Welcome to the Digital DIGBY COURIER

1877-1978

100th Birthday

The hundredth anniversary of the Digby Weekly Courier has brought to mind some fond memories as contained in the following historical chapter of the writer. But first, I wish to congratulate the current editor of the Courier, Mrs. J.M. (Edith) Wallis, for a job well done over the years and still being well done, good service rendered with great fortitude.

According to any record, I have at hand, the Digby Courier, in one hundred years of publication, was controlled under the same family management for 42 years, 1931 to 1973, under the control of Wallis Print Limited. The late J.J. Wallis became editor of The Courier the second time, in 1929, and at the same time of the business, which he had been running for some time previously and which became Wallis Print Limited sometime between 1929 and 1931.

I well remember the last year of the twenties when I worked in the office of the son with the husband and father of the late J.J. Wallis, the Courier. Sometime in 1928 or early 1929, the late J.M. Wallis (Mac), son of "J.J." engaged me to work every day after school hours, Saturdays, and for some months after full time. The place of work was in the building of the present Digby town hall on First Avenue. J.J. Wallis then worked occasionally at the print shop but mostly across the street at the Courier office which was then located on land in the general area where The Royal Bank of Canada is now.

Wallis Job Print operated in 1929 with a staff of four consisting of J.J. Wallis, J.M. Wallis, Miss Eva Haynes, who later became Mrs. George Kicup, and myself. I was in the staff in early 1929.

Eva's job was in the left up-stairs. "J.J." occasionally printing plant but mostly at the Courier office. "Mac" worked nearly full time at all the different jobs at the Job Print, and I worked at various duties, most of the time being spent at operating printing presses.

We worked ten-hour days, six days a week. "J.J." and "Mac" sometimes worked overtime. I worked only the regular hours being paid a weekly wage which was comparatively good for those times and my lack of experience. I received four or five dollars a week for working after school hours to six o'clock and on Saturday all day, and nine dollars a week for full weeks after finishing school. A two or three dollar a week raise was offered to me in the fall of 1929 for me to stay on at printing, but I had made up my mind to enter a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, starting salary of $300. The bank salary figured out about the same per hour as for the printing job. Nevertheless, the congenial atmosphere of the printing plant those days, and, experience however short, were helpful and appreciated by me.

"J.J." was very jovial in his occasional trip to the Job Print and did considerable kidding all in good fun. "Mac" was a witty person who mixed in a good natured sarcasm now and then for one reason or another. Eva most always had good answers to all the kidding she was called upon to take, and, generally held her own in a quiet sort of way, always busy setting type. We four all got along very well indeed. However, I do remember that some days did seem long and weary because of the monotony of some repetitious jobs.

In spite of the great demand for printing those last boom days of the twenties, business generally being brisk, it looked to me that people had to work long and hard to make any decent profit. There was including treatment of the hands. However, nails and finger ends were used and I was soon back to work.

Now and then a printing job had a dose on parchment paper which required a special kind of printers' ink which smelled very bad those days. I always dreaded it when "Mac" would do that job on the largest press, in spite of the fact that we always opened an outside door to lessen the effects on the constitution.

One of the jobs I had to do, being the junior and printers' devil on the staff, was to clean up now and then. One day not long after I started my job at the printing plant, I decided to clean the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned in some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily, he thought the remark pretty good and suitable.

Sometimes the gasoline engine or a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and after "Mac" the fix-it man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results, "Mac" would then stand back and cuss quite strenuously, then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of cussing."

On other occasions when some gadget refused duty for me and, seemed to be broken, "Mac" would say, "use a little oil," and sure enough, often that is all it took. How often since, have I thought of the value of that remark and the actual need of "oil" in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and, in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the time I told "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring season of 1929 got together just before dark one evening and decided to initiate the newly built outdoor Pines Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just east of the pool; nobody else seemed to be around except the four boys; no thought or time for bathing suits up to the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in, the rest quickly followed and across the pool they swam. "Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Scouts Officially Open Pines Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the four? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Earl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars (second world and Korean), was awarded the Victoria Cross; Sidney L. Smith, now prominent druggist for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale lobster king merchant; and myself.

As a young teenager I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day "Mac" said to me "how about writing your version of the story told about 'The Marooning of Jerome'." I had heard and read at least two somewhat different stories about the man who was found marooned on a beach at some point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Digby County. When found this man's tongue had been cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Jerome" appeared to have been a man of some considerable social standing and possibly of some considerable wealth. However the only thing the man could or would ever say after being found and cared for by some family in the French shore was, something that sounded like the word "Jerome". He either could not, or, would not, write anything about who he was or why he was left the way he was. Well, it was, and is, one of Digby County's mystery stories, and, different ideas have been expressed over the years concerning this man. However my response to "Mac" was, I felt no urge to write anything more or different about this man. The mystery seemed to have been very well explored in the mind of many people, and, he was a sort of curiosity for many people who visited where he lived for many years.

Three years later I was quite a bit older and was working in the street that I loved back and forth, led a boat clanking noise, powered by a small engine, and a "plur", and as I remember it, it was a "plur". "J.J." was noted for his sense of humor and his sense of humor.

Years ago, during the time Mr. Wallis was editor of the Scott Act (Prohibition Law) in the town of Digby, about and advocated by some people, a boys' conference was held in the town of Digby.

Digby 172 Years Ago

Compiled by David Sanford

From the files of the Courier of January 23, 1867, the following account has been copied concerning Digby in 1800.

"Among a number of old newspapers kindly sent to us by friends is a copy of the Saint John Gazette of May, 1802, says the Telegraph and among other advertisements contained in the issue before us is one describing the town and township of Digby, and offering for sale certain lots in the town. In this area we are told the township of Digby extends from the Gulf of Annapolis westward to the extremity of the province of Nova Scotia, and contains about 130,000 acres." The town plot is thus described:

"The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Basin, and twenty miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles across land from the head of St. Mary's Bay. This laid out from the water's edge, partly on level ground and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having with an eastern aspect, a view of the Annapolis Basin and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in where it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth of that name. It was settled by Loyalists from New York in 1783, the most of whom went early to farms, or, moving to older countries, left the whole side to be bought proved by about who now reside detached, built dwellings with orchards, and some fishery and. It has communal parts of the communal provisions in a cheap, built readily to be from many circumstances, probability of place of some shipbuilding, the West India a cheap and of residence.

This advertisement, dated at Digby, December, 1800, were to be a No. 100.

free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students one of which was some Digby's daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Melvin O. Tibert, Freeport, Digby Co.) Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters; I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print". I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like: embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and trimming paper stock, mixing inks for certain desired colors, and so forth, but, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "pi", the printers name for a confused mess.

There was a taste of trying to sell job printing outside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried it, made several calls around town, spent most of the time at one particular house, and got an order, but,

About This and That

Leadership is not contrary to the principles of democracy, says the Catholic Record, which says that it is essential to the development of true democracy. The man who can think most soundly, most rapidly and most usefully is and ought to be a leader. His ideas may be refused a hearing over and over again but they will at last be accepted. The educated man will not always be a leader. But if you take any country that is civilized and look it over as a whole you will see that the great majority of the leaders in that country are educated men. Other men follow them, look to them, depend on them and by them are well or ill advised, according to whether their education is sound or unsound, moral or immoral, false or true.

People who claim the home town newspaper doesn't print all the news should be glad it doesn't.

Ten points . . . they cost so little, and they are worth so much!

1. You cannot bring about prosperity by discouraging thrift.
2. You cannot strengthen the weak by weakening the strong.
3. You cannot help small men by tearing down big men.
4. You cannot help the poor by destroying the rich.
5. You cannot lift the wage-earner by pulling down the wage-payer.
6. You cannot keep out of trouble by spending more than your income.
7. You cannot further the brotherhood of man by inciting class hatred.
8. You cannot establish sound security on borrowed money.
9. You cannot build character and courage by taking away a man's initiative and independence.
10. You cannot help men permanently by doing for them what they could and should do for themselves.

More than 12,000,000 men and women in Britain contribute each week to the Red Cross Penny-a-week Fund. Altogether they have raised over £5,250,000 ($12,310,000).

War-Time Prices Questions & Answers

Q.—I saw bananas in a store but when I went in to purchase them I was told they were not for sale. Can a merchant refuse to sell articles which he has displayed in his shop?

A.—The display of merchandise does not put a merchant under any obligation to sell. Retailers have been asked to distribute scarce supplies as possible among their customers. This storekeeper may have required all his supply to fill orders which he had already taken.

Q.—Would you please tell me the ceiling price on butter.

A.—The ceiling price on butter varies and is the highest price that any particular store charged during the basic period, Sept. 15 to Oct. 11, 1941.

Q.—When will the "F" canning sugar coupons become valid?

A.—The validity date of the first five "F" coupons in ration book 3 has been set at May 25, 1944. Numbers 6 to 10 will be valid on July 6, 1944.

Q.—I understand that blueberries have been removed from the ration list but my grocer will only sell unsweetened blueberries without coupons. Is he correct?

A.—Both sweetened and unsweetened blueberries may be purchased at the present time without coupons. Some blueberries are canned with 20% sugar and some without sugar. Perhaps your grocer carries only one type.

Q.—Where do American visitors apply for rations?

A.—American visitors applying for rations should go to the Local Ration Board in the district in which they are staying. They will be issued with a temporary ration book on application.

Q.—As a beekeeper selling less than 4,000 lbs. of honey a year, Registered in 1943 with my Local Ration Board. Do I need to register all over again this year?

A.—No. Registration is not required of you.

Q.—I sometimes find ration books in my store. What should I do with them if they are not claimed at once?

A.—Such lost books should be sent within 48 hours to the nearest Local Ration Board or the nearest branch of the Ration Administration.

Parachute Costs $280

The British Army's parachute is so tough that it takes a jerk of 5½ tons to break its cords. Each rigging line is carefully and painstakingly made of the finest braided silk cord, tested to a breaking point of 450 pounds. The canopy is made too of the finest silk and altogether the whole business weighs 30 lbs., and costs $280.

Gems of Thought

CANDOR vs DECEIT

Be yourself. Ape no greatness. Be willing to pass for what you are. A good farthing is better than a bad sovereign.

—Samuel Coley

Candor will lose you some friends, but not as many as deceit.

—Young

The diligent fostering of a candid habit of mind, even in trifles, is a matter of high moment both to character and opinions.

—Howson

There is a wide difference between speaking to deceive and being silent to be impenetrable.

—Voltaire

Competition in commerce, deceit in councils, dishonor in nations, dishonesty in trusts, begin with "Who shall be greatest?"

—Mary Baker Eddy

In reasoning upon moral subjects, we have great occasion for candor, in order to compare circumstances, and weigh arguments with impartiality.

Report of the Red Cross Campaign

In submitting this report of the 1944 Red Cross Campaign, I would first, on behalf of the Committee, like to thank all those who so willingly helped in making the above a great success. The results, as shown below, should be gratifying to all who worked and donated. The objective for the Town of Digby and Auxiliaries was $1,825.00 and you will note that the grand sum of $1,892.56 has been collected to date and we expect a few more dollars to come in. The collection of $422.95 by the Dominion Construction Co. brings the total up to $2,315.51 and appreciation of his work go to Douglas Reid, of the Construction Co., who took care of this part of the collection. Details are as follows: Digby town, $1,250.25. In this collection we find $10 from the Rebekah organization, $25 from the Robert Simpson Eastern Ltd., $19 from H.M.C.S. Ambler and $50 from H.M.C.S. Vison, Acadiaville $3, North Range and Doucetteville $37.15, Marshalltown $30.20, Rossway $83.46, Hill Grove $38.60, Culloden $27, Bay View $24, Barton and Brighton $127.80, Centreville $80, Little River $107.75, Conway $28, Mt. Pleasant $75.35. FRITZ DAKIN, Campaign Chairman

Hijack Two Nazis During Night Patrol

A patrol of 15 W.N.S.R. soldiers led by Lieut. Leslie Moore, Longbranch, stalked their way through No Man's Land recently hijacked two Germans out of their slit trench and carried 'em back to our own lines. Two tough Nazis, with textbook "Aryan" arrogance, the prisoners were found to be a Warrant Officer and a Non-

Com. And they didn't take to being caught any too kindly. When he assembled members of the patrol the following day to address them, their C.O. said that in his opinion they were the finest soldiers in his regiment. It was because he had felt this about them that he'd chosen them for this particular job, and they had justified his confidence.

Members of the patrol included Cpl. Arnold Beeler, of Clementsport, and Pte. Bill Porter, Moschelle.

Bears In The National Parks

Among the great attractions afforded by Canada's national parks is the opportunity to see wild animals in the natural surroundings, but cured of the fear of man. All national parks are wild life sanctuaries. The animals soon learn that man will not harm them, and they become very tame. Sometimes, particularly in the case of bears, this proves to be their undoing.

The public loves to feed bears, and otherwise to fraternize with them. Notices in the parks and in the parks literature asking them not to do so have little effect. Perhaps if they understood that being "kind" to a bear is the most unkind thing they can do for him, the park regulations would be better observed.

Instances abound where bears had been petted until they became so bold and troublesome that they had to be destroyed. In Waterton Lakes National Park a mother bear and her two cubs, which had been pampered by tourists, tore the screen door off a cottage while the family were out and helped themselves to some freshly-baked pies. They also knocked over and damaged the icebox; food, glassware and china were destroyed. It became necessary to shoot the mother bear, and it is feared that the same treatment may yet have to be given the cubs.

In another instance two little cubs were apparently trying to climb a tree, and two little girls tried to give them a helping hand. Just then the mother bear appeared and cuffed one of the children on the cheek with such violence that medical attention was required, and the girl may carry a scar for life.

In Prince Albert National Park, in Saskatchewan, a man was about to enter his cabin when he saw the rear end of a bear protruding from the corner of the building. Realizing that the bear was eating out of the garbage can, he thought it would be a wonderful opportunity to surprise him. Thereupon he picked up a piece of 2 x 4 and, sneaking up on the bear, gave it a hefty wallop. Quick as a flash the bear whipped around and struck his attacker, who wasn't quite quick enough in getting away. Fortunately the man lost only part of his clothing, and was able to get into the cabin before the bear could land another blow or the results might have been much more serious.

The black bear is one of the most playful and humorous of all animals, but he is still a bear. He does not seek man's company in the first place, and, when it is thrust upon him, he is likely to abuse it. If he is pampered he expects more pampering. If he is given half a pie he will take the other half, if it is within the reach of his powerful paws. Then there are complaints that he has become a nuisance and he is shot. And it really is not his fault.

Until the war is won!
All else stands less;
Nothing must now be done
In selfishness.

Until the war is won!
This only planned;
Down to the final gun
Steadfast to stand!

Until the war is won
Sky, sea and shore,
Beaten are Jap and Hun,
Nothing counts more!

Until the war is won!
All else disdain,
First get each fighting son
Safe home again.

"Lose-Lend" Irks British Filmdom

British film makers are kicking up a row about "lose-lend" handling of their pictures in the American market. One critic declared that for 12 months not a single British film had been sold in the United States, whereas American movies had cleaned up from $60,000,000 to $80,000,000 in these islands.

George W. Parish, independent producer, complained that in order to get his films distributed in the U. S. he had to agree that the name, British National would not be used.

"Can anyone imagine," he demanded, "a major American company willing to have its films distributed in the United Kingdom without being given due screen credit?"

The Chinese were the first to use thimbles.

TRANSPORT

for a NATION AT WAR

The Canadian National has been privileged to join with all the citizens of our country, including those who are serving in the armed forces, in the prosecution of the war. It believes that Canadians will be interested in this outline of some of the System's war activities.

Extracts from Annual Report of the Directors of the Canadian National System:

OUR OBJECTIVE IN 1943, as in other war years, was to place the full strength of our manpower and facilities behind the war effort of the United Nations. To this end all energies have been directed. The requirements of the armed forces, of industry and agriculture, for transport and other services, have been met in all of the nine Provinces of the Dominion and in the important sections of the United States in which we operate.

RECORD TRAFFIC

These demands were greater than ever before, the traffic moved in 1943 being 17.3% greater than in 1942, the previous peak war year, and 44.7% greater than in 1928, the peak peace year.

Freight traffic in 1943 was more than double that of 1939, and passenger traffic four times that of 1939.

Despite this, the very large movements of war materials and personnel reached their destinations in accordance with schedule arrangements. There was no lowering of the recognized standards of safety.

MANUFACTURE OF MUNITIONS

The Company also extended its activities as a manufacturer of munitions, ships and naval appliances.

EARNING POWER

The 1943 operations demonstrated the great earning power of the System, the railway proving again that it can handle an immense volume of business economically as well as expeditiously.

After providing from revenue for all operating expenses (including deferred maintenance, depreciation, amortization of defence projects and reserve for inventories) and also a reserve for pension contracts, taxes, interest on funded debt and Government loans, the surplus paid in cash to the Government was $35,639,412.

OPERATING EFFICIENCY

The operating ratio for the year was 73.64% (an all-time record) as compared with 76.93% in 1942 and 81.99% in the peak peace year of 1928.

It is interesting to note that the vastly increased war traffic in 1943 was handled with 16.6% fewer locomotives, 15.4% fewer freight cars and 5.1% more passenger cars than was the traffic of 1917, the fourth year of the last World War.

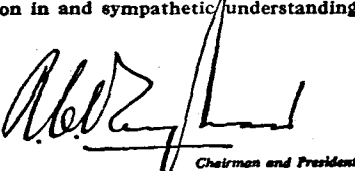

SPECIAL SERVICES PROVIDED

The Company was honoured in being selected to provide extensive train and other services for Prime Minister Churchill, President Roosevelt and Madam Chiang Kai-shek during their visits to Canada in 1943.

POST-WAR

Changing conditions will call for new methods of railway operation and new types of service, and there must needs be a continuing search for improvement in all aspects of the railway industry. In view of this, the Company has in hand a programme of research. This programme, in addition to considering ways and means of improving service and efficiency of operation, also encompasses the problems of post-war reconstruction and rehabilitation.

THE OFFICERS AND EMPLOYEES in all departments of the System have worked hard and loyally to cope with increased responsibilities arising out of the war, and the directors record their appreciation and thanks. The traditional harmonious relations between management and employees were maintained throughout the year. Appreciation also is expressed to shippers and the travelling public alike for their cooperation in and sympathetic understanding of difficult operating conditions caused by the war.

Rev. K. Dotson consented to act as cub master for the cubs.

A suitable hall has not been secured for the scout meetings but a committee in charge expected to have a desirable place available in the near future.

J. E. W. Ellis Awarded Medal

Award of the Canadian Efficiency Medal and 1st Clasp to Sergeant J. E. W. Ellis, of Bear River, for long service and conduct with the Canadian Army has been announced by National Defence Headquarters, Ottawa.

A veteran of ten years' service with the Annapolis Regiment, Sergeant Ellis went on active service with a Maritime infantry regiment at the outbreak of war. He proceeded overseas in March, 1943.

His wife is Mrs. Claire A. Ellis, of Bear River.

Dream Home On the Range

Outstanding among the large homes built in western Canada by Europeans before the turn of the century is a house built in the Maple Creek country by the Frenchman, Daniel Tennaille, and presently owned by Mr. and Mrs. Roy Stewart. (Mrs. Stewart is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Purdy, Bear River.)

The house is a two-storey structure, originally of twelve rooms averaging 20 feet square, and built entirely of lumber hauled from Maple Creek, thirty-five miles away. The only mortar used is that between the bricks of the old French style chimneys.

Two cedar pannelled rooms, where the grain of the lumber has been most skilfully blended, still show the art of a great wood-worker, and a few years ago walls of one of the rooms were still hung with the special chintz imported from France.

The house is shingled French style, with two double-decked verandahs, and is surrounded by trees. Both house and barn have running water installed, which is supplied from a nearby spring.

Several families have lived in the house since Dan Tennaille lost his life while serving with the Canadians in the First World War but the building is in excellent repair.

Sgt. D. K. Buckler Missing

Word was received from Ottawa, recently by Mrs. Roscoe Buckler, of Morganville, Digby County, that her son, Flight Sergeant Donald Keith Buckler, is missing on active service with the R.C.A.F. Donald was a mid-upper gunner in an aircraft that did not return to its base from a bombing raid over Germany.

Donald is the second son of Cpl. and Mrs. Roscoe Buckler and was born at Bear River twenty-one years ago. He received his education at Oakdene Academy, Bear River, where he was a popular student. Don was interested and proficient in many sports and recently received a medal for expert marksmanship. He enlisted for aircrew with the Royal Canadian Air Force on August 3rd, 1942 and received his wing while stationed in Quebec. He went overseas in June, 1943.

Don has a brother, Gerald Archibald Buckler, who enlisted in the Canadian Army on September 2nd, 1942, and went overseas in April, 1943. Don and Gerald have spent two leaves together in England.

Besides his brother, Don has three sisters, Hazel, teaching at Princedale, Annapolis County, and Roxie and Dorothy at home. His father, Cpl. Roscoe Buckler, is stationed at Halifax.

The other four members of the crew of this aircraft are also reported as missing. Hopes are held by the family that he may be reported safe.

Mrs. Hallet Banks spent the week end at Digby with her parents, Capt. and Mrs. Hillyard Bonnes.

So often now- NAMES MAKE SAD NEWS*

● The names in this newspaper that interest you most are names of boys you know who are on active service . . . boys from this community. You used to read their names in school reports, in church and Sunday school items, in news of sport. You read these names today in news from the fighting fronts. So often now these names make sad news. Let's do all we can to hasten the day when our newspapers can tell of happy things.

Yes, we can do something to hasten that glad day.

When we do this job we help to win victory sooner. We help to end the war sooner. And we do something to benefit ourselves.

The job that we are asked to do is to save our money and lend it to our country.

As each new fighting front is opened more money is needed. More people must be ready to furnish this money.

More Victory Bonds will be issued. Those who have not bought Victory Bonds before must buy them. Those who have bought bonds must buy more. We are not asked to give . . . we are just asked to lend. We will have money for things we plan to do, after the war.

Dedicate yourself to this war effort . . . something you can do . . . one thing you must do. Your help is urgently needed.

Never Before Has Fine Quality Meant So Much

Things I Never Knew 'Til Now

(About Canada's War Effort)
By Walter Winchell

Canada is the only one of America's Allies which has not used Lease Land help. Most of her money payments to the Allies have been outright gifts because Canada is opposed to piling up war debts. The United States is Canada's best customer; and Canada is at the top of our list of our best customers. Canada is the world's largest producer of aluminum. Last year she produced more than the whole world did in 1939. Canada is the world's largest producer of nickel and is practically the only source of supply available to the United Nations. Canada is the world's largest producer of asbestos, terrifically important on aircraft carriers and battleships. She is a heavy producer of lead, zinc and mercury, and the most important discovery of tungsten ore yet found on this continent is now being developed by the Canadian government direct. It's the backbone of battle armor.

Without Canadian radium the field services and hospitals of the United Nations' armies would be almost helpless. Canada is producing five times as much armor plate, guns and tools as she did in 1939. She is producing sixteen types of gun carriages and mountings, although before she entered the war she had never manufactured a big gun. She has delivered 100,000 units to date. Canada has the largest small arms factory in the British Empire. She has produced more than a million rifles and enough ammunition to fire 300 shots at every soldier in the German army. Canada is second only to us in building ships, although she had not built a seagoing cargo ship in 20 years when Hitler marched on Poland. Canada supplies all of the signal corps of the United Nations with a large amount of their equipment, including nearly 100 types of signalling sets. Canada has developed a new secret explosive for the invasion—the most powerful in the world.

About five out of every six Canadian soldiers you see are volunteers—the Canadian army has the largest volunteer force in the world. The Canadian Navy, which had only 15 ships before the war, now has more than 700 at sea. The Canadian Navy is 45 times larger in men. Canada provided the invention which licked the magnetic mine. It was the Canadian Navy which developed the sea sickness pills which are used by all the Allies. Canada has developed the most secret type of ground and air detection apparatus, which is protecting your home in a way that the Luftwaffe would like to know but which only Einstein could explain.

The Royal Canadian Air Force has 200,000 men manning its planes. There are 36 RCAF squadrons overseas. The Royal Air Force itself depends for 1/4 of its strength on RCAF crews. The British Commonwealth Air Training Plan is based in Canada. Practically every man in the service of His Majesty, who has anything to do with a plane, learned how to handle his job in Canada. Nineteen out of 20 of the boys who are dropping the bad news on Berlin got the know-how in Canada. Three out of four of the men who plot the courses of every plane in the British Empire learned to do it in the country north of our border.

Canada has mobilized the mightiest of all her resources her fighting people. Forty thousand women are in the Canadian armed forces. Over 5,000 are in the Canadian Navy Services, and 16,000 are in the RCAF. On Canada's mighty munitions assembly line, one out of every four persons is a Canadian woman. They handle the technical signalling devices and secret naval codes—and believe it or not, they plot the convoy routes. The Canadian Gov't has found them so proficient at Radar and Asdic that women are used as instructors. Nor is their work confined to intricate mechanical devices. They overhaul aircraft engines, operate power machines and actually operate the new instrument which determines errors in cannon fire.

The newspaper you are reading probably is printed on Canadian newsprint. Canada is by far the largest producer of newsprint in the world. In spite of her terrific war effort, Canada is sending more newsprint to the U. S. than she did at the start of the war. A large part of it goes in direct support of our war effort, because American production has declined 24% and our other markets have almost disappeared. In our crucial year of 1941 Canadian production of newsprint was more than three times that of the U. S.—and everybody knows how much paper a bureaucrat can use.

When the smoke of war clears, Canada will emerge as one of the very great powers of the world. Canada and Alaska are the air crossroads for Europe and Asia. Before the half-century mark has been reached giant airliners will be going over the top to Europe, Asia and Africa, non-stop from Canada. Canada already has the tallest office building in the British Empire, the largest hotel in the British Empire, and the largest fishing grounds in the world. The Canadian Pacific Railway is the world's largest transportation system and has responded to the war challenge as magnificently as American transportation. It also operates a fleet of ocean steamships and an expanding number of air routes.

In Canada price ceilings mean something. The cost of living has gone up only 2% in two years, while in the United States and Australia it went up almost 14% on the same scale of measurement. The Canadian people are shelling out taxes at a rate which would equal more than 30 billion dollars in this country. Last year the Government of Mackenzie King threw 4 billion dollars into the kitty to beat Hitler. Production and national income in Canada have doubled since the start of the war. After the war Canada will expand like we did in 1900. The Shipshaw power development in northern Canada has an installed capacity equal to the total capacity of Niagara Falls plants on both sides of the river. It has a continuous output of electrical energy greater than that of our own great Boulder Dam plant. Canada, with less than a fifth of its water power resources developed, has the second largest amount of hydro-electric generating capacity of any country in the world.

The Canadian Foreign Office declared war on Japan while Pearl Harbour was still burning—a full day ahead of us. This is a completely independent diplomatic service, and our diplomats in Washington say that it is the finest in the world, which is a strange coincidence, since that's what our army and our navy men say of the Canadian fighters. Out of this war has come closer Canadian-American relationship than ever before. Our best customer to the North is also our best protection when the chips are down.

The Maple Leaf forever!

Maritime Beef Stands High

A high tribute to Maritime-raised beef came in the remarks passed by R. A. Thompson, Dominion Department of agriculture Beef Grader, who judged the carcasses at the recently-held Maritime Fat Stock Show and Fair at Moncton. Mr. Thompson, who judges most of the carcass competitions in Canada, including the Royal Winter Fair, stated that the carcass of the champion steer at the Maritime show was the best he had ever judged. This steer was a purebred Hereford shown by Miller Sanderson, of North River, P.E.I., was sired by a bull purchased from E. H. Horne, Enfield, N.S., and was out of two well-known champions. His dam was sired by a Horne bull prominent in show circle. The champion, born May 7, 1943, weighed 1,007 lbs.; he was not an expensive steer to feed, the main sources of his nourishment being boiled barley, whole oats, and a good milking cow.

Evidence of the high quality of the Moncton show was the fact that 61 out of the 71 carcasses shown graded red—the top classification for beef carcasses.

Awards included: George A. Chase, Port Williams, first for live and carcass class with a son of Cluny Ambassador Command; E. H. Horne, Enfield, first for class 3 with a steer with a double cross of Herefords; Guy Dixon, Aulac, first, 800 to 850 lbs. class with a son of a well-bred Short-horn bull.

In going through the list of sires of the steers exhibited there was a striking demonstration of the value of good breeding in developing quality steers.

Soldiers May Get Farm Leaves for Two Months

"If any farmer knows of any man on active service who is not proceeding overseas and can be spared from the army and who wants to do farm work there should be no difficulty in getting leave for that man," stated Hon. John

A. McDonald, Nova Scotia Minister of Agriculture, following his return from Ottawa, where he had been in conference on the farm-labour situation. "Such a soldier," said Mr. McDonald, "should get in touch with his commanding officer and make application for leave. Ottawa authorities have given assurances that efforts have been made for quick transfer of forces for special farm leave." Military units have been advised of these regulations. Spring leaves are now effective and can be granted up to two months' duration.

In addition to this move to quickly release men from the armed forces, Mr. McDonald got assurances from Deputy Minister of Labour MacNamarra that his department was doing its utmost to place men on the farms. Mr. MacNamarra is writing letters to all farmers setting forth the position of Selective Service.

Farmers wanting civilian farm workers should apply to their nearest Selective Service Office. Offices are located at Amherst, Bridgewater, Digby, Dartmouth, Inverness, Kentville, Liverpool, New Glasgow, Pictou, Shelburne, Springhill, Sydney, Glace Bay, New Waterford, Sydney Mines, Truro, and Yarmouth.

Every effort, said Mr. McDonald, is being made to meet the call for farm laborers. William Milligan, Truro, is covering the Province as Federal-Provincial Farm-Labor Director and the services of the county agricultural representatives are always available.

While in Ottawa the minister was advised that the federal subventions on feeds would probably be continued for the duration of the war.

32 Taking Egg Grading Course

The largest Youth Training Short Course on Egg Grading ever held in the Province is under way at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College, Truro. This course started last Tuesday and continued until April 6. There are a total of 32 students, coming from nearly all sections of the Province, including 9 young women and 23 men of non-military categories. The need for more trained Registered Egg Graders is great. Many of those enrolling have jobs awaiting them on successful completion of the course.

This course is provided through the cooperation of the Dominion Department of Labour, the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, and the Dominion Department of Agriculture. C. E. Boulden, Principal of the College, welcomed the students on Tuesday morning, and invited them to make full use of the college facilities. In addition to egg grading, students will receive several lectures on poultry husbandry and on general subjects pertaining to poultry and egg marketing. This is the first year that the caponizing demonstrations have been undertaken in conjunction with this Egg Grading Short Course.

Big Export Order For Dressed Poultry

Nova Scotia poultrymen will be interested in the news that Great Britain has recently agreed to purchase in the Dominion 1,000,000 pounds of frozen chickens and turkeys, and 1,000,000 pounds of frozen fowl. In addition to this, it is understood that the United States will be purchasing 1,000,000 pounds of frozen fowl. Dressed poultry holdings in the Dominion have been somewhat large, and the sale of this huge quantity of product should help materially to relieve the storage situation.

Treatment is Effective

The treatment for cows suffering from "Wasting Disease" as suggested by Dr. E. E. I. Hancock, Animal Pathologist, Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, is giving satisfactory results according to reports received from the South Shore of the Province. This malady which is most prevalent on the South Shore and also is reported from the Eastern Shore and the shore parts of Cape Breton, is, as the name implies, a wasting disease. The animal loses weight, and appetite, and unless the disease is checked, soon dies. The disease is believed to be due to a mineral deficiency in the animal's diet. Infected animals when moved from deficiency areas to "sound areas" usually readily recover without medical treatment. The recovered animals on some occasions have been returned to the affected areas and remained healthy for some time, but have eventually taken sick again. Owners having animals suffering from "Wasting Disease" will be pleased to know that the Department of Agriculture is endeavoring to secure adequate supplies of the necessary materials needed for treating this disease. So far only limited supplies have been available. These have been distributed as widely as possible. Dr. Hancock advises that as soon as he has received the supplies which he has applied for and hopes to get an announcement will be made and there will be no delay in distribution.

Wins R.O.P. Certificate

Another R.O.P. certificate has been awarded to the Guernsey herd at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College, Truro. The most recent winner of the award is College Patricia Della, which is a 2-year-old, completed her 365-day test with 13,445 lbs. milk, 707 lbs. fat. This production places her in eighth position in the Honour Roll of her class among Canadian Guernseys. Bred by C. M. Magee, Berwick, she is, as her name indicates, a descendant of his noted producer, Princess Patricia, whose production of 767 lbs. fat as a mature cow in the 305-day division has stood unchallenged among Canadian Guernseys for almost twenty years.

What Goes Up Must Come Down

(An editorial from the Grimsby (Ont.) Independent)

Whatever goes up . . . must come down . . . that's sure as shootin' . . . Remember the last war? Well, here is how things went . . . wheat up to $3.25 a bushel in 1918 . . . it sold in the early 30's as low as 27c . . . not enough to pay for binder twine and feed the horses.

Men coming back from overseas got it worse than anyone, and some of them never recovered; the wounds that peace gave them were a hundred times more fatal than bullets and shells . . . They soaked them $140 for a common everyday grade cow . . . sold a couple of years later at $28 a piece. Day-old grade calves cost $15 . . . two years later these same calves grown big and fat, sold for around $18 on the hoof.

Hay was $25 a ton, then dropped to $3.75 and after 1920 ruin and bankruptcy were commonplace in every section in Canada, and returned soldiers—starved off the land—were selling lead pencils . . . candy and soap from door to door . . . and dying on their feet from sheer discouragement and poverty, their children forced to quit school at 15 and 16 years of age to take hard, underpaid jobs, to keep the rest of the family from starvation.

That's what Canada is going to see doesn't happen again, but unless everyone keeps battling, it will come sure as guns.

How to prevent it . . . well, here's your part in this nation wide fight . . . watch prices . . . observe ration regulations . . . buy only what you really need . . . for if inflation ever gets its ugly beak into us we'll go through all the hard times again . . . only they'll be harder this time . . . for there are more people to suffer . . . more prices to tumble. There's more to lose.

We're riding high right now . . . good wages . . . more jobs than people to fill them . . . but the pay-off is just around the next corner . . . What are you doing to see that inflation doesn't get a headstart? What are you doing to hold the price ceiling line?

Peanut butter likes company. Use it as a sandwich filling mixed with honey, ground dried fruits, jam, marmalade, or shredded carrots.

OBEY! That Impulse! Enlist to-day

HERE'S a challenge that you cannot ignore! . . . Would you deprive a fighting man of his opportunity to fight? Do you want some fighting man do your job? If you don't, why don't you join the C.W.A.C.?

Canada needs another 5,000 women to supplement her fighting establishments—spirited young recruits to join the Canadian Women's Army Corps and play their part in the world-wide struggle for freedom.

Sixteen thousand women have already donned the smartly-tailored C.W.A.C. uniform and are filling an active, and vital place in the Canadian Army, at home and overseas. But another 5,000 are urgently needed, and the quota for Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island is 500 as listed below.

The call is greatest for qualified stenographers, typists, clerks, dental assistants, postal sorters, drivers and cooks, along with volunteers who can be trained in these occupations. Don't let the call go unanswered!

If you are medically fit, have Grade VIII or better education, have no dependents, and are between the ages of 18 and 45, you can qualify.

Enjoy the thrill that comes with joining the Canadian Women's Army Corps—plus the satisfaction of knowing that you are doing your duty. Remember, it is still true that every girl who enlists in the C.W.A.C. allows one more soldier to join the fighting overseas.

Ouija Board Still Popular

"What do you do on the evenings when you stay at home in the barracks?" we asked a member of the C.W. A.C. "Do you play ping pong, checkers, chess, do you get up games of bridge?"

"Oh, yes, we do all that," she answered. "But do you know what is the most popular game with us?" She blushed just a little as she said it, "the Ouija Board."

Wouldn't you know it? Hasn't the Ouija Board always held chief place whenever girls got together, ever since your Aunt Minnie and mine asked questions of it fifty years ago?

"What do you ask it?" we inquired.

"We mainly ask when we are going to get our stripes," she said.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Anytie Geddry

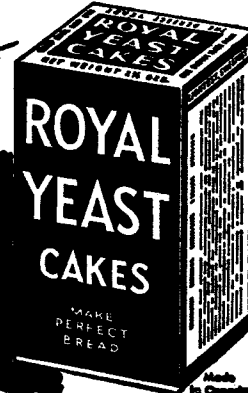

There passed away on Wednesday, March 22nd, at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Patrick Armstrong, after a long illness, Mrs. Anytie Geddry, at the age of 74 years. Deceased was from early childhood connected with the postal service at Meteghan Centre, and was for some years assistant to her mother-in-law, Postmistress Frances Geddry, after whose death she was appointed postmistress which position she held until her death, covering a period of sixty years in the service. She was the widow of the late Alexander Geddry, who predeceased her forty-six years, and brought up her family alone by her economy and self-sacrifice. Surviving are two sisters, Sister Anthony, of Halifax, and Mrs. Albert Comeau, of Weymouth, both with her at time of death. Her family includes three daughters and two sons: Mrs. Howard Doucet, Mrs. Fred Comeau, Mrs. Patrick Armstrong, James and Edward Geddry, all of Meteghan Station; also surviving are 32 grandchildren who were all present at the funeral except Miss Josephine Geddry, nurse-in-training at the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, and Pte. Alfred Geddry, in England on active service. She has also six great grandchildren living. Solemn Requiem High Mass was celebrated by Father Gastonguay, assisted by Father Hebert and Father S. Comeau, Saturday at 9:30 a.m. at the Sacred Heart Church, Saulnierville. The pallbearers were four grandchildren: Gerald, James, Louis and Norbert Doucet, brothers, all serving in the armed forces.

VOLUME LXX, NO. 31

Social Service Work in Digby

Rev. H. L. Denton, of Halifax, accompanied by Rev. Mr. Tingley, arrived here on Tuesday and held a meeting in the United Church hall for the purpose of organizing a branch of the Christian Social Council of Nova Scotia—a body intended to take over the functions of the old Social Service Council, which was so successfully carried on by the late Rev. H. R. Grant. Under the new set-up the work will be enlarged to take in all phases of social work.

The Digby County Branch was organized with the following provisional officers, who will hold office until such time a county convention can be called:

President—Rev. Ross C. Eaton.

Vice-President—J. J. Wallis.

Secretary—Rev. F. B. Gaskill.

Treasurer—Rev. T. W. Hodgson.

Directors—Mrs. Wm. Lent, Dr. A. B. Campbell, Rev. J. E. DeLong, Rev. J. W. Derby, J. Vian Andrews and Capt. Ritchie.

TOWN TALK

There is no truth in the report that J. J. Wallis (Editor) installed a crane over his kitchen stove to hoist the egg he got from Loran Adams, from the pot, after it was boiled. The fact is he hasn't had it cooked yet, but drilled a hole through the shell and had a tap installed so that now Mrs. Wallis can draw a glass of egg juice for cooking when she wishes.

A tired sailor, ambled up to a local restaurant one night just as it was being closed. An equally tired waitress met him at the door, "Sorry," she said, "too late." "Oh, I gotta eat," he said; "I'm so hungry I could eat a horse and it don't have to be 'man-o-war.'" "O.K.," she said, "here's Whirlaway" and she slammed the door in the hungry Tar's face.

Killed In Action

Cpl. Douglas Kelley, 23, son of Mrs. Harry Sleat, of Oroslock Junction, N.B., was killed in action in Italy, March 18. Cpl. Kelley spent most of his life with his aunt, Mrs. George Morrell, and Mr. Morrell, Westport, and was a member of the Westport Baptist Church.

Besides his mother he leaves one brother, Kinley, in the army, now in England, and another brother, John, in the Navy, also in England, beside a brother and sister at home in New Brunswick; two step-sisters, and two step-brothers. He saw service in North Africa and also in Sicily. Although not a native of Westport, he grew up there and deepest sympathy of the community goes out to the family. He also leaves a grandmother, Mrs. Christian Hudson, in Westport.

The Navy League of Canada has chosen the week of April 17-22 as Fur Vest Week in the East Canadian Division of the Seamen's Fur Vest war project. It is hoped that during this appeal sufficient old fur coats, neck pieces, rugs, etc., will be donated to make at least 10,000 vests for our sailors.

Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Ruddock and son, Robert, of Annapolis Royal, were in town on Good Friday, visiting Mrs. Ruddock's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. VanBlarcom.

Harry R. Budd, "Buddy" Hutchins, and "Ronny" Titus, all of Halifax, spent Easter and the holidays with Harry's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Budd, Digby Neck.

Members of the Trinity W.A. will meet at the home of Mrs. C. E. Walker tonight for a social service and Dorcas Sewing Circle.

Navy League Visitors Coming

At the regular monthly meeting of the Hostel Committee, on Monday evening, it was stated that work had commenced that day on the addition to the recreation room, which will have the effect of doubling the capacity of the present room.

Lieut.-Commander J. R. Anderson and Lieut. D. Roberts, of H.M.C.S. "Cornwallis" were welcomed as members of the committee in the capacity of liaison officers with the base. C. F. McBride, president of the Navy League Branch, was also present and received a hearty invitation to attend every meeting if possible.

The Navy League of Canada is holding its annual meeting in Kentville this year. They will be in Saint John on Sunday, the 23rd, and will open a new hostel in that city. On the 24th they will arrive in Digby and will have luncheon at the Hostel, also taking time to inspect the facilities. In the afternoon they will be guests at H.M.C.S. "Cornwallis," and will leave on the evening train for Kentville.

The new moving picture projector which has been promised for months, arrived on Monday and will go into operation tonight.

Pte. Dorothy Harlow, C.W.A.C., Halifax, left Wednesday after spending the Easter week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen VanTassel.

Mrs. Susie Brooks, of Halifax, spent Good Friday and Easter Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. E. VanBlarcom.

Miss Marion Handspiker spent the Easter week end with friends in Saint John.

Mrs. Wallace Handspiker collected $27 for the Red Cross at Culloden.

Smith's Cove

We are pleased to report that Mrs. Nelson Speichts is improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sulis spent the Easter holiday in Saint John, guest of Mrs. McHugh.

Eugene Theriault, of Petawawa, and Arthur, of Montreal, visited friends here Friday.

Mrs. Hugh Wood has returned from Halifax, where she spent a week with her husband.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Payson attended the Drew-Payson wedding in Weymouth on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Mahoney entertained a number of guests at their home Saturday evening.

Miss M. Best and Miss B. Bower, teachers, spent the Easter holidays at their respective homes.

Pte. Aubrey Adams, who is home on furlough, was a visitor on the village Monday. He was accompanied by his wife.

Miss Mildred Walker, of the R.C.A.F., stationed in P. E. I., spent a furlough here with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sulis.

Mr. and Mrs. G. R. Chesley and son, Richard, spent the Easter holiday at Berwick with Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Beals.

Miss Peggy Baugh, of Toronto, Mrs. Herman Olsen and Mrs. Reginald Weir, of Digby, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Payson on Wednesday.

Mrs. Everest, who has been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Royden Smith, returned to her home on Friday. She was accompanied by little Miss Hilda Smith.

It is expected that talent from "Cornwallis" will stage a concert in the near future at Smith's Cove under the auspices of the Women's Institute.

Sailor Charged in Assault Case

Keith Johnson, naval rating, appeared before Stipendiary Magistrate Peters in the Digby Police Court on Saturday morning on a charge of causing bodily harm to Percy Keen, Digby. Johnson pleaded not guilty to the charge, and was remanded to be held in custody until Monday at 2 p.m., when it is understood another more serious charge may be said against him. On Monday the case was again adjourned until April 18.

Witnesses heard at Saturday morning's hearing were Mrs. Percy Keen, Navy Shore Patrolman Charles E. Davis and Robert O'Kane, driver of the shore patrol car, and Percy Keen.

Mrs. Keen testified her husband left the house to go for a walk at about 9 p.m. on the evening of April 3. Later in the evening she decided to go to meet him. She walked along King St., toward Sydney Street, and was near the Shrine when a sailor came out and grabbed her about the waist. She screamed. As she screamed Mr. Keen came in sight and asked what was wrong.

According to her evidence the sailor struck her husband and knocked him down. Her husband suffered a skinned nose, blacked eye and bruises about the head. She testified the sailor made another attempt to grab her, and took her flashlight.

She ran to the home of F. A. Robinson and telephoned to the Navy Shore Patrol.

Patrolman Charles E. Davis testified they received a call at about 2155 hours to go to King Street near the Shrine. The call came from a woman who was apparently too excited to state her message clearly. Arriving at the scene they found Mrs. Keen, Keith Johnson and Mr. Keen.

Witness stated they took them all back to the Naval Patrol office where Keen's wounds were dressed, and testified that at the Patrol office Keen asked Johnson "What was the idea of grabbing my wife?" Johnson replied, "What do you think, I intended to rape her." He further testified Johnson also said to Keen "I didn't know I hit you that hard." According to the witness Johnson had been drinking.

E. J. Theriault conducted the prosecution.

MARRIAGE

Rutledge - King

On Easter Monday morning at 11:45 a.m., a very pretty wedding was solemnized at St. Patrick's R. C. Church, Digby, with nuptial mass by Rev. Leo Murphy, P.P., when Muriel Fox King, formerly of Digby, was united in marriage to R. J. H. Rutledge, Sr., of Farnham, Que. The bride was attired in a beige suit with beige accessories and corsage of pink carnations and was attended by Mrs. H. E. Reicker, who wore a beige suit with brown accessories and corsage of white carnations and sweet peas.

The groom was supported by H. Christopher, immediately after the ceremony a buffet luncheon was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Reicker, after which the happy couple left on the Princess Helene to spend a few days in Saint John en route to their home in Farnham, Que.

The groom is District Representative of the C.P. Express, Quebec Division. Many beautiful gifts were received.

The Hospital Sewing Circle will meet Monday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Harold Reicker.

Beautiful New Hall Dedicated

The opening of the new community hall at Meteghan, took place on Easter Sunday with High Mass celebrated by the pastor, Right Rev. Mgr. J. E. Bourneuf, D.P., F.V., who blessed, before Mass the fine altar, followed by the hymn, "Ave Maris Stella." The choir composed of ladies, young girls and a few men, directed by the curate, Rev. Fr. A. Theriault, and Rev. Sister Olivia, rendered a well prepared Mass, and several hymns. Mrs. Jos. S. LeBlanc was at the organ.

This beautiful hall will be used for worship on Sunday until a new church will be built to replace the one lost by fire on May 20th last, and the basement will be used for amusements. The work of construction begins on August 9.

The foreman, Leo Pothier, received public praise for his promptness and ability. The pastor seemed very satisfied and has offered thanks to those who have contributed to erect this important building in such a comparatively short time, when materials were so hard to obtain.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Hannah E. Haines

The death of Hannah Emily Haines, resident of Freeport for many years, occurred on Wednesday, March 29, at Wilmington, Mass. She was 83 years of age, and was the widow of Milton Haines, Freeport. Surviving are three daughters: Mrs. Clifford H. Lyon, Gardner, Mass.; Mrs. Charles Rider, St. Petersburg, Fla., and Mrs. Andrew Campbell, Edmonton, Alberta; three sons, Emerson, of Wilmington (with whom she made her home); Lindsay, of Gardner, Mass. (formerly of Digby), and Eugene, of Stockton, Cal. Funeral services were conducted from Bigelow Chapel at Mount Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge, Mass.

Glenford R. Long

The funeral service of the late Glenford Long, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Long, Clements Heights, was held in the Clementsvale Baptist Church on Wednesday afternoon, March 29, at 2 o'clock, conducted by Rev. L. B. Wright, of Annapolis Royal, assisted by Ven. Archdeacon A. W. L. Smith, of Clementsport. Hymns sung by the choir were "Rock of Ages," "Jesus Lover of My Soul" and "Abide With Me." Besides his grief-stricken parents he is survived by two sisters, Ethel (Mrs. Bernarr Dean), of Pointe aux Trembles, Que., and Verna, of Halifax; six brothers, Wylie, of Halifax; Lindsay, of Pictou; Clyde and Corey, of Montreal; Elmore and Thane, serving in the Canadian Active Army in Canada. The floral tributes were many and beautiful. Interment was in the family lot at Clementsvale.

Mrs. Mary E. Eldridge

The death of Mary E. Eldridge, widow of Amaza Eldridge, occurred suddenly at her home, Sandy Cove, on Saturday, April 8. The late Mrs. Eldridge was born at Brighton in this county, 78 years ago, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lent. She had been a resident of Sandy Cove for many years and was proprietress of the well-known resort hotel, Hillside Farm. Mrs. Eldridge was one of the leaders of the community in which she lived and was founder of the Sandy Cove Public Library. She was superintendent of the United Church Sunday School of Sandy Cove for many years, retiring from that office about two years ago. Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Gidney, Mink Cove, and Mrs. Lewis Oakes, North Adams, Mass., also one brother, Frank Lent, Calgary, Alberta. Funeral services took place Tuesday afternoon from the United Church of Canada, Sandy Cove.

The many friends and relatives of L/Cpl. and Mrs. Ronald VanTassel, will regret to hear of the death of their infant daughter, age two days, which occurred at Plympton, April 5th. A short funeral service was held at the grave Thursday afternoon, Rev. J. Earle DeLong, of the Digby Baptist Church, officiating. Interment took place at the Baptist cemetery, Digby.

Total funds collected during the Red Cross Drive to date amounted to $2,326.06.

Cove, Rev. R. H. H. Barker, officiating. Burial was at Sandy Cove.

Easter Sunday In the Churches

Special services were observed in all the churches in Digby, Easter Sunday, and as the day turned out to be one of the nicest we have had this year, the people of Digby turned out in great numbers to attend.

Special Easter music was rendered by the choir of Grace United Church, with two anthems at the morning service and a solo "Open the Gates of the Temple" by Lieut. Kynes. At this service eight new members were received into full membership of the church, also one baptised. At the evening service a solo was rendered by Mrs. Audrey Halifax, entitled "Consider The Lilies", with two anthems by the choir and a duet by Wren Lilla Armstrong and Lieut. Kynes. The choir at both services was under the direction of Elton Arnold, Clifford Clark, Special Services H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, ably assisted at the organ.

At St. Patrick's, Easter was observed with exceptionally large attendance at all services. Holy Communion was distributed at 9, and a special Mass for the navy personnel at 10 a.m. Solemn High Mass was offered at 11:15, Rev. Leo Murphy, R.C.N., was the celebrant, assisted by Rev. Ronald MacLean, R.C.N., as Deacon and Rev. J. J. Curtin, R.C.N., as Sub-deacon. Rev. Raoul Deveau was the master of ceremonies. Father Murphy delivered the sermon. The choir which rendered appropriate Easter music was under the direction of Sister Helen Agnes.

At Digby United Baptist Church special music was rendered by the choir. A baptismal service was conducted in the morning and in the evening the "Right Hand of Fellowship" was extended to twenty new members. At the evening service also the choir rendered a cantata "Easter Hope" and "Crown Him" with solos by Mrs. R. Weir and Hedley Dakin and a duet by Guy E. Morehouse and Hedley Dakin. Both services were well attended.

The largest congregation in years attended the services held in Trinity Church. Holy Communion was observed at 7:30 in the morning with Choral Communion at the 11 o'clock service, a large number of communicants attended. Rev. F. B. Gaskill extended a hearty welcome to the many Navy personnel attending the services. Evening Prayer was conducted at 7:00.

Hospital Bridge Club met at the home of Mrs. Chester Levy, Tuesday evening for a very enjoyable buffet supper. Four tables of bridge were played, after which guests gathered in the living room for a surprise shower in honor of Miss Marion Roop. Gifts were displayed on a table decorated with a bride and groom under a miniature archway of flowers. An archway of arms was formed, through which Miss Roop passed, to strains of "Here Comes the Bride." She received many useful and lovely gifts. A three-tiered cake was then cut and served by Miss Roop, while friends gathered 'round to wish her "many happy years."

The many friends and relatives of L/Cpl. and Mrs. Ronald VanTassel, will regret to hear of the death of their infant daughter, age two days, which occurred at Plympton, April 5th. A short funeral service was held at the grave Thursday afternoon, Rev. J. Earle DeLong, of the Digby Baptist Church, officiating. Interment took place at the Baptist cemetery, Digby.

Built In Twelve Days

Next Sunday the new Wayside Chapel of "Our Mother of Perpetual Help," Deep Brook, will be dedicated by the pastor, Rev. Leo Murphy, of Digby.

The new chapel which was used for the first time for Mass on Easter Sunday, accommodates about a hundred people and is very attractive. Its erection in the space of twelve days has been the subject of admiration and comment by interested observers.

When Father Murphy first announced his intention of erecting a chapel to accommodate the many civilian Catholics near the Naval Base at Deep Brook, many of the workmen from the Dominion Construction expressed their willingness to help. The speed with which they did the job—the building complete in less than two weeks—shows how thoroughly they entered into the spirit of their work.

Last Sunday the chapel was filled to overflowing. Next Sunday, April 16, elaborate ceremonies have been prepared for the dedication which takes place at 3:30. The public of all denominations are cordially invited.

A Pantry Sale in aid of the V.O.N. will be held on Saturday, April 15, at 3 p.m., in Roop's old store (opposite Oddfellows' building).

Sgt. Dorothy Christie, R.C.A.F., Halifax, spent the Easter week end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Wilmot Christie.

Remember the Pantry Sale to be held in Roop's old store (opposite Oddfellows' building) Saturday, April 15, at 3 p.m.

There will be moving pictures at the Hostel every Tuesday and Thursday evening for service men. Admission is free.

H. B. Jefferson, chief censor for the province of Nova Scotia, visited the Wallis Print, Ltd., on Tuesday.

Miss Charlotte Deming is spending some time with her aunt, Mrs. Knowlton, at Parrsboro.

L.A.C. "Teddy" Weir arrived Wednesday to spend a leave with his mother, Mrs. R. Weir.

Miss Edna Robichaud spent the Easter week end at her home in Doucetteville.

Mrs. Alfred Marshall and daughter, Faye, spent Easter week end in Westport.

This smart new Easter coat the young lady is wearing was once her sister's old-fashioned dress coat. About This and That

In a group discussing the problem of adjusting minorities to the general population, of settling comfortably for all concerned such matters as the sudden influx of Negroes to one industrial city like Detroit, of merging refugees in a normal America, some one asked, "What can the church do about this?"

The person addressed took the question as one of merging the new people into settled congregations and replied with a smile that people were apt to like their own churches better than yours. Then Grandma spoke:

"You are all of you missing the point. You use long words and fancy phrases about groups, minorities, refugees, merging populations and the rest of that modern sociological patter. It means something, but people forget the old meaning in the new expressions. The Scriptural words for what to do are simple:

"To do justice, to love mercy, to walk humbly before thy God."

If everybody would treat his neighbor with the same justice, kindness, courtesy which he expects for himself and his family, there wouldn't be any problem. It is the business of the church to keep people mindful of those old, simple, eternal truths."

Grandma, the others agreed, had said the final word. She had the key.

Scientists tells us there are 279,678,934,341 stars in the universe, and we believe them. But if we see a sign "Fresh Paint", we are not satisfied until we investigate.

It is abundantly clear that we cannot afford to wait until the war is over before we start warming up for future trade. There is much that the Ottawa Government can do to help business limber up for peace. But there is a lot that business must do for itself. The two should be getting together now. Incidentally, keymen in export businesses can make a profitable investment even if they must mark time. They can learn the languages of the people with whom they hope to deal abroad.—MacLean's.

Since his intended bride forsook him at the altar fifty years ago, an Iowa recluse has not uttered a word. Well, it would have been just about the same had she married him.

Today, on the eve of the greatest military operation in history, Britain is inaugurating a salute to the soldiers of the finest army she has ever had. It is planned that from now on until the end of July "Salute the Soldier" weeks will be held in every corner of the Kingdom, with London coming first, where the objective is to raise in seven days the immense sum of one hundred and sixty-five million pounds sterling in war bonds and savings certificates. Despite the heavy burden of taxation—higher, it is stated, than of any country in the world—the people of the Kingdom have achieved total savings for the above purposes of six thousand eight hundred million pounds sterling in a little more than four and a half years, with the volume of voluntary savings steadily rising as the war goes on. The example should prove an inspiration to Canada in contributing to the forthcoming Victory Loan.

The Agricultural Department tells us that 407,013 chicks were hatched in Nova Scotia during January, February and March. It seems strange to be able to write figures like that without putting a $ sign in front of them.

Interested in Divorce

A woman in Wisconsin wants to divorce her husband, a retired naval officer, "because he insists we sleep in a hammock." She has slipped to the floor 16 times during their 23 years of marriage, she told the court, "and I'm getting to old."—Fred Sparks in "Parade."

In Chicago, a woman won a divorce when she complained that her husband, a murder-story fan, took up most of her evenings making her lie on the floor as the "corpse" while he tried to reconstruct the crime.—Time.

A Michigan wife obtained a divorce because her husband had given each of her five stepchildren a saxophone.—William LeVarre, Consolidated News Features.

A woman wanted her freedom because her husband, on leaving for his office each day, marked the soles of her shoes with white chalk so he could tell if she strayed from home.—Newsweek.

An Oklahoma woman won a divorce because after each quarrel her husband drove past their home in a car equipped with a public-address system that roared: "Mrs. Smith I won't be home tonight! That's final!"—T. D. Kemp, Jr., in Charlotte (N.C.) Observer.

TRUST

It is better to suffer wrong than to do it, and happier to be sometimes cheated than not to trust.

—Samuel Johnson

To be trusted is a greater compliment than to be loved.

Canada Calls on The Dairy Farmer

First in Peace—First in War—First in the doubly trying years of Reconstruction—march the farm production legions of the nation.

For upon the Farmer the whole vital food fabric of the country must inevitably rest.

And in the very vanguard of them all stride the Dairy Farmers, both great and small.

For, of all agricultural products, none is more vital to the strength and striking power of our armed forces, none is more necessary to the health and morale of the supporting civilians on the home front, than Milk and Milk Products.

MR. DAIRY FARMER: Yours is both a tremendous responsibility and a high privilege. Greater and greater production is daily required. As a part of your War effort—and in preparation for the years of strain which lie ahead—PRODUCE! PRODUCE! TO THE UTMOST!

IF HEAD COLDS HANG ON..

DO THIS! To relieve discomforts, one of the best things you can do is put a good spoonful of home-tested Vicks VapoRub in a bowl of boiling water.

Then feel welcome relief come as you breathe in the steaming medicated vapors that penetrate to the cold-congested upper breathing passages! See how this soothing irritation, quiets coughing, and helps clear the head-bringing grand comfort.

FOR ADDED RELIEF... rub throat, chest and back with VapoRub at bedtime. Vicks VapoRub works for hours—2 ways at once—to bring relief from distress. Remember, it's Vicks VapoRub you want.

WAR-TIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—I have discovered there are only 10 sheets of coupons in my new ration book. I understood there were to be eleven. Would you please tell me the correct number of each kind of coupons.

A.—There are 11 sheets of coupons in the No. 4 ration book. One for tea, one for sugar and one for preserves. Two for butter, four for meat and one each of "H" and "K" coupons.

Q.—Why are we asked to save our no. 3 ration "books" now that we have our no. 4 book?

A.—The No. 3 book contains the spare F coupons, the first ten of which will become valid for sugar for home canning. This book also contains meat coupons beyond No. 40 which will be of use should the temporary suspension of meat rationing be lifted.

Q.—Recently I paid 29c. for a two pound tin of corn syrup. Was this price too high?

A.—Yes, this price seems quite high for this product. However, the ceiling price on corn syrup is the highest price the store in question sold it at during the basic period, that is between Sept. 15 to October 11, 1941. Send us the name of your dealer and we will have his prices checked.

Q.—My grocer refused to sell sugar on the special preserves "D" coupons. Is this correct?

A.—No. You may purchase sugar with "D" coupons from any storekeeper. You must surrender one "D" coupon for each half pound of sugar.

Q.—My neighbor has offered me some butter coupons she does not require. Is it legal for me to accept them?

A.—No. But your neighbor could buy the butter and give it to you. It is illegal to be in possession of loose coupons for any rationed commodity.

Q.—Is it still necessary to turn in used toothpaste and shaving cream tubes? My retailer demanded that I turn in tubes before he would let me have new toothpaste.

A.—Citizens have been asked to turn in old tubes on a voluntary basis. Tin from these tubes can still be salvaged and help the war effort. However it is not compulsory "to return the empties" in order to secure a new tube.

Q.—Please send me a copy of your booklet with instructions for remodelling clothes.

A.—A copy of "Remake Wrinkles" has been sent you today. You will find many helpful suggestions for making use of cast-offs in this booklet.

Please send your questions or your request for the pamphlet "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book (the book in which to keep track of your ceiling prices) to the Consumer Branch, W.P.T.B., 77 Upper Water St., Halifax.

Keeps Corpse Ten Years

The body of a murdered woman has been identified after it was preserved in a chemical bath in police headquarters in Melbourne, Australia. And the man accused of killing her in 1934 has just been arrested.

Thousands of persons viewed the corpse before Mrs. Doreen Dunn identified the woman as her friend, Linda Platt Agostini.

Then Agostini was arrested for her murder.

"COMBINED OPERATIONS INCLUDE YOU"

● Invasion demands more action from every fighting service... combined operations. Combined operations include you, too.

Despite the shortage of help and equipment, Canadian farmers have responded nobly to demands for increased production of foods.

But there is one thing on which a better job can still be done, MORE MONEY is needed to fight a more intensive war.

All Canadians will be asked to furnish this money. It's a duty that we who are at home owe to the men on the fighting fronts.

In these days most farmers have higher incomes... money to save. And that is the job that they are asked to do... save money and lend it to Canada.

You are not asked to give money... just to lend it. When the war is over you'll have this money to "plough back" into your farm. So save now to lend to your country. Save to have money to improve your farm; money for new stock and implements; money for more land or new buildings... for a new car... for new furnishings and conveniences for your home.

All you can lend is little enough for a cause so vital for a need so urgent. And the more that you can save and lend to your country now, the more you will have for your own use when the war ends.

IN LOVING MEMORY of our dear mother, Lema Jane Van-Tassel, who passed away April 18, 1942.
Our mother was the kind to be proud of.
The kind to be thankful to.
The kind who just fit the description
The best the world ever knew.
But now life has ended for you.
Dear mother mine.
Your loving image lingers with Memories left behind.
And when anxiety bothers our Doubtful ways to fill.
We feel your presence near and know
You are with us still.
We need your guidance ever
No other will we find,
To soothe and cheer our doubts and fears
Like you dear mother mine.
Now on a hill top over looking the ocean.
In a lonely grave you are tucked away.
The cruel sorrow of that parting Can not be erased for many a day.

In the Churches

At the United Church of Canada on Easter Sunday morning, Rev. J. Brooks received two adults in full membership into the church, after which a very inspiring Easter sermon was given by the pastor, and anthems by the choir. The altar was banked in flowers. At the evening service the W.M.S., assisted by Rev. J. Brooks, gave an Easter Thankoffering service, assisted by the choir.

At the Baptist church on Sunday evening the Sunday School put on an Easter concert. There was also special music by the choir.

The Sunday School of the Advent Christian Church also presented an Easter concert, which proved enjoyable and inspiring, under the capable direction of Sunday School teachers and pastor.

Do we stand in our own light by allowing private enterprise? Could the work of the world be carried on far better by a centralized governmental bureaucracy?

OBITUARY

Miss Sophia Berry

Miss Sophia Berry passed away suddenly at her home in Clementsvalle, on Good Friday morning after an illness of only a few hours. She was born in Clementsvalle 74 years ago, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Berry, and is survived by one brother, Edmund M., of Clementsvalle, and one sister, Mrs. J. Henry Wright, of Bear River. She has lived her entire life in Clementsvalle, carrying on a dressmaker's trade for some time and for the past ten years has operated a Lunch and Ice Cream Parlor. The funeral was held at the United Church, Sunday afternoon by her pastor, Rev. James Brooks. Mrs. H. Marshall sang "God Will Take Care of You" and the hymns were "Rock of Ages" and "Abide With Me", all favorites of the deceased. Interment was in the United Church cemetery.

Deep Brook

At Smith's Cove, the choir rendered special Easter numbers and the treasurer announced receiving a gift of $50 from the Estate of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Rice through the executor, O. F. Woodman.

At Deep Brook, the choir rendered an anthem and solo with full chorus and the Sunday school assisted in the service with Easter Bible questions and answers, a prayer exercise and an Easter exercise entitled "The Blossoms of the Cross."

At Clementsvalle, a solo was rendered by Mrs. Hartley Marshall. The pastor, Rev. T. F. McWilliam was in charge of these services and gave short addresses on "Facts of the Resurrection." The organists were Miss Frances Austin, Mrs. Eric Adams and Miss Alice Mansfield.

During the last few weeks a new Roman Catholic church has been erected in Deep Brook on the property of the former Annapolis County Poultry Company, in which an Easter Mass was celebrated on Easter Sunday morning. The official opening of this church will take place on Sunday.

16th, when several clergymen will be present.

Easter services with Holy Communion were conducted in Saint Matthew's Anglican church by the Rector, Venerable Archdeacon A. W. L. Smith. Floral offerings were made by the Sulis family, the Ernest Purdy family and the William Spurr family, and also by Mrs. Curphey in memory of her son, Lieut. George Curphey, who made the supreme sacrifice for his country in Italy.

Some of those visiting their homes and attending the Easter services were Sarah MacDonald, C.W.A.C., Moncton, N. B.; Miss Mildred Walker, of Summerside, and her mother, Mrs. Ruth Walker, of Halifax, all at Smith's Cove service. James Nichols, of Acadia and Paul Jackson, teacher of Tiddville, at the Deep Brook service and Mrs. Minnie Purdy, returning to her home from Saint John at Clementsvalle.

Easter services were conducted in the Baptist churches of this pastorate last Sunday, large congregations attending all services. The floral offerings were beautiful and especially large at Deep Brook, where flowers were placed in the church by Mrs. Addie Dittmars, Mrs. Wm. Spurr, Mrs. Frank McClelland, and Miss Ethel Purdy and mother, Mrs. Ernest Purdy, and by Henry Sulis in memory of father, mother and sister, Miss Clara Sulis, and by Mr. and Mrs. Eric Adams in memory of Mrs. Fletcher Adams.

This inability of centralized planning to tolerate diversity is shown by the fumbling and uncertain handling of labour and farm problems in the present war.

NOTICE

FARMERS

Farmers requiring farm help are asked to get in touch at once with the nearest National Selective Service Office, or their agricultural representative.

Many farm laborers given permits to work off the farm for the winter months are having their permits cancelled. There are also rejects and discharged men from the armed forces who should be available for farm work.

It is very essential for the National Selective Service Officer to have signed applications in order that these men can be placed on the farms as soon as they are available. Otherwise they will be of necessity directed to other employment.

If you are interested in getting farm labor, fill in application form inserted in the advertisement and forward it to your nearest Selective Service Officer or agricultural representative. PROMPT listing of help required is very essential.

THE FUTURE FOR FIGHTERS

Answers to Questions About the Rehabilitation Programme for Service Men and Women

Q.—Has Canada any concrete plans for the re-establishment in civil life of personnel in the Armed Forces?

A.—Canada not only has concrete plans but it also has legislation and orders-in-council in effect and operating. Under the orders-in-council and legislation, up until the end of 1943, approximately 6,500 veterans of this war had received cash benefits and grants in addition to mustering-out pay and allowances to assist in their re-establishment. More than 6,000 veterans of this war are in receipt of pensions. Hundreds are receiving vocational training and a number are completing education at Canadian Universities. Those in need of medical and dental treatment are receiving that care.

Q.—Does the program apply to men and women alike?

A.—Except for a few reasonable modifications with reference to women in the Service, ex-service women and ex-service men benefit equally under the program set up.

Q.—In its broad features, what does Canada's rehabilitation policy do?

A.—It provides assistance to those ex-service personnel who are prepared to help themselves. It provides, where practicable, for return with seniority, to former civil employment to bona fide employees who wish to return to their former positions. It provides the facilities and finances for acquiring necessary trade skills. It enables those who interrupted their education to enlist to continue that education through grants and payment of fees. It provides financial benefits during the period ex-service personnel, fit and available for work, and for whom no suitable work is available, are seeking employment. It gives financial assistance while they are waiting the returns to those who embark on private enterprise. For those temporarily incapacitated but whose health is not so badly impaired as to necessitate hospitalization, there is financial assistance while rebuilding health. The pensions plan for those disabled as a result of service is fully operative while free treatment facilities are available for those whom departmental doctors find require treatment and hospitalization.

Q.—What is the period during which grants and benefits are operative?

A.—In the main these apply for a maximum of twelve months or the period of service, whichever is less.

Q.—What is the scale of grants and benefits?

A.—Single men receive $10-20 weekly and married men, with their wives, $14.40 weekly. In addition there are allowances for children and other dependents on approximately the same scale as paid by the Dependents' Allowance Board.

Q.—What about ex-service personnel who wish to establish themselves on the farm?

A.—The Veterans' Land Act, passed in 1941, takes care of this. Complete details of this Act will be given in a later issue but in general it gives the veteran, as a grant from the government, a substantial equity in his farm from the outset, conditional on his fulfilling his obligations for ten years.

Q.—Is there any similar home-making benefit for the urban worker?

A.—At present there is no such provision for an urban community, but ex-service personnel can receive similar assistance under the Veterans' Land Act if they wish a home with a small land holding within reach of their employment but outside the high taxation area. Similarly, commercial fishermen who return to that occupation after discharge from the Armed Services can receive help in establishing a home or small holdings near their fishing grounds and in purchasing their fishing equipment. (The next instalment of this feature will deal with procedure on discharge.)

Belgian Farmers Warned Against Nazi Tricks

The Belgian National Broadcasting station in London has warned Belgian farmers to be on their guard against a German scheme for requisitioning horses and vehicles. "Remember, 1918," the speaker said, "and the outwardbound procession of German soldiers that passed along our roads, trailing stolen cows or horses. . . I strongly advise all Belgian farmers to give incorrect returns for their horses, cows or asses. The same applies to vehicles of any kind that they may have in their possession. If they find it possible to arrange for the destruction of the census records in the local administration offices, they should do so. Any vehicles that are not indispensable for current needs should be unobtrusively removed to hiding places. I can assure you that there is no control service strong enough to detect false statements by farmers in the matter of vehicles. In the case of tractors and trucks and motorcars, I suggest you consider forthwith how best to put them out of commission. The Germans, don't forget, are only interested in vehicles that are in good working order. When liberation comes they won't have time to repair engines.

Straight Man From Away Back

George Burns, foil for the jokes cracked by his wife, Gracie Allen, is considered to be the leading straight man of his times. The most notable figure of antiquity who worked at the peculiar profession was Parmenio. Alexander the Great's best general. Even in the midst of battle Parmenio would get off dull remarks to which his chief could tag a reply good enough to keep on echoing through the history books for over two thousand years.

When the war with Persia was going well for the Macedonians and Greeks, Parmenio came out with a remark that gave Alexander a chance to say something which has a bearing on the present war, and should be a warning to anyone in the United Nations who may still hope for an easy peace by negotiating with a Germany not entirely defeated.

Darius, king of Persia fearing that even with his army of a million men he could not win the war, sent a letter to Alexander, offering an indemnity of ten thousand talents, all the territory West of the Tiber, and a daughter—in exchange for an immediate peace. So Parmenio stepped up in his role of straight man and said: "If I were Alexander I would accept." "So would I," said Alexander, "if I were Parmenio." He then went on to destroy the Persian armies so thoroughly that they never again invaded Europe.

ADDRESSES ON THE MOVE...

IN SPITE OF ALL WAR HAZARDS

31,500,000 LETTERS

REACHED YOUR MEN OVERSEAS LAST YEAR

DO you remember the "Change of Address" form which you filled out when you moved your civilian home? After that was filed at your local Post Office, every letter sent to your old address had to be redirected to the new one, and that went on until your correspondents were familiar with your new location.

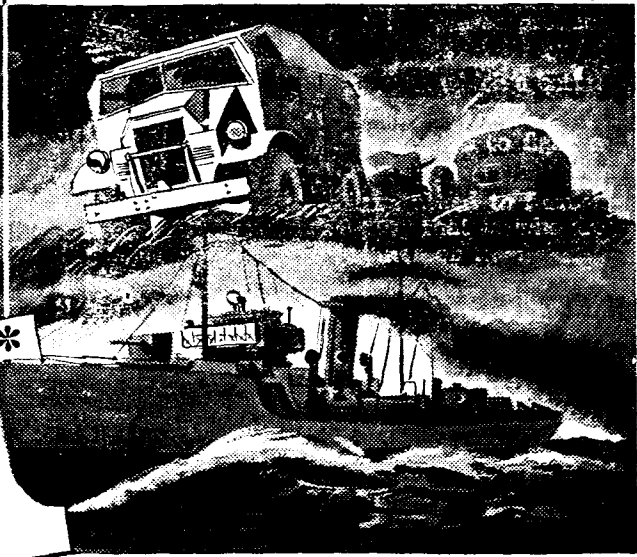

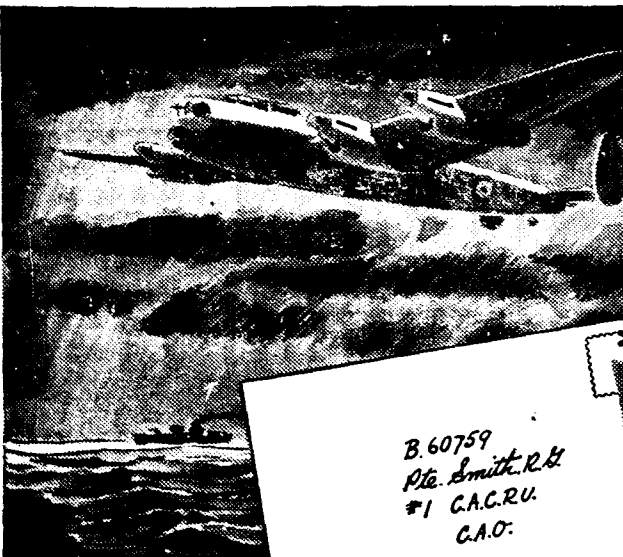

Probably you didn't move very often, but each time you did, the Post Office gave redirectory service. And if you will think about that for a moment, you will begin to see what a stupendous task confronts the Canadian Postal Corps in handling the military mails, when thousands of men are being moved almost daily!

Yet, in spite of the need of tracing men from reinforcement units to their locations on fighting fronts... in spite of the need of tracing them through hospitalization... or while on leave... when their unit is moved... in spite of delays in air mail service caused by adverse flying conditions... of delays in surface transportation caused by enemy action...

in spite of every war hazard you can think of... your Post Office and the Canadian Postal Corps delivered 31,500,000 letters to men overseas in 1943!

It is inevitable that, in tracing men who have been moved, or wounded, some delays occur. It is inevitable that enemy action holds up delivery in some cases. But everything that human ingenuity and effort can do to give you a service that means speedier delivery of the letters your men are waiting for, is being well and thoroughly done, and will be done. New methods of speeding mail deliveries are being put into effect, new possibilities are being studied. Think of your own friends who have been posted to new locations overseas, and realize the task of tracing them when their mail arrives at their former address!

You can help your Post Office and the Canadian Postal Corps to give even better service if you will take a moment to make sure that your mail is correctly prepared. Do these simple things...

1. Always be sure each letter or parcel (properly packed) is fully and correctly addressed.
2. Use light-weight paper for regular Air Mail, or use the Armed Forces Air Letter Forms. Airgraph letters take a little longer because they must be processed in Canada and overseas.
3. To men in hospital, mark your letter "In Hospital". If you are advised to this effect.
4. Never put into parcels perishable food, or any substance that can be damaged by extremes of temperature.

Japan's Volcanoes Revealed as Potential "Land Mines"

In 1883, the explosions were heard 3,000 miles away when the volcano Krakatoa in the Dutch East Indies "blew its top." In the immediate area a tidal wave 50 feet high, was produced, felt, with lesser effect, as far distant as the English Channel.

In 1815, an explosive force within the earth opened a new crater at Tombora, also in the Dutch East Indies. Before it was sealed off, some 50 cubic miles of molten material was hurled skyward. So dense was the smoke an artificial night was created over a region extending several hundred miles on all sides of the eruption.

Some of the worst devastation in history has been produced when the side walls and roofs of active volcanoes have blown out, opening a path of certain destruction for every living thing within a radius of scores of miles. Scientists are now pondering over what might happen to Tokyo if the walls of Japan's most famous volcano and sacred mountain, Fujiyama, were weakened by landslides caused by well-placed United States bombs. Some say it's possible to produce a volcanic eruption by bombing, but others are of the opinion that our block busters might be able to unleash tremendous destructive forces within Nippon's ancient volcanoes.

The latter group pictures volcanoes as natural land mines containing explosive properties many times greater than TNT. Relatively inert so long as it is subjected to the great pressures of the earth's crust, this matter is set off violently when the pressure upon it is released—for example, when it finds a thin spot in the crust, as it did at Tombora.

Occasionally, as with Mount Vesuvius, in Italy, recently, the force within volcanoes is sufficient to blow out the stopper in the vent of the narrow "chimney."

The last recorded eruption of Japan's 12,395-foot high Fujiyama occurred in 1707-08. If allied bombings could further enlarge the mouth of its "chimney", reducing the outside pressure, inner explosions might occur that would spread great havoc over the enemy's countryside.

Workers Make Escape From Reich in Raids

An "underground" source with close connections in Germany said recently that more than 55,000 foreign workers escaped from Germany in the past month during the confusion resulting from Allied air bombardments.

Gestapo Chief Henrich Himmler was reported to have ordered German police to keep a closer check on all foreign workers.

The same source said that a large section of Propaganda Minister Paul Joseph Goebbels' department has been moved to Copenhagen, Denmark.

The oldest Royal Canadian Army Cadet Corps in Alberta is that of the Blood Indians of St. Paul Residential School, near Cardston. Their names sound quaint to English ears — Dan Bad Arm, Tommy Soup, Dan Rides in the Door, Allen Small Face, and Don Weasel Moccasin, are some of them—but they are the names of loyal young Canadians whose fathers in the Great War fought gallantly for the Allied cause, and whose brothers from points across Canada, numbering 2,300 are serving in Canada's Armed Services today. The young cadets shown above long for the day when they will be of age for active service, too. They are natural crack shots and drill faithfully. Here they listen attentively while Tom Prairie Chicken, a member of the Corps 30 years ago, tells the story of an ancient rifle found at the site of the last great Indian battle between the Bloods and Crees. Income Tax Returns

FOR 1943 MUST BE IN NOT LATER THAN

30TH OF APRIL 1944

1. WHO MUST FILE RETURNS?

If you are single, and your income was over $660.00—
Or, if married, and your income was over $1,200.00—
Or if you had tax deducted in 1943—you must file returns.

2. WHAT FORMS TO USE

For income under $3,000.00 use Form T.1 Special.
For income over $3,000.00 use Form T.1 General.

3. WHERE YOU CAN GET FORMS

You can get income tax forms from—
1. Post Offices.
2. District Income Tax Offices.

Your early co-operation is requested. Over 2,000,000 Canadians will be filing income tax returns. You can help by getting your forms now, and mailing them promptly.

It is important that income tax returns be filed promptly. First, these returns must be filed to obtain credit for tax deductions. Second, to claim any refund to which you may be entitled. Third, to establish the Savings Portion of your tax, which will be paid back to you with interest after the War.

Make your returns now, but not later than 30th of April to avoid a penalty of 5% of your tax.

The unpaid balance of your 1943 tax may be paid any time before 31st of August WITHOUT PENALTY.

GET YOUR "T.4 SLIP" FROM YOUR EMPLOYER

To get a record of your 1943 earnings and tax deductions, ask your employer for a copy of the "T.4 Slip" he filed with the Government. Do this. It will save you time, and help prevent errors.

Should List Help Requirements Early

"While quite a number of men have been placed on farms during the past few weeks, the farm-labour situation is still serious with more men being immediately required especially on dairy farms," states William Milligan, Federal-Provincial director of farm labour.

Placements on the farms, Mr. Milligan explains, are made in the order in which applications for help are received from the farmers. This being the case, farmers requiring help are advised to make early application to the nearest office of National Selective Service or to the Agricultural Representatives.

Farmers are urged to work with these agencies so that 1944 production will equal or better than of 1943. As the result of splendid cooperation the farm labour problem was well met in 1943 when despite decidedly unfavorable weather conditions the crop was harvested and fair returns made to the farmers. "Surely," says Mr. Milligan, "the results of last year should be encouraging for this year. It is well understood that the first call on man-power is to win the war. Men rejected from military training and men who are old for military service working with others who are available can, if there is proper co-ordination, produce the food to win the war and write the peace."

Pasture Fertilization Is Underway

Pasture fertilization is underway in a number of places in the Province, quite a number of the farmers making a practice of fertilizing before the frost comes out.

This is one feature of the production program that can well be stressed, comments Dr. W. V. Longley, Director of Extension, particularly when consideration is given to the fact that pastures give the cheapest milk production.

It is eighteen years or more since the first fertilizer demonstrations were put out in the Province through agricultural representatives. In 1930 a province-wide competition was introduced.

The fertilizers which have been used most widely on pastures to date have been 2-12-6 on fairly good pasture lands and 5-10-5 on poorer lands. Some farmers whose pastures have been improved already and were in good condition before any treatment was given have had excellent results from superphosphate alone. A good many tests, however, have shown that if growth is at all sparse some nitrogen should be used. For this reason those planning to improve pastures are advised to use 3-18-0 (3 parts nitrogen, 18 of phosphate and 0 potash) which has been recommended for cereals seeded down as a substitute for 2-12-6, during this year of short potash supplies, and is equally as good for pasture lands.

Many have had excellent results from adding one ton of limestone per acre to any of the above mentioned applications. There is little doubt that for any long term policy lime should be used. However, some excellent results have been obtained over a period of years where lime has not been used.

Offer Courses In Caponizing

The first of a series of caponizing demonstrations in the Province was held at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College in conjunction with the Egg Grading Short Course March 31 to April 6. Practically all the 32 egg-grading students took in the two days of lectures and demonstrations on caponizing which were given by G. K. Samis, Provincial Poultry Promoter, and F. S. Kinley, Agricultural Representative for Halifax County.

As there is likely to be a record crop of chicks started in Nova Scotia this coming season, there will be a great deal of work to be undertaken by people qualified to do caponizing. A fairly large number of people in various parts of the province can do this work on a commercial basis, at so much per bird. Some of these are already busy at the job.

It appears, however, that a great many more need to be trained before all the caponizing in prospect can be undertaken. Hence, courses are being planned for various strategic points in the province, where groups of people wishing to learn the operation and to get some practice at making capons can do so.

Persons interested in learning caponizing should contact their Agricultural Representative, under whose direction such courses will be arranged, provided there is sufficient demand.

As dressed capons brought such an excellent price last fall, it is expected that many chick raisers will turn a large proportion of their cockerels into capons during this coming season.

Of the students at the Truro Short Course, it would appear that at least a dozen, with a little additional practice, will be able to proceed to do caponizing on a commercial basis. Some of them will be able to get in the practice on birds on their own poultry farms. With others, it may be necessary to arrange some additional follow-up work, in order to assure reasonable proficiency.

March Colder Than Average

Meteorological reports for the month of March received from government stations at Kentville, Truro, and Nappan indicate that March was fairly winterlike, somewhat colder than average with precipitation under average.

The heaviest precipitation for the month—2.91 inches—was reported from Nappan. Kentville's precipitation was 2.04 inches and Truro's 1.91. Truro's precipitation of 1.91 inches compared with 3.13 last year and 2.88 for the 34-year average, or practically one inch under normal.

The lowest temperatures for the month were 6 below at Truro on March 25, 4 below at Nappan on March 11, and 2 above at Kentville, March 4. The highest temperature was on the 25th of the month when 54 was recorded at Kentville, 49 at Nappan and 48 at Truro.

The report from Nappan states that the snow covering on the grass lands remained on until pretty well the end of the month, the snow disappearing rapidly but gradually during the last week and a half. With no frost in the ditches and rains the water got away without any bad freshets.

Chick and Egg Production is Well Up

Reports made by C. M. McMillan, Poultry Marketing Services, to the April meeting of the Nova Scotia Egg and Poultry Marketing Committee, indicate a marked increase in chick hatchings and egg production this year, as compared with last year.

Chicks hatched in Nova Scotia hatcheries in the first 3 months of this year totalled 407,013. These were from 555,421 eggs set and meant a hatchability of 73.2 per cent.

The total hatchings for the first three months of 1943 was 258,716, from 368,608 eggs, making 70.1 per cent hatchability.

Egg receipts from the Registered egg grading stations of the province in each week of March this year showed a large increase over the corresponding weeks of March, 1943, with a total for March 1944 standing in excess of 8,281 cases compared with 5,242 cases for March 1943.

Rally Dates Are Announced

Dates for 18 district rallies between May 25 and June 28 have been announced by Miss Helen J. Macdougall, superintendent Women's Institutes of Nova Scotia. The list includes: June 20—Annapolis, at Tupperville; June 21—Digby, at Plympton;

This Changing World

There is a lack of indication that any post-war policy of wing-clipping or narrow nationalism will get far with Canada's young men. They have become accustomed to the broader scene.

The other day in Montreal two flying boys were completing their Valentine shopping. "Another item and I'm through," one told the other. "I crave nuts, saw some beauties in a store window. Let's go."

They did go, up and down St. Catherine street and side streets, ogling every display. No nuts.

"I know I saw them," the senior flier persisted. "They were in a carton beside a box of dried apricots."

Further search brought no better luck. They were at dinner some hours later when it came to him.

"I know where I saw those nuts," he suddenly recalled. It was in Reykjavik, Iceland."

We Can Do Better

IN the past, wars have brought with them a high cost of living, ending with inflation.

This sapped the strength of nations and added poverty and injustice to the other tragedies of war.

Later it has led to falling prices and unemployment.

In this war, we Canadians are determined to head off this danger.

We have done much to avoid a repetition of the disastrous price rises of previous wars.

We have paid higher taxes. We have bought Victory Bonds. We have severely limited profits.

We have put a ceiling on prices. And to make it possible to hold the ceiling, wages and salaries have been controlled.

In one way or another most increased costs have been absorbed and very few passed on to the consumer.

Holding the ceiling has been a struggle. But the results have been worth while. From 1914 to 1919 prices rose 60%. From 1939 to 1944 the rise has been only 18%.

This effort of the Canadian people has been successful enough to be noted in other countries.

But we must continue to hold the line. We need not let history repeat itself. We can do better.

We can all help—

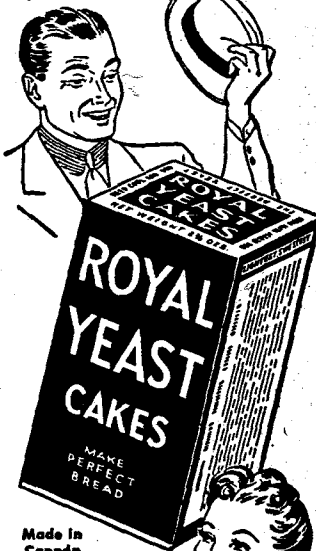

By cutting down unnecessary spending, and buying Victory Bonds instead.

By not hoarding or buying in black markets.

By not taking advantage of the war situation to press claims for higher prices, higher wages, higher rents or higher profits.

(This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing a further increase in the cost of living now and hereafter.)

MARRIAGE

Drew - Payson

A wedding of interest to many friends and relatives throughout the province took place on Saturday evening in the Hartz Memorial United Church, Weymouth, when Jean Alemeda Payson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Randolph R. Payson, was united in marriage to John Duncan Drew, R.C.A.F., younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry D. Drew, Rev. R. H. H. Barker officiating. Given in marriage by her brother, Charles Arnold Payson, of Truro, the bride looked lovely in a floor length gown of white satin cut with sweetheart neckline, long sleeves, buttoned waist and gathered skirt. Her veil was full length, and she carried a shower bouquet of Talisman roses. Miss Alice Payson, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, wearing a floor length dress of pink taffeta, cut on the same lines as the bride's, with shoulder length veil. Her bouquet was of pink and white carnations. Little Carole Payson, niece of the bride, was flower girl and wore a full length dress of pale blue crepe, carrying a nosegay of mixed flowers.

The groom was supported by H. W. Powell, of Weymouth. Willis Mullen and Victor McNeil acted as ushers. Miss Frances Lent presided at the organ and during the signing of the register Mrs. George Wagner, cousin of the bride, sang "I Love You, Truly." The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with ferns and spring flowers. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home, about 50 guests being present. The bride's table, decorated with candles, was centered with a three-tier wedding cake. Out of town guests included Mrs. Eva Wendell, Middleton; Mrs. Harry D. Drew, Yarmouth; Mrs. George Drew, Yarmouth; Mrs. Doug. Southern, Port Maitland, Miss Jean Munsie, Truro; Miss Marie Mills, Halifax; Arnold Payson, of Truro; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Payson, Smith's Cove, and George Hall, of Yarmouth.

A number of showers were held in honor of the bride, and she was the recipient of many lovely wedding gifts. For a number of years the bride was on the staff of Percy Supplies Limited, Halifax, and the groom is a former member of the staff of the Royal Bank of Canada, now serving with the R.C.A.F., stationed at Moncton. For travelling the bride was dressed in a tailored suit with matching accessories and silver fox fur. She wore a corsage of roses. After a brief honeymoon in the province, the couple will reside in Moncton. They have the best wishes of a large number of friends.

OBITUARY

Edmond J. Comeau

After a lingering illness Edmond J. Comeau, age 71, passed away on April 4 at his residence, Meteghan Station, leaving his wife (formerly Sophie Comeau) and a son, Denis, at home; also three sisters: Rev. Sister Aimee, of the Holy Trinity Order, Quebec; Mrs. Charles Maillet, Meteghan Centre, and Mrs. Philip Maillet, of Cambridge, Mass. Deceased has been employed several years with the Clare Produce Co-operative, but over a year ago was obliged to retire, through illness. He was also a school commissioner for the Clare District. Of kind disposition he will be greatly missed in the community. Funeral service took place at the Sacred Heart Church, Saulnierville, on Holy Thursday afternoon at 3 o'clock, Rev. Father Castonguay, C.J.M., pastor, officiating. Edmond P. Deveau had charge of the burial and the bearers were Pte. Leger Theriault, Benoit Saulnier, Albert Comeau and Murray Hicks.

Philip Maillet

The news has been received of the sudden death of Philip Maillet, age 60 years, which occurred on April 7 at Cambridge, Mass. His wife (formerly Marie Comeau) survives, also two sons and a daughter. Deceased was a son of the late Ambrose Maillet, of St. Alphonse de Clare, and leaves two brothers, David, of Malden, Mass., and George, Rosindale, Mass., also four sisters, Mrs. Thomas German, postmistress of Meteghan village; Mrs. Jerome Comeau, Somerville, Mass.; Mrs. John Melanson, East Boston, and Mrs. Eddie Comeau, of Lynn, Mass. Much sympathy is extended Mrs. Maillet in her bereavement as she lost in three days her husband and her only brother, Edmond J. Comeau, who died on April 4, at Meteghan Station.

Edwin Ellis

The funeral of Edwin Ellis took place at the Christian Church, Westport, Wednesday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. W. Derby, assisted by Rev. S. Ricker. He was a valued member of the church. He had been in failing health for some time and was tenderly cared for by his daughter, Mrs. Terence Robicheau. He was 86 years of age and leaves to mourn three daughters: Mrs. Terence Robicheau and Mrs. Charles Webber, of Westport; Mrs. Joe Tarden, of Concord, N.H.; and one son, Eddy, of Boston. The hymns sung were "I Stand Amazed," "Under His Wings," and "In The Garden."

Alphonse Babin

At Meteghan, after six years' illness, Alphonse Babin, age 26, died Wednesday evening, April 12, at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Babin, who cared for him. One brother and two sisters survive: Albert and Pauline at home, and Mrs. Lawrence Surette (Anita), of Yarmouth. Funeral service with high mass of requiem took place at the Stella Maris Chapel, Meteghan, Friday morning at 9 o'clock, Right Rev. Mgr. J. E. Bourneuf, D.P., F.V., pastor, officiating. Edmond P. Deveau had charge of the burial with James, Edward and Adolphe Comeau and Alfred F. Deveau as bearers.

Mrs. Herbert Mutch

There passed away at the Digby General Hospital on Wednesday afternoon, April 12, after a short illness, Mrs. Mary Alice Mutch, age 74 years. Mrs. Mutch was born in Lancashire, England, and came to Conway with her husband twelve years ago from Newburyport, Mass., and has lived in Digby for nearly two years. Surviving are her husband, Herbert Mutch; two brothers, John Dunkerley, Lo-

Properties Change Hands

A number of business and real estate changes have taken place in Digby during the past few weeks, among them are the following:

Warren and Harry Wong, of Halifax, have taken over Webber's Lunch, now closed for renovations. The restaurant is being completely remodelled and will open sometime next month under the name "Cornwallis Cafe." Warren Wong is manager of the Glory Cafe in Halifax.

R. R. Baxter has purchased the building owned by the P. W. Holdsworth estate and at present occupied by the Digby Business College, and will move his grocery store into this premises in the near future.

R. B. Campbell has purchased the building owned by Miss Minnie Campbell. His grocery store has occupied the ground floor of this building for several years.

TOWN TALK

It was one of those windy days last week that little Tommy Thomas (no relation to Lowell Thomas) was scurrying for home carrying a newspaper he had just got from a neighbor to make a kite. A man hailed him from across the street: "Hi, sonny, consider yourself sold out." The boy ran over, not sure what the man meant, but before he could say, "Mister, got any string?" the stranger had snatched the paper from his hand and dropped a dime in its place, and with the familiar "keep the change" gesture, he went his way (leaving the boy with mouth at half-cock) only to find that when he got home he had a Halifax daily dated Sept. 8, 1942.

The scallop season will end April 30th, and from then until next October 1st, most of the scallop boats will be about as popular as a rabbit hound in August.

"How's your mother - in-law?" I asked a fellow from Clare, "didn't you tell me some time ago that she was sick?" "Oh, I guess she must be dead," he replied, "I didn't get any letter saying she got better." (Next week all about fishing.)

Miss A. Mills, who spent the Easter vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Myron Fenton, Bedford returned Monday to take up her duties at Digby Academy.

well, Mass., and Edmund Dunkerley, Waltham, Mass.; two sisters, Mrs. Ellen Hadley and Mrs. William Laird, both of Lowell, Mass., also her daughter, Annie, (Mrs. Raymond Lent) and a granddaughter, Ruth Lent, of Digby. Funeral service was held from the home on Birch Street, Rev. F. B. Gaskill conducting the service, and interment at Fairview Cemetery.

James A. Wood

James Arthur Wood, sixty-three, of Conway, died suddenly at his home late Thursday afternoon. He was the son of the late James Edward Wood, of Lansdowne. He came to Canada in 1926, making his home at Lansdowne for three years. From there he moved to Conway, where he has since resided. Surviving are his wife, Margaret; two sons, "Jim", with the R.C.A.F. overseas, and Eric with the R.C.A.F. in Ontario; three daughters, Mrs. William Warren and Mrs. Marjorie White, both of Digby, and Margaret, at home; five grandchildren. Also his mother and brother, in Lansdowne, and one sister, of Waverly, Mass. Funeral services were conducted by Rev. F. B. Gaskill and Ven. Archdeacon A. W. L. Smith, of Clementsport. Interment was at Bear River on Tuesday.

Naval Rating Found Guilty

A verdict of guilty was handed down in Police Court Tuesday morning to Keith Johnson, naval rating, charged with assault.

In summing up, Stipendiary Magistrate George Peters said that in view of the evidence he felt Johnson was lucky to have escaped a more serious charge. "While I have every sympathy for the boys in uniform and wish them to enjoy themselves in our town, our streets must be made safe for decent men and women."

"Taking into consideration that you have already spent 15 days in close confinement I sentence you to 30 days in Digby County Jail to run from April 3, 1944."

Town Council Given Authority To Borrow $3,000

The Digby Town Council was given authority at a meeting of the ratepayers of the town of Digby, held in the Court House, Monday evening, to borrow a sum not exceeding $3,000 "for the purpose of laying out, opening, constructing, making and draining streets, roads, bridges, culverts and retaining walls in the town, and acquiring or purchasing materials, machinery, implements and plant deemed requisite or advisable therefore, or for maintaining, clearing, or improving such streets, roads, bridges, culverts and retaining walls."

The vote, which indicates the number in attendance at the meeting, was 14-3 in favor of the borrowing.

Mayor F. L. Anderson presided over the meeting which was called to order by town clerk H. A. Nichols, who read the resolution. Harry Raymond asked the clerk to explain just what it was the town wishes to purchase. He was advised the town had written the Department of Municipal Affairs asking them to draft a borrowing resolution for the purpose of purchasing a truck with hydraulic dump body and snow plow, and that the resolution as read was the one drafted by the department.

Adoption of the motion was moved by V. G. Cardoza and seconded by V. G. Snow.

Harry Raymond spoke against the resolution reviewing alleged abuses in the use and maintenance of the truck owned by the town a number of years ago, and arguing the necessity to hire a driver for a new truck, and thus increasing the town tax rate.

In answer to a question put by Councillor Cardoza the clerk advised that trucking for streets and water departments only cost the town $890.46 in 1942 and $1,190.90 in 1943, and that the average cost to the town for the past six years was in the vicinity of $1,100.

Those speaking in favor of the resolution were V. G. Cardoza, G. H. Peters, H. M. Warner, and E. B. Richardson. All were of the opinion the town would save money by operating its own truck, and all made references to the big storm in February when town streets were blocked with snow and of the dire consequences that could have occurred with the fire pumper snowbound in the fire hall under these conditions.

Mayor Anderson in answering Mr. Raymond's charges regarding abuses to the old truck, remarked that Digby should have a town manager and "the sooner we get one, the sooner we will be able to go places." Favorable opinions in this respect were voiced by all other speakers during the evening.

AC2 Avard Franklin, R.C.A.F., is spending two weeks' leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Franklin, Conway.

Concludes Activities For Season

Grace United Church Brotherhood concluded its activities for the season on Tuesday evening when they observed "ladies' night." The highlight of the evening was the entertainment provided by H. M.C.S. Cornwallis entertainers with leading bandsman Clifford Clark, who presided at the piano as master of ceremonies.

The programme got under way with a lobster chowder supper. This was followed by a short business session and a sing-song, after which came the Navy's part of the entertainment. The entertainment closed with a quiz, with Vincent Snow as quizmaster.

Celebrate 15th Anniversary of Mite Society

The members of the Bear River East Mite Society celebrated the fifteenth anniversary of their society on April 7th, at the home of Mrs. Ralph Pierce, with nearly all members present. The meeting opened with hymns, scripture reading and prayer, after which the business meeting was carried out with the re-election of officers as follows: president, Mrs. Lucie Sanford; vice-president, Mrs. Edna Gower; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Thelma Buckler; organist, Mrs. Cassie Duke-shire.

At the close of the evening refreshments, including a decorated birthday cake with fifteen candles (made by Mrs. Charles VanBuskirk, one of the members) were served.

This has been a very successful year for the society. They have sent cigarettes, candy and socks to the boys overseas from that village.

Forced Down In Italy

First Lieutenant George F. Devine, 24, bombardier of a B-17 Flying Fortress, has concluded a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Devine, 90 Clark St., Framingham, Mass., and will soon report for further combat service. Lieut. Devine, who is one of six brothers in the United States armed forces, has been eight months overseas, and made 50 combat missions over Europe.

His mother is a former North Range woman, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Doran Haight, of that village. Frank Haight and Mrs. William Wamboldt, of North Range, are uncle and aunt, of Lieut. Devine.

Lieut. Devine's missions since arriving in North Africa have carried him over Mar-selles, France; to various parts of Italy, Austria, Germany, France and Bulgaria. His last mission was over an enemy airport in Greece.

On October 6, while on a mission to Mestre, Italy, his plane attacked by a swarm of enemy fighter planes and continued over the target with two engines shot out, the plane later crashing near Forcia, just two days before that city was captured from the Germans by the British 8th Army. The crew, first reported missing in action, later made their way to a British base and soon after rejoined their base to resume operations in another plane.

Willis Tibbets, of Brighton, who has been visiting at Mt. Forrest, Ontario, for the past ten weeks, returned on Friday. He was accompanied by his son, Francis, who has been spending the past eighteen months with his aunt in that town.

One hundred and two Wrens visited at the Y.W.C.A. during last week with 37 spending the week end there.

Fatal Accident at Deep Brook

Mrs. Jessie North, 79, met almost instant death at Deep Brook, on Tuesday evening, when struck by a car operated by Ralph Fredericks, of Digby. The car owned by A. L. Robinson, of the MacDonald Motor Co., Ltd., Digby, with whom Fredericks is employed.

The accident occurred on the main highway about 8:15 p.m. It is stated Mrs. North, who had been calling at the home of Mrs. Myrtle Jackson, left that home to walk to the house of her sister, Mrs. Ralph Spurr, about one half mile distant. She started to cross the road and apparently did not look in either direction, as visibility is good along that section of the highway.

According to Fredericks he first noticed the woman when about 100 yards from her. He sounded his horn, but apparently Mrs. North did not hear him, for she made no move to get out of the road, but continued on her way. In an effort to avoid striking her Fredericks swung the car to the left and ditched his machine but was unable to avoid an accident. Mrs. North, who was knocked to the pavement, died before medical aid could reach her.

In the front seat with Fredericks was Petty Officer Gilbert Wyatt. The back seat was occupied by Leading Seaman Robert Stevenson and Bandsman Wallace Clark, all of Cornwallis.

F. Robar, of Deep Brook, witnessed the accident from his window.

Mounted Police of Digby were called to the scene of the accident. A coroners jury was empanelled Tuesday evening with Dr. L. B. Braine, Annapolis Royal, as coroner, and Frank Dittmars, Deep Brook. The inquest was conducted in the Deep Brook school house, yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. North was one of the oldest of the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. David McClelland, and was born at Graywood, Annapolis County. She lived in Chicago, where her husband was a professional musician, for many years. After his death seven years ago she has spent the greater part of each year with her sister, Mrs. Robert Spurr, Deep Brook. Miss Minnie McClelland and J. Frank McClelland, both of Deep Brook, are also a sister and a brother.

ACADEMY ACTIVITIES

The total amount of stamps bought by the students from September amounted to $1,964.75. The total sold by students on Thursday afternoons amounted to $360.75, making a grand total of $2325.50 worth of stamps bought and sold by students this term.

The High School boys' and girls' basket ball teams went to Wolfville on April 14, where they played two games, each against the Wolfville teams. Both Wolfville teams were successful. The score in the first boys' game stood at 5-3. The final score in the boys' games was 9-7. The girls played a fast and interesting game, scoring 7-6 in the first game. The second game was equally interesting with a score of 2-0. The teams stayed in Wolfville over-night.

School started again on Tuesday, after an Easter vacation of ten days.

The "Fundy Light" will be on sale next week. Don't forget to buy a copy. The students are working hard to make this publication as successful as the Christmas one.

The Good Cheer Hospital Aid Club will meet with Miss Effie Adams on Friday.

MARRIAGE

Robichaud - Robichaud

At the Sacred Heart Church, Saulnierville, on Monday, April 10, at 8 o'clock, Rev. Father Castonguay, C.J.M., pastor, united in marriage Eric Robichaud, son of the late S. Z. Robichaud, of Meteghan, and Miss Grace Robichaud, adopted daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Adolphe Deveau, of Meteghan Station, having for witnesses Pte. Joseph Robichaud, R.C.A.F., brother of the groom, and Miss Juliette Deveau, of Meteghan. After the ceremony breakfast was served at the bride's parents', after which they motored to Yarmouth for dinner. On their return they participated in a well-prepared supper at the home of the groom's sister, Mrs. Eddie LeBlanc, with relatives and intimate friends. The newlyweds will make their home for some time at Mahone Bay, where the groom is employed. They have the best wishes for a happy and prosperous wedded life.

Chapel at Deep Brook Dedicated

The Wayside Chapel of Our Mother of Perpetual Help, Deep Brook, was solemnly dedicated Sunday afternoon in the presence of a large congregation, including officers, ratings, and Wrens, from nearby H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, and a number of priests from neighboring parishes. The actual ceremony of dedication was carried out by Right Reverend Basil C. Martin, V.G. Royal Canadian Navy, Ottawa, assisted by Rev. Ronald MacLean, R.C.N., and Rev. J. R. Goulet, R.C.N., H.M.C.S. Cornwallis. Rev. Haoul Deveau, curate of St. Patrick's Church, Digby, was master of ceremonies.

The chapel, erected and made ready for Divine Worship in a record space of 12 days, is capable of accommodating 100 people and is a beautiful adaptation of Catholic Liturgy. Its interior has been the object of much favorable comment.

The Chapel of Our Lady of Perpetual Help is the first Catholic Church in that locality for more than 150 years. During the days of French occupation Mass was offered a few miles to the eastward. It has been erected to offer religious services to civilian Catholics now residing in the district who have come to the vicinity in connection with the nearby naval base.

The chapel will be open daily and beside Mass on Sunday mornings, Novena Devotions will be held every Sunday afternoon at 3:30.

In his sermon of dedication, Rev. Leo Murphy, R.C.N., pastor of Digby, who conceived and brought the chapel into being, thanked all those who co-operated in making possible this much needed place of worship, particularly the men, who, after hours, worked so faithfully that the chapel might be ready for Easter Sunday Mass. He also voiced the hope that the opening of this chapel would be the means of bringing God's Grace into the hearts of the parishioners and to the many young men and young women at Cornwallis who would find the Wayside Shrine a peaceful place of prayer. To those who were not members of the Catholic faith, he extended an invitation to come to the shrine at any time and seek the presence of God there.

The choir was under the direction of Sister Helen Agnes, St. Patrick's Convent, Digby.

This week April 17-22, is Seamen's Fur Vest week. Any-one having old fur coats, neck pieces, rugs, etc., to donate, please get in touch with Mrs. J. A. Grant, 'phone 199, Digby.

About This and That

Russia has been a powerful ally and a good friend, and Premier Stalin is obviously a valuable associate in this war against Nazism. But it would be unfortunate if Mr. Stalin insisted on undue enlargement of authority outside of Russia. Some of his recent moves have suggested an expansion of influence in Central Europe and Italy, tending to cause uneasiness in Britain and America. The strength of the Allied cause and the hope of a peaceful and cooperative world have been based on the assumption of British, American and Russian equality in this war against the outlaw powers. As Americans understand the war, it is not being fought for the aggrandizement of any nation or group, but to bring peace, justice and opportunity to a free world. Unwarranted expansion of these aims would be unfortunate for the whole Allied cause.

A woman is seldom happily married unless her husband is afraid of her.

The following figures are gleaned from the Fire Marshal's Report of the Province of Nova Scotia for the year 1943: Total fire loss for Nova Scotia for the past year, $1,627,644; for Bridgetown, $6,552; for Middleton, $2,957; for Antigonish, $23,796; for Dominion, $11,411; for North Sydney, $18,862; for Sydney, $41,816; for Sydney Mines, $8,147; for Stewiacke, $3,850; for Truro, $21,407; for Amherst, $76,887; for Oxford, $4,246; for Parrsboro, $2,117; for Springhill, $2,890; for Digby, $10,904; for Dartmouth, $7,024; for Halifax, $532,562; for Hantsport, $5,165; for Windsor, $4,072; for Port Hawkesbury, $56,829; for Kentville, $10,115; for Wolfville, $4,742; for Bridgewater, $7,172; for New Glasgow, $56,872; for Pictou, $13,233; for Stellarton, $9,550; for Trenton, $3,457; for Westville, $10,601; for Liverpool, $6,053; for Shelburne, $339; for Yarmouth, $5,207. There were 1,328 fires in Nova Scotia during the year. Twenty-seven of these fires caused a loss of $1,048,293, which is 64.41 per cent of the total of $1,627,644. There were 255 fires in the City of Halifax with a loss of over half a million dollars. Thus does valuable property go up in smoke and yet people continue to build of wood in a vain effort to save a few dollars. Evidently we don't learn from the past but continue to muddle along from one generation to another.

Buying what you do not need gives you a good start on the road to needing what you cannot buy.

Not only are guns and bombs the weapons of this war, for included in the list of weapons that are supplied by the home front are waste fats, toothpaste tubes, scrap iron and rubber, and last but by no means least, paper. Paper has become one of the most vitally needed materials of war, and in spite of its value, it is probably the most thoughtlessly destroyed material that there is. Perhaps if you knew what 100 pounds of paper would do you would think twice before throwing that old newspaper away after you have finished reading it. The uses of paper are so many that we will list only a few here, a few to make you think about the war time value of the newspapers you had trouble in getting rid of in peace time. One hundred pounds of salvaged paper would make 20 protective bands for 250-pound bombs, or that it would protect seventeen 500-pound bombs or eleven 1000-pound bombs, or that it would make 50 casings for 75 millimeter shells or 100 casings for average shells? Do you realize that it would provide material for 1100 cartons, each containing fifteen 50-calibre bullets, or 2100 cartons, each containing five 45-calibre bullets? That it would provide a protective covering for 200 containers for blood plasma, one of which might save the life of your own son, or 200 containers for soldiers' field rations? Do you know that 100 pounds of waste paper would provide 1,410 boxes of emergency lifeboat-supplies which will be called upon to sustain lives of Canadian soldiers and sailors adrift at sea, or 650 cartons containing rations which you or your neighbor's sons may have to depend upon for food while they crouch in a foxhole? That it will produce 2,900 cartons, each containing 10 cartridges which are used for inflating life rafts or cartons to carry enough yellow fever vaccine to inoculate 120,000 men.

An average man would soon attain perfection if he followed the advice he hands out to his neighbor.

Gems of Thought

MAN OF INTEGRITY

The integrity of men is to be measured by their conduct, not by their professions. —Junius

The man who does his work, any work, conscientiously, must always be in one sense a great man. —Mulock

True honesty takes into account the claims of God as well as those of men; it renders to God the things that are God's, as well as to man the things that are man's. —C. Simons

The man of integrity is one who makes it his constant rule to follow the road of duty, according as Truth and voice of his conscience point it out to him. —Mary Baker Eddy

It is wonderful what strength and boldness of purpose and energy will come from the feeling that we are in the way of duty. —John Foster

A mind conscious of integrity scorns to say more than it means to perform. —Robert Burns

The word salary comes from a Latin word meaning that part of a Roman soldier's wages he received in salt.

WAR-TIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—I was ill and unable to secure our family's ration books last week. How can I get one now?

A.—Either call personally or write to your nearest Local Ration Board or the Ration Administration of the W.P.T.B., 136 Hollis St., Halifax. If you come in person bring your ration book with you. If you are mailing your application send just the completed RB-99 card at the back of the book. For the books of children under 12, include the "E" coupons with the card.

Q.—Since canned rhubarb and canned crabapples are off the rationed list, does that mean that rhubarb jam and crabapple jelly are off the list too?

A.—No. rhubarb jam and crabapple jelly are still rationed.

Q.—I paid sixteen cents for a three and a half ounce tin of salmon last week. Is there a ceiling price on canned salmon?

A.—Yes. The price of salmon is controlled by a Board Order. There are many different types and brands of salmon and the price varies. If you could give definite information regarding the type and brand of salmon a check could be made.

Q.—I notice that the tea-coffee coupons in ration book four are marked "T". Does this mean that coffee rationing will soon end?

A.—When ration book four went to press there was no indication that coffee rationing would be lifted.

Q.—We are giving a church bazaar in a few days and would like to sell home made jams and jellies. Will we have to collect coupons for these sales?

A.—No. Religious or charitable organizations may sell jams and jellies without collecting coupons providing they first obtain permission from their local Ration Board. The request for permission must be in writing.

Q.—My husband is a diabetic and therefore does not use the sugar coupons in his ration book. May he get extra butter rations instead?

A.—Yes, by taking a doctor's certificate to the Ration Administration at 136 Hollis St., Halifax, showing the nature of his disease he can obtain more butter coupons for which he must relinquish his sugar coupons.

Q.—My grocer refuses to sell me canned blueberries without coupons. Is this correct?

A.—No. Canned blueberries were removed from the ration list temporarily, and until June 30, may be purchased without coupons.

Please send your questions or your requests for "Re-Make Wrinkles" the handy booklet that tells you how to make use of cast-offs. "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book in which to keep track of your ceiling prices to the Consumer Branch, WPTB, 77 Upper Water St., Halifax.

Subsidy Offered To Encourage Bee-Keeping

The Wartime Prices and Trade Board announces a plan for paying part of the cost of importing bees from the United States. Under a new board subsidy arrangement, 50c. a pound will be refunded to importers who receive shipments of packaged bees in any quantity from March 1st to June 15th. Packaged bees are imported from California, Louisiana and Alabama. Applications for the subsidy must be mailed to the Commodity Prices Stabilization Corporation at Ottawa, within ninety-days of receipt of the packaged bees. Bees last year provided Canada with about 32,500,000 lbs. of honey, the second largest output in the country's history and 35 per cent over the 1942 production.

OBEY! That Impulse! Enlist to-day

HERE'S a challenge that you cannot ignore! ... Would you deprive a fighting man of his opportunity to fight? Do you want some fighting man do your job? If you don't, why don't you join the C.W.A.C.?

Canada needs another 5,000 women to supplement her fighting establishments—spirited young recruits to join the Canadian Women's Army Corps and play their part in the world-wide struggle for freedom.

Sixteen thousand women have already donned the smartly-tailored C.W.A.C. uniform and are filling an active, and vital place in the Canadian Army, at home and overseas. But another 5,000 are urgently needed, and the quota for Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island is 500 as listed below.

The call is greatest for qualified stenographers, typists, clerks, dental assistants, postal assorters, drivers and cooks, along with volunteers who can be trained in these occupations. Don't let the call go unanswered!

If you are medically fit, have Grade VIII or better education, have no dependents, and are between the ages of 18 and 45, you can qualify.

Enjoy the thrill that comes with joining the Canadian Women's Army Corps—plus the satisfaction of knowing that you are doing your duty. Remember, it is still true that every girl who enlists in the C.W.A.C. allows one more soldier to join the fighting overseas.

Possibilities of ground limestone for the successful growing of alfalfa hay met the general approval of the members and orders are shaping up satisfactorily.

Hubert Warne was guest speaker and gave an outline of the flour and feed situation. This covered many phases of manufacturing and labor problems under wartime conditions.

The talk was very interesting and a hearty vote of appreciation was extended to Mr. Warne.

The regular May meeting of the society will be at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Welch, Barton, on the third Monday evening in May.

Topic of the evening will be Credit Unions and Co-operation among farmers.

The meeting adjourned about 11:30 with a cordial vote of thanks to the host and hostess.

Spring Leave Regulations Issued

The Department of National Defence has given instructions to all commanding officers regarding the granting of Spring Leave to soldiers applying to work on farms.

The farmer must make the first move by applying to the nearest Selective Service office or to his Agricultural Representative. The soldier must apply to his commanding officer. In all cases the farmer must personally know the man he is applying for and also know that the man is experienced in farm work. The leave is for the express purpose of seeding and may be granted up to two months.

The instructions issued to the commanding officers fully indicate what men are eligible and also those that are not eligible for this Spring Leave. Any further information desired on the subject may be had on application to Selective Service.

Farmers are advised that in addition to this Spring Leave there is the opportunity of getting men on Compassionate Farm Leave. This leave is for cases where there is sickness on the farm that seriously interferes with farm work and is for men to return to their own farms or the farms of their parents. This leave when granted may extend up to six months.

Do 32,000 Cans In Year

About 32,000 cans of fruits, vegetables, meat and fish were canned by the 689 members of 59 groups operating under the Youth Training Project in the 1943-44 year recently concluded. The groups operate in fishing territory, marginal agricultural areas or districts where the farms are small, and have been confined to parts of Guysboro, Richmond, Inverness Counties which have a total of 49 groups, and Antigonish, Digby and Yarmouth, which have ten groups.

The canning project started in July, 1941, under the joint direction of the Dominion Department of Labour (Youth Training Division) and the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture (Extension) has in three years of operation almost doubled its membership and more than doubled its output. The executive officer is Miss Florence McCutcheon.

"Home canning of fruits, vegetables, meat and fish that has been carried on by the clubs," says Miss McCutcheon, "has supplied the majority of homes in their respective districts throughout the year. Some members have adopted the slogan, 'a can of fruit and a can of vegetables for every day in the year.'"

"Canning," she says, "has proved to be a most desirable and a very economical method of preserving foods for future use. The growing interest in canning in tin is probably due to the simplicity of the method, the absence of any danger of breakage during canning or afterward and the excellent keeping qualities of the fruit, vegetables and meat canned."

A breakdown of reports submitted from a number of the canning groups shows that the total cost of 21,855 cans of vegetables, fruits, meats, and fish was $1,507.02 which works out at 6.9 cents per can. The total cost included $841.22 for materials and $665.80 for cans.

14 Qualify As Approved Graders

Fourteen qualified as approved graders out of a class of 32 that attended the egg-grading course held at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College March 28 to April 6. Topping the list was Gladys Martin, Oxford, who made a perfect score in her oral examination and only a few points from perfect in her written examination. Others who passed the requirements were: Margaret H. Keddy, Aylesford East; Theresa Chisholm, L.R. So. River, Antigonish Co.; Aubrey Cameron, Heatherton; John Boron, Oxford, R.R.2; J. M. Parker, Upper Newport; B. D. Corkum, Chester Basin; Marie Emeno, Middleton; Mae Ellis, Sydney; James I. Carr, R.R.1, Newport; David E. Harrison, Maccan; Lyndon R. Langille, R.R.3, River John; Geo. Rae, Meadowville; Alex W. McKenzie, Halifax.

Butter Production Declines 15.2 P.C.

Creamery butter production in Nova Scotia for the first three months of this year totalled 1,142,727 pounds according to a report issued from the office of the Nova Scotia Dairy Superintendent. This was a decrease of 15.2 per cent from the production for the corresponding months of last year which totalled 1,343,696 pounds.

All Beekeepers Must Register

All beekeepers must register their apiary before or during the month of May in each year as provided by the Agricultural Act. And before bees or used apiary supplies can be moved, sold, or given away, the owner must secure a permit. Registration forms may be secured from the Provincial Apiarist, Department of Agriculture, Truro, N. S., and the forms properly filled in must be returned to him. It is only a short while now till package bees will be arriving in the Province from Florida. The first shipment is scheduled to leave the last of April and will be for a hot-house in the Windsor district. Other shipments start May 6 and from then till the end of the month the schedule calls for 25 packages a day. The allotment for Nova Scotia, which is approximately the same as that of last year, totals 550 packages or approximately 1,500 pounds.

Free Enterprise MADE CANADA'S MINES

A BIT of Mother Earth on the outskirts of nowhere... a lone campfire... the howl of a wolf... the scream of a mountain lion... a free man who treads where no man trod before.

In such a setting has been the origin of some of Canada's greatest gold and mineral producing mines. Turning his back on the commonplace ways of earning a living, the prospector risks his capital, pioneers new regions and a mine is born. This is free enterprise.

This century-old Bank has been closely associated with the growth of Canada's mining industry... has provided essential banking facilities... has helped foster the self-reliant spirit of the Canadian people.

Give This Man a Warm Welcome

You may not regard the Victory Loan salesman as a salesman when he calls on you. He is a man from your community whom you likely know well... perhaps a neighbor. He may never have done any selling before.

He has taken on this work because he feels that it is an important war job that must be done.

As a matter of fact he is not trying to sell you anything. He will ask you to save money.

Farmers are doing an important war job, too... producing food. Most farmers have increased their incomes. They have money to save.

You plan to use this money, and the things you plan to use it for are necessary things.

The Victory Loan salesman will ask you to let your country have the use of your savings now by putting your money into Victory Bonds.

Our big job now is to win the war, and to win it as soon as we can. That's why every Canadian is asked to buy Victory Bonds. It's why each of us is asked to buy all we can. You can buy them with cash, which you have saved, and you can buy more bonds and pay for them as you earn money, over a period of six months.

Well Satisfied With Live Hog Marketing

Hog production throughout the Province is heavy with the result local markets are plugged with pork. The local market situation, however, states F. W. Walsh, Director of Marketing, is easier than it would be were it not for the record-sized shipments on a live-basis being made through the Canadian Livestock Co-operative at Moncton which supervises the work and has been able for some time to arrange for shipments of around ten carloads a week from the Western part of New Brunswick to the Montreal market. Many Nova Scotia districts, which in the past have been shipping live hogs, have of recent months greatly increased their volume and at the same time maintained their high quality. In some other districts where live shipping is a new venture grading has not been so good. Shippers from all districts, however, appear well satisfied with the clean-cut system of live marketings, especially when they realize the actual selling is handled by their own central selling organization and also when they realize, from a study of market quotations, that they are receiving prices as high as paid in any other part of Canada. The whole situation is quite a contrast to that of a few years ago when the volume of live hogs shipped to the cooperative was small and the quality was far different from that of today. A county agricultural representative in the northern part of the Province reports hog shipments as particularly heavy during the past few weeks, adding that many farmers who never shipped hogs before are doing so this spring. This, he says, is no doubt partly due to the bonus and partly to the increase in production accompanied by the slowness of the local market.

ket. In discussing marketing he cited the case of a local farmer who had an offer of $60 for two sows. The farmer rejected this offer and decided to include the pair in a shipment of live hogs and by so doing, netted $115.32 for the pair.

"FIRST because we realize it's our duty to help out in this war by getting into uniform and releasing men from work which we know we can do. And we know it's OUR war, too.

"SECOND, because doing your duty is far from drudgery in the C.W.A.C. As a matter of fact, I have never been so happy in all my life. It's because I am doing such interesting work, learning so many new things, travelling about, making new friends. And I am proud of my job, and proud of my uniform, too.

"THIRD, because we must have new recruits—5000 of them—to join the 16,000 women already in Khaki. Of this quota Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island must furnish 500 recruits. The need is most urgent now for clerks, stenographers, typists, dental assistants, postal sorters, telephone operators, storewomen, car and truck drivers. If you are qualified or would like to qualify for any of these trades, step right up and enlist TODAY."

Have you ever thought that you may not be doing all that you should do to help win this war? You may be working from 9 to 6, you may be doing voluntary work of one kind or another, but is that the utmost you can do? Can't the work which you are doing be done by someone else—someone who hasn't your youth, your health and strength, your freedom?

Local Author's Work Published in National Anthology

William A. Comeau, 2336-33rd St., San Diego 2, Calif., is among the authors whose verse appears in "My Favorite Poems," a 640 page volume of poems and lyrics, recently published by The Exposition Press of New York City. This anthology represents the best poems and lyrics of people from nearly every state in the Union and Canada. Many of the contributors to this volume are authors whose works have been published in other well-known publications, magazines and newspapers. To win a place in this nationally known anthology marks a step forward in the literary career of every author. Another anthology of patriotic poems and lyrics is now being compiled, and authors interested in competing for a place in this new volume are invited to write to The Exposition Press, 1 Spruce St., New York City, for a copy of the entry rules.

Mr. Comeau, formerly of Weymouth, N. S., is a son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Comeau.

Peaceful Night

O peaceful night! O holy night!
Good will shall come to men.

O Christ-Child! born on Christmas morn.
You'll surely come again.
Everlasting Light that shineth.
Tonight, brings brighter glow;
The tears and fears of these past years
Soon we'll no longer know.

O shining star of Bethlehem!
Please light a brighter earth.
The three Wise Men shall come again
To watch the holy birth.
In every church in Christendom.
Ring praise of Christ our King!
Noel! Noel! peace tidings tell.
As bells of Christmas ring.

O peaceful night! O holy night!
Hear the glad people sing:
"Abide with us, reside with us."
O God! O Christ, our King!
That good will and peace might abide
On Christmas morn, the Christ was born.
Peaceful night, precious birth.

The Maple Tree

O Canada! land of my birth.
How proudly I watch you today!
O Canada! land so well worth
The wars men fight—the prayers men pray.

O maple leaf! dyed deeper red.
In every clime, by deeds sublime.
With brave blood that your sons have bled;

Your deeds will live while time is time!

O Lion's Cub! with claws now
bared;
Shamrock—thistle—and fleur-de-lis—
With rose, this fight, you all have shared;

You now grow on the maple tree.

Montcalm and Wolfe must watch with pride,
From that land where flags are blended.

Lily and rose grow side by side.
In this land so well defended.

O Canada! land of my birth.
United with those who unite
That lasting peace shall fill the earth;

'Tis of you! I so proudly write.

Now Let's Talk About Ice Cream

And there is plenty to talk about.

For Ice Cream is a food that is attractive and delicious, refreshing and nutritious, all at the same time. It is a favorite with doctors, and nutrition experts, soldiers and civilians, children and grown-ups alike.

The nutrition experts, who make up the menus for the Army, place Ice Cream regularly upon its menus two or three times a week. Obviously, the food value of Ice Cream must be excellent to win a permanent place in the meals of our armed forces.

Today every patriotic person should not only enjoy the food he eats, but should eat the food that will keep him well and strong. Ice Cream heads the list of foods that are good and good for you.

Ice Cream is good for Junior, but it is even better for his papa and mama. And not even a parent turns up his nose at Ice Cream—even if he does ignore commonplace milk.

One serving of Vanilla Ice Cream contains nine times as much calcium as one medium sized potato—two and one-half times as much as a medium sized orange—four times as much as an egg—and nine times as much as a medium sized carrot.

Ice Cream is a concentrated form of milk and, therefore, contains calcium, phosphorus, and other minerals so necessary to proper development.

One serving of Vanilla Ice Cream contains practically half as much protein and calcium, one-fifth as much riboflavin, and almost as much vitamin A as a half pint of milk.

Ice Cream is a really excellent "buy" for your dollar, having regard to its food value. And its safe too.

For a dish of Ice Cream contains no more calories than a baked apple—and only half as many as are in three oatmeal cookies.

It is high in building and protective substances; but you need take no thought for your "waistline" nor enter upon any "reducing" programs.

Buy Victory Bonds "SALADA" TEA

Peanuts—and Johnny's Undershirt

It seems that 'way back in the basic period, some of Canada's largest retail organizations were selling peanuts salted, at about 23 cents a pound. Then the Foreign Exchange Control Board decided that we needed U. S. exchange more than we needed peanuts, salted—Yes, we then had no peanuts. Later, peanuts are again a permissible import. But the price has risen in the U. S. and the Canadian taxpayers are not subsidizing peanuts, salted. Landed cost in Canada would mean a retail price of 40 to 45 cents per pound—a fat increase from the basic period.

However, if you like salted peanuts, you can buy them from other retailers at maybe 50 cents a pound, which seemingly is even a fatter jump from the basic period, though it may be a legal price.

The prices division of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board has so far refused to permit retailers who sold salted peanuts in the basic period to raise their prices, although such permission should result in consumers in general getting their peanuts more cheaply.

One not addicted to salted peanuts cannot become excited about such a trifle. But the situation is an interesting illustration of how a ceiling maintained on one small item results in the consumer paying more for it. It also shows, though negatively that the easiest policing of prices is to permit both large and small organizations to have a reasonable share of the goods available. And perhaps the placing of a practical merchandiser (a believer in price control) in charge of prices, might do a better job by the consumer. Faith in the index would be easier to maintain.

The recent shortage of children's underwear, to mention a much more important commodity, might have been avoided if, in that division also, practical and experienced people had been given authority to deal with the problem. The financial, legal and accounting approaches, one will admit, are the only practical ones in financial, legal and accounting problems. But recently we heard a harassed mother say, with respect to juvenile underwear, that she felt like an Israelite trying to make bricks without straw.

Aerial Pictures to Change Post-War Geography Books

Today's aerial photographs, so important in warfare, will have their effect upon Johnny's geography books in the post-war world. Such is the belief of Frank Melton, geology professor of Norman, Okla., who has one of the nation's largest libraries of aerial prints outside of those owned by the government and a few commercial survey companies.

In addition to his classes for civilian students, as well as for the army and navy trainees of the University of Oklahoma, during the last year, Melton has taught special courses in the interpretation of aerial photography at various places in Oklahoma and Texas. He became interested in the possibilities of pictures as instruction aids in geography and geology twenty years ago. During the years he built up his collection of aerial prints until now it numbers more than 300,000, including aerial pictures from every state and many foreign countries.

Melton predicts global geological exploration on a vast scale after the war. Aerial photography will have a vital role in such projects.

He points out the extensive use of aerial photography in the present war—the mapping of enemy territory by air before invasion—and he reasons that this will readily be adapted to the post-war world. For example, aerial photographs would be of untold value to scientific expeditions such as that which recently departed for the interior of Brazil. One object of this expedition is to map topography. Other purposes are the colonization of the Mato Grosso (Big Woods) province and exploration for gold, diamonds, rubber, and other products.

After the war, says Melton, such projects, based upon aerial photographs, will be multiplied many times to bring the remote corners of the earth into man's knowledge.

For the ordinary man, where he shall work is one of the cardinal facts in his existence.

ADDRESSES ON THE MOVE...

MAIL TO REINFORCEMENT UNITS A CHALLENGE TO US ALL...

THIS is a war of movement. Never before have troops been moved such incredible distances, in so many theatres of war, so quickly. Night and day, thousands of men are in motion, by sea transport, motor truck and air... edging into enemy territory, shifting to keep the element of surprise. Did you ever stop to think what it means, under these trying conditions, to find your friend or relative, and put your letter into his hands?

Yet in spite of the tremendous task involved, tracing men who are moving from reinforcement units in England to group depots in Italy... or from one location to another... or through hospitalization or while on leave... in the face of every sort of war hazard... 31,500,000 letters in addition to parcels and other items, reached our men in 1943.

FARMS OR ACREAGE WANTED

THE KIND OF PROPERTIES REQUIRED

The Director, The Veterans' Land Act, is interested in obtaining particulars of farms varying in size up to 100 acres or more, carrying productive soil and equipped with suitable buildings and satisfactory water supply, favourably located in regard to markets, schools and social services; also acreage suitably located for small holdings either with or without buildings, adjacent to or adjoining cities, towns or villages in the Maritime Provinces, where there are reasonable prospects for employment in industry, commerce or agriculture.

LANDS FOR THE RE-ESTABLISHMENT OF VETERANS
Lands of the above type are required for the re-establishment of veterans of the Canadian Active Service Forces and the Director is prepared to purchase outright for cash such lands as are found suitable for this purpose.

NO FEES OR COMMISSIONS

For the guidance of all owners of land who may be interested in this advertisement the following quotation from The Veterans' Land Act, 1942, is important:—

"No person, firm or corporation shall be entitled to charge or collect as against or from any other person, firm or corporation any fee or commission or advance of price for services rendered in the sale of any land made to the Director, whether for the finding or introducing of a buyer or otherwise."

Address all replies to,

C. H. SCOTT, District Superintendent,

NATIONAL SELECTIVE SERVICE

If You Employ Male Persons

Have they all complied with the Military Call-Up?

By an Order signed under authority of the National Selective Service Mobilization Regulations:

1. Every employer of male employees must make an examination of the documents of these employees, and forward advice on those who fail to produce documents showing good standing under Mobilization Regulations.
2. This examination must be completed by May 1st, 1944.
3. "EMPLOYER" includes industrial and commercial employers, and also farm operators.
4. "MALE EMPLOYEE" includes all male persons working for you.
5. A booklet "EMPLOYERS' GUIDE," has been sent to industrial and commercial employers. A return post card has gone to farm operators.
6. If you employ any male person, and have not been notified of the survey by booklet or post card, contact the nearest Employment and Selective Service Office and ask for the booklet.
7. Workers in agriculture, of military age, who have not been rejected by the Army and who have not a Postponement Order should apply for such order to the nearest Registrar immediately.
8. Obligation to make the examination rests on each and every employer of male persons, and employers must act.
9. Penalties are provided for failure to carry out this examination, and for male employees failing to assist by refusal to produce documents.

ACADEMY ACTIVITIES

On Monday afternoon a party of 40 Navy League officials and naval officers reviewed the Sea Cadet corps. The salute was taken at the Navy League Hostel on Montague Row. The corps was accompanied by four drummers from H.M.C.S. Cornwallis.

Tuesday afternoon the high school saw a film entitled "The Navy". Following the film, Victor Carver, a very interesting and in the course of his address, Mr. Carver recounted the experiences of two service men on active service. Mr. Carver also said that in enjoying ourselves we must not forget to do our part. He urged the students to do their utmost to support the Victory Loan.

Last Friday's stamp sales found Navy back in the lead with $26.25. Air Force was second with $22.25, and Army was last with $17. The total was $65.50. Since September Navy has purchased $782.75 worth of stamps: Air Force, $706.25 and Army $541.25. The grand total being $2,030.25.

Under field conditions 25,000 American soldiers wear out 800 pairs of shoes a day.

Jury Absolves Driver Of Blame in Fatality

Ralph Fredericks, of Digby, was cleared of any blame by a coroner's jury at Deep Brook, on Thursday, in connection with the death of Mrs. Jessie North, who was fatally injured when struck by a car driven by Fredericks Tuesday evening of last week.

In their verdict, the jury under the foremanship of Frank Dittmars, also recommended that greater supervision be taken over drivers of cars between the towns of Digby and Annapolis Royal.

The inquest which was conducted by Dr. L. B. Braine, of Annapolis Royal, was held in the Deep Brook schoolhouse Wednesday afternoon.

Ralph Fredericks, driver of the car, testified first. He stated that he was in the employ of Arthur Robinson, of Digby, and that the car in question was owned by the MacDonald Motors Company, also of Digby. The accident occurred as he was returning from H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, to Digby with four passengers, and he said everything possible was done to avoid striking Mrs. North. Apparently, he said, she did not see the car coming or hear the horn until the car was upon her.

Dr. A. B. Campbell, of Bear River, testified that on arrival at the scene of the accident he found the victim dead. Examination showed deceased to have several bruises and abrasions, a fractured collar bone, and a fracture at the base of the skull.

Gilbert Wyatt and Murray Forbes, of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, corroborated the evidence of Fredericks.

Mrs. Myrtle Jackson, to whose home the body of Mrs. North was removed after the accident, declared that the deceased had left the home at 8:15 that night and seemed in good spirits, with normal sight and hearing.

Frank Robar told the complete story of the accident as viewed from the window of his home.

Constable Rankine of the R.C.M.P., gave a complete account of the damage to the car, measurements, etc.

Still Doubts About Cost of Living Bonus

The National War Labour Board recently stated that information reaching Ottawa indicates that some employers still appear to be in doubt as to the application of the regulations which required the incorporation of cost of living bonus in basic wage rates. This regulation was embodied in the Wartime Wages Control Order, 1943, which evoked and superseded the Order previously in effect.

The Board points out that all employees subject to the Wartime Wages Control Order were required, commencing with the first payroll period on or after February 15 last, to establish a new wage rate inclusive of the cost of living bonus previously paid.

The Board further explains that all employers not specifically excluded from the provisions of the Wartime Wages Control Order were required to pay a cost of living bonus of 60 cents per week commencing with the first payroll period on or after August 15, 1942, to adult male employees and other employees earning $25 or more a week and 24¢ of weekly wage rate to male minors and female employees receiving less than $25 a week; and that beginning with the first payroll period on or after November 15, 1943, it became obligatory for employers to increase this bonus to 95 cents a week or 3.8% of the weekly wage rate.

Nurses' Residence Under Construction

Work on the new Nurses' Residence for the Digby General Hospital was commenced on Friday. The new building will be a two-storey structure of 32 x 50 feet, and will stand about 50 feet from the hospital building, facing the north. The front of the new residence will run parallel with the rear of the hospital.

Construction of the building has been made possible through the generous gift of $10,000 to the Digby General Hospital, made by Harry F. MacLean, well-known Merrickville, Ontario contractor. Mr. MacLean's gift was made early in the year.

The work is being done by Mr. MacLean's company, the Dominion Construction Corporation Ltd., the contractors whose enormous task has been to erect the big naval base at Cornwallis (Deep Brook) the largest of its kind in the British Empire.

The ground floor of the residence will comprise a foyer, living room, reception room, kitchen and kitchen nook, two nurses' rooms, bath, and superintendent's suite, comprising bedroom, living room and bath.

On the second floor there will be eight nurses' rooms, about 8 x 13 feet; bath, linen closet and fire escape. The basement will contain three double rooms 9 x 15 feet, living room and bath for maid's quarters, and a large storage and fuel room.

Deep Brook Man Honored

Award of the Canadian Efficiency Medal and 1st Clasp to Pte. Wilfred Marsters, Deep Brook, for long service and good conduct with the Canadian Army has been announced by National Defence Headquarters, Ottawa. A veteran of thirteen years with the Annapolis Regiment, Pte. Marsters went on active service with the West Nova Scotia Regiment as a transport driver at the outbreak of the war. He proceeded overseas in May, 1940, and has been in Italy since September. His wife, the former Wanetta Burrell, and son, Robert, reside in Deep Brook.

Waste Paper Is Vital

The travelling public leaves a tremendous amount of newspapers and magazines on trains. On the Canadian National Railways this material is carefully salvaged and during one year ranges from one million to a million and a half pounds. Some of the waste paper is ultimately used to make Red Cross prisoner of war parcel cartons. It requires 72 pounds of waste paper to make 100 such cartons.

Help Wanted on The Athletic Field

On Wednesday afternoon next a teacher permitting the boys team to get to work with rules, sports and other implements at the athletic field on the old golf course. Their object is to get a baseball field ready for use in the shortest possible time.

It is understood a number have already volunteered their assistance, but more help will be required. We therefore suggest that all our fellows who have Wednesday afternoon off, get in touch with Ted Sanford or Charles Farnham, and tell them you will be there ready and willing to do your bit. It will be appreciated if you will come armed with shoes and rakes.

The field is already in fair condition, nevertheless considerable work must be done—it is a case of the sooner the better. We might add—and the more the merrier.

Ashmore

Pte. Stanley Brooks spent a few days with his wife and family here.

Lorna Burrell spent the week end at her home in Wellington, Yarmouth Co.

Arthur Comeau is spending a few days at the home of Mrs. Robert Theriault.

Mrs. W. F. Kinney spent the week end with her daughter, Mrs. Walter Doucet, of Digby.

Pte. Donald Lewis, of Aldershot, is spending a sick leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis.

This Hen Went In Reverse

It must be that Digby hens read the papers. Apparently thinking that the editor had been eating too much egg for a time a white Sussex hen, belonging to Albert Warner, went to the other extreme, and this week we received the egg which would make, well, a fair-sized headache tablet—but the editor never has a headache. The egg is really smaller than a robin's egg and it would take a great many of them to equal the big one from Loran Adams.

C.G.I.T. Sale and Tea Successful

The United Baptist group of the C.G.I.T., under the direction of Miss Charlotte Deming, held a successful tea and sale of work in the Baptist Hall, Saturday. The girls (there are fifteen in the troop) served while Mrs. H. T. Warne poured.

A table of craft work made by the girls was displayed, and the hall was gaily decorated with green and white crepe paper. Miss Eileen Marshall and Miss Joyce Collins entertained at the piano during the afternoon. The sum of $22 was realized and will be used to send one or more of the troop to Pinehurst Camp during this summer.

Died of Wounds In Italy

On the 18th of April the community of Sandy Cove and surrounding villages was saddened when word was received by Mr. and Mrs. George W. Eldridge, of the death of their son, Corporal Harper Eldridge, who died on April 15 in Italy. His death was caused from wounds received from a mine explosion on the 14th. Besides his parents he leaves four sisters, Mrs. Colin Crowell (Lenora), Mrs. Clifford Enson (Leneika), of Sandy Cove, Mrs. Harvey Fitzgerald (Bertha), Weymouth North, and Mrs. Geo. Thibault (Sara), Rossaway.

County Meeting To Be Called

A meeting of the provincial officers and directors of the Digby branch of the Christian Social Council was held in the United Church hall on Monday afternoon, the president, Rev. Ross C. Eaton, in the chair. It was decided to send a delegate to the provincial convention to be held some time in May and Mr. Eaton was elected, with J. J. Wallis as alternate; and it was also agreed that a county convention would be called to meet in the United Church Hall in Digby, at an early date after the provincial conference, to receive the reports and decide on a plan of work. At the county conference all the Protestant Churches, the S. of T. Divisions and the various Parent-Teachers' and Home and School Associations will be asked to send delegates.

Barton

Ralph Abbott, of Vancouver B.C., is visiting friends in Brighton.

Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Harris have returned from their visit in Yarmouth.

L.A.C. Keith Bapley, R.A.F. of England, now stationed at Greenwood, was the recent guest of Mr. and Mrs. S. P. Pream.

The Home and School Association of Barton-Brighton held their April meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Smith.

A serious grass fire called out a large number of people Sunday morning. Several fields and the Barton Cemetery were burned before the fire was under control. It is thought the fire was started from hot ashes.

Belliveau's Cove

Cpl. Fidele Theriault, R.C.A.F., is spending his leave with his wife and parents.

Mrs. Ralph Doucet is spending some time in Saint John visiting her husband, Lieut. Doucet.

Miss Rose Anne Theriault has returned home after spending some time in Boston and New York.

Flight Lieut. S. J. Campbell spent a week with his family here en route to Moncton, where he will be stationed.

Delegates Visit Digby

Delegates en route to Kentville, where the annual meeting of the Navy League of Canada opened Tuesday, inspected the Navy League hostel here on Monday. The party of 40, including representatives of the League's 14 divisions throughout Canada, were welcomed by C. F. McBride, president of the Digby Branch of the Nova Scotia Mainland Division, accompanied by A. J. Dillon, Chairman of the Hostel Committee.

Among the visitors were D. H. Gibson, C.B.E., Dominion President; John McBeth and H. R. Gillard, of Toronto; S. R. Noble, of Montreal and Ottawa, Honorary Treasurer; Arthur Randies, Ottawa, Director of Merchant Seamen; G. Herbert Rennie, of Toronto, and other members of the Dominion Council, who were joined by R. A. Major, Halifax, President of the Nova Scotia Division, Captain E. R. Brock, C.B.E., R.C.N.V.R., Commanding Officer, Reserve Divisions, and Lt. Cmdr. F. M. Jeffrey, R.C.N.V.R., Staff Officer Sea Cadets with headquarters in Toronto, accompanied the Navy League delegates.

At 1 o'clock the visitors were the guests of the Digby Branch at a banquet held in the Hostel Recreation Room, when Mr. McBride officially welcomed the visitors. Mr. Major, president of the Nova Scotia Division, and Mr. Gibson, president of the Dominion body, expressed their pleasure at being present and congratulated the Digby workers on the work accomplished during the year.

After seeing where naval ratings are trained for the Royal Canadian Navy, the delegates entertained for Kentville, where, during the next four days many subjects dealing with the welfare of the men of the sea were discussed.

Following the conference the delegates will visit Halifax, where the Navy League has five separate operations.

6th Victory Loan Campaign Off To Good Start

Sixth Victory Loan salesmen started out Monday morning in various districts of Digby County determined to exceed the minimum objective of $465,000 set for this area. It is still early to say much on the progress of the campaign, which will continue for three weeks, but, with returns far from complete, approximately $25,000 have been reported at the local Victory Loan Office during the first two days of the campaign.

It will be noted the objective for this loan is $35,000 less than the cool half million set for this county for the 5th Victory Loan of last fall, but that is no reason why the people of Digby County will not and cannot exceed subscriptions made on that occasion when the objective was over-subscribed by more than $100,000.

With conditions in Digby County as they are today there is no good reason why the 6th Victory Loan should not be well over-subscribed. Times were never more prosperous, and investment in the 6th Victory Loan is not only to be considered as a patriotic gesture, but as an investment in the future. Your money invested in Victory Bonds yields a good rate of interest, and builds up a reserve for you and yours for days to come after the Japanese have been defeated, and the peace to follow.

Let's all do our part to shorten the war by investing in the 6th Victory Loan.

TOWN TALK

A story is going the rounds that a local barber shop proprietor arrived at his favorite stream the other day just in time to see a huge trout come to the surface and swim straight toward him until it was high and dry on the shore almost at his feet. The much bewildered angler at once noticed that a rusty hook dangled from the trout's jaw. He cautiously removed the hook, and almost in pity murmured, "I should give you another chance but after all there was a worm on that hook when you stole it from me a year ago."

"Any trout around here," asked a grocer from Water Street of a farmer he met as he leaped from his car, with more things hanging from him than a commando could accommodate. "Aint seen any," replied the farmer. "See any signs?" came back the would-be worm soaker. "Only that one there," answered the man, pointing toward the brook. The grocer turned and read, "strictly no trespassing."

Fishermen this spring find it hard to get any of those elastic tape measures, due to shortage of rubber, but they predict this will have no effect on the size of the ones that get away.

MARRIAGE

Swan - Roop

One of the pretty weddings of the early spring season, took place Saturday afternoon at 1 o'clock, in Trinity Church, Digby, when the rector, Rev. F. B. Gaskill, united in marriage Marion Elizabeth, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank N. Roop, and Warrant Officer David A. Swan, R.C.N.V.R., eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Swan, Hamilton, Ont. Guests numbering more than fifty, were ushered to their seats by Lieut. G. Baynes and Lieut. A. Gracie. To the strains of the wedding march played by Miss Ena Robinson, church organist, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage, and was attired in a conventional dress of white satin cut on princess lines with lace inserts and sweetheart neckline, her only ornament was a double strand pearl necklace. She wore a bridal veil fashioned Mary Queen of Scots style, and carried a cascade bouquet of white roses and sweet peas. Mrs. Medford Kennedy, Truro, sister of the bride, gowned in pink all-over lace with bandeau veil headress and shower bouquet of carnations and snapdragons, attended as matron of honor, while Miss Phyllis Roop, of Buffalo, sister of the bride, gowned in blue starched neoprene with shower bouquet of snap dragons and carnations, acted as bridesmaid. The groom was supported by his brother, Petty Officer Norman Swan, R.C.N.V.R., Halifax. During the signing of the register a solo "Because" was ably rendered by Petty Officer Arthur Jones. After the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home which was attractively decorated for the occasion. She was assisted in receiving by her mother, who wore a gown of queen blue with hat to match. The bride's table was centered with a unique wedding cake in the shape of two bells centered by calla lilies and sweet peas. The happy couple left for a short honeymoon at Grey Rock in the Laurentian Mountains. The bride's going away dress was of heaven blue bunny wool with Kasha coat trimmed with bleached wolf collar, hat of same color as dress, trimmed with cerise, and navy blue accessories, wearing a corsage of Happy Day roses. Prior to her marriage she was guest of honor at a number of social functions and showers of linen, etc. The young couple will reside in Ottawa for the duration.

Landry - Thibault

A beautiful wedding took place at St. Mary's R. C. Church, at Church Point, Monday morning, when Rev. O. Herbert united in marriage Miss Bertha Thibault, daughter of Mrs. Theophile Belliveau, Church Point, to Sgt. Victor Landry, of Moncton, N. B. The bride wore a floor length dress of white satin and lace with veil and accessories to match and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Lucille Belliveau, of Halifax, wore a dress of pink voile with accessories, carrying a bouquet of carnations. The best man was Pte. Adolphe Thibodeau, also of Halifax. A reception was held at the bride's home to immediate friends of the family. They left for Boston by the Saint John boat on Monday afternoon and will return to reside in Moncton.

Red Cross Notes

Mrs. Stephen Mullen, Mrs. Gordon Prime and Mrs. Harvey Mullen were hostesses at the Havelock-New Tuskett Red Cross luncheon which was held at the home of Mrs. Stephen Mullen on April 22. A goodly number were present, much Red Cross work done, and the sum of $23.65 was raised. Mr. and Mrs. Mullen are deserving of much praise not only for opening their home for this worthy cause but also in providing transportation for many of the guests. Our society sent $50 to the Weymouth branch.

We also wish to acknowledge the good work of Frank Sabean in collecting $100 for the Red Cross Drive.

WAR-TIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—Will you please advise me whether or not the prices of the new cold wave permanent are controlled. I recently paid $17.50 and feel it is a very high price.

A.—The prices of Cold Wave permanents are controlled by the Board. Beauty operators may not charge more for a cold wave than they did for their highest prices permanent during the basic period, Sept. 15th-Oct. 11, 1941. Prices have always varied in different beauty parlors. And sometimes you will find that one has made a practice of charging extra for a trim or the wave setting. However, if your operator did not have this extra charge before the basic period he cannot legally make this extra charge now.

Q.—I have been dealing with the same bakery for several years. Over the last few months they have increased prices for fruit pies, cakes, and meat pies. Each item is only up one or two cents, but I do not think it is right.

A. You are quite correct. You should not be charged a higher price for these items than was charged by the same store during the basic period, Sept. 15 to Oct. 11, 1941. As you have given us the name of the dealer we will have his prices checked.

Q.—I wish to sell my typewriter which I purchased in 1938. Is there a price ceiling on used typewriters?

A. Yes, there is a price ceiling which varies according to make, the model and size of the machine. If you bring or send these particulars along with the serial number, to the Reference Officer of the W. P. T. B. at 77 Upper Water St., Halifax, he will be glad to tell you the ceiling price of your machine.

Q.—My landlord gave me notice to vacate a self-contained apartment saying that he intended to occupy the premises for a year. Within a month he re-rented the place. Is this permissible?

A.—Unless circumstances warranted it, and your landlord received permission from the Rentals Officer of the Board, he is violating the Rentals Regulations. Would you please furnish the W.P.T.B. with full particulars so that they can check this.

Q.—My grocer charged me for the tops of some carrots I bought. Is he supposed to do this?

A.—If they were fresh new carrots, your grocer was quite correct. This would also apply to beets. Fresh vegetables are priced according to weight, and that includes the tops of these two vegetables. All other root vegetables must be sold without tops.

Q.—I bought a half-pound tin of salmon and paid 23c for it. Wasn't this price too high? Is there a ceiling price on this canned fish?

A.—Yes, there is a ceiling on canned salmon. However, it would not be possible to say whether the price you paid was too high or not until it was learned whether the salmon was Sockeye, Coho, Red Spring or Pink. Please forward this information.

Please send your questions or your requests for "Re-Make Wrinkles" the handy booklet that tells you how to make use of cast-offs, "Consumers' News," or the Blue Book in which to keep track of your ceiling prices to the Consumer Branch, WPTB, 77 Upper Water St., Halifax.

Appeals for More Gardens

Following her attendance at an Ottawa conference called by the Wartime Information Board to consider the food situation in Canada, Miss Helen J. Macdougall, Superintendent of the Women's Institutes of Nova Scotia, is appealing to the 3,000 Institute members to produce as much food as possible and to use every means in their power to interest others in food production.

"Our food situation," she says, "has reached a stage where it seems necessary to develop an education program so that the general public may have a better understanding of our food resources, the demands upon it and appreciation of our obligations. There is every indication that demands in the next two or three years will be greater than the quantity of food available."

"Even now," she continues, "the need is greater than it was a year ago. And as the need grows so does the individual responsibility. The responsibility resting on all of us is to produce whatever we can and also to conserve all we can."

Each year we have urged that everyone who can possibly do so, have a vegetable garden even if it is a small one. The response to former appeals has been favorable. Hundreds of Institute members have started gardens, and hundreds have increased the size of their former gardens. This year, with the need of food production the greatest we have ever known, it is hoped that still greater gardening effort will be shown.

Miss Macdougall lists seven ways the women of the Province can help in this program for greater food production:

1. Plant as large a garden as you can look after.
2. Organize your whole community to produce more food.
3. Use all the wild greens and fruits you can find in your vicinity.
4. Can all the fruits and vegetables for which you are able to obtain equipment. (Fruit may be done in a very thin syrup or even in water and more sugar added when using.)
5. Before the canning season, arrange canning conferences so that beginners may be helped and encouraged.
6. Exchange work with two or three friends to help can greater quantities of food.
7. Arrange suitable storage. (In addition to canning or drying food.)

"Another way," concludes Miss Macdougall, "we can help the food situation is to be vigilant to see that not one scrap of food is wasted. Have a real survey on common wastes in the kitchen. Here are some 'leaks':"

1. Too hot a fire (burns food, wastes both food and fuel).
2. Bread allowed to dry, and crusts thrown out.
3. Bits of butter left on plates.
4. Food not carefully stored and spoilage results.

"Many other leaks" can be checked and in so doing practical, patriotic help can be rendered our Country and our Allies."

"LET ME TELL YOU WHY Canadian Women are enlisting in The C.W.A.C."

"FIRST because we realize it's our duty to help out in this war by getting into uniform and releasing men from work which we know we can do. And we know, it's OUR war, too.

"SECOND, because doing your duty is far from drudgery in the C.W.A.C. As a matter of fact, I have never been so happy in all my life. It's because I am doing such interesting work, learning so many new things, travelling about, making new friends. And I am proud of my job, and proud of my uniform, too.

"THIRD, because we must have new recruits—5000 of them—to join the 16,000 women already in Khaki. Of this quota Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island must furnish 500 recruits. The need is most urgent now for clerks, stenographers, typists, dental assistants, postal sorters, telephone operators, storewomen, car and truck drivers. If you are qualified or would like to qualify for any of these trades, step right up and enlist TODAY."

Have you ever thought that you may not be doing all that you should do to help win this war? You may be working from 9 to 6, you may be doing voluntary work of one kind or another, but is that the utmost you can do? Can't the work which you are doing be done by someone else—someone who hasn't your youth, your health and strength, your freedom?

HOW TO ENLIST

If between 18 and 45, medically fit, without dependents and possessing Grade VIII or better education, apply to any of these Recruiting Stations: Halifax, Cogswell St. (next Hospital) or at Wellington Barracks, Yarmouth, Kentville, Truro, New Glasgow, Sydney, Charlottetown. Or sign and mail this coupon to C.W.A.C. Recruiting Officer, M. D. No. 6, Halifax.

OBITUARY

Eugene W. McBride

A wide circle of friends in Digby will learn with regret of the death of Eugene W. McBride, former Nova Scotia publisher and master printer, which occurred Sunday, April 16, at his home in Saint John after a long illness. He was born in Digby, and at one time was publisher of the Annapolis Spectator. For several years Mr. McBride was a solo cornetist with the band in Saint John and was also at one time a valued member of the band in Yarmouth, and won many favorable comments for his rendition of classical music. He is survived by his wife, one son, two daughters, also one brother, C. F. McBride, of Digby, and one sister, Mrs. Mark Bronson, of Revere, Mass. The funeral was held at Digby on Tuesday.

Mrs. Jessie North

Services for Mrs. Jessie (McClelland) North, who met death by accident Tuesday evening, April 18th, were held Friday at Ramsay's Undertaking Parlors, with brief prayers and singing of one hymn, "Abide With Me." She was born in Annapolis and married Charles K. North, in New York in 1891. He died in Chicago in 1937 and since then Mrs. North had passed the summers in Deep Brook with her sisters. Mr. and Mrs. North had maintained homes in Boston and Chicago and in 1922 spent a year in travel abroad, accompanied by her two sisters, Miss Minnie B. McClelland, and Mrs. Robert Spurr. The body was taken to Saint John for cremation at Fern Hill Cemetery. Committal services were at Newanee, Illinois, at the convenience of her sisters.

Simon Jedrey

Simon Jedrey, one of Gloucester's (Mass.) best known ship carpenters, died Wednesday of last week at Addison Gilbert hospital at the age of 74 years, 4 months and 11 days. He had been a patient at the hospital since April 9, and was ready to go home when he took a turn for the worse and passed away shortly afterward. He was a native of Salmon River, Digby county, and was the son of Pierre and Elizabeth (Babine) Jedrey. Going to Gloucester as a young man, he learned the ship carpenter's trade and had been employed along the waterfront for more than a half century. He was a skilled mechanic and during his lifetime had constructed alone several small boats. His wife, Mrs. Cecelia A. (Munroe) Campbell, died on January 11, 1942. He leaves a brother, Fred Jedrey, in Meteghan, and two sisters in Nova Scotia; also several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held from his late home, 23 Dodge Street, Saturday morning at 9:15 o'clock. Requiem high mass was celebrated at St. Ann's church at 9:45 o'clock. Burial was in Oak Grove cemetery.

Mrs. Loran Adams

Mrs. Loran Adams, of Deep Brook, who was stricken with a brain hemorrhage the first of April, but who apparently somewhat recovered, was again struck last week and died Sunday morning at four o'clock. Although not in good health, yet Mrs. Adams was able to be about her own home and care for her home duties until the last of March, at which time, she attended the funeral of a dear friend, that being the last time she was able to leave her home. She was a member of the Deep Brook United Baptist Church. She was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. David Nichols, and beside her husband leaves to mourn their loss, one brother Frank, of Deep Brook; two sons, Frank, of Deep Brook, and Aubrey, in the Armed Services in Manitoba; three daughters, Ruth (Mrs. Willis Rice), of Middleton, Hilda (Mrs. Lovett Fraser), Augusta, Maine, and Freda (Mrs. Russell Harris), Kentville, also ten grandchildren and a large circle of other relatives and friends.

BASE HOSPITAL

This Mail has PRIORITY

WHEN a man is wounded in action or seriously ill, he is rushed through field and base hospitals with all possible speed, to the place where most effective treatment can be given. Because of this rapid movement, his mail may not "catch up" for some time, yet, if ever he longed for a letter from home, it is at such a time.

To offset possible delays, a new "Short-Cut" mail service has been put into effect. A Priority Casualty Card is filled in and rushed by Air Mail to his friends or relatives with instructions to add the words "In Hospital" to the unit address they usually use.

Letters mailed from Canada bearing the words "In Hospital" are routed direct to the records office in the United Kingdom or the Central Mediterranean Force, as the case may be. They are given preference in transport, whether sent by Air Mail or regular mail. Thus they will reach the addressee faster than ever before.

It is inevitable that in tracing men who have been moved, or wounded, some delays occur. But you can rest assured everything that can mean speedier deliveries of letters to your men is being well and thoroughly done—and will be done.

When you get a Priority Casualty Card be sure the words "In Hospital" are added to the regular unit address when writing overseas.

THE FUTURE FOR FIGHTERS

Answers to Questions About the Rehabilitation Programme for Service Men and Women

Q.—If ex-service personnel wish to return to the position which they held prior to the war, is there any provision insuring their reinstatement?

A.—The Reinstatement in Civil Employment Act was one of the first measures passed. Under this Act it is laid down that it is an employer's duty, if application is made, to reinstate ex-service personnel who were bona-fide employees for at least three months immediately prior to enlistment.

Q.—Is this a blanket ruling or are there any exceptions?

A.—Reasonable safeguards both for the employer and the employee, were made. For instance, if the ex-service personnel was hired in civil employment to replace a man who was already in the Services and the original employee in that position had applied for re-instatement, then the original employee has the preference.

Q.—Are there any other regulations?

A.—Yes. Steps of necessity had to be taken with regard to the possibility of changing economic conditions. For instance, an employer's business might be seriously jeopardized by the war and he might not be able to offer employment which was as good as, or better than, the situation the ex-service man left. In this case proceedings will not be taken against the employer under the Act if he offers employment under the best possible conditions and if he is not retaining someone else in the position that ex-service personnel left to enlist.

Q.—Is seniority protected under the Reinstatement in Civil Employment Act?

A.—Yes. Ex-service personnel employed in an industry where there are no seniority rights must be reinstated with seniority for the period spent in the Services. If there are no seniority rights, the employee must be re-engaged with preference according to the first date of employment and on terms no less favorable than would have prevailed had the period of employment not been interrupted by war service.

Q.—What about disabled personnel under this Act?

A.—If the employer can show that ex-service personnel are physically or mentally incapable of doing work which he has to offer, the Act does not apply.

Q.—Is reinstatement in civil employment a permanent right or is there a time limit?

A.—The onus is on the service man to apply for reinstatement within 3 months of similar discharge overseas.

Q.—Who administers this Act?

A.—It is administered by the Department of Labor and cases of infractions may be reported to the nearest Employment and Selective Service office.

(The next instalment deals with the Post-Discharge-Re-establishment Order.)

They Mean It

An exchange says: "We had occasion recently to remark that law enforcement is taken very seriously in England. When Queen Victoria was on the throne, her dog was found running about without a muzzle, which was, in certain cases, required by law, and was seized by a constable. One of her servants hurried to a magistrate to ask for the release of the dog. The magistrate asked, 'Will you pay the fine?' 'But,' said the man, 'It's the Queen's dog.' The magistrate answered that the Queen's dog could bite, he supposed, as well as any other dog. The fine was paid. The following instance is a recent proof that the speed laws over there are taken seriously:

"It was Derby Day at Epsom Downs. The papers were panting for pictures of the finish for whatever they call their seven-star sports extras. Two motorcycle couriers, with the precious plates in their custody, swung roaring down the road. Halfway home, they were pulled to the roadside by a bobby, similarly mounted. Like good newspapermen they flashed their credentials, pleaded that their jobs depended on getting the plates to the office without delay, but the officer was unmoved. They had summonses when they proceeded.

"Last week they came up for trial. The policeman testified that their respective speeds were 40 and 45 miles an hour. The magistrate asked interested questions, learned that the record between Epsom Downs and Fleet St., was 17 minutes, applauded the enterprise and rapidity with which the press procured its illustrations and then got down to business.

"One of the young men was fined 40 shillings and 10s 6d costs and barred from driving a motor vehicle for one year. The other drew a 20 shilling fine, the same costs, and six-month sit-down. Both had previous traffic convictions.

"That is traffic law enforcement."

Furniture for The Future

By Claire Martin

Don't let them scare you—those almost too streamlined designs of the post-war world which make everything look as if it were heading into the wind with a jet propulsion rocket behind it. Some of the more freely conceived post-war furniture designs make you wonder if there will be anything on which you will be able to sit—and if you do sit if you can be sure not to "take off."

Canadian furniture designers who are watching trends very carefully advise us to relax. They promise that post-war designs will have a feeling of security and rest rather than of unrest and movement about them.

The furniture will be functional in the true sense of the word. Beauty will not be sacrificed and Canadians can count on new furniture being decorative. Because the furniture will fill efficiently its physical and mechanical function it will be "functional." That, however, is only the beginning, according to Canadian designers. The new furniture will be decorative too.

It is not reasonable, designers point out, to expect housewives to go back to the type of extravagantly carved furniture which required back-breaking dusting. On the other hand many thousands of women who have been in factories and in the services have been thinking about homes and they know definitely they want them comfortable and decorative.

The post-war home, architects promise, will be more than ever a place for rest and relaxation. The new furniture will conform to that theme. It will be designed so that the mind can be rested as well as the body.

Adelard Doucet is confined to his home due to sickness. He donated a pint of blood to the Red Cross several weeks ago.

On the west coast of Haiti there is a most unusual colony, consisting solely of American colored people who went there after the Civil War. Although until recently the colony practised voodooism, witch doctory, and so on, its members have never mixed with the natives of the island. They govern themselves and have never been bothered even during Haiti's many revolutions. The preacher of the colony is also their school teacher.

MARRIAGES

Belliveau - Melanson

At the church of St. Marie, Church Point, a pretty wedding took place on the 10th of April, when Miss Precille Melanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Melanson, became the bride of Chief Petty Officer O'Neil Belliveau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ulysse Belliveau, both of Church Point. The bride was attired in a long dress of white satin with three-quarter length veil. Attendants were Miss Annie Marie Melanson, sister of the bride, who wore a dress of blue satin, and Normand Belliveau, brother of the groom. Following the wedding breakfast, the newly married couple left for Yarmouth, and on the following day for Sydney, where the groom is stationed.

Dauphinee - Mullen

A wedding of interest took place in Lunenburg, at Zion's Lutheran Church, on Tuesday afternoon, April 18, when Miss Florence Mullen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Mullen, of New Tuskent, became the bride of Rev. James S. Dauphinee, Lunenburg. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. C. H. Whittaker, president of the Lutheran Synod, assisted by the pastor of Zion's Church, Rev. L. G. Bald. The guests were ushered in by Donald Connors, Saint John, and Lester Mullen, Lawrencetown. The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Wallace Mullen, entered the church to the strains of a hymn sung by the choir leader, Mrs. W. Austin.

Her veil was caught with a spray of tiny flowers and she carried a white hymn book with white satin ribbon streamers. She was attended by her sister, Ercel, who wore azure blue taffeta with headdress and bouquet in harmony. Little Miss Rachel Mullen, cousin of the bride, also in blue, officiated as flower girl. The groom was supported by his brother, Phillip Dauphinee. A reception followed at the groom's home to a large number of guests, the bride's mother and the groom's mother, assisted in receiving. The toast to the bride was given by Rev. C. H. Whittaker and responded to by the groom. Mrs. Lester Mullen and Mrs. J. W. Westhaver, presided over the tea table. Assisting in serving were the Misses June and Glenna Mullen, Frances Dauphinee, Phyllis Westhaver, Helen Fraser, Mrs. Ray Goddard. The bride is a graduate of the Normal College, Truro, and followed the teaching profession. The groom is a graduate of Dalhousie University and Waterloo Theological Seminary. His first pastorate was at West Northfield and recently he has accepted the Mahone Bay pastorate made vacant by the resignation of Rev. E. V. Nonamaker.

ACADEMY ACTIVITIES

Stamp sales last week amounted to $57.75. Army jumped to the lead with $22.-50, Navy was second with $21.-75 and Air Force last with $13.50. The totals for April were, Navy, $64.00, Air Force, total for April $168.25. The total to date is $2,088.

On Monday the high school students were given a talk by Dr. Day, Representative of the provincial branch of the Canadian Youth Commission. Dr. Day urged the students to express their opinions. The real object of his visit was to invite the student body to form groups who will work, study and make a report on some social problem or conditions. He told the students that their opinions on present day conditions are just as important as those of older people. The students showed a lively interest in the plan.

The boys' and girls' basketball teams will play games against the Lawrencetown's High School teams. The games will be played in the Scout hall this Saturday, afternoon and evening.

An Egg Within An Egg

A few days ago Mrs. Burton Fleet, of Mount Pleasant, had in her possession a large egg. She broke it into the frying pan, expecting of course, to find a double yolk. The double yolks were there all right but she was surprised to find in addition, another egg, complete with shell, small but perfectly formed.

Was on Locomotive Two Royal Trains 38 Years Apart

From fireman on the locomotive hauling the train to Montreal that carried the Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York, later Their Majesties King George V and Queen Mary, to officiate at the opening ceremonies of Victoria Jubilee Bridge; in 1901, to handling the throttle of the huge "6400" type engine that hauled the Royal train with Their Majesties King George VI and Queen Elizabeth on visit to Canada, 1939, is the proud record of Samuel Lees, locomotive driver for the Canadian National Railways who has retired after 52 years of service. He became an engineman in 1904.

War Affects Fishing Towns and Villages

From ways that previous to the war launched many of the famous "Bluenose" fishing schooners now slip powerful 70-foot tugs to be used in the war against Germany and the invasion of Europe, so completely has Canadian industry turned to war purposes. This fishing town on the lines of the Canadian National Railways serving the south shore of Nova Scotia is the home of one of the world's largest deep-sea fishing fleets. There are fishing towns and villages all along this shore which are familiar to numbers of tourists who visited them previous to the war but the war has touched every one of them. This is evidenced before the train makes its first stop out of Halifax by the prevalence of members of the armed forces among the passengers—sailors, soldiers, and airmen. Lobstermen, however, still go out to tend their lobster pots, the lobsters being shipped to markets in the United States and Canada, for which the lobstermen are receiving the highest prices in years.

Permits Granted for New Buildings

A resolution instructing the medical health officer for the town of Digby to make a thorough survey of all food dispensing places in town, including restaurants and food stores, and make a report to the town council as to health conditions of the employees and sanitary conditions in the establishments, was unanimously passed by the Town Council at its regular monthly session Monday evening. The motion was made by Councillor V. G. Cardoza and seconded by Councillor O. Wright.

Building permits took up much of the council's time at this session. The first to be considered was that of Andre Deveau, who, at the last meeting of the council sought permission to erect a canteen in front of his residence on Montague Row. Permission in this instance was refused because of numerous complaints that had been filed in writing with the town clerk.

A. R. Pyne advised the council he intended erecting a two storey brick and tile building opposite his present store, and on the site of the old Digby Courier building. As Mr. Pyne had no plans for his proposed building, no action was taken.

Permission to build was granted to the Digby Branch of the Navy League of Canada; to Charles W. Ramsay and to the Digby General Hospital. The Navy League proposes building a 32 x 64 foot addition to the Hostel; Mr. Ramsay plans to set up a building 20 x 24 feet on Warwick Street, and the Hospital sought permission to erect a Nurses' Residence, construction of which has already commenced.

The financial report submitted by the town clerk was most satisfactory. This report showed that up until April 29, 54 per cent of the 1944 tax warrant has been collected, and since the first of the year 43 per cent of the tax arrears paid into the town treasury. $1800 in back water rates have also been collected since the beginning of 1944, leaving approximately $1500 still to be collected in this department.

The council agreed to carry town water to the home of Archibald Dennison.

Fire hazards were also discussed. Councillor Cardoza pointing out that due to crowded conditions the chimneys of many buildings in the town are overlooked, thereby creating dangerous fire hazards, and charged this practice was responsible for many of the fires that have occurred in this town in recent months. A resolution was passed requesting the fireworks to investigate fire hazards and the work of chimney sweeps.

Will Show Film Of Wild Life

The Annapolis-Digby Counties Fish and Game Protective Association are holding a public meeting on Monday, May 8, at 8 p.m., in the Court House, Digby.

The Provincial Department of Lands and Forests is co-operating by presenting a number of motion picture films dealing with our wild life and its protection. Officials of the Department will be present to discuss some aspects of this subject.

Tell your friends, come yourself, and bring as many as you can.

N. A. Patterson, President of the Association.

"It's such a wet day I thought I'd like to get in out of the rain," expained Earl Harvey when he walked into the FBI office in Buffalo. Then he confessed that he had failed to register for the draft. He was ushered to a warm, dry cell.

WAKE UP DIGBY COUNTY

The 6th Victory Loan Campaign in Digby County is lagging behind with the result that in this district scarcely more than 25% of our $465,000 minimum objective had been reached up to yesterday morning when total subscriptions stood at $126,950. We have been given to understand substantial subscriptions were expected yesterday, and with these it is hoped the total will reach the $200,000 mark today, but even this leaves more than 50% to be raised before the close of the campaign on May 13.

In the past Digby County returns have been slow early in the campaign, then topping the objective as the drive came to a close, however, the percentage in this campaign is away below that of a year ago.

By this time it should not be necessary to persuade the public of the importance of investing in Victory Bonds. They know the war can't be won without money... they know that through investing in Victory Bonds they are giving their support to the boys who are fighting and dying on the battle fields of Europe... they know that every Victory Bond they buy brings the day of victory and peace nearer... they know that Victory Bonds are the passports to bring our boys and girls home from overseas... they know investments in Victory Bonds pay double bank interest and provide a substantial nest egg for the future.

It is possible the slow progress of the campaign is not altogether the fault of the public. It has been pointed out to us in many instances Victory Loan Salesmen have been lax in making their rounds, a number of good prospects have not been approached.

We are convinced that under present conditions $465,000 is not too much to ask the people of this county to subscribe for Canada's 6th Victory Loan, and urge all to buy as many bonds as they can afford, and buy them today. If no salesman has called on you, get in touch at once with the local Victory Loan Headquarters or your bank, but DO IT TODAY.

Congratulations were extended a short time ago to Handy Bowe, a well-known resident of Rossway, who had just celebrated his 92nd birthday. Mr. Bowe keeps remarkably well and is able to look after his work around the farm.

Robert Smith In "Y" Work

Robert B. Smith, A.B., of the Y.M.C.A., in Newfoundland, arrived home last week to visit his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith, of Smith's Cove.

The success Mr. Smith has made in his chosen work should be an inspiration to other young men and his friends are very proud of him. After graduation from the local school, Robert proceeded to Boston and attended Gordon College of Theology graduating in arts from that institution. He took up post graduate work at Acadia University, preparing himself for the Baptist ministry, and during that period had pastoral charge of the churches at Pleasantville, Country Harbour and Weymouth North in turn. At the close of his Weymouth term in December, 1941, he entered Y. M. C. A. work and after a short term in Halifax, received his appointment in Newfoundland as Assistant Manager in St. John's for one year, then attached to the Air Force for two months, after which he was appointed to the opening of a new "Y" in the Army, followed by a promotion to Senior Supervisor of Y.M.C.A. work attached to the Navy Barracks in St. John's. This work not only called for conducting social, religious and recreational duties, but the handling of large stores of supplies as well, and the providing of at least $300 worth of free lunches per month. Mr. Smith says that the "Y" is now putting up a new building over there valued at $80,000 and speaks very highly of the splendid work being carried on among the "boys."

Acting-Major Stanley Smith, now in Italy, is a brother of Robert.

The next meeting of Zelma Rebekah Lodge will be held in the I.O.O.F. Hall. A social hour will be held after the regular meeting and each member is requested to bring refreshments.

Grateful for Greek Relief

The following letter of appreciation signed by the chairman of the Greek Relief Fund, Halifax, was received recently by Mrs. A. J. Dillon, Secretary Digby Red Cross, in answer to the splendid response made to the call for Greek Relief last January. Several cases of clothing, shoes, warm bedding and gifts of money were donated by the people of Digby town and County.

"On behalf of the Greek War Relief Fund and the suffering Greek people, we desire to sincerely thank you and through you all the members of your organization for the splendid donation of clothing, and shoes to our cause, which have been received in good condition and greatly appreciated."

"It is most heart warming to see such overwhelming response to our appeal from the people of Nova Scotia and the great assistance given us from the Branches of your organization, without the help of which our drive would not be as much a success as it was."

"The Greek people will always remember with affectionate emotion the practical help extended to them by Canadians in the most crucial hours of their existence."

Grateful for Services Given

Dear Sir: I should like to express my gratitude on behalf of the ship's company for the excellent treatment you gave the submarine ratings. They very much appreciated the way in which you and your various helpers went to so much trouble for their general welfare and comfort.

Every man on board has a very warm spot for Digby, and I know that many ratings thought that leaving Digby was nearly as sorrowful as leaving their own homes.

Thanking you again for all the privileges you gave to us, Yours very sincerely,

Presbytery Approves Calls to Ministers

A regular quarterly meeting of the Annapolis Presbytery of the United Church of Canada was held in the United Church at Bridgetown on Tuesday, May 2. All the active ministers of the Presbytery (with one exception) were present as well as several retired men and a fair representation of laymen.

The morning session was taken up largely with routine business, the reports of committees, correspondence, etc. The annual election of officers took place resulting as follows:

Chairman—Rev. A. D. MacKinnon, Berwick.

Secretary—Rev. R. H. H. Barker, Weymouth.

Treasurer—Rev. A. D. MacDonald, Bridgetown.

Lay member of the Executive—F. E. Bath, Bridgetown.

As this is the year for the bi-annual session of the General Council the Presbytery nominated Rev. T. W. Hodgson, of Digby, as ministerial delegate, and F. E. Bath, as lay delegate. These names are to be sent to the Maritime Conference at Sackville, which body will elect the delegates attending the Council at the June session.

The Presbytery nominated Rev. Dr. Seeley, of the Wesley Memorial Church, at Halifax, as their candidate for the presiding of the Maritime Conference. They also expressed their choice of Rev. Dr. Kerr, of Pine Hill, as Moderator of the General Council, and nominated Rev. J. A. Keigan, of Halifax, as head of the M. and M. Fund, and Rev. John MacKay, of Ottawa, to head the Church's Social Service Department. The latter two recommendations were made at the request of the General Council.

The Presbytery approved of Bridgetown's call to Rev. W. C. Pickett, B.A., of Murray Harbour, P.E.I., and Lawrence County's call to Rev. Warren G. Dickson.

Rev. C. L. Gesner, now pastor at Lawrencetown, was given temporary retirement on account of ill health.

The Christian Education committee brought in its report on Statistics, but other matters which it had in hand, viz. Report on the Pine Hill Conference and the Leadership Training School were only touched upon, and as they were considered of too much importance to be passed over lightly it was decided to call a special meeting of the Presbytery on May 23 to take up the whole matter.

D.D.G.M. Hall, of Annapolis Royal, paid an official visit to the Lodge. There was an exceptionally large attendance, the room being filled with members of the craft representing about a dozen lodges. At the close of the session a social hour was enjoyed in the lodge's new banquet room which has just been completed in the rear of the large store in the Masonic building formerly occupied by B. J. Roop.

Municipal Council and Ferry Matters

In opening the semi-annual session of the Municipal Council for the District of Digby, which opened at the Digby Court House, Tuesday afternoon, the warden, H. E. Chisholm in his opening address remarked "While the supreme task of winning the war still lies ahead of us, yet we feel we have come a long way from those dark days, when, through lack of preparedness in equipment and manpower, the enemy seemed almost invincible."

Continuing, he paid tribute to the part being paid by boys from this province who are valiantly upholding the noble traditions of their fathers who made history in World War 1. He then went on to speak of the responsibility the Municipalities have assumed in carrying on the battle of the home front through co-operating with civilian defence, ration boards, salvage committees and other organizations dealing with the prosecution of the war.

"While we appreciate the co-operation of our people we are not unmindful of the broken homes and the loss of home influence brought about by the demands for co-operation in the war effort. In many instances the loss of home influence is reflected in the youth of our land, and with increasing delinquency on the part of both parents and children, the responsibility and influence of our teachers is often greater than that of the home. Truly the home and school is the citadel of any nation, and without the democracy of the home and the school, no national democracy can be retained and no nation can maintain its greatness except its government be built on righteousness and justice," said the warden.

D. B. Kenney, councillor for the district of Westport, spoke of the unsatisfactory ferry service between Westport and Freeport and Tiverton and East Ferry, stating this matter had previously been brought to the attention of the government, and although promises have been made, nothing has been done.

Councillor Cossaboom, Tiverton, said with the amount of trucking that has to be done over these ferries, the situation is impossible. There are two men operating the Tiverton-East Ferry ferry, working from 6 a.m. to 9 p.m. (with one hour off for lunch), however, there is a matter of four hours when it is impossible to drive a truck on to the slip.

On motion, D. B. Kenney and W. F. Cossaboom were appointed a committee to interview the government concerning the Petite and Grand Passage Ferry Services. The committee was given authority to go to Halifax if necessary.

On motion the clerk, Rosco Handspiker, was given a $300 per year increase in salary, effective from January 1st, 1944.

On motion the deputy clerk, Mrs. Dorothy Bishop, was bonded for $5,000.

About This and That

At the beginning of the century, two persons were needed to play a pipe-organ. The organist was at the keyboard and someone else was at the pump handle. And all the years of practise, all the skill of the musician's fingers came to naught when the man at the pump stopped pumping. In Europe today thousands of Canadians are playing a different kind of music. They are playing it well with cannon and guns. Their performance is a thrill for a listening world, a display of masterful technique developed through years of hard practise. Just as the organist of olden days depended on the youth at the pump, our troops depend on us at home to keep them going. Victory Loans, successfully conducted during the past three years, have been vital to the training of our armed forces. But they are not enough. One hour's pumping of the old organ could not keep the organist playing for one hour and a quarter. Similarly, just so long as the Canadian invasion forces are playing their part on European soil we must do ours here. We can't stop pumping now.

Some people make trouble for others, and then come around to sympathize with them.

Actions always speak louder than words. Therefore as the result of recent warnings it is evident that leaders of the allied nations meant what they said in advising neutral nations in Europe to re-examine their practise of supplying Germany with critical materials of war. Sweden, Turkey, and Spain have been the three worst offenders in this respect, with some assistance from Portugal. These nations have been pouring into Germany the very things which Russians, Americans, and British are sacrificing thousands of lives to prevent the nazis from getting. There was a time when Hitler's power compelled these neutral nations to deal almost solely with Germany—"or else." But that time has passed. Greed, not fear, is now mainly the cause of their continued extensive trade with the reich. It is high time that the allies "got tough" with these money-hungry neutrals. We have pampered them too long, paying in blood and tears for their greed. Now let's see how they react to a new program:

Some men haven't so many faults, but they make the most of them they have got.

British Joke About

"Lord Haw Haw"

After the war, officials announce, Lord Haw Haw and other ex-Britishers broadcast from Germany will be tried in British courts as traitors to their homeland.

Lord Haw Haw was the name given him by a London Daily Express writer. For months there were many guesses as to his real identity. Then a funny woman ran to the police and announced that Lord Haw Haw was her long-lost husband, William Joyce. She begged that he be arrested for theft and abandonment—if and when he returned to England. Police promised to imprison him, but not for wife-desertion.

Later Haw Haw admitted his identity, renounced his British citizenship and took the German name Frolick, which means joy.

As a boy, Joyce was a super-patriot. He was born some 39 years ago of an Anglo-American father and an Irish mother. But he preferred England to any other country. He joined the British Army at 15. His old friends, who now admit only to a slight acquaintance, recall that he had a passion for standing at rigid attention whenever God Save the King was played. Once, when he was in bed with chills, practical jokers played the anthem over and over on a phonograph. Joyce kept hopping in and out of bed to stand up and contract pneumonia as a result.

A serious student, he taught himself several languages, took class honors in literature, and later did post-graduate work in Germanic philosophy and psychology. Then Joyce went to work in the accounting office of a big paper manufacturer. On the side he travelled with amateur theatre groups, meeting important people and collecting gossip which he later used to advantage in his German broadcasts.

Lord Haw Haw even played professional bits on the London stage, but soon gave it up to become a political organizer for the Conservative party. Subsequently, the intensely nationalistic patriotism of William Joyce took a new twist. He became chief publicity man for Oswald Mosley and his British union of Fascists.

There was talk of his falsifying or as the English say—"cooking" the union's accounts. Sir Oswald is said to have told Joyce, "You're not a secretary—you're a chef." Extremely vain, Joyce once described himself in a Fascist union pamphlet as a Professor of Psychology and Economics at London University. The university could find no Professor William Joyce on its roster.

After that he was laughingly called "The Professor," until the night of a big brawl at a Fascist meeting, Joyce was slashed from lip to ear with an open razor. After that he was called scarface.

When he deserted his wife and two children and fled to Germany, the well-dressed, clean-shaven Fascist took a Manchester show - girl with him. The girl's parents didn't know what had become of her. One night, while they listened to Lord Haw Haw's broadcast, they heard a woman tell about the joys of German domestic living.

Suddenly, with a shudder they realized it was their daughter—Lady Haw Haw. They were so ashamed they didn't mention it until official inquiries were made.

Everyone who has had anything to do with Haw Haw is ashamed. The English people, even though they joke, mean to bring William Joyce to account when the war is over.

Twelve Million Messages a Year

A total of 12,000,000 messages were handled by the Canadian National Telegraphs last year according to W. M. Armstrong, General Manager. The telegraph agencies are handling the biggest business in their history. Mr. Armstrong stated, and this was done despite the fact that one experienced employee out of five was serving with the armed forces. In addition to the tremendous volume of message traffic, he added that the Canadian National Telegraphs provided many thousands of miles of leased teletype and telephone circuits to the armed forces throughout Canada as well as for train despatching for the Canadian National Railways and other leased circuits for industry.

Farmers Reorganize

At a County Farmers' meeting held Thursday in the Court House, Digby, the morning was spent in a discussion of the organization of the Digby County Farmers' Association.

There are at present several Agricultural Societies, Credit Union, Womens Institutes and various other farm organizations in the county all doing excellent work. However, it was felt that if these clubs, while maintaining their own individuality, could be banded together under one head, a much stronger unit would result, giving the farmer a stronger voice in Parliament.

C. L. FitzRandolph, secretary of the County Farmers' Association, gave a talk on the organizations at the afternoon session. "Much as I dislike quoting figures that have been quoted so often before, it has been shown that while the farmer numbers one-third of the population of Canada, his income has been as low as one-tenth the National Income, which shows the scales are unbalanced.

Mr. FitzRandolph then went on to show the seven links between the farmer and society. First he must have a good farm, then he must look after the soil, then comes supply, crops, livestock, sales, and living. Much help has been given the farmer on soil, crops and livestock, while nothing has been done in the matter of Supply and Sales. It is the aim of the County Farmers' Association to help strengthen these weak lines.

Other business enterprises carried on in a large scale have organized and by cooperation and strong representation in government strengthened their position. Farmers can and should do the same.

During the discussion that followed it was decided to divide the county into six districts, keeping intact societies already formed. Secretaries of said societies to act until the new organization is under way. The first meeting is proposed to be held in the province being placed under evening of May 11.

In reply to a question by the meeting of what went on in Halifax at the reading of Resolution no 4 "Marketing of Cream" Mr. FitzRandolph said that the farmers' case had been strongly and ably presented, had it not been so he was of the opinion that nothing at all would have been done. Although the outcome was not what the farmers had asked (the creameries of the Public Utilities instead of the Dairy Arbitration Act as called for by the resolution) he had every confidence in the board of Public Utilities who have already shown their ability in handling Light and Power in the province. It is up to us now to get behind these men and give them our support. I believe that given time to study the situation they will be able to give satisfaction to all concerned.

Plants Closing Down During the Summer

Hon. Humphrey Mitchell, Minister of Labour, has stated that special instructions have been sent to Employment and Selective Service Offices across Canada, with a view to curtailing the temporary closing down of plants on war production and essential civilian production during the course of the summer.

The Labour Minister points out that in normal times a good many plants have developed the practice of closing down for several days—often for a few weeks—for various reasons, such as to give a vacation to employees or to carry out overhaul work.

The Minister added that as labour shortages are expected to be pronounced again this summer, the Government expects firms will agree to examine their policy carefully before going ahead with any temporary plant shut-down. While there is no desire on the part of the Government to interfere with established and reasonable vacation practices, Selective Service cannot undertake to guarantee the return of workers to plants following unwarranted shut-downs. Moreover, hardship for those who lose wages during these temporary layoffs is frequently involved.

The Minister wishes to be understood as appealing to all employers who may have under consideration any plan for a temporary shut-down, to discuss the matter with the nearest Employment and Selective Service office before reaching a final decision, in order to ensure that Selective Service Regulations may not be infringed, and also to ensure that labour shortage difficulties will not arise out of action proposed.

Plough Turns Up 4,500-years-old Relics

The contents of a grave which from the archaeological viewpoint may be regarded as one of the most important discoveries of the century, have been given in the National Museum in Dublin by John Byrne, of Linkardstown Co. Carlow, Ireland, who discovered the burial place while plowing his land.

The burial place consists of a large slab-lined grave surrounded by a low mound of yellow clay. The mound was about 25 yards in diameter, and was originally not more than 3 ft. high from the ground level. The grave was seven sided, and the stones were sloping in from the base to the top.

Dr. J. Raftery, of the National Museum, has concluded that the burial was that of a male skeleton. With the remains were deposited three elaborately decorated round-bottomed pottery vessels and a beautiful polished stone axe-head. According to Dr. Raftery, the burial dates back to 2,500 B.C.

We See Better When We Don't Look

In the black-out you will see things better by not looking at them. This apparent contradiction is brought out by the investigation of two Canadian doctors, D. Y. Solandt and C. H. Best, aimed at helping air pilots to see in the dark.

When you are not looking at an object you "see" it out of the corner of your eye with a part of the eye which is much more sensitive to faint light than the normal part.

The two doctors also found that when not much light is wanted (for instance, to see the aircraft panels) then red light is the best light to use.

For this reason red lighting is now used in the instrument panels of aircraft and in the Royal Navy.

Six Years For Holding Masses

A German military court has sentenced to six years penal servitude a Belgian named Admand De Menton for ordering masses in various churches in Limburg and Brussels in memory of his son, a pilot in Britain who died during an attack on Germany. Belgian chiefs reported in London, recently.

The man was accused of "anti-German character," the Wehrmacht prosecutor said, adding that De Menton's son had been shot down during terror raids against Germany.

In Los Angeles Miss Earleen Borton stepped off a street car and found she had left her purse on it. She signaled a motorist, who gave her a lift and overtook the car. She retrieved her purse—then remembered that she had left her coat in the obliging stranger's automobile.

Blueberry Jam Remains Rationed

There has been some confusion throughout the province as to whether or not grocers should accept ration coupons for blueberry jam, J. D. Vass, Ration Officer of the Prices Board in Nova Scotia, announces.

Mr. Vass pointed out that although canned blueberries have been removed temporarily from the list of rationed fruits, jam made from blueberries still requires coupons for its purchase. This does not, however, apply to blueberry pie filler, he added.

After July 1 coupons will be required for the purchase of canned blueberries the same as for other fruits.

Have YOU thought

What it means to wear this emblem!

When you listen to news of what our boys are going through overseas

... and read the casualty lists in your newspaper every day

... and measure the sorrow and anxiety that have come to thousands of Canadian homes—and may come to many more...

Are you satisfied that you are doing ALL YOU CAN?

Our men and women in uniform are ready, if need be, to die for Canada, for Freedom, for YCU.

Compared with that, no amount of self-denial is too great.

Are you prepared to put EVERY SINGLE DOLLAR YOU CAN SAVE into Victory bonds? Into bonds that will assure a steady flow of vital supplies to bring Victory closer?

That's what YOU can do to help shorten the war, to save precious lives. And that's what the wearing of this emblem means—that you too are doing your share... that you are buying all the Victory Bonds you can!

At the regular monthly meeting of the Women's League of the Baptist Church, Mrs. Howard Anderson was presented with a beautiful table lamp in token of appreciation for her untiring efforts towards the church. The presentation was made by Mrs. H. T. Warne, president of the W.M.A.S. Refreshments were served, including a lighted birthday cake, the occasion being Mrs. Anderson's birthday. A very enjoyable evening was spent by all.

Mrs. Aubrey W. Landers, Sr., has returned to Digby after spending seven months in the United States. While away she visited her daughters in New York City and Dumont, N. J. She also spent several weeks with her brother, Lewis Churchill Tingley, founder and president of the Resthaven Memorial Park, Louisville, Ky. The latter part of her visit was with her childhood friend, Mrs. A. D. Stevenson, Jacksonville, Fla. (The Stevensons were former residents of North Sydney and Middleton, N.S.) En route north Mrs. Landers spent a week with her son and wife, Lieut. A. W. and Dr. M. K. Landers, Washington, D.C.

Scallop Season Closes

The 1943-44 scallop season came to a close on Sunday, several boats of the local fleet taking advantage of the last few fine days of the season. On the whole weather conditions have been against the scallop fishermen, and boats have been forced to spend much of their time tied up at the docks, however, prices have been good, although not as high as the all-time record reached during the 1942-43 season when at one period scallopers were receiving 75 cents a pound for their catch.

Almost Half Loan Raised

Tuesday's Victory Bond sales were $72,373,500 and the cumulative total Wednesday was $553,617,550. At the same time in the last loan approximately $557,000,000 had been raised.

Occasionally, red snow falls in the Arctic, the coloring being caused by minute particles in the atmosphere.

The regular monthly meeting of the Maple Leaf Agricultural Society was held in Acaciaville Hall, Monday evening, May 1st, with a good attendance. J. A. The secretary, J. E. Spechts, informed the society that 1,083 seventy-five pound bags of certified seed potatoes had been brought in the county and distributed by the Digby County Farmers' Association.

The local government came in for very severe criticism from the farmers for the manner in which they abolished the Dairy Arbitration Board and placed milk and milk products under the Public Utilities Board, entirely against the recommendations of the Nova Scotia Farmers' Association and contrary to the unanimous request of the delegates of farmers that met with the Agricultural Committee of the Nova Scotia Legislature.

The farmers realize that the action of the government was the result of pressure put upon the Cabinet and government by big business which the government will listen to very readily rather than to the farmer who is supposed to produce food to win the war and make no protest whatever to protect his own interests.

As the result of this action the farmers realize more than ever their great need of a strong organization to work for their protection and welfare.

The proposed reorganization of the N. S. Farmers' Association was then fully discussed.

A meeting will be held in the Acaciaville Hall Monday evening, May 8th, 8 p.m., to discuss credit unions. The public is cordially invited.

The June meeting of the Society will be held in the Acaciaville Hall on Monday, June 5th, at 8 p.m. We hope to have E. E. Hancock, Provincial Animal Pathologist of the N. S. Agricultural College, there to discuss contagious diseases of cattle.

Figures Play Tricks

Figures do some very queer things. Take your post office box number and double it. Add 5. Multiply by 50. Add your age. Add the number of days in a year. Subtract 615. The last two figures are your age; the others your box number. Right?

Now to be more practical. Insurance companies have devised a table whereby you may figure your life expectancy. Subtract your age from 80. Multiply the result by 7 and divide by 10.

Then there is the formula for determining your ideal weight. Measure your chest girth after a gentle expiration, around the body, at the level of the breastbone. Divide by 4. Square the resulting figure. Got it? Now multiply by your height in inches without shoes. Divide by 27, and there you are, or should be.

Figures play all sorts of tricks. Take the number 142857. You can multiply it by any number from 1 to 6 and you will always get back the same figures in the same order, beginning at a different point. It works like this:

By 1	142857
By 2	285714
By 3	428571
By 4	571428
By 5	714285
By 6	857142

Announces 4-cent Wool Bonus

A bonus of four cents a pound will be paid by the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture on all wool meeting the requirements of the Nova Scotia Wool Bonus Policy, according to an announcement by Hon. John A. McDonald, Nova Scotia Minister of Agriculture. The Dominion Department of Agriculture will reimburse the Nova Scotia Department to the extent of two cents per pound of bonus wool. The purpose of the policy, which was in effect last year, is to encourage greater care in the production of wool for market. All wool from Nova Scotia producers graded at the government registered warehouses at Truro and Antigonish up to July 15, 1944, and shorn this year, is eligible for the bonus.

Payment of the bonus will be included with the statement and cheque which should reach the producer soon after grading takes place or not later than ten days from date of receipt of wool.

Producers are reminded that the bonus will be paid only on wool grading military style, and felting style, and where the whole clip is marketed in generally good condition.

The bonus will not be paid on (a) any portion of a clip arriving at a registered warehouse in generally poor condition and requiring special care and work in order to put the clip in suitable condition for market; for example, clip requiring the opening of fleeces to remove burry or chaffy portions of tags. (b) Wool grading rejects" such as strawy and burry, seedy and chaffy, grey and black, dead, kempy, musty, moth, damaged, cotted or tags, (c) washed wools, (d) wools tied with binder twine.

Repair Mowers and Rakes if Possible

Farmers are advised to very carefully check over their present mowers and rakes before applying for new ones. Angus Banting, Provincial Agriculture Engineer, Truro, points out that the number of applications being received for new mowers and rakes is greater than the number of machines available. "So," he says, "if your machine can be fixed up and made to do for another year or two, that is what you should do. When you do that you will be making one more contribution toward winning the war."

Question No. 6 on the Application for New Equipment reads, "Give reasons why you need this equipment." To say that the old machine is worn out and cannot be repaired is not enough information to show the need is essential. Application should give the maker's name, age of machine, approximately how many tons of hay made each year and reasons why machine cannot be repaired.

We all know, says Mr. Banting, that there comes a time when all machines have reached the end of their usefulness and it would be folly to try to rebuild them. At the same time we know many machines are discarded as being worn out which could be rebuilt and put back into service for several years at a very reasonable cost. We have seen many mowers discarded as useless that by replacing worn bushings, putting in a new spur gear on the crank shaft, a complete new cutter bar with knives and perhaps a new drive pitman, all at a cost of approximately $40 to $50 would have added many more years of service. And we have seen many rakes, especially the wood axle and wood wheel type, piled up for junk because a few teeth were broken, the wheels out of alignment and the axles sagged in the centre due to being left out in the weather too long. A few new teeth, a new axle and wheels replaced or repaired and properly lined up would have given the rakes a new lease of life.

Mr. Banting said he did not blame the farmer for wanting the best tools and the most up-to-date equipment. In fact he admired him for it as it was a sign of progress. But it must be remembered that today there is only a very limited supply of new mowers and rakes. Fortunately, however, managers of machine companies advise they are in a very favorable position to take care of orders for repair parts.

Bulletins treating with the repair and adjustment of mowers may be had, free of charge, on application to the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture at Halifax or Truro.

Annual Closing Held At N. S. A. C.

The annual closing exercises of the Nova Scotia Agricultural College were held at the College April 26, with the Principal, C. Eric Boulden, presiding. The following students were awarded diplomas:

Hazen Leroy Boyd, St. George, N. B.; Frank William Calder, R.R.2, New Glasgow; Vaughan Robert Coates, Amherst; Harold LeRoy Chute, Margaretsville; Peter Young Hamilton, Lewisville, N. B.; Clara McLaughlin Starratt, Bass River, and Terence Adolph White, St. George's, Newfoundland.

The Governor General's medal was won by Peter Hamilton, and the McDonald Scholarship, valued at $100 by Harold Chute. These two young men are now employed with the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, the former as assistant agricultural representative for Cumberland County and the latter as assistant poultry promoter at Lawrencetown.

The valedictorian, Hazen Boyd, drew attention to the effect the war had had on the size of the class, the number of graduates being far less than half of the original enrollment.

Dr. W. S. Blair, Kentville, who addressed the graduates, spoke on "Preparation for Effective Agricultural Work." He stressed nutrition and environment pointing out that a knowledge of the requirements of different plants and animals was essential and that the aim should be to provide conditions that are most suitable. He appealed for a better organization on the farm front. He said it was essential for our farm population to realize that they had a definite obligation in the matter of improving their condition and they could not meet the responsibility satisfactorily until provision was made for more group study and action. In referring to the low income from the farm Dr. Blair said there was no way to remedy this situation except through joint effort on the part of land owners to show that prices for farm crops must be at a level sufficient to permit of their tillage without depleting fertility and to pay a reasonable labor wage to the farmer and his necessary help. Even this cannot be done if we do not have a more complete agreement among the farmers themselves.

Dr. Brittain in a brief address paid tribute to the Nova Scotia Agricultural students whom he has had the opportunity of observing. He characterized them as practical, industrious, and adaptable.

Butter Production Down 19 P.C.

Creamery butter production for the week ended April 15, totalled 61,177 pounds, according to the weekly report issued from the office of the Nova Scotia Dairy Superintendent. This was down 19.8 per cent compared with the production of 76,297 pounds in the corresponding week of last year.

Are Busy Harrowing Pastures

A number of farmers, realizing the great value of rich pasturage are now busy harrowing their pastures. A good procedure in this respect, says Kenneth Cox, Provincial Agronomist, is to use a spike tooth harrow with heavy chains attached. The effect will be to loosen the soil and more evenly spread the accumulated droppings. If the droppings are not spread there is almost sure to develop a clumpy growth of grass which is not relished by the live stock and consequently is largely waste. With the even spread of the droppings there should be even growth making for more valuable feeding. Some operators haul an evergreen tree behind the harrow which has, practically the same effect as the use of the heavy chains. The result in both cases is better utilization of the fertilizer existing in the soil. Eyes of children usually do not move in unison until three months after birth.

Oh, Sister!— Seizing a bottle when he heard someone walking in his room at midnight, Mike Martz, of Cincinnati, O., made a round-house swing and then turned on a light. On the floor lay his sister, Mrs. Ida Smithson, unconscious with a scalp wound.

Canadian Pacific Employees Buy for Victory

TO FIVE previous investments in victory and post-war security, May Webster, an employee in the office of the secretary of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, Montreal, has added a Sixth with her subscription to the Sixth Victory Loan. Mrs. Webster is pictured here handing her subscription pledge to W. L. Wright, chief clerk in the office of the secretary of the company. Mrs. Webster is representative of thousands of patriotic Canadians, Canadian Pacific Railway employees among them, who have all their Victory bond purchases, dating from the first loan, in June, 1941, to the present, carefully stowed away until a complete Allied victory will have written finsis to the war.

Mrs. Webster became an employee of the Canadian Pacific when she replaced her husband who has been on active service with the Black Watch, Royal Highlanders of Canada for two years. Private Webster is now serving overseas. The Websters have a four-year old son.

THE MILDEST CIGARETTE YOU CAN SMOKE

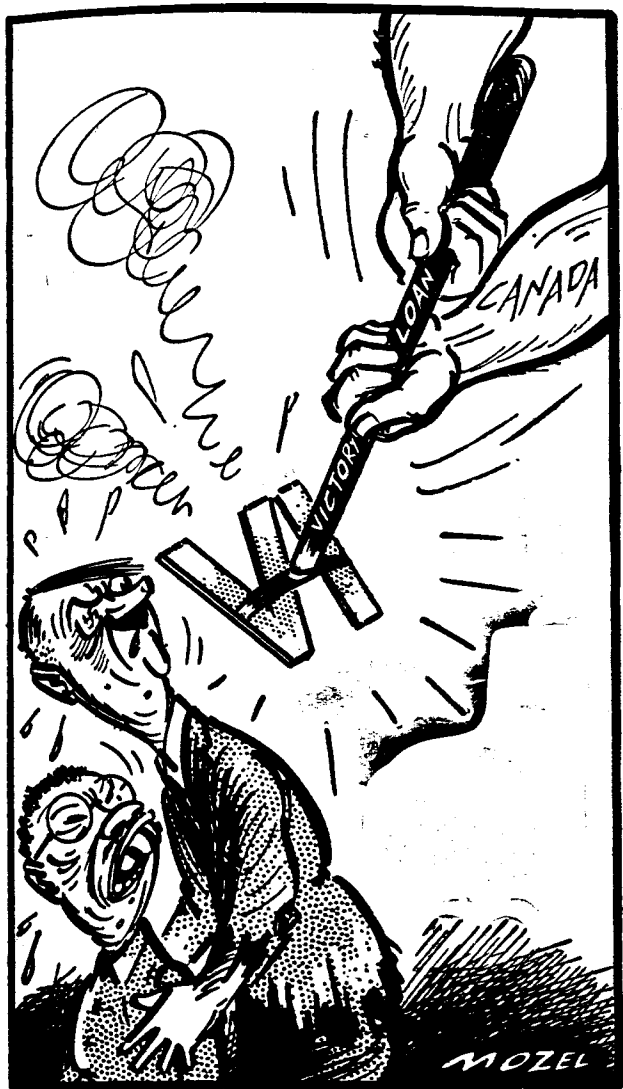

A Buckingham is the mildest cigarette you can smoke, because it is mild, where mildness counts most—in the throat. A Buckingham is "Throat Easy" because it is blended from tobaccos that are naturally cool-burning, cool-smoking.

For a milder smoke, and a more satisfying cigarette in every way, try Buckingham. You'll never again be satisfied with anything less in a cigarette.

Assembly Line Education

By Lewis Milligan

"Germany and Italy looked for salvation to dictators, and we tend to think that the world will be saved by sociology and economics, by a managed currency or the organization of international trade, by 'new orders' and 'planning.'" That is a quotation from a little book entitled "Education For a World A-Drift," by Sir Richard Livingstone, president of Corpus Christi College, Oxford. In that one sentence Sir Richard has summed up the root causes of the present world tragedy and issued a warning for the future.

The quotation is taken from a chapter on "The Training of Character Through History and Literature," in which Sir Richard says that education should not be satisfied with imparting information to a pupil, equipping him for a vocation, and teaching him how to use his mind, but that it should send him out with a definite spiritual attitude to life, and the material basis for a definite philosophy of living.

Modern education has tended to become more and more secular and scientific. The human and spiritual elements have been almost entirely eliminated, or at least given a very minor place in the preparation of youth for the art of living. Living, indeed, has ceased to be an art: it has become a business. Art, literature, and even religion itself, have become commercialized. We no longer enjoy these things for their own sake. We have mechanized everything, and in doing so we are mechanizing ourselves. We have become victims and slaves of our inventions. We have created a Frankenstein's monster which we no longer control, but which controls us and is at the present time spreading slaughter and devastation throughout the world.

Nazi Germany is chiefly responsible for this mechanical monster getting out of control, and it was the direct result of a system of education. The children and the youth of Germany were adopted as the wards of the State, with Hitler as their foster-father and their god. All the finer things of art and literature were eliminated from the curriculum, as is advocated by socialist planners. If that were to happen, Hitler would have won both the war and the peace, however badly his mechanical hosts were defeated.

In order to prevent such a cultural calamity we must get down to the fundamentals. We must place the emphasis upon spiritual values in our educational system. We must turn out men, not machines. One of the first things the Nazis did was to suppress or paganize Christianity. We must reinstate it and put it foremost in our schools, not machines. Every man in his squadron is ready! Every man in the forces of sea and land and air is ready—waiting for the last, BIG PUSH!

ARE YOU? There are some Canadians who aren't! Some men and women who are not taking their full part in the struggle for freedom—who haven't even bought as many Victory Bonds as they possibly can. Are you one of them?

It's not too late! Zero hour is near, but there's still time to get in the fight!

Items Must Be Signed

Again we must remind contributors of news items that their contributions must be signed. During the past few weeks several unsigned items have been received in the mails, and with one exception, all were consigned to the wastepaper basket. The exception was made in an instance when we were able to confirm the item through another source.

We appreciate the many news items sent by our readers without solicitation, and take this opportunity of thanking these contributors. However, we insist on knowing the source of these contributions, and therefore all such contributions received in the mails must be signed, although it is on very rare occasions these signatures are published.

"We'll all Put Victory First!"

THIS FAMILY is "going into a huddle" to plan ways of buying extra Victory Bonds. Budgets have been checked and re-checked. It's clear that luxuries will have to "go overboard", pleasures must be curtailed and new purchases be postponed. Even some "necessities" must take second place when they Put Victory First.

For we at home must match the spirit of unselfishness shown by our fighting forces! And remember—the little hardships we're caused by buying extra Victory Bonds are only temporary. Our money is returned with interest!

Prizes were as follows: Ladies, won by Mrs. Glidden Campbell, box of stationery; Gents, won by Victor MacNeil, box of chocolates; booby prize, Mrs. Eriksen, two face cloths and cake of Cashmere Bouquet soap.

OBITUARY

W. Fenwick Journey

Weymouth lost one of its oldest residents in the recent passing of W. Fenwick Journey, who for many years had been closely connected with business, social and religious life of that community. Mr. Journey was sixth among the eight children of William and Cynthia Jane (Young) Journey. As a boy he entered the employ of the Colin Campbell Shipbuilding Co., as accountant and later in company with George Johnston, developed the first banking industry here. In 1855 he founded a dry goods business under his own name, conducting it successfully until his retirement about 1910. He leaves to mourn, his wife, the former Mabel Hood, and several nieces and nephews. An upright and courteous gentleman, his influence will long be felt in the circle in which he moved.

Mrs. E. E. Graham

The funeral of Mrs. E. E. Graham was held from the United Church at Centreville on Sunday, April 30. Services were conducted by Rev. R. H. Barker, assisted by Rev. L. R. Atkinson. Mrs. Graham passed away at Halifax following a short illness. She will be greatly missed at Little River, where she has made her home the last few years. Being a talented musician, she contributed much to the life of the community. Many people from there were in attendance and the Little River choir added much to the impressiveness of the service. Surviving are a sister, Mrs. A. Denton, of Musquodoboit, and a brother, Burpee Frost, at Little River. Her husband, Rev. E. E. Graham, M.C., D.S.O., predeceased her eleven years ago. Interment was at Centreville cemetery.

James E. Mussels

The death of James Edward Mussels, life long resident of Port Wade, occurred at his home on April 29. The deceased, who had been in failing health for the past few years, was taken seriously ill several days ago and passed away Saturday morning at the age of 81 yrs. and 6 mos. He was the son of the late Edmund and Charity Mussels. He is survived by one brother, Albert, in the United States, and two sisters, Mrs. Judson (Ada) Handspiker, of Culloden, and Miss Hattie Mussels, of Annapolis Royal. The funeral service was held in the Baptist Church Sunday afternoon conducted by Rev. H. D. Hopper. Hymns sung were "Face to Face," "In the Sweet By and By" and "When My Life's Work is Ended." The pall bearers were Ernest, Archie, Percy, William, and Robert McGrath and Garland Hudson.

Mrs. Eliza Sabean

Mrs. Eliza Sabean Sabean passed away on Wednesday, April 26, at the home of her son, Clarence A. Sabean, of South Range. She was the widow of Benjamin Sabean of South Range, who predeceased her fifteen years. The deceased was born at South Range where she lived all her life. She would have been eighty-nine years old on May 14. Since early youth she had been a faithful member of the Church of Christ at South Range. She was well liked by all who knew her, her home being always open to others. Besides a large circle of friends and other relatives, she leaves to mourn their sad loss six children: Joseph, of South Ohio, Yarmouth Co.; Isaiah, of North Bend, Wash.; Lennie (Mrs. Alex Porter), of Deep Brook; Annabelle (Mrs. Hantford Marshall), of South Range; Fanny (Mrs. Harry Lewis), of Ashmore, and Clarence, with whom she made her home for the past twenty-six years. Also thirty-one grandchildren, forty-five great grandchildren. The funeral service was held on Friday afternoon at the home and the South Range Church of Christ, Rev. R. M. Johnson, of Milton, Queens Co., officiating. Hymns sung by the choir were "Safe In the Arms of Jesus," "Face to Face" and "Will the Circle be Unbroken." "Does Jesus Care," was sung by Hubert Shortliffe. The pall bearers were Forest and Clarence Hill, Gilbert and Arnold Marshall.

Victory Bonds and The Post-War

A silly and harmful suggestion heard too often these days is that when the war is over the Government of Canada may not be able to meet its obligations, with a consequent doubtful future for Victory Bonds. Finance Minister Ilsley, in a speech at Windsor, recently, dealt with such talk and it is to be hoped that his words are read widely. Said he:

"It will be of the greatest importance that we maintain, indeed assure, a ready and stable market for all these millions of bonds that we have sold. We have now the monetary and financial machinery and we have developed the methods for accomplishing this and we will therefore be able to deal with any situation which may develop in a way which will keep faith with the millions of small investors who are supporting the savings program in this emergency."

The notion that this rich country is going to pass into poverty or chaos with the war's end, unable to meet its obligations, is a fantastic travesty of obvious fact. We have the resources, the people, the plant and machinery, the managerial and productive skills — why on earth should anybody imagine that we will be incapable of using them? —Ottawa Journal.

Fifty Years of The Movies

In dignified, restrained fashion suited to wartime, the movie industry this month will forgo what could have been an extravagant celebration of its 50th anniversary.

While most industries would figure they were pretty well along at the golden anniversary mark, the films feel the week of April 8 merely marks emergencies from the callow youth stage into vigorous, intelligent adulthood.

It was April 14, 1894, that two brothers premiered Thomas Edison's kinetoscope, in a former shoe store at 155 Broadway. Edison had invented the kinetoscope, but he had not invented the film. Credit for that goes to George Eastman, of Rochester, who had invented a celluloid film strip for his cameras. Edison obtained film from Eastman after experiments with paper film had proved ineffective.

The two who first presented the kinetoscope were Alfred A. Tate, Edison's former secretary, and his brother, Bertam M. Tate. As they sat about the converted shoe store that April afternoon, Alfred had an idea:

"Let's open up earlier than we planned and pick up enough money to pay for dinner."

The idea sounded fine to Bert. The doors were opened and within a few minutes a customer walked in. No one thought enough of the event's significance to take his name. Others dribbled in, one or two at a time. Suddenly business boomed. Ten kinetoscopes were in constant use and the brothers never got their dinner.

They took in more than $100, a fabulous sum for such an effort, before they closed shop at 1 o'clock in the morning.

The ten machines, coin-operated and similar in appearance to the peep-show machines now in use at penny arcades, were an instant hit. Ten more were set up in Chicago and five in Atlantic City. The movie industry was born.

Although his claim has been disputed, it is generally accepted that the first actor to appear on the screen was Fred Ott, a comedian who worked for the Edison Company. As such, the first film entitled, "Fred Ott's Sneeze," belongs to the ages. It was filmed in a contraption officially known as "The Kinetographic Theatre," but was called by Edison workers, "The Black Maria." It looked the part—black inside and out, on a turntable, so that sunlight could be utilized all day.

Reasoning correctly that pictures projected on a screen would permit a larger audience and therefore larger grosses, Woodville Latham perfected a machine somewhat similar to the kinetoscope. With his sons, Grey and Ottway, he produced a film of a prize fight between young Griffo and Battling Barnett on the roof of the Old Madison Square Garden. It was exhibited May 20, 1895.

From then on, various subjects were utilized, including the first "shicker," a lengthy kiss by May Irwin and John C. Rice, a scene from their stage hit of 1896, "The Widow Jones."

Clergymen called it a "lyric of the stockyards," but the industry called it history.

Faults are thick where love is thin.

Canadian Indians as Goat Herders

According to information just released by the Indian Affairs Branch of the Department of Mines and Resources, one of the recent developments on Indian reserves in Canada has been the introduction of goat herding. The establishment of goat herds represents an attempt to provide the Indians with an adequate milk supply so that they may enjoy a balanced diet. A survey of health conditions on reserves where dairying has not become established has shown a serious lack of the essential vitamins contained in milk and its products. The introduction of goats and the use of goats milk has achieved remarkable results, and the departmental herds established at Golden Lake and Spanish in Ontario have increased to such an extent that animals from these herds have been sent to other reserves for the extension of this work.

The goats in the Golden Lake and Spanish herds are of the dairy type (Saanen), and a mature goat will, under favorable conditions, give approximately a gallon of milk a day. Of additional significance is the fact that goats are comparatively easy to raise, requiring about one-fifth the feed needed for a cow. Many herders consider that goats are immune to all known animal ailments, and the milk has been known to remain fresh and free from contamination for long periods.

Young male goats, not required for breeding purposes, are killed for meat and the skins are tanned by the Indians for making windbreakers, gloves and moccasins. The Indian women at Golden Lake have completed five seamen's jackets from goat skins and five from deer skins, for presentation to members of the crew of one of Canada's new tribal class destroyers.

Of particular advantage to the Indians is the fact that milking nannies may be taken along on hunting, fishing, and berry-picking expeditions, thus ensuring a fresh milk supply at all times. Both at Golden Lake and at Spanish, nannies have been loaded into the boats or canoes when the Indians have started out on their periodic trips. They show no uneasiness while being transported, and, because of their domesticity, appear to enjoy the close proximity of their masters.

Last year five nannies and a billy were shipped from the Golden Lake herd to Moose Factory in the James Bay Agency and a similar number to Manuagan in the Abitibi Agency. This year additional animals will be shipped from both Spanish and Golden Lake to establish herds at other points in Eastern Canada.

Spurred by the success of goat herding on reserves in the East, goats were also introduced into reserves in Western Canada, and at the close of 1943 an increasing number of agents showed interest in the organization and establishment of goat herds. The agent of the Stuart Lake Agency in northern British Columbia reported that eight milking nannies and three billys had been purchased for shipment to Fort St. James and distributed to the Stuart Lake, Tatooe, and Grand Rapids Bands. Beneficial results from the use of goat's milk are reported from the Kamloops Agency. The Indian Agent states that one of the two milch goats purchased by that agency had been given to a member of the Adams Lake Band whose small daughter was in hospital for months with a bad case of malnutrition. He had seen her recently and the change in her appearance and health was unbelievable. The family to which the other goat was assigned had a tuberculosis history and it was hoped to avoid further inroads by the use of goat's milk. Goats are also purchased and distributed to reserves in the Prairie Provinces and the Maritime Provinces.

If the earth were a chess-board 46 of the 64 squares would be water.

Milford

(Held over from last week.) Red Cross met last Tuesday evening with Mrs. S. W. Wright.

Sorry to report Bertram Wagstaff confined to his bed for a few weeks.

S. W. Wright, of Annapolis Royal, spent the week end at his home here.

Gerald Chute, of Bear River, was a week end visitor of his father, W. N. Chute.

Mrs. Winthrop Gehue resumed her duties as teacher at Graywood on April 17.

Miss Berta Wagstaff has returned from a visit with her sister, Mrs. Edward Fairn, at Moschelle.

The men of this village who are employed at Deep Brook, and who have been at home while the roads were closed, returned to their work last week.

The special Easter offering to be used for repairs on the Baptist Church, amounted to $37.25.

Mrs. Murray Oickle left on Thursday for Saint John, where she will visit her daughter for a few weeks.

Lawrence (Jr.) and Welsford Munroe, of Lake Munroe, are attending school at Milford for the remainder of the term.

Frank Gehue and daughter, Marion, were recent visitors of his step-daughter, Mrs. Lloyd Anderson, at Annapolis Royal.

Miss Elsie Sibbins, of Graywood, who has been employed in this village for the past several weeks, returned to her home on Friday last.

Railway Hospital Car Has Comfort Features

To add to the comfort of Canadian army casualties returning from overseas war zones, the Canadian National Railways mechanical department has been authorized by the Department of National Defence to build another hospital car. When completed this will be the fourth "hospital on wheels" to be turned out from the shops of the National Railways and placed in service since the start of the war. This car, of the latest design, will be air-conditioned and will embody all improvements developed for previous hospital cars. The necessary materials have been ordered and work commenced. It is anticipated that the Canadian National car shops at Point St. Charles, Que., will complete the car in a few weeks.

THE FUTURE FOR FIGHTERS

Answers to Questions About the Rehabilitation Programme for Service Men and Women

Q.—Under what authority are grants for subsistence paid to discharged members of the services?

A.—These payments are made under a Privy Council Order, known as the Post Discharge Re-Establishment Order. One of the most important parts of the programme, it has become known as the backbone of the re-establishment plan.

Q.—Who are eligible for grants?

A.—The grants are divided into five categories. They are payable to:

(a) those fit and available for employment who are seeking work and for whom there is no suitable employment.

(b) Those following a course of vocational training under the Vocational Training Co-ordination Act.

(c) Those who have embarked on private enterprises, such as farms or small businesses and who are waiting for returns from those enterprises.

(d) Those temporarily incapacitated and unable to accept positions.

(e) Those furthering their academic education looking towards university degrees.

Q.—What is the scale of grants?

A.—Single men receive $10.-20 weekly and married men with their wives $14.40 weekly.

Is there any provision for children and other dependent?

A.—Yes, provision for these dependents is approximately the same as the Dependents' Allowance paid by the Dependents' Allowance Board.

Q.—What is the period for which the grants are payable?

A.—They are payable for twelve months, or the period of service, whichever is the lesser.

Q.—Is there any time limit in these grants?

A.—Yes. The out-of-work benefits are available only in the first eighteen months after discharge. Other grants must be applied for in the first twelve months after discharge or cessation of hostilities, whichever is later, or of a date set by the Minister.

Q.—Are there any exceptions to this time period?

A.—(1) Yes. Exceptions are made in the cases of those taking vocational training or furthering their education with a view to university degrees. In the case of university education, students are eligible for grants on a basis of month for month with their period in service. There is a further governing factor, that of scholarship and effort. Students whose records justify it can be carried right through to graduation and outstanding students, if it is considered to be in the national interest, can go through to post-graduate degrees. In the case of vocational training, the training, where necessary for re-establishment, may be carried beyond the twelve month period.

(The next instalment continues the Post Discharge Re-establishment Order.)

INVEST FOR INVASION

AS THE TEMPO of the war increases—as our fighting forces go all-out for invasion—we folks back home must mobilize in their support. Not only on every battle front, but on the home front, too, we all have our duties.

Everyone who possibly can should invest in at least one extra bond during the present drive. Buy another bond as your investment in the success of invasion.

This is the crucial year. Everyone must do his full share.

WAR-TIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—May I take my own sugar to a baker to have a special icing put on my son's birthday cake?

A.—Yes, this is permissible. You are allowed to use your sugar as you wish as long as you don't attempt to sell it.

Q.—My husband is going to the United States for a month on business. May I use his ration book while he is away?

A.—Yes you may use a member of your family's ration book during his absence if he is not away more than 60 days. After 60 days the book must be turned in to your local ration board.

Q.—My son is home on leave and has no temporary ration card and could not secure one at the local ration board. What is the arrangement about this?

A.—He should have obtained a card before leaving camp. Since January 15 of this year folders have been issued by the soldier's own unit. He should leave his leave pass at the Orderly Room and they will issue him coupons.

Q.—My watch has been cleaned several times at the same jewellers. He has always charged $1.25 and now charged me $3.00. Can he raise his price in this way?

A.—You should not pay more for the same service as was charged by this jeweller during the basic period—Sept. 15 to Oct. 11, 1941.

Q.—The school teacher in our village boards at my home. Do we take the canning sugar coupons allowed her or is she supposed to have them for her own use.

A.—There is no Board regulation governing this matter. It is something which should be settled between your boarder and yourself.

Q.—Since meat rationing has been suspended, is there still a price ceiling on meats?

A.—Yes. Butchers and all those selling meat at retail must have the regular meat charts posted in their stores in a position where the consumer can see them. These charts show the cuts of meat and the prices at which the storekeeper is allowed to sell them.

Q.—We have a little greenhouse and sell bedding plants for gardens. We want to know if we can raise the price to take care of the increased costs of coal.

A.—Greenhouse products are exempt from the maximum regulations. You may charge anything that is reasonable and just.

Please send your questions or your requests for "Re-Make Wrinkles" the handy booklet that tells you how to make use of cast-offs. "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book in which to keep track of your ceiling prices to the Consumer Branch, WPTB, 77 Upper Water St., Halifax.

Sold Molasses Without Coupons

William Yorezson, a grocer in Sydney, was fined $100 and costs by Magistrate J. Smith McIvor for selling molasses without ration coupons. The accused pleaded guilty to the charge.

The case of Louis Spagnolatti, Kilkenny Lake, Cape Breton, who was convicted of buying the molasses, was adjourned for sentence.

A further charge against Natale Spagnolatti, of Kilkenny Lake, for hoarding molasses, was adjourned to April 28 for trial.

Nature in Wild State Preserved in National Parks

The national parks of Canada were established to preserve in their natural state areas of outstanding beauty and interest and to keep them as sanctuaries for wildlife. They are being maintained by scientific management as natural museums of wild birds and animals indigenous to the area in which they are situated.

In the administration of these national parks an attempt is made to strike a happy balance which will permit the wild animals and plants to perpetuate their kind and at the same time enable man to obtain maximum enjoyment from association with unmarred nature. A policy aimed at preserving the balance of nature by the management of all forms of wildlife in the park areas is therefore followed, but at the same time man is encouraged to make use of the parks for his health, education, recreation and inspiration. Being living museums of wildlife, the parks also serve as reservoirs from which other adjacent areas can be stocked. This in itself is important in view of the depletion, almost to the point of extinction, of some forms of Canadian wildlife.

Wildlife adds materially to the pleasure of the park visitors. However charming the scenery, its beauty and interest are increased a hundred-fold by the sight of wild creatures in the forest, the song of birds in the trees, the whirr of wings skimming the surface of the water, or the leap of a trout, from deep, eddying pools. These add life to the scene and are an essential part of the national parks idea. The beauty of scenery can best be appreciated where there is evidence of the pulsation of life; otherwise the most charming spot becomes tinged with melancholy and one is apt to experience sensations similar to those felt when gazing upon some magnificent ruin whose occupants have long since departed. There is no doubt that one of the most fascinating features of these national parks is the opportunity they afford to study and photograph wild animals in their natural habitat.

That is why these areas have become national playgrounds in which recreation, fresh air, sunshine, beautiful scenery and wilderness conditions combine to effect an uplifting of spirit, a renewal of strength of body and a stimulation of mind. They stand out as a national recognition that recreation in the outdoors is essential for the physical, mental and moral well-being of the people.

Annual Stripping Of Harvest

Few peoples have had to put up with so much as the Poles during this war. The German orders and restrictions are pages long. The Nazis have systematically stripped the country each year of its harvest. Among some of the regulations in effect during 1943 are the following, copied from the Fortnightly Review an official Polish paper:

"From April to September Poles are forbidden to shop for food before ten o'clock. They must not buy wheat flour, bread or cakes. No meat can be purchased by them except horseflesh. Poles, Jews, and subjects of enemy states, are not allowed to buy fish. They must not acquire any berries of any kind. There is no sweet ration and this applies to chocolates.

Polish farmers are required to turn over 80 per cent of their products to the Germans. They must not slaughter their own cattle. The penalty is execution.

The black market is the only place the Poles can get food as food coupons are distributed among a very limited number of persons. In these markets, bread is $3 a pound loaf; eggs, each 60 cents; coffee, pound $30; tea, $35; coal, per ton, $300.

Radios are not allowed. News is broadcast during the day from loudspeakers in the streets.

If the miserable rations produced by the German food monopoly were all the people of occupied countries received, Europe would be close to starvation now, but actual famine is still confined to a few regions and to the walled ghettos of the east. Contraband food furnishes much of the difference between rations meted out, and the amount necessary for survival.

Thomas Burleigh, of Shifnal, England, lived exactly a century. He was born midnight, Dec. 31, 1600, and died midnight, Dec. 31, 1700.

Ice Cream Vital Food for Forces

Realizing the supreme food value of Ice Cream, the Government has placed it high on the list of essential foods for the men and women of our Armed Services.

It is not there as a dainty confection. It is not there as a luxury. It is not there as an extra. It is there as a necessary part of service rations, issued just as any other service food is issued, and regarded as a vital part of the service diet.

And members of the armed services in Canada are eating more and more of it as a substitute for beer, soft drinks and chocolate bars.

So stated Dr. H. A. Darby, Secretary of the Dairy Products Board, Department of Agriculture, recently. "With a quota in effect on beer deliveries, and with soft drinks and chocolate bars more difficult to get, the troops are turning to Ice Cream to satisfy their appetites," he declared.

"For the first seven months this year (1943) civilian and military consumption of Ice Cream in Canada amounted to 10,429,000 gallons, an increase of 773,000 gallons over the same period last year.

"This increase is attributable to the armed forces, as there is a quota on civilian Ice Cream consumption. But military establishments, charitable organizations operating within military bounds, and military and civilian hospitals are exempted from any quota. "We are keeping a close check on civilian consumption and it is well within the quota."

It was tough at Salerno, too!

Do YOU think the going is tough because you have to pay taxes, because you are asked twice a year to invest in Victory Bonds...

It was tough at Salerno—too. It's tough at Cassino, and on the Anzio beach-head—

It is tough dodging flak over smouldering Berlin—

It is tough herding convoys on the raging North Atlantic—

It is tough to be away from home for two, three, four long years... or more.

Let's be realistic. We still have this war to win, and the part we are asked to play is to "Put Victory First"—to invest in Victory Bonds and keep on investing to the limit of our resources until Victory is won.

A Message to Our Customers

We urge all our customers to buy Victory Bonds. There is no better investment. Victory Bonds are as good as cash—the best security you can have for a bank loan when needed—and they earn interest. We have no hesitation in suggesting that our customers withdraw money from their savings accounts to invest still more in Victory Bonds.

Good News For Poultrymen

Good news for poultrymen is contained in the recent announcement by the Special Products Board which handles the purchase of eggs for the British Ministry of Food, that the egg contract with Great Britain has been extended to cover the year 1945. The Canadian Federation of Agriculture points out that the new contract calls for delivery to Britain of a minimum amount of 7,500 long tons of egg powder in each of the years 1944 and 1945 which in terms of shell eggs is a minimum of 1,600,000 cases. In addition Britain will take whatever surpluses are available for export over and above the minimum stated. Britain also has an option of taking up to 600,000 cases in the form of shell eggs in 1945. Prices being paid by the Special Products Board for eggs under this contract are those announced some time ago and will continue in effect for remainder of this year's purchase for export. These prices, adds the Agriculture's announcement, represent an average of the fluctuating export prices paid last year. A recent report shows that some 750,000 cases of eggs have been purchased already this year for the British contract, compared with 329,000 cases for the same period of last year.

Suggests Substitutes

As many home gardeners particularly in towns and cities have difficulty in getting fresh horse manure for use as a heating medium for a hotbed, C. M. Collins, Truro, Provincial Horticulturist, has issued a circular, "Substitutes For The Manure Hotbed," which may be had, free of charge, on application to the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, Truro. One suggestion is the development of the house - window hotbed which will get its heat from the sun and the circulation of warm air from the house. Details of construction are given and also a sketch. After this hotbed has filled its purpose it may be dismantled without damage to it or to the house and put away for next season.

Bee Subsidy Not Applicable Here

A subsidy is being offered by the Commodity Prices Stabilization Corporation Limited to importers of packaged bees in sections of Canada's production. The high cost of such bees in the United States, but unless the dealer is a beekeeper, no subsidy is available to the dealer.

In the Province of Nova Scotia, the subsidy is not applicable. The reason for this is that the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, Truro, has advised that the subsidy is not applicable in the Province of Nova Scotia. The reason for this is that the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, Truro, has advised that the subsidy is not applicable in the Province of Nova Scotia.

Agricultural Labour Meetings

A Provincial Labour Committee has been set up with appointments from the Dominion Department of Labor, the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, the Department of Education, the Nova Scotia Farmers' Association and the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers'. The members of this committee are W. V. Longley, Director of Extension, Chairman; F. W. Walsh, Director of Marketing; William Milligan, Director of Federal-Provincial Labour; P. P. Hartley, Superintendent of Unemployment Insurance for the Maritimes; H. P. Moffatt, Assistant Superintendent of Education; Arch Cox, President of the Nova Scotia Farmers' Association; and Major R. D. Sutton, Secretary of the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers' Association. A meeting of this committee was held at the Agricultural College, Truro, on April 13, at which there were also present the National Selective Service managers from the offices at New Glasgow, Amherst and Truro.

Following the meeting of the Provincial Committee, Regional meetings were held with several members of the Provincial representatives and fieldmen. These meetings were held at Truro on April 14, Kentville, April 15, and Sydney, April 17. Lieut. Col. G. A. Good, Liaison Officer, N.R.M.A., Military District No. 6, was present at the Kentville meeting in order to discuss matters relative to Army leave.

Relative to Army Leave, there are three different forms in effect at the present time. First, there is Compassionate Leave, that is for farms where a man is needed on his home farm as applied for by his father or relative. Then there is a leave which has just come into effect. Soldiers out on this type of leave as well as the compassionate leave do not retain the benefits of the Army while on leave and are paid direct by the farmer. Farm Duty Leave is still in effect but will only be declared in cases of extreme emergency as was done last harvest. It should be stated that men can only be obtained for leave from certain units. The number that it is possible for the Army to release from camps in Nova Scotia at the present time is very limited. The question of rejects from military service was discussed at all places. These men are being checked as they are men who have been called up for military service and then turned down. They are still liable to direction by National Selective Service. Discharged men come into another class. An increasing number of these men are returning to agriculture.

The question of student help, and training of youth for farms was discussed. Those who have been on permit from farms for the woods or for industry are now having their permits cancelled. These men must return to the farm during the farming season.

The purpose of these meetings was to bring together officials and representatives of the Farmers' Association in an endeavor to work out plans to make more effective the use of every available source of manpower. Right now the Valley particularly is in need of a very large number of men. These men not only in this district but in many others must be made available if crops are to be seeded, if orchards are to be sprayed and taken care of. The greatest shortage in the Province is that of men for dairy farms.

All should keep in mind that food has become an increasingly important part in the war effort and it is very essential that manpower be made available in order that food production be not kept back. One thing that complicates things this year in Nova Scotia is the small amount of fall plowing that was done; it was the smallest in any recent years. This was due to weather conditions and the lack of help last fall.

Kidney Acids Rob Your Rest

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—lie awake and count sheep. Often they blame it on "nerves" when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons from the blood. If they are faulty and fail, poisons stay in the system and sleeplessness, headache, backache often follow. If you don't sleep well, try Dodd's Kidney Pills—half a century the favorite remedy. Dodd's Kidney Pills

ACADEMY ACTIVITIES

The stamp sales for Friday jumped to $78.25 with Navy back in the lead with $43.75. Air Force second place with $18.25 and Army last with $16.25.

On Tuesday morning the students were shown a film concerning forests, forest fires and game. The film was shown in the Court House under the auspices of the Fish & Game Association and through the courtesy of the Department of Lands and Forests. The film proved very interesting and brought to the students a message of the dangers of forest fires.

The Boys' and Girls' Basketball teams engaged in games against the Lawrence-town Boys' and Girls' teams, on Saturday afternoon and evening. The visiting teams arrived on the afternoon train and returned on the 9:30 train. Supper was served at the High School, Miss Campbell supervised. The girls played one game with Digby girls winning 13-0. Lawrence-town boys scored a victory over Digby boys by 13-6 and the second was also in favor of Lawrence-town, 32-7.

July 1st Celebration Discussed

The Athletic Field, Paper Salvage, a July 1st celebration and Victory Loan sales in Digby County were among the chief matters considered at Tuesday night's meeting of the Digby Board of Trade. The meeting was held in the United Church Hall where ladies of the Ea Gi Club served supper. Victor Cardoza, president of the Board, presided. Attendance at the meeting was small, although V. G. Snow, chairman of the membership committee announced there were 81 paid up members to date, the largest membership in the history of the Digby Board of Trade.

The secretary announced the salvage committee of the board had a good card of waste paper ready for shipment. C. E. Eaton, supervisor of the Digby school, reported that in this campaign school children had collected 19,361 pounds, with Grade III leading with 5,058 pounds; Grade VI second with 4,268 pounds and Grade VII third with 3,982 pounds.

Mr. Eaton, who is also chairman of the Athletic Committee of the Board of Trade, reported the athletic field on the old golf course could be put in first class condition with the help of 15 to 20 men with rakes for an afternoon or a couple of evenings. Following a discussion on the field a motion was made that H. M. Warne be added to the committee, and tribute was paid to his work on that committee last year.

Another motion that the Board of Trade request the local branch of the Navy League of Canada to co-operate with them on a 50-50 basis in the holding of a celebration on the evening of June 30 and the day of July 1. It was also passed that the president of the Board contact the president of the Digby Branch of the Navy League of Canada to discuss the resolution and make plans for such a celebration. It was further moved that the Board of Trade's share of the proceeds be used to further the work on the Athletic Field.

Digby's standing in the present Victory Loan campaign came under fire at the close of the meeting, and although no formal resolutions were passed in this connection, members of the board expressed their confidence that, in spite of preliminary setbacks that have been experienced in this present

Digby County Home And School Council Elects Officers

The annual spring Council of Digby County Home and School Association met at North Range school house on Friday, May 5th, with County President, Mrs. John Murley, in the chair.

Representatives from Acaciaville, Bear River Cross Road, Barton and Culloden, made up a delegation of thirty-two members, who were welcomed by J. Vian Andrews, President of North Range Association, and responded to by the chairwoman.

Inspector Gordon, Kings County Inspector of Schools, led a panel discussion on "What Home and School Associations ought to be doing and how they can do it"—ably assisted by Miss Gladys MacKinnon, Wolfville, and Miss Ethel Cochrane, Kentville. This discussion was chaired by Inspector T. A. M. Kirk, and proved to be very interesting and helpful.

Reports from four associations on the work done during the year were given. The leading or banner association was Bear River Cross Road which had raised the substantial sum of $131 during the year.

The evening session opened with an "out-of-doors" sing, led by Provincial President, Mrs. B. C. Silver.

Inspector T. A. M. Kirk, chairman of the nominating committee brought in the following slate of officers for next year:

President—Mrs. John Murley, Acaciaville, (re-elected). Vice President—J. Vian Andrews, North Range.

Recording Secretary—Mrs. Earle Banks, Bear River Road. Corresponding Secretary—Mrs. Wallace Handspiker, Culloden.

Treasurer—Mrs. Arthur Lamberton, Barton.

Members of the Executive—Harvey Chisholm, Bear River; Mrs. Reg Murley, Acaciaville; Mrs. Ben Mahar, Barton.

The first guest speaker of the evening was Inspector M. C. Foster, who gave an interesting and educational address on the life and works of Joseph Howe, the great statesman of Canada, who fought for the freedom of the press, responsible government and free schools, which we of this generation are reaping the benefits.

Miss Mattie Harris gave some factors essential to successful Home and School Association and Mrs. Silver outlined the work of different branches of the organization and gave information regarding the Leadership Course to be given at Wolfville in July.

A hearty vote of thanks was given by Inspector Kirk, to guest speakers, members of the entertaining associations at North Range, and especially to the ladies who served a very delicious supper in the primary room of their modern and attractive two-department school.

St. Patrick's Will Conduct College

It has been announced that the Digby Business College will function under a new management next year, under the direction of the Sisters in charge of St. Patrick's School. The Sisters already maintain successful commercial schools in Saint John, Moncton, St. Stephen and Vancouver, and thus Digby will become another link in this chain. The same methods employed in their other Colleges will be introduced and maintained here.

campaign in Digby County, the county would go over the top. Other statements to effect the Board would play a more prominent part in future Victory Loan Drives were made.

Whipping open the breech of a heavy coast gun is Gunner J. L. Amirault, of Digby.

The Digby Civic Band Will Carry On

At the annual meeting of the Digby Music Council, held last Thursday night at the Band Room, the following officers were elected:

President—C. Fred McBride Vice President—Paul Yates Secretary—L. E. Shatford.

Management of the Band is now in the hands of the above officers, in conjunction with five directors elected by the band: Martin Barnes, Ted Dakin, David Daley, Robert Marshall and Charles McBride.

It was unanimously voted that the Band must carry on for the duration of the war owing to the important fact that twenty-seven former players are now in military service, many of whom will return to Digby and who frequently write home urging the boys to carry on so that they may have a live band to rejoin when they come back. Though only seventeen players are left, it was decided to plan for summer concerts at the Band Stand. This would require the help of seven or eight outside players and a committee was appointed to interview officials of the H.M. C.S. Cornwallis Band on the matter. The Civic Band has carried on regular practice during the winter, and the usual weekly rehearsals are now being held.

V. O. N. Report

A busy month of work was reported by Miss Dysart for April. She made 179 visits, 150 of which were nursing visits. Three deliveries, one receiving pre-natal care. Seven hours and forty-five minutes were spent in school nursing.

57 physical examinations made. 22 were excluded from school with communicable diseases, chiefly whooping cough and measles. Three well-baby clinics held with 28 infants and 4 pre-school children in attendance. Twenty-two infants and 4 pre-school visits made in child welfare.

It is hoped that the citizens of the town become educated to the importance of observing the necessary length of quarantine for the various communicable diseases. Also the reporting of these diseases. It is the responsibility of every citizen to report a communicable disease to the Medical Officer of Health. By so doing we may obtain more accurate statistics to be sent in by Dr. DuVernet, Medical Health Officer. Correct statistics are so important in the progress of public health. They are the measuring rod by which the needs of a province and immediate district can be learned.

Why Ration Them at All?

On May 1st the tea and coffee ration for Canadians was increased approximately 40%. Since Monday the green coupons in our ration books have been worth 4 ozs. of tea or ½ pound of coffee—in other words coupon holders are now entitled to 2 ozs. of tea or 8 ozs. of coffee weekly. This we feel is a generous ration, one that few tea and coffee drinkers will exceed (those who do will no doubt "borrow" from their neighbors who have coupons to spare.)

Under these circumstances we wonder why tea and coffee rationing is continued. From an economic standpoint we believe the practical thing would be to do away with it altogether. Grocers are already hard pressed and doing away with the handling of tea and coffee coupons would save them many hours. Elimination of tea and coffee rationing should release many government employees connected with this branch of food administration to more useful work.

We do not contend that prior to the present increase in tea and coffee rationing that such rationing was unnecessary, but, we do contend that with the present generous allotment, it should be dispensed with immediately.

Digby School Board Takes Advance Step

At a meeting of the school board held this week, it was unanimously decided that a Commercial Course should be included in the curriculum of the Digby Schools, starting with the fall term in September.

The following is a brief outline of the proposed course:

1. Free (no tuition) to all students in the county and to students outside of the county should space permit.

2. There will be two separate courses offered:

(a) For students who wish to take commercial work as part of their regular High School program.

(b) For students who have finished Grade XI or XII and wish to take straight Commercial work.

3. The subjects which will be offered in the courses will be:

Typing
Shorthand Bookkeeping
Filing
Business English and Correspondence
Business Arithmetic (including Rapid Calculation) Business Spelling
Penmanship

Victory Loan Drive Shows Good Progress

A dispatch from Ottawa received yesterday advises total Victory Loan Sales up to May 9 were $1,010,363,600. This figure is approximately thirty-one million dollars in excess of the 5th Victory Loan for the same period. Tuesday's Victory Loan sales totalled $86,247,500.

In Digby County, the drive which seemed to lag last week has shown a marked improvement during the present week. Local Victory Loan sales as we went to press yesterday afternoon exceeded $385,000 towards the county's quota of $465,000 minimum objective.

Those in charge of the drive in this county are confident the objective will be reached before the campaign closes on Saturday, in fact, they are looking for subscriptions close to $500,000.

New Bus For Digby Neck

A new bus is soon to be put into service on the Digby Neck route. Guy E. Morehouse, Sr., manager of the Digby Neck Bus Service has advised the press the new bus will be of the modern clipper type—accommodation for 27 passengers in addition to mails and baggage. He expects to take delivery of the bus on or about May 15, but even at that has some hope of having the bus in service this week end.

The Digby Neck Bus Service is possibly the oldest motorized bus and mail route in the province, having been in continuous operation as a motorized bus service for 29 years. Traffic and mails have increased tremendously over the route during that period.

It is announced a new policy when the new bus goes on the road, and that is the inauguration of a "pay as you enter system." He explains his reason for making this change is simply as a time saving measure. In the past valuable time has been lost by passengers paying their fares on reaching their destination, and on frequent occasions, because of these delays, passengers have nearly missed making connections with train or bus at Digby. It has been necessary at times to ask drivers of buses bound for provincial points to hold their buses until passengers on the Digby Neck bus settled for their transportation from the Neck and Islands.

TOWN TALK

One of the shortest bouts in spring history ended in a knockout for a rake over a victory gardener last Monday. Following is a round by round description of the bout. Round one, the rake crouches in the corner, the gardener steps forward, steps on the rake's toes and goes down for an indefinite count. The time?—time to keep your rake toes up.

Things are coming up around here if this story is true. A man named Van-Tassel (not Van Winkle) from nearby Mt. Pleasant, thought he would like to watch his rhubarb reach for the sky so he put a cot near the patch and was soon fast asleep with his hat over his face to shade his face. He probably would have slept all night if a stalk of the rhubarb hadn't got under the rim of his hat and knocked it off.

Don't put him off, don't make him wait, But run and meet him at the gate And buy your Bond—it's getting late, Don't argue about the interest rate.

Five cars of No. 10 way freight were derailed after 6 p.m. Monday evening between Bear River and Deep Brook stations, just above the old pulp mill. The cause of the accident is not known. The freight was bound for Annapolis Royal.

No damage was done to cars but several yards of rail were badly torn up. Wrecking crews were called out from Kentville shortly after seven Monday night and the tracks were cleared by 11 a.m., Tuesday.

Dedication Service To Take Place

The Right Reverend William J. Burns, Vicar General of the Arch Diocese of Halifax, will officiate at the blessing and unveiling of the Honor Roll, and the dedication of the Pipe Organ at a special service to be held in St. Patrick's Church, Digby, on Sunday evening, May 14. The dedication will take place at 8:30 and will be preceded by an organ recital to commence at 8 o'clock.

Rev. Leo Murphy, pastor of St. Patrick's Church, will deliver the dedication sermon. Several of the Roman Catholic Clergy from Halifax are to be present. Captain J. I. C. Edwards, R.C.N., Naval Officer in charge of the Digby area, and officers and personnel of the Digby Division of the Sea Cadets of Canada will also be in attendance.

Professor U. Comeau, of St. Ann's College, Church Point, will be guest organist, while Lieut. Anne Shaughnessey, W. R.C.N.S., H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, will be soloist on this occasion. Those who have heard Lieut. Shaughnessey know they have a real musical treat in store.

The beautiful organ which has just been installed by Byrant Keable, is a decided addition to St. Patrick's Church, and those who have already heard it are loud in their praises.

Pass Resolution Re Ferries

The Digby Municipal Council concluded its semi-annual settings at noon Friday. The annual inspection of the Alms House at Marshalltown was made by the council Thursday afternoon.

The following resolution with respect to the Petite and Grand Passage Ferries was passed at Friday's sittings:

"Whereas it has been made to appear that the Ferry Facilities at Petite and Grand Passages in the county of Digby are inadequate to handle the traffic

"And whereas it further appears that considerable loss of money and time is thereby caused to fish dealers and others, there being no present opportunity for water shipment

"And whereas for the duration the situation could be remedied by the provision of a continuous day time service and slight improvements to the runways,

"Be it therefore resolved that the proper authorities take steps to provide the necessary improvements."

A copy of the above resolution is to be forwarded to the Premier, the Minister of Highways, and to Hon. J. W. Comeau, member of the Provincial House for the county of Digby.

Councillor S. E. Woodman read the report of the Hydro Committee which stated the new rate which went into effect on November 1st had meant a saving of $1,900 to municipal customers, and pointed out there had been a steady increase in the amount of energy sold this year to date, revenue for the first four months in spite of the reduction, being $1,458 in excess of revenue for the same period in 1943.

Freight Derailed

Five cars of No. 10 way freight were derailed after 6 p.m. Monday evening between Bear River and Deep Brook stations, just above the old pulp mill. The cause of the accident is not known. The freight was bound for Annapolis Royal.

No damage was done to cars but several yards of rail were badly torn up. Wrecking crews were called out from Kentville shortly after seven Monday night and the tracks were cleared by 11 a.m., Tuesday.

About This and That

What next? A paper, called The New Canadian, issued by Japanese who were not born in Japan, is beginning to circulate in British Columbia. Naturally enough, it is printed in their own interests, and in a recent issue attacked Attorney General Maitland.

If it were possible, in time of war, for a Canadian to publish in Japan, a paper in the interests of Canadians, and incidentally, to criticize in print, one of the high legal officials of Japan, just what would happen to him?

And right here, it is fitting to mention that according to an observant Chinese girl who has been in Japan, American war prisoners (some in rags) are working like coolies on the docks of Nipponese ports. They have to.

What is the latest word from Herr Hitler these days? In his case it is a matter of any noose is good noose.

It is shown by the Fishing Gazette of New York that fishermen, per pound in food values per man, produce more than farmers. Farm labor is less dangerous and calls for less experience. The efficient fisherman has to be a trained man. And yet, asserts the Gazette, he is shown less consideration than his co-worker on the soil.

Remember only half the gossip you hear, believe only one-tenth of it, and don't repeat any of it.

The Finnish government has decided to stick it out with the Nazi government of Germany, gambling the future of that little nation on the ending of the present war by a negotiated peace, which will leave Germany neither victor nor vanquished. Finnish leaders seem to believe that German resistance will be so strong and prove so costly to the United Nations that some sort of compromise peace will be the result. Possibly this decision of Finnish leaders reflects majority opinion of the Finnish people. But we still believe the Finns have placed their money on the wrong horse, as it were, and must suffer thereby. There doesn't seem much that we can do about the matter now.

TO AID NOVA SCOTIANS

With your kind permission I would like to say a few words about the fishermen of Nova Scotia. Next to farmers they produce more food than any other class. Theirs is the most hazardous calling not excepting that of the men who dig coal underground. When they push out to sea in the morning on their daily grind they don't know what they will receive for their catch. They cannot fix their own price. They take what the buyer chooses to give them and what they received before the war caused the price to rise was little enough. Continually in their calling they face all kinds of weather, but they are unafraid, and often take their vessels or boats out in heavy wind and big seas and fog. Usually they will be seen in windbreakers, overalls and rubber boots. But underneath those windbreakers beat big hearts and should word go around that some boat or vessel is reported as not having returned from the fishing grounds at the usual hour, out go the men in search of their missing fellow toilers no matter what the weather is. I have seen more than one case of rescue that shows their love for their brothers and also their absence of fear. Not long ago a vessel was reported in trouble. Other craft had been tied up for the night. But some of the boys were in danger. That was enough and members of the crews that had arrived safely at once hopped aboard their vessels and drove out into a wild night in search of their brother fishermen. On one occasion the assistance of a naval boat had been requested and one was dispatched. When vessels returned after picking up the lost vessel the naval vessel was seen at anchor near the shore, not having dared to venture out from the shore in search because of the heavy seas and thick fog. Small motor vessels frequently face danger in looking for missing craft, and the members make no noise about what they do. No medals are pinned on them for noted bravery. It's all in a day's work.

And fishermen always do their full share when war comes. In the first world war hundreds of young fishermen in this little county pulled their boats on the shore, donned the uniform and sailed across the seas and stood between us and the enemy. To the memory of those who made the supreme sacrifice stand monuments in this and every county in Nova Scotia. When the present war started, sons of the veterans of world war one did the same thing and today the industry is running short handed at home. In Lockeport the Lockeport Company Limited have been forced to hire women to take the place of those who enlisted. Swim Bros. Lockeport were obliged to sell several vessels because men were not here to man them. At Stoney Island in this county almost every man of military age is in uniform and in all local fishing districts many young men on the outbreak of war joined the colors. Everett Goreham, of Woods Harbor, had six sons in the services one of whom I regret to say was reported missing several months ago.

Not only are fishermen valuable producers, and ready to fight for their king and country, but they are carrying their full load when it comes to buying Victory Bonds. Practically all who are too old to fight with guns are fighting the enemies with their dollars. I have lived the greater part of my life amongst them and one could not wish for a finer lot of folk. They have a strong love of country and do their work without the least ostentation.

(That is a big word for an old codger like me.) They don't make too much show of religion but they are good just the same. In my travels of late I enjoyed a fine supper of lobsters topped off with blueberry pie. When we finished the head of the house says "now you fellows bow your heads." And then he up and says "Good Lord we thank you for what we have eaten and ask you to bring the war to an end and we at home promise to help out with our last dollar to bring peace." When he finished I said "old man that is the spirit." It's not our spirit alone in this war," said he, but our dear boys and our dollars.

In my recent travels in fishing sections I met a little ten year old girl. She says: "You are Uncle Joe I think." I says "that is what they call me." "Well," she says, "I have two brothers in the war and daddy is 60 years old and has to run the boat himself. I want to do everything I can to bring them back home and so I have engaged to tend two gardens for neighbors whose boys are in Italy and with the money I get I am going to buy a $50.00 bond." "That's fine, little girl," says I. And she says "all the girls and boys about here are doing something so that they can buy bonds." And I says "God bless you all."

Should we not be proud of our fishermen?

UNCLE JOE.

Haystack Nazis—

Before he entered the army Cpl. Walter E. Smith, of North Tonawanda, N. Y., was a farmer—and a certain haystack in Italy didn't look just right to him. He fired a few mortar shells at it, and the hay caught fire and exposed a German tank. For the rest of the day Smith and his squad burned haystacks and flushed out more tanks.

500 Women Wanted to fill these Positions in Canada and Overseas

CANADA urgently needs thousands of fighting troops to join those already overseas. Consequently there are wanted right now at least 5,000 more women volunteers to join the C.W.A.C.—women to take over all those positions in the Canadian Army which they can fill as well or better than men.

Military District No. 6, which includes Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island, has been set a quota of 500 which must be reached by June 15th.

Here then is a CHALLENGE to all women of suitable age, health and education.

Come! Join the C.W.A.C. today. Not only will you gain helpful new experience and enjoy the comradeship of the C.W.A.C.—you will help win the war.

Here are the positions to be filled:

Progressive Conservatives Hold Convention

The first county conservative party held in this county since the last provincial election, took place in the Community Theatre, Weymouth, on Thursday evening, last. The attendance was fairly good in spite of wartime restrictions on transportation. The guest speakers were L. W. Fraser, the Nova Scotia leader of the party, and Clifford Levy, the provincial secretary. The meeting was opened by H. E. Wagner, the second vice president of the county, but the president, Keith Potter, later took the meeting over. A nominating committee, consisting of F. R. Eisener, Frank Burrage, Walter Deveau and Daniel J. Fraser, retired to prepare a slate of officers and in their absence the following executive members for the constituency were named:

Hillsburg—Roy Snell
Marshalltown—Duncan McKay
Digby No. 3—F. R. Eisener
Digby No. 3A—Kingsley Collins
Sandy Cove—Edwin Gidney
Freeport—Leonard Perry
Westport—Charles Pugh
Plympton—John K. Smith
Weymouth North—Capt. H. B. Fitzgerald
St. Bernard—E. O. Theriault
Church Point—Gustave Theriault
Meteghan—Constant Comeau
Salmon River—Frank Burrage

Tiverton—Lauriston Small
New Tusket—Stephen Mulren
Rossway—Hereford Raymond
Smith's Cove—A. J. Cornwell
Culloden—Charles Morse
Grosses Coques—Adolph Comeau
Comeauville—Joseph A. LeBlanc (Little Brook)
Meteghan River—Ben Melanson
St. Alphonse de Clare—Albert Comeau
Weymouth—W. G. Blackadar
Little River—George Height (Tiddville)
Barton—D. J. Fraser
Concession—Martin Doucette
Centreville—Kenneth Dakin
Doucetteville—Jesse Ameriault
New Edinburgh—Edwin Doucette
Hassett's—Frank MacAlpine
Meteghan North—Edmund P. Deveau
Cape St. Mary—Bennet Comeau
Lake Doucette—Alex Deveau
Hectanooga—J. H. Deveau
Corberrie—Forman Gaudette
Saulnierville—Louis J. Gaudette (Saulnierville Station)
Lower Saulnierville—Walter Saulnier
Lower Concession—Agno Comeau
Weymouth Falls—Elmer Jarvis

The nominating committee presented the following as officers of the Association:

President—H. H. Marshall, Digby
1st Vice President—Frank Cotteau, Meteghan
2nd Vice President—H. E. Wagner, Weymouth
Secretary-Treasurer—J. J. Wallis, Digby

The first speaker introduced to the convention was Clifford Levy. He expressed his pleasure at being present and having the opportunity of meeting so many of the Digby county workers. He reviewed the work of the provincial government and strongly urged greater activity on the part of the Executive and others in support of the opposition. Mr. Fraser gave an inspiring address in which he strongly urged the support of all—irrespective of politics—for the Victory Loan. He prophesied great changes in the systems of government which would be necessary for successful rehabilitation after the war. The policies and programs of all political parties must be improved. It is likely, he thought, that there would be a federal election in a very few months, every indication points that way. He claimed that the present government, instead of leading public opinion, was following it. The type of government we need is one that leads and not one that holds back, waiting to be shown the way. He spoke very highly of John Bracken, the federal leader of the party, pointing out that he was a worker and as such had been travelling all over Canada, studying conditions and preparing plans for the future. As to the provincial government, Mr. Fraser said it was apparently self-satisfied. They had everything coming their way, and they are not giving the people the leadership they need. They should be at work now preparing plans for after the war but they are apparently taking no steps in that direction. The secretary was instructed to write letters of sympathy to the relatives of members of the Executive who had passed on since the last convention; and after a vote of thanks had been tendered the speakers, the meeting closed with the National Anthem.

The blast jarred his body off the box, and the rope broke his neck.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

19

A slight up-angle adds greatly to the effect of this shot. Don't be afraid to tilt your camera if it gives you the effect you want.

CAMERA angle fascinates many picture hobbyists. Wisely used it is a splendid tool, and with it many a picture can be made more dramatic. But, like pepper in soup, it should be employed with care. Random, indiscriminate "angle shooting" without sound purpose is not the source of better pictures.

Of course, a camera can be used at any angle—level, tilted up or down, right or left—but the angle used should always be determined by the effect desired. If you want a natural "drawing" of any subject, a level camera is essential. But if a "skyscraper" effect is the thing you want to achieve, you'll have to choose a low viewpoint and tilt your camera upward.

Generally speaking, a low viewpoint is dramatic. It gives a feeling of movement and action to the subject. It is admirably adapted to picturing sports, to emphasizing the height of buildings, to making bold and forceful pictures of people.

A high angle of view, on the other hand, tends to dwarf the importance of a subject. Sometimes, as is the case in street and parade scenes, it gives a clear over-all view without any nearby figures cluttering the scene. But its most general application is to reduce the importance of an object. A high angle, looking down on the subject, for example, will make a tall man look shorter.

Tilting the camera, either to the right or left, will sometimes produce a greater feeling of action in the picture—because diagonal lines are inherently those of movement—but sideways tilts are usually more helpful in arranging the elements of the picture more interestingly within the picture space, than for producing any specific effect. This kind of "angling" should, however, be confined to subjects with sky as background so that lines that we know are horizontal or vertical will not appear askew.

In any event, angle shooting is entertaining and instructive. It may be employed freely whenever the desired effect is best achieved in that manner. But don't tilt at random. Know exactly what you want to get, and then let any angle shot help you to get it.

Nova Scotia Wool Bonus Policy

In order to have a cleaner wool production the Dominion and Provincial Departments of Agriculture are combining to pay a bonus of 4 cents per pound on all standard grades of fleece wool, PROPERLY PREPARED ON THE FARM AT TIME OF SHEARING. This bonus will apply to the 1944 clip and payment will be made by the Provincial Department of Agriculture, direct to the growers through the Registered Wool Grading Stations located at Truro and Antigonish.

- ## HOW TO SECURE THE BONUS
1. Shear carefully on a clean floor.
 2. Remove all heavy tags and dung locks before tying.
 3. Remove all burry, strawy or dirty bellies before tying.
 4. Remove all very chaffy or strawy portions of fleece—or shake out light chaff before tying.
 5. Each fleece must be folded and tied separately, preferably rolled from breech to neck with the flesh side out. TIE WITH PAPER TWINE.

- ## BONUS WILL NOT BE PAID ON
1. Any reject wool.
 2. Fleece tied with binder twine.
 3. Wool received in wet, musty condition.
 4. Any clip which requires re-conditioning at time of grading.
 5. Wool not received at the Grading Station by July 31.
- THE BONUS PAYMENT IS DESIGNED TO PRODUCE CLEANER AND MORE DESIRABLE WOOL.
- WOOL WAREHOUSES AT TRURO AND ANTIGONISH WILL BE OPENED FOR GRADING MAY 15.

"It's the choking dust that used to get me" ... said Polly

1. "The run to the village was a nice change of scenery and I like to get away from the rest of the farmyard for awhile," said Polly. "But it was that blamed dust that always used to get me. I always say it's a nuisance to both man and beast. In fact it used to take the joy out of every trip to the village."

2. "And what the boss used to say about it isn't it to print. 'It's a menace' he used to say 'and always will be 'til something's done about it. And what it does to them property is nobody's business!'"

3. "And the Missus had a name for it too! She said she couldn't keep the verandah clean for five minutes at a time; and as for sitting out of an evening, she claimed it was just as bad as a trip to the village."

4. "But now they've fixed the road, the boss puts like a kitten. 'It's wonderful what Calcium Chloride does' he says. It's not only a heap more pleasant, but it's a whole lot safer and the road's smooth and easier on us. No bumps, no ruts, no dust!"

5. "And the Missus not only has more time for knitting but she has a pleasant place to knit the sweaters she sends to Johnny. She says her housework's cut in half. She may be exaggerating just a little bit, but you can bet she makes her point!"

6. "And Bill Baxter, the county engineer, who's pretty friendly with the boss, says he's able to keep more gravel road mileage in good shape, with less labour, less wear on equipment and at no more cost, than before he started using Calcium Chloride."

"It costs no more to have a dust-free consolidated surface than a bumpy, dusty one," said Bill, one day. He says the Calcium Chloride saves its cost in his men's time and in gravel replacements. And he's got everybody in the county a whole lot happier about it too. "It pays to use Brunner Mond Calcium Chloride," he says!

The Land That Freeman Till

By Lewis Milligan

When the Canadian pioneers left their homeland and crossed the seas they were lured by the prospect of securing a plot of land which they could call their own. And they were not disappointed. It was wild forest land, and at the first sight of it those settlers might well have been discouraged, but because it was their own land they accepted the challenge that it presented to their skill and enterprise. They reared a home and an altar in the wilderness and the forest giants melted away before the sweep of the magic axe. The fruitful Ontario farmlands today are the heritage bequeathed us by those men and women who loved freedom and independence enough to suffer exile and hardship to obtain it.

Tennyson said of England, "It is the land that freemen till, that sober-suited Freedom chose," and that same can be said with even greater truth of Canada and the United States, which were founded by British settlers. Those settlers used to sing, "To the West, to the West, to the Land of the Free," and they erected a great statute of Liberty at the entrance to New York Harbor to announce to the world their determination to hold aloft forever the torch of Freedom.

The freedom which our fathers and mothers secured in this land was no easy way of life. It was not freedom from want or from fear of want. They did not find social security. They sought and found freedom for its own sake, and they were willing to endure greater privations than they had left behind because they were free. We are fighting today to maintain that freedom. Like their forefathers, young Canadians have left their homes and all the fond associations of family and social life, and they are facing horror and death to preserve the freedom that we hold in trust. They can take to themselves those lines of Wordsworth:

"The land we from our fathers hold in trust
And to our children will transmit, or die:
This is our maxim and our piety."

Officers Get Blame For German Losses

The German army is carrying on a tremendous hunt within its own ranks to find scapegoats on which to hang the blame for Nazi military defeats. That's the startling fact revealed in documents captured by Soviet soldiers on the Russian front.

"Each new disaster is followed by wholesale court-martial of the divisional commanders," reports Maj.-Gen. Alexander Rogov, assistant chief of staff of a Soviet Ukrainian army.

Gen. Rogov tells of the removal of Field Marshall Walter von Brauchitch and the suicide of Field Marshall Walter von Richerow. Full documents were captured revealing the case of Lt.-Gen. Count von Schwerin, who has been court-martialed following heavy losses of his division.

"Von Schwerin is a prominent man, respected and popular in the German army," Rogov said. "It cannot be denied that his division fought ably against us."

In attempting to justify himself Gen. Schwerin wrote, as revealed in captured papers: "My division was mentioned three times in the high command communique. That was rewarded by its complete destruction."

Two Irishmen?

A bit the worse for drink, Thomas O'Toole squared off at his own reflection in a window in New Haven, Conn., and let fly with both fists. He cut his hand severely and had to pay $10 fine in the bargain.

In Sweden there was a time when members of political parties set themselves apart by their headgear. On one side were men who wore hats, and on the other those who wore caps.

Navy Entertainers At Smith's Cove

A star caste of performers from Cornwallis staged a concert at Smith's Cove under the auspices of the Women's Institute, May 3rd. The hall was filled to capacity including standing room.

The program was under the direction of Lieut. Morton, with Wren L. Armstrong as Mistress of Ceremonies, and consisted of vocal solos and quartettes; instrumental, comedy skits, step and tap dancing. All numbers were exceptionally well rendered and repeatedly encored.

A banner with the wording, "For Home and Country Women's Institute, N.S." made a very attractive background for the stage and was the work of Mrs. George Austin. At the conclusion of the program refreshments were served. The door prize of a pyrex casserole filled with candy, donated by O. F. Woodman, grocer, was won by little Marlene Dittmars' ticket, No. 35. The sum of $63.35 was realized which will be used for community welfare and war work.

New Dominion Atlantic Dining Car to Serve Troops

The "Bear River", a dining car of modern design and with accommodation for 40 persons, has been turned over by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company to its subsidiary, the Dominion Atlantic Railway, to handle the heavy troop movements between camps on the line between Digby, N.S., and Halifax. A piece of practical post-war planning the car also is designed to take care of the passenger traffic which will come from the New England States by Eastern Steamship Lines when peace returns. It is being operated under the direction of Laurie Ellis, manager of the Dominion Atlantic, and is the second diner with accommodation for four more than the usual number of persons to be provided for the D.A.R. in the last 10 months. It was converted from a compartment-observation car.

In the group picture above H. B. Bowen, chief of motive power and rolling stock, is pointing out the new indirect ceiling lights to C. E. Stockdill, assistant to the vice-president of the company, who took over the diner for W. M. Neal, C.B.E., the vice-president of the Canadian Pacific Railway and the president of the Dominion Atlantic Railway, when it was delivered at the Windsor Station in Montreal from the company's Angus Shops. Mr. Stockdill is next to Mr. Bowen and the others in the picture are, left to right, T. M. McKeown, manager of sleeping and dining cars; H. J. Main, general superintendent of transportation; and R. G. McNeillie, passenger traffic manager.

George Stephen, vice-president of traffic, was another who inspected the car and in the inset he is shown in the kitchen with a chef and Mr. McNeillie.

An illusion of greater size was created in the main dining room of the car by the use of two-tone usual wood finish while the effect of three subdivisions instead of one long room is another departure, accomplished by the use of four-inch partitions. These new features and the modern style of buffet with mirror are shown in the picture of the interior which is a part of the above layout.

The car's name commemorates the beginnings of white settlement in Canada for "Bear River" is derived from "Rivière d'Hebert", first noted on Lescarbot's map of Port Royal in 1609, and named for Louis Hebert, apothecary to DeMont's Expedition in 1604.

THANK YOU CANADA

... but there's still a WAR JOB to do!

OFFICE OF THE MINISTER

DEPARTMENT OF NATIONAL WAR SERVICES

To my fellow Canadians:-

You the citizens of Canada and members of the Voluntary Salvage Committees and many other Voluntary War Workers have done an excellent war job.

Canada, in doing her part to help win the war, has been greatly assisted by your voluntary and unselfish devotion to the important duty of saving and turning in the essential war materials. You have backed up the boys overseas and your activities have been a material factor in turning the tide of battle against the enemy. When Canada's stock piles have been dangerously low, you have discovered, saved, and salvaged waste material which has been turned into weapons, ammunition, explosives and containers. Your Salvage Campaigns have been Nation-wide and of National importance. Your job has been a big one which you have nobly performed.

When at war the past is the past and we must look to the future. Again I appeal to you!

There is another National war emergency which must be met and overcome. Experts on the matter have assured me that there is a critical shortage of Waste Paper and that the situation is desperate. War supplies must reach our Fighting Forces who will use them against the enemy. War supplies must be safely packed. As we march on nearer to the enemy more supplies are required by our Fighting Men. More and more Waste Paper is wanted now.

Paperboard mills are working on a day-to-day basis and some are facing shut-downs because reserve stock supplies of Waste Paper are critically low. From now on every scrap of waste paper is to be saved and turned in to the Nation through regular Waste Paper channels.

Fellow Canadians please help!

Yours sincerely,

L. R. LaFlèche

Minister, National War Services.

CANADA NEEDS 20,000 TONS OF WASTE PAPER EVERY MONTH

WHAT IS WANTED: You can remedy this critical paper shortage by saving every scrap of Waste Paper, namely: wrapping paper—store bags—cardboard—cartons—corrugated board—old magazines and books—envelopes and letters—newspapers. These represent the raw material for making vitally needed Paper containers.

HOW TO DO IT: Tie securely in separate bundles. (The little time you take will save thousands of man hours.) Then dispose of it through your local voluntary Salvage Committee or other War Voluntary Organization, or sell it through any known trade channels, or peddle or others. The important thing is to get your Waste Paper moving to the mills.

Large Fire At Weymouth

The Israel Melanson block, Weymouth, was totally destroyed by fire Saturday morning. Situated in the block were the Meat Market of Harry Lewis, the Restaurant of A. L. Thurber and Mr. Melanson's apartment overhead. The blaze, which started shortly before 6 o'clock, a.m., Saturday, is said to have originated from the explosion of an oil stove in the Melanson apartment.

Other nearby buildings were scorched. They included the Super Service Station building, and the building which houses the C.N.R. Telegraph office and the Royal Department store. Furnishings were removed from the Telegraph office and Department Store.

The excellent work of the volunteer fire department prevented any serious damage to these buildings, and the blaze was confined to the one block in the heart of the business section of the village.

A.R.P. and Forestry equipment were brought into play. The Meteghan fire department also arrived at the scene and did much to help the Weymouth boys in fighting a battle with flames, which, for a time threatened to wipe out the village. The fire was in practically the same area as the 1929 fire which destroyed the greater portion of the business section of Weymouth. It is understood there was very little insurance to cover the loss, which is estimated in the vicinity of $6,000. Neither Mr. Thurber or Mr. Melanson were covered with insurance. There was some insurance on the meat market.

With the exception of a soft drink dispenser and a few small items from the restaurant, nothing was salvaged from the building. Only last week Mr. Melanson received a quantity of new furnishings for his apartment. A large shipment of stock and supplies arrived for the restaurant Friday.

Fire fighters pumped water from the Sissiboo River nearby. During the early stages of the blaze they were hampered by low tide, but as the tide rose they had plenty of water and pumps were able to supply a good force.

MARRIAGES

Potter - Miller
A wedding of local interest took place in Trinity Temple, Peoria, Ill., May 3rd, when Rev. Ruth I. Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Miller, Peoria, became the bride of Rev. Frank D. Potter, Newton, Mass., son of Mrs. J. D. Potter and the late Jeremiah S. Potter, formerly of Smith's Cove. Rev. B. G. Drake, D.D., officiated at the ceremony. (Mrs. J. D. Potter is a sister to Mrs. Mae Winchester, Digby.)

Shortliffe - Connell
The United Baptist Church at Freeport, was the scene of an exceptionally pretty wedding on May 6th, at 2 o'clock, when Margaret Eileen (Peggy) only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold O. Connell, became the bride of Ivan Avery Shortliffe, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Burton Shortliffe, of Central Grove, Rev. Ross C. Eaton officiating. The church was beautifully decorated with daffodils, ferns and potted plants, and yellow and gold streamers, by friends of the bride. The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, to the strains of Mendelson's Wedding March, was charmingly attired in a floor length gown of heavy brocaded white taffeta, with long veil, shirred high on her head, fastened with orange blossoms to form a halo, and carrying a bouquet of red roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Marion Finigan, wore a floor length pale blue sheer gown and carried a bouquet of many colored tulips. Jack Connell, brother of the bride was best man. The solo "I Love You, Truly," was effectively rendered by Mrs. David Perry, who was accompanied by Mrs. Bert Crocker at the organ. Following the ceremony about fifty relatives and friends attended the reception at the home of the bride's parents. The bride's mother was gownned in a lagoon green, bolero-style dress, with corsage of roses, while the groom's mother wore a black crepe suit with pink accessories and corsage. After the reception the happy couple left for a honeymoon trip to Prince Edward Island, the bride's travelling suit being of rose wool with matching accessories. They will reside in Halifax, where the groom is employed with the Imperial Publishing Co. The groom is well known in western Nova Scotia, having been formerly employed in Digby and Caledonia. He will be remembered by many as the editor of Canada's smallest newspaper, "The Tiny Tattler," and many and beautiful gifts testify to the popularity of the young couple.

TENDERS FOR COAL AND COKE
Federal Buildings—Maritime Provinces

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned and endorsed, "Tender for Coal for Maritime Provinces" will be received until 3 p.m. (E.D.S.T.), Tuesday, May 23, 1944, for the supply of coal and coke for the Dominion Buildings in the Provinces of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

Specifications and forms of tender can be obtained from the Purchasing Agent, Department of Public Works, Ottawa, the Resident Architect at Halifax, N. S., and the Resident Architect at Saint John, N.B.

Tenders should be made on the forms supplied by the Department and in accordance with departmental specifications and conditions attached thereto. Coal dealers' licence numbers must be given when tendering.

The Department reserves the right to demand from any successful tenderer, before awarding the order, a security deposit in the form of a certified cheque on a chartered bank in Canada, made payable to the order of the Honorable the Minister of Public Works, equal to 10 per cent of the amount of the tender, or Bearer Bonds of the Dominion of Canada or of the Canadian National Railway Company and its constituent companies unconditionally guaranteed as to principal and interest by the Dominion of Canada, or the aforementioned bonds and a certified cheque, if required to make up an odd amount.

By order,
J. M. SOMERVILLE, Secretary
Department of Public Works, Ottawa, May 2, 1944.

Fish and Game Association Holds Meeting

At a meeting of the Digby-Annapolis Fish and Game Association held in the Court House, Digby, Monday night, a very interesting motion picture, representing Wild Life in the province of Nova Scotia was shown by Mr. Buchanan, Inspector for the Department of Lands and Forests, and D. W. Hudson, District Forester for the counties of Guysborough, Pictou and Antigonish.

Much interest in reforestation is being shown throughout the province and movies showing reforestation by means of seed planting and transplanting at the nursery in Lawrencetown, were shown.

When growing spruce and pine trees from seed, two years is required before transplanting. Trees are carefully packed for shipment in hay, covered with burlap and bound with wire.

The menace of forest fires caused by people who do not realize the danger of carelessly flipping away their cigarette butts or matches while picnicking, hunting or fishing, was stressed.

Pictures on lumbering, featuring David Hewston as one of the largest industrial lumbermen of the province was shown. These pictures showed 18 per cent of the trees cut is used in making products while the other 82 per cent is used for slabs, etc.

The film on wild life showed "Bunny" at his breakfast, moose, deer and bear also the life of the beaver, starring "Grey Owl" with his favorite beaver colony.

To you who seek to be outdoor sportsman, make a friend of the forest and bear no guilt, remember this, "a forest never commits suicide."

I THANK YOU for your patronage during the twelve years I have been in business here—it has been a pleasure to serve you, and I trust you will give your continued patronage to my successor, Mr. Bernard Carter.

Answers to Questions About the Rehabilitation Programme for Service Men and Women

Q.—How long can I draw unemployment benefits under this Order?

A.—The order makes provision for a maximum period of twelve months, or the period of service, whichever is less, within the first 18 months after discharge.

Q.—Could I continue to draw these benefits for the full period if I make no effort to find work?

A.—No. There is a provision in the legislation which permits the benefits being cut off in the same way as unemployment insurance benefits may be cut off. Canada's rehabilitation programme is designed for those ex-service personnel who want to help themselves. The out-of-work benefits will not be regarded as a dole or a right.

Q.—If I am an office worker and refuse to accept work at heavy labour, will this debar me from securing out-of-work benefits?

A.—No. Those entitled to out-of-work benefits are ex-service personnel who are fit and available for work, but for whom no suitable employment is available. Obviously, an office worker is not suited to a job digging ditches.

Q.—If no suitable work is available for me over a period of time, what will be done?

A.—Canada has made a wide survey of employment opportunities. One solution would be to have a training counsellor discuss these with you so that you may be given the opportunity to take training for suitable work on vocational training grants and allowances.

Q.—If I start to work and my health becomes bad and I am temporarily incapacitated, what happens?

A.—Under these conditions, you can draw grants under the Post-Discharge Re-Establishment Order, if treatment or hospitalization is not necessary or admissible.

(The next instalment of this series deals with vocational training.)

Island is named for Railway Detective

An island in the South Pacific now bears the name of a Canadian National Railways employee in recognition of an heroic exploit. It is Devine Island in the New Georgia group named after Lt.-Col. James W. Devine, of Portland, Maine, a former police officer now on leave of absence from the

LT. COL. DEVINE

Investigation Department of the National System. For more than twenty years prior to the outbreak of war and while on the Railway's staff, Colonel Devine was a member of the Maine National Guard as a first lieutenant. At his induction he was promoted to captain and assigned as commanding officer to the U.S. Army Service Company, 103rd Infantry, 43rd Division, later obtaining his majority. For leading tank attacks to track the outer defenses of the Japanese-held Munda base, Major Devine was promoted to Lieutenant-Colonel. For this fine action the Pacific Island was named in his honour.

A native of Abbeville, South Carolina, Colonel Devine spent his boyhood days in Three Rivers, Quebec, later moving to Deering, Maine, where he joined the Canadian National Railways as a call boy in 1919, transferring to the Railway's Investigation Department in 1932. Colonel Devine utilized his annual vacations from railroading to pursue special military courses in Maine's National Guard.

A fine record has been set up by men from the Canadian National Railways, according to Geo. A. Shea, the Director, who reports that the Forces in Canada and the United States nearly one hundred men have obtained leave of absence to join the armed forces of both countries. Of that number a considerable proportion have gained commissions, one having become a lieutenant in the Canadian Paratroopers. While the greater number are in the army and air forces, a surprisingly large number of the railway security forces are now in the Canadian and U.S. navies.

An Eighth Army Victory Secret Revealed

Most of the world believes that the Germans' advance through North Africa into Egypt was stopped by the British at El Alamein. It wasn't. On July 3, 1942, Rommel smashed our centre and what was left of three Panzer divisions plunged through. Before nightfall they had covered half the fifty miles between Alamein and Alexandria. On the following day a fantastic drama was played on the desert sands.

Rommel's men could see the towers of Alexandria. Rest, food, water—particularly water for their parched throats—seemed almost at arms length. They started forward, writes Major Peter W. Rainer in his thrilling book on his experiences with the Eighth Army, "Pipe Line to Battle."

Suddenly a dust cloud rose in the desert. It was scuffed skyward by a remnant of our British Army: Fifty tanks, a few score fieldpieces, lorries filled with weary soliders.

In this sector, the enemy had about the same strength as we—their tanks had also been reduced to about fifty, and they had an equal number of men, some 5,000. The only difference was in firepower: we had nothing to match the German 88's.

All through that hot desert morning the opposing forces pounded at each other. Each army was close to the breaking point when even the battle began.

The sun was almost overhead when the Nazis broke. Slowly, sullenly, the Mark IV tanks lumbered back from their battle smoke.

And then an astonishing thing happened. Eleven hundred men of the 90th Light Panzer Division, the elite of the Afrika Korps, came stumbling across the barren sand with their hands in the air.

As the Nazis stumbled wearily closer, the plot of that dread desert plot began to unfold. Cruelly cracked and black with coagulated blood, their swollen tongues were protruding from their mouths. Crazily they tore water bottles from the necks of our men and poured life-saving swallows between their parched lips. Later I talked with some of them and this is the story they told:

When they had broken through Alamein the day before, they had already been twenty-four hours without water. But at our over-run defences they found a six-inch water pipe line. At various points along a two-mile stretch where it was above ground they shot holes in it and men dropped to their knees to drink the cool, gushing stream. A thousand men drank the water, and took great gulps before their parched throats gave a warning—the water was salt!

All night those men suffered unspeakably. Only the lure of quenching their thirst in Alexandria sustained them through the hours of that grim desert battle next morning. But when the Nazi tanks turned tail the infantrymen could bear the agony no longer.

Why was that pipe line full of salt water? As the officer responsible for supplying the Eighth Army with water through all its desert campaigns I can give you the answer. The pipe line was a new one, and I never wasted precious fresh water in testing a line: I always used salt water. If the Panzers had punched through Alamein the day before, that pipe would have been empty. Two days later it would have been full of fresh water. As it happened the Nazis got salt water, and they didn't detect the salt at once because their sense of taste had already been anesthetized by the brackish water they had been used to and by thirst. On so small a turn of fate is history written.

Pasteurization Of Milk

What it is and Why it is Necessary

Pasteurization of milk is a simple procedure. It involves the heating of milk to 143 deg. Fahrenheit, holding it at that temperature for half an hour, then rapidly chilling it to 40 deg. Fahrenheit. Milk when it has undergone this procedure is pasteurized. The heat has killed all disease-producing organisms and in the process this most valuable of foods has not been injured.

There is no finer food than milk. Its nutritive qualities are acknowledged everywhere. It is an essential in the diet of young and old alike. And yet raw milk has been responsible for more deaths than war itself. Milk in an excellent culture medium as the bacteriologist would say. In other words germs would grow in it very rapidly if they are once planted in it.

Germs producing disease in the human may originate in the cow. Thus many cows have tuberculosis — and the tuberculosis cow will infect milk. A cow may suffer from Bang's disease. About a quarter of all herds are infected. The germs of this disease infect the milk of the infected cow and cause that not infrequently fatal disease—undulant fever in human beings.

Infection in milk may come from the people who handle it—perhaps from the milker on the farm. Thus typhoid fever, diphtheria, scarlet fever and septic sore throat have been known to occur in epidemic form because of infected milk. Then to the fatal diarrhoeas of infancy too often originate in raw milk.

All of these serious results are prevented by pasteurization, that simple process, originating from the discoveries of the great Pasteur, the famous French chemist who laid the foundation of modern preventive medicine by discovering that communicable disease is passed from person to person by bacteria.

Pasteurization does not harm milk.

We have the authority of the physician-in-chief of the Hospital for Sick Children in Toronto for the statement that for twenty years not a drop of milk has been given to the little patients in the hospital which has not only been pasteurized but also boiled in order to improve its digestive qualities.

You will hear all sorts of stories from uninformed persons opposing pasteurization for selfish reasons to the effect that pasteurization damages milk, that it destroys calcium and vitamins—that it spoils the taste.

These stories are not true. Pasteurization does not alter the calcium content of milk — and as a matter of fact cows' milk, which nature intended for calves, not human babies, contains more calcium than babies need—three times as much as mothers' milk.

Vitamin C—the vitamin which prevents scurvy—is said to be reduced slightly by pasteurization. Vitamin D—the vitamin which prevents rickets—is not affected at all. But in any case there is not sufficient of either Vitamin C or D in cow's milk to supply the needs of the growing infant and all babies should be given orange juice to supply the deficiency in Vitamin C and Cod Liver Oil to supply the necessary Vitamin D.

That then is the story of Pasteurization—what it is and why it is necessary.

It is a simple process which makes the most valuable of our foods safe. Everyone should understand the meaning of pasteurization. Every community should make sure that only pasteurized milk is sold within its boundaries.

Drink lots of milk but drink ONLY pasteurized milk!

SERVING CANADA in WAR and PEACE

[The 63rd Annual Meeting of Canadian Pacific Shareholders was held in Montreal on May 3rd, 1944.]

Remember how pleasant it used to be to travel on Canadian Pacific trains and ships . . . to stay at Canadian Pacific hotels and resorts?

That was before Hitler unleashed his mad ambitions. It's different now. It has to be—for the World's Greatest Travel System has a big war job to do—and is doing it with characteristic efficiency.

When that job is done—and peace returns—Canadian Pacific will be ready to serve you as before . . . and even more completely.

Already plans are being made for the construction of new, improved locomotives and coaches . . . sleeping cars . . . parlor cars . . . diners; for the improvement of road-bed and tracks; for the renovation of stations and hotels; for the building of a new fleet of ocean vessels to replace those lost in war service.

This post-war program means much more than the mere restoration of pre-war travel facilities. It means the introduction of travel on a new scale of comfort, convenience and speed!

And more than that. It means a substantial amount of post-war employment and prosperity all over the Dominion, because the program itself will provide years of steady work at good wages for tens of thousands of Canadians.

This is one way in which Canadian Pacific is planning to meet the challenge of peace—while continuing to do a vital war job at home and abroad.

Canadian Pacific

THE WORLD'S GREATEST TRAVEL SYSTEM

CANADIAN PACIFIC PRODUCT OF FREE ENTERPRISE

LOYALLY AND EFFICIENTLY serving Canada for 63 years, the Canadian Pacific exemplifies the initiative and resource of free Canadian enterprise. The Dominion's first transcontinental railway, it was pushed to completion by a group of farseeing citizens who backed their faith in Canada's future with their personal fortunes. Thus, Canadian Pacific has played a major role in the development of the Dominion.

THE WARTIME ACTIVITIES of Canadian Pacific have been indispensable to Canada's contribution to victory. Rail freight traffic has doubled and passenger traffic has increased threefold compared with peacetime.

Canadian Pacific's ocean fleets on the Atlantic and the Pacific have been at the service of the United Nations since the outbreak of the war.

From Canadian Pacific shops have come tanks, guns and other munitions of war to a total value of $125,000,000. Today approximately 18,000 Canadian Pacific employees are serving in the Armed Forces.

CANADIAN PACIFIC is rightly proud of these records, made possible by the free association of three important groups, each contributing vitally to mutual Canadian interests:

ITS PATRONS—throughout Canada and many other parts of the world.

ITS EMPLOYEES—totalling over 75,000, whose wages and working conditions set a high standard for Canadian labor.

ITS SECURITY AND STOCKHOLDERS—numbering more than 200,000, who have risked their savings as evidence of their faith in the Canadian system of free enterprise.

WHO REALLY DISCOVERED AMERICA?

Columbus is credited with discovering America, yet there is a considerable amount of reliable evidence to prove that not only did an Irish saint, St. Brendan the Navigator, one of the patron saints of sailors, reach the New World almost ten centuries before him, but that also, even before the eighth century, considerable numbers of Irish monks were preaching Christianity to the inhabitants of the American continent.

Brendan the Navigator, was born at Fenit, Co. Kerry, in A.D. 483. He was descended from a noble family whose founder had been the King of Ireland in the first century, writes A. Kane in "The Trident." The traditions then prevailing in Ireland of the isles of Moy Meil and HyBrasil, mysterious lands of enchantment said to lie beyond the horizon, captivated Brendan's imagination he decided to explore the western ocean and seek the unknown continent.

In 545 he and fourteen other adventurous monks, prepared for the voyage. They built a large boat and took on board food, drink and utensils. When all was ready, they headed their vessel westward and sailed into the unknown to seek the Land of Promise.

For twelve days they sped before the breeze. Then there was a dead calm and for a month they alternated between rowing and allowing the boat to drift with the currents. At the end of that period they had their first sight of land, when an island, presumably Ireland, was sighted to the north. They landed and remained three days.

For the next seven years they searched for the Land of Promise.

They travelled southward down the Atlantic and visited, among other places, the Canary Islands. On both Tenerife and Hierro, the tradition of the Irish navigators' visits still exists. On Tenerife there is a shrine erected to St. Brendan, while on the island of Hierro his name was linked with a huge aurore tree which grew there at one time, having the quality to produce water from its leaves.

In 552 Brendan and his companions landed on the shores of America. In the ancient manuscripts there is a brief description which they gave of the country and of an immense river they found, probably the Mississippi.

The story of the voyage was on Brendan's return home recorded in Latin by his contemporaries. Copies of this manuscript were afterwards brought to Europe by Irish missionaries. In the Vatican Library there is a copy which has been pronounced by competent judges to have been written in the ninth century, while in the Bibliotheque Nationale Library in Paris there are eleven manuscript accounts of Brendan's voyage.

After the voyage of St. Brendan there is abundant proof that many Irish monks, in the centuries that followed, crossed the Atlantic in their frail crafts to devote their lives to missionary work in the New World, and in the eighth century the country extending from the coast of Chesapeake Bay down into Carolina and Florida was inhabited by considerable numbers of Irishmen.

Columbus was no doubt, familiar with the story of Brendan, and when he persuaded Ferdinand and Isabella to sponsor his expedition in search of the New World, both Columbus's plans for the voyage and the consent of the King and Queen to sponsor it, may, to a great extent, have been based on the current belief in the Brendan manuscripts.

Such a view is not unreasonable when we consider the European reputation which the Brendan story enjoyed in the Middle Ages; the fact that this Irish saint's discovery was considered sufficiently authentic to influence the geographers of that period, and also the statement of Humboldt that Columbus, on the voyage which brought him to America, had with him a map of the world on which the supposed situation of the land discovered by Brendan was clearly marked.

WAR-TIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—The other day I was charged 10c. for a bottle of Coca Cola. I returned an empty bottle at the time of purchase. Was the store right in charging me this much?

A.—No store should charge more than 7c. for a bottled Coca Cola unless they have authorization from the Confectionary Administrator. Very few stores have, and it is likely that your dealer was overcharging. Please let us have his name and we will investigate. This 7c. price ruling for bottled cokes applies to those consumed at the counter also.

Q.—Is it true that there will soon be more salted peanuts in the stores?

A.—Yes, roasted and salted peanuts will soon be available in larger quantities. We used to get most of our peanuts from China and India. Within the month we will be getting supplies from Mexico and the United States. Under a new Prices Board regulation roasted shelled peanuts, previously restricted to candy manufacturers, will shortly be on the market for the public.

Q.—What is the maximum retail price of maple cream?

A.—In Nova Scotia maple cream must retail at no more than 50c. a pound.

Q.—I am an American visiting in Nova Scotia until the fall. May I apply for canning sugar?

A.—Yes. You may apply to the Ration Administration in Halifax after May 25th when the first canning sugar coupons fall due. If you specify your need for the sugar they will allow you coupons. Submit ration card at time of application.

Q.—I had my dinner in a restaurant and when I asked for another order of butter they refused to give it to me. Is this right?

A.—The restaurant was correct in refusing you. No second orders of butter, tea or coffee are allowed. Each person should have no more than 3 lumps of sugar upon request.

Q.—Can a dealer insist that when you buy fruit you must make an additional purchase?

A.—No, this is illegal. A firm of fruit dealers in Montreal recently was fined $1,500 for requiring the purchase of other goods when buying grapes and other fruit.

Q.—Has the owner any right to bring prospective buyers to see through the house while we occupy it?

A.—Yes, a tenant is obliged to show the premises at all reasonable times. If you have a telephone we would suggest that you make arrangements with the owner or agent to appointments to bring the prospective buyers to see the house at times convenient to you. If a tenant refuses to make suitable arrangements, the owner can apply to the Rentals Administration for an order to view the premises.

Two More Volunteers From Digby County

Volunteering for service anywhere, two more Digby County men have joined the Canadian Army at No. 6 District Depot, Halifax, and are now awaiting posting to a basic training centre. They are:

Allister Murray Harris, husband of Mrs. Irene Harris, of Bear River. Pte. Harris has had more than a year's service with the 2nd Battalion, West Nova Scotia Regiment (Reserve Army).

Kenneth Edgar Rhodes Wagner, son of Mrs. and the late LeRoy Wagner, of Riverdale. A brother is serving with the R.C.A.F.

For a Better World

By F. E. Burnham
Brigadier-General

An ominous cloud is rolling westward and as it approaches Poland and the Baltic States there can be seen the unmistakable sign of the Double Cross—that sinister symbol which has bedeviled European politics and laid the foundation of many wars. Stalin has been shooting holes in the Atlantic Charter which, if it means anything, guarantees independence, security and territorial integrity. There are signs that Russia is determined on territorial expansion at the expense of Poland and the Baltic States. In an attempt to placate Russia, pressure has been put on Poland and Finland to accept terms which are equivalent to unconditional surrender, and subject to the whims and vagaries of a peace conference which will be dominated by a merciless dictator. Finland is worthy of every sympathy and what Finland gets will be an augury of the peace to come.

Russia is the hereditary enemy of Turkey which was about to join the allied bandwagon, but was scared off by the sight of Stalin in the drivers seat. That these small nations must make peace, not with the Allies, but with Russia, and must accept the inexorable demands of the Russian dictator, is an evil portent of the future. The small nations are entitled to a square deal and not to be come the victims of the rapacious maw of an inflexible dictator.

What a difference between the dictators of the pre-Christian Era and those of modern days. Caesar and Pericles were good examples of the benevolent dictator. They came from fine families and their power was based on justice to all. On the contrary, modern dictators have neither heart nor conscience and their crimes are appalling. Their main idea is to assassinate all who fail to fall in line. Caesar, had he lived in modern times, would have been a great Christian. He was a great man, the greatest of all, without conceit, who dispensed justice to all alike. Had modern dictators studied the life of Julius Caesar their lives might have been a blessing instead of the reverse.

That 44 per cent of recruits are rejected as unfit for military service indicates the declining physique of the Empire. Bad habits take their toll. The decline will continue because of the children brought into the world by mothers addicted to the cigarette habit are a miserable lot. Hippocrates, who laid the foundation of medicine, made little use of drugs, and taught that the best way to avoid sickness was to lead a wholesome life, and the best way to cure sickness was to observe a proper way of life.

The Periclean Age was one of growing culture, science and philosophy. In the many centuries since then there have been great advances in medicine, industry and invention but culture has steadily declined. The Chinese teach their people to shun tobacco and wine and not to covet money. It has always seemed to the writer that, instead of sending missionaries to China, it should be the other way about. All that western civilization has done for native races is to demoralize them.

So long as people aim to live by greed and graft, there can be no peace. When nations learn that broken promises, dishonored covenants, bad faith, duplicity and injustice, do not pay, and that spiritual values are more important than economic prosperity, then we shall have a better world.

Help Your Grocer

"Don't be a plunker." This is the advice given housewives by Byrne Sanders, director of the Consumer Branch of the Prices Board.

"A plunker," declares Miss Sanders, "is a shopper who plunks all her ration books on the counter for the grocer to go through, finding out what a good shopper should know herself. Seven million coupons change hands every business day in Canada. How would you like to be asked five hundred times a day what butter coupons are good?"

"Women can help greatly by knowing in advance which coupons are valid. Do not complain and grumble because service is slow and you must carry parcels yourself. Remember your grocer has all this to contend with. His profits are controlled, his help is in the armed services or war plants, he has fewer things to sell, he loses half a night's sleep sticking all those loose coupons on taly sheets to turn into his wholesaler, and his delivery truck is wearing out. Check your ration book before you commence your shopping."

Queen Honors Airplane Crew

The three members of the crew of a Trans-Canada Air Lines plane were recently honored by Queen Wilhelmina at the Netherlands Legation in Ottawa. They were in charge of the plane which carried the Queen from Ottawa to an East Coast port last July on her way back to Britain after a visit to the Dominion.

They are W. W. Fowler, of Sackville, N.B., who was captain of the aircraft; Arthur J. Tomlinson, of Medicine Hat, Alta., copilot, and Miss M. I. Clinch, of St. George, N.B., the stewardess. Queen Wilhelmina presented a gold pin with the Royal cipher superimposed on a crown to each of them.

Captain Fowler, who began flying in 1927, has been with T.C.A. since the inception of Canada's trans-continent air service. He is now assistant manager at Winnipeg. Tomlinson, a native of Kenora, Ont., entered the T.C.A. service in 1941 at Winnipeg. Miss Clinch is a graduate of Saint John, N.B., general hospital, and joined the airline in September of 1942.

THE MILDEST CIGARETTE YOU CAN SMOKE

... because it is mild, where mildness counts most—in the throat. A Buckingham is "Throat Easy" because it is blended from tobaccos that are naturally cool-burning, cool-smoking. For a milder smoke and a more satisfying cigarette in every way, try a Buckingham. You'll never again be satisfied with anything less in a cigarette.

TAKE CARE

DEPARTMENT OF LANDS AND FORESTS
HALIFAX

HERE'S THE FIRE SIGN — that you must heed!

THESE signs are placed at strategic locations in the woods warning you of the DANGER of smoking on the trail—of throwing away live matches or cigarette butts—of leaving campfires unextinguished—of letting brush fires get beyond control.

It is YOUR property they are asking you to protect. Because every tree, every foot of forest land in the Province is, in a sense, yours. Inasmuch as your income is influenced directly or indirectly by the many ramifications of our forest industries, now working at top speed to help win the war.

Why then ignore these signs? Why sabotage Canada's War Effort? Why jeopardize your own livelihood? You've simply got to be careful in the woods now. And make others careful, too. That's your job—while our former fire fighters are fighting for you overseas. So take the PLEDGE here-with yourself—and show it to at least three of your friends.

Play Safe! Be Careful! Prevent Forest Fires!

DEPARTMENT OF LANDS AND FORESTS

J. H. MacQuarrie, Attorney General
Minister, Lands and Forests

- I promise not to smoke until I stop in a safe place and to make sure all matches, cigarette butts, and pipe ashes are DEAD out.
- I promise to build my campfire by the water—and to douse well before leaving.
- I promise not to burn brush or slash without permit, to follow safe rules and kill every spark.
- I promise to kill any small fires I find, to REPORT ALL OTHERS by telephone collect, asking Operator for nearest Fire Ranger.

ACADEMY ACTIVITIES

Total stamp sales amounted to $78.25. Navy still held a lead of $40.50 over Airforce second with $22.50 and Army last with $13.25. The grand total since September amounts to $2,242.50. The objective we hope to reach is $3,000.

The Fundy Light will be on the latter part of this week. Due to several interruptions, this publication is several weeks overdue.

On Sunday evening, May 14, the Sea Cadets were present at a special service held in St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church. The service took place at 8:30. The cadets marched to the church from the Scout Hall.

Sea Cadet Activities

In recent weeks much interest has been taken in the Sea Cadet Program.

The primary purpose of the Sea Cadet Movement is to build up citizenship. This can be accomplished only through the cooperation of the citizens of any community. The youth of the community look up to the business men and women for guidance. The ideals which the youth develop are copied from the grownups of the community. These grownups have far greater responsibility than has been shown in past years. If the grownups do not lead the way in cooperation, who is to guide the group of young people—the citizens of tomorrow?

Recently Mr. David Landers presented Bear Island to the Sea Cadets. The deed of the island is held in trust by His Worship The Mayor, The President of the Board of Trade, and the Chairman of the School Board and their successors in office. So long as there are Sea Cadets they hold the island. Should the Sea Cadets cease to exist the island is to be used for youth purposes at the discretion of the trustees.

In addition to the gift of the island Mr. Landers has given a substantial cash gift to be used for the development of the island. Other citizens of the town have also given cash gifts for the development of the island. It is hoped that in the near future a permanent camp will be completed on the island.

Last Thursday Lt. Boucher, Area Commanding Officer from H.M.C.S. "Halgonian" and Lt. Rector, from the same station, visited the R.C.S.C.C. "Cornwallis." Lt. Rector presented prizes to the boys of the corps for the scrap books which they had submitted to the contest which was held among the Sea Cadet Corps of the Province.

Twenty dollars was offered in prizes for the competition. $5 first prize; $4, second prize; $3, third prize; and $2 prizes for honorable mention.

The Cadets from Digby were fortunate in winning $9 out of the $20. Cadet Robin Connell won the $5 first prize. Cadet Gordon Humphrey and Cadet Claude Parker each won $2 prizes for honorable mention.

Lt. Rector congratulated the corps on the progress it has made since the end of November and on the fine showing which it made in the scrap book competition.

Paper Salvage Drive Successful

A carload of approximately 15 tons of bundled waste paper was shipped out of Digby to a paper mill in the province of Quebec last week by the salvage committee of the Digby Board of Trade. Board of Trade members who had charge of the loading of the car say it was so full it would have been almost impossible to cram in another newspaper.

Much of the credit for the success of this collection goes to the pupils of the Digby Academy who gathered nearly two-thirds of the entire shipment. In a keen competition among the various grades of school for the greatest amount collected, the little tots in Grade III led by collecting nearly three tons. The Board of Trade voted $20 in prize money to be distributed by supervisor C. E. Eaton to the winning classes.

The youngsters took their salvage collecting seriously. One business place where a considerable amount of waste paper accumulates (and situated almost next door to where the paper was stored) put their waste paper up in cartons with the intention of carrying it over to the warehouse. The children learned of it and carried the cartons to the school house a half mile distant in order that their class would get credit for the collection. In most cases it took two of the youngsters to carry a carton. In addition to collections, the older boys assisted members of the Board of Trade in loading trucks and in the actual loading of the car.

The Seed Potatoes Criticized

The regular meeting of North Range Agricultural Society met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Welch Monday, May 15, with a large attendance. Among the discussions at this meeting were the condition of some of the certified seed potatoes, purchased by the Society from the Digby County Farmers' Association.

Some of these potatoes were very satisfactory and showed the members the importance of producing and marketing "quality" instead of "just something to get by with." Steps will be taken to investigate the complaints and see where the trouble lies.

The new re-organization policies were discussed and 65 per cent of the members signed up as members of the North Range District, which includes the school districts of Barton - Brighton, North Range, South Range East and West, Doucetteville, Plympton Station and Plympton. Much confidence was shown in the new set up and the principals of adult education were heartily approved.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Ralph MacNeill on June 19 (third Monday) and the subject for discussion will be "How can we market our produce."

MARRIAGE

Foster - Mullen

A quiet wedding took place at Weymouth, on May 15, the United Church Parsonage, when Rev. R. H. H. Barker united in marriage, Marion, daughter of William Mullen, Brighton, to Oscar Foster, of Bloomfield. They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. H. Pyne (brother-in-law and sister of the groom). The bride was dressed in blue with pink and white accessories. They will reside in Bloomfield.

Quebec City resident. Brought before Judge Armand Cloutier he was found guilty and ordered to pay a fine of $1,500 with an alternative sentence of six months in jail.

Park Benches Out Again

The reappearance of benches on water street along the boulevard and next to the monument, Saturday morning assured us that summer is here again and we can hope for many sunny days to come.

These benches are so placed that visitors to Digby can gain an excellent view of the basin with its ever changing panorama.

Here also is a very pleasant place of rest, as many a traveller waiting for boat or train can testify, and it is seldom indeed to find these seats untenanted during the long summer days.

Flower beds around the monument have been dug up in readiness for planting and will soon blossom forth in many and vari-coloured flowers.

Now a Prisoner Of War

Mrs. G. V. Forsythe, Colonial Arms Lodge, Deep Brook, has received word through the International Red Cross that her son (through a former marriage) Pilot Officer Kenneth Hinde, is now a prisoner of war in Germany. He was reported missing after he participated in the thousand bomber raid over Frankfurt, March 23.

The young pilot, who is 22 years of age, has been overseas since January, 1943. He is a member of the R.A.A.F., and completed his training in Canada before going overseas. He was pilot of a Lancaster Bomber.

Association Names Temporary Officers

A special meeting of the officers and key men of Digby County Farmers' Association, met at Town Hall, Digby, Thursday evening, May 11, to discuss further development of re-organization of the farmers in Nova Scotia. Temporary officers for the New Digby County Farmers' Association were appointed to act until a permanent slate can be appointed and key men in each district were appointed and authorized to act as temporary secretaries for their approved districts, and also act as directors of the Association.

President — Edwin Gidney, Mink Cove.

Secretary Treasurer—Joseph Specht, Barton.

District Secretaries — Max Isles, Bear River; D. C. MacKay, Acaciaville; Hubert Shortliffe, North Range; Amos Hill, Weymouth North; Angus Boutlier, Centreville.

A similar meeting is planned to be held at Little Brook on Friday night, May 19, to organize the Clare District.

Speakers from the Agriculture College and St. Francis Xavier have volunteered to speak at open meetings in each District in the near future.

TOWN TALK

The window smashing epidemic here is reportedly due to the poor marksmanship of certain amateur granite heavers who really only meant to kill someone on the street.

Speaking of shooting—why doesn't someone take a shot at the guys who go around the streets smashing beer bottles just because they get empty?

They're saying that a certain lady borrowed a tackle the other day and went fishing for the first time. The guide showed her a spot and told her he once caught 40 trout there. "Oh, boy," she said, "how many hooks did you have?" "Oh, 2 or 3 may be." "Whoopie," she cried, "I oughta smash all records. I've got 20 hooks."

Plans Made For July 1st Celebration

A joint meeting of the executive of the Digby Branch of the Navy League of Canada and the Council of the Digby Board of Trade was held in the town hall Friday evening to consider the proposal made by the Board of Trade at their regular meeting to hold a celebration, opening on the evening of June 30, and continuing through the day of July 1st, proceeds of which to be shared equally by both organizations.

V. G. Cardoza, president of the Board of Trade, presided over the meeting. J. M. Wallis was named secretary. On motion it was decided unanimously to carry out the celebration on the plans suggested.

C. F. McBride, president of the Digby Branch of the Navy League; G. V. Cardoza, president of the Digby Board of Trade, and C. M. Levy, chairman of the entertainment committees of both organizations, were named a special committee to draw up a tentative programme and to seek co-operation from H.M.C.S. Cornwallis.

Other plans and the appointment of working committees will be considered at a meeting to be held in the near future.

Victory Bond Drive Goes Over the Top

Despite the fact Digby County got off to a slow start toward its $465,000 objective in the 6th Victory Loan Campaign, final figures posted by the local committee reveal the county as well over the top—a total of $526,950 being subscribed.

Although lower than that subscribed for the 5th loan, the figure is one to be proud of. Local conditions during the spring months are somewhat different than conditions during the fall of the year. During the spring, farmers and fishermen are both putting out large sums of money on their properties, weirs and boats. The financial returns of these investments are not realized until late summer and fall and consequently money for investment in Victory Bonds is not as free at the present season as it is later in the year.

Half a million dollars invested in Victory Bonds during this drive is really a mighty figure for an area such as ours. In addition one must bear in mind, several thousands of additional dollars were in all possibility subscribed in another county under the payroll savings plan by county citizens employed outside the bounds of Digby County.

Mother's Day Observed

Large congregations attended the Mother's Day services held in the Baptist Church. The Sunday school joined in the morning service for the Spring Rally exercises, theme being the festival of the Christian Home. Chester Levy Sunday School superintendent, presided. Others taking part were the Misses Charlotte Deming, Ardis Warner, Clytie Banks and Beth Harvie. Rev. J. Earle DeLong spoke on the "I Don't Want To's" of the home. Special music was rendered by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Guy Morehouse. After the service seven young people received baptism.

In the evening the choir presented a cantata appropriate for Mother's Day to a large and appreciative audience. Rev. Earle DeLong spoke on "The Challenge to Christian Mothers." After the service the Lord's Supper was administered by the pastor and eight new members were received into the fellowship of

Hens (and Ducks) In For Variety

Our Digby County hens (and ducks) seem to be going in for novelties. Mrs. Gordon Ellis brought in a large egg this week; one measuring 10 3/4 inches by 7 1/4 inches. Naturally she thought that was an ordinary double yolk egg but when she broke it only one yolk came out. Looking farther she found another egg, one which would grade A1, inside the big one, fully formed with a shell of ordinary thickness.

Mrs. Dominick Melanson brought in two duck eggs laid by the same duck two days in succession. The first was merely a normal duck egg but the second was shaped more like a golf ball and about the same size. Nothing like variety!

Grads' Dresses Must Be Short

Fashion is continuing to play its part in helping to win the war by designing simple styles which will save on materials and labor.

With the approach of school graduation days the War-time Prices and Trade Board regional office has issued a statement drawing attention to a Board order which rules out the manufacture of long dresses for the girl graduate. Long graduation dresses will not be the style this season.

Bridal gowns may be made in long lines but these should not be purchased by girl graduates, it is pointed out.

Dedication Service Held

The unveiling of an honor roll on which the names of men and women of St. Patrick's Parish, Digby, who are serving with the armed forces, are inscribed, and the dedication of a beautiful pipe organ, were featured at an impressive special service in St. Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, Digby, Sunday evening. The service was largely attended.

The service of dedication opened with the singing of "Come Holy Ghost Creator Blest" by a children's choir under the direction of the Sisters of Charity. This was followed by the dedication sermon delivered by the pastor, Rev. Father Leo Murphy, who, during the course of his address, announced the first sod for the new St. Patrick's Academy would be turned in the morning. He also drew attention to the fact this parish is part of the oldest Roman Catholic parish in Canada (the Parish of Annapolis) founded in 1604, four years before Quebec.

Right Reverend Monsignor William J. Burns, vicar general of the archdiocese of Halifax, officiated in the blessing of the Honor Roll and Pipe Organ. A number of Roman Catholic Clergy from Halifax and Digby Counties took part in the impressive ceremony.

During the service Gounoud's "Ave Maria" and Caesar Franck's "Panis Angelicus" were beautifully rendered by Lieut. A. Shaugnessey, W.R.C. N.S., of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, guest soloist for the evening. Professor U. Comeau, of St. Ann's College, Church Point, was guest organist. Selections were also played on the organ by Bryant Keable, who installed the instrument.

Prior to the dedication service a half hour organ recital was given by Professor Comeau.

the church, thus increasing the total of new members by more than 30 since January first, this year.

Missing In the Annapolis Basin

The next of kin of Chief Petty Officer Donald Kent, Jeddore, Halifax County, have been advised by naval authorities that he is posted, as missing from a naval training destroyer in this area. A search is still being conducted in the district.

Chief Petty Officer Kent is reported to have put out in a small punt some time Friday evening, and it is said he was seen in the act of putting off a mooring preparatory to setting a herring net. He was alone at the time. The punt was found Saturday morning upside down on the shore near Port Wade.

The missing man is 29 years of age and joined the navy three years ago and has been overseas on two occasions. He has been stationed in this area since December, and was well known locally, particularly in the Port Wade district.

His mother resides at Jeddore. His father died about a year ago. It is understood he has a number of brothers and sisters, four of the brothers serving in the armed forces.

Navy Wives Sponsor Dance

A dance for the Ships Tenders, sponsored by the Navy Wives' Auxiliary, Cornwallis, was held Wednesday, May 10, in the Navy League Hostel, about 200 attended.

The hall was gaily decorated with signal flags, billowing from the ceiling. Music was provided by the Cornwallis band, while W.O. Bob Magall acted as master of ceremonies.

Quite a number of Wrens were in evidence, providing partners for the boys and prizes were awarded for various dances.

Luncheon was served by the Navy Wives and all reported having "a really swell time."

More Instances Of Vandalism

For some people, breaking windows appears to be fun, at any rate there has been an epidemic of window smashing in Digby of late. Within the past few days windows in three premises have been broken for apparently no reason at all, one of the latest occurrences was at the home of L. B. Eldridge, where a rock was thrown thro a bedroom window, the missile passing over the bed in which Mr. and Mrs. Eldridge was sleeping.

Another window was broken in the door of the Chinese Laundry, and during one night six windows were smashed in the plant of the Wallis Print Ltd., one of these in the main office, and five small panes in a basement window. An office window was broken at the same plant a few weeks ago.

New Business College

When the Business College opens in St. Patrick's Academy in September, it will represent an entirely new establishment and will have no connection with the one now functioning in Digby, which it is understood will close its doors in July. New equipment and a staff will be brought here and the diploma granted will be of the same standard as in the several other colleges of which the Digby establishment will be a branch. Students entering the College will thus have the full advantages of the training to be given by teachers, who are specialists in every department of commercial life. Applications are already being received and enquiries should be addressed to the Bursar, The Business College, St. Patrick's Academy, Digby, N. S.

About This and That

It has been told that Germany's "secret weapon" appears to be one of the wonders of chemical science.

It is said to be a shell containing a chemical which freezes everything within 500 yards by a temperature of 332 below zero. All life is destroyed in that radius and steel and concrete are made so brittle they crumble at a touch.

We have the word of Dr. Goebbels that tests of the new weapon have produced icebergs in the North Sea and English channel, to the mystification of the English citizenry.

This sounds like the real thing.

With this weapon, Hitler should be able to wind up the war in a week. With it Uncle Joe Stalin could be frozen solid as he sits in the Kremlin puffing his brier, and a barrage or two should stiffen the Allied armies in their tracks.

But even more remarkable than this wonderful secret weapon is that, instead of announcing it, Hitler did not use it to wind up the war last week.

We live for it; we fight for it; if needs be we shall die for it—the Canadian Way of Life. And some day we may even agree on exactly what it is.

A soldier overseas wants more than anything else, according to competent authority, a letter with snapshots, the home-town newspaper, smokes, fruit cake, canned fruit, razor blades home-made candy, handkerchiefs and socks. And so, gentle reader, get busy. If you ever spent a while at some fighting front, no matter when or where, you will have a pretty fair notion of the deep satisfaction and keen pleasure the receipt of each article mentioned, will give. If you have not, then it's only a waste of time trying to imagine it.

Some men are born grouches, but most of them get married.

A state of war does not seem to weaken or discourage snobbishness. There is the parliamentary restaurant at Ottawa, for example. The wives of the members and their sisters and cousins and aunts may refresh themselves there. But the wives of the deputy ministers and the press gallery staff are required to take themselves elsewhere.

Another illustration from Toronto (naturally enough). There, a social club refused to rent its premises for a dinner for Marian Anderson, one of the world's finest singers. Her voice is beyond criticism. But it seems the color of her skin is not.

A new chemical combination is said to give the softest wood the hardness of iron. We got the same effect in our youth by merely picking up a bucksaw.

"We shall really be making progress when we are willing to spend money against poverty, ignorance, unemployment and sickness, at the same rate as against Hitler; when we pay schoolmasters at a much higher rate and our lawyers perhaps at a somewhat lower rate."

Who said that? No ranting Socialist, or shouting radical, or extremeist. The remarks were made recently by General Wavell, professional soldier, able strategist and a lover of peace.

If all our prayers were answered, very few of us would be working any more.

Daylight Saving Time Continues

Nova Scotia is to remain on War Time.

Due to the increased demand for war production involving electrical power, a reversion to Standard Time can't be recommended at present, according to word received by Hon. John A. McDonald, Nova Scotia Minister of Agriculture, from Hon. C. D. Howe, Ottawa, Federal Minister of Munitions and Supply. Mr. Howe stated that after exploring the possibility of making the change he had found that the reasons that led to the introduction of War Time were even more compelling now than they were when the action was first taken. Nova Scotia, he added, was being called on for new war production which will considerably increase the load on electric energy plants.

The question of having Nova Scotia revert to Standard Time has been much to the fore in the past few months. Last January the Nova Scotia Farmers' Association in annual convention passed such a resolution, and was in turn presented to the Committee on Agriculture of the Nova Scotia Legislature. Subsequently Hon. Mr. McDonald took the subject up with Hon. Mr. Howe, who at the time indicated there was no longer involved a question of electrical power and that he would be prepared to recommend the requested change to his colleagues. Following this, the Nova Scotia Legislature voted 25 to 5 in favor of Standard Time. Very recent changes in war production requirements however, have again

The effect of Daylight Saving, or War Time, on the power situation is that it evens out the peaks, according to H. J. Symington, Federal Power Controller, who some time ago made a Canada-wide survey following a request from the Canadian Federation of Agriculture for information on this subject. Before War Time came into effect, the evening peak far exceeded the morning peak and the situation had reached the stage where there was insufficient capacity to reach the evening peak. Daylight Saving has brought evening and morning peaks to practically the same point as a result of a reduction in evening peak and an increase in the morning peak. The result of this evening up has meant industry has not needed to be shut down during the evening peak.

Early in the year Mr. Symington consulted the power people in all the provinces with the idea of ascertaining the effect on the power situation if there was a reversion to Standard Time. Following the survey he stated that if Daylight Saving were abandoned it was estimated that the demand for power in the Maritime Provinces would be increased approximately ten per cent. He added, "the existing generating facilities are already heavily loaded. The reserve capacity is barely adequate for present requirements. An increase of approximately ten per cent in the maximum demand would be undesirable at the present time."

TONS OF WASTE PAPER ARE NEEDED
EVERY MONTH FOR MAKING ESSENTIAL WAR MATERIAL

● The need is desperate! To help Canada meet the critical shortage, not a scrap of wanted paper should be burned or thrown away!

WHAT IS WANTED

You can remedy this critical paper shortage by saving every scrap of Waste Paper, namely: wrapping paper—store bags—cardboard—cartons—corrugated board—old magazines and books—envelopes and letters—news-papers. These represent the raw material for making vitally needed Paper containers.

HOW TO DO IT

Tie securely in separate bundles. (The little time you take will save thousands of man hours.) Then dispose of it through your local voluntary Salvage Committee or other War Voluntary Organization, or sell it through any known trade channels, your pedlar, dealers or others. The important thing is to get your Waste Paper moving to the mills.

Do Your Part! Salvage every Scrap of Paper you can!

Best Is Cheapest KING COLE TEA

Never Before Has Fine Quality Meant So Much

WAR-TIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—Just what is the increase in the tea and coffee ration now in effect?

A.—Each coupon is doubled in value, i.e. it becomes worth two ounces of tea or 16 ounces of coffee. One of these coupons becomes valid on the second Thursday and another on the fourth Thursday of each month. A new ruling permits the consumer to purchase 8 ounces of coffee and 2 ounces of tea on one coupon.

Q.—The grocer refused to let me 1/2 pound of butter. He says he is only allowed to sell 1/4 lb. per pound. Is this correct?

A.—No, this is not correct. Your butter coupons are worth 1/2 a pound and you should be able to purchase this amount. However, your grocer is a very busy man these days, it takes time to cut the butter up into small quantities. Perhaps you could save your coupons until you have enough to purchase one pound.

Q.—Recently I purchased flannelette and was charged 45¢ a yard. It did not seem to be of very good quality. Is there a ceiling price on materials and was I overcharged?

A.—Yes, there is a ceiling price on flannelette. You shouldn't pay more than was charged by the same store for a similar quality of flannelette during the basic period, September 15 to October 11, 1941. However, there are many different qualities of flannelette. Those appearing on the market today are of American and Canadian manufacture. The price you quote does seem high. Let us have the name and address of the shop where it was purchased and we will have the prices checked.

Q.—The house we have rented for seven years is being sold. Who should give the notice to vacate, the former owner or the buyer? How much notice should we be given and at what time of year?

A.—The new owner must give the notice. Notice must only be given on a form provided by the Board. If you are a monthly tenant you are entitled to six clear rental months' notice. This notice cannot expire between September 30th and the following April 30th. However, if you have a lease you can be given six months' notice before the end of the lease regardless of when your lease terminates.

Q.—My daughter was twelve years of age one week after ration book four was distributed. How can I get tea and coffee coupons for her?

A.—If she was twelve years of age on or before April 13th the tea and coffee coupons should have been left in her book when finished. If they were removed we would advise you to get in touch with your local Ration Board. However, any child who becomes twelve years of age after April 13th must wait until another ration book is issued to be eligible for tea and coffee coupons.

Q.—My hairdresser told me the cold wave would cost me ten dollars. Is this allowed? He used to charge me six dollars for a good permanent.

A.—No beauty parlor operators may charge more for this type of permanent waving than they charged for their best permanents in the basic period, September 11th to October 15, 1941, unless they have received special permission to sell this service at a higher price. If this is the case your operator would have a letter from the War-time Prices and Trade Board setting a maximum price, which he or she should show to you.

Please send your questions or your requests for "Re-Make Wrinkles" the handy booklet that tells you how to make use of cast-offs, "Consumers' News," or the Blue Book in which to keep track of your ceiling prices to the Consumer Branch, WPTB, 77 Upper Water St., Halifax.

More Windows Broken

A report, written over the week end and published elsewhere in this issue, tells of a window smashing epidemic in the town of Digby. Since then more windows have been broken and our plant again victimized — six lights of glass were broken out of our basement window sometime Tuesday night or early yesterday morning (five lights from the same window were replaced only a few days ago).

On Monday night a window was broken out of the Digby Garage. On this occasion the incident was witnessed and the Navy Shore Patrol notified at once. The culprit was picked up, and dealt with by navy authorities on Wednesday morning.

The awning at Wright's Store was also badly damaged on Monday night.

Local naval shore patrol officials state they are understaffed in this area, and furthermore, co-operation from the civilian population appears to be lacking. In a number of cases complaints have been received after they were too late to be effective, and on other occasions, complainants have refused to co-operate by laying any charges against culprits. They state if charges were laid, and men were made to appear on the "quarter deck" much of the mischief would be checked.

PROCLAMATION

By the Honorable J. H. MacQuarrie
Minister of Lands and Forests
Nova Scotia

TO ALL WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME OR WHOM THE SAME MAY IN ANY WISE CONCERN: Whereas the Minister of Lands and Forests of Nova Scotia deems it necessary for the protection of the forests to make this Proclamation:

Now Know Ye that the Minister of Lands and Forests of Nova Scotia under and by virtue of Section 110 of the Lands and Forests Act doth hereby set aside on, from and after the Eighteenth day of May A.D., 1944, until the Fifteenth day of September, A.D., 1944, unless this Proclamation is sooner revoked, every area of forest land, except on the Island of Cape Breton, as an area of forest land upon which no person shall enter for the purpose of travelling, camping, fishing or picnicking, or any other purposes, without first notifying the local Forest Ranger or other person duly authorized to receive such notification of the route, destination, purpose and duration of the trip with dates, and having obtained authorization in writing from the local Forest Ranger or other person duly authorized to issue same; Provided, however, that forest land may be entered upon by the actual owner or occupier thereof or his or their employees as such, and by Forest Ranger, Voluntary Rangers, fire fighters and land surveyors.

The office of the Department of Lands and Forests, every Chief Ranger, Sub-ranger, Town Clerk, Municipal Clerk, or Municipal Councillor is authorized and empowered to issue travel permits authorizing any person to enter upon forest land for the purpose aforesaid, and no fee is payable therefor.

Any person found in any area of forest land without a permit whilst this Proclamation is in force, upon conviction, subject to a penalty of not less than Ten Dollars nor more than One Hundred Dollars.

Of which all persons concerned are to take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Given under my hand at the City of Halifax, this Thirteenth day of May A.D., 1944.

J. H. MACQUARRIE,
Minister of Lands and Forests

Monthly Meeting Of W.M.S.

The monthly meeting of the Women's Missionary Society met on Friday afternoon, May 12, at the home of Mrs. W. A. Chute. An interesting program was given, bearing on the home and young life of today, followed by the study period conducted by Mrs. Croscup.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Brooks and Mrs. Balsor, on behalf of the members, presented two gifts and a beautifully decorated birthday cake to Mrs. Croscup as a small token of the love they have for the president of the W.M.S. Mrs. Croscup has held the office of president for many years and through her faithful and untiring efforts has always proved herself a most efficient leader. After thanking the members for the gifts, which came as a complete surprise to Mrs. Croscup, tea and cake were served and a social half hour enjoyed by those present.

With the Churches

At the Mother's Day service on Sunday morning at the United Church of Canada, Rev. J. Brooks spoke on the home and paid high tribute to the mothers. At the close of the sermon, Rev. Mr. Brooks baptized Gladys Ann Hawkes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hawkes. The choir rendered special selections for Mother's Day.

At the Baptist Church a special sermon in honor of Mothers Day was preached by the pastor, Rev. G. D. Brydon. Appropriate music was rendered by the choir, for the occasion.

A very fitting service was also delivered by Rev. Kenneth Dotson, of the Advent Christian Church.

Flowers were placed on the different altars in memory of departed mothers.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Esteen Longmire

The death of Mrs. Esteen Longmire occurred at her home in Hillsburn on May 4, following an illness of a few weeks. She is survived by her husband; Theo (Mrs. Lorman Wood) of Harbourville; Borden at home, and Pte. Clesson, of Ontario; two sisters, Mrs. Odith Casey, of California, and Mrs. Alice Kay, of Hillsburn; three brothers, Austin and John of Hillsburn, and Percy, of New Minas, and a half-sister, Mrs. Gladys Stalling, of the United States.

William LeClair Denton

Word has been received by Robert Denton, of Little River, that his brother, William LeClair Denton, had passed away after a short illness at his home in Vancouver, where interment took place. He is survived by his wife.

Preston O'Neill

At Centreville, on May 7th, the death occurred of Preston O'Neill, at the age of 85 years. He was born at Mink Cove and lived there until a few years ago, when with Mrs. O'Neill he went to live with his daughter, Mrs. Herbert Titus, Centreville. One year ago in April Mrs. O'Neill passed away. The immediate relatives surviving are a brother, Charles O'Neill, of Mink Cove; a sister, Mrs. George Out-house, of Tiverton; two daughters, Flora (Mrs. Herbert Titus) with whom he resided, and Mrs. Sadie Denton, of Little River; two sons, Harry of Digby, and Tennyson, of East Inglesville, Anna. Co.; also thirty-two grandchildren and thirteen great grandchildren. The funeral service was held May 9th, conducted by Rev. Mr. DeLong, of Digby. Interment was in the Baptist Cemetery, at Sandy Cove.

Mrs. Annie L. Gidney

There passed away May 12, at Centreville, Mrs. Annie L. Gidney, at the age of 86 years. She was born at Hebron, Yarmouth Co., and was the daughter of the late Whitman and Mary (Smith) Crosby. For several years she taught school, until her marriage to the late Benjamin Blackadar, of Hebron and Westport. Her second marriage was to the late Angus M. Gidney, who represented Digby County in the Legislative Assembly, and later was Collector of Customs at Digby. For several years Mrs. Gidney operated a hotel at Smith's Cove and was widely known throughout the province. Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Frances Boutillier, of Centreville, with whom she made her home; one son, Capt. Fred Blackadar, of Galveston, Texas; three grandsons, Thomas Blackadar, of the American Army, now a Japanese prisoner; Lieut. Alfred Boutillier, overseas, and Angus Boutillier, of Centreville; also one sister, Mrs. Florence Crosby, of Los Angeles, California. Funeral arrangements are not completed, pending the arrival of Capt. Blackadar, who has left Texas by plane. Interment will be in Anglican Cemetery, Sandy Cove.

Mrs. Earl Watson

The citizens of Black's Harbour, N.B., and her many relatives and friends elsewhere regret to hear of the death of Mrs. Madeline Watson, at the age of 35, wife of Earl Watson, which occurred at her home in Black's Harbour, Sunday, May 7, following many months of illness. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Judson Robbins, of Tiverton. She was a member of the Baptist Church. Mrs. Watson was endowed with a lovable disposition and all who knew her loved her. She was also a very devoted wife and mother. Left to mourn, beside her husband are two sons, Harry, R.C. N.V.R., cook, at Deep Brook; Alden, at home; two little daughters, Margaret and Betty Lou; her parents; and three sisters: Mrs. John Watson, of the United States; Mrs. Raymond Murphy, St. Stephen, N. B.; Mrs. Weldon McLean, Centreville, N. B.; one brother, Bernard Robbins, of Tiverton. Funeral took place Tuesday from the Baptist Church and was largely attended. Floral tributes were many and beautiful.

HERE'S THE CIGARETTE - cause of conflagrations!

BECAUSE you can flip your cigarette butt away when in town without any danger, don't get the idea, brother, that you can do likewise when in the woods. There your live butt, thrown among the dry pine needles of the forest floor, may become the spark that sets off a whole train of destruction in the district.

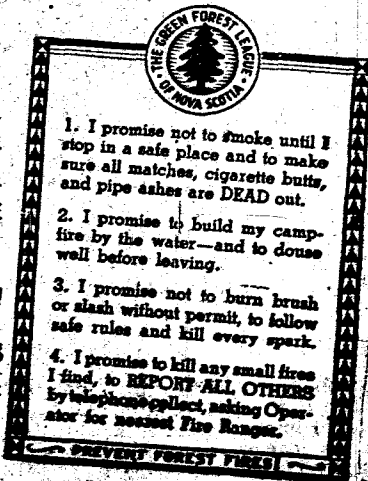

Valuable timber may be destroyed and with it the favorite haunts of game, and fish. Regrowth delayed a generation and the district denuded of its water powers. Workers denied their livelihood and the community deprived of recreation... All this damage and more caused by one careless act on your part!

You simply must be careful in the woods now. And make others careful, too. That's your job—while our former fire fighters are fighting for you overseas. So take the PLEDGE herewith yourself—and show it to at least three of your friends.

THE FUTURE FOR FIGHTERS

Answers to Questions About the Rehabilitation Programme for Service Men and Women

Q.—Under the provisions of vocational training under the Post Discharge Re-Establishment Order, what qualifications must I have in order to take advantage of this phase of the programme?

A.—All that is asked is that the training be of the type which will benefit you in your rehabilitation. Training counsellors may suggest to you certain courses of training from their knowledge of careers which offer the best opportunity, but, in a broad sense, the philosophy is that there is always room at the top for a good man.

Q.—Am I compelled to take any course of training which is offered to me?

A.—No. You need to show only that you will benefit by the training and that it will assist you in your rehabilitation.

Q.—How will I be trained?

A.—It is expected that more than 50 per cent will be trained on the job. If necessary the Department of Pensions and National Health will supplement the income to which your employer feels you are entitled in this training period. In other cases, the facilities at present existing, such as the War Emergency Training Schools, technical schools, etc., will be used, and, in these cases, maintenance will be provided under grants authorized by the Post Discharge Re-Establishment Order.

Q.—What assurance have I that I will get a job after I complete my training?

A.—The policy of training men on the job will take care of natural absorption into industry in a large number of cases. As emphasized before, an effort will be made to direct trainees into those industries which have need of skilled men. The policy is that in every case where a man takes training, an effort is made to have a job for him at the time he completes his training.

Q.—Suppose I am a married man and have to leave my home for training?

A.—You may be given an additional allowance of $5.00 weekly for maintenance.

Q.—If I have to travel daily for my training, is there any allowance for this expense?

A.—Yes. Provision is made for commuting allowances to cover these cases where such expense exceeds regular carfare. The allowance can not exceed $5.00 weekly.

Q.—With whom should I discuss the course I wish to take?

A.—Contact your nearest Veterans' Welfare Officer. He will give you the necessary advice.

Q.—Does the training plan embrace serving women as well as serving men?

A.—Serving women are eligible on the same basis as men.

Q.—If present facilities are not sufficient for training, what will happen?

A.—Special training establishments will be set up as required.

Q.—How do organized labor and the employers of labor feel about the training programme?

A.—In all cases where organized skilled trades are concerned, the co-operation of organized labor and employers is obtained in working out the details. Many firms have already signified their intention of giving preference in employment to ex-service personnel.

Refund Denied—

Back in 1941 Hubert Williamson was fined $8.75 because he called Adolf Hitler a "so and so" in a public place. The other day he asked Judge G. Burleson, of Grand Rapids, Mich., for a refund. Everything Williamson said about Hitler was true, the judge decided, but the law does not allow him to return the $8.75.

Thieves Complain—

After thieves robbed his filling station 14 times H. E. Merriam, of Baltimore, found this note on his door one morning: "You got off easy this time. Next time you had better have something to say."

Seeding Is Well Advanced

Hon. John A. McDonald, Minister of Agriculture, on returning from a trip to the western part of the Province last week reports approximately 75 per cent of the seeding completed. This, he means that the farmers in that section are as far ahead with their seeding as they were three weeks later than this date in the year last. A number of reports received at the Department are to the effect that a considerable amount of seeding has also been done in the central and eastern parts of the Province. Although the exact amount is not known, conditions generally are favorable and seeding is going forward rapidly.

Notwithstanding the favorable seeding conditions, lack of warm weather and precipitation has retarded grass which is at least a week behind the stage it reached this time last year. It would not, however, require much rain or heat to transform this condition.

It is believed that most farmers have from past experience learned the importance of favorable weather at this time in the spring. The experience of many previous years has been that these favorable days are often followed by wet, cold days when little seeding can be done.

Reports made to the Federal Department of Agriculture are to the effect that farmers in Nova Scotia are planning to sow approximately as much grain as last year but to very slightly reduce their potato acreage. The continuation of present favorable weather may, however, change these intentions considerably. Certainly there is need for all the crops that can possibly be grown, although there is a little uncertainty about potatoes for the reason that no one can forecast the yield per acre which if heavy might easily lead to an excess crop.

The planting intentions for all Canada indicate an increase in cereals of between 15 and 20 per cent, wheat being up 22 per cent, offset, however, by an intention to reduce the acreage by 3 per cent. The intention of planting potatoes by all Canada is reported at 100 per cent over last year.

All Beekeepers Must Register

Registration forms are now being sent to each known beekeeper in the Province of Nova Scotia, and each beekeeper is required by law to fill in one of these forms and return it to the Provincial Registrar at Truro. Registrations last year passed the 400 mark.

It behooves the beekeepers to comply with this law for it is only by this means that the Provincial Apiarist can keep in touch with them, know their problems, realize their difficulties and be in a position to advise them. The information contained on these forms is purely for statistical purposes and in no way obligates the beekeeper either financially or materially. It is through the registration of beekeepers that the Provincial Apiarist knows where beekeepers are located, the assets and demerits of the location, the difficulties of the beekeeper in that location, the productivity of the district and hence the problems of the beekeeper in general. When the new beekeeper is required to register, for which he cannot give many excuses regarding the work, the Provincial Apiarist, he establishes himself as a registered beekeeper entitled to advice and assistance from the Provincial Apiarist and if possible a personal call some time during the busy season.

Only the Wartime Price and Trade Board required beekeepers of honey to re-ister with their Local Ration Board. In some cases this registration has become confused with Provincial regulations. Actually there is no connection between these two forms of registration and their purposes are widely separated. Provincial registration is a long standing law, whereas Wartime Prices and Trade Board registration is purely a wartime measure to control the movement of honey.

3 Breed Field Days Planned

Nova Scotia stock breeders have made plans for three field days to be held the latter part of next month, states J. A. Steele, Truro, Senior Fieldman, Federal Department of Agriculture.

The first of these will be the gathering of the Nova Scotia Jersey Club on June 23 at the farm of C. Eric Boulden, Windsor. Last year the Jerseymen had a bumper turnout for their reorganization meeting. This year they are planning on a still larger meet and already have drafted an enticing program.

plans to stage its annual spring show and sale at Middle Stewiacke. Mr. Steele says, "It is expected there will be some fine fat stock to go under the hammer and the exhibit of the Middle Stewiacke Calf Club, which is part of the day's program, promises to be bigger and better than ever."

The third gathering of the stock men will be on June 29 when the Maritime Hereford Breeders and the West Nova Scotia Shorthorn Breeders will stage a joint field day at the farm of A. V. Cook, Waterville, where there are good herds of both breeds. It is expected there will be a large number of exhibits from Kings County, Annapolis and Hants.

Predicts Good Steady Market

An executive meeting of the Canadian Guernsey Breeders' Association was held at Truro Tuesday when distribution of grants to districts was discussed and routine business transacted. William Brooks, Paris, Ontario, president, in conversation following the meeting, expressed the belief that price of Guernseys would keep up for a while though he thought the peak had been reached. He predicted a good steady market for some time. Besides Mr. Brooks those at the meeting were, L. R. Rose, Oakfield, Vice-President; A. F.

Saunders, Petitcodiac, director; V. B. Leonard, Clarence, director; Roy Grant, Moncton, Secretary.

Butter Production and Storage are Down

Creamery butter production in Nova Scotia from January 1 to April 30 was down 324,308 pounds of 17.2 per cent compared with the production in the first four months of last year, according to W.

J. Bird, Nova Scotia Dairy Superintendent. This year, to date, the production to April 30 totalled 1,559,755 lbs., while last year, in the corresponding period it was 1,883,063 pounds.

Canadian cold storage holdings on May 1 totalled 3,400,274 pounds which was a decline of 2,190,919 or about 40 per cent from the total holdings of 5,591,193 reported on May 1, 1943.

In wartime, more people are working and there is more money to spend but half of what is made is for war so consumers can't get all they want and people will bid more for what is available so prices go up ...

and workers need higher wages costs of production go up and producers and dealers need higher prices and the vicious spiral of inflation gets started but wages and salaries don't catch up with living costs the spiral grows — and the sky is the limit money buys less and less hardship and confusion sweep over factory, farm and home

So! To Protect Us All from the Rising Cost of Living and the Disaster of Inflation a ceiling is set on prices wages and salaries are controlled to prevent higher production costs from pushing up the ceiling and excess profits are taxed away and individual incomes are taxed more heavily Victory Loans are launched to pay the costs of war supplies are divided fairly among producers and merchants rationing is introduced to ensure a fair share to everyone at prices within the reach of everybody and nobody is permitted to take advantage of the war to get more than his share while the boys are out there fighting

Mrs. Fred Robicheau has moved into her new home, on the Weymouth Mills Road.

Stoker Neil Bartlett, of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, was a week end visitor at his home here.

Miss Alice Payson, intermediate teacher at Weymouth, is a patient at Digby Hospital.

Mrs. Colonel Sullivan, Havelock is another who had the misfortune to break a leg, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Snow, of Bear River, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Matheson on Sunday.

Donald Crab and family have moved from here to Cornwallis, Ont., the home of Mrs. Crab.

We are sorry to hear of the illness of Miss Mae Parker and hope to hear she will soon be out.

Sgt. Richard Brittain, R.C.A.F., who has been stationed in Egypt, has been transferred to England.

Mrs. C. J. Mulise has returned home, after spending a week with her daughters, Mrs. J. L. Bent, Yarmouth.

The Missionary Meeting of Riverside Baptist Church was held on Tuesday at the home of Mrs. William Lent.

O'Smn D. A. MacAulay, R.C.N., of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, was a recent week end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Matheson.

Rev. Mr. Hogan, pastor at Riverside Baptist Church, held his first services since his recent illness, on Sunday, May 14.

Philip Dugas had the misfortune to sustain a compound fracture of the ankle, while working with logs, last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Gaudett, of Back's Harbour, have been visitors at the home of Mrs. Fowler Weaver, Weymouth North.

Mrs. V. Eriksen and daughter, Dionne, who have been spending the winter months here, have left for Vancouver, via New York.

A ten-cent tea was held at the Red Cross meeting last week, after which many members enjoyed having their tea leaves read by Mrs. Frank Journeay.

Thirty-five quilts were shipped by Weymouth Red Cross to headquarters this week. They were made by Weymouth and the Auxiliaries. Socks and towels were brought in from the Riverdale and Southville Auxiliary.

A South American bird, the hoactzin, has toes on its wings. Before it is able to fly, the young escapes from danger by diving from the nest into the water below. It uses the extra feet in climbing back to the nest when the danger is believed to be past.

Instead of paying as they go, some people won't pay as they owe.

Weymouth Active in Blood Donor Clinic

A lively interest in the Digby Blood Donor Clinic is being shown by the people of Weymouth. A car is provided for the transportation of the donors each week. Fourteen have already donated and many others booked ahead for several weeks.

This is encouraging for those sponsoring the Clinic as many donors are needed, it being possible to handle 30 or more a night. It is felt that many others in the county would donate if a means of transportation could be provided.

The Red Cross is indeed grateful to those providing cars from Weymouth, they are doing a real service in helping to save the lives of the boys "over there."

MARRIAGE

Doucet - Amiraault

At St. Joseph's Church, at Weymouth, on May 3, the marriage of Miss Louise Amiraault, of Weymouth, and Ulysse Doucet, of Belliveau Cove, was solemnized by the parish priest, Rev. Father Frecker. The bride was attired in a floor length gown of white satin, with shoulder length veil, and carried a bouquet of roses. She was attended by the sister of the groom, Miss Alfreda Doucet as bridesmaid, while the best man was Dexter Weaver. Felix Gaudet presided at the organ and rendered appropriate music. Mrs. D. V. Theriault, supported by the choir, sang a solo.

St. Patrick's Academy and Business College

Satisfactory progress is being made on the construction of St. Patrick's Academy and Business College, which is being built on Queen Street adjoining St. Patrick's Convent. The location chosen is an ideal one, and the building when completed will be a decided addition to the town. The structure fifty feet by thirty-seven, two stories and a basement auditorium will provide accommodations for classes from kindergarten to grade twelve inclusive. The entire portion of the building on Queen Street overlooking Annapolis Basin, and will have all modern appointments as well as new equipment of the latest design. The Sisters who will be in charge of this department will be brought here from the other Business Colleges now being operated by the Sisters of Charity elsewhere in Canada. The building will be wood with full provisions made for latest developments in school construction. Comfortable classrooms with modern lighting will be a feature. A library and laboratory will be provided, as well as space for manual training and domestic science. The auditorium will have a stage and facilities for dramatics. Plans for the building were drawn up by Patrick J. Comeau, Digby. It is planned to open the new St. Patrick's Academy and Business College in September. Already many applications have been filed for the Business course. The entire facilities of College and Academy are at the disposal of the public irrespective of religious denominations. A note or letter or phone call to the Bursar will provide full particulars.

27th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Thibodeau, of Church Point, celebrated their 27th wedding anniversary on Monday, May 22. Mrs. Theriault is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Germain Muise, formerly of Yarmouth, but who resided in Church Point in later years. Mr. Thibodeau is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Leon Thibodeau of that place. They have resided there since their marriage. Rev. Louis Ledore performed the wedding ceremony in the Ste. Mary's R. C. Church there. They have four children living, Edith and Mrs. Isaac (Margaret) LeBlanc, in Halifax, Charles and Octave at home. Mr. Thibodeau built many gasoline fishing boats for a number of years and of late has been doing fishing and carpentering.

Acaciaville Home Destroyed by Fire

The two and one half storey house at Acaciaville known as the "Thornton place" was destroyed by fire on Wednesday of last week, the blaze being discovered shortly before midnight. Five persons were left homeless as the result of the fire. The house was occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Francis and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Francis and their child. Apparently the fire started in the attic of the house. Detective wiring is thought to have been the cause. Neither of the families had retired when the fire was first discovered and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Francis succeeded in salvaging much of their furnishings in the downstairs portion. Both families lost furnishings and clothing stored in the upper part of the house.

Staff Sgt. Williams, C.D.C., returned to Halifax on Wednesday after spending a short leave here.

The Victorian Order Of Nurses in Digby

The Victorian Order of Nurses, or as it is more familiarly known, the V.O.N., is in its twenty-fourth year in Digby, and probably never have the services of the Nurse been more greatly needed. In the past year Digby has more than doubled its pre-war population and, as a glance at the Main Street on any fine afternoon, will show most of our population is young, young mothers and young babies.

It is in the care of these young mothers and young babies that our V.O.N.'s special training is best shown. Very often it is the V.O.N., who is the first to be of her condition and from then until the baby arrives the nurse is her constant friend and counselor. She impresses on the young woman the importance of her regular check ups with her doctor she supervises her diet, stresses the importance of a visit to the dentist for a check on her own teeth, the link between the milk she drinks with its calcium content and the baby's teeth, tells her what clothing is necessary for the baby, and is altogether such a friend and counselor that the young mother is serene and unafraid and the resultant baby is the pride of the V.O.N.'s heart.

If the baby is born at home the V.O.N. will be present with the doctor and will thereafter be a constant help till the mother is able to look after baby herself.

If the baby is born in the hospital the V.O.N. is usually contacted to be present when the mother arrives home. Here she will help to make the mother comfortable for she is still probably very weak, and she will make up a daily schedule for the baby. Thereafter as she is needed she will bath the baby and answer all those thousand and one questions of the young mother which only come up as the inexperienced mother begins to look after baby herself.

Our Victorian Order of Nurses have had special courses on Babies Diets and in consultation with the doctor diets suitable to all types and ages of babies are worked out. But the V. O. N., like the doctors, are firm believers in the mother's own milk being the best and most natural milk for babies.

The above will give you a slight insight into but one phase of the V.O.N. work. Subsequent issues of the Courier will tell you of other phases of this great work.

The Digby Branch of the V.O.N. will have their Annual Drive for Funds during the month of June. Canvassers will call on you for a donation. We feel that if you know of the wonderful work of the Order you will want to have a part in its continuation and you can best do this by giving your contribution when called on next month.

Rain Badly Needed

Fields and crops in Digby County are crying for rain, and should the dry spell continue much longer it is feared results will be serious. In many places the soil is dry as powder, but in spite of this, crops already in the soil appear to be prospering fairly well.

The greatest threat appears to be the hay crop. Grass lands, in most sections of the county, although green, are slow in coming along. Rain is needed to hasten growth. Brooks and streams are unusually low for the time of year.

So far this section has been fortunate with regard to forest fires, although serious blazes are reported in several parts of the province. It will be noted a proclamation from the Minister of Lands and Forests is published in this issue of the Courier forbidding travel in all forest lands.

Find Body of Charles VanTassell

The body of Charles VanTassell, 82, was found shortly before noon Monday, lying face downward in a pool of water in back of the old rossing mill, on Victoria Street. The discovery was made by William Vidito, whose home is nearby. The eighty-two-year old gentleman was last seen alive on Saturday evening.

Hundreds took part in the search, organized Sunday when it was first learned he was missing.

Death is thought to have been the result of a heart attack, and it is thought the elderly gentleman, who had apparently wandered some distance from his home, died as he fell. It was decided an inquest was unnecessary.

On Saturday he had complained of not feeling well, and left for his home early in the evening. He had been spending most of the day, as was his custom, with his daughter, Mrs. Paul Yates. About 7:30 in the evening he left the Yates home to attend Salvation Army, returning shortly afterward, saying he did not feel like staying, and started off apparently for his own home.

Mr. VanTassell, a widower, resided with his daughter, Mrs. Enos VanTassell, and Mr. VanTassell, both of whom are in Halifax, where Mr. VanTassell is undergoing an operation. During their absence, a granddaughter, Miss Edith James, has been staying at the house with him.

Miss James returned from her work Saturday night, found the house unlocked, a light burning, and everything in order. She assumed Mr. VanTassell had retired. Before going to bed herself she left a note on the table asking her grandfather not to call her Sunday morning as she wished to sleep in.

She came downstairs about 10:30, found no fire had been lighted in the kitchen stove and that her grandfather had not eaten any breakfast. On going to his room she discovered his bed had not been slept in. His coat, with considerable money in the pockets was hanging in the kitchen.

An alarm was given and searching parties immediately organized, the search under the direction of local and R.C.M.P., continued Sunday and Monday, until the body was discovered by Mr. Vidito in the forenoon.

Mr. VanTassell was well-known about town and appeared to be in a fair state of health for a man of his age, although recently he has complained of not feeling well and during the past year or so is said to have suffered occasional weak spells, probably due to a heart condition. He was a staunch supporter of the local corps of the Salvation Army.

Church Point

Norman Stuart, of Shelburne, spent the week end visiting his mother, Mrs. Bernard Stuart.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Stuart, of Shelburne, spent the week end in the village visiting their respective parents.

Miss Orille Comeau, of Comeauville, visited her sister, Ulysse Thibault, here, last Tuesday.

Phillip Doucet, of Concession, spent Saturday visiting Mr. and Mrs. Loran Belliveau and other friends in the village.

Miss Dean McCain, of Florenceville, a student of Acadia University, is visiting at the Baptist parsonage.

Clare Farmers Re-Organize

The Digby County Farmers' Association held a special meeting at Exhibition Hall, Little Brook, on Friday evening last, to divide the Clare Municipality into districts and appoint key men as was done in Digby Municipality May 11. C. T. FitzRandolph, the secretary and organizer, was present and spoke on the importance of reorganizing at this time and explained many details.

Other speakers were Rev. Fr. Fricker, P.P., of Weymouth; D. C. MacKay, of Acadiaville, and Max Isles, of Bear River.

The Municipality was divided into four districts as follows:

District No. 1 to include the school sections of Ohio, Weaver Settlement, Hassett, Havelock, New Tusket, Easton, Southville, Weymouth Falls, Danvers and Riverdale.

District No. 2—St. Bernard, Belliveau's Cove, Grosses Coques, Church Point, Little Brook, Comeauville, Little Brook Station, St. Joseph's, Concession and Corberrie.

District No. 3—Saulnierville, Lower Saulnierville, Meteghan River, Meteghan Centre, Meteghan, St. Alphonse de Clare, Bear Cove, St. Benoni, Theriault, Meteghan Station, and Saulnierville Station.

District No. 4—Mavillette, Cape St. Mary's, Salmon River, Beaver River, Mayflower, Lake Doucette, Hectanooga, Bear Lake and Cedar Lake.

Key men appointed for District No. 1, Edward Dugas; District No. 2, Anselme LeBlanc, Leander Dugas; District No. 3, Camille Deveau; District No. 4, Joseph R. Deveau, Alphonse Deveau and Frank Burrage.

There was a large gathering of farmers who showed a keen interest in the reorganization of the farmers of Nova Scotia. They realize the difficulties the farmers are working under today and know that the post war or reconstruction period is going to be far worse than now unless the farmers are organized and working on a well-planned program, and learn the principals of co-operation.

TOWN TALK

After all the stories about freak eggs, it is comforting to hear that a hen owned and operated by Bill Eldridge, and whose name is not Biddy, has come out with a perfectly normal egg that will count as one twelfth of a dozen. The egg will be known as a monoyolk.

Boys' and Girls' Summer Camps

Boys' and Girls' Club Camps will be held as usual this year, according to an announcement made by Dr. W. V. Longley, Truro, Director of Extension, Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture. The boys will be in camp at the Nova Scotia College of Agriculture from July 3 to 6, while the girls will have two chances for camp, one at the Kiwanis Club Camp at Yarmouth, July 3 to 6, and the other at the N.S.A.C., July 11 and 12.

The limit for the college camps is 100, and that at Yarmouth 25. The minimum age limit is 14 years with the preference being given to those 15 years old and older. These annual out-door get-togethers are sponsored by the Department of Agriculture, which takes care of expenses at the camp and contributes to transportation charges for those living more than 175 miles from Truro.

Applications for camp attendance may be made by any of the 6,778 club members in the Province. Registration blanks may be obtained from the Director of Extension at Truro, Agricultural Representatives or Girls' Club Supervisors.

Find Robin's Nest Built on Ground

Marion J. White, of Waterford, writes us she found a robin's nest, with four young robins in it built on the ground, in a field some fifty yards from her house. We believe this to be an unusual occurrence, as we have never before heard of robins building their nests on the ground and like our correspondent, would like to know if any of our readers know of other instances of this kind.

Injured in Italy

Mrs. Harold Surrette has been advised her husband, Gnr. Harold Surrette, is in hospital in Italy as the result of severe burns received while on active duty in Italy. Gnr. Surrette, who is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Surrette of this town, was burned from the waist up when a patrol tank exploded, according to information received by Mrs. Surrette from military sources.

Celebrates Her 100th Birthday

Mrs. John B. Belliveau celebrated her 100th birthday on Saturday, May 20th. She is the oldest inhabitant of Church Point and the daughter of the late James Stuart and Margaret Melanson. A quiet celebration took place at the old homestead when several of the family were reunited. Mrs. Belliveau received many gifts, cards, telegrams and floral bouquets from friends in Canada and the United States. Among those present were: Arcade L. Belliveau, of Church Point; Mrs. Edward Theriault, of Belliveau's Cove; Mrs. Gus N. Deveau, Salmon River; Moses, of Milton, Mass., and John, of Halifax. All the above are children of Mrs. Belliveau. Others present were: Gerald Belliveau and wife; Annette, Marie Claire Belliveau, Mrs. (Dr.) Linus Dolron, of Digby; Mrs. Urbain Belliveau, of Belliveau's Cove; Jos. Stuart, of Church Point, grandchildren.

Jailed For Six Months

Six months in jail was imposed on George W. Newcombe, 30, Conway, Digby Co., convicted by Provincial Magistrate H. B. Dickey, Kentville, of stealing three wheels, complete with rubber tires, from a vehicle owned by Frank Wood, R.C.M.P. Corporal Swales reported the prisoner had no criminal record, and Crown Prosecutor W. D. Withrow, K.C., did not press for a penitentiary sentence.

The court, in imposing sentence, said that Newcombe apparently had not had many advantages in his youth and while ordinarily his crime would call for a penitentiary term, leniency was shown because of the circumstances surrounding his earlier life.

No Criminal Cases On Docket

There will be no criminal cases on the Docket for spring session of the Supreme Court which opens at Digby on Tuesday. Mr. Justice Smiley will preside. The two civil cases to come before this session are: Eliza Collins vs. William Henry Langford and John Larche vs. J. H. MacLean.

About This and That

It is a big world and even the large and powerful forces of the Allies have to spread themselves rather thin as the war expands. Nevertheless, help must be got to China. That great friend of the Allied Nations is hard pressed. She is rich in manpower, but poor in war materials. The Japanese have thrust into North Honan province and seized an important railway. The wheat land of that region is in danger. It is said to be the most serious threat since the drive on Hankow four years ago. The invaders already have taken 60,000 square miles of rich farm land, needed by Chinese to prevent starvation. The north and central China fronts are now linked, and the invaders have a supply route to the central Yangtze River Valley. These geographical details mean little to us, but much to hard-pressed China. The latter is in grave peril, and her danger is also the danger of Britain, Russia and America. Obviously help must be sent as quickly as possible, on as large a scale as possible.

Every day something is being done that couldn't be done yesterday.

Churches in many cities, towns, and villages will open with the ringing of bells as the invasion gets definitely underway. Public services will be held and private prayer is urged on all who can spare as much as a few minutes to enter holy buildings and thus get in touch with the sense of Eternal Right, Eternal Goodness, Justice and Truth. It is safe to say there is hardly a Canadian hearing the sound of church or town bells, or word over the radio or in his newspaper that the great movement is on, who will not pause for a moment in what he is doing to ask the blessing of Eternal Strength of our arms. Nor is it necessary to await the ringing of bells. The time for prayer is now. For those who work in the war plants, in homes, in factories or in the market places, the motto of the moment is the old Latin phrase: "Laborare est Orare"—"To Labor is to Pray." Let them ask a blessing on the work of their hands as they forward their share of the tremendous task. And let every Canadian pray that our fighting men may have courage, strength and endurance to persevere unto the end. Let them pray, too, that the end be indeed the end.

A lie often cripples where a cannon would have no effect.

Germans have not always swallowed the poisonous Nazi doctrine of the master race. Witness the 18th century poet, Herder, one of the glories of their country, who said: "The human race is one whole; we work and suffer, sow and harvest, each for all." Herder must have anticipated the Nazis, for he adds: "All who have approved of the assassination of the Jews are today covered with infamy and disgrace, and it is to be hoped that the robbers and killers of people and murders of nations, in spite of all their heroism, will one time be covered with it, too." Germany needs more Herders and no Hitlers.

Just as a gossip speaks ill of all, so do all speak ill of her.

The Tokyo radio told the Japanese people in a broadcast that "our brilliant history is about to be smeared by devils, the United States and Great Britain" and that they "must be prepared to die brilliantly to serve the nation." America and England are trying to destroy the world, Tokyo declared and added: "We are at the crossroads of life and death, where the rise or fall of our nation will be determined."

Protect Forests From Fire

"As flying in this country develops it becomes of the utmost importance that every possible hazard to flight be eliminated. Smoke from forest fires constitutes one of these hazards," declared Ralph P. Bell, Director-General of Aircraft Production in a statement to the Canadian Forestry Association recently.

"Forest fire protection must enlist the whole-hearted support of the Canadian aircraft industry, the air transport organizations, every man and woman who flies, and every intelligent - thinking Canadian who has any pride in Canada or regard for its future.

"In assisting in bringing the forest fire menace under control, the aeroplane is already playing a vitally important role from the standpoint of detection, transportation of men and equipment to remote spots, and subsequent direction of their work.

"Next to her citizens, Canada's greatest asset is her forest resources, and adequate protection of this priceless heritage should not be a matter of argument or debate."

MARRIAGE

Johnson - Truesdell

The home of Mr. and Mrs. John Truesdell, Kempt, was the scene of a pretty wedding Monday evening, May 8, when their second daughter, Minnie Allyne, became the bride of Dr. Karl Payson Johnson, of Digby, son of the late Dr. and Mrs. Johnson, of Hantsport. Rev. C. L. Chute officiated at the ceremony. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white dress with conventional veil, and carried a bouquet of trailing arbutus. Little Geraldine Spurr acted as flower girl. The wedding music was supplied by Mrs. O. S. DeLong. Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held. A large number of friends were present. Following a trip to different parts of the province, Dr. and Mrs. Johnson will reside at Digby.

Savary - Tufts

A quiet wedding took place at Upworth United Church parsonage, New Germany, at 9:30 Sunday morning, when

Rations for Tourists

Americans visiting the Maritimes obtain temporary food ration cards by applying to any local ration board administration of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board pointed out.

Visitors need ration cards only if they are staying in the Dominion five days or more and will be preparing their own meals or having them at private homes. They do not need ration cards if they are staying less than five days, or if they are eating all meals in hotels or restaurants, regardless of the length of stay.

Because clocks are considered ill omens in China, they are never given as wedding presents.

WAR-TIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—I paid delivery dealer $7 for moving a piano two blocks. It took twenty minutes to do the job. Was I overcharged?

A.—Any delivery dealer may not charge any more for any particular type of service he is rendering the public than the cost he was charging for the same type of service in the same period which was from September 11 to October 15, 1941. These rates are of necessity not uniform and a number of factors enter into their composition, such as for example, the type of equipment used and the number of men required in the work.

Q.—I want to buy a new measure spreader. Where do I apply for permission?

A.—Apply to the nearest WPTB office for a form which you must fill out and sign and also have the dealer from whom you intend to make the purchase sign it. This form is to be submitted to a farm machinery rationing representative of the Board.

Q.—My husband is in the service but living at home and therefore has his own ration book. This contains no spare coupons for canning. Where may I obtain them?

A.—Apply to your local Ration Board office.

Q.—I am planning on opening a small grocery store in the near future. How can I get rationed groceries to stock my store?

A.—You should apply to the local representative of the Board. You must have a permit from the Board before opening a new store. If this permit is secured, the Board representative will advise you as to the procedure necessary to secure your stock.

Q.—I have rented the house I now occupy for over three years. I pay the rent monthly in advance but have no lease. When can the landlord give notice, and how much notice must he give?

A.—As you are a monthly tenant you are entitled to six months' notice. This notice cannot terminate between September 30 and the following April 30. The landlord can only give notice to vacate if he wishes to occupy the house himself or if he requires it for his mother, father, son, daughter or daughter-in-law.

Q.—Thanks for sending me that grand little booklet on how to remake clothes. Some of my friends are interested and would like to secure copies. Can they get them now?

A.—There are still copies of the Consumer Branch Re-make Booklet available. Write to the Women's Regional Advisory Committee, 77 Upper Water St., Halifax, for copies. Please send your questions or your request for "Consumer News," to the Consumer Branch, 77 Upper Water St., Halifax.

Please send your questions or your requests for "Re-Make Wrinkles" the handy booklet that tells you how to make use of cast-offs, "Consumers News," or the Blue Book in which to keep track of your saving prices to the Consumer Branch, WPTB, 77 Upper Water St., Halifax.

Mrs. Edward Ryder, of Halifax, Miss Dorothy Saunders, of New Jersey, and Mrs. Jack McCullough, of Toronto, have been called home owing to the serious illness of their younger sister, Mrs. Donald Hickling, who is at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Saunders. Mrs. Hickling, who is only twenty-five years of age, is suffering from a paralytic condition and has been confined to her bed for the past two months. Her husband, Cpl. Hickling, of the R.A.F. Debert, who was to return to England this month, has been granted compassionate leave and is a frequent visitor of his wife and their four months' old baby daughter, Treasure Diane.

1943 Forest Fire Losses Lowest On Record

According to information just released, by the Department of Mines and Resources at Ottawa, the 1943 fire season was the most favorable throughout the whole of Canada since 1918 when definite recording of fire statistics was started. The number of fires, total damage, and costs, were the lowest for any season in that 25-year period, and the fire losses which did occur were uniformly below average in all the provinces.

An analysis of the figures released shows that the proportion of fires attributable to railway causes (15%) was the highest since the period prior to 1930 when railway fires were being brought under rigid control. All provinces, with the exception of New Brunswick, Manitoba and Saskatchewan record a sharp increase in railway fires. This might be attributed to greatly increased railway traffic and the difficulties encountered in the maintenance of fire protection appliances on locomotives. Smokers' fires also show a slight increase in several provinces; other causes show sharp reductions.

This report of reduced fire losses is particularly encouraging, especially in war time when all our resources, both human and material, are being mobilized for victory. In a large measure the reduction was due to the well distributed rainfall throughout the season with only occasional brief periods when fire hazards developed. Given another favorable season it is hoped that there will be a still further reduction in fire damage and fire fighting costs in 1944. Since 82% of all forest fires are of human origin it is a patriotic duty to substantially reduce them this year as a contribution to Canada's war effort.

Apart from the need of forest products for war purposes, the recreational and aesthetic values of the forests are also of national importance. Fires in national, provincial or municipal parks, or in other areas devoted to recreation, can cause within a few hours losses which may not be replaced in a century, and result in the destruction of untold numbers of wild creatures which add interest to these public playgrounds.

Canada's fire prevention and fire-fighting services have been seriously impaired owing to the demands of the war. Between now and the day of final victory it will be necessary to depend very largely upon the older men and women of Canada to fight forest fires. This has been a very dry spring in many parts of the country and the fire hazard index points to danger. The observance of the following simple rules can do much to offset the lack of adequate manpower and fire-fighting equipment.

- 1.—Never drop lighted matches where there is inflammable material of any description.
- 2.—Never throw lighted matches, cigar or cigarette butts, or pipe ashes out of a car window.
- 3.—Never set fires to clear land or brush except where such fires may be kept under complete control.
- 4.—As soon as a dangerous fire is detected begin fighting it. It is comparatively easy to control a small fire but it is a difficult and costly matter to fight a large one.

Thought He'd Help a Bit

When 14-year old Boy Scout Ronald Crone, of Willowdale, Ont., heard that a neighbor whose husband was serving overseas was ill with pneumonia, and her 5-year old son was suffering from a hemorrhage following a tonsilectomy, he decided to do something about it. He moved in with the stricken family, nursed the mother and boy, cooked, kept the fires going, chopped wood and mowed the lawn and generally made himself useful. When asked if he was a friend of the family he replied: "No, I just heard the kid was sick and his mother wasn't feeling very good, so I thought I'd step in and help a bit. They were new people in the district." Ronald has been awarded the Certificate of Merit for an outstanding act of kindness.

Try Your Hand At Cranberry Concoctions

Nothing can take the place of the nippy cranberry when it comes to choosing a condiment for turkey and chicken. And many are the devotees of cranberry pie. But have you ever savoured the tang of fruit cake seasoned with a half cup of preserved cranberries, or tasted them whipped into a lemon gelatine? Now's the time to experiment. Until August 31, cranberry sauce has been removed from the ration list. This action was taken by the Prices Board. It is an off-season for cranberries and there is a good supply on hand.

After the end of August the sauce will be rationed again on the basis of 12 ounces to the coupon.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Elizabeth J. Lewis
The death of Mrs. Elizabeth J. Lewis, wife of the late Daniel A. Lewis, formerly of Freeport, occurred at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Jack McCole, in Vancouver, B.C., on Saturday, May 20th, at the advanced age of 95. Mrs. Lewis was born in Argyle, Yarmouth County, on August 19, 1849, where she lived until her marriage to Mr. Lewis, after which she took up residence in Freeport. Upon the death of her husband she went to Milltown to live with her son, later she moved to Vancouver and took up residence with her sons, Reuben and Roland (now deceased) and her daughter, Eva, with whom she resided until her death. She leaves to mourn her passing, three sons, Gordon A., of Portland, Maine; Delbert R. and Avar W., of Saint John, and one daughter, Eva (Mrs. Jack McCole) of Vancouver; also 16 grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Scott Perry
The village of Tiverton was deeply saddened on Sunday afternoon, May 21, to learn that Dorothy, wife of Scott Perry, had passed away following a brief illness. She had been tenderly cared for at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Elliott, where she had gone on her return from the Digby Hospital. Mrs. Perry was the youngest daughter of the above mentioned and age, thirty-two years. Since her marriage she has lived at her home in Freeport, and leaves to mourn a sorrowing husband and three small children. Besides her parents she also leaves three sisters: Mrs. Delbert (Pearl) Clifford, and Mrs. Stowe (Hazel) Cannon, of Lynn, Mass.; Mrs. Earle (Mildred) Haines, Freeport; one brother, Melvin Elliott, Lynn, Mass. Relatives and friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Herman Elliott on Wednesday afternoon at one o'clock, where a brief service was held, after which the remains were taken to Freeport Baptist Church where further service was held and burial took place. Floral tributes were many and beautiful. She was buried beside her infant which predeceased her some months ago. Mrs. Cannon, nurse, arrived a short time ago to be at the bedside of her late sister. Mrs. Clifford and Melvin arrived Tuesday to attend the funeral.

Many more blood donors needed. Those interested please apply to Mrs. A. J. Dillon or Dr. J. R. McCleave.

Bdsm. Robert Weir, R.C.O.C., returned to Halifax, Friday, stopping en route to visit his father in Kentville. He was accompanied to Kentville by his mother, Mrs. Reginald Weir.

Safeguard the Surface of your home with a coat of Brandram-Henderson English Paint. A coat a year or at the longest, two years will save the Paint now on and give added protection to the wood. It costs less for the surface at short periods of painting, does not require so much time in preparation for painting, and this system of double protection keeps the home bright and clean.

The Week of May 22 to May 27 has been named Mrs. Consumers' Week and undoubtedly thanks are due to all those Ladies who have so ably helped to keep price levels below the inflation during the last great war.

District M. R. E. C. Met at Bear River

The district M.R.E.C. met in the United Church, Bear River, Friday afternoon May 19, with delegates from the various Sunday Schools in the district present.

After the business period, conducted by the president, Mrs. Watson Potter, Clementsvalle, the Baptist representative of the M.R.E.C., Rev. A. Gibson, of Wolfville, gave an interesting and helpful talk.

At the close of the afternoon session, supper was served to twenty-four delegates, teachers and Sunday School workers, and a time of social fellowship enjoyed until the opening of the evening meeting, when the audience listened with interest to a very emphatic and stirring address by Rev. Mr. Gordon, who stressed the duty and necessity of parents and teachers in giving the right training to the youth in their care.

Officers elected for this district are:

President — Mrs. Watson Potter, Clementsvalle.

1st Vice—Mrs. Wheelhouse, Bear River East.

2nd Vice—Mrs. Milton Morgan, Bear River.

Sec'y-Treasurer—Mrs. Geo. Jefferson, Bear River East.

Executive — Mrs. John Wright, Princedale; Mrs. Howard Potter, Clementsvalle; Mrs. M. Jackson, Deep Brook.

Mrs. George Weir and Miss Kay Weir arrived from Toronto last week. Mrs. Weir will spend the summer at her home and Miss Weir returned to Toronto on Friday.

One might wonder if New York's acres of skyscrapers do not overburden Manhattan Island. Actually the buildings weigh less than the dirt excavated for their construction.

Modern New Restaurant

The new Cornwallis Cafe has been completely redecorated with tile floors throughout and walls finished with masonite wainscoting and light green top, and will open on Tuesday next.

The full-length counter surfaced with masonite with black plastic border, seats ten persons, while thirteen booths will accommodate 52 more. Booths and table tops are also of masonite, which presents an immaculate surface easy to clean.

An electric fan will add much to the comfort of those patronizing the dining room during the summer months while a nickelodian is provided for those who like music with their meals. Daylight lighting, an electric clock, ice cream freezer and cooler for drinks and other up-to-date features are included in the modern fixtures.

The kitchen is an entirely new structure and well laid out for quick and efficient service. The reach-in, walk-in "Fridge" is 8 by 8 feet square and provides plenty of room to keep things fresh, while the big range with its double ovens affords a large cooking space.

A door on either side of the room ensures a direct current of air to keep the kitchen cool. Double sinks give plenty of room for speedy dishwashing. Here also is an electric bread and meat slicer, and grill for French fried potatoes.

A rest room is also provided and the whole building presents a clean and efficient appearance. The Cornwallis Cafe is indeed a cafe any town could be proud of.

Port Wade

THE FUTURE FOR FIGHTERS

Answers to Questions About the Rehabilitation Programme for Service Men and Women

Q.—Is there any provision for me to fulfill my ambition to get a university education?

A.—Yes. If you can qualify for university entrance within fifteen months of your discharge, you may receive one month of university education for every month you were in the service. In this way, a man with two years' service, could secure three, eight-month terms of university education, on the scale of grants authorized by the Post Discharge Re-Establishment Order.

Q.—Is this period of time a right?

A.—Not necessarily. As stated before, Canada's rehabilitation programme is designed for those who want to help themselves. Provision is made that no year for which grants have been paid may be repeated on these grants, nor may a university student carry any supplementals into a following year.

Q.—Is there any reward for scholarship and effort?

A.—Yes. The student whose standards of effort and scholarship justify it, on the recommendation of his university, may receive assistance, beyond his period of service, to enable him to complete his course. An outstanding student can go on to post-graduate work.

Q.—Is there any financial assistance in addition to the maintenance grants?

A.—All fees are paid, including athletic fees. The student, however, must buy his own books.

Q.—If I fail in a university year and decide that I want to take vocational training, can I do this?

A.—It can be done if your period of service is sufficiently long. You cannot, however, exhaust the benefits to which your service entitled you in university and then receive these benefits during vocational training. In the same way, out-of-work benefits and temporary incapacitation benefits would result in the time of your entitlement to other benefits being shortened.

(The Veterans' Land Act will be expalined in the next instalment in this series.)

The Food Value Of Whole Milk

Milk is a solution of protein, sugar, salts and vitamins in water, with fat present in small drops as an emulsion. This physical state of milk is important because it helps make milk the most digestible of foods. Nature designed milk as a fluid for very good reasons. The average amount of water in milk is about 87 per cent. To the man on the street that seems a great deal and he might easily jump to the entirely erroneous conclusion milk is an expensive form in which to buy water. He would be astonished to know that common solid foods like asparagus, cauliflower and turnips all contain more water than does milk. Even such a substantial food as round steak contains 68 per cent water.

Milk contains about 13 per cent of solid material and in no other food do we have so many valuable substances grouped together. Milk contains 3.3 to 3.4 per cent proteins, necessary for the growth and repair of body tissues. Casein, the protein present in milk in the largest amount, is the best known. All proteins are not equally useful. Grain and vegetable proteins are inferior to those from meat, milk and eggs, and milk protein is particularly valuable because it makes good the deficiencies of grain proteins. Milk is not an expensive source of protein.

The fat of milk melts at a lower temperature than most animal fats and this is one reason for the ease with which it is digested. Another factor is the occurrence of the fat as an emulsion. Milk fat is more easily digested and more completely absorbed into the body than any other animal fat.

From the viewpoint of nutrition, calcium is the most valuable constituent of milk. This element is needed for the formation and maintenance of bones and teeth. Of all foods in common use milk is the best source of calcium. A man should secure six-tenths of a grain of calcium daily; this amount is contained in a pint of milk. Many foods are poor sources of this element and in an ordinary dietary, three-fourths of the calcium is secured from milk.

While milk contains comparatively little iron, the iron in milk is readily absorbed and is utilized to better advantage than the iron in some other foods.

One gets Vitamin A particularly in milk, also Vitamins B and E—and to a limited extent Vitamins C and D. In the case of irradiated milk, one also gets more Vitamin D than is found in ordinary milk.

Free Enterprise

GAVE HIM HIS CHANCE

FROM office boy to president, from factory hand to general manager... the annals of Canadian industry are filled with such "success" stories. The man at the desk who heads a great organization is often the man, who, twenty years before, worked for that same organization in overalls and shirt sleeves. In such a manner does labour provide the roots of management.

This is free enterprise... the healthy instinct of the Canadian workman to forge ahead through his own hard work, ability and initiative... to get to the top of the business he is in, or create his own business.

This century-old Bank has assisted ambitious Canadians... helped them save... loaned them money... contributing to the growth of a self-reliant people and a prosperous Canada.

Seeding Conditions Very Favorable

Conditions throughout the Province to date have been very favorable for seeding operations. Very little rain has fallen during the last month and ground has worked up exceptionally well. Farmers have taken advantage of this and many, particularly in the western and central parts of the Province, are through seeding. Fifty grain is already starting to show above ground. The potatoes are late, as the seasons up until very recently has been cool with little rain, but the better pastures are starting and some stock is already on spring plowed land. In Annapolis County the pea acreage is very definitely increased and a large acreage is being planted. Many in the North Mountain area in Kings County have been busy planting potatoes. Several cartloads of horses have come into the Valley this spring from the West and have found a ready market. Tractors have been used to a greater extent than ever before, and every endeavor has been made to rush operations.

Springing in the Valley district is general. Prospects are for a fair bloom. The dry weather has held down the grass discharge. Apple trees are reported to be in first class condition with little or no winter damage noticeable. Small fruits, strawberries, raspberries and gooseberries are reported to be in excellent shape.

In the North Shore area, where seeding last year was greatly delayed because of the frequent and heavy rains, much of the crop is already in the ground. There has been delay in this section as well as others because of lack of fertilizer deliveries. An immense amount of the fertilizer in the Province though was delivered early. Lime deliveries have also been held up because of the lack of men. There are over 3,000 tons on order to O. P. Mosher & Sons, Musquodoboit, along with orders to all quarries in the Province possibly double this amount.

Reports as to new seeding vary. The Valley reports that for the most part new seeding looks well. In the central and eastern parts of the Province, there are some good looking fields of clover, while others show winter killing, possibly because of ice covering which was all too common during part of the winter.

It would appear now as if with spring plowing that the grain acreage will be up to last year, although there is a tendency on some farms to cut on grain acreage and put in crops as peas for canning, potatoes and truck crops. The potato acreage will probably be slightly above last year with rather a larger area in truck crops.

Hog shipments have been exceptionally heavy. There is a good demand for early pigs, in fact some are being brought in from Prince Edward Island due to shortage at home. Hatcheries have had an exceptionally heavy demand for chicks and a new record is being established this year. In the Havre Boucher district in Antigonish County, 30,000 chicks are reported as being brought into that district this year.

The labour shortage is very definitely handicapping farming operations. Whenever possible this is being made up by the greater use of tractors and machinery. A limited number of men are obtaining leave from the Army, while all members of farm families are doing their full part in farming operations.

It is estimated that nearly a quarter million pounds of poultry will be handled this year by the recently-formed (Avon, Cornwallis, Antigonish) Cooperative, states G. Samis, Provincial Poultry Promoter.

"If this goal is attained, he adds, it will mark this cooperative as probably the largest operating at a single point anywhere in the Dominion."

The ACA held an organizational meeting recently at the Experimental Station at Kentville and is now doing business with W. R. Pearce, Sheffield Mills Station, as Secretary-Manager. Last season a more loosely knit cooperative, under the management of Mr. Pearce, processed nearly sixty tons of poultry at Greenwich Station. The returns were so satisfactory that the producers decided to form the larger organization now known as the ACA. Much of the poultry in Kings and Annapolis Counties will be marketed through this cooperative. The directors are from East Kings, West Kings, and Annapolis County.

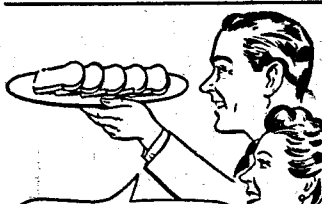

Wool Now Being Received

Wool is now arriving at the Registered Wool Grading Stations at Antigonish and Truro which opened for the season on May 15. John R. McInnis is in charge at Antigonish and P. Y. Christie at Truro, both of whom have given good service in previous years. The first lots of wool have been graded and returns, including the bonus of 4 cents a pound on wool making the top grades, are being sent direct to the producers.

The quality of wool so far received is generally good as is the case, as a rule, with early-sheared wool. Experience of past years shows that wool that is sheared early makes the highest grades and is most satisfactory to all concerned.

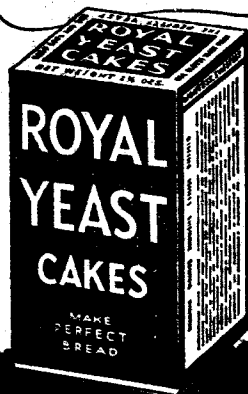

Hatcheries to Close Soon

A number of chick hatcheries are now reducing the number of eggs being set with indications that a few small hatcheries will be closed by the end of May and the majority closed by June 15, states C. M. MacMillan, Poultry Marketing Services. Orders are lower than last year for late-hatched chicks, he reports. Cockerel chicks are moving satisfactorily and prices are being well maintained.

Are Off Ration List

Spring tooth harrows and cream separators are no longer rationed, according to an announcement made recently by W. P. Ellerton, Truro, Farm Equipment Rationing Officer. The announcement followed information received from the Federal Administrator's Department in the form of Board Order No. 394, amending Board Order No. 347. Other items included in the order were diamond drag harrows, flexible drag harrows, power sheep shearing machines and animal clippers, egg cleaners and brushes.

Ditching Program Getting Under Way

The Department of Agriculture's Buckeye ditcher, Model 14, is already to start the season's ditching program with the first work being done at Masstown, Col. Co. No. 14 will be employed in Colchester and Halifax counties and No. 1 machine in the Valley. Angus Banting, Provincial Agricultural Engineer, reports, applications on file for ditching are ample to keep both outfits busy for the entire season and further applications cannot be considered for this year's program.

The two machines are suitable for digging of tile ditches only with the service being made available to farmers of the province on a straight footage basis, the charge varying from two and a half to three cents a running foot. The work done last year totalled 48,604 feet which, owing to the very unfavorable weather was 20,000 feet less than the total of the previous year.

Limits Size Of Incubators

At the Conference of Dominion and Provincial poultry extension officers at Winnipeg, May 1 to 3, at which Nova Scotia was represented by G. K. Samis, Provincial Poultry Promoter, it was announced that the incubator quota for the Dominion for 1944-45 would be 105 per cent of the 1940-41 sales basic period. No incubators of over 33,000 egg capacity can be manufactured under the new ruling.

This arises largely out of the fact that production of poultry products has reached a point where retrenchment may soon be advisable. Hence it is felt that a quota for new incubators, at a figure which would little more than allow for replacement of worn-out equipment, would be logical.

HERE'S THE MATCH - the terror of the trees!

WOULD you toss a live match on that pile of shavings and paper in the cellar and then unconcernedly turn in for the night! Most certainly not! You'd be inviting a terrible fate for your family, yourself and your home.

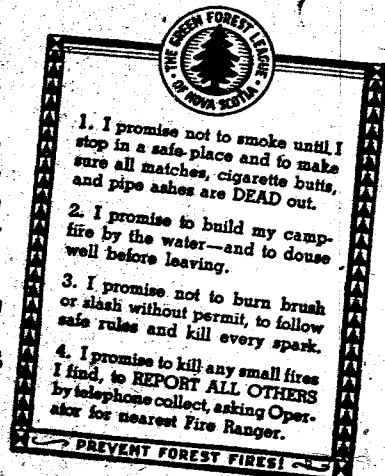

Yet you disregard just as elementary a safety rule when you throw a match on the dry pine needles of a forest floor. Many a beautiful forested slope has been made barren and desolate by just such carelessness on the part of a smoker.

The forests of Nova Scotia furnish an essential raw material for war industries. They shelter game. They provide cool shade and restful quiet as nowhere else. So you've simply got to be careful in the woods now. And make others careful, too. That's your job—while our former fire fighters are fighting for you overseas. Therefore take the PLEDGE herewith yourself—and show it to at least three of your friends.

For 23 years the Watkins Market in Helena, Mont., weathered every situation, both good and bad. But the store has closed its doors for the duration. The entire force of employees has been drafted by Uncle Sam.

Stopping to give a hitchhiking service man a ride, Frank Rake, of West St. Mary, Conn., discovered the soldier was his son, Pte. David F. Rake, en route home on furlough from Camp Meade, Wis.

"I remember the day when folks didn't grow Garden Trucks in these parts" ...said Uncle Jeff

1. "It isn't so long ago that you couldn't grow truck stuff anywhere near the roads in this country. Some chaps tried it but it was so gritty that you couldn't eat it. And as for sellin' it—well, that was hopeless."

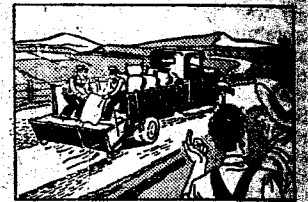

2. "You'd make your plantin' in the spring and things would look fine. It's good land in these parts. But directly the roads dried up the dust just smothered everything."

3. "I reckon those dusty roads cost us farmers plenty of money. There was a good market but we couldn't get in on it—you had to have good stuff even in those days."

4. "But since they made the roads dustless, it's a different story. Truck Crops are a payin' proposition and we get as good prices as anywhere. What's more, working them ain't half as pesky."

5. "And it wasn't a big deal either. The council got together and had Calcium Chloride spread on the roads and we haven't had any trouble since. What it cost was paid for in saving roadwork and gravel."

6. "Jim Stanton, our county engineer, says the Calcium Chloride treatment on his gravel mileage has just put the county over the top. And I agree. We grow better truck crops now the dust's gone and the cost of gravel spreading and road repairs is lower than it's ever been."

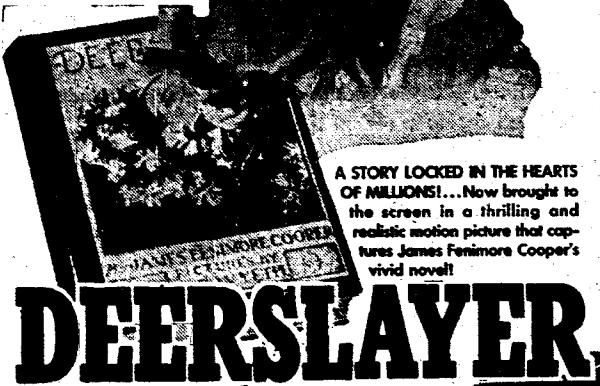

"It costs no more to have a dustless, hard surface road than it does to have a rough, dusty one," he says, "because Brunner Mond Calcium Chloride pays for itself by saving both materials and labour."

Maritimers Are Honored

Personnel who have participated in many outstanding operations against targets in Germany and the Middle East are among 27 members of the R.C.A.F. who have received awards for "exceptional courage and leadership in attacks on enemy objectives," Air Force headquarters announced recently.

Six veteran members of the R.C.A.F., one a citizen of the United States, have been awarded a bar to the Distinguished Flying Cross. The D.F.C. has been awarded 20 Canadians, and one has received the Distinguished Flying Medal.

Awards include: D.F.C.—Sgt. Ldr. C. W. Macdonald, Charlottetown; F.R.C. R. Marvin, Kentville, N.S.

One of the D.F.C. to several officers including the following, was covered by a joint citation saying they have completed in various capacities "many successful operations against the enemy in which they have displayed high skill, fortitude and devotion to duty." Wing Cmdr. C. E. Harris, Annapolis Royal, N.S.

Citation of Marvin: This officer has taken part in many attacks against heavily defended German targets, including Berlin. He has invariably displayed great determination in attacking his targets which has been reflected in the excellent photographs he has obtained. In September, 1943, during a battle against Mont Lucon, his aircraft was attacked by two hostile fighters, but owing to Lt. Marvin's fine airmanship these attacks were repulsed without damage to his plane. Both in the air and on the ground this captain has shown great devotion to duty.

Lt. J. R. Marvin was born at Bear River, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Marvin, and is now moving to Kentville. His mother, Mrs. E. D. Morehouse, is an uncle of J. R. Marvin.

Mrs. Mutch, of Regina, and Mr. Morehouse, of Boston, were called here last week due to the illness of their mother, Mrs. E. D. Morehouse. Very appropriate programs for Mother's Day were presented in both the United Church and Baptist Church.

Church credit is due the Sunday School leaders, the C.G.I.T. and all those who contributed to the program.

A. Morehouse, president of the Eagle Oil Company and Mrs. Morehouse spent a week at their summer home here. His brother, Dr. F. Morehouse and Mrs. Morehouse of Halifax, were visiting at the same time.

Starting Forest Fires Scurvy Trick

"The D-Day of destruction by forest fires is all set to break upon the wooded hills and valleys of the Maritime Provinces, and every citizen without delay must man the defences," warns Robson Black, President of the Canadian Forestry Association, in a message to the newspaper editors of Nova Scotia.

"Maine and Massachusetts have taken alarm from their recent bitter experiences with forest conflagrations," Mr. Black declared. They know quite well that nothing but human recklessness started the trouble, and such recklessness in these times is little short of treason. Many of the fires cancel all hope of jobs and wages for returned men over wide areas. In Nova Scotia's case, her treasures of timber lands have a value at this hour greater than ever before in history, for they will become the chief foundation of new industries, new communities, new pay-lists, to furnish jobs to our men and women now in uniform. Starting a forest fire is surely a scurvy trick to play upon the fighting men in their absence overseas.

"Measure a patch of forest by what it does in the war, and then make a guess at what industrial expansion it will create when peace returns. A cord of pulpwood in smokeless powder form fires 90,000 bullets. It makes 1,500 fibre parachutes for bomber flares, 16,000 hospital waddings, and 6,100 military maps. War has created 4,000 distinct uses of wood. Peacetime industry will leap into new activities with fabrication of wood products. It is this basic raw material that we toss away for a mess of charcoal and ashes every time we let fire loose in the forest."

Town Takes Delivery of Truck

The town of Digby has taken delivery of its new truck, a 2½ ton vehicle with 160 inch wheel base and 3 yard dump body. The purchase of a town truck has been a matter before the town for some time, and ratepayers of the town voted in favor of its purchase at a public meeting a few weeks ago.

It is understood the truck will be equipped with snow plough during the winter months. This should speed up the clearing of the town streets following heavy storms.

Boys Return Home

Among the soldiers from this district to return to Canada last week aboard the Canadian Hospital Ship, "Lady Nelson" are: Pte. B. J. Doucet, Church Point; Gnr. G. E. Robblee, Granville Ferry; Spr. Harold Sulis, Digby; Dvr. F. C. Wright, Clementsvale.

TOWN TALK

Cropping is causing a lot of inconvenience to employers around here. A lot of percent farmers want that week off to plant and they'll stop at nothing short of a cyclone to get it. Last Monday morning one man telephoned to his boss, "I got a horrible cold with accompaniments but I think I'll be back to work Friday if the manure holds out."

Another man who took a week off to seed would have been in the right except that two of his sons at various jobs asked off because Dad couldn't get clear.

A report comes from Digby Neck that scarecrows are going to get organized. No doubt the long hours is what they don't like—and maybe it's the new style hats.

Talk on "Lunch Box" At Acaciaville Hall

An interesting meeting was held in Acaciaville Hall, Friday night, when Miss E. Dysart, V.O.N., and Miss Ruth Campbell, Household Science teacher at Digby Academy, gave a demonstration and talk on "The Lunch Box."

Pointing out the necessity of packing a well balanced meal in the child's lunch box in order to maintain good health the following suggestions were made. The box should be of metal or tin which could be scalded daily to keep it fresh, failing this, a basket lined with wax paper or a cardboard box covered with oilcloth to make surface moisture proof, and lined with wax paper would do.

Foods for the box should supply a third of the day's food requirements, include milk in drink or food form, whole wheat bread or flour products, meat, cheese, fish or eggs and at least one vegetable and one fruit. The box should be attractively packed, be easy to handle and provide variety.

Suggestions on the care of the box and the proper method of packing the foods were given. Pamphlets "The Lunch Box in the March" were distributed.

Pte. William Roop, of Alder-shot, spent the week end with his mother, Mrs. Alberta Roop. Lt. and Mrs. Bythell are again occupying Mr. Farwell's cottage for the summer months.

Mrs. Gertrude Petrie, who has been spending a few days in the village has returned to Boston.

Dr. and Mrs. John Johnson are occupying Mrs. Macpherson's bungalow for the summer months. Dr. Johnson is stationed at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis.

Mrs. B. Moore and Miss Adra Farwell, of Moncton, were recent visitors of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Farwell, after attending the graduating exercises at Acadia, where Mrs. Moore's daughter, Mary, was a successful graduate.

Edward "Teddy" Walker, of Digby, was winner of the Ralph B. Mounce Medal for Proficiency in Engineering at the closing exercises at Acadia University, Wolfville, last week. Blair MacNeill, of Freeport, won the first of the two continuation scholarships.

Presentation Made

On Friday evening, May 19, an informal dedication and presentation of the "Fundy Light" was made in the Grade IX classroom of Digby Academy. The evening opened with a vocal solo, beautifully rendered by Lillian Theriault, with Eileen Marshall, accompanist. Eileen Marshall also offered a piano solo.

Hazel Franklin, editor, dedicated the "Fundy Light" to A. J. Dillon, in recognition of his splendid work of the school board for fifteen years. A complimentary copy was also presented to Mr. Dillon. In his acceptance Mr. Dillon thanked the staff for their kindness. He said he appreciated the book, but even more, the thought behind it. He recalled several pleasant instances which occurred while he was chairman. He complimented the present school board on the splendid work it is doing. In his reply H. M. Warne gave a brief summary of the work the school board has done up to the present time.

During the latter part of the evening, Mrs. C. E. Eaton and Mrs. H. M. Warne served refreshments. Hazel Franklin thanked the leaders for their kindness. The evening ended with the singing of the National Anthem.

The "Fundy Light" may be purchased at May's.

Teachers' Salaries Increased

Salary increases ranging from $50 to $300 a year for the individual teacher, according to qualification and experience, and totalling approximately $610,000 for the coming year, will be given to Nova Scotia teachers, it was announced recently by Dr. H. F. Munro, Superintendent of Education. This action by the government followed demands by the Nova Scotia Teachers' Union that flat increase of $300 a year be given to all teachers without regard to qualification or experience. John Marsters, president of the Teachers' Union declined to make any statement on the increases, pending a meeting of the union executive which he said would be held Saturday to discuss the matter.

The scale of increases approved by the Council of Public Instruction and announced by Dr. Munro is as follows:

1. Qualified Teachers.
 - (a) Over 20 years experience, $300.
 - (b) From 11 to 20 years' experience, $250.
 - (c) From 6 to 10 year's experience, $200.
 - (d) From 1 to 5 years' experience, $150.
 - (e) Teachers in their first year, $100.

Salary increases will be paid through local and municipal school boards, said Dr. Munro, and the increased salaries will thus become the contract salaries for the coming year. Boards will be notified in the near future of administrative arrangements necessary to put into effect the increased salaries.

The original demand for increases in teachers' salaries came from the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Teachers' Union, at which resolution asking for a flat increase of $300 a year for all teachers was passed. A committee of teachers conferred with Premier MacMillan and the Council of Public Instruction, and presented the teachers' case.

About This and That

Who isn't getting tired of all the speculation? Chatter on street corners about whether there actually will be an invasion. Whether the Russians will get to Berlin before we do. What will happen if they do. How terrible the invasion will be. How easy it will be to crack German defenses if we ever do get in. Whether we will ever take Rome. What happens if we do or if we don't. Coupon value of coffee and tea was increased for politics and nothing else. They didn't. The farmers and fishermen are sitting pretty. They are not! And so on, ad nauseam.

Suppose, for a change, we just keep still and let our generals do the worrying? They've done pretty well so far. Suppose we tried to help the W.T.P. & T.B. and other agencies do their impossible tasks instead of trying to cheat and complain? Could you, put in charge, do any better with this war? Maybe you could. Try calmly putting it on paper in a clear plan instead of making a noise on the corner. Suppose we all just did our jobs a little better, more quietly, more efficiently?

After all, this country wasn't built by emotional chatterers. The wilderness was conquered by men who knew how to say nothing and to saw wood.

Happiness depends largely upon whether you choose to remember the pleasant or the unpleasant experiences of life.

Defence Minister Ralston reports that 213 officers of the Canadian Army overseas had been returned to Canada with a recommendation that they be discharged. The recommendations had been acted upon in 71 cases. Of the total recommended for discharge, 12 were lieutenant-colonels, 31 majors, 64 captains and 106 lieutenants. Recommendations were made in the case of 18 on grounds of intemperance, 16 for inefficiency, 48 as unsuitable, 47 for lack of leadership, 47 as unreliable, 17 for lacking initiative and 20 as unadaptable.

Some old-fashioned folks remember the time when the telephone was used as a convenience.

Stephen Leacock, Irvin Cobb, George Ade, Harold Bell Wright and others who helped keep some of the joy in life, have passed away within the past few months. Men like these, whose gifted pens helped preserve balance and sanity and lighten the burden of living during times like the present, can ill be spared.

The world is full of people worrying about what posterity will have to worry about.

In London a century ago this month, the Y.M.C.A. was born. A young clerk, George Williams, with eleven friends, planned an association where they might profitably spend their spare time. Today, it is established in 73 Canadian centres, and its members total more than 53,000.

While there's life there is hope—for everybody but the poor undertaker.

VITAMIC RUBBER

PRESTONE'S GREATEST CONTRIBUTION TO LONG TIRE LIFE AND MILEAGE

Firestone, pioneers of the balloon and high-speed tires, now make another contribution to advanced motoring... VITAMIC RUBBER... for longer tire life and mileage.

It is a well-known fact that adding small amounts of metals, such as chromium and tungsten, to steel greatly increases the strength and durability of the alloy produced.

In a similar manner, it has been found by Firestone research that the intimate mixing with rubber of small amounts of a new scientific discovery, "Vitalin" imparts long-sought properties to the rubber. As in the alloy steel, the new rubber compound... VITAMIC RUBBER... is greatly improved in strength, wear-ability, and resistance to heat and aging.

All Firestone tires are now made with Vitamic Rubber. This added extra value, together with Gum-Dipping and Safety Locked Cords, is all the more reason why you should insist on Firestone tires when you obtain a Tire Retention Permit.

VITAMIC RUBBER is produced by adding Vitalin when the rubber is compounded. It gives extra protection against weather checking and wear, thus keeping the rubber tough and lively.

WAR-TIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I have read in the paper lately that we will be able to obtain twenty-three pounds of tinned sugar this year. I have looked through the ration book and cannot see out what coupons will be used or how you arrive at this amount. Will you please explain this.

A—Two "D" coupons fall every four weeks and as there are 52 weeks in the year this means there will be 26 coupons for the whole year. Each coupon is worth half a pound of sugar so you can get 13 pounds with these coupons if you have not used any of them to buy preserves, etc., and intend to continue saving them for the purchase of sugar. This amount plus the 10 pounds you will be able to get with the special "F" canning sugar coupons accounts for the 23 pounds.

Q—I have been boarding a school teacher since Jan. 1 and she will be here till the end of June. Am I entitled to her "P" canning sugar coupons which are valid on May 25? She has been eating my last year's preserves all through the winter. I want to know what is right.

A—There is no board ruling regarding this situation. You should bring it to the attention of the teacher. I am sure she will be only too glad to let you share some of her canning sugar to cover her share of your preserves.

Q—I wanted to buy some cream yesterday, but the shopkeeper refused to sell me any. He said he had some but was keeping it for sodas.

A—Under British Common law a storekeeper can not be compelled to sell any part of his stock. I imagine your retailer had only a limited amount of ice cream and preferred to "stretch it out" in sales.

Q—When a person lives in a boarding house has the proprietor any right to ask payment for meals when the boarder is away for a week or more? He will allow two weeks free from board money in the holiday period but not at any other time. Is he right?

A—This does not come within the jurisdiction of the board, therefore we cannot answer it. This is usually governed by provincial law.

Q—In a heated duplex does the landlord have to furnish heat during the month of May if the weather is cold?

A—This is a question of your lease reads or what arrangements you may have made with the landlord.

Q—The other day I bought a pound of tea and offered the tea coupons in my ration book no. 3. He refused to take them saying that the coupons in the old book were no longer good. Was he right?

A—No, he was not right. As the tea-coffee coupons in the no. 3 book are still good and will remain so until an expiry date is announced for them.

Favorite hymns of the deceased, "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" were rendered by Mr. and Mrs. Guy Morehouse and Hedley Dakin, of Digby. Mrs. MacDonald, a native of Plympton, and of Loyalist descent, was the daughter of the late William and Victoria Tucker. Her death occurred at St. George, N. B., where she has resided for the last twenty-six years. Her husband predeceased her seventeen years ago. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. George Hennessey (Audrey) with whom she made her home and one son, Cpl. Warren MacDonald, now with the Canadian Army overseas. Interment was in the Baptist Cemetery at Barton.

NOTICE

By order of the Dairy Arbitration Commission.

Effective June 1st, a compulsory 5c. bottle charge will be made for all bottles not returned each day.

Household customers should put a note in bottle saying they require more tickets, a day or so before the last lot is used up. Money may be used in place of tickets at any time, especially if one does not wish to buy tickets for occasional lots of cream. A note should accompany money in bottle for cream. If the delivery man does not find either money or tickets out no milk will be left.

Tickets should always be put in dry bottles so deliveryman can get them out easily. After washing bottles set them on the warming oven to dry.

In stormy weather put a used stopper on bottles to keep out rain and snow.

5c. BOTTLE CHARGE

If a customer has 2 tickets out for deliveryman and only one bottle it will be necessary to put out 5c. for the extra bottle.

Also if a customer puts out one ticket and 2 bottles the deliveryman leaves the customer 5c. for the extra bottle.

The same system applies to milk sold wholesale to stores. The deliveryman pays 5c. for each bottle over and collects 5c. for each bottle under what he leaves.

MARRIAGE

Whitman - Bell
In a ceremony performed recently, in the presence of more than 200 friends in the Methodist Church, of Whitman, Mass., Miss Gerry-lyn Bell, daughter of Charles Bell, of Whitman, became the bride of Harold A. Whitman,
E.M. 1/C, U.S. Coast Guard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley
Whitman, East Braintree, Mass. (Mrs. Stanley Whitman is the daughter of the late Capt. and Mrs. George E.
Purdy, Bear River.) Spring flowers, an illuminated cross and the glow of candles made an effective setting for the ceremony performed by Rev.
J. Arthur West, of Attleboro,
Mass., assisted by Rev. John W. Cook. Mrs. Stanley Peterson played the organ and Miss Anna Silva sang "I Love
You Truly" and "Because."
The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white lace with satin inserts, princess style with long sleeves, her fingertip-length veil of tulle was caught to a seed pearl coronet, she carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and snapdragons. Her only attendant was Miss Janice Monroe, of Whitman, as maid of honor, while J. V. Howell, RT 1/C U.S.
Coast Guard, supported the groom as best man. Following the ceremony a reception was held in the vestry, which was decorated with spring flowers. Many out-of-town guests were present. Later in the evening the happy couple left on a wedding trip, the bride wearing a green suit and hat with brown accessories and a corsage. On their return they will reside in East Braintree. Mrs. Whitman graduated from Whitman
High School and Quincy City Hospital. The groom was educated in Braintree and recently returned from 13 months seaduty.

Baptist Roll Call Service Held

The annual Roll Call Service of the Bear River Baptist Church was held Sunday evening in the auditorium of the church with a capacity attendance. The congregations of the other local churches also attended and were welcomed by the pastor, Rev. G.
D. Brydon.

Apple blossoms and spring cut flowers decorated the altar.

Rev. Mr. Dotson of the Advent Christian Church led in prayer and the guest speaker of the evening was Rev. H. D.
Hopper, of the Lower Granville Baptist Church. Mr.
Hopper spoke from the 3rd chapter of St. John and gave a soul stirring message, stressing the truths, "No man can do these miracles, except God be with him." "Except, a man be born again, he cannot see the Kingdom of God," and said that the teachings of the Bible were the only sure foundations on which to build the post-war world.

A musical number was rendered by the choir, "My Home Sweet Home"—Vandall, Miss Edith Harris taking the chorus obligato. Two quartettes
"Far Away" and "We'll Never Say Goodbye in Heaven," were exceptionally well rendered by A. B. Locke, and E.
Rose, of Yarmouth, Rev. Kenneth Dotson and Rev. G. D.
Brydon, which added much to the service.

Letters of cheer and thank offerings were received from non-resident members and with the thank offering from resident members and friends a substantial total of $460 was received.

Extensive repair has been made to the vestry, a new furnace and recently the church has been re-decorated and re-wired throughout and all financial obligations have been met. The Roll Call Services recalled all the blessings of the past year both spiritually and financially.

HERE'S THE CAMPFIRE — but where's the camper?

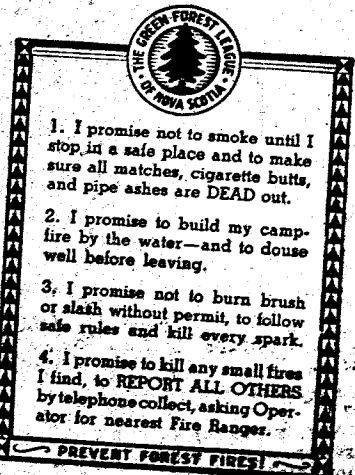

NOTHING betrays the "tenderfoot" sooner than his campfire. The woodsman never builds a fire near living trees, dead logs, or underbrush. He plays safe by building ONLY beside the water as below. For you can't be too careful with your campfires. When located dangerously or left unattended they have turned many a mile of beautiful forest into desolate waste. Follow these simple rules of the good woodsman and play safe:

- (1) You need water, so select a location for your camp fire near a stream or lake—preferably on the stream bed or lake shore. There it will be away from inflammable material and, besides, it will be easy to extinguish.
- (2) Before breaking camp, clean up and burn up or bury all refuse that has accumulated. This is the golden rule of all good woodsmen—and good sportsmen, too!
- (3) Never leave camp, even for a short time, without first putting the camp fire DEAD out, with a liberal supply of water, stirring the embers to make sure there are no sparks. And persuade others to do likewise by taking the PLEDGE herewith and showing it to at least three of your friends.

Play Safe! Be Careful! Prevent Forest Fires!

DEPARTMENT OF LANDS AND FORESTS

J. H. MacQuarrie, Attorney General
Minister, Lands and Forests

1. I promise not to smoke until I stop in a safe place and to make sure all matches, cigarette butts, and pipe ashes are DEAD out.
2. I promise to build my campfire by the water—and to douse well before leaving.
3. I promise not to burn brush or slash without permit, to follow safe rules and kill every spark.
4. I promise to kill any small fires
I find, to REPORT ALL OTHERS by telephone collect, asking Operator for nearest Fire Ranger.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

THE FUTURE FOR FIGHTERS

Answers to Questions About the Rehabilitation Programme for Service Men and Women

Q. — Has the Government any plan for settling ex-service personnel on the land after this war?

A. — Yes. The Veterans' Land Act provides for three types of establishments namely:

1. Full-time farming for veterans who have practical farming experience.
2. Small holdings within reach of place of work, but outside high taxation areas, for veterans engaged in industrial or other employment.
3. Small holdings located near fishing areas for experienced commercial fishermen.

Q. — Who are eligible for this assistance?

A. — Generally, those who were ordinarily resident in Canada at the time of enlistment and who have been on active service. If service has been in Canada only, a minimum of twelve months service is required. Anybody who has served overseas is eligible as well as any ex-serviceman in receipt of a disability pension who has been honorably discharged, or permitted honorably to resign.

Q. — What are two of the important principles of the Act?

A. — That the veteran must be suited to the type of settlement undertaking he engages in and that he should not be burdened with an overwhelming debt. The State gives him a substantial grant or gift, conditional only on fulfillment of his contract for ten years after he takes over.

Q. — What financial assistance is available for full-time farming?

A. — The State will finance the purchase of full-time farming land and buildings up to $4800 and livestock and farm equipment up to $1200. The veteran is required to repay ten per cent of the cost of the land and buildings in cash at the time of taking over, plus two-thirds of the cost of the land and buildings, over a period up to 25 years, with interest at 3½ per cent per annum. In cases in which the maximum assistance of $6000 is given ($4800 - $1200) veteran is required to repay $480 in cash and $3200 on a long-term basis in equal annual instalments, including interest. His conditional grant by the state, therefore, is $2,320 ($6000 less $3680—$2320) which represents the full cost to the State of the livestock and equipment purchased for him, plus $1120 of the cost of the land and buildings.

Q. — What if the land and buildings of the farm which I select cost more than $4800, and the cost of livestock and equipment is above the $1200 set out in the Act?

A. — You must pay any excess above these two figures in cash along with the $480 down payment at the time you make application for assistance.

Q. — Is any Veteran eligible to go on a farm?

A. — No. To engage in full-time farming a veteran must have had practical farming experience.

Q. — What financial assistance is available for establishments on small holdings?

A. — Exactly the same as for full-time farming, except that in the case of small holdings for urban workers, it is estimated that the farming equipment required to operate the holding will be much less than for full-time farming and will not ordinarily exceed $500 to $600. In the case of commercial fishermen, commercial fishing equipment up to $1200 may be supplied in place of farm equipment and livestock.

Q. — Can two commercial fishermen go together as partners and obtain up to $2400 for commercial fishing equipment?

A. — Yes, provided both are ex-servicemen and qualify for commercial fishing.

Q. — Must I take advantage of the Veterans' Land Act within a specified period after discharge?

A. — No. It is the intention to carry on establishment over a number of years so that those who wish to take advantage of the Act will have ample opportunity to do so.

Q. — Should I try to save money in addition to that which is required to meet the down payment on land and buildings?

A. — Yes, by all means, especially if you intend to engage in full-time farming. Funds will be required for seed and feed and other items that must be met, especially during the first year of establishment.

Q. — Can I sell my farm or small holding and benefit by the Government grant if I decide to change my plans?

A. — No. The Act forbids the sale or other disposition of the property by the veteran until he has carried out the terms of his contract for ten years, or has paid off the full cost to the Government of the land, improvements and chattels purchased for him.

Q. — If I should die what happens to my interest in the property?

A. — It passes to your heirs.

Q. — If I already own a farm can I obtain advances to pay off a mortgage, make improvements, or to purchase livestock and farm equipment?

A. — Yes. Up to $3200 may be advanced for these purposes, provided the total does not exceed 60 per cent of the value of the land and buildings as established by the Director of the Veterans' Land Act. Advances for the purchase of livestock and farm equipment on mortgage security may not exceed $2500 or 50 per cent of the value of the land and buildings.

Q. — Where do I make application?

A. — Regional Offices have been set up in every province and applications should be made to your nearest Regional Office.

Q. — Do I have to take land which the Government selects for me?

A. — No. You are at perfect liberty to select your own land. The only condition is that you must be able to satisfy the Director of the Veterans' Land Act that it offers a reasonable opportunity for your successful establishment. Properties are now being purchased and held from which a selection may be made, if desired, when demobilization takes place, but no veteran will be limited to selection from farms already on hand.

Q. — Can I make application while still serving?

A. — No. You must be discharged from service before an application can be considered.

(The next instalment deals with treatment regulations.)

WHAT IS WANTED
You can remedy this critical paper shortage by saving every scrap of Waste Paper, namely: wrapping paper—store bags—cardboard—cartons—corrugated board—old magazines and books—envelopes and letters—newspapers. These represent the raw material for making vitally needed Paper containers.

HOW TO DO IT
Tie securely in separate bundles. (The little time you take will save thousands of man hours.) Then dispose of it through your local voluntary Salvage Committee or other War Voluntary Organization, or sell it through any known trade channels, your pedlar, dealers or others. The important thing is your Waste Paper moving to the mills.

Each Spring Plowing Done This Year

Due to the fine weather of the past month and in spite of the acute shortage of labor, plowing throughout the province is well advanced and there has been a large amount of spring plowing, larger than any year since the war started. Plowed acreage this year would compare favorably with that of 1943.

Farm-Labor Pool Is Urged

Prompt action is needed in order to have men available for haying and pea harvesting not later than early July, stated William Milligan, Director of Farm Labor, in discussing the labor situation at a recent meeting of the Advisory Committee on Agriculture. The labor situation, he stated, is undoubtedly tougher today than at any time since the war started. The seriousness of the situation, it is expected, will increase as the season advances with the peak of the year being reached this fall. Following a survey of the situation the committee passed a resolution urging "The Dominion Department of Labor to establish a labor pool of men with agricultural experience who have been rejected from Military Service." Mr. Milligan stated that a number of men from the army who are now on seedling leave are giving good satisfaction. Cooperation extended by the Department of National Defence, in making men available for work, and by the Department of Naval Affairs and National Defence, in supplying men for harvesting last year, was warmly commended.

NSAIC Graduate Leads O.A.C. Class

It has been announced that Bruce MacKenzie, Middleton, N.S., has led his class in the third year at the Ontario Agricultural College, Guelph. Mr. MacKenzie is known up the good work he did at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College from which he graduated a year ago, and in so doing was awarded the Governor General's Medal.

Butter Production More Favorable

Butter production in Nova Scotia was more favorable for the week ended May 13, than it has been at any time during the past few months. The total for the week, according to the Dairy Superintendent, was 67,752 pounds, which was a decrease of 1.7 per cent from the total of 70,355 pounds produced in the corresponding week of last year. For the past few months the decrease, as reported each week, has been much higher in comparison with the corresponding week of 1943.

11 Exhibitions This Fall

Farmers, stock men, homemakers and others will have ample opportunity to show their wares this fall at district fairs. According to word received from A. B. Banks, Superintendent of Exhibitions, Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, eleven exhibitions are in prospect for September, and early October. Definite dates have been announced for seven of these, including: Cumberland County, Sept. 13, 14, 15; Halifax County, Sept. 14, 15; Yarmouth County, Sept. 12, 13, 14; Pictou County, Sept. 19, 20, 21, 22; Annapolis County, Sept. 19, 20, 21, 22; Digby County, Sept. 20, 21; Queens County, Sept. 20, 21. The Cape Breton County Fair, at North Sydney, and the Central Nova Scotia Exhibition at Truro, are scheduled for the first week in September, while Hants County Exhibition at Windsor, will probably be held the fourth week of September, although definite dates have not been announced, and the Lunenburg County Exhibition it is expected will be held as usual the first week in October.

Hog Shipments Are High

Nova Scotia's live hog marketings for the month of April totalled 3,415 hogs compared with 632 in April 1943. Shipments are being made from a wide variety of districts over the province, including some places such as Antigonish, Barrs Corner, and Yarmouth, which this year shipped for the first time in April. Other areas from which good sized shipments have been made include Amherst, Brooklyn, Eastern Kings, Western Kings, Lorneville, Malagash, Middleton, Oxford, Pugwash, River Hebert, River John, Scotsburn, Tatamagouche, Truro, Windsor.

Of the total shipment almost eighty-five per cent made A or B grade with the A's topping thirty per cent. The total of A's is down somewhat from a year ago due to the fact that there are a lot of new shippers who have not had experience in the marketing of live hogs, have not been watching the weights closely and have not had the experience of the older shippers as regards proper feeding and finishing.

Early Hatchery Closing Favored

Production of eggs and poultry has increased rapidly during the war years, and from the latest figures on chick hatches, it would appear that there will be still further increase in poultry production. In order to keep the poultry business in general on a profitable basis many leading poultrymen feel that it would be the part of wisdom for hatcherymen to close down earlier than usual this year. As a matter of fact, some provinces are now considering making early closing compulsory.

With the exception of a limited business in late chicks expressly for the broiler trade there is, as a rule, little justification for hatching chicks later than about June 30. Late chicks seldom prove as profitable to their buyers as those purchased prior to this date. Most hatcherymen in Nova Scotia are aware of this situation and are anxious to close early if it will benefit the industry as a whole. In light of these things it is suggested that those who may still want chicks should place their order before the hatcheries shut down for the season. There are still some chicks available for June delivery.

I had a nightmare...

I dreamed that because everyone was making more money and spending it, prices were skyrocketing.

all the stores looked like "fire" sales... with people scrambling to buy before prices went still higher...

panicky people were buying things they didn't need, and hoarding everything they could get their hands on...

I dreamed that everybody had to fight to get more money... and that in this mad race, wages and salaries were falling behind.

I dreamed the hand of everyone was against his neighbour, with each of us blaming the other fellow for his troubles.

with everybody for himself... no matter what it cost in the long run... and no matter how it hurt the war effort.

THEN... THANK GOODNESS - I WOKE UP!

to realize with relief that I live in a country where things are sane and stable... where the cost of living has been kept within bounds.

to realize that prices and wages—production costs and selling prices—are inseparably linked together.

to remind myself that the danger is still pressing and that we must continue to hold firm... and that means everybody must play fair and do his part by not trying to get some temporary, fenced advantage at the expense of his fellow-Canadians.

This advertisement is one of a series being issued by the Government of Canada to emphasize the importance of preventing further increases in the cost of living now and deflation later.

Call for Volunteers To Help Red Cross

Volunteers are being called for by the Digby Red Cross to help fill an emergency order just received. The order consists of sterilizer bags, squares, and other hospital supplies for the new naval hospital at Cornwallis.

Provincial Red Cross Headquarters, having shipped all their hospital supplies to England, are unable to fill the order and have called upon the Digby branch to make up the necessary supplies.

The first shipment of material arrived and was cut yesterday; samples are being made up to help volunteers. The sewing is simple, consisting mainly of straight seams. Workers are asked to attend the Court House, Wednesday afternoon, those who have machines are asked to take some of the work home, as there are only two machines at the Court House.

This order has to be filled as quickly as possible. Those unable to attend the Red Cross meeting Wednesday at the Court House, might get in touch with Mrs. Hubert Warne, phone 48.

Roll Call Service At Port Wade

The annual Roll Call Service of the Lower Granville Baptist Churches, was held in the Baptist Church at Port Wade, Sunday evening, and largely attended. The meeting opened with a song service by the pastor, Rev. H. D. Roper, the congregation singing heartily in singing the good old hymns, such as "The Light," "Victory Through the Night," etc. Two anthems were rendered by the Port Wade and Victoria Beach choruses: "The Savior Precious" and "Our Savior's Mighty Love." The memorial hymn, "Somewhere, Somewhere," was sung by the Granville Beach choir. The soloist of the evening was Mrs. Chester Jones, who sang "When the World Forgets." The guest speaker of the evening was Mr. G. D. Brydon, of Bear River, who gave a very inspiring message. Mr. Brydon, who was the guest speaker at the Roll Call Service a year ago, was heartily welcomed by pastor and congregation. After the Roll Call a number of letters were read from non-resident members and contributions enclosed. Several contributions were received in memory of loved ones. Two beautiful wreaths were placed on the altar, one in memory of Mrs. Rita Rice, of Lower Granville, and the other in memory of Clayton Jones, from his mother, Mrs. May McCaul, of Victoria Beach. The Roll Call Service came to a close by singing "Lord Dismiss Us With Blessing," followed by the National Anthem.

Farmers Hear Good Address

One of the largest and most interesting meetings of the Maple Leaf Agricultural Society was held in the Acacia Hall, Monday evening. Visiting members were there from the Bear River, North Range and Doucetteville Agricultural Societies. After a short business session Dr. E. Hancock, Animal Pathologist of the Nova Scotia Agricultural College, gave an address on "Diseases and Breeding of Cattle." After his address he answered a multitude of questions. Those present gathered a lot of information that will be of great value to them in their future livestock work. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Dr. Hancock for his address and valuable information received.

The July meeting of the Society will be held in the Acacia Hall, date to be announced later. It is hoped to have at this meeting Dr. W. W. Longley, director of the Extension Service for the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture.

Snow Squalls On June 3

Flurries of snow were reported at Lansdowne on Saturday following the first heavy rain to visit the Digby area in weeks. Saturday's rain, although only of a brief duration, came as a downpour, and as the first break in the driest spring in many years, was a welcome sight to the farmers of this area.

For lack of rain crops planted and sprouted early in the season have practically remained stationary; seeds put into the ground at a later date have hardly had sufficient moisture to crack their shells, and many of them have not yet come through.

The hay crop is suffering particularly, and without further rains promises to be almost a complete failure.

Unusually warm weather preceded Saturday's rain which was followed by a stiff north east wind bringing extremes in temperature. On Friday the thermometer stood in the higher 80's—and dropped to the lower 40's by Saturday afternoon. The snow flurries at Lansdowne were reported to have occurred shortly after the noon hour on Saturday.

We understand other sections of the county have been more fortunate than Digby with regard to rainfall. Fairly heavy rains were reported in the Weymouth and Clare areas on May 27 and June 1.

Lightkeeper and Mrs. Frank Wilson, of Bay View, just received a letter from their son, Frank Jr., stationed at a wireless station at Lac Manoutan in northern Quebec. Frank's letter, which arrived June 1st, was written May 14th and carried 400 miles by special courier to Roberval. It was postmarked Roberval May 29. In his letter Frank writes "we do not expect a plane for a couple of weeks, but there is an Indian here on his way to Roberval by canoe. He expects to make the trip in about five days, and I am sending a letter out by him."

ALLIES NOW ON HITLER'S EUROPE

At 4:32 a.m. (A.D.T.), Tuesday, allied forces under command of General Eisenhower began landing on the Northern Coast of France. The long-awaited "D-Day" has arrived, and after months of intensive preparation and planning, the most gigantic undertaking in the history of the world was launched.

First reports stated 4,000 ships with 7,000 small craft, given an air support of 11,000 planes took part in the initial invasion. Later bulletins have stated beach heads have been established, and progress is being made according to schedule. Little opposition was met with during the early stages of the invasion. Stiff enemy resistance was reported yesterday.

But these are just early reports. Fierce opposition is to be expected. The hardest, bloodiest and most crucial battles of this war are now just ahead of us. We must expect months of bitter fighting before our enemies accept unconditional surrender as they must and will.

Canadian troops are reported to have landed in France with the initial invasion forces. No doubt many of these are boys from our own towns and villages... no doubt many of their names will appear on the casualty lists to be posted in the near future.

Let us continuously pray to God that He may be with them and all the forces of our allies... that He may lead and guide them... that He may give them strength and courage... that they—and we—will put our trust and faith in Him to bring Victory to our arms... to speed the day when a just and lasting peace will reign over all the earth.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Ethel L. Grant

The death of Mrs. Ethel Lynn Grant, widow of Captain Charles Randall Grant, Weymouth, occurred at Annapolis Royal, Saturday evening, June 3, following a long illness at the home of her sister, Mrs. Bertram Hardwick. Mrs. Grant was the eldest daughter of the late Mary Ella and Captain Richard Ponsonby Marshall, of Weymouth North.

She possessed natural musical talent, and for 15 years was organist in the Riverside Baptist Church, Weymouth, and for eight years a member of the choir of the Germain Street Baptist Church, Saint John, where she had many friends.

Surviving are her sister, Clara (Mrs. Bertram Hardwick, Annapolis Royal; two brothers, George Marshall, of Lynn, and Bernard Marshall, of Swanscott, Mass. Funeral services were held at Weymouth Tuesday afternoon.

Edmund Duffy

The death of Edmund Duffy, 57, occurred at his home, Saulnierville Station, Sunday June 4. The late Mr. Duffy was one of the best known citizens of Clare, and was a member of Municipal Council for the District of Clare for many years, and up to the time of his death. He served with the United States Navy during World War 1, and for several years has been in the employ of the Clare Shipbuilding Co. Ltd. He was born at Saulnierville, a son of the late Capt. John Duffy, well-known sea captain. Surviving are his widow and one son, Victor; two brothers, Fred and William in the United States, and a sister, Mrs. Anthony Gaudet, Saulnierville Station. A Requiem High Mass was celebrated Tuesday morning at Sacred Heart Church, Saulnierville, Rev. Father (Captain) Gastonguay officiating. Interment was in the Parish Cemetery.

Draw Bridge Out, Traffic Tied Up

A serious traffic tie-up has developed on the No. 1 paved Yarmouth to Halifax highway since Monday, due to suspension of traffic over the Victoria Bridge, the long highway bridge which crosses the mouth of Bear River. It will probably be a matter of several days before normal traffic along this highway can be resumed.

In the meantime all traffic is routed along the River Road to the town of Bear River, and then back to the main highway by way of Deep Brook, making necessary a detour of several miles. All bus services, including the hourly service between Cornwallis and Digby, has been discontinued due to narrow bridges on the River Road, and will not be resumed until repairs are made to Victoria Bridge.

The big bridge was opened Monday to allow passage of a ship bound up the river to Bear River. As it was being closed the swinging section jumped its track and efforts to close the bridge have been in vain. It is learned engineers are en route to the scene to make repairs as soon as possible; but at the best it is expected it will be a matter of days before traffic can be resumed.

Rooster Wants To Be a Mother!

Some time ago Loran Adams, of Bay View, sent us a big egg—the one to which we attached a big tap and hung over the kitchen sink. Now Mr. Adams writes us about his leghorn rooster "Adolphe," who apparently wants to help his harem by doing a little "setting" himself. It is only by force that the broody rooster can be kept away from the nest—Mr. Adams is now wondering if "Adolphe" might have had something to do with the large egg.

Peaches in the Valley

Though the Annapolis Valley of Nova Scotia may never become a commercial peach-growing area, yet by persistent experimentation, plant breeding and selection for hardiness, its habitat has gradually been extended until there are varieties of good quality peaches that are reasonably hardy and fruitful under the climatic conditions of the Annapolis Valley, states R. D. Bilg, Dominion Experimental Station, Kentville. It is now possible by exercising particular care in a few general principals of culture to grow peaches fairly satisfactorily in gardens and orchards in the Annapolis Valley for home and roadside use.

The trees should be planted on an elevated but not wind-swept site sloping southward, preferably toward a body of water, such as is found about the Minas and Annapolis Basins. Such sites are naturally well drained and less subject to winter injury and spring frosts.

The peach grower's greatest concern is to avoid winter and frost injury. The most effective ways to avoid winter injury are to provide a suitable site, a suitable soil, sufficient nutrients to promote reasonably vigorous but not excessive succulent growth; judicious pruning; the sowing of cover crops to check growth and bring about bud and wood maturity as well as to protect the roots of the tree from winter colds.

Only vigorous, compact, average sized, one-year old trees should be ordered and the trees set 18 feet apart as early in the spring as soil will permit and slightly deeper than they stood in the nursery. The initial pruning should be to cut back the branches to short spurs showing one or two strong buds with the tree topped at five feet. These spur buds develop into shoots; from which later four or five framework branches (the lowest about 20 inches from the ground) are selected spirally about the trunk to form a well balanced tree—all other branches are removed. Little other pruning than to train the tree is needed until it comes into bearing at four years of age.

Peaches should be pruned in the spring before the buds burst, but delayed sufficiently to distinguish easily healthy from winter-injured wood. All winter-injured terminals should be pruned back to a strong uninjured bud. The fruit of the peach is produced on wood of the previous seasons growth.

Peach trees should never be planted in grass. Plough and dig in the spring, cultivate shallowly until early July, then sow cover crop or mulch about individual trees. Conserve all possible soil moisture. Peaches are easily thinned and respond to thinning. When the set is heavy, start thinning when the fruit is 3/4 inch in diameter, remove all deformed or insect-injured fruit, leaving the good fruit 4 to 6 inches apart.

Varieties recommended for a succession of season from early August to late September: Mayflower, Marigold, June Elberta, Oriole, Golden Jubilee and Vedette.

Dry Records Broken

Last year we were breaking records for high precipitation while this year records are being broken for low precipitation, reports A. D. Pickett, officer-in-charge Dominion Entomological Laboratory at Annapolis Royal. Precipitation for May this year, he states, was .43 inches which was the lowest for any May since records were first taken at the laboratory in 1915. As a matter of fact records show only two other years has there 29-year period with a lower precipitation. They were, October, 1920, with a precipitation of .30 inches and August, 1925, with .34 inches. In only two other years has there been less than one-inch precipitation in May, viz., May, 1924 with .65 inch and May, 1930, with .81 inches.

Archdeacon A. W. L. Smith Resigns

Resignation of Ven. Archdeacon A. W. L. Smith, rector of St. Clements, Clementsport, was read on Sunday. His resignation will take effect on August 1st.

The Parish of St. Clements includes Bear River, Deep Brook, Victory and Clementsport. Archdeacon Smith came to this parish from River John in May 1916. It is understood he will go to another parish which has not as yet been designated.

He is a man who will be greatly missed by the community which he has served so faithfully for nearly 30 years. In addition to his parish work he has been active in many local and provincial organizations. He was instrumental in restoring the historic old church of St. Edward, Clementsport, and making it into an historical shrine. Mr. Smith also took a most active part in the Digby and Annapolis Fish and Game Protective Association, and the Nova Scotia Fish and Game Protective Associations, and is a past president of both organizations. Since the outbreak of the war he has played a prominent role in Red Cross and other patriotic efforts.

In addition, Archdeacon Smith, who is Rural Dean of the Deanery of Annapolis, has been a real leader in all community enterprises.

Price of Hemlock Bark

A ceiling price of $14 per cord for hemlock bark produced in Nova Scotia has been fixed by the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

About 6,000 cords of this product are needed in Canada each year by the tanning industry, the administrator said. Up to the present it has been largely imported from the United States where, due to labor shortages and growing demand, it is becoming increasingly scarce and costly.

The $14 price includes cost of delivery unless the bark is shipped by railway when the maximum price may be increased by the amount of the actual railway freight charges.

Mrs. A. R. Hicks, of Westport, visited friends in Digby on Wednesday on her return from Saint John where she spent the past week with her daughter, Mrs. Donald Gardner and Rev. Mr. Gardner.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles ("Scottie") MacKay are leaving this week to return to Ottawa. For the past two years "Scottie" has been in charge of the Employment office of the Dominion Construction Corp. Ltd., and during their stay in Digby both he and Mrs. MacKay have made a host of friends.

About This and That

It seems a curious thing to some people that the earnings of private enterprise are labelled profits, while the comparable excess moneys of a publicly-owned utility such as Ontario Hydro are only "surpluses."

Similarly, this excess money of a public utility may be used for "reduction of debt, purchase of property, maintenance or extension of the system" and so on, but when private enterprise earmarks some of its "surplus" for similar purposes it is considered most reprehensible. As the Toronto Star puts it scornfully, "Such reserves are designed to enable a corporation to increase its plant and equipment without its owners increasing their investment."

The situation is becoming so confusing that some people are in favor of trying Basic English to find out what is really going on. In Basic English there are no "good" words such as "surplus," and no "bad" words such as "profits." There is only one word, "profits," for each idea.

The prodigal son went wrong, but he returned all right.

Many small-town weekly newspapers report that local organizations have set up post-war committees. These committees try to find out how many jobs will be available for the boys when they get out of uniform.

So far, it has been noticed, few small towns are proposing that local problems be settled by having the Dominion and provincial governments spend money locally to provide jobs. Perhaps the small towns realize they haven't the political influence to exert sufficient pressure on Ottawa and provincial capitals.

This is in pleasant contrast to the great cities, where there are organizations which are asking, or intend to ask, that the Dominion come forward and help in a big way. The bigger and richer these big cities are, the more certain they are that the taxpayers in smaller places should help them out of utter confusion.

Friendship is love plus understanding.

This comes indirectly from an administrator of one of the many departments of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, but is perhaps not to be regarded as official. Asked at a meeting of his trade group to define his functions, he summarized them in the following sentence:

"An Administrator is one who develops ordered chaos out of utter confusion."

To a reformer what's none of his business is business.

It is comforting to know that the R.C.M.P. are right on the job, but occasionally they may be a bit too zealous. Take the recent case in a Western city. A Mountie entered a drug store and asked, "That soldier who was in here—was he after dope?" The druggist shook his head.

"Well," said the Mountie, "he's been in half a dozen drug stores along the street. He acts suspicious. That haggard, anxious look is a sign of wanting dope." The druggist laughed. "Sure the soldier is haggard and anxious," he said. "The poor fellow is afraid he'll lose his girl if he can't sometime turn up with a box of chocolates, but no store along the street has any. This chocolate shortage is making things tough for young fellows engaged in wooing."

A rich young widow, hard to suit, will have many suitors.

Tremendous Wealth In Italy Holds Bed of Tiber River

The world's greatest "lost" treasure exists in Italy within cannon shot of the allied soldiers battling on the Anzio beachhead. In the bed of the Tiber River that flows through Rome lie riches that make the wealth of King Solomon seem beggarly. The treasure consists of precious objects that for hundreds of years were thrown into the river by all classes of citizens as votive offerings to the god that the ancient Romans believed dwell in their river. Besides gold, silver, and jewels of inestimable value, whoever makes a thorough search of the Tiber's bed should count on finding hundreds of statues, ornaments, and ancient arms. Most precious of all, there might be recovered the sacred candlestick of solid gold which, as the Bible relates, Moses was ordered to prepare on Mount Sinai. A famed Italian archeologist had made plans for a search of the river's bed but death intervened. Since then, the region has become a battleground. In the past, ancient and valuable objects have always been found whenever the river was dredged or piers raised for new bridges.

The Netherlands owns the third largest colonial empire in the world.

More About the V. O. N. in Digby

We have already told you about the V.O.N. and her prenatal and post-natal care of the pregnant mother and of her care of the new baby until the mother is well enough to do so herself. Then the mother is told of the Well Baby and Child Welfare Clinic which the nurse holds every Friday afternoon from 2-4:30 in the Court House. Here baby is weighed and if it is losing or has not gained any at all the cause is sought and usually a new diet is suggested with the approval of the doctors. If the baby is teething nurse will make suggestions as to how to make this trying time easier for both baby and parents. Questions of the proper amount of clothing for the different changes in weather are answered and any other questions pertaining to the welfare of the baby.

The Friday afternoon clinic is also a Child Welfare Clinic and is for children up to school age group. For these the Nurse is able to advise the mother on habit, dental care, diet and behavior problems, thus paving the way for better adjustments in school and after life. This Group is a very interesting age and sometimes is forgotten for a new baby in the home.

The V.O.N. here in Digby acts in the capacity also of the School Nurse. In this capacity each child is examined for defective hearing, defective vision, bad tonsils, and dental decay. This examination is usually done by the Medical Officer of Health but due to war time conditions he is not always able to be present. After the class examination has been completed the nurse gives a health talk in the classroom where care of the ears, eyes, throat and teeth and the important diet plays in physical fitness is stressed. There is a splendid spirit of cooperation between the teachers and the nurse in securing correction of any defects which the examination may have shown.

This examination of the school children is often the means of stopping the spread of contagious diseases before they have gotten well started. For if the nurse finds a suspicious symptom in a child he is promptly excluded from school and referred to his family doctor.

The medical officer of health conducts our Immunization Clinic yearly. Last year over 125 children were inoculated against Whooping Cough.

All these activities, the Well Baby Clinic, the Child Welfare Clinic and the Immunization Clinic are available for the public. Anyone is welcome to come and avail themselves of the services of our V.O.N.

WAR-TIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q—I purchased two link-buttons for a suit and paid for them at a gift shop. At a larger store the same buttons sell for 29c. Was I overcharged?

A—If you are sure these were exactly the same buttons it would seem that you were overcharged. Prices vary widely in different stores according to what they charged during the basic period, Sept. 15 to Oct. 11, 1941. If the gift store charged 75c for the buttons at that time they would be entitled to sell at the same price today. However, you mention such a difference in price we are checking the prices at the gift shop.

Q—Recently I paid $1.35 to have a new band put on a hat. There was no cleaning or pressing necessary. I have never paid such a price. Is there a ceiling on such things?

A—Yes, there certainly is a ceiling price on such things. Once again this is a basic period price. You should not pay more for such a service than was charged by the same store during the basic period.

Q—Would you kindly tell me the ceiling price of a winter coat?

A—There is no ceiling price on fur coats. The consumer is protected by a Board order which makes it necessary for furriers to show on a tag attached to each fur garment the correct name of the fur as well as the trade name. The price of fur coats vary in different stores according to quality, styling, trimmings, etc.

Q—Do you need coupons for canned fruit juices?

A—No. Canned fruit juice, orange juice, grapefruit juice, etc., do not require the surrender of coupons for purchase.

Q—Am I allowed to purchase both tea and coffee with one ration coupon? I do not wish a large quantity of either, but like to get a small amount of both.

A—This is now permissible. You may purchase 8 ounces of coffee and 2 ounces of tea with one ration coupon provided the purchase is completed at one time.

Q—I do not require my ration sugar and wish to exchange my coupons for preserves. As I am going away I would like to do this immediately. Please advise if I may do so and where should the exchange be made?

A—The first five canning coupons became good on May 25. You may exchange your canning sugar coupons for preserves coupons at your local ration board. The exchange will be on the basis of one preserves coupon for each "F" coupon. The second five may be exchanged after July 6.

Please send your questions or your requests for "Re-Make Wrinkles" the handy booklet that tells you how to make use of cast-offs, "Consumers' News," or the Blue Book in which to keep track of your ceiling prices to the Consumer Branch, WPTB, 77 Upper Water St., Halifax.

HERE'S THE BRUSH FIRE —that spreads if unwatched!

PERSONS burning brush between the 15th of April and the 15th of October require burning permits from the Forest Ranger. And portable mills operating within sixty rods of any woods now require operating permits for all seasons of the year. Severe penalties are levied for not securing these permits.

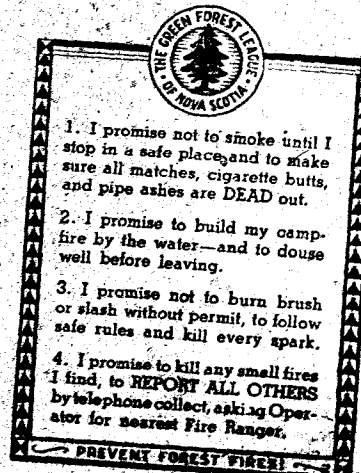

Holders of such permits must exercise all necessary vigilance to prevent their brush or slash fires from spreading beyond their control. Should any do so the permit holder is held responsible for all costs of fighting any forest fires caused thereby.

Most forest fires are caused by carelessness, but every year fires are set by malicious people and thousands of acres of fine timber lands destroyed. It is the duty of every citizen to help the law officers run down these criminals and see to it that they are punished as they justly deserve. And persuade others to do likewise by taking the PLEDGE herewith and showing it to at least three of your friends.

Lake Joli

By L.A.C. E. Lloyd-Hughes, R.C.A.F.

On Lake Joli the wind is high. And loud the screaming marshfowl cry. Around her shores grey waters moan. And barren branches shake and groan. Beneath the stark, tumultuous sky, While whispering voices sob and sigh, And shadows lurk by tree and stone. On Lake Joli.

On Lake Joli It is not meet that mortal eye Should strive to see, nor wonder why The beaver trembles when alone, When he does hear the monotone Of wind-swept water rolling by. On Lake Joli.

Mrs. John Riley
 There passed away at her home in Virginia East, at the age of 64 years, on Thursday, May 25, Mrs. John Riley. Born at Clementsvalle, she was the daughter of the late John E. and Martha (Beeler) Trimper. Mr. and Mrs. Riley observed their 39th wedding anniversary on May 24. Although she had not been in the best of health for some time, her death came as a shock to her family and friends. She leaves to mourn the passing of a devoted and loving wife and mother, her husband; eleven children: Lee Etta (Mrs. Harold Mansfield, of Caledonia; Walton, DeVernet, and Ora, (Mrs. Joseph Coombs) all of Virginia East; Alban, serving with the R.C.A.F. overseas; Edmund, with the R.C.A.F. in Iceland; Dennis, Royal Canadian Artillery, at present stationed in Saint John; Douglas with the R.C.A.F., Halifax; Esther (Mrs. Laurie Thompson), of Bear River; Vera, of Sussex, Roy, of Brookline, Mass., and eighteen grandchildren. Also surviving are three brothers and one sister: Ernest, Ivan and Harlan Trimper, and Leotia, (Mrs. Albert Wamboldt), all of Clementsvalle. The funeral service was conducted from her late home on Saturday afternoon with committal service and interment at Clementsvalle. Services were conducted by Rev. Kenneth E. Dotson, of the Advent Christian Church, Bear River, assisted by Rev. G. D. Brydon, of Bear River Baptist Church. A mixed choir sang "The Old Rugged Cross" and "Abide With Me" and a duet "Where We'll Never Grow Old" was given by Mrs. Wilbur Parker and Rev. Mr. Dotson. The many beautiful floral tributes testified to the high esteem in which Mrs. Riley was held.

George F. Potter
 George Fenwick Potter, formerly of 54 Allen Avenue, Lynn, Mass., died at the home of his daughter in Milton, Mass., May 31st. Mr. Potter was born at Clementsvalle, September 24, 1865, and was the son of James Edward and Naomi Chute Potter. He went to Lynn in 1889, and was married to Kate E. Daniels, of Freeport, in 1892. They made their home in Lynn. He was a member of the Clementsvalle Baptist Church, in Nova Scotia, and for many years a member of Richard Drown Lodge, I.O.O.F., and Lynn Encampment. Mr. Potter leaves, besides his wife, a daughter, Mrs. Ralph S. Damon, of Milton, and a son, Arnold S. Potter, of Swampscott, also nephews and nieces. Funeral service was held on June 3, with burial in Pine Hill Cemetery, Lynn, Mass.

Harold Crosby, of Kentville. spent the week end at the home of Mrs. Otis Rice.

Tomorrow You'll See

"Vest-Pocket" Furnace
 A vest-pocket furnace that can be hung from a rafter in the attic and will generate enough energy to heat a ten room house now awaits its turn on the post-war assembly line.

Imagine an arrangement in which a clock mechanism would turn on the heater in your car during breakfast hour so that when you go to the garage you will find a warm car even before the engine is started. Imagine, too, instead of shovelling snow off the sidewalk you just turn on a heater and watch it melt away.

These are some of the future possibilities of equipment which in the war has been used to dry soldiers' laundry, heat hospital tents, and de-ice airplane wings. The basic principles for the "heaters of the future" have thus been established.

One, which would burn fuel oil, or gas, would be about the size of an office waste basket.

Mrs. John Flemming, of Bear River, spent a few days last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Burke.

Mrs. Edwin Oliver, of Lynn, Mass., is visiting her father, Percy McGrath, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Archie McGrath.

Mrs. B. L. Carty, of Berwick, and Miss Mildred Carty, of Yarmouth, spent the past week with relatives and friends here.

Ft. Lieut. H. S. Harlin, of Yarmouth, spent a few days last week with his wife and family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McWhinnie.

Mrs. Annie Crowell, Granville Beach, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Ring, Mrs. Stanley McCaul, Pansy and Francis Hayden, of Victoria Beach, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Johns.

Ceiling Prices For Used Cars

To forestall any attempt at selling used cars and trucks above the ceiling prices which have been established for them, enforcement officers of the Prices Board have requested the cooperation of the public in reporting infractions.

W. H. Jost, enforcement counsel of the Board for Nova Scotia, said recently that everyone who has paid or been asked to pay what he feels is an exorbitant price for a used motor vehicle should communicate with the nearest local office of the Board.

Mr. Jost stated that the Board is very anxious to prevent any black market developing on used cars, and that it is only through the public reporting any such infraction that attempts to sell above the ceiling can be checked.

BUILDING for VICTORY and AFTERWARDS
 Canadian Pacific Chief Executive Reviews Company's Mighty War Effort

The annual meeting of the Canadian Pacific Railway is one of those events which mark, as few others do, the year to year progress of the country's business. On that occasion, early this month, the address to the shareholders presented by D. C. Coleman, Chairman and President, briefly reviewed the achievements of the past twelve months, at the same time drew attention with particular emphasis to dangers that would appear to threaten the orderly and satisfactory development of the country's industry and commerce.

It was the 63rd annual general meeting of the most important transportation link in the British Empire, and the fifth during which all its great resources primarily had been devoted to the battle for civilization.

"The company's directors have regarded it as a privilege," said Mr. Coleman, "that all the resources of the Company should be devoted to the achievement of victory. Now that ultimate victory is assured, we may justifiably look back with satisfaction upon its continued success in fulfilling its share of the heavy responsibility of maintaining vital links of transportation and communication both within and without the boundaries of the Dominion. During the war years the tasks efficiently accomplished by the Canadian Pacific have continued to increase in number and importance, culminating in the record-breaking performance of the past year."

"Gross earnings reached the record height of $297 millions, notwithstanding successive increases in operating costs; the traffic has been carried at war rates despite the fact that during the fifteen years previous to 1939 many reductions had been made in the charges for certain classes of traffic. Had we enjoyed in 1943 the same average revenues per ton mile and per passenger mile as in 1924, gross earnings would have been higher by $55 millions. While freight traffic had doubled and passenger traffic has trebled since the commencement of the war, increased labor costs, increased prices for material and higher taxation have had the effect of offsetting all the benefits of improved unit performance resulting from the increased traffic volume."

In each year since the commencement of the war, freight, passenger and other railway traffic had continued to expand. In this period the Company had transported more than 215 million tons of freight and 55 million passengers, a stupendous accomplishment, made possible by the free association of three important groups, each making an essential contribution to mutual Canadian interests. These three were the company's patrons, its employees and its investors.

In referring to the future of air services in Canada, Mr. Coleman said that the decision of the Government to separate the air-line companies from the railroads was most disappointing. He pointed out that the Canadian Pacific Air Lines had made a distinct contribution to aviation in this country by taking over a number of struggling and scattered companies and welding them into a closely knit, efficient organization, without encroaching on the field reserved by law for Trans-Canada Air Lines; that it had proceeded throughout with the knowledge of the Government, and in compliance with Government regulations; and that it had been of substantial aid to the Canadian, United States and United Kingdom Governments in operations in Northern Canada, Alaska and Labrador, and in initiating the first Trans-Atlantic ferry service.

The company's officers were now preparing plans and policies to meet the problems which would arise in the era of post-war adjustment. "We are confident," he said, "that Canada, possibly not without some set-backs and some painful experience, will then enter upon a period of expansion, and industrial development. In this country, as in others, there is considerable activity in the ranks of those who maintain that the fruits of prosperity can only be properly distributed through measures of rigid state control, and that free enterprise, as we have known it, should be systematically extinguished."

In dealing with those who would confine Canada's economic and industrial structure within a system of rigid state control Mr. Coleman referred to the class, occupational and sectional jealousies being fostered and the encouragement given young people to form organized pressure groups to struggle with the state and with each other for a sharing of wealth which they are not encouraged or urged to create.

"If those behind this movement were entrusted with executive power, they would find that to satisfy the appetites they have inflamed, and to reconcile conflicting claims which they have fostered would be a task beyond their powers," he told the meeting.

"Injustices in division or distribution, as they become apparent, should be and must be corrected, but it should be fairly obvious that if our standard of living is to be improved, or even maintained at the present level, more wealth must be created for ultimate division. No man has been able to show," he went on, "that as much wealth can be produced under state control of production and distribution as under a system of free enterprise."

BUILDING for VICTORY and AFTERWARDS

Canadian Pacific Chief Executive Reviews Company's Mighty War Effort

The annual meeting of the Canadian Pacific Railway is one of those events which mark, as few others do, the year to year progress of the country's business. On that occasion, early this month, the address to the shareholders presented by D. C. Coleman, Chairman and President, briefly reviewed the achievements of the past twelve months, at the same time drew attention with particular emphasis to dangers that would appear to threaten the orderly and satisfactory development of the country's industry and commerce.

It was the 63rd annual general meeting of the most important transportation link in the British Empire, and the fifth during which all its great resources primarily had been devoted to the battle for civilization.

"The company's directors have regarded it as a privilege," said Mr. Coleman, "that all the resources of the Company should be devoted to the achievement of victory. Now that ultimate victory is assured, we may justifiably look back with satisfaction upon its continued success in fulfilling its share of the heavy responsibility of maintaining vital links of transportation and communication both within and without the boundaries of the Dominion. During the war years the tasks efficiently accomplished by the Canadian Pacific have continued to increase in number and importance, culminating in the record-breaking performance of the past year."

"Gross earnings reached the record height of $297 millions, notwithstanding successive increases in operating costs; the traffic has been carried at war rates despite the fact that during the fifteen years previous to 1939 many reductions had been made in the charges for certain classes of traffic. Had we enjoyed in 1943 the same average revenues per ton mile and per passenger mile as in 1924, gross earnings would have been higher by $55 millions. While freight traffic had doubled and passenger traffic has trebled since the commencement of the war, increased labor costs, increased prices for material and higher taxation have had the effect of offsetting all the benefits of improved unit performance resulting from the increased traffic volume."

In each year since the commencement of the war, freight, passenger and other railway traffic had continued to expand. In this period the Company had transported more than 215 million tons of freight and 55 million passengers, a stupendous accomplishment, made possible by the free association of three important groups, each making an essential contribution to mutual Canadian interests. These three were the company's patrons, its employees and its investors.

In referring to the future of air services in Canada, Mr. Coleman said that the decision of the Government to separate the air-line companies from the railroads was most disappointing. He pointed out that the Canadian Pacific Air Lines had made a distinct contribution to aviation in this country by taking over a number of struggling and scattered companies and welding them into a closely knit, efficient organization, without encroaching on the field reserved by law for Trans-Canada Air Lines; that it had proceeded throughout with the knowledge of the Government, and in compliance with Government regulations; and that it had been of substantial aid to the Canadian, United States and United Kingdom Governments in operations in Northern Canada, Alaska and Labrador, and in initiating the first Trans-Atlantic ferry service.

The company's officers were now preparing plans and policies to meet the problems which would arise in the era of post-war adjustment. "We are confident," he said, "that Canada, possibly not without some set-backs and some painful experience, will then enter upon a period of expansion, and industrial development. In this country, as in others, there is considerable activity in the ranks of those who maintain that the fruits of prosperity can only be properly distributed through measures of rigid state control, and that free enterprise, as we have known it, should be systematically extinguished."

In dealing with those who would confine Canada's economic and industrial structure within a system of rigid state control Mr. Coleman referred to the class, occupational and sectional jealousies being fostered and the encouragement given young people to form organized pressure groups to struggle with the state and with each other for a sharing of wealth which they are not encouraged or urged to create.

"If those behind this movement were entrusted with executive power, they would find that to satisfy the appetites they have inflamed, and to reconcile conflicting claims which they have fostered would be a task beyond their powers," he told the meeting.

"Injustices in division or distribution, as they become apparent, should be and must be corrected, but it should be fairly obvious that if our standard of living is to be improved, or even maintained at the present level, more wealth must be created for ultimate division. No man has been able to show," he went on, "that as much wealth can be produced under state control of production and distribution as under a system of free enterprise."

"If those behind this movement were entrusted with executive power, they would find that to satisfy the appetites they have inflamed, and to reconcile conflicting claims which they have fostered would be a task beyond their powers," he told the meeting.

THE FUTURE FOR FIGHTERS

Answers to Questions About the Rehabilitation Programme for Service Men and Women

Q.—If I am in receipt of a disability pension, for what treatment am I eligible if I become incapacitated?

A.—Pensioners hospitalized for pensionable disabilities receive free treatment with allowances for themselves and dependents as a permanent right. Pensioners (and non-pensioners with meritorious service) may receive free treatment at any time without allowances, subject to qualification from medical and economic viewpoints.

Q.—On what scale are the applicable treatment allowances to pensioners?

A.—At the rates laid down under P.C. 91: generally at the 100% pension rate less $30.00 per month.

Q.—If I am not a pensioner, to what treatment am I entitled?

A.—Any veteran may receive treatment for a non-pensionable disability, provided such treatment commences within one year of discharge.

Q.—Are there any allowances in these cases of non-pensioners?

A.—Allowances may be paid for twelve months, or a period equal to the period of service, whichever is the lesser, during the first eighteen months following discharge. There are at the rate of $62.40 a month for a man and wife, and for a single man, outpatient, $44.20 a month. For an in-patient, with no dependents or other obligations, the allowance is $14.20 monthly. There is an allowance for children on approximately the same scale as paid by the Dependents' Allowance Board.

Q.—If I am discharged as physically incapacitated and require continuous treatment from the time of my discharge what happens?

A.—In these cases, there is free treatment with pay of rank and allowances of rank up to a ceiling of Lieutenant in the Army, Sub-Lieutenant in the Navy, and Flying Officer (non-flying list) in the Air Force.

Q.—Is this continued until I am physically fit?

A.—The treatment is continued, but, insofar as allowances are concerned, they may be continued only for a year, or for the period of service, whichever is the lesser.

Q.—What are the facilities for treatment?

A.—Departmental hospitals have been set up at a number of points across the Dominion. In addition, contracts have been entered into with hospitals at a number of other centres. Salaried personnel are maintained at a number of these places. In places where there is no salaried personnel, arrangements have been entered into with doctors and dentists practicing privately.

Q.—If, as a result of the war, I require orthopaedic applications for my pensionable disability, what happens?

A.—These are supplied to you for life free of charge. In addition, pension may be granted for extra wear and tear on clothing.

(The next instalment deals with Pensions.)

Weather Favors

Season

The season has been very favorable to seeding and grain looks particularly good. The first-of-the-weather and crop report issued by Dr. W. V. Long, Director of Extension, Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture.

He reports, was one of the driest months on record, with a rainfall at the College station at Truro of only .34 inches.

This fell in three days in fact 22 inches fell on the night of the 27th. One gets some idea of how small this rainfall is when it is compared with the May, 1943 rainfall of 4.78 inches or with the 14-year average of 2.87. The only has the month of May this year been dry, but precipitation for the first five months of this year amounted to 9.31 inches as compared with an average of 14.73. The holding of water in the soil is comparatively limited.

The maximum temperature for the month was 88 degrees, the minimum 27 degrees. The month was dry, varying between cool and fairly warm for the time of year. As a result vegetation has advanced rapidly and the season is well along for the time of year. The dry weather has retarded the growth of grass. In a result pastures to date have been short.

The season has been very favorable to seeding, and even the shortage of labour, seeding has advanced rapidly. This has been particularly possible with the greater use of tractors and machinery. Station tractors have been very much in demand. This has emphasized the worth of the Department of Agriculture bonus on tractors and tractor machinery, and the place it can play in increased production.

Early grain looks particularly good, having caught the moisture that is in the ground. Many sections of the Valley report a good stand of clover. Other sections as well as many parts of the Province report clover spotty, with considerable winter killing due probably to ice covering for a period last winter. Small seeds have been particularly hit by the weather and germination has been slow and poor. Potato planting well advanced with a slight increase in acreage over last year. Grain acreage is practically up to last year, made possible through the excellent work for work and the large amount of spring plowing. There is an acreage of some one thousand acres in Annapolis County for canning peas. The apple bloom is well advanced with an average bloom for the Valley. Pruning and spraying has been carried on to a much greater extent than the previous war year. The weather has been particularly favorable for spraying operations.

The release of men by the Armed Forces has materially helped in the labour situation. Some seventy men have been made available from the Army for spring seeding.

Stresses Value of Agricultural Education

The urgency for young men to plan to go into farming as their life's work to take advantage of agricultural education facilities was stressed by G. Eric Boulden, principal of the Nova Scotia Agricultural College, in talks recently given before senior students of some high schools in Antigonish and Annapolis counties. Mr. Boulden, who is anxious to contact young men and women who are interested in agricultural education, should be, plans to visit a number of other schools before the school year ends. His thought is that the farmer of the future must have the best training if he is to make his contribution in the post-war period. He spoke of the two regular courses now given at the N. S. C. A., the Farm Course from November to March, which is especially arranged for boys wishing to take up farming, and announced that an advanced course would be available to students taking this course if they wished to return for further work the following year; and the degree course, two years of which are taken at the N.S.A.C., the Farm starting in October. Details of these courses can be found in the college calendar to be obtained from the Registrar, H. J. Fraser, Nova Scotia Agricultural College, Truro.

In referring to past students, Mr. Boulden emphasized the important part graduates were now playing in the management of farms, the farmers' organizations and also in the professional, educational and commercial fields of agriculture, and spoke of the importance of both training and experience in answering the challenge of youth in the development of rural Nova Scotia in the important years to come.

Wool Is Grading High

Approximately 50,000 lbs. of wool have been received to date at the Wool Grading Stations at Antigonish and Truro. Reports from the station managers on the 35,000 pounds which had been graded indicated quality was extra good with most of it in the top grades. At Antigonish all of the wool received up to the first of the month, with the exception of two or three lots, had qualified for the bonus. The station graders who have had years of experience are enthusiastic over the quality of this year's early shorn wool. The percentage of lots being paid the bonus is clear evidence of the value of early shearing. Unfortunately some sheep are still unshorn. Some of these unshorn sheep are out in rough pastures where the wool comes in contact with spruce trees which can have no other effect than reduce the quality and value of the wool and at the same time, during the hot days of the past two weeks, prove decidedly uncomfortable and harmful to the sheep.

Preparing For Exhibition

Work is underway getting grounds in shape and programs lined up for the Central Nova Scotia Exhibition to be held at Truro Tuesday and Wednesday, September 12 and 13. The fair grounds, recently acquired, should give ample room for expansion and furnish generous accommodation for stock and other exhibits and entertainment features. The acreage is considerable in excess of that of the late Nova Scotia Exhibition at Halifax. Engineers are now working on the grounds using modern equipment in the work of draining and levelling. The program for this year will include a live stock show at which it is expected there will be about 500 head and a 2-day horse race meet for which substantial purses will be offered. The building program, which is curtailed on account of war conditions, calls for the erection of several cattle sheds this year and some temporary fencing.

Ask For Report Cards

Nova Scotia Farmers have received, or will shortly receive, from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics cards on which to report the acres of crops seeded this year and the numbers of live stock of all kinds. They are asked to fill them in and mail them post-free to the Bureau of Statistics at Ottawa as early as possible.

The information derived from the compilation of the figures filled in is the basis upon which an estimate is made of the probable crop and live stock production for the year. The more farmers who fill in the returns, the more accurate the estimate will be.

Dr. M. Cumming, Provincial Statistician, hopes that every farmer will cooperate with the Federal Bureau of Statistics by filling in his schedule. While this is always important, it is especially so during the war years when it is very necessary to have as accurate information as possible.

10 New Societies Registered

Agricultural Societies are gaining ground. A. B. Banks, Superintendent, reports ten new societies have been registered since the first of the year, bringing the total number of societies for the province to well over the 250 mark. The ten new societies are: Ardoise, Hants Co., Newtown, Guysboro Co., North Wallace, Cumberland Co., North Range, Digby Co., Tidnish, Cumberland Co., Falmouth, Hants Co., Lakeside, Richmond Co., Mt. Pleasant and New Cumberland, Lunenburg Co., North West Ridge, Inverness Co., Heatherton, Antigonish Co.

Now Is the Time to Order Lime

Farmers wanting agricultural lime are advised to order NOW for delivery during the summer months.

Those ordering NOW (1) will be assured of lime for their essential crops.

(2) will aid the lime quarries to maintain production throughout the year.

Labor and transportation conditions have been so acute that many could not obtain lime wanted last fall and this spring. The farmer who places his order NOW is protecting himself against disappointment in delivery by helping the quarry. He will also be getting a lower price.

Price Reduced to $1.40

The price of lime has been reduced to $1.40 per ton for the period June 10 to August 30. This price is for carlots at railway station or quarry.

The greater use of agricultural lime is indicated by the fact that the tonnage sold in the province has increased from 3,583 tons in 1938 to 39,149 tons in 1943.

HOW TO ORDER

Orders for lime may be placed with the local quarry, Agricultural Representative, or the Director of Extension, N. S. Dept. of Agriculture, Truro.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Alexander Daley

The death of Mrs. Alexander Daley occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Byron Trask, Little River, with whom she has lived for the past seventeen years, on Monday, the 29th of May, at the age of 94 years and 10 months. Up to within the last three weeks she has been in good health and able to be about. Although her eyesight had failed, she had full possession of all her faculties up to the end, and enjoyed talking of the past to her friends. She was the widow of Councillor Alex Daley of Mount Pleasant. She was a member of the Digby United Baptist Church. Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Byron Trask (Gertrude), Little River; Mrs. Harry VanTassel (Blanche), of Boston, Mass.; also four grandsons; one grand daughter, one great grandson and one great granddaughter. One daughter, Mrs. Edward Bremner (Kate) passed away a number of years ago. The funeral service was held at Ramsay's Undertaking Parlor with interment in Digby Cemetery.

ObeY Rationing Rules

The federal authorities are tightening up on the enforcement of the rationing regulations. With 154 prosecutions in a week there comes the warning that there is to be no relaxation in carrying on rationing in accordance with the letter of the law. Cases in court during one week concerned purchase of butter without coupons, sale of food above ceiling prices, increased rents without authority, failure to carry out orders of the oil controller, as well as others.

Rationing has been in operation for several years, and it is time that the people generally should know the rules. Attempts to obtain more than the regulations permit are unlawful in these war years and increases in prices above the ceilings officially set are banned. Those who break the rules, can expect court action and stiff sentences on a conviction.

Much concern centres on the distribution of gasoline. This material is one of the most essential for carrying on the war, and the authorities are doing everything possible to keep civilian consumption within bounds. A close watch is being kept on the sale and use of gasoline. It is announced that there will be no relaxation in this direction and that the rules must be observed in full if trouble is to be avoided. Then it is pointed out that it is a patriotic duty to observe strictly the regulations for rationing in all its phases. Those who conform to the laws have nothing to fear.

Perhaps some people are experiencing irritation and hardship by being law-abiding; but the war must be won and the usual after-effects must be avoided if possible. The rules are based upon necessity and most citizens will do their best to help the war effort even at a sacrifice. There appears to be no good reason for anyone being anything but patriotic in this regard. (Evening Times Globe, Saint John, N.B.)

Berries are Placed Under WPTB Ceilings

This year, for the first time since the introduction of price control in this country, price ceilings have been established for Canadian-grown strawberries and raspberries. They will be at a level which is below maximum prices paid by the consumer last year but higher than the 1942 prices. Maximum prices over which the berries must not sell will apply from May 29 to September 30, with a seasonal reduction in strawberry prices to conform with the usual wire in the average piano.

drop in the market when picking is at its height. The order also applies to strawberries and raspberries imported from June 5 to September 30. They are put under ceilings similar to those applied to Canadian-grown berries during the same period. Berry-growers may, of course, sell direct to consumers or to retailers at prices which are set forth for each class of buyer.

The cost of strawberries to the consumer will be 39c per quart and 22c per pint until June 24th. A cent or two will be added to this for shipping charges if the berries are picked more than 15 miles from where they are sold. After June 24th the price per quart drops to 29½c and pints to 16½c to which freight charges must be added.

There are only about a score of first editions of "Alice in Wonderland" in existence. It was printed in 1865, but never sold to the public, as Lewis Carroll found fault with the reproduction of the illustrations. A copy of one of these editions has fetched more than 500 pounds.

There is about one mile of the consumer will be 39c per quart and 22c per pint until June 24th. A cent or two will be added to this for shipping charges if the berries are picked more than 15 miles from where they are sold. After June 24th the price per quart drops to 29½c and pints to 16½c to which freight charges must be added.

Hold Memorial Service For L Cpl. Clifford Dugas

A memorial service, with solemn high mass of requiem, was celebrated Friday last, in the Sacred Heart Church, of Doucetteville, in honor of the late Lance Corporal Clifford Dugas, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Dugas, of that place, who was killed in action in Italy on May 12th, at the age of 20 years. The pastor, Rev. Fr. L. LeBlanc, officiated with Rev. Fr. J. E. LeBlanc, of St. Bernard, as deacon, and Rev. Fr. C. Frecker, of Weymouth, sub-deacon. John V. Thibodeau, sexton of St. Mary's, Church Point, was master of ceremonies. A. F. Hache, of Meteghan, was at the organ, and Mrs. Clifford Thibault, directed the choir. About thirty persons, the family, relatives and friends, received Holy Communion. The church was filled to capacity.

A contingent of Army Officers from Yarmouth, Sgt. Mjr. Spinney, Sgt. Hannigan, Sgt. Hamilton, Sgt. Browning, Sgt. Weatherbee and Pte. Bushell, bugler, were in attendance, and at the Libera, the bugle sounded its last call near the catafalca, which was covered with the Union Jack, then a few minutes of silence.

After the ceremony, the clergy, the Army officers, and the choir were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dugas. Sympathy was offered the family in their recent sad bereavement, this being the first from this village to give his life for his country.

TOWN TALK

Here is how a cross section of Digby citizens, interviewed at Bummer's Crossing, replied to the question—How do you take the invasion news? "Pardon the alleged humour."

A mother with two sons over there: "Thank God, they will soon be home again."

A telephone operator who didn't believe it: "Don't try to kid me, Shorty."

An old lady from the suburbs: "Shouldn't be allowed in town, they'll grab every cent with their gambles and soda pop."

An eleven-year-old boy: "That's good, and Dad better not forget that German platoon he promised me."

A waitress: "I wonder if it is in technicolor."

MARRIAGES

Shaw - Budd
Mr. and Mrs. Elisha K. Budd, of Digby Neck, announce the marriage of their youngest daughter, L.A.W. Elizabeth ("Bette") Ruth of the R.C.A.F., to L.A.C. Harold E. Shaw, of Toronto, also of the Royal Canadian Air Force. Marriage took place at Sans Origine, Newfoundland, on June 9. Both Mr. and Mrs. Shaw are serving with the R.C.A.F. there.

Mount - Beharrell
A quiet wedding took place at Matsqui, British Columbia, Sunday, May 28, at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Beharrell, when their third daughter, June Elfrida, became the bride of Bandsman Lloyd Eugene Mount, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Mount, of Digby. Rev. J. Fielding Shaw officiated. Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore turquoise blue crepe street-length dress on princess lines. Her shoulder-length veil was caught by a coronet of orange blossoms. Her corsage was of cream rose buds. Miss Alice Beharrell was her sister's bridesmaid and William A. Bell supported the groom. At the reception following the bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake. Miss Pearle Beharrell, aunt of the bride, presided at the urns. The young couple left later for the groom's home in Digby.

Closing Meeting of Ea Gi Club

The closing meeting of the season for the Ea Gi Club was held in Grace United Hall on Friday, a quilt being quilted during the evening.

An apron which has been going the rounds was brought in and the patches with their dimes and rhymes were removed. The sum of $12.01 was realized.

The poems were then read and judged with the prize (of the apron) going to Mrs. Mary Ellis for the following rhyme: Where we at different homes do sit,

Some bring sewing and some to knit,

We all in a circle gather When the roll is called we start to chatter

Comes the business section President says "Nan what's the question?"

Some one says "How about a supper?"

It's agreed—then rations suffer. "Nan, what about decorating a room

Or some lights to brighten up the gloom?"

Oh yes! workers one and all— We all answer to the call— And to this little apron I could tell

A tale of many things done well. But I must stop and with my dime Sew beneath a patch this rhyme.

The judging was followed by refreshments and a very pleasant evening was spent by all.

Lights Installed On Spur Pier

The installation of twenty 200-watt lights on the Spur Pier and "T" has done much to alleviate the dangers of one of the darkest and most dangerous spots in the town of Digby. During the past year pedestrian and other traffic along the pier and "T" has been heavy for particularly the whole twenty-four hours of the day. A misstep taken in the darkness could, and has, meant a plunge into the harbour or a nasty fall onto the flats at low tide, or on to the deck of a ship tied up at the dock.

With the new lighting the pier is safer for all concerned, especially for fishermen and men of the Navy.

Lights were installed on the spur by the town of Digby a number of years ago for the benefit of the scallop fishermen, but because of vandalism the town found it impossible to replace the bulbs as fast as they were stolen.

The new lighting system has been installed by the navy, and poles used are considerably higher than those used by the town, and this, coupled with the fact the pier is under constant sentry patrol, should prevent the theft of bulbs as in the past.

Hill Grove Roll Call Service

The annual Roll Call services of the Hill Grove United Baptist Church were held on Thursday, June 8th, and were considered the most interesting and successful to be held to date.

The afternoon service commenced at 2:30 o'clock and continued until 5. From 5:30 to 7:30 supper was served in the church hall. Nearly one hundred guests were present to enjoy the social hour.

The attendance and responses were very gratifying and the music furnished by the choir under the direction of Mrs. Darcy Roope, organist, added greatly to the services.

Rev. J. Earle DeLong, the pastor, acted as master of ceremonies and the inspiring and thought provoking messages given by Rev. Mr. Slimon were well received by the large congregation present. Thank offerings for the day amounted to $303.00. Thanks are due all those who in any way helped to make the services so successful — included are staff of Wallis Print Ltd., for their splendid help and fine workmanship in getting out the church letters.

Making Progress On Celebration

Committees in charge of Digby's July 1st celebration, to be held this year under the joint sponsorship of the Digby Branch of the Navy League of Canada, and the Digby Board of Trade, met in the town hall on Thursday evening last. Reports presented on this occasion indicated real progress is being made, and there is every reason to believe this year's celebration will be fully as good—and probably better—than those held in other years.

As in the past the celebration will start off with a street parade. Appeals for entries are published elsewhere in this issue. It is to be hoped these appeals will be well responded to, for, while in recent years our street parades have been excellent in quality, it has been felt more entries were needed to really "make" them.

Present plans are to have the parade get under way somewhat earlier than in other years, in order that vehicles otherwise busy later in the morning will have an opportunity to enter.

Water sports, track meet, horse and ox pull, soft ball, boxing and other events will be prominently featured in the programme, which will be printed in full in a later edition of the Courier.

Victoria Bridge Still Closed

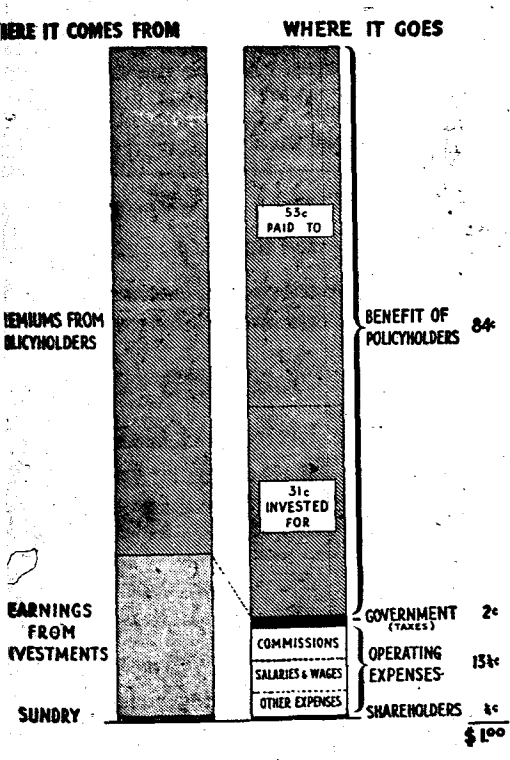

Victoria Bridge, across the mouth of Bear River, is still "open," and therefore closed to traffic. On Monday of last week the bridge jammed after it was opened to allow passage of a ship bound for Bear River. All efforts to close it were in vain, and special engineers have been designated to do the job.

It is understood it may be some time yet before the bridge is closed, and judging from a prevalent rumor, after it is once closed it will be a matter of several weeks before repairs can be made to open and close it to navigation. If this report is true the port of Bear River will likely be closed as a port for some time.

In the meantime traffic is routed along the River Road or up through Lansdowne, making a detour of several miles—and, incidentally using up hundreds of gallons of rationed gasoline, and still further wearing down well worn tires.

The effect of the traffic tie up is quite evident in Digby. The number of Navy personnel from Cornwallis, on the other side of the bridge, spending their evenings or Saturdays in town, has been reduced by more than 50 per cent.

Message from the Life Insurance Companies in Canada

1. "I called it Hay Fever for years. Suffered directly the dry weather started—positively daren't sit on the veranda of an afternoon because of that 'pollen' as I used to call it. It just took all the joy out of the summer."

2. "Then the new doctor came to the district. I thought he was too young for his job. One day he came in to see Grandpa and I mentioned my hay fever. 'Hay fever,' he said, 'that's not hay fever—it's the DUST.'"

3. "That's just what I say," chimed in Grandpa. "No wonder folks cough and sneeze with these great clouds blowing in from the road. It's spoiling my crops too."

4. "Well Grandpa and the Doc. went down to the Council Meeting that very night and thrashed the whole thing out. The Doc. suggested Calcium Chloride. It'll pay for itself in the end, you'll save repairing costs—and you'll all have better health, he said."

5. "So they fixed the road with Calcium Chloride. That doctor is a smart young chap, I say. That's five years ago, and we haven't any more bills for repairs... and I haven't had any hay fever either."

6. "Reeve Jackson told Grandpa the other day that the cost of gravel road maintenance in the county is lower than it has been for years. Calcium Chloride treatment saves so much of the labour and materials needed for more frequent blading and re-surfacing in ordinary maintenance! In fact, after paying the cost of the treatment, he said, the county is still to the good, while the road surface is tremendously improved. Grandpa says, it's as plain as the nose on your face—that you can get better roads with Brunner Mond Calcium Chloride, without extra cost."

WAR-TIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—Are residents of the rural districts to be allowed more than ten pounds of canned sugar this year?

A.—No. Every Ration Book holder in Canada is allotted the same amount of canning sugar (10 lbs.) since this is considered a part of the total ration of sugar, preserves and sweeteners. Any preserves coupons you may have left may be used to purchase ½ lb. of sugar per coupon.

Q.—Can retailers charge the selling price on fresh eggs at the present time?

A.—No. Due to a more plentiful supply of eggs, the price drops during the seasons of increased productions, and retailers must not charge more than their basic period markup, and this must not exceed 20 per cent of his selling price, or 6c. per dozen, whichever is the lower.

Q.—The other day I bought a pound of tea and offered the grocer the tea coupons in my ration book No. 3. He refused to take them saying that the coupons in the old book were no longer necessary. Was he right?

A.—No, he was not right. All tea-coffee coupons in the No. 3 book are still good and will remain so until an expiry date is announced for them.

Q.—I have rented the house I now occupy, for over three years. I pay the rent monthly in advance, but have no lease. When can the landlord give notice, and how much notice must be given?

A.—As you are a monthly tenant you are entitled to six months' notice. This notice cannot terminate between October 1 and the following April 30. The landlord can only give notice to vacate if he requires it for his mother, father, son, daughter, daughter-in-law, or for personal occupation.

Q.—I plan to spend a week's holiday at a summer boarding house. Must I take my ration book along and allow them to detach what coupons they want?

A.—No, it is not necessary for you to take your ration book to the proprietor of the boarding house unless you remain there for two weeks or longer. After two weeks the owner may detach one sugar coupon, one tea coupon, two butter coupons and one preserves coupon from your book. They are entitled to these coupons at the end of each succeeding two weeks if you stay that length of time.

Q.—My grocer often tears out expired coupons from my ration book. He says they are no good to me. Is he right?

A.—No this is not right. You should tear out and destroy any unused expired coupons yourself. It is true they are no use to you but the retailer might use them to obtain goods to which he is not entitled.

Ice Cream is an Every Day Food

Ice Cream comes in handy for every occasion. It may be served plain or as the basis for other dishes or beverages. Adding but a little bit of imagination, an endless variety of Ice Cream dishes can be made in your own home.

The homemaker can prepare a delightful dish in but a few moments. By the skillful use of the addition of full combinations of various sauces, nuts, or tart fruits, she will arrive at results that will please the most indifferent appetite.

Ice Cream fits into the simplest and most elaborate meal equally well. And, since it is so easy to prepare, it allows busy war workers more time for community and war activities.

It is a wholesome dairy food enjoyed by the whole family, and one that can be prepared with the minimum of time and effort.

Today, when nutrition is doubly important and time is at a premium, Ice Cream is practically an essential in the nation's diet. It is a delicious and nutritious food which can be served to every member of the family, and is a convenient food for between-meal refreshment and emergency meals.

A recent survey shows that about 49 per cent of adult women and 44 per cent of adult men never drink milk. However, nearly every one eats Ice Cream, making it an excellent food which provides both milk and cream in a form that appeals to hosts of people who otherwise would consume very small amounts of dairy products.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. VanBlarcom left yesterday for Halifax, where they will visit their daughter, Sue Brooks, and granddaughter, Mrs. Cassells, and their little great-granddaughters. They will be away a week or more.

Perhaps Eve would have ignored the fig leaf if rhubarb such as grown by Vincent Gaudet, Plympton, grew in the Garden of Eden. Mr. Gaudet brought a stalk into our office on Saturday, the stem was not unusually heavy, but its leaf measured twenty-four inches in length and thirty inches across — there was enough leaf to make the modern Eve a dress!

OBITUARY

John T. Chisholm
The death of John T. Chisholm occurred suddenly at his home in Vancouver, B.C., during the evening of Wednesday, June 7. He was born at Windsor, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James R. Chisholm of that town, and has made his home in Vancouver for nearly 40 years. Surviving are his widow; one son, Maxwell, and three daughters, Mrs. Harold Gamney and Mrs. Clarence W. Truax, all of Vancouver, and Miss Averil Chisholm, in London, England. Also surviving are three sisters, Mrs. Frederic C. Snow, Miss Bessie L. Chisholm and Miss Grace D. Chisholm, all of Digby.

Mrs. Mary C. Hamilton
Mrs. Mary C. Hamilton, widow of Rev. W. J. Hamilton, passed away in the Toronto General Hospital on Saturday, June 3rd. Mrs. Hamilton was a daughter of the late Matthew and Julia Stevenson, of Charlottetown, P.E.I., where she was born. She was in her 75th year. Rev. Mr. Hamilton held pastorates in several Baptist Churches in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick and Ontario. They moved to Toronto fifteen years ago. Her husband predeceased her five years. Surviving to mourn the loss of a loving mother, are three daughters, Mrs. Arthur Hicks, Westport; Mrs. Charles Welch and Mrs. Roy Reid, both of Toronto. Mrs. Hamilton had made her home with Mrs. Reid since her husband's death. Also surviving are two sisters, Mrs. Margaret Dewar and Mrs. Fannie Macleod, both of Vancouver, and one brother, Hammond Stevenson, also of Vancouver.

Mrs. E. D. Morehouse
Cynthia, wife of Ernest D. Morehouse, of Sandy Cove, died in the Digby General Hospital on Sunday. After an illness of three weeks, at the age of 74 years. She was a daughter of the late Charles and Rachel Morehouse, of Centreville, and had been a resident of Sandy Cove about 42 years. She was a lifelong member of the former Methodist Church, later the United Church of Canada and took a prominent part in all the activities of the village. Left to mourn their loss are her husband; six sons: Harold, in Namu, B.C.; Winston, in Danbury, Conn.; Blair, in Saint John; Emdon and Hugh, in Sandy Cove, and Austin, now with the R.C.A.F., in England; two daughters, Mrs. R. W. Sypher, of Sandy Cove, and Mrs. G. A. Mutch, of Regina, three sisters, Mrs. Stewart Gates, Boston; Mrs. George Holdsworth, also in the United States, and Mrs. Bertha Morehouse, Centreville; and one brother, Fred Morehouse, of Centreville. The funeral took place on Tuesday afternoon and was conducted by Rev. R. H. Barker.

Mrs. Harvey Walker arrived last week to spend some time with relatives and friends.

OBITUARY

James E. Banks

An esteemed, life-long resident of Bear River, James Elphlet Banks, passed away Thursday June 8, at his home, after a lingering illness at the age of 76 years. His wife predeceased him several years ago. He was the youngest son of the late Abraham and Sarah (Rice) Banks, of Bear River.

He leaves to mourn their loss, four sons: Hallett, Oakley and Lewis, all of Bear River, and Sgt. Wilton Banks, R.C.A., of Halifax; two daughters, Hazel (Mrs. Avarod Robar), of Virginia; Alice (Mrs. William Foster) of New York; nine grandchildren; one brother, George, of Bear River.

The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon from his late home, conducted by Rev. Kenneth E. Dotson, of the Advent Christian Church, of which he was a member, assisted by Rev. G. D. Brydon, of the Baptist Church. The pall bearers were the four sons. The floral offerings were many and lovely showing the high esteem in which he was held. Interment was in Mount Hope Cemetery.

he organ and Mrs. D. C. MacLean was the soloist assisting the choir. The Honor Roll was unveiled by Mrs. Ernest Rawding and the names read by Mrs. Howard Potter. The church roll was called by the clerk, Mrs. B. H. A. Rice and responded to by a goodly number of members. The Roll Call sermon was delivered by Rev. Mr. Salter, Senior Chaplain of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, and a deep impression made upon the large congregation by his masterly address. A generous offering was received which will be used for the work of the local church.

A similar Roll Call service will be held next Sunday evening in the Deep Brook church.

A very successful annual Roll Call was held in the Baptist Church at Clementsport last Sunday evening. A special feature of which was the unveiling of the Honor Roll upon which was inscribed thirty-six names of men and women of the village and surrounding districts, who have already enlisted for active service in the armed forces. The service was in charge of the pastor, Rev. T. F. McWilliam, a veteran of World War I. Miss Alice Mansfield presided at the wedding in marriage to Flying

Roll Call Service Held

A very successful annual Roll Call was held in the Baptist Church at Clementsport last Sunday evening. A special feature of which was the unveiling of the Honor Roll upon which was inscribed thirty-six names of men and women of the village and surrounding districts, who have already enlisted for active service in the armed forces. The service was in charge of the pastor, Rev. T. F. McWilliam, a veteran of World War I. Miss Alice Mansfield presided at the wedding in marriage to Flying Officer Eric Harold Alexander Benson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Benson, of Edmonton. A reception for seventy-five guests was held at the bride's home in Garneau. The bride is well-known in musical circles. Flying Officer Benson received his wings at Yorkton, Sask., June 1942. Almost immediately he was appointed to the R.A.F. Transport Command, Nassau, Bahamas. His early childhood was spent in Deep Brook, where he was born, Mrs. E. Weldon Mosher, St. James Rectory, of Bridge-town, is a sister.

Twelve small guests were entertained at the home of Mrs. Harold Harris last Thursday afternoon, the occasion being the third birthday of her son Wayne. The children played games, after which supper was served. Norman Parker sang "Happy Birthday to You" as the birthday cake, lighted by three candles, was cut. Wayne received many nice gifts.

If You're Planning to Get A Telephone

YOU may have to wait. Your telephone company has the problem of stretching its facilities much further than was ever intended. The war has greatly increased the demand for telephone service. At the same time, the war prevents our building new equipment because metals and so on are not to be had.

We hope you'll understand, too, that any delay you experience is a war necessity which we regret as much as you do.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

HERE'S THE FIRE PLEDGE — show it to three friends!

TODAY Nova Scotia needs her forest wealth as never before. Although this is a mechanized war, WOOD is actually in greater demand for ships, planes, war plants, soldiers' huts and containers for shells, food and equipment than any other material.

Yet, due to carelessness and criminal acts, great stands of Nova Scotia's precious war timber may be reduced to ashes within the next few months. Destruction of our trees, always a serious matter, is something we simply cannot put up with in wartime.

It remains then for the people—the OWNERS of Nova Scotia's forest heritage—to stop this wanton waste of our war resources. You simply must be careful in the woods now. And make others careful, too. That's your job—while our former fire fighters are fighting for you overseas. So take the PLEDGE herewith yourself—and show it to at least three of your friends.

Play Safe! Be Careful! Prevent Forest Fires!

THE FUTURE FOR FIGHTERS

Answers to Questions About the Rehabilitation Programme for Service Men and Women

Q.—What is the basis on which pensions are awarded?

A.—A pension is paid to provide that portion of maintenance which an ex-service-man is unable to provide for himself due to service disability. Except where complete disability is a result of military service, the pension is not designed to provide complete maintenance. For this reason pensions are awarded on a percentage scale. For example, a man 5 per cent disabled gets a 5 per cent pension, while a man 75 per cent disabled gets a 75 per cent pension, i.e., 5 per cent on 75 per cent of total disability.

Q.—Who are eligible for pensions?

A.—All service personnel overseas, who suffer disabilities during service may be awarded pension if the disability is not a result of their own misconduct. Personnel serving in Canada, with no overseas service, may be awarded pensions only if the injury or disease, resulting in disability or death, arose out of, or was directly connected with military service.

Q.—Does this mean that, if I were overseas and injured in an accident while on leave any disability resulting would be pensionable?

A.—Yes, provided the accident did not arise as a result of your own misconduct.

Q.—What is the scale of pensions?

A.—The annual rates for 100 per cent disability for all ranks up to and including that of Sub-Lieutenant (Navy), Lieutenant (Military) and Flying Officer (Air) are:

Man	$900
Wife	300
First child	180
Second Child	144
Each subsequent child	120

Higher rates are provided for ranks above those stated, but the additional pension for wives and children remains the same.

Q.—If I am totally disabled and need to secure an attendant, is any provision made for me?

A.—An additional allowance for helplessness, not exceeding $750 per annum, may be paid in the case of total disability when the services of an attendant are required.

Q.—If I am killed on military service, what pension will my widow get?

A.—Up to and including the ranks quoted before, a widow's pension is $720 per annum. Pensions for children remain the same. Higher pensions are provided for widows of officers above those ranks.

Q.—If I were killed on military service and left orphan children, what provision is made for them?

A.—The rates for orphaned children are double those for children with a parent or parents.

Q.—If I am killed and have dependent parents, is there any provision for them?

A.—Dependent parents may be pensioned at the rate for a widow, or such lesser rate as may be deemed necessary to provide maintenance.

Q.—What is the procedure in granting pensions?

A.—In every case where a member of the forces is discharged for medical reasons, his documents are sent to the Department of Pensions and National Health, and they are examined by the Canadian Pension Commission. If the Commission is satisfied from the evidence available that a pension should be awarded, it is granted automatically following medical examination for assessment purposes.

Q.—If pension is not granted automatically, or am I dissatisfied with the award, what procedure is followed?

A.—Briefly, it consists of three steps: on first application the evidence presented is considered at what is known as a first hearing. If the decision is adverse to the applicant, he is entitled to a second hearing, provided he applies within 90 days. When presenting his claim for second hearing, he is required to include all disabilities which he claims to be due to military service. He is furnished with a complete and detailed summary of all evidence pertaining to his case available in the departmental records. He is given every opportunity to review this evidence, to include any additional evidence he can secure, and is allowed six months to prepare his claim. If the second decision is adverse, the applicant has the right to appear before an appeal board sitting in his district and to call witnesses. The judgment of an appeal board is final, unless special permission to re-open a claim is secured, based on an error having been made, or by reason of evidence not having been presented, or otherwise.

Q.—Am I given assistance in preparing my claim?

A.—Pensions' advocates, attached to Veterans' Bureau throughout Canada are available to give impartial unbiased advice and assistance at no charge to you. These men are fully experienced in pension procedure.

Q.—If I am not granted a pension, will I be told why?

A.—Yes. You are made fully aware of the reasons for the decision.

Q.—Do I receive pension in all cases of injury or illness?

A.—No. The injury or illness must result in some definite disablement before a pension can be awarded. It must also be under the classification set out previously as pensionable.

Wool Grading Higher Than Ever

Nova Scotia wool, which has graded high in past years, is grading higher than ever this year according to reports received from the wool grading stations at Antigonish and Truro. Of the wool graded up to May 26 well over ninety per cent qualified for the 4-cent a pound government bonus paid on high quality wool. The percentage at Antigonish was particularly high, being 96.9 while at Truro it was 81. The higher grading at Antigonish may be partly due to the fact that producers in the eastern part of the province have had longer experience in marketing on the graded basis and to their educational work in production and marketing.

F. W. Walsh, director of marketing, in expressing his pleasure at the high returns, stated that last year when 66 per cent of the wool marketed for the entire season qualified for the bonus, he had been advised by officers of the Canadian Wool Board that the percentage of wool for which the bonus was received in Nova Scotia was higher than that in any other part of Canada.

Mr. Walsh said he believed that Nova Scotia wool producers were doing their utmost to market their wool in a high-class manner and in so doing were building up an enviable reputation for the Nova Scotia product. He added that he did not expect that even with the best of care the higher percentage of bonused wool reached to date would be maintained throughout the season. Experience has shown that it is the early shorn wool which grades highest. The Sheep Committee of the Province has repeatedly appealed for early shearing in order that the wool might grade high, the returns to the producer be more favorable and the sheep be in better condition.

There should be little if any excuse for wool still being on the sheep, says Mr. Walsh, but if there are cases where sheep are not shorn or wool not shipped, every effort should be made to finish the job with the least possible delay; for there is a good market and a great need for every pound of wool that can be produced this year.

Cows Need Balanced Rations

The owners of dairy cattle when feeding for high milk production should give considerable thought to the use of balanced rations, states Dr. E. I. Hancock, Animal Pathologist, Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture. During the past few weeks, probably the use of protein has been given more consideration than some other essential feed requirements.

He adds, "our policy of so-called pushing for production may be responsible for some of the problems we are meeting within the dairy herds today. When we expect a cow to give a large flow of milk for a calf approximately every twelve months and maintain her own system, it is necessary to her good health to receive an adequate amount of feed requirements. When dairy rations are lacking in these essentials the cow goes on for a time producing milk and developing a calf, which requires a large amount of mineral matter as well as proteins and carbohydrates, and if adequate minerals are not supplied as a supplement to the feed the demand is then met at the expense of the cow, the material being taken from her own body tissues."

"The constant drain on the animal system," he concludes, "when not replenished, lowers the body resistance and it would appear that this may be the underlying cause of many abnormal conditions met with. It is recommended that cows whether in milk or during the dry period, receive a proper diet containing sufficient minerals with salt at all times.

All Jersey Men Invited

Every Jersey breeder in Nova Scotia and his family is invited to Sunny Slope Farm, Windsor, on Saturday, June 24, for the annual meeting and field day program of the Nova Scotia Jersey Cattle Club. J. A. Steele, club secretary, in appealing for a large attendance, points out that C. E. Boulden, proprietor of Sunny Slope, has a "fine farm, a fine herd and is a fine host. In the afternoon there will be a short program of speeches, followed by the annual meeting when a new constitution will be brought in for consideration. W. T. Hunter, "Jersey Bill" of Ontario, field man for the Canadian Jersey Club, will be present to discuss the classes of cattle to be brought out.

Weather Records Made In May

A comparison of meteorological records for the past 31 years reveals that May of this year produced some outstanding results, states Arthur Kelsall, Superintendent of the Dominion Experimental Station at Kentville.

There was more sunshine this May than in any year since records have been kept at the station while the precipitation was the lowest on record and the average mean temperature was 3.62 degrees above the 31-year average.

Hours of sunshine totalled 307 compared with the 31-year average of 198.2 hours. The nearest approach to this sunshine record was that recorded in 1933 which totalled 271.8 hours. In that year precipitation totalled 2.32 inches compared with a mere .22 inches this May and 2.64 inches last year. The lowest precipitation apart from this May, was .67 inches in 1924 when sunshine totalled 224.85 hours.

Not only was May, 1944 bright and dry it was also a month of warm temperatures, the mean maximum for the month, 68.35 degrees, being up nearly 8 degrees compared with the 31-year average of 60.50 degrees.

While May, 1944 was the driest May in 31 years and also the driest of any month in that period, the weather was such as to facilitate farm operations and spraying, says Mr. Kelsall, but vegetable and other small seeds showed patchy germination due to the drought.

Making Soil Surveys

Fieldman from the Soils and Fertilizer division, Nova Scotia department of Agriculture, are now on survey work in Colchester County. One party is on general soil survey in the southern section while the farm-to-farm party is in the northern part. The latter workers visit every farm and in so doing contact the farmers while the former, who are establishing soil types and work on soils in both cultivated and wooded areas, do not call on individual farmers.

The farm-to-farm survey states Dr. George Smith, Provincial Chemist, examines the soil on various farms in order to provide the farmer with information that may enable him to increase crop production in the immediate future. It also aims at working out a long term soil management and crop production program for each area surveyed.

Many requests are received by the Department each year from farmers, organized farm groups and agricultural representatives to have soil testing carried on in their respective areas. Areas in Hants County, the North Shore and Antigonish County were worked last year. Questions given special consideration in the making of these surveys are soil drainage, previous soil treatment and response, physical condition of the soil and tillage methods, soil texture, organic matter content, soil sourness, lime requirement, available plant nutrients.

Soil survey work carried on to date indicates that the surface and subsoils of the average Nova Scotia virgin upland soils are relatively low in a number of major plant nutrients, particularly calcium, magnesium and phosphorus. Proper soil management demands that these elements be supplied in the form of limestone (preferably dolomite) and phosphate fertilizer.

Nova Scotia Bred Guernsey Makes Good Record

Bred by W. L. Cook, Yarmouth, and sired by Patricia St. Patrick, the purebred Guernsey cow Clover's Honey, has just completed an outstanding record in R.O.P. by producing 17,650 lbs. milk, 752 lbs. fat. She is owned by Donnelly Farms, Pinegrove, Ontario. The sire is at present in service at Oakfield Estate and is a grandson of Princess Patricia, one of Canada's leading producers.

An infra-red light, giving only five per cent light and ninety-five per cent heat, could keep you warm in bed with very little covering. Such a lamp cooked bacon and eggs in four minutes during a demonstration.

Wounded soldiers in this war have a greater chance of recovery than ever before. Parachute doctors, blood plasma, and quick transport to base hospitals are the main causes of this gratifying result.

Ernest Walsh is on the sick list.

Carl Mullen, Milton, is a visitor in town this week.

Staff Sgt. Willfred Cosman, Halifax, is spending a leave at his home here.

Ord. Smn. Victor Barr is enjoying a twelve-day leave at his home.

Stoker P. O. Louie Melanson, R.C.N.V.R., is visiting his father, Fred Melanson.

Another person now ill is Frank Mullen. We hope he is improving soon.

A.B. Douglas Moir, Shelburne, was a week end guest of Miss Geraldine Comeau.

The boxes for the boys overseas, will be packed this month on the fourth Friday of the month instead of the third Friday.

Miss Mader, former school teacher at Weymouth North, was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Lent, over the week end. Other guests at this home on Friday were the present teachers, Miss Creaser and Mrs. Ross.

Weymouth is commencing to feel proud of the interest shown here in the blood plasma clinic, held every Tuesday evening at Digby. Last week's donors were: Mrs. G. Campbell, Miss Creaser, Miss Weaver, Mr. Matheson, Mrs. G. Blackadar, Miss M. LeBlanc, Miss Helena Ford, Mrs. Judy Muise and Miss Auralie Comeau. If you are interested, write or phone Mrs. Cerenio Jones, Weymouth, phone 56-11. Transportation found.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brown and son, Donald, Halifax, are guests of Mrs. Fletcher Bartlett.

Mrs. A. D. Foote entertained the Missionary Society of Riverside Baptist Church on Tuesday last.

Miss Teresa Granville, Halifax, is visiting her parents, Capt. and Mrs. Granville, for a few days.

Mrs. Ephriam Gates has gone to Montreal, where she will enter the hospital for treatment.

Mrs. H. J. Melanson and Mrs. E. A. Fergusson have been visiting in Halifax for several days.

Mrs. Harold Blackadar, who has been visiting her daughter, Mrs. Carl Johnson, Lynn, Mass., has returned home.

The following articles were on hand this week at the Red Cross rooms from Havelock-New Tusket auxiliary: 6 quilts, 24 towels, 36 handkerchiefs, 3 nightgowns, 5 jackets, 13 pairs socks. From the Riverdale Red Cross: 2 quilts, 1 slip, 10 handkerchiefs. One of the quilts made by Ruby McCullough, age 14 years.

We were glad to have our president, Mrs. Dixon Rice, at Red Cross with us again, after her visit to the United States. Attendance lately at the weekly meetings has not been as good as it should and the president has called for a larger attendance, if possible. There is much to be done at this time and work for all. If you have been saying to yourself "I'll go next week," do it now!

WANTED

The sponsors of the JULY 1st Celebration want to make the Parade for that day ONE MILE LONG. This can be made possible only by your whole-hearted support and time and effort.

We will need Decorated Cars, Trade Floats, Novelty Floats, also Horse- and Ox- Drawn Vehicles, Decorated Bicycles, Doll Carriages, etc.

All those who are willing to co-operate in making the Parade a success please register early with C. M. Levy, Chairman Parade Committee. Prize List will be published later.

Dan Hankinson, C.S.P., Halifax, and Mrs. Hankinson, are spending two weeks with relatives in Weymouth and vicinity.

Afternoon tea was served at the regular Red Cross meeting this week by Mrs. Stanley Hallett, Mrs. Eva Nickerson and Mrs. J. W. Dunkley. Two quilts were quilted and tops pieced together.

Mrs. C. F. Granville entertained at afternoon tea on Friday to her group of C.G.I.T. Girls and their mothers. A very pleasant two hours were spent by the mothers, seeing for themselves what the C.G.I.T. work consists of and the work this particular group has been doing this past term. This was the final meeting for the group for this year. At least one girl will attend summer camp at Pinehurst, this year, and maybe two.

The Ladies' Aid of the United Church met with Mrs. Charles DeLong on Thursday last.

Mrs. Wallace Perkins and Gnr. and Mrs. Maurice Perkins and children were visitors this week at the home of Mrs. Perkins' daughter, Mrs. Charles DeLong, and Mr. DeLong.

Blinn - Flynn
A very pretty wedding took place at St. Mary's Church at Church Point, June 12, when Rev. Oliver Hebert, united in marriage Lucille Flynn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Flynn, and Edward Blinn, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis J. Blinn. Given in marriage by her father, the bride was charmingly gown in a floor-length dress of white satin with accessories to match. The bridesmaid, Margaret Flynn, sister of the bride, was attired in blue taffeta with veil and accessories to match. Petty Officer Anselm Blinn was best man. Immediately after the ceremony a reception was held at Mrs. Camille Comeau's for immediate friends and relatives. Supper was served at Mr. and Mrs. Louis Blinn's, parents of the groom. They will reside at Church Point, where the groom is employed. A shower was held at the home of the bride on Wednesday, June 7, when many beautiful gifts were received.

Blood Plasma Again Saves Lives

L/Tel. George Quigley, on leave after the sinking of the "Athabaskan," said that at least forty-five men were saved with blood plasma after a previous bombing of his ship. One boy had both legs shot off and was kept alive with blood plasma until they were in a position to operate. At one time they ran out of plasma and were compelled to use the crew for transfusions. This of course all happened before the invasion.

Gave Her 8th Pint of Blood

Mrs. Angus Robicheau has arrived in Boston, Massachusetts, to visit her five daughters there. On Friday, June 9, she had the pleasure of seeing her daughter, Bernice (Mrs. M. J. Connell) donate her 8th pint of blood to the Red Cross Blood Bank, and Mrs. Robicheau says that if the fighting boys smile when they receive the plasma the way the vast crowd did the day she saw them, why it's blood well given.

Display of Work By High School Students

The Household Science and Manual Training closing was held in the Scout Hall Monday evening. Hubert Warne, chairman of the Board of School Commissioners introduced Miss Ruth Campbell, Household Science teacher.

"In our work actions speak louder than words, so I will not make a speech," said Miss Campbell. She drew attention to the work which was on display, especially the Red Cross work, material and wool for which had been bought with money made during the year. Miss Campbell also mentioned the demonstration of war-time canning and Tea held in the school last Thursday, and thanked the boys of the manual training class for the setting of the stage for the Fashion Show and erection of display tables.

Mr. Warne then introduced Edward Embree, Manual Training teacher, who spoke on the work and aims of Industrial Arts Course, from the beginning, where boys were taught to distinguish different woods, their uses and durability. The handling of tools and the manipulation of the woods. He stressed the value of teaching the boys to use their hands and various tools, the shaping of the wood and on to the finishing. Mr. Embree drew attention to the display of work, especially a rug which was laid out to show the boys work in its natural surroundings, only four articles, the rug, studio couch, and two chairs had been borrowed. The end tables, magazine tables, footstools and lamps being the work of the class.

Ruth Lent then introduced the Fashion Show in rhyme, and turning the hands of the clock in the centre of the stage to 8 a.m., girls dressed in school wear appeared, 10 o'clock featured the shopper, 12 o'clock aprons and caps, 2 p.m. sports wear, 4 o'clock tea dresses and 7 p.m. evening outfit complete with Dutch hat and hobo bag. All the dresses were the work of the girls, as were the articles on display, skirts, aprons, and knitted goods were well made and finished.

On the boys' side the articles ranged from plant trellis, racks, hangers, lamps, sewing cabinets, plant stands and tables. Both displays were a credit to teachers and students showing a great deal of work had been covered during the year.

Married Fifty Years

Mr. and Mrs. A. Douglas Daley, of Digby, celebrated the 50th anniversary of their marriage on Friday last by spending the day quietly at home while friends and neighbors called to extend their congratulations and best wishes.

Mr. and Mrs. Daley were married in Trinity Church, Digby, on June 16, 1894 by the Reverend H. A. Harley. The bride, who was the former Grace Guptill, was attended by Miss Minnie Barton, while H. E. Jones supported the groom.

Both have played an active part in the affairs of the town and of the church. Mr. Daley still holding important offices with Trinity Church, Digby. He is also well known as a sportsman, and for many years, prior to its sale to the town of Digby, was manager of the Daley Electric Light Company.

On Friday, the occasion of their Golden Anniversary, Mr. and Mrs. Daley were recipients of many lovely cards and gifts, among them being a basket of fresh strawberries and a basket of eggs, each decorated with a star and a mandarin.

Visitors at Y.W.C.A. Leave Centre

Mrs. J. L. Savage, Chairman, and Mrs. A. U. Sanderson, Chairman of the Personnel Committee of the War Services Department, National Council Y.W.C.A., visited the Y.W.C.A. Leave Centre here, last Friday.

Mrs. Savage, who has been a member of the Y.W.C.A. National Council for seven years, was born in London, graduated from Cambridge University, and came to Canada during the last war to be married. She has been an active member of many women's clubs, is past president of the University Women's Club and secretary of the Canadian Federation of University Women. She has held her present post as chairman of the War Services Committee since 1940.

Mrs. Sanderson, also, was born in London, attended St. Catherine's School in Surrey, and received her A.R.C.M. from the London College of Music. Coming to Canada in 1910, she became chairman of the War Services Personnel Committee four years ago. Mrs. Sanderson has a son in the army and a daughter in the Air Force.

Digby Neck Boys War Casualties

Mr. and Mrs. Trueman Raymond, of Tiddville, have been advised their son, Pte. Glendon Raymond, was killed in action on Wednesday, June 14, during the early stages of the invasion of France. Glendon went overseas in 1942, and is well known on Digby Neck.

Official word has been received by Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Dukeshire, Centreville, that their son, Garth, suffered slight wounds while on active duty on the Italian front. This is the second time this Centreville lad has been wounded.

Fathers' Day Service Held

A very enjoyable Fathers' Day service was held in the Baptist Church Sunday evening with SB/A Donald Forbes (L.T.C.M.) at the organ, and P.O. Arthur Jones and P.O. Ernest Holmes, vocalists.

Special selections throughout the service were: organ solos—"None But the Weary Heart," "Ave Maria," "Londonderry Air," "Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring" and "Hallelujah Chorus." P.O. Jones rendered the solos "The Lord's Prayer" and "Face to Face" and a duet "Heartaches" was rendered by P.O. Jones and P.O. Holmes.

Rev. J. Earle DeLong gave a short talk on "Fathers' Day" and special selections were rendered by the choir.

Other People Are Wondering

To the Editor of the Courier: Sir—About four months ago there was a town election. At that time an ad appeared in our local press asking the voters to support certain councillors and it was signed by the Civic Betterment Committee. It is time we had some results from this unknown committee. Every stranger who comes to town, speaks of the two fires the town has just had, not knowing they occurred some time ago. The only results that can be seen is the stalls that have been painted on the streets. Now get in your stalls or else (unless you are a pet), I would rather pay than pet. Congratulations to the Civic Betterment Committee.

A Prospector

Mrs. W. Connell recently returned from Halifax where she has been visiting with Miss Una Merkle.

SCHOOL CLOSING EXERCISES

The annual graduation dance, which took place at the Racquette Casino on Wednesday evening, marked the beginning of the High School closing. The dance was attended by approximately 70 couples, and music for the occasion furnished by members of the Cornwallis orchestra.

Miss Ruth Campbell, Miss K. Durling and principal Charles Eaton of the High School Faculty comprised the receiving line. Guests, among whom were many of the boys stationed here on various naval craft, were introduced by Katherine Burnham and Eugene Handsaker of the graduating class. Mayor and Mrs. F. L. Anderson and H. M. Warne, chairman of the Digby Board of School Commissioners, were in attendance.

Arrangements for the dance were made by high school students, the following committees being responsible for its success:

Invitation Committee—Robin Connell, Beth Harvie, Louise MacDonald, Katherine Burnham, Eugene Handsaker.

Refreshment Committee—Ruth Campbell, Eleanor Warrington, Francis Woodman, Richard Rockwell.

Decoration Committee—Thelma Wood, Eleanor Hanson Morley Sypher and Richard Rockwell.

Arrangements for procuring the orchestra were made by Louise MacDonald, while the hall was engaged by Richard Rockwell.

Miss Ruth Campbell and her class gave a demonstration on Household Economics in the Household Science Room of the Academy on Thursday afternoon when the packing of lunch boxes and the sugarless method of canning were featured.

The equipment needed and necessary ingredients for a well prepared lunch box were discussed by Shirley Baxter, Esther Theriault and Joyce Daley. Colored charts were used to show the vitamin content of various foods and the need of vitamins in a well balanced diet stressed. Pamphlets on the "lunch box" were also distributed.

Francis Woodman then spoke on the equipment needed for sugarless canning, citing the water bath, pressure and oven methods. Care of sealers, the proper method of sterilizing and the selection of rubber rings were also considered.

The water method for the sugarless canning of rhubarb was demonstrated by Joyce Savary, while Millicent Long demonstrated the proper care of fruits and vegetables when packed. Articles used by the girls were of the type found in any well equipped kitchen, indicating successful canning can be done with everyday kitchen utensils.

Miss Campbell spoke on the cause and effects of spoilage and how to remedy them. She advised her listeners anyone interested in canning should write Miss Laura Pepper, Consumers' Section, Dept. of Agriculture, Ottawa, for an instructive pamphlet. A film on canning was then shown in the Grade IX room, after which a dainty tea was prepared by the girls and served by Marie Small, Eleanor Frude and Eleanor Warrington. Miss K. Durling poured.

H. M. Warne, chairman of the Digby Board of School Commissioners, presided over a banquet given in the large dining hall of the Myrtle Hotel on Thursday evening, for the graduating class of the Digby Academy. Members of the high school faculty and school board were guests. T. A. M. Kirk, inspector of schools for Yarmouth and Digby Municipalities, was guest speaker.

The toast to the graduating class was proposed by Dr. John R. McCleave, with response by Kathleen Burnham. Robin Connell proposed the toast to the school, and in his response, principal C. E. Eaton told of excellent records former Digby Academy graduates have made for themselves.

Inspector Kirk in his address stated that in his opinion Nova Scotia leads the rest of the Dominion in its program of direct vocational guidance, and pointed out it was the only province in Canada to appoint a full time Director of Vocational Guidance.

He declared he did not altogether agree with the time worn theory "all men are born equal," but advised students "there is nothing to stop you from getting what you go after... have a goal and you can overcome any obstacle."

In closing he complimented the Digby School Board on its attitude of looking forward into the future.

A hearty vote of thanks was extended to H. M. Warne, who was host to the graduating class on this occasion.

Students of the graduating class of the Digby Academy, with their teachers and members of the School Board, attended service at Grace United Church on Sunday evening when Rev. T. W. Hodgson, minister of the church, delivered the Baccalaureate Sermon.

Dr. Hodgson chose as his text the passage found in 1 Kings, 3:5 "and God said, Ask what I shall give thee."

He urged the students to aim high and to seek God's help in the moulding of their characters and in their life-work, they must pay a price for their success and achievements.

Herring Boats Damaged in Collision

Two herring boats bound for Grand Manan with herring from St. Mary's Bay wharves, collided near Petite Passage, Monday morning. One of the boats, operated by Capt. Harold Foster, Grand Manan, was badly damaged, part of the stern being torn out by collision. Fortunately the sea was calm and the weather calm.

The other boat, after taking on a portion of Capt. Foster's cargo, continued on its way. Seiners from Grand Manan, with the help of Capt. Shirley Tidd, of Little River, took the Foster boat in tow, landing it safely at Little River, otherwise the craft may have become a total loss.

Capt. Foster had the unfortunate experience of losing $100 in cash as a result of the accident. The money was in the pockets of a pair of trousers hanging in the deck house. In some manner the trousers were washed overboard.

Flames Destroy Barn

The whole south side of Meteghan was threatened with destruction by fire Tuesday morning of last week when flames broke out and razed a big barn owned by Mrs. Thomas Germain, the village postmistress. The barn was only a few steps away from the combined residence and Post Office and it was with difficulty that it, the store and bowling alley owned by Desiree Deveau and the fine dwelling of John Deveau were saved.

The fire department from the Clare Shipbuilding Company, and the departments from Meteghan and Meteghan River did excellent work, drawing their water from the sea and nearby wells.

Roll Call Service Held at Deep Brook

A very successful annual Roll Call Service was held in the Deep Brook Baptist Church on Sunday evening. The auditorium, which was recently re-decorated, was beautifully arranged with a profusion of flowers, and the choir under the direction of Walter Dittmars, with Mrs. Walter Lent presiding at the organ, rendered special music appropriate to the occasion. The Anglican congregation, uniting with the Baptist, fostered a splendid community spirit.

A special feature of this service was the unveiling of the Honor Roll of men and the women who have enlisted for active service from the whole district. The service was in a camp on Bear Island, re-charge of the pastor, Rev. T. F. McWilliam. The Honor Roll was unveiled by Mrs. Wilfred Marsters, whose husband is now in the Italian theatre of war, and the names, which were inscribed on the Roll by Miss Marjorie Vroom, were read by Mrs. William Spurr.

The church roll was called by the clerk, Mrs. Walter Lent, and responded to by a large number of members.

The special address was given by Rev. W. Grant MacDonald, Chaplain at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, and an offering of $100 received for church purposes.

Thibodeau - Balser
A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Digby Baptist parsonage on Friday evening, June 16, at 8 o'clock, when Lorna Phyllis, youngest daughter of the late Eber and Mrs. Balser, of Plympton (formerly of Lansdowne, became the bride of Alden Herbert, eldest son of the late Thomas and Mrs. Thibodeau, Plympton. The couple were attended by Mrs. Benjamin Mahar and Ashford Balser, sister and brother of the bride. The bride was dressed in white silk jersey with white accessories. Mrs. Mahar in navy blue figured crepe with white accessories. The wedding guests were Mrs. Eber Balser, mother of the bride, Mrs. Thomas Thibodeau, mother of the groom, Mrs. Ashford Balser, and Benjamin Mahar.

Merritt - Ramsey
A pretty wedding was solemnized in Saint Luke's Church, Annapolis Royal, on Monday evening, June 19, when Mildred Madeline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Ramsey, Lake LaRose, was united in marriage to Herbert Roscoe Merritt, eldest son of Mrs. and the late Roy Merritt, of Clementsport. The ceremony was performed by Rev. E. B. Gabriel, rector of the church. The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of white satin, with a shoulder length veil held by a coronet of white roses, and carried a bouquet of calla lilies. Bridesmaids were Irma and Evangeline Ramsey, sisters of the bride, who wore gowns of pink and blue chiffon and carried bouquets of carnations. Groomsman was Glenn Merritt, brother of the groom. Ushers were Lloyd Ramsey and Donald Merritt. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents. They received many beautiful gifts. After a honeymoon spent in Milford, the young couple will reside in Clementsport where the groom operates a taxi business.

Canvassers for the annual V.O.N. collections have completed their calls. If anyone has been missed, will they please leave their donations with Mrs. H. R. Bishop or any member of the V.O.N. Board.

Big Day Promised

Digby's July 1 celebration, sponsored jointly by the Digby Branch of the Navy League of Canada and the Digby Board of Trade, has every promise of being one of the most successful celebrations in the history of the town. Numerous celebrations have been held in the past to mark many occasions, but it is doubtful if committees in charge have ever put as much effort into their work as the efficient committees selected to direct this year's event.

Proceeds for the day are to be divided equally between the two organizations. The Navy League's share to be used for the development of district. The service was in a camp on Bear Island, recently donated by D. C. Lan-F. McWilliam. The Honor Roll was unveiled by Mrs. Wilfred Marsters, whose husband is now in the Italian theatre of war, and the names, which were inscribed on the Roll by Miss Marjorie Vroom, were read by Mrs. William Spurr.

The day will start off with a mammoth street parade in the morning, for which a large number of entries have already been promised. This parade will be headed by the H. M. C. S. Cornwallis band.

Water sports and track events will follow. Among the other interesting and exciting items on the program are a horse and ox pull, soft ball, boxing and dancing.

OBITUARY

Ross C. Smallie
The funeral of Ross C. Smallie, whose death occurred at Saint John early Friday morning, took place Monday afternoon from the residence of T. S. Matheson, the service being conducted by Rev. T. W. Hodgson, of Grace United Church. A service was conducted at Saint John on Sunday evening.

The late Mr. Smallie was born at Digby, a son of the late Captain and Mrs. Daniel Smallie, and for many years conducted a grocery business here. For the past six years he has made his home in Saint John with his daughter, Miss Helen Smallie, and at the time of his death was assistant night watchman of the Eastern Textile Products Ltd., of that city, and was fatally stricken while at work.

He was a member of the Centenary - Queen Square United Church in that city, and took an active part in Y. M.C.A. service work.

Besides his daughter he is survived by two brothers, Robert S., of Worcester, Mass., and Charles M., of New London, Conn.

Mrs. Joseph Morehouse
After a lingering illness of six months, Mrs. Joseph Morehouse passed away on June 12, at the age of 72 years. She was a life-long resident of Tiddville. She leaves to mourn besides her sorrowing husband, one brother, Henry, of Maine, and several nieces and nephews. Funeral services were held by Rev. Ross C. Eaton, pastor of the Freeport Baptist Church. Hymns sung were: "When My Life's Work is Ended," "Nearer, My God to Thee," and "Abide With Me." Interment was in the family lot in the Little River Cemetery beside her only son, who predeceased her by 39 years.

Mrs. Charles Teed
The death of Mrs. Charles Teed occurred at Freeport on Saturday, June 17, after only a few weeks' illness, at the age of sixty-seven years. Besides her husband, she is survived by several children: Ralph and Clarence, in Massachusetts; Harold and Herman, in Halifax; Mrs. Kempton Chapman, of New Glasgow; Mrs. Avery Finigan, of Freeport; Theodore, of Freeport; Luella and Thelma, also of Freeport; and a sister, Mrs. Titus, Westport.

Mrs. W. H. Conrad left on Monday for Kentville where she will visit friends.

WAR-TIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

I bought a bunch of celery in the store the other day for 43c. This seems like a high price. Was I overcharged?

Canadian stores are selling celery at high prices just now. This is because there is a ceiling on celery in the United States which supplies the early market. You may be assured that your dealer is not making excessive profits. Both retailers and wholesalers are receiving only normal returns allowed under Prices Board regulations.

In a recent column you mentioned that tea-coffee coupons in our old ration books are still valid. My grocer refused to honor my "yellow" coupons. Was he right?

You don't mention the number of the "E" coupons you offered your grocer. Numbers 1 to 6 are good for a pound of tea or 1 pound of coffee, but coupons above these are worthless. Because tea ration was increased in September, the regular coupons were not sufficient to last until Ration Book 4 became available in April. The "E" coupons were valid to fill in the gap. Number 7-16 are of no use to your grocer.

Where may I exchange coupons for preserves coupons? Are they valid now?

The first "F" canning sugar coupons become valid May 15. They may be exchanged for preserves coupons if you do not want to purchase canning sugar. Take them to your nearest local ration board and they will make the exchange.

In the case of ration book applications for a new baby, why are we not allowed coupons from the date of birth?

Ration books are provided to new applicants any time after birth. However, coupons are detached as at the day of application. A reasonable assumption is that rationed products were not required before the time application was made. All coupons removed from ration books are destroyed under paper supervision, according to standard practice.

I noticed in the press that people in "free areas" in Canada do not need coupons to buy evaporated milk with effect June 1. Is Nova Scotia a "free" or "restricted" area? The ruling for free areas applies to all the Maritimes. You no longer need coupons to buy evaporated milk. Any "G" coupons you have on hand should be destroyed.

Please send your questions and requests for "Re-Make Whistles" the handy booklet that tells you how to make use of cast-offs, "Consumers' News" or the Blue Book in which to keep track of your changing prices to the Consumer Branch, WPTB, 77 Upper Water St., Halifax.

Ice Cream Industry Endorses Local Papers

No one will attempt to dispute that the phenomenal increase in the use of Ice Cream, as a delicacy and as a refreshing food, has been due to the huge campaign of advertising launched by the industry. Leaders of the industry themselves, are the first to tell about it. More than 60 per cent of that huge expenditure goes to newspaper advertising. Reports that the insertion of a single advertisement in a local paper invariably increases sales—and a consistent program in local paper builds a permanent increase in sales volume.

It is rare endorsement of the local paper—and of newspaper advertising in general when it is remembered that more than 250 other industries of advertising are active in the industry.

Bedside Nursing By the V. O. N.

How many of our readers, many of whom are donating and have donated to the V. O. N. for years, are aware of just what our Victorian Order Nurse does?

Many people are under the impression that the V.O.N. is only for those who cannot afford a private nurse, while the poor think they cannot have her services because they can't afford to pay. Actually, they are both wrong. The Victorian Order of Nurses in Digby has a definite charge of 75c. a visit, $1.00 for mother and baby visit and $3.00 for delivery fees. These charges people are expected to pay. If they cannot possibly pay the Nurses charges or any part of them her services are still available.

As to what those services are... We have already told you of her pre-natal and post-natal care of mothers and of her Baby and Child Welfare Clinic for children up to school age; and again of our V. O. N.'s work among the school children. Now we come to the third phase of the V.O. N. service, "Bedside Nursing."

When our V.O.N. is called for Bedside Nursing she asks the name of the doctor in charge of the patient and immediately contacts him for any special instructions. Then she will come to attend the patient. She will take his temperature, pulse, and respiration; give a complete bed bath including the alcohol rub. She will change the linen on both bed and patient when necessary. When necessary too she will change any surgical dressings. The diet of the patient will be checked and suggestions made for any changes which the doctor approves. The member of the household who is looking after the patient will be shown all the little tricks which help to make one more comfortable while lying in bed. The nurse will come for one visit or for daily or weekly visits. Her coming will make not only the patient in the sick bed happier, but you, who have been worried over his care will feel yourself shedding your worries.

The Nurses of the Victorian Order are graduates of accredited hospitals where they have trained for three years and in addition have completed one year of public health at a university. During this year they have much Clinic and Field Work under actual working conditions.

This then is our Victorian Order of Nurses Service, Digby is lucky to have one.

Guarding Against Over-production

More efficient management and reducing costs of production to turn out better quality products will be the keynote of the poultry industry for the immediate future rather than continued expansion, predicts G. K. Samis, Provincial Poultry Promoter.

Chick hatcheries have had high hatchability this year with every indication the total hatch will exceed that of last year when an all-time high record was set. The 33 hatcheries operating in the Province with a capacity of 473,506 eggs, as reported to May 29, had set 1,234,120 eggs and had hatched 910,985 chicks. This was a marked increase over that for the corresponding date last year when the hatch was 652,173 chicks. Though current figures, says Mr. Samis, would seem to indicate a hatch for the season, it is believed that most hatcheries in great increase in the total the province will be closing down considerably earlier this season than last year which may reduce the total output for the entire hatching season. The expected early closing, he says, is to ward off some danger of overproduction if the total output for the Dominion this season were to be greatly in excess of last season's output. There is a lot of poultry and eggs in storage and if the poultry industry is to remain profitable for all concerned overproduction should be avoided.

Retailer Fined

S. M. Robertson, Ltd., Shelburne, pleaded guilty to a charge of selling a harmonica at an unjust and unreasonable price. After considering the case Magistrate R. V. Read fined the company $100 and costs.

Subsidies and Prices

During fiscal year 1943-44 the Canadian Government, through its Prices Stability Corporation, paid out in subsidies to importers and domestic producers, total of $115,000,000. This is to maintain prices ceiling. Subsidy is a tax, and that $115,000,000 came out of pockets of all of us. But what we paid out for these subsidies is not more than fraction of what we should have paid out if we had not had subsidies and cost of living had jumped. One point increase in cost-of-living index means $30,000,000 in higher prices to consumers. If, then, cost of living during past year had advanced by 10 points more than it did, we should have paid out $115,000,000 but $300,000,000. Whether we like principle of subsidies or dislike them, this is their justification. Pretty sound one. Prices in this country have been kept down in remarkable way. If there be those who doubt it, let them cross the border and spend a day or two in United States.

You won't get to Berlin in an Armchair!

If Canada and the United Nations had depended upon "Armchair Soldiers" to fight this war, the Nazis and Japs would have grabbed this country long ago.

There is no "Royal Road" to Berlin. It's fighting all the way and Canada's Army needs every man it can get. That's why, today, you should volunteer for overseas service. You'll need months of intensive training to make you fighting-fit.

Don't be a stay-at-home and let the other fellow do it. Get into a man's uniform with the G.S. badge of honour on your sleeve. If we're going to win this war, we'll have to do more than just read about it in the papers.

So, come on you fellows, the good old army has got to finish the job!

New Bus on The Road

The first trip of the modern new clipper bus for the Digby Neck service made its first trip from Digby to East Ferry on Wednesday of last week. In addition to the mails and a few paying passengers, several from Digby made the first voyage in the new road craft, as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Guy E. Morehouse, and enjoyed a picnic lunch before returning to Digby in the evening.

The new bus is a thoroughly modern vehicle with seating accommodation for thirty passengers and ample space for mails and small packages. Its interior is finished with blue mohair. There are emergency exits in the side and rear.

Need of a new bus for Digby Neck has been felt for some time, especially in view of the tremendous increase in passenger traffic and mails to that area, however, because of problems arising out of war manufacturing conditions, it was not until this year the new vehicle could be procured. The bus is the only regular means of transportation to and from this important section of Digby county.

Mr. Morehouse is to be congratulated on his selection which should provide the best service known in the history of the Neck. Incidentally, Digby Neck mail and passenger service has been in the Morehouse family since the "horseback" days, and Guy Morehouse, Sr., the present mail contractor has himself been driving mails and passengers up and down the Digby Neck road for nearly forty years. The service is probably the oldest motorized bus service in the Maritimes.

Many more blood donors are needed. Those interested please apply to Mrs. A. J. Dillon or Dr. J. R. McCleave.

New Addition to Digby Dairy Ltd.

The erection of an addition to the Digby Dairy Ltd. plant on First Avenue has begun. By this new addition, which will house a garage, stable and small storage room, the dairy plans to provide shelter for its trucks and wagons which have previously stood out in the weather. In the past the horses have been stabled in a rented building. The new addition, which will run west of the main building will be approximately the size of the main structure built last summer, and is expected to be completed some time in September.

Learn to Replace Your Fuses Yourself

It's Almost as Simple as Replacing a Lamp Bulb.

When a fuse "blows" . . . there must be a reason.
HERE ARE THE MORE COMMON CAUSES

1. DEFECTIVE IRON CORD
2. DEFECTIVE LAMP CORD
3. DEFECTIVE APPLIANCE

The first thing to do then is to disconnect the article that you think caused the trouble.

Next, open the entrance switch and examine the fuses. The blown fuse will usually have a darkened top or you can see whether the fuse link has been broken. Unscrew blown fuse with finger-tips and replace with a new fuse. Close entrance switch.

HAVE THE ARTICLE THAT CAUSED THE TROUBLE REPAIRED.

ANNOUNCEMENT

Due to the labor situation and other conditions it is going to be impossible for me to continue the COAL BUSINESS which I have conducted for the past twenty-one years. I will not maintain a stock this coming winter. I will endeavor to fill any orders I have on file if and when help and stock can be obtained.

I express my thanks and appreciation to customers in Digby and suburbs for their patience and co-operation during the past year when I was unable to give a satisfactory service. I am making this statement in order that my customers may protect themselves for the coming winter.

I hope that some person may want to carry on this business which appears quite necessary.

Canadian Indians' Contribution To War Effort

Indians in every part of Canada, and many of them from very meagre incomes, are making commendable contributions to the Dominion's war effort. According to figures released by the Indian Affairs Branch of the Department of Mines and Resources, contributions of record at Ottawa total nearly $25,000. Purchases of Victory Bonds and War Savings Certificates are well maintained among all Indians, and numerous outright donations marked for "the war effort" have been reported. Of the war services, the Red Cross is the most popular. The Wings for Britain Fund and overseas war relief organizations are favored by Indians in the West.

Compilations made to mid-April show that the Red Cross has benefited to the extent of $10,529, of which the Six Nations Band at Brantford contributed $5,200 and the Blackfoot Band of Alberta, $3,050. Other war organizations to which contributions have been made are the Canadian War Services, $1,779.20; Wings for Britain Fund, $2,310.31; Canadian Aid to Russia, $610.84; London Orphans Fund, $432.30; Queen's Canadian Fund, $650; British War Victims Fund, $300; Salvation Army, $100; and the Catholic Refugee Children $69.

Purchases of war savings certificates have so far reached $5,241 and outright gifts to the war effort total $2,282.51. Chief Edward Gamble of the Kitkatla Band of British Columbia donated $100 and earmarked it for the British War Effort.

Funds for these various contributions come from many sources. In some cases it represents interest earned on funds held in trust for them but in most cases it is the result of initiative and hard work on the part of the Indians. Concerts, bingo parties, bazaars, rodeos, sports days and picnics, chicken suppers, box and pie socials, knitting, sewing and quilting bees, and sales of cattle, hay and wood were the media for raising funds for these purposes. Some of the proceeds were used to send parcels and cigarettes to the 2,383 Indians in the armed services but the greater part went to organized funds.

Money, contributions forwarded through Ottawa do not by any means represent the full effort of the Indians. Numerous incidents are reported by Indian Agents of Indians taking quick and effective action to meet local emergencies. In one case in British Columbia an Air Force building was destroyed and a considerable quantity of the personal effects of the airmen was lost. Indians on a nearby reserve immediately organized a relief drive and over $60 was raised and presented to the airmen to help defray the cost of replacing their lost articles.

Many of the more northerly bands, where the chief item of exchange is the fur pelt, make frequent gifts of pelts which are sold and the proceeds turned over to selected war organizations. The Indians have also aided in various scrap drives with singular success and the women and girls have prepared thousands of articles of clothing and other necessities for the Red Cross and other war relief organizations.

Production of Farm Machinery in 1945

Total tonnage of farm machinery in 1945 will be approximately one half the tonnage manufactured during 1940 and 1941, according to a statement made by H. H. Bloom, administrator of farm and construction machinery for the Wartime Prices and Trade Board. Mr. Bloom pointed out that there will be no restriction on production of spare parts for farm machinery.

The tonnage devoted to the 1945 manufacturing program will be confined to types of machinery designated for Canadian agricultural authorities as essential to Canada's production of foodstuffs.

In addition to the tonnage of farm equipment being made available for ordinary domestic use, Mr. Bloom said that Canadian manufacturers are being asked to produce an additional tonnage of equipment specifically for the establishment of war veterans on the land. Canada's contribution of farm equipment for rehabilitation under the UNRRA program will also entail an additional tonnage.

Mr. Bloom pointed out that recently published comparisons of current steel tonnages allocated to the implement industry as compared to 1939 are not indicative of the relative farm machinery output in these years. Steel for the production of implements is obtained from both the United States and Canada, but since the outbreak of war, Canadian machinery producers have obtained much larger portions of their steel requirements from Canadian sources rather than from the United States. Therefore, while steel from Canadian sources for the production of farm equipment in Canada in 1945 may be 271 per cent, of 1939 Canadian steel consumed, this does not by any means indicate that the output will represent the same percentage of 1939 production. Actually the 1945 output will be approximately 100 per cent, of the 1940-41 average production of completed machines with substantially higher percentage of repair parts.

"The fact that 100 per cent machinery output will be of the average 1940 and 1941 available in 1945 does not mean that demand for all types and varieties of agricultural equipment can be filled," Mr. Bloom explained. Rationing will continue to be necessary and only the most urgent and essential needs can be met.

"While the supply situation has eased as far as some materials are concerned, shortage of manpower and consequent difficulty in obtaining adequate supplies of steel sheets, malleable castings, ball and roller bearings and motors prevents unrestricted output.

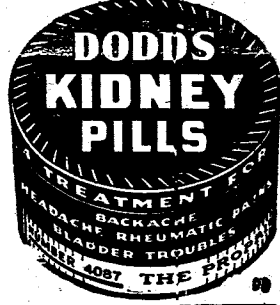

"Canadian manufacturers and importers will be permitted to commence production and import of 1945 equipment quotas July 1, 1944, but as it takes approximately six months to produce most machines after ordering materials, very little of the 1945 quotas will reach Canadian farmers before January 1945."

Thrill of a Lifetime

A bear in Prince Albert National Park, Saskatchewan, with a sweet tooth for chocolate, gave one party of girls an unforgettable few minutes. Four girls were resting beside a trail and had just about finished eating some chocolates when they saw a bear coming down the trail towards them. They decided to remain where they were, but, to their horror, the bear came up to them. He sniffed around for a few moments, licked the face of one of the girls who had been eating the chocolate and then ambled away. Needless to say the girls were petrified with fright, which was just as well, for, had one of them screamed, the bear might have severely injured them.

Wild animals in the national parks must be treated with respect. And if visitors want to be really kind to them, they will refrain from either feeding or petting them, however much they may be inclined to

Prospects Favorable

Weather has been extremely good for the crops and there is every prospect of yields somewhat better than last year, states V. Longley, Director of Agriculture, in a review for the province in the middle of June. May this year was the best on record in Nova Scotia for the first half of the year. It has been very light. The rainfall recorded at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College up to June 15 totalled 1.15 inches and fell on six days. The break of the drought was on June 3 and the early morning of June 4 when 41 inches of rain fell. This was followed on June 12 and 13th with a fall of 1.4 inches. Those rains with some fairly warm days, the maximum temperature being 31 degrees, greatly aided crop growth.

Produce have definitely improved. Hay is starting to show a fair growth. Early crops look exceptionally good and many small seeds are now coming through although they had to be some replanting. Many fields are spotty as a result of the dry weather. Early potatoes are up and sprouting. Planting, except for turnips and some potatoes, is practically completed in the province.

Grainage appears to be better than that of last year and a measure to the present season for working with the very limited amount of time.

Frost has done damage in some of the province, particularly to truck crops. Some sections of the province have completely escaped frost damage. The college station at Truro recorded 32 degrees below zero on the nights of June 3 and 4, but nothing below that this month. Fortunately the apple bloom in the Valley missed the frost. The blossom was practically over before there was frost.

In some parts of the province there has been considerable frost damage to strawberries and the dry weather has adversely affected the crop. While the frequent rains of the past two weeks have been of very material assistance to this crop, present prospects are that the yield will be definitely below normal.

All Lime Orders Filled

All orders received from farmers for agricultural lime have been filled according to the plan received from the Extension Division, Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture. There had been considerable build-up at quarries as a result of labor and transportation difficulties. The fact that lime can once more be filled promptly gives the farmers a chance to take advantage of the reduced price of $1.40 per ton recently announced. This reduction from $1.60 a ton has been made to encourage farmers to take delivery during the summer months. If this price, generally, it will help quarries to maintain production. The price will go up to $1.50 after August 30. All orders are for carlots at quarry nearest railway station. As well as lime, has been shipped from Antigonish and Inverness this spring. Of 500 tons were hauled from Antigonish and 900 from Inverness.

Butter Production Picking Up

Chamery butter production in Nova Scotia for the first months of this year totalled 2,212,153 pounds being an increase of 13.5 per cent over the total of 2,558,352 lbs. produced in the corresponding months of last year, according to a report issued by the Nova Scotia Dairy Superintendent. Production in May this year came much nearer 1943 production than did the preceding months of the year. The total for May, 1944, was 652,398 pounds or only 3.4 per cent loss than the total of 675,289 pounds in May, 1943. A very fair comparative showing was made in the first week of June when production was only 2.6 per cent below that of the corresponding week of last year.

Cold storage supplies for all Canada on June 1, totalled 17,423,590 pounds compared with 19,543,285 pounds June 1, 1943 and 11,331,714 pounds, June 1, 1942.

A list of average Montreal No. 1 butter quotations for the month of May, during the past 16 years shows that the highest price was 35.05 in 1929, the lowest 16.3 in 1932 and May 1944 price, 33.51. In May, 1939, the price was 20.62. In the succeeding war years it has been 23.1, 30.78 and 33.51 respectively.

Lauds Tractor Assistance Policy

Great satisfaction is being expressed in sections where the new community tractors have been used which were purchased under the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture's purchase assistance policy, states S. J. MacKinnon, Agricultural Representative at Antigonish. Under this policy the Department pays one-third of the cost, with a top limit of $600 while the community purchasers pay the balance, — one-third at the time of ordering and the remaining third within 24 months. "The St. George's Cooperative at Ballantyne's Cove," says Mr. MacKinnon, has done an exceptionally good job. They had a 70 Cockshutt tractor with a three furrow plow and large harrows. They completed the plowing and harrowing for 35 members before June 1. This is a record for this district where owing to the fact that many of the members were fishermen seeding used to drag on towards the last of June in ordinary years. More work and seeding done far earlier than ever, is the result of the operations of this community tractor. It looks as if this arrangement is the solution for the heavy work in the small farm districts."

A poor student is a mental hitch-hiker.

All Temperance Forces to Merge in New Council

The Temperance organizations of Nova Scotia are to be federated to become a unit of the Christian Social Council of Nova Scotia by virtue of a decision reached at the Provincial convention of the newly organized Christian Social Council, held at Truro, on Thursday, June 8.

Resolutions passed by the Council included, one calling for effective legislation against gambling; and a fourth calling for establishment of a Settlement House in downtown Halifax.

The committee presenting the resolutions was: Rev. E. V. Forbes, Windsor; Rev. F. A. Heffler, Stellarton; Rev. Ward MacLean, Musquodoboit; Mrs. G. R. T. Ayling, John N. Chute, Berwick.

Rev. Dr. W. R. Seeley, Halifax, presented the report on Temperance, stating that the matter of federation had been recommended as a result of a canvass of Christian groups throughout the province.

Rev. Ross Eaton, Freeport, speaking for the Commission on Family Relations, deplored the prevalent break-up of the home and recommended that steps be taken to meet the need of rehabilitation of service men.

Rev. J. A. R. Tingley, Dartmouth, read the report on Post-War Reconstruction.

Dr. Florence Murray, Halifax, spoke on Youth Welfare, stressing the need of proper facilities for recreation and training as a preventive measure against immorality.

Dr. A. E. Kerr, Principal of Pine Hill Divinity Hall, in an address at the evening session, declared that "great giants that wait ahead on the road to reconstruction and a world in which all men will enjoy the fullest measure of true happiness, must be destroyed." He described these giants as being, "Drink, disease, despair, idleness, ignorance, squalor and want."

"The most urgent need is a recovery of the Christian faith as the basis for a program of social reconstruction," said Dr. Kerr.

Rev. H. L. Denton, Halifax, was elected president of the

If the Shoe Fits

Have you ever felt you were "gypped" on a pair of shoes. Have soles worn through sooner than they reasonably should. Has the workmanship on the 'uppers' been poor?

If so, you will be glad to know that a new Wartime Prices and Trade Board order requires every Canadian shoe manufacturer to mark his footwear with either his name or W.P.T.B. license number. If the shoes prove to be of inferior quality they can be sent to the Standards Branch of the Board along with a letter containing full particulars of their purchase and care. Through the labels the Board can follow up complaints to their source.

This method of identification is already in effect for a large number of types of clothing and is intended to safeguard the buying public against degradation of quality. It is a good practice to keep all labels.

The Pantry Sale held by the ladies of St. Thomas' Guild, Thursday afternoon, was very successful. The lucky ticket for the chocolate cake was won by Estelle Doucet. Proceeds amounted to $28.35.

Sgt. and Mrs. Sampson, who have been spending some time in Weymouth, left last Wednesday. Sgt. Sampson will be stationed at Aldershot for the present, while Mrs. Sampson will visit her home in Cape Breton.

Hector Pothier, a student for the past few years at St. Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, has left for Halifax, where he will volunteer for service with the Royal Canadian Naval Reserve Forces.

Dr. and Mrs. Simpson, accompanied by Miss Vroom and Mrs. E. A. Fergusson motored to Windsor Saturday, June 10, where they attended the closing of Kings Collegiate School, returning Tuesday. Mrs. Fergusson's sons, Bobby and Stuart, who are students at Kings, spent some time in Halifax, guests of Lt. Cdr. and Mrs. Kenny, before returning to Weymouth.

Mrs. Cereno Jones reports that three cars carrying donors to the blood clinic, went to Digby last week. Altogether there have been fifty people from Weymouth to donate blood and thirty more are booked to do so. Mrs. Jones is doing a patriotic and praiseworthy job; help her and our fighting men by volunteering to give to the Blood Bank today.

Mrs. Holden, Yarmouth, was a visitor at the home of her aunt, Mrs. Grierson, Thursday of last week.

Mrs. J. C. Rice is spending a week in St. Bernard and Belliveau's Cove, visiting relatives and friends.

Recent visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Robichaud, was her sister, Mrs. Simms, Plympton.

LAC Lindley Jones, of the United States Air Force, is spending a furlough with his brother, Arthur Jones, and Mrs. Jones.

Word has been received by his grandmother, Mrs. George Morrison, that Pte. Johnny Morrison has been seriously wounded overseas.

Mrs. J. D. Rice had as week end guest, recently, her nephew Eddie Theriault, who was en route to his home in Kenogami, Que., from St. Ann's College.

Rev. and Mrs. R. H. H. Barker and children have left for Hampton, N.B., where Mr. Barker has been called to the United Church there. The Weymouth United Church will have as its pastor, Rev. Mr. Thorpe, now of Canso.

Captain J. C. Anderson, M.C., who has been on transport duty with the American Army in the South Pacific, has written his mother to the effect that he spent a recent four days' leave with his family in Malden, Mass., making the trip by bomber.

Miss Jacqueline Comeau, a student at Basile Moreau College, Montreal, is spending her vacation with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. El Comaeu. Other students home from the Sacred Heart Academy, Meteghan, are Theresa Theriault, Marie Melanson and Emile Comeau.

A/B W. A. Anderson, of Sombra, Ont., and A/B R. W. Cosman, of Weymouth North, who are now taking courses at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, spent the week end at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Cosman, at Weymouth North. Their eldest son, L/Bdr. L. W. Cosman, is now serving with the Armed Forces in Italy.

If you want to come out on top, get at the bottom of things.

Miss MacLeod, Halifax, accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair and LAC Harold Sinclair, Antigonish, when they motored to Weymouth Saturday, week, to spend the week end with Mrs. Grierson. Mr. and Mrs. Sinclair are the parents of the late P.O. Andy Sinclair, who, prior to his enlistment in the airforce was on the staff of the local bank.

The monthly business meeting of the Red Cross was held Wednesday afternoon with the president, Mrs. Rice, in the chair. The meeting was well attended. A letter to Mrs. Fergusson from Mrs. Baker of the Navy League was read, asking that Weymouth again fill a number of ditty bags and, assuring the community of the appreciation with which the ditty bags filled by this branch had been received last year. Mrs. Fergusson has again kindly consented to attend to this matter. During the reading of the various committee reports Mrs. Melanson of the quilting committee voiced her appreciation of the seven beautiful quilt tops made by Miss Mabel Melanson, who is unable to attend the meetings while convalescing from a serious illness. Mrs. Greene, reporting on the knitting, spoke highly of the seven sweaters knitted since the month of March by Mrs. Eva Nickerson, who also finds time to attend the weekly meetings and do other Red Cross needlework. A table displaying a shipment of goods from Danvers Auxiliary received much favorable comment, the display being as follows: 2 long sleeve turtle-neck sweaters, 2 sleeveless sweaters (men's), 1 man's sleeveless sweater, pair socks and five down handkerchiefs. The next business meeting will be held July 12th when there will be a ten-cent tea and fancy work sale.

Western Baptist Association Meets In Bear River

Rev. G. D. Brydon, of the Bear River Baptist Church, was elected moderator at the Western Nova Scotia Baptist Association which was in session at Bear River on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of last week. Other officers named for next year were as follows:

Vice Moderator—O. A. Eison.

Clerk—Rev. L. B. Wright.

Assistant Clerk—Rev. H. D. Hopper.

Preacher of Association Sermon—Rev. J. D. Spidell; Alternate—Rev. George Allen.

Obituary Committee—Rev. Sydney Horton, Lic. Robert White.

Sunday School and Young People's Work—Rev. R. C. Eaton, Rev. I. D. Lyttle, Rev. E. Huestis and Mrs. Huestis, Mrs. S. D. Ricker, Rev. Gordon McClare.

Licensing Committee—Rev. George Allen, Rev. A. G. Robertson, Rev. E. J. Chisholm, Dr. E. E. Daley.

Members of Ordaining Council—Rev. J. D. Spidell, J. L. Warren, Rev. E. J. Chisholm.

Social Service Committee—Rev. A. J. Prosser, Rev. W. A. Harper, Fred E. Cox.

Delegates to Convention—Rev. J. Earle DeLong, Rev. T. F. McWilliam.

More than 90 delegates and visitors attended the Association which opened on Wednesday evening with a worship service led by the moderator, Rev. G. D. Huestis. This was followed by an address of welcome by Rev. G. D. Brydon, Rev. A. A. Stott replied to the welcoming address.

The evening's program was especially in the interest of the young people and the highlight was an oratorical contest with talks given by Miss Marion Hyson, on "True Patriotism" and by Miss Marjorie Oyler, Barrs' Corner, on "Victorious Living." The award went to Miss Oyler and she will be going to Wolfville in September to again present the talk at the final contest at the Young People's Convention.

Rev. Alexander Gibson, General Secretary for Sunday School and Young People's work, spoke on the program of "Advance in Religious Education" and challenged the young people to measure up to the high responsibilities as young Christians.

Rev. Percy Buck, native of Ontario, who has been for some years on missionary service in Bolivia, South America, and now on furlough and visiting various associations in the Maritimes, gave a graphic description of that land, of his work there, and the progress being made in Christian missionary endeavor. He concluded with a challenge for continued support for the work in Bolivia and consecrated effort in the home fields.

One of the highpoints on Thursday was the Forum on Human Relations, conducted by Rev. J. D. Spidell, of Chester. The evening featured two very interesting talks: one by Dr. E. C. Silcox, of Toronto, now visiting the different Associations in the interests of social service work, and the Association Sermon by Rev. Ross C. Eaton, of Freeport.

Friday afternoon during the period conducted by the Women's Missionary Society, Miss Winifred A. Eaton, missionary to India, and now on furlough, spoke about her work there and the great need for volunteers as missionaries and teachers.

The Association concluded on Friday evening. There was a devotional period followed by the final business matters.

A presentation was made by Rev. L. B. Wright to Rev. J. D. Spidell, for long and faithful service in the ministry.

Dr. R. S. Longley, of Acadia University, Wolfville, spoke in the interests of the College, its origin, its progress and its plan for work in the future for the betterment of Christian education in the district which it serves.

The final address was given by Rev. Raymond E. Whitney, Home Mission Secretary, in which he spoke of the great importance of Home Missions stressing the fact that there should be more work done in small communities—that individuals were important. He concluded his address with a challenge to youth to volunteer for ministerial and missionary service.

Used Goods and Scrap Goods

Persons who since 1941 have begun to rent used articles such as household furniture, cameras and bicycles must have their rental charges approved, the War-time Prices and Trade Board said in announcing a new order tightening control over the pricing, tagging and rental of used goods.

Goods covered by the new rental clauses of the order are used bicycles, cameras, binoculars, lenses and photographic equipment, clothing, domestic or industrial sewing machines, electric washing machines, electric motors and equipment, household furniture, wooden office furniture and wooden office equipment, mechanical refrigerators, pianos, radios and vacuum cleaners.

The provisions do not apply however, to the leasing of any goods by a landlord to a tenant of a dwelling or business place since rental regulations already apply in these cases.

The MILDEST CIGARETTE YOU CAN SMOKE

A Buckingham is the mildest cigarette you can smoke, because it is mild, where mildness counts most—in the throat. A Buckingham is "Throat Easy" because it is blended from tobaccos that are naturally cool-burning, cool-smoking.

For a milder smoke, and a more satisfying cigarette in every way, try Buckingham. You'll never again be satisfied with anything less in a cigarette.

POST-WAR RECONSTRUCTION

INTEGRITY, experience and business capacity must be given full opportunity to contribute to post-war reconstruction. These qualities are fully as important to the bank in considering applications for loans as are the material resources of borrowers. Indeed, when possessed in high degree, these personal factors often weigh more with the bank than other considerations.

It will be the policy of The Royal Bank of Canada to extend liberal financial assistance to promising business undertakings, whether large or small, new or old, when under reliable management.

What is PRIVATE ENTERPRISE?

HERE'S THE FIRE SIGN — that you must heed!

THESE signs are placed at strategic locations in the woods warning you of the DANGER of smoking on the trail—of throwing away live matches or cigarette butts—of leaving campfires unextinguished—of letting brush fires get beyond control.

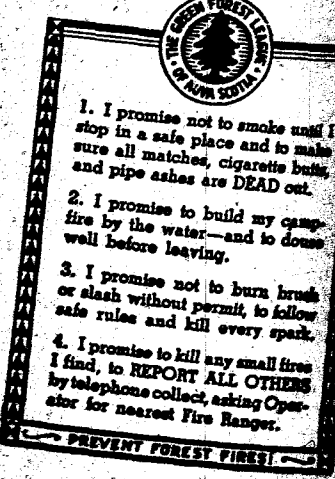

It is YOUR property they are asking you to protect. Because every tree, every foot of forest land in the Province is, in a sense, yours. Inasmuch as your income is influenced directly or indirectly by the many ramifications of our forest industries, now working at top speed to help win the war.

Why then ignore these signs? Why sabotage Canada's War Effort? Why jeopardize your own livelihood? You've simply got to be careful in the woods now. And make others careful, too. That's your job—while our former fire fighters are fighting for you overseas. So take the PLEDGE here—with yourself—and show it to at least three of your friends.

Play Safe! Be Careful! Prevent Forest Fires!

Banquet Held For Sea Cadets

Sixty-nine Sea Cadets, all perfectly turned out, lined up at the Scout Hall Thursday afternoon, and headed by the band from H.M.C.S. Cornwallis marched on to the parade grounds for inspection.

Lieut. C. Boucher, Area Commanding Officer, H.M.C.S. Halligonian, and Lieut. J. Rector, Liaison Officer, inspected the Cadets, while Captain Edwards, of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, took the salute for the March Past. Inspection of the various classes in Rifle Drill, Signalling, Knots and Splices followed.

A Father and Son banquet was held in the Oddfellows' Hall in the evening with Captain Edwards, Lieut. Boucher, Lieut. Rector, Hubert Warne, Chairman of the Sea Cadet Board, A. J. Dillon, Chairman of the Hostel Board, Navy League, T. A. M. Kirk, Inspector of Schools, H. J. Campbell, Dr. J. R. McCleave, P. McBride, Sea Cadet Committee, Lieut. S. Eaton, Principal Digby Academy, Sub-Lieut. L. Embrie (both of the Sea Cadets) and Cadet instructors at the speakers' table.

Before introducing the speakers Mr. Warne said he was proud of the fact that out of seventy cadets, sixty-nine turned out for inspection, one being absent on account of sickness. This showed the interest of the boys in the cadet movement. He also thanked Captain Edwards for the interest he had shown in the troop and the help provided from Cornwallis.

Captain Edwards complimented the boys on their appearance, and said that he was very interested in the Cadets and was always willing to help in any way he could. Lieut. Boucher presented Hubert Warne with a warrant, authorizing the organization of a Sea Cadet Corp in Digby, giving him the right as chairman of the committee to govern the affairs of the Corp and choose officials. He also remarked on the boys' appearance and on the work of the various classes, he hoped to see a good attendance at the two weeks' course being given at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis in July.

Lieut. Rector congratulated

Reserve Army Inspection

The annual inspection by Brigade Commander, Col. W. D. Simpson, V.D., for "A" Coy., Digby, and "G" Coy., Weymouth, was held at Weymouth on June 21. Col. Simpson expressed himself as being very much satisfied with the showing of the two companies, and following the inspection addressed the parade, stressing the importance of the functions of the Reserve Army. The remarks were translated into French by his Liaison officer, Capt. E. J. Theriault, of Digby. Lt. Col. A. V. Banks, M.M., of Bear River, was in charge of the parade; Capt. M. S. Leonard, in charge of "A" Coy., and Capt. J. L. Comeau in charge of "G" Coy. The band from "A" Coy. played several selections following the inspection.

Twin Calves Born Eight Days Apart

Manning C. MacNeill, of North Range, writes us that he has a cow that has recently given birth to two bull calves. One was born on June 12, the other on June 20, eight days apart. They are part Hereford, perfectly matched and healthy.

the boys on their attendance, adjuring them to "keep up the good works." He also commended the work of the instructors, who, he said, had given up many nights other men spent for amusements in order to instruct the boys, but no matter how hard these instructors work, the cadets are what you make of it and it is up to every boy from the youngest cadet up to work together for the good of the corp. You are the citizens of tomorrow, and although we hope to make good sailors of you our aim is, primarily, to make you good citizens.

Prizes were then awarded by Mr. Eaton, four Victory Trophies, the gift of L. M. Saunders, going to Eldrid Thibodeau, class 4, Richard Levy, class 3, Claude Parker, class 2, and Ronald Cowan, class 1. Certificates were also awarded to the signalling class. The evening closed with a sing song.

Digby Academy Closing Exercises

The closing exercises of the Common School, Grades I to VIII, were held in the Capitol Theatre Friday morning. In his opening remarks, Hubert M. Warne, chairman, said he was very glad to see so many people as it showed the people of Digby took a lively interest in their school.

The Academy had been fortunate this year in having pupils from two outside schools, Acaciaville and Bay View. These pupils apparently had made the transition from rural to town school with ease. It was not yet known whether both these schools would attend during the coming year.

An interesting program of singing and exercises followed, with each class contributing an act, and Charles Eaton, school principal, as master of ceremonies, was followed by the distribution of certificates and prizes.

In his report at the High School closing, held in the Scout Hall on Friday evening, principal Charles Eaton stated that during the last few years juvenile delinquency had been on the increase, many homes have been broken up by the war, and children missed parental guidance, many having too much idle time. With this in mind the school has encouraged pupils to form a club, electing their own president and secretary. Several social evenings were held during the year, and sports encouraged, the school having a basketball team. Exchange games had been played and on two occasions the team visited outside points, fares being paid by money earned by the club.

A good showing of Red Cross work was on display at the Household Science closing Monday and War Savings Stamps to the amount of $4,200 had been sold during the year.

With the opening of the September term the school will be able to offer the pupils a course of commercial studies.

The Valedictory was given by Hazel Franklin while the Class Prophecy was given by Thelma Johnson and the Class Will by Katherine Burnham. These will be printed in full in next week's Courier. A piano solo entitled "Idilio" was rendered by Eileen Marshall.

Dr. Ernest Robinson, Inspector of High Schools for Nova Scotia, guest speaker of the evening, spoke on Vocational Guidance. Stressing the fact he had no desire to add to or take away from the present school curriculum, Dr. Robinson went on to explain what he meant by Guidance, the idea being to keep a record of each child, what he is like, what he is best at, what he likes to do, any individual traits, from Grade IV up. By the time he reaches High School a teacher who has studied Child Guidance will have some definite idea of the child's individual character with which to help him choose his future. Drawing from his experience as a teacher, Dr. Robinson told many anecdotes of boys, who unable to pass at school, yet when they found their natural bend showed extraordinary ability in that field, but many years of their life was wasted because the parents wanted something else of them.

He told of boys who in their first year of college, still had no idea what they wanted to be. "Our present system is more or less mass education and takes no care of the individual, often a misfit, unable to pass his grade. Statistics prove that 50 per cent of the students leave school between grades VI and IX, which shows that our schools are failing in some way. The British government, in the midst of war, took two days to discuss the Beveridge plan of vocational guidance, and these men are no fools. Although we cannot hope to go as far as the British intend at least we can make a start," said Dr. Robinson.

To the graduates, Dr. Robinson said: "This is no easy world you are going into. You have learned in history of the Hundred Years' War, which all seems very unreal, but you have lived through the greatest war in history. That we shall win is sure, but whether or not we win the peace lies in your hands. You are the citizens of tomorrow. The world pins its faith on you, never be afraid of work, even though it soil your hands. You bear a great responsibility, and I know you will not fail."

Miss Ann Matchett, of Hillsboro, N.B., is visiting Miss Claire Merkel.

Mrs. M. M. Kerr, Moncton, N.B., is visiting at the "Shinglers" with Mrs. O. McRann.

Mrs. Bryson Denton, Gaspe, is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trask.

Cpl. T. Leigh and Sgt. W. Fife, R.A.F., stationed at Yarmouth, spent the week end visiting friends in town.

Closing Meeting of Trinity W. A.

The closing meeting of the Trinity Women's Auxiliary was held Wednesday, June 21, at the home of Mrs. T. E. G. Lynch. Reports of the various committees were read, showing a great deal of work had been covered during the past year.

Mrs. F. Wilson gave a report of the Annual Meeting held in Halifax, June 6. Reports there showed that although most members were working under a strain, greater interest was being shown and membership increased.

Mrs. Kendall, wife of the Lieut.-Governor of Nova Scotia, Life member of the Windsor branch, and Canon Walker, addressed the meeting. A Cooperative Communion was held, this being the day of invasion.

Reports of the work committees showed a number of quilts made for the Red Cross and Dorcas Society, the upkeep of a boy at the Indian school in ShingWauk, and many toys shipped overseas. The meeting closed with the serving of refreshments.

OBITUARY

Thomas M. Gibbons

The death of Thomas M. Gibbons, 87, husband of the late Rachel M. Gibbons, and a well-known resident of Roxville, occurred at his home on June 13. Mr. Gibbons was born in Roxville and during his life showed a predominating interest in all the activities in his community. He was recognized by the citizens of Digby as one of the most prominent business men of Digby County. He had an outstanding character and his death is mourned by a wide circle of friends, especially in the church, where he was an active worker. The son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Gibbons, Roxville, he is the last member of his family. He is survived by one daughter Grace, (Mrs. Johnson Bruce), Bridgetown; five sons, William J., Thomas C., Almm E., Harold M., all of whom reside in Massachusetts, and Maurice D., at home; four grandchildren; two great grandchildren, of Bridgetown; a number of nieces and nephews, many of whom reside in Massachusetts. The funeral service, conducted by Rev. A. Robinson of the First Baptist Church, Bridgetown, took place at the First Baptist Church, Rossway, with interment in the family lot. Floral offerings were many and beautiful. The entire family of Mr. Gibbons was present at the funeral.

Edward T. Melanson

The death of Edward T. Melanson, age 51, occurred on June 11, in hospital at Cambridge, Mass., after a short illness. Mr. Melanson was a well-known resident of Cambridge and will be greatly missed by his many friends. He was an active member and faithful follower of St. Croix Church, and worker for many years as engineer in the Electric Light and Power plant in Cambridge. Besides his bereaved widow he leaves to mourn a daughter, Mrs. Charles Dalley; a son, John, aboard a destroyer in the Pacific; a sister, Mrs. G. Cook, North Range; four brothers, Augustine, Concord, Mass.; Leonard, Plympton Station; Roy, Gilbert's Cove; Maynard, at home, and an aged mother, 90 years old, and several nieces and nephews. Funeral was held from St. Croix Church, Plympton, June 17, with Solemn High Mass, Rev. Father Blinn, Father Comeau and Father LeBlanc conducting the services, with interment in the Catholic Cemetery, Plympton.

Mrs. Harold J. Campbell

The death of Vivian Grace, wife of Harold J. Campbell, occurred at her home, Queen Street, shortly before noon Tuesday. Mrs. Campbell was taken ill about a year ago, but had only been confined to her bed for the past two months. She was the only daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. N. T. Rockwell, of Amherst, and in 1916 married Harold J. Campbell, moving to Digby with her husband in 1924 when Mr. Campbell accepted the position of superintendent of the Digby County Power Board. Before her illness, Mrs. Campbell, who was a member of the Baptist Church, was active in church and community affairs. Beside her husband she is survived by three daughters: Harriett (Nursing Sister, at present at home), June and Marilyn, at home; one son, Maxwell, with the R.C.A.F. overseas; four brothers, Leon and Dwight Rockwell, of Amherst, and Carl and Ira Rockwell, of Saint John. Funeral services will be held from the home this afternoon at 2 o'clock, with Rev. T. W. Hodgson officiating. Interment will be in Fair View Cemetery, Digby.

Judson Nichols

The death of Judson Nichols, age 87, occurred at his home in Malden, Mass., April 30. Following cremation the ashes were interred beside his wife in Malden Cemetery. Mr. Nichols was the oldest son of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Albert Nichols, formerly of Acaciaville, Digby Co., leaving there for Malden as a young boy.

Edgar McDormand

The funeral of Edgar McDormand, of Westport, was held from the Christian Church, Sunday afternoon, conducted by Rev. J. W. Derby, assisted by Rev. S. Reicker. He has been in failing health for several months. He was 83 years of age but was very active and will be greatly missed among his fellow citizens. He made friends with both young and old. The hymns which were sung were "Jesus Lover of My Soul," solo, "In the Upper Garden" by Gerald Bailey, and "Shall We Meet." The I.O.O.F. took charge at the grave. He was a valued member of the Christian Church and the I.O.O.F. He leaves to mourn a sorrowing wife, one son, Melbourne, and one daughter, Norma (Mrs. Sydney Morehouse), who resides with him, one sister, Mrs. Clara Morehouse, and brother, Frank, besides other relatives and friends.

Vernon L. Trask

On Thursday morning, June 8, after six months of severe illness, Vernon L. Trask passed away at his home, 92 Pertham St., West Roxbury, Mass. He was the son of Edmund and Mina (Hall) Trask, and was born in Little River, Nov. 14, 1890, going with his parents to Roslindale, Mass., to live, when very young. Services were conducted from his residence and at St. Theresa's Church by Rev. Francis J. Green, assisted by Rev. J. P. Mantle. Interment was in St. Joseph's Cemetery, West Roxbury. Mr. Trask is survived by his widow, Mrs. Margaret A. Trask, formerly Miss Margaret A. MacIssac, of Cape Breton; two sons, Edmund, of Dorchester, Mass., and Sgt. Matthew, serving with the 101st Inf. United States Army; five daughters, Mrs. E. J. Trask's father predeceased Gillespie, of Elkhart, Ind.; him twelve years ago.

Closing Exercises at St. Patrick's Convent

The address of welcome was given by Father Murphy at the closing exercises held on Wednesday evening in St. Patrick's Convent, marking the end of the first school year.

A playlet in two acts, entitled "Land of Springtime," was presented by the pupils, with many song and piano selections. A catechism match by grades III to VI was followed by the distribution of reports and prizes.

Prizes for French were awarded to W. Griffin, J. Deveau, A. Richard and S. Surrette. Religion, Edith Amrault, Joan Comeau, W. Griffin and Claire Gaudet. Music, Clara Mayne, John Comeau and Joan Comeau. Deportment, Roland Theriault, Clara Robichaud, Roy Foley and Reginald Saulnier.

First in Grade VI, Nora Mayne, 2nd, William Griffin; Grade V, Joseph Deveau; Jean Surrette; Grade IV, Antoinette Richard, Arnold Webber; Grade III, Stella Surrette, Howard Kirkpatrick; Grade II, Irene Richard, Richard Griffin, and Grade I, Louise Dolron and Nelson Gaudet.

Father Murphy congratulated the children and the Sisters in the results of their first year's work and also thanked the parents for their cooperation. When the school opens in the fall it is hoped that the addition will be completed. Mass was celebrated Thursday morning, bringing the year to a close, as it had begun, with God's blessing.

Mrs. Frank Daly, of Scituate, Mass.; Mrs. Raymond Smith, of West Roxbury; Virginia and Elizabeth at home and five grandchildren. He is also survived by his grief-stricken mother, of Roslindale; one brother, Shannon, of West Roxbury; two sisters, Mrs. G. E. Morgan, of Brookline, Mass., and Mrs. S. J. Weir, of Roslindale. Mr. Trask's father predeceased him twelve years ago.

'The Order of Good Cheer'

By Digby's Own
Poet

Andrew D. Merkel, the author of this widely acclaimed work just recently published, was reared in Digby. Interested from childhood in historical lore, he never tired of digging up new facts about the old days in Nova Scotia. And now this lifelong accumulation of Acadiana has crystallized into a pure gem of poetic craftsmanship.

The establishment of the first settlement at Port Royal and the doings of DeMonts, Champlain, Lescarbot, Poutrincourt and "all that fearless company of souls" are vividly and beautifully dealt with in this neat little volume. With each book, an appropriate souvenir envelope is supplied, making it convenient to mail a copy to your far-away friend or the folk back home.

About This and That

There is much truth in the conclusions of the commentator, Dorothy Thompson, that the sparing of Rome was not an act of conversion, but rather, an act of calculation. The Germans, realizing their defeat, reckoned that the destruction of the city would not help their cause, and make their general position that much worse. So, in an effort to make it appear that they were influenced by compassion, they committed no vandalism and marched away.

The United Nations can be said to be shouldering almost countless responsibilities and obligations, one of which is to correlate information on the world's food resources. That, in turn, should mean improved farming organization everywhere, so that a country with surpluses can know in advance where those surpluses can best go; and further, so that a scarcity of one commodity can be avoided while there is a glut of another. Such an arrangement ought to be found singularly useful, and never more so than now, and in the years immediately following the coming of peace.

Mrs. Charles Teed

The community of Freeport was shocked and saddened, on Saturday morning, June 17, to learn of the death of Fannie, wife of Capt. Charles Teed. She suffered a heart attack three weeks previous but every hope was entertained for her recovery, and her passing was a great shock to her family and friends. She filled a useful place in the community, always ready and willing to lend a helping hand in time of need. Surviving are her husband, five sons, four daughters and one sister, Mrs. Ainslie Titus, of Westport. Children are Ralph, Red Bank, N.J.; Harold, R.C.N.R., Windsor, Ont.; Theodore, Saint John; Herman, R.C.N., Halifax; Marguerite (Mrs. K. S. Chapman, New Glasgow; Mary (Mrs. Avery Finigan), Freeport; Luella, staff of the School for the Deaf, Halifax; Thelma, staff of Shipyards, Halifax. The family were all with her during her illness. Funeral service was conducted at her home on Tuesday by Rev. Ross Eaton, assisted by Rev. Mr. Ricker, pastor of Westport Church, of which she was a member. She was 63 years of age.

1. "When we were your age we wouldn't have thought of driving in the summertime without some kind of protection from the dust. Your Grandpa wore a dustcoat and I had a linen coverall. Even then we used to come home with plenty of dust on us and on the car."

2. "The dust behind every car that passed us was like the tail of a comet and you didn't swing out to pass anything for fear of meeting something coming through the dust, the opposite way."

3. "The things your Grandpa used to say were awful. But I couldn't blame him. In fact I used to say the same things under my breath—that is if I had any breath left after a few miles driving."

4. "Yes, that's the dustcoat that your Grandpa uses now when he works in the henhouse, and I wore out the coverall around the house. You see there's no need of them now, since they fixed the road with Calcium Chloride. No dust, no dustcoat and no coverall!"

5. "Getting rid of the dust has made a pile of difference in these parts. The crops are better, driving—even with the truck—is safer and we don't spend half our time in the house with a dust mop. That Calcium Chloride is good stuff right enough!"

WAR-TIME PRICES AND TRADE BOARD QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Q.—Last week I paid 43c. for 5 lbs. of sugar. Usually I pay it for 5c less. Was I overcharged?

A.—No, 43c. is not necessarily too much to pay for 5 lbs. of sugar. Each individual store has its own ceiling price for sugar. The same charged by that store during the basic period, Sept. 15 to Oct. 11, 1941.

Q.—My storekeeper asked me for infants' shirts. Is he supposed to charge more because the goods are scarce?

A.—The store should charge no more for the shirts than he did for the same shirt in the basic period. The price you mention would not be too high for some types of woolen vests. However if you give the type of shirt and name of the store to your local office of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board, they will be able to check to see whether your merchant's markup is excessive.

Q.—Just how much canning sugar are we to get? There seems to be a great deal of controversy over the exact amount.

A.—"F" canning sugar in ration book 3 will be good for 10 lbs. of sugar. The first five of these coupons are already valid... the rest become valid on July 6. This sugar, available to everyone issued a ration book, can be augmented with sugar purchased through preserves coupons. Each orange preserves coupon can be used to buy 1/4 lb. of sugar.

Q.—Do ceilings on used cars apply only to sales made by dealers?

A.—No, all sales, whether by dealers or private individuals are subject to ceilings. Contact the nearest office of the W.P.T.B. and they will give you a copy of the Order. This will tell you how to arrive at the price you may legally charge.

Q.—A store in our neighborhood has always served two scoops of ice cream in a 5c cone. Now they only serve one very small scoop and charge the same price. Is this allowed?

A.—No, this is not allowed. If you are certain you have always received this double quantity of ice cream for 5c you should report all particulars to the regional office of the W.P.T.B.

Please send your questions or your request for "Consumer News" to the Consumer Branch, 77 Upper Water St., Halifax.

V. O. N. Monthly Report

The V.O.N. revealed at the regular monthly meeting of the board on Tuesday, of last week, that 181 visits had been made in April. Of these, 144 were nursing visits. One delivery was made in Barton. Miss Dysart spent 18 hours and twenty minutes in school, giving physical examinations to 42 children. It was found that 2 students had not yet been vaccinated against small pox, but this was to be rectified. Thirty dental defects found, 11 exclusions from school made for the following diseases: mumps, whooping cough and measles. Four Well-Baby Clinics held with 44 infants and 42 pre-school children in attendance. In child welfare 2 infants and 7 pre-school children visited.

The V.O.N. assisted Miss Buchanan, County Health Nurse in the patch testing of 86 persons, including teachers, high school students and a few of the students in the lower grades.

Miss Lenta Hall, District Supervisor, visited the Branch from May 29-June 1, and gave much valued assistance and encouragement.

Sailor Renders First Aid

Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Mount would like to express their appreciation of the first aid rendered their son Eddie, who, while playing ball on the golf course recently, fell on some glass, cutting his hand severely.

A sailor, who was on the field at the time, bound up the hand and borrowing a bicycle, took the lad to a doctor. As Eddie was unable to tell his parents the sailor's name they are hoping he will see this notice and accept their thanks for his quick thinking and kindness.

Some time ago the Courier published an article telling of Wallace Ellis receiving the Long Service decoration overseas. A few days ago we saw part of a letter from Sydney Smith in which he states there was an error in the dates given by the Courier. We stated that Ellis had arrived in England in 1943, (which was partially correct, since he had been home as instructor and was returning at that time), when we should have said early in 1940 or possibly the last of December, 1939, as he went over with the First Division.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Budd, of Digby, are entertaining at present, Mrs. Budd's brother, Joseph E. Nichols, of Arlington Heights, Mass., and her cousin, F. O. Nichols, of Foxboro, Mass.

Marion Melanson and Laura Melanson, Digby, spent a few days in Halifax last week with the latter's sister, Mrs. J. T. Whelan.

Various Entertainments Held

Mrs. L. E. Sherman, of Deep Brook, entertained the Dorcas Society on Wednesday afternoon of last week, when in addition to a quilting party, a farewell reception was held for several women who expect to leave the village in the near future. They are Mrs. Walter Lent, clerk of the Baptist Church, who will move to Bear River; Mrs. Reginald Thomas, who will return to her home in Upper Clements; Mrs. Gordon Henley, teacher of the primary department, who is returning to her home in Kempt, Queens Co.; Marjorie Vroom, teacher of the advanced department, who is taking another school, and Mrs. Vernon Cribbey, who will be leaving shortly with her husband to his next appointment. Preceding the serving of refreshments, Mrs. Sherman made a farewell address and Rev. T. F. McWilliam offered prayer, followed by the singing of "God Be With You Till We meet Again" and the national anthem.

Among those attending from outside the village were Miss Lavinia Berry and Mrs. Lilla Rice, from Massachusetts; Mrs. McClelland, Clementsport Heights; Mrs. Landers, from Digby; Mrs. Norman Sullis, Smith's Cove, and Mrs. Mohring, Windsor, Ont.

The party included three charter members of the society, which was organized 33 years ago: Mrs. Manning Nichols, Mrs. James Dimars and Mrs. L. E. Sherman.

On Thursday evening, June 15, a reception was held at the home of Mrs. Harry Mills, Granville Ferry, in honor of her son, P/O Robert Mills and bride, who was formerly Miss Eleanor Burns, Bridgetown. (Robert returned in January from three years' service overseas, some of that time being spent in Egypt). After the beautiful and numerous gifts received by the bridal couple had been opened, the groom expressed his thanks in a fitting manner. A very interesting contest then followed, under the direction of Mrs. Percy Mills. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

On Wednesday evening a number of the residents of Granville Ferry gathered in the Community Hall for a social evening and to bid farewell to Miss Mary Walker, who during her seventeen years as teacher of the primary department has endeared herself to many both young and old.

Miss Walker was greatly interested in the affairs of the village and always willing to lend her aid in any work for the good of the community. After a jolly sing-song J. A. Ruffee, secretary of the school board, in a few well-chosen words, voiced his regret and that of the people, at Miss Walker's departure, thanked her for her co-operation with the school board and presented her with a generous sum of money donated by the people of the community as a token of their appreciation of her faithful service and unswerving devotion to the interest and well being of the school children.

On Saturday evening James How, Granville Ferry, entertained his classmates, the members of Grade XII graduating class of Annapolis Royal Academy. Principal and Mrs. Barteaux were guests of honor. The evening being fine, games were enjoyed on the lawn until darkness fell, then the games were continued indoors. During the evening a buffet supper was served and the very enjoyable party ended with a sing-song.

A farewell party was held at the home of Mrs. R. A. Pierce, Bear River East, on Wednesday evening, June 21, in honor of Mrs. Gower. During the evening the president of the Mite Society, Mrs. Chester Sanford, presented Mrs. Gower, vice-president, with a number of pieces of china. Regret is felt in the loss of Mrs. Gower, not only in the capacity of vice-president of the Mite Society, but as the school teacher for two years. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening.

The presentation was made by Sister Eudora Shortliffe. Although taken completely by surprise, Sister Robinson replied in her pleasing manner. The members all expressed regret at her departure. Miss Lennie MacNeill was then escorted to the centre and each member bade her farewell also. Refreshments were served at the close.

The Service Wives will meet on Friday of this week at the home of Mrs. C. E. Walker to trim a float for Dominion Day. All members are asked to attend this meeting as a great deal of help will be needed.

Mr. and Mrs. George McConnell, of Saint John, spent the week end with the former's daughter, Mrs. Glenn Conrad and Mr. Conrad. An ice cream sale was held at the home of Mrs. Beatrice Messenger, St. Croix Cove, on Tuesday evening of last week. The sum of $17 was raised for the church repair fund.

MARRIAGES

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the Baptist parsonage in Deep Brook, on Monday afternoon, June 28, when Rev. T. F. McWilliam united in marriage Cynthia Phyllis Whitehouse, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Whitehouse, of Deerfield, Yarmouth Co., and Lyman Thomas Nickerson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Nickerson, also of Deerfield. The bride was dressed in a tweed suit with brown accessories to match and was unattended. The double-ring ceremony was used. Mrs. Nickerson was very popular with the young people of her own village and later in Yarmouth, where she has been an efficient clerk for some two years and has also been active among the young people of the Baptist church and choir. Mr. Nickerson has spent two years in army service and is now with the R. C. Signals in Kingston, Ont.

A very pretty wedding took place on Wednesday, June 21, in the United Baptist Church at New Tusket, when Ercel Olive, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert S. Mullen, was united in marriage to Donald Hazen Connors, son of Mrs. and the late George Connors, of West Saint John. Rev. Mr. Hogan performed the ceremony. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, entered the church to the strains of the wedding march, which was played by her cousin, Ivan Shaw. She looked lovely in a long gown of white crepe-back satin, with long sleeves, scalloped neckline, fitted bodice and floor-length veil caught on either side of her head with a cluster of flowers. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses. Her only jewellery was sterling silver locket, a gift of the groom. The bride's sister, Mrs. James Dauphinee, of Mahone Bay, was matron of honor, and wore a floor length gown of pink satin, with matching hat and carried a bouquet of pink roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Eleanor Galbraith, of Saint John, wore a floor length gown of blue tulle, with matching hat, and carried a bouquet of roses. Wallace P. Mullen, brother of the bride, acted as groomsmen. The ushers were Reginald Connors, brother of the groom, and Lester Mullen, cousin of the bride. The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion with potted plants and ferns. At the signing of the register, Mrs. Raymond Smith, of Port Maitland, cousin of the bride, sang "O Promise Me." Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride with 150 guests present. The guests were received by Miss June Mullen, of Lawrence-town. The table was centered with a three-tier wedding cake, and serving were Mrs. Roy Sullivan, of Saint John; Miss Loretta Ryan, of Montreal; Miss June Mullen, Mrs. Lester Mullen and Mrs. Raymond Smith had charge of the dining table. For travelling the bride wore a turquoise blue suit with black accessories. The happy couple left for Montreal, New York and Washington, D.C., where they will visit the bride's sister, Mrs. W. F. Buice. On their return they will reside in West Saint John. The bride was the recipient of many beautiful gifts.

At the 103rd Convocation of Queen's University, Kingston, last week, Hon. Angus L. MacDonald was honored by having the Degree of Civil Laws conferred upon him.

The MILDEST CIGARETTE YOU CAN SMOKE

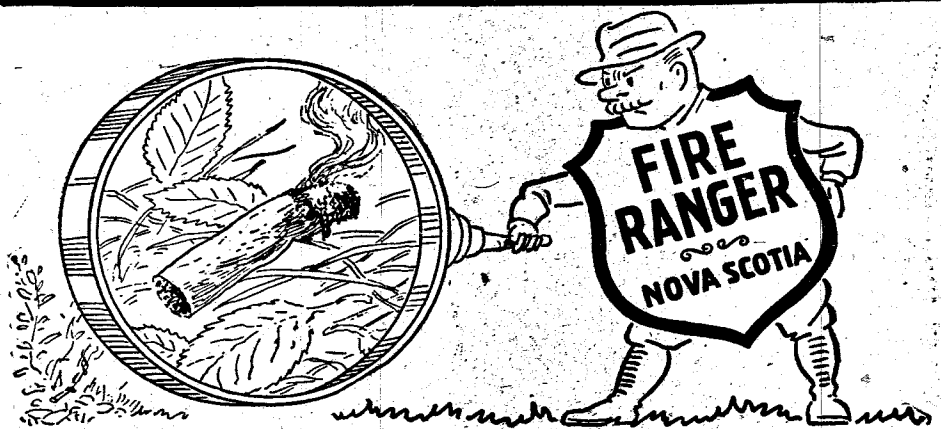

A Buckingham is the mildest cigarette you can smoke, because it is mild, where mildness counts most—in the throat. A Buckingham is "Throat Easy" because it is blended from tobaccos that are naturally cool-burning, cool-smoking.

For a milder smoke, and a more satisfying cigarette in every way, try Buckingham. You'll never again be satisfied with anything less in a cigarette.

Buckingham

They're Throat Easy—

HERE'S THE CIGARETTE — cause of conflagrations!

BECAUSE you can flip your cigarette butt away when in town without any danger, don't get the idea, brother, that you can do likewise when in the woods. There your live butt, thrown among the dry pine needles of the forest floor, may become the spark that sets off a whole train of destruction in the district.

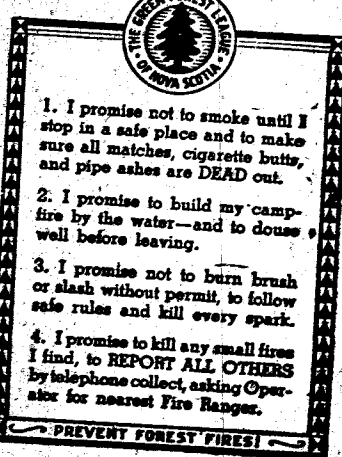

Valuable timber may be destroyed and with it the favorite haunts of game and fish. Regrowth delayed a generation and the district denuded of its water powers. Workers denied their livelihood and the community deprived of recreation... All this damage and more caused by one careless act on your part!

You simply must be careful in the woods now. And make others careful, too. That's your job—while our former fire fighters are fighting for you overseas. So take the PLEDGE herewith yourself—and show it to at least three of your friends.

Play Safe! Be Careful! Prevent Forest Fires!

ANNOUNCEMENT

Due to the labor situation and other conditions it is going to be impossible for me to continue the COAL BUSINESS which I have conducted for the past twenty-one years. I will not maintain a stock this coming winter. I will endeavor to fill any orders I have on file if and when help and stock can be obtained.

I express my thanks and appreciation to customers in Digby and suburbs for their patience and co-operation during the past year when I was unable to give a satisfactory service. I am making this statement in order that my customers may protect themselves for the coming winter.

I hope that some person may want to carry on this business which appears quite necessary.

OBITUARY

Lahlia Peters

There passed away on Thursday, June 22, at the Digby General Hospital, after a short illness, Lahlia Peters, age 25 years. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Peters, of Bear River. Besides her parents she is survived by five brothers: Pte. Henry Peters, of Aldershot; Pte. J. Peters, of Halifax; Freeman, of Boston; Leo and Basil, at home; three sisters: Mrs. Andy Paul, Bear River; Doris, at home; Kathleen (Mrs. Dan Cope), of Boston. The funeral was held on Saturday afternoon from the Roman Catholic Church at Bear River, conducted by Rev. Fr. Deveau. Interment in the R. C. cemetery.

W. M. S. Rally Held

The Annapolis Presbyterial Summer Rally of the W.M.S. of the United Church was held in the Aylesford-Auburn Church on Tuesday afternoon and evening, June 13. Members were present representing auxiliaries from Digby to Waterville.

The afternoon devotional period was in charge of members from Middleton and a very inspiring and helpful talk was given by Mrs. T. M. Cumming in which she stressed the value of Religious Training, Family Worship and Bible Study in the home. Mrs. S. G. MacQueen welcomed the Rally to Aylesford.

A questionnaire on the work conducted by Mrs. Turner, of Middleton, was both interesting and helpful.

A Book Parade in which Mrs. J. C. Dalrymple, Bridgetown, read or related bits about the authors and contents of books including the "Bible," "Onward," "Missionary Monthly," "For All of Life," "Out of the Overflow," "Juliette Derricotte," "The Silent Millions Speak," "Big Ben," "Tommy Two Wheels" and "World Friends" and suggested the reading of them by all. Mrs. C. L. Gesner, Lawrenceville, had charge of a quiz on the year's study books, "For All of Life" and "Out of the Overflow" and other parts of the work.

At 6 o'clock a supper was partaken of and a social hour enjoyed.

Mrs. J. A. Ruffee, Granville Ferry, was appointed delegate to the Leadership Training Camp, Berwick. Miss Hankinson, Middleton, was named alternate.

The evening devotions were conducted by Mrs. M. P. Nichols. A play on the life of Dr. Ida Scudder, (medical missionary to India and now on a tour of the Maritimes) was presented by Aylesford-Auburn Y.P.S. directed by Mrs. M. P. Nichols, in which the audience gained some understanding of the work Dr. Scudder has done for the people of India and the great need for this work.

Rev. S. G. MacQueen delivered an address on "The Calling of Dr. Scudder" in which he emphasized the need of workers in the missionary field.

Duets at both afternoon and evening sessions were sung by Mrs. Harold Smith and Mrs. Fred Walker, and greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Aubrey Adams and Miss Peggy Thorne, of Saint John, are guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Sullis.

Mrs. Chester Beals, of Berwick, spent the week end at the home of her daughter, Mrs. G. R. Chesley.

It is hoped that Smith's Cove will be represented in the parade at Digby, July 1. Please consult R. L. Taylor for particulars.

The store window of G. R. Chesley is creating considerable interest. It contains pictures of the young men and women who have enlisted in the services from Smith's Cove and Joggin Bridge district together with souvenirs from Italy and other battle fronts. The pictures and souvenirs are attractively displayed with the Union Jack flag forming the background.

The unveiling of an honor roll will take place in the Baptist Church, Smith's Cove, Thursday evening, June 29. Dr. Hodgson, of Digby, will be the special speaker on this occasion. It is hoped there will be a good attendance. The roll contains the names of those who have enlisted from Joggin Bridge and Smith's Cove.

Farmers Urgently Need Workers For Peak Periods

A meeting of the Nova Scotia Labor Committee for Agriculture was held at the Agricultural College, Truro, on June 21. Officials of the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture and the National Selective Service, Dominion Department of Labour, were present as well as Major R. D. Sutton, secretary N. S. Fruit Growers' Association, and Arch Cox, president of the N. S. Farmers' Association. The meeting was held at this time in order to discuss ways and means of meeting the requirements not only for labor for haying but also for the harvesting of crops, including apple picking and potato digging. One measure, as proposed by W. M. Roberts, N.S.S. official, and which is being carried out, is that men in non-essential industries in towns and cities be canvassed for assistance on the farms to peak periods. What is being suggested is that many of these men have had some farm experience and should be able to give, two, three or four weeks' time in aiding in the food production in this manner. There are many jobs on the farm that the younger men, particularly those under military age who are registered, will be able to assist in. Where men are moved any considerable distance transportation will be paid by the Dominion Department of Labor and the N. S. Department of Agriculture co-operating. H. R. Hare, Agricultural Adviser, Dominion Department of Labor, brought up the question of short cuts in farm work that were possible not only through the greater use of machinery but also through facilities that will aid in making for more efficient use of labor. It was pointed out that the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture has been materially helping in this manner through its assistance in the purchase of tractor and tractor equipment by agricultural organizations. Another subject discussed was the question of how best to handle rejects in order to make for more effective use of these men in essential industry.

Farm if You Can, Says N. S. F. A. President

Any man who is qualified to help on a farm should consider it his duty to get on a farm this summer, provided he can arrange matters, states Arch Cox, Princeport, President of the Nova Scotia Farmers' Association. Mr. Cox, who attended the meeting of the Nova Scotia Labor Committee at Truro on June 21, strongly supported the suggestion that men in non-essential industries in towns and cities be canvassed for assistance on the farms at peak periods. He said there were many men living in town who were formerly on farms, grew up on farms and had farm training. These men, who have kept fit, should be of real value in helping farmers through haying and other peak labor times. "Farming" says Mr. Cox, "should be given priority over any kind of non-essential employment. The man who can help and does help is patriotic. He is also sensible for after all food production is not the concern of the farmer any more than it is of the rest of the population. The farmer will get enough to eat but others may go shy if the farmer cannot get help to harvest his hay and other crops."

Mr. Cox said farmers were not interested in and could not be bothered with men wanting to get on a farm for a change or for a bit of a holiday but they did want, and want badly, men who could and would do some real work. There is plenty to do. The farmer can't do it all and unless he gets some help the outlook is poor.

People should not be deluded into thinking the farmer will muddle through some way. Instead of any easy thinking along these lines facts should be faced. To be sure the farmer has got his crop in all right and done so without any special help, apart from assistance, which has been valuable, rendered by men from the armed forces. But it must be remembered the farmer had ideal weather for putting in crops. And favored by such weather he probably planted more than a year ago. Planted acreage, for the province, is believed to be up quite a bit over that of 1943. Along with this fact it must also be remembered that harvesting is more of a labor problem than planting. The fine weather of this spring and the larger planted acreage mean that harvesting will be a bigger problem this year than it was last year.

Anyone who is willing to do some farm work this summer concluded Mr. Cox, should get in touch with the nearest National Selective Service office, the county agricultural representative or go direct to some farmer.

Land Settlement Board Moves to Truro

The Nova Scotia Land Settlement Board, which arranges provincial government-financed loans for settlers on Nova Scotia farms and attends to associate business, has moved its offices from the second floor of the Provincial Building, Halifax, to the Administration Building, Nova Scotia Agricultural College, Truro. From now on board meetings will be held at the new location, and all board business will be transacted there. All communications should be directed to, The Nova Scotia Land Settlement Board, Truro.

The board consists of S. E. Lewis, Economy, Colchester Co., Chairman, A. J. McLeod, South Bar, C.B., Harvey Chisholm, Bear River, Prescott Blanchard, Bible Hill, Thomas McDonald, New Glasgow. Mr. Lewis, who was recently appointed Board Chairman, succeeds the late S. A. Logan, of Amherst, who passed away last winter after being chairman since the board was formed in 1933.

The office assistants, Miss Ivy Harnish, Annapolis, and Miss Helen Chisholm, Halifax, who have been on the staff at Halifax for some time, are taking up residence in Truro.

Lime Situation Is Favorable

The situation as regards agricultural lime is the most favorable it has been for months. The price is at its lowest level and will stay for a short while. The farmers in large numbers are placing orders, and the quarries for the first time for a long while are in the position to fill orders promptly.

ders promptly.

Dr. W. V. Longley, Director of Extension, Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, commenting on this favorable situation remarked, "that farmers are coming to take time when they can get it is shown by the large number of orders that are now coming in, many of these being for prompt shipment. Others are for shipment at various times during the summer. This is the period when the price has been dropped to $1.40 per ton in order to encourage shipment during the summer months and thus maintain the quarries in production. O. P. Mosher and Sons, Upper Musquodoboit, and the Eastern Lime Company, Windsor, are prepared to make prompt shipments by rail, while Thomas Dillman, of Admiral Rock, Hants Co., has two trucks making deliveries by highway. During the month of May, 3,310 tons were shipped from the Mosher quarries."

The use of agricultural lime has greatly increased since the start of the war, the total for last year exceeded 35,000 tons being up more than 300 per cent over the year 1939, and more than 400 per cent above that of ten years ago. More than 3,000 farmers used lime and marl last year. The amount of marl shipped last year totalled 4,010 tons.

Sale of Ladders Restricted

Effective at once, new wooden extension ladders and new wooden step-ladders over seven feet in height may not be retailed without permission of the Wartime Prices and Trade Board.

Board officers explained that the raw materials for producing wooden ladders — chiefly fir — have for some months been diverted to the production of aircraft veneers. Negotiations are now under way for an allocation of suitable wood to produce the necessary minimum number of ladders during the coming year, and the system of sales by permit will be retained only until the supply situation improves.

Mrs. V. Eriksen and daughter, Dionne, who spent the winter here, have arrived at their home in Vancouver, B.C. They made visits in New York and Toronto, en route, and were joined by Mr. Eriksen, who having a 28-day leave, accompanied them home.

The next two meetings of the Red Cross, which will be the last Wednesday of June and the first Wednesday in July, will be with Mrs. Grierson. A new floor is being laid in the Killam Hall where the regular meetings are held.

Mrs. H. J. Melanson, supervisor of the quilt department of the local Red Cross, wishes to thank Mrs. Roger Melanson, Corberrie, for a donation of feed bags to be used for quilt linings. At present we are very short of quilt linings and anyone who could donate a lining, if they would do so would be much appreciated.

Editor Gets Mess New Potatoes

George VanTassel, of Light-house Road, has our thanks for a mess of new potatoes, dug on Monday (June 26). He planted the seed May 1st. Those brought to us consisted of two hills—22 "spuds" in all—two of which measured 6½ by 7 inches. These are probably the earliest potatoes dug this year.

Mrs. Roger Sabine left on Saturday to spend a week with her friend, Mrs. Walsh, Westport. Cpl. Edith Lynch was in town on Saturday last interviewing girls in the interest of the C.W.A.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Matheson and son, Eoin, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Snow, Bear River, on Sunday.

Miss Evelyn Wesley, who came from the United States to visit her mother for the summer months, has been called back for two weeks.

Tpr. and Mrs. Harvey FitzGerald and baby, Weymouth North, spent Wednesday in Halifax, visiting the former's sister, Mrs. I. W. Wilkins.

The Junior High School, under the direction of their teacher, Miss Aurale Comeau, enjoyed a weenie roast, which was much enjoyed, on Wednesday last.

Mrs. George Wagner has been attending the closing exercises of the Kingston Bible College, where her daughter, Geraldine, has been a student for the past term.

If men were less stupid women would have to be a lot more clever.

Rally Held at Plympton

Forty delegates attended the Women's Institute Rally in Smith's Hall, Plympton, last Wednesday, Mrs. K. Smith, Plympton, presiding, and Mrs. Allen Harris, Bear River, secretary.

An address of welcome was given by Rev. Father L. Lanigan, Mrs. E. Comeau, Meteghan, responding. A program followed, Smith's Cove presenting a playlet, Miss Pearl Campbell, Annapolis, a reading on "Conducted Studies," and an address by Miss Helen Macdougall, superintendent. This was followed by a sing-song and the election of officers.

Those elected were: President, Mrs. Charles Green, of Bear River; Vice President, Mrs. J. E. Comeau, Meteghan; Secretary Treasurer, Mrs. G. Jeddore, Lower Saulnierville.

Inspector of Schools, T. A. M. Kirk, delegate from Yarmouth, spoke at the afternoon session, stressing the important part the Institute can play in the schools, and a reading "Farm Life" was given by Mrs. William Morine, Bear River.

Winners of the quiz, conducted by Miss Pearl Campbell, were: Mrs. R. LeBlanc, Mrs. J. A. Robichaud, Mrs. C. Comeau and Mrs. H. Robichaud. An address by Miss Macdougall followed. A vote of thanks was extended Mr. and Mrs. Smith for the use of the hall and the rally closed with silent prayer for the men overseas.

THIS is Main Street somewhere in Europe.

These shattered buildings were once busy shops and offices.

The rubble-strewn sidewalks were once thronged with people. It will be a busy street again . . . someday.

The ravaged cities of Europe and Asia must be rebuilt. When V-Day comes the world will look to Canadian factories and farms for materials of reconstruction and repair, for food and clothing and household goods . . .

In the face of such a need, is it conceivable that we should have idle hands or minds in Canada after the war? Canada will be a busy place when Victory is won.

What is PRIVATE ENTERPRISE?

It is the natural desire to make your own way, as far as your ability will take you; an instinct that has brought to this continent the highest standard of life enjoyed by any people on earth. It is the spirit of democracy on the march . . .
