1877-1977

Now and then a printing job had a save in parchment paper which required a special kind of printers' ink which smelled very bad some days. I always dreaded it when "Mac" would take you to the largest press in spite of the fact he always opened an outside door to lessen the odors on the room itself.

One of the jobs I had to do, besides putting and graders' devil on the staff, was to... I cleaned one and then... One day not long after I started to get to the grating plant. I decided to climb the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned for some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily. He thought the remark pretty good and whole.

Sometimes the gasoline engine, a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and the "fix-it" man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results. Max would then stand back and come over dramatically then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of fixing."

On other occasions when some people would say, "let it be," and seemed to be brokenhearted, I would say, "use a little oil" and vice versa, after that is said, "use a little oil" and vice versa, after that is said, "let it be." They often since have I heard of the value of that remark and the actual need of "oil" in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and in the right way.

(Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the time I told "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring season of 1958 got together just before dark one evening and decided to mutilate the newly built outdoor Pools Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just out of the pool, nobody else seemed to be around except the four boys, no thought or time for bathing suits, so in the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in. The rest quickly followed and across the pool the swim-rest quickly followed and across the pool the boys swam. "Mac" inferred to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Swims Officially Open Pines Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the four? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Earl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars (second world war), Kenneth, was awarded the Victoria Cross; Sidney L. Smith, now prominent druggist; for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale importer and bank and myself.

As a young treasurer I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day I was told to write about writing your version of the story told about "The Marooning of Jerome." I did and read at least two somewhat different versions of the man who was found marooned on a beach at some point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Duxbury County. When found this man's torso and legs were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel later that morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Joe" appeared to have been a man of some considerable social standing and, possibly, of some considerable wealth. However the only thing that could or would ever say after being found and buried for by some family in the French desert was something that sounded like the name "Joe". He either could not, or would not, say anything about who he was or why he was left there, and that was it. And it, one of Digby's conclusions after a long and difficult search have been made, was that the truth concerning this man, "Joe", was that he was different about this man. The only thing that was different about this man, "Joe", was that he was different about this man. The only thing that was different about this man, "Joe", was that he was different about this man.

From the files of the Chamber of January 23, 1967, the following account has been copied concerning India in 1967:

Adding a number of 60 newspapers which sent it to be friends is a copy of the Saint John Gazette of May, 1881, says the Telegraph and among other advertisements contained in the issue before us is one describing the town and township of Digby, and offering for sale certain lots in the town. In this area we are told the township of Digby "extends from the Gut of Cansimble westward to the extremity of the province of Nova Scotia, and contains about 124,000 acres." The town plot is then described.

The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Bay, and twenty miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles distant from the head of H. Mary's Bay. This land, and not from the water's edge, partly is level ground, and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having on an eastern aspect a view of the Annapolis Bay, and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in extent, it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth at that name. It was secured by Leyden's train (New York) in 1645, the point of which went nearly to farther, as, moving to other countries, left the shore free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students, one of which was J.J.'s daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Marvin of Tibet, Prescott, Digby Co.). Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters. I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print." I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like embossing, stapling, perforating, coaming, cutting and crumpling paper stock, mixing inks for certain desired colors, and so forth, too. The only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "go," the printers name for a completed mass.

There was a taste of trying to sell products inside the plant. Work was a little slower early last day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried it, made several calls around town, spent most of the time at one particular street town, and much time and got an order, but

Each 1 1/2 x 1 1/2. This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if people troubled with corns will follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati authority, who claims that a few drops of a drug called Freezone when applied to a tender, itching corn stops soreness at once, and soon the corn dries up and lifts right out without pain. He says Freezone is an ether compound which acts immediately on the surrounding tissues of skin. A quarter of an ounce of Freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of American women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels.

Save your Hair! Get a small bottle of Danderine right now—Also stops itching scalp.

This, brittle, colorless and scratchy hair is sure evidence of a neglected scalp; of dandruff; that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—any time—will surely save your hair.

Get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store. You surely can have beautiful hair and lots of it if you will just try a little Danderine. Save your hair! Try it!

THE FOOL
(By Robert Service.)

"But it isn't playing the game," he said.

And he slammed his books away: "The Latin and Greek I've got in my head."

Will do, for a commoner day. "Rubbish!" I cried. "The bugle's call isn't for lads from school."

D'y'e think he would listen? Oh not at all!

So I called him a fool, a fool.

Now there's his dog by his empty bed, And the fute he used to play, And his favorite bat . . . but Dick he's dead.

Somewhere in France they say, — Dick with his capture of song and sun, Dick of the yellow hair, Dicky whose life had just begun, Carried out there.

Look at his prizes all in a row, Surely a hint of fame; Now he's finished with nothing to show.

Doesn't it seem a shame? Look from the window! All you see — Was to be his one day, Forest and furrow, lawn and lea, And he goes and chuckles it away.

Throws it away to die in the dark, Somebody saw him fall; Part of him mud, part of him blood, The rest of him — not at all.

And yet I'll bet he was never afraid, And he went as best of 'em go, For his hand was clenched on his broken blade, And his face was turned to the foe.

And I called him a fool! . . . how blind was I.

Oh, the cup of my grief's abrim, Will Glory of England ever die So long as we've lads like him? So long as we've fond and fearless fools, Who, spurring fortune and fame, Turn out with the rallying cry of their schools.

Intent on playing the game? A fool! Ah no life was more than wise; His was the proudest part.

He died with the glory of faith in his eyes, And the glory of faith in his heart.

And though there's never a gear to tell Nor a cross to mark his fall, Thank God! we knew that he "battled well."

In the last great game of all!

An exchange puts it this way: "We live in a land of high mountains and high taxes, low valleys and low wages, big crooked rivers and big crooked statesmen, big lakes, big pumpkins big men with pumpkin heads, silver streams that gambol in the mountains, and pious politicians that gaze in the night roaring catarracts and roaring rivers, fast trains fast horses, fast young men sharp lawyers, sharp financiers, sharp-board shoes, noisy children, fertile plains that lie like a sheet of water, and a thousand newspapers that lie like thunder."

HOW A TRAMP MADE GOOD

The True Story of a Maker of Saddles in Prohibition North Dakota.

There was a knock at the back door. "I'll answer that," said Jackson, getting up from the breakfast table as he spoke.

"Can you give me something to eat, mister?" asked a middle aged man, in a quavering voice. "I'm almost starved."

"Why don't you fellows go to work, instead of begging and beating your way?" asked Jackson, the rancher, banker, and all around successful Western business man.

"There isn't anything that I can do in this forsaken country, there is no thing doing in my line," answered Dillon.

"What is your line?" demand Jackson.

"I am a saddler, sir; I can make as fine a saddle as any man ever rode," said Dillon.

"Why did you come to this country?" demanded Jackson. You certainly did not expect to find saddle factories on North Dakota ranches nor in towns of one hundred people."

"Mister, I came to North Dakota to get away from drink; when I learned that I could escape from the drink devil by coming here I did not stop to enquire about work, but came at once. I paid my fare as far as I had money. Since then I have walked and walked and starved and shivered till I can go no farther."

"Come in and have some breakfast, and get warm," said Jackson with an uncomfortable lump in his throat, which made further speech difficult.

After Dillon had finished his breakfast, Jackson said to him:

"I am going to test the truth of what you say; there are a lot of cow boys on my own and on the neighboring ranches; they are always buying good saddles; there is a vacant room in the rear of the livery in which our bank is located. I'll buy whatever you need to begin work in a small way; if you do what you say you can do, I'll finance you further."

Jackson wired Minneapolis for leather, tools, and other necessary equipment for the proposed saddle shop. Two days later the 193 inhabitants of Sentinel City were on the quiver concerning the outcome of Jackson's new venture. He was always starting some new thing, but setting up a tramp in business, and that a saddler shop in Sentinel City, was certainly the craziest undertaking of all. Any man with average intelligence should know that the saddle business belongs to the city.

"Jackson is a dead sear," said one man. "The fellow never would have financed that tramp."

"Jackson is a young ambitious idea list," said another. "He'll be more practical after he loses a lot of money."

On Saturday morning Dillon called Jackson into the shop to show him his first saddle.

"Splendid!" he exclaimed. "I should like a saddle as fine as that for myself. The cowboys will be in town this afternoon, and I'll bring a dozen of them in here to see your sample."

"She's a beauty!" exclaimed Bill Jones after he had carefully examined the saddle. "I'll give you twenty dollars for it," he said, taking out a roll of bills.

"Hold on there; not quite so fast. If you please, Mr. Jones," shouted Eric Storch. "I'll give you twenty five dollars for that saddle. This isn't bargain day at the saddle counter; you can't bluff the gentleman out of the profits on his goods while I am around."

"Gentlemen," said Dillon, "this saddle sells for eighteen dollars and no more; I'll take orders for as many saddles as you care to place at that price."

The boys stared at the speaker, as if to make sure of his sanity; then there was a general rush with orders.

Some months later Dillon said to Jackson, "I can't keep up with the orders."

"Then we will get help," was his prompt reply. "This is a paying business. The thing that pleases me most, Dillon, is that you have made good on my loan."

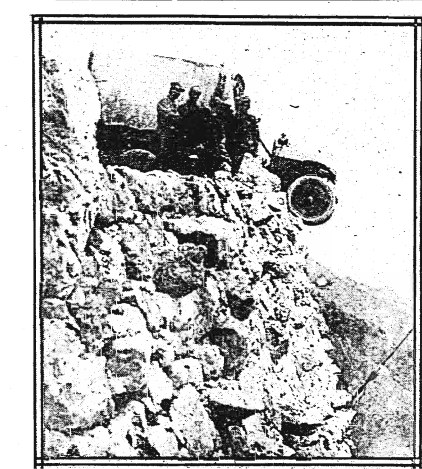

"Thank God for a State where you can't get liquor," said Dillon. "I have always made money; but the drink got it away from me, and I was left poor. My employers always said, 'Drink is your besetting sin; get away from drink and you will do well.'"

"You have a good sized bank account, Dillon; we will organize a company, and you can take as much stock as you like. My tramp has made good."

The Jackson Saddle Company Limited, was organized under the laws of North Dakota with a paid up capital stock of $50,000. Since September, 1914, they have had contracts with the British Government for all the saddles they can make.

"Dillon's it back all the money," said one of the former wise

QUESTIONS FOR EXEMPTED MEN

Case of Each will be Reviewed in Order to Ensure Even Administration.

One of the most significant of the many evidences of that comradeship arms now existing between the great democracy to the south and our selves is the freedom with which each is borrowing from the notebook of the other. The United States, as a later entrant into the struggle for the main tenance of the free institutions of the Earth, necessarily began as a debtor, in the matter of experience, to the neighbor which had been in the fight from the beginning. But in a certain sense it may be said that the American Republic has already liquidated this indebtedness. Certainly when the final balance is struck, it will be found that the United States will have paid back with interest, all the military short cuts acquired in the early days of the Alliance. One of the many ideas for which we are already indebted to the United States is the questionnaire, designed to make for a uniform application of the Military Service Act. These questionnaires, following the practice employed in the United States, will be mailed to all exempted men, who must return them properly filled in, without delay, or forfeit their certificates of exemption. Any change in address should be at once communicated to the District Registrar, as failure to receive questionnaire will be regarded as of the same effect as failure to return it.

The Minister's Missing Wife

A most astounding slander is reported in the columns of a church paper. As it is often the case, this slander was directed against a minister. It was said that his wife was attending a certain meeting, that he went there in a rage, that he by violence dragged her from the hall, and that he by force compelled her to go home with him. He allowed the story to circulate for a time, then riddled it as follows:

"In the first place, I never attempted to influence my wife in her views nor her choice of a meeting."

"Secondly, my wife did not attend the meeting in question."

"In the third place, I did not attend the meeting myself."

"To conclude, neither my wife nor myself had any inclination to go to the meeting."

Finally, I never had a wife."

LOBSTER EMBARGO AROUSES PROTEST

Dealers Hope to Enlist Strong Support in Obtaining Modification of the Order.

Boston, Mass.—Claiming that the lobster industry in Northeastern United States and the Maritime Provinces of Canada is seriously threatened by the embargo placed by the express companies on shipments of live lobsters outside of New England except to New York City, lobster dealers in this city, Portland, Me., Halifax, N.S., and Rockland Me., who handled about 75 per cent of the entire catch are planning to enlist the services of Massachusetts and Canadian authorities and the Boston Chamber of Commerce in obtaining a modification of the order.

The Boston lobster dealers, who claim to represent an investment of $5,000,000, and who 10 days ago were predicting a lobster shortage and continued high prices, now believe that the New England market will be flooded with lobsters at prices which will not repay the Maine and Nova Scotia fishermen for their effort.

These dealers declared that more than 25,000 men are employed in the lobster industry between Portland, Me., and Cape Breton, and that many of them are starting out on the spring catch in the expectation of obtaining a ready market for the lobsters, and prices which will give them a reasonable profit.

In their effort to obtain public and private support against the embargo, several of the large wholesale firms admit that they have been subsidizing lobster companies in Maine.

Fifteen Boston wholesale lobster dealers, are united in their campaign against the embargo, but representatives of these firms deny that they have ever combined to fix prices for lobsters. Retail dealers point out, however, that prices for lobsters along the water front rule about the same among all the dealers throughout the year.

On the other hand, the wholesalers maintain that during April, May and June, when lobsters are more plentiful than at other times during the year, the average price has not varied for five years, although the price of all other fish, including oysters, has advanced 50 to 100 per cent and in some cases even more.

The express companies claim that the order for the embargo was issued from the representative of the companies in Washington, and was for the purpose of releasing transportation for necessities, lobsters having been placed in the luxury class of foods.

The companies also claim that recent full lobster shipments by rail are dependent wholly on close connections at transfer points, and that transportation at the present time is so uncertain that heavy losses will result if the companies accept such consignments.

W. H. Nickerson of Boston, representing the wholesalers and a former member of the Canadian Parliament, claims to have been assured by A. K. Maclean, Acting Minister of Finance in Canada, that the Canadian authorities will assist in obtaining a modification of the order.

FROM A SOLDIER IN FRANCE.

The letter which we publish below was received by Mrs. Mary E. Beaton, of Weymouth.

Somewhere in France, February 10th, 1918.

MY DEAR MOTHER: A few lines this evening to say I am quite well and trust these few lines will find you all in the best of health. Have been pretty busy lately, or I would have written to you long ago. I had a few lines from Archie and also a few lines from "Babe" the other day and was glad to hear from them. I also had a letter from Irving and at the time of writing he was quite well and I guess he likes the army life so far. Well I hope he will like it when he gets out here. He will find some change too. I do not mind soldiering in the least, as it is a great thing to be in khaki these days. So far I guess I have no kick coming for I have been pretty lucky and if all goes well I guess I can hold it down till the end of the war. We are fighting to maintain the integrity of the British Empire, for freedom and liberty and for an honorable, enduring peace. But in order for us to come out victors in the mighty struggle, we must have more men. It is all very well for some to stay at home and give orders, but it would be more to their credit were they to den the King's uniform, shoulder a gun and fight for their homes and loved ones.

Well anyway, I hope this year will see the end of this cruel war and give us a chance to get back to dear old Canada and our comfortable homes. The general opinion of the people over here is that the war will be over in the summer, but for my part I can't see it. It is wonderful how the French people keep up courage, they alone know what war is like and I do not see how they live. They really don't know what living is really like, that is the poor people and middle class, for they only exist on the face of God's earth. O, but what a great day it will be when we get back to real civilization. No one can appreciate a good home until they see something like this war and what effect it has on the people. Well let us hope for the best. It has been a pretty long winter so far and we still have a few weeks to go yet before spring will be here and I daresay the coming weeks will have their drawbacks as well as those later on. Considering everything, I have had a fairly good time but there are a good many poor fellows over here who have no one to write to them and I can tell you they feel downhearted. Getting mail is one thing that helps to cheer one up. It is an impressive sight to see the long rows of men lined up at mail time looking for a letter or parcel from home or friends. If those who are at home and those young fellows who have stayed at home through fear and fright, could only see these chaps with strained eyes looking at the outgoing mail, they would be sure to get mail and then turn away with a gloomy, disappointed look and "I wish I were what happens to me" expression on their faces, they would take a few moments to themselves and wish to heaven they had sacrificed everything, they hold dear and came out here to do the fighting. I am not saying this to anyone of you, for I hear quite often, and the officer you write or at least the more mail I get helps to cheer me up. Well mother, I soon will have another birthday here in France and I will do my best to make it as pleasant and enjoyable as I can. I hope to get the parcel you sent. I have been lucky lately in receiving parcels, for I think I have received them all except the one from Aunt Emma and the local Red Cross.

Will write you again in a few days so I will close now. Will get a few photos taken if I get a chance. We use a camera and tell me the news of dear old Weymouth. Love to all the family.

Your loving son, Clifford.

THE MUTT AND JEFF MAN

"Bud" Fisher, creator of Mutt and Jeff, has been made a captain in the British army. Fisher, who has always been interested in soldiering and who campaigned in Mexico with Gen. Villa in 1915, when he was captured and held in that army, attended the last Plattsburgh camp. He was commissioned a lieutenant in field artillery and assigned to Camp Meade.

Fisher found that it would probably be some time before that division got abroad, and he was anxious to see the "show," so he recently offered his resignation in the American army which was accepted by the secretary of war. He was then offered and accepted a commission as captain in the British army.

"As I figure it," declared Captain Fisher after receiving his new commission and rank, "we are all fighting for the same thing, and what I wanted to do was to get overseas. It makes no difference which khaki you wear. I should like to have gone with the Americans, but I had this chance for foreign service immediately, so I grabbed old opportunity by the front hair. He has been attached to Lord Beaverbrook's staff.

MEAT CONSUMPTION ON DECLINE.

Military Service Act Important Announcement to All EXEMPTED MEN and to the Public Generally

IN dealing with the very large number of claims for exemption brought forward for consideration in connection with Class 1 under the Military Service Act, it has occurred, as was inevitable, that as a result of false statements and difficulties put in the way of investigation, some individuals have secured exemption whose proper place is in the Army.

It is not the intention of the Government to allow these men to evade permanently their obligation to bear their part in the military defence of the Country and of the ideals for which we are fighting. To do so would defeat the purpose of the Act, and cause grave injustice to men in the second class necessarily called out to fill their places.

Exemptions Granted on False Grounds

It is, therefore, proposed to scrutinize carefully all exemptions granted to date in order to separate those which have been granted on false or insufficient grounds from those that are well founded.

With this object in view the various Registrars under the Military Service Act have been instructed to issue a series of questionnaires to exempted men. These questionnaires must be filled up correctly and returned promptly under penalty of forfeiture of exemption for failure to do so.

Exempted Men Who Have Changed Address

It is therefore important in their own interest that all exempted men who have changed their address since their exemption was granted and who have not already notified the Registrar of such change should notify him at once. Under the Regulations it is the duty of exempted men to keep the Registrars advised of any change of address, and failure to receive the questionnaire by reason of neglect of this duty must be treated as equivalent to failure to return the questionnaire after receipt.

Citizens Urged to Assist

In many instances information has been furnished by members of the public which has led to the cancellation of exemptions obtained by false or misleading statements. Further co-operation of this character is invited. The Government regard it as the Duty of all loyal citizens, not only to the Country, but to the men at the front, to assist in this way in securing reinforcements on a just and legal basis. Correspondence of this character will be treated as strictly confidential and will receive the fullest investigation.

CHARLES J. DOHERTY, Minister of Justice.

Correspondence should be directed to E. Hart Nichols, Esq., Registrar under the Military Service Act, Halifax, N.S.

WAR SUMMARY

From the regions of Somme southward to where the battle line turns eastward, furious fighting has continued on various sectors, but everywhere the enemy has been held and even pushed back at some points. Nowhere has he been able, although he continued to fling great masses of men into the fray, to gain ground, except an infinitesimal tract from the French, north of Morville, British and French machine guns and rifles men, as in days past, again tore great holes in the ranks of the field gray as they endeavored to press on.

So great have been the losses of the Germans in front of the British north of the Somme that Sunday saw them unwilling again to take up the gauge of battle. Along the Scarpe the British to themselves went on the offensive and to the east of Arras captured the village of Fenchy. On the southern end of line, where Von Hindenburg is endeavoring to pierce through to the old German positions as they stood before his retreat in 1916, the British and French troops fighting together, have met the enemy in furious combats but everywhere defeated him with sanguinary losses.

Not alone has Von Hindenburg lost large numbers of men killed or wounded but both the British and French have taken a considerable number of new prisoners and also captured machine guns. At last accounts the Germans have launched a fresh attack in the region between the Rivers Luce and Acre and fierce fighting was in progress.

The reports from both the British and French war office seemingly indicate that the allied troops have reached the limits of their retrograde movement. In any event they have cancelled the engagement Field Marshal Von Hindenburg made with himself to take dinner in Paris on All Fool's Day.

CONCRETE SHIPS.

Numerous concrete ships of various kinds have been put in commission in recent years in different countries of Europe, but we have seen no previous mention of the launching of a concrete ship of more than 500 tons. Enough experience has been had with such ships, however, to render them a promising addition to the world's shipping resources at a time when shipping tonnage has been so severely reduced. If the concrete ship makes good in a big way and the indications are favorable it will be a permanent factor of importance.—Springfield Union.

GERMANS GIVE UP SHIP.

STOCKHOLM, Mar. 26.—It is reported that the Germans have released the Swedish steamer Princess Ingeborg. This steamer, while bound for a Swedish port, after having unloaded a Belgian relief cargo, was captured by a German submarine off the Skag on March 16 and taken to a German port. The Swedish government protested.

A young British soldier found a piano in one of the houses of a village taken by his company. He was about to play the instrument when an officer called for an examination before the music started. It was well, for if the soldier had struck one of a half dozen keys a vast mine would have been exploded, underneath the British.

GOOD WORDS FOR THE RED CROSS.

In a letter received from Gunner Phil B. Filleul, of the 95th, Howitzer Battery Canadian Field Artillery who is at present in an English Hospital he speaks in the highest terms of the treatment received there and also of the noble work being done by the branch of the Canadian Red Cross in London and the attention he is receiving from them. Their purpose is to look after the Canadian boys well. He wonders how he can get out so well after going through Battles of Vimy Ridge, Freston, Lens, Loos, Hill 70, Ypres and Passchendaele. Passchendaele he says was worst of all.

[Gunner Filleul is a Weymouth boy.]

SWISS ALLOTTED SHIPS.

WASHINGTON, March 25th.—Transfer of 50,000 tons of American shipping to the Swiss government to take food supplies for that country was announced today by the shipping board. The Swiss government, it is understood, will secure a safe conduit for the German Government for the transportation of supplies to Quito.

MISERY FOR YEARS

Mrs. Courtney Tells How She Was Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Oskaloosa, Iowa.—"For years I was simply in misery from a weakness and awful pains—and nothing seemed to do me any good. A friend advised me to take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I did so and got relief right away. I can certainly recommend this valuable medicine to other women who suffer, for it has done such good work for me and I know it will help others if they will give it a fair trial."

—Mrs. LIZZIE COURTNEY, 108 5th Ave., West, Oskaloosa, Iowa.

Why will women drag along from day to day, year in and year out, suffering such misery as did Mrs. Courtney, when such letters as this are continually being published. Every woman who suffers from displacements, irregularities, inflammation, ulceration, backache, nervousness, or who is passing through the Change of Life should give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial. For special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham, Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of its long experience is at your service.

Creative Canadian Literature

Although there are no books more sought after by collectors of other nations than "Canadiana," Canadians themselves have hitherto paid little attention to their own literature. With Lord Shaughnessy's of the C.P.R., who himself is a great reader of works by Canadian authors, and has an extensive library, was recently asked to present the nucleus of a library to the Canadian Club of New York, no available list could be found which could be considered representative of what was creative and original in Canadian literature. With the help of well informed booksellers and librarians such a list was compiled and the nucleus of this Canadian Library in New York has been formed. The list was confined almost exclusively to fiction and poetry, as the intention was to emphasize the creative character of Canadian literary expression. Several books which otherwise would have been included, such as Jerry Snyder's "In the Wake of the Eighteen-Twentieths" and Edith Eaton's "Mrs. Spring Fragrance," could not be obtained, as they are out of print. As a guide to those who are interested in the growth of an original Canadian literature, Lord Shaughnessy's list should prove of great interest. Here it is:

SAVE FOOD

In a time needing food economy many people are not getting all the nourishment they might from their food. It is not how much you eat, but much you assimilate, that does you good.

The addition of a small teaspoonful of Bovril to the diet as a peptogenic before meals leads to more thorough digestion and assimilation and thus saves food, for you need less.

It Works! Try It

Tells how to loosen a sore, tender corn so it lifts out without pain.

Good news spreads rapidly and drug gists here are kept busy dispensing Bovril, the elixir of life, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers. Ask at any pharmacy for a quarter ounce of Bovril, which will cost you little, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

"You apply just a few drops on the tender, itching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so softened that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never inflames or even irritates the adjoining tissue.

This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection heretofore resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns.

"CASCARETS" WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

For Sick Headache, Sour Stomach, Sluggish Liver and Bowels—Take Cascarets tonight.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give your constipated bowels a thorough cleansing and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist will keep you feeling good for months.

HOW THE TROUBLE STARTS

If more people knew how Rheumatism and kindred ills started there would be infinitely less suffering.

It should be a matter of popular knowledge that the blood stream completes the circulation of the body in approximately three minutes, gathering up waste matters. It is the function of the kidneys to remove these impurities or poisons from the blood and eliminate them from the body. Should there be any derangement of the kidney action the poisons are not eliminated but are carried around again in the blood stream, to accumulate slowly and occasion sickness and distress. Then follow pains in the back, in the region of the kidneys, Rheumatism, constant headaches, and the many complaints arising from derangements of the kidneys or bladder. First, the kidneys must be put in order and until these organs are healed and regulated no real health is possible. Gin Pills contain the medicinal and tonic properties that the kidneys require.

You can get Gin Pills at all dealers—a box or 6 boxes for $2.50, or a sample will be sent free upon request to the National Drug & Chemical Co., Ltd., Canada, Limited, Toronto, or to the U. S. address, 202 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y. 124

THEY GET NEARER TO THE BOYS

The Mighty Work of the Y. M. C. A.

A gentleman who is interested in the great work of the Y. M. C. A. on says: When I was told that if I went at a certain hour I would have the pleasure of meeting the Rev. Charles W. Gordon (Ralph Connor), I accepted with joy.

"What do you think of the work of the Y. M. C. A. in the war?"

He hunched his shoulders slightly, and slipped down a trifle in his chair. From the expression on his face I was afraid that he was going to offer an unfavorable criticism. But his answer made it clear that was not what disturbed him.

"It is doing a lot of work that the church should be doing."

Now you can understand why my question caused him a shade of discomfort. The minister in him a touch of the old Free Kirk spiritual guide that made him feel the responsibilities of his calling made him regret to confess that a purely lay institution is carrying practical Christianity to a point that is as yet impossible for the churches beating time to it," as the soldier boys would say.

"Don't misunderstand me," he protested. "The churches and their chaplains are doing a wonderful work, but the Y. M. C. A., being without a propaganda or dogmas is able to adapt itself instantly to any needs that may arise, either at the battle front or whenever the boys may be located. It meets them at all hours and in all places with a spirit of good cheer, comfort and helpfulness."

"Then you are of the opinion that the man who supports the war work of his church is not doing all he can to help the boys?"

"Assuredly. The Y. M. C. A. is able to go a little farther. Through the work of the church may be nearer to the ideal of what I want to see done, the Y. M. C. A. gets nearer to the boys."

That struck me as a very important point, and I decided to question him from an angle that might not be pleasing to a clergyman.

"You know," I insisted in a spirit of half confession, "that there are a lot of boys who would be inclined to look at a Y. M. C. A. as home as a sort of selfish institution, beneath the notice of young men of the world who like to effect a sort of manly withdrawal from the Y. M. C. A. get near to them?"

"Yes. The helpfulness of the Y. M. C. A. has won out over every obstacle in the beginning, the officers of the High Command had something of the attitude you suggest. But whenever there was anything to be done to help the boys the Y. M. C. A. was there; to do it well. By its spirit of unassuming helpfulness the Y. M. C. A. has won the hearts of both the old and the new, no matter what their church connections may be or may not be. It gives and it does not ask anything in return. Its sole reward is that it helps freely all who need help. The thing to emphasize about its work is that it gives it as an organized spirit of giving, and it gives without a string to the giving."

"But I often hear comments, not always friendly about the prices that the Y. M. C. A. charge for some of its supplies?"

"Such comments have no justification. The prices are as good as any that can be made. If there is any profit on the sales to the boys in the camps or back of the lines, every cent of it goes to provide things free, absolutely free to those who are in the front line trenches. As a matter of fact the camps and other organizations under the control of the churches and chaplains have pretty much the same schedule of prices as the Y. M. C. A."

Here I asked a concluding question.

"In the war I may tell the people that in its war work, especially in the matter of creature comforts, the Y. M. C. A. is nearer to the boys than anyone else."

Yes. It stands nearer to them than anything else except military organization under whose discipline they live and die. You see they are specially organized, trained, and outfitted for this kind of work—and they are a mighty spiritual force too."

When leaving him I stopped to talk to several other clergymen who appeared in the offering—it was a place of clergymen—and he stepped from the room. Shortly afterwards he returned with a copy of his latest book, on the fly leaf of which he had written in memory of the men we had known in our boyhood.

"There were giants in those days," it will be cherished as one of most prized of a little collection of auto graphed first editions. And with it I shall cherish the memory of having spent a couple of hours with a well known man who is doing a noble work himself and is not afraid to give the fullest credit to other men who are doing noble work—such as the officers and field workers of the Y. M. C. A., "who play such a great part in the work of the Church's backing in the great game," as Connor said.

AIRMEN SINK TEN SUBMARINES

Details of Destruction of U-Boats Received

LONDON April 6—Details concerning the destruction of ten German submarines by naval aircraft recently—eight by seaplanes and the others by dirigibles—have been obtained by the Associated Press from the Admiralty. The first case is described as follows:

"While on patrol in the English Channel a seaplane sighted a submarine eight miles away, directly in the path of an oncoming convoy of merchant ships. The seaplane dived at twenty miles an hour. The submarine attempted to escape, by submerging, but was just awash as the seaplane reached a bombing position and released two bombs, one of which exploded on the conning tower. The seaplane dropped two more bombs on the collapsed submarine, which was of the largest type, carrying two guns."

The second case: "At dawn a seaplane sighted a large submarine on the surface, with a member of the crew standing by the gun. The seaplane dropped a bomb on the tail of the U boat and afterward photographed the sinking submarine, with a big hole in its deck. A second bomb was dropped close to the submarine's bow, and the U boat collapsed."

The third case: "Two seaplanes attacked a large submarine traveling on the surface at fourteen knots, with two men in the conning tower. A bomb was exploded close to the conning tower, and the submarine began to sink. A second bomb was dropped on the conning tower, and the U boat collapsed."

The fourth case: "Three patrol planes sighted a large submarine as it was submerging and dropped two bombs close to the conning tower, causing the submarine to turn turtle and disappear in a mass of oil and wreckage."

The fifth case: "A seaplane sighted two submarines close to the surface and dropped two bombs. One bomb was ineffective, but the other hit the deck fairly amidships. The submarine was hidden by the smoke of the explosion, and when the smoke cleared the U boat was sinking with both ends in the air."

The sixth case: "A seaplane saw the track of a torpedo fired at a merchant man. It dived toward the surface and sighted the black shadow of the submarine well below the surface. It dropped two bombs, which both exploded close to the submarine, resulting in a large quantity of oil, bubbles and wreckage."

The seventh case: "Two seaplanes sighted a U boat on the surface and dropped a bomb each. The first bomb caused a heavy list to the U boat, which began to sink by the stern. The second bomb exploded in the centre of the swirl, demolishing the U boat."

The eighth case: "A seaplane dropped a bomb on a submarine just emerging, and the U boat disappeared with a heavy list to port. The U boat dropped a second bomb into the swirl, and a few minutes later a patch of oil 150 feet long and twelve feet wide appeared on the surface."

The ninth case: "A naval airship at midnight sighted a suspicious patch of oil and circled it in an effort to ascertain the cause. Suddenly a periscope broke the surface in the midst of the oil. The airship dropped a bomb close to the periscope, and a series of bubbles began appearing indicating that the damaged submarine was moving slowly away under the water. Several more bombs were dropped in the path indicated, until satisfactory evidence of the enemy's destruction was obtained."

The tenth case: "An airship dropped two bombs over a submarine which was engaged in attacking merchantmen. Great patches of oil and bubbles indicated severe damage, and trawlers made this complete by depth charges."

KEEP EYEGLASSES CLEAN

To keep eyeglass mountings clean use a tooth brush and a little alcohol periodically and the mounting will last infinitely longer. Sweat, grease and grit, if left to their own devices, will clog and grind the working parts until they wear out far in advance of the estimate time.

Not long ago a prominent optician was having considerable trouble with a few of his male customers. The metal working parts of their eyeglasses were wearing like putty. When he investigated he found that the secretory one had worked in a bronze factory and that the dust grit was grinding like emery on the movable parts of the glasses. To get maximum service from a pair of glasses it is just as important to keep the parts clean and free from grit as it is with automobile or any piece of machinery with bearing surfaces.

BEAR RIVER EAST

Miss Abbie Jefferson left on Thursday last week for Digby, where she expects to remain for several weeks.

Mrs. Hute Robinson, who had been spending Easter with friends in Deep Brook, returned home on Thursday of last week.

Mrs. E. Banks, of Lawrence town, with her daughter Frances and little son Merle, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Zwicker.

The B. R. E. Club passed in last week the sum of $9.00 to the Bear River Red Cross Society for which they received their hearty thanks.

RAID IN WHICH WALTHAM BOYS PARTICIPATED NETTED LARGE HAUL OF HUN PRISONERS.

The following letter was received by Mrs. John H. Smith, formerly of Smith's Cove, but now of Waltham, Mass., written by her son Oakley Smith, of the 1st American Infantry, at the front.

"My dear mother:—No doubt these few lines will be just a bit more interesting than I have been writing before. I am writing in a dugout on the Western front. We came here last night after a fine day in the front lines where we were in the most successful raid in two years. There were 27 German prisoners, 10 officers and 3 machine guns taken. The fellows were only out 25 minutes. You would have laughed if you had seen Charlie Bull and me trying to duck gas shells. We were just about a mile out of our dugouts when the Germans started throwing a barrage of gas shells at our ammunition trench. If you could have seen us dig! We made a dugout about 50 yards away in less than 10 minutes. I wrote it. I went in the door head and first and Charlie after me and believe me there was some mud on us.

"There are certainly great sights to see. Most every day we see more than a dozen air fights. All we see when we look out is fire, stumps and shell holes. The French soldiers think there is no one like the Americans.

"We have heard the name of the Iron Battalion. We were the first National Guard to land in France and maybe we are not proud of it. We are having turkey for dinner today. Can you imagine turkey in the front line trenches? I do not understand why you have not received more of my mail than you have. I have written to someone in the family every week, besides my letter to you. I have missed you so much that I have put two weeks for we have been on the move. The tobacco you sent came in very handy for I left most of my tobacco in my harrack bag as I had a load of other things to carry. I will write you a long letter next time and tell you a little more of my past experiences.

"Your loving son, Oakley T. Smith."

Middle Aged Women

Are Here Told the Best Remedy for Their Troubles.

Freeport, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run-down condition so it was hard for me to do my work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared."—Mrs. M. GONZALEZ, 925 Napoleon St., Fremont, Ohio.

North Haven, Conn.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound restored my health after everything else had failed when passing through change of life. There is nothing like it to overcome the trying symptoms."—Mrs. FLORENCE LASKA, Box 197, North Haven, Conn.

PROUD OF HIS BIG FEET.

Negro Discharged Because Army Had No No. 15's in Stock.

Private Moses Jefferson, the negro who was honorably discharged from the National Army at Camp Travis, San Antonio, because the Government could not find shoes big enough to fit him, is back in his little log cabin home near Goose Creek, Texas. He is sobbing around unhoused, as he has been doing ever since he saw the light of day about 25 years ago.

Mose's feet required a No. 15 shoe. During these three months that he spent at Camp Travis he was a sore trial to the officials of the supply department, as well as to the officers who had charge of the drilling of the company to which he belonged.

Mose is proud of the distinction he has attained.

"Y-a-a-s, sah, I likes de shiny fast rate," he said to a white neighbor who visited him shortly after his return from Camp Travis.

"Did you do any drilling at Camp Travis?" Mose was asked.

"Y-a-a-s, indeedly; I wuz drilled every day along with de rest of de 16th Depot Brigade."

"When I wuz drafted I went to San Antonio with a bunch of boys who had done been drafted too. When we got out to de camp we wuz given a washup an' den handed out uniforms and shoes."

"I got de cap'n's I'd a-never wear shoes, but he said put 'em on. De man kept a-bandin' me one pair after another till he had ran out of sizes."

"He called up de Major and I wuz sent over to see dat man, and he axed me what I meant a-bandin' such a big fellow, he said de Gov'ment didn't hab no time to be footin' and losin' time over a man who had feet dat no shoes would fit."

BERNSTORFF AND HIS AIDES SHOULD HAVE BEEN HINGED

Newark, N. J., April 6.—Count Von Bernstorff and his aides should have been hanged at the time of the sinking of the Lusitania, Bishop Richard J. Cooke, of Helena (Mont.), declared today in addressing the Newark Methodist Episcopal conference.

America should have entered the war "when the water was fine," as it would have heartened Belgium, England and France, he added.

"I say and the only peace the American nation will endorse will be a peace coming from unconditional surrender. The house of Hohenzollern has been from the beginning a house of thieves and scoundrels that never respected the laws of God or man."

GIVE "SYRUP OF FIGS" TO CONSTIPATED CHILD

Delicious "Fruit Laxative" can't harm tender little Stomach, Liver and Bowels.

Look at the tongue, Mother! If coated, your little one's stomach, liver and bowels need cleansing at once. When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath bad; has sore throat, diarrhoea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs" and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently moves out of its little bowels without gripping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

"PERFECTION" Blue Flame Oil Cookstoves

The solution of the summer fuel problem. The Perfection is a wick stove with a perfect adjustment, is warranted not to smoke or smell if properly taken care of. You can bake ten minutes after the wicks are lighted and the same length of time will heat your iron, while a turn of the regulators puts the fire out. Now with prices for solid fuel at such a high and the cost of using a Perfection per burner an hour with National Light Oil being only TWO CENTS it can be plainly seen that such a stove in the house is a mighty good investment. Solid fuel being not only high but scarce, a Perfection will enable you to save your supply for the winter.

For the year 1918 we are beginning a Perfection Service which will interest 1918 purchasers. We will endeavor to make this store a Genuine Perfection Service Station and would like to tell you about it.

We stock these stoves in One, Two and Three Burner Sizes with Ovens.

On March 15th, 1918, an ice cream was held at the weekly Red Cross Meeting and $3.45 was realized. (The ice cream was donated by Mrs. Don and Mrs. Albert Gidney. This was used to buy yarn for knitting socks.)
On Feb. 10th, 1918, 18 pairs of socks were sent to our boys in France, who were received all right and we had the thanks of the soldiers who received them.
conveyed to us by letters. They stated they had been going to bed with their socks on, to dry them, having none to change. During the past summer we have sent to our boys across, 6 pairs of socks and have sent to other soldiers across 12 pairs, also sent to Fritz Comforts,
Halifax, 18 pairs.

We realize this is a poor showing compared with other Auxiliaries around us, but we have very few good knitters and cannot seem to get any more interested in the work. Some young girls are learning and doing good work.
A report was circulated that we were sending the socks to our boys overseas and that they were selling them at $5.00 per pair. We are pleased to state that the story was only credited by a very few.
While this false statement gave much pain to the families interested, we know those who made the charge have never known the anxiety of having a boy

FREEPORT RED CROSS.

The Ladies of the Freeport Red Cross Society wish to let the public and all who are interested in Red Cross work know what work they have accomplished and what money has been raised since the officers were appointed Dec. 1st, 1917.
100 pairs of socks have been knit, and a number of stretch caps and mouth wipes have been made.
On Feb. 28th, one case of socks were shipped to Box No. 2 Halifax, containing 102 pairs, 6 pairs have been given to send to boys overseas in separate parcels. The Society has on hand 50 pairs to be shipped along with a good number of stretch caps and mouth wipes.
Freeport can boast of some very fine expert knitters. Mrs. John Jones, one of our former presidents, has knit for our Society 175 pairs of socks, besides doing large amounts of larger sewing. Mrs. Lenickson comes next, having knit 140 pairs, Mrs. Chas. Moore has knit in the last year 75 pairs. Our present, Mrs.
Leslie Stevens has knit since the new year came in, 19 pairs, we doubt if any of the Local Red Cross Societies can beat these ladies in the art of knitting.

SANTA FE OFFICIAL MAKE THRIFT SALE RECORD AT VERNETTE.

TAFT, March 21, - L. W. Jones, head of the C. M. O. Company (Santa Fe) Recreation Hall, at Vernet, is a true patriot and while his staff and his postoffice is making a good record in the sale of Thrift Stamps, Jones has taken all honors in his district for sales to date.
Jones has a brother who went "over the top" a year ago and who is now in a hospital in England. His brother's brother who was in the first consignment to go "over there." This brings the war and all its sorrows right into their home and causes them to see the dire need of every American doing his bit.
The Thrift Stamp sale record kept by Jones shows that he sold $1,000 in January, $1,068.39 in February and to date has placed $891.05 worth of stamps in March. His total sales since the appointment on January 18th are $2,951.29
To Jones belongs much credit for this grand total, for he has found it necessary to make these sales in his spare time, who his duties at the Recreation Hall did not keep him busy.
[Mr. and Mrs. Jones, formerly lived at Weymouth. Both are well known in Digby Co.]

Make Your Car Look New For a Dollar or Two EFFECTO AUTO FINISHES

Whether you paint your car for the "fun of it" or for the tires and gasoline that the saving will buy, Effecto Auto Finishes will give you finished results at a home-made price.

Spread Effecto Auto Enamel over the surface as best you can and forget about it. It will even itself out into a smooth coating and dry out of danger from dust quickly. When you drive your car out again in a day or two your neighbors will think you have a new one. Only a coat or two of Effecto Auto Enamel is required to work this transformation in your car. Especially will the color scheme be distinctive if you use a different color of Effecto Enamel for the running gear.

An Effecto finish is very durable - more durable than the finish originally put on by the manufacturers of most cars. It will not crack, chip off, nor become dull through exposure to weather or repeated washing, as do ordinary automobile finishes which are made "down-to-a-price" instead of "up-to-a standard."

EFFECTO AUTO TOP AND SEAT DRESSING

Effecto Auto Top and Seat Dressing restores the new black appearance and durability of mohair and leather automobile tops, seats, curtains, leather work, etc. Unlike some dressings, it thoroughly permeates the fabric, colors it and water-proofs it.

Latest War News.

The following despatch was received from Halifax yesterday afternoon: With the French Army in the field, saying that the German line south of the Somme to the Oise about 50 miles, are being bombarded by the largest artillery concentration yet attained by the Allies, for miles behind the enemy's position.

The whole country is under artillery fire, and prisoners say that cannonading has prevented the Germans from digging a single trench, and inflicting the severest losses.

The new daylight time was introduced on Sunday morning. Some of the residents showed their time pieces ahead an hour Saturday night, before going to bed. The change was made without much confusion. The churches on Sunday morning ran on the old time, but changed for the evening service. Some of the towns people were an hour early at Church Sunday morning, others were confused, and remained at home. The town clock was running bright and early on the new time. Now that the daylight scheme is in operation throughout the entire Dominion, there should develop little or no confusion and within a few days even the most prejudiced persons will in all probability admit that the new system during the summer months is at least on a par with the old time. We have heard very little adverse comment on the new scheme, so we presume everyone has accepted it as a good move.

Americans, and we here in Canada have also discovered, that a dollar is only worth 50 cents. That depends of course on what you buy with it. If you buy shoes, it is only worth a quarter. A statistician has figured out that a dollar now only buys two pounds of sirloin steak instead of 3.2 pounds. It will only buy a third as much pork chops, two-fifths as much bacon, not quite half as much ham and less than half as much lard. A dollar now will only buy as much flour as you could get for 50 cents ten years ago, and only half as much cornmeal as former times. It is sold for 34 cents. In fact, a dollar is no longer a dollar.

The farm slacker is no better than the man who would not get into khaki when the call for recruits came. The women must "white feather" the man who continues to live ineffectually, dawdling through the day, and dancing through the night.

A backyard can grow a crop just as well as the rural market garden. Some people have an idea that a poor soil will not produce a crop. This is a mistake. Dig it well and fertilize it, and see what a bumper crop you will have.

Whoever makes two cars of corn, or two blades of grass to grow, where only one grew before, deserves better of mankind, and does more essential service to his country than the whole race of politicians put together.

Joint Billings says: The higher up we get, the more we are watched—the rooster on the top of the church-steeple is of more importance, altho' he is tin, than two roosters in a barn yard.

The Richmond Record says: "The new daylight saving bill, will give the rich more time to play poker and the poor more time to raise potatoes."

Almost every time a man thinks he will do some work in a garden, there comes a chilly day which gives him cold feet, and the proposition is held up.

We are only playing at food saving yet. In England and France they are "doing" it.

BOARD OF TRADE.

The quarterly meeting of the Digby Board of Trade, will be held in the Council chamber of Town Hall, on Monday evening, April 22nd at 8 o'clock. Every member is urged to be present. If there are business men in town who are not affiliated with the Digby Board, we would request that they be present on the above date and become a member. Some people have an idea that there is a vast amount of talking at a Board meeting, but little accomplished. They claim that it is nothing but "hot air." We disagree with the party who judge a Board as such. A live Board of Trade is an asset to any town, taking up as it does a line of work which a town government can not, or has not the time to successfully handle. It is organized for the purpose of dealing with problems in a community, and the betterment of conditions generally, which are of vital interest to all concerned.

MARRIED AT VICTORIA BEACH.

The marriage of Vesta L. Foley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel McMahon, to Orlin Everett Jones, the bride's home at Victoria Beach, on Wednesday evening April 18th. Rev. Isaac Brindley performed the ceremony. The bride looked very charming in a gown of white silk with shadow lace and satin ribbon trimmings. After the ceremony, the guests who numbered sixty, repaired to the dining room where a nice collation was served. The remainder of the evening was spent in singing and games. They received a large number of useful presents. The groom's gift to the bride was a beautiful piano range organ. The bride's travelling suit was of navy blue cloth, with black trimmings and a white waist, with a white ribbon trimmings. With the happy couple a long and happy wedded life.

Part of a Jewish Battalion passed through Digby, Tuesday, on Saturday. Most of the recruits were from New York and New Jersey. They were on their way to Windsor for training, preparatory to venturing to Palestine. The group carried national flags, and wore arm bands, marked "Jewish Legion." When questioned about what they purposed doing, they said: "We are going to fight the Kaiser and the Turk. England has promised us Palestine, if we win, and we will fight it, it takes five years." We like the spirit of these men, for they mean to stay in until the finish.

Canada-Wide Appeal

"In thousands of cases," writes an officer, "it was that first hot cup of coffee that dragged the man back to life and sanity." The tremendous helpfulness of the Y.M.C.A. as an aid to the "morale," or fighting spirit, of the soldiers is everywhere praised. No wonder the Germans make every effort to smother the Y.M.C.A. huts out of existence.

The Y.M.C.A. is everywhere. You first met the helpful, manly Y.M.C.A. worker in camp, then on train and boat, at camp in England and in France, close to the firing line. Often he risks his life to reach you in the trenches. He has won the warmest praise from military authorities, statesmen—the King! Have you a precious boy at the front? You cannot be "over there" to guide him away from fierce temptations of camp and city. You cannot comfort him in his supreme hour of trial. Your parcels to him are necessarily few. But the Y.M.C.A., thank God, is "over there," going where you cannot go—doing the very things you long to do—doing it for you and for him. Will you help? This vast organization of helpfulness needs at least $2,250,000 from Canada for 1918. For your boy's sake be GENEROUS!!

Here's your chance to do a fine stroke in the big war! Help the Y.M.C.A. to help your brothers overseas by joining in the

"Earn and Give Campaign"

Six thousand Canadian older boys are invited to earn and give at least Ten Dollars ($10) to the Red Triangle Fund. That means $60,000 in all! Splendid! Five thousand dollars will be used for boys' work in India and China; another $3,000 for the National Boys' Work of Canada, and $20,000 to help big brothers in Khaki. Ask your local Y.M.C.A. representative for information and pledge card. When you have subscribed one or more units of Ten Dollars, you will receive a beautifully engraved certificate.

CALLED TO THE COLORS.

Ottawa, April 21. Exemptions of men, class one, of the ages of twenty-one and twenty-two are cancelled. Thus all unmarried men and widowers, who were of these ages when they claimed exemptions will be requested to join the colors, irrespective of exemption from Military Service granted or pending.

The calling to the colors of the three years expected to yield at least thirty thousand men, physically fit for combat, will be given effect. A further order-in-council authorizing further action under the Military Service Act and approved by both houses of parliament on Friday was formally given effect. A further order-in-council was passed, in the following terms: "His Excellency the Governor-General in council, on the recommendation of the minister of militia and defence, and in pursuance of the provisions of the order-in-council, dated the 20th day of April, 1918 (P. C. 919), giving authority in that behalf, is pleased to order, and doth hereby order and direct, that orders to report for duty, irrespective of an exemption granted, or any claim for exemption made, shall issue in such order as the minister of militia and defence may direct, to every man in class one under Military Service 1917, who at the date of the application for exemption, heretofore made by him or on behalf of him, has attained the age of twenty years, and has not attained the age of twenty-three years."

THE VERA B. COLLINS.

Capt. H. T. LeBlanc's new steamer, Vera B. Collins, arrived in Yarmouth on Saturday evening in tow of the tug Hurd D., and is docked at the new Barrington Johnson Iron Co.'s docks where the machinery is being installed. The ship is most substantially built in every particular, the hull being additionally strengthened by several heavy iron knees. The captain's officers' quarters, as well as the kitchen and saloon are splendidly finished in native woods and they are also bright and airy, affording the men ample room and accommodation for what a ship of her design would call for. At the after end of her house on the main deck is also found a good sized cabin or saloon with a stateroom leading from it, which, if, where ever the ship may be in commission, a passenger wanted accommodation it could be given. Her large clear deck, with its hold forward, with good sized hatches and the two powerful winches that will be installed, will give her great carrying capacity and quick handling of cargo. The crew's quarters are under the forecastle head and are fitted with modern plumbing and afford the men excellent accommodation. The keel for the steam tawler, which Capt. LeBlanc is to build at Wedgeport for Messrs. J. N. Macdonald & Sons, is laid, and framing up has commenced.—Yarmouth Telegram.

SMITH'S COVE.

The many friends of Pte. Donald Douglas Brooks, regret to hear that he has been killed in action. He was a son of Mr. A. H. Brooks, customs officer at Weymouth and a grandson of Capt. Robert Austin of this village who has spent much time here. With his older brother Karl, he enlisted in August 1915 at Sussex, N. B. Later the battalion was sent to Halifax where they were quartered at Pier 2 and sailed for England on March 31st, 1916. In September they were sent to France. These two brothers were transferred to the 1st Canadian Motor Machine Gun Brigade and were through about all of the heavy fighting since August 1917. Donald was gassed at Hill 70. After a short rest he returned to the lines and was on active service until he met his death on the morning of March 25th, when the battery was out with other armoured cars covering the retreat of the British. Just when their work was accomplished, Donald was killed. Much sympathy is felt for the bereaved family at home. First the brother, who is still in France and who will keenly feel the loss of the younger brother, as they have been together since enlisting. Before entering the army Pte. Brooks was on the staff of the Royal Bank at Weymouth. He was not quite twenty years of age.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS.

If a good pinch of salt is used in milk puddings, and all kinds of fruit, it will make a great saving in sugar. When brooms begin to wear, cut the bristles level again, and the brush will do its work well as ever. To remove grease from wallpaper rub the spot over once or twice with a piece of flannel dampened with alcohol. When stewing meat always cover it with boiling water. This makes the meat more tender and far more nourishing. A good substitute for emery-cloth is to sift fine ashes through a piece of muslin and place in a jar, and keep for cleaning steel. If eggs about to be cracked, add a little vinegar to the water, and they will be cracked as satisfactorily as undressed ones. The unpleasant smell which arises from the boiling of cabbages may be entirely prevented by placing a slice of bread over them while cooking. To remove the smell of cooking, take a basin of water and pour into it about five drops of oil of lavender. In a few minutes the smell of cooking will have disappeared. Before driving a nail through a piece of wood push, it through a cake of hard soap. You will find it will then go through without any trouble and will not split it.

A REAL SHERLOCK

The creator of Sherlock Holmes tells an amusing story against himself. During a lecture tour through the United States he arrived one day in Boston, and was considerably astonished when a cabman mounted him and addressed him by name. "How did you know who I was?" said Sir Conan Doyle, much interested, and not a little flattered by the recognition. "If you'll excuse my saying so," said the cabman, "the labels of your coat look as if they had been grabbed by New York reporters, your hair looks as if it had been cut in Philadelphia, your hat looks as if you had been on ground in Chicago, and your right shoe has evident Buffalo mud under the instep, and—"

"And what?" queried Sir Arthur. "Well," replied the cabman, "I saw 'Conan Doyle' in big white letters on your trunk!"—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

AUSTRALIAN TROOPS CUT UP THE ENEMY.

LONDON, April 20.—Telegraphing from British headquarters in Palestine under date of April 14, Reuter's correspondent says: "Australian troops inflicted most severe losses on the enemy in the Jordan area in a recent raid to Ghazal. They destroyed five miles of the Hedjaz railway line and took over a thousand prisoners. We withdrew to the right bank of the Jordan, bringing several thousand refugees desiring protection. We maintained, however, a bridgehead on the other side of the Ghazal river." "On April 11th the enemy assaulted the bridgehead at Ghazal and advanced posts ten miles up the West bank of the Jordan. The attack was preceded by violent shelling, as many as 40 shells a minute from field and mountain guns spying our position, but all attempts to advance were completely held up.

WESTERN FEED OTS WILL NOT GROW.

Plans for increased production of food grains may be thwarted in part by the unwitting use of frozen oats for seed purposes. The seeds are not suitable for milling and are plentiful in the market at from fifteen to twenty-five cents per bushel less than oats of the established seed grade which must be practically clean and germinate not less than eighty per cent during the first four days under test. Farmers should be on their guard against buying oats that are foul with wild black oats and weed seeds and should carefully test their seed oats for germination. Plant 100 average grains of oats in a flower pot or box of soil which should be kept moist but not wet, in a sunny window at living-room temperature, or send a sample to the Seed Branch inspectors. If the seed grade which must be practically clean and germinate not less than eighty per cent during the first four days under test.

THE WAY OF CIVILIZATION.

(From the New York Herald.) Ten German travelers have been sunk by gunfire in the Cattegat. Their crews were saved by British ships. (Cable news despatch.) Despite the provocation to retaliate for the "sparrows' nest" method of the Germans—their cold blooded slaughter of crews of sinking ships, their ruthless abandonment of men and women to death by drowning, their unspeakable atrocities on sea as on land—the British navy continues its merciful work of rescue where opportunity presents. There is by it will be observed, measuring fully up to its best traditions.

HUNDREDS KILLED AND INJURED IN GERMANY.

GENEVA, Switzerland, April 20.—In addition to the destruction by fire of the German airplane plant at Manzell, reported several days ago, the Zeppelin manufacturing at Friedrichshafen is said to have been burned down. According to despatches just received from Romans Horn, the fires were caused by aerial attack and 150 workmen were killed or injured. The raiding airplanes were seen from the shore of Lake Constance as the few remaining over the lake after the attack. The amount of damage is said to have been enormous.

KILLED CHILD

JERSEY City, N. J., April 20.—A charge of murder against a nine-year-old child, Frank Muchelowski, was made in the criminal court here today. Questioned as to why he killed Edward Choroski, four years old, with a rifle while they were at play yesterday, the young defendant replied:—"I shot him because he stole two marbles from me." It is alleged that after an argument over a game of marbles, the Muchelowski boy ran home, returned with a rifle and ordered the smaller child to hold up his hands and shot him down.

COST OF LIVING ADVANCES.

OTTAWA, April 22. A further increase in the cost of foodstuffs as shown in the report of the department of labor for March. In wholesale prices the department index number for March stood at 262.2 as compared with 261.5 for February. The average cost a week of a family budget of staple foods in nearly sixty cities was $12.45 for February, $12.70 for March, 1917, and $7.68 for March 1914. In retail prices there were decreases in eggs, potatoes and apples, but meats of all kinds advanced.

NORWEGIAN SHIPS CHARTERED BY U. S.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The shipping board has chartered 400,000 tons of Norwegian sailing ships. They will be put into non-hazardous trades, principally with South America, releasing ships for war trades. BELGIANS ARE HUNGRY. WASHINGTON, April 22.—Food shipments to the civilian populations of the allied countries will be suspended for ten days to move 3,000,000 bushels of grain to the Belgians, who are declared to be in desperate straits.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKE IN SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

LOS ANGELES' Cal., April 21.—A severe earthquake of approximately twenty seconds duration shook the entire Southern portion of California at 3:35 this afternoon. Dozens of plate glass windows in Los Angeles stores were broken and several women were injured in panics at the theatres in Los Angeles. The damage was quite extensive. One fire was reported, a man being trampled to death in the rush of a crowd on the municipal pier at Santa Monica.

HOW TO AVOID BACKACHE AND NERVOUSNESS

Told by Mrs. Lynch From Own Experience.

Providence, R. I.—"I was all run down in health, was nervous, had headaches, my back ached all the time. I was tired and had no ambition for anything. I had taken a number of medicines which did me no good. One day I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and what it had done for women, so I tried it. My nervousness and backache disappeared. I gained in weight and feel fine, so I can honestly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to any woman who is suffering as I was."—Mrs. ADELIN B. LYNCH, 109 Plain St., Providence, R. I.

Backache and nervousness are symptoms or nature of a functional disturbance or an unhealthy condition which often develops into a more serious ailment.

Women in this condition should not continue to drag along without help, but profit by Mrs. Lynch's experience and try this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—and for a bottle write to Lydia E. Pinkham Med. Co., Lynn, Mass.

When peevish, cross, listless, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, or is feverish, stomach sour, breath has a sore throat, diarrhea, full of cold, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, undigested food and sour bile gently move out of its little bowels without griping, and you have a well, playful child again. Ask your Druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains full directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups.

ECONOMY applied with a Paint Brush

THE great national duty to-day is to "conserve." It's a duty you owe yourself as well as your country. A duty just as applicable to a house, or building, as it is to the things you eat and wear. Buildings, in fact, show so tremendous an increase in cost, that the importance of keeping them protected is apparent to all who know how steel, wood, brick and cement have jumped in price. And the cheapest protection you can give a building is the kind you apply with a brush—PAINT. For true protection, scum the ineffectual, cheap paints. Use only

A Day in Rest Billets

By Captain C. R. Carie

After one of the regular, but nevertheless arduous, tours of the trenches before Lens, the 14th Brigade came back to the village of V. some miles behind the line from which, for a few days, rest was granted. The men were tired, but they were not. In order to keep the battalions efficient in drill, and at the same time to give the most opportunity for the "rest" which it was intended they should have, parades were held in the morning only.

The early part of the afternoon referred to was rather sultry, so that the men enjoyed a few extra winks of sleep. But about three they began to gravitate towards the hall. An indifferent game was in progress, a curtain-raiser to the inter-battalion game at 3.30.

Soon the opposing teams arrived and proceeded to a short workout. A few hundred yards away on another diamond, two company teams of the 14th Battalion were having a friendly game of football by their rosters. Away on the left, some football enthusiasts were chasing the leather about the field. But the attention was undoubtedly the game on the central diamond. Already two or three thousand soldiers were gathered along the base line. Away from the first base, two generals and their staffs, along with quite a group of regimental officers, were enjoying a social hour together on chairs and benches in the shade of the trees, watching the progress of the game. The layout of the diamond was correct in every detail, home plate, called lines, bases—one would almost imagine one were watching a league game in its proper setting back home. Except for the distant gunfire, the occasional aeroplane overhead, and the absence of the fair sex, and civilian clothing in the whole, the picture was setting that would suggest that these men were "strangers in a strange land."

As the game progressed, one heard the familiar "jolly" hurled at the pitcher, the by-play and jokes shot at the players and at one another by the fans. Now and then a player objected to a call, and the umpires—by the way, the umpires were officers, baseball, even on active service, know no aristocracy. The 1917 rule book was consulted, the decision verified, and the game proceeded. Among the outstanding characters on the field was big Slim, the "Teesse League" member of the American Legion, who brought over all the latest baseball slang—as well as a few words in the French language. He watched, one would hardly think these men had just come out of the hell of the first line and were soon going back again. They were certainly not thinking about the war; the game was much too interesting.

Beyond the avenues of trees stood the Officers' Club. It was a 30 x 50 tent, especially fitted up for officers. Special reading and writing facilities were afforded, with a good telephone and records always "in attendance," and after tea was served at the small tables with its dainty service first class. On the far side of the tent were the tennis courts. With the sides of the tent down, officers and enlisted men and one of the company over a cup of tea, as they watched their brother officers trying to keep some of the latest life-size films in tennis. The courts were in fairly good shape, and the tennis shoes, racquets and balls were provided in the Officers' Club.

Meanwhile, after the first game, the ball game had ended. A line had already formed in front of the cinema. The doors were soon opened and a crowd of men watched some of the latest life-size films from London. After a show lasting an hour and a half, the first audience dispersed, and a second lined up outside. After the carriage had passed back and forth a time or two the saw unoccupied a beautiful polished vacuum, with a dark coil lying within. Lifted out, the coil proved to be the preserved form of a snake. Exposure to a sudden shrinkage of the snake had undoubtedly crawled into the tree through a hole made by a broken limb that had decayed at the base," said M. D. Seifert, a member of the company operating the mill. "The new layers of timber, which had developed the opening, were of a thickness to indicate a growth probably 50 years since the snake entered the cavity to find the exit suddenly closed against its escape, and it died, the dropping of a small piece of bark which covered the opening."

MUMMIFIED SNAKE IN LOG.
Trapped in a chamber in the heart of a walnut tree, which had evidently been its winter home, a black snake was found mummified in the hermetically sealed tomb after a lapse of 20 or more years. The jaws of the snake were found to indicate the period of the reptile's imprisonment.

A handsome walnut log two and one-half feet in diameter was brought to the mill at Johnson City, Tenn., from Waverneville, N. C. It held the imprisoned coil of the dead snake. To the eye the log was perfect. After the carriage had passed back and forth a time or two the saw unoccupied a beautiful polished vacuum, with a dark coil lying within. Lifted out, the coil proved to be the preserved form of a snake. Exposure to a sudden shrinkage of the snake had undoubtedly crawled into the tree through a hole made by a broken limb that had decayed at the base," said M. D. Seifert, a member of the company operating the mill. "The new layers of timber, which had developed the opening, were of a thickness to indicate a growth probably 50 years since the snake entered the cavity to find the exit suddenly closed against its escape, and it died, the dropping of a small piece of bark which covered the opening."

WHY HE OBJECTED.
A ship had floated a floating mine in the dark, with disastrous results. The boats were promptly lowered and crew and passengers proceeded quietly to their appointed stations.

Meanwhile the captain on the bridge was sending up rockets and burning blue lights, in order to attract the attention of any vessels that might be in the vicinity.

Suddenly he caught sight of a tall, thin and austere passenger standing at the top of the stairs leading to the bridge.

"What are you doing here?" said the captain angrily. "Your place is in the boats, and if you do not go immediately they will not wait for you."

The passenger gazed at the captain solemnly.

"I have come," he said, "to protest against this unseemly conduct. I am a passenger. We are now facing death. Is this the time to rejoice? Is this the occasion to ignite fireworks?"

SEEDING IN FULL SWING.
According to week-end reports by farmers, seeding operations all through Manitoba are now generally in full swing, and the work is making good progress. Although no figures are as yet available, it is expected that the district will show a very appreciable increase in the acreage sown.

IDLENESS A CRIME.
Laws have been passed in New Jersey, Maryland and Delaware, making habitual and willful idleness during the war a crime. On the request of the sugar planters, Mayor Behrman of New Orleans, has ordered the arrest of all idlers and the release from jail of all minor offenders. He will put them to work in the sugar belt. Senator Douglas Robinson has introduced a bill in the New York Legislature which times at a census to check up all idle men in the State between the ages of 18 and 30 years. Any man who remains idle or fails to register for 30 days after proclamation will risk a fine of $100 or three months in jail. There is a place of room for such a law in Nova Scotia. Pictou is only a small town but it has more than a few men who do not work at all. How they eke out an existence is a perpetual mystery to the rest of us who stick to the grind day in and day out and then get ahead of the game. —Pictou Advocate.

FIVE YEARS FOR OBJECTORS.
Five years in penitentiary with hard labor was the sentence imposed by Magistrate Davidson, of Calgary, on three military service objectors: Edwin Hanger, William Joseph Cecily and B. Brennan. The men had persistently refused to wear uniforms and had resisted in every way the authority of military officers to whom they were ordered to report.

HOW HE WON HIS VICTORIA CROSS.
How Sergeant William Grimbalde, of the King's Own Scottish Borderers, though armed only with one bomb, captured thirty six German with six machine guns and a trench mortar, and thereby won the Victoria Cross, is thus told in an official narrative:

"During the course of an attack, Sergeant Grimbalde noticed that the advance of the battalion on his left was being checked by heavy machine guns. He at once ordered a large block house to be built, and instructed them to open as rapid a fire as possible on the block house, thus assisting one of our trench mortar batteries, which was also concentrating on the same target."

"The ground between him and the block house was open and entirely devoid of cover. In spite of this he made his way across it in a series of rushes, followed closely by his small band of riflemen."

"Under a hail of bullets from the enemy machine guns, and armed with only one hand grenade, he worked his way round to the entrance at the rear of the blockhouse. With this solitary weapon he suddenly appeared in the midst of the enemy, and persuaded each gun team in turn to lay down its arms."

"So it happened that thirty six Germans, with their six machine guns and a trench mortar, surrendered to one British soldier and a bomb. By his bravery and initiative he was thus responsible for the capture of this strong hold in its defenders, and at the same time prevented what threatened to become a critical situation."

CANADA WINS!
"Horses!" said the American. "Don't you talk to me about horses. I had an old mare that once licked the fastest express on, an railroad by pretty near a couple of miles on a 30 mile run to Chicago."

"That's nothing!" said the Canadian. "I was out on my farm one day, about 50 miles from the house, when a frightful storm came up. I turned the pony's head toward home, and he raced the storm so close for the last 10 miles that I didn't feel a drop. On the other hand, my dog, only 10 yards behind, had to swim the whole distance."

AN ELECTRIFIED CAT.
A cat has been in the habit of sleeping on a rubber mat under a dynamo in Cleveland's power house. Some body removed the mat and the cat slept on an iron plate. It didn't seem to hurt the cat, but her fur became so charged with electricity that ever since it has stood stiff on end like the bristles of a hair brush.

Every now and again don't you get one of those fearful headaches that drive you to do anything to get relief?

Remember, though, it's a mistake to just "smother" the pain without removing the cause. Nearly all headaches have their beginning in the stomach, liver or bowels, and the best remedy is Chamberlain's Tablets, which tone the liver, sweeten the stomach and cleanse the bowels. This not only cures the headache but prevents its return.

Canada-Wide Appeal

"In thousands of cases," writes an officer, "it was that first hot cup of coffee that dragged the man back to life and sanity."

The tremendous helpfulness of the Y.M.C.A. as an aid to the "morale," or fighting spirit, of the soldiers is everywhere praised. No wonder the Germans make every effort to smash the Y.M.C.A. huts out of existence.

The Y.M.C.A. is everywhere. You first met the helpful, manly Y.M.C.A. worker in camp, then on train and boat, at camp in England and in France, close to the firing line. Often he risks his life to reach you in the trenches. He has won the warmest praise from military authorities, statesmen—the King!

Have you a precious boy at the front? You cannot be "over there" to guide him away from the temptations of camp and city. You cannot comfort him in his supreme hour of trial. Your parcels to him are necessarily few. But the Y.M.C.A., thank God, is "over there," going where you cannot go—doing the very things you long to do—doing it for you and for him.

Will you help? This vast organization of helpfulness needs at least $2,250,000 from Canada for 1918. For your boy's sake be GENEROUS!!

The girls decorated the team with flags and drove Mrs. Peters and Eustace home. We hope Eustace will soon recover his wanted health and strength in his own native air.

The State of New York has 534,023 motor-vehicles. They pay an annual fee of more than $2,215,000 and give employment to 107,000 chauffeurs.

Drilling was recently begun again on the deepest well in the world. It is on the Gulf coast at Clarksburg, West Virginia, and has reached the depth of 7,345 feet. The well is being drilled in search of deeper oil sands.

The German steamer, Tr. Eitel Friedrich, which has been interned at Puerto Colombia, was burned and sunk at her anchorage there yesterday. The steamer was owned by the Hamburg-American line and displaced 4,650 tons.

No fewer than 81 motor cars were stolen in Toronto last year. In the United States a couple of years ago a regular system for stealing and disposing of automobiles was discovered, with branches in various cities.

Cotton seed formerly thrown away is now bringing $72 a ton. A ton yields 280 pounds of crude oil, 800 pounds of meal, 100 pounds of phosphoric acid, and the hulls can be used for fuel, feed and paper.

Holland is indeed in a nasty place. To resist Germany's demands may result in a German invasion. To accede to Germany's demands and become a war ally of the Prussians means loss of Holland's rich colonial empire and exclusion from world trade which has made Holland rich.

Mother of fifteen, a woman has just given birth to four children—two boys and two girls—at Ardwick, near Birmingham. Her eldest boy, now sixteen, was called up for Army service a week ago, and the next in age to the four infants just born is only fourteen months old.

Great enthusiasm is shown in Siam for the Allied cause. King George recently received the Siamese Military Mission to London. The level of the mission told His Majesty that at the time they left Bangkok more than twenty times the number of men volunteered for service with the Allies.

Mrs. Elizabeth Austin, aged 76, enjoys the distinction of being the champion knitter of Northumberland Co., Penna. Despite her age, she averages a pair of socks a day and since the beginning of America's participation in the war has knitted 250 pairs of socks and six sweaters for the soldiers in France.

Presence of mind was shown in many places during the air raid on Paris. British soldiers on leave were having a small dance in the "Welcome Club." The women's orchestra was playing when a bomb fell near. They missed their beats and then went on, and the Tommies swung again to the waltz, as though nothing had happened.

Liquid fuel is being used on the Ceylon railways owing to the shortage of coal. One engine, now running from Colombo to Galle and back burns the fuel; the journey consuming about five hundred gallons. The railway authorities are doubtful of the continuance of the supply, so no steps regarding the reconstruction of engines are being taken.

A bumper crop of cotton is expected this year in Mexico. Indications are that the cotton crop of the Laguna districts of the states of Coahuila and Durango will be three times as great as for the past year, when it amounted to more than half a million bales of a total value of ten million dollars. None of it was exported but it was consumed by the factories of the republic.

The Massey Harris Company, a large manufacturing firm in Australia, is discharging its unemployed employees, declaring it feels bound to release them for the service of the empire. It is reported other firms are acting similarly. This is probably the Australian branch of the Canadian firm implement manufacturing company, whose Canadian headquarters are in Toronto.

Tons of potatoes were wasted in Nebraska this year owing to the inability of farmers to find a market for them. Altogether more than three thousand car loads, representing about two million dollars worth, rotted away in the cellars. Difficulty in getting machinery for processed potato flour mills prevented this year's potato crop from being saved. A mill probably will be erected next year.

For injuries which she suffered when she slipped on a piece of bread and butter on the steps of a Central New England car from which she was alighting at Towers, N. Y., in October, Miss Ruth R. Bent, an English contributor to Canadian and American magazines, received a verdict for $2,500 from a jury before Justice Young in the Supreme Court at Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Miss Bent asked for $10,000.

The most northerly American hydro-electric plant is at Chitina, Alaska, a degree or two south of the Arctic Circle, where a 45-kilowatt station has been completed, after two years of work, at a cost of $22,000. Power is obtained by means of a 1,400-foot tunnel through a ridge separating a three-acre lake from the Copper River. The tunnel was driven through 500 feet of very hard solid rock and 900 feet of frozen earth and loose rock, and from this tunnel the water is dropped 100 feet to the river through 270 feet of 16-inch pipe.

Wrapped in an old piece of brown wrapping papered with a string and thrown carelessly on the street with other papers, shoes and odds and ends of wearing apparel, the police who searched the apartment of Dr. Robert S. Steadman at 4809 Fourth Avenue, New York, found bonds and other securities worth $34,000. In other parts of the same room they unearthed three bank-books showing deposits of $20,000 and 900 shares of railroad stock whose value has not yet been determined.

While working on a boat he was constructing at the foot of Twenty-first Street, South Brooklyn, was reported to the police Saturday last. An examination of the apartment where Dr. Steadman lived alone showed it to be a place of living was almost Spartan-like in its simplicity.

ITALIANS USED PICKS ON GERMANS.

WASHINGTON, April 29.—How two companies of Italian auxiliary troops digging trenches for the Allies in Flanders found attacking German troops with their picks, is told in a despatch today from Rome. The message says: "The first Italian troops reached France last November. These contingents made munitions for artillery and various war necessities showing discipline and capacity. Later on, however, they arrived under General Tarditi and were employed in defensive construction, proving themselves excellent workmen, not displeased that they were unable to carry arms against the foe like the French and British. Two auxiliary Italian companies working in the trenches in Flanders found themselves in front of the advancing Germans. The German subaltern in charge ordered the soldiers to do some work before surrendering, but the Italians fell upon the Germans with their picks, killing many, capturing others and retiring in an orderly manner."

CLERGY OF ENGLAND TO JOIN THE FIGHTING MEN.

LONDON, April 27.—The bishops of the Church of England have decided to summon the clergy to offer themselves voluntarily for National Service, in accordance with the original clause in the man power bill, which the government dropped without consulting the Church of England authorities. The Bishop of London summoned his clergy of suitable age and physique to join for combatant service. Other religious bodies may act similarly.

ALL MUST REGISTER

Every male and female in Canada between the ages of sixteen and sixty will be compelled to register on a day in June which has not yet been fixed. It will be some day in the first week of that month. There are drastic regulations which will make it necessary for every one to comply with the law. It is understood, for instance, that a person without a registration card will be unable to travel on a railway train.

LONDON PRESS TONE SERIOUS

German Drive Toward Channel Regarded as a Matter of Grave Concern.

LONDON, April 27.—Commenting on the Flanders battle in serious tone, the morning newspapers contend that the situation imposed upon Great Britain this necessity of putting forth the utmost effort to supply the waste in the ceaseless fighting. "We are faced with a crisis more perilous and momentous than any that has hitherto arisen, even in this appalling war," writes the military correspondent of the Daily Telegraph.

"Possession of the Channel ports by the enemy would make our task on land and sea more intricate and costly." The Daily News in an editorial says the situation has changed seriously for the worse as a result of the fighting of the past two days and that the German drive toward the channel is a matter of serious concern. Nevertheless, it regards the situation as in no wise established and says that if the Germans mean to break through they must do it quickly before a counter-attack is made.

The effect of the capture of Mount Kemmel upon the situation at Ypres is canvassed anxiously by some papers. The day's fighting shows that Ypres could be held despite the loss of Mount Kemmel, but the tenure would be costly and precarious. It is pointed out that it would be possible to lodge the enemy as at Villers Bretonneux. Otherwise it says a further withdrawal of the Ypres line would be desirable. The Chronicle, however, contends that the present value of Ypres is only secondary.

The Daily Mail says it would be folly to minimize the success the enemy has achieved and if the loss of Kemmel should prove permanent, the difficulty in holding Ypres would be increased materially. It concludes by arguing the necessity of maintaining the supply of men.

A MESSAGE OF THE RED TRIANGLE.

Last Sunday in a small country town the people gathered for worship as usual. The clergyman who officiated was a stranger to the congregation. He had a good story to tell of how the Christ was proving itself a great asset of our race in this present time of great stress and by day illustration, he told the story of the V. M. C. A. for our boys in summer camps and winter barracks and naval ports in Canada and in Britain; also the work that is being done in France from the seaport town right up to the front trenches. Then he expressed the hope that his hearers would not see this very practical form of Christianity suffer through lack of funds to do their very best work.

The service closed, and four farmers waited at the door to speak to the man who had made that appeal. They all wanted to make their contribution right away to assist in this work. The preacher could only protest that he had not any authority whatever to receive contributions,—"the canvas will be made on the 7th, 8th and 9th, of May, and you will be asked to make your contribution then." The amounts pressed upon the clergyman by those four farmers totalled $74.00 and this is only one illustration of what may be expected in every section of our province when the canvassing teams set forth to gather in returns for the V. M. C. A. work overseas. Let every one help.

THE IMPORTANCE OF EARLY HATCHING.

Hatch early. Make every effort to get your chicks out this spring before the 24th of May. The lighter breeds may be hatched up to the first of June, but as a rule, the heavier breeds hatched after the 24th of May are not satisfactory. At least 90 per cent. of the pullets in Canada were not laying in November and December the past winter, because they were hatched too late.

If you are depending upon your own flock for breeding eggs, get them to the hatchery before setting. Test the eggs for fertility so that you will be sure you are not setting any weak or bad fertility. If you are using incubators set early, but do not count on more than three hatches. If you can, get all the chicks out in one hatch, so much the better. If hens are used, use some system (See Exhibition Circular No. 1, Experimental Farm, Ottawa). If the hens are too slow in becoming broody see if you can get some custom hatching done or purchase day-old chicks. Get in touch with good breeders in your vicinity, or write your nearest Experimental Farm.

There is more money wasted each year because of late hatched pullets than is often made from the rest of the flock. No late hatches. Do not be misinformed. Late hatched chicks as a rule do not pay. "One more hatch" will not help the Empire. Better to sell the eggs and save the feeds.

THREE MEATLESS DAYS IN FRANCE.

PARIS, April 27.—The introduction of a system of three meatless days a week is announced in an official note. It is explained that the gradually dwindling reserves of frozen meat and the necessity of feeding part of the American army and occasionally of supplying the wants of other Allies, force the government to draw more and on French stock. Unscrupulous intermediaries operating in local markets, it says, have taken advantage of these circumstances to send up prices with the result that the masses keep back the best animals from the requisitioning officers. This practice has a double effect in that it makes it difficult to feed the army and sends up the price of meat for civilians. The speculators, some of whom realize a profit of 900 francs on one steer, according to the statement, will be prosecuted vigorously. In addition, the government will seek to encourage farmers by increasing the requisitioning prices and paying additional bonuses on animals fattened for market.

MAIL FOR PRISONERS IN ENEMY COUNTRIES.

With regard to the arrangement instituted whereby correspondence of a private and family nature can be forwarded from individuals in Canada to persons in enemy and enemy occupied territory through the medium of Thos. Cook & Son, 320 St. Catherine St. W., Montreal, difficulty is being caused owing to persons remitting the charge for forwarding these letters (35 cents) by postage stamps instead of by means of a Postal Note for 30 cents with five cents in postage added thereto. The attention to persons sending such correspondence is particularly directed to this, as in future where the charges are remitted by means of postage stamps, the letters will be returned to the senders.

THIS WOMAN SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, One of Thousands of Such Cases.

Black River Falls, Wis.—"As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation, I cannot say enough in praise of it. I suffered from organic troubles and my side hurt me so I could hardly get up from my bed, and I was unable to do my housework. I had the best doctors in Eau Claire and they wanted me to have an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me so I did not need the operation, and I am telling all my friends about it."—Mrs. A. W. BINDER, Black River Falls, Wis.

It is just such experiences as that of Mrs. Binder that have made this famous root and herb remedy a household word from ocean to ocean. Any woman who suffers from inflammation, ulceration, displacements, backache, nervousness, irregularities or "the blues" should not rest until she has given it a trial, and for special advice write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

SYNTHETIC GASOLINE.

A substitute for gasoline has been discovered and tried out. It works, even the experts have to admit, but they claim the mixture which is termed "synthetic" would cost 40 cents a gallon. The formula is secret, but among the articles supplied to the inventor for a test to satisfy the New York police, he appears to have mixed five pounds of naphtha flakes, a half gallon of benzene, several ounces of saccharine, some essence of soda, a small pot of potassium chromate, three gallons of wood alcohol, an ounce of sulphuric acid, oil of cedar, talcum powder, and fifteen quarts of coal oil. And the funny thing is, that a car actually ran on the mixture. The inventor says he can supply the mix at about seven cents a gallon. If he can, he won't need to worry about the high prices of food.

SERVICE TO THE NATION DEMANDS GOOD HEALTH

War is bringing home to every man, woman and child the fact that service to the nation is not a matter alone for soldier and sailor and munition worker.

There is work, necessary work, for everyone to do, in the way of thrift and production and to do this work, health is the first essential. Even the most willing will find progress is slow if the health is bad.

Probably the most common complaint among those doing unaccustomed tasks is backache. Work may cause a tired feeling that will easily pass off but this backache that almost doubles one up is an indication of a condition of the system that needs treatment. The kidneys are giving evidence of their weakness and the sufferer should be thankful for the timely warning given by this pain.

The quickest and surest relief from backache is a treatment with Gin Pills. Gin Pills are the tested specific for the healing of the kidneys. Anyone who wishes to perform his or her full duty to the Nation in these strenuous times will find relief from backache in Gin Pills.

POTATO GROWING MADE EASY.

So great was the demand for the recently issued bulletin on Potato Cultivation, written and edited by the Dominion Horticulturist, that a popular edition of 16 pages has been prepared and can be had free by addressing the Horticulturist Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa. As an aid to the potato grower, especially to the less experienced and beginner, this bulletin, which is numbered 90, should prove invaluable. It is in a language practically all that is necessary to know is told about the preparation of the soil, the subsequent planting and cultivation of the potato, the protection from insect and diseases and the digging and storing. A list of varieties recommended for different districts in every province.

The Practical Economy of Good Paint

Good paint is never an expense, but a saving. By its use you save your buildings from a steady deterioration in value. Economy in painting demands the use of Quality Paint—Martin-Senour "100% Pure" Paint—the paint that protects and preserves. The use of cheap materials is a waste of money—a waste of time.

MARTIN-SENOUR "100% PURE" PAINT

wears longest, covers the greatest surface (900 sq. feet per gallon) and because of its even texture, takes least time and is easiest to apply. It is absolutely guaranteed—"100% Pure" White Lead, Zinc Oxide and highest quality Linseed Oil. It is admittedly the most economical paint on the market.

Take no chances. Make your investments secure by applying on your buildings, inside and out, protecting coats of Martin-Senour "100% Pure" Paint.

Ask for "Farmer's Color Set" and "Town and Country Homes". Just what you'll need in planning your painting.

It's Cheaper to Paint than Repair

YOUR house—if it is four years old or older—is worth at least 50 per cent more today than when it was built. Lumber and cement are so high that it would cost half as much again to build this year as it did in 1914. So it is obvious that either a new house or an old one is today as valuable a property that your house—and all your buildings—protected. And let your paint-protection consist of an economical plan. Use the paint that goes farthest—lasts longest.

B-H PAINT

The kind we guarantee to possess as its important base, the above correct formula. This formula, printed on every can over our President's signature, commits us to as before—to use less, would necessitate the removal of the guarantee from our cans and would injure the high reputation, which these paints have acquired by reason of their superior ingredients.

Other B-H Products of Sterling Worth

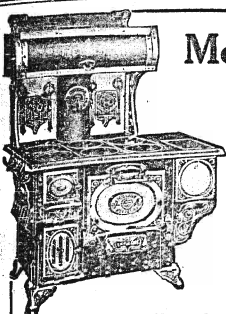

We carry and recommend the following B-H products:

For Interior Finishing: "China-Lac"—the perfect Varnish. "Anchor Brand Shingle Stains" in 19 different colors. B-H Porch Floor Paint. For Porch Floors, Ceilings and parts exposed to weather. Color Cards and Prices from our local agents.

Make Your Car Look New For a Dollar or Two EFFECTO AUTO FINISHES

Whether you paint your car for the "fun of it" or for the tires and gasoline that the saving will buy, Effecto Auto Finishes will give you finished results at a home-made price.

Spread Effecto Auto Enamel over the surface as best you can and forget about it. It will even itself out to a smooth coating and dry out of danger from dust quickly. When you drive your car out again in a day or two your neighbors will think you have a new one. Only a coat or two of Effecto Auto Enamel is required to work this transformation in your car. Especially will the color scheme be distinctive if you use a different color of Effecto Enamel for the running gear.

An Effecto finish is very durable—more durable than the finish originally put on by the manufacturers of most cars. It will not crack, chip off, nor become dull through exposure to weather or repeated washing, as do ordinary automobile finishes which are made "down-to-a-price" instead of "up-to-a-standard."

EFFECTO AUTO TOP AND SEAT DRESSING

Effecto Auto Top and Seat Dressing restores the new black appearance and durability of mohair and leather automobile tops, seats, curtains, leather work, etc. Unlike some dressings, it thoroughly permeates the fabric, colors it and water-proofs it.

TO TEACHERS AND TRUSTEES.

Induced by the larger salaries paid, a larger number of teachers than ever are planning on going West this summer. Many of these would stay at home if proper salaries were paid. In the year 1916-1917 the average salary paid female teachers in Nova Scotia was—B, $250 00; C, $225 00; D, $200 00. This not including grant. The average salary paid the same year in Digby Co. was—B, $252 00; C, $227 00; D, $200 00.

Why should Digby Co. be paying in each case nearly $50 00 below the average? Judging by the salaries paid elsewhere, Digby Co. this year should pay B. female teachers, $310 00; C. teachers, $290 00; D. teachers, $270 00. If our school trustees would pay this average salary, half of the teachers now going to the Western Provinces would remain with us. If trustees do not rise to the emergency many school children will be deprived of school privileges the coming year. They should put forth every effort to secure a teacher NOW, instead of waiting until after the annual meeting.

If no suitable applications have been received, trustees should advertise at once offering a proper salary. A teacher who offers to come at a low salary should not be considered as it shows the low value they place on their own worth. If teachers are engaged before the annual meeting, the trustees can then properly estimate the amount it is necessary for the taxpayers to vote to support a school.

Have you engaged your teacher? If not, place an advertisement in your local paper at once. A large number of the best teachers have already secured their schools.

M. C. FOSTER,
Inspector of Schools.

HYMENEA

DEKSHIRE—ROWLETT.
On Wednesday evening, April 24th, at the Methodist Church, Centerville, Mildred Mary Rowlett, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Rowlett, Centerville, was united in holy matrimony to Clarence Norman Dekshire, second son of Mr. E. Dekshire, Westport. The bride was comely groomed in cream cashmere, with brocaded silk trimmings, and emerald brooch. She was escorted to the altar by her father, and attended by Miss Gladys Morehouse, who looked very charming in a blue crepe de chine, trimmed with black velvet and pink roses and wearing a gold and pearl brooch, the gift of the bridegroom. The nuptial ceremony was performed by Rev. G. W. Knight, pastor. The wedding march was very creditably rendered by Miss Blanche Oulhouse, organist. A large congregation attended the church to witness the ceremony. The church was tastefully decorated by Mrs. Everett and Mrs. Tuttle Graham. A numerous attended reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, after the ceremony at the church. The presents were numerous and valuable.

On Sunday afternoon during the service at the Methodist Church, the pastor on behalf of the congregation presented the bride with a very handsome hymn book.

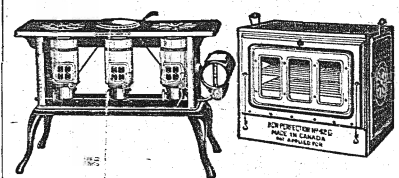

SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION.

The Clemen District Sunday School Convention met on Friday, April 26th, with the Deep Brook Baptist Sunday School. The weather conditions were perfect and a large number of delegates were present. In the absence of the president, the vice president, Mr. Willard Henshaw, presided. The afternoon session was taken up with reports from the Schools and a very strong paper by Mrs. Fick, on Scripture memorizing in the Schools, followed by discussion, and an address by Miss Bertha Blakeney, Field Secretary. The church was filled in the evening to listen to a helpful address on Sunday School works, by Rev. A. N. McIntosh. Miss Blakeney again addressed the Convention in the evening, on the value of adult Bible Classes in the Schools. Appropriate music was furnished by the Sunday School choir, arranged by Miss Marguerite Berry, Sunday School organist.

Pres.—Mr. Hardy Robinson.
Vice Pres.—Mr. W. Henshaw.

FINEST IN EXISTENCE

is what Mrs. C. A. Campbell, of Pownston, Ont., says in describing Zam-Buk. She writes: "I blistered my heel badly by wearing new shoes. Some days from my stocking got into it and caused a painful sore. It was extremely painful and for a week I could not put a shoe on. Then I heard of Zam-Buk and commenced using it. It was just wonderful the way it drew out the poison and inflammation, ended the pain and healed the sore. Zam-Buk is certainly the finest balm to existence—everyone should know of it."

Zam-Buk is also best for eczema, boils, pimples, ringworm, ulcers, old sores, piles, burns, scalds and cuts. All dealers or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, 50c box, 3 for $1.25.

LISTEN TO THIS! SAYS CORNS LIFT RIGHT OUT NOW

You reckless men and women who are pestered with corns and who have at least once a week invited an awful death from lockjaw or blood poison are now told by a Cincinnati authority to use a drug called freestone, which the moment a few drops are applied to any corn, the soreness is relieved and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts out with the fingers. It is a sticky ether compound which dries the moment it is applied and simply shrivels the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue of skin. It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of freestone will lift any very little corn of the size of a pea but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus. You are further warned that cutting at a corn is a suicidal habit.

GIRLS! LEMON JUICE IS A SKIN WHITENER

How to make a creamy beauty lotion for a few cents.

The juice of two fresh lemons strained into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white makes a whole quart of the most remarkable lemon skin beautifier at about the cost of one must pay for a small jar of the ordinary cream. Cream should be taken to strain the lemon juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener, whitener and beautifier.

Just try it! Get three ounces of orchard white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands.

THE FAMILY ROW.

(Edgar A. Guest.)

It started in the usual way. He got up out of sorts one day. An' something odd that he said. An' she set her cheeks to blamin' red. An' she replied, as women will, "I've never known one 't keep still. When keepin' still would save a row; They've got to have it out some how. And went at him with all her might. It wasn't much to start with, but Since neither of their mouths stayed shut.

First thing we knew an A-fuss Was under way involv'ng us.

She said I was an old galoot That never owned a decent suit And with the venom born of wrath Allowed I never took a bath. That done she jumped on Ma' and said Some things that went right to his head. And he came back, then good and strong About her brother who went wrong. And told her several things he knew About her married sister, too. They thung their charges round the place About each family's disgrace. Till she just up an' quit, an' he Come home and told his woes to me.

One thing I've learned in sixty years, Is he a fool who interferes In rows like that, so all I said When he had told his tale, "Ed, Two fools can make an awful row. From nothing, just forget it now. 'I'm not agoin' to spoil your life. By taking side against your wife. Go home and kiss her an' be good!" He grinned a bit, and said he would. And when he reached their little shack He found her folks had sent her back. You see they had to learn just how To have a family row.

JERUSALEM'S GREAT WALLS.

After 1244 Jerusalem was under the rule of the sultans of Egypt until the year 1517, when Selim I. conquered both Palestine and Egypt, taking the title of caliph, and carrying off the sacred banner of the Moslems to Constantinople. Selim's son, Suleiman the Magnificent, once more built the great walls about Jerusalem. These walls of Suleiman the present fortifications of the city. But the great walls of Suleiman the Magnificent are only the last of a long series of walls which, time after time, have been built only to be destroyed. The most recent destruction not only of the walls, but also of the whole city, was that which was carried out by the Roman armies of Titus, in the year 70 of our era, in the reign of the Emperor Vespasian.

SAWDUST FOR FUEL.

In some portions of France where coal is so scarce and consequently so expensive that it is altogether inadvisable by the poorer class of people, sawdust is being used as a substitute, according to the Popular Science Monthly. The sawdust is rammed down tightly in cylindrical metal boxes, and a few drops of petroleum are poured over it. The fire thus made can be used for cooking and all domestic purposes, and will burn for several hours.

An Act Respecting Public Highways

(Passed the 9th day of May, A. D., 1917.)

(23) No person shall break up the soil of a highway without first making application to the Superintendent in writing, specifying the purpose for which it is required to break up the soil, and obtaining his permission therefor in writing. And the Superintendent may impose such terms upon the person applying as the security of persons using such highways appears to him to require. Any person breaking up the soil of a highway without such application and permission, or in contravention of such terms imposed, shall be liable to a penalty of $10.

(24) (1) When any lands required for the purposes of altering, widening, raising or diverting any highway, and for the construction of any portion of a highway so altered, widened, raised or diverted, a survey of such lands shall be made by the chief engineer of the Board, or under his direction, and a plan and description of such land shall be filed in the Registry of Deeds for the registration district in which such lands lie.

(2) Such filing shall vest in His Majesty the land so required and taken forever for a highway.

(3) A copy of such plan and description shall be delivered to the occupant of such lands, if known, or if not known shall be posted on the said lands.

(25) The Superintendent may make an agreement with the owner of the land so taken or the property damaged as to the compensation to be paid in respect to such land or property. Every such agreement shall be subject to the approval of the Board.

(26) (1) If no such agreement can be made the said Superintendent shall appoint an arbitrator, the owner shall appoint another arbitrator, and judge of the Supreme Court shall appoint a third arbitrator. If the owner fails within ten days after notice to him to name such arbitrator, two justices of the peace shall have the power to appoint the same.

(2) The arbitrators so appointed shall go to the lands so taken, or the property so damaged, and appraise the compensation to be paid to the owner thereof.

(3) The award of any two of such arbitrators shall be final and conclusive.

(4) The award so made shall be filed with the clerk of the municipality in which such lands or property is situated, and the amount of compensation shall be paid out of the Provincial Highway Fund.

(28) Any damage to any house, land, wharf, or other property in the vicinity of a highway, or any widening, raising or diverting of any highway, whereby lying within the boundary of such work or adjacent thereto, shall be compensated for as damages under this Act.

(29) (1) The Council of any Municipality desiring to effect improvements of a permanent character on any highway, shall:

(a) first obtain from the Board its written consent and approval that the highway which it is proposed to improve is of sufficient traffic importance to justify the expenditure;

(b) satisfy the Board that suitable provision will be made for the future maintenance of such highway after it has been so improved;

(c) procure from the Board plans, specifications, estimates and other particulars respecting the proposed improvements;

(2) The Council may after compliance with the conditions of subsection (1) enter into an agreement with the Governor in Council for the carrying out of such improvement, upon such terms and subject to such conditions as the Board prescribes and the Governor in Council approves. The cost of any such improvement shall be apportioned between the Municipality and the Province as they have been agreed upon as aforesaid. Any sum payable by the Province shall be paid out of the Provincial Treasury, but shall not exceed one half of the whole cost nor one thousand dollars per mile of road.

(3) All moneys paid under the provisions of this section out of the Provincial Treasury, shall be deemed and treated as expenditure on Capital Account.

Making Finger Prints of German Aliens in New York

Every alien male German above fourteen years must report at the local police station, and register; also have finger prints made for identification. A German residing in New York is shown having his finger prints taken by a police officer at one of the New York station houses.

Under the provisions of this Act shall annually add to the amount to be assessed and levied upon the real and personal property of such Municipality a sum sufficient to pay the interest on said debentures and the expense of collecting and disbursing the same. It shall also provide an adequate sinking fund for the payment of such debentures at maturity.

(32) (1) The Council shall divide the municipality into road sections in the best and most convenient manner, and may appoint an overseer of roads for each section.

(2) It shall be the duty of such overseer during the winter, whenever the roads become impassable from snow, to order all persons residing in his section liable to poll tax under the provisions of this Act to work with their shovels, horses, oxen and teams upon any of the highways of the municipality in order that the same may be rendered passable, and every person so liable who does not comply with any such order shall be liable to a penalty of ten dollars.

Protecting Your Children

The long, hard school term drains the vitality of growing children and you wonder why they are listless, puny and pale. Every school child will show marked improvement in health and growth if given

SCOTT'S EMULSION

Its rich, uniform cod liver oil gets into their blood and gives them vim, snap and zest. It creates strength to resist school sicknesses, overcome pinched faces, sallow complexions and dull eyes.

High authorities have established again and again that cod liver oil promotes growth and energizes the body and brain.

THE DAY OF JUDGEMENT

(By Dr. Frank Crane.)

Soon or late comes the Day of Judgment.

Whether there is to be a great court room scene after the moon has fallen like a ripe fig and the earth turned to ashes, let the theologians and their opponents discuss.

But that the Day of Judgment comes at its set time here below, with its great ball of doom, its irrevocable verdict and its pitiless punishment, let no man dispute, unless he would dispute the Himalayas or the imperial sky.

Before the eyes men's activities, their plans, ambitions, wars, governments, and institutions. Concealed, deep bidden, where only the eye of wisdom can see them, are the immutable laws of God, the sluggish yet irresistible movements of destiny, whose path is progress, whose direction is righteousness, whose end is justice.

When by and by the machinations of men have reached the sum of their iniquity, and mark of limit fate has decreed for them, and are met and judged by the stern decrements of all mighty right—that is their Day of Judgment.

Rome brought ensouled luxury with her triumph, her day came, and the barbarians extinguished her.

Spain, with her insane vanity colored by fanaticism, murdered the Jews, oppressed the Dutch, exterminated the Incas and the Aztecs, but at last the Eternal Tribunal reversed her decision, scattered her galleons, stripped her of her territories and relegated her to the shame of impotency.

And now comes the latest monster, trying the fatuous task of overcoming by the might and craft of man the everlasting equities of a silent Deity. For forty years Prussia had developed her military machine. Then at that mad moment fixed by the stars she launched the terrific act long fostered in her fevered thought. Her dark battle line moved out upon an astonished, paralyzed world. That she had no heed of military efficiency was conspicuously, that she could rise to such heights of moral infamy and sink to such depths of bestial inhumanity was inconceivable.

The world shuddered, hesitated, and at last awoke. Then all the strength of the human race gathered head against the dread onrush, and the glow of the Day of Judgment reddened the horizon.

For the vast machine of German egotism could rape Belgium and North France, could devastate Serbia, Poland, and Roumania, could roll juggernaut over Italy, but it could not reverse the laws of eternal justice, change the unalterable instincts of humanity, nor pull down the pillars of right and wrong which since the first appearance of conscience among humankind, have supported the edifice, or ganized society.

Out of insane pride emerged the German army; out of the wounds of outraged humanity emerged her opponents. The bloody gods of the Kaiser, the Austrian Emperor, and the Tsar, at last aroused against them selves the God of All the Earth.

This is the Day of Judgment. Of the verdict there can be no doubt. He who sent proud Lucifer to hell, who drowned the Bourbons in blood, who wrecked the ambitions of vain glorious Spain, will know what to do with this modern criminal, whose methods are characterized by the new prodigies of frightfulness, but the quality of whose crime and purpose is as old, as foul, and as familiar as the heart of Cain.

MUCH PROFIT IN SHEEP.

Sheep raising in the North American continent is almost "super-timely," says a writer in The Country Gentleman. "We are facing a wool famine, to say nothing of a meat shortage that is acute enough to make every domestic animal in America—from a Belgian hare to a declining dairy cow—shiver with dread."

It requires the wool from about twenty sheep to clothe and equip every soldier. Wool production in Canada in 1910 was 13,000,000 pounds, and in 1914 15, the first year of the war 13,250,000 pounds. 1915 it was 14,000,000 pounds. The number of sheep in Canada in 1910 was 2,100,000, in 1914 15, 2,225,000, and in 1916 17, 2,500,000. The price of wool in 1910 11 was 16 cents per pound "in grease," in 1914 15 it was 20 cents and in 1917, 65 cents. Pure bred ewes were worth to farmers before the war, $25 to $30 and are worth now from $50 to $100. Not more than two per cent of the ewes are slaughtered in Canada and only the young rams and the culled ewes are butchered as lambs.

Farmers in many parts of Canada will find sheep raising a highly profitable activity under present conditions. The shortage of both meat and wool ensure that high prices for both will continue for a very considerable period after the war.

The Canada Food Board has suggested, in the interest of sheep raising, that local authorities should take action to protect sheep against dogs.

DIGBY WEEKLY COURIER

Established 1874
G. H. CHISHOLM, EDITOR AND MANAGER

Digby, May 10th, 1918.

In reference to the great conservation of food and the necessary needs of our Allies. The Halifax Recorder says: "While we are of the opinion that a good deal of the talking and writing about food conservation is nonsense and misses the point entirely, yet the main objective is quite clear. Our armies, the Allied armies, must be fed and fed well with food of the most sustaining quality, otherwise our armies will be beaten and the Allied cause lost, and lost irrevocably. In order that our armies may be fed, we at home must bend every energy to the increase of food products, and limit our own consumption of those foods most needed at the front. This is the whole thing in a nutshell when stripped of the vast covering of verbiage with which it is surrounded. Britain is at war and we are at war, but though the blood of our sons has been generously shed, there is, as an American writer remarks, a vast difference in our conditions and those of Britain."

"War for England means, most terrible of all, a death in practically every family in the nation. But in addition, there is very little sleep, very little light, no freedom from fear and very little food. Substitutes for meat, no fats for weeks at a time, hardly enough milk for the children, a meagre portion of margarine instead of butter, unpalatable war bread cold in winter, darkness at night, only broken by the light from raiding airplanes dropping death; thousands of tired women working day and night in munitions factories, in constant danger of air bombardments. One long, tense, nerve-racking strain for nearly four years. That is war for England. Think of it."

Then think of what war means to us. The loss of men who are dear to us, of course. But it is safe to say that we shall be free from the other horrors. We can sleep all night without fear of bombardment. That factor alone, would keep us going a long time. We shall not suffer the subtle depression which comes from great cities, snatched at night, for fear of becoming targets for the foe.

We must give up wheat products for the time being and until the war is over, we must use them sparingly at all times. But no one can honestly say that our most drastic war bread is unpalatable. Even if it were, is it anything to complain about, in comparison with what the Allies endure—without complaining? To realize the difference between war in Europe and war in America is to make us ashamed of being so fortunate. It should, at the same time, make us thankful. More than all, it should make us determined to show our Allies that if they can sacrifice without complaining, SO CAN WE!

This delightful spring weather the past week has been a blessing to the great outdoors. After the long tedious winter, when men and women were shut within doors, the mind and the body call for the open. Occasionally some individual will speak disparagingly of the spring fisherman, and say he might be otherwise better employed. This man's judgment is wrong. It is not the amount of fish caught, but the pleasure is in getting away for a time from the tedious grind, and feeding the mind and body on things that a bountiful nature has provided. People are not at their best at this time of year. The strain of winter and the indoor life is telling on them, they are nervous and unstrung. What they most need is to get out doors for a while, to walk in the woods, and work in the garden, or a trip on the lakes, in fact to get back for a time to the primitive living. A few days of this kind of life will rejuvenate and give one a new inspiration. If there ever was a year when one should keep fit, this is the year. Physical fitness is the duty of every man and woman, and no element will serve to this end more effectively than a little time out-of-doors.

AN ENCOURAGEMENT is made by the Canada Food Board that no manufacturers in Canada will be permitted to use for the manufacture of candy, more than 50 per cent of the average monthly quantity of cane sugar, and that drastic restrictions have been imposed on the use of wheat flour, sugar and shortening in the manufacture of biscuits, cakes or sweet dough products; the food board issued an order that no person shall make in Canada, for private consumption, French pastries, loaf cakes or biscuits or cakes with icing of cane sugar between the layers or added to the exterior; no person shall use in Canada, cane sugar for making, for private consumption, what is commonly called "candy."

A question was recently asked, who was the greatest woman in history. One hundred and fifty school teachers answered it, and this is the one who got the prize: "The wife of a farmer of moderate means who does her own cooking, washing, ironing, sewing, brings up a family of boys and girls to be useful members of society and has time for intellectual improvement."

An exchange says: Perhaps the future looks dark just now as at any moment this horrible war may begin. Never more, then, than at this hour should courage and hope characterize our conduct and our speech. There can be but one ultimate issue. Humanity is not on the losing side. Righteousness, justice, mercy have always won in the long run and they are winning now.

HERE IN THE INTERESTS OF THE LOBSTER FISHERIES.

Dr. M. Macgillivray, of Kingston, Ontario, was in town Thursday, at the instance of the Marine and Fisheries Department, Ottawa. His mission to the Western part of Nova Scotia, which extends from Digby around the South Shore to Halifax, is for the purpose of interviewing causers and those actively engaged in the lobster fisheries. The conservation of this valuable industry, is a matter of great importance to the minds of the officials at Ottawa for some time.

If the present rate of depletion continues, the lobster will be extinct in a short time, as far as our waters are concerned. It might be necessary, as Mr. Macgillivray stated, to change the season from the spring to the fall, for lobster fishing, or in fact it might be necessary to have a close season for a term of years for this valuable sea food.

Smith officiating.

BE CAREFUL

In your choice of an ointment. An inferior ointment is worse than none at all, because it irritates and inflames, and sometimes even poisons the place it is intended to soothe and heal. In using Zam-Buk you take no risk, as its soothing, healing properties have been proved by thousands of users, and its purity is vouched for by the famous English Chemist, Mr. W. L. Lancelotti Scott, who says:
"I have made an exhaustive analytical examination of Zam-Buk, and find it exclusively of vegetable origin, with none of the impure and irritating mineral drugs and animal fats found in ordinary ointments. The germ-destroying power of Zam-Buk exceeds that of carbolic acid, yet it does not inflame even the most sensitive skin. I have no hesitation in certifying the purity of Zam-Buk, and its value for skin diseases and injuries."
Zam-Buk is best for eczema, ulcers, running sores, old wounds, abscesses, blood-poisoning, boils, pimples, pile cuts, burns, scalds and all skin injuries. 50¢ box, 3 for $1.25, all druggists or Zam-Buk Co., Toronto. Send 1¢ stamp for postage on free trial box.

SUFFERING CATS!
GIVE THIS MAN THE GOLD MEDAL

Let folks step on your feet hereafter: wear shoes a size smaller if you like, for cats will never again send electric sparks of pain through you, according to this Cincinnati authority.
He says that a few drops of a drug called freeze, applied directly upon a tender, aching corn, instantly relieves soreness, and soon the entire corn, root and all, lifts right out.
This drug is a sticky ether compound, but dries at once and simply shrivels up the corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue.
It is claimed that a quarter of an ounce of freeze obtained at any drug store will cost very little but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Cut this out, especially if you are a woman reader who wears high heels.

LEMONS WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY THE SKIN
Make this beauty lotion cheaply for your face, neck, arms and hands.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of arched white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener whiten and beautifier.
Just try it! Get three ounces of arched white at any drug store and two lemons from the grocer and make up a quart of this sweetly fragrant lemon lotion and massage it daily into the face, neck, arms and hands. It is marvelous to smoothen rough, red hands.

-ON KEMMEL HILL.

(Minn. Irving in New York Sun.)

A plane flew over Kemmel Hill. The pilot looking down upon the plain of Allied host and Hun, beheld the stars reflected shine in pools of battle's crimson wine, like candles gleaming by the dead. Still in their winding sheets of red. The night wind heavy with the breath of powder smoke and damp with death. Blew over broken bones and steel ground by the war god's iron heel. And in the shadows stirred a rattle. A rattled, rattled, rattled flag. The tricolor unconquered still. And waving over Kemmel Hill.

As he sped over Kemmel Hill! The lonely airman's heart stood still. For there he saw the dead of France in plumes and pagenary advance. Napoleon in a coat of blue, St. Louis, gallant Chalmagne, too, And, glorious in golden scarves, And jewelled cap, Joan of Arc. Behold to-day on Kemmel Hill! Are Frenchmen lying stark and still, But Victory rises from their dust. The sword of France will never rust. The drums of France will ever call. The flag of France will never fall. For armored in its courage high, The soul of France will never die.

THE ARSINE BOMB.

With It the Allies Might Exterminate Germans.

Experiments made since the German bombardment of Arras with a mysterious gas shell have disclosed that the poison was arsine, known in the laboratory as arsenic hydride, one of the deadliest fumes known to the chemists, according to a trench correspondent.
In destruction the gas from the shells continued its deadly work for nearly a week, although the shells were all thrown in one hour. More than 4,000 men, women and children died, many in convulsions and many stark mad.
The significant fact in regard to the arsine bomb which the Germans likely overlooked is that while the amount of the drug in Germany is limited, the allies have limitless supplies. If Britain and France wish to retaliate they could in less than a year manufacture these bombs in sufficient quantities to kill every living thing in the German empire.

It will be a question only of getting enough airplanes to carry and drop them.

A NAME NEW TO HIM—

The proud father, to whom a college education had been denied, met his daughter at the train on her return from college.
"But Helen," he said, "aren't you unusually fat?"
"Yes," Dad she replied, "I weigh one hundred and forty pounds stripped for 'gym'."
The father looked down at a moment and then demanded: "who in thunder is Jim?"

BUILDING OF A "FISHERMAN"

All Honor to the Fisherman, to Whom Canada Owe so Much Prosperity.

The stars scintillated in the Winter sky, as the iron shod, powerful oar rowed steadily the frozen expanse of country roads and wide lakes, shadowed by the forests whose trees pointed dark shadow fingers over the snow and ice of a Nova Scotian sea side hamlet.
As the oarman paddled along, here, and there a whip snapped on the frosty air like the report of a pistol. A cherry voice now and then chanted a verse or two of a sea ditty, or of a modern song. Now and then too, a gay laugh rang out, echoing back the wooded hills. It was the little company of fishermen who had decided to build a schooner, on their way to the great dark forest, to obtain the construction material, growing there for their benefit by the best science of that Providence whose earthy lot was cast among the fisherfolk of the long ago. The forest was reached as the pale and chill dawn came creeping up over the hills, and camp was made for men and cattle, for a sojourn of some days in the woods is required for the searching out of grown timbers among the spruce roots, so deep in the mossy forest earth, and the selection of tall straight trees for the planking, and slender, strong, straight and long spruce. Weeks of hard work by the choppers, and the logs are all ready to be hauled away over the snowbound and frozen lakes to the mill, there, on the coming of spring, and the unleashing of the frozen waters, to be sawed into lumber.

When the month of May has come with blossoms and promise of fine weather, the schooner is "On the stocks," where the skilled workmen swarm over her "Skelton," and loud as their expert knowledge enables them to do, a thing of beauty and utility, a "Fisherman," such as the sailors of long dead days would give the world, did they possess it, to call that swiftest craft the sailing possibilities of modern times made known to them to possess.

Ever many moons, the oarmen have come with their skillful tapplings to tighten the seams and make the schooner seaworthy. Then the "Riggers," have their turn, and the blacksmith who must forge the iron rigging.

The sail maker in the distant city contributes his quota to the industry, and one fine day the Schooner is launched.

As she slips into the ocean, a great cheer, the kind of the sky above her, as the enthusiastic crowd sees the beauty of her lines. Forgotten is all her construction. The cheer that comes from so many honest throats is in itself a prayer. A prayer of Thanks to the Ruler of the Sea, who gave their turn, and the blacksmith who must forge for protection when the boiling waves rise high in storm whipped fury.

All honor to the fisherman, to whose enterprise and industry, Canada owes so much of her prosperity. The City dweller, unable to sense many of the interesting things about the life of a fisherman, can link his earning capacity with that of his ocean brother, and at the same time assist in controlling the food supply, by making fish a daily article of diet.—Margaret MacLaren

HOW GERMANS TREAT THEM.

About 100 civilian prisoners of war recently arrived in London from Ruben camp. All spoke of the severe treatment to which they had been subjected. One went to see a fire. We have not seen one for three years," he said. Tom Sullivan, the exchampion sculler of England, was a member of the party. At the time of his imprisonment he was acting as head coach for Germany in the preparations for the Olympic Games. In an interview, Mr. Sullivan said, "It may seem a strange thing to say, but I think the older men in the camp, speaking generally, appear to have stood the wear and tear better than the younger. For food we depended almost solely on what came from England and the bread which we received through the Dutch Red Cross. The food supplied by the enemy authorities has never been sufficient to keep body and soul together. Even at the beginning, when the German nation itself had plenty of food available, there was not enough for the prisoners."

WAS READY TO EXPLOIT CANADA

Kaiser Planned to Give British Dominions Away in 1912.

The following sensational extracts, are from a brochure, the author of which is said to be Herr August Thyssen, a relative of the well known German millionaire coal and iron master:
"When the Hohenzollerns wanted to get the support of the commercial class for their war plans, they put their ideas before us as a business proposition. Business and commercial men were asked to support the Hohenzollern war policy on the ground that it would pay them to do so. Let me frankly confess that I am one of those men who were led to agree. In 1912 the Hohenzollerns said that war had become a necessity for the preservation of the military system upon which their power depends.
"I was personally promised a free grant of 30,000 acres in Australia and a loan from the Deutsche Bank of 750,000 dollars at 3 per cent to enable me to develop my business in Australia. Several other firms were promised special trading facilities in India, which was to be conquered by Germany—it is noted by the end of 1915.
"A syndicate was formed for the exploitation of Canada. The City of London consisted of the best of 12 great firms, and the working capital was fixed at $100,000,000, half of which was to be found by the German Government. These promises were not vaguely given. They were made definitely by Herr von Bethmann-Hollweg on behalf of the Emperor, to gatherings of business men, and in many cases to manufacturers. But not only were these promises made by the Chancellor, they were confirmed by the Emperor, who, on three occasions addressed large private gatherings. The Emperor's speech was one of the most flowery oratory I have heard."

CUTS DOWN BABIES SUGAR RATION.

When the Germans seem to have touched the deepest depth of ignominy they always show themselves capable of sinking lower. An order placed in the Louvain district by the German Governor General, Rueber, concerns infants. One of these posters has just been seen, smuggled into France.
It notifies the inhabitants of the villages of Schaffen and Welkeboom that as a punishment for the theft by unknown persons of a certain quantity of firewood, the sugar ration of villagers will be reduced in future. Says the ignominious governor: "Infants aged will receive only 35 grammes (one ounce) a week, and infants (the word is 'nourishers') only 100 grammes (3 1/2 ounces)."

MAKE EVERY CHICKEN COUNT

The Aim This Year Should be to Make Every-thing Count.

Make every hen lay her best, make every chick mature early, enough and thereby make every pound of feed give the maximum return.
HATCH EARLY.—Make every effort to get your chicks out this spring before the first of June. As a rule the heavier breeds hatched later than that date are not satisfactory. At least 90 per cent. of the pullets in Canada were not laying during November and December of the past winter, because they were hatched too late.

A LITTLE SAND ON GRIT FIRST.
When the chicks are removed to their brooding quarters there should be some coarse sand or fine chick grit scattered where they can have free access to it. They should be left until they show positive signs of hunger, which would be between the second and third days after hatching. They may then be given some bread crumbs that has been very slightly moistened with milk. This may be scattered on clean sand or chick grit. If being brooded by a hen she will see that no food is allowed to lie around, but if in a brooder, that part of the food that the chicks do not pick up in a few minutes should be removed, as nothing in feeding causes so much trouble as leaving food of that nature around until it is sour.

FEED FOR THE FIRST TEN OR TWELVE DAYS.—The following daily ration of five feeds given about two hours and a half apart and continued from the time the chicks are two to three days old of the shell until ten or twelve days of age may be altered or adopted to suit conditions:
First feed.—Dry bread crumbs slightly moistened with milk.
Second feed.—Finely cracked mixed grain or commercial cracked feed.
Third feed.—Rolled oats.
Fourth feed.—Dry bread crumbs moistened with milk.
Fifth feed.—Finely cracked mixed grains.

In addition to the above, give the chicks a little green food, such as grass, lettuce, sprouts, etc. Do not have the moistened bread sloppy but in a crumbly state, and during this period let the chicks on to fresh soil or grass every day if possible.

RED IN THE EVENING, SAILORS' DELIGHT.

Luke writes that "when you see a cloud coming out of the west, straight away we say, there's cometh a rain," and so it does.
"When the grass is dry at night, look for rain before the light." "When the grass is dry at morning light, look for rain before the night." "Rain with east wind is lengthy." "A slow shower is soon over." "A slow rain lasts long." "Rain before seven, clear before eleven." "A circle around the moon means a 'storm.'" "When the dew is on the grass, rain will never pass."

Weather prophets who make their predictions through watching winds make the following observations:
A veering wind, fair weather.
A backing wind, foul weather.
A westerly wind fair weather winds.
An easterly wind brings forth rain.
It never clouds up in a June night for a rain.

When the glass falls low, prepare for a blow; when it rises high, let your kites fly.

SECOND RAID ON OSTEND

British Plant Sunken Cruiser Across Mouth of Harbor.

German submarine operations from the harbor of Ostend, Belgium, have been seriously hampered for a time, if not rendered impossible, by a daring raid made on the harbor by the British Friday morning. An official statement, issued by the British Admiralty, says the channel leading out of the inner harbor has been completely blocked by the bulk of the old cruiser Vindictive, which was manoeuvred into position under heavy fire and then sunk by bombs.

It appears, however, that there is some doubt that the entire channel is blocked, one report saying that the vessel lies at an angle and does not absolutely interrupt the use of the fairway.

German official statement concerning the raid says the attempt was a failure and that the bulk of the old cruiser lies outside of the navigation channel. This report may be compared to the one issued on April 24th, the day following the raid on Zeebrugge, which claimed that the no damage was done to the mole or harbor there. Subsequent events have proved that he damage done by the raid on April 23, was of a serious nature.

HARBOR EVENTUALLY CLOSED.

It is pointed out that the destruction in the channel at Ostend will tend to eventually close the harbor through the action of the tides and the rapid silting up of the harbor.

If Ostend and Zeebrugge are removed as ports from which the German U boats may be operated, the Germans apparently will be compelled to withdraw their submarines to their home ports. In this connection it is interesting to note that a week ago it was announced that the greatest mine field known to naval operations had been planted in the North Sea to combat the submarines. It was officially stated that the area of this mine field would be 121,172 square miles and that it would be completed by May 15. Some months ago, Admiral Jellicoe, of the British navy, announced that the submarine menace would be met by August 1 and it is possible that he had the blocking of the harbors of Zeebrugge and Ostend and the laying of an immense mine field in mind when he made his statement.

OLD PROPHECIES.

The old prophet, who by quotations, observation of winds and reading of the stars, forecast the weather is rapidly disappearing. The old "salsa" who were weather "sharks" are, too, fast going out of style. Where a few years ago weather predictions were taken from the sky, they are now gained from the weather column of daily papers.

Some of the old quotations have come down from Bible times, you will find in Matthew 16: 3 "when it is evening, ye say it will be fair weather or the sky is red and lowering. This quotation is probably responsible for the following old sayings:
Evening red and morning gray, Will set the traveller on his way, But evening gray and morning red, Will bring down rain upon his head. Red in the morning, sailors take warn- ing.

Red in the evening, sailors' delight. Luke writes that "when you see a cloud coming out of the west, straight away we say, there's cometh a rain," and so it does.

Here are some more rain prophecies, "When the grass is dry at night, look for rain before the light." "When the grass is dry at morning light, look for rain before the night." "Rain with east wind is lengthy." "A slow shower is soon over." "A slow rain lasts long." "Rain before seven, clear before eleven." "A circle around the moon means a 'storm.'" "When the dew is on the grass, rain will never pass."

Sunday last was the day set aside for special services in honor of Mother's Day, and from the town pulpits appropriate sermons were preached in commemoration of the day.

It is time that the practice of dumping ashes and other refuse over the embankment along the water street from the wharves, should be stopped. This practice has been going on for some time.

S. S. Empress, Capt. McDonald, did not arrive in Digby Wednesday, as she was detained in St. John. She arrived in record time, Thursday morning, with a passenger list of over 100.

The programme rendered at the Missionary Service of the Digby Methodist Epworth League, on Friday evening, was a very successful one.

The programme rendered at the Epworth League, on Friday evening, was a very successful one.

Through the Red Cross societies, the Field Corn has been distributed to the needy. 344,000 pairs of handkerchiefs were shipped overseas last year, besides innumerable quantities of shirts, caps, wristlets and other articles of wear.

The Epworth League of the Methodist church will meet this evening, May 17th, under the leadership of Miss Ruth Hogg, President of the Literary Department.

A good programme will be rendered. A collection will be taken in aid of the general work of the League.

About twenty-five freight handlers, employed in handling freight at the Government pier, went on strike yesterday morning. They were asking for 40 cents an hour. Later in the day the Company accepted their demands, and gave them the 40 cent rate.

There was a big crowd of people in town Wednesday and Thursday, under former arrangements, with 45,000 tons more sugar this year than last.

Consequently there was no necessity for the Food Board placing any restrictions upon the consumption of sugar in this Country, in view of the fact that Trans-Atlantic shipping was so taken up with other more vital cargoes that space could not be spared for sugar. Wheat, meat, munitions and men for the Army are more imperatively needed in Europe than even sugar, and there are not ships enough to carry everything. It was expected, however, that there would be shipping enough in the coastwise trade of the United States to bring raw sugar from Cuba and the West Indies to New York and other American ports. Owing, however, to the congestion at the wharves of the Atlantic Coast, the break down in railway transportation and the general and totally unexpected demand upon the American transportation system generally, it has become a difficult matter to move the freight necessary for this Country and the difficulty has not been overcome yet. It was hoped that some arrangement for bringing sugar direct from Cuba to Canadian Ports, could have been effected, but this attempt has had to be dropped. Shipping is not available, consequently the new sugar regulations.

NOVA SCOTIA "SOLDIERS OF THE SOIL" GO "OVER THE TOP."

Nova Scotia farmers who are looking for labor will do well to consider securing young "Soldiers of the Soil," composed of boys 15-19 years of age. Some of the lads have already left for the farms and are rendering satisfactory service. Many farmers who were sceptical last year about boy labor, have enthusiastically endorsed the plan this spring.

Nova Scotia is the banner Province of the Dominion, and has recruited over 2150 boys for farm service, coming next in number to Ontario. Here are the figures:

Ontario	15,000
Nova Scotia	2,150
British Columbia	1,347
Manitoba	1,437
Saskatchewan	1,213
Quebec	982
Alberta	802
New Brunswick	690
P. E. I.	500

L. A. Buckley, Superintendent of the "Soldiers of the Soil," states that careful supervision will be given to the boys who go out on the farm to see that they render aid labor to their employers and that the boys have proper accommodation. These supervisors are qualified by wide knowledge and sympathy with boys, also to deal with any difficult situations that may arise.

The following men have been appointed by Mr. Buckley: C. L. Wood, Windsor, for Western Nova Scotia; G. H. Wigby, for Central Counties; E. H. Brundage, Annapolis, for the farms through-out Nova Scotia.

The medals supplied by the Canada Food Board are shield like in form with a sheaf of wheat in the center, bordered by the words "Soldiers of the Soil," "Canada Food Board." They are very attractive and will be worn by the boys with a great deal of pride.

Many boys are anxiously waiting to go out on the farms. The Provincial Superintendent hopes that the farmers throughout Nova Scotia will so respond that every "Soldier of the Soil," who has enlisted may find employment. It is his patriotic wish by helping to feed the soldiers.

ST. JOHN-DIGBY SERVICE.
S. S. Empress will be taken off the St. John-Digby service to undergo annual overhauling, Saturday night, May 25th. It is expected she will be back in service Monday morning, June 3rd.

On account of the Marine Railway, at Dartmouth being too busy this year to undertake immediate repairs necessary to the work of the C. P. R. steamship, which performs the Bay of Fundy service between St. John and Digby, the ship will be overhauled at St. John, the work of overhauling painting the ship's bottom to be done when the tide is out.

Speakers of the enormous figures which vessel charters have reached on account of the scarcity of vessels, calls to mind the exorbitant rate obtained by two neutral steamers in carrying wool from Buenos Ayres to Boston, being no less than eight cents per pound or $80 a bale. Each will earn about $2000 on the wool and charter, and in addition will have tremendous profits on a cargo for the Argentine port.

If there is any vocation in the world which has benefited on account of the war it is that of a sea captain. The amount of wages paid to sea captains, on coasting of coast, some years ago, was about $1000 per month. Now it is $3000 per month, is reported now to be the recipient of $800 per month with a bonus of 10 per cent on freight.—St. John Telegram.

Her cargo is a very rough trip going over on Wednesday night and Thursday but despite the heavy weather the steamer made good time and landed her cargo of live lobsters in first-class condition, proving the best shipping in the Boston market this season.

Yarmouth a huge sea-boarded her forward, carrying away the forecastle companion way. The ship was damaged.

At a meeting of the Quebec Board of Trade, on Saturday, the idea of forming a shipping company that would have a line of ships plying between the Gulf ports and Montreal was launched. The company would purchase four large steel vessels recently built on the Great Lakes and have them ply between St. John, New Brunswick, Cape Breton, Quebec and Montreal. The same company would operate cold storage in Prince Edward Island and on Cape Breton Island.

FAMILY REUNION.
A Pleasant Social Event. Took Place At Clementport.

Mr. H. L. Jones, son of W. C. Jones, J. P. Collector of Customs, Clementport, and Mrs. D. A. R. Jones, who has spent several years in the United States in connection with railroading, and who has recently been promoted to the lucrative position of freight and express agent and Ticket Agent on the New York Central Railroad, etc., at the city of Utica, Pa., were the guests of honor at a family reunion, late Dr. Edelbert Eaton, and Mrs. Eaton, who reside in the Red Triangle district, were the guests of honor at the reunion.

The late Dr. Edelbert Eaton, and Mrs. Eaton, who reside in the Red Triangle district, were the guests of honor at the reunion. The reunion was held at the home of Mrs. James C. Brown, a sister of the bride.

Several things were worthy of note in the day's programme. First the classical music, rendered by Mrs. H. L. Jones on the piano, who has been a very popular teacher for a number of years along this line. Second, the aid given by Mrs. O. C. Jones and Mrs. W. C. Jones in various ways in making the reunion attractive and enjoyable. Third, the three brothers by the interest they manifested in the affair to make it a success, and last but not least, by the sympathetic humorously enjoyed by all, furnished by the head of the home, and prepared under the management and direction of the ladies of the church, by two efficient cooks and taken by the following members of the family: present, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Jones, Mr. and Mrs. D. A. R. Jones, with their children, Marjorie and Robert, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Jones and Mr. and Mrs. V. J. Jones with their children, Orpha and Lawrence.

So true to say that this reunion will be a day long to be remembered in the family, and hopes are entertained that it may be again enjoyed after a very long time elapse.

Mr. H. L. Jones and his newly made bride left on Monday the 6th, inst., for their home in the city of Utica, Pa. were kindly feeling and cherished memories in connection with the many friends they met, and the enjoyable time spent during the few days they were in Clementport, hoping are long to have the privilege of making a longer visit.

FREEPORT NOTES.

Night mail start this week, and then burrah, boys.

The grounds of several of our citizens are being improved by the sowing out of thorn hedges, which will in time add greatly to the beauty of the streets so favored.

The Freepoint Shipbuilding Co. are hard at work, the keel of their vessel is being shaped and the ship yard is a busy spot these days. Also the fish weir being built at "The Ledge," work is going on steadily whenever tides and weather permits.

For the last few years our men have fished in their able motor boats. This year we have one schooner, commanded by Capt. L. E. Perry, who has resigned his position as Customs officer, to take up fishing again. His successor as Collector of Customs, is G. L. Miller, who was awarded a license to fish.

Capt. Arch Thuber in his little craft is busy buying lobsters in different places. As happy as when yachting, Arch seems able to adapt himself to any circumstances, as he proved in his recent campaign for the Red Triangle Fund. He not only saw his own duty, but possesses great tact in making other people realize theirs as well.

Y. W. P. A. ENTERTAINMENT.
The dramatic and musical entertainment, given in Bijou Dream Theatre, on Thursday evening of last week, under the auspices of the Young Women's Patriotic Association, was greeted with a bumper house, and was one of the best entertainments given by local talent to a Digby audience for some time. As a prelude to the performance, the Digby band, accompanied by a number of returned soldiers, and autos, paraded through the streets.

The acting in the dramatic numbers of the program was splendid, especially in the "The Hero," which was composed of three characters, also in the Far Comedy, "A Little Mistake," played by six characters. The vocal numbers, consisting of duets, solos, choruses and the "May Day Dance," in which twelve young ladies took part, were rendered in good style and to the accompaniment of the evening.

DEATH OF A FREEPORT LADY.
There passed away at Freepoint, N. S., on Sunday, May 13th, one of the oldest and best known residents of the community, Mrs. Jane Nickerson, aged 80 years, widow of the late Porter Nickerson.

Mrs. Nickerson was a woman of sterling qualities and those who knew her best, loved her most.

She was a sincere Christian, one who was never known to swerve from her ideas of right living, and she died as she lived, firm in her faith in God.

Her many friends will miss her, for she was herself a friend in the truest sense, and many homes in Freepoint as well as Yarmouth, were made more comfortable by her visits.

She leaves to mourn her death, two daughters, Mrs. Samuel Thuber, with whom she lived, and Mrs. George Thuber, of Yarmouth, who had recently come to Freepoint to be with her in her last illness. There were also several granddaughters.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. N. A. Whitman, on Wednesday, May 15th.

A FORMER DIGBY BOY WOUNDED.
Mention was made recently in the Corner of the death of Lieut. J. Horace Farham, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. S. Farham, of Jamaica Plain, Minn. Sergeant Farham was killed in action in November, 1914, and enlisted with the 3rd, South Lancashire Regiment at London, and has been in active service ever since, being first wounded during the British drive, July 1916, at LaBoisselle, France. Both brothers were born in Yarmouth, Digby County, and enlisted under the British flag.

DEATH OF A TIVERTON YOUNG MAN.
We regret to report this week the death of Victor McKay, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McKay, Tiverton, Digby Co., which took place on Tuesday, May 14th, at the age of 18 years. He had been ill but a few days, with the fatal disease consumption. He leaves to mourn their loss, his parents, at Tiverton, and his sister, Mrs. Lawrence McKay, of St. John, N. B.

Funeral took place from his late home on Thursday. Service were conducted by Rev. E. J. Pastor of the Christian Church, of which the deceased was a member. We extend sympathy to the sorrowing mother who only three years ago laid away her oldest son, at the same age, and with the same disease.

Funeral services were held for the young man, who was friends of the deceased.

SURPRISE FOR PTE. F. M. RICE.
Forty-two friends gave a surprise party, on the evening of Tuesday, May 14th, to Pte. Fred M. Rice, of Lansdowne, who has recently arrived home from France on account of ill health. WOMAN'S NERVES MADE STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Winona, Minn.—"I suffered for more than a year from nervousness, and was so bad I could not rest at night."

"I would lie awake and get so nervous I would have to get up and walk around and in the morning would be all tired out."

"I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thought I would try it. My nervousness soon left me. I sleep well and feel fine in the morning."

"I am glad to recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to make women strong."

—Mrs. ALBERT SULTZ, 603 Olmstead St., Winona, Minn.

How often do we hear the expression among women, "I am so nervous, I cannot sleep," or "It seems as though I should cry." Such women should profit by Mrs. Sultz's experience and give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For forty years it has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

How often do we hear the expression among women, "I am so nervous, I cannot sleep," or "It seems as though I should cry." Such women should profit by Mrs. Sultz's experience and give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For forty years it has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

WATER STREET

An English Poet on Canada and War

R. E. VERNEADE AT FRENCH RIVER, ONT.
SIX years ago an English writer, R. E. Verneade by name, spent a summer in Canada and wrote under the title of "The Dominion" one of the happiest descriptions of this country, from the Old Country point of view, that has yet been written. Verneade had married a Canadian girl and had a sympathy for things Canadian, which led him to appreciate rather than criticize the New World which he found stretching between Atlantic and Pacific. Although by no means of fighting temperament, he enlisted in the Public School Battalion of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, and was sent to a commission in the Rifle Brigade early in 1915. A number of poems from his pen attracted much attention in the columns of the "London Times" and other publications—one of which, entitled "To Canada," was widely quoted on this side.

"Canada, Canada, is not thy face most fair?
Is there a land more kind than thee?
Where heaven hath to visit? Where blows a lovelier air?
What are thy sons doing here or the sea?"

So runs the first of his beautiful verses. Wounded in 1916 he went back to the trenches only to fall mortally wounded in an attack on Harcourt Wood in April, 1917. Like Rupert Brooke and Alan Seeger, and the young Canadian poet, Bernard Freeman Trepper, R. E. Verneade reached his highest powers of expression under the intense emotion of "The Great Adventure," and his verses were eagerly read by lovers of fine poetry. Edmund Gosse, the great English critic, volunteered to edit a collection of these "War Poems," a Canadian edition of which has been issued in Toronto. They contain some truly inspired lines, notably the opening dedication to his wife—

"What shall I bring to you, wife of mine,
When I come back from the war?
A ribbon your dear brown hair to twine?
A shawl from a Berlin store?
Say shall I choose you some Russian hark
When the Ukraina we overhark?
Shall I bring you a Potsdam goblet back
And the crest from a Prince's helm?
Little you'd care what I laid at your feet,
Ribbon or crest or shawl—
What if I bring you nothing, sweet,
Nor make come home at all?
Ah, but you'll know, Brave Heart, you'll know
Two things I'll have kept to send:
Mine honour for which you laid me go,
And my love—my love to the end."

A WOMAN'S PRAYER FOR THE MAN OVER THERE.

O God I make this prayer for HIM
He has gone into the fight
He has higher meanings of war, and not the lower; war's beauty, and not its ugliness.

Let this war be, to HIM, an adventure fine and wonderful, an education where in he shall learn life's deepest lessons, an apprenticeship for ultimate manliness, a training that shall provide HIM a perfect body, a spiritual opportunity that shall enable his soul to come to its due state.

Keep him from war's debasement;
from excess that loosens life; from cruelty and brutality that harden life; from lust and drunkenness that rot life; from dishonor, cowardice, and all things that make life coarse and common.

And if he fall, if his life be among those lives that are to pay the penalty of the world's misgovernment, may his die as a hero, leaving to me the memory of his sacrifice as an undying inspiration.

O God, let HIM ever feel that my loving thoughts hover about him night and day, as guardian angel.

Make HIM a help and not a hindrance to his comrades.

Make HIM the pride and not the shame of his country.

Let me be in every way worthy of HIM.
And bring us, in Thy divine mercy, some sweet day to a blessed reunion, where all those severed, bleeding hearts strings shall be healed and knitted up.
Then, who are all compassion, has this cry of a woman's soul for one she loves more than her own life.

A NEW EGG PACK.

The safe delivery of eggs to be sent through the post will be ensured and their period of freshness prolonged at the same time, by the use of a new system which has recently been patented and is now being called to the attention of egg dealers and shippers, says the Scientific American. The machine wraps the eggs in a long strip of paper, the egg being entirely covered by the paper which is twisted about them, making them resemble a length of sausage more than anything else. The paper in which they have been wrapped has been dampened, and in this condition the eggs are packed round a collapsible wire frame. As the paper dries it becomes taut, and the eggs are securely held between the arms of the frame. When they are placed in a box for shipment they are supported so that they do not come in contact with each other or the box, and they are thus enabled to withstand a rough experience which would be disastrous under ordinary conditions.
The frames are made in one piece and are of light size.

SUNKEN TREASURE.

Profession of Searching for Ships to be Revived.

There is some consolation for Capt.
Kid, after all. The present profession of searching for the treasure ships of the sea on a scale which, if he could know it, would stir the keenest interest.
True, this age is not far from the kind. He has been shamefully outdone in piracy, and now he will be outcaptured in the salvage of buried treasure by reason of the stupendous plans which are being made for raising ships sunk by German submarines.
At the end of the war charts and air ships will, it is planned, locate the wrecks within the war zone. Coal will be sucked out of flooded holes by pipes as vacuum cleaners draw up dust.
Metal cargoes and steel plates will be recovered by magnet, acting in combination with powerful blasts of air.
The romance of hunting for the gold of the Spanish galleons will be replaced to the romance of salvaging the ship.
It is possible that we may cross the Atlantic on the Lusitania once more!

ONE OF THE MEANEST MEN.

A lady who went to join her husband in his new western home was surprised to find that among the young ladies of the place he had the reputation of being "the meanest man there was." Wanting to know the reason, she asked a bevy of damsels one day, when one of them spitefully replied: "Because he came out here looking spruce and young, and went on till all the girls got interested in him, and then he up and sent for you.
And that was the first we knew he was married! Mean? I guess so!"

COULDN'T SEE HIS WAY

An Irish hod carrier was carrying mortar to the top of a skyscraper which was being built. One day he went up and couldn't find his way down.
The boss mistook him and called up to him.
"Pat," he said, why don't you come down?"
"I don't know the way," replied Pat.
"Why, come down the way you went up?"
"Faith and I'll not," said Pat.
"Sure, I came up head first."

IRISH WET

The chairman never spoke except when being addressed but he few utterances, given in a broad brogue, were full of wit.

One of the men in the party remarked: "You're a bright sort of a fellow and it's easy to see that your people came from Ireland."

"No, sir, ye are very badly mistaken," replied Pat.

"What?" said the man; didn't they come from Ireland?" No, sir," answered Pat; they're there yet."

PUBLISHING BUSINESS PROSPERS.

Despite War, Number of Newspapers Largely Increased.

That the press of Canada is in a particularly healthy condition is shown by the 1918 Edition of the Canadian Newspaper Directory, just issued by
A. McKim, Limited, Advertising Agency, of Montreal, Toronto, Winnipeg and London, Eng.

There are 1490 publications of all kinds now being issued in Canada, as against 1381 in 1917, an increase of 109. This number is made up of 135 dailies, 511 weeklies, 41 semi-weeklies, 1018 weeklies, 8 bi-weeklies, 32 semi-monthlies, 228 monthlies, 1 bi-monthly, 20 quarterlies and 12 miscellaneous.

Since the formation of A. McKim, Limited, Canada's oldest Advertising Agency, issued its first Canadian Newspaper Directory, 27 years ago, they have seen the birth of most of the publications listed therein, and are in a position to have accurate knowledge of the field in which they and the Canadian press have grown up. The present day condition of the publishing business of Canada enables the Dominion to boast the largest reading public in the world in proportion to population.

Besides giving full details in regard to every newspaper and other publication issued in Canada, the McKim Directory shows in concise form the business possibilities of any section of the Dominion. Its Gazetteer contains a wealth of general information regarding every town and city where a publication is issued, giving population, county seats, railroads and waterways, touching each place, telegraph, express and banking facilities. With the aid of its supplementary maps, it locates every newspaper town in Canada, and the descriptions are so written that these towns may readily be visualized by the reader in relation to the territory in which they are situated and the entire Dominion.

Never before was the need and value of up to date information about the Canadian market so recent and the 1918 Edition of the Canadian Newspaper Directory comes to us at a time when such facts as it contains are in great demand by the first sighted business men of the country. The book itself is well bound, durable and neat, it is indispensable to the advertisers of Canada, and is well suited to every office desk and business library in the Dominion.

NEW BOOMERANG BULLET.

The discussion of the war is heard everywhere. Even negroes sit around a time while shovelling on the coal to talk about it, says a New York news letter. Two of them were discussing the wonderful inventions brought about by the war. "The man Edison is some boy," said one of the negroes. "How's that?" inquired the other. "Why he's done gone and invented a magnetized bullet that can't miss a German, if it sees his steel helmet." "That's what I call some invention," exclaimed the other. "But dat ain't all that this bullet can do," continued the first speaker. "Whenever that bullet don't hit nothin' it comes straight back to the American lines." "Dat so?" asked the second junior, with some doubt. "How do they manage to keep them comin' back?" "Well, mah friend," didn't explain that," answered the first one, "but you can betcher life that man Edison has got dem bullets trained. You don't expect he'd let 'em kill any Americans, do you? No, sir. He's just got them fixed so dey will come back and fall around our gunner's feet."

WHAT THE JURY FOUND.

The story of German spies moving about Paris disguised in French uniforms recalls that at Gallipoli the Australians were frequently deceived by Germans in British uniforms. One day a man posing as a major gave some orders about not firing in a certain region. The Australian officer was puzzled there was something wrong, said: "I say, old chap, are you fair dinkum?" "Fair dinkum," is Australian for "on the level." "Yes," said the German, "I'm Major Faj-dinkum." At the inquest they found that he had died of "lead in the head."

Save Food

In a time needing food economy many people are not getting all the nourishment they might from their food.

It is not how much you eat, but how much you assimilate, that does you good.

The addition of a small teaspoonful of Bovril to the diet as a peptogenic before meals leads to more thorough digestion and assimilation and thus saves food, for you need less.

ARE YOU A MAN?

If you are, you either shave yourself or go to a barber. If you visit a barber you may have the unfortunate experience of Mr. M. Butler, of Bridgeport, Conn., who developed what is known as "Barber's Rash" on his face through the use of an infected razor. He writes:

"My face was covered with sores, which caused me a great deal of suffering and inconvenience, and I was unable to shave for four weeks. Repeated applications of Zam-Buk, however, entirely rid me of the trouble."

To avoid the possibility of such an experience, immediately you see a rash or spot appear, treat it with Zam-Buk. This balm will destroy all germs, prevent the disease spreading and soon end the trouble. For eczema, old sores, ulcers, blood-poisoning, burns, and cuts there is nothing so equal to Zam-Buk. All dealers 50c. box, 3 for $1.25.

Zam-Buk

With the Fingers!

Says Corns Lift Out Without Any Pain

Some corns, hard corns, soft corns or any kind of a corn can shortly be lifted right out with the fingers if you will apply Zam-Buk to the corn a few drops of freezone, says a Cincinnati authority.

It is claimed that at small cost one can get a quarter of an ounce of freezone at any drug store, which is sufficient to rid one's feet of every corn or callus without pain or soreness or the danger of infection.

This new drug is an ether compound, and while sticky, dries the moment it is applied and does not inflame or even irritate the surrounding tissue.

While announcement will interest many women here, for it is said that the present high-heeled footwear is putting corns on practically every woman's feet.

MOTHER'S LECTURE TO PA.

When Pa and Ma are going out, with solemn face and grave, Ma always lectures Pa awhile on how he must behave.

As soon as they are dressed to start, she says "For goodness sake I hope you'll not disgrace me now with any of your breaks!"

And promise me you will not tell those stories any more.

The guests that we shall meet, tonight have heard them all before."

And Pa says "Yes my dear," and then Ma says "And further, El, at ten o'clock don't show your watch and say its time for bed."

And please remember as we dine the salad fork is flat.

Don't pick it up and loudly say, 'The guests don't like it very smart; to-night from it refrain.' It grieves the guests and I am sure it gives the hostess pain."

And Pa says "Yes my dear," and then Ma says "Remember what I have said, you must keep it to yourself."

Don't do the way you always do and take you're past the age of fifty talk, and pretty frocks and curls.

I will keep with you until you first agree To dance with every woman there whose husband favors me."

"Don't get into a corner with some man you don't love, and spend the evening with him there, as though you were alone; Remember other people want your company to share."

Don't act as though you do not see the strangers who are there."

But sometimes Ma tells that mother says "I'm sure he doesn't hear. Because his answer always is: 'Yes, yes, all right, my dear.'"

A PROBLEM IN POLICE PSYCHOLOGY.

A psychological problem worth investigating is the effect of a uniformed policeman attending church in an official capacity. On a certain morning the presence of a constable in a South London church produced many an attack of nerves. His attitude was wholly devout. He sat in the back of the church, where he could be seen by few, but in less than five minutes the nerves that he was there had passed from pew to pew, and everyone began to fidget. What did he want? Who was he? After! Somehow it never occurred to anyone that he was a seeker after spiritual light. They imagined that he had come to arrest somebody, and they were curious to see who it could be. Even after the service was over, and the policeman had gone home without anybody a prisoner, it was interesting to watch the people. They separated into little groups, and each little group eyed some other little group suspiciously and whispered mysteriously.—London Daily Chronicle

A LONG WAIT IN SOME LATITUDES.

"Patience and perseverance will accomplish all things," was the favorite saying of an old farmer.

He had just made this remark in a train one day on the way to market, to a fellow passenger who was in a hurry to get to the city.

"Nonsense, sir! I can tell you many things which neither patience nor perseverance can accomplish."

"Perhaps you can," said the farmer, "but I have never yet come across one thing."

"Well, then, I'll tell you one. Will patience and perseverance ever enable you to carry water in a sieve?"

"Certainly."

"I would like to know how."

"Simply by waiting for the water to freeze."—Tokyo 'State Journal'

Says a farm journal: And now that fourteen thousand various brands of advisors have had their fling, the farmer will step in and do the work.

CONTROLLING THE POTATO DISEASES

(Experimental Farm Note.)

Potatoes are plentiful this spring. Procure your seed from a field which produced a good heavy crop the previous year. The smooth appearance of the seed alone is no guarantee of a heavy crop. Disinfect the potatoes before cutting the seed. Soak them for three hours in a barrel containing either of the following solutions:

Corrosive sublimate: 2 z. in 25 gallons of water. (Note, fatal poison to man and beast.)

Formalin: 1 pint in 25 gallons of water.

In cutting for sets, throw out all potatoes showing rot or brown spots, or rings near the stem end and in the flesh.

Cut the seed immediately before planting. The longer you keep them cut the smaller the yield. Be prepared to meet the ravages of the potato bug. Spray your potatoes. Spraying pays! Use poisoned Bordeaux mixture. The poison for the bug, the Bordeaux for late blight. This is the solution: 8 lbs. bluestone, 4 lbs. lime, 40 gallons water. Dissolve bluestone first in 15 gallons of water. Shake the lime in another vessel, strain it if lumpy.

Four both solutions together and make up to 40 gallons by adding water. Add arsenate of lead paste, 2 to 3 lbs. per 40 gallons of solution; or use 8 oz. Paris green and 1 1/2 lbs. of arsenate of lead for 40 gallons solution. Stir well, and fill pump through fine meshed sieve. Particles will clog nozzles and are most annoying. Spray thoroughly, and cover all leaves well with spray. Don't drench. Commence as soon as the plants are a few inches high and continue every two weeks throughout the season.

For a large field use a high pressure hose power outfit. For smaller areas, there are many good hand sprayers on the market.

Get your spray chemicals right away and arrange for the purchase of a sprayer; sometimes it is good practice for several farmers to club together and buy a good power sprayer.

Watch the field, and throw out any sickly looking or dying individual plants. Mark the 100 best hills for future seed supply. From these select 80 which yield the largest number of uniform tubers and plant these separately next year, and increase this practice until your strain yield highest in the neighborhood.

Unless many kinds of both useful and ornamental plants are protected from insects and diseases, the results of spraying, the loss in fruit and vegetable crops may be very great, and in the case of ornamental plants which would otherwise have attractive foliage and bloom, they may be rendered very unsightly.

The spraying of fruit trees should be begun just after the buds have broken in the spring and repeated at the times recommended in the spray calendars and pamphlets which are issued by both federal and provincial governments and in which is given information in regard to the treatment of various kinds of insects and diseases most likely to cause damage.

The apple scab causes, perhaps, more loss than any other plant disease in Canada, yet this can be controlled and clean fruit obtained, by thorough spraying with Bordeaux mixture or lime sulphur. Other diseases and insects can be kept well under control also by the spray which has been found best for each.

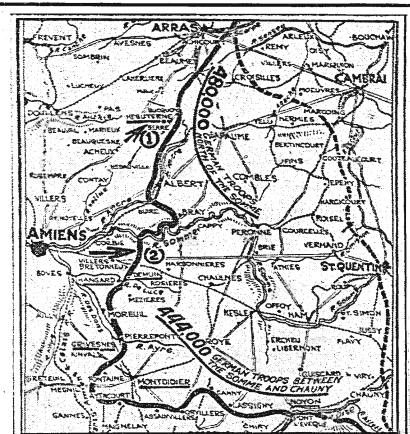

Spraying is a rather expensive operation and it should be done in an intelligent manner. Otherwise it may be a waste of time and money. For instance, if the spray to kill the codling moth, which affects the apple, is not applied within a few very days after the flowers fall, the sepals or lobes of the calyx will have closed over the opening or "calyx cup" in the end of the apple, into which it is important to spray the poison. As it is in the "calyx cup" where most of the insects begin work, they are not likely to be poisoned if spraying is delayed and the apples will be wormy. A spray mixture or solution which will control one insect or disease may be of little or no use in controlling another. Arsenical poisons are the best for biting insects, while soap or tobacco sprays are best for those which suck their food and which have to be killed by contact, and certain sprays intended to kill insects will not control fungous diseases.

Get the spray pamphlets and study them carefully before spraying, but spray and spray thoroughly!

PROPERTY SALES IN EDMONTON.

Twenty nine pages of a recent issue of the Edmonton Bulletin were required to contain the list of city properties to be sold for non-payment of taxes. Some forty thousand lots are involved. The amounts vary from $25.00 as low as $2 to $1,000 or over, a great number being under $20. The announcement tells of the failure of a greatly expanded boom. It also suggests a reason why some Edmonton people are losing faith in their part of the city. The property is being held in large quantity, is a poor support for community taxation.

'SO SHALL IT BE METED UNTO YOU'

(The 'Little Paper', London.)

This true story is written for the 'Little Paper' by a wounded soldier now lying in a hospital in Kent.

Everybody called him 'Softie' from the day he joined. I don't know why, but the name seemed to suit him. He was one of those quiet little fellows who never seemed at home in the Army.

There wasn't anything special about him; he couldn't drill or play. He cared nothing for sport or any of the usual things other men did; he was just a 'softie.'

He enlisted for the war only, just because somebody said he ought to do it, but fighting was not in him. He made up a kind of a joke, as I did in the trenches, where he was like a lost sheep. But he did what he was told to do.

Many times I thought I would like to brain the man who enlisted 'Softie' and then one day he gave us a surprise. Everything had been quiet since we went into the trenches this time, and we were taking things easily. We were all 'fed up,' and didn't care what happened. You get that way out there.

But if we were 'fed up' the Hun were more so. We had several reports of men giving themselves up to our fellows, but never any of our way. One did come, however, at last—a big bully of a Prussian Guardsman. He popped his head over our parapet, and he said, in good English, that he wanted to give me a good kicking. We were tired of war. Well, we pulled him in and put him under a guard while our captain questioned him.

Then something happened, I never saw it, but 'Softie' did.

A rifle of one of the men was lying against some sandbags, fully loaded, of course, as all rifles are in the trenches. All I remember was that the Hun rushed to the gun, and in a flash, with a cry of 'You English captain!' put the muzzle of the rifle to our captain's chest. The finger of the cur was on the trigger.

I stood rooted to the spot, waiting to see the captain fall, when somebody rushed forward, jerked up the gun, and received the bullet in his head. It was 'Softie.' He had saved the life of the captain, but he lay dead at the captain's feet.

We buried him behind the trenches, and there wasn't a dry eye among us as we laid him down to sleep. We put a little wooden cross on it and we put just.

'Softie.'

One who died for his captain. Greater love hath no man than he, who lay down his life for his friend.

IN THE GARDEN.

(By Walt Mason.)

It jacks up all my being, to wrestle with the soil; there is a joy in seeing the fruits of honest toil; there is a joy in growing string beans, in blocks of five, a perfect joy in knowing that I have made them thrive. But for my stern endeavor, with spade and rake and hoe, the weeds would grow forever where sweet potatoes grow; you'd see the bar and thistle but for the work I do; and so I sing and whistle a glad some tra la loo. The wilderness I'm made up to be the garden, as I do, I'm deftly raking, and plowing air cooled hoed. Such thoughts as these are boiling and seething in my mind, while I am daily toiling around my humble home. And there is naught more soothing than thoughts like these, I swear, and naught that beats them so, as I do, I'm deftly raking, and plowing air cooled hoed. May be Overcome by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—This Letter Proves It.

West Philadelphia, Pa.—"During the thirty years I have been married, I have been in bad health and had several attacks of nervous prostration until it seemed as if the organs in my whole body were worn out. I was finally persuaded to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and it made a well woman of me. I can now do all my household and advise all ailing women to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I will guarantee they will derive great benefit from it."—Mrs. FRANK FITZGERALD, 25 N. 41st Street, West Philadelphia, Pa.

There are thousands of women everywhere in Mrs. Fitzgerald's condition, suffering from nervousness, headache, and other symptoms of a functional derangement. It was a grateful spirit for health restored which led her to write this letter so that other women may benefit from her experience and find health as she has done.

For suggestions in regard to your condition write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass. The result of their 30 years experience is at your service.

METEGHAN

The Appreciation of a Life.

After a spell of blistering and cold weather, the atmosphere had at once become calm and serene and the wind had changed to a soft and caressing zephyr. The Almighty had doubtless reserved that day to come and pick up a young and tender flower who was missing in the "festal garden." That flower was the soul of a most cherished friend of Mr. Denis H. LeBlanc, who was drowned on the 19th May, 1917, while out lobster fishing not more than a mile from his home, and whose anniversary brings back thoughts of the absent, but never to be forgotten friend.

O death! thou movest on every side the most precious lives as well as the most obscure. Thy terrible mission is to separate the hearts and existences united by the most tender bonds of friendship. O, dear friend, why have you passed under the sceptre of death at so tender an age? And thou death, why have you reaped and carried away such a young and precious existence? I had dreamed of you, O friend, a long series of joyful days, and when on that fatal morning I bade you God-speed for the day, I could not believe that the end was so near, and that never more I should see you again on earth. Twenty-two years on this earth, and then die. O, at an age so tender, when the spring of life gleamed in all its radiance. But God, who does all in his best judgment, that the hour had come to exchange the vale of tears and miseries for the eternal life of the sparkling domain of glory, and to pour into your soul the portals of eternal glory of the eternal beatitudes. I have mourned your absence every day, but I hope that the Most High has opened to your soul the portals of eternal glory. Here at the present we are surrounded by so much misery, and tears, whilst in between one repeats himself in God. Such are the thoughts which the anniversary of your demise brings to my soul. Though death will never be forgotten by one on whom you reposed your trust and sincere friendship. O death! thou canst destroy the ties of a sincere love! the Christian does not die. The ties which death cut asunder are the ties of pain and anguish exchanged for an eternal life with God. Adieu, dear friend, till we meet in heaven never again to separate.

"On the Way to the Musquodoboits"

Attractions, Resources and Possibilities of Famous Valley Described in New C. G. R. Booklet.

Among the attractive booklets recently issued by the Publicity Department of the Canadian Government Railways is one devoted exclusively to the Musquodoboits Valley branch and all connected with it. A large section of the well compiled and interesting reading matter refers to the City of Halifax, its historic associations, commercial prominence and possibilities. Its close touch with the military and naval services of the Empire, its unparalleled Harbor, Basin and Arm, its Public Gardens and beautiful surroundings, etc. The town of Dartmouth, as the starting point of the Musquodoboits Branch Railway, like wise receives attention, and reference is made to its business surroundings.

Under the heading "On the way to the Musquodoboits," there is given a description of a branch line of the town and villages passed through, the manufacturing, fertile lands, sporting facilities, gold mines, etc. The great lumbering operations and possibilities in that direction are pointed out and the beauty of the streams along the branch is remarked upon. The booklet contains maps of Nova Scotia and of the whole Halifax-Musquodoboits district, showing plainly to the eye just what places are served by the railway.

"The valley," it says, "has been the home of some of the ablest men which the Dominion has produced, men high in the affairs of church and state. Her people are a hospitable folk, and the stranger in her midst is assured a courteous welcome. Musquodoboits has crossed the Rubicon—henceforth her progress will be in keeping with the renewed energy of her people and the richness of her resources."

MORE ABOUT TEACHERS SALARIES.

New Educational Legislation.

(From April Journal of Education 1918.)

The Education Act has been consolidated by the Legislature this winter. One important change is the fixing of the 50 cent. rate on all municipalities for the municipal school fund, which will henceforth pay $50 to trustees for each teacher employed.

The legislature imposed on the C. P. I., the power of fixing minimum salaries for teachers who generally have been robbed by the rising of the cost of living beyond the advance of salary. Teachers are unable to protect themselves by unions, because the government controls the licensing of teachers. The remuneration in other provinces, and in other vocations in this province, threatens to eliminate all the able and progressive young teachers who have entered the profession and exclude those who might otherwise enter. A strong delegation of leading citizens from Halifax and Dartmouth representatives and other parts of the province, addressed the Government, the House of Assembly and the Legislative Council on this subject, with the result that every one expressing himself felt the best interests of the province required a more generous protection of the teaching profession.

THE MINIMUM WAGE.
The C. P. I. is seriously considering the new Regulations which cannot be passed before the end of this year. The superintendent feels that in the meantime teachers and trustees should be prepared for a very substantial increase of salary.

The Municipal Fund next year will be increased. No school is likely to be recognized which would reduce the local taxation on this account.

Some of the ablest authorities in the province were strong in supporting the increase of salary under $200 from the trustee by 50 per cent. in order to enable the school to be conducted, according to law.

Salaries from $200 to $400 should be increased at least 40 per cent. on the average of the present year.

Salaries from $400 to $500 on the average of last 5 years should be increased 30 per cent. Those from $500 to $600 by 30 per cent., and those $600 and over, at least 10 per cent.

Another principle maintained was that no third class teacher should receive less than $300 from trustees (exclusive of Provincial Aid), and that the minimum for each higher class should be a regular advance of at least $100 on the minimum of the class below.

No difference in the minimum on account of sex was considered to be necessary. If male teachers are preferred anywhere to female teachers, trustees can employ them, for they will be at a premium.

Such regulations would have no force unless non-compliance resulted in the school's being considered as not conducted according to law; and the teacher making any agreement at variance with the regulation, would thereby have his license suspended.

In the voting of money at the annual meetings trustees have to estimate on the probability of some such regulation and teachers in corresponding should bear these forecasts in mind. Some such regulation there must be to carry out the general feeling of all the authorities who have given time to discovering the fairest course to teachers and people. Their can be no imp overment in educational affairs, if the remuneration is so small that only few competent can be found to take up, or continue in, the profession.

It must be remembered, however, that the new regulation which finally passed, may be very different from the possibilities indicated above; but it will be useful, unless it is very substantially increased salaries, and closes schools in sections too weak to be then rightly set off by themselves.

NO PERMISSIVES.
It is very probable that the granting of Permissive licenses will cease henceforward, in connection with the minimum salary regulation. At least no "Permissive" can be granted unless the salary conditions are met.

THE TID UP OF THE ENEMY'S SUBMARINES.
London, May 20.—The recent fine weather, says the British admiral, "has enabled constant air reconnaissance over Brest and the English Channel to be made and photographs to be taken."

The result shows no change has taken place since April 1st, and that a greater part of the enemy's submarines and torpedo boats are in the inland waters of the English Channel, and are being hunted by the Zeppelins and the operations.

MISTAKES.
When a lawyer makes a mistake, it's just what he wanted, because he has a chance to try the case all over again.
When a carpenter makes a mistake, it's just what he expected, because chances are ten to one that he never learned his trade.
When a doctor makes a mistake, he buries it.
When a dentist makes a mistake, he can always repair the damage.
When a judge makes a mistake, it becomes the law of the land.
When an electrician makes a mistake, he blames it on induction—nobody knows what that is.
But when a newspaper man makes a mistake—Good Night!

World's News in Brief

Breaking all records, a crew at Newark, N. J., drove nineteen hundred and sixty-seven rivets in a nine-hour day. As far as is known the best previous record for a nine-hour day was nine hundred and sixty-seven rivets.

Refusal to buy a bond resulted in a girl being discharged from her position in a Norristown, Pa., factory the other day. The other girls in the factory refused to work in the same shop with this girl, unless she was able to furnish a good reason why she had not bought a bond. The girl refused, and the superintendent discharged her.

Singing a song in the public gallery, a man caused a great commotion in the Australian Federal House of Representatives the other day. During a debate he got up and sang a few bars from "Australia, will be there." That, gentlemen, "he declared, "is the watchword at the front. Let it be your watchword here today!" He was removed.

A peculiar accident occurred recently in Glasgow. Two girls were amusing themselves in Hutton Dike with a skipping rope, the ends of which they tied round their waists, when, on the approach of a fish cart, they tried to escape in opposite directions. The girls were caught by the rope and pulled the girls down. One of them was run over and fatally injured. The other girl escaped unhurt.

More than 9,000,000 people in Belgium and Northern France are practically without bread. Recent cablegrams tell of desperate conditions. Food shipments from the United States to the civilian populations of the Allies have been suspended for ten days to more than a week, because of those in such great need. A cablegram from the Belgian Relief Commission's representative in Brussels, advised all shipments now en route arrive and proposing an equal distribution between all parts of the country, Belgium and Northern France will be without bread from exotic grains for twenty days."

REGISTRATION OF MAN AND WOMAN POWER OF CANADA.

The Canada Registration Board has been created under the presidency of Honorable Senator G. D. Robertson for the purpose of carrying out the registration of the man and woman power of Canada, in order that the information so obtained may be utilized to proceed intelligently with the mobilization of the entire resources of the nation towards the successful prosecution of the war. Data of military value will be secured, but the main purpose to be served by this Census of all males and females in Canada over 16 years of age will undoubtedly be the better distribution of agricultural and industrial labor to the end of securing the maximum results from the gathering of the Canadian people—especially as regards the essentials of war. One of the most beneficial results which it is expected will follow the Census will be more efficient organization of the agricultural forces of the country, becoming daily more imperative in the face of the constantly diminishing food reserves of the Entente Allies and the imminence of a fourth year of the war which threatens our own civilian population.

REGISTRATION DAY.
"Registration Day," the date of which will be fixed later, probably a Saturday in June, will give every Canadian affected by the law an opportunity to perform the great national duty of citizenship. Registered for the purpose of the federal constituency, these in turn will appoint deputy registrars and assist in the registration of the entire population. Registration offices or booths will be opened in convenient places in all towns, in factories, schools, hotels, halls, etc., in every municipality, and certificates of registration will be issued to every registrant.

VOLUNTEER ASSISTANCE ENCOURAGED.
In order to facilitate this gigantic task, Councils of Schools Board, Boards of Trade, Labor and Fraternal Organizations, Patriotic and Social Societies are invited to assist the registration officials in every possible manner, by providing free of charge suitable rooms, school buildings, etc., and by furnishing volunteer help to do the clerical work. The registration offices will be kept open from 7 a. m. to 10 p. m. Hence the necessity of providing lighting facilities for the registration places.

REGISTRATION A NATIONAL DUTY.
While non-registration entails many penalties of the most serious character, it is expected that the Canadian people will look upon registration as a great national duty, to be performed, not out of a sense of compulsion, but rather in a spirit of pure patriotism and as an act of encouragement for our gallant overseas defenders. The registration of the man and woman power of Canada will go forth to the world as the solemn expression of Canada's unalterable determination to support her own and the allied armies and navies to the very end.

REGISTRATION WILL STRENGTHEN MORALE OF THE ARMY.
The few minutes required for registration, or the one day's salary donated by the willing workers, will be a small sacrifice indeed compared to those now being made by Canadian manhood in the forefront of the battle line. Yet it will be of inestimable value in maintaining the splendid morale of our unsung citizen soldiers to know that those for whom they are fighting on the fields of France and Flanders are not recreant to the solemn duty of the hour in the beloved Canada. That duty calls for the exercise of the civil virtues, and high resolve in all the avocations of a spirited people whose very existence as a people is at stake.

For the purpose of registration all the electors of the Dominion of Nova Scotia have been grouped into one Superintendence.

These constitute a registration district. I have been honored with the charge of Superintendent of Registration for the district outlined, a charge I could accept with confidence, because I am a good citizen of Nova Scotia would co-operate in order to render the task less onerous to bring it to a successful conclusion.

EDUCATION NECESSARY.

It is particularly desirable that clergymen of all denominations, Members of Parliament, School Teachers, Professors, and all members of the various professions, Journalists, Captains of Industry, Members of Council—in short, all those by reason of their social position wield great influences, should make known the requirements and the purpose of registration, in order that no false conception of its import may gain ground, or jeopardize its success.

THE CALL AND THE RESPONSE.
The people of Nova Scotia responded nobly to the urgent demands of the war; large numbers of their best young manhood have left and are in the front lines of the war. The men who remain have made the supreme sacrifice, others have been wounded or invalided by sickness. All have gained imperishable renown on the blood-stained fields of Ypres, St. Julien, Leis, Passchendaele, and elsewhere. The record of their achievements is the immortal heritage of the Province, for all time. Of their abundance our people have contributed freely to the different War Relief Funds and O. G. organizations; shall we be less generous now in making a much smaller contribution to the great cause by simply placing ourselves on record as a united people, mobilized for the purpose of helping those boys of our own flesh and blood who are battling overseas for all we now so fondly enjoy?

KRUPPS AT LUCERNE.

Switzerland's Hard Struggle to Maintain Neutrality.

To those of us who have followed with admiring interest the course of little Switzerland since the European war began, the announcement that the Krupps of Essen have opened a branch factory at Lucerne for the making of cannon and munitions of war comes almost as a shock. Incorporated under Swiss law, this concern will make shells and guns to kill Englishmen, Frenchmen, Americans. Technically, under international law, Switzerland, a neutral country, has the right to sell or ship munitions of war to Germany, as the Americans had in the right to send them to England when the United States was still neutral. But inasmuch as the spirit of neutrality is surrendered by Switzerland in this new departure, Lucerne people speak the German language. It is sometimes forgotten how thoroughly the speakers of German dominate Swiss politics. There are 159 members in the Swiss Congress, Zurich, 25; Bern, 22; Lucerne, 8; Basel, 11; St. Gall, 16; Argau, 12; Thurgau, 7; Glarus, 6; make up the bulk of the representatives of speakers of German, a big majority of the whole congress. Out of a total population of 3,741,971, according to the last available census, that of 1910, 2,594,298 spoke German in Switzerland as a whole.

Yet while the Lucerne republic has spent about $200,000,000 on maintaining her neutrality—she mobilized her army early for that purpose—she has stood out bravely against German claims; she has resisted every misuse of her territory by Germany, and she has maintained a clearing-house for the wounded and the civilians of both sides that has been immensely useful to the cause of humanity. If she wavers at last, the world will know that she bows to immediate pressure, and it will not forget her past services. In 1916 she had 219,000 German aliens within her borders. Considering everything, the wonder is that she has held out in her policy of neutrality.

WILL BE TRIED BY COURT MARTIAL.

AMSTERDAM, May 18.—Nicholas Romanoff, former Emperor of Russia, according to the Lokai Anzeiger of Berlin, will be tried by a court martial in Moscow the latter part of June. The trial will be held in the city of Moscow.

The Paint That Costs The Least is the Paint that covers the greatest surface—that takes the shortest time to apply—that wears the longest. Martin-Senour "100% Pure" Paint does all three. Here's the proof. "100% Pure" Paint covers 900 square feet of surface per gallon.

Hand-mixed-lead-and-oil, and cheap prepared paints, cover only about 500 square feet.

The greatest cost of painting is for labor. It takes less time to apply Martin-Senour "100% Pure" Paint because its fine, even texture spreads much easier.

MARTIN-SENOUR "100% PURE" PAINT

(Made in Canada)
is guaranteed to be exactly as represented. The purity of the White Lead and Zinc Oxide—the high quality of the Linseed Oil—the minute fineness of the grinding by powerful machinery—insure a paint that gives years of protection and beauty to your home.

Why use cheap paint—that is expensive to put on—when Martin-Senour "100% Pure" Paint wears nearly twice as long?

If you are painting this year, you'll be interested in our books—"Town and Country Homes" and "Harmony in New Tones." Call or write for copies—free.

WE WHO STAY AT HOME.

(By Edgar A. Guest.)
When we were just our little boy on sunny a night we crept Unto your cot and watched o'er you, and all the time you slept.
We tucked the covers round you: form and smoothed your pillow too,
And sometimes stooped and kissed your cheeks, but that you never knew.
Just as we came to you back then through many a night and day,
Our spirits now shall come to you to kiss and watch and pray.

Whenever you shall look away into God's patch of sky
To think about the folks at home, we shall be standing by.
And as we prayed and watched o'er you when you were wrapped in sleep,
So through your soldier's danger now the old-time watch we'll keep.
You will not know that we are there, you will not see or hear,
But all the time in prayer and thought we shall be very near.

The world has made of you a man; the work of man you do;
But unto us you still remain the baby that we knew.
And we shall come, as once we did, on wondrous wings of prayer,
And you will never know how oft in spirit we are there.
We'll stand beside your bed at night, in silence bending low,
And all the love we gave you then shall follow where you go.

Oh, we were proud of you back then, but we are prouder now;
We see the stamp of God's hand placed upon your brow,
And we who are the folks at home shall pray the old-time prayer,
And ask the God of Mercy to protect you with his care.
And as we came to you of old, although you never knew,
The hearts of us, each day and night, shall come with love to you.

RE SURPLUS STOCK OF FLOUR.
The Nova Scotia Committee of the Canada Food Board has received official notification from Ottawa that the regulations requiring the return to dealers of surplus stocks of flour have been amended as follows:
A bona fide farmer shall be permitted to hold, subject to the order of the Canada Food Board, the amount of flour, made wholly or in part from wheat, he may have in his possession in excess of the amount prescribed by the Order of the Board, at any time prior to June 1, 1918, he reports to the miller or dealer from whom it was purchased or by whom it was manufactured, the excess amount held by him. It shall then be the duty of such miller or dealer to report all such holdings to the Canada Food Board on forms to be supplied and at such times as he is directed.

Any person holding or having in his possession not more than 25 pounds of flour made wholly or in part from wheat, or who holds or has in his possession at the date hereof not only the original package in which such flour was purchased, though the amount exceed 25 pounds, shall be permitted to hold the same.
BILL NYE'S COW.
Bill Nye, the humorist, once had a cow he wanted to sell, and he unobtrusively advertised her faults while naming the few virtues she seems to have possessed. His advertisement ran:
"Owing to ill health, I will sell my residence in township 19, range 18 according to the government's survey, one plump raspberry cow, age eight years. She is of undoubted courage and gives milk frequently. To a man who does not fear death in any form, she would be a great boon. She is very much attached to her present home with a stay chin, but she will be sold to any one who will agree to treat her right. She is one fourth Shorthorn and three quarters Friesian. I will also throw in a double barrel shot gun, which goes with her. In May she usually goes away for a week or two and returns with a tall, red calf with wobbly legs. Her name is Rose. I would rather sell her to a non-resident, the father away the better."

for them, and the inevitable sorrows of their wives and children will be comforted. "The prisons and penitentiaries of the present time will be relieved of more than half their inmate in a few years," will be depicted, and fewer children will come into the world with defective minds and bodies."
The world will then take a mighty leap forward into "the good time coming." — Los Angeles Times

RAISING CROPS ON RAILWAY PROPERTY.

Canadian Government Railways Urging Employees to Cultivate on Right of Way.
Employees of the Canadian Government Railways located conveniently near sections of the "Right of Way" where the soil is suitable for cultivation, are being urged to apply for such land as they can cultivate, and to their utmost to boost along the "Greater Production Movement."

In places where it is not feasible for employees to utilize arable land along the "Right of Way," the owners of property adjoining are urged to make proper use of it, not for pasture or grazing, but for the purpose of raising such crops as will materially add to the food supply.
The question of food is vital and preeminent. Next to munitions, the Allied countries need food. Everything in the way of food that can be grown is an important contribution to the Empire's needs. Whatever is raised for domestic consumption releases as much more for export. If our people generally raise their own potatoes and garden truck, the farmers will raise more oats and grain and buckwheat. On comparatively small patches of land even what can be grown to feed our own people, and if many individuals make even what might be considered a humble effort, the total result will be of vast importance.

In many sections there is excellent land along the right of way. It has been the practice in some localities for station agents and section men to utilize strips convenient to their neighborhood for garden patches, and for growing oats, hay and buckwheat for potatoes. Last year there was considerable gardening, but when the total acreage of land available is considered, the agricultural attempts were really insignificant. It is felt that many miles of this land could be brought under cultivation, and the railway is showing its earnestness in the matter by offering the use of what ever land is available along the right of way.

Applications of railway land can be made to the Superintendent of the District. Preference will be given first to employees and then to the property owners adjoining. In cases where the right of way is through unoccupied land, any person who will guarantee a bona fide intention of raising crops may make application. All enquiries regarding land permits addressed to the Railway will be promptly answered and the fullest information given.

WITCH WOMAN OF KRUPPS

Only Woman in Germany Kaiser is Afraid of.

AMSTERDAM, May 23 There is only one woman in Germany of whom the Kaiser stands in terror. He is ready at any moment to bow the knee to her. He quails before her periodical outbursts of anger, during which she often calls him "Wilhelm the Damned," and furiously bids him leave her presence. The name of this amazing woman is Frau Kassefenn. Among the people she is frequently called "the Witch Woman of Krupps," for her headquarters are at Essen, from where she plays a secret but by far the most important part in running the great death arsenal which is the pride of the German nation.

Frau Kassefenn is one of the most distinguished scientists in the Fatherland. She is one of the world's great experts on the use of poisons in munitions. Poison gas, liquid fire, and every such diabolical Hun device has passed through her hands. When any new invention of this character is offered to Krupps—as hundreds are in the course of a year—it is submitted to Frau Kassefenn, after it has passed the board of experts, for final approval.

For years this woman has been part and parcel of Krupps. She has grown up with it. The late Herr Krupp installed her in his house, giving her a whole suite of rooms exclusively for her own use. He is said never to have taken any momentary step without consulting her. The voice that spoke to her world in any great munition movement might have been the voice of Krupps, but the directing brain was the brain of Frau Kassefenn.

Eventually the whole of the sinister secret records of the firm were given entirely into her keeping. She studied and kept up to date the records of stolen inventions, the putting out of the way of men and women who had dared to match their puny wits against the might and majesty of Krupps, or quipped a perfect system of espionage kept a keen eye upon huge financial transactions involving millions, and, with the cunning of the serpent, got such a grip on Krupps' affairs that she made herself absolutely indispensable.

Some ten years ago this remarkable woman was first brought to the notice of the Kaiser by the late Herr Krupp. The Kaiser then discovered what to him was a new specimen of humanity. Instead of cringing before him she spoke to him bluntly, almost rudely. By every word and gesture she showed that she stood in no awe of him. The Kaiser is said to have been exceedingly angered. Herr Krupp appeased him. He dwelt enthusiastically on the woman's wonderful occult powers—her uncanny ability to read the future. The German Emperor, as is generally well known, is a very superstitious man. Anything occult has always appealed to him. He sought the company of Frau Kassefenn. Her unobtrusive presence flattered him. Her grasp of intricate international problems was, he recognized, as great as his own.

The woman's influence was now no longer confined to Krupps. From the stately villa at Essen it disseminated itself secretly but surely throughout the length and breadth of Germany. Her power can be traced by those who knew of her existence in the momentous decisions on the Reichstag. The agency of her mysterious gift of what amounts almost to second sight is sought by great statesmen, diplomats, inventors, naval men, and famous German generals in the field. Even the mighty Hindenburg, it is said, did not launch his recent great offensive until after Frau Kassefenn had given the scheme her approval.

By some of those who know her and have felt her amazing influence to their own disadvantage, the "Witch Woman of Krupps" is described as a fiend in human form. The sanctity of human life is declared to have no meaning for her. The only human being she loves and the worship of the Can non Queen is the only religion this strange woman knows.

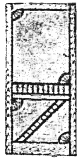

WILD WARRIORS.
A non-commissioned officer was reading the names of a number of recruits. "Your name," he snapped to the first.
"Fox!"
"Next!" was the reply.
The sergeant sniffed and glanced at the third.
"Wolf!" said the recruit, and his interrogator gave him a sharp look.
"And what do you call yourself?" he asked a tall youth.
"Lyon," the recruit responded, whereupon the Non-Commissioned Officer drew his pen and shouted to a private, with good natured laughter,
"Go and order some cages to be built! We've been recruiting from a menagerie!"

Laugh When People Step On Your Feet

Try this yourself then pass it along to others.
It works!

Ouch! ? ! ? ! This kind of rough talk will be heard less here in town if you follow the simple advice of this Cincinnati manufacturer, who claims that a few drops of a drug called Freezone when applied to the tender, aching corn stops soreness at once, and soon the corn dries up and falls right out without pain.

The Freezone is an ether compound which dries immediately and never inflames, or even irritates the surrounding tissue or skin. A quarter of an ounce of Freezone will cost very little at any drug store, but is sufficient to remove every hard or soft corn or callus from one's feet. Millions of laboring women will welcome this announcement since the inauguration of the high heels.

THAT CHANGE IN WOMAN'S LIFE

Mrs. Godden Tells How It May be Passed in Safety and Comfort.

Fremont, O.—"I was passing through the critical period of life, being forty-six years of age and had all the symptoms incident to that change—heat flashes, nervousness, and was in a general run down condition, so it was hard for me to do my work. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was recommended to me as the best remedy for my troubles, which it surely proved to be. I feel better and stronger in every way since taking it, and the annoying symptoms have disappeared." —Mrs. M. Godden, 925 Napoleon St., Fremont, Ohio.

Such annoying symptoms as heat flashes, nervousness, headache, irritability and "the blues," may be speedily overcome and the system restored to normal conditions by this famous root and herb remedy Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If any complications present themselves write the Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for suggestions how to overcome them. The result of forty years experience is at your service and your letter held in strict confidence.

Schr. Bessie, Capt. Adams, has returned to Plympton from Gloucester. She is now loading at Brighton, for a return trip.

One of the vessels building at Shelburne, by S. S. & Sons, will be of brigantine rig. This type of rig is very seldom seen now, and is one of the first to be built for the province in recent years. She will register about 250 tons.

According to information given out at Washington by government officials there is little likelihood of a resumption of the steamship service on three routes before the end of the war, viz. New York to Portland, Boston to St. John and Boston to Yarmouth, that is by steamers of the Eastern Steamship corporation which have been commandeered by the United States government.

Captain Elroy Peck, of the explosion-wrecked steamer Curosa, now undergoing temporary repairs at Dartmouth, has taken command of the steamer of the same line and has sailed from a United States port for overseas. It is expected that Captain Peck will resume command of the Curosa when she is again ready for sea after completion of permanent repairs at a United States port.

The service now being performed by the steamer Keith Cann between Yarmouth and St. John is becoming very popular with the travelling public. On her last trip to Yarmouth on Wednesday she brought in 36 passengers and made a passage of seventeen days, accompanied by light winds all the way. She carried a cargo of molasses which is equal to 1207 puncheons, certainly a big undertaking for a vessel 440 tons net. She is one of the finest looking vessels of her kind that ever entered Halifax and since she was launched a few years ago, Captain Hatfield has a financial interest in the vessel. Quick passages has been Captain Hatfield's luck since the vessel started out on her maiden trip and the voyage just ended was the longest during the season. She has been travelling the ocean blue.

Blue Flame Oil Cookstoves

The solution of the summer fuel problem. The Perfection is a wick stove with a perfect adjustment; is warranted not to smoke or smell if properly taken care of. You can bake ten minutes after the wicks are lighted and the same length of time will heat your irons, while a turn of the regulators puts the fire out. Now with prices for solid fuel at such a height and the cost of using a Perfection per burner an hour with National Light Oil being only two CENTS it can be plainly seen that such a stove in the house is a mighty good investment. Solid fuel being not only high, scarce, a Perfection will enable you to save your supply for winter.

For the year 1918 we are beginning a Perfection Service which will interest 1918 purchasers. We will endeavor to make this store a Genuine Perfection Service Station and would like to tell you about it.

We stock these stoves in One, Two and Three Burner Sizes with Overs.

Canada's Registration

Its Purpose and Application

CANADA faces the gravest crisis in her history. Four years of war have taken from the Dominion a heavy toll in talent and labor, yet despite the shortage of man power, our Allies still depend on Canada to maintain her own fighting forces at full strength and to increase her exports of food and war materials, so vital to them, and to the successful prosecution of the war.

Every ounce by which Canada can increase her food production and every ounce Canada can save in her food consumption is needed for export to the Allies.

Should the war continue for another year, food cards and a rationing system may have to be instituted. It is the duty of Canada to be prepared for whatever situation circumstances may force upon her.

It is quite probable that before the war is won our Government may have to place restrictions upon the occupations in which men and women may engage. In such an event the Government wishes to be in a position to render all possible assistance in keeping our population usefully and profitably employed.

Registration Day, June 22nd

These conditions point to the necessity of Canada knowing the exact capabilities of her men and women at home.

All persons residing in Canada, male or female, British or alien of 16 years and over, will be required to register on June 22nd and truthfully answer the questions set forth upon the registration card.

It is not the Government's intention to conscript labour in any form, but to assist in directing it wisely.

BEDRIDDEN WITH RHEUMATISM

Felt That He Would Never Walk Again "FRUIT-A-LIVES" Brought Relief.

MR. LORENZO LEDUC

3 Ottawa St., Hull, P.Q.
"Fruit-a-lives" is certainly a wonder. For a year, I suffered with rheumatism, being forced to stay in bed for five months. I tried all kinds of medicine but without getting better; and I thought I would never be able to walk again.
"One day while lying in bed, I read about 'Fruit-a-lives' the great fruit medicine; and it seemed just what I needed, so I decided to try it.
The first box helped me, and I took the tablets regularly until every trace of the rheumatism left me.
I have every confidence in 'Fruit-a-lives' and strongly recommend them to every sufferer from Rheumatism."

LORDENZO LEDUC.

REMOVE THE CAUSE of a skin disease, and the disease will naturally disappear. That is how Zam-Buk cures. The cause of all skin troubles is germs. Zam-Buk is a powerful germ-destroyer, not only of germs on the surface skin, but also deep down in the underlying tissues.

This is because of Zam-Buk's unusual power of penetration. Ordinary ointments, which have not this power of penetration, can only destroy the germs on the surface skin—hence the disease breaks out again. Zam-Buk cures thoroughly and, therefore, permanently.
Only Zam-Buk should be used for eczema, ringworm, salt rheum, scalp sores, ulcers, abscesses, blood-poisoning, piles, boils, pimples and teething rash, while Zam-Buk's power to end pain and heal quickly also makes it invaluable for cuts, burns, scalds and all skin injuries. All dealers 60c. box.

Zam-Buk

It Works! Try It

Tells how to loosen a sore, tender corn so it lifts out without pain.

Good news spreads rapidly and druggists here are kept busy dispensing frezzone, the ether discovery of a Cincinnati man, which is said to loosen any corn so it lifts out with the fingers. Ask any pharmacy for a quarter ounce of frezzone, which will cost very little, but is said to be sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or wart.
"You apply just a few drops on the tender, aching corn and instantly the soreness is relieved, and soon the corn is so softened that it lifts out without pain. It is a sticky substance which dries when applied and never falls off or even irritates the adjoining tissue.
"This discovery will prevent thousands of deaths annually from lockjaw and infection hereafter resulting from the suicidal habit of cutting corns."

TOWN COUNCIL

Digby, May 27th, 1918.

The regular monthly meeting of the Town Council was held at the Council Chamber at 8 p. m.

Present: His Worship the Mayor and Councillors Anderson, Dillon, Jones, Smallie and Winchester.

The minutes of the last meeting of the Council were read and approved.

The report of G. A. Vye, Supt. of Streets and Water was read as follows:—

Digby, May 27th, 1918.

To His Worship the Mayor and Council:

Gentlemen: I have the honor to report to you the following:

One broken pipe on Main line on Town Hill taken out and replaced with a new one and broken pipe at Marsh at Revere's Bridge repaired. New valve put in at D. A. R. North Eastern pipe. Four leaky stand pipes repaired. The one inch galv. iron pipe placed from Revere's to Church St.

(Sgd.) G. A. VYE

On motion of Councillors Winchester, and Anderson the report was received and adopted.

The quarterly report of E. DuVernet, M. D. Health Officer, was read as follows:—

To the Mayor and Town Council of the Town of Digby:

Gentlemen: I have the honor to report to you the following:

During the past month, I have been called upon to attend several cases of diphtheria within the Town.

Little attention has been paid by the public to the recommendation of the Board of Health in vaccination and the community is still largely unprotected against smallpox.

The sewers along the waterfront have been inspected and many of them were found to be clogged up and in need of repair. The owners are being notified to have them repaired at once. Nothing has been done as yet.

(Sgd.) E. DUVERNET, M. D.

Health Officer.

On motion of Councillors Winchester and Anderson the report was received and adopted.

Letter of Mrs. George M. Wilson was read asking that Mr. Wilson be relieved from his taxes for the present year on account of illness.

On motion of Councillors Jones and Winchester it was ordered that the letter be laid on the table for future consideration.

Mr. H. B. Short addressed the Council re Milleg Marshall. He stated that Mr. Marshall was a dangerous lunatic and had been confined in the Nova Scotia Hospital for twenty years and he had learned to-day that he had been brought home and placed in the Alms House.

He asked by whose authority he had been released from the Nova Scotia Hospital. He notified the Council that he would hold the Town responsible to the last dollar if Milleg Marshall inflicted any damage or injury to him or his property.

The Clerk stated that Mr. Marshall had been released from the N. S. Hospital and placed in the Alms House by the order of Dr. Lawlor, as he was informed by Mr. J. Arthur Marshall, the Supt. of the Alms House.

Mr. J. Arthur Marshall was heard. He stated that Dr. Lawlor had informed him that Milleg Marshall was fit to be placed in the Alms House and had requested him to convey the said Milleg Marshall to the Alms House at Marshalltown, which he had done.

After discussion it was moved by Councillor Smallie that Milleg Marshall be returned to the Nova Scotia Hospital. Carried.

The following bills were reported up by the Finance Committee:

The Council adjourned at 10.35 p. m.

ON RETURN FOR SWEDISH TONNAGE.

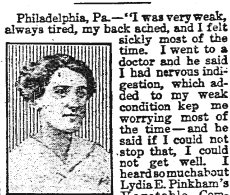

STOCKHOLM, May 31.—The agreement between Sweden and the Allies for a supply of foodstuffs and other vital necessities in return for Swedish tonnage, is completely acceptable to all shades of opinion. Germany did her utmost to delay negotiation, but Sweden succeeded in carrying her point, to Germany's pressing need of wood pulp and iron ore.

THIS WEEK, NERVOUS MOTHER

Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Restored Her Health.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I was very weak, always tired, my back ached, and I felt sickly most of the time. I went to a doctor and he said I had nervous indigestion, which added to my weak condition kept me worrying most of the time—and he said if I could not stop that, I could not get well. I heard so much about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound that I bought a box and took it for a week and felt a little better. I kept it up for three months, and I feel fine and can eat anything now without distress or nervousness."

—Mrs. J. WORTLINE, 2842 North Taylor St., Philadelphia, Pa.
The majority of mothers nowadays overdo, there are so many demands upon their time and strength; the result is invariably a weakened, run-down, nervous condition with headaches, backache, irritability and depression—and soon more serious ailments develop. It is at such periods in life that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will restore a normal healthy condition, as it did to Mrs. Wortline.

Found New HEALTH

O greater value than gold and silver is health restored. To the mining district of Larder Lake, Ont., Mr. S. G. Galloway discovered something—that the high words of praise given to Gila Pills are true. Here is his story, in part.

"I had heard of your Gila Pills and decided to give them a trial at once, as I had been suffering for some time with my kidneys and urine. I sent my claim out to get three (3) bottles and I am glad to inform you that in less than 6 hours I felt relief. In two days the pain had left me altogether. Today I feel as well as ever I did and my kidneys are acting quite naturally."

Every Farmer Needs a Ford

THE Motor Car is a greater convenience to the average farmer than the telephone, the rural mail or even the grain binder.

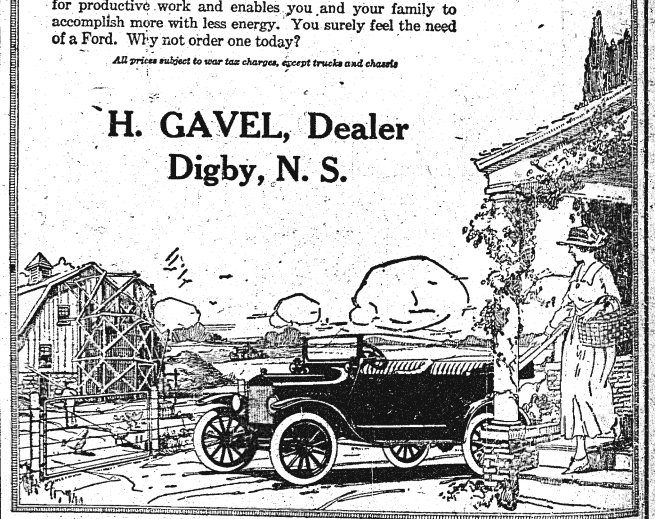

The binder which is considered as a very useful implement is rarely used more than a few days during the entire year. The rest of the time it stands idle, taking up space, while the automobile is available for use throughout all seasons, and both day and night.

It is every ready to run down the lane to the back field or the pasture with a parcel or a message, or take you and your family to town for shopping purposes—or on an errand to the neighbors.

The motor car is called upon whenever anything is wanted in a hurry. It is the most useful implement or convenience for the farm. It helps you conserve your energies and time for productive work and enables you and your family to accomplish more with less energy. You surely feel the need of a Ford. Why not order one today?

GAZA HISTORIC CITY.

Figured in Warfare Long Before the Birth of Savior.

The capture of Gaza by the British brought forward into the light of public interest an old, old city, scene of a thousand battles, veteran of a hundred wars, to whom, if such be possible, even the terrible Armageddon of to day must come as only one more struggle in a long life of war. Incidentally, the fall of Gaza went far toward opening the road to Jerusalem to the English.

Gaza had not been taken by men of western Europe since it fell to the armies of Napoleon more than a century ago. It has always been recognized as a key point in any campaign in the Holy Land. Although it is hardly more than a big village to day, surrounded by dead sand dunes, only redeemed from complete barrenness by a surrounding grove of beautiful olive trees, it has been fought for as though it were one of the precious cities of the earth.

Such indeed it was, in time past. In the days of the glory of the Philistines it was one of their principal cities, and that was many centuries before the birth of Christ. The Philistines took Samson to Gaza; and this was the city where that muscular hero tore down the gates. Even to day there is a tomb in Gaza which is pointed out as his tomb, but speaking both literally and figuratively there is "nothing in it."

Gaza seems to have fallen to the British quite easily. In olden times it was wont to put up a stiffer resistance. It baffled the full strength of Alexander the Great for 151 days. Later it was twice destroyed in warfare. The hosts of Islam captured it eight centuries ago, and held it, except for the brief triumph of the French, until the British victory.

BARREL OF PORK UNEARTHED.

A barrel of fresh pork, Government inspected, was unearthed on the farm of Henry Bergman, Fremont, Ohio, Rio Township, by Bergman as he was plowing in the field. The pork was found to be in good condition. It is believed the barrel containing the pork was buried in the ground since the flood of March, 1913. It was discovered in a low spot, along the Sandusky River, and covered with several feet of dirt. The barrel contained 500 pounds of fresh meat.

DAD KNEW NERO.

Not the Nero the Son Wanted to Know About.

"Say, ma who was Nero?" asked little Tommy Askit. "Nero was—" replied Mrs. Askit, with her hands and arms and part of her shoulders in a bowl of bread dough. "Nero was— you ask your father, I'm too busy."

"Who was Nero, pa?" asked Tommy. "Nero? Nero? O, yes, Nero. Nero was an old dog we used to have; a very faithful old fellow." Best friend I ever had until I met your mother.

And Mr. Askit resumed reading the evening paper. Five peaceful minutes passed. "Say, ma, how did Nero figure in the burning of Rome?"

"Ask your pa," Nero lived with him before I did. "O yes I forgot," said pa. "Rome was the little village next to the one Nero and me lived in. Once when Nero caught on fire because a rat nibbled a match and set fire to a cat's tail, every body was asleep in bed. Nero saw the blaze from our town and pulled me out of bed in my night clothes. We rushed over to Rome and Nero helped by carrying water in buckets to put out the fire. But it's funny Nero is down in your history book because I did nearly as much for Rome as he did."

"Gee! Won't I put one over on the other fellows tomorrow morn'g?" exclaimed Tommy. —Chicago News

A SUBMARINE LILY

The great water lily in the Royal Botanic Gardens, London, finished its longest season in January and has disappeared beneath the water of its tank. Usually the lily ends its career about the middle of October, but this year its life has been prolonged by the greater amount of autumn sunshine.

How the lily vanishes and is reproduced is explained by Mr. North, the curator. The thick root stock gradually rises away, and the freights, which are about the size of a cricket ball, remain at the bottom of the tank. They are fished up in the spring and the seeds are extracted. A single seed, though no larger than a pea, will in four months produce a plant that will cover an area of 1,000 feet.

FRENCHMAN'S LOVE OF COUNTRY.

Someone has related a graphic story of a conversation between a group of soldiers of the Allied countries. They had met, somewhere in the region of the Rhine, and "g'd up." And so a lusty Scotchman put the query: "Boys, what are you fighting for? Do you know?"

"For outraged Belgium," an Englishman cried.

"For the British Empire," shouted a Canadian.

"For Freedom, and Democracy," said an American.

The Frenchman stood silent. Finally he pressed him: "Tell us, what are you fighting for?" they insisted.

He stooped down and scooped up a little of the earth at his feet. Raising it to his lips he kissed it reverently. "For France!" he said. This is the secret of the unconquerable spirit of France, the indomitable love of country, the willingness to shed the last drop of blood for home.

DIABOLICAL CRUELTY OF HUN GUARDS

LONDON, May 29.—In an interview, C. J. Seitz, a South African infantryman from Kimberley, who has just escaped from Germany, describes the diabolical cruelty of the German guards.

Because he refused to work on munitions he was knocked unconscious with a belt buckle, then kicked mercilessly and tied to a furnace door and partially roasted, the skin on his arm, body and face coming off in ribbons. Next he was placed in a cold chamber where he suffered agony. Subsequently he was placed in a cell where he collapsed thru lack of nourishment.

The Germans turned the fire hose on him while prostrate, buffeting him about until he was nearly killed. He was then left lying in the opening. The cold wind piercing his saturated was at death's door on six occasions.

His bones are still protruding thru his skin. He was made a prisoner in July, 1916.

LEMONS WHITEN AND BEAUTIFY THE SKIN

Make this beauty lotion cheaply for your face, neck, arms and hands.

At the cost of a small jar of ordinary cold cream one can prepare a full quart pint of the most wonderful lemon skin softener and complexion beautifier, by squeezing the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of orchard white. Care should be taken to strain the juice through a fine cloth so no lemon pulp gets in, then this lotion will keep fresh for months. Every woman knows that lemon juice is used to bleach and remove such blemishes as freckles, sallowness and tan and is the ideal skin softener and whitener and beautifier.

HOW BIG SHIP DODGED RAIDER

United Fruit Co.'s Steamer Turns on Hearing Fate of Tanker.

(From the Baltimore Sun.)

Turned from its course when those on board believed they were heading straight for the spot where one of the German submarines now lurking off the American coast was operating, the liner Sixtola, one of the crack passenger ships of the United Fruit Company, put into Baltimore for safety.

The Sixtola brought 81 passengers from Cuba and ports on the west coast of South America, who came through the Panama Canal, besides a cargo of 50,000 bunches of bananas from Costa Rica and 125 bags of mail.

FEARED TWO BOATS WERE SUNK.

Passengers on the liner said today that it is feared two vessels of the United Fruit Company have been sunk by Hun U-boats. One life has been lost, and the other is missing. The Sixtola has not been heard from since the other vessel left a few days before.

There were a number of women and children among the passengers, and while all today looked back with a great deal of pleasure on the exciting and trying hours when they were zig-zagging through the submarine-infested waters off the coast, each said this morning they were mighty glad to get safely into port.

PRASE FOR HER MASTER.

Before leaving the ship some of the men drafted a document of thanks and praise of Capt. H. A. Henshaw, master of the Sixtola, for his bravery and coolness in bringing the vessel safely to port. It was presented to him just as the liner was steaming into the harbor.

CAPT. H. A. HENSHAW.

The liner was headed for New York. The passengers after having their baggage examined here will go by automobile from the pier to Union Station and will arrive in New York about 7 o'clock tonight.

ANXIOUS NIGHT FOR PASSENGERS.

Those on board the Sixtola had all the excitement and realism of a trip up the English Channel at this time during the hours from 12 o'clock on Sunday afternoon, when the vessel turned back off her course, until she steamed past the patrol boats off the Virginia Cape early the next morning.

They were forced to sit in their cabins with all lights out and on the morning after the first warning was received they awoke to find the lifeboats swung out over the side and the lifeboats made ready to launch. No information was given them, however, and while all knew something was wrong they did not sense what it was until the vessel suddenly put about and started down the coast.

TURNED BY FATE OF TANKER.

The Sixtola at that time was about 10 miles south of Winter Quarter Shoal, lugging the shore line in an effort to slip into Philadelphia. The vessel was making five speed on the wireless operator picked up an S.O.S. from the tank steamer Herbert L. Pratt that she had been torpedoed and was sinking. Captain Henshaw waited for no further news and swung hastily around.

An interested passenger, who can tell the time concerning the vessel's course, was Lieut. Com. H. T. Payne, U. S. N., who is returning to the States from the naval station in the South Pacific.

Captain Henshaw said he received his first warning that submarines were off the coast Saturday night when the operator picked up a message from the Arlington station to the effect that submarines had sunk some vessels along the coast and warned him to put in at the nearest port.

STARTED TO FOLLOW CONVOY.

THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attend the making of this great medicine for woman's ills.

Over 350,000 pounds of various herbs are used annually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best.

The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

Every uterine and tank that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attest to its virtue.

World's News in Brief

In a recent draft of 92 men from New York's East Side 29 nationalities were represented.

Interesting reading for Von Tirpitz: In one single convoy 45,000 American troops have crossed the Atlantic to France.

The estate of John McMillan, M. P., will pay to the province of Ontario in the time a sum over $500,000 as succession duty on the estate.

Lotions, scents and essences of various sorts are being drunk in prohibition territory as substitutes for alcoholic beverages, sometimes with fatal result.

There is no use in trying to interest the young man who is going to be married on Saturday in the fact that there is going to be an eclipse of the sun that day.

Three brothers, John Dunn, 31; Geo. 28; and Marion, 25, of Carleton Place, Ont., were arrested on Saturday day and placed in the hospital at Anna. All three lived with their aged mother in Williamsburg County, N. C.

Sir Hugh Macdonald, the Winnipeg Police Magistrate, has ruled that men acting as clerks in confectionery stores and in other light occupations where the work can just as well be done by women, are not rendering full service to the State.

To slight from an aeroplane "somewhere in Westminister" in order to attend an important parliamentary debate after a temperance campaign flight, is a feat recently accomplished by Sir John Simon. He flew from the Flying Corps headquarters "somewhere in France" direct to the House of Commons.

In Southwark (London), which disposes includes 514 clergymen, 234 of whom are over 55 years of age, the Bishop has accepted 28 for combatant service, 22 for non-combatant and 11 for the church army, etc., and 17 as army chaplains. The Bishop states that 170 clergymen are already serving as chaplains in the army and navy.

A Yorkshire (C. B.) furnace-man, remarking that he was "not going to work at furnaces on a supper of chip potatoes," thereupon threw the chip potatoes he had received for his supper on the fire. A few days later he was brought before an English police court on the charge of wasting food and fined $50, with the alternative of going to prison for one month.

Odd Patriotism was shown by an army veteran in Washington, who drank poison because he didn't want to be "eating up a fighting soldier's rations." A note found near his body in the bath room of the Soldiers' Home said: "I tried to get in the big shooting match, but failed because of age. I now find no valid reason for further eating a fighting soldier's rations."

Not a drop of rain has fallen in the last two months in Norway. The crops have already suffered terribly from the drought, and if there is not plenty of rain in the next few days, a famine is unavoidable. Denmark and Sweden are almost in the same condition, making the situation more serious, and rendering help from these countries for Norway impossible.

"Horse sense" means economy of operation on the farm of John A. Sempie, Salmon River Road, Colchester Co., according to a neighbor of his. Mr. Sempie was planting mangel seed not long ago. He was riding out the ground and the boy was putting in the seed. The horse was hitched to a roller and went up and down the field rolling down the rows, without a driver. He did a good job, too.

At London, England, Wednesday, Mrs. Walter H. Page, wife of the American Ambassador to Great Britain, stirred Mr. S. S. English, one of Great Britain's naval ships, which was launched on the Tyne. The Royal Naval ensign and the Stars and Stripes flew from the bow of the vessel. Admiral Lionel Halsey and many of Great Britain's leading naval officers were present.

Whenever the steamship Gay Head sounds her whistle at 6.15 mornings at Nantuxet, Hargrave, the town dog runs down to the dock and aboard the boat, and then down into the dining saloon for his breakfast. He knows the sound of the Gay Head's whistle and never shows up on the three mornings when the Sankaty is at the dock. He figures the time so carefully that he always is through when the ship comes to go ashore.

Among the most unhappy men in Italy are said to be sixty soldiers of the King's Guard who are not permitted to go to the front as they like their brothers. The reason for this restriction is that these sixty men could probably not be replaced if killed, injured or taken prisoners. They are not only chosen with the utmost care as regards their habits and training, but for their height, the minimum of which is six feet. "They begin where other men stop growing," according to a popular saying. Many of them are even seven feet in height. They are chosen from the carabinieri or military police, and must have absolutely unstained records.

22ND JUNE AN IMPERIAL DAY.

How Canada will celebrate this year's anniversary of Queen Victoria's accession to the throne.

On the 22nd June, 1897, the Diamond Jubilee of Queen Victoria was celebrated throughout the wide Empire which she had done so much to consolidate. 22nd June, 1918, will be marked by an event of no less historical importance to Canada. On that day the free people of Canada will pledge anew their devotion to the Allied cause by registering their names and furnishing the Government with all the information essential to a scientific use of their capabilities as a whole. They will do this as a privilege as well as a duty. Canada yields to no nation in its determination to prosecute the war to a successful conclusion, but that happy consummation, near or far removed. The Canadian people have suffered too keenly and fought too valiantly to do other than press on until, in the words of Mr. Arthur Meighen, "the Pussie is wholly and finally destroyed."

It is to enable Canada to take an "even greater part in the coming peace" that heretofore taken that the registration of every resident of the Dominion, male and female, of sixteen years and over, has been decided upon. This for the reason that the information obtained on Registration Day will be employed in speeding up essential production, directing the flow of labor to things that really count, and generally bringing Canada's participation up to the point of maximum effort.

THE NEW OFFENSIVE

The Austrian forces are attacking along the front of the Italian theatre from the northwest of the Asiago Plateau eastward to the Piave river and thence along that stream to where it joins the headwaters of the Adriatic Sea, a front of nearly 100 miles.

Having made extensive preparations for the spring offensive, the Austrians are now making a strong re-advance in the Piave valley, a man of them b ought from the former battle line in Rumania and Galacia as a result of the collapse in the east, the enemy is using them without stint in order to debouch from the mountain passes and cross the Piave river and gain the Venetian Plains.

Everywhere the fighting is of an extremely sanguinary character, especially east of the Asiago Plateau, in the Piave Valley and on Mont Grappa. In the initial struggle the enemy succeeded in capturing several front line positions in the mountain region north of the British and also in crossing the Piave. Counter-attacks, however, have restored the positions in the mountain line including territory to a depth of 1,000 yards along the Piave river front captured from the British.

At last accounts the Allied troops everywhere were strongly holding the enemy and King Victor Emmanuel's men were gallantly striving to throw back the invaders across the Piave. The Italians have been successful in driving the Austrians prisoner, among them 30 officers. As yet the Vienna war office has given but brief mention to the battle, saying that the Austrians had invaded the Sette Comuni Plateau lying at an altitude of 3,400 feet northwest of Asiago, and that up to strategic and tactical considerations, English and French soldiers and a considerable number of guns had been captured.

With the commencement of the long expected Austrian offensive the fighting in France has simmered down almost to sub-normal except southeast of Soissons where the French have delivered several violent attacks against the Germans holding the line between the Somme and the Aisne. The French have thrown thousands upon thousands of men against the Allied lines between Montdidier and Noyon, Sunday saw him with his useless efforts and his forces sadly depleted through men killed and wounded, unwilling or unable further to give battle.

Probably having in mind President Wilson's promise that the Allies should not be ended until wrongs of Alsace-Lorraine are righted, forces of American troops now are occupying sectors in the picture territory of Alsace. They have been there since May 21st, and possibly sensing the importance of the move, both the French and the Americans have been holding the line between the Somme and the Aisne. The American casualties have been heavy.

In Macedonia the operations daily increase in importance. Along the greater part of the front there have been heavy reciprocal bombardments. Bulgarian troops several times have endeavored to penetrate the allied lines. All their efforts, however, have been repulsed.

That enemy submarines still are at work in the North Atlantic adjacent to the American coast, is shown by the fact that two more Norwegian vessels, the barge Samoa and the sailing ship Kringsjva were sunk ninety miles off the Virginia coast last Friday. The crews were saved.

SCENE IN REICHTAG.

When Member Said War Was a Family Affair of the Kaiser.

AMSTERDAM, June 17.—A scene was caused in the Reichstag yesterday by Dr. Cohn, a Socialist member, who according to the Cologne Gazette, he declared "The border States have become a part of the Reich. The bones of the best in the land, who have been slaughtered by the misled German soldiers."

An uproar followed this declaration and Deputy Cohn was called to order, but he continued: "The entire war has become a family affair of the Hohenzollerns. It is possible that we finally remain the only warriors in Europe, but Europe will have become a continent of beggars and we all suffer the consequences of such a peace."

According to another account of the excited debate, several Independent Socialists shouted "robbers, murderers," when Dr. Cohn said that people are being "slaughtered by the misled German soldiers."

THE HEROISM OF OUR NURSES.

OTTAWA, June 17.—A remarkable story of the heroism of Canadian nurses is contained in a cable received by the Department of Militia and Defence from the front lines of the British Empire.

The article was written by Rolland Hill, from a correspondent's headquarters in France, and was cabled to Ottawa by Sir Edward Kemp, Minister of Overseas Forces.

In the big base cemetery alongside the graves of hundreds of the Empire's bravest are the little white crosses that mark the resting place of those Canadian sisters who died on duty.

"Killed in Action," is the simple inscription, and mothers and fathers in Canada can be proud of it for it is the same as that which the fighting soldier earns when he is storming an enemy trench. They are of the same breed, those tender valiant sisters from overseas.

SHIPYARDS' OUTPUT BEATS HUN U. BOATS.

WASHINGTON, June 17th. Since German submarines began their raids off the Atlantic coast on May 25th, the output of shipyards building vessels for the shipping board has exceeded the sinkings of American ships by more than 100,000 dead weight tons. The production during this interval has been 21 ships of 6,500 tons each, while the Germans have destroyed ten American ships, totalling 25,000 tons.

The seven ships were launched during the first week of June. In the meantime, the German submarines have sunk 21 ships, totalling 75,000 tons.

Seven of the ships launched were steel and seven wood.

German war is no longer sold in the whole sea fish market under that name. Jewish trade is no longer patriotic, and now when signifying carp formerly called German, they simply speak or carp and to designate our native fish they say buda.

CORRESPONDENCE

Carlsland, Alta., May 30th, 1918.

To the Editor of the Digby Courier:

Sir:—Though living at a considerable distance, you occasional copies of your paper find their way to me. Among others that I have seen recently is your issue of May 10th, 1918, in which I notice a letter from H. C. Mullen, Grand Master on the subject of Sabbath breaking, or to come more closely to his definition, misuse of the Sabbath, in which he bewails the effect and does not look for the cause of so many vacant pews in the churches of today.

He truly states that in the country districts this trend is most noticeable and his arraignment of the country correspondent and sympathy for the harassed editor is timely. These—or rather this—class of news shows that the tendency is away from the churches in the country and it shows too that it is increasing.

But it is not in the country districts alone that this condition obtains. The cities, with their throngs of workers, present to the onlooker a problem more far-reaching and more complex than the rural districts, and the cause is not far to seek.

The Sabbath is, first, a day of rest. Dostoevsky, in spite of that it would be a rest for the weary, sweat shop employee to spend his day of rest in the churches where the excellencies of the fat jeweled millionaires who "grind the faces of the poor" are lauded to the skies; where the face of wealth is the centre of attention and where the attitude of the worker in not obeying the injunction, "Servants obey your masters" is loudly lamented.

Does it tend to make the worker love the church when its prominent supporters spend their lives in idle luxury while the poor, who are the backbone of the nation, are kept in a state of poverty, cold, heart-breaking toil and rage? When their only glimpse of the church is through the stained glass windows? Does it tend to make them love the church when churchmen expound the go north and south as the seasons change while the worker must swallow the heat of summer and shiver through the dreary winter, ill clad and underfed?

In the rural districts we see, to a lesser degree, the same old lines of demarcation between church and mass. Let Mr. Mullen show me a church where this is not drawn. Where there is no favour shown either in the pulpit or the pew, where the workers are on the same level as does every one else and where all the preachers have the same right to be at the pastorate of the local churches.

Nay, Mr. Mullen, the church, or churches if you please, must reform themselves. The "holier than thou" attitude has about played itself out. The church must get out of its rut, it must "see itself as others see it" before it can hope to solve the problem of empty pews and scant collections.

Thanking you, Mr. Editor, for your space,

I remain,
Yours truly,
A. D. OAKES.

Registration Day Will Furnish the Information Necessary in Fight Against Waste.

An extremely interesting report from the Overseas Minister of Militia, the other day, told of the work of the Overseas Department of the Expeditionary Force which during the past nine months has saved the people of Canada a considerable sum of $211,055. It did this by a systematic collection of all discarded articles of clothing, food, and other necessities.

This achievement shows what can be done by the studied elimination of waste. One of the principal objects of the National Register will be taken on 22nd June, is the elimination of waste. It will accomplish this by providing the Government with the information necessary to a scientific direction of the country's man power.

Production, agricultural as well as industrial, will be increased in the process. The expenditure of human energy in useless and non-productive pursuits will be reduced to a minimum. As a result of the information secured on Registration Day Canada will renew her strength for the final onslaught against the powers intent upon arresting the course of civilization.

PLANS FOR THE FRENCH CANADIAN TROOPS.

MONTREAL, June 17.—Gen. Wilson, of the commanding the Montreal military district, today said that French-Canadian drafts on arrival in England will be taken on the strength of French-Canadian reserve units and will complete their training with their compatriots. It is hoped, he said, that battalions at the front will be reinforced from these reserve units and should four French-Canadian battalions be formed, the material for a brigade would be at hand. It might be doubted, he said, whether it would be advisable to keep the four battalions together and possibly it would be more advantageous to distribute one to each of the four Canadian divisions. Officers would be drawn from men at the front.

WARNING NOTE ABOUT WOMAN AND HER DAUGHTER.

A recent warning note from the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada says: "Please note that a woman and her daughter are moving from town to town in the Maritime Provinces, getting in debt to all merchants who will let them have a cent's worth of goods on credit."

They go to a town, rent a flat or take rooms, buy furniture wherever they can get it on credit, furnish their home, live on the best they can get, and buy all the clothes they can on credit. When the merchants begin to look at their bills, the ladies pick up what they can take and leave the town without giving any clue as to where they are going. They leave furniture and other household goods behind them, and the landlord very often takes this for payment of the rent. This couple, we are advised, are now in the town of Shortt in Digby, but later it was reported were arrested in the United States.

REQUISITIONING OF WHOLE BERRY CROP.

England's Food controller has issued an order, which will become operative on June 17, fixing wholesale prices on strawberries and raspberries and black and red currants. The order also requires the whole crop for jam making for the army and navy and, as far as practicable, for civilian needs. All existing contracts for berries are null and void, which is the outcome of the board of agriculture's report that the fruit crop will be considerably below the average.

City Renders Practical Help in Greater Production

It is not often that the residents of a city have an opportunity of seeing farming operations on a large scale carried on right at their own doors. In Western Canada, where hundreds of thousands of acres of virgin land are being turned over and cultivated in order to raise increased crops of wheat, alfalfa and other food grains to supply the needs of the Allies, the spectacle witnessed by the citizens of Calgary, Alberta, recently, was an unusual one. Not far from the centre of the city—about a mile from the city hall—there were more than two hundred acres of virgin land being turned over and cultivated in order to raise increased crops of wheat, alfalfa and other food grains to supply the needs of the Allies, the spectacle witnessed by the citizens of Calgary, Alberta, recently, was an unusual one.

British Tanks in Attack Form Question Mark

This exclusive photograph from the Cambrai battle was made by a German aviator during his observation flight over the battle line. He was brought to earth by a British plane and when his photographic negatives were developed by the British Photographers they found this remarkable picture. The tanks during the heat of action formed very distinctively as can be seen by the picture a gigantic question mark and unquestionably the aviator wondered what next would happen.

PRUSSIAN ACID IN BEANS.

A McGill, Dominion analysis, has advised the Government to exercise care in connection with the importation of beans grown in warm climates because of the dangerously large amount of prussic acid they contain. His recommendation, which has been acted upon, forbids the delivery of any beans found to yield more than twenty parts of prussic acid per one hundred thousand. Of 532 samples of beans recently examined, 240 samples contained no prussic acid, and all other samples a small quantity. Only nineteen samples, however, contained more than twenty parts of prussic acid per 100,000. A number of cases of illness have resulted from the use of beans containing prussic acid. "These beans," says the report, "are mainly entered at the west seaboard and are finding their way eastwards, already practically monopolizing the markets as far east as Manitoba."

HUN CIVILIANS "IN EXTREMIS."

A German who has got to Holland has been telling about the cruel system "As long as you live," he said, "you stand in queue for your food, and when you die your relatives have to stand in queue for a coffin. Our older people are actually dying off faster than the undertakers can get them to the cemetery." Cold, I believe, is now the chief cause of mortality, and one of our returned prisoners from Ruhleben tells me, as evidence of the intensity of the coal famine, that, except in centres of the munition industry, hardly a house or cottage chimney in any of the towns or villages which his train passed through, was emitting smoke.

THE FIRM WERE GRATEFUL.

A popular doctor was much pleased with a certain aerated water, and by his assiduous recommendations procured for it a celebrity it justly deserved. The doctor acted solely in the interests of humanity generally, and there came one morning an effusive letter from the company, saying that his recommendations had done them so much good that they "ventured to send him a hundred."

Here the page came to an end. "This will never do," said the doctor. "It is very kind but I could not think of accepting any thing."

Here he turned the page and found the sentence ran: "Of our circulars for distribution."

THE LONG SUFFERING HUSBAND.

The colonel was addressing a band of nurses who were about to start for the front. He said: "Some of you are very young and very pretty—most of you are young and pretty—and I advise you to work hard over there, and do no flirting. Serious courtship is a different thing. Many of you, I'm sure, will be courted seriously, and will make good marriages with our soldier boys in France. But flirting, I know, you will avoid. A flirt—what is a flirt? A flirt is a rose from which everybody plucks a petal, leaving the thorns for the future husband."

UNSEEMLY HASTE.

Mayor Mitchell of New York was talking at a dinner about office seekers. "A good man had just died," he said, "and with unseemly haste an office seeker came after his job."

"Yes, sir, though the dead man hadn't been buried yet, this office seeker came to me and said breathlessly: "Mr. Mayor do you see any objection in my being put in poor Tom Smith's place?"

"Yes, sir, I see no objection, if the undertaker doesn't."—Detroit Free Press

WITH VOICES ALIKE.

A courthouse in Yorkshire town stands near a common. During a trial the counsel was in the middle of his speech for the defence, when a donkey outside began to bray. The judge, a noted wit, put up his hand at this juncture and said to the counsel: "Kindly stop a minute, Mr. B. I am unable to hear two at once."

KIDDING THE CENSOR.

(From the Boston Transcript)
When Stephen Crane was reporting the Greco Turkish war, he had occasion to write of a battle in which the Turks turned and fled before the enemy. Crane watched in disgust the Turkish censor toying down his manuscript, and finally that worthy came to the word "routed."

FAILED TO PLEASE THE MAN.

During the British advance on Jericho an enemy shell struck an ancient tomb and revealed a skeleton investigation by the official archeologist connected with the British that of an historical figure, John of Antioch. Accordingly, a cable was dispatched to the war office in London: "Have discovered skeleton supposed to be that of John of Antioch."

JUNE ROD AND GUN.

Fishing and Canoeing in Algonquin Park, The Record of a Cruise on the Kawartha Lakes, Bear Hunting on Peace River, On the Trail of Ogaree, A Day on the Bras D'Or Lakes, and some of the contents of the June issue of Rod and Gun now on the newsstands. The Guns and Ammunition department this month is of special interest containing as it does a carefully written and practical article by one who has been "over there" on the shooting in the Trenches. Every prospective soldier should read this article for it tells the soldier how to shoot to kill, and this is what is needed if we are to win this war. There are other articles in this section of note and the Fishing Notes section is up to its usual standard. Rod and Gun, the magazine of outdoor life in Canada, is published by W. J. Hurrah! How's This Cincinnati authority says corns dry up and lift out with fingers.

Hospital records show that even time you cut a corn you invite lockjaw or blood poisoning, which is needless, says a Cincinnati authority, who tells you that a quarter ounce of a drug called freezeco can be obtained at little cost from the drug store but is sufficient to rid one's feet of every hard or soft corn or callus.

"You simply apply a few drops of freezeco on a tender, aching corn and soreness is instantly relieved. Shortly the entire corn can be lifted out, root and all, without pain.

This drug is utterly painless at once and is claimed to just shrivel up any corn without inflaming or even irritating the surrounding tissue or skin. If your wife wears high heels she will be glad to know of this.

Your grocer has the lemons and any drug store or toilet counter will supply you with three ounces of orchard white for a few cents. Squeeze the juice of two fresh lemons into a bottle, then put in the orchard white and shake well. This makes a quart of the very best lemon skin whitener and complexion beautifier known. Massage this fragrant, creamy lotion daily into the face, neck, arms and hands and just see how freckles, tan, sallowness, redness and roughness disappear and how smooth, soft and clear the skin becomes. Yes! It is harmless, and the beautiful results will surprise you.

THE LONELY GARDEN.

I wonder what the trees will say,
The trees that used to share his play,
An' know him as the little lad,
Who used to wander with his dad.
They've watched him grow from year to year
Since first the good Lord sent him here.
This shag-bark hick'ry, many a time,
The little fellow tried to climb.
An' never a spring has come, but he
Has called upon his favorite tree,
I wonder what they all will say
When they are told he's marched away.
I wonder what the birds will say,
The swallow an' the chattering jay,
The robin, an' the kill-deer, too,
For every one o' them, he knew,
An' every one o' them knew him,
An' hopped there from limb to limb,
Waited each spring 'till he came,
They'd done an' seen since 'way last fall.
He was the first to greet 'em here
As they returned from year 't year,
An' now I wonder what they'll say
When they are told he's marched away.
I wonder how the roses there
Will get along without his care,
An' how the lilac bush will face
The loneliness about 't place.
For every spring an' summer, he Has been the chum o' plant an' tree,
An' every livin' thing has known
A comradeship that's finer grown.
By havin' him from year 't year
Now very soon they'll all be here
An' I wonder what they'll say
When they find out he's marched away.

OLIVE OIL SCARCE.

(The "Sun," New York.)
News comes from France that the harvest of olives this year will be three times as great as in 1916. Nevertheless there will be less olive oil in 1918 than ever before. The greater part of the harvest will rot away because hands are lacking to turn it into oil.
The price at the present time of a litre of the oil is about five francs, that is, in American values $1.40 a quart. The price will soon become six francs and, what is worse, the French will have to depend on imported oil. Italian or Spanish, which they abominate.
The lack of labor has become more acute in almost all the vital industries of France. The oil situation is a typical and adds force to a movement that is becoming more and more popular. There are many soldiers of the old classes in the French army, men 40 years of age or more, whose usefulness at the front is a question open to debate. Agitation has been going on since the time when American participation in the war made the demand for men less acute at the battle front to relieve the old poilus. Early in 1917 the doubtful privilege of an honorable discharge was granted to carefree fathers of six or more children. The real problem before the Chamber of Deputies is whether to continue to make slight concessions to the demands of their constituents.

TWO IN THE SAME BOY.

Two American ladies were seated in the carriage. Next to them sat Pat. It was a windy day and the lady sitting next to Pat had a terrible time keeping her hair out of Pat's eyes. She did not even excuse herself, but every time told her companion, "I washed my hair this morning and cannot get any good of it since."
When Pat was about to leave the carriage he stood on the lady's foot. "Oh you horrid brute!" she cried. "You stood on my foot and you didn't even excuse your self!"
Excuse me miss," Pat said but I washed my feet last night, and I can't get any good of them since."

SEASON FOR SEA SERPENT TALES

Chinese and Hottentots on Lum-Lum in a Panic When it Shook Its Head.

The first real sea serpent story since the beginning of the great war was taken to New York recently by E. Herbert G. Fotheringay, who has been in Africa for the last two years collecting rhinoceros hides and ivory cuts for a Chicago importing firm. He was somewhat disinclined to tell the sea serpent tale because of the skeptical manner in which it was received by his friends in Cape Town. Mr. Fotheringay, who is a tall, bronzed man with the burned eyed expression of those who have lived on the desert sands under a tropical sun, said that he saw the sea serpent three months ago while travelling from Swakopmund, formerly German Southwest Africa, to Cape Town.

"I was on board the old African steamship Lum Lum, which carried a Chinese crew with Dutch officers and was commanded by Captain Johann Van den Wolf, one of the oldest seamen on the coast, a lifelong teetotaler and a Baptist. There was only one Guy de Jolipus, the famous French gorilla hunter, and about 200 Hottentots and K-firs.

"It was a sweltering afternoon," Mr. Fotheringay continued, "and the ship was about 150 miles northwest of Cape Town. The temperature was 105 in the shade, with a copper colored sky and the sea like boiled oil. Guy, the gorilla hunter, had just thrown a chatty at the head of Oulu, the Hottentot cabin boy, because he had brought him a bottle of beer without his leave. I heard a wild yell from the deck and saw the panic stricken natives trying to get down the after hatch. Looking over the port side, I saw the weirdest monster that I could possibly imagine, almost at a shore. When I tell you exactly what the head of this animal, which I realized at once was the sea serpent of the ancients, was as large as a good sized pork barrel, I do not exaggerate. I refer to the ordinary 200 pound barrel and not to the tierce of beef which is usually 350 pounds. The sea serpent's head was about eight feet above the surface of the sea and about three feet across in the widest part. Its face was covered with bristly spikes, which stuck out at angles, and the large round eyes gazed curiously at the steamship in a reproachful manner, as if the noise of the propeller had disturbed its afternoons nap."

The neck was not more than twelve inches in diameter and was partly hidden by dark, hard looking barbed bristles. I could not say exactly how long the sea serpent was, but judging by the fast ripple when it moved I think 150 feet would be about the mark. Captain Van den Wolf was very much excited as he stood with his big telescope on the bridge, examining the marine monster. "Gott fur dicker," he shouted, "this was the big sea serpent the old Danish skipper Jensen reported three months ago at Cape Town, and the people said he was crazy."

The captain gave orders to the officer on watch to steam around the sea serpent carefully and get as close as the ship could go without running into needless danger. Five times the Lum Lum circumnavigated the sea monster, which turned its massive head slowly and regarded the vessel with a wistful look as if he wanted to speak to us and tell about his travels around the world. No one had a camera on board, and the finest chance

PURCHASE FUEL THIS SUMMER

Don't Delay Until Next Winter—Stock With Soft Coal or Wood.

C. A. McGrath, Canadian Fuel Controller, has recently made a trip down through the Maritime Provinces, and his message to the people is to lay in fuel early. Do not delay until winter is here but stock your cellars now with soft coal or wood. We may get all the hard coal needed or we may not, but it would be wise not to depend too much on anthracite to keep warm next winter. In the matter of supplies of anthracite coal which we are to receive from the United States, Mr. McGrath says: "It is impossible to make any statement as to what coal we will get this season. I feel convinced from what I have seen in my frequent trips to the United States that they are in this war to stay and their one determination is to whip the Hun. In order to do this they will go to any lengths and if it is found necessary to dry their own people hard coal for private consumption, in order to carry on war work, they will not hesitate to do so, and the same applies to Canada. I feel that the American fuel controller most sympathetic out at the same time it was made clear that war work came first."

While at Washington I took up the matter of American bottoms for bringing coal to the Maritime Provinces and was assured by the authorities that they were not denying bottoms for the carrying of coal provided they were not needed for war work; and was assured that the shipping board would do all they could to provide shipping facilities and would allow American ships to bring coal to these ports whenever possible.

My advice to the people, however, would be to stock up early with fuel, either wood or soft coal, so as not to be caught napping when the cold weather comes. In any situation is a critical one and we must not depend too largely on our neighbors to keep us from freezing next winter. Mr. McGrath pointed out that the regulations recently passed gave each province the power to appoint a fuel administrator, and each municipality the power to appoint a fuel commissioner, and these looked after the situation locally.

MILK FROM ALMONDS.

So long as sweet almonds are procurable no one needs make a milk substitute suitable for tea and coffee, according to a recipe devised Mr. A. J. Jarman, artificial milk having all the properties of cow's milk can be produced from a mixture of distilled water and finely ground almonds. The milk is then squeezed through a piece of cheese cloth or fine muslin into a jug. In a few hours a thick layer of cream will form on the artificial milk, which will turn sour if kept too long. The milk is slightly of almonds, but this is not noticeable in tea and coffee. Half a pound of almonds will make three pints of milk.—Chamber's Journal

STRICTLY VEGETARIAN.

A vegetarian whose family was out of town, went to breakfast at a restaurant and took a seat next to a stranger. The vegetarian took occasion to advertise his creed by telling the stranger that all meat was injurious, and that the human diet should be strictly vegetarian.

"But replied the stranger, 'I seldom eat meat.'"

"You just now ordered eggs," said the vegetarian. "An egg is practically meat because it eventually becomes a bird."

"The kind of eggs I eat never become birds," answered the stranger.

"Impossible!" cried the vegetarian.

"What kind of eggs do you eat?"

"Principally boiled eggs," said the stranger.

WHAT CATARRH IS

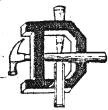

It has been said that every third person has catarrh in some form.

Science has shown that nasal catarrh often indicates a general weakness of the whole system, and snuffs and vapors do little, if any good.

To correct catarrh you should enrich your blood with the oil found in Scott's Emulsion which is a medicinal food and a building tonic, free from any harmful drugs. Try Scott's Emulsion.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR MEN OF NOVA SCOTIA TO PERFORM SERVICE TO MEN OVERSEAS.

The Men in Every Town and Village in Nova Scotia are Urged to Volunteer Their Services NOW, for the Great Red Cross "Drive," July 8th, to 15th.

July 8-15 is Red Cross week in Nova Scotia—the week in which the great "Mothering" organization of the crimson ensign will go to the people of this province and appeal to them to give—give, give, good measure, pressed down, and Waver! Just this—that the Red Cross organization must augment its treasury if our men are to be ministered to in the vitally important Red Cross way. We all know what a human, kindly, efficacious way that is. How it is felt in the hospitals and many another needy place where men are marshaled for the defence of the Right. It is a "way" which is as likable to the touch of a healing, soft, sympathetic hand, as the clasp of such a hand, strong and true, as the clasp of such a hand.

Then shall not the whole people of Nova Scotia give a loyal, generous answer back. Especially should our men who are at home rally to this call—they know well the magnificent work the women of the province have done, are doing for the Red Cross. Let them follow suit—let them get right in now, ORGANIZE, and anticipate the campaign week by a "campaign of education" so that when the week comes round the money will pour in from people who have been given no quarter for refusal. Let them co-operate by every way in which co-operation can be given, in this work for the Red Cross—$250,000 is Nova Scotia's quota. Let them go out, like men, and get it. Their sons and brothers have gone out to get something tremendous more valuable than money—gone out to kill tyranny. Gone out to defend freedom and the rights of the weak. The job of the men at home who cannot fight, that is, the men at home who cannot stand by and working at home. The Red Cross treasury must be augmented. Let the men get to work now.

FISH KILLED BY GUNFIRE.

Masters of ships arriving at Philadelphia report that a number of whales, sharks and porpoises have drifted ashore, near the North Atlantic Coast between Harpago and Cape Henry, having evidently been killed by gunfire or by the explosion of bombs or shell below the surface. The bodies of the whales lie on the beach between Cape Henry and Cape Henry, practically torn to pieces, having apparently been mistaken for submarines and fired at. Numerous porpoises have drifted ashore, all evidently killed by explosions.

VERSES.

In loving memory of Pte. J. Harold Cossit, who died at the Station Hospital at Halifax, N. S., June 4th, 1918, aged 16 years and 4 months.

Because of one fair boyish face
Laid 'neath the blooming summer flowers,
All dear boy faces wear a grace,
All true brave soldiers hold a place
Within these grieving hearts of ours.

One year ago, how short it seems,
Our Harold heard his Country's call,
With eager heart and earnest face
He stepped into his waiting place
To fight for his King and his right.

No, once again he heard a call,
His Country's call, "Come unto me
Become a Soldier of the Cross,
For Me count everything but loss."

And so when sickness laid him low
And death drew nigh, he had no fear:
He looked into his Saviour's face,
And loved ones by his grave may weep,
He gave up heart and body to His care.

Then sweetly slept to wake no more,
Within the home churchyard he sleeps,
Where wild flowers bloom and sunbeams glance,
And loves ones by his grave may weep,
He gave up heart and body to His care.

Asleep upon the fields of France,
Close upon, sleep on, our Soldier boy,
Safe in God's keeping, take thy rest,
Soon shall the dreary night be over,
And he will greet us on the shore
Where we shall meet our loved and lost.

BRITISH PLAN FLIGHT ACROSS ATLANTIC.

WASHINGTON, June 24—Big American air and seaplanes may be flying across the Atlantic by next summer, Major-General W. Branker of the British Air Ministry, said here today, in a formal statement to the press.

He is in Washington to co-operate with American air officials, and believes that a pioneer trans-Atlantic flight should be attempted without delay.

"An enterprise which must be carried out as soon as possible," General Branker said, "is the flight of the Atlantic. There is really no reason why a considerable number of big airplanes and seaplanes should not cross the Atlantic during next summer."

General Branker disclosed the fact that the British Air Council had definitely decided upon trans-Atlantic air craft flights in order to find a route for the movement of American-made air craft to the front. His mission to this country has to do with arrangements for the pioneer flight, in which it is hoped the United States Government will participate.

It is expected the initial flight will be made this autumn in a machine of British make, particularly a sea bi-plane from Newfoundland and touching at the Azores and Portugal before arriving in Ireland. It has been estimated that the trip can be made in forty hours of flying.

The plans under consideration call for crews of four men, composed of an engineer, a relief of pilots and a navigating officer.
