Digby, Nov. 30th, 1914.
To His Worship the Mayor and Councilors:
Gentlemen:—I have the honor to submit the following report to Streets and Water.

Repairs were made on Racquette bank, First Ave., Main, Warwick and George Streets, Jewell and Water Streets. Filled in Water street in front of Salvation Army Hall. The leaves have been gathered and the grass drained flushed and made ready for winter, and a number of other ditches deepened. Travel was kept on Water Street sidewalk from Fall-way Crossing to Church Street, also on Queen Street sidewalk from Prince William to Warwick Street and other necessary repairs made.
The sewer line cut in for Mr. H. L.
Sundin. One broken pipe on main line and one break on Montague Street repaired, also two broken street pipes. The pipe leading from the fire station to Church street was taken up and stored.

(Sgd.) G. A. VYE,
Supt. Streets & Water.

On motion of Councilors Rice and Wrightman the report was received
and adopted.

The quarterly report of E. DuVernet, M. D., Health Officer, was read as follows:

Digby, Nov. 30th, 1914.

(Sgd.) E. DUVERNET, M. D., Health Officer.

On motion of Councilors Rice and Wrightman the report was received
and adopted.

Councilor Winchester, chairman of the Fire Committee, reported progress in the matter of obtaining a building in the South End in which to keep a house.

Councilor Rice, chairman of Poor Committee, reported that he had interviewed Edward Campbell and he would not consent to his children being taken away and placed in homes.

A letter from Vernon Bent was read asking that a hole in the street near his place be filled in.

On motion the matter was referred to the Street Committee.

On motion of Councilors Warne and Rice the Fire Committee was directed to have the machine for repairing fire hose repaired.

Councilor Winchester stated that the Fire Co. complained of not having any facilities for drying the hose and wanted a tower built for that purpose.

On motion of Councilors J. G. Van and Troop the matter of a tower for drying hose was referred to the Fire Committee to procure an estimate of the cost of building a tower and report at the next meeting of the Council.

The following bills were read and on motion ordered to be paid:

W. F. Read, M. D.	$ 62.00
Charles J. Van der Pyl	12.50
H. W. Hendon	22.41
H. W. Hendon	20.07
D. DuVernet, M. D.	25.00
W. A. Rice	24.45
John Daley	61.00

2.18
Mar. Tel. & Tel. Co.	2.25
Russell Bros. & Co.	12.30
Paul Ross & Co.	12.30

Mr. Herbert Wright made application to have the use of that portion of West St. (an unused street) adjoining his property on the East so that he could clean it up.

On motion his request was granted and the Clerk was instructed to prepare an agreement and have it executed by Mr. Wright reserving the rights of the town in the street.

On motion the Council adjourned at 9:15 p. m.

Fishing at Digby During the Month of November.

(Digby correspondence to the Canadian Fisherman)

For the past month there has been almost a fish famine among the producers here. Notwithstanding the fact that all modern methods are employed at this point for procuring a steady supply, the scarcity that prevailed has been the cause for the past month has been felt everywhere and at present the demand greatly exceeds the supply. Until a week ago none of the shore boats have found it worth while to make a try at all, and the off shore vessels have not been catching more than enough to pay their running expenses. Not only the marketable fish are scarce, but also the smaller fish which has been the staple of the fishing industry. During the first of the month, dogfish were reported all along the Bay of Fundy, but they are now slowly disappearing and a few hake, haddock and cod are being taken at Freeport, Truro and Culloden.

The off shore vessels for the past month have landed here as follows:

S. S. St. Leonard	27,372
Schooner Lila Boudier	24,612
Schooner Dorothy M. Shaw	21,013
Schooner Albert J. Lutz	16,256
Schooner Loran B. Shaw	39,180
Schooner Grace Darling	22
Schooner Clara Gerlie	76,913
Schooner Dorothy G. Shaw	28,823

The vessels are making a very poor fall of it, none of them have paid expenses yet, but we look for a change soon.

Owing to the scarcity of fish and the hard, rough weather, the demand for haddock is greater than usual. Haddock at this date are selling for 21 cents per lb.

Bait is very scarce in the Annapolis Basin, and the weather being very foggy, the fleet of boats from Victoria fish have landed small fares.

Schooner Grace Darling, Capt.
Ansel Casey, during the three months of the hake season made a total stock of $5,000. The Darling is the only vessel fishing from Port Wade at present. Fish are reported to be very scarce in the Bay of Fundy.

Schooner Morning Star, Capt. Harry
Ross, stocked in one year $33,001.07 haddock and halibut. Crew of 22 men shared $714.20 each. The Morning Star, though an American vessel, is manned by a Digby and Yarmouth crew.

Who's Who in the Fishing World

(From the Canadian Fisherman)

Almost every person who has visited the beauty spots of Nova Scotia knows Digby and Bear River. Incidentally, those who are acquainted with the former place cannot help but know Mr. H. B. Short, the genial Mayor of the prosperous and beautiful little town, for the two are almost synonymous.

The sea coast settlements of Nova Scotia breed big men, and our WHO'S WHO is big in every sense of the word—big of body, of heart, of mind and ability. The many summer tourists who flock to Digby every season know that and his fame has been branded abroad. You can meet a man up in the Maine woods deer hunting and on the mere mention of Digby he will come across at you and enquire if you know "Harry" Short. Whoever the enquirer may be, you can rely on it if he is a friend of Mr. Short, he is a good fellow.

Our subject has done much to make Digby famous as a summer resort and we would like to dilate upon his enthusiasm for his home town, but a magazine devoted to the commercial fisheries is not a tourist guide. Mr.
Short's place in this biography comes of his connection with the fishing industry of the place where Digby
"chickens" were first hatched.

Apropos of the said "chickens," we think it was Mr. Short who received an enquiry from a city poultry dealer

enquiring for prices on Digby chickens packed in crates with the feathers off.

If there is any truth in this absurd story it is safe to assume that Mr.
Short would not hesitate to point out the fact that Digby had long gone out of the chicken business and was now engaged in raising Finnan Haddies.

Bear River the Beautiful—the Gem of the Annapolis Basin—can claim the honor of being our subject's birthplace for Mr. Short first saw the light there on September 1st, 1864. When five years of age, his parents removed to Digby and he has been living there ever since. When a man has lived that long in a place and prospered in it, there is nothing wrong with the man or the town.

Receiving his education at the Digby Academy, Mr. Short, at 18 years, started in business as Agent of the steamship line operating services between Digby and St. John, N. B., and Boston. He remained with the Nova Scotia S. S. Company for many years and while they were running as the Bay of Fundy S. S. Company, he was a director of the firm. When the Dominion Atlantic Railway took over the Bay service, Mr. Short resigned and entered the fish business—forming a partnership with Mr. James Ellis under the name of Short & Ellis.

With his partner, he assisted greatly in developing the fish business of Digby and incidentally the Finnan Haddie industry for which the town is famous.
In 1910, Short and Ellis sold out to the Maritime Fish Corporation, Ltd.
Since that date, our subject has remained with the firm as manager of the Digby plant and in that position he still continues.

The best evidence of a man's character and popularity is drawn from what his fellow citizens think of him.
Digby's citizens thought enough of Mr. Short to elect him as Mayor of the town in 1904 and again in 1905.

Not content with giving him the honors of these two terms in Chief Magisterial post, he was again elected and has held the Mayorality of Digby for the past four years. Many famous people visit Digby and in his capacity as first citizen of the place, Mr. Short has acquitted himself ably and well.

When the Fisheries Advisory Board was formed two years ago, our WHO'S WHO was appointed to represent the dealers and merchants of Nova Scotia
—a position which by reason of his long connection with the industry he is well qualified to fill. An optimist in the future of the Canadian fisheries and Digby as a summer resort and fishing centre; an enthusiastic and kindly host, Mr. H. B. Short is a very genial gentleman who the Canadian Fisherman is glad to be able to feature in its WHO'S WHO column.

—A clergyman has so many uses for a typewriter that he would appreciate such a gift from his congregation. Order the best. One of my Remingtons

LATEST WAR NEWS

Austrians Capture Belgrade and Situation For Serbia Is Serious.

GERMANS RALLY AGAIN IN POLAND AND ARE NOW ON THE OFFENSIVE HAVING CAPTURED 80,000 RUSSIANS—CZAR'S FORCES, HOWEVER, SAY THEY HAVE ALSO TAKEN MANY PRISONERS.

LONDON, Dec. 2, 10 35 p. m.—Belgrade, which until the outbreak of the war was the capital of Serbia, was today occupied by Austrian troops, the Serbians having previously evacuated the city.

Thus, on the sixty sixth anniversary of the reign of Emperor Francis Joseph, who again is reported seriously ill, and four months after the outbreak of the war, his generals report one of the most important successes they have obtained.

Belgrade was frequently under bombardment early in the war, and but for the general European war, which compelled Austria to send her troops against Russia, must have fallen an easy prey to Serbia's big neighbor.

Apparently Austria miscalculated the nature of the Serbian opposition, and only after Bosnia was invaded did she send a sufficient force against the Serbians to drive them back. Now they are being forced backward and are eagerly looking for the advance of the Russians into Hungary to afford them relief.

Russia has been sending Cossack raiding parties through the Carpathian mountains, with the object of diverting Austria's attention, but the dual monarchy seemingly is determined to finish with Serbia first.

This, however, is only a small affair compared with what is going on in North Poland. There the German army, which, with the aid of reinforcements, succeeded in escaping from the ring that the Russians had forced round it, has formed a new front, and some points has resumed the offensive. The Germans assert that in this series of manoeuvres, by which they were able to check the Russians, they made 80,000 prisoners.

On the other hand, the Russians, in a statement issued through Rome, say that their capture greatly exceed this number. All agree that the losses have been very heavy and that the battle is still proceeding. It will probably be some days before a decisive result is reached.

For the moment the Allies are somewhat disappointed that the realization of a great Russian victory is denied them. They take some consolation in the fact that the German attempt to pierce the Russian lines has failed, and that, suffering from heavy losses, the Germans are compelled to weaken their armies elsewhere.

The Russian report tonight says the fight has lost some of its force, and indicates some progress. The Russian troops south of Lodz, is unofficially reported that the Russians are "nearly in Cracow."

While there is every indication that another big battle is imminent in the west, there is no evidence that it has actually begun. There has been fighting in Flanders, but this doubtless is the result of an attempt by the Allies to take some advanced position. There are also reports that the Germans have evacuated several villages on the Yser canal, and are concentrating on new positions.

The British have taken over command of the Yser region and, like the French, have been strongly reinforced. It is believed that on the first sign of a German movement in any considerable force to the east, the Allies will take the offensive in the west.

Steamer Slips Out to Join German Cruiser

HAVANA, Dec. 2.—The Hamburg-American Line steamer President, which formerly plied among the West Indian Islands but which has been lying in Havana harbor since September 25th, slipped out of port last night without lights or papers.

The destination of the President is unknown, but it is suspected that she intends to communicate with some German cruiser, although she is known to have on board a very small amount of coal and provisions.

Various Kinds of Streets

The highest street in the world is Main street in Denver; the richest is 5th Avenue in New York City; the widest is Market street, Philadelphia, and the shortest is Rue Ric, in Paris. The dirtiest street is that of Tehankati in Nankai; the cleanest is the Via Castle, in Seville, Spain; the most aristocratic one is Grosvenor Place in London; the most beautiful is the Avenue des Champs Elysees, Paris. The narrowest street is Via Sol, Havana, Cuba, which has a width of no more than 42 inches.

A Large Family

The wife of West Graves, of Coswell, N. C., has given birth to the 16th child since her marriage, 13 years ago. She presented her husband with the eighth consecutive set of twins, and in each set there was a boy and a girl.

A Marked Bird

Mr. Thomas Gardner, of Port La Tour, shot a new gull recently, having on its leg a metal band bearing the following inscription: "No. 25569, notify A. M. Museum, N. Y."

Freeport.

Mr. Edwin Haines, who was in St. John, has returned home. Miss Rita Outhouse, of Tiverton, is the guest of Mrs. Lillie McNeill. Miss Vina Outhouse, of Tiverton, is the guest of Mrs. Edward Eaton. Mr. and Miss Franklin, of Acadiaville, is visiting Miss Florence McNeill.

Mr. A. E. Rosa has recently opened up a store and barber shop on Water street.

Schr. Emerson & Faye, Capt. John Thurbur, has gone into winter quarters at this port.

Schr. M. & E. Hains, Capt. Fred Hains, is in St. John discharging a load of dry fish.

We are pleased to report Mr. Byron Murphy out again after being confined to his home for a few weeks.

Mrs. Charles Morrell has gone to Boston to meet her husband, who recently arrived there from a southern port.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie P. Perry arrived home last week from Edgar town. Mr. Perry has been away since April and Mrs. Perry for two months.

Mr. Samuel Gidney and son Wilfred, of Mink Cove, are in town this week repairing the telephone line. They are the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hains.

On Sunday morning, Nov. 29th, a Masonic sermon was preached by Rev. F. H. Eaton, a member of the local lodge. Members were present from Westport and Tiverton.

The amount raised by the different collectors was $108.00. Amount given by Western Star Division, $5.00, making the sum total $114.00 for the Canadian Patriotic Fund.

A Red Cross Society has been organized and meets every Friday evening at the homes of the different members. The proceeds of a pie social held Saturday evening went to swell the funds of the Red Cross Society.

Mr. Michael Finigan died at his home on Thursday, Nov. 26th, in the seventy eighth year of his age. He leaves a sorrowing wife and ten children, six boys and four girls. Capt. Charles James, William, Leslie and John; also Mrs. Alice Bates and Mrs. Edward Walker, of this place; Mrs. Lyman Outhouse, of Tiverton; Mrs. Thomas Brooks, of Everett, Mass., and George, of St. Andrews, N. B., who arrived home Friday night to attend the funeral, which took place Sunday afternoon. Service conducted by Rev. F. H. Eaton.

The ladies of the Baptist Sewing Society will hold a tea in a few days for the purpose of raising funds towards making some needed changes in the interior of their church building.

Capt. Alex. Shaw has been here during the past week with produce from Port Maitland and Sanford, Y. Co., in his vessel. He is now at Freeport disposing of the remainder of the cargo.

The Cobbequid liquid has been much in evidence lately. No one seems to be particularly anxious to ascertain where it came from. The scenes enacted last week were a disgrace to all concerned.

The Alvah J. Capt. Ralph Welch, continues her trips to Digby with fresh haddock for the Nova Scotia Fish Co. He is a hustler and the weather must be very bad when he does not make his weekly trip. He has probably salted down more dollars than any other person in Westport this season. We wish him continued good fortune.

Mr. Smith, of St. John, is a visitor at Mr. F. Nichols.

The patriotic concert held on Tuesday last was a great success. The sum of $91.00 was realized.

Rev. M. Taylor, also Mr. H. L. Jones, attended the meeting of the Annapolis Deanery at Bridgetown this week.

Weymouth is mourning the loss of a very estimable lady in the death of Mrs. J. C. Simmonds which occurred very suddenly on Tuesday morning.

Her husband died nearly two years ago. Two daughters, Mrs. Skidmore, of New York; Miss Simmonds, at home, and one son, Arthur, are left to mourn their loss.

Brighton and Barton.

Mrs. Elward Young is visiting in Digby for a few days.

Mrs. Hiram VanBlarcom returned home from a visit to Tiverton and Westport.

The young ladies' concert was a decided success. Everything passed off well, and the sum of $37.00 was made for the Red Cross Society.

Compelled to Discontinue An Important Service.

The Insular Steamship Company, operating the S. S. Westport 111, between St. John and Yarmouth and ports on St. Mary's Bay, has been compelled to discontinue this service on account of insufficient revenue to maintain it on a paying basis. The business has never netted its shareholders more than 34 per cent per year on an average; but since June 1st, 1914, the service has been operated at a loss. This loss has been due, in the main, to two factors. First, in 1913 the federal government subsidized the S. S. John L. Cann to ply between St. John and Yarmouth, twice per week, calling both ways, at three important ports on the Westport's route, namely Westport, Freeport and Tiverton. Thus five of the ten ports served by the Westport had the freight and passenger traffic divided between two competing services. The diversion of traffic from the Insular S. S. Co. converted a very scanty profit into a substantial loss.

Second cause for a losing business since June 1st, is the fact that the Nova Scotia government reduced its subsidy to this company, first by $100 then by $500—a total reduction of $600. At the same time there were some notable increases to other steam services.

The Insular S. S. Co. was performing exactly the same service that it had been doing for years. The original subsidy granted was small for the long dangerous and important service performed; especially in the winter giving the public a safe and comfortable water connection with Yarmouth and in this way affording a reliable and regular route for lobstermen enroute to Boston as well as for other freight and from Yarmouth. To maintain a regular weekly service from the bay trips to Yarmouth through the rough tide trips between Westport and Yarmouth requires a staunch steamer and stout-hearted men. Such a service deserved to be well paid, but it was never adequately remunerated. It will take a much larger subsidy to put another steamer in the place of the Westport.

In consequence of the losing business due to the foregoing causes, the managers, much to their regret, have been forced to suspend the service in order to safeguard the capital invested.

Warns British People Not To Be Foolish

LONDON, Dec. 2, 5 24 p. m.—The Earl of Warwick, lord lieutenant of Essex, in addressing the Essex county organization of territorialists today, said that in the event of a German invasion of England no attempt should be made at resistance by individual civilians who are not associated with some form of military bodies.

"I have a perfect horror," he said, "of the statements which are being made concerning shooting on the part of civilians in the event of an invasion. This could only result in terrible reprisals, and possibly in a repetition of the horrors that have taken place in Belgium."

"The civilian who, on the impulse of the moment, shoots an invader may bring upon his neighbors the most terrible reprisals. I hope that the inhabitants, if they wish to be of service, will put themselves under some form of discipline or authority, and that we will hear no more of this suggestion concerning promiscuous shooting."

Prince of Wales Is Much Stronger Man Than He Would Seem

THE Prince of Wales has been a prominent figure in England since the war began. Not only has he been engaged in raising patriotic funds, but he has been wearing the khaki and doing drill with his regiment, the Grenadier Guards. These husky soldiers have now gone to the front to fight the Empire's battle, and the heir to the throne has been left at home, much against his will, say the despatches, and the photograph reproduced above, taken after he had said good-bye to his comrades in arms, would lend color to the statement, for he certainly looks like a keenly disappointed lad.

Prince Edward, although he has the appearance of being very frail physically, and the recent photographs taken in conjunction with members of the Grenadier Guards, have tended to emphasize his small stature, is said to be much stronger than he looks. His lack of avoirdupois is more than counterbalanced by his steel-like muscles and nerves. Add to this a whole-hearted love of athletics, for which the prince trains systematically, and you have the secret of his royal highness' remarkable physical powers. For they are really remarkable, and have even astounded the critics at Oxford, who are accustomed to seeing men, whose deceptive appearance led us to regard them as weaklings, perform at times remarkable feats of athletic prowess.

SEEMS ALMOST THIRTEENS.

It seems almost impossible to tire him out. A ten or fifteen mile walk in easy exercise for him. Last autumn, during the march of the Oxford University Officers' Training Corps, in which the prince is a private, his royal highness walked twenty-two miles, and while the other members of the corps were resting their crippled feet and tired limbs the prince, although, of course, by no means fresh, had a smoke and a bath, and motored to a friend's house to dinner.

THE PRINCE OF WALES.

If his royal highness had not been heir to the throne he might have qualified as one of the finest long-distance runners and "stayers" in the country. He delights to spend the day in one long round of open-air exercise.

The story of an incident which occurred during his trip in Norway a short time ago is typical of many others which could be told of his powers. On each of the five days he stayed at Fnebo he had long skiing expeditions, and when those who accompanied him told of the distances covered they were not altogether credited.

Another theory.

There have been many solutions offered as the cause of the rumor prevalent a few weeks ago that a hundred thousand Russians had passed through England en route for France. Here is the latest:

A train with four hundred passengers passed through York in the night and stopped at a small station. There was a very sleepy porter on duty. A large number of the Highlanders got out to stretch their legs. They were wearing long gray coats and conversed in that mysterious language: "Where do you come from?" asked the porter. "From-shire," answered the Scots. Let any Scot, highland or lowland, say "From-shire" to an Englishman and nine out of ten will be aglow he means "Rumsh". The porter had the evidence before his eyes, so he passed his knowledge along.

Synopsis of Coal Mining Regulations

(1) Coal mining rights of the Dominion, in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta, the Yukon Territory, the Northwest Territories and in a portion of the Province of British Columbia, may be leased for a term of twenty years at an annual rental of $1 an acre. Not more than 2,500 acres will be leased to one applicant.

Application for a lease must be made by the applicant in person to the Agent or Sub-Agent in the district in which the rights applied for are situated.

In surveyed territory the land must be described by sections, or legal subdivisions of sections, and in unsurveyed territory the land applied for shall be sketched out by the applicant himself.

Each application must be accompanied by a fee of $5 which will be refunded if the rights applied for are not available, but not otherwise. A royalty shall be paid on the merchantable output of the mine at the rate of five cents per ton.

The person operating the mine shall furnish the Agent with sworn returns, accounting for the full quantity of merchantable coal mined and pay the royalty thereon. If the coal mining rights are not worked for a period of one year, the lease will be forfeited.

The lease will include the coal mining rights, but the lessee may be permitted to use, on whatever available surface rights may be considered necessary for the working of the mine. The lessee shall be liable for any damage to the surface of the land caused by the mining operations.

For full information application should be made to the Secretary of the Department of the Interior, Ottawa, or to any Agent or Sub-Agent of the Department.

W. W. CORY, Deputy Minister of the Interior, N. B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

SYNOPSIS OF DOMINION LAND REGULATIONS.

ANY person who is the sole head of a family, or any male over 18 years old, may homestead a certain section of available Dominion land in Manitoba, Saskatchewan or Alberta. The applicant must appear in person at the Dominion Lands Agency or Sub-Agency for the district. Entry by proxy may be made at any agency, on certain conditions by father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister of intending homesteader.

Duties—Six months' residence upon and cultivation of the land in each of three years, or homesteader may live within one mile of his homestead on a farm of at least 80 acres solely owned and occupied by him or by his father, mother, son, daughter, brother or sister.

In certain districts a homesteader in good standing may pre-empt quarter section along side his homestead. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside upon the homestead or pre-emption six months in each of six years from date of homestead entry (including the time required to earn homestead patent) and cultivate fifty acres extra.

A homesteader who has exhausted his homestead right and cannot obtain a pre-emption may enter for a purchased homestead in certain districts. Price $3.00 per acre. Duties—Must reside six months in each of three years, cultivate fifty acres and erect a house worth $300.00.

W. W. CORY, Deputy of the Minister of the Interior, N. B.—Unauthorized publication of this advertisement will not be paid for.

Best Of All Tonics To Purify And Enrich
The Blood.

Pure, rich blood can flow only in a clean body. Now, a clean body is one in which the waste matter is regularly and naturally eliminated from the system. The blood cannot be pure when the skin action is weak, when the stomach does not digest the food properly, when the bowels do not move regularly, when the kidneys are strained or overworked.

Pure blood is the result of perfect health and harmony of stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys and skin.

"Fruit-a-tives", by their wonderful action on all these organs, keeps the whole system as clean as Nature intended our bodies to be clean.

"Fruit-a-tives" tones up, invigora-

In Memory.

Of Clifford, the eleven year old son of Mr.
and Mrs. Harvey Weir, Smith's Cove, printed by request of his Sunday School teacher.

Tender Shepherd, thou hast stilled
Now thy little lamb's brief weeping.
Ah, how peaceful, pale and mild
In its narrow bed 'tis sleeping!
And no sign of anguish sore
Heaves that little bosom more.

In this world of care and pain
Lord, thou wouldst no longer leave it;
To the sunny, heavenly plain
Thou dost now with joy receive it;
Clothed in robes of spotless white,
Now it dwells with thee in light.

Ah, Lord Jesus, grant that we
Where it lives may soon be living,
And the lovely pastures see
That its heavenly food are giving;
Then the souls of death we prove Though thou take what most we love.

His Six Companions Perished.

LONDON, Dec. 3, 10 50 p. m.—A sailor named Nielson, the sole survivor among seven who escaped in a boat when the Danish steamer Mary was blown up by a mine in the North Sea on Sunday, was landed tonight by a trawler which picked him up Tuesday.
He said his six companions died from exposure Monday.

Seven of the crew of the Mary, who escaped in another boat, have been rescued.

COLLECTING ON CHRISTMAS

A bunch of us were putting in Sunday evening swapping yarns of our early days on the road when it came the turn of an accident insurance special.

"The first trip I ever made was when I was a kid of twenty," he said. "I was shipping clerk in an agricultural implement house in Brooklyn. I was to make a collection and, of all days in the year, I was to see the man on Christmas day!"

"Why then? Well, the chap I was to see was a big farmer up in the hills of Sullivan county, and he did quite a business in farm implements among his neighbors. He had given the house a bunch of notes running four months and falling due Sept. 1. Every one of them came back protested.

"The junior partner had charge of the collections, and he figured there was just one shure way of nailing the chap, and that was to get to the house Christmas morning.

"I don't remember the name of the village I had to get off at, but I do remember it was a mighty cold night when I arrived there. I got away all right in the morning after the hotel man had given me all sorts of directions about the way to get to Johnston's place, twelve miles away.

"Johnston himself opened it and without waiting for a word from me said: 'Come right in, stranger. Mighty cold morning, ain't it?' So you lost your way."

"I didn't commit myself one way or the other but accepted his invitation by walking into the parlor. There was a bunch of children in the room, one of sixteen or so, who was told to put the horse up. There was a big Christmas tree in the window, all decorated with shiny ornaments and tinsel.

"We chatted for quite a while until he had to go to the barn to help his men tend the horses. I played with the children, and when he got back I had the littlest girl on my knee and was reading to her.

"Started snowing again," Johnston remarked as he stamped his feet on the rag rug outside the parlor door. 'Din-ner'll be ready in a little while, but I'll have the wife hurry it up if you have to get away.'"

"I told him I couldn't think of butting in on the family that way and that if he'd give me a few minutes I'd like to talk a little business with him.
'You'll talk no business to me today,' he said. You'll have dinner and supper with us and a mighty good bed tonight. You can talk business in the morning.

"But—I broke in.
'There's no "but" about it. That's the program, and I'm boss in this house!'

"And let me tell you, boys, I had a bully time!

"After breakfast my host took me into the little office he had between the parlor and dining room and told me to fire away.

"What do you think I said! 'Mr.
Johnston, I don't want to talk business at all. I'm going on my way and I'll come again tomorrow.'

"Don't be afraid. If it's something disagreeable say it out!" he said
'What's the question.

"When are you going to take up those notes of Chumans & Wilson's?
That's what they sent me up from Brooklyn about. But after the friendly way about and your wife have treated me I have nothing more to say. I'm ashamed of my job."

"You're all right, young man," he remarked to my astonishment and relief. "I don't blame you a bit, and I admire the stand you take. Read some more stories to Nellie out of her book while I look after the cattle, and by and by we'll drive to town and I'll fix up the notes for you. I have been pretty hard up for the last few months but I got in a sum of money a few days ago and everything is O. K. now."

"When we got to the bank he gave me a certified check for the $800 he owed the house and a ten dollar bill for myself to buy something for my baby as a present from curly headed Nellie."

French Government Has Decided to Return to Paris.

PARIS, Dec. 4, 4 10 p. m.—The French parliament has been called to meet in extraordinary session at Paris on Dec. 22.

The members of the French cabinet are to leave Bordeaux next week for this city, where they will put themselves at the disposition of the Finance Committee of the Deputies.

There have been several reports during the past month that the French government who went from Paris to Bordeaux in the early part of September, was about to return to Paris and resume their functions of government. The foregoing despatch is the first official announcement that the administration is to return.

Russia's Success.

LONDON, Dec. 4, 10 p. m.—With the lull in the battle in the west which has assumed the proportions of a heavy cannonading at widely separated points, with only occasional infantry attacks, interest is now almost entirely centered in the struggle between the Russian and German armies in the east.

At last the Russians have approached within firing distance of Cracow, their steady advance from Przemyśl having proceeded without any real check. They were reported today to be mounting heavy batteries around the town of Wiejiczka, which they occupied yesterday, and from which the outer forts of Cracow can be reached.

Important as this is—for the fall of Cracow would lay open the roads to Vienna, Breslau and Berlin—the main interest in the east continues to rest with the operation on the irregular front from Czemstochowa through Lodz and Lowicz to the east Prussian border. Official pronouncements as to the progress here are guarded and indefinite, and it is thus difficult to arrive at a conclusion with regard to the course of events. It is apparent, however, that a new battle has developed to the southwest of Lodz, where the Germans have formed a new line with fresh forces brought from Kalisz, and are again trying to penetrate the Russian centre. The Russians, too, have had time to straighten out their line, and in the eyes of the Allies another battle following so closely that just concluded in this region must help them in the long run, for it is urged, win or lose, the Germans must be further weakened, and, in addition, will soon have to turn their attention to the Russian offensive against Silesia and around Cracow.

On the other hand, German experts believe that defeat for the Russians would enable the German generals to unite all their forces for another blow against the Allies in the west.

Traitors

To the Editor of the Courier:

DEAR SIR:—We've defined a traitor as one who aids an enemy to injure or destroy the country. According to that definition we have a great number of traitors in our midst worse than Germans for those we can watch and if necessary confine. But there is an enemy, constantly at work, that is doing more harm than many German spies. It is killing and weakening, especially our young men who should be the defenders of our country in time of need. But when that time of need comes thousands have been killed and of those that are left one half are not fit to serve in the army.

It is many years since a German government commission reported that beer and whiskey were the greatest enemy of the nation and the German Emperor has, for some time, been warning his troops that the great battle of the future would be won by the soberest nations. In this present war Russia, Germany and Norway have prohibited the manufacture and sale of intoxicants and England and France have curtailed their use to a considerable extent. Lord Kitchener forbade even present of wine being sent to the soldiers and Lord Roberts pled with the people not to treat soldiers to intoxicants.

What is Canada going to do about this enemy that is destroying the nation? Are our rulers so scared of the liquor traffic that they will let it go on its murderous course unhindered?
Will they let it go on weakening the vitality of our young men till it will be easy for a sober people to come and make slaves of our children?

Up To Date

It was after Christmas and the little maid of eight was sitting disconsolately by the nursery window.

"Aren't you going to play with your new doll?" asked her mother with a side glance at the discarded present.

"No," said the little girl.

"I thought you liked her so. Don't you?"

"No."

"Oh! but you wanted a nice dolly one that talked, didn't you?"

No response.

"And this one says 'Ma-ma,' 'Papa,'"

The little maid's eyes flashed and sparkled as she replied, "I want a doll that says, 'Votes for women!'"

Button, Button

The minister's wife was busily engaged one afternoon by mending the family clothes when a neighbor called for a friendly chat. After a few moments of news and gossip the caller remarked as she began to inspect a basket of miscellaneous buttons.

"You seem to be unusually well supplied with buttons of all kinds."

"Why, there's one like my husband had on his last winter's suit."

"Indeed," said the minister's wife,
"with a slight smile. 'Well all these buttons were found in the contribution box and I thought I might as well make some use of them. What—must you go! Well, goodbye. Come again
soon!'"

Oil Tanker was Sunk by German Cruiser Lutzpelt

ENGINEERS TELL ABOUT HER DESTROY-TION ON THEIR ARRIVAL AT VAN COUVER—WERE TRANSFERRED TO GERMAN TRANSPORT

VANCOUVER, B. C., Dec. 16.—Engineers Nicolas and Evans, of the oil tanker Cordelia, which arrived in port today from San Francisco, have just been transferred to that vessel after having lost their ship, the E-shoot which six weeks ago was reported to have been sunk off the coast of Ecuador by the German cruiser Lutzpelt. Chief Engineer Nicolas tells the following interesting story of the sinking of the E-shoot.

"On the morning of September 11, at 2 15 a searchlight played on us and a shot was fired across our bows. This was a warning to stop and we promptly did so. At the time we did not know if we had been hailed by a friend or a foe. We quickly found out. Half an hour after the shot was fired we were boarded by two officers and ten men of the German cruiser, all armed. They searched the E-shoot for oil and coal, and before leaving told us to get our bunks ready with as few clothes as we could carry, as they intended to sink the steamer at dawn. We were then about sixty miles off the land. Further instructions compelled us to alter our course and take all instructions from the Lutzpelt. However, at dawn, we were still carrying on but at 11 a. m.
we sighted another steamer on the horizon, and at noon got the order to stop. The vessel proved to be the Marie, a German transport with coal from China for the Lutzpelt. As we stopped we were again boarded by an armed crew. They gave us orders to get into our boats and pull for the Marie. On the Marie they had posted a guard of one officer, a signal man and nine marines, heavily armed, and they kept close watch over us day and night.

"It was from the Marie that we witnessed the sinking of the E-shoot.
In all it took twelve explosive shells to do the work. The last we saw of our ship was at 4 p. m. She was then a mass of flames but she sank on an even keel and as silently as ever.

"We then proceeded to the Gallapagos Island, Ecuador, and arrived at it after the end of the month before we found sail boats to carry us over the six hundred miles which separated us from the mainland coast."

DeWet Rode Fifty Miles

VRYBURG, South Africa, via London, Dec. 6, 1 58 p. m.—General Christian DeWet, the backbone of the South African rebellion, who was captured last Tuesday on a farm at Waterburg, in British Beuchuanland, has been brought here under a strong guard.

The "Will o' the Wisp of the Veldt," as he has been referred to by his pursuers, surrendered finally without the firing of a single shot. A motor car brigade pursued him relentlessly through a sandy and undulating country thickly wooded with thorn bush. The car followed his trail for many miles. DeWet zigzagged and doubled over his course in an endeavor to throw off his pursuers, but the expiring, over-ridden horses he was obliged to abandon in his flight, blazed the way for the men of General Botha who were hounding him down. Before he was finally trapped on the Waterburg farm, General DeWet, with a few of his followers, rode fifty miles without a stop.

Italy's Policy Watching

THE CHAMBER OF DEPUTIES, INCLUDING
THE PRESIDENT, MINISTERS AND THE PEOPLE SHOUTED "HURRAH FOR BELGIUM"

ROME, Dec. 3 (2 25 p. m.)—The Italian Parliament opened today. The sitting of both the Chamber of Deputies and the Senate were witnessed by a large gathering of deeply interested spectators. Among those present were the former Premiers Giolitti, Luzzatti Pelloux. The diplomatic tribune was overcrowded.

Premier Salandra alluded to what he termed the just aspirations of Italy, the whole extreme left arose crying "Viva Trent, Viva Trieste."

The spectators in the Tribunes joined in the demonstration.
The Premier's statement was interrupted frequently with applause. It was noticed that former Premier Giolitti joined with the Deputies in their expressions of approval.

As the session was about to adjourn Deputy Commandini said that he wished to ask the Chamber to send greetings to "Heroic and Unfortunate Belgium."

The whole Chamber, including the President, the Ministers and the people in the tribunes, arose and shouted
"Hurrah, Belgium!"

Premier Salandra said in his statement that the European conflict first broke suddenly without involving Italy directly, and in spite of her efforts to avert the war for the sake of peace and civilization. A careful study of her treaty obligations and the causes of the conflict convinced the government that Italy was not called upon to participate and she accordingly declared her neutrality. In view of the necessity of protecting Italian interests, however, a declaration of neutrality alone was not sufficient to safeguard the country against contingencies which might arise in consequence of such an enormous upheaval.

The political divisions of the continent of Europe, the Premier pointed out, were perhaps about to be modified.
Italy, he added, has vital interests to protect, and justly aspires to maintain her position as a great power and to preserve intact her policies. She must therefore be watchful, powerful and ready for any eventuality.

Thus the supreme task of the Government was to bring the army and navy to a state of preparedness, since when law ceases to govern the only safety of a nation is in force. Italy had no plans for aggression, but must be ready to protect herself against aggression on the part of others.

The Premier announced that economic conditions had been ameliorated.
He asked that the people be ready to make any sacrifice, and that conflict political economic aspirations be set aside for the time being by all parties, groups and classes, since at the present time the solidarity of all elements was essential. The Government would consider it entirely improper, he said, to consider solely the policies of any one party, and accordingly requested the patriotic co-operation of all members of Parliament, that it might possess the strength necessary to accomplish the hard task before it.

King's Visit Gained Wild Enthusiasm Among Troops

LONDON, Dec. 8, 2 50 a. m.—Such enthusiasm has been aroused among the Allied troops by the visit of King George to the battlefield that his stay in France may possibly be extended considerably. On Wednesday, according to a despatch to the Daily Mail, there was a meeting of the Kings of Great Britain and Belgium, President Poincare of France, General Joffre, commander in chief of the French forces; Field Marshall Earl Kitchener, British secretary of state for war;
General French, commander-in-chief of the British forces, and Abbe Lemoine, the famous mayor of Hazebrouck.

The meeting was in the region where the three allied armies were nearest together. General Joffre came from a point in the battle line 200 miles distant by special train. Abbe Lemoine met him and acted as guide for the distinguished group. Yesterday King George inspected the British troops. He traveled along the lines in a motor car. At several points he visited the trenches and talked with the officers and men. A desultory German cannonade meantime was progressing.

Why not dig in? You do not know what business there is waiting around it for you for it, and a Remington or business.

Death at Centerville

A HIGHLY RESPECTED RESIDENT HAS PASSED AWAY.

We regret to chronicle this week the death of Emma L. wife of Mr. Benj. O. Robbins, of Centerville, who passed away Wednesday night, aged 67 years, after being ill but a few weeks, her death being caused by paralysis of the nerves. Mrs. Robbins was one of the most highly respected residents of Centerville. She was a member of the Baptist church and led a thorough Christian life. She had a large circle of friends and as proprietress of the Centerville House, was well known among the travelling public. She was an excellent housekeeper and traveller who stop at the Centerville House have nothing but good words for Mr. and Mrs. Robbins and family, whose only desire always appeared to be the welfare of their patrons. Her place in the community will be difficult to fill, her useful life will long be remembered and her death keenly regretted by her grief-stricken relatives and her large circle of acquaintances.

She is survived by her husband, three sons, Harry, of Dorchester, Mass.; Willard and Walden, of Centerville; three daughters, Mrs. Coran Cossaboon, of Dorchester, Mass., Lucille and Reta at home. She also leaves one brother, Mr. Sanford L. Dakin, Beaver Harbor, N. B., and one sister, Mrs. Roland Morehouse, Centerville; three half brothers and five half sisters. The funeral takes place from her late home this afternoon with interment in the Centerville Baptist cemetery. The Centerville people express their sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Digby's Amateur Athletic Association.

THE OFFICERS AND MEMBERS INVITE THE GENERAL PUBLIC TO A SMOKE NEXT MONDAY NIGHT.

The officers and members of the Digby Amateur Athletic Association invite the general public to a "smoke" in the Bijou Room next Monday night.

The meeting will be called to order about 8:15 and after the minutes have been read and officers elected for 1915, a short programme of music will be given by members of the Digby Glee Club.

Cigars and cigarettes will be furnished free of charge by a number of the members and the whole affair promises to be one of the most pleasant events in the history of the Association.

This smoker has been arranged simply to get our professional and business men interested in the welfare of the Association and to insure a good start for 1915.

We trust that every man in town will be present, and not only spend an enjoyable evening themselves, but give the boys the encouragement they deserve.

Our summer visitors are very much interested in baseball, cricket and other summer games and it is important that we have an Amateur Athletic Association in our town to furnish such amusement.

Miss Raymond's Strange Disappearance.

The sudden and strange disappearance in New York City over a month ago of Miss Helen Raymond is causing anxious and painful suspense to her numerous friends in Digby and Yarmouth. Miss Raymond, who is a very handsome and attractive young lady of 29 years, spent her summers in Digby. She is the daughter of Mr. Norman H. Raymond, formerly of Beaver River, Yarmouth Co., now residing in New York City. Miss Raymond's parents purchased a summer home several years ago in Digby's suburban village of Smith's Cove and their charming daughter was the life of the summer colony there.

Digby's First Iron Building.

Mr. Howard Graham has completed the erection of an iron building in the Racquette for the Imperial Oil Co., known as a wagon shed and pump house. It is 18x23 ft. with 12 ft. posts. Mr. Graham highly recommends this kind of a building, says it will last forever and prove very profitable. This is Digby's first iron one, but it is the fifth building Mr. Graham has erected in town since June. He expects to start another next week.

French M. P.'s at the Front.

Two hundred members at the French parliament, out of the total of 897, are serving with the army. The cabinet is considering how it can best arrange for these members to leave their posts temporarily, so that they may take part in the forthcoming extraordinary session of parliament.

Married in Halifax.

On Saturday at 7:30 o'clock, at the archdeacon's residence, 60 Spring Garden road, Halifax, Clifford Williams was married to Miss Eva May Crosby, daughter of James Crosby, of Bear River. Archdeacon Armstrong officiated. The happy couple were assisted by J. Manuel and Mrs. Mary White.

ONE PRESENT.

The Governor's Wife.

(Yarmouth Times.)

On Thursday evening Yarmouth was favored at the Royal with a visit from H. Price Webber and his well known wife, Edwina Grey. A good audience greeted Mr. Webber and his excellent company, and "The Governor's Wife," the play for the evening, went with the well known swing and smoothness which characterizes all of Price Webber's performances. "The Governor's Wife" is a comedy and in the hands of this company proved to be all it claimed to be—a laugh provoker with a few touches of pathos. Mr. Webber also entertained the audience in his usual witty manner, his local hits bringing forth round after round of laughter and applause. Edith Seaton came in for her share of the applause on account of her brilliant piano playing as also did Frank Oliver, who rendered a new marching song of his own composition, and Tipperary. Come again Price and round out your 40 years.

Hantsport Has a Newspaper.

A new weekly made its appearance last week from Hantsport. It is called the Hantsport Review and is printed at the Windsor Tribune office. It is under the management of Miss Jean U. Fiddling, of the Windsor Tribune, and the Hantsport office by Miss Katherine D. McKay. We bid it welcome and give it our best wishes for prosperity.

25 Years Ago.

(From the Yarmouth Times Files.)

The St. Mary's Bay schooner Ocean Belle, owned by the late Isaac Marchison, of Brighton, Digby County, became a total loss near Boston.

Frank Ross went out on the freight train in place of one of the brakemen and at Weymouth was jammed and sustained a compound fracture at the elbow.

Patriotic Fund.

The members of the inside and outside civil service are all contributing towards the Patriotic Fund Fishery Officer Torrie, of Digby, and all in this department have contributed a day's pay, including Capt. Hadley Blackford, Engineer Arthur Powell, Steward Wm. Berry and seaman Roland Outhouse, of the government patrol boat A.

The happy couple were the recipients of a large number of presents. Mr. Nicholls is among the Digby County boys who have made good in the U. S.

Saturday's St. John Telegraph: Mrs. Elmer H. Yarnbull was hostess on Tuesday at an informal luncheon for Mrs. Ronald MacVey, who sails next Saturday on the steamship Hesperian to join her husband in Salisbury, England. On the same steamer will be Mrs. H. McDonald and Mesdames Macgregor, who also are going to Salisbury, where their husbands are now at.

Officers Not Required at Salisbury, to Return.

LONDON, Dec. 9.—Ninety surplus Canadian officers at the camps at Salisbury, England, who have been anxiously waiting for British news from Ottawa, have been notified that they can apply for temporary commissions in the British army, without separation allowances, or even the Canadian rates of pay, failing which they are to hold themselves in readiness to return to their regiments in Canada at an early date. Some twenty will probably join the Canadian army, but the rest hope to return to Canada, provided there is any reasonable prospect of service in suitable appointments with the regiments now being organized.

This is Queer.

Bellefleur

Mr. and Mrs. William Amberson, of Granville Ferry, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Archie S. Troop.

Miss Mary Chipman and little Miss Nan Chipman spent the week's end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. D. Parker.

Mr. Avar L. Hudson, our Bellefleur's most experienced hunter, was successful a few days ago in capturing a large wild cat on the north mountain, not far from his home.

Miss Carrie Dodge is in Tupperville spending a few days. While there she is assisting in a play given by the young people of that place entitled "The Country Gentleman."

Mr. Ralph Litch, of Lower Granville, who spent several weeks here with Mr. Fletcher Parker, has returned to his home. While here he made many friends who are sorry to know he is not going to spend the winter here.

Gordon Phinney, the only child of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Phinney, is the victim of a very serious gunning accident last Wednesday. While shooting in his father's pasture his gun discharged, destroying one eye and his left hand. Dr. Armstrong, of Bridge town, was called and found it necessary to remove the unfortunate young man to Halifax to the V. G. H. The Dr. accompanied him. At latest accounts he was doing well. Much sympathy is extended to the family. Gordon was an uncommonly bright boy and a general favorite with all.

Weymouth

Mr. R. Knowles, of Kentville, is visiting his uncle, J. A. Grierison, Esq. The smelt season has again opened and the fishermen are making fair catches.

Mr. R. S. Haines spent Sunday at Saulnierville, a guest of his aunt, Miss A. Haines.

Mrs. Charles Powers, of Annapolis Royal, is spending a few days in town, a guest at the Goodwin Hotel.

Messrs. George Journey and Lyman Bartlett arrived from St. John on Saturday afternoon after six weeks' absence.

Messrs. Burdett Bartlett and Ralph Gillin failed to pass the examination in Halifax qualifying for overseas service and returned home Saturday.

Misses Hannah and Pheobe Taylor have returned to Weymouth to spend the winter with Mr. George Taylor, after an absence of several months in Annapolis.

Miss Comeau and pupils of the Weymouth Mills school gave a concert in their school house Friday evening, the proceeds of which go toward the Belgian Relief Fund.

The withdrawal of the S. S. Westport III. from the St. Mary's Bay service must prove a distinct inconvenience to patrons and certainly is noticeable to our residents, as her whistle on Mondays was looked forward to, and now is conspicuous by its absence.

Riverdale

Sorry to report Mrs. Joseph Porter on the sick list.

The ladies of this place have made a nice tumbler quilt for the Belgians. Mr. Selby McCullough, returned home from Bear River, Saturday, Nov. 28th.

Messrs. Everett and Ralph Wagner, of Southville, spent Sunday evening in this place.

Mr. Augustus McCullough, spent Sunday in Easton, the guest of Mr. Charles Mullen.

Mrs. Alfred Coeman and daughter Mildred, are visiting her sister, Mrs. Young, Brighton.

Mrs. Margaret Brooks, who has been visiting her daughters in Easton, returned home Sunday.

Miss Mabel Wagner returned home Saturday from Easton, where she has been visiting relatives.

Mrs. Sankey Mullen and children, of Easton, spent a few days of last week with her sister, Mrs. Alex. Wagner.

A basket social was held in the school house Saturday night, Nov. 28th, in aid of the Belgians. The sum of fourteen dollars ($14.00) was realized. Friends were present from Easton, Southville and Danvers.

Parker's Cove

About all you hear now is the talk of "Santa Claus" by the little ones.

Mr. Robbie Longmire, of Hillsburn, called on Mr. and Mrs. Austin Weir on Sunday.

Miss Myrtle Longmire, of Hillsburn, visited Mrs. Howard McFarvie two days last week.

Preaching service in the Methodist church here on Sunday at half past two by the Rev. Mr. Indoe.

Mr. Harry Longmire, of Hillsburn, called on his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David Miller, on Monday.

Bernard Weatherpoon, of Granville, was an over night guest of Mr. and Mrs. David Miller last week.

The boatmen had a very good week and all report getting good catches of fish. We hope fine weather will continue. It has been a hard fall on the fisher folk.

Mr. Watson Hudson was the guest of his brother, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Hudson, of Hillsburn, last week.

Miss Grace Robinson, accompanied her sister, Mrs. Thomas Wallace, to Boston, where she intends staying for an indefinite period.

Messrs. William Saulnier and Edmund Saulnier, of Comeau's Cove, were down to Salmon River Sunday. Miss Olive Mallot, of Salmon River, for some time residing in the United States, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Willie Comeau, of Comeau's Cove.

Mr. Joseph A. Saulnier is back from St. Paul Island, C. B., where he had been working for Mr. Siffrol Robichaud, of Meteghan Centre, on the government life saving station. He declares himself enchanted with the voyage.

Capt. Raymond V. Comeau has been home for a few days from Bolli vau's Cove, where he is to take charge of the tern sch. Marian Bolli vau, who is actually loading for the West Indies. Capt. Comeau is a promising young man, and we heartily wish our esteemed friend success on his voyage.

Friday, 4th inst., at about 7 p. m., Miss Agnes Comeau, daughter of the late Joseph J. Comeau, of Meteghan River, breathed her last at the home of her uncle, Mr. Theodore Robichaud, at the age of 38 years. The late Miss Comeau had been in poor health for a number of years, suffering from chronic rheumatism, at times enduring excruciating pains. But she suffered with true Christian spirit and fortitude. The funeral took place Monday morning under the direction of undertaker Doyvan. Mr. A. F. Hacho presided at the organ. May her soul rest with the Lord in life everlasting.

10 CENT "CASCARETS"
IF BILIOUS OR COSTIVE

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fumes, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

THE EUROPEAN WAR

Russians Prepared to Give Germans A Terrific Battle.

ALLIES TAKE ADVANTAGE OF SITUATION IN EAST AND FORCE AHEAD IN THE WEST.
—BRITISH FLEET BOMBARDING GERMAN POSITIONS.

There has been very heavy firing along the Belgian coast from the warships of the Allies, which are again bombarding the German positions, and possibly may be attempting to check a reported advance in the neighborhood of Neuport. The French also report advances by the Allies in the Department of Somme, and the capture of the village of Vermelles between Bethune and Lens.

Oost Dunkirke, a village in West Flanders, a little more than two miles to the west of Neuport, has been bombarded by the Germans, which announcement, in the latest official communication issued by the French war office, would seem to indicate a renewal of the efforts of the invading forces to reach the channel ports.

Unofficial despatches say the Germans have been obliged to utilize their light guns in place of the heavy artillery because of the conditions of the ground, owing to inundations.

In the eastern arena the occupation of Lodz by the Germans is considered a remarkable achievement, in view of the manner in which the German lines only a short time ago were threatened by the Russians, and an important step in their proposed movement against Warsaw, the Polish capital. The Russians, however, are again in shape, and terrific fighting may be looked for.

The Austrian war office describes the action in Poland as not yet decisive, although the Russians have been forced to retreat. Likewise, in west Galicia and the Carpathians, the series of engagements continues without any definite result.

The Bourso Gazette, of Petrograd, estimates that Germany has lost 100,000 men in the fighting during the past month around Lodz.

Pope Benedict is endeavoring to effect a truce between the belligerents during the Christmas holidays.

Having received a note of confidence in the parliament, the Italian government maintains its attitude of neutrality, but has dispatched eight battalions of troops to reinforce the troops in Libya, and "to be ready for any aggression." The attitude of Austrian soldiers, it is believed, may force Italy to take drastic steps and that with other things may ultimately bring her into the war on the side of the Allies.

Russians Say German Claims Are Ridiculous.

HAVE TAKEN MANY OF THE ENEMY'S GUNS AND MEN.

PETROGRAD, via London, Dec. 6 (11:40 p.m.)—An official statement issued here described as ridiculous the German claims of having captured enormous numbers of prisoners, cannons and machine guns.

It says that the armies have been fighting continuously, and that it is impossible to estimate the losses. "This fact," continues the statement, "prevents us from publishing an official denial, as the general staff carefully avoids giving any details that have not been verified."

"On the other hand, the German denial that they have lost a single gun is disproved by the fact that in the Bagany district alone, (east Lodz), we took from them twenty-three guns and a large amount of spoils. As to German prisoners, 10,000 have passed one point alone of our front where prisoners are registered."

"Neither do the Germans mention the supply columns which they burned, nor the cannon and ammunition which they abandoned to the forests, and which we are gradually finding."

"The Germans also conceal the losses which they sustained in the November fighting, although witnesses state that never has a field of battle presented such a sight as on the roads of the German retreat toward Styrkow, at some points where we attacked the German flanks, the German dead were piled not less than a metre high. All the inhabitants of the district have been engaged in the work of burying the dead and clearing the fields where the recent combats were waged."

"Several German divisions, especially that of the Guards, have been so severely tried during their efforts to escape from our clutches that they have completely disappeared from the front in order to reorganize their formation."

GERMANS ADMIT LOSING VERNELLES.

BERLIN, Dec. 6.—(By wireless to London, 3:55 p.m.)—The evacuation by the Germans last night of Vernelles, southeast of Bethune, was officially announced in a statement issued here today. The statement says:

"Vernelles was evacuated by us, according to our plan, on account of the continuous French artillery fire, which was causing unnecessary loss. The buildings which remained standing were blown up by us, and our troops occupied positions prepared east of Vernelles, so that the enemy could not follow in this direction."

"Southwest of Altkirch the French renewed their attack with reinforcements, but without success, and they suffered heavy loss."

"Nothing of note has taken place in the war area east of the Mazurian lakes, where the enemy remained quiet. The battle around Lodz is taking its course as we had expected. In southern Poland there is no change in the situation."

"Reports received in Berlin indicate that the Serbians still are capable of offering considerable resistance. The Serbian rear guard in the neighborhood of Arandj-lovace (about forty miles southeast of Belgrade) have delivered several attacks to cover the retreat of the main army."

"Although for two days there have been no details of operations in any of the theatre of war, entire confidence is felt in Berlin that events are proceeding favorably for the German army.

IN POLAND.

"The report that in Poland, operations are following their normal course can only mean success in the German advance, as checks would not be described as normal."

An official statement from the German general headquarters, given out earlier in the day, was as follows: "The report given in the Russian statement of Nov. 29 to the effect that the German attacks in the vicinity of Czenstochowa failed with many casualties to the Germans, is false, the truth being quite the contrary. The attack of the Seventeenth Russian Corps, which approached to within twelve miles of our lines, was repulsed, the Russians taking positions further back, and leaving a large number of killed and wounded."

"From Vienna, it is officially reported that small engagements near Tym bark, Galicia, have been successful to our arms."

"The position in southern Poland is unchanged. The battle continued in northern Poland."

"Southeast of Arandj-lovace, there is stubborn fighting without decision."

Pitiable Plight of Belgian Soldiers in Holland.

DESTITUTE OF BOTH FRIENDS AND NECESSITIES AND COMPELLED TO BE MAIN PASSIVE SPECTATORS OF THEIR COUNTRY'S RUIN.

ROTTERDAM, Dec. 9.—One of the saddest and most pathetic incidents of the invasion and spoliation of little Belgium is the condition of Belgian soldiers interned at Zeist, Holland. Driven across the Dutch border in their retreat before the advancing hordes of Prussia, seventeen thousand soldiers of the Belgian army were met by the boundary guards of Holland, requested to lay down their arms and they will be interned there until the end of this fateful war. Sad and sick of heart, not understanding the rules of neutrality which compelled them to remain passive spectators of the devastation of their country but a few miles away, hungry and ill clad, a mutiny was started a few days ago which was not quelled until seven men were killed and twenty-two wounded.

The other day I visited the camp at Amersfoort where another six thousand Belgian soldiers were interned. They pleaded with me in God's name to send them clothing and boots. The story they told me was most heart-rending. Two months ago, cut off from the main Belgian army, they retreated into Holland, laid down their arms and became in name as well as in fact prisoners for the rest of the war.

The Dutch Government established a camp here. The barracks were first filled, then tents and shacks were put up for those whom the barracks would not hold. Since the day of their internment they have had no change of underclothes, no soap, no socks, no shoes. Their life of idleness bred the inevitable discontent, life was becoming unbearable and when I visited the camp I could plainly see the evidence of what was bound to happen. These poor refugees presented the most dejected and hopeless sight I had ever witnessed.

BEGGING FOR RELIEF.

In all the misery around me hundreds of these men followed us like children begging that we do something to alleviate their misery. They were men of splendid physique, in many men who had fought bravely for their country's honor but now depressed with suffering had almost lost hope of life. I was accompanied by a member of the Salvation Army, who addressed the Belgians in their native tongue, speaking words of comfort and patriotic fervor. Many of his listeners shook with sobs while others looked on with sullen indifference. Two months' imprisonment had numbed their finer qualities, and, with freedom as far off as the end of the war, had brought them to that stage of desperation which culminated in the mutiny at Zeist.

A DELEGATE PROBLEM.

The handling of the prisoners presents a most delicate question for the Government of Holland to deal with. The American Relief Commission has, of course, no jurisdiction in Holland, but help for these Belgian soldiers is urgent, and any assistance in the matter of food or clothing which may be afforded them by the people of other countries will be heartily welcomed by the Government of Holland.

In one building I saw men endeavoring to mend their tattered clothing, while all around lay scores of wretched men. In the dirt and equal of their surroundings and in their enforced idleness all are fit seeds for dangerous mutiny. Many of the interned soldiers were wearing the wooden shoes of Dutch peasants while others hobbled about in pieces of leather that had once been army shoes. The place set aside for the soldiers to meet their wives who also had fled to Holland was an open shed. Here the men are allowed to meet their wives several times a week.

PLEADED FOR HELP.

Probably the most remarkable thing in connection with these soldiers was their earnest begging for Bibles, which, when obtainable, were diligently read.

"Uncle John" Tries to Help in the Campaign.

"Uge them while their souls are capable of this ambition. Last night, now melted by the windy breath of soft petitions, pity and remorse, Cool and congeal again to what it was."

My old friend who dwells amid the apple groves and pear gardens with the glorious old cherry trees interested in his shepherd, leaves worn old copy of Shakespeare and often quotes from it, in proof of anything he wants to emphasize and explain. I had stilled my faithful old dog and we were chatting earnestly about this European or almost world-wide war, as he and I lolled along the pathway shadowed by the setting sun. He had been much exercised by the mutiny among the English great chancellors, Hon. Lloyd George, given in the famed city temple. The form of the sturdy welshman and his ill-spoken words, reminded him of Shaggy, who fought his foes with an ox-goad and put them to flight. There was something of the old Irishman in the make up of my friend, and he was not at all without a touch of the old Irishman's affection as he told me of the daring and sacrifice of the Belgians to save France and delay the hordes of Germany in their effort to capture Paris—fair, noble, beautiful Paris, and desolate everything in their wake and then add a deadly blow at Russia in the far Eastern frontier and finally turn and beat Britain in the rear. "Listen," said he. The Chancellor said this. "The German vulture was hovering over Belgium. It hovered so high that the most discerning falcon might have made a mistake. It thought it was pouncing on a rabbit and it fell on a hedgehog. It has been bleeding and sore ever since. Exactly! said my friend. It is not under the wing of the little nation aroused the anger of the British nation, when this 'hinking bally' wrought this deed of wanton treachery to a nation he had sworn to protect and stalked all through this fair garden and cut down its fair flowers, it is not the nobles at stately and pictures and piles of ancient architecture and the turned and buckled its children and fair women and had its men in the dust, bleeding and maimed. 'Listen again!' This is what the brave man said, 'If this wanton deed of premeditated treachery had been allowed to pass unchallenged, we should have been forced to admit that civilization was a failure, and that the empire of right was broken, and that the world was once more thrown among the nations. The old man's face was almost white with rage when he read me this word too."

"In the last few days I met one of the Chief Leaders of the French Army. He told me his experience of the war in which he had witnessed the carnage, the wear, the terror, wrought in Belgium and France, and he said, 'The man who could do this has the soul of a devil.' That came from the heart of one of the greatest strategists in the French Army." We moved off from the wooded pathway where the last rays of sunlight glinted on the fallen leaves, into the roomy old kitchen and there seated ourselves about the warm old high-back and sitting up the when he turned to me again and said: "Yes, I say. Uge them! Uge them! Just listen to these stirring words: 'We need men, and more men that come forward quickly, the sooner the war will be over. The more knowledge that England has two million men who in a few months will be able to take the field will in itself be an element in the right movement for making peace. Those who decline to offer their services are prolonging the war's agony.' Then his face became grave as he scanned this paragraph and then looked at me and said, 'Hear this! 'Unless men and women are prepared to sacrifice all they possess in this fateful hour, Great Britain is indeed doomed for she will stand forth as the only country whose children are not prepared to sacrifice themselves for her honor.' These are solemn words, 'Uncle John,' and I would like the people to hear them and the young men to heed this call and so I say, 'Uge them! Uge them!'"

The old man was right. It is folly to depend upon the punitive character of Belgium's desolation or the virtues of French civilization. What is the good of arguing about the previous condition of the house when it is all ablaze and the citizens in the upper story cry to be taken down? What wisdom is there in preaching that children shouldn't play in the middle of the street, when the little boy is trampled beneath the wild horse hoofs? Dry cries, "Rescue the inhabitants at once and at all cost! Christian-ism itself calls, rush in and pick up the bruised child!" One might as well reason that Joseph was in prison on account of wearing a coat of many colors or that Judah was a sinner because he was a Jew. The war is not of lowly origin as say that desolation came to poor Belgium because of the rubber trading of past days, or France is laid with invasion solely in return for her fidelity and gay living. Serbia would hardly be waited against if her child a murderer had laid low a poor peasant of Austria who had been selling nuts in the market place in Vienna but because it was the Heir Apparent she is pounced upon and ground to the earth, nor would Austria have tried to coerce the country of the murderer with almost impossible conditions, if the country had been bigger and stronger than Serbia. Nor would the mailed fist have been shaken or the sword brandished if she had been in the stead of Belgium but greater, thoroughly fitted with military equipment equal to her own or superior. But because these were nations so weak and not able to defend themselves therefore the big bullies are to do what they like with them irrespective of their claims to justice and to honor. Three German Cruisers Sunk by British Fleet and Two Others Pursued.

TURKISH COMMANDER SURRENDERS WITH HIS ARMY TO BRITISH—TAKEN BY INDIAN FORCE AT HEAD OF PERSIAN GULF—IMPORTANT TERRITORY NOW IN HANDS OF BRITISH

LONDON, Dec. 9.—It is officially announced here today that the German cruisers Scharnhorst, Gneisenau and Leipzig had been sunk in the South Atlantic. The following statement was issued by the official information bureau:

"At 7.30 a. m. on the 8th of December the Scharnhorst, Gneisenau, Nürnberg, Leipzig and Dresden were sighted near the Falkland Islands by a British Squadron under Vice Admiral Sir Frederick Sturdee.

"An action followed, in the course of which the Scharnhorst, flying the flag of Admiral Count von Spee, the Gneisenau and the Leipzig were sunk. The Dresden and Nürnberg made off during the action and are being pursued. Two colliers were also captured.

"The Vice Admiral reports that the British casualties are very few in number. Some survivors have been rescued from the Gneisenau and the Leipzig."

In addition to the Dresden and Nürnberg, only one German warship—the Karlsruhe—is now unaccounted for in these waters, although there may be one or two armed merchantmen which the Allies have not rounded up.

A BUENOS AIRES REPORT.

BUENOS AIRES, Dec. 9.—Three German merchantmen were sunk by British or Japanese warships off the coast of Terra del Fuego, the southernmost extremity of South America, last Sunday, according to advices just received here.

The information was contained in a wireless despatch to the minister of marine, from the commander of the Argentine war transport Piedra Buena.

The message said a division of warships, which the commander believed to have been either English or Japanese, aggregating five ironclads and one transport, on the morning of December 6, sank one of the Germans in the roadstead of Pictou Island. The two other steamers were sent to the bottom the same evening, outside the harbor of Pictou, near Cape Sanpio.

One steamer belonged to the German Cosmos line. The ownership of the others was not stated, but the commander of the Buena reported that one of them had a yellow funnel with a black ring around it.

TURKISH COMMANDER SURRENDERS

LONDON, Dec. 9, 9.23 p. m.—It is officially announced that Subhi Bey, late governor of Basra, Asiatic Turkey, commander of the Turkish forces at Kurna, yesterday surrendered unconditionally with his troops to the Indian expeditionary force which is operating at the head of the Persian Gulf.

Kurna, subsequently, was occupied by the British who are now in complete control of the country from the junction of the Tigris and Euphrates rivers to the sea and of the richest part of the fertile Delta.

ALLIES HAVE REPULSED ALL GERMAN ATTACKS.

The Germans are attacking the allied line to the south of Ypres in Belgium, but the French announced that they have been repulsed. At some point along the battle front in Flanders and Northern France, the Germans have each day of late made a concerted movement with a view to pushing their advance farther west, or to the coast, but have always failed.

Berlin reports that in the western war theatre a decisive action is likely to start any day. This assertion is based on a telegram from German headquarters which says, "Everything is proceeding according to our programme," and it is noted in Berlin that the German operations thus far have been successful. The bombardment of the Belgian coast, the allied warships between Ostend and Nieuport began Tuesday afternoon, conjunction with land operations, according to a late despatch from Rotterdam.

In the east conditions remain as previously reported, the occupation of Lodz by the Germans being considered certain, as well as a general movement of the Russians against Cracow. German troops have come to the aid of the Austrians at the Cracow fortress, thus stiffening the defenses of the garrison against Russian attacks.

In West Galicia activity along the battle line is increasing, and the Austrian troops, an official statement from Vienna asserts, have driven the Russians from Dubeczec and Wlodzka, taking more than 5,000 prisoners.

Tham is suffering from a severe influenza and has been confined to the front.

The Japanese minister of marine, Vice Admiral Yashiro, makes the announcement that while the war in Europe lasts, the Japanese navy's duties will continue and that the Japanese fleet in conjunction with the British warships is seeking the Germans in South American waters.

The Colombian government has ordered the high-powered wireless station at Cartagena dismantled. This action follows protests made recently by Great Britain and France of alleged violation of neutrality by Colombia.

Messrs. Bernard Morehouse and Augustus Pine had quite an exciting time last week. When returning from their trawls they spied a deer just leaving the shore to swim across St. Mary's Bay. They took chase after it, but just as they were nearing their engine stopped and he landed about one mile below Little River and it was afterwards seen at Tidville. No doubt Mr. Deer is wiser than we take him to be and was hunting for a new location in which to bring up his family where he could reign in peace and quietness from the hunters' guns.

Thrifty Exporters "Doing" Germans.

ROTTERDAM, Dec. 10, via London, 4.50 p. m.—The police today raided a building which they suspected was being used by men who were exporting cocoa to Germany. They discovered not only quantities of cocoa ready for shipment but many barrels of sand and sawdust with which the thrifty exporters were plentifully adulterating the cocoa.

—Surely you haven't beaten those carpets by hand when for a small sum you can hire Fritz Dakin's Vacuum Sweeper.

ANY DYSPEPTIC CAN GET WELL

By Taking "Fruit-a-lives" Says Capt. Swan

Life is very miserable to those who suffer with Indigestion, Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach and Bilitousness. This letter from Captain Swan (one of the best known skippers on the Great Lakes) tells how to get quick relief from Stomach Trouble.

PORT HURON, ONT., May 8th, 1913.

"A man has a poor chance of living and enjoying life when he cannot eat. That was what was wrong with me. Loss of appetite and indigestion was brought on by Constipation. I have had trouble with these diseases for years. I lost a great deal of flesh and suffered constantly. For the last couple of years, I have taken 'Fruit-a-lives' and have been so pleased with the results that I have recommended them on many occasions to friends and acquaintances. I am sure that 'Fruit-a-lives' have helped me greatly. By following the diet rules and taking 'Fruit-a-lives' according to directions, any person with Dyspepsia will get benefit."

Old Santa Claus.

Old Santa Claus sat all alone in his den
With his leg crossed over his knee,
While a comical look peeped out at his eyes,
For a funny fellow is he

His queer little cap was tumbled and torn,
And his wig was all a-wry,
But he sat and mused the whole day long,
While the hours went flying by.

He had been as busy as busy could be
In filling his pack with toys,
He had gathered his nuts and baked his pies
To give to the girls and boys.

There were dolls for the girls and whips for the boys,
With wheelbarrows, horses and drays,
And bigwigs and trunks for dolly's new clothes,
All there in his pack he displays.

Of candy, too, both twist and striped,
He had hand-dipped a plentiful store,
While raisins and figs and prunes and grapes
Hung up on a peg by the door.

"I am almost ready," quoth he, quoth he,
"And Christmas is almost here,
But one thing more—I must write them a book
And give to each one this year."

So he clapped his eyes to his little round nose,
And, seizing the stump of a pen,
He wrote more lines in one little hour
Than you ever could read in ten.

He told them stories, all pretty and new,
And wrote them all out in rhyme,
Then packed them away with his box of toys
To distribute one at a time.

And Christmas eve when all were in bed
Right down the chimney he flew,
And, stretching the stockings leg out at the top,
He clapped in a book for you.

Ode to our Sailors. Toll the Bell.
Toll for our British sailors brave, the lads that are no more
Who lie beneath the ocean wave, their watch in life is o'er.

Some met their death by treacherous mines and some by submarine
What stronger test to try one's soul, than danger that's unseen.

And some were off the Chilean coast, the enemy was nigh, Outnumbered though in ships and guns, they knew not how to fly;

No doubt they thought of Nelson then, and what his signal read,
And nobly fought, midst bursting shells, then sank to ocean's bed.

Mild winter's singing blasts and storms, they gave no wide domain,
The sea king keeps his tryst despite the wind, and cold and rain.

We rest in peaceful beds at night, because he rales the waves,
But for Great Britain's might at sea, we should be German slaves.

Then let us try like men to do the very best we can,
To help our noble sailor lads and for his com fort plan.

And the silent one's that's gone the bell
for them will toll,
But there's no sleep in waters that can hold the human soul.

Save your Hair! Get a 25 cent bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is mute evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff—that awful scourge. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

MY CHRISTMAS TREE

I have been looking on this evening at a merry company of children assembled around that pretty German toy, a Christmas tree.

Being now at home again and alone the only person in the house awake, my thoughts are drawn back by a fascination which I do not care to resist to my own childhood. Straight in the middle of its growth by no encroaching walls or soon reached ceiling, a shadowy tree rises, and, looking up the dreamy brightness of its top, for I observe in this tree the singular property that it appears to grow downward toward the earth. I look into my young Christmas recollections.

All toys at first I find. But upon the branches of the tree, lower down, how thick the books begin to hang—thin books, in themselves at first, but many of them, with deliciously smooth covers of bright red and green!

"A was an archer and shot at a frog" Of course he was! He was an apple pie also, and there he is! He was a good many things in his time, was a and so were most of his friends except X who had so little versatility that I never knew him to get beyond Xerxes or Xantippe.

But now the very tree itself changes and becomes a bean stalk, the marvelous beanstalk by which Jack climbed up to the Giant's house.

Good for Christmas time the ruddy color of the cloak in which the tree making a forest of itself for her to trip through with her basket. Little Red Riding Hood comes to me one Christmas eve to give me information of the cruelty and treachery of that dissembling wolf who ate her grand mother with out making any impression on his appetite and then ate her after making that forcible joke about his teeth.

She was my first love I felt that if I could have married Little Red Riding Hood I should have known perfect bliss. But it was not to be and there was nothing for it but to look for the wolf in the Noah's ark there and put him last in the procession on the table as a monster who was to be degraded.

Oh, the wonderful Noah's ark! It was not found seaworthy when put in a washing tub, and the animals were crammed in at the roof and needed to have their legs well shaken down before they could get in over their heads and then ten to one they began to tumble out of the door which was but imperfectly fastened with a wire latch. But what was that against it?

Again a forest and somebody up in a tree—not Robin Hood, nor Valentine, nor the Yellow Dwarf; I have passed these and all Mother Bunch's wonders without mention—but an eastern king with the glittering scimitar and turban. It is the setting in of the bright Arabian Nights.

Oh, now all common things become uncommon and quite enchanted to me! All lamps are most wonderful. All rings are talismans. Common flower pots are full of treasure, with a little earth scattered on the top trees are for Ali Baba to hide in; beestinks are to throw down into the Valley of Diamonds, that the precious stones may stick to them and be carried by the eagles to their nests, whence the traders, with loud cries, will scurry them. All the dates imported come from the same tree as that unlucky one with whose shell the merchant knocked out the eye of the genie's invisible son.

But, hark! The waits are playing, and they break my childish sleep. What images do I associate with the Christmas music as I see them set forth on the Christmas tree! Known before all others, keeping far apart from all the others, they gather round my little bed—an angel, speaking to a group of shepherds in a field; some travelers, with eyes uplifted, following a star; a baby in a manger; a child in a spacious temple, talking with great men; a solemn figure, with a mild and beautiful face, raising a dead girl by the hand; again, near a city gate calling back the son of a widow on his bier to life; a crowd of people looking through the open roof of a chamber where he sits and letting down a sick person on a bed with ropes; the same, in a temple, walking on the waters; in a ship again, on a seashore, teaching a great multitude; again, with a child upon his knee and other children around; again, restoring sight to the blind, speech to the dumb, hearing to the deaf, health to the sick, strength to the lame, knowledge to the ignorant, again, dying upon a cross, watched by armed soldiers, a darkness coming on, the earth beginning to shake and only one voice heard. "Forgive them, for they know not what they do!"

Encircled by the social thoughts of Christmas time, still let the benignant figure of my childhood stand unchanged. In every cheerful image and suggestion that the season brings may the bright star that rested above the poor roof be the star of all the Christian world.

A moment's pause, O vanished tree, of which the lower boughs are dark to me yet, and let me look once more. I know there are blank spaces on thy branches, where eyes that I have loved have shone and smiled, from which they are departed. But far above I see the raiser of the dead girl and the widow's son—and God is good!

Farmer's Short Courses

Never in the history of Nova Scotia has its people's thoughts turned so earnestly to the farm. They see today the progressive farmer prosperous and in good circumstances, while the stress of hard times is more or less felt by the urban population. The farmer is receiving good prices for the products of his farm and he is in no danger of being thrown out of work. Many there are dwelling in the towns, who today regret that they separated themselves from the noble task of tilling the soil, and without a doubt there will be a marked movement back to the land within a year.

In a large measure, the splendid position occupied today by the farmers of Nova Scotia is due to the improved methods adopted as the result of educational campaigns carried on by the Department of Agriculture.

One medium that has played a large part in these bettered conditions has been that of the Agricultural Short Courses, annually held in connection with the Nova Scotia Agricultural College, at Truro. During the past these Classes have been very largely attended and the expectation is that the Classes of 1915 will outnumber any of the previous sessions. A sort of association of good fellowship has sprung up about these courses that makes them yearly more attractive, and the man who has once been there feels a yearning to again attend, renew acquaintanceships and profit by the instruction given.

At these Short Courses, every branch of work pertaining to the farm is taken up and discussed in a most interesting manner. Practical demonstrations are carried on, and the student is left to his own free will to devote himself to such subjects as most interests him.

Marked interest always centres around the Live Stock owned by the Farm, and in this regard the Provincial Farm is stronger today than at any previous time in its history. These animals are paraded daily in the large pavilion and every opportunity afforded the farmer to critically examine them. Of perhaps premier importance to Provincial agriculturists is the possibilities for successful dairy farming. The value of good blood in this respect will be fully demonstrated at this year's Course. The College herd contains five cows that have given 75,000 lbs. or thirty seven and a half tons of milk in the past year. This is an average of seven and a half tons per cow per year. The average production of Nova Scotia cows is close to 3,500 lbs. a year, at which rate the five College cows have produced more than twenty one ordinary cows.

This production was due in part to extra feed, but as much to good breeding.

Here is a little sum in arithmetic that needs no comment. The average cow eats about Fifty Dollars worth of feed per year. The five College cows eat about One Hundred Dollars worth of feed each. At 30c. per quart, the average cow gives in one year, $19 worth of milk, and eats $50 worth of feed. The College cows gave $210 worth of milk, and ate $100 worth of feed. One did not pay for its feed, the other had $110 left above cost of feed. Good blood in dairy cows is worth money to the farmer. This herd, and many others from neighboring dairy farms, will be examined at the Short Courses, and the whole cost of breeds, feeds, milk production gone fully into.

A postal address to Principal M. Cumming, Agricultural College, Truro, will bring full particulars regarding the Short Course. The dates are January 5th to 15th. Tuition is absolutely free. No text books required. Good board can be obtained at reasonable rates in private families.

Threatened Corner in Beans

Presumably acting in concert, a Michigan elevator and a grain company of Cincinnati (not a bean packer or a regular bean buyer) have purchased a great many cars of beans and stored them in Indianapolis, Cincinnati, Toledo, Pittsburgh and New York, with the apparent idea of cornering the bean market. In the face of this tremendous buying, elevators in Michigan are loaded up with beans and have numerous cars on sidings on which they are paying demurrage.

The chief argument of food gamblers seems to be as follows: First, that the numerous United States Belgian Relief Committees will be obliged to purchase large quantities of beans in the American market to supply the starving women and children of Belgium; and second, city and county authorities throughout this country will be obliged during the coming winter to set up numerous soup houses and purchase immense supplies of beans to feed those people who are unemployed owing to the cessation of many kinds of business on account of the war.—The Optimist.

It's No Secret

Isn't it strange that so few men discover the secret of success in life. "Yes but it's stranger still that the secret is still a secret. Surely some of the men who discovered it must have told it to their wives."

Christmas in the Arctic.

A good many years ago the mission aries in Labrador began to make use of white turnips at Christmas time. Maybe our brethren in their first attempts to grow something on this bleak coast were glad surprised at the heartiness and the returns this vegetable yielded, and in order to make the most of it and with an eye to benefiting the Eskimos they reserved a quantity of these nice large turnips for Christmas. Then on Christmas eve, during one of the most impressive services of the year, these same turnips were served with a small lighted candle stuck in the middle, and each child in the community, from the infant in arms to the boy or girl of fourteen, received one of them as a Christmas gift. White turnips are classed at home among the inferior or common fruits of the field, but this is by no means the case in Labrador. Most of these people of the far north have never seen an apple or an orange or a plum, and as they cannot think of these fruits by comparison the turnip occupies the highest rung of the ladder in their estimation. You ought to see one of these Eskimo boys or girls bite into a turnip, writes Christian Schmitt in the Christian Herald. At Christmas I have seen more than once not only the turnip disappear, but the candle also.

How to Study Human Nature

THE MAN WHO CAN BUTTER UP HIS WRATH AT ALL TIMES IS A CORKER.

(Liverpool Advance)

If a man wants to get acquainted with human nature, let him edit a newspaper for a short time. He knows nothing of the ups and downs of life until he has served in this capacity. He may have preached, conducted a bank, sold goods, traded horses, practised law, sawed wood or operated a pop corn factory, but he needs a few months' experience as an editor in chief of a country newspaper to complete his knowledge of the eccentricities of human nature.

THAT COLD YOU HAVE

Here is a suggestion for the girl who has little to spend for the pleasure of gift giving: Get a yard of fine handkerchief linen, which will make nine handkerchiefs. Fifteen cents worth of flax will work a neat scallop and a simple design in one corner of these, and you have nine hand embroidered linen handkerchiefs, and have you a friend who would not appreciate one? One evening will suffice for stamping. Then keep one where you can and will pick it up when you have nothing special to do, and you will have them finished without just knowing when you did it. Ten cents for a gift you may be proud of, too! Carefully chain stitch the scallop before embroidering. This will answer for a filling and also help to prevent fraying when the handkerchief is laundered.

Best Way to Put up a Christmas Tree

The best and easiest way to put up a Christmas tree has never been patented or published—in fact, it is so simple that it could not be patented. Having failed one Christmas eve to provide a suitable foot or base for the family tree, necessity compelled me to invent one, because the two young members of the family would not hear of Christmas without a tree.

So I sawed the butt of the tree square, then trimmed off a few of the lowest branches and set the tree in a good sized stone jar. The jar was then filled with stones, pebbles, pieces of brick and coal. All this material was packed down firmly and the position of the tree so adjusted that it stood perfectly straight.

When the tree was in position little Grotel had a happy thought. "Let us give the tree some water," she said, "just as if it were a big flower." And we filled the jar with water. Then we covered the stones with bits of silver tinsel and artificial snow, and now our tree looked as if it was actually growing in a big jar.

From time to time, as the water was drawn up by the tree, we refilled the jar, and the result was that we kept our tree green and fresh for a month. Since that year our Christmas tree is always put up in that way, and we can keep it as long as we wish. A tin pail, a tub or any deep vessel can be used to take the place of the stone jar, and pieces of coal or coke can be used instead of stones to hold the tree in place.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedial. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. Nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surface.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circular, free.

Cheap Christmas Gifts

Here is a suggestion for the girl who has little to spend for the pleasure of gift giving: Get a yard of fine handkerchief linen, which will make nine handkerchiefs. Fifteen cents worth of flax will work a neat scallop and a simple design in one corner of these, and you have nine hand embroidered linen handkerchiefs, and have you a friend who would not appreciate one? The First Christmas Card

The honor of the Christmas card is ascribed frequently to the late W. C. T. Dobson, an English painter. In December, 1814, a date earlier than that given to any other claim, he was anxious to send some more novel Christmas greeting than that of a letter to a distant friend, and the idea occurred to him to make a little sketch symbolizing the spirit of the season. The sketch depicted in its centre a family party gathered around the Christmas dinner table raising glasses to the health of absent friends. Underneath were the words, "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to you," while on each side was a smaller sketch representing an act of benevolence. Mr. Dobson's card so pleased its recipient that the following year he designed another card, of which he sent lithographed copies to a large circle of friends. Other artists followed his example, and the circle enlarged until an enterprising printer saw there was money in the business, and within a few years from its birth the Christmas card was to be seen in hundreds of shop windows.

Christmas Pudding.

One tablespoonful of butter stirred with two tablespoonfuls of brown sugar until creamy; then add one cupful of sifted flour, to which add one and one half level teaspoonfuls of baking powder. Add one cupful of milk and one cupful of dry old bread crumbs crumbled very fine. Stir in half a cupful of seeded raisins and dried currants, one fourth cupful of broken or chopped walnut meats, the grated rind of one lemon and a little grated nutmeg. Pour into a far mold and steam four hours. If mold has a tube in the center the hole thus made in the pudding can hold half an egg shell in which the alcohol to burn may be placed, or it can be used to hold a few sprigs of holly. Serve with a liquid sauce.

Both Doll and Penwiper

A penwiper is made by taking any little doll with a pretty face and dressing it in black. Make the skirt long and of heavy black material, so heavy that the doll will stand alone, and across her shoulders pin a tiny white handkerchief. Next put a little white apron on her and then paste a little white cap on her head, and you will have a neat little nurse. If you have sleeves in the doll dress it is a good idea to sew a Red Cross badge on. Make the skirts suitable for the penwiper.

Why He Worried.

"What's the matter, little boy?"
"Mama's going an' drowned all the kittens."
"Dear, dear! Now that's too bad!"
"Yep, an' she p'promised—boo-hoo—that I could do it!"

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Digby, December 18, 1914

Monday's South East Gale

THE ROUGHSIDE CAUSED CONSIDERABLE DAMAGE ALONG DIGBY BEACH AND THE ISLANDS.

A south east gale which commenced at Digby about six o'clock Monday morning continued until eleven a. m. causing a heavy sea in Digby Bay and in St. Mary's Bay on the south east side of Digby Neck.

At Digby the only vessel anchored off the water front was the fishing schooner Venus, Capt. Harry White, which at about 10:30 began dragging her anchor. The government steamer Curlew, Capt. Milne, which was docked at the government pier, went to her assistance and towed her to a safe anchorage.

Schr. Albert J. Lutz, Capt. John Apt, successfully docked in the R. C. R. quette, with the aid of the tug Moto.

In the meantime the fishing schooner Grace Darling, Capt. Roy Casey, which was anchored off Port Wade, began dragging toward the shore. A telephone message was sent to Annapolis asking the steamer Granville to come to her assistance. A line was fortunately run to the breakwater and with a crowd of willing helpers the vessel was docked before the steamer arrived.

At Bay View the heaviest sea washed up on the beach which had been known there for many years. The life saving boat Daring ran in the R. C. R. quette for shelter as it was thought she might part from her moorings.

At Lakeside the road was blown off a barn and other minor damages reported.

At Little River the seas broke over the government breakwater for several hours, moving buildings along the water front and causing other damage.

At Freeport there was much damage along the water front. The lifeboats were washed away and in many places, logs were seen floating in the roads and several small boats filled and sunk.

At Westport schr. Curlew, owned and commanded by Capt. George Denton, had her bulwarks damaged while lying at the government pier. Several doors were also broken up, one of which belonged to the Curlew.

The S. B. Yarmouth, Capt. McDonald, was nearly an hour late arriving at Digby from St. John.

About 11:30 the wind changed, coming from the south, then south west, and finally north west, which continued until yesterday, lying up shipping all along the coast.

The government breakwater at Meteghan was considerably damaged and for a time a big sea prevailed along the south east side of the Bay of Fundy and St. Mary's Bay.

DIGBY'S AMATEUR ATHLETIC ASSOCIATION HELD A SUCCESSFUL SMOKER MONDAY NIGHT.

A large number was present at the D. A. A. A. smoker in the Bijou Dream Theatre last Monday evening.

After the meeting had been called to order and dues collected for 1915, new officers were elected as follows:

O. S. Dunham, President.
A. L. M. Seaby, Vice President.
F. L. Anderson, Secretary.
Ralph Dakin, Treasurer.

Sheriff Smith and A. J. Dillon were appointed tellers and H. K. Kiley gathered up the ballots.

The following committees were elected: Finance and Auditing—H. E. Jones, N. W. Hogg and C. F. McBride.

Hockey—Geo. Nason, Manager; L. G. Smith, Captain.

The officers for baseball and cricket will be elected at the March meeting.

A. D. Daley and I. Y. Winchester were appointed a committee to solicit membership. The dues are $1.00 per year and it is thought that almost every citizen in town will become a member or continue their membership at the low rate charged.

Music was furnished by members of the Glee Club. The cigars, cigarettes and the amount of the hall rent was contributed by a half dozen of the members and the whole meeting was a big success.

The D. A. A. A. has secured the Victoria rink for hockey practice every evening (except Saturday) between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock.

The whole town appears to be back of the D. A. A. A. this season and the hockey matches will no doubt be a big success and prove very interesting amusement for our citizens during the winter months.

Applicants wishing to join the hockey team will please report to Manager Nason at the Yates Studio, tomorrow (Sat.) evening, at 7 o'clock.

Mr. Bowers' Birthday Party.

A pleasant event took place at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Bowers, Westport, last Tuesday evening, it being his 60th birthday. A large number of his friends were present from Westport. Among the out of town guests were Miss Gilliat, of Granville Ferry, and Miss Cynthia Bowers, of Baskatoon. An original poem, written for the occasion, was read by Mr. Lloyd Bailey and a reply in poetry was also read. As usual Mr. Bowers was the life of the evening and all his guests had a splendid time. He also received a large number of birthday cards conveying greetings from abroad.

A Big Crowd at Hill Grove

There will be a big crowd at Hill Grove next Tuesday and Wednesday to attend H. T. Worne & Co.'s special sale, which takes place at that store. Their advertisement appears on the fourth page of today's Courier. We predict it will be the biggest crowd of people and teams ever seen at that village in one day.

Getting Desperate.

Owing to the scarcity of copper in Germany the Government intends to commandeer all copper cooking and household utensils. Maximum prices are to be introduced for aluminum, antimony, nickel and tin.

OF A LOCAL NATURE

—St. John Business College has our thanks for a handsome calendar for 1915.

—O. H. thousand moose killed in Nova Scotia is the official record for the past season.

—"Stan" Titus, the well known meat dealer, has an advertisement in today's Courier.

—There was good sleighing in Halifax, Yarmouth and along the south shore last week.

—The initiatory degree will be conferred on a candidate in St. George's Lodge of Oddfellows tonight.

—Nearly $14.00 was realized from the 15c tea held in Holy Trinity Hall on the 10th inst. for the Belgian relief fund.

—An order for a new trial has been granted by the appeal court in the case of Simmons vs. Dominion Atlantic Railway Co.

—Digby has not been favored with any sleighing this winter, while some of our sister towns have enjoyed some very nice going.

—Services will be held on Christmas Day at Holy Trinity Church at 8 and 11 a. m., and at St. Paul's, Marshall town, at 2 p. m.

—It is announced that the Bank of Vancouver has suspended payment.

—The court is still sitting and depositions will be paid in full.

—Don't forget the meeting of the Digby County Farmers' Association in the Court House tomorrow (Saturday) afternoon at 2 o'clock.

—Read the Courier's ads, and spend your money in Digby and vicinity. Do not send out of the province for what you can buy at home.

—Rev. W. S. Ryder, of Acadia, will preach in the Digby Baptist church next Sunday morning and evening and at Hill Grove in the afternoon.

—All persons who have work completed for the local Red Cross society are requested to deliver the same at Mrs. Eber Turnbull's, Saturday afternoon.

—For the next two weeks the COURIER will go to press on Thursdays instead of Fridays. Correspondence and advertising copy must reach us a day earlier than usual.

—A number of our merchants have beautifully trimmed windows and everything points towards a busy week. Digby's stores will be open every night until Christmas.

—Mr. G. B. Kyle, a student at Pine Hill College, Halifax, will hold services in the Bay View Presbyterian church during the Christmas season, beginning next Sabbath morning, Dec. 20th.

—Shortliffe's Hall, for which there has been very little demand since the Sons of Temperance Division ceased operations in Digby, is being transformed into a tenement. The work is in charge Mr. Allen Levy.

—Now is the time for the Municipality of Digby to form a Grand Road Association. We trust that something will be done along that line while the Municipal Council is in session in Digby next month.

—There are too many lotteries being held in the town. They are against the law when conducted fairly. A "crooked" one has caused considerable talk and the guilty one no doubt regrets the step he has taken.

—Mr. Nathaniel McGregor's block recently injured by fire has been thoroughly repaired and Mr. Gaudet has reopened his Victoria Boarding House and is in a better position than ever to attend to the wants of his patrons.

—Middleton Outlook: E. V. Thomas, who has been engaged in the tinorial business in Middleton for 25 years past, has sold out to N. O. Cummings who for nearly two years has been in his employ. Mr. Thomas has been a punctual and honorable business man who will certainly be missed.

—Christmas service will be held in Grace Methodist church on the forenoon of Friday 25th Dec. at 11 o'clock. Appropriate music will be given there, as well as on Sunday, 27th, and the special Christmas offerings will be devoted to worthy objects. The great war should not be allowed to impair in any degree the worthy celebration of the coming of the Prince of Peace.

Advertising Locals

—Bargains in White Mountain Freezers at Dakin Bros. 11

—H. T. Worne & Co. are selling 12 lbs. of onions for 25c. 12

—D. Sproule & Co. will give free a nice calendar with every barrel of flour purchased as long as the calendar lasts. 18c

—One of the latest things in pocket flashlights. The nickel cigarette case pocket style at Dakin Bros. This makes a dandy Xmas present. 11

—It pays to go after it. Do not wait around for business these days. Circularize your prospects with a Remington or Smith Premier Typewriter and one of our new Edison Rotary Mimeographs. 11

—A. Milne Fraser, Halifax, N. S. 11

—There is no possibility of any firm continuing in business and selling Tea of the quality of "SALADA" for less money. You can get "SALADA" Brown Label from your grocer at 35c a pound. Blue Label at 45c, and Red Label at 55c a pound, and these teas are the life of the evening and all his guests had a splendid time. He also received a large number of birthday cards conveying greetings from abroad.

—Pure and free from dust, which so many other teas are loaded with, to reduce their cost. 11

—Shooting Accident at Round Hill. 11

A shooting accident occurred near Round Hill, Annapolis Co., on Monday last week, when Joseph Halliday was cruising in the woods looking for game. By the accidental discharge of his gun, coming in contact with the limb of a large, cherry log in the spine and the lungs. He was four miles away in the woods when the accident happened, yet he walked and crawled to his home. Medical aid was summoned and he is doing as well as could be expected, but it is thought that some time must elapse before he is fully recovered from its effects. 11

—Digby Remembers Vice-Admiral Sturdee 11

Many residents of Digby pleasantly remember Vice Admiral Charles Frederick Sturdee, the hero of Tuesday's naval battle in the South Atlantic, when he was lieutenant on H. M. S. Northampton and during her stay in the Halifax station occasionally visited Digby waters. During a visit here in 1880 the then young lieutenant went on a moose hunting trip accompanied by Digby and St. John sportsmen. 11

SUBURBAN NOTES

What is Going on Outside the Town in Neighboring Villages

PICKED UP BY CORRESPONDENTS IN DIGBY COUNTY AND ELSEWHERE—MARRIAGES, DEATHS, PERSONALS AND OTHER ITEMS OF INTEREST.

Port Wade

Capt. Ansel Casey had the misfortune to lose a fine cow last week. Mr. Fred Adams, of Bay View, Digby Co., spent the week end with Capt. and Mrs. J. W. Snow.

We have been favored the last three days with a small flurry of the beautiful, making nice slipping in the fields.

We seem to be a poor benighted people here. We have no public school and it looks a little uncertain whether we shall have any after vacation.

W. H. Anthony has had two calves on the mountain till the 10th this month. They came in looking well, having made an 8 month grazing season, not too bad for old Nova.

Mr. Harry White has taken the schooner Venus with men for three days for the season's haddocking in the Bay. Mr. White has an experienced crew and no doubt will make good.

Messrs. R. H. Martell, of Halifax, and George R. Snow, of Hampton, have been through Lower Granville, Port Wade and Victoria Beach the past week. Mr. Martell has made a number of people happy by restoring the light.

Mrs. John S. Hayden, of Lynn, Mass., having received a telegram with the sad information of the death of her mother, came home Saturday to attend the funeral. Mrs. Robert Thompson was buried in the Baptist cemetery here on Sunday afternoon, the 13th. Rev. T. E. MacWilliam officiated in the funeral exercises. The deceased leaves a husband and three daughters, Mrs. John S. Hayden, Mrs. Wm. Westover and Mrs. Truman McGrath to mourn the loss of a kind wife and mother.

The high wind and storm of Monday morning caused the schooner Grace Darling to part her hawser and would have gone on the rocks but for the Capt. and few hands aboard who put over the second anchor and telephoned the S. S. Granville, Capt. Collins, which arrived about two hours later, but the wind had abated and Capt. Casey had collected a number of men who with a line to a mooring on the wharf succeeded in pulling the vessel from her perilous position. The S. S. Granville not being needed proceeded on her way to St. John. The Grace Darling then hoisted sail and sailed for Digby. The tremendous sea was such that men could not get ashore in the early morning nor could any boat get out to the vessel. But for the timely breaking away from her mooring of a power boat which was manned by Mr. Horace Snow risking his life in a small tender and carrying lines from the vessel to the wharf it was possible that the crew and vessel would have been lost. A number of small boats were broken up.

Belleisle

Miss Annie Bent is visiting friends in Tupperville. Mrs. Edwin Dodge is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Henry P. Troup.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Morey, of Boston, are visiting Mrs. M's father, Mr. John B. Gesner.

Mrs. Archie P. Troup is spending a week with her father, Mr. John Robble, of Lower Granville.

The Rev. George W. Beck is expected here Tuesday night to speak in the interest of the Lord's Day Alliance work.

Rev. Mr. Underwood and Rev. Mr. Reynolds, of Bridgetown, are organizing a Red Cross Society in the Hall at Belleisle this week.

Mrs. Walter Milbery and Miss Hannah Tanche spent Sunday in Annapolis Royal with their brother, Principal J. W. Tanche.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Bent are moving this week to their new home in Granville Centre. We are indeed sorry to have them leave Belleisle.

Belleisle Division is in a very flourishing condition this winter. We have had several initiations and are preparing for an "At Home," during the holidays.

Deputy Harry G. Parker went to Upper Granville last week and organized a Band of Hope beginning with a membership of twenty-five. Miss Tache, the teacher there and Supt. of the Band, is a member of Belleisle Division.

Prineadale

Glad to report Mr. Osmond Dunn, a little better.

Misses Jennie Ferner and Bessie Wright spent Saturday at Clements vale.

Messrs. Eustace Wright and Lester Fraser drove to Clements vale on business Friday.

Mr. David B. Wright, from Clements vale, spent a couple of days with relatives here this week.

Mr. Eldon Fraser returned Thursday from Queens Co., with another yoke of those nice steers.

A very pleasant event took place on Wednesday evening, when about twenty-five of the young people met at the home of Freeman Fraser, to give him a surprise party in honor of his nineteenth birthday. He received a number of presents. After a pleasant evening of games a dainty lunch was served, the birthday cake being the most attractive and caused quite a lot of excitement as there was a piece of money in it. The company broke up well pleased with the evening.

Weymouth

J. Boyd McNeill, Esq., spent a few days of last week in St. John. Miss H. E. Thurber arrived from St. John Saturday and spent a few days of this week here.

Mr. J. A. Grierson was a passenger to Halifax Monday, purposing to be gone the greater part of the week on legal business.

The last of the week will see the coming and departing of the various teachers and scholars for their respective homes, to spend the Christmas holidays.

Mrs. W. F. Journeay entertained a company of friends to dinner last Thursday evening in honor of her brother, Mr. Alfred Hood, of British Columbia.

Miss Lea has returned to her home in Bridgetown, the present millinery season having closed. She purposes returning in the spring to carry on the business for Messrs. Journeay Bros.

Mr. Geo. O. Hankinson is having the second story of his store converted into a hall. We learn it is to be leased by Messrs. Powers Bros. for a number of years. Modern chairs and furnishings are to be placed in position and in many ways add to the comfort of the patrons.

The present week has seen the removal of the last of the employees of Messrs. Powers and Brower. During the past few weeks the number has gradually diminished as the work nears completion. The piers are ready for the steel to be placed in position. In the spring representatives of Messrs. Powers and Brower are to return to tear down the old bridge. Among those leaving this week is Mr. F. Bird, of Woodstock, who has taken such an interest in, and so ably assisted the choir of the Methodist church here. The pastor on Sunday morning made suitable remarks, extending the thanks of the church to him for his valuable assistance.

Sandy Cove

Miss Thelma Griffith spent last week at Freeport.

Mr. Edward Crowell, of Roxville, was in town last week.

We regret to report Mrs. Frank Saunders on the sick list.

Mrs. Guy Morehouse spent a few days of last week at Truro.

Miss Margaret Saunders visited friends at Centreville, last week.

Mr. George King, of Annapolis, was at the Village House last week.

Mrs. Harry Jensen who has been in New York for the past two months arrived home on Saturday last.

The whist club was entertained by Mrs. Wm. Burns on Thursday. All present report a pleasant evening.

Mrs. Fred Merritt, who has been visiting relatives in Marblehead and Lynn, arrived home on Saturday last.

Mr. Roy Sypher, of Fraser & Thornton Co., Quebec, is the guest of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sypher.

The ladies of the Methodist Church held a chicken supper in "Burns' Hall" on Friday evening from which the sum of $37.00 was realized for church purposes.

Automobiles are still seen running from Little River and Centreville and we are told even though at this time of the year it is very comfortable and enjoyable.

Mr. and Mrs. Alex McKay and family, who have been residing at Roxville, arrived home last week and will occupy their residence here for the winter months.

Mr. Bertram Morehouse, who has been attending Normal School at Truro, arrived home on Saturday on his vacation, which he will spend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Morehouse.

Mrs. Gladys Crowell, of Normal School, Truro, is spending her vacation with her parents, Capt. and Mrs. David Morehouse, also Mr. Lee Crowell, who has been employed at Panama.

Westport

Miss Eiva Titus has arrived from Truro to spend the holidays.

The stork arrived on the 5th with a girl baby at the residence of Mr. and Arthur Hicks.

Mrs. Helen Pack has gone to Weymouth to reside with her daughter, Mrs. Frank Beattie, for the winter.

The social tea and sale held by the ladies of the Baptist church on the 11th inst. amounted to about $85.00.

10 CENT "CASCARETS" FOR LIVER AND BOWELS

Cure Sick Headache, Constipation, Bloatingness, Sour Stomach, Bad Breath—Candy Cathartic.

No odder how bad your liver, stomach or bowels; how much your head aches; how miserable you are from constipation, indigestion, bloatingness and sluggish bowels—you always get relief with Cascarets. They immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your liver and bowels clean; stomach sweet and head clear for months. They work while you sleep.

THE EUROPEAN WAR

British Sink the Nurnberg and Corner the Dresden.

DAIRING RAID ON HARBOR AT DOVER—GERMAN SUBMARINE SAID TO HAVE MADE NIGHT ATTACK—FIRING MANY SHOTS AND SOME OF THE BOATS MAY HAVE BEEN SUNK.

LONDON, Dec. 15, 7:40 p. m.—The official bureau announced this afternoon that the German cruiser Nurnberg, one of the warships which escaped from the English in the engagement of December 14, had been sunk. The text of the official bureau statement reads:

"A further telegram has been received from Vice Admiral Sturdee, reporting that the Nurnberg was also sunk on December 8, and that the search for the Dresden is still proceeding."

The action lasted for five hours with intervals. The Scharnhorst sank after three hours, and the Queenstown two hours later. The enemy's light cruisers scattered, and were chased by our cruisers and light cruisers. No loss of any British vessel is reported."

LONDON, Dec. 10, 12:32 a. m.—Half a dozen German submarines made an attempt at 9:30 clock Thursday morning to enter the Admiralty harbor, according to a Dover despatch in the Exchange Telegraph Company, and for half an hour the batteries kept up a furious fusillade, firing at least two hundred shots. It is reported that two or three of the submarines were sunk, but no confirmation of this can be obtained.

The attempt was made under cover of early morning darkness and during a heavy rainstorm. The first alarm, says the despatch, was given by the firing of a naval gun, and soon all the batteries were in action.

The admiralty, to whom this despatch was submitted, said that it had not received confirmation of the reported attack.

Dover is opposite the French town of Calais, and is one of the chief ports of communication between England and the continent. The Admiralty harbor, comprising an area of 100 acres, is the finest harbor of refuge in the channel. Its construction was begun in 1898 and completed in 1900, at a cost of $17,500,000.

The western limit of the older commercial harbor and the Admiralty harbor is the Admiralty Pier. The commercial harbor is bounded on the east by the Prince of Wales pier, while the eastern arm of the Admiralty harbor is built out from the shore, to the east of Dover Castle. There are numerous forts guarding the entrance.

DOVER PEOPLE ALARMED.

DOVER, England, Dec. 10, via London.—The city of Dover was thrown into excitement today by the announcement that the Germans, early this morning, attempted a submarine attack on the harbor works and the fleet at anchor in the harbor.

The night was very dark, and a heavy fog made searchlight work difficult. Fortunately, the forts were put on the alert about 4 o'clock this morning by the appearance of the harbor entrance of an unidentified steamer, which refused to stop until a shot was fired across her bow. The vessel then retired. She is believed to have been a tender of the submarines.

Half an hour later, it is said, a single submarine was sighted and one of the heavy guns in the harbor fired at her. This submarine, which evidently was an advance scout, disappeared but at 6:30 the observers sighted what they believed to be a fleet of about six submarines several miles out in the channel.

The channel forts commenced firing in the direction of the supposed submarines and kept it up for almost half an hour.

At the same time a torpedo boat destroyer flotilla put to sea, where it remained all day.

Large crowds gathered on the waterfront in the early morning hours and watched the searchlights and the artillery fire. When they saw no results of the shooting, many persons expressed the opinion that it was a false alarm.

There is no official confirmation that German submarines were seen.

CRUSHING DEFEAT TO AUSTRIANS.

The Serbians continue to assert that they have administered a crushing defeat to the Austrians, and taken large numbers of prisoners and great quantities of war material. On their side the Austrians say no new material events have occurred in Serbia, and that the re-organization of the Austrian forces is progressing without heavy battles resulting.

Fighting continues in France and Belgium at various points, and claims of advantages secured are made by both of the contestants. After having admitted the loss of the trenches in the region of Ypres, the latest French report declared these again have been re-occupied by the Allies. With the return of the French government to Paris from Bordeaux, a squadron of aeroplanes is doing scout duty over the capital, to ward off possible attacks by hostile aircraft.

FRENCH YOUTH GETTING READY.

In France 400,000 youths of the class of 1915 have gone into training in the military camps and barracks. It is expected they will be ready for the campaign in the spring. Herlin advised, which previously announced that Germany had agreed to the suggestion of Pope Benedict for a truce during the Christmas holidays, say Russia has declined to agree to the proposition.

Unofficial advice say that Emperor William's condition continues to improve. His temperature is normal, and he sat up for a few hours.

GERMAN WOMAN SPY GETS SIX MONTHS. PARIS, Dec. 10.—The permanent court martial today sentenced Louise E. Zuch, a German woman, to serve six months in prison, and to pay a fine of $100, on the charge of using an American passport which was obtained by a fraudulent declaration.

The woman was a governess. In the employ of an American family. She got a passport at Geneva by representing herself as the wife of an American named Apple, and on the strength of this came to Paris.

"Fruit-a-lives" are the only pills manufactured, to my way of thinking,
They work completely, no gripping whatever, and one is plenty for any ordinary person at a dose. My wife was a martyr to Constipation. We tried everything on the calendar without satisfaction, and spent large sums of money until we happened on "Fruit-

The Little Christmas Tree.

The Christmas day was coming; the Christmas eve drew near.

The fir trees they were talking low at midnight, cold and clear.

And this is what the fir tree said, all in the pale moonlight.

"Now, which of us shall chosen be to grace the holy night?"

The tall trees and the gently trees raised each a lofty head.

In glad and secret confidence, though not a word they said.

But one, the baby of the band, could not restrain a sigh.

"You all will be approved," he said.

"But, oh, what chance have I?"

"I am so small, so very small, no one will mark or know."

How thick and green my needles are, how true my branches grow.

Few toys and candles could I hold, but heart and will are free.

And in my heart of hearts I know I am a Christmas tree."

The Christmas angel hovered near; he caught the grieving word.

And, laughing low, he hurried forth, with love and pity stirred.

He sought and found St. Nicholas, the dear old Christmas saint.

And in his fatherly, kind ear rehearsed the fir tree's plaint.

Salute are all powerful, we know, so it befell that day.

That, axe on shoulder, to the grove a woodman took his way.

One by one he had at home, and he went forth to find.

A little tree as small as she, just suited to his mind.

Oh, glad and proud the baby fir, amid its brother-ren tall.

To be thus chosen and singled out, the first among them all.

He stretched his fragrant branches; his little heart beat fast.

He was a real Christmas tree—he had his wish at last.

One large and shining apple, with cheeks of rosy gold.

Six tapers and a tiny doll were all that he could hold.

The baby laughed, the baby crowed, to see the tapers light.

The forest baby felt the joy and shared in the delight.

And when at last the tapers died and when the babies slept.

The little fir, in silent night, a patient vigil kept.

Though scorched and brown its needles were,
it had no heart to grieve.

"I have not lived in vain," he said. "Thank God for Christmas eve!"

Our Mittens Much Appreciated.

The woollen mittens knitted in Canada for the Canadian troops on Salisbury Plain are much appreciated by the soldiers. Letters received from the soldiers say they are just the thing, but they also say that the hands should be made about half an inch longer. As they are made the butt of the rifle strikes a portion of the knitted hand and a portion of the mittens' hands. The wrists of the mittens are just the right length.

Little River.

Mrs. Byron Trask has returned from a three weeks' visit at her home in Digby.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs.
Hugh Collins on the birth of a daughter.

Mr. Nelson Kelley, of Ottawa, arrived on Saturday last, to spend the winter with his wife and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. G. Eldridge, of Sandy Cove, spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Denton.

Miss Marion Trask, of Acadia
Seminary, Wolfville, is expected home Wednesday to spend the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Manning Trask.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Denton, his brother, Mr. Allen Denton, also friend
Mr. Bradley, of Regina, came home last Thursday and will spend the winter with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chipman Denton.

Miss May Trask, of Glace Bay,
C. B., and sister Elizabeth, of the teaching staff of the Central School of that town, arrived home on Wednesday last, to attend the funeral of their father, Mr. Burwell Trask. They expect to return the first of the New Year.

The worst gale and highest tide of the season prevailed here on Monday, sweeping the breakwater with its mountainous seas and moving the freight shed three feet, also ripping
the shingles from the lighthouse.
It was simply impossible for the light-house keeper, Mr. Norman Trask, to get down to put the light out until about ten o'clock, after the tide began to fall. Also small buildings were torn down and the floors in the fish houses were loosened up. But the boats in the harbor rode out the gale in safety.

Freeport.

Mr. Speights, of Barton, is the guest of Mrs. Iantha Eaton.

Mrs. Charles Morrell arrived home from Boston Dec. 14th.

Mr. Donald Lent, who has been attending Normal College, Truro, is home to spend the Xmas holidays.

Schr. M. & E. Haine, Capt. Fred Haine, returned from St. John last week and has now gone into winter quarters.

A terrible storm of wind and rain raged here on Monday morning causing much damage along the water front.
The breakwaters were washed away in many places, logs were seen floating in the roads and several small boats filled and sank.

On Dec. 10th, the Red Cross Society shipped a box containing the following articles: 115 bandages, 17 handkerchiefs, 16 pairs wristlets, 13 pairs bed socks, 17 caps, 4 suits pyjamas, 6 pairs socks, 1 pillow, 6 sheets, 2 pairs towels, 1 suit underwear, 3 housewives, 4 cholera belts and 1 pair mittens.

New Tasket.

Mr. G. W. Prime, who has been on the sick list, we are glad to report is improving.

The Public Hall which is being erected here, is about completed on the outside.

Rev. Iven Nowlan, of Wolfville, occupied the pulpit in the New Tasket Baptist Church 13th inst.

Mrs. DeLong, of Kemp, Queens Co., is spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. C. F. Sabean.

Mr. Byron Prime has gone to the U. S. for medical treatment. He was accompanied by Mr. Gilbert Doty.

Mr. Ellsworth Greene, who has been spending a few weeks in the U. S., has returned home for the winter.

The ladies of this place are taking quite an interest in the Red Cross work. A picnic was held and a very good sum realized.

Karsdale.

Large quantities of apples were sold to Mr. Chipman, of Annapolis, last week and went to that town on the
S. S. Granville on Friday.

George Morrison accompanied his mother, Mrs. Wally Morrison, to Lynn, Mass., on Saturday. Mrs.
Morrison will spend the winter there with her children.

A ten-cent supper will be given this Monday evening by Mrs. Winifred Holly at the residence of her father, Gilbert Shaffer, Jr. Proceeds to go to the Belgian Relief Fund.

Riversdale.

Mr. Herman Steele, of Southville, was in this place Monday.

Mr. Percy Mullen, of Hillsdale, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Wagner.

Mr. and Mrs. Moody Mullen and son, of New Tasket, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Roy Wagner.

Mr. Seby McCullough spent a few days of last week with his aunt, Mrs.
Albert Grant, Weymouth North.

Mr. and Mrs. Alonzo Grant and son, of Weymouth, are spending the winter with her brother, Mr. Howard Cosman.

Mr. Amos Hill was badly scalded by an explosion of steam about his face Wednesday, while working around his boiler.

Freeport.

Councillor Edgar Hains has returned from St. John.

Miss Muriel Tibert is the guest of Miss Florence McNeil.

Mr. George Young has moved in his new home on Pleasant St.

Mr. Edward Speights, of Barton, is the guest of Mrs. Iantha Eaton.

Mr. Donald Lent has returned home from Normal College to spend his Christmas.

Mrs. Harry Powell, of Halifax, spent a few days last week with her mother, Mrs. Michael Finigan.

Mr. Harris Young killed the large pig of the season here. It weighed 410 pounds just 8 months old.

A heavy south east gale swept over this place Monday morning with a very high tide. Not much damage done only the yacht "Dont Worry," owned by Capt. Arch Thurber, sunk at her moorings. No lives lost.

Colleen.

Mrs. Herbert Daley went to Boston
on Saturday to spend the winter.

Mr. Herbert Woodman, of Smith's Cove, was in this village a couple of days last week.

We wish the Courier and all its readers a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Mr. Huber Hutchinson, Roxville, was the guest of Mr. Steward Murphy's Saturday and Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Handsaker celebrated their Golden Wedding on Thursday 10th. About forty guests were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Daley spent Sunday with Mrs. Daley's parents,
Mr. and Mrs. Benedict Vantassel,
Mount Pleasant.

St. Pleasant.

Miss Mildred Adams and friend
Mr. Gordon Vantassel spent Sunday at her home in Deep Brook.

Miss Nina Adams, of Deep Brook, spent a few days this week with her friend, Miss Isabella Vantassel.

Masters Burgess and David Vantassel, of Digby, spent Sunday with their uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Vantassel.

We understand the Mr. Edson Handsaker, who went to Halifax to undergo an operation, is doing as well as can be expected.

Mrs. Thomas Gibbons and daughter Mrs. Bruce and son Thomas, of Rox-ville, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs.
Venning Handsaker.

Lower Granville.

The weekly meeting of the Red Cross Society will be held at Mrs. R.
J. Elliott's Friday evening.

An entertainment and Christmas tree will be given by the Sunday school in the hall Monday evening, 21st.

The ten-cent tea at Mr. Gilbert Shaffer's, Jr., on Monday evening was a great success. $13 was added to the Belgian Relief Fund.

Mr. George Morrison and his mether went to Boston on Saturday via Yarmouth, to spend the Christmas season with his brothers and sisters and his mother to remain the winter
with her children.

Smith's Cove.

Mrs. Harvey Weir went to Boston
on Saturday.

Miss Stella Austin spent Sunday at Clementsport.

Mr. Earl Cossaboom went to St.
John on Thursday.

Mr. Charles Frudo has moved to Round Hill where he has bought a farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Beals, who have been at Mrs. Beals' home since their marriage, have now moved to Bear River Station.

The Red Cross Society held a picnic at Mr. Wm. Cossaboom's last Wednesday evening, where a very large gathering was present.

Girl Sold Her Hair to Pay Room Rent

CHICAGO, Dec. 16.—A girl of 19 years cut off her long hair and sold it for $2.50 to pay her room rent.

Wearing a cap she told her story to day at the employment bureau of the Woman's Club.

"This morning I walked in from Fifth street," she said "I do that lots of times because I don't have car fare and have to start early to look for work."

"Last night I slept with a friend who earns $6 a week in a novelty factory.
She told me to come back to night if I could not find anything to do."

"I had to leave the room I lived in because my landlady wouldn't trust me any more. I had my hair cut off to pay the rent which was four dollars overdue. I asked a woman on the street who had hair the color of mine if she didn't want more. She said she would pay me $2.50 for it. Now that is all gone but 7 cents."

The girl who gave her initials as R.
L., had been an office clerk at $7.50 a week. Two weeks ago she was dismissed.

Bear River.

Mr. Herman Rice returned home from Boston on Sunday.

Mrs. We-test, who has been living with her daughter, Mrs. H. A. Francis, died on Sunday afternoon, after an illness of some months. The funeral took place on Wednesday after noon at 2:30, the service in St. John's church being conducted by Rev. J. Lockward.
Interment was made in St. John's cemetry.

Rev. Mr. Boyer gave an address in the Baptist church on Thursday evening of last week in the interests of the Canadian Bible society. A collection was taken for the benefit of the society, the amount being $14.65.

There will be no meeting of the Red Cross society on Tuesday (22nd) and the room will not be open on the 26th.

At a concert given recently by the young people of Bear River east, the sum of fifteen dollars was raised.

This money was given to the Bear River branch of the Red Cross Society.

Comical Christmas Gift

To make an Aunt Dinah whisk broom secure a good broom and cut a piece of bright red goods the length of the straw. Make a couple of little rolls of black goods that will do for the arms and sew them to the upper part of the handle, and then make a head by stuffing black calico, working the eyes nose and mouth with red thread. Put a little red turban on the head, dress the waist in negro fashion, with the bandana around the shoulders, and you will have a comical yet useful present.

A Strange Request

She was rather a plump old lady, and had always tried to be accommodating to her neighbors; but even her obliging spirit had to refuse a request from a neighbour who sent by her little boy the following message: "Please, m'am, mother sent me over to see if I couldn't get couple of pounds of lard off of you."

And Unwillingly too

New Parson—And what is your husband Mrs. Brown?

Mrs. Brown—Well, sir, he ain't exactly a policeman, but he goes with 'em
a good deal.

Labor Saving Device

"Do you know, Sam, that a man does not have to do as much work now as he did 10 years ago?"

"Yes, sah; I know it, sah. Why I's been married nearly eight years, sah?"

Magistrate—I understand that you overheard the quarrel between the defendant and his wife?

Witness—Yes, sir.

Magistrate—Tell me, if you can, what he seemed to be doing.

Witness—He seemed to be doing the listening, sir.

Enoldated

"What is an egotist anyway?"

"Want to know?"

"Sure!"

"A fellow who really seems to think as much of himself as you think of your self."

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Digby, December 24, 1914

Died in St. John.

CAPT. MERITT R. STEEVES, OF THE

TUG LORD WOLSELEY PASSED AWAY

AFTER SHORT ILLNESS.

Mr. J. H. Hawkins, uncle of the late

Capt. Meritt R. Steeves, passed through Digby Monday conveying the remains of his nephew, to Victoria,

Annapolis County, for interment.

Capt. Meritt R. Steeves, master of the tug Lord Wolseley, died in the general public hospital, St. John, last Friday afternoon after an illness of about three weeks. He was twenty years of age and many friends in Digby,

while the tug was here last summer.

He had been on the "Wolseley" for only a few months and was well liked by the crew and others with whom he came in contact.

Born at Victoria, near Margaree-ville, his attention was soon attracted towards the sea and after running a short time between that port and St.

John, he decided to try tug boating with the result that his promotion was very rapid. The Courier extends its deepest sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Death of Herman K. Hersey.

Telegrams from New York Monday morning contained the startling and sad intelligence of the death of first officer Herman K. Hersey, of the Yarmouth & Boston steamer Prince

Arthur. The Prince Arthur sailed from Yarmouth at noon on Thursday for

New York to go into dry dock for repairs and at that time all on board, including Mr. Hersey, were well.

Mr. Hersey was a quiet and most efficient officer, courteous and kindly disposed to all and the public will regret to learn of his sudden demise.

He was employed by the Yarmouth

Steamship Co. and at the inauguration of the D. A. R. Co. he became second officer of the Prince Arthur, and has served in the capacity of first officer for about ten years.

The deceased had also run on steamers between Digby and St. John and was well known in marine circles here.

He was a member of Diamond Lodge and Yarmouth Encampment of Odd fellows. The remains arrived in Yarmouth yesterday. The funeral will take place at two o'clock this afternoon with interment in Ardenia

Cemetery.

The famous schooner David Adams was sold at Digby on the 10th for $1400 to Sprout Brothers, of that town.

The schooner Kelo, owned by J. H.

Porter & Co., Tusket Pledge, was burned to the water's edge in Port

Newton, harbor, and the schooner

Willie A., owned by Charles R. Aymer, of Meteghan, was ashore and full of water near River Rouge.

Chas. Burill & Co., of Weymouth, were having the steamer Alameda built for the St. Mary's Bay service.

The first number of the Weymouth

Free Press, successor to the Weymouth Times, was issued. It was published by Valentine Landry, of this morning hunting for a store with no advertisement in the Courier in order to arrange for some left over food for his Christmas dinner.

The sum of $130.00 was realized at the Methodist church tea and fancy sale on the 17th inst. The receipts at the digestive and sale the following evening amounted to $81.00.

Owing to the extra Christmas

Minna Troop, Miss Helen Parker, Miss Flora Longuire, Miss Ivy Tash, Miss Ruth Young, Mr. Shannon Tanch and Mr. Robt. Gilliat are among our teachers from here who are enjoying their vacation at home.

A very prettily trimmed school house and nice filled Xmas tree marked the closing exercises of our school last Friday. Each pupil giving and receiving a gift. At the close of the entertainment the scholars presented their teacher, Miss Rhoda Bent, with a very nice fountain pen, and she in turn treated the school to candy and oranges, nuts and dates. A number of the parents and friends of the children were present and all agreed that it was one of the happiest and most enjoyable exercises of the season.

The two warehouses here are again opened and the packers are busy preparing a shipment of apples for Jan. 1st, 1915.

A Merry Xmas to the COURIER and its readers.

North Hants.

Mrs. Jane Andrews has gone to Outram, Anna. Co., to visit her mother.

We understand Mr. William Andrews, also Mr. Frank Foster have sold their oxen.

Mr. Bruce Haight, our genial mail carrier, who has been very ill, we are pleased to say is able to be out again.

Mr. Albert Anderson, policeman in St. John, is visiting his mother, Mrs. James S. Wright, also his sister, in Barton.

Mrs. Jesse Wright while out getting a pail of water slipped and fell, breaking one of her ribs and hurting herself quite badly.

Miss Lydia Cook, who spent the summer in Annapolis, came home Saturday to spend her Xmas holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Cook.

How A Submarine Attacks

A signal is heard and men appear upon deck. The boat is prepared for action. The flagpole is taken down. Part of the bridge is folded together and well fastened. The periscope is brought up to the proper height. Then the entrance through the combined bridge and conning tower is hermetically closed. The tanks are opened and the rushing water tells us that the boat is about to submerge. The gasoline motors stop their endless song. Electricity will drive us from now until we shall reappear upon the water.

A young lieutenant is posted at the periscope and looks for the enemy. The sailors take their position near the torpedoes. The interior of the boat is lighted with two small electric bulbs. They make the darkness visible but give no light. Everywhere there is a stale smell of oil. It is impossible to speak to each other with the noise of the engine and of the water. The heat in the small room is oppressive.

From time to time the officer in command of the three torpedoes looks at his watch or at his compass, both of which he carries around his wrist. Intently the men all watch the rightboard on the wall in front of them. The storm which is raging upon the surface makes itself felt in its depths. Every motion of the water causes the boat to rock up and down, up and down, up and down.

We think of the advantage of the man on board a warship. If his time comes he can go down with a last look of the happy sun and the blue sky. We see nothing, hear nothing. If the boat is to go down we shall all suffocate in the darkness under water.

Suddenly we all jump up and forget heat and bad air and discomfort. In small lighted letters the signboard says "Attention."

The officer in command holds the lever which will release the first torpedo. The sailors make ready to launch the second one as soon as the first shall have gone. A few seconds pass. We must be very near the enemy. Suddenly the first sign disappears. Half a second later and the red glowing letters say "Fire." With a single jerk the lever releases the torpedo. A short metallic click the noise of the water rushing into the empty tube, and all is over. The second torpedo is at once pushed into the tube. A few seconds later, and the interior of the submarine looks as before the attack began.

But what of the first torpedo? Did she reach her goal? Instinctively we all have kept count—100 metres, 200 metres, 300—400. Under water no sound penetrates. We only hear the noise of our engines. We wait. Nothing happens. Then suddenly we are all thrown together by a jerky movement of the boat. Twice or three times more we feel that we have changed our course very abruptly.

Then the boat rolls as before. The regular purring of the engines is heard. Our submarine is rapidly moving eastward. We are on our way home. The attack has been successful.

Sounds Encouragingly

"But she says she has never given you any encouragement."

"Did she say that?"

"She certainly did."

"She told me that her uncle was going to leave her a fortune and that he had one foot in the grave. If that is not encouragement, I'd like to know what you call it."

An Adv. in the Courier is Read by Everybody

Sit Down, You're Rocking the Boat.

"UNCLE JOHN" HEARS A TEXT AND APPLIES IT TO LIFE'S ISSUES.

"Sit down, sit down, sit down."

"You're rocking the boat."

I have a meeting advertised the other day to be held in the hall at the centre of the village where I happened to be staying and so having a little bit of a desire for meetings, I wended my way up there and was so very well pleased with it that I told the folks I would go to another of the same sort: if there chance to be one anywhere near for I have a love for the meeting. Even political meetings I like if the speakers will not "spout" empty speech in my mouth. But the most romantic thing I heard and saw was the appearance and singing of two little folks, a boy and a girl about seven years of age. They were cute enough for a picture. With bow and courtesy they greeted the audience and then started to sing:

"Johnny was a sailor, Mary was the cook, Johnny told to kiss her on the angry sea."

At the moment when Johnny tried to take her on his back, she said to him:

"But the young madam objected saying, 'Sit down, sit down, sit down, you're rocking the boat.'"

Now my good old father had a name sake who was a famous missionary in India and somehow I must by some mysterious process have inherited the faculty of remembering texts and topical words and giving them part and parcel application to life's shapes and surroundings and hence this may have been for this week's issue of your famous paper. I have thought that life is going a sailing and as folks sometimes say, "We're all in the same boat." Life is a very uncertain voyage and we need all the fair winds and calm waves we can obtain in order to get to our port. But as some one has wisely said:

"our life is like a stormy sea. Swept by the gales of sin and grief while on the windward and the lee, Hang heavy clouds of unbelief."

But almost as much danger arises from the way passengers conduct themselves as from the winds that blow. They rush to the sides of the boat and thinking they can stay its rocking they tilt it and so put other people in danger so that the boatwain cries, "Sit down, you're rocking the boat."

I met a man on the street the other day and after a few words about the war he pulled a long face and said, "I'm afraid sometimes of the issue." Why, all Belgium has been taken by the Germans and a thirtieth part of France also and see how many fine ships England has lost and the vigorous efforts she is putting forth against Russia might and valour. Thinking how such gloomy views might affect weak minds and careless observers I rather sharply retorted, "Sit down, sit down, sit down, you're rocking the boat." The allied forces is a staunch craft and she will weather the gale. She has good timber in her make up and well navigated and altho' she is newly constructed she is behaving admirably under the conditions and will get through all right. With Scott we may say:

Well, then our course is chosen, spread the sails! Heave off the load and mark the soundings well.

Mark this stern reef, and rocks, where sits the siren

Who, like a siren, lures men to their ruin.

But the men who quell must be spoken to. And there are not a few of them. These folk who get into a state of unreasoning fear are very trying to the nerves of the authorities. They have to gauge public feeling when all their attention and energy should be concentrated on the points of danger. Some merchant ships are intercepted out in the Pacific, some warships sunk in that far-stretching ocean, a calamity happens along the Irish coast and an old time battleship blows up at the mouth of the Shannon and at once white faces and anxious hearts cry out in panic and they cross to the side of the boat and it begins to rock. "Sit down, sit down sit down, you're rocking the boat." Napoleon used to say, "You cannot get a good omelette without a good many broken eggs."

And while we have no very great regard for that tyrant and war monger there is much to learn from his words. Wars are not one sided adventures as a rule or they might have ceased long ago. Wars are very generally waged by evenly balanced powers and the scales dip sometimes on one side and sometimes on the other. The main tendency is to be taken notice of by every observer and then he would be no more a dirge singer.

January, Austria-Germany is not what it was last August. Every authentic report brings a greater assurance of ultimate victory for the allied compact.

The world over, Germany has been taken at her own valuation both regarding "Culture" and "Military Efficiency." But the past four months have seen that "Culture" pretension destroyed by her own hand. With the latest the torn "Scars of paper," the indiscriminate strewing of mines, the rash and wanton destruction of art buildings, peasant cottages, sacred buildings and relentless cruelty to helpless men, women and children and the Allies are doing the rest. Witness the Russian envelopment of whole army corps and the witness of William Sittler along the western battle front.

"The most cheerful region in France is in the war-zone."

"I have just returned from a 2,000 mile air tour of the front with the correspondents and military attaches of 7 neutral nations and everywhere found the soldiers as well as the civil population of the war-ridden districts cheerful and in the best of health and spirits. On the tour we zigzagged along the front from Alsace to the frontier of Verdun."

Contrary to reports Verdun has not been touched by the Germans. I visited there in company with a French General. You can tell that the forts are not occupied by the enemy. In the towns and villages of the war districts shops have been re-opened in temporary shacks erected on the ruins of the buildings which formerly housed the shop-keeper, and business is being transacted as usual. Temporary structures have also sprung up on the ruins of homes destroyed by shells and the people are cheerfully making out one way or another. In the country districts women are working in fields with boys and old men preparing for the new crops. The trenches on the recent bloody battlefields are disappearing and the furrows of plows, while cannon thunder in the distance. The people in regions, which such a short time ago were the scenes of sanguinary conflicts, are now busily engaged in pursuits of peace. This of course, represents a great change in conditions since I first had a glimpse of them ten weeks ago. The people of Northern France are getting used to war. There was a bumper crop of sugar beets and the sugar mills are going. The people have resigned themselves to a long war, and have simply decided to go ahead with their work as best they can, confident of the ultimate victory of the Allies."

What then shall we say to these things? Upon the gale she stoops her side. And bounds o'er the swelling tide. As she is dancin' home!

Thy merry women laugh to see Their gallantry so lustily Furrowing the green sea-foam.

So if you come across a man in your voyaging who is disposed to whine about the present conditions or future prospects of this and but very righteous war and to fret and set other people nervous by their stoppages say to him:

"Sit down, sit down, sit down, you're rocking the boat."

UNCLE JOHN.

Canada Appreciates the Work of the Navy

The supreme service of the Navy to the Empire, in keeping open the seas to commerce and in safely conveying armies and contingents to the battle front, is to be further recognized by ladies throughout Canada.

By special desire of Her Majesty the Queen, the Canadian National Ladies' Guild for Sailors, Toronto will co-operate with Her Majesty's Needlework Guild in providing the requirements approved by the Admiralty, and the help will be sent through H. R. H. the Duchess of Connaught. Lady Jellicoe, at the desire of Sir John Jellicoe, Commander-in-Chief of the British Fleet, has furnished the list of articles required at the Headquarters of the Guild in London.

It is not proposed to do any of the making up of the garments in Canada, but to send a money contribution that may be most wisely and effectively utilized for the welfare of the seamen on duty, and for the Naval Hospitals.

Ladies or gentlemen from all over the Dominion are asked to co-operate in this direct tribute of appreciation to our sailors by sending their gifts to Lady Willison, Emsley Place, Toronto, as early as possible. Ladies may join the Guild by giving One Dollar yearly.

The Canadian National Ladies' Guild, of which Lady Willison is the President, is the only women's national organization for sailors, and has members in Montreal, Toronto, Hamilton, Ottawa, Winnipeg, Saskatoon, Edmonton, Vancouver and Victoria. It is the Guild of the oldest Sailors' Society in the world, the British and Foreign Society of which their Majesties the King and Queen are patrons, and of which Lord Kitchener and Admiral Jellicoe are Vice-Presidents.

In the attractive form of building a patented Lighthouse, the young can help in this great movement. Each Lighthouse for this purpose will be supplied by the Senior Chaplain for Canada, Rev. Alfred Hall, 510 Ontario Street, Toronto by mentioning this item in the Column.

Christmas Fires.

In many Canadian homes every year Christmas festivities cause regrets and in numerous cases loss of life among those taking part.

Illuminated effects as Christmas tree decorations in private homes are dangerous, and wherever either fire or lights are used too much attention cannot be given to their safety. The Christmas tree is in itself a reflection of danger, but when to this is added decorations of cotton batting, and light paper balls and other dangerous material, it is only by the exercise of great care that fires can be avoided.

Where Christmas trees are erected in carpeted rooms, sheet tin or zinc should be placed under the tree, to catch the candle dripping. It should be one person's duty to watch the candles, and instant action may be taken if the tree takes fire.

In public halls, Sunday schools, etc., where numbers of children are assembled, unusual precautions should be taken. Fire extinguishers and pails of water should be in convenient places. Santa Claus costumes should be dipped in a solution of four ounces of phosphate of ammonia to a quart of water. If clothing catches fire throw the person down, and roll him in carpet, mat, blanket, coat or anything handy, to smother flames. The exits should be kept perfectly clear to avoid danger of panic.

In business houses electric wiring and gas lighting for special displays should be carefully inspected. Do not use paper or flammable shades close to the lamps, as they may take fire from the heat. Some one in authority should be given the responsibility of seeing that the fire hazard is not excessive, and that every precaution is taken to protect life and property. Insurance may replace the property, but no insurance can replace loss of life.

Gasolene is more dangerous than powder and more explosive than gun-cotton.

10 CENT "CASCARETS"
IF BILIOUS OR COSTIVE

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Bileful Liver and Bowels—They work while you sleep.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Ballow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give you a thorough bowel cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

German Defense Breaking up Before Attack of Allies From Switzerland to the North Sea.

SMASHING GAIN OF ALLIES DISTURB GER-MAN LINE OF FORTIFICATIONS—ONE THOUSAND AUSTRIANS DIE IN RAIL WAY WRECK TWO TROOP TRAINS
CRASH NEAR KALISZ

LONDON, Dec. 22nd.—Undeterred by stress of weather with the thick mud fields being slowly dyed with the blood of the noblest of four nations the allied offensive in France and Belgium appears to be developing in five directions with consistent gains at practically all the attacks being pressed.
Along the coast where the thunder of British naval guns lends a deeper note to the battle the Germans are sullenly retreating and a despatch to an Amsterdam newspaper reports that Middekerke is now clear of the Prussian invaders.

In addition to this gain towards Ostend the result of the allied movement in the last week has also been that the German front has been smashed south of Dixmude; that the British army has broken through the German defensive position south of Ypres; that the French have driven the invaders from their advance positions in the region of La Bassée; that near Albert the French captured a series of German trenches after a violent battle;
that near Mamunet and Lihons the French won victories in furious encounters; that the French artillery has destroyed two heavy German batteries on the Meuse and that the efforts of the Germans to regain the initiative have been frustrated.

A late Paris official bulletin last night describes small gains all along the line, particularly in the centre between the Argonne and the Meuse, while the British troops in a gallant attack regained practically all the trenches in the Armentières district which they captured on Friday but were forced to relinquish. The afternoon statement records a striking gain of 1,200 yards of trenches by the French troops in the Argonne district.

British ships have again been bombarded Zebrugg and Hoyet, as well as the coast beyond Ostend, where the Germans have established many shore batteries hidden in the grass and sand.
Another despatch says: Heavy fighting is taking place on both eastern and western fronts, but without producing any material change in the positions of the opposing armies.

In France and Belgium, the allies offensive is being pressed, and, while some ground has been gained at widely separated points, other attacks have been repulsed by the Germans from their strongly entrenched positions.
In the northern arena the artillery and warships yesterday took up the battle, giving the infantry a rest, but lower down the line and from the Oise to the Meuse, fierce fighting took place in many districts.

While the progress of the allies is slow it is the belief of military experts here and in France that the gains which the general staff has been able to report are disturbing the German system of fortifications at vital points, and will, if successfully continued, compel a retirement by the Germans from their present lines.

LONDON, Dec. 23, 149 a. m.—
Nearly 1,000 Austrian soldiers are reported to have been killed or injured in a collision of two troop trains near Kalisz, Russian Poland, according to the Daily Telegraph's Petrograd correspondent.

The trains are reported to have met while going at full speed, owing to the accidental opening of a switch.
Many of the cars were reduced to matchwood by the impact, and the passengers crushed into a shapeless mass.

50,000 ADDED TO RUSSIAN ARMY.

PETROGRAD, Dec. 22.—Half a million Calmucks, members of a nomadic, tribal race which has always been from obligation to furnish any soldiers for the Russian army, have just been added to the Russian forces.
A detachment from the Calmucks recently arrived in Petrograd with a request that they be allowed to serve in the ranks during the present war, and offering to supply 500,000 mounted troops, if necessary. "Our tribes have volunteered practically en masse," declared the leader of the detachment.
The emperor's reply grants them a military organization and privileges similar to those enjoyed by the Cossacks.

The Calmucks are born horsemen, and their horses are among the finest in the world, closely resembling the true Arab breeds. The number of Calmuck subjects in Russia is given as about five million. They are Mohammedans.

In acknowledgment of the Russian emperor's granting of their petition, the delegation announced that it was empowered to deliver to the imperial treasury a gift of $200,000 in money
and 1,500 horses.

GERMAN LEFT WING IN DANGER.

PETROGRAD, Dec. 22, via London, 5
p. m.—The heavy German column which has been driven across the East Prussian front from Mlawka, Russian Poland, by the Russians, is spreading out to the east and west, according to reports received here from the front.
The purpose of the German movement is to debauch to the right of the entrenched Lake Mazur position and to reinforce the troops in the vicinity of Thorne for protection against the continued Russian advance on the Thorne Allenstein Insterburg railroad, which is the main strategic line paralleling

the North Poland frontier.

The Russian successes here not only threaten the right of the German Lake Mazur position but also the left wing of the army operating before Warsaw.
The Bourso Gazette calls attention to the shifting of the weight of German troops from Belgium to the Polish front but the newspaper is of the opinion that this action means no lightening of the task of the allies since the withdrawals of Germans from the western battlefield are from parts of the line where elaborate entrenchments proved sufficient to hold the French and British forces.

It is stated that the heavy draft on the seasoned German troops of the first line is being filled out with the pick of the reservists and that new levies are being sent to the Polish fronts.

AUSTRIANS FAIL TO PIERCE LINES.

A second attempt made by the Austrians to pierce the Russian lines facing the Carpathian Mountains at Sanok and Lisko failed yesterday in spite of a fierce night attack on the Russian trenches near Lisko.

The garrison of the Austrian fortress of Przemyśl, seemingly informed of the movement of the Austrian Carpathian army, made a sortie coincident with the Austrian attacks though separated by thirty-five miles from Lisko. It is assumed that an Austrian officer, an aviator shot down at Bircha, fourteen miles southwest of Przemyśl, was carrying messages between the two Austrian forces.

The Austrian operations are rendered difficult by the fact that valleys, north and south of this region, cut the troops into separate columns and make a massed front impossible.

The chief scene of the recent operations is about the mouth of Heselohretz Pass, which is traversed by a double track railroad from Homano with the nearest railroad fifty miles away. The nearest pass to the east is about the same distance and is held by the Russians.

AUSTRIANS HAVE NO SUCCESSFUL RE-PORT.

VIENNA, Dec. 22, via Amsterdam, 10
London, Dec. 23, 240 a. m.—The following official statement was issued today:

"In the Carpathians we are fighting south of the Mountain ridge in the district embraced by the rivers Nig-yag, Latorza and Ung.

"In Galicia yesterday (Monday) the Russians renewed the offensive without succeeding in breaking through.
On the lower Danube, particularly,
they suffered severe losses.

"Along the Nida river, and the district south of Tomaszow, there has been slight fighting. The engagements in front of Przemyśl continue.
ALLIES' ARMIES DO FURTHER DAMAGE
LONDON, Dec. 22, 345 a. m.—A Dan-kirk despatch to the Daily Mail says that aviators of the allies paid a visit to Brussels and dropped bombs on the Zoppelin sheds, which were set afire.
In a night raid, airmen of the allies flew from Dunkirk over the German coast positions, and dropped twelve bombs, doing considerable damage.
They then returned there in safety.

WEAKNESS OF KAISER'S FLEET

ROTTERDAM, Dec. 22.—A remarkable interview with Admiral Von Tirpitz has just arrived here. It is stated that it has been given to an American Journal and in it the head of the German navy is reported as saying that the length of the war depended entirely upon England, surely not a very patriotic remark.

Admiral Von Tirpitz also confessed the weakness of the German fleet, for when asked if it would come out and attack the British fleet, he is said to have replied: "You cannot expect that on our fleet, which numbers only one third of the English fleet, will come out and allow the English fleet to deliver its blow."

The interview suggested that an attack by Zepplins might be preparing, and the Admiral is represented as saying: "I believe that a war of submarine ships will have more effect than that."
As a counterblast to Mr. Churchill's letter on the east coast raid there has arrived here this afternoon a semi-official German statement pointing out that the English have been bombarding undefended Belgian watering places.

THE GERMAN EMPEROR AGAIN AT THE FRONT.

LONDON, December 21.—The German emperor has completely recovered and returned to the front, according to an announcement from the Berlin main headquarters, transmitted through Amsterdam to Reuters Telegram company.

GERMAN LOSSES 1,200,000.
GENEVA, December 20.—Swiss and German journals publish statistics showing that the German losses to date exceed 1,000,000. They show that the losses in dead, wounded and prisoners are 1,200,000.

CAUGHT BY GERMAN MINES.

SCANDOROUGH, December 20.—German mines claimed two more vessels off the coast this afternoon. Two British mine sweepers, endeavoring to remove the mines left by the German warships were blown up and sunk, and another was damaged between Bear-borough and Filey, seven miles south of here.

NO WARSHIP FOR PANAMA.

WASHINGTON, December 20.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels today announced that he had declined the plan of sending a warship to the Pacific side of the Panama canal to aid in enforcing the neutrality of the canal.

PLOT TO DESTROY FRENCH STEAMER?

NEW ORLEANS, Dec. 22.—New Orleans police tonight said that they had frustrated a plot to blow up the French steamship Ruchambert by the arrest of five Germans. One of the five, the police said, admitted they conspired with a clerk attached to the ship for six days and a half from today, which they intended to ship by parcel post to the Ruchambert, which was expected to sail from New York Saturday.

was realized. Part of this sum went toward the Belgium relief fund.

A horse belonging to Mr. J. R.
Berry was taken with lockjaw last Friday and at the present no hopes are entertained for its recovery. This will be quite a loss for Mr. Berry as the horse was the main team on the farm.

The school gave a concert on Thursday night which was well attended.
Some of the performers, although young, did creditably and gave promise of being a credit to the community.
The proceeds went to the children's relief fund in Belgium.

Mr. Loran E. Adams, who drives the Rural Mail Route No. 1 is giving excellent service. The route was established on Nov. 1, 1913, and Mr.
Adams has not missed a single day in that time; in fact he has made two extra trips over the road when the train was 4 or 5 hours late.

Maggie Shaffner as well.

A large company assembled at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Shaffner, Jr., on Monday evening to enjoy a tea provided by their daughter, Mrs. Holly, of Indiana, who is visiting her parents. The proceeds, over $12, went to the Belgian Relief fund. The evening was most pleasantly spent and the tea a very enjoyable one. Mrs. Frank Robblee rendered some fine music on the organ. Some excellent vocal music was also in evidence. At the close C. H. Porter moved a vote of thanks to Mr. and

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Digby, December 31, 1914

The Death of Mrs. James Wright.

A HIGHLY RESPECTED RESIDENT OF DIGBY HAS PASSED AWAY.

Mrs. Margaret A. wife of Captain James H. Wright, of the Digby House, passed to rest at an early hour Monday morning, aged 85 years, after being ill about six weeks.

Mrs. Wright was a devout member of Holy Trinity church and from her childhood days had been a leading member of the choir. She had always assisted in all work which was for the good of the community, was very charitable and kind to all, but especially to the sick. Her death has certainly cast a gloom over a large circle of friends and relatives.

For years she conducted a private boarding house, known as the Digby House, where many prominent people from the United States and various parts of Canada have often summered. Besides her husband she leaves one son, Mr. Harry Wright, of Boston, and one daughter, Miss Edna at home. She also leaves two half sisters, Mrs. Kellogg, of Boston, and Miss Frances Smith, of Halifax.

The funeral took place yesterday afternoon with interment in Forest Hill cemetery, the services being conducted by Rev. Wm. D. Hall, rector of Holy Trinity church, assisted by Rev. H. A. Harley, of Windsor, a former rector of this parish. The funeral was very largely attended and the floral tributes beautiful.

The Courier extends its deepest sympathy to the bereaved ones.

Our Volunteers.

A number of our volunteers who are at present in St. John, Fredericton and Halifax, spent Christmas at their homes in Digby and vicinity, arriving here Thursday, returning Monday. Among those who enjoyed the few days' leave of absence were:

From Fredericton—Stephen Marshall, of Marshalltown.

From St. John—W. H. Lockley, James W. Merkel, Walter VanTassel, Robert Robertson, Fulton-Turnbull, Digby; Willard Peck, Bear River; Private Delaney, Central Grove.

From Halifax—Bernard Hutchinson, Digby; Parker Warner, Reginald Gilliat, Smith's Cove; Lloyd A. McGrath, Fort Wade; Stanley Hallett and others of Weymouth, and a large number of Yarmouth boys.

G. A. Torrie and others expect to get home for New Years.

Married in Lynn.

GUILFORD SNOW.

A pleasant event took place in Lynn Christmas eve, when Mr. William E. Guilford, of that city, was united in marriage to Miss Georgianna, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Joseph E. Snow, of Digby. The bride, who was unattended, wore a travelling suit of brown. After the ceremony, the happy couple left for New York and other American cities. They will reside in Lynn. The presents were numerous and costly, including a substantial clock from the bride's father. The groom's present to the bride was a gold watch bracelet. The bride has a host of friends here who join the Courier in extending best wishes.

Married in England.

Word has reached here of the marriage of Walter J. Drummond, which took place recently in England, the bride being a nurse in one of the hospitals. Mr. Drummond, who was a member of the Cold Stream Guards, was in Digby when war was declared. He hastened to the front, and was seriously wounded twice, was at home in England five weeks, married a young lady to whom he had been engaged previous to his trip to Digby, and is now again on the firing line in France. His many friends here extend congratulations and wish him a safe return after the war is over.

The Xmas Dinner at the Alma House.

The Christmas dinner at the Municipal Home was, as usual, a success and much appreciated by all the inmates. During the day the inmates were given oranges, apples, candy and nuts. A large number of the inmates have friends who remembered them with boxes of candy, cards, etc., and many useful articles of clothing were received, also tobacco for the men. Special mention may be made of the splendid way in which the children were remembered. Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Marshall, the capable manager and matron, wish to thank all those who so kindly responded.

Death of Miss Margaret Turnbull.

Miss Margaret, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Forsyth Turnbull, died at her home, Warwick street, Sunday, Dec. 27th, aged 51 years. The immediate cause of death being pneumonia. She is survived by three brothers, Henry G. and William, of Digby, and Robert, of Newton, Mass., and one half brother, Charles at home. The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon with interment in Forest Hill cemetery, the services being conducted by Rev. Wm. D. Hall, rector of Holy Trinity church. The Courier extends its deepest sympathy to the large circle of relatives and friends.

Presentation at Yiverton.

On Thursday evening the members of the Yiverton Baptist church, presented Miss Helen Blackford with a sum of money. The following address was read by Mr. Delma Outhouse:

BROTHER MEMBERS: We have thought in what way we could remember you at this season for your faithfulness as church members, and have decided to present you with this small sum of money (not as a reward but as a token of our appreciation of your faithfulness and devotion to the church and its work.)

Belgian Relief Fund.

The Committee in receipt of $100 for the Belgian relief fund which was contributed by the Mink Cove school and mailed us by the teacher, Miss Bessie M. Best. The same will be handed Mr. E. R. Mobray, the local treasurer of the fund, which is deposited in the Royal Bank of Canada.

The Editor Kindly Remembered.

The editor of the Courier wishes to thank the members of the staff, the merchants around town and his many friends who so kindly remembered him at Christmas and assures them that their gifts and kind words are much appreciated and will long be remembered.

OF A LOCAL NATURE

—Mass will be celebrated in St. Patrick's R. C. church New Year's morning at 11 o'clock.

—The Rev. Joseph Hale will preach in the Methodist church, Seabrook, on Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock.

—Rev. Guy D. Blake, of Wolfville, will preach in the Baptist church next Sunday morning and evening.

—There will be a celebration of Holy Communion in Holy Trinity Church on Thursday evening, commencing at 11:15.

—We wish to call particular attention to our correspondence column this week. All three letters contain matters of importance.

—The annual meeting of the Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club will be held in their rooms, Water street, Monday evening, Jan. 11th.

—Large crowds are enjoying the ice skating at Victoria rink. The members of the D. A. A. are also having some good hockey practices.

—Next Sunday special services of Intercession for the Empire and for those engaged in war will be held in Holy Trinity Church at 11 and 7.

—Mr. James M. Power, retail liquor dealer, Halifax, has our thanks for a very interesting booklet containing the World's Annual 1915 Sporting Records.

—The Holy Communion will be celebrated in St. Paul's Chapel, Marshalltown, on Friday, January 1st, at 11 o'clock. The celebrant will be the Rev. H. A. Harley.

—The Macpherson Publishing Company, of Halifax, now known as the Royal Print & Litho, Ltd., has our thanks for a copy of Belcher's Almanac for 1915. This is the most useful annual publication in our Province, a copy of which, should be in every home.

—Don't fail to see the moving picture play entitled "Arizona" in the Bijou Theatre tonight. Manager Clippis has secured this wonderful production from Mr. Harry L. Beyman, one of our own town boys, and it should receive special patronage.

—Beginning next Sunday evening, January 3rd and continuing on Tuesday, Wednesday and Friday, January 5th, 6th and 8th, special evangelistic services will be conducted by Rev. R. McArthur in Grace Methodist Church. Services in the hall during the week. The annual watchnight service begins at 11 o'clock this Thursday evening. Public are cordially invited to unite in worship.

—A dozen Digby boys enjoyed a dinner at the Winchester House Christmas night. Mr. Winchester and his estimable wife had an elaborate "spread" ready for the occasion which was much appreciated. Among those present was Mr. James W. Merkel, of the government's department, Army Service Corps, of the second contingent, now at St. John, who spent Christmas at his home in Digby.

Sudden Death of L. R. Thompson.

POPULAR ST. JOHN STEAMBOAT OFFICIAL DIED THURSDAY MORNING.

St. John had no better known, nor better liked citizen than Mr. L. R. Thompson of the Eastern S. S. Company's staff, whose death took place Thursday morning, following a stroke of paralysis on Tuesday evening. Mr. Thompson was on duty when the second stroke came and friends tenderly cared for him and removed him to the Prince William Apartments. He never regained consciousness and passed away about 8 o'clock Thursday morning. Mr. Thompson was in his 54th year, and was a son of the late Mr. Tyler Thompson. In his younger days he was one of the crack ball players of the community and as a second baseman of the old Imperials, was a popular idol. Throughout his later years he maintained his interest in the game. Mr. Thompson entered the service of the I. S. S. Company, now the Eastern S. S. Company as chief boy and later became purser on the boats, a position that he filled with great acceptance, his genial nature and kindly disposition making him a favorite to the travelling public. Later Mr. Thompson did important work for the company in a travelling capacity and more recently has been stationed in St. John in a position that brought him in close touch with patrons of the route with whom he was a universal favorite. Mr. Thompson was active in the Masonic fraternity, a member of Calvary Union Lodge, of the Chapter, the Knights Templars and the Shrine and brought to the work of all these bodies the same genial qualities that made him a favorite in the business world. The Shrine only recently selected him as a delegate to next year's gathering in Seattle. Mr. Thompson married Miss Bertha Harding, daughter of the late Mr. George E. Harding, who survives. He has two brothers, Tyler and Harry in Missouri, Montana, and two sisters, Mrs. Fred Harper of Duluth, and Mrs. Robert McVey in Seattle.

Mr. Thompson had many personal friends in Digby who learned of his death with deep regret. The funeral took place Monday afternoon, under Masonic auspices and was very largely attended.

Death of Melville Johnson.

Mr. Melville Johnson, of Kennebec, Maine, passed away in that town Monday, in the 80th year of his age. His wife, who was a sister of Mrs. W. B. Stewart, of Digby, died suddenly in the hospital at Bangor last June. Mr. Johnson was a successful lumberman in the State of Maine and was highly respected by a large circle of friends. He leaves no family, his nearest relatives being a nephew and a niece. His remains arrived here yesterday, accompanied by Mr. John McCormick and son Frank McCormick. They were forwarded to Round Hill for interment, beside those of his late wife, the services at the grave being conducted by Rev. Mr. Underwood, rector at Bridgetown.

Red Cross Work.

Miss E. Collins kindly donated to the Red Cross Society the use of her millinery room one afternoon a week for the sale of cake, bread, etc. The room will be opened to the public on Saturday, at 2 o'clock, when tea and chocolate will be served. Orders for bread and cake collected.

The treasurer of the local society wishes to acknowledge a cash contribution of $2.40 from Mr. W. S. Troop and 40 yards of white cotton from Mrs. George Lynch.

Town Council.

The Town Council met December 25th, at 8 p.m.

In the absence of His Worship the Mayor and of H. T. Warner, Presiding Councillor, Councilor C. A. Jordan was on motion appointed Chairman.

Present, Councillors Jordan, Troop, Wightman and Winchester.

The minutes of the last meeting of the Council were read and approved.

Report of G. A. Vye, Superintendent of Streets and Water, was read as follows:

To His Worship the Mayor and Council: Digby, December 28th, 1914.

GENTLEMEN: I wish to submit the following report to Streets and Water department.

The work this month has been light. Four of the pavement's department, the corner of First Ave. and Prince Wm. St., and a number of washouts filled in.

A few holes were put in at the Methodist Hall. Four hydrants were taken up and repaired, also four leaky standpipes.

Signed: G. A. Vye, Superintendent.

On motion of Councillors Troop and Wightman the report was received and adopted.

Councillor Troop, Chairman of Finance Committee, reported that the school Debentures amounting to $5,000 had been sold to J. C. MacKintosh & Co. at 93 p.c. and interest, but being the highest offer made for them.

On motion of Council the action of the Finance Committee was confirmed.

Moved by Councillor Winchester and seconded by Councillor Wightman and passed that whereas pursuant to an act of the Legislature of Nova Scotia being Chapter 101 of the Acts of 1912, the Town Council of Digby was authorized to borrow the credit of the Town such sum as should be necessary to redeem and pay the Town's School Debentures, maturing on the first day of May, 1915, not exceeding, however, the sum of $5,000.

And whereas the Town Council of the said Town for the purpose of effecting the said loan was empowered to make a rate issue its Debentures therefor.

Therefore be it resolved that this Council do hereby authorize and expedient that Debentures be issued for the said sum of $5,000, being the whole amount authorized by said Chapter 101, such Debentures to be numbered from A1 to A11 inclusive; to be each of the denomination of $500 bearing date the 31st day of January, 1915, payable in twenty years from said date and bearing interest at the rate of five per centum per annum, payable half yearly, to be otherwise in the form required by the Municipal Debentures Act 1913, and that the Mayor and Town Clerk be authorized to sign and countersign the said Debentures and to affix the Corporate seal of the Town thereto and subsequently to dispose of the same as the Council may direct.

Letter of the Northern Electric Co. was read submitting an estimate of a Fire Alarm System for the Town.

On motion of Councillors Troop and Wightman the letter was referred to a special meeting of the Council to be called by the Mayor at which meeting the Northern Electric Co. be notified to have a representative attend to discuss the offer to install a Fire Alarm System.

The following accounts were passed and on motion ordered to be paid:

W. L. Holdsworth $12.50
B. A. Outhouse 1.00
Oscar Vassell 1.00
Alex. Vassell 1.00
J. H. Bowles 1.00
H. L. Bond 1.00
John Rowe Printing Co. Ltd. 1.00
Charles E. Vassell 1.00
Maritime Tel. & Tel. Co. 2.25
Louis Lefebvre 2.00
Walter Wright 1.00
Pay Roll St. & Water 67.50

Moved by Councillors Troop and Wightman and passed that in future persons having accounts against the Town for materials sold and work and labor performed shall render their accounts monthly.

Mr. Harry Horsey, Captain of the Fire Dept., reported that the Town had $500 of good rubber fire hose and 400 ft. of good cotton rope and 150 feet of old and damaged hose and that 550 ft. of new hose was needed. Six rubber coats and rubber hats were also needed.

On motion of Councillors Troop and Winchester the Clerk was directed to procure prices on rubber and cotton hose, coats and hats and report at the next meeting of the Council.

Councillor Winchester, Chairman of Fire Committee, reported progress in the matter of a tower for drying hose and a building to store a hose in the waste end. The Council adjourned at 9:50 p.m.

Notwithstanding the disagreeable weather, a large crowd was at the Bijou Dream Tuesday night to see the "Lucille" pictures. The entire program was one of the best ever seen in Digby.

CORRESPONDENCE.

To The Editor of The Courier:

DEAR SIR: As a merchant of the Municipality of Digby I would call the attention of the Councillors who will be meeting in a few days to the utterly inadequate sum of money charged to licensed peddlers, hawkers and transient traders. As a merchant my taxes for County, Poor, Road and School, etc. amount to nearly two hundred dollars per year. I am maintaining a store, not only for my own living, but for the accommodation of the public. I am entitled to my earnings when they need it. I help to keep up public institutions. If it were not for the merchant it would in many cases be hard to raise the salaries of the ministers of the gospel. Does the peddler help anything? He is under small expenses and comes when he thinks the time is ripe for a quick around-up of his goods and then departs. In many cases his goods are of a very poor quality, purchased as the case often is, that cannot be sold in regular competition. The retailer needs the protection of the law against the peddler just as surely as the manufacturer needs the protection of the law against the foreign competition. Many retailers think that they are entitled to protection from outside concerns—they would in many cases be forced out of business if foreign concerns were able to evade duties and sell goods direct to the retail trade. In exactly the same way, the retailer is sorely pressed when peddlers are enabled to sell from door to door, offering goods at low prices, because they are exempt from the expenses that the retailer has to bear. In many cases he comes into a house and his manner is so threatening that the woman, being alone, has to pay 50¢ or a dollar's worth of trash that she does not want, to get clear of him. Now for transient traders who bring in goods, the license should be raised to at least $50 per year and to all peddlers to at least $25.00 per year and no one should be allowed to secure a license for less than a year. The year should commence at January 1st of each year and no amount should be charged for year or part of year. The license of a peddler, or transient trader, arrives in a community in September, he should be charged the full amount of $50 or $25 and license should lapse at end of December. I have been a fight to issue a license for three or six months to one of these persons, and I think only the sum in proportion to the time. This is very unfair and the Councillors should rectify the law of that point. The issue of license should receive 25¢ of the fee so as to give him a partial compensation. If such percentages were given and the sum made large enough, then we would not have so many of these peddlers wandering about our communities and, as at present, paying no license and no taxes to keep up our institutions to the detriment of the regular merchant. I would call upon all the merchants of the Municipality to back the matter over with their Councillors and to insist on remedial legislation at the coming meeting of the Council in January.

A. S. JEFFERIES.

To The Editor of The Courier:

DEAR SIR: Premier Murray has issued an appeal to all the churches of Canada, suggesting that collections be taken up on Sunday, January 17th, in aid of the Belgian fund.

A very large sum, $750,000, is needed in the aid of Belgium in winter. The year has seen some black days in its time; has it ever seen a blacker than the spectacle of a Belgian starving?

For this reason, that more than $1,000,000 per month will be necessary to ward off actual starvation. The monstrousness of this catastrophe, are beyond comprehension. No thing in history ever approaches this demand upon the charity of Christian people.

Should not the churches of Digby be among the first to lead this appeal, and begin at once to awaken the interest of our people to the end that every man, woman and child in town may be eager to contribute to this day? Would it not be well to hold a collection in the morning and in the evening at night, and get as many as possible to make it their appearance on that day in support of such a cause? Would not the Committee be glad of this opportunity to secure a noble charity, and urge on people to help in cooperation and general contribution?

What better way can we show our gratitude that the hardships and horrors of this disabled world have not yet reached a millionth of the way to the end of the world?

Yours truly,
ONE WHO HOPES

To The Editor of The Courier:

DEAR SIR: There is no excuse of reason for not taking the County, along the main roads, for we have natural drainage and good material for making permanent work.

We do need a hearty cooperation of all the people and an earnest desire for improvement, and, Mr. Editor, your idea about a meeting to start a good movement is timely and should meet with unanimous support. Don't kick about what the government hasn't done, "let us help of hands."

Women's Part in Agriculture.

One of the most important movements undertaken in the Province for many years has been the laudable effort to improve the conditions of the home and its surroundings, make the lives of our women folk easier and brighter, and more especially with regard to life about the farm. The means chosen towards this end has been co-operation. To perfect such co-operation an organization was introduced known as the Women's Institute. It was reasonably argued that the men have their associations for mutual betterment, such as the Agricultural Societies, Farmers' Parliament, and different gatherings; why not the women? With considerable intrepidity the Department took up the work, and it is safe to say that in no one branch has their efforts met with such generous response. In a word, the success of the Women's Institute in Nova Scotia during the past year and a half has been simply phenomenal. The credit is not due so much to the Department as to the women themselves. Once the wheel was started rolling it kept on gaining in velocity, until today, with the movement only in its infancy, a splendid number of Institutes have been established throughout Nova Scotia, and they are nearly all doing an enthusiastic part to brighten conditions in their several communities.

It has been decided to hold in January next, at the Agricultural College, Truro, a series of short courses for women, similar in a measure to the Short Courses for the men, and to terminate with the Second Annual Convention of the Women's Institutes.

The procedure will be patterned after that of last year, except that the classes this year will be on a more extended scale and much more demonstration work will be carried out.

The lectures will embrace Dairying, Poultry, Horticulture and Domestic Science, and opportunities will be given in each, as far as possible, for practical work. People who know will be in charge and on each case expert knowledge will be available. Besides the subjects mentioned above it is hoped to find time for one or two lectures on laundry work, home nursing, and a practical demonstration in the use of commercial patterns for home dress making.

The Dairy work will include Butter making, Cheese making, Milk Testing and Ice Cream making for private and commercial use.

In Horticulture, besides fruit growing and packing, vegetable growing, flower and bulb raising, attention will be paid to the beautifying of grounds at slight expense and economical planning of flower and vegetable gardens.

The Poultry Course will be full of hints as to the best methods of handling these industrious inhabitants of the farm yard, and a special demonstration will be given in the best methods of preparing fowls for the table.

Competent instructors have been engaged for the classes in Household Science and a very attractive programme has been prepared.

The Institute Convention as anticipated will be a grand event. The thirty-five Institutes will send two or more delegates each, and from such a gathering gratifying results are assured. Everything possible will be done at the College to further the work of the Convention, and the enthusiasm of the representative women present may be depended upon to make the meeting the most unique gathering ever held in the Province, from which untold good will result.

Full particulars can be had freely by applying to Principal Cumming, Agricultural College, Truro, N. S.

Grow of American Ship Attacked by Turks

SEC. OF U. S. NAVY INVESTIGATING REPORT OF ATTACK AND THREAT OF AMERICAN WARSHIP TO HOMELAND TOWN.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 26.—Secretary of the Navy Daniels today called on Captain Oman, commanding the armed cruiser North Carolina, to report whether threats of violence had been made by the Turks at Tripoli against American sailors.

Athens despatches, published today, said that an American warship had threatened a bombardment as a result of the North Carolina and the Tennessee both at Beirut today, the Tennessee having gone their from Jaffa after depositing gold. Beirut is about forty miles south of Tripoli where the disorders are said to have occurred.

One report was that Turkish authorities sought to prevent the departure of American, British and French consuls, and that the attack on the American crew of a commercial ship and the threatened bombardment of Tripoli by the American man of war followed.

Secretary Daniels said tonight that the Navy Department had not yet received replies to the queries addressed to Captain Oman and Decker of the cruisers North Carolina and Tennessee respectively, concerning alleged threats to bombard Tripoli, Syria, if British and French consuls were not permitted to depart. He thought the delay in receiving reports was due to the slow and imperfect cable communication through southern Mediterranean countries.

France Votes War Funds.

THERE WAS NO OPPOSITION TO AN APPROPRIATION OF $1,700,000.

PARIS, December 23.—The chamber of deputies voted, unanimously today, an appropriation of $1,700,000,000 to cover expenses of the next six months, including the cost of the war.

Today's sitting of parliament was less emotional and more businesslike than the opening session yesterday.

In the chamber of deputies almost all the members were present and they cast their votes with little discussion and without a murmur of dissent. Altho the voting urns were passed around, their use was unnecessary, since all parties were of a single mind concerning the necessity of providing the government with the means of carrying on the war.

Votes were cast by 561 deputies of the total membership of 597. The session lasted only a bare half hour.

It was announced that General Joffre had granted a further leave to the deputies serving with the army, who will not be required to rejoin the ranks until three days after the termination of the usual January session.

The Bijou Dream Theatre.

AFTER "THE ADVENTURES OF KATHLYN" COMES A BETTER ONE—"THE TREY O' HEARTS," BY LOUIS JOSEPH VANCE, 15 WEEKLY CHAPTERS.

"The Adventures of Kathlyn" and "Lucille Love," has marked an epoch in entertainment history in this town. Old and young, grave and gay are following the fifteen chapters with an interest which all Digby knows very well indeed. The editor of the COURIER and the manager of the Bijou Dream will both attest to the popularity of the stories. But there is a better offering in the new serial to be inaugurated in the COURIER and on the Bijou Dream stage in the near future. It is called "The Trey O' Hearts," and it is a Wonderful, Real Thrilling, Heart Thrilling Serial Drama.

Cleo Madison, the clever leading woman and George Larkin, play the central parts in the fifteen-week narrative. They will be ably supported.

"The Trey O' Hearts," we have every confidence in stating, will be a more wonderful success than "The Adventures of Kathlyn" or "Lucille Love."

Watch for future announcements.

THE EUROPEAN WAR

The Russians Report The Capture Of
More Than 20,000 Prisoners.

ALL IMPORTANT PHASES ON THE CARPATHI-ANS ARE NOW IN RUSSIAN HANDS—UNITED STATES PROTESTS AGAINST BRITISH NAVAL ACTION—BRITISH PRESS OPTIMISTIC FOR CUXHAVEN RAID.

A violent storm has temporarily put a stop to military operations of an important nature along the greater part of the battleground in Belgium and France. In this territory the positions of the opposing forces remain virtually the same as they have been for weeks past.

In the eastern areas the official reports indicate a similar condition of affairs, so far as progress on the part of either side is concerned. Petrograd reports, however, that between the Pilia river and the Upper Vistula the Germans are now on the defensive.

The Russians also report the capture of more than twenty thousand prisoners, to which reference was made in previous announcements. A Petrograd despatch by way of London, says that all the important passes on the Carpathians are again in Russian hands.

The United States government has made strong representations to Great Britain, insisting on an early improvement in the treatment of American commerce by the British fleet. A long note has been forwarded to the British foreign secretary through Ambassador Page, covering the relations between the United States and Great Britain as affected by the British naval policy which is considered "highly objectionable" by the American government.

The British government through the naval and military authorities, apparently fearing a raid over British towns by German airships, has issued a warning to the people to take cover should the sound of firing be heard.

WARSHIP LOST BEARINGS AND RAN AHEAD
BUT CREW SAVED.

St. Andrews, Scotland, Dec. 27, via London, 11 25 p. m.—A British torpedo boat destroyer went ashore early this morning on the coast of Kingsburgh, six miles southeast of St. Andrews. Her crew was saved by lifeboat.

The destroyer was steaming south from Aberdeen to the Firth of Forth and in the darkness and without shore lights lost her bearings. After the rescue of a portion of her crew one of the lifeboats was stove in by the heavy sea and the remainder of the crew were saved only after considerable difficulty by a second lifeboat.

CURIE CAUGHT IN NET OF STEEL.

London, Dec. 27.—A steel net stretched across the entrance to Pola harbor, the great naval port of Austria, proved the undoing of the French submarine Curie, says a despatch from the Milan correspondent of Lloyd's News.

In company with other submarines the Curie was attempting to force an entrance into the harbor for the purpose of torped-ing an Austrian squadron at anchor there. The Curie had penetrated to the harbor bar when she collided with the net. An Austrian mercantile man gave the alarm, and the forts opened fire. Two shots struck the Curie, which gradually sank. The captain and crew, with the exception of one officer, swam clear and were captured.

TWO LOST ON DUTCH STEAMER.

SCARBOROUGH, Eng., via London, Dec.
27, 11 40 p. m.—The Dutch steamer Leersum, from Amsterdam, and the British steamer Gallier, from London, struck mines in the North Sea today. The Leersum foundered and two members of her crew were drowned. The Gallier succeeded in reaching port.

AUSTRALIA LEAVES SOUTH AMERICAN PORT VALPARAISO, Chile, Dec. 27.—The Australian battle cruiser Australia, which came into this port yesterday, sailed today, after taking aboard coal and provisions.

She has been cruising about the Pacific coast of South America for several weeks.

NO SEA FIGHT IN CHILEAN WATERS.

VALPARAISO, Dec. 27.—No new sea fight has occurred off the Chilean coast so far as can be ascertained today at Valparaiso. The commanding reported last night fifteen miles off this port by the Chilean torpedo gunboat Tormo, and which was supposed to be an engagement between the cruiser Newcastle and the German cruiser Dresden and converted cruiser Prinz Eitel Friedrich, is now believed to have been the Newcastle saluting the flag of Sir Frederick Sturdee, commanding the British squadron which sank the German squadron off the Falkland Islands.

The Australian battle cruiser Australia anchored in the bay this morning. Vice Admiral Sir Geo. Paty, commander of the ship, came ashore and paid his respects to the Chilean authorities. He said he had not met with the cruiser Newcastle while on his way to Valparaiso and he declared that he was unable to explain the origin of the firing reported off the coast.

BRITISH AIRMEN AT WORK.

LONDON, Dec. 27.—The airmen of the belligerent nations spent a busy Christmas holiday. While a solitary German flew over the Thames estuary and dropped a single bomb, which fell in a roadway and did no damage, a convoy of seven British navy aeroplanes visited the German naval base at Cuxhaven and dropped bombs on ships, and the gas works. All but one of the British airmen returned safely to the ship which conveyed them.

Similar activity was displayed along the battlefronts. German airman paying a surprise visit to Nancy; French aviators to Metz; British to Brussels and other Belgian towns occupied by the Germans, and German airmen to Polish cities.

As usual, the accounts of the damage done differ from those of the occupants of the territory attacked. While bombs were dropped during these flights, they were made for the purpose of reconnoitering. The Allies, who are on the offensive in the west, are naturally desirous of knowing when and where the Germans are moving their reinforcements, the arrival of which at the front has been the signal for many German counter-attacks.

GERMAN COUNTER ATTACKS FAILED.

Except in the Argonne and Alsace, where the French have made some progress, and outside of artillery practice, the battles in the west for the last two days largely consisted of German attacks to counter those of the Allies and to prevent the Allies from organizing the ground which they had gained, all of which, however, failed in their object.

In Poland, where the Russian emperor has joined Grand Duke Nicholas at the Russian headquarters, the German attacks on the Bzura and Rawa rivers are being made almost exclusively with artillery, while an offensive in force has been assumed further south, along the river Pilica, where hard fighting continues and both sides claim to have inflicted heavy losses on their opponents. The Russians, apparently have again gained ascendancy over the Austrians in South Poland and Galicia.
The Austrians themselves admit the loss of the towns of Jaslo and Kosno, on the South Galician railway, which their army from across the Carpathians captured a week or more ago. The Russian report tonight is the result of a series of victories from Middle Poland to the foothills of the Carpathians.

Today's report alone reports the capture of 13,500 prisoners and a number of guns, and unless some prisoners have been counted more than once the Russians, according to their own accounts, have taken thirty thousand Austrian prisoners since they resumed the offensive.

GERMANY PLANS TO TAKE OVER BEL-GIUM.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—The British authorities have been advised of Germany's notification to neutral Governments that it will no longer recognize the Austrians as the legitimate Government of Belgium. This action has created some surprise in England, where it is regarded as a preliminary step to the official taking over of Belgium by the Germans. The result of this action probably would be the refusal to recognize Brand Whitlock, the American Minister at Brussels, or the Marquis de Villalobos, the Spanish Minister, as diplomats accredited to Belgium.

The American Ambassador here was without advice today regarding the situation. Nevertheless, great interest is manifested in London as to the probable action of the American Government if Germany grants only provisional recognition to neutral Counsils.

EMPEROR OF AUSTRIA FACES A BREAK-DOWN.

LONDON, Dec. 26.—The Austrian Court Physicians say that Emperor Francis Josef is on the verge of a complete physical breakdown, according to a dispatch received here today from Bern. Private information received in Bern declares that the aged Emperor is suffering from extreme depression, brought on by the capture of Belgrade by the Serbians.

U. S. REVENUE CUTTER FOR PATROL DUTY.

BALTIMORE, Dec. 26.—The United States revenue cutter Androscoggon, left today for Boston where she will fit out for a winter patrol on the Grand Banks.

She will assist any fishing vessels
there and on the Georges Bank in distress. A special corps of physicians will go along.

Mr. Williams Builds New House

The Yarmouth Telegram says: Mr.
A. E. Williams, agent of the Boston & Yarmouth S. S. Co., has recently moved into his fine new residence, on the south side of Collins street, opposite the central school grounds. The house is 24x28 feet, and is conveniently arranged with a sun parlor 10x21 feet, on the west side, finished in hard wood and having a bay window. The main hall is finished in birch, the dining room with oak wainscoting and wall above neatly painted in red. The upper story contains two nice bedrooms, bathroom, and den finished in white. The house is heated by hot air and is very convenient in every respect. It is a handsome addition to the neighborhood.

The Christmas War Cry.

The Christmas number of the War Cry is a most attractive production and reflects much credit on the Salvation Army. It has an attractive cover in color, showing a picture of a mother with her children, reciting "Gentle Jesus, Meek and Mild," and has a double page Christmas illustration, besides two colored pages of the Army's officers in India, China, Alaska, and other distant countries. A fine picture of W. Bramwell Booth occupies two pages of the number and it is replete with Christmas articles.

Gen. Hughes Plans Trip to the West.

OTTAWA, Dec. 30.—General Sam Hughes stated today that he was planning a western trip of inspection as soon as he could get away. The Minister has an accumulation of work which he wants to clear up first. While he is still suffering from a severe cold,
the Minister when he makes his trip will go through to Victoria and will review all troops enlisted for the second contingent.

Died at Freeport.

Mr. Beach, photographer, of East Boston, who has been at Freeport for the past two months, died suddenly at the Eaton Hotel, Sunday, Dec. 28. The young man had not been in good health for some time but death came unexpected. He was 22 years of age and leaves, we understand, a father and mother and one brother, who have been informed of his sudden death.

"Uncle John" Still Finds Shelter and Support in the Campaign.

"Wild was the day; the wintry sea moaned sadly
On this western strand."

But altho' my steed shook his ears at the blast he swung off into a steady trot never resting till he pushed his nose, all frosted, through the opening of his old barn door and neighed for swift entrance to his well bedded stall and crib of barley, oats and hay. But my newly made friend who resides beside the sounding sea is no lonely man.
I don't think it can be said of his dwelling as Aldrich used to sing.

"Only the sea is moaning,
Only the wafted moans,
Only the wild wind moaning
Over the lonely house."

I observed built in by his ingenious a book case in mission style which was well filled with the best of literature.
The men of both sides of the Atlantic looked down from their works and seemed to smile upon him and his smile of very sincere pleasure at being welcomed into his old built hut down by the old barn door. But straw on boughs and table were newspapers from most of the county towns. The then political coats were not all alike,
a ripe and style they didn't quarrel,
they lay together like strange bed-fellows who had chatted out their tales and then silently slept.

In one of them he read the news of "Jimmy" Davidson of Truro and ere the tale of his sickness and death were told, his head was smiling at the door of a summer hut down the lake region and told him he roomed with him for months in Truro at his home near the Science building. Our love and sympathy went away at once to his sorrowing mother. Brave laddie! He did not hear the sound of the battle stir in Flanders but it "was well that it was in his heart." He sleeps well near the plains of Salisbury. His name will be among those who went forth at their country's call but who fell ere the bugle sounded to battle.

"But whether on the scaffold high,
Or in the battle's van,
The fittest place where man can die,
Is where he dies for man."

Every man who falls upon the field whether in camp or fighting front dies
"for us." In "my" room in "your" stead. I was glad to find that in my balmy place by the sea my noble host marked his papers with blue pencil especially the heroes of our Allied forces and some brave acts that I hadn't noticed in the news this side of the Atlantic. Here is one of them:
"Lieut. F. Davidson, of the 11th Battery of Royal Field Artillery had just been sent in wounded in one of the ambulance wagons. Early in the day our gunners had found it impossible to locate certain German guns which were fast rendering our trenches untenable.
The country was so flat that there was no possible point of advantage from which the gunners could "observe," except the steeple of the church in Langens. But the Germans knew that as well as we did so the church was being vigorously shelled, and already no less than twelve lychide shells had been pitched into it. It was the duty of Lieut. Davidson to "observe" so he went early to the church, climbed the already tottering tower, seated on the top proceeded to telephone his information to the Battery. In consequence German Battery after German Battery was silenced, the Infantry which at one time was in danger of extermination, was saved, and the position in spite of an attack in over whelming force by the enemy was saved and successfully held. The church was reduced to a scrap heap, but still Davidson sat tight on the remnants of the tower. For seven solid hours, expecting death every moment, he calmly scanned the country and telephoned his reports. At dark his task was done, and he came down to rejoin his Battery. A-bell left the burning ruin, a fall of timber in one of the burning towers, he was everything with a sudden glare, there was a crack of a rifle—the German trenches were only a few hundred yards away—and a bullet passed through the back of his neck and out through his mouth. But without hurrying his pace, he walked to his Battery, gave them his final information and then said, "I think I'd better go and find the ambulance, for the buglers have drilled a hole in me that needs plugging." And he walked half a mile to the nearest "collecting point." In the Infantry of the 11th B. grade, men talk of nobody else but "Davidson the Gunner." They themselves face death every hour of the day and night, they themselves do unrecorded deeds of heroism, worthy of the "V. C." but with one voice they declare "Davidson is the real thing." If he doesn't get the V. C.—well, nobody deserves it." Such is the way of the British. Yes, said my host, but that isn't all. See what the fleet did after the naval action off the Falkland Islands. They picked up all the sailors and officers of the German squadron who had been around for life when their ships were sunk and rescued them.
But it is evident that after the naval action off Chile it was very little or nothing that the Germans did for our men who swam about after the sinking of the "Good Hope" and the "Monmouth." They were left to die in the boisterous sea after being wounded and battered. But this course, foul selfish conduct is all of a piece with their general plan. Look at their tale on the east coast of England at Scarborough.
Whitby and Hartlepool. "Aye, aye, my friend (said he) I used to spend my holidays along that sea shore at the Hartlepool and Scarborough and romp with my kiddie friends and those whose are innocent of everything but jolly, fun loving children who dig in the sand, or the stinking cowardly German cruisers slipped through the mist and slew and wounded the frolicking children, and the feeble old men and women who were crossing the streets. "A big bully knocking down wee kiddie!"

And so everywhere through this noble province of ours the farm houses are a noble place for recruiting for the habitation and under the shelter of the newspapers and periodicals and fill the minds of their children with the stories of adventure and heroism till every little lad laughs at danger and wants to go "to the front." The air is electric with resolve and every village hears the cry.

"We are coming, mother, come, we are coming home to fight.
To defend the Empire's honor, to uphold the Empire's right;
From the bays of Nova Scotia, from the diggings of the mud,
We are coming, mother, Britain, come home to lend a hand.
From the islands and the highlands fast across the seven seas:
Look where'er the sun is shining and your flag
in the breeze,
We'll prove our breed to your hour of need and teach the bully runs,
Who strike at Britain in their might must re-con with her sons."

UNCLE JOHN.

LAST WORD IN LIES.

Spain Is Informed That Britain Has Asked For Peace.

One of the most amazing instances of the circulation of false news on the continent in regard to the war has been achieved by a Bilbao paper, "La Gaceta del Norte" (the "Northern Gazette"). This extraordinary specumen of fake information has been received by The London Evening News. As Bilbao is a great port in the north of Spain, it is important that only the facts should be known there and also amongst the Spanish nation generally. But this is what the Bilbao newspaper gave its readers on Sept. 1. In headlines that ran right across the page it announced:

Peace! Peace!
A Solemn Historical Moment.
Gen. Joffre Resigned.
The Whole English General Staff
Made Prisoners of War.

Then, in the middle of the page, in very large and widely-spaced type, we have this:—

Let it be peace, San Sebastian (urgent). The King of Spain traveled to-night to Madrid. He was accompanied by Senor Sanchez Guerra, who has made the following sensational declaration: We are on the brink of peace. Steps are being taken by England. No more troops to be sent to France. The conditions of peace are as follows:—

Cession of Algeria to Germany.
Cession of part of Belgian Congo to Germany.

A Large War Indemnity.

After the headlines the following interesting announcement appears:

Peace! Peace! While we are writing these emotional words the pen trembles in our hand, and we are scarcely able to form the letters which express our immense joy. The recent telegram of our correspondent, Senor Ormaechea, made us believe that we were dreaming. We could not believe what our eyes read.
Fortunately the good news came from authoritative sources—a Minister of the (Spanish) Home Office—who assures us of its truth.

Now, in order that our readers may note and see that we are of good faith, when we give them news, we are going to reproduce the telegram received from Rome by "La Gaceta del Norte," and published in the late edition on Aug. 29:—

"Rome, Aug. 28.—It is confirmed that England, after the first naval route which she has suffered, has addressed peace proposals to Germany.
The Government of the Kaiser answered that England could send representatives to Germany, but in the present circumstances proposals of peace would not be accepted."

There was a paper which laughed at "La Gaceta del Norte," and said that England would never ask Germany for peace until she died of hunger. But only a few days were necessary in order to demonstrate that in this, as in other things, we were well informed.

And then the Bilbao newspaper announces that Gen. Joffre has forced his resignation on the French War Office.

Sent Nine Sons.
The Widow Bonnard in Paris sent nine sons to the war and all were wounded, but all will recover.
