Welcome to the Digital DIGBY COURIER

100th Birthday

The hundredth anniversary of the Digby Weekly Courier has brought to mind some fond memories as contained in the following historical chapter of the writer. But first, I wish to congratulate the current editor of the Courier, Mrs. J.M. (Edith) Wallis, for a job well done over the years and still being well done, good service rendered with great fortitude.

According to any record, I have at hand, the Digby Courier, in one hundred years of publication, was controlled under the same family management for 42 years, 1931 to 1973, under the control of Wallis Print Limited. The late J.J. Wallis became editor of The Courier the second time, in 1929, and at the same time of the business, which he had been running for some time previously and which became Wallis Print Limited sometime between 1929 and 1931.

I well remember the last year of the twenties when I worked in the office of the son with the husband and father of the late J.J. Wallis, the Courier. Sometime in 1928 or early 1929, the late J.M. Wallis (Mac), son of "J.J." engaged me to work every day after school hours, Saturdays, and for some months after full time. The place of work was in the building on the corner of the present Digby town hall on First Avenue. J.J. Wallis then worked occasionally at the print shop but mostly across the street at the Courier office which was then located on land in the general area where The Royal Bank of Canada is now.

Wallis Job Print operated in 1929 with a staff of four consisting of J.J. Wallis, J.M. Wallis, Miss Eva Haynes, who later became Mrs. George Kicup, and myself. I was engaged as a printer in the left Eva's job was to run the printing plant but mostly at the Courier office. "Mac" worked nearly full time at all the different jobs at the Job Print, and I worked at various duties, most of the time being spent at operating printing presses.

We worked ten-hour days, six days a week. "J.J." and "Mac" sometimes worked overtime. I worked only the regular hours being paid a weekly wage which was comparatively good for those times and my lack of experience. I received four or five dollars a week for working after school hours to six o'clock and on Saturday all day, and nine dollars a week for full weeks after finishing school. A two or three dollar a week raise was offered to me in the fall of 1929 for me to stay on at printing, but I had made up my mind to enter a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, starting salary of $300. The bank salary figured out about the same per hour as for the printing job. Nevertheless, the congenial atmosphere of the printing plant those days, and, experience however short, were helpful and appreciated by me.

"J.J." was very jovial in his occasional trip to the Job Print and did considerable kidding all in good fun. "Mac" was a witty person who mixed in a good natured sarcasm now and then for one reason or another. Eva most always had good answers to all the kidding she was called upon to take, and, generally held her own in a quiet sort of way, always busy setting type. We four all got along very well indeed. However, I do remember that some days did seem long and weary because of the monotony of some repetitious jobs.

In spite of the great demand for printing those last boom days of the twenties, business generally being brisk, it looked to me that people had to work long and hard to make any decent profit. There was including treatment of the hands. However, nails and finger ends were used and I was soon back to work.

Now and then a printing job had a dose on parchment paper which required a special kind of printers' ink which smelled very bad those days. I always dreaded it when "Mac" would do that job on the largest press, in spite of the fact that we always opened an outside door to lessen the effects on the constitution.

One of the jobs I had to do, being the junior and printers' devil on the staff, was to clean out and then, one day not long after I started my job at the printing plant, I decided to clean the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned in some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily, he thought the remark pretty good and suitable.

Sometimes the gasoline engine or a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and after "Mac" the fix-it man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results, "Mac" would then stand back and cuss quite strenuously, then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of cussing."

On other occasions when some gadget refused duty for me and, seemed to be broken, "Mac" would say, "use a little oil," and sure enough, often that is all it took. How often since, have I thought of the value of that remark and the actual need of "oil" in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and, in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the time I told "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring season of 1929 got together just before dark one evening and decided to initiate the newly built outdoor Pines Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just east of the pool; nobody else seemed to be around except the four boys; no thought or time for bathing suits up to the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in, the rest quickly followed and across the pool they swam. "Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Scouts Officially Open Pines Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the four? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Earl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars (second world and Korean), was awarded the Victoria Cross; Sidney L. Smith, now prominent druggist for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale lobster king merchant; and myself.

As a young teenager I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day "Mac" said to me "how about writing your version of the story told about 'The Marooning of Jerome'." I had heard and read at least two somewhat different stories about the man who was found marooned on a beach at some point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Digby County. When found this man's tongue had been cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Jerome" appeared to have been a man of some considerable social standing and possibly of some considerable wealth. However the only thing the man could or would ever say after being found and cared for by some family in the French shore was, something that sounded like the word "Jerome". He either could not, or, would not, write anything about who he was or why he was left the way he was. Well, it was, and is, one of Digby County's mystery stories, and, different ideas have been expressed over the years concerning this man. However my response to "Mac" was, I felt no urge to write anything more or different about this man. The mystery seemed to have been very well explored in the mind of many people, and, he was a sort of curiosity for many people who visited where he lived for many years.

Three years later I was quite a young man, and I was back in the street that I had lived in, and I was clanking my powered up car, and I was thinking of "Jerome", and as I remember it, I was thinking of "Jerome". "J.J." was noted for his sense of humor and his ability to make people laugh. In 1928 during the time Mr. Wallis was editor of the Scott Act (Prohibition Law) he was about and advocated by some people, and I was attending a boys' conference in the town of Digby.

Digby 172 Years Ago

Compiled by David Sanford

From the files of the Courier of January 23, 1867, the following account has been copied concerning Digby in 1800.

"Among a number of old newspapers kindly sent to us by friends is a copy of the Saint John Gazette of May, 1802, says the Telegraph and among other advertisements contained in the issue before us is one describing the town and township of Digby, and offering for sale certain lots in the town. In this area we are told the township of Digby extends from the Gulf of Annapolis westward to the extremity of the province of Nova Scotia, and contains about 130,000 acres." The town plot is thus described:

"The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Basin, and twenty miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles across land from the head of St. Mary's Bay. This laid out from the water's edge, partly on level ground and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having with an eastern aspect, a view of the Annapolis Basin and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in where it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth of that name. It was settled by Loyalists from New York in 1783, the most of whom went early to farms, or, moving to older countries, left the whole side to be bought proved by about who now reside detached, built dwellings with orchards, and some fishery and. It has communal parts of the communal provisions in a cheap, built readily to be from many circumstances, probability of place of some shipbuilding, the West India a cheap and of residence.

free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students one of which was some Digby's daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Melvin O. Tibert, Freeport, Digby Co.) Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters; I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print". I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like: embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and trimming paper stock, mixing inks for certain desired colors, and so forth, but, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "pi", the printers name for a confused mess.

There was a taste of trying to sell job printing outside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried it, made several calls around town, spent most of the time at one particular house, and got an order, but, it was much time and got an order, but,

1942-43 Scallop Season Opened Today

On Tuesday and yesterday boats of the Digby scallop fleet were busy loading fuel and other supplies in order that they would be ready to sail for the scallop fishing grounds for the beginning of the 1942-1943 scallop dragging season, which started at midnight last night.

There are still a number of craft not fitted up for the season because of delays that have been caused by various reasons. A few of the boats were also engaged in other activities during the summer months and these have not had sufficient time to be ready for the opening of the season. Nevertheless a sizeable fleet will set forth from Digby and nearby ports.

Fishermen are optimistic over the prospects of the new season, providing weather conditions are favorable, for whether scallops are plentiful or otherwise, whether prices are high or low, the weather is the chief factor in this industry. For scallop dragging (the fishermen gather their harvest from the floor of the ocean, hundreds of feet below the surface) comparatively smooth water is essential.

From the price standpoint last season was the most profitable in the history of the scallop fleet. It was an ordinary thing for fishermen to receive as high as thirty cents a pound for their catches, and as high as forty cents was received on some occasions. This season promises to be fully as good, or even better in this respect. The price to the fishermen is already well above that paid at the beginning of last season.

High prices to the fishermen place Digby in a peculiar position with respect to scallops. It is from this port that 90% of Canada's scallops are landed, yet, the people of Digby were unable to buy this delicacy in local retail markets, and had to depend on fishermen friends most of the season for a "mess of scallops."

The reason for this situation is because of the price season established early in the season. The retail ceiling price for scallops was established at 30 cents a pound. When scallop fishermen were receiving that amount, that amount and more from the American and a few Canadian wholesale markets was being realized.

The price ceiling has, nevertheless, affected all Canadian markets to some extent, but not to the same extent as in Digby.

St. Bernard's Church Holds Dedication

A life's dream of the 200-family parish of St. Bernard, Bellevue's Cove and New Edinburgh came true on Thursday last, when His Excellency, Most Rev. John Thomas McNally, D.D., Archbishop of Halifax, dedicated the new St. Bernard's Church. For 32 years the devout Acadian settlers of this French shore community had awaited this memorable day and formal opening of "l'Église Saint Bernard" was a fitting climax to years of hard work, self sacrifice, and an amazing degree of perseverance.

In two directions along the winding highway, which runs 32 miles through the township of Clare and which the residents call "Clare street—the longest street in the world," people converged on St. Bernard for the opening of the impressive, five-hour ceremony. Some came by car, others by bicycle, some in or-ries, and many came miles on foot.

By 9 a. m. when Right Rev. Patrick A. Bray, Bishop of Saint John, who was among the many dignitaries of the church in attendance, opened the ritual by blessing the church grounds, many hundreds had gathered at the scene. There followed the consecration of the altar by Archbishop McNally, who officiated at Pontifical High Mass at which the church's 1,020 seating accommodation was taxed to near capacity.

Situated on a knoll overlooking beautiful St. Mary's Bay, the church measures 212 feet by 70 feet and towers almost 100 feet in the air, high above the modest homes of the Roman Catholic population. Constructed of granite brought by ship and rail from Shelburne, the edifice was built and paid for entirely by the parishioners in a supreme co-operative effort. It is of Gothic structure, one of the finest in the Maritimes, and was built to replace the old church of St. Bernard which is 92 years old.

For Isaie Belliveau, 77, of Bellevue's Cove, this marked the completion of his life's work. In 1910 this energetic member of the St. Bernard parish was given plans drawn by R. A. Frechet, Moncton architect, his assignment being to construct a new parish church patterned along the lines of the cathedral at Rennes, France.

Belliveau has done some farming but primarily was a carpenter, and a good one. As foreman of the St. Bernard undertaking he was to prove himself an expert craftsman. Down through the years Isaie Belliveau toiled with the manual and financial aid of other members of the parish. At times, particularly when war and depression intervened, it seemed unlikely the project would ever be completed. But courage and perseverance won over all obstacles.

How well Isaie Belliveau did his work was evidenced as the church stood completed, all save a few finishing touches. It was a proud moment for the aging contractor as he took his seat in the front pew of the church, alongside his son, Dr. Pierre Belliveau, of Meteghan, the latter's wife and Leo Melanson, of Church Point, who did the magnificent woodwork. But it was a

Digby Included In Home Extension Plan

The following telegram was received by R. B. Murray, president of the Digby Board of Trade, yesterday morning:

"DIGBY INCLUDED TODAY IN LIST OF MUNICIPALITIES ELIGIBLE FOR HOME EXTENSION PLAN."

In a list recently published by the Government, Digby was not included in spite of the fact that recent developments in this area within the past six months have created a serious housing shortage. Homes for the many newcomers in our area have simply not been available. The seriousness of the situation has been increasing steadily.

Now that Digby is included, it can be reasonably expected steps will be taken immediately to remedy the situation.

Ordained at Waterville Church

Gordon L. Gower, pastor of the Waterville Baptist church, was ordained into the ministry of the United Baptist Convention in the presence of a large congregation of the church. Rev. Mr. Gower, native of Westport, preached for several years at New Canada before going to Waterville.

The ordination service was conducted by Rev. R. H. McFarlane, Gaspereaux, chairman of Kings County Baptist district. The scripture and prayer were by Rev. E. C. Churchill, Port Williams, and the ordination sermon was preached by Rev. Waldo C. Machum, Kentville. Examining council report was read by Mrs. Eugene Best, clerk, Waterville church, and to the candidate by Rev. M. R. McFarlane. Other events on the program were, ordaining prayer, Rev. F. C. Fenerty, Canard, charge to the candidate, Rev. R. E. Whitman, Wolfville, charge to the church, Rev. W. Cholerton, Berwick; welcome to ministry, Rev. R. S. Gregg, Aylesford. The benediction was given by the new minister, Rev. G. L. Gower. Miss Greta Best was the organist and Cyril Pearson, soloist. Freda Cook and Marion White were heard in a duet. Special numbers were accompanied by Mrs. Edna White, and there was a massed choir from all parts of the pastorate, including Waterville, Cambridge, Gratton and Black Rock.

Bay View Woman In Bombing

In a clipping from a Boston paper, we read that "Mrs. Mabel Robertson was shaken but unharmed in the bombing of the British War Relief Society building on Commonwealth Ave., Boston. The bomb exploded on the lawn 20 ft. from the basement office she occupied."

Mrs. Robertson is the daughter of Capt. Sandy Adams, and her many friends will be glad to know she was unhurt.

MARRIAGE

Wolfe - Payson

A pretty autumn wedding took place at Saint Anne's Chapel, Smith's Cove, on Thursday morning, September 24th, when Miss Joyce Annie Janet Payson, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Payson, Smith's Cove, became the bride of Sergeant Donald Bernard Wolfe, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Wolfe, Moncton. The Rev. A. W. L. Smith, rector of Saint Clements' Parish, performed the ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attractively gowned in a wool suit of Tudor Rose trimmed with mink and wore a corsage of roses. Her only ornament was a gold locket having the Air Force crest, a gift of the groom. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Frances Weir, who wore beige crepe with blue accessories. The matron of honor, Mrs. Alexander Sutherland, sister of the bride, wore brown crepe with corresponding accessories. The groomsmen were Lieutenant A. K. Sutherland and the ushers were Corporal E. A. Payson, brother of the bride and William Wolfe, brother of the groom. Throughout the ceremony, Miss Frances Austin played nuptial music. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Receiving with the bride and groom were the bride's mother, Mrs. Edward Payson, who wore a Queen's Blue ensemble with black accessories and the groom's mother, Mrs. Bernard Wolfe, gowned in black crepe with black and white accessories. Out of town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. B. N. Wolfe, Mrs. Ella Budd and W. Wolfe, Moncton; Cpl. E. A. Payson, Windsor, Ont.; Mrs. A. N. Brooks and Miss Grace Brooks, Weymouth, and Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Weir and Teddy Weir, of Digby. Later in the afternoon the newly married couple left on the Saint John boat for Toronto where they will reside at 69 Well's Hill. The groom is a staff sergeant at Manning Depot and previous to her marriage the bride held a sten-

Digby Electric Light Rates Reduced

The application of the Town of Digby for a new schedule of light rates, heard August 5th by the Nova Scotia Board of Public Utilities, has been approved, and will be effective from October 1st, 1942.

Under the new schedule for Domestic and Commercial Lighting the charge will be 3.5 cents per kw. h. for the first step, 2.5 cents per kw. h. for the second and 1.5 cents per kw. h. for the third step. This reduction is from 5 cents, 3 cents and 1.5 cents.

Power rates have been reduced from 4 cents and 3 cents per kw. h. to 2.5 cents and 1.5 cents per kw. h.

Street lighting has been reduced to 5 cents and 1 cent per kw. hr., from 6 cents to 4.5 cents.

Royal Store Staff Hold Banquet

A very pleasant function took place at the home of William Webber, manager of the Royal Store, last Wednesday evening, when 28 members of the staffs of the Royal Stores in Digby, Weymouth, Middleton and Berwick, attended a "Get-together" Banquet. After the dinner a discussion on shop methods, following an address by Mr. Webber on the subject, took place. The proper display of stock, the waiting-on of customers and the general appearance of the store were all considered. Altogether, the evening was both profitable and enjoyable and those who attended were well repaid for their time and effort.

Mr. MacKay, of the employment department, Dominion Construction Corporation, Ltd., has returned after visiting Sydney, Montreal and Quebec in the interests of the firm.

graphic position at Osgood Hall, Toronto.

On Monday evening September 21st, a community shower was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Weir when many beautiful and useful gifts were received. Among the wedding presents were two chests of silver, beautiful pieces of china and linen, cheques and a nest of tables, the gift of a previous shower in Toronto.

Mrs. A. D. Merkel Passes In Halifax

Margaret Jane Merkel, 83, widow of Rev. Andrew DeBlois Merkel, one-time Anglican rector of Chester, N. S., died early last Thursday night.

Mrs. Merkel was the daughter of John and Lucy (Kaiser) Thomas and was born at Martin's River, Lunenburg County, where her father, a licensed lay reader of the Church of England, taught school in the days preceding Confederation. Later the family took up a grant on the Chester-Windsor road near Chester.

Surviving are three sons, Andrew D. Merkel, superintendent of the Canadian Press, Halifax, James W. Merkel, postmaster, Digby, and Gerald C. Merkel, Chicago; four grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

An active and consistent church worker, she will be long remembered in Trinity Parish, Digby, where she spent most of her adult life.

The death occurred at the home of her son, Andrew D. Merkel, in Halifax.

The funeral was held from Trinity Church, Digby, at 2.30 p.m., Saturday.

Red Shield Drive Extended

The Salvation Army Red Shield Home Front Appeal has been extended until October 3. Those who have not as yet contributed are respectfully asked to do so—those who have contributed and wish to increase their donations are asked to contact us at once.

We are still a long way from our objective. Digby has never yet failed to answer in full measure a worthy appeal. I know she will not fail the Army of Mercy in this Red Shield Drive.

About This and That

It Can Happen Here

If you are interested in what will happen here in Canada in the event of an axis victory, just cast your eye in the direction of France. There the German catpaw, Pierre Laval, has just issued a decree establishing what amounts to a compulsory system of labor for all men between the ages of 18 and 50, and all women between the ages of 20 and 35.

Once registered under this decree, all Frenchmen and women between the prescribed ages are subject to being sent anywhere at any time to do anything, at the option of the state. They can even be sent into German war factories in the reich itself.

This tops all previous Laval records for infamy.
What he is attempting to do is to provide slave labor for Germany. Frenchmen are to be drafted for German farms, mills, factories and mines, where working forces have been depleted by the demands of the German army for more man-power in the titanic struggle with Russia.

It is now apparent that Laval is determined to deliver unoccupied France into complete control of the Germans. He is ready to meet any demands made upon him by the nazi leaders. Backed by German bayonets, he is all-powerful; the French people are today little better than slaves. And this is exactly what will happen later to us here in Canada unless we accomplish the complete defeat of those forces which have set themselves up as the lords of the world.

We Must Fight

We must fight our great conflict today with a common will and a common purpose, each of us giving our all, not merely as much as we see our neighbor give. That is the reason why the democracies will win. That is the secret weapon unknown to the dictator-ridden countries.

We must fight. Every Canadian has a part to play, and it's up to us as Canadians to find out where we can fight best and serve most. In the armed forces, in the plants, on the farm—there is a job for everyone.

We must fight—and our main battlefield is within ourselves. Our enemy has sought and is still seeking to destroy our unity by sowing dissension and doubts as to the efficiency of our government, the validity of our equal rights, the feasibility of our religious and racial tolerance.

We must fight. If we lose this war, we will lose all for which our fathers fought, not on the battlefield alone, but in the class-rooms, in the laboratories, in all the arenas in which the age-old battle of progress against superstition has been fought.

We must fight. Only in this way shall we keep our freedom. This way of life is ours only so long as we fight for it.

Our Reserve Army

In previous weeks the purpose and structure of the Reserve Army have been discussed. Specific reference has been made to the local unit formed in Digby. This unit is steadily growing in size and efficiency. There is still, however, room for more men to join this unit. While it is felt that all appreciate the necessity for the existence of this unit, there are still a great many eligible, able-bodied, young men in the Reserve Army age category in this vicinity who have not yet made any attempt to join. Let us not be misunderstood. While we regard it as a high privilege and duty to join this unit, no man is expected to join if his periods of training will cause undue hardships to himself, his business or family. But at the same time, let us remember that we are engaged in the most terrible war that mankind has ever experienced. We in this democratic country are fighting to maintain and preserve our own happy way of life.

The struggle is so gigantic that each and every one of us must do his part no matter how small the part and no matter if it does entail doing something that we have not been called upon to do before. Many men eligible for the Reserve Army locally simply say that they have other things to do that they do not have time to devote to the training periods. But these men can very easily reorganize their time so that these training periods can be fitted in and after all, these things which they think important and which are preventing them from joining, are in fact relatively unimportant. Many of our brave young men have taken time to die in our battle for freedom in the skies over Europe and in the Middle East. Surely, our able-bodied young men can take some small part of their time to prepare for the defence of their own homes if that necessity should arise.

Let us then face facts. Our country needs a Reserve Army.

The Reserve Army needs every eligible man capable of joining. You are not being called upon to leave your home, your business or your family. Your business or your job can be carried on just the same as before. You are given the privilege of remaining at home and carrying on your ordinary civilian duties as you are now doing, and all you are called upon to do is readjust your time so that you can work in these training periods and because a member of this very necessary branch of our armed forces.

The members of the local unit, like those of any other unit of the Reserve Army, are instructed in the regular army drill, are taught the use of small arms, the Bren gun, bayonet fighting and manoeuvres and tactics similar to those taught in the regular Army. Collectively, this training is moulding together an efficient defence unit. Individually it gives each member of the unit an opportunity to equip himself as a more useful citizen in this time of emergency.

Let all our able-bodied men therefore grasp this opportunity and forget these really unimportant excuses. Join now and assist in making this local unit of our Reserve Army just what we want it to be—a large, efficient, well-trained group in which every man can do his part if the necessity should arise, whether it be a matter of weeks, months or years. Our government feels that event may arise.
World events have proved that it can, who are we to say it cannot?

INFANTILE PARALYSIS FUND

To the Editor of Courier,
Sir:—At the request of the Board of Trustees of the Digby General Hospital I am writing to ask if your paper will sponsor the raising of a fund to be known as "The Infantile Paralysis Fund", the money raised to be used by the Hospital to provide Nursing care for the patients suffering from Infantile Paralysis now in the hospital, and for others who might contract this disease. We are still in the season of the year during which the disease occurs.

The reasons why such a fund is necessary are as follows: The three patients were so severely affected as to render Hospital treatment a necessity. These cases were admitted on August 31st, Sept. 4th and Sept 6th. When the diagnosis of the first case became clear I telephoned Miss Hively, the Superintendent of the Hospital, stating the diagnosis and that the patient required hospital treatment. She said she would admit the patient, and that she and the Nursing Staff would meet the emergency as well as they were able. This patient was so severely affected that she had to be put in the Iron Lung shortly after admission to Hospital. This meant isolating one room, and putting a night and day nurse on the case. When the other two cases came in, it meant clearing out and isolating an adjoining ward, and putting two more nurses on this special duty. These four nurses are not allowed to care for any other patient in the Hospital—they have to observe very rigid precautions. We were fortunate in having a number of nurses who had taken special training in the care of infectious diseases.

On Friday, Sept. 4th, we got in touch with the Department of Public Health, who gave us the utmost co-operation. Dr. Davis, Minister of Health, accompanied by Dr. C. E. Kinley, of Halifax, and Miss M. MacLellan came to the Hospital on Sunday, Sept. 6th, and demonstrated the "Kenny" Method of Treatment. This demonstration was attended by a representative group of nurses and doctors from Yarmouth to Kentville. Dr. Kinley and Miss MacLellan had just returned from Minneapolis where they had taken special courses in the "Kenny" Method.

Since Sept. 6th this method of treatment has been faithfully carried out. The improvement in the condition of the two boys is very encouraging. The patient in the Iron Lung was staying out longer each day. Her sudden death was due to embolism, and was a great shock and sorrow to us all.

Perhaps the most noticeable feature is their hopeful mental attitude. Any one can understand how depressing it is to be unable to move or to help oneself. This method of treatment is very arduous. It consists, in the main, in placing a patient in hot packs numbers of times each day. These packs are made from numbers of pieces of all-wool blankets cut to fit the various parts of the body. They must be boiled for twenty minutes, put through a wringer twice to get them as dry as possible, and placed in position covered by a rubber sheet, and a piece of dry wool blanket covering that. To do this efficiently the Hospital has had to purchase an electric wringer, and certain re-wiring has had to be done to get the current for heating. It requires three nurses on duty by day to put these packs on properly. Each patient gets from four to five packs daily. At night they are rested and are looked after by one nurse.

This treatment will have to go on for an indefinite period, certainly for quite a few weeks. This throws an additional burden of expense on the Hospital for equipment and extra nurses. We feel that if these facts are placed before the public, there will be many who will want to help meet the additional expenses involved. In the United States large sums of money are raised each year for the treatment of Infantile Paralysis, through the "President's Birthday Balls" and the "Mile of Dimes" funds. We have no such fund in Canada, but I am sure that our people of Digby and Annapolis Counties are not lacking in the same generous spirit which has raised these funds in the United States.

I feel that a special word of appreciation should be said for the Nursing Staff of the Hospital, and especially for Miss Hively, who gave up her vacation after being away for only a few days, coming back to carry on through this emergency. The members of the Board were all very helpful, and I feel that Mr. Richardson should be especially mentioned for his untiring efforts in providing all the various things needed. I would like also to say a word of thanks to the many people who provided woolen blankets to be used in this treatment.

Yours truly,

A. B. Campbell, M.D.

Bear River, N.S.
Sept. 23, 1942.

Hasset

A family reunion was held recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Mullen, where fifteen children and grandchildren gathered to spend the week end. The youngest son, Donald, was not able to attend; Rev. Stillman, eldest son of Maine, preached in the Reformed Baptist church at Havelock on Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank McAlpine spent last week at their home here. On Monday they returned to Kentville where Mr. McAlpine is stationed. Clayton Mullen, who has been spending the past week home left on Tuesday for Labrador.

Mrs. Wilbur Sabean, of Hasset, is teaching the 1942-43 school term.

Mrs. Joseph Young, who has been spending the past few weeks in St. Stephen, returned home on Thursday.

Miss Nellie Mullen, of Cedar Lake, Yar. Co., spent a few days recently at her home here.

Mrs. Sherman Prime, of Ashmore, spent a week recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Prime.

Clayton Mullen and Jean Baxter were quietly married in Digby on Friday. After the ceremony they motored to the home of her parents in Deep Brook. The bride is teaching the 1942-43 school term in Southville. On Thursday evening last a shower was tendered them at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Lewis in Danvers. There was a large attendance and a number of gifts were received.

Miss Hazel Smith, of Port Maitland spent the week end with her grandparents, Mr.

MARRIAGE

Deveau - Morrissey

A pretty wedding took place Tuesday morning, September 22 at St. Thomas Church, Annapolis Royal, when Miss Madeline Mary Morrissey, of Long Island, N. Y., became the bride of Andrew Deveau, of Meteghan. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Leo Murphy, and special mass celebrated. The bride looked charming in a floor length gown of Alice blue net over taffeta, with chapel veil of the same colour, and carried a white Prayer Book with streamers of ribbons and flowers. She was attended by Miss Corine Deveau, sister of the groom, who was dressed in peach taffeta, floor length, with small hat of flowers in the same shade, and matching veil, carrying a Prayer Book with streamers. The groom was attended by his nephew, Adoree Deveau. Rev. Fr. Luc Gaudet, of Plympton, presided at the organ, rendering the wedding march, also accompanying Mrs. Alden Ameriault in a solo. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Glebe House, after which the happy couple left for a short trip, and upon their return will reside in Digby, where the groom has purchased the fine residence of the late J. L. Peters. The bride has been housekeeper at the Glebe House for the past ten years, with the exception of two seasons when she managed The English Inn at Deep Brook. The groom was one of the builders of the new Roman Catholic Church at Digby. Among the out-of-town guests who attended the wedding were: Miss Mary Callaghan, Mr. and Mrs. Alec Ferguson and Mrs. Isabella O'Connell, of Halifax; the parents of the groom and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Deveau of Meteghan. A miscellaneous shower was held on Friday last in the Church hall by ladies of the congregation, when the bride received many useful and beautiful household articles.

Bear River East

Mrs. George McEwan and son Charlie, have moved to Lawrencetown for the winter.

Miss Evangeline Reece has returned from a visit in Shelburne.

Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Buckler and son Frederick, of Bridgetown, spent Sunday with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mansford Buckler.

Mrs. Douglas Mullen, Rev. and Mrs. Price and daughter, Esther, were also guests at the same home over the week end.

Church Is Dedicated

prouder moment for him when Archbishop McNally concluded the service by presenting Mr. Belliveau with a medal and an illuminated address from His Holiness Pope Pius XII. Tears welled into the aged craftsman's eyes as he received these awards and knelt to receive the blessing of the church. His excellency paid tribute to the contractor in his remarks accompanying the surprise presentation.

Although Mr. Belliveau was the only man in attendance to have spent 32 years on the job, many of those present had a share in the undertaking. Herbert LeBlanc and Sam Theriault, of St. Bernard, both of whom lost an eye while working on the job, were there for the dedication. They were the only workmen seriously injured on the job. Among the oldest, if not the oldest woman in attendance, was Isale Belliveau's sister, Mrs. Aimee Belliveau, 83, who stayed throughout the entire service.

John P. Belliveau, 72, Desire Weaver, 67, of St. Bernard, and George Comeau, of Comeauville, were among the veteran members of the congregation present. They had worked on the foundation of the church and helped to haul the granite by ox-cart from the railway crossing a mile distant. There were many others present who had a share in the project.

In a booklet commemorating the historic occasion fitting tribute was paid to those who played an active part in the erection of the church, from Father Edward LeBlanc, the priest responsible for the beginning of the church, to the present pastor, Father Elie LeBlanc, who came to the church five years ago to fulfill the dream of his namesake.

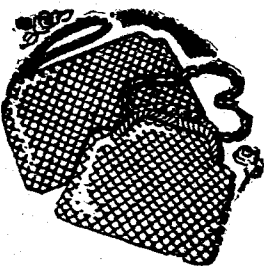

Besides His Excellency others officiating at the ceremony were Right Rev. Patrick A. Bray, Bishop of Saint John; Father Elie LeBlanc, present pastor of St. Bernard Church, who delivered the sermon and welcomed those attending the opening; Father M. Doucet, Wedgeport, assistant priest; Father Jules Comeau, Superior of St. Anne's University and Rev. Dr. Charles F. Curran, of St. Joseph's Church, Halifax, deacons of honor; Father Denis Comeau, Eel Brook, deacon of Mass; Father Arcade Theriault (curate), Meteghan, sub-deacon of Mass; Father F. Carroll, secretary to Archbishop McNally, and Father Thomas LeBlanc, West Pubnico, masters of ceremony.

OBITUARY

Phyllis Vroom

Regret is general throughout Deep Brook with the news of the sudden death at Digby General Hospital Thursday evening, Sept. 24, of Miss Phyllis Vroom, 20, eldest daughter of Major and Mrs. Robert J. Vroom, Deep Brook. Miss Vroom, nurse in training at the Yarmouth Hospital since last September, was spending a two weeks holiday at home when stricken with infantile paralysis and taken to Digby General Hospital the last of August. The deceased was a very bright student and popular among the younger folk, she possessed a lovely voice and had been a prominent member of the Baptist Church Choir for several years. Surviving are her parents, two sisters, Shirley and Lillian, and two brothers, Robert, who is also a patient in the Digby General Hospital suffering from polio, and James.

Mrs. George Morehouse

The death occurred at the Digby General Hospital where she had gone two weeks previously for treatment, of Lillian, wife of George Morehouse, of Little River. Mrs. Morehouse was born 60 years ago at Vernon River, P.E.I., a daughter of the late Henry and Mary Ann Volderstein. As a young woman she lived in the United States where her marriage to Mr. Morehouse took place in Sept. 1910. For a number of years they lived in Toronto, coming to Little River three years ago they settled on the Morehouse homestead farm. She is survived by her husband. Also surviving are three brothers, George and Irwin in Massachusetts; Benjamin, in California and three sisters, Mrs. Fred Moore, Wallacetown, Mass.; Mrs. Donald Clark Braintree, Massachusetts and Helena, of Hanover, Mass. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Cobham of the Little River Baptist church, of which the deceased was a member, were held from her late home on Wednesday afternoon last.

MARRIAGES

Shaw - Barnes

The Digby Baptist Church was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Monday evening, Sept. 28th, when Miss Louise Barnes, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Hillyard Barnes, became the bride of Herbert Kitchen Shaw, son of W. J. Shaw and the late Mrs. Shaw, of Saint John. Rev. M. C. Munn officiated. The church was prettily decorated with cut flowers and potted plants. The guest pews were marked with Bethlehem star and sprigs of fern, trimmed with white satin bows. Mrs. Guy Morehouse, sr., presided at the organ, playing for the processional "I Love You Truly", and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" as recessional. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Harry Burnham, as matron of honor. The groom was supported by Martin Barnes, brother of the bride. Ushers were Victor Cardoza, Digby, and Arthur McKinnon, Saint John. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, Capt. Hillyard Barnes, who gave her in marriage, and looked charming in a floor length dress of white sheer over satin, artistically embroidered with sparkling beads. Her finger tip veil of tulle was held in place by a head dress of white satin flowers. Slippers of white satin completed her costume. Her sole ornament was a string of pearls. She carried a bouquet of cream roses. The matron of honor was gowned in a floor length model of pale blue brocade taffeta with trimmings of American Beauty velvet and wore a matching hat of lace. Her bouquet was of American Beauty roses. The bride's mother wore a dress of black transparent velvet embroidered with silver beads, with black and silver accessories. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses. Following the ceremony, a quiet reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's table was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake, surmounted by a miniature bride and groom and the table being decorated with white candles. The cloth was of hand made lace. The happy couple received many beautiful gifts, including linen, silver and cheques. Mr. Shaw is sales manager of Shaw's Bakery Ltd., Saint John, and the bride is of the office staff of the National Packing Co. Ltd. They will reside at 4 Waterloo Street, Saint John.

McKinnon - Kearnes

The marriage of Mary Adelaide, daughter of Charles D. Kearnes and the late Mrs. Kearnes to AC David Frank McKinnon, R.A.F., of Glasgow, Scotland, took place at the home of the bride, Lower St. George Street, Annapolis Royal, Wednesday evening, September 16. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Leon Wright, beneath an archway of autumn flowers. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father was gowned in a costume of Airforce blue with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of gladioli and maiden hair fern. She was attended by Mrs. Douglas Saulnier and Cpl. E. F. Cash, R.A.F., supported the groom. Following the ceremony a reception was held and those serving were, Mrs. Henry Fales, Mrs. Floyd Kearnes, Mrs. Clarence Kearnes and Mrs. Nettie Melanson. After a short wedding trip the happy couple will reside at Greenwood, where the groom is stationed.

The Canadian National Railways require coal in large quantities and during 1942 it is estimated that 8,000,000 tons will be purchased to fill the requirements of locomotives, shops and office buildings. Giving each house a fairly liberal allowance for the domestic bin, the National Railways coal would be ample to provide heating fuel for 1,000,000 average homes in Canada.

Abbott, Costello, Spy Chasers in "Rio Rita"

Combining mirth, music and romance, "Rio Rita" opens at the Capitol Theatre, Monday Oct. 5, with Bud Abbott and Lou Costello cavorting into the twelfth year of their amazing partnership as comedians.

When it is considered that they were relatively unknown only five years ago, their rise is phenomenal. Now popular on stage, screen and radio, they reach the apex of their climb in the new picture.

Kathryn Grayson and John Carroll offer romance and melody as a background for the antics of the comedians. Miss Grayson in a duet with Carroll sings "The Ranger's Song" and "Long Before You Came Along". Carroll sings the theme song "Rio Rita", and Miss Grayson solos with "The Shadow Song" from Dinorah.

A capable supporting cast includes Patricia Dane, Tom Conway, Arthur Space, Peter Witney and Dick Rich. They form a band of spies who are intent on eliminating Abbott and Costello, but their efforts are futile, of course.

The comedians first appear as stowaways in the rear deck compartment of Carroll's roadster as he arrives in a fiesta town in search of his boyhood sweetheart, Rio Rita. The stowaways discover a basket of what they believe are apples. The round red objects, however, are radios destined for the spies, and Abbott and Costello are immediately marked for whatever fate spies mete out to their victims.

Their numerous escapes provide the comedy which keep the audience in a constant uproar through the showing. The picture was directed by S. Sylvan Simon who keeps action and melody going at a fast and hilarious pace.

'HUSH MY MOUTH!'

The Canadian language is rather a difficult matter for Englishmen to master. A few days ago we had the pleasure of entertaining a young English sailor at dinner. For a time we listened to a news broadcast — our friend made some remark about the radio, and then added "I believe that was the first time I ever used the word 'radio.' We always say 'wireless' at home."

This led to the discussion of various words that mean one thing in Canada and something altogether different in England. We told the story of an English friend of ours who visited Canada shortly before the war. She was shown a photograph of a family group, and then remarked, "My, what a homely looking group they are." Of course she meant it as a compliment.

When we told our dinner guest that story, of course we explained how we use the word "homely" in Canada. He broke out in a gale of laughter. "That explains a lot," he said, "a pal of mine wondered why one of your girls got exceedingly cross when he called her 'a homely little wench!'"

He laughed louder and longer when we explained our Canadian meaning of the word 'wench.'

There is no date of expiry of coupons on temporary ration cards. Officials of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board affirm that although the new ration books now in the hands of the public, may be used on and after September 7, coupons on the temporary ration cards are still valid.

WANTED Apple Pickers

An emergency exists, and while many apple growers are fully supplied with pickers for their full crop others face the possibility of serious loss, which will be a national loss of food stuff, if pickers cannot be obtained. To help meet the situation the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture in co-operation with the Dominion Department of Labour has agreed to assist by acquainting the prospective pickers of the need, by advertising, and also by agreeing to pay ingoing travelling costs of three cents a mile up to a maximum of Five Dollars. This applies to pickers moving into the Valley after September 27.

This will be paid, after they have worked for a grower or growers for a period of two weeks or more, upon presentation of a satisfactory employment certificate, by mail or otherwise, to the National Selective Service Office at Kentville, forms for which will be supplied by them.

Pickers desiring to assist may secure employment by applying to the National Selective Service Office, Kentville, or by direct contact with the growers. If by direct contact the Office should be notified immediately. To save time and expense pickers are advised to secure employment before moving to the Valley.

Garden, Calf Club Show Conducted

A successful Garden and Calf Club exhibition sponsored by the Agricultural Society, under direction of Secretary H. E. Chisholm, was put on Tuesday, Sept. 22, at the exhibition building. Booths were filled. The specimens of work from the pupils of the various schools in the vicinity were especially good and called forth expressions of praise from the many visitors attending. The vegetables also were good. The showing of the young stock too was not as large due to prevailing conditions. However the judges found some very fine specimens of dairy stock. Altogether the show was good with a large number in attendance. Raymond LeBlanc, Agricultural Representative, was present also Mr. Churchill from Yarmouth, as judge of stock and vegetables, and School Inspectors Foster and Kirk.

Javelin - Cann

At the home of her parents, Rev. and Mrs. James S. Cann, Dorchester, Mass., Miss Muriel Cann became the bride last Tuesday evening of William Javelin, Mattapan, Mass. The Rev. Carl Heath Kopf of the Mount Vernon Church, Boston, assisted the bride's father in performing the ceremony, and Mrs. Kopf played the wedding march. Honiton lace, long in the bride's family, held her illusion veil in place, and the pearl necklace she wore with her Princess gown of ivory satin dates back to the early 18th century. Her shower bouquet combined bouvardia, sweet peas and maidenhair fern. Wearing a gown of ice blue satin and carrying fuchsia gladioli, the matron of honor was the bride's sister, Mrs. Howard Bergmann, of Haverhill, and Mr. Bergmann was best man. Their two small sons, Donald and Earle Bergmann, carried the ribbons, which formed an aisle for the bridal procession. At the reception which followed the ceremony, Mrs. Theodore Burgess Brown of Brooklyn, New York, received with her sister, Mrs. Cann, and her niece. Afterward the bride and bridegroom left on a wedding trip to Nantucket. On their return they will live in Mattapan. She is a graduate of Mt. Holyoke College and he is a graduate of the Massachusetts Institute of Technology. Mrs. Javelin is a granddaughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Phinney, who resided in Bear River for many years and a niece of Colonel Earl Phinney of Halifax.

Delaware is known as the Diamond State (small but precious).

OBITUARY

Mrs. Henry Dunn

There passed away at her home on Saturday evening, Sept. 19, at Lansdowne, Mrs. Ladeah Dunn, widow of Henry Dunn, after a lengthy illness. Mrs. Dunn was born at Lansdowne 91 years ago, the daughter of the late William Henry Harris and Rachel (Beals) Harris, and lived her long life in that place where she married Henry Dunn. She was a consistent member of the United Baptist Church.

having belonged to the church for over 60 years. She is survived by one daughter, Miss Gertrude Dunn, who cared for her mother in her declining years; five sons, William in the West; Harry in Boston, Mass.; Frank in Dorchester, Mass.; James of Bear River, and Ralph on the home farm at Lansdowne; also one sister, Miss Ambrozie Harris, of Lansdowne, and a number of grandchildren. The funeral was held on Tuesday afternoon from the United Baptist Church, Bear River, conducted by the pastor, Rev. G. D. Brydon, assisted by Rev. James Brooks, of the United Church. Interment was in Mount Hope Cemetery.

BUT GEORGE WAS AT DIEPPE!

NICE fellow, George—one of the lads from the office. Remember, you had him out for dinner one night. He made a great fuss over your kids—and your wife was very pleased. And then, all of a sudden, he slipped away and joined up. Left his good job, his girl and his future. And he was at Dieppe, slogging up the beach into a murderous rain of steel—fighting for you and your wife and those kids of yours he played with. And that same night you slept well, didn't you... in a soft bed. You had an egg for breakfast too. But George didn't. And you're still got a good job and you wear good clothes.

And being conscientious, you worry about these things a bit. But you just haven't been able to push yourself into doing much more than pay your taxes. Well, those taxes aren't enough. Think of what George gave up, and then sit down with your wife and ask yourselves, "What else can we do?" Sure, you've given up a few little luxuries. But there are lots of things yet that you can cut down on. Do it gladly. Because you'll really get a kick out of investing the money you save in Victory Bonds, and in knowing you're not letting George do it all.

Just keep thinking about George and what he gave up. And remember, those Victory Bonds you buy aren't giving—they're lending your country money to help protect you. That money will come back to you with interest.

WORK—SAVE AND LEND FOR VICTORY!

They decorated the church and took part in the Choral Eucharist at 11 a.m. Jack Ruggles, Ian Campbell, and Carl Ruggles assisted with the services. A special children's choir sang. A Junior W. A. Banner made by the members was dedicated prior to being hung in the church. Vernon Ruggles carried the banner in the procession while Ervin Brooks led with the Sunday School banner.

MARRIAGES

Melanson - Robichaud

Tuesday morning, Sept. 22, in the Stella Maris Church of Meteghan at a nuptial High Mass, Rev. Father A. Theriault, curate, united in matrimony, Frederic Melanson, son of the late Joseph Melanson and Esther Melanson (Comeau) with Miss Rosalie Robichaud, daughter of Elisee S. Robichaud and the late Marie Robichaud, both of Meteghan. The bride was dressed in rose silk net with picture hat to match. She was attended by Miss Elsie Robichaud, a niece of the groom, and Ernest Robichaud was best man. Fred A. Comeau was at the organ and the singing was directed by Arthur Robichaud and A. F. Haché. After the ceremony breakfast was served at the home of the bride to relatives and intimate friends, after which the happy couple with their attendants left on a wedding tour to relatives at West Pubnico. On their return in the evening a reception was held at the bride's father's, where they will reside. They received many useful and valuable gifts.

Saulnier - Derveau

A pretty wedding took place Monday morning, Sept. 21st., in the Stella Maris Church of Meteghan, when Msgr. J. E. Bourneuf, D. P., V. F., pastor, united in marriage Herbert Saulnier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse L. Saulnier, of Saulnierville, and Marie Helen Derveau, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jules L. Comeau, of Meteghan. The bride, dressed in a long white dress with veil of the same color, supported by a crown of orange blossoms, and accessories to match, was given away by her father. Her sister Miss Juliette Derveau, was bridesmaid and Raymond Saulnier attended his brother. A special altar to the Virgin had been erected, decorated and illuminated in the sanctuary as the bride belonged to the Children of Mary's Sodality. Mrs. J. S. LeBlanc was at the organ with Arthur Robichaud and A. F. Haché, soloists. At the offertory young Bernice Walsh-Comeau rendered Ave Maria. Breakfast and dinner were served at the home of the bride's parents to relatives and intimate friends.

The Local Paper Overseas

Many people are not aware that newspaper offices are still allowed to send papers to men in the armed forces, overseas, though the private individual is not, being limited to the dispatch of clippings only.

The Digby Courier is still being sent overseas from this office. How long this privilege will exist, is not known.

A postal officer says the reason for the ban was because many people sent heavy bulky packages of magazines and Sunday newspapers. It seems a shame that because of this, it became necessary to cut out the sending of local newspapers which weigh little and they are still the most interesting of any to a boy away from home.

No Refunds After 12 Days

Retailers are not permitted to make refunds on articles sold as gifts after 12 days from the date of sale. However, such goods may be exchanged after the 12 day period.

Announcement to this effect is made by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board which although it carefully regulates exchanges and refunds on retail sales, this specially provides for articles sold as gifts. Goods bought as presents might be wasted if adequate time for return was not allowed, it was pointed out. Gifts returned after the 12 day period must be exchanged for other merchandise of similar value and no refunds can be made them.

TO PHYLLIS

(Dedicated to Phyllis Vroom, Deep Brook, victim of infantile paralysis.)

Phyllis has gone—we know not why
Save that above the bright blue sky,
God had some task for her to do,
A task not meant for me—or you.

Perhaps He wanted us to yearn
More deeply for our Heavenly home,
And from this war-torn world to turn
Our thoughts to Him, no more to roam;
But strive to live down here below
So that when we at last shall go
To join that bright and shining throng
None shall be missing—So
To God we turn; knowing His will

Has ever guided—guides us still.

In Him we trust—'tis His to give,
The gift of death, the charge to live...
We must not falter or complain,
He gave His Son—will give again.

During the first six months of 1942 a daily average of 95,503 freight cars was handled through marshalling yards of the Canadian National Railways. This is an increase of 9.9 per cent over the similar period of 1941 when a daily average of 86,886 cars was established.

A word of apology to my customers and friends—on arrival of my last load of horses I advertised the finest heavy draft team in Western Canada, that was what I paid for, they were bought one thousand miles from where my horses are shipped to be put in the load when they went through Shoal Lake, Man. The man my agents bought the fine team from switched teams and sent me just an ordinary team. This was very embarrassing to me, and I ask you to accept my apology for advertising something I did not have.

Fined $250 Under Sugar Ration Laws

Neil F. Deveau, who carries on a business as a manufacturer of ice cream under the name of the Clare Creamery at Meteghan River, appeared before Magistrate Dennis d'Entremont in Stipendiary Magistrate's Court, Municipality of Clare last Tuesday on four charges under the sugar rationing regulations. He pleaded guilty on all four charges and was fined a total of $250.

He was charged with the use of sugar in excess of the quota allowed an industrial user; purchasing sugar in excess of the quantity reasonably required for the ordinary purposes of his business; purchasing, at a later date, sugar in excess of the amount which he was lawfully entitled to use and with making a false statement for use of the War-time Prices and Trade Board as to the quantity of sugar in his possession. These are all offenses under the War-time Prices and Trade Board Regulations and Board Orders relating to sugar rationing.

Sergeant Max F. Robbins Missing

To Celebrate 54th Anniversary

Next Sunday the 10th, Mr. and Mrs. VanBlarcom will celebrate their fifty-fourth wedding anniversary. Mr. VanBlarcom was born in Tiverton, Digby County, and came to Brighton with his family when he was nine years old, where his father had the first revolving shingle machine in Canada. Mr. VanBlarcom's early days were spent as clerk in his father's store and measuring timber. In 1878 his father was elected as a member of the Provincial Government, and in the winter of 1882 was appointed High Sheriff of Digby County. It was Mr. Van's intention to study for the Methodist Minister, but his father was taken very ill and he had to stay with him. In 1883 he went to Belleville, Ontario and attended the Ontario Business College and received a diploma from that school. He also took special courses in ornamental and ordinary penmanship, and also Steamboating. He intended to go to Portland, Oregon, where he was promised a position as pursuer with a steamship company. His father met with a severe accident and Mr. Van came home to Digby to be with his father, who for the remainder of his days was an invalid. He conducted the shingle business for his father until he died, and was acting Sheriff until H. A. P. Smith was appointed to the office. After that he conducted a coal business for twenty-three years. In 1923 he moved to Toronto, Ontario, and was in business there until 1926, and then returned to Digby and has lived here since. In 1910 he contested a by-election for Digby County. He was nominated by the Conservatives to conduct a general election, with the late H. L. Dennison, Barrister-at-law, as his opponent, a liberal. Mr. Dennison resigned and A. E. Wall, liberal organizer for the Province was nominated and won the election. He was urged several times since to accept a nomination, but refused.

In 1888 he married Annie E. Marshall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Marshall. They had three daughters, Ada, (Mrs. R. A. Sutherland); Jennie, (Mrs. F. L. Ruddock); and Susan, (Mrs. K. A. Brooks). Mrs. Ruddock and Mrs. Brooks are still living, but Mrs. Sutherland died some years ago. Mr. Van is 81 years old and his wife 74, and they are both hale and active.

Polio Reported in Tiverton

Darrel Outhouse, son of Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Outhouse, of Tiverton, is the first victim of infantile paralysis to be reported from the Islands. He was stricken last week and is said to be in serious condition. He is being treated at home, with Dr. A. F. Weir, Freeport, in attendance. The home has been placed under quarantine.

As a precautionary measure churches, theatre and all public places have been closed.

Permission to publish the fact that Sgt. Max Feindel Robbins, air gunner, is missing after air operations overseas, was granted Tuesday evening. Sgt. Robbins is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Robbins, Rossway, and has been overseas since July 1941. He enlisted in 1940 and trained in western Canada. He is about 28 years of age.

Sgt. Robbins' wife, the former Hazel Lewis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Watson Lewis, Rossway, and 18 month old son, live at Waterford, Digby Co. His parents and sister, Mrs. (Winnifred) Waters Comeau, live at Rossway, and a brother Gerald, lives in Wendham, Mass.

In his last letter home, he stated he had been over enemy territory 25 times, and had 500 flying hours to his credit.

ACADEMY ACTIVITIES

Last June the School Board took steps to have a Cadet Corps organized in the school. At the present time boys over twelve years of age, from grades five to twelve inclusive are enrolled and two platoons organized. Platoon number one takes the boys of grade eight to twelve inclusive, and platoon number two takes the boys of grades five to seven. The senior platoon is receiving instruction in the following courses: Drill, Physical Drill, Small Arms Training, First Aid, Field Craft, Wood Craft, Knots and Lashings, and Internal Combustion Engines. The Junior Platoon is receiving only Drill at the present time, but their program shall be expanded as they progress.

The public will be interested in the results of the examinations last June. In Grades XI and XII there were twenty students. Four grade twelve students and six grade eleven students were accredited. This makes a total of ten accredited students. Of the ten students who wrote the Provincial Examinations, nine successful in obtaining their certificates. Thus, from our class of twenty students, nineteen certificates were received.

Recently the University of Toronto in conjunction with the Canadian Army made the following to students with a Grade Twelve Certificate and who are seventeen, eighteen, or nineteen years of age: One year of free tuition at the University of Toronto, One year of free board and room in the University residence, free medical care and free dental care. Students, if accepted will be paid the rate of seventy cents a day if under seventeen and a half years of age, and one dollar and thirty cents a day if over seventeen and a half years of age. Should a student be accepted by the University, he must then be accepted in the Army in category A before starting his course. These students will study mathematics and physics. It will be of interest to the people of the town that Donald Roy Wilson, of Conway, who was Grade Twelve Valedictorian of the 1942 graduating class has been accepted by the University and is now in Halifax for his medical examination. Should he be successful in this examination he will receive the above course. One hundred and sixty students across Canada will be enrolled. Congratulations to you Don from your school friends. We shall watch your progress with interest.

Annual Meeting Maple Leaf Society

The Maple Leaf Agricultural Society met for their first annual meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. MacKay, Acaciaville, on Monday evening with a large number of the members present.

Election of officers for the coming year resulted in Lloyd MacNeill being re-elected as president, the other officers and committees are:

Vice - president — William Roope.
Secretary Treasurer—Joseph E. Specht.

Directors—Basil Porter, Arthur Gates, Kenneth Marshall, Otis Bell, Joseph Jefferson, Herbert Theriault.

Membership Committee—The Directors.

Community Fair—William Roope, Winston Marshall, Lloyd MacNeill, Hubert Warne, Basil Porter, Orbin Minard.

Auditors—D. C. MacKay, Hubert Warne.

Publicity—D. C. MacKay, J. J. Wallis.

Delegates to the County Association — Herbert Theriault, Darcey Roope, Otis Bell.

The Secretary Treasurer presented the financial statement and also gave a brief account of the various activities of the Society during the year just closed, including that of the Community Fair which was voted to be held again next year on the same grounds.

The report of the auditors which was not quite complete will show a substantial balance on the right side and the Society will start the second years' work with confidence that it can be of real service to the membership the community at large.

It is hoped that all who are interested in the production of better crops, better milk, eggs, beef, etc., will join the Society and take part in the very interesting study of improved methods used in modern scientific agriculture.

ing year in the High School grades. Athletics, parties, school papers will come under the control of these two clubs. The officers for the Boys' Club are: President, Donald Rice, Grade XII; Vice President, Ted Weir, Grade XI; Treasurer, Dick Rockwell, Grade X; Secretary, Charles Hall, Grade IX. INFANTILE PARALYSIS FUND

To date we are pleased to acknowledge the sum of $32 toward the infantile paralysis fund opened through our columns in last week's paper. As these have been voluntary subscriptions, made without any other canvass than our appeal, we are greatly pleased with the results to date.

The largest donation was for $25 from a friend who wishes to remain anonymous. Rev. and Mrs. T. F. MacWilliam, of Deep Brook, gave another $5 and in addition, one dollar donations have been received from Archie Wright, Marshalltown, and Bruce Read, Bear River.

Send your contributions to the Courier office or to R. B. Murray at the Digby branch of the Royal Bank of Canada.

MARRIAGE

Thompson - Merkel

A wedding of interest to many friends in Digby was solemnized in the Cathedral of All Saints, Halifax, on Tuesday afternoon of last week by Rev. A. E. Gabriel, rector of Bedford, and a former rector of Trinity Church, Digby, when Margaret Isabella (Peggy) Merkel, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew D. Merkel, Halifax, and Gordon H. Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Thompson, also of Halifax, were united in marriage. Entering the church with her father by whom she was given in marriage, the bride was attired in an attractive two piece dressmaker suit of Hunters green wool with matching hat trimmed with brown beaver and brown veil, brown accessories and a large beaver muff. She wore a corsage of Johanna Hill roses. Mrs. Roland Hurst was matron of honor, while George Thompson acted as best man for his brother. Among out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Merkel, of Digby.

Took Part in Battle of Singapore

An interesting letter, eleven weeks on the way, has been received by Mrs. Fred Pangborne, Mount Pleasant, Digby County. The letter is from her brother, Major Harrison, who took part in the Battle of Singapore.

He told of boarding ship with a number of others evacuated from the city before it fell to the Japanese. The ship was attacked and sunk, and in spite of the fact he was wounded in the arm and in the leg, he managed to swim for two and one half hours before being picked up by a rescue ship in a nearly exhausted condition. He was revived by rum and brandy.

With the exception of the clothes he stood in, he lost everything he possessed, however, he is still able to joke and declares he must be the only man "who ever swam the equator".

At the time of writing Major Harrison said his wife was at Bombay, and he hoped to be able to see her in the near future.

About This and That

Thanksgiving

On Monday we mark the fourth Thanksgiving Day since the beginning of World War Number 2. We have heard some ask, "What is there to be thankful about?" They cannot be serious, for there is much—a great deal to be thankful for. We, in spite of the war can humbly give thanks for more blessings than the people of any nation on the face of this earth.

Is it necessary to enumerate them? It shouldn't be. Just sit down and think things over—think of London; of Paris; of Hong Kong; of Singapore; of Stalin-grad—of your own Thanksgiving dinner, whether that dinner be "special" or otherwise—then thank God you live in Canada. After that, go out and buy yourself a few war savings stamps, a war savings certificate or a Victory Bond.

The Church Versus Baseball

One of the readers of the COURIER seemed to be somewhat worried over a radio program the other day. To be worried over the fact that a regularly-listened-to program could not be heard might seem a trivial thing in these days when winning the war is the goal of us all, but this seemingly unimportant incident gave us grounds to stop and think—and think deeply—being citizens of a democracy fighting for the church and all it signifies. The program that could not be heard was a usual Sunday night church broadcast; it had been relinquished to a baseball game.

OBITUARY

Joseph R. Bain

The death occurred on Friday last, at Marshalltown, of Joseph Robert Bain, eldest son of the late Harry and Elizabeth Bain, of Mount Pleasant. He was unmarried and was 54 years of age. He leaves three sisters, Mrs. Oscar Stark, Culloden; Miss Bessie Bain, Mount Pleasant and Mrs. Hillyard Barnes, Digby; and two brothers, Martin, of Saint John and Edmund, Port Wade. The funeral was held from the Baptist Church in Culloden, on Sunday. Rev. M. C. Munn conducted the service. Interment was in the Culloden cemetery.

"I THANK THEE"

I'm thankful, dear Lord, for the springtime,
For the beauty of each tiny flower,
The freshness of green fields and foliage,
And glories untold each each hour.

The summer too, with its sunshine
The sunsets and twilights glow;
Golden tints of autumn and harvest,
The work of God's Hand that we know.

Then winter comes on, and the picture
Is never the less beautifully seen;
The blanket of snow has a purpose
It covers each tiny wee seed.

Oh, how Thou hast provided, dear Father,
The seasons—the sunshine—the rain;
And given us Thy Word, the Bible,

I thank Thee again and again.

When tired, out of sorts and discouraged,
I can turn to Thy Holy Word,
And find there a balm when I'm heartsick,
And release when I'm tempted and tried.

And so I am thankful, dear Father,
I pray, tho' unworthy, again
For guidance and strength for each hour,
And love toward Thy children.
—Amen.

Municipal School Unit

In recent years the newspapers have carried articles, and speeches have been made from the public platform regarding the Municipal School Unit of Finance and administration (more commonly known as the Larger Unit). At the last session of the Provincial Legislature the Education Act was amended so that any Municipality may adopt this New Financial Unit for raising school funds.

This permissive legislation is by far the most important legislation which has been passed regarding education in Nova Scotia for over seventy-five years, and it is hoped that all ratepayers of the Municipality of Digby will study its provisions which would bring many advantages and improvements to the schools of this area.

If the majority of the sections vote in favor of the Municipal School Unit, the Municipal Council will then vote upon the matter. If the Council votes in favor, then it will go into effect at the beginning of next school year, that is, in the early fall of 1943.

Under this new system a Municipal School Board would be set up consisting of seven members: Three appointed by the Municipal Council—it is expected, of course, that these would be Councillors; the Municipal Clerk; and three members appointed by the Provincial Government. The Municipal Clerk would act as Secretary of the Municipal School Board.

The Municipal School Board would administer the new minimum program of education which calls for higher salaries for teachers, monthly payment of teachers, a set amount for each schoolroom per year for maintenance, equipment and apparatus, etc. The Municipal School Board would have and perform the powers and duties which the District Board of School Commissioners now have and perform.

It should be borne in mind that:

(1) The Municipal School Unit does not mean consolidation of schools (that is, the closing of small schools and conveying the pupils to other centres) any more than does the present system.

(2) Trustees and Secretary are not abolished under the new plan.

(3) The Trustees still select their teacher although the Municipal School Board which pays the teacher, must approve and sign all contracts.

(4) The cost of the minimum program to the Municipality of Digby is a fixed cost.

(5) Any additional funds needed would be paid by the Provincial Government.

Under our present system each section has a different tax rate for school purposes and last year the tax rates in the Municipality of Digby ranged from $1.10 to $4.40 per $100 assessment. We all pay same Municipal tax rate for all Municipal purposes such as hospitalization and support of the poor, upkeep of the Court House, jail, etc., and only the tax rate for school purposes varies. Under this new plan we would all pay the same tax rate for school purposes. The section with a small assessment and a few rate payers would pay no more than the section with a large assessment and many ratepayers. Thus the cost of the schools would be equalized throughout the Municipality.

The Municipality of Digby would be asked to pay to the Municipal School Board approximately $19,630 which is less than the total amount raised by the sections of this Municipality during the last school year. The new Minimum Program would cost considerably more than this and the difference, which would amount to over $14,000, would be paid by the Department of Education of the Province of Nova Scotia. In other words, Digby Municipality, if it adopts the Municipal School Unit will receive for its schools over $14,000 from the Provincial Government.

This amount of $14,000 is based on the number of teachers employed and the number of schools in operation, etc., during the present school year 1942-43. This amount would be Digby Municipality's share of what is known as THE PROVINCIAL EQUALIZATION FUND.

The local Secretaries would no longer collect the school taxes. Under the new system all taxes would be collected by the Municipal col-

Here's Quick Relief from SINUS PAIN

3-Purpose Medicine Helps Clear Out Congested Sinus Areas

ONE best way to get relief from torturing sinus pain is to clear congestion from nasal passages and give sinuses a chance to drain. A few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol in each nostril is usually enough to bring this comforting relief.

3-PURPOSE MEDICINE

Va-tro-nol is so successful because it does three important things: (1) shrinks swollen membranes of the nose; (2) helps clear out pain-causing congestion and (3) soothes irritation. Many sinus sufferers say it's the best relief they've found. Try it!

lectors. The Municipality would put out one tax bill each year which would include taxes for both Municipal and school purposes. The amount to be raised by the Municipality of Digby is arrived at by multiplying the net assessment of the Municipality by 10% less than the median tax rate for the school year 1941-42. Taking into consideration the present cost of collecting taxes in the Municipality of Digby and the present percentage of uncollectible taxes, a rate of $2.40 per $100 assessment should be more than adequate to raise the required amount of approximately $19,630. Under the new system property owners would no longer pay a poll tax for school purposes. Capital expenditures would be borne by the school section, that is to say, the erection of a new building or the addition of another room to the present building would be the responsibility of the local school section. All money left on hand and all outstanding taxes as at the date of the adoption of the Municipal School Unit, would be the property of the local school section. Further details regarding this most important educational legislation will appear in next week's COURIER.

Three Truro hunters, Edward Atkinson, Roy Bartlett and Bill Barnaby, returned from a trip in the Campbell's Siding district Monday with a tale of twice being attacked in the woods by moose. On the first occasion the moose charged to within 20 feet of the men before stopping, but the second animal put the hunters to flight.

A by-election in Antigonish October 18 to fill the vacancy in the Nova Scotia Legislature caused by the death in April of Capt. John A. MacIsaac, was assured on Monday when nomination papers were filed for John Patrick Gorman, Liberal candidate, Antigonish, and Russell Cunningham, C.C.F. candidate, of Glace Bay.

At a meeting of the Truro Board of Health, Dr. S. G. MacKenzie, health officer, stated that from recent medical examinations given Truro restaurant employees, it was shown that there were a number of cases of diseases, including tuberculosis. X-rays submitted to Dr. Eagles showed a number of tubercular suspects. We wonder what such an investigation would reveal in Digby?

The Fall term of Supreme Court opened in Annapolis Royal on Tuesday with Mr. Justice John Doull presiding and the three cases of former County Court Judge, W. A. Livingstone—two of perjury and one of theft—headed the docket. Civil cases listed are Laura Bushman vs. the Halifax Fire Insurance Company and Margaret Mosher vs. Max M. Nathel, H. D. Oyler and Raymond Bent.

An appeal to consumers throughout Canada to refrain from buying fresh pork, bacon, or ham during the next seven weeks, or up to the first of November has been issued by J. G. Taggart, Chairman of the Bacon Board and Foods Administrator of the War-time Prices and Trade Board. The reason for this appeal is to enable the Bacon Board to maintain satisfactory weekly shipments of bacon to Britain so as to insure the continuance of the British bacon ration at the present level.

In order to conserve the national fuel supply, J. McG. Stewart, Coal Administrator of the War-time Prices and Trade Board, urges that furnace fires should not be started until actually necessary. This applies especially, Mr. Stewart said, to large apartment houses, shops and departmental stores in which, after fires have been lighted, they are frequently maintained regardless of any moderation in temperature. By exercising care, he said, everyone can help save coal.

MARRIAGES

A very pretty wedding was quietly solemnized at the Digby Baptist Parsonage on Friday, September 18, when Rev. M. C. Munn united in marriage, Lida Blanche, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar J. Theriault, of East Ferry, to Ralph Walter, son of Mrs. Evelyn and the late William Gidney of Centreville. The bride looked charming in a street length dress of flight blue crepe with navy accessories and wore a corsage of sweet peas and fern. The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Gidney, brother and sister-in-law of the groom. On their return from their honeymoon spent in Halifax and around the South Shore, they were honored by a reception held at the Centreville Hall, where they received many useful gifts.

A wedding of much interest took place Tuesday afternoon, September 29, at St. Patrick's R. C. church, when Wentford Carmen Hersey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arch Hersey, of Centreville, and Roma Catherine VanTassel, daughter of Mrs. Evelyn VanTassel, of Digby, were united in marriage by Rev. Father Leo Murphy. They were attended by Miss Bernice VanTassel, sister of the bride, and Richard Hand-spiker. A wedding supper was served at the bride's home. They received many gifts.

The Coming Victory Loan

We're facing a desperate hour in a critical year of the war, and a grim job lies ahead for all Canadians.

Not so grim as scaling the blazing cliffs of Dieppe, or crawling wounded along its fiery beach. Not so terrible as hurtling down from a flaming Hurricane on Cologne, Hamburg, or Munich. It won't call for the heroic determination of the defenders of Stalingrad, or demand the supreme sacrifice of those long lists of men who went down on the Raccoon, Charlottetown and Ottawa.

Nevertheless it's going to be a real sacrifice—and to many a great sacrifice—and it's going to mean that many people will willingly give up pleasures they love, comforts they want, or even things they consider necessary, because they are made of the same strong fibre as those other Canadians who stormed Dieppe and who fly nightly over Germany, and who, on the North Atlantic, stand ready to give not merely their money, but their lives, to accomplish the same grim job.

We shall be frank and admit that the Third Victory Loan is coming at a particularly tough time, just a month after our taxes have been nearly doubled, and we, like other Canadians who have never been accustomed to demands for our money on anything approaching the scale of today, are trying to recover from the shock and figure out our problems. We readily agree that it is not going to be easy for any of us to buy Victory Bonds.

But, we must also admit that the Battle of the Atlantic has taken a grave turn for the worse. Each news bulletin brings us word of another corvette torpedoed, another destroyer sunk. We are only holding our enemies in the desert, and the Russians fight like fury on the streets of Stalingrad. It is not going to be easy to win the war, and more ships for the Atlantic, more planes, more tanks for Russia and ourselves are needed with desperate urgency.

It is vital that every one of us who possibly can should buy a bond. The Government is forced to find huge sums of money to continue the war. We are being asked to lend it voluntarily in the form of Victory Bonds, and so far Canadians have responded magnificently.

YOU can afford a VICTORY BOND!

"Of course I want to buy a Victory Bond," many of us are saying; "but with taxes and other obligations so heavy, how can I possibly afford it?"

There is only one way... by rigid economy—by doing with less and doing without. It will not be easy, but make no mistake—the alternatives are far grimmer. Face the actual facts—the trend of the war, to date—the maltreating and killing of men and women in conquered countries... For survival, you would quickly give all.

PREPARE NOW TO BUY THE NEW VICTORY BONDS—buy with your savings; buy out of regular earnings on an instalment plan.

The branches of this bank will gladly attend to your needs.

PLAN TO BUY BONDS AND KEEP THEM

If necessary, borrow temporarily against your bonds rather than sell them. They may be lodged for safe-keeping at the bank at very low cost (as little as 25c per year). They are your finest investment.

"Let's all sharpen our pencils.."

...and face the facts NOW!

Sure the war costs money. Paying for it will be tough in the months ahead. Let's accept that fact—and face it. Now is the time to sharpen our pencils and figure what our taxes actually are... how we are going to pay them... and how we can adjust our living habits to get along on what's left. This is a job for every patriotic Canadian... a job that must be done now.

OBITUARY

Rose Marie Gaudet

The death of Rose Marie Gaudet, seven year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Gaudet, Concession, occurred in the Digby General Hospital, September 26. She is survived by her parents and one sister Clara. Funeral services were held from the Church of Our Lady of Mount Carmel, Concession, Rev. Fr. Bellefontaine, officiating.

Leo Gaudet

Leo Gaudet, 58, a life-long resident of the village of Saulnierville Station, where he was born, passed away in the Digby General Hospital on Friday last, following a heart attack. He is survived by his wife, the former Pricilla Gallant, of Prince Edward Island. There were no children. The funeral took place on Sunday from the Sacred Heart Church in Saulnierville, Rev. Father Jovite Doucet officiating. Interment was in the parish cemetery.

Marion Elizabeth Amero

Miss Marion Elizabeth Amero, one of the popular young people of North Range, passed away in the Digby General Hospital, on Friday, Sept. 25, after a very brief illness. She was born in the United States and was 14 years of age. She was the adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Amero, and besides her grief-stricken foster parents she is survived by a brother, Eugene Amero, in East Longmeadow, Mass., and a sister, Barbara, at home—both adopted children of Mr. and Mrs. Amero. The deceased was well liked by all who knew her and her passing cast a gloom over the entire community. The funeral services, which were very largely attended, were held on Sunday, the 27th, from the Baptist church, of which she was a member, and were conducted by the pastor, Rev. F. E. Roop. The floral offerings were beautiful, and among them was a spray from the school as a loving tribute from her school companions. Interment took place in the North Range United Church cemetery.

U. S. Officer, Known Here, Killed in Action

Mr. and Mrs. James D. Hubley, who received word that their brother-in-law, Lieutenant-Commander Reynolds C. Smith, U. S. Navy, had been killed in action at sea, received further particulars, which are of interest to many friends in this district. Commander Smith was born in Michigan, only son of the late Dr. R. L. and Mrs. Smith. He graduated from the University of Michigan and later from the Annapolis Naval Academy. During the Spanish Civil War he was on European duty as a junior officer. His fiancée (Madeline Ross, R.N., of Boston and Sydney), went to France and they were married. When he was transferred to United States waters she returned and visited in Bear River. Following his return he was in command of a training ship at New Haven, Conn., later being on Pacific duty. Last winter he was in command of a destroyer, doing submarine patrol in the North Atlantic, for which he and his officers were promoted for valor. In the spring he was sent to the Far East, and his ship took part in the Battle of Midway Islands, later taking the offensive in the Solomon Islands, where he died in action. Details have not yet been received. He is survived by his wife; two children, Ross, four and a half years old, who was in Bear River with his parents; and Betsy, two and a half years old; his mother, and one sister, Mrs. Mack MacLeod (Kathleen Ross), flew from Sydney to Rhode Island to be with her sister for a time, later returning with her to visit relatives in Nova Scotia. Mrs. Reynolds Smith is going to Michigan with Mrs. R. L. Smith for the winter. Mrs. Reynolds Smith is a graduate nurse, having been in charge of the operating rooms at the Baker Memorial Hospital, in Boston, prior to her marriage, and is a niece of Dr. D. J. MacKenzie, Director of Public Health Laboratories, Public Health Department, of Nova Scotia.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurie Thompson and family and Miss Vera Riley, spent Sunday in Virginia, with Mr. and Mrs. John Riley.

"I'M A FREE MAN!"

"I'm glad I live in Canada. My family is safe here. There is no Gestapo, no hunger, no brutal aggression. I have a good job, and I am free, and unafraid."

"In many lands, the people have been robbed and beaten, their money and possessions forcibly taken from them. Here in my country, I can lend my money and know that it is safe, backed by all the resources of Canada, and that I will get interest on it, too. I am gladly doing without some things so as to be ready to lend every dollar I can to the country that has been so good to me and my family."

Every dollar you lend to Canada helps to protect you . . . gives you the right to work in personal freedom instead of under brutal dictators . . . enables you to live your own life, for yourself and your loved ones.

Victory Bonds are a good way to save . . . this country has always paid back every penny loaned to it, with interest. Plan now how you can lend your money . . . figure how you can save to lend more. Back up the men who are fighting for your freedom . . . let your self-denial show your loyalty to Canada.

WORK...SAVE...LEND FOR VICTORY

NOVA SCOTIA

FARM NEWS

The wholesale quotation on Canada No. 1 potatoes at Halifax has been in the vicinity of $1.25 a bag for the past fortnight. While admitting that it is very difficult to estimate future prices, it appears to F. W. Walsh, Director of Marketing, that later in the season potato prices may be reasonably remunerative. This will depend on demand, which, as Mr. Walsh points out, will be governed by consumer requirements for table stock and the needs of potato starch factories and dehydration plants. Fresh—Due to so much greater buying on the part of Governments for the armed forces, these will probably be in excess of last year. Starch—Normally a large quantity of starch was purchased from the countries now in the hands of the enemy. An endeavor is being made in American to supplement our shortage by manufacturing starch from potatoes. A large number of factories are operating in the United States and probably this year some will operate in Canada—at least two in New Brunswick and 3 in Prince Edward Island. Dehydrated—Both in the United States and Canada many hydrated factories have been or are being built. It is estimated that approximately one third of the crop in the United States will be processed through starch factories or dehydrating plants. In Canada they will probably operate one in Ontario, 2 large plants in New Brunswick, one in Prince Edward Is. and in all probability, one of the plants in the Annapolis Valley now processing apples will be turned over to potatoes on or about November 1st.

The only Maritime Province for which there is prospect of a larger potato crop than last year is Prince Edward Island. The Nova Scotia crop will probably be down five to ten per cent and New Brunswick's yield may be smaller than that of last year. The Ontario crop is unofficially estimated to be equal that of 1941, while that of Quebec may be down ten per cent. From this viewpoint it is seen that the American potato crop estimate is set at 378,000,000 bushels. While that estimate is 21,000,000 greater than the 1941 United States crop, it is only 8,000,000 bushels above the ten-year average crop of 1930-1939.

Last winter the statement was made by federal government poultry officials in Nova Scotia that the approved commercial hatcheries of the province had capacity sufficient to produce a million chicks, and that with the greatly increased contract with Britain for eggs and good prices prevailing, there was every incentive for both hatcheries and poultry producers in the province to increase production all the way up the line.

The hatcheries of the province have all but done their job in this respect. Official figures for the total hatcheries for the 1942 season show the production of the Nova Scotia hatcheries to have been 981,155 chicks, or less than 20,000 below the million mark. That was an increase of 45.6 per cent over the 1941 season, which totalled 673,662 chicks, and that total was in turn a very substantial increase over the 1941 season, so that Nova Scotia has been stepping right along in the matter of chick production. This increase in chick production has been accomplished by 32 hatcheries, two hatcheries less than those in operation in 1941.

Nova Scotia honey producers who sell honey direct to consumers, either on public markets, or otherwise, have a new basis of maximum prices at which they can sell, as a result of the latest order on honey from the wartime prices and trade board.

Previously producers selling honey direct to consumers had a maximum price corresponding to the highest legal retail price in their particular district.

Under the new order their maximum price will be based on the new wholesale maximum prices now in effect. As an example, the new maximum wholesale price for honey in bulk is 12½ cents. To this price, producers selling honey direct to consumers are permitted to add three cents a lb. making a maximum price of 15½ cents lb. The new maximum wholesale price for extracted honey in four-lb. containers is $7.25 for a case of 12 such containers or 60 cents for one four-lb. container. Producers who sell honey direct to consumers in such packages now have a maximum price of the 60 cents, plus 3 cents a lb. mark-up or a total of twelve cents, making 72 cents their maximum price to consumer customers for a four-lb. container, or 18 cents a lb. Prices for other sized packages are in proportion.

The new maximum wholesale prices for honey set by the new order are uniform across Canada. It is the first time definite maximum prices have been set in this way. Producers selling honey to processing plants or to dealers are exempt from any price ceiling regulations.

Annapolis Valley apple growers have evidenced considerable concern over the shortage of labor in harvesting the present crop of apples which now appears to be somewhat larger than was earlier anticipated.

With a view of endeavoring to meet the situation, the Hon. John A. MacDonald, minister of agriculture and marketing, has had a number of conferences with the Dept. of Labor at Ottawa, the Nova Scotia Department of Education and with the N. S. Fruit Growers' Association. As a result, certain plans have been made which it is hoped will meet the situation. These are roughly as follows:

The N. S. Dept. of Agriculture, in co-operation with the Federal Dept. of Labour, are giving a transportation assistance bonus to suitable male and female workers moving into the apple growing areas after Sept. 27. This bonus, which consists of three cents a mile from their home address, with a maximum of $5, is given on the presentation of a certificate signed by a farmer stating that the worker has concluded at least two weeks' satisfactory work. Certificates will either be mailed or passed over to the National Selective Service office at Kentville, and it is expected that at least 200 or 300 workers will take advantage of this assistance.

The second part of the plan deals with the maximum use of school boys and girls 14 years and older. Through the co-operation of the Dept. of Education arrangements were made last spring so that school boys and girls could remain out of school up to Oct. 20, and be given full credit for attendance. It was necessary, however, that they maintain their school standing in order to grade at the end of the school year. This policy has been taken advantage of very extensively, but there has been a feeling that it would be more satisfactory to

DIGBY BRANCH

The Red Cross Work Committee reports that Red Cross work is being carried on successfully, although some familiar faces have been absent among the workers in recent weeks. It is to be hoped that the coming fall will bring the return of all regular workers, and many new ones besides, for in spite of the wool shortage, there is still yarn to be knit and garments to be sewed, while patchwork and quilting go on and on. Tea rationing threatened to halt the serving of the regular Wednesday afternoon "Ten Cent Teas," but our members generously came to our assistance with donations of a few teaspoons from their own tea tins, so we were enabled to carry on, thus preserving the sociability of the tea hour, and more important the needed nourishment for those workers who have spent long, tiring hours over the quilts—not to mention the financial returns, which are also of assistance to the quilting groups.

Red Cross shipments to Halifax for the months of August and September consisted only of civilian relief supplies and were as follows:—60 quilts, 3 afghans, 61 baby garments, 41 children's sweaters, 3 dresses, 10 skirts, 7 coats, 3 prs. boys' tweed trousers, 7 boys' blouses, 2 knitted suits, 18 prs. mittens, 2 prs. golf stockings, 3 scarves, 5 caps, 22 prs. felt slippers, 4 prs. pyjamas. Total 246 articles.

Donations of all kinds continue to come in and are most welcome. If more of the public could see the use which is made of second-hand materials, whether made over into children's clothing, with the scraps going into quilts, or felt hats becoming attractive children's slippers, or worn ties and socks furnishing material for afghans, even more "salvage" would be contributed to the Red Cross. As new materials become scarce every second-hand article becomes more of a treasure and more appreciated. Donations for August and September are gratefully acknowledged as follows:—18 quilts, Service Wives' Club; 7 quilts each, Baptist Guild, Trinity Guild; 2 quilts, Hill Grove Auxiliary; 2 quilts each, Ever Ready Club, Zelma Rebekah Lodge, Rossway Auxiliary, Victory Club; 1 quilt each, Marshalltown Auxiliary, Mrs. Muise, and Mrs. McAlpine (Sea Brook), Mrs. H. T. Warne, Mrs. Edward Winchester; 2 quilt tops, Sea Brook-Roxville Sewing Circle; 1 quilt top and lining, Mrs. J. A. Faust; 1 afghan each, Service Wives' Club, and Miss Wilda Davis and Mrs. C. R. Sypher; afghan squares, Mrs. W. E. Tupper; service sweater, Mrs. Raymond Winchester; socks, Mrs. Stinson; turtle-neck tuck-in, Mrs. Steele, N. Y.; scarf, Miss Golding, Saint John; helmet, Mrs. T. E. G. Lynch; 3 child-Mrs. Keith Porter; knitted ren's scarves, 6 prs. mittens, baby garments, Mrs. Armstrong, Miss Whitman, Mrs. G. V. Turnbull; felt slippers, Mrs. Fream (Barton), Miss Marilyn Campbell; yarn, Miss Marion Roop; clothing materials, Mrs. W. H. Farnham, Miss Shreve, Mrs. Ormiston, Mrs. H. T. Warne, Mrs. H. M. Warne, Miss Margaret Stewart, Mrs. Reginald Weir, Mrs. Digby Baxter, Mrs. Jesse Jefferson, Mrs. P. W. Holdsworth, Mrs. Scott Eaton, Barton Auxiliary; magazines, Mrs. John Marshall, South Range; hand painted Mexican tray (to be raffled) Mrs. Sack, Weymouth North.

PLUMBING RATIONED ?

LIKE SUGAR, GASOLINE and TIRES

SO MUCH of the metal normally used for plumbing equipment is vitally needed for guns, shells and ships there isn't enough to go 'round. So you are rationed.

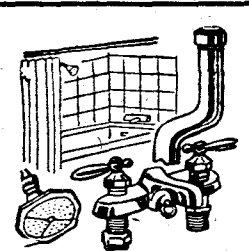

THAT DOES NOT MEAN that we cannot replace things necessary for health and safety, or equip additional housing, especially for war workers. Provisions are made for that.

BESIDES, our skilled mechanics are told, to "Fix what you can; save what you can; replace what you have to; but use available supplies with care."

AND THAT is just what we are doing and why we hope to keep on serving you satisfactorily.

Coming: 'SABOTEUR'

The death of Captain Arthur W. Burns occurred suddenly in his rooms at the Dufferin Apartments, Saint John, on Thursday afternoon of last week, at the age of 91 years. Captain Burns, who was born at Digby, was one of those doughty captains of the old windjammer days, and was a son of the late George and Louise (Titus) Burns, of Digby.

He had 56 years of seagoing to his credit, most of which he served as master, circling the globe twice as regard to mileage. Twenty-nine of his seagoing years were spent "in sail" and twenty-seven "in steam". He began his career before the mast on the brigantine Morning Star in June 1868—the trip was to Barbados and return. His second ship was the Zebu, and afterward the full rigged Beethoven in the kerosene trade between Philadelphia and Europe.

From those opulent days of squareriggers and vast fleets of white-winged craft Capt. Burns was in the thick of oceanic traffic. He was in the Black Sea trade of southwestern Europe, ran on the Alexandria-Constantinople route engaged in the River Danube grain trade; called at Odessa in Russia, knew the Dardanelles shores like his native Nova Scotia, had climbed Mt. Vesuvius in Italy on foot, traversed the China and Japanese seas, and it was interesting to hear him relate of these present-day wartime countries in contrast to the roaring days of sail transportation when they were rapidly developing under western commercialization.

A particularly notable incident in the Captain's color-career was the picking up of a large ship 1,200 miles south of Java Head, the crew of which had died of fever, excepting the mate and two men. The disease stricken craft was taken to Batavia and salvage adjustment netted the crew a tidy sum. There were 300 tons of sugar on the unfortunate craft. Another incident of special note in Captain Burns' long service was the birth of his eldest daughter—now a registered nurse in Providence, R.I.—who first saw the light of day in the Indian Ocean.

Many citizens of today will remember the late Captain Burns' service at home aboard Dominion government coastwise service steamers—Curlew and Landsdowne. He succeeded the late Captain Geo. Bissett in the Landsdowne and later was appointed ships' husband of the port of Saint John, an office having to do with the servicing of the government craft, an attaché of the office of marine superintendent. When in the Landsdowne, Capt. Burns and crew saved passengers and crew of the West Indian liner Cobequid for which he received a gold watch and chain. The Cobequid ran on Trinity Ledge, Bay of Fundy. He is survived by his widow and two daughters, Miss Louise and Miss Ola, both nurses in Providence, R.I., and one son, Fred S. Burns, of Halifax.

Mrs. H. R. Bishop To Head Campaign

At the regular monthly meeting of the V.O.N. on Tuesday, Mrs. H. R. Bishop was named convenor of the T.B. Christmas Seal Campaign at Digby for the year 1942.

As the September meeting was cancelled owing to the ban on public gatherings on account of infantile paralysis, reports were submitted for the month of August and September. The total number of visits made by the nurse in August were 221, while in September they numbered 199. Nursing visits in August were 140 and September 120. In August 24 visits were made to infants at

Hostel To Be Established By Digby Trade Board

F. L. Anderson and Mr. Shattford were named a committee to make necessary alterations and decorations to the office of the Waverly Hotel to make it usable as a "hostel" for transient soldiers, airmen and sailors who visit Digby. The motion was passed at the regular monthly meeting of the Digby Board of Trade Tuesday evening. The meeting was held in the council chamber of the Town Hall, R. B. Murray, president of the Board, in the chair.

The matter was the subject of considerable discussion. It was pointed out that several attempts have been made to have a government sponsored hostel established here, but no satisfaction has been received.

Digby is a "waiting point" for hundreds of soldiers, sailors, and airmen who spend several hours here making train and boat connections. There are no accommodations for these men in Digby and they are to be seen walking the streets regardless of weather conditions and men have been reported writing letters during rain storms on street benches.

The "hostel" to be provided by the Board of Trade in the office of the old hotel will furnish a reading and writing room, and if conditions warrant, it is hoped that other facilities will be made available.

A motion was also passed at this meeting to hold the regular meetings on the second Wednesday of the month rather than the second Tuesday. The motion was tabled for further discussion at next month's meeting.

The Digby Board of Trade voted a sum of $25 to the Digby Service Wives' Association. This money is to assist them in defraying expenses in mailing Christmas packages to Digby boys overseas. The association plans to mail out 180 packages this Christmas season.

Another $12 was voted to the "Ditty Bag" Committee of the local Red Cross. A letter from the convenor, Mrs. H. M. Warne stated it was estimated that amount was needed in order that her committee could complete 250 ditty bags for the men of the merchant marine. When the "ditty bag" drive commenced, Digby ladies thought they would be able to fill 50—they will fill 250.

home, 19 to pre school children and 8 to school children. At the well baby clinics the attendance was 42. There were 2 St. John Ambulance Brigade meetings held. In September the V.O.N. made 21 visits to infants at home, 9 pre school children were visited and 25 school children visited at home. T.B. contacts visited at homes were 17. At the well baby clinic 20 were in attendance. Seventeen hours were spent in school where 37 pupils received quick inspection, 45 complete inspection and 13 T.B. contacts weighed, 40 pupils showed dental care badly needed.

A combined course in Nutrition and Home Nursing is being organized for school girls. One meeting of the St. John Ambulance Brigade was held. The following supplies were received during the past two months: Clothing—Miss Ruth Campbell, Mrs. A. L. Ormiston, Mrs. H. M. Warne; Children's clothing—Mrs. J. McCleave, Mrs. C. Murley, Mrs. Perry; Quilt and Baby's Layette—Service Wives' Club; Waxed Paper—Mrs. V. G. Turnbull.

Livingstone Is Given Two Years

William A. Livingstone, convicted on two counts of theft from the Hudson estate, was sentenced last week by Mr. Justice Doull in Supreme Court, Annapolis Royal, to serve two years in Dorchester Penitentiary on each count, the sentences to run concurrently. His lawyer, George C. Nowlan, of Wolfville, made an eloquent appeal for leniency, stressing his splendid record in the First Great War and called upon Col. S. Wright, Halifax, who was in the same company with the accused in France, to tell what a fine soldier he was. The Judge said, "the jury could scarcely have found (otherwise than they did) but, taking into consideration the accused's war record he imposed the smallest term he could, namely, two years."

ACADEMY ACTIVITIES

Digby Academy has been invited to send a team to the Annapolis County Indoor Track Meet to be held in Annapolis Royal tomorrow (Friday) evening. Boys and girls are out practising each day for this event. Parents are invited to attend this meet.

Sergeant Gerald (Tony) Byrne has returned to town. Yesterday he assisted at the cadet drill period. At the present time he is attached to the 2nd Battalion, West Nova Scotia Reserve Regiment, Digby.

The girls of the Household Science Department are preparing materials for the making of eighty Christmas cakes for the Service Wives' Club.

A dance, sponsored by the Boys' and Girls' Clubs, will be held in the Scout Hall on Friday evening, October 30, 1942. The proceeds from this dance will be used for war service work.

The sale of stamps has started again. Starting next week we shall announce the total sale at the time, and the grade which is leading in the sale of stamps.

The Biology students of Grade X have been making collections of material which will be suitable for winter study. Some very interesting specimens have been brought in.

The girls of the High School Red Cross have filled two Ditty Bags. It was decided at the last meeting to have a business meeting one week and a work period on the following week, this to continue alternately throughout the school year.

INFANTILE PARALYSIS FUND

We have $15.00 to acknowledge toward this appeal in this week's paper, and that brings our total to date to $46. We feel certain more contributions will follow. Five dollars was received from Mrs. John Adams, of Deep Brook, and $10 from the Bear River Women's Institute. Contributions may be made at the Courier office or the Royal Bank of Canada, Digby. On Saturday, October 31, a general tag day will be conducted. A splendid response is expected.

Digby to Observe Victory Loan Sunday

Sunday next will be Victory Loan Sunday, when in all the principal cities and towns of Canada the Third Victory Loan Campaign will be opened with impressive ceremonies. Coming at a time when the Canadian people realize by the sacrifices they are called upon to make that they in common with the armed forces must make a vital contribution to winning the war, the Third Victory Loan stresses in a dramatic way this participation of the civilians with the armed forces in the symbol of the Third Victory Loan—the Commando Dagger.

Actual Commando Daggers, taken from issue and flown from Britain, will be sent to various Victory Loan districts in the Province, and they will be prominently featured in the Victory Loan Ceremonies next Sunday. At the conclusion of the Loan Campaign, when a district has obtained its objective, these Daggers will be sent to a military unit overseas from that district, or if there is not a unit from that place, to a unit in which there are some boys from the town, with a message telling the boys of the Loan's success and the way the folks at home are backing them up.

In Digby local churches will unit for a special service in the Capitol Theatre Sunday evening—this service will take place of the regular church services and will be held at 7.30 p.m. Local churches will be represented on the platform and music will be furnished by the combined choirs.

A GRAND PARADE of the Army, Navy and Airforce, accompanied by a band, will be held throughout the entire province from Monday to Saturday of next week. This Parade will also feature the joint participation of the armed forces in fighting this war. The boys who fight our battles will march; Victory Bonds will keep them going.

The Parade will take place here on Wednesday, October 21st.

At the time of the Parade and during the week everyone will have a chance to see some of the army equipment, guns, shells, stretchers, helmets, and various types of supplies which their money is furnishing in this war. There will be displays in the windows of the principal stores. Large yellow cards will show, in black, sketches of corvettes, destroyers, guns, tanks, torpedoes, rifles, and other equipment which the armed forces must use and we must pay for.

Aeroplanes will fly over the town during the week, towing large targets printed "Buy Victory Bonds."

The army, navy and airforce boys are going to no end of trouble to make their part in the Victory Loan Campaign an outstanding success. Everyone is urged to co-operate to their utmost to make the boys of the forces feel we are backing them up. So, applaud the Band at the Ceremonies on Sunday and cheer the Parade during the week, and sometime in the Campaign period BUY A VICTORY BOND.

55 Years Wed

Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Journey, of Weymouth, are to be congratulated on the 55th anniversary of their marriage on Sunday of last week. The event was marked by their attending the special Thanksgiving Service at St. Thomas' Anglican Church. Mr. and Mrs. Journey are active in the affairs of the community, and both are enjoying good health. We join with many friends in extending our congratulations.

Pair Admit Being Drunk When Auto Hits Men

Arthur Stanton of East Ferry, told a Coroner's jury at Salmon River on Wednesday afternoon last, that he was under the influence of liquor last Tuesday night when the truck he was driving struck and killed Frank A. Deveau, 29, of Salmon River, and sent Frank J. Deveau, 28, a cousin, to Yarmouth hospital with a broken leg and other injuries.

The jury headed by foreman Anthony Maillette, of Salmon River, returned a verdict charging that Frank Deveau met death as a result of injuries sustained when struck by a truck operated by Arthur Stanton.

The inquiry was conducted by the acting coroner, Stipendiary Magistrate Dennis d'Entremont of Meteghan River, assisted by Crown Prosecutor E. J. Theriault of Digby, and was held in the Parish Hall, Salmon River.

Stanton testified that he was driving the truck with John Horner, also of East Ferry, as passenger. He admitted that they were "pretty full". He stated the truck was being driven between 30 and 35 miles per hour. Stanton could not state whether the truck was on the right side of the road, the left side or the middle. Neither he nor Horner saw the two Deveau cousins, but both felt a bump. Stanton said he did not think they had struck a man and so kept on driving. According to him, the truck went in the ditch about two miles from the scene of the accident and he told Horner at that time that he thought they might have hit a man and had better go back. It was then that they were found by Royal Canadian Mounted Police officers, Meteghan River detachment.

The truck was found, ditched, on a side road leading to Cedar Lake from Beaver River, which is on the main highway. It was damaged about the front, giving evidence of a collision.

Stanton said he and Horner had purchased a case of ale and a bottle of wine at Digby. They purchased another case of ale in Weymouth.

Stanton's evidence was substantiated by that of Horner, who also admitted to being under the influence of liquor.

Following the inquest both men were returned to the Little Brook jail where they were taken Tuesday night following their apprehension by Mounted Police.

Also giving evidence at the hearing were Dr. Belliveau, of Meteghan, Ivan Pothier and two other residents of Salmon River.

Ivan Pothier said the accident occurred almost directly in front of his home around 8 o'clock. It was light enough at the time for his son to see the bodies of the two men lying in the road. The fatally wounded man was lying on the side of the road, about 120 feet from the place where he was hit. Frank J. Deveau was in the middle of the road. Both saw the truck, which did not stop. Pothier summoned the doctor and notified police, who set a dragnet which located the truck and its occupants a few hours later.

Margaret Morine, C.W.A.C., who returned on Saturday from taking a course at MacDonald College, St. Anne de Bellevue, Quebec, spent a short leave at her home in Bear River.

IS MISSING IN CRASH

Pilot Officer Henry Raymond Woodman, younger son of Councillor and Mrs. Wm. C. Woodman, Joggin Bridge, was one of the seven men pested as "missing" after a plane crash into the Bay of Fundy near Port George, Annapolis County, Wednesday afternoon of last week. The plane, from Greenwood Air Training Centre (near Kingston) was seen to crash into the Bay and sink immediately. In spite of the efforts of searching parties and planes, no sign other than a large patch of oil on the water, could be found of the plane or its crew.

Pilot Officer Woodman, enlisted on August 8, 1941, and first trained at Valcartier, P.Q.; later at Victoriaville, P.Q.; Winnipeg and Paulson, Man.; Fingal, Ont. and was lastly stationed at Greenwood.

He received his commission on August 11 of this year, leading his class in radio.

He was a graduate of the Smith's Cove school, and before enlisting worked locally as a carpenter. He was 21 years of age, well liked, and one of the most popular young men in the community, where his father served as postmaster for many years.

Besides his parents, Pilot Officer Woodman has a sister, (Alice) Mrs. Chester Brinton, Smith's Cove, and a brother, Flight Sgt. Lovett Woodman, at present stationed in Newfoundland.

Former Hotel Proprietor Dies

The death occurred Thursday last in Soldier's Memorial Hospital, Middleton, of a well-known former Digby hotel proprietor in the person of Augustus Tupper Spurr, who retired some years ago after managing the Myrtle Hotel at Digby for many years. For the past several years he had been spending the winters for the most part in Florida and the summers in Annapolis County. Last winter he and his wife resided at the Colonial House, Bridgetown.

In his early seventies, the deceased was a veteran of the First Great War. He was born in Round Hill, Annapolis County, the son of Charles Spurr and Margaret Tupper Spurr, the latter being formerly of Tupperville.

Besides his wife he is survived by one daughter, Mrs. A. S. Woodbury, Round Hill. (Mrs. Woodbury has been managing the Myrtle Hotel for the past three summers). The late Mr. Spurr and his wife celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary about two weeks ago. He was predeceased by a son, who died in boyhood.

The funeral service was held Saturday afternoon from the Anglican church at Bridgetown, with burial at Round Hill.

URGENT

Any persons having any used all wool blankets or material that they could donate towards the care of the "polio" cases in the Hospital would be much appreciated. Phone 148 or send to Hospital.

About This and That

Sacrifice

Not all are slackers and shirkers. He who deliberately evades responsibility in life, especially in these critical days, is the exception and not the rule. Most of us desire to feel that we are doing our duty. However, that word "duty" has a chilly sound which suggests something more is necessary in these perilous days. Meeting one's duty may be all that is required in peace time, but war and victory demand sacrifice.

Most of us may be doing our task reasonably well—up to a certain point. That stopping place is where the task and its requirements begin to hurt. When personal convenience is interfered with, then the line is drawn between the extraordinary and the ordinary; between the faithful and the fearful; between the great and the mediocre.

The law of sacrifice runs all through life, and only he who is willing to heed that law wins a true victory. The great achievements of this world which men gaze on with admiration and tears are those wherein men gave their lives for the sake of humanity.

How splendidly the masses are willing to serve if sacrifice is not involved. Hence, the few who are carrying the world's burdens.

If victories for country and humanity are to be won, it will be because we know it is patriotic, noble, and unselfish to suffer; to do without; to deny ourselves; to be a zealous servant of humanity, and not a chronic growler; to learn to sympathize and cease to criticize, unless we can offer a better solution than the one we condemn.

The war for democracy will never be won without individual sacrifice and struggle. The great realities are not measured by the bank book nor the adding machine. Life's values are determined by what we give, not by what we have, nor by what we receive. Giving of our substance is secondary. He who gives himself unreservedly to his fellowmen thereby solves a score of problems.

Better, far better, to seek glory in discomforts and inconveniences than to glory over the laurels of victory handed to us by the blood and sweat of others' suffering.

In drawing up Part IV of the Education Act which deals with the Municipal School Unit, it was realized that the children in the urban communities had more advantages than the children in the rural areas. Therefore, the Act and the Regulations were formulated, so as to give many more educational advantages to the children of our rural areas. The basic principles upon which Part IV of the Act were drawn up were:

1. The burden of supporting a desirable minimum of education should be spread as evenly as possible over all the school sections of the Municipality.

2. As far as possible there should be equality of educational opportunity as between rural and urban districts.

3. The financial unit should be large enough to provide a modern program of education at the same cost to all.

4. All powers, except the collecting of taxes and payment of monthly salaries to teachers, should be left to the local school section.

5. The "minimum program" of education should be defined as an adequate common and high school education for each child, under a professionally trained teacher, in a good school building provided with adequate supplies and equipment. For the purpose of finance, the "Minimum program" should be defined in terms of a uniform schedule of minimum salaries for teachers and a fixed sum per classroom for supplies and maintenance of equipment.

In order to finance the "minimum program" the Municipal School Board would secure funds from the following sources:

1. The Municipal School Fund as at present constituted. This is the fund from which the schools now receive what is generally known as the "Grant Cheque".

2. A general municipal school tax to replace the present taxes collected by the school secretaries. This would mean that everyone in the Municipality would be taxed at the same rate for the support of the school, whereas now, the tax rates vary from $1.10 to $4.40.

3. The Grants from the Provincial Government for high schools, special subjects, etc. These are the grants that are now being paid directly to the sections.

4. Finally, Digby Municipality would obtain from the Provincial Equalization Fund, an amount equal to the difference between the total expenditure required and the total revenue derived from the other three sources. Based on the number of teachers employed this year, this would amount to over $14,000 each year.

The amount allotted each year to the schools for maintenance; that is fuel, janitor, repairs, insurance premiums, supplies, and equipment, etc., would be $125 for each rural school and $175 per classroom for each village school.

A new salary scale would be established and under it a licensed teacher would receive $400 plus Provincial Aid during her first year. An experienced licensed teacher would receive $500 plus her Provincial Aid. Experienced and licensed teachers in two department schools would receive a total of $1200; in three department schools a total of $1900; and in four department schools a total of $2600; in all cases exclusive of their Provincial Aid.

Under the new system, property owners would no longer pay the $2 poll tax for school purposes. However, the Municipal Council may, with the approval of the Board, place a school poll tax of not less than $2 nor more than $5 on all nonproperty owners who have attained the age of 21 years, and have not attained the age of 61 years.

The duties of the secretary and the trustees and the business of the Annual Meeting would be practically the same as they are now. The chief difference is that the secretary would not have to post the rateroll and collect the taxes, and would not have to pay the teacher.

The Annual School Meeting would have to approve of the estimates for the coming school year as it does now. Then, on or before the 15th of October of each year, the trustees would submit these estimates for the "minimum program" to the Municipal School Board.

The Municipal School Board referred to above would have power: (a) to approve estimates submitted by trustees; (b) to employ and pay teachers; (c) to pay trustees any sum required for the maintenance of schools; (d) to make, enter into and carry out agreements for the conveyance of pupils to schools; (e) to employ and pay such assistants as may be necessary; (f) to make such regulations as may be necessary or desirable for the better carrying out of the objects of this Part.

The Municipal School Board would meet twice a year, once in May and once in November.

Responsibilities GO WITH RIGHTS

In no other country in the world do citizens enjoy more wholly the privileges and rights of free democracy than do we in Canada.

But the very nature of democracy that creates those rights, creates the responsibility of maintaining them.

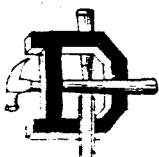

Hundreds of thousands of young Canadians have decided that Canada is worth fighting for. We other hundreds of thousands at home must decide that Canada is worth working for—saving for—lending for.

Mrs. Camille Comeau and four children, of Meteghan Station; Mrs. Eli Belliveau and small daughter, of Grosses Coques, and Mrs. Amédee Melanson, of Grosses Coques, spent Sunday with their parents here.

Miss Antoinette Doucette, student at the Sacred Heart Academy, Meteghan, spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. Herbert Saulnier.

"Saboteur" Plot Has Vital Theme

Although only five days elapse between the opening scene and the final "fade" in the Alfred Hitchcock-directed "Saboteur", coming Monday and Tuesday to the Capitol theatre, the production was before the cameras at Universal studios for more than ten weeks. During much of that time Hitchcock had three camera crews at work—the No. 1 unit, which he personally guided on the Universal lot; the cross country unit, a mobile affair, and the New York unit.

During the unfoldment of the story, Hitchcock speeds Robert Cummings, who co-stars with Priscilla Lane, all the way from Glendale, California, to New York Harbor, setting an all-time record for Hitch-hiking.

Cummings, portraying a young aircraft plant worker who is falsely accused of sabotage and who sets out to track down the real saboteur,

"hooks" a ride on a freight truck that carries him from Glendale to the heart of Nevada. From there he rides in to Utah with Miss Lane in the latter's coupe. Picked up by saboteurs near Salt Lake City, he covers the balance of the distance non-stop except for brief intervals for refueling.

Norman Lloyd, imported from the Broadway stage, heads the big cast appearing in support of Miss Lane and Cummings. Other featured players include Otto Kruger, Allan Baxter, Alma Kruger, Clem Bevans and Dorothy Peterson. The picture is presented by Frank Lloyd Productions, Inc. Jack Skirball was the associate producer.

Hunters Bring In a Good "Bag"

The record for hunters in this area for this season is held by "Bill" Webber, manager of the Royal Store, Digby, and Basil Porter, Hill Grove, and their wives. Their's is a record that will be difficult to beat.

The party left on Tuesday and did their hunting in the vicinity of the Nine Mile Woods, just over the Annapolis-Queens County line. On Tuesday "Bill" was successful in bagging a beautiful buck deer.

Wednesday morning they took a "cruise" about two miles back in the woods, taking their rifles along "in case" although exploiting more than hunting was uppermost in their minds at the time—that is, until they chanced across a big black bear and her two cubs. Basil succeeded in bagging the old bear and one of her youngsters. Bill got the other cub.

Unprepared, they had some difficulty in getting their bag out of the woods. The two boys took off their belts (they haven't said how they kept their trousers up), strapped mother bruin to a pole, and got her out in that manner. The womenfolk brought out the cubs, piggyback—with the aid of stockings, handkerchiefs and "whatnot".

Needless to say, when their car arrived at Digby with the two cubs tied to the back; a beautiful buck and a large black bear lashed to the front, it was the subject of much admiration and comment. Many of their friends have sampled the venison and bear steaks.

Fighting dollars NOW Building dollars THEN

THE dollars you send to war NOW—by buying Victory Bonds—will return to you when Victory is won, to help build a future for you and for Canada.

It's a small price to ask for Victory—this foregoing of pleasures and comforts for a time so that your dollars may be made available for war.

Self-denial is not to be compared to the sacrifices of those who are doing the fighting and dying.

And when victory is won, your dollars LOANED to Canada will be yours to use as you wish—to build the kind of home, the kind of future, you now dream about.

Victory Bonds are the best INVESTMENT you can make. They are guaranteed by the full resources of the Dominion of Canada. They yield a fair rate of interest. They are readily saleable when you need the cash.

Nothing matters now but Victory!

Paul was one of twelve successful students who are to take a short course, at the end of which time, if successful, they will be commissioned as 2nd lieutenants. At present he is at Upton Field, Atlantic City. Paul's father served in the last war with the Americans, and is serving in this war with the British army. Good luck, Paul, wherever you may be!

The beauty of the 23rd Psalm was brought home to everyone who attended the morning service at the United Church on Sunday when Miss Margaret Mack (daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C. M. Mack, of Amherst, who were in this congregation eighteen years ago), sang as a solo, a very lovely setting of this Psalm, her perfectly trained, well modulated voice giving clear enunciation to every syllable, and bringing comfort to many hearts to whom sorrow and loss had come in recent weeks. This Psalm is, indeed, the Great Comforter, and her rendition of it will be long remembered. (Miss Mack is heard by many over the radio).

VICTORY LOAN DRIVE FOR $750,000,000 OPENS MONDAY

We will push on to Victory!

WHEN FRANCE FELL, and Britain stood with her back to the wall, one strong jaw jutted out, and the grip of one clenched fist shook the Empire.

It was Churchill hurling Britain's decision across the channel. Quit? ... Never! ... Fight? ... Yes, through the hell of adversity till victory is won.

Today Canadians face challenge after challenge with the same unconquerable spirit. Today we are asked to do without so that our fighting men will have everything they need—when they smash straight into the heart of enemy defences.

Canada's ringing answer to this latest challenge will be:

"Yes, we'll fight with the last ounce of our strength, and the last dollar we can earn and save."

Canada's Victory Loan drive opens Monday. Canada's Victory Loan representative will ask for your answer soon.

Will it be "No, I do not choose to do my part"?

Or will it be "Yes! Yes!! Yes!!! I will buy Victory Bonds! I will lend all my support to help make victory sure."

You will be laying up for yourself the best of all investments—VICTORY BONDS are backed by all the resources of the Dominion of Canada; they yield a fair rate of interest; you can borrow against them; and they are readily saleable when you need the cash.

WEAR YOUR COMMANDO DAGGER

It is a symbol indicating that you have bought the new Victory Bonds.

HOW TO BUY

Give your order to the Victory Loan salesman who calls on you. Or place it in the hands of any branch of any bank, or give it to any trust company. Or send it to your local Victory Loan Headquarters! Or you can authorize your employer to start a regular payroll-savings plan for you. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1000 and larger. Salesman, bank, trust company or your local Victory Loan Headquarters will be glad to give you every assistance in making out your order form.

NOTHING MATTERS NOW BUT VICTORY... Buy THE NEW VICTORY BONDS

OBITUARY

Miss M. A. O. Ruddock

The death of Miss Mary Amelia Ostranda Ruddock occurred at her residence on Queen Street on Monday, October 5th. Miss Ruddock was the daughter of the late Thomas and Annie Ruddock and was born in Saint John in 1854. She is survived by her niece, Miss Edith Hughes who resided with her; and two nephews, Kenneth Hughes, of Victoria, B.C. and Allen Hughes of Regina, Sask. Funeral service was held at Trinity church on Wednesday, October 8th, the rector, Rev. F. B. Gaskill conducting the service.

Eloi Comeau

On Saturday, October 3rd, after a lingering illness, Eloi Comeau passed away at his residence in Meteghan River, aged 77 years. Surviving are one daughter, Edna, at home; two sons, Désiré, of Dorchester, Mass., who came for the funeral, and Gustave, of Brighton, Mass.; three brothers, Leon, of Bradford, Mass.; Elisee, J. P., of Yarmouth; Edward, of Meteghan Centre; and two sisters, Helen, of Providence, R. I., and Monique, (Mrs. Charles T. Deveau), of Meteghan River. Deceased was a son of the late Louis C. Comeau. He was lighthouse keeper at Meteghan River for many years and was highly respected. The funeral took place from the Stella Maris church on October 6th, conducted by Rev. Father Bourneuf.

Rossway Red Cross Auxiliary Notes

Made and sent into Digby Branch for the month of September were:—1 quilt, 4 children's sweaters, 1 pr. baby's booties, 2 baby's dresses and panties, 4 pr. rompers. Amount collected in Rossway, Waterford and as far as Charles Hall, Roxville, for the sailors' ditty bags was $21.90 as well as numerous articles that went into them with the result that eight ditty bags have been packed and sent to Digby to go on to the Navy League for the sailors who won't be in port for Christmas.

In American Air Force

Ens. Robert D. Menning, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Menning, 1128 Bresee Avenue, Pasadena, Cal., who received his wings and commission at graduation exercises at Corpus Christi Naval Air school September 11, has been assigned for further instruction at Miami, Fla. There he is to get an additional three months course in officer training and night flying. Born in Visalia, Easing Menning has resided in Pasadena since 1924 and attended Longfellow Elementary, Marshall Junior High and P. J. C. from which he was graduated in 1941. He majored in business administration. Robert won several letters in swimming and diving while at P. J. C. He enlisted in the Naval Air Corps in October, 1941 and had his primary training at Long Beach before being sent to Corpus Christi.

Meteghan Women's Institute Meets

The Women's Institute of Meteghan met Tuesday evening of last week at the home of Mrs. Raymond LeBlanc. It was the annual meeting and there was a good attendance. The election of officers resulted as follows: President—Mrs. Raymond LeBlanc. Vice-President—Mrs. John F. Deveau. Secretary-Treasurer—Mrs. Jos. D. Comeau. Committee — Mrs. Theodore Melanson, Mrs. Arthur Robichaud, Mrs. Albert Comeau and Mrs. Hilari Theriault.

The United States will take your surplus cattle and at the same time Canadian consumers want more.

MR. FARMER: You have increased your Pork Production by 119 per cent. You have increased your Beef Production by 20 per cent. You fed all the grain you had last year. There is more feed grain in Canada this year than can be fed. There is a market for all the hogs and cattle that you can feed this year. Average prices for hogs and cattle during the coming year will be higher than the average for the past year. We know that you will continue to produce all you can. Your splendid war effort is appreciated by Canada and the United Nations.

Third Victory Loan Campaign

The Third Victory Loan Campaign is under way. Digby's pledge flag flies on the Memorial Garden flagpole—the county is off on its way to secure its objective of $275,000 in voluntary loans to our country by the people of Digby County. The objective will be reached, and we hope, exceeded.

Canvassers are making their rounds. They hope to be able to call on every home, to contact every wage earner and all others who are anxious to come to the aid of their country by purchasing Victory Bonds. As we go to press we are unable to learn of their success to date. We believe, however, they are meeting with a fine reception judging by the dagger pins we see displayed in many lapels. The Victory Loan thermometer registered $25,000 yesterday.

The campaign got off to an official start on Sunday evening with a "Victory Loan" service in the Capitol Theatre. This service took the place of the regular church services, all churches co-operating.

Last evening Group No. 1, Army, Navy and Air Force personnel accompanied by an air force band, arrived in Digby and put on an interesting demonstration in the interest of the campaign. They spent the night here in the Reserve Army Drill Shed, leaving this morning for Deep Brook. Clementsport and other points along the Valley route. They arrived in Digby yesterday from Weymouth, and prior to their demonstration in that town, they were at Meteghan.

Searching Party Patrolling Woods For Missing Man

Large searching parties, under direction of the local detachment R.C.M.P., are patrolling the woods in the Syda's Lake district on the old Shelburne Road and the old Base Road, seeking Charles Frude, 76, of Conway, Digby County.

Ration Board Is Organized

Work on the organization of Local Ration Boards got into full swing this week with the announcement from the Regional office of the War-time Prices and Trade Board that twenty-six municipal officers, mayors and county wardens, at key points throughout the Province had been asked to cooperate in the establishment of the necessary organization in their areas.

A number of mayors have already signified their acceptance. The plan is designed to give the municipalities a larger share of the responsibility for rationing locally. The present plan, for twenty-six boards is by no means final. James M. Archibald, newly appointed Regional Superintendent of Rationing emphasized. New boards will be set up as the work of organization progresses at whatever points it becomes desirable to do so.

The Boards will be designated by letter and number combination. Thus NS-14 will mean Nova Scotia Board 14, which has been established in Digby, has Mayor E. J. Theriault in charge.

ACADEMY ACTIVITIES

The High School students are preparing for the dance to be held on Friday, October 30th, with Miss Campbell as director of the refreshment committee, and Miss Zinck as director of the decoration committee. The decoration committee consists of the following students: Harriet MacKay, Grade XII; Grace Vincent, Grade XII; Mildred Hazelton, Grade IX; Ted Weir, Grade XI; Avard Franklin, Grade XII, and Dick Rockwell, Grade X.

The refreshment committee is comprised of Hazel Franklin, Grade XI; Ellen Outhouse, Grade XII; Pauline Baxter, Grade X and Ruth Lent, Grade IX.

Horace Rindress is in charge of the advertising.

A track team from Digby Academy travelled to Annapolis last Friday to take part in the Annapolis County Indoor Track Meet. Sixteen students from the school made up the team. We were not fortunate enough to win any points but we shall try again. Track teams cannot be built in one year. A period of years is required to train athletes in the different phases of a track meet. The list of students and the events in which they entered are as follows:

Boys sixteen and over: Running: High Jump—Ted Weir, Don Rice, (Robert Wright), Shot Put: Robert Wright, Don Rice, Pole Vault: Arthur Turnbull, Don Rice, Joe Purdy, 40 yard dash: Joe Purdy, (Robert Wright), Relay Team: Joe Purdy, Robert Wright, Don Rice, Ted Weir, Girls All Ages

Standing Broad Jump: Aileen Winchester, Joyce Collins, 60 Yard Dash—Mildred Hazelton, Lillian Theriault, Relay—Aileen Winchester, Shirley Snow, Kathleen, Burnham, Viola Melanson.

Boys 12 to 15
Pole Vault—Arthur Turnbull, Harry Budd, Standing Broad Jump—Robert Vincent, Archer Turnbull, 80 yard dash—

Mr. Frude, who is well known, left by horse and wagon Saturday for his camp at Syda's Lake, intending to cut a little wood, and possibly do a little hunting. He planned to return Monday.

When he did not return Tuesday his son, Louis Frude, went back to the camp and could find no trace of his father. The horse apparently had not been fed for some time, and very little of the food brought to the camp by his father had been touched. On his return Louis sent out an alarm.

Yesterday morning some fifty men were patrolling the district. At noon yesterday the fire siren was sounded to get others to join the search. It is not thought that Mr. Frude became lost in the woods, for he knows the district almost as well as he knows his own back yard. It is feared he may have been stricken with a sudden illness or met with an accident.

Infantile Paralysis Fund Nears $200

The infantile paralysis fund, started through the columns of the Courier three weeks ago is now nearing the $200 mark. We are pleased to acknowledge this week the following contributions: $100 collected by friends in Bear River and Deep Brook; $5 each from Halton Hayden, and E. Weyhe; $2 from Mrs. Herbert Haight and three friends, $1 each, making a grand total of $161.

Again we remind you that contributions to this fund will be received at the office of the Digby Courier, or at the Digby Branch of the Royal Bank of Canada.

Saturday will be Infantile Paralysis Tag Day. Please be generous.

Carl Tibert, inspector for the Bank of Nova Scotia, was a visitor in town yesterday, enroute to Yarmouth, where he will spend part of his vacation. He will later visit his parents at Central Grove. Mr. Tibert was at one time a member of the staff of the Digby Bank of Nova Scotia.

The Loyal Workers (formerly the Jolly Wives) will meet with Mrs. "Ted" Sanford next Tuesday evening.

Relay Team—A. Turnbull, Dick Rockwell, Dick Hand-spiker, Harry Budd, (Robert Vincent).

The boys and girls wish to thank the following people for the use of their cars: E. B. Richardson, R. B. Murray, C. E. Eaton, and Dr. T. Rogers.

The winner of the track meet was Lawrence Town, Middleton came second and Annapolis came third.

The Boy Scouts held their annual apple day last Saturday. They were successful in getting $99.52. There are a few small bills to be paid, but the money which remains will certainly be of use to the Boy Scout Association. The boys wish to thank all who co-operated with their apple day.

Sixty-one Christmas cakes have been made for the Service Wives' Club. The others will be ready for mailing by the end of this month.

Stamp Sales are being held every Friday afternoon. $83.50 worth of stamps have been bought so far this month. Grade V is leading with 86 stamps, ($21.50).

Baptists Meet At Westport

The Digby County Baptist District Meeting was held at the Westport Baptist Church on October 6 and 9. The Moderator, the Rev. T. F. McWilliam, was in the chair and conducted the business of the sessions.

The opening service (Thursday) began at 7.45 and was Young People's night. The devotional service was conducted by the moderator assisted by members of the local church. The address of the evening was given by the Rev. A. Gibson, secretary of Young People's work. He stressed the declining interest in the church and Religious Education. He referred to the work among our young people as a hopeful sign that there was an upward turn in religious interest. He stressed the fact that with the decrease in Religious Education there was a corresponding increase in crime and delinquency.

The Devotional services on Friday were conducted by the Revs. Cobham and Ricker. The morning session consisted of the regular routine business and two addresses. The first address was given by the Rev. R. C. Eaton and was entitled "Convention Echoes". He stressed the inter-dependence between the local church and the Convention. He likened the relationship to that of a family. Our strength is found in our unity. Our existence depends on strengthening the ties of this relationship. Our denominational enterprises can be maintained only through our family co-operation.

The second address of the morning was given by the Rev. A. Gibson. He discussed our inter-national and inter-denominational four year program of "Christian Education Advance". He stressed the needs that confront the church and the program formulated to meet those needs. We are challenged to reach all we can for Christ. The address was followed by a discussion of the reasons why people don't go to Sunday School and why people do go to Sunday School. The topic was continued at the opening of the afternoon session.

The meeting of the Women's Missionary Society was the main feature of the afternoon. The devotional service was conducted by members of the local society. After the business session, the address was given by Mrs. Ross Eaton. The speaker stressed the need of consecrating our all to the work of the Master—our time, money, and talents. It was a timely and helpful address.

The evening service was conducted by the Moderator, Rev. S. Ricker, of Westport, read the Scripture and Rev. B. A. Cobham, of Little River, offered prayer. The sermon was preached by the Rev. M. C. Munro, of Digby. The Moderator conducted a witness service in which many re-dedicated their lives to the Master and the work of the Kingdom of God. Thus was brought to a close most helpful and inspiring District Meetings.

Misses Mary Marshall and Geraldine Syda have been recent visitors to Saint John.

Mrs. E. M. Marshall was a passenger to Yarmouth on Monday.

The plant of the Bay of Fundy Fish Co. Ltd., Culloden, seven miles from Digby, was levelled last Wednesday evening in a $20,000 blaze. Origin of the fire, which appeared to start in the smokehouse, is unknown. There was no insurance.

The blaze was discovered shortly after 7 o'clock by Gordon Banks, an employee of the firm. Banks and Henry Meier, president, were the only two about the premises at the time. The two fought desperately to extinguish the smoke house blaze, but wind was against them. Before further help arrived, the flames had spread to the main structure a few yards away, and the fire was out of control.

The fire spread to the Broad Cove Breakwater nearby, but was extinguished before any severe damage was done. Douglas Campbell, Culloden fisherman, had his motor fishing boat alongside the burning building, but with help of others was able to haul the craft to safety, however, he lost 130 lobster traps and a quantity of other gear. Sydney Stark's boat was also hauled to safety. Mr. Meier's herring boat was destroyed.

Oscar Stark, one of the staff, fell from a truck while on his way to the fire, and was painfully bruised about the face.

In the plant at the time were 28,000 pounds of salt; a quantity of fish in the dressing sheds—and the smoke house was full of fish being cured. A large quantity of shipping boxes and cellophane for next year's production, were also destroyed. There were a number of casks of gasoline and oil on the dock, property of fishermen, which were destroyed.

The loss of the plant is a serious blow to the people of Culloden. A number of fishermen were supplying fish to the firm, and during the summer as many as 25 were on the payroll. Last week there were 14 on the roll.

The plant was built in 1937, owned in New York, although it is incorporated under the Nova Scotia Incorporation Act. The business had been increasing steadily since coming to Culloden. This year the plant was enlarged to twice its former capacity. The plant itself was one of the finest along the Bay of Fundy shore.

Plans are already in operation for rebuilding of the plant.

MARRIAGE

Wade - Robinson

The marriage of Miss Alice Robinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dannie Robinson, of Parker's Cove to Harris Wade, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Milton Wade, also of Parker's Cove, took place at the United parsonage at Annapolis Royal on Saturday, October 17th. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Quigley. The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Francis Clayton and Mr. Clayton was best man. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of her sister, Mrs. Clifford Halliday, Parker's Cove, where a reception was held. They received a large number of useful gifts and a sum of money.

Mrs. C. M. Tibert, of Cental Grove, was in town on Monday on her way to Yarmouth to spend a few days. Dorothy, of Moncton.

Schools Favor Larger Unit

Voting in a number of Digby Municipality school sections on the "larger unit" regarding the Municipal Control Unit of Finance and Administration for rural school sections, shows these sections favoring the Municipal Unit. To date, out of sixteen meetings that have been held, Rossway is the only section to vote against the plan. The vote in Rossway was 10 for and 12 against.

At Weymouth North there was a close, but favorable vote, 14 for and 12 against, while in Danvers, Southville, Riverdale, Weymouth Point, Sandy Cove, Waterford, Culloden, Roxville, Lake Midway, Centreville, Weymouth Falls, South Range East and South Range West, ratepayers were unanimous in their approval.

The standing at the present time is 15 sections in favor of the larger unit and one against. There are 44 school sections in the Municipality.

Reserve Army Is Growing

The local unit of the Reserve Army continues to grow in strength, and is at present approximately 130 strong. In order to provide better training facilities, the regular training nights, Monday and Thursday, have been changed. Two platoons now take Tuesday and Thursday as their drill nights, while another trains on Monday and Wednesday nights.

On Sunday morning many representatives from the entire company took part in a route march to Acacia Valley. Led by the Digby Band (which body has "joined up" with the Reserve Army), they left Digby early in the morning, returning late in the afternoon. At Acacia Valley the company was put through various phases of training.

About This and That

Hitler's Costly Mistake

No matter what the ultimate fate of Stalingrad, the nazi scheme of things in Europe has been badly wrecked. The profligate waste of manpower and war materials has not yielded the desired results. Once again the Russians have been successful, as they were last summer, in trading space for time. Hitler has acquired a considerable amount of battle-scarred land, but little else. The Russian armies are still intact, and the Russian winter is already beginning to threaten the invaders.

Adolf Hitler has made his second great mistake. His first was in not attempting the invasion of England immediately after the fall of France and the Dunkirk debacle. The second was in deciding to overrun Russia and destroy the soviet armies before dealing with England.

Only the tremendous start obtained by the Germans in the formation and equipment of the nazi war machine has prevented these Hitler errors becoming fatal before this. Even as it is, Hitler must soon pass from offensive to defensive warfare. We can look for this shift in the initiative by next spring or sooner.

New Road to Alaska

We can score another success for Allied ingenuity and determination in the recent announcement that the 1,600-mile motor highway linking the western end of the United States-Canadian border with Alaska will be ready for use by December 1.

This job was a tremendous one. The builders who attempted it faced seemingly with insurmountable difficulties. And on top of this the need for speed in its completion was all-important. But that old saying, "difficulties show what men are," must have been intended for the engineers. The measure of their success is found in the announcement that the road will be ready for use in another six weeks or two months.

The new road will greatly simplify the problem of supplies to Alaska. It will mean the end of the Japs on Kiska Island, at the end of the Aleutian tip, when we choose to chase them into the ocean. It will mean a new route open to Russia for supplies. It may even mean a new operating base against Japan itself.

OUR FLAG

All night the moon shed beams of light
Upon my country's flag so high;
The breeze unfurled it to the night
And waved its beauty to the sky.

I stood and watched, my head held high,
The Union Jack floating full and free;
I thought of those who calmly lie
In flag-draped rest across the sea.

I thought of all who were so brave,
Of empty homes, of mothers' tears;
I thought of what men died to save,
Then gone was doubt, I had no fears.

Because we hear our country's call
We will defend; right will prevail;
That flag will wave; it shall not fall;
God's way is right, though foes assail.

Live

It isn't enough just to strive to make a better living. That will be of little avail, even if successful, unless we strive ever to live better. Creature comforts pall quickly. The mind should be developed to enjoy things of a higher nature.

Time

We shall never have more time than we now have. Tomorrow will have only 24 hours, the same as today. So there is no reason for putting off things we should do now. Finish each day's tasks as you face them, then you won't overburden tomorrow.

Victoria Beach

Invest In VICTORY

Victory Bonds are the best investment you can make.

In this critical year of the war—when everything depends on an all-out effort—every dollar that Canadians can muster must be a fighting dollar. While they are fighting, they remain YOUR dollars.

But if you spend money on things you can do without, you are withholding these needed dollars for the war effort. You are keeping them out of the fight.

Men are fighting and dying for freedom—giving their all that we may remain free. YOU are asked only to LEND your money to back them up.

Victory Bonds are guaranteed by the full resources of the Dominion of Canada. They yield a fair rate of interest. They can readily be sold when you need the cash.

After the war, you will be glad of this money you have saved and loaned to Canada. You can spend it THEN on the things you want.

MARRIAGES

Harris - Johnson

The Baptist Parsonage at Digby was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on Monday evening, October 5th, when Kathleen Mary, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson, Waterford, became the bride of Gunner Carleton Donald Harris, of the 40th H. A. Bty., Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Harris, East Ferry. The bride looked charming in a street length dress of blue triple sheer and wore a corsage of white gardenias and fern. They were attended by Miss Rowena Harris and Newcombe Harris, sister and twin brother of the groom. Rev. M. C. Munn officiated at the ceremony. A reception was held in the Community Hall at Sandy Cove on Friday evening of the same week, in honor of the young couple. They received a large number of gifts including silverware, pyrex, money, etc. The evening was spent in dancing and refreshments were served at a late hour. One of the trays used in serving belonged to the bride's great grandmother and was also used in serving at the wedding of the bride's aunt about thirty-five years ago.

Denton - Frost

A very pretty wedding took place on Saturday evening, October 3, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Frost, Little River, (formerly of Burbank, Calif.), when their youngest daughter, Shirley Mae, was united in marriage to Bernard Alfred, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney Denton, also of Little River. The bride was given in marriage by her father and looked charming in an evening gown in aqua blue lace and carried an arm bouquet of roses. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Eric Morehouse, while the groom was supported by his brother Ralph. The ceremony took place beneath an arch of fern and autumn leaves, and was performed by Rev. B. Cobham, of the United Baptist Church, Little River. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Edward Addington, cousin of the bride. During the signing of the register, Mrs. Wilfred Trask, sister of the groom, sang "Because". She was accompanied by Mrs. G. Douglas Denton, of Saint John. Only members of the immediate families were present. Refreshments were served. The happy couple will reside in Little River. They were presented with many beautiful gifts and money.

MARRIAGES

Harris - Johnson

The Baptist Parsonage at Digby was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on Monday evening, October 5th, when Kathleen Mary, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson, Waterford, became the bride of Gunner Carleton Donald Harris, of the 40th H. A. Bty., Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry B. Harris, East Ferry. The bride looked charming in a street length dress of blue triple sheer and wore a corsage of white gardenias and fern. They were attended by Miss Rowena Harris and Newcombe Harris, sister and twin brother of the groom. Rev. M. C. Munn officiated at the ceremony. A reception was held in the Community Hall at Sandy Cove on Friday evening of the same week, in honor of the young couple. They received a large number of gifts including silverware, pyrex, money, etc. The evening was spent in dancing and refreshments were served at a late hour. One of the trays used in serving belonged to the bride's great grandmother and was also used in serving at the wedding of the bride's aunt about thirty-five years ago.

Bomb-Proof Formula for VICTORY

● WORK HARDER

● LEND MORE TO CANADA

We have the men and they have both the skill and the courage. We have the just cause and the will to win. Then, "What is the Price of Victory?"

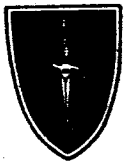

One answer is: Harder work on the home front; a tightening of belts from coast to coast; a foregoing of all luxuries; the saving of more money; a program of self-denial for the duration, so that we can lend more and more money to Canada.

Our investments in Victory Bonds will help to give us better-trained, better equipped soldiers, sailors and airmen in this global struggle for human justice, decency and freedom.

Victory Bond dollars are "double-duty" dollars. They will shorten the war and will provide us with the means to carry out our new plans when peace comes again.

Self-denial is the order of the day. Save and invest.

Annual Meeting Of Credit Union

Annual meetings of the Weymouth North Credit Union and the Agricultural Society were held in the Guild Room Monday, October 5th.

Rev. A. S. Hart presided over the Credit Union meeting but as he was also Treasurer pro-tem, he handed over the proceedings to Andrew Elliott.

A very sound state of affairs was reported by the treasurer. Share capital was now over five hundred dollars and in the past year nearly eight hundred dollars had been loaned, almost a double turnover of the capital. A dividend of 6% was declared on paid up shares. Mr. Hart strongly urged a progressive educational campaign and more study of the movement especially considering the problems of rehabilitation.

Men serving in the forces who were members had left their deposits with us. Some had added to them from time to time, which was very pleasing. This Union was now a permanent institution in the Community and with 55 members its future was assured.

Officers were elected as follows: President—Andrew Elliott; Vice-President, Glidden Campbell; Treasurer, Cyreno Jones; Directors, Blanchard Grant, S. Titus, A. Lombard, H. Jones.

Miss Ross and Miss Creaser, Supervisory Committee; R. Sabean, H. Jones, A. Elliott, Credit Committee.

The meeting passed a vote of thanks to the retiring president, Rev. A. S. Hart for his work in the movement.

Roger Sabean presided over the meeting of the Weymouth North Agricultural Society.

D. Campbell deputised for his brother, Glidden Campbell who is secretary.

The report was very satisfactory. There was a balance in the funds and a new sire had been purchased and to all accounts most satisfactory. The fair sponsored by the society was a great success and it had been decided to repeat the show next year, with increased publicity.

Raymond LeBlanc reported on the new Land Settlement Scheme and also emphasized the increased use of lime and dairy herd improvement.

J. Specht and H. W. Garden explained to the meeting the unsatisfactory state of affairs of the County organization.

Officers: President—Roger Sabean; Vice President, Fred Lent; Secretary Treasurer, Glidden and Dougal Campbell. The Directors were re-elected.

A delightful clam chowder was enjoyed by the members after the meeting. The Society's clam chowders have by this time made a great reputation. Good business and good fellowship made the evening both beneficial and pleasant and the men of Weymouth North are justly proud of the progress they are making in spite of many grave difficulties.

Hankinson - Kirker

A quiet but very lovely Fall wedding took place in St. Paul's Church, Halifax, on Thursday afternoon, when Ven. Archdeacon T. W. Savary united in marriage Miss Claire Kirker, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Kirker of that city, and John Bishop Hankinson, son of E. F. and the late Eunice Hartz Hankinson, of Weymouth. Miss Natalie Littler played the wedding marches. Lieutenant W. L. MacLeod gave the bride in marriage. She wore a floor length gown of eggshell satin with long torso effect, and sweetheart neckline, a three-quarter length veil trimmed with seed pearls, and she carried a bouquet of deep red roses. There were no bridal attendants. An informal reception for a few relatives was held afterwards at the home of the bride, 39 Preston Street after which they left on a trip to Yarmouth and the Annapolis Valley and Prince Edward Island. The bride travelled in a rose woollen dress with black accessories. She was the recipient of a beautiful collection of wedding gifts. A number of parties and showers were held in her honor.

She had been employed with the firm of A. J. Bell and Co. Ltd., and received a silver tea service and a cheque from them. Mr. Hankinson is connected with Royal Bank of Canada in St. John's, Nfld.

ELECTRIC RATES

WE ARE FORTUNATE IN DIGBY—

Digby is not one of the areas where consumers are asked to conserve electricity.

HYDRO IS NOT RATIONED HERE—

Generators of the Digby County Power Board are capable of producing more than enough energy to meet Digby County demands.

New Digby Rate Schedules

The current, rate reduction provides Digby with one of the lowest rates in the Maritimes—this gives everyone the opportunity of using many more Kilowatt Hours without increasing the size of the Hydro bill. The new net rates are shown below:

DOMESTIC LIGHTING

Service Charge—Same as before.
Energy Charge—3 1/2 cents per kw-hr. for the first 30 kw-hr. per month.
2 1/2 cents per kw-hr. for the next 60 kw-hr. per month.
1 1/2 cents per kw-hr. for all additional consumption.

COMMERCIAL LIGHTING

Service Charge—Same as before.
Energy Charge—3 1/2 cents per kw-hr. for the first 100 kw-hr. per month per kilowatt of connected load.
2 1/2 cents per kw-hr. for the next 100 kw-hr. per month per kilowatt of connected load.
1 1/2 cents per kw-hr. for all additional consumption.

ALTERNATING CURRENT POWER

Service Charge—Same as before.
Energy Charge—2 1/2 cents per kw-hr. for the first 100 kw-hr. used per month per horse power of connected load.
1 1/2 cents per kw-hr. for all additional consumption.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

Charles Balsor was successful in getting a deer.

Mrs. G. Croscup is visiting relatives in Lawrencetown.

Roscoe Alcorn returned to his work at Halifax on Sunday.

Mrs. Chittick, of Halifax, is visiting her sister, Mrs. B. R. McCarthy.

Miss McClafferty, of Annapolis, is the guest of Mrs. J. McClafferty.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Balsor, of Boston, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. Balsor.

R. H. Harris and guide were at the lakes for game. They captured a bear.

St. John's Guild met on Wednesday afternoon with Mrs. Howard Rice.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Snow spent the week end with friends in Lawrencetown.

Miss Vera Riley is spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Riley, Virginia East.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Harris have returned from their vacation spent at Lake LeMerchant.

On Friday afternoon last a Clinic for toxoiding and vaccination was held in Oakdene School.

C. B. LeGrow was the organist on Sunday at the United Church in the absence of R. H. Purdy.

The Ladies' Circle of the United Baptist Church met on Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. John MacLeod.

Mrs. W. J. Wright, of Fredericton, is the guest of A. B. Marshall. She will leave for her home tomorrow.

Miss Bertha Rice returned to Wolfville on Thursday, after spending two weeks with Mrs. J. T. Davidson.

John Jefferson, of the R.C.A.F., has received his "wings" and is now soloing—having made splendid progress in the Air Force.

Mrs. Earl Fancy spent several days at Millford, with Earl's mother, Mrs. A. Fancy, returning on Sunday evening accompanied by Mrs. Fancy.

Mrs. Harold Lovitt, of Philadelphia, and Miss Edith P. Lovett, R.N., of New York, leave tomorrow to return to their respective destinations.

On Sunday morning next, the Rev. G. Cameron Quigley, of The United Church, Annapolis Royal, will be the preacher in the United church here.

Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Banks and Harry, after having spent several months at Lake Jolly, have returned home. Mr. Banks has been in the lumber business.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Snell and little daughter, Mrs. Milton Ritcey and daughter of Riverport, spent Thanksgiving week end with Mr. and Mrs. C. LeGrow.

Mrs. Otis Rice was taken to the Halifax Infirmary on Thursday for an operation. Mr. Rice and two daughters, Dorothy and Maxine, accompanied her, returning on Saturday.

L. Cpl. Arnold Rice and Mrs. Rice, of Yarmouth, spent a few days recently with Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rice. They also spent a few days at Mr. Rice's cabins—Leslie Rice was successful in bagging a deer.

A shower was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wade at the home of Evelyn McCormick on September 22nd. The couple received many useful gifts. A short program and refreshments were enjoyed by all those present.

James C. Brown left last week for Saint John, where he has accepted a position with the Simms Brush Co. Ltd. We regret very much Mr. Brown's departure from our midst but we wish him every success in his new position.

We are sorry to report J. L. Warren being ill at this time, a loss indeed to the War Effort, as Mr. Warren was Chairman of the Victory Loan Committee for this district. We wish him a quick recovery for his own sake, and are sorry indeed that the Drive will not have his usual untiring work to help attain the objective. Rev. James Brooks and C. B. LeGrow will carry on his duties in connection with this campaign.

Mrs. Nordert Walther and baby, of Sydney, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Higgins.

Mrs. Walter Morrell, of Fredericton, is visiting at her old home in Bear River, with her father, Capt. John Woodworth, and her sisters.

Miss Jean Roy, R.N., was the week end guest of her cousin, Dr. A. B. Campbell and Mrs. Campbell, returning to the Digby General Hospital on Sunday night.

Mrs. F. Harold Hatheway and young Harold Hatheway, jr., of Fredericton, arrived on Wednesday last to visit Mrs. C. W. Jefferson. "Bunny" has grown so tall that few of his old friends recognized him at first.

Having completed his studies at Rothesay, he plans to take a course in fine tools work, prior to entering the Navy as a cadet a little later on. "Bunny" received a warm welcome from his old school friends, and enjoyed a trip to their old "hunting lodge" at Lake LeMerchant, now owned by General Bremner. Mrs. Hatheway is always a welcome visitor, and has many interesting things to tell of their efforts in helping along the War Effort. Mr. Hatheway is well, but has limited his activities considerably during the past year. They returned to Fredericton on Wednesday.

Wade - Hazelton

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the Digby Baptist parsonage recently, when Rev. M. C. Munn united in marriage Ethel Blanche, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hazelton, of Bear River, and Roy Anthony, youngest son of Mrs. Ellen Wade and the late Fred Wade. The attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Allister Harris, of Bear River, friends of the bride and groom. The bride was dressed in street length dress of navy blue with accessories to match. The happy couple will reside in Bear River, the groom being employed with the Dominion Construction Cor. at Deep Brook.

OBITUARY

Mrs. A. N. McNinch

The death of Mrs. Janie Bent McNinch occurred at her home in Clark's Harbor Thursday morning, October 8, following a long period of illness, aged 75. She was the wife of Rev. A. N. McNinch, pastor of the United Baptist church in that town. Mrs. McNinch was a devoted wife and mother and was greatly beloved by her family. She met the responsibilities as a pastor's wife with charm and dignity and will be remembered by a host of friends throughout the Maritime Provinces where her husband has held successful pastorates, notably the Smith's Cove, Deep Brook and Clementsport churches, where he ministered for seven years. A short service was held on Thursday evening at the United Baptist parsonage, Clark's Harbor. Rev. A. A. Stott, of Centerville, conducting the service, assisted by Rev. Joseph Ainsworth, of Barrington Passage. The remains left Clark's Harbor on Friday morning for Tupperville, where a large funeral service was held Saturday afternoon at the United Church, (where 51 years ago in June Rev. A. N. McNinch and Miss Janie Bent were united in marriage). The funeral was conducted by Rev. C. L. Gesner, pastor of the United Church, of Lawrence town, a relative and close friend of family, assisted by Rev. G. E. Huestis, of the Baptist church in Paradise. Surviving beside her husband are five sons, Robie, R.C.A.F. Hamilton, Ontario; Guy in Saint John, N.B.; Sable in Clements- port; Laurie, in Moncton and Glen in Boston, Mass.; one daughter Beth at home; also two brothers, H. E. Bent and J. S. Bent, Tupperville, Annapolis County. The four older sons are all veterans of the World War 1914-18, and all were present at the funeral service. Interment was made in the family lot in Lawrencetown.

WE'RE GOING TO NEED SO MANY THINGS WHEN THE WAR ENDS ...things that are hard to get now

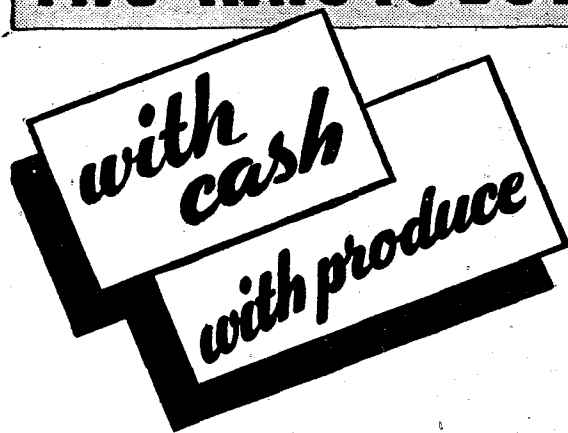

Every day, almost, we find that something else is getting scarce. So often, we are told "they're not making it any more". Factories are making guns instead of ploughs, tanks instead of tractors, planes and shells instead of stoves and beds. We'll have to replace so many things when the war ends ... things we can't buy now.

MONEY INVESTED IN VICTORY BONDS will provide the cash to buy them

TWO WAYS TO BUY VICTORY BONDS NOW

—with Cash

... in one lump sum, with money we have saved. There is no safer investment ... no better way to protect our savings.

Or—we can buy bonds and pay for them through our banks in monthly instalments. As the instalments come due the bank will charge them to our accounts.

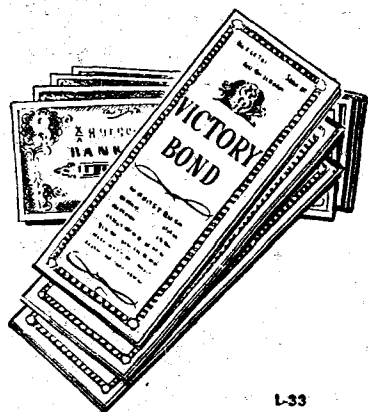

—with Produce

Farm folk can pay for Victory Bonds in another, convenient way—by using the "PRODUCE FOR VICTORY" TICKET. By simply signing a "Victory Ticket" you can authorize those who buy produce from you to send all or part of the proceeds to the War Finance Committee to buy Victory Bonds for you. (Ask your local War Finance worker for details.)

WHAT A VICTORY BOND IS

Look at a dollar bill. A dollar bill is like a bond. It's a promise to pay to the man who has it. You get bills when you sell things and pay them out when you buy things. A Victory Bond is "a bill" intended to be saved. When you keep a $100.00 Victory Bond for a year you receive an additional $3.00. (3% interest). Buy all the Victory Bonds you can—lend money to Canada to help to win the war. Save your bonds to have money for things you'll need when the war ends.

Tuesday, October 27, was "Young Canada's Rally Day." The High School students were brought together in one room, to listen to the remarks of Victor Cardoza, concerning the Third Victory Loan.

The programme was introduced by Harriet MacKay reading "For All We Have And Are", a poem by Kipling.

For all we have and are
For all our children's fate,
Stand up and take the war,
The Hun is at the gate!
Our world has passed away
In wantonness o'erthrown.
There is nothing left today
But Steel and Fire and Stone!

Mr. Cardoza began his address by comparing the gathering of the students here to a gathering in Germany, pointing out how fortunate we are in being able to gather together to discuss things freely.

He emphasized the cost of the war and how it can best be financed, describing to us the various ways in which the government raises money. One way, we were told, was by issuing war saving certificates and bonds. One of the principal reasons why we should buy these, is to insure the freedom of the young people of our country. We have enjoyed many privileges here in Canada, and we can all help fight by seeing that every spare penny goes toward the war.

We must not only read articles on "sacrifice" but we must translate what we read by actually giving up pleasures and using the money to buy war saving stamps and certificates. Everyone can help to win the war in this way.

Before closing, Mr. Cardoza said that soon each school in Digby County would be asked to canvass its school district every month. However, before asking others to do their bit, we should ask ourselves if we're doing our best to aid in the war effort.

The girls of the Household Science department have finished seventy-five fruit cakes for the boys overseas.

Barbara Baxter, Grade X, and Joyce Collins, Grade IX, received honorable mention in the Vocational Guidance school broadcast for essays they had written based on interviews regarding the lives of successful people.

The boys have been practicing basketball on Mondays and Fridays after school.

Total amount for stamps, certificates and bonds purchased by the students up to October 23, 1942.—$325.25. Sale for the week: Stamps, certificates and bonds, October 16—October 23. $241.75.

Friday evening is the evening of the High School dance. The proceeds are for war purposes, patronize this event and aid the war effort.

Sixty Years Wed

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Raymond, of Waterford, celebrated the 60th anniversary of their marriage on Friday last. The occasion was marked by a gathering of the people of the village and nearby community, at their home that evening for a dance and a sing-song, the "bride and groom" taking part. Five of their children, Herbert and Fred Raymond, of Waterford; Mrs. Bruce Thompson, Los Angeles, Calif.; Mrs. Hattie D'Arcy, Dartmouth and Mrs. Arthur Allen, Yarmouth, were present. Another daughter, Mrs. William Daley, Lynn, Mass., was unable to attend.

Victory Calf

On the 21st a calf was born on the farm of Mrs. C. M. Marr, Rossway, with a perfect V in the top of each ear.

Rev. T. W. Hodgson, of Grace United Church, will exchange pulpits with Rev. R. H. Barker, of Weymouth, on Sunday evening.

HUNT FOR MISSING MAN CONTINUES

The hunt for Charles Frude, 76 year old Conway man, continued with no trace of him being found as we went to press yesterday afternoon.

A week ago last Saturday afternoon, Frude harnessed his horse and wagon and drove to his camp on the Shelburne Road. He planned to cut firewood and do a little hunting. It was his intention to remain in the woods until Monday. And on Sunday his son Louis, who lives on the Shelburne Road, accompanied him in the woods for a time, leaving his father some distance from the camp.

When Frude failed to return on Tuesday, Louis visited the camp again. Found the horse had not been fed, and that his father had apparently not returned. R.C.M.P. were notified and a searching party organized. Since then many have taken part in the hunt, some of whom have been in the woods daily in spite of the fact weather conditions have been most unfavorable.

A large body of men from town took advantage of yesterday afternoon's half holiday to join the search, but as we went to press late in the afternoon we were unable to learn whether they were successful or not. There is no hope of Frude being found alive.

It was in the woods where the search is being conducted that his father, John Frude, was killed by a falling tree during logging operations about fifty years ago. It is understood the missing man was familiar "with every tree" in that area.

'Polio' Fund

Reaches New High

Our Infantile Paralysis Fund for the Digby General Hospital has taken a big jump this week. We felt elated last week when the fund was nearing $200—this week we are near $400, the total to date being $374.95. This week's acknowledgements amount to $213.95.

Five dollars were received from the South End Ladies' Bridge Club; $5 from Harold Trimper, Greenland, and another $5 from Cecil and Annie Raymond, New York. Mrs. Ralph Berwick, Debert, sent in $2, so did Daniel Ford, Mrs. Leigh Sabine, Riverdale, forwarded $1 and Home Division, Sons of Temperance, have made a donation of $5.60. The Girls' Garment Club, Bear River, have voted $10.

A cheque of $183.35 was received as the result of the work of canvassers in the Bear River area—their second cheque, one for $100 was acknowledged last week.

The first $100 cheque sent down from the Bear River drive—Lansdowne, contributed $8.13. Milford Corner, $6, the Naval Base $21.63—the rest being from the Village. Of the cheque for $183.35, $106.30 is from Deep Brook; $27 is from Bear River East, $11.03 from the Naval Base, and $2 from the Junior Red Cross of Oakdene School, Grades V and VI. When the drive is completed, a full report will be made. Smith's Cove has yet to complete their drive and there are other amounts to come in. The youngest donor to date is Hartly Milner, aged 7 months, of Bear River East, wee son of Mr. and Mrs. Maynard Milner. Remember the Tag Day on Saturday!

Fraser Sypher Buys A Bond

A proud purchaser of a Victory Bond is Fraser Sypher, 10 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dutton Sypher, Sandy Cove. Fraser once owned a fine steer. He doesn't now, but in his place he has an application for a "paid in full" Victory Bond.

When the Third Victory Loan was announced, Fraser was one of the first to make up his mind he was going to be a subscriber—but a Victory Bond—even a small one—takes a mint of money in the mind of a ten year old boy, especially when that boy plans to use his own hard earned money.

Fraser sold his steer—he had raised the animal from a calf. He was proud of it. In his mind it was the finest in the village of Sandy Cove—perhaps on the whole of Digby Neck—but when Fraser got his cash he walked right into the home of R. W. Sypher, Victory Loan canvasser for Sandy Cove, took the money from his pocket, and demanded "Gimme a Victory Bond."

It was a proud day for Fraser.

Brotherhood Organizes for Season

Grace United Church Brotherhood held its first meeting for the season on Tuesday evening, electing the following officers for the ensuing year:

President—O. Wright.
Vice-President—Elton Arnold.
Secretary—J.M. Wallis.
Treasurer—L. M. Saunders.
Chaplain—Rev. T. W. Hodgson.
Immediate Past President—A. R. Pyne.

A tentative program for the season has been drawn up, subject to approval at the November meeting.

Bond Campaign Passes Halfway Mark

A special dispatch to the Courier yesterday afternoon stated Canada's 3rd Victory Loan Campaign had passed the halfway mark, $414,583,000 having been subscribed toward the $750,000,000 objective.

The employee canvass continues favorable and large subscriptions have come from corporations, municipalities and institutions.

Yesterday, Digby's Third Victory Loan thermometer registered $125,000. We feel safe in prophesying that inside of another twenty-four hours the halfway point of Digby County's $275,000 will be reached.

Mr. and Mrs. Elden Appt. of Saint John, were recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Andrews, Rossway.

Six more school sections have come in line as favoring the "larger unit" of Municipal school administration, they are: Conway, Acaciaville, Marshalltown, Bay View, East Ferry and Little River. Ratepayers in Barton-Brighton section voted "no" by a majority of 1 vote. The standing to date is 21 for and 2 against.

A. I. Ormiston, manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Truro was unanimously elected president of the Truro Scout Association at the annual meeting held recently. Mr. Ormiston was formerly manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia in Digby.

BE RATIONED; BE THANKFUL

(By Mrs. Albert J. Peters)

The present rationing of sugar, tea and coffee did cause some of us a bit of inconvenience while we were getting adjusted, and some of us probably are still fussing. We still have plenty of foods at the corner grocery—including flour. Many of the present generation do not realize how difficult it was at times even less than a hundred years ago, to obtain the necessities of existence. They were rationed by circumstances and didn't consider it a hardship.

A letter has recently been brought to light which was written from Trout Cove (Centreville) May 11, 1863, by Mrs. Solomon Dakin to her husband, who was then in Boston. The following are quotations from the letter:

"Capt. John Jones Morehouse got here Monday the 18th and I got father's team and went down to Sandy Cove today and got the things you sent. They all came safe. You might try and send me another barrel of flour as soon as you can, because I owe the most of this one." "Laura's cough isn't quite well yet, but I think she will be well soon."

"I would like you to send me a skeleton and a little calico." "You must remember me in your prayers and I will endeavor to do the same in my weak feeble way."

Captain Morehouse was a native of Sandy Cove, the birthplace of so many sea captains of the last century. At the time this letter was written, a few years before confederation, there was free trade between Nova Scotia and Massachusetts, and several packets and freighters were engaged in trade between Sandy Cove and Boston.

The skeleton probably needs a bit of explaining. It happened to be the framework over which the calico was to be draped to result in a hoop skirt.

The "Laura" mentioned is Mrs. Tuttle Graham, the oldest of the Dakin family, who will attain her 81st birthday in December.

How very seldom nowadays outside of a pulpit do we hear of prayers! Here we are given an insight into the simple everyday Faith of our Fathers—which calls for an AMEN!

Freeport

Gordon Titus has purchased the home of Dexter Stevens and with his family moved in last week.

Mrs. Eva Stevens and Pauline are occupying the home of the late Seth Prime for an indefinite time.

Rev. and Mrs. Gideon Corey arrived home from their honeymoon trip on Sunday and will spend a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Westcott.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Denton, of Westport, spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Haines.

Mrs. Lauriston Small, of Tiverton, has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Ring.

Dr. and Mrs. Shaffner spent the week end at Porter's Lake.

Peter Smith has gone to Saint John to seek employment.

Miss Rena Perry has been spending a few days in Halifax.

The use of trucks as a means of delivering apples to the processing plants and the return of the empty barrels to the sub-agents has been ordered discontinued "as much as possible" by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Accordingly the Nova Scotia Apple Marketing Board has advised the sub-agents that the use of the railways must be made.

"Tight Little Isle" Worth A Fight

"The only regrets are the people I leave behind, the wonders I haven't seen and the things I have not experienced, but I am comforted by the knowledge that this tight little isle is worth fighting for, and I can think of no better way than to go down flying."

The above is quoted from a letter written by Norman Spray, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Spray, of Nottingham, England. The letter was written just before Norman's last fight, with instructions that it was not to be delivered unless he failed to return.

Norman is a brother of Stanley Spray, formerly of the Digby Courier staff, and now overseas. His mother, Mrs. E. Spray, visited her son in Digby during the summer of 1937. In a letter to friends in Digby, received this week, she tells of receiving word that Norman was killed and buried in the military cemetery at Kiel, Germany. (He was reported as "missing" several months ago.)

In her letter she also states that Vernon Bent (also a former member of the Courier staff), had spent a few days with them at their home in Nottingham, resting after some strenuous work. (It is understood that Vern took part in the Dieppe Raid.) "Stan is very busy and not able to write very often."

She tells of entertaining a number of boys from Yarmouth, N.S., and seven from Weymouth, N.S. "We talked of Evangeline, Port Royal and the Annapolis Valley, which made them feel quite comfortable," she writes.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Laura Repool

The death of Mrs. Laura Repool, 85, widow of Deacon George Repool, occurred October 24, at her home in Westport. She was a valued member of the United Baptist Church and a highly respected citizen of the community, and is survived by a son and daughter, Ray and Lulu, both of Westport. Her husband predeceased her by four years.

Mrs. Willie Lombard

At Little Brook, on Monday, October 19, Mrs. Willie Lombard, formerly Alma d'Entremont, passed away at her home after three months' illness, at the age of 57. Besides her husband she leaves four sons, Nelson, Joseph, Gerald and Gilbert, one daughter, Mrs. Stanley d'Entremont; six brothers, Ben and Jeremie, of Lynn, Mass.; Leo, bank manager at Caribou, Maine; Leger and Leonard, at Meteghan River; three sisters, Mrs. August Saulnier, Meteghan Station; Mrs. Albert Robichaud, Meteghan and Eugenia at Swampscott, Mass. She was a daughter of the late Joseph and Marie Anne (Comeau) d'Entremont. Funeral service was held at St. Mary's, Church Point, Rev. Father Castonguay, C.J.M., pastor, officiating, assisted by Rev. Father Brear, C.J.M., Rev. Fr. Myott, C.J.M.

The District Meeting of District No. 10, I.O.O.F., comprising the Lodges from Digby to Middleton, met in Lawrencetown last night. The meeting of District No. 10a—Tiverton, Freeport and Westport—will meet in Freeport tonight.

Meetings were held at Sandy Cove and Centreville, on Wednesday with the view of organizing Credit Unions in these villages. Professor A. B. MacDonald, of St. Francois Xavier University, addressed the Sandy Cove meeting, outlining the history of Credit Unions in the province and explained the aims and results of the system as developed in various communities.

A Credit Union was founded at Sandy Cove with a membership of 20.

Rev. R. H. H. Barker, of the United Church, Weymouth, and Digby Neck charges, and P. J. Pellerin, of St. Francois Xavier University, met fishermen and farmers at Centreville. Professor MacDonald arrived later to give a short address. Organization of a Credit Union in that village was deferred until the men had more time to consider and study the matter.

Make Trial Runs

The trial trips of the patrol ships ML394 and ML395 were held on Tuesday and Wednesday of last week. Lieutenant Commander Freeborn, of Halifax, was one of the visiting examiners. The ships passed without fault.

On Friday, October 23, both ships were commissioned in the name of King and Country and were immediately presented by Lieut.-Commander Freeborn, to Lieut. Commander Godfrey of the U.S. Navy, who accepted the ships in the name of the United States. The U.S. ensign was then hoisted. These are the first ships to be passed over to the U.S. Navy at Weymouth.

MARRIAGE

Corey - Westcott

A wedding of interest took place in the Freeport Baptist Church, Wednesday, Oct. 21, at 3 o'clock, when Maxine Elizabeth, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Westcott, and Rev. Gideon Corey, of Halifax, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Corey, Havelock, N.B., were united in marriage by Rev. R. C. Eaton. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Jean Haines, church organist. She was gowned in white sheer over taffeta, with a fitted bodice and full skirt. Her fingertip veil was of white net. She carried a bouquet of white and red roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Frances Westcott, of Saint John, who wore blue net over taffeta and carried cream roses. The groom was attended by Keith Perry. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. Those serving were Mrs. Harold Crocker, Mrs. Malcolm Dakin and Miss Pauline Stevens. Out of town guests were Mrs. Hanford McArthur, Sussex, N.B., sister of the groom, and Rev. and Mrs. Reicker, of Westport. After a brief honeymoon, Rev. and Mrs. Corey will reside in Halifax where the groom is with the Y.M.C.A. War Services. The gift to the organist was a three strand necklace and bracelet with sterling silver clasps set in brilliants; to the bridesmaid, a pen and pencil set. Both bride and groom are graduates of Acadia University. They received many beautiful gifts. Prior to her marriage the bride was employed on the dietetic staff of the Toronto General Hospital.

About This and That

Let's Be Prepared

Happily we cannot read the future. It is one of life's great blessings that we must live in the present for the future. Crises come again and again, in spite of ourselves, and we cannot know how the next disaster will terminate, because we do not know the two basic factors—the greatness of man and the ways of destiny.

There are a number of things that we do in order to make life easier and happier and all society safer.

Plainly, in order to have a better world, better in capacity, capabilities, and attainments, we must cease depending too much on machinery, on outward things, on material accomplishments. These are but a means to an end. Back of every dollar, back of every machine, back of every material device must be personality, character, brain power—dedicated to the higher ideals of life.

We go forward not by what we have, but by what we are. Growth originates in the soul, and moves outward to the periphery of life. Hence life can be no better than the individuals who make up life.

We don't know what lies ahead, but we do know that some of the most dramatic episodes in history came unexpectedly. Many a humble individual never found what he was looking for, but he got something far better. He was kicked upstairs to success. His triumphs were waiting for him, beckoning him, pushing and pulling him on, and chiefly because he was not thinking of them so much as he was thinking of himself, his obligation to himself, as he lived faithfully day by day, refusing to cross his bridges until he got there.

How thrilling it is when one builds far better than he realizes, and there comes the day of reckoning and reward. He then turns from mediocre conditions to a place of greater eminence and usefulness with so much ease that he and others marvel at the transformation.

There is no preparedness like the preparedness of self. There are many needs of our world, but the greatest need is for the building of spiritual reserves, obedience, love, loyalty to the best. If we prepare ourselves, our problems will solve themselves.

First Things Come First

We haven't been hearing so much talk or debate recently on the character and nature of peace terms that the United Nations should grant axis powers after the close of the present struggle. Most of these suggestions seem to have been shelved after attention was called to the fact that we have more important things to do just now.

More recently we seem to have shot off on another tangent. This is the nature and extent of reprisals we should visit on our foes, especially Germany, after this war has been won. Some argue for this, some for that. Some demand complete justice, others want justice tempered with mercy. Even President Roosevelt has been drawn into the argument, as witness this statement:

"It is not the intention of the United States government, or of the governments associated with us, to resort to mass reprisals."

May it be suggested again that our main job now is to win this war. To this end we should bend every thought and effort. Let's forget all about peace terms and the punishment of "war criminals," and concentrate on the more immediate task of a complete and final victory over the axis powers. It's wise to remember that "first things come first."

Straws In the Wind

It was early in the summer that Propaganda Minister Goebbels originally spoke to the German people of the consequences of defeat. That was the first time that word had ever been used by one of the Nazi leaders.

Now it is Hermann Goering, second only to Hitler in the Nazi scheme of things, who uses that word "defeat" and again repeats the warning to Germany.

From neutral sources in Europe come reports of an increasing number of executions in Germany of people not in sympathy with the Nazi program, or questioning its results.

From Stockholm come Swedish rumors that 3,000 German soldiers have been imprisoned for mutiny in Northern Norway. From the same source come reports of a growing number of desertions from other German regiments and divisions destined for return to the Russian battlefield.

Are these indications of a breaking morale among both German civilians and armed forces? No one knows, with the possible exception of the high Nazi leaders themselves. But there is an old saying that "straws show which way the wind bloweth."

Evelyn Eaton In Special Articles

New that Evelyn Eaton has put herself on the map with her best seller "Quietly My Captain Waits", she is ready to put the present day Maritimes on the map with pen sketches of life in her small Nova Scotian village overlooking the roaring tides of Fundy. These pen sketches will appear for the first time in the Montreal Standard, starting next week.

In the first one, Mrs. Eaton writes about the effect of the war on her neighbors, the Maritime fishermen and farmers, in the vital military zone in which they live. It is the simple story of life among ordinary Canadian people told with the touch of a master hand. It shows Evelyn Eaton at her best, writing about the people she knows and loves in her log cabin accessible only by ox-trail from the nearest town.

Besides writing the articles for The Standard, she is illustrating them with her own photographs of Maritime life. The great Maritime seascape forms the background for these pen sketches as it formed the background of "Quietly My Captain Waits" but, instead of being peopled with the grand figures of historical romance, they are peopled with human beings like you and me.

"WORN OUT" AND WORRIED

Dragging around each day, unable to do housework—cranky with the children—feeling miserable. Blaming it on "nerves" when the kidneys may be out of order. When kidneys fail the system clogs with impurities. Headaches—backache, frequently follow. Dodd's Kidney Pills help clear the system, giving nature a chance to restore health and energy. Easy to take. Safe.

Responsibilities
GO WITH RIGHTS

In no other country in the world do citizens enjoy more wholly the privileges and rights of free democracy than we do in Canada.

But the very nature of democracy that creates those rights, creates the responsibility of maintaining them.

Hundreds of thousands of young Canadians have decided that Canada is worth fighting for. We other hundreds of thousands at home MUST decide that Canada is worth WORKING for—SAVING for—LENDING for.

Lieut. Surgeon Dudley Dickie and Mrs. Dickie spent the week end at the home of Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Dickie, accompanied by Lieut. Surgeon MacLaren, of Toronto.

Mrs. Willard Buckley has returned home after spending a few weeks in Saint John. She was accompanied by her sister-in-law, Miss Rena Buckley, who returned to Saint John on Monday.

There will be a unique display at an afternoon tea to be held at the home of Mrs. G. W. Connell on Friday afternoon under the auspices of the Women's Auxiliary of Trinity Church. For some months these ladies have been making and stuffing dolls and toy animals to be distributed to bombed out children in England—these articles are "masterpieces" in themselves, and are well worth inspection.

Edward Blackford, of Tiverton, was in town yesterday.

Glenn Conrad, of Kentville, spent the week end at home.

The Annapolis Presbytery will meet in Bridgetown next Tuesday afternoon.

Robert McClaflerty, East Ferry, picked a strawberry blossom on October 24.

The Trinity Guild will hold its annual Christmas Tea and Sale on Thursday, December 3rd.

We received a cluster of roses on Monday, picked at Deep Brook that morning by Henry E. Sallis.

Mrs. Cora Powell, of Granville Ferry, formerly of Central Grove, was a recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. Merrill V. Barteaux, Mochelle. Mrs. Stewart F. Small, who has also been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Barteaux has returned to her home in Central Grove.

We understand that Keith L. Porter, station agent here, has been named to succeed W. V. Jones as station agent in Bridgetown.

Ural White, of Revere, Mass., was found dead in his seat on a bus which arrived at Saint John, N.B., from St. Stephen. He was a native of Lake Doucet, Digby County, and was en route to that village to meet his wife, a visitor in the province and accompany her back to Massachusetts. Death was due to natural causes.

Probably no scenic drive in Nova Scotia has changed so rapidly as that between this town and Annapolis Royal, in recent months, the change being due to the big development at Deep Brook—one of the largest works being undertaken in the Maritimes. We were told last week that 132 large buildings, several of them taking over a million feet of lumber, are to be built, and that the new D.A.R. freight shed and station is being built to supply the requirements of 12,000 people.

Jim Says

IT CAN BE DONE

Jim finds times hard. His standard of living has dropped. There are all these new taxes.

Now there's another Victory Loan and Jim is expected to subscribe.

"Rock bottom!" was Jim's first thought. "We're on rock bottom. Just can't find the money!"

He's thought some more since. And he's decided it can be done. Jim says he doubts if Merritt lost much time wondering if it could be done when he crossed that bridge at Dieppe.

WE ARE FORTUNATE IN DIGBY—

Digby is not one of the areas where consumers are asked to conserve electricity.

HYDRO IS NOT RATIONED HERE—

Generators of the Digby County Power Board are capable of producing more than enough energy to meet Digby County demands.

New Digby Rate Schedules

The current rate reduction provides Digby with one of the lowest rates in the Maritimes—this gives everyone the opportunity of using many more Kilowatt Hours without increasing the size of the Hydro bill. The new net rates are shown below:

DOMESTIC LIGHTING

Service Charge—Same as before.

Energy Charge—3½ cents per kw-hr. for the first 30 kw-hr. per month.

2½ cents per kw-hr. for the next 60 kw-hr. per month.

1½ cents per kw-hr. for all additional consumption.

COMMERCIAL LIGHTING

Service Charge—Same as before.

Energy Charge—3½ cents per kw-hr. for the first 100 kw-hr. per month per kilowatt of connected load.

2½ cents per kw-hr. for the next 100 kw-hr. per month per kilowatt of connected load.

1½ cents per kw-hr. for all additional consumption.

THESE KIDS ARE TELEPHONE MINDED

But please warn them not to make too many calls on party lines in wartime.

The youngsters used to call next door when it was time to start to school together. They would call the drugstore for a ten-cent package. They would work algebra over the wire.

But those were peacetime luxury habits. In wartime it can be dangerous for the telephones to be tied up needlessly. With so many people taking party lines—in order to release telephone materials which are war materials, too, for service at the fighting fronts—no body can ever know what important call might be held up because the capacity of the telephone office is temporarily overtaxed.

You—and we—want the youngsters to telephone whenever they need to. But if they'll be careful to avoid needless calls—it's one way they can help a service that helps the Army, the Navy, and the government to carry on the war. Thank you!

OBITUARY

Philip Comeau

The death of Phillip Comeau, one of Marshalltown's best known citizens, occurred at his home in that village on Saturday morning, October 17, at the age of 79 years. He was a son of the late Joseph Comeau, and spent all his life at Marshalltown. He was a lumberman and farmer. Surviving are his wife, Mary Anne, five sons, Walter J., and George E., of Somerville, Mass.; Leo and Lawrence, of Marshalltown; Eugene P., of Yarmouth; two daughters, Mrs. Robert Drew, New London, Conn., and Mrs. Wallace Abbott, Bay View. Funeral services were conducted from St. Theresa's Church, Marshalltown, with Rev. Luc Gaudet, officiating.

Rousing Adventure In New Film

From one of the least known and most romantic episodes of early American days, 20th Century-Fox brings to the screen the smashing, action-packed story of the United States Military Academy in "Ten Gentlemen From West Point," due Wednesday and Thursday at the Capitol Theatre.

Starring George Montgomery, Maureen O'Hara and John Sutton, it boasts a climax which previewers claim will make you stand up and cheer.

It took 20th Century-Fox two years to prepare "Ten Gentlemen From West Point" for the screen, and more than three months to film. The story is set in the days when the future of the Point hung precariously. On the shoulders of ten courageous cadets rested the existence of "the citadel of heroes," and it is to their everlasting credit they did not fail. They braved the storm of criticism, proved their worth in battle, and enabled America to keep its "Eagle's Nest" intact, so that in future crises America could look to West Point for leadership.

Preview critics awarded the stars lavish praise for their expert performances. George Montgomery has come a long way since his early "western" roles, and a brilliant future is forecast for him. Maureen O'Hara is even more lovely than she was in "To The Shores Of Tripoli," while John Sutton improves his position in the Hollywood stellar system.

Topping the featured cast is that talented young actor Laird Cregar in the important role of Commandant of the Academy. Also included are John Shepperd, Victor Francis, Harry Davenport, Ward Bond, Douglas Dumbrille and Ralph Byrd as well as a supporting cast of thousands in the film which was produced by William Perlberg and directed by Henry Hathaway from a screen play by Richard Maibaum.

Hitler and Hirohito have Great Plans for Canada

Yes, all Canada's great resources... her minerals, her wheat fields, her forests, her factories... could be put to wonderful use by the ruthless bull-boys from Germany, by the polite little savages from Japan.

And Canada's boundless acres would provide plenty of living room... for the Germans and the Japs.

But what of the Canadians? The answer is simple when you think what happened and is still happening to the Poles, the Greeks, the Yugo-Slavs—and all the others... in terms of slow starvation, slave labor, mass executions.

Every time a hard-working Canadian man or woman buys a Victory Bond, the plans of Hitler and Hirohito receive a set-back. The more you save and lend... the more certain you help make it that our enemies shall never put their greedy claws on Canada.

MARRIAGE

Patterson - Milligan

Announcements have been received recently of the marriage at Calgary, Alberta, on October 3, of Miss Margaret (Peg) Douglass Milligan, elder daughter of Rev. and Mrs.

F. M. Milligan, of Huntsville, Ontario, to Pilot Officer B. Donald C. Patterson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Patterson, of Calgary. The bride, who has taught for the last three years in the public schools of Winnipeg, was gowned in a frock of old gold with nigger brown accessories and corsage of orange and rust pansies and talisman roses. She was attended by Mrs. Henry Patterson, a sister-in-law of the groom. After a short honeymoon at Banff, they will make their home at Calgary, where P. O. Patterson is an instructor in the R.C.A.F. Although Rev. and Mrs. Milligan have only recently taken up residence at Huntsville after living for some years at Winnipeg and Regina, Mrs. Milligan returned west for her daughter's wedding. Out of town guests were Mrs. Douglas B. Jones and two children, of Edmonton. Mr. and Mrs. Milligan's younger daughter, Elspeth, was married two years ago, at Winnipeg, to Sandy Patterson, another son of the same family, and is now overseas and she is dietitian at Camp Borden.

Women's Institute Elects Officers

The first meeting of the Bear River Women's Institute for the 1942-43 season, was held in the Masonic rooms on October 13, with the vice-president, Miss Pearl Campbell, in the chair.

The treasurer's report showed a balance on hand of $24.06.

The meeting decided to fill two ditty bags and Mrs. L. V.

Harris and Mrs. Jefferson were appointed a committee of two to do the work.

Several of the standing committees, such as the "Sick and Visiting," "War Memorial," "Education and Better Schools," failed to report. Mrs. H. E. Harris reported the flowers had been placed around the memorial early in the summer, and in order to save expense the plants have been taken up and will be kept for the next season.

Mrs. H. E. Harris convenor of the Publicity Committee, gave a fully detailed report of its activities during the year, and the Hospital Committee, through Mrs. Campbell, reported that repairs had been made on some of the furniture in the hospital room and that the room was now in good condition.

The election of officers resulted as follows:

Honorary President—Mrs. L. J. Lovett.

"Now WE hold a Mortgage on Canada Ma!"

"Sure we're working harder than ever—but that never hurt anybody. We're working longer hours and putting our money away in Victory Bonds. Now we'll be paid interest instead of paying it."

"When peace comes we'll have money saved to buy new equipment for our farm—might even put up a new barn—maybe take a holiday!"

"Meanwhile, we can't think of any safer or better place to invest our money than in bonds backed by our country. And we can't think of any better purpose than helping our fighting boys get the jump on the enemy. When we read about our lads bombing Germany, we can think that maybe we raised one of those bombs on our own farm."

"So that's our plan from now until peace comes. We will work to save and lend. We'll have it to spend later. And we can look forward to getting that new tractor and that fine new automobile we're saving for now."

"We'll be laying up for ourselves the best of all investments—VICTORY BONDS—backed by all the resources of the Dominion of Canada: they yield a fair rate of interest; we can borrow against them; and they are readily saleable when we need cash!"

MARRIAGES

McPhee - Snowden

White and bronze chrysanthemums were banked around the candle lighted altar of St. Stephen's Church, Alberta, on Saturday evening, October 17, for the wedding of Lois Constance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Snowden and Lawrence Borden McPhee, son of Angus McPhee and the late Mrs. McPhee, Digby. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an original model frock of pursuit blue, fashioned with soft folded V neckline, and a skirt of lace. She wore a matching hat, trimmed with pink feathers. Briarcliff roses, bouvardia and forget-me-nots made up her bouquet. Miss Grace Winter was bridesmaid. She wore a frock of ashes of roses crepe having a jobot of beige lace. Her wine colored hat was trimmed with wine and pink feathers. She carried a bouquet of Kokamo carnations. W. Jack Buckley was best man. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where Mrs. Snowden received. Mr. and Mrs. McPhee left on a short honeymoon to Banff. On their return they will reside at Edmonton, where Mr. McPhee is on the staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia. He was an employee in the Digby branch and the Moncton, N.B. branch of this bank before being transferred to western Canada.

Lewis - Titus

A wedding of interest to many friends in the Maritimes and Ontario, took place in the North End Corps of the Salvation Army, Saint John, when Captain Florence Ward Titus, Kemptville, Ontario, and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Titus, Saint John, became the bride of Capt. Harvey Hugh Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Lewis, Montreal. Major Ernest Green performed the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Herbert Titus, and was attired in Salvation Army uniform. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Miss Vera Titus was her sister's bridesmaid. She was also attired in the uniform of the Salvation Army and carried an arm bouquet of American Beauty roses. Lieut. Douglas Payne was groomsmen and little Lorraine Pelvin was flower girl. Wedding music was played by Major Irene Henderson. Miss Reta Boyd was soloist. A reception followed at which a large number of friends and relatives were present. Among the out of town guests were a number from Digby where the bride was in command of the local Salvation Army Corps for some time.

How Would

if you were fighting—grimly, desperately, to ward off a murderous attack on your home. How would you feel... if you cried out to your family for help—the very ones you were defending—and found them so selfish, so indifferent they turned away and let you fight it out alone? That would take the heart right out of you, wouldn't it? You bet it would!

Then, think of your lads overseas—they're looking to you for help... for the planes, ships and guns that will give them an advantage in their fight against your deadly and powerful enemy.

Face the truth—we're confronted with a real and terrible danger. We've all got to help—we've got to give them what they need to fight with... and we can't do it unless we deny ourselves those luxuries and conveniences that not only cost money to buy, but take labour to produce. Sure, those extras make life soft and comfortable—but they don't make it safe.

Remember, we can lose this war if we don't supply those vital war materials. Each one of us must do our share. Any price we pay for freedom is not too high.

BUY VICTORY BONDS TO THE LIMIT

Remember, you will be laying up for yourself the best of all investments—VICTORY BONDS are backed by all the resources of the Dominion of Canada; they yield a fair rate of interest; you can borrow against them; and they are readily saleable when you need the cash.

EVENINGS 7.15-9.00
MATINEE THU. 3.30

Sometimes, when we listen to news broadcasts and to radio commentators, we imagine we can see happy smiles on the faces of Hitler and his pals—should the little Gobbels be listening in, he probably feels highly satisfied with himself and his propaganda machine.

Take for instance a news broadcast that came over C B A one day recently. The announcer reviewed the bombing of Genoa—and then played up a visit of the King of Italy to that city as an indication of weakening morale in Italy.

Frankly, we wonder why such an attitude should be accepted. Are we to believe English morale is at low ebb when our own King visited a blitzed city? Hardly!

We believe Hitler and the boys of the axis are highly pleased when they can put across in some subtle way any news dispatch that will go out to the peoples of the United Nations suggesting internal collapse in Germany, Italy or Japan. They want us to believe such stories. It is their theory that as long as we believe those yarns we will not put forth our best efforts. It is not only since the beginning of the war that this sort of propaganda has been dished out to us. Before the war we were led to believe the peoples of Nazi Germany and Fascist Italy were ready for a revolt against their leaders whenever the opportunity was ripe. So convinced were we of this, that in the early stages of the war, English planes swarmed over Germany dropping leaflets—not bombs—as an invitation to the German people to rebellion.

The same kind of propaganda led us to believe the morale of the Russians was at a low ebb—we were practically assured (when Russia's attitude was in doubt) that should it come to a "show down" the Russian soldiers were no good as fighting men. We now thank God for their heroism.

It will be far better for our cause if we take all signs of internal troubles in Axis countries with plenty of salt, and instead of heralding breakdown, accept an attitude that their morale is fully as good as our own. If we take this attitude, we at least won't be fooling ourselves.

Presbytery Meets In Bridgetown

The Annapolis Presbytery of the United Church of Canada met at Bridgetown on Tuesday afternoon at the Gordon United Church. Every church in the Presbytery was represented and the session was an interesting one. The report of the presbytery committee on the "liquidation of the church deficit" showed that the churches had done well in their collections, in spite of the fact that there were so many calls for money now. The Annapolis circuit tops the list. With an allocation of $243 they raised only $6 short of double what was expected of them. Berwick also went over the top and Kingston reached its allocation. The other churches are a little behind but they are all expected to make the grade.

Another discussion took place on a proposal to amalgamate The United Churchman, the Maritime United Church paper, with The United Church Observer, the official year of the church in Canada, but the presbytery decided to recommend that The United Churchman be continued.

Reports showed that the home mission churches were in good condition and no increases in grants have been requested.

Major Victor Turnbull spent last week at his home.

GRAND OLD LADY PASSES

The death of "Aunt Ruey", Mrs. Albert Marshall, occurred at the home of her son, Hantford Marshall, South Range, on Friday, October 30, at the age of 99 years. She was born at Riverdale, Digby County, June 6, 1843, and as a young woman married John W. Swift, and moved to Centreville in this county, where she resided until his death. Three children were born of this union, of whom Mrs. Ellie Zeigler, now residing in the United States, survives. (The eldest daughter, Mrs. C. Cassidy, 81, of Lawrence, Mass., was buried on the day of her mother's death.) Following the death of her first husband she returned to her old home at Riverdale, where she resided until she married Albert Marshall, of South Range, ten years later. That was 68 years ago. She lived continuously at South Range since her second marriage. Three sons and a daughter, all of whom survive, were born of this second union. They are: Burpee, in Massachusetts; Jesse, of Conway; Hantford, of South Range, and Mrs. William Cossaboom, of Halifax. The late Mrs. Marshall was a devoted mother. A lifelong member of the Disciple Church, and up until the time of her death took a keen interest in the affairs of the Church and the Kingdom. Funeral service, conducted from the Disciple Church, South Range, was largely attended. The service was conducted by Rev. J. W. Derby, pastor of the Disciple Church, Westport, who spoke fittingly and in high tribute of the deceased. In addition to the children named as survivors, a sister, Mrs. Ceretha Marshall, Windsor, also survives.

ACADEMY ACTIVITIES

The High School Red Cross girls are busily writing "news letters" to the former students and teachers of Digby Academy, who are now serving with the Armed Forces, and also making joke books for wounded Service Men.

The Stamp and Bond Sale for the week of October 24-30, amounted to $45.; for the month of October $470.25.

On the evening of October 30, a Hallowe'en Dance was held by the High School. Cash received amounted to $115.85. Expenditures, $19.45; net proceeds, $96.40. The proceeds from this dance are for war benefits. The Boys' and Girls' Clubs wish to thank all who helped make the dance a success.

The Cadet boys are planning to have a tag day in December so they may receive sufficient funds with which uniforms will be bought. A rifle range and cadet room are being built in the attic of the school. The boys are doing this work under the supervision of Mr. Stonehouse and Mr. Eaton.

Miss Binnie, Supervisor of Household Science for Nova Scotia, was a visitor at the Academy Tuesday.

Golden Wedding Celebrated

The Courier extends congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. William Durland, who, on Tuesday, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their wedding.

Three Major Generals Meet

Canadian forces in Newfoundland and Major-General F. F. Worthington, M.C., M.M., Officer Commanding a Canadian Division now overseas.

Teachers' Institute Meets in Weymouth

A joint institute of the teachers of the Districts of Clare and Digby was held in the Weymouth School on Oct. 30, with both inspectors taking turns in the chair.

A welcome was given by Mr. Barker, followed by an interesting talk on War Work by Victor Cardoza, of Digby. Miss Browne outlined the aim of the Junior Red Cross in trying to better health. Lieut. Arund Bogert, of the Dutch Navy, narrated some of his experiences in this war. He has been torpedoed three times and lost everything.

Miss Ruth Binnie, from the Department of Education, gave splendid ideas how to promote better health by means of better nutrition.

Other teachers who took part were, Miss Margaret LeBlanc, of the Mavillette school, who discussed the arranging of efficient timetables. The Misses Winter and MacRae, of the Digby Academy staff, demonstrated art as they taught it in their schools.

A teachers' union meeting was held under the direction of Mr. Finigan, General Secretary of the Union. He outlined the good the union had done and its present aims.

Council meetings of the Home and School Association were held for the different districts.

The relationship of the Home and School was discussed by Miss Dora Baker, of Truro. Mr. DeWolfe and Miss Baker gave a review of the Canadian Federation of teachers.

Dinners were served to a large number of teachers in the private homes. A vote of thanks on behalf of the teachers was sponsored by the inspectors for the use of the school building and to the ladies who served dinners.

Blanchard Thurber has returned home to Freeport from his annual trip to the British Columbia coast. He goes out there every spring and for several months engages in halibut, fishing out of Prince Rupert.

Pte. Clyde Stark spent the week end with his wife.

Search For Man Enters Third Week

In spite of the extensive and efficient search that has been conducted since Charles Frude, 76, of Conway, disappeared, no trace of him has been found as the hunt enters its third week.

Hundreds of men have taken part, and virtually every inch possible, of the heavily wooded area near Syda's Lake, the Shelburne Road and Base Line Road have been covered.

The largest searching party to date spent the day in the woods on Sunday. This body included men from Digby, Bear River and many other nearby villages, but in spite of their efforts not a clue has been found.

A reward of $100 has been posted, the reward payable to anyone who finds the missing man.

Local opinion is that he met with a hunting accident, or was stricken with a sudden illness. No hope is held that he will be found alive.

Oddfellows Hold District Meetings

Two district meetings of Oddfellows were held last week, in both of which the local St. George Lodge was interested. The first was on Wednesday evening, with Valley Lodge, of Lawrencetown, at which the Grand Secretary, E. H. Munro, of Windsor, and Past Grand Representative, O. A. Eignor, Lawrencetown, were present. The attendance was good and much interest in the work of the order was manifested. On Thursday evening both of the above named officers went to Freeport to attend the meeting which was made up of representatives from Tiverton, Westport and Freeport. In the lodges in this district deep interest has been shown in ways and means of supplying hospitalization of members of the Order and also in the educational program. A lively discussion took place and questions were fired at the Grand Secretary, who spoke at length on both subjects. Splendid addresses were delivered by the visiting officers, as well as by W. F. Cossaboom, of Tiverton; E. B. Pugh and Rev. J. W. Derby, of Westport, and several others.

Council To Assist Hostel Project

The Digby Town Council at its regular session voted the sum of $25 to be paid monthly for the next two months, to the Digby Board of Trade. The money is to assist the Board in setting up a recreation room and hostel in the old Waverly Hotel.

Should the project prove successful at the end of two months the council will consider the advisability of making further monthly grants of $25 per month until May 1st.

It was also decided at this meeting to proclaim Wednesday, November 11, (Remembrance Day) as a public holiday in the town of Digby. The Mayor's proclamation to that effect appears in this issue of the Courier.

OBITUARY

Nellie G. R. Haley

The death occurred at Seattle, Washington, on October 15th, of Mrs. Nellie G. R. Haley, widow of the late Captain George G. Haley, of Westport, who died in Callao, Peru, in 1913. She was a daughter of the late William Denton, Westport, and is survived by a sister, Mrs. Estelle B. Lent, of Freeport, and a half-sister, Mrs. Carrie J. Hains, of Yarmouth.

Mrs. Isabel L. Robinson

Mrs. Isabel Lewis Robinson, 74, wife of Frank Robinson, a native of Nova Scotia and sister of Mrs. Jessie Ellis, of Digby, died in Lynn, Mass., on Friday, October 20. She had lived there for 50 years. She was a gold star mother, having lost a son, Aubrey E. Robinson in the First Great War. A square in Lynn is named for her son. Mrs. Robinson was a past president of the Ladies Auxiliary of Post Number 291, American Legion and was an active member of Lynn Circle, C. of T. of A. Besides her husband and sister, she leaves four daughters, three sons and a brother.

Miss Ada V. Rice

The death of Miss Ada Vroom Rice, 83, occurred Monday morning, at the home of Mrs. James R. Dittmars, Deep Brook, where she had moved two weeks ago, expecting to spend the winter months amid cheerful surroundings and gracious care of relatives. She was a daughter of the late Edward and Margaret (Bogart) Rice, and was born in Bear River. Many years of her life were spent in the United States, after which she came to Deep Brook to care for her mother, and later her brother, and has resided here for the past 35 years with the surviving members of her family. Service was held from her late home, on Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. A. W. L. Smith, rector of St. Clement's parish, with burial in Mt. Hope Cemetery, Bear River.

COUNTY GOES 'OVER THE TOP'

Digby County's objective of $275,000 was passed yesterday morning. The total amount was $293,150 or 107 per cent. The figure is expected to top $300,000 before the campaign comes to a close.

A dispatch to the Courier yesterday afternoon stated the 3rd Victory Loan had then reached a total of $715,205.-800 of the minimum $750,000.-000.

Quiet Hallowe'en

It was a quiet Hallowe'en in Digby, in fact, so quiet that not enough happened to make a news story worthwhile.

Hallowe'en, 1942, was certainly not like the "old days", in those times we could usually dig up half a column of news on November 1st. Of course there were the usual number out in costume; children with their Jack-O-Lanterns and so on—as well as a few minor pranks.

Yes, Hallowe'en was quiet—maybe it was all for the best!

Tag Day Swells Fund

The tag day, held in the interest of the Hospital Infantile Paralysis Fund, on Saturday last, swelled the proceeds of the fund by $146.41. In addition we have received another $61.90 from collectors working in the Bear River area; $10 from Miss May Letteney, and $5 from Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Nichols, Somerville, Mass. The total to date now stands at $594.91.

Last week we acknowledged the sum of $2 from Daniel Ford—we were in error in giving the name, the donor was Daniel Forbes, not Ford.

MARRIAGE

Crocker - Sproule

The marriage of Miss Ellen Harriett Sproule, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Sproule, of Delap's Cove, to Horace Vaughn Crocker, son of Mr. and Mrs. LaMert Crocker, of Harmony, Kings Co., took place in the Baptist parsonage at Deep Brook, October 23, Rev. T. F. MacWilliam officiating. The ceremony was witnessed by the bride's father and mother and a few other members of the family and friends of the young couple. The bride was a former principal of the Deep Brook school and the groom is in business at Middleton. The bride looked charming in a travelling suit of blue with hat to match. After a motor trip around the province, Mr. and Mrs. Crocker will make their home in Middleton.

Joggin Bridge

Flight Sgt. H. L. and Mrs. Woodman spent a few days recently with his parents, Councillor and Mrs. Woodman.

Hallet Banks spent a few days last week in Virginia, hunting. He was successful in getting a deer.

E. Weyhe, who has been spending the summer here left last week for his home in New York.

About This and That

Give Us the Man Who Knows

The man most needed is the man who knows, who is able to convince others that he knows because he has first satisfied himself that he has mastered the problem with which he is concerned.

The man who knows may be a theorist or a practical man, may be a dreamer or a man of affairs, may be an artist or an artisan, may have a vision or may work out the visions of others. In any event, he knows, and none needs to question him very long, if at all. His knowledge is manifested in his deeds. His words, his acts, his attitude, his tendencies, his every move, all assure others that here is one who is on the right track.

He may be known as a specialist, one who has made careful study in a certain field, and has concentrated his thought on mastery in that particular field. He excels because he regards it as of greatest importance to be able to do one thing.

Men trust the specialist, study him, follow him, engage his services. His high degree of excellence has been bought with the price of hard work. He knows, and in his knowledge lies his excellence, plus the fact that he has confidence in himself.

To meet the world with an apology, with a feeble defense, with only half-hearted confidence in self is to invite despair and defeat, for the world will never place a higher premium on your output than you yourself place in it. An Arabian proverb puts it this way:

"Men are four: He who knows, and knows he knows—
"He is wise—follow him.
"He who knows, and knows not he knows—
"He is asleep—wake him:
"He who knows not, and knows not he knows not—
"He is a fool—shun him.
"He who knows not, and knows he knows not—
"He is a child—teach him."

Blood on His Hands

Write high on the list of those to be punished after the present war is ended the name of Pierre Laval, the arch-traitor of France. Harking to the voice of his German master in Berlin, this spineless tool of Hitler has shown his utter disregard for his countrymen by turning loose the guns of his henchmen on Frenchmen who refused to go to Germany as slave laborers.

The streets of more than one city in France have run with the blood of scores of workmen who have been killed and hundreds of others who have been wounded, by guards of the Vichy government, at the direction of the ever-present German gestapo.

The time was bound to come when Laval would have to steep his hands in the blood of his fellow-countrymen to carry out the Hitler decree that French workers become nazi industrial slaves. The first demand from Berlin was for 150,000 such workers. More will undoubtedly be asked for.

But Frenchmen never have and never will be slaves. So we may expect more bloodshed later. Laval will hang on to power over the bodies of his countrymen, if necessary. Yet this is the man, his is the government, with which Canada continues to remain "on diplomatic terms." Why? We have never been given a satisfactory answer by Ottawa. The blood of those fallen Frenchmen constitutes a shameful blot on such a foreign policy.

Where the Conquerors Fail

Adolf Hitler, in one of his latest fulminations, raged and ranted because his enemies, whom he called "military idiots," did not know when they were defeated.

The nazi leader is now master of the greater part of Europe. He has conquered or otherwise tied to the wheels of his chariot all governments west of Russia, and he has taken a great slice out of the soviet republic. He is constantly threatening England, and his troops are already in Asia Minor and North Africa. His conquests have been wide, but they have not included one important thing—the spirit of man, the love of freedom found in every human heart.

Mad tyrants have walked the earth before, leading armies that broke down nations and beat men and women into slavery. But tyrants conquered only material things, then they passed from the earthly scene, their victories proved mere illusions. They won every battle, but lost every war. Freedom has always won.

Alexander, Charlemagne, Genghis Khan, Napoleon—the story has always been the same. Adolf Hitler will not change it one iota. Conquerors, dictators come and go. But the indomitable spirit of man lives on forever. The feet of armies cannot trample it into the ground, tanks cannot grind it into dust, planes fail to blast the heart of it. Oppressors rule for but a day; their "slaves" are their masters forever.

Testing Times

How much do you value your Canadian citizenship and your Canadian way of living?

Some of us are answering this question by voluntarily contributing to our country's war funds, some by making sacrifices to strengthen our economic conditions, some by entering our country's fighting forces.

Yet, whatever we do, it is to the full extent of our ability—does it fully measure our loyalty to country, to the institutions that give us liberty, that make us free?

Remember, these are testing times!

My Little Son

A little flushed face at the window pane,
I nodded and smiled as I worked outside,
A little curled head gave a dimpled reply,
Our world was complete
My Little Son.

I tucked you in bed, so warm,
so sweet,
While you hugged me tight, ere you let me go
And I kissed you there, as you fell asleep
Our world was so safe
My Little Son.

The years went so soon, you grew up son,
And the lessons you learned were good and clean,
There was gayety, laughter, joy and fun,
Our world was so happy,
My Little Son.

Today—I'm alone while memory flies
To a curled little head and a dimpled smile,
Who flies far away in alien skies,
Our world is so tragic,
My Little Son.

MARRIAGES

Haines - Cooper

A quiet marriage ceremony took place at the parsonage on Elliott Row, Saint John, on Oct. 10, when Dr. E. H. Ramsay officiated, uniting in marriage Herman B. Haines, Freeport, son of Captain Ralph and the late Mrs. Haines, and Gladys Cooper, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Absalom Cooper, of Grate's Cove, Nfld. Only immediate relatives attended the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her uncle, James Clark, of Saint John. The bridesmaid was Miss Lucy Burke, of Newfoundland, the groomsmen were Capt. R. A. Haines, brother of the groom. The bride was prettily dressed in a powder blue two-piece dress, with corsage of Rapture roses. Luncheon was served in Case's Restaurant on King Square. The happy couple enjoyed a honeymoon in Nova Scotia and will reside at West Saint John.

Havey - Mader

A quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George P. Mader of Mahone Bay, on Friday evening, October 23, when their second eldest daughter, Mildred Pauline, was united in marriage to Clinton Bernard Havey, son of Dr. and Mrs. H. B. Havey, of Stewiacke. The single ring ceremony was performed by Rev. J. S. Nickerson in the presence of the bride's immediate family. Dr. and Mrs. Havey were also present. (Clinton B. Havey is a grandson of the late B. Havey, of Digby.)

OBITUARY

Clifford D. Purdy

A wife was received on Sunday, October 25, by Mrs. Reginald S. Thomas, Upper Clements, at present in Deep Brook, telling of the death in Boston City Hospital, of her nephew, Clifford Davenport Purdy. A son of Mrs. Sarah (Pitcher) and the late George D. Purdy, formerly of Upper Clements, later of Somerville, deceased spent most of his boyhood holidays at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Purdy in Upper Clements, and in later life continued to visit those familiar scenes of happy childhood whenever the opportunity presented itself. He is survived by his widow (nee Miss Mildred Chase) and one daughter, Priscilla Ann, aged 11; also one brother, Harold, who resides in Harvard, Mass.

Weight Is Unchanged

The weight of a bushel of potatoes is sixty pounds. This longest established legal weight, stands all over the country. A report received at the department indicated that potatoes in a certain section were being sold at a different weight and asked if any change in weight was being considered. The answer is "NO." The weight is 60 pounds per bushel in all provinces of Canada. Any other weight is illegal. While the weight of a bushel is unchanged there has been a change in the weight of a bag of potatoes from 90 to 75 lbs. That change was official over a year ago and applies all over Canada.

Anyone having a piano in good condition and reasonably priced, please communicate with the Secretary of the Board of Trade, Digby. The piano is wanted for the reading and recreation room to be set up in the Waverly Hotel.

Mrs. Michael McKinnon, Prince William St., celebrated her 89th birthday on Sunday November 1. During the day many friends called to wish her many happy returns of the day. Mrs. McKinnon is a very active worker of the Red Cross, doing knitting and braiding mats.

Donald Wilson, son of Mrs. Freeman Wilson, writes he is enjoying his course at Toronto University. Donald is one of 160 Canadian boys taking a course in officers' training and engineering at the University—the course is sponsored by the College and the Federal Government. All who have entered were required to enlist.

Tuesday, November 10, will be the yearly Donation Day at the Hospital. This usually is held November 11, Remembrance Day, but as this year the 11th falls on Wednesday, which is considered Red Cross afternoon, the date has been changed to Tuesday the 10th. The Ladies of the Hospital Aid will be there to receive donations of any kind. Tea will be served.

B. E. Finigan, who was appointed secretary and provincial organizer of the N.S. Teachers' Union, has taken up residence in Bridgetown, where Mrs. Finigan and family recently joined him, moving from Freeport, where Mr. Finigan was principal of the school.

Mr. Finigan was born at Freeport, where he received his present appointment at first intended making Windsor his headquarters, but later decided to live in Bridgetown. He is down for an address at an institute of Pictou Co. teachers at New Glasgow on Nov. 13th, along with Dr. D. G. Davis, principal of the Truro Normal College, Dr. E. W. Robinson, provincial inspector of high schools, and Don F. Fraser, editor of the New Glasgow Eastern Chronicle.

Fortunately no one was seriously injured, or the town of Digby might be facing a suit for damages. On Monday a hose was laid from the Baptist Church along Montague Row to the home of E. C. Webber, crossing the sidewalk in the form of a loop in front of Mr. Webber's house. The hose was not removed at night, and we know at least two who tripped over it (one taking a real "hoist") in the darkness on Monday night. The hose remained there all day Tuesday, and probably would have remained as a menace Tuesday night had not Mr. Webber and others pulled it to a safer position in the early evening.

'Dare to Do Our Duty'

In one of his great speeches, Lincoln urged his fellow-men to dare to do their duty. It is important to meet duty, and to have courage to discharge that duty, "as we understand it," said Lincoln.

Men differ from one another. Two individuals may have different opinions. What if there is a clash of conviction? That must come at times, but it should not keep people from doing their best, their full duty. At times it takes courage to do one's duty.

It is much easier to compromise, but that is the way of the coward. A compromise never satisfactorily settles a moral question. It merely means stalling for time, putting off the inevitable day of reckoning. We might dodge the issue, "pass the buck", as the common expression goes, but that also indicates lack of courage. It is the policy of shoving on to somebody else's shoulders the load we should carry.

We might take the course of indifference and say it is best to leave well enough alone. We may say we have faith, a better order will win the day for us in the end. Faith is a great virtue, but it has an obstinate way of refusing to move unless there is some driving force on our part to match the dynamics of true faith.

If we dare to do our duty, we must face things as they are. Things will never be what they ought to be until you and I are what we ought to be, and do what we ought to do. If we refuse to accept the challenge of this moral question and that one, if we refuse, hesitate, back down, our fears will grow, and each of us will become second-rate, so will our community, so will our nation.

If we proceed on the principle that right makes might, and never surrender that conviction, but dare to meet, accept, and do our full duty, victory will be ours in the long run.

The battle of life is not won through cowardice, nor compromise, nor evasion of duty. It is won when we dare to do our duty and having done that, leave the rest to Him who makes duty a privilege.

Lower Concession

The penny sale held at the school Saturday night, netted the sum of $62.

Woodcock hunters in this village have been quite successful this fall, although the number of outsiders was considerably less than in previous years. Several groups of big game hunters have been very successful, too, many of them employing guide, Augustus Comeau.

Genr. Norman Dugas, of Dartmouth, and Pte. Thomas Comeau, of Halifax, visited shores about the Maritimes. The leaves are narrow, flattened branched out, the whole plant forming a small clump, but unlike rock weed, the leaves never bear bladders, and peculiarly the gelose of Irish Moss is just a carbohydrate with little or no nutritive value, and almost tasteless—but it's going places.

"Too Much Sore Feet" on Pavements

Joe Strong, 62 year old Indian guide from Farlane, Ont., saw the construction crews building the main line through Farlane and Minaki to Winnipeg years ago and has seen thousands of trains pass through Farlane in the intervening years, but never was he persuaded to ride a train until one day in early August when he came to Winnipeg to visit his granddaughter. His impressions: "Too many people in too much hurry. Too much noise. Too hard trail. Too much sore feet." Joe is back in Farlane wearing nice soft moccasins and watching the trains go by.

Service Men's Centre Sought

A a meeting of the Young People's Group of the United Church of Canada, held at the home of Mrs. Perley Gates on Monday evening, it was decided to investigate the possibilities of opening a "Service Men's Canteen." Lack of accommodation proved a drawback, but a committee was formed, headed by Rev. R. H. H. Barker, to see what could be done about it.

The port of Weymouth, has numerous service men in, at all times, and being a small community, lacks recreation for outside people. The group decided, that if any room was available, it could be used as a reading, writing and general registration room, and from there, the men could be entertained in the homes of the village.

Church Point

Alphonse Dugas, who was employed in the valley during the apple picking season, returned to this village, where he is staying with his sister, Mrs. Edward Saulnier.

Miss Nettie Belliveau, who had been staying with her sister, Mrs. Edward Gaudet, of Weymouth, for several weeks, returned to her home here recently.

Gene Thibault went to Weymouth Thursday on business.

Among the teachers from this village who attended the Teachers' Institute which was held in Weymouth Friday, were: Miss Anne Marie Stehelin, Cecile, Edith and Felix Thibodeau.

Mrs. Hilaire Dugas, Grosses Coques, visited friends in the village last Friday.

Ben LeBlanc, of Deep Brook, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fidelis LeBlanc.

Miss Corrinne LeBlanc left for Meteghan Monday, where she will be employed.

Capt. Fidele Boudreau went to Yarmouth last Thursday on business.

Peter Blinn, of Stanley airport, paid a short visit to his mother, Mrs. Francis Blinn, and to see his grandmother, Mrs. Mary Saulnier, who is lying with Mrs. Blinn. Mrs. Saulnier is dangerously ill.

NOVA SCOTIA FARM NEWS

Farmers Make Good Response

A good number of Nova Scotia farmers have responded to the nation-wide appeal for greater sheep and wool production. More ewes have been retained this fall than usual and a number of new flocks have been started. According to F. W. Walsh, Nova Scotia's director of marketing, sheep and wool production are definitely on the increase.

The amount of wool produced in 1942 was much ahead of the 1941 yield and present indications point to a very considerable increase in the 1943 crop. Mr. Walsh, commenting favorably on the co-operation of the farmers, said they had taken a serious view of the situation and as a result of the larger number of ewes retained flocks being wintered this year should be increased by at least twenty per cent. This should mean an increase of from 100,000 to 125,000 lbs. in the 1943 wool production of the province.

The 260,000 lbs. of wool passed through the government wool stations at Truro, Antigonish, Mabou last summer graded high and brought record financial returns to the producers. With the demand for wool keeping in excess of the supply and the prospects for even more favorable prices all signs point to still better returns to the farmer who goes in for sheep raising.

In order to foster this branch of farm work, the department of agriculture has been lending its services in locating and distributing ewes for interested farmers. While a number of placements have been made this way the greater number have been obtained by farmers who have been obtaining ewes from neighboring farmers.

Has Saved Farmers $540,000

Approximately $540,000 has been saved to the farmers of Nova Scotia as a result of the government freight assistance policy from the time of its inception last fall to the end of September this year. Under this policy claims have been paid on 69,035.15 tons of grains and feed brought into the province from the west. These importations included 400,672 bushels of wheat, 798,523 bushels of oats, 484,317 bushels barley, 12,342 bushels rye, 355 tons screenings, 30,969.85 tons millfeeds. In addition there are some outstanding claims which have either not been submitted or for some reason have been held up by the treasury office. The freight on these shipments was $7.90 a ton for the central parts of Nova Scotia and $9.00 a ton to the eastern and western parts. Under the government assistance plan all this was paid with the exception of 50 cents a ton which meant an assistance of $7.40 a ton and $8.50 or an average of $7.70.

Hon. John A. MacDonald, Nova Scotia minister of agriculture, in announcing these figures stated that while the policy was being continued for this year he hoped that the farmers of the province would make every effort to increase the quantity of home grown feeds and not to place their dependence on freight assistance. Following such a policy, he said, was the only way to guard against the time when federal assistance of this nature will be dropped. More home grown feeds will be the solution of greater production once the plan of government assistance is ended.

Mink Breeders Meet Nov. 24, 25

All mink breeders of the province are invited to attend the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia mink breeders' association being held at the demonstration building, Lawrenceville, Annapolis County, November 24 and 25. The directors of the association have decided this year to have a pet show as well as an exhibition of live mink. Wm. Ritchie, Ottawa, federal grading inspector, dominion dept. of agriculture, will be judge. Entries close Wednesday, November 18. Donald White, Lawrenceville, is secretary of the association.

Expect to Breed 1,100 Cattle

Interest continues to grow in artificial insemination. It is expected the subject will be before the annual meeting of the Cumberland County farmers' association to be held at Oxford, November 12. A report from H. H. Churchill, agricultural representative in Yarmouth, where an artificial breeding unit was established last year, states that 750 cows were bred in this way in the first year of operation and that it is expected 1,100 cattle will be bred at the unit this year. "This first year," says Mr. Churchill, "has proven that the artificial breeding of cattle is far and away more effective than standard breeding methods. We are of the opinion that in the not too far distant future not only our own county and province will have adopted this method but all of Canada. Although an AA. R.O.P. preferential bull may cost five times as much as a scrub purebred when placed in an artificial breeding unit the preferential sire's get is at least a hundredfold greater. It would take ten years under natural breeding to produce results which can be obtained by artificial selective breeding in three."

Interested in Plucking Machine

The chicken plucking machine, constructed at the Nova Scotia agricultural college, particulars of which were published several months ago in this column, has gained the attention of the British Ministry of Foods. "They are interested," stated a letter to an agricultural official at Halifax, "because of the present man power difficulties." Information, as requested, has been sent overseas.

The First 8000 Have Done Well

"So well have the first 8000 Canadian girls and women done their jobs in the Royal Canadian Force (Women's Division), that many more new trades are being opened to them," says Flight Lieutenant L. T. Chapman, Commanding Officer, No. 16 Recruiting Centre, R.C.A.F., Halifax, in announcing a new campaign to publicize present and future needs.

"Just a year ago 150 Canadian girls were selected to form the first administrative unit of officers and N.C.O.s for the new Women's Division. This number has been steadily increased until now well over 8000 are proudly wearing air force blue with distinction to themselves and credit to the RCAF and the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan. Officers and airwomen are now serving in Canada, Newfoundland and England.

"Girls, also widows and married women without dependent children, with high school entrance, and between 18 and 41, who are suitable in other respects are eligible to be considered for over 40 trades most of which are open to suitable applicants for enlisting as Standard Tradeswomen for training as: Accountants, Operations Room Clerks, Postal Clerks, Transport Drivers, Equipment Assistants, Meteorologist Observers and for Administrative duties.

"Other trades requiring some experience are as follows: Clerk (Stenographer) and Clerk (Stenographer) (Medical), requiring 40 words typing and 100 words dictation per minute; Clerk (General) business college graduate, typing 25 words per minute; Cook—knowledge of and interest in cooking; Fabric workers—experienced in sewing—power-driver machines experienced preferred; Hospital Assistant—trained attendant or holder of St. John's Ambulance or Red Cross certificate; Teleprinter Operator—touch typist 30 words per minute, secret work, high integrity; Photographer—experience with cameras, filters, printing and developing; Standard General Duties—some will be engaged in domestic duties; others as time-keepers in the control towers, sparkplug testers, post office duties and work in the dry canteens etc.

"Prospective airwomen are invited to apply by mail or in person to the Women's Division, No. 16 Recruiting Centre, RCAF Broadcasting House, 10 Tobin Street, Halifax."

'One Foot In Heaven' Something New In Film Entertainment

"One Foot in Heaven," the Frederick March-Martha Scott co-starring film which goes into the Capitol Theatre on Monday has something brand new to offer in the way of screen entertainment. Based on the best-selling novel by Hartzell Spence, it tells the story of a "practical parson" and his family in the first part of the century. Spence's own family are the characters in the real-life story, and they have been brought to life delightfully by the able cast of players.

the spirit of abiding faith in the story of the man who served God nobly, with one foot in the heaven and the other very solidly on the ground. His was no Sunday job, but an all-week job of solving the problems, easing the sorrows, sharing the joys of his congregation. In his tasks he was ably assisted by his wife who stood by him in all times of stress and subtly engineered him into the right decision in many of his problems. To their three very human youngsters fell the task of serving as models for the children of the congregation, and the job wasn't always an easy one. Romance and drama and rich humor were integral parts of the Spence family life and they are integral parts of the motion picture.

MARRIAGE

Pearson - Yorke

A pretty wedding took place at St. Paul's Anglican Church in Westdale, Ontario, on Saturday afternoon, October 24, at 4 o'clock, by Rev. E. A. Slack, when Virginia Cecilia Yorke, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Yorke, Bear River, was united in marriage to Petty Officer John T. Pearson, R.C.N.V.R., Kirkland Lake, Ontario. The bride wore a light blue wool, fox-trimmed suit with a corsage of pink Talisman roses. She was attended by Mrs. George McInnis, of Kirkland Lake, and the groom was supported by John Doyle, brother-in-law of the groom. After the ceremony a wedding supper was served at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John T. Pearson, sr., 35 Dow Avenue, Hamilton. They received a number of useful and lovely presents. Petty Officer and Mrs. Pearson spent their honeymoon at Niagara Falls, also visited a short time in Montreal and Toronto. On returning trip they spent a few days as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Yorke, Bear River. The happy couple will take up residence for the present in Halifax.

The Safest Way to Invest Your Money

VICTORY BONDS REPAY ... Every Dollar You Invest!

When you buy Victory Bonds you are laying up for yourself the best of all investments, for back of each one is your country's solemn promise that every dollar you invest in Victory Bonds will be repaid to you in full, plus a fair rate of interest. You can borrow against them, and they are readily saleable when you need the cash. And that solemn promise of repayment in full is backed by all the vast resources of the Dominion of Canada.

When the war is over, you will want to buy all the things we must deny ourselves now. Then, your Victory Bonds will give you the money to buy all these—and your purchases will provide new employment for our boys when they come home again.

What's your share of the savings job? Well, the average Canadian would have to lend to Canada to meet Canada's need $1 in every $5 of income left after taxes and compulsory savings have been collected. But the average may not fit your case. Your own circumstances are distinctly your own. You may be able to do better both out of your current income and out of your accumulated savings in the bank—or you may not be able to reach the average. Your share of voluntary savings is every dollar you can possibly spare.

HOW TO BUY

Give your order to the Victory Loan salesman who calls on you. Or place it in the hands of any branch of any bank, or give it to any trust company. Or send it to your local Victory Loan Headquarters. Or you can authorize your employer to start a regular payroll savings plan for you. Bonds may be bought in denominations of $50, $100, $500, $1,000 and larger. Salesman, bank, trust company or your local Victory Loan Headquarters will be glad to give you every assistance in making out your order form.

Prisoner's Letter

The following letter from an Australian airman, who was for some time stationed at Kingston, was received by a friend at Aylesford who has been visiting friends near Digby, who thought we would like to publish it. In reproducing this letter we have omitted several paragraphs that were of a more or less personal matter. Sgt. Latten is a prisoner of war in Vichy Algeria.

Dear D—: I was delighted to receive your letter (dated April 12) yesterday. I had given you up really. I wrote to you on the 8th of November last year. Either my address was incorrect or it was lost en-route. Still! thanks a million for writing. I am lonely and only get a few, very few letters. I have lost all my addresses. You see I was operating from Malta and got shot down by an Italian fighter while attacking Tripoli. It was in the beginning of our second offensive in Libya. In case you never heard, I'll tell you. I don't want to bore you, but I haven't any other news.

We hit the water and just managed to get the dingy out. I was the only one of the three who could swim. Anyhow, we were turned over in the rough sea, and over and over again. We lost all our food and water, signals, marine, etc. We just drifted for six days, and we were thirsty. I never knew that one could go for such a long spell without food or water. Water, or lack of it, was the worst.

Well, we drifted ashore on the Island of Djinba and finally were taken to Tunis and then to Aumale. Then after a week or so we (the whole camp of 65) were shifted to Loghouat here. This place is on the very edge of the Sahara Desert and it is cold in winter. I felt this last winter more than I did the one previously in Canada at 49 below. Still this summer is making up for it. I am just sitting here oozing perspiration (actually sweat.) It is just running down my sides and dripping on my shorts.

The reason I felt the winter so much was because I didn't have any clothes. Luckily one doesn't need any clothes in summer. I just go around in shorts. I am as brown as a berry and my bare feet are as hard as nails. I have great thick slices of skin on my heels.

Be sure please, if you write, to give my address to anyone I know. I haven't an address over here. I lost everything in Malta. You see we only fly in shorts and shirt.

Gee, the days are long! At daylight before the sun rises, the flies wake you up. This is about 5 a.m. You have to get up because of the flies. At about six you receive a cup of coffee, and at 7.30 roll call ("Appel" is called). Then about 11.30 a.m. we have the first meal, and at 5.30 the last, second and only other meal of the day, and Appel at 5.30 p.m. also. We have two meals "a la Francois". They don't eat breakfast apparently. I have got used to it, but last week some Red Cross parcels arrived and "oh boy"—I found I could eat a breakfast after all.

Last winter was grim. When you are cold it makes things worse.

I would deeply appreciate a parcel from you. Unfortunately your parcel will not reach me until winter—and Aussie is so far away. Still I would love to receive anything you can send—soap, tooth singlets, pullovers, trousers, gloves, in fact any mortal thing you can think of is unobtainable here. The only food you can send is very small candies. Please don't misunderstand me. Any of these articles would be appreciated. Toilet articles are the most in demand—soap, towel, brushes, paste and a handkerchief. These five or six articles would be a God-send from you.

—Sgt. Latten, C.A. 404281, British Interned Airman, Loghouat, Algeria. 26-6-42.

Await Yule Season Men in Army, Navy

For men in the army and navy, the Christmas holidays are gala days. Army furlough privileges permit many men to visit their homes while active field training is suspended. Railroads last year cut their rates drastically for the men in uniforms, and it is expected the same will hold true this Christmas season.

For those who remain in the camps special Christmas dinners, religious services and holiday festivities will be arranged. The same arrangement will be made for men in the fleet, few of whom will be able to spend the holidays at home.

The army has also arranged to include relatives and friends of the men in camp in as many activities as possible.

Household Linen Care Important

With incomes reduced by taxation and supplies less plentiful than formerly it becomes doubly important to take good care of household linen.

Linen nowadays frequently means "cotton" because there is a scarcity of linen on the market and few people are now able to purchase linen sheets and pillow slips, linen table cloths and napkins. However, whether or not the house is equipped with linen or with cotton these fabrics must be made to last as long as possible.

Experts point out that the life of linens can be extended through careful laundering so with less money to spend on replacement now is the time to follow the best laundering advice.

Laboratory tests show that linens stand up best under home washing if proper care is observed, but experts point out that the greatest damage in modern laundering is due to misuse of bleaches. Often directions accompanying bleaches call for the use of more than is really safe for fabrics.

Clothes should be ironed within a few hours after dampening. Mildew and rust are bugbears of the home laundress and mildew is caused by prolonged dampness or by putting away linens in warm weather before they are thoroughly dry after ironing. Rust is caused by contact with metal vessels or clothes lines from which the outer finish is worn or broken. Metal tubs and boilers, enamel containers and wire clothes lines should be carefully inspected. The safest way to remove rust is by application of a two per cent solution of oxalic acid, after which rinsing is necessary. Since oxalic acid is a violent poison, it must be guarded in the household and kept out of the medicine cabinet.

Saving Suggestions Needed

Why not have a new kind of party? Card parties and sewing bees used to be popular, why not make it an "idea" bee this time?

This was the suggestion put forward by an official of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board at a meeting in Ottawa which was attended by members of the Board's Women's Regional Advisory Committees.

Ideas concerning economy measures—ways to save materials, money and labor for the war effort—are needed in Ottawa. Anyone with a suggestion to make is being asked to write it down and address his letter to "Suggestions", Industrial Division, Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Birks Building, Ottawa.

It may not be possible to use every suggestion that is sent in, but all will be studied and sometimes one idea which cannot be worked out, leads to another which can be, say the officials concerned.

Liner's Commander Awarded O. B. E.

Captain John Bisset Smith, master of the Canadian Pacific liner, Empress of Asia, before the war and her commander when she was bombed and lost at Singapore last February, has been made an Officer of the Order of the British Empire, according to word received from London. He is now overseas to take command of another liner. It is assumed that Captain Smith was honored in recognition of his exploit at Singapore, when, although it was impossible to save the Asia, he manoeuvred the ship so successfully under bombing that with one exception, all crew members but one were saved. Captain Smith had made his home in Vancouver until the Empress of Asia was taken over by the Admiralty at the outbreak of war.

Broke Rationing Rules, Is Fined

When John Raymond appeared before a grocer here with the proposal that he sell him tea and coffee on coupons not yet due, the grocer refused to have anything to do with the matter.

When Wartime Prices and Trade Board investigators appeared before Raymond with a request to see his ration book they found the coupons in question missing.

When Raymond appeared before Magistrate G. H. Peters he paid fines totalling $25.

The only other appearance was that of E. J. Theriault. He appeared in the court for the Prices Board to argue that when Raymond had met his first refusal he had gone elsewhere with better success. There were thus two charges: one, attempting to buy tea and coffee from a merchant on coupons not due at the time, and two, so purchasing. He was fined $10 on the first count and $15 on the second.

Popular Couple "Showered"

A shower was tendered Mr. and Mrs. Russell Brooks on Monday evening, November 2, at their home in Smith's Cove. After the arrival of about sixty guests, Miss Frances Austin presented the young couple with a well laden gift table on behalf of their many friends.

The room was fittingly decorated for the occasion with pink and blue paper draperies. A brief reply was given by both Mr. and Mrs. Brooks, expressing their deep appreciation. The evening was spent in playing games, after which refreshments were served by the young ladies.

Italian Generals Held In British Prison

Fifty-eight Italian generals, prisoners of the British, are held in a camp somewhere in India, it is announced in London. They have liberal allowances and are given special treatment, including frequent paroles, by the British.

One of the prisoners is Gen. Berganzoli, who earlier in the war was captured when he attempted unsuccessfully to resist British invasion of the Italian province of Libya in North Africa.

In addition to the generals, there are 1,500 other officers and more than 10,000 soldiers in British custody in India.

DIGBY OBSERVES ARMISTICE DAY

Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thomas, formerly of Barton, in this county, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home in Lynn, Mass., on Oct. 25th, with a hundred relatives and friends present.

They were assisted in receiving by their children, who are: Franklin Thomas, of Kingston, N. H.; Mrs. Vernon Evans, of Saugus, Mass.; Mrs. Raymond Coombs, of Lynn, Mass.; and Russell Thomas, who recently entered the United States army.

They were well remembered with gifts of money and many beautiful bouquets of flowers.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas are in the best of health and since his retirement two years ago Mr. Thomas spends much of his time at his farm in Kingston, N. H.

Mrs. Thomas is active in the work of the First Baptist Church, of Lynn, and is also Past Noble Lady of Evergreen Lodge of Odd Ladies.

Couple Celebrates 50th Anniversary

The golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Burpee A. Mahar, White's Corner, Kings county, was observed on October 26, when receptions were held at their home and at the home of their son, Elmer Mahar, at Grafton. In the afternoon they received many callers at Elmer's home where friends extended congratulations and many gifts were presented, including a wedding cake suitably decorated. Receiving with her parents was their eldest daughter, Alice (Mrs. Gidney), of Mink Cove, and her husband, a recently married couple.

ACADEMY ACTIVITIES

In connection with the High School Red Cross, a news letter has been written by Harriet MacKay and Joyce Collins. It is to be typed and mimeographed and a copy sent to each one of the former students of Digby Academy, now serving with the Armed Forces Overseas, also special Christmas cards are to be sent to them.

The stamp sale for the week of October 30—November 6th, amounted to $47.50. The total from stamps and bonds sold between October 2 and November 6th, amounted to $512.75.

This is Education week and it is hoped that parents will take the opportunity of visiting the school. They can use their radios to follow the educational broadcasts.

The girls are now practising basketball on Tuesdays and Thursdays after school.

A Basketball League is to be drawn up soon.

The Girl Guides and Boy Scouts paraded to the Monument on Remembrance Day.

V.O.N. Supervisor Makes Official Visit

A special meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses was held Thursday last in order that the committee might have the opportunity of meeting Miss Electa McLennan, supervisor, who officially visited the Digby branch, during the week.

Miss McLennan in her talk called attention to the increase in the work of the Digby Branch—this year's cases being nearly double those of last year. In addition, a whole month's extra work had been crowded into the year.

She complimented Miss Myers, local nurse, on her splendid work and expressed the hope she would see fit to continue serving the community for some time.

A letter from one of the town's citizens was read at this meeting. The letter highly praised Miss Myers and the work of the Victorian Order in general.

Miss Myers also drew attention to the effect the war is having on the work of the V.O.N., telling of changes that have had to be made in some districts; the shortage of nurses, etc., and explaining how the situation is being coped with at the Central Office.

Reports for the month of October was submitted. The total number of visits was 191, of which 109 were nursing visits. Twenty-seven hours were spent in school and 230 pupils given special inspection and steps taken to have defects corrected.

School aged children visited in their homes numbered 22; pre-school age, 23 and infants 15. At the five well baby clinics 59 were present.

Two meetings of the St. John's Ambulance Brigade were held; Miss Ruth Campbell giving a talk on Nutrition on the 19th.

The following donations were acknowledged: Linen, Miss Edith Hughes, Miss Kate Tobin, Mrs. R. B. Lent and Mrs. Scott, Clothing, Mrs. Forrest, Mrs. Glen Conrad and Mrs. Turnbull.

On entering the court house many of the committee were attracted by the "Nurse In—Nurse Out" sign made by Delbert Forrest.

P.O. Reginald Woof Believed Dead

Mrs. James Woof, Conway, has received word from England stating that the International Red Cross, quoting German Information, advised the body of her son, Pilot Officer Reginald Woof, and two occupants of his aircraft had been found on the shore on August 1, 8 and 10 respectively. The advice did not state where recovery was made, or contain any information with regard to burial, and continues "although there is little reason to doubt the accuracy of the report it will be necessary to record the casualty missing, believed dead" until confirmed by further evidence, or, in absence of such evidence, it becomes necessary owing to lapse of time, to presume death has occurred. Action to that effect, however, will not be taken until six months from the date your son was first reported missing."

Hitler Tears Up Armistice With France As First Great War Armistice Celebrations Are Underway

As Digby made ready to observe the anniversary of the Armistice of the first Great War, news was received that Hitler had crossed the border into Unoccupied France, thus ending the Armistice between our former Ally and Germany. Reports have also been received of clashes between Italian and French troops.

Attendance at yesterday's Armistice Day Service at the monument was one of the largest in years. As usual, the service which began a few minutes before 11 o'clock, was highly impressive.

Comrade Gerald Syda, president of the Digby Branch of the Canadian Legion, B.E. S.L., opened the service with a few remarks in which he reminded the people they had again gathered together to pay homage to their boys who gave their lives in the first Great War of 1914-18. Following his remarks, wreaths were placed at the base of the monument by Comrade Geo. Parker in behalf of the Legion and by Deputy Mayor Victor Cardoza in behalf of the Town Council.

Taps was then sounded and the two minutes of silence reverently observed. The monument flag was lowered and banners of the Legion, the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, dipped.

Following the two minutes silence "Nearer My God To Thee" was played by the Reserve Army Band, under direction of David Daley. Prayer was then offered by Rev. T. W. Hodgson, minister of Grace United Church. Then Rev. Leveille and the hoisting of the flag. "Onward Christian Soldiers" was rendered by the band.

The sermon was delivered by the Rev. F. B. Gaskill, rector to Trinity Church. He opened his remarks with words:

"Once more we are gathered together to pay tribute to our nations' gallant dead. Think of these men not as soldiers in the sense of a column on parade, but as fighters in whose veins flowed the blood of pioneers."

He continued, "We think of them today as we gather to honor their memory, and wonder if we have been true to the cause for which they died." The speaker asked, "Did we fail to catch the torch?" He concluded his address by reminding his audience that we are going through the same thing again—that we are again given the opportunity of defending the same principles for which the men of the last war died.

Taking part in yesterday's service were the local unit of the Reserve Army, who, led by the Reserve Army Band, marched from their barracks to the monument. They were joined at the monument by the members of the Digby Legion and Returned Men; the Town Council, Boy Scouts, Cubs, Girl Guides and Brownies.

District Division At Smith's Cove

The District Division of the Sons of Temperance held a regular meeting with the Home Division at Smith's Cove on Tuesday. The W. P. being absent the Chair was filled by the W.A. Sister Bragg, of Isaiah Wilson Division. The regular business was attended to. Officers were appointed and installed by P.W.P. Brother John Smith. There being no outside speaker, due to gas and rubber restrictions, shortened the entertainment part of the program. A very interesting and helpful letter was read from E. R. Nickerson, of Halifax. While most of the Divisions reported a falling off in members, yet the future looks brighter. Home Division is the Banner Division, taking in new members regularly. This good news is due to the good work of the Band of Hope. This brings the old Proverb to mind, "Bring a child up in the way he should go when young and when old he will not depart from it." If only the parents of today could have that engraved in their hearts how much sorrow and worry would be saved. The next regular meeting of District Division will be held with Telephone Division in May.

Many Fined For Infractions

A total of $462 was collected in fines in Nova Scotia over the past week for infractions of Wartime Prices and Trade Board regulations of the Oil Controller, W. H. Jost, Enforcement Counsel states. A consumer in Halifax was fined $50 and costs under the Board's hoarding regulations, the first case of its kind in Nova Scotia. A Halifax furniture dealer paid fines aggregating $230 and $27 costs on convictions on nine counts of the Board's Consumer Credit Regulations.

Four truck operators were convicted in Halifax under Section A, Order 121, of the Board which forbids the carrying of passengers in commercial vehicles under other than certain prescribed conditions. They paid fines of $15, $10, $5, and $5 respectively.

A Halifax grocer pleaded guilty to violation of the Rationing Order on two counts and was fined a total of $25. A consumer in Digby was fined $25 for attempting to use his ration coupons before due date and for subsequently being found to have so used them.

A grocer in Sydney was fined $5 each on two counts, selling old stock tobacco and charging an additional two cents for the tax. A service station in Sydney was fined $60 for dispensing gasoline to a motor car without requiring the surrender of any gasoline coupons.

Well Done Digby County

Digby County went over the top in its quota for the 3rd Victory Loan Campaign. Latest figures yesterday showed a total of $419,050 had been subscribed, or 152.38 % of the objective of $275,000 set for the county.

The amount is undoubtedly the largest that has ever been raised or subscribed for any purpose in Digby County. We have always had good reasons to be proud of the way in which past Victory Loan objectives have been met and passed—but this time, when we have gone 52.38% over our quota, we have reason to be more than proud.

Much credit for the success of the campaign goes to the canvassers who made a thorough job; to T. E. G. Lynch, county organizer and to E. J. Theriault, county chairman.

NORTH RANGE MAN FOUND DEAD

The body of Eugene White, well known resident of North Range, was found on the roadside just west of the North Range Baptist Church shortly after 8 o'clock yesterday morning by his sister-in-law, Mrs. George White, who was driving along the road in her car at the time.

White was last seen alive when he left the home of James Thibault, North Range, shortly after nine o'clock Tuesday evening. He had been spending the evening at the Thibault home.

An inquest was conducted at North Range yesterday morning with Coroner Dr. W. C. Harris, of Barton, presiding. J. Vian Andrews was jury foreman. They returned a verdict to the effect that Eugene White came to his death as the result of a heart attack. He was known to have been suffering from high blood pressure.

Only two witnesses, Mrs. George White and Mrs. James Thibault were examined at the inquest. The deceased, who was 56 years of age, was unmarried and kept bachelor's hall at North Range.

Police Investigating Service Station Break

Police are investigating a mysterious break into the Barton Service Station, operated by Lloyd Grant. The service station is located on the main highway at Barton, 10 miles from Digby, opposite the road leading to North Range.

Apparently the thief or thieves entered the building by breaking a window on the east side of the structure. The window was so located that the lights of any car coming from Digby would shine on it. The cash register and about ten packages of a popular brand of cigarettes were stolen.

The cash register, an old type machine, contained only a few coppers. When he closed the station Mr. Grant removed all the bills and silver, and left the drawer of the cash register, which contained only the few coppers, open. He had followed this practice for some years on the theory that should anyone break into the station, they would not have to smash the cash register.

However, the cash register was found, badly battered, not far from the edge of the main highway. It is now in possession of police who will have it examined for fingerprints.

There was another peculiar robbery in Digby last week when a valuable typewriter was removed from the office of Dr. L. F. Doiron during the daytime.

Christmas Seal Campaign Launched

More than 50,000 seals for the annual T. B. Christmas Seal Campaign will go out in the mails this week. This campaign, sponsored locally by the Victorian Order of Nurses in conjunction with the Nova Scotia Tuberculosis Society, have been given ever increasing support by the people of Digby each year.

The T.B. Christmas Seal Campaign is one of the most worthy campaigns that are given public support. The battle against tuberculosis is a continuous struggle—it is a battle that must be fought in peace times, and more especially during war days.

We urge you to buy all the T.B. Christmas Seals you can. Use them on all your Christmas mail.

About This and That

The Badge of Shame

Adolf Hitler has had coined a "Medal of Merit" and is distributing these to persons "active in collaboration in the reconstruction of Europe under German leadership."

One of the first to get this badge of infamy was Quisling, whose betrayal of Norway two years ago gave to the world a new synonym for infamy. Another, it is reported, is soon to go to Pierre Laval, providing the arch-traitor of France proves himself tough enough to force the French people into German slavery.

But what Adolf Hitler in his blindness cannot see is that treason so burns itself into honest men's minds that its memory never dies. Judas Iscariot, Benedict Arnold, are proof of this. Yet the crazy Austrian paperhanger continues his attempts to paint the lily of dishonor and refine the gold of shame.

From the northernmost coast of Norway to the shores of Crete, all nazi-occupied and nazi-ruled Europe seethes with rage that will not always be impotent. Some day soon that rage will break out as a devastating flame. On such a day it will be unfortunate for the wearer of one of those "Medals of Merit," and also for the black heart that beats beneath it.

This Is the Foe We Fight

In the early days of the United States Marine attack on Guadalcanal Island, in the Solomons, a Japanese officer carrying a white flag rode into a marine camp. He told the commanding officer that a group of Jap soldiers, marooned on a nearby island, wished to surrender.

The marine officer took 30 men in a tank lighter and crossed to the island. A couple Japs on the beach continued to wave white flags until the marines started to go ashore, then a murderous machine gun fire from the underbrush cut down like stalks the entire 30 Americans, except two who managed to escape by swimming away.

Another instance on the same island occurred when a Japanese officer came riding out of a jungle waving a white flag. The sergeant in charge of the American forces walked out to make the rider a prisoner. He got within five feet of him when the Jap pulled a revolver, shot him dead, and galloped back to safety into the jungles.

Nice people, those Japs.

"For The Want of A Shoe, A Horse Was Lost"

Like hundreds of thousands of other Canadians, we bought poppies on "Poppy Day." Personally, we believe there are few "tags" more proudly worn than the Canadian Legion Poppies. However, we did notice a peculiar thing about the poppies we purchased this year—the black centre of each one of them was made of rubber. In these days when our nation is facing an acute rubber shortage, and all of us have been denied the use of rubber for many articles we previously regarded as necessities, we feel the use of rubber, even for Legion Poppies, was uncalled for and wasteful. If all poppies sold in Canada were similar to ours, enough rubber was used in this way to provide tires for several tanks and armoured cars.

There is an old saying that goes like this, "for the want of a nail the shoe was lost; for the want of a shoe, the horse was lost; for the want of a horse, the rider was lost; for the want of a rider, the battle was lost."

In these days of mechanized warfare, the same applies to tires—we could lose this war "for the want of a tire."

We apologize if the poppies sold here were "old stock" left over from a few years ago. On the other hand, if the poppies were new stock, we consider the use of rubber an absolute waste. Black cardboard, or a little piece of wood painted black would have served the purpose as well.

Skim Milk, Source Of Calcium, Protein

Is skim milk as nourishing as whole milk? Nutrition Service says that skim milk is extremely valuable for its calcium, protein and riboflavin (one of the B family vitamins). It cannot be regarded as a substitute for whole milk however, as the Vitamin A is removed along with the butterfat. Where skim milk can be obtained cheaply, or is home produced, it can be used to good advantage in cooking and by those who are trying to lose weight. Buttermilk is similar in food value to skim milk, and is a delicious and refreshing drink.

Sheep furnish the gut for violin strings and horses supply the hairs used in the bows.

A Marching Song

What are we fighting for?

We who are free,
To rescue other men
From slavery.
To say to Nazi crimes
Never again!

That's what we're fighting for,
Canadian men!

What are we fighting for?

Children that cry
Looking to us for help.
They shall not die!
Shall mothers sweat and starve?

Never again!
That's what we're fighting for,
Canadian men!

What are we fighting for?

Freedom to pray,
Each man to worship God
In his own way.
Churches shut close in hate
Never again.

That's what we're fighting for,
Canadian men!

What are we fighting for?

The foe is near,
Threatening our quiet homes,
All we hold dear.
Shall Nazis boast and win?
Never again
That's what we're fighting for,
Canadian men!

What are we fighting for?

Not fear or fame,
Brothers, this fight is ours,
We'll play the game.
Red-blooded men are we,
One man as ten,
We'll win to Victory
Canadian men!

Timely Fall Suggestions

In referring to the extreme labor shortage on most farms of Nova Scotia, Mr. MacDonald stated that it is important to get all the plowing done that is possible to have completed this fall and so save valuable time next spring. Another thing we should keep in mind, he said, is that in all probability we shall not be favored with as early a spring as we were this year, and therefore the more can be accomplished along the lines of fall plowing, putting implements in condition, and planning work generally for next year, the easier it will make it for everyone next season. It is encouraging to learn from the fruit growers, Mr. MacDonald further stated, that more help has gone into the Valley that had been expected. Consequently the fruit growers are well up to date with their picking and it is hoped that the more severe frosts will hold off so as to enable the harvest to be completed without serious loss.

In conclusion Mr. MacDonald said that the Department would like to take this opportunity to express its appreciation to the merchants of the Valley towns, as well as the educational school boards and the young people for their assistance in helping meet the labor shortage situation.

Perfume Applied Direct, May Ruin Dress

There are plenty of ways to apply perfume, but don't take a chance on putting it on your costume.

According to officials of the Laundry and Dry Cleaning Laboratory, National Research Council, Ottawa, many dresses sent them for identifications of stains, are ruined from this cause.

In many materials, it is explained, the dye will be altered by the alcohol in the perfume. The spots may not show at once, but suddenly become apparent after dry cleaning and pressing, the heat and solvent having an effect on the already sensitized dye which they would not have on the original dyed fabric.

Glue Mends

Broken Furniture

Excessive heat or excessive moisture may cause glued parts of furniture to come apart. To reglue scrape off all dry glue from the parts, sandpaper, apply fresh glue and rejoin. For this purpose use animal glue especially made for furniture. When gluing parts of chair legs together, use a clamp to hold the broken parts together until dry. Allow at least 48 hours for drying. A screw may be inserted in broken parts to keep them in place. The screw hole should be drilled in to prevent splitting the wood.

Home Life

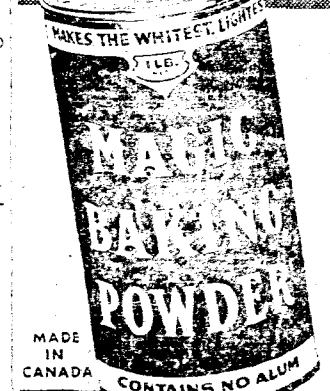

Appreciated

Because of the strictly regimented life in the Fighting Services, men and women in uniform are particularly grateful for a taste of the comfortable home life they have voluntarily surrendered,

3-PURPOSE MEDICINE Hits CATARRH Misery Fast!

When acute catarrh makes breathing difficult—causes stuffy head, watery eyes, nasal irritation and distress, put a few drops of Vicks Vapo-rinol in each nostril and enjoy the relief it brings.

Va-tro-nol is so successful because it does three very important things: (1) shrinks swollen membranes of the nose, (2) clears out discomfort-causing congestion and (3) soothes irritation. Many catarrh sufferers say it's the best relief they've found. Try it!

Airman Relates His Experiences In Egypt

THE following are extracts taken from a letter received from an English airman, Edward Harris, who visited here about a year ago and who is now in Egypt with the Middle East Forces. After commenting on the length of time it took for letters to reach him, he said that he received mail from home and friends regularly. "As you know, much has happened out here just recently and not without excitement as you can guess, and consequently I have been on the move quite a bit. I am off the sand for the first time and in an army billet where it is possible to keep clean for a change.

"There is one pest here that the desert does not possess, and that is the mosquito. We find them very troublesome in the evening and at night. Recently we were issued with a mosquito net each, which we sleep under, for this is a malaria area.

"I have certainly seen a bit of the world and have travelled many miles across the desert and had many experiences. At one time I was able to bathe in the Mediterranean. I miss that very much. I was also able to visit Palestine for a very short time and while there had the opportunity of visiting Jerusalem and Bethlehem. It was the most interesting experience I have had. The scenery on the way was also very fine. I must say that in Palestine we found things very dear indeed and no concessions were made to the forces. Grapes we could buy quite cheaply as they were very plentiful. Apart from these I saw bananas, dates, oranges and limes growing. You can imagine how we felt after coming off the desert and seeing a green countryside but, as I said, we were in Palestine for only a short time.

You will probably think that my present life isn't such a bad one. Well! there is a very black side to the picture, but there is no need to say any more about it for we know that Victory will soon be ours."

place at the same time in he Lydia's Tea Room, of Mrs. Theodore Melanson, under the presidency of Mrs. Raymond LeBlanc. Both were well attended.

D. H. McQuarrie, P.W.D., of Saint John, District Superintendent of dredges; D. F. Wilder, Lobster Inspector, St. Andrews, N. B.; Skippers D. M. Mein, D. Falconer, and A. Findlay, all of R.N.R.; F. R. Fenain, Norwegian Army officer, and Harley Deveau, of Mavillette, agent, were registered last week at the Royal Hotel, also on Sunday, Mrs. Charles T. Deveau, of Meteghan River; Mrs. Severin T. Maple Leaf Society Meets

The Maple Leaf Agricultural Society met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Theriault, Bloomfield, on Monday evening, for their regular monthly session, the president, Lloyd MacNeil, in the chair.

Among the communications read by the Secretary was a letter from Mrs. A. J. Dillon, of the Digby Red Cross, thanking the Society for the gift of $70 and enclosing the official receipt for the same, signed by Mrs. H. M. Warne. This donation being part of the proceeds of the Community Fair recently held at Hill Grove.

E. B. Weir representing one of the large Milling Companies was present and gave an interesting talk on the different mixtures and brands of feeds and flower manufactured by his Company.

Orders were placed by the members for two cars of ground limestone for immediate delivery and in all probability a third car will be ordered soon. Members who were not present at the meeting and who wish to purchase lime are requested to notify the secretary, Joseph Specht, Barton, as soon as possible. Owing to press of business the members were not able at this meeting to listen in on the regular Farm Forum Broadcast, which will be a part of our program at all future meetings. This broadcast is on each Monday evening at 9.30 A.D.T. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Porter, Hill Grove, December 7, at 8 o'clock.

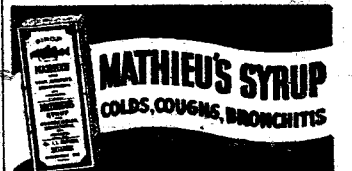

War Service Needs Heavy Locomotives

Weights of Canadian National Railways steam locomotives vary greatly. One of the heaviest engines is the 6200 class, a series recently acquired to handle increasing wartime traffic. When in working order, ready to move a heavily laden freight train, this class of locomotive weighs 677,600 pounds. By comparison, the lightest Canadian National locomotive weighs less than one-third of the new giant, or 190,550. The 6100 class, which is equipped with a booster weighing 12,000 pounds, tips the scale at 682,950 pounds, or over 341 tons, when in working order.

TWO YOUNG MEN

with faith in themselves

BEFORE the war, two young graduates in chemistry faced the future with no assets but technical training and unbounded faith in themselves. They planned to capitalize on their years in college by manufacturing a certain chemical product. "But we'll need some money to get started," they said. "Let's put it up to the bank."

Their banker decided that their faith was well founded in character, ability, energy. "We'll finance you to start in a small way," he said. "Make a test on the local market first."

Presently the product was being sold all over Canada and exported to the United States and overseas. Now it fills a wartime demand. The enterprise employs a large number of people.

This actual example illustrates how this country's Chartered Banks help credit-worthy people to benefit themselves, their fellows and their country under the democratic system of free enterprise.

Banks, like any other business, exist because they provide service which a community needs and is willing to pay for at a rate which will yield a reasonable profit. Chartered Bank profits average less than one-half of one per cent a year on total assets. Few, if any, other businesses operate on as small a margin.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

INDOORS AT NIGHT

It's easy to make pictures like this indoors at night with "open flash" photography.

CAN snapshots indoors at night be made with any camera? That question is one of those most frequently asked by people who are new to photography. And the answer, I am happy to say, is, "Yes." Of course, the camera alone won't do the trick. Generally, you've got to use brighter lighting than is found in even the best illuminated homes. And you should use an extra-fast film.

But it can be done—that's a fact—and probably the easiest and most satisfactory way is to start with flash photography. You can use flood-lighting if you wish, and get good results too, but we'll discuss that some other day.

Making a flash picture by what is called "open flash" technique requires just three simple steps.

First, set your camera on a tripod or other firm support, focus it correctly, and set the shutter or "time" or "bulb," and open the shutter.

Second, flash the bulb in a flash-holder or in a bridge lamp.

And third, close the shutter immediately.

That's not hard to remember, and you'll be surprised at the fine pictures you get. In fact, you'll be amazed at how quickly you can make a picture that way if you just practice a little at first.

As for exposure in such pictures you don't have to worry too much about that. Your camera dealer can give you an exposure guide, or an instruction sheet, when you get your flashbulbs. So get some today and start making flash pictures tonight. You'll find that it's easy to get indoor nighttime snapshots comparable to our illustration.

pal of the Digby Academy. Following his death she went to Toronto to make her home with her daughter, Miss Ruth, who is employed in social and church work in that city. Another daughter, Alice, (Mrs. George Winfield, lives in Digby.

Joseph O'Neill

The death occurred at Marshalltown, on Sunday, of Joseph Woodworth O'Neill, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert O'Neill, of Barton, after an illness of two and a half months. He was 75 years of age, and had resided at Marshalltown for 35 years. He was the last remaining member of his family. A carpenter by trade, Mr. O'Neill had many friends throughout the country, and his cheerful disposition and ever willingness to help others had endeared him to all. His first wife, Catherine Hutchinson, predeceased him sixteen years ago. He is survived by his second wife, the former Mae Dugas, and one son, Joseph. Funeral services were held from his late residence Tuesday afternoon with interment in the Baptist cemetery at Marshalltown. Rev. Mr. Munn officiating, assisted by members of the Hill Grove Baptist choir. The many beautiful floral tributes showed the high esteem in which deceased was held.

Mrs. Omer Rice

Alice, widow of Omer Rice, died at her home on First Avenue last Saturday, aged 78 years. She had been ill for several years and her death was not entirely unexpected. She leaves to mourn one daughter, Carrie, (Mrs. Frank Barr) of Digby; one sister, Mrs. Allen Adams, Bay View; six grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Funeral took place Monday afternoon, Rev. M. C. Munn, officiating.

Hostel To Open Wednesday

The Hostel established by the Digby Board of Trade in the old Waverley Hotel for transient Service Men, will open on Wednesday of next week, with the Digby Service Wives Association in charge.

Steps for establishing a hostel here have been considered for some time. Its need has been gravely felt since early this summer, and with present developments, the need will be even greater.

Hundreds of men from all branches of the armed services stop in Digby, usually to make connections between boat and trains, and although they must remain here for several hours, there has been no place for them. The establishment of a proper hostel, with writing room and reading rooms is well warranted.

Department of Labour National War Labour Board GENERAL ORDER

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics has found that the cost of living index number for October 1, 1942, is 117.8 (adjusted index 116.9) as compared with the cost of living index number for July 2, 1942, of 117.9 (adjusted index 117).

The Wartime Wages Control Order, P. C. 5963, provides in Section 48 (iv):

"the amount of the bonus shall not be changed unless the cost of living index number has changed one whole point or more since the last general order of the Board requiring an increase or decrease in the amount thereof."

The index number not having changed by one whole point or more since July 2, 1942, pursuant to the provisions of P. C. 5963 as stated, the National War Labour Board orders that the terms of its General Order dated August 4, 1942, shall continue to apply for the period November 15, 1942, to February 15, 1943, subject to the right of employers or employees to apply to a War Labour Board for authorization of payment of such an amount of cost of living bonus as a Board may determine to be "fair and reasonable," under the provisions of the Order.

Butter Holdings Are Limited

In order to distribute more evenly present stocks of butter in Canada, the foods administration has limited all holdings in storage warehouses and creameries at November 30 to 75 per cent of the amount held at the same date last year. Commencing with November and until further notice, all holders of butter carrying stocks in excess of 5,000 pounds must report their holdings to the administrator at close of each month. While present rate of consumption is above that of last year, it is believed that with co-operation on the part of consumers it will be possible to maintain an adequate supply to meet normal demands.

Cutlery Must Be Given Care

Because of the war-needed metals involved, the conservation of cutlery is very necessary today in Canada. It may not be easy to procure good kitchen and table cutlery in the near future and for this reason it is important to give present cutlery proper care and attention.

Knives should only be used for cutting food, and never for hacking at bones or cutting metal wire, paper, or string.

Never hold a knife over a flame. This spoils the steel's temper. Another thing to be avoided is the prying off of bottle or can covers. Do not use them for repair work around the house or barn, or in the garden either.

Knives should be dried thoroughly before being placed in a drawer, and never should be allowed to stand in water for any length of time. If a knife is stained apply scouring powder to it. And remember to wash the blade of the knife first when it is being cleaned.

Wood racks are a good investment because they keep the knives in order, save them from bent points and nicked edges, and are very inexpensive to buy.

A sharp edge can be put on cutlery easily and quickly with a few strokes of a Carborundum stone. A sharpening steel is the most satisfactory way to keep knife edges sharp. To use one properly, however, a little practice is needed. Hold the steel firmly in the left hand and bring the heel of the blade against the edge of steel down toward you, so that the point of the blade leaves the steel near the lower edge of the steel. Do this on one side first and then on the other side. About a dozen good strokes is usually enough. Metal disks are not recommended as they tend to wear away the edge unevenly, and may cause the blade to break.

Things Left Done Now Cannot Be Done

An English vicar, writing to his people, among other things, said the following:

We have been a pleasure loving people, dishonouring God's Day. Now the sea horses are barred. No picnicking or bathing.

We have preferred motor travel to church going. Now there is a shortage of fuel.

We have ignored the ringing of church bells calling us to worship. Now the bells cannot ring except to warn of invasion.

We have left the churches empty. Now they are in ruins.

We would not listen to the way of peace. Now we are forced to listen to the way of war.

The money we would not give to the Lord's work now is taken in taxes and higher prices.

The food for which we neglected to thank God now is unobtainable.

The service we refused to give to God now is conscripted for the country.

Lives we refused to live under God's control now are under the nation's control.

Nights we would not spend "watching unto prayer" now we spend in anxious air raid precautions.

Thorough Washing Is First Essential For Floor Re-Finish

To re-finish old floors clean thoroughly first. If finished with paint, varnish or enamel, rub with sandpaper, then re-finish. Waxed or oiled floors must be washed with turpentine or grease remover (commercial floor cleaners). Old bare floors never before finished should be scrubbed with a medium strength solution of household ammonia rather than soap and water.

Oil finish is very satisfactory for a floor that gets hard use. It is grease resistant, does not mar with heat, prevents the wood forming tiny cracks, and is easily kept in good condition.

Measure three or four tablespoons oil and heat over hot water, as oil is combustible. Apply against the grain of wood with a cloth and rub in as much as it will take up. Remove excess oil, wiping with the grain. Leave for several hours or overnight to dry. Repeat for five or ten coats. Surface may be used between times if well dusted before the next coat. A sticky surface due to too much oil is wiped with a cloth moistened with turpentine before applying next coat. For the final finish, apply one to two tablespoons of linseed oil mixed with two to four tablespoons of turpentine. A thin coat of wax will protect the finish.

OBITUARY

Frederick C. Ely

Frederick C. Ely, Newark, New Jersey, travelling salesman, died October 31, at his home, 97 South 11th Street. Mr. Ely was a member of Northern Lodge A.F. and A.M., and of St. Barnabas Anglican Church, Newark. He is survived by his wife, who was Miss Annie E. Goodwin, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Goodwin, of Weymouth. His sudden passing was a shock to his many friends. He was beloved by all who knew him.

Mrs. William Woodcock

A large circle of friends will learn with regret of the death of Mrs. William Woodcock on November 1st in Vancouver, after a brief illness. A woman of loving disposition and true Christian character. Mrs. Woodcock won the hearts of all who knew her. She was formerly Sarah Catherine Morse, daughter of the late James Kent and Annie (Ruggles) Morse, of Weymouth. Mrs. Woodcock is survived by her husband, two sons and one daughter, also two sisters and three brothers, besides a number of nephews and nieces. The funeral was held in Vancouver on November 3rd.

Fox Field Day Held At Meteghan

A field day and live fox demonstration was held lately at Mrs. Duffie J. Bobichon's ranch, under the direction of B. E. McGrory, D.V.M., M.B., fox specialist, of Denver, Colorado. Ranchers from different points in Nova Scotia brought in specimens, type foxes for demonstration, which contributed in making the field day most successful and instructive to the ranchchers attending. Dr. McGrory's remarks regarding the white faced silvers, platinum type and platinum foxes were of timely interest to the beginners in this new phase of fox breeding.

Among the group from outside attending the field day were: T. D. Carruthers, Secretary Canadian National Silver Fox Breeders Association, Summerside, P.E.I.; R. W. Taylor, Sales Manager, General Sea Foods, Ltd., Halifax; D. Parks, Purina Feeds, Windsor; A. Maxwell, Clark's Harbour; Messrs H. and G. Elliott, Tiverton, Winston Mullen, New Tusket and our agriculturist, Raymond LeBlanc. Mrs. Robichand deserves credit to have organized such a successful demonstration in her well kept fox ranch, the most popular in our province, we may say.

Weymouth Sent Many Ditty Bags

Mrs. J. Dixon Rice, Convenor Ditty Bag Committee, of Weymouth, has received the following letter from Mrs. John Baker, Navy League Seamen's Club:

"The Halifax Branch of the Navy League of Canada acknowledges with many thanks the receipt of forty seven ditty bags from the people of Weymouth and the vicinity. The three bags which you sent to Meteghan River have been returned directly to me, with the seven I sent directly to them, and also enough articles from the pupils of Meteghan River School to fill another bag. I am including all these in your donation, so it makes a total of fifty-eight. "The people of Weymouth have made a splendid response to this appeal, and the Navy League are very grateful. The committee wish me to express their thanks both to the ladies who have worked

Mr. and Mrs. George Burgoine and daughter Daisy, were visitors in Yarmouth one day last week.

Mrs. Roxanna Sabine has returned home after spending some time with relatives in New Brunswick.

Volunteer Army Maintain Watch

Linking the eyes and ears of the wilderness, of isolated strategic parts of the nation, with centralized forces of protection, a volunteer army of 7,000 Canadians is organized under the Aircraft Detection Corps.

Equipped for the job with commonsense, eyes and ears, and instruction handbook, a cardboard indicator card, a clock or watch, a calendar, and possibly binoculars, members of the Corps are assigned to detecting and reporting signs of enemy activity in the air, on the sea and on land.

Organized in May, 1940, the Corps has chalked up a fine record of achievement, all due to individual initiative. But if continuous 24-hour duty is to be maintained the ranks of the Corps must be swelled. More official observers are required in many areas.

The R.C.A.F. administers the ADC, and the Corps itself acts for the army, navy, and the police, as well as for the air force. Reports made by observers over telephone, telegraph or wireless are received at reporting centres operated by the R.C.A.F. and prompt action is taken by the air force, army, navy, or police, as the case may require.

The largest force of these official "spotters" is located in the eastern air command, which includes Newfoundland. There are 4,700 spotters in this area and detection and destruction of enemy submarines has been credited in many cases to the quick action of ADC spotters. Many Canadian aircraft in distress have been saved from certain disaster by the assistance of the Corps. There are 1,736 observers in northern Quebec and Ontario and in Manitoba, and there are 765 on the West Coast.

Persons wishing to volunteer are requested to contact the local ADC chief observer. The local telephone operator will know who he is.

Combine Foods For Tasty Meals

"Economy and conversation" is the watchword all along the line in homes throughout the country. Kitchen economy need not result in tasteless, uninteresting meals. It can be effected by using ingenuity and being constantly on the alert for new ideas and changes in the food situation. It means getting the most out of available foods and using every scrap of left-overs. Foods that are scarce or high in price must be eked out by combining them in new and ingenious ways with other more plentiful or less expensive foods.

The British have become past masters in the art of making a little go a long way, and the Home Economists in the Consumer Section of the Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, have been collecting and testing many of their recipes, adapting them when necessary, to Canadian tastes. Two British recipes are included here. Savoury Batter is different and delicious; it is light and crisp, and resembles Yorkshire Pudding. Baked Cabbage Surprise makes a tasty and inexpensive one-dish meal.

Savoury Batter

1/2 cup whole wheat flour
Salt and pepper
1 teaspoon thyme or sage
1 egg
1 cup milk
1 cup chopped, cooked meat
1 cup chopped, cooked vegetables (corn, carrots, peas, etc.)
2 teaspoons chopped parsley
1/4 cup dripping

Mix flour and seasoning. Make a well in the centre and drop in the unbeaten egg. Add part of the milk gradually and mix to a smooth batter. Beat with a Dover beater until bubbles form on the top. Add remaining milk and let stand 1/2-1 hour. Put dripping in a baking tin (8 x 8 in.) and heat in the oven till fat is smoking hot. Add other ingredients to batter, pour into the hot pan and bake at 375 degrees 45 minutes, until risen and brown. Serve with gravy and vegetables. Serves four.

Baked Cabbage Surprise

3/4 cup chopped, cooked meat
2 cups mashed potatoes (5 medium potatoes)
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 pepper
1 tablespoon tomato or other sauce
1 medium head cabbage
Mix meat, potato, sauce and seasonings. Cut cabbage in half, remove the core and wash thoroughly. Cook in boiling, salted water 10 minutes. Drain well. Place half the cabbage cut side up, in a deep greased baking dish. Pack the stuffing into the cavity and put the other half cabbage on top. Cover with buttered paper and bake at 350 degrees, 35-40 minutes.

Curtailling Bus Travel Results in Saving

Because rubber and gasoline are indispensable to modern warfare, bus lines in Canada have been faced with a major problem for some time. It has been necessary to provide for heavy emergency needs caused by the war and at the same time to conserve labor, gasoline, rubber and steel.

To effect a saving in materials, since August, all new buses have been painted khaki green with few identification markings so that they may be sent to any part of the country when need arises.

Beginning November 15, the Department of Munitions and Supply has ordered bus trips curtailed to 50 miles in one direction. Routes are to be revised to eliminate bus travel where railway accommodation is available. In places where bus travel is the only reasonable means of transportation, service will be continued. It is expected that this curtailment in service will result in substantial savings in gasoline and rubber.

Kidney Acids Rob Your Rest

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—lie awake and count sheep. Often they blame it on "nerves" when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons from the blood. If they are faulty and fail, poisons stay in the system and sleeplessness, headache, backache often follow. If you don't sleep well, try Dodd's Kidney Pills—for half a century the favorite remedy. 103

A Veteran at 20!

Back from scores of bombing raids over a dozen countries, this young airman has found adventure in the skies! Just out of his 'teens, an eager youth in years, he's a veteran in experience. He's a first-line fighting man, trained in the science of war at 5-miles-a-minute!

He and his buddies in R.C.A.F. air crew are team-mates. Gunner, Wireless Operator, Bomber, Pilot, Navigator—all work together as a smooth, swift "attack team" in a giant bomber. Their targets accurately surveyed in advance by daring reconnaissance pilots—their flight protected by the blazing guns of fighter planes—the bombers wing their relentless way to smash Nazi nerve-centres.

The expanded Air Training Plan has room for more men who want to be with these fighting comrades of the skies. Right now applications are being accepted for air crew duty, at R.C.A.F. Recruiting Centres throughout Canada.

If you are physically fit, mentally alert, over 17 1/2 and not yet 33, you are eligible. If you are over 33, but have exceptional qualifications, you may still be considered. Lack of formal education is no longer a bar to enlistment.

1943 Will Be Difficult Year

The farmers of Nova Scotia deserve hearty congratulations on the especially good job they have done this year in the face of great labor shortage and other restrictions, said Hon. John A. McDonald, Nova Scotia Minister of Agriculture, in referring to the year's crops which on the whole have been very satisfactory. Coupled with his congratulations was an appeal to every farmer of the province to begin now to plan for next year. 1943, he predicted, will be the most difficult and the most important year Nova Scotia agriculture has ever had. With this in mind farmers should plan now for the maximum crop possible and trust that means of harvesting will be found. While no one knows what the weather will be like next spring it is improbable that it will be as favorable as it was this spring when ideal weather conditions meant much from a labor standpoint. The two major problems now on the horizon, said Mr. McDonald, are labor and equipment.

He urged that farmers lose no time in getting farm machinery in the best condition possible. In some cases equipment will have to be built over but whatever is needed should be attended to if the best results are to be attained. With it becoming more and more difficult to get farm machinery there arises a greater need than ever for co-operation among neighboring farmers. Owners of tractors and other machinery after attending to their own work should be willing to assist their neighbors. While there

His many friends will be interested in his work in this exceedingly responsible position, and wish him continued success. Mrs. McDormand and little daughter hope to return to her home in Oxford for the Christmas season.

Bear River

Makes Shipment Of Ditty Bags

A shipment of 40 Ditty Bags went forward from Bear River the early part of last week, to the Navy League of Canada (Halifax Branch), for the Merchant Seamen's League.

Local organizations who filled bags included the Happy Gang Sewing Club, (3); United Church Ladies' Aid, (10); Philathea Class, Baptist Church, (11); Women's Institute (3); Bear River East Society, (1); Loyal Workers, (1).

Pupils of Oakdene School, assisted by their teachers, also made a fine showing, the following classes and school organizations filling one bag each: "Hearts of Oak" Junior Red Cross; Oakdene Garment Club; Grades VIII and IX; Junior Red Cross (Miss Rice's Room); High School Club and Grades III and IV.

Friends from Deep Brook, the Deep Brook Red Cross, the Friendly Club and Walcott West Red Cross all filled ditty bags as did a number of individuals interested in the work.

cluding $8,716.81 for the Red Cross and $2,103.60 for the Queens Canadian Fund. Special efforts were made to foster food production. 67 garden brigades functioned. Approximately 2,500 institute members had gardens. In the election of officers Mrs. H. C. Ward, Berwick, was chosen president, succeeding Mrs. B. A. Parsons, Walton. Mrs. John A. MacDonald, wife of the Minister of Agriculture, Hon. John A. McDonald, was re-elected honorary president. Others elected to office were: Vice president, Mrs. T. R. Johnstone, Great Village; Secretary, Mrs. Cameron Bryan, Alma; Treasurer, Mrs. Beaumont Moss, Jr., Bridgewater; Directors, Mrs. Cecil Dexter, Brooklyn; Mrs. Edith Beard, Paradise; Mrs. Wilbert Ettlinger, Noel; Mrs. J. C. Trainor, Port Hawkesbury; Convenors of Committees—Agriculture, Mrs. Gordon Atkinson, West Brook; Home Economics, Mrs. P. L. Herman, Nictaux Falls; Public Health, Mrs. R. C. MacMillan, R.N., Lockport; Red Cross and War Services, Mrs. Edwin Crowe, Stewiacke; Representative Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Mrs. Scott Trenholm, Grand Pré; Delegates to National Convention, Mrs. H. C. Ward and Mrs. B. A. Parsons.

The need for the closest co-operation of all and the putting forth of maximum individual effort cannot be over-emphasized, said Mr. McDonald, for there is bound to be an increasing demand for food as the global conflict becomes more and more destructive and as a result more and more peoples will have to be fed by the farmers of this continent or face starvation. The situation is indeed serious.

W.I.N.S. Holds Good Convention

Featured by exceptionally large attendances, reports indicating a year of marked progress and constructive addresses, the 29th annual 2-day convention of the women's institutes of Nova Scotia was held at Kentville this week. The report of the supt., Miss Helen Macdougall, stated that five new institutes had been formed during the year bringing the total for the province to 147 with an aggregate membership of 2,928. $12,988.50 had been raised in-

A mangel yield of approximately 2,300 bushels to the acre is reported from the Masonic home farm at Windsor by agricultural representative, C. A. Douglas, who has been scoring crop conditions in Hants County. Mangels, he reported, were rather poor in some cases but on the whole above the average. The Masonic farm had the highest yield, the mangels there running from 12 to 16 lbs. each.

Has Good Clover Seed Crop

Those who saved clover for seed are having it threshed and yields are good, according to reports received from Annapolis county. It is expected that the yield of seed in that county this year will be approximately 7,000 lbs. Those saving seed were, Freeman Beals, Parker Neily, Charles Dodge, W. S. Phinney, Fred Charlton, Edmund Keith, J. Whitman, C. Ruggles, J. A. Barteaux, Henry Wheelock, Thornton Crispe, H. J. Wentzell and Perley Bruce.

Some of the fields yielded as high as 200 lbs. per acre. It is interesting to note that those having the best yields were those using limestone. A few hundred pounds of seed will pay for a lot of limestone.

Has High Production

Maritime guernsey breeders will be particularly interested in a recent outstanding record made at Walker Farms, Walkerville, Ont., in view of the dam—CANADIAN SAMMY—having come from the herd of T. D. Blaikie, Great Village, Colchester Co. The cow in question, ALAN BE SHAMROCK'S ADELIN, as a 3 year old produced 15,581 lbs. milk, 677 lbs. fat, this being the tenth highest record ever made in Canada in this class.

Earns High Post

E. D. Cotterell, recently appointed General Manager, Eastern Lines, Canadian Pacific Railway, with jurisdiction from Fort William to Halifax. Mr. Cotterell's appointment was announced by D. C. Coleman, President of the Company and his headquarters will be in Toronto, where he will report to H. J. Humphrey, vice president of the Company's Eastern Lines. Mr. Cotterell has had a wide and notable railroad experience in the United States and in Canada and comes to his present position from the General Superintendency of the Alberta District.

UNTIL VICTORY IS OURS

THE FAWCETT and BEAVER BRAND plants, located at Sackville, N.B., Amherst, N.S., and Victoria, B.C., have been geared to the Canadian war production programme and are filling Government orders on regular lines as well as supplying quantities of special war materials for which these plants have been adapted.

The intensive production for war has imposed definite curtailments in the amount of material available for the regular trade. We would like to stress the fact, however, that we are producing up to the limit of restrictions as laid down by the Federal Controller of Supplies. Within that limit, therefore, we are permitted to offer a few lines of modified design to meet war-time needs.

In the meantime, we hope, with you, that Victory will soon crown our efforts when we shall be able to make the change-over to dealer and consumer goods as suddenly and as efficiently as the change has been made to war goods. When that time comes, it will be our task to help in the re-establishment of normal trade and to supply again those goods for Canadian homes which have become symbols of comfort, contentment and the Canadian way of life.

An Interview With A Maritime Manufacturer

N. A. HESLER

N. A. Hesler, president and managing director of Enamel & Heating Products, Limited, Sackville, N.B., recently returned from a seven weeks' trip to the Pacific Coast, visiting en route Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg, and other Canadian centres.

Being interviewed by a representative of The Tribune as to conditions throughout Canada, Mr. Hesler said in part:

"I was greatly impressed with the willingness of the people generally to make any sacrifices that are necessary accepting government control to win the war. Cheerfully, as a temporary but necessary evil, loyal Canadians are tightening their belts and shouldering their responsibilities with commendable zeal and determination."

"How about business across Canada?" the reporter asked.

"The demand for goods is greater than manufacturers can supply," said Mr. Hesler. "This is particularly true of Fawcett and Beaver Brand Products, whose popularity is steadily increasing."

"How is business of your company affected by government restrictions and controls?" the newsman asked.

"We are allowed to manufacture 75 per cent of the ranges and heaters that we produced in 1940," replied Mr. Hesler. "This is tough on our company as we did 50 per cent more business in 1941 than we did in 1940. A reduction of 25 per cent means that if a dealer bought thirty-two heaters, say, in 1940, he can buy only twenty-four heaters during '42 and he can't take these heating units all at once; he must take two heaters each month. He can't take ten in the first nine months and fourteen in October, November and December. If a dealer fails to take his quota in any one month the ranges or heaters which were allocated to him may be sold to someone else. This is according to government regulations; we have no option in the matter, although customers sometimes think that it is our fault if we don't meet their full requirements. We are doing the best we can to treat our customers fairly and squarely for we want them to remain our friends after the war is over."

"In order to meet the demand caused by a shortage in some districts, the government has given permission for the manufacture of some additional heaters during remaining months of 1942—a temporary measure—but the shortage of skilled labor together with the difficulty in getting steel steels, now so urgently needed for shipbuilding, has largely counteracted the relief effort."

"There is no government restrictions on the making of furnaces, but scarcity of galvanized sheets is a serious handicap. However, we are producing fewer types of furnaces and our output continues high," said Mr. Hesler.

Continuing, Mr. Hesler said: "In addition to producing the regular domestic requirements to the limit of our quota permitted by various government controls, we are using our surplus capacity for the production of war materials. Incidentally we have erected two additional buildings for the production of munitions in an effort to co-operate fully and loyally in Canada's war effort."

"How has your export business been affected by the war?" Mr. Hesler was asked.

"For the past ten years there has been an increasing demand for Fawcett products in South Africa," said Mr. Hesler. "Large quantities of our ranges and heaters have been shipped to that continent but export business has now been halted because of lack of shipping space."

"And what of the future?" the reporter asked.

"As soon as the war is over and things become normal again, I confidently anticipate an unprecedented volume of export as well as of domestic business. Our engineers are keeping in touch with developments in our lines and are investigating the use of plastic heaters during remaining months of 1942—a temporary measure—but the shortage of skilled labor together with the difficulty in getting steel steels, now so urgently needed for shipbuilding, has largely counteracted the relief effort."

"There is no government restrictions on the making of furnaces, but scarcity of galvanized sheets is a serious handicap. However, we are producing fewer types of furnaces and our output continues high," said Mr. Hesler.

tics to take the place of present raw materials. After the war the number and types of ranges, heaters and furnaces will not be as extended as previously, thus making possible greater efficiency in manufacture and still higher quality of products."

"Since the beginning of the war the number of our employees has been practically doubled. Due to enlistment in the armed forces, new men, who required considerable training, had to be taken on, but in spite of many handicaps our plants have been in reasonably efficient operation. To release more men for war services we expect shortly to employ a number of women. The personnel of our company has contributed in every possible way to the success of Canada's war effort. Our fellow workers have bought War Savings Certificates regularly and many Victory Bonds have been purchased. They have always been ready and willing to co-operate loyally and wholeheartedly."

Says Recreation Is Essential

Rev. A. W. L. Smith, rector of St. Clement's, was guest speaker at the November meeting of the Grace United Church Brotherhood. Mr. Smith, who was introduced to the audience by the president, O. Wright, took as his subject, "Recreation."

He explained the word recreation meant just what it said—re-creation, pointing out, that this phase of our lives was very important, for, without recreation of some sort our dispositions would become lopsided, possibly making us "grouchy" and affecting nerves to the point that institutional treatment might become necessary. "Recreation not only affected our own health and happiness, but directly affects the health and happiness of those about us."

For the most part Mr. Smith's address dealt with recreation as "the rest which comes from the great out-of-doors", particularly from the point of the trout and salmon fishermen.

During the business session of the meeting, Milton Atkinson, H. J. Campbell, and W. C. Warrington were named as catering committee for the December meeting. Elton Arnold was named chairman of the entertainment committee with L. M. Saunders and Vincent Snow as his assistants in December.

The army is the most favored by men of the Canadian National Railways enlisting with the armed forces of Canada. Of 7,952 men enlisting from the railway services 64 per cent joined the army; 22 per cent selected the air force and 14 per cent went to sea with the navy. Apart from this total many men from Canadian National Steamships and Trans-Canada Air Lines are on wartime duty.

Two Injured When Cable Breaks

Two Digby stevedores were taken to hospital here Sunday afternoon, as the result of an accident on the government pier. The men were Arthur Everett and Wilfred Comeau. Everett, who was quite seriously injured, will be confined to hospital for some time. Comeau escaped with painful cuts and bruises.

The men were engaged in loading freight on the Saint John-Digby boat, which had made a special Sunday trip. In some manner the elevator cable on the boat broke, catching the two stevedores.

Both were rushed to Digby General Hospital.

St. Anne's C.O.T.C. Is Impressive

(Yarmouth Herald)
The Saint Anne's College Contingent C.O.T.C., attended two Memorial Services recently in which their fine military movements were unanimously admired.

The members of the C.O.T.C., assisted at Mass in the Lower Saulnierville Church together with the Reserve units from Weymouth and Little Brook. During the Mass, Rev. W. Haché, prefect of discipline at Saint Anne's College, spoke on the numerous sacrifices of Canadians during the last war and of the accumulating sacrifices of the present war.

At the completion of Mass, a brief service in honor of the war heroes was held in front of the church and wreaths were placed before the monument in grateful memory of those noble soldiers.

Immediately after the services, the C.O.T.C. and the Reserves drove to Weymouth where both units, preceded by veterans, and followed by the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides, paraded to the Memorial Grounds.

Major L. Comeau was in command of the entire parade.

Government Controls Beef Export

Maintaining a supply of beef for the Canadian consumer is one of the major concerns of government food officials. Faced with a beef shortage, Canada is prepared to curtail her export market to insure a sufficient supply of beef for the armed forces and for the civilian market, according to a recent announcement made by the War-time Prices and Trade Board.

The demand for beef has been considerably stepped up. Meat rations for the armed forces are high and a large quantity of beef has to be frozen to meet their requirements. Then too, beef is being supplied to Newfoundland and to workers on the Alaskan highway development.

The slogan "Business As Usual" is one which has to be modified to meet the problems resulting from a world war. Policy must at time be changed so that the country may pull its full weight in the conflict, that is why the War-time Food Corporation will in future operate in the beef cattle business, according to government officials.

In future the War-time Food Corporation will buy cattle to prevent domestic prices at whenever it appears necessary any time of the year from falling below the levels related to the prevailing maximum ceiling prices on beef, and second it will export cattle to the United States market on-

First Jump

The most thrilling moment of a paratrooper's training comes with his first jump. Here a few of the Canadians who took a full parachutist's course with the U.S. Army at Fort Benning, Ga., await the jump master's command to take off on their first jump. Ready to lead off is Lt. W. Cote, of Montreal, French Canadian jumper.

Perhaps They Don't Think

A Halifax newspaper points out that in the midst of a great war with our transportation facilities strained to the utmost by war demands, when manpower and motive-power and rolling-stock and fuel are so precious in the war effort, we find fish and apples being hauled from the Pacific Coast of Canada to this Atlantic Coast and sold in the shops of Nova Scotia right now, even in Service canteens in the case of fruit. If that isn't fantastic, points out the Sackville Post, then the world has no meaning at all. Imagine carloads of British Columbia fish and apples being loaded on that far Pacific shore, hauled over the Rocky Mountains, across the broad prairies, through Ontario and Quebec, and down into these Maritime Provinces to be sold in the shops in Nova Scotia... in wartime! What are the Canadian authorities thinking about that they let this sort of thing go unrestricted and uncontrolled?—Er.

ly at such times as there may, be a surplus of cattle.

When the Corporation stepped into the picture close to three months ago it planned to buy up and divert numbers of cattle from export to domestic channels by paying the full export value on the cattle bought. At the same time private persons, under permit, were allowed to continue export. This plan did not work because with exports stopped until a new quarter opened there was a strong movement to hold back cattle until the new quarter opened. This was evident not only among farmers and ranchers but by speculators in export cattle.

With the beef cattle trade back entirely on a domestic basis, it is expected that live cattle prices will adjust themselves to follow the price variations fixed for the wholesale trade.

Home Economists Will Be Enlisted On The Home Front

Another forward step in the practical working out of Canada's nutrition program is indicated in the announcement that each province is to set up its own registry of home economists.

Preparation of a complete list of all those who have had training in this important field will be begun immediately. Miss Frances McNally,

SERVICE MEN'S HOSTEL OPENED YESTERDAY

Airmen and soldiers who made use of the recreation centre established by the Digby Board of Trade in the office of the old Waverly Hotel, speak in high appreciation of the hostel, which was opened for the first time yesterday.

For several months Digby has felt the need of a hostel for the armed forces, not only for those who are stationed locally, but more especially for the hundreds of boys of the army, navy, and airforce, who pass through this town almost daily.

The majority of these transient service men have from three to four hours wait in Digby to make connections with train and boat. In the past there has been no place for them to spend an hour or so reading, no place for them to write letters to their friends.

The opening of the hostel by the Board of Trade has done away with this. The boys in uniform now have a "home" of their own while in Digby.

The new quarters are comfortably furnished, with comfortable chairs and writing tables; a large jute box; writing paper and envelopes, and a fair supply of books, magazines and newspapers (more of these yet to come).

Herbert Mutch has been given the responsibility of keeping the place warm and clean. The Digby Service Wives' Association are providing attendants for the first month of operation.

Bear River Women's Institute

The regular monthly Women's Institute meeting was held on Monday afternoon, in the Masonic Reading Room, the new president, Miss Pearl Campbell, presiding.

The regular routine business was carried on and new committees appointed.

The main feature of the meeting was the splendid report given by Mrs. H. E. Harris, delegate to the annual provincial convention held at Kentville recently. Great stress was laid upon the women to put an all out effort in war work during the coming year. Later a silver tea was served by the following hostesses: Mrs. A. B. Campbell, Mrs. Wilson Jefferson and Miss M. Kinney. Proceeds to go to the "Prisoners of War Fund."

Sandy Cove

"The King's Daughters," C. G.I.T. was re-organized at Sandy Cove, November 13th, at the home of the leader, Miss Florence Jeffery. The following officers were elected: President, Lillian Harris; Vice President, Margy Morehouse; Secretary, Helen Jeffery; Treasurer, Vivian Jeffery; Albert Gidney, Halifax, spent the week end with his family here.

The "Helping Hand" circle was re-organized November 10, at the home of Mrs. Melda Saunders. The election of officers was as follows: President, Mrs. Norval Morehouse; Vice President, Mrs. E. E. Rice; Secretary Treasurer, Mrs. Scott Sypher.

names immediately to Miss Frances McNally, Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S. The name of the school or college, and the year of their graduation should also be forwarded that from the information thus supplied, a complete registry of all home economists in the province may be compiled.

MARRIAGES

McBride - Theriault

The First Digby Neck Baptist Church was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday evening, November 14th, when Rev. M. C. Munn, assisted by Lic. L. Atkinson, united in marriage Violet Dorinda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Theriault, Rossway, to John Joseph McBride, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McBride, of Caledonia. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length white satin gown and bridal veil and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. She was attended by her sister, Miss Elsie Theriault, who wore a pale blue organdie floor length gown and carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums. The groom was attended by Sgm. V. C. Theriault, brother of the bride. The wedding march was played by Mrs. Douglas Andrews. Ushers were James Robbitt and Jared Banks. The church was very beautifully decorated in red, white and blue and house plants. The bridal party stood under an arch of red, white and blue crepe paper and wedding bells. A reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. The happy couple will reside in Rossway.

Robichaud - Saulnier

A very pretty wedding took place at Sacred Heart Church, Saulnierville, on Tuesday, October 27, when Rev. Father Jovite Doucet, parish priest, united in marriage Joseph Robichaud, son of Mr. and Mrs. Basil Robichaud, Meteghan, to Miss Lea Saulnier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie R. Saulnier. Entering the church to the strains of the wedding march the bride looked lovely in her navy blue gown. She was attended by Miss Lea Melanson, of Grosses Coques. The groom was attended by Agustin Theriault, Meteghan. After the nuptial high mass a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents. Later the wedding party left for a motor trip and on their return a wedding supper was served at the home of the groom. Mr. and Mrs. Robichaud will reside at Meteghan.

About This and That

Please note that the annual award of the famed Burlington (Wis.) Liars' Club has been made this year to Dr. Paul Goebbels, propaganda chief of Nazi Germany. His citation is "the medal of the order of the double cross" in the department of professional lying.

Hitler himself is not exactly an amateur when it comes to lying, and Tojo, Japan's leading exponent of prevarication, is no mere tyro at the game. But for long-time, continuous performance, the club decided that Dr. Goebbels was in a class by himself.

Now that the Burlington Liars' Club has attended to the situation abroad, it might with profit to everybody give some attention to the liars who seek to weaken our efforts here at home. The whisperers, the rumor-mongers, the outright prevaricators are, unfortunately, not absent from our midst. Some do their dirty work without thought, others deliberately. But all are as dangerous in their way as the professional liars in the axis set-up. We can very well get along without them, for they tend to slow down and muddle our war effort.

Someone has said "the world is a question mark"—that "it eternally asks: What for?" Childhood, youth, middle age, and old age all ask the question.

Childhood is fully entitled to an answer. Youth is taught to find one. Middle and old age are expected to think things out, but are not always able to do so.

Important though questions are, the answers are more so. The reasons why contribute to the discipline of childhood, the mental development of youth, and the intelligence of adults.

Questions should therefore be regarded as opportunities for inculcating highest ideals, for aiding formation of character, and for encouraging discharge of responsibilities.

When Germany collapsed in the First World War, the Kaiser escaped to a neutral country, and no serious effort was made to bring him back and make him face trial.

Now would be a most opportune time for the United Nations to broadcast a warning to all neutrals not to permit entry of axis leaders and their henchmen. Make it plain to those men they are to be brought to trial, and to harbor them will invite international complications and force the United Nations to take the necessary steps to get them.

Such an official warning will deny axis leaders a refuge. It will give axis leaders the big jitters and it will have a depressing effect on the German people. And it will give courage to the conquered peoples.

While measures are taken to curb speeding as a safety measure as well as a rubber conserver and the road hog is brought to justice when caught, it looks as though another matter which also concerns public safety should be given a little more attention. This is the matter of careless drivers failing to dim their lights, although against the law.

This matter is largely left to courtesy in our locality, but we believe it should be stressed more strongly as this has been the cause of some serious accidents. Why not punish those who fail to dim their lights, as well as those who are a menace to a sane driver?

Red Cross News

Digby Branch

The work of the Digby Branch is continuing along the usual lines, quilting, sewing and knitting being carried on. In spite of the wool shortage, yarn is available for women's and children's sweaters, service sweaters, turtle-neck tuck-ins and seaboot stockings. Welcome donations of used garments and materials continue to come in and are gratefully received for re-modeling or quilt making. As new materials grow scarce, second-hand garments become more and more valuable as a source of supply for our work and the public is urged to remember the Red Cross with any and all clothing and scraps which can be spared. Shipments to Provincial Headquarters during the month of October consisted only of quilts—28 large size 4 small size and 2 afghans, making a total of 34. Knitted comforts were also supplied to the crew of a ship in port, as follows: 20 sweaters, 20 prs. socks, 20 prs. mittens.

October donations to the Work Committee are gratefully acknowledged as follows: 8 quilts, St. Patrick's War Work Club; 5 quilts, Baptist Guild; 4 quilts each, Little River Auxiliary, Service Wives' Club, Trinity Guild; 3 quilts each, Ever-Ready Club, Hill Grove Auxiliary, United Church Aid; 2 quilts, Mrs. Fannie Wagner, Sissiboo Falls (per Barton Auxiliary); 1 quilt each, Ea G. Club, Rosway Auxiliary, Victory Club; 2 afghans, Service Wives' Club; Clothing—St. Patrick's War Work Club, 4 dresses, 3 nightgowns, 2 sweaters, 2 prs. booties; Miss Whitman, 5 bonnets; Mrs. Keith Porter, 1 jacket, 1 pr. mittens; Mrs. Fream, Barton, 5 dresses, 1 skirt, 1 slip; Mrs. C. E. Smith, Barton, 1 night-dress, 1 personal property bag; Mrs. Arthur Lambertson, Barton, 1 sweater; Mrs. J. H.

Faust, belts; Second-hand clothing and materials—St. Patrick's War Work Club, Mrs. J. R. McCleave, Mrs. Ganong; quilt blocks, Mrs. Alfred Cosaboom; Red Cross flag, Mrs. Eber Turnbull.

MARRIAGE

Haight - VanBuskirk

A quiet marriage wedding ceremony took place at the Baptist parsonage at Barton, on October 21, where Rev. F. E. Roop officiated, uniting in marriage Adelia Belle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry VanBuskirk, of Bloomfield, and Vernon Stanley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Haight, of North Range. Immediate relatives attended the ceremony. The bridesmaid was Miss Hilda VanBuskirk, cousin of the bride, the groomsmen were Scott Haight, brother of the groom. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party returned to the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Adelbert VanBuskirk, where a reception was held to one hundred and twenty guests. They received a large number of useful gifts and a sum of money. They will reside in Bloomfield.

Men Needed In Air And On Ground

Several announcements, of great interest to lads who desire training for aircrew duties and to skilled tradesmen who wish to bring their trade knowledge and dexterity to the tasks of the R.C.A.F., have recently been made by Flight Lieutenant L. T. Chapman, Commanding Officer, No. 16 Recruiting Centre, Broadcasting House, Halifax. For the benefit of our readers, they are summarized here.

First of all, young men may now enlist in the R.C.A.F., at the age of seventeen and a half years. This is a concession to the wish of many youths, often recent high school graduates, who enlistment had formerly to be deferred because they had not yet reached the age of 18. The new regulations stipulate, however, applicants under 18, must have the written consent of their parents.

Further, enlistment is available for immediate posting in November or for posting on leave without pay until a later date in November, December, January, February or March, so that almost any reasonable arrangements can be made with an applicant to allow sufficient time to fulfill his civilian obligations.

There are vacancies now in several trades, mainly those having to do with maintenance work, which have been closed for a while.

It will be noted that the approach of King Winter has something to do with the appearance of these enlistment openings. During the spring and summer many of these tradesmen were posted overseas for maintenance work with the rapidly expanding Air Force establishment there. And always, of course, the training set-up of the Air Training plan is growing larger. Consequently, new enlisted personnel are needed for replacement.

Many of these maintenance trades carry with them immediate appointment to rank and trade-grouping higher than standard. For instance Foreman of Works for the Works and Buildings Branch of the R.C.A.F. are needed. Well-qualified applicants in this trade often receive top trade's pay and the rank of Sergeant upon acceptance into the service. So too it is with Chief Stationary Engineers. In a lesser degree it is the same with subordinate Engineers, Firemen 1st Class (Works and Buildings), and with Fitter Diesel and again with Fitters General who are known in civilian life as plumbers and pipefitters.

Carpenters also are needed and Tractor Operators, Pumpmen and Motorboat Crewmen.

In non-maintenance trades accountants, transport drivers, postal clerks, and nursing orderlies are required.

Interested applicants who are qualified are invited to write to the RCAF Recruiting Centre, Broadcasting House, Halifax, N.S., or call upon the Mobile Recruiting Unit.

New Actor Co-Stars With Ida Lupino

The long awaited appearance of Jean Gabin in his first American motion picture will be at the Capitol Theatre next Monday and Tuesday.

The wait is not in vain. From the first moment Gabin appears on the screen, to the final fade-out, there is no question that here is one of the great screen actors of our time. Coming from French language films in Hollywood, Gabin makes the transition with complete success and turns in a powerful and realistic portrayal of the conscience-tortured Pacific Coast bait fisherman.

Aided by splendid performances by Ida Lupino, Thomas Mitchell, and Claude Rains, Gabin makes the film a memorable addition to the season's roster of fine motion pictures, and one of its best.

Those who were stirred by Gabin's previous portrayals in French pictures will find him at the peak of his talent in "Moontide," while those who meet Gabin for the first time are certain of a great film experience.

The feature has been excellently directed by Archie Mayo, while the production leaves nothing to be desired under the guidance of Mark Hellinger. The screenplay by John O'Hara preserves the dramatic flavor of the Willard Robertson best selling novel.

A screen event of major importance is in store for moviegoers at the Capitol Theatre next week.

One Way To Save Fuel

This Autumn it is patriotic "hot stuff" to be cold. Because fuel must be saved officials of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board are urging Canadians to use as little as possible.

Many people who live in the country still experience that early morning chill in houses which have no central heating equipment. This year their city neighbors are asked to follow suit and manage with small fires lighted only for an hour or two in the morning and in the evening. The coal administrator is anxious that furnace fires should not be started early this year so that fuel can be

THE FAWCETT and BEAVER BRAND plants, located at Sackville, N.B., Amherst, N.S., and Victoria, B.C., have been geared to the Canadian war production programme and are filling Government orders on regular lines as well as supplying quantities of special war materials for which these plants have been adapted.

The intensive production for war has imposed definite curtailments in the amount of material available for the regular trade. We would like to stress the fact, however, that we are producing up to the limit of restrictions as laid down by the Federal Controller of Supplies. Within that limit, therefore, we are permitted to offer a few lines of modified design to meet war-time needs.

In the meantime, we hope, with you, that Victory will soon crown our efforts when we shall be able to make the change-over to dealer and consumer goods as suddenly and as efficiently as the change has been made to war goods. When that time comes, it will be our task to help in the re-establishment of normal trade and to supply again those goods for Canadian homes which have become symbols of comfort, contentment and the Canadian way of life.

MARRIAGE

Comeau - Melanson

St. Patrick's Church, Digby, was the scene of a very pretty wedding at 8.30 a.m., Tuesday, when Rev. Luc Gaudet, of St. Croix Church, Plympton, united in marriage Miss Helen Melanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Melanson, Digby, and Victor Comeau, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Comeau, Weymouth. The bride was given in marriage by her father, and was attended by Miss Frances Comeau, sister of the groom. Father Gaudet, who officiated, is an uncle of the groom. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at Jersey Farms Hotel.

OBITUARY

Eugene White

For the second time in a week the community of North Range was saddened when it became known Wednesday morning, November 11th, Eugene White had passed away under tragic circumstances. He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward White and was 56 years of age. He is survived by two brothers, Frank in the United States, and George in North Range. Funeral services were held from the Baptist church Friday afternoon, Rev. F. E. Roop officiating. Interment in the Baptist Cemetery in North Range.

James W. Bragg

Death has again entered the community of North Range claiming one of the oldest residents, James W. Bragg, who passed away at the Digby General Hospital, Monday, November 9th, at the age of 80 years, after a lingering illness. He was born at North Range, son of the late George B. and Mrs. Bragg and has resided at North Range almost his entire life. He was a member of the Baptist church. He was a kind and loving husband and father, and is survived by his mourning widow and six children, (Annie) Mrs. S. N. Brown, Springfield, Mass.; (Sue) Mrs. W. J. Haver, Chicopee, Mass.; George, Charles, Alfred, of North Range and Henry, of Halifax; also two sisters, Mrs. Ella Balsor and Miss Annie Bragg, both of Natick, Mass.; and one brother, Edward, of North Range. Floral tributes were many and beautiful. Funeral services were held from his late home Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. F. E. Roop, pastor of the Baptist church. Interment in the Baptist Cemetery, North Range.

North Range

Mrs. S. N. Brown and Mrs. W. J. Haver left Saturday for their homes in Massachusetts after spending the past six weeks with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Bragg. George Bragg, of Clarence, and Henry Bragg, of Halifax, were home last week to attend the funeral of their father, the late J. W. Bragg. Mrs. Harry Blinn and daughter Phyllis, of Middleton, are spending a few days at their home here. William Hill, of Massachusetts, has been a guest at the home of Edward Amelio, during the hunting season. Allan McCullough, of Lunenburg, is also a guest at the same home. Donald Height has returned home after being employed up the valley. Ray Haight, who is employed in Annapolis Co., spent a few days last week at the home of Alfred Haight. Mrs. Ray Richards and family have moved to Halifax, to be with Mr. Richards, who is employed there.

Women Are Needed That Men May Fly

Teachers, university graduates, welfare workers, all those girls who have hesitated in joining the R.C.A.F. (Women's Division), because they had no particular training, need hesitate no longer, for there is an opportunity to enlist as Standard Tradeswomen. This trade is designed to attract not only those with better than average ability and formal education but also women of high calibre but lacking in formal education.

Airwomen enlisted as Standard Tradeswomen will be posted to Ottawa where they will be assessed by a Trade Selection Board. This Board will place the girls in any one of the following trades: Administrative; Clerk (Code and Cypher); Clerk (General); Clerk (Accounting); Clerk (Operations Room); Equipment Assistant; Meteorological Observer and Postal Clerk. Consideration will be given to the candidate's preference but the Selection Board will make the final decision regarding the trade for which the applicant is best qualified.

For the Administrative trade the applicant should possess executive ability either in business or social work but the essential qualification is that the candidate be capable of administrative responsibility.

Stenographers and Photographers are also needed for the Women's Division. Here again are to be found openings for patriotic young women who would like to contribute more directly to the cause for which Canada is fighting.

The work such women do is valuable. In their trades they are usually found to be more competent than the men they replace. Their accuracy in little things, and their patience with detail are womanly qualities that tend to be of great service.

Moreover, once again it may be said, such airwomen release airmen for service as aircrew. It has been found by experience in the R.C.A.F. that service life frequently fits a man for aircrew duties, who, on enlistment, was found fit only for ground.

This is true medically, and mentally as well. Service life appears to sharpen these lads and make them healthier. Male Clerk Stenographers and Photographers therefore, remuster to aircrew as soon as airwomen are trained to replace them.

Clerk (Stenographers) must be able to take dictation at 100 words per minute and type 40 words per minute. They must be good, clear penwomen and be able to transcribe clear, concise English from rough notes. Must be familiar with filing systems and general office procedure. A trade test will be given at the Recruiting Centre.

Photographers must have had practical experience in the following phases of photography: Cameras, Filters, Lenses, Printing and Developing. Preference will be given to those who have been employed in the trade.

Young women who are interested are invited to write to the R.C.A.F. Recruiting Centre, Broadcasting House, 10 Tobin Street, Halifax, N.S., or apply to the Mobile Recruiting Unit. They are assured of prompt and courteous attention.

Allies On The March

The rout of General Rommel's Nazi and Italian forces east of Libya, and the landing of a huge American army farther west in the French colonies of Northern Africa, gives notice to the world that the Nations have opened a second front, and have selected the Mediterranean Sea as its location.

This is bad news for Germany. It is worse for Italy. Once the allies clean up all opposition on the North African shore of the Mediterranean, and their land-based air power gains complete control of that important sea, the doom of Italy will be sealed. Misguided Mussolini will have to give up the ghost, or Hitler will throw half million troops into Italy to prevent invasion.

Can Germany do this? It is very doubtful. It must be remembered that the rout of Rommel in Libya was due largely to his lack of airplanes, tanks, artillery and other mechanized army equipment. The tremendous productive power of the United Nations is beginning to be felt. The days of preparation are about ended. From the defensive, the allies are now ready to carry the war to the enemy. This new second front will later be followed by a third, and a fourth, and a fifth front if necessary. Uneasy lie the shaved heads in Rome and Berlin these days.

Girl Poses As Man For Years On Farm

A hand on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Stonebraker, near Tyrone, Pa., stands revealed as a woman whose masquerade as a man was uncovered by injury and death.

For three years, Robert Moore, 27, worked for the Stonebrakers. Moore was discovered to be a woman when taken to a hospital for treatment after falling from a barn loft.

The hospital kept the secret until the patient died, and the filing of the death certificate revealed Moore's sex.

Mr. Stonebraker never suspected that his farm hand was a woman, since she wore men's clothes and did a man's job. It is believed that she posed as a man to gain employment.

Efforts to locate the woman's real name and to locate relatives have thus far proved unavailing.

Until November 30 there is no restriction on transportation of Christmas trees, it was announced from the offices of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board at Halifax over the week end. Digby shippers will be interested in this announcement (if any shippers in the area are contemplating taking on any business this season) which recently came from Ottawa, following a survey of conditions in the Province in respect to this annual business.

Scrap And The War Effort

Almost continually, items appear in the press of Canada emphasizing the importance of saving every scrap of metal and every ounce of rubber that may be found in the premises of citizens.

Canada, we are told, needs this scrap and needs it very much indeed in the manufacture of guns, tanks and shells.

Some time ago, salvage arrangements were made here in Digby and it was decided that collections of same would be made each month, teams to call at various residences and haul away all accumulations of material needed to aid in prosecution of the war, and have it conveyed to a place of storage, there to await shipment.

Collections from house to house were made on at least two occasions in Digby and a vast quantity of scrap obtained.

But, somehow or other, there the matter stands. Doubtless by this time, householders have accumulated quite a lot more material and are wondering what to do about it.

In the meantime Government officials at Ottawa are doing everything they can think of to curtail the manufacture of many articles required in everyday use in order that they may concentrate their full efforts on the manufacture of war requisites.

It does seem odd no doubt that so much emphasis is laid upon saving trifling little articles of metal and to note in many public places throughout the provinces, tons of metal being left out in the weather to corrode. There has been some talk of melting down old guns and other ornamental articles of metal, but before any such drastic action is taken measures should be employed to salvage this other metal going to waste and which, by every indication will soon be buried beneath the snow of another winter instead of being hurled at Hitler.

At any rate from a local standpoint, scrap is needed by the government, there should be some real organized way of collecting it.

Stoves Require Care From Housewives

Although stoves have been taken off the "frozen" list and purchases can be made if proven absolutely essential, it does not mean that careful attention should lag.

Never use coarse abrasives on a stove. Clean the enamel parts with soapy water. If the stove is wiped off after every meal, and if the food which boils over is wiped off immediately, this won't often be necessary.

Remember to allow the enamel to cool before wiping off the stove with a damp cloth. The damp cloth may cause the enamel to crack. For the same reason spilling cold food or water on the hot porcelain surface should be avoided when possible.

Never use a stiff brush or sharp instrument to clean the open coils of an electric stove. When food is spilt on the heating element, allow it to char and then brush it off with a soft brush.

Many houses in the towns and on the farms have wood and coal ranges or kerosene or gasoline stoves. Their care must not be neglected either. The coal and wood ranges should have their flues cleaned frequently so that the heat will circulate properly. Grease should be wiped off the outside of the stove with soap and water. Then the stove should be rubbed with a cloth moistened with a very little kerosene or a light lubricating oil.

Kerosene and gasoline stoves need to have their wicks cleaned once a day, removing all char. The fuel tank should be drained, the feed pipe cleaned with a stiff wire, and the tank rinsed out with a very little clean fuel once every three months or so.

Check Batteries Of Idle Automobiles

Owing to gasoline rationing and present rubber situation most Canadians are using their automobiles only for essential purposes and the car is often left in the garage over long periods of time.

Consumer Information Service points out that when a car stands idle its wet storage battery rapidly "self-discharges." This is due to internal chemical action and if the top of the battery is moist, to WOMEN!

HOW WOULD YOU LIKE TO BE A "KEY MAN" IN THE R.C.A.F.?

How would you like to have a Pilot appear and ask you, "How's the ceiling, Sergeant?"

And you, being a well-qualified Meteorological Observer, give him a weather forecast.

How would you like to have the responsibilities in this war of one of those hush-hush girls known as Operations Room Clerks?

These are but two of the attractive trades in which members of the R.C.A.F. Women's Division are doing such splendid work.

Look at these trades.

an electrical leakage between the posts.

Batteries for cars or home electric plants for that matter, will self-discharge much more quickly if kept in a warm place than those kept in a cool spot. Wet storage batteries should never be stored in the direct rays of the sun.

To keep the plates in good condition, the battery which is standing idle should be brought to a fully charged state at least every thirty days.

Allowing a battery to stand in a discharged or partially discharged condition causes the positive plates to buckle in service (due to sulphation) and shortens its life materially. In fact, standing in a discharged condition may sulphate the battery so completely that the new insulation is required before a thorough recharge is possible.

- ### Vegetable Meat Balls
- 1 lb. ground meat, preferably beef
 - 1 1/2 cups finely diced, cooked vegetables, (potatoes, carrots, etc.)
 - 2 medium onions, chopped
 - 3 tablespoons chopped parsley
 - 3/4 teaspoon salt
 - 3 tablespoons dripping
 - 1 egg, beaten
 - 1/2 teaspoon pepper
 - flour
 - 2 1/2 cups canned tomatoes
- Cook onion in part of the fat, then skim out and mix onion with the meat. Add vegetables, salt, pepper, and egg. Form into 12 balls, roll in flour and brown on all sides in remaining fat. Place in a casserole. Add tomato, sprinkle with parsley and cook approximately 1 hour in a 375 degree oven. Makes six servings, and is good with baked squash and mixed green salad or can be served on hot noodles.

BUY WAR SAVINGS STAMPS

Women have invaded still another department, the commissary, of Canadian National Railways, heretofore exclusively masculine. Now women check supplies and issue provisions for the dining cars in the Toronto terminal.

Grapefruit, oranges and apples are favorite fruits with travellers patronizing dining cars, according to dining car officers of the Canadian National Railways, and in that order. However, lemons totalling 125,000 required during a year headed the list. Lemons are used extensively to garnish and flavor steak and fish dishes and appear generously in pie.

What My Absence Did.	What My Presence Did
1. It made some question the reality of religion.	1. It caused people to have confidence in me.
2. It made some think that I was a pretender.	2. It made people know that I regarded my spiritual welfare and that of others as a matter of great importance.
3. It made many think that I regarded my spiritual welfare and that of others as a matter of small concern.	3. It had a good effect on the service.
4. It weakened the effect of church service.	4. It made my friends feel more welcome.
5. It made it harder for the pastor to preach.	5. It encouraged the brethren and helped the pastor in his work.
6. It discouraged the brethren, therefore robbed them of a blessing.	6. It caused others to come to the House of God.
7. It caused others to stay away from church.	7. It made my life stronger for another week.
8. It made it harder for me to meet the temptations of the week.	8. It removed stumbling blocks from the sinner's path.
9. It gave the devil more power over lost souls.	9. It pleased God that I was happy.
10. It encouraged the habit of non-church going.	10. It caused others to say, "He practices what he preaches." —Church Chimes.

No Guesswork Allowed With Sugar In War-time Recipes for Apples

One of the Home Economists in the Consumer section of the Department of Agriculture has been experimenting to find out just how much can be done with a basket of early apples and a pound of sugar. Under a recent ruling, one pound of extra sugar was made available for every eight pounds of early fall apples, bought for cooking purposes. Duchess and Wealthy apples are the best buys in cooking apples during the month of September.

It was found that a family of six could have generous servings of five different desserts, which exactly used up both the sugar and the apples. Of course there could be no guess work allowed in the sugar measurements; but all who tasted the desserts agreed that they were amply sweet.

First on the list came that old favorite, apple pie, which took 9 apples and $\frac{3}{4}$ cup sugar.

Applesauce was made from 6 apples cooked in 1 cup of water, then rubbed through a sieve to remove the skins and cores. 3 tablespoons of sugar were then added. Had we added the sugar while the apples were cooking, this amount would not have been enough. The rule about adding sugar after the fruit is cooked applies to all stewed fruits, fresh or dried.

Apple dumplings are always popular, and these were extra special, served with maple sauce. 6 apples and 4 tablespoons sugar were used for the dumplings.

An apple crisp was made next, and this took a larger proportion of sugar than any of the other desserts. It is suggested that brown sugar be borrowed from the family ration, and be replaced with the $\frac{3}{4}$ cup of white from the special allowance for this recipe.

8 apples
$\frac{1}{2}$ cup sugar
$\frac{1}{4}$ cup flour
3 tablespoons butter
$\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon cinnamon
$\frac{1}{4}$ teaspoon cloves

Mix sugar, flour, and spices and rub in the butter till the

His uncle was some years older, but not an old man. He had gone to the bank to assist his nephew in procuring money to meet obligations. The bank authorities were glad to be of service, and readily accepted the uncle's endorsement on the note drawn up in behalf of his nephew.

The younger man had never found his place in life. He lacked stability, lacked persistence, lacked the art of holding on, and fighting his way through in the face of obstacles. He risked too much on uncertainties. He procrastinated. He did not value a dollar. People trusted him because they liked his sunny nature and big heartedness. But they found out that they could not do business on those qualities alone.

The uncle never had the help that the nephew had. He was one of several children, and the parents were not rich. He had to work and work hard for all that he had, but he got ahead, slowly but surely. He was economical, thrifty, ambitious. His prestige in the community grew with the passing years. He did not contract for more than he could meet. He learned to do without, and he spent less than he earned always, no matter what his income was.

What a story that little episode in the bank tells. It shows how a man toiled hard to keep his credit good so that his colleagues were glad to help him when they could. It also shows another unfortunate condition, that of one who did not make good, who failed to keep his credit where it should have been. The world itself passed judgment on the two men.

When a man's note is good, and his word is as good as his note, that is a decided asset. It is working capital. It is personal power.

Milk Production Dependent on Farmer

Raising milk production is one of the most important war jobs which has been handed to the farmer because government officials and nutritionists are agreed that milk is vitally needed to maintain the fighting strength of the nation and the health of workers on the home front. Cheese and butter have been on the Wartime Prices and Trade Board subsidy list for months, but recently a fluid milk subsidy was added to it. Under the new regulations it is expected that it will pay farmers to feed their cows better and build up milk production.

Agricultural authorities point out that a herd of 10 good dairy cows should produce an average of 25 pounds of milk for each cow, or a total of 250 pounds a day. Such a herd put on good after-grass should increase its production by at least five lbs. a day per cow. This would mean an increase of another 1,500 pounds for the herd in one month and a substantial rise in the month's milk check for the farmer.

The basic subsidy being paid producers through the

16 Tons Poultry Pooled in Week

Dressed poultry marketing in Nova Scotia through dressed poultry pools is progressing favorably with more than two-thirds of the total year's volume already marketed, and marketed at prices pleasing to the producers. Last week pools were held at Pugwash, Nappan, River John, Port Williams, Newport, Middle Musquodoboit, when a total of 32,069 lbs., or more than 16 tons, was marketed. The largest pool was at Port Williams where the Cornwallis Poultry Club disposed of 14,442 lbs. The quality as well as the quantity of the poultry was high. Out of the total marketed at the five pools 861 lbs. went into "Special" milkfed grade of capons and chickens, and 29,100 lbs. into milkfed "A" or "B" capons and chickens. This means that over 90% made the highest grades.

N.S.A.C. Enrolment Keeps Up

Despite the very heavy inroads into farm personnel by the call of young men to various branches of national service the enrolment at the Nova Scotia agricultural college is practically the same this year as it was last year. The 32 degree students who last month began their fall terms were joined on November 3 by 13 students who are taking the 5-month farm course. The names of the degree students were previously published in this column.

More Groups Should Organize

Farm Radio Forum groups are now being organized in many communities and interesting reports on forum findings are beginning to arrive at the office of the Nova Scotia-New Brunswick Secretary, Lewis E. McKay, 576 Main Street, Moncton. Those who have not got together in groups as yet will find it profitable and pleasant if they arrange a get-together for next Monday night. Drop a line to the secretary at Moncton, and have Forum Facts and Forum Findings available each week. The program, "Manpower and Farm Labor" which was scheduled for Monday, November 16, will be heard November 30.

Tunisia And The Mediterranean Front

Between Cape Bon, in Tunisia, and the island of Sicily, lies the narrowest stretch of the Mediterranean. Largely because of this geographical factor, the advent of foreign military forces is nothing new in the history of Tunisia. The Berbers, inhabitants of the country since remote antiquity have seen successive waves of invasion, and in some cases "colonization," by Carthaginians, Romans, Arabs and Turks. In 1881 the French established a protectorate by force of arms. Tunisia's 900 miles of coastline and the harbours of Tunis, Bizerta, Susa and Sfax have long been recognized as highly important to control of the Mediterranean.

Geographically Tunisia consists of a relatively narrow strip of country bounded on the west by Algeria, on the north and east by the Mediterranean, and on the south-east and south by Italy's colony, Tripolitania. The total area is something under 49,000 square miles, inhabited by a population of 2,608,000. According to the 1936 census some 92% of the population at that time was made up of Moslems and native Jews. Of the remaining 8% about half were French, (108,068) and the rest were Italians (94,289) and other European nationalities. Of the Italian portion of the population, the French estimated before the war that less than 20% were pro-Fascist, despite powerful propaganda efforts on the part of Italy. The Fascist element was said to be confined almost entirely to the relatively small peasants and laborers, by far the greatest part of the Italian population in Tunisia, there was said to exist a fairly strong anti-Fascist element.

The country may be roughly divided into five different areas according to physical features. In the north the terrain is characterized by mountainous areas alternating with large and fertile valleys; in the north east, soil and climate combine to make the land especially suitable for citrus cultivation; the Sahel area, in east-central Tunisia, is noted for its olive groves; central Tunisia is an area of high table lands and pastures while in the south, verging on the Sahara, the country is famous for date trees and gardens. Agricultural products form the chief source of revenue for Tunisia, and account for over 60% of all exports. Wheat and other grains, fresh fruits, olives and olive oil are the most important agricultural products.

Minerals also play an important part in Tunisia's economy. Natural phosphates, iron, lead and zinc ores are produced in very considerable quantities, and make up the balance of Tunisian exports.

Manufacturing on any scale is virtually unknown in the country, so that manufactured goods form a large part of Tunisia's purchases. Strangely enough for a predominantly agricultural country, foodstuffs are also imported in fairly large quantities, a fact attributed to the restricted range of Tunisian agricultural produce.

Tunisia is linked with Algeria by a trunk line of the Central North Africa Railway. A branch line connects the port of Bizerta, in the north, with Tunis, the principal port and city, while another line down the east coast runs from Tunis to the other two main ports of Susa and Sfax. Still other branches run inland from these coastal towns. Total length of these lines is about 1,300 miles, of which some 1,000 miles belong to the State. In addition to the railway lines there are about 4,000 miles of roads, of which nearly 2,000 miles are classified as main highways, the remainder being second-class and local roads.

Christmas Tree Crop Harvesting

J. Vian Andrews, who for the past 27 years, has been the largest shipper of Christmas trees in Digby County, is again busy getting out trees for this season, although he says that this year he will only harvest a portion of the usual amount.

Mr. Andrews' trees are sold in New York, where several carloads are sent each year. He accompanies his trees, and attends personally to their disposal.

A letter from Mr. Andrews appeared in a recent issue of the Halifax Chronicle. In this letter Mr. Andrews voiced his protests to the ban on the shipment of Christmas trees to the United States. (This ban has since been lifted by the government.) In this letter he stated Christmas trees were cut on pasture land, and the cutting of them benefitted the farmer.

Primarily the ban was placed to relieve freight cars for the shipment of more essential materials, but, as Mr. Andrews pointed out in his letter, "nothing has been done to stop the liquor traffic carried on by our government. Carload after carload have been sent forward over the railroads of Canada. I have watched them unload carloads in the town of Digby alone. Trucks would transfer it to the government store with sufficient men to handle it. There were over two hundred millions of dollars worth of liquor (that is according to statistics) sold in Canada in 1941. I would like to know how many thousands of railway cars were used to carry that vast amount of booze and how much gasoline and rubber were used in trucking it from railway sidings to liquor stores alone?

"I am informed that this present year there has been a large increase over the sales of 1942 and I have not heard one protest from our governments. There was some talk of curtailing the manufacture of liquors for drinking purposes, as there were sufficient supplies on hand to last for a long time, but that does not cut down the use of transportation facilities, which must necessarily mean the use of railroad cars, trucks, tires, gasoline and manual labor.

"Now I am not going to say much about how damnable I think all this is to a Christian nation, trying to carry on through such a deadly struggle as we are in this war of destruction of life and property with our democratic freedom at stake. As far as I am concerned I would never ship another Christmas tree if it would in any way hinder our war effort, but the point that I am trying to make it, 'Why choke at a gnat and swallow a camel?' without blinking an eye lid.

"The news item in question said something about saving the time the men would take in cutting trees, as they would be better employed in the lumber woods. This may be true, although we cut trees in the rain and stormy weather and do not lose any days, and November is usually about the darkest month of the year. But consider the number of men employed in the liquor business! I know of quite young men employed in government liquor stores. Now what about Christmas? Are the children to do without their trees this year, and is Dad going to be able to have his Christmas cheer? Is it that young "Johnny" at home is going to write to his big brother "Bill" in the army, that he had no Christmas tree, and had nothing to tell "Bill" about Christmas to take his thoughts back to his old home life, except that Dad had his liquor, and it came on a box car that could have brought a carload of Christmas trees just as easily and cheaply and spread abroad that spirit of Peace and Goodwill that it always brings to young and old at Christmas time?"

About This and That

The Worst Is Yet to Come

It is hoped that Hitler, Mussolini, Hirohito and Company are giving proper consideration to the announcement recently made by President Roosevelt as to the size of the armed forces of the United States by the end of 1943. It may be recalled that the President said:

"The American army is to be increased from its 4,500,000 at the present time to 7,500,000 by the end of next year; the navy's personnel will be jumped from 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 men in that time, and the marines will grow from the present 400,000 to 700,000 fighters."

This will mean an armed force of more than 9,500,000 United States fighters, with plenty of replacements at home to keep it at that figure, no matter how heavy the losses may be. And axis leaders shouldn't delude themselves that we can't move them overseas. The recent expedition to the North African coast—consisting of about 500 transports and supply ships, plus 350 warships—proves what can be done along this line.

Yes, Herr Hitler, you have reason for worry. For we have just begun the fight. That landing and seizure of North Africa was just a preliminary job to throw you off balance. Wait until we start swinging at you from the floor.

They Know How

Our government is training thousands of men how to fight, thousands more how to make arms and mechanized equipment with which men may fight, and still thousands more how to house, feed, and clothe the families of fighters and mechanics. It is doing so to have in this war men who know how to do everything that has to be done.

Knowing how is the secret of the success in fighting this war from start to finish.

After the war "to know how" is going to be for generations the measure of the value to the nation of every man and woman, in the establishment and maintenance of permanent peace.

'Always in My Heart'

"Always in My Heart" which introduces the charming new fifteen-year-old singing star, Gloria Warren, has been scheduled for showing at the Capitol Theatre, Digby, next Wednesday and Thursday, under the auspices of the Digby Board of Trade. Also starred in the new Warner Bros. picture are Kay Francis and Walter Huston, with a featured cast that includes Frankie Thomas, Patty Hale, and Borrash Minnevitich and His Rascals, the famed harmonica band.

A heart-warm and delightful story, "Always in My Heart" follows the fortunes of a little family in a small sea coast town. The mother, son and daughter have been struggling along trying to make ends meet. Mother acquires a wealthy suitor, but can't decide whether or not to accept him. She is still in love with her former husband, whom she divorced years ago at his own insistence when he was sent to jail. When she appeals to him for advice, he tells her to get married, concealing the fact that he has been pardoned and released.

He visits the little coast town to get one glimpse of the children he loves so dearly. He doesn't intend to stay but after he becomes acquainted with his lovely little daughter and hears her glorious singing voice, he can't tear himself away. She, on her part, becomes very fond of the "Professor" as she knows him, who teaches her some songs he has written. Her mother, hearing her sing "Always in My Heart" questions her and finds out about the "Professor." Over-joyed to find he is in town, the mother goes to him and begs him to come home. He refuses, tells her she must marry the man who can do the most for the children. Meanwhile, his daughter, having discovered that he is her father follows him in a little speedboat when she hears that he has left town by boat. He has not left, however, having gone to the rescue of his son who has gotten into a fight over a girl. He finds out about his daughter's whereabouts just in time to save her from being drowned. And at last the father realizes that he is the one his family wants and needs.

Adele Comandini wrote the original screen play which was suggested by a play by Dorothy Bennett and Irving White. Jo Graham directed the production.

Britain Needs More Lumber

In a review of the lumber requirements of Great Britain and Canada made by Major A. I. Harris, British Timber Controller and A. S. Nicholson, Associate Timber Controller for Canada at a meeting of the Maritime Scotland this coming winter was stressed in order to meet the needs of those markets. The British Timber Controller stated that British requirements were considerably greater than last year and that there was an assured market for every foot of lumber that can be produced. If British needs, amounting to more than a billion feet, were not filled, war production in the United Kingdom would be retarded.

The Canadian Timber Controller stated that Canada's lumber production was needed for essential war work in the United Kingdom, Canada and the United States. He urged the industry to maintain production in 1943 at 1942 levels. The bulk of production would have to come from the small operators.

Following the general meeting which was attended by over 100 lumbermen from all sections of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, a meeting of the directors of the Bureau was held, with both Controllers present. Production prospects for 1943 were reviewed and price levels discussed. A recommendation was submitted to the British Controller that the same price be paid on the Atlantic seaboard for a comparable specification, thereby eliminating price differentials hitherto existing.

At the suggestion of the Canadian Timber Controller it was agreed to establish a semi-official connection between the Maritime Lumber Bureau and the Canadian Timber Control Board at Ottawa on matters affecting Maritime lumber production.

G. P. Burchill, of South Nelson, N.B., chairman of the Maritime Lumber Bureau, presided over both meetings. In attendance were Hon. W. S. Anderson, Minister of Public Works for New Brunswick and Hon. J. H. MacQuarrie, Minister of Lands and Forests for Nova Scotia.

Dr. H. E. Kendall New Lieut.-Governor

The appointment of Dr. Henry Ernest Kendall, of Mathers, who resigned the office for personal reasons, is a retired physician and a prominent Annapolis Valley fruit grower. He is a past president of the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association.

Dr. Kendall practised medicine in Newfoundland and North Sydney, N. S., until the outbreak of the war in 1914, when he joined the Canadian Army Medical Corps. He served during the whole war and rose to the rank of Lieut.-Colonel. On his return to civilian life he did not resume his medical profession, but took farming near Windsor, where he has since resided.

Neutral Sweden Isn't Comfortable

Neutral Sweden faces the winter with an acute fuel problem and less food than normally, but thankful that her lot is better than that of the other Scandinavian countries. So the people are comparatively happy, even though homes, particularly in Stockholm, are chilly and uncomfortable.

Industry also is feeling the effects of the fuel shortage. Many factories are burning wood and peat instead of coal. Electric power has been subjected to rationing, and many big factories have announced that they will be compelled to shut down.

The fuel problem was increased by Germany's default on her contract for coal deliveries by approximately 3,000,000 tons in the last two years. Minus sufficient coal, the Swedish government conscripted 60,000 men, the entire 1943 military class, for wood cutting, but that will not help this winter because the program won't go into effect until spring.

Last year the people at Stockholm were allowed a warm bath about once a month. Now the government has ordered that there is to be no warm water before Christmas, and probably there won't be any through the winter.

Meat rations will be smaller than last year, and a shortage of fresh fish is in prospect.

But the meat reduction is a heartening sign in one respect, in that it reflects this year's bumper crops and consequently less slaughtering of animals for meat products. In connection with the fuel shortage, oil for lubricating purposes is scarce and motor traffic has been reduced.

Sweden also has a rubber shortage but hopes to grow her own eventually. Several hundred acres have been sown with Russian "rubber weed," the seeds of which were procured by the Germans in the Ukraine.

SWISS CHARD YIELDS IF ROOTS ARE DUG UP, REMOVED TO BASEMENT

Swiss chard that has provided greens throughout the summer months will continue to yield during the winter if roots are dug up and removed to the basement. A fair amount of light and a temperature of from 45 to 55 degrees will give good production. If placed on an earthen floor the chard will not need any further soil. If placed on a cement floor a small quantity of soil around the roots is necessary.

Envelopes have been distributed for contributions to the Navy League of Canada. Students have been asked to contribute as generously as possible for this worthy cause.

The stamp sale for the week of November 14-20, amounted to $38.50. The total from stamps sold between October 2-November 20, amounted to $303.25. The total from stamps and bonds sold between October 2-November 20 amounted to $703.25.

New uniforms for Cadet Corps in Canada have been designed in Ottawa. Half the cost of these uniforms is paid by the Federal Government. The other half is to be raised by the individual cadet corps. This can be paid in three equal annual installments. Digby Academy Cadet Corps will hold a tag day on Saturday, December 5, to raise money for these uniforms.

Advocate Open Season For Moose

An open season for moose in 1943 was recommended in a resolution passed at the annual meeting of the Digby-Annapolis Counties Fish and Game Protective Association at the Court House, Digby. This resolution suggests that the season shall be from Oct. 21st to Oct. 31st with a bag limit of one male.

The resolution was passed after considerable discussion of the moose "population" in this area. Forest ranger A. V. Banks reported moose plentiful in Digby County, and stated "nearly every cow has a calf." Frank Dittmars declared he was surprised that a number of the fish and game associations had recommended the closed season be extended to include 1943. He stated he had seen seven moose within a week, and in his opinion there was sufficient evidence to warrant an open season next year. He also expressed belief that such season in the "back areas" where supplies are difficult to procure, would relieve the meat situation considerably.

The meeting opened with the reading of the minutes of the last annual session. The president's report was given by the vice-president, N. A. Patterson, who paid tribute to the late president, Dr. L. J. Lovett, of Bear River. As a tribute to Dr. Lovett all present stood in silence for one minute, and the secretary was instructed to write Mrs. Lovett expressing sympathy from the members of the Association.

Officers for the ensuing year were named as follows: President—W. A. Patterson.

Vice-President—A. V. Banks. Secretary-Treasurer—J. N. McClafferty.

Directors—T. E. G. Lynch, George Danielson, A. D. Pickett, Frank Dittmars and Chas. Wharton.

Auditors—B. P. McCarthy and C. V. Snow.

With respect to deer, there was an amendment to the motion that the season in 1943 remain the same as this year, however, the amendment which would limit the bag to one deer had no second. Mr. Buchanan of the Department of Lands and Forests, who was present at the meeting gave figures with respect to the deer killed as up to November 19. The reported kill in Nova Scotia was then 7891 as against 8294 at the same date in 1941. His figures showed that for Annapolis County 321 bucks and

Yarmouth Desires Bus Travel Between Digby And That Town

The Yarmouth Town Council has backed a resolution passed by the Yarmouth Board of Trade calling for an amendment to the present 50-mile bus ruling inasmuch as it affects travelling from Yarmouth to Digby. Both bodies viewed the matter strongly and it was felt that passengers should at least be allowed to travel from Yarmouth to Digby, therefore making connections with the Saint John boat.

Following is the resolution: "Resolved that the present bus service operation out of Yarmouth to Digby be allowed to carry passengers from Yarmouth to Digby; that this is an essential service in that considerable time is saved persons that are travelling to Saint John and other points; that this service is not at a time when trains are operating; that from Port Maitland to Weymouth these districts are not served by the railway."

"Also resolved that the Dominion Atlantic Railway be asked to put in operation on the night train to Halifax a "sleeper" for the welfare of the travelling public."

"That copies of this resolution be passed to the Federal Member, the Local Member, the Regional Transit Controller, the Board of Commissioners of Public Utilities."

The above action was taken following several incidents which have happened since the regulation was put into effect.

The Yarmouth Herald also states: "Another 'gas and rubber saver' occurred here yesterday morning when two airmen in a rush to make the Digby boat had to hire a taxi to take them 15 miles from Yarmouth where they waited for the bus to finish their trip."

Lecture Given To Aid Queen's Fund

An interesting lecture on "Bird Life in Canada" by the Rev. L. W. Mosher, Bridgetown rector, was given in the Baptist hall, Deep Brook, on Friday evening, the hall being kindly loaned for the occasion. This lecture was sponsored by St. Matthew's Sunday school for the benefit of all children of the community, and had whole-hearted co-operation of the Baptist minister, Rev. T. F. McWilliam, and his congregation. The lecture, which was beautifully illustrated, showed that the speaker is a keen observer and deeply interested in his subject. A sing-song with Mrs. Walter Lent, pianist, was later enjoyed. Net receipts of the evening will go to the Queen's Canadian Fund.

288 does had been reported at that date against 332 bucks and 361 does for the same period last year, while in Digby County this year's kill to November 19 was 322 bucks and 301 does against 310 bucks and 293 does to the same date in 1941.

The association approved of a season from October 15 to November 15 for ruffed grouse, and from October 10 to November 10 for Woodcock and Wilson Snipe. No changes were sought in the present season for ducks, geese and rabbits.

With respect to fishing resolutions were passed recommending the closing of the Lequille River for two miles above high water and the Round Hill stream for five miles above high water, to trout fishing.

Governor-General Introduces Campaign

In his message introducing the T.B. Seal Campaign for 1942, His Excellency, the Governor-General remarked that there was an increase in T.B. in Canada in the year 1941. With this in mind, the people of Digby will be ready with a good response for our collectors, some of whom have already made their appearance at homes and places of business.

The load is heavy on the men and women in the offices, stores, banks, and the factories producing non-war essentials. These people must be kept at maximum efficiency. Illness at home distracts the fighter and distracts the worker. Illness at home can spread to others. We must provide healthy fighters and workers for some time. Children of today will do the working and fighting tomorrow and they must be protected against disabling disease.

Illness takes time and money that could be used for war production. Upon public health agencies and tuberculosis association falls the responsibility for building and maintaining the health and productive power of the men and women at the machines. A sick workman cannot produce the weapons of victory and it takes 18 workmen at home to supply one soldier in the field.

More Money For Fund

A contribution of $17.45 from the Ever Ready Club, of Mount Pleasant, and an additional 25 cents from a friend in Smith's Cove, swelled our Infantile Paralysis Fund this week by $17.70. This brings the total to well over $600.

The response to the appeal for this fund has been very gratifying.

Sgt. Channing Burnham is visiting at his home.

Couple Married Fifty-Six Years

On Saturday, November 28, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Delaney, well known and highly respected residents of Central Grove, will observe the 56th anniversary of their marriage.

They were married at Freeport, November 28th, 1886, by Rev. L. M. Weeks, and they have resided in Central Grove all their married life.

Charles Franklin Delaney, better known as "Frank", was born in Central Grove, January 10th, 1863, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Delaney, an Irish family.

Mrs. Delaney (formerly Almeda Brooks), was born in Freeport, January 31st, 1863, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Israel Brooks. Part of her girlhood was spent in Centreele, Annapolis County, where her father was engaged in ship-building.

They have one son, Llewellyn, Central Grove; two daughters, Mrs. Burton Shortliffe, Central Grove, and Mrs. Dalton Stevens, Port Maitland, Yarmouth County; two grandchildren, Alta (Mrs. Charles Bain) Port Maitland; and Ivan Shortliffe, Digby; also one great grandson, Ivan Bain, Port Maitland.

Seven More Sections Approve Larger Unit

Seven more Digby Municipality School Sections have voted in favor of the larger unit of school administration. The latest additions to the list are Lansdowne, Bear River Road, Morganville, Milford Corner, Smith's Cove, Mount Pleasant and Hill Grove.

There are yet eight more sections in the Municipality to vote on this matter—36 have voted to date, only two opposing the "larger unit."

Mr. and Mrs. George H. Abrahamson, of Waltham, Mass., who has been here due to the illness of her father, A. A. Shortliffe, returned Monday.

Teachers' Union Meets in Digby

A very successful meeting of the Digby Local of the Nova Scotia Teachers' Union was held in the Digby Academy on Saturday, November 21. In an address to the members, Mr. Eaton, principal and supervisor of the Digby Academy, emphasized the point that our gains in any venture are in direct proportion to the energy we put into it.

Of our seventy teachers in this district there are already sixteen part-time members, three paying on the installment plan, and twenty-one who have pledged membership.

It was decided to arrange three study groups; one to serve the teachers of the schools in the Weymouth area, one for the teachers on the islands, and the third at Digby to accommodate teachers in and about Digby and also on the Digby Neck. Mr. Keith L. Perry, principal of the Westport school, was chosen to lead the group on the islands; Mrs. Augustin Lombard, of the preparatory department in Weymouth, as leader of the Weymouth Group; and Miss Greta Zinck, of the Digby Academy staff, to conduct the meetings in that area.

"Tragedy" At Riverdale

We understand there was a real "tragedy" at Riverdale recently. Walter Sabine, who lives some distance from the village store, was bringing his grocery supplies home on his bicycle, carrying them in the parcel carrier—the supplies included two weeks' sugar rations for his family. All went well until Walter struck a hole in the road, the paper bag of sugar bounced out and broke. Walter did manage to salvage some from the road, but he knows he will run short before the time comes to "clip" more coupons.

His stomach pierced by a log which protruded from a parked truck, six-year-old Jeffrey Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Burns, Ashmore, Digby County, died before he reached the hospital at Digby Monday evening. The child's father is still a patient, suffering painful injuries including the loss of an eye and broken leg, while another young man, Edmund Sabine, escaped with cuts and bruises.

The accident occurred near the Baptist Church at Ashmore, when a truck driven by Norman Burns, crashed into a parked truck owned by H. T. Warne Ltd., Digby, and operated by Eddy Gaudet. The Warne truck was parked on its right side of the road with lights on while Gaudet had gone into a nearby house to get water for the radiator of his machine.

Both trucks were travelling along the paved highway in the direction of Digby. Apparently Burns, who was accompanied by his little son and fifteen year old Sabine, crashed into the rear of the parked machine which was heavily laden with logs destined for the Warne mill at Digby.

The impact was such that the logs crashed through the cab of the Warne truck, and through the cab of the truck operated by Burns. It was one of these logs that struck the little Burns boy, piercing his stomach, and almost pinning him to the cab seat. Death was not instantaneous, although he died before reaching hospital.

Dr. H. J. Pothier and Dr. H. J. Melanson, both of Weymouth, were called to the scene of the accident. A coroner's jury was empanelled Tuesday morning to inquire into the tragedy with Dr. H. J. Pothier presiding. The inquest was postponed until such time as the father of the dead child could give evidence.

Will Speak To Board

Major J. Campbell of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board will address a meeting of the Digby Board of Trade at the United Church Hall on Tuesday evening, December 8, at 8 p.m. The address should be of especial interest to all business men. A good attendance is expected.

Lansdowne

Mr. and Mrs. William Hinckman were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Alcorn, Bear River.

Mrs. Byford, Digby, spent last week end with Mrs. Gertrude Woolf.

Mrs. Oradelle Miller returned from Margaretsville last Wednesday after spending several weeks with her daughter, Mrs. Theodore Beals.

Mrs. Ben Mohar was a guest of Mrs. Harry Woodgate for a few days last week.

Pte. and Mrs. Earl K. Drew recently visited in Marshalltown and Yarmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Pitman and two children, and Mr. and Mrs. John Connell, of Granville Centre, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carey Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Miller and Miss Jean Rawie made a trip to Berwick on Tuesday. They were accompanied home by Mrs. Walter Rawie, who has been a patient in the Western Kings Memorial Hospital.

The mountain caribou of Jasper National Park in Alberta, and Glacier and Mount Revelstoke National Park in British Columbia, is very seldom seen by those whose travels are confined to the motorways. In the summer it lives mostly above timberline, on high alpine meadows far from the roads rather than on the steep slopes overlooking them. In winter it comes down into the woods, Park warden on their lonely rounds and others whom the spirit of adventure takes back into the hills, find a great deal of pleasure in watching the behavior of caribou herds. The mountain caribou living in the Selkirk and part of the Rockies, is undoubtedly a close relation of the woodland caribou of the forests farther east. Some herds of woodland caribou range into Prince Albert National Park, Saskatchewan.

About This and That

The Worst Is Yet to Come

It is hoped that Hitler, Mussolini, Hirohito and Company are giving proper consideration to the announcement recently made by President Roosevelt as to the size of the armed forces of the United States by the end of 1943. It may be recalled that the President said:

"The American army is to be increased from its 4,500,000 at the present time to 7,500,000 by the end of next year; the navy's personnel will be jumped from 1,000,000 to 1,500,000 men in that time, and the marines will grow from the present 400,000 to 700,000 fighters."

This will mean an armed force of more than 9,500,000 United States fighters, with plenty of replacements at home to keep it at that figure, no matter how heavy the losses may be. And axis leaders shouldn't delude themselves that we can't move them overseas. The recent expedition to the North African coast—consisting of about 500 transports and supply ships, plus 350 warships—proves what can be done along this line.

Yes, Herr Hitler, you have reason for worry. For we have just begun the fight. That landing and seizure of North Africa was just a preliminary job to throw you off balance. Wait until we start swinging at you from the floor.

They Know How

Our government is training thousands of men how to fight, thousands more how to make arms and mechanized equipment with which men may fight, and still thousands more how to house, feed, and clothe the families of fighters and mechanics. It is doing so to have in this war men who know how to do everything that has to be done.

Knowing how is the secret of the success in fighting this war from start to finish.

After the war "to know how" is going to be for generations the measure of the value to the nation of every man and woman, in the establishment and maintenance of permanent peace.

'Always in My Heart'

"Always in My Heart" which introduces the charming new fifteen-year-old singing star, Gloria Warren, has been scheduled for showing at the Capitol Theatre, Digby, next Wednesday and Thursday, under the auspices of the Digby Board of Trade. Also starred in the new Warner Bros. picture are Kay Francis and Walter Huston, with a featured cast that includes Frankie Thomas, Patty Hale, and Borrash Minnevitich and His Rascals, the famed harmonica band.

A heart-warm and delightful story, "Always in My Heart" follows the fortunes of a little family in a small sea coast town. The mother, son and daughter have been struggling along trying to make ends meet. Mother acquires a wealthy suitor, but can't decide whether or not to accept him. She is still in love with her former husband, whom she divorced years ago at his own insistence when he was sent to jail. When she appeals to him for advice, he tells her to get married, concealing the fact that he has been pardoned and released.

He visits the little coast town to get one glimpse of the children he loves so dearly. He doesn't intend to stay but after he becomes acquainted with his lovely little daughter and hears her glorious singing voice, he can't tear himself away. She, on her part, becomes very fond of the "Professor" as she knows him, who teaches her some songs he has written. Her mother, hearing her sing "Always in My Heart" questions her and finds out about the "Professor." Over-joyed to find he is in town, the mother goes to him and begs him to come home. He refuses, tells her she must marry the man who can do the most for the children. Meanwhile, his daughter, having discovered that he is her father follows him in a little speedboat when she hears that he has left town by boat. He has not left, however, having gone to the rescue of his son who has gotten into a fight over a girl. He finds out about his daughter's whereabouts just in time to save her from being drowned. And at last the father realizes that he is the one his family wants and needs.

Adele Comandini wrote the original screen play which was suggested by a play by Dorothy Bennett and Irving White. Jo Graham directed the production.

MARRIAGES

Law - Hamilton

At the Full Gospel Tabernacle, Prince Edward St., Rev. J. Bailey united in marriage Miss Phyllis Emily Hamilton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Hamilton, of Saint John, formerly of Victoria Beach, to Spr. Clifton Thomas Law, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Law, Hatfield's Point, at a recent date. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a slipper-length dress of white taffeta having a white lace yoke and the bodice buttoned down the back. Her veil was arranged from a coronet of lilies and her bouquet was of red roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Betty Foster, wore a dress of pink chiffon and accessories to match. She carried a bouquet of carnations. The groom and his groomsmen, Spr. Charles Hill, wore the dress uniform of their unit, the Royal Canadian Engineers. The ushers were Staff Sergeant Teifer and Lance Corporal Mahaney, both of the R.C.E. Spr. Eustace, of the R.C.E., sang "O Promise Me." Miss Ruth Bailey supplied the wedding music. A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Burger, where pink and white decorations prevailed. The bride's table was covered with a lace cloth and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom. About 60 guests attended. The couple received many gifts. Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Thomas Law, mother of the groom; Mr. and Mrs. Albert Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Bond, Mrs. B. Urquhart and Raymond Graves, Hatfield's Point; Mrs. Roy Graves, Norton and George Sprague, of Glace Bay. Later the bride and groom left on a motor trip and will reside at Saint John.

Hynes - Davies

Grace Episcopal Church, Utica, N.Y., was the scene of a pretty wedding on November 14th, when Miss Gladys Davies, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Lloyd Davies, 35 Jewett Place, Utica, became the bride of Douglas L. Hynes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifton L. Hynes, of Newton Centre, Mass. The ceremony took place at 1 p.m., Rev. Harold E. Sawyer officiating. Miss Megan Davies, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Edward Dundon, friend of the groom, was best man. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, looking very lovely in a street length dress of white wool with hat and shoes of moss green. A corsage of purple orchids made a perfect complement to her costume. Her attendant wore a powder blue envelope dress with hat and shoes of darker shade, her corsage being of yellow orchids and cavalier roses. The bride's mother wore a dress of grey and white crepe, and the groom's mother was attired in a brown silk jersey. Both wore corsages of orchids. Immediately following the wedding a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. After a short wedding trip the young couple will reside at 1549 Oneida St., Utica, N.Y.

Fliers Require Good Cooks

Cooking and serving food in the Royal Canadian Air Force and especially at Flying Schools, is now the subject of careful and thorough training. The R.C.A.F. Cooking School provides an excellent course in cooking and nutrition, so that airwomen enlisted in the trade of Cooks have the advantage of this special course to supplement their former knowledge and experience, before going on duty at an officer's, sergeant's or airman's mess.

Girls, also widows and married women, with out dependents, over 18 and under 41, who have had experience in cooking for groups larger than the usual family, are especially invited to apply for enlistment in this important trade. Further information and application forms may be

Swift Conviction Seen As Warning

Swift conviction of three middle-aged Chicago couples on treason charges—the second such verdict in 148 years of American history—has been described by a federal prosecutor as “the handwriting on the wall for all who attempt to be disloyal or have subversive designs.”

The six relatives and friends of the executed nazi saboteur, Herbert Haupt, face possible death sentences as a result of their conviction.

All were German born, naturalized citizens in modest circumstances and without previous criminal records. Government prosecutors charged they aided young Haupt, who was landed in the United States by German submarine last June with an assignment to cripple American war plants.

“By far the great majority of persons of alien parentage are loyal,” said United States District Attorney J. Albert Woll, who directed the prosecution. “The verdict in this case is the handwriting on the wall for all those who would attempt to be disloyal or have subversive designs.”

During the three-week trial, at Chicago, the government brought out that Haupt, a Chicago youth, went to Germany in 1941 and within a short time became a nazi saboteur.

A statement taken from the saboteur's father, Hans Haupt, related the youth returned to Chicago last June 19 and disclosed his plans to all six defendants. The six were charged with giving the youth “aid and comfort” while he laid the groundwork for his sabotage plans. Those convicted included his parents, an uncle and aunt and two friends.

Leads Poll of Canadian Women

Lt.-Col. Elizabeth Smellie, matron-in-chief of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps Nursing Service, has been chosen the outstanding Canadian woman by Canadian women editors, the Women's Committee of International Relations revealed recently.

Second to Miss Smellie was the name of E. Cora Hind, of Winnipeg, who before she died recently was acknowledged as one of Canadian pioneer newspaperwomen and a leader in that field.

The poll was conducted among 60 women editors, who were asked to help the committee compile a list of outstanding women in Canada.

When a great warship fires her big guns in action against the axis the act is much more complicated than merely aiming the barrel and pushing a button to set off the shell.

American correspondents have been permitted to watch the cycle of load-aim-fire with the British home fleet at a northern naval base, observing automatic rifles, rapid fire anti-aircraft guns, four-inch naval guns, and all the way up to the 14-inch rifles of the flagship King George V.

The inspection began down in the bottom of the ship, where the shells and charges are kept in magazines as far as possible away from enemy attack. Automatic hoists clamp down on a shell in a bin and lift it to a revolting ring from which, by a quarter turn, it can be fed into a hoist serving either of two guns as may be required.

Machinery fills every available corner of the gun pits: Hoist controls are located on a level above the magazines. Still higher are charges of cordite moving from their own magazines to join the shells. They shuttle across new hoists to another level, where they are rammed from the hoist into a carrier which arranges them in their proper positions—first the shell itself; then two charges of cordite, each in its own metal container that looks something like a giant flashlight battery.

The carrier weighs tons and moves a few feet on rails to a final hoist, which lifts it up to the gun breech. There it is rammed home automatically, and the hoist drops down for another load.

The fire control on a destroyer is just as complex. Just behind the bridge is a turret equipped with every type of visual aid for fixing targets. Below a chamber of wonders contains instruments which receive data from the turret and compute range, direction, enemy's speed, the ship's own speed, the enemy's course, and altitude, and translate the data into a few simple figures for training the guns. Most of the process is automatic.

Ships Sunk By Sunshine

The saying that “there's nothing new under the sun” applies particularly to warfare. Poison gas, for instance, was used by General Pagondas of the Boetian army about 400 B.C. He choked and killed hundreds of the enemy with sulphur and pitch smoke.

The idea of the machine guns came to the Romans, three of whom, Heron, Phil-ion, and Bitruvus, left descriptions of mechanical bows which fired 150 arrows a minute by the mere turning of a handle. Even the use of flame-throwers is old, for before the Christian era we read of Greek fire, which was hurled by rockets at enemy warships. The Greeks were an extremely inventive race, and we know that in 2144 B.C., when the Roman fleet attacked Syracuse, Archimedes concentrated the sun's rays on it by means of reflecting mirrors and caused many of the ships to burst into flames. The tank idea was developele Comeau, both of Meteghan. The bride wore a long train white gown with veil and accessories to match, carrying a bouquet of white and pink roses with fern. Little Carmilla, daughter of Ralph Comeau, of Saulnierville, was flower girl. The bride was given away by Delie Comeau, the groom's cousin. The bride's sister, Miss Agnes Comeau was bridesmaid, Miss Elizabeth Comeau, sister of the groom, was maid of honor and Adolphe E. Comeau, was best man. As the bride belonged to the Sodality of the Children of Mary, a special altar to the Virgin, decorated and illuminated, was in the sanctuary with bannes. Mrs. Jos. S. LeBlanc was at the organ and accompanied the singing of the Nuptial High Mass, which was directed by A. F. Haché. After the ceremony, breakfast was served at the bride's parents and on their return from a wedding tour supper was served by the groom's mother to many relatives and invited guests. At a previous shower the newly weds received many valuable gifts.

Meteghan

The 9th paragraph of the Meteghan news last week was all wrong, it should have read like this: Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Robichaud, of Corberrie, on their return from Yarmouth visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elie Robichaud. Mrs. Bernard Hainey, aged 95, is critically ill. She received the last rites of the church Saturday morning. There is quite a difference in what was written last week about these two items, which were confused in one.

Albert J. Comeau, of St. Martin de Clare, took charge Thursday of the Irving Serving Station here. Patrick P. Gaudet having resigned. Frank Coteau, optician, has cultivated in his garden a carrot which looks like the left hand of a person. The thumb, the palm and the four fingers are perfectly distinct and the size of an ordinary hand.

Francois Doucet, employed in Halifax, spent Sunday with his family.

John D. Saulnier returned to his work in Halifax after a few weeks' rest with his parents. Mr. and Mrs. Docithe Saulnier.

In Memoriam

IN LOVING MEMORY of our dear brother, Charles (Pete) Germaine, who passed away November 26th, 1939.

You are not forgotten, loved one,

Nor will you ever be, As long as life and memory last,

We will remember thee. —Inserted by his sisters and brothers.

IN LOVING MEMORY of our dear mother, Mrs. Ernest Germaine, who passed away November 30th, 1940.

God called her home, it was His will,

But in our hearts we love her still, Her memory is as dear today

As in the hour she passed away.

We often sit and think of her When we are all alone, For memory is the only thing That grief can call its own.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Alpheus Marshall

The death occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. P. R. Saunders, Windsor, of Certe, widow of Alpheus Marshall, of Weymouth. She was born in Riverdale in 1855, the daughter of the late John and Nancy Wagner. She was twice married, her first husband being Albert Graham, of Centreville. "Aunt Certe," as she was fondly called, will be greatly missed by all who knew her. She is survived by one daughter by her first husband, Alma (Mrs. Everett Byers) Middleton; and two daughters by her second husband, Lucy (Mrs. P. R. Saunders), Windsor, and Althea (Mrs. Max Munro), of Lynn, Mass.; and by eleven grandchildren and twelve great-grandchildren. Funeral services were held at the United Baptist Church in Windsor, and interment was in Southville.

Mrs. Simon Dugas

At Meteghan on Monday evening, November 16, Mrs. Simon Dugas, aged 47, passed away after a few months illness at her home, after having undergone an operation. She leaves her husband and one son, Victor, Dugas, of Roxbury, Mass. Deceased was formerly Agnes Thibodeau, of Meteghan, and was living in the old homestead. She leaves also five sisters: Mrs. Marie J. Robichaud, Mrs. Beatrice Deveau, Mrs. Bernadette R. Landford, all of Lynn, Mass.; Mrs. Laura W. Smith and Mrs. Marguerite Andrews, also in the United States. Funeral services, with High Mass of Requiem, took place Thursday morning at 8.30 from the Stella Maris Church, conducted by Right Rev. Mgr. Bourneuf, D.P., V.F., pastor. Mrs. Joseph S. LeBlanc was at the organ and the choir was directed by Arthur Robichaud and A. F. Haché, with a large congregation present.

Mrs. William German

The death of Mrs. William German, aged 74, occurred Sunday morning, November 15, at St. Elizabeth Hospital, Brighton, Mass. Both Mr. and Mrs. William German had been long residents in Meteghan, having conducted for a long period the Bay View Hotel, and brought up a large family of thirteen children, of which twelve are living. Five sons: George and Harry in Halifax, the lat-

Honey Yield Remains Steady

The quantity of Nova Scotia produced honey this year will be about the same as that of last year according to H. G. Payne, provincial apiarist. Though the clover flow in most parts of the province was extremely light, due to the drought which was especially marked in Pictou and Colchester counties, the fall flow was remarkably good all over the province. The high producer of the Maritimes is believed to be Philip Bishop, with apiaries at Nappan, Amherst, Sackville, N. B., and several other places. His crop will total about 12 tons.

The important thing for all beekeepers is to see that their bees are properly wintered. The right kind of feed must be made for adequate protection from cold and exposure. This is especially important as the question of getting package bees next spring bids fair to have its difficulties. Those packages come very largely from the southern states. Mr. Payne has already been advised by the firm from which he does all his importing, that unless the U. S. Priorities Boards releases more wire for cages and tins for holding syrup during transit it would have to go out of business. More definite information on this phase of the situation will be available after the annual meeting of the U. S. Package Bee Producers. Mr. Payne expressed the hope that in the light of the scarcity of sugar and molasses package bees would be available as usual.

Those who are planning to make sure that there is an abundance of flora and a reasonable amount of clover for the bees. A 79 page booklet, entitled "Bee-Keeping", is available on application to the Department of Agriculture, for all interested in this subject.

Agriculture and Education Co-Operating

Evidence of close co-operation between the department of agriculture and education is seen in the interchange that is being carried on at the Nova Scotia agricultural college and the Provincial normal college. Recently

N. S. Butter Production Increases

Creamery butter production in Nova Scotia totalled 542,578 lbs. in October. This was an increase of 5.7 per cent over the October 1941 total of 513,194 lbs. This encouraging report is contained in the monthly summary issued by W. J. Bird, N.S. Dairy Superintendent. For the ten months ended October 31, 1942, the total Nova Scotia lbs produced in the corresponding period of 1941. While increase there has been a market decline in Canadian cold storage holdings. On November 1, 1942, cold storage holdings in nine cities, totalled 26,622,172 lbs. The total on November 1, 1942, was 44,972,965 lbs.

Agricultural Societies are Active

This is the season for annual meetings of agricultural societies. Lunenburg, Cumberland and Pictou societies have already held their annual sessions. Victoria's is scheduled for next week, Yarmouth for November 27 and Digby for December 1. The year 1942 has been an active year with the agricultural societies, which now number more than 240—an increase of 10 this year.

British Women Run Homes While Engaged In War Work

Most vivid memory of Americans who visit England and see its women at war work is not of iron foundries, ship-

"I have a nice house of 12 rooms," explained one English woman to whom an American spoke. "My husband works for the government. We have four children, and I used to have three maids. Like everybody else, I do all the work now. In the dining-room I have a coal heater, but I go to the woods to gather sticks every day to start the fire."

"Hot baths are rare because we let the fire go out after lunch. I don't mind the cooking and cleaning, but the washing is back-breaking. I get up at 6 and never get to bed before 12."

Half a million women in England do part-time industrial work. Frequently two of them relieve each other on an eight-hour day shift and look after each other's housework alternately.

A typical case is that of two sisters, Mrs. Hart, 30, and Mrs. Wyatt, 23. Between them they keep a lather on fulltime production of fuse caps. Mrs. Hart takes the morning shift, while Mrs. Wyatt does the housework and minds the three children.

At noon Mrs. Hart hands over her overalls and machine to her sister and shops on her way home. After the children have been put to bed, the sisters work in the garden, which produces a large part of their families' food. Their husbands are in the armed forces.

In England all the little amenities that mean so much to women are gone. All luxury trades are discontinued. The breaking of a cup is a major disaster. Stockings

Child of Bear River People Killed

Struck by a car as her mother looked helplessly on, three-year-old Miriam Ellis, daughter of Sergeant and Mrs. Wallace Ellis, of Hebron, formerly of Bear River, died last Wednesday in the Yarmouth Hospital, where she had been taken immediately following the accident, which occurred near Hebron corner around five o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

The little girl, with her mother and two other women, were walking on the main highway towards Yarmouth, facing traffic. The car, driven by a Meteghan man, was proceeding in the opposite direction.

The driver turned out to pass the girl and her companions when the little girl is thought to have run in front of the vehicle.

The driver was said to have ditched his car in an effort to avoid striking the girl, who was hurled to the pavement.

Rushed immediately to the Yarmouth Hospital she was found to be critically injured.

The body was shipped by train to the family home in Bear River Thursday morning for burial there.

MARRIAGES

Parker - Peck

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Watson Peck, November 11, when Rev. G. D. Brydon united in marriage Jennie Peck, daughter of Levi Peck, to Wilbur Parker. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of air force blue velvet, with shoulder veil to match. Her corsage was of Talisman roses. The double ring service was used. The nuptial music was rendered by Miss Emma Benson and the home was beautifully decorated with flowers. Following the ceremony a reception was held. Many guests were present. The many gifts testified to the popularity of the young couple. They left for a short honeymoon trip. They will reside in Bear River.

Henshaw - Taylor

A very pretty candle-light wedding took place on Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Clarence Henshaw, when her son, Sgt. Lawrence W. was united in marriage to Viola Doreen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Taylor, of Victoria Beach. The bride and groom stood under an arch of red, white and blue centered by a large white bell. Rev. G. D. Brydon, pastor of the Baptist Church, performed the ceremony. The bride looked charming in her costume of African Tan, carrying an arm bouquet of bronze and yellow chrysanthemums. She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Lawrence Dukeshire, who wore a dress of tropical blue crepe and carried a bouquet of rose and white chrysanthemums. The groom was attended by Roscoe Cress. After the ceremony, refreshments were served to the large number of relatives and friends present. The three-tiered bride's cake was handsomely decorated and was cut by the bride. The gift table was beautifully decorated in pink and white streamers from

VITAL PHOTOGRAPHIC ACCESSORIES

Well chosen accessories will aid you in getting better snapshots such as this one.

NATURALLY, every experienced photographer has his ideas upon the subject, but I think everyone will agree that there are four basic photographic accessories which should be owned and used by every advanced amateur photographer. These are: an exposure guide, a filter, a lens hood, and a tripod.

Why so many? Well each has its use, and whether you own a fairly moderate outfit, or one of the latest and finest cameras, you'll find that each can help you to better picture making. Take an exposure guide, for instance. It doesn't make any difference whether it is a photoelectric exposure meter, or a ten-cent pocket exposure calculator, it will take the guess out of exposure and prevent poorly exposed—and thus wasted—film.

A filter recommends itself because it has a pronounced effect on the quality of your pictures. Some people think a medium yellow filter definitely steps up the quality of outdoor snapshots because it makes clouds stand out attractively and darkens the general sky tone. And I agree with them. A filter is a worthwhile, inexpensive investment. A lens hood, of course, never seems especially vital, but it should be included in your kit because it performs a two-fold service. First, it prevents extraneous light from striking and entering the lens. And secondly, it thus gives brighter, cleaner pictures without any trace of the fog or lens flare which occasionally is apparent in snapshots.

Finally, there's the matter of tripods. Their outstanding quality is that they give you steady exposures without the slightest trace of fuzziness due to camera movement. And that's really important. Get one, put it to work, and you'll find that, like the other photographic accessories mentioned, it will help you produce better pictures more consistently.

the centre light and gifts included Victory Bond, cheque, money, pyrex, linen, blankets, quilt and silver and china, testifying to the high esteem in which the couple were held. Out-of-town guests were: Mrs. Ellsworth Taylor, mother of the bride; Miss Dorothy Taylor and Harold and Glendon Taylor, of Victoria Beach and Miss Margaret Henshaw, of Halifax, sister of the groom. Sgt. and Mrs. Henshaw will reside in Middleton, where Sgt. Henshaw is attached to Greenwood Airport.

Smith - Lawton

A wedding of wide interest to a large number of people in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick took place in the living room of the residence of Rev. and Mrs. B. R. Hamilton, on Tuesday afternoon, November 17. The bride, who was formerly Mrs. Ella R. Lawton, widow of the late C. H. Lawton, of Pawtucket, Rhode Island and Deep Brook, while Mr. Smith has been a successful minister in churches in Nova Scotia and quite recently has been called to the important pastorate of Victoria Street Baptist Church, Saint John. Rev. Dr. G. C. Warren, of Wolfville, in the absence of Rev. B. R. Hamilton, who is away on Chaplaincy duty, performed the ceremony which was a single ring service, at the close of which, Rev. and Mrs. Smith received the good wishes of the guests. The bride wore a Royal Air Force blue dress with accessories to correspond and a beautiful silver fox fur and black felt hat. After the ceremony, Mrs. Hamilton served a delightful buffet lunch at which Mrs. E. Whidden, of Wolfville, poured. Immediately after Rev. and Mrs. Smith left for their home in Saint John, travelling by car by way of Halifax. Both Mr. and Mrs. Smith have received the good wishes of hosts of friends all over Nova Scotia,

New Brunswick. Guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Palmer, Aylesford; Rev. and Mrs. E. Whidden, Wolfville; Rev. and Mrs. G. C. Warren, Wolfville and Mrs. Fraser Bellisle, Ralph Loomer, Falmouth. The room was beautifully decorated with a profusion of varicoloured chrysanthemums from the Loomer Greenhouses, Falmouth.

Freeman - Baxter

The marriage of Miss Audrey Estella Baxter, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baxter, of Smith's Cove, to Lyle George Freeman, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Freeman, 145 Windsor Street, Halifax, took place quietly Saturday evening, November 7, at 8 o'clock, in the Baptist parsonage at Bear River, Rev. G. D. Brydon officiating. The bride wore a soldier blue costume with matching accessories. Mrs. Clayton Mullen, the bride's sister, and Harold Dunn, were the attendants. A reception was held on Monday evening at the home of G. W. Freeman, where the couple received many beautiful and useful gifts. They will reside in Deep Brook, where the groom is employed as an electrician with the Dominion Construction Cor.

Miriam Ellis

Little Miriam Ellis, daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Wallace Ellis, passed away at the Yarmouth Hospital, November 18, following an accident which occurred near Hebron Corner, Tuesday afternoon. Miriam was three years old, the only child of Sgt. and Mrs. Ellis, a very winsome, lovable child, one everyone loved. The funeral was held on Friday afternoon, from the United Church of Canada, conducted by the pastor, Rev. James Brooks, B.A., assisted by Rev. G. D. Brydon, of the Baptist Church. The choir gave two selections, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus" and "The Lord's My Shepherd." The pall bearers were Chipman Chisholm and Roscoe Cress. The floral offerings were

"We'll hold your place"

IN EVERY city, town and village throughout Canada today there are gaps where once were young men. They heard a call and put on navy blue, khaki, horizon blue, and they have gone, answering a call . . .

They are missed—missed not only in their homes but also in the business places which once they filled.

They have gone from every institution in Canada; but from none more than from the chartered banks. There is hardly a branch office from coast to coast which is not today the poorer—and the prouder—for those who thus laid down their pens.

But every branch manager, as he shook parting hands, had this consolation: he could say, "We'll hold your place. It will be waiting for you when you come back. That is a pledge."

So it is the part of those who remain to serve their country in such a way that the promise may be kept: "We'll hold your place."

There were 14,433 single and married men from 18 to 45 years of age employed by the Chartered Banks at the outbreak of war, 5,053—or 35% of them had joined the armed forces by October 31st, 1942; 1,243 others who joined bank staffs since war began have also enlisted.

Miss Jennie Forbes has presented the school library with several fine volumes. Among them is a complete set of Shakespeare's plays. We wish to thank Miss Forbes for this fine gift.

Cadet Tag Day will be held Saturday, December 5. Boys of the Cadet Corps will call on you for your contribution. Help a worthy cause.

A tentative basketball schedule has been drawn up and will appear in next week's Courier.

The stamp and certificate sale for the week of November 21-27 amounted to $128.25. The total from stamps, certificates, and bonds sold between October 2-November 27 amounted to $831.50.

High School examinations begin on Friday, December 11 and will continue until school closes for the Christmas vacation.

The High School girls played basketball with the Town girls, and the High School boys played the Town boys on Tuesday evening. Girls game: 11-11; Boys' game: 30-10, in favor of the town team.

Mr. Eaton, Principal Digby Academy Digby, Nova Scotia

Dear Mr. Eaton: As an American who has visited Digby, each summer for the past fifteen years, I am extremely interested in Digby's affairs. Recently I have noticed, with pleasure, the column in the Courier entitled "Academy Activities."

In the November 26 issue of the Courier I note that on Saturday, December 5, there will be a tag day to raise money for the Cadet Corps uniforms.

Kindly accept the enclosed dollar for that purpose. With best wishes for success in your tag day and with fond remembrance of Digby, I am Sincerely yours, Earle W. Cook

Band Leader Is Honored

When Paul Yates, Bandmaster of the Digby Civic Band, went to the band room Thursday to conduct the usual rehearsal, he got a real surprise. Upon opening the door he was greeted with the lusty strains of "Happy Birthday to You" and "He's a Jolly Good Fellow," sung by 24 members of the band who had gathered around the organ.

The occasion was a birthday party, and a presentation was prepared by the bandsmen in honor of their founder and musical director upon entering his 80th year of life, and his 11th year as director of the Digby Civic Band.

The band room was transformed into a brilliantly lighted banquet hall with the long table tastefully decorated and laden with good things to eat. The "home like" effect was arranged by the lady members of the band headed by Miss Marie Flemming.

Short speeches were made by band president Martin Barnes; assistant leader David Daley; Band Sgt. Frank Robinson and Guy Morehouse sr. One speaker declared Mr. Yates' work was "too good" because the military bands in eastern Canada were taking players. (Eleven of the best players of the Digby Civic Band are already in uniform as bandsmen, and others are being asked for.)

All speakers expressed the pleasure they took in playing under his leadership and their appreciation of his remarkable success in building up a first class band from beginners with no previous experience.

In replying Mr. Yates claimed no credit for himself, but claimed credit was due to splendid cooperation and cordial friendship among the players, coupled with their own earnest endeavor and ambition to give Digby a first class band. He looked upon this event as the highest compliment the bandsmen could have paid him.

The evening ended with an old fashioned sing song.

Little Boy Had Narrow Escape

A very narrow escape from drowning took place at Barton on Monday afternoon. Three children were playing on the thin ice which covered a pond near the beach in the rear of Ralph Haight's residence. Two of them were his sons, one aged about 5, the other about 3, and the third was a little girl, daughter of a neighbor. The ice broke and both the boys fell in. The older one managed to get out and started at once for home, crying. His father heard him and asked what was the matter. He replied "I am all wet and Jimmy's in the pond." Mr. Haight ran to the scene and found the little fellow face down in the water and unconscious. He was rushed home and after some time came around. But another minute would have been fatal.

OBITUARY

Mrs. John S. McNeill Barton's oldest citizen, Mrs. Alice M. McNeill died at her home Friday evening last, in her hundredth year. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Jones and was born Sept. 12, 1843. She married John Sears McNeill, who predeceased her some years. Mrs. McNeill was a member of the Anglican Church and gave faithful service as long as she was able. She was a good neighbor and friend to all and will be greatly missed in the community. Several brothers and a sister predeceased her. She leaves one step-daughter, Mrs. Annie Raymond, of Vancouver, B. C. The funeral took place Monday from St. Mary's Anglican Church, Barton, Rev. Mr. Brodie officiating. Interment was in the Marshalltown Anglican cemetery.

John P. Tidd Death entered the little village of Tiddville claiming as its victim John P. Tidd. He had reached the age of 83. He was born in Tiddville, where he has always lived. The funeral service took place from his home on Thursday afternoon, conducted by Rev. Byron Cobham. The hymns which were his favorites were sung: "Sweet Hour of Prayer," "God Will Take Care of You," and "Abide With Me." A solo was given by Mrs. Cobham. Surviving are one sister, Mrs. Orlando Frost; one brother, Edward Tidd; four sons, Norman, Kenneth, James and Blanchard; five daughters, Mrs. William Titus, Mrs. Annie Amoro, Mrs. Jim Titus, Mrs. Alfred Lewis and Florence Tidd and many grandchildren. The remains are resting in the Baptist Cemetery at Little River.

Mrs. John Balser At Montreal on Sunday, November 22nd, Mrs. John Balser, widow of John Balser, of Conway, passed away after a few weeks' illness. She leaves to mourn their loss, two sons, Oscar S., of Flint, Michigan; Hartley, of Conway; two daughters, Mrs. P. E. Hiltz and W. Fern, of Montreal. Funeral services were conducted at the Hill Grove Baptist church with interment in the Barton cemetery on Wednesday, November 25.

Anselm C. LeBlanc The death of Anselm C. LeBlanc, occurred Saturday, November 28, during the day, at the age of 82 after a brief illness. He was interred Monday, November 30. He leaves to mourn him, besides his wife, two brothers, Simon, at home, Dr. LeBlanc, of New Brunswick; two sons, Philias, of Miami, Fla.; Anselm, of Dorchester; two daughters, Mrs. Maude Melanson and Therese, of Dorchester, Mass. Rev. T. Gastonguay officiated at the funeral services.

Isaac Titus The death of Isaac Titus of Freeport, occurred very suddenly at his home in Freeport on Saturday morning, November 28. He leaves to mourn, one brother, John, and two sons, Willard and Gordon, of Freeport, and a daughter, Mrs. Ronald Outhouse, of Tiverton. Funeral took place on Monday afternoon at 2.30 o'clock, conducted by Rev. R. C. Eaton.

Arnold Brooks Arnold Brooks, son of Mrs. Florence Brooks and the late William Brooks, died at his home in Ashmore on Saturday morning, November 21st. He had been ill for a number of years yet his death came very suddenly and was a great shock to his family and his many friends in the community. He was thirty-eight years old and a member of the United Baptist church. He leaves to mourn his wife and two sons, Willis and How-

Probe Death Of Boy

The inquest adjourned from Tuesday of last week to inquire into the death of six-year-old Jeffrey Burns, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Burns, Ashmore, Digby Co., was concluded before Coroner Dr. H. J. Pothier, in Community Theatre, Weymouth, Sunday afternoon. The jury returned a verdict that Jeffrey Burns came to his death at Ashmore, between 8 and 9 o'clock on the evening of November 23, while driving in a truck operated by his father Norman Burns. There were no lights on the logs of the Warne truck, nevertheless the jury held Norman Burns as partly responsible, because of carelessness, for the accident.

The accident occurred when the truck operated by Norman Burns crashed into a log laden truck, operated by Eddy Gaudet and owned by H. T. Warne, Ltd., Digby.

One of the logs pierced the stomach of the six-year-old child, who died before reaching the hospital at Digby. Norman Burns, father of the boy, was also injured, and taken to Digby General Hospital. Another occupant of the Burns truck, Edmund Sabine, escaped with minor injuries.

Harrison Jones, Weymouth, was foreman of the jury. Other members were C. C. Nichol, Amos LeBlanc, Felix LeBlanc, Emile Bartlett, F. Lept, F. C. Theriault, R. Comeau, D. Gavel, F. Thibault, D. Flavey and Willis Cosman.

ard; two daughters, Lois and Jean, all at home; his aged mother, who also resides in Ashmore; one brother, Harley, of Ashmore; and three sisters, Mrs. J. W. Tracy (Gertrude), of Waltham, Mass.; Mrs. Frank Goddard (Irene), of Reading, Mass., and Mrs. Nelson (Hazel), of North Easton, Mass. Funeral service was held on Monday afternoon at his home, conducted by Rev. R. H. Barker, of Weymouth. Interment in the Weymouth North Baptist Cemetery.

Mrs. Honorine Comeau There passed away at her home in Lower Saulnierville, Tuesday morning, November 24, Mrs. Honorine Comeau, widow of Councillor Mauthurion Comeau of that place. She was 79 years old, a devout member of the Roman Catholic church and society of St. Ann's. Her death occurred rather unexpectedly as she had only been ill for nine days, suffering from a paralytic stroke. She is survived by one brother, Joseph Saulnier, of St. Benoni; and six grandchildren, three of whom, Dennis, Wilfred, Emile, were residing with her. Funeral services were held last Thursday morning at Sacred Heart church, Saulnierville.

Honor Memory Of Missing Mariner

A very impressive ceremony took place at Sacred Heart Church, Saulnierville, last week when a memorial service was held for Alphonse Melanson, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Melanson, of that place. Rev. J. Doucet, P. P., officiating.

He had been giving his service in the Merchant Marine for over two years. Last spring his ship was torpedoed in mid-Atlantic and no news has been heard from him since. Evidently he has been lost with the rest of the crew.

Surviving are two sisters: Celeste, of Meteghan, and Florence in the United States.

MARRIAGES

Addington - Shaw A wedding of interest to a wide circle of friends was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Shaw, Centreville, on Thursday evening, November 26, when their daughter, Edra, was united in marriage to Boyd Addington, of Wolfville, in the presence of about one hundred guests. The ceremony was performed by Rev. R. H. H. Barker, of the United Church of Canada, assisted by Lic. L. Atkinson, of Wolfville. The bridal party took their places under a tastefully decorated arch of evergreens and pink roses. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a floor length dress of white sheer over satin, with veil and wreath of bridal roses. She carried a large bouquet of American Beauty roses and ferns. She was attended by Miss Edith Morehouse, who wore a floor length gown of pale pink and carried white lilacs and fern. The groom was attended by Sergeant Ernest Shaw, of Digby, brother of the bride. At the close of the ceremony Lic. L. Atkinson sang "I Love You Truly," the wedding music being played by Mrs. Fred Morehouse. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held. Many beautiful gifts were received, showing the esteem in which the young couple are held, among them being a beautifully bound Bible, presented by Rev. R. H. H. Barker. The happy couple are spending their honeymoon at different points in New Brunswick. Upon their return, they will reside in Wolfville.

Comeau - Comeau A pretty wedding took place Tuesday morning, November 24th, in the Stella Maris church, at Meteghan, when Right Rev. Mgr. Bourneuf, D.P., V.F., pastor, united in marriage Isaac Comeau, son of John I. Comeau, of St. Martin de Clare, with Miss Lea Comeau, a daughter of Constant Comeau, of Meteghan. The bride wore a white satin dress with shoulder length veil and accessories to match, and carried a white prayer book with streamers. The bridesmaid was Miss Amella Comeau, the groom's sister, and Andre Comeau, the bride's brother, was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Constant Comeau and Mr. and Mrs. John I. Comeau, were in attendance. As the bride was a member of the Sodality of Mary, a special altar was decorated and illuminated in the Sanctuary with banners. The organist, Mrs. Jos. E. LeBlanc, was assisted by Fred A. Comeau, organist of Saulnierville's church. Arthur Robichaud and A. F. Haché directed the choir. After the ceremony breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents and in the evening a reception was given at the groom's home at St. Martin. They received many gifts.

Geddry - Saulnier At the Sacred Heart church, Saulnierville, Monday morning, November 23, at a nuptial high mass, at 8 o'clock, Rev. Father J. Doucet, C.J.M., pastor, united in marriage Charlie Geddry, of Meteghan, and Miss Evangeline Saulnier, of Saulnierville. Witnesses were Patrick Gaudet, of Meteghan, and Mrs. Harold Saulnier, the bride's niece. Fred A. Corcoran presided at the organ and accompanied the singing of the Mass. After the ceremony breakfast was served at the home of the bride's brother, Joseph Saulnier, at Saulnierville. They received a large number of useful gifts at a shower given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Dugas, at Meteghan, preceding their marriage.

F. J. Thibault Resigns

Frank W. Robinson commenced duties yesterday as chief of police for the town of Digby, succeeding Fred J. Thibault, who has filled the post since 1935. Mr. Thibault tendered his resignation to the town council after their refusal of his request for an increase in salary of $10 per month.

Mr. Thibault, who has been receiving $80 per month from the town, plus another $10 monthly from the C.P. Railway, asked, at the October meeting of the town council for an increase of $10 a month to bring his total salary up to $100 monthly. He requested this increase on the ground that police work in the town of Digby had increased considerably during the past few months.

His request was tabled, and on the 16th of November, Mr. Thibault tendered his resignation to the council. Mr. Robinson was hired as his successor at a special meeting Tuesday night. Mr. Robinson's appointment also includes the Superintendent of Streets and Water, which position has been filled for the past few months by H. A. Nichols, town clerk.

For taking over the posts of chief of police and superintendent of streets and water, the town is paying Mr. Robinson a salary of $125 per month.

Buy T. B. Christmas Seals

Just as every bullet is a shot at the heart of Hitler, so is every Tuberculosis Christmas Seal a blow at the heart of a deadly foe—the White Plague. This is the attitude of citizens of Digby, who are always alive to their duty, are showing in their favorable response to the Christmas Seal Campaign. Most collectors have been working in their district and the few who have completed their districts have turned in greater proceeds than for the corresponding district in 1941. One or two collectors have not yet been able to make their canvass but intend to start within a few days.

Clementsport Red Cross

The Clementsport Red Cross has kept up its activities all summer, packed boxes which were sent to the Annapolis Royal Branch containing 11 quilts, besides many articles of children's clothing, dresses, suits, etc., besides knitted things for the soldiers, socks, sweaters, etc. Bridge and Forty Fives parties have been held every two weeks by which sufficient money was raised to send Christmas Boxes to all our overseas men and cigarettes to those in training. On Tuesday evening November 24, Mrs. O. Wright, of Digby, kindly showed moving pictures of Prince Edward Island and Cape Breton and some local scenes. Mrs. Hartley Marshall accompanied by Miss Manthorn, sang two numbers, "Smiling Thru" and "The White Cliffs of Dover." There was an enthusiastic and appreciative audience which filled the Baptist hall to capacity. This added a substantial amount to the Red Cross Funds. Hearty votes of thanks were tendered to Mrs. Wright, to the others assisting and to the Trustees of the Church for the use of the Hall.

About This and That

My grandmother had a favorite expression: "Don't tell all you know!" As a child, we wondered why she used that phrase so often. Now in our grown-up world, we see instances every day where "Don't tell all you know" would save misunderstandings, heartaches, ruined reputations, and broken friendships.

Recently a friend complained bitterly because friends to whom she had told certain facts had passed along the information to others, although she had warned them "not to breathe it to a soul!"

Why, if we cannot keep a secret ourselves, do we expect others to have more self-control? Try not to impose such a responsibility on friends; try to respect their unsolicited confidences. Adopt grandma's old slogan for daily guidance: "Don't tell all you know!"

Because of shortages of various commodities through rationing and restrictions, many peoples are dissatisfied, and some think it is unnecessary or is due to graft. This is not the case.

Other allied nations have had to ration and restrict to a much greater degree than has Canada. All the sacrifices we have had to make so far have been nothing compared with those of England and other allied countries. We are told that in Nazi Germany there are much greater shortages, and in Nazi-occupied countries many of the people are suffering starvation and dire want.

By comparison we have much to be thankful for. We have our freedom here which we would not have if we lost the war. We would have the same conditions prevailing here as there and be dominated by cruel, insane tyrants who are without compassion.

No matter how heavy the mails become, there will always be space in the sack for a letter to that soldier relative or friend. No matter how busy you are, if you wanted to do something definite to boost morale you would find time to write.

If you think he is doing a worth-while job, if you believe in the things he is fighting for, let your letters prove it. Can you spare 10 or 15 minutes a week for the cause that is claiming his entire time and attention? What excuse can you sincerely and honestly give for neglecting such an easy yet highly important task?

Letters build morale, make better soldiers, hastening the coming victory. Make your motto for the duration, "Write—right now!"

Experience is a great teacher. We Canadians, who for years experienced abundance, now experience scarcity. We are appreciating many things we don't have more than when we had them.

It is one thing to appreciate abundance when we have it and quite another to do so when it has given place to scarcity.

But such appreciation prompts thanksgiving and helps us when we experience scarcities.

Don't make the error of measuring your contribution to this war by that of the other fellow. Too many of us are doing too little to make our meagre efforts a yardstick of patriotism. Do anything you can, everything you can, and begin doing it now, today.

To a 'Missing' Airmen

Where are you now, oh boy, with wings,
Who flew so far into the sky?
You have done now with mundane things,
But we are left to grieve and sigh.

You gave for us your youth and strength,
You gave for us your fair young dreams,
That when the war is o'er at length,
We may enjoy our hills and streams.

You had ONE life to give—and gave
That we at peace might lie in sleep,
You gave your best up in the sky,
Others gave theirs in the blue deep.

It seems so short a time ago,
When, small you stood beside my knee,
The hours and years flew by,
and lo
You gave your ALL, that we be free.

Oh, Airmen, flying in God's sky,
We will not e'er forget the debt
We owe you. One and all must die,
You've won your crown, your sun has set.

We must live better, purer lives,
To earn the price of young lives given,
Must make this earthly home of ours,
More closely like that longed for Heaven.

We must give more to those less blessed,

We must make freedom once regained,
The fairest, dearest, treasured test,
Of gratitude for life retained.

Oh, Airmen, one to us so dear,
Has gone to join the valiant throng,
Has found his Heaven in the air,
We shall record his deed in song.

May God all Airmen bless and keep Within the hollow of His hand,
Whether they give their all, or sleep—
That we may hold our own loved land.

An amusing story comes from a station where Army parachute troops are trained, writes our Aeronautical Correspondent. The men are "counted out" of the aircraft as they fall through the hole in the fuselage by numbers. This is done by the R.A.F. parachute instructor, but on one occasion it was entrusted to an officer trainee. He had already counted up to eight and then came "nine, ten." At "nine" a parachutist dropped through the hole; but at "ten" nothing happened. The officer called again "ten" and then, seeing the aircraft empty except for the R.A.F. instructor, he remembered, "Oh, gosh, ten is me," he said, and immediately dropped through the hole. As a result of his absent-mindedness he had to walk two miles back to the "dropping field."—London Times

When The Fish Ran Short

As is well known Jerry Boyce is a man of infinite resource. At his hotel at High River recently there was an awful crowd for dinner and of course there was fish. The guests were so numerous that day that the fish ran out. The dining room girl skipped into the kitchen in a great state and asked Jerry what she should do with the diners at a certain table who were sure to ask for fish.

"Um lemme see. You go to the first man and when you're calling off the menu say "roast beef, roast mutton, roast lamb, roast pork, stewed beef, heart and dead fish." The dining room girl followed instructions to the letter: "What was that last one?" queried the guest.

"Dead fish."
"Ugh! Give me some pork!"
Not a man would order fish. They thought it must be decomposed. On reflection, when it was too late, it occurred to them that a fish is seldom served alive in any first class hotel.—High River Times

You Can't Ration A Horse

This is probably the story to end all stories about sugar rationing, but we like it because it's true. There's a man in the RCA building who lunches every day in one of the Center restaurants. We sat down beside him the other day and saw him carefully pocket the one lump of sugar that came with his coffee. "You see," he explained, "I'm taking it for a horse. It's just a delivery horse but I've become very much attached to him and every day he looks for a lump of sugar. I can understand sugar rationing so I can go without it, but the horse wouldn't. He'd think I was mad at him or something."—Rockefeller Center Magazine

Many Delicious Cookies Can Be Made Within Sugar Ration

This is no pre-war picture! It shows a delicious variety of cookies which may be made under the sugar ration and without putting any undue strain on the family allowance. Considerable experimental work has been done in Canada's Kitchen in the Consumer Section, Dominion Department of Agriculture, to develop new recipes and adapt others to wartime conditions. Here is a recipe for honey wafers which requires no sugar: 2 cups honey, 1/3 cup shortening, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon grated lemon rind, 1 egg, 4 1/2 - 5 cups pastry OR 4-4 1/3 cups all-purpose flour, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon baking soda.

Melt honey over a low heat, being careful that it does not boil. Add the shortening, lemon juice and rind and cool. Add the slightly beaten egg and lastly the sifted measured dry ingredients. Drop by half-teaspoonfuls onto a greased baking sheet and bake at 375 degrees 10-12 minutes. Yield 8-9 dozen cookies.

Accurate measurements and careful attention to the directions for mixing and baking are all-important for satisfactory results in wartime recipes many of which can be obtained by writing to the Publicity and Extension Division, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Once Over Lightly

(Ottawa Citizen)

In Dundalk, Ont., a hunter shot a man in mistake for a skunk, and one paper remarks that "he must have looked like Hitler." It's just as likely that he smelled like Mussolini. But in either case you're a dirty rat for insulting the polecat.

"The British," says an exchange, "are striking the Germans in Egypt; the Americans are striking the Germans in Tunisia, and the Russians are striking the Germans in Russia." Well, that's three strikes on Heinie; and what's happening to the Japs in the Solomons is no base on balls either.

The Commercial Travellers of Canada may organize a movement for the suppression of rumors. The rumor-mongers are so darn'd busy these days, a commercial traveller can't find an audience for a snappy story.

Among other advantages of having so many girls trained in the building of airplanes and all sorts of intricate devices, it may soon be possible to have a bulky alarm clock dissected and rebuilt and no parts left over when Father did the job.

Another thing that sticks is the number of people who have a well-developed sense of rumor.

British men's hats for 1943 will be restricted to five shades. The gratifying thing about this is that the average fellow, who has only one hat and an old one at that, can doll it up with so many hues of camouflage.

"I Shall Not Want"

"I often repeated the Psalm, 'The Lord is My Shepherd.' I shall not want," wrote Vern Haugland, Associated Press correspondent, lost in New Guinea jungle for six weeks. "I would be unable to go one step farther, and then I would remember 'I shall not want,' and sure enough there'd be some berries or chewable grass or a creek with good water just ahead."

Many a British or Canadian lad is having occasion to remember his early training these days and to rely in the truths he was taught at his mother's knee or by some consecrated Sunday School teacher. This courageous correspondent says he knows God saved him.

"Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of mine enemies," runs the best known of all the Psalms. Though it was only berries and grass, yet "the table" was sufficient to preserve Vern ist to drain and save his anti-freeze for use again this year. As it is time for this stored anti-freeze to be used, Consumer Information Service points out that it should be tested by a garage or service station attendant before it is put back into the automobile radiator.

Haugland. And did he remember, when he took off his socks, and gave them to a shoeless companion, "I shall not want?" -Christian Science Monitor.

It is most important that the anti-freeze is tested and strained before it is used again, to make certain that the anti-freeze is the proper strength to avoid a "freeze-up."

A FAMILY
MUCH LIKE YOURS MAY SHARE YOUR TELEPHONE LINE...

Those are not just other people that happen to be on your telephone party line. They all usually turn out to be real folks when you get to know them. Why not assume you do know them? Why not treat them as if you saw them every day?

Hold down the length of your calls because... oh, because you like it when they don't talk too long.

Allow intervals between calls... because you like it, too, when you find the line free.

If the others happen to be talking when you want to make a call, why not give them two minutes to finish before you try again? (Watch the clock if you like!)

And remember, please, that a great many people who ordinarily might use direct line telephones are sharing these days, so that copper and rubber—which normally would go into new telephone equipment to serve your neighborhood—can be used to make cartridges and airplane fittings. Thank you!

DEC. 6-12 IS FARM EQUIPMENT WEEK

The greatest demand for farm production ever known, coming hand in hand with sharp labor shortage and rigid restrictions on the sale of farm machinery makes it imperative that the utmost use be made of machinery now on our farms.

With this in mind, Dec. 6 to 12 has been proclaimed Farm Equipment Week. During this period owners of farm equipment are requested to concentrate on equipment conditioning.

1. —Thoroughly clean
2. —Check frame for loose or broken parts
3. —List worn parts and place orders for repairs
4. —Clean oil holes, etc. Lubricate completely
5. —Grease, polished parts to prevent rusting
6. —Remove and store belts, canvases, rubber tires
7. —Paint Machines
8. —Store machines under cover

Have all your farm equipment in the best condition possible by Dec. 12. Start work today. Next spring will be too late. You cannot tell what is going to happen between now and even next month.

HON. JOHN A. McDONALD

MINISTER, HALIFAX, N.S.

Christmas Is Coming

There's less than a month until Christmas, and during that time plans for gifts, tree trimmings, house decorations, and a thousand other things that make the holiday so happy and gay will be dancing through your head.

So sharpen your pencils and your wits for this is a Christmas when cleverness and originality in your plans will go a long way towards making your gifts and the holiday satisfactory. As usual start with a complete shopping list, considering the money you have to spend and the wishes of the person for whom you are purchasing the gift.

Then don't put off shopping for another minute for you may be disappointed because stocks in the stores have been depleted, making the article you want no longer obtainable. There won't be many extra clerks either, so don't tax the ones left by participating in a last-minute rush.

If you have gifts to be sent out of town, you must mail them within the next week if you want to be sure they will reach their destination in time. Post offices, like all other places, will not be able to reinforce forces for a last minute rush and therefore cannot guarantee delivery as usual.

There are so many ways in which you can display your patriotism and still have a happy holiday. If you can't afford to make purchases you wish, or cannot find articles suitable for the purpose, you can always find some way to perpetuate the spirit of the season which means so much to you and your family. Some little trinket—a pin-cushion, a patchwork apron, handkerchief or lingerie folders—can all be made from odds and ends of materials you might have about the house. A few war savings stamps tucked in the package with one of these gifts, will, indeed, make it very valuable and acceptable.

Above all, do not let the children be disappointed because you could not buy all the toys they wanted. There must be some toys about the house that could be repaired and repainted. Or, better still, make them some toy furniture from old crates. Search every nook and cranny for any little article that might be made into an acceptable present.

A set of folders made by pasting bright strips of wall-paper over pieces of cardboard and tied with pieces of worsted make excellent homes for little Susie's paper dolls. Scraps from the patch box or worn-out clothing can be used to make a complete new outfit for an old doll. Yarn from a sweater that has been outgrown, if ripped and washed, can be made into warm mittens for another.

Mother, grandmother, or any other person who is interested in having plants about them, might like a little winter garden. This you can make in an old jar or bottle, a discarded fish bowl, or any other glass container. A few pebbles, some sand and dirt, some moss, some small ferns and berries can make these into a fascinating gift.

For something especially attractive, make it look like a miniature garden, using a piece of broken mirror to represent a lake, a streak of sand for a path, and a few twigs or pieces of bark to be made into fences or small huts. If you wish, you can purchase miniature figures of animals to be placed about the garden. A big red bow will put the finishing touches on this interesting gift.

Interest the whole family in plans for the season. Plan an excursion into the woods for greens suitable for trimming the house on a day when everybody can go. When you are gathering these decorations be sure you do not pull roots or injure the plants in any way.

The whole family can join, too, in making greetings to be sent to your friends. Perhaps you want your tree to look patriotic as well as Christmassy. Start now to string fluffy white popcorn, and to make other ornaments from shiny red and blue paper.

"Ships With Wings"

John Clements, Leslie Banks, Jane Baxter, Ann Todd, Basil Sydney and Edward Chapman head the stellar cast of "Ships With Wings," the thrilling action picture about England's Fleet Air Arm, which will have its local premiere at the Capitol Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, December 9-10. The film which was produced by Michael Balcon and directed by Sergei Nolbandov, is packed with thrills and action and most of its bang-up drama takes place aboard the famous aircraft, Ark Royal.

In spite of the galaxy of picture luminaries in the cast, the Ark Royal—that gaunt, lopsided, powerful beauty of the sea—emerges as the top star.

One of the most stirring, spectacular and sensational scenes ever photographed on the screen shows this tremendous carrier ploughing through an inferno of bombs and flying metal, her deck ablaze from a hit by an enemy bomber and her planes spewing forth in spite of the flames. Other smashing scenes show the aerial torpedoing of Axis ships, the low-flying bombing of a Greek harbor, the hero pancaking his plane onto a German bomber and miraculously flying both into a dam which bursts and decimates a German tank division poised for a counter-attack. After the bombs explode, millions of gallons of water are released, tearing away the enemy airdrome and their lines of men and mechanized equipment.

Roy Kellino, one of the screen's toy cameramen, sailed in the Ark Royal on wartime service for three months, during which time he shot 100,000 feet of film used in "Ships With Wings." These shots are packed with spectacular realism and authenticity that have already thrilled hundreds of moviegoers and given them their first real view of how an aircraft operates in action.

The incredible feats of Britain's Fleet Air Arm are graphically illustrated in "Ships With Wings." The picture also shows how much British mastery of the seas owes to the success of the Air Arm. Also, this new air thriller shows how continued dominion over the seas depends on the energy and imagination shown by the British in combining aerial and naval warfare.

"Ships With Wings" is dedicated to the men who fly from aircraft carriers and fight against tremendous odds. For they confront all the dangers of the sea added to the dangers of the air.

Children's Toys May Be Curtailed This Christmas

Many materials that formerly went into Christmas toys have been diverted into war purposes during the past months with the result that this year's stocks are very much restricted.

This doesn't mean that any child need go without toys that will bring as much delight as gifts on which substantial sums are spent in normal times. This year, money, formerly spent on gifts, will be diverted to war savings by every citizen who wants to help get this war over.

Toy-making can prove a fascinating pastime in long evenings between now and Christmas. Here are a few suggestions:

Doll's clothes that come on and off—jackets, bathrobes, sweaters, undies, dresses, muffs and caps.

Doll's beds which can be contrived from anything from a matchbox to an oblong fruit basket, complete with pillow, pillow case and sheets, blanket and comforter. Doll's trunk and furniture or a doll house can be built.

Toys of wood in silhouette cut out with a jig-saw and painted or enamelled with non-poisonous paint are fine for younger children. Nests of blocks, peg board with large pegs, ring toss, puzzles cut in large pieces, stool, chair and table set, tool chest will all be welcome on Christmas morning.

Small children love furry or cloth animals for which patterns can be purchased at small cost. There are innumerable versions of the rag doll including Indians made from brown cotton with hair from black yarn. Pickaninny dolls, with hair from ravelled wool, Dutch dolls, prim in white apron and bonnet and many other character dolls for which the scrap bag will provide materials.

Feminine Presents Will Please Women In Canada's Army

Christmas is coming and the question of what to send the soldier boys is again to the fore. This is not the first Christmas for soldier's parcels but it will be the first time boxes are made up for soldier girls.

Hundreds of girls serving with the armed forces will be far from home Christmas Day and will have their own letters to Santa already in their minds. What shall be sent to them?

The knowledge that clothing and equipment is in large measure provided for the girls of the Canadian Women's Army Corps may seem to make the problem of choosing presents for them a difficult one. But there are things dear to the heart of any girl, be she soldier or civilian, which will bring a sparkle to her eyes on Christmas Day.

Here are a few suggestions: books, notepaper and envelopes, a fountain pen and pencil set, face powder and cologne, or a folding pocket comb which folds neatly into shirt pocket or into those smart little khaki satchels which swing from the shoulder when the girls of the C.W.A.C. are walking out. Then there might be an attractive housecoat of silk or wool which will be a joy in leisure evening hours in barracks, pyjamas and nightgowns (well cut and without too much lace as the laundering is usually done by the girls themselves), would not be out of order.

A Christmas stocking might hold a hundred-and-one surprises such as: hand lotion, toilet creams, a tin of shoe polish, a polishing cloth, or a button-stick which is an essential in keeping uniforms smartly turned out. A clothes whisk in a neat leather case, a laundry bag, a folding leather photograph frame or a pair of soft bedroom slippers, preferably without heels for convenience in packing, might all be included in the Christmas parcel. And how about folding in a neat bill in the stocking's toe. A little pocket money would help out until next pay day.

Toffee or chocolates, home-made cookies or a Christmas cake from Mother's recipe would be welcomed by the girls whose fare in barracks, while adequate and excellent, is not designed to include these frills. Do not imagine that because a daughter, sister, cousin or aunt has donned the King's uniform, she has put away her own delightful femininity. She hasn't, and she will be looking forward to those gifts from home while sharing her joys with her fellow members of the C.W.A.C. on Christmas Day.

A tank costs about $1 a lb.

The Loyal Workers met on Tuesday evening with Mrs. Murray Harris.

Mrs. Omer Rice entertained a number of guests at the supper hour on Wednesday.

Mrs. S. Bishop is at the home of Mrs. Cornelius Simpson for the winter months.

C. B. LeGrow returned on Sunday from Halifax, where he has been taking a course.

Mrs. Chester Isles, of Bear River East, spent a few days with Mrs. Robert Isles recently.

Mrs. Rawle, who has been a patient at the Berwick Hospital, returned home the past week.

Miss Harriet Green, of Yarmouth, spent Saturday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Green.

The W.M.S., of the United Baptist Church, meets this afternoon with Mrs. Walter Dukeshire.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Simpson and baby, of Victory, spent Sunday with Mrs. Aaron Darres.

George W. Peck spent Wednesday of last week with Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Fraser, of Deep Brook.

Mrs. George Robinson, Grand Pre, is visiting her niece, Mrs. Milton Morgan, for the winter months.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Beeler, of Hebron, spent a few days with Mrs. Vernon Peck. Mr. Beeler is a driver of the Wagner Tours.

Ladies' Aid met on Monday evening with Mrs. F. R. Harris, where final plans for the chicken supper on Thursday were made.

The Y. P. Groups, of the United Church, meet on Friday evening. Juniors 7-8; Seniors 8-9. All are asked to be present.

Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Clarke, Miss Ruth Clarke and Wallace Clarke, of Yarmouth, spent Saturday, guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Warren.

Robert Fraser returned to his home in Grand Manan on Tuesday after spending several days with his son, Kenneth Fraser, Deep Brook.

Lt. Col. Arnold Rice, of Yarmouth, has been spending his furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rice. He was accompanied by Mrs. Rice.

Miss Gertrude Miller spent the past week at her home in Carleton Place, Ontario. She had as her guest Miss Annie Chisholm, Bear River.

"Billie" Anthony, grandson of Capt. C. O. Anthony, who has been overseas for three years, cabled that he is coming home, having been called back owing to the illness and death of his father, the late Harry Anthony. At time of cabling he had not received the news of his bereavement, but his visit will be a great comfort to his relatives here, and to his wife and young son in Middleton.

News from Rev. A. S. Bishop and Mrs. Bishop, formerly of Port Maitland, now of Warren, Maine, states that their son George, who visited in Bear River, and who will receive his M.A. from Queen's University at the next convocation, has enlisted in the R.C.A.F. Evelyn entered training at the Royal Victoria Hospital the end of August, and is very much interested in her chosen work. Dorothy is teaching in Warren, and taking a very active part in church work there.

From A Real "Mrs. Miniver"

To The Christian Science Monitor: I think your readers will be interested in an excerpt from a letter that came from London a few days ago. The writer is a middle-aged woman who has gone through the war alone, and has proved that she "can take it."

May I say that I should find it hard to go through war or peace without your paper. —(Mrs.) Katherine S. Kniskern, Petersburg, Va.

"Now, about your question re 'Mrs. Miniver.' It is so utterly true of ordinary British life, and Greer Garson is so English, as were, in fact, all the characters, although Teresa Wright and Richard Ney were American and Walter Pidgeon a Canadian. The whole film is absolutely true to life, and I cannot begin to think, however, how an American film studio could have put out such a perfectly British film! It has been a great hit here.

Yes, I have spent such a night as the Minivers spent, in our shelter, many many times, lasting from about 6.15 in the evening up to 8.30 and nine next morning, straight off, and—I was all alone! Often huge pieces of shell or bomb would hit the top of the shelter, or there would be the strange "plap-plap" of incendiaries dropping round in the garden and street, but worse than anything to me was the awful whistle of the bombs, which makes one think they are coming straight for one. You can't imagine the pandemonium in an air raid. I often wonder how we came through 1940-41. But it is surprising what one can endure, and there was always a kind of pride with us all not to let Hitler get us down! Things get very difficult, but even now we are better off than anyone else in Europe.

London looks so funny without cars. But if we have not got cars, we have Americans! They are everywhere. You never saw such a United States of the World as old London has become. You can see people of every nationality under the sun here. It is most interesting when you think we are all friends together, fighting for one cause, and with one determination. We may not speak the various languages, but we are all marching toward the same goal.

Yes, we are getting very shabby, and very slim, and very used to doing without the little things we used to think were absolutely essential, and all the nice things of life, but what is that compared with what the people in other countries are suffering.

Yes, we are getting very

Hog Marketings Are Improving

The quantity, quality and value of hogs marketed this year in Nova Scotia through C.L.C. Live Hog Marketing is well ahead of that of the corresponding period of 1941. The figures for the first nine months of 1942, with those for the first nine months of 1941, in brackets, are as follows: Number of hogs marketed, 5,972 (3,660); total weight 810,932 lbs. (530,608); total grading—A and B, 4,002 or 84 percent of total, (2,826 or 77 percent of total), total revenue, $119,258 ($68,325).

This more favorable hog showing is due largely to the activities of the Eastern Kings, Western Kings and Middleton Clubs. These three clubs had nearly one-half of the total revenue received by the 15 clubs of the province during the month of September. The Western Kings club has been in operation only two years and the Eastern Kings three years.

Further evidence that Nova Scotia is advancing in hog production comes in recently released figures from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The hog population in Nova Scotia increased 25.3 percent in the year 1942 compared with 1941. The increase for all of Canada was 16.3 percent. The Nova Scotia figures look rather good in that they show the third highest gain in Canada and the highest gain for Eastern Canada.

According to recent reports received by F. W. Walsh, director of marketing, the majority of farmers are finding hog production at present reasonably profitable. Allan Trefry, agricultural representative in Shelburne county, reports, figures from farmers in his district, who purchased little pigs at $6.50 apiece, and after paying for feed, showed a profit over cost of feed and pigs of more than ten dollars a pig. The selling price in connection was high, being twenty cents a pound dressed weight.

To Discuss Farm Machinery Rationing

Ralph Gallup, Ottawa, executive assistant to Mr. H. H. Bloom, federal administrator of farm machinery and municipal services, is scheduled to be at Truro December 3 and Kentville December 4, when he will confer with farmers and farm implement agents on questions arising out of farm machinery rationing. The meetings are being arranged by Prof. Angus Banting, N.S. Agricultural Engineer. The Truro meeting will be held at the Science Building, Nova Scotia Agricultural College, and will convene at 8 p.m. The Kentville meeting will be held at 2.30 p.m. at the Dominion Experimental Station.

Advises Careful Study

The farmers attending the annual meeting of the Colchester county farmers' association at Bible Hill Tuesday were cautioned against going headlong into the establishment of artificial breeding units. The speaker, Principal Eric Boulden, of the N.S.A.C., pointed out the advantages of securing the services of a good sire through the artificial unit but drew attention to the fact arti-cial breeding must be looked upon as something costing less money than the natural method. Special care, he remarked, should be taken in securing an operator who will meet the many exacting requirements of the office.

Honey Is Scarce

H. G. Payne, provincial apiarist, is in receipt of his first order for 1943 package bees. The order has been filed pending definite information from firms in the southern states. Unless the U.S. Priorities Board releases wire for cages and tins for holding syrup in transit the bee exporters will be forced out of business. Mr. Payne hopes to have definite information on this subject at an early date. As soon as such information is available it will be released in this column. If bees can be imported orders should be placed promptly.

It is interesting, although not very helpful, to those who had been looking upon honey as a substitute for sugar, molasses and syrup, to note that the 1942 honey yield, although practically equal in volume to that of 1941, is now practically disposed of.

Buys Purebred Herefords

Hon. A. S. MacMillan, premier of Nova Scotia, recently purchased a purebred Hereford bull from E. D. Horne, Enfield, and three purebred Hereford heifers from William O'Brien and Sons, Windsor Forks. The premier, who was a farmer long before he was premier, and still operates his well kept farm at Antigonish, has 33 head of high grade cattle, has cut enough feed for 50 head, and has about 40 sheep.

Wins Major Mink Honors

Mink from the ranch of R. N. MacInnis, West Bay, Victoria Co., carried off the lion's share of the honors at the exhibition held in connection with the meeting of the Nova Scotia Mink Breeders' Association at Lawrencetown, Annapolis Co., Nov. 24, 25. Mr. MacInnis was awarded the Hudson Bay Company's Cup for grand aggregate and took first for eastern type adult male, eastern type kit female, Yukon type, adult male, Yukon type, kit female, best matched pair. Don White, secretary, reported an increased interest was shown in improving herds. Members of the association from all parts of the province were present and all appeared greatly pleased with the conduct of the exhibition and the information secured.

The Canadian Bank of Commerce at Middleton notified its customers the branch would close on November 30. The branch of the Royal Bank of Canada will take over its business in that town.

A STATEMENT about BUTTER

In spite of the fact that in some Canadian cities butter supplies recently have not been sufficient to meet the greatly increased demands, the situation does not constitute an emergency; nor is it as serious as some people seem to think. There are two main causes for these temporary and local shortages:

For the past year we have been consistently using 10% to 15% more butter than in normal times—with consequent disturbance to the distribution of our butter supplies.

Many people have been buying more butter than they currently need.

The limited nature of the present shortage is shown by the fact that if every home would reduce its consumption of butter by only one ounce per person per week (for the average home this means a quarter of a pound a week)—or if we reduced our national consumption to the peacetime rate—the shortage would soon disappear.

There is no Reason for Panic Buying

It is unpatriotic and unnecessary for housewives to rush out to beat their neighbours to the nearest grocery store. Butter will not be rationed to meet the present situation. Butter production is actually above normal for this time of year. The Board itself is taking special action which it is believed will speedily restore normal supplies in retail stores.

These supplies will however be adequate for normal consumption, if housewives in all parts of Canada co-operate.

You can help in these ways:

Scrupulously avoid waste and extravagance. Waste is wrong at all times. In time of war it is sabotage.

Reduce present consumption of butter by at least one ounce per person per week—for the average home this means a quarter of a pound a week.)

Do not buy more than is needed for immediate use.

HOW TO SAVE BUTTER

AT MEAL-TIME

1. Use butter only for spreading on bread.
2. Never use butter just out of the refrigerator. Wait until it is soft enough to spread easily.
3. Add a small amount of milk when creaming butter for sandy bakes.

IN COOKING

1. Do not use butter in baking and cooking, when lard, shortening or meat dripping can be used.
2. Use level measurements of butter. Guesswork means waste.
3. When adding cheese to a cream or white sauce, use only half amount of butter stated in recipe.
4. Use paper wrappings from butter to grease baking dishes.
5. Do not use butter for re-warming vegetables.
6. Serve meat gravy to avoid the use of extra butter on potatoes.
7. When adding butter to vegetable dishes, add it sparingly. Do not melt it and then pour on.

Digby Firm Fined For Ration Regulations

H. T. Warne, Ltd., of Digby, were convicted Thursday on two charges of violating the order regulating the rationing of tea and coffee and were fined a total of $75.
The first count involved supplying tea and coffee to consumers against coupons which had not become valid at the time of delivery. The second charge was that without lawful authority the firm had in its possession tea and coffee coupons. Both charges arose under provisions of the order which provides a retail dealer from accepting coupons before the dates upon which the respective numbers became valid.

The cases were heard before Magistrate G. H. Peters. The fines were $50 on the first count and $25 on the second. E. J. Theriault acted for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

COMING: "This Above All"

The Digby Academy Cadet Corps is made up of two platoons. In these two platoons there are sixty four boys. Recently Ottawa has announced that a standard uniform has been designed for all cadet corps in Canada. This uniform is similar to the army "battle dress". Ottawa has agreed to pay half the cost of the uniforms on the condition that the corps pay the other half. The cost per uniform for the corps is seven dollars and fifty cents. There are sixty four boys in the Academy Cadet Corps. In order to buy uniforms for all the boys, it will be necessary to have the sum of four hundred and eighty dollars. The boys have earned, so far, one hundred and forty six dollars. There will be approximately forty five dollars in grants to the corps. This will make a total of one hundred and ninety one dollars accounted for at the present time. The uniform fund is open to any of the citizens who wish to make a contribution to this worthy cause. Help the boys, who, in a short time, will be helping you.

The elementary grades are busy planning Christmas programs to be held on the afternoon of Thursday, Dec. 17.

Some time ago the Red Cross club sent out about fifty news letters to former students of Digby Academy, who are serving overseas. The club has already received one reply, an interesting letter from Robert Everett.

The stamp sale for the week of November 28—December 4, amounted to $33.25. The total from stamps, certificates and bonds sold from October 2—December 4, amounted to $866.75.

MARRIAGE

Campbell - Coryell

Nova Scotians will be much interested in the marriage which took place Tuesday evening, December 1, in Bethlehem Chapel of the Washington Cathedral, Washington, D. C., when Miss Virginia Beverly Coryell, of Washington, daughter of Mrs. Virginia Beverly Coryell of The Plains, Va., and Lieutenant Colin Stuart Campbell, R.C.N.V.R., Halifax, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Campbell, Jr., Weymouth, were united in marriage. The ceremony at 8 o'clock was performed by the Rev. F. Bland Tucker, of St. John's Church, Georgetown. John McGill of The Plains, uncle of the bride, gave her in marriage. She wore her grandmother's wedding gown of moire gresgrain satin fashioned with a light sleeveless bodice and off-the-shoulder neckline finished with a bertha of heirloom lace. A panel of seed pearls on silver threads extended down the front of the full skirt, which was made with side panniers with a bustle back. Her long tulle veil was held with a cap of old lace. She carried an old-fashioned bouquet of white roses and gardenias.

Mrs. Robert Gooding, of Alexandria, who was matron of honor, wore a gold chiffon and velvet gown, had a cluster of chrysanthemums in her hair and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of yellow roses and bronze chrysanthemums. The maid of honor, Miss Dorothy Dovell, was in turquoise blue chiffon and velvet and also carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums. Ensign Harry Murray, U.S.N.R., of Long Island, was best man and the ushers included Lieut. Marshall Beverly, U.S.N.R., of Alexandria; Ensign George Reymann, U.S.N.R., of Wheeling, W. Va., now in Washington; Charles McGill Smith, of New Orleans and Gordon Dovell, of Washington. A small reception was held at the home of the bride in Georgetown, and later Lieut. Campbell and his bride left for New York for a few days before leaving for Halifax where they will make their home. Out-of-town guests included Miss Rebecca McGill, of Winchester, Virginia, aunt of the bride; Miss Mary Williamson, Frederick, Maryland; Captain William Larson, U.S.N., and Mrs. Larson; Miss Mary Larson, Miss Margaret Larson, of Annapolis, Maryland; Mrs. Harry McDerritt, Germantown, Philadelphia; Miss Margaretta Turner, Va.; Dr. and Mrs. William Beverly Mason, Upperville, Virginia; and Mrs. Jane Palmer, The Plains, Va.

Council And Firemen Discuss Problems

The resignations of thirteen members of Digby's 15-man Fire Brigade were read at Monday's meeting of the Digby Town Council, these resignations to be effective as from December 31 of this year. All were embodied in a letter read by Town Clerk, Harold A. Nichols, and included all members with the exception of Horton Stark, veteran member of the company, and Harry (Jack) VanTassell.

Fire Chief, Stewart Winchester was the only member of the Fire Department present at the meeting of the Town Council. The letter which was read said nothing of "dissatisfaction with the Fire Committee of the Digby Town Council", although this was the reason given at the special meeting of the Fire Department on Friday. Asked if this was the reason, Chief Winchester said the boys were not satisfied with the present Fire Committee or Fire Wardens. It was also stated at the Council meeting that the Fire Department's request for additional hose was turned down by the Council last spring on the ground that in the opinion of the Council, the Department had sufficient hose for its requirements. The gas mask asked for was ordered four months ago, but owing to present day conditions, had not been received. The skeleton ladder was not requested until the last meeting of the Town Council, and had been ordered. It was stated the order for stock to make the ladder in question was the only piece of fire fighting equipment ordered on December 2nd.

Replying to questions Fire Chief Winchester said the company had approximately 1800 feet of good hose on the truck, this quantity he said, was not sufficient to fight fires in certain sections of the town because of the fact hydrants were not placed close enough together.

(It was previously pointed out at the meeting that according to the Board of Fire underwriters 1300 feet of hose was considered sufficient for a town the size of Digby.)

The Fire Chief was asked that should the town request Fire Marshall Col. Wright to come to Digby and make a thorough inspecting of the town's fire fighting equipment if he would use his influence to have the members of the Department reconsider their resignations.

He agreed to this, and a resolution to the above effect was passed.

Applications from the Yarmouth Creamery and the Yarmouth Ice Cream and Dairy Products Co. to establish a milk pasteurizing plant in Digby were read. After consideration it was decided to table the applications until one or the other of the two companies had received permission from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board to do business in this town. The clerk was instructed to advise both firms to this effect.

A resolution was passed calling a meeting of the ratepayers of the town of Digby, to be held in the Court House, on the evening of December 18 to vote on borrowing a sum not to exceed $3,000 to acquire or purchase new land for town purposes, namely to improve the water supply.

The report of the assessors was also passed at Monday's meeting of the Council. This report showed the present assessment of the town of Digby to be $858,175, of which $640,145 was on real property and $218,030 on personal property. The assessment showed an increase of about $4,000 over that of last year.

It was also passed at this meeting that Col. Wright make an inspection of eating and dancing places in the town of Digby with regard to fire hazards, when he visits the town to make the inspection of the town's fire fighting facilities.

At the opening of the meeting the minutes for the special meeting held on December 1 to consider the resignation of Chief of Police Fred Thibault were read. These minutes states the Council refuse to grant the increase in view of the fact a $5 monthly increase had been given the Chief in May, and therefore accepted his resignation. A motion by Councillor Cardoza that a survey be made of all encroachment upon town property and that those responsible for such encroachments be required to sign an acknowledgment so that Town property could not become their's by right of possession was not seconded.

Dissatisfaction over lack of co-operation between the present fire committee of the Digby Town Council and the local Fire Department was the reason given for the resignation of thirteen members of Digby's fifteen-man fire department. The resignations was handed to the town council at their regular monthly session on Monday night.

Decision to take this step was reached at a special meeting of the re department Friday evening. George Humphrey, president of the company, was chairman of the meeting.

Fire Chief, Stewart Winchester, who called the meeting stated it was because of the "dissatisfaction of the Fire Department with the present fire committee of the Digby Town Council."

Ten firemen were present at this special session. Nine of these voted to have their resignations sent in to the town council, the resignations to be effective as from December 31, 1942. Horton Stark, senior member of the company, who has been a re fighter in this town for the past 46 years, declared he would decide what action he would take when his term expired at the close of the year.

Four of the five absentee members had expressed their intention of resigning outside the meeting and their names were included with the nine who voted to resign at the special meeting. The other member, Harry (Jack) VanTassell is a patient in the Digby General Hospital, and has not been approached on the matter.

Those who resigned at the meeting are Fire Company President George Humphrey; Fire Chief Stewart Winchester; Fire Truck Driver Fred Muise; ex-chief of police Fred Thibault, Gerald Sanford, Dudley Winchester, Stephen VanTassell, Reginald Gehue, and Alphonse Melanson.

The names of the four absentees to be forwarded with the above are: Fire Company Secretary Albert Warner, Sydney Hall, Ambrose Doucette, and Gerald VanTassell.

Fire Chief Winchester declared at the meeting that due to lack of equipment it would be impossible to fight a serious fire in the town of Digby. He declared this lack of equipment was due to the actions of the Fire Committee at the Digby Town Council. The needed equipment, which included several lengths of hose, gas mask and a skeleton ladder had been requested at a meeting early in the spring and the request passed by the town council. That was months ago but none had been received—none was ordered until Wednesday morning (December 3).

The special meeting was called as a sequel to the action taken at the Fire Company's regular meeting on Wednesday evening. At this meeting the Company threatened to strike, their strike to be effective as from one o'clock Thursday afternoon. A letter stating their intention was forwarded to town clerk H. A. Nichols.

Mrs. Jonas Rice Passes

The death of Mrs. Jonas Rice (Aunt Louisa) occurred at Smith's Cove, on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Rice would have observed her 101st birthday on the 14th of this month. Mrs. Rice was born at Smith's Cove, a daughter of Thomas and Sally Ann Potter, and spent her entire life in the village of Smith's Cove. Almost up until the time of her death Mrs. Rice was regarded as an authority on the history of the village.

She was a member of the Smith's Cove Baptist Church, where both she and her late husband, Deacon Jonas Rice, played a prominent part in the building and life of the church. Their home was althe fire department members were advised that should they refuse to act they would be held "individually and collectively responsible for any fire losses. The letter to the fire department also pointed out the firemen were hired until December 31, 1942, and stated that on receipt of the letter the town had only three hours' notice as to the department's proposed action.

The threatened "strike" was called because of the lack of dissatisfaction with the work of the fire committee of the town council, and in protest to the action taken by the Town Council in refusing to grant $10 monthly raise in the salary of chief of police Thibault and appointing a successor.

About This and That

The essential rottenness of the Nazi system can be seen more clearly now, as it crumbles. It was destined to failure from the beginning, because it was based on the worst elements of human nature instead of the best.

It assumed the right of a powerful few to rule and rob the many. It claimed that one small branch of the human race was superior to all the rest, and all others must bow down to it and work for it. It set up a system of robbery and slavery instead of a civilized humane plan. By raising its hand against every race and system, it has set against it all mankind that it could not destroy or bribe.

In short, Nazism as represented by the insane genius of Adolf Hitler and his followers, has been a system that could not exist without dominating the world. And if it had succeeded in its monstrous plans, it would have driven righteousness and civilization from the earth and thereby destroyed itself.

Evil is self-destructive. Only the rational and the good can endure.

The arm-chair military strategists may do great injury to our war effort by wrongfully influencing public opinion, lessening public faith in our leaders, or lowering public morale.

There is little or no danger that our leaders will be pushed into a foolish move. They are in a better position to know what is best than any other group in the nation. We can depend upon their doing much better in their decisions than the arm-chair bunch who, with the theory that the Canadians can win against any odds, advocate that we plunge into the conflict. These would risk everything on one front.

Our leaders will do a good job. We should see to it that we do as good a job in furnishing them the best war materials on earth to use in the conflict, and in our superior moral support. In this way we can have great hopes and assurances of winning the war.

Much is being said and written these days about the great contribution Russia is making to the cause of liberty and freedom. This is entirely as it should be and no thinking person would try to minimize the importance of the heroic stand made by the Russian people against Nazi hordes. However, it seems that in our zeal to applaud Russia's splendid achievements we are unmindful of the almost superhuman effort made by our Chinese allies to resist and destroy our common enemy.

For several years, almost entirely without aid, China fought back against the armed barbarians, literally with bare fists. Millions of Chinese died, and millions more suffered worse than mere death. But China would not be conquered. Chinese courage never wavered. And China still fights back, although even now she is receiving all too little support from her more powerful allies.

"This Above All" Widely Discussed

Hailed by the critics as one of the great novels of our generation, and America's Number One Best-Seller for many months, Eric Knight's "This Above All" has been brought to the screen by 20th Century-Fox, and arrives at the Capitol Theatre on Monday, Tuesday, December 14-15.

Co-starring Tyrone Power and Joan Fontaine, the film was produced by Darryl F. Zanuck, Academy Award producer, under the directorial auspices of Anatole Litvak. The screenplay was fashioned by R. C. Sherriff, famed author of "Journey's End".

Telling the story of two young lovers caught in the turmoil of war in Britain, "This Above All" has aptly been termed "the first great love story of our generation." It takes the two principal characters through a great emotional crisis, which every man and woman is facing today, and brings them through to a decision which is fundamentally vital for the continuance of their happiness together.

Featured in the cast of the film are Thomas Mitchell, Henry Stephenson, Nigel Bruce, Gladys Cooper, Philip Merivale, Sara Allgood, and Alexander Knox. Their performances have been acclaimed by previewers as outstanding.

Fresh from his triumphs in "Son of Fury" and "A Yank in the R.A.F." Power is said to turn in the finest dramatic performance of his career, while Joan Fontaine, as the young WAAF recruit, demonstrates conclusively why she was awarded the Academy Award for the best performance by an actress for 1941.

"This Above All" has been faithfully brought to the screen, with all of its dramatic and emotional values intact. Producer Zanuck has seen to it that the story retains all the elements which made it so great a success in novel form. Already adjudged a great film, it is bound to be reckoned among the best of the year.

"This Above All" is a stirring story of love in this war-shadowed generation. Moviegoers are assured of a tre-

The Village Blacksmith

(Victoria Times)

For the first time in 260 years there is no blacksmith named Pratt to take over the work in Essex, Conn. James Lord Pratt, the last of his line, has died at 77.

The "spreading chestnut tree" was maple but in every other way the smithy was an accurate copy of the smithy of Longfellow's poem. It was started by John Pratt in 1678 and to a newspaper visitor in 1935 the proprietor said:

This is the oldest business run by one family in the country. When John Pratt founded it there were no horses to shoe. He used to shoe cattle, they were used to draw the wagons. And they made hardware, too, just as I do today, only my work is all replica stuff. People building colonial houses want all hand work.

The last survivor wanted to have a naval career but he returned and took over the little smithy. The story of the shop is carved deep in the stone over the door: Pratt's Village Smithy, James Lord Pratt, proprietor. Successor to Edwin—1870, Elias—1827, John—1811, Asa—1756, Lieutenant John—1744, John, Jr.—1726, John Pratt—1678.

Rev. Frank Smith In Saint John

Induction of Rev. Frank Smith to the pastorate of Victoria St. Baptist Church, Saint John, took place Tuesday evening, December 1st. Deacon Otis Davidson was Master of Ceremonies, a large number of the members and friends of the Church gathered in the large vestry of the church. Greetings were brought from Germain Street by their pastor, Rev. Dr. Poole, who spoke words of welcome to Mr. and Mrs. Smith. Rev. J. Slimon, of the Main Street Baptist Church brought the greetings of his church to the newly settled pastor and his wife. Greetings were also brought from their respective churches by the Revs. A. G. Pentz, of Portland United Church; Rev. Bilson of the Douglas Avenue Christian Church, and Rev. Don McDormand, of the St. George Baptist Church of which Mr. Smith was a former pastor. Deacon George Spinney, of the St. George Church, also spoke of the splendid service which Mr. Smith rendered while pastor at St. George and that his influence will be long felt in the church and the community. Letters of greeting were read from the different churches where Mr. Smith had served. Mr. and Mrs. Smith were then called to the platform and in a very gracious manner Deacon Davidson voiced the pleasure the congregation felt in having them with them and asked their acceptance of the following gifts from the congregation: a large bouquet of carnations for Mrs. Smith and a beautifully carved coffee table together with a handsome Hall Mirror. Both Mr. and Mrs. Smith were completely taken by surprise and in a few appropriate words Mr. Smith expressed his appreciation at the reception accorded them both by all the church departments and looked forward to a progressive work in the interests of Christ and the Church in the future.

At the reception which followed Mr. and Mrs. Smith were assisted in the receiving line by the Deacons and their wives, the ladies of the church then served a delicious lunch after which the National Anthem was heartily sung. The very best wishes go out to our new pastor and his wife, and we pray theirs may be a happy period of service with us as a Church.

RURAL DEAN'S LETTER

To the Clergy and Parishoners of the Deanery of Annapolis:

My Dear Brethren:—By the Grace of God we are permitted to see another Advent Season, a time for preparation for things to come, spiritually for the Thanksgiving and Sharing in commemoration of the First Advent of Christ, our King, the son of the Living God. Also a time for the setting of our house in order for the second coming of our King, The King of Kings and Lord of Lords. This involves the consideration of the interin between the First and Second Advent. The NOW and the TOMORROW. This means that while citizens of this world we must meet our responsibilities and seize our opportunities. The splendid way in which you have gladly met the Red Cross, The Queen's Fund and other demands shows what can be done when the need is recognized and the heart is right. We as Churchmen of this Deanery have an opportunity to raise our full missionary apportionment before December 31st. I make this appeal as your Rural Dean to each and every one of you. Go to your Rector or Wardens and if your Parish is in arrears offer to take a hand in putting up the balance due. If your Parish is able to raise the amount some of the parishes in the Deanery cannot and if you can help the Deanery and Diocese by sending a check to me I shall see that it goes to help meet this important obligation and shall inform you of its destination. It is expected that every Deanery will go over the top and I have faith in the Churchmen of Annapolis Deanery that they will do their part. Wishing you God's Blessing.

Thanking You

Today's Styles To Remain In Vogue For Duration

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board announced that no new styles of women's, misses', and children's wear will be manufactured during the remainder of the war.

From now on millinery will not be out of fashion when she attends a party without a new evening gown, for such luxury garments will no longer be manufactured. As a matter of fact, today's styles, which in general have been frozen, will be considered the very latest until the end of the war.

The Board orders are designed to conserve cloth, economize in production, el-minate unnecessary services and release manpower and womanpower for the armed forces and war production.

The manufacture of evening wraps and capes, negligees and hostess coats, culottes, skating skirts, play suits, riding breeches, golf jackets and bush coats is halted. However, the manufacture of separate skirts, slacks, bathing-suits, windbreakers, housecoats and eiderdown robes will provide "ample and suitable wearing apparel for recreation and leisure," the Board announced.

An exemption has been provided in the case of gowns for brides. Such garments may have a sweep not to exceed 144 inches and a length not greater than 59 inches for size 16.

These regulations, with one exception, become effective November 17. The exception provides that new blocks for women's hats and children's hats may be made until January 15, 1943.

J. A. Klein, administrator of women's, misses' and children's wear, said that eliminations and restrictions already imposed have already resulted in the saving of many thousands of yards of materials which have been put to useful war purposes. "We must keep in mind," he said, "that we are fighting for our very liberty and asking Canadian women to deprive themselves of a garment which is only used occasionally is certainly not asking for any great sacrifice."

These orders apply to home dressmakers as well as manufacturers. "Manufacturer" is defined as "any person, whether manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, milliner or retailer, custom tailor, custom dressmaker or home dressmaker who wholly or partly manufactures in Canada for sale or remuneration, any garment referred to in this order."

Bush Pilots Helping Out

Long before the present war started, Canadians had hung up a remarkable record in aviation by using aeroplanes to traverse the vast unsettled distances of the far north and west, taking men and supplies to remote lumbering and mining settlements. When the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan came into being, most of the men who had been piling up thousands of hours of flying time flocked to the colors. A number of them will be found today at the huge Trenton Air Station, where as instructors at Central Flying School, they pass on their extensive knowledge to the R.C.A.F.'s instructional personnel. "C.F.S.", as it is commonly called, is in reality the university of the air where experienced instructors go for advanced training quality for the coveted "A-1" rating which indicates their fitness to instruct on all types of training craft. On the staff at C.F.S., are three former bush pilots—Squadron Leaders Pat Twist, Herm. Langford and Lou Ingram. All of them key men in the instrument-training system, this trio represents a pool of diversified flying experience such as probably no other country in the world could duplicate.

Regulations Relaxed For Christmas Season

National Selective Service regulations are being relaxed to permit postal authorities and the retail trade to give temporary employment to certain men and women during the Christmas season, under order approved by Labor Minister Mitchell and Arthur MacNamara, acting selective service director, it was announced recently.

Affected by the order are: "Students and teachers during the Christmas vacation, men more than 59 years of age, women more than 44 years of age and, where there are more than sufficient women to meet the requirements of high priority industry in a given locality, women who are less than 45 years old."

TO THE LUMBERMEN OF NOVA SCOTIA

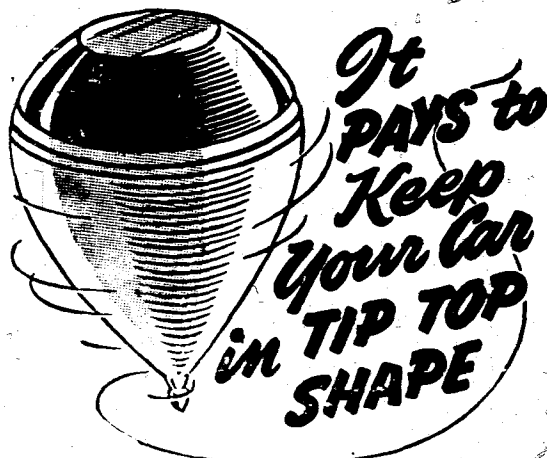

THE Timber Controllers of both Canada and Great Britain ask you to produce 500 million feet of sawn lumber during 1943. This lumber is vitally important for the war effort.

Farmers, and all other woodland owners, also are urged to aid the cause of victory by helping to increase lumber production.

Crooners Out

The sad, drawing, honey-sweet voice of the crooner will shortly be a thing of the past in broadcasting under the latest BBC regulations. It is hoped that the forces will be able to exist without their "sweethearts." No more sentiment, says the BBC. It's bad for the troops. No more songs about "When the Boys Come Home" before the boys have even gone away. They made a similar announcement some time ago, but with very little effect. The moons still continue to rhyme with the Junes, and sickly voices, heavy with what is now officially termed as "slush" still moaned their way over the ether, making everyone miserable with their depressing themes.

An eyeless, tailless calf owned by a farmer of Gonzales, Tex., is still living two months after birth.

2 mechanics get an idea.
Do they deserve credit?
You be the judge.

THOSE two young fellows had an idea that they could turn out small airplane parts in their spare time, at home. But they needed a lathe...

So they went to see the bank about a loan. The manager liked their eagerness, and the fact that both were expert mechanics. They got the loan of a few hundred dollars.

That was three years ago. They have twenty men on the payroll now, and contracts for airplane parts totalling $100,000. They are doing an important full-time job... helping Canada's bombers to carry their deadly loads over enemy cities.

The above is an actual case—typical of how banks help free enterprise. It is happening every day in cities and towns across Canada.

Every general manager today, heading a Chartered Bank, entered the bank as a junior in some small branch and rose from the ranks.

Discuss Canada's Manpower

Canada, with a population of 12,000,000 people will require nearly one half that number to provide men for the armed forces and workers for essential war industries, declared Major John Campbell, who addressed the Digby Board of Trade and others at a meeting held in Grace United Church Hall, Tuesday evening.

Major Campbell, who is representative for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board for Digby, Yarmouth and Shelburne Counties, was introduced to the meeting by R. B. Murray, president of the Digby Board of Trade.

In his address Major Campbell spoke of the vast increase in the volume of the Board's work during the past year, stating there were few who actually realized the scope of the work of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Generally, the idea is that this Board is something of a police organization set up to investigate prices, boarding and so on. That is only part of the work.

Its most important work, he said, is dealing with the problem of manpower, then the control of prices and inflation with an eye on the supply of goods for industry.

He made comparisons with conditions during the last war and this. With the outbreak of war in 1914 the call was for men, and before the armistice in 1918 some 650,000 men were in uniform. In those days Canada was not regarded capable of supplying the materials for war and only 10 percent of the nation's industry was engaged in war production.

During the three years of this war, he said, the number of men in the armed forces has already reached the peak of those in uniform during the four years of the first war. Early in this war when industry was informed that 25 percent of its efforts would be required for war production, industry was shocked. That figure has been exceeded.

At the beginning of 1941, 32 percent of industry was working for the war effort, at the close of the year 45 percent. "Our present aim is 65 percent and at this time we have already reached 65 percent," he said.

He explained that during the first war one war worker was needed at home for every man in the services. In this war a balance workers are required.

Dealing with the question of supplies, Major Campbell said the work of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board had increased greatly since Japan entered the war against us. Rubber, sugar, tea, coffee, and gasoline have been rationed. More rationing will come. "In this country we do not know what rationing is, but we will be warned."

He spoke of the vast quantities of food being sent to Great Britain, of which approximately only 10 percent was used, the rest being held as a reserve. In this connection he explained the threat of an invasion of the British Isles has not passed, and furthermore, vast quantities of foodstuffs will be required when the great offensive is opened on the continent.

He also told of the work the Board was doing to fight inflation, declaring that through the efforts of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, the people of Canada had been saved about $800,000,000 by using the rise of prices during the last war as a basis. One million dollars was estimated for the Board in 1942. He believed the actual cost of its operations would not exceed $800,000.

Capt. Alexander Adams
The death of Capt. Alexander (Sandy) Adams, occurred at his home, Bay View, Digby Co., yesterday morning, at the age of 87 years. "Captain Sandy" as he was affectionately called by young and old, was one of the best known and beloved men in this section of the country—a man with countless friends who loved to chat with him and hear his tales of other days. For many years he operated pleasure boats out of Digby during the summer months, and in that way meeting thousands of the summer visitors to Digby and Bay View and winning their friendships. He was born at Bay View, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Adams, and was a member of the Bay View Presbyterian Church (later amalgamating with the United Church of Canada.) He was twice married, his first wife, the former Emma G. Warrington, of Mt. Pleasant, having predeceased him a number of years. Four children, Laura (Mrs. George R. Stimpson), West Newton, Mass.; Allalie (Mrs. Capt. Babbidge), New York; Margaret (Mrs. Samuel J. Burns), Saugus, Mass., and Mable (Mrs. Alex. Robertson), Dedham, Mass., all born of this union, survive. His second wife, formerly Sabra Middleton, of Culloden, survives. A daughter, Lillie (Mrs. Thomas Binnmore), born of this union, predeceased him several years ago. Funeral services will take place Friday afternoon, with a short service at the home, followed by a service in the Church. Rev. Thomas W. Hodgson, of the United Church, will officiate.

Mrs. Ernest Lewis
Westport was saddened to hear of the sudden passing of Mrs. Ernest Lewis. She has been in poor health for some time but had been able to care for her husband, who has been in bed for several months. She was 87 years of age, and leaves to mourn, her husband, one son Arden, living in Ontario, and one daughter, Vivian, who cared for her besides several grandchildren. There was a short service at her home after which the remains were taken to Freeport for service and burial.

Prices of
are reduced by law!

This action is taken in line with the Government's declared determination to stabilize living costs on a basis that is fair to all. It is a developing attack on the menace of inflation which arises out of wartime conditions. The prices of tea, coffee and oranges are now lowered by official order. Plans for reduction in the price of milk to the consumer are also under way and will be announced in the near future. The items chosen have been selected because of their important place in the weekly budget of every home in Canada.

TEA and COFFEE Effective now—the retail price of tea is reduced by 10c per pound and the retail price of coffee by 4c per pound below the recent lawful ceiling prices.

The table below indicates how the reduction of 10c per pound applies to less-than-pound packages; and is for purposes of illustration only.

Tea formerly selling by the pound at...	$1.00	90c	85c
Must now sell at
per pound	90c	80c	75c
per 1-2 pound	45c	40c	38c
per 1-4 pound	24c	22c	21c
per 1-8 pound	13c	12c	11c

BULK TEA
The reduction in the maximum retail prices of bulk tea sold in quantities less than a pound should correspond to the reduction in retail prices for the small sizes of packaged tea.

TEA BAGS
Reductions in retail prices of tea packaged in tea bags must correspond to those made on packaged tea.

ORANGES Oranges must be reduced to give consumers the benefit of the reduction in cost to retailers brought about by lower prices for the new crop, by seasonal removal of import duty (effective December 1st, this year) and by the removal of the War Exchange Tax. Oranges should sell at or below the September-October 1941 retail price levels.

BE SURE THAT YOU GET THE FULL BENEFIT OF THESE REDUCTIONS

SPECIAL NOTICE TO RETAILERS:
Retailers will be compensated for any loss on present stocks—in order that these reductions may be enjoyed by the public immediately. Retailers should take inventory of their floor stocks of tea and coffee as of the close of business, Saturday, December 5th. They will shortly receive forms upon which to make their claims for compensation for losses on inventory due to these price reductions.

WEYMOUTH

E. O'Brien is visiting his mother and sisters at Weymouth North.

Mrs. Ellsworth Coggins is visiting Mrs. G. L. Coggins, Weymouth North.

Ensley Marshall, of Dartmouth, visited Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lent, recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Strong, of Yarmouth, were visitors in Weymouth last week.

Pauline Amon returned to Brighton on Sunday after spending a week with her mother.

Miss Bessie Sabean, of Riverdale, spent the week end at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Hankinson.

Anna Willet, of Ashmore, who is staying with Mrs. H. M. Mullen, Weymouth North, spent the week end at her home.

L. E. Roberts spent the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hankinson. He spoke at the Riverside Baptist Church on Sunday evening.

Mrs. H. C. Taylor and daughter Christina, of Parkman, Saskatchewan, are visiting her mother, Mrs. R. K. Newcombe, Weymouth North.

Mr. and Mrs. K. M. Hankinson were visitors to Digby last week. They were accompanied by Mrs. G. A. Hankinson and Mrs. John Dunkley.

The annual Christmas Tea and Sale was held at the United Church parsonage on Thursday of last week. Despite the inclemency of the weather, there was a good turn-out and proceeds amounted to about $65.

Lobster traps were strewn along the shores of New Edinburg and Weymouth this week after the severe storm. Many people were seen gathering up a good feed of lobsters from the traps, although a great number of the shell fish were already dead on the shore. It is estimated that lobster fishermen lost thousands of dollars. They had had one day's haul, before the storm, and there were very few, who did not have their traps set for the second catch.

The Young People's Mission group of the United Church held a party last week at the Killam House, for the Navy. A large crowd was present and games were enjoyed throughout the evening. Delightful refreshments were served. On Monday night of this week, the Navy retaliated by giving a party at the same place, for the young people. This evening was supervised by the local overseers and was a huge success. It is hoped that this home may be used as recreation rooms for the service men, while in Weymouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Cerebo Jones have returned from Lake Pakanac, N. J., where they have been visiting for the past month.

Mrs. A. S. Hart and children, David and Bernard, left on Tuesday for New Ross, where Rev. Mr. Hart is rector.

Mrs. Leslie Ruggles was a visitor to Digby on Saturday.

Parker Moore, R.C.N., is visiting his mother, Mrs. Ethel Moore at Weymouth North.

Miss Shirley Nichol, of Digby, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Nichol, over the week end.

Mrs. Scott Hankinson and little Ruth Marie were visitors to Digby last week. They were accompanied by Mrs. George Wagner.

The Christmas Concert and Vesper Service will be held at Heart Memorial Church on Monday evening, December 21st. Please reserve this date. An offering will be taken. 13:21c

The trials of the last two patrol ships were held Monday and Tuesday of last week, and passed the examination. These ships were commissioned in the name of God and of the King on Saturday, and presented to the American Navy.

Lobstermen Hard Hit

Hundreds of lobster traps were piled up on the St. Mary's Bay shore during the heavy gale of wind which lasted for one whole week. It was the worse wind storm witnessed there for years. Many of the traps are beyond repair and are a total loss; yet a lot of others will be able to be repaired. The hardest hit districts, at this time, seem to be Meteghan, Cape St. Mary's and Comeauville. Traps from these districts litter the whole shore. The local fishermen believe that they will escape with but minor damage to their traps, though they will not be able to ascertain the damage until they are able to visit the fishing grounds. Major Stehelin, of Church Point, states that this portion of Nova Scotia has heavy wind storms every year between December 1st and 8th, according to his weather diary, but this storm was the worst in five years. Smashed traps, live lobsters, seaweed piled up on the shore. Many fishermen worked all during the day Saturday to salvage the traps.

Southville

Carl White spent the week end with friends in this place. Phillip LeBlanc is on the sick list.

Mr. and Mrs. William Steele and family, spent a day at East Ferry, recently.

Phillip Gaudet has returned home from Labrador.

NOVA SCOTIA FARM NEWS

Egg Shortage Nearing End

Within the next two weeks there should be sufficient eggs to meet local demands, according to C. M. MacMillan of the Federal Livestock production board. Nova Scotia hens are coming into greater production, but as yet the increase is scarcely perceptible except near the source. There is, however, a very marked increase in egg production in Western Ontario with the result, that very shortly, according to the present outlook ample quantities will be available for shipping carload shipments to Nova Scotia. Though the acute shortage of recent weeks bids fair to be broken very soon the indications are that the price will remain near the ceiling. Ceiling prices in Nova Scotia are, wholesaler to retailer, Grade A large loose 50¢ cents per dozen, in cartons 2 cents more, Grade A medium 2 cents less, Grade A pullet 5 cents less, Grade B, 8 cents less, Grade C 10 cents less. Not more than 8 cents is allowed for the retail mark-up. There is no ceiling set for the price paid to the producer or for eggs sold to National Defence or shipped to Newfoundland.

The current shortage has been brought about by seasonal and wartime factors. There has been no falling off in Nova Scotia production, which according to Mr. MacMillan, is probably greater this year than before. The greatest factor contributing to the shortage is the fact there are no storage eggs. All available eggs of last spring and summer were dried for shipment to the British Ministry of Food. In normal times seasonal shortage of new-laid eggs is made up for by calling on the storage plants. Another contributing factor has been the increased demand from communities with large number of war-industry workers and from the large National Defence camps.

Six Turkey Pools Arranged

Two thousand turkeys have been listed for pools to be held at Antigonish, Mabou, West Bay Road, River Denys, Baddeck and Lawrencetown. This 25,000 or so pounds of turkey will be augmented somewhat by birds to be sold by private arrangement. In addition there is in storage, in Halifax, 40,000 lbs. of Nova Scotia heavy milkfed A chicken and capon.

The available native turkey and chicken will be supplemented by importations from Western Canada, with reasonable assurance that there will be ample supplies of turkey, goose, duck, chicken on hand to meet all Christmas and New Year's demands.

Importations from the west for last Christmas and New Year's totalled 980,000 lbs. with everything being cleared up before the festive season was ended. These importations included: for the Halifax market, 395,000 lbs. turkey, 65,900 lbs. geese, 6,500 lbs. duck; for the Sydney market, 196,048 lbs. turkey, 70,044 lbs. goose, 7,728 lbs. duck.

Those who like to anticipate the price of Christmas turkey can make a start with the fact that the ceiling price, wholesale to retail, is 36½ cents a lb. for Grade A.

Institute Ladies Are Pleased

Members of the Nova Scotia women's institutes will follow with pride and pleasure the career of Mrs. Henry K. Kendall as First Lady of the Province of Nova Scotia. The wife of the recently sworn in Lieutenant Governor, is a member of Windsor Forks and Martock Institute. She joined that institute more than twenty years ago when taking up residence in Hants Co., and ever since has been a popular, faithful and active member. She served as president for several years.

Good Month For Work

Rainfall for the month of November at the N. S. Agricultural college station, Truro, averaged 3.04 inches, falling on eight days and snow 5 inches falling on three days. This gave a precipitation of 3.54 which was practically normal for the month. The maximum temperature reached was 68 degrees on the first of the month with three days 60 or above. It did not go over 50 any day after November 12. While the first of the month was warm the latter was cool. The minimum temperature reached was 14 on the 24th with 21 days 32 or below. The dominion experimental station at Nappan, in reviewing the November weather report states that the month was unsettled and slightly colder than average. On the whole it was a good month for getting work done. The mean maximum temperature was 41.07 degrees and the mean minimum temperature 20.31 degrees. The highest temperature of the month was 66 on November 1 and the lowest was 16 on November 23 and 24. The total rainfall was 3.89 inches, snowfall 8 inches, making a total precipitation of 4.69 inches. The total precipitation for November reported from the government experimental station at Kentville was 4.09 inches. The average mean temperature was 35.08 degrees. The lowest temperature was 16 degrees, this low being recorded in November 22, 23, 24. The mercury touched 68 degrees on November 1 for the maximum, reading of the month.

Civic Paralysis Hits Gold Towns

Something beyond ghostliness is creeping through the good towns of the West. It is a form of civic paralysis. The boarding up of mine entrances and business places is only a part of it. For the first time in the experience of the bonanza country gold is being de-glamorized. In the past, mining towns became civic ghosts because they ran out of gold. Now they are dying because they are running out of miners and equipment.

Under the stress of war the precious yellow stuff has been demoted to a position below copper, zinc, mercury and other metals needed to make guns, bullets, planes, ships and tanks. Reduced to its purely utilitarian status, it remains good mainly for filling teeth.

Wages in shipyards and other war industries began to outglitter the little gold mines in 1940. Men, who had been making $5 or $6 a day on their own small claims drifted to the cities. Historic places like Angels Camp, Dutch Flat, Indian Diggins, and Red Dog, lost the prosperous bloom which they acquired when the price of gold was hoisted to $35 an ounce.

Enlistments and the draft dealt a second blow, and the towns began to take on the ghostliness that had marked pre-depression years.

But to thousands of persons, gold mining still remained a way of life. The older men, those with established homes and families, continued to dig. The larger gold towns tightened their belts and kept going.

But a War Production Board order which closed most of the gold mines October 15 in a move to shift their manpower into strategic metal mines knocked the last remaining props from under those who had been clinging to gold for a living.

He could tell you how Italian tanks scattered in Libya; how Sicily looked by the light of flare bombs; how the Huns ducked for cover in a half-dozen European countries. He's a member of an R.C.A.F. air crew—those much travelled "fighting comrades of the skies."

Trained in Canada—R.C.A.F. air crews take the world in their stride. Smooth-working attack teams—bomber and fighter pilots, Navigators, Bombers, Gunners, Wireless Operators—ready for action on any front. They seek out and destroy the foe wherever he can be found. After victory these keen young Canadians will lead the way to a bright new world. Our future is in their hands. Their future is in the skies.

Young men with a taste for adventure—and a yen to pin Hitler's ears back—have a new career awaiting them in R.C.A.F. air crews. R.C.A.F. training in Canada is expanding steadily. More planes, more schools, more instructors are now available. At present applications are being accepted for air crew at R.C.A.F. Recruiting Centres throughout Canada.

If you are physically fit, mentally alert, over 17½ and not yet 33, you are eligible. If you are over 33, but have exceptional qualifications, you may still be considered. Lack of formal education is no longer a bar to enlistment.

WOMEN TOO—join "that men may fly." Canadian women fill vital jobs in the R.C.A.F. Women's Division, releasing men for air crew duties. Recruits are needed, age 18 to 40, physically fit, with at least High School entrance. Many useful and fascinating jobs await you. No experience needed. The Air Force will train you quickly to take your place with Canada's airwomen. Full information of any R.C.A.F. Recruiting Centre or write address below for booklet.

LOCAL AND PERSONAL

The Ladies' Aid met on Tuesday evening with Mrs. C. V. Snow.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Fancy spent Sunday with Mrs. A. K. Fancy, South Milford.

Mrs. William McGee, Middleton, spent the past week with Mrs. F. R. Harris.

Miss Emma Benson spent a few days last week visiting relatives in Smith's Cove.

Edmund Riley, R.C.A.F., spent the week end with his sister, Mrs. Laurie Thompson.

Miss Marjorie Doty, teacher at Milford Corner, spent the week end with Miss Pearl Campbell.

Mrs. J. Brinton, of Port Lorne, is the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. Brinton for the winter months.

The Philathea Class are holding a Christmas party tonight at the home of Mrs. Oakley Banks.

Mrs. Jos. Darres, of Victory, was a visitor in Bear River on Saturday last, visiting friends while in town.

Cecil Miller, R.C.A., stationed in P.E.I., spent a few days last week with Mrs. Miller at their home here.

Edward McDormand, R.C.A., of Halifax, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. F. McDormand.

Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Grant, of Digby, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. LeGrow on Thursday of last week.

Mrs. George Curtis returned on Monday from Halifax, where she has been visiting her four daughters for the past two months.

Mrs. C. B. LeGrow returned on Friday of last week from New Glasgow, where she had been visiting for a week while Mr. LeGrow was at Truro.

Burton Harris has returned to his home here after spending several months in Halifax. He is now employed with the Dominion Construction Corporation at Deep Brook.

Pte. Maurice Darres, of Halifax, spent the week end with his wife and daughter, Jean Dorothy. On Saturday, accompanied by Mrs. Earle Fancy, they visited friends in Digby.

The monthly meeting of the W.M.S. of the United Church will be held on Friday at the home of Mrs. W. A. Chute, and it is hoped that all members will attend, also that those holding autumn Thanksgiving envelopes will bring or send them in, as there are still some out.

In a recent letter received from Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Steadman, of New Glasgow, they wished to send their best regards to their many friends in Bear River. Mr. Steadman is back at his post as Principal of the New Glasgow Academy and Inspector of Schools in the town, and their young son, Bobbie is now attending school. They hope to make a visit to Bear River during the coming summer.

The deep sympathy of the community is extended to Cpl. and Mrs. Denzel Yorke, in the loss of their infant daughter, which occurred at the Digby General Hospital on Friday evening, following an illness of only a few days duration. Cpl. Yorke was on his way home, by train, having been called on account of his little daughter's illness, as she was taken to the hospital that morning in the hope that she would improve. As her condition seemed easier, Mrs. Yorke returned to Morganville, but later in the afternoon unfavorable symptoms developed which proved fatal. All the circumstances in this particular case make the loss doubly hard, as Mrs. Yorke was very seriously ill in September when the baby was born, and is just now regaining her strength.

Flt.-Sgt. Arthur M. Green Missing--Believed Killed

Mr. and Mrs. Charles T. Green, Bear River, have received a telegram from Ottawa, advising them that word has been received from the International Red Cross, at Geneva, quoting information from German sources, to the effect that their nephew, Flight-Sergeant Arthur Monson Green lost his life on Oct. 1st, but there were no additional particulars. Under these circumstances he is to be considered "missing, believed killed."

Arthur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roland Green, was born at Fox River, N.S., in February, 1922. His father is a veteran of the last war, in which he was wounded. Owing to his father's illness, the home was closed and at the age of six Arthur came to live with his aunt and uncle, living with them ever since and being as a son to them, and a brother to their two daughters. Should better news fail to come, no son will be more deeply mourned than he will. He received his education at "Oakdene" common school and academy, and then completed Grade XII at the Digby Academy. He enlisted in the R.C.A.F. in July of the same year, and went overseas in January of this year.

Arthur had many flights over Germany, and had been mentioned in "dispatches" and on the air, for his work. He was one of a bomber crew of seven—one English, one American and five Canadians. When their bomber failed to return, the Squadron Commander wrote "We lost one of our best crews when this aircraft did not return, for it had already been mapped out for a great future with the squadron."

Arthur was a favorite with everyone, a good scholar, an active member of the Cubs, and of the Boy Scouts later on. He was a regular and faithful attendant of the Baptist church and Sunday School and always ready to help in any good work in the village, later he kept up this same quality in his airforce training, first as a Wireless Air-Gunner, and then as Flt.-Sergeant. His last Canadian furlough was spent in Bear River during the Christmas season of 1941-42, and he and his young friends enjoyed the pleasures of hunting and hiking. A later furlough was spent in Scotland, where he enjoyed the many beautiful and historical scenes of which he had read so often. All his interests were in the finer things of life, for the preservation of which and for the benefits of freedom, he was willing to offer, and may have given his life. While his relatives and many friends have not given up hope that better word may be received, until such time he must be listed as above "Missing, believed killed." "Greater love hath no man than this, that he lay down his life for his friends."

Chicken Supper

The Ladies' Aid held a very successful chicken supper on Thursday last at the United Church vestry. The room was very attractive in its dress of red and green with silver icicles. The Christmas gift tree was very pretty as was also the fancy work booth. The dining room tables were centered with holly sprays tied with red ribbon, and tall red candles in brass holders with holly at each plate was very attractive. The proceeds were for church work.

Express Thanks

Dear Friends:—I must acknowledge your kindness at receiving your most welcome Ditty Bag, contents of which were most welcome. I am sure it is a great pleasure to us sailor boys to know that people think so much of us, and I can assure you, friends, that your kindness is always with us. I trust you will all enjoy a very Happy Christmas and a very Bright New Year. Thanking you again for your extreme kindness and consideration to us all. I am,

Yours very affectionately

OBITUARY

Asa F. Walsh

The death of Asa Foster Walsh occurred at the home of his daughter, on Monday, November 30, at 2 p.m., following many months of illness. Deceased was a son of the late John and Susan (Harris) Walsh, Bear River, where his childhood was spent. Later he went to the United States and entered the business world, remaining there until 18 years ago, when he returned to Bear River. He married Marietta Harris, also of Bear River, who predeceased him by eight years. Four years ago he went to Deep Brook to reside with his daughter and son-in-law, Col. and Mrs. Garnet W. Harris, and it was at their home he died. Beside the daughter, there survive one sister, Mrs. Mary Towle, and one brother, John W. Walsh, both residents of Massachusetts. Funeral was held from St. John's Church, Bear River, Tuesday afternoon, with burial in Mt. Hope cemetery.

Mrs. Oakley Banks received a painful, though fortunately not serious injury to her hand when it was caught in the wringer of a washing machine. The wringer had not stopped operating, unnoticed by her, and in changing its position her hand was caught. As she was doing the good deed of helping in case of illness, it was doubly unfortunate.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Leon Comeau

The death occurred at Saulnierville Station on Monday, November 30, of Mrs. Leon Comeau, wife of Postmaster Comeau. Although in poor health for the past ten years, it was only two months ago that Mrs. Comeau found it necessary to remain in bed. She was actively identified with many of the works of the church. Two of her sons are members of the clergy, one, Rev. Jules Comeau, being Superior of St. Anne's College, Church Point, and a daughter is a Religious. Postmaster Comeau, who has held that office at Saulnierville Station for 56 years, and his wife, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Francois Doucette, Wedgeport, were married 41 years ago October 8. The five sons of the couple are: Rev. Jules Comeau, Rev. Emille Comeau, now associated with a church organization in Montreal; Dennis, D.A.R. section foreman, residing at Saulnierville Station; two daughters, Zita, Reverend Sister Mont Carmel, Montreal, and Elva, Mrs. Melanson, Meteghan. The funeral took place Thursday morning at 10 o'clock with Requiem High Mass at Sacred Heart Church, Saulnierville, when Mrs. Comeau's son, Rev. Emille, celebrated the Mass, and Father Jules Comeau took part, as well as Fathers J. M. Doucet and Simon Comeau.

Sharon Yorke

Sharon Yorke, infant daughter of Cpl. and Mrs. Denzel Yorke, of Bear River, passed away at the Digby General Hospital on Saturday. The funeral was held on Monday afternoon from the Morganville Baptist Church, conducted by Rev. J. Brooks, of the Bear River United church, assisted by Rev. G. D. Brydon, of the Baptist church. Burial was at the Morganville cemetery.

Storm Does Damage

The big storm of December 9 which lashed this coast in all its fury, was the result of considerable damage along the electric light and power lines of the Digby County Power Board, particularly in the Municipality of Clare, and in areas where the lines run close to the sea shore.

Lashed by the heavy winds tons of spray washed the lines, depositing volumes of salt and sand on insulators. This condition caused no serious trouble for a few days. Then came a wet, mild spell. The salt and sand turned into a gooey, briney slime. For miles at a stretch every pole was affected. Flames and sparks shot forth from the insulators on top of these poles.

To correct the condition the Power Board had to engage a large crew of emergency workers. It was necessary for these men to climb every electric light pole for miles and wipe the goo and slime off each individual insulator with a dry cloth.

Clare Branch of Legion Meets

A meeting of the Canadian Legion B.E.S.L. Clare Branch No. 52 was held in the Saulnierville Parish Hall last Wednesday evening with President Leger Comeau, of Weymouth, presiding. Guests for the evening were: Oscar Miles, Prov. Secretary of the Legion; Stanley E. Cochrane, Bruce Hunter and Chaplain, Zone representative; Capt. the Rev. Thomas Gastonguay. About twenty-five members were in attendance. Mr. Miles spoke on regeneration of the Legion affairs. Capt. Bruce Hunter gave a brief sketch of his recent experiences in the forestry corps in Scotland, from where he recently returned. After the meeting, refreshments were served at the Comeau's restaurant. Two members made applications for admittance into the Legion: namely, Lt. L. E. d'Entremont and Sgt. Bernard Maillet of the C.O.T.C. of St. Ann's College.

Granville Ferry Boy In Palestine

The following is an extract from a letter written by Flt.-Sgt. Robert Mills, R.C.A.F., in the Middle East, to his mother, Mrs. Harry Mills, Granville Ferry:

"It has been over a week since I've written, but don't worry, I have a good excuse, because we've been on a week's leave and believe me I guess we were all over Palestine. I have about 100 snaps and some real good ones of parts of the Holy Land. We spent most of our time in Jerusalem and Bethlehem and saw about everything there was to see. The churches are wonderful and at Jerusalem I saw the tomb, Mount of Olives, a small section of the Cross, the place of crucifixion, where the Cross was laid after, and many other things. I have snaps of all these. Then we went to Bethlehem and approaching it you go down the 'seven sisters'. The twins are 180 and very steep; there we saw the manger and the old church. After that we went to Nazareth and saw Joseph's workshop. Mary's Well (had a drink of water), and the church where Christ taught, etc., from there on to the Sea of Galilee (had a swim there), and saw the fishermen, then, we went across the River Jordan and down the Jordan Valley. A nice drive, I wish you could have been with me to see all these things. The only thing I thought was strange was the fact that every church we had to pay admission, which hardly seems the right thing. We spent our nights at the Y.M.C.A.'s which are nicer than the hotels. Food is very dear and costs $1.50 for a decent meal. I guess that seems to be about all main events of our leave and now we are back at the home front strong. I expect to have at least a dozen letters waiting for me, but alas! only one and that was your wire. Before we know it winter will be here. Between you and me I hope to be in Canada for Christmas, if not at home, providing the Lord is willing.

Westport Man Drowns

Malcolm Welch, 38-year-old son of Amos and the late Mrs. Welch, Westport, was drowned Friday while duck hunting in the shoal waters off Gull Rock, near Briar Island, on which the village of Westport is situated.

Two lobster fishermen, John Smith and his son Richard, sighted Welch clinging to the bottom of his capsized punt. The lobstermen, who were operating in the area, found it impossible to take their larger craft in amongst the rocks, and rushed away to secure aid and to return with a dory which could be navigated in those waters.

Returning as quickly as possible, they found Welch's upturned punt, but there was no sign of the duck hunter, who, apparently became exhausted and released his grip on the bottom of the upturned boat, and slid into the sea to his death.

Dragging operations were begun at once, and fishermen are patrolling the coast, but to date, there has been no sign of the body.

Beside his father, he is survived by his wife and their three-year-old daughter, a married sister in the United States, and a brother Albert.

Red Cross News DIGBY BRANCH

During the month of November the regular Red Cross work meetings were held on Wednesday afternoons, with quilting, sewing and knitting continuing as usual. As we near the end of the year it is gratifying to note that the Digby Branch has already exceeded its record for last year's quilts, 415 having been shipped to date, with the December shipment yet to be added to the year's total. Although knitting and sewing supplies are low at the end of the year, advice from headquarters shows that there will be more material available soon for next year's quota. The Digby Branch is asked to do its share of the following quota of sewing which has been undertaken by the Nova Scotia Division of the Red Cross for next year: Babies—100 layettes, 100 diapers, Girls—1000 bloomers, 100 slips, 1000 nightgowns, 200 dresses, 300 coats. Women—400 bloomers, 200 slips, 250 nightgowns, 250 dresses, 150 coats. Boys—450 underpants, 450 undershirts, 500 pyjamas, 750 shirts, 500 pants, 500 coats or windbreakers. Men—100 shirts.

A short time ago an urgent call was issued from the provincial office to all branches for service sweaters of all kinds, particularly for the airforce. Since our stock of sweaters had already been forwarded and we had very limited yarn supplies on hand, there was little the Digby Branch could do, but it shows that the need of Red Cross knitting is still as great as ever when yarn is available.

It has been a great pleasure recently to welcome Centreville back among our auxiliaries. After their work having been suspended for several months, the Centreville ladies have been re-organized under the presidency of Mrs. Dukeshire. Red Cross materials were forwarded to them and a beautiful box of finished work received early in December. Another much appreciated box was recently received from the South Range Patriotic Club, containing five lovely quilts. Both of these were too late for our November records, but will be included in the December lists.

Our November shipments to Halifax consisted of the following articles: 60 turtle-neck

Killed In Action

Clarence W. Johnson, son of Capt. Jas. Johnson, U.S.M., has been notified of his father's death after action at sea in the service of his country. He was born in Lower Granville. Last March his ship, a freighter was torpedoed, but he was saved. Capt. Johnson had made his home in Somerville, Mass., for a number of years until his wife died in 1939, since which time he had made his home with his son and daughter-in-law at 32 East Main Street, Ayer, Mass., when ashore. Besides his son Clarence, Capt. Johnson is survived by another son, Lieut. Charles B. Johnson, of the Navy, who is now serving with the Pacific fleet; a sister, Mrs. Addie Outhouse in Nova Scotia; and two brothers, Charles, of Newark, N.J., and Frederick in Nova Scotia.

Shopping 1943 Style

Christmas shopping, 1942 style, is different than Christmas shopping for many years. For one thing, local merchants, or many of them, appear inclined to discourage customers from buying. These merchants are wondering what they will have on their shelves after the Christmas rush is over.

Local shoppers have truly been "doing their Christmas shopping early" this year, and already Christmas stocks are getting low. The late shopper will have little to choose from.

For weeks it has been next to impossible to buy bulk candy in Digby. A few of the merchants have rationed their supplies by refusing to sell more than a pound to a customer. It is understood, however, a few of the stores have stocks of Christmas candies stored in their basements or back shops to be released in a few days. They argue that should this candy be released now, there would be a lot of disappointed kiddies at Christmas time. As it is, there is not enough to go around.

Other supplies are also "short" but not sufficiently so as to create any serious hardships. Shortages, however, are not attributed to "hoarding." In Digby, as almost every place in Canada, supplies are coming through in dribbles. Perhaps under ordinary circumstances and conditions, these "dribbles" would not of necessity cause a shortage, but, right now Digby is suffering an attack of "boomitis" resulting from the big development at nearby Deep Brook. Digby is the headquarters for many of those engaged at the big naval project.

The result of this boom which has created a substantial increase in the town's normal population, and in the population of nearby communities that depend largely on Digby merchants for their supplies.

Commencing yesterday milk is being sold in Digby at 8c a quart or 4c a pint.

SIMPLICITY

(By Faraway Moses in "Grit")

Simplicity is man's greatest virtue. To pretend to be more than simply a man of no pretensions, is the cream of honest simplicity. Men drift into a display of lofty pretensions as naturally as a peacock cultivates the habit of spreading his gaudy tail feathers to dazzle the eyes of the beholder. The peacock wants the world to recognize him as a bird of beauty; the pretentious man wants the world to recognize him as a great deal above the average.

The simple man doesn't care two cents how much wealth the community marks down to his credit. He doesn't recognize money as the only mark worth or superiority in man. He doesn't admire a spirit of hoarding in man, any more than he does a spirit of hogishness in a hog. Neither does he value the friendship of other men solely on account of the money they help him secure. When the simple man loves a companion, it is simply for the pleasure and mutual enjoyment which comes to them out of their intimate association.

We used to have a simple man living in Hardscrabble. He was the simplest noble of nature's simpletons. He didn't want to be anything else than just a simple man—a species of animal just a little mental superior of all other animals and bugs. And he was on the best terms with all manner of bugs and insects and worms. It was all on account of his simple simplicity. Even his name was the blue milk of simplicity, without the speck of pretentious cream on it. He was known to everybody as old Jud Jobson, and many of the people in Hardscrabble called him "Uncle Jud."

Jobson lived in a little log cabin down along the branch and earned a skimpy living at fishing and trapping and working odd times for the farmers, taking pigs' feet and old bacon and flour for pay. He had no companions except two dogs and six cats, a jews-harp, a cracked flute, and the veneration of all the bugs and worms within two miles of his cabin. Uncle Jud always opened his door or hoisted a window before striking up a tune on either of his musical instruments, because he wanted the birds and bugs and lizards to enjoy the music. Perhaps he realized that nothing else could enjoy it, and was in his simple way grateful to the insect world for the attention it gave him.

When a boy I used to visit Uncle Jud about once a week, and hear him play the flute. His music was so very simple that the birds came and sat on the nearby trees and on the window sill, and listened in charmed silence for hours at a time. Often the lizards would crawl up through the floor to listen to 'Annie Laurie' or 'The Swanee River', and even pinchebugs could crawl up and peep through the open window and rub their stomach in pure delight with one of their many hind legs.

"They're all my friends," he would say, "and I know just how to please them. The birds have different tastes than a pinchebug or a lizard, and want a lively air. 'Yankee Doodle' is a favorite with birds, and so are 'Old Zip Coon' and 'Nellie Bly.' But if you want to please a lizard you must give him something soulful."

He died at the ripe old age of 92, missed by old and young, and his hut is now the home of his old friends, the lizards, toads, rats, bugs and beetles, and the birds seem to sing their happiest songs as they sit in the branches of his favorite apple tree.

I have tried all my life to be as big a simpleton as Uncle Jud Jobson. To be as unpresuming and plain and honest and frank and tender and juicy green, but so far I have not even the admiration of the toads and insects to any great extent. But it may all be on account of my lack of musical talent. There is no more music in my soul than in a cracked kettle; and no more soul in my music than there is in the croak of a frog, or the bellow of a bull. But it feels good to be simple—to feel there is nothing else inside your skin than just your own simple self, and to know that your body is worth at least 15 cents more than the clothes on your back. A man must feel very mean to realize that there is more intrinsic value in his clothes than in his brain and body.

I have always tried to guard against such a calamity, and feel far better with a constellation of patches on the elliptical of my zodiacal pyjamas than I do when I am all dressed up with my best Sunday-go-to-meeting duds and my nicest party smile.

OBITUARY

Alfred E. Titus

The funeral of the late Alfred E. Titus was held from his home on Tannery Road, Lunenburg, Monday afternoon, December 7th, according to the rites of the Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Alexander Allen officiating. Mr. Titus, who was forty-nine years of age, was born at Freeport, was a former member of the advisory committee of the Bank of Nova Scotia. A veteran of the First Great War, he had served overseas as a member of the 85th Battalion. He was twice wounded, one shrapnel wound affecting his lung and ultimately causing his death. Possessing a fine personality, friendly disposition, and many other sterling qualities, Mr. Titus was a popular citizen of the town. A representative group of Branch No. 23 Canadian Legion of Lunenburg attended in a body and the Legion service at the grave was conducted by Chaplain Rev. W. E. Ryder. A fine gesture in respect to one who had fought for freedom 25 years ago, was made by Camp Norway. As the local Veterans bore the remains of their Comrade from the house across the street from the Camp, the guard turned out and lowered the flags to "half-mast."

The General Practitioner (Country Doctor To You)

Before the break of dawn the phone bell rings—

Just to be sure that he will come that day

To see someone who has felt "mean" for weeks—

"Yes, any time will do—during the day."

The sky begins to show a lighter shade

Of gray—again he hears the phone bell

This time 'tis someone "thro' the mail

Wants pills he's sure the Drugstore does not sell."

Again and yet again the phone bell rings,

More detail upon detail piling high.

The mail does not go out for several hours—

To sleep again he turns with gentle sigh.

At last the light of day really appears,

The sun from rest once more lights up the sky.

He must arise from perhaps three hours sleep

To visit homes where those in illness lie.

He must be bright and patient, he must smile

To cheer the sad—to put strength in the weak—

To comfort those whose road is hard, to help

Those without Faith, a stronger Friend to seek.

He must bend all his thoughts to solve somehow

A problem, dark to those who on him call.

He must forget his home, his friends, his books,

To others he must give his time, his mind, his all.

And when he leaves the home of one in need,

Must seek some way to send help without harm.

Then when he enters the next house, must seem

As fresh as if from rest, and just as calm.

He must take no offence when anxious friends

Ask questions, cast "quack" treatments at his head—

Must answer gently, and must not offend,

But must protect the patient, ill in bed.

And when a case beyond his skill has gone,

To where we know all worldly sufferings cease.

He must not show his weariness and hurt,

Must do his best, and always seem as peace.

Through winter storms and blazing summer sun

Through rain and tempest, with or without rest,

The Country Doctor goes about his rounds.

He goes this year by year—a gruelling test.

To those who serve us now in time of war.

Let us remember to give thanks this day.

Their road is hard, their pleasures few,

And yet they keep on their accustomed way.

From eight to ten or twelve hours some men work.

Others from rise to setting of the sun,

But well we know that "like the women's work"

The Country Doctor's Work "is never done."

The Story Of Caribou Sinking

The Canadian minesweeper Grand Mere sighted the submarine which sank the Newfoundland-Nova Scotia ferry Caribou last October 14, pursued it, and dropped three patterns of depth charges, Navy Minister Macdonald has revealed.

The Caribou was sunk on a voyage from Sydney, Nova Scotia, to Port aux Basques, Newfoundland, with loss of 135 lives. She had been under escort of the Grand Mere.

Mr. Macdonald said he had refrained from making a statement before today because an investigation was proceeding in Newfoundland. Serious charges had been made about the incident; that the vessel was not escorted, that she was not adequately escorted, and that she was travelling with lights on.

He now had the report of the Newfoundland investigation made by Captain M. G. Dalton.

Captain Dalton's report, said the marine superintendent of the Nfld. Railway, owners of the vessel, and also the report of the commander of the Grand Mere, Lieutenant James Cuthbert, R.C.N.R. Captain Dalton's report, said the minister, showed the vessel was escorted, was not lighted, and that her life-saving equipment was in first-class condition.

"The Grand Mere carried out its duties in accordance with standard instructions for a single ship escorting a single ship," said the minister. Lieutenant Cuthbert, he added, was positive the submarine did not shell survivors of the Caribou after the sinking.

It was possible some of the survivors might have mistaken star shells fired by the Grand Mere in its search for the submarine for enemy gunfire.

Sauces Add Interest To Many Fish Dishes

Fish dishes take on new interest if served with a tangy-flavored sauce, the Department of Fisheries points out.

Mayonnaise with a finely grated horesradish added to it is a Norwegian favorite.

Tartar sauce is improvised by addition of a tablespoon of finely chopped dill pickle, onion, parsley and capers.

Thick mayonnaise with grated cucumber added is another refreshing variation.

Thousand Island sauce is made by adding to mayonnaise two tablespoons of any of the following per cup: chopped green peppers, stuffed olives, sweet pickles, parsley, onion, pimento, capers or chili sauce.

The Great Pyramid of Egypt and the City of New Orleans are on the same degree of altitude.

Employer Fined $140 For Violation U. I. Act

Edward Savage, proprietor of the Edmundston, N. B. Hotel, appeared before Magistrate E. J. Hubert, last week and pleaded guilty to a charge of non-compliance with the Unemployment Insurance Act.

The informations in this case were laid by W. T. MacDonald, Regional Inspector of Insurance Revenue, Moncton, N. B., in which Mr. Savage was charged with failure to place the required Unemployment Insurance stamps in the books of his employees within 72 hours after their pay day in accordance with the requirements of the Act.

Evidence at the trial was submitted by Inspector F. Belliveau of the Unemployment Insurance Commission, while J. E. Pichette acted as Special Crown Prosecutor.

In imposing this fine, the Magistrate pointed out to the accused the seriousness of the offence, and under the provisions of the Act, penalties provided for non-compliance could ruin any employer if enough separate charges were laid.

Criminal Carelessness

At last, a year after it happened, we have learned what happened at Pearl Harbor. The story is not a pretty one. Our losses were far more severe than the government intimated. In fact, it is doubtful if such a high price has ever been paid for what might be termed "criminal carelessness."

The fact that we have been able to replace much of the loss suffered at Pearl Harbor does not change the fact that the crippling of the United States Pacific fleet early last December was one of the main factors in enabling Japan to wage its campaign of conquest over the far reaches of the Pacific. We had no naval strength to combat with such a campaign. The foe could move about as they pleased.

We now face the task of taking back island by island that which we lost in the early days of the conflict. To do this we must pay a tremendous price and conduct a long war. All because someone was sound asleep when they should have been wide awake. Eventually we hope to be victorious. But nothing can ever erase the memory of the criminal carelessness that marked the Pearl Harbor debacle of one year ago.

Yuletide Games For Your Party

Are you in a quandry as to what games to play at your Christmas party? Well here's Auntie Beth to the rescue.

But be sure you understand the games thoroughly yourself before you try them out on the crowd.

Have you ever played Christmas animals? Write the names of animals — monkey, camel, panda, elephant, and the like — on small slips of paper. Make out two slips for each animal. In other words, there will be two monkeys, two camels, and so on. Distribute the slips, one to each player. This accomplished, have each player find his mate and write a telegram to it, using words beginning with the various letters of its name in the order in which they appear. A prize may be given for the best telegram.

Provide your guests with pencil and paper. Ask them to write down on the paper all the gifts they can think of beginning with the letter "B". Allow three minutes and award the prize to the one having the longest list.

If your party includes both boys and girls, pair them off by giving them numbers. Those having No. 1 will for instance, be instructed on the back of the slip to give a demonstration of a man buying his wife a Christmas present.

No. 2 players will depict a man and woman trimming a tree; No. 3, a man and woman trying to wrap a large parcel with a small piece of paper; No. 4, a woman buying a Christmas tree; No. 5, a woman and man singing a carol.

Suitable for players of any age is the game where a small gift is wrapped and tied with six or seven separate wrappers. Players are seated in a circle. Someone plays the piano or sings.

When the music stops abruptly, the player holding the package begins to unwrap it, taking off just one wrapping at a time. When the music is resumed, the package is again passed around the circle as before, stopping only when the music stops and the player holding the gift taking off another wrapper. The one who removes the last wrapping may have the gift for his prize.

A canteen, located in a busy section of Deep Brook, fully equipped and ready to open for business, was broken into Tuesday night of last week and a goodly portion of stock stolen. Frank Morris, Digby, is owner, and the place was to be operated by Mrs. Murray Clayborne, Deep Brook.

Louis R. Glavis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Glavis, of Yarmouth, has been elected intramural manager of his fraternity, Beta Theta Pi, for the second semester at Brown University, Providence, R.I. Glavis will have charge of all teams representing Beta Theta Pi in the expanded university intramural program. A graduate of Western High School in Washington, D.C., he won his track numerals as a freshman and is a candidate for an A.B. degree under the accelerated program.

Ottawa, December 21, 1942

EFFECTIVE NOW

IS RATIONED BY COUPON

The ration is one-half pound of butter per person, per week.

On and after December 21st it is unlawful to sell or buy butter at retail without the surrender of the proper coupons.

Brown coupons, Nos. 1 to 11, "Spare 'C'" from Ration Book Number 1 now in the hands of the public, are to be used for this purpose.

Each Brown coupon, Nos. 1 to 11, "Spare 'C'" entitles the holder to buy one week's supply. Only Brown coupons, Nos. 1 to 11 "Spare 'C'" can be used for the purchase of butter.

Each coupon becomes good on a definite date and expires on a definite date . . . and can be used only within its prescribed period, as given below.

The system for butter is different from that applying to Sugar, Coffee and Tea, where coupons have no specified expiry date.

Dates When Butter Coupons Become Usable—and Expire

Coupon Number	Good for Purchase beginning on	Not Good for Purchase After
1	December 21	January 3
2	December 28	January 3
3 and 4	January 4	January 17
5 and 6	January 18	January 31
7 and 8	February 1	February 14
9 and 10	February 15	February 28
11	March 1	March 14

NOTE: Brown Coupon No. 2, "Spare 'C'" will be good for use only during a 7-day period—December 28 to January 3. Brown Coupons Nos. 1 and 3 to 11, "Spare 'C'", can be used within 2-week periods.

Coupons for butter, like those for Sugar, Coffee and Tea (the red and green coupons) must be detached by, or in the presence of any seller of butter or his employee. If desired, consumers may lodge their butter coupon sheets with their retailers, so that the latter may detach the required coupons when delivering.

Temporary Ration Cards

All Brown Coupons on Temporary Ration Cards issued to members of the armed forces on leave, visitors to Canada, etc., are good after December 21.

Butter Holdings Exceeding More Than One Pound per Person Must Be Reported and Coupons Surrendered

Consumers or non-registered boarding houses having in their possession the equivalent of more than one pound of butter for each person in the household, must before January 3, 1943, report their holdings to the nearest office of this Board. They must forward with their reports the number of butter coupons representing their butter holdings. If the quantity of butter in possession of such persons represents more than the eleven brown coupons in Ration Book No. 1, which will be good for butter, they must in their reports undertake to detach from future ration books, additional butter coupons equal to the remainder of the surplus.

Special Notice to Retailers

On and after December 28, retailers must establish their right to purchase new supplies of butter from their suppliers by turning over to the supplier currently valid ration coupons equivalent to the poundage of butter ordered from the suppliers.

Whole Party Were Drowned

(History Briefs from the Halifax Herald)

The Christmas season 85 years ago was marred for the people of Lower Granville by the tragic death of a number of its young men. A party left Lower Granville to proceed to Digby in a sailboat for Christmas supplies. The record states that "They arrived safely, made their purchases and between the hours of 4 and 5 o'clock, embarked to return home. Sad to relate, they never reached it—all found a watery grave. It is not known how the accident occurred nor even what mishap took place to cause it. The boat has been found at some distance from Digby—it is supposed however the boat capsized, as the wind was blowing a gale from the north west at the time."

The names of those drowned were Covert, Harris, Dolly, late mate of the Steamer Experiment, John and James Johnson, sons of Zebulon, Reynolds Merritt and W. Fleet sr.

New Edinburgh

Mrs. Julius Lombard spent a few days recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Comeau, Weymouth. The latter, her sister, is seriously ill.

Pte. Alex McCormack has returned from Halifax.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McCormack have returned from Upper Clements. While there, Mrs. McCormack was the guest of Mrs. F. Sproul.

Mrs. Marven Smith and little son, Malcolm, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. McCormack on Monday.

The fishermen of this village, suffered considerable in the loss of their lobster traps in the recent gale. Their losses, however, were slight compared to their neighbors along the French shore, who fish on a larger scale. Their losses were enormous. To date, very few traps have been found and many being completely smashed in pieces.

Sandy Cove

Mrs. Carl Eldridge has moved here from Digby to spend the winter with her mother, Mrs. Terah Morehouse.

Mrs. Rodney Denton and baby Brenda, of Little River, are spending a few days with her mother, Mrs. Percy Harris.

BISCUITS

The Troubles of A Biscuit Manufacturer

The making of biscuits under existing conditions today is fraught with many difficulties. True we don't have to worry about getting orders for our goods; true the prices are a little better than they were last year; true we are not restricted in the amount of wheat flour that we use, but the other side of the picture is not so bright.

SUGAR AND LABOR SHORTAGE

Our troubles resolve themselves around Sugar and Labor. Sugar, our supply of which constitutes such a vitally important ingredient among the raw materials that we use, has been reduced 30 per cent from what we used in 1941. In view of the fact that our "sweets" are so popular you can understand how badly we are handicapped by sugar rationing. Then, due to the shortage of sugar, people are buying more biscuits than ever before, and furthermore there are more people to buy them, for the reason that the population of the Maritime Provinces has been largely increased since the war begun.

Many other raw materials are scarce and high in price.

Then there is the labor problem, which is a headache. When an expert employee decides to enlist in one of the armed forces, there is nothing to do about it, for fighters are necessary to defeat Hitler. When an employee thinks he can temporarily make more money in another job, there is very little to do, but let him go, for if he stays he will be dissatisfied, and a discontented employee who is counting up how much he is losing by staying in the biscuit business, is of little use to himself or to his employers.

Anyhow, Labor is on the move these days and that fact does not increase production or make it easier for those responsible in keeping our enterprise going. Inexperienced labor is apt to be inefficient labor.

WE ARE TRYING TO GIVE OUR CUSTOMERS A FAIR DEAL

When it comes to filling orders, we are trying to give every customer a square deal. We would like to be able to completely fill every order that we receive but since that is impossible we try to give everyone his proper proportion. We do this first because it is the right thing to do and second because we want to retain all our valued customers after the war's fitful fever has spent its force.

We will be grateful if you will try to appreciate our difficult position. Our patrons have always been reasonable and we hope that they always will be.

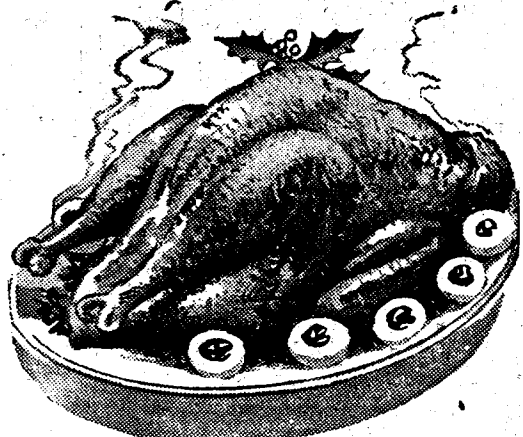

We look forward to the time when the war will end and when peace will come to a war-weary world.

"Nothing matters now but victory."

HE WANTS

You want to get him something SPECIAL... just the thing that he can and will use... and will remember tenderly that you gave to him! Your only trouble in picking his gift for Christmas at WEBBER'S is deciding which to take of the many useful ones that you will see! There are no luxury gifts this season—only staples, and not too many of them. Do not buy more than is necessary so that some one else will have a chance.

NOVA SCOTIA FARM NEWS

No Fooling About Fertilizer Distribution

Nova Scotia farmers should be able to get all the fertilizer they need this coming season if they take the simple but very essential precaution of placing their orders now. The problem facing the fertilizer plants is not stocks of fertilizer but rather the question of getting the orders shipped.

J. E. McIntyre, secretary of the Maritime Fertilizer Council, in dealing with this subject, has pointed out that there is approximately 125 working days from January 1 to June 1, and as the seven fertilizer plants in the Maritime Provinces have to ship 125,000 tons of fertilizer for use in the Maritime Provinces and for export, it gets down to the fact that shipments must average 1,000 tons per day if the job is to be done.

This, contends Mr. McIntyre can be done with present labor only if farmers and fertilizer dealers place their orders at once for immediate delivery. Obviously there must be delay in transportation when the highways are closed to motor traffic in April. This means that the average daily shipments must be sharply increased in the first two or three months of the year or there will be disappointment when supplies fail to arrive in time for early spring use.

There are seven fertilizer plants in the Maritimes, located at Halifax, Windsor, Port Williams, Charlottetown, Saint Stephen and two at Saint John. All of these plants are now ready to fill orders for immediate delivery. The farmer who takes advantage of the present situation certainly will not be disappointed, whereas the one who delays may be without his fertilizer when he wants to use it.

One bit of advice given by the Maritime Secretary to those getting early delivery is that their fertilizer should be placed in dry storage. For this purpose use a dry shed or the barn floor. Do not place on a dirt floor unless boards are put between the fertilizer and the earth.

Prices for fertilizer are fixed and subventions are payable on both plant and home mixed fertilizers used for feed crops but not for potatoes, apples, or gardens. The subvention works out at 0-14-7, $3.15 per ton; 2-12-6, $3.30 per ton; 4-12-6, $3.90 per ton.

Mr. McIntyre said there had been considerable increase in the use of fall fertilizer over a year ago, with practically all of it being for pastures. He remarked that he was looking for an improvement in the pasture situation next year. The whole fertilizer situation, he concluded, should work out alright if farmers and dealers realize that there is no fooling about this appeal for the placing of orders now for immediate delivery.

Butter Production Increases

Nova Scotia's creamery butter production for the month of November totaled 2,657,900 lbs., being an increase of 12.2 per cent over the 2,368,014 lbs. in November 1941, according to the monthly report of W. J. Bird, Dairy Superintendent for Nova Scotia. The 21 creameries of the province produced 6,315,151 lbs. from January 1 to November 30, this total being 25 per cent greater than for the corresponding period of 1941.

Demand for Lime Is Keen

Business is rushing at Dillman's agricultural lime quarry at Admiral Rock, Hants Co., with orders far in excess of plant capacity, which is about sixty tons a day. Twice as much lime is being crushed as a year ago, the increase following greater demand and the installation of an additional crusher. This plant has been working to capacity all summer and fall and will continue at this tempo as long as weather conditions permit. The price the farmer has to pay for crushed lime has been set at $1.50 per ton for the winter months.

Tells Why Apples Are Bruised

Five ways in which Nova Scotia apples are being bruised after leaving the apple warehouses, have been listed by C. T. FitzRandolph, Manager of the Maritime Food Distribution Council. These are: freight shunting, loading and unloading, opening, dumping into baskets and racks, pawing over by the customers and clerks and generally throwing around. Mr. FitzRandolph, who has been checking on local markets throughout the Province, reports that he has found a good movement through all channels, with the chief complaint being the bruising which has shown up in some cases to the point of rot due to the softness of the fruit. The council is bringing this fault to the attention of the industry and at the same time is trying to educate the trade in the proper method of handling fruit.

They Like Farm Radio Forum Night

Interest is developing in the Farm Radio Forum groups which meet in rural and other homes each Monday night to hear the CBC Farm Forum Radio Broadcast and to join in the roundtable discussion that follows. Groups of eight to ten people are considered a satisfactory size. In some places, however, the groups have greater numerical strength. George Cook, Colchester Co. Agricultural representative, attended the FRF group meeting at Newton Mills, Upper Stewiacke section, last Monday night, and found about 25 highly interested persons assembled under the chairmanship of Earl Archibald. This group, which is the largest in the county, has a regular attendance of close to 25. Following the broadcast and forum there was a movie show, Mr. Cook being the operator and the films being supplied by the Department of Education. A two and a half hour session passed all too quickly. This group finds Farm Radio Forum night both informative and entertaining. Old Barns, another Colchester Farm Radio stronghold, has two groups of about 15 members each. Throughout the county, reports Mr. Cook, Farm Radio Forum is going stronger than last year. And this seems to be true of the whole country. Any community which has not as yet an organized group should get in touch with Lewis E. McKay, Moncton, Secretary Farm Radio Forum Committee for Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

Lobster fishermen have lost all their traps in St. Mary's Bay, which had been put out on the opening day of the lobster season. They could not reach them during the heavy gale of west and north west wind until Monday and then the traps were washed ashore. A large quantity of lobsters, partly spoiled, were picked up alongside the shore of St. Mary's Bay.

Here's Quick Relief from SINUS PAIN

3-Purpose Medicine Helps Clear Out Congested Sinus Areas

ONE best way to get relief from torturing sinus pain is to clear congestion from nasal passages and give sinuses a chance to drain. A few drops of Vicks Vapo-Nol in each nostril is usually enough to bring this comforting relief.

3-PURPOSE MEDICINE Va-tro-nol is so successful because it does three important things: (1) shrinks swollen membranes of the nose; (2) helps clear out pain-causing congestion and (3) soothes irritation. Many sinus sufferers say it's best relief they've found. Try it!

Miss Mary Romans, R.N., will be with her mother at the Hospital.

Women's Institute Holds Christmas Tea

The regular meeting of the Women's Institute was held on December 7, in the Masonic room, with the President, Miss Pearl Campbell in the chair.

After routine business, plans were made to cooperate with the Local Red Cross in holding a Community Party on December 29.

The program, under the convener'ship of Mrs. Burrage, consisted of Christmas Carols, a paper on Christmas Customs and a piano solo, especially well rendered, by Miss Emma Benson. A Christmas tea was served to members and a number of guests. The amount of $5 was realized for the Prisoners of War Fund.

Philathea Class

The Philathea Class met at the home of Mrs. O. Banks. The living room looked very much like Christmas with its pretty, decorated tree. The business and devotional period, which was conducted by the president, Mrs. G. D. Brydon, was in keeping with Christmas. A nice program consisting of Christmas songs, readings and contests prepared by Mrs. Vernon McCormick and Mrs. Allan Harris, was rendered. Delicious refreshments were then served and much enjoyed by all.

W.M.S. Plan Candle-Light Service

The monthly meeting of the W.M.S. of the United Church was held at the home of Mrs. W. A. Chute on Friday afternoon last, with the President, Mrs. George Croscup, in the chair. The devotional period was followed by the election of officers for the coming year—and plans for reception of Mite Boxes at a Candle-lighting service to be held on Sunday evening, December 27. This will complete the activities for 1942, which has been a very successful year. Mrs. Croscup will be our president for 1943 and under her guidance, 1943 will no doubt be equally successful.

"Celebrates Birthday"

SHADOWS

Stark, naked, stands the old dead tree, And yet it has great charm for me.

It's shadow tells the time of day,

The same in winter as in May. It's knarled old trunk with broken bark, Still serves a useful purpose—Hark!

The fathers of the swallows rest, Where each can see his family nest.

The blue-jays come; their blue coats show

Against bare limbs as against snow.
The king bird also knows the tree;
No leaves to hide an enemy.
I know that when at last the tree
Shall be cut down, I'll lonely be.
The other trees change spring and fall;
The dead tree does not change at all.
Some see no beauty in dead trees.
But I see beauty, stripped of leaves.

Sleeping Car Service Restored

The travelling public whose business connections make it necessary for them to travel between Halifax, Yarmouth and intermediate points, will welcome the news that the Dominion Atlantic Railway are restoring their Sleeping Car Service on trains leaving Halifax 8.30 p.m. and Yarmouth 6.40 p.m. three days a week in each direction. This renders it possible to make the round trip and allow a full day for business purposes by travelling in comfort at night, with only one day out of the office. Sleeper leaves Halifax Monday, Thursday, and Saturday and departs from Yarmouth Sunday, Tuesday and Friday, commencing Saturday, December 12.

Early Christmas Mailing Patriotic

Postal Service faces a supreme testing in Canada this Christmas. As the "peak" season draws nigh the mail volume, which is rapidly rising in every Post Office will reach flood proportions. This year the Post Office is preparing for the most hectic rush season in its entire history. It is laying its plans to prevent the flood of mail getting beyond control and the Postal Service being overwhelmed by letters, cards, parcels, papers and magazines pouring in at the last minute for local delivery.

Today Canada's Postmaster General, Hon. William P. Mullock, K.C., M.P., appealed to the public for their utmost co-operation in "Early Mailing", which he stated is an absolute necessity if delivery is to be made in time for Christmas. He urged every citizen to pay full heed to the Post Office's caution that all mail for local delivery should be posted before December 20, the earlier the better, and that proportionate allowance should be made for mail addressed to out-of-town destinations.

"Mail Early" this Christmas is more than a slogan. It is an absolute necessity. The impact of war conditions upon Postal Service has been terrific. The volume of mails, which last year reached all-time proportions, still continues to increase and will surpass all previous records this Christmas. An indication of what can be expected when the local rush begins was given during the recent despatch overseas of the Christmas mail to the Armed Services—when over four times greater volume was handled than during the same period in 1941.

A huge quantity of Christmas domestic mail must be handled in a very limited pre-Christmas period and to complicate the task of the Post Office is the fact that this year more than before, at many places there is a shortage of skilled staff, due to enlistments. Manpower is scarce and even High School students will be employed to help during the rush period.

Difficulties are increased also by lack of transportation facilities, as an acute shortage of space for mail exists on the railways as well as on ships. Everybody wants to get their gifts or greetings in time for Christmas and by mailing early you can help your postal officials give you better mail service.

Last year in many places the mailing public failed to respond to postal appeals to mail in time and the result was that on the last day or two before Christmas, Post Offices were almost swamped in a last minute deluge of gifts and greetings. It was physically impossible, even with the added temporary help, to segregate, sort and deliver all mail by Christmas Day—many homes received their Christmas Good Wishes on the 27th and 28th December. Citizens are asked to cooperate in preventing a recurrence by mailing early—not later than December 20th for local delivery.

TWO THOUSAND YEARS AGO Augustus Caesar issued a decree that all the world was to be taxed.

Thus Joseph took Mary, his betrothed, from the home of her mother A'nn in Jerusalem and journeyed to Bethlehem to pay their taxes. Now the way was six miles. Mary, seated sidewise on a small donkey, with their few belongings tied in a cloth hanging across the donkey's neck, and Joseph trudging beside her, found their way through the narrow streets of ancient Jerusalem, through the Joppa (or Jaffa) Gate down into the Valley of Gihon, then up to the ridge or water-shed of Palestine's hill country and on to the Plain of Rephaim. Midway on the plain they probably paused beside the road to drink from a well. They did not know this well would some day be called the Well of the Magi because the three "Wise Shepherds" following "God's bright star" would stop there to drink and to see the star reflected in the water's depths as they traveled by camel to Bethlehem in search of Jesus, the Son soon to be born of Mary.

Joseph and Mary were humble and fine and they loved each other. They gazed happily across the well-cultivated terraced valleys, across the fields where shepherds guarded their flocks, noted the old stone watch towers where the farmers and shepherds could go to look far across their lands in all directions. Then they glimpsed the city of Bethlehem, a small and humble village whose rock walls, cobbled streets and stone buildings showed gray and uninviting.

The man and woman wended their way through the throngs of tax-payers along the bazaars and found the inn where they sought lodging. The inn was overflowing. People were having to sleep by the wayside. Now Mary was with child and Joseph wanted to protect her and make her comfortable, but no room was to be had. So the couple sought shelter in the stable beside their tiny donkey. The stable was a cave or grotto in the rocks with crude wooden mangers filled with hay. Here, in the year 4 B.C., the thirty-third year of the reign of Herod the Great, Jesus of Nazareth was born. Mary wrapped Him in swaddling clothes and laid Him in a manger. Here the shepherds, to whom angels had announced the Saviour's birth, came to kneel low beside the humble bed and lay their gifts before the Babe whom they adored.

Because this Babe was born the whole world rejoices and celebrates Christmas. Joy, peace, love, humility—all the great truths of Christianity came to the world with His birth. The basis of modern civilization lies in the little town of Bethlehem.

Even as the Wise Men 2000 years ago made their way to the shrine, so pilgrims, tourists, believers and non-believers journey today across the self-same road, still the main artery of communication between Jerusalem and all the southern part of Israel. They see the Well of the Magi, the terraced gardens, the shepherds' fields, and the old, old watch towers. The highway is now smoothly paved. The travelers all too often ride in luxurious motor cars. But they still pass caravans of camels and asses and see pedestrians garbed in costumes of many lands. For pilgrims come from near and far to the Holy Land, particularly to ancient Bethlehem, whose grayness has increased with centuries of dust and erosion on its leaden-hued stones. But dull as is its outward appearance, few approach the city without a thrill of reverence and awe, without renewing acquaintance with the Holy Scriptures and gaining inspiration and faith. Today they cross the lively bazaars where "objects of piety" made of shells, mother-of-pearl and olive wood have wide space among the food-stuffs and goods for sale. They go to the Church of the Nativity, Bethlehem's greatest relic of antiquity. In 330 B. C. Constantine built this basilica above what is believed to be the grotto-stable in which Christ was born. The church looks like a fortress and its entrance door is so small even a short person must stoop to enter. It was made thus not, as some say, to cause thoughts of humility and reverence upon entering so holy a place, but to prevent the ancient Saracens and Turks when they were in power from desecrating the place with cattle. Five different nationalities of Christians now guard this church and hold services here. The place is strikingly simple. The Greek Orthodox and the Armenian and Syrian churches occupy the main floor. Two circular stairways lead to the dark caves below. There is a chapel in the grotto. On the floor is a great silver star with silver nails over a hollow where Mary is said to have given birth to Jesus. Around the star is the inscription:

"Hic de Virgine Maria Jesus Christus Natus Est."

Fifteen silver lamps unceasingly burn day and night over this holy place. Four belong to the Latins, six to the Greek Orthodox, and five to the Armenians and Syrians. Representatives from many Christian nations kneel in common before the little altar. Seldom is the grotto without worshippers. Whether or not they believe this to be the authentic spot of the Nativity, it carries the atmosphere of holiness and spirituality. The handsome, proud natives of Bethlehem seem always a happy people, but at Christmas time Bethlehem radiates joy.

Peace On Earth

By IVAN A. SHORTLIFFE

Nearly two thousand years have passed since that night when shepherds who were watching their flocks on a hillside near Bethlehem heard the voices of angels heralding the birth of Christ with "Peace on earth, good will toward men." Yet, Christmas comes tomorrow on a world never before so weary and torn with war . . . lust . . . hate. We inevitably pause in the hurry and rush of everyday life and ask ourselves the meaning of it all.

The doctrine of hate has spread like wild fire over the earth, and everywhere the hearts of men have been filled with desires falling far short of what the ministry brought to the earth by the birth of the babe in Bethlehem was intended to convey.

Why must we hate? . . . why must we fight and send out death and destruction on people just as human as we? Just what are we fighting for anyway? We search our hearts and study the speeches of our leaders but so far our efforts have not been too fruitful. As far as some of us can see only one world leader has set for himself a definite goal—that of ruling the world and bringing to their knees all peoples, tongues and races who do not speak the German language. Yes, he knows what he is fighting for. But do we, really?

Ask any of our soldiers why he is in uniform and forthwith will come the reply, "For Freedom." Quite true. No nation wants to be dominated by another. All of them want freedom, and we say that's what we're fighting for. What exactly do we intend to do with our freedom after is has been made secure? Surely we do not intend to let it lead us into another catastrophe. Surely we do not want the kind of universal freedom that would let every man be his own master to drift aimlessly with the tide. If this is all we are fighting for the world would be better off if we called it quits now, for such freedom would enslave us more than Hitler would ever dream of. We would become slaves to our own lusts.

Freedom to think is a good thing if we can be taught to think wisely, for thoughts can make or break a man; freedom of speech and freedom of the press are worth fighting for, if we do not use such privileges to extremes that would injure our fellowmen; freedom to worship is something to be cherished if we worship God and not all the vain pleasures of life.

Only one good thing has so far come out of this war. It has caused us to discard our idle optimism, and at last every man and every woman is coming to know what good honest work really is. We have put our hands to the plow and we must not look back, not even for a moment, for if we do we are lost. We must go on, and as we go we will come to know what we are fighting for. In every man's heart is forming a picture of a better world, a Christian world. Could this be what men are willing to die for? But our future must not be a world based entirely upon freedom but a world based upon principles of right and wrong. We must seek leaders who know right and wrong, not leaders who would teach "nothing sacred." Is it not true that this has been the cause of most of the troubles in the world today: men who have come into power who have been led by Satan to some high tower, shown all the kingdoms of the world, and inspired by the pledge, "All these are yours if you can teach mankind that there is nothing sacred."

"Peace on earth, good will" seems a hollow phrase in this world of hate. Yet amid all the chaos the message of Christmas finds its place. Yes, there is something to fight for . . . a Christian world. And peace on earth will come when that Christianity is given the chance to instill within us that no matter what tongue, no matter what color, we are all brethren, all created by the same Creator.

Kingdoms may rise and fall; nation may rise against nation and kingdom against kingdom; churches and palaces may be blown to bits; waters may be turned red with the blood of men and yet there will always be the Christmas message to wend its way into the hearts of men to finally bring the peace and goodwill the world is waiting for.

The Message Of Christmas

The message of Christmas is love. Its emblem is radiant, thankful, contended childhood. Without love and without children there could be much missing from Christmas.

Unhappy must be the adult who cannot make himself a child again in the spirit of the Yuletide. For Christmas is the universal children's day. Men and women are superfluous except as they make themselves partners with those whom the day glorifies.

Let us, then, lay aside the affectation and arrogance of manhood and womanhood and be children again. Let us adopt this point of view and, put ourselves in their places—in the places of these sons and daughters of ours and of the sons and daughters of our neighbors. It was only a year or two ago, it seems, when we hung our well-worn stockings in a row along the mantel shelf, while our fathers and mothers looked on with unfeigned pleasure at the innocent confidence we showed in what the morrow would bring forth.

Even as you and I. It all comes back in a flood of memories. Life was simpler then. Our desires were less pretentious than those our children voice now. Modest remembrances they were that bulged toe and heel of the stocking mother knit.

Life and its circumstances change, but the essence of Christmas never. The same happy childhood, the same restlessness, the same snail-like creeping of time as the holiday approaches. The same parenthood, too—the same planning across the reading table after the boys and girls are abed, the same loving consideration of what this or that child most desires and how far the family purse can properly be stretched to permit some further purchases.

Every home is assured of Christmas if it has a great, warm heart pulsating in tune with the hopes and joys of childhood, in memory of the Divine Child.

CHRISTMAS EVE

A Reverie

Sometimes in the evening, when harsh noises die away, and happy, laughing children in the street commence to play, I sit down by the fireside while the clock upon the stair is ringing out six solemn chimes upon the silent air. So upon the eve of Christmas from the world I now retire, and think upon the good old times before my cosy fire; I put aside my pen awhile—I have no wish to write. I lay my head back on a chair, and muse instead tonight. Fond, sable-clothed Memory guides Fancy's fragile barque Along the boundless sea of Thought. Each well-known place I mark—The old home, and the school-house, the sweetshop of Miss Maher. That narrow lane where many a lad received a boxing scar. From out the shadowland of Death those friends long laid to rest. Come trooping round my lonely heart—the truest and the best. Dear faces rise before me now which have a beauty rare. For they are beautiful by love, though wrinkled deep with care. The Present is not with me, for I live within the Past—Those dear, delightful, joyous days too beautiful to last. Faith hands that long have fallen to dust are clasped in mine tonight. And voices speak in dulcet tones of days when hearts were light.

Words of Bible Laud Virtues in "Giving"

A little research reveals that many of the familiar quotations on the virtues of "giving" have a sound basis in Holy Scripture. Though they were not all made in connection with "giving" at Christmas time, the verses below (all taken from the Bible) provide definite clues to the many modern "give" slogans so often heard in the holiday season.

* * *

Give, and it shall be given unto you; good measure, pressed down, and shaken together, and running over, shall men give into your bosom. For with the same measure that ye mete withal it shall be measured to you again.—Luke 6:38.

* * *

I have shewed you all things, how that so laboring ye ought to support the weak and to remember the words of the Lord Jesus, how He said, It is more blessed to give than to receive.—Acts 20:35.

* * *

Every man according as he purposeth in his heart, so let him give; not grudgingly, or of necessity; for God loveth a cheerful giver.—I Cor. 9:7.

* * *

A gift is a precious stone in the eyes of him that hath it; whithersoever it turneth, it prospereth.—Prov. 17:8.

* * *

He that giveth unto the poor shall not lack; but he that hideth his eyes shall have many a curse.—Prov. 28:27.

* * *

But rather give alms of such things as ye have; and behold, all things are clean unto you.—Luke 11:41.

* * *

And now abideth faith, hope, charity, these three; but the greatest of these is charity.—I Cor. 13:13.

* * *

If thou hast but a little, be not afraid to give according to that little.—(Apoc.) Tobit 4:8.

A Shower Idea
A popular schoolmistress was to be married, and a "shower" was arranged in her honor, one feature being a new idea to this writer. The hostess had provided a pretty "shower folder" with floral decorations and appropriate words on the cover; and she had improvised a register for all to sign by removing the centre sheet, and substituting as many sheets of writing paper as she deemed necessary. Guests were invited to "sign the register," being instructed to not crowd the names together, but to leave considerable space between names; most of those present signed two names, though some signed ed "the middle name" as well as not knowing what it was all about.

After all the signatures had been written, the hostess informed her guests that each was to give the bride-to-be some advice, using words the initial letters of which must be the same as the initials of the signature. Laughingly she explained since her initials were K. C., her advice might be "Kick carefully", though she would probably write "Kindness counts". As my initials are L. T., my advice to the prospective bride was "Live truly" but "Laugh together" might have been quite as useful.

Obviously the guest of honor did not write in the souvenir booklet, but, when the others had finished, she was requested by the hostess to read aloud the accumulation of advice tendered; and much merriment was thereby engendered.—L. Y. T., Athens, Ont.

Christmas In England (In pre-war days)

A land of feasting and good cheer—of time-honored ceremonies and twentieth century revel.

To understand the British people at Christmas it is essential to read the works of Charles Dickens, the novelist of Christmas, whose descriptions are as true today as when he wrote them.

The Christmas party at Dingley Dell on December 25 in the "Pickwick Papers" is repeated in nearly every British home. The spirit of peace and goodwill which touched the heart of Scrooge still softens hard hearts and breathes happiness and friendliness, not for one day alone, but throughout Christmastime.

Exactly when Christmastide begins is a puzzle. But to the average family, it is when the first turkey appears in the shops, and grocers' windows display dried fruits and candied peel for Christmas puddings.

One by one the portents grow, and by early December Britain has but one thought, Christmastide.

Cooks and housewives make the puddings, and the family stands by to take their turn at stirring it, for that is an old custom, such as Christmas perpetuates by the hundred. Carols and waits are another.

There are carol singers and carol singers, the church choirs whose melody is sweet, and the kiddies whose melody is often atrocious. It is a tribute to the spirit of Christmas that, despite tortured ears and outraged senses, British people smilingly reward the torturers.

In many parts of Britain strange, half-forgotten ceremonies continue, notably the 800-year-old mummer plays which take in Hampshire, in particular at Longparish and Overton, near Basingstoke. Going from house to house, grotesquely clad actors perform quaint parts handed down from father to son through many centuries.

Here and there old-time nativity plays have been revived, while bringing in the yule log is still performed in many villages.

The visitor to London or any big provincial town during December will have ample opportunity for studying Christmas activities.

Shopkeepers vie with each other in decorating their windows, while stores everywhere feature children's bazaars, well-planned exhibitions of novelties, such as children's circuses, lucky dips, bran tubs, Marlin's cave and other mysteries with, of course, Santa Claus in attendance.

One of the most remarkable sights in London is the street hawkers of Holborn, who stands by the pavement from Grays Inn Road to Hatton Garden, displaying the toy novelties of the season. Amidst all the whirl of Christmas traffic, Londoners watch toy tumblers and acrobats, clockwork animals and other mechanical marvels. The hawkers are usually Cockneys and use their wit to full advantage.

Parcels of all shapes and sizes are another feature of London's Christmas. The goods department of every London rail terminus is a scene of hectic activity. But despite it all, the average shopper likes to carry a certain proportion of his or her gifts, with the added excitement of smuggling them into the home unobserved.

Christmas trees, holly and mistletoe, turkeys and geese, all point to the great day.

Activities reach their peak on Christmas Eve when in many homes it is still the custom to have the Christmas tree and distribute gifts on that evening. This is a reminder of old days when the Feast of Christmas commenced with the Vespers of Christmas Day in the churches.

Few phases of English life are more striking than that associated with the celebration of Christmas Day in the Churches.

ion of Christmas Day in the Churches.

In cathedrals such as London's St. Paul's and those of Canterbury, Norwich, Lincoln, Ripon, Carlisle, Chester, Worcester, Oxford, Lichfield and the rest, the Deans preach at morning service on Christmas Day and special music is rendered by the choirs.

In Catholic churches there is the Midnight Mass, and from the tiny hut of the country mission to the vast spaces of Westminster Cathedral there is standing room only.

Many hundreds of overseas visitors will probably attend Westminster Cathedral, where Midnight Mass is either sung or attended by the Cardinal Archbishop. The Church of the Jesuit Fathers in Farm Street, Mayfair; Brompton Oratory, South Kensington; and St. George's Cathedral, Southwark, are other favorite Catholic centres, while Birmingham boasts St. Chad's Cathedral and Manchester the Church of the Holy Name.

Many Church of England churches hold midnight Communion Services. Among them, in London are St. Mary's, Graham Street, Chelsea, and All Saints', Margaret Street, Oxford Circus. But it is at a later hour on Christmas morning that the majority of Protestant churches, all denominations are crowded.

For despite the cynic who remarked that Christmas Day is spent by the British in getting over preparations for Christmas, and that in the residential areas the morning is spent in the hurry and bustle of distributing gifts, churches of all denominations reveal more than on any other day in the year the whole family aspect of worship.

Westminster Abbey, crowded on Christmas Day itself, is even more crowded during the Octave when there are several old-time celebrations, among the most popular being that on Holy Innocents' Day, when there is usually a service in the afternoon for children and during the week carol singing at Evensong.

On the Festival of the Epiphany (January 6th), the customary royal offerings of gold, frankincense and myrrh are made on behalf of the King at the Chapel Royal, St. James.

For the rest, Christmas is still a home festival. Although within recent years there has been an increase among those who go away or dine out on Christmas Day, the whole family goes and even the largest functions in the leading hotels are still family parties. For this, the sea coast and inland resorts are extremely popular, hotels and local authorities arranging many a cheery function of galas, balls, Christmas parties and novelties.

In the homes of England, Christmas dinner is usually an evening affair, followed by party games, music and romps with the children always leading. Crackers are pulled, caps and masks worn, while streamers, paper chains, balloons, mistletoe and holly form the background.

Neighborhoods at Christ-tide is not only traditional, but active. For throughout Great Britain and Ireland, as in other countries, charitable societies, Boy Scouts and Girl Guides busy themselves in their thousands with Christmas breakfasts for children and others, Santa Claus distributes food, coal and toys. Hospital wards are decorated and for days beforehand gifts of all shapes and sizes arrive.

Even the animals have their Christmas, and in London two quaint customs take place. One, the distribution of carrots to costers' donkeys at Camberwell, and the other a "feed" at Home of Rest for horses in North London, where "Roger," a four-legged war veteran, pulls a bell announcing the joyous event.

On Boxing Day (December 26th) Britain goes out. Football grounds, cinemas and theatres are crowded. Should there be ice or snow winter sports become the cry. Every pack of fox hounds in England meets in the principal town in its area to give the maximum number of people the opportunity of seeing the picturesque side of English country life.

Two seasonal functions commence on Boxing Day, the circus and the pantomime, without which no child or grown-up would think Christmas complete.

The visitor to Britain need have no fear of loneliness. If he or she stay in a private house it will be as a fully admitted member of the family. If they stay in a hotel they will, if they wish, become members of a cheery house party. Wherever they stay the spirit of Christmas in Britain or Ireland dispels aloofness and bids a welcome to the citizens of other lands than it does to those of its own kith and kin.

Cribs In America

The oldest record of a Crib in the Americas seems to be of that erected by St. Francis Solano in Peru before the year 1610. It is reasonably certain there was an improvised Crib in the Jesuit Chapel at Laprairie, Province of Quebec, when Kateri Tekakwitha made her First Holy Communion there on Christmas Day, 1677. The actual record exists of the Crib of simple lines erected by the Jesuit Missionary, Father Enjelran, at his Mission on the shores of Lake Michigan for the Christmas of 1678.

The Christmas Crib has now reached every corner of the world. There is no other means of teaching the story of the Nativity so effectively.

Three Yuletides Each Year

There is one place where Christmas is kept three times a year—in the Church of Nativity at Bethlehem, the reputed site of the Stable of the Inn.

The Roman, Greek and Armenian Greek bodies have each their respective section of church, but their Christmas celebrations do not occur on the same day.

The Latin Christmas is celebrated at the Roman Catholic altar on December 25.

Thirteen days later the Orthodox Easterners perform the Greek rite. Another 13 days later the American church keeps its own ceremonial of Byzantine faith.

Bethlehem, N.H., Like Village of Nativity

The peaceful little "Christmas town" of Bethlehem, nestled in the New Hampshire hills, bears a striking resemblance to the Holy Village for which it was named. Its location is similar to that of Bethlehem in Judea, and, strangely enough it is a village of inns and Jewish people. Just like the real Bethlehem in the beautiful story of the Christ Child. This similarity exists, however, only in summer, when 32 magnificent hotels, taverns and inns, nine of which observe the Jewish dietary laws, are host to those who come, year after year, to enjoy beauty of green fields and purple mountains. At Christmastide the population is less than a thousand souls and most of them are natives whose hardy ancestors built their log cabins along Bethlehem streets where the palatial hotels now stand.

YULETIDE CEREMONIES

Many of Our Customs Are Carry-Overs From the Dim Past, When Feasting Meant Something.

Our ancestors had numerous ceremonies pertaining to Christmas, that are half forgotten today.

There was a pretty superstition connected with the decoration of houses with evergreen. It was believed that sylvan sprites might flock to the branches and remain unnnipped by frost until a milder season.

The popular expression, "sub rosa," meaning anything told in confidence, was derived from the old custom of wearing chaplets of holly, mistletoe, ivy and rosemary at the annual festivals over the tables. The expression, "beneath the mistletoe" is said to have the same derivation. And then we learn of the superstition that oxen fell on their knees on Old Christmas, January 6. The belief was based on the medieval notion that the cattle in the stable, witnessing the Nativity, fell upon their knees in supplication.

Those who knew something of the times of Charles II are familiar with the astonishing menus served guests by the noble hosts of that day. And those among the readers of these lines who imagine they will dine sumptuously when partaking of their roast turkey, cranberry sauce and all the "fixings" when the day of days arrives, should meditate on the following account of an almost unbelievable Christmas pie which is told about in the Newcastle Chronicle, January 3, 1770:

"Monday last was brought from Howick to Berwick, to be shipped to London, for Sir Henry Grey, bart., a pie, the contents whereof are as follows, viz: 2 bushels of flour, 20 lbs. of butter, 4 geese, 2 turkeys, 2 rabbits, 4 wild ducks, 2 woodcocks, 6 snipes and 4 partridges; 2 neats' tongues, 2 curlews, 7 blackbirds and 6 pigeons. The Christmas pie was made by Mrs. Dorothy Patterson, housekeeper at Howick. It is near 9 feet in circumference at the bottom, weighs about 12 stones, will take about 2 men to present it at the table; it is neatly fitted with a case and four small wheels to facilitate its use to every guest that inclines to partake of its contents at table."

Side-Lights On Christmas

Good King Wenceslaus, of Carol fame, was a King of Bohemia.

Tennyson once refused an offer of 1,000 pounds for a short set of verses for Christmas cards.

The Eve of Epiphany, or Twelfth Night (January 6), is to the children of Rome what Christmas is to us.

Straw is said to be used for decoration in Greek homes on Christmas day in memory of the stable in Bethlehem.

Christmas carols originated in the eleventh century, being sung between the scenes of the miracle and mystery plays of the period.

The turkey has not always been the favorite bird on the Christmas menu, the peacock, in ancient times, taking its place on the festive board.

The oldest name for Christmas is "The Feast of Lights" in remembrance of the lighted heavens in which the angels appeared on the first Christmas day.

Christmas boxes got their name from the boxes—made of clay in which, at Christmas, apprentices had the right to collect gifts of money from their masters' customers.

The use of Christmas wreath is believed to be traceable to the pagan custom of decorating buildings and places of worship at the feast which took place at the same time as our Christmas. The wreath is not used to such a great extent in Europe as in Canada, although decorations with evergreens are much used.

Gen. Douglas MacArthur's father was a colonel in the United States Army at the age of twenty.

CHRISTMAS CANDLES

Symbolic of the Star Seen by Wise Men in the East

The candle is the true symbol of Christmas. Its flickering taper shining on the sill of the city house or the country cottage sends out the message of "peace on earth" quite as much as the chime of Christmas bells. No Christmas tree is complete until the candles, whether of wax or of electric lights, have been fastened to its boughs.

A charming elderly lady gives each child in the neighborhood every year a "Twelfth Night" candle. This is a very large cathedral candle, which is placed on the window-sill set in a wreath of holly and so placed that its flame burns at the centre of a Christmas wreath hanging in the window. It is then kept burning every evening until the eve of the Twelfth Night, January 5. The Twelfth Night eve, the unburned portion of the candle and all the Christmas greens are placed in the open fireplace and consumed, this ending the Christmas season.

The significance of this pretty rite is as follows: The candle is symbolic of the star which the wise men saw in the East, and it is kept shining through the twelve days during which the wise men were following the star on their journey to the manger where the young Child lay.

Children especially love this beautiful custom of having a lighted candle represent the Christmas star, and in some of the homes where the Twelfth Night candle is kept burning, each child cares for the candle for an evening, all taking turns. The candle is lighted, one wreath lowered to encircle its flame, and when the child goes to bed it is his duty to blow the candle out.

Mistletoe loses Charm When Berries Go

In the language of flowers, mistletoe means "give me a kiss." This has its basis in a Scandinavian myth. And from this old tale we derive our custom of kissing under the mistletoe.

As it hangs upon the chandelier or in the doorway, each lad may claim a kiss from the maid who chances beneath it with this provision: that the lad remove a berry to give to the maid, until, at last, when no berries are left, the bough loses its spell and no more kisses are then available. The story continues "that the maiden who receives no kisses under the mistletoe will not marry that year."

Martha's Happiest Christmas

By Barbara Ann Benedict

MARTHA was dependable. Like a patient, willing and uncomplaining horse. Her life on her small farm was not different from a tread mill always the same, day in and day out, month after month, year after year.

There had been a time when Martha was not alone. That was when her older sister Helen and her younger sister Nancy and her still younger brother Curt lived at the farm. But that was a long time ago, longer still since their parents had died. The sisters were beautiful and had married well, and Curt, possessed of burning ambitions, had left to make his way in the world.

Frequently they came out to call, to "eat one of Martha's wonderful dinners" and "get a breath of country air."

It was on a Christmas day that Nancy brought Barre Howard out. "I knew you wouldn't mind, darling," she gushed. "Mr. Howard is a traveller and he's lecturing in town tomorrow night."

Martha smiled and nodded and looked up into Barre Howard's tanned face, a face that was strong and kind, with eyes that held a dreamy mystery in their depths.

But no one would have dreamed that there were any thoughts in Martha's head save those that centered around preparations for the Christmas dinner.

It was a sumptuous meal, one of the best Martha had ever prepared. She knew a vague sort of pride at the way her guests attacked it.

Martha sat with the others at the table after the dinner was over, listening to Barre Howard tell of his travels, of far away places he'd visited. He looked at her twice while he talked, directly, penetratingly, and she flushed.

After a while Martha got up and began clearing off the table. No one offered to help. She washed and dried the dishes and stacked them away. And when she came back into the living room, they were ready to go, all of them. After they left she closed the door and turned and went back into the kitchen.

For a moment, she stood in the center of the floor. An expression came into her face that was the unleashing of years and years of suppressed desires. She took a quick step forward, seized a broom by its handle, swung it toward the shelf of canned preserves with all her strength.

Martha laughed, shrilly, piercingly, and struck again. The shelf gave way this time, swinging on one hinge. Half a hundred jars of varying size crashed to the floor.

Directly following there was an instant of silence, and in that instant a voice spoke near the kitchen door. "In heaven's name, what are you doing that for?"

Martha whirled, and there, just inside the door, with an amazed look on his tanned face, stood Barre Howard.

"Why?" she cried passionately. "Why?" Because it's what I've wanted to do for years and years and years and it's just today I've had the courage. Because I hate this place, hate being cooped up here. Because I'm plain and unattractive and can't have the things my sisters have. Because Nancy's so selfish. Because she isn't satisfied with one man, but wants another, the only one—I I—

She stopped at last, breathing hard, leaning hard against the sink, guilty, ashamed of what she'd almost said.

"I'm sorry. I didn't mean it. Really. If there's something you forgot, I'll help you find it."

"There's nothing I've forgotten."

"Then—why did you come back? Why don't you go and leave me alone, like all the others do?"

His eyes were steady, penetrating, a dreamy mystery in their depths.

"Why do you think I came back?" he asked.

"Why?" She brushed a hand across her eyes. Something was stirring inside of her, something she thought dead. "Why?" she repeated. "How should I know?"

"Why do you think?" he asked again.

Barre Howard laughed and stood before her, and suddenly the look in his eyes was no longer mysterious. It was like a picture, readily interpreted, telling her why he had come back.

Popular Christmas Carols

Probably the best known Christmas carol is "Adeste Fideles", composed in 1700 and sung in Roman Catholic churches ever since. It was adopted in England in 1841 and sung in Protestant churches as "O Come All Ye Faithful". Among the most popular Christmas carols are "While Shepherds Watched Their Flocks by Night", "Christians Awake", and "Hark the Herald Angels Sing". St. Ambrose is said to have written one of the first Christmas hymns in 340 A.D.

Have you read the ads?

It Came Upon A Midnight Clear

It came upon the midnight clear,
That glorious song of old,
From angels bending near the earth
To touch their harps of gold:
Peace on the earth, good will to men,
From heaven's all-gracious King!
The world in solemn stillness lay
To hear the angels sing.

Still through the cloven skies they come
With peaceful wings unfurled;
And still their heavenly music floats
O'er all the weary world;
Above its sad and lowly plains
They bend on hovering wing,
And ever o'er its Babel sounds
The blessed angels sing.

But with the woes of sin and strife
The world has suffered long;
Beneath the angel strain have rolled
Two thousand years of wrong;
And man, at war with man, hears not
The love song which they bring;
O hush the noise, ye men of strife,

And hear the angels sing.

For, lo! the days are hastening on,
By prophet bards foretold,
When with the ever-circling years
Comes round the Age of Gold,
When peace shall over all the earth
Its ancient splendors fling,
And the whole world give back the song
Which now the angels sing.

CHIMNEY and SANTA CLAUS

It is reported that Santa's custom of coming down the chimney on Christmas eve stems from an old English notion—that sweeping down the chimney at New Year's was necessary so that good luck could enter in.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Abramson announce the engagement of their daughter, Nora Gwendolyn, to Donald Vernon Marshall, son of Mrs. T. H. Marshall, of Marshalltown. Wedding to take place on December 26, 1942.

Here is the latest in "Victory" stories which comes from Hectanooga. Edmund Thibault of the nearby village of Mayflower, while digging out his carrots recently, found one, the true shape of a V, the next ones I, C, and

T, and so on until the word Victory was entirely and properly spelled. Each of the letters was well shaped as if drawn by hand. Mr. Thibault took them to his house where he has them arranged on a board where they are being viewed with interest by many visitors. Frank Cottreau, of Meteghan, has also a freak carrot on exhibition, taken from his garden, which represents a human hand complete, it is said, even to finger-nail markings.

CONNELL'S

Snow And Cold

In Britain, as in Canada, winter and Christmas are closely linked to such a degree that the memory of man runs not to the contrary.

Bells and firelights; candles and children; waits and the deep bassoon and the bare fields and woodlands, hooded with snow, night at the window. Sirius up aloft, and the fires of the frost smoldering under the moon. The mere notion of Christmas under the bright tropical stars in the stagnant heat of the tropical night suggests as queer a transformation of the appropriate as that recorded by late Edmund Bosse, when on a visit to friends in Denmark many years ago, his charming hostess having heard of the national plum pudding, served it up as porridge in a soup tureen.

Like Christina Rossetti in her carol we associate Christmas with all that is typical of winter:

"In the bleak mid-winter
Frosty wind made moan,
Earth stood hard as iron
Water as a stone;
Snow had fallen, snow on snow,
Snow on snow,
In the bleak mid-winter
Long ago..."

Yet, there is not the faintest reference to this in the Gospels. None the less snow falls at times over the city of Bethlehem perched on its high hill-ridge, south of Jerusalem, though it never lies long. There Rachel was buried; there St. Jerome, amazing worker that he was, translated the Bible into Latin. The rock-hewn stables and managers remain. There too, in a site once devoted to the worship of Adonis, stands the fourth century church, "the oldest perhaps in the world, though it had to wait eleven centuries for its roof of English oak. But whether the first Christmas Eve on which the Shepherds sat watching their sheep was actually "a cold winter's night that was so deep" whether the three kings followed from southern Arabia on their three months' journey in 7 B.C. was one of the conjunctions of Jupiter and Saturn that occurred in that year, are questions, if need be, for authorities to decide. But the actual fact that not only the folk but British people in general associate that nativity of centuries ago in the gloom of the stable (because there was no room in the Inn) with all that delights and enchants us most in our Canadian winter raises other questions. What have its influences been?

That to that imaginative enchantment at any rate the authorized version itself has contributed its share. There is scarcely mention of ice and snow or of frost in the Old Testament, that is not vivid with their curious strangeness from the comparison of the one with leprosy and with sins like scarlet, to the manna in the wilderness, "a small round thing as small as the hoar frost," and the supreme verses in Job:

"Hast thou entered into the treasures of the snow? or hast thou seen the treasures of the hail?"

"Out of whose womb came the ice? and the hoary frost of heaven who hath gendered it?"

And Shakespeare? "When milk comes frozen home in pall" is a marvel of precise and condensed vignettes and is—for us—as they with wintry delights as a Christmas tree. But it was intended in the setting as an ironical skit! the barn-owl's merry note!

"Blow, blow, thou winter wind again," is tinged with the complimentary but solely on the negative side: "The Winter's Tale has no winter in it."

Of Shakespeare's dozen and more references to frost, nine or ten refer to its ravages in early spring! In one of the earliest of the Sonnets not only is winter stigmatized as hideous, and elsewhere in them chiefly used in distaste of old age, but rather than snow adding mystery and magic to a winter scene it is here nothing but a miserable mask on the face of nature.

The obvious and prosaic conclusion is that since our forefathers with their narrow windows and lack of greenstuff, found winter dark and dreary, even the poets among them turned a cold if not an aggrieved eye on its beauty. Even for Blake winter is a "direful monster" to whom the joys of love are a dreadful crime: this "Age of God" knew nothing of it; and for the children of the poor in "Holy Thursday" whose sun never shines and whose ways are full of thorns the winter is "eternal".

But were ever utter quiet and cold beyond the dreams of Laplander so positively congealed into words as they are in the first stanza of "The Eve of St. Agnes":

St. Agnes Eve—Ah, bitter chill it was!
The owl for all his feathers was a-cold;
The hare limped trembling through the frozen grass
And silent was the flock in woolly fold,
Numb were the beadsman's fingers while he told
His rosary, and while his frosted breath
Like pious censer from a censer old
Seems taking flight from heaven without death
Past the sweet Virgin's picture, while his payer he saith..."

Christmas Classic

Appealing as Ever

Though 44 Years Old

(For the delight and satisfaction of those who have not read it—and even if they will derive a renewed pleasure from the reading—we reproduce herewith one of the most celebrated editorials ever written, from the pen of the late Francis P. Church, published December 21, 1897, in the New York Sun.)

"We take pleasure in answering at once and thus prominently the communication below, expressing at the same time our great gratification that its faithful author is numbered among friends of The Sun:"

"Dear Editor:—I am eight years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, 'if you see it in The Sun it's so.' Please tell me the truth, is there a Santa Claus?"

Virginia O'Hanlon
W. Ninety-fifth St.
"Virginia, your little friends are wrong, they have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except what they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds, Virginia, whether they be men's or children's, are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, in his intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole truth and knowledge.

"Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generously and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! how dreary would be the world if there were no Virginias. There would be no child-like faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment except in sense and sight. The external light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

"Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if you did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign that there is no Santa Claus.

"The most real things in the world are those that children nor men can see. Did you see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but there is no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

"You tear apart a baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance can push aside that

"No Santa Claus! Thank God; he lives and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood."

More cigarettes are smoked in August than any other month.

The poinsettia has Christmas tradition. Lacking beautiful red and green leaves (the flowers themselves being the small red centers), and being available at this season, the brilliant and color of this plant as much to Christmas decorations. The plant is native to Central America and Mexico and was adapted some years ago to cultivation by Dr. Poinsett of Charlestown, S.C. It is distinctly modern.

May many a Merry Christmas
Make your glad dreams come true,
And Many a Happy New Year
Bring gifts of joy to you.

CHRISTMAS GIFTS

By Joan Steadman

"We're tired of the camp and we're going to move on. See?"

Orrek Gordon lifted his head. "Going to walk out on me and quit? Your wages are good here."

The foreman of his lumber gang sneered. "Say, money ain't everything. We want to get back to town and we're going." He slouched back to the tent and joined the crowd of surly men around the great campfire.

From the log bungalow beyond the camp twinkled many lights. Orrek stared at the Christmas candles. Marcia had placed them there, saying they brought peace to the household. And now, with his men walking out on him, Marcia would be lost to him.

A skimming sound on the firm snow aroused him and Marcia, a gay little figure in her white furs, caught at his arm and came to a standstill on her skis. "Why stay out here when I want you, Orrek? We're making up a bridge table."

A bridge table when his future career was toppling down! "Orrek, what's wrong with the men?" she asked. "My maid told me there had been a row there."

Orrek's eyes blazed as he tucked the small hand under his arm. How he loved her! In a few brief sentences he told her of the discontent among his men. "It's the loneliness that gets them," he finished, "the lack of amusement."

"If they walk out you cannot keep your contract. That will queer you with the owners." She turned and left him in silence.

Back in the bungalow Marcia tumbled the contents of her clothes closet while talking rapidly to her maid, Ninette. "Isn't it lucky that I taught you those chords, Ninette?"

The camp men, grumbling around the fire, fell into a sudden silence as the gay plink-a-plunk of a banjo sounded in the clearing.

Gebert, surly gang leader, jerked out his pipe. "Listen, boys!"

Down the hill Marcia came gallv, her fingers bringing jolly notes from the strings. The frosty air echoed and re-echoed as Ninette joined in.

"I know that," declared Gebert.

Carried along by memories, the men joined in, forgetting the loneliness of the Christmas eve, forgetting their fancied troubles.

Marcia had come to the very edge of the great fire and stood there picking at the strings. Above her towered the man she loved, just beyond her stood the men in the semi-circle, their unshaven faces lighted by a mutual love of music.

"How many of you play small instruments?" she asked softly.

The answers brought a quick smile to her lips. "I thought there would be many of you to help me out," she cried.

"I want to have a string-band," hurried on Marcia, and I need volunteers. A violin, maybe two or three. A guitar—"

"I play the flute," interrupted Jacques.

"At home I have an accordion," came a wistful voice, "but—"

"Fine," interrupted Marcia. "I have, tonight, made out an order that should have been mailed sooner. It is my Christmas gift to our men. The order is for musical instruments. I wish each man would write down his instrument and give it to me. With luck we should have the order filled in three days and we'll practice hard so that New Year's day may find us ready. How about it?"

There was an instant, response as hardened palms came together.

Just beyond the pines a wolf howled, but Marcia was looking up into her lover's eyes.

Celebrations Mark Christmas in China

In China the Christmas festival among Christians is known as Sheng Dan Jieh, the Holy Birth festival. This celebration has gradually penetrated inland.

Various paper decorations and evergreens adorn the churches and homes. Paper chains are made of green, red, yellow and blue, and are suspended in interlocking festoons from the ceiling. On the white walls, large posters are hung. On them are elaborate characters meaning peace and joy.

No candles are used, but the trees are decorated with paper flowers, colored paper chains and cotton snowflakes.

There is usually an early service. The church is kept dark except for lanterns carried by the worshipper.

Carriers wend their way along the road before dawn singing the Chinese words to such melodies as "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing." The service consists of reading the Christmas message from the Bible, music, dramatization of the manger scene, and an offering for the poor.

Gifts are distributed to the children. The packages contain such things as tangerines, peanuts, pretty picture cards (sometimes used cards sent from America), candy and western lead pencils.

In ancient times there were lions and tigers in America.

Let Us Brace Ourselves For Mighty Effort

We can size up the task at last. We can see that what has been done was only the beginning, that what remains to be done will take all we have and are. The time has come to brace ourselves for mighty effort. We are entering the critical year.

"The dawn of 1943 will soon loom red before us, and we must brace ourselves to cope with the trials and problems of what must be a stern and terrible year.

But we are becoming ever more entitled to be sure that the perils which might well have blotted out our life and all that we have and cherish will be surmounted and that we shall be preserved for further service in the vanguard of mankind."

Prime Minister Winston Churchill.

The Three Persian Kings

Three Kings from Persian lands afar
To Jordan follow the pointing star:
And this the quest of the travellers three,
Where the new born King of the Jews may be.
Full royal gifts they bear for the King;
Gold, incense, myrrh are their offering.

The star shines out with a steadfast ray;
The Kings to Bethlehem made their way,
And there in worship they bend the knee,
As Mary's child in her lap they see;
Their royal gifts they show to the King,
Gold, incense, myrrh are offering.

Thou child of man—lo, to Bethlehem
The Kings are travelling—travel with them!
The star of mercy, the star of grace,
Shall lead thy heart to its resting place.
Gold, incense, myrrh thou canst not bring;
Offer thy heart to the infant King.

(Chorus)
How brightly shines the morning star,
What ray divine streams from afar,
God's glory there is shining.

Bright beam of God that scatters night
And leads the wand'ring soul aright,
That after God is pining.

Jesus, God's word:
Truth revealing, sorrow healing,
Soothes our sighing, Ends our dying.)

The Christmas Pudding

Take some human nature, as you find it,
The commonest variety will do;
Put a little graciousness behind it.
Add a lump of charity or two.

Squeeze in just a drop of moderation,
Half as much frugality, or less—
Add some very fine consideration,
Strain off all poverty's distress.

Pour some milk of human kindness in it,
Put in all the happiness you can;
Stir it up with laughter every minute,
Season with good will toward every man.

Set it on the fire of heart's affection,
Leave it till the jolly bubbles rise;
Sprinkle it with kisses, for confection,
Sweeten with a look of loving eyes.

Flavor it with children's merry chatter,
Frost it with the snow of whinny dells—
Place it on a holly-garnished platter
And serve it with the song of Christmas bells.

First Christmas Tree

In Strassburg, Germany, in 1604, the first Christmas tree appears in literature. It is thought that the custom of using Christmas trees in Germany spread from Strassburg.
When Queen Victoria married King Albert, he introduced the Christmas tree custom in England.
From the early emigrants of Germany and England was derived the custom of the Christmas tree in America.

The Christmas Saint

By James P. Kelly

CHRISTMAS Eve. Streets white with swirling snow flakes.
Marionetta, behind the counters of the five-and-ten, peered into one of the little ten-cent mirrors it was her business to sell.
Marionetta was crying because there was no Santa Claus. More than anything she hated to go back to the tiny basement flat that she and her mother and Jim called home, and tell Jim the truth.
Jim, or Jimmy, as Marionetta always called him, was crippled. Marionetta insisted that he was too little yet to know about Santa Claus. She had gone without her lunch for days and days and saved her nickels and dimes to buy the things Jimmy wanted.
That very morning she had started out to work, her precious savings tucked away in her purse, her heart all but singing out loud.
Then, when she got off the car, someone in the motley crowd bumped her elbow and her purse was knocked from her hand. Marionetta dived for it, but another dived at the same time and when she straightened up, a small, flying figure was crossing the street. That was why her feet lagged on her homeward way.
Her hand on the door of the basement flat, at the dirty tenement house where she lived, she noticed a big automobile drawing up at the curb and an elegantly dressed woman slumping. Showing off! She turned her back on the picture, flung open the door and stepped inside.
"Hello, Sis," Jimmy looked up brightly. "Tonight's the night!"

Marionetta looked dully at her mother.
"I lost my purse," she said tonelessly. "Some kid snatched it this morning. It looked just like that McCarthy kid that comes here to play with Jimmy so much, but he ran so fast I couldn't be sure."
"Don't cry honey," her mother said. "We'll make out, somehow."
There was a knock. Mrs. Clancy went to the door and opened it. There stood the lady of the big automobile, her arms piled high with white packages.
"Is this where Jimmy Clancy lives?"
"Yes, ma'am." Mrs. Clancy stepped back. "Won't you come in?"
The lady stepped inside. She kept smiling at Jimmy, whose eyes were wide and bright.
"I met Santa Claus down the street this afternoon, Jimmy," she said, "and he asked if I would bring these things to you. He said he was going to be very busy tonight."
Jimmy was feverishly tearing at the packages, which the lady had dropped into a big chair beside him. As his heart's desires emerged from their tinsel wrappings Jimmy shouted with delight.
Under cover of the excitement Marionetta drew near the pretty lady and whispered:
"Tell me how you knew about Jimmy?"
"Why, my dear, it's such a strange story! This morning I saw a little boy snatch a purse someone had dropped, and when he ran away I had my chauffeur follow him and bring him back to me. He told me he wanted to keep the money to buy some toys for a little crippled friend whose folks were too poor to buy things for him. I promised him I'd play Santa Claus to Jimmy if he'd promise to wait on that corner for the girl who dropped the purse, every morning at the same hour, until he found her and gave it back to her."

"Why," cried Marionetta, "did you ever hear anything so like a fairy tale? That was my purse, and it really was Jerry McCarthy, mother! There was such a crowd he couldn't see who dropped it. He'd never have stolen—but it wasn't stealing. And just to think that a moment ago I was doubting the Christmas saint!"
The lady laughed. Then, in that clear voice she said: "Well, just to make you even more sure of him, I'm going to bring a famous doctor to see Jimmy day after tomorrow, and I'm going to have him take Jimmy to a hospital and cure that bad leg of his. The good Christmas saint doesn't want to find him crippled when he comes back next year."

Firemen Were Kept Busy

Censorship regulations will not permit us to write much about the weather during the past week. We can say, however, that on Thursday last, winter struck its first real blow at Digby for the season. It was on that day we had our first taste of zero weather. The snow and wind which accompanied this cold spell made it a "real day".

It can also be said that throughout the past week fuel piles have been reduced considerably; the plumbers have been more than busy thawing out frozen water systems, and the fire department has been overworked.

There have been numerous small fires, the majority of them the result of chimneys burning out. Most serious of these was a blaze at the home of Postmaster, J. W. Merkel, which broke out shortly after midnight, burning under the floors. Another Sunday fire was in the shed at the rear of the residence of David Daley, First Ave., and on Sunday morning there was also a bad chimney fire at the home of R. B. Lent, Birch Street. In addition to these mentioned, there have also been a number of smaller chimney blazes.

Interment was in the Baptist cemetery.

Britain's "Over-All" Record

Holding that the "over-all record of Great Britain in this war is one of the great achievements in military and spiritual history," Mr. Arthur Hays Sulzberger, president and publisher of the New York Times, called upon all Americans in a speech at Baltimore to evaluate fully the British war effort and reject as disloyal "a lot of complaining about the British" in certain U.S.A. cities. Mr. Sulzberger pointed out that during the desperate days of 1940 Great Britain, "armed with little more than her courage," turned back the threatened Nazi avalanche and held the bastions of democracy throughout the world until the United States entered the war against totalitarianism. "This is not a single war," he contended. "It is a coalition war. Britain, among others, is our partner. We are drawing a great semi-circle around the continent of Europe and the ring will eventually strangle the German power."

Well Known Sea Captain Passes

Capt. Chas. F. Lewis Had Interesting Career

The death occurred at his home, Digby, Tuesday morning, of Capt. Charles F. Lewis, at the age of 76 years. Capt. Lewis was born at Freeport, a son of the late Capt. Waite and Carolyn (Haines) Lewis of that village. As a young man he left New York and sailed to India as one of the "original ten" missionaries of the Salvation Army to take up their work in that far distant land, more than fifty years ago. He was well acquainted with the customs and language of the people in the districts where he labored as a missionary, and up until the time of his death, frequently referred to those days.

However, the sea was in his blood, and Capt. Lewis retired from missionary work and followed the sea, working for many years with the C.P.R., and for 22 years on the dredge "W. S. Fielding". On his retirement from the Fielding he came to Digby to make his home and since served as pilot for many ships, and on occasions took command of small tug boats bound for other ports.

Throughout his life he maintained his interest in the church and was a member of Digby United Baptist Church and one of its deacons. He was also at one time superintendent of the Baptist Sunday School. He was a former member of King Solomon Lodge, A.F. and A.M. At the age of 72 Capt. Lewis developed a hobby of painting small ships—his water colors are to be found in the homes of many of his friends in Digby and elsewhere. He is survived by his wife, Carrie L. Lewis; one daughter, Mrs. Marvin H. White, Peterborough, Ont.; two sons, Roy C. Lewis, Montreal, and Kenneth M. Lewis, Truro; two sisters, Mrs. Ralph Morrell, Freeport, and Mrs. Howard Welch, Halifax; two brothers, Capt. Murray Lewis, Three Rivers, Que., and Capt. Ernest Lewis, Westport. Funeral services will take place this afternoon from the Digby Baptist Church, at 2.30 o'clock. Rev. M. C. Munn, assisted by Rev. T. W. Hodgson, officiating.

MARRIAGE

Reece - Doll

A very pretty wedding took place on Saturday evening, November 28 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Reece, Bear River East, when their son Bdr. Wilson Reece was united in marriage to Miss Sadie Doll, of Lower Sandy Point, Shel. Co. The ceremony was performed by Rev. William Randall. The bride and groom entered the room to the strains of a wedding march played by Mrs. Chester Sanford and were attended by the groom's sister, Miss Evangeline Reece, dressed in princess blue crepe, and Pte. Norman Mailing. Little Judith Buckler walked before the bride carrying flags, and she was dressed in blue crepe. The bride was gown in wine chiffon velvet and wore a shoulder corsage. Refreshments were served after the ceremony to about seventy-five relatives and friends. The wedding cake looked lovely and the top was decorated with a tiny bride and soldier. The wedding gifts were numerous and consisted of money, pyrex, china, linen and silver. A shower was given this popular couple by the young people of the community on the following Tuesday evening and on Wednesday the bride and groom went to Shelburne where the groom is stationed.

Military pilots and bush fliers defy death daily in flights through the impenetrable fog which covers most of Alaska.

In the Aleutians where the fog usually hangs within ten feet of the water, navy fliers jest about the weather.

"The fog is so thick" they say, "you have to stick your hand out of the window to see where you are. If your hand touches the mast of a ship, you know you're flying too low."

There the pilots play a hide-and-seek game with the Japanese. An observation plane will fly over Kiska and throw a rift in the clouds and fog spot an enemy squadron at anchor. Then the bombers fly over and drop their deadly missiles—but sometimes not before the enemy has fired his guns at the planes through the same hole in the sky.

Although many navy and army fliers never had prior experience in flying under these conditions, their record in scouting and bombing the invaders is remarkable.

Bush fliers in Alaska—civilian pilots who have risked their necks to bring the wonders of modern aviation to that territory—fly obsolete planes without fine radio apparatus and beams to guide them. They fly mostly "by the seat of their pants," threading their way through finger mountain passes and dodging on mud flats and lakes.

Miners and trappers, cut off from civilization by snow, owe their lives to supplies which bush pilots, equipped with portable planes, fly into remote lakes in the territory.

War has vindicated the Alaskan aviator. In time of peace the army and navy had no room for fliers short of college education. Now the services are glad to enroll pilots who know Alaska, regardless of how little mathematics they have studied.

Boy Scouts of Peterborough, Ont., have during the past year shipped 30,000 magazines to the armed forces. The last shipment, containing 4,000 magazines was sent to the Prince of Wales Rangers on the West Coast, a unit which has its headquarters in the Liftlock City.

Christmas Shopping Rush Nearly Over; Merchants, Postmaster Weary

Town To Borrow $3,000

Eleven ratepayers were present at a meeting of the ratepayers of the town of Digby, held in the Court House on Friday evening. Mayor E. J. Theriault presided.

H. A. Nichols, town clerk, read the notice of meeting. Mayor Theriault set nine o'clock as the time the vote would be taken, unless discussion was over before that time. He outlined the reasons why the council thought it advisable at the present time to acquire the Freeman Handspiker property, stating that some of it drained directly into Lily Lake, the source of Digby's water supply. The remainder of the property (which comprises some 300 acres) all drained into the basin where the present dam storage is located.

The price asked for the property was $3,000.

The following resolution was moved by Victor Cardoza and seconded by Dr. J. R. McCleave.

"Resolved that this public meeting of the ratepayers of the Town of Digby hereby approves of the proposed borrowing by the Town of Digby, under Chapter 3 of the Acts of 1939, The Municipal Affairs (Supervision) Act, of a sum not exceeding $3,000 for the purpose of acquiring or purchasing land for a Town purpose, namely, improving the water work, or water system of the Town."

Discussion of the resolution took place, Messrs. Lynch, H. M. Warne, E. B. Richardson, Dr. J. R. McCleave and Victor Cardoza taking part. Some felt the price was too high. The remainder of the discussion being the lay of the land in as far as drainage was concerned and the fact that there were at least three other properties that should be kept in mind as completing the ownership by the town of all possible drainage into Lily Lake and Daley Brook.

A standing vote, unanimously favoring the proposed borrowing, was taken.

Our Christmas Issue

We are proud of our Christmas issue—it is the first time in the history of the Courier it has been possible to print in our own plant a two-color Christmas Cover.

Although we have been rushed this season, the printing of the Christmas number of the Courier has not presented our staff with the usual number of headaches—in fact, there has been practically no night work on the newspaper, although our job department has put in many overtime hours since October.

In other years we considered ourselves lucky if the newspaper mechanical and make-up staff were able to knock off before midnight during the Christmas season, we have on more than one occasion put the Christmas issue to bed at 3 o'clock in the morning.

True, due to war conditions, we have not handed quite as much advertising as in other years, nevertheless, we are putting out a sixteen page paper today (with color work on the cover, this is an equivalent to 24 pages presswork). Out new shop has done away with countless miles of running back and forth from one building to another as we had to do for years; our new press now makes it possible to produce color work on the newspaper—frankly, we are proud of our first attempt.

The Christmas shopping season in Digby is practically at an end, much to the relief of overworked merchants, their clerks, the postmaster and his staff, and the mail drivers whose busses, teams and ferries have been budgeting with mailbags and packages.

The chief complaint among local merchants is "business has been too good." They are worried over replacing stocks of staple goods. Their shelves and counters are looking bare these days, but, on the whole, there has been enough to go around although many of the usual Christmas lines were missing this season.

Candy presented one of the greatest problems. Until a few days ago there was practically none to be had in any of the local stores. Merchants, however, began to release their stocks a few days ago, and since have been rationing it out to their customers. Nuts are unobtainable. One merchant says he did receive ten pounds, but those he divided among his staff and himself.

The Government Liquor commission store has also been doing a big business. On Monday and Tuesday this week customers waited in queues outside the store. We understand on good authority that sales for those two days exceeded $4,000.

Giant Tongs To Lift Sunken Ships

An ingenious plan to salvage hundreds of cargo ships sunk by bombs and torpedoes has been conceived by Lieut. Harry E. Rieseberg, veteran deep sea diver and marine explorer.

He would tow a drydock, 520 feet long, 210 feet wide, and 80 feet deep over the grave of the sunken vessel. Thirty powerful machines would lower 16 massive tongs to grapple the ship and raise it by steel cables into a well in the centre of the floating drydock, where crews would pry her open or float her on huge compressed air buoys or pontoons to the nearest port for re-conditioning or dismantling for salvage.

Rieseberg says most any craft up to 700 feet long could be salvaged from depths of 2,500 feet to 3,000 feet, ranges which heretofore no salvage operations have been attempted.

A diving bell robot, which Rieseberg has used successfully on treasure salvage operations, would be attached to the drydock and used to control operations beneath the surface. In it a diver may descend to great depths where a person clad in a traditional diving suit dare not venture. Oxygen tanks, instead of the conventional air hose, are used within the robot, which is lowered by cable. Other cables carry powerful searchlights and telephones.

Rieseberg is a former chief of the bureau of navigation's tonnage and licensing division. The enormous drydock and other equipment upon which he is seeking a patent would cost less than a large freighter, he contends. He hopes to build one and reclaim an armada of ships.

Flirt With Death On Enemy's Paths

Heroes in war are innumerable. Sometimes fliers stand out, and again infantrymen or tank drivers.

Collectively speaking, the heroes at the moment are the royal engineers of the British army. Without them the allied advance in Africa would not be as rapid as it is. Without them, loss of life and material would be much greater.

The Germans in their retreat have been methodical after their first frantic dash into Libya. They have evacuated what they could from Tobruk and other places as they prepared for a last ditch stand on the coast of Tunisia.

They have had time to blow up bridges and roads, to lay mines in places where they thought the British and Americans would come. The royal engineers are the men whose job it is to locate these mines and make them harmless. It's a tricky business and always dangerous.

Sappers, of course, know a great deal about mines, explosives, and booby traps. They learn how to handle these tricky things, but there are all sorts of variations to mines that make them deadly surprises.

The Germans have blown up roads where it will be most difficult for the pursuing allies to repair them. As the army moves over these repaired highways there is visible on the tarred surfaces holes with a few stones of roadbed showing where sappers located mines, neutralized them, and took them out with their hands.

The men who pick up the mines look a bit like gardeners working over a flower bed, but it isn't as pleasant as that. Too often there's a sudden explosion, a puff of black smoke, and a hurried rush to an army hospital or a more leisurely ride to the rear for a boy who will no longer search for enemy mines.

Fate of Students Hang On Results Of Mid-Year Exams

Dr. George J. Trueman, President of Mount Allison University, in a statement to the Argosy Weekly recently said there would be a "kindly and just interpretation" of the War Services Regulations for students. These provide that students who fail in mid-year examinations are forthwith liable for military service. He also pointed out that the Regulations apply as well to women as to men students. The complete text of the statement follows:

"Reports in the press and elsewhere about the enlistment in the services of unsuccessful students themselves in doubt (as to the results of failure at the mid-year examinations—Ed.) Instructions sent to the University authorities are as follows:

"Any physically fit student who (a) refuses to enrol in the Canadian Officers' Training Corps contingent or auxiliary training unit of his university, or (b) fails to perform therein military training to the satisfaction of the District Officer Commanding, or (c) fails to pass any term or yearly academic examination required by his university, college, or school, unless such failure in the opinion of the university, college or school authorities and the District Officer Commanding, is due to circumstances beyond the control of such student and that he shall be permitted to continue his course of studies, shall be called out forthwith under these Regulations."

"The question came up in November last at a meeting in Halifax of the presidents and other representatives of Maritime Universities and the consensus of opinion was in favor of a kindly and just interpretation of the regulation. This will make it necessary to deal with each case on its merits. When reports are made up following the mid-year examinations in January suppose that student X is reported to have failed on three vital subjects, out of six he has taken. Unless there is some good reason for this failure, such as sickness or unavoidable absence from lectures, there would be little chance of his remaining at University; nevertheless a member of the Faculty would have a talk with him to get the explanation of his failure and to make sure no injustice is done. Suppose student Y has failed in two subjects out of five or six. Members of the faculty in consultation with the Officer Commanding may feel sure that Y has worked well, that his failure was due to faulty preparation before the entrance, and that he has the ability and perseverance and determination to succeed. If so he will be advised to remain on condition that he work for all he is worth, that he pass supplementary examinations and mentary examinations and that he show steady progress from month to month.

"In making up the list of names for the Department of National War Services only those will be included who have shown that they are not interested in their studies, or that they are not mentally capable of doing the work or that they have not the will power and character to succeed as university students. Before the list is forwarded to headquarters the men themselves and their parents will be notified of the decision of the university management.

"If there are any women students who are lacking in the same qualifications, the facts will be placed before their parents with the recommendation that the students withdraw from the University."

How Rumors Work

There has been a certain amount of confusion in some quarters as to why the Chicago Tribune is attacking the Wartime Information Board. The reason should be perfectly clear. The McCormick combination in the U.S.A., is striving to keep the allies as far apart as possible. To find an organization which by just telling the truth about Canada is helping to bring closer accord, is then, as far as McCormick is concerned, to find an enemy. And when McCormick finds an enemy the gloves are off.

The real danger of the attack on the Wartime Information Board lies not so much in what the Chicago Tribune says editorially (though that is bad enough), but in the rumors that are being circulated here in Canada. Few people in Canada have any respect for what Mr. McCormick says; his anti-British sentiments are too well known. But there is great danger in the authorless tales that pass from one person to another in the widening circles of rumor. These statements can be damaging. In attacking the W.I.B. in this way, the United States appears to be striking at Canadian-U. S. goodwill.

Butter Saved Eases War Shortage

Unlike some wartime shortages, butter is one food that every Canadian can do something about. Easing up on the quantity used to the extent of an ounce a week per person will go a long way in extending the supply so that there will be sufficient for everyone, is the opinion of officials of Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Spreading butter thinner on bread and rolls, and doing without a second pat at home or in a restaurant; substituting other fats or butter in baking and other preparation of foods; increasing the amount of the morning cereal so that a slice less of toast will be necessary; trimming crusts from sandwiches before buttering—all these will add up to a substantial amount in making supplies go farther.

Stuffed mutton, instead of turkey, which is scarce in Britain, is the main dish around which Lord Woolton, Minister of Foods, recommends Britons build their 19-42 Christmas dinner. Apple sauce, Brussels sprouts and potatoes will complete the dinner course, and for dessert is recommended mock plum pudding made with apples, carrots, potatoes and a small amount of dried fruit.

The sale of T. B. Christmas seals in the town of Digby has now exceeded $290, and it is hoped the $300 mark will be reached. The sales this year have topped any existing records for this town. Digby's objective for 1942 was $250. In Digby the sale is sponsored by the local branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses and the Nova Scotia Tuberculosis Association. Mrs. H. R. Bishop is convener of the local committee.

Boxing Day, Saturday, December 26, has been declared a public holiday in the town of Digby by a proclamation issued by His Worship, Mayor E. J. Theriault. The proclamation appears elsewhere in this issue of the Courier. Before the proclamation was issued several merchants had stated their intention to close their places of business on Saturday. The mayor's proclamation will make the holiday a general one.

There has been considerable discussion over the Courier's report of the December meeting of the Town Council with regard to the number of feet of hose on the town truck. Our account reported Fire Chief Winchester as saying there were 1800 feet of hose on the truck. Members of the fire department and Chief Winchester now tell us the truck carries 18 lengths of hose (900 feet) and not 1800 feet. Our check on notes taken at the meeting quote the fire chief as saying "1800 feet" as originally reported. However, there may have been a mistake when questioned by the council, at any rate, we have been assured by the firemen and the fire chief that 18 lengths is the correct figure. They tell us it would be impossible for a fire truck such as the one owned by the town of Digby to carry 1800 feet of hose.

Miss Lucille Flynn visited friends in Grosses Coques on Saturday.

Food Industry's March to Berlin

More than 40,000 Canadian food retailers are expected to join "The Food Industry's March to Berlin" in February next. That is the name that has been chosen for the War Savings Stamps selling campaign to be held from coast to coast under the auspices of the Canadian food industry. Objective of the drive is the sale $1,000,000 worth of War Savings Stamps by the food industry during the month of February. Backing the efforts of the retailers, who will be the frontline selling troops, will be representatives of every branch of the food industry. National advertisers will support the cause in their newspaper, magazine and radio advertising. It is expected that government advertising will be used to carry the message that food stores are active agents for War Savings Stamps.

Confine Brides To White or Cream

Gone are the designer's wedding rhapsodies in heavenly blue and cloud pink. In an amendment to the "fashion freeze" order of Nov. 17 the Prices Board has ruled that future brides still may be ethereal and enchanting but only in white or cream.

The amendment also cuts down on frills on two-piece dresses. Trimming a la Tyrol is out, with the elimination of suspender straps, bodice bibs and patch pockets. From now on, the skirt of such a dress must be finished with a waist band.

It even goes into the question of pyjamas, ordering "one-piecers" for sizes up to six. And the summer will see no more sassy, skirted sunsuits. The ruling eliminates matching and contrasting skirts on children's play suits.

Children's ski togs have been given further consideration: the elimination of belts, tunnel loops and side straps will apply to slacks only, not ski suits, jackets or snow suits.

Good news for the outdoor gal is the amendment that stretches the length of a windbreaker by a good four inches. Starting at once windbreakers may be manufactured with an overall length from neck to hem of 26½ inches, women's size 16 and 23½ inches, girls' size 10, standard grading to prevail for other sizes.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

PICTURING CHRISTMAS

The light was placed behind the tree to obtain this Christmas silhouette.

CHRISTMAS always calls for a full picture record. At this season of happiness and cheer, everyone feels the need of snapshots which will preserve the occasion and keep its memory fresh.

Most Christmas activities center about the tree, bright with lights, ornaments, and tinsel. Naturally you want the tree to show up well in your pictures. But it's a rather dark subject, and unless you take a few special precautions in lighting, it may come out too black in the prints.

To picture the tree most effectively, use three photo lights instead of two. Concentrate the light from two bulbs on the front of the tree. Then place the third bulb behind the tree, with the reflector turned so that all the light shines on the wall. This back light outlines the tree clearly, while the front lights help show detail and decorations.

Sometimes a silhouette of the tree is interesting. To obtain this, place all the light behind the tree, with a reflector to direct it on the wall. The picture above was taken with a short "time" exposure, the camera being placed on a firm support, with an ordinary 100-watt bulb concealed behind the tree. If a large photo bulb is used, snapshot exposures can be made, even with an inexpensive camera.

Small Christmas tree lights may be left on when the picture is taken, to add to the effect. But never allow brilliant, "raw" light from a photo bulb to shine into the lens. Turn the photo light or move the camera so that the lens is properly shaded.

Of course, your Christmas pictures should include more than just the tree. Show the folks wrapping gifts, decorating the doorway, putting ornaments on the tree. Picture the children hanging their stockings, writing letters to Santa Claus, and peering out the window on Christmas Eve to see if he is coming. Make sure, too, that you get pictures as they find the gifts Christmas morning... and picture older members of the family as gifts are unwrapped.

Take your Christmas pictures as if you were filming a movie—try to make them tell the complete story of Christmas. A full record of this sort is far more satisfying, and adds greatly to the family album or "picture history book."

John van Guilder

Christmas Cake and Pudding Wear War-time Garb This Year

Christmas 1942 will not be celebrated on the lavish scale of former years, either with regard to the giving of gifts or the foods served during the holiday season.

There will be enough of the necessary ingredients available to produce the traditional Christmas fare. Turkeys will be plentiful, but the plum puddings, mince meat and Christmas cakes will probably appear in modified form, as some of the usual ingredients will be missing this year. Cooking dates and candied pineapple have probably disappeared from the grocers' shelves. Nuts, except cashews, are in short supply. There will be raisins; and figs; candied peels and cheeries are plentiful.

Fortunately fruits are interchangeable for puddings and cakes. Add together the total amount of fruit called for in a recipe and use an equal amount of whatever fruits are procurable. It's not too soon to make Christmas cake which needs to be aged to bring it to the peak of goodness. The less rich puddings do not require aging so their preparation may be left until later.

The Consumer Section of the Department of Agriculture at Ottawa has tested many recipes as worthy of a place in any Christmas plans.

Steamed Carrot Pudding

¾ cup sugar
1 cup bread crumbs
½ cup all-purpose flour
1½ teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon baking soda
2 cups raisins
½ cup chopped, mixed peel
¼ teaspoon cloves
½ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon nutmeg

1 cup finely grated raw potatoes

1 cup finely grated raw carrot

½ cup milk

Mix and sift dry ingredients.

Add raisins and peel to the flour mixture, stir until the fruit is well coated. Stir in the potato, carrot and milk, mixing well. Fill individual greased moulds ¾ full and cover tightly. Steam 2-2½ hours. (Serves 6.)

Fruit Cake

3 cups pastry flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
¼ teaspoon cloves
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
¼ teaspoon mace
1 cup shortening
1½ cups brown sugar
5 well-beaten eggs
1 cup candied cherries
2 cups chopped figs
2 cups raisins
1½ cups each of candied citron, orange and lemon peel
½ cup honey
½ cup molasses
¼ cup cider or orange juice

1 teaspoon vanilla
½ teaspoon almond flavoring

Sift flour, baking powder, and spices together three times. Cream shortening thoroughly, creaming together till light and fluffy. Add eggs, fruits, peel, honey, molasses and cider or orange juice. Add dry ingredients gradually. Turn the mixture into two pans, 8x8x2 inches, which have been lined with three thicknesses of heavy greased paper. Bake at 250 degrees 3½ hours. Makes 2, 2½ pound cakes.

Are Canadians Salvage Minded?

Are Canadians salvage conscious? A salesman in a western town reports that he laid a bet on it that they were not, and won. Canvassing three blocks in his district he obtained a total of 68 old hot water bottles and 402 lead tubes.

Government salvage officials comment that this proves their belief that in spite of advertisements, posters and news items, Canadians are only salvage-conscious to a limited degree.

They point out that scrap rubber, metal, fats, bones and other needed materials left unsalvaged remain where the Axis partners want them.

Scientific Dreams And New Ideas

One of the scientific dreams which modern research is bringing steadily closer to realization is the capturing of energy directly from the sun's rays. The tapping of even a small part of the tremendous quantities of solar energy which flood the earth every day and is harnessing to man's industrial and domestic needs would effect a complete transformation in the life of every nation.

No country would be more profoundly affected than Canada. With its highly developed and undeveloped water power, the Dominion has a vital interest in such new sources of energy. Our rivers and waterfalls rank second only to those of the United States in the amount of energy which they generate, and our utilization of hydro-power energy on a per capita basis is the third highest in the world. A tremendous investment in power stations and transmission lines might be rendered valueless.

Scientists have already built an experimental basic solar engine which effectively utilize the power in the rays of the sun, though so far they have been unable to solve the practical problem of making this power available at the low cost which make it a servant of daily life. When and if that day comes, it will see a revolutionary change in our present method of releasing stored up solar energy through the burning of coal and oil. These fuels are formed as a result of a natural process which, through millions of years, transforms the sunlight originally stored up through the action of chlorophyll, the green stuff in leaves and vegetation. Science is attacking the mysteries of chlorophyll in the hope that some day man may be able to duplicate nature's action and thus produce fuel synthetically from chemicals.

Also going on is research based on the application of the so-called "thermocouple" principle in converting the sun's rays into electricity. Photoelectricity—already put to many practical uses by means of the "magic eye" is also the subject of hopeful research. Finally, the basic principles involved in releasing atomic energy potentially available in matter itself are also known, and science is engaged in the search for means of putting this limitless source of energy to work in the service of mankind.

It may be that future generations will have at their disposal a wealth of power which will dwarf our present output from waterpower, oil and coal, just as these multiply a thousandfold the energy which earlier civilizations had at their command in the form of human and animal labour.

Increase Members From 8 to 82

Maple Leaf Agricultural Society which was organized in Acaciaville a year ago, held this month's meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Porter, Hill Grove, with the President, Lloyd MacNeill, in the chair.

The Secretary-Treasurer, Joseph Speicht, Barton, gave a resume of the year's activities together with the financial statement and auditor's report. This society which started with eight paid-up members at the beginning of the year has now 82 names on the books, hopes for a larger membership next year.

During the past year the Society has purchased and distributed to the members seven cars of ground limestone, one car each of feeds and fertilizer, sponsored a project for the growing of the Ditmars Swede turnip seed, held a community fair which was a great success.

For live stock improvement, three pure-bred animals are controlled by the organization.

It is expected that a credit union will be organized next year within the Society.

Sunday, Jan. 1, has been proclaimed as a day of prayer and intercession for the United Nations' cause and for a "speedy and favorable peace that shall be founded on understanding and justice, to the end that peace shall endure." It was announced recently in an extra edition of the Canada Gazette.

NOVA SCOTIA FARM NEWS

Butter Production Is High

Estimated creamery butter production in Nova Scotia for the 12-month period ended December 1, 1942, totalled 6,674,591 lbs., according to figures released by W. J. Bird, N. S. Dairy Superintendent. This total is the second highest in the history of the province. The record was made in 1938, when the production totalled 6,711,508 lbs. The figure for the year was 6,468,543.

Cows Give Good Returns

W. R. Retson, Truro, livestock representative, in reporting from Musquodoboit and Elderbank areas states that in the month of October was shipped from a herd of 17 cows in all stages of lactation, bringing in the farmer a cheque for $515.11. Besides this some ten quarts of milk were used on the farm daily. "Much more interest", says Mr. Retson, "is being taken in these districts in increasing production than has been evident for some time. This increased interest applies to both breeding and feeding practices."

Fertilizer Interest Rate is Set

While fertilizer dealers may not advertise or list any fertilizer on any other terms than for cash payment, sight draft against a bill of lading, or for payment within 30 days from the date of invoice, yet they may allow credit to approved customers in which case they shall not demand nor receive any interest in excess of the rate of one-half of one per cent per month. This rate of interest, set forth in War-time Prices and Trade Board Administrative Order No. A-326, is now in effect according to word received by the N.S. Dept. of Agriculture from G. S. Peart, Fertilizers Administrator, Ottawa.

Lime Orders Are Heavy

There never has been a time when lime orders have kept up as they have this fall. Expressive of this was orders for five cars received by the department on December 9, all from Inverness county. These orders were for two cars to be shipped to Port Hood, Co-operative Ltd., W. R. McKillop, manager, two cars to Shean Co-operative company, Inverness, J. J. MacIsaac, manager, and one car to the Mabou Consumers' co-operation. A. D. Beaton, manager. What is more significant is the fact that two of these cars are for January shipment.

67,700 Feet Ditched

Farm ditching equipment used under the direction of agricultural engineer Banting is laid up for the winter. This equipment was in operation from April 28 to late November during which 67,700 feet was ditched, the work being done on 28 farms located in Colchester county and the western part of the province. The season's records show that the fastest work was done one day in May when 1055 feet was ditched in four hours, while the maximum for any day was 1,800 feet.

Farmers to Meet In January

Details are now complete for the 42nd annual meeting of the Nova Scotia farmers' association to be held at Truro, January 19, 20, 21.

Farmers' Income Tax

It is expected that the 1942 income tax, with its low and increased taxes will mean that many farmers will now have to make returns. It would appear that for the year 1940 approximately 25,000 farmers in Canada made income tax returns, with approximately one-third of them paying an income tax. It is fully expected that many additional thousands will have to make returns for '42. In order to study the question of farmers' income tax, a committee has been set up at Ottawa with representatives from the farm press and the Dept. of Internal Revenue and Agriculture. In this province the dept. of national revenue, through its office at Halifax, has endeavored to study the situation in Nova Scotia. With this end in view, A. F. King, of the Halifax office, has visited districts in Pictou, Colchester, Hants and Kings counties, contacting farmers with the purpose of studying how best returns can be made and endeavoring to determine questions that arise in order that these may be completed. It is expected that once the investigation is over, further information will be available relative to the making out of returns by farmers.

Carrots Advance In Price

There has been a sharp change in the carrot market the past two weeks or so, due to activities of buyers for the United States market. The Nova Scotia crop this year was about the same as last when 25,000 bbls. were inspected and quite a few carloads shipped to Montreal and other Quebec markets. This year the crop in Quebec and Ont. was heavy and until recently was selling at 3/4c a lb. packed at shipping point. Within this province as well as in Quebec and Ontario have sharply advanced.

More Hogs Marketed

Live hog marketings in Oct. 1942, showed a good increase over marketings in October 1941, according to Canadian Livestock Co-operative figures released this week. The increase is shown in the following figure: for October 1942, with October 1941 in brackets; total number marketed 878 (576) value, $22,145 ($12,378), percentage grading A and B 81 (67). The C. L. C. returns once more indicate the leadership of valley counties in live hog marketing. The Western Kings Club was out in front with 212 hogs or most one quarter of the provincial total. Middleton came second with 133, Pugwash fourth with 94, and Eastern Kings fifth with 7.

Every Child Likes To Decorate Tree

Child development experts say that children will enjoy Christmas more if they help in getting the house ready for the coming of old Saint Nick. One of the most important duties, especially to a child, is that of decorating the tree. A little boy or girl will love the opportunity to cut out cardboard stars, then dip them into a thick mixture of water and laundry starch and finally, sprinkle them with artificial snow. Small gourds, seed pods and pine cones can be treated in a like manner, after they have been painted with quick-drying enamel, or with aluminum paint. Much pleasure will be derived by a child if he or she is allowed to make strings of cranberries or small pieces of stale bread to hang on a special Christmas tree for the birds. Later children can bring them about a shrub or tree in the front yard, and watch the birds enjoy Christmas, too.

STAR OF THE EAST

The Child of Bethlehem
Star of the East, that long ago
Brought wise men on their way
Where, angels singing to and fro, lay—
Above that Syrian hill afar
Thou shinest out, tonight, O Star!

Star of the East, the night were drear
But for the tender grace
That with thy glory comes to cheer
Earth's loneliest, darkest place,
For by that charity we see
Where there is hope for all and me.

Star of the East, show us the way
In wisdom undefiled
To see that manger out and lay
Our gifts before the Child—
To bring our hearts and after them
Unto our King in Bethlehem!

Curious Legends

Preserved in Carols

The word carol was originally a term for a dance or for songs intermingled with dancing. Afterwards it came to signify festive songs, particularly such as were sung at Christmas.

In England the practice of singing Christmas carols was widely spread as early as the fifteenth century to which date belong many of the carols printed in the collection of Ritson, Wright and Sandys. Some of these ancient carols, "Cherry Tree Carol," the "Carol of St. Stephen," and others, preserve curious legends that have descended from remote past. Unfortunately, many of the traditional carols are not extant in early manuscript copies, and were greatly corrupted when they found their way into print.

In the second half of the 18th century, a Birmingham publisher, T. Bloomer, did good service by issuing (in broadside form) all the carols that came to his notice. The first printed collection of carols came from the press of Wynkyn de Worde in 1521. A unique fragment of it is extant, containing the famous "Boar's Head Carol," which is still sung at Queen's College, Oxford, on Christmas Day.

Another collection, of which only a fragment has come down, printed by Richard Kele, appeared about 1550. In Ravenscroft's Melismata (1611) is found the carol, "Remember O Thou Man" with musical accompaniment; and there are well-known carols of a somewhat later date among the Roxburghe Ballads.

Besides the sacred carols that were sung in the open air there were jovial carols that were sung at Christmas feasts. A small black letter collection of these pieces were published in 1642, another in 1651, and another is undated, and a fourth appeared in 1688. These collections, which are of the highest rarity, contain curious specimens of songs that were sung by shepherds and ploughmen at Christmas in farm houses.

The Puritans did their best to discourage carol singing; but the practice revived at the Restoration, and continued throughout the 18th century. Hone, writing early in the nineteenth century, predicted that in the course of a few years Christmas carols would be heard no more. His prediction has not been fulfilled; but for some time past it has been a growing practice to sing carols in churches instead of an open air, and the quaint carols of old days are in consequence falling out of remembrance.

I Know

I know the angels still keep guard,
Above the world, yet it is hard
To hear their song above the sound
Of homeless people all around,
And War that spills its fev-ered breath,

Above the crimson aisles of Death.

I know the promise long since given
By herald angels sent from heaven
Seems far away this Christmas tide,
For War's red fingers reaching wide
Clutch at my heart and dim my sight,
Of angels on this holy night.
And yet, deeper than sight or hearing,
Beyond all reasoning or fearing—
Is the sure knowledge come what may
There shall be born a better day,
And Christmas bells above the snow,
Shall ring for Peace—I know—I know.

HOLIDAY HOSTESS HINTS

A large festive cake will confer upon any Christmas banquet a Yuletide air that is quite distinctive. Individual cakes help, too.

When carving turkey, first cut through the leg, crack the joint, and then disjoin the leg from the turkey. Cut the breast in medium thick slices, not in chunks. Use a sharp knife.

Turnips make an excellent garnish. Cook until tender, cool and scoop out the insides. Spread with butter and fill with cubed, seasoned beef. Reheat and surround the fowl platter.

If you spill pumpkin filling over the edge of the crust it is likely to burn during baking. Avoid this by pouring only part of the filling into the crust, put it in the oven, then pour the balance of the filling.

Christmas Superstitions

There is a Scottish belief that to be born on Christmas is to have the power to see spirits and even to command them. Sir Walter Scott says that the Spaniards attributed the haggard and downcast looks of Phillip II to the terrible visions he was able to see because he was born on Christmas.

French peasants believe that babies born on Christmas have the gift of prophecy.

In Silesia a baby born on Christmas will either become a lawyer or a thief.

In middle Europe it is said that if a baby is born at sermon time Christmas eve, someone in the house will die within the year.

English mothers used to take sick babies to the door Christmas eve midnight. Mary was expected to pass with the Christ Child. If the baby recovered, it was a sign that it had been touched by Christ, with healing fingers, and if it died, the Christ Child had called the baby to be His playmate in heaven.

Make Use Of Old Nails

If consumers when purchasing nails would turn in an equal poundage of scrap metal, as must be done now with collapsible metal tubes, it would make a hundred thousand tons of metal available for war production, according to a statement from National Salvage Headquarters at Ottawa.

The increase in the annual consumption of nails from the peacetime level of one and a half million kegs results from the packing of war supplies in wooden cases, building of wartime houses, aid erection of temporary storage for the greatest grain crop in the country's history. The Steel Controller suggests the use of old nails where possible in order to reduce the amount of steel needed to make new nails.

OBITUARY

Camille LeBlanc
Camille LeBlanc, died at his home in Concession, on Sunday, December 13, at the age of 38. He leaves to mourn their loss beside his wife and three small children, his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles LeBlanc, also of Concession, three brothers, Rev. A. LeBlanc, parish priest at Com-eau's Hill, Leance and Fred in the United States, and one sister, Grace, Mrs. Pius Comeau, of Concession. Mr. LeBlanc was well liked by every one and although in very poor health for the last several months continued to greet his friends with the same cheerfulness that had always been so characteristic of him.

Mrs. Mandé Dugas
At Meteghan on Saturday, December 12, Mrs. Mandé Dugas aged 88 years, passed away at her residence after several years illness, leaving two step-daughters, Mrs. Guilanthe Pothier, with whom she was living, and Mrs. John Thibault, of Lynn, Mass., Her husband predeceased her a few years ago. She was formerly Monique Robichaud, the last surviving member of the family of the late Basil A. Robichaud. She was an aunt of the late Rev. J. M. Deveau, former pastor of Meteghan; the grand aunt of Rev. Father Jules Comeau, C. J.M., of Montreal. Funeral service took place Monday morning, December 14 at 8:30 in the Stella Maris church, conducted by Right Rev. Mgr. Bourneuf, D.P., F.V., pastor. The ladies of St. Ann's Sod-ality, of which she was a member, attended in a body. She belonged also to the Association of the Way of the Cross. Mrs. Jos. S. LeBlanc was at the organ, Arthur Robichaud and A. F. Haché attended at the choir. E. P. Deveau had charge of the funeral. Albert Robichaud, Fred Aymar, Mande Pothier and James Saulnier, all nephews of the deceased, were pall-bearers.

Louis H. Comeau, our fish dealer, has been ill in bed with a throat infection for several weeks; also Edmund Comeau, lumber dealer and manufacturer.

News received from Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Comeau, Plattsburg, N.Y., said that they were delighted with the visit they had lately from Rev. Father J. E. LeBlanc, pastor of St. Bernard, Clare, whom they knew so well.

George Lefebvre and Rogers Beandry, employed by the Whittly Electric Co., in the Shipbuilding firm here, left Monday for Montreal to spend the Christmas holidays with their parents, also Mrs. J. P. Deziel.

We extend our best wishes for a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to the Wallis Print, Digby Courier and staff.

Restrictions On Jewelry

Drastic restrictions on the manufacture of jewelry and flatware were announced in an order issued by Herman H. Levy, administrator of jewel-ry for the Prices Board.

The order, effective Dec. 10, provides that no costume jewel-ry is to be made other than pendants, chokers, bracelets, ear rings or brooches. Sterling silver and silverplated toilet ware will be confined to comb brushes and mirrors.

After Dec. 31, sterling or plated knives and forks of Canadian manufacture will come in one size only, spoons in three, the board announce-ment said. Each manufact-urer of plated flatware is re-stricted to not more than two designs.

The order affects many luxury ornamental articles. No gold, silver or plat-inum is to be used in the manufacture of such things as presentations trowels, war-den's chains of office, baby pins, buttons for officer's uni-forms or convention badges.

THE SEASON'S CHEER TO EVERYBODY!

A new season has come . . . and as we stand upon the brink, it is pleasant to think of friendly relations that have be-come mellow with the passing years . . . and there is a feeling of assurance that these relations shall continue as in the past . . . and that new friends will join the circle.

We hope for peace on earth and abund-ant happiness to one and all.

MARRIAGES

Cribbey - Tyndall

The Deep Brook United Baptist Church was a pretty setting Wednesday evening, Dec. 23, for the marriage of Miss Emma Jean Tyndall, and Vernon Morris Cribbey, which was solemnized by the pastor, Rev. T. F. McWilliam, at 8 o'clock.

The organist, Mrs. Eric Adams, played the traditional wedding marches, and during the signing of the register rendered other appropriate music. The bride wore a powder blue ensemble with navy accessories and carried a beautiful bouquet of Dame Edith Helen roses. Her attendant was Mrs. Kenneth Fraser. The ceremony was performed beneath an arch of green and white, while the church generally was decorated in keeping with the Christmas season. After a short trip the young couple will reside in Deep Brook, where the groom is on the staff of the Dominion Construction Co. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Tyndall, Senlac, Sask., and the groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Cribbey, Hamilton, Ontario, and although no relatives of either party were able to be present, many new-made friends of the village attended to witness the ceremony, and extend best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Cribbey, who are to become residents of the community for an indefinite time.

Butterworth - Vincent

A very pretty and quiet wedding took place at 8 o'clock Wednesday evening on December 16, in the Baptist parsonage, Digby, when Rev. M. C. Munn united in marriage Hughina Dorothy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Vincent, Acaciaville, to Leading Aircraftman Alfred Butterworth, of the Royal Air Force, Yarmouth, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Butterworth, Derby, England. The bride wore a pale blue crepe, trimmed with white lace medallions and carried a Bible. Those present were Leading Aircraftman Bob Harvey, and Aircraftman Jock Neish, and Larry Manzi, all of the R.A.F., Yarmouth.

Garland - Snow

A quiet wedding was solemnized in Halifax at 4 p.m. December 24, by Rev. E. D. Murray, of Miss Ethelyn Gladys Snow, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Wm. Snow, of Digby, and Gnr. Harold Garland, of Albert, N.B. Mrs. James Burgess, sister of the bride, was matron-of-honor, and James Burgess was best man. The bride looked lovely in a turquoise blue dress with shoulder spray of chrysanthemums and maiden hair fern, with matching accessories. After luncheon they left Halifax for a visit through the valley towns arriving in Digby to spend a short while with the bride's parents before returning to Halifax, where the bride will continue teaching at Edgewood School.

Marshall - Abramson

A wedding of much interest took place at the Grace United Church Saturday evening, Dec. 26 at 8 o'clock, when Nora Gwendolyn, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Abramson, became the bride of Donald Vernon Marshall, son of Mrs. V. C. Marshall and the late Mr. Marshall, of Marshalltown. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of the wedding march, played by Mrs. Margaret Appleby, church organist, and was attired in a street length dress of soldier blue with navy accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations. Dr. T. W. Hodgson, pastor, performed the ceremony. The bride was attended by Miss Phyllis King, who wore a gold colored dress with black accessories

A New Year

ONE YEAR CLOSER TO VICTORY

St. Ann's College Brief Vacation

Christmas holidays at St. Ann's College are of five day duration this year, due to the transportation difficulty for most of their students. The majority of the boys were unable to go home for their holidays and are spending them at the college or with friends in the parish. Holidays began Wednesday, Dec. 23rd. It was customary to have three weeks Christmas holidays in former years. Americans, Cape Bretoners, and those from some Quebec areas would not have been able to get transportation to their homes and since they were the majority of students enrolled, a shorter holiday was made.

and a corsage of pink and white carnations. The best man was Louis E. Wilson and the ushers were George Sim, of Halifax, and Eldred Frost.

Mrs. Abramson mother of the bride was attired in moss green with black accessories and a corsage of yellow and white baby mums. Mrs. Marshall, mother of the groom, was attired in black velvet with black accessories and a corsage of mauve and yellow mums. During the signing of the register Robert Taylor, of Smith's Cove, sang "O Promise Me" accompanied by Miss Ena Robinson at the organ. The reception was held at the home of the bride to about forty guests. Mrs. Roderick A. Abramson, grandmother of the bride, presided at the bride's table, which was decorated with a three-tier wedding cake, silver candlesticks with tall red tapers. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall leave today for New Glasgow, where they will reside. The bride has been on the staff of the Royal Department store for several years and was given a shower by the staff at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Webber and received many lovely gifts. Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. George Sim, Halifax; Mrs. Roderick W. Abramson, Little River, and Miss Hazel Clarkson, Saint John.

New Year Resolve

Now I'll set my house in order—
Pick up the broken dreams,
Clean out all the dust of envy,
Let in the sun's bright beams;
And hang new pictures on the wall
Where once were woe and sin,
Then throw the door wide open
And say to God, "Come in!"
—Letitia Penprase

Staple in Heart of Tree

In splitting wood at his home, Gene Thibault, found a staple in the core of the piece of wood he was cutting. What is odd about this, is, that the staple was apparently driven into the tree when it was very young and in some way the tree grew around it, leaving it where it was originally driven, with no visible trace of how it got to its present position. There are no holes and it seems that the wood grew around this staple altogether, sealing it in the heart of the tree.

Marshalltown

Mr. and Mrs. George Sim, Halifax, spent the Christmas season with the latter's mother, Mrs. T. H. Marshall.

Miss Alma MacNeill, Kingston, spent Christmas with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Byron MacNeill.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd MacNeill and son Larry were Christmas visitors of Mrs. Martha Denton, Little River.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tupper and family, of Bear River East, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Bell on Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Marshall and family spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Hiltz, Smith's Cove.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Marshall, newly-weds, visited the former's mother, Mrs. L. H. Marshall, before going to New Glasgow to take up residence. Mrs. T. Snyder spent

Good Cheer Reigns On Christmas

Good cheer reigned in Digby on Christmas Day—turkey, goose and chicken dinners were in order. In many homes the day was marked by Christmas tree celebrations and family reunions.

Christmas services in the churches were well attended.

Santa Claus made his annual rounds bringing happiness to hundreds of little children, who were "up and at it" bright and early Christmas morning. Family trees were full of useful gifts—"luxury" gifts were scarce this year—but it was a Merry Christmas for all.

Christmas with friends in Bear River.

Miss Mary Marshall, Deep Brook, was a recent guest of Miss Irene Marshall and Mrs. Maye O'Neill.

The school, under the leadership of the teacher, Mrs. T. H. Marshall, presented a very interesting entertainment in the school house on Tuesday evening last.

Mount Pleasant

Chester Handsaker, of Windsor, spent the past two weeks with his mother, Mrs. Minnie Handsaker, at the home of John O'Neill.

William O'Neill has returned from the Digby General Hospital where he underwent an emergency operation for appendicitis.

Among the "boys in khaki" who spent Christmas leave at their homes here were: Kenneth VanTassel, Clifford Mullen, Allison Outhouse, Clyde Stark, Earl and Cecil VanTassel.

Rev. Father Edward O'Flaherty, of Halifax, spent Christmas with his aunt, Mrs. James Teed.

Louis Daley, of New Glasgow, spent last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Daley.

Miss Audrey VanTassel, of Truro, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Orbin VanTassel.

Claude Morrell went to Halifax on Saturday, where he has joined the ranks.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Elmer L. Gidney

The community of Sandy Cove has been greatly saddened by the sudden passing of Violet Elizabeth, wife of Elmer L. Gidney, at the age of 49 years. She was the daughter of Harry and the late Adelaide Jensen. Although she had been confined to her bed for the past year and had spent several months at the Kentville Sanatorium, her passing was sudden and she bore her illness with fortitude. Besides her husband she leaves to mourn, three daughters, Clara (Mrs. Austin Morehouse) who cared for her during her illness; Hazel and Jean, all at home; one son, Gnr. Earle, of the Royal Canadian Artillery, serving with the Canadian forces somewhere in England; her father, Harry Jensen, also of Sandy Cove. The funeral service was held from the Zion United Church, conducted by the Rev. R. H. Barker, assisted by Rev. Byron Cobham, of the United Baptist Church. Interment was in the Zion United Cemetery.

Mrs. A. E. Atlee

Mrs. Sarah Margaret Atlee, 72, wife of A. E. Atlee, died at Annapolis Royal early Sunday morning. Mrs. Atlee, who had been in her usual health on Christmas Day, was stricken with cerebral hemorrhage Saturday morning, from which she never regained consciousness. Surviving are her husband; Dr. H. B. Atlee, Halifax, and a daughter, Mrs. Robert Sproule, Wolfville. She was born at Pictou and had been a resident of Annapolis Royal for the past fifty years.

Mrs. Clifford J. Beaton

Mrs. Nettie A., wife of Clifford J. Beaton, 310 Spring Garden Road, Halifax, died Saturday morning in the Halifax Infirmary. She had been in failing health for some time, her condition taking a turn for the worse a few weeks ago. She was a devotee of Roman Catholic and a member of St. Mary's Parish where she was a Child of Mary, and was greatly interested in the work of the Church. Before going to Halifax, she was organist in St. Patrick's Church, Digby, for many years. Surviving are her husband, an employee of the Canadian Customs, stationed at Halifax; two sons, Robert and Richard, both at home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Michael MacKinnon, Digby; two sisters, Addie (Mrs. Thomas Deveau), Digby, and Sadie (Mrs. Jack Culbert), St. George, N. B.; and one brother, Cpl. Joseph MacKinnon, now with the Canadian Army overseas. Funeral services took place from St. Patrick's Church, Digby, Tuesday morning.

Mrs. Abraham Walker

The death of Mrs. Abraham Walker, occurred at her home in Little River on Tuesday, December 15, at the age of 58. Although she had been in poor health during the past year, her passing was unexpected. A short funeral service was conducted by her pastor, Rev. Byron Cobham, of the Baptist Church, of which she was a member, on Wednesday afternoon, Dec. 16th, at the home. Mrs. Cobham and Mrs. Otto Frost sang her favorite hymn, "Under His Wings." The remains were taken to Tiverton and buried in the family lot on Thursday afternoon.

The Victory Club (office staff of H. T. Warne Ltd.) met with Mrs. Dorothy Miller on Tuesday evening.

About This and That

Tonight we close the pages of another year of history. From the standpoint of months, weeks, and days we finish the volume of 1942 at midnight, although many of its historic three hundred and sixty-five pages will live forever in the hearts and minds of men.

The book of 1942 has not been altogether pleasant reading, although perhaps a little brighter than the pages of the preceding volumes of 1941 and 1940. Its pages have reeked with blood; they have cried out with the pain and agonies of the peoples of this war-weary world; they were told of disaster after disaster; they have retold time and time again the ancient story of man's inhumanity to man.

To many in our own land the pages of 1942 have brought heartbreaking news to the loved ones of those who have given their all that we might be free.

Yet, these same pages have brought their message of hope, inspiration and encouragement; we have learned that even though we are a year deeper in war, we are also a year nearer the peace, a peace that will be based on a just and stable principles.

Let us close the book of 1942 with a humble prayer asking His forgiveness for the many omissions of which, we as a nation, should feel ashamed; let us thank Him for bringing us safely through this year without experiencing the real horrors and the real discomforts of war; let us ask in all sincerity for His help in bringing victory to our arms in the year that is now ahead of us.

With the tide of conflict turning against him, with Germany now on the defensive instead of the offensive, Adolf Hitler can be expected to put out peace feelers soon after the first of the year. Signs of such a move are already apparent in certain quarters.

The best that Hitler can hope for now is a stalemate. His dream of world conquest has disappeared. To make the best of this new situation, the nazi leader may be expected to flood the world with peace proposals, not so much in the expectation they will be accepted, but in the hope of creating dissension among the United Nations by spread-doubt as to the advisability of continuing the war effort to a definite finish.

We know well Hitler's capacity for trickery and deception. He is merely seeking a breathing spell for Germany to recuperate. So when the nazi leader suggests a settlement, let our one and only answer be delivered in the form of bullets, bombs, and bayonets. We must not even think of compromising with Hitler. We must utterly destroy him and everything he represents.

Nova Scotians Help Keep Canadian Planes Flying

The attachment between a pilot and his ground crew is something no one but an airman or a groundman can properly understand. But if you could see a groundman watching an incoming plane through field glasses to see whether the guns had been fired or if you could see a crew swarming over a plane the second it was braked to a stop, helping the pilot out, slapping his back, asking questions, and working at top speed to put the aircraft back into immediate fighting trim, you could understand part of this bond.

You may wonder how a groundman can determine whether guns have been fired and why he wants to know. Here is how: over the muzzle of each cannon a light-colored rubber or fibre cap is placed, and over the wing-machine-gun fires the ground aperture through which each crew tapes a white fabric patch. These are shot away when the planes open fire. With practice it's quite simple to see this from the ground.

And here is why: when the caps and patches are shot away, it means the plane has been in action. To the groundmen that means that the pilot, whom they consider their personal representative on the firing line, has been in action. Indirectly, it means that the groundmen themselves have been into the fight. They want to find out what score their team made in that action—a destroyed, a probable, or damaged, or even a miss. And it gives them a few extra seconds to rush out with ammunition to make ready for another fight.

A group of armorers sitting in another part of the hut gave practically the same opinion. They came from many parts of Canada and included Cpl. Bill Flemming, Shelburne. There were several other groundmen a few feet away, playing knock rummy and tossing a few words into the conversation occasionally as they whiled away a few minutes before going back to work. They included L.A.C. Jim MacDonald, Sydney, and L.A.C. Arthur Isles, Bear River.

Police are investigating a break into the Nova Scotia Liquor Commission store at Digby, which occurred over the week end. Entrance was apparently gained through a window on the beach side of the building. Liquor valued at approximately $100 was stolen.

In these days when economy must be practised in the house to conserve warmth or heat, it is a wise suggestion to pull down the window shades or pull the heavy draperies across the windows when the sun sets since this will tend to keep the available heat from being affected adversely by the cold on the windows.

The 1943 calendars are making their appearance. An interesting fact in this connection is the date of Easter for the coming year, April 25. This is the latest date in which Easter may be observed, and 1943, the only year in the 20th century when it will occur on that date. The date of Easter is governed by the phases of the moon, and may fall between (or on) the dates of March 22 and April 25.

The following is an item our Freeport correspondent evidently overlooked. We copy it from the Yarmouth Light: For a small community, the residents of Freeport have been doing extra well in the matter of gathering scrap material for war purposes. The shipments are sent to Saint John by the steamer Keith Cann and besides other material one shipment alone included 5780 pounds of steel, 515 pounds of old rubber boots and 440 pounds auto tires. The school children were responsible in gathering up the bulk of the material which brought a letter from the chairman of the Saint John Salvage Committee, the letter being received by Dr. A. F. The hills of Bear River are a great temptation to young people when coasting is good, but with motor cars and trucks moving about all the time, there is great danger to the coasters, the drivers and especially to pedestrians. Last Thursday Donald Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brown, while standing in the square, was struck by a sled and thrown heavily to the road.

STREET OR R.R. PROV.

A NEW, NEW ORDER

We would like to make a motion that mankind revert to the use of hands as well as feet in moving himself about. This new course should be undertaken without delay, possibly under some appealing slogan such as Back to All Fours. Our conclusion has been reached after long study from the office window of citizens passing on the street. Mankind in his present erect position is quite an impractical thing. His centre of gravity is too high. Either still or in motion he must maintain his perpendicularity by a very delicate balancing process which is subject to weaknesses.

Naturally mankind cannot be expected to accept this new stance without some clear advantages it offers, but they are manifold and shall be thoroughly explained. There is for instance, the obviously wasteful practice of using only two of our four limbs for walking. By getting down on all fours, man immediately puts two more agencies of propulsion to work, giving him the possibility of developing double speed. Witness how most of the four-legged animals travel faster than man—few men eager to become involved in a race with him. Travels at a clip which makes even the bulky rhinoceros then there is the sharing of energy between four rather than two limbs, promising a double effective life expectancy for the four limbs as a unit.

As we walk today a man's hands are next to useless; they are pressed into service for eating, drinking, filling out government forms, lighting cigarettes and tipping hats to ladies, all of which duties could be equally well shared between the four extensions, with a little training. For it should be axiomatic that if our arms can be taught to carry us, our legs can be taught to assume some of the much lighter tasks now assigned solely to the arms. And this conception opens up great fields of endeavor. Imagine, for instance, what Beethoven could have done if he had learned to use his toes as well as his fingers in the creation of the symphonic splendor.

The more thought we give the subject, the more is practical values become obvious. Take for instance the matter of space saving and housing shortage. Man's present vertical condition is completely wasteful of space—except possibly in crowded street cars. And of what consideration is the latter when measured against the present waste, in, let us say, the height of buildings. Mankind on all fours would mean rooms and offices would not extend upwards beyond five or six feet, with a similar restriction in the height of buildings and a consequent saving of roughly half of the building materials that have gone into the structures that make up the wasteful world as we know it today.

There are scores, or hundreds of other adequate reasons—all thoroughly substantiated by theoretical proof. We feel sure this is what mankind needs, whether he knows it or not.

There are those who will jeer; there are those who will doubt. But we will accept the jeers and the doubts. We have a cause. There is no reason why we should not attempt to lead the world into Utopia on All Fours; it is no more impractical than many another theory being preached today. The Socialists, for instance, would have man go back to the rigid-economy system of the sixteenth century. Come with us and return to our ancestors in the trees!—The Printed Word.

A Shell in His Leg

(The London Daily Mail)

A live Messerschmitt cannon shell, weighing 2 pounds, was founded embedded in the thigh of the air-raid casualty at the Royal Sussex County Hospital, Brighton.

What was to be done? This is the answer, as it was told by Dr. Donald Hall, Brighton surgeon and chairman of the hospital.

"If the shell exploded, at best the man's thigh must be shattered and he must lose his limb and very likely his life.

"If it exploded during the operation for its extraction, there was a great risk to the surgeon and everyone in the operating theatre.

"Yet there was no hesitation on the part of the surgeon, his assistant, the anaesthetist or the nurse. Swiftly and successfully that surgeon of ours performed the most delicate and dangerous operation of his career.

"The patient, who had been hit in a recent bombing raid, was a young navy officer. He was brought two miles in an ambulance to the hospital with this live shell in his body.

"We put him under X-ray, located the shell, and decided to operate knowing full well that it might explode at any moment.

"With nurses and anaesthetist standing by, the surgeon began his delicate task. Gradually he worked around the base of the shell, and then came the really tricky part of the operation.

"In its position the shell required considerable force to extract. We knew that the slightest thing might cause it to explode, thus shattering the patient's thigh, if nothing worse, and possibly blinding those around the table.

"Skillfully the surgeon pulled on the shell, and finally, he got it out.

"We were thrilled and forgot the danger. The naval officer is now progressing favorably."

While the operation was in progress the bomb disposal squad had been warned, and stood by to take the shell away directly it was removed. A colleague of the naval officer, standing by him while the raid was going on, was killed instantly by a similar shell which blew off his leg. A Messerschmitt shell is about five inches long.

Quantity of Soap Remains On Market

Munitions factories need glycerine which is a by-product of soap so in spite of all rumors there will be plenty of soap on the market for many months to come, according to Consumer Information Service, Ottawa.

Not only will there be plenty of soap, but owing to an order passed by the Fats and Oils Administrator of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board manufacturers must in future state clearly on containers the packed weight of all soap.

Although housewives may sometimes find their box of soapflakes not quite full this will only be due to packing and drying in the course of shipment. The correct quantity of soap will have been filled into the box in the factory in accordance with government regulations. It has also been ruled that the weight of bars of toilet and laundry soap must not be changed and that the quality must be maintained.

Respectable Competition

Two men in a certain town were competitors, each one owning and operating a laundry. One laundry did a far more extensive business than the other, enjoyed greater material success and prestige, yet so far as integrity, sincerity, and general demeanor were concerned the two proprietors were about on a par. Possibly the man with the larger business possessed more capacity than the owner of the smaller establishment, but that is beside the point.

The man with the smaller business became ill, and a surgeon advised an operation, with hospitalization that might consume several weeks, perhaps months. The ill man worried, and wondered what would become of his business. Learning of his competitor's plight, the other laundryman visited him and asked him what he intended to do with his business during his protracted absence. The latter replied that he did not know, that he was beside himself with distraction. The competitor suggested that he himself would take over the other's business while that one was in the hospital and until he could return to work.

Tears flooded the eyes of the unfortunate one as he said, "But you are my competitor." "Competitor?" said the big brother in spirit, "but we are still friends, and we can maintain our dignity and a high standard of ethics. Forget about your business, and get well." The other accepted the proposition, had his operation, his long term in the hospital, and came back to his business, which was intact.

Here was the spirit which is universally exemplified, would put to flight a hundred social wrongs and injustices. It would bridge the chasm between opposing forces ever battling for supremacy in the industrial world. It would heal the heartache of the world. It would destroy cut-throat competition. It would stay the mad antics of the reformer, whose motives are good but whose judgement is warped. It would bring into our beloved land a new sense of freedom, a new regard for the unwritten law, for order and decorum, because every person would feel a deep personal obligation toward others. The doctrine of the "survival of the fittest" would give way to the doctrine of "the survival of the unselfish," for they are the best on earth, and they are the ones who will survive.

The Dame of Sark

The daring Commando raid on the island of Sark reminds one that the Dame of Sark, Mrs. Sybil Mary Hathaway, occupies a unique position in the British Commonwealth of Nations. She exercises over the island greater executive and legislative powers than any single person holds in any other part of the Empire.

She succeeded her father as ruler of the island in 1927 and the picturesque description of her then as the "Uncrowned Queen of Sark" was hardly an exaggeration. A woman of independent spirit, she was careful at all times to preserve the traditions of her little domain. Thus, by her ruling, motor cars were not allowed to be imported to the island.

Sark before the war was one of the most beautiful holiday resorts in the British Isles. It was popular with the British holiday-makers because, its atmosphere was French, it was still on British soil and passports were unnecessary. The local dialect of the island is a relic of Norman-French times.

Egg Production Is Urged

It will pay to produce all the eggs possible during the year 1943, according to information given out by Manning Ells of Cyrus and Manning Ells, Port Williams.

Mr. Ells, in viewing his 1942 production, and looking ahead to 1943, states: "Price figures for eggs sold in 1942 by the marketing organization conducted by the Cyrus and Manning Ells pool were the most favorable since the pool was started. Eggs handled were in excess of 300,000 dozen the greatest volume to date. The average net price at the farm, all marketing expenses paid, was 35 cents a dozen. This compares with 29 cents in 1941 and 24.6 cents for the five years previous."

"Feed prices have increased very little during the past two years owing to freight bonuses, so the relation of feed prices to egg prices is now the most favorable in the history of poultry keeping in Nova Scotia."

He concludes: "As no great increase in production of eggs is likely in 1943, and the demand will be keen, it will be not only patriotic but it will be profitable to produce all the eggs possible during the coming year."

Sheep Population Increasing

The sheep population of Nova Scotia is increasing. Statistics released by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics place the total number of sheep in the province on June 1942 at 149,000—an increase of 10,000 over the June 1941 figures. The total will probably show a still greater increase when the June 1943 figures are released as the number of ewes being kept on Nova Scotia farms this winter is up from 20 to 25 per cent over the number wintered last season. F. W. Walsh, Director of Marketing, N.S. Dept. of Agriculture, commenting on the situation reports a real increased interest in sheep husbandry with a growing desire on the part of producers to take better care of their sheep both in feeding and management.

The honor for first place in 1941-42 increased sheep population goes to Antigonish with a jump of 5380. Inverness was a close second with Richmond and Lunenburg occupying third and fourth positions. Digby County showed a falling off, the number in 1941 being 2830 and in 1942, 2760.

Saves 7,000 lbs. Clover Seed

Two years ago was the first year that a fair volume of clover seed has been harvested in Annapolis County, at which time 5,000 lbs. of seed was saved.

This is threshed with a grain thresher equipped with a clover hulling concave and grass seed cleaning attachment. No clover seed was saved in 1941, but this season there was a fairly good growth of second-crop clover and over 7,000 lbs. of seed was saved. This will practically all be recleaned at the seed recleaning centre and will provide a profitable crop for the owners, as well as an excellent source of seed for themselves or anyone else who may purchase it. Two or three acres ran as high as 200 lbs. per acre, but 100 lbs. per acre is the usual crop. It is interesting to note that the farmers harvesting the most clover seed are also using limestone.

Working On Co-operative Basis

Members of the Guysboro Poultry Club are doing business on a co-operative basis with the result there is reported a real stimulus in the poultry industry in many sections of the county. Recently an incubator was bought on a co-operative basis, shares selling at five dollars each. These were bought by members of Guysboro, Guysboro Intervale, Roachvale, Erinville and Manchester. Shortly after purchase the belief was expressed by J. MacNeil, county agricultural representative, that the capacity of the machine would be booked within a few weeks. The club plans to build a plucking machine, carry a line of poultry feeds, and to make itself the centre of the poultry industry of the county. The amount of dressed poultry shipped out of the county this year exceeded that of last year by about 25 per cent.

Acute Shortage Relieved

The acute egg shortage that has existed in the province the past two months was slightly relieved, as far as Halifax district was concerned, with the pre-Christmas arrival of a few carloads from Western Ontario, which were put on the market at ceiling prices. This part of Ontario, stated C. M. MacMillan, Federal Poultry Products Inspector, is the only part of Canada where eggs are being produced in excess of local demands and all exportable eggs there are being picked up as fast as they are laid. Mr. MacMillan, while not predicting an easy egg market in Nova Scotia till the middle of January, believes the situation from now on will be somewhat easier than it has been.

Royal Bank Figures Reach New High

Total Assets at Record Level of $1,291,615,947—Public Deposits Top Billion Dollar Mark—Current Loans Temporarily Higher—Liquid Position Very Strong—Profits Slightly Reduced.

The steadily mounting tempo of Canadian business is strikingly reflected in the Annual Balance Sheet just issued by the Royal Bank of Canada for the year ending November 30th.

Total assets are well over the billion dollar mark and now stand at $1,291,615,947, the highest point ever reached in the history of the bank.

Deposits by the public, topping the billion dollar mark, have likewise reached an all-time high. The liquid position has been still further strengthened with quickly realizable assets representing 75.44% of the bank's liabilities to the public. From point of view of aggregate assets and liquidity this year's statement is the most impressive ever issued by the bank.

Profits for the year show moderate contraction due to increased Dominion Government taxes, higher operating costs and the fact that comparatively low yields are being obtained on the substantial sums invested in Government bonds.

Total assets have increased by more than $216,000,000 over the figure attained the previous year. Liquid assets show marked expansion and aggregate $906,440,239 as compared with $681,918,309 a year ago. Liquid assets include Dominion and Provincial Government securities, $519,801,345 as compared with $371,231,959 the previous year; United States and British Government securities, $46,029,701 as compared with the previous total of $6,912,050, while cash on hand and deposits with the Bank of Canada, other cash items and bank balances are $261,884,475 up $27,805,766.

Current loans in Canada stand at $255,148,401, an increase of $13,365,000. It is understood advances made by the bank to assist purchasers of the recent Victory Bond issue account for this increase and that ordinary commercial borrowings are somewhat lower. The explanation is that activities of many businesses have been diverted to war production, resulting in rapid turn-over and prompt settlement of accounts; furthermore, inventories are, generally speaking, lower. As a consequence many concerns find it unnecessary to borrow from the banks.

Current loans outside Canada are down by slightly over $16,000,000. Total deposits are higher by $225,000,000 and now stand at $1,181,217,192. Dominion Government deposits at $144,192,823 are substantially higher and this is attributed to the Government depositing with the banks the proceeds of the recent Victory Loan. It is interesting to note that despite substantial withdrawals by the public for the purchase of Victory Bonds, public deposits (excluding Government deposits) have increased from $902,152,676 to $1,002,567,405.

After providing for Dominion Government taxes amounting to $2,014,166, and making appropriations for bad and doubtful debts, profits for the year amounted to $3,390,123 which represents a slight reduction as compared with the previous year's figures. From these profits dividends amounting to $2,625,000 were paid, $315,000 appropriated for the Pension Fund and $400,000 for Bank Premises. The sum of $50,123 was carried forward to the balance of Profit and Loss Account which now stands at $3,259,198.

The Annual General Meeting of Shareholders will be held at the Head Office of the bank at 11 a.m. on January 14, 1943.
