

THE DIGBY COURIER

CENTENNIAL EDITION

SEPTEMBER 18, 1974

Welcome to the Digital DIGBY COURIER

100th Birthday

The hundredth anniversary of the Digby Weekly Courier has brought to mind some fond memories as contained in the following historical chapter of the writer. But first, I wish to congratulate the current editor of the Courier, Mrs. J.M. (Edith) Wallis, for a job well done over the years and still being well done, good service rendered with great fortitude.

According to any record, I have at hand, the Digby Courier, in one hundred years of publication, was controlled under the same family management for 42 years, 1931 to 1973, under the control of Wallis Print Limited. The late J.J. Wallis became editor of the Courier the second time, in 1929, and at the same time of the business, which he had been running for some years previously and which became Wallis Print Limited sometime between 1929 and 1931.

I well remember the last year of the twenties when I worked in the office of the son with the husband and father of the late J.J. Wallis, the Courier. Sometime in 1928 or early 1929, the late J.M. Wallis (Mac), son of "J.J." engaged me to work every day after school hours, Saturdays, and for some months after full time. The place of work was in the building of the present Digby town hall on First Avenue. J.J. Wallis then worked occasionally at the print shop but mostly across the street at the Courier office which was then located on land in the general area where The Royal Bank of Canada is now.

Wallis Job Print operated in 1929 with a staff of four consisting of J.J. Wallis, J.M. Wallis, Miss Eva Haynes, who later became Mrs. George Kicup, and myself. I was in the staff in early 1929.

Eva's job was in the left up-stairs, "J.J." occasionally printing plant but mostly at the Courier office. "Mac" worked nearly full time at all the different jobs at the Job Print, and I worked at various duties, most of the time being spent at operating printing presses.

We worked ten-hour days, six days a week. "J.J." and "Mac" sometimes worked overtime. I worked only the regular hours being paid a weekly wage which was comparatively good for those times and my lack of experience. I received four or five dollars a week for working after school hours to six o'clock and on Saturday all day, and nine dollars a week for full weeks after finishing school. A two or three dollar a week raise was offered to me in the fall of 1929 for me to stay on at printing, but I had made up my mind to enter a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, starting salary of $300. The bank salary figured out about the same per hour as for the printing job. Nevertheless, the congenial atmosphere of the printing plant those days, and, experience however short, were helpful and appreciated by me.

"J.J." was very jovial in his occasional trip to the Job Print and did considerable kidding all in good fun. "Mac" was a witty person who mixed in a good natured sarcasm now and then for one reason or another. Eva most always had good answers to all the kidding she was called upon to take, and, generally held her own in a quiet sort of way, always busy setting type. We four all got along very well indeed. However, I do remember that some days did seem long and weary because of the monotony of some repetitious jobs.

In spite of the great demand for printing those last boom days of the twenties, business generally being brisk, it looked to me that people had to work long and hard to make any decent profit. There was including treatment of the hands. However, nails and finger ends were used and I was soon back to work.

Now and then a printing job had a dose on parchment paper which required a special kind of printers' ink which smelled very bad those days. I always dreaded it when "Mac" would do that job on the largest press, in spite of the fact that we always opened an outside door to lessen the effects on the constitution.

One of the jobs I had to do, being the junior and printers' devil on the staff, was to clean out and then, one day not long after I started my job at the printing plant, I decided to clean the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned in some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily, he thought the remark pretty good and suitable.

Sometimes the gasoline engine or a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and after "Mac" the fix-it man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results, "Mac" would then stand back and cuss quite strenuously, then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of cussing."

On other occasions when some gadget refused duty for me and, seemed to be broken, "Mac" would say, "use a little oil," and sure enough, often that is all it took. How often since, have I thought of the value of that remark and the actual need of "oil" in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and, in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the time I told "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring season of 1929 got together just before dark one evening and decided to initiate the newly built outdoor Pines Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just east of the pool; nobody else seemed to be around except the four boys; no thought or time for bathing suits up to the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in, the rest quickly followed and across the pool they swam. "Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Scouts Officially Open Pines Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the four? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Earl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars (second world and Korean), was awarded the Victoria Cross; Sidney L. Smith, now prominent druggist for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale lobster king merchant; and myself.

As a young teenager I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day "Mac" said to me "how about writing your version of the story told about 'The Marooning of Jerome'." I had heard and read at least two somewhat different stories about the man who was found marooned on a beach at some point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Digby County. When found this man's tongue had been cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Jerome" appeared to have been a man of some considerable social standing and possibly of some considerable wealth. However the only thing the man could or would ever say after being found and cared for by some family in the French shore was, something that sounded like the word "Jerome". He either could not, or, would not, write anything about who he was or why he was left the way he was. Well, it was, and is, one of Digby County's mystery stories, and, different ideas have been expressed over the years concerning this man. However my response to "Mac" was, I felt no urge to write anything more or different about this man. The mystery seemed to have been very well explored in the mind of many people, and, he was a sort of curiosity for many people who visited where he lived for many years.

Three years later, I was quite alone in the street that I lived back and forth, led a boat clanking noise, powered by a small engine, and a "plur", and as I remember it, it was a "plur". "J.J." was noted for his sense of humor and his sense of humor.

Years and experiences with. The last time I saw him of personal interest, was after one day when he sent and talked with him was, after one day when he had and he wanted me to visit him at his home. He had been recently returned from the Bonaventure after a week's absence. I made the visit and stayed for a few days and experienced a very strong

Digby 172 Years Ago

Compiled by David Sanford

From the files of the Courier of January 23, 1867, the following account has been copied concerning Digby in 1800.

"Among a number of old newspapers kindly sent to us by friends is a copy of the Saint John Gazette of May, 1802, says the Telegraph and among other advertisements contained in the issue before us is one describing the town and township of Digby, and offering for sale certain lots in the town. In this area we are told the township of Digby extends from the Gulf of Annapolis westward to the extremity of the province of Nova Scotia, and contains about 130,000 acres." The town plot is thus described:

"The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Basin, and twenty miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles across land from the head of St. Mary's Bay. This laid out from the water's edge, partly on level ground and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having with an eastern aspect, a view of the Annapolis Basin and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in where it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth of that name. It was settled by Loyalists from New York in 1783, the most of whom went early to farms, or, moving to older countries, left the whole side to be bought proved by about who now reside detached, built dwellings with orchards, and some fishery and. It has communal parts of the communal provisions in a cheap, built readily to be from many circumstances, probability of place of some shipbuilding, the West India a cheap and of residence. This advertised at the December, 1802, were to be a No. 100.

free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students one of which was "J.J.'s" daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Melvin O. Tibert, Freeport, Digby Co.) Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters; I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print". I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like: embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and trimming paper stock, mixing inks for certain desired colors, and so forth, but, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "pi", the printers name for a confused mess.

There was a taste of trying to sell job printing outside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried it, made several calls around town, spent most of the time at one particular house, and got an order, but,

Dr. E. W. Robinson, acting Inspector of High Schools for Nova Scotia, recently made his annual visit to Digby Academy.

There was a joint meeting of the Digby Local of the N.S. T.U., and the Teachers' Study Club in the Academy on March 27. The meeting was well attended by teachers from the town and district.

The Easter examinations will begin on Monday, April 5.

The sale of War Savings Stamps for the week March 19-26 amounted to $42.50. The total from stamps, certificates and bonds sold since September amounts to $1502.25.

The Cadets are again drilling out of doors.

Red Cross Drive Well Over Top

Up to yesterday the Red Cross drive for Digby County realized a total of $5892.88, which exceeds the county objective of $3,775 by nearly 30%.

Of this amount $2748.78 was raised by the Town of Digby and its auxiliaries and $3,144.10 by Red Cross branches and auxiliaries in other districts.

The report is not complete as there are still a number of collectors to turn in their reports.

Westport

Mr. and Mrs. George Welch, of New Glasgow, spent the week end with relatives here. Pte. Raymond Robicheau, who is stationed at Yarmouth, spent the week end with his parents.

Bernice Robicheau spent a few days last week in Yarmouth.

Lena McDormand, nurse-in-training at Halifax, is spending her vacation with her mother, Mrs. Harry McDormand.

Mr. and Mrs. Milledge Hicks arrived Saturday and returned to Halifax accompanied by Mrs. Bessie Hicks and Mrs. Roy Milberry.

Elsie McDormand, teacher at Riverdale, spent the week end with her mother, Mrs. H. McDormand.

Mr. and Mrs. Melbourne McDormand were passengers to Digby Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Morehouse have returned to Centreville, after visiting Mrs. Alice Garron.

OBITUARY

Harry E. VanTassell

The death of Harry E. (Jack) VanTassell, occurred Monday, March 22. He had been in poor health since November. For many years he was an employee of the streets and water department of the Town of Digby. He was 49 years of age and was a son of the late John L. VanTassell and is survived by six children; one brother, Edward of Saint John, and a sister, Mrs. Watson Adams (Lottie), of Yarmouth. Funeral service took place Wednesday afternoon from Ramsay's Funeral Parlors, Rev. F. B. Gaskill, rector of Trinity Church officiating.

Digby Going In for Athletics

A. J. Dillon was named president of the Digby Amateur Athletic Association, organized at a meeting held in the Court House Tuesday evening. The meeting was held under auspices of the Digby Board of Trade, and M. S. Leonard, president of the Board presided at the opening. Following the adoption of a resolution that the Association be organized, C. E. Eaton, supervisor of the Digby Schools, took over the chair in the absence of the newly elected president, who was unable to be present.

In calling the meeting to order, Mr. Leonard explained its purpose, stating a special committee of the Board of Trade had been working on the matter of establishing an athletic field as a means of helping to provide more adequate recreational facilities for the town. He urged the formation of the Digby Amateur Athletic Association as an organization separate and apart from the Board of Trade.

Other speakers were Rev. T. W. Hodgson, pastor of Grace United Church, who voiced his support of the movement. "Teach them to 'play the game' on the athletic fields, and they will 'play the game' through life", said Dr. Hodgson.

C. E. Eaton, one of the special committee, declared that although a few schools in the province had advanced in the field of athletics, on the whole, the province was 20 years behind the rest of Canada in this respect. He pointed out that at the present time there was no athletic field in Digby, no rink, and not even a proper school playground, and declared that for the past fifteen years Digby has played a very small part in the field of athletics—the last athlete of the Digby Academy to gain any prominence in sports was Dr. Earl Anderson. He pointed out there was now an opportunity for the committee to lease a portion of the old Digby Golf Links—a practically level field large enough to accommodate a baseball diamond, ½-mile track, football field and a hockey and curling rink.

Other speakers at the preliminary meeting were Rev. F. B. Gaskill, rector of Trinity Church, and Rev. Father Leo Murphy, rector of St. Patrick's Church. The motion that an association to be known as the Digby Amateur Athletic Association was moved by T. S. Matheson, and seconded by Dr. T. L. Rogers.

On motion the chair named R. B. Murray, Thomas Deveau and T. S. Matheson as a nominating committee to recommend a slate of officers and committee chairman. Their slate, as follows, was adopted:

- President: A. J. Dillon.
- 1st Vice President: C. E. Eaton
- 2nd Vice President: F. L. Anderson
- Secretary - Treasurer: Miss Betty Knowlton
- Chairman Grounds Committee: Dr. T. L. Rogers
- Chairman Finance Committee: C. F. McBride
- Chairman Building Committee: F. K. Hayden
- Chairman Sports Committee: A. L. Robinson

C. E. Eaton, F. K. Hayden and T. L. Rogers were also named a special committee to draft up a constitution to be ratified by the executive, and then later by a general meeting of the association.

A. L. Robinson, also a member of the special committee named by the Board of Trade to look into the possibility of establishing an athletic field gave information to the effect this committee was advised the field in mind could be leased for a term of fifteen years with option of renewing.

After discussion a motion to the effect that, until the next general meeting, the Association executive be empowered to carry out any negotiations, with the president and secretary-treasurer as signing officers with power to enter into any agreement on behalf of the association.

Port Wade

James Snow, who is again a patient at the Annapolis Hospital, is making a speedy recovery, and expects to be home in a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Longmire, Weymouth, are spending two weeks at their home here.

Misses Reta, Anna and Shirley McGrath spent the week end in Plympton with their aunt, Mrs. A. Thibodeau. Mr. and Mrs. James McWhinnie, of Lynn, Mass., are spending a couple of months with their daughter, Mrs. James Snow.

LAC A. W. Robinson, of Greenwood, spent a few days this week with Mrs. Willard Apt.

Mrs. George Gates, Granville Ferry, spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Boudreau.

Ceiling Price Maple Syrup, $2.75

The maximum price at which a primary producer or processor of Nova Scotia maple syrup may sell this product is $2.75 per gallon in gallon tins. This is the processors maximum price regardless of whether the sale is made to a wholesaler, a retailer or a consumer.

Announcement to this effect was made recently from the Regional Office of the War-time Prices and Trade Board Ottawa. Officials emphasized that it was an f.o.b. price at the producer's nearest shipping point.

The principal producing of the Province are in Colchester and Cumberland Counties.

Onions should be kept in a dry airy place to prevent them from sprouting or rotting.

Fined for Taking Sailors to Church

The Digby Garage Co. Ltd., was fined $20 early this week for operating overloaded trucks on highways closed to loads exceeding 6,000 pounds (including vehicle). Two of the company's trucks were hauled up Sunday by the R.C. M.P. while enroute from Deep Brook to Digby. It is understood one truck carried nine and the other fourteen sailors from the Deep Brook Naval Base, who were enroute to Digby to attend church services on Sunday evening.

In the meantime work on the Naval Base is still being slowed down due to the fact many of the carpenters and others who have depended on trucks for transportation are unable to get back and forth from their job while the spring highway closing order is in force.

Local and Personal

Agricultural Supplies Board said recently in a statement that "contrary to rumors which have been afloat in some parts of Canada", it is not recommending that a ceiling be placed on prices of certified seed potatoes for sale in Canada.

Mrs. Fred Curphey, of Deep Brook, has received word that her son, Lieutenant George Curphey, serving in North Africa, is definitely a prisoner and wounded. Earlier in the month word was received that he was missing, possibly a prisoner.

Leading stoker Walter Titus, of Westport, recently figured in the rescue of three men from a raging sea which earned the praise of the commanding officer of Titus' ship which was a subchasing Fairmile. The R.C.N. has released a picture of the daring exploit.

Men from the Maritime Provinces were well represented in the latest class of R.C.A.F. pilots to graduate from the training school at Uplands, near Ottawa. One of them was Neil Ogilvie, who, before enlisting, was principal at Stoney Island, Shelburne County.

Munitions Minister Howe told the Commons the $1-a-cord subsidy on fuel wood, announced some time ago, will be payable to dealers recognized by the Coal Administrator, but not to farmers cutting and selling direct to consumers or on wood cut by community effort.

Salmon and whitefish make up most of the commercial fishing catch in the Yukon. Other species taken include trout, pike and ling but the total catch of all kinds of fish is not large. In 1941 the salmon landings were slightly more than 42,000 pounds and the catch of whitefish between six and seven thousand pounds.

The lack of leaders in the Girl Guide Association in the Province resulting in the closing of many companies and decrease in the total number of guides, was scored in the annual report of every district throughout Nova Scotia, at the annual meeting of the Provincial Girl Guide Association held at Government House Friday afternoon.

Less fishing than usual was done last year by British Columbia Indians operating under the system which allows them to take salmon at any time. If permits have first been obtained, for use as food for themselves and their families. Increased opportunities for employment in wood-cutting camps or as section hands, etc., improved prices for their field crops and farm animals, and high wages open to them as hop pickers were reasons why the Indians showed lessened interest in domestic fishing.

Mrs. William Theriault received a letter from her son, Louis, who is overseas, stating that he is well and that he was greatly surprised to meet his brother-in-law, Alex Wentzell. They spent two days together and hope to meet again soon.

Maritime fishermen will produce more fish than ever before after the war, Col. A. L. Barry, superintendent of Maritime fisheries, told a service club at Halifax last week. He said an extensive program of study, education and co-operation is now getting underway, and will jack-up the production of fishermen in the three provinces when peace returns.

Fire of undetermined origin destroyed the large wooden shed in the shipyard formerly owned by H. A. Theriault and Company, at Belliveau's Cove, last week. Sparks were carried by the wind to other buildings but were quickly extinguished. The Weymouth fire apparatus was quickly on the spot and rendered valuable service under the leadership of Denis Theriault.

Granville Ferry

Mrs. Edward Ryder and baby Oril, of Halifax, and Dorothy Saunders, of Newton, Mass., who came home to attend the wedding of their sister, Ethel, (Mrs. Donald Hickling) have returned to their homes after spending two weeks with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Saunders.

Marilyn Parnell, the three-months old daughter of Rev. G. F. and Mrs. Bickley, received the rites of baptism at the eleven o'clock service at the Holy Trinity Church on Sunday morning. Mrs. F. F. Smith and Mr. and Mrs. Eric Wood are the godparents.

Mrs. F. E. Wood, who has been seriously ill at her home, is improving.

Mrs. Ronald Bond returned recently from a trip to Saint John.

The many friends of Miss Hazel Eaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Eaton, will be interested to know she is now 2nd Lieutenant in the American Nursing Corps, stationed in Florida.

A. L. Gilliat, proprietor of the Fort Anne Beverage Co., who recently suffered a broken rib when a staging broke on which he was standing to paint the ceiling of his factory, is now able to be out again.

Wiley Long, of Halifax, spent the week end with his family.

Horace Mills, who has been convalescing from an attack of pneumonia, is well again.

Mrs. John MacNeil entertained at a jolly birthday party in honor of her little son, Jackie, who celebrated his fifth birthday.

Cpl. Donald Hickling, of Greenwood, spent the week end with Mrs. Hickling.

About This and That

The people should protest vigorously against any attempt to interfere with the press in Canada. This is one of the first acts of would-be dictators—getting control of the press. The motive in the present decision to curtail the output of our papers and magazines may be laudable, but cannot be necessary while there flows from government headquarters such tides of circulars and pamphlets as fill the mails and our waste baskets today. We who pay for the excellent paper, good print, postage, salaries of these who produce this flow of propaganda, and of the mail carriers who deliver it, can see no need for reduction of news-print.

Our mothers used to unearth a goodly bit of usable material while searching through an old bureau. Perhaps if Parliament would take time to investigate the bureau drawers at Ottawa we could save paper, time, lighten the loads of mail carriers, and make it known that the people say very emphatically, "Hands off the press."

No way has yet been devised for a man to get married and remain his own boss.

A German military order which recently fell into the hands of the British throws more light on the callousness of nazi methods and the brutality of the nazi mind.

The military order, after commanding that the execution of hostages "shall be carried out in a very regimental manner," orders that the victims "are to be distributed for shooting among army units." The order continues:

"Burning of the bodies of those executed is to cease: In order to avoid unnecessary contact with bodies, those to be shot are to be led directly to the edges of their graves. In case of mass executions, it is allowable to cause the hostages to kneel with their faces toward the common grave."

And as a final word it is ordered that "after executions, troops must prevent the placing of flowers on the graves."

Nice people, those nazis!

Quite a few Canadians seem to agree with a noted columnist in his opinion that "Mahatma Gandhi, the East Indian scarecrow who periodically fasts, needs a set of false teeth, a new pair of pants, and a swift kick in the seat of them."

Perhaps time was never so important to us Canadians as it is today, yet so many of us fail to realize it. Before the war the waste of time was, in most cases, a personal matter. But that is no longer true, especially if one has a job in some vital war industry or is training for some war job.

We have found that in ammunition factories, and also in industrial training schools, there are many workers and students who idle away a large portion of their time. In their words, they are "killing time." But time isn't all they are killing—they are killing Canadian boys on the front! Idle hands work for Hitler.

What has become of the old-fashioned recipe which started off: "Take a dozen eggs, a pound of butter, and a quart of thick cream—?"

Above all, let's not forget our boys overseas in the trenches, giving their all for freedom, and cultivate victory gardens this season. It's the time of all times. We should not be classed as slackers—slackers from our duties to help on the war fronts.

The foodstuff we can produce will be sorely needed, if not in the homes it will enable more and more to go to our soldier boys overseas. Let everyone able to wield a hoe take time by the forelock, plant and cultivate every available plot of land. Let none be idle. It's a patriotic duty you owe to your country and our soldiers.

The metal shortage may take hooks off ladies' dresses. But not the eyes.

Sgt. Hamilton Prime Presumed Dead

Overseas Three Years Soldier Receives All Parcels

Interesting letters have been received by Postmaster General Mulock from the Mother of a Soldier overseas since December 1939. Mrs. J. S. Johnston of Calgary, pays tribute to the efficiency of the Postal Service and to the men "who man the ships" for the safe delivery of letters and parcels she regularly sends to her son. Mrs. Johnston's letters read as follows:—

(first letter)

117-27th Ave. N.E.
Calgary, Alta.

February 22, 1943.

To the Postmaster General I know you are a busy man these days and hope you will excuse my writing to you. I think my son who has been overseas with the Canadian Army since December 17th, 1939, holds something of a record for mail received. To date I have sent him around 70 parcels, also numerous cigarette orders, and I have all his letters acknowledging every one of them. He says he is the luckiest boy in the Army, personally I am proud of the efficiency of the mail service to our boys, not forgetting the lads who man the ships.

Yours in appreciation, (sgd) Mrs. J. S. Johnston P. S. Above parcels, etc., were for M9606, Sigm'n Alan E. Johnston, R.H.Q. Signal Section R.C.C. Signals, 3rd Field Reg't R.C.A., 1st Division, Canadian Army Overseas.

March 9th, 1943

In receipt of your letter asking my permission to publish a letter I sent you February 22nd, re mail service to the armed forces. I was not thinking of publicity when I sent it, but just as a token of appreciation. In our own case, however, you are welcome to publish it or this one wherever you please, since I have all my son's letters of thanks to back it up. In fact, I have 106 letters and post-cards from him and with the exception of the few post-cards, all are written on paper and envelopes I myself have sent him in parcels, thus making several more ocean crossings. Possibly a few letters have been missing, I never kept strict track on all I've sent myself, a wedding photo is the only thing I'm sure is missing, but not one parcel has been lost during the three years he has been overseas, up to January 18th, 1943.

Apart from all the mail mentioned I have 50 souvenir spoons bearing crests of various cities that my boy and his friends sent to me, from Whitehorse, Y.T., and Prince Rupert, B. C., to Quebec, also California, England, Scotland and Wales—including the blitzed cities of London, Coventry, Bath, Birmingham, Southampton, also Brighton, Blackpool, Bournemouth, Oxford, Eton, Cambridge, Hastings, Croydon, Northampton, Ryde, Cirencester, Windsor, Aberdeen, Inverness, Huntly and several others from overseas, but the one I have from Australia tops the list for travelling in the mails. In 1941 a young Aussie airman visiting us liked my growing collection so much that he started one for his mother by sending her one from Calgary and Banff. I supplied the tiny box to send them in and he asked his Mother to send him one from his home town. In the meantime he was sent overseas, a few months ago I received a small packet from him posted from England. It was a spoon from "Queensland, Australia" enclosed in the same tiny box I supplied for his, inside the lid he had written "Around the World Trip"—where it had caught up with him I do not know, but it had been moving in the mails best part of a year, which goes to show the efficiency of the mail service when parcels are suitably wrapped and plainly addressed, no matter how small.

Thanks again and a thought to the lads who man service to our boys complete.

In appreciation, (sgd) Mrs. J. S. Johnston P.S. The Aussie above mentioned is now 404663, P.O. Wheeler, J.D.-D.F.C., R.C.A.F., Base P.O. Kodak House, Strand, London W.C. 2 England.

P.S.— I mail a parcel of cookies, etc., every 2 or 3 weeks overseas also an extra one or two parcels from his brothers and sisters around Christmas and birthday.

It is realized that there is natural anxiety on the part of parents and friends as to whether their mail to the Service man overseas is being safely delivered and letters like Mrs. Johnston's will help relieve some of these anxious moments.

Veteran Master Dies

Captain Joseph H. Trask, veteran Pacific Coast merchant-ship master, died March 14 at an Oakland, California, hospital after a brief illness. He was seventy-seven years old and lived in Oakland.

Capt. Trask retired eleven years ago after a colorful career of fifty years at sea, during which he was credited with establishing a distance record of having sailed more than 2,500,000 miles in voyages between San Francisco and Sydney, Australia. He also was credited with the discovery of Turtle Island, a small speck of land in the Pacific.

Born in Barton, Digby Co., Capt. Trask went to sea in 1893 as a seaman aboard a leaky old schooner, sailing around the Horn to San Francisco. Within a few years he was commanding his own vessel.

He was assigned to command the Matson South Seas and Australia liner Sierra, in which he made 150 round trips between the west coast and Australia. In '32 when the Matson Line commissioned its 26,000-ton liner Mariposa, Captain Trask received command for her maiden voyage from New York to Sydney. At the same time Captain Trask announced it would be his last voyage before retirement.

At a dinner given to him by Australians when the Mariposa reached Sydney, Captain Trask was praised for furthering good will between Australia and the United States and for making that continent better known to Americans.

Surviving are his wife, Mrs. Eva Trask, and two sons, J. Harold Trask, of Honolulu, and Captain Fred Trask, also a merchant-ship master, whose ship was sunk recently by Japanese bombers in an Australian port.

with "MAGIC" EGG ROLL

2 c. flour
4 tsp. Magic Baking Powder
1/4 tsp. salt
4 tbs. shortening
1 egg
1/2 c. milk
5 hard boiled eggs
4 tbs. milk
2 tsp. lemon juice
3 tsp. chopped onion
2 tbs. chopped parsley
2 tbs. chopped green pepper
1 tsp. dry mustard
Salt, pepper, paprika

Sift together first 3 ingredients. Cut in shortening. Beat egg in measuring cup; add milk to make 3/4 cup; add to first mixture. Roll out 1/4 inch thick, on floured board. Chop hard boiled eggs, mix with remaining ingredients, spread on dough. Roll up like jelly roll and bake in hot oven (425° F.) 30 minutes. Serve with cheese sauce.

While it is true the present day tire can run without a tube by sealing the casing to the rim of the wheel, there is no way of preventing some air seepage, at least not yet. But new tires to run without tubes are being built, though you are not likely to get hold of them for awhile. Perhaps after the war this method will be perfected, and then we shall do away with the inner tubes entirely.

Plant Foods:—Just as the human body requires certain materials for its best growth and development, so plants require certain substances for their optimum growth. The plant gets some of these from the air, in particular Oxygen and Carbon. It gets others such as water and a very considerable list of chemicals from the soil. These take part in building up the complex plant tissues which, when we eat them, give our bodies in their turn what they require.

Some things are Free:—As gardeners we do not have to worry about a supply of air for our gardens. That is unrationed and in plentiful supply, but we do sometimes have to take action to see that our gardens get enough water and a further supply of the chemicals that may not be present in sufficient quantity.

Water Supply:—We can provide water, either by direct watering, which is impossible in some backyard gardens or, what has a more general application, by so handling our soil as to preserve for plant use, water that falls in the form of rain or comes up from the subsoil through capillary action. Tillage of our garden by keeping the top inch or two of soil loose and open enables it to soak up rainfall rather than have it run off and waste as it may do from a hard surface. Addition of organic matter to our soils makes them function more like a sponge in holding water that plant roots may absorb as needed.

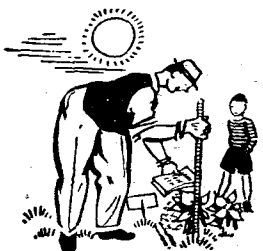

Fertilizers:—We can add chemicals to the soil in the form of what we call fertilizers to supplement and add to the supply naturally existing in varying amounts in every soil. The ones used in largest amounts by plants and the ones most commonly added in commercial fertilizers are Nitrogen, Phosphoric Acid and Potash.

These chemicals are mixed in varying proportions by fertilizer companies for use on different crops. Two formulas available this year that will be quite satisfactory for garden use, 4-12-6 and 4-8-10. The first figure in the formula gives the percentage of Nitrogen in the mixture, the second figure the percentage of Phosphoric Acid and the third the percentage of Potash.

As a general proposition, the 4-12-6 may be used to supplement the use of stable amounts of from 15 to 25 lbs. manure and when so used in gardens can be applied in per 1000 square feet. The 4-8-10 may be a better mixture to use on sandy soils or where it has not been possible to use any stable manure. In such cases it may be used in amounts of from 25 to 35 lbs. fertilizers should be sowed per 1000 square feet. These broadcast over the garden plot after plowing or spading and should be well worked into the ground with a garden rake before seeding.

Lime:—Many soils in this Province are highly acid and many garden plots would benefit from the use of 30 to 50 pounds of Hydrated Lime or 50 to 75 pounds of ground Limestone per 1000 square feet of surface. Use whichever is easier to get. This should be applied as soon as the ground is first worked up.

Manure:—Well rotted stable manure, when available, is excellent for all garden soils in amounts up to 1000 pounds per 1000 square feet. It provides some plant food and also the organic matter mentioned above. Manure should be plowed or dug under in Fall or Spring. Rotted leaves can also be used in a like manner to manure.

This article if clipped and filed with other articles in this series will make a collection covering the garden program. A companion bulletin, "Gardening for Food and Fun" by C. M. Collins, is available from the Horticultural Division, N. S. Department of Agriculture, Truro, N. S.

Commencing today postage on letters will be 4c and on post cards, 2c. A considerable number of years ago postage on letters in Canada was reduced to 2c and peculiar as it may seem, postal revenues showed an instant and sustained increase.

Vitamins do many surprising things for humans, as, for instance, vitamin A in preventing or alleviating night blindness. Canadian fish are among the food sources of vitamin A and other vitamins.

No salmon weighing less than three pounds may be retained if taken in commercial fishing in any Canadian province. In New Brunswick the minimum limit is higher—five pounds.

W. Jefferson. Miss Anne Jefferson, student at "Edgehill," Windsor, is also expected home for the vacation period of that school leaving somewhat earlier than other pupils, in order to be at home for a few days while her brother, Pilot Officer John Jefferson is here.

Philathea Class Have Social Evening

The Philathea Class of the Baptist Church held a social evening at the home of Mrs. Walter Dukeshire on March 11. Following the devotional period a program was given with Mrs. Oakley Banks as convener, consisting of music, readings and contests, after which a napkin lunch was served.

The meeting closed by singing "Blest Be The Tie."

Bicycle Accident

On Saturday afternoon, James Mailing, of the Cross Roads, sustained painful injuries when thrown from his bicycle. He was picked up by a neighbor who found him lying in the ditch at the side of the road. Apparently the front wheel of the bicycle stuck in a deep rut in the hill causing him to lose control. Though suffering from slight concussion, minor cuts and bruises, he should make a good recovery. His injuries were cared for at the Doctor's office.

Commissioned In Air Force

On Thursday of last week Pilot Officer John Ingleby Jefferson arrived to spend a short leave with his mother, Mrs. C. W. Jefferson, and has received the congratulations of his many friends for having won his commission for Pilot Officer in the R.C.A.F.

John enlisted in the R.C.A.F. on March 2nd, 1942, and was accepted in the aircrew. He received his training under the British Commonwealth Air Training Plan, and was stationed at different points in Canada during this time. He completed his training at Uplands, Ont., and on March 18th, received his "Wings" at No. 2 S.F.C., and also received on graduation, the King's Commission granting him the rank of Pilot Officer. He will leave for Halifax on April 3rd, and will shortly join the R.C.A.F. overseas. In serving Canada John follows in his father's footsteps, as the late C. Wilson Jefferson, American born, joined the Canadian forces early in the last war, serving with them in France, later coming to Canada to make his permanent home in Bear River. John's grandfather, now living in Australia, will receive word of his grandson's success with pride, although he lived many years in the United States, he never relinquished his British citizenship.

Red Cross Notes

The Bear River Branch of the Red Cross Society hopes to make a report on the campaign in next week's Courier, giving the final figures. We wish to acknowledge from the Deep Brook Auxiliary, $155.00, given in the Deep Brook district apart from the amount raised by the employees at the Naval Base. If a separate collection had not been made there, the Auxiliary would have shown a much higher total. As every dollar is given for Red Cross purposes the grand total is what we must think of, and it is pleasing to know that we went "Over The Top" very early, with the Naval Base donation making a fine contribution from this district.

Shower Held

A post-nuptial shower was given on Friday evening at the home of Miss Evelyn Rice, for Mrs. Otis Sanford (Alythe Combs), popular member of the staff of Oakdene School, whose marriage took place recently in Truro.

The bride was the recipient of many nice gifts, including furniture, china, silver, etc.

Refreshments were served to thirty-five guests.

A sing-song with Mrs. H. Burrage at the piano, was enjoyed.

Mrs. Sanford, after the close of this school year, will reside in Halifax, where her husband, Pay Sub-Lieutenant Sanford, is stationed, having been recently appointed there from Esquimalt, B.C.

The Province of Nova Scotia is now the possessor of a complete collection of the insignia of every military unit raised in Canada during the last war for overseas and home defence duty, the Hon. Harold Connolly Minister of Industry and Publicity, told members of the legislative assembly. The collection, which contains over 3,200 items, was unequalled in Canada, the Hon. Mr. Connolly said.

Smith's Cove

Councillor C. W. Cornwell and daughter, Mrs. H. C. Nesbitt and Mr. Nesbitt, of Rosway, were Sunday guests of Miss Janet Cornwell and Arthur Cornwell.

A. Sulis has returned from Halifax, where he went for an examination. His report from the doctors was favorable.

Mac Elliott, R.C.N.V.R., was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Weir.

Mrs. Arley Merritt spent the week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Trask, Little River.

An evening entertainment held by the ladies of the Baptist Church was enjoyed by all. The entertainment consisted of two plays "A Love of A Bonett" and "The Minister's New Car". After the plays Robert Taylor sang and led a sing-song in which all joined. The total sum of $17.00 was realized.

"Rusty" Bailey has returned to Scoudouc, New Brunswick, after a visit with his wife and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Sulis.

Mrs. J. A. MacDonald spent the week end with the Misses Stella and Bess Woodman.

An enjoyable Red Cross meeting was held at the home of Mrs. George Whiteman. Next Friday, April 2nd, the Red Cross meeting will be at the home of Mrs. George Austin.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

ABOUT OBJECTIVES

This fine picture is part of a series on a hunting trip. You'll find your camera will be of more value to you if you use it to work out picture stories, or in connection with your work or hobby.

A SOUND approach to photography demands not only that an individual become thoroughly competent with his camera, but that he also have a purpose behind his picture taking.

What that may be will depend upon what you are interested in, perhaps upon what you hope to accomplish, and probably upon what you are doing.

At this time I won't attempt to suggest even a smattering of the ways in which photography can be of service to you—there are just too many—but I'd like to have you think about the possibilities because having a definite objective will help you build a collection of really interesting pictures.

For instance, many people these days are making it their objective to keep the boys in service posted on developments at home, through snapshots. And you couldn't make better use of your pictures. The men in service always like to receive newsy snapshots which show what the folks have been doing. They're interested in everything from the walk you took in the country to the hour you spent giving old Rover a bath. So make it your objective to take pictures for your soldiers, sailors or airmen. You'll find it's fun, and they'll appreciate it tremendously.

However, a word of caution. Take things easy at the outset. Don't try to picture everything at once. A set of four or five pictures which tell a definite story makes the best possible beginning, and such experience will give you confidence and the ability to tackle bigger things.

So, right now, give yourself an objective and start work. Make news pictures of home activities, make a photographic record of your hobby, let photography help you in your business. Put your camera to work, and you'll find it will bring you ever greater dividends in satisfaction and enjoyment.

John van Guilder

News From Home Helps Morale

(By Flying Officer R.A. Francis, Public Relations Officer Overseas.)

Just as life for the folks at home is a routine broken by certain ups and downs, so the day to day program for an airman on active service becomes a round of well established duties, punctuated by moments of high exhilaration and of despondent loneliness.

These two states of mind may stem from precisely the same origin—the mail from home.

How small a matter this may appear to some in Canada is evidenced by the few letters which they write to their sons or brothers overseas. Its importance in the minds of others is likewise shown by the steady flow of letters, cards, clippings from the home town newspaper, which turn up at base post office overseas and are sent on to the addressee.

The importance of mail to a man who may have 3000 miles of water and another 3000 miles of land between himself and his family, is difficult to access. It is a fact, however, which Air Force authorities will support, that morale—that much abused word which means roughly the state of mind of your men—is unmistakably bolstered by a regular stream of information from home through the mails.

A few hundred words of family news and local gossip on a sheet of paper may not look very important to the person who is home and close to the things of which he writes. But to the chap who is far from home in some lonely outpost—or the biggest bombing station in the land—it means that he can think for a moment about the things he left behind, and about the things he will some day return to.

It means that he has not been forgotten, that somewhere people are thinking of him, that someone misses him, is praying for his safety, wishing him good luck.

That is what it means to him, whether he's an air marshal or an AC2, and whether he admits it or not.

It means somebody has remembered—remembered he would like to know whether the kid brother made the second base spot on the sandlot team. Remembered he was anxious about his brown cocker spaniel, who had caught her foot in a gopher trap. Remembered that he used to go down to the foaming river and watch the salmon run, leaping up the falls. Remembered how he liked to be the first in the spring to notice that the days were getting longer.

A flier likes to think of these things when he comes home from a mass raid over Germany, or when he is through for the day with his engines, or his paint brush, or his cooking pots, or his parachutes.

He thinks about them and all they stand for because they are his way of life. They represent what he has had before and what he wants to have again.

There is only one way he can know about them. That's when the kid sister, or the folks or the girl friend write and tell him.

Whether he is from Halifax, Coleman or Chicoutimi, it makes no odds. If the mail bag comes bulging into the orderly room and there is nothing in it for him, he is the loneliest guy in the world.

A dozen lines from any member of the family would have done the trick, or an airgraph from the fellow he used to work with down the street, but he gets nothing, and he wonders if anybody ever thinks about him at all.

Some other fellow gets a fistful of letters, a carton of cigarettes, another gets a parcel with chocolate and chewing gum, maybe some socks and a tin of pork and beans—not much at home, but the difference between existing and living to a man on an active service station.

Oh sure, some will be tormented on the way. An airman overseas is the first to admit. He also suggests, tactfully, that a few more letters dispatched from the point of origin would take care of the margin.

Circus Will Drop Modernism to Revert To Old-Time Ways

The Ringling circus, training at Sarasota, Fla., has gone old-fashioned, and the modernistic trappings of recent years have been toned down or abandoned for this year's customary tour.

"Modernistic spectacles and features were all right for a change, but I believe circus fans now want a change in the other direction, and that's what we are going to provide this season," said Robert Ringling, managing director.

One of the first changes made by Mr. Ringling as the circus prepared in winter quarters for its new season was a modified revival of the street parade, eliminated years ago because it slowed up schedules. This time, instead of being a street ballyhoo stunt, it will be the opening spectacle under canvas.

"This won't be any 1943 style parade," Mr. Ringling declared, "but it will be a procession just as crowds saw it back in the gay nineties. Some of the original equipment will be used."

Gone, too, will be the modernized big top intended to ring performers in closer contact with audiences. In its place will be one of the original Ringling-type six-pole tents providing space for three rings, two stages, and a hippodrome track.

The boxes and other newer seating arrangements have been shelved for the grandstand of former years.

Women Play Important Role

In fields, factories and the armed services, Russian women are playing a part greater than in any other country in the world.

Feats of soviet women as snipers, pilots, and machine-gunners grow more numerous every day. Russian women wear the same khaki uniforms as the men. Many rank as commanders and wear new epaulets with the same pleats shown by men in the army. Women fly night fighters or double between machine-gun and radio key in planes.

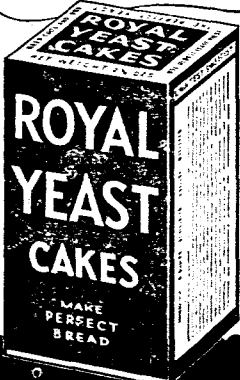

Although women are accepted by the Russian army only on a volunteer basis, they have earned 3,654 military decorations and awards. These include 23 orders of Lenin, the soviet's highest award; 125 red banners, and 501 red stars for their services.

On the home front, though, the contribution of soviet women has been even greater.

Prisoners of War Try Home Cooking

Men in captivity in prison camps have found a new hobby—through Red Cross parcels—it's cooking! Judging from prisoners' letters, supper is the big meal of the day. Men out on work parties return in the evening, tired and hungry; they want a good tasty meal, so out come Red Cross food parcels.

Although much of the food is already prepared for eating, like salmon or kippers, and only needs heating, the men try their skill at serving things in a variety of ways—mixing the contents of food parcels with camp rations and making provisions go further. This gives variety to the diet and varies the monotony of rather unappetizing vegetables, which form the bulk of supplies distributed by the enemy. It makes an interesting break in the day, too, and thus becomes an important morale builder.

The men show their ingenuity in a hundred ways. If there is no stove in their billet, they make one from bricks and earth or biscuit-tins. Cooking utensils are tins from Red Cross parcels.

Prisoners take turns being "chef" but anyone who shows a natural flair for cooking often finds himself permanent cook!

Sometimes there is a party to celebrate a twenty-first birthday or wedding anniversary. Each guest contributes something from his parcel toward the feast.

Some of the prisoners are becoming first-class cooks. One wrote home to his wife, "Just you wait 'till I come home. Then you'll be able to go out on Sunday mornings and I'll stay home and cook the dinner—I'll show you a thing or two!"

Hashed biscuit pudding—soups—and stews—are concocted with tremendous rivalry and the new recipes invented are amazingly varied when you consider that many of the ordinary ingredients used in cooking can not be sent to prison camps—they wouldn't "keep".

In the five packing depots in Canada, in Toronto, Hamilton, Windsor, Montreal and Winnipeg, 100,000 food parcels a week is the objective this year. To keep our men supplied with these necessities, it will take $5,000,000 for British and Canadian prisoners-of-war in Europe and $500,000 for food parcels for Canadian prisoners in the Far East. More than half of the total campaign fund of $10,000,000 will go this year to feed our prisoners. They look to their homeland to keep them alive and cheerful.

When you give your donation to the Canadian Red Cross—remember our prisoners in enemy hands. There are more—this year! Give what you INTENDED to and THEN some!

Bear River East

Miss Avis Blackadar, Bear River, recently visited relatives here.

Charles Savory, of Digby, was a week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Joel Long.

The Sheep Club met on Thursday evening at the home of Milton Wagner.

Eustace Yorke, of Deep Brook, spent Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred E. Jefferson.

Mr. and Mrs. Mansfield Wiles and family have arrived home from Saint John, where Mr. Wiles has been employed for the past two years.

Even before the conflict with the axis began they accounted for about 40 per cent of the industrial labor. Since the war began 190,000 have been trained in railroad service alone. Many have undertaken intricate and complex tasks. Some are engineers, architects, and factory managers, and one manages a coal mine. Managed by a woman, a big oil field continually is increasing production. Chief geologist at the field likewise is a woman.

Almost all tasks on collective farms are now performed by women.

Soldier Plays Safe In Letter To Mom

Mrs. Bonnie Duncan, of Spindale, N.C., received this letter from her son, Bill, who is serving in the United States Army air force:

"Dear Mom: Can't write a thing—the censor to blame. Just say I'm well and sign my name. Can't tell where we sailed from; can't mention the date; and can't even number the meals that I ate. Can't say where we're going; don't know when we'll land. Couldn't inform you if met by a band. Can't mention the weather; can't say if there's rain. All military secrets must secrets remain."

"Can't have a flashlight to guide me at night; can't smoke cigarettes except out of sight. Can't keep a diary for such is a sin; can't keep the envelopes your letters come in. Can't say for sure, darling, just what I can write, so I'll call this a letter and close with 'good night.'"

Save THAT Fat!

HERE'S WHAT TO DO

- 1 You can take your fat drippings, scrap fat and bones to your meat dealer. He will pay you the established price for the dripping and the scrap fat. If you wish, you can turn this money over to your local Voluntary Salvage Committee or Registered Local War Charity, or—
- 2 You can donate your fat dripping, scrap fat and bones to your local Voluntary Salvage Committee if they collect them in your community, or—
- 3 You can continue to place out your Fats and Bones for collection by your Street Cleaning Department where such a system is in effect.

Postage Surcharge Abolished

A postage surcharge of four cents a pound on the advertising portion of newspapers and periodicals which have more than 50% of their space devoted to advertising, has been suspended under an order in council published in the Canadian War Orders and Regulations on Thursday last. The order was passed on the recommendation of the post office department and the price board on the ground that economics in the use of newsprint would be possible if publishers were allowed to adjust editorial, reading matter and advertising at their discretion without penalty in increased postage rates.

3-PURPOSE MEDICINE Hits CATARRH Misery Fast!

When acute catarrh makes breathing difficult—causes stuffy head, watery eyes, nasal irritation and distress, put a few drops of Vicks Va-tro-nol in each nostril and enjoy the relief it brings. Va-tro-nol is so successful because it does three very important things: (1) shrinks swollen membranes of the nose, (2) clears out discomfort-causing congestion and (3) soothes irritation. Many catarrh sufferers say it's the best relief they've found. Try it!

Complete Farm Course

Fourteen young men who completed the one-year General Farm Course were presented with graduation diplomas at the formal closing exercises held in the Nova Scotia Agricultural College, Friday night, March 25. The evening exercises were preceded by the eighth annual N.S.A.C. winter fair when the students exhibited in the college pavilion the animals which they had prepared for this keenly awaited annual event. The spectator stands in the pavilion were filled to capacity. The visitors included His Honor, Lieutenant Governor H. E. Kendall, Mrs. Kendall, Honorable John A. McDonald, Minister of Agriculture, Hon. J. W. Comeau, Member of the Nova Scotia government, Hon. Gordon Romkey, Speaker of the House, F. M. Blois, M.L.A., Leader of the Progressive Conservatives in the Legislature; Donald McDonald, M.L.A., Leader of the C.C.F. party in the Legislature; practically all the members of the Legislature, Col. E. W. Mingo, a number of prominent government officials, ladies and representatives of the press and radio. The unanimous opinion seemed to be that there never had been a more successful fair at the College and that the farm animals were never in better shape. Hon. Mr. McDonald welcomed the guests and in a brief address formally declared the fair open.

The Lieutenant Governor in addressing the students declared that the worst days in Nova Scotia agriculture were over, appealed to the graduates to take an upward look, proclaimed the farmers the salt of the earth and told the young men that they had entered their chosen profession at the right time. Hon. Gordon Romkey, appealed to the young men to stick by the farm to make improvements and ventured the day would come when they would be glad for any effort they put forth in developing their farm homes. F. M. Blois congratulated the students on the excellent work they had done and paid tribute to the graduates of the N.S.A.C. Donald McDonald spoke of the farmer as a prime backer of the armed forces and lauded the educational facilities being extended by the Agricultural College. Mrs. Kendall expressed congratulations to the students and appreciation on behalf of the ladies for the courtesies extended during the day. At the closing exercises in the evening addresses were made by Kenneth Cochrane, M.L.A., and Lt. Governor Kendall.

Little Pig Has Big Value

A little pig may not seem very important but raised to 200 pounds it can supply Britain with the bacon ration for nine people for one year. F. W. Walsh, director of marketing, N.S. Dept. of Agriculture, said that the loss of one pig per litter in Nova Scotia this spring would mean the loss of 12,000 pigs which if raised could produce bacon for 100,000 people for one year. In light of these facts, said Mr. Walsh, it is indeed satisfactory to note that Nova Scotia is making a real progress in hog production. The number of hogs on Nova Scotia farms on December 1942 compared with the number recorded in the census returns of June 1941 showed an increase from 43,000 to 62,000 or slightly more than 46 per cent. The gain has been particularly good in some counties. The biggest stepping up gain of 91 per cent was in Halifax County. On a percentage basis Kings came second with 74 per cent, then came Lunenburg 67, Cumberland 57, Colchester 51. Only one of the 18 counties of the province showed a decline and that county today is on the upgrade.

From the standpoint of actual hog production, Kings Co. leads the province with a hog population of 12,130. Lunenburg is second with 6,580, Cumberland with 6,120 is third, and Colchester fourth with 5,460. Hants, Halifax, Annapolis and Pictou all top the four thousand mark. This is a marked improvement over June 1941 when only one county in the province had more than 4,000 hogs. While the showing to date is encouraging the outlook for the immediate future is still brighter.

Mr. Walsh reports that the number of sows bred last fall and winter was up very considerably when compared with other recent years and the indications are that the increases in the hog population of Nova Scotia will be even greater when statistics are compiled next June.

But the important thing, he points out, is not the number of little pigs farrowed, rather it is the number that are raised to maturity for home consumption and the market. This number largely depends on the care taken of the sow before and after farrowing. Before farrowing a sow should have daily exercise, the unborn pigs should be protected from injury, and the sow should have sufficient food of the right kind. In connection with the feeding and care of the nursing sow the following suggestions are made by the Production Service, Dept. of Agriculture.

Probably one of the greatest factors contributing to the loss of little pigs is anemic. In this connection federal department of agriculture treats with the necessity of supplying iron to the young pigs.

Milk does not contain iron for healthy normal pigs this mineral must be supplied in one of two ways: 1. By supplying plenty of earth or sods preferably in a separate enclosure where the pigs can get it without being disturbed by the sow. 2. By placing the amount of reduced iron or iron sulphate (copperas) which can be held easily on a ten cent piece on each pig's tongue once weekly (the dime should not be heaped as this is not good).

Iron is a necessity for little pigs. It is a food not a medicine. The first feed of sods or iron should be given a day or two after birth. New sods should be given daily, chemical iron once a week, until the pigs are eating solid food freely. Do not delay feeding iron until its lack causes pale shivery (anemic) pigs. These may be permanently stunted, many are lost.

Should Start Club Work Now

The boys' and girls' farm clubs in Nova Scotia cover a wide field of activities, and are recognized as a definite aid in stimulating interest in increased production along many lines. There are garment clubs to teach the girls how to make good clothes economically, canning clubs to promote home canning of fruits and vegetables, garden clubs to grow the vegetables, fertilizer and lime clubs to improve soils, grain clubs, turnip seed clubs and forage clubs to help the production of crops, and last but not least, the live stock clubs. Live stock clubs embrace: cattle clubs, which include calves, yearlings, and heifers, in production; sheep clubs where new sheep flocks are established; swine clubs, both the regular ones where hogs are grown for market; and the home production hog clubs where members each undertake to raise and kill and cure a hog for their families' use.

This is the time for girls and boys to get started in club work. The agricultural representative can supply the rules and regulations, handbooks, club secretary's record books, calf club record books, etc., free of charge, and pro-

OBITUARY

Ernest O. Ring

The funeral of Ernest O. Ring, for the past fifteen years an able seaman on the crew of the C.P.R. "Princess Helene", took place in Clementsport on Friday afternoon. Mr. Ring died in the Saint John General Hospital on Wednesday evening, following an illness of four months. He is a son of Mrs. Christina and the late Oscar Ring of Clementsport, Annapolis County, and had been living in Saint John for the past 22 years. Surviving are his wife, his mother, four sons and one daughter, five sisters and six brothers. The sons, George H., with the Canadian Army in Nova Scotia; Ernest F. with the Canadian Army overseas; Robert C. and Harry G. W., in Saint John. Miss E. Louise Ring, of Saint John, is the daughter. The surviving brothers are Carl, Gordon, John, James, and William, of Clementsport; Henry in England; the sisters are Mrs. A. Frail, Mrs. L. McFadden, and Mrs. O. Dukeshire, of Clementsport; Mrs. W. Dodd, of Detroit, and Mrs. H. Comeau, of Digby.

Arsena Jeddry

After a few hours illness Miss Arsenia Jeddry, aged 17, years, passed away on Friday, March 19th, leaving her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Freeman Jeddry, of St. Alphonse de Clare, also five younger sisters and four brothers. Funeral took place Sunday the 20th in the St. Alphonse Church, conducted by Rev. Fr. M. J. LeBlanc, pastor, with one of the largest congregations ever seen there. The pall bearers were all soldiers: Joseph and Arthur Jeddry, Leo and Benoit Comeau.

Layton Harris

The death occurred on Friday at his home in Sandy Cove, of Layton Harris, who was 68 years of age. He was the son of the late Sandal and Mary Ann Harris and was born at Sandy Cove in 1875. He is survived by his wife. The funeral was held at the Baptist Church on Sunday.

Capt. William Burns

The death of Capt. William Burns occurred at his home in Sandy Cove on Saturday. Capt. Burns was the son of the late William and Caroline Burns and was 81 years of age. He followed the sea from the time he was 14 years of age and had a very colorful career, having been shipwrecked twice. His wife predeceased him a year and a half ago and he is survived by a son, Clyde, and a daughter, Freda, both of Boston. Interment was in the Baptist cemetery, on Monday.

Decide To Hold Fall Fair

At a meeting of the Maple Leaf Agricultural Society, held at the home of Otis Bell, Marshalltown, Monday evening, the matter of holding a Community Fair in the fall was discussed. Members were enthusiastic, and decided to hold the fair on the grounds of James Roop, Hill Grove, but if possible on a larger scale than last year, and making special efforts to improve exhibits of household arts and school work.

The Society is also endeavoring to organize swine clubs in the various school sections of the county, with a minimum of ten members in each community. Club membership will open to young people from 10 to 20 years of age.

Reports given at the meeting showed 65 tons of fertilizer had been handled by the society so far this season.

A special meeting of the Maple Leaf Society will be held at the home of Lloyd McNeill, Marshalltown, Monday evening, April 12, when W. C. Spurr, of Deep Brook, will outline methods of raising Dittmar's Bronze Top Swede Seeds to farmers interested.

Testing Cattle for T. B.

A test of Digby County Cattle for Bovine Tuberculosis reactors began on April 1, under direction of Veterinary Surgeons Dr. R. B. O'Brien and Dr. R. S. MacDonald. It is estimated that over 10,000 head of cattle will be tested in Digby County. Drs. O'Brien and MacDonald have recently completed testing Annapolis County cattle for Bovine Tuberculosis.

Celebrate 15th Anniversary

The home of Postmaster and Mrs. J. P. Littlewood was a scene of gaiety on Monday evening, March 29, when about thirty of their many friends gathered to wish them every happiness on their 15th wedding anniversary. The evening was spent playing "Rook" and at the close refreshments were served and Mr. and Mrs. Littlewood were presented with a leather hassock, Eric Wood acting as master of ceremonies.

Mr. Littlewood is a son of the late George P. Littlewood, of Lower Granville, and has been postmaster at Granville Ferry since February, 1928. Previous to that he was assistant there for eight years. Mr. and Mrs. Littlewood have two sons, Lawrence, a student at Annapolis Academy, and Robie, a pupil at Granville Ferry school.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Arthur Moore
The death of Mrs. Bertie Moore occurred on Thursday evening at Freeport after a few weeks' illness. She was the widow of Arthur Moore. She leaves one son, Edwin, of Freeport, also several relatives. Funeral was held on Sunday afternoon from the church. Rev. R. C. Eaton conducted the service.

Captain Thomas Adams
The death of Capt. Thomas Adams occurred at his home in Brighton, Thursday, April 1st. Captain Adams was born in Brighton 89 years ago, and sailed out of St. Mary's Bay for many years, retiring from the sea about twenty years ago. One daughter (Jennie) Mrs. Gilbert Wilson, resides in Texas. Mrs. Adams and a son Avar, died some years ago.

Carol M. Robicheau
Much sympathy is felt for Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Robicheau, Brighton, in the loss of their infant daughter, Carol Margaret aged six weeks, who died Wednesday. The funeral took place Friday, April 2nd, with interment in St. Croix Cemetery, Plympton.

Mrs. Leonice Maillet
On April 2nd, Mrs. Leonice Maillet, aged 102 years, died at the residence of Mrs. Hilarie P. Saulnier, St. Alphonse de Clare, where she was a pensioner for several years. She was formerly Miss Boucher, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Boucher, (Ann Doucet) and was born in Argyle, Yarmouth County. She has been an invalid for several years and almost completely deaf and blind but she kept her intellect and memory. Funeral service with High Mass of Requiem, took place Monday morning at 8.30 in the St. Alphonse Church, conducted by Rev. Father M. J. LeBlanc, pastor, who also attended at the grave. Vincent Maillet presided at the organ. There was a large attendance.

Theophile LeBlanc
On Sunday afternoon, March 28th, Theophile LeBlanc, aged 73, of Grosses Coques, died at his home after four years' illness of paralysis. He was the last surviving member of the family of the late Maximin V. LeBlanc and the late Marguerite (Thibodeau) LeBlanc. His wife, formerly Lea Lombard, survives, also two sons, Rev. M. J. LeBlanc, pastor, at St. Alphonse de Clare, and Edward, at home; four daughters, Eulalie, housekeeper at St. Alphonse Glebe House; Marguerite; Mrs. Plus LeBlanc (Blanche) at Little Brook, and Mrs. Augustin Comeau, (Rosalie), Meteghan River. Funeral service, with solemn High Mass of Requiem, took place March 31st, at St. Mary's, Church Point. Rev. Fr. Castonguay, C.F.M., pastor, officiated at the Levee du Corps, before Mass, and John McLaughlin carried the Cross. His son, Rev. Fr. M. J. LeBlanc, celebrated Requiem High Mass, assisted by Rev. Fr. J. A. Maillet, of Salmon River, as deacon, and Rev. Fr. A. Theriault, Meteghan, sub-deacon, M. Jean V. Thibodeau, assisting. Right Rev. Mgr. Bouneuf, of Meteghan, and Very Rev. Father J. Comeau, Superior of St. Ann's College, were in the Sanctuary, with twenty-three other priests of the western part of the Province. There was a large congregation of relatives and friends from, through, and

Sugar Estimates Are Coming In

Applications for canning sugar were coming in to the Local Ration Boards all over the Province last week, James M. Archibald, Regional Superintendent of Rationing reports.

There are many inquiries regarding them, Mr. Archibald said. One question that is being asked is what should be done with the application forms in the books of other members of the family than the householder. This is answered in the Canning Guide, which was sent to each family. The serial numbers of the book should be copied onto these application forms and they should all be attached to the application of the householder when it is sent in.

Some applications are still being sent to Offices of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Instead they should be sent to the Local Ration Boards. In Digby County there are Local Ration Boards in Digby and Little Brook.

MARRIAGES

Outhouse - Outhouse
Sunday evening, April 4th, Miss Freelove B. Outhouse, only daughter of Hampton Outhouse and the late Mrs. Outhouse, of Tiverton, was united in marriage to Pte. Reginald Outhouse, son of Ellsworth Outhouse, Tiverton. Rev. J. W. Derby officiated.

Blynn - MacNeil
A marriage of interest to a wide circle of friends was solemnized in the church of the Immaculate Conception, Woodside, on March 12th, the Rev. Leonard McQuire, R.C.A.F. chaplain, officiating. The bride, Mary Berpice MacNeil, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm J. MacNeil, of L'Ardoise, Richmond Co. The groom, Pilot Officer Arnold Blynn, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blynn, of Middleton. The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, D. D. Boyd, wore a street-length ensemble of rose crepe with brown accessories and a corsage of tall-man roses. She was attended by her sister, Miss Louise MacNeil, in a moss green printed crepe dress, also with brown accessories and a corsage of yellow roses. The groom was supported by his brother, Cpl. Carl Blynn, of the R.C.A.F. After the marriage ceremony the wedding party, attended by immediate relatives of the bride and groom, was entertained at the apartment of the bride's aunt, Miss Marie Boyd, 67 Morris St., Halifax, where a dainty buffet supper was served. The happy couple left on a wedding trip through the province before taking up residence in Halifax.

MAIN DRIVING WHEELS OF CANADA'S WAR EFFORT

HURRYING wheels, thundering wheels. Wheels that have made it possible for Canada to grow in strength.

Today those wheels—the driving wheels of Canada's railways—are setting the pace for the war effort. They haul raw materials to humming war industries and rush away the finished tools of battle. They move food and fuel for the home front and the fighting front. They speed civilians on essential business, hasten troops to camps, embarkation points and on leave.

It's Canada's big war job. A job that only railway wheels can do. A job in which an army of 150,000 railway workers, men and women, is in the fight for Canada... shop crews and train crews, yard workers, section hands, telegraphers, signal men and office workers, a multitude of men and women in a multitude of jobs. They are making the giant wheels turn faster and faster.

From coast to coast in Canada, we—your railways—are rolling in the service of freedom, and our lines to and in the United States have linked the war efforts of two great sister nations.

The railway wheels are driving, in war as in peace, for Canada.

"What Was A Lime Juicer?"

It is recorded that back about 1804 the British Navy made a ration of Lime or Lemon juice essential on its ships in order to prevent scurvy among the sailors. Sailing vessels generally began to use these fruits for their crews, hence got the nickname of "Lime Juicers."

Modern Discoveries:—Modern nutrition has made many discoveries since that early date as to why certain foods react on our growth and health as they do. The complicated groups of chemical compounds known as vitamins and of body mineral needs is a fascinating study, but it requires treatment by an expert nutritionist. It is ground on which a simple horticulturist must tread delicately, however, from our standpoint as gardeners the interesting point is the part played by vegetables and small fruits in providing vitamin supplies as well as food calories.

Sources of Vitamin A:—In choosing the vegetables for our gardens we can well keep these points in mind as well as certain other characteristics, such as storage qualities and ease with which these can be grown in the average home garden. As vegetables that can be easily grown in our gardens and are particularly good sources of Vitamin A, may be listed, Fresh Beet Greens, Broccoli, Carrots, Swiss Chard, Parsley, Pumpkin, Spinach, Winter Squash and Turnip Greens. Others that contain fair amounts are Asparagus, Green Snap Beans, Yellow Sweet Corn, Lettuce, Green Peas, Rhubarb, Summer Squash and Tomatoes.

Sources of Vitamin B:—From a similar standpoint one should list as good sources of Vitamin B: Green Peas and as fair resources, Asparagus, Sprouting Broccoli, Sweet Corn, Potatoes, Spinach and Turnip Greens.

Sources of Vitamin C:—As a class, fresh vegetables are good sources of Vitamin C but some of the best are Parsley, Broccoli, Spinach and Cabbage. Additional good sources are fresh Asparagus, Peas, Swiss Chard, Parsnips, Turnip Greens, Tomatoes and Green Beans.

A List to Pick From:—Individual tastes should not be entirely disregarded in making up your garden vegetable list but from the standpoint of ease of growth, nutritional value, variety throughout the season and storage supplies for the winter, the following list might be considered as a basis for your choice:

Lettuce
Spinach
Swiss Chard
Parsley
Peas
Snap Beans
Carrots
Beets
Onions (Use Sets)
Parsnips
Radish
Swede Turnips
Cabbage
Sprouting Broccoli
Tomatoes
Potatoes
Sweet Corn
Sugar Pumpkin
Winter Squash
Asparagus
Rhubarb
Perennials

Life's Journey

Do not look for faults as you go through life
And even should you find them,
It is better by far to be somewhat blind
And look for the good behind them.

For the darkest night has a touch of light
Somewhere in its shadows hiding,
It is better by far to look for a star
Than a spot on the moon abiding.

Do not waste a curse on the universe,
Remember it lived before you;
Do not butt at the storm with your oppugn form
But bend and let it pass o'er you.

The world can never adjust itself
To suit your tastes to the letter,
Things will go wrong your whole life long
And the sooner you know it, the better.

It is foolish to fight with the Infinite,
Be defeated at last in the wrestle,
The wise man shapes into God's great plan
As water shapes in a vessel.

Guard Your Gasoline Ration Book

KEEP IT ON YOUR PERSON • DO NOT LEAVE IT IN YOUR CAR

NOW that you have your 1943-1944 gasoline ration book, it is up to you to keep it at all times in a safe place. If it is lost, burned, or stolen, you will be deprived of coupons which will not be replaced. In this regard, the policy of the Oil Controller is as follows:

- If, through negligence, you lose your gasoline ration book before October 1, 1943, you may be allowed no more, and perhaps less, than half the coupons to which you would be entitled if you were making an original application.
- If, through negligence, you lose your ration book on or after October 1, 1943, you may be allowed no more, and perhaps less, than 25 per cent of the coupons to which you would be entitled if you were making an original application.

The new gasoline rationing system, effective on April 1, will be strictly enforced. Under its provisions, the motorist, as well as the service station attendant, is held responsible if any infractions occur. It is contrary to the orders of the Oil Controller:

- 1 To purchase gasoline with 1942-1943 coupons.
- 2 To purchase gasoline unless you have the correct category sticker affixed to your windshield.
- 3 To detach coupons from your own book. (The removal of the coupons is the duty of the attendant.)
- 4 To have in your possession a gasoline ration coupon not attached to, and forming a part of, a gasoline ration book.
- 5 To have in your possession a gasoline ration book other than the book issued in respect of a vehicle you own, or in respect of a vehicle driven by you with the full consent of the real owner.
- 6 To alter, deface, obliterate, or mutilate any gasoline ration book or coupon.

If you sell your motor vehicle, remember that before making delivery you must remove the windshield sticker or stickers. Remember also that after the sale is completed, you must mail to the nearest Regional Oil Control Office in your province the gasoline ration book or books issued for the vehicle.

April Meeting of Town Council

It is seldom the mayor is called upon to cast a deciding vote at a regular meeting of the town council, but, on Monday night Mayor Theriault voted on three occasions, twice in connection with the hiring of a new chief of police, and once in a matter of advertising to the effect taxes in arrears would be placed in warrant after April 15.

Town Clerk H. A. Nichols read letters and recommendations he had received from applicants for the position of chief of police and caretaker of the town hall. After considering the merits and recommendations of two men, A. G. Gould, of Amherst, and F. J. Thibault, of Digby, and the amount of salary involved, the following motion was moved by Councillor Cardoza, and seconded by Councillor McCleave:

"That Arthur G. Gould be appointed chief of police at a monthly salary of $100, plus travelling expenses from Amherst to Digby, and that the appointment be made for one year on good behaviour." An amendment moved by Councillor Warner and seconded by Councillor Snow asked, "that F. J. Thibault be appointed at $125 per month for one year on good behaviour." On being put to a vote Councillors Warner, Snow and Pyne voted for the amendment, and Councillors McCleave, Warner and Cardoza against. The mayor voted against the amendment, and declared it lost.

ner and Cardoza voted in favor of the motion, and Councillors Warner, Snow and Pyne against. The mayor also voted against the motion, but making a suggestion that Mr. Gould be called to Digby from Amherst for a personal interview. The clerk was instructed to ask Mr. Gould to come at the earliest possible date.

The second matter which called for a vote from the mayor arose out of the question of the collection of tax arrears. Following a discussion Councillor Cardoza moved, and Councillor McCleave seconded that taxes due and in arrears be collected by warrant and that no action be taken thro' the press. The amendment, moved by Warner, seconded by Snow, asked that a notice be inserted in the press to the effect that taxes unpaid after April 15 would be collected by warrant. Councillors Warner, Snow and Pyne voted for the amendment; Councillors Warner, Cardoza and McCleave against. On the deciding vote of the mayor the motion carried.

It was decided at this meeting to increase the wattage of the street lights through the business section of the town from 100 watts to 250 watts.

Town employees were granted 40 cents an hour, and Gerald VanTassel 45 cents an hour.

The net rate roll for the year was passed at $45,971.68.

Charlemagne, Eighth Century monarch, decreed that he be buried in an upright position. The father of Georges Clemenceau, famed French premier, was also buried in this position.

The War Demands Thrift and An End to Waste

We hear lots of squaks—they miss their meat—they miss their tea—they miss their coffee—their sugar—their cars, their gas and their tires.

The boys and girls in the service are missing a lot, too! We can't win a war and have everything we want just as before—wars aren't won that way. War calls for sacrifice from civilians as well as from men and women of the service. Civilians really don't have to sacrifice much in comparison.

There is no escape. The war demands thrift—real thrift and an end to waste! We need every ounce of the strength we can save in order to fight our way through to Victory—and it's worth it. To have Canada free is worth all the meats, tea, coffee, sugar and cars in the world.

Final Report Red Cross Campaign

$843.10 was collected in this district—made up as follows:
Deep Brook Auxiliary	$162.00
Bear River East	65.00
Waldec West	27.30
Lansdowne	19.55
Morganville	15.00
Greenland	15.60
Victory	12.40
An outside donation	4.00
Bear River, Anna-polis and Digby Counties	422.25

Total $843.10 Of the amount given by Bear River East, $15.00 was donated from the proceeds of a Pie Sale held in the School House, which is much appreciated, and helped make a nice total from that district.

In fairness to the employees of the Dominion Construction Corporation Ltd., who are working at the Naval Base in Deep Brook, it should be explained that the amount of $1020 reported earlier from another source, as a "donation" was the result of the subscriptions taken at the Base. These employees come from many parts of the Province, from P.E.I., New Brunswick and Quebec—they represent many nationalities, all giving to the Red Cross, whose activities know no boundaries of race, creed or color. We thank them one and all for this generous subscription.

The amount raised at this point, naturally had a bearing on the totals of neighboring sections, as it was not our aim to solicit from the wage-earner at his place of employment and also at his home. Our final figures are well over our allotment which was $600 and to all the solicitors—the contributors—and to our Local Chairmen, the Red Cross extends heartfelt thanks.

Mrs. A. B. Campbell, President B. R. Red Cross

OBITUARY

Forman L. Rice

The death occurred at his home in Milford Corner on Friday, April 2, of Forman L. Rice, at the age of 74 years. He was born in Bear River, the son of the late William and Seretha (Poole) Rice and lived his entire life in its vicinity.

The deceased had been in poor health for a lengthy period, being unable to carry on his farming duties for the past three years. He had been a patient in the Digby General Hospital for the past two weeks but returned to his home a few days before his death. Besides his wife, formerly Miss Hannah Sheriff, of Caledonia, Queens Co., he is survived by four sons and four daughters, Rex, serving in the American Army Corps; Boyd, Saskatchewan; Kenneth and Max, of Bear River; Ethel, (Mrs. John Kellogg), Detroit, Mich.; Edith, (Mrs. Charles VanTassel), Roxville; Beulah (Mrs. Leo VanTassel), Digby; and Dora, (Mrs. Albain Riley), Bear River; also one sister, Mrs. William Thomas, residing in the U.S.A. and one half-bro-

Graduates As Paratrooper

Private William H. Berry, of the First Canadian Parachute Battalion is spending a furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Berry, of Bear River East.

Private Berry, who is the only paratrooper from Annapolis County, recently returned from Fort Benning, Georgia, where he qualified and obtained his diploma and wings.

While he was not in the South long enough to acquire a southern accent, he did get a deep tan and has many exciting stories to tell. He was a member of an Ack Ack Searchlight Battery of the Atlantic Command for over two years before transferring to the Parachute Battalion.

He will rejoin his unit at Camp Shilo, Manitoba, in the near future for further training.

... and when you buy a Victory Bond, to help Bill, and other boys on active service, you do something that will benefit you too. You save money. It's really a mistake to say that you "buy" a Victory Bond. You are not buying anything. You are saving money, and putting your savings where they will be absolutely safe, and where they earn money for you. (Each $100.00 Victory Bond earns $3.00 a year—3% interest.) You are likely producing more, and earning more. You can save more. You are not buying some things; you can't get them. You are buying less of many things—they're rationed. You can't help saving more. See to it that your savings are kept intact— earmarked for things you will need when the war ends. You will have to replace things that are worn out. You will want a lot of things. Money saved and invested in Victory Bonds will provide cash to pay for them.

WHAT IS A VICTORY BOND?

A VICTORY BOND is the promise of the Dominion of Canada to repay in cash the full face value of the Bond at the time stipulated, with half-yearly interest at the rate of 3% per annum until maturity.

A Victory Bond is the safest investment in Canada. The entire resources of the Dominion stand behind it. Canada has been issuing bonds for 75 years, and has never failed to pay every dollar of principal and interest.

A Victory Bond is an asset more readily converted into cash than any other security.

You can buy Victory Bonds for cash in a lump sum, or you can arrange to pay for them in convenient instalments over a period of six months.

Your Victory Bond salesman will be glad to tell you full particulars.

MARITIME VILLAGE

(By Ralph Marvin)

"Whats cooking?" I asked. Admittedly the question was direct—too direct, perhaps—to ask in another's kitchen. But most people are tolerant of a small boy's questions. At least they used to be in the village.

It was a small village that has grown little larger in the thirty or forty years since I first moved there. That it has grown at all is remarkable, for many Maritime communities have fewer inhabitants today than when they were first settled. And some small hamlets that began hopefully with cleared forest and burntland tilth and ever-enlarging families have now completely disappeared. Aiders grow from their tumbled-in cellars and spruce has resumed its place in the meadow.

Our village, fortunately, has been spared all that. I like to think it carries on much as it did in the time of which I speak. A quiet, uneventful sort of place, you think? Well, not altogether uneventful. To come back to that morning in the neighbor's kitchen where, with snow melting from the tops of my moccasins, I sat beside the stove inquiring "What's cooking?"

The neighbor glanced at the pot slowly warming over the wood fire. "Nothing's cooking," she said, almost regretfully at the small boy's disappointment. "That's only dynamite."

City folk might imagine I had fallen into the clutches of an anti-confederation nihilist. Nothing so prosaic.

The dynamite, naturally enough, was warming, thawing out as it were. There was immediate use for it in the backyard where down behind the henhouse the brook was beginning to cut up.

It had been frozen deep but had melted in a sudden thaw. Now the floes, grating and grinding together, had come to a bend in the stream where they piled themselves into a dam. Over its banks rushed the brook and steadily its rising waters slipped under the henhouse sills and threatened to flood my neighbor's cellar. With her apple barrel and butter jar and yeast jug and cake tin in peril, she found it comforting to have dynamite posibly warming on her kitchen stove.

It required only a few half-sticks to blast the ice dam and some of us lads got into an argument as to which was the more fun: the explosions, or following the chunks of ice as they jostled one another down stream to the ocean. At any rate, we agreed that spring was on its way.

Spring never became a fact, however, until something far more exciting than ice came down stream. To tell us that winter was really over we needed the spring drive. This was on the other side of our village. No brook, it was a man-sized river that sluiced logs to the mill.

Long before it sauntered past the village wharf and the breakwater and the sandbar on its way to the bay, our river wove deep and black down between wooded hills. And every spring it bore downstream the results of a winter's toil in which nearly every family had taken part.

If the drive took place between Monday and Friday, there was tension in the schoolroom. Stanchioned to their desks, boys chafed to join their fathers and big brothers row at the end of their long winter's work. Somewhere upstream, the river was a moving carpet of logs roaring through the narrows, leaping and rolling and slipping past one another until they slid quietly into the millpond.

That night there'd be a dance with caulked boots drumming on the cook house floor. Leaning back, his chair tilted against the wall, the fiddler scraped away interminably. With his fiddle held lightly against his chest and his eyes closed, he was motionless except for fingers busy at Money Musk and Fisher's Hornpipe and jig tunes his grandparents had brought with them from Ireland. There was a suspicion that as he played, he slept. Modern young people would say he was "out of the world."

Fiddling seems to run in families. There was one family several of whose members could play. People would say of them in a lowered tone and with a pitying wag of the head, "Oh, yes, they're musical," very much as if that family were just a trifle tetchy.

They had little competition from those of us who played only the jew's harp or mouth organ. True, one young man played the concertina but only to a group of contemporaries shivering about him inside the covered bridge. That was the best place of all for a concert, far better than the village hall. It was cold, draughty, dark—but peaceful. Sometimes a horse-drawn pump would scrape slowly through its echoing shadows as its driver obeyed the injunction to "Walk your horse and save the fine," but they never interrupted us. If the horse were sensitive it might twitch an ear or roll a baleful eye as it passed the concertina player, but the rest of us were lost in admiration.

The musician was also a vocalist. I don't recall how extensive was his repertoire, but his favorite number was a favorite with us, too. It was the old and doleful ballad of Barbara Allen who, through the centuries, had become the somewhat more rakish barby Ellen. Otherwise, she remained as ever, unfinchingly callous as ever, greeting her lover with, "young man, I think you're dying," a salutation which quite pardonably made him turn his face unto the wall.

Most of our village music was produced from the parlor organ. This was regarded as a more respectable instrument, partly because it required formal instruction to play and partly because it was too bulky to portage down to the covered bridge.

Girls took to the keyboard better than we boys did. After a girl had taken a couple of quarters from the music teacher, she could often perform quite acceptably. True, she had to be coaxed. But once you got her pried off the horsehair sofa and had spun the organ stool round to the correct height and had helped her pull out a fistful of stops and had flapped out the swells beside her knees, a girl could pump her feet on the pedals and bring out some mighty fine music. By the time a girl had mastered a march and a waltz, you can be sure she would attract at least a couple of admirers, one to hold the lamp with the hand-painted shade and the other to turn the music.

Sooner or later someone wanted to sing and an older and more experienced player would take her place at the organ. Usually, the songs were hymns. Quite naturally. The only music, some of the older folks had heard was in church; their only poetry, that of the Scriptures. There was an appreciation of beauty as well as of devotion in the singing of hymns in the lamplight.

Most of us who remember those days can recall only too keenly other occasions when the hymns were less joyful. To every home there came a time when hymns were sung by muted voices, sung sadly, with a grief the whole community felt. And some of us learned that sorrow is somehow more bearable in a village, where it is shared.

To a traveller, Maritime villagers appear reserved. A generation ago, they really were reserved. When a couple moved to the village the wife soon learned that one just did not drop in unexpectedly on a neighbor. Oh, after perhaps ten years' acquaintance and in emergency, one might call to borrow a bit of butter coloring or ask urgent advice in the preparation of a poultice, but gallivanting—as it was termed—was frowned on. A woman who could find time to sit and gossip in another's kitchen should, by common assent, be better off at home with her housework.

Along about this time of the spring something seemed to go haywire in the home. Meals weren't ready on time, the roller towel was not replaced as frequently as usual, and a man couldn't get an articulate reply to a civil question. Ask the head of the house where the bottle of mange cure was, and she'd mumble at you through a mouthful of pins. There were oddly shaped scraps of brown paper littering the living-room, threads were dangling from the table, and snippets of cloth hung from the backs of chairs.

The dressmaker was visiting. Every other year, she'd come for a week and stay for a fortnight. She brought with her not only new ideas for spring styles but a contagious vocabulary. In no time at all every female member of the family was babbling away about ruching and goring and basting and frogs cut on the bias and the most incomprehensible rigmorole you ever heard in all your life. Women would stand for hours square in the middle of the hooked rug while the dressmaker fidgeted about with scissors and needles and enough braid to make a new set of traces.

It seemed an awful bother to a boy who asked for nothing more than a new mackinaw and promise of the first pair of long pants for his sixteenth birthday. And it was more than a little annoying to a man whose suit of Sunday best lasted for twenty years and whose wardrobe required only the annual replenishment of a nightshirt.

But when all was done, one had to admit that the results were not bad. The dressmaker's pattern which she carried in her head had produced a brown satin that would make a woman feel well dressed for years. Afterwards, it could be stored in a chest until time to make over for a younger member of the family.

Twice a year occurred an event which is not without its interest in the country even today. The first sign of this semi-annual quickening of community life was when the youngsters didn't get back as quickly from the post-office as they usually did. Then the rumor spread that the mailman had been seen to carry an extra bag into the post office.

The spring and summer catalogues had arrived and his assistant—some schoolboy only too flattered to help—were poking the rolled-up volumes into all the mail-boxes.

At home, the kids usually got first go to the catalogues. But once they had examined the pictures of bicycles and Indian suits and high leather boots and .22 rifles, the women took over and there was talk about a new gingham on page 63.

Every householder in the village received a catalogue, everyone that is except Old Jim. He didn't need a catalogue, he claimed, but admitted he didn't know as he'd ever looked at one. Now Jim may have been a trifle eccentric, but no one in the village would have said so. We allowed that Jim—well, he did things his own way. He'd been living alone on his side-hill farm for so long he'd got out of touch with life. Some of us thought it would be a good thing for him to get himself a wife, but Jim didn't appear to be interested.

One spring, the mail order house learned of Jim's existence and put him on their mailing list. There was quite a lot of talk about Jim getting a catalogue like the rest of us and we were rather pleased. We knew he wasn't much of a reader but figured he'd enjoy looking at the pictures.

None of us knew how avidly he took it until about a week later it became known that he had bought a money order for twelve dollars and ninety-five cents and sent it off to the mail order house. The reason we heard of it was that Jim hadn't addressed his letter in the conventional way. The catalogue instructions—if he'd managed to read them—must have confused him. He'd written on the envelope his name, and the name of our village, county and province. So the postmaster explained to Jim that his letter wouldn't go very far that way and had given him a new envelope which he addressed properly for him.

We wondered what it was Jim had ordered that came to twelve ninety-five. While we were worrying over that, Jim used to come from his farm on the backroad every night to the post office. He'd sit beside the stove until the mailman came and then he'd rush out and if the mailman had brought any packages, Jim would go right up and stare in their faces. Then, he'd walk back into the post office and stand around until the mail was assorted. This went on for five or six nights until some of us were getting upset about Jim's apparent anxiety. He always kept his own counsel, but it was felt to be a shame a man like that had something on his mind and no wife to confide it to.

The night the postmaster called out "Jim, a letter for you!" we were all dying to know what was in it, but we tried not to let on. Jim must have sensed our curiosity, because he opened the letter right in front of us. As he read it—and Jim always took his time at reading—he began to look disappointed, then angry, and first thing we knew he flung the letter down on the floor and stomped out of the office.

After a decent interval, one of the men edged over and picked up the letter and a money order that was attached to it. In a neighbourly way, he read the letter aloud to us and you could have heard a pin drop. It was from the mail order company and said, "We are returning herewith your money order for twelve ninety-five, and beg to inform you that the object advertised under No. 645J in our latest catalogue is a spring coat and not a woman."

Poor Old Jim, the first catalogue he'd ever received had been too much for him. He never was much of a hand to read, but when he saw what seemed to be a likely looking bride and at a reasonable price, he thought he'd order her. Now we knew he'd just keep on living alone on his farm up the back road.

Some people in the village had quite a laugh at Jim's ignorance. But most of us felt it wouldn't have hurt a big, wealthy firm like that mail order house to have sent the woman right along to him. It didn't take an expert to recognize that 645J would have made a good wife for any man.

Beekeeper's Sugar Permits Now Available

H. G. Payne, Truro, Provincial Apiarist, has received sugar permit forms from the Sugar Control Board and is prepared to issue them to bona fide beekeepers provided their applications are in order. No permits can be issued unless the number of colonies to be fed and the minimum number of pounds of sugar required are definitely stated.

In accordance with Wartime Prices and Trade Board Regulations, any beekeeper desiring to purchase sugar for use in respect to his bees shall forward to the Provincial Apiarist of the province in which he resides a statement showing (a) the beekeeper's name and complete address; (b) the number of colonies of bees required to be fed by him; (c) the period during which it is anticipated it will be necessary to feed such bees; and (d) the minimum number of pounds of sugar required to feed such bees in such period.

Upon receipt of such statement, the Provincial Apiarist shall (a) verify, to the best of his knowledge and from records in his possession, the facts stated; (b) if satisfied as to the facts stated, issue and sign in triplicate a special purchase permit setting forth therein the name and complete address of such beekeeper, and the minimum number of pounds of sugar such beekeeper requires to purchase to preserve his bees and his production of honey in the period stated in the application; and (c) forward the original and duplicate of such permit to such beekeeper and the triplicate to the Sugar Administrator.

No beekeeper shall acquire any sugar for use in respect to his bees and no person shall supply any such sugar to a beekeeper except the quantity set forth in the said special purchase permit.

Looks Like Record Potato Year in U. S.

While no definite information is available as regards the 1943 potato acreage in this country, indications in the United States point to large acreage and record crop. Tabb Potato Service, Chicago, in reviewing the outlook says, "there are many growers who are planting potatoes for the first time—growers that have been planting crops such as onions that require considerable labor. Of course, we all know that practically every Victory Garden will have some potatoes. With average weather conditions, we will undoubtedly have the largest potato crop we have ever had when we take into consideration both the commercial districts and the Victory Gardens. We are going to need all the potatoes we can possibly produce because there will be serious shortages in other vegetables."

The United States Crop Reporting Board says should there be 3,174,000 acres planted to potatoes in 1943 the probable acreage for harvest would be around 3,082,000 acres.

Fight Warble Fly Now

Losses in Canada attributed to the Warble Fly, also commonly called Heel Fly or Gad Fly, are estimated to be as high as $14,000,000 annually. When the flies are depositing their eggs on the hairs of the legs and lower parts of the body the cattle often become terrified and with upraised tails run from their tormentors. This stampeding results in reduction of the milk yield of dairy cattle and the loss of flesh in beef animals. Milk loss has been placed up to 25 per cent, beef loss 10 per cent and leather loss $1,000,000.

This is the time of year for farmers to wage war on the Warble Fly which causes annual damage to Canada's wartime production estimated at $14,000,000.

Dr. E. E. I. Hancock, Truro, Animal Pathologist, in discussing means of combating this pest points out that after the eggs hatch they penetrate the skin, migrate through the system and finally come to rest under the skin of the back. Here the grubs form cysts and cut breathing holes in the skin. After several weeks in this position the full grown grubs squeeze their way through the breathing holes and drop to the ground. This is usually in late winter or early spring. They seek protection in debris or loose soil, and after a month or longer, the mature fly emerges from the grub.

The presence of grubs in the bodies of cattle causes them to become unthrifty and beef animals do not fatten or put on finish well while infested. The meat wastage is also great as affected portions must be trimmed from the carcass and this usually occurs in the more expensive cuts on the back and loin.

The damage to hides consists of holes and scar tissue and is very conspicuous in tanned leather. When such holes are numerous the hide is useless for most commercial purposes. Affected hides are docked from one to two cents per pound even if only a few holes are present. Hides showing five or more grub holes are graded No. 2. This often means a decrease of one dollar per hide.

CONTROL—Warble flies are most easily destroyed in the grub stage after having reached the backs of cattle, by applying a wash containing derris powder. It is prepared as follows: One pound derris powder; 1/4 pound soft soap, one gallon water. The soft soap is boiled in a quart of water and when cooled a little is poured into the derris powder in a bucket and mixed into a paste. Cold water is added slowly, while stirring, to make up to one gallon and the mixture is ready for use. Apply thoroughly to the backs with a stiff fibre brush. One pint of wash is usually sufficient for one average sized animal. The proper time to apply the first wash is when the mature grubs in the back become dark in color. This may be determined by squeezing out a few of the larger warbles. A second or third treatment may be given if necessary at 30 day intervals to kill the grubs that continue to arrive in the animals' backs.

Commercial warble fly

powders or mixtures are available in many localities and if used according to directions given by the manufacturer should be satisfactory.

Further information on this subject may be had on application to the Department of Agriculture.

Ditching Applications Close April 24

Applications are now being received by Angus Banting, Truro, Agricultural Engineer, N. S. Dept. of Agriculture, from farmers wishing to have tile ditching done. The department's program provides for 25,000 feet this spring and summer in each of the following counties, Annapolis, Kings, Hants, and Halifax. April 24 is the last day for receiving applications for this work.

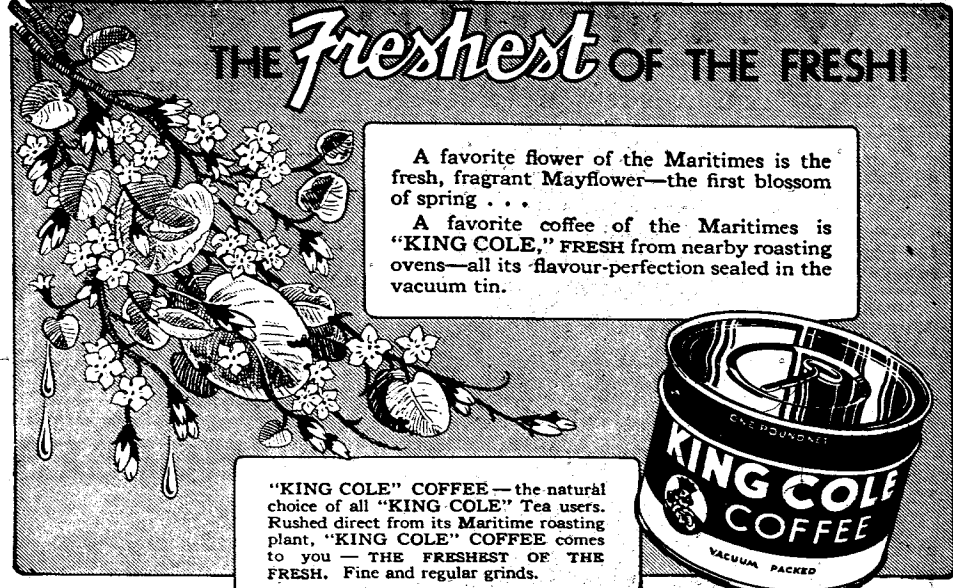

Reports Low Percentage of Reactors

Dr. E. E. I. Hancock, Truro, Provincial Animal Pathologist, states that the tuberculin test of cattle in the western counties is proceeding satisfactorily. Federal inspectors began work in Digby Co., April 1 and are also working in Halifax county near the Hants border. The recently completed test in Annapolis County showed only 37 reactors out of 13,628 cattle inspected, which is under 3 per cent.

C. E. Benoit Goes to Quebec

Charles E. Benoit, B.S.A., concluded his services as Chief Poultry Promoter, Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, on March 30 and the following day left for Quebec City to take charge of poultry work, Quebec Dept. of Agriculture. Prior to his departure he was presented by his fellow workers with a travelling bag. The presentation was made by Dr. W. V. Longley, Director of Extension, in the office of the Principal of the N. S. Agricultural College. Regrets at the severance of seven years of pleasant relations and best wishes on the entry into another field of service were expressed by various speakers. Mr. Benoit, who in the words of Dr. Longley, "is one of the best extension workers in Canada", is widely and pleasantly known throughout this province. His leaving is a matter of regret to Nova Scotia poultrymen to whom he has been a friend and an inspiration and to his fellow workers who have always held him in the highest regard. He is a native of Antigonish County, a graduate of the N.S.A.C., and a former employee of the Federal Dept. of Agriculture.

WEYMOUTH

LOCAL AND GENERAL

C. G. Jones, Weymouth, was a visitor to Middleton last week on business.

Ronald Titus has returned to Digby after spending a few months here.

Mr. and Mrs. John LeBlanc, Weymouth, were visitors to Halifax last week.

Reynold Taylor, Weymouth North, spent a few days in Saint John last week.

Mrs. Frank Williams and son Henry, spent Tuesday, March 23rd, in Digby.

Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Filleul and family were visitors to Halifax on Wednesday.

Alfred Keyes, of Shelburne, spent Sunday March 28th, with N. L. Ruggles, Weymouth North.

Mrs. Baxter and Miss J. O'Brien returned to Weymouth North after spending a few days in Noel, Hants County.

Fred Walker, of Digby, spent Sunday with his mother, Mrs. Hannah Walker, Weymouth North.

Harry Wagner, who has been employed at Labrador for some time, returned home last week.

Frank Williams, Weymouth North, left on Monday for Deep Brook, where he has accepted a position.

Pte. Phillip J. Filleul, who is stationed at Halifax, spent the week end at his home in Weymouth North.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Williams and two children, Henry and Clare, were visitors to Digby on Saturday.

Capt. Aubrey Butler, Mrs. Butler and daughter Marilyn, spent a few days in Weymouth North last week.

A number of men from Weymouth North, employed at Deep Brook, spent the week end at their homes here.

The pupils of Weymouth North High School sold $85.50 worth of War Saving Stamps during the month of March.

Amos Hill, who has been employed at Labrador for the past six months, is spending a short vacation at his home in Weymouth North.

Sgt. Samson, instructor for J Co., 2 Bn. (R) W.N.S.R., is in town and will take up residence here. Mrs. Samson is expected to join her husband very soon.

Visiting Mrs. Grierson Wednesday were her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Cyrus Grierson, of New York, and small son, David. Mrs. Cyrus Grierson has been spending the past three weeks at Annapolis where she was called because of the illness of her father, Charles Dargie.

The president and regular Red Cross attendants were highly pleased with the number of additional workers who attended the meeting Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Grierson. Two quilts were completed during the afternoon. Members who could not find space to work at the quilting frames, pieced material for future quilts.

A recruiting meeting at the Community Theatre Wednesday last, drew a large audience. The speaker, Major Nelly, Kentville, was introduced by Lieut. J. L. Comeau, Commanding Officer of the local Reserve Army. Major Nelly gave a very interesting address after which Lieut. Charles, C.W.A.C., who together with two other members accompanied Major Nelly, gave a very enlightening explanation of that branch of the Women's Service. Lieut. Charles spoke clearly and frankly, giving facts, and dispelling many misleading fifth columnists' rumors that have been in circulation regarding the C.W.A.C. both here and overseas. A local advisory committee was formed with Mrs. D. Rice as chairwoman. Much added interest in the C.W.A.C. is being shown by our girls in this community and it is understood, some have already applied for enlistment.

Visiting the Matheson's Friday were Mr. and Mrs. John Shaffner and small daughter, of Bridgetown.

Word has been received by his parents that LAC Jack MacNeill is now stationed at St. Johns, Quebec.

Melman Melanson, of Boston, who has been visiting his sisters, Mrs. Dixon Rice and Miss Mable Melanson, has returned to his home.

Miss Mable Melanson who has been convalescing at her sister's, Mrs. Dixon Rice, for five weeks, has returned to her home in Weymouth Mills.

Mrs. D.V. Theriault, accompanied by her daughters, Yvonne and Theresa, of Sacred Heart Convent, motor-ed to Yarmouth Saturday. Miss Theresa returned to spend the week end with her parents.

In the Weymouth notes last week it was mentioned that Kenneth Filleul had left for Halifax, having been "called up". We have since found out that Kenneth had not waited to be "called up"—he had enlisted on his own accord.

The Red Cross Society met last week at the home of Mrs. Dixon Rice, president. There was an unusually large attendance which we hope will continue. After a busy but pleasant afternoon, tea was served at the cost of ten cents per person. The amount realized from the tea was $9.60, which will be added to the fund.

Just to worry the April showers a very delightful "cup and saucer shower" was held Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Fergusson, under the auspices of St. Thomas' Guild. The cups and saucers, of which more than five dozen were received, were gifts to the new Guild Hall. The sunny afternoon weather permitted many ladies to attend and the refreshments of assorted sandwiches and small cakes added to the pleasant afternoon.

Mrs. Grierson presided at the tea table, which was beautifully centred by a vase of American Beauty roses. Mrs. Fergusson was assisted in serving by Mrs. Brooks, Mrs. V. MacNeill and Miss Ruth Goodwin. Mrs. Hines also gave valuable and much appreciated assistance.

Farm Labour Survey Being Made

The Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture and the Dominion Department of Labour are co-operating in endeavoring to assist in making available to farmers all possible sources of farm labour, as it is realized that manpower is the chief limiting factor in the reaching of the production goals as set down for the 1943 season. It is also realized that food is of vital importance in maintaining maximum war effort. It is becoming increasingly apparent that there is danger of food scarcity in this country because of the huge demands on food supply by the armed forces, Great Britain and munition workers.

Accordingly a survey is being made of farm labour required. Meetings have already been held in a number of the agricultural counties and county committees have been set up. Application cards for farm help are being sent out through agricultural society secretaries and other organized agricultural groups. These cards are to be filled out and sent in either direct or through the local secretary to the National Selective Service office in the county or to the agricultural representative. It is very important that these be filled out promptly and returned, particularly as there are a large number of permits of men from the farms that have been issued for temporary work which are due for cancellation this month. In fact, many of them have been cancelled as of April 1.

The Nova Scotia Department of Education is co-operating in getting farm help through a policy that will release students for farm work. This policy is one which should materially help, especially in those sections of the province where there are a large number of students from the rural districts attending high school.

Farmers who are in need of help can well get in touch with their local committee man or direct with the agricultural representative relative to the situation. Counties which to date have no such organization can have one on application to their agricultural representative.

Agricultural committees include the agricultural representative, an official from National Selective Service office, county inspector of schools, and representatives from the county farmers' association, the board of trade and service clubs, as well as, in some instances, the municipal council.

Red Cross Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Bear River Red Cross was held on Thursday evening with the President in the chair. A full and final report was given of the Campaign showing that $843.10 had been collected in this district, of which a detailed account was printed in last week's issue. A vote of thanks was extended to the chairman and collectors and all those who so ably assisted in carrying on the work through the campaign.

Mrs. A. B. Campbell, the President, was appointed a delegate to the Provincial annual meeting to be held in Halifax, April 21st.

The Executive was given authority to appoint a Hospitality Committee to co-operate with similar committees which will be appointed by other organizations.

Major A. M. Simons in reporting for the Entertainment Committee stated that after Easter more Red Cross activities would be achieved.

Presentation Made Priest

Rev. R. N. Deveau, recently ordained in Halifax, following his studies at Holy Heart Seminary, celebrated his first Solemn High Mass in his parish church of Stella Maris, Meteghan. The event was signalized by attendance of many clergy and parishioners, his parents, friends and Boy Scouts as well as a number of members of the Order of the Sisters of Charity.

He was assisted by Rev. M. J. LeBlanc, of St. Alphonse de Clare, and for Deacon and Sub-Deacon, Rev. L. Comeau, of East Pubnico, and Rev. H. Boudreau, Yarmouth. Rev. N. Theriault of Caledonia was Master of Ceremonies. An able and inspiring sermon was given by Rev. J. E. LeBlanc of St. Bernard. The choir, directed by Rev. A. Theriault, curate at Meteghan, and Rev. Sister Olivia of the Sacred Heart, Meteghan, rendered a well-prepared Mass with appropriate singing. Bernice Walsh-Comeau was soloist in the reception hymn.

Before the commencement of the Mass an address of tribute was presented the new priest by Augustin Comeau, Scoutmaster, assisted by Scouts Pierre Belliveau and Harvey Gaudet, accompanied by a purse of some $200, the recipient responding with evident emotion at the kindness of his many friends in his home parish.

After Mass he officiated at the Solemn Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament, followed by the Magnificat.

Present in the sanctuary were Right Reverend Monseigneur Bourneuf, pastor of Meteghan, and all clergy of Digby and Yarmouth Counties.

After the services a banquet was served at the residence of the mother of the new priest, Mrs. A. J. Deveau, to the family, clergy, and intimate friends.

Deep Brook Naval Training Station Cost $11,082,966

Total expenditures by the government to March 1 for establishment of the Naval training establishment, H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, near Deep Brook, were $11,082,966 it was reported in a return tabled in the Commons in response to a request by P. C. Black (Prog. Con. Cumberland).

On completion it is expected to have 6,000 under training at the establishment at one time, with an operating staff of 2,178, the return said.

Estimated annual operating cost is $3,580,882, including all expenses of the operating personnel.

Expenditures on property for the establishment total $54,485; with $215 in outstanding purchases and claims.

MARRIAGE

Long - Robar
At the United Baptist parsonage, New Glasgow, on Wednesday afternoon, March 24th, the marriage was solemnized of Miss Hilda Eileen, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Odbur Robar, of Virginia East, to Lindsay Eugene, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Long, of Clementsport Heights. Rev. J. Earle DeLong officiating. After the ceremony the happy couple motored to Pictou where they have taken up residence. The groom is employed as riveter in Pictou Shipyard.

Board of Trade To Continue Hostel

At a supper meeting held in United Church Hall, Tuesday evening, the Digby Board of Trade voted to continue the recreation centre operated under their auspices in the so-called Turnbull Building at the corner of Water and Church Streets until the Navy League Hostel was opened, providing the premises could be held. It was also decided to ask the town council to vote another $25 for the month of May toward this work.

A report on the Board of Trade Dance Hall was given at this meeting. To date this arrangement whereby the Digby Board of Trade is supervising dances in the Scout Hall has proven most successful. In the seven weeks the Board of Trade has been operating the hall, two members of the Board have been delegated to supervise the dances on Monday and Friday evenings. It was decided Tuesday night to engage a permanent manager who will act as supervisor along with one member of the Board.

A letter of appreciation from the Board of Trade from Lieut.-Commander E. H. Cowan of the Deep Brook Naval Establishment, was read. Lieut. Commander Cowan expressed his thanks to the Board for the co-operation they have shown, and for the honor bestowed upon him by making him an honorary member of the Digby Board of Trade.

Following the meeting the board adjourned to St. Patrick's Social Club where a bowling team from the Digby Board of Trade rolled with a team from Grace United Church.

Smith's Cove

Miss Kay Baker, Middleton, is spending a short visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Baker.

Sentenced to Four Months

At a session of the Digby County Court on Thursday last, "Jerry" Stoddard, of Freeport, was sentenced to four months in the County jail on a charge of carrying concealed weapons. Stoddard was defended by M. S. Leonard. The prosecution was conducted by E. J. Theriault. Stoddard's sentence dates from April 8. County Court Judge K. L. Crowell, presided.

The arrest was made at Westport about one month ago by the local detachment of the R.C.M.P. The accused was committed to stand trial by a higher court by Stipendiary D. B. Kenney, of Westport.

At the same sitting of the court a twelve-year-old boy was given suspended sentence on a charge of laying an obstruction on the railroad track, causing the derailment of a trolley.

Discuss Turnip Seed Growing

A special meeting of the Maple Leaf Agricultural Society was held at the home of Lloyd McNeill, Marshalltown, on Monday evening for the members interested in growing Ditmars Swede turnip seed.

R. V. Ditmars and W. H. Spurr, of Deep Brook, addressed the meeting and gave valuable information on the setting out of turnip sets, fertilization, cultivation and the harvesting of seed. The members extended a vote of thanks to Mr. Ditmars and Mr. Spurr for attending the meeting and for valuable advice on growing seed.

The next regular meeting of the society will be held at the home of Orbin Minard, Acaciaville on Friday, May 7th, 1943. At this meeting the report of the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Farmers' Association held in Truro last January, will be read and discussed.

Chief Thibault Again on the Job

People of Digby are glad to see Fred J. Thibault back in the uniform of the Chief of Police. Fred resigned from the office held for a number of years on December 1st, when he applied for a raise in salary the town council did not see fit to grant at that time. Frank Robinson was engaged in the dual office of Chief of Police and Superintendent of Streets and Water.

At the first meeting of the town council—following the civic election—there was considerable discussion over the combined post held by Mr. Robinson, and the majority of the council felt the offices should be again separated and a full-time policeman appointed. As the result of this decision the town advertised for tenders for the chief of police job.

At the April meeting of the council the choice was between Arthur G. Gould, of Amherst and former police chief Fred Thibault.

Mr. Gould's tender was for $100 monthly, and Mr. Thibault's for $125 a month. Mr. Gould was called to Digby for an interview, but Mr. Thibault was engaged to his old position.

Frank W. Robinson is still retained by the town as superintendent of streets and water at a salary of $125 per month.

Becoming More Of a Bright Spot

"You can see the difference" along the business section of Digby's main thoroughfare—Water Street, since the town has installed more powerful bulbs in the street lights throughout this section.

Decision to take this step was made at the April meeting of the town council, and

Lynn Flier is Home After Bombing Berlin

Blasting Berlin with giant block-busters, Bombardier Roger M. Holdsworth, son of Attorney Medley T. Holdsworth of Lynn, Mass., is home on furlough, holds the distinction of being the first Lynn flier to rain explosives on the German capital.

Other Lynn fliers have compiled brilliant records as bombardier and pilots in the North African campaign, but Holdsworth was Lynn's representative in the terrific pounding which the combined Allied air forces handed Berlin on a date long to be remembered in history, March 1.

Getting away clean this time in the Berlin raid—unlike the experience of last August when after attacking a coastal city in a bombing flight, he was shot down in the English channel and for 72 hours the crew floated helplessly until rescued by a British warship.

"When we got away from our precious target that day, we could see a sea of flames spreading, shooting up from the center of Berlin," recalled Holdsworth, who has been a member of the Royal Canadian Air Force for the past two years.

"The whole raid lasted about 30 minutes and there was plenty of anti-aircraft fire coming at us, the gunners having been somewhat ready for us."

"Nervous at all during the raid?" Holdsworth was asked. "No," he replied, "the first two or three times you might get an attack of nerves, but after that control re-asserts itself."

The Germans will crack from the continued bombing, the Lynn flier believes. They won't be able to stand it like the British did in the days of the Battle of Britain.

Guardedly, he offered no opinion as to the time element.

Once before Holdsworth has been on a bombing expedition over Berlin, on the night of January 16-17, when two out of 500 RAF planes failed to return.

The Lynn flier has lived through weeks of crowded action lately and for a spell was out on bombing trips seven out of ten nights, after which he and others in the crew were given rest periods of a week.

One of the high spots of a recent rest period was a trip through all parts of England and Scotland where he met Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt in London.

Holdsworth enlisted with the Air Force in Canada in June, 1941. Later he became an aerial photographer. Since boyhood he had made photography his hobby, having operated motion picture cameras and developed pictures for many years.

He was graduated from the No. 6 Bombing and Gunnery school of the Royal Canadian Air Force in Mountain View, Ontario.

Prior to enlistment in the Royal Canadian Air Force he was employed at the Registry of Deeds office in Salem. He is a graduate of Lynn Classical High School and studied at Boston University and Northeastern University.

The Lynn flier last visited Lynn in April, 1942, and returned at that time with his bride, the former Miss Roberta June Bell, of St. Stephens, N. B., who is now an employee of the Canadian War Dent. office staff in Ontario. She accompanied him on his current trip home.

since then the old 100 watt lamps have been replaced with 250 watt lamps.

The change has brightened up the town considerably.

Sixty-six men and seven women are represented in the hall of fame in New York City.

About This and That

"A new world lies ready to be explored—not exploited—in which there should and can be gainful employment and a share of the better things in life for everyone if we are ready to apply the same intensive methods to the production of civilian goods after the war as we are now doing in the production of wartime materials and supplies," says an editorial in the March issue of the C-I-L Oval. "Full employment and a rising standard of living can be a reality if government, industry and society in general are willing to accept their full share in building a better peace, as they are now doing to fight for that peace."

When sweet peace finally descends on our war-stricken land, one of the most interesting things to watch will be all these emergency taxes making themselves a permanent part of our tax structure.

An important task of the next peace conference will be to bring freedom of thought to Japan. Now any thoughts that might be interpreted as dangerous are rigidly banned. A professor of politics in Kyoto Imperial University was dismissed because he remarked that the laws of any country depended on the economic structure of the land. Another professor was expelled because he criticized the conduct of an empress who died over 1000 years ago.

In every country, even Japan, there are free souls that revolt against tyranny of this sort. The task will be to pick them out from the mass and give them a chance to assert themselves. In no other way can the rest of the world find safety.

You can't fool all the people all the time, but you can't keep a politician from trying.

Fortune Magazine has been telling the world something about the house of the future. Tomorrow's bath-rooms will have sun lamps in the walls or ceiling, towel racks made of hot water pipes, as in the newer hotels, so towels are always warm and dry. A floor warm enough for bare feet and a wash basin big enough to bathe the baby will add to its joys. Which is all very fine—speed the day.

When stoveless kitchens are suggested they sound a little queer. The idea is that each utensil will be plugged in separately. Cooking will be very flexible and discontinuous. The housewife wants to think about that a bit. It's nice to be able to plug in the breakfast coffee, cereal and bacon and eggs—if any—by the living room fire. But there are times when she wants a lot of different things cooking in a condensed space where she can keep an eye on all at once.

She will like a refrigerator with a circular inside, and round trays which go around like a lazy Susan. But a stoveless kitchen is a little harder to grasp.

The growing scarcity of doctors in this country may soon necessitate the rationing of symptoms.

Since the 1943 tax bills were mailed last week, Digby's $5.25 tax rate is again the subject of much discussion. That extra twenty-five cents makes quite a difference.

Nevertheless, we do not believe that the citizens of Digby really have anything to kick about this year—that is in comparison with what they will have to kick about next year and the years after. Digby is up against a tough proposition, and unless this town is able to receive something in the way of a federal subsidy similar to that recently granted to the city of Halifax, our tax rate will soar out of all proportion.

The 1941 census gives Digby town a population of 1630—we believe that within a year this town of 1600 people will have to afford the police protection and other services required of a city of 10,000 or 12,000 population. We believe that by next year this time Digby's police protection will be costing the town more than $300 monthly against the present $125. Other civil services will rise proportionately.

In spite of these probable increases in the cost of civic administration, there will be little the town can do but draw on tax revenues that can be derived from its present population to "foot the bills". The additional thousands who will be enjoying the services afforded by our own town will be exempt from town taxation of any kind.

Greek Navy Bounds Back in War Again

The Greek navy, which lost so heavily during the battle of Greece and evacuation from Crete in the summer of 1941, is once again as strong as it was before its battered units limped into Alexandria, Egypt, almost two years ago, bearing the last of the heroic defenders of Crete.

During the defense of that island and the subsequent evacuation of Greek and British troops the Greek navy lost four out of its ten large destroyers and ten out of a dozen torpedo boats. Not only have all of these now been replaced, but more ships even have been added.

Thanks to the old ships turned over to Greece by Britain and to new ships built in British shipyards especially for it, the Greek navy is an important factor in the allied control of sea routes all over the world.

There has been a close link between the navies of Greece and Britain for many years, and this is now proving of great value. British naval missions to Greece have helped that country develop its enlarged fighting navy of modern times.

Bridges, Factories, Disappear In Enemy Cameras

Up to the present war camouflage paints proved fairly satisfactory in hiding the painted object from enemy observation but the modern reconnaissance plane equipped with elaborate cameras using the latest infra-red photographic film has necessitated the introduction of infra-red reflecting camouflage paints, the development of which is described in the March issue of C-I-C Oval.

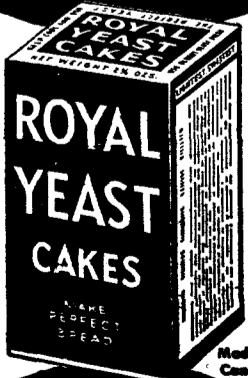

Objects covered with earlier camouflage paints are clearly discernible in an infra-red photograph because their infra-red reflective properties are different from those of natural foliage.

Now such objects as bridges, factories and armaments can be rendered practically invisible to the naked eye or lens of the enemy camera by use of new infra-red reflecting paints, perfected by the Toronto laboratories of C-I-L's Paint and Varnish Division.

The ancient Romans had a set ritual of applause for public performance, expressing degrees of approval—snapping the fingers, clapping the palms, and waving the flap of their togas. This was the origin of our hand-clapping.

Big Ant Hills Aid Australian Allies

American fliers in Australia have an odd ally, the tiny white termite that builds ant hills three times the height of a man and many times his girth.

These hills rise in the parched and almost treeless desert lands of Northern Australia. Soldiers find their shade makes valuable safety spots in which to hide bombs from spying Jap fliers.

Between Birdum and Australia's northern port city of Darwin, the white ant, one of the most destructive of the termite family, has built its weird and castled city. Its nests, all pointing north and south like the needle of a compass, lift their thousands of heads like giant gray tombstones.

The white ant builds its house after the sun goes down, but works with an eye to the sun. It builds so that the broad sides of the hill face east and west, an instinctive plan for insuring quick drying of the "mortar."

Temperance Teaching in Provincial Schools

Dr. W. C. Ross has been appointed to supervise the teaching of temperance in the public schools of Nova Scotia according to a recent statement by Premier A. S. MacMillan in the Legislative Assembly. Following the naming of a successor to his present position of Superintendent of Attendance with the Department of Education, Dr. Ross will conduct a preliminary survey of the schools prior to organizing them for the temperance program, Premier MacMillan said.

He added that a temperance program for use in the schools had been supplied him by the Department of Education, but that he had not yet had an opportunity to peruse it. The aim of Dr. Ross will be "to teach the true meaning of temperance in all things to young people," Premier MacMillan said. He told the members that Dr. Ross had been very highly recommended to the Government for the position, which will carry a salary of $4,000 a year.

Fuze or Fuse—What's The Difference?

In general modern usage fuze is a military term indicating the device for initiating the explosive charge in a shell, mine or grenade. A fuse on the other hand is your old friend that blows out the electric lights at home when the circuit becomes overloaded or is slow burning device used to set off a charge of dynamite in a mine or quarry.

"Handsomeness Is As Handsome Does"

A pretty girl on a Seed Catalogue Cover may make seed selection more interesting but actually such seeds will not necessarily grow any better or have any greater vitality and vigor than those purchased from a local dealer who handles a good line of fresh seeds. In the same way there is not always a real close connection between the colored plate of carrots, let us say, and the product of your garden. Home gardens may produce some very useful products but not too often the glamor girls of catalogue illustrations.

Expectation Versus Reality

Every gardener will confess to a certain amount of disappointment each year that reality is always a few laps behind the rosy pictures that helped sustain him through the process of seed selection and purchase.

However, don't be too discouraged by this confession, actually there is a lot of fun to be obtained from studying over your seed requirements and from purchasing those tiny dormant plants that are going to make your garden both a thing of beauty and an extremely useful addition to your food supply in these days of rationing.

It is a Free Country

While the spirit of adventure should not be entirely selection made too prosaic, curbed and the matter of seed still it is possible that suggestions as to varieties that have been tested and tried out under Nova Scotia conditions might be helpful to some and still leave sufficient opportunity to produce the unexpected to satisfy the gambling urge present in all gardeners.

Seed Requirements

The following table suggests one or two (but not the only) good varieties of several kinds of vegetables that you might well use in making your seed purchases. The final column gives a usable figure in estimating the quantity of each kind of seed that you will need to order. The figure given is the quantity needed for 100 feet of row. Measure the size of your garden plot and figure how many rows you will make for each kind of vegetable you want. For hand cultivation 18 inches between rows for smaller growing crops like carrots and beets is sufficient, 24 inches between most others, 36 inches for corn and 72 inches to 96 inches for vine crops.

This article if clipped and filed with other articles in this series will make a collection covering the garden program. A companion bulletin, Gardening for Food and Fun, by C. M. Collins, is available from the Horticultural Division, N. S. Department of Agriculture, Truro, N. S.

Garden Seed Requirements

The following list shows the variety and the amount of seed per 100 feet of row:

- Bush Beans (Green)—Stringless Green Pod—1 lb.
- Bush Beans (Wax)—Round Pod Kidney Wax, Pencil Pod Black Wax—1 lb.
- Beets—Detroit Dark Red—2 oz.
- Broccoli—Italian Sprouting—1/4 oz.
- Cabbage (Early)—Golden Acre—100 started plants.
- Cabbage (Late)—Danish Ballhead—1/4 oz.
- Carrots—Red Cored Chantenay, Nantes—1 oz.
- Cucumbers (Slicing)—White Spine, Perfection—1/2 oz.
- Cucumbers (Pickling)—Boston Pickling—1/2 oz.
- Lettuce (Leaf)—Grand Rapids—1/2 oz.
- Lettuce (Head)—Strain of New York (Iceberg), Big Boston—1/2 oz.
- Onions (Seed)—Early Yellow Globe—1/2 oz.
- Onions (Onion Sets)—Variety available—2 lbs.
- Parsnips—Hollow Crown—1/4 oz.
- Peas (Early)—Little Marvel, Laxton's Progress (Dwarf, no stakes)—1 lb.
- Peas (Late)—Telephone, Thomas Laxton (Tall, staking needed)—1 lb.
- Potatoes—Irish Cobbler—8 lbs.
- Pumpkin—Small Sugar—1/2 oz.
- Radish—French Breakfast, Scarlet Globe—1 oz.
- Sweet Turnip—Ditmars (Bronze Top), Laurentian (Purple Top)—1/4 oz.
- Spinach—Bloomsdale—1 oz.
- Squash—Green Hubbard, Kitchenette (Small Hubbard)—1/2 oz.

The Shape of the Future—in Plastics

Plastic materials are performing many new and important functions in war production, often as replacement materials but more often because of their own special qualities, according to an article entitled "Impetus to Plastics" on the March issue of C-I-L Oval.

But, while plastics have been responsible for many spectacular innovations, the day has not yet come—and may even be a long way off—when plastics can, either economically or justifiably, replace the older building and fabricating materials. It is in the realm of everyday, mass-produced articles that the greatest use of plastic materials can generally be discerned.

Speaking generally, any place where beauty, permanence of color, warmth of touch, electric or heat resistance, transparency or translucency, resiliency and many other properties are desired, some type of plastic will be found to meet the requirement. In many cases, plastic can replace metal, wood, porcelain or rubber, often because of some special or superior quality; in other cases the article is entirely new, made possible only through the use of the plastic material. The value of plastics as a replacement material is tremendously important during a period of national emergency when conservation of essential metals and materials is of imperative national concern.

It would be folly to suggest or even to intimate, says the writer, that plastics offer a panacea for all production ills or that they are constructional materials for all purposes. That they can replace metals, where strength combined with lightness of weight is desired, seems a fairly safe prediction. A simple object may undergo a dozen different processes in preparation. The same object in plastics, polished and colored throughout, can be turned out one, two or a dozen at a time in two minutes with virtually no waste of raw material and only needing packing to be ready for the market.

Fertilizer Supply Assured By Wartime Control

Wastefulness in the use of fertilizer should be avoided for never have these constantly improved production agents been so valuable to us and to our Allies, writes Jean Racine in the March issue of C-I-L Oval.

Describing the recently implemented wartime restrictions designed to assure equitable distribution of farm fertilizers he points out that the situation demands the co-operation of everyone concerned—the farmer as well as the manufacturer. The priority of the public interest over that of individual needs should be recognized.

Distribution is now being carried out in a perfectly fair manner, and despite certain rising costs in labor and raw materials manufacturers have actually lowered their prices. In point of fact, Canada this year will have the lowest priced fertilizers of any of the United Nations.

The important role of fertilizers in promoting the greatly increased agricultural yield demanded by wartime needs is indicated by the following figures: one ton of fertilizer produces increases of 115 bushels of corn, 200 bushels of potatoes, 79 bushels of wheat or, if it is applied to pasture land, 5,000 pounds of milk.

Rumors to the contrary, amateur or Victory gardeners can do their gardening with complete equality—the bags of fertilizer for general use, such as "Gardenite," remain at their disposal.

In Memoriam

IN LOVING MEMORY of our dear Mother, Lema Jane VanTassel, who departed this life April 18th, 1942.

We can not say, we will not say
That she is dead, she's just away,
With a cheery smile and wave of the hand
She has wandered into an unknown land.

The place in our hearts we kept just for her
With sorrow is filled and our eyes are blurred,
We think she will know and understand when we say,
We would not recall her to the world of today,
Because we know she rests in peace, while she's away.
—Inserted by Her Children. 31:1ip

IN MEMORIAM—In loving memory of our dear brother, Robert Horner, who departed this life April 8, 1943: Peacefully sleeping, resting at last,
His weary trials and troubles are past,
In silence he suffered in patience he bore
Till God called him home to suffer no more.
And loving remembrance fondly kept.
—Sadly missed by Brothers and Sister. 31:1ic

IN LOVING MEMORY of Mrs. Charles Sullivan, who died April 11th, 1942.
Deep in our hearts lies a picture,
Of a loved one gone to rest.
In Memory's page we will keep it,
Because she was one of the best.
—Lovingly remembered by The Family. 31:1ic

Ladies' Aid of the United Church met on Tuesday evening with Mrs. Howard Cress.

Mrs. Charles Mailing, of Greenland, was a visitor in Bear River on Saturday last.

St. John's Guild met on Wednesday afternoon, April 7, with Mrs. W. P. Brinton. This week it will meet with Mrs. Howard Rice.

Miss Shirley Krant returned home from Hospital on Saturday of last week, having made a good recovery from her operation.

Mrs. Murray Harris returned home on Tuesday, having spent the winter with her brother, Chipman Potter, at Clementsvale.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter McGregor, and Mr. and Mrs. Woodgate attended the wedding at Annapolis Royal on Monday, April 5th, of Miss Jean Wallis and Pte. Glenn Merritt.

There will be service every night at the United Church, beginning April 19th, the week before Easter. There will be a Good Friday Service.

Frank Potter, who has been staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Rice, entered the Digby General Hospital on Sunday for medical treatment.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Boucher, whose youngest child passed away at an early hour Monday, following a very brief illness.

Walter Silver, whose home is in New Jersey, motored home because of the illness of his father, James Silver, who is now a patient in the Digby General Hospital.

Friends of Ira Davis will be sorry to learn that he suffered an attack of measles but is now making a good recovery. He is being cared for at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaulback.

The Misses "Kit" Jefferson, of Bear River, and May Sedgwick, of Groton, Mass., returned to "Netherwood" School, Rothesay, on Monday afternoon, having spent the vacation period with Mrs. C. Wilson Jefferson. During this period Mrs. Jefferson's hospitality has been extended to a number of young ratings at the Naval Base—which has been much appreciated by the boys from such distant points as British Columbia and the U.S.A.

Miss Isobel Davis left on Friday for Ottawa where she will visit her sister, Mrs. Tom Jones.

MARRIAGES

Crocker - Rawle
 A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized on Tuesday evening, April 6th, at the home of Petty Officer and Mrs. Rawle, Bear River, when their daughter, Frances Clara Rawle, was united in marriage to Edward LeRoy Crocker, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Crocker, of Wilmet, Rev. G. D. Brydon officiated. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gowned in a street length dress of pastel blue with hat and accessories to match and wore a corsage of pink and white carnations. She was attended by her sister, Miss Olive Rawle, who wore rose-maria rose gown. Wilfred Miller, of Lansdowne, was best man. A reception was held at the home and Mrs. Wilfred Miller presided over the tea cups. They received many gifts and are followed by the best wishes of their friends to their new home.

Merritt - Wallis
 A wedding of interest to many was solemnized at St. Luke's Church, Annapolis Royal, Monday, April 5th, at 3 p.m., when Rev. E. B. Gabriel united in marriage Jean Meaby Wallis, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wallis, of Annapolis, to Pte. Glenn Eldon Merritt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Merritt, of Clements-port. The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore a wedding gown of white satin, with floor length veil, which was held in place by a coronet of orange blossoms. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies and white carnations. She was attended by her sisters, Misses Winifred and Diana Wallis, who wore floor length gowns of blue sheer and pink sheer, carrying arm bouquets of yellow flowers. The groom was supported by his brother, Bdr. Roscoe Merritt and the ushers were Pte. Leslie Eaton and Lance Corporal Gordon Robblee. The church was decorated with snapdragon, carnations, tulips and daffodils, and the wedding march was rendered by C. Lunnen, of Newfoundland. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, Mrs. Alfred Woodburn and Mrs. Joseph LeBlanc, presided at the tea table, while Mildred Gormley, Betty Atkinson, Irene Robinson, Eve Merritt served. The bride's mother wore beige crepe with accessories to correspond. A toast to the bride was proposed by Peter MacGregor, of Bear River, to which the groom responded. Lovely gifts were received, which consisted of cheques, linen, furniture, silver, glass. The happy couple left by motor for Yarmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wallis and family were residents of Bear River for a number of years. The bride and her sisters all attended Oakdene School.

Monthly Meeting Of W. M. S.

The regular monthly meeting was held Friday afternoon, with the President, Mrs. George Crosscup, in the chair. Following the devotional and study periods, there was a discussion regarding several missions of the Church. An interesting item of the meeting was the presentation of a Life Membership to Mrs. A. B. Campbell, which was "In memory of the late Mrs. A. J. Campbell, of Inverness, C.B."—Dr. Campbell's mother, who throughout a lifetime of Church work, was an active member of the W.M.S., devoting much time and thought to this branch of the work until illness forced her to resign. After the meeting had concluded with "The Mizpah Benediction" a number of members remained for rehearsal.

Yes, "we have a big job to do yet" and very interesting—but it isn't all fun, we have a big job to do yet—a lot of fighting ahead of us. I'll be glad when it's over and Dad and I can do some of the things we have talked of doing—like building the new barn, so

WHEN they come home—those boys who are fighting now—make them want to stay home. Make them happy and contented on the farm. They will have new ideas they want to try out. They may want to go in for new breeding stock; new crops; work out a drainage or irrigation project; do a big job of fertilizing. You are wearing out implements and equipment which cannot be replaced now. You may want to erect new buildings, or to add to present buildings. You may wish to modernize your farm with water or electricity. You may want a new motor car—new conveniences and comforts for your home. These things cost money. Save money now and invest your savings in Victory Bonds. They will provide cash for things you will need when the war ends.

You can buy Victory Bonds for cash in a lump sum, or you can arrange to pay for them in convenient instalments over a period of six months.

Your Victory Bond salesman will be glad to tell you full particulars.

WHAT IS A VICTORY BOND?

A VICTORY BOND is the promise of the Dominion of Canada to repay in cash the full face value of the Bond at the time stipulated, with half-yearly interest at the rate of 3% per annum until maturity.

A Victory Bond is the safest investment in Canada. The entire resources of the Dominion stand behind it. Canada has been issuing bonds for 75 years, and has never failed to pay every dollar of principal and interest.

A Victory Bond is an asset more readily converted into cash than any other security.

Maple Syrup Gives Pancakes New Appeal

Everyone likes pancakes and now that maple syrup time is here again, pancakes come into their own.

Maple syrup, however, isn't a "must", for pancakes are equally as good served with a fruit or tart jelly sauce. French pancakes—made from a thinner than ordinary batter, are rolled and at their most delicious sprinkled lightly with sugar and served with a wedge of lemon. There are extra vitamins for the family when you serve them Wheat Germ or Whole Wheat pancakes.

These are tested recipes from the Consumer Section of the Dominion Department of Agriculture.

French Pancakes

- 1 cup all-purpose flour
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3 eggs, well beaten
- 1 cup milk
- 2 tablespoons fat, melted

Mix sifted flour and salt; combine eggs and milk. Add flour and beat till smooth. Add melted fat. Drop by spoonfuls on a hot griddle or lightly greased frying pan. Cook till bubbles form on the top and edges are cooked. Turn and cook on the other side. Spread each cake with tart jelly, roll and serve immediately. Makes 12 large (5 inch) cakes or about 18 small ones.

Wheat Germ Pancakes

- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 1 1/4 teaspoons baking soda
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup wheat germ
- 2 tablespoons brown sugar
- 1 1/2 tablespoons fat, melted
- 2 cups sour milk

Sift flour, soda and salt together. Add wheat germ and sugar. Add milk slowly and beat till batter is smooth. Add melted fat and mix well. Drop by spoonfuls onto a hot griddle or lightly greased frying pan. Cook till bubbles form on the top and the edges are cooked. Turn and cook on the other side. Serve at once. Makes about 18 cakes. In place of 2 cups flour and 1/4 cup wheat germ, use 1 1/2 cups flour and 1/2 cup whole wheat flour.

Plain Pancakes

- 2 cups all-purpose flour
- 2 teaspoons sugar (optional)
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 eggs, well beaten
- 1 1/4 cups milk
- 1 tablespoon fat, melted

Mix and sift dry ingredients. Add milk to beaten eggs and stir quickly into dry ingredients. Mix till smooth. Add melted fat. Pour from pitcher or drop by spoonfuls onto a hot griddle or lightly greased frying pan. Cook on one side until bubbles form on top and edges are cooked. Turn and cook on the other side. Serve at once. Makes 15-18 cakes. For variety 1/2 cup finely chopped apple may be added to batter before cooking.

Fruit Sauce

Gradually mix 1 tablespoon cornstarch with 1 cup warm water, boil for 5 minutes, stirring constantly, add 1 cup syrup from canned cherries, plums or other fruit, 1 teaspoon butter and simmer 10 minutes. 1/2 cup finely chopped fruit may be added. Sauce may be served hot or cold. Makes about 2 cups.

Tart Jelly Sauce

Beat 1/2 cup tart jelly with a fork till soft. Stir in 2 tablespoons hot water, 2 teaspoons lemon juice and a dash of salt.

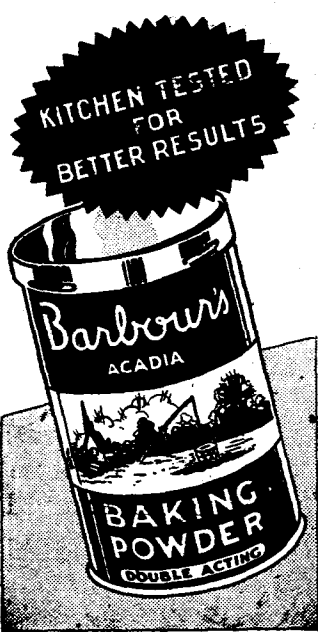

Mount Pleasant

Cpl. Kenneth VanTassel, Cecil VanTassel, of the R.C. N., and Pte. Claude Morrell, are spending furloughs at their homes here. Claude Morrell returned on Monday and was accompanied by his wife who will spend some time in Halifax.

Alison Outhouse spent the week end at his home.

He Doesn't Want To Find Wife

The Columbus (Ohio) detective bureau recently received an unusual request from a Dayton man who offered to make it worth their while not to help him locate his missing wife.

Detective Chief Leo Phillips opened the letter and out fell a dollar bill. The letter read:

"Enclosure you will find a dollar bill to wipe out anyone having information about my wife. She has been missing since last week and I don't want to locate her. 'I'll send you 10 per cent of my assets—$48 a week and two war bonds—the first of every month not to let me know where she is.'"

Chief Phillips read the letter a second time to make certain his eyes were not deceiving him. Then he said that the dollar bill would be returned to the sender in Dayton.

Bay View

They Try Sparrow Pie

The London Daily Mail front-paged a recipe—sparrow pie—which should rank along with blackbirds baked for the king and crows cooked for Oklahomans.

"Slowly simmer sparrows until they are nearly done, then put them in a pie dish. Sprinkle them with salt and pepper and a little bacon; cover with pastry, and bake," is the recipe.

The stem of a bamboo holds drinkable water. Bamboo sprouts are edible.

MINARD'S LINIMENT

When The Last Gun Has Been Fired

When the last gun has been fired,

When the last bugle is blown, When the great king of our country

Sits once more in peace on his throne,

Will you think of the men then returning?

The heroic deeds that were done

So our country might live on in freedom

From the Jap, the Italian, and Hun;

Will you keep for the men who have freed us

A place in the order of things, Will you make theirs a peace everlasting—

Those men of the ships, land, and wings,

'Tis our duty to see that they have this,

Those men who return 'cross the main,

Our failure to give them their just place

Will make victory but useless and vain.

Control Imposed On Ammunition

With small arms ammunition in short supply for civilian purposes, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has issued a rationing order in order to ensure, as far as possible, an adequate amount to those rated as essential users. In this category are placed persons who depend on hunting for food, trappers, prospectors, members of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and some other police forces, and persons guarding property or livestock.

The order specifically provides that no person other than authorized purchaser may lawfully acquire small arms ammunition for use, nor may any person supply it for use, except to an authorized purchaser, and in accordance with provisions of the order.

Authorized purchasers must follow a specified procedure in obtaining ammunition. They must complete a certificate of essentiality, and, in some cases, obtain written approval of the Local Ration Board. The Local Ration Board has power to vary the quantity or disapprove the purchase.

The rationing program will be administered by the Ration Administrator of the Board, L. B. Unwin. It is effective from March 22.

N.S.A.C. Closing April 22

The formal closing of the Nova Scotia Agricultural College has been set for Thursday, April 22. This is nearly a week earlier than the date, April 28, set in the College calendar. The change was made in order to give the students an opportunity to get into practical work as early as possible.

Reports Record Bee Orders

H. G. Payne, Truro, provincial apiarist, reports orders for package bees placed through his office are greater this year than in any previous year, and orders are still coming in, they being from all parts of the province from Cape North to Yarmouth. While there were doubts earlier in the year about the filling of orders it now looks as if all the orders would be filled, with the first shipment from the south reaching this province April 10. Mr. Payne now has the application forms for beekeepers desiring to get sugar. Those making application should state the quantity of sugar required.

March Was Good Average Month

Reports received from the meteorological stations at Kentville, Truro, Nappan, indicate that March was fair and sunny for March and about average as regards precipitation and temperatures. Precipitations in inches included:

	Rain	Snow	Total
Kentville	2.36	12.3	3.59
Truro	1.86	12.75	3.13
Nappan	2.20	9.75	3.17

The maximum temperature was on March 27 when the mercury soared to 57 at Kentville, 56 at Truro, and 55 at Nappan. The minimum was on March 5, with Truro taking first place with 11 below, Nappan reporting ten below and Kentville 2 below.

Lime Orders Are Heavy

Orders for agricultural lime are heavy this year with the quarryman being unable to keep up with demands being made on them for shipment. This means that farmers wanting lime should place their orders early and it should be understood that there is no guarantee as to when shipment will be made. Some idea of the way in which lime is going out to farms in Nova Scotia is shown by the fact that the heaviest producer in the province, O. P. Mosher & Sons, Upper Musquodoboit, has shipped since the movement started last September up until April 1, 8,042 tons. This was 3,000 tons more than the same period last year when 5,042 tons were shipped by rail from the same quarry. Ever since early September there have been orders on hand for shipment as rapidly as possible. At present there is close to 2,500 tons on order for shipment in April and May and unlike a year ago there is none ground ahead. Last year the shed at this quarry was full with close to 2,000 tons.

Not only in Nova Scotia but in New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island like difficulty is being experienced. In fact a large quantity is on order in Nova Scotia from the Island, but it is not possible to fill these orders because of the demand within the province.

Test Counties Are Organizing

The decision reached at the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Farmers' Association to organize three test counties, Hants, Inverness, Yarmouth, to work out the 110-per cent representation plan of the Nova Scotia Farmers' Association hooked up with the Canadian Federation of Agriculture is being put into shape. Organization along these lines is now well advanced in Hants. The sixth district organization meeting in the county was held Wednesday night when 130 interested men and women had a banquet-business meeting at Windsor and organized the Windsor District Farmers' Association. Addresses were delivered by Prof. A. B. MacDonald, Antigonish; W. G. Oulton, Windsor, past president N. S. Farmers' Association; George H. Wilson, Frank Marriott, H. L. Bishop, Allan Lockhart, John Scott, Thomas Aylard and others. The following were elected to office: Pres., Ralph Loomer; Vice-President, Judson F. Shaw; Secretary-Treasurer, Geo. H. Wilson, and the following directors were later appointed: Hantsport—Lewis Caldwell; Mt. Denson—Roy Davis and Mrs. Levey; Falmouth—Ralph Duncanson and Mrs. Marriott; Falmouth Valley—Allan Lockhart; Upper Falmouth—W. F. D. Bremner; Windsor Forks—Henry Vaughan and Mrs. Porteous; Martock—Harry Bishop, Curry's Corner—Gerald Harvey; Wentworth—Wilfred Frank, Sweets Corner—Jim Hunter; Three Mile Plains—Vic. Aylward.

Meteghan

Mrs. John LeBlanc and her daughters, Marie and Zelonia, Mrs. Philip Surette and Mr. and Mrs. Raphael Pothier, all of Weymouth; Mrs. Willie Corporon, and the Misses Josephine Murphy and Yvonne Martell, of Wedgeport, all students at the Sacred Heart Academy, were all visitors Sunday afternoon of Mr. and Mrs. John Pothier. Mrs. P. E. Beliveau left on Thursday for Quebec to visit her daughters, Mariette and Lorainne, who are students at the Jesu-Marie Convent, Sillery. Mrs. Beliveau was accompanied by Mrs. Alfred Roy who was returning home after the ordination to the priesthood of her brother, Rev. Raoul N. Deveau. Mrs. Amelia Deveau accompanied her father, Wilfred Robichaud on his return to Buctouche, after the celebration of the first solemn High Mass of his grandson, Rev. Raoul Deveau.

POST-WAR PLANNER

YOUNG BILL is no economist, no social reformer. But he's a practical planner just the same. His nickles and dimes are going into War Savings, and he has his own ideas about how he will use them when the war is over.

YOUNG BILL typifies the spirit of all Canadian youth... a quality of self-reliance and personal initiative that has made the country great. No one is going to plan his future for him. He's taking a hand himself!

What is PRIVATE ENTERPRISE?

It is the natural desire to make your own way, as far as your ability will take you; an instinct that has brought to this continent the highest standard of life enjoyed by any people on earth. It is the spirit of democracy on the march.

Save ALL WASTE fats & bones

Canada needs and must have every spoonful of fat drippings, every piece of scrap fat and every bone from every kitchen in Canada. Fats make glycerine and glycerine makes high explosives. Bones produce fat. Also glue for war industry.

Don't throw away a single drop of used fat—bacon grease, meat drippings, frying fats—every kind you use. They are urgently needed to win this war.

Strain all drippings through an ordinary strainer into a clean wide-mouthed can. Save your scrap fat (cooked or uncooked) and all types of bones—cooked, uncooked or dry.

When you have collected a pound or more of fat dripping, take it to your meat dealer who will pay you the established price for the dripping and the scrap fat. Or you can dispose of them through any Municipal or Salvage Committee collection system IN EFFECT in your community.

Be a munition maker right in your own kitchen. For instance, there is enough explosive power hidden in ten pounds of fat to fire 49 anti-aircraft shells. So—every day, this easy way, keep working for Victory for the duration of the war.

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Eileen White spent a few days at her home in Plympton.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Shaver were visitors to Digby this week.

Mr. and Mrs. John LeBlanc were visitors to Liverpool this week.

Miss Jean Doty spent the week end with her sister, Mrs. Jack Keen, Digby.

Miss Marie LeBlanc spent a few days last week in Yarmouth visiting friends.

Miss Daphne Mullen spent a few days with Miss Madeline Doty, Weymouth North.

Mrs. R. H. H. Barker and infant daughter, Helen Faye, arrived home on Tuesday.

Miss Gloria Moore, Barton, visited her grandmother, Mrs. Ethel P. Moore, on Sunday.

Leading Stoker Frank Rhinold, who is stationed at Halifax, spent the week end in Weymouth.

Thomas and Curtis Hankinson, of Middleton, were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Hankinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan Hatt, accompanied by Mrs. Clifton Goudey, were visitors to Yarmouth this week.

Friends of Daniel Hankinson will regret to learn that he is confined to Camp Hill Hospital at Halifax.

Arch Thurber left on Thursday for Halifax, where he will be a patient at the Victoria General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Grant and two children, of Barton, visited Mrs. Grant's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hankinson, at Weymouth on Sunday.

Master Jimmie Walker, who has been visiting his grandmother, Mrs. Hannah Walker, returned to his home at Digby on Sunday. He was accompanied by his aunt, Mrs. F. Tibbitts.

Johnston Grant and Gordon Campbell, students at Kings Collegiate School Windsor, arrived home on Thursday to spend a few weeks with their parents in Weymouth North.

At the closing meeting of St. Peter's Altar Guild, which was held at the home of Miss C. Carr, Weymouth North, on Saturday, April 10, Miss Margaret Grant was presented with a silver cross for perfect attendance at meetings. Mr. Brodie complimented the members on their excellent work and expressed the hope that they would be meeting again in September. Orders were completed for St. Peter's Church, Weymouth North, and Trinity Church, Digby.

Catherine Feindal spent the week end with her mother in Plympton.

Dr. and Mrs. Pothier have returned home after spending a week in Montreal.

Mr. Matheson has been accepted as clerk in the local Reserve Army Force.

Pte. Foster Journeay, R.C.A. S.C., of Camp Borden, Ontario, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Journeay.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Matheson Friday were Mr. and Mrs. K. G. Elsner and Mrs. Laurie Cameron, of Lawrencetown.

Chief Petty Officer Chester "Tiny" Philips was a week end guest at the Goodwin Hotel. Mr. and Mrs. Harrison Jones are also guests there after spending the past month in Centreville.

The W.M.S. held their monthly business and devotional meeting at the home of Mrs. Grierison, Wednesday. The supper which followed was largely attended, proceeds exceeding $21.00.

The ladies of St. Thomas' Guild had a very pleasant afternoon when they met Thursday at the home of Mrs. Hallett. Mrs. Hallett had on display some very dainty cups and saucers, gifts of appreciation from the Navy boys, to whom she had opened her home during the boys' stay in Weymouth.

Mrs. Glennie, wife of T. C. Glennie, who with his son Don, operated an extensive lumber business along the border area of Digby and Yarmouth counties several years ago, died at her home in Oxford last week in the 71st year of her age. Besides her husband she is survived by three daughters and the son Don, whose wife is a daughter of Fred Melanson, Weymouth.

Last Tuesday the Red Cross Society met at the home of Mrs. H. J. Melanson. There was a large attendance and a great deal of work was accomplished. Unexpected entertainment was provided by little "Sonny" Melanson, age 3, who, accompanied on the piano by his 8-year-old sister, Claudett, sang a very much enjoyed solo. The custom of serving a 10-cent tea at each meeting has become very popular and also adds considerably to the Society's bank balance.

Nova Scotia
Has Its Charms

The following is taken from a letter sent by Ronnie Elliott and was mailed in January, 1943. Ronnie is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. S. Elliott, Weymouth North, and is now stationed with the Royal Navy somewhere off the coast of Africa.

"Well, Mother, the Navy life is grand, the only thing I can complain of is the heat, I suppose you are in the middle of winter. What wouldn't I give to go plunging through the woods piled high with snow.

"I never thought much of the woods while at home but I now see beauty in them since I have seen forests of other parts of the world. I realize that the forests of Canada are the most beautiful I have seen, nothing can compare with our Pine and Spruce trees.

I always wanted to see the world, and used to think if I ever got away from Weymouth North I would never want to come back. They can rave about the beauties of other countries (and I have seen a lot since leaving England last Spring) but as far as I am concerned there is no place on Earth as pretty as Nova Scotia, and that's the only place I will ever want to live in."

Hillsburn

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Everett, Mrs. Percy Condon and Miss Ruth Longmire, motored to Kentville last week to see Wilfred Everett, who is a patient in the "San". Mrs. Eldon Longmire accompanied them as far as Kingston.

Mrs. Primrose Halliday, of Litchfield, visited her daughter, Mrs. Boyd Longmire, on Thursday.

Mrs. Lottie Mills is visiting her granddaughter, Mrs. Vivian Fox, of Granville Ferry. The Red Cross drive, conducted by Mrs. Robert Longmire, Mrs. Mildred Milbury, Mrs. Gordon Longmire and Mrs. Percy Condon, was very successful. The sum of $50 was realized, the objective being $45.

Mrs. Eddie Everett entertained a few friends at a quilting on Thursday, in honor of her birthday.

Deep Brook

William Berry, Paratrooper, of Bear River East, was in Deep Brook on Thursday.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Adams visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Adams recently. Mr. Adams is a member of the R.C.N.V.R.

Jean Adams, Smiths Cove, spent a day with Mrs. Eric Adams recently.

St. Matthew's Guild met on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Walter Purdy.

In last week's notes there was a slight mistake: Raymond Moore left for Shelburne this week instead of last week, as stated.

Princedale

Mrs. Walter Dunn spent a few days recently in Barton with her sister, Mrs. Ernest Ring.

A number from here attended the shower held recently at Clementsvale for Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Wright. Karl Ring, of Barton, has been visiting Walter Dunn.

Lewis Wright left last Tuesday for Halifax to join the Armed Forces.

OBITUARY

Charles Carty

A wave of sorrow swept over the town yesterday morning when it was learned that Charles Carty, one of the best known and best loved citizens, had passed away suddenly about 11 o'clock on Tuesday evening. He had not been in the best of health for some time but his death was unexpected. He was born in Lansdowne 78 years ago and early in life went to the United States where he worked as a carpenter. Returning to Lansdowne he continued to work at that trade, eventually moving to Digby. He married Ada Marshall, who survives him, as well as three sons: Harold, bank manager in Halifax; Kenneth, in California; and Arthur in New York; and one daughter, Mildred at home. An earnest and devout Christian he has for years served as deacon in the United Baptist Church. He has also served on the town council. The funeral will take place tomorrow afternoon at 2.30 o'clock from the home.

Mrs. Gladys Hunter

Word has been received here by her mother, Mrs. Ada H. MacNeill, of the death of Mrs. Gladys Hunter, at the age of 51 years, widow of the late Alex Hunter, of Hamilton, Ontario. She passed away in Mount Hamilton Hospital on April 15th, after a lengthy illness. She will be remembered by her many friends here where she resided for years. She was a member of the United Church. She leaves to mourn, her daughter, Marie Fleming, of Digby, by her first marriage; a son and daughter, Billy and Gloria Hunter, of Hamilton, Ontario, also her mother, Mrs. Ada H. MacNeill, and sister Neata, of Digby; two brothers, Cpl. J. L. MacNeill, of Yarmouth, and Arthur R. MacNeill, of Kentville. The funeral was held from her residence Saturday afternoon in Hamilton, Ont.

W.M.S. Conduct Church Service

Grace United Church was filled to capacity Sunday evening when the Missionary Program was presented by the W.M.S. and Mission Band. Patsy Matheson carried out her part as chairman for the Band announcing items of the program prepared by their leader, Miss Lillian McRae.

The choir assisted with the music and rendered the selection "The Palms".

The W.M.S. part of the program consisted of a Missionary Story for children, Prayer by Miss Minnie Campbell, readings by Mrs. Fred May, Mrs. Gordon Arnold, Miss Bessie Chisholm and Mrs. Jennie Parker. A responsive worship service entitled "What Shall I Do With Jesus Which Is Called Christ?" was led by Mrs. J. M. Wallis. The offering amounted to $15.00.

"MEET THE NAVY"

"Meet the Navy" is the title of a new song, played and sung for the first time before a public audience at the Capitol Theatre, Digby, Wednesday evening of last week. The song is from the pen of telegraphist Dixie Dean of the Canadian Navy, who has been drafted ashore for entertainment work among the forces. In civilian life he was at one time member of the well-known Happy Gang, and later of Radio City Music Hall. He was succeeded on the Happy Gang by his pupil Eddie Allen.

The occasion of the playing and singing of this song which promises to be well known was the presentation of the big Navy Show in the Capitol Theatre, Digby, under the sponsorship of the Digby Board of Trade when a large audience was entertained by a troupe of former stage and radio stars who are now members of the Royal Canadian Navy. Gross proceeds of the show were in the vicinity of $500, to be divided (after deducting expenses) between the navy for comforts at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, Deep Brook, and for Digby's Amateur Athletic Field. Lieut. Stuart Robertson, formerly of Hollywood, and a brother of the well-known movie star, Anna Neagle, was master of ceremonies.

The presentation of this show gave the citizens of Digby a real opportunity to actually "meet the navy". Capt. Edwards, of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis appeared on the stage after selections by the Cornwallis twelve-piece dance band, and thanked the people of Digby for all they had done and are trying to do for the boys at Cornwallis. His address was replied to by Mayor E. J. Theriault, who assured the co-operation and friendship of the townspeople.

Farmhouse Destroyed by Fire

The large farmhouse of Joseph Hines, Sea Brook, three miles from Digby, was destroyed by fire shortly before noon yesterday. Mr. Hines estimates his loss at over $8,000. There was no insurance. Practically no furnishings or clothing were saved.

The Sea Book post office was housed in this building, and desk and papers were salvaged. The mails had been cleared about half an hour before the blaze was discovered.

At the time the house was occupied by Miss Georgia Hines, and Mrs. Martha Ryan, who made her home with Mr. Hines and his sister. Mr. Hines and his helper, John Melanson were working in the woods some distance from the house when the fire was discovered.

The blaze apparently started in a back porch and spread rapidly. Mrs. Ryan ran for the men in the woods, leaving Miss Hines alone. Due to the fact there are few neighbors in the vicinity, the building was enveloped in flames before help arrived, thus making it impossible to salvage any of the household effects.

W. V. Sutherland, wireless operator at Camperdown, Halifax Co., is spending his vacation with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. VanBlarcom.

Pie Sale Realizes $26.00

The sum of $26.00 was realized from a Pie Sale put on under the auspices of the Digby Service Wives' Association—but that is only half the story!

The night of the Pie Sale was a busy one, with several other attractions, and at the opening of the sale there were no men present. Edward C. Webber was advised of this desperate situation, and immediately "dug up" five boys—these boys bought 21 pies—the aggregate of their bid being $21.00.

Everitt - Facey

A marriage of interest, to many friends was solemnized at the Lower Granville Baptist parsonage, April 3, when Rev. Harold Hopper united in marriage Miss Holly Etta Facey, only child of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald J. Facey, of Victoria Beach, and Pte. Clinton Nolan Everitt, son of Mr. and Mrs. Orbin Everitt, also of Victoria Beach. The bride who was given in marriage by her father, wore a street-length dress of powder blue with hat and accessories to match and a top coat of tan. Her bridesmaid was Miss Gloria Everitt, sister of the groom. After the ceremony the wedding party, attended by immediate relatives motored to the bride's home where a buffet lunch was served. The groom has since left for Saint John, where he is stationed with the P.E.I. Highlanders.

Durling - Marshall

A wedding of interest to their many friends in Digby and Annapolis Counties, took place at the Baptist parsonage, Bridgetown, on Wednesday afternoon, April 7, when Rev. John Linton united in marriage Rebecca Julia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Marshall, of Ashmore, to Irven Rupert, son of Mrs. Bessie and the late Rupert Durling, of Beaconsfield. The bride was becomingly attired in a Congress blue crepe street length dress with navy accessories. They were attended by Eva Durling and Harry Durling, brother and sister of the groom. Immediately after the ceremony the happy couple motored to the bride's home where a reception was held with about 50 guests present. During the evening Richard Irving, of Scott's Bay, sang several selections, after which Edith Marshall, sister of the bride, and Hilda Kinney, cousin, presented the bride and groom with a huge basket of gifts, including glass, china, linen, pyrex and a sum of money. Refreshments were served. Mrs. Cecil Prime presided over the tea cups and those who served were Mrs. Carl Kinney and the Misses Edith Marshall and Hilda Kinney. Mr. and Mrs. Durling will reside in Bridgetown.

Munroe - Weir

A wedding of interest to friends in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick, took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Munroe, Victoria Beach, Friday afternoon, April 9, at 3 o'clock, when Rev. Harold Hopper, of the Lower Granville United Baptist Church, united in marriage Mae, daughter of William Weir and the late Mrs. Weir, and Harry Munroe, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Munroe. Miss Weir, who now makes her home at Victoria Beach, is a former resident of Saint John. Mr. and Mrs. Munroe will reside in Victoria Beach.

Following tightening of liquor restrictions the number of drunks picked up in Halifax, was decreased by almost one-half, there being 45 in March as compared with 79 the previous month. Number of auto accidents reported also showed a drop from 65 to 50, with six persons injured.

Conclude Season's Activities

Grace United Church Brotherhood held their Annual Ladies' Night in the church hall on Tuesday night. There were about 50 in attendance. O. Wright, president of the Brotherhood presided over the meeting. For this occasion the Brotherhood served chicken supper with all the fixings. The chickens were donated by L. M. Saunders.

The hall was decorated with flags and Victory Loan posters, and the tables with red, white and blue streamers. At the business session $25 was voted toward the general expenses of the church.

Victor Cardoza, guest speaker, spoke on the 4th Victory Loan to be launched shortly, announcing the county's objective for this drive as $500,000 and the objective for the town of Digby, $120,000. Before his address Mr. Cardoza showed "talkie slides" in the interests of the loan.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cann, of Yarmouth, announce the marriage of their daughter, Kathleen Augusta, to Percy Walton Peters, son of Capt. Emery and Mrs. Peters, November 11th, 1942, at Weymouth.

THE HOUSING PROBLEM

One of the chief occupations in Digby these days is "house hunting". For months the housing situation has been acute, and is growing worse daily, until today, houses, flats, self-contained apartments and rooms for light housekeeping are nearly as scarce as chocolate bars in Digby. (That is saying a whole lot, believe it or not.) It is quite true that a number of summer hotels are being converted into apartments; that private individuals, who in the past never considered taking in "paying guests" even during the height of the tourist days, are now taking roomers or boarders, making alterations in their homes to provide rooms for "light housekeeping."

In spite of all this the situation rather than becoming easier is growing worse although some of them are rather cramped. At the present time most of the new comers are officers and other personnel of the training staff of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis at Deep Brook who are anxious to move their wives and families to homes in the vicinity of the Naval Base. Hundreds, possibly thousands of these will be seeking other homes here shortly, and under present conditions it is almost impossible for a town with a normal population of 1600 (now considerably larger) to find living accommodations for this host of strangers—yes, from the look of things now, house hunting in crowded centres like Halifax will be a mere Sunday School Picnic as compared with the same occupation in Digby within a few months.

Local and Personal

An Appeal for Victory Loan

Hon. J. L. Hsley, the federal member for this constituency, sends the following message: "It has been said that wars are not won by the genius of the few, but by the faithfulness of the many. Never was this truer than today when the faithfulness of the many is making itself felt in our armed services, in our war industries, in our war activities in which such unbelievable progress is being made. Canada has assumed and is maintaining its position as one of the greatest fighting nations of today. Let us then examine our responsibilities at this time in the days before the opening of Canada's greatest effort on the home front—the Fourth Victory Loan. We must all do our part. With gratitude for the past, with courage for the present, with faith for the future, let us set ourselves to the task knowing that it can be achieved through the individual effort and faithfulness of us all."

About This and That

The campaign in North Africa is progressing satisfactorily, so far as the United Nations are concerned. Not rapidly perhaps, and there is little of the spectacular about it, for the allies are willing to spend time instead of men. A few additional days may save the lives of many British and American soldiers. So we can't criticize the generals for this decision.

When the end will come in Tunisia no one can tell. This decision rests more with the Germans than with Gen. Eisenhower. If the Nazi high command elects rescuing much of the African army, as possible through a mass evacuation across the narrow Mediterranean strait into Italy, the whole of Tunisia ought soon to be in allied hands. On the other hand, should the Germans choose to fight to the finish, in order to delay invasion of the European continent as long as possible, then fighting in this axis-held portion of North Africa may continue into the summer.

There can be no doubt about the eventual outcome of the battles in Tunisia. The axis powers are on the way out. Their troops are pocketed, and must yield sooner or later to allied military might. First Stalingrad, now Tunisia. Hitler had another birthday, Tuesday. But unlike Nebuchadnezzar, he won't need to call in a Daniel to read the handwriting on the wall.

Our soldier lads have come across with the best definition of an army "jeep". One lad describes it as a "size 14 roller skate with a place for two heels instead of one."

A FANTASTIC STORY

(By Capt. John Hundevad, Editor of The Legionary, Ottawa)

"And the Princess Pats were—every man jack of them—ex-convicts."

This preposterous, utterly fantastic and slanderous statement about the officers and men of a famous Canadian regiment of the First Great War has actually been printed in black and white for all to read in an American publication which has just been drawn to our attention.

The publication in question is not, as one might have supposed, one of the many "pulp" magazines from across the border which specializes in lurid crime stories, but the eminently respectable Journal of Criminal Psychopathology, which is published by the Medical Journal Press, of Monticello, N. Y., and is edited by Dr. V. C. Branham, of Woodbourne, N. Y.

The article containing the amazing sentence quoted was published in the January, 1943, issue under the heading "The Prisoner in Wartime," and the writer is Lieut.-Commander Martin Sukov, M.D., Medical Corps, U. S. Naval Reserve. Previously, a footnote states it had been read as a paper before the Chicago Academy of Criminology—one October 9, 1942.

The Statement

Used in support of a proposal to bolster the manpower of the United States fighting forces by utilizing the country's jail population, Lieut.-Commander Sukov's reference to the Princess Patricia's Canadian Light Infantry reads—

"On a certain day in June, 1918, there appeared something new under the sun. For on that day the Canadian regiment known as the Princess Pats went into action at Belleau Woods and helped, at the cost of almost complete annihilation, to turn the German thrust at Paris into an Allied victory. The Princess Pats, both as a regiment and as individuals, were the most frequently decorated regiment in the first World War. And the Princess Pats were—every man jack of them—ex-convicts. "The record of the Princess Pat regiment is a sufficient reason to cause us to think, and think hard, about the possibility of utilizing in this war the frozen man-power making up the penal population of the United States."

The Facts

A more completely inaccurate statement could hardly be imagined. There is, in fact, not a single word of truth in it. First, the Princess Pats were never in action at Belleau Wood in June, 1918, or at any other time. The author may be thinking of Bellewaarde Ridge—much farther north—where in one day's fierce fighting the Patricias suffered 392 casualties. But that happened more than three years earlier, on May 8, 1915.

Second, the Princess Patricia's, in spite of the 3 V.C.'s, 11 D.S.O.'s, 55 M.C.'s, 39 D.C.M.'s and 160 M.M.'s, which testify to the supreme valour of its officers, n.c.o.'s and men, was not the most decorated regiment in the First Great War.

Anyway, the number of medals and decorations won is by no means an accurate measure of a unit's bravery or achievements.

Third, and infinitely more important, Lieut.-Commander Sukov's statement that the Princess Pats were ex-convicts "every man-jack of them" is an abominable lie, a malicious, libellous character-defamation of as fine a body of men as ever wore the King's uniform. Of the 5,086 men of all ranks who passed through the battalion during its four and a half years of service—including 1,098 "originals" who were almost entirely British Army veterans resident in Canada, and 1,375 who came from Canadian universities—there is no record in the official files of the Defence Department at Ottawa of even one man being an ex-convict.

Action Needed

One can imagine what Her Royal Highness the Princess Patricia (now Lady Ramsay) will think of this infamous insult of the regiment. Or Brigadier Hamilton Gault, who founded the battalion at his own expense in August, 1914, fought with the unit and lost a leg, and who today commands a reinforcement group of the new Canadian Army overseas. Of all the grand old Patricias who are scattered throughout the Dominion, many occupying high positions in the Government service and other walks of life. Or the officers and men of the present P.C.L.I., now serving overseas. Or Jenny Morris, "Mother of the Pats," who in two wars has opened her heart and her home to the boys of the regiment over in England.

Smith's Cove

What a shame such a falsehood should be circulated at a time such as this. What a pity that an officer of our gallant neighbor and ally's navy should, however unwittingly, be the careless conveyor of such fabrication. Hitler and Goebbels couldn't have done any better themselves, and immediate action should be taken to put a stop to it once and for all.

Sometimes it seems that many of us have little definite plan or arrangement of our different vegetable crops in mind, when we start sowing our garden seeds. The result is apt to be almost any combination of vegetables together, perhaps regardless of their growth habits. This is not as it should be for several reasons.

Why Have a Planting Plan? There is much to be said for a definite planting plan, preferably down on paper but at any rate clearly thought out in one's own mind according to some system. If this is done it makes possible a definite rotation of each vegetable crop from one location to another in the garden plot from one year to another. This is helpful in lessening the danger of disease and insect concentrations in the soil, such as are apt to develop if the same crop is grown on the same land year after year.

Arranged by Space Requirements: Another point that will have a bearing is the space requirements of different kinds of vegetables. Some require about the same spacing between rows while others need a good deal more. As a general proposition it often facilitates planting and handling to group together vegetables requiring the same row spacing.

Root Crops and Greens: Such vegetables as carrots, beets, parsnips, onions, lettuce, radish, parsley, peppers and spinach will get along nicely with an 18 inch spacing between the rows in a hand cultivated garden. These can well be kept together as a group, though the location of this group in the garden plot and in their relationship to one another may change from year to year, as desired, in order to accomplish the rotation above referred to.

Cole Crops and Legumes: Another group including peas, beans, cabbage, broccoli, cauliflower, brussels sprouts and turnips, need more space because of larger tops and should have about 24 inches between rows. These again can be handled as a group reversing position with one of the other groups each year.

Taller Crops: Others again, as potatoes, tomatoes, celery and sweet corn require more row spacing and in some cases are taller growing as well and would shade low growing vegetables placed close to them.

Vine Crops: The fourth group would take in the spreading vine crops such as cucumbers, citron, melons, pumpkins, squash, and vegetable marrows. These are low growing plants but may want room to spread sideways from 72 inches to 96 inches or even more. It often seems good policy to keep these toward one side of the garden.

Perennials: The crops so far referred to are all used as annuals but there are perennial vegetables such as Rhubarb and Asparagus and various small fruits as Currants, Gooseberries, Raspberries and Strawberries requiring varying periods of time for development and stay in the ground for a period of years. Where these are established in a permanent garden—and where space permits they should eventually be included—it seems a good policy to have these along one side of the garden.

This article if clipped and filed with other articles in this series will make a collection covering the garden program. A companion bulletin, Gardening for Food and Fun, by C. M. Collins, is available from the Horticultural Division, N. S. Department of Agriculture, Truro, N. S.

In Memoriam

IN LOVING MEMORY of Howard VanTassel, jr., who passed away one year ago
April 24, 1942.
Come to my Heavenly Garden
And see in perfect bloom,
The flower you loved so dearly
And thought that I plucked too soon,
Then you will know my reason
Though you will know it not today,
When in his promising manhood,
I took your son away.
—Sadly missed by his Mother,
Father, Sisters and Brothers.

Cpl. Arnold Rice, of Yarmouth, and Mrs. Rice spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rice, also at Mrs. Rice's home at Litchfield, before returning to Yarmouth on Tuesday.

Birthday Party

A surprise party was given to Mrs. Ralph Hayden at their home on Saturday night, it being her birthday. The living room was trimmed in pink and white with a flowering plant in centre of table, a gift from her husband. The dining room was trimmed in blue and white and a birthday cake centered the table. Two little girls, Beverley Anne Doane and Rosamond Ferne Sabine presented a large decorated basket laden with gifts to Mrs. Hayden while they sang "Happy Birthday." This was a complete surprise, as Mrs. Hayden was away and came home and found her friends awaiting her and the house all decorated. Luncheon was served at a late hour.

Announcement Tea

Friends of Paul Curtis, jr., who spent several Christmas vacations in Bear River at the home of his friend Jim Campbell, will be interested in the following item, published in a New York paper a few weeks ago. "Bound Brook—Mr. and Mrs. Herman U. Clark, Plainsfield and River Road, have announced the engagement of their daughter, Ruth Carolyn, to Aviation Cadet Paul A. Curtis, jr., son of Lieut. and Mrs. Paul A. Curtis of Devonshire, Bermuda. The engagement was made known at a tea given by the prospective bride's grandmother, Mrs. S. Durell Lounsbury, in her home in Belvidere Avenue. Miss Clark attended Hartridge School and was graduated from St. Mary's Hall in Burlington. Cadet Curtis was educated in Saltus Academy in Bermuda and Ridley College, Canada. He is now in training with the Army Air Forces at Jones Field, Bonham, Texas. His father, Lieut. Curtis, well-known sportsman and author, is in service with the Seaforth Highlanders of Invernesshire, Scotland. No date has been set for the wedding."

Mrs. Curtis, of Devonshire,

Bermuda, flew to New York and was present at the announcement tea. Letters from Paul contain best wishes to his friends hoping that he may be able to bring his fiancée to this community after their wedding.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Lydia Graham Hamilton
The death occurred on Monday, April 12th, in Belmont, Mass., of Mrs. Lydia Graham Hamilton, widow of Richard C. Hamilton, formerly a resident of Bear River, who also at one time was editor of a newspaper in Pictou, N.S. Mrs. Hamilton was born in Bear River 89 years ago, the daughter of the late Capt. John Graham and Lois (Chute) Graham. She is survived by one son, Harry B. Hamilton, of Belmont, Mass., with whom she resided; two daughters, Mrs. Fred Knifton and Miss Agnes E. Hamilton, both of Sydney; and two sisters, Mrs. Charles Trask, of Melrose, Mass., and Mrs. Nettie Morgan, Antrim, N.H. The Hartwell Chapel, Arlington, Mass., on Wednesday, conducted by Rev. Dr. Grady D. Faegan, pastor of the First Baptist Church, Arlington, Mass. The body was forwarded to Bear River, where interment took place on Friday, Rev. G. D. Brydon officiating.

Frank G. Potter

There passed away at the Digby General Hospital, on Sunday afternoon, April 18th, Frank G. Potter, of Bear River. He was born at Clementsvalle sixty-one years ago a son of the late John Douglas and Sabra Ann Potter but went to Vancouver, B.C., at an early age and lived there until about ten years ago. Since then he has spent his time travelling through the Maritime Provinces but making his home in Bear River. Mr. Potter was a firm believer in the spiritual life and a Christian, as shown by his poetical works, many of which he had published in booklet form. He was a member of the Baptist Church in Vancouver. He is survived by one sister (Alma), Mrs. L. L. Henshaw, of Sheet Harbour, Halifax County; two brothers, Reginald, of Bear River, and Kenneth, of Bear River East; also a number of nephews and nieces. (His wife, the former Gertrude Burchell, of Halifax, predeceased him several years ago.) The funeral service was conducted from the Church at Clementsvalle, with interment in the cemetery there, Rev. G. D. Brydon, of Bear River Baptist Church, officiating.

PHILATHEA CLASS

The Philathea Class of the Baptist Church met on Thursday evening in the vestry. The evening was spent in sewing and quilting for the Red Cross. All members were asked to attend the May meeting. Do not let it be said that lack of refreshments kept you away.

A farewell party was held on Tuesday evening, April 13, at Bear River East, for Bliss Wheelhouse, who will soon take up duties in the air force. Quite a number of friends from both Bear River East and Clementsvalle gathered at the home of Mrs. Ralph Pierce, where an enjoyable evening was spent. A sum of money was presented to Bliss.

HOW MUCH Did You Save LAST YEAR?

One of these days a man will call on you to talk to you about saving money. The caller will be one of your neighbors, or a man from your nearest town who is likely well known to you.

He is asking you to save money when he asks you to buy a Victory Bond. He is not asking you to give money to anybody or anything.

You save money when you buy a Victory Bond . . . and you lend your money to Canada to help win the war. The money you save is yours. You will get it back later on, and have it to do anything you wish with it. And Canada will pay you 3% interest on your savings every year until the loan is paid back to you.

TAKE A FEW MINUTES TO FIGURE OUT HOW YOU ARE GETTING ALONG

This is something that every man should do now and then.

You will see how you are getting along by comparing savings with earnings. It's what you save that counts.

Perhaps you will say you saved all you could. Did you? Remember you are asking yourself questions. You are not getting figures to show anyone but yourself. Can you figure out how you can save more?

A sure way to save money is to save it in small sums—as you get it. Victory Bonds—which can be paid for in small instalments covering a six-months' period—provide a convenient method of carrying out a savings programme. Your Victory Bond salesman will tell you all particulars.

WHAT IS A VICTORY BOND?

A VICTORY BOND is the promise of the Dominion of Canada to repay in cash the full face value of the Bond at the time stipulated, with half-yearly interest at the rate of 3% per annum until maturity.

A Victory Bond is the safest investment in Canada. The entire resources of the Dominion stand behind it. Canada has been issuing bonds for 75 years, and has never failed to pay every dollar of principal and interest.

A Victory Bond is an asset more readily converted into cash than any other security.

BE STRONG

We are not here to play, to dream, to drift, We have hard work to do and loads to lift, Shun not the struggles, face it, 'tis God's gift, Be strong.

Say not the days are evil who's to blame? Or fold thy hands or hide thy face in shame, Stand up, and speak out in God's name, Be strong.

It matters not how deep entrenched the wrong, How hard the battle goes, the day how long, Faint not, fear not, fight on, Tomorrow comes the song.

NOVA SCOTIA FARM NEWS

31.5 Per Cent Creamery Butter Production Jumps

Nova Scotia's creamery butter production for March 1943 totalled 463,802 lbs., an increase of 31.5 per cent over the 352,527 lbs. of March 1942, according to the monthly statistical report of N.S. Dairy Superintendent Bird. Each month this year has seen an increase over the corresponding month of last year. The total production first quarter of 1943 was 1,340,497 pounds, this being an increase of 28.7 per cent over the first quarter's production of last year of 1,041,113 pounds. Mr. Bird commenting on the increased production, remarked that "it falls far short of the requirements even under the rationing system." Under the rationing system Nova Scotians consume about 1,100,000 pounds of butter a month.

More Fertilizer Is Ordered

Nova Scotia farmers have ordered between 20 and 25 per cent more fertilizer this year than in the corresponding period of last year according to reports received from fertilizer firms. Word from Halifax is that orders are about ten per cent in advance of last year's. A report from the Valley stating there has been some increase in sales over last year would seem to portend either better care of the orchards, more general farming, or both. The appeals made for early ordering of fertilizer met with a favorable response.

Shipping Potatoes From Cumberland

Potatoes are still being shipped from Cumberland, according to D. E. MacPhee, Agricultural Representative at Amherst. He reports two carloads were shipped this past week, one from Parrsboro and one from Pugwash.

Plowing Starts In Kings

R. P. Longley, agricultural representative for Kings County, states that plowing has started but not to any great extent. Frost, he says, is not yet out sufficiently to allow tree pulling to start. In many places there is no frost but in others it has hardly started to come out. Pruning is about 25 per cent complete. Some growers have completed their pruning and some grafting has been done.

Recommends Rollicking Dose of Fertilizer

Now is the time to give the sleepy old pasture its spring kick with a rollicking good dose of fertilizer, says J. E. McIntyre, Secretary Maritime Fertilizer Council. Here are his recommendations for the first year, with applications to be made before the end of April or as soon as snow and free water have disappeared:

ON LIGHT SOILS, such as sandy, gravelly, or light loams, or where early grazing is desired: (1) 400 to 700 lbs. of 4-12-6 per acre, or (2) 125 lbs. nitrate of soda or ammonium nitrate, 300 lbs. superphosphate, and 100 lbs. muriate of potash per acre. (Sulphate of ammonia can be substituted for nitrate of soda on limed soils). ON HEAVY CLAY SOILS OR LOW INTERVAL LANDS: (1) 500 to 700 lbs. per acre 2-12-6 or its equivalent in home-mixed chemicals. (2) On soils sufficiently supplied with humus or manures, 300 lbs. per acre of superphosphate, and 75 lbs. muriate of potash; or 400 to 500 lbs. 0-14-7. On very acid soils, a non-acid-reacting fertilizer should be applied, or a light top-dressing of lime at about 1/2 the rate applied to cultivated soils.

Recommendations after 1st year are: A follow up program is necessary to keep pastures in good condition and replace the fertility removed by the grazing animals.

Under normal conditions well pastured fields will require annual treatments approximately as follows: 300 to 500 lbs. 2-12-6, per acre, factory or home mixed, with extra nitrogen for earlier grazing.

Don't forget the hay field says Mr. McIntyre. This year, fertilizing hay will pay excellent dividends. It is cheaper, from a labor standpoint, to fertilize an old hay field than plow and reseed.

Gnr. Lloyd Andrews, of Halifax, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Andrews.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Amoro and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Freeman MacAlpine in Roxville.

Pte. Earl Haight, of Yarmouth, has been spending a short leave at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Wamboldt.

Pte. Alfred Bragg and wife, of Yarmouth, were at their home here over the week end.

Laws and Their Making

One of the greatest difficulties a man faces today is to keep within the law. Our statute books are cluttered with laws. Governments have approved regulations, or named bodies of one sort and another to draft regulations, and make it a penal offence if you violate any of them.

In the older day if you stole, murdered, or committed such a disgraceful offence you were brought to book and punished.

ed. People generally walked the straight and narrow path and escaped from being taken to court. There was no fear. you moved about your daily procedure and you were not guilty of anything wrong.

'Tis very different now. You have to be a deuced artful dodger to steer clear of court. Just as the siege of prohibition we had in this province brought the bootlegger into intimate contact, under cover with the leaders in all stages of society, so, too, do the present regulations and laws bring the average citizen into intimate association with court procedure, in fact introduce him as one of the chief principals. He relishes neither the publicity, nor the consequences. And you can't blame him.

Canada has become sprinkled with little Hitlers, or Himmlers, and what they say goes. How they got their jobs heaven only knows—and they are well paid jobs. They haven't the qualifications of a paper-hanger. In fact, they have no particular fitness for their positions as picaune dictators but they can make things mighty unpleasant for the common people. They remind one of an anthill with the pismires milling over it, and if one fellow does not get you, another will.

The honest man can no longer conduct his business as he would. The business shyster outwits the officials and gets away with almost anything.

The landlord owns his property, but when he rents it his claim appears to vanish and a rental commission or wartime prices and trade board takes over and administers your property, doing everything except pay off the mortgage. Now, in some centres, they are tabulating the rooms in your home and compelling you under penalty to open them for anyone who comes along. This is perhaps the most dangerous move yet undertaken.

A stranger comes into town and parks his car. Unless he Coffee, often introduced into Maritime homes by the young folks, has become an increasingly favored beverage. Although war developments have now compelled the Government to require you to cut your Tea consumption in half—everyone can enjoy a cup of Coffee at least once a day.

Colorful Skirt from Old Neckties

Whether it's a fashion, fad or fancy way of helping the government with its conservation program, high school girls in New York are expending extra energy in making colorful skirts from old neckties. The motive lies not in the motif but in showing lesser satellites you are so popular you can persuade twenty-five or so gallants to bare their throats to satisfy a maiden's vanity. The actual making of the skirt is easy. First give the ties the "tumbler test." Dip an inconspicuous part of a tie—one in which all the colors are represented—in a tumbler of warm water and then squeeze it between two pieces of white cloth. If no color or only a very little comes off on the white cloth, dip the ties in gentle suds. Then press them and cut a panel from the top of each. Piece the panels together, gather together with a band top, add a placket, turn a hem and the skirt is made. One popular young thing knocked her classmates eyes out with a skirt of neckties contributed by 27½ admirers, the half being her brother.

They are residing at 270 South Street. On Tuesday of last week, the members of the "All Round Y" Business Girls Club, held a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mrs. Wilkins, who is their secretary. The shower, which was a complete surprise, took place at the conclusion of the semi-monthly supper meeting of the club, the presentation being made by Miss Abbie O'Hara. On Thursday evening Mrs. Henry Steele, of Wellington Street, Halifax, entertained a few friends in Mrs. Wilkins' honor, at which time she was presented with a lace tablecloth.

Red Cross Meeting

The Red Cross held their monthly business meeting at the home of Mrs. D. Rice, president. A cordial invitation was extended to the presidents of neighbouring auxiliaries to attend the meeting, but, owing to road conditions, they could not do so. Some very interesting reports were read by various work parties. The treasurer's report from the recent campaign showed an overwhelming and most gratifying result. The following letter of thanks to the chairman of the campaign committee was then read for the approval of the members: "Dear Mr. Hatt:—On behalf of the Weymouth Red Cross Branch and Auxiliaries I have the pleasure of extending to you our most sincere appreciation and admiration for the way in which you have conducted the Red Cross drive. I trust that your untiring efforts have reached their reward when you were able to present the branch with more than double the objective. Respectfully yours, Mrs. J. R. Rice, Pres. Weymouth Red Cross."

Following the business meeting a beautiful but complicated quilt was completed, after which all joined heartily in a sing-song with Mrs. Rice presiding at the piano. The next meeting will be held at Mrs. Grierson's, April 28th, a good attendance is anticipated.

Start Work on Milk Plant

The Yarmouth Creamery Company Limited, who have the contract for supplying milk to the big naval base at Deep Brook, will establish their Digby plant at the corner of Church Street and First Avenue. The ground for the new building is already being broken.

Permission to set up in Digby was given this company some months ago and it is understood the new milk processing plant will be one of the most modern in this section of the province, and its establishment should do much to promote the dairy industry for a radius of several miles about Digby.

It is stated that when the Deep Brook establishment gets in "full swing" several thousand gallons of milk will be required daily. Already a number of local milk producers are shipping milk to Yarmouth, but when the plant starts operating in Digby, it is understood many more will dispose of a large portion of their output here.

The local milk situation, which was so serious early in the year, has been relieved considerably, and Digby customers now have enough milk for ordinary needs.

Supply Situation Becomes Serious

Digby stores had one of the biggest "runs" on Saturday last they have had in years—a number of merchants were practically cleaned out of stock, and some of the restaurants were forced to close early because they had nothing to feed their patrons.

In the retail stores last minute Easter shopping accounted for only a small portion of the rush as local merchants had little of anything to offer for Easter this season.

Hundreds of sailors arrived in town early in the afternoon. They were hungry men. Ice cream, pop, cookies, and the chocolate bars that were to be had, were sold in a matter of a few hours—even cough drops were bought up, (cough drops are one of Digby's chief confections these days.

Staple grocery items were also pretty well cleaned out. Meats were almost unobtainable.

And this is only a start. Unless something is done in the immediate future to relieve the supply situation here, a serious condition is bound to arise. Digby merchants who have been cut to 70% of their 1941 wholesale purchases (60 per cent on some lines) cannot possibly cope with the situation when one considers the purchasing population of this area has increased by 50% and more since June '42 in addition to having an entire city of naval men placed in our midst.

Church Point

Miss Loretta Boudreau, who was employed in Kentville, is spending some time with her mother, Mrs. Madeline Boudreau here.

Philip Stuart, employed at Shelburne, is spending the week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Stuart.

Bond Salesmen After Objective

Canvassers for the 4th Victory Loan were on the road Monday, determined to reach Digby County's objective of $500,000 in record time. The objective for Digby County (including the town of Digby) is nearly double that of the 3rd Victory Loan campaign last November when this county was asked to subscribe $275,000. On that occasion the county went over the $400,000 mark.

The objective for Digby town for this campaign has been set at $120,000.

Acaciaville-Hill Grove

Mrs. Eldon Longmire, of Hillsburn, was a visitor at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Franklin, for the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gates, sr., who have been spending the winter in Digby, have returned home.

Mrs. Helen Bell went to Amherst last week and is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Goodwin.

Misses Marion and Catherine Bacon, of Saint John, visited their mother, Mrs. Francis Bacon, for several days during the Easter holidays.

The Acaciaville teacher, Miss Betty Moses, accompanied by Muriel Frude, spent the Easter holiday at her home in Dayton, Yarmouth Co.

Mrs. Bernard Smith and children, of Bear River East, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Darcey Roope, over the week end.

Mrs. J. A. H. Nichols who visited relatives in Bear River last week, has returned home.

L. Cpl. Willard Nichols, of Debert, spent several days with his mother, Mrs. J. A. H. Nichols.

Donald Rice, R.C.N., of Saint John, spent a short leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Rice, last week.

Mrs. Alfred Butterworth, of Yarmouth, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Vincent, last week.

Marilyn Marshall entertained a number of her school friends at a birthday party on Tuesday afternoon.

Misses Mary Murley, Ruby Porter, and Margaret Porter spent the holidays at their home here.

Little Roy Everett, aged 10, got an unexpected ride last Monday. He was on the wharf and got on the rear bumper of Hugh Vincent's taxi car, thinking Mr. Vincent was only going to the station. But instead Mr. Vincent had started for Deep Brook with a load of sailors. The boy was not discovered until they had reached Deep Brook, and, holding on to his precarious seat in the cold wind, his fingers had become numb and were clinched around the bumper so that help was needed to remove them. Needless to say the boy was badly scared and he will long remember that ride.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Charles Thompson

The funeral of Sarah, wife of Charles Thompson, was held from the Baptist Church Saturday afternoon conducted by Rev. S. Ricker and Rev. J. W. Derby. She died Wednesday at her home in Westport, at the age of 73 years, following a lengthy illness. She was tenderly cared for by her daughter Ina. Surviving, besides her husband, are five sons: Irving, Westport; Eldon, Malden, Mass.; Elsbree, Lynn, Mass.; Adeh, New York; Darrell, who is with the R.C.N., Quebec; also six daughters, Mrs. William Welch, Port Maitland; Inaj at home; Mrs. George McDormand, Westport; Mrs. H. Snowdown, Mrs. W. Pemberton, Mrs. Reid, all of Somerville, Mass.; and fourteen grandchildren. (A son, Charles, predeceased her about eleven years ago.) She also leaves to mourn, three brothers, Hilbert and Salathiel, Westport, and Freeman, of Yarmouth, and one sister, Emma, of Shag Harbour. The Rebekah service was held at the grave.

Captain Elias Rawding

Captain Elias Rawding, 80, retired sea captain, and for the past twenty-five years a general merchant in Clementsport, died Friday afternoon, April 23rd, following a brief illness. He was a son of the late Captain and Mrs. Joseph Rawding, of Clementsport. He followed the sea for 28 years, returning to his native village to become postmaster. Later he purchased the grocery business of Stonach & McCormick, which he has carried on ever since. He was a member of the Annapolis Municipal Council for 33 years, and was named warden to succeed the late Samuel Fickup in 1936, and held that office at the time of his death. He is survived by a brother, Captain S. H. Rawding, Calis, Me.; three sisters, Mrs. Fred Coates, Winchester, Mass.; Mrs. W. C. Chute, Bear River, and Mrs. Eva Wells, Wellsley, Mass. His wife, the former Miss Eva Gilliat, predeceased him by five years, and their only child, Dora, died in 1907. Funeral service was held from the United Church, Clementsport Monday with Masonic rites, Rev. James Brooks, assisted by Rev. T. F. McWilliam and Rev. A. W. L. Smith, officiating.

Frank Merrill Dargie

Frank Merrill Dargie, president of the firm of Charles Dargie & Son, Ltd., Annapolis Royal, died at his home early Saturday evening at the age of 72. He was born at Lequille, the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles B. Dargie, and for many years was in partnership with his father, after becoming sole owner of the firm, one of the largest and finest house furnishing establishments in western Nova Scotia. He had been in poor health for about three years, and for two years ceased to take an active part in the business which was changed to Charles Dargie & Son Limited, with Joseph Hickman as manager. He was twice married, his first wife being the late Minnie Maxwell, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Maxwell, of Bear River. By this union three children survive. His second wife, who survives him was the former Miss Vera Langille, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Langille Annapolis Royal. Funeral service took place Tuesday afternoon.

Sgt. Donald W. Sulis, R.C.A.F., of Sydney, Australia, visited at the home of Miss Bessie Sulis, Smith's Cove, last week. In the days of sailing ships, Sergeant Sulis' grandfather, N. H. Sulis sailed from Saint John, N.B., to Australian ports and finally settled in that country in the early 60's. Sgt. Sulis is the first of the Australian family to visit this country.

Spruce Gum for War Savings

School children in the village of St. Joseph are busy after school hours picking spruce gum. Among the busiest is Gerald Comeau, eight year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Comeau, who has already picked over fifteen dollars' worth, which he is investing in War Savings Stamps. He says he is doing his best to fight Hitler, but he also wants a bicycle after the war.

Presentations to Newly-Weds

Mrs. I. W. Wilkins, of Halifax, (the former Kaye FitzGerald, of Weymouth,) was the guest of honor at two post-nuptial parties held last week.

On Tuesday evening, the members of St. Matthew's United Church Y. P. Union, held a party in the church parlor, immediately following their weekly meeting in the church hall. On this occasion Miss Dorothy Burgoyne, president of the Union, assisted by Miss Helen Marrott, Secretary of the Union, presented Mrs. Wilkins with a coffee silex.

On Wednesday evening, the members of the staff of Provincial Motors Ltd., held a party at the home of James Edwards, Manager of the Parts Dept., and Mrs. Edwards, at Fairview. An enjoyable evening was spent with games, music and dancing. Refreshments served included a beautifully decorated, two-tier wedding cake. At the conclusion of the evening, the General Manager of the Company, F. H. Langille, presented LjBdr. and Mrs. Wilkins with a mantle clock on behalf of the staff. They were also presented with a cheque for $50.00 from the Company.

Reparis on Queen St. And First Avenue

Sections of Digby's Queen Street and First Avenue are being re-converted into gravel roads. They were torn up by a highway department tractor last week. A number of years ago the town laid down semi-permanent oil roads, but during the past few years, they have filled with pot holes and made driving almost hazardous. Material for repairs is not available and the method of patching holes with "foreign" materials has not proven satisfactory—in some instances the patches did not last 24 hours.

The worst sections have been dug up, but sections of these streets that were in good condition were not disturbed.

Easter Services Well Attended

Congregations of Digby churches again listened to the wonderful story of The Risen Christ at Easter services. These services, both morning and evening, were largely attended and the messages of the clergymen were filled with inspiration and hope.

The congregations were the largest to gather in local churches at Eastertime in some years. Special Easter music was rendered by the choirs, and altars were beautifully decorated with flowers placed there in memory of loved ones.

Easter Sunday also marked the inauguration of an after-service sing-song, especially for the men of the Services, in Grace United Church Hall. This service was well attended and greatly appreciated and will be continued Sunday evenings after the regular church service.

Local and Personal

Mr. and Mrs. George Chisholm, of Kentville, paid a visit one day recently to the former's sisters, the Misses Chisholm, Birch St., on their return from Saint John where they have been visiting their son Carl.

Engineer Fenwick Saunders of the U. S. Merchant Marine, has arrived in Nova Scotia, from New York, and will spend several weeks with his grandmother at Sandy Cove. He is accompanied by his wife, the former Elizabeth Killam, of Yarmouth.

For many years engaged in freighting salt fish from Westport, Freeport, and Tiverton, and owned and sailed by Captain C. M. Hicks, Westport, the auxiliary schooner Elinor S., has been sold to parties at Campobello. She will be used in the same trade carrying fish from Wilson's Beach to Saint John and Halifax.

Daughter of Ex-County Court Judge Livingstone, of the Annapolis - Digby - Yarmouth circuit, Miss Kathleen Livingstone, has joined the services, having enlisted as a "Wren" in Vancouver, where her father lived after moving from Annapolis Royal where she was born. She is now at the naval base, Deep Brook, for training, having been sent direct from the British Columbia city for that purpose.

The first person in Saint John—and possibly a much larger area—to report finding a hidden message on Canada's new "V" nickel is J. E. Greenlaw, a jeweller interested in coins. Through his glass he saw a series of dots and dashes reading in morse "we win when we work willingly." The dots and dashes are so close to the rim of the coin and so small that to a casual glance they seem part of the design. Greenlaw and a reporter looked up the morse code to confirm the message.

Mr. and Mrs. Enos VanTassel and Mrs. Ella Winchester spent Easter in Halifax visiting Mrs. Edith McInnes and Mrs. John James.

A surprise pre-nuptial show-el was held for Hilda (Hood) Winchester at her home, by the staff of the Royal Store, on Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Winston Mullen, who moved here from New Tusk during the winter months, have purchased the property known as "the Shingles", and moved into their new residence over the week end.

Men from Campobello and Grand Manan are engaged in building weirs in Digby County, at several points up St. Mary's Bay. Herring from these weirs will be reighted across to Wilson's Beach and North Head for smoking purposes.

Elizabeth R. Budd, of Digby, transport driver with the Royal Canadian Air Force (W. D.) has completed her course and graduated from No. 2 Composite Training School, Toronto, on April 22. She was the honor graduate in her trade and has been posted to a station, and is thus releasing a man for other duties in the Royal Canadian Air Force.

A large poster has been distributed by the Department of Lands and Forests to every "classroom" in the schools of Nova Scotia, containing a reproduction of the beautiful poem, "Blessing on the Woods" by Arthur Guiterman, lecturer, poet, and writer. The object is to have its inspiring message of conservation brought before our citizens of tomorrow, that they may learn to look upon the forests as their own, a heritage which they must protect against fire, wasteful cutting, and all other forms of destruction.

VICTORY BONDS are this Country's finest security

In Platoons Or Single File

Whether seeds go into the ground in platoons or in single file will depend somewhat on the skill of the gardener and the method he uses for sowing. Proper distribution of seeds in the seed drill effects results in the plants appearing in those rows just as proper distribution of troops on a highway may affect the number that reach their destination.

Seeding Rates

Too many seeds in one place means waste, loss of seed and crowding of seedling growth so they become puny and spindly before the gardener gets time to thin out the surplus and give each plant its proper room. Too few seeds to a foot of row may mean blank spaces and loss of crop. As a rule the single file effect is the better objective to aim at, particularly with the larger seeds, while reference to the table printed in another of this series, giving the quantity of seed needed for a hundred feet of row, will serve as an additional guide in making proper seed distribution. Remember, however, that no seed samples germinate 100 per cent even in ideal conditions and seldom do we get ideal conditions every year in any garden.

Sowing Methods

The gardener may sow his seed by hand, sifting the seed into the drill between thumb and fingers or out of the corner of an envelope or seed package, or he may, if he is working on a bigger scale, use some one of the various types of small hand seeders used for this purpose. There is this to be said for the home gardener who drops his seed by hand, that he at least is sure of the way in which his seeds are distributed in the row.

Seeding on the Level

Some gardeners adopt the practice of pulling the soil together in a raised row or drill and sowing the seed on top of that. Others simply level off the garden plot, make a shallow drill below garden level with a stick or a finger and sow the seed in that. This is probably the most generally satisfactory practice for the home gardener. Whichever method is chosen it is sound practice to stretch a piece of twine across the garden between two stakes and make the seed drill under this so rows will be straight. It not only looks better but economizes space as well.

Depth of Seeding

Most garden seeds are small. If the soil is not worked up fine these tiny seeds have difficulty in absorbing from the soil particles the moisture they need for germination and the result is poor or spotty growth of seedlings.

The size of a seed also largely determines the size of the seeding it can produce on the food supply stored up in it. Hence, it determines also the depth of soil up through which it can grow to reach sunlight. If it is buried too deeply for its size it is there to stay and will never add to your food supply. On the other hand, if it does not have sufficient soil covering, it may not for some time obtain sufficient moisture to germinate. This sometimes delays growth and makes rows spotty.

One old gardener's rule that may serve as a general guide is, cover seed with a depth of soil four times its diameter. Also in early spring sowing the covering may be shallower than later in the spring and summer because the ground early is cooler and moister. The following table gives more specific information as to the depth of soil covering for seed of different kinds.

With The Churches

At the morning service of the United Church of Canada, the pastor, Rev. James Brooks, gave a very inspiring Easter message to a large congregation. The choir rendered anthems "Hallelujah For The Cross" and "He Lives, The King". At the close of the service the sacrament of The Lord's Supper was celebrated. The altar was banked with spring flowers.

The evening service was at the United Church at Clements, where nine were received into full membership of the church after which a large number partook of the Lord's Supper. Beautiful flowers were placed at the Altar, in memory of loved ones.

To Help Him NOW . . . and When He Comes Home

YOUR SON (or your neighbor's son) is in battle dress perhaps . . . on a ship at sea, or flying a bomber. You are proud of him, but you pray for the time when he will be back home. You will do anything you can, you say, . . . everything you can . . . to bring him home safe, and bring him home soon.

Well, here is one thing you can do. You can buy Victory Bonds.

When you buy Victory Bonds you help your boy to do the big job he is doing now. You help to make sure that he has everything he needs; better equipment than the enemy has. And you are saving money to have a better home for your boy to return to.

HAVE MONEY FOR HIM WHEN HE COMES HOME

He will want to work with new farm implements . . . new equipment . . . to replace things that may be worn out. He will have new ideas to improve the farm. He may want to experiment with new crops, new stock, new farming methods. He's young and ambitious as you want him to be.

He will need money to do things he plans to do. Victory Bonds . . . money saved now and loaned to Canada to help win the war . . . will be yours and his to use when the war is over.

WHAT IS A VICTORY BOND?

A VICTORY BOND is the promise of the Dominion of Canada to repay in cash the full face value of the Bond at the time stipulated, with half-yearly interest at the rate of 3% per annum until maturity. A Victory Bond is the safest investment in Canada. The entire resources of the Dominion stand behind it. Canada has been issuing bonds for 75 years, and has never failed to pay every dollar of principal and interest. A Victory Bond is an asset more readily converted into cash than any other security.

HOW TO COMBAT Rheumatic Pains

Rheumatic pains are often caused by uric acid in the blood. This blood impurity should be extracted by the kidneys. If kidneys fail, and excess uric acid remains, it irritates the muscles and joints causing excruciating pains. Treat rheumatic pains by keeping your kidneys in good condition. Take regularly Dodd's Kidney Pills—for half a century the favorite kidney remedy. 109

N. S. Hogs Bring Top Prices

For the first time since the keeping of market records Nova Scotia produced hogs have sold for the past two weeks at the highest price paid in any Canadian market. Current quotations from the principal hog markets in Canada place the price at Moncton, which is the selling market for live shipped Nova Scotia hogs, from 25 cents to $1.50 per hundred pounds above the other markets of Canada.

Latest quotations from the Canadian markets follow: Vancouver $16.60; Calgary 15.60; Edmonton 15.75; Winnipeg 15.85; Toronto 16.75; Montreal 17.00; Moncton 17.25. These prices are for dressed hogs, killed in plants, and weighed within 15 minutes from the time of slaughter. This weight is known as "warm weight" and is approximately 3 1/2 per cent higher than after cooling for 24 hours.

To the Nova Scotia price should be added a bonus of fifty cents per carcass for hogs grading B1 and $2.00 for hogs grading A. F. W. Walsh, Director of Marketing with the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, in commenting on the favorable price now being paid for Nova Scotia hogs said it was, "an excellent example of what could be accomplished by farmers co-operating with each other in the marketing of a graded product." For the past fifteen years, he remarked, farm organizations in the Maritime Provinces have exerted their full energy towards bringing about the price relationship which now exists.

Prior to the establishment in Nova Scotia in 1922 of some organization for the shipping of live hogs, the basis of prices for dressed hogs in this province was that which prevailed for live hogs in Montreal and Toronto. When live hogs were quoted at 13 cents in Montreal the price delivered Halifax was 12 cents. As dressed weight is only 75 per cent of live weight this meant that Nova Scotia farmers were receiving at least 25 per cent less than the farmers of Ontario and Quebec.

With the formation of county organizations for live hog marketing and the affiliation of local organizations into a central selling agency, prices paid to Maritime farmers began to close up to Montreal and Toronto prices until last year they were but ten to forty cents per hundred weight below Montreal. During recent weeks even that differential has been overcome while current prices reveal an advantage of 25 cents per hundredweight for the Nova Scotia product.

Preparing for Wool Marketing

Arrangements are now being made for the marketing of Nova Scotia's 1943 wool crop. Two grading stations, one at Truro and one at Antigonish, will be in operation this year and will be ready for the reception of wool the latter part of May. The Nova Scotia Wool Committee met at Truro Saturday when plans were made for the season's activities and expectations were expressed that more than 300,000 pounds of wool would be marketed at the stations this year, compared with 260,000 pounds handled last year. Of the wool graded at the stations last year, nearly twelve per cent was placed in the "seedy" or "burry" class, which is of low value when compared with the 86 per cent that graded military class or felting. Much of the low grade wool, it was stated, came from sheep where there were poor feeding and poor management and by far the greater part from flocks where there had been late shearing. Sheep turned out to pasture before being sheared pick up spruce and fir needles which very materially cuts down the grade of wool. The Sheep Committee takes the stand that shearing should start by the first of April and be finished not later than May 10. If shearing is done within these dates it means that the sheep can be kept under cover until sheared, resulting in cleaner wool. It also means that the work can be done before there is a rush of other work on the land.

With a bonus offered this year of four cents per pound on top grade wool, making the price, including the bonus, 35 cents for military style, it is expected that every effort will be made to have the largest quantity possible of quality wool sent to the grading stations. It should be remembered the bonus applies only on individual clips received at the grading stations free of rejects or with rejects separated.

Farmers Should Make Application for Help

County meetings to deal with the farm labour problems have been held in Pictou, Cumberland, Kings, Colchester, Annapolis, Hants, and Cape Breton. Discussion at these meetings indicated that the farm labour shortage was acute and that there is a grave danger of the province not meeting the increased production goals set by Ottawa.

The response of high school students to the policy of the Department of Education to meet the situation is very encouraging. It was stated at the county meetings that farmers in general feel they cannot compete with industry in the labour market and are hesitant in listing their labour requirements. If the shortage of farm labour is to be fully realized and adequate measures taken to solve it, farmers must list their requirements and forward them to National Selective Service offices. Without any further delay farmers should list their requirements and urge their neighbors to do likewise.

It has been pointed out that there is a difference between organized industry and unorganized agriculture. Industry is able to apply for men in block, with orders going in by the hundred. Vacancies reported for Nova Scotia during the month of January numbered 8,716. Farmers as individuals must apply as such and thus far applications have been very small in number. Thus it is not uncommon to find in a district that several hundred men are wanted in industry while only five or six farmers have applied for men. This causes the Department of Labor to consider that there is a shortage of farm help.

There are a large number of temporary permits that have been issued to farm labourers for work in industry during the off-season. These are cancellable and it is important that farmers make their requirements known in order that these men may be placed with them.

Between one thousand and fifteen hundred school boys and girls have already indicated their desire to be released from school May 3 in order to do farm work. Lists received at the Department of Education up to April 20 contained more names than the total received all last year. The FSF (Farm Service Force) badges are ready for distribution and will soon be available to students joining the land army. The great majority of students desiring to go on the farms are from The Valley and Cape Breton Island and most of the male students wishing to work on the home farm, although there are a goodly number willing to work anywhere needed.

Will Ship Bees After June 1

H. G. Payne, Truro, provincial apiarist, states that any orders received from now on for package bees will be accepted on the understanding that deliveries will not be made until after June 1. Bees received as late as that in the season, he adds, will naturally give diminished returns this honey season, but on the other hand, they should give assurances of a good colony for next year—and that might be a matter of considerable importance as it is quite possible there may be no importations next year.

Granville Ferry

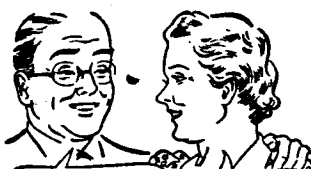

Mrs. Agnes Randall returned home from Cambridge, Mass., on Wednesday, April 14, having gone there to bring home her sister, Mrs. Julia Young, who was ill. Mrs. Young passed away on Sunday, April 18th, at the Nursing Home in Annapolis Royal.

Mrs. K.L. Oliver entertained the members of the Baptist Sewing Circle at her home on Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Ronald Bond was hostess at a jolly birthday party recently in honor of Miss Dorothy Wood. Miss Wood was presented with a nice gift and a prettily decorated birthday cake.

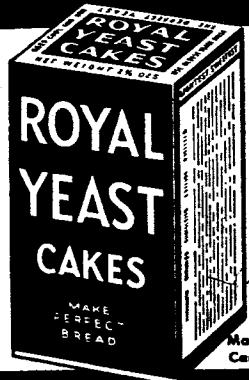

A joint birthday surprise party was given on Friday evening, April 16, at the home of Mrs. J. A. Ruffee, with Mrs. Ruffee and Mrs. Harry Mills sharing alike in the honors.

Mrs. John Dukeshire, who has spent the winter in the United States with her sons, is now visiting her daughter, Mrs. Gordon Mills.

What Is A Bond?

Everybody knows what a dollar is. It is only a piece of paper but everybody takes it for a dollar's worth of anything, because of the promise to you on behalf of the Dominion of Canada, which is printed on its face. A bond is a similar thing. It is also a piece of paper, and it also has the promise of the Dominion of Canada that the sum of money on its face will be paid to its owner. What is more, the money can be got for it at any time from any bank or broker. It is as safe as a dollar bill—it is as negotiable as a dollar bill—it is money in the bank.

But it does what money in the bank can't do. It earns three percent interest for you at the time you hold it.

There is a great point in buying war bonds while wages and profits are good. It not only helps the country, it helps us too. For the man who has war bonds in hand has a very sound nest egg.

After the war we shall need lots of things. We may desire to buy a house or a car. Perhaps we have children who will be ready to go to college. Maybe we look forward to taking some specific training ourselves, or perhaps there is a little business we should like to buy. Those of us who are getting a little older can easily add now to the sum we shall need at retirement.

There is no end to the uses to which Canadians will be able to put the money which they are going to lend to the Government in order to win this war and provide the opportunities in the future for doing all those things, and for having all those things, which we so eagerly look forward to.

We should all buy bonds, therefore, for our own sake. The man who can buy a bond and does not do so, can hardly claim in fairness a share in the future of Canada, which these bonds are helping to build today.

From a financial point of view, the wholesale purchase of bonds with every spare penny we have is the sound way of financing the country. It is the National way by which we pay our own way as we go. It is also the Democratic way which permits every man, woman, and child in the country to have a stake, and to be a partner in the future freedom of Canada and the world.

Miss Richardson and Mrs. MacIsaac, representing the Nova Scotia Registered Nursing Association, were visitors at the Academy on Tuesday. They were contacting High School girls with the idea of interesting them in entering the nursing profession. Five hundred student nurses are being sought to begin training this fall. The nurses have as their wartime slogan, "We serve that men may live".

The sale of war savings stamps for the week April 23-30 amounted to $43.00. The total from stamps, certificates and bonds sold since September now amounts to $1744.25.

The "Smiling Helpers" Grade I (a) branch of the Junior Red Cross, have sent $3.00 to the Crippled Children's Fund and $2.00 to the Junior Red Cross War Fund. They have about twenty cents on hand now.

Cadet equipment is slowly arriving and it is hoped that the complete uniforms will be here before inspection. This annual inspection by the district Cadet Officer, Captain Douglas, takes place May 25, and a more intensive training plan has been organized to prepare for it.

Let's Go To It!

The Fourth Victory Loan has now been on sale for a little over a week. Results to date have been good—in many cases they have been better than they were at parallel periods during the progress of the Third Loan.

But nothing can be good enough for Canada except a job that is completed and even more than completed.

This time a tremendous job has been placed upon the shoulders of the small subscriber. Half a billion dollars must be raised by plain John Citizen. It seems a large sum, but it must be done by us because there is nobody else to do it. The big subscribers and the banks have played their part, but neither the banks nor ourselves must use anything but real money in building up this Loan. That is why the banks, this time, are going against their traditional policy and urging you and everyone to take money out of savings accounts and to lend it to Canada. This is probably the first time in history the banks have asked people to withdraw their deposits, and the banks are doing it because they know that real money—and nothing but real money—will keep Canada stable.

The total sum needed for the whole of Canada is bigger than ever before. So is the total for each locality. And that means simply this, that everyone who bought a bond last time must buy one again. He must also try and buy an extra one, or at least one half the value of the first one; and even then Canada needs no less than a million people to buy bonds who never bought one before.

There is no doubt we are at a crisis in this war. This is the time when the extra push will mean so much. The greater the effort we make now the sooner we shall be able to end this war, and the sooner we shall be able to bring our boys back home.

There is but one grim alternative to victory. Canadians refuse to think about it. Victory is our only aim and purpose. We are going to gain that victory and we can gain it all the more rapidly if everyone, putting aside his imagined difficulties, will do his part.

Three Tag Days To Be Held

The town council gave permission to hold three tag days for local organizations in the near future. The first of these will be held May 15 under the auspices of the high school cadet corps. The C.G. I.T. will conduct another on June 5, and the Ladies' Hospital Aid another on July 3.

Council in Semi-Annual Session

The Digby Municipal Council opened its semi-annual session at the court house here Tuesday afternoon, with the warden, H. E. Chisholm, Bear River, and all councillors with the exception of Deputy Warden E. F. Hankinson, Weymouth, and Councillor H. A. Ameriault, Plympton, present. In the absence of the clerk, the minutes were recorded by Mrs. H. R. Bishop, who, later in the meeting, was appointed deputy clerk and treasurer at a salary of $75 per month, such salary to be paid until the clerk and treasurer, Roscoe Handspiker, returns, when other arrangements will be made.

(Mr. Handspiker was called up for military service some weeks ago, and has been confined to a military hospital practically ever since leaving Digby.)

In his opening address Warden Chisholm pointed out that this would be the last regular session of the present council as Municipal elections will be held in the fall. He expressed regret that deputy warden Hankinson was unable to be present because of illness, and welcomed Councillor Reginald Jefferson who succeeds ex-councillor Guy D. Dunn as councillor for the Culloden district. (Councillor Dunn resigned in January to accept the appointment as High Sheriff of Digby County.)

Speaking of post war reconstruction, Warden Chisholm remarked "We must do more than replace a few rotten planks and cover the whole with a new coat of paint. The foundation must be such as to recognize the Creator, and to embrace the co-operation of all in the establishment of a civilization, not as it formerly was, but as it should be."

In making the appointment of Mrs. Bishop as Deputy Clerk and Treasurer, resolutions were passed giving her authority to sign cheques in the name of the Municipality, and to transact other business at the banks in connection with the affairs of the Municipality of Digby.

W. C. Woodman, councillor for Smith's Cove, was named deputy warden to succeed E. F. Hankinson, and a motion passed requesting the clerk to write a letter of regret to Councillor Hankinson.

A nominating committee comprising Councillors D. B. Kenney, W. C. Woodman and Clarence Cornwall revised the present list of committees and placed the name of Councillor Jefferson on the committees of Finance and Public Accounts; Poor and Jail.

A letter from the Education Department advised that Andrew F. Weir, Freeport; Guy Blackadar, Weymouth, and J. Vian Andrews, North Range, had been government members of the Municipal School Board.

Councillors present at this session are Warden H. E. Chisholm, Bear River; Councillors W. C. Woodman, Smith's Cove; S. E. Woodman, Marshalltown; H. W. Cossaboom, Centreville; W. F. Cossaboom, Weymouth; H. B. Fitzgerald, Weymouth North; Bernard Eljackford, Freeport; D. B. Kenney, Westport; Reginald Jefferson, Culloden, and Clarence Cornwall, Rossway.

The town council has instructed both the chief of police and the superintendent of streets and water to see that "No Dumping" signs are posted in sections of the town where dumping is prohibited. The town has only one official dump, located in the south end, but it has been the practice for years to dispose of garbage and other debris at the Racquette and other sections. This practice has made these places unsightly, and during the years has cost the town hundreds of dollars to cover them up. It has also been the cause of many complaints from property holders living in these areas.

Married Fifty Years and Over

Mr. and Mrs. Embree B. Morehouse, of Centreville, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary at their home on April 27th. They were the recipients of beautiful flowers and many congratulatory cards. During the evening they were presented with a cabinet radio and a substantial sum of money from their children. Mr. and Mrs. Morehouse are the parents of thirteen and grandparents of twenty-four grandchildren. The children are: Viola (Mrs. Oscar Atkinson) of West Head, Shelburne Co.; Annie (Mrs. Vernon Greenough), Kingston; Yola (Mrs. Elwyn Morton), Centreville, and Dr. Charlie, of Noel, Hants Co., all of whom were present; Gladys (Mrs. George Moody), Ella (Mrs. Chester Ryan); Myrtle (Mrs. William MacDougall), and Willis, all of the United States; Laura (Mrs. John Cook), Amasa and Gerald in Ontario; Ralph, of Moncton, and Ethel (Mrs. Russell Atkinson) of West Head, Shelburne Co.

Others present were Elwyn Morton, Centreville, granddaughters Miss Flora Atkinson, West Head, and Miss Myrna Greenough. Ice cream and cake were served for refreshments.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Beecham Height, North Range, on the evening of April 27th, in honor of their golden wedding anniversary.

Owing to the fact that Mr. Height was not in his usual good health, a quiet evening was spent with only immediate relatives present.

Mrs. Height is 68 years old and Mr. Height 85 years old. He has been very active, being able to read and hear, and does his farm chores such as milking, etc. They had nine children, eight of which are living. One son, Milford, was accidentally killed five years ago. Mr. Height had five children by a former marriage, of whom two are still living. Among the guests present was Mr. and Mrs. Height's granddaughter, Miss Blanche Marshall, of Saint John. All the family were at home for the occasion except a son, Roland, of Lawrence, Mass., and one daughter, (Mrs. Guy Brown), of Mount Rose, Annapolis Co. Mr. and Mrs. Height received many cards and gifts from friends and relatives, also a sum of money.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver T. Doucet, of Woodvale, Digby Co., attained the 58th anniversary of their marriage on Thursday, April 29th. They were married at Stella Maris Church, Meteghan, by the late Rev. Father James Daly, then rector. The best man was Casimir Comeau, brother of the bride, and the bridesmaid, Miss Theresa Doucet, sister of the groom.

Mr. Doucet's father was Timothy Doucet, of Cape St. Mary and his mother was Miss Nancy Maxwell, of Glasgow, Scotland. Mrs. Doucet, who was formerly Miss Agnes Comeau, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Comeau, of Meteghan River.

Mr. Doucet is 86 years old. Three sisters, besides him, are living. Mrs. Doucet, who is 82 years old is still very active for her age. She has only a brother living, Casimir Doucet, of Meteghan River.

They have six children, three boys and three girls, and also a number of grandchildren. One of the sons, Emilian, the oldest, is chief engineer at the Monastery of the Good Shepherd, Halifax.

Because of the war no observance of the anniversary was held. However they received numerous messages of congratulations from relatives and friends. They are one of the oldest married couples in Clare. Mr. Doucet was a shoemaker by trade in his younger days. His father was one of the pioneer settlers of the village now called Mayflower.

1943 Crop Prospects Poor

The crop prospect in this area for 1943 is far from bright. Farmers have been handicapped by one of the latest springs in many years (seeding has not yet begun), and by a most serious help situation—all this in addition with other shortages.

The farm help situation, while serious all over the Dominion, is especially acute here due to operations at Deep Brook. Men who would normally be employed on farms, seasonably or full time, have been able to procure jobs at wages local farmers are unable to compete with.

Only this week two farmers from the Bear River district were heard to say that they would be unable to plant very little more than enough for their own requirements because they were unable to get help; a Lansdowne farmer stated that in his community it was even impossible to get school boys to help with the seeding after school hours—they were busy at other work, helping their own parents to get their crops in.

The fire wood situation is about the same. The cut during the past winter was only a fraction of that of other years because farmers who usually get out 100 or more cords of wood during winter months were unable to compete with higher wages paid at Deep Brook.

Annapolis Presbytery Names Officers

The annual meeting of the Annapolis Presbytery of the United Church of Canada was held in Bridgetown on Tuesday. All the clergy of the Presbytery and quite a few laymen were present. As at all annual meetings of this body the business was largely of a routine nature—election of officers, appointment of committee convenors, statistics, etc. The officers elected are:

President—Rev. G. C. Quigley, Annapolis Royal.

Secretary—Rev. R. H. H. Barker, Weymouth.

Treasurer—Rev. J. F. MacDonald, Bridgetown.

Lay Member of the Executive—F. E. Bath, Bridgetown.

The convenors of Presbytery Committees are:

Christian Education—Rev. S. R. Prince, Waterville.

Evangelism and Social Service—Rev. J. A. Jardine, Kingston.

Home Missions—Rev. E. A. Kirker, Middleton.

Archives—Rev. James Brooks, Bear River.

Church Property—F. E. Bath, Bridgetown.

Bills and Overtures—Rev. C. L. Gesner, Lawrencetown.

Missionary and Maintenance—Rev. A. D. MacKinnon, Berwick.

Statistics—Rev. R. H. H. Barker, Weymouth.

Missionary Education and Foreign Missions—Rev. J. F. MacDonald, Bridgetown.

Records—James Smith, Berwick.

Publications—J. J. Wallis, Digby.

Pensions—Rev. T. W. Hodgson, Digby.

Liquidation of Church Debt—J. J. Wallis, Digby.

Committee members named for the General Conference to be held in Sackville in June are:

Christian Education and Students—Rev. R. H. H. Barker, Weymouth.

Evangelism and Social Service—Rev. Mr. Zwicker, Bridgetown.

Foreign Missions—Rev. J. F. MacDonald.

Home Missions—Rev. E. A. Kirker.

Digby Merchants To Organize

A meeting of the retail merchants of the town of Digby has been called for Wednesday evening, May 12, when it is expected a retail merchants' association will be organized. The purpose of this organization will be to endeavor to increase the allotment of supplies to Digby stores.

Local merchants, like those of all others in Canada, are operating on a quota of 70% of their wholesale purchases in 1941 (60% on some lines). This allotment is far short of sufficient to supply local demands brought about by an unprecedented increase in population of this area. This increase is in addition to purchases made by thousands of sailors stationed at Deep Brook, who patronize Digby stores on a large scale.

Saturdays are a nightmare to Digby storekeepers and restaurant proprietors. The "day before Christmas rush" is nothing in comparison with the now ordinary Saturday trade. The stores find themselves sold out of practically all staple goods, and their shelves are nearly bare on Monday mornings. Householders who do not arrange to make their week end purchases on Thursday or Friday are usually just out of luck.

The Saturday afternoon train brings upwards of 1,000 sailors from the Deep Brook base, to town. Others arrive by truck, car, on foot and by other means. These sailors, although welcome, buy up everything in sight. In order to conserve Sunday stocks, restaurants have closed early on Saturday evenings.

Business in Digby during the year 1941 on which the quota is based, is said to be slightly under that of normal years, nevertheless, citizens of the town get along comfortably on the supplies allotted. The "pinch" was hardly felt until the fall of 1942, after the start of construction at Deep Brook when hundreds of construction men came to this area. The result has been the purchasing population has increased by 40% to 60%. Since early this year the Naval Base at Deep Brook has been in operation the number of sailors stationed there increasing almost daily. Not only do upward to 1,000 arrive each Saturday, but hundreds of others are in town during the week.

Their demands are many, and it is probably safe to say that in some lines the ordinary residents of Digby are getting along with from 25% to 40% of what was available to them in 1941—the balance is being bought up by the navy and construction people.

Masonic Officers Installed

The annual installation of officers of King Solomon Lodge, No. 54, A.F. and A.M., took place at the regular communication held on Tuesday evening. The installing officer was C. B. Longmire, the District Deputy Grand Master, of Bridgetown, and the officers for the year are as follows:

W.M.—Charles W. Ramsay
S.W.—M. S. Leonard
J.W.—A. R. Pyne
Sec'y.—J. J. Wallis, P.M.
Treas.—A. J. Dillon, P.M.
S.D.—Chester Levy
J.D.—A. S. Rankin
S.S.—L. M. Saunders
J.S.—Owen W. Irving
Chap.—A. R. Turnbull
Tyler.—C. W. Letteney
Org.—Rev. T. W. Hodgson, G.C.
Marshall.—J. W. Christie

The Public Property Committee of the town council was requested to look into a possible site, and investigate the amount required to build, equip, and set up a permanent comfort station in the town.

The need for a comfort station has been keenly felt for years, and has now become an absolute necessity.

To Purchase Comforts For H.M.C.S. Digby

At the request of the Director for Special Naval Services, the town council, at their regular monthly session, voted to purchase further comforts for the crew of the H.M.C.S. Digby. The purchase price of the articles suggested is approximately $60.

The H.M.C.S. Digby was launched last fall, Mayor and Mrs. Theriault attending the ceremonies. The craft was christened by Mrs. Theriault.

Loan Is "Up" Over the Third

The Victory Loan total yesterday stood at $503,936,100 compared with $414,583,900 same period last year. Tuesday's total was $67,590,850 more than 20 millions higher same day third loan. General canvass and payroll combined totals $138,376,000 to date. This is 25 per cent higher than last loan but need is for 33 per cent if $500 million from this source to be reached.

About This and That

Churchill so far overshadows other English public men that only a few are known here even by name. One of whom more will be heard is Sir Richard Acland, founder of a new party, the Common Wealth.

Most countries revere wealth. Acland has it. England has a special weakness for birth and family standing, and Acland has them. Everywhere philanthropic generosity is honored. Acland is noted for that. He has just handed over an estate of 19,000 acres as a gift to the nation.

Now this millionaire baronet, 37, graduate of Rugby and Balliol, is sponsoring a new party, founded last July, to bring about socialism in our time. At every special Parliamentary election since then, the new Common Wealth has done well, and a few days ago it elected its first member of Parliament.

The program grows out of the Labor party of which Acland has been a member. It calls for national ownership of the land, coal, electricity, transportation, iron and steel. Owners are to be compensated by an annual allowance not to exceed $6,000. President Roosevelt's proposal to limit net incomes for the duration stopped at $25,000.

England has had a good many new parties most of them lasting but a year or two. While this may be another morning-glory, the strength shown by Acland's radical movement shows what lies ahead for England.

And more and more this fellow Mussolini—who once proclaimed himself "not a man, but an event"—begins to look like a postponement.

Perhaps the greatest danger to human freedom is the new system of slavery established in Europe by the masters of Germany. As they extend their conquests, they take over manpower along with the land and material wealth and use it for their purposes. Thus their power, material and human, seems to roll up as they proceed, in spite of their vast losses in battle. Spencer D. Irwin estimates that, in this way alone, the United Nations have lost a potential army of 8,000,000 men.

Those slaves used by the self-styled "master race" for industrial and agricultural work in the lands they invade are naturally not so productive as they would be if working normally as free men for their own people. Their efficiency is estimated at only half their possible production. But even so, they are of great value to the enemy. And their situation is one of the perils of this incredible war. For if such slave power continued rolling up, the Nazis in Europe and the Japanese in Asia might overwhelm the free powers until the German and Jap militarists were literally masters of the world. Such a horrible fate now seems unlikely, but the danger is not over yet—civilization is not yet safe.

If money could really talk, the little old five-cent piece would tell some wild stories about what it used to buy.

The Germans are a backward civilized race, suddenly gone once more wrong. But the Japs are just plain savages still. They should be treated as civilized only when they have given something new in proof of it. "Face" means so much to them, they can best be punished through loss of face. Force them to face the fact of face loss! After the things they've done in China and elsewhere, the presumptuousness of their charges against Allied airmen should make even them wobble!

"Nobody really is lazy," says a Chicago medical authority. Well, we've seen some marvelous imitations.

Support the Victory Loan. Money is but valueless when what it represents has failed. Germany and Japan could receive no more welcome news than to learn that Canada's people had lagged and faltered, financially. Germany and Japan would rejoice indeed. Don't run away with the idea that disaster would not have any effect on your savings in the bank, or the precious roll of bills in your jeans. They wouldn't get you anything. Just ponder that for a while.

With gas rationed and the booze rations cut, the "nut" will have to wait until summer and rock a canoe.

Nationally Known Poultryman recommends VICTORY BONDS

Speaking of Victory Bonds, Mr. Ells says:

"If Canadians were asked to give money to help to win the war, we would not be asked to make a big sacrifice. Some are giving their lives. But we are asked to lend money. I am sure that farmers throughout Canada will be glad to lend money to their country, for like all other Canadians, they know we must do all we can to help.

"There is a practical reason for buying Victory Bonds, too. The money we lend to Canada now, to help win the war, will be ours to use as we please after the war has been won. Ready cash will be handy to have when we will want to replace farm equipment that is wearing out now. A farmer can always find a use for savings, and there is no better way to save than by investing all we can in Victory Bonds."

WHAT A VICTORY BOND IS:

A Victory Bond is the promise of the Dominion of Canada to repay in cash the full face value of the Bond at the time stipulated, with half-yearly interest at the rate of 3 1/2 per cent until maturity. A Victory Bond is the safest investment in Canada. The entire resources of the Dominion stand behind it. Canada has been issuing bonds for 75 years, and has never failed to pay every dollar of principal and interest. A Victory Bond is an asset more readily converted into cash than any other security.

Plants Instead of Seed

Why Transplants are Used: With some of the longer season vegetables or for earlier crops of vegetables such as cabbage, tomatoes, brussels sprouts, cauliflower, celery, broccoli and lettuce much better results are obtained by starting the seeds in a hot bed and later transplanting to the garden. It is also possible in some localities to purchase started plants of these vegetables from commercial greenhouse men who have establishments in the vicinity.

Seeding in Flats: If you are growing your own plants, seed should be sowed six to eight weeks before the started plants are to be put in the garden. This seed may be sowed in flats which are shallow boxes about 3 inches deep with cracks on the bottom to permit drainage. These boxes are filled with soil from of heat apart from the sun's rays is necessary. A layer of 18 inches or two feet of horse manure under the hot bed frame will provide heat from the first of April on. Or in some cases it may be possible to place the hot bed frame up against an open cellar window if the cellar is warmed or a hot water pipe placed under the frame may be hooked up to the heating system.

Hardening Off: A week or ten days before you expect to transplant to the field, plants in the hot bed should gradually be given more ventilation to accustom them to outside temperatures. At the same time watering should be curtailed. This process is known as "hardening off" and helps plants stand the shock of transplanting to field conditions with less ill effect.

Come help us lick the Hun.

Our ships are not so very large,

The guns are very light,

But when there's trouble on the waves,

You'll find us in the fight.

We protect the silent convoys

As they plod those shipping lanes,

Protect them from the U-Boats,

And those deadly Nazi planes.

So if you sort of like the sea,

Which is the life by far,

Come on and aid us in our job,

Join up—and be a Tar!

a compost heap or taken from the garden the previous fall and stored in a cellar or building so it will be available for use when wanted in the spring.

This flat is filled with soil and shallow depressions made in the soil crossways the flat with the edge of a piece of board. Seeds are sowed in these and soil is sifted over to cover the seed. Level off the soil, water thoroughly, cover with glass or newspapers and place in the hot bed.

First Transplanting: When the seedlings come up and get about 2 inches high, with the true leaves appearing on them, they should be transplanted individually to other flats spacing each plant at least 2 inches away from its nearest neighbors. These transplants are continued in the hot bed, until they are large enough and weather conditions outside are such, that they can be transplanted to the garden.

Attention in Hot Bed: Young plants in a hot bed require careful watching to give them water as required, preferably in the morning rather than at night. Also ventilation of the hot bed by raising or sliding the sash to keep temperatures between 65 degrees—75 degrees will require quite careful attention.

What is a Hot Bed: A hot bed is a structure made of boards or planks about 18 inches high at the back and sloping to 12 inches at the front. It should be 6 feet wide and long enough to give the space required. It's slope should be to the south and it should be covered with a glass hot bed sash or storm window. If a storm window is used the frame may be made to fit the window. Sometimes glass substitutes may be used for covering instead of glass.

Stove Pipes Need Special Storage Care

Extra special care in putting away stove pipes in a good precaution against any scarcity.

All pipes should be wrapped carefully and stored in a dry place. Before this is done, however, the inner surface of the pipe, as well as the outside, should be cleaned with a stiff brush to remove all carbon deposits. If the surface coating is scratched, the area around it should be cleaned with sand paper or steel wool, and given a coating of heat resisting paint. After this has been allowed to dry thoroughly, all surfaces of the pipe should be covered with heavy oil or grease. Finally the pipe should be wrapped securely in paper and stored in a dry place. A similar procedure should be followed to prolong the life and save the metal content of a furnace smoke pipe or any other removable sheet metal parts which normally collect furnace soot.

Where a stove pipe has been partially destroyed, the serviceable portions of the pipe should be saved.

When a stove pipe is not protected during the summer, the sulphur in the pipe attracts moisture, forming sulphuric acid which eats away the iron. Precautionary measures will prolong the life of a stove pipe for years.

The 30-foot long head of the Great Sphinx of Ghizeh, in Egypt, was originally colored red, but wind, sand and time has erased the coloring. Finally the pipe should be

OBITUARY

Allan Percival Hughes
To his many friends the news of the passing at his home in Regina, Sask., of Allan Percival Hughes, on April 29, will come as a shock. Although Allan or "Dutch" Hughes, as he was known to his friends, has been in poor health for some time the serious nature of his illness was not realized until three months ago and since that time he has been growing steadily worse. At his bedside was his wife, Bertha (Armstrong) Hughes, whom he married in Calgary in 1916, and his daughter Shirley, at home. He is survived also by one son, Gerald, R.C.A.F., overseas; one brother, Kenneth, Victoria, B.C.; and one sister, Edith, of Digby. Allan was born in Digby in 1887, educated at the academy and a member of Trinity Church. He left Digby in 1906 to accept a position with Colwell Bros. Express Co., Halifax, and the next year was transferred to C. P. R. Express Office in the Montreal station. In 1911 he went west and joined the staff of the Royal Bank of Canada in Alberta. In 1915 he joined "the colors" and went overseas early the following year. On the way to France he was taken seriously ill, and after many months in the hospital in England, was invalided home and honorably discharged. Since his return to this country, Mr. Hughes has been engaged in insurance business and at the time of his death was Inspector and Representative for Floyd's, London, in the three Prairie Provinces.

MARRIAGES

Johnson - Hanshaw

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the United Baptist Church, Bear River, on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock, when Hazel Mildred, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hanshaw, of Bear River, was united in marriage to Ellis Edward Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Johnson, of Hammond Plains, Halifax Co. Rev. G. D. Brydon performing the ceremony. The bride, who looked lovely in her white satin gown and floor length veil, entered the church on the arm of her father. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Virginia Hanshaw, sister of the bride, wore a floor length gown of blue taffeta and carried Tulleman roses. The groom was attended by his brother, James Johnson. The church was very prettily trimmed with spring flowers, ferns and potted plants. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, where refreshments were served to sixty guests. Mr. Brydon proposed a toast to the bride which was responded to by the groom. The happy couple left by motor for Digby en route to Saint John. The bride's travelling suit was blue with navy accessories. They will reside in Halifax where Mr. Johnson is employed with B. A. Blakeney Ltd., of which company the bride was also a valued member of the staff.

Burrell - MacNutt

A quiet wedding took place on Monday evening, when Evelyn Mae MacNutt, daughter of Pte. Kenneth C. MacNutt, (overseas) and Mrs. MacNutt, of Graywood, became the bride of Walter Edward Burrell, Deep Brook. Marriage was solemnized at the home of the groom's mother, by Rev. A.W.L. Smith, of St. Clement's Parish. The bride looked charming in a street length dress of rose crepe, with matching accessories and carried a white prayer book. She was attended by Mrs. Paul Vroom, sister of the groom, while Petty Officer Abraham Bobbett, of Ontario, now stationed at Cornwallis, supported the groom. Following the ceremony refreshments were served, Mrs. Edwin Hiltz and Mrs. Arnold Purdy assisting. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Potter, Bear River, grandparents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Mansford Wyles and P.O. A. Parsons, Halifax. The young couple will reside in Deep Brook where the groom is employed with the Dominion Construction Corporation.

Selected Army Men to Train At Mount Allison

Mount Allison University has announced that an Army University Course of thirty-three weeks will commence in September, to include approximately fifty students. Only candidates giving promise of developing into potential officers for the technical branches of the army will be selected. Similar courses are being offered at ten other Canadian universities, selected by the Department of National Defence.

The course will be similar to the second year of the B.Sc. or Engineering course. The subjects will include, Mathematics, Physics, Drawing, Mechanics, Descriptive Geometry, Engines, and Military Writing. In addition to lectures there will be practical laboratory work and tutorial instruction.

Professor Donald G. MacGregor, of the Department of Physics, who was in charge of the instruction of R.C.A.F. Radio Mechanics, at the University during the past two years, will direct this new course. All instructors will be members of the University staff.

Men between the ages of seventeen and twenty, already in the army, and civilians entering the army in category A, are eligible for the course. They must have a good senior matriculation (Grade XII) or its equivalent in five subjects including Mathematics and Physics.

Students attached to the course will be in a University residence under military supervision. Board and lodging, medical and dental care, tuition and text-books are free, and in addition to the army pay of seventy cents per day up to seventeen and a half years, and a dollar and thirty cents per day over that age rising to one dollar and fifty cents, depending on good conduct and proficiency.

Civilians interested should apply directly to the University as early as possible. The University will pass upon academic qualifications and names acceptable will be forwarded to the Military authorities who will make final selection.

Soldiers with the necessary qualifications will apply through their commanding officers to the University.

No guarantee is given to any soldier attending the Army Course that he will be granted a commission. He will, however, be considered eligible for selection to undergo training for a commissioned rank, in the Canadian army, under similar conditions pertaining to soldiers now serving in the ranks.

GRAVEL ROADS. CALCIUM CHLORIDE—TREATED. LIKE THIS...

..COST NO MORE THAN DUSTY, UNTREATED ROADS. LIKE THIS!...

Tires Last Longer on Smooth Surfaces

The abrasive action of loose gravel on rubber tires causes as much as 47 percent greater wear than on paved or stabilized surfaces. Sidewalls take almost as much punishment as the treads. Smooth, tightly-bound consolidated surfaces are easy on tires. Sidewalls are not exposed to abrasion.

ON thousands of miles of Canadian roads the dust problem has been solved simply and easily with Calcium Chloride.

Roadside crops have been saved from dust damage; housework in rural roadside homes has been lightened... and at no greater cost than would be needed for ordinary maintenance of untreated surfaces.

The Calcium Chloride pays for itself by cutting down regravelling and dragging—saves both labour and materials... so the improvement in the road surface is actually an extra advantage that costs nothing.

Highway officials are turning to the Calcium Chloride maintenance method in order to conserve labour and funds for essential wartime work; yet they are improving roads and making life healthier and more comfortable for farmers and rural residents at the same time.

Calcium Chloride is made entirely in Canada.

Should Purchase Ordered Sugar

Beekeepers are requested by the Federal sugar administrator not to apply for more sugar than they can purchase at one time. The controller in a letter to the provincial apiarist points out that already some beekeepers have not been purchasing, at one time, the poundage they were entitled under their beekeeper's sugar purchase permit. Should any beekeeper not take delivery at one time of his permitted poundage his supplier to whom the permit must be surrendered could deposit the certificate on his ration coupon bank account and obtain credit for the full amount shown on the document even though only a portion of the poundage was actually supplied to the beekeeper. The balance might not be required for bee feeding and therefore would never be purchased, thus enabling the supplier to build up an uncontrolled stock of sugar.

Stallion Inspection Starts

Dr. E. E. I. Hancock, veterinary surgeon, Nova Scotia department of agriculture, and Dr. A. C. Burt, Ottawa, federal veterinary inspector, started on Monday on an inspection tour of the province for classification of premium stallions. A federal-provincial bonus, based on the number of foals, is paid to stallions coming up to standard. To qualify the animal must be sound, a good specimen and typical of his breed, possess size, correct confirmation, true straight action.

Raspberry Circular Now Available

Circular No. 30, dealing with "Red Raspberries for Nova Scotia Farms and Gardens" by C. M. Collins, Provincial Horticulturist, has just been mimeographed and may be had on application to the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture. This circular gives information on propagation, sites and soils, preparation of the soil, manure and fertilizers, planting systems, setting plants, cultivation, pruning, harvesting, diseases, insects and varieties.

Cod Liver Oil and Milk Good for Chicks

The feeding of milk and cod liver oil may be helpful in rectifying conditions where paralysis is found among flocks of chicks. Cases of unusually high mortality should be reported to the hatchery, feed company and to the Department of Agriculture.

B. F. Cheney, head poultryman, experimental station, Kentville, in discussing the healthy raising of chicks, states that the results to be secured from the laying flocks during the fall and winter months is largely determined by the way in which the young stock is handled during the brooding and rearing period.

Favorable Reports Received

Favorable reports have been received at the Department of Agriculture from county representatives in various parts of the province.

R. A. LeBlanc, Meteghan, expresses the opinion that Digby County will this year be self sufficient in many agricultural products and will have a surplus in some others.

B. C. Knight, Bridgewater, expects quite an increase in most crops in Lunenburg County, with potatoes showing the greatest increase. Chick deliveries are increasing in volume with deliveries to the Barss Corner Poultry Club quite slow which will mean later marketing of meat birds than is usual in that area.

Planting in Yarmouth County, says H. H. Churchill, is two or three weeks behind compared with previous years. There has been a good deal of rain and the weather has been very cold.

Spring plowing is well on the way with frost almost all out of the ground, reports Benoit d'Entremont, Lower West Pubnico.

All farmers have decided to do their share in the greater production program, says Wm. Lefort, in reporting from Nth. Inverness. The labor situation, while not solved, is not going to be a very serious problem there, many farmers says Mr. Lefort, will have to work harder and longer hours.

Protecting a Great National Heritage

There is a stage in the development of every new country when restricted exploitation of natural resources must end and a policy of conservation begin. The mineral, forest, agricultural and wild-life resources of Canada, once described as unlimited, have, in many areas, reached a stage of depletion where an all-embracing plan of conservation can no longer be postponed. The demands of war have accelerated this exploitation and at the same time emphasized the imperative need for conserving our great heritage of natural wealth for future use. The derelict mining town, the denuded forest area, and the abandoned agricultural district are mute evidence of this era, of unrestricted exploitation which has lasted since the beginning of white settlement in this country.

There is one notable exception to this rule. It is to be found within the boundaries of our great system of national parks. Many of these parks are splendid examples of landscape and wildlife preservation and are proof positive that conservation pays in the long run. They preserve, almost intact, many of the choicest bits of the Canada of the past. By continuing to protect them against destructive forces of civilization, we of this day and generation are demonstrating that we are not unmindful of the Canada of the future. Already these parks are playing an important part in the cultural and recreational life of the Canadian people. They are a monument to the statesmanship and foresight of those who believed that we hold this land of ours in trust for future generations; that we must, in all fairness, hand it down to our children as their rightful heritage, undevasted.

It would not, of course, be practicable to apply the rigid principles of conservation practised in the national parks to the more settled regions of Canada. The parks of forest fire. The woodland are designed to serve the twofold purpose of conservation and recreation. They have been selected as areas of national interest warranting their commitment to national care. Their wilderness features have been kept unmodified. Their unique geological formations have been retained as nature left them; and it should be our aim to keep them free from any kind of industrial use. We should preserve as far as possible their sanctuary, scientific and primitive values for the benefit, education and enjoyment of the people of Canada and their friends from other lands.

Because of the forest quilt which covers large areas in many of the national parks, one of the greatest enemies of park conservation is fire. This year forest-fire protective forces are seriously depleted because of the drain of manpower to the Armed Services and to war industries. In these circumstances it is the patriotic duty of everyone who frequents any forest area to take every possible precaution to prevent the outbreak

Naval Man Promoted

Capt. C. R. H. Taylor, 47, R. C. N., has been advanced to rank of commodore and the position of "naval officer-in-charge, Halifax," which he has held since April, 1942, now will be known as "commodore, Halifax," naval service headquarters was announced recently.

Commodore Taylor was born at Weymouth, and educated at King's College school, Windsor. He enrolled as a cadet at the Royal Naval College of Canada in January, 1912, and served at sea during the First Great War.

Remaining in the navy, he served aboard British and Canadian ships and at Esquimaux, B.C., Halifax and in Britain, and in 1938 was appointed director of naval reserves.

On the outbreak of hostilities he was named director of naval personnel. He was promoted to rank of captain in 1940. In January 1941, he was sent overseas as captain commanding Canadian ships and establishments.

(He is the son of the late R. Holland Taylor, D.D., Rector of St. Thomas' Church, Baltimore, Maryland.)

Boy's Essay On A Cow

A cow has "six sides" and "is arranged for milking" according to an essay written by a 10-year-old boy from the East End slums of London and released by Ernest Brown, Minister of Health.

The boy had been evacuated from the city to the country, where his amazed eyes beheld a cow for the first time.

"The cow is a mammal," he wrote. "It has six sides, right and left, upper and below."

At the back it has a tail on which hangs a brush. With this he sends flies away so they don't fall into the milk. The head is for the purpose of growing horns and so his mouth can be somewhere.

The horns are to butt with and the mouth to moo with. Under the cow hangs the milk. It is arranged for milking.

"When people milk, milk comes and there never is an end to the supply. How the cow does it I have not yet realized but it makes more and more. The cow has a fine sense of smell and one can smell it far away. This is the reason for fresh air in the country."

"A man cow is called an ox. The cow does not eat much but what it eats it eats twice so that it gets enough. When it is hungry it moos and when it says nothing at all it is because its insides are full up with grass."

Choose Your Bonds

Choose your bonds, choose now my friend, While yet you may, think well, then choose;

It matters not whether you lend

Your money? No, except we lose

This struggle, and then find Instead of bonds that yield increase,

We've bonds of a far different kind—

Bonds that bind with no release.

Exaggeration you may say,

Perhaps, but listen: have you read

Of others who have ruled the day

They heeded not? (Many lie dead.)

The French, the Poles, the Greeks all know,

Their eyes have seen their loved ones die,

They do not question this because,

Just read and think, you'll BUY, BUY, BUY.

Clementsvalle Boy Heard Over "Air"

It was with much pleasure that friends and relatives heard Sgt. Vernon Potter, formerly of Clementsvalle, but now serving with the West Nova Scotia Regiment in England, as "news" commentator on a B.B.C. program "With the Troops Overseas," on Sunday.

He spoke of many of the boys from this province, who like himself, are with that regiment and in the First Division, telling that they are well and in good health and spirits. He said that many had taken unto themselves English wives who will grace their Nova Scotian homes when the war is over.

He also spoke of the wonderful hospitality shown by the people in the "Mother Country" to our Canadian boys, how they are made to feel as much at home as they could away from home. The boys are anxious to come home but not one of them wants to return until the war is over, and their job is done.

Show Rationing In Canada Dates Back About 400 Years

Rationing in Canada is not so new after all—it dates back intermittently about 400 years, Dr. Gustave Lanctot, Keeper of the Public Records, says in the annual report of the Public Archives tabled in the House of Commons recently.

A study of various documents shows references during the French regime in Canada to action corresponding also to price ceiling, frozen rents, restrictions on exports and subsidies.

The first record of rationing was found in 1542 when the Lieutenant-General for Francis I, went to Fort France Roy, nine miles above Quebec, to found a colony. For four persons the daily allowance was two loaves of bread and one-half pound of beef.

In 1628 Champlain at Quebec imposed a ration of peas, allowing each man seven ounces a day to spread supplies which were getting short as a result of a blockade of the St. Lawrence. In the winter of 1629 the situation became more acute and the ration was halved.

During the Seven Years' War which saw the end of New France there was a veritable famine in Canada and rationing was strictly imposed. The soldier's ration was set at a pound of bread, one quarter pound peas and one-quarter pound of pork a day. This was later cut to one-half lb. of bread, one-half pound of beef, one-half pound of horse meat, and one-quarter pound of peas.

There will be a Meeting of the RETAIL MERCHANTS OF DIGBY in the TOWN HALL WEDNESDAY, MAY 12 at 8 o'clock, p.m.

Home and School Council Meets

On Monday afternoon and evening the Council for Digby County Home and School Association met at Acadiaville.

The afternoon session was held in the school room with the president, Harvey Chisholm, in the chair. The meeting opened with the singing of "O Canada", prayer by Mrs. Harold Marshall and Home and School Creed read in unison.

Mrs. John Murley, president of the Acadiaville Home and School Association, welcomed the guest speakers and visiting Home and School members, after which the Chairman gave a well-prepared address.

Reports from three associations were given and the usual procedure of business carried out. The nominating committee chose the following slate of officers for the ensuing year:

Past President — Harvey Chisholm.
President — Mrs. John Murley.

Vice President — Mrs. Howard Rice.

Recording Secretary — Mrs. Charles Smith.

Corresponding Secretary — Mrs. Vian Andrews.

Additional members of the executive — Mrs. Harold Marshall, Mrs. Milton Bragg, Mrs. Parker Lambertson.

A list of problems given by different members was then brought up for open discussion led by Miss Dora Baker, and proved to be very helpful to all present. Meeting adjourned for the supper hour at 5:30 p.m.

The evening session opened with a sing-song conducted by Mrs. Harold Marshall. A health play and two readings were presented by pupils of the school under the direction of the teacher, Miss Betty Moses.

The guest speaker, Miss Marguerite Michaud, of the N. B. Department of Education, gave an address on her work of organizing Home and School Associations in New Brunswick. She also expressed her delight at being able to attend our Council and having a chance to see the beauty of our countryside.

Professor L. A. DeWolfe, National President of Home and Schools, followed Miss Michaud with a talk on the school curriculum, mentioning some of the drawbacks of grading pupils.

A vote of thanks was given by Mrs. Ruth Cook, to the entertaining association, especially to the ladies who devoted their time in serving such a bountiful supper. Inspector T. A. M. Kirk, expressed his appreciation, and thanks, in behalf of the Council. Meeting closed with "God Save The King".

Harry K. Kiley, son of Harold Kiley, formerly foreman of the Courier, but now a resident of Brooklyn, N.Y., has joined the United States navy. He was born in Digby.

St. Thomas' Social Club, to be operated along similar lines to St. Patrick's Social Club, Digby, will be formally opened at Annapolis Royal on Saturday.

Mrs. V. Pulley and Mrs. S. L. Larrimore were visitors to Bridgetown one day last week.

Deanery Chapter Holds Session

The chapter of Annapolis Deanery met in Clementsport Tuesday of last week, opening with Holy Communion at 9 o'clock in St. Edward's Church the Rural Dean, Rev. A. W. L. Smith, celebrant. This was followed by breakfast at the rectory; and at 10:30 Rev. T. R. B. Anderson led in the Litany, opening the morning session. "The Form and Manner of Ordering of Priests" was then read, after which Rev. B. Fream presented a very interesting paper on "Confession" which provoked a beneficial discussion.

The Rural Dean led in noon-day prayers, and these were followed by minutes of last meeting, and miscellaneous business. Luncheon was served by Mrs. Smith at the rectory. At 2:30 the chapter re-assembled under the round-table on "Evangelism" was conducted by Rev. G. E. Bickley. After adjournment, a social hour was enjoyed, with tea served by Mrs. Smith, assisted by Mrs. H. McNeil and Mrs. William Tennent. Next meeting will be in Weymouth, July 5 and 6. Clergy present were: The Rural Dean as host, Rev. T. R. B. Anderson, Middleton; Rev. Cannon Underwood, (retired) Annapolis; Rev. L. W. Mosher, Bridgetown; Rev. B. Fream, Round Hill; Rev. G. F. Bickley, Grandville Ferry; Rev. E. B. Gabriel, Annapolis Royal; Rev. F. Gaskill, Digby; Rev. J. Brodie, Weymouth.

Seek Reduction In Hydro Rates

A reduction in hydro electric rates is being sought by the Municipality of Digby. It was pointed out at the semi-annual session of the Municipal Council that the Hydro Committee showed a surplus of $1428.58 during the year 1942, and on that ground the council recommended that application be made to the Board of Public Utilities that a reduction be made in domestic, commercial and alternating current power rates.

The suggested reductions are 1 cent per kw. hr. in the first step of the domestic rates and 1/2 cent per kw. hr. in the second step; a 1 cent reduction in commercial rate per kw. hr., and a 1/2 cent reduction per kw. hr. in the rate for alternating power for general purposes.

H. J. Campbell, superintendent of the Digby County Power Board was authorized to make application for the reduction in behalf of the Municipality.

Another matter dealing with the Digby County Power Board was dealt with at this session when a resolution was passed pointing out that the Municipality of the District of Digby is a unit of the Digby County Power Board, and is therefore concerned with the financial affairs of the Board. The resolution further goes on to declare that the Digby County Power Board suffered considerable loss of a revenue, and was put to considerable expense due to loss of a submarine cable which carries electric energy across Petite Passage from East Ferry to Tiverton.

Such loss and expense, the resolution further states, resulted from negligent operation of a vessel owned or operated by the government of Canada or a department thereof. The resolution asks that the Digby County Power Board be reimbursed for such loss and expense.

The original copy of this resolution is to be sent to the Hon. Angus L. MacDonald, Minister of Naval Affairs; copies of the resolution are to be forwarded to the Hon. J. L. Isley, federal member for the constituency; to the Hon. J. Willie Comeau, provincial member, and to the Hon. A. S. MacMillan, premier of Nova Scotia.

ST. ANN'S COLLEGE WILL CELEBRATE 300th ANNIVERSARY OF FOUNDING OF EUDIST ORDER

On May 17 and 18 St. Ann's College, Church Point, celebrates the 300th anniversary of the religious order known as the Eudist Order who own and operate the college there. Among the distinguished guests invited are the former alumni Mgr. Norbert Robichaud, Archbishop of Moncton, N.B., and Mgr. Camille LeBlanc, Bishop of Bathurst, N.B. The program of events regarding the celebration is as follows:

May 17th
8 p.m.—Reception at St. Ann's for the two alumni, Mgr. Norbert Robichaud, Archbishop of Moncton and Mgr. Camille LeBlanc, Bishop of Bathurst, along with other clergy and dignitaries.

May 18th
7 a.m.—Solemn High Mass celebrated by Mgr. Norbert Robichaud at the college chapel.

9:30 a.m.—Pontifical High Mass in St. Mary's Church of Church Point, celebrated by Mgr. Camille LeBlanc.

3:30 p.m.—Distribution of prizes in the college auditorium.

8 p.m.—Grand Concert in the college auditorium presided over by Mgr. Norbert Robichaud at which an English drama "The Bishop's Candlesticks" and a French melodrama "Les Petits Jardiniers de la Reine" (The Little Gardeners of the Queen), numerous band selections will be played by the college band.

The Grand Concert will mark the closing of St. Ann's for the summer holidays. This is a month earlier than usual and was caused by there not being any Christmas holidays last winter.

The founder of the Eudist Order, Rev. Jean Eudes, was born at Ri in the diocese of Caen in Normandy, France, Nov. 14, 1601. In 1615 he entered a college at Caen which was operated by the Jesuits and he finished his classical studies in 1623 at l'Oratoire. He was ordained to the priesthood at Bayeux, December 20, 1625, by the Cardinal of Berulle. Following his ordination, Rev. Jean Eudes was obliged to take an enforced rest for two years, due to ill health.

During the great plague that infested the populace of the Argentan areas in France in 1627, he asked permission from his superiors to attend to the sick and dying. The populace had evacuated the area leaving no one to look after the poor infested people. The permission was granted and Rev. Jean Eudes devoted his time to looking after their needs and living among the afflicted people. He again offered his services when a second plague struck Caen in 1631.

It was at this time that Rev. Jean Eudes started his career as a missionary. In 1640 he was appointed as superior of l'Oratoire de Caen. He had visions of changing this college into a seminary to train the young men for the priesthood, as there was a lack of seminaries in those times his plans were frustrated when many obstacles were placed in his path.

He finally founded the Congregation of Jesus et Marie, which is known as the Eudist Order, in 1643, with five other priests. This was the beginning of a great undertaking which he established colleges in Canada and France.

It was in 1890 that the first college in Canada built and operated by the Eudist Order, first was planned. The most Reverend Cornelius O'Brien, Halifax, had invited the Eudist priests to come to Canada to establish a college along the St. Mary's Bay shore for the French Acadians who had settled there after the expulsion of the Acadians from Grand Pre in 1755. There were no schools in this district at that time. Several other religious orders had been invited to come to the French shore, by the Most Reverend O'Brien, but none would undertake the proposition. In 1890, the Rev. Blanche and Rev. Morin arrived in Canada from France and the first sod was turned for the construction of the college on October 13 of the same year.

The first building erected was finished in 1891, being 110 by 45 feet and of wood construction. Eight years later, in 1899, it was razed to the ground by a fire which started some time in the night. No one was hurt during the fire and the students made their homes among the people of the village, following the fire. Reconstruction on a new and present building in April, 1899, under the supervision of Leo Melanson, of Little Brook, and J. J. Thibodeau, of Church Point. The main building of the new college is 127 by 50 feet and is also of wood construction. It was complete in 1901. Since that time the college buildings have been enlarged and several other buildings added. Several years ago, the main building was completely remodelled and made up-to-date and a new auditorium built above the skating rink.

Their establishments in Canada are as follows:

Seminary of the Sacred Heart, Halifax, established in 1893 with Rev. Cochet, who left Church Point in 1896 to be its first Superior.

Sacred Heart College, Bathurst, N.B.—first built in Caracquet, N.B. in 1899. In 1915 fire razed the college and then it was transferred to Bathurst in 1921, when the college was completed with Rev. Lebastard as its Superior.

The Scolasticat de Charlesbourg, Charlesbourg, Quebec—this seminary was first established in Halifax, after which it was transferred to Bathurst in 1916 and then to Charlesbourg in 1923.

College St. Jean Eudes, of the parish of St. Fidele, was opened in 1937.

Parishes: In Nova Scotia, the Eudist Order operate the parishes of Saulnierville and Church Point.

Dean or Superior of St. Ann's since its establishment:

William McBride, of Caledonia, is visiting at the home of his brother, Bernard McBride.

Mr. and Mrs. Jared Banks spent Sunday in Marshalltown, the guest of her brother, Hantford Daley.

Pte. G. A. Buckler, of the R. R.C.A.S.C., arrived safely in England, a cable having been received by his mother, Mrs. Roscoe Alcorn, Bear River. A telegram for Mother's Day was also received on May 8th.

Rev. Leo Murphy, R.C.N., rector of St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, Digby, has been appointed part-time re-naval chaplain for this area.

James Ellis 98 Years Old

James Ellis, sr., Port Wade, celebrated the 98th anniversary of his birth last Friday. He is the oldest resident in Port Wade, and was the recipient of many congratulations in which the Courier heartily joins.

Tiverton Boy Injured

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Outhouse have received the sad news that their son, Flight Sergeant Clifton L. Outhouse, R.C.A.F., was seriously injured on May 7, while on active service.

Clifton is 21 years of age and this is his third year as rear gunner, in the service. His many friends and relatives are anxiously waiting further news. No details have yet been received, the telegram saying simply "seriously injured, letter to follow."

Municipal Council Concludes Semi-Annual Session

During its semi-annual session the Digby Municipal Council instructed the deputy clerk to forward a letter expressing regret in his illness, and hope for a speedy recovery to Roscoe Handspiker, Municipal Clerk and treasurer, now ill in a Halifax Military Hospital.

E. B. Pugh, C. O. Hankinson and O. F. Woodman were named members of the Board of Assessment Revisors, and H. H. Marshall appointed the Municipality's representative on the Digby County Power Board for the next two years.

A motion to pay collectors 5% on tax arrears was passed. During the January session passed the council whereby 5 per cent would be paid up to September 30, and 3 per cent after that date. D. B. Kenney, councillor for Westport, gave notice for the new motion at the semi-annual meeting, which was put and passed later in the session.

Sandy Cove

The W.M.S. held a special service in the Baptist Church on Thursday evening. An appropriate Mothers' Day program was presented with Mrs. Sydney Gidney as convener.

Mrs. Albert Gidney and children Ronald and David, and Mrs. Austin Morehouse, went to Halifax Monday.

Laurence Goodwin, Bridgetown, was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Morehouse for a few days last week.

Mrs. Owen Ingalls, of Grand Manan, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Merritt.

Summer Is On The Way

As further evidence that summer is on the way, we can hear the frog chorus every night now... a few dandelions are poking their yellow heads out of the ground... red buds are appearing on the maple trees... the first chestnut leaves will soon make their appearance... strawberry blossoms and white violets are no longer a novelty, and occasional pansies are now seen in flower beds. The other day we heard the click-click of a lawn mower, but in spite of all this, the season is far behind schedule, and it has been only the past few days that it has been fit to work in the "Victory Gardens".

Mount Pleasant

Mrs. Herbert Titus, of Centreville, is visiting her daughters, Mrs. Fraser and Nelson Handspiker and families.

About This and That

German military victories in the last few months have been as scarce as hen's teeth. But it must be admitted that the nazis have registered a first-class success on the diplomatic front by a break between Russia and Poland. What Keitel and Rommel failed to do by force of arms, Joseph Goebbels has accomplished by his propaganda machine.

So patently manufactured from the whole cloth was the story broadcast by Goebbels of the slaughter of 12,000 Polish army officers by the Russians, prior to the occupation of Smolensk by the Germans, that the wonder is why the Polish government-in-exile, quartered in London, fell for such a thing. Later, the soviet government, like the Poles, succumbed to the lure of this fantastic Goebbels yarn. The result is just what the nazi leaders planned, a diplomatic split between two of the allied nations.

It is Hitler's aim to sow dissension among the allies. And in his first big move of this kind he has succeeded, probably far beyond what he had hoped. Since this first Goebbels venture has proved so successful, we may expect more of the same thing. Leaders of the United Nations—and this includes us here in Canada—must be on our guard against further nazi diplomatic machinations. We must not permit Berlin to regain by trickery what the nazis are losing on the field of battle. Hitler's program is to divide and conquer, and his philosophy "the greater the lie the more easily will it be believed."

Pointing out the comparatively small number of errors in printed matter, a printer says that it is possible to make 2,759,022 errors by transpositions alone in the sentence, "To be or not to be."

We hear so many people complaining of the rationing system and wondering what on earth they are going to do. Why not stop and count our many blessings for a few minutes—there is plenty of staple foods, churches, magazines, books, newspapers—interesting and informative, and so many other things still to make life pleasant and helpful.

I'm sure each one will soon realize we are far better off than any of the crushed occupied countries. And unless we win this war we will eat just what we can get, and when we can get it.

The best thing, then, would be for each one of us to do our part as cheerfully as possible and work together to win the freedom and peace that means so much to every Canadian.

The wise man is one who never plants any more garden than his wife can take care of.

The majority of men now going into military service will come back unharmed, if we are to judge this war by our previous wars. The majority of those wounded will not receive wounds of sufficient seriousness to prevent them from taking active part in peacetime affairs. These facts are mentioned by way of comfort to those who have friends and relatives in the service and to call attention to the fact that there are going to be millions of former service men to point the finger of scorn at those who broke faith with them while they were away.

There's comfort in the thought that present tax rates are only temporary. Next year they promise to be worse.

The first Sunday in June has been designed as national Shut-in's Day. It offers an occasion when all of us can make life more cheerful and pleasant for shut-ins, for the disabled and the sick.

Many of these persons live in loneliness, some being compelled to remain in bed all the time. A little cheer will be greatly appreciated by these victims of misfortune. A call, a card, or a book, will make their lives brighter.

Last year many persons took advantage of Shut-in's Day, and it is hoped the response this year, when the cheerful word and encouragement is more needed than ever, will be even greater.

To form a fair and just appraisal of himself, every man should run for office at least once—and get beat.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Frank Smith

The death of Mrs. Ella Rice Smith, wife of Rev. Frank Smith, pastor of Victoria St. Baptist Church, Saint John, is a source of regret for a large number of friends. A patient for the past ten weeks at the General Hospital, where she was recovering from a fractured hip, Mrs. Smith had planned to go home Saturday.

She passed away in her sleep at the hospital early that morning. Mrs. Smith was born at Bear River and had resided at Deep Brook before going to Saint John seven months ago. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Joseph Ellis, Woodenville, Wash., and two brothers, Frank Rice, Woodenville, and Freeman B. Rice, Bear River. The funeral service was held at Victoria Street Baptist Church, Saint John, Monday evening. An interment was at Bear River Tuesday afternoon.

Winston Churchill sent by bomber plane a print of the British film, "Desert Victory", to President Roosevelt for showing at the White House. It is the camera story of the axis retreat across North Africa.

PATRIOTISM IS NOT RATIONED IN DIGBY COUNTY

LET'S EACH BUY MORE VICTORY BONDS

It is sincerely hoped that this county will exceed its quota of Victory Bonds which we were expected to buy. That's fine, but let's not take it for granted. Let's make sure that our quota will be oversold.

As a matter of fact, there should be no quotas in connection with the sale of Victory Bonds. Until the war has been won there can be no halting—no resting for any of us. We haven't won the war yet.

Our fighters are not working on a quota basis. They are "all out", doing everything they can to get the job done.

So, if we give this matter proper thought, each of us will buy more Victory Bonds. We will buy all we can for cash, and we will buy more—on the instalment plan—all we can pay for in the next six months. If necessary, we will scrimp to save to do it.

Some Hothouse Products Are Useful

The movement of a plant, tree or shrub from one location to another is known as transplanting. If this can be done, when the plant is in a dormant stage, without foliage and at a stage when cell activity is slight, it is more readily successful.

Transplanting in Leaf: If the plant movement must be made when the plant is in leaf, as is the case with some vegetable plants, then it is easier to do this the smaller the plant is and the less the root system is disturbed.

Why a Plant Wilts: This is so because a plant in leaf is continually evaporating moisture from its leaves into the air. The hotter the air and the greater its movement, the greater the amount of water evaporated or transpired by the plant. This moisture so evaporated can come into the plant only through its root system. The roots can absorb water only from the soil particles through root hairs that must have a or while setting out may be good practice.

Preparing the Openings Transplanting technique consists first in making the opening for the root system large enough to accommodate those roots without doubling up or crowding, because again, the more soil surface the roots contact the better their chance of getting moisture. This holds good whether you require a large opening dug with a spade or whether an opening made with a dibble or a trowel is sufficient. For most vegetable plants the latter methods of making the soil openings are sufficient.

Shifting the Plant: The plant should be lifted in the left hand and the root system lowered into the prepared hole so the plant will be set somewhat deeper than it stood in its former location. Moist soil should be filled in around roots with the right hand and pressed firmly over the roots. The last part of this operation being carried out with both hands one on either side of the plant. The ground is levelled off with final quick movement of the hands leaving a slight mulch of loose soil on top of the ground around the plant.

Dipping the Roots: If you are purchasing started plants and the roots are bare of soil it sometimes helps to dip the roots in thin soupy mud or muddy water before setting in the ground. Also, if the ground is sandy in nature, it will not hurt to pour water in the hole before setting or during the process of setting, but if the soil is fine or has much clay in it, such procedure causes the soil to harden and bake around plant roots and results are bad.

Farming Needs More Men Today

There is need today, more than ever before, for men on the farms to be efficiently trained if they are to meet the growing complications of all phases of agriculture, stated C. Eric Boulden, Principal of the Nova Scotia Agricultural College, in an interview in which he appealed to young men and young women too to take advantage of the training opportunities offered at the agricultural college.

The N.S.A.C., he pointed out, has only one aim and that is to help its students to be of greater service in the realm of agriculture. With that in mind two courses are offered—one, a five months practical farm course, the other a two-year degree course. The former treats with every day practical farm problems. The latter is for those who plan to take two additional years of study at MacDonald College or O.A.C., Guelph, in order to qualify for professional or administrative agricultural work. The N.S.A.C., being a government institution makes no charge for tuition. Students must be at least 16 years of age. Farm course students should have a good general education, preferably grade 10 standing, while degree students must have grade 11 standing.

While both courses run through the winter months, said Mr. Boulden, it is advisable that prospective students should begin now to make their plans. Living costs while at college can very largely be met by careful living and steady farm work between now and the time of enrolment.

Any young man who is planning to take up farming as his life's work would be well advised to get his training as early in life as possible. Even if there should be an unavoidable break in training on account of war-time conditions the man who is partly trained will have an advantage over the man who has no training.

Mr. Boulden concluded with stressing the value of training for the sharply competitive world and added that complete information would be gladly given to young men under military age, those who have military rejections or discharges, or to any others who are interested.

OBITUARY

Charles W. Melanson

Charles W. Melanson of 10 Eastern Avenue, Gloucester, Mass., passed away Tuesday evening of last week at the Addison Gilbert hospital at the age of 62 years. He worked for the Cape Pond Ice Company for 30 years, retiring about a year and a half ago. Born in Gilbert's Cove, February 26, 1881, he was the son of the late John and Levina (Amor) Melanson. He went to Gloucester when about 16 years of age, and was employed as a teamster for the late Warren W. Witham and later was a blacksmith and afterwards worked for Cape Pond Ice Company. He was a member of the Gloucester Seafood Workers' Union. He leaves his wife, Mrs. Rachel M. (Alride) Melanson, three sons, John E., Charles R., and Raymond F., a daughter, Mary Pauline Melanson, a brother, Martin, of Nova Scotia, a sister, Mrs. Addie O'Donnell, of Gloucester, and four grandchildren. The funeral was held from his late home on Friday morning with requiem high mass at St. Peter's Church and burial at Calvary cemetery.

Collective Bargaining And the Farmer

Reprinted from The Binscarth, Man., Express, March 25, 1943

The Manitoba Legislature, during its recent session, rejected a bill introduced by S. J. Farmer dealing with collective bargaining, and the CCF paper, The Manitoba Commonwealth, promptly accused the Provincial Government of being anti-labour.

Mr. Farmer's bill, however, according to The Commonwealth's summary, had little to do with improving the lot of the common workingman, being mainly designed to strengthen the already strong hands of the labour unions, which unions are only interested in themselves. Indeed, one of the principal effects of Mr. Farmer's bill, if made law, would be to establish the "closed shop" more firmly than ever, thus making it impossible for a worker to get a job unless he belonged to a union for which privilege he would have to pay a stiff initiation fee. From this it would appear that the ordinary workingman is not so adversely affected by the defeat of the bill as the CCF would like it to appear, and there may be some truth in the assertion that Mr. Farmer introduced his bill simply for political purposes.

The trouble with Mr. Farmer's bill, as I see it, is that while it would heavily penalize employers who refused to deal with unions, or who failed to live up to their agreements with labour, there was not a corresponding guarantee that Labour would be compelled to live up to its agreements with the employers. And we have already had instances in Canada of workers going on strike regardless of agreements. The difficulty is, of course, that labour unions are not incorporated bodies and therefore cannot be sued or compelled by law to fulfill the terms of their agreements. But they demand that the employer be fined by process of law if he fails to live up to his agreement. As most farmers are potential employers of labour, and as efforts will be made to organize farm labour into unions as has been done in the U.S.A., this is a matter of personal interest to every farmer.

The Ontario Legislature is holding public hearings on proposed collective bargaining legislation for that province, at which hearings, E. J. Young, of Toronto, presented a brief as a farmer and as a consumer. In his brief, Mr. Young pointed out collective bargaining between employers and employees which disregards the interests of consumers, can easily do more harm than good, and that, if governments made collective bargaining compulsory for employers and employees they would have to assume the responsibility of looking after the consumers' interests in the bargaining. This, it was pointed out, would be a difficult and thankless task for any government, and yet, it would have to be undertaken, otherwise the consumers' interests would be entirely disregarded when the bargaining took place. So far as the unions are concerned, any bargaining would have to do solely with increasing wage rates, thus increasing the employers' costs which, in turn, would be passed on to the consumer, who would as the result have to pay more for what he purchased, with no increase in quality or quantity. 'Union made' is not necessarily a guarantee of quality.

"The Letter Review" of Fort Erie, in sizing up the farmer-labour situation, comments as follows: "A battle royal between farmers and industrial labour is looming up. Mr. Hannam and the totally unrepresentative Canadian Federation of Agriculture, stick to the plan of uniting farmers and labour. The great mass of farmers disapprove of present high labour wages, and the great mass of labour—willing enough for the farmer to get good prices PROVIDED labour can, by wage increases and the cost-of-living bonus, maintain its enhanced purchasing power—will balk very much over increases in farm income whether by price increases or by subsidy when, as is now inevitable, the Government has to break the

Pate - Deveau
Miss Mary Lucy Deveau, Milton, Mass., only child of Mr. and Mrs. Armand A. Deveau, of Mayflower, Clare, was married at Chelsea, Mass., to Sgt. Malcolm Henry Pate of the U. S. Army, a native of River Bourgeois, C.B. The bride was attended by Miss Yvonne Maillet, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Maillet, formerly of Maville, and John A. d'Entremont, of East Boston, formerly of West Publico, supported the groom. The ceremony took place at the Church of Our Lady of the Assumption, in Chelsea.

At the time of a Roman feast the head of the family washed his hands three times, then picked up some black beans and threw them over his shoulder to bring good fortune to his household.

At a recent meeting of St. George Lodge, I.O.O.F., A. R. Turnbull, who has been a member over forty years, during twenty-six of which he filled the office of secretary, was presented with a 40-year jewel.

Sydney Renton and "Bob" Gordon, R.C.N., of Deep Brook, spent the week end in Digby. Sydney was recently transferred here from the west coast, where he had been stationed in company with Glen Hutchinson, a former Digby boy, and now also in the navy. Glen's many friends will be glad to know that he is well and happy in the service, and that he wished to be remembered to them.

The first boy soprano in the Anglican church at Granville Ferry since it was built seventy years ago, was Walter Murray, of Liverpool, winner of many awards at Yarmouth's musical festivals. He was visiting at Granville Ferry over Easter Sunday and at the morning service that day in the church, he rendered most beautifully the old Dutch carol, "This Joyful Eastertide." Young Murray is a chorister of Trinity church in the Queens County shire town.

Leigh Peck, well-known Digby barber, escaped serious injury, when his car crashed into a tree at Brighton on Wednesday evening last week. The car was one of the most complete wrecks ever to be seen in this part of the country; its body, twisted and smashed to bits, was practically knocked off the frame altogether, while the frame itself was bent almost in the shape of a "U". Practically every square inch of glass was broken out. Leigh, who was driving alone, was taken to the Digby General Hospital, suffering some from shock, and the X-Ray revealed a few cracked ribs. Last reports are he is resting comfortably, and will probably be home by the time this item comes off the press.

Clifford Doucet spent the week end at his home in Marshalltown.

Lieutenant Borden Stoddard and Mrs. Stoddard have taken up residence in the "Deveau" house on Montague Row. Lieutenant Stoddard was employed at Lour Lodge about ten years ago and has many friends in Digby.

CALCIUM CHLORIDE TREATMENT MAKES GRAVEL ROADS SMOOTH, DUSTLESS, LIKE THIS...

BUT COSTS NO MORE THAN MAINTENANCE OF A SURFACE, LIKE THIS

Tires Last Longer on Smooth Surfaces

The abrasive action of loose gravel on rubber tires causes as much as 47 percent greater wear than on paved or stabilized surfaces. Sidewalls take almost as much punishment as the treads. Smooth, tightly-bound consolidated surfaces are easy on tires. Sidewalls are not exposed to abrasion.

IN THESE times, when every available dollar is needed for a national war effort, highway officials are turning more to Calcium Chloride for maintenance of gravel roads.

Labour is limited and materials are costly. Both must be conserved. Calcium Chloride saves both and so pays for itself while it actually consolidates and improves gravel road surfaces—keeps them smooth and dustless.

So, wherever Calcium Chloride is used for maintenance, costly dust damage to roadside crops is ended, driving on farm-to-market roads becomes safer, easier, more comfortable; and housework in nearby homes is lightened.

That's the contribution Calcium Chloride maintenance makes to the welfare of rural communities... without extra cost.

Calcium Chloride is made entirely in Canada.

There have been a number real estate changes in recent weeks, new residents coming to make permanent homes in our midst. Let us all make them welcome and co-operate in assisting them in every way.

Mrs. Daniel L. Turner, owner of "Tree Tops" Cabin at Smith's Cove, tells in a recent letter of the many changes brought to Norfolk, Virginia, through war conditions. Mrs. Turner regrets that she cannot return to her Nova Scotia home, and sends greetings to her many friends in this district.

The blowing of automobile horns for any other purpose than that of warning in case of danger, is of course, contrary to the rules of the road, and it seems there are a number of drivers who need to read their Road book, as constant tooting of horns of parked cars is not only childish, but can be most annoying. No one wishes to complain to the R.C.M.P. about petty annoyances, but constant repetition of such noises is bound to bring about such a complaint. "A word to the wise is sufficient."

Prayer of a Soldier's Daughter

A young child kneels
And lifts her heart in prayer:
"Dear God,
Guard Daddy over there."

"Keep Mommy here
And make her happy too,
Dear God,
That's all I ask of you."

A shadow steals
Upon a head so fair,
A nod
That shuts out earthly care.

A young child kneels
And lifts her heart in prayer,
Thy rod
And staff will comfort there.

Starfish, Hercules Of The Sea

The common starfish, often referred to by fishermen as "five-fingers", is one of the most remarkable inhabitants of the sea, with peculiarities identified with no other species of fish. This curious creature might also be known as the "Hercules of the sea," for it displays amazing strength in its quest for food as it meanders through the sea.

Favorite food of the starfish are shell-fish, especially oysters. The oyster closes its shell at the approach of danger, but a closed oyster, which takes a fair amount of human strength to open, does not foil "five-fingers". It approaches its prey and from the shell-like casing of its body extends several small tubes which it attaches to an edge of the oyster shell. Then it bunches its five arms at a point on the other side and exerts a force so great that the shell opens.

When a starfish eats a big meal it has to bring its stomach outside because its mouth is so small. Even stranger, should one of its five arms be bitten off by an enemy, another promptly grows in its place.

A Share In Victory

What share will you have in victory?
What part on the earth's great stage
Will you play? Or will you sit idly by
While the fight for the right is waged?
For today our nation has called us
To a share in defeating the foe
By backing the boys who are over there
And the lads who are still to go;
Come then, let us of the home front
Go active, each man, child and wife,
'Tis little indeed that is asked of us
For many have given their life;
When at last the foe is vanquished,

When evil submits to the right,
You can count your share in the victory
By the dollars you put in the fight.

"Seems I Can't Save Anything.."

WE MET on Main Street. Jim had his usual ready smile, even when he got telling me how hard up he was.

"Seems funny," he said, "I'm earning more these days, but I just can't seem to keep it."

"Taxes, Victory bonds and all those other things coming off my pay."

He paused, then went on slowly.

"At least it seems as though I can't save anything. Actually, of course, those war bonds are my savings. I'm glad I've salted away a few of them. And you can count me in on the Fourth Victory Loan too!"

This advertisement contributed to the Fourth Victory Loan campaign by Dominion Textile Company Limited, Montreal.

pointed to report at the next annual conference on the question of forming a Nova Scotia Exhibition Association.

Many Soil Samples Being Received

Those interested in getting a soil analysis from the provincial chemist at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College should keep in mind that the right size of a sample is about one cupful or one half pound. Samples recently received varied in size from one ounce sent by air mail to one of twenty pounds sent by express. The soil should be taken from a depth of from five to six inches and from a half a dozen or more different parts. It should be thoroughly mixed, and from the mixture a cupful packaged and sent to the chemist. It is essential that the sample be representative of the area from which it is taken. Accompanying the sample there should be information covering the past three years as regards fertilizers used, lime application, crops grown and also crop plans for this season. In connection with samples from lawns and golf courses it should be remembered that it is contrary to wartime regulations to use mixed fertilizers on either lawns or golf courses. Dr. Smith, provincial chemist, reports that a very large number of samples have already been received with about half of them coming from gardens and half from farms.

To Continue Farm-To-Farm Survey

The farm-to-farm soil survey program of the Soils and Fertilizer Division, Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, will be carried on this season with field men operating in Antigonish, North Shore and the Valley. Three members of the 1943 graduating class of the N.S.A.C., Allan MacKay, Scotsburn; Donald MacKay, Elmsville, N. B.; and Angus MacLean, Riverside, N.B., have joined the division and will be on survey work this season under the direction of Edgar Milligan and Willard Fraser. The work will start simultaneously in Antigonish and The Valley with both parties concluding the season in the North Shore area.

Hereford Field Day Arranged for June 23

The Maritime Hereford Breeders' Association is making arrangements for the holding of a field day at Windsor on June 23. At a recent meeting of the association at Windsor it was announced that D. A. Andrews, Vermilion, Ont., was going to make a tour of the east and would probably attend the field day. Due to the interest in feeder cattle it was decided to invite W. W. Baird, Supt. Dominion Experimental Station, Nappan, to give a talk on feeding and fitting a steer for market.

To Make Generous Show Grants

Generous show grants have been promised by the Maritime Hereford Breeders' Association to stock shows held in the Maritime Provinces this year. The association meeting at Windsor recently announced the grants and appointed representatives to line-up prize lists with the requirements of the breed. Suggestions were made that in shows where there were likely to be purebred breeders, specials should be given on young herds, while where oxen were the main feature prizes should be given on pairs of steer calves sired by a registered Hereford bull or for a class of registered Hereford bulls. Incidentally, it was decided that at the Windsor field day prizes of $6, $5 and $4 should be given for best pair of broken yoked Hereford steers, and prizes of $5, $4, and $3 for best feeder steer to encourage a good exhibition of feeder steers. New breeders of purebred Herefords include the Hon. A. S. MacMillan, Premier of Nova Scotia; Leslie Fair, Wolfville; Charles Smith, Upper Falmouth; Leander Armstrong, Burlington; Allison Coldwell, Gaspereau; Joseph Anderson, Melanson; James McNeil Right now it is absolutely essential that farmers requesting help get in touch with their agricultural representatives or National Selective Service office.

Another matter that should be given attention by farm operators is the information cards, recently distributed, relative to farm machinery. All requirements for farm machinery, new or used, should be listed. The listing of requirements for new machinery is of special importance as requests received this year may have a definite bearing on the quota of new machinery allowed for this province next year.

It is also a matter of much importance that farmers list any farm machinery they may have and not need. Some one else may be in the market for this machinery and may be able to make very valuable use of it. Without any further delay all labor and machinery equipment cards should be filled in and returned.

Five Exhibition Dates Announced

Definite plans have been made for the holding of five district exhibitions this fall and the probabilities are that the total will reach seven with two district livestock shows also a probability. In the definite column are Lunenburg, the last of September; Annapolis and Oxford, the first week of September; North Sydney, Labor Day; and Queens, the week of Sept. 21, 22, 23. In the probable list are Digby and Colchester, while the proposed livestock shows will be at Windsor and Yarmouth. District exhibition secretaries recently met at Truro in annual conference under the chairmanship of A. B. Banks, Supt. of Exhibitions, Nova Scotia Dept. of Agriculture. It was the consensus of the secretaries that greater effort should be put forth to have as much program as possible provided by local talent, not only because of present-day conditions, but due to the fact that fairs using such entertainment find it quite successful and interesting. A committee consisting of Don White, Annapolis; H. E. Chisholm, Digby; Ray McCunn, Oxford, was ap-

G. K. Samis is Chief Poultry Promoter

G. K. Samis, who has been employed the past fourteen years by the dominion department of agriculture as field poultry promoter in Ontario, has been appointed chief poultry promoter for the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, and is now on the job. Mr. Samis, who is a native of Burlington, Ont., succeeds C. E. Benoit, who is now with the Quebec Department of Agriculture.

The new appointee has taken a very active part in dressed poultry marketing and particularly in poultry pools. He has given a great deal of leadership to the turkey breeders of Manitoulin Island who have won national recognition as turkey breeders. More recently he has been working on the R.O.P., Flock Approval and Hatchery Approval work. He received his training at Olds School of Agriculture, Olds, Alberta.

Messrs. Benoit and Samis visited a number of breeders, hatcherymen and agricultural representatives in the province last week which gave the latter an opportunity to get acquainted with the workers in the poultry industry and to see the type of promotion work which has been carried on so successfully in the province during recent years.

Farmers Should Make Known Labor Requirements

The seriousness of the farm labor problem is fully realized and a real effort is being made to meet farmers' requests for labor.

Right now there are available a goodly number of able-bodied high school students who have registered for farm work and who will be granted school leave when farm work is available. Another source of farm labor is men who have been working in other industries on part-time permits and are now recalled for agricultural work. Then there came into operation last week a movement to take men from non-essential to essential industry. All these sources of labor will be called upon as requests for help come in from the farmers of the province.

Women Urged to Join Garden Brigade

Bulletins on planning the victory garden have been sent to all the women's institutions of the province. An appeal appearing in the institutes publication, "Home and Country" urges all institute members to join the Garden Brigade. There is still time to join and make at least a kitchen garden for yourself, says this appeal. "Aside from the money you will save in table expense and the extra satisfaction you will get from eating freshly gathered vegetables from your own garden you will be releasing more food for places where it is needed and cannot be grown."

THE STORY BEHIND MEAT RATIONING

Food is a weapon of war, and we must share our supplies with those who are fighting to keep the war from our shores. After all special wartime demands are taken care of, only one half of the meat produced in Canada will be available for ordinary domestic consumption at home.

Meat supplies for our Armed Forces must be maintained at all costs.

Canned meat is required in large quantities by the Red Cross to send to our boys who are prisoners of war.

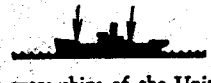

Great Britain has to depend more and more on Canada for supplies to maintain even its present low ration rate of 28 cents worth of meat per person, per week.

Places like Newfoundland and the West Indies, which previously secured their meat from other sources—must now depend to a great extent on Canada.

Since the war started the consumption of meat by civilians has increased in Canada. Great defense projects such as the Alcan Highway and the Shipshaw Power Development have created new and large demands for meat in areas where practically no demand existed before.

The many extra ships of the United Nations now calling at Canadian ports, must be furnished with meat.

RATIONING IS INTELLIGENT FORESIGHT — INTELLIGENT PLANNING

Coupon rationing is the only way of ensuring equal sharing of the meat available for civilian consumption in Canada. Those with lots of money will not get more than their share—and those with less money will be assured of getting their fair share.

Rationing will help prevent local meat shortages such as occurred last year from becoming widespread and continuous throughout the whole Dominion. The incentive for panic-buying which empties butcher shops early in the day, will be eliminated.

THE MEAT RATION WILL BE AMPLE FOR HEALTH AND NUTRITION

Fortunately, our meat production in Canada has increased. So, although only half our production will be available for civilian use, it will mean a reduction of only about 15% to 20% in the average household consumption.

The proposed ration of 2 lbs. (carcass weight) per person, per week, has been approved by the country's leading food and nutrition authorities, as ample for the health and nutrition standards of everyone—regardless of age or occupation.

DATES AND OTHER DETAILS REGARDING MEAT RATIONING—SOON TO BECOME EFFECTIVE IN CANADA—WILL BE ANNOUNCED LATER

WEYMOUTH

LOCAL AND GENERAL

Judson Nickerson left Monday for Halifax, where he has been called for the army.

Major Neilly and Sgt. Holmes were guests at the Goodwin Hotel Monday and Tuesday of last week.

Mrs. Lombard, of the teaching staff of Weymouth school, has resigned her position for the remainder of the term.

Miss Grace Welch received word of the death of her sister Lennie (Mrs. Theriault), of California. The deceased was well known here and her passing will be regretted by many.

Mrs. Stanley Hallett and Misses Maureen and Eileen Hallett, accompanied by Mrs. Grierson, motored to Yarmouth where Miss Eileen will take up her duties with the C.W.A.C.

Robert Hines, guest at the Goodwin Hotel since last Fall, left Tuesday to take up duties in Charlottetown. Mrs. Hines and two children will remain in Weymouth for a while before leaving to join Mr. Hines.

Mr. Flewelling and Mr. Page, of the inspection staff of the Royal Bank, Halifax, spent a few days in Weymouth last week. Mr. Page, who at one time was on the staff of the local branch of the Royal Bank, enjoyed meeting old friends here.

Mrs. Grierson entertained the Guild of St. Thomas on Thursday last. The day also marked the birthday of one of the members, Mrs. Hallett, who was presented with a bouquet of flowers in honor of the occasion, while Master Ian Matheson sang "Happy Birthday to You".

In spite of the unfavorable weather on Wednesday of last week, the weekly Red Cross meeting, held at the home of Mrs. Grierson, was well attended. Two large quilts were completed; the quilt tops being donations from Mrs. McDonald and Miss Welch. Mrs. Percy Cosman and other members, who had been absent through illness were cordially welcomed back by the president and members. The usual refreshing 10-cent tea was served. Master Ian Matheson assisted in taking up the collection for the tea.

The Ladies' Aid met last week at the home of Mrs. Gates, Weymouth Mills.

L.S.A. John Quigley, Mrs. Quigley and infant son returned last week from a visit to their home in Toronto.

Mrs. Hallett and daughters, Maureen and Eileen, motored to Berwick on Easter Sunday, and were guests of Dr. and Mrs. Bethune.

A large attendance was noted at the weekly meeting of the Red Cross on Wednesday last, which took place at the home of Mrs. E. R. Gaudet. Members worked busily, piecing quilt tops. Two much appreciated donations were received; one being a large double-bed quilt from Mrs. Theo Belliveau, Church Point, the other being a single-bed quilt from Mrs. Philip Theriault. Both quilts were lovely in design as well as workmanship.

Under the competent direction of Miss Orlee Comeau, a most enjoyable concert was held in the Community Theatre, Tuesday of last week. Mrs. Lombard assisted and Mrs. Dixon had charge of the musical part of the entertainment. The proceeds, which were well over $79.00 were in aid of St. Joseph's Church. The concert was presented again Thursday night in Plympton, in aid of St. Croix Church. $39.00 was netted at this presentation.

Retailers' Wartime Problems Discussed

"In the matter of rationing and short supplies, which are uppermost to-day, much depends on the behaviour of the consumer and the personal guidance of the retailer," declared W.A. Congdon, consultant for the business management committee of the War-time Prices and Trade Board, who addressed a meeting of retail merchants of the town of Digby, at the Court House, Tuesday evening. H. M. Turnbull, president of the newly organized Digby County Retail Merchants' Association, was chairman of the meeting, called under the auspices of the Management Service of the War-time Prices and Trade Board.

Mr. Turnbull called on Frank S. Fales, regional superintendent for the local office of the Board, to introduce the speaker. In his introductory remarks Mr. Fales said the purpose of the Business Management Committee was to convey to retailers business ethics to enable them, under existing wartime conditions, to better meet their business problems and to function in as near normal condition as possible.

Mr. Congdon stressed the importance of the retailer in the matter of distribution of merchandise. The retailer is essential and must function, the speaker said. Rules and regulations of the War-time Prices and Trade Board are not made to put the retailer out of business, but to help him meet wartime problems, for in these days practically everything is rationed, if not by the government, by the wholesaler and manufacturer.

In his address Mr. Congdon made a number of suggestions for consideration of the merchants, among them, shorter hours in retail stores; that merchants consider through an association their complaints to be brought before the Board; that whenever possible stores be converted into "self service" or "semi-self service" stores, with rationed articles placed under glass to prevent pilfering; that advertising be confined to the local paper or trade journals and that all donations made for "advertising" purposes be dispensed with for duration.

A discussion period followed his talk, when problems concerning the situation in Digby and immediate vicinity were brought up by local merchants. Chester Levy, the first of the retailers to speak, pointed out that 1941 sales in Digby were low, and although present retail quotas are based on 70% of 1941 sales, the purchasing population in Digby and vicinity has increased by upward to 500% since that time.

He was assured that steps are already being taken to care for "deficiency areas". Mrs. Sadie Turnbull, proprietor of the Gem Restaurant, brought up the matter of rationed supplies for her business, stating she found it almost impossible to get along with the butter allotted her. She was also told she could look for relief, and that commercial quotas would shortly be handled at Halifax where they could be dealt with with greater speed and efficiency.

K. E. Collins, grocer, A. R. Pyne, meat market, Mrs. B. J. Roop, dry goods, and Paul Yates, photographer, also brought up matters relating to their respective businesses. The officials of the War Time Prices and Trade Board, present at the meeting, confessed the problem of "Groceries" (grocery stores on wheels) was a new one to them.

This matter was brought up by Mr. Collins, who pointed out that up until the summer of 1942 at least seven of these James Stoddard operated out of Digby, supplying groceries to the people of rural communities for a radius of twenty to thirty miles. These have since gone out of business, and although some of the groceries did a cash business of $600 weekly, their quotas are of no value to local grocers who now have to meet the demands of former grocery customers.

Digby "Backs the Attack"

That the people of Digby County are solidly behind the fighting forces is evident in the manner in which they backed the attack in the fourth Victory Loan. This county with a quota of $500,000 subscribed $575,000.

When the quota was announced early in the campaign the figure seemed almost impossible. We did it and more, in fact, the third victory loan quota of $275,000 set for this county in that campaign, was more than doubled.

Naturally, we are proud of our effort. A half a million dollars is a lot of money to be subscribed in a county such as ours, and to suggest, even in the early days of the war, that it could be done, would have appeared almost fantastic.

But, actually, what we have done is nothing. We have loaned $575,000 to our government to help carry on the war. It will be repaid to us with interest, and although in some instances the purchase of Victory Bonds may have deprived some of luxuries and necessities they would like to buy at the present time, they are now helping to put the axe to the axis.

We are going to keep up the good work now that the drive is over. We are going to buy more war savings stamps and certificates. The local committee in charge of the campaign, express their thanks to all who assisted in making this good showing in Digby County. The pay roll work done by the LeBlanc Shipbuilding Company Limited, and the Clare Shipbuilding Company Limited, and the subscriptions of the Dominion Construction Corporation Limited, and the Maritime National Fish Limited, made it possible to sell more than $575,000 worth of bonds to about 1750 subscribers.

The treasurer of the Ross-way Red Cross Auxiliary acknowledges with thanks the sum of $12.82, the proceeds of a special service from the All Saints Anglican Church at Rossway, May 16.

Celebrates 99th Birthday Today

Mrs. John Belliveau, of Church Point, celebrates her 99th birthday today. She is confined to her bed and has been for some time. Up until recently, Mrs. Belliveau was able to sit up in a wheel chair. She was born at Church Point in 1844. She married Captain John B. Belliveau in 1865 and was the mother of ten children: Arcade, of Church Point; Joseph and Bernard of Nome, Alaska; Moses, of Boston; George, of Lethbridge, Alberta; Mrs. Edward (Emelia) Theriault, of Belliveau's Cove; Mrs. August (Grace) Deveau, Salmon River; Rose, at home, Jean, civil engineer for the Department of Highways, Halifax; Catherine and Philip. She has been a widow since 1913.

Accident on Fishing Grounds

While making the high water set on Saturday morning last, Gordon Morehouse, of Centreville, met with a very painful and near-serious accident. After the trawls were run out, his mate, Winford "Scad" Hersey, was about to start the engine, when Morehouse noticed the fan belt was a bit slack and reached down to adjust it, and before he had withdrawn his hand the engine started and two fingers on the left hand became entangled. When they were released it was found that the flesh and nail had been stripped from the forefinger below the second joint, and the second finger badly cut and bruised. Immediately they left the trawls and headed for port. Upon arrival he was rushed by car to Digby, where Dr. Dickie dressed the injuries. Mr. Morehouse is back at his home, suffering from shock and pain, but is hopeful of saving his fingers.

Paid for Bond With Cents

5,000 coppers were put back into circulation on Saturday, the last day of the fourth victory loan drive, when Lowell Winchester, four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul I. Winchester of this town, walked into the local Victory Loan Headquarters with a bag of 5,000 one cent pieces and ordered a $50.00 Victory Bond. The little lad, who made the purchase himself, had been saving his pennies for months for the express purpose of buying a $50.00 bond. It was not until Saturday, the last day of the drive, that he received his 5,000th copper.

Sgt. Sydney Smith, of Halifax, spent the week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Smith.

Spent Night In Bay of Fundy

Roy and Arnold Nesbitt, brothers, of Centreville, had a very uncomfortable experience last week in the Bay of Fundy, spending thirty-two hours without food or water. Having left Digby soon after noon on Wednesday to bring their fishing boat home, when above Gulliver's Cove and about two miles off shore, the universal joint broke. They anchored, and when it became dark in an attempt to signal shore the boat caught on fire, and before it was extinguished the bedding was destroyed and cabin badly damaged. The remainder of that night was spent in the Bay and all of Thursday, until dark, when their signal was seen by Nelson Raymond, of Gulliver's Cove, who at once went out and towed them in. No uneasiness was felt by the family, as it was not known they had started for home.

Name Convenors For June Drive

At the regular monthly meeting of the V.O.N., Mrs. H. R. Bishop and Mrs. J. M. Wallis were made convenors of the Annual Membership Drive which takes place in June.

It was learned at this meeting that Miss Edna Dysart, of Sussex, N.B., will take charge of the Digby Branch V.O.N. in August. Miss Dysart is highly recommended by the National office at Ottawa.

Donations acknowledged by the V.O.N. are as follows: crib quilt, Victory Club; adult quilt, Mrs. E. Turnbull; 2 pairs shoes, Mrs. Paul Winchester, Warwick Street; cash donations of $7 from the Ladies' Bridge Club by Mrs. Reicker and $4.45 from the Men's Bridge Club through Dr. E. DuVeret.

Miss Mary Merritt, who is capably carrying on the work of the Victorian Order in town, had a busy month in April as revealed by her fine report. 145 visits were made, 133 of these being nursing visits. Seventeen hours were spent in school, where 239 special inspections were made by the Medical Health Officer and the V.O.N. Eighteen T.B. contacts were weighed.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Addington and son Robert, of Little River, and Mrs. Letta Speights and daughter, Luella, of Sandy Cove, motored to Kentville on Sunday with Walter Walker, of Digby, to see Mrs. Speights' daughter Jennie, who is a patient at the sanatorium.

Mrs. Guy Morehouse, sr., accompanied by her daughter Edith, Mrs. Reginald Weir and Fred Cookson, of Montreal, spent Saturday in Yarmouth.

The Cadets raised $102.87 by selling tags on Saturday.

The sale of war savings stamps for the week May 7-14, amounted to $40.50. In addition, nine $50-bonds have been purchased by students of the school, bringing the total to $2,285.25.

On Friday afternoon, May 14, the Junior Red Cross branch of Grade II had a special program with the Grade I girls and boys as guests. Colin Purdy acted as chairman. The program consisted of a play, songs, and recitations by the Grade II pupils.

An essay contest entitled "Canadians All" is open to any high school students wishing to enter it. The students are to tell the story of the coming meeting in Canada of people from all ends of the earth. All entries to be postmarked not later than May 31, 1943.

The Digby Academy Cadet Corps, who have been doing "extra" training for the past few weeks, will be inspected on Tuesday afternoon, May 25, at 4.30 o'clock, by Captain J. C. Douglas, officer in charge of Cadet work for Military District No. 6. This inspection will take place in front of the Court House, and a cordial invitation is extended to the public to attend the ceremony. It will be a splendid opportunity to see how well trained and efficient the boys are.

Two fifty-pound bundles of magazines have been sent to the Central Magazine Exchange in Halifax. These are sent to Merchant ships and to outposts for service men to read. The Exchange handles fifty tons of magazines monthly. Those wishing to contribute magazines may do so by giving them to girls of the High School Red Cross.

Essay Takes Prize

The essay of "Teddy" Walker, Acadia University student and son of Mrs. C. E. Walker, Digby, was awarded first prize for all Canada. Mr. Walker's essay "Manganese Deposits in Nova Scotia" appeared in a recent issue of the Canadian Mining Journal. "Teddy" is to be congratulated on his success.

Recover Body of Missing Woman

Missing since April 28, the body of Mrs. Ruth Nicoll, 36, of Yarmouth, was found floating in Lake Milo, Yarmouth North, on Sunday, thus ending a search by the police all over the Maritimes. The discovery was made by Leading Aircraftman K. E. Thompson, R.C.A.F., Yarmouth, who was walking along side of the lake. After examination by Coroner Dr. S. W. Williamson, it was declared no inquest would be necessary.

Three weeks ago Mrs. Nicoll left her King Street home, leaving her two children in bed. A thorough search followed, with Yarmouth police, under the direction of Chief Hopkins, employing the services of several other departments in the Maritimes. Her father, Frank Gates, of Hill Grove, took charge of the children. Authorities could offer no cause for her drowning. Her husband, a veteran of the first Great War, died several years ago.

Red Cross Emergency Hospital

Equipment for a 25 bed emergency Red Cross Hospital, arrived in Digby on Saturday. This outfit, furnished by the Red Cross, is for use in the Digby Danger Zone in the event of an emergency, and with the exception of cots, is complete in every respect.

One hundred per cent co-operation in furnishing cots and providing other assistance needed, has been promised the local Red Cross by the Cornishville Naval Base at Deep Brook.

About This and That

The United Nations campaign in North Africa can be written as a major victory for the Allies, and next to Stalingrad, the most humiliating defeat suffered by the axis powers in the present world struggle. The fall of Tunis and Bizerte marks the end of a German-Italian army that once numbered close to 200,000 men. It gives the Allies complete control of the southern shores of the Mediterranean, and opens wide the door to an invasion of Southern Europe.

The British, French, and American armies covered themselves with glory in wiping out the battle-seasoned Nazi warriors and their Italian allies. But it is to the doughboys of General Bradford's second army corps that we doff our hats. When the hard-fighting Americans broke through the ring of steel in the German hill positions to capture Mateur, it marked the end of axis resistance that had held up the Allied armies for many weeks. Capitalizing on this breach, General Alexander's British, French, and American troops swept forward to complete victory in a remarkably short time.

The Americans did not look so good in their first major engagement in North Africa, when Rommel drove them back so decisively in the central section of the line in February. But they proved their caliber when they were transferred farther north, then staged their breakthrough after the hardest kind of fighting. The lads from the United States proved themselves fitting sons of their fathers who fought at St. Mihiel and the Argonne a quarter of a century ago.

The invasion of Europe is next. It may come with tomorrow's sun. No one knows when or where. But the advantage must be pressed home. We must continue to march from victory to victory until the battered axis powers humbly beg for peace.

The weaker sex is often the stronger sex because of the weakness of the stronger sex for the weaker sex.

A United States marine, blinded in the fighting at Guadalcanal, dictated to a nurse a letter for his fiancée back home, as he lay in a hospital somewhere in the South Pacific. At his direction the nurse wrote: "Dear Ruth, don't hesitate to break our engagement, I shall probably be blind, and I don't want to be a drag on anybody."

Secretly the nurse added this postscript to his letter: "With his intelligence, personality and humor, he won't be a drag on anybody, and there is no reason why you can't build something pretty fine out of life."

Weeks later, the blind hero stepped off a train in his home town and into the arms of a laughing fiancée, who talked glibly of the wedding to come and said gleefully: "He'll never be a drag on anybody; no, not that fellow."

Love, honor, humanity, courage—it is good to realize that such values are a part of our world. They deserve a congressional medal of honor. Did Hitler ever dream that he could destroy such things? If he did, it is merely another evidence that he never did nor never will understand Americans.

In modern literature there is nothing quite so absolute as last year's cook-book.

We speak of the "home front" in a more or less definite way, generally referring to preparations for defense, production, and to transportation of equipment, munitions, and men to the war front.

But behind defense, production, and transportation of food and supplies to the fighting men there's a front nearer to every home—the front where fathers and mothers watch and pray, their every thought and act looking to victory.

This home front has placed on the altars of our country its manhood, in faith and hope that "the Lord God of hosts is with us still."

Houses are so scarce in Digby that people are sleeping in the church on week days too.

Retail Merchants Organize

H. Milton Turnbull was named president of an organization to be known as the "Digby County Retail Merchants' Association." Richard R. Baxter was named vice president of the association, and G. R. Chesley, Smith's Cove, secretary-treasurer, at an organization meeting held in the Digby town hall last Wednesday evening with Chester Levy, chairman, and G. W. Connell, secretary.

In calling the meeting to order, Mr. Levy explained the need of such an organization in Digby, not only to cope with present day problems, but to deal with problems that may arise in the future. The suggestion was made from the floor that rather than to form a separate association, a retail merchants' committee of the Board of Trade be formed. There was some discussion, and the separate organization was favored by the meeting.

The immediate purpose of the association will be to endeavor to obtain greater supplies for stores in this area. It was pointed out that since the quota was set on the 1941 basis, the buying power in Digby, through increase in population, war construction work, and proximity to service camps, has increased five to ten fold, and that actually the full 1941 quota would not nearly meet present day requirements—one merchant declared that an increase of 300% over 1941 would barely meet present day demands.

In making these statements speakers said it was not their aim to seek goods for the sake of extra profits, their object is to be able in some measure to meet the demands of the townspeople and supply transient trade as well.

For months Digby stores have practically been "stripped" of staple merchandise. From 1,000 to 1,500 men from Deep Brook arrive in town every Saturday afternoon and hundreds of others during the week, all in addition to the increase in the town's population and the increase in the number of civilian transients.

Farmer in Britain Faces Tough Going

The Canadian farmer faces some tough going this year, but the British farmer has it even tougher. He has to:

Carry on all normal after-noon farm operations without a light visible in his barnyard or showing from his house or other farm buildings; get used to having in his turnip field an anti-aircraft battery which periodically flares into action against night raiders.

Work his fields up to the very edge of bomb craters sell increased products—grown under handicaps of labor and equipment shortage—at fixed prices; feed live stock on a coupon ration basis; pay a heavy income tax, and, if his profits are above a fixed level, give up 100 per cent of that surplus profit.

Despite all these handicaps, United Kingdom farmers have increased their crop average by 50 per cent over the pre-war average.

Radio Ghost Irks Nazis By Attacks

A radio station which represents itself as located inside Germany and claims to be speaking for the old-line military officers takes the air ten times a day to denounce in extremely colorful language nazism and all its works.

The station calls itself "Gustav Siegfried Eins". The broadcaster is "The Chief." What he says about such characters as Himmler and Goebbels is largely unprintable.

"Gustav Siegfried Eins" like dozens of other clandestine stations, is recorded regularly by United States monitors. If the office of war information knows the location of the station and who is behind it, the answer is strictly a secret. The same applies to British and independent monitors.

The broadcaster speaks in German. He says he used to think well of Hitler—but not other Nazi bigwigs. Recently, he has become critical of Hitler, too.

Except for vile language "The Chief" uses a style patterned somewhat after that of American gossip columnists. "Did you know so and so?"

Paul Schmidt, German press spokesman, is one of his most ardent hates. Regularly he denounces the Schutzstaffel (elite guard) Hitler's own troops. To him Marshall Erwin Rommel is merely a "Nazi general."

Some of his "inside information" pans out. His predictions of shake-ups in the German high command are described as particularly accurate.

Since the war began about 100 clandestine stations have been recorded, some big, some small. A recent tabulation indicated about 50 still are operating despite the gestapo.

These Will Aid Your Furniture

Ordinarily daily dusting with a soft absorbent cloth is all the care necessary for wooden furniture. But if the finish should become dull from too much polish or wax that was not rubbed in sufficiently, wash the furniture with a solution made from mild soap and lukewarm water. Wash a small section at a time. Rinse and dry immediately for satisfactory results.

Light scratches sometimes disappear after furniture has been waxed or polished. Deeper scratches may be touched up with a commercial scratch remover or rubbed with a nut meat. Where scratches are very deep, it may be necessary to apply stain to the scratch and then polish or wax over it.

White spots caused by heat on furniture may be removed if the finish has not been penetrated. Apply a few drops of camphorated oil on a soft cloth and rub the spot. Then wring a cloth out of lukewarm water, put two or three drops of household ammonia on it and rub the spot again. Alternate the camphorated oil and ammonia treatments until the spot disappears. Finish with the oil and polish with a dry cloth.

Fabrics with the exception of leather or imitation leather may be sponged with dry-cleaning fluid. Use long light overlapping strokes.

Most upholstery fabrics can be shampooed if the color is fast. Test in an inconspicuous spot for color fastness. Use dry suds or a commercial preparation, after having first gone over the upholstery with a brush or vacuum attachment.

For the soap and water treatment, dissolve one-fourth cup mild packaged soap in three cups of hot water. Set aside until the mixture is cold, then beat to a stiff foam with an egg beater. Apply this to a small area at a time with a sponge or cloth wrung out of lukewarm water. Rinse with a cloth wrung out of clear water. Place the furniture in an airy place to dry as quickly as possible. When dry, go over it again with the vacuum attachment set of teeth.

Saddle soap may be used to wash leather upholstery occasionally. Follow with a leather dressing. Do not use furniture polish, oils, varnish, shellac, or wax on leather.

SABOTAGE!

—Their Secret Weapon

NOVA SCOTIA faces the greatest danger in her history. So do her forests. Last year 91 forest fires were started... not by saboteurs, not by vagrants, not by incendiaries, but by patriotic, law-abiding Nova Scotians like you.

Think of it! Over 85% of the 1942 forest fire damage caused by careless smokers. Actually 23,909 acres destroyed, most of it young growth, and much of it merchantable timber when we need every tree to build planes, ships, homes.

Besides the loss from denuded watersheds, thus flooding the ocean with water badly needed for power purposes. Then, too, the man-hours lost in fighting fires... precious hours from the farms and the war industries. Every such forest fire is the equivalent of a major act of enemy SABOTAGE.

Naturally YOU don't want to start a forest fire... You just forget to put out your cigarette stub, your match, your campfire... and a costly forest fire results.

Which is tragedy enough at any time; but it MUST NOT happen this season. With thousands of former fire fighters at the front, with enemy sabotage always possible, we know you WANT to help.

Here's what you can do now. First, read carefully the fire prevention rules in the panel. Second, show them to at least three friends. Third, carry them out yourself when you're in the woods or on the highways.

Keep on Fighting Against Forest Fires

NOVA SCOTIA DEPARTMENT OF LANDS AND FORESTS

J. H. MacQUARRIE, Attorney General and Minister, Lands and Forests

HOW TO PREVENT FOREST FIRES:

- 1 NEVER BURN brush or slash in windy weather. Never burn without a permit and without help handy.
- 2 NEVER SMOKE on the trail. Wait until you stop in a safe place. Be sure matches, cigarette stubs and pipe ashes are COLD.
- 3 BUILD CAMPFIRES only on stream bed or lake shore away from inflammable material. Douse with water until DEAD before leaving.
- 4 KILL any small fire you find. REPORT ALL OTHERS immediately by telephone to nearest Fire Ranger. And show this ad to at least three friends.

Sink Without Warning

Any garden soil contains seeds of many plants besides those sowed by the gardener. In many cases these germinate more quickly and strongly than the vegetable seeds. Hence there are often hundreds of tiny plants growing above ground level before the planted seed come through the ground. From the gardener's standpoint there are only two alternatives, either he must torpedo and destroy these unwanted plants or weeds, or they will destroy his garden.

Attack When Small: A successful gardener must banish any scruples he may have about destroying tender little seedlings because this is the time he can get maximum results with the minimum of effort. A seed that has just germinated or a young seedling that is just coming through the ground can easily be destroyed by stirring the soil with a hoe or some sort of garden rake. If the plant is left until it is larger and more strongly rooted it takes more effort to root it out and it is more likely to retain sufficient ground contact (especially if tramped on by the gardener), to start in and grow again.

Method of Attack: If the gardener has marked both ends of each seeded row with a small name peg, as he should do, and if the rows are straight, then it is quite possible to cultivate between the seeded rows even before the seeds have germinated and gotten above ground. In a hand cultivated garden the best tools to use first are either an iron garden rake or a Dutch hoe. A garden rake will do good work against small seedling weeds and will cover the ground fast and work up close to the row. The same is largely true of the Dutch hoe though it is more effective for cutting off weeds than is a rake. Many good gardeners using these tools work backwards and thus avoid tramping the uprooted weeds again into the soil.

Pte. Eugene Butler and wife, Cpl. Marguerite Butler,

Reasons for Cultivation: The big purpose of cultivation, whatever the implement used, is to kill weeds because weeds use up the soil moisture and plant food needed by the growing vegetables. If their competition is unhindered the vegetables lose out. The second purpose of tillage is to conserve soil moisture more directly by having a loose mulch on top of the garden area that will absorb rain as it falls and that may also in some cases tend to reduce the rate of evaporation from the subsoil.

Depth of Cultivation: Many good gardeners feel that garden tillage should be shallow. Tillage, to a depth of one to two inches, is considered sufficient with a great many garden crops. Many of these crops are shallow rooted and have a large part of their root systems in the few inches of top soil. Deep cultivation cuts off many of these roots and so may harm and check plant growth more than it benefits. Deep cultivation also keeps stirring up new layers of weed seeds that keep germinating all summer and fall, while consistent shallow cultivation eventually gets rid of weeds in the top inch or two. This leaves the garden comparatively weedless later in the summer.

Time to Cultivate: The secret of success is to start early and repeat frequently, once or twice a week according to growing conditions. Hoe after every rain as soon as the ground is fit to work. The gardener who keeps ahead of his weeds is the one who will get the best results and accomplish them with the fewest backaches.

This article if clipped and filed with other articles in this series will make a collection covering the garden program. A companion bulletin, Gardening for Food and Fun, by C. M. Collins, is available from the Horticultural Division, N. S. Department of Agriculture, Truro, N. S.

Why is a Private Called a "Private"?

Why is a private called a private? And was a sergeant major always a non-commissioned officer? The Oxford Dictionary and Forestue's History of the British Empire supply the answers.

A private was originally a private soldier, called up by his liege lord in medieval times. The word is derived from the Latin privatus and was first used with its modern meaning about 1579.

The next highest rank, lance-corporal, comes from a French form of the word lanz pesato, a mounted soldier whose horse has been put out of action and fought with his lance on foot. He was considered superior to the infantrymen and had some authority over them, but not permanently. The word corporal comes from the Italian caporale.

Sergeant (Latin servientem) Old French-sargent) meant a common soldier in 1490. It was applied to a tenant who had military service under a knight.

A sergeant-major was originally a field officer next in rank to a lieutenant-colonel and corresponded partly to the modern rank of major and partly to adjutant. Another derivation is seen in the present rank of major-general. The term did not mean a non-commissioned officer before 1802.

The rank of Captain has been used in the French army since 1355. It is a derivative of the Italian capo de squadre, or head of a square, block of squadron. The captain's locum tenens or lieutenant was instituted as a rank by Charles VII in 1444.

The head of bands of foot soldiers in France about 1524 came to be called a colonel. The men were under his regiment, or command, and so the word came to be used as 'col. so-and-so's regiment'.

The colonel had little time to look after the training of his men, so this was delegated to his lieutenant, who, of course, became a lieutenant-colonel.

General, from the Latin Generalis, was a term applied to an officer of superior rank and extended command in 1576. Brigadier came from the Italian Brigata and French brigare (strife, contention) and was first used in its modern meaning about 1678.

A marshal was originally a high official in the household of a medieval king, prince or noble who usually had charge of military affairs. The word was mareschal in Old French.

High Nazi Prisoner A "Loss" to Allies

Held in captivity in England for two years, the war's most famous prisoner is now described as a "complete loss" to the allies and becoming more neurotic and irrational.

Rudolph Hess, one-time deputy fuhrer of the Nazi party, is still housed in an internment camp where he lives the routine life of a prisoner, plagued by a growing persecution complex.

He is said to call his guards several times a day to complain that "you are plotting against me." His general health is said to be "not bad," though it is becoming increasingly difficult "to make any sense out of what he is talking about."

Hess suffers from several fixed ideas and it is no good trying to talk to him about others," said a high English official. "His principal idea is the same one with which he arrived in England—that Russia was menacing the whole world and that England, the United States, and the rest of the world must join with Germany to defeat the Soviets."

Kidney Acids Rob Your Rest

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—their backs ache and their heads hurt. Often they blame it on "nerves" when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons from the blood. If they are faulty and fail, poisons build up in the system and cause nervousness, headache, backache, often "flu". If you don't sleep well, try Dodd's Kidney Pills—their half a century has proven their worth.

Rev. A. M. Hill, Montreal, well-known writer and historian, and a former minister to the Presbyterian Churches at Digby and Yarmouth, called at our office on Tuesday enroute to Yarmouth where he plans to spend a few weeks.

Of general interest to the people of Shelburne, Digby, and Yarmouth counties, who are worried by next winter's fuel supply, is the fact that parties from Toronto and other Upper Canadian places, are in the province buying up hardwood for shipment to those centres to help out on next winter's expected fuel shortage.

Advices received in Digby from Victory Loan Headquarters Monday of last week, revealed the largest single subscription in the current Victory Loan campaign up to that date, which marked the end of the second week of the drive, was one from the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, Ottawa, for an amount of $22,000,000.

A motion was passed requesting the Department of Education to extend their motion pictures and educational films into Digby County.

Then followed a lengthy of the Society will be held at the home of Leigh Marshall, Acaciaville. A. D. Pickett, of the Etymology Laboratory, Annapolis Royal, will give an address and lead a discussion on "common garden insects and their control."

Church Dignataries Attend Closing St. Ann's College

Among the guests present at the graduation banquet at St. Ann's College, Church Point, Tuesday noon, were His Grace, the Very Reverend Mgr. Norbert Robichaud, Archbishop of Moncton, and Very Rev. Mgr. Camille LeBlanc, Bishop of Bathurst, both former students at St. Ann's. Others attending the banquet were: Reverend Jules Comeau, Superior of the College, Reverend Mgr. Emile Bourneuf, Meteghan; Hon. J. W. Comeau, Comeauville; Senator J. L. P. Robichaud, Maxwellton; Lieut. L. d'Entremont, West Pubnico; Dr. H. Melanson, Weymouth; Dr. L. F. Dolron, Digby; F. G. J. Comeau, Meteghan River, and thirty-five prominent Roman Catholic Clergy from various parts of the Maritimes.

Both Bishop Robichaud and Bishop LeBlanc gave brief addresses. Bishop Robichaud declared it an honor to be asked to preside over the convocation exercises, and that he would long remember the 300th anniversary of the founding of the Eudist Order as marked by St. Mary's Church, at Church Point. He said he took a great pleasure in St. Ann's College which enabled young men to receive a Catholic education.

He advised students, especially graduates, to love and appreciate St. Ann's in their hearts forever, and reminded them that the promise given by the Valedictorian must be shown by action and not by words. Conditions as they are in the world today will take a lot of fortitude to the pitfalls that lie in the paths of Christian ideals, and these ideals must be foremost at all times.

Lifebuoy Follies Plays At Deep Brook

Colorful entertainment offered capacity audience of Canadian Sailors.

Featuring a pot-pourri of material with original and sometimes impromptu humor, clowning, high jinks, dancing, wild capers and assorted faces and figures, the New Lifebuoy Follies played last Friday night at the Naval Establishment, Deep Brook, to a capacity audience of servicemen. For two solid hours, the 18 variety turns on the program followed each other in streamlined sequence without as much as a curtain pause, while the men laughed, whistled and cheered themselves hoarse.

The Lifebuoy Follies, launched over a year ago by Lever Brothers Limited, was the first professional entertainment of the legitimate stage to be offered free of charge to the members of Canada's forces.

The team-work of the cast is perfect, the professional competence heart-warming. Pat Rafferty, Jimmy Devon and Jack Ayre have been by-words for side-splitting comedy and musical antics since they first won popularity with the "Dumbells", a concentration of Canadian Troop talent which for over a decade after the close of the last war, toured Canada and the United States. Sasha Dener contributes a brilliant tenor voice and Daphne McFardane's song and guitar impersonations are uncanny. Helen Bruce, blonde soprano, whose eyes have an impact all their own, knows how to sell a song, and there is some exceptional eccentric and challenge dancing by Irene Huges and Jimmy Devon. The accordion medleys of Joan Elaine, an enchanting blonde child who joined the Follies at the beginning of 1943, were sufficiently potent to sway the audience into community singing. Both the original and the New Lifebuoy Follies were directed by Jack McLaren, producer of the First Overseas Concert Party with the Canadian Corps in the Great War. The scarlet and gold costumes and colorful sets are the work of Ronald McRae, the magazine illustrator.

The classes of the Summer School to be held at St. Ann's College, Church Point, again this summer will commence on July 5 and will last until July 30. Three courses will be followed as usual and will be in the French language. Although these French summer classes are mainly for school teachers of Western Nova Scotia, all others interested may attend. Six professors will compose the teaching staff, the names of which are unobtainable at the moment.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Susanna Snow
Mrs. Susanna Snow, 82, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. John Taylor, Victoria Beach, on May 9. She was the widow of William Snow, of Hillsburn, and had been an invalid for the past thirty years. She had only been in Victoria Beach for the past two months. Left to mourn are: her daughters, Mrs. John Taylor and Mrs. Alma O'Connell, and one son George, Springfield, Mass.; three sisters, Mrs. Elijah Denault, New Hampshire; Mrs. Arthur Orde, Greywood; and Mrs. Rose Gregory, Young's Cove; two brothers, Burton Guest, in the United States, and John Guest, in Hillsburn. The funeral was held from the Hillsburn Baptist Church on Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. H. Hopper officiating. Interment was in Hillsburn cemetery.

Trains Set Fires

Two large grass fires were started over the week end supposedly from sparks from railway locomotives. On Saturday a large area, possibly three or four square miles, was burned over at the Joggin. The fire started near the railway tracks, not far from the Little Joggin Bridge, and spread through pastures and fields.

down to the Digby dump, causing considerable alarm among residents in that area. A small smoke house owned by Ernest Balsor, was damaged.

A fire, supposedly started by a freight train, broke out about noon on Sunday. This blaze was also in the Joggin district, back of the Lour Lodge Annex, and although it burned over a considerable area, no damage was done.

The 24th of May

"The 24th of May is the Queen's birthday, If you don't give us a holiday We'll all run away."

We, our parents and grandparents have been singing that for the past hundred years, but this year the government struck the 24th of May from the list of legal holidays. But towns, villages and stores all over Canada are observing the day, and we, the undersigned, have decided that our

In Memoriam

IN LOVING MEMORY of our dear mother, Mrs. Eliza McCormack, who passed away six years ago, (May 15, 1937). The evening star shines on the grave,
Of one we loved but could not save.
His will,
Deep in our hearts we love her still.
—Daughter Clara and grandson Warren. 36:1ip

IN LOVING MEMORY of our dear son, Gladstone E. Hutchins, who passed away May 19, 1940. More and more each day we miss him, Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
Lies within our hearts concealed.
—Inserted by his parents. 36:1ic

IN LOVING MEMORY of our dear son and brother, Maynard A. Hutchins, who passed away May 19, 1940. Today recalls sad memories
Of a dear one gone to rest,
And the ones who think of him today
Are the ones who loved him best.
—Inserted by his parents and sister Ruby. 36:1ic

IN LOVING MEMORY of Mary Tibert FitzGerald, who passed away May 23, 1936. She is gone but not forgotten, And, as dawns another year, In our lonely hours of thinking, Thoughts of her are always near.
—Ever remembered by her family. 36:1ic

NOVA SCOTIA FARM NEWS

Wool Grading Stations Now Open

Nova Scotia's two wool grading stations, one at the Curling Rink, Truro, the other at St. Francis Xavier Rink, Antigonish, opened Monday. F. W. Walsh, director of marketing, Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, said farmers could ship direct to the nearest station, freight collect, or through the nearest registered wool collector, of which there are about fifty in the province. No matter how the wool is shipped the price paid to the farmer is the same. Wool from Cape North or Yarmouth nets the same as wool grown in the near vicinity of one of the grading stations. The price depends on grade.

As a result of a bonus of four cents a pound, recently announced by the Minister of Agriculture, the farmer this year will get 35c. a pound for wool properly tied and grading Military Style, instead of 31 cents as paid last year. The higher price is offered as an inducement to the farmers to send in wool that will grade high.

Mr. Walsh anticipates the receipts at the stations this year will top 300,000 pounds, as compared with 257,000 pounds received last year. He urges farmers to ship early and appeals to all who have not already completed shearing to do so at the earliest possible date. This job, he contends, should be done before the sheep get out to pasture. Last year about 14 p.c. of wool received at the grading stations was seedy and burry which might have been prevented had shearing been done before the sheep were turned loose.

Tags should be used on the inside and outside of the sack. Tags and paper twine can be had from the collectors or wool warehouses. Last year large bags or sacks were supplied but this year owing to the shortage of burlap farmers will have to supply their own bags.

The wool once received at the warehouse will be promptly graded and checked and statement should be sent direct to the farmer within a week of the wool's arrival.

Farm Machinery Situation Improves

Good news for farmers interested in farm machinery was contained in the remarks made by W. P. Ellerton, farm machinery rationing officer for Nova Scotia in addressing local representatives of the War-time Prices and Trade Board in conference at Halifax last Wednesday.

A large quantity of repair parts is available with no present shortage existing and no probable shortage in sight. As regards new machines there is every indication that a sufficient supply of all necessary machines will be available for 1944. There certainly is no question about more new machines being available in 1944 than in 1943. Canada's quota of replacement parts for 1943 was 165 per cent of her 1940 demand while new machines varied from 25 to 75 per cent of the 1940 supply.

New farm machines are quite different from those of former years. Wood and cast iron are replacing steel. Fancy frills are taboo and all non-essential models and sizes are cut out. The policy is to retain all of the most essential machines and to supply models that are best suited to the territory where they are to be used. Indicative of the changes taking place are the facts that no power plows can be imported from the United States, and the models of walking plows have been reduced from about twenty-five to five or six.

Every effort is being made to supply all equipment that is absolutely necessary. Mr. Ellerton's office this year had applications for more than 200 brooders. As all these were considered essential, every one of the applications was granted.

Mr. Ellerton drew attention to the farm machinery information cards recently sent out by the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture. These cards, if not already returned, should be filled in and returned without further delay. Every effort is being made to meet the needs of the farmers for farm machinery and in order to do this rationing officers must have certain information which only the farmers can supply.

Reports Another Butter Increase

Creamery butter production in Nova Scotia was 22.9 per cent greater in April, 1943, than it was in April, 1942, according to the monthly report issued by W. J. Bird, Nova Scotia dairy superintendent. Each month this year has seen an increase over the corresponding month of 1942 with the total production for the first four months of '43 being up 27.06 per cent.

Student Farm Service Force Enrolment

Cape Breton county high school students stood well out in front among those applying for release from school in order to take up farm work for this season. The total number of applicants from that county, according to a tabulation compiled at the Department of Education was 160. Kings county came next with 119 applicants. Then came Halifax with 95 and Annapolis with 92. The other counties were: Antigonish, 7; Colchester, 74; Cumberland, 62; Digby, 39; Guysboro, 5; Hants, 64; Inverness, 79; Lunenburg, 45; Pictou, 59; Queens, 12; Richmond, 14; Shelburne, 7; Victoria, 17; Yarmouth, 42. Another break-down of the figures shows that 641 students wanted to work on home farms and 354 were prepared to go on outside farms. Cape Breton county and Halifax county had the greater number of students willing to work on outside farms, the former having 86 and the latter 75. Students working on farms become members of the "Farm Service Force" and on completion of satisfactory service are awarded a certificate of recognition.

Jewish Families In Canada

The number of Jewish farming families has increased 20 per cent since 1931 although that period included the years of drought, depression and the lowest prices for farming products in Canadian history, according to a statement by the United Jewish Refugee and War Relief Agencies, Montreal, which just completed a study of Jewish refugee settlement in Canada. The study shows that there has been a slight decrease of Jewish farm settlement in Western Canada where there are long established Jewish farming communities. However, a considerable number of refugees from overseas has been successfully settled on farms in Eastern Canada. The study points out that the produce of the Jewish farmers in Canada is more than sufficient to feed the Jewish population of Canada, which is only 1.4 per cent of the entire population of the Dominion.

A SMOOTH, DUSTLESS SURFACE— LIKE THIS...

COSTS NO MORE THAN A ROUGH, DUSTY SURFACE, LIKE THIS..

"WHAT?" you say, "a road that's smooth and dustless costs no more than a road that's rough and dusty?"

"Certainly!" we answer, "That's what many highway engineers have found by adopting Calcium Chloride treatment. You see, Calcium Chloride absorbs moisture from the air and thus enables the binder soil to hold surface gravel securely in place. This saves the gravel which is otherwise ground up by traffic and blown away as dust. By cutting down gravel replacements and frequent dragging the Calcium Chloride pays for itself.

"So gravel road improvement by the Calcium Chloride method actually costs no more than ordinary maintenance without Calcium Chloride."

When highway engineers adopt this Calcium Chloride maintenance method they not only conserve public funds but also save farmers costly damage to roadside crops, lighten housework in nearby homes and make rural living healthier and far more comfortable.

Calcium Chloride is made entirely in Canada.

Tires Last Longer on Smooth Surfaces

The abrasive action of loose gravel on rubber tires causes as much as 47 percent greater wear than on paved or stabilized surfaces. Sidewalls take almost as much punishment as the treads. Smooth, tightly-bound consolidated surfaces are easy on tires. Sidewalls are not exposed to abrasion.

ACADEMY ACTIVITIES

The girls in the High School who are studying Home Nursing are being given special classes in practical work by the V.O. Nurse, Miss Merritt.

On Tuesday morning $3.52 was raised by selling sandwiches. This money is to help provide teeters for the use of small school children. The School Board has already provided them with swings. There will be other sandwich sales every Tuesday morning in the Grade X room. Mrs. Carrie Abramson contributed a box of animal cut-out cookies to be sold for the same purpose. This brought in fifty-five cents. The children enjoyed them very much.

Most of the Junior Red Cross branches in the school are planning to collect magazines.

The Grade XII students were shown moving pictures on Thursday afternoon in connection with chemistry and physics classes.

The stamp sale for the week May 14-21 amounted to $40, bringing the total to $2325.25.

On Wednesday last at 5 p.m. the annual inspection of the Digby Cadet Corps took place on the grounds in front of the Court House. The inspection was carried out by Captain J. C. Douglas, District Cadet Officer, who inspected both Senior and Junior Platoon, afterwards taking the salute on the march past. Demonstrations of Platoon Drill, Physical Training and First Aid were carried out by cadets under the able commands of their N.C.O.'s and officers. The inspection program completed, dismissal form parade was given at approximately 5.50 p.m. at which time Captain Douglas was shown the progress made in rifle completion and a review of cadet work books and courses. Although not in possession of complete uniforms, the Senior Platoon made a good showing with wedge-caps, black ties, white shirts and dark trousers.

The Navy League Hostel (formerly Lour Lodge) which has been undergoing changes for some weeks, will open on Saturday in time for the supper hour. The formal opening will take place at a later date when the civilian population will have an opportunity to inspect the premises.

Sailor Killed in Crash At Clementsport

A man was killed and another is in hospital as the result of an automobile accident at Clementsport early Friday morning. The name of the victim has not yet been revealed by authorities.

Between three and four o'clock, W. L. Currie heard a car approaching his house from the direction of Annapolis Royal, at a terrific rate of speed. A few seconds later he heard a crash. He rushed outside and saw a car down in a gully and a man moving around and called to ask if everything was all right. After a few minutes he went down and saw someone running across the field and later heard footsteps going over the Clementsport bridge.

He then found the car had turned over pinning a man beneath it. The car, which was completely demolished, turned out to be the one belonging to Mills' garage, Annapolis Royal. It had been purchased just a short time ago and left outside the garage, the keys having been taken into Mr. Mills' hotel and hung up over the telephone.

They are still there and it is alleged they have never been taken down, therefore it would appear that there must have been a spare key in one of the compartments. The coroner, Dr. L. B. Braine, attempted to hold an inquest Friday morning at 11 o'clock but it had to be adjourned.

The hearing was resumed yesterday morning.

VOLUME LXIX, NO. 37

Many Changes in Digby and Vicinity

It has been suggested the Courier publish an article telling of some of the big changes that have taken place in Digby and vicinity during the past six or eight months. The task is not an easy one. Frankly, these changes have us more than baffled.

Of course the biggest change has been at Deep Brook—the consequence is that Deep Brook, less than a year ago a quiet little village, and now a small city, has altered the way of living for all us who live on this eastern shore of the Annapolis Basin.

Things began to happen there last June when the Dominion Construction Corporation moved in on the 400-acre estate of the late E. P. Morse. Since then things have moved fast. The big estate is no longer a rolling field with a mansion, garage and caretaker's residence. It is now a big town, still only half completed, with a bank, post office, freight yards and warehouse and countless huge buildings. The "town" is now officially known as "H.M.C.S. Cornwallis".

Of course there is not much we are allowed to print about H.M.C.S. Cornwallis. It is an eye-opener. Perhaps restrictions will be lifted sometime and we can describe it fully with a few pictures, until then our readers must take it for granted. A few months ago while reporting an item in which "H.M.C.S. Cornwallis" was involved, one of the commanding officers told the press he could say "accommodations are being provided for thousands of men and hundreds of WRENS". At the time we were told the approximate number of thousands and number of hundreds but we will go no further than that at the present time.

Up until March 1, according to figures given in the Canadian House of Commons, more than $1,000,000 has been spent at Deep Brook. Since then we feel safe in saying another $3,000,000 has been expended and before completion the cost will run into more millions. This may give some idea of the immensity of the project.

It is, of course, no secret that on Saturdays Digby is usually "invaded" by one thousand to fifteen hundred sailors. Hundreds of others come to town during the week and on Sundays. It is a pleasure to say too, that, on the whole the boys and girls are on their best behavior. We like them, and they seem to like us. There is of course, a little trouble now and again, but that is to be expected.

One of the big problems is that of housing. Digby is really a congested area. Summer hotels, barns, garages, and spare rooms have been converted into flats, tenements and light-housekeeping apartments. Almost every house where it is possible has its quota of roomers and boarders, and there are still hundreds who are seeking homes. The fact that wartime regulations have clamped down on new buildings does not tend to relieve the situation.

Another problem is that of supplies. None of us are starving, and most of us manage to get the essentials of life. Very few of us, in spite of the fact there is more money in circulation than at any time in Digby's history, can get anything "extra" in the way of luxuries. Those things just aren't to be had.

Although we manage to get along, the essentials are really none too plentiful, in fact, in many respects, the situation is serious, and unless something is done shortly by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board to arrange more supplies for Digby and surrounding towns and villages, the situation may become desperate within a few months.

As the Courier has explained on previous occasions, our merchants are restricted to 70% of their 1941 purchases (60% on some lines). In 1941 retail business was quiet here. Deep Brook was not dreamed of, and until June of 1942 business conditions were below normal. Since June 1942, it is estimated Digby's purchasing power has increased anywhere from 300 to 500 per cent and our merchants are compelled to get along with 70 per cent of their 1941 purchases!

Is there any wonder many things are scarce in Digby?

Another of our problems is that of entertainment, and although some do not realize it, it is actually one of the gravest problems we have to face. The navy boys naturally do not like to stay in barracks all the time. When they have a day or night off it is only natural they head for town. The churches and the Board of Trade are doing what they can in this respect, and due to their efforts the situation is much better than it was a few months ago, but as more men move into barracks, other means will have to be found.

The theatre too is doing its part in this connection. For several weeks now the Capitol has been running its regular Saturday matinee, and continuous shows from 5.30 to 11 p.m. to a packed house.

There was a time when we felt we knew everyone in Digby. Today if we can recognize one-half of the civilian faces we see on the streets we are doing exceptionally well. There are times when Water Street, thronged with people resembles Broadway during rush hours!

Yet, in spite of all this, Digby appears much the same outwardly. The town looks the same, nevertheless, it is different, vastly different. Not a bit like the Digby of even a year ago. It is a new Digby that has come into being almost overnight. It will take some time for us to get adjusted and accustomed to it, but, in spite of it all, we still believe it to be the finest town on earth. We pray we will have good reasons to feel the same way.

Big Trout Marked With "V"

A big trout recently caught by thirteen-year-old Emile Comeau, of St. Joseph, proudly displayed a clear, black V on one of its sides. With so many baited hooks dangling in every pond and stream, where young and old are trying to make up for the meat shortage, the poor trout will most likely be soon heard shouting "Darn Hitler!"

Spring Court In Session

Mr. Justice W. L. Hall is presiding over the spring session of the Nova Scotia Supreme Court, which opened in Digby Tuesday morning. The only criminal case on the docket was that of the King vs. Arthur Stanton, who is charged with manslaughter, the charge arising out of the death of Frank A. Deveau, on the highway at Salmon River, Digby County, on October 6, of last year. Frank J. Deveau, a cousin of the deceased, was badly injured in the same accident.

It is alleged that Arthur Stanton, of Tiddville, Digby County, was the driver of the truck involved in this accident and that he was accompanied by John Horner, also of Tiddville. The accused is represented by M. S. Leonard, of Digby, while E. J. Theriault, also of Digby, is conducting the case for the crown.

Dr. P. E. Belliveau, of Metegham, was the first witness called. He gave evidence of being summoned to the scene of the accident about 8 o'clock on the evening of October 6. Frank A. Deveau was dead when he arrived. The body was lying on the east side of the highway on the shoulder of the road. Frank J. Deveau, badly injured, was lying in the centre of the road. According to Dr. Belliveau's evidence, both the deceased's legs were fractured, and there were multiple bruises about the body. In his opinion, the injuries, coupled with shock, were sufficient to cause death.

Ivan Pothier, who lives near the scene of the accident, gave evidence of hearing a crash, and rushing out with his son to investigate, saw the lights of a vehicle disappear in the distance. He found two men in the road, one badly injured, and the other dying.

John G. Horner testified he accompanied Stanton on that day. They were en route to Carleton, Yarmouth County, to peddle fish. He told of purchasing six quarts of ale at Digby, and said Stanton had drunk some wine at Digby. They drank the six quarts of ale bought in Digby, between Digby and Weymouth, and at Weymouth purchased another six quarts.

Stanton testified he had no recollection of the vehicle striking any object. After they left Metegham they did not stop until they had turned off on a side road at Beaver River on their way to Carleton. The engine appeared to be heating, and they stopped. Stanton then expressed an opinion that he believed he had hit somebody. Horner testified.

Other witnesses gave evidence of seeing a similar vehicle pass through Salmon River that evening.

At press time yesterday the case had not been concluded. All of the eighteen witnesses had been heard, and as our reporter left the court room, E. J. Theriault, crown prosecutor, was addressing the jury. M. S. Leonard, counsel for the defence, had made his plea. We regret we were unable to keep our forms open for the outcome of the case.

John Andrew MacAvity, charged under Section 75, section 2 of the Liquor Act, was fined $5 and costs in the Digby police court yesterday morning. MacAvity, who had a little too much to drink, tried his luck Tuesday afternoon at "tight-rope" walking along the edge of the long wharf and fell into the tide. Before he was rescued in an unconscious condition, he had taken in considerable water. Chief of Police Thibault and others worked over the man for more than two hours.

In film "takes" for his new picture Fred Astaire danced six times on the bar of a swank club, breaking 200 will most likely be soon heard shouting "Darn Hitler!"

NATIONAL SELECTIVE

SERVICE

Freedom's Fires Must Be Fed Our COAL!

CANADIANS must dig and deliver coal that we may sail convoys, power vital war plants, keep our railroads rolling, preserve the nation's health!

The coal mining industry—miners and management alike—have done wonders to provide coal, but they need help. More workers must be provided, or we falter—possibly fail—in this grim hour. Nature has been generous but we must help ourselves. Our mines are rich, but undermanned. By Proclamation, His Excellency the Governor General in Council has declared that labour supply for coal mines ranks as a national emergency. Further, in order to provide manpower for coal, the Governor in Council has issued an Order in Council aimed at swelling the flow of coal from mine to firepot.

This Order is of vital interest to everyone in Canada. Every Canadian should read and study its provisions, to see whether it demands any action on his part:

- 1 EVERY EMPLOYER, REGARDLESS OF HIS INDUSTRY, must advise his employees of these Regulations, and he must assist in discovering whether any of his employees have had previous experience as coal mine workers.
- 2 EVERY EMPLOYEE, REGARDLESS OF HIS INDUSTRY, who has had previous experience as a coal mine worker, must report that fact to his employer not later than Tuesday, May 25th, 1943.
- 3 A "COAL MINE WORKER" FOR THESE PURPOSES is anyone who, since January 1st, 1935, has worked under provincial certificate or license in or around a coal mine, or who, since the same date, has been employed for a total of at least 24 months in the production of coal (except at office work).
- 4 EVERY EMPLOYER, NOT A COAL MINE OPERATOR, must report in writing to a Selective Service Officer not later than Tuesday, June 1st, 1943, full details on any of his employees who are ex-coal mine workers.
- 5 SELECTIVE SERVICE OFFICERS ARE AUTHORIZED to require ex-coal mine workers to report for interview and to accept work at a coal mine.
- 6 SELECTIVE SERVICE OFFICERS MAY REQUIRE any man in any employment, if subject to Mobilization Regulations but rejected for Military Training, and certain others excused from Military Training, to accept employment at a coal mine.
- 7 NO COAL MINE OPERATOR may terminate the services of any coal mine worker without written permission from a Selective Service Officer.
- 8 NO COAL MINE WORKER may leave employment at a coal mine without written permission from a Selective Service Officer.
- 9 EVERY EX-COAL MINE WORKER, returning to the industry under these Regulations, will be paid wages at the established rate for the job at which he is placed; and the Government will pay wages of 40 cents an hour, 8 hours a day and 48 hours a week, to any ex-coal mine worker required to leave his present employment under these provisions, but not placed immediately at coal mining.
- 10 A BOARD ALLOWANCE of not more than $7.50 a week may be paid an ex-coal mine worker now returning to a coal mine, if required to live away from the residence of his dependents.
- 11 PRESENT AND FUTURE COAL MINE WORKERS will be granted postponement from Military Training to February 1st, 1944, by virtue of their occupation; and no coal mine worker will be accepted for voluntary enlistment in the Armed Forces of Canada, prior to February 1st, 1944, except under permit to enlist from a Selective Service Officer.
- 12 NO EMPLOYER IN CANADA, EXCEPT A COAL MINE OPERATOR, may solicit for employment or hire any ex-coal mine worker.
- 13 REGARDLESS OF ANY DOMINION OR PROVINCIAL LAW, male persons at least 16 years old may be employed as coal mine workers, and female persons at least 18 years old may be employed as surface coal mine workers.
- 14 WAR EMERGENCY TRAINING CLASSES will be available for training men as coal mine workers.

Such is the substance of the new regulations. Full details may be had at any Employment and Selective Service Office. If these provisions require action on your part, you are urged in the national interest to act immediately. Severe penalties are provided for non-compliance, but the Government relies on the co-operation of the citizens of Canada to make prosecution unnecessary by prompt action as required. This is a grave emergency. Assist if you can.

About This and That

The organization of the Digby County Retail Merchants' Association is a step in the right direction. We only hope, that now the Association has been organized, they will function and its members will mean business, and not adopt a policy "of let George do it", as is often the case here.

There is much such an organization as the Digby County Retail Merchants' Association should accomplish for their own benefit and for the benefit of the buying public, not only in the matter of coping with present day problems, but in dealing with problems that will arrive after peace is declared.

Right now, of course, they must be concerned with the matter of getting something more in the way of supplies for Digby. This is essential, not from the standpoint of greater profits for the merchants, but from the standpoint of public service. Unless something is done soon to bring pressure on the Wartime Prices and Trade Board to release more supplies to this entire area, the situation already serious, threatens to become drastic before many more weeks pass.

There are as yet no restrictions against a fellow having last year's straw hat cleaned.

The Germans can now place their famed "blitzkrieg" on the shelf. They will have no further use for it. It was designed for offensive warfare, for conquest. And the nazis are now definitely on the defensive. Their days of overrunning small, defenseless neighbors, are over. The recent allied success in North Africa, the constant Russian pressure in the east, is pinning Hitler down in his so-called Fortress of Europe. And the United Nations will soon be hammering at those gates.

The Allies have finally seized the offensive, and they won't relinquish it. Theirs to choose the time and place for attack. Now it is Germany's turn to wonder where the blow or blows will fall. Hitler and his generals can't choose their battlefields any more. They must fight where the invaders dictate, and such an arrangement is not at all to Berlin's liking.

It isn't any wonder then that, for the second time in six weeks, another peace feeler has been launched by Premier Franco, Hitler's stooge in Spain. "Neither side can win," pleads the Spanish leader, "the other is too powerful; so it is senseless to delay the peace."

Well, in answer to Gen. Franco, let it be said that one side can and will win this war, and that will be the United Nations. Furthermore let it be said for the benefit of Berlin that it can have the Allied peace terms whenever it asks—and these are —Unconditional Surrender!

Today meat rationing comes into effect. From now on we will swear off sneering at the wing or caboose of a chicken.

Meteghan's Beautiful Church Destroyed

Only one smoke-blackened wall of the handsome, brick Stella Maris Church, Meteghan, remains standing, following a disastrous fire on Thursday night. The glebe house is also a mass of smouldering ruins. Fire which started in the vestry of the church, and was discovered about nine o'clock, raced speedily through the 53-year-old structure, which served as the house of worship for some 400 families of that district. Before the course of the flames could be stayed both church and glebe were destroyed and other nearby residences threatened.

No accurate estimate of the loss can be secured. It was suggested it would involve an outlay of at least $75,000; possibly $100,000 to replace the fine church, this not taking into account the two-storey, spacious glebe. It was understood that the loss is partially covered by insurance.

The church was used for devotions at seven o'clock that evening, and about an hour after the congregation had departed, Rev. Father M. J. LeBlanc, of St. Alphonse, who was visiting at the manse, noticed smoke issuing from the vicinity of the vestry. He sped to the church and frantically rang the bell in the steeple, to spread the alarm and summon aid. People of the village and members from the shipyard staff, the latter armed with fire extinguishers, raced to the church, but the flames had already gained considerable headway.

Monsignor Bourneuf was absent from the village at the time, but the curate, Rev. A. Theriault, was able to enter the church and remove the Blessed Sacrament to the nearby convent, the flames fortunately not having reached the altar. Rev. M. G. Le-Blanc, of St. Alphonse de Clare, assisted in saving the sacred vessels. These, with some of the sanctuary furnishings, vestments and books were all that were saved. Loss includes a fine pipe organ valued at several thousands of dollars.

It was first thought the glebe could be saved, but it was too close to the church, and was speedily showered with sparks that ignited it. Part of the contents of the house, built ten years ago by late Rev. John Deveau, were salvaged. Yarmouth Fire Department sent assistance, but when they arrived the flames were too far advanced to permit saving the burning structures, and they turned attention to the houses on the opposite side of the road, and with Meteghan volunteers, prevented further spread of the fire.

Built by Rev. James Daley, Stella Maris Church last Christmas celebrated the 53rd anniversary of the first Divine service held within its walls. About 40 years ago it was renovated and enlarged under direction of the late Monsignor J. B. Côté.

Fortunately, when the towering spire crumbled, it fell inward, amid the ruins of the church, and no injuries were suffered by fire-fighters. It is believed that a short circuit in the electric wiring may have caused the costly blaze.

OBITUARY

Melbourne Bacon

Following a long illness, the death of Melbourne Bacon occurred in Barton, on Wednesday evening last. Mr. Bacon was a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. John D. Bacon and was born at Hill Grove seventy-seven years ago. He leaves to mourn his wife and one son, Leslie, who is overseas; also three sisters, Mrs. Emma Phinney, Upper Granville; Mrs. Agnes Trites, of Wrentham, Mass.; Mrs. Louis Walker, of Upper Granville. The funeral service took place from his late home Saturday at 2:30 p.m. Rev. R. H. H. Barker of the United Church, officiating. Interment was in North Range.

Comeau - Deveau

A wedding of interest was solemnized at a Nuptial High Mass in the Stella Maris Church of Meteghan, at 8 o'clock Tuesday morning, May 18th, when Reverend Father R. N. Deveau, curate at Digby and Annapolis Royal, united in marriage his sister, Miss Rachel Deveau, a daughter of the late Dr. A. J. Deveau and Mrs. Amelia Robichaud Deveau, of Meteghan, with Sub-Lieutenant Adelard Comeau, R.C.N.V.R., a son of Honorable J. W. Comeau, M.L.A., and the late Grace Sheehan Comeau, of Comeauville. The bride wore a long white crepe dress with illusion train veil, crowned with white ostrich feathers and carried a white Prayer Book with streamers, roses and lilies of the valley of the same color. She was attended by Miss Rosanne Comeau, a sister of the groom. The matron of honor was Mrs. Alfred Roy, of Quebec, a sister of the bride, the flower girl, Marie Reine Deveau, a cousin of the bride and Felix Deveau, the bride's brother, attended the groom. Professor Ulysse Comeau, organist of Church Point, was at the organ, and his daughters, May, Jeannette and Antoinette Comeau, sang while Arthur Robichaud, an uncle of the bride, directed the choir. At the Offertory, Bernice W. Comeau, rendered Ave Maria, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Joseph S. LeBlanc. After the ceremony a wedding repast was served at the bride's mother's to relatives and intimate friends, and the happy couple left for a two weeks' wedding tour, during which they will visit relatives in Montreal, Quebec, Moncton and Buctouche, N. B. On their return they will make their home with the bride's mother at Meteghan. They received many valuable and useful presents.

Rose - Melanson

St. Croix Roman Catholic Church was the scene of one of the season's prettiest weddings on Sunday afternoon, May 23, when Viola Melanson of Plympton, became the bride of Weldon Rose, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Rose, of Port Maitland. The bride was lovely in a floor length gown of white silk lace over pale blue satin with long tulle veil caught with a coronet of orange blossoms. Her only ornament was a triple sheer of pearls. She carried a bridal bouquet of white

Back Door Callers

Every garden is apt to have its unwanted back door callers in the form of insects and diseases. The gardener in most cases has no desire to feed these callers but in many cases, he does feed them plenty, either because he does not know they are there or because he does not know how to help himself.

Type of Refreshments

Actually the gardener's treatment of this problem is fairly simple because there is no law to prevent his discouraging return visits by supplying them with Arsenic sandwiches, Nicotine Sulphate tea or Derris powder icing on their cake. The exact treatment that will prove most effective will depend on the type of visitor, and the close observer will note that they fall into two general classes.

Kinds of Visitors

If the gardener examines the face of these visitors closely, he will notice that one group is equipped with good big mouths well layered with teeth. In other words, they fill their bellies by directly eating plant parts as leaves, stems and fruits. Against this group the stomach poisons such as Arsenic sandwiches referred to are effective. These may be prepared by dusting or spraying Arsenate of Lead directly on the plants or by dusting mixtures of Calcium Arsenate and Hydrated Lime over the foliage. Derris powder dusted over the plants is also very effective in making this group turn up their toes.

The group of biting insects known as the "Cutworms" that eat off plant stems at ground level require a little different handling. Here a real porridge must be mixed up with 5 pounds of Bran, 2 ounces Paris Green, 1/2 pint of Molasses and 2 quarts of water. These materials are mixed together and scattered along the rows just before sundown after a bright warm day. These visitors are nocturnal and do their feeding after dark.

The other group of insect visitors have their mouths all screwed up into a beak or tube that they drive into their food supply, in this case plant leaves, stems and fruit and suck the juice from within. Against this type of garden visitor Arsenic Leaf sandwiches or poison porridge are of no use, and so, we have to use a sort of poison tea or bath, which, when sprayed over them penetrates their breathing pores and thus burns and suffocates them. Nicotine Sulphate is one of the materials most often used on these insects, which include the aphids and insects of a similar nature. Derris powder is also effective against these and as another advantage is not poisonous to the human race when eaten as a residue on plants. The same cannot of course be said for Arsenic.

Housecleaning

In addition to the above methods of directly discouraging undesirable garden visitors, systematic garden house cleaning will help in many cases. This means that after a crop is finished, plant residues should be gathered up and either burned or taken completely away from the garden. This destroys any insect eggs or larvae in these residues and so thins out the number of potential visitors. The same procedure should be carried out for any weeds and rubbish growing in the immediate vicinity of the garden.

INSECT CONTROL TABLE FOR SPRAYING—The Poison; Amount in 1 gallon of Water, and How Applied:

Arsenate of Lead; 3 1/2 tea-spoons; a small hand sprayer will do.
Nicotine Sulphate, 2 table-spoons plus 1 ounce Soap; a small hand sprayer will do.
FOR DUSTING — Poison; Amount mixed in 5 pounds of Hydrated Lime; How Applied: Arsenate of Lead; 10 oz.; Apply when plants are damp with small hand duster, or perforated tin can or shake through a feed bag.
Arsenate of Lime; 7 ounces; Apply, when plants are damp, with small hand duster or perforated tin can or shake through a feed bag.
Paris Green; 5 ounces; Apply, when plants are damp, with small hand duster or perforated tin can or shake through a feed bag.
Derris Dust—apply as above.
Pyrethrum Dust—apply as above.

Corrosive Sublimate — One ounce in 10 gallons water. Pour one-half cup of solution around stem and roots of early cabbage plants a few days after setting. Make two additional applications spacing them a week apart. Will control Cabbage Root Maggot. The same solution poured over the row of young carrots when nicely through the ground, plus two additional applications a week apart, will help protect from Carrot Rust Fly.
Bichloride of Mercury, available at Drug Stores. Very poisonous, mix in glass or crocks or wooden pails—no metal.

This article is clipped and filed with other articles in this series will make a collection covering the garden program. A companion bulletin, Gardening for Food and Fun, by C. M. Collins, is available from the Horticultural Division, N. S. Department of Agriculture, Truro, N. S.

Meteghan

We deeply sympathize with our pastor, Right Reverend Minsignor Bourneuf, P.D., V. T., our curate, Reverend Father Theriault and Miss Louise Bourneuf, for the loss of our church and Glebe House, which were burned to the ground in the evening of May 20.

Mrs. Alfred Roy, of Quebec, returned home Wednesday after the wedding of her sister Rachel Deveau and Sub-Lieut. Adelaire Comeau, R.C.N.V.R. She was accompanied to Digby by her mother, Mrs. Amelia Deveau and her brother, Rev. R. N. Deveau.

Dr. and Mrs. P. E. Belliveau, accompanied by Mrs. (Dr.) O'Brien and Mrs. (Dr.) T. Melanson, of Yarmouth, motored to Halifax Wednesday for a short visit.

Mrs. Lionel Melanson, of Meteghan River, on her return from Florida, where she spent the winter, called on Mrs. Haché on Wednesday.

Augustin Theriault, of Joliette, Que., and Albert Theriault, of Aldershot, spent a few days furrough recently with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Theriault.

Ralph Fougere, Albert Forest, Gregoire Gaudet, of Hal-fax, M. C. Lefort, Cheticamp, C. B., representing the N. C. Polson, Montreal; D. G. Wilder, St. Andrews, N. B., were registered at the Royal Hotel last week.

Meat-Eating Pets Need Ration "Stretchers" Too

Tough as two pounds of meat may be on Canadian consumers, it offers an even tougher prospect for their animal pets, some of which eat that much meat a day. And there is no meat ration for Fido—he must take what he can get in the form of scraps and prepared foods and consider himself lucky when he gets a well-cleaned bone.

Dogs need the protein content of meat—or some high-protein substitute food. Obviously if sufficient meat is not available for them it is necessary to supplement their diet with meat "stretchers" or extenders that contain an equivalent food value. Many housewives have already found that meat rations for the family can be attractively and economically stretched by the addition of rolled oats and the same "stretcher" may well be used for pets. Robin Hood rolled oats are unrationalized and in plentiful supply and they combine several invaluable qualities, the first in importance for dogs and other pets being their high mineral and protein value.

Fido's feeding problem can be partly overcome at least by the simple combination of rolled oats and whatever prepared or raw food he is being given now.

The division should be half and half; this doubles the meat ration for the pet and at the same time keeps him healthy and happy. Animals take to rolled oats, cooked or uncooked and mixtures may be made with meat or biscuits or whatever food they regularly eat. And, another blessing for housewives, the budget is also protected, for rolled oats sell for less than six cents a pound and a hungry pet's "overhead" is considerably reduced.

The word torpedo is taken from the torpedo fish which it resembles. The fish was named in Latin "torpidus," meaning lifeless or torpid.

Has Shot Down Six Enemy Planes

One of Canada's youngest wing commanders overseas is 23-year-old Leslie Sydney Ford, son of Dr. and Mrs. T. R. Ford, Liverpool, N.S., who at one time lived in Digby, who wears the Distinguished Flying Cross and Bar.

He is the first graduate of the Combined Training Plan to attain that rank. While in his 3rd year at Acadia University, he enlisted in the R.C.A.F. and went overseas as a pilot officer. He flew in the first R.C.A.F. fighter squadron formed overseas and last fall he was promoted to squadron leader.

During the winter of 1941 and the spring and summer of 1942, he flew with Hurricane bomber squadrons of the R.C.A.F. and R.A.F. He received the D.F.C. as a flight lieutenant when he was flying with the R.A.F. His citation at that time described him as a keen, zealous flight commander and leader who took part in actions in which two enemy destroyers and two minesweepers were sunk and two destroyers damaged.

Only recently he was awarded a Bar to his Distinguished Flying Cross, believed to be in recognition of his work in the Dieppe operations when his squadron was credited with the largest number of enemy planes brought down. At that time Wing Commander Ford was personally credited with two of the squadrons five planes disposed of in combat. In all, he has shot down six enemy aircraft.

Last month his unit, popularly known as the Wolfe Squadron, celebrated its second anniversary. Now attached to the R.C.A.F. Fighter Wing, the squadron celebrated its birthday with a banquet attended by all the members and a few R.A.F. officers.

The young wing commander recalled that the squadron began its life flying Tomahawks but it was later converted to Spitfires, on which it has since carried out all its operations. He said the best day's work the squadron ever did was at Dieppe.

"As for that day," he said, "we had ground crews because 'all I can say is, 'Thank God they made the job possible.' I want to say how much we appreciate the work of the people commonly called 'erks'. Pilots come and pilots go, but 'erks' seem to go on forever."

The squadron is now flying the new improved Spitfire and has chalked up many successes since it became part of the R.C.A.F. Fighter Wing.

The gallant young airman has two relatives in Toronto, Col. F. S. L. Ford, C.M.G., V.D., and Miss Margaret L. Ford, M.A., head of the English department of Forest Hill Village Schools. Mrs. Ford, the young man's mother, was the former Miss Margaret Leary, of Sandy Cove.

Mrs. Howard Marshall
Nettie May, widow of Howard Marshall, of North Range, died at her home on Wednesday morning of last week, aged seventy-eight years. She was a daughter of E. and Susan Bell, and was born in North Range. She had been ailing for some years but her death was rather unexpected as she had only been seriously ill a few days. Left to mourn are four sons, Henry, of Hillgrove; Benjamin, of Acaciaville; Donald and Robert, of Digby; and five daughters, Susan (Mrs. Alfred Height), North Range; Sadie (Mrs. George Donnelly) of Digby; Meda (Mrs. Curtis Cook), Digby; Nettie (Mrs. John Ryan) in Massachusetts, and Pearl (Mrs. Ross Thibodeau) North Range. The funeral took place last Friday afternoon, conducted by Rev. G. D. Brydon, of Bear River, and interment was in the family lot at South Range.

Alexander Banks
The death of Alexander Banks occurred at his home in Smith's Cove on May 8. Mr. Banks had been in failing health for several months, but had only been confined to his bed a few days. He was born in Castletown, Caithness, Scotland, in 1862 and worked at his trade of stone-mason for many years in Edinburgh. Leaving the old home just twenty-two years ago, Mr. and Mrs. Banks and son John came to this country, settling in Smith's Cove on the farm formerly owned by the late Frank L. Sullis. Though living a retired life, Mr. Banks will be much missed, having been interested in all efforts for the good of the community. He was a staunch Presbyterian and ardent Bible student. The funeral service was held from the United Church on May 10, the pastor Rev. Dr. T. W. Hodgson, with the assistance of Rev. T. F. McWilliam, of the Smith's Cove United Baptist Church, officiating. The choir of both churches united to sing favorite hymns. Mrs. Banks and two sons, Daniel, of Worcester, Mass., and John, of Digby, survive, also one daughter, Mrs. Reg Weir, of Digby, who came to Canada as a bride at the close of the first Great War. A brother, John Banks, and sister, Mrs. Barbara Donald, both of Edinburgh, Scotland, survive. Interment was in the Sullis cemetery.

Should Use Variety Meats

The high nutritional value of Variety Meats, heart, kidneys, liver, sweet bread, ox-tail, was stressed by Miss Helen Macdougall, supervisor of Women's Division, Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, in demonstrations made before the Bible Hill Women's Institutes and the Local Council of Women at Truro. These meats which are high in vitamin content and iron, and are extensively used in the larger cities, should never be wasted.

POST-WAR PLANNER

"Sure there will be changes after the war... some are overdue. But I'm no robot. Whatever our post-war plans, I still want to see hard work rewarded and dividends paid on brains and initiative. I want the privilege of going into business for myself if I choose. Above all I want my kids to grow up where success depends on work, native ability and enterprise."

Canada has grown to rich nationhood through the courage, resourcefulness and initiative of individual citizens. These qualities must be preserved in the challenging days ahead.

What is PRIVATE ENTERPRISE?

It is the natural desire to make your own way, as far as your ability will take you; an instinct that has brought to this continent the highest standard of life enjoyed by any people on earth. It is the spirit of democracy on the march.

Three Purebred Guernseys Get Awards

A purebred Guernsey, Lakeview Fisherman's Rose, owned by Percy R. Crosby, Dayton, Yarmouth County, has been awarded a recent R.O.P. certificate released by the Federal Department of Agriculture. As a 2-year-old she produced 10,179 pounds of milk, 504 pounds fat, on twice daily milking.

Other recent guernseys qualifying for awards and as announced by Roy Grant, Moncton, Secretary Canadian Guernsey Breeders' Association, go to Emmill Mixer's Polly, owned by Harold R. MacKenzie, River John, and Canadian Joan, owned by

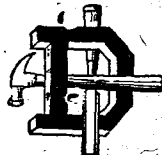

T. D. Blaikie, Great Village. The former produced 8,600 pounds milk and 490 pounds fat in her 3-year-old year, and milked twice daily, while the latter gave 10,734 pounds milk and 517 pounds fat in the mature class, on twice daily milking.

Willie Alvin's job in Hollywood might be called magnetic. He follows Sonja Henie around the ice with an electro-magnet to pick up lost hairpins, bobby pins, and spangles from her skating costume so she won't tumble when she's doing turns and leaps.

Shower

A surprise shower, was held on Thursday evening, May 20, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Benson, in honor of their daughter, Emma.

by members of the United Church. The dining room table with lace cloth centered with a silver basket of flowers and candles on each side, held the lovely gifts. Emma opened the gifts with Gertrude Miller's assistance, after which she thanked all those present.

During the evening music was enjoyed and refreshments were served. Those serving were Dorothy Rice, Gertrude Miller, and Evelyn Reade.

Joseph Spears, who was called home owing to the death of his father, returned to Boston on Friday. It has been nine years since he was home.

A recent letter from Florida states that J. E. White, Sr., who met with such a serious accident last October, is still forced to get about using two crutches, though making gradual progress towards recovery.

E. F. Powers, who has been ill, has not yet recovered his health and is unable to be about his business.

On Friday last Dr. E. L. Eagles, Divisional Medical Health Officer, assisted by Miss Gertrude Anderson, R.N., conducted a very large Clinic in Bear River.

The services given by the Department of the Public Health are being more and more appreciated by the public, realizing that Preventive Medicine is most important now and in the future.

Dr. Eagles is Medical Officer for "Fundy" Division.

Miss Mack's Recital

Last Friday evening Miss Margaret Mack, daughter of the Reverend Carl M. Mack and Mrs. Mack, gave a delightful vocal recital in Oakdene Hall.

Her accompanist, Mrs. Ethel Desborough, also played two piano solos, the quiet attention of the audience showing how much they appreciated the skill and artistry displayed.

Mrs. Desborough is a graduate of the Halifax Conservatory of Music and lives at Bridgetown with her mother, Mrs. O. T. Daniels.

Miss Mack spent her very young years in Bear River, where her father was the Minister of the Methodist Church, now the United Church.

Her mother, an accomplished musician, instilled in Margaret a love of good music, which, at Mount Allison Conservatory of Music was fully developed.

She also has a most natural and charming stage manner, which won the hearts of all present.

Miss Mack was introduced by Rev. James Brooks, present minister of the United Church, and from the opening number of her program to the last note of the several encores which she willingly gave in response to insistent applause received the closest attention.

After the recital an impromptu reception was held, both artists renewing old friendships; thanks being received by the W.M.S. of the United Church for having been instrumental in making such an enjoyable evening available to an almost capacity audience.

Miss Mack will be leaving Bridgetown at the end of the school year, and next year will teach in Amherst, where her parents now live, Reverend M. Mack having retired from the active work of the church.

Mrs. Desborough and Miss Mack were overnight guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Campbell.

FOREST ENEMY No. 1

The Man Who Ignores Forest Signs

HITLER likes him because he smokes on the trail, flips a lighted match or cigarette butt over his shoulder, leaves a campfire he "thinks" is out. And thus sabotages the war effort by causing forest fires. Until we smash the Axis, forest fires aid the enemy. So—

- 1—NEVER BURN brush or slash in windy weather. Never burn without a permit and without help handy.
- 2—NEVER SMOKE on the trail. Wait until you stop in a safe place. Be sure matches, cigarette stubs and pipe ashes are COLD.
- 3—BUILD CAMPFIRES only on stream bed or take stumps away from inflammable material. Douse with water until DEAD before leaving.
- 4—KILL any small fires you find. REPORT ALL OTHERS immediately by telephone to nearest Fire Ranger. And show this ad to at least three friends.

DEPARTMENT OF LANDS & FORESTS, HALIFAX, NOVA SCOTIA

There goes your letter to your boy...

IN IT, you put the home-spun bits of chit-chat you know he wants to hear... and in it you also put your heart. You mailed it with a prayer that it might find him safe and well. Look—it's already on the way... speeding as fast as railway wheels can carry it. Those singing wheels carry more—much more—than letters. They carry food for your pantry, coal for your furnace. They roll tirelessly that you may live in comfort. They race across the great stretches of this Dominion with the men and materials of war, so that all of us may live in freedom. Twenty-four hours a day our railway wheels are rolling, driven by an army of over 150,000 workers serving two major fronts... the home front and the fighting front. "Keep 'em rolling" is their watchword, whether it's food or fuel, tanks or troops. Or just your letter to your boy...

RED CROSS NOTES

DIGBY BRANCH

At the monthly business meeting of the Digby Branch, held Thursday May 13, Court House, a report was presented by Mrs. H. M. Warne, who attended the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Division of the Red Cross Society in Halifax, in April. Mrs. Warne reported that the meeting had been most inspiring, showing as it did the many sides of Red Cross work. A new constitution for the Society was adopted, the object of which is to build up a stronger national office to carry on a peace-time as well as war-time program—in other words, the foundation is being laid for Red Cross work in post-war years. Phases of war work which were stressed were the Blood Donor Clinics, mobile units of which will visit towns throughout the province, and hospital visiting for service hospitals, all branches near military and air force units being active in this work with special reference to "H.M.C.S. Cornwallis" at Deep Brook, it was reported that twenty radios were being contributed through the N.S. Division of the Red Cross, and in line with other branches, the Digby Branch has since formed a Hospital Visiting Committee and is contacting Bear River and Annapolis Royal Branches for cooperation in this important work.

Dr. Routley, the National Red Cross Commissioner, was the speaker at a luncheon held for the delegates, and brought out some very interesting points in the international phase of Red Cross work. The most outstanding was the fact that the Canadian Red Cross is directly responsible for the use of dry blood plasma, which is called the "miracle discovery of the war". Dr. Best, a partner of the late Dr. Banting, was working on the theory when lack of funds caused him to appeal to Dr. Routley. $5,000 of Red Cross funds was advanced for the work, and then another $5,000 before the experiments were completed, but out of that has come dry blood plasma, which is the final product of the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinics, and is saving untold numbers of lives in the war. Another question which Dr. Routley answered was whether or not Prisoner-of-war parcels actually reach their destinations.

His answer was the story of two very emaciated young men who had come to his office in Toronto. They were airmen, only recently released from a prison camp in North Africa, and they had come directly to Red Cross headquarters to thank them for food parcels which were all that had kept them alive for many months. They told of some of our boys actually dying of starvation in a nearby prison camp because their food parcels were delayed, the parcels meanwhile, setting on a railway siding almost within reach of the camp and undelivered through enemy negligence—which is one of the cases where the International Red Cross in Geneva takes over and corrects such situations as soon as they are discovered. Mrs. Warne concluded her report with the wish that many more of our people could have heard these and other things brought out by the Red Cross meeting, so that they would give more readily of their time and ability to such a worthy cause.

Shipments of finished articles from the Digby Branch to provincial headquarters for the months of March and April were as follows: 47 large quilts, 9 small quilts, 1 afghan, 21 sweaters, 22 dresses, 3 coats, 1 skirt, 1 slip, 2 boys' suits, 3 pairs trousers, 3 pairs mittens, 8 pairs shelter slippers, 45 baby garments. Total, 166 articles.

Donations continue to come in and are gratefully acknowledged as follows for March and April: 8 quilts each, Trinity Guild, Service Wives Club; 7 quilts, Baptist Guild; 3 quilts each, Zelma Rebekah Lodge, Barton and Centreville Auxiliaries; 2 quilts each, Culloden, Hill Grove and Rossway Auxiliaries; 1 quilt each, Sea-Cl Club, Everready Club, Loyal Workers and Victory Club; 4 quilt tops and linings, Mrs. Curtis Young; 3 quilt tops and linings, Mrs. Guy Dunn; 1 quilt top, lining and batt each, Mrs. Handspiker, Mrs. Loran Adams; 1 quilt top and lining each, Miss Susie Nichols, Miss Nettie O'Neill; 1 quilt top, Mrs. F. W. Nichols; 1 afghan, Service Wives Club; 2 knitted jackets, Mrs. Armstrong; 1 child's sweater each, Mrs. Shatford, Miss Louise Daley; clothing: Mrs. D. J. Comeau, 1 dress; Barton Auxiliary, 3 dresses, 1 pair trousers; Rossway Auxiliary, 2 coats, 2 skirts, 4 pairs slippers; Mrs. W. E. Tupper, 1 bathing suit; Mrs. DeVernet, 3 shirts; Miss Dorothy Hinxman, Mrs. Fred May, felt hats.

We have also been fortunate in receiving the loan of sewing machines from Mrs. Belanger and Mrs. Frank Hayden, together with the gift of a hand machine from Miss Bessie Whitman—these being in addition to the machine which Mrs. Timpany kindly loaned us soon after the beginning of the war. At the present time sewing has replaced knitting as the main work of our local Red Cross, so the machines are very necessary to the work. Quilting also continues, thanks to the many donations which allow us to carry on. One much-appreciated donation, received too late for the April acknowledgments, was a large box of scraps of material from Mrs. Noseworthy, which will provide the tops for several quilts in wool, silk and velvet.

Since over 950 quilts have already been shipped from the Digby Branch, the work committee has decided to offer a prize for the 1000th quilt received for shipment. Records will be kept secret so that all groups will have an equal opportunity of providing the lucky winner. Come on quilters, who will make the Thousandth Red Cross Quilt?

Suggests Closing Part of Saturday

To the Editor of the Courier:

Sir:—As I was engaged in business for the Board of Trade last Monday evening I was not able to get to the meeting of the merchants at the Court House, but read, with much interest, your very complete record in your paper. The speaker brought forward the meeting the matter of hours and as one of the very few Oldtimers who worked through the years when hours of working were much longer than they are now, I am taking the liberty of bringing, through the medium of this letter, to my merchant friends a suggestion of what I believe would be a great improvement over the present half-holiday held each Wednesday. We, of the Retail Trade, put in long hours and they seem to get longer as the years creep on but we have been taking Wednesday afternoons now for almost a year, held faithfully by the majority, and firmly believe that we have not lost anything by this short breathing spell. I would like to hear from some or all of the Merchants in the Town of Digby, on the idea of keeping open Friday evenings and closing Saturday at 12.30 or 1 o'clock. I have before me a notice from the Simpson Head Office that they are closing at 12.30 on Saturdays 'till September 25 and in view of the difficulty in obtaining merchandise and the extra demands of our Transient Customers, I believe that the closing at noon Saturday would enable us to give our local standby customers the better service that they are most certainly entitled to. Due to present and increasing demands to carry on the war to a successful conclusion I do not believe that the Powers that be will be able to give us enough extra merchandise to cope with the increased demand and treat our old friends right.

Farmer is Free to Use His Judgment

A farmer who sends in a farm labor card to his county agricultural representative or to the National Selective Service office, may through that card get just the man he needs. That card, when filled in and mailed, may just possibly solve all his labor problems. It is unfortunate when the card system is so simple that it has been so greatly neglected.

Farmers should realize that sending in a card does not place them under any obligation as regards employment or rates of pay. A farmer does not have to employ any man that may be sent to him or pay any man any set rate of pay. The employing is done only on agreement between the farmer himself and the worker. These facts should be realized by all concerned. It should also be realized that farm-labor cards have been issued with the one and only purpose of helping the farmers to satisfactorily meet their farm labor problem.

Is Agent for Land Settlement

He took suddenly ill while attending a board meeting at Halifax on April 20.

MEAT

RATIONING EFFECTIVE THURSDAY, MAY 27TH

After midnight May 26th, it is unlawful for a consumer to buy rationed meats and for anyone to sell rationed meats to a consumer except on surrender of valid ration coupons.

WHAT MEATS ARE RATIONED?

Beef, Veal, Pork, Mutton and Lamb.

WHAT MEATS ARE NOT RATIONED?

Poultry and Fish are not rationed. "Fancy" meats such as Heart, Tongue, Liver, Kidneys, Brains, Sweetbreads, and cooked sausages such as Wieners and Bologna are not rationed. Meat cuts containing 50% or more of bone such as spare-ribs, oxtails, and pigs' feet are not rationed.

HOW MUCH RATIONED MEAT AM I PERMITTED TO BUY?

An average of two pounds per week per person. You get less of meats containing no bone and more of meats containing considerable bone. See the chart of coupon values below.

WHAT COUPONS DO I USE WHEN BUYING MEAT?

The brown Spare "A" coupons from your No. 2 ration book—the book you are now using to buy tea, coffee, sugar, and butter.

HOW OFTEN CAN I BUY MEAT?

Two coupons become good each Thursday. The first pair of No. 1 coupons become good May 27th. Each coupon is good for 1/4 of one week's ration.

HOW LONG DO COUPONS REMAIN GOOD?

Coupons becoming good before the 15th of a month are good until the end of that month. Coupons becoming good on or after the 15th of a month are good until the end of the following month.

DO I HAVE TO USE THE TWO COUPONS AT THE SAME TIME OR IN THE SAME STORE?

No. You can use a coupon at any time during the period in which it is valid, and in any store you wish.

CAN I BUY ONLY ONE KIND OF RATIONED MEAT WITH A COUPON?

No. You can buy whatever rationed meat is available and as many kinds as you want providing the coupon value is not exceeded.

MEAT RATIONING AS IT AFFECTS FARMERS

Farmers may slaughter their livestock for their own consumption—but must turn in to the Local Ration Board at the end of each month, 1 coupon for each two pounds of their own slaughtered meat consumed on their own premises. Farmers need in no case surrender more than half the number of each month's valid coupons for such home slaughtered meat.

The remaining half of farmers' meat coupons may be used for ordinary retail purchases of meat, on the basis of coupon values as shown on the chart above.

Farmers may supply meat from their own slaughterings to other farmers for consumption on their own farm premises. Local farmer "Beef Rings" are also permitted. Farmers providing meat to other farmers, or "Beef Rings", must collect meat coupons on the basis of 1 coupon for each two pounds of meat, gross weight. Self-addressed and stamped envelopes for mailing in coupons can be secured at your Local Ration Board.

CONSUMER MEAT IN LOCKERS

Before June 30th all consumers (including farmers) who store meat in lockers must declare in writing to the nearest Branch of the Ration Administration, the quantity of rationed meat they have in storage over and above eight pounds per person in the household. Declarations must be accompanied by sufficient coupons from the ration books of the locker holder and his household, to cover the quantity of declared stored meat at the rate of 1 coupon for each two pounds of any meat in the above groups.

The number of coupons to be detached by the locker user need not exceed more than 50% of the total meat coupons in the possession of himself and his household. Locker users may retain for retail purchasing one of each similarly numbered pair of coupons.

RATION ADMINISTRATION

THE WARTIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD

NOTICE TO THE MEAT TRADE

Retailers of meat must collect coupons for any rationed meats sold on or after May 27th. They need not turn in coupons to their suppliers for meat purchased up until June 10th. This arrangement is made to enable them to build up stocks. A Special Food Bulletin giving complete details of meat rationing is being mailed to all food stores.

Second Compulsory Employment Transfer Order

Notice to Certain Employers and Employees

that men in specified lines of civilian employment, in classes already designated under National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations, must report for interview not later than June 15th, 1943, at an Employment and Selective Service Office.

A. Objective: This Second Order makes available for essential employments the services of men in classes already designated under National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations, who are now employed in specified non-essential employments.

B. EMPLOYMENTS COVERED BY THIS ORDER: Men, of the specified categories, are covered if now employed at:

(1) Any occupation in or associated with retail stores; (2) any occupation in or associated with the manufacturing of feathers, plumes and artificial flowers; chewing gum; wine; lace goods; greeting cards; jewelry; (3) any occupation in or associated with distilling alcohol for beverage; (4) any occupation in or associated with the factory production of statuary and art goods; (5) any occupation in the operation of ice cream parlours and soda fountains; (6) any of the following occupations: bus boys; charwomen and cleaners; custom furriers; dancing teachers; dish washers; doormen and starters; greens keepers; grounds keepers; porters (other than in railway train service); private chauffeurs.

C. AGE AND MARITAL CLASSES OF MEN COVERED BY THIS ORDER: (a) Every man born in any year from 1917 to 1924 (inclusive) who has reached age 19; (b) every man born from 1902 to 1916 (inclusive), who, at July 15, 1940, was unmarried, or divorced or judicially separated, or a widower without child or children; (c) every man born from 1902 to 1916 (inclusive) who has become a widower since July 15, 1940, and is without child or children now living; (d) every man born from 1902 to 1916 (inclusive) who, since July 15, 1940, has been divorced or judicially separated.

D. Procedure to be Followed: All men as defined above must report to an Employment and Selective Service Office not later than June 15th, 1943. Men resident outside a city or town having an Employment and Selective Service Office, too far removed to call personally, may write to the nearest office, and await further directions.

E. OBLIGATIONS OF EMPLOYEES: When directed to accept employment, men referred to in Paragraphs B and C above are required by the Regulations to follow the direction.

F. OBLIGATIONS OF EMPLOYERS: It will be illegal for an employer to retain in his employ after June 15th, 1943, any men referred to in Paragraphs B and C above, unless a special permit has been obtained from Selective Service.

G. Transportation: Provision will be made for transportation of men moved to a new place of residence.

H. Appeals: If objecting to transfer to other employment when directed, a man may enter appeal with a Court of Referees within 7 days.

I. Penalties: Penalties are provided for either employer or employees failing to comply with this Order.

J. Authority: This Order is issued by the Minister of Labour under National Selective Service Civilian Regulations (P.C. 246 of January 19th, 1943, and amending Orders in Council).

K. This Second Order is Additional to First Order: Employments listed in Paragraph B above, declared non-essential in this Second Order, are additional to the non-essential employments contained in the First Order. The First Order, issued on May 4th, 1943, required compliance by May 15th on the part of employees designated under Mobilization Regulations, and also of their employers, in the following lines of work: (1) taverns or liquor, wine and beer stores; (2) retail sale of candy, confectionery, tobacco, books, stationery, news; (3) barber shops and beauty parlours; (4) retail and wholesale florists; (5) service stations (gasoline-filling stations); (6) retail sale of motor vehicles or accessories; (7) retail sale of sporting goods or musical instruments; (8) waiter, taxi driver, elevator operator, hotel bell boy, domestic servant; (9) any occupation in or directly associated with entertainment, including but not restricted to theatres, film agencies, motion picture companies, clubs, bowling alleys, pool rooms; (10) any occupation in or directly associated with dyeing, cleaning, and pressing (not including laundry work); barbers; guide service; shoe shining.

Men referred to above must present documents at the employment office, indicating compliance with Mobilization Regulations

Arthur Stanton Given Two Years

Arthur Stanton, indicted on a charge of manslaughter, who was tried at the spring session of the Supreme Court, which met last week, was sentenced Friday morning to two years in the Maritime Penitentiary at Dorchester, N.B.

In returning its verdict the Petit Jury sitting on the case found Stanton "Not guilty of manslaughter, but guilty of reckless driving."

The original charge of manslaughter arose out of the death of Frank A. Deveau, 29, of Salmon River, Digby Co., on October 6, 1942. Arthur Stanton and John Horner, also of Tidville, were later arrested on the Cedar Lake Road. Stanton, owner of the truck, was later charged with manslaughter, and Horner was released.

The accident occurred at Salmon River, on the main paved highway on the early evening of October 6. Frank A. Deveau was almost instantly killed, his companion and cousin, Frank J. Deveau, was grievously injured, and spent some time in the Yarmouth Hospital.

Eighteen witnesses were heard during the course of the trial. The prisoner, on giving his testimony, testified he and Horner had been drinking on that day and he would not swear whether he or Horner was driving the truck at the time of the accident.

A plaster cast of a headlight, made by the Meteghan detachment of R.C.M.P., using bits of headlight glass picked up at the scene of the accident and from a distance of six miles along the highway, was one of the outstanding exhibits presented at the trial.

The prisoner was represented by M. S. Leonard, of Digby, while E. J. Theriault handled the case for the Crown.

TERMS:—$1.50 per year in advance; Single copies, 4 cents. DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, JUNE 3, 1943

VOLUME LXIX, NO. 38

To Visit Digby, Thursday, June 10th

This RCAF Women's Division Precision Drill Squad from No. 7 Manning Depot, Rockcliffe, Ont., now touring the Maritimes, will visit Digby on Thursday, June 10.

have been trained to perform over 200 drill movements, as if they were a single person and without a word of command. The group will arrive on the afternoon train from Halifax at 2.25 p.m., and will remain in town until 3.30 p.m.

During their brief stay here this Precision Squad will put on an exhibition drill and several selections will be given by the only RCAF pipeband, the "Flying Scotchmen", who are accompanying them.

An official welcome by Mayor

E. J. Theriault, and town officials, and an inspection of the squad and band is being planned.

The squad and band will also parade through a section of the town.

Mt. Pleasant Home Destroyed

A family of five were rendered homeless as the result of a fire at Mount Pleasant, on the outskirts of Digby, Sunday afternoon, when the home of Nelson Handspiker was destroyed.

The blaze, which was discovered in the rear of the house, was supposed to have caught from a defective flue. The fire spread rapidly, and in spite of the efforts of neighbours and others who went out from Digby, the two storey dwelling soon collapsed.

The family succeeded in salvaging most of the furnishings on the first floor of the house, but were unable to save much from the upstairs portion, with the result that several beds, practically all their bedding and much of their clothing was lost.

MARRIAGES

Comeau - Robichaud
Monday morning, May 24, in the St. Alphonse de Clare Church, Right Reverend J. E. Bourneuf, D.P., F.V., pastor of Meteghan, united in marriage Camille Comeau, son of the late Captain Raymond V. Comeau, and Mrs. Lucie (Comeau) Gaudet, with Miss Rita Robichaud, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mathurin Robichaud, both of Meteghan. The bride was attended by Miss Theresa Comeau, and Leonard Robichaud, brother of the bride, was best man. After the ceremony breakfast was served at the bride's parents', after which they left on a wedding tour to Yarmouth and Brooklyn to visit relatives, and were accompanied by an uncle of the bride, David Saulnier, of Brooklyn. On their return a reception with a supper was given at the home of the groom's mother, where the newlyweds will reside. They received many nice and useful gifts.

Gray - Roode
St. John's Anglican Church, Truro, was the scene of a quiet wedding Monday afternoon, May 17, when the rector, Rev. G. R. Thompson, united in marriage Miss Lillian Franklin Roode, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Suther L. Roode, Belmont, and 2nd Lieutenant John Francis Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Gray, of Ottawa. The bride wore a navy blue tailored suit with white accessories. Her hat was navy blue with shoulder-length veil, and she wore a corsage of sweet peas. The couple were unattended. Following the ceremony 2nd Lieutenant and Mrs. Gray left by train for Digby to visit the bride's mother and her sister, Miss Winnifred Roode. Later in the week they will leave for Camp Borden, Ontario, where 2nd Lieutenant Gray will be stationed with the Royal Canadian Army Service Corps. The bride, a former school teacher, is well-known in Digby and Colchester counties. Lieutenant Gray graduated from the Officers' Training Centre at Brockville, Friday, May 15. He served for nine months overseas with the 3rd Division. Returning to Canada in April, 1942, he has since been attached to the 7th Division.

Millington - Cotreau
At the Bishop's Glebe, Saint John, Saturday evening, May 22, Jim H. Millington, Naval Signalman, of England, and Corporal Beatrice Cotreau, M.L., stenographer, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cotreau, of Meteghan, were united in marriage, having for witnesses Derek Lewis and Lance Corporal Marguerite Melanson, also of Meteghan.

Wood Dealers Must Comply With Law

Seymour Fraser Gates, fuel dealer in New Ross, pleaded guilty before Police Magistrate H. B. Dickey, at Kentville, to four charges of selling fuelwood in contravention of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board regulations. The charges all involved sales of fuelwood made at Kentville.

Two charges alleged sales in excess of the ceiling price fixed by Fuelwood Order No. 11. Fines of $10 and costs were imposed on each charge. The two other charges related to the dealers' failure to provide the purchaser with an invoice setting forth the quantity by cord and the price. Fines of $5 and costs were imposed on each of these charges.

Price Ceiling On Halibut

Wartime Prices and Trade Board has announced that the CEILING FOR FROZEN HALIBUT has been set at 21 cents for medium and 29 cents for chicken and large. This price includes the cost of freezing, boxing, cleaning, and handling, which is set by distributors at 4 cents per pound. The ceiling to fishermen is therefore 16 and 17 cents. RETAIL MARKUP is limited to 33 1/3 per cent of the selling price.

Work of V.O.N. Appreciated

At the annual meeting of the V.O.N. for Canada, held at Toronto, Miss Maude Hall, acting chief superintendent, in the absence of Lt.-Col. Elizabeth Smellie, R.C.A.M.C., who arrived safely in England—made this statement: "The need for health services has become increasingly evident in these war years, when every man and woman is needed for the fighting forces or on the home front for production and to keep fit is a patriotic duty. Conservation is our watchword—surely it should be applied to the health of the people, which is the greatest asset of the nation in war as it is in peace." Miss Hall is planning a visit to the Digby Branch V.O.N. towards the middle of June.

Service to the civilian population is closely related to the war effort, and last year 35,958 V.O.N. visits were made to 10,216 families of men in the armed forces.

While this is generally true for all Canada, in Digby especially, with its shortage of nurses and crowded areas, the work of the Victorian Order of Nurses is more and more appreciated. More than ever the former V.O.N. families are using this service when needed and gradually the new comers in town are becoming more aware of this service. V.O.N. services are required by the people at one time or another, regardless of income and the service is available for anyone in the community.

Early in the month of June collectors will be calling at your home for V.O.N. contributions. They are looking for a generous response.

Hens Learning To Spell

It almost appears as though Mrs. Minnie Handspiker, of Mount Pleasant, is feeding her hens alphabet soup. On two occasions recently she has presented the editor with an egg—the first plainly marked with a "V", while the second was marked with the letters "WO"—your guess is as good as ours as to what the "WO" is supposed to stand for.

Municipal School Board Meets

The first meeting of the Municipal School Board for the District of Digby was held in the court house here Tuesday, Morning and afternoon sessions were held. The following commissioners were present.

Dr. A. F. Weir, Freeport; William Cossaboom, Tiverton; S. E. Woodman, Marshalltown; William Woodman, Smith's Cove; W. G. Blackadar, Weymouth; J. Vian Andrews, North Range; Mrs. H. R. Bishop, clerk, and T. A. M. Kirk, Inspector of Schools, who was present in an advisory capacity.

J. Vian Andrews, former warden of the Municipality of Digby, was elected chairman of the Board after reviewing the Municipal School Unit Plan.

Municipal Clerk Rosco Handspiker was elected treasurer, with Mrs. H. R. Bishop, deputy clerk, acting in his absence.

Most of the business done at this first session was for purposes of organization, although banking arrangements and a teachers' salary scale was agreed upon. Beginning with the opening of the new school term, teachers in this municipality will receive their pay cheques monthly, the cheques to be issued from the central office at Digby.

The Board also approved the appointment of teachers as made to date by the trustees in various sections.

The meeting was adjourned until July 27.

Short Circuit Sounds Alarm

Early Thursday morning, between 1.00 and 1.30, citizens of Digby were awakened by the dismal wail of a siren. It sounded continuously for nearly twenty minutes, but it was not an air raid—it was merely a short circuit in the A.R.P. siren near the residence of John VanTassel.

The Red Cross flag is the Swiss flag reversed.

Digby Hostel In Operation

Saturday marked the opening of the Navy League hostel at Digby. The first week-end of the hostel's operation indicates the move to open a hostel here is well received by the men of the navy stationed in this vicinity. That day several hundred of the boys were taking advantage of the hostel's recreation and reading room facilities. The cafeteria was also well patronized.

The Navy League hostel is under the management of William A. Eldridge, and is operated by the Navy League of Canada. A branch of the League was organized in Digby several months ago. The hostel is located in the former Lour Lodge Hotel, purchased especially for the purpose, and for many years one of the best known summer hotels in the Maritimes. During the past few months the Lodge has been undergoing extensive alterations for its new role.

The purpose of the hostel is to provide a "shore" home for the thousands of navy men and men of all branches of the service, during their visits to Digby. Sleeping quarters have been provided for several hundred. In addition there is a modern cafeteria, dry kitchen, comfortable reading and recreation quarters. The attractive "Lour Lodge Annex" also forms part of the hostel.

At a meeting of the Board held a few days ago it was decided that the service men should be allowed to take their "lives" or lady friends on "all special occasions, under certain restrictions, and it was also decided that at present, at least, the hostel be open to all service men.

About This and That

Out in Vancouver retail business firms have established a full holiday on Wednesdays for the duration of the war—first big Canadian city to take the step, though watched by all the rest. Another British Columbia town, New Westminster, has gone to the other end of the week, eliminating trade after six o'clock on Saturday. Exceptions are meat, grocery, and drug stores. Well, first thing we know something like one of these may be adopted here.

A lad in an army camp has it figured out that "the shoulder strap of a woman's gown is a narrow piece of ribbon that keeps an attraction from becoming a sensation."

L. S. B. Shapiro writing in "Saturday Night" concludes his article, "London in Spring", with the following:

"Would you like to buy some good money—cheap? You can get banknotes at bargain prices if you know your way around Soho. It is easy to buy £1000 note for £750 and £500 note for £400. These are good notes, perfectly legal tender issued by the Bank of England. Reason for the bargain prices is that the government has decided to call in all banknotes above the £5 denominations—as a precaution against illegal transactions of all kinds. Thus the black marketeers (whose large business has necessarily been done in cash and find themselves with quantities of big banknotes which they can no longer use, except by changing them for smaller ones at a bank and having a lot of searching questions asked by Scotland Yard. Black marketeers are therefore peddling £1,000 notes for £750 in £5 notes. Crime pays—but at a discount these days."

"Our great undertaking in Africa is not yet finished, it is merely interrupted," says Mussolini. Yes indeed—and how!

We sometimes worry as to how we are going to start our weekly "This and That", or as to what we are going to fill it up with. In line with this worry we thing the following ap propos:—

There are only two reasons of worry. Either you are successful or you are not successful. If you are successful, there is nothing to worry about; if you are not successful there are only two things to worry about. Your health is either good or you are sick; if your health is good there is nothing to worry about; if you are sick, there are only two things to worry about. You are either going to get well or you are going to die; if you are going to get well there is nothing to worry about. You are either going to heaven or you are not going to heaven, if you are going to heaven there is nothing to worry about; if you are going to the other place, you'll be so darned busy shaking hands with your old friends you won't have time to worry. So why worry? — The Yarmouth (Rotary) Spokesman.

A man has more sense after he is married, but it doesn't do him any good.

Japan has been thought to be, by its distance from the field of action, pretty safe against invasion. Against one enemy, however, no protection can avail—the earthquakes to which the islands are subject. The quake of 1923 caused damage, relieved in part by American generosity.

Volcanoes and earthquakes are closely connected. Japan has several active volcanoes, including the famous Fujiyama. Would it be possible to drop bombs into their craters and thus induce an earthquake?

The question has just been raised in the British House of Commons. Sir Harold Balfour, British Undersecretary for Air, says that the idea has been considered, and experts consulted. Naturally he does not say with what results. Consideration has apparently also been given to the possibility of stirring up a quake in Italy by bombing Vesuvius.

If this tempting idea proves impracticable, perhaps science could figure out a way to harness and turn loose a large-sized tornado.

Man wants but little here below, we are told—and the place to get it is at the ration board.

Death

What is death, I wondered,
Whence does it come and why?

What is that fear we have of death?

I pondered with a sigh;
Long hours I sat thinking,

No answer could I find,
And strange it seemed that life must cease

For any of mankind;

Night came and then I fell asleep.

Awoke with answer clear
That quelled the tumult in my heart

And drove away all fear:
E'en as when day is over,

Night comes to give us rest,
When life's long day of toil is o'er,

With sleep eternal we are blessed.

"The Why and How of Rationing"

That rationing may often be the best method of distributing goods made scarce by war conditions has come to be widely accepted on this continent over the past year, says the Monthly Review of the Bank of Nova Scotia. The lesson has been driven home, it is pointed out, by experience of the unfairness of "first-come-first-served" as a method of distribution. That method allocates goods to the people most leisured or most patient, most favored by the distributor, or most determined to fill their own cellars in obedience to the latest rumor. Another alternative—rising prices—would favor those with the longest purses, as well as set up all the objectionable repercussions which have led the belligerent nations to accept, in varying degree, policies of price and income control.

Rationing, however, is not a panacea for all the difficulties and inequities of wartime shortages. Some of the problems to be faced in rationing effectively, may be solved with relative ease, others only at the cost of great administrative difficulty and of achieving no more than rough justice to consumers. First are the problems concerned with supply—for the cake must not only be cut up, it must also reach the table. Goods like fruits, vegetables, milk, eggs, and meats are inherently hard to ration because control of supply is difficult. Second, there are the difficulties which arise from differences in consumers' needs and consumers' habits. Commodities normally consumed in fairly equal quantities, for which individual needs do not differ greatly, which have few substitutes, and whose supply is large enough to give all an adequate share, present relatively minor problems. However, the more widely goods diverge from this description, the less equitable are equal shares apt to prove, and the greater is the likelihood of many special claims being submitted which will be difficult to classify and adjudicate.

The Review points out that these difficulties are probably greater on this continent than in Britain, because a negligible supply of the food supply is imported, because patterns of consumption vary more than in a dense, homogeneous population like that of Britain, and because distance creates problems of transport and distribution. On the other hand, there are advantages to coming late to rationing, for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board—in its price-control and rationalization programs—has already built up research facilities and an extensive control administration. Moreover, it is possible to borrow and adapt the methods used by other countries and to avoid the difficulties they encountered. Finally, "courage may be derived from the words of a commentator on British food control: 'Most striking, perhaps, is the number of things generally considered administratively impractical which, when attempted, have proved extraordinarily successful.'"

Various methods of rationing are discussed in the Review, the two basic types being permits and coupons. The permit system, which restricts buying rights to those whose needs are proven most vital and urgent, has been used chiefly for consumers' durable goods in most countries. Coupon systems are suited to goods which must be distributed to all, or to broad groups, in fairly uniform amounts, and at relatively frequent intervals. Canada has so far had experience only with one type—that which entitles a consumer to a specified amount of a commodity in a given period. Tea and coffee, however, are in a joint ration, a device by which consumers' choice may be taken into account, preventing the issue of coupons for a product to those who consume little or none of it, and unnecessary curtailment of the consumption of heavier users. The meat ration is somewhat similar, for the grouping of meats according to bone content allows consumers to obtain a fairly equal amount of edible meat for each coupon and permits freedom of choice among varieties. The points system, first used for clothing in Europe, and recently introduced into the United States for processed foods, and for meats, cheese and fats, allows large groups of commodities to be distributed with freedom of choice among the items. Each product within the group is given a point price and the total number of points which may be spent is limited. In the United States for instance, 48 points may be spent on processed foods every month, and they are represented by 12 coupons (3 each of 8-point, 5-point, 2-point, and 1-point value). The system is a convenient way of extending rationing additional goods without increasing the number of individual ration schemes, and it is flexible, for point prices may be raised or lowered in response to demand and supply conditions. Nevertheless it is complicated to introduce, and requires of customers considerable foresight and planning of expenditure.

Under any rationing system it is possible, at the cost of greater complexity of administration, to differentiate among groups of consumers—as in extra clothing coupons for children in Britain, extra food rations for seamen, higher cheese rations for certain classes of workers, etc. In general, however, British policy has been equal rations of the chief nutritive elements of the diet at a level sufficient for average needs. Flexibility is achieved by "off-ration" meals in workers' canteens and by maintaining a group of cheap, plentiful, unrationed foods—especially bread and potatoes—as a source of extra calories. So far, Canada and the United States have tended to follow the British practice. In contrast, Germany has a highly differentiated system, not only according to age, sex, and health, but also according to occupation. However, in that country, practically all foods are rationed, and much of the extra food available to heavy workers consists of higher rations. The Review compares butter and meat rations in Canada, Britain, and Germany. A family of four here gets 2 pounds of butter per week which is equal to the total fat ration in Britain and slightly higher than the total even if the German father were classed as a heavy worker. For meats, the comparison would be: Canada, an average of 8 pounds; Britain, an average of around 4½ pounds; and Germany, 3½ pounds, if the man were a heavy worker and around 4¼ pounds if a very heavy worker. Moreover, press reports suggest that these German meat rations were recently sharply reduced.

The Review summarizes ration regulations in Canada, and discusses their enforcement. In conclusion, it says that experience has shown that it is rash indeed to predict that the limits of rationing have been reached. However, "as long as self-restraint in buying predominates, methods less drastic than rationing can often obtain a fairly equitable distribution even when supplies are quite short."

Man's Desire

Deep in the heart of every man
There lies some secret hidden plan,
Some great desire that's still a dream,
Built on the ash of other schemes
That failed because the Fates had willed
That they should never be fulfilled;
But should man ever lose the right
In dreams to see a future bright,
There's little doubt but very soon
The world would face chaos and ruin.

An Ounce of Prevention Beats a Pound of Cure

The truth of this old saying has been tested in connection with many different things but with none is it truer than with plant diseases. In most cases our entire disease control program is built up on preventive measures.

What are Plant Diseases?

To understand how and why this is done one must appreciate the fact that the conditions we call plant diseases are in many cases caused by living organisms, parasitic to the plants in question or else are caused by deficiencies of certain substances needed by the plant for growth and health.

How Diseases Function

The organisms that cause disease are ones that feed on the plant attacked and, in their growth so rob and destroy the tissue that it breaks down or they may suffocate such tissue and cause it to disintegrate by the actual physical growth and expansion of the parasitic organism.

How Prevented

Disease prevention then is approached in two ways, either by such measures as will prevent the disease organism from getting to the locality where plants are growing or by covering the plants with some protective covering (a sort of armor as it were) that keeps disease organisms from gaining entrance.

Sanitation

The first method of control is best described by the word sanitation. This, as far as vegetable diseases are concerned, means the destruction of diseased plants and vegetables from the garden area, particularly after harvesting in the fall, so the disease cannot carry over to affect next year's plantings. It sometimes means treatment of seed flats, hot bed frames, storages and sometimes soils with live steam or some chemical effective in killing the organism on contact, or, in the case of seed borne diseases, it may mean treatment of seed with certain chemicals to kill organism so it will not be able to infect the young germinating seedling.

Spraying

The second method of control is used when the first methods cannot be depended on to entirely keep the disease organism away from the area where plants are growing. It consists in spraying or dusting over the plants certain materials which, in the concentrations used, will not be injurious to the living plant tissue but which will cause death to any disease causing organism that contacts this protective coating. Most of these protective chemicals or fungicides are based on either some form of copper or some form of sulphur.

As one example of such protective spraying may be cited the case where protection from Late and Early Blight of Potatoes is given by making several successive, periodical applications of Bordeaux Spray or dust to protect the plant in the various growth stages when it might become infected. This Bordeaux Spray may be made up by the gardener by dissolving 2 ounces Copper Sulphate and 3 ounces of Hydrated Lime to a gallon of water, or a Bordeaux dust made up of about 20 per cent pulverized Copper Sulphate and 80 per cent Hydrated Lime may often be purchased from your dealer in garden supplies.

Resistant Varieties

It is also true that some varieties of vegetables are naturally more resistant to certain diseases than are other varieties and so escape. Also, early maturing varieties may not be as seriously affected. For example, in the home garden, in many years Irish Cobbler potatoes may mature early enough to escape serious reduction in yields from Blight attacks even though not sprayed.

This article if clipped and filed with other articles in this series will make a collection covering the garden program. A companion bulletin, Gardening for Food and Fun, by C. M. Collins, is available from the Horticultural Division, N. S. Department of Agriculture, Truro, N. S.

Urges Students and Teachers to Engage In Farm Work

Honorable Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labor, recently appealed to school teachers and to students—university, college, high school and lower school—to engage at farm work or other useful employment during the long summer vacation this year. "Farmers will be in most urgent need all the help they can get, all through the summer," the Minister said. "Other important war industries are also short of workers. Therefore, the Government confidently hopes that teachers and students will not regard the closing down of schools as a holiday this year, but rather that they will consider the time as giving them an opportunity to aid directly in solving Canada's wartime labour problems. The nation will need all the help these people can give."

Honorable Mr. Mitchell also pointed out that, in view of labour shortages, farmers will have to exercise a good deal of patience when some teachers, students and others first begin work in agriculture. "With the shortage of fully qualified workers, all industries have had to take inexperienced people. Industrial plants have shown considerable patience and ingenuity in training workers who were new to the job. In order to develop the labour required from the materials available, it will be necessary that farmers do the same. Last year many farmers showed a good deal of patience in initiating persons not accustomed to farming. It is to be hoped and expected that all farmers will this year give evidence of the same spirit."

At the same time as he made these statements, Mr. Mitchell pointed out that National Selective Service is giving attention to helping in absorbing into employment all teachers and students. Plans in effect will utilize the services of the Employment and Selective Service Offices and are being carried out in co-operation with the Governments of the Provinces and the Canadian Teachers' Federation.

Students in medical and dental courses will continue their studies throughout the summer, while those in pure science courses are permitted to continue at some universities during the holidays, if they wish. This is part of the program to speed up the graduation of students in these courses, as their services after graduation are urgently needed. Under-graduates in pure and applied science, other than those continuing their studies, are being directed wherever possible to summer employment of an essential nature which will at the same time be of assistance to the students in their technical training. Employment and Selective Service Offices have received information from the Wartime Bureau of Technical Personnel at Ottawa, as to suitable types of employment, and each university has appointed a senior staff member, as consultant to these Offices in doubtful cases.

Other students, whether university or high school or lower school, will be induced to accept employment in agriculture where possible, or work in other industries of high priority where they do not go into agriculture.

Arrangements have been made to locate officials of local Employment and Selective Service Offices at universities and colleges for a limited period before the end of the academic term to advise and direct students to summer employment.

Special arrangements have been made under the Dominion-Provincial Farm Labour Committees established to direct the farm labour program in each province, to recruit students for farm employment during the summer vacation. For example, it is expected that the Ontario Farm Service Force, financed under the Dominion-Provincial farm labor agreement, will place thousands of students on farms this summer. Several of the Provinces, through their Departments of Education, have permitted students to leave school before the end of the term if they have secured a certain minimum standing, to work on farms. Some Provinces are adjusting the dates of the holiday period so that the holiday will coincide with the time of peak demand for seasonal farm help.

More Farm Equipment is Exempted

More items have been added to the group of five already exempt from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board order which rations new farm machinery and equipment. Rationing went into effect last October and except for hand tools, milk cooler refrigeration units, irrigation or drainage equipment, tracklaying type tractors and attachments, repair and spare parts, permits issued by Farm Machinery Rationing Officer were repaired before sales could be made.

Other articles now exempt are sickle knife grinders, incubators (150 egg or under) brooders, pump jacks, wood well pumps, barrel and cistern pumps, churns, sprayers, (six gallon and under) wheelbarrows, electric fence controllers, hand operated seeders, cultivators and weeder and hay forks and their slings and attachments.

Pastures 20 Cows On 7 Acres

A cow to an acre is regarded in many cases as good use of pastures. There is a wide variation, however, depending on many factors, as to how many acres of pasture are needed for any given number of cows. What is decidedly favorable pasturage, and would stand high anywhere, reported from the farm of Murray Trefry, Yarmouth, and works out to nearly three cows per acre.

Two thousand pasture days from May 5 to August 2 last year on 7½ acres is the record of Mr. Trefry. This gives an average of 22 cows for each of 89 days.

The Trefry pasture is divided into four fields, two of 2½ acres each, one of 2¼ acres, and a small field of only ¼ acre. In 1934 this land cut five tons of hay. Fertilizer was first applied in 1936: 15 cwt. of 4-6-10 was sown on March 25 on pastures A and D, 15 cwt. of 5-10-5 on April 10 on pasture B, and 15 cwt. of 5-10-5 on April 15 on pasture C. During the seven years 1936-1942, inclusive, a total of 35,325 pounds of fertilizer was used, that is 676 pounds per acre. Heavy, one may say. Quite true!

But look at the results, or better still, go visit the pasture this spring and see what has happened. Here is production and production at a minimum cost.

The cows were turned into pasture "A" in 1936 on May 10, 1937 on May 12, 1938 on May 10, 1939 on May 9, 1940 on May 11, 1941 on May 13, 1942 on May 5.

OBITUARY

Gordon St. C. Manthorne

The death of Gordon St. Claire Manthorne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall A. Manthorne, formerly of Digby, occurred at Waterville, May 21, following an illness which extended over a period of two years. He is survived by his parents and one sister, Mrs. Harry Shaw, of Yarmouth. He was thirty-four years of age. While living in Digby, Gordon was employed in A. J. Dillon's shoe repair department.

Mrs. Augustus Comeau

The death occurred on Sunday in Centreville, of Mrs. Augustus Comeau, at the age of eighty-three years. She was formerly Mary Hersey and was born in Mink Cove. For the past few years she was in poor health, and two weeks ago suffered a weak attack and fell on the floor of her home. Since then she has been gradually failing. Surviving are her husband and seven children: Stella (Mrs. Charles Melanson), of Plympton; Nora (Mrs. Maurice Raymond), of Digby; Nellie (Mrs. Alton Graham), of Lake Midway; Margaret (Mrs. B. Theriault), of Ellershouse; Mary (Mrs. George Hatt), Kingston; Joseph, Centreville, and Israel, of the R.C.N.; also one sister, Mrs. Addie Milberry, Digby. Funeral service was held Tuesday morning in the Roman Catholic Church, Waterville.

A. J. Westhaver

Adoniram Judson Westhaver, for many years a prominent resident of Digby, died at his home here last Thursday morning, aged seventy-eight years. He had not been in good health for some time but his last illness was of only a few days' duration. He was born in Lunenburg county, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gabriel Westhaver. As a young man he learned the carpenter's trade in Kentville and after his marriage in Digby in 1901, he and his bride took up their residence in that town but only remained a few months when they moved to Digby, where he went into business as a carpenter and contractor, the first house he built being the Jenner house on Queen Street. About thirty years ago he started the meat and provision business and continued it until his retirement a few years ago. Besides his widow there are left to mourn, one son, William, in Clementsport; two daughters, Emma (Mrs. Edward Patterson) and Amy (Mrs. David Watson), both of Portsmouth, N.H., but who are now in Digby; one sister, Mrs. Clinton Lockhart, Maltepan, Mass., and two brothers, Alfred, in Malden, Mass., and Ernest, in Los Angeles, Cal. The funeral took place on Saturday afternoon, under the auspices of the Oddfellows. Rev. T. F. MacWilliam, of Deep Brook, was the officiating clergyman. Interment was in the Baptist cemetery.

Mrs. Oda Guier

The death occurred at Tiverton on Saturday, May 29, of Mrs. Oda Guier, aged 78 years and 10 months, following an illness of ten days. She was born at Central Grove, the daughter of the late Jacob and Hannah Cann, and married Albert Guier, who predeceased her twenty-four years ago. Her family of twelve were all born at Central Grove. Following her husband's death she chose Tiverton as her home, living with her son Sydney until her death. She was a consistent member of the Baptist Church since her youth, a woman of Christian character, of a quiet nature, and lived peacefully with everybody. She is survived by six daughters: Mrs. Stephen McLaughlin, Mrs. Manuel Barbrick, Mrs. Perry Campbell, all of Cambridge, Mass.; Mrs. Frank Monaghan, Malden, Mass.; Mrs. John Kennedy, Minnow Lake, Ont.; Mrs. George Boushie, Freeport; four sons: Elfred, Central Grove; Edwin, Sydney, Orland, Tiverton; two brothers, Boydman Cann, in the Oddfellows' Home; Alfred, Central Grove; twenty-six grandchildren. Funeral took place from the Baptist Church Tuesday afternoon with Rev. Mr. Eaton officiating. Burial was at Central Grove beside her late husband and twin infants, who predeceased her many years ago. All her family were present at the funeral except Mrs. John Kennedy, who was not able to travel.

Vera Mae Jordan

Miss Vera Mae Jordan was accidentally drowned in Choccolate Lake, near Halifax, while swimming, on Sunday, May 23. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Jordan, formerly of North Range, Digby County, and is survived by sisters and brothers, namely: Mrs. Keith Ramey, of Bridge-town; Mrs. Albert Shipley, in New Jersey; Archibald, of Marshalltown; Sergt. Lovett Jordan, Aldershot; Reginald, Digby; Cpl. Ralph, Yarmouth, and Louis, of New Tusket. JUDGE NOT

We must not judge too harshly that young man Who lost his life—not as he hoped to give For King and Country—but because in this Our fair, dear land, forces of evil live.

Far, far from home he had been placed, On land we love—but to him seeming dull. Perhaps not one of his old friends was near To help fill hours with pleasure, and to cull The bitter from the sweet, the bad from good. He meant to fill free hours as best he could.

Shame, shame on those who sold to this young lad, The deadly, dulling, soul-destroying ale. May their hearts ache—their conscience twinge With searing sadness as they read the tale Of how his young life ended neath a car, Who might have won—who knows—a glistening star.

May God forgive the ones who ruin brought To him—sorrow and loss to a young wife. This war is hard enough for us to bear, Without disgrace, and needless loss of life. —Anon.

David Hall Humpherson, formerly of Digby, now attending the Ontario College of Art, was awarded honors for his first year's work at the recent commencement exercises.

Air Raid Siren Installed

Through the efforts of the Bear River Board of Trade a siren has been procured and installed for the purpose of air raid signals, blackouts and fire alarms.

Heretofore the church bells were the only available means obtainable to be used as a signal.

Owing to wartime restrictions a request from the Department of Health was made resulting in an agreement between the Board of Trade and the trustees of the various churches that the bells should not be rung only for air raid warnings until such time when a siren could be procured. That time has arrived and the agreement expires, giving freedom to the churches to have the bells rung once more, in call to worship.

Railways Play Important Role In Tunisian Campaign

In ancient times the forests of Lebanon supplied beams for the building of Solomon's temple; last year they supplied beams and timbering for building new railway lines in the Mediterranean area by the Allied Nations in the prosecution of the war, according to information reaching the Engineering Department of the Canadian National Railways. In addition, Lebanon furnished thousands of tons of cement.

In the Mediterranean area the Allied forces built nearly 700 miles of new rail lines during the past year. All laid primarily for military purposes, many of them will form important links in the region's transportation system after the war. Recently completed was the 90-mile road between Haifa, in Palestine, and Beirut, in Syria. This road forms a final link in direct rail connections between Egypt and Western Europe and connects with the Egypt-Palestine and Tripoli-Turkey railways.

Material for building the rail lines came from different parts of the world; steel rails and girders from India; beams, rails and hundreds of tons of crossing switches from America; while Burma and Turkey supplied ties and timber. New Zealand and Australia chipped in with machinery, a compressor plant and tools. Bridges complete and in sections came from South Africa. Scotch engines, wire ropes and English precision instruments came the long way round by sea. Egypt contributed iron spikes and from manufacturers in Palestine came rivets for bridge work.

Appeal for Donation of "Arms"

A new and urgent appeal to owners of pistols and revolvers to donate them for use by Canadian Army officers was issued recently by the Department of National Defence.

Weapons sought are Colt, Smith and Wesson and Webley pistols and revolvers hammer type, of .38, .45 and .455 calibre and Colt automatics of .45 calibre. Hammerless type weapons are not required. Originally, letters were sent to thousands of Canadians who had registered guns with the R.C.M.P. and some 3,200 weapons were received, but officials found that so many registrations had been changed that a general public appeal was necessary.

The United States, principal source of this type of weapon now required almost its entire production for its own fighting forces and to meet commitments to the United Kingdom.

Officials declared that the appeal is aimed not only at the general public, but to Reserve Army officers and officers on the retired list. They point out that those officers will be issued with pistols when entitled to them.

The weapons may be offered as a contribution or for appraisal and sale. Cheques will be sent directly from the Department of National Defence. Persons unsure of the calibre of their pistols may take them to the nearest Army Unit, R.C.M.P. detachment, Provincial Police or local Post Office.

They should be forwarded—unloaded—to the Ordnance Officer, Postal Building, Fleet and Bay Streets, Toronto, by owners residing in Central or Eastern Canada or to Ordnance Officer, Assiniboine Avenue, Winnipeg, by owners living in Western Canada.

The weapon should be tagged and carefully packed before shipment, the announcement says. Tags should bear the name and address of the owner, the make, calibre and serial number of the weapon and should state whether it is intended as a donation or for sale.

It is suggested that shipment be made by express. Charges will be paid by the Ordnance Officer at the receiving depot.

John G. Crowell, of Dartmouth, spent the week end with his wife and family at the home of Edgar Theriault.

Sweetheart Abbey, in England, derives its name from the fact that a woman named Devorguilla who founded it had the heart of her husband, who died eight years before her, in 1269, buried with her in her own tomb.

Starting a forest fire is a serious offense today, but in Puritan times it was considered the easiest way of clearing land, and millions of valuable acres of timber were destroyed by hand-set fires.

Russian General Praises Canadian Tanks

VALENTINE tanks, produced at the Canadian Pacific Railway's Angus Shops in Montreal, have been called by the Russians the best imported tanks they used in crushing Hitler's armor. Major General I. A. Elysev, chairman of the Soviet Government Purchasing Commission in the United States, has been quoted by Hon. C. D. Howe, Minister of Munitions and Supply in Ottawa, as saying "the Canadian tanks Valentine VII have shown good results in combat action on our front, and have proved themselves the best of all our imported tanks." The Soviet general's tribute was in response to a request from Mr. Howe for a report on the Valentine's part in the Russian offensive. It provided a congratulatory message sent by General Elysev to Mr. A. Bowen, chief of motive power and rolling stock for the Canadian Pacific Railway, on the completion of the Valentine contract early in May, with the needs of a global war having dictated a switch to other weapons. At this time J. H. Berry, Canadian director general of tank production, also congratulated Mr. Bowen and Canadian Pacific personnel "for having delivered the goods on time." —Canadian Pacific Press

Shorthorn Field Day And Sale June 25

The date for the annual field day and sale of the Central Nova Scotia shorthorn club has been set for June 25 at the farm of Weldon Dickey, Middle Stewiacke. H. R. White, Guelph, Secretary Canadian Shorthorn Breeders, expects to be present and take part in program. The sale will include between 35 and 45 well-finished cattle and should be a very attractive event. The cattle will be culled early in June by a committee, appointed by the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, and under W.P.T.B. regulations will be sold free of price ceiling restrictions.

Jersey Breeders Meet Set for June 19

Nova Scotia Jersey breeders have arranged for a field day, June 19, at Fundy Farms, the large Jersey establishment at North River, near Truro, owned by J. P. Norrie. The forenoon will be spent with the Jerseys and the afternoon will be given over largely to an effort to re-organize the Nova Scotia Jersey cattle club. James Bremner, Toronto, secretary of the Canadian Jersey Cattle Club and W. T. Hunter, Jersey fieldman, have been invited to be present and assist in the work of reorganizing the club.

Leading Jersey breeders of the province have expressed the opinion that an active organization is necessary in order to plan extension work for the province and have expressed the hope that every Jersey breeder who can possibly be present will be at the meeting. Those attending are asked to bring lunches. Mr. Norrie has agreed to supply all the Jersey milk that can be drunk.

Jersey breeders, it has been pointed out, have made such progress in Canada that they now constitute the largest organization in Canada registering at the office of the Canadian National Live Stock Records.

Reports 88 Pigs In 7 Litters

There would be plenty of little pigs in the province, and not the scarcity now prevailing, if all sows were as prolific as the two young ones owned by James Sproule, Falkland Ridge, Annapolis Co. Both of these sows had their first litter in the winter of 1942. One farrowed her fourth litter May 15 while the other is due to farrow her fourth in July. From the seven litters there is a total of 88 living pigs—an average of nearly 12½ to the litter.

Don White, Annapolis Co., Agricultural Representative, in commenting on this high production remarks, "some people may be of the impression that such a large number of pigs raised in such a short time is largely due to good luck, and perhaps it is, but if anyone visits the Sproule farm he will be convinced there is also considerable good management at the farm."

Another high producing sow that is doing her part to relieve the pig shortage is "Salome", owned by Albert Parsons, Jr., Walton, Hants County. A year ago she had a litter of 22 and last week one of 18, making a total of 40 in a year.

Slaughtering Permits To be Issued

Nova Scotian farmers whose applications have been accepted will get slaughter permits, according to an announcement made at Halifax by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Cancelled interim permits are being reconsidered. Interim permit holders need not apply again if they have received notice of cancellation. If they have not heard from Ottawa at all, they should inquire, and all farmers who have not applied before should do so at once if they expect to slaughter livestock at any time this year. All inquiries about permit applications should go to the nearest W.P.T.B. office.

Farmers are not under quota restrictions for slaughtering unless they are specially given a quota by the bacon board.

Farmers who have only a few head of cattle in addition to what they kill for their own use or for sale to neighboring farmers are free to sell their livestock to any licensed slaughterer. If they can possibly do so, they are advised to dispose of their animals in this way, rather than apply for a permit, get a stamp and make the reports required of permanent slaughter-permit holders.

All farmers who butcher must register as meat producers with their local ration board. There are at present 29 of these boards located in the province to give information about taking meat coupons. This applies to farmers who kill for their own use or for sale to neighbors, as well as those who hold slaughter permits.

Hog Self-Feeders Save Labour

More hogs could be handled by Nova Scotia farmers if the labour involved was cut down. With this in mind farmers having six or eight or more pigs are advised to look into the question of self-feeders. A leaflet on this subject may be had from country agricultural representatives or by writing to the Department of Agriculture, Truro. This leaflet includes a cross-section drawing and gives brief specifications of construction.

With a self-feeder, cheap shelter house and a run leading from a brook or other water supply, hogs can be looked after by seeing them once a day and filling the feeder two or three times a week. This method which is in practice in many large hog-raising areas does away with the old-fashioned method of carrying feed in liquid form. A farmer having a good self-feeder set-up should be able to handle twenty pigs or so with the same effort now required for two or three pigs where everything has to be carried to the trough.

Says Potash Should be Conserved

Nova Scotia farmers did well to order as much fertilizer as they did in the winter and early spring, said Hon. John A. McDonald, Nova Scotia

Minister of Agriculture, following his return from Ottawa where he had been in conference with the Federal Fertilizer Administrator. Those who ordered early, said the Minister, generally speaking, are those who now have their fertilizer on the land and those who ordered late are, for the most part, those who have not received delivery as yet.

There is difficulty, said Mr. McDonald, in finding chemicals for fertilizer, especially potash. Potash, he said, bids fair to be the fertilizer bottleneck next year. In light of this every effort should be made to conserve this chemical, using it as sparingly as possible and avoiding its use altogether where it is not needed.

Mr. McDonald made representations to the Federal Administrator on behalf of those who earlier in the season did not know what their requirements would be. Such included some of the Nova Scotia potato growers who are now contracting to supply 150,000 barrels of this vegetable to the dehydrating plant being erected at Kentville.

Nova Scotia is short 1,500 to 2,000 tons of fertilizer. Mr. McDonald, who was successful in locating at least part of this amount, said he knew the farmers would put it where it would give the greatest possible return.

NATIONAL SELECTIVE SERVICE

Second Compulsory Employment Transfer Order

Notice to Certain Employers and Employees

that men in specified lines of civilian employment, in classes already designated under National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations, must report for interview not later than June 15th, 1943, at an Employment and Selective Service Office.

A. Objective: This Second Order makes available for essential employment the services of men in classes already designated under National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations, who are now employed in specified non-essential employment.

B. EMPLOYMENTS COVERED BY THIS ORDER: Men, of the specified categories, are covered if now employed at:

(1) Any occupation in or associated with retail stores; (2) any occupation in or associated with the manufacturing of feathers, plumes and artificial flowers; chewing gum; wine; lace goods; greeting cards; jewelry; (3) any occupation in or associated with distilling alcohol for beverage; (4) any occupation in or associated with the factory production of stationary and art goods; (5) any occupation in the operation of ice cream parlours and soda fountains; (6) any of the following occupations: bus boys; charwomen and cleaners; custom fitters; dancing teachers; disk washers; doormen and starters; grocers keepers; grounds keepers; porters (other than in railway train service); private chauffeurs.

C. AGE AND MARITAL CLASSES OF MEN COVERED BY THIS ORDER: (a) Every man born in any year from 1917 to 1924 (inclusive) who has reached age 19; (b) every man born from 1902 to 1916 (inclusive), who, at July 15, 1940, was unmarried, or divorced or judicially separated, or a widower without child or children; (c) every man born from 1902 to 1916 (inclusive), who has become a widower since July 15, 1940, and is without child or children now living; (d) every man born from 1902 to 1916 (inclusive) who, since July 15, 1940, has been divorced or judicially separated.

D. Procedure to be Followed: All men as defined above must report to an Employment and Selective Service Office not later than June 15th, 1943. Men resident outside a city or town having an Employment and Selective Service Office, too far removed to call personally, may write to the nearest office, and await further directions.

E. OBLIGATIONS OF EMPLOYERS: When directed to accept employment, men referred to in Paragraphs B and C above are required by the Regulations to follow the directions.

F. OBLIGATIONS OF EMPLOYERS: It will be illegal for an employer to refuse to accept employment, or to refuse to refer to an Employment and Selective Service Office, unless a special permit has been obtained from Selective Service.

G. Transportation: Provision will be made for transportation of men moved to a new place of residence.

H. Appeals: If objecting to transfer to other employment when directed, a man may enter appeal with a Court of Referees within 7 days.

I. Penalties: Penalties are provided for either employer or employee failing to comply with this Order.

J. Authority: This Order is issued by the Minister of Labour under National Selective Service Civilian Regulations (P.C. 246 of January 19th, 1943, and amending Orders in Council).

K. This Second Order is Additional to First Order: Employments listed in Paragraph B above, declared non-essential in this Second Order, are additional to the non-essential employments contained in the First Order. The First Order, issued on May 4th, 1943, required compliance by May 15th on the part of employees designated under Mobilization Regulations, and also of their employers, in the following lines of work: (1) taverns or liquor, wine and beer stores; (2) retail sale of candy, confectionery, tobacco, books, stationery, news; (3) barber shops and beauty parlours; (4) retail and wholesale florists; (5) service stations (gasoline-filling stations); (6) retail sale of motor vehicles or accessories; (7) retail sale of sporting goods or musical instruments; (8) waiter, taxi driver, elevator operator, hotel bell boy, domestic servant; (9) any occupation in or directly associated with entertainment, including but not restricted to theatres, film agencies, motion picture companies, clubs, dancing alleys, pool rooms; (10) any occupation in or directly associated with drying, cleaning, and pressing (not including laundry work); bath; guide services; shoe shining.

Men referred to above must present documents at the employment office, indicating compliance with Mobilization Regulations

CALCIUM CHLORIDE TREATMENT MAKES GRAVEL ROADS SMOOTH, DUSTLESS, LIKE THIS...

BUT COSTS NO MORE THAN MAINTENANCE OF A SURFACE, LIKE THIS

IN THESE times, when every available dollar is needed for a national war effort, highway officials are turning more to Calcium Chloride for maintenance of gravel roads.

Labour is limited and materials are costly. Both must be conserved. Calcium Chloride saves both and so pays for itself while it actually consolidates and improves gravel road surfaces—keeps them smooth and dustless.

So, wherever Calcium Chloride is used for maintenance, costly dust damage to roadside crops is ended, driving on farm-to-market roads becomes safer, easier, more comfortable; and housework in nearby homes is lightened.

That's the contribution Calcium Chloride maintenance makes to the welfare of rural communities... without extra cost.

Calcium Chloride is made entirely in Canada.

Tires Last Longer on Smooth Surfaces

The abrasive action of loose gravel on rubber tires causes as much as 47 percent greater wear than on paved or stabilized surfaces. Sidewalls take almost as much punishment as the treads. Smooth, tightly-bound consolidated surfaces are easy on tires. Sidewalls are not exposed to abrasion.

Precedents Broken in War

A British United Press war correspondent, Richard McMillan, who has followed the British troops in the desert and knows their leader intimately, makes the interesting statement that, "Montgomery is a teetotaler as to tobacco and liquor." His officers "may drink moderately but only if it does not interfere with their duties." And again Montgomery "believes in a blood and iron policy." He quotes the Bible to his men. "His devotion to the Bible," says McMillan, "presumably derives from the fact that he was a minister's son." He sometimes serves whiskey to his officers after staff talks "but no one may smoke during the conferences." "Neither does he swear," writes the correspondent. "It is not the sort of personality which would be expected to endear an officer to soldiers," yet "he is a hero even to his valet."

"Montgomery is a man who breaks precedent," adds Mc-

Millan. Lots of precedents are being broken in this war. In a fascinating story of the work of British parachutists behind the enemy lines in the desert as recorded by an Associated Press correspondent we read: "The Chaplains and medical teams followed their comrades into the thick of every battle, dropping with them and operating in forward areas under constant fire." Modern warfare is certainly featured by some unusual characteristics that are not all to the bad.

Improvements in locomotive design on the Canadian National Railways are producing better road performances. A movement of 1,000 tons of freight one mile which in 1928 required consumption of 129 pounds of coal, was performed on the C.N.R. in 1942 with 115 pounds.

Plan Celebrations For July 5

The Digby Board of Trade will make plans for a general celebration and sports day on Monday, July 5, it was decided Tuesday evening at a supper meeting of the Board, held at Jersey Farms Hotel. (Tentative arrangements for the occasion were made at a meeting of a special committee yesterday afternoon.)

Business at this meeting was mostly of routine nature. Charles Eaton and Dr. T. L. Rogers gave reports on the activities of the recently organized Digby Athletic Association with the recommendation that the association be passed over to the Digby Board of Trade and operated by that body as a going concern. A motion to this effect was passed.

After discussion it was decided to carry on the work as already started by the Association, and to take steps to have the field graded and ready for baseball and other sports within the next few weeks. C. E. Eaton, F. L. Anderson, H. M. Warne, C. F. McBride, and Dr. T. L. Rogers, were named a special committee for the Athletic Field.

Acting V.O.N. Supervisor to Visit Digby

Miss Merritt was unable to personally present her report to the monthly meeting of the V.O.N. Board on Tuesday, due to the fact that she was assisting at the Chest Clinic at the Digby General Hospital. However, her report, as read by the secretary, indicated a busy month. During May, 14½ hours were spent in the school and 353 pupils given quick inspection. Home nursing classes were organized with 15 high school pupils. Twenty-two children attended the Friday afternoon clinics for babies and pre-school age children.

In all, the nurse made 148 visits in May, 131 being nursing visits.

A donation of a large box of linens from Miss Kate Tobin, Halifax, was acknowledged. The committee was informed that Miss Maude Hall, acting chief superintendent for the Order, will be in Digby on Monday, June 14, and arrangements were made to have the committee meet Miss Hall at a special meeting at 4 o'clock that afternoon.

No formal statement was made with respect to the annual June Drive, which is on now. It is known that a number of the collectors are making their visits. Others present at the meeting expressed their intention of getting started within the next few days. These collectors make a house-to-house canvass, and will include as nearly as possible, all residents of the town. Help the nurse to further safeguard your health by generously supporting this worthy organization.

VOLUME LXIX, NO. 39

ARRIVING IN DIGBY THIS AFTERNOON

This group of R.C.A.F. pipers (the only pipe-band in the Royal Canadian Air Force) will be in Digby this afternoon. They wear the new R.C.A.F. tartan, designed by G.C.E.G. Fullerton, C.O., of the No. 9 S. F.T.S., Centralia, Ont. It is a simple plaid, woven in maroon, dark and light blue (air force colors), rich looking and striking. It is a genuine tartan, approved by the Air Council, and registered in the Archives of the Court of the Lord Lyon in Edinburgh, Scotland.

The band is accompanying the Women's Division Precision Squad, now touring the Maritimes, and who will arrive in Digby this afternoon at 2.25, on the afternoon train from Halifax.

On their arrival at Digby station they will line up and parade from Birch to Water Street, turning back on Water Street at the "boulevard", and stopping at the intersection opposite the station and across from Dunn's Service Station, at 2.45.

Here, they will be welcomed by Mayor E. J. Theriault and members of the Town Council.

The mayor will make an inspection of the precision squad and Highland band, after which Precision Squad drill exhibition will be given. S. O. Fahrnholtz, in command of the Women's Goup, will give a short talk.

At 3.15 o'clock, the group will parade to the Digby pier.

(If the train is late on its arrival at Digby, the parade through town will be eliminated. In the event of inclement weather, the whole program will be dropped as there are no alternate facilities.)

DROWNED IN CANOEING ACCIDENT

Petty Officer Ernest Marshall, 38, son of Mrs. Ella Marshall, Digby, (formerly of Montreal and Yarmouth), was drowned at Sandy Bottom Lake, near South Milford, Annapolis County, shortly after 4 o'clock, Saturday afternoon. The accident occurred when the canoe, occupied by Petty Officer Marshall, Mrs. Marshall and Warrant Officer Fee, capsized in a sudden squall.

Marshall's body was recovered Sunday morning by Constable Watts, of the Digby Detachment of R.C.M.P. Coroner Dr. L. B. Braine, of Annapolis Royal, ruled that death was accidental and no inquest was necessary. The local detachment of the R.C.M.P. were aided by officers and ratings of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, Deep Brook, in their search for the body.

Petty Officer Marshall and party arrived at Sandy Bottom Lake about 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon, intending to spend the week end fishing. They were staying at Willard Anderson's cabin on the lake shore. Before starting out on the lake, they ate lunch, assembled their fishing gear, and started out on the lake, bound for the opposite shore, where they intended to fish near the mouth of a small stream that enters Sandy Bottom Lake.

Petty Officer Ernest Marshall was in the bow of the canoe, Warrant Officer Fee in the stern, and Mrs. Marshall in the centre. Others of the party, including Gordon Marshall, of Digby, (brother of the victim); Warrant Officer Karagianis, and Mrs. Roady, started off in a row boat, but were unable to make progress, and returned to shore for a canoe.

The second group had scarcely got away from shore in their canoe when they saw the first canoe capsize. None of the occupants of the first canoe were able to swim and all members of the party were wearing hip rubber or high rubber boots.

Mrs. Marshall was able to kick her boots free, and after some difficulty succeeded in catching the bottom of the upturned canoe. Warrant Officer Fee also managed to catch hold of the capsized craft. Petty Officer Marshall struggled for a few minutes, and sank.

His brother, Gordon, in the other canoe, witnessed his plight, and dove from the canoe in a vain attempt to effect a rescue. As he dove, his canoe also capsized, but the occupants managed to get to shore safely.

Following the accident the Digby detachment R.C.M.P. were called from Milford, and a search for the body begun. Every co-operation was received from H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, Deep Brook, from where ratings, officers and equipment were sent. Petty Officer Marshall, and Warrant Officers Fee and Karagianis were all stationed at the Naval Base. Mr. and Mrs. Marshall had been making their home at Deep Brook for several weeks.

When the body was recovered Sunday morning, Marshall was no longer wearing his hip rubber boots. The remains were removed to Matheson's Undertaking Parlor, Digby.

One of the most impressive funeral services ever witnessed in Digby was conducted for Petty Officer Ernest Marshall on Tuesday afternoon. The service was perhaps the first Naval funeral this town has ever seen, and was attended by possibly three hundred of the personnel of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis.

The service took place from the home of the victim's mother, Mrs. Ella Marshall, Maiden Lane, and was conducted by Rev. William Hills, chaplain at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, Deep Brook. Interment was in the United Church Cemetery.

Navy personnel, with H.M.C.S. Cornwallis band, formed the funeral cortege, the navy taking up the entire length of Maiden Lane. Pallbearers were fellow officers.

The flag draped casket was placed on a gun carriage and conveyed to its resting place by H.M.C.S. Cornwallis ratings. The procession marched to the slow music of the band along Maiden Lane and Carleton Street, to the corner of Prince William Street, quickening their march up the hill to King Street, then reverting to the slow march along King Street to the cemetery, where the last salute was fired and the remains interred.

Busy-bodies generally have a full category.

Mayor Again Breaks Tie Votes

At Monday night's meeting of the Digby Town Council, Mayor E. J. Theriault was again called upon to cast deciding votes or matters coming up before the council. On both occasions, the matters had to do with the granting of Taxi Licenses, the procedure being recorded in the town minute book as follows:

"F. R. Eisener appeared, questioning the action of the License Committee in regard to their action in recommending certain Transit Control Licenses to be issued in the town of Digby, stating that through their action he had lost one of his licenses. Other taxi drivers present were Anderson, VanTassel and Webber.

"The clerk read correspondence he had with the Transit Control and read the recommendations of the License Committee. Mr. Eisener requested that the Council either ratify or disaffirm the action of the License Committee.

"Councillor Cardoza moved that the action of the License Committee be ratified by the Council. This was seconded by Councillor Warner. The mayor ruled the motion out of order and declared the Council had nothing to do with the matter. Councillor Cardoza challenged the Mayor's ruling and appealed it. On the matter being put to a vote, the council upheld the appeal of Councillor Cardoza and the motion stood for discussion and voting.

"On motion of the council F. R. Eisener and Laurie Anderson were given permission to address the council and put forth their views in connection with the matter. The mayor stated his position on opinion with regard to the matter, and the town solicitor read the by-laws in connection therewith.

"Councillor Cardoza stated he felt the License Committee had acted fairly in the matter and to the best of their ability. An amendment to Councillor Cardoza's motion was as follows, moved by Councillor Warner and seconded by Councillor McCleave: "That the Transit Controller, disregard the recommendations of the License Committee until he had investigated the matter of taxi licenses issued in the town of Digby by his authority."

"Councillor Cardoza objected that the amendment as Digby Landlords, Take Notice!

(Special Dispatch to Courier)

Halifax, June 7—All persons who let a house, a flat or an apartment for the first time are required to have the rental approved within thirty days of the tenant taking possession. This has been the law since December 10, 1942. It applies to a partments created by subdividing houses whether or not the houses were previously let, as well as to houses kept as a unit.

It is reported that some persons in the Digby - Annapolis area are not obeying this requirement. R. L. Stanfield, Regional Rentals Officer of War-time Prices and Trade Board said here today. Anyone who fails to have a rental fixed and collects rental after the lapse of the thirty days, is breaking the law and is liable to prosecution.

Tenants are under no obligation to pay any rent between the time the thirty days expires and the time the landlord applies for approval of the rent. Persons seeking approval of rentals will find application forms at the offices of the County Court Clerks in Digby and Annapolis. Mr. Stanfield explained. The clerk will arrange a hearing before Judge Crowell, who will fix a maximum rental on the house, flat or apartment in question. If this maximum rental is less than the tenant has been paying, the landlord must refund the difference in rental for each month during which the tenant has paid.

Any tenant, who is living in a house, flat or apartment on which an application is not made when it should be, and who expects to leave the district, should send a forwarding address to H. E. Trask, War-time Prices and Trade Board, Yarmouth.

Persons letting furnished rooms in which bedding is supplied, need not apply to Judge Crowell to have their rates fixed.

Who Took This Snapshot?

To the Editor of the Courier—Dear Sir: I was one of the British troops who had the good luck to visit your town in August, 1941, and while reminiscing the other day a thought suddenly struck me, and this is how it goes.

When we were on church parade during our visit, we were snapped just as we were entering the church, by a very charming young lady, dressed, I remember, in a dark green sweater and skirt.

Now, as I am a rather large-sized character, and I was plunk in the centre of the picture, I took this almost as a personal snap, so I asked the young lady if I could have a copy and she said, "Yes", but as I didn't see her again, of course I didn't get it.

The only other clue I have is that the young lady was at the social arranged in the Church Hall on our first day in Digby.

Now as most girls have a good memory as to what they wore, I think she should be easy to find. This is a good set-up, in my opinion. You find the girl and sit back, conscious of a good deed, well done. The young lady will no doubt be pleased that her memory has been carried all through a pretty tough little war, and I shall get my snap and I hope, a letter, and the opportunity of finding out her name.

Our all too short stay in Digby I shall always remember. As we all had a swell time and we shall all (except those who won't come back) have some fine stories to tell when we get back to England; although I hardly knew what to think when breezy Bill Ganong threatened to drown us, by sailing his yacht too close to the wind for our comfort. Great boy! that Bill. Genial Mr. Clark (?) showed us a good time too and showed us your industries and I wish I knew half as many stories as that grand old man, Mr. Paul (?), the photographer.

Well, Mr. Editor, help me contact my snapper, and you have my undying gratitude. Cheerio now, good luck, Yours truly, Fish to Fish Country Beans to Boston!

Bringing fish across the continent to the eastern seaboard where is located one of Canada's great fishing industries would seem to be an anomaly, like carrying coals to Newcastle, but recently boxes of British Columbia salmon were transported by Canadian National Express to Halifax to meet a shortage due to war conditions. It's the same evidently with beans in Boston, declared the Canadian National Express Agent at Halifax. Recently a United States Marine called on the express company in Montreal and confided he would like to take some beans back with him to Boston, stating they were very difficult to get in the city which made beans famous.

About This and That

One of the biggest "unscrambling" jobs of history will face the United Nations after they have won this war. It will be the recovery, in so far as possible, of property and wealth stolen by the nazis from occupied countries. The United States will have a big stake in this, as something like 2,000,000 Americans have investments of $5,000,000 in property which has been looted or destroyed by the axis powers in the European war zone.

The Board of Economic Welfare estimates nazi loot to date at $36,000,000,000, and reports that "it is still running into the tens of billions of dollars a year." There is scarcely anything that the nazis haven't grabbed. They have stolen and shipped to Germany industrial machinery, raw materials, scientific instruments, railroad equipment, food, and all the horses, cattle sheep, and pigs on which they could lay their hands. They have seized 2,000,000 tons of shipping. They have stripped art galleries and sent their priceless treasures back to Berlin. They have filched office furniture, park benches, monuments, garden tools, clothing, shoes, soap, even the hinges from doors and windows.

"For magnitude and ruthlessness," says the Board of Economic Welfare, "German looting of Europe surpasses all previous conquests of history."

Much of the loot, of course, can never be returned. But there remains considerable that can be reclaimed. All of this should be recovered and restored. And for that which has been destroyed, the Allies should replace it as far as possible by seizure in turn of German materials.

Missouri is considering legislation that would bar from the state all motion pictures in which divorced actors or actresses appear. Let's see, that leaves Mickey Mouse, Donald Duck, Poy-Eye, and the news reels.

China has been in the war since 1937, and has suffered in a way of which Americans have no conception. Yet her great leader, Chiang Kai-shek, sees that there are more important things than peace. He says:

"There will be neither peace, nor hope, nor future for any of us unless we honestly aim at political, social and economic justice for all people of the world, great and small. We must begin today to apply these principles among ourselves, even at some sacrifice to the absolute powers of our individual countries."

Tax assessors say that the average wife knows little about her husband. Perhaps it's a good thing she doesn't.

In scanning the war news of a day or week, one frequently comes across the statement: "Our plane losses were insignificant compared with the destruction our attack wrecked on the enemy."

That word, "insignificant", isn't any too well chosen. Perhaps in the magnitude of total war effort, the loss of a plane or two with its crews constitutes a very minor one. But to the folks back home, the places whence came only a few short months ago the members of those crews, the loss is staggering. Some mother's heart is broken; the light has gone out of some father's life.

There is no such thing as an "insignificant" loss. No sacrifice in this struggle for freedom, no matter how small in comparison to total numbers involved, is insignificant when laid on the altar of international liberty. It comprises everything that one life had to give to the cause of a better world. And it yields all the heartache and tears, the loneliness and sorrow of which one heart is capable of suffering. There is nothing insignificant in such things.

Wartime has made some of the woman's styles so sensible that they probably won't last long.

Crop Conditions Below Last Year

Crop conditions in the Province as of June 1 as reported by the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture were very much below last year. It should be remembered, however, that last year was an exceptional season with very little lost time due to rainy weather and an early spring with seeding unduly early for at least most parts of the Province. This year precipitation during the month of April was very low, amounting to 1.55 inches as compared with a 33-year average of 2.60 inches at the College Station, Truro. As a result land was in condition to be worked, and then on the last day of the month the rain started and during the month of May the rainfall at the College Station amounted to 4.87 inches as compared with the 33-year average of 2.81 inches. Not only did rain fall on 14 days at Truro but also a number of the other days were what you might call cloudy days, at least the land was not drying. Thus it is that only on a few days during the month has the soil in most parts of the Province been in condition for working. This is particularly true of clay soils including much of the North Shore district. In many sections practically no crop is in as yet. On the other hand in the Valley and many parts of the extreme western end of the Province seeding is fairly well along and a considerable quantity of potatoes and truck crops are in. The South Shore district though is very backward and the quantity of seed in the ground there is much below average for this time of year. Early potatoes at Yarmouth are reported rotting and no doubt there will be considerable loss not only in potatoes but of small seeds as a result of the wet weather. This is particularly serious in potatoes due to the fact that it will be difficult to obtain seed for planting at a later date.

Annapolis Valley reports a heavy blossom. Gravensteins were already out the first of this week and it is expected the peak of the blossom season will be the last of this week with Sunday, June 6, as Apple Blossom Sunday. Apple scab is showing up in many orchards, this as a result of the difficulty of spraying under weather conditions as they existed in recent weeks. It should be remembered though in considering the crop in the Valley the large number of trees that have been removed during recent years under the policy of the Departments of Agriculture. The removal of old apple trees is going forward this year with a number of tractors working in the three Valley Counties.

Hatcheries have been running full capacity and orders are continuing to come in for late chickens. The question of protein feed is an important one for poultry raisers. D. Roy MacDonald, Assistant Poultry Promoter for Western Nova Scotia, reports that at Barrs Corner they are using some of their best clover fields for a range this year. This is one way of meeting the protein shortage. It is also of interest to note the increased attention paid to pastures for cattle and sheep and the large quantity of fertilizer which has been used on pastures this year.

Milk production continues at a high rate. While pastures are late still they promise good and promise well for the early summer season. The hay crop also looks well and there is every prospect of a good crop. Thus it is that from a feed standpoint it will be in grain and not in hay that the province is likely to be short this year.

Sheep are in good condition. Reports on lambs are good. There has been some loss in small pigs but generally the pig crop is a good one with a heavy demand for little pigs, which is being met in part by bringing them from other provinces, not only P. E. Island and New Brunswick but even one carload came into Guysboro County from Ontario.

If the worlds tillable land were divided evenly among its inhabitants every man would have an eight-acre farm.

Branch Hears Mission Talk

The monthly meeting of the Women's Auxiliary of the Weymouth Anglican Church, was held at the home of Mrs. Edith Grierson on Wednesday with a large number of members and friends present.

Mrs. Brodie, who attended the diocesan meetings in Halifax recently gave an interesting report. The note of the meetings seemed to be that of service, she said. "Service for King and country was not enough, it must be in the spirit of Jesus Christ and not one member of the W. A. should be content until every one had enlisted in the Battle of our Master."

Miss Leslie Ruggles told of her work in the Deaconess House in Toronto and mission work in the West. She urged that a keener interest in missions, especially in Canada, be adopted. The appalling conditions of the West were pointed out and the need for more workers among the lone settlers there was the keynote of her message.

Miss Ruggles is a member of the Weymouth branch of the W. A. and her future work will be watched with interest. Following the meeting the president, Miss N. Simmonds presented her with a gift of money on behalf of the members.

After the meeting a supper was served by members of the W. A.

Miss Ruggles left on Thursday for Saint John to take up her work at "Old Stone Church" under Rev. Canon Haslem.

Mackerel Very Plentiful

Not for years has there been such a run of mackerel on the shores of Nova Scotia. They are being caught by the thousands and still there are millions left.

Well, there is no more delectable dish than fresh mackerel and they must be fresh. Or properly salted they beat even beefsteak.

We trust the fishermen are taking full advantage of this "manna" that has been sent to our shores to fill the place made vacant by the meat rationing.

Reports Month of Heavy Rain

The month of May was a poor growing month, being marked by cold and unsettled weather and a precipitation far in excess of the average for May. Reports from the three government meteorological stations show that Truro had the greatest rainfall, 4.87 inches. Nappan had 4.76 inches and Kentville, 4.11.

The report from the College Station, Truro, states rain fell on fourteen days and totalled nearly two inches above the average for the 33-year period. Last year the rainfall for the month was only 1.93 inches. This in itself gives some indication of the retarding of the season and the lateness of seeding. The maximum temperature at Truro was 72 degrees, reached May 25 and 26, as compared with 81 degrees last year. On only three days did the temperature reach 70 degrees. The minimum temperature was 27 degrees reached May 3, with five days falling to 32 degrees and below. Thus the month was a cool backward month, with development slow.

The report from Nappan described May as "cold, backward and unsettled". There were a few splendid drying days between the 19th and 25th. Some seeding was possible, but from the 26th on to the end of the month, cold wet weather prevailed. Rain fell on 15 days, the total rainfall for the month being the highest on record for the month of May. Considerable winterkilling of clover was experienced. Grasses are thin and growth slow.

Kentville had the distinction of having the highest temperature of the month. The mercury touched 79 on May 24. Nappan's highest was 76 on May 26, and Truro's maximum was 72 on May 25 and 26.

DEPARTMENT OF LANDS & FORESTS, HALIFAX, NOVA SCOTIA

FOR WINTER DAYS

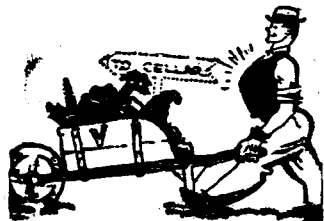

A well planned home garden is designed not only to provide fresh vegetables during the current gardening season, but also to provide others that may be stored for varying lengths of time. These can then be used gradually during the long winter days, when gardening is only a pleasant memory of what was accomplished last summer together with a lively anticipation and planning for the coming season.

For Current Needs

Certain garden vegetables as lettuce, spinach, swiss chard, broccoli, cauliflower, peas, snap beans and cucumbers are primarily for current consumption. For use direct from the garden to table as they mature and as they are needed.

For Storage

Others, as carrots, beets, parsnips, cabbage, onions, potatoes, pumpkins and squash, while not only usable as they mature are also capable of relatively long periods of storage for later use if proper storage conditions are provided.

Vegetables Live

It must be remembered that harvested vegetables are living tissues using oxygen and giving off Carbon Dioxide and other products of respiration. They therefore have a definite life cycle—(like the rest of us) which may be modified as to length by hereditary characters, by storage or living conditions and by attacks from disease and insects. As a general proposition relatively low temperatures down to the freezing point tend to slow up these activities while higher temperatures speed them up and so shorten the life cycle.

The Storage Problem

Our problem of storage then with many vegetables is to provide space where temperature can be held, preferably between 32 degrees and 40 degrees as consistently as possible. It also means keeping the amount of moisture in the air fairly high, otherwise moisture is drawn off from vegetables such as carrots, beets and parsnips so they wither and become tough and woody.

One Solution

The ordinary house cellar, especially if it contains a furnace, is too warm and dry to make a good storage for any thing except pumpkins and squash which will store quite well under such conditions. It is, however, often possible to partition off a corner or section of the cellar, either by a window or where an air inlet through the wall may be placed. Sometimes such an air inlet may be inconspicuously placed under a veranda or front or back porch. This room should have a four inch wall insulated with shavings or equivalent material with vapor proof paper on both inner and outer sides of the insulation under the wood sheathing. The door should also be paper lined.

Such a room can have the temperature brought down as close to outdoor temperatures as is desirable, while a little attention to sprinkling the floor will help keep humidity at a satisfactory level. A small room (1) of this sort is not expensive or difficult to construct and will pay for itself many times over in cutting losses and in the satisfaction of having fruit and vegetables, as well as canned and preserved goods, in good condition when you are ready to use them.

If a storage room is not available, storage of root vegetables in sand or sawdust will help delay wilting, although if temperatures are high, the period of storage is limited.

Still the Best Seller

What has been the best selling book of the year? Not Wendell Wilkie's "One World", but the Bible.

One thing testifying to the fact is the recent report of the Massachusetts Bible Society. Sharing with the larger American Bible Society it has helped in the distribution since September, 1940, of 1,200,000 Testaments. Some of these were paid for; others given away. The government has provided 1,500,000 Testaments for the Army, but the Bible societies try to look after the Navy, Coast Guard and Merchant Marine. The Massachusetts society plans to put an adequate number of copies on every warship launched thereabouts. Every life-boat or raft they see to it, has a copy of the New Testament. They remember how much it meant to young Bartek and Captain Rickenbacker in their thrilling days at sea.

A new development, a little out of the line of the Bible societies, is putting the Bible into strip-pictures for their appeal to children—and others, we fancy, who have become strip readers. When you note the huge piles of comic strips displayed in book form at every news-stand, why hasn't this idea been thought of before? It is in use now at any rate, and "Picture Stories from the Bible" are being released in weekly black and white for Saturday and Sunday newspapers; also, are available in book form.

Of course, the Bible and its meaning cannot be mastered in too easy reading. You have to be in the mood to receive it—as we can well believe those on the Rickenbacker raft were. But such moods come more frequently in war times. The Bible is just a volume covered with dust to you—then something comes up that makes you look around for help—and there it is! As Bishop Lawrence once said, "In these days of change and uncertainty, when so many things we had come to depend on are being swept away and when life seems so small and futile, we need the Bible more than ever before. We need it to recover our prospective upon life in its long reaches—to provide that certainty which comes through contact with the abiding truths and unchanging laws of God."

A recent Gallup poll shows that the country over, 41 out of every 100 persons interviewed admit they have not looked in a Bible within the past year. Perhaps that is not unnatural. But the never-ceasing demand for Bible indicates also that a lot of people like to have a copy where they can, in time of need, look into it.

Remember that clean bulbs give 25 per cent more light. To keep electric light bulbs clean, wipe them with a damp, soapy cloth, remove suds, and dry well. Don't put the entire bulb in the water as the base is cemented to the glass section or bulb and they may come apart if the cement gets wet.

Thibodeau - LeBlanc

At St. Mary's, Church Point, Tuesday, June 1, Rev. Father Castonguay, C.J.M., pastor, united in marriage with Nuptial High Mass, Wilfred Thibodeau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emile Thibodeau, and Miss Catherine LeBlanc, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fiddelis LeBlanc, both of Church Point. The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Edith Thibodeau, and Benjamin LeBlanc, the bride's brother, was best man. Jean V. Thibodeau, the bride's godfather, was at the organ. Breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents. In the evening a reception was given at the home of the groom's parents, to relatives and friends. They received many wedding gifts with the best wishes for a happy married life.

Saulnier - Comeau

A pretty wedding was solemnized on May 31, at Sacred Heart Church, Saulnierville, when Rev. J. Doucet, P.P., united in marriage Rose Delima, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Morse Comeau, of Comeauville, to Joseph Rene Saulnier, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexis Saulnier, of Saulnierville. The bride wore a wedding frock of sheer and brocade with train length veil. She carried a white prayer book with satin streamers. She was attended by Miss Regine Saulnier, sister of the groom, as bridesmaid, and little Lorraine Comeau, niece of the bride, acted as flower girl. The groom was attended by Amedee Comeau, brother of the bride. Following the ceremony a reception and wedding breakfast was held at the Riverside Inn, Meteghan River, to a number of relatives and friends, after which the happy couple left on a wedding trip through the Valley. They will reside in Comeauville at the home of the bride's parents, and have the best wishes of their many friends.

wick, Sunday afternoon, May 30, of Mildred Beatrice, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Rafuse, of Garland, to Arnold Trask, R.C.N.V.R., son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trask, Digby. Rev. W. E. Cholerton officiated. The bride wore a street length dress of powder blue chiffon and lace with large hat in natural straw. Her bouquet was sweet peas, carnations and maidenhair fern. The bridesmaid was Miss Marion Trask, sister of the groom, who wore a street length dress of royal blue printed crepe with navy accessories, and carried a bouquet of white gladioli and maidenhair fern. The best man was Murray Hudgins, of Halifax, cousin of the bride. Among the guests present were: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trask, Miss Marion Trask, Digby; Mrs. Alice Redden, Kentville; Mrs. B. M. Hudgins, Kingston; Arthur Smith, Black Rock; Mrs. Elbridge Denton and daughter, Marion, Clementsport. The happy

Russians Predict War's End by 1943

Russian mathematics and slide-rule experts have devised a formula for predicting the end of the war as follows:

The French Revolution began in 1789 and the Bolsheviks came into power in 1918. Subtract and you get 129. Napoleon became Emperor of France in 1804, Hitler dictator of Germany in 1933. Again a difference of 129. Napoleon invaded Russia in 1812. Add to this 129 and you get 1941—the year Hitler invaded Russia. Add the key number, 129, to 1814 (the year of Napoleon's defeat in Russia) to obtain 1943—the year of Hitler's overthrow.

There are 11 gallons of water in the human body.

"WE NOT ONLY HAUL 'EM—WE BUILD 'EM TOO"

ALTHOUGH we, the Canadian railways, are carrying vastly more traffic than at any time in history, we are also building guns and tanks, ships and shells. Our machinery of production hums day and night. Implements of war roll from our plants in steady streams. They're made by the railways... hauled by the railways... the railways of Canada.

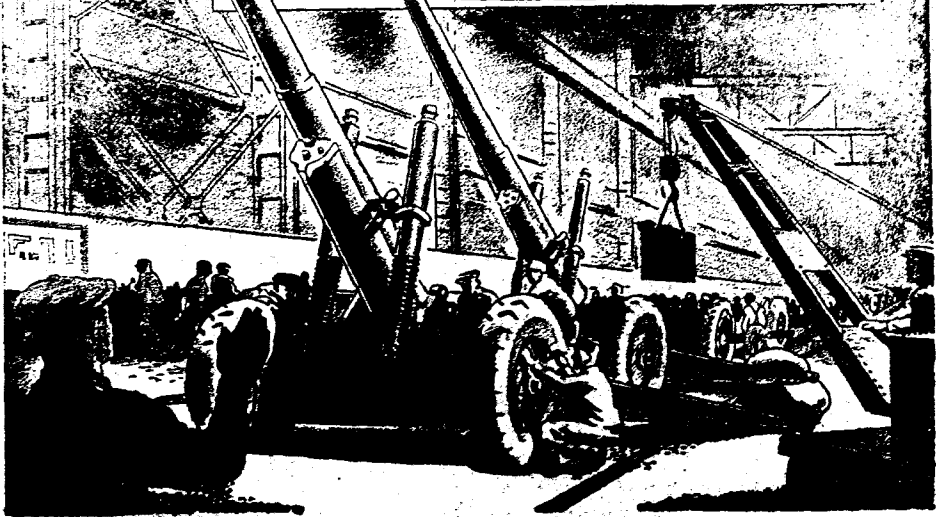

Only your railways, ready and capable of meeting the emergency before it occurred, can handle this double "must"... mass transportation and mass war production.

Your railways met a mighty challenge in Canada's period of construction. They are rendering dual service in War's period of destruction. They will be needed more than ever in the reconstruction period of peace. They will meet that challenge, too!

Dickie - Williams

Historic St. Paul's Church, Halifax, was the scene of a pretty wedding Friday evening, June 4, when Miss Winnifred Joyce, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Williams, Halifax, was united in marriage by Rev. Dr. Savary, to Petty Officer Writer Hugh Desmond Dickie, R.C.N.V.R., son of Dr. and Mrs. W. R. Dickie, of Digby. Given away by her father, the bride was becomingly attired in a two-piece ensemble of aquamarine blue and a small flowered hat. She carried a cascade bouquet of gardenias with pink and white snapdragon. Her attendant, Miss Ether Ross, of Halifax, wore a two-piece frock of dusty rose, with small hat to match, and wore a corsage of talisman roses. The groom was supported by his brother, Surgeon Lieutenant E. D. Dickie, R.C.N.V.R. At the reception which followed at the home of the bride's parents, the bride's mother received in a dove grey cape dress and wore a corsage of mauve sweet peas. The groom's mother wore a navy blue ensemble with a corsage of lilies of the valley. Out of town guests included

NOTICE MEAT RATIONING

The sale of nearly all kinds of meat is now restricted to purchases by ration coupons. The institution of such a program has raised many problems concerning both dealer and customer, which can only be solved by the whole-hearted co-operation of all concerned. Under the new cutting regulations, it will be impossible to supply some of the several fancy cuts so long chosen by certain customers. Your meat dealer is always ready to offer help and advice in choosing cuts, but it is imperative that you yourselves become acquainted with the charts, and come to your dealer prepared beforehand, at least in part, for the type and quantity of meat desired, depending on the number of coupons available. The responsibility of a reasonable success in avoiding the confusion that is bound to result from leaving everything to the meat cutter is partly yours.

The actual practice of accepting coupons will consume much more time than former methods. On busy days, with cutters already reduced by enlistments, and in many cases working extra hours, the problem of longer serving time might gain threatening proportions. We must appeal to the consuming public, particularly our town customers, to make an attempt to purchase their week-end meats before, or as early on Saturdays as possible, in order to leave our cutters free Saturday evenings to handle out-of-town trade. It is our desire to prevent, if possible, undue waiting of customers, as well as the possibility of some perhaps getting no service whatever. We believe that a spirit of tolerance as well as personal convenience will prompt you to recognize the fairness of our appeal.

REMEMBER THIS

It is absolutely impossible to send out orders and collect coupons at the house. No meat orders will be accepted for delivery unless the coupons are first in the hands of the dealer.

MARRIAGE

Trask - Yorke

Rev. James Brooks, pastor of the United Church of Canada, Bear River, on Monday afternoon, May 31, united in marriage Mrs. Gertrude Yorke, of Bear River, and John Trask, of Little River. The ceremony took place at the Manse, before a few friends and relatives. The bride wore a grey tailored suit with powder blue hat and accessories to match. Following a motor trip, Mr. Trask and his bride will reside in Little River.

Randall - Benson

On Wednesday, June 2, at 2 p.m., the United Church of Canada, Bear River, was the scene of a very pretty wedding, when Emma Alice Benson, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Benson, of Bear River, became the bride of Rev. William L. Randall, of Pennfield, N.B., only son of Mr. and Mrs. William Randall, of Carleton, Yarmouth Co. Rev. James Brooks, pastor of the church, officiating. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, to the strains of Lohengren's Wedding March, played by the organist, Miss Gertrude Miller. She was very exquisitely attired in a floor length gown of white satin, with lace yoke and sweetheart neckline. The full length veil of filmy tulle cascaded from a coronet of pearls. She carried a bouquet of pink and white carnations, and her only ornament was a necklace worn by her mother on her wedding day. The bride was attended by Miss Leah Randall, sister of the groom, and wore a floor length dress of blue sheer over taffeta, and a floral tiarra. Her bouquet was similar to that of the bride. The groom was attended by Rev. L. K. Baker, of Black's Harbour, N.B. During the signing of the register, the ever beautiful "O Promise Me" was masterfully rendered by Rev. G. R. Bell, of Kemptville, N.S., accompanied by Miss Miller. Following the ceremony, the bridal party and guests were received at the home of the bride. Among out-of-town guests were: Mr. and Mrs. William Randall, Miss Leah Randall, Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Miller and Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Wright, all of Carleton, Yarmouth Co.; Mr. and Mrs. G. W. YOU MUST MAKE A 1942 INCOME TAX RETURN NOT LATER THAN JUNE 30TH

...IF SINGLE and your net income exceeded $66000
...IF MARRIED and your net income exceeded $120000

For incomes not over $3000 get two (2) copies of simplified Form T. 1 Special.
For incomes over $3000 get three (3) copies of Form T. 1 General.

Income Tax dollars are not ordinary dollars . . . they are Victory dollars . . . necessary dollars to help win the war. Income Tax is fair to all. All are taxed in proportion to their ability to pay.

Under the new system introduced this year, Income Tax is now on a pay-as-you-earn basis. The reduction of the 1942 Tax made this possible.

In most cases the larger part of the reduced tax will have been paid by the 1942 tax deductions or instalment payments. One-third of any balance must be paid by 30th June and the remainder on or before 31st December, 1943.

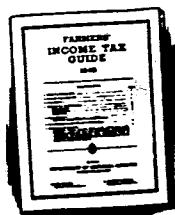

You must file an Income Tax return and pay any balance to establish your right, after the war, to the refund of the Savings Portion of your tax.

If you are a salary or a wage earner, your employer can probably supply you with Income Tax Forms—otherwise, they are available at your local Post Office or the office of your District Inspector of Income Tax.

Over 2,000,000 Canadians will be filing returns and paying taxes . . . avoid the last minute rush. If you wait, illness or other unforeseen circumstances may prevent you from getting your return in on time. Avoid penalties by sending in your return NOW!

FARMERS

You must attach to your return on Form T. 1 Special or Form T. 1 General either a statement of your gross income and expenses, or completed Farmers T. 1 Supplemental. The T. 1 Supplemental itemizes all forms of farm receipts and expenses, and is a guide for determining your actual net income. Forms may be secured from your local Post Office or District Inspector of Income Tax.

To help you fill out your Income Tax forms a booklet ("Farmers' Income Tax Guide, 1942") has been prepared to cover the special conditions which apply to farm operations. It can be obtained free on request from your District Inspector. If you don't know his address, just mail your letter to "District Inspector of Dominion Income Tax."

Invasion Army Stands Ready

Many thousands of the toughest, best equipped fighting men in the world have been massed in the British Isles, tuned to fighting pitch and ready for the day when they will spearhead the allied attack upon the European fortress of Adolf Hitler.

This outfit is known as the combined operations command under the leadership of Lord Louis Mountbatten, an Englishman of proved skill in the fine art of surprise warfare, and it includes men from all three allied fighting services—army, navy and air-force.

It includes battle-tested British and Canadian commandos and American rangers, acting as ground forces; airmen especially trained in the art of bombing and strafing from low level, and naval units versed in landing operations and off-shore combat.

The combined operations command in the key of allied invasion forces aimed at the continent. These fighters are as vital to success of the operation, when it begins, as the scalpel is in surgery.

Allied landings on the soil of Europe are certain to be difficult and most costly in lives and equipment of anything in the kind in history. Success will depend upon establishment of bridge-heads on the coasts in the face of terrific enemy opposition.

The initial landings to open the way for the invasion armies, cannot be haphazard operations. Ordinary contingents of troops cannot be flung on a beach and expected to stick or even to survive. The assignment is tough for even trained specialists.

How many men are included in the combined operations command is necessarily a military secret, but the censors have approved dispatches reporting that there are thousands of them.

Their main business is amphibious warfare, which means invasions small or big, and which calls for intensive schooling in seaborne assault landings. The commandos are purely shock troops. Their job is to storm their way ashore and establish positions which they can hold until the regulars can be landed and take over.

It follows that a commando must be a jack of all war trades. He must be not only a soldier but also a bit of a sailor and must know enough about aerial affairs so he can co-operate with understanding. Most of all he must have guts and stamina.

The commandos have been training for a long time and have quietly been raiding the continental coast from Norway to Spain. These raids have been partly to gain information and wage a war of nerves against the axis and partly to find out by trial and error how to make these attacks successfully.

Several times the commandos have made landings in Norway, destroyed power stations and factories, and taken back to England batches of German prisoners. They also have raided islands in the English channel which are held by the Germans.

Other larger groups have remained in England, training in the grain fields, along the streams, and on the cliffs of that country to familiarize themselves with the tactics that will have to be employed along the shores of the European continent.

The combined operations command has learned some hard lessons, and has suffered casualties, but have gained invaluable experience which will stand them in good stead in the hard days yet to come.

Biggest of all the raids was that against Dieppe, France, where the nazi air force and shore defenses took a staggering toll of the Canadians and Americans who arrived by sea, under escort of the British navy, and remained ashore for half a day.

The Dieppe raid taught one lesson—that the invasion raids must be carried out with the utmost secrecy. German fishing trawlers which spotted the raiders en route to Dieppe sounded the alarm which enabled the Germans to man their defenses at Dieppe so quickly and so successfully.

Commando tactics played a part, even if a minor one, in the allied victory over the axis in North Africa.

Parties landed from the sea constantly harassed the axis armies in their retreat from Egypt to disaster in Northern Tunisia.

The whole African invasion as a matter of fact was on the commando pattern—beach landings by small forces which cleared out opposition and provided cover for the overwhelming forces of the allies which followed them in.

In Africa there was one factor that worked in favor of the allies that is not likely to turn up in Europe. The French did not fight too hard even before being ordered to lay down their arms. The axis will be making its last stand when the attack on Europe begins, and every inch of ground that is captured and held will cost many precious allied lives.

Many commando raids are in prospect during the months to come as the allied pressure on Europe increases. There are openings all the way around the western shores of Europe from Norway to Gibraltar, and thence along Southern Europe to the Balkans.

Numerous raids are likely to be made at the same time—and Hitler will never know which attack is a mere feint, intended to feel out axis strength, and which one is the all-out invasion.

Strategists say the commandos themselves may not know in advance when the real thing comes. It is more likely, these experts point out, that the commandos may make a good landing some day, crush the defenders, and then the powerful armies will stream in as allied commanders decide to press the advantage to the fullest.

That day cannot come too quickly for the commandos. They are ready!

Ancient Palestine Readjusting Itself

Much as they did in the time of David, shepherds still tend their flocks on the hills of Judea and caravans go their leisurely way through desert and valley. The markets of Jaffa and Jerusalem are crowded and colorful as ever, but Palestine knows there's a war just the same.

The picturesque shepherd has been told that he can't slaughter a sheep or goat without government permission.

and caravans move under the watchful eye of the customs, excise and trade department of the British Empire's Commerce Department.

The sudden plunge into stream-lined 1943 economy also requires that Arab and Jewish housewives go to market with point ration books. This must be quite confusing to the women, for, until the British took over following the First World War, the country's way of living had changed but little since biblical times.

Today Palestine enjoys or endures such current innovations as complete price control, meatless days, government arbitration of labor disputes, freezing of manpower in essential industries and government aid to agriculture.

Agricultural subsidies, however, are limited to the citrus industry. Citrus fruit was Palestine's one big money crop before the war, and 80 per cent of it was exported. Now, with export cut off, Palestine's 1,500,000 people can begin to eat all the oranges and grapefruit they grow, not even with a lot of visiting soldiers to help them.

Obviously the number of visitors in uniform isn't being told, but there are certainly enough to aggravate a perennial agricultural problem. Palestine always has had to import a good part of her meat and cereal grains.

Care of Dog In Hot Weather

Wondering how much food to give your dog in hot weather? This depends considerably on the amount of exercise he takes. Usually dogs lie about a good deal in summer because they are affected by the intense heat. Therefore, they do not require as much food.

Dog biscuit is a good hot-weather food. So are cooked vegetables. Very little fresh bread or sloppy foods should be given. Have food in the dog's dish only at meal-time. Give your dog plenty of fresh water in summer. Keep the pan off the ground and see that the water is changed at least twice a day.

Provide a cool shady spot for your pet. If there are no shade trees for him, build a solid fence about four feet high, running north and south. This will create shade for him. Dogs like to lie in holes of their own digging. The cool earth feels good to their hot bodies.

Let your dog froth and slobber. He isn't going mad; just his way of sweating. Bathe him as often as you like in warm weather but keep him out of a draft until he is thoroughly dry. Let him swim on hot sunshiny days as much as he likes.

Don't play ball with your dog or allow other children to do so during the heat of the day. A better time for him to have this exercise will be the cool of the morning or evening.

Brush your dog twice a day and, if you go away to camp this summer, make arrangements for someone to take care of him while you are gone.

War Restricting King's Life

George VI, king of England, has begun the seventh year of his formal reign, restricted to a war-time standard of living below that enjoyed by most Americans.

The king still enjoys bomb-damaged Buckingham Palace most of the time, but war and the nazi luftwaffe have altered drastically this palatial pride of the empire. The royal residence, a low gray stone structure in the heart of London, was hit directly three times during the blitz of London by the Germans.

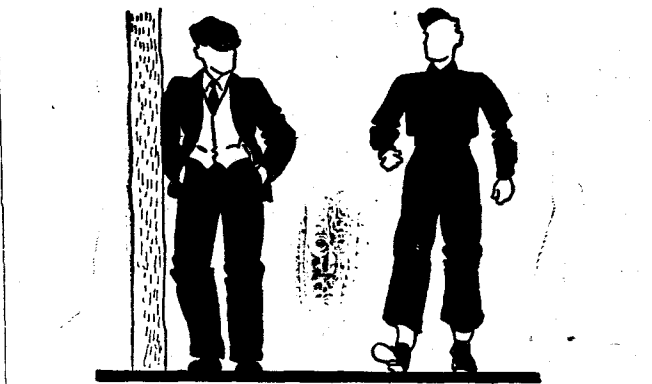

The royal household staff—a number of whom were killed during the blitz—has been reduced 50 per cent to about 75 persons, and many of the palace rooms always remain closed.

Since early in September, 1940, by order of the palace household, Buckingham has been under a regime of strict economy. The king, like others, probably suffers from the little discomforts caused by the rigid saving of hot water fuel and electricity. And the queen and the two princesses practise the same economies as the king.

The king rises early and generally is in his office by 9 a.m., dealing with official papers until lunch time. At least once a week he has lunch with Prime Minister Churchill.

King George, now 47 and in excellent health, gets much of his recreation by walking two miles daily in the palace gardens with the queen. Like most Englishmen, he spends most week-ends in his country place, where his daughters, the attractive Princesses Margaret and Elizabeth, live.

The king occasionally does some shooting in the country, but his shoots are now small-scale affairs. He remains an ardent movie-goer, seeing films each Saturday night.

He still adheres to his code of moderation in personal habits, drinking little and smoking a few cigarettes and occasionally a pipe.

In ancient times pepper was worth its weight in gold. Only the richest men could afford it.

NOVA SCOTIA FARM NEWS

Heading Towards New Chick Record

New records appear to be in the making in chick hatching in Nova Scotia according to reports received from C. M. MacMillan, Halifax, Poultry products Inspector, with every indication that the 1943 hatch will be well over the million mark. Last year a record was made when the hatch totalled 981,155 which was an advance of 129 per cent in a 3-year period. Hatchery reports, at the end of April, showed the number of salable chicks this year to be up 25 per cent when compared with the same period last year.

Mr. MacMillan, discussing the situation, said the demand for chicks was the highest in the history of the industry and that despite the increased production many orders for baby chicks will be unfilled. Nova Scotia hatcheries had been working to capacity since February. Most of them plan to close early in July with the prospects that a few will carry on till August. Hatcheries started earlier this year, than formerly, and are continuing later.

Mortality this year has been lower than last and practically all cockerel chicks are being raised for meat.

With no eggs and hardly any poultry in storage in Canada, and egg production now falling off, there is every prospect of a strong market and an increased demand for both eggs and poultry throughout the summer.

Should Make Common Use of Machinery

Due to the marked backwardness of the season and the increase in farm-labour shortage the need for co-operation in farm work is greater today than ever, stated the Minister of Agriculture, Mr. McDonald. Farmers themselves said Mr. McDonald must work together in every way, possible including the common use of equipment and the exchange of labour whenever it can be done. The good neighborliness of the farmers of this province has meant much in former days and no doubt will prove invaluable in tiding over the present season with its unprecedented perplexities and demands.

Mr. McDonald said the outlook for farm machinery was brighter now than it has been with every indication that there will be ample parts available for next year and an increased number of new machines.

2,092 Votes Cast in Apple Board Elections

The Nova Scotia Apple Marketing Board for 1943-44 has been elected and for the first time the election was by a ballot. Those interested in the co-operative movement will be pleased to learn that approximately 61 per cent of the 2,092 ballots sent out were returned. This was a far higher percentage than was anticipated and considerably beyond the usual percentage of returns from elections of this nature.

District 3, Kentville-Woodville, had no balloting as election there was by acclamation. As there are 329 members of the Fruit Growers' Association in that section the total number of growers represented in the Board stands at 2,421.

Hon. John A. McDonald, Minister of Agriculture, in commenting on the election, expressed himself as agreeably surprised at the size of the vote, and said he sincerely hoped the growers would give the new Board their support but not withhold any constructive criticism. He felt sure the members of the Board would be glad to receive helpful suggestions at any time. While the Board is entirely independent of the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture being elected by the fruit growers and responsible to them and the Federal Government, Mr. McDonald said it had been and would continue to be the aim of the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture to co-operate with the Board in anything and everything that would promote the welfare of the apple industry of this province.

A recently circulated report of the Board shows that the administration expenses for last year, direct and indirect, including extra office expenses due to spot grading work-out, amounted to only 2.7 cents per barrel or a total of $35,227.37. The personnel of the new Board follows: DISTRICT ONE—G. W. Wilson, J. Straw; DISTRICT TWO—A. A. Elderkin, E. D. Haliburton; DISTRICT THREE—R. D. Sutton, W. Eaton; DISTRICT FOUR—W. B. Burgess, E. Leslie; DISTRICT FIVE—D. Petrie, F. Nash; DISTRICT SIX—H. C. Woodbury, F. Banks; DISTRICT SEVEN—E. S. Elliott, R. L. Moore; DISTRICT EIGHT—J. E. Morse, I. Bishop.

Weather Hits at Butter Production

The production of creamery butter, which has been consistently higher this year than it was last, is slumping a bit and it is all due to the weather, according to W. J. Bird, Nova Scotia Dairy Superintendent. Up to April 30, production was up 27 per cent compared with the first four months of 1942. The first week of May this year saw a comparative increase of 20 per cent, the second 24 per cent, the third 8 per cent, while the fourth, with reports incomplete, indicated a decline. Last year, at this time there was good grass with the cows out to pasture about May 24. This year with the season two or three weeks behind the effect is smaller dairy production.

To Pay Subsidy on New Potatoes

With the idea of protecting both producers and consumers the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has announced that a subsidy will be paid on new potatoes. The subsidy will be paid by the Commodity Prices Stabilization Corporation, as directed by the Prices Board and will continue to be paid until August 31 on new potatoes marketed through prescribed channels.

In the case of the Canadian grown product, a domestic subsidy will be paid to any person who buys new potatoes direct from a primary producer or his agent for resale, providing the purchase price does not exceed $3.75 per 100 pounds, f.o.b., original shipping point, when shipped on or before July 31, $3.50 per 100 pounds, when shipped August 1 to August 15 or $3.00 per 100 pounds when shipped August 16 to August 31 inclusive.

The domestic subsidy paid through the wholesaler will be the difference between his laid-down cost in carload lots at his distributing point and the lawful wholesale ceiling for new potatoes at that point, as fixed in an amendment to the Board's Order No. 236. When a retailer buys from a primary producer the subsidy will represent the difference between his laid-down cost at his distributing point and the lawful wholesale ceiling in less than carlots at that point.

The order specified that laid-down cost is to include the actual cost of transporting the new potatoes from the original shipping point in Canada to the wholesaler's or retailer's distributing point by common carrier but is not to include express charges. Transportation charges will not be recognized for potatoes grown within 15 miles of the consuming centre, and the minimum quantity of new potatoes on which subsidy will be paid is 75 pounds.

The Board has decreed that effective June 7, prices of new potatoes must not exceed the lawful ceiling prices for Canada No. 1 Grade old potatoes, because of the current acute shortage of potatoes which is not likely to be relieved until this year's crop is harvested. The subsidy is provided to make the reduced price for new potatoes effective.

FAT IS AMMUNITION!

Fat and bone conservation begins at home and ends in the firing line

- DO YOU KNOW -

One pound of fat supplies enough glycerine to fire 150 bullets from a Bren gun.

Two pounds of fat will fire a burst of 20 cannon shells from a Spitfire or 10 anti-aircraft shells.

Bones produce fat and aircraft glue.

If we saved fat at the rate of one ounce per person per week this would mean 36,000,000 pounds per year, enough to produce 3,600,000 pounds of glycerine for explosives.

OUR FIGHTERS DEPEND ON YOU

"Every householder who delivers to a retail butcher, collector, or Salvage Committee, any rendered or unrendered fats or bones shall be entitled to receive from the person to whom they are delivered 4 cents per pound net weight for rendered fats, and 1 cent per pound for unrendered fats."

The above paragraph is a direct quotation from Order A-642 of The Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

"Rendered fat" means fat melted down and strained to remove solid matter. It includes drippings and strained pan grease resulting from the cooking of meat.

"Unrendered fat" means raw or partially cooked fat free from lean meat and bone, but not fully rendered.

"Bones" means raw or cooked bones of cattle, sheep and hogs.

GRAVEL ROADS. CALCIUM CHLORIDE-TREATED. LIKE THIS...

..COST NO MORE THAN DUSTY, UNTREATED ROADS. LIKE THIS!...

Tires Last Longer on Smooth Surfaces

The abrasive action of loose gravel on rubber tires causes as much as 47 percent greater wear than on paved or stabilized surfaces. Sidewalls take almost as much punishment as the treads. Smooth, tightly-bound consolidated surfaces are easy on tires. Sidewalls are not exposed to abrasion.

ON thousands of miles of Canadian roads the dust problem has been solved simply and easily with Calcium Chloride. Roadside crops have been saved from dust damage; housework in rural roadside homes has been lightened... and at no greater cost than would be needed for ordinary maintenance of untreated surfaces. The Calcium Chloride pays for itself by cutting down regravelling and dragging—saves both labour and materials... so the improvement in the road surface is actually an extra advantage that costs nothing.

Highway officials are turning to the Calcium Chloride maintenance method in order to conserve labour and funds for essential wartime work; yet they are improving roads and making life healthier and more comfortable for farmers and rural residents at the same time.

Calcium Chloride is made entirely in Canada.

COMING--HANK, THE YODELLING RANGER--COMING

Raise "Normandie"

Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox said that salvage operations are progressing "very well" on the 83,000 ton former French liner Normandie, which burned and capsized at her New York pier more than a year ago, and that the vessel should be righted by midsummer.

The extent of the work which will then remain to be done, will be determined by the purpose for which the ship ultimately will be used. He intimated that the giant liner, now named the Lafayette, may be righted by mid-July.

Slow to learn retains its knowledge well.

ACADEMY ACTIVITIES

The High School Graduation Dance (invitation) will be held this evening.

All parents and those interested in the school, are asked to attend the High School Graduation exercises in Community Hall, at 8 p.m., tomorrow evening.

On Tuesday evening, June 22, the Household Economic and Manual Training classes will give an exhibition of their work. The display will be held in Community Hall at 8 p.m.

The Common School Closing will take place in Capitol Theatre, Tuesday morning, June 29.

The pupils of Grades IX and X are writing their final examinations this week.

The High School picnic was held at Porter's Lake on Thursday, June 10.

The High School Junior Red Cross held their last meeting on Wednesday, June 9. They have decided to divide the money which they have on hand, between the Greek Relief Fund and the Crippled Children's Fund.

Unable to Give Precision Squad Demonstration

Digby Academy pupils, and upward to one thousand others, waited near the station on Thursday afternoon last week, to witness the drills of the R.C.A.F. Women's Precision Squad, and to hear the pipes of the "Flying Scotsmen," the only R.C.A.F. pipe band. Due to the late arrival of the afternoon train from Halifax, they were all disappointed.

The squad, in company with the band, were enroute to Saint John, N.B., and during the hour they had in Digby between boat and train, it was the intention to put on a short parade and demonstration. Unfortunately, there was not sufficient time. In addition to the demonstration and drill, a civic reception and inspection was planned.

Nevertheless, the crowd was not altogether disappointed, although they were unable to witness any of the drills of the precision squad, of which they have read so much. After being transferred to the boat where they stood their effects, the squad, headed by the pipe band, marched from the pier to the station square, and returned. In that way people of Digby had at least the opportunity of hearing and seeing the famous pipe band and precision squad.

June Drive Progresses

Many collectors for the V.O. N. June Drive are reporting excellent results, in several instances meeting better success than in '42 which brought the biggest results from the drive than those of any previous year. Not only is the public showing their appreciation of the Order by giving their money, but frequently people pass on words of praise for the splendid service rendered them. One person, on being asked to contribute to the drive, remarked:

"I certainly will, I had the V. O. Nurse attend me for six months and liked her service." Another, when asked the same question, replied, "Sure, I wouldn't be living today if it hadn't been for the V.O.N."

After being greeted with such remarks as these, the collectors go on cheerfully from house to house, feeling confident everyone will do their utmost to support this worthy organization.

Work of repairing the building, formerly occupied by Pyne's Market, which was so badly damaged by fire in the Waverly Hotel fire, commenced this week. We hear it is to be occupied as a restaurant.

Gordon Baxter, L.S.A., R.C. N.V.R., is spending a three weeks' leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Baxter.

Hankinson - Sabine

One of the loveliest outdoor weddings of the season, took place at 8 o'clock, Saturday evening, June 12, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Sabine, Riverdale, when their daughter, Bessie Fullerton, became the bride of Daniel Frederick Hankinson, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. O. Hankinson, of Weymouth. The bride looked charming as she came from the house on the arm of her father, walking beneath the maple trees to the arch decorated with spring flowers. She was attired in a floor-length dress of white sheer brocade over satin, with sweetheart neckline and fitted bodice, the sleeves coming to a point over the wrists. She wore the conventional veil and carried a bouquet of roses and lilies. Her only jewelry was a gold bracelet with sapphire stone, a gift from the groom. The train of her veil was held by little Joan Grant, niece of the groom, who was dressed in a flounced blue organdy. The bridesmaid, Muriel Hankinson, sister of the groom, was lovely in her floor-length gown of Alice Blue chiffon, shirred at the waist. She wore a blue shoulder-length veil and carried a bouquet of roses and carnations. Sgt. Wilfred Cosman supported the groom, and little Frances Sabine, niece of the bride, was flower girl, carrying a basket of white narcissus, and was dressed in pink organdy. Grant Sabine, nephew of the bride who was ring bearer, carried the rings on a white satin cushion, placed on a silver platter. He wore a suit of blue and white broadcloth. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Leonard Sabine, of Island Falls, Maine, an uncle of the bride, and was assisted by Rev. Mr. Briggs, minister of the Reformed Baptist Church, at New Tusket. The double ring ceremony was used. The mother of the bride was dressed in navy sheer with white accessories, and wore a corsage of sweet peas. The groom's mother was also dressed in navy with white accessories, and wore a corsage of sweet peas. Mrs. Kenneth Hankinson played the wedding march. The reception was held immediately after the ceremony, beneath the maple trees. The bride's gift to the groom was a sterling silver identification bracelet. The bridesmaid was presented with a framed photo by "Yates," and the best man with a leather bill-fold. The little train bearer and flower girls' gifts were Indian work baskets, while the ring-bearer was given an Ivory handled penknife, and the organist, a bottle of Petal-tone perfume. Refreshments were served in the house following the reception, to about one hundred guests. The bride, a former school teacher, has been employed for the past year in the office of H. T. Warne Ltd., Digby, while the groom is with the R.C.M.P. in Halifax. Mr. and Mrs. Hankinson left on Sunday for a short trip around the South Shore. Mrs. Hankinson was becomingly attired in a brown suit with tan accessories and wore a red fox neckpiece. Among the many beautiful gifts received by the happy couple were gifts of silver from H. T. Warne Ltd., and the office staff.

Webster - Winchester

A wedding of much interest was solemnized at St. Joseph's Church, Kentville, at 8 o'clock, Mass, Tuesday morning, June 8, when the Reverend Father Brown united in marriage, Gladys Pearl Winchester, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Digby Winchester, Canning, and Sergeant Austin Rae Webster, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Webster, Halifax. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was the picture of girlish loveliness in her floor-length dress of white silk crepe, and silk net veil caught with orange blossoms. Her bouquet was sweet peas, forget-me-nots, lilies of the valley and fern. Attending as

Party Leaders To Be in Digby

On Saturday afternoon Digby will have the opportunity of welcoming Leader Bracken, of the Progressive Conservative party in Canada; Mr. Fraser, leader of the provincial Conservatives, and Mr. Levy, secretary of the provincial executive, who will arrive here from Middleton about 5:15 o'clock, and will address an open-air meeting (if fine) on the grounds in front of the station. Their stay will be limited to half or three-quarters of an hour, as they have an important engagement in Yarmouth that evening. At Middleton they will be guests at a banquet being held in their honor. There will be a large number of people in Digby on Saturday afternoon and it is hoped the visitors will have a cordial reception and a good hearing.

Miss Marion Shreve arrived on Tuesday to spend the summer months.

bridesmaid was Miss Ola Winchester, sister of the bride, who wore a dress of pale blue lace and net, and carried a bouquet of snapdragons and maiden hair fern. The groomsmen were Edmund Winchester, brother of the bride. The double ring service was used. In honor of the occasion the church was beautifully decorated with a variety of early summer flowers. The ceremony was followed by a wedding breakfast at the home of the bride's parents, after which the young couple left on a trip to Saint John, N.B., and other points of interest. The bride travelled in a dove blue dress, with hat and accessories to match. On their return they will go by plane to Newfoundland, where the groom is stationed. The bride is a graduate of Kings County Academy, Kentville, and has been on the staff of the Canning branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia for nearly two years. Prior to her marriage she was entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Reginald Roop. The groom is a graduate of Canning High School and Mack Business College, Kentville, having been in his Majesty's Service for more than three years.

OBITUARY

Thomas Lee Goldsmith

Thomas Lee Goldsmith, of Annapolis Royal, died suddenly Friday evening, June 4, at the home of Allister Freeman. He had been in very good health up to the time of his death, which came as a severe shock to all. He was born at Perotte seventy-two years ago. His wife, Catherine, passed away six years ago. He is survived by two daughters, Miss Elsie, of Halifax, and Mrs. Gordon Rice, Lake La Rose; three grandchildren, and one sister, Miss Mary, of Digby; six brothers: Wallace, of Perotte; Oliver, of Annapolis; Stewart, of Hill Grove; Hugh and Ben, of Bridgetown; and Gordon, of Canning. Funeral service was held Sunday at the United Church at Perotte, and was conducted by Rev. Dr. Hemmeon.

Cheaper to Get Passport

(The Yarmouth Light)

Many Canadians wishing to visit the United States are finding it is cheaper to get a passport for $3 than it is to get a border crossing identification card for nothing and accordingly the demand for passports is again up to 1100 a week, a passport official stated last week at Ottawa. When Canadians were informed by Washington late in February, they would be able to cross the border on these identification cards, the applications for passports dropped to around 200 a week. However to get an identification card the applicant has to present himself or herself personally to a U.S. Consular Office and there are only 19 in Canada. For example, there is none between Yarmouth and Halifax or Saint John, or between Ottawa and Toronto, and it is cheaper for a person wishing to cross the border from any of the towns in between to mail in an application for a passport with $3 than it is to travel to these offices in between to see a U.S. Consul, with the resultant overnight stay, as for instance at Saint John.

Rebekahs Hold District Meeting

On Monday, June 14, the annual district meeting of the Rebekah Lodge was held at the Oddfellows Hall, Digby.

Afternoon and evening sessions were held. In the afternoon Zelma Rebekah Lodge opened the meeting and then surrendered their offices to the president of the district, Mrs. Gilliat, of Annapolis Lodge, and her officers. The evening session was in charge of the Zelma Lodge with the N.G., Beulah Ramsay, presiding. Demonstrations were presented in the afternoon by Bridgetown and Digby ladies and a Memorial Service in the evening, presented also by the Digby Lodge.

About fifty visiting Rebekahs were present, representing Lawrencetown, Bridgetown, Annapolis Royal, Westport and Weymouth Lodges. Mrs. Rhodenizer, Bridgewater, was the instructress for the meeting. The officers elected for the new year were:

President—Mrs. Annie Lent, Digby.

Vice President—Mrs. Viola Cress, Bear River.

Secretary—Mrs. Mary Woodman, Digby.

Treasurer—Mrs. Marie Dunkley, Weymouth.

A Dance By a Royal Naval Ship

A dance is being held by the Officers and Ship's Company of our English Naval Ship on Thursday, June 24, at the Navy League Hostel by kind permission of Lieutenant F. D. G. Challis, D.S.C., R.N., the Commanding Officer, and the officials of the Digby Navy League.

This dance is being organized by our officers and men so that we can meet and get to know the people of Digby and the Canadian Forces here. The idea of combining an Officers' and Ship's Company's dance is a little unusual, although it is an old Royal Naval Custom, the dance being held by the Ship as a whole, and not either by the Wardroom or the Messdecks.

In peace time a dance like this would be strictly formal for the officers attending, and for the ladies, but the days of Tuxedos and Mess Jackets are past, so dress will be informal. (Those stiff shirts were the heck of a nuisance anyhow!)

We hope as many of you as possible in Digby will attend, as well as the Services stationed here, both Officers and Men and Women, with their wives and friends.

Here's hoping the weather will be fine!

E. F. Hankinson Weymouth, Dead

The community of Weymouth was saddened on Friday morning by the death of one of its most prominent men, Elijah Franklin Hankinson, age fifty-eight. Mr. Hankinson had been ill for the past few months and had just returned from the V. G. Hospital, Halifax.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hankinson, of Weymouth, and had lived in that town all his life, taking an active part in the community. He had been employed by the LeBlanc Shipbuilding Company during the past year.

Mr. Hankinson was municipal councillor for District 22 and was also chief A. R. P. warden for the same district.

He leaves to mourn their loss, his wife, Mrs. Kathryn Hankinson; three children by his first wife (the late Eunice Hankinson): Jack, St. John's, Newfoundland; Mary, (Mrs. Ted Woodman), and Rae, (Mrs. Baden Powell), of Digby; also a sister, Hattie (Mrs. MacLean), of Pictou, and two brothers, Fredrick and George, of Weymouth.

Rev. R. H. H. Barker, of Heartz Memorial Church, conducted the funeral service Sunday at 2:30 p.m., from the home. Interment was in the Riverside Baptist Cemetery at Weymouth North.

Miss Maude Hall Visits Digby

A special meeting of the Board of the Digby Branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses was held in the Court House, Monday afternoon, in order to give members of the Board an opportunity of hearing and meeting Miss Maude Hall, acting chief superintendent of the Order for Canada.

Miss Hall, in looking up statistics for the local branch noted that 64 per cent of the families served by the Victorian Order in Digby, were families of those in the armed services, and it was almost certain this percentage would continue to rise. No figures were available to check the percentage served in the families of war workers.

The children of these families are also being cared for in the school nursing program and well baby clinics conducted by the local branch of the Order. Miss Hall remarked on the extremely broad program carried out in Digby, stating that the school service and well baby clinics were frequently conducted by the Departments of Public Health.

"In these days, with the problem of scarcity in dental, medical and nursing professions, the Victorian Order Nurse can play a big part in solving these problems by using nurse power to the best advantage to the greatest number of people who would otherwise be without nursing care in these times of scarcity."

"In changing times methods have to be changed, even to the rationing of nursing services according to necessity, and to spread to the best advantage to the greatest number of people."

"Then too, in these days, when we must get the most from the food we buy, the V. O. Nurse uses her knowledge of nutrition in the homes she visits, helping to budget food in order to best nourish each particular family," Miss Hall said.

She spoke briefly on the proposed health insurance plan, and also on the way in which the National Victorian Order is meeting the scarcity of nurses and enabling the service to be extended. It was particularly noted that Pictou had recently asked to have a fifth nurse, when a year ago the town was receiving the services of one nurse.

A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Miss Hall for the talk, and while refreshments were served, a more personal contact was made between the members of the committee and the superintendent.

Smith's Cove

Mildred Walker, R.C.A.F. W.D., is spending a short leave with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Soulis.

Mrs. Myrtle Jackson, of Deep Brook, recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Smith.

Guy Adams, R.C.A., spent a short leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Adams.

We wish to correct a slight error in last week's Courier. It was meant to be Atlee Cornwell and not Arthur Cornwell, who is improving from his recent illness at the Nova Scotia Hospital, Dartmouth.

Rossway

Mrs. B. Crowell, of Saint John, arrived on Thursday and has opened her home for the summer months.

Mrs. Waters Comeau spent the week end in Digby, guest of Mrs. Tom Sabean.

Loran Gidney, of Portland, has been spending the past week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gidney. He returned on Saturday.

Bernard Banks arrived home on Saturday after spending the past week in Halifax.

Ira Dugas, of Acaciaville, spent Sunday with friends in this village.

Fred Timpany was in Digby Friday, on business.

"The Shingles" home of Mr.

and Mrs. Winston Mullen, was the scene of a delightful "shower" on Wednesday evening, last week, given in honor of Miss Bessie Sabine, whose marriage to Daniel F. Hankinson, took place at Riverdale, on Saturday. The room was prettily decorated with streamers hung from the ceiling, and an enjoyable evening was spent by friends of the bride elect who came to do her honor. Miss Sabine was pleasantly surprised when she was greeted by these friends as she entered the home to spend the evening. As she entered she was met by little Miss Myrna Mullen, who pinned a lovely corsage on her dress. After an evening of games, a gaily-trimmed basket, filled with many beautiful and useful gifts, was brought into the room. On opening these, Miss Sabine thanked all for their thoughtfulness.

W. E. VanBlarcom and party have returned from their fishing trip to Payson's Meadow. Mr. Van says he had the best luck in forty years; the trout ran large and were full of fight—and they caught all they wanted.

Mrs. Fannie Longmire, of Bridgetown, was in town Monday. Mrs. Alice Smith and Francis Ruddock, Jr., of Annapolis Royal, were also in Digby, Tuesday. They were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. VanBlarcom, Birch Street.

Mrs. John Abramson left for Kentville Tuesday, to attend the wedding of her cousin, Joyce Williams.

"Don" Stairs, of Halifax, was a week end guest at the home of Mrs. P. W. Holdsworth.

Mrs. Owen Irving and two children left on Saturday to spend ten days at Sheffield Mills.

Mrs. Jeannette Dakin, of Sandy Cove, was a guest of Mrs. Guy Morehouse on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Miller, of Bridgetown, are visitors at the home of Albert Warner.

Mrs. Eric Bent and children, of Pictou, are guests of Mrs. Raymond Winchester.

The Baptist Guild met on Tuesday evening with Mrs. Guy Morehouse.

About This and That

As a nation we were more or less shocked to learn that one-fifth of all the food prepared for the army was going into garbage cans. Then we were gratified to learn that army officers, tackling this problem of food waste, have already cut it to a little more than ten per cent, and were confident of halving this figure.

We have no figures on the waste of food in Canadian homes, but this, too, must be considerable. It isn't our national habit to "eat it all up." Yet waste of food in the home is just as reprehensible, just as costly, as waste of food in army camps. As individuals we have no right to look askance, at anyone else's waste unless we ourselves waste not.

One of man's greatest mistakes, repeated too frequently, is taking himself too seriously.

An adage has it: "Truth lies at the bottom of the well." And Will Rogers added: "That's why it's so hard to get it."

The battle of North Africa to the allies was a difficult and costly undertaking, far more so than expected, but it got to several truths.

It proved that the Germans are not supermen, only that they think they are a superior race.

All of which shows that it's one thing to make claims, and another to make claims good.

By all means take care of your automobile. Some day the war will be over and we shall have gasoline again.

Leafy June, and how do you like it? 'Soon will come the long days when you can go a-strollin' in the gloamin', and hardly ever think of the shades of night. Soon there will be five days—June 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22, when the sun will rise and set at precisely the same time.

Foods Preserved By Five Methods

There are five different methods of preserving foods—drying, canning, brining, freezing, and fresh storage.

Canning and fresh storage are perhaps the most practical of all. The use of a pressure canner is recommended as the safest method of canning. The boiling water bath method is safe only for canning fruits and acid vegetables, not for non-acid foods, meat and fish which require a higher temperature for processing than the water bath provides.

Any food canned in a water bath, except the fruits and acid vegetables, should always be boiled ten minutes after the cans have been opened and before the foods are tasted to kill any germs present.

Families that have freezer lockers find this a safe and easy way to preserve many fresh foods, but few families can get this additional freezing or storage space now.

Snap beans, corn, and greens are easily salted if a family has more of these foods than can be conveniently canned. Salting reduces the food value of the vegetables, but is useful in that it can be used to preserve small quantities left over from time to time during the harvest season simply by putting the food in a stone or glass jar with salt or brine as the food accumulates.

Drying is a practical method for preserving large amounts of food, but usually is only supplementary to canning. Home dryers are easily constructed with a series of cloth or wire bottom shelves enclosed in a cabinet, with space at top and bottom for air to circulate, and with a stove, electric light bulbs, or other source of low heat to do the drying. Ovens seldom do a good job of drying food as they do not allow the moist air to escape. All foods to be dried should first be blanched.

To store fresh foods in the cellar or a pit, a temperature between 33 and 40 degrees is best. Vegetables should be left in the garden as late as possible in the fall, before storage, as they remain fresh in the ground. If crops like carrots and cabbage are left in the garden until later, the storage room will also have cooled to a better temperature for holding the foods through the winter without spoilage.

Countries Waging Battle on Disease

Throughout Central America, wherever strategic war materials are being gathered and wherever there are projects vital to the war, the United States and its Latin American allies are waging an unceasing and scientific campaign against disease.

In Guatemala's vast and mysterious Peten, where a road is being cut through the jungle to the rubber tree region, a corps of workers is fighting to banish malaria, to control dysentery and other tropical diseases, and to treat the rubber tappers who have been bitten frequently by deadly snakes.

From Puerto Barrios, on the Gulf of Mexico, to San Jose, on the Pacific coast, these men are fighting to banish disease by eliminating its sources and breeding places. Entire towns have become battlegrounds between the forces of disease and those of local government in co-operation with the health and sanitation division of the Institute of Inner-American Affairs.

Agreements were made and plans laid for the work at the Rio de Janeiro conference of Pan-American foreign ministers in January, 1942. Brig. Gen. George C. Dunham, of the United States Army Medical Corps, was chosen to head the operations.

The first health project was launched in Ecuador and the second in Brazil. Now there is hardly a country in Central or South America that has not collaborated in the campaign of health and sanitation.

Malaria control may consist of a variety of modes of attack. First, the swamps and overhanging foliage are sprayed with oil. For permanent control, engineers eliminate the swamp when possible, constructing deep ditches, lined with concrete, to carry away the polluted water.

The menace of poisonous snakes has been fought by capturing the reptiles and sending them to laboratories in the United States for the extraction of venom and the preparation of anti-venom by scientists.

North Range

H. A. Shortliffe has returned to Halifax after spending a few weeks at his home here.

Mrs. Alfred Bragg left for Sussex, N.B., last week, to join her husband who is stationed there.

Ernest Comeau and Gerald Marshall have enlisted in the R.C.A.F. and are in training at Lachine, Quebec.

Mrs. E. J. Andrews is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Avar Marshall, in Bear River.

Mrs. Annie Cook and granddaughter, Lila, have returned home after spending some time in Waterford. Mrs. George Uhlman accompanied her mother and will remain with her for some time.

Miss Barbara Amero is employed in Digby.

Rev. and Mrs. A. J. Prosser, of Annapolis Royal, and Mrs. Chesley Forsythe, of Bridgetown, were here last Wednesday to attend the funeral of their father, the late Cyrus B. MacNeill.

Mrs. Roy Powell and children, of Freeport, are visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Andrews.

The Junior Red Cross of the school (primary department) held its final meeting of the season on Friday afternoon.

The meeting took the form of an entertainment and was presided over by their president, John E. Andrews. After an interesting summary of the year's work given by the teacher, Mrs. Alice Brittain, the children presented an appropriate program. A very successful year was reported.

Entertain Home Division

The local Sons of Temperance Division entertained a group from Home Division, Smith's Cove, on Tuesday evening, June 8. The program consisted of Temperance readings, singing and games. Refreshments were served at the close of the program.

W.M.S. Elect Officers

The members of the W.M.S. were entertained at the home of their president, Mrs. J. Vian Andrews, on Thursday afternoon and evening, June 3. Five new members joined the Society and as this was their annual meeting, the following officers were appointed for the ensuing year:

President—Mrs. J. Vian Andrews
Vice President—Mrs. Alice Brittain
Secretary—Mrs. Frank Andrews
Treasurer—Mrs. Allen Thomas
Treasurer for Tidings—Mrs. Charles Bragg
Superintendent of Mission Band—Mrs. Milton Bragg
Organist—Miss Lennie MacNeill

Hillsburn

Miss Ola Pellon, teacher, accompanied by the school children, motored to Delap's Cove on Tuesday for a picnic.

Mrs. Garnet Wright, Prince Edward Island, is spending a few days with her father, Austin Halliday. Her mother is a patient in the Annapolis Royal Hospital, suffering with a broken hip.

The infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gregory passed away on Thursday, June 10, and was buried on Friday. Rev. Mr. Hopper, of Granville, conducted the service.

The Baptist Church is having the interior painted by the free will offerings of the people; the young people doing the job.

The Red Cross met at the home of Mrs. Robert Longmire on Thursday evening.

MARRIAGES

Amirault - Robichaud

The wedding took place at St. Mary's Cathedral, June 8, of Isabel Robichaud, daughter of Mrs. Charlie Goddard and the late Mr. Emede Robichaud, of Corberrie, and Leo Amirault, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Amirault, of Saulnierville. Very Reverend C. F. Curran performed the ceremony. The bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin with full length veil, and carried a bouquet of red roses. She was attended by Miss Mary Briand, of Glace Bay, who wore a pink floor-length gown, with pink veil. The bride's brother, Ulysee Robichaud, was best man. After the ceremony, a dinner was held at the Lord Nelson Hotel, for the friends and relatives of the newly married couple. Mr. and Mrs. Amirault will reside in Halifax.

Budd - Dalton

At the Baptist parsonage, Rev. Carl MacNight, pastor of the Baptist Church at Port Maitland, Yarmouth Co., united in marriage Miss Esther Ruth Dalton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. K. Dalton, of Springdale, Yarmouth Co., and Corporal James H. Budd, of the R.C.A.F. Centre Police, Yarmouth, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Budd, of Sea Brook. Only relatives of the couple attended the ceremony. Later they left on a trip to Halifax, accompanied by his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald E. Budd.

Centreville

Mrs. Otis Stark and two children, of Digby, have been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. Robichaud.

Alton Graham returned to Saint John last Wednesday, after having spent a week with his family at Lake Midway.

CALCIUM CHLORIDE TREATMENT
MAKES GRAVEL ROADS SMOOTH, DUSTLESS, LIKE THIS...

BUT COSTS NO MORE THAN MAINTENANCE OF A SURFACE, LIKE THIS

Tires Last Longer on Smooth Surfaces

The abrasive action of loose gravel on rubber tires causes as much as 47 percent greater wear than on paved or stabilized surfaces. Sidewalls take almost as much punishment as the treads. Smooth, tightly-bound consolidated surfaces are easy on tires. Sidewalls are not exposed to abrasion.

IN THESE times, when every available dollar is needed for a national war effort, highway officials are turning more to Calcium Chloride for maintenance of gravel roads.

Labour is limited and materials are costly. Both must be conserved. Calcium Chloride saves both and so pays for itself while it actually consolidates and improves gravel road surfaces—keeps them smooth and dustless.

So, wherever Calcium Chloride is used for maintenance, costly dust damage to roadside crops is ended, driving on farm-to-market roads becomes safer, easier, more comfortable; and housework in nearby homes is lightened.

That's the contribution Calcium Chloride maintenance makes to the welfare of rural communities... without extra cost.

Calcium Chloride is made entirely in Canada.

Dear Sir,
Thank you for your letter of 22 Dec, received today. I had the 1st Greek Brigade serving in my Army at Alamein, in the Battle of Egypt, and they did magnificently. They are 1st Class Troops and I must admit better men.

Yrs. sincerely,
B. L. Montgomery
General

Alongside the British at El Alamein and further west in North Africa, the Greek Brigade known as "The Immortals" has won fame; and, in the letter reproduced above, General Bernard Montgomery, of the Eighth Army, pays his tribute to men of Greece who "did magnificently". More than a thousand Greeks have offered themselves for service as pilots and ground crews in Africa. Hundreds of Greeks have been manning a huge British tank repair plant somewhere in Egypt.

In the Mediterranean, largely thanks to the British, who have supplied some of their latest ships, the Greek Navy fights again. And on the high seas, in many a United Nations convoy, what is left of the once-great Greek merchant marine is helping to carry the tools. Barely a hundred Greek freighters remain afloat; and with those sunk have gone almost 2,500 Greek seamen.

Canadians, too, have been aiding Greece to rise again, by feeding millions of those starving under the axis. The Greek War Relief Fund now needs $500,000 to continue sending food and medicines for another year. All supplies are bought through the Canadian Red Cross; all supplies are distributed in Greece through the International Red Cross. Between June 7 and June 26, the Fund will hold a campaign for $500,000. Canadians are asked to act voluntarily and to send their contributions to the local headquarters or to any branch of the Royal Bank of Canada.

Prime Minister Mackenzie King, in reply to a question from Mr. Pouliot, informed the House of Commons that the terms "British Empire" and "British Commonwealth" are used interchangeably. This is in keeping with Prime Minister Churchill's expressed view—"British Empire, British Commonwealth, if you will, I accept either." It is what the British nations stand for that counts. They are united as never before in the fight for human liberty.

Private Donald Duck

Pte. Donald Duck, 18, of Port Elgin, Ontario, now training with a Canadian Armoured Corps formation, is soldiers' choice to eventually carry off "best-known" soldier honors.

Namesake of the famous Walt Disney character recently completed his basic training at a Chatham, Ont., Army centre and is now stationed at an Armoured Corps training establishment.

Duck is a son of a jeweller, and was a baker before enlisting in the Active Army last March.

Scrape potatoes instead of paring them to preserve important food properties directly under the skin.

Kitchen Knives in Use Today Require Care

The kitchen knives in use today should be given careful attention so that they will last indefinitely. A knife in the kitchen should be used only for cutting foods. Cutting paper, string, metal or bone will dull the knife more quickly than anything else. Knives also should not be used to pry off covers, or for repair work around the house.

The best way to cause a bent point and nicked edges is to allow knives to bang against other metals or hardware. A knife rack, or protective sheaths will keep them in good order, and help avoid injuries.

Knives should be washed as soon as possible after using. They should not be thrown in the bottom of the dishpan, or allowed to stand in water for any length of time. To avoid serious staining a little scouring powder on the blades will work wonders.

The edges of knives may be kept sharp with a small sharpening steel. Do not try to sharpen them on the edges of a stove or window ledge as this roughens and destroys the cutting edge. If blades become really dull, the only solution is to hand them over to be sharpened by a professional. A knife should never be held over a flame as this will destroy the temper of the steel.

Teachers Urged to Do Farm Work

C. D. Knowlton, manager of the local Employment and Selective Service Office, states that he has received special instructions originating with Arthur MacNamara, Director of National Selective Service, that special efforts must be made to absorb school teachers into farming or other essential work during the summer holidays.

"Honorable Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labour, recently issued an appeal to teachers to engage at farming or other essential work during the summer time," C. D. Knowlton said. "The minister appealed to teachers not to regard the closing of schools this year as a holiday but rather as an opportunity to aid directly in solving Canada's wartime labour problems."

Mr. Knowlton said that the local Employment Office will give special attention to registering teachers, either for work in this district, or for essential work in their home locality or even elsewhere, depending upon where work is available.

It is not the intention of Selective Service, Mr. Knowlton pointed out, to keep teachers away from the special summer courses which they are sometimes required to take. Moreover, it was emphasized that teaching itself is a very high priority occupation, and that the present intention is to get teachers to accept jobs for the summer only, after which they will return to the teaching profession.

Tiddville

Mrs. Chloe Eldridge, of East Ferry, spent a few days with friends here.

Mr. and Mrs. David Frost and daughter, Aida, spent last Sunday with Mrs. Frost's parents, at Freeport.

Lloyd Graham, of Centreville, spent a few days recently in this village, on business.

Mrs. Hazel Clayton, teacher at Centreville, and daughter Helena, spent the week end at "Wayside Cottage".

Sheldon McCullough, of Yarmouth, spent last week end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold McCullough.

Daniel Stanton and daughters, Ellen and Ada, of Boston, arrived home on Saturday of last week, with the remains of Mrs. Stanton. Funeral service was held at the home, Rev. Byron Cobham officiating. Hymns sung were: "The Old Rugged Cross", "Jesus, Lover of My Soul" and "Abide With Me". Interment was in the family lot at Little River.

Dates of Meat Coupons and Expirations

All meat Coupons become valid in rotation on Thursdays of each week. A rule of thumb way of remembering how long your coupons are good is to remember that all coupons becoming valid expire on the end of the month, and all coupons becoming valid in the last half of the month are good until the end of the following month.

Coupon No. 1 is good May 27, No. 2, good June 3, and No. 3, June 10. All expire June 30.

Coupons 4, 5, 6, 7, due in rotation each Thursday following, the last being July 8th, expire July 31st. And so on as successive coupons from the Brown sheet marked "Spare A", become valid. Coupons are issued in pairs, each good for half a week's ration.

Outlandish Icelandic Tree Made of Tin

Despite some poetical reports about man's inability to make a tree, Aviation Chief Metalsmith, Robert Bryant, of Salt Lake City, Utah, is credited by his comrades with having accomplished the feat.

When Bryant arrived in Iceland 17 months ago, he discovered the place barren and treeless. Using salvaged sheets of tin from discarded five-gallon cans, he stamped out a number of palm leaves of his own design. These he riveted to old iron rods which were fixed in turn to discarded iron pipes around which burlap was wrapped.

The result, when liberally sprayed with green paint, was a "palm tree" which made the lads from Florida feel more or less at home whenever they saw it.

Convict Forgets How

Police halted a driver who failed to observe a stop sign in Kansas City, Mo.

"I haven't driven a car for 12 years," he apologized. "I've about forgotten how to operate."

The curious cops wondered why he hadn't driven for so long. They later identified the erring motorist as Edward Lewis, an escaped prisoner.

Stays Longer Than Expected

In 1880 John William MacKlem took a job as office boy with the E. E. duPont de Nemours Company, in Wilmington, Del., expecting to work for a month. He recently retired after 62 years of continuous service.

"WE NOT ONLY HAUL 'EM - WE BUILD 'EM TOO"

ALTHOUGH we, the Canadian railways, are carrying vastly more traffic than at any time in history, we are also building guns and tanks, ships and shells. Our machinery of production hums day and night. Implements of war roll from our plants in steady streams. They're made by the railways... hauled by the railways... the railways of Canada.

Only your railways, ready and capable of meeting the emergency before it occurred, can handle this double "must"... mass transportation and mass war production.

Your railways met a mighty challenge in Canada's period of construction. They are rendering dual service in War's period of destruction. They will be needed more than ever in the reconstruction period of peace. They will meet that challenge, too!

A hint that action may be taken to ensure that supplies of used trucks are available to essential industries was contained in a statement by Munitions Minister Howe in the Commons recently. "The transfer of used trucks from essential industries, such as farming, mining, lumbering, and general haulage, is causing serious difficulties, and is likely to become critical during the harvesting of the western crops," the Minister said. "This problem is receiving careful attention."

"You have to convince me thoroughly that you have given up liquor. You have to choose between liquor and gasoline. You can't have both," Judge W. H. Sangster, of Windsor, told two men applying for restoration of motor vehicle licenses in County Court at Halifax, last week. Judge Sangster told the two men once a man had lost his license through the improper use of liquor, a judge must be thoroughly certain of complete reform before giving him "another chance behind the wheel of a vehicle that can kill or maim human beings."

Little Darrell Handspiker spent the past week with his aunt, Mrs. Digby Baxter.

Pte. Robert E. Bowe, of Kingston, Ont., is spending a furlough at his home in Roxville.

After spending the past sixteen years at Daytona Beach, Florida, Rev. Dr. G. W. F. Glendenning and Mrs. Glendenning have arrived at Amherst to spend some time with their daughter, Mrs. Richard J. Lawrence. Dr. Glendenning is a former pastor of Grace United Church.

With black flies on the loose and mosquitoes singing, the Wartime Prices and Trade Board announces that an additional 221 tons of protective wire screening may be made during the next twelve months. This is permitted by an order of H. H. Foreman, Administrator of Fabricated Steel and Non-Ferrous Metals. Types and the widths to be manufactured remain the same as outlined in previous orders.

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board is urging farmers to take hardware from worn out harness which is often found suitable for reuse to the saddlery dealers when asking for replacement. Many of the pieces are in short supply because of the need for the material contained in them for war use. Often if usable parts of the harness are taken to the dealer, repairs can be effected and much of this hardware put back into service.

Mrs. William Morine left on Monday for Truro to attend the closing of the Normal College, from which her daughter, Miss Elinor Morine, will graduate.

Miss Alice Frude is in Bridgetown this week, attending the United Baptist Association which is in session, beginning Wednesday afternoon and concluding Friday afternoon.

Miss Margaret Milbury is clerking in the Bear River Trading Company, during the absence of Miss Emma VanBuskirk, who left on Wednesday for Toronto to visit her sister, Mrs. LeRoy VanBuskirk.

Lieut.-Colonel J. L. B. Roop arrived in Bear River on Saturday last to spend the week end with his family. Lionel is receiving the congratulations of his many friends here on his promotion, now being in charge of all Naval Dental Clinics in the Eastern Command, which includes all the Maritime Provinces and Newfoundland. As his command now covers a very large area, the opportunities of being at home will be spaced rather widely—his headquarters being in Halifax.

Dime Buys Trouble

Believing himself lucky, Eugene W. Taggart, of Toledo, Ohio, saw a dime on the sidewalk at Sturgis, Mich., and reached over to pick it up. Then his spectacles fell off and were shattered on the sidewalk. In attempting to catch them before they hit the walk Taggart lost his balance and fell, spraining an arm and bruising a shoulder. He got the dime.

The way of the transgressor is rationed.

OBITUARY

Marilea Rice

A beloved little girl, aged seven years, Marilea Rice, daughter of Norman Clarke Rice and the late Mrs. Rice (Violet Savary), passed peacefully away at the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, on June 9. Little Marilea was a bright and happy student at Oakdene School, having lived with Mr. and Mrs. Louis Banks since the death of her mother, and had won the affection of all who knew her. She was suddenly stricken with a severe attack of diabetes, and on Sunday was very ill, but responded to treatment, and arrangements were made for her to enter the Hospital in Halifax for further treatment, with the hope that her life might be saved—a hope not to be fulfilled. On Tuesday, accompanied by her father and grandmother, Mrs. Freeman Rice, of Lansdowne, she made the trip and entered the hospital; but treatment was unavailing and she passed away Wednesday morning. The burial service was held Friday afternoon, from the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Banks, who had cared for her so tenderly. The service, conducted by Rev. G. D. Brydon, of the Baptist Church, assisted by Rev. Kenneth Dotson, of the Advent Church, was very impressive. A very large number of friends attended, and beautiful flowers attested to the love she had won in such a few short years. Interment was in Mount Hope Cemetery.

Miss Belle Spurr, who has spent the winter with her sister, Mrs. W. W. Sanford, left on Friday for her home in Newtonville, Mass. She was accompanied on her return by Mrs. Sanford and Miss Helen Potter, who expect to spend a month with friends in Massachusetts.

Pte. Roscoe Merritt is home for a two weeks' furlough. Pte. Glen Merritt was home for the week end.

Dr. Marian Grant, Dean of Women at Acadia University, is visiting Miss Sally McDonald.

Mrs. W. L. Curry has returned from a visit with friends in Halifax.

Mrs. L. Messenger has moved to Deep Brook, where she has bought a home.

Take Care of the Things You Have

To conserve the things you have, the things which are not being manufactured today because all possible American industries are at work on war orders, should be the watchword of every person.

Even though you have plenty of money to buy a new toaster, an iron, a washing machine, or a refrigerator, the appliances which you already have are the latest models you will get for some time to come. More will not be made until the war ends.

Don't over-work electrical appliances. Guard against rust. Follow to the letter the directions that came with each household appliance. Don't leave appliances plugged into electric outlets when they are not in use. Take care of electric cords, and don't try to make repairs to any mechanical household articles.

Take care of the family automobile too—and do not be satisfied merely with reduced driving that results from rationing.

Even clothing, which is not yet rationed and perhaps will not be, should be kept clean and pressed and worn carefully, for the apparel you now use is far better in quality than any you can buy today.

Take care of everything you possess.

Army Receives Second C.P.R. Hospital Car

THE second travelling hospital unit built by the Canadian Pacific Railway to specifications of the Royal Canadian Army Medical Corps, this auxiliary hospital car was turned over by George Stephen, vice-president of traffic, on March 31 at the Windsor Station in Montreal to Col. G. A. Winfield, of Ottawa, deputy director general of medical services (A). Converted from a compartment-observation sleeper, the "Mount Kitchener", the new hospital car was remodelled at Angus Shops in Montreal under the direction of H. R. Naylor, works manager, to specifications drawn by H. B. Bowen, chief of motive power and rolling stock. This picture gives an excellent view of the 14 extremely comfortable double-deck steel beds which will accommodate 28 casualties. In addition the car has toilet and wash rooms, a receiving vestibule with doors wide enough to receive stretchers, a completely equipped dispensary, gas and electric lights and ample locker space for medical supplies. In the inset are shown the Canadian Pacific and Army officials who took part in the actual delivery of the car to the medical services, with those shown in the spacious ward being, left to right: Col. Winfield, Mr. Stephen, Lt.-Col. G. S. Kinney, of Ottawa, assistant quartermaster general (movement control); and Col. R. H. McGibbon, of Montreal, district medical officer.

Canadians May Not Be The First To Strike Europe

Statements made by Colonel Ralston, Defence Minister, in the House of Commons have indicated that units of the Canadian Army may not be the first troops to land when and if a Second Front is opened in Europe.

For some time Canadian troops in England have been referred to as "the dagger pointing at the heart of Berlin" and "the Spearhead of the invasion," leading many to believe that the Canadians would be the first to land in Europe.

Colonel Ralston, however, in replying to Captain G. S. White (Prog. Con. Hastings - Peterborough) in the House, gave the impression that in second front operations initial landings would be affected by troops other than Canadians, while the Canadians would follow close behind in the attacking waves.

Canadian Railman Reports British Outlook Brighter

"A brighter outlook on life, coupled with a philosophical acceptance of the daily round of troubles and inconveniences have become characteristics of the British people generally," said D. M. Johnson, recently returned to Canada from London where he had been stationed for sixteen years as European Colonization Manager for the Canadian National Railways.

Members of the British staff of the Canadian National Railways for some time past have been engaged in governmental duties relating to the war, and that, together with his experiences as an air raid warden, provided Mr. Johnson with wide opportunity for observation. Mr. Johnson is a Canadian by birth.

"Canadians who know pre-war England only would be greatly surprised at the change in the attitude of the people there," said Mr. Johnson. "The former reserve has gone and individuals are accepted for their abilities without regard to social standing."

Grousing is seldom heard, according to Mr. Johnson, because the majority of individuals are glad to be alive on any particular day, and their immediate concern is with the fundamentals of food and shelter. "Food is the serious and important topic of conversation," Mr. Johnson explained.

"Rationing is a tremendous problem over there but vegetables have been available on fair scale, the farm supplies supplemented by the numerous victory gardens developed by individuals in allotments and in whatever space will carry growth. English cooks, throwing tradition to the four winds, really have become ingenious and resourceful despite their handicaps of having to work in kitchens short of fuel and scant of meat."

Scarcities are numerous, according to Mr. Johnson, and these include oranges once plentiful in England at every season, and now arriving at rare occasions to be distributed only to children. Smokes and matches are scarce and expensive and daily newspapers are available only to readers who are registered customers. Everybody carries parcels because deliveries even from the best of the shops require about three weeks owing to a system of zoning to save petrol and equipment.

Wealth has less meaning. Mr. Johnson recalls finding a lady of an aristocratic family seated in a lounge of the suburban hotel in which he resided. She was mending her stockings. "I have the money to buy stockings," she said, "but money is useless when one has no coupons."

In conclusion Mr. Johnson said, "Despite all their amazing experiences, the people of Great Britain are really cheerful, they are not given to discussing their troubles and they are confident of ultimate and complete victory."

Saved By A Bible

(The following letter from a United States Army lieutenant to his sister in Pennsylvania was posted, in its entirety, on the bulletin board at Patterson Field, Dayton, Ohio.)

Dear Sis: I have escaped death in a way so amazing I am still in a daze. You remember I armed myself with a Bible when I knew I was going over? That Bible is the reason I am still here and able to write this letter. Here is the story:

My buddy and I were sent out on duty in the work I told you before was our job. We had just received information, the most important in weeks. When we were discovered by the enemy I gave my buddy the information we had collected, told him to beat it with it, prepared myself to face them. It was the first time I'd been faced with the necessity of pointing my gun at a man.

My buddy had not obeyed my order. As I reached for my carbine, a shot struck me in the breast and blasted me down. Thinking I was dead, my pal jumped for me, grabbed my carbine and blasted away with both guns.

He was amazed when I rolled over and tried to get up. The force of the bullet had stunned me. Dazedly, I wondered why. I pulled that little Bible out of my pocket and in utter muteness looked at the ugly hole in the cover. It had ripped through Genesis, Exodus, Leviticus, Numbers, on through the other books, Samuel, Kings, and kept going. Where do you think it stopped? In the middle of Psalm 91, pointing like a finger at this verse:

"A thousand shall fall at thy side, and ten thousand at thy right hand; but it shall not come nigh thee. Only with thine eyes shall thou behold and see the reward of the wicked."

Sis, when I read that verse it raised me three feet off the ground. In utter humility I said, "Thank you, precious God."

Your loving brother, George. From The Consolidated News, San Diego, Calif.

Mixed Religions

In the House of Representatives of the United States Congress there are 86 Roman Catholics, 72 Methodists, 58 Presbyterians, 50 Baptists, 48 Episcopalians, 16 Lutherans, 15 Disciples, 14 Congregational Christians. Others belong to smaller groups or are not related to the churches. In the Senate, there are 11 Roman Catholics, 21 Methodists, 11 Presbyterians, 10 Baptists, and 7 Congregational Christians. It is said that there are 7 Hebrews listed in the House, but none in the Senate.

Man's Physical And Mental Peak

A man of 38 is in the peak period of his mental powers, but his physical condition has been slowly declining from the high point reached at around 25.

He may still be strong physically but his muscles have probably lost tone, his motor co-ordination is slower, his endocrine glands governing endurance and recuperation have undergone change. He is more likely than a young man to be well established in his trade or profession, have a home and children, to be set in his ways.

In short, he has reached a stage where major readjustments in his life come hard and may produce anything from indigestion to a nervous breakdown. These are generalizations, but the Army has found them to apply with fair consistency.

Looks Different Now

(The Moncton Transcript) It was all good clean fun when Rome announced in 1940 that Italian airmen had been privileged to take part in air raids over London. Now that Italy is getting a larger share of the bombing, it occurs to somebody in Rome that air bombing is murder and that it would be a good idea to execute captured Allied airmen as murderers. If they think that will prevent further attacks, these imitators of the Japanese know as little about Allied airmen as the Japs do.

Even a fool can learn to be wise.

Quantity and Quality of Wool is Up

More wool and better wool is being received this year than last year at the Nova Scotia wool grading stations, according to F. W. Walsh, director of marketing, Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture. The two stations, Truro and Antigonish, opened May 17. In the first four weeks well over 70,000 pounds were received.

Of the slightly more than 40,000 pounds graded up to June 2, approximately 38,000 pounds, or 94.5 per cent, made the top grade, and qualified for the 4-cent a pound bonus being given jointly by the Nova Scotia and the Federal Department of Agriculture. Wool of Military Style brings 35 cents a pound this year, compared with 31 cents last year. Last year's crop graded 85 per cent. Receipts at the Antigonish Station, as of June 2, totalled 26,560 pounds with the excellent showing of 97 per cent in the top grades. The Truro receipts were 13,617 pounds with 90 per cent top grade. The better showing in Antigonish is viewed as a tribute to the greater amount of field work done in the eastern part of the province.

Mr. Walsh, in reviewing the situation, expressed doubts about the high grading continuing and remarked that it largely depends on the care given the sheep. Late shearing gives an opportunity for the sheep to pick up evergreen needles and other foreign matter, resulting in wool that is seedy and burry. Farmers who have followed the oft-repeated recommendations of the Sheep Committee to have shearing done if possible by May 10 find that it is better for the sheep and better for the wool. It is to be hoped that where shearing is not completed that the job will be done without delay and that the wool will be shipped to the grading stations with the least possible delay.

In shipping, tags should be used on the inside and outside of the sack. Tags and paper twine can be had from the collectors or warehouses.

It is expected that this season's receipts will top the 300,000 pound mark. Total receipts for last year were 257,000 pounds.

Seeking More Orderly Marketing of Strawberries

Representatives of strawberry marketing groups and prominent individual growers and shippers of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick met at Amherst Tuesday when a survey was made of the business of last year and plans made for closer co-ordination of the various organizations so as to bring about more orderly marketing. Those present represented the Grand Lake (New Brunswick) Strawberry Marketing Organization; the associations at Memramcook, Masstown, Berwick, Canning, West River, Pictou Co., and individual growers and shippers from Amherst, West Brook, Cumb. Co., and Pictou. These organizations handle about 40,000 crates or approximately 65 per cent of the commercial crop of the two provinces. Reade W. Ferris, Jemseg, N.B., manager of the Grand Lake Association, was chairman, and Maynard Harrison, Fredericton, N.B. Department of Agriculture, secretary. Clarence Fitzrandolph, Bridgetown, Maritime Food Council, and F. W. Walsh, N. S. Director of Marketing, took an active part in the discussion.

Improvements were reported in the quality of the pack and it was decided that every effort should be made to keep up this good work. There was some discussion on varieties and treatment of diseases.

Reports from the two provinces indicated acreage was down due to the labour situation, but that the plants had wintered well and every indication was that with a good growing season the crop would be equal to that of last year.

Is Awarded

Research Scholarship

Albert E. Roland, M.A. (Acadia) in charge of the Department of Botany and Bacteriology at the Nova Scotia Agriculture College, has been offered a research assistantship at the University of Wisconsin, Madison, Wisconsin, to enable him to complete his study of the Flora of Nova Scotia. Mr. Roland, who was doing post-graduate work at Wisconsin during the university year, just concluded, and is now back in Nova Scotia, plans to accept the offer and should receive the degree of Doctor of Philosophy in June, 1944. During his absence, Mrs. Roland, who is a graduate of Acadia University and the Provincial Normal College, will continue as instructor in Botany and Bacteriology at the N.S.A.C.

Hon. John A. McDonald, Minister of Agriculture, in extending Mr. Roland's leave of absence, expressed the belief that the research work to be done on the Flora of Nova Scotia should be a valuable contribution to the province.

Professor N. C. Fasset, Mr. Roland's major professor at Wisconsin, in a letter to Mr. McDonald, stated that these supported by the Wisconsin research scholarships were Alumni Research Foundation and were for the purpose of enabling exceptional students to carry on outstandingly worthwhile projects. "The fact," he continued, "that this is being offered to Mr. Roland is indication that the research committee not only considers him an exceptionally worthwhile student and his project one which will result in a valuable addition to our knowledge, but moreover, that they welcome this opportunity for co-operation with the province of Nova Scotia."

Discusses Care of House Plants

"The Preparation and Care of House Plants," is the title of a decidedly informative circular, No. 32, by N. V. Jankov, Horticultural Division, recently issued by the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture. This, like all other circulars, leaflets and bulletins issued by the Department, is available—free of charge—on application to the Department at Truro or Halifax, or from county agricultural representatives. "Many a time," says Mr. Jankov, "an indoor gardener will regret the loss of a cherished cutting (or 'slip' as it is commonly called) or will find a plant wilting and dying for no apparent reason or will have another which refuses to bloom. There may be one or many reasons for this but one

Royal Canadian Academy and Handicrafts

Armorial Bearings of Canada

For the first time since the Royal Canadian Academy was established, in 1882, space in the Annual Academy Show for 1943 will be allotted to Handicrafts. These will be assembled at Montreal from all over the Dominion by the Canadian Handicrafts Guild for the Guild's own Show, and a selection will be made by an Academy Jury for the Academy's own Show which will be held in October at Quebec and then transferred to Montreal in November. In addition to the usual crafts, special prizes are being offered by the Guild for a Victory Banner, suitable for display in churches and reproducing the Armorial Bearings of Canada in embroidery, applique, painted silk or woven tapestry. At the suggestion of the Academy, a new category has been introduced of Corporate Exhibits which may be submitted by such corporate bodies as ecclesiastical orders, convents and schools of art and handicraft administered under provincial authority and like institutions, the exhibits to be submitted by the head of the institution or school. These corporate exhibits may include designs for craftwork as well as executed works. The Canadian Handicrafts Guild, which has its headquarters in Montreal, was incorporated in 1906 and has branches or affiliated Societies in each of the Provinces of Canada. It was delegated last year by the Interdepartmental Committee of the Federal Government at Ottawa to assemble an Exhibit of Canadian Handicrafts for the Women's International Exposition of Arts and Industries at Madison Square Garden, New York. A number of the craftworkers in Canada have won international recognition, such as Geneva Lent, of Calgary, for her embroidery; Doris le-Cocq of British Columbia, for glazed pottery exhibited at the Royal Academy in London, and Kjeld and Erica Deichmann, potters of Moss Glen, New Brunswick. The Canadian Guild of Potters had an excellent exhibition of the work of its members recently in the Toronto Art Gallery. The Province of Quebec has been a strong supporter of the renaissance in handicraft, and has organized weaving in rural districts so extensively that there are now 60,000 looms and 100,000 spinning wheels in use in that Province.

thing to keep in mind is, that if a seed, cutting or plant has been properly selected and well looked after it will grow and only an accident will kill it." The circular discusses some common troubles and cites correct procedure.

Circular No. 33, "Herbaceous Perennials for the Home Garden", by Mr. Jankov, is also now available for free distribution.

College Dates

Are Announced

Young men and young women who plan to study agriculture will be interested in the announcement made this week by Principal C. Eric Boulden, as regards the opening and closing dates for the 1943-44 courses at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College. Registration for the farm course will be on Tuesday, November 2, with the closing on Thursday 23. The dates for the degree course, are, registration, Wednesday, October 13, closing, Wednesday, April 26.

Any desired information about these courses may be had on application to the Registrar, Nova Scotia Agricultural College, Truro.

Molasses Available for Ensilage

The Federal Feeds Administrator has advised that molasses needed for grass or clover ensilage is now available, and has designated the Crosby Molasses Company, Ltd., Saint John, N.B., to supply all such needs in the Maritime Maritime Provinces.

Premier Appeals to Teachers

A letter signed by Hon. A. S. MacMillan, Premier of Nova Scotia, is being sent to the 3,500 public school teachers of the province asking them to regard the annual summer school recess as an opportunity for doing some useful work and not as a holiday. The teachers are urged to get in touch with the nearest employment bureau. The Premier's letter draws attention to farming as one sphere in which the teachers can perform valuable wartime service.

Hon. John A. McDonald, Minister of Agriculture, in commenting on the Premier's appeal, points out that there is a great deal of cultivation of crops to be done. Owing to the backwardness of the season the farmers have been late with seeding, which means that more cultivation will have to be done. Mr. McDonald said he hoped for good crops, but he added, in order to get them, all available help will have to be used.

Many Apply for Ditching

A record number of applications have been received for ditching work to be done this summer, states Angus Banting, Nova Scotia Agricultural Engineer. The work now planned will keep both of the Department's ditching machines busy all season which means that no more applications can be considered for this year. One ditcher is now working in the Stewiack Valley and in a short while will be moved to the Musquodoboit area. The other machine will very soon be in operation in Annapolis County, and from there work east. The year's program calls for 100,000 feet of ditching.

FOREST ENEMY No. 4 The Man Who Smokes On the Trail

YOU don't know what happens to your lighted matches and cigarette stubs when you smoke on the trail. But Hitler does! Wait until you reach a safe place free from inflammable material. Then, and only then, can you enjoy a smoke without risking a forest fire. So—

- 1—NEVER BURN brush or slash in windy weather. Never burn without a permit and without help handy.
- 2—NEVER SMOKE on the trail. Wait until you stop in a safe place. Be sure matches, cigarette stubs and pipe ashes are COLD.
- 3—BUILD CAMPFIRES only on stream bed or lake shore away from inflammable material. Douse with water until DEAD before leaving.
- 4—KILL any small fires you find. REPORT ALL OTHERS immediately by telephone to nearest Fire Ranger. And show this ad to at least three friends.

Mrs. Daniel Fields, Mrs. Muriel Busher and Ansil Butler, who attended the funeral of their mother, the late Mrs. Martha Butler, returned to the United States on Tuesday.

Dwelling Struck By Lightning

During one of the electrical storms of a fortnight ago, the dwelling of Mrs. Max Jarvis, Weymouth Mills, was completely destroyed by fire believed to have originated from lightning striking the building. The house was unoccupied at the time of the fire, which occurred during the night, since Mrs. Jarvis had taken her four children with her to spend the night with her sister. Mr. Jarvis is serving with the Canadian Army overseas. The building was not insured and the family lost all of their belongings in the blaze, except the clothes they had with them. A sum of money, constituting a saving of two years, which was to be used to purchase a new house was also destroyed.

Piano Recital By Pupils

On Thursday evening, June 8, a piano recital was presented in the Community Theatre by the pupils of the Mount Allison Music Centre, directed by Frances Lent. Mrs. C. F. Granville assisted in the program with a group of songs; and the Rhythm Band, conducted by Stuart Fergusson, also assisted with a few selections. The program was most enjoyable and at its close, certificates and prizes were presented to the following examination candidates: Grade III, Charlotte Thurber, 88 (Honors), and Yvonne Theriault, 71; Grade II, Jean Warner, 85 (Honors); Grade I, Arlene Cosman, 77, and Barbara Wagner, 74. Prizes were presented to Charlotte Thurber and Jean Warner for the highest marks in the recent examinations conducted by the Mount Allison Music Centre. Proceeds from the recital, in aid of the local Red Cross, amounted to $34.25.

A smile will batter down most barriers.

Monthly Red Cross Meeting

The monthly Red Cross meeting was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Rice, on Wednesday afternoon of last week. Reports from the secretary, treasurer, and chair women of the various committees were heard, also reports from the visiting presidents from Southville and Danvers Auxiliaries. Comments of admiration and much applause followed and reading of the Danvers report. This auxiliary consists of only four members, yet the amount of work accomplished would do credit to a fair-sized committee. These women have also raised most of the money to finance the material required for their knitting, sewing and quilting. Praise and appreciation were expressed by the president of the Weymouth Society. At the close of the afternoon refreshments were served by the hostess in honor of the King's birthday being celebrated that day.

Lodge Meeting Held

Olive Branch, Rebekah Lodge, held their regular meeting in the Lodge room on Monday evening. Interesting discussions were held on the business on hand. After the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. H. A. Blackadar, District Deputy President.

Mrs. Joseph Thibault, Mrs. James Comeau and Miss Marie Marthe LeBlanc, of Church Point, were visitors here last week.

Mrs. Anysie Jeddry, of the Meteghan Station post office, last Thursday visited her daughter, Mrs. Wilfred J. Comeau. She was accompanied by another daughter, Mrs. Howard Doucet.

Miss Rosa Robichaud, employed at the Central Telephone Office, Truro, is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. Robichaud.

Pte. Antoine Robichaud, R.C.A.F., after a few days' leave with his parents at Meteghan Centre, returned to his post in Saskatchewan, last week.

Ptes. Alfred Jeddry, R.C.O.C., of Meteghan Station; Dennis L. Comeau, R.C.N.V.R., and Melbourne Saulnier, R.C.R., of Meteghan River, all stationed in Halifax, were visitors at the Royal Hotel Saturday.

The church collection for the first Sunday of June realized $400. It is very good, but we need many more dollars to rebuild what we have lost.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Martha Butler

Friends in the community were shocked at the sudden passing of Mrs. Martha Butler, at her home in Weymouth North, on Monday evening, June 7. She was seventy-eight years of age and the widow of the late Henry Butler, and lived practically all her life in this place. While taking no active part in the affairs of the community, she was highly respected by all who knew her. She leaves to mourn their loss, four sons, Captain Aubrey Butler, of Roxbury, Mass.; Ralph, in Halifax, and Ansil, of the United States; also three daughters, Mrs. Muriel Busher, Boston; Mrs. Daniel Fields, and Mrs. Sydney Westhaver, Halifax. Several grandchildren also survive. Funeral service was held at her home on Friday, Rev. R. H. H. Barker, officiating. Interment was at Riverside Baptist cemetery, Weymouth North.

Graduation Exercises of Digby High School

The graduating classes of Digby Academy ascended the Community Hall platform which was banked with flowers for the occasion, in perfect step to the music played by Mrs. H. A. Nichols.

Avard Franklin, chairman for the classes, gave the address of welcome. Miss Harriet MacKay deserves much commendation on the pleasing manner in which she delivered the Valedictory address. Grace Vincent and Robert Wright, Grade XII students, gave the Class Prophecy and Class Will, respectively.

At the conclusion of this part of the program the graduating classes marched from the platform which was then occupied by members of the School Board, the principal, C. E. Eaton, and the guest speaker C. S. Gordon, M.A., Inspector of Schools for Kings County. H. M. Warne was chairman for this portion of the program.

He paid tribute to A. J. Dillon, who served as chairman and was largely responsible of the board for fifteen years for introducing graduating exercises here.

Mr. Eaton in his report of the year's work stated the enrolment from last June until the present closing had increased from 400 to 485; the enrolment of 106 in Grade I this year was the largest in the history of the school. He lamented the fact so few pupils in Digby, one of the best schools in Nova Scotia, reach high school. Only about 25 per cent of the children starting Grade I go through High School.

In reviewing the work for the year he told of the Boys and Girls' Clubs through which extra activities of the school were conducted, such as Basketball, Indoor Track team, cadet program, etc.

At a dance the High School had earned money for war activities and through proceeds of a tag day uniforms were purchased for senior cadets.

Mr. Eaton thanked the school board for the swings recently provided the younger pupils and commended the teachers for raising money through the sale of sandwiches to buy "teeters."

The High School had given donations towards the Navy League, Russian Fund and the Red Cross. An amount of $4200 was invested in War Saving Stamps and Certificates by the Digby school.

In addressing the graduating classes, C. S. Gordon reminded them they had not an easy time to face but that they needed to be congratulated and envied rather than sympathized with for being able to share the responsibility of the times. He challenged them to get away from the idea that this tangle is the result of another's stupidity but to realize there is a job to be done and there is a part for every Canadian in doing that job and to be ready for whatever may happen in the uncertain future. One thing cannot be neglected is education and training as we learned from the rise of delinquency in the Mother Country when education was neglected in the discord from evacuation. Mr. Gordon further reminded the students not to feel when the war was over that it was not necessary to do more but that the same effort must be put forth in peace as in war.

Mr. Gordon reviewed the steps through which education has passed—traditional, progressive—and now the great trend is along Essential lines—health, citizenship, moral character, etc., as built up by the activity program. The value of the closing exercises in learning to attempt, acquiring poise and personality which are essential was noted by Mr. Gordon.

The rewarding of prizes, honor passes and certificates by different members of the board brought the exercises

An Appeal for Greek Relief

The Editor of the Courier. Sir: I should like to direct the attention of your readers to the urgent need of the Greek War Relief Fund. This Fund has the task of raising throughout the Dominion the sum of $500,000 for the relief of the people of Greece.

Each day hundreds of people in Greece are dying of starvation. These brave people who so courageously resisted the invader are suffering untold agonies and privations. Today in Greece little children hardly more than skeletons fight over garbage cans for a mouthful of food. Skeleton mothers and their starving children stalk the cities, crying, shivering for want of food. Everywhere can be seen abandoned babies and young children. Mothers carry their dead children to the cemetery where they leave them without tears, or bury them surreptitiously so that they can retain the food cards of their dead. Conditions of horror beyond description abound. In a single day on the streets of Athens over 6,000 dead were picked up—victims of starvation!

To help alleviate these conditions the Government of Canada has authorized the Greek War Relief Fund to seek from our people the sum of half a million dollars. This money will be used to buy food, medical and other supplies. Purchases will be made by the Canadian Red Cross. A joint commission composed of representatives of the Swiss, Swedish and Greek Red Cross Societies in collaboration with the International Red Cross will arrange for distribution of these supplies in Greece.

Under the charter of the Fund there will not be any house to house canvass, except business houses which may be approached directly. Subscriptions may be made either to the undersigned, to the Greek War Relief Fund, Halifax, or to the local Branch of the Royal Bank.

I trust that every one of your readers who possibly can, will contribute to the Greek War Relief Fund to the utmost of his ability. The need, particularly among the starving children of Greece, is very great. The Greek nation has put up a noble fight, are still fighting, but they are suffering perhaps more than any other nation the horrors of occupation. They need our help—let us not turn a deaf ear to their plea.

Yours sincerely,
Victor C. Carroza,
Chairman Greek War Relief Fund.

Manzer - Cosman

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Baptist parsonage, Deep Brook, on Monday, June 21, when Rev. T. F. McWilliam united in marriage Avis Belle, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willis W. Cosman, of Weymouth North, to Bernard William Manzer, son of Mrs. Fred L. Manzer and the late Mr. Manzer, of Ashmore. Mrs. Donald Manzer, sister of the bride, acted as bridesmaid and Gunner Laurence W. Cosman, R.C.A., brother of the bride, supported the groom. The bride was becomingly attired in a street length dress of medium blue with matching accessories. The only other attendant was Leading Seaman Russell W. Cosman. The bride and groom are both graduates of the Normal College and the groom is a student in Theology of Acadia University. The groom is at present student pastor of the Barton-Brighton Churches and the happy couple will reside in Barton for the summer months.

for the evening to a close. (The Prize List, Valedictory address, etc., will appear in the next week's issue.)

Trinity Young Folks in Play

A very successful play called "Hillbilly" Sue was presented by the Trinity young people at Trinity Parish Hall on June 11 and 12. At the close of the first showing a bouquet of flowers was presented to the director, Mrs. Anthony.

On Wednesday evening the whole troupe took the show to H. M. C. S. Cornwallis, Deep Brook, for the benefit of the navy. A large audience was in attendance at all performances.

Those taking part in the play and musical novelties were: Francis Woodman, Violet Woodman, Greta Zinck, Kitty Burnham, Ruth Lent, Alleen Winchester, Lillian Theriault, Horace Rindress, Eugene Handspiker and Peter Geis. Music for the novelties was provided by Mrs. Anthony and Miss Ena Robinson.

A portion of the proceeds is to be spent on hymnals for the church choir and another portion is to be donated to the Greek War Relief Fund.

NATIONAL SELECTIVE SERVICE

Important Notice

TO CERTAIN EMPLOYERS AND EMPLOYEES

TO MAKE available for essential employment the services of men in classes already designated as callable for Military Training under National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations, two Orders were issued during May.

It is now illegal for any employer to continue to employ or to engage any man affected by these Orders, except under special permit from National Selective Service. Employees affected must report to the nearest Employment and Selective Service Office, and be available for transfer to more important work.

If you as an employer or as an employee, have not complied with these Orders, do so immediately. Get in touch with the nearest Employment and Selective Service Office either personally or by writing. Further delay will involve penalties. Compliance with the law in wartime is the minimum duty of every citizen.

The age and marital classes of men covered by these Orders are as follows:

- Every man born in any year from 1917 to 1924 (inclusive) who has reached age 19.
- Every man born from 1902 to 1916 (inclusive) who, at July 15th, 1940, was: (i) unmarried; or (ii) divorced or judicially separated; or (iii) a widower without child or children.
- Every man born from 1902 to 1916 (inclusive) who has, since July 15, 1940, become a widower without child or children now living.
- Every man born from 1902 to 1916 (inclusive) who, since July 15, 1940, has been divorced or judicially separated.

Men as described above are covered if in any of these employments:

- (1) Any occupation in or associated with retail stores;
- (2) Taverns or other establishments selling liquor, wine or beer;
- (3) Barber shops and beauty parlours;
- (4) Wholesale florists;
- (5) Gasoline-filling and service stations;
- (6) Retail sale of motor vehicles and accessories;
- (7) Any occupation in or directly associated with entertainment including but not restricted to theatres, film agencies, motion picture companies, clubs, bowling alleys, pool rooms;
- (8) Any occupation in or directly associated with dyeing, cleaning and pressing (not including laundry work); baths; guide service; shoe shining;
- (9) Any occupation in or directly associated with the manufacturing of feathers, plumes and artificial flowers; chewing gum; wine; lace goods; greeting cards; jewelry;
- (10) Any occupation in or directly associated with distilling alcohol for beverage;
- (11) Any occupation in or directly associated with the factory production of statuary and art goods;
- (12) Any occupation in the operation of ice cream parlours and soda fountains;
- (13) Any of the following occupations: bus boys; charmen and cleaners; custom furriers; dancing teachers; dish washers; domestic servant; doormen and starters; elevator operator; greens keepers; grounds keepers; hotel bell boy; porters (other than in railway train service); private chauffeurs; taxi driver; waiter.

If in doubt as to the application of these orders, consult the nearest Employment and Selective Service Office. But once again; if you have not already complied, do so without further delay.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Joseph F. Merritt

The death of Mrs. Georgia J. M. Merritt occurred at her old home, Digby, at the age of eighty-four, after several months illness. She was the widow of Joseph F. Merritt, one of the firm of Merritt Brothers, a well-known business house in the earlier days of Saint John's mercantile life. Her father was the late Hon. Edwin Randolph Oakes, son of the Loyalist Henry Oakes, who owned one of the large Nova Scotia estates at Acadia Valley, near Digby. Mrs. Merritt's grandfather on her mother's side was George Bragg, who was head of the Madras School in its earliest days in Saint John before going into business, and who later built the "Myrtle House" for his home in Digby. When the first railway came to Digby, Mrs. Merritt, then a young lady, wheeled away the first sod to start the construction. Her father was a member of the Dominion Parliament and later a member of the first Legislative Assembly of Nova Scotia. Mrs. Merritt leaves two daughters, Mrs. W. K. Ganong, of Digby, and Mrs. Frank W. Davidson, of Mount Dora, Florida; and four grandchildren. The funeral took place on Tuesday with burial in the family lot in Forest Hill Cemetery.

Mrs. William Walker

Mrs. Marilla Walker, widow of William Walker, passed away on Wednesday afternoon of last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. C. Sollows, at the age of 86 years and 5 months. She had only been in poor health for a short time and death was very sudden. The funeral service was held here in the Baptist Church on Saturday afternoon, Rev. Dr. DeWolfe and Rev. Dr. F.E. Bishop, officiated. The Zelma Rebekah Lodge held the impressive service of the Order. Music was heartily rendered by the choir. There was also a solo by Mrs. Weir, "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer." The hymns sung were, "Abide With Me," and "Shall We Gather at the River." On Sunday afternoon a service was held at the Tiverton Baptist Church, of which she was a member. There was a large attendance as Mrs. Walker had many friends and relatives in that town. A trio by Mrs. Bernard Blackford, Mrs. Egbert Crocker and Mrs. Perry, all of Freeport was rendered. Rev. Dr. Denton Neely, of Nashua, N. H., assisted by Rev. E. C. Eaton, officiated. Mrs. Walker was proprietress of the Walker House, Tiverton, where she spent many pleasant days with friends and the travelling public. The past two years she has made her home with her daughter, Mrs. E. C. Sollows, Digby, and has made many friends here. Her pleasant manner and kindness to everyone all through her life will long be remembered. Mrs. Walker was the daughter of Ansley and Lucinda Powell, of Central Grove. Her husband predeceased her about twenty years, and one son Edward, died about two years ago. Relatives surviving are: one daughter, Mrs. Sollows, of Digby; one son, St. Clair, in Port Maitland; also one brother, Coleman Powell, postmaster, of Central Grove; two grandchildren and six great-grandchildren. The floral offerings were very beautiful. Interment was in Central Grove.

Cyrus B. MacNeill

The death occurred on Monday, June 7, at Annapolis Royal Hospital, following an operation on May 23, of Cyrus B. MacNeill, oldest resident of North Range, at the age of ninety years. He is survived by three sons, Melvin, of South Weymouth, Massachusetts; George, Linden, Mass.; Arthur, of Port Mellon, B.C.; and four daughters, Mrs. A. J. Prosser, Annapolis Royal; Mrs. F. C. Forsyth, Bridgetown; Mrs. Floyd Banks, Seaboard, Hants County, and Lennie, at home, who tenderly cared for her father in his declining years. His wife predeceased him fourteen years ago, also his eldest son, Harry, last November. Funeral services were held Wednesday, June 9, from the North Range Baptist Church, his son-in-law, Rev. A. J. Prosser, officiating. Interment was at North Range.

Lalia P. Card

Mrs. Lalia P. Card, wife of S. Stanley Card, died at her home in Richmond, Mass., recently, of heart disease. She was the daughter of John R. and Margaret A. Tibbets, and was born May 31 in Plympton, Digby County, Richmond had been her home for the past thirteen years. She had lived before then for thirty-five years at the Eastern Point Light, Gloucester, Mass. She was in the Naval Service during the World War No 1 and was a member of Emerson Lane Post No. 132 American Legion, past president of the Auxiliary, past president of the Richmond Townsend Club, Past Noble Grand of the Rebekah Lodge of Gloucester, Mass., a member of Mt. Carmel Chapter, O.E.S., transferred from the Gloucester Chapter, a member of the Baptist Church and Enterprise Grange. Surviving are her husband, S. Stanley Card, of Richmond; two sons, William Bailey, of Lowell, Mass., and Harry Bailey, of Manchester, Conn.; a grandson, Hartley Bailey, overseas; two brothers, Leonard J. Tibbets, of Cahan, and George W. Tibbets, of Osterville, Mass.; two sisters, Mrs. Wallace W. Raymond, of Waterford, N.S., and Mrs. Myra E. Madison, of Asbury Grove, Mass.; several nephews and nieces. Funeral services were held at the Baptist Church, Rev. James MacKillop officiating. The pallbearers were American Legion comrades. The body was taken to Gloucester, Mass., for interment in the Cherry Hill cemetery, where there were military committal services. Members of Emerson Lane Post and Auxiliary, Beulah Rebekah Lodge, Mt. Carmel Chapter, O.E.S.; Richmond Townsend Club, and Ideal Home Corner Club, attended in bodies.

Press Conference at Deep Brook

Representatives of the press from various parts of Canada, gathered at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, Deep Brook, on Tuesday and Wednesday of this week and were officially conducted through the big Naval Base.

H.M.C.S. Cornwallis at Deep Brook, is the Royal Canadian Navy's new training establishment, resulting directly from the Royal Canadian Navy's increased responsibility and commitments in the Battle of the Atlantic. It is one of the largest establishments of its kind in the British Empire and the largest ever built in Canada. Due to wartime urgency it has probably been constructed and put into operation more rapidly than any comparable establishment in Canada during this war. Buildings have been erected in order of urgency, and construction is still in progress.

H.M.C.S. Cornwallis consists of 711 acres of land and will have approximately 100 buildings and will cost approximately $11,000,000. It has some of the most modern and efficient training schools in the world; has its own railway siding, bank and post office. A new railway station has been erected within the grounds to serve it.

The Courier was invited to attend the conference and planned to send representatives both days, but due to pressure of work and the present help situation, it was impossible to get away.

Miss Gwen Titus, of Weymouth North, is spending some time in Halifax.

About This and That

In this era it becomes apparent that there is an acute shortage of trained nurses. For some years it has been required that a girl have at least a high school education to become a nurse. This requirement has hindered many an aspiring girl from realization of her dreams. A period of active duty as a training course would surely bring far greater results in much less time, as well as enabling many more girls to take up the nurses' banner. Let us not underestimate the importance of the other women's groups as they take their places behind the armed forces of our country. However, much more thought should be concentrated on the nurse-training problem. The nurses corps certainly is a most essential part of every armed service.

"Distant relatives" are people who are glad because you haven't enough gas to visit them.

There is nothing new about rationing. It has often been pointed out that each of us has just 24 hours a day; that is rationing of the strictest kind, and covers the priceless possession of time. Yet as we examine history, and even the lives of our friends, we see how much more successful some have been in using the time which fate has rationed to them. It would be a mistake to suppose that rationing eliminates the need for wise buying and careful planning. Some families will find rationing a hardship, while others will thrive on it. Rationing puts us all on an equal footing; from there on the results should depend largely on personal efforts to use our rations wisely, just as the successful person gets the greatest worth from the time which is rationed to us all alike.

"Most people can't stand prosperity," says one student of human nature. Most people don't have to.

It should afford all of us much comfort to know that our boys who are wounded in this war have six more chances of recovery than did those who were wounded in 1914-1918. Not only that, but their chance of leading an active life is much greater, thanks to progress in medical science and the untiring efforts of doctors and nurses serving with the various branches of our armed forces.

For that reason, civilians should not complain of having to do without doctors and nurses. Instead of complaining, we should practise better health methods, try to prevent accidents, and cultivate patience. Were you ever a patient in a hospital? If so, doctors examined you and prescribed medicine, and nurses took care of you. But they did not expect the first dose of medicine to make you well. They exercised patience and encouraged you to do the same.

The newest carburetor is said to give 60 miles on a gallon of gas. Now where do we get a gallon of gas?

Two items appearing in the same issue of a mid-western newspaper provide interesting reading. One of the items was part of a letter received from an air officer on the active front of Guadalcanal, wherein he wrote:

"Some of our fighter pilots are in constant combat for three months at a time. They get so exhausted that they are not capable of human emotions. Lack of sleep, irregular eating, the continuing nervous strain, leaves them nothing but machines. They can't laugh, they can't cry—they can only fight."

Then from another column of the same paper we read: "Two thousand workers on the day shift of a local war plant went on strike today, closing the entire plant, as the result of a dispute involving a score of workmen who asked the company to provide coveralls."

Quite a contrast in these two items. But you can read, so draw your own conclusions.

Censorship is useful not only in hiding information from the enemy, but also in covering up blunders of the various boards and commissioners.

Sufficient Feed Available

Sufficient quantities of western feed wheat, barley and oats can be made available to Nova Scotia farmers if orders are immediately forthcoming, according to advice received by Hon. John A. MacDonald, Nova Scotia Minister of Agriculture, from the Controller at Ottawa.

This is good news, said Mr. MacDonald, and the suggestion that orders be placed immedately should be given a very wide response.

The need for this accentuated by the shortage of labour and unfavorable weather conditions which are going to materially reduce the 1943 crop of grain feeds. Large quantities of Western grain will be required for stock feeding next fall, winter and spring if production of livestock is to be kept at a level to meet present day requirements. These Western grains, said Mr. MacDonald, will be shipped to Nova Scotia under the government freight subsidy plan. This means that the freight charges, with the exception of 50 cents a ton, will be paid by the government, resulting in a saving of $7.40 a ton to central points in the Province and $8.50 to east and west points.

The Minister pointed out that at present grain can be moved from the west by rail whereas last winter a large number of farmers in eastern Canada were unable to secure additional feed required. It cannot be said what transportation conditions will be like next winter but it should be noted that even now under the best of conditions some delays will occur. The word received here is that "between now and next winter it is possible to move sufficient western grains to meet the Eastern situation but to do this the grain must move freely during June, July and August."

Unquestionably, said Mr. McDonald, this means that orders should be placed now and adequate arrangements made for storage.

Because of the present protein shortage it has been suggested that purchases of western grains include a greater volume of the lower grades of wheat as these contain from 14 to 16 per cent protein and on a nutrient basis are among the most economical feeds that can be purchased today.

Vacationing Tips

You wouldn't want a service man to be deprived of a visit home just because you chose to travel at the wrong time, would you? Of course you wouldn't, and here are a few rules to guide you.

Select a destination as near your home as possible for your vacation. Spend the whole vacation in one place and do not take trips by bus or train.

Travel only on Tuesdays, Wednesdays, or Thursdays. Travel on day coaches and take lunch boxes with you. Travel light. Check all heavy luggage.

Do not visit crowded areas. Take only one vacation trip a year, not several short ones.

Buying Pillowcases

Buying pillowcases, like many other things, is a lot more important than it used to be. Mistakes are costly and in a war period, unnecessary expense cannot be tolerated.

It is important that pillowcases fit the pillows for which they are bought. The length doesn't matter so much, but width means everything in the way of comfort. If it is too narrow, the pillowcase will not wear as well, and if too wide, it will wrinkle and look messy.

Pillowcases should be a couple of inches wider than your side and from eight to ten inches longer. The usual pillow measures around one size for pillowcases are 42 and 45 inches.

You will get longer wear by alternating your pillowcases.

Place the freshly laundered ones on the bottom of the stack you regularly use and work from the top down.

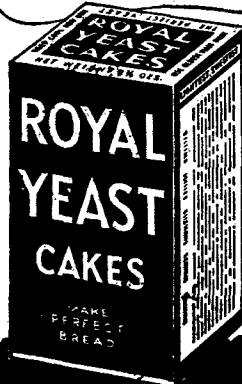

Hemstitching is pretty but does not wear nearly so well as plain stitching. When hemstitching breaks beyond repair, set in narrow inserts, or, if the case is long enough, dispense with the hem altogether and finish the edge with narrow lace or edging.

Human sacrifice, the spilling of human blood, once marked the launching of a ship.

Prevents Ivy Poison

Having poison ivy just at the time the gang is going camping or on a picnic is no fun for any child. Besides, the itching, burning, soreness, swollen eyes, and fever are a trial in themselves.

Caution the children before they go into the fields to play to lather their faces, arms, legs and other exposed areas with brown laundry soap and let it dry on the skin. When they return, have them wash thoroughly with three or four good washes with hot water. This is not only a preventive but a cure for ivy poisoning.

FOREST ENEMY No. 5 The Careless Man With Campfires

HITLER gloats over the consequences of this campfire, carelessly set and just as carelessly neglected. Had the father followed Rule III below, his holiday would have been all the happier knowing that he had done his duty to his country. Do YOURS. Help prevent forest fires.

- 1-NEVER BURN brush or slash in windy weather. Never burn without a permit and without a fire guard.
- 2-NEVER SMOKE on the trail. Wait until you stop in a safe place. Be sure matches, cigarette stubs and pipe ashes are COLD.
- 3-BUILD CAMPFIRES only on stream bed or like shore away from inflammable material. Douse with water until DEAD before leaving.
- 4-KILL any small fire you find. REPORT ALL OTHERS immediately by telephone to nearest Fire Ranger. And show this ad to at least three friends.

51,321 individual shareholders own Canada's Chartered Banks. The average holding is 28 shares. Most of these shareholders are Canadians.

The wide distribution of bank ownership is indicated by the fact that 36,574 individuals, living in all parts of Canada, hold shares in the Chartered Banks of Canada. Of the remaining shareholders, 8,987 live elsewhere in the British Empire.

Some further facts about Canada's Banks:

There are 4,369,740 savings deposit accounts in the Chartered Banks of Canada, averaging $391 each. Safeguarding the funds of depositors is a primary function of commercial banking. Banks keep themselves in such a position that anybody going to the bank to withdraw his savings can get his money. Banks, like any other business, exist because they provide service which a community needs and is willing to pay for at a rate which will yield a reasonable return.

Every day, bank loans are helping Canadians in all walks of life and in all parts of Canada to profit from their individual enterprise and industry.

All Rooms Must Be Registered

Persons letting one or more rooms in the Town of Digby and Annapolis or within five miles of the main highway between these towns must register these rooms and the prices charged for them with the Wartime Prices and Trade Board in Yarmouth and must, in addition, post cards in each rented room showing the registered rates applying to it.

Announcement to this effect is made by Robert L. Stanfield, Regional Rentals Officer, from Halifax. The registration must be completed by July 8, 1943, and the cards posted in the rooms by July 24, 1943.

This represents an extension to this area of the plan which has already gone into effect in Halifax, Sydney, and Shelburne. Percy E. Trask, Local Rentals Officer of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, stated. The registration plan will ensure equitable treatment to all residents in the area. Registration of a room with the Board carries no obligation to continue letting the room. The registration plan will not interfere with a householder's control of his home.

Two kinds of forms are provided for the purposes of registration. One form is for use by persons taking in boarders, roomers, or paying guests; and the other for persons letting housekeeping rooms. They may be obtained at the Post Office in Digby, Annapolis, Smith's Cove, Bear River, Deep Brook, Clementsport, Granville Ferry.

Two copies of the required form should be filled out and mailed to the Board Office in Yarmouth. One of these will be returned as an acknowledgement of registration and with it will be mailed the rate cards for posting in the rooms.

A card may be posted in any place where the occupant will see it, such as on the inside of a closet door. While each room must be registered under a number for purposes of reference, it is not necessary to paint or fasten numerals on the doors or walls.

The rates to be registered must be in line with those prevailing on October 1, 1941. Machinery for quick and informal adjustment of the rates is ready to be set going where the October rates are considered unfair to either landlord or occupant.

The public, and particularly persons concerned, are urged to acquaint themselves with the details of this plan. Mr. Trask said. To help them, an advertisement setting forth details has been prepared and is being displayed in the press. It is urged that all concerned study the advertisement carefully and save it for purposes of reference.

For the purpose of giving information, Mr. Trask will be present at the Town Hall in Digby, on Monday, June 28, and Tuesday, July 6; he will be in Bear River on Tuesday, June 29 and Wednesday, July 7; in Clementsport, on Wednesday, June 30, and on Thursday, July 8; and at the Town Hall in Annapolis on Monday, July 5 and Friday, July 9.

Must Build Up Stock of Butter

Although statistics show that the amount of butter in store in Canada now is more nearly normal than it was at this time last year, it will be absolutely necessary to continue to build up stocks during this summer, if the present ration allowance of butter is to be maintained next winter, declared Kenneth Olive, administrator of dairy products for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

By October 1st, Canada should have at least 60 to 70 million pounds of butter in store, in order to ensure the maintenance of the half pound ration throughout next winter. Mr. Olive emphasized that building up storage stocks of butter in the high production months is a normal practice in the dairy industry.

Plans Presentation Of "Remake Revue" In Nova Scotia

A visitor to Halifax recently was Kate Aitken, supervisor of conservation for the Consumer Branch of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Mrs. Aitken will stage three performances of her "Re-Make Revue" in Nova Scotia over the next few weeks and her visit was for the purpose of organizing these presentations. These revues are fashion shows in which the clothes modelled are all remade from other garments. Suits that have been put away in moth balls, outmoded dresses or shirts frayed at the collars, these are grist for Mrs. Aitken's mill and her purpose is to see these things put back in service so that more fabrics wool, cotton, rayon, etc., are available to the armed services and for industrial workers.

The Revue will be presented in Halifax Tuesday, June 22. It will be presented in Sydney July 2, and in Truro, a version will be presented July 7 under the auspices of the Nova Scotia Federation of Home and School Associations.

A SMOOTH, DUSTLESS SURFACE—LIKE THIS...

COSTS NO MORE THAN A ROUGH, DUSTY SURFACE, LIKE THIS..

"WHAT?" you say, "a road that's smooth and dustless costs no more than a road that's rough and dusty?"

"Certainly!" we answer, "That's what many highway engineers have found by adopting Calcium Chloride treatment. You see, Calcium Chloride absorbs moisture from the air and thus enables the binder soil to hold surface gravel securely in place. This saves the gravel which is otherwise ground up by traffic and blown away as dust. By cutting down gravel replacements and frequent dragging the Calcium Chloride pays for itself."

"So gravel road improvement by the Calcium Chloride method actually costs no more than ordinary maintenance without Calcium Chloride."

When highway engineers adopt this Calcium Chloride maintenance method they not only conserve public funds but also save farmers costly damage to roadside crops, lighten housework in nearby homes and make rural living healthier and far more comfortable.

Calcium Chloride is made entirely in Canada.

MARRIAGES

Lauzon - Syda

A wedding of much interest took place in the beautiful new St. Bernard's Church, at St. Bernard, Digby County, at 9 o'clock Mass, on Monday morning this week, when Rev. Father LeBlanc united in marriage Barbara Maude, younger daughter of Gerald Syda, Digby, and the late Idella (Hayden) Syda and Cpl. Joseph Louis Lauzon, R.C.A.F. Hawkesbury, Ont. The bride looked lovely in a street length dress of aqua blue crepe, with black and white accessories and corsage of carnations, sweet peas and maiden hair fern. She was attended by her sister, Geraldine, who wore a dress of turquoise silk jersey, with white accessories and corsage. The groom was supported by Charles McBride, of Digby. Mrs. Gerald Syda, who, with Mr. McBride, signed the register, was wearing a pink crepe dress with silver fox fur, navy accessories and corsage. Following the ceremony dinner was served in honor of the newly-weds at the bride's home, Digby. Mr. and Mrs. Lauzon left by way of Saint John for a short visit at the groom's home in Ontario. They will reside in Digby where the groom is stationed.

Grainger - Franklin

The Hill Grove Baptist Church, picturesque in blossoms, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on Saturday evening, June 19, at 8 o'clock, when Helen Pearle Franklin, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Franklin, became the bride of Flying Officer Albert Edward Grainger, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Grainger, of Toronto. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. H. T. DeWolfe, of Wolfville. The bride charmingly entered the church on the arm of her father to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, played by Miss Ena Robinson, of Digby. She looked lovely in a floor length gown of white chiffon over taffeta with lace inserts at the waist. Her long veil was arranged in a halo effect. She carried a large arm bouquet of pink and white gladioli, sweet peas and carnations. Misses Doris and Hazel Franklin, sisters of the bride, were bridesmaids, and were most attractive in floor length gowns of pink net and blue lace over taffeta, carrying matching bouquets of carnations and sweet peas. Sgt. James Tupper, R.C.A.D.C., stationed at Deep Brook, was groomsmen. The ushers were Avard Franklin, brother of the bride, and Robin Connell, Digby. During the signing of the register, Miss Edith Morehouse sang "I Love You Truly." The mother of the bride was dressed in rose crepe with black accessories, and wore a corsage of sweet peas. The groom's mother wore a gown of coral glow crepe with matching accessories. Her corsage was lilies and carnations. The bride's gift to her attendants was perfume. The groom's gifts to the best man and ushers were bill folds. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where refreshments were served to some 120 guests by Mrs. Ted Miller, Misses Geraldine Syda, Jean Weir, Lucille Cormack, Evelyn Hayde, N.S.

June Campbell, and Jessie Potter. The guest book was in charge of Miss Betty Knowlton. Mrs. Grainger is a recent graduate of the Toronto General Hospital, and F.O. Grainger is attached to No. 6 F.S.T.S., Dunnville, as instructor. Mr. and Mrs. Grainger left Monday for Saint John proceeding to Toronto by plane. The bride's travelling suit was of turquoise silk jersey with matching hat and beige gabardine top coat. After a few days in Toronto they will reside at Dunnville for the summer months. The happy couple received many valuable and beautiful gifts, testifying to the esteem in which they are held.

Commencing today a new dining car is to be added to the D.A.R. equipment. It will be operated on the trains between Digby and Halifax. It will bear the name "Blomidon." It is up-to-date in every respect and is just out of the Angus Shops, in Montreal.

NOTICE REGARDING BOARDING HOUSES Rooming Houses Rooms Let For Housekeeping

Everyone in the Towns of Digby and Annapolis and within five miles of the main highway between the Towns of Digby and Annapolis who takes in one or more boarders, roomers, lodgers or paying guests, or who lets one or more rooms furnished, partly furnished, or unfurnished, with or without housekeeping privileges, is required:

- to register each room at the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Porter Block, Main Street, Yarmouth, N. S., on or before July 8th, 1943, and
- to post in each room a rate card issued by the Board, showing the registered rate for each room. Anyone who lets or continues to let any room or suite of rooms within the area after July 24, 1943, is liable to prosecution unless a rate card is posted in each room.

REGISTRATION FORMS

Two kinds are provided:

Form R.C.34—For registering rooms occupied by boarders, roomers, lodgers or paying guests who pay so much per person.

Form R.C.35—For registering rooms occupied by housekeepers who pay a flat rate for the rooms rather than so much per person.

You may need to use both forms to properly register all your rooms.

ACCOMMODATION WHICH NEED NOT BE REGISTERED

- Any place of dwelling where the occupant is not obliged to share with any other person the use of a bathroom, bath, kitchen, kitchen sink, toilet, water-closet or similar convenience.
- Any living or sleeping room shared with the landlord, his spouse, child or dependent, or with any person habitually residing with the landlord as a member of his family, or with any employee of the landlord's household.
- Rooms in hotels.
- Rooms used for combined business and dwelling purposes, provided they are let to the same person under one agreement.
- Rooms in educational and charitable institutions; and rooms in incorporated non-profit clubs, provided the room is occupied by members of the club exclusively.

HOW TO OBTAIN REGISTRATION FORMS

The forms are available free of charge at all Post Offices in the area.

COMPLETION AND FILING OF REGISTRATION FORMS

Fill out two copies of the required form or forms and mail or deliver both copies to the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Porter Block, Main Street, Yarmouth, N. S., on or before July 8th, 1943.

NUMBERING OF ROOMS

Each room which is let must be given a number. Once given this number shall not be changed. If any room is let along with another room, give each room a different number. It is not necessary to mark the numbers on the walls or other parts of the room.

RATES MUST NOT EXCEED LEVELS OF OCTOBER 11, 1941

The rates registered must be no higher than those charged on October 11, 1941.

PROOF OF REGISTRATION

Board Officers will mark an acknowledgement of receipt on one copy of each form and return it to the Registrant who should keep it as proof that he has registered his rates.

Rentals Administration

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board

Save this advertisement for reference.

POSTING OF RATES

Board Officers will fill in a Room Rate Card for each room registered and will issue this card to the Registrant. These cards should be posted immediately on receipt.

ROOMS LET FOR THE FIRST TIME AFTER JUNE 24TH, 1943

These rooms must be registered within four days of first being let.

CHANGES IN NUMBER OF OCCUPANTS IN ROOM AFTER REGISTRATION

If the rates for a room are so much per person, the Rate Card must show a rate for the number of persons currently occupying each room. For example, if the Rate Card shows a rate for one person and the room is subsequently occupied by two persons, the landlord must register a rate for two persons within four days of the two persons going in. If subsequently the room is occupied by one person only, no registration is necessary, because there is already a registered rate for one occupant. If a room is registered at a flat rate, changes in the number of occupants need not be registered.

HOW REGISTERED RATES MAY BE CHANGED

- Any boarder, paying guest, roomer, lodger, or other occupant of a room or rooms who considers that the registered posted rate in the room he occupies is higher than the rate prevailing in the area on October 11, 1941, for similar accommodation and services, may apply to the Local Examiner, The Wartime Prices and Trade Board, Porter Block, Main Street, Yarmouth, for a reduction in such registered rate.

Application forms for this purpose may be obtained at the Board Office, Porter Block, Main Street, Yarmouth, N. S. (2) Any registrant who considers that the rate he has registered for any room or rooms, either PER PERSON or PER ROOM, is lower than the rates prevailing in the area on October 11th, 1941 for similar accommodation and services, may apply to the Local Examiner in the Porter Block, Main Street, Yarmouth, N. S. for an increase in such registered rate. Application forms for this purpose may be obtained at the Board Office, Porter Block, Main Street, Yarmouth.

OTHER CHANGES IN REGISTERED RATES

Rates may be changed because of a change in the number of persons occupying any room, if the rates are per person rates.

RATES WILL BE CONTROLLED

The Local Examiner may at his discretion change any rate which in his opinion is higher or lower than the rate in effect in the area for similar accommodation and services on October 11, 1941.

Technicality Can Cancel Citizenship

How to lose U.S. citizenship in a hurry: Vote in a Canadian election—municipal, provincial or federal.

According to reports, a number of Americans have recently found this out, too late.

Returning home after temporary residence in Canada, they have been asked by U.S. consular officials whether they voted or took any part in any election while on this side of the border.

An affirmative answer has placed them in the category of aliens, so far as the United States is concerned. Like other aliens they have then had to go through the process of applying for admission, as well as for citizenship.

This complication stems from the U.S. Nationality Act of 1940, which went into effect in January, 1941, and made "participating" in a "political election" in any other country than the United States a cause for loss of citizenship.

Most frequently embarrassed are those who own property in Canada and inadvertently vote in municipal elections.

Actually, it appears they should not be permitted to vote by Canadian officials anyway, since two primary requirements on this side of the border are that a voter be at least 21 years old and a British subject. The Financial Post is told that the law of all provinces, with the exception of Saskatchewan, specify that a voter must be a British subject.

Taking an oath of allegiance in another country is another way an American may lose his citizenship. Before Pearl Harbour many young Americans came to Canada to enlist in the Royal Canadian Air Force. Arrangements were made to waive the oath of allegiance in their case, so they could retain U.S. citizenship.

The main way in which a Canadian forfeits Canadian citizenship is by becoming a citizen of another country, or, in the case of minor children of parents who become naturalized in the United States, by the naturalization of their parents.

In the last case, loss of Canadian citizenship is not final. A minor who accompanies his father to the United States, where the latter becomes naturalized, acquires U.S. citizenship, but can make a final choice of which country he desires to serve as a citizen on reaching the age of 21 years.

A Canadian woman, who marries a U.S. citizen and does not become naturalized, retains her British citizenship.

On the other hand, an American woman who marries a Canadian automatically becomes a British subject, but also retains her U.S. citizenship, the result of certain peculiarities of the laws of the two countries. Thus it is possible to have citizenship in more than one country.

Two of Canada's best-known expatriates, Lord Beaverbrook, and Viscount Bennett, remain Canadian citizens as long as they live because they were born in Canada but have lost their right to be called Canadian nationals, can no longer travel on Canadian passports. Yet when they enter Canada they do so through the "front door" of our Immigration Act because they are still citizens.

As a general rule persons born in Canada never lose their right to return as citizens after living outside of Canada for more than a year. This loss of citizenship may be deferred in special cases for not more than five years by granting special extensions.

A person cannot become a Canadian citizen unless also a British subject. If a Canadian marries an American girl she might become a Canadian national, but not a Canadian citizen, within the meaning of the Immigration Act.

A habitual criminal could only secure citizenship in either the United States or Canada through misrepresentation. His citizenship, moreover, would be subject to forfeiture on discovery of the misrepresentation.

A U.S. citizen who enters Canada legally and resides here for five years acquires what is termed "Canadian domicile." He cannot be deported for a crime after this five-year-period elapses unless the crime is actually committed during the period in question.

Sunset from Mount Royal

A gentle hush prevades the evening air,
The sun, a glowing ball of fire,
Sinks down and fades from view;
Then from the purple depths
Of night's expanse,
Softly the glittering stars peep out

And brighten up the blue;
Trees stir and whisper in the gentle breeze.
White smoke curls up from each house-top,
And lights begin to show;
The rivers like two tiny brook-lets seem,

They join and unify the scene
That spreads out far below.

Such Things Do Occur In War—

For days a Jap sniper in a foxhole on the side of a snow slope made life miserable for American soldiers on Attu, relates Col. Lawrence V. Castner. So the Yankees used strategy.

One soldier took half a pup tent, spread it out on the snow, sat on it, and pulled the front end between his legs.

Other soldiers gave him a good push. He went sliding down the snow, very fast and very close to the Jap's hole. As he went by he dropped a grenade into the hole and was himself well down the slope when the grenade blew the hole and the Jap to kingdom come.

Six blood transfusions were given a marine, wounded in the neck, and then he asked Lt. John N. Roberts, a navy surgeon, for permission to write a message. A pad and pencil were handed to him.

"Will I live?" he wrote.

Lt. Roberts nodded.

"Will I speak?"

Reassured, the marine scribbled: "Then, what the hell am I worrying about?"

NOVA SCOTIA FARM NEWS

Crop Outlook Summarized

The crop outlook as summarized the middle of June follows: The valley has had one of the heaviest apple blossoms that is remembered. It almost seems as if 95% of the trees were full of bloom and it is hard to find the 5% without bloom. There has been more variation in sprays than usual. It is estimated about 25% of the orchards have received three sprays, about 70% two sprays and 90% one spray. Spot is found in a large percentage of the orchards and it is expected more will show soon. Insects are about as usual. Aphids do not appear at all serious. Green Apple Bug is somewhat on the increase. Bud Moth is bad but not quite as bad as expected. Weather was very bad for nearly a week which should assure a good set.

Seeding of grain is not complete but is probably 80% complete. Potatoes are about the same or slightly less. It is expected grain acreage is somewhat under last year and potatoes very definitely increased, possibly 50% in the commercial fields.

The usual crop of forecasts of the apple crop is now being developed. The bloom was very heavy and much of the bloom had nearly a week of next to perfect weather. There appears very little reason for expecting less than a very heavy set. Spot is quite prevalent and with considerable light spraying will reduce materially the final crop.

First Strawberries Make Appearance

Native strawberries made their appearance in the Kingston-Aylesford-Berwick area the middle of June, which was about ten days behind the initial appearance last year. Reports from the various strawberry areas of the province state that the plants look good, there has been plenty of moisture and what is now needed is heat. Though the acreage is down slightly the indications are for a fair crop. Quantity production is not expected in the Valley area until the latter part of the month, with other areas being correspondingly later. Reports from the Masstown area state that acreage is down and that plantings this year will be reduced on account of the labour shortage. The blossom prospect, says C. M. Collins, Provincial Horticulturist, is uniformly good, although considerably behind that of last year.

Raspberries, he says, came through the winter without any winter kill with the canes now having a healthy look.

Studying Carrot Germination

A good deal of carrot seed sown this spring in the Valley area has been treated for seed infections that might cause seedling and later field rot. The Experimental Station at Kentville has seeded a number of plots with different types of seed treatment in order to get data as to what materials prove most effective. It has been noticed that germination has proved considerably stronger in the various kind treated than in those untreated. It is thought it may prove a wise policy even for the home gardener to use such materials as "semesan" and put a small pinch in each package of seed and shake it up to coat the seed before sowing. Gardeners who are doing late sowing should get away from the first brood infection of carrot rust fly. Seeding made shortly after the middle of June will mature for winter storage.

Boys' and Girls' Club Camps

Boys' and Girls' Club Camps will be held this year on the following dates: Boys' Club Camp, Agricultural College, Truro—June 30 to July 3, with the club members coming in on the evening of the 30 and leaving on the morning of the 3rd. The Girls' Club Camp at the Kiwanis Camp, Yarmouth, for the Western end of the Province, will be held at the same time. The Girls' Club Camp at the Agricultural College will be held July 6 to 9, with the members coming on the evening of July 6.

The registration is complete now for the Girls' Club Camp at Yarmouth, while there are more than 60 applications in for the Girls' Club Camp at the Agricultural College. The number of applications for the Boys' Club Camp is still limited.

These Club Camps have come to be an annual affair, looked forward to by many members as an opportunity not only to visit the Agricultural College, but also as a short vacation during which they can combine instruction with pleasure.

Reports Were Proved False

(Nova Scotia—History Briefs—in Halifax Herald)

In the year 1792 reports were circulated through the United States that the inhabitants of this Province were in a starving condition, owing to their money being exhausted and every necessity of life imported from foreign markets for cash, and that there was nothing to export from Nova Scotia save wood or stones.

Indignantly Richard Hill, deputy collector, published extracts from the Custom House, Digby, and of the number of books of the exports from ships built there since the year 1787.

"Were the like extracts of exports taken from the Custom House book at Halifax, Shelburne, and all other outposts of this Province, and published," he declared, "also the number of shipping built in other parts of this Province, it would most assuredly be a convincing proof of the assertions being false, and that this Province is not destitute of resources. There have been many cargoes of livestock exported from this port which are not mentioned in the above extracts, nor entered in the Custom House books, they being so bad a breed of creatures as to bring no returns, notwithstanding they had been for several years stall fed at His Majesty's expense."

Babies

Babies are the handiest things to have this year.

You wheel them to market and load those groceries into their buggies for a free-wheeling trip home. The girls that have to carry everything in their arms eye you—and the buggy—with green envy.

You knit woolen booties for them, and goody, goody, there are extra pairs of shoes for the family.

You have priority on milk and fuel—maybe even safety pins—and an extra ration book to chisel from when baby isn't looking.

You have another dependent for income tax purposes.

And besides... aren't they the cutest darn things to have, anyhow?

Australians Slay Hundreds of Japs

In action in the Lae-Salamaua-Mubo area of New Guinea for many months, Australian commandos killed 500 Japs—and lost only 12 of their own men killed or mortally wounded.

The commandos, led by Norman Floay, 25, youngest lieutenant-Colonel in the Australian army, went into the area by plane in March, 1942. They kept the Japanese out of the rich Bulolo Valley and for a long time prevented the enemy from entering Lae, Salamaua, and Mubo.

When finally their force proved inadequate to garrison the three coastal towns against the weight of Japanese regiments, the Australians took to raiding. Shortly before the Japs made their unsuccessful attempt to capture Wau, last January, the commandos were re-inforced and shared in the fighting which drove the Japanese back to their main base at Mulbo.

"We buried our dead where the Japs couldn't get them," Col. Floay said, "because they'd go to any length to get information, and we knew they would dig up their bodies. We camouflaged the 12 graves. We'll go back one of these days and enter the bodies in a fitting manner in war cemeteries.

The colonel said his commandos basically were outnumbered 40 to 1, but in raids the Japanese advantage was a varying multiple of that figure.

In the most successful of their raids five commandos killed 100 Japanese at Salamaua. In another "battle" 200 Japanese attacked 5 Australians at Mubo; and all but 30 of the Japanese were killed before the fight ended.

Your Income Tax

MINISTER OF NATIONAL REVENUE CANADA

FELLOW CANADIAN

I would like to remind the two million taxpayers of Canada of their obligation to file a 1942 Income Tax Return before the 30th of June.

This year, the forms have been simplified so that they can be completed with a minimum of time and effort.

The Income Tax dollars that Canadians pay are necessary in our present struggle. They are an investment in our future peace and security. They are fighting dollars.... Victory dollars.

Income Tax is fair to all, as each person is taxed in accordance with his ability to pay.

There is no easy way to win a war. Almost half the costs of this war must be paid by taxes. I know that the Income Tax is not a pleasant burden, but I also know that to win the war, Canadians are willing to fulfil their obligations.... to pay the price and to shoulder their responsibilities with the same unbeatable spirit as shown by those who have gone from our shores to fight.

John G. Gibson
Minister of National Revenue.

ALL INCOME TAX RETURNS MUST BE MADE BY JUNE 30th

Sparks - Hankinson
The quiet wedding of Miss Grace Hankinson to Harry Sparks, Jr., of Illiopolis, Illinois, took place at the home of her sister, Mrs. Harvey Hickson, in Boston, Mass., on June 10, 1943. The ceremony was performed by the Reverend Daniel Rider, of Boston, in the living room decorated with sweet peas and spring bouquets. The bride wore a two-piece powder blue silk crepe suit with a flowered navy hat with light veil and white accessories. Her corsage was white and pink sweetheart roses with stephanotis. Miss Clara Hankinson, her sister, was the bride's only attendant. She wore a two-piece dusty rose silk crepe suit with flowered pale blue hat and white accessories. Her corsage was of baby blue larkspur. The groom's attendant was the brother of the bride, George W. Hankinson. The bride's mother, Mrs. G. O. Hankinson, Weymouth, wore a two-piece flowered blue and white silk suit, white picture hat and an orchid corsage. The groom's parents living in Illiopolis, Ill., were unable to attend the wedding. The wedding march was played by Miss Marlene Hickson, a niece of the bride. Immediately after the ceremony, a solo, "I Love You Truly," was sung by the bride's sister Mrs. George W. Wagner, of Weymouth, accompanied by Mrs. George W. Hankinson. After the reception the bride and groom left for Williamsburg, Virginia. The bride wore for her going away costume, a two-piece sand and brown suit with white accessories. Mrs. Sparks is a graduate of the New England Deaconess Hospital, in Boston, Mass., and for the past two years has been serving in the U. S. Navy Nurse Corps. Mr. Sparks is a graduate of the St. Louis School of Pharmacy, St. Louis, Missouri, and also attended the Milliken University in Illinois for two years. He is now serving in the U.S. Navy.
