HYDRO ELECTRIC DEVELOPMENT WILL STIMULATE INDUSTRY

Neglect Of The Matter By The Present Commission Has Caused One Factory To Locate Elsewhere.

It is an axiom that a country's or province's or community's industrial growth is directly proportional to its shipping facilities and cheap power available. With this in mind, some years ago the province of Ontario brought down certain legislation and formed its Hydro Electric Commission for the purpose of developing its natural water powers for industrial purposes; from the start of that project, no other manufacturing industries in this province increased by leaps and bounds, until at present Ontario proclaims itself the industrial center of Canada.

Following Ontario's example and profiting by their experience, in 1912 Nova Scotia passed its power act and appointed a "Power Commission" for the purpose of determining the water power available for development and securing exact data with regard to the feasibility of these developments.

THE ROYAL BANK AT BEAR RIVER

Nine Clerks Trained—Three Saw Service Overseas.

The Bear River Branch of the Royal Bank of Canada has had somewhat of a checkered career. The Branch opened for business on March 1st, 1898, under the name of The Commercial Bank of Windsor with Mr. Frank Soloman as manager, who was succeeded by Mr. L. A. Dodge, the latter retaining office till his premature death on September 1st, 1903. It was during Mr. Dodge's term of office that the Branch for the first time changed its owners, the transfer being to The Union Bank of Halifax in 1902. Mr. J. L. Strothard succeeded Mr. Dodge and carried on until January 31st, 1905, when Mr. W. M. Romans, the present Manager, took charge. In 1910 the Branch again changed its name, this time The Royal Bank of Canada being the purchasers and under whose control it still remains.

The Branch was opened too late to receive direct benefit from the boom days of ship building; but through its Savings Department has been the means of putting thrift and saving before the community, and in this way has helped, in a great measure, to put numbers of its customers in the way of becoming independent.

The Branch is truly proud of the fact that nine clerks who received their first banking experience in Bear River, served during the Great War and its aftermath. Of this number, two were killed in action, one died in hospital and one lost a leg.

The family of the present Manager have been connected with the institution since its inception in 1898, when it opened for business under the name of The Merchants Bank of Halifax, which was changed to The Royal Bank of Canada in 1901, his father having been the first teller and three of his uncles are listed as among the original shareholders.

The total assets of the Bank in 1909 were $729,169.00, today they total $594,670,013.00; over half a billion greater. The Royal Bank of Canada with its 708 branches, now stands well up in line with the large banking institutions of the world.

W. M. ROMANS, Manager.

ing a water power at Margarets Bay, N. S., and expect to be distributing power from this development in June of 1921. Along with other localities the possible development of water powers on the "Bear River" East and West Branches were studied and their available horse power ascertained and a great deal of preliminary work carried out to determine the best and most economical method of development.

With the increased cost of fuel making the generating of electric energy by this method almost prohibitive for the town of Digby, relief was sought from the Power Commission by suggesting to them that the natural water power on Bear River be developed and distributed. With this request the Commission last year sent its engineer (Mr. Johnson) to go thoroughly into the possibilities of this development with regard to its practicability, and in conversation with the writer, Mr. Johnson stated that this was one of the most desirable developments of its size, being a comparatively simple development and promising an assured market for all power produced; considering the favorable location with regard to shipping facilities and supply of raw materials of the towns of Bear River and Digby, the development of this water power thereby making available power for the development of industry and draw factories and enterprises to this vicinity providing steady and profitable employment, and in all ways being a great benefit to the community as a whole.

While this would stimulate the industrial life of the community, but with twenty-four hours electric service, hitherto unthought of uses would be made of this electric energy. In the home it would clean the carpets, wash the clothes, dry the chest cold in the summer, cook the family meals, iron the clothes, run the separator and do nearly all the present household drudgeries that at present take up the greater part of the time. Giving more time to the women for needed repairs and improvements and instead of being worn out at the end of the day's work, husband and wife would be able to devote more time to their children and social intercourse with their neighbors, and the young folks instead of leaving the farm for the city, would settle down and be an active asset instead of a loss to the community. This alone demands the development of this power at the earliest possible moment.

One may say, "How well to have this waste energy developed but what about the cost?" This development, with the sale of its power guaranteed as it is at present, would pay the government for its development out of the proceeds, both for the advantage of the province as a whole and our communities in particular.

As an example of what this development would mean to the community, let us consider the following: "Clarke Brothers Paper Mills" has been organized to utilize the power from the Clarke Brothers Pulp Mill, and was to have been built at Victoria Bridge. However, the New Brunswick Government have been and are vigorously pushing their hydro developments, so were able to offer and guarantee cheap power. For this reason, the paper mills were located at St. John and these communities deprived of their benefit. The building of this plant here would have meant thousands of dollars each month coming to the place for labor and material and the establishment of a stable industry furnishing a sure revenue and source of employment and thereby being a very valuable asset to these communities.

The New Pulp Mill Is The Only One In Canada On Tidal Waters

While paper has been made in Canada for more than one hundred years, it may not be known that the second paper mill in Canada was built in Nova Scotia at Bedford Basin in 1818, by R. A. Holley, who was with the publisher of the Halifax Record. A comparison between conditions existing then and those prevailing today, reads like a fairy tale. So late as 1881, the census showed Canada at that time to have only five pulp mills with an invested capital of $92,000.00, employing sixty-eight people and having an annual output valued at $63,000. Ten years later, or in 1891, twenty-four mills were operating, with a capital investment of $2,900,907.00, employing 1025 persons, and with an annual output valued at $1,057,810.00.

From this period the increase in investment and in the number employed rose by leaps and bounds until in 1918 there were ninety-four pulp mills in operation with an invested capital of $241,344,704.00, and at this writing there are $260,000,000.00 invested in pulp and paper mills with an annual output of over one hundred and sixty millions.

While the greatest increase in the number of mills and the capital invested has taken place in Quebec, and the smallest in Nova Scotia, there are many factors which indicate that Nova Scotia is to figure somewhat more largely in Canada's premier industry from this time and hereafter. There is not today in operation in Nova Scotia, a paper mill of any description, only ground wood mills, the very simplest pulp making process, and it is a matter of some moment that this condition is to be remedied in the near future. Among the conditions which warrant the erection of pulp and paper mills in Nova Scotia, it may be observed in passing that lumbering such as has been carried on in this province, from its earliest history has not resulted, except in isolated instances, in yielding a satisfactory return to the original investors nor has its operation been conducive to the building up of allied industries inasmuch as nearly all wood products have been shipped in the rough and have gone to supply the raw materials for other industries. It may be regarded as axiomatic that no country ever became wealthy by conditions as they now exist, with the great part of its virgin forests already gone, with the increasing demand for paper, and paper products, existing conditions indicate that our forest problems simply resolve themselves into a matter of pulpwood farming, that is, to grow and care for our forests, as we grow and care for our orchards, expecting them to yield as do our orchards, an annual and remunerative crop. That this is entirely feasible is proved by the results that have been achieved in many of the European countries where scientific forestry has been practised for the past seventy-five years, and where the revenue from these forests is annually increasing. To this end we should demand from our Governments, Municipal and Provincial, that the existing law against forest fires be rigorously enforced, and where faulty amended, until the party originating a forest fire shall be deemed a criminal and punished accordingly, that a patrol of all forest areas, in which the Government is interested (and as they now tax all timber land they are consequently interested in all holdings), from May 1st to November 1st, be inaugurated, that reforestation of all forest areas be undertaken, as an experiment to demonstrate its value, and that the forest problems of Nova Scotia be given a prominent place in the Governmental program. With these matters attended to we shall have made a beginning. The prohibitive price of coal and fuel oil, with little if any relief in sight, emphasizes the necessity for using such other sources of power as have been running idly by our door for years.

The province of Nova Scotia is particularly well adapted to this general idea and scheme. Being a long, narrow, insular province, with rivers flowing in all directions to the sea, a proposal of Mr. K. H. Smith, of the Nova Scotia Power Commission, presents a wonderfully practical picture. These various powers may be developed one by one and gradually pump into a main trunk line, surrounding the province, which trunk line, due to the location of the province, the way it has been settled, and the way its transportation facilities, both water and rail, are installed, would go through all the settled sections of the province and touch every present or possible centre. The variety of conditions and numerous rivers would provide a diversity, and give a remarkably constant power supply available under extreme seasonal and climatic variations. This province, with its towns, railroads, cheap water powers and ports, all situated on a long coastline, would present an industrial picture unequalled in the world, and within twenty-five years Nova Scotia would become the Maritime Industrial Province of Canada.

Having faith in the future of Nova Scotia and belief that the pulp and paper industry in this province is at the beginning of a tremendous development, the building of a Sulphate Pulp Mill at the Victoria Bridge, on the shore of Annapolis Basin, was a logical outcome. The advantages due to its strategic location and the ability to secure its supplies and ship its products either by rail or water makes its location unique among the mills of Canada, it being the only mill in Canada on tide water, with an open port twelve months in the year, and thus being able to place its product quickly and cheaply in either European or American markets.

Viewed from a community standpoint, the location of such an industry should be of material advantage to the surrounding country communities, in affording a market for labor, farm products, etc., and the predominance of a large yearly wage disbursement, which with the number of operators necessary to carry on the various enterprises which the firm of Clarke Brothers Limited now have in view, will tend to whittle a settlement area or near the new mills which will shortly, or exceed, in numbers, many of the nearby villages of much older origin.

With all the natural endowment such as Nova Scotia possesses in location, soil, climate and resources, she has yet a rich heritage in her women and men. The tide of immigration that has come to Canada during the past forty years, carried the new settlers past our doors to fill up the vacant spaces in our Canadian West and the vast less attractive of race than any province in Canada. The sturdy type of our forebears still remains and with the vista of opportunity now opening to our people I have confidence that "the spirit which sent forty thousand men of Nova Scotia forth into the firing line when that civilization they hold dear was challenged, will with equal alacrity rise to the present commercial opportunities, with success to be had for the taking, and prove to the world their ability in matters of commerce, to equal the splendid effort put forth by them in defense of our Christian civilization and the British flag.

Let us, therefore, as loyal Canadians, during the year 1920, forget our petty bickerings, if any have existed in the past, and bend our energies unitedly to putting our native province in the forefront of the battle which the New Year will impose for commercial supremacy, ever bearing in mind that the moral and intellectual ideal of a people determine their real value. Let us therefore, go forward to meet the problems of the New Year with a song upon our lips and a joy in our hearts, believing "The best is yet to be."

—W. G. CLARKE.

THE GREAT WORK DONE BY ROYAL DIVISION, S. OF T.

Active and Capable Young People Are Carrying On Good Work of Temperance Reform.

I wish in this article to bring to your notice one of the most interesting of my mind important subjects. One can be brought within the columns of this paper.

For that reason, I deem the subject too great for me to cope with. Some of your correspondents may tell of the beauty and attractions of our town. Others may tell of its business enterprises, etc.

Will you come with me for a short time to the Temperance Hall. It presents a pleasing appearance with its newly shingled roof and bright walls of paint. We enter the Division Hall very bright and attractive with its new decorations. Who did all this you ask? The young people of Royal Division.

Let us sit here awhile. I will call your attention to the Royal Division No. 37, the Sons of Temperance of Nova Scotia in this town.

It was organized October 20th, 1848. The first meetings were held in a room in the home of Captain Joel MacDormand. You know the old homestead that stands on the hillside overlooking the river.

The Grand Worthy Patriarch was F. W. Redding, Grand Scribe John Cooper. The charter members were as follows: Joshua B. W. Hurd, Andrew H. Harris, John Sanford, Jas. E. Woodworth, John C. Marton, James K. Beckwith, Wm. H. Fleet, Silas Rice, Abram Banks, Israel Rice, John Moore, Wm. Purdy, Edward Copeland, Wm. Nix, Henry Randall, Wm. O'Montross, Richard Durn, Abram Lent, John V. Purdy.

The land this Hall now stands on was a gift from the late George Harris. This building was erected and given the name of "Temperance Hall."

During all these years the Royal Division has been reorganized many times but the standard is held as high today as it was seventy-two years ago.

You ask "why?" Because the cause of temperance is dear to the hearts of our young people today as it was to the hearts of the old as well as the young so many years ago.

Today we have enrolled eighty-four members. When they come in and take their places you will agree with me that you would have to go a long way to find a brighter or more interesting crowd of young people.

I think some of the parents would be surprised to know how they can get all the officers, when there are matters under discussion what good speeches some of them can make.

I would like to ask the parents of these bright young people as they sit in their homes on Monday evening, "I expect you would ask that question. Well, no, am sorry to say they are not, and Royal Division needs them. We also need the clergy, the business men, and the school teachers."

A few older members stand alone as it were with arms outstretched, trying to steady the young life gathered within these walls.

Do you not tell them the need? Oh yes, but they say it is only the Division; it will soon die out, it always does. But listen. It is not the fault of the young people, it needs the help of our older citizens. They have their lodges. New clubs, etc., are being organized, but none of them reach the young people; not one of the other organizations have the pledge. If the young people can be reached through Royal Division and fitted to take the places of the older men of this town, should not the older people give a helping hand?

Hark! A person said to me the other day, what do you want of the Division now we have got Prohibition? I felt sorry for the person who asked that question. Our young people need the same protection they needed twenty years ago. We do not have glaring sins, but the home brew is a greater menace to our young people than ever the saloon was.

When the question is asked at each meeting of the Division—each member violated the pledge, and these young people stand and place the right hand over the heart say, Worthy Patriarch, I have not. Tell me does that not count for something?

Yes, but how do you know they tell the truth? We trust to their honor the same as the parent trusts to their honor in the home.

On October 20th, 1919, just seventy-one years from the time the Royal Division was first organized, the Rev. Mr. Snow reorganized the Division with a membership of twenty-seven.

You can see how it has grown and how well the young people have worked to accomplish all they have in the way of repairs, with a little help from renting a hall, when it is needed for other meetings.

There is much yet to be done in the way of repairs. They are going to put the waiting room and halls in good shape. Then they will have a hall to be proud of.

Since you find my subject is the welfare of our young people and the cause of temperance, I know that you will agree with me that it is a matter of vital importance. "The youth of today are the men and women of tomorrow." Before you will join me in giving three cheers for the young people of Royal Division.

Thanking you for your kind attention, I remain, yours "In Love, Purity and Fidelity."

—M. F. DITMARS

REAL ESTATE VERY ATTRACTIVE

A Large Number of New Farmers Settled There.

Bear River is sometimes called the "Switzerland of Nova Scotia," and as for scenery, etc., it well deserves the name; but I do not think that the name is called by its present name, Bear River, as it is far from being appropriate, and the name should have been changed long ere this. Now Bear River is the only place in the province where cherries can be raised successfully. The climate is mild and spring comes earlier than in any other place. Pears, plums, quinces and peaches are also grown here, and inspectors tell us that the apples exported from here are superior in size and quality to those grown in other parts of the Annapolis Valley. For a number of years "Hillcrest Farm" took first prize for the best variety of apples at the Provincial Exhibitions, Halifax.

One advantage here is in regard to shipping—All produce can be shipped by S. S. Bear River and landed aboard the ocean liners at St. John, thus saving a long haul by train and the transfers at Digby and St. John which cause so much expense and delay and injury to fruit.

People owning farms in this vicinity containing woodland can sell their wood to the Pulp Mill Co., where all kinds of soft wood can be sold at a good price. Most of the houses in Bear River come from water closets, or Yorks, built from springs on their own lands, thus doing away with the extra water-tax. The houses also are lighted by electricity and the owners of the houses take a pride in keeping their houses looking up to date. A chance to buy a large number of up-to-date, sure, good bank, two good tools, post office and daily mail. Real estate has been very active here during the past year. A large number of properties have changed hands and an estimable class of people from British Columbia, New York, England, Scotland, Boston, Lowell, Lynn, Sabie River, Campbellton, and Spencer's Island, have come into our midst. A large number of local properties have also changed hands. And we have

Mrs. Frank Jones who has been spending week in town returned to Windsor on Wednesday.

Umpel Rupp leaves for Halifax on Wednesday, where he resumes his studies at Dalhousie University.

Miss Louise Jones and Miriam Wade leave on Wednesday for Sackville where they will attend the ladies society.

Miss Jane Schuman will return to Halifax on Thursday where she will continue her studies at Dalhousie University.

We are pleased to welcome Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Frazier to the Maritime Provinces. They will be near future residents in St. John.

Mrs. (Dr.) L. J. Lovett and daughter Edna leave for Sackville on Wednesday, where Miss Edith will be a student at the ladies seminary.

Yorhen Dumas, who has been spending his holidays at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Dumas, returned to Dalhousie University on Thursday.

Miss Katherine Purdy who is attending the Business College in St. John spent the Christmas holidays in town the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Purdy.

Mr. and Mrs. Lenfest Ruggles, of Annapolis Royal, are spending the Christmas holidays in town, the guests of Mr. and Mrs. L. V. Harris, returned to their home on Thursday.

Miss Edna Peck who has been spending the Christmas season with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Peck, returned to Wolfville on Tuesday where she will resume her studies at Acadia University.

We are very pleased to report one of our members who has been so seriously ill is slowly convalescing and we are all hoping for a speedy recovery. We refer to Mrs. Harry Anthony.

Mrs. Chippman Harris was hostess on Thursday afternoon, December thirtieth, at a miscellaneous shower given in honor of Miss Nellie Harris. After the guests which numbered about thirty, had assembled and while Miss Edna Peck rendered sweet music on the piano the partners between the two partners parted and Miss Nellie Harris escorted Miss Nellie Harris to an alcove in the back parlor which was prettily decorated in white and green. A beautiful white bell was suspended over the gift table which was also beautifully decorated in white and green and heavily laden with unopened parcels of every description and size, which Miss Harris was asked to accept and open, this she did, and found she was the recipient of many beautiful and useful gifts, including silver, cut glass, china, linen, coin and many other useful articles. After all had been opened and admired, Miss Harris in a few well-chosen words thanked the friends for their kind remembrance. After a social hour had been spent the hostess served a very delicious and delicious lunch. She was assisted in serving by the Misses Mildred Harris, Beth Adams and Gladys Warren.

Wedding Bells

CHISHOLM-HARRIS

Friday morning, December 31st, a very pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Harris, when their daughter Miss Nellie was united in marriage to Harvey Chisholm, both of Bear River. The Rev. R. S. Gregg, assisted by Rev. W. J. Wright performed the marriage ceremony. The bride wore a dress of Taupe Satin. She was the recipient of a number of useful gifts among which was a large sum of money. After a very sumptuous wedding breakfast the happy couple were conveyed by auto to Bear River Station en route to Yarmouth to spend their honeymoon. We extend to them hearty congratulations and wish them much happiness for the future. The wedding march was beautifully rendered by Miss Miriam Wade.

THE BEAR RIVER TRADING CO., Ltd.

The Bear River Fruit Company, Ltd.

This organization was incorporated in February 1920, and stands for the best interests of the Farmers and Fruit Growers of Bear River and vicinity, as well as the public generally. Its aim is to conduct a general fruit packing and marketing business; also potatoes and other products, will be handled if opportunity offers.

We are dealers in flour, corn meal, rolled oats, first quality western feeding oats, and mill feeds of all kinds. And the good thing about our business is the prices are right, as are also the goods in stock. Our Western Queen Flour is conceded to be by those in position to know, to be the best flour milled in Canada.

We also carry a full line of grass seeds, fungicides, insecticides, and fertilizers, and buying the three last mentioned as we do, through the main office of the Nova Scotia Fruit Companies Ltd., whose purchases in these lines alone run in the hundreds of thousands of dollars per year, we can defy competition. And we wish our friends, and all, the compliments of the season.

The Bear River Schools

In looking back over the history of Bear River schools a great many changes have taken place. Previous to 1893 there were two school sections in Bear River, viz.: Bridgeport on the Annapolis side and Hillsburg on the Digby County side of the river. I have been unable to get hold of the records of these schools in detail. Each schoolhouse stood on a hill, nearly opposite and facing each other in open defiance. It often happened that when the pupils got piqued at the teacher on one side they would flock to the other side and vice versa. So it happened that the school which obtained the more popular teacher would have by far the larger attendance.

One of these buildings is still in existence, but tumbling to the ground, while the other is gone. The "Old boys" who attended these schools tell me many interesting stories about the pranks they used to play with the "Masters." Now a kindly retrospect transports these "Masters" into profound scholars and noble benefactors through whose teaching, had it been followed, would have inspired them to higher things, but in the days when he taught them, had no other idea than that of playing some trick such as putting a bent pin upon his chair.

Just previous to the amalgamation of the sections Mr. Emmerson Reade was principal of Bridgeport school and Mr. W. J. Shields principal of Hillsburg.

These two gentlemen and some other far-sighted citizens of Bear River saw that the two schools divided the children into two distinct social groups, which was not in the best interests of the village, and made a move to amalgamate the two sections. They saw that separating the children during the impressionable age would have a tendency to make them so afterwards as citizens, consequently a community spirit could not be brought about under these conditions. The result was that in 1893 a new building was erected.

Mr. Reade was at this time secretary of the School Board, and the following trustees were in office: Mr. W. W. Clarke, Capt. John Benson and James Purdy.

It is a commodious building with eight class rooms and a large assembly hall which has served the purpose of a community hall for the village.

The school has had a record second to none in the province.

Mr. W. J. Shields was principal of "Oakdene" from 1894 to 1900. He was then succeeded by Mr. Lenfest Ruggles, now principal of Annapolis Academy, who raised the school to a high standard of efficiency. He was principal for eleven years and was then succeeded by Mr. W. K. Tibert, who also proved to be an excellent teacher. He resigned to run for the local House in 1917. He was succeeded by Mr. E. S. Boran, who only remained one year, and was followed by Mr. Morehouse, who was principal for two years. Mr. Morehouse resigned to attend King's College, Windsor.

Two years ago it was deemed advisable to close the sixth department, on account of the falling off of the attendance, but it will be necessary to open it again in the very near future as the attendance is increasing quite rapidly. The school is fairly well equipped with maps, physical and physical apparatus, and a small library. Mr. W. W. Clark presented the school with the Encyclopaedia Britannica, which is a very valuable addition to our library.

The sanitary condition of the building is highly satisfactory. A sanitary drinking fountain was installed recently and hardwood floors laid in the lower corridor. It is the purpose of the trustees to continue laying hardwood floors throughout the building as finances will permit.

The trustees: Mr. L. V. Harris, Mr. Emmerson Reade and Mr. Thebert Rice are taking a lively interest in school affairs and are endeavoring in every possible way to make the schools efficient.

The Women's Institute, organized about a year ago, is also taking a lively and practical interest in school affairs.

—To Bring MUSIC Into Every Canadian Home!

The great secret of Thomas A. Edison's genius is his wish to serve mankind. This is the noble ambition which has kept his wonderful creative brain tirelessly at work through a long lifetime of marvelous achievement. Edison invented the phonograph, and spent years perfecting it, for a definite purpose—to bring music into the homes of daily lives of his fellow-men.

That is why Edison dealers are pledged to carry out the spirit of Edison's expressed wish in offering you

EDISON'S NEW DIAMOND AMBEROLA

We want to make it as easy as possible for you to own an Amberola phonograph. No matter how little you feel you can afford to pay, we will arrange most convenient terms of payment, that will surprise you.

We will let nothing stand in the way of your having music in your home—real music, such as only Edison's own phonographs can give you.

Edison's Amberola is not to be confused with ordinary phonographs and "talking machines." It is the world's greatest phonograph value—the "master product of a master mind." After listening to the shrill, metallic sound of ordinary phonographs, the pure tone of the Amberola is a revelation! So is the genuine Diamond Point Reproducing (no needles to change). So are the Amberola Records, which outlast ordinary, fragile records for years and years!

We want you to come to our store and listen to Edison's Amberola at your earliest convenience—today, tomorrow, soon. You will be welcome any time—to come without fail.

The Side Lines of a Grain Growing Province

STUD HORSES AT NORTH BATTLEFORD, SASKATCHEWAN

The "Land of the Golden Grain" is a name well suited to the Province of Saskatchewan, the middle of the three prairie provinces of Canada, for grain growing has been the chief occupation of its inhabitants since the earliest days of its settlement. So good has been the quality and so heavy the yields of the wheat and other grains grown in Saskatchewan, that whenever the province was spoken about it was in association with grain, and many people thought and a large proportion of them, no doubt, still think that grain growing was and is the only branch of farming carried on in this rich province. Probably, a very large number of people who now know something about Saskatchewan would never have heard of this province but for the success of Seager Wheeler, the "Wheat Wizard," first in winning, at the Madison Square Gardens, New York, in 1911, the thousand dollars in gold for the best hundred pounds of wheat grown on the American continent, and subsequent winnings of Mr. Wheeler and other Saskatchewan farmers at Tulsa, Oklahoma, Wichita, Kansas, El Paso, Texas, Peoria, Illinois, Kansas City, Mo., Chicago, and other places.

But experience of the last few years has shown that Saskatchewan farmers can and do raise other things than grain. Sheep, horses and cattle are all steadily increasing in numbers on the Saskatchewan farms, and evidence that these, too, are, like the grain, of a superior quality is forthcoming in the success of the animals from this province exhibited at the International Stock Show at Chicago this year.

A few years ago there were scarcely any sheep in Saskatchewan, but many of the early settlers soon recognized that the province as regards climate, feed and water was well suited to sheep, and they began to keep a few on their farms, the numbers have steadily increased year by year until now between 100,000 and 200,000 sheep are owned by farmers in Saskatchewan, and this year approximately 750,000 pounds of wool were produced.

But the raising of sheep has not advanced so much as the raising of horses. The provincial livestock commissioner claims that Saskatchewan is now the leading horse breeding province in the Dominion of Canada. The heavy draft horse with Percheron, Clydesdale or Belgian blood in him, is the kind of animal to which breeders here are devoting their attention, and farmers need not go out of the province to sell at satisfactory prices all such horses they can raise. The tractor has not displaced horses on the Saskatchewan farms nor is it likely to do so now. Most farmers have tried both, or have seen both tried, and have decided in favor of the horse. In 1919 there were more than a million horses in Saskatchewan, and the number has steadily increased since. Many of these horses are, perhaps, on the light side, but the light horses are being rapidly displaced by the heavier animals. The young draft horse weighing about 1,000 pounds or more is what most of the farmers in Saskatchewan are raising, and the demand for horses of this type is far ahead of the supply. The quality of the horses that are being bred in Saskatchewan is exemplified by the successes at the International Show this year. The champion Clydesdale was a Saskatchewan horse, "Wes-Donald," bred on the farm of L. Weaver, near Lloydminster, and the first prize stallion Belgian foal "Charles-Dorcas" is owned by Coe Brothers and was bred on their farm near Regina. Last year the champion Belgian was a horse owned by Paul Rupp, who on his farm at Lampman, in the south of the province, has probably the finest herd of Belgian horses on the continent.

Like the horse and sheep industries, the cattle industry of Saskatchewan has made substantial progress during the last few years. The provincial livestock commissioner estimates that there are now 100,000 more cattle in the province than there were a year ago. This marks the ratio of increase that has been going on from year to year, and the end is not yet, for there is still room for more cattle in the province than there are at present. In 1919 the total was 1,279,553 head, of which 374,062 were milk cows. The provincial government is devoting much attention to the livestock industry, and buys cattle at the leading markets selling them at local to farmers on easy payments. The time is within the memory of many of the settlers of the province when the only milk they ever got was the condensed variety, and when their butter had also to be imported. Not many years ago a beginning was made with dairying. The province soon produced more butter than was required to supply its own needs and had some to spare. During the last few years there has been a surplus for export to Great Britain, the United States, the Pacific Coast, points of Canada, and other parts of Canada. Last year one hundred and four carloads, or 5,224,200 pounds of the highest quality of creamery butter left the province, while this year the total export is said to exceed 7,000,000 pounds.

The side lines of this grain growing province have, therefore, already assumed a position of considerable importance, and are becoming increasingly important every year.

William would guarantee sell them for twenty after he had worn them this one season. But Beljue himself had said that he would not even think of letting them go at fourteen to anybody else, and as for the two poor baskets of corn and baskets of apples offered in exchange, and a bent sprig, and a worn-out old silver watch that had belonged to Great Uncle Benjue, the money advanced upon them, he would not even think of taking. It was beyond all ordinary liberality. It was almost charity.

"There was only one place in town where articles of clothing were required, and the suspicious persons in charge had insisted that William obtain from his father a guarantee to insure the return of the garments in perfect condition. So that was hopeless. And wasn't it better also to wear clothes which had known only one previous owner?" was the only way in which Beljue offering, than to hire what chance hundreds had had tried? Finally, there was only one thing to consider, and this was the fact that William had to have those clothes.

"Six minutes," said Mrs. Baxter, glancing at her watch. "Watch. When it's ten and fifteen minutes."

Queerest of the Metals.

Mercury is called "quicksilver" because it seems as if alive, so lively is the way in which it runs about. It is a fluid—that is to say, molten—at temperatures which render other metals solid.

The ore from which it is derived is a mixture of sulphur and mercury, called "cinabar," and when very pure is in color a brilliant vermilion. It is from this source, indeed, that vermilion used to be obtained. Nowadays, however, it is usually made by heating mercury together with sulphur, potash and water.

To get the mercury from the ore it is necessary merely to separate it from the sulphur with which it is chemically combined, and this is accomplished by roasting. The ore goes from the crusher into a furnace, where high heat volatilizes the quicksilver, the latter being thereupon precipitated pure in a water-jacketed "condenser." Out of the condenser it runs in a silvery stream, and is put up in wrought-iron flasks for market.

Some tribes of California Indians have used cinabar for red paint since prehistoric times, fusing their faces and bodies with it, and it was observation of this circumstance that led to the discovery of the famous quicksilver mines of that state. Occasionally a miner's pick penetrates a pocket that contains a cupful or so of pure mercury.

When reduced by low temperature to a solid, quicksilver becomes very malleable, and can be beaten into sheets as thin as tissue paper.

The metal has a strong affinity for gold, and is much used in connection with gold mining. During the war its price multiplied ten fold, owing to the need of fulminate of mercury for cartridge caps, shell fuses and detonators for all sorts of projectiles.

A Flying Lochinvar.

The first couple in Canada to elope in an airplane were Charles Henderson and Miss Florence MacKenzie, of Bodeland, Sask. Henderson, who founded the town of Dodsland and a prominent farmer in the district and proprietor of the weekly paper here, and Miss MacKenzie, Dodsland, school teacher, whose romance had been watched with interest by all the villagers, pulled off the elopement on June 21 during a sports carnival, while hundreds of people were assembled in town.

They slipped into the residence of the minister, were married in record time, and raced a mile in an automobile, pursued by scores of other automobiles, to a waiting plane on the prairie. Pursued as tight as in an automobile, the plane carried the couple to Winnipeg, after heading west first to give pursuers the impression that they were going to Calgary.

Our Education.

Canada had, 1901, 17,611 elementary schools, 1917, 25,007; 1901, 22,436 teachers; 1917, 42,563; 1901, pupils enrolled, 914,358; 1917, 1,355,722.

Canada has 22 universities, with, in 1917, teaching staff of 2,421, and 16,013 students (since largely increased). Value of endowments, $21,905,475; of land and buildings, $28,793,711. Income, $3,389,885 expenditure, $1,395,967.

Canada had, 1917, 48 colleges; teaching staff, 930; students, 8,112. Canada has 1,850 newspapers and magazines.

While Bear River during 1920 has been well to the front in all lines of work common to this section, perhaps the first position would be given to the building trade. Both new work and repairs have gone on together, some of the new not yet completed.

The Bear River Trading Co. have made very large additions to their store and warehouses, the most important of which is a 55 x 25 foot extension to this large addition to their dry goods department made in 1919, gives this firm a very up-to-date establishment, which the buying public appears to appreciate.

Mr. A. G. MacIntyre, of Clarke Bros., Ltd., has under construction a large bungalow, 44 x 45 feet with a ten-foot concrete basement which when finished will leave little to be desired in the way of a modern dwelling. Erected on one of the most beautiful sites in the residential part of the town, and fitted with all the latest appliances in the way of light and heat. Mr. MacIntyre's home when completed cannot but be an inducement to others to "go and do likewise." A large two-story building in connection and just finished, affords, excellent room for garage, repair shop and warehouse.

Mr. W. D. Chute, proprietor of the Grand Central Station, has built a large three-story annex. The first floor is a very fine sample room for commercial travellers. The second and third floors are used as bedrooms. Mr. Chute's growing business made this enlargement necessary, and he is now in a better position than ever to cater to needs of the travelling public.

Mr. R. C. Benson's new mill and factory combined was quite fully referred to in these columns only a few weeks ago. This, with the extensive repairs to the S. S. Springhill made by Mr. Benson this summer, kept a large force of carpenters busy until recently. The mill is now in running order and ready for business.

Clarke Bros., Ltd., enlarged the deck-house and made heavy repairs on the S.S. Harbinger of St. Stephen, N. B. The job was under the efficient oversight of Mr. J. Wilkie Rice, which is a guarantee of the good quality of work.

Mr. W. E. Read has enlarged and repaired his house and now has a pretty and commodious home. Capt. Elmer Morgan has made additions and repairs not yet completed.

Mr. W. G. Clarke has just finished two large buildings, one 20 x 35 feet, two story, another 25 x 55 feet. These are to be used as garage, repair shop, fruit packing house and general store-rooms, well finished outside and electrically lighted.

Many minor repairing jobs have been done, including much outside painting, which gives our town a clean and thrifty appearance. This in turn appears to have had a good effect on buyers of comfortable homes, as many such have been recently located here by our widespread real estate man, Mr. O. A. Isnor. Our town naturally pleases those who enjoy good environment and beautiful scenery, and to all such we extend a hearty welcome and best wishes for a prosperous and happy New Year.

A KRAKI FARMER.

How He Overcame Obstacles and Made a Home.

What a determined, enthusiastic and adaptable man can do on the land is told by the New Westminster British Columbian.

B. Bruckshaw on his return after four years in the army decided to settle on the land and chose forty acres near Meridian, getting possession last September. The place was breast high with undergrowth, and, generally speaking, was a pretty tough proposition. However, he took his wife and five children (the youngest two months old to his location and pitched a tent there. He was told by neighbors that he was making a mistake as the land needed draining and would take 400 much capital to clear it.

He built a barn and moved the family in. At that time his two cows were left in the open. He started to clear his land with a mower, after turning down the lowest tender of $18 per acre for the job. With hard work he succeeded last fall in clearing fifteen acres and his stand of oats compares favorably with anything in the valley.

Next he built a five-roomed house, 28 x 42, and this spring he continued to clear land and to put in crops of oats, peas and vetches. Mr. Bruckshaw also has several acres in potatoes, turnips, mangels and carrots, a good garden, a chicken house with nearly 400 chickens and will have five acres sowed to barley. Neighbors turned to and helped him erect a home, so that the labor did not cost him a cent.

The barn has accommodated for twelve cows and at present houses six grade Jerseys and three heifer calves of his own raising. He and a neighbor also returned a steer, piped water, 1,700 feet to their homes.

He has more land under cultivation now than some of his neighbors who have had the land more than twenty years and who did not spend four years fighting the foe.

This is briefly the story of one who is bound to succeed, although handicapped by difficulties that would appal a stronger man.

Katie Grindler.

A new invention utilizes the bicycle for the business purposes of a knife and scissors grinder.

For this employment the "bike" is made for the time being stationary, when the itinerant operator pauses to undertake a job, being utilized on a couple of light wooden supports.

The knife grinder occupies the seat, and carries a little bell, which connects with and drives the revolving grindstone disk fastened in front of the seat.

When the job is finished the operator disconnects the grindstone, lifts the bicycle of the supports and rides away.

Repertoire.

Ex-Fit Bill McGlock, armed with a perfectly good discharge paper and a military bonnet, but still with a distrust of all mankind dead. In his heart, approached the clothing salesman, "Ah, yes," said the smiling clerk, rubbing his hands, "you want a suit. And do you want a cuff on the trousers?" "Yes," roared the belligerent McGlock, "don't get gay with me. Do you want a crack on the jaw?"

EDUCATIONAL MOVIES

EXPERIMENT MADE IN SCHOOLS OF TORONTO.

Each Inspectorate Has a Moving Picture Machine and the Boys Have Been Taught to Run Them—The Screen Has Proved an Aid to the Study of Geography.

SOME months ago the Board of Education supplied to each inspectorate in the city of Toronto a motion-picture machine and a high-power projection lantern for the use of the schools. Equipped with double, close-fitting blinds and a drop screen, every kindergarten assumed the properties of a fairly complete theatre.

This outright recognition of the importance of motion pictures in child education was a logical and excellent action. Every teacher has had experience of the potency of the movies. In every class, barring the lowest, there are always pupils whose mentality is low-grade and work almost negligible, but who, in oral composition, amaze one with the wealth of detail, fidelity and vivid realism with which they can describe a movie thriller seen the night before. That faculty is now about to be capitalized.

Enclosed in a neat case very much like a suitcase, the machines are portable and can be set up in very few minutes. When the equipment was bought, it was suggested to the board that the director of motion pictures should be appointed, to this, however, after some discussion was vetoed. And the majority of teachers warmly approved the decision. In their candid opinion there are already enough supervisors—too many, in fact.

So simple are the machines in construction and mechanism that a mere boy could run one after twenty minutes' instruction. Indeed, in one school at least, the principal has entrusted the entire operation of a machine to a "senior boy." This machine has become so expert that other schools have borrowed him on occasion.

Education films are obtained from a company specializing in them and from the Ontario Provincial Motion Picture Bureau. It may surprise many to learn that the Provincial Government has filmed many industries and scenes of great scenic spots, and various other subjects—all to inform people regarding their own province. These films are available, free of charge, to any school that cares to send for them.

Some idea of the interesting scope of these pictures may be gained from a few of the titles: "Grain and Milling," "Iron and Steel," "Wool from Sheep to the Spinning Wheel," "The River of the Gullies," "The Glass of Biora," "Silver Mining in Ontario," "Building Canada's Mercantile Empire," "The Great Lakes," "Earth to the Table," "Where Rail and Water Meet," "A Unique Engineering Feat," "The Falls at Kakabeka," "The World's Largest Grain Elevator," "A Night on a Lighthouse," "Tilling the Waters," "A Springtime Harvest," "Ontario's Playgrounds," "Harvesting of the Sea," "A Glimpse of Muskoka," "The Provincial Alpacas," "The Ontario Fair," "The Story of Paper," "Flax for Fibre and Seed," "What's Under the Floor," "The Making of Bread," "The Gasoline Engine," "The Fall Fair," "Refrigerating," "Beauty Spots in Northern Ontario," "Fire Protection in Northern Ontario," "The Great Clay Belt," "Inspects of the Home Garden," "Butter-making in Ontario," "How Canadian Cheese is Made," "Marking the Peach Crop—Niagara District."

At present, the only thing that prevents unlimited use of these pictures in teaching is the lack of suitable films. Thus far geography subjects are the most numerous, followed upon by producers. How vitalized and vivid history will become when the life of the Elizabethan era or the taking of Quebec can be faithfully reproduced on the school screen! Even such uninteresting subjects as arithmetic, spelling, world history, would lend themselves admirably to motion-picture presentation. As for art, think of the possibilities! The most interesting of all, to every child if the projection lantern were employed to picture the famous paintings, the most lovely bits of architecture, and the world's choicest sculpture.

Motion pictures will make the city children the great lovers of nature, as the rural children. The chief reason for their thoughtlessness in regard to nature is their ignorance. Recently an illustrated lecture on birds was given in one of the Toronto schools by a university professor and the children exclaimed in surprise when he told them there were more than thirty different kinds of sparrows and showed them the difference on the screen. And an hour later, these same children left the kindergarten with a much greater respect for bird life. Understanding had done that for them, and the screen had made that understanding possible.

MAXWELL

Has Won Its Following Through Its Quality

THE metals used in the Maxwell chassis compare favorably pound for pound with those in the best cars that the world has produced, according to metallurgists.

There is a real reason for this quality in a Maxwell.

The fundamental purpose of the Maxwell is to carry the same passenger load over the same roads and at the same speeds as larger and more expensive cars.

But it must perform this mission in an extremely economical way.

Therefore the Maxwell has to be light. But to make it strong as well as light only the very best of materials can be employed.

Hence, the quality metals.

And it is through the quality of its metals that Maxwell has developed its following.

This is a following that began five years ago with a foundation of 5,000 and now reaches a mark of 100,000 new Maxwell enthusiasts in 1920.

300,000 Maxwells now on the highways of two continents are a daily endorsement of the merit of this great car.

B. HAVEY & CO.

REPORT OF THE DIGBY SCHOOLS

With the beginning of the New Year a brief report of the Digby Schools for the year 1920 will probably not be without interest to citizens of Digby.

THE STAFF

The members of the staff are all teachers of experience and graduates of the Provincial Normal College. The staff with departmental taught and licenses held are as follows:

M. K. Harding, B. A., Principal High School Academic.

Miss Emma Macdonald, B. A., Vice-Principal and High School Assistant A.

Miss Alice McCulloch, Grade VI and VII, B.

Miss Adelaide Coggin, 2nd Intermediate.

Miss Beulah Turnbull, 1st Intermediate.

Miss Irene Balcom, 2nd Primary.

Miss Emma Robinson, 1st Primary, B.

Three changes took place on the staff during the year. Miss Elva Titus, Miss Gladys Crowell and Miss C. B. Knowlton resigned in June. All three were very efficient teachers, who had done excellent work, and their resignations were accepted, with regret. The Board was fortunate in securing the services of Miss Emma Nelson, Miss Alice McCulloch and Miss Irene Balcom to fill the vacancies created.

EXAMINATIONS

The results of the High School Provincial Examinations held in June were very satisfactory. Of the 25 students writing the examinations 22 were successful in obtaining the certificates for which they applied. Some very high marks were obtained. Donald Burnham led with an aggregate of 603, while Theta Morehouse was a close second with 597.

In the County Entrance examinations 12 candidates were successful. The number of pupils in the Elementary School successful in passing the quarterly and final examinations shows an increase over the previous year, which speaks well for both teachers and pupils.

Examinations are held quarterly and reports covering attendance, conduct, and standing are sent to parents at the end of each quarter.

CADET CORPS

Last year the Cadet Corps was re-organized and at the annual inspection in June had made sufficient progress to be awarded one of the Strathcona prizes. This year the cadets have entered into the work with keen interest and have made good progress. There will be a Cadet Camp at Aldershot this coming summer from July 11 to July 18. It is estimated that between 2000 and 3000 cadets will be in camp. The Cadet movement in Canada is receiving increased attention both from educational and military authorities, not only because of its physical and disciplinary value to the boy, but for its future national possibilities.

SUPERVISED PLAY

Supervised play, which is now receiving so much attention in the most progressive elementary schools is almost entirely denied school children in Digby through lack of play grounds. Some effort has been made along lines of play, but as the required play grounds are lacking, very little can be accomplished. Aside from the zest it lends to school life and the physical vigor imparted to the body, the educative value of supervised play to the child is very great. Supervised play pre-supposes adequate play grounds, which it is hoped that Digby will possess at some not far distant date.

ENROLLMENT

The enrollment for the school year ending in June 1920 was as follows:

Grade I, 79; Grade II, 44; Grade III, 25; Grade IV, 20; Grade V, 27; Grade VI, 29; Grade VII, 28; Grade VIII, 24; Grade IX, 18; Grade X, 8; Grade XI, 9; Total 327.	Over 5 years of age, 17

PRIZES

Prizes to the value of $140 have been awarded at the commencement exercises during the past two years and have undoubtedly stimulated interest in school work. Some extra incentive is often necessary to call forth the best efforts of boys and girls, and the prize system is of very great value in this regard. The money donated in prizes by our business and professional men in addition to stimulating interest in study to a certain extent causes the donor to become more intimately identified with the school and the work. This is one of the most desirable results for nothing awakens a quicker response from school children than the knowledge that others than teachers and school officials are genuinely interested in

CAN DO TWICE AS MUCH WORK NOW

Everything Agrees With Him and Friends are Complimenting Him on Big Change.

"I can do twice as much work now as I could before I took Tanlac, and I'll tell the world it's the greatest medicine ever made," was the emphatic statement made recently by Arthur Scott, a well-known longshoreman living at Randolph, N. B., two and one-half miles from St. John.

For two years before taking Tanlac I suffered almost continually from the worst kind of stomach trouble. After every meal I had a feeling like a weight of lead in the pit of my stomach and a tightness across my chest that made it hard for me to get on my feet. In fact I felt bad, downhearted and discouraged all the time.

"But just a few bottles of Tanlac have relieved me of all these troubles. My stomach never bothers me a particle now, and everything I eat seems to agree with me perfectly, for I never have a touch of indigestion. Everybody tells me I look better and I certainly feel better in every way. I get up in the mornings full of pep, ready for a good hearty breakfast and a big day's work."

"I am doing the best kind of work and it doesn't give me a bit of trouble. After what Tanlac has done for me I am ready to give it a good word any day."

Tanlac is sold in Digby by P. W. Holdsworth and in Bear River by the Bear River Drug Store and by the leading druggist in every town.

REASONS FOR ASKING REPEAL OF SCOTT ACT

On October 25th a very large majority vote was obtained in favor of the Prohibition of importation of liquor for beverage purposes and very soon after that date the new legislation will come into force. Attempts, however, to suppress liquor by certain persons to smuggle liquor into the province, and to manufacture liquor and to sell liquor in the province. In order to suppress the sale of liquor for beverage purposes in the province we require better legislation than the Scott Act.

The Nova Scotia Temperance Act placed upon the Statutes by the Government of Nova Scotia in 1910, and amended in 1911 to 1920, can be used with better effect than the Scott Act, in the suppression of the liquor traffic in the province. It is superior in many respects.

Some of the outstanding advantages of the N. S. Temperance Act are:

1. The prohibition of the sale or keeping for sale of all drinkable liquids containing alcohol.

Various kinds of beer with a light percentage of alcohol, very injurious to the system, are being legally sold in Scott Act Counties—the N. S. T. Act prohibits the sale of such drinks.

2. The jail penalty must be imposed after the first offence. The Inspector is liable to a penalty of $20.00 if he does not regularly proceed from first to second or subsequent offence. This provision does away with the system in many municipalities of denying liquor to obtain revenue, rather than to suppress the traffic.

3. Stipendiary Magistrates must send to the County Prothonotary a certificate of each conviction and such certificate in all proceedings, upon an information where a previous conviction is charged, is sufficient evidence of such previous conviction.

This provision in the N. S. Temperance Act means the safeguarding of papers absolutely necessary for efficient enforcement.

4. Any Inspector or police officer them and their work.

EQUIPMENT

The new equipment provided during the year consisted of maps, books and chemical and physical apparatus. The departments are now well equipped with new maps all on portable boards with spring rollers. The provisions made in the annual estimates for the library and for physical and chemical apparatus are excellent. In a few years the library will be fairly comprehensive for a school library while the high school department will be fairly equipped for the teaching of science.

M. K. HARDING,
Principal of School.

may at any time without warrant enter and search premises where he believes liquors are kept for sale or disposal contrary to the provisions of the Act, and seize any liquors unlawfully kept.

Under the Scott Act the officer requires a search warrant and it can be executed only between 6 a. m. and 9 p. m.

5. Any Inspector or Constable may without warrant seize and remove liquor he finds in transit in any vehicle or at any wharf, warehouse, or other place. The Scott Act is ineffective where liquor is in actual transportation in a truck or wagon within a municipality, and in all seizures the Scott Act officer must have a warrant.

It appears to the magistrate that such liquor was consigned to some person in a fictitious name, or was shipped as other goods, or was covered or concealed in such a manner as would probably render discovery more difficult it is prima facie evidence of violation.

6. Any person who may be suspected of selling liquor from or keeping for illegal sale in his pockets or from or in any vehicle, may himself or himself and his vehicle, be searched, and if liquor be found he may be arrested.

7. Penalty for first offence $200 to $500. Subsequent offences 4 to 12 months imprisonment.

8. It is made the express duty of the Council, police and temperance committee and every officer and inspector to enforce this Act and take necessary proceedings to punish offenders.

TO OBTAIN REPEAL OF THE SCOTT ACT

To obtain repeal of the Scott Act, a petition must be signed by one fourth of the electors—men and women—on the lists. The petition is then in due course sent to the Secretary of State, Ottawa, and if satisfactory the Governor-in-Council by order suspends the operation of the Scott Act, and the Nova Scotia Temperance Act comes into operation.

Two ten-year-old boys were arraigned in the criminal court at Jersey City, yesterday, on the charge of holding up two other lads of their own age and robbing them of a dollar.

Mr. Beaver—Dam and Empire Builder

Anyone who first gazed on the shield of the Canadian Pacific Railway is struck with the flap tailed little animal sitting in the foreground. This is no less than Mr. Beaver, the chap who started out to build a dam and built up the Dominion of Canada in addition for good measure.

Columbus did not seek pelts when he discovered America. Others came to find China, but when Cathay did not prove to be around the corner and the Ironclads started the bat-timonial certificate with the end of his tomahawk the St. Lawrence would probably have been abandoned but for its upper reaches which jammed and stretched with beavers. The French founded Montreal with bell, buck and beaver skin—the original name of the city was Hochelaga, which means "Beaver Meadow." Beaver was even the medium of exchange, even as tobacco in the early days of Virginia, and no Indian could buy the coveted gun or the necklace his Minnehaha longed for without the precious pelts.

Canada received its start as the land of furs and particularly beaver. Civilization followed the trapper and trader, and as the fur trade worked ever northward, the white man went with it, developed new territory and established new outposts in the conquest of the wilderness.

Then it was the turn of the beaver. Then the beaver and the white man are not left by chance to fare, but to guard their anxious pillow. Thus will watch with jealous care.

FRIENDSHIP LODGE, NO. 122, I.O.O.F.

On February 8th 1912 Friendship Lodge No. 122 I. O. O. F. made its advent into the town of Bear River.

It was an auspicious event, when under the direction of John Craig of Yarmouth, who was Grand Master of the Grand Lodge at that time, upwards of thirty as charter members were initiated into the mysteries of Oddfellows.

The infant society was placed under the faithful care of a splendid band of officers, viz. W. S. Wright, Noble Grand; W. W. Wade, Secretary; R. A. Harris, Financial Secretary; Dr. L. J. Lovitt, Treasurer.

During the past nine years Friendship Lodge has made a splendid record, that make camping life a joy beyond description. "Far from the busy world of men," out in the silent spaces of the forest, under canvas tent, birch bark "lean-to" or the roof of a rough log camp, one lives a life that brings a splendid contribution to her members.

Twenty-two of her brightest and best enlisted in the service for king and country. Of those who enlisted, five paid the supreme sacrifice. Although gone they are not forgotten for each year's Decoration Day comes, the society marches in a body to the cemetery of the town and in a place adjacent, a bouquet of flowers is reverently laid at the base of the flag of the empire in honor of those who sleep in Flanders Fields where the poppies grow.

As a fraternal society the lodge endeavours to maintain the principles of the order to the sorrowful, the orphan and widow. It brings comfort to the sick and those in distress. It lends a helping hand. Thus in more ways than one, Friendship Lodge has proved itself to be a great benefactor.

With the increase of members there has also been a growing interest.

Out of this interest there has arisen the conception of a new hall, which will furnish a home, adequate for the needs of the society.

As a result of this, during the last three years, the lodge has raised funds sufficient to purchase a suitable site and also has a neat sum on hand as a nucleus towards the erection of the new building.

The inauguration of Elta Lodge No. 82 Rebekahs of I. O. O. F., on Monday, Oct. 25th, 1920, marks another epoch in the brief history of Friendship Lodge.

With two such sister societies in the town of Bear River, the writer is reminded of the words of the poet as follows:

"Who Oddfellowship can measure?
Thy benighted end and aim?
Who can tell what heaven born treasure
Lies enshrined in thy odd name?
This earth a glorious mission
Thou art destined to fulfil.
Not of pomp or vain ambition,
But of kindness and goodwill.
If thy seat are poor and lowly,
Or have fallen by the way,
Or with footstep feeble, slowly
Tread toward life's calm day,
Then thy hand is ever there to them,
Ever ready to be saved,
And if death should overtake them
Thou wilt follow to the grave."
Then the orphan and the widow
Are not left by chance to fare,
But to guard their anxious pillow
Thou wilt watch with jealous care.

BEAR RIVER, THE SPORTSMAN'S PARADISE

To him who would follow the poet's prescription for the banishment of human ills, and restoration of mental vigor—"Go to the woods and hills," no more enticing place can be found than the town of Bear River, nestled among its rugged hills, and forming the gateway to a forest country, beautiful beyond description, alive with game in great variety. Threaded by brooks and rushing trout streams, silvered by silent winding stillwaters, its air gloriously aromatic with the tang of spruce and fir.

The lover of the wide free spaces of the great "out-doors," can find here the "Mecca" of his desires. Whether he enters our forest paradise through the quaint milling town of "Lake Jolie," over the road by motor to "Big Lake," and its chain of waterways, out the Town Wallace Lake road to the hunting and fishing country beyond, each route leads to country rich in all that hunter, camper, or fisherman can ask.

The spring calls most forcefully to the fisherman, and the "cameraman," for then the leaping trout in pool, in stillwater and in foaming run, reward the angler; and the budding foliage gives to the camera's products an ethereal fair touch of elusive charming beauty and reveals a "wilder," sweep of landscape. There are numerous trout streams and wellstocked pools within a few hours travel from the town, known even to the small boy, and the local sports; but the Indian guides alone know the wonderful fishing grounds miles beyond the town; famous pools and streams that for generations have yielded up a generous harvest to the fisherman.

The fact is, our fishing country is almost too far famed for its own good. Each year the tourist with the rod, is more in evidence, and there is a possibility that, some day, if fishing privileges are not safe guarded and curtailed to some extent, the supply of gamey speckled beauties, may be too far depleted.

Even through the summer months our fishing grounds offer great attractions; for then, though the fishing itself is not the exciting well-rewarded sport of spring, it is combined with the ideal climatic conditions, that make camping life a joy beyond description. "Far from the busy world of men," out in the silent spaces of the forest, under canvas tent, birch bark "lean-to" or the roof of a rough log camp, one lives a life that brings a splendid contribution to her members.

Twenty-two of her brightest and best enlisted in the service for king and country. Of those who enlisted, five paid the supreme sacrifice. partridge shooting, the opportunities are great. As many fine "covers" are within easy distance of the town; and a days tramp with dog and gun, results generally, in a well filled game bag, and a happy sportsman.

Fishing, camping, shooting, each has its devotees; but only the hunter with the love of the game inhabited spaces of the forest an integral part of his being can understand the thrill and unrest that comes with the frosty silent nights, days of late September and October, when in Canada, herald the opening of the big game season.

There is a glory in our Northern Autumn that appeals to all who love the beautiful; there is a zest in the keen clear air that is physical balm to even those too blind to see the beauty; but only to the hunter comes the peculiar longing to get away from civilized surroundings and track, through the forest trails the moose, the deer, the bear and wildcat—the longing for the pungent bed of fire, the glorious sleep that comes under the wide canopy of heaven.

Only the man, I say, who has the hunting instinct, can ever know the fullest joy of hunting life.

Frosty bags at five a.m. have no terror for him and cannot quench his ardour.

Moose hunting should be classed the "sport of kings," and certainly this part of Nova Scotia excels in the possession of all that goes to make it "royal sport." The prospective hunter, here can find the first, last, and every essential of his trip; grub, and plenty of it; blankets, tents, canvas and ammunition.

Last, but by no means least, "the guide," and here we claim to be pre-eminent, our Indian guides, direct descendants of the red men, whose moccasined feet first wore our forest trails, born with the hunting instinct, trained from childhood in every branch of woodcraft, of "voice," of "tread," seen and untiring in the pursuit of game, in fact, the ideal guide.

The fame of our guides, has gone far "a-field," and "Johnnie," the "jewel," "Lewie," the "lucky," "Seni," the "mighty," "Willie," the "wise," "Joe," the "joker," "Levi," the "stern," have warm admirers in many parts of Canada, England, and the United States.

Their "siren call" has lured the wary moose, for many a noted sportsman, our Indian legends have been selected by many a roving camp fire, their unfailing humor and ready courtesy made many a hunting trip a bright spot in the monotony of life.

When we realize that over fifty moose have been passed through Bear River from its immediate hunting section, besides a respectable number of deer and bears, we cannot doubt that we have a valuable possession; in our forest game, not alone in money value, but in its far greater worth, the giving to those who love the "open," a chance to here enjoy a sport that invigorates the body, refreshes the soul, and brings men out of life's artificial atmosphere into the clean, sweet, God-given life of the forest dweller.

JOSEPHINE T. LOVETT

The Great War cost the world approximately $200,000,000,000, plus $50,000,000,000 of accumulated wealth which was destroyed during the fighting. That is the dollar-and-cents cost; the greatest cost came in the loss of 4,700,000 lives, maiming of millions more, and the ruined health of hundreds of thousands of women and children in European countries.

KAISER BRONCHITIS IN EXILE

Thousands Liberated

What! have you not heard the joyful tidings? Bronchitis has been exiled—has been driven out of society and 100,000 Canadians liberated from the bondage of this disease. Every trace of bronchitis trouble blown to atoms by the world's most effective disease-destroyer, Backley's Bronchitis Mixture. No wonder people are rejoicing! No longer do they dread the effects of coughs, colds, asthma, etc., and to anxious are they that others should benefit also, hundreds of letters have been written proclaiming the merits of this wonderful medicinal remedy. Here is one letter: "To Whom it May Concern: 'This is to certify that I have been suffering for over three weeks with bronchitis and was advised to try Backley's Bronchitis Mixture. I purchased a bottle and after the third dose I received relief, and before the bottle was finished, I was perfectly well. In making the above assertion I have no hesitation in saying it is the best remedy I ever came in contact with for my trouble.'"

LAST YEAR'S BUILDING OPERATIONS

During the year just closed the building trades of Digby were very busily employed. There was a large amount of work done in town. It does not make a great showing to a casual observer and a great deal of it was repair work, but it has been many years since so much of this kind of work was done as in 1920. There were a number of new buildings put up—of a valuation possibly of $100,000—consisting of the new station, freight shed, water tank, garage, large dancing pavilion at the Pineo, the Pineo garage, a fine blacksmith shop on Warwick street, new residence at St. Pleasant for Emden Priest and Howard Forrest and several private garages. Among the extensive repairs and alterations were the changing of the Christian Church into a bungalow for C. J. Eldridge, the rebuilding of Marshall's bungalow, Queen street, enlarging and remodelling the Corner, repairing and remodelling the Corner, enlarging Eldridge's Garage, and also the new Lodge Garage, as well as extensive repairs to the Myrtle House, W. S. Troop's residence, St. Patrick's church, St. W. Boy's school, Wm. Warrington's premises, J. W. H. Redding's house, and many other places. Taken all through, the year was excellent and not only gave employment to all our local carpenters, masons, plumbers, painters and electricians, but brought in many from outside.

The prospects for 1921 also look good. Among the more extensive work planned is the enlargement of the Bank of Nova Scotia, a new building for the Royal Bank, enlargement of the Times and of the Myrtle House and considerable repair work. It is very gratifying to know that Digby is by no means standing still, and that the work being carried on is of such a substantial nature showing the confidence which big business has in town.

Miss Melba Small, Central Cove, spent a few days last week, the guest of her mother, Mrs. Small.

Delma Outhouse has purchased a new house.

Miss Zella Thurber, Freeport, is the guest of Mrs. Blanchard Outhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Churchill Sallows entertained a few friends on Friday evening.

We are glad to report Mrs. Cleveland Elliott able to be out again.

Misses Albert and Dora Smith spent Tuesday evening with relatives at Central Cove.

The young people enjoyed a sing at the home of Miss Nellie Clifford on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. John Thurber, Freeport, spent the holidays with relatives here.

Misses Kathleen Blackford, Viola Blackford, and Lela Cossaboon, left Wednesday, Jan. 13th, to resume their studies at the Stella Marie Convent.

During the holidays several teas and parties were given in their honor.

On Christmas Eve, Miss Nellie Clifford entertained at the tea hour, for her sister, Miss Viola Clifford.

The table was prettily decorated with red and silver streamers, hanging from a basket directly over the centre of the table and containing small hand made needle cases, and then the "Snaps" and on for the guests were Miss Viola's college chums, Misses Kathleen Blackford, Lela Cossaboon, Gertrude Ruggles and Lela Cossaboon.

On Saturday Mrs. Frank Ruggles entertained the P. N. C. girls at the tea hour, in honor of her daughter, Miss Gertrude Ruggles, and on Monday Mrs. Geo. Cossaboon was hostess to the same guests, at a tea, for Miss Viola Cossaboon.

Miss Luella Blackford was at home to her girl friends on Thursday afternoon, in honor of her sister, Mrs. Lloyd Blackford of Freeport.

Miss Kathleen Blackford, gave a party on Friday evening, New Years Eve, to about forty of her young friends. The evening was spent in music and games. About 10:30 refreshments were served, and then the "Snaps" and on for the guests were Miss Viola's college chums, Misses Kathleen Blackford, Lela Cossaboon, Gertrude Ruggles and Lela Cossaboon.

We noticed in last week's "Courier" that at Digby 20 wrote at the last Provincial Exam, and 21 were successful. That was very good. In our little village of Tiverton 11 wrote at the last Provincial Exam, and 11 were successful, all making good aggregates. There were 5 B's, 3 C's and 3 D's, one of the B's, and one of the C's, making an aggregate of nearly 100 each on six subjects. Too much praise cannot be given their teacher, Miss Daisy Prime, for her untiring effort in their behalf. The section was fortunate in securing her services for the present term. We wish her and her pupils continued success.

On Saturday evening Jan. 8th a very pleasant evening was spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Blackford it being Mr. Blackford's seventieth birthday. About thirty invited guests were present. Refreshments were served and games played, and after wishing Mr. Blackford many more happy birthdays the guests left for home well satisfied with a delightful and social evening.

FROM HALIFAX TO WEYMOUTH THIRTY-EIGHT YEARS AGO

We were now picking up, the lovely of him, to have had it, already for her at Kentville. It was found in the ground, where the village blacksmith had had his forge. Didn't I think it was so romantic to have as your very own this little piece of iron you knew had been worked upon, by the village smith, when poor dear Evangeline was alive. Of course I agreed, it was, "too romantic for anything."

Privately I thought, the gentleman, at that moment, punching tickets down near the door, could throw a good deal of light on the matter. I noted, the baggageman's rules did not apply, in the souvenir hunter's case.

Middleton, 101 miles from Halifax, has been called. In 1883, there was little to be seen from the car window, other than a road leading to a village, out of sight, most notable progress has been made since. It appears to be revived, when again one of the up-to-date towns of the Province. It certainly is in view now, and spreading like the measles. In travelling, a new route, you observe many things which strike your attention and stick in your memory to be revived, when again making the trip. Take passing through towns and villages, where you get a view of backyards, neat and otherwise, generally otherwise. We had a sight at a number, in some sections, it appeared to be washed away, and a little bit embarrassing for a young man. Then the cemeteries, which are thrust on your sight, the little fellows, with small slabs and the prominent citizens—prominent still. Occasionally, you catch faintly, an unexcused and unpainted school house, in the woods, or, a small scattered village, with a disproportionate number of Churches.

Have you observed the difference, often very striking in your fellow passengers. It is most interesting to watch the coming and going of the people. You form ideas of individuals, often wrong ones, in relation to their nationality, character and occupation. If you are, well say, democratic, you will certainly find it enjoyable. In the parlor car, there is a veneer, so to speak, covering the occupants, that make them seem all alike. Take a seat in a day coach, near the door, so as to have a view of the passengers, up to the entrance nearest the locomotive. Slip into the second class car occasionally; and, even if you are not an admirer of "My Lady Nicotine"—visit the smoking compartment and talk with a lot of good fellows, who are—her willing slaves.

We were now well into the far famed valley. I have been over a few of its highways and by-roads, in the later years, and agree that, in spots, it is very beautiful, but, coming down through it, for the first time—by railway, and having been fed up, with descriptive literature, of what had been seen—by railway, I came to the conclusion, it was, either a sleepy feeling I had creeping over me or, I was totally without the soulful instinct and understanding—a fleeting view of a cow in a field, a portion of the back of an orchard, or, a piece of ploughed land, should signify to the beholder.

There were parts of the scenery that, compelled your notice, through constant repetition. For instance, on the sides of barns and fences, you were told, with much display of lettering, "To smoke MacDonald's Tobacco." You will note, this man, "orders" the passing crowd, to smoke his stuff. MacDonald was a native of Prince Edward Island. The Islanders are built that way and don't stand any fooling.

Another noticeable part of the scenery, was, "Try Piles Balm." Here you had a different style of man. He had more politeness, asks you to "try" the thing. Well, He's alright! Was born in Guysboro (Continued on page Four)

ANNUAL MEETING AT HILL GROVE

Church Hears Reports And Elects Officers.

The annual meeting of the Hill Grove Baptist Church was held in the Hall on Thursday evening of last week. The pastor, Rev. D. E. Hatt, presided. After devotional exercises and the reading of the minutes of last year's meeting, reports were read.

The Clerk reported the visits of various ministers throughout the year, noted the County Sunday School Convention, and spoke feelingly of the death of three members during the year, namely, Mr. Alfred Bell, Mr. Percy McKay and Mrs. Ayman.

The Treasurer's report showed $880.39 paid out for a new foundation and windows in the Church, all bills being paid with a balance of $11.97 in this fund. The sum of $445.86 was received for current expenses. A deficit of about $90.00 was immediately provided for. The allotment of $100.00 for Convention was met in full. The entire financial operations for the year, including all societies and funds were about $1700.00.

Reports of the Sunday School, Woman's Missionary Aid Society, and Mission Band followed, showing that all had experienced a good year. The Sunday School made special contributions to Grande Ligne Mission, Armenian Relief, Foreign Missions and the Maritime Religious Education Board. The Woman's Missionary Aid Society reported three life members and the Light Bearers Mission Band reported thirty-one members and two life-members made. The sum of $20.00 was contributed by the Band for the support of a little Telugu girl in Bobbili, India.

Reports were also heard from the Home and the Cradle Roll Departments of the Sunday School, conducted by Mrs. D. C. McKay and Mrs. Percy McKay, respectively, and from Mrs. Robert Bell, chairman of the Communion committee.

YOUR GROCER IS NOT A PROFITEER

Have a heart! Your grocer is not a profiteer! He is passing along to you reduced prices, as fast or faster than they come to him. Just because prices on many good things are still high, don't blame him. It is usually the poorest quality of everything that shows the greatest decline.

If he is as good a man as the average, your grocer is still doing his utmost to give you the best value for your money. But don't push him too hard. He is only human.

You don't know, but we do, that he is recommending goods that pay him less profit than other well known brands which he might easily persuade his customers to take if he cared to do so.

We know this because he pays us more for Red Rose Tea and sells it at less profit than other teas, so when he recommends you to buy Red Rose Tea, you will know it is because he believes it the best and is willing to take a smaller profit for the sake of giving you the best value he can.

We are publishing this because we believe the more our people know of the true facts concerning the profits made by those they deal with, the more generous they will be in their judgments.—T. H. Estabrooks Co., Ltd., St. John, N. B.

WHY FISH IS SO SCARCE AND HIGH

People Should Get In The Habit of Eating The Cheaper Varieties.

There is no reason why fish should be an expensive food in Canada. If certain varieties are so costly in comparison with other fish, the fault lies with the Canadian people. Take as an example halibut. People ask why it should cost so much more than other fish. The reason is that it has been put in a luxury class. If those people who have so religiously adopted halibut as their fish course would substitute brill, plaice, sole, flounder or which occasionally they would do much toward correcting this situation. These fish are closely related to the halibut, are available in abundance, and have a delicacy of flavor and fineness of texture which many people consider superior to the halibut.

The reason for the higher halibut price is this. It is estimated that three per cent of the total catch on halibut lines is cod, which have to be thrown away. The boats are obliged to go long distances to new banks for the halibut, leaving profligate banks nearer home stocked with many varieties of fish that no halibut hunter would be seen that the cost of the boat's cruise must come out of the 60,000 or 70,000 pounds of halibut taken, whereas if everything caught on the line could be landed and marketed, the cost would be spread over a probable catch of 350,000 or 400,000 pounds.

But you cannot blame the fisherman for throwing away 300,000 pounds of other fish to get 60,000 pounds of halibut. He is in business for a living. The people themselves, those who taste the fish, must gratify, are responsible for the economic waste and the consequent higher prices of their favorite fish.

The drain that has been made upon the halibut banks during the past few years threatens to seriously reduce the supply, unless protective measures be instituted. It is right that the Canadian people should know these things because our fisheries are their property, and those commercially engaged in the industry are merely custodians of their wealth.

The substitution of other varieties of fish, even if they are not so palatable but more abundant and procurable nearer home, has for some years been urged by the Fisheries Branch at Ottawa, as a means of protecting the halibut fishery. In 1918 the Government bought the flatfish industry on the Pacific coast (halibut excepted) for the purpose of creating a market in the western provinces. While two-thirds of the transportation charges were paid by the Government as far as the western boundary of Ontario, a thriving business was developed. When the Government withdrew the rebate, however, and it became necessary to raise the retail price from ten to fourteen cents per pound, the market declined. Why people would not pay the difference but still had no objection to paying twice the price for other fish, is hard to explain.

W. A. Found, assistant deputy minister of Fisheries, Ottawa, recently predicted that in a very few years the flatfish in Pacific waters would form the raw product for a great fleet of trawlers. This seems inevitable. It takes time for people to learn things but, sooner or later the folly of singing out a certain fish for regular consumption will dawn upon them. The sooner that day comes the sooner will the menace which threatens the halibut industry be removed.

And the flatfish industry need not be confined to the Pacific alone. This class of fish is found in great abundance also in the Atlantic where the fishermen are under the same handicap. At this time when there is such a scarcity of food throughout the world is it not a crime that so much must be thrown away? Yet who is responsible? Each one of us. Does the miner take from his ore only the silver and disregard other metallic constituents? Every useful element present in commercial quantities is extracted. Why is it not so with the fisheries?

NATIONAL FISH DAY

Canada's Fishermen's day, or National fish day, February 9, may become an international event, according to a statement from the Department of Marine and Fisheries.

Gardner Poole, Boston, President of United States Fisheries Association, and officials at Washington are expected to assist in putting the suggestion into effect. The Post Office Department here has arranged for special cancellation stamps to be used in the Post Office of the chief centres of Canada, bearing the legend, "National Fish Day, February 9." These will be in use very soon.

What Shall Our Boys And Girls Do For a Living.

According to Professor J. B. Jarvis, Secretary of the National Vocational Guidance Association, the movement for vocational guidance is now in its beginning. This great demand for vocational guidance has arisen from the evidence of so many misfits in life.

Every mother's son and every father's daughter is a "daring of the Gods." Each fond parent looks upon its own little helpless babe in arms and dreams dreams of its future happiness and prays for its future success in the world into which it has been born. To be ambitious for our children is a most natural and human instinct, but to force upon the child our own preconceived ideas of what constitutes a noble or worthy calling, without taking into careful consideration the child itself, is unreasonable. Custom and tradition have led many a loving parent to force upon his or her child a career which he might have been a lawyer, a successful farmer, a struggling bank clerk or office man would have been a successful mechanic if certain false ideals had not been forced upon him.

We should pray that our boys and our girls may find happiness and success through living the life that brings, not the greatest pride and vanity to us, but the greatest contentment and soul satisfaction to them.

On the other hand there are many parents who are wholly indifferent as to the future careers of their children. Some, too busy to give their children much attention, place the whole responsibility on the public schools. Few parents understand the psychology or the psychology of the adolescent child. This fact alone has caused many a pupil to fail in school, has forced many a child to lie and form bad habits and has driven many a boy and often a girl to leave home.

The greatest service that a parent can give a child toward securing for it a successful career is to lay a foundation of habits that form a worthy character. Early impressions are the ones most firmly fixed in the mind and the hardest to erase. The character of the home determines these earliest impressions, on which is laid the foundation upon which depends success or failure. The money making tendencies of the age, the prevailing social worship of the rich and false standards of life and character are responsible for wrong ideas and ideas of success among boys and girls.

Begin preparing your child for a successful career by making him form the habit of hard work and by teaching him to respect the man who toils.

Parents should inform themselves of the great call of the world. Beyond the crowded professions are great fields calling for the scholarly engineer, iron worker, farmer, captain of industry.

If the schools do not give the opportunity for your boy to find himself, place him at work here or there during vacations. Watch him grow. Do not back him with money either in business or education until he has proved himself worthy and capable. Above all, do not be discouraged if he is slow to show his ability. Some mature boys are slow to grow men before the awakening comes.

The most serious problem within the entire Vocational guidance movement is to determine the best method of dealing with the vast army of boys and girls who are constantly leaving the public schools. According to the latest report there are in the United States four millions of these child laborers. Many of these are doomed to lives of drudgery, poverty and misery. How to reach these children and to guide them to self help, is the question being asked in all the large cities. O that we could help all these young people to realize with Dr. Henderson what he calls in his "Education and the Larger Life," the splendor of life. "Life is so great a possession, a procession of delightful possibilities that each day ought to be a veritable holiday. For all the work that is worth doing, rightly handled, is the greatest fun of all—the fun that is only the work to be done, not an unnecessary toil, but a honest work that you can put your whole heart into and do just because you would rather do just that particular thing than anything else in the world."

A good many ideas are smelting digby again from many good ideas.

VOL. XLVII, No. 25

FROM HALIFAX TO WEYMOUTH THIRTY-EIGHT YEARS AGO

Both the ladies were young and good to look at. They were standing apart from others at the station, and were presented jointly on an oldish, sad-faced man, rather shabbily dressed. I said, to a man in the next seat, who had a pleasant well-tanned face, and all the earmarks of a master-mariner—"Americans?" He smiled at me, "Americans, your Grandmother?" "They're white-washed Yankees?" You'll hear their kind, talk more United States in an hour, than you will get in a month, among "the real natives?" I bet they are going through, "on this train?" I doubted that, and said, "Surely not, in those dresses?" He chuckled! Why not? "They believe, they are the real thing in style?" When they reach the boat, the feathers will be soaked,—meanwhile, they are having a grand time, with the village boys, and enjoying the jealous envy of the other girls?" He laughed outright—"Why boy? They would, go more sail out of the harbor, without all that bustling than they would give up talking "Boasting?"

Sure enough, the ladies were seen approaching the car ahead, surrounded by people, the mules, carrying their luggage. There was much kissing, in which the old man was included and we were off. We hear now a days, very little from the boasting resident of the United States—born in this country. I don't believe we would stand for him, as easily as in 1883. Yet it is surprising the animal could have lived then. This little Province of ours, at that time, was known in every respect throughout the whole world. We were even linked up, with the great Cunard Line through Halifax and Sir Samuel Cunard. Many large ships were being built and launched from our shores. I was present at the launching of the ship "County of Yarmouth" built in the County of Digby, about four miles from Weymouth in 1884. Coming down today, it is difficult to refrain from attending to the part played in the affairs of men, in and out of the Province, by Nova Scotian Statesmen, merchants and volunteer citizen soldiery. But, I am getting off the route to Weymouth.

Nearing a station, the fourth from Annapolis, the conductor took the place of the pleasant-looking brakeman, who had been doing the customary announcing, and advancing to the centre of the car, held up his hand and said—"We are now about to enter Paradise"—then turning towards the door—"Nova Scotia!" It broved at down the house. We were all eager to catch a glimpse of the blue-roofed Heaven. Those of us new to the route, rather expected to pass through, a model village of pretty cottages, with beautiful lawns and wide streets. When we arrived at the gates, if I may so name the railway station "many mansions" were nowhere in sight. Nor, did the idlers on the station platform, look at all like the Angelic choir, we had heard of in boyhood.

Steamed into Annapolis in a thick fog, which blanketed the whole place. I spent a holiday in the Town, the next year, and have visited it since. There are few places in the Provinces, equal to Port Royal in attractiveness. There is a marvelous change since 1883, in the condition of the ancient barracks and fortifications, due to Superintendent J. M. Fortier's energetic tireless work, in arresting decay and restoring Queen Anne Fort to its present state. The collected historical material, now I understand, housed in the old quarters of the garrison officers, could only have been assembled, by a keen lover of the work. Mr. Fortier has also been the means, of the peoples interest being kept alive, through the establishment of a local Historical Society. If you are at all interested in the activities of the former inhabitants of Nova Scotia, then, a holiday in this beautifully situated town, with a series of visits to the fortifications, with Mr. Fortier, as cicerone, will be thoroughly enjoyed.

The "missing link," had not been rivited-on in 1883. Through passengers, took steamer at Annapolis for Digby. On the way, I noticed a well set-up, able-looking Indian, better dressed than the usual tribesman. I was told, this man, earned good pay and tips, as a hunter's guide. The Indians had a settlement further down, at Bear River. Speaking of Indians, recall a witty clergyman friend with whom I was out walking; meeting an Indian, we stopped to speak to him. After we had passed on, he said, "The sight of an Indian, was always good for his humility." The wise man, at the head of the Government, had classed together, when travelling, Indians, Clergymen and children. They had half-rates, on account of being Indians—and Clergymen? Some day, when in fits, he intended approaching the ticket-wicket, with haughty independence, to show what he thought of those scalawags at Ottawa—by paying full fare.

Giving my tickets to and securing a bunk from the steward of the steamer, I travelled in spirit, to the land of nod, from whence I was all too suddenly recalled, by our steamer bumping into Digby landing.

Up to that time, I knew little about the town, other than that of its reputation for sea-chicks. Since the completion of the railway, making it easier for the traveller to come to Digby has fished for, and successfully caught, a different kind

PROCEEDINGS OF MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

On Tuesday the 11th day of January 1921, the Council in and for the Municipality of Digby met at the Court House at Digby. Present:—The Warden, Councillors Rice, Marshall, Gidney, Crocker, Cassaboon, Young, Andrews, Cornwall, Hankinson.

The warden took the chair and called the council to order at 2 p.m. H. B. Fitzgerald, elected by acclamation for Weymouth North, in place of N. A. Ruggies, resigned; was sworn into office.

Petition for the continuation of a bye road at Little River, was read and referred to the committee on roads and bridges.

Letter from the Minister of Public Works on care of Insane, Feeble Minded and Prisoners was read and ordered that this be received and lie on the table.

Letter from H. A. P. Smith was read, asking for ten tons of soft coal for heating the jail. Resolved that the equivalent of one hundred dollars, in coal, be given H. A. P. Smith, for the jail for 1921.

Report of the Board of Assessment Revision was read; ordered that this lie on the table.

Resolved that the annual fee of ten dollars be paid to the union of Nova Scotia Municipalities and the Warden be appointed delegate to attend the 1921 meeting in Halifax.

Resolved that the German gun belonging to the town shall not be placed in a permanent position on the terrace in front of the jail.

The report of Dr. Dickie, medical health officer for 1920 was read and received.

Resolved that Dr. F. E. Rice be appointed medical health officer for 1921.

The committee on roads and bridges reported that the petition for the continuation of a bye road along the east side of the river to the property of Howard R. Frankland, be received; and the clerk be instructed to forward the same to the Highway Board at Halifax.

Also: That the road section No. 5 in Culloden No. 17, be made into two districts, new section to start at Harry Bainsouth line and to be known as No. 16.

Mrs. DuVernay and Mrs. Short, from the Women's Canadian Club addressed the council, asking for the use of the council rooms for social purposes.

Dr. Chisholm, of the Dept. of Public Health, addressed the council, of the increasing death rate in Nova Scotia, and of the urgent need that some steps be taken to overcome this increase, especially among our children; of the plans of the Provincial Government to establish health clinics, and to have a public health nurse in each Municipality.

Dr. Read also addressed the council, and urged them to take steps to help in this good work.

Resolved that the matter of the Public Health Clinic, be left till the May meeting of the council.

Moved and seconded that G. H. Potter be appointed court crier, this motion was lost. Moved, seconded, and passed that H. B. Bacon be appointed court crier.

Resolved that David Hazelton be appointed court constable.

Resolved that at any election for a Municipal Councillor, hereafter held in polling district No. 17 in the Municipality of the District of Digby a poll shall be taken at Doucettville, in the said polling district, for voters residing along and south of the Sissiboo Road, and from Samuel Ziggler to Peter Nats place (So called).

Resolved that the Women's Canadian Club be given the use of the council room for social purposes, for 1921; but that there shall be no dancing.

Ordered that the clerk, through Councillor Hankinson, take steps to transfer property of Charles McAuley, and Estate of Mary Lawrence, to the Municipality.

Resolved that the auditors report for 1921, be received.

Resolved that the application of F. L. Belyea, for the position of auditor for the year 1921, at the sum of $100.00, be accepted; said audit to be completed by the first day of the January meeting, 1922.

Ordered that the Bank of Nova Scotia be instructed not to pay out any funds of the Municipality, without a legitimate cheque from the treasurer of the Municipality.

Ordered that the clerk have proper license forms printed and numbered, and sent to clerks of license, and that such clerks shall send in returns at the end of each year, and return unused license forms.

Resolved that F. W. Nichols be appointed solicitor for the Municipality for year 1921.

Resolved that the list of officers for districts No. 17, 16, 4, 22, 5, 8, 1, 6, 13, 7, 15, 2, be accepted.

Ordered that the clerk be instructed to take proceedings in the probate court against the estate of James Livingstone, Weymouth No. 22.

The report of the finance committee was read by Councillor Hankinson, and upon motion was received and adopted.

Resolved that the proceeding of the council be printed in the Digby Weekly Courier.

Resolved that the sum of $11.50, from taxes of Rossway No. 15, be refunded to Councillor Cornwall, said taxes having been collected from men use as age.

Resolved that John O. Turnbull be appointed revisor, Culloden No. 17, in place of James Warrington, deceased; said appointment to continue till May 1921.

Resolved that the bill of Dr. Dickie, for $224.00, be held until the minutes of the Board of Health are presented, thus authorizing its payment.

In accord with the Council at the January meeting, 1920 that it would provide a place for the safekeeping of a captured German Machine Gun as a war trophy, there was received last summer such a gun from Col. Arthur G. Dougaty, C. M. G., Director of war trophies, Ottawa, bearing the following inscription:

"This German Machine Gun captured by the Canadians near Amiens, replaces one presented by Clarence Jamieson, M. P. Digby, N. S. July 15th, 1915, to the 40th, Battalion C. E. F., and destroyed by enemy gun fire at Ypres."

This gun has been placed in the Municipality Public Building at Digby, where it is in the custody of the caretaker.

The council adjourned on Saturday the 15th, January, 1921, at 10.30 p.m.

MARGARET STEWART
Municipal Clerk.

Report of Committee on Tenders and Public Property.

To the Warden, and Councillors of the Municipality of the District of Digby.

Gentlemen: Your committee on Tenders and Public Property begs leave to present the following report for the year 1920.

Court House.

The janitor, Mr. David Hazelton was re-engaged for the year and his salary increased to $40. per month.

The ladies of the Canadian Club of Digby engaged in relief work have continued to use the Chambers room gratis during the year.

The orders passed for Court House maintenance, including janitor's salary, during the year, amounted to $1234.06.

The sum of $1000. was voted last year.

Jail.

The total amount of orders issued during the year 1920 was $845.93. We have had no further trouble with water since the laying of the new drain, but water, still comes in thru the cellar wall. This is not very satisfactory at times for the jailor. The cost of running the jail, with the jailor's salary, was $863.28. The vote last year was $800. Your committee recommends a vote of $900. the coming year.

Poor Outside.

Your committee spent on the support of the Poor, Outside the Home, during 1920 the sum of $1413.76. This amount is somewhat larger than was spent last year. Last year you voted $1200. Your Committee recommends a vote of $1400. for the coming year.

Alms House.

Our water system which was newly installed by the laying of new and larger pipes is giving entire satisfaction. We have had no further trouble with this.

Your recommendation to install hot water boiler and more bath-tubs with heating apparatus has been carried out and is quite satisfactory.

Your committee would recommend that a lighting plant be installed, and thus do away with the lamps and candles, eliminating the danger of fire, and bring the institution up to a standard of efficiency.

If the Council decides to install plants above recommended, it will be necessary for a vote of $600.00 extra.

Your Committee has expended during the last year $500. on this account, and would recommend a vote of $700.

Poor Inside.

Orders for $5999.04 were issued during the year 1920 for the poor and harmless insane inside the home. The increase in the prices of the necessities of life, along with a full house, accounts for this large expenditure. You voted $5000.00 for this service in 1920 and your committee would recommend a vote of not less than $5500 for 1921.

REPORT OF ANNUAL MEETING OF THE DIGBY BAPTIST CONGREGATION

The annual business meeting of the Digby Baptist Congregation was held in the Vestry of the Church on Wednesday evening of last week. The attendance was the largest for many years, and the interest was keen throughout.

The Pastor of the Church, Rev. D. E. Hatt, called the meeting to order at 7.45, and conducted devotional exercises, giving a brief address upon Paul's words in 1 Co. 12:26 and 40. "Let all things be done unto edifying," and "let all things be done decently and in order."

Representatives of various organizations were called upon and most encouraging reports were given. C. H. Carthy spoke of the work and needs of the Sunday School. The largest attendance during the year was 104, and average 64. Kingsley Collins, Pastor of the Funes square Methodist Church, and of the Tuxis Boys' Conference to be held in Digby next autumn. Rachel Marshall read a fine report of the doings of the J. O. V. Class, which has a membership of 23. Three socials were held, one of them taking the form of a banquet to the Tuxis Boys. They managed the candy table at the garden party and held a Christmas sale. After making contributions to various objects they have fifty dollars remaining, which they are holding for some form of Church work.

Mrs. M. C. Denton, reported for the Women's Missionary Aid Society and the Mission Band. The former raised $142.00 during the year. The Mission Band has 33 members under the Presidency of Mrs. H. T. Warner. Special mention was made of a public meeting of the Band at which Miss Keane, of Port Wade, an outgoing Missionary under the American Baptist Foreign Missionary Society, gave an inspiring address.

Mrs. D. E. Hatt reported for the Women's Circle. During the year the sum of $672.31 was handed to the Church treasurer for various Church purposes. The women are also maintaining activities for the coming year.

E. H. Collins spoke for the Board of Deacons on the spiritual side of Church life. The strictly business portion of the meeting was taken up by the reading of the minutes of last year's meeting, and the appointment of the pastor as chairman of the business session.

The report of the treasurer, F. H. Nichols, was presented, accompanied by the report of J. L. Peters and Guy Dunn, Auditors. The report showed the sum of $2837.12 received, and $2692.83 paid out, leaving a balance of $144.29 on hand. The report was fully discussed, and adopted with commendations of the faithful and long-continued services of the treasurer.

When the amounts raised by the W. M. A. S. Mission Band, J. O. V. Class, not included in the above, and for the Forward Movement, are added it is seen that the Congregation has raised about $3700.00 exclusive of the proportion of Pastors salary paid in by the Hillgrove Church and reckoned in the treasurer's report.

Reports were called for from various other committees, and Guy Dunn, financial secretary, gave some practical suggestions for the working out of the duplex envelope system which is used by the congregation. On the nomination of the executive committee the following officers and committees were appointed to serve during the year 1921.

Clerk—M. C. Denton.
Assistant—Guy Dunn.
Treasurer—F. H. Nichols.
Financial Secretary—Guy Dunn.
Auditors—J. L. Peters and Lindsay Heynes.

Finance Committee—H. T. Warner, H. B. Short, J. L. Peters, the treasurer, and financial secretary Trustees—Dr. W. F. Read, H. T. Warner, C. H. Carthy.

Deacons—C. H. Carthy, Guy Dunn, C. F. Mullen, James Rice, and E. H. Collins.

Communion committee—Misses Ida Germain and Edith Mullen.
Baptismal committee—The deacons, S. D. Munroe, Mrs. H. T. Warner, Mrs. Guy Dunn, Mrs. D. E. Hatt.

Welcoming Committee—H. T. Peters, H. T. Warner, C. H. Carthy, James Rice, Mrs. H. T. Warner and Mrs. D. E. Hatt.

Ushers—Guy Dunn, G. H. Peters, C. H. Carthy, A. J. Westhaver and E. H. Collins.

Cemetery Committee—H. B. Short, J. L. Peters, H. T. Warner and F. W. Nichols.

Executive Committee—The Pastor, Deacons, clerk and Trustees.
Music Committee—Mrs. M. C. Denton, Mrs. E. H. Collins.
Organist Miss Edrie Titus.
Superintendent of the Sunday School—C. H. Carthy.
Assistant—H. T. Warner.
Sexton—John McGregor.

A resolution was passed authorizing the Cemetery Committee to incur whatever expenditure may be necessary to secure an accurate working plan of the cemetery and urging that this and any other needed work be done as soon as the season permits.

After the business session had adjourned, a session of social fellowship was enjoyed, and refreshments were served by a committee consisting of Mesdames E. H. Collins, M. C. Denton, F. W. Nichols, Guy Dunn, H. T. Warner, C. Y. Young, H. Bacon, A. J. Westhaver, D. E. Hatt and Miss Ida Germain.

Sir, George Archer, who was private secretary to Lord Kitchener for many years, in a lecture said that "in November, 1915, Kitchener said to Lord Kitchener, 'You are making all your calculations on the understanding that Russia will be with you to the end. I am making my calculations in the almost certainty that her armies will not stand by for twelve months longer.' Thus, Lord Kitchener foretold the military collapse of Russia."

IS VERY PICTURE OF HEALTH NOW

St. John Man Says Wife Is Like A Different Woman
Since She Began Taking Tanlac.

"A little more than a month ago my wife didn't have the strength to say on her feet an hour at a time, but today she can do her housework with ease and is the very picture of health," said Harold Moses, 73, Erie Street, St. John, N. B.

"I guess my wife has gone through about as much suffering as any woman ever did," he said. "It just looked like she couldn't stay out of bed, she was so weak and run down. Lots of mornings she got up and I thought she was feeling better, but in a little while she would have to go back to bed again."

"She ate very little, all she usually took was a piece of bread and a glass of milk. She said she never felt hungry and that anything else made her sick. She suffered dreadfully from gas and pains in the stomach and side. Whenever she tried to do any of the housework it would exhaust her so that she would have to give up."

"That's exactly the way she suffered before she began taking Tanlac, but today she looks like a different person and says she is feeling better than she has in years. Her appetite is just fine and she can eat anything and it never gives her a sign of trouble. Gas has stopped forming and these pains have all gone and she sleeps as sound as any child I ever saw. She is never troubled in any way whatever and has gained so much in weight and strength that she is now doing her own housework."

Tanlac is sold in Digby by P. W. Holdsworth and in Bear River by the Bear River Drug Store and by the leading druggist in every town.

MR. SORER EXPLAINS

To the Editor of the Courier:

SIR: In your issue of January 14th, under the heading of "The Bear River Weekly Courier," I notice an extract from "The Halifax Herald" about the unfair treatment handed to woodmen, and as this article concerns my reputation I beg to give you the following explanation in regards to this matter and would ask you to also insert my letter in your next issue and forward a copy of same.

When I went down to Halifax to secure men for the woods, I went in the capacity of The Bathurst Employment Bureau, of which I am the proprietor.

As the men state, I hired them at the rate of $75.00 to $80.00 per month and their transportation paid, providing they remain three months on the job.

When I hired these men I made them clearly understand that if they were no busmen it was of no use for them to hire with me, but I received the answer from each and every one that they all had been in the woods before. I also made them understand that once we arrived to Quebec, I would hand them over to an other party who would take them on further, after they had signed a contract in Quebec. Undoubtedly if these men only got paid $26.00 it must have been because the foreman found they could not do their work, having no experience in the woods, and if these men would only look up the contract I gave them and which I read to each one, they will see that it clearly and distinctly states if they are not able to do the work they hire for, they would be rated according to what they can and do perform. This is one of the main reasons why I told them that if they had never been in the woods it was no use for them to go up.

I might state that I hired some men from around this district, who are real woodsmen and they returned and advised me that they not only got paid what they were promised but even more, so you can readily understand that there must be some reason for them not receiving any more than what they state.

As far as these men suing me, I am ready to go to the court and the court will be able to decide whether there was breach of contract or not.

As I wish to rectify myself before the public eyes I would appreciate it highly if you would see that this letter appear in your next issue.

Thanking you in anticipation for your kind attention to this matter I remain, yours very truly, HERBERT L. SORER.

Memo of Stock on Farm, Jan. 1st, 1921

1 horse, 5 cows, 2 pigs, 15 hens.
There were four hogs killed during the year weighing 260 lbs., 242 lbs., 239 lbs., 268 lbs., respectively. All this has been consumed on the farm.

The products raised during 1920 were 26 tons hay, 60 bus. oats, 5 loads straw, 370 bus. potatoes, 205 bus. turnips, 60 bus. table beets, 70 bus. carrots, 200 head of cabbage, 45 bus. parsnip, green peas, beans, cucumbers, squash, radish, lettuce, butter, milk and eggs to supply the home.

(Sgd.) J. ARTHUR MARSHALL, Keeper.

Your Committee advertised for tenders for supplies and medical attendance for the year 1921 in the Digby Courier and on the 18th, of December, 1920, met at the Court House in Digby and awarded the contracts.

There was only one tender for Medical attendance, from Dr. DuVerne; his tender was not accepted.

Tenders were received from M. Webber & Sons, J. L. Peters and H. T. Warne for Dry Goods. This contract was awarded H. T. Warne.

Tenders for groceries, flour etc., were received from A. A. Shortliffe, H. T. Warne and A. R. Curdall. Your Committee did not think it wise to make a contract for the year, so made a contract with H. T. Warne for four months.

Your committee finds that during the last ten years the cost per day per inmate, including their food and clothes, heat, light, medical and other attendance, has been as follows:

1911	$ 0.235
1912	0.234
1913	0.224
1914	0.175
1915	0.195
1916	0.175
1917	0.175
1918	0.203
1919	0.273
1920	0.291
1921	0.291

The Committee, appointed by the Municipal Council of Clare and from the Council of the town of Digby, has been appointed to the matter of establishing a health clinic, met at the Court House with Dr. Hattie, the Provincial Health Officer, who explained the matter thoroughly.

The delegates from Clare refused to take any part in the proceedings and it was afterwards arranged by Dr. Hattie that the clinic established at this point, would be in connection between the municipality of Digby, the town of Digby and the County of Annapolis. A nurse has been secured by Dr. Hattie to take up the work during the present month, or soon after the schools open and a clinic will be held fortnightly, alternately here and at Bridgetown.

Provisions will have to be arranged for the furnishing of a room here; your Committee has arranged to make use of a vacant room in the Court House instead of renting a room, as heat is already provided. (To be continued)

Skin Sufferers Read—

"I had a severe attack of Eczema," says Mr. Michael Taylor of Reading, Sask. "My body was simply covered with eruptions. I had great discomfort and skin eruptions that money could buy for I bit upon Zani-Buk."

Zani-Buk proved the very treatment I needed. I used Zani-Buk Medical Soap for bathing and afterwards applied the Zani-Buk Ointment in liberal quantity. Soothing and comforting, this treatment soon brought another eruption, however, with which I was able to deal by the use of Zani-Buk for Cure. Wounds or cuts, its healing power is astonishing. LUMBAGO

If you feel a touch of lumbago, you can ward off the evils of recurrent attacks, by taking Glu Pills without delay. Learn a lesson from the experience of Mr. H. A. Jukes. After suffering with lumbago for years, and being confined to the house at times, Mr. Jukes began to take Glu Pills. His letter to us reads, in part: "and much to my surprise, I at once felt a change for the better. I have been taking them at intervals, and, up to date, have had no recurrence of my old trouble; in fact, I have not felt better for years."

Want to Feel Just Right?

Take an NR Tonight

JUST TRY IT AND SEE how much better you feel in the morning. That "tired," "drowsy," "stiff," "ache-laden" feeling will be gone—you'll feel fine.

TROUBLE IS your system is clogged with a lot of impurities that your over-worked digestive and eliminative organs can't get rid of. Pills, oil, salts, cathartics and other laxatives, cathartics and purgatives only force the bowels and prod the liver.

Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets) acts on the stomach, liver, bowels and even kidneys, not forcing, but cleansing and strengthening these organs. The result is prompt relief and real, lasting benefit. Make the test. Nature's Remedy will act promptly, thoroughly, yet so mildly, so gently, that you will think nature herself has come to the rescue and is doing the work.

And, what a relief! You'll be glad to feel just like you feel—free from the "tired," "drowsy," "stiff," "ache-laden" feeling. You'll be glad to feel just like you feel—free from the "tired," "drowsy," "stiff," "ache-laden" feeling. You'll be glad to feel just like you feel—free from the "tired," "drowsy," "stiff," "ache-laden" feeling.

A Tale of Youth and Summer Time and the Easter Festival, Especially William

By BOOTH TARKINGTON
Copyright, 1911, 1914, by Metropolitan Magazine.

"Ma'am" said William anxiously, and the eyes he turned upon her were glassy with anxiety.

"Don't you want to dance?" Mrs. Parcher repeated. "Have you looked around for a girl without a partner?"

"Girl?" he echoed in a tone of feebly inquiry.

She smiled and nodded, taking his arm. "You come with me," she said. "I'll fix you up."

William suffered her to conduct him across the yard. Intensely preoccupied with what he meant to do as soon as the music ceased, he was somewhat hazy, but when he perceived that he was being led in the direction of a girl sitting solitary under one of the maple trees the sudden shock of fear aroused his faculties.

"What—where?" he stammered, halting and seeking to detach himself from his hostess.

"What is it?" she asked.

"I got—I got to—"

His purpose was to excuse himself on the ground that he had to find a man and tell him something important before the next dance, for in the confusion of the moment his powers were reduced to their originality. But the vital part of his intended excuse remained unspoken, being disregarded and cut short, as millions of other excuses diplomatically have been throughout the centuries by the decisive action of ladies.

Miss Boka had been sitting under the maple tree for a long time—so long, indeed, that she was acquiring a profound distaste for forestry and even for maple syrup. In fact, her state of mind was as desperate in its way as William's. And when a hostess leads a youth in almost perfectly fitting conventional black toward a girl who has been sitting through dance after dance that girl knows what that youth is going to have to do.

It must be confessed for Miss Boka that her eyes had been fixed on William from the moment Mrs. Parcher addressed him. She sprang to her feet and met Mrs. Parcher more than half way.

"Oh, Mrs. Parcher!" she called, coming forward.

"I got—" the panic-stricken William again hastily began. "I got to—"

"Oh, Mrs. Parcher!" cried Miss Boka. "I've been so worried! There's a candle in that Japanese lantern just overhead, and I think it is going out."

"I'll run and get a fresh one in a minute," said Mrs. Parcher, smiling benevolently and retaining William's arm with a little difficulty. "We were just coming to find you. I've brought—"

"I got to—I got to find a girl," William made a last stricken effort.

"Miss Boka, this is Mr. Baxter," said Mrs. Parcher, and she turned to him with a smile. "He and you both came late, dear, and he hasn't any dances engaged either. So run and dance and have a nice time together."

The full horror of his position was revealed to William in the relieved, confident, proprietorial smile of Miss Boka, for William lived by a code from which no previous experience had taught him any means of escape. Mrs. Parcher had made the statement, so needless and so ruinous, that he had no engagements, and in his dismay he had been unable to deny this fatal truth. He had been obliged to let it stand.

He had to give form to the fatal invitation. "Ma'am this dance 'thout?" he muttered doggedly.

"Hurry please!" Miss Boka responded, whereupon they walked in silence to the platform, stepped upon its surface and embraced.

They made a false start, then another. They stood staring to catch the time, then made another. After that they tried again and were saved from a fall only by spasmodic and noticeable contortions.

Miss Boka laughed tolerantly, as if forgiving William for his awkwardness, and his hot heart grew hotter with that injustice. A coarse chuckle, a half-suppressed snore, assailed William's secret ear, and from the corner of his eye he caught a glimpse of Joe Bullitt gliding by, unfrustrated, while over Joe's detached shoulder could be seen the adorable and pliant face of the other girl, also smiling.

"Forgive me," William panted.

"Oh, you mustn't be discouraged with yourself," said Miss Boka gently. "You met Joe of men that had trouble to get started and turned out to be right good dancers, after all. It seems to me we're kind of working against each other. I'll tell you, you kind of let me do the guiding and I'll get you going too. Now! One, two, three."

Halifax to Weymouth

of animal. The tourist not satisfied, with the facilities for enjoyment, at his disposal, in the bright little town, must be a sculpin, as the years rolled along. I got to know some of the town's active and able professional and business men, and can quite understand how Digby has been put to stay, on the central part of the map of Nova Scotia.

Climbing on the wharf, from the steamer, I saw with pleasure, the friendly smiling face of George Crutskank, Government Savings' Bank Inspector. He said, "He was also bound for Weymouth." We took a round about walk to the station, when we got there, the train had but come up from the wharf, and near the baggage car, a decoy of a racket was going on, a short, stout man, with a rosy countenance, bright snapping eyes and the voice of a speaking trumpet, was bawling at two men in the car, whom he accused of purposely misbehaving a trunk.

From the astonishingly rapid flow of abuse, I awaited the men jumping out on him. Getting nearer, I saw the men laughing heartily. For that matter so was everyone within hearing. My friend said, he was a dry goods traveller from St. John, and that underneath all his breezy way, was a personality I would like, when I got to know him.

My later experience confirmed my friend, I admired Alfred Ellis, for his big heart and the tender way, in which he handled some of his customers, when they needed help.

I have been honoured, with the cordial friendship of many of the "Trade Scouts" of the Maritime Provinces. The men, always courteous, loyal to their house, fair to customer and firm, and, unceasingly working, to add to that intangible, but solid asset of a business concern,—good-will. Were it not against the law I would accompany, in deed,—as well as thought, my friends to you, Gentlemen.

Setting ourselves in the smoker, I made the acquaintance of Conductor McNutt, who then had the run from Digby to Yarmouth. I do not know, at this date, whether he is in the flesh, or out of it, but I retain the happiest memories of a splendid example, mentally and physically, of the Highland race.

Halt! Who goes there? Someone with a cough. Stop friend! Stop cough! you are under arrest. Thousands of such arrests are being made every day in all parts of Canada. Too long have coughs and colds evaded justice and caused untold suffering to humanity, but at last they have been cornered and overpowered by Canada's famous cough detective—Buckley's Bronchitis Mixture.

Did you ever hear of this wonderful remedy? Why, everybody is talking and writing about the great work it is doing in curing coughs, colds, bronchitis, asthma, etc.

The following is one of thousands of letters received—"Kindly accept my sincere thanks for the benefit my wife derived by the use of one of your bottles of Buckley's Mixture. For over thirteen years she has suffered acutely. After spending dollar after dollar upon various remedies, a relief was obtained. Hearing of your most marvelous remedy she decided to give it a trial and I am glad to say one bottle has made her well. You are at liberty to use my name and should be only too pleased to answer any inquiries. Sincerely yours, John Holmes, Yorkville Ave."

The original of this letter may be seen at W. E. Barclay, Limited, 140 Mutual St., Toronto. Don't allow a cough or cold to linger with you. Away with it! Hal! Abstract

ing. There were very few people at the station, when he began dancing with myself and my bewildered companions.

Forbes had just told him; "I was not in his line," and he was apparently, "as mad as a hatter."

He had a choice lot of funny expressions with which he pelted me. Driving in between a long stringing of a light Fish Café! How did you like that?" Mr. Jones got away and in his team, from where, as they drove off, we could hear Ellis's advice to "advance agents" and Forbes "hurry Haw! Haw! Haw!"

Poor old chaps! Like countless other good fellows, they have joined the "Great Majority." Strange things happen in life, Mr. Ellis no longer after his outburst, became a traveller, and a very successful one for a celebrated Halifax Paint Company.

I had intended in this paper giving my early and later impressions of my friends, but I am afraid must be content with landing you at the station, though tempted to take you for a walk down Riverside Drive, starting from the Tower Pump. It is our Fifth Avenue.

THE BEAR RIVER WEEKLY COURIER

"For Home and Country"

Edited by the Woman's Institute of Bear River

"For Home and Country"

"Cascarets" for Constipation

Just think! A pleasant, harmless Cascaret works while you sleep and has your liver active, bowels clear, stomach sweet and bowels moving as regular as a clockwork morning. No gripping or discomfort. In 45 or 60 cent boxes. Children love this candy cathartic too.

BEAR RIVER BAPTIST CHURCH

The annual meeting was held January 4th, 1921. Written reports from practically all departments of Church work were received. Clerk reported a resident membership of three hundred and seventy-seven, and a total membership of about one hundred and seventy-seven. Pastor reported a resident membership of three hundred and seventy-seven, and a total membership of about one hundred and seventy-seven. GROCCERS TAKING LESS PROFIT ON MANY LINES

Red Rose Tea People Make a Further Statement

Some of our friends among the grocers, in speaking of our letter to the press on grocer's profits, have indicated that apparently it has been construed by some readers to mean that Red Rose Tea was the only article on which the grocer takes a smaller profit, in order to give his customers a higher quality. It was not our intention to convey such an impression, as we know that most grocers sell well known brands of other goods at less profit than they could make on some brands equally well known, and for the same reason that they recommended Red Rose Tea, simply to give their customers the best possible value.

In our letter we mentioned Red Rose Tea because it naturally came first to our mind and because we knew that grocers were selling it at a less profit than they make on other teas. T. H. Estabrooks Co., Limited, St. John, N. B.

Local and General

The ladies of the Methodist A.M. Society spent a pleasant afternoon on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Harry Parry. The Women's Institute will hold their monthly meeting in the Temperance hall on Monday afternoon, Feb. 7th, at 8:30 o'clock. A large attendance is requested. The Baptist circle met with Mrs. Emerson Read on Tuesday evening. Refreshments were served and a most enjoyable time was spent.

Again we have had to crowd out of western letter from Tom McDonald. Sickens is keeping us short handed and we have such a congestion of other work that we cannot handle anything except news for the paper at present. We will try again next week.

The Digby Male Quartette were greeted with a large and appreciative audience last Thursday evening, when they gave their popular concert in the Great Hall under the auspices of the Epworth League of the Methodist Church. It is to be regretted that the only evening of the quartette could find it convenient to come to Bear River, our concert hall in Quilley School was previously engaged. Financially it was a success to the League, who are very grateful to the Digby friends who gave their time and talent in its behalf.

The Adult Bible Class of the Methodist Church met on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Florence Venn. A very interesting program of music and readings was rendered and a dainty lunch served.

By the time the Courier reaches its readers this week we expect our new steel bridge to be open for traffic, which event will be hailed with delight by Bear River and surrounding country. As will be remembered on the night of March 13th 1920, the bridge then spanned the river and both tiers on which it rested, were carried away by the great freshet, and between the two parts of the town was a "great gut" nearly one hundred feet wide. However our resourceful citizens in less than forty-eight hours had a suspension bridge in working order which carried foot passengers for some weeks and the work of building concrete piers commenced as soon as weather conditions would permit. As it was found impossible to place an order with any steel company for early delivery of a bridge suitable for our needs a wooden bridge was thrown across the river as a make shift for the summer. Much sooner than we had dared hope we have had placed on splendid concrete piers what is said to be the best bridge of its kind in the province. Which, being a "thing of beauty" we expect to be a "joy forever."

Development of four new collieries on our coast recently recovered by a diamond drill core, will be undertaken by the Dominion coal company, at Sydney. This will bring the total number of collieries operated by the company up to twenty and entail an additional expenditure of $2,000,000.

"Oh! What A Difference!"

That is what everyone says who comes to our store and hears the pure musical tone of Edison's Amberola Phonograph, after listening to shrill "talking machines" and the metallic sound of ordinary phonographs. That is what you will say when this revelation of pure melody greets your ears. No wonder Edison's Amberola has proved its marked superiority over ordinary phonographs in great public tests.

EDISON'S NEW DIAMOND AMBEROLA

is the world's greatest phonograph value—the "master product of Edison's master mind." Just consider its genuine Diamond Point Reproduction, which forever does away with the bother and expense of changing needles! And Amberol Records are just as far superior to ordinary records. They are practically indestructible, and give years of enjoyment after ordinary records have broken and been thrown away.

When you consider that you can own Edison's Amberola on practically your own terms you must realize you owe it to yourself and your family to come to our store without delay and let us play the world's best music for you on this wonderful phonograph. Don't delay your visit—come today, tomorrow, as soon as possible—we will expect you. Bring all the family and your friends, too—they will all be welcome.

As the electric telegraph was an advance over previous methods of communication, so is "TIP TOP TEA" an advance in quality over all other teas.

Remnant and Cash Discount Sale at The Bear River Trading Co., Ltd.

Our Annual Remnant and Discount Sale which always follows at our store after stock-taking will be held February 11th and 12th.

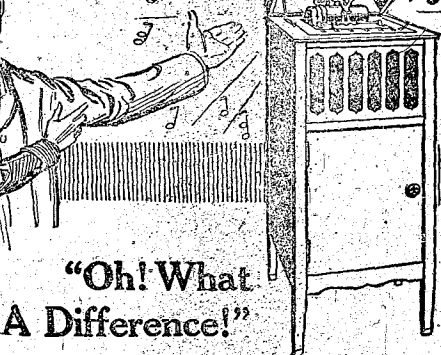

We offer you the remnants of our entire stock and many lines and broken lots of Dry Goods, Ready-to-wear Clothing, Boots and Shoes, Rubbers, Wall Paper, etc. etc., at crowd driving prices.

We also offer you special cash discounts on any purchases you make from our regular stock in our Dry Goods, Grocery and Feed Department during the sale.

High values will go at low prices. It is impossible to itemize every article and quote its prices.

Friday and Saturday, February the 11th and 12th, will be the day of days. Taking advantage of it will be your duty.

MT. ALLISON OF THE PAST

Mount Allison, founded in 1843, to provide the means of a higher Christian Education for the young men and women of limited means of the Maritime Provinces, has been carrying on just that programme.

Within her doors have been educated some of Canada's most brilliant men and women; her record is one of the most enviable of all educational institutions of the Dominion in both times of peace and times of war.

Mount Allison of To-day

Today she is carrying out the traditions of the past, accomplishing wonders in overcoming great financial handicaps.

Her present staff of loyal professors and instructors have, almost without exception, been offered positions recently, at salaries of from one-third to double the salaries they are now receiving.

Today she is seriously handicapped through lack of adequate endowment that she is daily facing the probable loss of valuable members of the staff through tempting offers from other more wealthy universities.

Today she is laboring in crowded dormitory rooms, study and lecture halls.

Mount Allison of To-morrow

Tomorrow, Mount Allison, if her friends do not fail her now, in this most trying time of need, will bloom forth as one of the foremost institutions of learning in the entire Dominion.

Tomorrow will see her with a student body of from 1200 to 1500, a figure that could be attained today, were facilities on hand to accommodate them.

MOUNT ALLISON HAS:

- a realty, valuation of $1,000,000.
- a present endowment of $366,000 invested at a time when the dollar was worth three times its present value.
- a campus comprising approximately forty acres.
- a group of eight college buildings gracing her campus.
- the best equipped chemical laboratory in the Maritime Provinces.
- 14 professors and 7 instructors in the University alone, and every one of them sadly underpaid.
- a student registration list of 1,040.
- a former student list of 15,000.
- educated leaders in every walk of Canadian life.
- graduates on the Supreme Court Bench of every province in Canada.
- a library of 26,000 books and no place to file them!
- an Art Department, one of the finest in all Canada.
- a Conservatory of Music recognized as the best of its kind in Canada.
- one of the finest Preparatory and Commercial Schools in Canada.

MOUNT ALLISON NEEDS:

- sufficient endowment to enable her to hold her present staff of professors and teachers, all of whom are sadly underpaid and most of whom have received offers from other colleges at salaries from one-third to double their present salary.
- a Library Building in which to house her present library of 26,000 books, half of which, at present are stored in boxes in 10 different rooms—out of circulation, consequently, worthless to the student body.
- money to establish two new chairs, and assistant professorships in two or more of the present overcrowded departments.
- Residence for University Girls who are at present quartered in a leased hotel building away from the campus.
- a new Science Building, wherein her excellent laboratory may be made more efficient.
- adequate housing facilities to accommodate a student body of from 1,200 to 1,500 students within the next 10 years.
- a new Gymnasium and Drill Hall to replace 'Old Lingley' which was destroyed by fire January 31, 1921.
- MORE HELP, NOW, TODAY, THAN SHE HAS EVER ASKED FOR OR RECEIVED IN HER HISTORY OF NEARLY 70 YEARS!

The week of Feb. 7th to 13th will be known as Mount Allison Week throughout the Maritime Provinces, and during that time an organized effort on the part of 6,000 Christian men and women will be made to secure through two-year subscriptions, the sum of $500,000, so that Mount Allison may retain her present high position. Surely your interest in Christian education will not suffer the appeal to go unheeded!

PORT WADE

Jan. 27th.
On Wednesday evening quite a number of the citizens of Port Wade gave an interesting surprise party to Mr. and Mrs. Howard Burke. It being the 40th anniversary of their wedding. A nice Rayo Lamp and purse of money were the presents which were presented by E. H. Johns, in a few well chosen remarks. Wilfred L. Kendall supplied the music by a Columbia Gramophone. A beautiful supper of refreshments was served and a general social, good time was enjoyed.

Robert Burke, went to the Kentville San. this morning for a short stay. We hope to see him out again soon.

Schooner Mapleland, Capt. Randall, of Port Wade, called off here over Sunday and Monday and called to announce to lay up for the balance of the winter.

Miss Jessie Kendall, returned home from Digby on Saturday.

We are pleased to see Mrs. L. Comely home again from Kentville Sanatorium.

The Lumber Kings are placing high piles of logs on the Pundy shore. The boys say that Barnum & Bateman will be able to corner the market.

Mrs. Ernest Ellis and children, of Digby, are visiting her relatives here and parents at Thorpe Cove.

John Reed and son Stanley, are now occupying their new home recently purchased of Wiswall Corp., Middleton.

Miss Bessie Ellis, of Montreal, is making a short visit with her parents here.

TOWN OF DIGBY

Office of Town Clerk and Treasurer.

Notice is hereby given that the assessment roll for the town of Digby, upon which the rates will be levied in and for the said town for the present year 1921 has been filed in the office of the undersigned, the town clerk, and that the said roll is open to the inspection of the ratepayers of the town.

And further take notice that any person, firm, company, association or corporation assessed in such roll, who claims that he or it should not be assessed or who claims that he or it is over-assessed in such roll, may, on or before the tenth day of February next, give notice in writing to the undersigned, the town clerk, that he or it appeals from such assessment in whole or in part, and shall in such notice state particularly the grounds of objection to such assessment.

And further take notice that if any person assessed in such roll claims that any person, firm, company, association or corporation has been assessed too low, or has been omitted from or wrongfully inserted in such roll, he may, on or before the tenth day of February, give notice in writing to the undersigned, the town clerk, that he appeals in respect to the assessment or non-assessment of the said person, firm, company, association or corporation and shall in such notice state particularly the grounds of his objection.

Dated at Digby, this 20th day of January 1921.

HARRY L. DENNISON, Town Clerk.

A Tale of Youth and Summer Time and the Bachelor Family, Especially William

By BOOTH TARKINGTON
Copyright, 1914, 1916, by Metropolitan Magazine.

William ceased to struggle for dominance, and their efforts to "get started" were at once successful. He had a helpless feeling, fully warranted by the circumstances. He soon became aware that Miss Boke's powerful "guiding" was observed by the public, for after one collision, more severe than others, a low voice hissed in his ear:

"She won't hurt you much, silly girl."

"She's only to teach."

This voice belonged to the dancer with whom he had just been in painful contact, Johnnie Watson.

"It's just love dancing," said Miss Boke veneerly. "Don't you, Mr. Butler?"

"What?" he gulped. "Yes."

"It's lovely," she murmured. "I hope they will play it here. Sweet. How very early at parties in this town. I could keep on like this all night!"

CHAPTER XIX. Married.

THE gasping William it seemed that she already had kept on like this all night, and he expressed himself in a way that was frank, agonized moan of relief when the music stopped. "I sh' think mustcans'd be dead!" he said as he wiped his brow. And, then, after covering May Parker stood at his elbow, he spoke hastily to her. "May the next thou?"

But Miss Parker had begun to applaud the musicians for an encore.
She shook her head. "Next's the third extra," she said. "And, anyhow, this one's going to be encored now. You can have the twenty-second if there is any."

William threw a wild glance about him, looking for other girls, but the timid orchestra began to play the encore, and Miss Boke, who had been applauding, instantly cast herself upon his bosom. "Come on!" she cried.
"Don't let's miss a second of it. It's just glorious!"

When the encore was finished she seized William's arm, and mentioning that she'd left her fan upon the seat under the maple tree, added: "Come on! Let's go get it quick!"

Under the maple tree she fanned herself and talked as they love for dancing until the music sounded again.

"Come on!" she cried then. "Don't let's miss a second of it! It's just glorious!"

And, grasping his arm, she propelled him toward the platform with a merry little rush.

So passed five dances—long, long dances.

Likewise five dances—long, long dances.

After each dance Miss Boke conducted him back to the maple tree, also from the general throng, and William found the intermissions almost equal to his martyrdom upon the platform.

But, as there was a barely perceptible balance in their favor, he collected some fragments of his broken spirit when Miss Boke would have borne him to the platform for the sixth time, and begged to "let this one out," alleging that he had "kind of turned his ankle or something," he believed.

The confidant girl at once placed him upon the chair and gallantly proffered another for herself. In her solicitude she sat close to him, looking fondly at his face, while William, though painful, then rubbing his ankle for plaster's sake, gazed at the platform with an expression which Gustave Dore would gratefully have found suggestive. Upon the many colored platform the ineffable One drifted to and fro, back and forth, her little blond head, in a golden net, gliding here and there like a bit of tissue blowing across a flower garden.

And when that dance and its encore were over she went to lean against a tree, while Wallace Banks fanned her, but she was so busy with Wallace that she did not notice William, though she passed near enough to waft a breath of violet scent to his wan nose. A fragment of her silver speech tinkled in his ear:

"Oh, Wallace Banks, bid bid want have Brer's Solo-Joe's dance. Yes, Joe say! Lola must be fair. Wallie must!"

"That's what Miss Pratt" observed
Miss Boke, following William's gaze with some interest. "You met her yet?"

"Yes," said William.

"She's been visiting here all summer," Miss Boke informed him. "I was at a little tea this afternoon, and some of the girls said this Miss Pratt said she'd never dream of getting engaged to any man that didn't have $750,000. I don't know if it's true or not, but I expect so. Anyway, they said they heard her say so."

William lifted his right hand from his ankle and passed it time after time across his damp forehead. He did not believe that Miss Pratt could have expressed herself in so mercenary a manner, but if she had—well, one fact in British history had so impressed him that he remembered even after examination: William Pitt, the younger, had been prime minister of England at twenty-one. Undoubtedly Miss Boke's bit of gossip added somewhat to her already sufficient anxieties of William's situation.

MRS. COOK IS NOW ENJOYING HEALTH

Says Tanlac Ended Her Troubles Last October and She's Felt Fine Ever Since.

"I was down in bed and had been there for three weeks when I began taking Tanlac, but by the time I had finished the first bottle I was up walking around and now after taking four bottles I am a perfectly well and happy woman," said Mrs.
D. Cook, 21 York street, St. John's
N. F.

"Besides restoring my health Tanalac has built me up to where I have actually gained thirty pounds in weight."
"The past twenty years have been one unbroken period of misery for me. I had chronic indigestion and my appetite had become so poor
I ate scarcely enough to keep alive.
I lost weight and strength and became so weak and thin I was unable to do my housework. My head would throb so bad I could not bear to lay it on the pillow.
My nerves were almost a total wreck, and at times I shook like a leaf. My kidneys were badly dis-ordered and my back hurt continually. I don't believe I enjoyed a single night's sleep during the past twenty years."

"I have never seen anything more wonderful than the way Tanlac restored my health. Why, for the first time in my life I can say I enjoy good health."

"This was all last October and I have retained the thirty pounds I gained and have been feeling just fine ever since. I am doing all my housework now, and I simply couldn't ask to feel better."

Tanalac is sold Digby by P. W.
Holdsworth and in Bear River by the Bear River Drug Store and by the leading druggist in every town.

THE BAKER ESTATE.

We have been reading a lot lately about the Jacob Becker or Baker estate, and of the claims made by the heirs in this vicinity. E. B. Parker, of River View, was in town last week and he is of opinion that the prospects of getting at least a quarter of this great inheritance are good.

He tells us that the Digby county heirs are from a well defined line direct from Samuel Becker or Baker (brother of Jacob) who came to this country on a vessel built by himself in Philadelphia and landed near River View at Waldeck, which he named. He spent the rest of his life in the United States, according to Mr. Parker's statement, is almost complete on this one line, and he thinks that now is the time they should demand their rights.

NOTES OF THE VICTORIAN ORDER OF NURSES

The monthly meeting of the local branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses was held on Tuesday afternoon in the Town Hall. The Treasurer reported $183.
50 on hand.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to the Male Quartette and Rev. D. E. Hart, in appreciation of their services at the song recital given on Jan. 30th, in the Baptist church, thus showing their kindly interest in our work for a Victorian Nurse.

In connection with the nurse's work, it is necessary to have towels, bed-linen, cutlery for babies, etc. to loan. Would all of you care to contribute any of these articles send them in to Mrs. Charles Carty as soon as possible.

LITTLE RIVER

We are pleased to have Mrs. Burpee Frost with us again after an absence of six weeks, she having undergone a successful operation at Halifax.

Ernest Benton is able to be out again after his serious fall in which he broke one of his ribs, although not able to resume his work.

Mr. and Mrs. Ingersoll, of Grand Manan is visiting her sister, Mrs. Martha Denton, and other relatives here.

Austin Denton while cutting pine wood, had the misfortune to have a tree fall and strike him on the head causing a deep gash. Dr. Rice was called and several stitches had to be taken. At this writing the wound is progressing favorably.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Denton and their little son have moved into the Turner Guthrie house.

Our popular nurse, Mrs. Alonzo Morehouse, has recently returned from Digby, where she has been employed at the home of Mrs. Guy Morehouse.

Capt. and Mrs. B. Cheney, of Grand Manan, are visiting their son, Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Cheney.

Lindell Collins recently spent a few days at Weymouth.

The men who came here to cut pulp wood for Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Gidney, of Mink Cove, have finished here and moved to Waterford last week.

A few drivers remaining to haul it out of the woods.

Mr. and Mrs. William Frost and family have recently moved into their new house on the east side of the river.

Hugh Denton has returned home from Portland.

Mrs. Harold Comeno, New York, and lithographer are visiting her mother, Mrs. Sarah Denton.

The Ladies Aid Society met at the home of Mrs. Doughtie Denton. A goodly number were present.

MILLIONS KILLED IN ACTION

Wonderful news! Millions and millions of people killed in action. There are thousands and thousands of victims relieved of bronchitis, asthma, coughs, and colds. There is great rejoicing in the fact that science has at last invented the world's greatest death trap for germs—this is the Minko-Mitro.

With the first dose this remedy gets right down to business, and never ceases to work. It is a destructive work until every trace of the disease is completely removed and the victim restored to normal health. Letters from all parts of Canada praising this wonderful mixture are literally pouring into headquarters.

Read this letter: "Years of suffering from this terrible affliction, bronchitis, asthma, ordered by all medical men to close my business in Montreal and go south to a warmer climate, but I noticed your ad. in the Montreal Standard."

For the above mixture and I said
I would give you more trial to health before I leave my native town, and thank the good maker I did not.

My bronchitis was so bad, the hacking cough has disappeared, the wheezing has ceased, my lungs are strong, and all discomforts have gone since taking your wonderful mixture."

Herbert
Smith, 417
St. James Street,
Montreal.

There is no reason whatever why you cannot be completely and speedily recovered from this disease and take the easy. You are satisfied or the money is refunded, according to our guarantee. Don't delay. Buy a bottle now from your druggist.

town Saturday. Haggett Sunday on the night train for Yarmouth.

Edna Pothier, son of Eugene Pothier, arrived last week from Wakefield, Mass., after an absence of two months. We were glad to hear of his recovery from very good health and will be obliged to go to the hospital for treatment.

J. Alex Deveau, has entered the employ of the Railway Commission, of Montreal, as travelling representative for the counties of Yarmouth and Digby.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mallett, formerly of Meteghan, were passengers from Boston by the Prince George on Friday.

The term schooner Rosanna Belliveau, of Meteghan, was sold to a lot of feed for parties in Lockport, a large dog collar from the New Brunswick Johnson Iron Co., and a quantity of iron and cannery at that place and also a quantity of feed for different parties in Lunenburg.

PORT WADE

Robert Burke is home again from sentinel duty in hospital in health.

Mrs. Ernest Ellis, of Bay View, came home from St. John, Saturday, and is now visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Morrison.

Three moose have been traveling the woods of this vicinity the past week.

Mrs. Henry and Mrs. Annie Casey, we are sorry to hear, are ill. Mrs. Casey has been ill for some time.

Mrs. E. E. Morrison, of St. John, is visiting her daughter, Mrs. E. E. Morrison, at St. John.

Garnet Morrison, of Boston, is visiting his wife at the home of her parents, Mr.
and Mrs. Abraham Morrison.

Get your organs of digestion, assimilation and elimination working in harmony and watch your trouble disappear. NR does it or money back.

One Day's Test Proves NR Best
The stomach only partly digests the food we eat. The process is finished in the intestines where the food is mixed with bile from the liver. It must be plain to any sensible person who realizes this that the stomach, liver and bowels must work in harmony if digestive troubles are to be avoided or cured. This fact also explains why sufferers from indigestion also suffer more or less from headaches, biliousness and constipation. If you are one of the many unfortunate persons who cannot eat without suffering afterward, if you are tormented by biliousness, headaches, coated tongue, bad breath, variable appetite, nervousness, loss of energy and feel your health slipping away, take this advice and get a box of Nature's Remedy (NR Tablets). Seventeen
A Tale of Youth and Summer Time and the Baxter Family, Especially William
By BOOTH TARKINGTON
Copyright, 1914, 1915, by Metropolitan Magazine.

"Up at the lake," Miss Boker chattered, "we got to use the hotel dining room for the time. It's a poor good deal like this floor is tonight—just about as good as a floor as I ever danced on. We have awfully good times up at the lake. Course there aren't so many men up there like there are here tonight, and I must say I am glad to get a chance to dance with a man again! I told you I'd dance all night once we got started and look at the way it's turned out! Our steps just suit everybody! If I must say it, I could scarcely think of anybody I ever met I'd rather dance with. When anybody's step suits in with mine that way, why, I know I can dance straight through an evening with one person, the way we're doing."

"Yes," William reassured, "I had to be when I was a kid, and I was from Mrs. Farcher had to go and pick on him! All the others went about free as air, fitting from girl to girl—just like dance this night. All except William danced with Miss Pratt! What Miss Pratt had offered him was a choice between the thirty-second dance and the twenty-third dance. It was what he had to look forward to—the thirty-second regular or the twenty-third extra!

Meanwhile, merely through eternity, he was seated upon Miss Boker. The tie that bound them oppressed him as if it had been an ill omened matrimony, and he sat beside her like a unwilling child. All the while Miss Boker had no appreciation whatever of her companion's real condition, and when little, spasmodic, staccato changes appeared in his face, as they certainly did from time to time, she attributed them to pangs in his ankle.

So they danced again and again. When the fourteenth dance came, about half an hour before midnight, they were still dancing together. It was upon the conclusion of this fourteenth dance that Mr. Farcher mentioned to his wife a change in his feelings toward William. "I've been watching him," said Mr. Farcher, "and I never saw true misery show plain. He's having a really horrible time. By George, I bet he hasn't I've been a real kind of sorry for him! Can't you trot up somebody else, so he can get away from that fat girl?"

"Mrs. Farcher shook her head in a discouraged way. "I've tried, and I've tried, and I've tried," she said. "Well, try again."

"I can't now," she waved her hand toward the rear of the house. Round the corner marched a proud procession of negroes, bearing trays, and the dancers were dispersing themselves to chairs upon the lawn for refreshments. "Well, do something," Mr. Farcher urged. "We don't want to find him in the elaters in the morning."

Mrs. Farcher looked thoughtful, then brightened. "I know!" she said. "I'll make May and Lola and their partners come sit in this little circle of chairs here, and then I'll go and bring William and Miss Boker to sit with them. I'll give Willie the seat at Lola's left. You keep the chairs."

Straightaway she sped upon her kindly errand. It proved successful, so successful, indeed, that without the slightest effort, without even a hint on her part, she brought not only William and his constant friend to sit in the circle with Miss Pratt, Miss Farcher and their escorts, but Mr. Bullitt, Mr. Watson, Mr. Banks and three other young gentlemen as well. Nevertheless Mrs. Farcher managed to carry out her plan and, after a little display of firmness, saw William satisfied and joyfully established in the chair at Miss Pratt's left.

At last, at last he sat beside the fat little creature and filled his lungs with infinitesimal particles of violet scent. She whispered: "To'ty kido boy Batsler! Lola's last night, an' little boy Batsler fust! First all night wif dray bid dir!"

William made no reply. There are occasions, infrequent, of course, when even a bachelor is not flattered by being accused of flirting. William's feelings toward Miss Boker had by this time come to such a pass that he regarded the charge of flirting with her as little less than an implication of grave mental deficiency. And well he remembered how Miss Pratt, beholding his subjugated gymnastics in the dance, had grown pink with laughter. But still the rose leaf lips whispered:

"Lola saw! Lola saw bad boy Batsler under dray bid tree fust! wif dray bid dir! First all night wif dray bid dir, bid 'nornous dir!"

Her cruelty was all unwitting. She intended to rally him sweetly. But seventeen is deathly serious, and she made a charming little point.

"Oo be so tross," she said. "Lola wif to nice man under side of her!"

HE WANTS TO PASS THE GOOD NEWS ON
"It's Wonderful The Way Tanlac Has Improved My Wife's Health," He Declares.

"The wonderful improvement in my wife's general health is entirely due to Tanlac, and I am glad of the chance to tell folks what a splendid medicine we have proved it to be," said William Armstrong, of 98 Winter St., St. John, N. B.

"No one will ever know what she has suffered during the past few years on account of indigestion and gastritis. Rich or heavy foods acted like poisons on her stomach and she had to be very careful in her diet. But even so the gas would form and bloat her up until she would almost choke and sometimes she would fairly groan with agony on account of the pains which she had after eating. She had frequent bilious attacks that left her so weak that she could hardly stand up, and at one time she was so bad that we had to send her to the hospital. They patched her up for a bit but it wasn't long before she was just as bad as ever."

"When I saw in the papers that so many people with stomach trouble were being helped by Tanlac, I got some for my wife, for I reasoned that if it didn't do her much good, it couldn't do her any harm. She often remarks now what a good thing it was when she tried Tanlac, and after the way it has helped her we have absolute faith in it. She now has a good appetite and can eat anything without fear of any stomach-trouble afterwards. She is never bothered with biliousness and indeed feels better in every way. She is more grateful than I can say for all the good Tanlac has done her and we never miss an opportunity of passing on the good news of what a splendid medicine it is."

Tanlac is sold Digby by P. W. Holdsworth, in Bear River by the Bear River Drug Store; in Weymouth by W. G. Blackadar, and by the leading druggist in every town.

If he is after the biggest profit he will never buy Red Rose Tea for it gives him less profit than other teas which he sells at the same price. But he buys Red Rose.—It has the quality.

CHILLICOTHE, O., AND THE BAKER ESTATE

CHILLICOTHE, O., is the town which was supposed to supply the Baker fortune, of which so much has been heard recently, but it now looks as if the fortune will not pan out. There are many Bakers all over Nova Scotia who claim connection with the line of "Jacob Baker" the alleged former owner of the land on which Chillicothe stands, and there is reported to be in existence a "Baker Heir's Association," but the following recent despatch would seem to indicate that the "fortune" is an uncertainty, even if a possibility.

"CHILLICOTHE, O.,—Residents of this town of 15,000 people, founded well over a hundred years ago, have been called upon at least once every decade, according to old inhabitants, to date the houses, assertions and even actual claims by alleged heirs, that the ground upon which it stands is a part of the estate of a "Jacob Baker."

"Search after search of county and municipal records, which date back to the time when Chillicothe was a mere settlement in the wilderness, have failed to reveal any "Jacob Baker" as owner or lessee of any land in this vicinity, officials declared. But only more claimants make themselves known.

"C. W. C. Perry, a veteran newspaper editor of late has found inquiries so annoying that he has prepared a form letter with which he blasts the hopes or satisfies the curiosity of correspondents, telling them that there is no basis for the story. The most recent search trace of the Baker estate was conducted by W. L. Cox, county recorder at Chillicothe, Missouri, and a former Chillicothe, O., resident. Like his predecessors he gave up the quest after several days of browsing through musty records and quill-penned documents, and "Jacob Baker" remains the mythical one as of old.

"Frequency of the inquiries and claims has led to much surmise on the part of 'old timers' as to what is back of all. Many theories have been advanced, but none has furnished a satisfactory solution."

HOUSES FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

The following is an extract of a letter received by E. E. Burnham, Secy. Treas. G. W. V. A. Digby Branch from the Provincial Secy. Treas. H. F. Hamilton.

"The Federal Parliament will appoint a special Committee to enquire into Soldiers' Problems, and this Provincial Command is anxious to ascertain how many ex-service men in this Province would avail themselves of the opportunity to secure homes of their own, if the authorities passed such legislation. In order to strengthen the hands of our Representative at Ottawa, the following information will be required from your branch. House and lot to cost, say $5,000.

1. How many would take advantage of such an Act?
2. How many of the above could deposit say 10 per cent of the Cash?
3. How many of No. 1 already own their land ready for building, clear of debt?

4. How Many who have already got married, so the homes would be transferable, and obtain loan from Federal Government at say 5 per cent interest, repayable in twenty five years; yearly payments of interest and principal.

Every returned man who wishes to take advantage of the opportunity which the passing of such legislation would afford, is urged to send in his name at once to Com. E. E. Burnham. The greater the number of names of those who would take advantage of the scheme, the greater is the possibility of securing an Act of Parliament to make the scheme possible.

In giving in your name to Com. Burnham, give the necessary information as asked above. Your co-operation is urged in this matter.

COUNTRY CHURCHES RESPONSIBLE

Big Factor in Driving Young People From Farms to Cities.

Country churches are responsible in large measure for driving young people from the farms to the cities, declares Mrs. Mary E. Oberdorfer, of Chicago, chairman of music of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

"Boys and girls naturally want to sing and dance together," she says. "Ministers who oppose such recreations, even when under proper supervision, are thereby handicapping the opportunities of all churches to do good. Community work during the war was hampered by narrow-minded preachers."

THE REST OF THE POEM

The verse beginning "The Queen of Hearts, she made some tarts, is widely known, but the remaining verses are almost unknown, in fact, few are aware that there ever was more than one verse. The poem was done by an English politician, one Channing, and some of the other verses are as follows:

Ye Queens of Spades the best ye made
For their immortality
Ye Queens of Spades he kissed those maidens
Which made the queen to cry.
Ye diamond queen was not dead
So drunk she could not stand.
Ye diamond knave he blushed and gave Ye queen a reprimand.
Ye Queens of Clubs made kingly bubs;
Ye knave came like Big Ben.
He snatched the cup and drank it up—
His toast was "Rights of men."

FOUR ECLIPSES IN PRESENT YEAR

Two Each of Sun and Moon—One Visible in Canada.

The year 1921 will afford American astronomers only a meagre opportunity to increase their knowledge of eclipses by practical observations, unless they pack their cameras and long-named instruments and tie themselves to distant parts. There will be four eclipses during the year, two of the sun and two of the moon, but neither of the solar eclipses will be visible in North America, and of only one of the lunar eclipses will it be possible to get a good view, and this only if the atmospheric conditions are favorable.

The first eclipse of the year will be an annular eclipse of the sun on March 8, which will not be visible in the United States or Canada.

Later in the same month, however, there will be a total eclipse of the moon, which may be observed all over North America, as well as the South American continent and a larger part of the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. The eclipse will begin on April 22, at 1:03 Washington time. Totality will begin at 2:23 a. m. and end at 3:05.

The third and most important eclipse of the year from a scientific viewpoint will be a total eclipse of the sun on October 1. This will not be visible in this part of the globe, but it is likely that some of the big American universities and scientific societies will send expeditions to South America, where the best observations of the astronomical phenomena will be obtained.

The fourth and last eclipse of the year will be a partial eclipse of the moon on October 16. This will be visible throughout Europe, Africa and Asia, but only the end will be visible to the people of North America.

THE BRITISH EMPIRE

There has never been under single sway so great a part of the earth as is now British. Before the world war the empire was credited with 13,153,712 square miles, distributed in Europe, Asia, Africa, the American continent and Australia.

The war added immensely to these possessions. From Germany, Great Britain took over 1,027,620 square miles, and other hundreds of thousands of square miles in Palestine, Mesopotamia, Arabia, Persia and Egypt, making a total of war requisitions of 2,264,040 square miles.

This made up an empire of 15,417,752 miles, and about 500,000,000 souls. In three continents, North America, Africa, and Australia, the empire is the largest land proprietor; in the fourth, Asia, her 3,073,970 square miles represent nearly twice the extent of imperial Rome.

Other 500,000,000 souls about 65,000,000 are self-governing citizens, the rest, subjects.

HOW TO KILL A WOMAN'S SOCIETY

Eight Rules for the Annihilation of Any Organization.

Though the following advice was recently given by a man in the Popular Engineer, members of our women's organizations might find it valuable too when making their programs for the coming year. Edward F. Williams says:

"Here are eight ways to kill an association:

"1. Don't come to the meetings."
"2. If you do come, come late."
"3. If the weather doesn't suit you, don't think of coming."
"4. If you do attend a meeting, find fault with the work of the officers and other members."

"5. Never accept office, as it is easier to criticize than to do things."
"6. Nevertheless, get so if you are not appointed on a committee, but if you are do not attend the committee meetings."

"7. If asked by the chairman to give your opinion regarding some important matter, tell him you have nothing to say. After the meeting tell everyone how things ought to be done."

"8. Do nothing more than is absolutely necessary, but when other members roll up their sleeves and willingly, unselfishly use their ability to help matters along, howl that the association is run by a clique."

RASPBERRY DISEASES

Raspberry plants are subject to a great many diseases, some of which are very destructive and cause much loss to the grower, and unfortunately, most of them do not respond to remedial or control measures.

In such a short article as this, it would not be possible to describe the symptoms and causes of each of these diseases in detail; reference to them can only be made in general way. A very complete description of them will be found in the bulletin on "Bush Fruit and their Cultivation in Canada," which may be obtained by application to the Publications Branch, Dpt. of Agriculture, Ottawa.

With the exception of the Crown Gall and the Yellow or Leaf Curl, these diseases are all caused by fungi. In Crown Gall, a bacterium is responsible for the knot-like swellings on the roots and lower part of the stem, causing the plants to become yellow and sickly and very much reducing the yield of fruit. There is not much that the grower can do to control this disease, except examine young plants prior to setting them out, discarding any

Paper With Reputation For Dependable Reading Matter Will Also Have Name For Reliable "Ads," Says Expert

Newspaper advertisements are believed by readers in direct proportion to the truth of news stories among which they are placed, according to Tracy Ellis of Indianapolis, who addressed the Better Business Bureau of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the world recently. "Confidence sells goods," he said. "The newspaper which makes a determined effort to build up great reader-confidence in its news and editorials will consequently profit through selling more advertising space. Just as the public shops for quality in merchandise, so advertisers are selecting newspapers which stand high in reader-confidence."

which show the knot-like swellings on the roots or stem. The cause of the Leaf Curl or Yellowing is unknown. It has proved very destructive to certain varieties, such as the Cutbert in some localities. There is no means of control known for this disease, and all the grower can do is to plant varieties known to be resistant in his locality.

Spraying or dusting for any of the Raspberry diseases has not yet been demonstrated to be of sufficient economic value to be recommended. The fungus diseases—the Cane Blight, Anthracnose, Spur Blight, and Orange Rust are of fairly common occurrence and at times very destructive, but in no case is there any definite treatment—the removal and burning of infected plants, or the changing of the location of the plantation being the only precautionary measures to recommend. It is good practice to change the plantation about every 5 or 6 years, because this not only prevents diseases from becoming established, but land becomes impoverished in the food requirements of the Raspberry plant in an old plantation. After the crop has been harvested, the canes which have borne fruit that season should be carefully pruned out and burned. By so doing the plantation will be rid of much material which would harbour diseases.

THE VALUE OF SELECTING THE DAIRY HERD

(Experimental Farm Notes)

For the past eight years an experiment on the grading up of a dairy herd from the common stock of the district by the use of pure bred sires from high producing dams has been carried on at the Experimental Farm at Nappan, N. S. All females, good and poor alike, have been retained in the herd not because it is the usual policy followed by the Experimental Farms but for experimental purposes. A record has been kept of all feed consumed and all milk produced; has been weighed and tested for its butter fat content. Thirty-nine have completed one or more lactation periods.

When checked up by the feed scales, milk scales, and Babcock test method, eighteen cows in this experiment had completed their sixth lactation period gave an average yearly production of 2,261 pounds of milk testing 3.66 per cent fat and yielding 225.24 pounds of butter, at a feed cost of $54.18. The average profit over feed was $23.02 or $414.36 for the eighteen. The above average production of milk is higher than that of the average dairy cow of the Dominion and may be considered as high enough to keep the cow out of the boarder class but not high enough to return much profit. Let us see how selection would have affected the above mentioned results.

An examination of the records shows that 8 of 18 cows gave less than 5000 pounds of milk, and of these two gave less than 4000 pounds and one less than 3000 pounds. Taking 5000 pounds as a fair standard of milk production, 44.5 per cent of the group would have had to be culled out. The ten remaining cows gave an average yearly production of 2,261 pounds of milk testing 3.66 per cent fat and yielding an average of 225.24 pounds of butter. The cost of feed averaged $55.65. The average profit over feed was $34.18 or $341.80 for the ten. This is the ten good cows gave within $72.56 of milk profit as the eighteen. In other words if the poor cows had been culled out $417.74 worth of feed would have been saved. This, together with the profits realized from the ten good cows, is $759.54 or $314.18 more profit than was realized from the full group of eighteen cows. Who would have culled out the poor cows? If he could get greater profit feeding? The efficacy of the Babcock test was also brought out very strongly by this experiment. For example, of two cows, one gave 6089 pounds of milk testing 2.9 per cent fat, yielding 207.15 pounds butter, at a feed cost of $56.57 and a profit over feed of $17.59, while the other gave 3075 pounds of milk testing 4.5 per cent fat yielding 162.92 pounds of butter at a feed cost of $37.65 and a profit over feed of $17.06. From a butter production standpoint, these cows were practically of equal value but if milk were the product sold the former would be much more profitable than the latter. The poorest cow in the eighteen gave 2113 pounds of milk testing on an average 2.9 per cent fat, yielding 72.07 pounds butter at a feed cost of $52.05 proving a loss of $57.42. Such a cow might easily be retained in the herd were not these tests applied.

A careful study of the individuals in a herd to ascertain which makes profitable use of the feed consumed is often warranted. For instance, one cow gave 7999 pounds of milk testing 3.3 per cent fat, yielding 310.56 pounds of butter at a feed cost of $38.33 and profit over feed of $50.22. Another cow produced 7300 pounds of milk testing 3.7 per cent fat yielding 330.38 pounds butter at a feed cost of $64.43 and a profit over feed of $49.39. This shows that the latter cow did not

DON'T BE A MEAN SCANDAL MONGER

It never pays to be a scandal monger!

Mrs. Grundy hasn't any conception of the "love that suffereth long, and is kind"—she proves it every turn of the clock around by the delight, the avidity, with which she listens to, and repeats the mean despicable things that all the World and his Wife can find time to bring her.

It's not that folks MEAN to be hateful—not that they just "start something" without any idea of making mischief. Green-eyed-Envy, Selfishness, Thoughtless Malice "get" most of us at some weak moment, and before we realize the meanness of it we've started in. "Did you hear that?" or "They say that..." and the devil gets back and rejoices while he stirs the fires way down below.

Scandal is always unhappy, and brings a whole train of miseries to camp out in the woods while the fire is being fanned. You have to plan your hat on, and tear over to the nearest neighbor as soon as you think you "know something about anyone."

The hardest thing I ever did was to convince a man that it was NOT his special providence to "expose" a girl whose unhappy story he had accidentally discovered.

He argued that "decent people should be protected against her kind," while I argued that he had no such protective notion. She had made a mistake—was living it down—there was no whisper of blame against her in the place where she was seeking to atone for a thoughtless past.

He didn't want to "protect" anyone or anything. He simply ached to be the FIRST to tell the story as it had been told to him. He wanted to say: "I always thought there was SOMETHING" to hear folks say: "It can't be true," to assure them that IT WAS—take it from him—HE KNEW!

Did I tell him all that? And then some! The girl was nothing to me, but I admired the fight she was putting up. I hated the wolf spirit that was waiting in ambush to be in at her undoing, and I sailed into Mr. Man. "Soft things can't be said in English unless you take their clothes off, and I guess I said it naked, for I got his word that he would let the girl work out her own salvation—in her own way—and he has kept it to this day."

To be "soft" on anything is to be kind when Dame Rumor is hobnobbing around to see whom she can destroy. And folks who "know all about it" sometimes prove to know nothing that can be proved; besides, the human race is pretty much alike—"You cannot read my thoughts—You cannot see within, how much of weakness lingers still. How much of grief or sin—And tho' I struggle with each hour."

You may be blind and see nothing of the road I walk—"The road that tortures me!" Have a heart, Polly, and a still tongue! Fine clothes, fine houses, fine manners—culture plus birth—these you use me pretty much alike—of the rest of humanity.

"Mrs. O'Grady and the Governor respond as economically to feed consumed as did the former for even though she consumed extra feed to the value of $6.10 and had 14 per cent fat in her favor she made 83 cents less profit."

Moral: Fix a standard of quantity, quality, and economy in milk production for your cows to go by. Buy a milk scale (which may also be used as a feed scale) and a Babcock tester; weed out the star boarders; fit them for the butcher; feed the real producers the extra feed; then watch the profits grow.

HOW LABOR WOULD TREAT LABOR

The Acid Test in Two Separate Cases

(From the Beech Review)

In analyzing the attitude of capital towards labor, it is interesting to find out how labor treats labor—that is, what the attitude of labor employed is toward the unemployed. An instance of this kind came up in the Ann Arbor Railroad. All railroad managers find it necessary, in some way, to reduce the cost of labor as the only means of avoiding higher freight rates, as Mr. Atterbury of the Pennsylvania warns, of avoiding general railroad bankruptcy.

In accordance with this necessity, the Ann Arbor Railroad proposed to its men in the mechanical and car department forces that it must either reduce working hours to seven hours per day six days in the week, or eight hours per day five days in the week. This proposition was put up to the various shop crafts by the general manager, and the question was put to a vote, whether to adopt this method of keeping all employed some of the time, or to cut off completely and throw out of employment all of the time one-eighth of the working force.

It is rather an amazing development that the result of this vote was against the cutting down of hours of labor throughout the whole force and in favor of throwing out of employment the one-eighth.

The depression in general business has swept into railroad earnings, and the rate increases which were given the roads last July have failed to produce revenue enough to carry out the provisions of the railroad bill. Business concerns, under these same conditions, have found it necessary, as they could not raise their prices and sell their goods, to reduce wages or, reduce time and increase efficiency, and this movement is widespread. The railroads, however, under the law, are not allowed to take this action unless with the consent of the Railroad Labor Board. The other recourse is to increase freight rates, but this might have the effect of further curtailing business transactions.

Vice President Atterbury does not believe there is any use trying negotiations between the railroads and the unions, because the views of the two sides are so radically opposed that no good could possibly come from such a conference.

There is, undoubtedly, a vast amount of inefficiency on the transportation systems left as a heritage from the national control. This has never been drastically remedied and cannot be under present method of procedure of the Labor Board. But the point under observation is that railroad managers are anxious to keep all their men employed, although on shorter time, while the railroad men themselves (anyway, as demonstrated by the Ann Arbor incident) prefer to drop overboard a percentage of their fellow laborers in order to keep themselves employed at full time.

A similar proposition was made to its men by the Delaware & Hudson Railroad; the matter was put to vote, and exactly the same verdict was returned by the men. They voted to cast out a proportion of their fellow workmen into the darkness of unemployment in order to keep themselves employed on full time, rather than to submit to a reduction in time all along the line which would keep all the workmen employed.

Thirty-one railways in Russia have now suspended traffic almost completely as a result of the fuel famine. Of these roads nineteen are classed as major lines and twelve as secondary.

The Boston Post says: "Professor John Cowper Powys, prominent English lecturer, in a lecture on 'The Best and Worst of Life in America,' declared, 'Prohibition is one of the worst factors in American life. Prohibition does not stop crime. Prohibition in America is ridiculed by Englishmen. Prohibition practically makes living a condition of slavery because it dictates as to what Americans may eat and drink.'"

ALFRED BODEN APPOINTED TOWN CLERK

The council chamber on Monday evening was filled with ratifiers and others and the only one outside the council having the courage of his convictions being C. A. Boden. The long expected and anticipated report of the auditors report was submitted and showed that the total shortage at the end of the year was $426.30. (We believe that $426.30 has since been paid in to the bank to the credit of the town.) It is true that the report showed that the majority of the town funds had been going on for years but it also showed that the clerk had made errors against the town. This fact does not excuse or lighten the offence but it should at an end to the very much distorted reports which have been so prevalent during the past few weeks.

This was the annual meeting of the council and it was called to order by Mayor Wain at 8.30 o'clock with the full council present.

A. M. W. Swaby was appointed clerk and the minutes of the last year session and of one special session and of the board of health were read and approved.

The report of the superintendent of streets and water was read and adopted, as follows:

To the Mayor and Mayor and Council:
GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to submit the following report on the work of the department during the past year. The work of the department has been very satisfactory and we have been able to keep the streets and water in good condition. The work of the department has been very satisfactory and we have been able to keep the streets and water in good condition.

The report of the health officer, as follows was also read and adopted:

To the Mayor and Town Councilors of Digby:
GENTLEMEN: I have the honor to submit the following report on the work of the department during the past year. The work of the department has been very satisfactory and we have been able to keep the streets and water in good condition. The work of the department has been very satisfactory and we have been able to keep the streets and water in good condition.

Several letters, (acknowledgments of previous letters and other routine matters) were read and filed, and the following bills were passed:

To Dr. Verne... $25.00
To Dr. Verne... $25.00
To Dr. Verne... $25.00

To Dr. Verne... $25.00
To Dr. Verne... $25.00
To Dr. Verne... $25.00
To Dr. Verne... $25.00

The report of the auditors—Bryce and McEwen—was then read. (This report is too lengthy to appear in the Courier this issue. Arrangements may be made for a definite column in the Courier for a future issue, but at any rate it will appear as part of the town Year Book, the publication of which has been delayed owing to the war.)

After the reading of the report was read and adopted. And with wishes to know just what the town stood.

Mr. Bryce said the shortage on December 31st, 1920, stood at $426.30 and it is said there has been paid in to the bank since that $426.30.

Coun. Troop asked if there might be other amounts still outstanding.

Mr. Bryce—There might be moneys and water rates but they are covered by a definite column in the Courier for a future issue, but at any rate it will appear as part of the town Year Book, the publication of which has been delayed owing to the war.)

The Digby Hockey Club presents the remarks of the Yarmouth Herald which intimated that they did wrong in making a copy of the letter of H. H. Gossley read at the opening of the recent Digby-Yarmouth match. The captain has shown that the letter of H. H. Gossley rules, number 4 of which reads: "Each side shall have a captain (a member of the club) to be chosen by the club for the purpose of choice of goals." This certainly implies that the Yarmouth boys were wrong.

FAVORS DAY-LIGHT SAVING

To the Editor of the Courier:
SIR—As the Digby and larger towns both in Canada and the U. S. are taking up the question of Daylight Saving it would be well for Digby to fall in line and settle this question at an early date. In St. John the ratifiers voted by a large majority to have Daylight Saving put into effect from May 2nd, September 3rd. A vote taken among the industrial and mercantile workers of New York showed that 95.3 per cent were in favor of the new time. In both instances the decisions were reached regardless of whether the ratifiers adopted the summer time or not. The chief argument urged against Daylight Saving in Digby last night was that, with the trains and street running on old time, much confusion would result. This is mere bluff. If, for example, the railway time-table had been changed to bring the trains in an hour later during the summer, how many merchants would have been opened up later each morning in order to avoid "confusion." An unwillingness on our part to adopt any scheme to bring our town up to date and promote the health and welfare of all employees, who, by the way, are in the majority, shows a lack of enterprise and a spirit of selfishness on the part of employers.

The fear of "confusion" is only an excuse for mental inertia. It would require an unnecessary mental effort for some of us to figure out whether the noon hour would arrive an hour earlier or an hour later than usual. Another argument that might be urged in favor of Daylight Saving is that it would save the time of darkness each evening during the tourist season, fewer sarcastic comments would be heard in the morning. The appearance of our business section does not lack of window lighting.

A petition will shortly be circulated, and it is urged that every merchant, tradesman and ratifier give the matter careful consideration, with a view of signing the petition by the 15th inst. It is only for spring and autumn and as in former years.

Progressive.
Digby, N. S. March 1, 1921.
JUST GETTING EVEN, THAT'S ALL!

At a local meeting this week it was forcibly impressed upon the editor that a paper should be written and signed by the towns and clergyman were trained at different times. The former trains himself to observe closely the events which transpire around him, while the latter evidently gives a superficial glance. We came to this conclusion after hearing a man who had been in the military all his life, in speaking of the difficulties in getting out a privately circulated paper, remark that until he arrived in Digby he had not realized that "it took no brains, energy or good looks to run a newspaper." And he has only learned about it in the last quarter of a century, he's slow! We learned thirty years ago, by observation, that the less a man or organization knows the more they are addicted to writing poetry.

Obituary

RICHARD DALEY
John Daley received word last week of the death of his youngest brother Richard which took place in Denver, Colo., last Tuesday following an operation for gall stones. He was the youngest son of the late Richard Daley and was born in St. John's, N. S., about twenty years ago. He went to Ravenna, Wyoming, and has ever since made his home in that place. He leaves to mourn their loss a widow, two sons and one daughter, also two brothers, John in Digby, and William in Woonung, and one sister, Miss Letitia Smock, of Los Angeles, who spent last summer in Digby.

MRS. FRANCES SURRETTE
Mrs. Frances Surrette, widow of John B. Surrette, of Wilmington, Mass., died this week in West Medford, Mass. Mrs. Surrette was born in Ed Brook, Vermont, Co., fifty-two years ago, a descendant of one of the first French settlers of the Annapolis Valley. She lived in Ed Brook for fifty years, going to West Medford, Vermont, thirty-two years ago to live with her son, John B. Surrette. She was survived by nine children, fifteen grand children and thirty-four great-grandchildren. Mrs. Surrette was a member of the St. John's Episcopal Church, of West Medford, Mass.

MRS. A. L. RAYMOND
The death of Mrs. A. L. Raymond, on January 28th, suddenly, following an operation of Christina R., widow of the late Archibald L. Raymond formerly of Digby, N. S., deceased two years ago, and was a daughter of James H. Ray, of Deep Brook. She leaves to mourn their loss a widow, two sons and one daughter, also two brothers, residing at Deep Brook; one sister and four brothers residing in the United States, and a large number of relatives. Mrs. Raymond was a member of the St. John's Episcopal Church, of West Medford, Mass.

ADJUTANT KATE W. RITCHIE
From Toronto Ont. has come to us the sad news that the late city of Adjutant Kate W. Ritchie of the Salvation Army, died at her home in Toronto, Ontario, Canada, on January 28th, 1921. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Welch of Westport, Digby Co. As a young woman, she was a very successful school teacher in different parts of Canada, giving up that work for service in the Salvation Army. She attended the training school in St. John's, N. S., later going to Italy to serve in the Rescue Home. She was stationed at various times at Turro, Spring Hill and Sydney. After receiving the rank of Captain she was sent to Bermuda to open the Salvation Army work in that island. She spent three years there, she returned and after a short further took up the work again, serving at St. John's, N. S., and later going to other places in Canada. She then went to Newfoundland, where after a period of service she was married to a Mr. D. G. Ritchie, who was a member of the "World's Council" in London. Returning they took up the work again in Newfoundland, she being principal of Salvation Army schools. From time to time she was elsewhere, after a few years her health broke down and she was at a S. A. rest camp. All that could be done for her was to keep her comfortable and to give her the best scientific treatments was done, but in spite of all, she passed away Wednesday afternoon, January 28th, at the age of fifty-five months. Scores of friends in many parts of the world will mourn a friend who has passed on in her life a truly consecrated woman who gave her life willingly to the cause in which she believed.

Her husband, she leaves four young sons, three brothers and three sisters to mourn their loss.

THE MEMORIAL FUND.
The members of the Soldiers' Memorial Fund were very much gratified this week at receiving from John Barreau, South Africa, a money order for 3 pounds to defray the fund. The contributor was Benjamin L. Thurber, formerly of Digby, who, who evidently has not lost his love for the old country. The fund now stands at $1981.48.

Mrs. M. A. Shreve $10.00
Mrs. J. H. Robertson 5.00
R. L. Thurber, Johannesburg 12.00
Total $201.48

PORT WADE
Dr. C. Chisholm, of Halifax, and Armstrong of Bridgetown, have been in the place the last week, discussing the disease so called, smallpox. The latter has given free vaccination. There are now standing in the place instead of thirty cases as the story goes.

Spring is calling a halt to the lumbermen who have been cutting away at the woods. It will no doubt be taken up with the question of profit and loss.

David Haydon is convalescing, and will soon be out at his usual duties.

Lizzie Buckles has been quite sick the past week of routine indulgence. Dr. Smith was in attendance.

Dr. Parker is mentioned as on the sick list, it is also Mrs. J. B. Litch.

Phone me. I am getting better of the disease, called smallpox. Wood piles are swelling in this place, and the water on the sale side is next summer and fall may prove almost prohibitive.

We have had a very heavy fall of rain in this locality, and the brooks are badly swollen.

Feed the birds. Digby County will send the death knell of King Alcohol, and to benefit and bless the great majority of her people.

The Magic of Zam-Buk

Zam-Buk is the last word in healing. Its rare medicinal power is derived from certain valuable herbs utilised by science for the healing of wounds and sores and other skin afflictions.

In addition to its great soothing and healing power Zam-Buk kills germs as well as excludes them from the broken skin. Zam-Buk's wide range of usefulness, its unique medicinal properties, and its handiness and economy make this rare herbal healer a necessity in every household.

"It Grows New Skin"

If you suffer with eczema, ulcers, piles, venereal sores, or other skin diseases, or injury, get a 25c. box of Zam-Buk from your chemist or druggist. Save doctors' bills.

Drifting

They were drifting, drifting, drifting,
And the sun beams they were sifting
Through the clouds that were a rifting,
And the outlook it was lifting,
For there was to be a gift.

OH YES!

Grand Pa Pa was to give a cow,
And Uncle Dan to fill the mow.
Brother Tom did make a vow
If she could wed he would make a plow.
And her sister, Sister Matt,
Why she promised a malted cat.
And little brother, Brother Ben,
Promised, the oldest speckled hen.
They were drifting on to Letteney's store,
They landed on the Dry Goods floor,
And Pa Pa Dad, Oh! Pa Pa Dad!
He bought a dress that was full of plaid!
And Ma Ma dear, Oh, Ma Ma dear,
She gave a sigh and shed one tear.
Letteney's the place to buy wedding fit out.

KAISER BRONCHITIS IN EXILE Thousands Liberated

What have you not heard the joyful tidings! Bronchitis has been exiled and rid of every vestige of its bondage of this disease. Every trace of bronchitis trouble is blown to atoms by the world's most effective disease-destroyer, Buckley's Bronchitis Mixture. No wonder people are rejoicing! No longer do they dread the effects of coughs, colds, asthma, etc., and so anxious are they that others should benefit also, hundreds of letters have been written proclaiming the merits of this wonderful miraculous remedy. Here is one letter: To Whom It May Concern: "This is to certify that I had been suffering for over three weeks with bronchitis and was advised to try Buckley's Bronchitis Mixture. I purchased a bottle and after the third dose I received relief, and before the bottle was finished, I was perfectly well. In making this public declaration I have no hesitation in saying it is the best remedy I ever came in contact with for heavy colds and bronchitis." (Signed) Mrs. M. Harding, c/o Dustless Brush Co., Toronto. The original of this testimonial may be seen at W. K. Buckley Limited, 145 Mutual St., Toronto. This mixture, proven in thousands of Canadian households, will give you relief in a few minutes. Seventy-five cents is the price that stands between you and the road to health. Take no substitutes—insist on the bottle with the "Satisfaction guaranteed, or money refunded." Ask your druggist.

COULD NOT RAISE HER HAND TO HEAD

Halifax Woman Had Suffered From Rheumatism Five Years Before She Got Tautalac.

"It is such a relief to be free from pain after all my years of suffering that I feel like going out and telling every body what a wonderful medicine Tautalac is," said Mrs. H. W. Conrad, of 131 Cunard street, Halifax, N. S.

"For five years before I started taking Tautalac I suffered so with rheumatism in my legs and side that at times I could hardly move. At night I would often wake up in terrible pain and if I tried to turn over in bed it almost made me scream out. I couldn't raise my hands above my head and it was such torture to try and do my work that I simply had to let it go. I was troubled a lot with indigestion and lost so much in strength and weight that I was a mere shadow of my former self. Although I tried almost everything in the way of medicines nothing seemed to reach my case until I tried Tautalac.

"After taking seven bottles of the medicine I am like a different woman and feel fully ten years younger. The rheumatism has left me and it is such a comfort to be able to sleep peacefully throughout the night. I have also been relieved of all stomach trouble so that I can eat anything and my appetite is just splendid. I feel so energetic all the time that my work is a real pleasure to me, and I can hardly find enough to do.

Tautalac is sold in Digby by P. W. Holdsworth, in Bear River by the Bear River Drug Store; in Weymouth by W. G. Blackadar, and by the leading druggist in every town.

WORKING IN NOVA SCOTIA

Nova Scotians take their woods and rivers, hills and lakes and their tourists are granted considering that natural beauty and historic attractions are the sole factors in developing an extensive tourist trade, but the New Englander considers this traffic as a business proposition and has organized to develop it on lines that will yield far reaching returns.

It is asserted that the business men in Boston alone profited to the amount of $5,000,000 in one year solely through its advantages as a convention and travel city.

Halifax is to have a number of large conventions in 1921, beginning with the Canadian Good Roads Association in May, followed in July by the Canadian Medical Association and others. A number of conventions are also being held at other points in Nova Scotia.

The time is opportune for us to encourage visitors to come here and to render such efficient service as will enable the visitor to not only enjoy his visit but carry away with him a friendly feeling. The psychology of the visitor to Nova Scotia should be a matter of careful study that both in a tangible and intangible way the community may benefit.

In line with this idea the Halifax Board of Trade have been for some time active in gathering data, and it is later their intention to convene a conference of all interested, so that the tourist field may be developed on lines that will yield far reaching returns.

Mr. Saunders, Secretary of the Board of Trade, circulated a large number of enquiry sheets, which are coming in daily, containing a vast deal of important information, and will appreciate suggestions and information from all interested in this traffic.

Tourist traffic to Nova Scotia properly developed should be, one of our prime industries. It means millions of dollars every year scattered throughout the country.

Another successful big game season has been concluded in Nova Scotia, the total bag accounting for 1,361 moose and 125 deer. Halifax county suffered the severest loss with 291 moose and 14 deer, followed by Annapolis with 152 and 10 respectively.

It is proposed to erect a model bungalow on sixty acres of land near the town of Antigonish, for married and single war veterans, now taking treatment at the government hospitals. The town will consist of sixty or seventy houses, costing about $3,200 each, a factory for the manufacture of toys, a school, a community hall, and other institutions. The ex-soldiers, who are physically incapable of doing ordinary work, will be engaged in the toy factory. The Dominion government is being asked to assist the project by loaning $200,000 of the money appropriated voted by parliament for housing.

Councillor Read raised a point of privilege with reference to a letter which appeared in the COURIER in a recent issue, citing the case of certain work performed by F. Alcorn and said to amount to some $2,000, without any written contract. As a matter of fact the work did not amount to half that sum, and the written tender of Mr. Alcorn was received by the council and accepted. No motion was made thereon.

Councillor Anderson introduced H. L. Woodman who asked the permission of the council to remodel the front of a certain house on Birch Street and construct a modern garage. It was decided to refer the matter to the streets committee with the intention of ascertaining the wishes of the neighbouring property owners with reference to it. The council adjourned at 10.45 p. m.

FROM WEYMOUTH TO FLORIDA

How Nova Scotians Spend Their Time in Uncle Sam's Winter Playground.

To the Editor of the Courier:

SIR—I have been interested in reading the continued story, entitled, "Halifax to Weymouth" and the thought came to me, that I would try and write a letter from "Weymouth to Florida." Now, Mr. Editor, if you think this letter is not worth publishing, and will take up too much space, do not be in helping it find its way to the waste basket, as all it costs me is the killing of time.

I first want to thank you for forwarding me the Courier, when away from home one always looks forward to the coming of their home paper.

My wife and I left Nova Scotia, Dec. 6th. After spending two days with friends in St. John, we left for Weymouth, Mass., where we visited Mr. and Mrs. Farnsworth, who, for the last fifteen years, have spent four months every summer in their bungalow at Weymouth North, also other relatives. We spent a very pleasant week with them, and then by rail for Boston.

We were joined by them on our trip, leaving Boston for Jacksonville, Fla., by rail making only one change. This was at New York; here we had a wait of three hours and were met by friends who entertained us at dinner. At 12-15 we took a pullman sleeper for Jacksonville, arriving in Washington the following morning, and after a wait there of three hours, we proceeded on our journey, passing through what is called "Dixie Land" and the "Swansea River." Reminds one of the old time songs, "Way down yonder in de corn fields" and "Way down upon the Swansea River."

We arrived in Jacksonville next morning. This city is called the "Garden of Florida" and is the largest in the State, having a population of about 75,000. It is also the Gateway to Florida such as we consider Yarmouth, the Gateway to Nova Scotia. This city is also the end of two railroads running from New York. One line being the Atlantic Coast Line, the other the Seaboard Air Line. There is also the Clyde Steamship Line, or Savannah Line, an Ocean trip, running from New York.

At this city we put our friends taking their train for Miami along Florida East Coast, on their way to Coconut Grove, where they had a new finished cottage held in reserve for them.

This was a long day's trip almost from New York, the extreme point of main land on this coast. We were met by Mr. and Mrs. Meserve and there motored to St. Augustine, spending four days there, sight seeing through these two cities and their surroundings. St. Augustine is the oldest City in United States, therefore, some parts of it are very interesting.

On some of the narrow streets, there are still a few ancient houses, with overhanging balconies that would make one think he had been transported to some half forgotten City of long ago. Some of these houses contain many old relics and are still visited by the Tourists.

There is one street so narrow, a person can stand in the centre and touch buildings on each side with their hands. We were taken through the old "Fort Marion" which was built by the Spaniards many years ago, and they claim took ninety-two years to build. In many of the dark dungeons, the wall is 24 ft. through, solid stone work. The moisture and coolness from this great mass of stone work reminds one of an Nova Scotia ice house.

Augustine has many large hotels. There are two worthy of mention the Ponce de Leon and Alcazar. The former being the most celebrated Hotel in the world. In architectural magnificence, in the richness of their decorations and colorings they are palefaced as they were getting ready to open for the season, we did not much more than get a peek in, and this would be enough for a poor man.

We left here to motor with our friends, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Meserve to Oklawaha, a distance of 250 miles further south. This is a new town and progressing very rapidly. Mr. Meserve started a hardware business here four years ago. A great many Weymouth friends will no doubt remember Mr. Meserve, as they wish to take up the motor from their own town to our door at Weymouth, all the way by road with the exception of crossing the Bay from St. John to Digby. After spending the summer with us they motored as far as Washington and then by rail the remainder of their journey. On this 250 mile drive I speak of from St. Augustine, Mr. Meserve's old home, we covered it in one day and evening. This drive we will never forget. I do not wish to take up too much of your paper describing it. On this drive we passed through towns, cities and woods, to shorten our journey we drove the first twenty-five miles through woods. The road was better than it looked, as there was a good track for the wheels of the car, and we made about twenty five miles an hour. You no doubt have heard of razor back hogs, and here is where we saw a great many, all sizes; we thought they were rightly named, and as the old saying goes, it was "root hog or die."

The only delay we had during this road was to stop sometimes to our horn and wait for the little pigs to move. They were not over two weeks old, lying along in the wheel track asleep. They were not long in hiding themselves under the palm leaves. A great many cattle were also running at large; they too, could stand a large quantity of corn meal before being brought to the slaughter house. Through this lovely drive, we passed two colored huts, where the old negroes dig here for the purpose of attending to the turpentine trees. As far as the eye could see, trees had been tapped and had earthen jars sitting under the spout to catch the syrup, this is all done very much like we do our maple syrup in Nova Scotia. In this long drive we find there is another way to get to Florida besides the two railway lines. This route is to take your Ford and tent, family and dogs, also tin dishes, these on the side anywhere and start on your journey. Before night comes you will probably catch up to some of your own town people, with their tents pitched by the roadside, all sitting around one fire getting supper.

After taking everything in at this place they proceed to the next camping grounds, some of which are provided with water and wood. Here they are welcomed again. Some of these cars have a regular house built on them making it more convenient and homelike. This you will see all along the road in the Northern part of Florida. A notice reading in city papers that these are called the "tin can Tourists."

Following along the Halifax River we come to the city of Daytona. This, we think one of the prettiest spots in this part of Florida, built in forest of oak and Palmettos and glossy magnolia, many of these trees overhanging the streets and touching the ground on the other side. Daytona Beach is claimed to be the largest and best, in the world, and is used for all the Auto races. It is 30 miles in length, 500 ft. in width at low water and very smooth and firm. In driving through the

FISH NOTES

(For the Courier)

A serious hitch in steam-trawling out of Boston has occurred. With but one exception, all those craft are now tied up and deserted by the crews, who are ashore debating what course next to steer.

Their wages have been scaled down. It was $130.00 a month with a certain bonus on so much gross stock. Now it is $45.00, and a slight extra on stock.

The men were just wondering how they could subsist out that pittance, when the word was given to tie up. It is said those craft will seek crews in Nova Scotia and Newfoundland, as Coaster has badly muddled the staple industry of the old colony. Last winter many of the sea-tollers had to take to the timber and chop pulpwood for Northcliffe. I feared it would come to that some day.

A small take of mackerel is already reported from the South. The schools are on the move earlier than usual.

M. H. NICKERSON.

City we missed the beach drive as the tide was high.

Other cities have good beaches for driving, and we have taken some of these drives with a speed limit of 60 miles an hour and thankful it was not any more. We followed along the Halifax and Indian rivers for several miles. It was good to see water after driving thru woods, and cities.

Our last stop before arriving at Oklawaha was Fort Pierce. Here we had supper, then proceeded on our journey.

We spent a very pleasant week at Oklawaha town, three miles from Lake Oklawaha. This Lake ranks second largest in the State, it is 60 miles in length and 45 miles in width.

A few years ago the Government cut a canal 50 miles from this lake to Miami River, this running out into the ocean. By doing so, this Lake was lowered about four feet, there are now many houses built and trees growing where a few years ago there was only water. They have again drained several hundred acres of good farming land, which was before lying under several inches of water, during at least ten months of the year.

The day before Christmas we drove out to Fort Pierce a distance of thirty-six miles, taking the train there for the City of Miami. We were met by Mr. and Mrs. Farnsworth, and we drove out to Coconut Grove, where we are still visiting them in their cottage. This being nicely furnished for four persons to do light house keeping, the women are trying to make their cooking taste like home cooking.

We pick some of our fruit from the grove of a nearby neighbor, so our dining room is well decorated with different kinds. I will give you a few prices. Strawberries have been 60cts. a box; peas in the pod 30cts. per lb.; string beans

Miami is a City of about 30,000, but during the winter they claim to have about 100,000. The principal part of business done here is Real Estate business. Almost every other office door in the City, is a Real Estate office. Land changes owners several times a season and many times doubles itself in value at each sale.

Miami has a very nice Park of 10 acres on the water front, with many shade trees of pine and coconut palm. The band plays here every afternoon and evening. This park is well filled at all times with thousands of people. Sunday morning this Park is used for Bible Class, taught by William J. Bryan.

The harbor is now filled with many house boats and yachts. One of these I was told was Vanderbilts and cost one million eight hundred thousand dollars.

Last Saturday I witnessed one of these smaller yachts named "Ostris" burned to the water's edge. This was owned by a Lady from Long Island, N. Y., cost between $75,000 and $100,000.

Nearly all the East Coast of Florida is separated from the mainland by a narrow body of water, this leaving a narrow neck of land on the other side, brings you with the full view of the Atlantic Ocean.

Occasionally there is an inlet from the ocean into these rivers, therefore, making islands of the neck of land and different rivers. The first river, the St. John River, then the Halifax river, and Indian River, then we come to Biscayne Bay.

FATHER AND SON WELL AND HAPPY

"The Way Tanlac Helped Us Is Simply Wonderful," Says Halifax Man.

"Nobody except these who have been through it can understand what I suffered before I got hold of Tanlac," said Richard H. Weeks, of 13 Cabot Place, Halifax, N. S.

"My stomach has been out of order for the past year or two, and my appetite got so poor that I had to force down whatever I ate. I was troubled with gnawing pains in the pit of my stomach and had sharp pains around my heart. After every meal I had a heavy feeling, like a dead weight in the pit of my stomach and felt miserable for hours. I had sick headaches with attacks of dizziness. I lost weight continually and hardly had strength and energy to drag my feet after me. My condition at one time got so bad that I had to give up work entirely for over a month. I went for days at a time without eating anything, and sometimes even the sight of anything to eat made me sick."

"I noticed an improvement before I had taken half a bottle of Tanlac. I am now on my fourth bottle, have a good appetite and eat three square meals every day. Everything agrees with me and I never have a touch of indigestion. I am not bothered by constipation or dizziness any more, have gained ten pounds in weight and am working every day. Tanlac has done me so much good that I decided to try on my little son who had been puny for years, and the way it has helped him has been certainly wonderful."

"Tanlac is sold in Digby by P. W. Holdsworth in Bear River by the Bear River Drug Store, in Weymouth by W. C. Blackadar, and by the leading druggist in every town."

News of Weymouth

Mrs. Frank Ouellette, is slowly recovering from a serious illness, which has confined her to the house several weeks and caused much anxiety to her many friends. Mr. Ouellette called Dr. Doull, of Halifax, a specialist, who, with Dr. Pothier, held a consultation on Sunday.

Dr. Doull, of Halifax, throat and nose specialist, is the guest of his brother, H. M. Doull, whilst in town on Sunday. He returned to Halifax Saturday night.

E. R. Gaudet, returned from a business trip to Halifax on Sunday morning.

H. M. Doull, who for the past two years has been the genial manager of the local branch of the Royal Bank has received notice of his transfer to Pictou.

Mr. Doull during his stay here has made many friends who feel genuine regret at his departure. He was a very active member of the W. A. A. and an athlete of no mean ability. His wide circle of friends wish him success and prosperity in his appointment.

Whilst debarking from Dr. Pothier's boat Saturday morning, at the Registry of Deeds office, Frank Ouellette was struck by an auto owned by J. A. Goodwin and driven by Donald MacIsaac, at a rapid rate of speed. He was badly tossed about but luckily escaped any serious injury, besides slight bruising, more a bad shaking up and a bruise on one hand.

The ice having all gone from the river, navigation is once more opened. Capt. Bernard Bonaparte, was accepted command of the three masted schooner Edith Belliveau which has been laid up at Weymouth, North for the winter and expects to sail for Port Rika about Thursday.

E. R. Gaudet, has entered the employ of the Becker Co., of Canada, and leaves shortly for Montreal. He will be connected with the Port Clyde Pulp Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Melanson and family who have been visiting Mrs. Melanson's mother, Mrs. Rennie Gaudet, for several weeks, left on Tuesday for their home in Malden, Mass.

Mrs. C. J. Beaton and little son returned from Digby on Saturday after a short visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Doucette.

The forty hours devotion will be held in St. Joseph's Church on April 10th.

Mr. Eapron: Your correspondent regrets you cannot see his article on the Green Lantern Movie matters, too spirited for publication. Only last Saturday evening the picture was exhibited and the exhibition of pictures seen once previously. Surely the circuit's supply of pictures is mighty limited.

VOL. XLVII No. 32

Your grocer will tell you frankly that he makes less profit on Red Rose Tea than on other teas. The only object he has in recommending it is to see that you get the best quality possible.

First Change In Dan-Dee!

Dan-Dee has been the bread of the majority now for over a year. And all that time it has kept up its original high standard, although hundreds said: "It simply can't keep so good unless they charge more for it."

And now comes the first change!

—the addition of honey to the Western flour, pure leaf lard, fresh milk, granulated sugar, Fleischmann yeast, and table salt, to make it taste better longer!

Your grocer has it or can get it. Made by the makers of Moir's Choclates.

FROM WEYMOUTH TO FLORIDA

How Nova Scotians Spend Their Time in Uncle Sam's Winter Playground.

Over on these beaches is where most of the amusements are, bathing in the surf you will see hundreds of people at once. There are also large swimming pools. One can easily hire his room and suit for twenty-five cents, to go bathing in these pools.

You can see the swimmers performing all sorts of stunts in the water, some of them will dive from a height of forty feet. It is quite common to see women sixty-five years of age learning to swim and sometimes they are the biggest "load in the puddle." Sitting on the beach waiting for the sun to go down you notice the days growing longer and the bathing suits shorter. They have a wonderful and very inexpensive way for sight-seeing. This is by the large busses which carry from twenty-five to forty persons each, taking a trip of 30 miles for $1.00 having a schedule time for running on. They leave every hour on different drives.

The chaperone who goes with each bus is well fitted for the work and understands botany also, as I think they can tell you the name of every plant and flower that grows in Florida. We were on one of these drives a few days ago, the starting point being Miami City. The driver first drives through the principal places of interest. Then they drive down along the water-front to Coconut Grove. Through here are homes of a great many multi-millionaires some of them are open to the public.

The busses stop at a few places of interest such as Wm. Jennings Bryan's, the party is taken through the grounds by the chaperone, who makes everything very plain and interesting; then we come to the ten million dollar estate of James Deering and others of interest. The chaperone tells the party many things about the place, among them was, that some of the furniture was very antique and much of it came from the old countries. He said the dishes were lined with gold and were even washed with "gold dust."

We then drove through many groves of oranges, grapefruit, tangerines, coconuts, lemons, guava, avocado pears, paw-paw and many others. These groves are much like driving through the Annapolis Valley. The trees are planted the same and average the same in size and color, and there is about as much fruit lying on the ground spoiling.

We then come to the Seminole Indian camps back on what is called "The Everglade Land." These Indians catch a great many alligators, tan their hides and make them up in many things that are sold in the variety stores. I will not say anything further about the Indians and the "Everglade Land" as I see by the City papers that Guy Empey was in the City, and he was going to travel over the Everglades and visit the Indians with the intention of writing a book about their life.

A great many of your readers will remember reading some of Guy Empey's books. I think the last book he wrote was entitled "Over the Top in Flanders Field." Those I know who finished reading this book claimed it was very interesting.

We now come to the Alligator farm. Here you will see different sizes, also birds and beasts of all kinds. We are then taken through the packing house and they show us the way the fruit is washed, assorted and packed, which is all done automatically.

If one wishes, he can have a small box of mixed fruit shipped, express paid, to his home for $5.00. Arriving back to the starting point you have completed a very pleasant afternoon's outing. It is much to be desired to force here as at home, but there always seems to be a loop hole for the thirty ones. The other day out riding in one of the busses, I overheard a conversation between one of the tourists and driver. He asked if there was any chance to get a drink down this way. The driver replied that he could get a bottle or a case, or a dozen cases. The tourist said one bottle would do him as he was afraid to take anymore home.

He then asked what kind and price. He was told the "Canadian Club" was the best and could be bought for $7.00 a bottle. While out walking one day I also saw by the roadside an empty box marked "Canadian Club" whiskey.

and along side of this were many empty bottles. It looks as if "John Barleycorn" was spending the last of his days in Florida. Two weeks ago President Elect Harding was here in his house boat, and guess he must be a very good dodger as he not many saw him.

One afternoon I took a walk out in the country three miles. I came to a group of people and several autos. I soon learned it was an auction sale of land for building lots. These lots were 75 x 125 ft. and were selling for six and seven hundred dollars something like $3,000 an acre.

In passing through all the thriving towns with everything looking so prosperous, I asked what industries they had through here, and was much surprised to learn there was not a manufacturing plant in Florida. Not thinking this could be possible, I have been trying to locate a power wheel of some kind, and thus far, have found three different plants in operation. The first was the electric power house, the artificial ice plant and the next, most common were two mules on a long sweep pole going around grinding sugar cane.

I asked why birds were so scarce down here, and was told they thought that the noise from the aeroplanes frightened them away, this may be the reason as aeroplanes are quite plentiful in Florida. Last week was the Miami only winter Motor Boat Regatta. I only witnessed one of these races. This was between two boats, one from Chicago and the other from Hamilton, Ont. This was a fifty mile race over a two-mile course. The average speed was about thirty-seven miles per hour.

The Chicago boat crossed the line three seconds ahead. This boat had the advantage in the start of about three lengths. Thousands of people thronged the beach. Several camera men were taking pictures of the races from aeroplanes. On my way over to the race in a crowded street car, I had my first experience of being held a prisoner. Shortly after we had started one man put up a row that his pockets had been picked. This caused others to look for their pocket books.

It was then discovered that five had been robbed. This caused some loud talk. It was then decided the man was on the car and that the car would be held up, waiting the arrival of two policemen, and each one in turn would be searched. After a few had been searched, the lost pocket books were found on the car floor. The first pick pocket was beginning to think he was in close quarters and dropped them. They were returned to their owners. Suspicion seemed to rest very heavy on one man. He was taken in charge by the officers and after being questioned for some length of time, he forfeited fifty dollars and was let off to appear in court next day. I saw by next days paper he had not shown up.

Sometimes ago I missed from my pocket a case containing our return tickets and other papers. Not knowing where or when I could have lost them, I decided to put an advertisement in two of the city daily papers leaving my reward at the office. Two days after I called to see what luck I had in advertising, and was surprised when the clerk passed me my pocket case, asking me if I thought it paid to advertise. I had to admit that it did.

In these tourist towns there are a great many cripples following the crowd and performing some kind of stunts and passing the hat for help. They look very much in need but they do not look to me as being veterans of the last world war.

Hay, grain and all other feed are imported into Florida. Wood and coal is the least of their worry. All houses are built without care, only a few are plastered and very few have chimneys. Four months rent for a bungalow here would build one at home. A great many of the people who own homes, spend the great deal of their time and money trying to make their lawns look green by irrigating and fertilizing, but without much success, in their hot sandy ground. Yet, we at home with all our nice privileges that nature gives us, prize spending our spare time loafing in the country stores, telling the other fellow what he ought to do.

In comparing Florida with Nova Scotia there are many things I could say, but, will not undertake to do so. Like all other countries

THE VALUE OF SOME LITTLE USED GRASSES

(Experimental Farm Note.)

On several occasions, particularly through the medium of "Seasonable Hints" issued by the Experimental Farms Branch of the Dominion Department of Agriculture, attention has been called to the usefulness of several grasses which at present are little appreciated in Canada. The grasses to which in the past particular attention has been called as valuable adjuncts to hay and pasture mixtures are Orchard Grass and Meadow Fescue. The former is considered as one of the best for dairy farms in Canada where, as is well known, dairying has reached a height of perfection unequalled by any other country. The latter grass is also considered extremely valuable in hay and pasture mixtures wherever extensive farming is practised. Our experience is that, in Canada, these two grasses would, if added to the standard and often stereotyped mixture of "Clover and Timothy," materially help to increase the value of the hay crops and of the pastures.

But besides these grasses there are several others, the introduction of which into Canadian farming would no doubt prove most beneficial, provided that they are used under conditions in which they can prove their real value.

We have especially in mind the use of some grasses which, although of little importance for hay, yet are very valuable as pasture grasses, these are the tall growing grasses put in as bottom grasses in hay mixtures and pastured when the hay has been removed. Among these grasses are the Kentucky Blue grass, suitable especially for loamy soil, the Sheep's Fescue and the Red Top growing on high land, the Red Top especially under wet conditions, and the Crested Dog's Tail under similar conditions.

In our opinion it would pay to add these grasses in small quantities to grass mixtures seeded down on the taller growing grasses, primarily looked upon as hay producers. Indeed, the experience of countries where the farms are small and where consequently the highest possible returns are imperative to make farming a living proposition, strongly points to the advisability of including four or five or even more grasses in hay and pasture mixtures so as to make it the more remunerative.

The oil areas of Mexico already developed can produce upwards of 500,000,000 barrels annually.

The total value of all sea fish caught in Canadian waters in 1920 was $26,153,844. British Columbia led the Dominion with a value of $12,612,776. Nova Scotia followed with $8,763,000; and then followed New Brunswick, $2,528,314; Quebec $1,513,432; and Prince Edward Island, $736,325.

The first factory in Canada, for the production of artificial milk from the Chinese soy bean will shortly be erected at Hamilton, Ont., by a number of local men. It is a very interesting and practicable, and that milk produced from the Chinese bean is the equal of cows milk. The beans will at first be imported from the United States, but it is expected that, later on, farmers in the vicinity of Hamilton may be induced to grow them.

there are the advantages and disadvantages.

I think one who can arrange his business to do so, gets the most pleasure out of life as far as climate is concerned, by spending eight months in Nova Scotia and remaining four in southern climate.

I was sitting in the hot sun one day talking to a man who had spent several summers in Nova Scotia and winters in Florida. I asked if he thought any of these tourists in this climate ever outgrow their clothes as I had known this to happen in Nova Scotia. After laughing at my somewhat peculiar remarks, he said, "no, he did not think so."

The time is now drawing near for our return home, and I think the benefit of our trip will be after we return home and admire the many things that we have always overlooked, such as our summer atmosphere, the green lawns and fields, the fragrant odors of the evergreen fields of grain and new mown hay waving in the breezes, also the many views from the hill tops. Rolling country for me!

Thanking you Mr. Editor for your valuable space, I am,
Yours truly,

THE VILLAGE IMPROVEMENT SOCIETY AND WHAT IT MEANS

It Is A Great Agency In Keeping Young People At Home And In Raising The Standard of Living.

It is a well known fact that one of the most perplexing problems of rural life is the tendency of the young people to leave the village or farm for the attractions of the city, and it is mainly for the purpose of overcoming this evil that there are so many Village Improvement Societies or Committees of Welfare being organized throughout the country.

The Village Improvement Society is simply a means for enabling the people of a community to cultivate natural beauty as well as a wholesome, useful and joyous community life. When properly organized and maintained it is a powerful influence for the cultivation of local loyalty and a healthful spirit of local pride, and young people are more seriously influenced by the nature of their surroundings than many people realize. While it is true that a mill-farm of scorn, or indifference may appear to characterize a few of the people in some communities, God has implanted the love of beauty in every heart, and those who are living without it are living under abnormal and unhealthy conditions.

Indeed we do not see the love of beauty in 'The Great Creator's scheme of the Universe, in the glory of the heavens, the suroundings than man's handiwork, in the green grass and the flowers of gorgeous colors, in the great trees which sway and call and which show the splendor of their colors in the autumn leaves, in the verdure covered hills and the blue mountains, and the waves of the ocean, and numberless other ways.

A town or village proclaims its standards to all the world by its public buildings, its churches, its schools, its streets and its homes. As a traveler on the train, passing through village after village each one makes its own individual impression upon him.

If he sees shabby buildings, yards filled with litter, unkempt lawns, uninviting streets, public buildings out of repair, gates hanging on hinges, fences with a picket missing here and there and houses which look as if they never had a coat of paint since they were built, he knows something about the character of the people. Public spirit at least is wanting there. If on the other hand he notices good school buildings, attractive churches, clean well shaded streets, if he sees homes with lawns, fine trees, fences in good condition, houses well painted, he is confident that there is a place where self-respecting people dwell, here is a good place to live and bring up his children, for it is certain that in a community, which reveals in these outward things its love of cleanliness, orderliness and beauty, there are also virtue, intelligence and friendliness.

In any community even one person deeply in earnest may lead in the formation of such a society and into it all the citizens of the town, old and young, rich and poor, may be drawn. In the beginning one woman was responsible for the organization of the Laurel Hill Society of Stockbridge, Mass., which resulted in that place which was once a commonplace, uninteresting country town, becoming an attractive summer resort.

The constitution of this society says "any person over fourteen years of age who shall annually plant a tree under the direction of the Executive Committee or pay the amount of one dollar annually in dues, or labor, shall be a member of the Association."

And at the first annual meeting the ideal of the Society was set forth in this fashion: "We mean to work till every street shall be graded, every side walk shaded, every noxious weed eradicated, every bad course laid, and perfected and every nook and corner beautified, in short until art combined with nature shall have rendered our town the most beautiful and attractive in our ancient Commonwealth."

All this cannot be accomplished in one year or five years or perhaps not in ten years, but the main thing is to make a beginning. Why can we not have such a Society in Digby, for which nature has so much to offer, and make it not only the most beautiful town of its size in the whole Dominion, but also such an attractive place for the young folks, that they will not have any desire to leave home.

THE EXPERIMENTAL MENTAL FARMS SYSTEM

Remark has several times been made in Parliament and elsewhere that the splendid work performed by the Experimental Farm System of Canada is not nearly so widely known and appreciated as it should be. In the Agricultural Gazette of Canada for January there appears an outline of the system and the tasks in which it is engaged. The Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa is the headquarters of the twenty branch or auxiliary farms and stations. It is stated that there is one farm in each of the two sub-stations in Alberta, New Brunswick and Ontario, two in Nova Scotia, four in Quebec, two in Manitoba, three in Saskatchewan, two in Alberta and four in British Columbia. There are also two sub-stations in Alberta, two in the Yukon and one in British Columbia. In addition, working with the system are tobacco stations at Farman; Que., and Harrow, Ont. At all of these experimental farm research work of national importance is carried on. Eighty illustrations or demonstration stations have also been established in New Brunswick, Nova Scotia, Quebec, Alberta and Saskatchewan. Each branch of agriculture is dealt with in actual experiment, and the results are made public through the press and by means of addresses, demonstrations and exhibits. In short every effort is made to encourage, advance and benefit agriculture, the basic industry of the country.

Approximately 200,000,000 feet of lumber will be cut on the Crown lands of New Brunswick during the present year, according to estimates of scales at the Department of Lands and Mines.

There is approximately one telephone to every eleven of Canada's population, according to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. At the end of 1919, there were 778,758 telephones in the Dominion, with an estimated population of 8,355,000.

Plans for technical education include the spending annually of $4,000,000 in training, for industry, boys and girls who are unable to attend higher schools. The Dominion government will provide $1,000,000 of this fund and the provincial and municipal governments the other three million dollars annually. Technical schools are rapidly being established all over the Dominion.

Two South Africans are engaged in manufacturing a vegetable dye in Cuperton which may have a revolutionary effect on the dyeing industry. It is a direct substantive dye, to be used with cold water only, the material being simply dyed for less than ten minutes in a cold dye solution. The dye is stated to be noninjurious to any fabric.

Local and General

Steamer Bear River Captain Arthur Moore, sailed on Monday for St. John with a general cargo.
The Eliza Baskin Lodge will present a play on Oakdale hall, on March 28th, O. M. and bring your friends.

The W. M. S. Auxiliary of the Methodist Church is holding their Easter thank offering social on the evening of Good Friday instead of Easter Monday as in former years.

The ladies of the Baptist Church met at the Parsonage on Tuesday evening. A large number was present and a most delicious refreshment of home made candies was served.

Though walking was disagreeable on Tuesday afternoon a goodly number of the ladies for the Methodist Aid met at the home of Mrs. W. W. Wade and reported an enjoyable time.

The ladies of the Baptist Church will hold a grand sale in the same room at the Grand Central Hotel on Saturday afternoon, March 26th. Everybody come and get your "cat" for Easter.

At the new pulp mill it is expected that fire will be put under the boilers this week, and a few days later the power house will be in full operation. The old mill is being completely renovated and the floors are finished.

Bear River was again visited by a heavy freshet this spring. Several days the water ran down the river, and the ice and snow had already been cleared from the banks of the stream. The water had risen to the level of the electric light station however was surrounded by water and the mill was in danger. It was necessary to leave the building by a window, and travelled to higher ground by way of the pipe line.

Work at all the Lake John camps has been at a close last week and the men and teams have all been withdrawn from the woods. Although the winter short, there was very little broken time, and sufficient supply of logs was accumulated during the good hauling to keep the mill running until next October. The old timers say that there is more hardwood on the browns at Lake John today than there has been at any time in the past.

The following is the complete list of contents of the box forwarded to the Infant's Home in Halifax: 16 dresses (10 women's and 5 children's), 7 night dresses, 1 petticoat, 9 sweaters, 13 vests, 1 pair drawers, 1 union suit, 1 pair slippers (boys), 1 pair serge trousers (boys), 2 pair overalls, 1 child's coat, 4 scarves, 1 pair gloves, 8 pair hose, 5 pair rompers, 2 shirtwaists, 2 house dresses, 1 suit coat.

Construction on two large saws will begin in a few days at the Rice mill yard. These saws are being built by Clarke Brothers for the Dominion Bridge Company and will be used during the coming summer for floating the heavy centre span on the Granville Bridge into position. The saws will be 20 ft. wide and 14 ft. deep and fully decked.

Master builder J. Wilkie Rice will be in charge of construction and this means that the workmanship placed upon them will be unequalled in this part of the country.

Up to date improvements are continually being made at the headquarters of Clarke Brothers, Limited. A few weeks ago a complete new heating system was installed and this was followed a little later by an installation of weather resistant apparatus giving continuous record of both temperature and weather conditions. During the past week a private telephone exchange has been installed making it possible to communicate with all the different offices and departments without calling on the local party line exchange. The company's weather board is also connected up with the weather switchboard by four trunk lines, thus giving sample facts for the day, day and night for the ever increasing business of this enterprising company.

Obituary

CAPT. JOHN SPURR
We regret to announce the sudden death on Tuesday evening, March 15th, of Capt. John Spurr, of Deep Brook. Capt. Spurr was still residing when his wife heard him fall, and found him unconscious on the floor. Medical aid was summoned at once but Capt. Spurr passed away before it came. Capt. Spurr, in early life a successful farmer, retired from the sea about fifteen years ago. He has been a member of the "Colonial Army" a summer homeborne barred to the ground and subsequently replaced.

He leaves to mourn his loss a widow and two children, W. S. Spurr of Deep Brook, and Mrs. Frank Harris of Annapolis. Several brothers. All join in sincere sympathy to the bereaved ones.

MONSTER PIKE - A "PIRATE"

English Villagers Feasted on Fish Which Had Been Cutting Anglers' Lines for Years.

A pike was caught and killed recently in the little old English village of Beeston St. Lawrence, Norfolkshire, and his remains were cut up and shared between the old age pensioners, who voted him very tasty, and the school children, who voted him very good. The good people of Beeston St. Lawrence are not cannibals, and for the benefit of those not acquainted with the legendary lore of that part of England it may be explained that this pike was a monster pike which terrorized the waters of the lake in Beeston for upward of thirty years.

The pike, which had the reputation of being the most awful fish in the world, earned the name of "the pirate" because of his predatory raids on fishermen's lines, whenever they hooked anything. Angler came from the lake and caught the fish, but the fish was too clever for the most expert piscator.

According to stories told over mugs of ale at the village inn the "pirate" was hooked only once, and in a vicious rage he broke the line and escaped. Yet the horror of catching him goes to a young soldier who had been pike fishing over four times in his life. The night of the capture they held a guessing contest in the village as to the actual weight of the "pirate," the prize being a bottle of beer. The pike weighed 26 pounds 1 ounce, measured five feet and had a girth of two feet.

JUST PULLED UP IN TIME
Timpkins' Abrupt Change of Subject Hardly to Be Wondered at Under the Circumstances.

The shaded lights, music in the distance, sweet perfume from the exotic flowers about them—everything was just right for a proposal, and Timpkins decided to chance his luck. She was pretty, which was good, and also, he believed, an heiress, which was better.

"Are you not afraid that some one will marry you for your money?" he asked.

"Oh, dear, no!" smiled the girl. "Such an idea never entered my head."

"Ah, Miss Lescrope," he sighed, "in your sweet innocence you do not dream how coldly, cruelly mercenary some men are."

"Perhaps I don't," replied the girl calmly.

"I would not for a moment have such a terrible fate befall you," he said passionately. "You are too good, too beautiful. The man who wins you must love you for yourself alone."

"It'll have to be," the girl remarked. "If my cousin Jennie who has the money—"

"Oh—!" stammered the young man. "What pleasant weather we are having, aren't we?"

Gone Lower.
Several of our Hoosier school buildings are named after noted Americans of a generation or more ago. Recently at a committee meeting, at one of these buildings the speaker spoke of the spirit of the man, whose name the building bore, hovering over the school. The children seemed much impressed then but it took the next day to show how deeply some had been moved.

The principal sent two youngsters to the basement to see to the furnace in the absence of the janitor. They came rushing up a few minutes later, saying that they had heard a "terrible noise" down there. The principal turned around at them but another boy arose in their defense. "I bet I know what it is," he said. "It bet it that man's spirit around here again. Only this time instead of being on the roof it's down in the cellar."—Indianapolis News.

Repairing U-Boat Damages.
If British shipbuilding has not yet reached pre-war figures the world has done wonderful things in ship production in the last twelve months. The total tonnage launched was 7,144,549, according to Lloyd's Register, and the British share was 1,620,000 tons. The feature of the returns is the expansion of shipbuilding in the United States and in Japan. The former appears at the head of the table with 7 per cent of the world's output, and more than twice the tonnage built in the United Kingdom. Japan, with 6,115,000 tons launched, has built more shipping in one year than it did in the 22 years to 1913.

Far-Seeing Woman Reformer.
In noting the fact that Susan B. Anthony was born a hundred years ago, it is interesting also to remember that every considerable reform of which she was an advocate has come to pass, says the New York Sun. She fought for the abolition of slavery, for total abstinence, and for suffrage. Slavery disappeared when she was still in her most active years. When she died, in 1906, many of the anti-slavery and anti-slavery views on prohibition, and votes for women.

Don't Plant Cheap Seeds Plant Rennie's Seeds "They Always Grow"

This slogan familiar to practically every buyer of seeds throughout the Dominion of Canada, portrays in very few words one of the great fundamental principles on which the superstructure of the William Rennie Company Limited has been raised.

Your success in growing Field Vegetables and Flowers for profit or for pleasure is judged by one factor and you alone—Results; and in no other line of endeavor is this truism more apparent than in the honorable art of gardening. To produce the best results, only well known seeds of tested and known quality should be used and such pre-eminently is Rennie's, the Seed that is subjected to the most scientific tests for germination and vitality before being offered to our customers. That Rennie's Seeds not "always grow" but "Produce the Best" can be vouched for by thousands of satisfied customers, and by an ever increasing number of new customers, who plant Rennie's Seeds with the sure and certain expectations of reaping a bountiful harvest as a result of their endeavors.

We are sole agents for Rennie's Seeds and can supply you with anything you desire in Field, Vegetable, Garden and Flower Seeds. If not in stock we can get them for you. Notice. We were told by the inspector last season when on his tour of Seed inspection that our stock of Grass, Vegetable and Garden Seeds was the best he had seen. We offer you the same quality for 1921.

Digby, March 18th, 1921

It may be true that the profiteers will now get what is coming to them, but they have already got what's coming to us.

Digby will be just what its own business men make it. We must not expect that some men or business outside the town is going to build up and keep us groggy and hustling, we've got to do it ourselves.

An American newspaper says that the man who complains that the papers suppress a great deal of news is always the first to ask suppression when it will grind his own axe. Every newspaper man knows that the comment is justified by experience.

"Decent love of one man for one woman, and of one woman for one man, on such a scale as to make a man home built. Within the gleaming glory of such charmed circles do the children come and grow to the splendid soldiery of service." More of such sentiment would make an end of the divorce evil that spreads like a contagion and threatens the very existence of the home.—Los Angeles Times.

ODDFELLOWS CELEBRATION.

One of the most enjoyable events for some time took place last Friday evening when Zedna Rebekah Lodge, I. O. O. F. celebrated its first anniversary and St. George Lodge its thirtieth. The weather conditions were ideal and in consequence the attendance was large. The programme for the first part of the evening was carried out in the Elbow Theatre. It consisted, first of a medley of songs, choruses, arranged by Roy M. Whyte, and sang by singers chosen from both lodges; this was followed by a play by Mrs. Syda, and a duet by Guy Morehouse and A. J. Dillon. After this the famous "Two of a Kind," was put on by the following cast:

Katary Melon, Mrs. Forrest Elinor, Mrs. Rhabar, Miss Isabel Williams, Annula Klubber, Miss Alice McCullough, Parley Endive, A. J. Dillon, Joshua Buckley, G. H. Peters. This was a large in two acts and was exceptionally well put on. We have seen dozens of professional performances which could not equal in any respect the work of these amateurs. The characters fitted perfectly, their enunciation was good and their stage manners were almost perfect. The many local boys kept the audience in roars, the victims enjoying them as much as anyone, while Miss McCullough, in her part, was very clever, brought down the house. To Mrs. A. J. Dillon, chairman of the committee, much credit belongs.

While the performance was being carried on the lodge room upstairs was receiving the finishing touches fitting it as a ball hall. This room, which is the largest Oddfellows' Hall in the province is a pretty room at any time, but when three tables, spread with good things and decorated with foliage and flowers, are added, it is a sight worth seeing. It was a beautiful sight to see the mountain of good "cats" disappeared. The toast list was short: "The King" was proposed by the Worshipful Master, "Our Visitors," proposed by H. E. Jones, responded by W. Fairweather; and "Our Sister Societies," proposed by J. L. Peters and responded to by H. B. Short.

An auction of the surplus "cats" upstairs, and a dance by the young people down stairs, brought to a close the successful anniversary celebration in the history of Oddfellows in Digby.

ELECTRICAL DEVELOPMENT AND THE BAY SERVICE.

A meeting of the Council of the Board of Trade was held last Friday afternoon, at which two important matters were discussed and definite action taken, namely, the development of the Bay of Fundy and the Bay of Fundy S. S. service. In the former case it was urged that the industrial requirements of New Brunswick be met by the development of the Bay of Fundy service which would be sufficient to furnish every town from Miramichi to Weymouth with a twenty-four hour service at much less than the present cost for an inefficient service. It was decided to petition the government to derate this work at once and a committee was appointed to circulate the petition. (This has since been done and it has been very widely signed, the rate payers almost without exception, affixing names.)

In the second case a strong resolution was passed condemning the action of the government in not providing a substitute. This resolution was sent to all the boards of trade in Western Nova Scotia for their support and to the Minister of Trade and Commerce. The resolution will show the importance of the service and the need for it by shippers of fresh fish and other perishable goods if the service should be interrupted.

Last week the Courier was the only paper to put up an attention "kick" on this subject, in fact our objection was so pronounced that the C. R. had to send a special official to explain why the withdrawal had been necessary, and the step the company had taken to remedy the situation. Under Wednesday's date the editor of the Courier received from a prominent P. R. official the following personal letter:

Editor Digby Courier,

For your information it has been arranged for the steamer Empress to be withdrawn for some reason, after making the round trip on April 23rd, next, and we are quite hopeful that the next will be on our again May 4th, following.

I may also tell you that the company is negotiating for a small freight steamer to run in the bay.

So numerous do women outlive their men in every community of any size there is a large number of women who are over seventy-five years of age, while there are men for some of whom the word "old" is a mere possession.

It is a fact that the life expectancy is relatively vitally distinctly superior to that shown by men.

At fifty a man has a life expectancy of 20.9 years, and at 55 years, a man may reasonably hope to live 6.69 years longer, whereas a woman at the same age may expect to live 10.6 years longer.

If the age of ninety is reached, the expectancy still favors the woman, an expectancy of 10.6 additional years of life as against 4.8 for a man.

NORMA L. MACDONALD

Norma Louise, the four-month's old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Macdonald, Smiths Cove, died Wednesday evening. The funeral is taking place at 10.30 this morning. The parents have the sympathy of the whole community.

MRS. J. A. C. DEBALINHARD

The death took place at the home of her sister, Mrs. Eber Turnbull, yesterday afternoon, at 11 o'clock, of Mrs. J. A. C. Debalinhard, after a long illness. She was a daughter of Francis Crozier, formerly of Woodstock, N. B. Mrs. Debalinhard was a native of New Brunswick, and for some years lived in Annapolis Royal where she was married. She leaves a brother, Robert B. Crozier, in Oakland, Cal.; two sisters, Mrs. Spence, in Manchester, N. H.; and Mrs. Eber Turnbull in Digby. The funeral will take place Saturday afternoon.

MRS. HANTFORD THURBER

The death of Clara, wife of Hantford Thurber, occurred at her home in St. Andrews, N. B., on Thursday March 3, 1921, at 10 o'clock. Mrs. Thurber was 59 years of age, and besides her husband she was survived by two sons, Edwin and Arthur, both in the United States, and a daughter, Mrs. Sumner Mallock, all of St. Andrews, to whom much sympathy is tendered. The funeral service was held on Saturday afternoon and was conducted by Rev. Thomas Hicks of the Methodist church. The choir of the Baptist and Methodist churches were present and sang appropriate hymns. The music was furnished by the choir of the Baptist church, and the organ was played by Wellington Carson, Wheeler Mallock and Earl Greenlaw.

MRS. JOHN I. SULIS

The death occurred on Thursday evening last of Mrs. Dianmy, wife of John I. Sulis, Smith's Cove, at the age of 83 years. She had been in failing health for some time. So her death was not unexpected. She leaves a husband, two daughters, Mrs. Monzo Yarrille, in Woburn, Mass., and Mrs. Geo. Cosset, of Smith's Cove; and one son, Henry, at home. Two grand-children, Carroll Yarrille, of Woburn, Mass., and Lawrence Cosset of Smith's Cove, and one brother, Levi Rice, of North Dakota, and other relatives in Annapolis Royal, and the United States. She had been married over fifty years and will be greatly missed in the home where she lived. The funeral was very largely attended took place on Friday afternoon, and was conducted by Rev. A. M. McInnes, Pastor of the Baptist Church of which she was a member. There were many other floral tributes.

BENJAMIN DOUCETTE

(Published by request)

The Death Angel visited Marshalltown on Saturday evening Feb. 19, and claimed as its victim Benjamin Doucette who passed away after an illness of four years. The deceased was 72 years of age and was of an affectionate disposition. His home instincts were strong, his affection for friends and kindred was tender and abiding but now for him the struggle and burden bearing of earth is ended. He is survived by a widow and three daughters, Mrs. Charles Crabbe Halifax, Mrs. Carvey Henshaw, Bear River; Mrs. Ernest Compton, Weymouth North, and one son, Francis, at home, and several Mrs. J. Robichaud, also one brother, Edward at Marshalltown, all of whom have the sympathy of the entire community in their sad bereavement. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Father Delisle, of Plymouth, and interment took place in the R. C. Cemetery, Plymouth.

THE LATE J. HORACE FARNHAM

The current member of Bostonia the official magazine of the Boston University, of Boston, Mass., has a full page photo of the late Lieutenant J. Horace Farnham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas S. Farnham, of Jamaica Plain, formerly of Digby and Weymouth. Horace was born in the latter town and very many people there will remember him. The biographical sketch as given in Bostonia is as follows:

Lieutenant J. Horace Farnham, of the Canadian Royal Flying Corps, was killed in an aeroplane accident in England, April 25, 1918. Mr. Farnham enlisted in the Canadian Royal Flying Corps in August, 1917, for a time was stationed at Toronto; later he was sent to Kelly Field, San Antonio, Tex., where he finished his training in aviation. He was then sent to England for intensive training and specialization or war machines at the R. F. C. camp at Watlington, Oxfordshire. Mr. Farnham was at the time of his death a senior in the evening division of the college of Business Administration. He was one of the most popular men in college. The members of his class presented to the college a fine portrait of Mr. Farnham; this portrait has been placed on the walls of the college library.

Wedding Bells

CLARKSON—REDHEAD

On Monday, a wedding, which evoked more than ordinary interest, was solemnized at St. Mary's Church by the Rev. D. T. Davis (Vicar), the contracting parties being Miss Annie Redhead, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Redhead, of Ingletown, and Mr. Tom Gladstone Clarkson, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gladstone of Lancashire. The bride was dressed in a navy blue costume, with hat to match, and wore a blue lace fur, the gift of the bridegroom. The bride carried a bouquet of carnations and tulips with maiden hair ferns. She was attended by Miss Nancy Redhead (sister) and Miss A. Clarkson (sister of the bridegroom) as bridesmaids and they also were attired in navy blue costumes with hats to match. The bridesmaids were given wedding gifts. They wore gold brooches, the gift of the bridegroom. The best man was Mr. Walter Watkinson. After the ceremony was over a reception was held at the Conservative Club, about 60 guests being present. This number was augmented in the evening when a large number of friends were given. The presents were numerous and of useful description. The honeymoon is being spent at Scarborough. (The above from the Lancashire (Eng.) Guardian of February.) The bride spent last summer in Digby on the staff of Lour Lodge, and made many friends while there.)

OLIVEINE EMULSION

Back to the Old
Price $1 a bottle.

Just recently, prices have dropped on the very finest Cod Liver Oil and the very purest Drugs used in preparing "OLIVEINE EMULSION". These lower prices make it possible to put "OLIVEINE EMULSION" back to the old price of $1 a bottle.

Dealers everywhere have been notified that $1 a bottle is now the price of this favorite tonic, blood purifier and health restorer. The quality is the same—you get the same big bottle—and you pay the old price $1. Be sure to get "OLIVEINE EMULSION".

Druggists and General Stores call Oliveine at $1 a Bottle. Do not take a substitute.

GAMBOLED WITH GRIM DEATH

The old overland journey from Edmonton, Alta., to the Klondike was a trail of tragedies. A weather-beaten skeleton of an old wagon of the pioneer schooner type, the woodwork rotted and only fragments of the wheels remaining, recently was found in the rugged Liard river country. On a piece of tattered canvas that once had been the wagon cover, printed in black paint in letters a foot high half effaced by the rains and snows of years, were the words "Klondike or Bust."

Many stories are told by old-timers of the argonauts who found tragedy instead of gold on the north trail which began at Edmonton. Thousands of men from all parts of the world flocked to the town in 1896 during the Klondike rush. They outfitted at the Hudson Bay company two-story frame store which then was considered the greatest store in western Canada. Today, when the company has thrown open all its lands to farm settlement and is centering its energies on the fur trade and general merchandising, a big modern department store rises on the site of this ancient emporium in the heart of Edmonton.

Turning their faces toward the Yukon, the gold seekers struck out on a perilous journey of 2,000 miles across an untracked wilderness of forests, muskegs, mountains and mighty rivers. Of the thousands who started, only a few ever reached their destination. Many turned back disheartened to Edmonton. Many beat back to civilization by way of the British Columbia coast. Still greater numbers were swallowed up in vast unknown northern land never to be heard of again. They gambled with death who traveled that trail.

From time to time in succeeding years the bleaching bones of the adventurers who followed their dreams over the rim of the world, the battered relics of old camp outfits and the wrecks of wagons and pack saddies have been found in lonely northern places, grim reminders of the old days when men went mad for gold.

Blueberry Bushes.

Under such favorable conditions as exist in the vine barrens blueberry culture is to be classed as to the age of its first beginnings not with the slow fruiting apple orchard, but with the quick fruiting peach, with this important difference, however, that while the peach tree remains in vigorous fruiting condition for comparatively few years the blueberry bush with suitable pruning bids fair to last a man's lifetime and even longer—National Geographic Magazine.

Are New Yorkers American?

The most New English ladies, who, after an excessively brief, but winter at home, habitually betook herself to the Riviera, to London, to Paris and to the usual spring, summer, and autumn haunts of European elegance, was once asked by an intelligent and curious foreigner some questions concerning the habits and customs of her compatriots. She paused, meditated prettily, says Harrison Rhodes to Harper's Magazine, and then made a profoundly significant reply.

"You not sure," she said, "that I'm the best person to ask. You see, I'm a New Yorker, and I know so few Americans."

American Homes.

Before I came to America I fancied that I should find one long row of apartment houses extending from New York to San Francisco, some of them palatial, but tawdry, others lowly and some squalid. This idea was partially formed from reading in your own journals of your lack of home life as compared with our preponderance of it in England. On the contrary, I found in the localities I visited much that we can learn from you Americans of homemaking and of home living. The amazing thing to me is what your women accomplish in the actual building of their homes, and that, too, with small means—Lady Innes Stuart in Country Life Magazine.

A DAY'S RECORD.

Let every dawn of morning be to you as the beginning of life and every setting sun be to you as its close. Then let every one of these short lives leave some record of some kindly thing done for others as well as some goodly strength or knowledge gained for yourselves.—John Ruskin.

SPOOK IS HUNGRY

"Hant" Makes Announcement, But Can't Be Located.

Providence (Rhode Island) Citizens Have a Real Sensation in "Manifestations" Which Have Baffled Elucidation.

Residents of Pond street, in Providence, R. I., are all on edge, for the house at 207, they assert, is undoubtedly "haunted."

For a week "manifestations" have been going on there, and when it came to the point where the cellar was jammed full of curious people and a line was waiting out through the yard into the street, the police took hold. Tenants said they would move if they could only find a place to move to, and both up and down the street dwellers said if someone did not do something pretty soon they would think of moving.

It all came about through a "strange voice" which the neighbors say emanates from the cellar. A week ago, quoting one of the Pond Streeters, a tenant went into the cellar and was startled by the voice saying: "Give me something to eat. I'm starved."

The tenant upset his coal scuttle, but was not nervous about it. He did not want to worry the other tenants, so he said nothing until someone else, entering the cellar, heard distinctly: "Take me out o' here."

There was a consultation; tenants laughed when they looked at each other, but they listened when they passed the cellar stairs. A neighboring marketman was called into consultation. He went downstairs "to be shown" and with amazing promptness an eerie voice from behind the corner of the cellar announced: "I know you; you're the butcher."

Comparison of notes led to the observations that the voice was heard most frequently at 12 noon and at 9 a. m. Noises in the night and the report that a gas range jizzed across the kitchen floor and back have all been orally chronicled to prove that there is something in the matter.

Patrolman McLaughlin, the man on the beat, was called in. He heard noises and went in the second day. When he took the matter with Captain Higgins. They went down in the cellar together, explored the walls for pipe ends, but found no improvised speaking tubes. They looked for beams over outside and discovered no rusted twisted twine attached to it, as juvenile telephones are sometimes contrived, and then they shook their heads. When thirty and forty persons at a time visited the cellar each day, hoping to obtain direct evidence of the "manifestations." Everybody who went away after waiting in vain heard messages but, of course, had not expected anything intelligible from the "haunted" house with such a big crowd on hand.—Boston Herald.

Queer Plant.

"Tul-Tul," as the natives call it, is the most wonderful vegetable plant in the world.

It is found on certain South Pacific islands and in appearance is like a giant turnip, but blood-red in color. To the white man, it is a very tough and tasteless vegetable. To the natives, however, it is a main item of their diet. They cook it and mix it with their coconut and breadfruit, for it is supposed to be very nourishing. They cultivate the plant in a rough sort of fashion in large ditches or swamps.

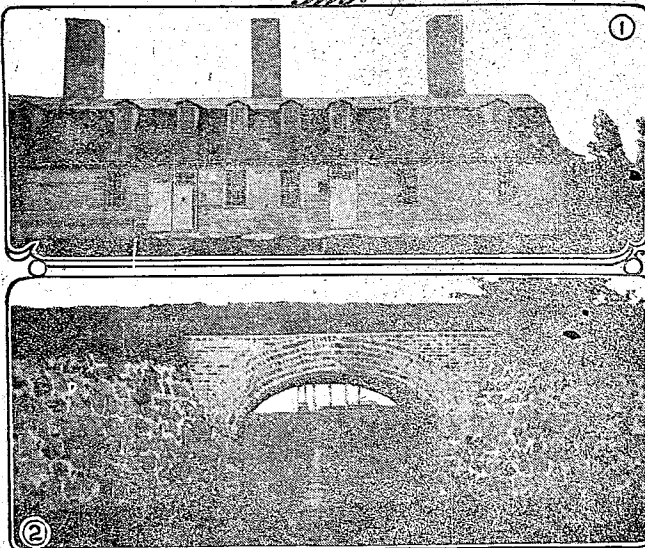

Its most peculiar feature is that it has to be fed, and for this purpose the native children go over the island collecting all decayed vegetable matter. This is soaked in plenty of salt water and is then taken in armfuls to the plants and put in the center of the tufts or on the short, thick stem from which the leaves spread out on every side.

Stoutly, but surely, the decayed matter disappears, the leaves stiffen and spread out erect—signs, apparently, that the plant has dined heartily. For it really is a case of feeding a plant. There is no opening of the stems or leaves; the food is stored and gradually absorbed in a silent and wonderful manner.—Boston Post.

Corinthian Brass.

That which was known as Corinthian brass is said to have been a mixture of gold, silver and brass. There is a legend to the effect that when Mummies destroyed the city of Corinth by fire the conflagration melted all metals, which ran down the streets, and the three mentioned above ran together and formed the alloy named.

Historical Events in Nova Scotia

(1) The Officer Quarters at Fort Anne, Annapolis Royal, Nova Scotia. This is now a museum where many interesting historical relics are kept.

(2) Fort Anne is divided into two sections; this is the connecting archway.

The Nova Scotia Historical Society and its offshoot, the Historical Association of Annapolis Royal are making combined efforts to bring about a fitting commemoration of three interesting historic events this year at Annapolis Royal, the ancient capital of the province. In 1904 the tercentenary of the founding of this place, under its former name of "Fort Royal," was celebrated with great éclat—probably 10,000 people attending—and a monument to de Monts, the founder, in a commanding position in the grounds of Fort Anne, stands as a permanent memorial of that occasion.

Now it is proposed to celebrate and erect a memorial of the tercentenary of the birth of the Province. It was in 1821, the country then being claimed by the British by virtue of Argall's conquest of Acadia in 1613, that James I. of England, VI. of Scotland, granted to Sir William Alexander (afterwards Earl of Stirling), a charter to make of this territory a New Scotland in America, that as there was a New England and a New France there might also be a New Scotland in the New World. This business was finally arranged and the King's Letter, authorizing it issued on the 5th August, 1621, and the date of the tercentenary celebration will in all likelihood be the 5th August this year, and the scene of it the old Fort of Annapolis, now called Fort Anne, where a bronze tablet will be erected as a memorial.

At the same time and place the legal profession will celebrate the bi-centenary of British Civil Courts in Canada and put up a tablet in memory of the establishment of the first of such courts, which sat within the walls of Fort Anne in 1723.

A tablet will also be presented and dedicated bearing the following inscription: "This tablet erected A.D. 1921 under the auspices of the Historical Association of Annapolis Royal commemorates the one hundredth anniversary of the arrival in this Town of Thomas Chandler Halliburton who lived here eight years and began in this place his great career in law, literature and public life."

Thus there will be a tercentenary, a bi-centenary and a centenary celebration, all on one day, in the old stronghold of Port Royal, whose ramparts, bastions and outworks are still in a wonderful state of preservation, and form the centre of attraction for thousands of visitors every year.

The committees in charge of the arrangements have hopes that the Governor-General will be present to unveil the tablets, which will be formally presented by representatives respectively of the province, the legal profession and the local Historical Association, and will be received for the nation by the Minister of the Interior or some one representing him, and committed to the care of the Superintendent of Fort Anne, which is now a National Park under the management of the Interior Department of the Federal Government.

It will be a memorable occasion and no doubt will attract a host of visitors. The full programme, we are assured, will be given to the public at an early date.

LENTEN SUNDAYS HAD NAMES OF THEIR OWN

Curious English Customs That Are Associated With Each

Lent's six Sundays formerly were known in England and in some parts of this country inhabited by folk of English descent by distinguishing provincial names. In the course of centuries many interesting legends and customs became associated with these Sabbath days.

The first Sunday of Lent, however, which fell this year on February 22, seems to have no distinguishing name, except as Quadragesima, or Invocavit in the Roman Catholic church calendars.

Five of the six were known as "Tid Mid and Misera, Carling and Pask." Easter was called "Pase Egg Day."

"Tid" is derived from the first words of the psalm "Te deum," appointed to be read on that day. "Mid" comes from "Mi deus," also the beginning of a psalm. "Misera" from "Messere mei," the opening words of the psalm for the fourth Sunday in Lent. "Carling" is an Anglo-Saxon word of ancient origin and sometimes takes the form of "Care" or "Carle." It means a "care" or "sorrow."

Carling Sunday is also called Passion Sunday.

Of all the Sundays in Lent, the most interesting attaches to the fourth or mid Lent Sunday, widely known as "Mothering Sunday." Before the Reformation, when Roman Catholicism was still the established religion of England it was the custom for the people to visit their mother churches on "Mothering Sunday" and to make their offerings at the high altar.

The name was derived from the epistle for that day, Galatians 4, 26, which contains the expression, "Jerusalem, which is the mother of us all." This epistle is still retained by the Church of England for mid-Lent Sunday. From the custom of visiting the mother church on this day grew that of visiting parents, and especially mothers on that day. In this way the day was the producer of our modern American "Mother's Day," which is set for the second Sunday in May.

Like many another Christian observance, that of visiting mothers on this day grew that of visiting parents, and especially mothers on that day. In this way the day was the producer of our modern American "Mother's Day," which is set for the second Sunday in May.

Like many another Christian observance, that of visiting mothers on this day grew that of visiting parents, and especially mothers on that day. In this way the day was the producer of our modern American "Mother's Day," which is set for the second Sunday in May.

In the olden days in England servant girls especially were expected to return to their old homes to visit their mothers, and mistress to visit them in this pious errand. Naturally the girls took gifts to their parents, and the forms which the gifts took were most frequently those of cakes, called "simnel cakes."

In the Roman Catholic church the fourth Sunday in Lent is known as "Laetare Sunday," from the first words of the introit at mass, "Laetare, Jerusalem." "Rejoice, O Jerusalem." "On this day the golden rose that was sent by the Pope to the Roman Catholic sovereigns was blessed, and the day was therefore, known sometimes as "Domnica Rosae" or "Sunday of the Rose." It was also called "Refreshment Sunday."

"Sunday of the Five Loaves" from the miracle recorded in the Gospel.

Care, or Carling Sunday, the fifth Sunday in Lent, used to be observed in the north of England, and is still so observed in some places, especially at Newcastle-Upon-Tyne, by the eating of a peculiar dish called "carlings." They are gray peas, which, after having been steeped for a night in water, are fried in butter and seasoned with pepper and salt. This custom also, like that of "mothering" in the preceding Sunday, is traced back to pagan origin. It is said to be a continuation of an old beaten bean feast, observed at or about this time of year.—New York Evening Sun.

THE GOAT BOYS EASTER

(By Alice Riebel)

When the first grey morning light crept over the silent Alps, Conrad the goat-boy led his flock to drink at a quiet pool in the bend of the winding torrent, and then guided it to a level nook where the tender young grass was growing green. Far below from the valley, hidden by the veil of silvery mist, he could hear the mellow sound of the church bells.

"Down in the world they are keeping the great feast," he said, "singing the hymns, giving their offerings, and praising the Risen Christ; and I am up here, alone, with no one to greet me with 'Christ is arisen!' and to my answer 'Alleluia!' I may not join in the praise of the church, and I have no offering, but still he continued, as the sweet reminding bells rang on, still I can say the prayers, here on the mountain, and sing the hymns of praise and reverence, then, standing, sing the same hymn of praise that the people in the valley church were singing."

As he sang, he saw, coming down from the higher mountain slopes, a stranger who paused, smiling on him, and said, "Christ is arisen!" "Alleluia!" Conrad responded, wondering who this was, and why he was so early on the Alps.

"Wilt thou point me out the way to yonder village where the church bells are ringing?" asked the stranger.

"Yes, gladly, Sir," the boy replied, "but the way is long and steep, and if perchance thou art come from afar, thou mayest need food." Then he drew from his leather bag his own breakfast of coarse black bread, which he laid on a rock for the stranger, who ate of the bread thankfully, and drank the clear water which Conrad brought, talking as he ate.

"So my little lad, thou art alone, keeping thy Easter Feast?" "Not really keeping the Feast," replied Conrad; "for I may not praise God in His house with His people. And beside, I have no gifts for an offering. Would that I had!"

"Hast thou not then learned that who truly wills in any place may worship God and give Him glory? And who truly wills to give God gifts in His heart gives them. And who truly wills to live the risen life, remembering God in all His ways and desiring to know and serve and honor Him, assuredly doeth this all! Believe me, my child, thy Easter prayers and gifts are both truly given and truly accepted."

Then, suddenly, the stranger, was gone, and Conrad, looking and wondering, could see no trace of him upon all the high Alps. But a strange new light came to him; the mountains; the sunshine which now flooded the slopes lay warm upon the young grass; in the glancing spray of the foaming stream trembled lovely little rainbows, and at Conrad's feet, were unfolded the faintly blue, frail, fragrant water bells of the first hyacinth of the year. And upon the rock lay no longer fragments of coarse black bread, but shining white wheaten waters which, when he tasted the boy found to be wondrous sweet.

"What," Conrad asked himself, "has wrought this wondrous change?"

"Christ hath arisen and passed this way," a Voice seemed to say in answer to his question; and falling on his knees, he whispered, "Alleluia!"

"Thou hast not forgotten Me and I will never forget thee," the wonderful Voice continued. "Prayers, praise and gifts are all accepted; and

EGGS AND EASTER

Very pretty little gifts suitable for Easter presents, can be made from eggs shells. Pierce each end with an egg drill, and blow out the contents with a little blower that comes for the purpose. Almost any boy interested in making a collection of birds' eggs you will find possesses these little implements. But if they cannot be procured, they may be made with a darning needle and blow out the white and yolk. Paint a little landscape, a spray of flowers, or an appropriate motto on them. Knot some narrow ribbon and run through the shells. They are pretty decorations, and they make an appropriate gift to a child.

It was formerly a Swiss custom for the troubadours to stroll through the country, guitars in hand, singing and playing the Easter carols, after which they were regaled by the good wives on bread and wine and colored eggs, which had been prepared expressly for the occasion.

A prominent ancient writer supposes the egg at Easter. "An emblem of the rising out of the grave in the same manner as the chick, entombed, as it were, in the egg is in due time brought to life."

In one of the old church services is the following prayer, "Bless, O Lord we beseech Thee, this Thy creature of eggs, that it may become a wholesome sustenance to Thy faithful servants, eating it in thankfulness to Thee, on account of the resurrection of our Lord."

Iowa has 208,120 farms, of which nearly one half are operated by their owners.

A Jewish shipping corporation has been formed at San Francisco with a capital of $1,250,000 to establish a Jewish mercantile marine for Palestine.

In New York City there are 44,000 teamsters, who are organized in more than a score of local unions, according to the class of work in which the members are engaged.

For the first time in history flour milled in China is being sold in the European market. A shipment has reached Holland and sales are being sought in other countries. China formerly was a large importer of American flour.

The order of Railroad Telegraphers was born just thirty-five years ago, when twenty-five members of the order met at Cedar Rapids, Iowa, on June 8, 1886, and formed what is now one of the most influential labor unions in America.

Today there are more than 400 oil refineries in the United States with an aggregate daily capacity of nearly 2,000,000 barrels. Texas leads all the States with more than seventy plants completed. Oklahoma is second and Pennsylvania third.

Among the international labor organizations to hold their conventions in Canada this year will be the International Typographical Union at Quebec; Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America, at Toronto; Glass Bottle Blowers' Association of America, at Montreal; and the Amalgamated Association of Iron, Steel and Tin Workers of North America, which will meet at Hamilton, Ont.

In other days it shall be given there to offer these in other ways. But know henceforth that all true giving begins in the heart's true desire, and that all desires of all hearts are known to Me."

Conrad still knelt, glad and wondering, gazing at the delicate beauty of the faint blue flower at his feet, the tiny jewel-like rainbows of the flashing water, and the verdant slopes rising up to the gleaming white snow peak that soared into the dazzling sapphire of the Easter sky; and from all he seemed to hear the joyful cry, "Christ is arisen!" "Alleluia. He is risen indeed!" "Young Christian Soldier."

Mother's Give Sick, Bilious Child "California-Fig Syrup"

"California Syrup of Figs" is the best "laxative physic" to give to a sick, feverish child who is bilious or constipated. Directions for babies and children on box. "This is the fruit taste. Beware! Say 'California' or you may not get the genuine recommendation for over thirty years. Don't risk injuring your child's tender stomach, liver and bowels by using any other fig syrup. Insist upon 'California'."

DAINTY TOUCHES FOR EASTER

It is wonderful what an effect just a change in the manner of serving the same food will have upon the jaded appetites of the family and guests. Cold mashed potatoes, hominy or rice, formed into egg-shaped croquettes are fried a deep yellow in hot fat. "Serve up little nests of crisp or parsley, will seem much more delicious than if served in some ordinary way. Not only that, but it helps always to have some special little holiday dish. Children and grown ups love small celebrations, and they make an atmosphere of home. In the long years a memory goes back lovingly to the bright happy gatherings when mother's surprise dish was shouted over with glee.

A pretty way to serve cottage cheese or cream cheese or butter is to divide the cheese into three or four portions. Mix with one portion a little finely chopped parsley, with another some chopped nut meats, and add paprika, and chopped pimento to another, and serve the three different mixtures. One of each kind may be served in little nests made of lettuce or parsley, or arranged in a nest made of aspic jelly.

Just ordinary dishes garnished with slices of hard-boiled eggs will seem so different, as also will eggs served in a different manner from the usual. The prosaic egg on toast will seem like a new dish if a few changes are made. For instance, boil some spinach and season with salt, pepper and butter, and arrange on rounds of buttered toast. Hollow out the middle to form a sort of nest, and break an egg and drop it in. Sprinkle with a little paprika and salt. Cook in the oven until the egg is firm.

Another method is to separate the yolks and whites, keeping the yolks whole. Add a little salt and white pepper to the whites and beat up until stiff. Heap up on rounds of toasted and buttered bread. Make depressions in the centres, and drop in each a yolk. Grate over it a little cheese, or place a slice of ham, or a slice of turkey, and cook in the oven until the egg is firm.

Stuffed eggs are nice either for family or company serving. Boil the eggs hard—one for each person—and serve them with a mixture of salt and pepper. Cut a slice from the small ends, remove the yolks, and part of the whites without breaking the outside of the whites. In this cavity may be placed an oyster cooked and seasoned with a bit of cream sauce or flaked fish seasoned with salt and pepper, and a little cream sauce or thick cream. A delicious salad can be made with them by filling the cavities with a mixture of celery chopped fine and well-seasoned mayonnaise or boiled dressing, or pineapple and cheese. Arrange in nests of lettuce, or surround with mayonnaise. A little minced ham mixed with part of the egg yolks also makes a good filling. If the eggs are stuffed with oysters, fish or ham, spread rounds of nicely toasted bread with butter, cover with the mashed yolks mixed with salt, pepper and salt. Place the eggs, the small ends down, on the toast and serve hot, garnished with parsley. Or the eggs may be placed in pastry shells, and heaped round with cream sauce.

Molded eggs and salmon or chicken and eggs combined are nice dishes to slice down when cold to be served at parties or for luncheon. Make a clear aspic by placing in a kettle one quart of clear stock, one cupful of water, one stalk of celery, one sliced carrot, one onion sliced, several small peppercorns and a bay leaf and a clove or two. Simmer slowly for about twenty minutes; then strain. Dissolve two tablespoonfuls of gelatin in half a cupful of cold water, and stir into the hot stock, which should be seasoned with salt, and pepper to taste. Have the eggs boiled hard, slice and arrange some of the slices on the bottom of a square or oblong mold. Pour in some of the aspic, add some more of the egg, and pour in the rest of the aspic. Chill, and when ready to serve turn out onto lettuce leaves, and slice down. It is a very pretty dish.

Cakes to be served with the desserts may have a decorative touch, too. Make a good loaf cake batter, using any reliable recipe. When baked cover thickly with white icing, in the top of the cake arrange little nests made of strips of citron, and fill with small candy eggs, or decorate the cake with candied violets. Bake a sponge cake, using any good recipe. When cold cut in egg shape, and ice with a yellow icing; or the sponge-cake batter may be put into eggshells held upright in a pan; just fill half full, and bake in a quick oven.

Rinse the shells well, and grease with a little lard butter.

For the children's dinner, on Easter Sunday an egg-in-the-nest dessert can be made without much trouble, and it will please the little ones and big ones too, much more than would a similar pudding served in the ordinary way. Make an orange jelly, after the following recipe: Soak half a box of gelatin (or two tablespoonfuls of granulated gelatin) for twenty minutes in a half cup of cold water, then pour into it one and a half cupfuls of boiling water and stir till the gelatin is quite dissolved. Then add one cupful of sugar and one half cupful of orange juice, and when the sugar is dissolved, strain the jelly. In the centre of each of a number of small round dishes or molds which have been dipped in cold water, place an inverted egg cup—a small china one and pour a few spoonfuls of the jelly around it; then set the molds on ice. Have ready some egg shells from which only the end has been broken to remove the contents. HAD RHEUMATISM FOR FIVE YEARS

No Return of the Trouble Since Taking "FRUIT-A-TIVES"

MR. JOHN E. GUILDERSON

P.O. Box 123, Parrishboro, N.S.

"I suffered with Rheumatism for five years, having it so badly at times I was unable to get up without assistance.

I tried different medicines I saw advertised and was treated by doctors in Amherst, also in my home town, but the Rheumatism came back.

In 1918, I saw in an advertisement that 'Fruit-a-tives' would stop Rheumatism, and took one box and got relief; then I took them right along for about six months and the Rheumatism was all gone and I have never felt it since.

Anyone who would care to write me as regards 'Fruit-a-tives' I would be glad to tell them what 'Fruit-a-tives' did for me."

JOHN E. GUILDERSON,
Contractor and Mason.

News of Weymouth

Geo. A. Hankinson left on Tuesday for Boston, anticipating an absence of ten days.

The many friends of Miss Allison Kilian will learn with profound gratitude that she successfully underwent an operation for appendicitis at Halifax, and is well on the road to recovery.

Frank Ouellette returned from a business trip to Halifax on Tuesday. On Wednesday, in company with Mr. Hatt, superintendent of the Stebbins Pulp and Paper Co., he went to Port Clyde to look after business interests there. Both returned to Weymouth on Friday.

Mrs. (Dr.) E. J. Pothier returned from Kentville on Saturday. She was accompanied by her sister, Mrs. (Dr.) J. MacGrath, and the latter's little kid.

The many friends of Louis Stelstein are pleased to see him out again after being confined to the house on account of injuries received when he fell on his back. Through much improved, Mr. Stelstein has to undergo an operation in the near future.

Misses Mabel and Lenzie Melanson were passengers to Yarmouth Tuesday, returning on the evening train.

Camille Coleman, land surveyor of Chatham, was in town last week surveying property. Whilst in town he was the guest of his brother, Pius Coleman.

The military opening at the Weymouth Bros. store is announced for Saturday, the 26th, inst. Mr. Shaw, who had charge of the military department last year, has been encouraged to arrive from Bridgetown on Tuesday.

Melmon Melanson, who for the past week has been visiting his mother, Mrs. Mary Melanson, Weymouth Mills, left on Friday for his home in Boston.

Dr. A. F. Hogan was a passenger to Boston on Tuesday, where he will spend the Easter holidays with his wife and family. Mrs. Hogan having remained in Weymouth after the death of her mother in January.

Several of our townsfolk are down with the grippe. The month of March with its changeable weather is the hardest month of the year, from the stand point of health.

"Silver Threads Among The Gold" was shown to a large and appreciative audience at the Green Lantern on Saturday evening. The pictures were wholly different from the usual kind. The singing of the old melodies by Mr. Morrison recalled vividly the fact that the old songs are immortal.

Stanley Hallett has taken up his duties as postmaster, the inspector having completed his work. Already Mr. Hallett has been busy in the grading of the public by his prompt suppression of noise and capers of the kids during the sorting of the mail.

Rumor is current that Weymouth is to be a lively little place this summer. With the polo field, a skating rink and a swimming pool, there will be plenty to do. Perhaps it is not yet too late to endeavor to secure electric lights. The thing the most vital and necessary, however, is the repair of the sidewalks.

"Reports from the sanatorium convey the belief that Rev. P. C. McLaughlin, Philip Brun and James McMahon are doing remarkably well. The three persons above named are Weymouthians and their friends are grateful to learn of their condition.

A very successful gathering was held in connection with the Men's Bible Class, in the Temperance Hall on Thursday evening. About 166 members sat down to a very fine lobster supper, and at its conclusion the following programme was given, W. P. Morrell acting as chairman.

Male Quartette, "Solos" by Farewell, George Crocker, Alton MacNeil, W. V. Perry and Leonard Hains.

Darkey Sermon—Albert Thurber. Song—"Don't Take Me Home," Arch Thurber.

Reading—"Sally Ann's Experience" Rev. G. W. Brooker.

Solo—"Let The Rest of The World Go By" William H. Brooker.

Solo—"Caroline," M. J. Crocker.

Speech—Capt. Byard Powell of Boston an old resident who has been absent for 25 years.

Male Quartette "Sweet Evellina". After the program the remainder of the evening was spent in games, except for the supper, provided by the social committee of which Chas. Morrell was chairman. Too much praise cannot be given to the supper, provided by the social committee of which Chas. Morrell was chairman.

Rev. G. W. Brooker, for the first time, has shown in the organization of this Bible Class, there being a membership of 110.

The Easter service will be held next Sunday morning at 11. Special Anthems by the choir. Sermon on "The Ever Living, Ever Reigning Christ." A meeting for young Christians will be held in the vestry on Friday evening at 7, the men's Bible Class will have an Easter Rally next Sunday at 2. Topic for discussion, "Our Victorious King."

Miss Dorothy Hains and Emerson Hains entertained a company of their friends at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hains on the evening of March 17. The time was spent in dancing except for an intermission when ice cream and cake were served, and when the time came to leave it did not need the assurance of the guests to prove that everyone had had a very enjoyable evening. A feature of the occasion was an impromptu jazz orchestra got up by Reuben Hains, Emerson Hains and Sheldon Miller. Miss Mary Hains sat at the piano, and the photograph did the rest.

It is evidence of their popularity that Mr. and Mrs. Allen, were asked to, and attend two entertainments in one evening, as there was also a Lobster Supper at the Temperance Hall. They arrived none the worse for their hearty meal, except that it was noticed they didn't show quite as much vim as when Alfred McKenzie was another new arrival who was able to attend. It was regretted that Miss Viola Collins was unable to get over from Westport on account of difficulties in transportation; but it is hoped that she will be able to attend in future as her musical ability will make her doubly welcome.

This party is one of a series of reciprocal banquets that are being held in Freeport. It is intended to have either a card party or dance at a different house each week. Most of the new generation seem to have forgotten the days of their youth and from on anything that gives pleasure to a mixed company of young people, but it is hoped that in time they will come to realize that the pleasures of their children differ from their own, as theirs did from those of their own parents. Some seemed to be under the impression that Thursday night's party was got up in opposition to the lobster supper; but it was only by coincidence that they occurred on the same night.

Miss Mary Prime entertained a few of her friends at a candy pull on Wednesday evening.

John W. Thurber returned from St. John on Thursday.

The F. E. Davis Fish Factory has reopened for the summer months.

Capt. Byard Powell, of Boston, Mass., is visiting friends here. All are pleased to see Capt. Powell, after an absence of twenty years.

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Hains have returned home after spending the winter in Ayestford.

R. E. Morrell was called to Lynn, Mass. this week on account of the illness of his mother, Mrs. Fairfield Morrell. Mrs. Morrell had the misfortune of falling down stairs and fracturing the spine.

"Feeling fine!"

A few days ago though, I felt pretty miserable. I had a cold, and I was feeling pretty bad. I must have been very much run down, until someone recommended—

Dr. Wilson's HERBINE BITTERS

An old fashioned, natural preparation made from Dandelion, Mandarins, Burdock, and other purifying herbs. It cleanses the blood, and builds up the system. It is a powerful liver and stomachic.

H. W. BORING, a well-to-do

Kansas farmer, says he has gained twenty pounds and is in better general health than he has been in years, since taking Tanlac.

"Since Tanlac has overcome my troubles I have gained twenty pounds in weight and am in better general health than for years past."

was the straight-forward statement made a few days ago by H. W. Boring, a prominent and well-to-do farmer living at Overland Park, Kans.

"During the two years I suffered I tried everything I knew of to get relief, but nothing seemed to reach my case until I tried Tanlac. My appetite was poor and my digestion was so bad. I could hardly retain my food. Nothing seemed to agree with me; in fact, was almost a confirmed dyspeptic. My whole system seemed to be out of shape. I would have pains across the small of my back so bad at times I could hardly move around.

"My nerves were all unstrung and I would become upset at the least little thing. I seldom slept well at night and finally, became so weak and run-down that I lost weight rapidly. I was also troubled with a great deal with catarrh and of mornings had to spend a half hour or more clearing up my head.

"This is just the condition I was in when I began taking Tanlac and it certainly has been a blessing to me. It just seemed to be made especially for my case. I improved from the first. My digestion now is perfect and regardless of what I eat I never suffer any bad after-effects.

"The pains across my back have entirely disappeared. The catarrh has left me, too, and my head is perfectly clear. I am no longer nervous and rest well at night. I have regained my lost weight and am feeling better and stronger than I have in years. I am going to keep Tanlac in my house so it will be handy at all times.

"GOOD OLD DAYS" RECALLED

Century-Old Ledger Unearthed in Marietta, O., Makes Some Rather Interesting Reading.

Marietta, O., in 1797 paid $409.04 for the maintenance of the government, according to a ledger just brought to light from its hiding place of many years.

December 28, 1797, was the date of the first entry in the book. Six years later Ohio became a state. The county at that time was three times as large as it is today. The tax duplicate showed a total of $1,310. In the territory allotted to Washington county in 1797 were the towns of Marietta, Gallipolis, Middleton, Adams, Waterford, Salem and Bellefree now Bellevue.

Six collectors were appointed, with headquarters in Marietta, and these men made their rounds in the "wild land" at the risk of their lives for a wage of $6.55. Indians surrounded the county, and in some instances the villages, so the tax collector was often lucky to return "body whole."

In 1798, according to the ledger, the district was divided into nine sections. Instead of six, and nine collectors were chosen. Names of the men are given and their places of residence. The commission chose a board of three members and named a chairman in that year.

Meetings were held at the home of Joseph C. Lincoln, a Revolutionary war hero, and a member of the original Ohio company, which settled in Marietta, the first town in Northwest territory.

Judges received 75 cents a day whenever they worked on the bench, the ledger records show. There were quarterly sessions and a judge for each session. Six cents a mile was paid a judge for each mile traveled. The foreman of the grand jury received 60 cents a day and the jurymen 60 cents and 3 cents a mile for travel to and from court.

Disbursements for advertising in Atlantic coast and New England town papers are mentioned in the ledger, showing advertising was a necessity in that day.

Roumanian Military Men Dandies.

The Roumanian, at least the city resident, is extremely fond of perfume, scented soap, rouge, cosmetics and other artificial aids to beauty. This applies not only to the women but to the men.

The average young Roumanian army officer is scented, powdered, rouged and often, it is said, corseted! His habits mark him for a good deal of rally on the part of foreign officers and visitors. His dress he is as faultless as a Ben Brummel and in manner as polite as a Lord Chesterfield. He is seen at his best on Saturday or Sunday afternoon on the Calea Victoriei (the Fifth avenue of Bucharest).

Dressed in a sky-blue uniform, gaudily trimmed with red, high patent-leather boots with silvered spurs that clink musically as he walks, glittering sword at side, white kid gloves and many military decorations, he makes a striking figure.

Answered the Purpose.

The assignment in the English composition class at Scioto was the supplying of the feminine equivalent term when the teacher gave out the masculine term. All was going lovely, duke with the answer duchess, marquis and marchioness, but "lord" brought an answer until Johnnie stumbled on to his answer out of his every-day vocabulary—"lordy."

New Use for Photography.

The gas meters in New York are to be read by photograph. Meter readers employed by the gas company will be equipped with small cameras which fit over the indicator on the meter. By pressing a button light is thrown on the dial and exposure made, showing the amount of gas consumed since the last photograph.

Reopening Irish Copper Mines.

The old copper mines of Ardmore, in County Waterford, Ireland, are to start working again. Engineers state that the cliff still possesses rich lodes of copper ore, and the Drum hills have workable deposits of coal. It is proposed to start work at once with 300 men.

Easy for Papa.

Little Joe's father, had died and after the funeral Joe called his mother and asked: "Mamma, where is daddy?" "In heaven, dear," his mamma replied. Joe exclaimed: "Oh, gee, ain't that nice; he can see all the ball games free."—Chicago American.

Puzzled at Sink's Thirst.

My little daughter, after watching me pour a bucket of water into the sink and seeing it disappear, said: "Oh, daddy, does the sink drink water, too?"—Chicago American.

Spain Wants Cotton.

To encourage cotton raising in Spain the government will give cash prizes to the foremen and laborers who most distinguish themselves in its cultivation.

To Be Expected.

"The doctor pronounced it a case of auto-intoxication." "I don't wonder with the supply I saw under the back seat of my car."

Noisy Eruption.

From a story: "Yells of joy attained up his throat."—Boston Transcript.

The greatest zinc mine in the world located in Sussex county, New Jersey, has been worked almost continuously since colonial days.

GRAY-DORT

Watchful Eyes Guard Its Quality

THERE is much more than mere routine to the elaborate system of inspection which guards the supreme quality of the Gray-Dort car.

Built into every car is the pride of an organization over sixty years experienced in the production of satisfactory transportation.

Each skilled craftsman looks upon the Gray-Dort as his personal product, by which he will be judged in the eyes of the world.

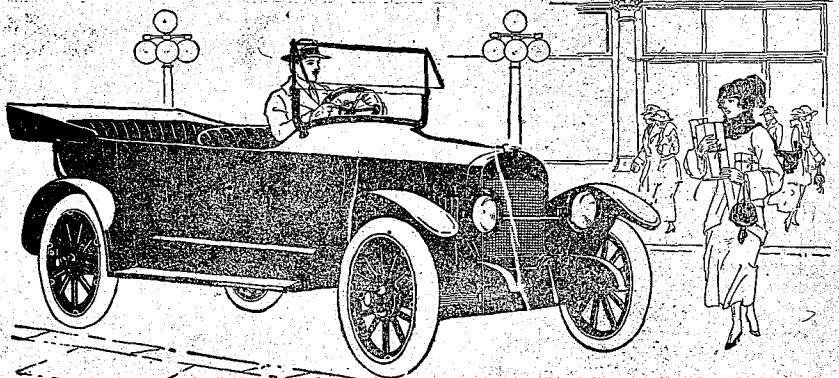

The result is a carefulness—a precision—of construction which is matched only by the fineness of the materials with which our men work.

The final result is freedom from ordinary motor car troubles and the long life which comes only with perfect harmony in every working part.

Compared with other cars, the Gray-Dort is worth much more than its fair made-in-Canada price.

The difficulty in securing a Gray-Dort will increase as the season advances. See the Gray-Dort dealer now.
