One of the jobs I had to do, besides putting and grinding gravel on the staff, was to... I cleaned one and then... One day not long after I started to get to the grating plant, I decided to clean the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned for some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily. He thought the remark pretty good and said:

Sometimes the gasoline engine, a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and the "Man" fix it. A man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results. Man would then stand back and come quite dramatically then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of coaxing."

On other occasions when my wife refused duty for me and seemed to be broken, I would say, "use a little oil" and use humor, often that is all it took. Then often since, have I heard of the value of that remark and the actual need of oil in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the June 1941 "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring season of 1941 got together just before dark one evening and decided to initiate the newly built outdoor Pease Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just out of the pool, nobody else seemed to be around and the four boys, no thought or time for bathing suits, up in the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in. The rest quickly followed and across the pool they swam. "Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Swims Officially Open Pease Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the four? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Earl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars (second world and Korea), was awarded the Vietnam Cross; Sidney L. Smith, now prominent draughtsman for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale importer and bookshop; and myself.

As a young treasurer I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day I was told to me how about writing your version of the story told about "The Marooning of Jerome". A fisherman and a crew of about two some what different fishermen of the main who was found marooned on a beach in some place on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Duxbury County. When found this man's clothes had been cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated. He was surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel here and one morning all for some mysterious reason.

"Jerome" appeared to have been a man of considerable social standing and, possibly, of considerable wealth. However, the only thing that could or would ever say after being asked for by some family in the Forest was something that sounded like "Oh, yes, I know either you'd not, or, would not, or, who he was or why he was left the way it was. And is, one of Dugies Court."

And, different ideas have been put forward years concerning this man. However, "Mr." was, I felt no urge to ask, different about this man. The man I have been very well explained to, and would and he was a sort of a man.

The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Basin, and extends miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles across land from the head of W. Mary's Bay. This land not only has water's edge, partly on level ground, and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having on an eastern aspect a view of the Annapolis Basin and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in extent, it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth at that name. It was secured by Leyden's tract (New York) in 1642, the grant of which went nearly to fashion, as, moving to other countries, left the shore

Heads Blossom Festival

Mayor Gordon Turnbull announced at the town council meeting on Tuesday evening that he had been approached by Eric W. Balcom, Wolfville, (above), president of the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival, in regard to the town participating in the 1956 Festival.

The festival dates were set for the first four days in June at a meeting held at the Paramount Hotel, Wolfville, with Mr. Balcom presiding. The general program of the 24th annual festival will open with the Grand Blossom Ball on Friday night, all the highlights of previous festivals will be included and new features added.

Mr. Balcom was re-elected president at the meeting at the Paramount. Other officers elected included: Hon. President, F. J. Burns, Kentville; Past President, C. W. Fair, Wolfville; Vice Presidents: Mayor M. S. Horsburgh, Berwick; Mayor Arthur Weatherbee, Hantsport; S. C. Gordon, Wolfville; Secretary, Bella H. Burns; Asst. Secretary, L. H. Ives, Kentville.

Board of Management will include Honorary President, Past President, Vice Presidents, Treasurer and George H. Bishop, Kentville.

The directorate is made up of Premier Henry D. Hicks, the Mayors of the Valley towns, Warden of Digby, Annapolis, Hants and Kings; the Federal and Provincial members for the four Valley counties, and Commanding Officers of HMCS Cornwallis, Aldershot, C. A. P. Greenwood, RCAF Station, other high officers of the services; "H" Division RCMP; and others representing the towns and services, including Thomas Aylward, Falmouth, President Nova Scotia Fruit Growers Association, the secretary, R. D. Sutton, Port Williams, and G. T. Purdy, M.P. for Colchester-Hants.

Four committee chairmen were appointed as follows: Street Parade, H. Cameron Lindsay, Kentville; Junior Parade, Mrs. W. L. Barteaux, Kentville; Transportation, Mayor M. S. Horsburgh, Berwick; Queen's committee, S. C. Gordon, Wolfville.

Mr. and Mrs. C. T. FitzRandolph, Bridgetown, and Mrs. C. S. Bezanon, Aylesford, were appointed a committee with power to add, to consider and work out a theme for the Festival parade. Dr. Charlotte Whitton, Mayor of Ottawa, will be extended an invitation to be one of the guest speakers at Grand Pre Memorial Park.

The Service personnel represented by Lt. Col. W. H. Seemark, Aldershot Camp; Group Captain C. G. W. Chapman, RCAF Greenwood; Lt. Col. John Lee, OC Nova Scotia Regiment; and Lieut. J. R. Peers, representing Capt. M. C. Stirling, HMCS Cornwallis, all signified their willingness to co-operate fully as in the past in the matter of band concerts, parades, floats and other events.

Mayor Turnbull at the town council meeting here said that organizations would be approached to sponsor a princess and wished to make it known that any town organization has the privilege of doing so.

Several of the councillors felt there was a great deal of indirect advertising secured for the town by entering in the Apple Blossom Festival. Any advertising which benefits Nova Scotia or the Valley in general would indirectly reflect its beneficial effects on Digby, it was thought, and a disappointment was voiced in the fact that to date it seemed unlikely that Digby would be participating in the Blossom Festival.

CROWDS ATTEND EASTER SERVICES

Churches in Digby and vicinity were filled to capacity on Sunday as worshippers joined in the special Easter services.

At Digby Baptist Church many came to worship and communicants numbered one hundred and twenty.

The junior, intermediate and senior choirs were in attendance and the younger groups, accompanied by Peter Nichols at the organ, sang "Holy, Holy, Holy" by Mozart. Miss Anne Brittain presided at the organ for the senior choir when they rendered "Hymns of Triumph" by Lorenz.

The pastor, Rev. E. C. Churchill, finished his series of sermons on the Epistle to the Romans in the morning, taking as his text "We are made more than conquerors through Him that loved us".

His discourse in the evening was on the First Easter Evening.

In memorial flowers were placed by the families of the late Capt. Hillyard Barnes, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel MacIntosh, George VanTassel, Harvey Sabine, George Wade and Donald Levy. A basket of thirty-eight roses, a gift of a grandson in New York was loaned by Mrs. Guy Morehouse and Easter lilies from Bermuda were loaned by Mrs. W. H. Farnham.

At Hill Grove a special Easter service was held when Rev. E. C. Churchill sang "Before the Dawn".

The evening service was conducted by the Baptist Youth Fellowship with the following participating: Misses Marilyn Clayton, Helen Harding, Jean Brittain, Charles Grant, Gary Harding, Peter Nichols and Keith Churchill. The senior choir provided the music.

The junior choir, robed in new white surplices and black bows, added a special feature to the Easter service at Grace United Church on Sunday morning as they sang "Surprise on a Hill" by Ellen Jane Lorenz. Miss Carolyn Arnold and Gregg Dickie took the solo parts. The choir was under the direction of the church organist, Miss Constance Kirkpatrick, assisted by Mrs. Gerald Wilson.

The senior choir sang the anthem "If We Believe" by Caleb Simper, with Mrs. J. M. Wallis as soloist in the morning, and an appropriate Easter anthem was sung at the evening service.

Flowers which adorned the church were in memory of the late Dr. Dudley Dickie, Mrs. W. R. Dickie, Ralph Cummings, Mrs. Ernest Turnbull and Ross, Mr. James Hayden, Oscar VanTassel and A. J. Trohon.

Rev. James Brooks took as his subject for a sermon in the morning "The Eternal Fruits of the Resurrection" and in the evening "Life Through Death". About one hundred and twenty attended the communion service which immediately followed the morning worship when the church was filled to capacity.

At Bay View in the afternoon, Mr. Brooks spoke on "The Gains of Easter" and the choir of Grace United Church provided special Easter music.

Exceptionally large crowds attended the Easter services at Trinity Church here on Sunday. In the morning Rev. H. Y. MacLean, resident rector, preached from the 118th Psalm, 24th verse, "This is the day which the Lord has made, let us rejoice and be glad in it." In the evening his subject was "Proofs of the Resurrection". The senior choir sang "Open the Gates of the Temple" by Knopp in the morning, and Ralph Berwick rendered the beautiful vocal selection "Hail Glorifying Light" transcribed from a 3rd century Greek hymn by Joan Stainer.

Flowers were placed in memory of Mrs. Fred Robinson, Mrs. Osborne Turnbull, Dr. E. DuVernet, Miss E. Robinson, Mrs. Josephine MacMullen, Mrs. Joseph Hall and other former members of the congregation.

Large crowds attended the St. Patrick's Church throughout Holy Week and through the Easter Day when the new liturgical form of service was used and sermons on the Resurrection story were delivered. The altar was decorated with Easter lilies and hydrangeas, among them being particularly lovely arrangements from Herbert Beaton, residing in the United States.

A sunrise service and breakfast was held at the Salvation Army Citadel on Sunday morning. Services were also held at eleven in the morning and seven in the evening when special Easter music and Easter messages were heard. In the morning Lieutenant Earle Birt spoke

Two Injured In Weekend Accidents

Mrs. Benjamin Marshall, of Acaciaville, suffered a deep cut to her forehead Saturday night as a result of a two-car collision at Deep Brook.

She and her two children were passengers in a car driven by her husband when they were in collision with a second car at the brow of the hill opposite the driveway of Mrs. George Spurr, Deep Brook. The driver of the other car was unidentified.

Other passengers in the cars escaped injury.

An ambulance from the RCN Hospital at Cornwallis was called to the scene. Mrs. Marshall was treated by the medical orderly on the spot. She was later taken to Digby and placed under the care of Dr. D. G. Black.

Stanley Ryan, Marshalltown, received a cheek injury Saturday afternoon when his truck was in collision with a B. Carson and Sons truck of Yarmouth.

Mr. Ryan allegedly entered the highway from his driveway at Marshalltown into the path of the on-coming Carson truck, reportedly driven by John Mulca, Yarmouth.

Ryan's truck was a total wreck and damage to the Carson truck was estimated at $150.

A brother, Thomas, who was a passenger in the Ryan truck at the time of the accident, and Mulca were uninjured.

A car reportedly owned and operated by Able Seaman Bureau, Cornwallis, left the road early Tuesday morning when the driver was allegedly blinded by the lights of an on-coming car. Bureau's car hit and broke off a telephone pole at the edge of the road.

The driver was not injured and there was little damage to the car.

Digby To Have Visit From Governor General

The Governor General of Canada, Viscount Vincent Massey, will visit Digby on Thursday, June 28, it was announced at the regular meeting of the Town Council here on Tuesday night.

Agricultural Short Courses At Conway

Two-day Agricultural Short Courses were held at Conway last week on March 28 and 29th, Wednesday and Thursday.

The short course had been sponsored and organized by the members of the Maple Leaf Agricultural Society and supervised by the Department of Agriculture.

The sessions were held in the afternoon at 2 p.m. and in the morning at 8 p.m. in the Maple Leaf Agricultural Hall.

On the first afternoon Mr. R. P. Longley from the Experimental Farm talked on Fruits in Digby County. Mr. Longley again spoke at the evening session, stressing the necessity of taking good care of fruit trees by spraying and pruning them.

Mr. R. Slater of the Soil Division of the Department of Agriculture from Truro gave two interesting talks on pastures and silage. Mr. Slater stressed the necessity of growing good pastures if farmers want to stay on the farm. While pasture is the cheapest way of feeding livestock it is superior in feeding value to any dry roughage fed during the winter time, he said. Silage, on the other hand, is the natural way of giving the animals in the winter time what they get through pastures during the summer.

The talks on fruits, pastures and silage were supported by slides, showing the differences in good and bad pastures, as well as the way to make good and profitable use of silage.

The second day of the short course was given to the study of livestock and poultry. Mr. Walter Grant from the Extension Division of the Dept. of Agriculture showed the farmers the importance of farm management to succeed on the farm. He also applied Farm Management to livestock either in dairy farming or beef raising.

Mr. Stuart Allaby from Lawrencetown gave statistics showing the trend of poultry raising during the last few years, showing the improvements done and the possibilities of succeeding in the poultry industry.

While most of the short courses were attended by men only, the women decided to make an appearance at the last session. This session was attended by a group of about sixty people. While the men were discussing livestock and poultry with Mr. Grant and Mr. Allaby, the women were studying rural beautification with Mr. R. Morton from Truro and home economics with Miss Marie Saulnier from Mavillette.

To put a finishing touch on the short courses, the farm Forum from Rossway put on an entertainment program for the whole group. This consisted of a little play, jokes and a skit showing the importance of the Federation of Agriculture to the farmers of Digby County.

The short courses were concluded by a lunch served by the ladies of the District of Conway.

Miss Louise Atkinson returned to Acadia University on Wednesday, after spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Atkinson.

INCREASE TAX RATE TO $2.90

The 1956 budget for the Town of Digby resulting in a tax rate of $2.90 per hundred dollars assessment was announced at a regular meeting of the town council on Tuesday evening.

This is an increase of 12c per hundred over the 1955 rate. The total estimated expenditure is $130,151.70, estimated revenue other than taxes $29,943.03, school levy $7,826.77, leaving an amount of $72,381.90 to be raised by taxation on an assessment of $3,455,471.32. The budget was presented and received at a special meeting of the council on March 27.

Personal complaints and complaints by correspondence were made regarding positions of junk yards in town. A motion was passed whereby immediate steps will be taken to enact an amendment to the town by-laws for the control of establishing junk yards in town.

Permission was granted to James Wong to erect a one car garage on the property of J. J. Brittain facing Maiden Lane, and to C. D. Snow for the erection of a lobster pound, 175 feet by 175 feet, on the shore back of his premises on Prince William Street between the Maritime National Fish building and the Mearle Co. Permission was also granted to the Canadian Oil Company to erect six underground oil tanks on the property of Donald Amero near the DAR railway.

Permission was granted to the Digby Branch Victorian Order of Nurses to hold a tag day on April 14.

A good report on the town water was received from the Department of Health.

A committee consisting of Dr. D. G. Black, Donald Amero and L. M. Saunders was set up to work with committees from the town on the Dominion Day celebration.

A report from the police department showed that 31 complaints had been filed in March and of those investigated all but three had been terminated satisfactorily to those concerned.

Fire damage in March amounted to $475.00 and four people were slightly injured, according to Norman Wright, reporting for that department. He also mentioned that the Fire Department, at their own expense, had added equipment for fighting grass fires.

He will be remembered by many who met him on his previous visit to Digby. On that occasion, October of 1955, he was the preacher at the church service preceding the annual meeting of the Deanery Women's Auxiliary.

Butterfly Arrives Early

A beautiful yellow butterfly was discovered on Monday in the home of Arthur Sulis, Smith's Cove. The pretty creature, although rushing the season a little, helped further the glad feeling that spring has really arrived in all its glory.

Mr. Sulis thinks that perhaps the butterfly hatched from a cocoon brought into the house in firewood.

Correction: Last week it was incorrectly reported that the Scout Troop in this area were at Cornwallis, Digby and Deep Brook. This should have read Cornwallis, Digby and Smith's Cove.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Ira Dukeshire, Miss Sue Lingley and Mrs. Borden Fountain.

Ravens Western Nova Scotia Hockey Champs

The Digby Ravens added another trophy to their collection Saturday night when they topped Chester 5-2 before a large crowd at the Bridgewater rink to take the two-game total point series 13-9 and become the Western Nova Scotia Hockey champions for 1955-56. The Digby team took the first game 8-7 on Cornwallis ice last Wednesday.

Digby previously eliminated Cornwallis Trojans to claim the right to meet Chester, the winners of the South Shore League, for the title.

The game proved to be fast and clean all the way. Weatherbee of Digby opened the scoring in the first period with a follow up by Halliday to close the period with no scoring by Chester. The teams split two goals in the second period to go into the third with Digby leading 3-1. Digby doubled Chester's single goal effort in the third period to end the game 5-2. Rogers and Grady collected the two third period goals for the Digby team.

Wednesday night's game, played at the Cornwallis Arena, proved also to be fast and clean, with only six penalties being handed out.

Grady and Weatherbee were highliners for the Digby team with three goals apiece. Conrad was high man for Chester.

The game seemed to a third period draw which was broken by Weatherbee in the final three minutes of play to give Digby the 8-7 win and a one point lead in the two game series.

Four Generations At Party

Relatives and friends gathered at the home of Edward E. Theriault, Belliveau's Cove, Sunday to greet him on his 88th birthday. Included were relatives of four generations. A very pleasant evening was spent and a delicious lunch was served including a birthday cake. Gifts for the occasion were presented to Mr. Theriault.

Mr. Theriault retired six years ago through illness after a life time of activities. In 1883 he took up clerking. In 1892 he was appointed collector of customs, a position he held up to 1929 when many ports were closed by the Government, finally taking up general store business which he successfully carried on until his retirement in 1950.

About This and That

Conservation Week — April 1 - 7

Common to all Canada is the current problem of Conservation. Which is not to say that it follows the same pattern, because while the old settled sections of the east are struggling to replace thoughtless waste of natural resources, which followed the cutting of the forests and settling the land, the outposts of today are trying not to commit the offences and to plan ahead for the generations who will have to live when the wealth of today has been harvested and spent.

Conservation is sometimes described as an inadequate term for the many activities which it embraces. But it is not so far out, at that. In the early days of Canada, our grandmothers made a special preserve called a "conserve". It gathered the riches of the harvest of fruits, tied it all up together and added a sufficient quantity of sugar to make sure that it would keep against the cold days of winter when fresh fruit was not available.

She used it up during the winter, but in her thrifty habits as housewife and gardener she still had, year after year, the fruits from the well tended bushes from which to make her "conserve".

The preservation of these natural resources is the first duty of those who are organized these days under the banner of Conservation. They will make good farms, fine forests, beautiful parks which will be used and still preserved for generations to come. They will be the best fruits of the Conservation movement "done down" for the perpetual use and enjoyment of Canadians.

Music

The radio has been giving us a great feast of Easter music during the past week; some of it secular, but most of it of a religious nature. In the churches, too, special anthems have been prepared and sung, and Christianity has expressed its faith and hope in great and lofty cadences. This is right and proper, and credit must be given to the Church down the ages, that it has nurtured and produced as no other society could, the wonderful heritage of music.

Soon, we shall be hearing the results of much practice and rehearsal on the part of our younger folk and their teachers; the music festival month is fast approaching, preparations are accelerating, pieces are being given more attention, whether willingly or otherwise, and soon fond mothers (and an occasional father) will gather to listen, in various stages of nervous tension mingled with pride and pleasure, to Johnny and Mary singing or playing as the case may be.

The music festival is not an institution of interest to a few people, it is a vital necessity in these Maritime Provinces, and it may be of all Canada. There are far too many people around who say "I cannot sing a note", when this is not strictly true, the fact being that they have not really tried to sing. There are a few unfortunate people who are tone deaf, but the percentage is very small indeed, and I am not willing to admit that they all live in Nova Scotia! On the other hand, we do not have a tradition of group singing; we do not go beyond a very raucous "O Canada" in our schools and in our Lodge and allied meetings and thus we grow up without practising the art of singing, and finally we claim "I can't sing."

There is a saying that "You can't teach an old dog new tricks" and there is a grain of truth in it. Maybe it is too late to enthrone our adults to the point where they will break forth into "tuneful mirth", but I am sure that if we can give our young folk some insight into the pleasures and beauties of music, especially in group singing, they will continue to sing and in so doing will inspire those who follow them, and in this way a tradition of Nova Scotian singing will be formed.

But I don't think the "old dogs" should be left alone; I think it would be a fine idea to form Glee Clubs in some of our larger communities; not that we would strive to sing Bach Chorales, but just to sing, with the constant aim of improving diction, tone, and harmony, the favourite songs of our country and of those countries from which we have originated. There is a wealth of interest and pleasure to be derived from such clubs and we should all benefit by them.

Who will be first?

Dr. J. E. Comeau and Mrs. Comeau are spending a week in Moncton, N. B., with relatives.

Short Course

The annual Hotel Short Course, sponsored by the Nova Scotia Department of Trade and Industry, will be held in the Nova Scotia Hotel, Halifax, April 10, 11 and 12. Invitations will be sent to operators of the more than six hundred and fifty places of accommodation in the province, and a large percentage of these are expected to attend.

Registration will begin at 9 o'clock Tuesday morning after which the welcoming address will be given by John Bigelow, Deputy Minister of Trade and Industry.

John Fisher, Executive Director of the Canadian Tourist Association, and well-known CBC commentator, will be guest speaker at the annual dinner, Wednesday evening, April 11.

The three-day course is conducted for the purpose of assisting the hotel operator to carry on his business more effectively by bringing him up to date in new trends in the tourist industry, and providing the answers to many of the problems which from time to time confront the operator of hotel accommodation.

As in previous years, the proper cooking and serving of food will be stressed. Dr. Juanita Archibald, Chief Dietitian, Department of Health, Truro, will give a talk on the "Well Balanced Menu" with a demonstration of salad making. She will also give a demonstration on cooking and serving fish.

There will be also demonstrations of pie making, after which the pies will be served along with coffee. A meat-cutting demonstration by Edward Gehlert, will be repeated again this year, by popular request. A talk on the use of herbs in cooking will be given.

Problems in sanitation, landscaping, fire prevention, legal aspects, and employee relations will be dealt with by experts in these fields.

Helpful talks and demonstrations on such interesting subjects as carpeting, bed-making, good hotel housekeeping will be included, as well as several heated discussions by prominent hotel men on various aspects of successful hotel operation.

Films on hospitality, bed-making and salad preparation will be shown.

Those engaged in the operation of restaurants in Nova Scotia are welcome to attend the course.

Report from Parliament Hill

The highlight of this week's Parliamentary session was, of course, the delivery of the Budget. As usual, groups gathered long in advance and awaited patiently the opening of the gallery doors. As usual, they were tired and bored before the speech was over and most of them wished that they had stayed at home and heard it summarized over the radio. Certainly the Budget contained no surprises. The only certain inference that can be drawn from it, as near certain as any political inference can be, is that there will be no election this year. Mr. Harris' Budget figures indicate that he will have but a modest surplus at the end of this year. Many experienced observers believe that he deliberately underestimated the revenues which he should receive during the year. This is particularly apparent in his estimate of corporation taxation. If his estimates of a gross national product for the coming year is anywhere near correct, then his estimate of corporate revenues is altogether too low. Undoubtedly, he did this deliberately. If it had been planned to hold an election this year, Mr. Harris would probably have increased substantially his estimated revenues and thereby showing a substantial surplus which would justify him in granting at least modest tax reductions. But Mr. Harris preferred to keep his tax cuts in cold storage. Next year when he delivers the Budget he undoubtedly will affect great surprise at his unexpected surplus and with that he will be able to reduce taxation and the election will have received its green light.

Of course, in fairness to Mr. Harris, it must be pointed out that there is one uncertain factor confronting him—that is the inauguration of a National Health scheme. No one knows yet whether this will come in force this year, or next year, or possibly even later. When it does, there undoubtedly will be substantially increased expenditures in one form or another by the Federal Government. There is always a possibility that the scheme will come in force in the relatively near future. Mr. Harris was reluctant to reduce taxation with no election in the immediate future. Naturally, he shuddered at the thought that if he reduced taxes now, he might have to increase them again next year to pay for the National Health scheme and then be confronted with an election. So, he apparently decided to underestimate his expected revenues for this year, and thereby justify his action in standing pat and doing nothing about the reduction of taxation for at least one more year.

At the end of the week Mr. Macdonnell, the financial critic for the opposition opened the budget debate. In his speech Mr. Macdonnell spent a great deal of time in pointing out the justifiable claims of the Maritime Provinces and suggesting the time had come when the Federal Government should do something to recognize these problems. I think this is more than passing attention, not because Mr. Macdonnell is a Conservative, but because I think he reflects a changing attitude that has taken place in Ottawa. I know it is popular here to suggest that other Canadians are very selfish, and they're willing to exploit the Maritimes and do nothing for them. Frankly, I do not think that is the correct appreciation of the picture. Probably, the attitude at Ottawa has changed during the last few years because Maritime complaints have been far more drawn to their attention. But regardless of that, I personally am convinced that there is a changing attitude towards these Provinces and a realization that the Government of Canada, all parties, have been negligent in carrying out the promises of Confederation. As I have met the Canadians from all other Provinces I have been impressed by their obviously sincere interest in these Provinces, and their fervent willingness to see the Government do whatever necessary to enable us to share in the great national prosperity which is happily enjoyed by many other Provinces. I think if we in the Maritimes can work out an intelligent and reasonable program which we can urge as remedial measures for these Provinces, that the Government at Ottawa will be prepared to implement. This is a field in which the recently organized Atlantic Provinces Economic Council—APC, can be of real service. This organization represents leaders of all walks of life in the Maritimes and should be able to develop a program which will be both remedial and realistic.

The tragic death of Bob Winters' son has cast a gloom over Parliament Hill. Mr. Winters is popular with all political parties and with practically every individual member of each party. I have known of no other death which has caused a greater feeling on the Hill than that of his son. There was an interesting little personal coincidence, if that's a proper phrase, at the funeral. I, together with other Nova Scotian members, were sitting in the front row of the Glebe United Church. In the choir loft were two former Wiltville residents, Professor and Mrs. MacPhail. In the pulpit was the Rev. J. P. C. Fraser, formerly of St. Andrews United Church, Wiltville. Mr. Fraser opened his address with these words: "In Wiltville, Nova Scotia, two small boys were watching a funeral procession." It was a surprising opening and I think for a second each one of the four of us caught each other's eyes. Incidentally, Mr. Fraser is looking very well and handled a very provocative occasion in his usual fine manner.

Parliament adjourns on the 28th of March for the Easter recess and does not reassemble again until April 9th. Prior to the recess we will be dealing with relatively unimportant and non-controversial odds and ends of Parliamentary legislation. This will give the members from the far east and the far west an opportunity to get home a little early. To tell you the truth, I will be home before this is read in the press because I have not been away from Ottawa since Parliament opened on January 12th. Therefore, the next Report From Parliament Hill will not appear until three weeks from this present issue. When we reassemble we will have a short and sharp budget debate which under the new rules can only last for a total of eight days. There probably will be a protracted debate on the pipe lines and the monumental task of scrutinizing estimates amounting to over four billions of dollars. Those items, together with the Government legislations still on the order paper, are causing some concern to those

Discuss Sanitation Of Fish Plants

Representatives of the fishing industry of Nova Scotia met in Halifax Wednesday with officials of the Federal Department of Fisheries and the Fisheries Research Board to discuss proposals for maintaining sanitary control of fresh and frozen fish plants.

The proposals are a forerunner of a planned expansion by the Department of systematic inspection of fresh, frozen and processed fish as well as processing plants. The meeting was the second of two held in the Maritimes—the first meeting was held Monday in Moncton with the New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island fishing industry.

The Department of Fisheries presented a program for maintaining sanitary control of plants to which the industry representatives agreed with only slight modifications. It was pointed out that the proposals were not compulsory at this time and would apply principally to new plants and to required changes in existing plants to meet minimum standards.

In his introduction, H. V. Dempsey of Ottawa, Director of the Inspection and Consumer Service for the Department, explained the reasons behind the proposals. It is possible, he said, that in time the proposals be made regulatory if the Department introduces compulsory inspection of fresh and frozen fish. He said that a need exists in Canada for systematic inspection of fresh and frozen fish are to compete on an equal basis with other processed foods.

Mr. Dempsey said that a plant inspection and fresh and frozen fish inspection had been in operation in Newfoundland for almost a year on a voluntary basis with great success. Where fewer than one-third of the plants met the minimum requirements at the start, now virtually all conform to the minimum standards.

"These proposals, if adopted, do not mean that you will automatically produce a good quality product—but it does minimize the chance of producing an unsanitary product. The proposals represent the combined knowledge of the Department and the Fisheries Research Board gained from experience and investigation in the fresh and frozen fish industry," Mr. Dempsey said.

The representatives to the meeting were welcomed by Boran E. Baker, of Halifax, Chief Supervisor of Fisheries for the Maritimes Area. Other departmental officials attending include R. E. S. Homans, Chief Inspection Officer for the Maritimes Area; Dr. Henri Fougere, Director, and Charles Castell, of the Atlantic Technological Station in Halifax of the Fisheries Research Board; Ainsley Fralick of Lunenburg, Senior Field Inspection Officer; and Wyn Rhydwyn, Area Information Officer for the Department.

Muskateers Lead In Clare Bowling League

The Meteghan Muskateers ran away with the Clare Bowling League leadership when they led by 17 points against their closest rivals, the Meteghan Canadians, in a five team league. In its tenth year of operation, the league was not as close as last season when Concession and Muskateers battled it out neck and neck for the leadership. Concession dropped out this year after being unable to line up a team due to their players having moved away when the league opened last fall, returning too late to form a team.

Meteghan Muskateers hold the high game score record with 3353; the high team single with 1132 went to the Meteghan Sharpshooters; the individual game score was won by Leo LeBlanc of St. Bernard with 334; high game score was won by Joe Babin of the Muskateers with 739, who beat out his team mate, George Aymar, by a single point.

The league standing stands as follows:
Meteghan Muskateers — won 51, lost 13.
Meteghan Canadians — won 34, lost 30.
Meteghan Sharpshooters — won 29, lost 35.
St. Bernard's — won 27, lost 33.
Meteghan River — won 18, lost 46. Meteghan River is playing off for fourth place. The other teams will start toppling one another over next week.

The Week In The Legislature

Record high revenues of $38,494,000 for the 1956-57 fiscal year were predicted in estimates tabled by Provincial Treasurer R. M. Fielding, against expenditures of $39,422,000.

Highways department revenues are expected to total $18,750,350 with the gasoline tax returning, of this amount, $13,625,000. Through licences, fines, registrations, etc., the highways department expects to receive $4,745,350.

Nova Scotia liquor commission profits are forecast at $10,200,000.

Expenditures of the highways department are forecast at $16,941,883; education department $13,756,264, and public health $7,619,735.

The health expenditures are the highest in the province's history with additional amounts being made available for free polio treatment and expansion of the free tuberculosis program, also for establishment of a new laboratory program providing less costly diagnostic services, the initial step toward the proposed health insurance plan.

Expenditures of the Department of Welfare were estimated at $4,626,000 (an increase of over $25,000 over the previous year). The increase will provide for the new social assistance plan and increased benefits under mothers' allowances and child care.

In his interim departmental report Highways Minister Mackenzie reported that in the last year 169.6 miles of highway were paved in the province with 115.7 miles of the paving being done on secondary roads.

An amendment to the Public Health Act introduced by Hon. Geoffrey Stevens, Minister of Public Health, is aimed to improve milk quality. It would prohibit the sale of adulterated milk. Under existing regulations water or preservative can be added to milk. Another clause would prohibit stores keeping milk in temperatures above 45 degrees, rather than the 55 degrees limit now in effect.

An amendment to the Child Welfare Act was given final approval by the House. The legislation doubles the payment made by the province toward maintenance of a ward in a child-caring institution. The provincial grant thus increases from $208 to $416.

Opposition Leader Robert L. Stanfield served notice in the legislature that he will urge the highways department to give greater attention to long-term planning for future highway needs and the early designation or acquisition of the right-of-way to meet such needs.

CCF Leader Michael McDonald's motion calling for establishment of a branch motor vehicle registration office in Sydney was turned down in a 12-14 vote.

Branch motor vehicle registration offices had not worked out to satisfaction in other states and provinces said Highways Minister Mackenzie and the Nova Scotia system of a central office in Halifax had proven satisfactory. The three months allowed for renewal of registrations each year eliminated inconvenience, he said in replying to criticism of the system, if the public would apply for their plates and permits by mail, of before the last few days of the time extension.

The government, however, he added, had an open mind on the subject and would continue to study the matter and seek a way to improve the service.

E. D. Haliburton (PC-Kings) voted against the motion saying the expense of employing additional government employees "at the expense of a five-cent postage stamp" was not economical.

A petition signed by 900 residents of the Truro and Lower Truro area for improvement of Truro marsh reclamation project which would allow a natural run-off of flood waters was presented to Premier Hicks by G. I. Smith (PC-Colchester).

The petition would also be sent to other governmental bodies concerned, including the federal government and municipal council, said Mr. Smith.

Mr. Smith also served notice that he would ask amendment of provincial laws which would allow payment of fines on the installment plan.

Mr. Stanfield's motion urging the department of highways to give greater attention to long-term plans for future highway needs was defeated on a 17-14 vote. Mr. Stanfield said he did not believe the highways department was making any plans for the future. Highways Minister Mackenzie informed the House that the department was now in its third five-year highway plan.

Agriculture Minister Colin H. Chisholm said the agriculture department, in an effort to stimulate sheep ranching in Nova Scotia, had acquired a 6,500-acre of pastureland in the Mabou Mountain area of Inverness county and this spring will open it to farmers of the vicinity to test whether community pastures are practical.

KIDNEY ACIDS Rob your Rest..

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—toss and turn—when it may be their kidneys. Healthy kidneys filter poisons and excess acids from the blood. If they fail and poisons stay in the system—disturbed rest often follows. If you don't rest well get and use Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's is the medicine so that you can rest better—and feel better.

Other vases and baskets of carnations, tulips, daffodils and hincynths were in memory of baby Walter Payson, placed by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Payson, and in memory of Mrs. Eva Nickerson, placed by Mr. and Mrs. William Nickerson and family. Tulips and daffodils were also placed by Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Hill. A yase of spring pussywills was also on the platform. The address by the pastor was taken from the Gospel of St. John. "He is not here, He is Risen."

Deep Brook

Special music, largely attended services and beautiful spring flowers in both the United Baptist and St. Matthew's Anglican Churches, Deep Brook, on Easter Sunday were noticeable, despite the deep snow banks.

Beautiful flowers, in memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. Frank McLelland, Mrs. Ada Sherman and Mrs. Zwickers were among those in the Baptist Church, and in memory of Mr. and Mrs. R. V. Dittmar, the Gilpin Sells family, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Vroom, Carl Vroom, Mr. Edwin Hiltz and daughter Iris (Mrs. Van Rizan), and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Purdy, were beautifully arranged at St. Matthew's Anglican Church.

Granville Ferry

Most impressive Easter services were held in the three churches at Granville Ferry on Sunday. The Easter service at the United Baptist Church was held at 11 o'clock on Sunday morning conducted by the pastor, Rev. Carrol R. Armstrong. The church was decorated with potted and lovely spring flowers which were in memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. Le Baron Mills and Mr. Harry Mills, and other departed loved ones. Mrs. R. T. Chisholm presided at the organ and a lovely anthem "Open the Gates of the Temple" was sung by the choir. Two solos were also rendered by Mrs. C. A. Nauss and Miss Vesta Littlewood.

At Holy Trinity Anglican Church, Granville Ferry, Holy Communion was celebrated at 8 a.m. on Easter Sunday morning with Rev. W. Evans Jefferson as celebrant. Rev. Mr. Jefferson also held a worship service at 7 p.m. on Sunday evening. Easter lilies and other lovely flowers decorated the church and were in loving memory of the late Captain and Mrs. W. R. Merriam and Mr. Simon G. Merriam, and Mr. and Mrs. Stannage Mills and their daughter, Mrs. John Halliday. Mrs. B. T. Miller presided at the or-

Urge Reducing Coastal Bar To Canadian Fishermen

Amendments to the Fisheries Act to permit fishing to within three miles of the Canadian coastline by fishing craft over 65 feet in length of Canadian registry have been urged by the Nova Scotia Fish Packers' Association.

A resolution calling for these changes and "strict enforcement of this three-mile limit with adequate penalties for violations has been sent to Federal Fisheries Minister James Sinclair. Copies also have been forwarded to Premier Henry D. Hicks and members of the Nova Scotia Legislature.

The resolution claimed that the restrictive 12-mile limit for Canadian fishing craft while foreign vessels operate within the three-mile limit was "discriminative against an increasingly important section of Canada's commercial fishing industry."

The text of the resolution follows: "Whereas Canadian owned and operated fishing craft over 65 feet in length are not permitted to fish within 12 miles of the Canadian coastline except in so far as the coastline of Newfoundland is concerned, and have been so prohibited for many years; and

"Whereas fishing to within three miles of the said coastline is permissible by such fishing craft of foreign registry and by Canadian craft under 65 feet; and

"Whereas this prohibition by the Government of Canada is discriminatory against an increasingly important section of Canada's commercial fishing industry; and

"Whereas there is no evidence that there is likely to be international agreement on a 12-mile limit for coastal waters within the near future;

"Therefore Be It Resolved that the Nova Scotia Fish Packers' Association request the Government of Canada to remove this discrimination by amending the Fisheries Act to permit fishing to within three miles of the Canadian coastline by fishing craft over 65 feet in length of Canadian registry, and further that there be strict enforcement of this three-mile limit with adequate penalties for violations. — Chronicle-Herald.

Soil Erosion In Nova Scotia

Soil erosion can be serious in Nova Scotia. Usually the soil is eroded by small trickling rivulets of water which carry the smaller, more fertile particles of the soil away. Occasionally, following heavy rains small streams as well as rivers may fill up causing large scale field erosion in the form of great gullies. Contour farming in sloping country will go a long way towards cutting down soil erosion thus improving the soil fertility of the land.

F. W. Calder of the Experimental Farm, Canada Department of Agriculture at Nappan, N. S., reports that contour farming was started on one of the Illustration Stations. Plowing was changed from up and down the slope to across or around the hill and contour strips were established across the slopes. These strips are relatively narrow and in length extend across the entire slope. This type of farming is not difficult and will pay the farmer for any trouble involved in changing the shape of his fields. It is important to arrange the rotation in such a manner as to ensure that two adjacent strips are not plowed in the same year.

Letter To The Editor

Editor Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.
Dear Editor:

The time is approaching for the annual Music Festival in Digby and Freeport. There has been some criticism in past years for the non-recognition of the achievement of the entrants.

After the adjudicator has awarded the marks to the entrants, what has he or she to show for their work — why nothing! For only a small sum certificates could be awarded to these entrants say for 1st, 2nd and 3rd place. I'm sure the Wallis Print Ltd. would print attractive certificates for a reasonable sum. In other parts of the Province certificates are given to the highest competitors in the different classes. Let us get to work and do it this year. Some may say why let's only a piece of paper but to a boy or girl receiving same it is a big thing in their young lives.

Let us make our Music Festivals more attractive to the entrants by at least awarding them a certificate for their work. By doing this it would create more interest amongst the children as each festival approaches.

As for the cost of these certificates why it could easily be worked out by the different branches of the Home and School in Digby County.

Long Island Music Fan.

Bell Museum To Be Opened August 18

The Alexander Graham Bell Museum at Baddeck, N. S., will be formally opened at a ceremony at 2:30 p.m., August 18. The museum has been established by the Department of Northern Affairs and National Resources to honour the scientific achievements of Dr. Bell, in various fields of research on land, sea and in the air.

The museum is the first of its kind to be established by the federal government. Its architectural motif is the tetrahedron, the four-sided pyramidal cell which Bell designed for experimental kites strong enough to carry a man into the air. It has been built on a height overlooking the Bras d'Or Lakes, not far from the summer home where Bell lived between 1893 and 1922. While living at Baddeck, Bell and four associates formed the Aerial Experiment Association, which made many contributions to the advancement of aviation. Associated with Bell were J. A. D. McCurdy, later Lieutenant-governor of Nova Scotia; F. W. "Casey" Baldwin; Glenn H. Curtiss, the United States aero-engine expert; and Lieutenant Thomas Selfridge, the U. S. Army's first aviation specialist.

The main address at the opening ceremonies will be delivered by Hon. Jean Lesage, Minister of Northern Affairs and National Resources. It is expected that Hon. R. H. Winters, Minister of Public Works, will preside at the opening ceremony and that Premier Henry D. Hicks of Nova Scotia will be present. Mrs. David Fairchild and Mrs. Gilbert Grosvenor, daughters of Dr. Bell, are expected to attend the opening ceremonies. The scientific relics and records of Dr. Bell's work that will be on display in the museum have been donated very largely by Mrs. Fairchild and Mrs. Grosvenor.

BIBLES PRESENTED

Denny Kaye and LeRoy Hand-spiker were presented with Bibles on Easter Sunday by J. Oakley Turnbull, Superintendent of Grace United Church Sunday School, for perfect attendance during a whole year.

The boys were also highly commended for a splendid year's work by their teacher.

Thievery & Breaks Increase

The petty thievery and breaks which hit Digby in the past few months reached more extensive proportions last week when the stores of Fritz Dakin, hardware, and C. B. Connell, variety, were entered. The frequency of the breaks and the value and kind of goods stolen has alarmed Digby citizens, it has been learned, and full measure of punishment is suggested when the culprits are brought before the law.

Missing from the Dakin store are one Cooney repeater .22 rifle, one Mossberg repeater .22 rifle, one Mossberg auto-loading .22 rifle and one Cooney 12 ga. shotgun. Among other articles were hunting knives and .22 ammunition.

The breaks occurred on Thursday night when the intruders made their way into Dakin's by breaking a basement window, cutting the wire on the upstairs door, possibly with a hand axe, and boldly entering the shop in face of night lights. About two hundred dollars worth of goods was taken from Dakin's Hardware.

At Connell's, entrance was again made through a basement window by a hole, only large enough to accommodate a very small figure, cut through the wire. The door at the head of the stairs was opened by cutting a hole approximately 6x9 inches and apparently using it to reach an inside hook. Connell's lost valuable harmonicas, billfolds, razors, binoculars, jack knives, hunting knives, fishing gear and other articles. Remnants of the thievery were picked up on the beach.

A case of pop was stolen from the premises of the Cornwallis Cafe on the same evening and locks were removed from the Yacht Club House.

Tools found on the beach and thought to have been used to manœuvre the breaks were identified, it is learned, by Norman Wright, as having been taken from his pleasure motor boat.

Recent breaks also occurred at the plant of C. D. Snow where a quantity of lobsters were stolen and at the Jew Cove plant of the Maritime National Fish, it was learned. The Digby Dairy and Van's Grocery were also among the winter's epidemic of breaks.

Aged Digby Business Woman Dies

Mary Alice Clinton passed away at the Foster Nursing Home, Waterville, N. S., on Wednesday, April 12. She had been a patient there for the past two years.

Born in Digby ninety-five years ago, she was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John A. Clinton. When a young girl she moved to the United States where she trained as a nurse. Following graduation she returned to Nova Scotia and served at the Yarmouth Hospital. She was operating room nurse at the first operation which took place in the Yarmouth Hospital. She was forced to give up nursing and return to Digby to care for her father. Following the death of her father she and a sister operated a candy store in the town of Digby. Miss Clinton was very well known throughout Digby County. She operated the candy store for over fifty years. She retired from business in 1943.

She was a member of Trinity Anglican Church and the last surviving member of her family.

Funeral service was held at Jayne's Funeral Home 2 p.m. Friday. The service was under the direction of Rev. H. Y. MacLean and interment was in the Church of England cemetery, Digby, N. S. Pallbearers were Chester Levy, Ralph Wright, Ben. Ruggles and George Humphrey.

DIGBY ORGANIZES LIONS CLUB

Rodger Furlong was elected the first president of the Digby Lions Club which was organized at Hotel Champlain on Tuesday night. Other officers elected were Eric Longley, secretary, and Eric Caldwell, treasurer. The Digby Lions Club, the 26th Lions Club in Nova Scotia, will meet on the second and fourth Tuesday of the month and the charter will be presented at a ladies night on May 24th. There are at present approximately 15 paid up members and enthusiasm expressed indicates a charter enrollment of twenty-five or thirty members, a spokesman said.

Celebrate Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Rafuse, esteemed residents of Granville Centre, celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary on Wednesday, April 12th.

Mr. Rafuse and his bride of fifty years, the former Miss Elita Bent of Belleisle, Annapolis County, were married in St. Mary's Church at Belleisle on April 14th, 1906, by the Rev. Canon Ernest Underwood, now retired and living in Bridgetown.

Mr. and Mrs. Rafuse throughout their married life have been active members of All Saints Church, Granville Centre. Mr. Rafuse has been a chapel warden for the past thirty years and Mrs. Rafuse has been active in the work of the Ladies Guild.

The evening previous to their Golden Wedding day, Mr. and Mrs. Rafuse were guests of honor at a party held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bent, at Granville Centre, sponsored by the members of All Saints' Guild.

Some fifty persons were present and during the evening the rector of Granville Anglican Parish, Rev. W. Evans Jefferson, presented Mr. and Mrs. Rafuse with a lovely mantle mirror in appreciation of their faithfulness to their church throughout the years. Mr. and Mrs. Rafuse responded graciously with a few well chosen words. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bent, who were celebrating their 20th wedding anniversary, were also presented with a gift.

On their Golden Wedding day Mr. and Mrs. Rafuse received cards of best wishes and congratulations from their many friends and relatives and a telegram and a substantial cheque from their only son, Chester Rafuse, and his family, who reside in Grand Bank, Newfoundland, and who were unable to be present at the Golden Wedding celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Rafuse have two grandchildren residing in Newfoundland.

Official Visits Kiwanians

Lieutenant Governor Cecil Barrett, Shelburne, of Division Number 11, made his semi-annual official visit at the Digby Kiwanis Club which met at Chan's Restaurant last Thursday.

The Lieutenant Governor discussed the crusade for better reading launched by Kiwanis International and also the project of new club building. He urged that delegates attend the International Conference to be held soon at Frisco, California, and also at the District Ontario, Quebec, Maritime Convention, to be held at Ottawa in September.

Mr. Barrett was introduced by Kiwanis President, J. R. McCleave. A brief meeting of the officers and directors followed the dinner when the Lieutenant Governor's report for international headquarters was made.

Tonight's speaker will be Stanley MacDonald, supervisor of the Department of Public Welfare, Digby, who will tell of the functions of a welfare office.

Twelve hundred dollars was raised by the Easter Seal sale for the aid of crippled children. It was announced by Kiwanian H. C. Morton and donations continue to be turned in.

ROBINS ARE HERE Mrs. Gladys VanTassell made an excited call to the Courier this week to assure us that Spring was really here. The robins are here.

Makes Three Requests For Digby Municipality

The re-opening of the Provincial Legislature following the Easter recess was highlighted by requests from two Liberal back-benchers for highway improvements in their respective constituencies.

Victor G. Cardoza M.L.A. Digby took the lead by requesting with emphasis that the River-Ton-Freepoint highway on Long Island be paved this year and that roads on Briar Island and to Whale Cove be included in the 1956 reconstruction program. Repair to breakneck damaged by sea action was stressed by Mr. Cardoza.

In commenting further on the highway situation in Digby County the member went on to say: "I want to emphasize that there is much yet to be done on the back roads of Digby municipality to put them in better shape to stand the heavy traffic and travel over them. I would therefore ask the Minister of Highways to give these roads close attention in planning this year's program to the benefit of the secondary roads in Digby County. There is particular need for work to be done on the roads leading into the fishing ports of Weymouth, Bridgetown and the town of Digby itself."

The local member for Digby also made reference to the fishing industry, stating that in this matter I want again to renew my plea for continued action on the part of our government to impress upon Federal authorities the need for some revision of the law that prevents foreign trawlers to fish close to our shore line. I have been informed by fishermen in my constituency that it is not unusual for these trawlers to come in so close to shore that lobster traps are torn up, and the sets of trawl placed by our lobster fishermen destroyed. In fact, damage claims for these very happenings have been paid to fishermen in Digby County by the operations of these trawlers.

I realize that this matter is a Federal one, but I do feel that our Government should continue to press most strenuously upon the Federal authorities not only for a revision of the law, but also a closer watch on the activities of these foreign trawlers so that a stop can be put to their illegal activities in coming almost into the shores along the coastline of Digby County.

Mr. Cardoza had something to say with regard to the agriculture picture in Digby County. On this subject he stated in part that "there is a need in the western end of our province particularly for promotional work in the matter of a need for a co-operative approach to the problems of production, handling and marketing. Our farms are for the most part small, and if they are to be properly and profitably operated in this mechanized age then there must be co-operation between the farmers of our district both in production and in the handling and marketing of their product. I believe that there are markets available for our produce if we can produce in sufficient quantity and in suitable quality to take advantage of them. The only way that this can be done is through co-operation and I therefore, urge that thought be given to this matter by officials in the agriculture department, so that our farmers in their efforts to improve their industry may be fully aided by the knowledge, guidance and assistance of the department in developing a marketing and handling program that will make it possible for them to take advantage of market opportunities which I feel do exist."

The Conference proper will start at 8:30 Friday morning when they will meet at the Carleton Hotel for breakfast. At 9:30 they will assemble in the conference room of the Nova Scotia Travel Bureau. Provincial Building when the day will be spent in discussing subjects directly pertaining to their work. Saturday morning they will start on a circular trip around the western part of the province, probably spending the night at Yarmouth, stopping at the Grand Hotel and making a visit to the M.V. Bluenose. They return home on Sunday.

To Adjudicate At Music Festival

Adjudicator for the Digby Music Festival this year is Eric Lewis (above), organist at Church of St. Simon The Apostle, Toronto, Ont. Mr. Lewis has done considerable adjudicating in Eastern Canada and the Maritimes. He is a graduate of the Royal Conservatory of Music and took post graduate work in England at the Royal School of Church Music under well noted music-masters. The Festival opens at Freeport on Monday and will be conducted in Digby on Tuesday and Wednesday for the two full days. The Festival proper closes on Thursday morning but star performers will be heard again on Thursday night at the Digby Regional High School.

To Hear Noted Speaker

The Rev'd. Dr. Frantisek Uhliř, who is to preach at the 11:00 o'clock service in Trinity Church on Sunday, April 15, has been described by our Lieutenant Governor, Hon. Alistair Fraser, as Nova Scotia's most distinguished resident.

Dr. Uhliř, a native of Czechoslovakia, and a former professor at the University of Prague, has had a notable career in several fields.

As an educator he has won international recognition in the field of rural sociology. He is still active in this work, and at present is the Professor of Sociology at the University of King's College.

Dr. Uhliř has also held high political posts in his native land. These include the honour of being vice president of the Republic of Czechoslovakia under President Benes.

During the war he was a militant champion of democracy and an outspoken foe of both Nazism and Communism. He has the unique distinction of being sent to a concentration camp both by the Germans and the Russians.

Happily, he escaped on both occasions, the first time to serve his country as a member of the government in exile in London, and, following his second escape, to come to Canada. On his arrival in Canada he joined the staff of Huron College, University of Western Ontario, but came to his present position at King's in September of 1955. Last year he was made a deacon in the Anglican Church and is shortly to be ordained priest.

PROPOSE PLANS FOR JULY 1 CELEBRATIONS

Ralph Wright and Howard Patterson appeared before the Digby Board of Trade on Tuesday evening with a proposed plan for celebrating July 1st in Digby this year. Mr. Wright and Mr. Patterson were representatives of a meeting held last week at the Legion Hall and called by members of the Digby Recreation Committee, who are assuming sponsorship of the 1956 July 1st celebrations. It was decided that the Digby Board of Trade be responsible for the soliciting and advertising in connection with the celebrations and a committee consisting of A. L. Robinson, Vincent Snow and Burton Ellis, was appointed for the purpose.

Mr. Wright suggested that the Governor General would be visiting Digby on June 28th and a half holiday would be proclaimed, it would make a good time to begin the celebrations and secure publicity for Monday, July 1st. Suggestions included a dance on the 28th when a queen of Digby would be chosen, a Sunday afternoon service, a sunset service and a grand parade on Monday. Other attractions suggested for Monday would be a midway, tug of war, possibly the landing of a helicopter and demonstrations, old fashioned fiddler's contest. The Digby Firemen had consented to take charge of the parade and had already started to work on it, and the Ladies Curling Club was arranging a candy booth. It was suggested that the Legion be approached to run the midway; the Curling Club the dance, and the Kiwanis and Ladies Legion Auxiliary the supper. The services of a manager for the celebration was under consideration.

Mr. Wright and Mr. Patterson recommended that a permanent July 1st committee be set up with members chosen on the rotating method so that experience would always be present as an asset to the committee. (Please turn to page 10)

Present Papers At Horticultural Meeting

Wilfred Comeau presented a paper at the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society on Friday night on the Preparation of New Lawns and Delbert Forrest discussed the preparation of boxes for planting seeds for growing seedlings. The meeting was held at the home of Miss Louise Daley.

Seeds were bought and distributed among the members to raise seedlings to be used in the society's projects and it was suggested that lupin be planted in an area from St. Patrick's Convent to the Court House. (Please turn to page 5)

Scores 9100

C. D. Snow scored what his club thinks to be somewhat of a record when he made 9100 at five tables of bridge played at the home of H. M. Warne on Wednesday night. His highest score at one table was 5,200. Second scorer for the evening was G. R. Harris, whose 8,000 brought his accumulated score for the season to 58,270 and acclaimed him the winner of the Straight Eight Club for 1955-56. Snow followed in the season's play by 57,240.

The Straight Eight Club referred to usually as the Men's Bridge Club in Digby, consists of eight Digby men who meet once a week from October to April and donate the proceeds from the dues to some charitable organization in the town. They will close the season after sixteen weeks of playing by a dinner at the Riverside Inn on April 25 at which their wives will be guests. Prizes for the highest and lowest scores for the season will be awarded that night.

Other of the season's scores besides the above were P. C. Outhouse, 56,750; M. S. Leonard, 55,380; B. A. Porter, 54,650; J. W. Christie, 51,330; H. M. Warne, 48,510; and C. M. Levy, 44,830.

Supervisor Visits Digby V.O.N.

Miss Dorothy Fowler, District Supervisor of the Victorian Order of Nurses for Canada, visited the Digby Branch from March 26 to 30. It was learned at the April meeting held at the Court House on Tuesday, Miss Fowler drew up budget estimates, which were presented as a matter of information to the meeting, in which she estimated that the Digby branch in relation to other branches should be receiving a town grant of approximately $1500. Estimated patient fees were placed at approximately $900 and fund raising and other income $2700.

It was decided to request Miss Fowler to arrange to meet members of the Board on her next official visit.

A letter was read from Miss Christine Livingston announcing that the Governor General would like to meet the president of the Digby Branch V.O.N. on his visit here on June 28.

Miss Mary Blair, nurse, reported 136 home visits made, of which 67% were for bedside care and most for long term illness. She said that Miss Elizabeth Phillips, New York, at a nursing conference at Dalhousie University, Halifax, remarked that with life expectancy as of today illnesses common to old age become more prevalent and (Please turn to page 5)

The meeting, called for eight o'clock, will propose the re-organizing of a Digby and District League, as announced by the former president, Walter Letteney. Mr. Letteney said he was awaiting word from the Kentville League to arouse enthusiasm among softball players and fans in Digby.

Entertains Rebekah Assembly Official

A special meeting of Zelma Rebekah Lodge No. 78 was called on Thursday evening, March 29th, for the purpose of entertaining Sister Ada Webster, Halifax, Grand Warden of the Rebekah Assembly.

The obligation ceremony was conducted by Mrs. T. W. Cleaveland, District Deputy President. Miss Webster gave an inspiring talk on the privileges of the Order and stressed as her theme "Be Kind In All Undertakings".

Mrs. Evelyn Patterson, V.G., on behalf of the lodge, presented Miss Webster with a gift.

Following the close of the session dainty refreshments were served from a prettily decorated table.

D.F.D. Activities

Representatives attended a meeting at the Legion Hall on Friday evening to assist in arrangements for July 1st celebrations. Plans have been made by the Department to carry on with the plans for Parade and Fireworks as in the past. Co-operation on this occasion has always been very gratifying and it is hoped that this will be forthcoming this year.

All those interested in joining the Salvage Corps, which is now in the process of being organized, are asked to submit their name to any fireman and are reminded that a meeting will be held on Wednesday evening, April 12, to make further plans for this worthwhile branch of the department. The meeting will be held at the Fire Station on First Avenue.

At this time of year the dreaded grass fires are always prevalent and the necessity of being extremely careful when cleaning up commences cannot be too strongly stressed as there is a great danger from grass burning. As usual the Department will be on hand.

About This and That

They Need You

This is one of those weeks when we wish we could devote more space to editorial copy. It is one of those weeks which usher in so many good causes and activities worthy of our comment and support.

Firstly, we would remind our readers of the Blood Donor Clinic this afternoon and this evening. If you have reached eighteen years, not more than 65 and in normal health, then your donation of blood is needed today. It is not too late to decide to give your blood so that another life may be saved or a recovery from illness hastened. The clinic is to be held at the Court House from 3 to 5 this afternoon and from 7 to 9 tonight. You are needed if you are able. Attention towns people — one hundred donors wanted.

Secondly, we would commend public support of the Canadian Cancer Society and the National Cancer Institute which launched its drive at the beginning of the month. Mr. Albert Jones, Weymouth, chairman of the Digby County campaign, has been busy with organizing canvass teams which will cover the county before the end of April. He has arranged to have an enthusiastic cancer worker, Dr. Harlow, Halifax, at Weymouth on Monday night, April 16, to speak at a public gathering there. This is not necessarily for Weymouth people only and any one in the county who is interested is cordially invited we understand.

Although some of the sections will begin their canvass earlier, the majority of Digby County homes will be visited after the lecture, beginning on April 20.

The Canadian Cancer Society is interested in clearing up mysterious and false information which seems to be rampant about cancer disease and with that in mind carries on an extensive educational and welfare program. It is also anxious to learn more truths about the disease which means more money for the necessary research.

Your donation in money to carry on the researches and your help to propagate the truth about cancer is needed. Be prepared to give both.

Lastly we would commend your support to the Digby Music Festival which opens on Monday of next week. On the first day the festival will be held in Freeport. The next two days the program will be carried out at the Digby Regional High School and will finish there with a session on Thursday from 9:00 to 10:30 a.m. and with the performance in the evening by the stars of the 1956 Festival.

Naturally those who have children or relatives performing in the festival will attend the performances, if for no other reason than to support these people and glory in their achievement. Then why should we bother to urge the public in general to support this musical effort? Simply because we feel there is a human need for music in daily life. The love of good literature, the best in poetry, fine art, splendid music and all else that is beautiful makes life richer and grander and lends a happiness which is difficult to achieve by other means.

Music is said to calm the soul and rest the mind. It is said to exert a powerful influence on young and old particularly by the outlet for self-expression afforded those who make the music. If this is so, music has its place in the strain and complexity of our present day life. Is this not an important reason to support the Digby County Music Festival?

"Cecil" Tells Us Off

"Western Nova Scotia Solidarity" was the title of an editorial which appeared in the Liverpool Advance last week. We cannot do any harm by reprinting it here and if our Trade Board acted "stupidly", Mr. Day's comments might set our thinking straight.

Cecil says he is flabbergasted at the Digby Board of Trade's action and maybe he should be. The Digby Courier is not meaning to encourage any sale of beers or wines or alcoholic drinks, but if it is of any consolation to you "boys", Cecil has had us baffled for a long time. We doubt if Mr. Day would pollute the pages of The Advance with liquor advertising (even for the sake of the Almighty Dollar) any sooner than we would at The Courier, yet there is no paper in Nova Scotia which is stronger in advocating the lifting of restrictions on liquor advertising in Nova Scotia. Quoting from The Advance in another editorial of the same issue, "It's a queer old world . . . or are the people queer?"

Anyway here is the comment from The Advance referred to above —

"As long as I can remember I have always identified the town of Digby with the word Temperance. I suppose I got that impression by reading the Digby Courier and the Letters to the Editor column in the Halifax Herald dated lined Digby. So you will excuse me if I am annoyed and probably a little flabbergasted when I read that the Digby Board of Trade went on record as favoring the sale of wines and beer in the Digby hotels. But that was not worst of it. Later on in the meeting a communication was read from the Shelburne Board of Trade requesting a meeting of the two boards to discuss the feasibility of the completion of an old road which at one time linked Digby with the South Shore town. Now to me that was a sensible suggestion, much more sensible than polluting the hotels in Digby with beer and wine, and something that might mean a big thing for Digby in the long run. In fact with the St. John boat bringing over passengers from the States and Upper Canada it would also make Digby the terminus for a round the province tour and a tourist centre. But what did the Digby Board of Trade do with the letter . . . they just put it on the shelf with the label NO ACTION. Shall we call that brotherly love or plain stupidity?"

We're Inviting Floods

Anyone who has glanced under a clump of trees in recent weeks will understand what basic steps must be taken in most of Canada if spring floods are to be brought under control, says The Financial Post.

Out in the open where the sun can blaze on it, the winter snow disappears fast. Often in a matter of hours. And with the ground frozen hard, there is only one way for the water from that melting snow to go, down the nearest stream in a flood carrying away valuable top soil and any other real estate that gets in the way.

In the shade under the trees, on the other hand, the snow lingers deep for days, sometimes for weeks, after the open fields are bare. Melting slowly, water from it has a chance to soak into the ground where it is badly needed both by farmers and water-short municipalities, or at least makes its way down stream gradually with little risk to the towns and cities below.

Bush land and marsh act as a sponge for surplus spring water. When this natural protection has been cleared away wholesale, as is the case in too many areas of Canada, we are simply asking for trouble every spring.

National Wild Life Week

By Hon. Colin H. Chisholm

"Once again I am pleased to lend support to National Wild Life Week, which serves the two-fold purpose of focusing public attention on the importance of wild life, and, at the same time, honours the memory of that great Canadian, the late Jack Miner.

"Canada, in general, and Nova Scotia, in particular, have a love for the great outdoors and all it has to offer in health-giving recreation, whether hunting, fishing, or merely a quiet stroll in some leafy glade.

"This interest on the part of Nova Scotians is reflected in our laws and in our public organizations devoted to conservation.

"The first game laws were enacted in Nova Scotia in 1794, and in the year 1853, "The Game and Inland Fishery Protection Society of Nova Scotia" was organized by sportsmen in the City of Halifax. This is reputed to be the first society of its kind in what is now Canada and the second on the North American continent.

"In 1907, a second organization was formed, called "The People's Fish and Game Protective Association of Nova Scotia". This society became active throughout the whole Province and was the parent of the Nova Scotia Fish and Game Association, which attracts to its ranks people from every walk of life and which gives leadership and direction to conservation in every form."

Head Bible Society Project

In the fall of the present year 500 laymen will go into 1500 churches to tell the story of the British and Foreign Bible Society in Canada and overseas.

It was announced at the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Auxiliary held in St. James' United Church, Dartmouth, on Wednesday. Heading the project will be Vincent Snow, Digby; W. T. Pitman, Yarmouth; Rev. D. C. MacPherson, Lunenburg, and Rev. D. H. Maitland, Truro.

Officers elected were Judge J. Elliott Hudson, Halifax, president; W. T. Pitman, Yarmouth, vice-president; Canon F. A. Heffler, Halifax, Rev. D. H. Maitland, Truro, R. W. Conley, Wolfville, Rev. D. C. MacPherson, Rose Bay, and Rev. E. V. Forbes, Antigonish, vice-presidents; W. T. Pitman, Yarmouth, and Vincent Snow, Digby, executive committee, and Rev. M. C. P. Macintosh, district secretary.

Speaker for the meeting was Rev. E. B. M. Wheelock, district secretary of the New Brunswick auxiliary. Mr. Wheelock made a plea for greater support for the society to permit more scriptures be provided in foreign languages.

He indicated that during its history the British and Foreign Bible Society had translated the Bible into 892 languages. He said there were still 1,000 languages and 500 major dialects yet to be translated.

In Africa, Mr. Wheelock said, the missionaries of the society teach natives how to read and write and then Communists come in and distribute free literature. This, he said, must be stopped by the distribution of Christian literature.

The district secretary of the society, Rev. M. C. P. Macintosh, in his report said that during the past 50 years more than 15 million bibles had been distributed in Canada by the society.

Highlight of the new business section of the meeting was a report of the laymen's promotional activities. The report said that in the fall of this year over 500 laymen will go into 1,500 churches to tell the story of the society in Canada and overseas.

Yippee! DOUGHNUT TWISTS

DOUGHNUT TWISTS

Scald  $\frac{1}{2}$  c. milk,  $\frac{1}{4}$  c. granulated sugar,  $\frac{1}{4}$  tsp. salt and  $\frac{1}{4}$  c. shortening; cool to lukewarm. Meanwhile, measure into a large bowl  $\frac{1}{2}$  c. lukewarm water, 1 tsp. granulated sugar; stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle with 1 envelope Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, THEN stir well.
 Add cooled milk mixture and stir in 2 well-beaten eggs and 1 tsp. vanilla. Stir in 2 c. once-sifted bread flour; beat until smooth. Work in  $\frac{2}{3}$  c. (about) once-sifted bread flour. Knead on lightly-floured board until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl and grease top of dough. Cover and set in a warm place, free from draught. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down dough and roll out into a rectangle,  $\frac{1}{2}$ " thick; loosen dough; roll again to  $\frac{1}{4}$ " thickness. Cut into strips  $7\frac{1}{2}$ " long and  $\frac{1}{4}$ " wide. Fold strips in half, twist, then pinch ends together. Arrange well apart, on lightly-floured cookie sheets; grease tops. Cover and let rise until doubled in bulk. Carefully lift, a few at a time, into shortening that has been heated to  $365^{\circ}$ —hot enough to brown a cube of day-old bread in 60 seconds. When under-sides are browned, turn and cook second sides. Carefully lift from fat and drain on absorbent paper. Coat with a mixture of fruit sugar and cinnamon or brush hot doughnuts with the following syrup: Heat, stirring until the sugar dissolves, 1 c. granulated sugar,  $\frac{1}{4}$  c. butter or margarine and  $\frac{1}{4}$  c. water; simmer 5 mins., then stir in 1 tsp. vanilla; keep hot over boiling water—if syrup becomes too sugary, stir in a little boiling water and heat to boiling point. Yield—8 dozen doughnuts.
 Note: Dough may be cut with an orthodox doughnut cutter; fry the doughnuts and the "holes".

Have you ever wondered why you keep hearing and reading about civil defence all the time these days? Why don't they drop the subject for a while? Let's talk about something cheerful for a change. How much do they expect a person to take? How long is this going to go on?

If you have wondered about these questions, you're certainly not the only one. But what about these questions — what are the answers? Let's drop the present for a moment then and look back at some recent history.

The airplane has probably done more than any other device contrived by man to bring war from the battlefield into the backyard. So let F. F. Worthington, federal civil defence coordinator, take the history from here. And don't think he has a personal axe to grind in this civil defence business. He confessed to some 70 newspaper and radio reporters recently that he'd far rather be home in Vancouver enjoying his retirement. "But there was a job to do," he said. "They asked me to do it." He left it at that.

"Following the Second World War," he told a group of women in Toronto not long ago, "it was fully realized that, in any future conflict, the civil population would inevitably become a target in the strategic aim of an aggressor for two reasons."

"First, because in a democratic country the government responds to the will of the people and if the morale and the will is broken, it will reflect immediately upon the centre of government and may well bring about capitulation.

"Second, the complexity of weapons and equipment required in modern warfare renders the armed forces dependent upon production, and production depends upon the men and women who work in the fields and factories.

"Therefore, if the will to work or the people themselves is destroyed, production will cease and the armed forces cannot continue the struggle."

How to meet this new menace to every man, woman and child — for the H-bomb makes no exception to age or sex — was the problem out of which grew modern civil defence. But how should civil defence be organized? There were two possible

CARS ARE MY LIFE
by Ken Hankinson
There have really been some fantastic deals cooked up lately to sell cars.
Just imagine: cars for $1.25 a week, then reduced to 95 cents a week!
This is what happened, I'm told, in Jacksonville, Fla., when some of the sharper operators got in a free-for-all (or almost free) mood.
One firm offered cars for sale, with good trade-ins, at $1.25 a week. Then another outfit beat him out by offering cars for 95 cents a week.
It sounded fine, until you read the fine print. Then you saw that after 12 months of these next-to-nothing the entire balance came due. That had to be paid off in another 12 months.
The customer still had to pay for the car and that, although it sounds a little trite, is still true. They still had to pay for it somehow.
Of anyone around here, I think we've been the leaders in making the ownership of a car a realistic goal for the largest number of people. But when you start to fool the people you're doing no one any good.
You do a real service, I think, when you offer the lowest REAL prices on cars, with financing terms to make it a sensible pay-as-you-go proposition.
Our boys often shop around themselves and we know that our customers, when they add up all that they have paid for their car, get the best bargains.
Ken Hankinson

JULY 1st CELEBRATIONS

Tuesday night's Board meeting was well attended and the matter of the Shelburne Road was again presented. The subject was introduced at the meeting in March when few were present and arose from a letter from the Shelburne Board of Trade requesting members of the Digby Board to meet in Shelburne regarding the matter. On Tuesday it was decided to ask the Shelburne Board to meet the Digby Board at a more central point, possibly Yarmouth. In the meantime James Richards and H. M. Warne were making enquiries of John Clarke, Middleton, Department of Highways Engineer, and also of the Department of Highways, Halifax, on details pertaining to the construction of such a road so that the Board would be in a better position to discuss the possibilities. The road in question was started many years ago but never completed. A few miles of the road with the entrance at Acadiaville are still traceable on this end but no one on the Digby Board was sufficiently acquainted with the road to know what had been accomplished in by-gone years on the Shelburne end. The Shelburne Board has been a subject brought before the Trade Boards on other occasions but had not been considered feasible at those times.

Mr. Richards and Mr. Warne were appointed to meet with the Shelburne Board.

The matter of entering the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival was again introduced. It was felt that since the effort put into the Apple Blossom Festival by Digby diminished the assistance which could be procured for the July 1st celebration and since the success of the July 1st celebration was so essential to the future welfare of the Digby Board of Trade could only see fit to forego entrance into the Blossom Festival.

A resolution sent to Premier Henry Hicks by the Annapolis Board of Trade was read in which it was requested that the Fundy Trail between Delap's Cove and Victoria Beach, a distance of 10 miles, be opened as a boon to the tourist industry. The Digby Board endorsed the resolution.

The Annapolis Trade Board also requested members of the Digby Board to be present on Friday to hear A. R. Buckler, Kentville, on the subject of proposed changes in the postal service. The meeting is to be held in the Community Hall at Annapolis Royal and it is expected that several of the Digby Board members will be in attendance.

J. J. Brittain urged that a good representation from Digby be present at the annual meeting of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade at Greenwood on Wednesday, April 18. Guest speaker will be Earle Clark, director of tourist promotion for the province of Nova Scotia.

A letter was read from Howard Walker, manager of the Digby Pines Hotel expressing appreciation to the Board for past considerations and assuring the Board that nothing in the way of a drinking establishment would be permitted at the Digby Pines Hotel and if the sale of beers and wines at the hotel resulted from a Digby plebiscite they would be served at the Pines as the present liquor laws permit to guests in the dining room. Mr. Walker also included a break down of

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Melanson of East Boston, arrived here by plane on Friday, called here by the death of the former's mother, Mrs. Annie Melanson, Corberrie. They have been visitors at the home of Dr. and Mrs. H. J. Melanson also.

Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Comeau, who have been visiting in Moncton, have returned home. Miss Joan Hill returned to Montreal on Saturday after visiting her parents for a week.

On Monday evening, April 2nd, a meeting of the Ground Observer Corps for this district was held in the Legion Hall. A good representation of members were present.

Dr. Harlow, of Halifax, will be in Weymouth on Monday, April 16, for a public meeting sponsored by the Weymouth District Cancer Unit. He will speak at the Community Theatre and there will be no admission charge. All citizens are urged to attend this meeting.

222 Attend Blood Donor Clinic

Excellent results were obtained at the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic held here recently. A total of two hundred and twenty-two persons attended the clinic and gave blood. This is an increase of 75 over the last clinic which was attended by 147 donors.

The number of donors from the town of Digby fell only six short of the objective of one hundred, set before the clinic was held. There were 45 donors from Bear River; 22 from Weymouth; 13 from Tiverton; 27 from Freeport; two from Westport and 19 from other localities in the county.

One store in Digby, Levy's Drug Store, achieved a record during the clinic, with 100% of the staff and management attending.

Mr. J. J. Brittain, Blood Donor Committee chairman for the county, and Mr. Leigh Jayne, who was in charge of securing donors from the town, both expressed great satisfaction concerning the results of the clinic and also expressed thanks to all who gave blood and provided transportation for donors. Thanks was also expressed to all those who helped in any way with the holding of the clinic.

Following a staff conference in Halifax last Friday, Nova Scotia Travel Bureau and Museum operators made a tour of the South Shore and Yarmouth area, including a visit to the ferry Bluenose. They returned to Halifax via the Annapolis Valley, visiting many points of interest on the way.

While in Digby, the party was tendered a reception at the Hotel Champlain. ## Make Plans For July 1st Fair Ralph O. Wright, President of the Digby Branch of the Canadian Legion, BESL, has been named chairman of the committee which will have general charge of the July 1st Fair which will be held in Digby this year. Mr. Elie Comeau has been named as Secretary-Treasurer of the Fair Committee. It is understood the committee will seek to find a general manager for the Fair.

Plans for the Fair and other activities which will mark the July holiday this year were fully discussed at the meeting which was attended by representatives from the Canadian Legion and Auxiliary, the Fire Department, Board of Trade, Kiwanis Club, Digby Curling Club, Ladies Curling Club and the Town.

It was decided a percentage of the proceeds of the Fair, which is being officially sponsored by the Digby Recreation Commission, will be applied to reduce the note on the Digby Forum. The amount of this will be decided at a later meeting.

Various organizations in the town have agreed to take charge of different aspects of the program and committees from these organizations were named at the meeting. Representing the curlers will be Aubrey Hawkins, M. H. Barnes and K. Beckwith; Legion Auxiliary, Violet Burnham, Leslie Wright; Board of Trade, A. L. Robinson, Vincent Snow, Burton Ellis; Kiwanis, Russell Harris, Gerald Hayden, Chester Levy; Ladies Curling Club, Ina Dillon, Fern Webber, Margaret Morrell; Firemen, Bob Marshall, Reg Turnbull, Tom Cleveland; Town, Dr. D. G. Black, Donald Amirault, L. M. Saunders.

It was pointed out at the meeting the Fair this year would be held on July 2nd. Plans were made for a gala dance on the evening of June 28th, when a Digby County Queen will be chosen. Attention was also drawn to the fact that, while the Governor General would visit Digby on the afternoon of June 28th, he would not be present for any of the functions of the Fair.

Wife Of Former Mayor Passes

The community of Digby was deeply saddened by the news of the passing on Wednesday afternoon, after a short illness, of Mrs. Guy E. Morehouse, wife of former Mayor Guy E. Morehouse, of Digby. She was 73 years of age.

Born in Sandy Cove, Digby County, Mrs. Morehouse was the former Jessie Morrison Saunders, daughter of the late Ingram Saunders, a former Warden of the Municipality of Digby, and Mrs. Saunders. She and Mr. Morehouse were married in 1905 and came to live in Digby in 1919 after residing for a time in Bear River and Sandy Cove.

Since coming to Digby Mrs. Morehouse has been active in many church and community affairs and won for herself a high place in the esteem of the people of this community. She was organist of the Digby Baptist Church for twenty-three years and was active also in the Rebekah Lodge, the Order of the Eastern Star and the Digby Branch of the Red Cross. For many years she was President of the Karry-On Club which was started during World War II as a patriotic service club and which has continued to do service work ever since.

During the six years that her husband served as Mayor of the Town of Digby, Mrs. Morehouse capably and graciously presided at many social functions and her kindly manner and cheerful disposition won for her a host of friends both far and near. On March 1st last year Mr. and Mrs. Morehouse celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their marriage and received messages of congratulation from almost every corner of the western hemisphere.

Mrs. Morehouse is survived by her husband and by five daughters, Theta (Mrs. Edward P. Spielman), New York; Helen (Mrs. David J. Daley), Digby; Nancy (Mrs. Seymour C. Denton), Digby; Laura (Mrs. Donald Deming), Kennebec; and Edith (Mrs. Fred W. Cookson), Niagara Falls, N. Y., and by two sons, Guy L. Morehouse, Digby, and Paul Morehouse, East Ferry. One brother, Harry T. Saunders, of Halifax, also survives, as do fourteen grandchildren.

The remains will rest at the Ramsay Funeral Home until Saturday afternoon when the funeral service will be held from the Digby Baptist Church at three o'clock.

Found Guilty To Break And Entry Charges

Three juveniles pleaded guilty before Magistrate H. B. Dickey Wednesday morning to charges of break and entry. Sentence was postponed by Mr. Dickey until next Wednesday.

It is understood that, while the three were charged in court Wednesday morning with only two breaks, they have admitted being involved in a total of seven which have occurred in Digby over the past months.

The three youngsters were apprehended by Police Chief Webster Dunn last week as they were making off with soft drinks stolen from a local restaurant. Chief Dunn, of the Digby Police Department, has been carrying on an extensive investigation into the series of breaks that have plagued the town for some months and the arrest of the three juveniles has brought a solution to the problem.

It is understood that on questioning the trio admitted to the breaks and also took police officers to where they had much of the loot hidden. Included in the breaks were those into Connell's Store and Dakin's Ltd. where harmonicas, knives, fishing gear, rifles and ammunition were stolen. The rifles and other items taken in these and other breaks were recovered, some of them from a cache which the lads had established near the Pines Hotel golf links.

Included in other breaks to which the boys confessed were breaks into the Digby Dairy Ltd., Van's Grocery, the Cornwallis Cafe and a pleasure boat owned by N. D. Wright. Tools used to enter the Connell and Dakin stores were left on the scene and were identified as having been stolen from the Wright boat.

Baseball Club Elects Officers

Eighteen enthusiastic persons held a meeting Tuesday night for reorganizing of the Digby Baseball Club for the coming season. The following officers were re-elected: Vincent Snow, President; M. S. Leonard, Vice-President; Pat J. Comeau, Secretary-Treasurer; Arthur Robinson, representative to Digby and District League; Ernest B. Tufts, Chairman of Grounds Committee. The manager and coach are to be chosen later by the executive.

It was decided that the Club would help form and finance a "Little League" baseball team for Digby town this year.

From reports the past season was shown to have been a successful one from a financial standpoint with much ball played and enjoyed by those engaged therein. Thanks was expressed to all who gave support through donations, transportation, work done, and showing interest in other ways.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL CLOSING IS HELD

Disappointment has been expressed by Baden Powell, Administrator of the Digby Area Vocational Evening School, regarding registration and attendance at the school during the school year of 1955-'56.

In his report at the closing exercises of the school Mr. Powell stated the number of new students who offered for courses at the beginning of the year was the smallest since the school opened, a total of thirteen. He stated there was a total of 37 students registered this year and that fifteen had dropped out, leaving 22 who completed the year's course.

Mr. Powell stated in his report that, unless a larger number of students offer for the next term he felt the Department of Education would likely withdraw the facilities for the evening school in this district.

He stated he felt, despite the record of the past year, there was a real need for this school in the Digby area. With the expansion of the area, Mr. Powell said, there should be an increased demand and need for the services offered by the school. He urged pupils who were interested in finishing their course and in the continuation of the school to let others know of the training opportunities available through the school and interest others in taking the courses offered by the school.

Mr. Powell complimented the teachers and students on the fine work they had done through the year and made special mention of Mrs. Marion Hersey who, in her third year, had done exceptional work, achieving a speed of 97 on shorthand and 52 words a minute in typing, with only two errors. Mrs. Helen Thurber, he said, had achieved a shorthand average in her first year of 96 and covered the typing lessons of two years in one year. Mrs. Barbara Kaulback, he reported, has completed her three year bookkeeping course in two years.

Those receiving Recognition of Merit awards included Guy Harrington, bookkeeping; Helen Thurber, shorthand and typing; Jennie Saulnier, Home Sewing. Third year certificates were awarded to Barbara Kaulback, bookkeeping; Marion Hersey, shorthand and typing; Lottie Doucette, Grace MacGregor, Home Sewing.

Instructors in the school are Vernon Hupman, Geraldine Syda and Mrs. Joyce Fox.

Recommends H. & S. Program

The executive of the Digby Area Home & School, which met on Friday afternoon in the Digby Regional High School, recommended the proposed new curriculum be discussed at the meeting of the organization to be held on Wednesday, April 25. The recommendation was to be handed to the program chairman, Kenneth Beckwith, for his consideration. F. C. Purdy, school supervisor, gave an outline of the new curriculum drawn up for presentation to the Digby Municipal School Board and if it met with their approval it would come before the Home and School.

Letter To The Editor

Editor Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.
Dear Editor:—
Firstly I'd like to thank Rev. E. C. Churchill for the very fine letter in last week's issue in reply to my letter re the awarding of certificates to those competing in the Music Festival.

Secondly, I would like to direct this letter to the Digby County Festival Association as suggested and hope they may deem it fit this year (and each year hereafter) to present each participant with a certificate stating that he or she has taken part in the Music Festival and with their marks stated thereon.

I'm sure the head of the Festival Group could easily get assistance from all the other groups in the County and that they present to the entrants their certificate sometime before the close of the school term. The finer details could easily be worked out by the Association. Perhaps delegates from each Home and School group taking part in the Festival could assist the Secretary and his aides in this work.

Let us get to work now on this suggestion, even though when this letter reaches the paper the festival will be nearly over.

Thank you.
Long Island Music Fan.

Coming Attractions At The Capitol

Friday and Saturday it's Burt Lancaster as "The Apache", a thrilling and action packed story of one lone Indian who refused to be civilized. The Apache also stars Jean Peters and is in Technicolor.

Hold on to your seats and be prepared for the laugh of your life Monday and Tuesday when "Abbott and Costello Meet the Mummy". This is the latest of Abbott and Costello's movies and is better with more laughs and fun than any of the others.

"Reaching From Heaven", the picture that shows you the way with a tear... a laugh and a prayer, plays Wednesday and Thursday. Starring Cheryl Walker and John Qualen, this movie is similar to Country Parson, and one we feel sure you will truly enjoy.

TO SPEAK IN DIGBY ON KING'S APPEAL

The Rev. E. B. N. Cochran, Rector of St. Mark's Church, Halifax, and Executive Secretary of the University of King's College Development Fund, will be the guest preacher at Trinity Anglican Church here Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. Mr. Cochran will also speak at the Anglican Church in Clementsport on Sunday evening at 7:30.

It is understood organization for the $1,450,000 King's College Development Fund appeal is going forward vigorously throughout the province. Dr. Lional A. Forsyth, President of the Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation Ltd., is general chairman of the appeal. Co-chairmen are their Lordships the Bishops of Nova Scotia and Frederick and Roland A. Ritchie, Q.C., of Halifax.

Victor Cardoza, M.L.A., of Digby, has been named as chairman of the special names campaign for Digby County. Purposes for which the fund will be used are to further consolidate the work of the college in Arts and Science; to provide needed additional funds for maintenance of buildings and to increase the endowment income of the School of Divinity. The present appeal for funds marks the first occasion in thirty years that King's College has conducted such a public appeal. Success of the drive will place King's on a firm financial and academic footing and unload it of annual deficits that are now running to some $30,000 a year.

D.F.D. Activities

The "Smoke Eaters" bowling team came through again on Thursday with a two to one victory over the "H-Bombs", to stay at the top of the league, and will meet the "Milkmen" at 8 p.m., April 19th, in the first of the semi-finals. The "Block Busters" and "H-Bombs" play their first semi-finals on Wednesday evening.

The regular schedule of the bowling league was completed last Thursday night with the standings as follows:

	W	L
Smoke Eaters	16	2
H-Bombs	10	8
Milkmen	7	11
Block Busters	3	15

The semi-finals begin this week with a best five out of nine series, with the first and third, second and fourth place teams competing.

A softball meeting was called for Friday evening last week. However, there were not enough present to hold a meeting and it was necessary to postpone this meeting until Thursday (tonight) in order that this meeting may be held and new officers appointed. Some enthusiasts were out in force Sunday afternoon on the field and found it in very good condition.

Fireman Bob Marshall represented the Department at a meeting for the July 1st celebrations which are progressing favourably and efforts are being made by the parade committee to make this as different as possible.

There were two alarms on Saturday almost simultaneously when the Department was called for a fire on an Irving Oil truck in front of the R.C.M.P. headquarters on Queen Street, and luckily an extinguisher was available at the local R.C.M.P. office. By the use of this the blaze was extinguished and resulted in little or no damage. Just a minute later, while the Department was at the truck blaze, the alarm was sounded for a grass fire near the dump, which was extinguished on arrival of the pumpers.

As part of the annual Cleanup campaign the Department was out in force Sunday afternoon to burn off grass and assist generally in cleaning up any fire hazards which usually exist this time of year from dead grass, etc., lying around. All dangerous areas were practically eliminated with the burning of all sections south of Warwick Street to the harbour and adjacent to the dump where the hazard is greatest.

Proceeds from the Benefit Hockey Game netted $120.00.

The regular card party was held last Monday night with the following as prize winners: Door prize, Mrs. J. L. Everett; Ladies high, Mrs. McNutt; Ladies low, Margaret Comeau; Mens high, Walter Letteney; Mens low, George Small. The winner of the draw was Buddy Barr.

Films on rifles and target practice and the benefit and sport of a rifle club will be shown at the Fire Station on Friday evening, April 27, at 8 p.m.

Wells Drilled For Schools

Plans for the erection of the newly consolidated schools in Weymouth and Sandy Cove are proceeding satisfactorily, it was learned here this week.

It is understood drilling of the well at the site of the Sandy Cove school has been completed and work is now underway on the well at Weymouth.

Both schools are to be erected at very desirable locations, it was learned. The one at Sandy Cove will be built on the land occupied last year by the Warren Paving Co. Ltd., as location for their paving plant. The school at Weymouth will be located on a high plot of land on the river side of the highway in the vicinity of St. Thomas' Anglican Church.

It is understood plans for the two schools, as well as the addition to the Digby Regional High School, have now been completed and tenders will shortly be called.

MARRIAGE

Handspiker - Caughey

A pretty wedding of wide interest was solemnized on Monday morning, April 2, at 10 o'- clock, at Queen of Heaven Church, RCAF Station Greenwood, when Mary Rita, daughter of Mr. Alfred Caughey, of Pembroke, Ont., was united in marriage to John Richard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Handspiker, of Digby.

The double-ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Father
H. S. Wight.

The church was very prettily decorated with Easter lilies and white mums.

The bride, given in marriage
by her uncle, Sqdn. Leader J.
S. Sammon, entered the church to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Mrs.
C. Palmer, of Greenwood. The soloist was Mrs. Melanson, of Greenwood, who sang beautifully appropriate wedding hymns.

The bride looked lovely in a powder blue suit and shell pink accessories. She carried a lace-bound, rose decorated missel with white satin streamers.

The matron of honor, Mrs.
Ronald Williams, of Halifax, sister of the groom, wore a light grey gabardine suit with white accessories and carried a nosegay of American Beauty roses, white mums and carnations.

The groomsmen were John
Donnelly, of the RCAF Station,
Greenwood. Ushers were Earl Everell, of Greenwood, and Ronald Williams, of Halifax.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Sqdn. Ldr. and Mrs. J. E.
Sammon at No. 3 Sixth Crescent. The thirty guests included intimate friends and relatives of the bride and groom.

The bride's table was attractively decorated and centered with a two-tier wedding cake.
They received many lovely gifts including china, linen and cheques.

trip through Nova Scotia.

The couple will sail shortly for France where Cpl. Handspiker will be stationed with the RCAF.

blue-grey suit with pink accessories and corsage of pink roses.

Mills - Clayton

The Granville Ferry United Baptist Church was beautifully decorated on Saturday evening with lilies, roses, daffodils and snapdragon for the wedding of Joan Louise Clayton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Clayton, of Parker's Cove and Halifax, who was united in marriage with Ira Sutherland Mills, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Mills, of Granville Ferry.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Francis Miller, of Deep Brook, assisted by Rev. C. R. Armstrong, of Annapolis Royal. Mrs. R. T.
Chisholm was organist and Mrs.
Chester A. Nauss sang "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was a picture of loveliness in her floor-length bridal gown of white nylon over tulle. The bouffant skirt had inserts of French lace, as did the fitted bodice which fastened with a row of tiny covered buttons from the Peter Pan collar to the waist. The Elizabethan sleeves tapered to points over the hands and the bride wore for jewelry a double-strand of pearls, a gift of the groom. Her finger-tip veil of nylon tulle edged in French lace fell gracefully over her wedding gown and was held in place by a tiara with seed pearl trim.

The bride carried a beautiful bouquet of red roses and maiden hair fern with a cascade of satin streamers.

Miss Doris Campbell, Parker's Cove, was the charming maid of honor dressed in a ballerina length gown of pink nylon net over taffeta with matching headdress and nosegay of carnations.

Miss Paulette Clayton, sister of the bride, and Orpha Gail Cummings, cousin of the groom, were very attractive junior bridesmaids and flower girl.
Paulette was dressed in a floor-length gown of pink and Orpha
Gail was dressed in Nile green.
Each wore a matching bandeaux to their dress and carried flowers.

Reginald Shaw, of Annapolis
Royal, was best man and ushers were Floyd Oliver, Parker's Cove, brother-in-law of the bride, and Richard Woodland.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Mills, Granville Ferry. The bride's mother, Mrs.
Clayton, was dressed in navy and white with corsage of pink and white carnations and the mother of the groom was also dressed in navy and white with corsage of carnations.

For travelling the bride wore a pink suit with navy and pink accessories. She wore a white top coat and a corsage of pink carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Mills will reside in Toronto where they have been employed for some time.
The bride as stenographer with the International Steel Co., at New Toronto, and the groom with the St. Lawrence Starch
Co., at Fort Credit, Ont.

The couple have been tendered several showers previous to their marriage and at their wedding they were the recipients of many valuable and useful gifts. Many friends join in wishing them many years of wedded happiness.

Meanwhile, measure into a large bowl 1/2 c. lukewarm water, 1 tsp. granulated sugar; stir until sugar is dissolved. Sprinkle with 1 envelope Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 minutes. by Ken Hankinson

It's sometimes a good idea, before you start shopping around, to figure out in a general way what kind of a car would suit you best. a big car, a small car, a 6 or 8-cylinder, a sedan, coupe or two-door.

Coupees are ideal for young married people with no family to load up. They're good for the young fellow who does a lot of weekend driving. They have lots of room for packing things around. If that's one of the reasons you want a car.

A two-door sedan is a good idea for a family with children. There are no door handles in the back seat for inquisitive hands to tinker with. Some police departments buy nothing but two-door sedans with the same thing in mind. The prisoner can't suddenly drop out of sight.

Then you have to make the decision between a 6 or 8 cylinder car. The more power and weight, the less economy. The more economy, the less power and weight.

In long drives, it's actually the steady, tiny vibrations from engine and road that tire you out, not big jolts and bumps. Eight-cylinder engines vibrate less than sixes, so if you make a lot of long trips, you should seriously consider a big car.

Besides showing you the tried and tested used cars we have on our lot, our men are ready to help you find out what kind of car you need most. They know their cars, and they know what their cars are made for. Even if you're not in the market yet, drop around and you can soak up a lot of free advice.

Celebrates 94th Birthday

Mrs. Seraphine Potter celebrated her 94th birthday anniversary at Bay Crest Farm, Deep Brook, where she makes her home with her grandson, Robert Purdy Jr., on Sunday, April 22nd.

Several members of her family were present, including her daughters, Mrs. Allan Purdy, of Somerville, Mass.; Mrs. Manning Potter, of Wilmet, and son, Stuart, of Clementsvalle; granddaughters, Miss Elizabeth Potter, of Wolfville; Mrs. C. Bandger and 2 daughters, Susan and Janice, of Somerville, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Harris and daughter, Rosalind, of Middleton; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Potter, Deep Brook; Mrs. Stuart Potter, Clementsvalle, and Dr. Allan Purdy, of Somerville, Mass.

Mrs. Potter was the recipient of five birthday cakes (two from Somerville, Mass., Halifax, Wilmet and Clementsvalle), bouquets of flowers, and many cards wishing her happiness.

Previously during the week a party had been held at Mrs. A. D. Pickett's in her honor by The Neighborhood Club, of which she is a faithful member, when she was presented with a basket of 'mums. She took an active part in the games enjoying "Musical Broom" and "Donkey", along with the younger ones.

She enjoys an active life, has a keen memory, spends time visiting with friends at Clementsvalle, Bear River and Waldeck, often walking a mile or more to visit neighbors.

We join her 17 grandchildren and 18 great grandchildren in wishing her many more happy anniversaries in future years.

"Bluenose" Ferry Service Increased

The Yarmouth-Bar Harbor ferry "Bluenose" will step up its present daily one-way schedule to a daily round trip during the tourist season beginning June 26, Canadian National Railways announced today.

The new vessel, which the CNR operates, will run on the round trip summer schedule until September 14, when the single daily trip will be resumed.

Under the summer schedule the "Bluenose" will arrive at Yarmouth at 1:30 p.m. A.S.T. daily, after leaving Bar Harbor at 6:30 a.m. E.S.T. She will leave Yarmouth on the return trip at 3:30 p.m. A.S.T., docking back at Bar Harbor at 8:30 p.m. E.S.T. The vessel will berth overnight at Bar Harbor.

On its present winter schedule the 600-passenger vessel leaves Yarmouth at 9:00 a.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays and Bar Harbor at the same time on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

Fresh Vegetables From The Garden

Last week George McKay, of Rossyway, needed potatoes so, having left some in the ground from last fall's digging, decided to see if there would still be potatoes there. Much to his surprise on digging them they were in the same condition as when dug last fall, and Mr. McKay says the taste is perfect.

Mrs. Thurston Banks will soon be having chard from her garden, too. This stayed green from last fall under the snow, and when uncovered just recently, started coming up green again.

Celebrates 87th Birthday

Mrs. Annie Cann, who resides with her son, Herman Cann, and Mrs. H. Cann, Westport, celebrated her eighty-seventh birthday this month. She enjoyed her day very much, receiving many visitors, cards of greeting and gifts.

Mrs. Cann, who is Westport's oldest resident, enjoys fairly good health and is cared for by Mrs. Herman Cann.

Vandals Damage Home

Over the weekend vandals damaged the new home presently under construction by Raymond Thibault on King Street. According to reports, someone threw a sizeable rock, breaking the large picture window in the living room of the home. Police are investigating the affair.

DIGBY MAN HEADS A. V. A. TRADE BOARD

Other officers elected were: Vice-Presidents, Frank Marriott, Windsor; G. R. Palmer, Kentville; Peter Nicholson, Annapolis Royal; C. D. Kitchen, Secretary-Treasurer.

Fifteen Boards of Trade from Windsor to the islands of Digby Neck were represented at the meeting, numbering over one hundred representatives. Emphasis at the meeting was on tourist promotion and considerable time was spent in discussing this topic which is of great importance to the valley area.

At the concluding session of the meeting it was decided to make tourist promotion the major 1956 objective of the affiliated boards and a strong committee was named to work on this project. Named to the committee were Howard Walker, Digby, chairman; Gordon Crossley, Windsor; Alex Stevens, Hantsport; Eric Balcom, Wolfville; G. R. Palmer, Kentville; D. L. B. Chute, Berwick; G. L. Andrews, Middleton; A. G. Simms, Kingston; Roy MacIsaac, Bridgetown; Leigh Marshall, Annapolis Royal; L. M. Saunders, Digby, and B. S. Morrell, Freeport.

The tourist committee was authorized to go into the matter of having a sign erected to attract tourist travel arriving in Nova Scotia via the ferry "Bluenose" to use the Valley route on their trip through Nova Scotia. The committee will also make arrangements for publicity folders concerning the attractions of the Valley route and have strip maps of this route prepared.

The matter of the park at Grand Pre came in for discussion at the meeting. Frank Burns moved, seconded by E. D. Halliburton, M.L.A., that a committee be set up to look into the possibilities of having the park taken over as an outstanding historic site and tourist attraction. Mr. Burns was named chairman of a committee to deal with this matter, with power to name his own committee.

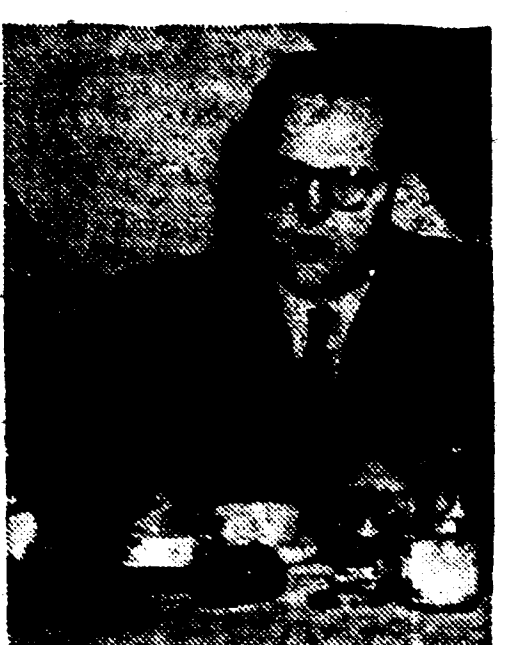

Following a chicken dinner at the combined mess the group reassembled for the evening session. Guest speaker for the evening meeting was Mr. Earl Clark, Director of Nova Scotia's Tourist and Industrial Promotion Department. Prior to his address Mr. Clark showed the new 16 mm. wide screen colour film, "Identity", recently produced by the department and which has received wide acclaim wherever it has been shown.

Introduced by F. J. Burns, Mr. Clark spoke on the tourist industry and its effect on the economy of the province.

Speaking on the value of tourists, he characterized the Valley as one of the best known, best publicized, oldest and most historical areas in Nova Scotia. Every Canadian, he said, and a great many Americans, know the Valley and Land of Evangeline through the wide publicity it has been given. He said that while fruit growing and other branches of agriculture rank first in industry here the tourist trade, undoubtedly, is the second largest source of income. But, he felt this could be increased tremendously through concentrated effort of the affiliated boards, and municipalities.

Mr. Clark said that the list of beneficiaries from tourist revenue is almost unlimited. If not received directly it comes in indirectly, to practically everyone, from the gas station, to the hotels, restaurants and retail stores. He declared tourist development is not a job for any one person or one organization. Every citizen of this Valley and province, he says, should be a tourist promoter. He suggested that the name "Nova Scotia" should be emblazoned on more of our export products and that the correspondence of town councils, business firms should carry a promotional tag line for the province or the Annapolis Valley.

Mr. Clark felt that every community should develop at least one major event for the year. In this connection he referred to the Apple Blossom Festival, which has done so much to publicize the Valley and province, but other attractions should be added. He remarked that the

James P. Richards, Past President of the Digby Board of Trade, was elected President of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade at the annual meeting of that body, held in Greenwood last week.

350th anniversary celebration at Annapolis Royal was well planned and a great success, but he asked if we would have to wait for 350 years to see another.

The speaker advocated the development of more tourist resorts, but he added, "Heaven forbid that you spoil the wonderful natural beauty." He outlined various other attractions which could be further developed and stressed that courtesy and hospitality are paramount. He cited that Nova Scotia in 1955 had 479,924 tourists, (an increase of 16.5 percent over 1950, the largest increase in Canada).

The almost half million visitors here spent over $44,000,000.

Drive Begins May 1st

The Salvation Army's Red Shield Appeal for funds will begin in Digby on Tuesday, May 1, according to Lieut. Earle Birt, in charge of local Salvation Army work.

Chairman of the Appeal will be Mr. James Ayer and he will be assisted by Mr. Birt, campaign director, M. C. Morton, treasurer, and Mrs. J. M. Wallis, publicity.

Objective of the Appeal, according to Chairman James Ayer will be $1700 for Digby County. He asked for full support from all publicity media, and from all who will canvass or contribute. Theme of the campaign is to be "The Understanding Heart." "That heart," said Mr. Ayer, "must be kept beating. Digby needs The Salvation Army with its spiritual and practical ministry."

General William Booth, Founder of The Salvation Army, always believed it was most important to minister to the material needs of a person before stressing the spiritual.

He felt there was not too much point in trying to guide the sinner along the straight and narrow road to Salvation if the subject was half starved and haunted with domestic worries.

The Salvation Army in Digby knows that the belief held by General Booth is as certain today as ever. That is why they approach the public with confidence to raise their objective and more.

Festival Stars Perform

A capacity house filled the auditorium of the Digby Regional High School last Thursday evening for the "Stars of the Festival" program which brought to a close the seventh annual Digby County non-competitive Music Festival. The performers on Thursday evening's program were chosen by the adjudicator and forty-seven numbers were featured.

All of the numbers presented in the "Stars of the Festival" program were excellently well done and the police and accomplishment of the performers showed them to be really outstanding.

Among the numbers in the evening's program which were outstanding were the Negro spirituals presented by the Y.P.S. of the Digby Baptist Church. The six young people in this group gave a splendid performance which drew great praise from the audience. Other numbers which seemed particularly outstanding included the piano solo of Wayne Sney of Digby; the vocal duet of Marilyn and Winnifred Shaw of Westport and the piano duet of Catherine and Carolyn MacKay of Acadiaville.

The program included performers from all sections of the municipality and was as follows:

- 1. Chorus—Spring Gales; Pear Tree and Plum Tree; Grade III-A, Digby.
  - 2. Piano Solo—The Town Clock—Lynn McKenna, Digby.
  - 3. Vocal Solo—The Hunter—Larry Haines, Freeport, and Tommy Haines, Digby.
  - 4. Piano Duet—"A Tribute to Chopin"—Susan and Downs Longaker, Digby.
  - 5. Rhythm Band—Digby, Primary III.
  - 6. Chorus—"The Circus Clown".
  - 7. Piano Solo—"The In G"—Sandra Outhouse, in G, and Judy Buck, in G.
  - 8. Vocal Solo—"In the Tree"—Valerie Holdsworth, Digby.
  - 9. Piano Duet—"Away in a Manger"—Owen Hankinson & Donald Payson, Weymouth.
  - 10. Junior Choir—"All Beautiful the March of Days"—Baptist Church, Digby.

To Mark Good Will Week

E. J. Theriault, Q.C., will be guest speaker at tonight's meeting of the Digby Kiwanis Club as the club marks the annual observance of Canada-U.S. Goodwill Week. Mr. Theriault will show coloured movies of his trip through the United States to Florida and other parts of the U. S.

Speaker at last week's meeting of the Kiwanis Club was Victor Cardoza, M.L.A., who spoke on "Highlights of the Session." Mr. Cardoza explained in an interesting manner the procedure of the House of Assembly and gave a colourful account of the debates and happenings in the house and in the various committees. He also told of some of the legislation passed at the recent session.

Mr. Cardoza was introduced to the meeting by E. Scott Eaton and the thanks of the gathering were expressed by James Ayer.

Infant Baptised

Verena Louise Bernice Hughes, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Hughes, was baptised at Grace United Church at the morning service on Sunday.

God parents for the little girl were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cowie, of Verdun, but as they were unable to be present the baby's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gagne, of Montreal, acted as proxies. The baptismal gown and robe used at the service were more than fifty years old and were the little girl's great grandmother's in which all her great aunts and uncles were baptised.

During the morning service Mrs. Louis Daley sang as a solo "Spirit of God" by W. H. Neidlinger.

Induction Service

On Thursday evening at Rossyway Baptist Church will be held a Service of Induction, including Lieut. Darrell Chase into the pastorate. The service will be at eight o'clock, and the public is cordially invited.

The ministers of Digby Co. will take part in the service. The Rev. L. R. Atkinson, Maritime United Baptist Evangelist, will preach the sermon.

Following the service in the church there will be a social gathering in the hall.

ASHMORE MAN IS INSTANTLY KILLED

Robert Theriault, aged 55, of Ashmore, Digby County, was instantly killed Wednesday afternoon when he was struck by a car, reportedly driven by Lieut. George Bowman of Headquarters Eastern Command, Halifax.

The accident occurred shortly after two o'clock Wednesday afternoon. Mr. Theriault, who is a mail driver for the Ashmore section, reportedly alighted from a car, driven by Herbert

Smith, and walked across the road directly into the path of the oncoming car. The fatality occurred on the main Yarmouth-Digby highway in front of the victim's home.

The deceased is survived by his wife and by two sons and a daughter. An inquest was called into the fatality by Coroner C. C. Nicholl and met Wednesday night at eight o'clock at Weymouth to view the remains.

The Fine Art Of Carving

The fine art of carving beef is demonstrated by an instructor of the RCAF's School of Food Service at Station Clinton for the benefit of two representatives of the Department of Health and Welfare. Left to right above are Miss Helen Sackville and Miss Dorothea Tripp, both from the Ottawa fare nutritionists are examining RCAF cooking and instructional methods for application in courses to be set up at Sackville, Charlottetown and Quebec City to give assistance to cooks in institutions such as Indian Residential Schools, Indian Hospitals and the small rural hospitals.

WESTPORT FISHERMEN HAVE CLOSE CALL

Fears were expressed for the safety of four Westport fishermen Monday night when reports were received their boats were in trouble off the coast. The four men were Raymond and Glen Welch, halibut fishing in the motor vessel "Buckeye", and Philip and Albert Graham in the "Colidia". The two boats had gone out to Marblehead banks fishing early on Monday.

First word that one of the boats was in trouble came when the Colidia heard on the radio telephone that the Buckeye had suffered severe damage from heavy seas. The Colidia, then on her way back to Westport, turned around to go to the aid of the Buckeye. Heavy seas smashed in aboard the Colidia as she turned and she was badly damaged, partly filling with water.

Word was received in Westport via radio-telephone that the Colidia was in trouble about six o'clock at night. Nothing further was heard of this vessel until she got into port under her own power about five o'clock in the morning.

The plight of the Buckeye was not known in Westport until about 9:30 p.m. and immediately efforts were made to send help to the stricken boat. Air Search and Rescue at Greenwood was contacted but was unable to send a plane because of a heavy snow storm at Greenwood making it impossible to get a plane in the air. The Fisheries Patrol boat, "Limanda", was unable to assist as she is docked for repairs at Meteghan.

Daniel Kenney Jr. then contacted Captain Earl Denton of the Connor Bros. II who left Freeport about 1 a.m. to search for the Buckeye. The rescue vessel was greatly aided in its search for the badly damaged Buckeye by Walter and Arthur Titus of the "Dena." and Edgington and Arnold Titus of the "Whitely", who kept in contact with the Buckeye by radio-telephone and accurately plotted her position and charted the course for the Connor Bros. II as she set out to rescue the Buckeye.

Captain Vincent Doucet, of the "Devina" also heard the radio calls from the Buckeye and aided in the search for the stricken vessel.

The Connor Bros. II made contact with the Buckeye about three o'clock in the morning and put a line aboard to tow the boat in to Westport. They arrived in Westport with the damaged vessel in tow about eight o'clock in the morning.

The two men crew of the Buckeye, Raymond and Glen Welch, were little the worse for their hazardous experience, although their boat was badly smashed by the heavy seas and the gale which featured winds up to forty miles an hour. The Buckeye had windows smashed and the side boards broken in by the seas. The two men were forced to bail by hand from 9:30 at night until nearly four o'clock in the morning to keep the boat from swamping. They soaked quilts and bedding in oil and put over the side of the boat in order to quiet the waves that were tearing at the ship.

When the Buckeye first got into trouble she was some thirty miles down off the cape from Westport. When she was found by the Connor Bros. II she had reached a point some twelve miles from port.

A Freeport boat was also in difficulties as rescue efforts were being carried out for the Buckeye. This boat, with Raymond Thurber and Horace Lent as crew, made port, however, some hours overdue.

G. T. Eaton Heads Kodak Department

George T. Eaton has been named head of the photographic chemistry department of Kodak Research Laboratories, it was announced April 11. Mr. Eaton is son of E. Scott Eaton, Town Clerk, and Mrs. Eaton, of Digby. His brother, Charles, now of Wolfville, was one time principal of Digby School.

Mr. Eaton succeeds John I. Crabtree who has retired as department head. Crabtree, who is completing plans for retirement, continues as assistant head of the applied photography division and will stay on for a time to complete some special work in the laboratories.

Eaton, 160 Harding Road, Rochester, N. Y., has degrees from Brandon College, Manitoba, and Acadia University, and an M.A. from McMaster University. From 1934 to 1937 he taught and did graduate work in chemistry at the University of Toronto.

He joined Kodak as a research chemist in 1937 in the photographic chemistry department. In 1942 he was named technical assistant to Dr. Walter Clark and during the latter years of the war was responsible for supervision of photographic reticle production.

In 1946 he joined the industrial sales division and the next year was appointed supervisor of the industrial sales laboratory, then technical editor, sales service division, in 1951.

Since 1952 he has been in Kodak Research Laboratories as a technical staff assistant in the applied photography division.

In 1943, Eaton was a joint recipient with Crabtree and L. E. Muehler of the Journal Award of the Society of Motion Picture and Television Engineers. This for a technical paper by the three authors on removal of hypo and silver salts from photographic materials.

For contributions to the field of industrial photography by writing, teaching, and for service to the Photographic Society of America, Eaton was made a fellow of PSA in 1952. He currently serves on the executive committee of the Technical Division, PSA, and as first vice-chairman of the Rochester Technical Section of the society.

For nine years, 1946-1954, he taught photographic chemistry to evening classes at the Rochester Institute of Technology.

Beside numerous scientific papers on various aspects of photographic chemistry, he has written a series of articles on photography and photographic processes for yearbooks and encyclopedias.

Digby People Hear Dr. O'Neil In Yarmouth

The British and Foreign Bible Society is basic to the whole work of the church, it is the undergirding of Christian missionary work, said Dr. A. H. O'Neil, Toronto, general secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, when he spoke on Friday evening at Zion Baptist Church in Yarmouth. There are 25,000,000 people learning to read, he said, and it matters what they read. If they are not supplied with the Word of Life they will be supplied with much other free literature of unwholesome quality. At present the Bible or gospels are being printed in 1092 languages and more than 620,000,000 copies have been distributed by the British and Foreign Bible Society at a nominal cost or free to those who cannot pay.

He outlined the work of the organization in Africa and in India where the Bible is read in 75 or 80 different languages. It is now being printed in Hindi. In Japan he said the revised Bible last year was pronounced the Book of the Year and its use there jumped tremendously. On the presses in England now is the revised edition in Ukrainian which is of special interest in Canada where Ukrainian is widely spoken.

The Bible is supplied in braille by the British and Foreign Bible Society in twenty-six languages, besides English.

Dr. O'Neil began his discourse with the text, Ephesians, Chapter 2, v. 19, when he dealt with the barriers to Christianity, particularly mentioning the barrier when self-will and ill will take the place of God's will.

Dr. O'Neil was introduced by Rev. M. W. P. MacIntosh, district secretary, who also extended a welcome to Vincent Snow, president of the Digby Branch British and Foreign Bible Society, and eleven others who had motored to Yarmouth to hear Dr. O'Neil. Dr. O'Neil, an Anglican rector, was for 11 years principal of an Ontario Anglican Church College before 1952 when he began service in his present capacity.

Rev. Mr. Cowan, pastor of Zion Baptist, conducted the service, assisted by Rev. Walter Davis, Wesley United, and Courtney Baker. The benediction was pronounced by Lieut. Robertson of the Yarmouth Salvation Army.

Following the meeting Dr. O'Neil, Rev. Mr. MacIntosh, the ministers of the churches and the British and Foreign Bible Society executive and

D.F.D. Activities

There will be a card party April 30th at the Fire Station as usual which will be in conjunction with a party being held at the I.O.O.F. Hall for a benefit.

The regular card party was held Monday evening with a good attendance. Prize winners were:

45s — Ladies High, Helen Saulnier; second, Florence Robinson; Men's High, Father Gaudet; second, Dan Dakin.

Bridge — High, Louise Daley; low, Mrs. J. W. Christie.

Door Prize was won by Helen Saulnier.

Plans are being made for a film showing of the recent Scout Jamboree at Niagara, along with other films, to make up a full program. Tickets are on sale by the Scouts. These film receipts will be for the benefit of the Scouts.

There are still vacancies for recruits for the Salvage Corps now being organized. Anyone interested should get their application in before May 2nd.

The infield of the Softball diamond has been rolled twice now by members of the Department and same is now in very good condition. Several attempts have been made to hold a softball meeting but to no avail. It is hoped the next meeting at 1:30 p.m. on Sunday, April 29, will be well attended.

Fire practice was held Wednesday evening despite interruptions from alarms at the same time as the meeting was called for. The practice finally got underway and instruction was given in knots useful to the Department.

Again Thursday evening the bowling team was interrupted by a fire alarm calling them to Roy Durling's for a bad chimney fire. We don't know if this was a scheme to throw the Smoke Eaters off their winning streak or not, as a co-incidence the game was being played with Digby Dairy "Milkmen" where Roy Durling is employed, when the alarm came in. However, the event proved costly to the "Milkmen" when the "Smoke Eaters" having edged them two games to one, to take a lead in the semi-finals. The next game will be played at 8 p.m. tonight.

Plans are progressing for the July 2nd parade, as well as the Clean-up Campaign.

Rifle club meeting on Friday evening.

Bands Rare Birds

Miss Louise Daley, well known bird enthusiast, last week noticed three very beautiful blue birds feeding in her yard. By means of a cage trap she captured them and discovered they were Indigo Buntings, very rare to this province. The three were males and somewhat larger than a sparrow, a very beautiful metallic blue in color.

Miss Daley immediately upon identifying the birds got in touch with Robt. Tufts, former Chief Migratory Birds Officer, who sent her bands with which to mark the birds. She then banded them and released them. So accustomed had they become after their overnight stay at the Daley home that they did not leave the grounds.

Legion Auxiliary Aids Cancer Drive

A "blitz" campaign was carried out here Tuesday by members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Digby Branch of the Canadian Legion, BESL, in aid of the current Canadian Cancer Society drive for funds.

On Monday evening Albert Jones and Lawrence Hersey, of the Weymouth Unit of the Cancer Society, met with members of the Auxiliary to plan the one day fund drive for Digby town.

Friends were entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Pittman.

MARRIAGE

Evans — Maise
A quiet wedding was celebrated at 3 p.m. on April 13th, when Annette Genevieve, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Henry Maise, of Digby, became the bride of Volker Herbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hermann Evans, of Hameln, Germany. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. T. W. Hodgson.

Local Business-man Writes To Creditors

Dear Friends:
In reply to your request to send a cheque, I wish to inform you that the present condition of my bank account makes it almost impossible. My shattered condition is due to the wheat glut, federal laws, provincial laws, municipal laws, liquor laws, corruption laws, mother-in-law, brothers-in-law, sisters-in-law, outlaws. Through these laws I am compelled to pay a business tax, amusement tax, gas tax, service tax, hospital tax, education tax, excise tax, etc. I am required to get a car license, truck and driver's license, not to mention marriage license and a dog license.

I am also required to contribute to every society and organization which the genius of man is capable of bringing to life: unemployment insurance, health region tax, Red Cross, Green Cross, Blue Cross, Black Cross, Purple Cross and the double cross. You can think of many more, they get me down!

For my own safety, I am required to carry life insurance, property insurance, liability insurance, burglar insurance, accident insurance, partnership insurance, earthquake insurance, wind and tornado insurance, fire insurance. By the way, did you ever hear of the cheapest fire insurance? A mail order crook advertised a fire escape at a dollar, and when I remitted $1.00 I received in return a copy of the New Testament.

My business is so governed that it is no easy matter for me to find out who owns it. I am inspected, expected, suspected, disrespected, examined, informed, required, summoned, fined, commanded, compelled by government inspectors of all kinds, until I supply an exhaustive supply of money for every known need, desire or hope of the human race.

If I should refuse to donate to something or other, I am boycotted, talked about, lied about, held up and held down, and robbed until I am almost ruined.

I can tell you honestly that, except for the miracle that happened I could not enclose this cheque. The wolf that comes to many doors nowadays just had pups in my kitchen. I sold them and here is the money.

Yours faithfully,
Blood, Sweat and Tears.

Smith's Cove W.M.S. Has Interesting Program

The April meeting of the W.M.S. of Smith's Cove Baptist Church was held in the church vestry with the president, Miss Sue Winchester, presiding.

Mrs. John Winchester led in prayer. During the business meeting a letter was read from Mrs. Alaby expressing thanks for contribution of money for food parcel to India. The Crusade Meeting, to be held in June, and plans for packing and sending a White Cross box in May, were the main topics of discussion.

The president expressed pleasure at having Mrs. Rose Woodman, of Kentville, as a visitor at the meeting and also that a number of members, who have been ill, were able to be out again. Mrs. Woodman spoke briefly on the work of her society in Kentville.

Mrs. Lila Weir opened the devotions with scripture reading, followed by prayer by Mrs. J. Winchester. The program, arranged by Mrs. Alleen Woodman, was titled "The Easter Story" and was divided into three episodes — "The Cross", "The Guard and Seal" and "The Women at the Sepulchre". Each episode was illustrated by a reading and vocal selection by Mrs. Woodman, Miss Sue Winchester, Mrs. Chester Brinton and Mrs. Ruth Walker.

The story of "The Ascension" was read by Mrs. Gordon Landers, "The Heavenly Vision" by Mrs. MacLean, and "His Coming Again" by Mrs. Lloyd Adams.

The March and February meetings were held with Mrs. Stanley Weir and Mrs. Elmer Weir respectively.

The February theme was "The Grateful Heart" and a story on "The Life of Evangelist Billy Graham". In March the devotional period was a talk on the "Power of Jesus" by Mrs. Irene Sutchers and program "Missing the Point" by Mrs. Foster. All meetings were well attended by the members.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. A. G. J. Steves, and Mrs. Steves played the nuptial music.

The bride entered the living room on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage. She was lovely in her wedding gown of white embroidered net over satin. The gown was ballerina length and over the strapless bodice she wore a matching jacket of embroidered net with long sleeves tapering to points at the wrists. Her finger tip veil of embroidered net fell gracefully over her wedding gown and was held in place by a tiara. The bride carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Winnie Molins, of Moncton, was bridesmaid.

The groom was dressed in regulation uniform of the R. C. A. F. and was supported by his brother, Captain Robert W. Mills, of Charlottetown.

Folkschool Reunion

The ex-Folkschool students from Western Nova Scotia held their reunion in Weymouth April 13th and 14th. Although the reunion opened on Friday 13th, it proved to be very interesting and highly instructive.

The program consisted, in general, with reviews of what had been learned at Folkschools, together with new ideas that had come out during the year. The aim of the course was to provide an opportunity for further study and practice in music, drama, recreation, group technique and to study some of the wider range problems which concern Nova Scotians today.

On Friday night a panel discussion dealt with the topic, "Does Nova Scotia Share in the National Prosperity?" This part of the program had been advertised to the public. It proved to be very interesting and instructive, if anything can be derived by the many comments and questions put on by the audience.

Those taking part on the panel were Mr. Guy Hanson, from the Adult Division of the Department of Education, who acted as chairman; Mrs. Jacqueline Sandford, wife of the retiring Provincial President of the Federation of Agriculture and still President of the Provincial Abattoir; Mr. Sam Campbell, Assistant Manager of the U.M.F.; Dr. M. V. Marshall, Dean of Education at Acadia University, and Mr. John Chisholm, Director of Rural Education at Saint Francis Xavier University in Antigonish.

The course which was sponsored by the Western Nova Scotia Folkschool Associations, was under the direction of a committee headed by Mr. Tom Jones of the Division of Adult Education. The staff members were, with Mr. Jones, Miss Elizabeth Murray, Miss Jacqueline d'Eon, Miss Dorothy Walker, Mr. Donald Wetmore and Mr. Maurice Hennigar.

Accommodations for meals and rooms were furnished by the Goodwin Hotel of Weymouth. The sessions were held in St. Joseph's Parish Hall.

Apart from the forty Folkschool graduates this course was attended by representatives of the Department of Agriculture, who were Victor Moses from Kentville; Ralph Morehouse from Lawrencetown; Harold Wilson from Yarmouth; William LeFort from Weymouth; Benoit d'Entremont from Pubnico; and Audrey MacMillan from Bridgewater. Also, among others were Vernon Rice of Lawrencetown, representative from M.C.S., and Hugh Mackenzie, of the Adult Education from Antigonish.

Justice has nothing to do with expediency. Justice has nothing to do with any temporary standard whatsoever. It is rooted and grounded in the fundamental instincts of humanity. — Woodrow Wilson.

More Vaccine Available

Geoffrey Stevens, Minister of Public Health, announced that a limited supply of polio vaccine is expected to be available for use in the province by April 15 and that plans have been made to distribute the vaccine evenly throughout the province.

This amount will be the province's share of the total amount produced in the Connaught Laboratories.

Polio vaccine is still not available in sufficient quantity for the immunization of everyone. It has been decided, therefore, to offer it for use in children in school from Primary to Grade VI, inclusive. It is this group of children in which most polio occurs. As soon as more vaccine becomes available, it will be provided for use in children below the school age, and then later to older children.

The vaccine will be supplied by Connaught Research Laboratories of Toronto, at present the sole source of polio vaccine in Canada.

An evaluation of the vaccination against polio carried out last year in Canada showed that the vaccine appears to provide a high degree of protection against the disease. No child in Canada developed polio as a result of receiving vaccine and there were no harmful reactions.

It is advised that two doses of vaccine be given a month apart. A third dose is needed to keep a high degree of protection. It is advised that the third dose be given about seven months after the second dose of vaccine. This is the schedule to be followed in this province.

Those children who received polio vaccine in 1954 and 1955 should have one more dose this year to keep them protected against the disease.

There will be enough vaccine for about 87,000 children. To be of the greatest value, these children should receive the first two doses of vaccine before school ends in June. A great amount of work will be involved in accomplishing this. It is expected that group clinics will be organized in schools. The help of community groups and the medical profession is a necessity, if this important protection is to be afforded our children.

No charge will be made for the vaccine which will be supplied free by the Province of Nova Scotia. In addition the services of the Public Health Nurses will be provided and the necessary equipment to carry out the procedure. Each community will be required to arrange for the services and payment of a physician. It is expected that in most cases the physician will be remunerated by means of a small charge for each injection. Physicians should not be expected to give their services free of charge. In all cases the arrangement will be that all children of the proper grades will be given the vaccine regardless of the ability of the parents to pay.

It is expected that immunization clinics will start in the schools soon after the Easter vacation. Clinics will probably start in towns first and then be conducted later in rural areas as travel conditions improve.

Present information would suggest that it is doubtful if additional supplies will be available this year for distribution to private practitioners. Parents are advised to ensure that their children attend the clinics organized in their communities. All information would indicate that poliomyelitis vaccine offers the best chance of preventing this dreaded disease.

M. M. C. Service Reaches 2,000,000

Sometime during this month Maritime Medical Care, Incorporated, will pay for its two millionth doctor service!

This voluntary prepaid medical health care plan was started just over six years ago by The Medical Society of Nova Scotia and since then thousands of subscribers have joined and enjoyed the comprehensive medical benefits in time of illness. Every two minutes, around the clock, someone in Nova Scotia uses the benefits of M.M.C.

Sponsored by the Medical Society through your family doctor, 98% of the more than 500 practicing physicians in the province are member doctors. Subscribers merely present their identification card to their doctors when their services are required and the medical bill is sent to the Head Office in Halifax for payment. Under the plan, members have a "free choice" of physicians for medical, surgical and obstetrical services.

Services of doctors have been paid, in behalf of the Corporation's subscribers, and their dependents, from as far away points as Korea, Venezuela and continental Europe.

In last week's paper the two easy ways to join this fast-growing non-profit medical care plan were outlined. If you are employed where there are ten or more employees, you may become a member of the group plan. Self-employed persons or those who work where there are fewer than ten are eligible to apply for individual membership.

One of the strangest quirks of the modern motor car is that it can ice up while the engine is running and the temperature outside is a warm 45 or so.

You will know it's happening when the car stalls every time you stop for the first 15 minutes or so after you set out. The car starts again easily enough, but every time the engine idles, it konks out.

It happens because the vaporizing of today's more volatile gasoline has a cooling effect, and may drop the temperature in the carburetor 25 degrees. This condenses water from the atmosphere and ice forms on the throttle plates. When they are closed for idling, the ice blocks the air passage.

The car will start easily enough, because the throttle plates are open for starting, but come to a stop again and the engine will stall. High speed operation isn't affected because not enough ice forms to block off the air.

Carburetor icing is also a problem in airplanes, and happens most often on cool days with a lot of humidity. After about 15 minutes of running, however, the engine heats up sufficiently to stop it.

The way to lick it is to keep your foot gently on the gas for the first few stops after you get under way.

Anything else you'd like to know? Well, we don't have ALL the answers, but we do have most kinds of cars on our used car lot, a selection you won't want to miss when you're browsing around for a good buy.

One Minute Sermon

By Rev. Bill Armitage

Text: Malachi 1:13 (RSV) "And you sniff at me, says the Lord". God loved Israel, but Israel had no real love for God. She had repudiated the altar and the ordinances of God, and in so doing had repudiated God Himself. He did not mean any more to them than a mere sniff, any religious form that was observed was an empty ritual, there was no faithfulness and no love in its observance. This meant of course that the people of Israel could go their own way, there was no religious standard any more, to keep them morally and ethically pure.

God, through Malachi, warns them that if they try to live without God they will suffer, and will be destroyed as a nation, and this we know was their ultimate fate. A nation cannot defy God and His laws and prosper; and neither can a family nor a person "sniff at God" and maintain integrity. It is true that persons do live without regard to God and do seem to prosper, but their prosperity is the transient prosperity of this human life, and when the course is finished what is laid up in eternity for them?

God is Spirit; God's values are spiritual values, not dollars and cents nor material things. The things for which God stands are eternal things, not the mere flickers of a human life. We cannot afford to take God lightly, we cannot afford to ignore Him and all He is; we dare not "sniff" at Him, for in doing this we invite upon us the wrath of God.

PRAYER: O God, help us to acknowledge Thee is all our life; in our home, our work, our pleasures; and to always do Thy will. Amen.

No thoroughly occupied man was ever yet very miserable. — L. E. Landon.

Happiness is neither within us only, or without us; it is the union of ourselves with God. — Blaise Pascal.

survived by four grandchildren: Lawrence and Leland Trask, of Yarmouth, Denton Wayne of Alaska, and Gilbert Steed, of California.

The remains were taken from Jayne's Funeral Home on Sunday to his late residence. Funeral service was held from his home on Tuesday at 2 p.m. Rev. Claude Troupe Olmstead conducted the service and was assisted by Mr. Trask's former pastor, the Rev. C. R. Chute, of South Ohio, N. S. Interment was in the family lot at Little River.

Working Together

"Daddy," said Jane, "may I sing you a song?"

"Yes," said Daddy, "just be careful not to step on the flowers while you sing." Jane and Daddy were working in the garden.

"I'll be careful," said Jane, "and here's my song:"

Our Father has so many things For little hands to do, I know He needs me every day To be His helper, too, In going to help—

Jane stopped singing suddenly. "Oh," she said, "Daddy, look at that beautiful butterfly! There on the flowers."

"Yes," said Daddy, "that is a swallowtail. It is getting its food from the flower."

"Do butterflies get their food from flowers?" asked Jane.

"Some of them do," said Daddy. "Butterflies and flowers are very helpful to each other."

"Why, how can a butterfly help a flower, Daddy?" asked Jane, her eyes very wide.

"Watch this little fellow now," said Daddy. "See how the yellow dust is getting on his feet while he is feeding? That is called pollen. It is that which—"

"Oh, I know all about pollen," said Jane. "My Raggedy Ann book says it is fairy flour."

"I don't know much about fairies," said Daddy, laughing, "but I know pollen is very useful to flowers. See! Now our butterfly is settling on another flower and his feet are carrying pollen from one flower to another. This helps to make seeds so that we can have flowers next year."

"By the way," said Daddy, "wasn't your song something about 'Our Father's Helpers'?"

"Oh, yes," said Jane.

"It is wonderful," said Daddy, "how many helpers our Heavenly Father has in this world, and how many things work together to make our world a pleasant place in which to live."

"Are the butterflies the only helpers the flowers have?" asked Jane.

"No, indeed," said Daddy. "The bees and other insects help, too, and so does the wind. All of them are the flowers' helpers."

Honor Memory Of Miss Anderson

The monthly meeting of the Board of Directors of the Children's Aid Society of Annapolis was held at the Court House, Annapolis Royal, on Wednesday, April 11th, at the hour of eight p.m., with the president, Mr. S. H. Coward, of Bridgetown, presiding. The meeting was well attended, with representatives from the Bridge-town, Middleton, Annapolis Royal and Bear River areas present.

This being the first meeting of the Directors since the passing of Miss Gertrude Anderson, who for many years was an esteemed member of the Society and an active worker, gifts to the Society in memory of Miss Anderson were acknowledged.

The auditor's report for the year was briefly considered by the meeting; this report will be presented formally at the annual meeting to be held some time in May. The report showed that the Society operated at a deficit of some $334 for the current year. It also showed that some $2,700 was spent by the Society over and above the maintenance of wards on needy children in the County. This expenditure included clothing, medical and board.

In giving his report the Executive Director, D. M. Armstrong reviewed the cases of some 13 children who are under the supervision of the Society but are not wards. A good part of the expenditure above referred to was made on behalf of these children. The Director also reported that two children were recently placed in a foster home temporarily, the mother at the hospital.

A medical health plan for wards was considered by the Board and the matter was referred to a committee.

Plans for the annual meeting were discussed and it was agreed that the meeting should follow along the lines of the very successful meeting of last year. A committee was appointed to make arrangements for engaging a special speaker for this occasion. Several members expressed the hope that the attendance of foster parents would again be emphasized this year and it is hoped that as many as possible will be able to attend. The annual meeting will be held at the Community Centre.

Rev. R. F. Humby, B.A., and Mrs. Humby motored to Halifax on Wednesday to attend the convocation services of Pine Hill Divinity College. The Rev. Mr. Humby received his Bachelor of Divinity degree at this service.

PRAYER
I asked for bread; God gave a stone instead. Yet, while I pillowed there my weary head, The angels made a ladder of my dreams, Which upward to celestial mountains led. And when I woke beneath the morning's beams, Around my resting place fresh manna lay; And, praising God, I went upon my way.

For I was fed. God answers prayer; sometimes, when hearts are weak, He gives the very gifts believers seek.

But often faith must learn a deeper rest, And trust God's silence when He does not speak; For He whose name is Love will send the best. Stars may burn out, nor mountain walls endure, But God is true, His promises are sure.

Welcome Digby Couple

To a Charming Couple
The Editor,
Liverpool Advance,
Liverpool, N. S.
Dear Sir,

About this time each year, while we are awaiting the return of the birds, we, the people of Liverpool, have still another pleasure to anticipate. This pleasure comes to us in the persons of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Ellis. Now, although it may be that business is the main reason which brings this charming couple to us, it is only incidental to the way they fit in and become one of us during their stay here. Although they bring skill, they give much more than that. They give of themselves, which is a quality we so rarely find. There is a sort of glow about such people, and having come in contact with that glow, one feels a better sort of person.

The first time I met them, I felt I had known them always. Each Spring I look forward to seeing them again, and when the time comes that they must leave us, I am pleased to know that in the next place of call, they will be giving other friends the same pleasure we have received.

May they both return to us for many Springs to come.
—A Friend.

Publishes Booklet In Memory Of Pet

The Courier acknowledges with thanks receipt of a lovely booklet published by Duncan McD. Little in memory of his dog, "Mister Jonathan Puff."

Beautifully illustrated, the booklet is a fitting memorial to a pet which in 1954 won the Golden Collar Contest for Long Island's Cutest Pet. Published in Garden City, L. I., New York, the Newdays, a daily newspaper, conducts the contest annually.

"Mr. Jonathan Puff, first came to the home of the Little's in May 1953 when he was given to Mr. and Mrs. Little by a friend when Mrs. Little was seriously ill. He gained a place in their hearts and great sorrow was occasioned when he was killed by a truck on January 31, 1956.

SUMMER VISITOR FOR FIFTY YEARS

Mrs. James MacPherson and daughter Anne, of Miami, Fla., have arrived at Jogglin Bridge to spend another summer at their cottage.

This year will mark a half century of summers Mrs. MacPherson will have spent here, having made her first visit at the age of two years, when with her parents, the late Col. and Mrs. Edw. Vedder, she visited her grandparents, the late Prof. and Mrs. Henry C. Vedder, of Chester, Pa.

We hope Mrs. MacPherson may spend many more summers here where she and her family have found enjoyment and made many friends.

Our whole social life is in essence but a long slow striving for victory of justice over force.

Letter To The Editor Speaks On Bible School

Toronto 5, Canada,
April 20, 1956.

To the Editor,
Dear Sir:

At a meeting of the General Board of the British and Foreign Bible Society in Canada, held in Toronto on March 21, 1956, it was unanimously agreed that a special message of thanks be sent to the daily, weekly and church papers of Canada.

We greatly appreciate your co-operation. The British and Foreign Bible Society has had a vital share in world affairs since 1804. We have supplied the Scriptures in some 840 languages and have been associated with sister societies producing over 250 others, so that at least one book of the Bible has been published in 1,092 languages. We have distributed over 620 million volumes in one hundred and fifty-two years.

In many cases the first book ever published in a language was one of the Gospels translated by a denominational missionary and supplied by the Bible Society. We have had a prominent part in the Christian outreach and in basic preparation for all education. Languages have been written down for the first time and developed into more effective mediums of communication. Other books have been printed after portions of the Scriptures had appeared.

By making kindly references to the world-wide work of our Society and by covering the activities of the 3,457 local branches in Canada you are helping in our efforts to serve all mankind and we are grateful.

Yours sincerely,
A. H. O'NEIL,
General Secretary.

Meeting Mental Health Needs In Digby

(Contributed in observance of Mental Health Week)

This week is Mental Health Week, when people all over Canada make special efforts to understand and improve mental health. This spring marks the fifth anniversary of the Digby Psychiatric Clinic, where more than 500 people have come for treatment or information about their own or the community's mental health. Together these anniversaries call for a look at mental health in Digby and at the Clinic and the part it plays in mental health work.

There are two general ways in which the Clinic tries to promote good mental health: through the treatment of individuals and through work with groups in the community that are interested in mental health. The first helps those people who are already suffering from emotional problems. The second is aimed at improving mental health in the community, with the hope that fewer people will become mentally ill.

Treatment of individuals includes many kinds of therapy, and calls for a wide range of professional skills. The Digby Clinic, like most mental health clinics, has staff and provision for therapeutic interviews. It can also give Electro-Shock treatment, through the cooperation of the Digby Hospital. These types of treatment are done by Dr. William D. Longacre, chief psychiatrist, and by Dr. John H. Cumming, associate psychiatrist. Both of these doctors are highly-trained; both have completed medical school and medical internships, and have had a number of years of specialized training in psychiatry.

Psychological testing is also done by Mr. Bernard Hebert. Mr. Hebert is a graduate psychologist and has had special training in treating children as well. One kind of treatment available at the clinic for children is play therapy. Since children often find it difficult to talk about their problems, and may not even be aware of them, they can frequently "show" their problems better while they are playing. In other words, they "act" them out. The clinic has a well-equipped play room for such interviews.

Dr. M. Elaine Cumming is the fourth member of the professional staff. Her part in treatment consists of interviewing relatives and others who are concerned with patients in treatment. She also sees most patients on their first visits to the clinic.

The clinic has an office staff of two full-time secretaries, Mrs. Vera Munday and Miss Marjorie Jackson, and a part-time administrative assistant. Some of the financial support of the clinic comes from the Federal Government through the Federal Mental Health Grants, and some comes directly from the Province of Nova Scotia. These funds help make it possible to keep fees at the clinic relatively low.

In order to offer treatment to a wider area, the clinic has opened a one-day-a-week clinic in Yarmouth at the hospital there. This clinic has the services of the full Digby Clinic staff. It was opened in January under the direction of Drs. John and Elaine Cumming, with much help from the Yarmouth doctors, the local branch of the Mental Health Association and the Provincial Department of Public Health through Dr. Clyde Marshall, Director of the Division of Mental Health, and Dr. V. K. Rideout, Divisional Medical Health Officer. The clinic is held on Thursday, from 10:00 a.m. to 4:00 p.m.

How do people come to the clinic? and what happens when they do come? and who can come? These are questions people often ask. Frequently, family doctors suggest clinic interviews, since doctors are often aware when their patients can benefit from the specialized treatment the clinic offers. Other people in the community are also in this position: ministers, school teachers and other school personnel, nurses, welfare people and others. All of these people frequently meet people who are unhappy or uncertain, or who can't "get along" with others or with the community. Often such problems have emotional elements — and some of these people can be helped.

Still other people come on (Please turn to page 8)

TOP NAVY LEAGUE OFFICIALS PAY VISIT

A party of top level Navy League of Canada officials from all over Canada visited H.M.C.S. Cornwallis on Saturday and made an inspection of the huge naval base. They were also guests of Captain and Mrs. M. G. Stirling at luncheon.

The party was led by C. K. McLeod, of Montreal, National President of the Navy League, and included W. A. Cathers, National Chairman of the Sea Cadet Committee of the Navy League; Captain Baker, National chairman of the Scholarship Committee of the Navy League; Harry Gillard, National Secretary of the Navy League, and J. D. Dunlop, President of the Ontario Division. Mr. Dunlop is well known here, having been president of the Mainland Division of Nova Scotia during the war years.

Ceremonial divisions marked the first part of the inspection tour of the visiting officials and the salute was taken by President McLeod, who also inspected the divisions.

Following the divisions the official party and their wives attended luncheon in the wardroom. This was followed by a visit to the Recreation Centre where the group met some one hundred and seventy-three members of the Sea Cadets who are now stationed with the navy at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis. These former cadets are from all the provinces of Canada and members of the visiting group enjoyed chatting with sailors from their home province.

After chatting with the former Sea Cadets the group moved on to inspect Haida Block where kits were laid out for inspection. Here members of the party saw how the sailors are accommodated in barracks and met the lads who, while they are at Cornwallis, call Haida block their home.

Following the visit to Haida block the party went to the Seaman's School where they inspected the quarters used by RCSCC "Cornwallis" as a training centre. On hand here were Lieut. Charles McBride, RCSC, Commanding Officer of the Corps, and S/Lt. Murray Baxter, RCSC, who explained to the visitors the work carried out in Sea Cadet training in this area. The group was much impressed with the training facilities provided for the Sea Cadets at the naval base and complimented both the Sea Cadet officers and the naval officers on the set-up.

After visiting the Seaman's School the party moved on to the P. & R.T. School where they inspected facilities provided for physical and recreational training. After this the group drove along Corpen Crescent past the Married Quarters, the New Dependents' School, Rifle Range, Fire Hall, Chiefs and Petty Officers' Mess and returned to the Wardroom via the main gate.

At the close of the tour the official party left by bus for the return trip to Halifax. The Cornwallis visit was the closing part of the program of the national meeting of the Navy League of Canada, held last week in Halifax.

Those from Digby who accompanied the group on their tour of Cornwallis included Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Warner, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Christie, Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Levy, C. F. McBride and V. G. Cardoza.

Branch President Addresses Presbyterial

Mrs. E. R. Woodside, Bathurst, president of the Maritime Conference Branch of the United Church of Canada, addressed the Annapolis Presbyterial at both afternoon and evening sessions, held in the United Church, Berwick, on Friday. In remarking on the few who answer the call for full time church work, Mrs. Woodside said the fault was often a too materialistic outlook in the home and that church work is not presented as a vocation to youth. She told of an inter-church committee in Ontario which was given permission by a School Board to present the challenge of church work to the students as part of the vocational guidance program. Qualifications for missionaries, Mrs. Woodside said, are high because of the situation they must meet in foreign countries. It is not a matter of teaching only those who are illiterate, but missionaries must work under and through the leaders in foreign lands and train people of those countries for leaders in the church.

Mrs. Woodside installed the following officers for the Annapolis Presbyterial —

Past President, Mrs. G. W. Hawkins, Kentville.
President, Mrs. J. A. Ruffee, Granville Ferry.

Delegates were welcomed by Mrs. Harold Murray, Berwick, and the response was given by Mrs. William Morine, of Bear River.

Mrs. James Brooks, Digby, gave an interesting dramatized presentation of literature in which she was assisted by Mrs. Elton Arnold, Mrs. John Russell, Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Mrs. Burton Fleet, Mrs. Oakley Turnbull, Mrs. Dickson Sabine, Digby, and Mrs. R. F. Humby, Bear River.

A vocal selection was rendered by Miss Ellen Ellen Garvock, Berwick, and a memorial was conducted by Mrs. W. D. Burgess and Mrs. J. M. Wilson, Waterville. The offering was received by Mrs. Fred Chapman and Mrs. Murray Spicer, Berwick.

Mrs. J. A. Ruffee, president, Granville Ferry, presided at all sessions of the Presbyterial and Mrs. Margaret Olsen, Granville Ferry, acted for the recording secretary. (Please turn to page 8)

Anglican Greater Chapter Meets

Rev. Francis Bourne, Chaplain at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, was guest speaker at a supper meeting of the Greater Chapter of the Anglican Deanery of Annapolis, held at St. James Church in Bridgetown.

Introduced by the Rev. Stanley Armstrong, Rector of St. Clement parish, Padre Bourne gave a most interesting and informative address on the chaplaincy service. He traced the history of the service, with particular reference to the Navy, and told of the work and duties of naval chaplains.

Padre Bourne, in his address, told of problems faced by men in the Navy and the work done by the chaplaincy service in helping the men to meet these problems. Chaplains, he said, must look after not only the spiritual needs of the men but help them also in meeting the many problems, both moral and emotional, which face them because of their service. He said family problems, problems of finance and many other matters, which to the casual observer might seem to be far removed from a cleric serving as a service chaplain, are all a part of the job he must be prepared to do.

Naval chaplains, he said, hold no rank in the Navy and he stated he felt this was a good thing as it helped to retain a proper perspective so far as their work as chaplains is concerned.

The thanks of the meeting to Padre Bourne for his address were expressed by S. H. Coward, of Bridgetown.

Rev. H. Y. MacLean, Rector of Digby and Rural Dean of the Annapolis Deanery, presided over the supper meeting and the business session which followed. The thanks of the gathering to the ladies of the parish of Bridgetown, who prepared and served the supper for the group, were expressed by Victor Cardoza, of Digby.

During the business session it was reported that St. Anne's Camp, which is operated by the Greater Chapter for Anglican young people of the Deanery, had had a successful season last year. The camp had operated to capacity, it was reported, although the distribution of campers at the four sessions for different age groups had been rather unequal. It was reported this problem is being tackled by the camp committee and it is hoped it will be remedied in the coming season.

Finances of the camp are in a healthy shape, it was stated. Several matters were proposed that are designed to further improve the operation of the camp and approval was given to the committee to proceed with these. It was decided to continue the same budget asked from the parishes of the Deanery for the year. This money is used to effect physical improvements at the camp and to help meet the capital costs involved in the setting up of the camp and the construction of buildings.

A report on the Divinity Scholarship Fund, set up by the Greater Chapter, was given by S. H. Coward. This report showed well over two hundred dollars in the fund and it was decided to call a meeting of the committee in charge to further discuss matters in connection with the handling of the fund.

It was decided to invite the Rev. Dr. Frantisek Uhlik, Professor of Sociology at King's College, to be the guest speaker at the fall meeting of the Chapter.

Boy Scouts Plant Trees

As a conservation and reforestation measure, members of the 1st Digby Troop of Boy Scouts planted some two thousand spruce and pine trees on scrub land at Marshalltown over the weekend.

The boys were under the guidance of Mr. Chester Keen who was actively engaged with the Digby Scout Troop for some years. Scouts taking part in the tree planting expedition included George Holdsworth, Neil Smith, Jimmy Dunn, Harold Hawkins, Clarence Wagner, Everett Hall, Douglas Wright, Robert Beckwith, David Burnham, Ronald Hamilton, Kevin Hardman.

The youngsters had an enjoyable time on their expedition despite the inclement weather. Camp fires were lit and the lads cooked their food over the flames as well as warming chilled hands.

EXPLAINS CHANGES IN SCHOOL CURRICULUM

An explanation of recommendations made recently by the Curriculum Committee of the Digby Regional High School to the Regional High School Board was given by School Supervisor F. C. Purdy at the regular meeting of the Digby Area Home & School Association.

Mr. Purdy stated the committee was in agreement that present courses at the Regional High School do not adequately meet the needs of the students at this school. He said the trend over the past two years has been away from the general course, with increasing emphasis on academic subjects. The committee, he said, viewed this trend with concern and was unanimous in its decision that the program of studies should be carefully revised.

The committee, he said, was urging the Board to approve a program of studies designed to make more adequate provision for fundamental differences in interests and aptitudes existing among the various student groups enrolled in the Regional High School. He said it must be accepted as a fact that these differences do exist and that provision must be made in the curriculum for the brilliant or exceptional student, the less talented or average student, the dull or slow learners, as well as those students of satisfactory ability having well defined clerical or stenographic interests.

Mr. Purdy stated the committee also was unanimous in its decision that, should the recommendations of the committee be approved, no further revision should be made without referral to the Board. He said the purpose of this was to establish adequate safeguards so that it will not be possible for staff members not sympathetic to the new program to engineer any major curriculum change without reference to the Board. Such a safeguard, he said, seemed necessary in light of past experience.

In order to properly meet the needs of the various groups of students at the school, he said, the committee recommended that a course of study must be designed to provide the following services:

1. A rigidly academic program, sufficiently challenging to the most exceptional student.

2. A semi-academic or technical program, suited to the needs of the less talented or average student group.

3. A carefully planned commercial program, making adequate provision for able students with well defined commercial interests, as well as for those of lesser ability.

4. A general course program suited to the needs of those students having no special aptitude in the academic or technical fields.

He stated the committee was of the opinion that the logical point for the introduction of this program would be at the end of Grade VIII with students directed into this more diversified program through the effective use of a well organized guidance plan.

Mr. Purdy stated the local Promotion Board would determine the course of study to be followed by Regional High School students. Allocation to the various courses would be determined by a number of factors. These, he said, were: academic achievement; I. Q. rating; reading level; student interests and aptitudes; parental wishes; and home room teacher recommendation.

The Promotion Board would take these factors into consideration, he said, when determining promotions from Grade VIII to the end of Grade X. Students interests and parental wishes would be carefully considered when making promotions at the Junior High School levels. Should parental wishes conflict with Promotion Board decisions the parents would be interviewed and advised of all factors which prompted the decision. He stated that students who were promoted to the general or commercial course may, if parents insist upon an academic course, elect to repeat the academic requirements of the grade from which the promotion to the general or commercial course occurs. Mr. Purdy said the Promotion Board would at all times be guided in its decisions by what is in the best interests of the individual student.

Tufts Trophy Presented

The Ernest B. Tufts Curling Trophy was presented last Saturday by Mr. Tufts to the winners of the "Inter-Part" Curling Bonspiel at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis.

Winners of the trophy, which is for annual curling competition between departmental and branch curling teams at the Cornwallis naval base, was the team skipped by P. O. Johnson, with P/O MacNichol as mate, and P/O Lajoie and Lt. N/S V. Burton as team members.

The presentation was made during the presentation of trophies for the Atlantic Command bonspiel. Captain M. G. Stirling, who made the Atlantic Command presentations, complimented Mr. Tufts on his decision to put up the trophy and called on him to make the presentation to the first winners.

The "Inter-Part" curling for the Tufts Trophy marks the first time that curling has ever been held in its own rink by any naval establishment in Canada. The Cornwallis Curling Club was organized in 1955 and played each week during the season with the Digby Curling Club at the Digby Rink. This also continued through the season just closed.

President of the Cornwallis Curling Club is Lt.-Cmdr. Adamie who was also head of the match committee for the inter-part curling competition at Cornwallis and also made arrangements for the Atlantic Command bonspiel.

D.F.D. Activities

Film to be shown at the Boy Scout entertainment this week will include the Jamboree film at Niagara and the famous "RCMP Musical Ride."

Many inquiries were received since Wednesday afternoon when the new siren was tested before installation is made to determine the best location. Calls were received from as far away as Cornwallis as to the location of the "fire". This siren will be installed in the vicinity of St. Mary's Street according to data at hand. Installation is expected to be made within the coming week.

The "Smokeaters" bowling team came through with a three-game win over the "Milkmen" Thursday after the "cold" treatment by the milk boys, or attempted "deep freeze" as it was called the night of the game. However, they did not realize that the fire boys are prepared for anything including the cold. The "Smokeaters" now advance to the finals of which the first game will be played against "H.Bombs" on Thursday evening at 8:00 p.m.

On Friday evening the Rifle Club held their meeting in the Fire Hall which included the signing up of new members and the showing of safety films pertaining to shooting. The meeting was well attended. Another meeting will be held on Friday evening when women and teenagers will be admitted into the Club. Films will also be shown.

Experiments are being made regarding traffic control while the Department is on call to fires and in every instance there have been violations of the traffic law. At present fair warning is being given, however, on second offences something definite will have to be done. The interference of traffic by cars and trucks during fires is very disrupting to the moving of fire equipment. With this in mind the co-operation of the public is asked, and failing, this will be demanded. The normal practice will be in the event of fire in one particular block that block will be closed to traffic except to emergency vehicles.

Winners at Monday night's benefit card party were: Door Prize, Mrs. Melbourne Comeau; Ladies' High 45's, Marjorie Cromwell; Ladies' 2nd 45's, Rosie Muise; Gent's High 45's, Carl Winchester; Gent's 2nd, Danny Dakin.

Two calls were answered by the Department — both at Hayden's apartments — one on Saturday and the other on Monday.

To Appear At Digby Forum

Columbia recording artist, Dusty Owens and his Rodeo Boys direct from WWVA World's Original Jamboree in Wheeling, W. Va., are appearing in person at the Digby Forum.

"If you want to have a friend, you've got to be one yourself" is the motto of Dusty, and if you attend the performance at the Forum while Dusty is in town you will see and hear an artist who lives up to this dual part motto. Dusty's boundless ability in song writing and recording has not been eclipsed by a straight-face unfriendly form of informality, so often the plight of a famous artist. He makes you feel as though a friend with talent has come to entertain you, and you alone.

So exclusively regarded is the ability of Dusty Owens that he recently signed to write songs for Acuff-Rose Publishing Company. Rights are solely reserved by this — one of the largest hillbilly song publishing companies in the country. At the Digby Forum, Dusty will prove to the strummin' lovin' and foot stompin' fans that he is a "natural" when it comes to the light fantastic of folk music.

Digby hillbilly enthusiasts will have an opportunity to rock and reel, or modestly pat a foot to the hot "twang" or ballad smooth renditions, as only Dusty and his musical clan can issue out.

Speaking of a musical clan, Dusty launched his career at the toe tingling tender age of sixteen, banding together under the famed title of Rodeo Boys. The title stayed and a trail to fame was blazed right into the hearts of fans like those who will be seeing Dusty and the Rodeo Boys at the Digby Forum.

Not only will Dusty thrill "you all" with the best pickin' and singin' this side of Hillbilly Heaven, but his warm and friendly nature will melt your heart. From a teardrop through a chuckle, to a laugh that will "bust" your belt buckle.

The obituary of Annie Melanson last week stated that the funeral service was under the direction of Victor Deveau, Meteghan. This should have read: Nichol's Funeral Service, Weymouth, N. S.

Gleanings
(From the Digby Courier nearly 50 years ago)

While we still hear complaints about muddy conditions of some secondary unpaved roads, Digby Neck residents, since the completion of their fine paved highway, have only memories of how bad the dirt and gravel roads can be.

However, years ago there were complaints over road conditions on the Neck as the following article shows:—

"I was reading the other day, the cost of hauling a ton 1 mile in Europe is 7c. In America it is 25c, from Centreville to Digby it works out at 31 1/4c. What is the cause of the difference in the cost? The answer is bad roads. The Digby Neck road at the present time is simply vile and in places is practically unsafe to drive over at night.

It is high time the people took the matter up and agitated for the construction of a proper road the whole length of the Neck, probably a cement road would be about the best, considering that the greater part of the Neck road is practically on a mountain side and subject to the wash from the mountain. At the present time in England there are two such roads, the Fosse and the Watling roads, built by the Romans nearly 2,000 years ago and still good roads.

These roads, however, were not built by statute labor but most likely by Saxon slaves who probably had the business end of a Roman soldier's spear in close proximity to the other part of their anatomy to keep them at it."

How would the young people like this way of travelling today? It must have been fun though!

"There was a pie social at Waterford on Saturday evening last. Unfortunately, the weather was very inclement but the young people not to be out done, chartered Mr. Robbins' ox team and with a sail cloth overhead made the journey and had a good time."

.....

About This and That

The Salvation Army

In peace times and during two World Wars, thousands of people have seen The Salvation Army in action, taken its good work for granted, supported it, trusted it implicitly. Yet not one in hundreds could answer factual questions about it.

Do you, for example, know that it is an international organization operating places of worship and social rehabilitation centers in 85 countries and colonies of the globe? That its 26,626 officers are specially trained men and women who have further applied five years of religious sociology in action before qualifying as fully commissioned officers?

The Salvation Army is an evangelical movement with the single aim of converting people to Christian living. Because of the practical application of its beliefs in alleviating the tangible as well as the spiritual needs of men, its social services became well known; "a man may be down but he's never out" was termed its theory sometime ago. Recently the spiritual aim behind its social services was more accurately described when The Salvation Army was called "the first international Army, with its heart to God and its hand to man."

It was founded in London in 1865 by William Booth, an English Methodist minister. From London the movement spread to England, Scotland, Wales, Ireland; people in all walks of life became interested, and early in the development of the organization General Booth selected his officers from professional fields, and further recognized the need of trained personnel for leadership by instituting training colleges where young men and women both could study for officership.

General Booth's belief that a starving man must be fed before his hunger can be turned Godward soon included other services besides the soup kitchens. The Salvation Army extended a helping hand to the homeless; the sick and unemployable (in India thousands of lepers are treated in Salvation Army hospitals); to unmarried mothers; to criminals released from prisons; to the unfortunate in many fields.

This is the organization which is appealing for funds during May.

Mental Health Week, April 29 - May 5

Research and education has brought us out of a blissful ignorance and into the dawn of day in the field of mental health. Mental illness which was onetime a whispered subject is now rightly, properly and frankly discussed by a great many with as little sign of attached stigma as is heart disease, appendicitis, tuberculosis, or other illness. Research and education in the field of mental health has brought a brighter outlook for the mentally ill and those closely associated with the disease.

Many people are becoming aware of the fact that mental illness can be cured just as readily as any physical ailment. Many see early diagnosis as important, qualified psychiatric care necessary, proper physical and medical requirements valuable and the understanding of relatives and friends essential to the complete restoration of the mentally disturbed. Much more in the way of research and education is needed. Well equipped and staffed institutions are necessary. To awaken greater consciousness of the people to these needs, this week, April 29 to May 5, is especially set aside as Mental Health Week in Canada.

The Digby Courier further participates in the Mental Health program for the week by directing your attention to a contributed article in this issue of the paper dealing with Digby's Mental Health program.

WIDE STANCE REAR SUSPENSION
is the secret of Pontiac stability. Parallel outrigger springs permit a lower centre of gravity and complete freedom from pitch and roll.

MORE POWER THAN EVER BEFORE in 5 great engines—from the economical 148 h.p. Strato-Six to the sizzling 227 h.p. Strato-Streak V8. Pontiac sets the pace in '66.

CUSHIONED FRONT SUSPENSION
smooths out road shocks and bumps—brings more real comfort to driving than you ever believed possible, and brings you new stability.

FINGER-TIP STEERING EASE

Burns Mortgage

An interesting event took place on Thursday evening, Apr. 28th, when Friendship Lodge, No. 122, burned the mortgage on its building.

A large number of the members of the Lodge were present and also a number of visitors from St. George Lodge, Digby, and about twenty members of Mr. Elta Rebekah Lodge were also in attendance.

During the burning of the mortgage those present joined hands in a circle around the hall, while in the centre Past Grand, R. E. Cossitt, W. P. Brinton, Wm. H. Henshaw, Warren Frazee, Carl Miller and L. V. Harris, who were charter members or had been members of the building committee, assisted in the actual burning of the mortgage. After the mortgage had gone up in smoke the Doxology was sung and a prayer of thanksgiving offered.

Previous to this ceremony Past Grand L. V. Harris read a history of Friendship Lodge, beginning with its institution in February 1912, to the present time.

The first few meetings were held in the old Sons of Temperance Hall which stood near the Baptist Church, but later the Lodge obtained the use of Oakdene Hall which was burned in 1934. In 1919 a building committee was appointed and the corner stone of the present Odd Fellows building was laid in 1922 by the late Past Grand Master, John A. Craig, of Yarmouth. In order to complete the building it was necessary to place a mortgage on it in 1923 and this indebtedness was not liquidated until about a month ago.

The first meeting to be held in the new hall was in 1923. Following the burning of the mortgage ceremony several members of the lodge, particularly for the purpose of the building.

A letter was read from Past Grand, Rev. W. J. Wright, now of Liverpool, N. S., expressing his regrets on not being able to be present. Past Grand Wright, one of the few living members of the building committee appointed in 1919, was secretary of the committee and took an active part in raising funds.

The evening was brought to a close by the serving of refreshments.

Films for the Whole Family: "Shining for Jesus" - "God of the Atom" - Children's Choir

by Ken Hankinson

After hearing of the probable future of the atomic-powered car, I've decided to stay in the gasoline-car business for a little while yet. If you've been waiting for the A-car, I'd settle for a G-buggy now. The atomic car, I find, will be a little while in the coming.

I had thought when the U.S. launched its atomic submarine, and a large company announced it had an atomic battery, that the gasoline business was soon to join that Valhalla where the buggy whip boys are.

But Andrew Kucher, an American automobile research director, says there are still some mighty big hurdles to jump.

It's still conceivable, though, that some day a car will be injected with enough atomic fuel at the factory to radiate it along the street for the rest of its life.

The atomic battery is a step in that direction. But its efficiency in converting atomic energy to electrical energy is extremely low — something like one-tenth of one percent.

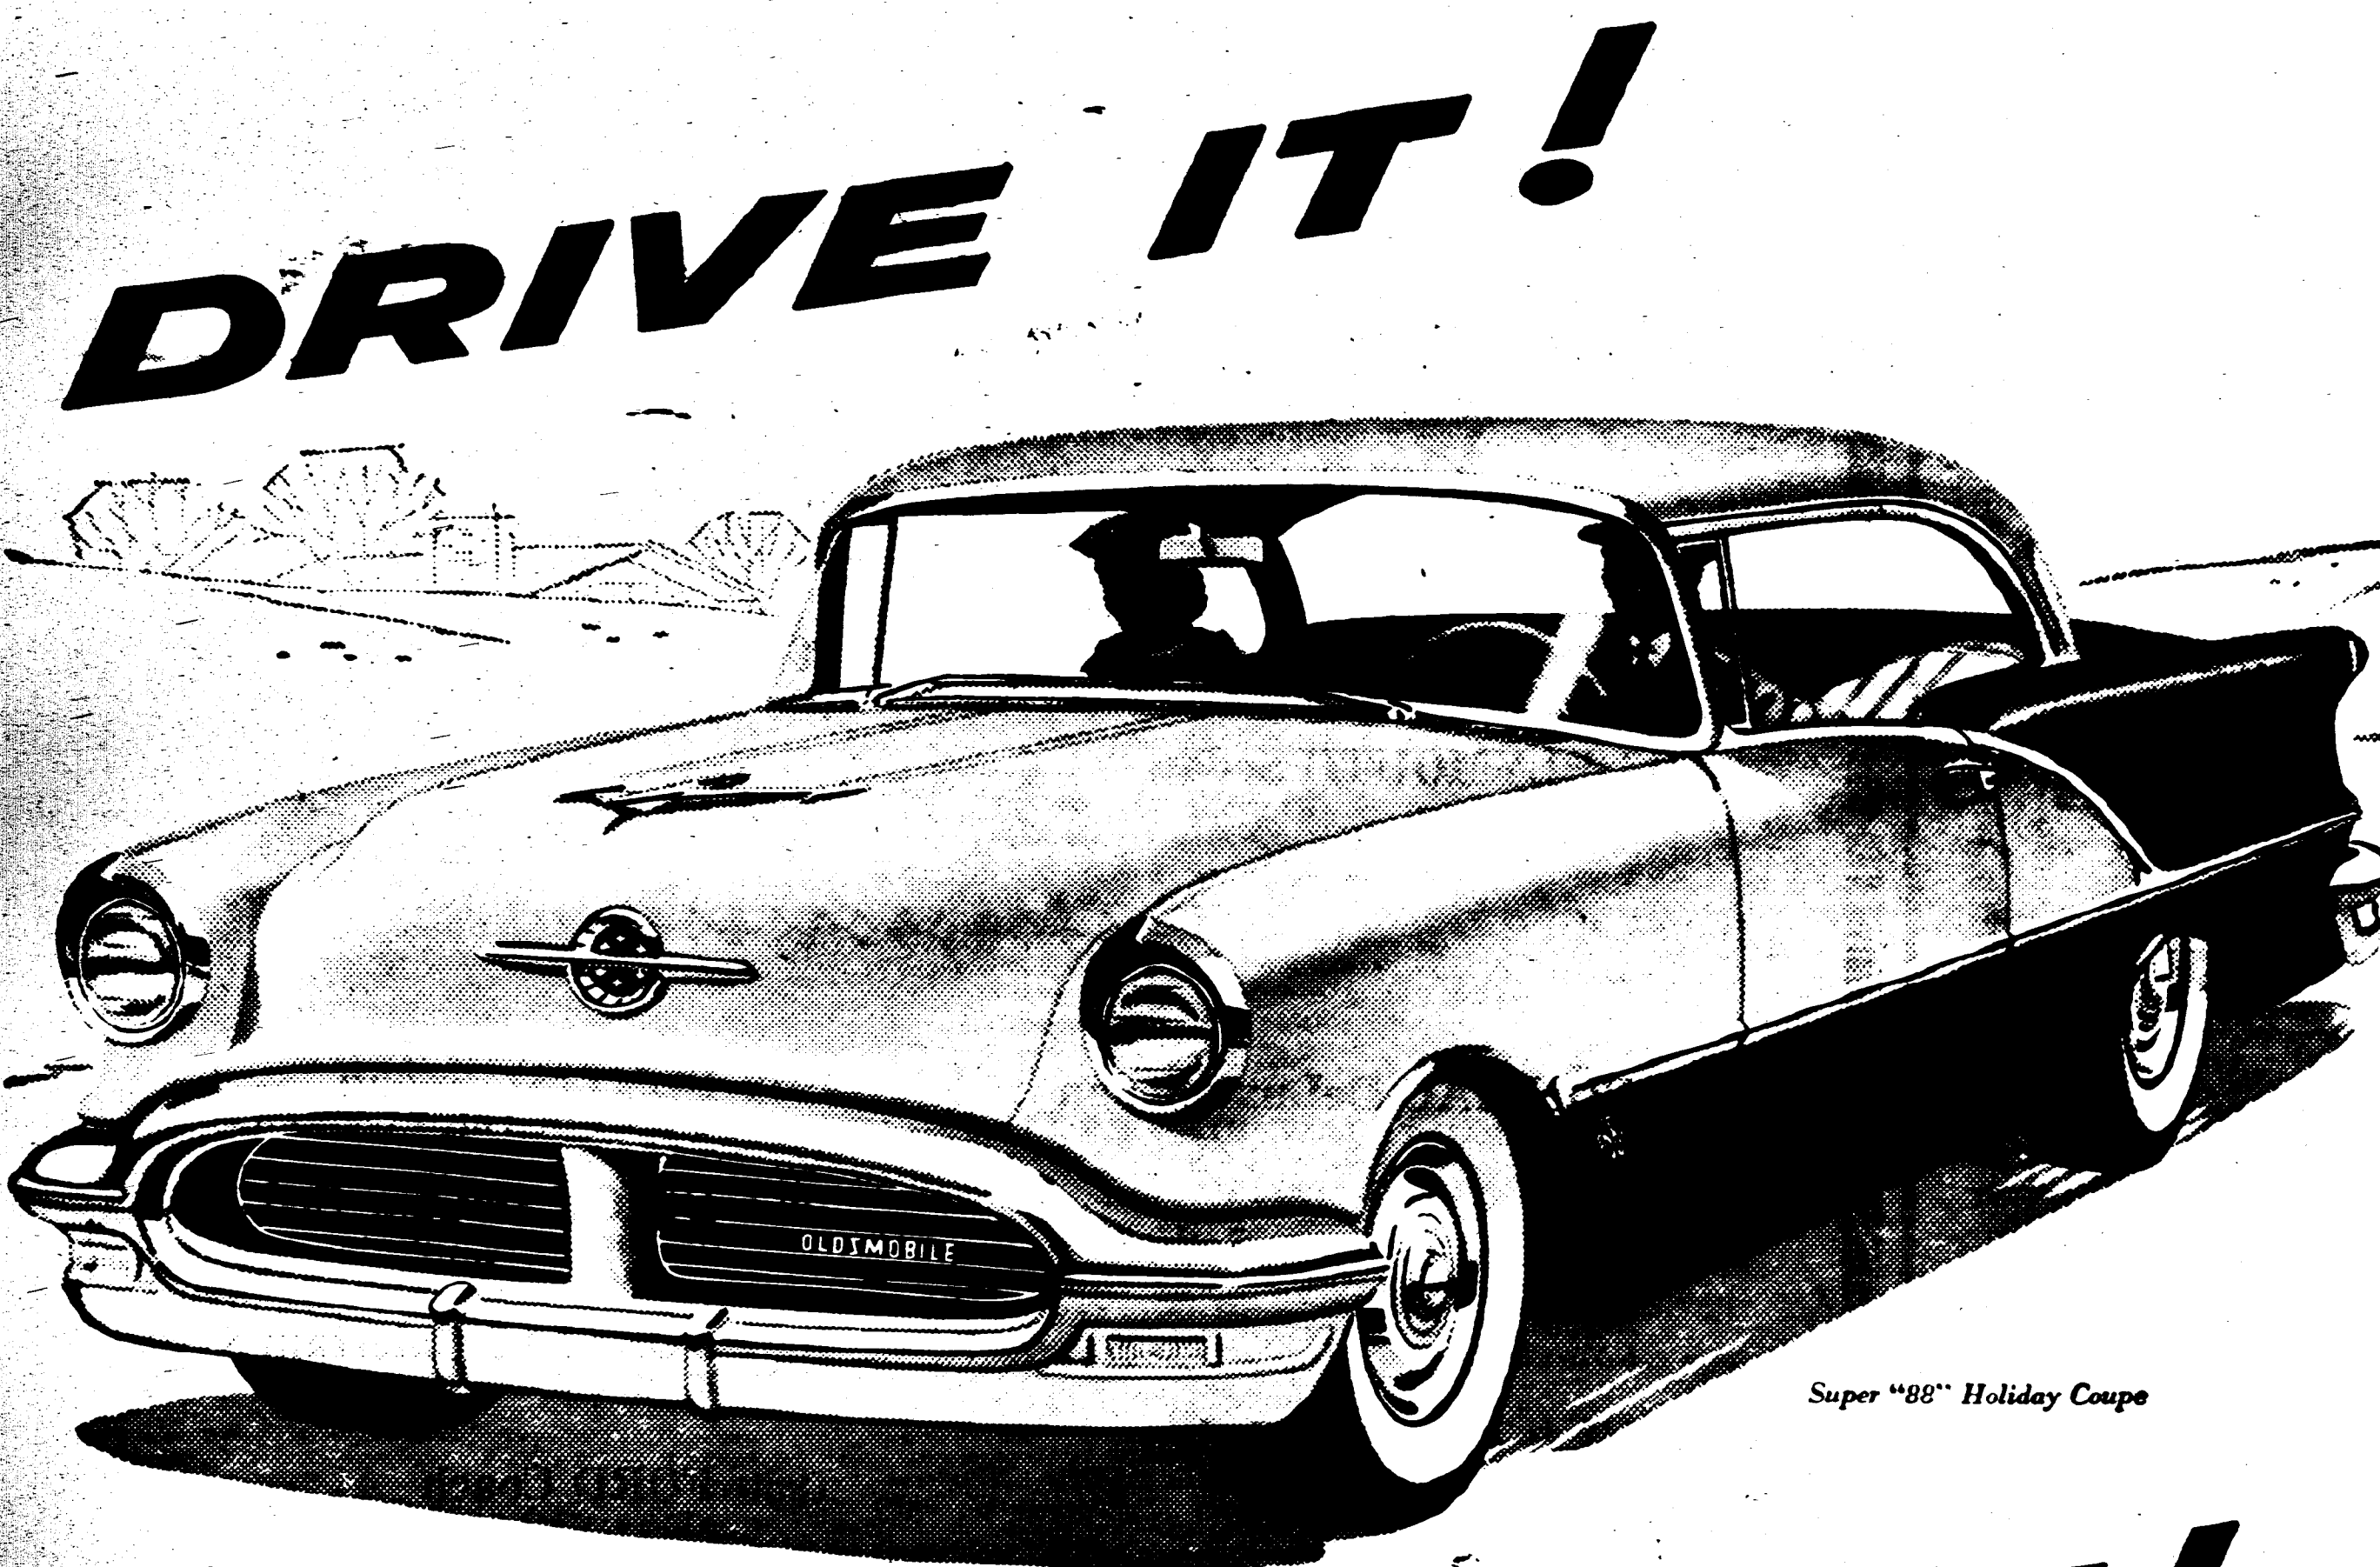

Another problem is the shielding of the atomic material. It takes many tons of heavy material to surround the active materials in the atom-sub and the amount of shielding needed would be just as much in a smaller power plant. So the atomic car isn't around the next corner, or even the corner after that.

We will, therefore, still be in business tomorrow at the same old stand. Every day we get in new G-buggies; they aren't atomic but they score "A" in these parts for the neatest, cleanest, smoothest and most economical cars you can find. When you're browsing around for a car, radiate over our way and we'll be glad to show you around.

MENTAL HEALTH

their own initiative, and some because they know friends or relatives who have been helped at the clinic.

What happens when they do come? They are first interviewed by a member of the staff. If they have problems that the clinic can help, and if they want treatment, they will meet with one of the psychiatrists. Frequently, testing will aid the psychiatrist in treating the patient.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Journeay, who have been wintering in Long Island, N. Y., and Phoenix, Arizona, returned to Weymouth on Tuesday.

Friends of Mrs. Matheson, formerly of Weymouth, now residing at Bathurst, will be interested to know that she is now improving in health following a nervous illness which overtook her this winter. Ian Matheson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Matheson, is now a student at the University of New Brunswick where he is studying engineering.

If testing seems indicated, this will be done by the psychologist.

If the patients are children, they will meet with the psychologist.

The ways in which the clinic and other groups in the community work together for good mental health are numerous. Clinic members frequently give speeches on mental health — to groups like service clubs, home and school associations, mental health groups and others. The Digby staff also meets with members of the clergy once a month to study the kinds of problems that both psychiatrists and ministers meet and on which they can work together. Recently, the clergy of Annapolis County and members of the clinic have instituted a similar program of meetings.

The clinic also offers its skills to the schools and will do testing or counseling if the schools request it. In ways like this there is a two-way benefit, and also benefit to the community in general. These groups have free use of the Clinic's skills and training. At the same time, the Clinic learns how its services can be put to wider use in the community.

The latest addition to community-clinic cooperation is the creation of a board of advisors for the Clinic. Members of this board are from Digby, Annapolis and Yarmouth Counties. Dr. J. R. McCleave is the chairman at present. The board also has members from the clinic and from the Provincial Public Health Department, Dr. Marshall and Dr. Rideout. Dr. A. H. Leighton, Director of the Cornell Programme for Research in Community Development, is also a member. It will study the following ways of widening the Clinic's contribution to good mental health; distribution of Clinic services in the three counties; progressive adaptation of Clinic services to the immediate and long range needs of the area; the organization of practical community assistance to the Clinic; over-all policy direction; and further cooperation between the Clinic and community organizations.

It is worth noting, too, that the Digby Clinic cooperates with the Fundy Mental Health Centre in Wolfville. This was opened in September 1955 and is under the direction of Dr. Eric Cleveland,

D.F.D. Activities

The regular meeting of the Department was held on Wednesday evening when a great deal of business was transacted pertaining to the organization of the Salvage Corp and the raising of money as well as other important matters. Some five new members were accepted to make up the Salvage Corp and a further meeting is proposed within a week to make further plans for this important branch of the Department.

Last Thursday evening the "Smokeaters" dropped two games to the "H Bombs" bowlers to trail for the first time since the bowling schedules started. However, in Tuesday night's games the "Smokeaters" made a comeback to tie the series at three games each. The deciding games will be played Thursday evening (tonight).

An executive meeting was held immediately following the regular meeting last Wednesday to arrange and adopt a tentative list of Fire Wardens for the town. This particular part of the fire service has been rather inactive of late and it is hoped the new ones will be more active in the matters of fire protection and prevention.

The local Clean-up campaign starts on May 13th and continues to May 26th when various ways will be devised to clean up (Please turn to page 10)

COUNCIL GRANTS SIX BUILDING PERMITS

Given permits to build homes were David C. Landers, Warwick Street; W. Irving McKenna, L. Russell Stonehouse, Earl VanTassel, King Street. A permit was granted to St. Patrick's Church for the construction of an addition to their rectory on First Avenue.

The Council also decided to construct sewers on King Street and the western end of Warwick Street. Decision was made following receipt of requests from property owners in the areas concerned. A survey to establish levels and costs will be carried out immediately, it was decided.

Councillor N. D. Wright, reporting for the Fire Committee, stated a new fire siren had been secured and plans were underway to have it installed on the corner of West and St. Mary's Streets. The new siren will be connected with the present fire alarm and both will be sounded simultaneously.

Mr. Wright said this year had been the best to date for incidence of grass fires, with only one alarm. He said the department had carried out a grass burning campaign in order to cut down the danger from this type of fire.

At the request of the Fire Department George Humphrey, Thomas Cleveland, Norman Wright, Victor Cardoza, Jack Nichols and C. F. McBride Jr., were named as Fire Wardens for the year.

Consumption of electrical energy in the Town of Digby to date this year is 129,626 Kw. Hours in excess of the same period last year. Consumption in March of this year amounted to 266,278 Kw. Hours, compared with 253,913 in March 1955. This information was contained in the report of the Digby County Power Board, presented at the meeting.

Permission was given the Digby Rifle Club to hold a tag day on May 19th. It was also decided to declare the weeks of May 13th to 26th "Clean Up Weeks" in Digby. A proclamation to this effect will be issued by the Mayor. It is understood the Fire Department will sponsor a clean-up campaign in the town as a fire prevention measure.

Sport Fishing Down

Local sports fishing enthusiasts report catches of trout down this year from last. Although the season for speckled and brown trout opened across the province on April 15th, the inclement weather this year has kept fishermen at home and has seemed to keep the fish from biting.

No reports have been heard locally of rod and reel catches of Atlantic salmon, the season for which opened in Digby County April 15th.

Striped bass, which last year provided such exciting sport on the Bear River, have so far not yet started to run this year, although the open season extends all the year. The season for black bass opens July 1st and continues through to October 31st across the province.

The season for rainbow trout also opens across the province on July 1st and continues through until October 31st.

Married 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Smith, of Shelburne, celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary today. Mrs. F. A. Kenney, Digby, and Mrs. A. A. Beveridge, Lancaster, N. B., daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Smith, are visitors at home to celebrate the occasion.

MUNICIPALITY PASSES SCHOOL PROGRAM

Assessment and education had been anticipated when plans were presented in January at the opening session of the semi-annual meeting of the Municipal Council of the Municipality of Digby at the Court House here.

Complaints were voiced at the meeting concerning the assessment of fishing boats in the municipality and the methods used to arrive at these assessments. Councillor D. B. Kenney, of Westport, said he felt it was a crime the way some boats had been assessed and felt something should be done to rectify the situation. Councillor W. F. Cossaboom, of Tiverton, said he was of the opinion some boat assessments were out of proportion with other property assessments in the municipality.

Other Councillors joined in the discussion and it was finally agreed that the Assessor be instructed to visit the fishing districts of the municipality and spend whatever time is necessary to re-check boat assessments in each of these. He will also be asked to contact the Councillor in each of the districts to assist in checking ownership and other details.

The matter of education and the Council's plan to participate in the erection of two new consolidated schools in the municipality and an addition to the Digby Regional High School came in for some discussion at the meeting.

Councillor W. F. Cossaboom questioned if any change had been made in plans for the operation of schools on the islands of Digby Neck. He said he knew of no demand for a consolidated school to serve the islands and said no such school should be considered until a request came from the people. "Keeping up with the Joneses in building consolidated schools is expensive," he said, and these schools should only be built where they are needed.

Warden H. E. Chisholm stated there had been no change in plans made by the Council or the school board with regard to the schools on the island and said there seemed to be no unanimity with regard to a consolidated school to serve the area.

Mr. Chisholm said it was expected the proposed school at Sandy Cove could be erected for the cost estimate placed before the Council in January but that a larger enrolment of pupils in the school at Weymouth than were presented in January would make it necessary to consider a school larger by one or two rooms than had been originally planned.

Speaking of taxes and assessment, Warden Chisholm said it had always been a habit to complain of taxes no matter what they were. He said Nova Scotians were now paying twenty millions a year for liquor and thirty millions for new cars, which figures were less than spent on education and municipal services.

Councillor Cossaboom said there was much misleading information being circulated regarding taxation. He said tax money was the basis of all the services and privileges we enjoy. He said he deplored efforts being made to convince the public they could have all the municipal services and other privileges they wanted without paying for them through taxation. Such an attitude, he said, was damaging to the morale and attitudes of younger citizens.

Final Council approval for a $575,000 school building program in Digby Municipality was given last Friday afternoon at the closing session of the Municipal Council here.

The Council gave approval for the building of a fourteen classroom consolidated school with auditorium and other facilities at Weymouth; a seven room consolidated elementary school with auditorium and other facilities at Sandy Cove; an addition to the Digby Regional High School and a school bus garage at their meeting on Friday.

Approval of the building program came after a stormy session of the Council during which charges were made the Municipality was proceeding "too fast" with their school program.

Discussion arose at the meeting when it was reported the amount voted by the Council at their January meeting for school construction would not prove sufficient to meet present estimates. Councillor D. B. Kenney of Westport, stated he was opposed to the Council spending any further money for school extension this year and moved this as an amendment to the borrowing resolution. The amendment was defeated on a 6-5 vote.

Council voted for expenditures not to exceed $120,000 for (Please turn to page 10)

Scallop Queen To Be Crowned

A Digby County girl will be crowned "Scallop Queen" as part of the celebrations marking Dominion Day in Digby, it was announced following a meeting of the fair committee here last week.

Digby County's Scallop Queen will be selected from entrants from all over the county at a ball to be held on Thursday evening, June 28th. She will be crowned on Sunday evening, July 1st, in a colorful ceremony at the Digby Ball Park.

A special attraction at the crowning ceremony will be a Ceremonial Sunset performed by the guard and band of HMCS Cornwallis. This event and the crowning of the Scallop Queen will take place at the Digby Ball Park on Sunday evening, July 1st.

It is understood the committee have under consideration many other attractions which will be included as part of the fair program but no announcement will be made concerning these until plans are definite.

Ralph O. Wright has been named general manager of the Fair and will head up a committee composed of representatives of many of the town's organizations. Secretary-treasurer of the fair committee is Mr. Elie Comeau.

V. O. Nurse Resigns

The resignation of Miss Mary Blair, V.O.N., was regrettably received at the regular meeting of the order held at the Court House on Tuesday. Miss Blair has served the Digby Branch Victorian Order for two years and has won many friends for her self and patrons for the order with her pleasant congenial personality. It was with regret that the order received the news of her resignation to take effect June 30.

In April Miss Blair made 132 home visits of which 105 were for bedside care. Thirteen attended the Well-baby conferences and one hundred thirty-eight children were given rapid inspection in school. Miss Blair also assisted with administering Salk vaccine to the school pupils from Grades I to VI.

It was reported by the treasurer that the tag day and panty sale in April realized over one hundred thirty dollars. A donation of $32.00 from the Straight Eight Bridge Club was acknowledged.

On request of the Digby firemen it was decided to enter a float in the July 1st parade in Digby with the public committee consisting of Lieut Earle Birt, Mrs. John Russell and Mrs. J. M. Wallis in charge.

Digby Golf Club Meets

On Friday, May 14th, the Digby Golf Club held its first meeting of the 1956 season with Clayton Snow, the new president, presiding. The resignation of Russell Stonehouse was regrettably accepted and Graham McCleave was appointed to succeed him as secretary.

The following were appointed as chairmen of the various committees: Dr. P. C. Outhouse, Membership Committee; Rush-ton Marshall, Entertainment Committee; Garnet Neville, Financial and Ways & Means Committee; Vince McCarlie, Match & Handicap Committee; Martin Barnes, N.S.G.A. Tournament Committee. Russell Harris was appointed club captain.

The N.S.G.A. Tournament is to be held this year at the Digby Pines Golf Course on July 9th, 10th and 11th, and a large entry is expected.

Anyone wishing to join the Digby Golf Club is asked to contact Dr. P. C. Outhouse for further information.

ST. PATRICK'S SCHOOL HOLDS GRADUATION

The annual commencement exercises of St. Patrick's Business College were held in St. Patrick's Church, Digby, on Sunday, May 6th, at eleven o'clock. Those participating in the ceremony entered the church and proceeded up the main aisle as follows: Cross Bearer, William Amiraault; acolytes, David Wood and Floyd Amaro; the Business College graduates; and Rev. Father J. Harry Durney, F.P., and V.E., of St. Joseph's Church, Kentville, who officiated at the entire service. The girls of the graduating class were clad in white caps and gowns, and they took their places in the sanctuary for the Mass, which followed immediately.

The High Mass ("Missa Parochialis," by Jos. J. McGrath—Four Mixed Voices) was conducted by Rev. Father Luc Gaudet, Pastor, who was accompanied by the new Con Artist organ by Mr. E. J. Theriault, Q.C., organist of St. Patrick's Church.

The guest speaker for the occasion was Rev. Father J. H. Durney, of Kentville. Father Durney in speaking to the graduates said that anyone who has witnessed the launching of a boat has been struck by the spirit of the occasion. There is a note of joy, of hushed expectation, especially on the part of those who have been associated with the building of the vessel, as final preparations are made to release the boat and allow it to slide gracefully into the water. Everything needed that the boat may ply the seven seas has been built into the ship, or will be added after the launching. She will be given means of locomotion, and when all this has been done she will be placed in charge of a competent crew who will be charged with its safety and success. That success will depend largely on the proper use of the latent power of the vessel by the crew. It will depend on careful guidance and continual watchfulness by the crew, whether they are at sea or in port.

The graduates were told that they were now being launched into the world, into life. The years which had passed had been years of preparation. Now they were starting on their own, going forth to seek success, the acquiring of which would depend on the use they make of the latent power within them. It would depend on the use they make of the talents (Please turn to page 10)

Report From Parliament Hill

By GEORGE C. NOWLAN

May 5, 1956

The issue involved in the Trans Canada Pipe Line matter, as well as the very future itself of the proposal, are so confused at the moment that there is no point in writing of them. It is hoped that by early next week the matter will have been clarified, and then one can write a column in which the situation can be appreciated and understood. But whatever the future of this undertaking may be, it has already produced in Parliament one of the strangest records that could be imagined.

In short, this is the background. I presume that everyone knows that Trans Canada Pipe Line worked out an agreement with the Canadian and Ontario Governments, whereby it would be given the franchise to build a line from Alberta to Montreal, with a spur line into the United States. The Governments were to put up roughly $130,000,000 and the Company was to put up the rest of the money. During the past few weeks, current rumours have indicated that the Company has been reneging on its undertaking, and has demanded more money from the Government.

In the last two weeks, the Cabinet has been meeting almost daily trying to solve this problem. In the meantime, rumours have become rife that other interests, particularly those of Mr. McMahon, the President of West Coast Pipe Lines, has made an alternative offer which would involve no Government expenditure whatsoever. The Right Honourable C. D. Howe is the Minister who exercises absolute jurisdiction over pipe line matters.

On April 13th, Mr. John Diefenbaker asked Mr. Howe if he had received any communications or correspondence from Mr. McMahon respecting the construction of the pipe line. Mr. Howe denied that he had received any such correspondence. On April 16th, Mr. Diefenbaker moved for a return to the House, producing any documents exchanged between Mr. McMahon and Mr. Howe. A return was brought down showing that there were no such "documents". On Wednesday last, Mr. Diefenbaker again inquired as to this correspondence, and at that time Mr. Howe indicated that there were letters but that they were personal and confidential, and for his attention only. Finally, on Thursday, he undertook to produce the documents, if Mr. McMahon would consent, and on Thursday night they were tabled. The documents tabled indicated that the first communication from Mr. McMahon was sent in March, and that from that time down to the present Mr. McMahon had written several offers, enclosing memoranda in which he offered to construct a trans Canada pipe line, at his own expense, and without any charge to the Government whatsoever. In furtherance to this offer, he undertook to file a personal bond of $500,000 which would be forfeited if he failed to carry out the undertaking before the end of 1956.

But at the same time that Mr. McMahon agreed to have the correspondence tabled, he sent a telegram to Mr. Howe, withdrawing his offer.

On Friday, Mr. Howe and the Government were under heavy attack, and the conduct of the former, in the words of Mr. Diefenbaker "constituted a cavalier and flagrant contempt of Parliament".

In the meantime, the Prime Minister had told the House that he did not know anything about the letters or the offer of Mr. McMahon, but possibly he had "read of it in the newspapers".

All of this raises the question as to when is a document not a document. Mr. Howe flippantly inquired if he was expected to table letters from his sister. It was suggested that this was hardly in point. It was common knowledge that the Cabinet were dealing daily with this matter. It is also agreed by all that this is one of the most important problems which has confronted the Parliament of Canada in twenty-five years. The Government expenditures alone will run into hundreds of millions of dollars. The future of the gas industry in Alberta is at stake, and the industrial expansion of Canada will depend to some degree at least on the manner and the time in which this pipe line is constructed.

But here was the Minister, responsible for this vast undertaking, receiving concrete proposals from an experienced business executive, which were marked "personal and confidential". Is it conceivable that the Minister, under those circumstances, would be expected to keep them in his own pocket and not divulge them to his colleagues? If he did believe that that was required of him, would not his first responsibility have been to contact Mr. McMahon and say, "I cannot deal with this matter in this way. You know that I must discuss this matter with my colleagues, and I must have your permission (if such permission were ever necessary) to divulge the contents thereof to my colleagues." If Mr. McMahon was making a serious proposal, as undoubtedly he was, would not he have consented immediately to such a suggestion? How else could he ever have expected his proposal to be accepted by Cabinet?

And if these are the facts, if the notation "personal and confidential" was respected, what do Mr. Howe's colleagues think of him? Here, for two weeks, they have been wrestling with alternative proposals of Trans Canada Pipe Lines, involving the expenditure of at least an additional $30,000,000 by the Canadian Government. All the time the responsible Minister had another proposal in his pocket, which would have obviated the necessity of any Government expenditure, and he failed to mention it to them. What does the Prime Minister think of his colleague who failed to take him into his confidence? Is it conceivable that any Prime Minister could have been treated in this manner?

And what prompted Mr. McMahon to so suddenly withdraw the offer on which he had been forwarding detailed memoranda, and on which he had been working for many weeks. Mr. Howe says that he phoned Mr. McMahon and asked for his permission to file the documents. An inspection of the telegram sent to Mr. Howe by Mr. McMahon indicates that it was forwarded within a half hour after he had talked to Mr. Howe on the phone. Mr. McMahon is the President of the West Coast Pipe Lines, which is now constructing a pipe line from the Peace River district of Alberta, through British Columbia and into the United States. As such, he has to deal with Mr. Howe daily. Is there any association between the problems of West Coast Pipe Lines, which have to be solved by Mr. Howe, and Mr. McMahon's sudden withdrawal from his proposal to construct the Trans Canada pipe line? These and many other questions will be asked, and possibly answered, during the coming weeks. In the meantime, one is reminded of the green switchman who watched two locomotives racing towards each other on the same track, and muttered to himself, "This ain't no way to run a railroad".

time the responsible Minister had another proposal in his pocket, which would have obviated the necessity of any Government expenditure, and he failed to mention it to them. Relative and friend of Deep Brook and Kentville and other parts of the province were shocked to learn of the sudden passing of Mrs. Allison D. Pickett at Annapolis General Hospital on Saturday morning, April 28th, where she had been taken from her home at Deep Brook on Thursday noon having suffered a shock.

She was the former Peryl Rebecca Lingley, daughter of the late Isaac and Elizabeth (Eastwood) Lingley, of Port Williams, Kings County. She taught music and was later employed at the Port William Fruit Company as bookkeeper.

In 1926 she was united in marriage to Allison D. Pickett. They lived in different parts of Nova Scotia, including Truro, and later at Annapolis Royal, where Mr. Pickett was a member of the staff of the Entomological Laboratory. While living in Annapolis Royal Mrs. Pickett was president of the Champlain Garden Club, Port Royal, and took an active part in the Historical Society and Port Anne Chapter, I.O.E.

In 1949 Mr. and Mrs. Pickett took up residence at Cherry Hill Farm, Deep Brook, which they had purchased in 1938, and which they have operated as a successful fruit orchard since.

Surviving besides her husband (who is administrative officer-in-charge of Science Service Laboratory, Kentville), is one son, Eric, engineering student at Toronto University; one sister, Miss Sue Lingley, of Clementsport; one brother, Ralph Lingley, and nieces and nephews. A brother, Clarence, of Bear River, predeceased her a few years ago. John Halkings, an engineering student at Acadia University, Wolfville, N. S., has made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Pickett since coming from Scarborough, England, in 1941 during wartime evacuation.

In the spring of 1954 Mr. and Mrs. Pickett enjoyed three months spent in England, Scotland and Ireland, where Mr. Pickett was sent as a delegate in connection with Entomological Research.

Mrs. Pickett was a member of Port Williams Baptist Church, President of the Deep Brook Garden Club, which was formed through her efforts, and an active member of The Neighbourly Club. She was a gracious hostess and leaves many friends far and near. She will be long remembered by her many acts of kindness and charitable donations.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. on Tuesday from her home in Deep Brook, followed by service at the United Church of St. George and St. Andrew, Annapolis Royal, at 3 p.m., service conducted by Rev. C. H. Gough. Mr. Gough read the twenty-third Psalm and Rev. Francis Miller gave the prayer, "Near to the Heart of God" was sung by the Neighbourly Club as a special number.

Many beautiful floral tributes expressed the sympathy of friends. Her son, Eric, arrived from Toronto by plane on Sunday.

An Interesting Sidelight

An interesting sidelight to the story of the hazardous experience of Westport fishermen, carried two weeks ago in the Courier, is the fact that the vessel which went to their aid was the DeVina, under command of Vincent Doucet. This vessel is the one pictured on the calendars distributed by the Wallis Print Ltd. for 1956.

Mr. Doucet heard the distress calls from the Westport boats when he went down aboard his ship which was tied up at North Head, Grand Manan. He had been attending a function in North Head and on his return to his boat casually turned on the ship radio and heard the calls.

He immediately put out to the aid of the distressed boats even though it was dark and a most inclement night. He successfully navigated Cheney's Passage which is a difficult feat under good conditions and then made his way to the aid of the two Westport boats on Marblehead bank. He stood by these boats and gave them aid until they were brought into port.

MOLES GRADUATION

ents God had given them and the knowledge they had acquired during the years of training at home and at school. The ship had been handed over to them, and whether or not it achieved the end for which it was intended depended on them. No doubt their plans and hopes for the future could be spelled out in one word "success." What do we mean by success? The answer to that question depends on the person. For the world person it means only one thing, the acquisition of honors, riches, power. They have no time for anything else. But for a Christian the meaning of success is quite different. He knows that no matter how great or small, how rich or poor, how respected or how despised he may have been in the world, if he insures the eternal salvation of his soul he has been a success, the reason of his existence has not been lost, he has not lived in vain.

Father Durney congratulated the graduates and expressed his sincere hope that they would find real happiness in the future, by becoming economically independent, democratic and prosperous in the business world, or the school of hard knocks.

C. P. R. Train

Schedule Changed

Of interest to residents of western Nova Scotia is the news that provisions have been made for the Canadian Pacific Railway's fast, overnight "Atlantic Limited" to make convenient connections both east and west-bound with all points beyond Montreal. The "Atlantic Limited," operating between Saint John and Montreal, as well as other CPR passenger trains in the Maritimes, is having its schedule changed effective April 29 to conform with the general change to daylight saving time. The railway will continue to operate on standard time.

The "Atlantic Limited," which makes connections in both directions with the Princess Helene running across the Bay of Fundy and with Dominion Atlantic passenger trains operating between Digby and Halifax and Yarmouth, will leave Saint John at 8:30 p.m. April 29 at 8:30 p.m. Atlantic Standard Time, daily, arriving in Montreal at 8:30 a.m. Eastern Standard Time. This will allow a 45 minute connection with trains leaving Montreal for Toronto, Windsor, Detroit, and Chicago and for Quebec City, and will permit a seven minute connection at suburban Montreal West for the train to Ottawa. Another convenient Ottawa connection from Montreal is via the famed transcontinental streamlined, scenic-dome train "The Canadian," which has a fast two hour and five minute non-stop schedule to Ottawa leaving Montreal at 1:00 p.m. EST.

At Montreal the eastbound "Atlantic Limited" will make a 20 minute connection with the Ottawa train, a 15 minute connection, and after June 17 an hour and 40 minute connection, with trains from Toronto and southwestern Ontario, and a one

It is understood the fair program will open Thursday evening, June 28th, when a Princess Ball will be held at the Hotel Champlain. At this ball a "Scallop Queen" will be chosen to represent the county at the fair. Music for the ball will be provided by the Troubadours Orchestra.

The Scallop Queen chosen at the ball Thursday evening will be crowned at a special ceremony at the Ball Park Sunday evening, July 1st. The crowning ceremony will follow a sunset ceremonial performed by the band and guard of HMCS Cornwallis.

On Monday, July 2nd, the day's program is expected to begin with a demonstration of search and rescue work by the Air Force on the waterfront in the morning. A gala parade will be staged at one o'clock and this will be followed by the opening of the Midway at the forum at two o'clock. A tug-of-war will also be held in the ball field and there will be a physical training demonstration by a team from HMCS Cornwallis at three o'clock. A junior amateur show will also be held at three o'clock.

A baseball game will be held at 3:30 and from 5 to 7 supper will be served at the forum. At seven o'clock a softball game will be held and this will be followed at nine o'clock by a senior amateur show. During the day Sea Cadets and Boy Scouts will sell tags.

Four Artists Gain Awards At Y Club

Four Halifax artists, members of the YMCA-sponsored Oil Painting Class, were presented awards this week as winners in three painting divisions of the local club. The awards were presented at the annual closing held at the YMCA auditorium.

The four winning artists were Mrs. T. A. Hicking, Mrs. C. W. Peters, Dr. G. H. Wheelock and Miss Dora Hirtle. Mrs. Hicking took top honors in the beginners' division with Mrs. Peters placing second. Dr. Wheelock's paintings were judged as showing most potentiality in expression. Miss Hirtle won first place among the advanced artists.

The class is under the direction of well-known Halifax artist, William DeGard. The group said Y adult program director, Bob Butler, is part of the adult program. They have been meeting since September in the present semester. Mr. Butler said, Chairman of the group is Russell Finlay.

Dr. A. S. Mowat, of Dalhousie University, judged the painting and declared the winners.

Miss Hirtle is a niece of Mrs. J. M. Wallis and has many friends and acquaintances in Digby and vicinity.

Richard Allan Levy, of Digby, passed all subjects of the second year of the Diploma Course in Pharmacy, and Malcolm Stanford Mullen, of Weymouth, passed all subjects of the first year course.

Mr. Mullen was also awarded a scholarship by the Canadian Foundation for the Advancement of Pharmacy.

CONTINUE HUNT FOR ESCAPED PRISONER

An all-out police search is being conducted for Arthur William Wright, aged 23, who escaped from the County Jail here Saturday afternoon.

Wright made his escape from the jail about three o'clock Saturday afternoon. He was being held for New Brunswick police authorities after having been apprehended in Weymouth while in possession of a car, reportedly stolen from Saint John. Saint John police arrived in Digby via the Princess Helene Saturday to escort the prisoner back to New Brunswick but had to leave in the afternoon without their man. They did, however, take the stolen car back to Saint John with them.

The escaped prisoner was reported still in Digby at the supper hour Saturday when he was nearly recaptured by jailer, George Humphrey, on Carleton Street. Later in the evening he was seen in the vicinity of Jackson's Crossing but again efforts to capture him failed as he took to the woods.

About eleven thirty Saturday evening a resident of the Tebo Road (Digby Neck upper cross-road) reported someone at tempting to get into his barn. He stated when he went out with a flashlight the man ran off into the nearby woods. It is felt this was the escaped prisoner.

An extensive search is being carried out by police in all areas of the county and a general search alarm has gone out. It is thought Wright, who has lived in Ashmore and the North Range area, might be hiding out in the district. Early reports connecting the theft of a car in Annapolis Saturday night with the fugitive have been discounted as reliable reports place the wanted man still in the Digby area after this car was reportedly stolen. The car was later ditched at Bedford and the driver made his escape.

Wright is described as about five feet ten inches in height, weighing about 160 pounds. He is light complexioned and has rather sharp features. When last seen he was wearing a red check mackinaw and was bare headed. He has rubber lumberman boots on his feet.

It is understood the wanted man was born in the North Range area and has lived in the Bear River and Weymouth areas.

C.G.I.T. Affiliates

The Flamingo C.G.I.T., under the leadership of Mrs. A. J. Dillon, affiliated with the Grace United W.M.S. at the regular church service on Sunday night. World Friendship Badges were presented by Mrs. James Brooks, president of the Grace United W.M.S., and Mrs. Elton Arnold, treasurer of the Grace United W.M.S., and also of the Annapolis Presbyterian, accepted a gift from the girls. Those from the C.G.I.T. who took part in the service were Jane Purdy, Evelyn O'Neill, Elizabeth Morrell, Leila Clayton, June Hawkins, Sheila VanTassel, Linda Ellis and Mrs. Dillon.

The church was filled to capacity on Sunday morning when Family Sunday was observed at Grace United. A special feature of the service was a rendition of "The Lord's Prayer" by the junior choir under the leadership of Miss Constance Kirkpatrick and Mrs. Gerald Wilson. The junior choir also sang "Children of Jerusalem" and the senior choir rendered a "Mother's Day" selection.

A sermon in keeping with Family Sunday was delivered by the pastor and In Memoriam flowers added greatly to the beauty of the church for the occasion.

Get Lessons On Pruning

K. N. Jankov, Department of Agriculture, Truro, gave members of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society practical lessons in pruning shrubbery and trees on Friday evening when they visited the gardens of Mrs. Louise Stevens, Mrs. H. J. Warne and Miss Mildred Carty.

Following the tour of the gardens Mrs. Kenneth Baskin was hostess to the Society at the home of Miss Mildred Carty when Mr. Jankov gave other helpful gardening suggestions and the regular business was conducted.

Plans were completed for the plant sale to be held on Saturday.

Reports on the work started on the plot near the approach to the C.P.R. wharf were given. The plot had been bulldozed and made ready for harrowing and seeding. Plans were also made for a small rock garden and the planting of shrubbery. On advice of Mr. Jankov it was decided to obtain a number of spruce trees as a background to the plot nearest the Admiral Digby Well. Mrs. H. L. Nichols reported that a Nova Scotia flag would be provided by the Nova Scotia Bureau of Information.

The Horticultural Society made plans to raise forty dollars to donate to the Digby Firemen's gardening project at the D.A.R. station, but decided to dispense with any thought of beautifying road signs this year in view of the fact that the project started between the Cannon Bank and C.P.R. wharf was of considerable size and would demand a good deal of effort.

John Russell, who presided at Friday's meeting, thanked Mr. Jankov for attending the meeting and bringing valuable information.

Point System In Operation

Nova Scotia's "Point System" for drivers of motor vehicles is now in operation.

Its purpose, as explained by E. S. Campbell, Registrar of Motor Vehicles, is to make driving conditions safer by removing from the highways, for an appreciable period of time, those drivers who persist in committing violations of the Motor Vehicle Act.

Mr. Campbell pointed out at least 70% of all highway accidents are directly caused by some action of a driver and this action usually involves a violation of the law. It is towards these law-breakers who, by their actions, endanger the lives of other people upon the highways, that the "Point System" is aimed. Through its operation, an attempt will be made first to improve the driving habits of violators. If this fails, the system then provides for suspension of their driving privileges.

Whenever a driver in Nova Scotia is convicted of an offence involving the use of a motor vehicle, notice of this conviction is sent to the Registrar of Motor Vehicles. Points are then assigned against the driver if the conviction is for one of the offences included under the "Point System." These of (Please turn to page 10)

40th ANNIVERSARY OBSERVED

The Gamma 4-C group of Canadian Girls in Training entertained the Explorer group at the home of Mrs. Ken Hankinson on Friday afternoon, the occasion being the 40th birthday of the C.G.I.T.

The afternoon was opened by a lively sing-song and followed by an address of welcome by the president, Joan Thurber. Shirley Weir led the group in worship and then the afternoon finished up with games and refreshments, including a birthday cake decorated in white and blue.

DEEP BROOK HOME & SCHOOL MEETS

The May meeting of the Deep Brook Home and School Association was held on Monday evening with the president, Mrs. M. Nichol, presiding. A quiz, "Know Your People," was followed by an interesting talk by Rev. F. Miller on the relationship between home, school and the church.

Four members from the Cornwallis Association were guests. Refreshments were served.

Plan Valley Route Campaign

Ambitious plans to promote the tourist business in the Annapolis Valley area were discussed at a special meeting of the Tourist Committee and the Executive of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, held last week at the American House in Middleton.

James P. Richards, President of the A.V.B.T. presided over the meeting of the executive, while Howard Walker, chairman of the Tourist Committee, headed the tourist meeting.

It was decided to proceed with plans to have a sign erected in Yarmouth stressing the advantages of the Valley Route to tourists arriving in Nova Scotia via Yarmouth. This sign will emphasize the beauties of the Annapolis Valley, the famed "Land of Evangeline" and will outline the tourist attractions of the Valley.

John J. Brittain was appointed to secure estimates on cost of preparing and erecting a suitable sign and also to make arrangements for a site for the sign at Yarmouth.

Preparation of strip maps of the Valley route was also authorized at the meeting. Proofs of these maps were submitted showing points of interest on the route and giving information valuable to visitors to the area. These maps will be distributed widely, it is understood, in the United States and to visitors on their arrival in the province.

Dr. Longaker Addresses Children's Aid

There are many kinds of treatment available for children with emotional problems. Dr. William D. Longaker, chief psychiatrist of the Digby Clinic, told the Children's Aid Society of Annapolis at its annual meeting last week. The Digby Clinic has staff and facilities for play therapy, psychological testing and counseling with parents and others, he said, adding that about fifteen percent of the Clinic's patients are children.

Dr. Longaker also outlined the ways the Clinic is expanding its services and mentioned that it is now open to residents of Annapolis County as well as residents of Digby and Yarmouth. He hoped individuals and groups in Annapolis would feel free to help support the Clinic. One way in which this is already being done, he stated, was through the Annapolis representatives on the newly formed Advisory Board for the Clinic.

The meeting was held in the Annapolis Community Centre and included a business session on the Association's yearly activities. Refreshments were served following the meeting.

Celebrates Birthday

Miss Gertrude Dunn, Lansdowne, celebrated her 83rd birthday on May 16. Miss Dunn enjoys good health and when not busy with her housework her time is occupied with reading. She spent the winter with her brother, Ralph Dunn, and Mrs. Dunn, also of Lansdowne.

DIGBY RED CROSS IS ACTIVE IN WELFARE

Red Cross assistance in response to various local appeals for help was reported at the May meeting of the Digby Red Cross Branch held at the Court House last week. Both the Welfare and Sickroom Loan Committees had participated in this work which covered a wide range of cases, as follows:

5 cartons clothing provided for family of 10; clothing for 3 children provided at request of Welfare Department, also bedding; 2 pairs pyjamas supplied to patient at Roseway Hospital; men's clothing provided for patient being transferred from Digby Hospital to V. G. Hospital; wheelchair secured for patient at Marshalltown by Red Cross request to Polio Foundation; loan of 1 pair adjustable crutches; continuation of loans of 2 gatch beds, 2 standard hospital beds, 2 wheelchairs, 3 pairs crutches.

The Digby Branch President, Dr. T. W. Hodgson, also reported on the request from a Digby County resident for an artificial limb, the cost of which would be $300. The N. S. Division of Red Cross was reported to be willing to provide half this sum if the local community or an organization would provide the other half. This was reported to be under consideration.

Mrs. George Winfield expressed the thanks of the Welfare Committee to Delbert Forrest for his assistance in building a storage closet for the used clothing collected by her committee. Further thanks were expressed for many recent donations of clothing, including a large box from the high school girls, and also special thanks to Mrs. James Warrington for the gift of a sewing machine.

Mrs. Ralph Berwick's report of the Ways and Means Committee showed receipts of $29.33 for March and April, the sum of $10.95 having been raised by the weekly Ten Cent Teas. Bills for advertising, transportation and refreshments were presented for the recent Blood Donor Clinic and the Treasurer, Mrs. B. H. Ruggles authorized to pay to patient at Roseway Hospital; passed for a bolt of flannelette purchased by the Women's Work Committee for layettes for local use.

Mrs. H. M. Warne, reporting for the Financial Campaign, stated that total returns for Digby Municipality now stood at approximately $3,350, with one or two canvassers yet to hear from. Digby town, under the chairmanship of Edgar Chan, had made a splendid showing, with a total of approximately $900, representing an increase of almost $200 over last year. Included in this amount was the sum of $57.78 raised by Mrs. Enos VanTassel at a card party, and thanks were extended both to Mrs. VanTassel and to St. Patrick's Church for giving the use of their hall for the party. It was hoped that the campaign could be finalized at an early date when a full report would be given.

To Regulate Parking At Station

Thoughtless parking of vehicles in the DAR station yard here, causing considerable inconvenience to patrons of different departments of the railway, has made necessary the establishment of strict regulations governing the parking of vehicles in this yard, which is the property of the Dominion Atlantic Railway, it was learned here this week.

It is understood that on numerous occasions heads of different railway departments have had to track down individuals who thoughtlessly parked their cars in back of some customer's car, locked it and strolled away some times for hours. On other occasions it is reported cars have been left parked and locked in the station yard for as long as a week at a time.

Effective immediately new regulations will be put into force to take care of the situation. A time limit will be placed on the entire station yard for public parking. The time limit will be from 8 a.m. to 8 p.m. inclusive. One section of the yard will be reserved only for employees of the railway and another section will be marked "30 minute parking only" and will be reserved for the use of patrons of the railway, express and telegraph services when doing business with any of these departments located in the station building.

It is understood signs concerning the new parking regulations will be erected at the station yard as soon as possible and that the cooperation of local police has been assured in seeing that they are observed.

Clean-up — Fix-up Program Pays Dividends

Travelling today is easy. Whether by plane, boat, rail, bus or by one's own motor car, the ease of travel on generally good roads, has made tourists of varying degrees out of most of us. Most of us then, from experience, know just what is attractive to the tourist, what makes him tarry an extra day in a certain place or what makes him decide to move on quickly to another spot. Of course comfortable beds, good meals and entertainment are necessary if the tourist is to linger in any particular spot for any length of time but before he has a chance to try out the beds, the meals or be interested in entertainment, something else must attract the tourist. Undoubtedly, the beauty of a place is the first bait to lure the travelling public.

Digby town and county are most fortunate in that nature has provided for them the most essential of all tourist attractions — natural beauty. Beginning at the western end of the county, including The Islands and the Neck, and following along the high ways into Bear River, there is scarcely a continuous mile of road which does not afford beauty by nature. By-roads to the Fundy and Bay shores or to the lakes of the interior of the county provide additional beauty of scenery. What a pity to have the natural beauty of a town or countryside marred by untidiness or to miss an opportunity to supplement what nature has provided by failing to plant a bit of shrubbery or flowering plants to enhance the beauty.

A record number of tourists are expected to Nova Scotia this year. Digby is a landing place for travel from New Brunswick to Nova Scotia and with plenty publicity the tourists coming through on the Bar Harbor-Yarmouth Ferry will certainly include Digby in their touring itinerary. Digby town and points in the County are publicized both in an attractive booklet "Camera Tour" and in a new film "Identity" recently published by the Nova Scotia Bureau of Information. The Pines Hotel and Weymouth Board of Trade have already assured much publicity to attract the tourist here and the Digby Board of Trade have material underway. The Digby Board of Trade are making it easy for the tourist to find our fair town by erecting attractive and informative road signs and the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society have undertaken to beautify the grounds at the right of the C.P.R. wharf as seen by passengers travelling via Princess Helene. By cooperation of the local government representative, the Nova Scotia Bureau of Information and the Digby Pines Hotel a piper will be on hand to welcome the passengers disembarking from the Helene and to bid them bon voyage as they sail away. The Digby firemen have also taken on a beautification program at the D.A.R. station.

Much seems to be getting in readiness for the season ahead but everybody benefits in one way or another from the tourist industry in town and throughout the county and everybody can do something to further the industry through a beautification program. Each one can have a hand in attracting the tourist, making him want to stay longer or return again. Each one can do something about it in the next two weeks during the Clean-up weeks. Clean-up, Fix-up programs are designed not only to tidy up and fix up public property but individuals are requested to give clean-up, fix-up attention to their private properties as well. Just as a chain is only as strong as its weakest link, so the chain of beauty in a community can be marred by an untidy, unattractive link here and there in the setting. It takes the joint effort of all the citizens interested in the beauty and attractiveness of both public and their private properties to keep the country attractive to visitors. The effort, however, pays dividends to all.

While on the subject of tidy public property we should like to pay tribute to our industrious and energetic street cleaner, "Syd"—Eisener, who does a commendable job. We also suggest that the public can help in keeping the town attractive and clean by refraining from depositing wrappings, peels, and other refuse on the sidewalks.

Clean-up, Fix-up weeks are set aside for other reasons besides beautification. Unsanitary conditions are detected and health is protected, accident hazards are noticed and removed, fire hazards through faulty wiring or inflammable waste are eliminated and property is preserved by repair and protection. These are other dividends paid from a Clean-up, Fix-up program. Cash in on those dividends from May 14 to May 28.

A Most Worthy Cause

This Saturday, through the good offices of Zelma Rebekah Lodge, the Canadian National Institute for the Blind will conduct its annual Tag Day in Digby.

The objects of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind are to ameliorate the condition of the blind of Canada and to prevent blindness.

Such objects are indeed worthy and should commend themselves to all. Anyone who has had any contact with the work of this institute knows that the objects are truly indicative of the job being done by the institute to aid those who have been stricken with blindness and to aid in efforts made to cut down on the incidence of blindness.

There are sixty-six blind persons in Digby County who look to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind for service. The service given to these people and to thousands of other blind persons across Canada is made possible in great measure through Tag Days such as that being held on Saturday. In fact 75% of the funds of the Institute are secured through public support.

We therefore urge the people of Digby to respond generously on Saturday to this appeal for funds. Remember, the services of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind are limited only by your generosity.

Letter To The Editor

Digby, N. S.,
May 5/56.

Editor,
Digby Courier.
Madam:

Last summer many people in parts of Nova Scotia and parts of the U. S. A. were commemorating a period in history by the "Acadian Celebration". Two hundred years ago some French and British people were seriously concerned about the eviction of the Acadians.

Let us now seriously consider something that has its roots in history dating back about one hundred years and which has great significance today for both people of British and French descent. In 1858 the Treaties of Tientsin, China, were signed, and mostly concerned were the French and British and although the Russians and Americans were not in the so-called opium war at that time, these latter countries were on hand to profit by the French and British successes and thereby also obtained treaties with China. India was then a source for opium supplies. These six countries mentioned are countries of leading importance in the world today.

In 1858, after years of conflict with China because of closed Chinese ports and Chinese trading methods, the French and British forced China to a written agreement of certain terms, one of which allowed the shipping of opium into China, with the result that opium drug addiction in China grew to be a very serious national problem. This tragic circumstance was forced on the Chinese people in order that certain countries concerned could obtain large money profits through an evil traffic. This fact should have great significance to many people today when we consider the rights and wrongs of national behaviour and national desires. We now read and hear accounts where the drug traffic has started in Canada in real earnest, being pushed mainly by outside interests.

If Communist China has largely cleaned up the opium consuming problem in that country since taking over in 1949, that is certainly a great credit to those people; I have heard such is the case, but if this China would now be an exporter of opium and a pusher of the drug traffic in other countries — this would be certainly not good but evil.

Now what about communism in general and especially in our own country? We allow communism to organize under various names and give the communists almost full opportunity to work above ground and certainly they do all they can to work below ground as well. It seems to me that the common sense and proper policy regarding the making of any law should be to include laws forbidding the operation of any traffic or way of life that is detrimental or a serious threat to the welfare of any people, and this holds true in regard to anything where it is considered there is more to gain than loss by enforcing any such law.

We all know that world war or world peace is a matter of international concern and is being dealt with by a world council or an assembly of United Nations trying to enlist sufficient wisdom, strength and support to do a proper job for all.

Surely the drug traffic is a matter for international concern and please bear in mind that ethyl alcohol contained in liquor is a drug (according to science and experience of many persons) and the traffic of this liquor when used as a beverage has definitely proven to be a breeder for more serious drug traffic. Is it not so that the consuming end of the liquor traffic is a breeder of much that is undesirable, including run down conditions of any kinds including much sickness mentally and physically.

Thus, it seems evident to me that the problem for all nations the world over created by the liquor traffic, is a matter of international concern and should be considered and dealt with by the United Nations Assembly along with all drug traffic. I submit that it is only by full international cooperation that any drug traffic can be held to a minimum; this is so because of bootlegging from one country to another and liquor advertising transmitted and transported from one country to another.

Now what about the local situation in the various towns, cities and areas throughout the nations. It is here that the problem has its roots, otherwise there would not be any national and international problem. Each local district is responsible, and regardless of what our neighboring district does or has done, certainly we should choose to do what is best for the welfare and happiness of our own community no matter what some people on holiday think or want.

There is a truth of which some of us should be reminded at this time, and that is, when a certain percentage of people in a community develop a liquor-drinking habit or pattern it is very hard for them to rid themselves of liquor outlets whether they want to or not, because communities are, of course, made up of individuals, and too many individuals become addicted, which influences their vote. Surely we should do a better job of prevention in the first place so we won't have to do so much salvaging of human lives in the end.

Let us be prepared and sure to make the right choice if and when the time comes to vote. If we are going to live as reasonable and decent living humans capable of giving our best at all times, we must beware of interfering with Mother Nature by taking a narcotic or drugged beverage.

If we do not learn from available scientific facts and experience, then, among many other things, premiums on life insurance, fire insurance, car insurance and cost of all that we buy and receive in way of goods and services will always be and surely we all know why.

Certainly we should condemn and keep to a minimum this traffic, the effects of which contribute so much to destruction of property and human lives in so many ways. Please remember the scriptural fact that we shall always reap according to what we have sown; the acts of preceding generations shall continue to affect our own, likewise the good and the evil of this generation will fall upon and be an inheritance for our children. Truly this is a law of Providence, just and right. It is not meant that we consider only ourselves but also our neighbors and our children.

Vincent Snow.

The "Searched Earth" Season

This is the season when hundreds of persons look with fire in their eyes at the dead grass areas, and the trash and brush piles which collected from the past Summer and Fall. They must be burned!

The country side becomes streaked with columns of smoke rising and spreading over the land. The air is filled with the acrid odour of burning grass and brush piles.

There is fun around the bonfires, — a certain fascination akin to gazing into a fire-place on a cold winter evening. Bonfires almost hypnotize us into making them bigger and bigger, until flames and sparks are leaping high into the air. Suddenly, in some cases, they become uncontrolled ravaging monsters.

Many of such fires are confined where they can do no harm. Others are where they can burn only the property of those who set the fires. Far too many burn the property of others as well, — and the property of generations to come.

Between 1951 and 1955 there were 1256 forest fires in Nova Scotia. That was an average of 249 fires a year. Forty-seven per cent of these fires occurred between April 15th and the 24th of May holiday — fires which got out of control and required the action of suppression crews. Each of those fires which occurred within the past 5 years burned over an average of about 25 acres, to total 31,785 acres of "searched earth" in Nova Scotia. The average size of fires occurring in the high hazard period of April 15th to May 24th was 43 acres. Those in the fresh green interval of the last week of May and the first three weeks of June were kept fairly small at an average of 5 acres.

One means of reducing fires is provided by Part II of the Department of Lands and Forests Act, Section 93, which becomes effective at the beginning of the very dangerous period, April 15. Subsection (1) states:

"No person shall make, kindle or start a fire for the purpose of disposing of any slashings, edgings, sawdust or other refuse lumber or for the purpose of clearing land or other like purposes between the fifteenth day of April and the fifteenth day of October next following in any year, nor set up nor operate a steam or internal combustion engine within sixty rods of any woods at any time without first having obtained leave in writing from the chief ranger or sub-ranger."

Subsection (2) continues: "It shall be the duty of such chief ranger or sub-ranger, on being requested to grant leave to start such fire, or to set up or operate such steam engine, to examine the place at which it is intended to start the fire, or to set up or operate the steam engine and the adjoining lands and the timber trees and other property thereon, and to refuse the request and decline to grant leave, or to grant it only on conditions to be performed by the persons if, in his opinion it would not be safe by reason of the danger of fire spreading thereon or otherwise."

Subsection (3) is also of interest: "The obtaining of such leave in writing shall not be pleaded or given in evidence in any action for negligently setting fires, or operating a steam engine, or in connection therewith, or in extension of or mitigation of damages, but the absence of such leave shall in such action be deemed prima facie evidence of negligence."

Although the above legislation was designed to reduce fires, in the final analysis fire prevention is a matter of great caution on the part of individuals. Some of the early season fires result from burning land for blueberries. Actually old blueberry bushes and ground litter may be burned at any time from late Fall until Spring, when the ground is bare of snow and fire will run. Good burns have been obtained in mid-winter when the ground was frozen and snow-free. Blueberry fields bordering on woodland should always be provided with a fire-break, in the form of a plant-free strip.

Another common cause of these early fires is the sports fisherman. Come April 15th the rod and reel fans take to the lakes and streams. The neglected camp-fire, the carelessly tossed butt and match, at this time of the year, have put at least a temporary end to more than one good fishing spot by burning the needed forest cover, — and by fishermen!

Fire can be a wonderful servant, but is a ruthless master. Any one of the many fires which start, regardless of size, is capable of much destruction. In so many cases only the timely action of fire rangers and volunteer help keeps them small. But, every now and then, conditions are just right for something big; and we never know when this will be.

This could be when the cigarette butt is dropped, without making sure it is out; or when that camp-fire was not properly extinguished.

Fire Protection is a responsibility of the Department of Lands and Forests. It is a responsibility voluntarily and willingly accepted by many citizens also. Records of the Department clearly show that there has been a good accounting of equipment and manpower in suppressing forest fires. This is shown by the fact that average acreage burned per fire has been kept down while the number of fires has been increasing.

Fire Prevention on the other hand is the responsibility of everyone who approaches or enters woodlands with the means of making fire. If this responsibility is accepted by all, the number of fires will be reduced.

Prevent Forest Fires

No amount of equipment, no highly trained and organized army of men can prevent fires. They can suppress them. Prevention is a duty of the individual.

Remember, a small fire can at this time of year quickly reach a size when it may take human life, burn homes, livestock, wild life, valuable timber and the young growth of the future forest industry.

GENERAL TRAVEL

GENERAL

On Saturday evening, May 11, the Weymouth Youth Centre held a very successful social evening. The recreation program was prepared and directed by the youth themselves under the chairmanship of Garry Rice and Donald Theriault, assisted by Patricia Hankinson, Leota Lewis, Marie Bishop, Hazel Nickerson and Ronald Hogan. Members of the executive were in attendance and Mrs. J. D. Rice, chairman of the social committee for the Centre, expressed her appreciation and stated that the program was ably conducted and it was indeed encouraging to see how well the activities of the Youth Centre were progressing. Mr. R. S. Hallett, president of the Centre, also gave a few remarks complimenting the youth on their achievements. Following the meeting refreshments were served on behalf of the social committee and many thanks are extended to the following merchants for donations: Cecil Aker, of the Steadman Store; J. D. Rice, Jones Bottling Co., and Merle Mullen.

The work nights operating on Tuesdays and Thursdays are well attended. The youth are engaged in learning first aid, shellcraft, woodworking, leathercraft and auto mechanics. It is hoped the association will be able to further its activities and branch out in sports for the summer season. Mr. M. Hennigan of the Physical Fitness Branch of the Dept. of Education will be in Weymouth on Thursday, May 17th, when a meeting will be held at 8 p.m. in the Legion Hall to prepare for this new program.

SCOUTS MESSAGE

We are very pleased to note that the Boy Scouts of Weymouth are again holding meetings, having recently been re-organized with the Rev. John A. Carr, as acting Scout Master. There are 27 scouts at present and the aim is to have a full troop with a cub pack as well. This work is sponsored by the Weymouth Youth Centre, the following being the group committee: Merle Mullen, Curtis Hankinson, Clyde Cosman, Otis Mosher, and Wm. LeFort. A new district was formed at a meeting held last week at the Firemen's Hall, Digby, which it is felt, will strengthen this district. Merle Mullen, chairman, represented Weymouth on this new district formed.

Four meetings have been held under this new leadership. It is part of the program to make repairs on the Scout Hall as soon as possible and to have an active all-year program. The camp at New France, which, with its 100 acre woodlot, was a gift to the scouts from the late Mr. Sack, of New York and Weymouth North, is expected to be in use this summer and timber from the woodland used to repair the hall and for construction of other parts of a playground which are visions of the near future activities for Scouts.

H. & S. MEETS

The regular meeting of the Weymouth Home and School Association was held on Tuesday evening of last week with the president, Mrs. Vera Hankinson, in the chair.

Several delegates were named to attend the County Council on March 18, and a report was given by the president on the Digby Music Festival.

Victor Cardoza, Digby, was introduced by Mr. L. E. Hersey. He gave a most instructive and interesting talk on the House of Assembly and explained some of the recent bills passed. Mr. Cardoza said that he felt that the public should know more about politics, that our political system should be studied more in schools and in adult organizations. He complimented Weymouth on their outstanding efforts in the recent music festival and said that one of his dreams is to have a speech festival run along the same lines.

Following his address, Mr. Cardoza was thanked by Albert Jones and Mrs. Beale Hankinson on behalf of the Home & School, and a very interesting discussion followed during which Mr. Cardoza was asked questions regarding the workings of the government and some of the bills passed.

C.G.I.T. GROUP ENTERTAINED

Mrs. R. E. Tower and her Explorer group entertained the C.G.I.T. on Friday afternoon. Chief Explorer, Helen Marshall, was in the chair, and worship was conducted by Diane DeLong.

Following the regular business a graduation service was conducted by Mrs. Tower, during which, Diane DeLong and Helen Marshall were graduated into the C.G.I.T. Nadine Armistage opened the service by singing "Jesus Loves Me," and the graduating members gave their pledge and purpose to fulfill the duties of a Canadian Girl in Training.

Pat Hankinson welcomed the girls into the C.G.I.T. and the service was closed with the hymn, "Just As I Am."

Following, Mrs. Ken Hankinson, leader of the C.G.I.T., gave a few words of welcome to the girls. Games were played and delicious refreshments served by the hostess, Joan Thurber. We are sorry to report Mrs. George Fielding and Mrs. Dan Hankinson on the sick list this week.

You get so much more for so little more in a CHRYSLER

When you first take the wheel of this flawless motorcar, you sense that here is perfection.

Like so many discerning motorists, you will discover unequalled motoring pleasure in the handling ease and surge-ahead power that a Chrysler provides. Merely touch a button, step on the gas, and you're off. And this superlative motorcar demonstrates the engineering superiority for which Chrysler has long been famous. Chrysler, for instance, has increased its stop-power with new centre-plane brakes, to keep pace with its V-8 "go".

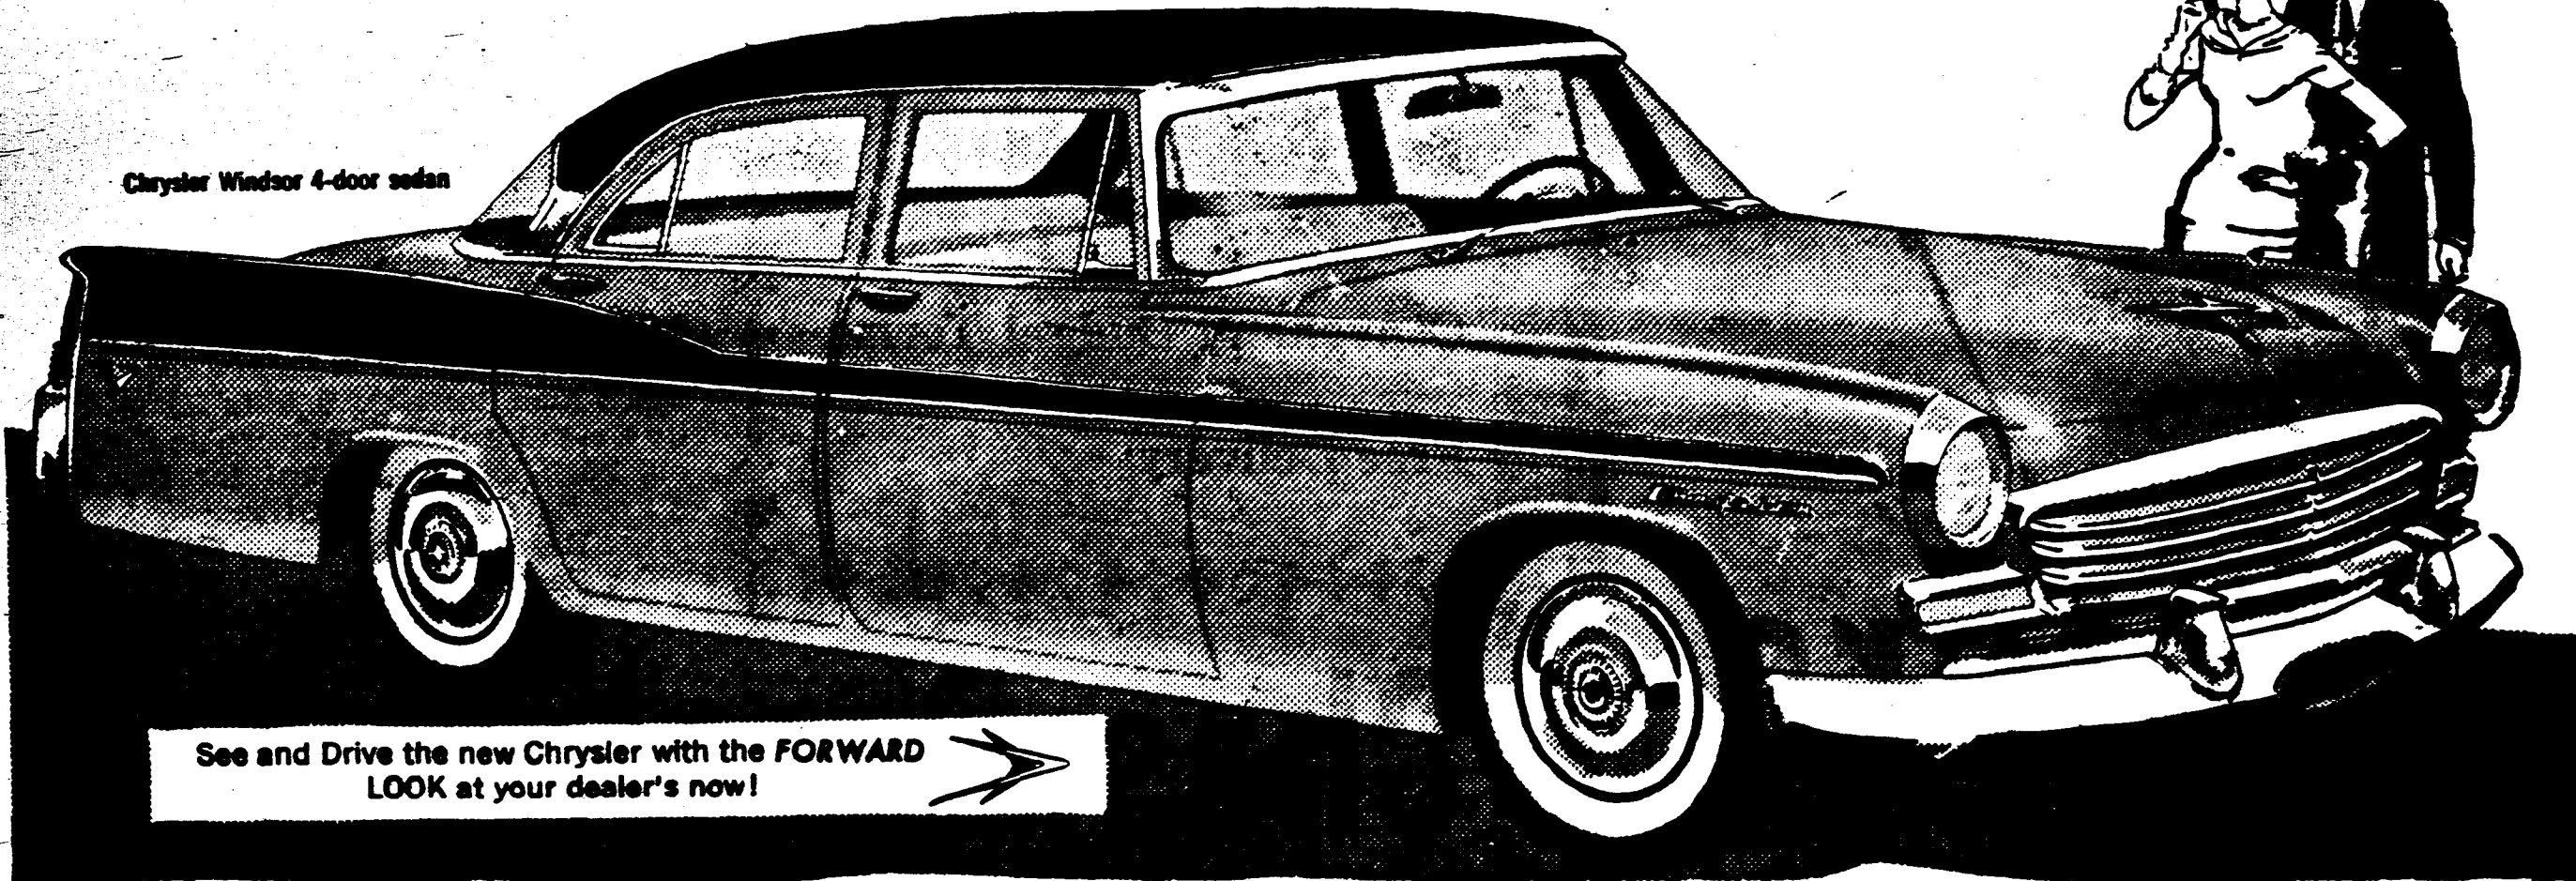

Although there are many such features that distinguish a Chrysler, its worth cannot be determined by performance alone. The better measure, we think you'll agree, is the rich satisfaction you get when you own a Chrysler.

Visit your dealer soon. You'll be pleased to discover how little it costs to get so much more in a Chrysler.

THE NEIGHBOURHOOD CLUB MEET AT THE HOME OF THE PRESIDENT, MRS. MARY FOUNTAIN, ON WEDNESDAY EVENING.

The Neighbourhood Club met at the home of the president, Mrs. Mary Fountain, on Wednesday evening. The evening was spent in making cancer dressings. Since February 8th 1400 dressings have been made and packaged; 800 have been dispatched to provincial headquarters and 400 to local out-patients.

Collectors for the Cancer Drive, Mrs. Oakley Potter, Mrs. Carl Nichols, Mrs. Cleveland Jefferson and Mrs. Borden Fountain, wish to thank all for the generous response to this worthy cause, resulting in $70.50 cash collected with a membership of 51.

Fishermen who begrudge the effort involved in catching live crickets for bait can buy a quart of them, by mail, from a Georgia cricket farm.

We learn that it takes fifteen days for cricket eggs to hatch, eight weeks for the insects to grow to full size. We note, too, that the breeders where they live about in 85° temperature, keeping up chicken mash, are made of aluminum. But we confess we're not too surprised. It simply means that this busy metal has found still another use in the busy housing industry — this time providing clean, warm, pleasant quarters for aristocratic crickets. You see aluminum everywhere these days!

If you take a coil spring and step on it, it's obvious that the further you press it down the further it will jump when you let go.

Much the same thing happens when the piston of an automobile engine compresses the mixture of air and fuel into a tight little space in the cylinder before it is burned. In the past few years, automobile engines have been compressing the fuel-and-air mixture tighter and tighter (therefore being called high-compression engines) and we have heard more and more about compression ratios.

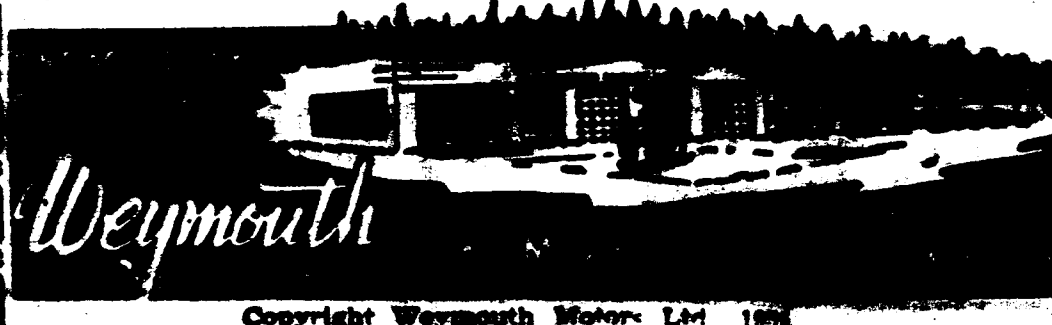

Eight years ago the average compression ratio in our cars was 7 to 1. Each seven cubic inches of air and fuel was compressed into one cubic inch before the spark plug ignited it. This year, the average is closer to 9 to 1.

This increase is important because high-compression engines give more power from a pound of fuel than low-compression engines. A high-compression engine gives more pickup and greater speed but at the same time offers the seeming impossibility of greater economy too.

Compression becomes important when it comes time for spring check-up. For if you have sticky valves or piston rings or leaky gaskets or several other faults, the car will lose the advantage of the compression the builder designed into it. You'll be wasting the power of today's high-octane gasolines designed for high-compression engines.

So a fundamental part of the spring check-up we'll give your car is a compression test. It will determine whether compression is up to par and whether compression in each of the cylinders is pretty well equal. You'd be amazed how much you can tell about a car from a compression check.

fence, and the number of points assigned for each, are indicated in the following table:
Careless and imprudent driving ..... 6 points
Failing to stop at accident and render assistance ..... 6 points
Speeding in a thirty-mile zone or where there is a posted speed limit ..... 4 points
Passing where vision is obscured ..... 4 points
Failing to report an accident ..... 3 points
Speeding outside of a thirty-mile zone or where speed limit is not posted ..... 3 points
Any other offence involving the use of a motor vehicle in motion ..... 2 points
Parking where view is obscured ..... 2 points
Operating a motor vehicle without adequate brakes ..... 2 points
Any other offence involving inadequate, prohibited or poorly maintained equipment ..... 1 point

Points are assigned only following actual convictions in court and are in addition to, and apart from, any penalty which the court may award. They remain upon the driver's record for a period of twelve months. When twelve months have passed, following a conviction, any points assigned as the result of that conviction are deleted from the record.
If, within a twelve month period, four points are entered on the record of a driver, the Registrar of Motor Vehicles sends that driver a warning letter, calling his attention to the points against him and advising him to improve his driving habits.
When 6 points or more have been acquired, the driver concerned is sent a notice to appear before the Registrar or an Examiner for an interview. During this interview, every effort is made to impress upon the driver the danger of his driving habits and to induce him to improve. Any person who does not appear for an interview when required, or who fails to co-operate in that interview, may have his license suspended until such time as he does appear and co-operate with the investigating officer.

If, in spite of warning letters and interview, a driver acquires ten points within any twelve month period, his license or driving privilege is suspended for a period of six months; he must return the license to the Motor Vehicle Branch; and he may not legally drive or apply for restoration of license until the six months have expired.
The "Point System" does not conflict with legislation which calls for mandatory revocation of driving privileges following conviction for offences under the Criminal Code. It supplements it and awards points for conviction following other offences, under the Motor Vehicle Act.
The system provides for attempts to improve the driver. If these attempts fail, it provides for his removal for six months, from the highway. It will, where suspension of license occurs, add to the punishment of the guilty; but, in doing so, it will make the highways safer for all who use them with care and with respect for the law.

SATURDAY 19th IS FOREST FIRE PREVENTION DAY IN NOVA SCOTIA

It takes a lot of matches to make a cord of lumber, but one will destroy millions of dollars worth of forest. Last year 1,000,000 match drops were found and you've got on an average of five on your hands.

Yes, you can save a forest. First, don't drop a match or cigarette butt down that cigarette butt, or anywhere else. And it's so hard to prevent it. At least that's what the records show. Between each year, Nova Scotia loses acres of timber when folks have found it too hard to blow out the match, or to put out a cigarette on the campfire.

Are you going to be one of this "Awful squad" this year?

KEEP FIRES AT BAY - EVERY DAY

Remember, Saturday has been declared FOREST FIRE PREVENTION DAY and it comes in the middle of the worst period of the year. If you're taking to the woods this weekend, please, please, please be extra careful.

And remember: it can rain all night but by next morning the forests can be all set to burn, if there's a flame in the wrong place at the wrong time. Don't YOU start that flame!

Make it a habit to break matches, stub cigarettes butts, douse campfires... make every day FOREST FIRE PREVENTION DAY IN NOVA SCOTIA.

COUNTY COUNCIL OF H. & S. MEETS HERE

Albert E. Jones was re-elected President of the County Council of Home & School Associations at the annual meeting of the Council, held at the Regional High School here last Friday.

Other officers elected included Mrs. Owen Irving, Past President; Mrs. Waters Comeau, 1st Vice-President; Mrs. J. Vian Andrews, 2nd Vice-President; Mrs. Ernest Powell, Treasurer; Mrs. C. Comeau, Corresponding Secretary; Mrs. Laurence Outhouse, Recording Secretary.

Committee conveners elected at the meeting included Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Publicity; Mrs. Eva Wendell, Guidance; Mrs. Burpee Campbell, Founders' Day; Mrs. Harley Amiraault, Program; Bernadine Manzer, Parents and Adult Education; Mrs. M. Gidney, Publications; Mrs. Ernest Seeley, Health; Mrs. Marie Harney, Art; Rev. E. C. Churchill, Music.

At the opening of the session a welcome to the delegates was presented by Baden Powell, President of the Digby Area Home & School Association. Laurence Hersey, of the Weymouth Association, responded.

In his report the President, Mr. Jones, stated he had visited five associations during the year and had spoken at four meetings. He stated a meeting would be held in Weymouth June 12th to discuss plans of the Weymouth Association to deal with the matter of the consolidation of schools in that area.

Mrs. M. Gidney, Publication convener, reported subscriptions to the Home & School magazine in the county had dropped during the year. She attributed this to several factors, one of which was the increase in subscription price for the magazine.

Reporting on Guidance, Mrs. Eva Wendell stated she had attended guidance discussion meeting and had spoken to one association during the year. She also stated she had arranged an exhibit of school work at the Digby County Exhibition and later at the school in Digby. She also drew the attention of delegates to a guidance exhibit on display in the auditorium.

A number of reports were presented at the meeting. In the Sandy Cove report it was stated this association had sponsored cod liver oil capsules for the school pupils, had conducted a recreational project for the young people of the community and also had been active in a number of other projects.

The convening circular for the annual convention of the Nova Scotia Federation of Home & School Associations, which is to be held in Halifax during August, was presented by Mrs. Laurence Outhouse. After some discussion it was decided the Council would forward the required fee for travel equalization. The President and Mrs. Eva Wendell were named to attend the convention.

Following the afternoon business session a most interesting panel discussion was held on the matter of the effect school consolidation in this area would have on the future of Home & School in Digby Municipality. Those taking part in the panel were Mr. H. P. Timmins, of the provincial federation H. & S., who acted as chairman; Mrs. J. M. Wallis, A. E. Jones, Rev. E. C. Churchill and Mrs. Eva Wendell.

During the panel many provocative points were brought forward. Mr. Jones was of the opinion consolidation would result in a strengthening of Home & School in the County. He said what the future would mean for the organization in the County was up to the members and stated the proposed consolidation presented a great challenge to members of Home & School in this area. He said he was of the opinion the small association in districts where there would no longer be a school would of necessity disappear and said he felt this would result in a strengthening of the organization in the municipality.

Mrs. J. M. Wallis said she felt Home & School associations must continue in the small communities as they would still be called upon to perform a vital service both to the home and the school. There might be need, she said, to make changes in the program and procedure of these associations but they must still hold true to the aims and ideals of the Home & School. Even in communities where there were no longer schools, Mrs. Wallis said, there were still great services to be performed by a Home & School Association. Such an association could, she said, maintain a vital link between the parents and the teachers which might be lost in a large association serving only the whole of an area.

Rev. E. C. Churchill stated he was also of the opinion the small community Home & School Association should continue. He said it was not necessarily true that a small association numerically was a weak one. The H. & S. Associations in consolidated areas could serve to provide training in leadership and programming for the local community groups. There was a danger, he said, in the trend toward centralization that many things of vital importance to the small community would be lost. Opportunities for interchange of ideas, discussion of local community problems and other like matters within the local community itself would be lost if the local association disappeared, he said.

General agreements with the views expressed by Mr. Churchill and Mrs. Wallis was voiced by Mrs. Wendell, who traced the development of organizations through history. She said there was a feeling, when an association or an organization was a large one serving a wide area, that a segment of its membership was better qualified or in a better position to lead or operate it. Small groups, serving community areas provided better opportunities for larger participation by a greater number of the membership, she said.

In closing the panel discussion Mr. Timmins complimented the Council on the real interest they were showing in the matter of dealing with the problems posed by consolidation and said solutions to such problems could best be found through such discussion and consideration.

Supper was served to the delegates by the staff of the Fundy Light, under the leadership of Mr. Joseph Campbell.

The evening session opened with a sing-song, led by G. E. Myers, of Middleton, Past President of the Annapolis County Council.

Guest speaker for the evening session was Robert Swin, of Middleton, Regional Vice-President of the Nova Scotia Federation of Home & School Associations. Mr. Swin took as his subject, "The Importance of Education", and discussed this matter in a most interesting way, covering all aspects of the problem.

W.M.S. Meets

The Little River W.M.S. met recently at the home of Mrs. Wilfred Trask with the President, Mrs. Austin Denton, in the chair.

The meeting opened with the singing of a hymn, followed by a circle of prayer. The Scripture portion was read in unison and the devotional, taken from the Scripture lesson, was given by Mrs. Lee Trask.

Mrs. Annie Ingersoll read the "Prayer for our Homeland" and Mrs. Rupert Trask presented Home Missions in Review. Home Missions in the Maritimes was presented by Mrs. Clayton Denton.

A report on Baptist Work in Quebec was given by Mrs. Lyndon Collins and a duet "Mother's Prayers Have Followed Me" was rendered by Mrs. Bernard Denton and Mrs. Royce Elderkin. Part one of "In Pastures Green" was read by the members.

Escaped Prisoner Still At Large

Police search for Arthur William Wright, aged 23, who escaped from the county jail here on Saturday, May 12th, is still continuing. Early leads on the whereabouts of the escaped man have been tracked down but so far no real clue as to his whereabouts has been uncovered.

A province wide notice has been sent out on the wanted man although it is understood there is some opinion he is hiding out in the local area.

Anticipation High For Summer Season

What is thought will be one of the busiest convention seasons in years is anticipated by two Canadian Pacific summer resort hotels in the Maritime provinces, the Algonquin at St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, N. B., and the Digby Pines at Digby, N. S. More than 20 organizations will be holding early summer and early autumn meetings at the two hotels, before and after the height of the regular tourist season.

Among the more important conventions, which will draw thousands of delegates from all parts of Canada and the United States, are the Canadian Warehousemen's Association and the Northeastern Caterpillar Dealers Association at Digby Pines, and the Canadian Association of Equipment Distributors, the Investment Dealers Association and the Telephone Association of Canada at the Algonquin.

The Algonquin Hotel is scheduled to open May 28 with the four-day meeting of the Maritime Hospital Association and hardly a day will go by until July 8th without a convention group being at the hotel. The Canadian Association of Equipment Distributors will be in session June 1-4, followed by the Eastern Conference of Motor Vehicles, June 5-8, Rotary International, June 9-12, Investment Dealers Association 40th annual meeting, June 13-16, Maritime Automobile Dealers, June 17-19; Telephone Association of Canada, June 25-20; Mutual Life Assurance Co., July 2-5 and the N. B. Barristers Society, July 6-8.

The end of season conventions at the Algonquin start off with the Maritime Senior Golfers meet August 26-29, followed by the N. B. Medical Society, Aug. 30-Sept. 1, and the Engineering Institute of Canada, Sept. 3-7. The Algonquin Hotel will close for the season Sept. 8.

The Digby Pines will open its doors June 21 and the first meeting there will convene June 25 when the Maritime Wholesale Hardware Association holds a three day convention. The Nova Scotia Barristers Society will meet June 25-30 and the Canadian Warehousemen's Association will be in convention at the Pines from July 2 to July 5.

The Nova Scotia Golf Championships will be played over the Digby Pines course July 9, 10 and 11.

Late season conventions at Digby will start with the Atlantic Association of Broadcasters meeting August 22-24, followed by the Canadian Construction Association August 26-28, the Maritime Retail Lumber Dealers Association, August 30, Sept. 2 and the Savings and Investment Corporation, Aug. 29-Sept. 1. The Pines season will end with the meeting of the Northeastern Caterpillar Dealers Association, Sept. 6-8.

The third Canadian Pacific summer resort in the Maritime Provinces, Lakeside Inn, at Yarmouth, N. S., will open its doors June 9 to coincide with the celebration of Bluenose Day and will close again September 16 after the International Tuna Cup Matches are held at nearby Wedgeport, N. S.

Originally the Inn was scheduled to open June 23, but the change was made at the request of the planning committee for the Bluenose Day celebrations. Mr. Margeson pointed out. The resort will remain open following June 9 but no meals will be served until June 23. An opening dance, sponsored by the Yarmouth I.O.D.E., will be held June 22 to inaugurate the resort season.

An innovation at Lakeside Inn this summer will be the inauguration of the European Plan, where rooms and meals are charged separately.

Lakeside Inn has long been a haven for big-game fishermen from all over the globe who visit this area for the famed bluefin tuna fishing at nearby Wedgeport, N. S.

The rewards of duty are not rest from labour, but greater tasks. — Follen.

Kiwanis Club To Sponsor Circus

The Digby Kiwanis Club will sponsor Christiani Bros. three-ring circus on its appearance in Digby on June 18th, it was learned here this week. The internationally known circus, which features two hundred and fifty wild animals and sixteen elephants, will play at Larche's Field which over the years has been the site for quite a number of circus performances.

According to a spokesman for the Digby Kiwanis Club, the club will get fifty percent of all money paid for tickets sold by members of the club so a real effort is being made by the club to sell as many of the circus tickets as is possible. Proceeds received by the club from the circus performances will be used to finance the crippled children's project being carried on by the Digby club and other worthy projects of the club.

It is understood the Christiani Bros. Circus comes to Digby highly recommended by community, church and service groups as a first class family type entertainment. No games of chance are carried on by the circus nor are concessions for such things allowed to operate. Features of the performances are animal acts and highly renowned all-star circus performers.

The circus will arrive in Digby on Sunday, June 17th, and will head for the circus field. Performances will be held on Monday, June 18th.

Rural Life Sunday

Special services were held on Sunday at Grace United Church in observance of Rural Life Sunday. Rev. James Brooks, the pastor, spoke on the theme "And a New Earth", taking his text from the book of Isaiah. He drew the attention of the congregation to the greatness of God's part in the growth of the gardens of the earth and of God's great part in the salvation of the people when they open their lives to receive Him.

The United Church of Canada has 1761 of its 2691 pastoral charges in rural or semi-rural areas, containing 313,000 families.

The rite of Baptism was administered on Sunday morning to Heather Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil VanFassel, and to Michael David and Elena Carol, children of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Hoare. Charles Pitt sang "Blessed Be The Name of the Lord." Flowers in the church were ## PRESENT FASHION SHOW AT D.R.H.S.

One of the most delightfully interesting events to be staged in the auditorium of the Digby Regional High School this year was held last Thursday evening when the students of the Home Economics classes presented their annual Fashion Show.

The stage of the auditorium was beautifully arranged for the event under the direction of Mr. R. B. Powell of the Manual Science department. Stage properties were provided by Rodger Furlong. The musical setting for the fashion parade was provided by Miss Helen Kirkconnell and the student participants were made up by Miss Theresa Gerrior.

The program featured styles for all ages of students from fashions for the wee folk through to young ideas for a modern's wardrobe. All of the work presented was done by the various age and grade groups in the Home Economics classes and the excellence of craftsmanship, quality of design and poise of presentation evoked great admiration and applause from the large audience which attended the show.

Examples of work done by sewing beginners were presented by Grade VII; Grade VII presented a lovely array of blouses and skirts and cotton dresses were displayed in a variety of designs and styles by the students of Grade IX. Some really eye-catching examples of smart styles for school or date time were presented by the students of Grade X and young ideas for a modern's wardrobe were paraded by the students of Grade XI.

During the program a vocal solo was presented by Sheila Harris. Sandra Franklin presented a piano solo and a vocal duet was rendered by Sheila Harris and Judy Marshall. The senior choral group presented a chorus number, "Spin, Maiden, Spin". Commentator for the evening was Donna Logan, and piano accompanist was Bonnie Wright.

On display at the Fashion Show was the Annapolis Valley West Students' Congress Cup for Home Economics, won for the second successive year by the Digby Regional High School.

Also on display were Home Economics notebooks and samples of hand made articles and garments. Two copies of the new Fundy Light were also displayed as was the new textbook on Home Economics, written by Mrs. Campbell and Miss Davidson.

To Distribute Historical Drawings

Folios of drawings by the Canadian historical artist, C. W. Jeffreys, are being prepared from selected sketches in the Imperial Oil collection for distribution to Canadian schools as aids in the teaching of history.

The first of these folios has now been prepared and is being distributed to schools in the Atlantic provinces. Each issue will be devoted to a particular subject of Canadian history and the first folio is entitled "The Discoverers and Explorers in Canada".

The Courier acknowledges with thanks a copy of this first folio which is indeed attractive and well prepared. The illustrations have as their subject discoverers and explorers in Canada from 1497 to 1763 and are from the Imperial Oil collection of drawings and paintings of the late C. W. Jeffreys, the well known Canadian historical artist. The texts which accompany the illustrations are by Malcolm G. Parks, M.A.

The drawings of Dr. Jeffreys show marvellously fine craftsmanship. They also display the great scholarship of this distinguished artist who was a meticulous researcher into Canadian history. Dr. Jeffreys in his drawings took great pains to make them authentic. His delineations of the costumes, furniture, weapons and buildings of bygone generations are as true to history as the episodes many of his drawings record. Students of Canadian history can safely rely on them as records of the Canadian heritage.

Included with each drawing and the text which accompanies it is a short bibliography which is intended to supply the teacher with titles of some useful books on the subject. Altogether the portfolios should prove very useful aids in the teaching of Canadian history to the pupils of their schools.

Alms House Patient Missing

A search was started on Sunday for Vernon Thibideau, formerly of Ashmore, who is missing from the County Home at Marshelltown.

It is understood the missing man, who is in his early twenties, left the home some time Sunday afternoon and did not return. Authorities were notified and a search started.

Fond of fishing and hunting, it is thought Thibideau may have wandered into the woods in the area on a fishing expedition and a search along fishing streams is being conducted.

In memory of the late L. C. Carson and of David VarFassel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil VanFassel. Other recent in memoriam flowers were placed in memory of the late Mrs. David Ellis and Mrs. Floyd Snow.

Dr. Harold Burgess Sabean, of New Tusket, who received his degree in Medicine at the annual spring convocation of Dalhousie University on Thursday, May 17, 1956. ## About This and That

Billion Dollar Forests Menaced

With the commendation of Prime Minister St. Laurent, National Forest Conservation Week will be under way from May 19th to 26th in most regions of Canada.

The Canadian Forestry Association, Montreal, terms the event "the two-billion-dollar week" in recognition of the annual contribution made by Canada's forests to national income. Warning that this immense 'forest dividend' is made insecure by the prevalence of forest fires, the Association says: "Since the timberlands are now Canada's biggest paymaster, the four-thousand forest fires set by public carelessness each summer threaten the wage-earner and the expansion of forest industry. A large majority of those using woodland areas for recreation or work are fully alert to the danger of conflagration, but a considerable minority continues to make a bonfire of the timberland domain. Less than two minutes of precaution is required to extinguish a campfire, and ten seconds will snuff out lighted tobacco, but the flaming consequences of neglect can create a blackened shambles.

"Last summer, one camper walked away from his cooking-fire which quickly grew into 75 acres of billowing smoke. Eight hours later, despite efforts of fire-fighters, 16,000 acres were engulfed. Another 48 hours and 70,000 acres had become an inferno. Within four days the bill for fire-fighting crews had reached $100,000, and a new barren wilderness had replaced a rich harvest-field of timber."

Scrapbook Gleanings

(From the Digby Courier nearly 50 years ago)

A couple of Couriers back we read where Miss Louise Daley, a bird enthusiast, saw Indigo Buntings in her back yard, rare birds to this part of the province. Below is an article taken from the Courier nearly fifty years ago of another bird enthusiast, Miss Daley's father. It reads —

"A Rare Bird
Mr. A. D. Daley has in his possession just received from B. Doane, taxidermist, Yarmouth, a goose-eater recently shot by Mr. Wm. Weir at the south end of the town. This handsome bird is also known as a water pheasant, shadrak, fisherman diver and saw bill. Mr. Doane considers it a true representative of the second family of the sixth group belonging to the fourteenth order of the fifth class. Mr. Daley intends offering this rare bird for sale."

Speaking of feathered things, another item appears as follows: "Feathers Grown on Easter Hat"

The progressiveness that seems to be prevalent in Marblehead at the present season has taken a new and strange turn. Mrs. Dora Blackford, well known in the lower part of the town as a song writer and composer, has created no little excitement in the near neighborhood of her home, 34 State St., where, with several interested neighbors, she is watching quills in her hat grow into luxuriant maribow feathers.

According to a statement by Mrs. Blackford the story goes as follows: the hat was purchased in February and was decorated with a quite modest appearing group of quills, but after wearing it about two weeks, Mrs. Blackford discerned a small fuzz or down appearing all over the quills. Neighbors were called in and the progress watched with intense interest. The feathers are now about six inches long and still growing. Mrs. Blackford has had the hat with its living ornaments photographed and has composed a song inspired by the growth of the feathers, entitled 'I'm Just Ahead of the Times'. The lady is quite fortunate, each time she wears the hat there are more feathers than before and as the feathers are of a choice variety the hat is becoming more valuable each day. The whole affair is considered a joke by many who are familiar with the story, but is declared by Mrs. Blackford to be an unsolved mystery. (Mrs. Dora Blackford is a sister to Mrs. Byron Outhouse, of Tiverton.)

Everyone is talking about the weather now and then —

"The Weather
We have had almost all kinds of weather during the past week. Last Friday night a north-east blustering snow storm blocked up the streets, delayed the trains on Saturday and interfered with business generally. Then we had several days of very good weather with fairly high temperatures for this season of the year.

Wednesday night an easterly wind was accompanied by a warm rain, followed by a southerly gale yesterday afternoon. The snow melted off rapidly and the big drifts caused freshets every where doing more or less damage to the streets and country roads, flooding cellars, etc.

This morning the weather is somewhat colder."

Do you know that conversation is one of the greatest pleasures in life? But it wants leisure. — William Somerset Maugham.

Four prominent laymen of the Diocese of Yarmouth were invested into the Knighthood of the Order of Saint Gregory the Great, third highest honor given to laymen by the Roman Catholic Church, in an impressive ceremony held in Saint Ambrose Cathedral, Yarmouth. Shown

Young Man with a Plan

One of these days, Fred's going to take over the farm. Meanwhile, he's planning, studying and working hard... learning right on the job.

Already he's learned a lot about modern farm management, and how a chartered bank can play its part in making farm living more comfortable, more profitable. He has found, for example, how useful the bank can be as a place to build up savings, to obtain credit, to seek financial advice and market information. He knows that the bank manager's door is open to everyone.

When you see a good-looking, well-run farm, chances are the farmer uses the services the chartered banks have built up for all Canadians.

Four Honorary Degrees At Mt. A. Convocation

Four native sons of the Maritimes, two of whom distinguished themselves in distant lands and two at home, were honoured by Mount Allison University at their spring Convocation last Tuesday afternoon when the 50th anniversary of the first award of certificates in engineering was celebrated.

Two honourees are engineers: Karl O. Elderkin, who received an engineering certificate from Mount Allison in 1915 and who in 1952, became vice-president and general manager of Bowaters Southern Paper Corporation to design, build and operate what is now the largest newspaper mill in the southern United States. The other is Charles Alexander Robb, who received an engineering certificate from Mount Allison in 1907 and retired recently as Professor of Mechanical Engineering at McGill University and chairman of that department, having previously served on the faculty of the University of Alberta.

Before joining Bowater's Mr. Elderkin, who is a native of Weymouth, N. S., managed for 11 years the Kraft Paper Mill of the Crossett Co. in Crossett, Arkansas. Previously he had served the pulp and paper industry in Irons Falls, Ont., Liverpool, N. S., and Cornerbrook, Nfld. In March, 1955, at its New York meeting he became the president of the Technical Association of the pulp and paper industry of the United States. The Bowater's southern mill, which is located at Calhoun, Tenn., has an annual capacity of 130,000 tons of newspaper and 50,000 tons of pulp. The company states: "Long versed in management of paper mills in Newfoundland and later in the south, he (Mr. Elderkin) helped to shape the Calhoun plant from the first conference on design at the offices of the consulting engineers."

An innovation at the plant credited to Mr. Elderkin is an underwater storage pond "big as a football field... to store wood under water... designed to eliminate wood decay the pond is the first in the world," holding enough to supply the plant for six weeks. Mr. Elderkin continues as a member of the Board of Directors of the Crossett Co. His wife is the former Elizabeth Eleanor Lea, who graduated Bachelor of Arts from Mount Allison in 1916.

Their son, Richard Lea Elderkin, came from Arkansas to attend Mount Allison and has now followed his father into the pulp and paper industry, being presently at Three Rivers, Que.

Dr. Robb is a native of Amherst, N. S., and has engineering in his blood, being a grandson of the founder of the Robb engineering industry. He received an engineering certificate from Mount Allison in 1907, was graduated Bachelor of Science in mechanical engineering from McGill University, Master of Science from Massachusetts Institute of Technology and Doctor of Engineering from John Hopkins University. He joined the staff of the University of Alberta in 1912 and served there until 1939 except for service for the American Munitions Board in the first World War. From 1947 until his retirement in 1953 he was professor of mechanical engineering and chairman of the department at McGill University. During the second, as in the first World War, he used his special knowledge and talents to assist in Canada's war effort, having become chief of a division in the War Supply Board in 1939. Dr. Robb makes his home at Westmount, Que.

Of the two native sons who distinguished themselves at home, one, Chesley George Eddy, of Bathurst, N. B., extended a Bathurst business enterprise to two provinces, creating the largest planning mill and lumber yard in eastern Canada, and the other, Henry Davies Hicks, became premier of Nova Scotia.

Mr. Eddy's grandfather emigrated from Ireland in 1832 and with his brothers established his home in the Bathurst area. He himself received his early education at Bathurst and later at the Saint John Business College. In 1908, after a year with T. McAvity & Sons in Saint John, he returned to Bathurst to work for his father, a lumberman and wheelwright. In 1930 he became sole owner and manager of the enterprise which had become incorporated as George Eddy Company Limited. In succeeding years he laid the foundation of a large wholesale lumber business in central Canada and the United States. In 1927 he purchased a planing mill at Rimouski, Que., rebuilding it after a disastrous fire in Bathurst in 1945. This mill and lum-

Christian Family Sunday Activities

Christian Family Day was observed in the North Range United Baptist Church at two sessions.

Sunday morning was given over to the Church School when a special worship service was carried out. The theme used was "Bring up a child in the way it should go". The service opened with quiet music followed by the hymn "Tell Me the Stories of Jesus". The scripture reading was in keeping with the theme, as was the story, given by the Superintendent, "Christian Truths". Following class study period the girls chorus sang very sweetly "The Lord Is My Shepherd". The session closed by singing "Let the Beauty of Jesus be Seen in Me".

At the evening service, which was in charge of the pastor, Rev. R. Roosevelt Winchester, the Young People's group conducted the devotional, using the theme "God in the Home - Peace in the World".

After singing "Saviour Like A Shepherd", Robert Cook read the scripture lesson, Psalms 128 and St. Matt. 7.

Responsive prayers were led by Mrs. Harry Thomas, who also read the second scripture lesson. During the devotional two duets were very beautifully sung by the Misses Maxine Andrews and Lois Haight, "Precious Book" and "Tell Mother I'll Be There".

The pastor then brought the message of the evening to a large audience, using as his subject "What Parents Owe Their Children", stressing the value of the intangible, such as beautiful childhood memories that are carried throughout life, etc.

The church was tastefully decorated with spring flowers and potted plants.

Mrs. William Gill, of Somerville, Mass., is staying with her sister, Mrs. Dennis Dugas, for an indefinite time, having been called home due to the serious illness of her father, John A. Comeau.

her yard has a capacity of 15 million feet. In 1932 he bought the planing mill, sash and door factory of Spencer Bros. & Turner, Truro, N. S. More recently, now in association with five of his sons, he acquired Raworth & Mollins Ltd. in Queens County, N. S., and Douglas Hardware, Amherst, N. S. Since 1928 he has operated a hardware and builders' supply store at Dalhousie, N. B. As a memorial to his son, Capt. Donald Eddy, killed in Holland on active service in 1945, he built in 1947 the Donald Eddy Memorial Hall in Bathurst to serve the United Church and community as a recreation and sports centre. In 1950 the mayor and aldermen of Bathurst made him a Freeman of the town: "In recognition and appreciation... of his personal interest in the community and ever-ready support and backing of any and all projects for the betterment and improvement of the town and community." Mr. Eddy served for several years as a Regent of Mount Allison.

Premier Hicks graduated Bachelor of Arts with highest distinction from Mount Allison in 1936, taking honours in chemistry. The following year he graduated Bachelor of Science from Dalhousie University, entering Oxford University, England, as a Rhodes scholar, graduating Bachelor of Arts in 1940, Bachelor of Civil Law in 1940, Master of Arts in 1943. Returning to his home town of Bridge-town, N. S., after serving in the second World War he was elected to the legislature of Nova Scotia in the election of October, 1945. He has been twice elected by the alumni of Mount Allison to membership in the Board of Regents.

'Fancy Carriage' Dipsy-doodles Through Canadian Woods

New Multi-Jointed Pulp-Wood Vehicles Do Work Of "40 Men—8 Horses"

If you visit a pulpwood camp, this winter, chances are you'll see a vehicle the likes of which you have never seen before. The paper company forest engineer, who probably contributed to its design, will point with pride to this amazing conveyance that may soon replace the horse and the tractor for the speedy, economical transportation of pulpwood in the forest.

A "fancy carriage", about as expensive as the Continental automobile, this forest vehicle is known as the Mark IV Logger and is the result of many years of research and experiments by engineers of the pulp and paper industry.

Commenting on the placing of the vehicle in commercial use, W. A. E. Pepler, manager of the Woodlands Section, Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, stated that the machine will produce substantial savings in moving the pulpwood harvest from stump to road or river.

The Mark IV Logger runs on 6-foot tires over any kind of terrain, through streams and deep snow, over mud, ice, stumps and rocks, carrying a load of 1½ cords of pulpwood which it picks up and dumps mechanically. It is operated by one man.

Powered by a 85-H.P. 6-cylinder engine, the new industrial vehicle has a top speed of 36 miles per hour on the highway and of about seven in the bush. It has four speeds both forward and reverse.

According to Mr. Pepler, the chief characteristic of the Mark IV is the fact that it is both "articulating and oscillating", which means that its four wheels are always on the ground. Each wheel operates independently, the Logger having 4-wheel drive, 4-wheel brakes, and 4-wheel steering; thus it is under the complete control of the operator at all times. Its universal joint is located midway between front and rear wheels, permitting the front wheels to swing around at right angles with those in the rear. In other words the new vehicle is steered, not like a truck, but by means of its articulation.

Automation invades woodlands to help loggers move more pulpwood faster. In the above pictures, a new pulpwood vehicle called the "Mark IV Logger" shows its versatility in handling 4-foot spruce bolts, 1½ cords at a time. The amazing machine, designed by engineers of the Woodlands Section, Canadian Pulp and Paper Association, has 4 speeds forward and reverse, 4-wheel drive, 4-wheel brakes, 4-wheel steering, reversible driver's seat, two dashboards, two steering wheels, and a universal joint at dead centre for greater mobility. It runs like a spider over any terrain, as a standard truck while travelling, and as an industrial lift truck while loading (bottom left) or unloading (bottom right). It travels with less effort and at greater speed than its predecessors, the horse sleigh and the tractor skidder, with which it is shown in the top photograph. While loading, its dump body acts as a fork and claw.

Another feature which makes it so manoeuvrable is the fact that while dumping or loading, the operator faces the load. He just swings around on his reversible seat and uses a second dashboard, steering wheel, and clutch, as well as the lifting and dumping controls, all of which are behind him when he is driving the vehicle from stump to landing. Because of its remarkable "off-road" manoeuvrability, the Mark IV Logger is of special interest to the Department of National Defence which has followed its development closely.

Major contributors to the designing of the machine have been B. J. McColl, former member of the C.P.P.A.'s Woodlands Section staff, who acted as design engineer on the Logger; J. A. McNally and Ivar Fogh, of Canadian International Paper, Montreal; Julian Merrill, woodlands manager, Anglo-Canadian Pulp and Paper Mills Limited, Quebec City; all serving on the special committee headed by Gordon Godwin, woodlands manager, Ontario Paper Company, Toronto, Ontario. The five experimental machines now in use were built in Montreal by Bonnard Manufacturing Limited. The Logger is about to be manufactured commercially by the Clark Equipment Company, which is building a plant in St. Thomas, Ontario, for the purpose.

The development of the Mark IV Logger was financed by a group of pulp and paper companies. The new machine has been subjected to many months of tests, and its ability to reduce logging costs substantially has been amply demonstrated. Demand for the Logger is heavy both in Canada and in other countries.

Veteran Seamen Recall Wreck of Scotia 1 In '28

By ROLAND SHERWOOD

A meeting on the streets of St. John's, Nfld., 25 years after they first met under unusual circumstances, was the focal point of the remembrance of a wreck by Chief Engineer H. W. Teed, formerly of Halifax, and now of Pictou, who was one of the survivors, and Captain Isaac Barbour, of St. John's, who was rescuer.

While serving with the Canadian Navy, Chief Engineer Teed had occasion to be in St. John's not long ago. There on the street he met Captain Isaac Barbour, now 78, and retired from the Hudson's Bay Company. It was the first time they had met since 1928. Naturally they got together to talk over their first meeting on a wrecked vessel at Cape Chidley, Labrador.

It was in August of 1928, and Harold Teed was Chief Engineer aboard the motor vessel Nova I, when she ran foul of an uncharted reef and sank. There were seven men aboard the sinking vessel, and the rescue of the crew was made by Captain Isaac Barbour, of St. John's, then in command of the "Fort James", a sturdy Nova Scotia built motor-powered schooner. "Sometime on the way back," Chief Engineer Teed says, "the crew of the Nova I were brought together and a picture taken of the group. I can't recall this picture being taken, nor having seen a camera aboard. When I met Captain Barbour in St. John's, he brought out the picture, and there they were, all the boys remembered so well. There was Captain Myra, of Riverport, Lunenburg County, who has since passed on, and there was the pilot, Caphis Barbour, of St. John's, who has also died. There was Leon Myra, of Riverport, William Richardson, second engineer, of Halifax, and Everett Schmeisser, the cook, of La Have and now of Halifax, and the mate, I. T. Comeau. It was a thrill meeting the man who rescued us, and it was a thrill too seeing the picture of that crew of good fellows on that trip up North. The Captain was good enough to give me the picture and I was mighty pleased to get it as a memento of that wreck."

Chief Engineer Teed has been sailing for a good many years, going to sea at the age of 14 with his father in sailing vessels. There were many close calls on the sea in those days, and there were many dangers during his six years in mine sweepers, two boats and ocean-going salvage boats, but the one that sticks in Harold Teed's memory is the wreck of the Nova I on the Labrador.

The Nova I was a motor vessel owned by R. W. Hendry, of Halifax, and used in the coastal trade. At the time of her sinking she was on charter to a fur trader and was on her way north with supplies.

"It wasn't any fun to be wrecked in those waters," Chief Engineer Teed says, "and we were mighty pleased when we saw the 'Fort James' come in sight and stand by to take us off. It was a great relief to feel a solid deck under us again. That was my first meeting with Captain Barbour. I never laid eyes on him again for 25 years. I ran into him on the street in St. John's. We knew each other at once, and I tell you it was a nice feeling to meet the man who was responsible for getting us off the wreck."

Harold Teed served with the Canadian Navy during the Second World War, later going back for another three year term, receiving his discharge in February of 1954. He is now with the Department of Mines and Technical Surveys as Chief Engineer aboard the C.G.S. "Cartier", and makes his home in Pictou, where his little den has many mementos of his sailing days and visits to other ports. (Copyright.)

Miss Joyce Waterman, Bloomfield, was the weekend guest of her friend, Maxine Andrews, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Andrews.

When I call at your home during the next few weeks I will have only a few simple questions—the name, age and marital status of those living at your address. If you live on a farm, there are some additional questions about acreage, crops, livestock and equipment.

The information you give me will be kept in strict confidence. Every Census worker has taken an oath of secrecy. By Act of Parliament, the personal information gathered by the Census about individual Canadians can be used only for general overall statistics. It cannot be disclosed to any government agency or private organization.

Canada is taking count to keep up with her rapid growth. Census facts are required to meet and plan overall national needs—schools, public utilities, welfare services, farm and industrial production, employment.

CARS ARE MY LINE

by Ken Hankinson

As the warmer days return and a lot of us head outside for the weekend sport of washing and waxing the car, I often remind people of an old saying (which I just changed) that goes: "All that glitters is not chrome."

Actually, the shiny metal trim on cars is more often stainless steel than chrome. And the difference is important for they need two distinct kinds of care.

Stainless steel is a boon to motorists. It's solid all the way through, so it won't peel or chip, and you can use a mild kitchen cleaner like Bon Ami on it. With chrome, you should use only the cleaners designed for chrome.

The most important difference is this: On chrome, it's a good idea to apply a thin coat of wax, or light oil or vaseline to protect it from salts and acids. But stainless steel is at its best when it is completely bare. Waxing can be harmful to it for a flow of fresh air over stainless steel helps to keep its bright appearance like you see in restaurant kitchens.

On newer cars it may be hard to tell which is the chrome-plated steel and which is the stainless steel. On older cars it's not so hard—the stainless steel may get dirty, but it will never, never rust.

It's good to see people out waxing and polishing their cars. It's one of my favorite forms of relaxation and nothing does more to preserve a car's trade-in value.

Cars that have good home care, and regular mechanical care at our shop, are the kind we like to get as trade-ins at our lot. Featuring these well-cared-for cars has given us our reputation as the lot where extra-value used cars are found. And with the fun-season for driving coming up, we've got some real honeys in right now.

New Addition To Fleet

Shown above is the 65 foot scallop dragger, "Miss Clare", launched recently at Saulnierville. The Miss Clare becomes the latest addition to Nova Scotia's fishing fleet.

Built for Gay Fisheries Ltd., of Saulnierville, by A. F. Theriault & Son Ltd., the Miss Clare was launched on March 22nd and took her trial trip on April 12th.

She has a length of 65 feet overall, an 18 ft. 2 in. beam and 10 ft. 3 in. draft. She will carry a crew of ten men.

Designer of the Miss Clare was A. F. Theriault of Meteghan, River, who has designed many commercial fishing vessels. The vessel has a keel, frame and plating of heavy steel, plus a hull and plating of aluminum. Propulsion power comes from a model 35 Imperial Atlas Geisel engine having a 3-1 reduction gear and putting out 200 hp. at 1125 rpm.

Auxiliary engine is a one cylinder diesel which powers a 3 KW 32 volts generator, a Marine Products pump and a Quincy air compressor. The propeller is a Hyde 52 x 38 with a bronze 4 in. diameter shaft.

She has been outfitted at the Theriault boat yard and carries a No. 1352 winch, a Lunenburg stern bearing with a cutlass bearing and flax packed stuffing box.

The craft was christened by Miss Jeanette Saulnier, daughter of co-owner John Saulnier, and blessed by Rev. Father C. Longuey, Saulnierville parish priest. The vessel is owned by the Theriault family and will fish for Comau's Sea Food, Saulnierville. The vessel is equipped with radar and electronic equipment includes Loran, a 200 fathoms sounder, a Model 530X Direction Finder, and a 100 watts radio telephone.

She also has four steel welded fuel tanks holding 2,600 gallons of fuel oil.

The Miss Clare is the first of its type for the District of Clare and can be changed from scallop operation to ground fish without too much alteration. She will be skippered by Emile J. Theriault, Comauville, and will fish for Comau's Sea

To Preserve Historic Church

By M. Allen Gibson

The formal ending of the American Revolution, in 1783, marked the beginning of a new chapter in the story of the settlement of Nova Scotia. From the American colonies came Loyalists seeking a home beneath British skies. Disbanded soldiers, too, who had served England and were now being granted lands, came to Nova Scotia. New communities came into being in different parts of the province. Almost overnight, the population of Nova Scotia more than doubled.

Some of these newcomers found homes in the township of Clements and there, on a site overlooking Annapolis Basin and its cradling hills, they built their church. Timbers for the building were cut and hewn on the hilltop, on lands purchased in 1797 from Dowe Ditmars for "one pepper corn", a price that was later supplemented by five shillings. In 1795, Rev. Jacob Bailey, the Anglican clergyman at Annapolis, reported to his superiors that Capt. Ditmars and Mr. Palamus were two of the men most influential in building the church.

The building that was erected was built in the Norman style with an arched ceiling and round-topped windows. Fifty-two feet long and thirty-four feet wide, the church was saved from the look of bare austerity which might have claimed it by a small steeple. The builders worked with materials most readily available, their ingenuity being revealed by the fact that lime for plaster was apparently obtained by burning clam shells.

In imagination one can see again the Sunday scene of long ago. There are the settlers wending their way up the hill to their church and taking their places in the old square pews. One sees again the high sounding board above the pulpit and hears the music of the bass viol with which Squire Ditmars provided music.

Dutch was the natural tongue for many of those associated with St. Edward's in the early days. And so, for several years, it was the custom to open and/or close each service with a hymn sung in Dutch. The practise continued until only one man, "Old Conrad", remained to sing the praise of God in the heavy gutteral of his forebears.

The passing years were far from kind to the little church on the hill at Clementsport. Neglect and decay exacted such a toll that a new church was constructed and the old was left to the ravages of the elements. Finally, it seemed that the only course was to tear down the old building and mark its site with a monument.

Then it was that friends of the old church rallied to the cause. The rector of the parish undertook the work of restoration and the old building was restored to its proud appearance on the hill.

And still the work of love goes on. A committee for the preservation of the old church is working with rare consecration to insure that future generations will share with ours the inspiration of this building. Much has been done, but still there is much to do ere the old Loyalist church is protected and preserved for posterity.

Here is a tangible link with the past. The relics in the little museum, the antique furnishings, the old stones in the churchyard all bear the stamp of long ago. And memories linger here, too; refreshing memories of those of former generations who found restoration for the soul within these walls.

It is neither fair nor right, however, that the burden of saving the old church should be imposed upon a few. Such a work, of course, requires the efforts of a local group. But it also demands and deserves the enthusiastic assistance of all. The cost will not be great if many will share it. You, too, may help by sending your gift to Mrs. E. K. Eaton, Annapolis Royal, R. R. 2, Nova Scotia, or to the rector of St. Edward's. This is one part of our heritage that is still maintained by public effort, yours and mine!

We must not turn a deaf ear. We who take pride in the accomplishments of our forefathers can do them no greater honor than to preserve such a monument as this which speaks of a way of life, a mode of thought forever gone and symbolizes the faith on which our nation was built.

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gidney spent a Sunday recently visiting their son, Dick, at Roseway Hospital, Shelburne.

New D.A.R. Service

Shown here is the RDC-1, a streamlined, air-conditioned self-propelled rail diesel car capable of carrying 69 passengers. Cars similar to this will be used by the Dominion Atlantic Railway on its main line between Halifax and Yarmouth, via Kentville and Digby, when they are received from the builders, the Budd Company, later this summer. This speedy, new "Dayliner" service, the first of its kind in western Nova Scotia, will present a new concept in comfortable rail travel. The 90-foot cars, noted for their rapid acceleration and deceleration, can reach a top speed of 85 miles per hour.

Details of their schedule have not been made public yet, but it is anticipated that faster, more convenient schedules will be inaugurated, catering to both the through passengers making connection for western Canada and local passengers travelling between points on the Evangeline route.

It Was News Then (1914)

When World War I broke out in 1914, six sons of Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Campbell, of Weymouth, were among the first Nova Scotians to volunteer for active service.

They comprised one of the largest family groups to serve overseas in the Canadian Army. Two died in the field of battle. Recently, one of the two remaining survivors and the oldest of the brothers, Major Glidden Campbell, died quietly at his Weymouth home, far from the front where he had served with gallantry that was outstanding among the Canadian forces.

Major Campbell went into action as a Machine Gun Officer with Nova Scotia's 85th Battalion. At Passchendaele, in October, 1917, he led his "B" Company into some of the heaviest fighting of the war, wiping out more than a dozen machine-gun nests and capturing a pill-box single handed. Although severely wounded and a short time later blown into a shell hole, he carried on to the end of the engagement. Casualties were so heavy in the battalion that at one stage only three subalterns were left in the front line. Capt. Campbell (as he was then) at this stage took over command of the unit in action.

He emerged from Passchendaele as the 85th's sole company commander left in the field. Out of twenty-six officers who had gone into the line, twenty-three became casualties and thirteen of these were killed, along with one hundred and thirty-six other ranks.

For his bravery at Passchendaele, Major Campbell won the Military Cross. Later he was

Children's Aid Annual Held

The annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society of Annapolis was held at the Community Centre, Annapolis Royal, on Wednesday evening, May 9th. There were some 45 people in attendance, including Board members, foster parents and interested citizens. Mr. S. H. Coward, of Bridgetown, presided.

Mr. D. M. Armstrong, the Executive Director, in giving his report said that to his knowledge there was not a single court case in Annapolis County last year involving juvenile delinquency. He said the Society has 113 children under care at the present time and in addition some 15 children under supervision and receiving aid from the Society. Mr. Armstrong reviewed the work of the Society during the year and showed by concrete examples the worthwhileness of the Society's work to the community. Using the experience of some 30 years, the Society can show that the children taken under its care have, with few exceptions, become good citizens. Certainly the calls made on the Society continue and will continue.

Mr. Coward, the President, briefly spoke on the activities of the Board of Directors during the past year. He stated that some eight meetings have been held which, on the whole, were well attended. Mr. Coward headed the annual financial campaign and reported that over $3,000 was realized. Dr. D. B. Hemmeon, a Board member, commended Mr. Coward and the staff for the excellence of the work being done. He felt that Mr. Coward had been a most active president and given a great deal of his time and energies to the work of the Society. He felt that at no time has the Society functioned more efficiently and the work been carried on more harmoniously.

The Auditor's report was given by the Auditor, Mr. J. V. Payn, of Granville Ferry. He reported that a deficit of some $300 was incurred by the Society during the past year. He mentioned the amount spent by the Society on non-ward care and pointed out the necessity of a successful financial campaign. The speaker of the evening, Dr. William Longaker, of the Psychiatric Clinic at Digby, was introduced by Mr. Arthur Ritchie, of Middleton. Dr. Longaker gave an interesting address on the work that the clinic had been doing with the children. He also advised that if there was a community need the clinic might be prepared to extend its services to Annapolis County. A committee consisting of Dr. J. R. Kerr, D. M. Armstrong and another member to be named, was appointed to investigate the possibilities of working with the Psychiatric Clinic.

At the close of the meeting a sing-song was held under the direction of Mr. John Johnson, with Mrs. G. A. Blackie at the

Baptismal Service Held

Nineteen were baptized at Digby Baptist Church on Sunday evening by the pastor, Rev. E. C. Churchill. Candidates for baptism included ten from Digby, eight from Hill Grove and one from Halifax.

The combined choirs of Digby and Hill Grove were present and the anthem, "I Heard the Voice of Jesus" was sung.

Mr. Churchill spoke from the text, Titus 2, v. 7, "In all things show yourself a model of good works." He emphasized the power of influence and example and cautioned the Christian as to the example he set for others. Christian characters of the New Testament Church, he said, were held in their example and influence without being obnoxious.

Mr. Churchill is also preaching a series of sermons on the Book of Ruth at his morning services, using race relations as his topic for the coming Sunday.

Following Sunday evening's service the choir held a social hour when the Hill Grove choir were guests and Miss Helen Kirkconnell, who terminated her services as organist of the Digby Baptist Church on Sunday night, was presented with a gift from the choir by Mrs. J. W. Christie, President of the choir. A sing song and refreshments were enjoyed by all present.

Former Granville Woman Is 98

Congratulations and best wishes are extended Mrs. Susan Weatherspoon, a native of Granville Ferry, now residing in Banff, Alberta, who recently observed her 98th birthday.

Mrs. Weatherspoon, before her marriage, was Miss Susan Mills. The greater part of her life was spent at Granville Ferry where her marriage to W. Herbert Weatherspoon took place and where her two daughters were born and brought up.

Following the death of her husband she lived with her daughter in Windsor, N. S., for several years and for the past seven years she and her daughter, Mrs. Lena Farnsworth, have been residents of Banff.

Mrs. Weatherspoon is as active as a lady of 98 can be expected to be. She reads, sews and knits and daily surprises her family with her still sharp wit and keen sense of humour.

Mrs. Weatherspoon has three grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

Many friends join in wishing this grand old lady happy days and good health in the years ahead.

LIONS CLUB HOLDS CHARTER NIGHT

The newly organized Lions Club of Digby held its Charter Night banquet and dance at the Hotel Champlain here last Thursday evening.

Chairman for the Charter Night proceedings was Ernest B. Tufts, 1st Vice President of the Digby Lions Club. The invocation at the banquet session was pronounced by Eric Longley, Secretary of the club.

Head table guests and their wives present for the function were introduced by Mr. Tufts. They included Ron. Humphries of Halifax, District Governor of Lions International; Clarence Allen of Kentville, District Governor; Robert Henderson, International Counsellor; Mayor G. R. Turnbull; Trade Board President A. L. Robinson; Victor Cardoza, M.L.A.; Digby Lions Club President Rodger Furlong; Rev. Dr. T. W. Hodgson, and Commander G. S. Geddes, who represented Captain M. G. Stirling of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis.

Visiting officers and members of Lions Clubs in Kentville, Bridgetown, Middleton and Yarmouth and their wives were introduced by the King Lion of each of the clubs. Mr. Tufts introduced the members of the Digby Lions club and their wives and guests to the gathering.

A welcome to the visiting dignitaries of Lions International and members of the visiting clubs was voiced by Mayor Gordon R. Turnbull of Digby. In his remarks Mayor Turnbull also wished the newly organized Digby Lions Club every success. He said there was a great field of endeavour open to service clubs in a community and stated he felt sure the new club in Digby would play a great part in this work in this area.

Eric Caldwell, Treasurer of the new club, introduced Rev. Dr. T. W. Hodgson, guest speaker for the evening. In a very stirring and moving address Dr. Hodgson called upon his audience to always remember the human contact and the human touch in the doing of service work. Much of the value of such work, he said, may be lost through failure to keep a close personal contact with the individuals affected by service work.

The measure of a man's life, Dr. Hodgson said, is what he contributes to his community. Lions clubs have enabled men acting together to accomplish things they could not do as individuals.

The thanks of the meeting to Dr. Hodgson for his splendid address were expressed by Eric Kinman of the Kentville Lions Club.

Following Dr. Hodgson's address District Governor Ron. Humphries presented Rodger Furlong, President of the Digby Lions Club, with the Charter for the Digby club. In making the presentation Mr. Humphries traced the history of Lions International and told of some of the good works this organization is accomplishing. Begun thirty-nine years ago, Lions International now has 13,000 clubs in seventy-four different countries. Latest available figures on membership show there are 544,000 members enrolled in Lions Clubs, District Governor Humphries said.

Clarence Allen of Kentville, District Deputy Governor, presented Mr. Furlong with a gavel and bell from the Kentville Lions Club which has sponsored the Digby club. Ron. Patterson of the Bridgetown Lions Club, informed the gathering a presentation from that club had not arrived in time to be included on the evening's program. He stated the gift, a receptacle for use of the Tall Twister, would be forwarded on arrival.

In accepting the charter and other presentation Digby Lions Club President Furlong stated it would be the endeavour of the Digby Lions Club to live up to the high example set by other Lions clubs throughout the world and to promote with every effort the good works of the organization.

During the evening a sing-song was led by Lion Wendell Phinney with George McQueen at the piano. Lion Hyman Webb also presented several vocal solos. A number of amusing quartette numbers were presented by a quartette from the Kentville Lions Club. Bob Bearne and Dave Waterbury acted as Tall Twisters for the evening.

At the conclusion of the banquet session a most enjoyable dance was held, with Donald Smith and his orchestra providing the music.

GALE SMASHES BOAT
AT WESTPORT

The Sunday storm which blew in a south-easter late that night and early Monday morning caused the boat of Mr. Ernest McDormand to be smashed in pieces at its dock. The boat was not the boat Mr. McDormand is presently using but an older craft he had on hand. A boat, owned by Mr. Walter Titus, Sr., was also damaged and a small boat, a punt, owned by Mr. Wilbert Frost, blew ashore and was destroyed. The gale raged for hours and damage was light considering the force of the gale.

The fishermen who are occupied in seine fishing are very discouraged. This type of fishing is extremely expensive in operation and some crews have

Head King's College Fund Drive

Victor G. Cardoza, M.L.A., Digby, and Donald F. Filieul, of Weymouth (shown above), are heading up the King's College Development Fund campaign in Digby County. It has been learned.

Mr. Cardoza has been appointed chairman for the Corporation canvass for Digby County in the $1,450,000 appeal. Mr. Filieul has been appointed chairman for the Parish of St. Peter's in Weymouth.

The King's Fund appeal is now in progress throughout Nova Scotia, New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

Under the general chairmanship of Lionel A. Forsyth, Q.C., president of Dominion Steel and Coal Corporation Ltd., the appeal goal includes $750,000 for the Faculty of Arts and Science, $300,000 for the students' residences, and $400,000 for the Faculty of Divinity, the office building school for Anglican students in the Dioceses of Nova Scotia and Fredericton, which are the civil provinces of Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick. Members of the Anglican community while accepting responsibility for a major share of the university's financial needs are assuming the entire burden of the theological school.

Since the school receives students without regard for creed, and a majority of the student body is non-Anglican, members of all faiths are being asked to lend their support to this 167-year-old university, oldest institution of higher learning in the British Commonwealth overseas.

O.E.S. Sponsors
Musical Tea

A delightful spring social event was marked here last Thursday afternoon when the annual Musical Tea, sponsored by St. Mary's Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, was held. Mrs. Louis Daley was in charge of the program with Worthy Matron Jean Beckwith.

The lodge rooms were beautifully decorated with daffodils and other spring flowers for the occasion. Pouring for the first hour were Mrs. Beulah Ramsey and Mrs. D'Arcy Roope. Mrs. William Whitman and Mrs. William Woodman poured for the second hour. Those serving included Alice Brinton, Edith Gould, Frances Murley, Vera Kempton, Wilda Woodman and Alice Keen. Others assisting included Barbara Weir, Marjorie Sabine, Blanche Russell, Daisy Ruggles, May Rice and Alta Taylor.

During the afternoon's program Linda Brinton and Ruth Atkinson presented a piano duet, "The Cuckoo Clock". Sandra Franklin and Keith Churchill also presented a piano duet, "Norwegian Dance". "Over the Meadow", by Molly Carew, was sung by Mrs. J. M. Wallis, who also sang "E'en as a Flower", by Frederick Logan. Kathryn Murley presented a piano solo, "Sonatina in G", and Keith Churchill also played a piano solo, "Merry Month of May".

Mrs. Jean Marshall sang "I Love You", and "Over the Rainbow". Later in the program she also presented as a vocal solo, "Without a Song". Mrs. Joyce Daley also sang, "Break O' Day" and "Florian Song". She also sang "Falling in Love with Love". Mrs. J. M. Wallis sang "Maying with You", by D. Spooner, and Sandra Franklin presented two piano solos, "Valse" and "Waltz in A". A piano solo, "Reverie", was presented by Linda Brinton. Keith Churchill played "To the Rising Sun" and Carolyn Murley played "Chanson Irish".

A piano duet, "The Swan", was presented by Sandra Franklin and Keith Churchill. Carolyn Arnold played as a piano solo "Cheerful Harvester", and Marjorie Black played "The Banjo Player". Piano duets were presented by Carolyn and Kathryn Murley.

Piano accompaniment for the vocal solos presented at the tea was provided by Miss Connie Kirkpatrick and Miss Helen Kirkconnell.

fished four weeks without any success. Five crews on ten boats are at present seining. As the traps are taken up at the end of lobster season, the fishermen report a heavy loss with small catches compared with other years. Many of the traps have been taken up because of small catches.

A couple of Digby scallop boats left Westport for a better harbour in Freeport during the storm. The boats moved from Sandy Cove wharf.

HOLD DISTRICT MEE

A large delegation of Baptists were welcomed by Deacon Loran Shaw to the Centreville United Baptist Church Thursday morning, May 24th, for their annual district meeting.

The morning devotional, conducted by Rev. S. F. Whitehouse, was most inspiring. His theme, "Prayer in our time", based on Luke 9:23, "And as He prayed the fashion of His countenance altered", was a challenge to all who would be true Crusaders for Christ.

The business period was conducted by the chairman, Rev. C. T. Olmstead. The keyman, Mr. Willis Mullen, reported back only 25.4 per cent of the denominational allotment for the year had been sent in.

Rev. R. R. Winchester gave a report on the Churches for New Communities Fund. From the seventeen United Baptist Churches in Digby County, sixteen have accepted their allotment, and eight of those have sent in contributions.

The morning session concluded with an address by Rev. Wm. Scott on "The Maritime Wide Crusade for Christ in 1957". Mr. Scott outlined the purposes and plans of the Crusade and named the officers needed to carry on such a campaign.

It was regularly moved and seconded the Digby District approve of the "Maritime Crusade" and the District nominating committee appoint officers necessary for the District organization. Rev. W. Scott was elected chairman of the Digby District Crusade for Christ in 1957.

The evening session opened with a stirring song service conducted by Rev. S. F. Whitehouse, and the gospel message was ably delivered by Lic. S. J. Baxter, recently out from Belfast, Ireland.

Mr. Baxter spoke from Acts 12, verses 20-24. The worst sin man can commit is the sin of Herod, who failed to give God the glory. Christ teaches us to give God the glory, to make much of Him. We plea for man's rights but not for God's, therefore God is not glorified.

The resolution committee brought in the following resolution which we believe to be of particular importance:

(1) Whereas we have reasons to believe that an open bar will be provided on the S. S. Princess Helene and whereas we believe this move will be detrimental to the safety of our highways; therefore be it resolved that we, as the Digby United Baptist District in session at Centreville, May 24th, 1956, express our disapproval of this action.

(2) Resolved that we send a copy of this resolution to the head office of the C. P. Railway. The nominating committee named the following officers for the ensuing year:

Chairman, Rev. G. E. Sharpe, Westport; Vice Chairman, Mr. Ross McCormick, Bear River; Sec'y-Treas., Mrs. John Murley, Hill Grove; Keyman, Mr. Willis Mullen, Weymouth.

Churches and Pastors' Advisory Committee: Convention appointee, Rev. E. C. Churchill; Rev. Eric Miner retiring in 1957; Mr. Harold McCullough, retiring in 1958.

Chairman of Ministers' Fellowship Study Group for 1957 Evangelistic Crusade, Rev. E. C. Churchill.

Tells Of Work
In Home Fields

A large audience listened with close attention to Mr. Henri Lantini, son of Rev. H. Lantini, of La Bonne Nouvelle Mission, Moncton, as he told of his work in upper New Brunswick and Gaspé Peninsula, the occasion being the District Meeting of the Baptist Women's Missionary Society held at Centreville on May 24th at 2:30 p.m.

The meeting was opened by the District President, Mrs. J. V. Andrews, and a cordial welcome extended to the delegates by Mrs. Loran Titus, of Centreville, with response by Mrs. Hugh Vincent, Digby.

The devotional service, under the direction of Mrs. Ronald Morehouse, local president of the Women's Missionary Society, was led by the pastor's wife, Mrs. Chase, who was given an official welcome to the district by the district president.

Prayer was offered by Mrs. Cameron and Mrs. Chase spoke on the theme "Housecleaning and Heartcleaning", concluding with a poem, "There's No Time."

A duet "Call for Reapers," was charmingly rendered by Mrs. W. Shaw and Mrs. E. Trask, of Little River.

A hymn was sung during the taking of the offering and Rev. George Sharpe, pastor of the Westport Church, and whose former pastorate was in New Brunswick, introduced Mr. Lantini, who, in a most earnest and informative address, told of his work among the people of northern New Brunswick, illustrating his talk by reference to a large map of his field.

Mr. Lantini, who is a leader in Baptist work among French speaking Canadians, spoke of his ministry on the field of Moncton, Adamsville and Fortaine and of the successful work year by year and the radio work which he considers of greatest importance in reaching the people.

He also told of his successes and discouragements in his work, his joy at the response, and the great need for more workers.

The president thanked Mr. Lantini for his message which was of great interest to his audience. The secretary's report was then read and adopted and the roll call of the societies showed a ready response to the call of the Master on the fields.

Injured When Struck By Car

David and Billy Slack, three and five year old sons of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Slack, of Digby, had a close brush with death here Monday afternoon when the little cart in which they were riding was struck by a car, reportedly driven by Joseph Robert Jacobsen, of Saint John, N. B.

The accident occurred shortly after three o'clock as Mr. Jacobsen turned off the highway to park his car near a local restaurant. The youngsters who, it is understood, made a practise of coasting in their little cart along the sidewalk, coasted in under the front of Mr. Jacobsen's car as it was crossing the intersection.

First knowledge the driver had that he had struck the youngsters was when he heard a grinding noise under the car. He immediately stopped the vehicle and got out to investigate. The two kiddies had been thrown out of the cart to the gravel of the parking lot and suffered severe bruises and contusions about the face.

Medical help was immediately summoned and the two kiddies rushed to the Digby General Hospital, where examination showed their injuries not to be serious.

Neighbours
Save Barn

Fire, reportedly caused from spontaneous combustion, did minor damage to a shed on the property of Francis Wood at Marshalltown last Saturday evening.

The fire occurred while Mrs. Wood and family were in town and was noticed by neighbours who succeeded in putting it out before any but minor damage was done. It is thought the blaze was started from spontaneous combustion in cartons of rubbish awaiting disposal.

To Make T.V.
Appearance

A scheduled appearance on television of a number of the pupils of Mrs. Frances Peters of Digby has now been set for June 6th. It was learned here this week. The youngsters will be seen on the program "Jenally Yours" over CHS-TV, Saint John.

Those taking part from Mrs. Peters' group will include Julia Smith, Smith's Cove; Patsy Potter, Plympton; Julia Peters and Bonnie Wright, Digby.

D.F.D. Activities

The regular weekly card party was held Monday evening with a good turn out although there were many other activities going on the same evening. There will be another card party next Monday as usual.

The newly appointed Fire Wardens have had two meetings, the last one being held Tuesday evening when it was decided to procure a badge for each warden so they could be distinguished. The wardens decided to meet next Wednesday at 7 p.m. with the executive of the Fire Department to decide where the most urgent places of inspection existed and then make the necessary inspections.

A meeting of committees of the various garden club, Legion and Fire Dept. was held at the Fire Station Tuesday evening to act on ways and means of raising money to assist in the upkeep of the gardens around the railway station. Decision was reached to hold a party sale on Saturday, June 16th, to raise the necessary funds. This effort will be made from the four organizations represented and work in connection with it will be shared jointly.

The regular meeting of the Fire Dept. will be held Wednesday, June 6th, at 8 p.m. This is an important meeting when final arrangements will be made for July 2nd parade.

About This and That

V.O.N. Nursing Service Changing But Support Still Needed

Approximately thirty years ago a branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses for Canada was formed in Digby to provide a part time nursing service to those in need of such care. The service was made available to everyone in Digby regardless of race, color, creed or financial status. The charge for the service was based on estimated cost and adjusted according to the patient's ability to pay or provided free of charge if circumstances warranted it.

To administer the service a qualified registered nurse with public health training was obtained to work under direction of a physician. The nurse automatically became both a nurse and a family counsellor. Trained to instill in the patients an optimistic attitude and encouragement toward recovery, the nurse brought new hope, new interest and new happiness to the patient. Problems concerning the family and affecting the patient's progress were often adjusted under the skillful guidance of the nurse or referred to proper authority.

Fundamentally, the work of the V.O.N. nurse in Digby remains the same today as it did thirty years ago. There is still the bedside nursing to the young and old, the injured and the sick. There is the education and care for maternity patients and the psychological adjustments to new surroundings. There is still the school program, although it has passed through some changes and includes the care of a much greater number of students.

Foremost in the change in Victorian Order of Nurses service here is noted, from the reports, in the type of bedside care. Many acute infectious diseases which caused a great deal of illness when the Digby Branch V.O.N. was founded are now brought under control through the efforts of the Departments of Health and their employees and in no small measure through the efforts of our own Victorian Order of Nurses. There is also a reduction in infant and maternal mortality. Because of these improvements more people are living into the middle and later years of life. As a result the chronic diseases, heart ailment, cancer, arthritis, rheumatism, diseases of the nervous system, etc., have increased and create problems for doctors, hospitals and various health agencies. It is noted that this type of bedside nursing, the nursing of chronic patients, has increased tremendously for the V.O.N. in the past years. There is every indication that this type of nursing will become even more demanding. Because of economic reasons and also through consideration of the possibilities of quicker recovery and greater contentment by the happy home surroundings, home nursing care for such patients is more and more advised.

One thing which remains the same in 1956 as it did in 1920 with the Digby Branch Victorian Order of Nurses is its method of support. The V.O.N. is not government subsidized. It is supported by nursing fees, school and town grants, donations, and fund raising activities of the Board. Chief among these for Digby Branch V.O.N. support is the June Membership Drive. The 1956 campaign begins on June 4 and will continue for two weeks. From reports of the Board, the need for a Victorian Order Nurse here, particularly to care for the chronically ill, and the need for support, is greater than ever. We can only recommend that all our readers support the 1956 V.O.N. Drive to the utmost of their ability.

The Purpose Of Shut-in's Day

Nearly two thousand years ago the visiting of the sick was included among the virtues to be practised by those who would be the Lord's disciples. On June 3rd many people will carry out the Master's injunction by making a special effort to help bring joy and fellowship to as many shut-ins as possible.

Unless we have experienced illness ourselves we little realize what it means to be deprived of the opportunity to enjoy "God's great out-of-doors." In hospitals, homes and many out-of-the-way places millions of people know all too significantly the meaning of the words "shut in." To encourage more thought of these folk the first Sunday of June is annually set aside to remind the public of its obligation of visiting or in other ways remembering those who are laid aside.

Plan now to visit some of these folk on June 3rd or to remember them with a letter, card or other token of your thoughtfulness. If you have a car—and they are able to go out a bit—see if they would like to attend the morning church service—most of the churches are having something special for the sick folk on the first Sunday of June. A short car ride in the afternoon, too, would be a rare treat for many.

"Nae man can be happy without a friend," runs an old Scotch proverb. Shut-in's Day is an opportunity to revive old friendships, to form new ones, and to add one's share to the sum of human happiness. You will not wait till next June to repeat the experience, but you will help to fulfill the real purpose of Shut-in's Day: the year 'round remembrance of the sick and the disabled.

Not Just Another Service Club

Some weeks ago a Lions Club was organized in Digby. The expression made by some at the time was "Not another service club for Digby!"—there can't be room here for another such club. Those who had the delightful privilege, however, of attending the Digby Lions Charter Night held at Hotel Champlain last Thursday could not help but be impressed by the fine calibre of young men who have manifested their interest in society and its welfare by associating themselves with Lions over the world.

Lions is an organization 39 years old. It is found in 74 different countries of the world and has a membership of 544,000.

Although the Digby club has a considerable age range to its membership, a striking and impressive characteristic noted on Thursday night was the number of the younger young men at the banquet. The question arose in the minds of onlookers, "just where in Digby would these young men have an opportunity to serve in a similar capacity if there were not a Lions Club here?" It is a good thing to support an organization from the outside, but it is far more interesting, inspiring, instructive, and helpful, to be in there "pitching." The young men of the town, now have an opportunity to do just that through the Lions Club. On Charter Night the necessary enthusiasm for success was most apparent. Continued success of the Digby Lions Club will depend entirely on the earnestness and perseverance in which the members do their "pitching."

The Lions program is one which upholds those things which are fine and good in life and maintaining a happy and joyous outlook while doing so. Lions all over the world have done a tremendous job in lifting life to a higher plane by joyously serving. The Digby Lions Club has a challenge to meet and we feel confident that there is plenty of youth and enthusiasm there to rise to great heights of service. The Courier extends best wishes to the Club and offers its cooperation at all times.

We cannot help but feel that with Kiwanis and Lions to attract every age and status of manhood in the town, besides the many other church, business, fraternal, welfare and social groups of the community, Digby should not only be a most interesting and lively place in which to live, but with each member standing up for the high principles of his or her respective organization, Digby should make a most desirable place of abode for any resident. Each organization has its own special function and duty to perform. None are meant to be "just another club or organization" and with all members fulfilling their obligations and shouldering responsibility, none of the clubs or groups will have a chance of being labelled such. Only when members shirk responsibility do clubs and organization become "just another one."

Every success to the Lions!

KIDNEY ACIDS

Rob your Rest..

Many people never seem to get a good night's rest. They turn and toss—blame it on "nerves"—when it may be their kidneys. Kidney blunders often produce and cause acid in the blood. If they fail and impurities stay in the system—disturbed rest often follows. If you don't rest well and are tired, take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's helps the kidneys so that you can rest better—and feel better.

Putting on your windshield wiper can be like sticking out your tongue - a pretty good sign of how the system is inside.

Most windshield wipers, as you know, operate off engine vacuum and engine vacuum is a direct measure of engine efficiency. We have fancy, expensive machines to measure vacuum, but you can gauge it too, by watching the windshield wipers.

The wipers will slow down or stop when you climb a steep hill or accelerate quickly. That's fine, but have you noticed lately that the wipers are stopping more than they used to, or slowing down for easy bursts of acceleration?

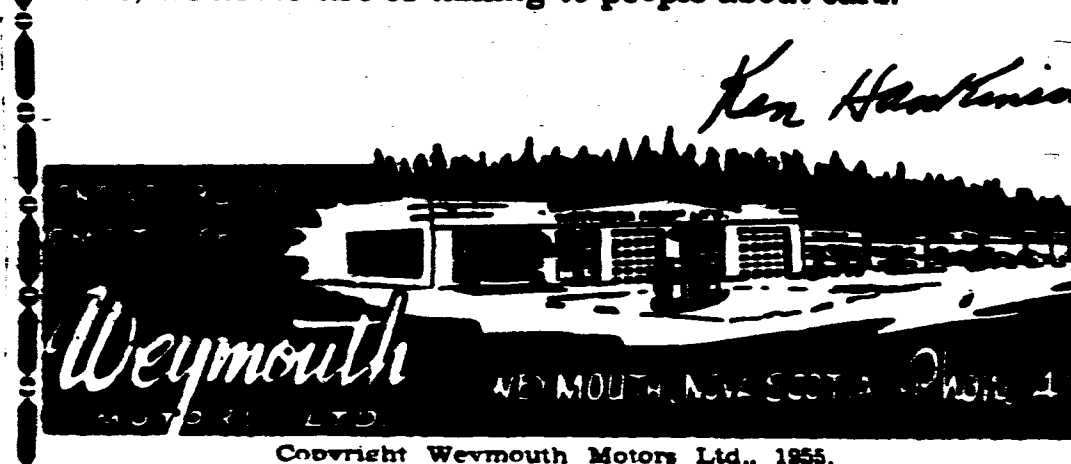

If so, your built-in vacuum gauge, the windshield wiper, is telling you it's time for an engine tune-up. No better time than this for a tune-up, with the season of driving-for-fun just ahead when you want the old bus to be at its best.

Speaking of windshield wipers, do you know the right time to replace the wiper blade? Might be an idea to inspect them next time you're out. They should look fresh and dark, not gray and dried out. The wiping edges should be square and sharp.

New blades are really cheap, yet poor blades can be a strain and a nuisance, to say nothing of how dangerous they are.

There may be a lot of little things on your mind about the family car, funny habits it's developed through the winter. Items it may need for a Spring Tonic (like wiper blades).

Drop around and let us have a look. One thing's for sure, we never tire of talking to people about cars.

Rummage Sale in Bear River, June 2nd, at the Trading Company, from 2:00 p.m. until 10:00 p.m. Sponsored by the St. Johns Guild.

FEW BOY SCOUT GUESTS OF CANADA

at the 1955 Jamboree had a chance to see the great dams and smelters that make Canada a world supplier of aluminum.

But some did see a Canadian use of the light metal: outdoor cooking with aluminum foil. One Canadian troop showed how they used this handy material for doing potatoes, steaks and other foods over the campfire; how they kept food fresh in summer heat by protecting it with aluminum. If this missionary work carries the idea back to distant lands, Canada may have to turn out still more aluminum foil—even though last year her output, if laid in a 12-inch strip, would reach 382,000 miles.

Gravel Causes

Hardship

The gravel that forms at the entrance of Church Point wharf has aggravated the fishermen of the district for a number of years, according to a Church Point correspondent. Although it is removed from time to time, its return in a short time causes much inconvenience to the fishermen who are obliged to enter or leave the wharf at certain periods.

The gravel forms a gravel bar across the entrance of the wharf. Boats must enter at certain times and the bar gradually enlarges until they are able to enter only half an hour before high tide. This causes immense hardship, not only the local fishermen, but also to fishermen from other localities who want to come to Church Point to sell their herring catch. The local fish curing plant has difficulty in getting boats to land their catch at Church Point due to the bar at the end of the wharf, the spokesman said.

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Amoro, Moncton, N. B., were weekend visitors at the home of the latter's mother, Mrs. Alvin Williams, recently.

MARRIAGE

Pyne - Nesbitt

On Tuesday afternoon, May 22, a very pretty wedding was solemnized at the Baptist Church, Digby, when the Rev. E. C. Churchill, pastor of the church, united in marriage Patsy Mildred Nesbitt, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Nesbitt, of Weymouth North, and Harold Pyne, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Pyne, Smith's Cove.

The bride was attractively attired in a suit of grey wool with accessories of pink and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Miss Nellie Nesbitt, sister of the bride, attended as bridesmaid, the groomsmen being Mr. John Hall, of Marshalltown.

A family reception for the newlyweds will be held on Saturday evening of this week at the home of the bride's parents, Weymouth North.

Hold Surprise Party

Mrs. Dorothy Gozma, of Sandy Cove, had a pleasant birthday surprise when she answered her door Monday evening, May 28th, and found her friends from the St. Mary's Bay road were her guests for the evening.

After getting nicely seated in a circle around the living room, Mrs. Betty Merritt read the lines of the verse on her card, entitled "Birthday Wishes for a Good Friend", and then presented Mrs. Gozma with the gift of a pink nylon scarf and glove set, to which Mrs. Gozma, in return, extended thanks to everyone.

On returning home from West Palm Beach, Florida, U.S.A., the Gozmas found addressed Christmas calendars to everyone in Sandy Cove. After explaining to everyone present, she gave each one their Christmas wishes.

Mrs. Dorothy Stewart played the piano, while everyone sang old favorites, including hymns and Christmas carols. Refreshments were then served by Miss Louise Bond, Mrs. Jean Morehouse and Mrs. Betty Merritt. A beautiful home made and hand decorated yellow rose two tier cake was lighted and birthday wishes were sung to Dorothy.

Everyone enjoyed a friendly chat, while closing with "She's A Jolly Good Fellow".

Parliament Hill

By GEORGE C. NOWLAN

May 26, 1936.

I have always attempted in this column to be absolutely non-partisan. Suggestions have been made to me from time to time that the readers appreciated this effort. It might be better, therefore, if I did not write this column this week, because it is difficult, if not impossible, to be non-partisan on this occasion. However, not long ago, I discussed this problem with a clergyman in the Annapolis Valley, one well-known to most of us. He suggested that the time might come when Parliament would be dealing with a matter of principle, so important, that one could not be non-partisan. In reply to my question as to what I should do in that event, he said that I could not be accused of being partial or partisan if I were honest.

Well, I fear that time has come. What has happened this week is much more important than the fate of a pipe line Bill — bad as many think that Bill to be, much more important than the imposition of closure — regrettable as that may be, but in addition to closure, we have seen Parliamentary usages and practices nullified by the Government, and then Parliament itself brought to a full stop by the protests of the Opposition. Practically every leading newspaper in Canada has given full coverage to this dramatic story. However, there have been some areas where the leading newspaper has found other matters more important. Perhaps, therefore, one should briefly give the background of this degrading debate.

After five years of indecision, and months of wrangling in Cabinet, Mr. Howe apparently had his way, and forced the Government to put itself in the position where the Pipe Line Bill had to become law by June 7th. By adopting the unusual and unheard of practice of imposing closure at the very beginning of debate, the Government forced the Bill through the Resolution stage, as well as through First and Second Readings. On Thursday of this week, the Bill went to "the Committee of the Whole" for consideration, clause by clause. This is the most important stage of any Bill, for as each section is studied, in detail, the Committee can probe into matters, obtain information and suggest amendments. Also, by tradition, and long established usages and practices, a wide discussion is always permitted on the first section of each Bill. But on Thursday afternoon, Mr. Howe, after his approximately fifteen minutes on the first section, and then moved "that further consideration of this section be postponed". Then the root fell in. The Opposition realized that this was the absolute "gag" of Parliament. They protested that there had been "no" consideration, and therefore, Mr. Howe's Motion that "further consideration be postponed" was out of order. And so the fight dragged on, through Thursday afternoon and evening, and when the House adjourned, Mr. Howe's Motion had carried with respect to Sections 1 and 2, and he had moved a similar Motion with respect to Section 3. When the House adjourned on Friday night, we were still on Section 3, and during all that time, not one word of discussion had been permitted on the Bill itself. The House of Commons had gone to a full stop. The Opposition were determined to preserve the rights and freedom of Parliament, and all through Thursday and Friday there was division after division on points of order. The dramatic climax came at approximately four o'clock on Friday afternoon. Mr. Donald Fleming, the Progressive Conservative Member for Toronto-Eglinton, was on his feet, trying to speak on a "question of privilege". It is traditional that every Member must be heard at any time on a question of "privilege". The Deputy Speaker refused to see Mr. Fleming, and ordered him to sit down. Mr. Fleming protested his right to speak on a question of "privilege", and said that although he looked upon the Chair with respect, "that there came a time when a higher duty is owed, and it is a duty to Parliament itself, to the long centuries of Parliamentary freedom". That right, he said, was not his own, but the right of Parliament itself, and he would stand and assert that right. As a result of this protest, a Motion was made by Mr. Harris that Mr. Fleming be suspended "for the balance of this Sitting Day". The Motion was carried by the combined force of the Liberal and Social Credit Parties. When Mr. Harris rose in his place to make his Motion, a shocked silence fell over the House. When the result of the vote was reported to Mr. Speaker, Mr. Fleming rose in his place, bowed to the Chair, and walked slowly the length of the Chamber, turned at the Bar, bowed again, and uniformed pages swung open the main doors as he went out. All Conservative and C.C.F. Members had risen to give him a standing ovation as he left the Chamber, and emotions were at such a Thursday and yesterday were shameful days in the record of Canada's political history. Trade Minister Howe made unprecedented use of his office to gag the House of Commons, and by trickery to prevent detailed examination of his Pipe Line Bill. . . . The throttling of the House of Commons must mean the end of personal liberty. Without a Free Parliament, no people can be free.

The editorial from the Star is headed "The Gagging of Parliament". It says in part: "Closure on the First and Second Readings of the Pipeline Bill was bad enough, as an interference with the normal liberties of Parliamentary Debate. . . . The device employed yesterday is a great deal worse. It amounts to a complete gagging of Parliament. . . . The disgraceful scenes in the Commons, with Members hurling personal insults at the Deputy Speaker, and at one another, was a natural consequence of tactics that degraded Parliament. The Government, evidently, is determined to ram the pipe line down Parliament's throat, in violation of the spirit, if not the letter, of the Rules of Debate."

What happens on Monday, no one knows, nor can fortell.

"Visit the Sick and Disabled on 'Shut-in's Day' — first Sunday of June.

No work of mine shall be other than fine metal — if copper, copper; if gold, gold — but not copper gilded. — J. J. Audubon.

GUEST SPEAKER AT WENTWORTH H. & S.
The May meeting of the Wentworth Home & School was held in the Intermediate Department on Monday evening with a good number in attendance. Guest speaker of the evening was Miss Helen Delaney, Supervisor of Schools for Digby County.
She told of the advance in education since 1949.
Judge Pothier, of Yarmouth, spent eighteen months' study in schools over North America and drew up a report approved by the government known as the "Pothier Report." This is one of the greatest changes in education and shows the great progress in our province in this most important phase.
The present plan changes the financial responsibility from the locality to the Municipality, the provincial government shares largely in the costs. The major change is bringing about complete consolidation and leads to better education.
Five years ago there was a big change in the curriculum which provided new books and new methods to the Primary department. The change is to teach understanding and not only recognition of words. Later the spelling and language books were changed. The language method is also practical, as the health plan is. Children are being taught the correct health habits, foods to eat, etc. Social Studies are teaching a greater appreciation for our country and its founders and also the customs of various countries.
Miss Delaney's talk gave a greater understanding of the educational changes. The Freeport Home & School were present at this meeting.

Sure starts a lot of Torque —

even before you Switch the Pitch
Buick's Variable Pitch Dynaflo* really gives you a double-barreled thrill.
First, it delivers a record amount of torque to turn those rear wheels—even before you switch the pitch. You splurge on pickup while saving on gas.
Second comes a performance thrill! Just put your foot down—and there you have it. You switch the pitch and Dynaflo serves up a dazzling burst of extra power to cut seconds off your passing —and add new safety to it.
But there's a lot more than torque to talk about.
There's the Buick ride, for instance. Softer, yet steadier. Cradling you in rubber-bubble comfort—leveling with you on every twist and turn.
A whole group of unseen marvels screens you from the harsh realities of the road. Including a new front-end geometry—new deep-oil-cushioned shock absorbers—new deep-coil springs on all four wheels.
Why not take a Buick out on the road yourself, so you'll know what all the talk's about? We're ready whenever you are.
*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick built today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century—optional at modest extra cost on the Special.

Digby Rifle Club Hold Meeting

A meeting to discuss plans for the further development of the newly organized Digby Rifle Club will be held at the Fire Hall here Friday evening at eight o'clock. It has been announced by the President, Joseph Doucet.

Some twenty members have already been enrolled in the club, it is stated, and membership is growing. The club has, through the cooperation of the Fire Department, secured the use of the twenty yard rifle range at the Scout Hall and is now registered with Dominion Marksmen.

Several members, it is understood, have already qualified for their bronze marksman pins and are now starting on competition for silver pins. As qualifications improve shooting will start for gold pins.

Every precaution is being taken to see that safety rules are observed and instruction is being given in the care, handling and shooting of firearms by qualified instructors. All ammunition used is kept at the range and none is allowed outside the building.

Plans are now under consideration for the formation of a Women's Rifle Club and permission has been given to young persons between the ages of 12 and 16 to join the club, providing permission is given by parents.

A tag day to assist in raising funds for the club will be held on Saturday.

Mrs. Lindsay Gives Farewell Words

A most interesting meeting of the Granville Ferry Baptist Women's Missionary Society was held on Thursday evening, May 17th, at the home of Mrs. Kenneth E. Green. Members of the Lower Granville W.M.S. were invited to attend and Rev. and Mrs. R. W. Lindsay, who are leaving the Lower Granville pastorate soon, were special guests.

The president of the Granville Ferry Society, Mrs. R. H. Bond, was in charge of the meeting and conducted the devotional period. The meditation was taken from the 19th chapter of John, 25th verse, "The Woman at the foot of the Cross". Rev. Mr. Lindsay led the circle of prayer, and a lovely solo, "I shall not pass again this way", was rendered by Mrs. Chester A. Nauss, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. R. T. Chisholm.

A splendid report was given by one of the delegates attending the Baptist District meetings which will be long remembered by those present.

A film taken at the Baptist Convention, of returned missionaries in costume, was viewed with interest.

At the close of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed. Twenty-five in all were present and enjoyed the spirit of fellowship.

Scrap Book Gleanings

(From old Couriers)

There are several items in the scrap book telling of several whales being seen and narrowly missing overturning boats. I'm wondering if they are as plentiful today or do they keep more out to sea out of the way of sea traffic? Below is an item of whale experiences:

Struck by Whale
 The schooner "Yarmouth Packet" had a narrow escape in the Free. Captain John Thurber of Yarmouth, master of the schooner "Yarmouth Packet" has had more than one thrilling experience with whales. In 1905 running over what he thought was the tail of a dead whale, and it nearly threw the vessel out of the water. Another time, twelve miles off Boar's Head, going to St. John, a whale threw its tail across the starboard bow, throwing the anchor on board at the same time, leaving junks of his pelt on the anchor and rail and causing the vessel to leak.

The "Ready Now"
 (Taken from Yarm. Times)
 The schooner "Ready Now," Captain Denton, arrived from Westport yesterday with 200 quintals of dry pollock. An amusing story, the truth of which we cannot vouch for, was told the Times this morning as to how the unusual name was adopted. Her owner, as the story goes, has always had a preference for American built vessels and he purchased this schooner there under another name in Maine. He took her to St. Andrews to be registered and after picking out a number of names which were all rejected by the authorities on account of duplication, finally decided on Blackbird. He submitted this only to be informed that that name was claimed by another vessel. In high dudgeon he declared his intention of letting the vessel

MARRIAGE

O'Sullivan - Dunn
 Of interest to a wide circle of friends was the marriage Saturday, May 12th, in Saint Patrick's Church, Digby, of Carol Ann Dunn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Evan Dunn, to Able Seaman Paul Charles O'Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. O'Sullivan, Belleville, Ontario.

The nuptial Mass, with the double ring ceremony, was performed by Rev. Father Comeau in the presence of relatives and friends of the young couple.

Given in marriage by her uncle, R. B. Campbell, the bride looked becoming in a ballerina gown of nylon lace net over satin, her shoulder length veil of tulle falling from a coronet of seeded pearls. She carried a white prayer book with white satin streamers and red rose buds.

Miss Irene LeBlanc, Digby, was bridesmaid and Robert Buckley, H.M.C.S. Buckingham, best man.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home for thirty guests.

Amid a shower of confetti, the happy couple left on the Princess Helene for a brief honeymoon.

Westport

(Mrs. Madeline Lent)
 Mrs. George Denton and two children returned after spending a couple weeks with Mrs. Vivian Jones, Digby. While away Roger Denton was guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bailey.

Mrs. Holland Titus, Mrs. Herman Cann and Rev. George Sharpe attended District Meetings at Centreville.

Two men have returned to New Westminister, B. C., after spending a few weeks here. They had planned to repair the weir off Westport owned by Dr. Edward Weir, of B. C.

 Mr. Reuben Raymond, of Centreville, recently launched at Seawall, Digby Neck, his new torpedo stern motor boat, the "Mildred E." She was built by Mr. Kenneth Lewis of that place and is equipped with a five horse power Miana engine and is considered the smartest for her power of anything in that vicinity. She is also said by many to be the prettiest. The "Mildred E.", owing to unavoidable circumstances, was unable to be at Digby on Regatta Day to take part in the races and this was a disappointment to many interested, as she would have no doubt made a good showing.

Honored On Departure

Two most enjoyable parties were held at Granville Ferry during the past week in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Beals, who are leaving shortly to take up residence in Gagetown, N. B., where Mr. Beals has been transferred from H.M.C.S. Cornwallis.

On Monday evening a jolly party was held for Mr. and Mrs. Beals at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Saunders when some twenty friends and neighbors gathered for a farewell party. Jolly games were played and at the close of the evening Frank R. Troop, on behalf of those present, presented the guests of honor with a lovely framed, tinted photograph of Granville Ferry, taken by photographer T. W. Rose, from Annapolis side of the river looking over to Granville. We hope this picture will not make the Beals' family homesick when they are residing in Gagetown, but it will tend to keep the pleasant years spent at Granville Ferry fresh in their memory.

Mr. and Mrs. Beals and three boys came to Granville Ferry to make their home just six years ago. The twins, Peter and Paul, were only eight months old and David was three years of age. They are now three sturdy lads.

On Tuesday evening a delightful party was held in the vestry of the Granville Ferry United Church for Mr. and Mrs. Beals, sponsored jointly by the W.A. Friendly Circle, of which Gladys has been a faithful member, and the Men's Club, of which Ray has been an active member.

Games were played amid much fun and merriment, Rev. and Mrs. C. H. Gough joining heartily in the games which were fun to play and funnier still to watch. J. A. Ruffee showed films he had taken while on a trip to Washington last year, and pictures were also shown taken on Mrs. Walter Milo's recent trip to the Coast. At the close of the evening Rev. Mr. Gough, on behalf of those present, presented Ray and Gladys with a lovely coffee table, and expressed the regret of all at the approaching departure of the family who have made many friends here and will be sincerely missed.

HELPS SHIP OUT OF DIFFICULTY

The "Buckeye," captained by Raymond Welch, Westport, was able to help another fisherman in trouble as he had been helped recently. A dragger which got its net caught in the propeller was unable to make port. The "Buckeye" was in the Bay looking for fish to seine when the signals were noticed. The dragger was taken in tow to a mooring off Church Point.

STRIKE THREATENS BAY OF FUNDY FERRY

Notice of strike action has been given to the Canadian Pacific Railway and the federal Department of Labour by representatives of the Seamen's International Union, bargaining agents for the crew of the C.P.S. Princess Helene, it was learned here last week.

An official of the C.P.R. confirmed reports that notice of the contemplated strike action had been given to the railway. It is understood that, if demands made by the union on the operators of the Princess Helene are not met, the ship will be tied up effective at 12:30 a.m. on June 16th.

When the union returned to work last December 19th, terminating a tieup of the Princess Helene which lasted for some ten weeks, an agreement was given that fifteen days notice of any further strike action would be given by the union to the railway.

Some weeks ago, it is understood, a meeting of the union members of the ship's crew was held to decide if they were still determined to pursue labour demands made last year. The notice of strike action, given last Thursday, was a result of this meeting.

Guest Speaker At Westport Church

Vincent Snow, of Digby, layman of the British and Foreign Bible Society, addressed a group of interested people at the Church of Christ (Disciples) at Westport on Sunday afternoon.

Rev. George Sharpe was in charge of the meeting and the Scripture was taken from John 1, with prayer by Rev. Sharpe. Organist was Mrs. Floyd Denton.

A film on the work of the Society was shown, stressing the work done in the interests of the blind by the British and Foreign Bible Society.

Following the film Mr. Snow gave a thought provoking address on the many phases of the work and the importance of greater support from the Christians.

There are over one thousand translations of the Bible at present and only one-tenth of the population have the entire Bible in full in their language, thus leaving an enormous amount of work to be done.

Collection was taken.

The representatives of the British and Foreign Bible Society are Miss Lulu Repool, for the United Baptist Church, and Mrs. George McDormand, for the Church of Christ (Disciples).

A campaign for funds will be held in the near future.

To Mark Bluenose Day Saturday

Bluenose Day will be marked in Yarmouth on Saturday with great festivity and gaiety. A full program has been planned for the day, including official welcoming ceremonies participated in by government officials from Ottawa, Nova Scotia and Maine.

The program will begin at nine o'clock in the morning with a band parade. Other activities will follow with the arrival of the Bluenose scheduled for two o'clock.

The official welcome to the Bluenose will begin at 2:15 following an aerial salute. T. A. M. Kirk, M.P., will act as chairman for the official ceremonies. ## Amend By-laws On Junk Yards Approval of amendments to the town by-law controlling the activities of junk dealers within the Town of Digby will be sought from the Governor-in-Council. It was decided at the regular meeting of the Town Council here.

The amendments passed by the Town Council and for which approval is being sought call for the keeping by local junk dealers of records of all purchases and the prices paid for these. These records, it is proposed, must be available for inspection at all reasonable times by town police. Under the new amendments local junk dealers must file with the town clerk their names and addresses and the addresses of all their warehouses and storage places.

Also aimed at controlling the alleged unsightliness of junk yards, the new amendments for which approval is sought will make local junk dealers fence their junk yards to a reasonable height so as to obscure the contents from public view.

At their meeting the Council also decided to seek a resolution from the Department of Municipal Affairs to provide for the temporary borrowing of a sum not to exceed six thousand dollars for the construction of sewers on Victoria Road and Warwick Street.

The Town Clerk was also authorized to contact the Postal Department asking that mail collection boxes be established in Digby to serve the residents of the north and south ends of the town.

Mayor Gordon R. Turnbull reported arrangements for the visit of the Governor General to Digby on June 28th had been finalized.

It was decided a survey of Third Avenue between Prince William St. and Carleton St. would be carried. Instructions were also issued regarding the moving of a hydro pole near the Nova Scotia Bureau of Information and for the replacement of the sidewalk on Prince William Street between Malden Lane and the head of the C.P.R. wharf. Repairs will also be made to the stands supporting the cannon near the Information Bureau.

The Town of Digby will enter a float in the grand parade in Yarmouth marking Bluenose Day. It was decided. A float will also be entered by the Town in the parade which will form part of the Dominion Day festivities in Digby.

FILMS SHOWN AT BOSSWAY

On Thursday evening last films were shown and a talk given in the Baptist Church in the interests of the Bible Society.

The meeting opened by singing the hymn, "Wonderful Words of Life," followed by a prayer by Lic. Darrell Chase and a few words of introduction. The film, "Thy Word Giveth Light," was then shown, followed by a talk by Mr. Vincent Snow, of Digby.

Collectors for the Bible Society are now out collecting at the homes for contributions.

New Breakwater For Little River

Supplementary estimates tabled in the House of Commons, Ottawa, this week show the sum of $100,000 voted for the reconstruction of the breakwater at Little River in Digby county.

The total of the supplementary estimates tabled boosts the proposed federal spending for the 1956-57 fiscal year to $4,674,125,513, the highest in peace-time.

Police Injured In Crash

Corporal Louis Ecker and Constable Charles Smith of the Digby Detachment of the RCMP were injured here Thursday afternoon when their car was in collision with a truck, reportedly driven by Ashford Baker.

The accident occurred about three o'clock on the Digby Neck Highway just at the outskirts of Digby. It is understood the police car was proceeding toward Digby when it was in collision with the truck which was reported to be turning into the entrance of the pitwood yard.

The front end of the police car was almost totally demolished while the Baker truck was badly damaged on the right side of the cab.

Cpl. Ecker, who was a passenger in the police car, suffered severe bruises and cuts about the face. It is also reported his arm was broken in three places and he suffered a broken nose. He also was injured about the hip. Constable Smith, driver of the police car, suffered facial lacerations and a severe cut in the hand. Both men were rushed to the hospital by Nevins Wagner where their injuries were treated. Mr. Baker escaped uninjured.

Large Audiences Attended Services

Despite showery weather, the congregations were large at the North Range United Baptist Church throughout the week of May 28 to June 3, when Rev. L. R. Anderson, Maritime Baptist Convention Evangelist, brought stirring messages each evening.

On Sunday night the devotionals were conducted by the Young People's group, with Lic. Ernest Light, of Barton, offering prayer. Music was provided by the group with two special duets. This night, as well as Thursday night, when Rev. Carr and his prayer group from South Range Church of Christ were present, the church was filled almost to capacity. The devotional and inspirational song service were led by the pastor, Rev. R. R. Winchester, at these meetings.

The campaign was brought to a conclusion on Sunday with a service in each of the three churches of the parish. The ordinance of the Lord's Supper was observed at North Range and Barton.

So Destructive — So Unnecessary

Recently the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society, the Home Garden Club and the Digby Fire Department have embarked upon several commendable jobs of beautification within the town of Digby.

These jobs, which reflect great credit on the organizations concerned, include the beautification of a park area at the head of the Long Wharf around the "Welcome to Nova Scotia" sign and the gardens at the D.A.R. station.

Within the past week some person or persons unknown have thoughtlessly, deliberately and destructively entered upon the grounds that have been beautified and have destroyed and damaged the work that has been done. At the park area at the head of the Long Wharf branches have been deliberately broken from the newly planted trees and the ground that has been prepared for lawn has been trampled over, making it necessary to do the job over again. Similar acts of vandalism have been perpetrated at the station gardens.

We do not know what type of individual it is that does this sort of thing but it seems most prevalent in Digby. It must be discouraging indeed to those people who have the good of their community so much at heart that they will work long hours to beautify and deliberately destroyed.

It seems to us the time has now come when the most stringent of action must be taken to curb this vandalism. If appeals to community pride are not sufficient then police action to punish the offenders as a deterrent to further vandalism of this type must be taken. If such destructive and unnecessary acts of vandalism cannot be brought to a halt by these means, then there would seem to be little point in trying to do anything to improve or beautify our town.

Lions Club Charter Presented

Pay Tribute

Offerings of beautiful tributes gave mute testimony to the high esteem in which the late John W. Abramson was held as his funeral was held last Thursday afternoon at Grace United Church. A host of friends and relatives gathered to pay tribute to Mr. Abramson at the service in the church and later at the graveside.

The funeral service was conducted by Rev. James Brooks, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. Dr. T. W. Hodgson, pastor of Grace United Church. Officers and members of the George Lodge, I.O.O.F., of which Mr. Abramson was a member, attended the service in a body and also conducted a service at the graveside.

Youth Camp Adds New Features

This year St. Anne's Camp at Gibson's Lake on the South Mountain will move ahead a further step in a well-planned development. The committee in charge, headed by Rev. C. R. Elliott, of Bridgetown, has started work towards a new plumbing arrangement whereby water will be brought to the main building and dish-washing sinks installed as well as a special washing place for campers made.

St. Anne's is operated by the Deacons of Annapolis for Anglican Church. Since 1948 the men of the parishes from Weymouth to Middleton have undertaken the responsibility of creating a camp for boys and girls of any religious persuasion where modern and efficient facilities would be coupled with an effective and balanced program of recreation, education, and devotion in keeping with the highest standards of camping tradition.

Already the compound consists of two large dormitories with leader cubicles, one recreation and workshop building, cook's quarters and canteen, as well as a well-furnished kitchen and dining-room. The camp site is a few miles from power lines but lighting has been arranged for and a very effective cold-room built for preserving food. Meals are based on an approved diet and prepared by an experienced cook. The campers themselves take turns in washing dishes, but this year another new step has been taken in that a cook's helper is being hired to do all that work.

From twenty boys for one week in 1948 St. Anne's has grown to such an extent that last year it was open for four weeks for a total of 153 campers. Volunteer leaders of clergy and counsellors take charge of a full program of swimming, water and field sports, handicraft and woodworking, hiking, instruction periods, camp fires, and services which are held in beautiful little All Saints' beside the lake. Water safety instruction is stressed and last year a number of campers qualified for Red Cross swimming certificates. The camp fees are among the lowest in the province and this year include a full coverage of camper-insurance. St. Anne's will be open during the month of July.

Home & School Holds Closing Meeting

Taking part in the panel were Mrs. E. K. Potter, Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Albert E. Jones, Rev. James Brooks and F. C. Purdy. Mr. Baden Powell acted as chairman.

Subjects discussed by the panel included the matter of home work for school pupils and the amount of such work that should be expected of the pupils. The panel were somewhat divided on this with some members taking the position home work should begin early in the school program. Other members felt home work should be kept to a minimum, with none in the early grades.

Considerable difference in opinion was expressed on the question of what could be done with the school pupil who refused to make an effort in his studies. Opinions were expressed that nothing could be done with such a pupil and his presence in the school hampered those pupils who wanted to get ahead. Other members of the panel held to the view such a pupil could be reached and helped and continued effort to do so should be made.

Two subjects dealt with briefly by the panel were the matter of the need for purchase of books by pupils beyond those prescribed and the question of the use of I.Q. tests in the schools. Unfortunately time would not permit discussion on these subjects. Audience participation in the discussion was quite spirited at times.

Following the panel discussion and the business meeting of the association an auction was held with Victor Carsons acting as auctioneer. More than thirty items were sold for the association.

Nova Scotians Promotional People

The Nova Scotia Arts and Crafts Festival, slated for Tatamagouche, Aug 13 and 14, can be a pattern for other enterprising communities in the province, says Earl Clark, industrial and tourist promotion director for the department of trade and industry. His point is that the communities should provide the initiative in developing tourist attractions and events.

"The people of Tatamagouche didn't come to the government and say 'Will you give us a festival?' When the idea for a festival was agreed upon, they formed a committee to shape it, worked out the details, and then they called on the government for assistance in publicizing it." ## 17 YEAR OLD BOY IS DROWNING VICTIM

Seventeen year old Clinton Aubrey Burns, a student of the Digby Regional High School, was drowned Sunday afternoon while swimming off the wharf at Plympton with his brother, Douglas, and a friend, Joseph Bradley.

Young Burns was evidently seized with a cramp while swimming. Coroner Reigh Jayne of Digby said in ruling the death accidental. He stated no inquest into the fatality would be called.

The body of the young man was recovered from the water some fifteen or so minutes after the accident by Vernon Gaudet, Alfred Warner and Reg Lewis who were directed in their efforts by Baden Powell, Dr. D. G. Black of Digby supervised application of artificial respiration for several hours before pronouncing young Burns dead.

The young man made his home with Mrs. Amy Amoro at Plympton from the age of four. The funeral was held Tuesday afternoon from the North Range Baptist Church with the Rev. R. R. Winchester officiating.

Mrs. Warne Reports On Project

Mrs. H. M. Warne gave a detailed account of the work done on the grounds at the left approaching the C.P.R. wharf in Digby, at a meeting of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society, held at the summer home of E. Weyhe, Acadiaville, on Friday evening. The project was started a year ago by the society and extended to wider dimensions during the present season. On the committee with Mrs. Warne were Mrs. H. M. Nichols, convener, Miss Louise Daley, Delbert Forest and John Russell. Mrs. Warne said that the committee, K. V. Jankov, Director Horticulture, Truro, and the gardener, Gordon Van Tassel, had met and discussed at various times procedures. Drainage, retaining walls, seeding, and the planting of twenty-five willow trees as a screen had been finished. Mrs. Warne made particular mention of the time spent by Mrs. Nichols on business matters and meetings in connection with the project.

Mrs. Nichols was named a delegate to attend the Rural Beautification Convention in Truro. On request of the Digby Home Garden Club, the Horticultural Society decided to convene the tea for the Annual Flower Show in August. The Home Garden Club will take care of classification of the flowers, it was learned.

A letter was read from Mrs. Barbara Burns, Chester, giving ideas for monthly programs which proved profitable and instructive to the Chester Garden Club.

After refreshments the meeting adjourned to meet with Mrs. Porter, Smith's Cove, in July, when Mrs. Logan will also be co-hostess. Mrs. Porter will also arrange the program.

Winners at Monday night's card party were: Door Prize, Mrs. S. Barnes; Ladies' High, Meda Cook; Ladies' 2nd, Margaret Comeau; Gents' High, J. Pilgrim; Gents' 2nd, A. Everett; Draw, Carl Winchester.

There will be a card party next Monday evening at 8 p.m. at the Fire Station.

It is unfortunate that after all the volunteer work that has been done and will be done at the Station Gardens that the public would appreciate the fact that these gardens are being maintained to help beautify the town and that the person or persons responsible for destroying and removing flowers and going so far as to dig up rose bushes have very little respect for what is being done. We hope that this will cease and a little more interest by the public would be appreciated in helping to maintain these gardens rather than removing what has been done.

There will be a pantry sale on June 16th to do further work on these gardens.

There has been one call which was on Monday morning at John Thibault's for a chimney fire.

There will be a district Scout meeting at the Fire Station on Tuesday evening.

SKINNER

Daffodils in profusion decorated Waterloo Baptist Church, Saint John, when the pastor, Rev. D. S. Calkin, united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony Joan Marie Skinner, daughter of William A. Skinner and the late Mrs. Skinner, of Saint John, N. B., and Elroy Roosevelt Hill, son of Mrs. Blanche Hill and the late George B. Hill, of Bear River, N. S.

Mrs. M. Reece was the organist and Miss Anne Buxton rendered two beautiful solos. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore a gown of white nylon lace which had ruffles of nylon net at the hem of the skirt, which formed a short train in the back. Her high-length veil fell from a headpiece of sequins and pearls and she carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

Her attendants were Mrs. Erma Brothers, the matron of honor, wearing yellow crystal-ette. The bridesmaids were Miss Dorothy Hill, sister of the groom, wearing a nylon gown of aqua and Miss Audrey Nelson, wearing a gown of nylon point. All three carried nosegays of sweet peas. The flower girl, Corlies Ann Brothers, wore a green frosted organza dress and headpiece to match.

Venerable Hill, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were David Hill, Bear River, and Ralph Scott, Saint John, N. B.

A reception was held at the bride's home. Her aunt, Mrs. George Riley, of Montreal, wore a dress of blue flowered material with white accessories. The groom's mother wore a two-toned grey dress with black accessories. Rev. Mr. Calkin proposed the toast to the bride. Mrs. Douglas Nelson presided over the tea cups. Assisting in serving were Miss Shirley Ann Hill, Mrs. Bernard Tyler and Miss Beatrice Eddison.

The bride was wearing a white and grey suit with avocado green accessories when the young couple left on a honeymoon trip to Nova Scotia. The groom is serving in the fire department at Camp Aldershot, Kentville, N. S., where they will make their home. Out of town guests were Mrs. Murray Langford, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Symonds, Mrs. Georgina Harper and Miss Betty Smith, all of Halifax; Miss Irene Smith, and Miss Gertrude Hill, of Bear River; Mrs. W. Fairfax, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Paris, Amherst; Mrs. George Riley, of Montreal, and Vernon Hill, of Digby, N. S.

Her fingertip veil was held in place by a tiara of pearls and sequins and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

The bride was attended by Miss Audrey Swift, sister of the groom, who wore a dress of pale pink lace and net over taffeta. Her bouquet was of pink and white carnations.

Tommy Doolan, Sydney, cousin of the bride, was best man. The bride's mother wore an American beauty street-length dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of white roses. The groom's mother wore a navy street-length dress with white accessories and her corsage was of pink and white roses.

UNITED BAPTIST CHURCH MEETING

The Bear River United Baptist Church met in special business session on Wednesday night, May 30th. The main item of business was a controversial subject within the church. The Oddfellows Lodge of the community was anxious to have a church building for their anniversary church service involving about 800 men. There were a number of members of the church that felt whereas the Lodge was not based on the whole Bible, Old and New Testaments, that the church building was not the place for such a service.

Rev. J. W. Scott, minister of the church, was chairman of the meeting. Mr. Roland McCormick and Mr. Thomas Gates acted as scrutineers.

By a standing vote of the church it was determined 105 to 17 that the church would be pleased to have this service take place in the church building.

Due to the controversy aroused on this first item of business, Mr. Scott determined to ask the church for a vote of confidence in his ministry. By standing vote of the church, the organization voted 124 to 0 in giving the minister a vote of confidence with a few in the

Gleanings

(From old Courier nearly 50 years ago.)
Below is a contrast in ways of celebrating birthdays!

Pleasant Event at Centerville
The home of B. C. Robbins, Centerville, was the scene of a very pretty event on November 26th. It was the anniversary of his daughter, Luella G. Robbins', birth. A number gathered in for the occasion, all bringing a birthday gift showing the appreciation in which their young friend is held. At 8:45 p.m. these gathered around a table weighted down with luscious viands, seven couples, made up from the people of Centerville, Sandy Cove and St. John city. After dinner we all drank to the health of our hostess and speeches to her honor were given by Rev. J. T. Irvine, of Centerville, and E. R. Reed, of St. John. The guests enjoyed social games and music, the latter furnished by Mr. Godfrey of Yarmouth. Mr. Butler of Berwick was also in attendance with a good supply of Minard's Liniment in case of accident. All went home feeling we had a jolly good time.

One Present.
One of the oldest inhabitants of Centerville is Mrs. Katie Barr, who celebrated her ninety-second birthday a short time ago and a few days after to celebrate the event she had a heavy wash, washing among other things four large blankets and other articles just as heavy and did it as smartly and well as a person half her age. She resides with her son, Mr. John Barr, a youth of some sixty-seven summers and one of the old Fenian war veterans. She does all her own house work and ministers to the wants of her son who we regret to say has been on the sick list for some months. Everyone in Centerville wishes the old lady a good many years of life yet and that her son may soon be returned to health and strength is the prayer of all.

As George W. Clements was rowing out of the harbour at about 6 a.m. on the 21st deeply engrossed in thought he did not hear the approach of the motor boat owned by Edward and George Thomas, who were entering the harbour and in a moment the boat crashed into his frail dory and he had merely time to throw himself over the bow of the motor boat as his own boat was crushed. Grey dawn was merely breaking and as the genial George Crawled in over the bow, Edward Thomas who was at the helm, thought surely a mermaid or some denizen of the deep was forcibly entering his ship to take possession. A few words from our mutual friend of a reassuring nature calmed those on board. G. W. seemed the most distressed for fear that his pipe had been lost. When he found that he could not prevail upon them to pay for the loss of his small ship, he persuaded them to take the remnants in tow and land him in front of his home a poorer man financially than when only a short time before he had set forth with golden visions of

Civil Defence in a Small Town

(Ninth in a series of 24 articles)

The small town will have to come to the rescue of the cities if Canada is ever involved in a nuclear war. In the civil defence plan, the small town would assume the role of relief and rehabilitation.

The only effective defence against the H-Bomb, with its massive destructive power, is evacuation of likely target areas before the bomb falls. The population of strategic cities, therefore, would have to be absorbed in small towns and villages up to 100 miles away. That brings practically every community in the country a vital role in the over-all plan.

Towns close to cities may be required to provide many types of assistance. Transportation, most vital element in evacuation planning, may be required to help carry away the city population. Assistance from the closer towns' fire departments would be needed since no city is equipped to battle the fires expected to follow a nuclear attack.

But the big job would be to care for the fleeing refugees. Many would have nothing with them but the clothes they were wearing. The small towns would have to provide them with clothing, food and shelter. Emergency hospitals would have to be set up outside the stricken cities.

The first thing necessary for a small town's civil defence planning is to determine how its present facilities and layout can best be used. How many refugees could it care for? What help could it spare for a target city? Has it any large buildings that could serve as emergency hospitals? How many feeding establishments has it and what capacity could it handle in an emergency?

Then it must have a plan through which its facilities can be put into use. The need of volunteers trained to supplement all of a town's regular services—police, fire, health and welfare—is obvious considering the increased demands a large influx of refugees would make on them.

No community, however small or isolated, can consider itself outside these responsibilities. The vast area that would be affected by just one H-Bomb blast refuses to relieve any town of these obligations.

It is estimated, for example, that the area contaminated by radioactivity downwind from one exploded bomb might be 200 miles long and 40 miles wide. The size of this area would vary according to the power of the bomb, the height at which it burst, the nature of the weather at the time. It is possible to survive this fall-out radiation in proper shelter, for such radioactivity decays rapidly.

But evacuation is still the most effective defence. In event of a heavy bomb blast, leaving a whole city dangerously radioactive, and contaminating large areas outside it, the refugees would have only one safe course: to keep going until they got as far away as possible.

No small town or community can consider itself too isolated to be of use in reducing the effects of nuclear attack on the larger and less fortunate communities.

NEWS JOTS FROM ACROSS THE U. S. A. — In NEW YORK, Dr. Karl Menninger, noted psychiatrist, announced that five million alcoholics in the U. S. constitute the nation's single largest mental health problem. Speaking at the annual meeting of the Department of Pastoral Services, National Council of Churches, Dr. Menninger said, "Nothing looms as large on the horizon. Every day we see horrifying examples of men and women who drink up every penny they own and make serious critical errors in judgment that affect you and me. It is a problem which is taking a tremendous mental, social and physical toll."

In DETROIT, MICHIGAN, the city says over radio and T.V., "Drunk Drivers Go to Jail." Evidently it means what it says. Last year 827 drunk drivers were popped behind bars for a twelve day average visit.

The city's drunk-driver accidents have dropped some 90% in twelve years.

In PHOENIX, ARIZONA, drunken driving has caused deaths representing an economic loss of almost $500,000 in 27 months according to Capt. Haskell Welch of the police traffic division.

In an article in the March 20, 1955, "Arizona Republic", Capt. Welch also revealed that police arrested 65 per cent more drunk drivers than during the previous year, and one out of five was a previous offender for the same thing.

Report from Parliament Hill — By GEORGE C. NOWLAN

This report is being written on Saturday morning. A few hours ago, at 4 a.m., I left the House, after a long and strenuous week of acrimonious debate, climaxed by the stormiest scenes ever witnessed in the Canadian Parliament. It is absolutely impossible to give an objective account of the week's activities. Therefore, I am reproducing the story, in full, written by Mr. Douglas Letterman, of the Southam Press. My editors will realize that the Canadian newspapers, professionally independent, but generally have been sympathetic to the Liberal Party, and have often openly supported the present Government. The story is headed "AN AXE FLAILING AT THE ROOT OF HUMAN RIGHTS", and reads as follows:

"What happened in the Commons Friday may have been inadvertent. It may even have been deserved. But it was not in the manner of democracy, and it sickened every thoughtful observer who witnessed it."

Whether you are for the pipeline or against it, whether you vote Liberal or LPP, as a Canadian, as a believer in Parliamentary institutions, you could not have been in that Chamber without a feeling of profound regret.

For you were witnessing not only the debasement of a proud and accomplished Speaker, not only the irresponsibility of a sorely-tried Opposition, not only the indecent haste of a thoughtless Government.

You were witnessing the axe flailing at the root of human rights, and fear wrapped around you as you watched.

Mr. Speaker Beaudoin had ruled honestly, according to his lights the night before. The Opposition had outmanoeuvred him so resourcefully and so successfully that the pipeline Bill was dangerously delayed. What happened overnight, no one will ever know. But from the opening Friday morning Mr. Speaker behaved like a man under the gun. First, he disposed of Colin Cameron's motion to censure two bitter newspaper letters. Though he himself had advised the CCF member to move censure the night before, now Beaudoin decided no censure was allowable — the red hot letters were only "fair and reasonable comment."

With a dozen Members on their feet, crying to be heard, he rang the bell and forced the vote. (George Drew, set to deliver a five-hour oration on the subject, could have wept.)

Then the whirlwind. The Speaker, in carefully memorized phrases, proposed that all Thursday night's proceedings be wiped out; that the House go back to where it was at 5:15 p.m. Thursday. Why? Because he had made "a serious mistake" in everything he had done after that hour. The House was thunderstruck. It was a preposterous proposition. "Why not," demanded an Opposition Member, "go back to last week or last year?" Beaudoin wavered. But Finance Minister Harris, alarmed at the Speaker's floundering, admonished him to get on with it. "Stiffen your back, Rene," he said, in effect. The Speaker stiffened.

Ignoring the Members who stood, on points of order, ignoring even George Drew who had shouted until he was literally red in the face, Beaudoin pushed the division bell. The Opposition howled as though in physical pain. Back-seat Liberals, to drown the cries, raised their voices in song.

The Prime Minister shot a look of obvious distaste at his followers. But they went recklessly on with their weird, hollow-sounding incantations.

Lunch intervened. Then white-faced, but determined, the Speaker moved the next vote. The Opposition could restrain itself no longer. Coldwell, shaking his fist, advanced on the Speaker. Drew and the Tories crowded with him up to the Mace. A spectator wept. The scene beggared description. Beaudoin sat bolt upright on his throne, white as the papers on his knee, buttoning and unbuttoning his vest to control his trembling hands. St. Laurent, shoulders hunched and eyes cast down, toyed with his fountain pen. Howe bit his thumb nail for a while, then read Time Magazine. Pickersgill alone, seemed to be enjoying it immensely.

After the vote came one more step — to get into Committee. Before objection could be raised, the Speaker virtually leapt from the Throne, and Ted Applewhite dove for the Committee Chair. The Speaker, Insurance Salesman, somehow commanded the respect of the House and got the closure Motion through.

The note passing reached a fever pitch. Harris enlisted elderly Dr. McCann as his messenger boy, but the note he sent the Chairman was spotted by Drew, and the Chairman pocketed it, unread. The next exchange they managed better. Applewhite slipped his note to the page, signalled Harris, who went out in the Lobby to retrieve it. Such liaison, of course, has no place in a proper Parliament. Then neither did very much else that took place.

What mattered was not that it was unfair, but that it was unjust and unconstitutional. Mr. Speaker followed the Rules until they got in the Government's way. Then he threw the Rule Book in the Ottawa River, and proclaimed "Let the House decide". That could only mean, "Let the Government decide", since the Government controls the House. The Rules, whose purpose is to protect the rights of Parliament, itself, ceased to exist.

Expansion Program Completed By Fruit Company

The Willett Fruit Company Limited, Kentville branch, has just completed an expansion program which includes the addition of modern fruit and vegetable unloading and handling facilities and increased controlled temperature storage space. The company's warehouse—the East annex—which was destroyed by fire in 1955, has now been rebuilt and is completely restocked with fresh farm and orchard produce and the Willett dried lines.

The Kentville branch, which is managed by David L. Willett (above), a son of the founder, employs 25, and the five black and orange trucks may be seen at almost any time from Windsor to Weymouth—the area served by Willett's Valley unit.

The company spends annually in the Valley, over $125,000 in wages and services, and in addition, Mr. Willett says, fruit and vegetables in the amount of $300,000 are purchased locally each year.

The Kentville branch was opened November 25, 1946, to give Annapolis Valley customers better service. John R. Willett (now general sales manager), another son of the founder, was the first manager. He was succeeded by the present manager in August 1951.

Willett Fruit Company actually had its beginning in the Annapolis Valley, for it was in Granville, Annapolis County, that John Gilbert Willett was born.

Reptilian DOG-TAGS

We are often amazed how aluminum gets around to unusual places. Who would think of looking for aluminum in the stomach of a Zuluand crocodile?

It seems when this croc was emptied, no less than 32 aluminum dog licenses were found in its stomach, which suggests that Zulu dogs are mighty careless. But it proves that aluminum is immune even to the formidable digestive juices in this reptile's insides.

Industry capitalizes on this resistant quality of aluminum when industrial fumes and other corrosive conditions present a problem: one of several reasons why this modern metal is in such heavy demand—and why Alcan is again increasing its already large smelting capacity.

Things look bright to Murray Dwan

As a professional photographer, Murray Dwan is glad he can capitalize on all the modern advances in his chosen field.

"Today's demand for more and better photography—especially in colour—keeps us on our toes," says Mr. Dwan. "But we're well equipped to meet it, thanks to recent developments like electronic flash, faster film and more versatile cameras."

As a family man, Mr. Dwan also benefits by the progress which has been made in another field—life insurance. Policies today are more flexible than ever before. As a result, each family can now have a security plan that fits its own special needs more effectively—and can prepare for future changes in those needs.

Modern times have also brought the advantages of group insurance protection on a greatly broadened scale. Moreover, many restrictions on obtaining life insurance have been removed. And, life underwriters are better trained, better able to help people make the best use of their life insurance dollars.

In these and other ways, the life insurance companies in Canada are in step with progress... bringing benefits to people in all walks of life!

FAMOUS TRICHOLOGIST WILL DEMONSTRATE HOW TO GROW THICKER HAIR ... AND GUARANTEES IT

This new method of home treatment for saving and growing thicker hair will be demonstrated in Digby, N. S., Tuesday ONLY, June 12, 12 noon to 9 p.m.

These private individual demonstrations will be held at the Champlain Hotel on Tuesday, ONLY, June 12, 12 noon to 9 p.m.

LONDON, May 28 — In an interview here today, Mr. Keele, internationally famous trichologist and director of the Keele Hair Experts, said: "There are 18 different scalp disorders that cause most men and women to lose hair. Using common sense, a person must realize no one tonic or so called cure-all could correct all the disorders," he explained.

GUARANTEED

"The Keele firm, recognizing that most people are skeptical of claims that hair can be grown on balding heads offer a guarantee," Keele said. Once a person avails himself to the Keele treatment, his skepticism immediately disappears. To insure this, we offer this guarantee, "If you are not completely satisfied with your hair process at the end of 30 days your money will be refunded."

HOPELESS CASES DISCOURAGED

First the Keele specialists are quick to tell hopeless cases that they cannot be helped. But the "hopeless cases" are few. Only if a man is completely, shiny bald is he in this last category. If there is fuzz, no matter how light, thin or colorless, the Keele firm can perform wonders.

Every one is given a complete, private examination to determine the condition of his scalp and cause for his hair trouble.

FREE EXAMINATION

This examination is very thorough and highly technical.

It requires 20 to 30 minutes. There is no charge for this examination and no appointment is necessary. After the examination he is told the required length of treatment and how much it will cost.

After starting treatment, he makes regular reports to the Keele firm in London, and a trichologist will return to check his progress periodically.

To spread the opportunity of normal, healthy hair to the thousands who are desperately looking for help, the Keele firm is sending specialists to various cities throughout Canada to conduct examinations and start home treatment.

NO CURE ALL

"We have no cure-all for slick, shiny baldness," Keele emphasizes. "If there is fuzz, the root is still capable of creating hair and we can perform what seems to be a miracle."

There is one thing Keele wants to be certain every man and woman knows. If a recession appears at the temples or a spot begins to show up on the crown of the head, there is something wrong and it should be given immediate attention.

HAIR FOR LIFETIME

"If clients follow our directions during treatment, and after they finish the course, there is no reason why they will not have hair all the rest of their lives," Keele said. "Our firm is definitely behind all this treatment; it all depends on the individual client's faithful observation of a few simple rules."

HOW'S YOUR HAIR

If it worries you call Benton J. Lipson at the Champlain Hotel in Digby, N. S., on Tuesday ONLY, June 12, 12 noon to 9 p.m. The public is invited. You do not need an appointment. The examinations are private and you will not be embarrassed or obligated in any way.

DETERIORATION?

The real cost of a building can only be measured by including the money you spend over the years on maintenance or " upkeep".

Although cheap to build, most ordinary farm buildings have a short life, despite the constant repairs made on them. Often they have to be replaced entirely because of the ravages of time and weather.

But a brick or tile barn will long outlive its builder and will not be weathered or worn with age. The terror of fire is lessened, insurance rates drop and resale value increases when you build with permanent masonry products.

If you're planning to build on your farm this year and if you're interested in REAL economy, you can put extra money in your own pocket by writing for full information on the whole line of Shaw products.

NOVA SCOTIANS

The June 9 ceremony at Yarmouth for officially launching the new ferry service between Yarmouth and Bar Harbor, Maine, is another "good example of where the community sets the initiative," said Mr. Clark. "It was the idea of the people of Yarmouth. They appointed a celebration committee. They prepared plans and suggested programs. Only then did they ask for guidance and assistance. The major effort belongs to citizens of the town."

The selection of a site for a Highland village is another example of good community and organizational promotion. Along with the 350th celebration at Annapolis Royal, last year, the province has many excellent examples of tourist and industrial promotion at the community level. You need only look to the provincial Calendar of Events to note the many local activities.

"The present Halifax industrial promotions are to be highly commended as are the forthcoming plans for local training sessions for restaurant personnel."

It is Mr. Clark's opinion that all communities can improve their economic position by actively developing promotions that can be associated with them in the tourist mind, year after year.

"We're most happy to see the various communities developing ideas, suggestions, and projects which benefit their particular area. The whole province gains indirectly."

Of provincial assistance, he had this to say, "The province endeavours to assist, wherever possible, with such services as the supplying of picture material, providing staff assistance, and advertising guidance, in addition to distributing information regarding the events, with in and without the province by means of our literature and press services."

"The next time anyone asks if Nova Scotians are promotional people, take a look at the number of new events on the provincial calendar," he said.

Music Pupils Have Good Standing

Twenty-seven music students under Mrs. Louise Stephen were given examinations under Mr. Howard Brown, Director of Music at Mount Allison University, assisted by Mr. Carlton Elliott, of the same university. Tying for lead in the examinations were Wayne Snow, Grade 1 Music, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Snow, Digby, and Carolyn Murley, Grade VI Music, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Murley, Hill Grove. Of the students examined from Mrs. Stephen's class, ten received distinction (80-90), fourteen had honors (70-80), three passed (60-70).

Also examined were pupils of Miss Kathleen Dakin, student teacher. All Miss Dakin's six pupils passed, with Maxine Andrews, North Range, receiving marks of distinction.

Three pupils of Mrs. Eric Adams, Deep Brook, and one of Mrs. Stanley Sabine's, Bear River, were examined and were among those who passed. Also, Mrs. Morine, Bear River, passed exams given by the examiners.

SHELBURNE ROAD IS AIM OF TRADE BOARD

Boards of Trade throughout the Annapolis Valley will be circulated for support for the proposed road between Digby and Shelburne, advocated by the Digby Board and the Shelburne Board of Trade.

Decision to contact the Valley boards concerning this matter was made at Tuesday's meeting of the Digby Board here. A brief, setting out the advantages to the Valley area of the proposed new road, will be sent out to all boards in the Valley and they will be asked to send representatives to a meeting to plan further action on the matter.

It was pointed out at last night's meeting the proposed new road will make possible more rapid transit of agricultural produce from the valley area to Shelburne and other South Shore points in the Shelburne area. It was stated the proposed road would also open valuable timber stands in the interior of the western end of the province for cutting and will provide assistance in fire protection for the area. Shelburne and south shore fish processors will also be able to get their fish more rapidly to better markets. It was claimed, through the proposed new road. Decision was also made at last night's meeting to forward telegrams to the Minister of

THOUSANDS ON HAND TO GREET BLUENOSE

An estimated 15,000 were on hand in Yarmouth on Saturday to welcome the ultra modern car ferry, M.V. Bluenose, operated by the Canadian National Railways between Yarmouth, N. S. and Bar Harbor, Maine, as she sailed into port on her inaugural run.

Commanded by Capt. R. E. H. Davies, the Bluenose was escorted in Yarmouth harbor by the Canadian navy craft, HMCS Huron and the HMCS Quinte, the government ship Walter E. Foster, plus a flotilla of local service pleasure and fishing craft. Army units from 14th Field Regiment fired a 16 gun salute and the Royal Canadian Air Force held a fly past.

Officials and guests who made the inaugural trip were escorted ashore by the Black Watch Pipe Band, the Yarmouth Citizens Band, and the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Official dedication ceremonies chaired by T. A. M. Kirk, M.P., began immediately when Hon. Wilfred T. Dauphinee, Minister of Trade and Industry, brought the Bluenose greetings.

The inaugural address was given by Hon. Robert H. Winters, Minister of Public Works, who stated that the advent of the ferry service was an important step in the life of Nova Scotians. He thanked the CNR for operating the service and said that the new facilities would provide increased trade between Canada and United States in tourist promotion and other ways.

Other speakers were Stanley F. Dingle, Vice-President Canadian National Railways; Hon. Clifford MacIntyre, U.S.A. Congressman; Willard F. Allan, mayor of Yarmouth; R. Amory Thorncliffe, chairman of Town Council, Bar Harbor; John Cahill, president Yarmouth Board of Trade; Captain Angus Walters of the famous fishing and racing schooner Bluenose of former years, and Capt. Davies.

Mr. MacIntyre commended the leadership of Canadian authorities which made the ferry service possible and Mr. Thorncliffe expressed the wish that the people of Yarmouth and Nova Scotia and those of Maine may live long and prosper well together. He commended that Bar Harbor was now 91 miles from Yarmouth instead of 600.

Mr. Dingle expressed pleasure in seeing the people of two great countries uniting in the Bluenose celebrations and looked forward hopefully that the ship would fulfill its destiny by enriching the lives of all. Both Mr. Allen and Mr. Cahill spoke of the tremendous possibilities opened industrially by the inauguration of the ferry. Captain Davies was presented with book ends of the old Bluenose design by Capt. Walters. In responding Capt. Davies said he hoped the new ship would gain as much prominence and affection as did the Bluenose of years ago.

Before the Bluenose arrived at Yarmouth, Hon. Mr. Winters officially opened the ferry terminal building, E. G. Langley, district architect, Public Works Department, Halifax, was chairman and present on the platform also were T. A. M. Kirk, M.P., Brigadier W. D. King, O.B.E., E.D., C.D., Monsignor N. Theriault, Canon A. G. Bradshaw, W. H. Brown, M.L.A., and Mr. Seymour Kenney.

Buckingham Left On Training Cruise

Fifty-two trainees of the Huron XVI New Entry Training Division at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, most of them making their first trip to sea, went to Bridgeport, Connecticut, last week in the Frigate H.M.C.S. Buckingham on a training cruise.

The ship encountered heavy fog in the Bay of Fundy soon after she left Digby on Monday, which continued through the Cape Cod Canal and Long Island Sound almost to Bridgeport. There was not much seasickness, but lots of brass to clean.

Fashion Show At Conway School

The combined classes of Greenville, Weymouth Falls and Conway held their fashion show in the new Conway School on Friday evening, June 8th, 1956. The rooms were decorated for the occasion.

Many displayed beautiful dresses, suits and dusters made by the adult classes. Beautiful crocheted work and pillow slips were included in the show.

Miss Ruth Binnie, Supervisor of Household Science, gave a short address. She presented a gift to Miss Shirley Mints, the teacher, for the great work done by her during the two years she worked with these classes. She also expressed her regret that Miss Mints will be leaving this province to take up a position in Quebec. Miss Mints presented Miss Binnie with a gift on behalf of the adult classes. Mrs. Anderson, of Greenville, thanked Miss Binnie for being with them and wished her happiness during the years of her retirement. Miss Mints was also given a gift by the adult class of the Conway school.

Circus Excitement Running High

The committee from the Kiwanis Club reports that excitement, particularly among the younger fry, is running high for the three ring Cristian circus which comes to town on Monday. It is understood that some of the schools, at least, will have a half holiday.

The Kiwanians have stressed the importance of having the tickets purchased through them, as in this manner fifty per cent of the sales proceeds remains in Digby to carry on youth work in our own vicinity. They have announced that tickets can be purchased from the following Kiwanians: Dr. L. F. Doiron, E. Scott Eaton, Douglas Grimmer, Russell Harris, Gerry Hayden, Reigh Jayne, Dr. A. H. Leighton, M. S. Leonard, C. M. Levy, Dr. (Please turn to page 8)

Church To Observe 67th Anniversary

On Sunday, June 17th, the Southville Church of Christ will celebrate its 67th anniversary of the dedication of the present building, and the 104th anniversary of the founding of the church at Duck Pond (now Southville). Southville is seven miles south of Weymouth. With it is associated Riverdale, which is three miles further on; also Danvers (formerly known as Woodville), which is three miles northeast from Southville.

The Southville Church was the first Church of Christ organized in Digby County when in 1852 Elder Donald Crawford visited the settlement and was invited to preach in the home of John E. Wagner on the theme "I am the Good Shepherd, the sheep hear my voice and follow." John 10. As a result of this meeting eleven persons formed the nucleus from which has grown the present Church of Christ at Southville and Weymouth.

The early years were difficult years for this group. They carried on in the school houses of the district for thirty-seven years before a church was built. This building was dedicated on June 23, 1889, by Rev. W. H. Harding, a minister who became very well known in the Maritimes and across Canada.

Entertains For Miss Blair, V.O.N.

Mrs. D. G. Black, Queen St., assisted by Mrs. Paul Snow and Mrs. Fritz Dakin, entertained the Digby Branch Victorian Order Nurses Board at her home on Tuesday in honor of Miss Mary Blair, who terminates her services with the branch here at the end of June.

Miss Blair was presented with an amethyst set sterling silver pin by Rev. James Brooks, President, on behalf of the Board. In making the presentation, Mr. Brooks spoke of the conscientiousness and thoroughness with which Miss Blair carried out her duties during her two years stay in Digby, and expressed good wishes for Miss Blair's future endeavours. Miss Blair thanked the Board for the gift and the kind words expressed by the President. She also thanked the Board for the cooperation received at all times and extended wishes for continued success for the work in Digby. Miss Blair will spend part of the summer on a tour of the Pacific coast, after visiting at her home in Kingston, Ont.

Regrets were also expressed at the meeting that Lieut. Earl Birt would be leaving Digby shortly. Plans were made for the replacement of Mr. Birt on the Board and a chairman of the publicity committee.

Mrs. J. M. Wallis reported that all preliminary work for the June Drive had been completed and several responses to appeals by letter had been received. Collectors had begun canvassing but to date not enough was known of their success to predict the outcome of the drive.

Mrs. Wallis and Mrs. J. W. Christie will convene a committee to prepare a Digby Day float.

Miss Blair reported that 146 visits were made to homes, with 60% being for bedside care. Twenty-six new cases were admitted. 15 attended the Well Baby Conferences, and 30 children checked at school for infections. Six hundred children were given the Salk vaccine against polio and Miss Blair thanked Mrs. Paul Snow and Mrs. L. C. Carson for their assistance with the inoculations.

STRIKE THREATENS TIE-UP OF HELENE

Hope of averting a strike which will tie up the Bay of Fundy ferry Princess Helene at 12:30 a.m. Saturday seemed dim here this week as negotiations between the Seafarers' International Union, bargaining agents for the unlicensed personnel of the ship, and the Canadian Pacific Railway, operators of the vessel, broke off Monday.

An announcement Monday by the CPR stated contact negotiations carried on last week between the company and representatives of the SIU had reached an impasse with no settlement in sight.

A further meeting of company and union representatives and Mr. Pettigrove, Conciliations Officer of the federal Department of Labour, is scheduled for today, however, in an effort to resolve the differences existing between the railway and the union. It is stated that, if no satisfactory solution of the problem is reached at this meeting the strike will proceed. Already the CPR are reported to be making the necessary arrangements for re-routing traffic should the strike materialize.

Tuesday evening the Digby Board of Trade at their regular meeting decided to wire the president of the CPR, Hal Banks of the SIU and the Minister of Labour urging that every effort be made to bring about an early and peaceful solution to the dispute between the company and the union so that a strike may be averted.

An announcement by the CPR Monday stated the union had increased its wage demands from the original $35 a month increase to a straight 19 1/2% increase, plus substantial increases in standby and overtime pay. It is understood the railway made a counter offer of a six dollar a month increase with another six dollar raise at the end of the year, plus vacation and health benefits.

Last year the ferry was tied up for some ten weeks when negotiations between the company and union broke down. Following a conciliation board hearing the crew members agreed to return to work under an understanding the union would continue to press for better wages and that the company would be given two weeks notice of any impending strike action.

The tieup of the ferry last year created a severe hardship to the whole of western Nova Scotia and some eighty employees of the railway in the Digby area were thrown out of employment by the layoff of the ship. Union head, Hal Banks, termed the tieup a "lock-out" and said the union members had been ordered off the ship by the railway. Since notice of strike has been given in the present dispute by the union any layoff of the vessel as a result of a breakdown in present negotiations will be because of strike action of which notice has been given.

Legion Canteen Looted

Discovery was made Monday evening of the fact the Canadian Legion Canteen at the Legion headquarters in the Forum building had been again entered by a thief or thieves and a quantity of money, cigarettes, candy and other items stolen.

From evidence it appeared the break into the Legion canteen had been made through the Forum building. A board on the main door of the Forum had been broken and the door forced to permit entry.

Locks on cupboards in the Legion canteen were forced by use of a spookshave which the culprits left behind them. A sum of money, estimated to be more than eight dollars was taken, as well as a quantity of cigarettes, candies and other articles. Local police are investigating the break.

Plumbing Fixtures Stolen

Reports are on the increase regarding the number of thefts of lead pipe, plumbing fixtures and other such articles from homes in the Digby area.

According to reliable information, a number of summer homes have been broken into and fixtures taken. Lead and copper piping seem to be the favorite target of the thieves. Although other items have also been taken.

At a mill on the outskirts of Digby a quantity of copper oil piping was cut from a large diesel engine with an axe or other sharp tool and considerable damage done to the engine. At a lumber camp also a stove and other like articles were taken.

It is understood police are cracking down on the epidemic of theft and efforts will be made to apprehend the guilty persons.

Names President

At a meeting of the Digby and District Softball League, held at the Firemen's Hall on Monday evening, A. L. Everett was elected President, replacing W. Lettany, who resigned that position some time ago. Other officers and a complete executive committee are to be named at a later date. Mr. Everett stated that his efforts would be for the good of the league, and added that the teams would have to abide by the rules and regulations of softball.

As of now three teams have registered with the league. The winner of this league will have the option of meeting the winner of the Kentville league in a best two of three series sometime in September. The winner will be recognized by both leagues as the District Valley Softball Champions.

Anyone wishing to enter a team in the league can do so by getting in contact with the President on or before June 21. Team managers are requested to send a list of their players to the President as soon as possible to start on or about June 24. It is expected league play

TIVERTON FISHERMEN DROWNED AT SEA

The village of Tiverton was wrapped in gloom on Friday, June 8, when it was learned that two fishermen were drowned while hauling trawl in the Bay of Fundy.

A heavy sea capsize their boat, throwing both into the water.

Fishermen nearby cut their trawls and rushed to save their lives, but when they got to the boat there was no trace of either man.

The two men were Ivan Prime and brother-in-law, Andrew Elliott.

Ivan was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Prime, Tiverton. Besides his parents he is survived by a brother, Arnold, Tiverton, and a sister, Jean (Mrs. Andrew Elliott), Tiverton. He was a member of Rainbow Lodge, No. 113, I.O.O.F., Tiverton, and a member of Masonic Lodge, Freeport. He was 31 years of age, and single.

Andrew was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Elliott, of Central Grove. He is survived by his parents, his wife, Jean, and three small children, Lorraine, 9, Dale, 5, Virginia, 8 months. Also surviving are six sisters, Freda (Mrs. Tillman Thert), Ontario; Verna (Mrs. Edgar Outhouse), Tiverton; Eva (Mrs. Allen Pyne), Joan, Mona, Naida, Central Grove; also seven brothers, Laurence, Tiverton; Donald, Glendon, Halifax;

About This and That ### Magnificent!

Our title refers, at this particular time, to neither the naval craft by that name nor to the "M.V. Bluenose" which deserves every line of space we have devoted to her elsewhere in this issue. Magnificent is the only word we can think of to describe a scene which involved just two seemingly insignificant tug boats and a loaded barge.

The editor, by good fortune, happened to be one of those on hand last Monday to see the Saint John, N. B., tug boats "Ocean Kiwi" and "Ocean Wake" transport a barge loaded with pulpwood down the river from the town of Bear River through the swing bridges and out into the Annapolis Basin. The setting could not have been more perfect; the tide was high, the water was stilled by almost mirror-like calmness, and the foliage along the river advanced to bring out several shades of green. Against this red funnels on the white and grey tugs and barge completed a magnificent panorama. We have on other occasions extolled the beauties of Bear River with its brilliant autumn foliage but we doubt if we have ever seen the river under such a perfectly beautiful setting as afforded by the softness of the greens for the tug boat scene.

As we approached the river road our curiosity was aroused at the number of cars lined along the roadside. Before too long our curiosity was satisfied and we also returned, took our place with the crowd and awaited the moment when the bridges would swing and the exacting task of manoeuvring the wide barge safely through the narrow passage was over and the crafts deposited on the other side. We understand it is quite usual to have crowds gather to watch the procedures. Monday night was the first time the writer had occasion to see the Victoria bridges opened but when the occasion happens again under such ideal conditions we want to be there with a colored film.

Our return from the town was made by way of the high-land road. The road is narrow, the hills are high, but we have always been well repaid for taking those risks by the picturesqueness of the drive. One of these days we are going to park the car in somebody's driveway and just sit and enjoy that scenery for a couple of hours. We wonder if all such beauty spots in Digby County are made known sufficiently to the tourist. The tourist might be persuaded to linger in this locality for several days instead of whizzing through on the main highway if they only knew.

How Did You Like Your Trip?

That question has been asked the writer so frequently since the return of the M.V. Bluenose from Bar Harbor on Bluenose Day that it is the first title that comes to mind for this editorial. Maybe it would be better entitled "What did you like about your trip?"

Firstly, those who took the trip on the M.V. Bluenose to Bar Harbor Friday and returning Saturday were all invited guests and not paying passengers. The Digby Courier editor was honored with a Press Pass for the occasion.

Before the 9:30 a.m. sailing time from Yarmouth the Black Watch Pipe Band formed an escort for the dignitaries and visitors to board the ship. The pipers in their brilliant tartans and their ostrich feather bonnets, and the Yarmouth Citizens Band in bright red and navy uniforms, added a note of color and an air of life and joyousness as they provided marching music and concerts throughout the voyages. Members of both bands were courteous and helpful as they were questioned by pressmen and guests as to the meaning of the different colored tartans and uniforms, and the varied decorations on the costumes. So with the music of pipers and bandmen we were away with a happy start.

It was the first time that many of us had seen the much talked of Bluenose. From outward appearance the 345 foot long motor vessel was a thing of beauty. We learned her moulded breadth was 6 feet, depth to promenade deck 45½ feet, that she had capacity to carry 600 passengers and 150 cars and trucks, her gross tonnage 6,419 tons and speed 19½ knots.

After being served breakfast, attending to customs and arranging a few details such as the night's lodging, we were off on a tour of the ship. We found a lower car deck and an upper car deck which also stored our luggage. Band concerts and films were provided on these decks for amusement on the special trip. The third deck contained a beautifully furnished observation lounge and another attractively furnished lounge making seating capacity for about 400. Meals are served cafeteria style, we were told, but for the Bluenose Day trips we were all seated at the attractive tables and graciously attended to by the waiters. The cafeteria has a seating accommodation for 112 persons. The meals were tasty and well served under pleasant surroundings.

The ship contains 30 single cabins. Off a small but well equipped and compact ladies' lounge we discovered the children's playroom done in cream shade and decorated with motifs of nursery rhymes. Equipment in the nursery consisted of black boards, rocking horse, table and chairs and other entertaining equipment to ease the strain of the seven hour trip for the tiny tots. A news stand in the second lounge was well equipped with reading matter for those who wished to remain quiet and apart.

Interior decorating was pleasing throughout the ship in quiet restful tones on walls with full curtains of scenic designs and well chosen pictures. A portrait of Prime Minister St. Laurent and an autographed portrait of his wife, Jeanne R. St. Laurent, prominently hung. Another picture which attracted our attention was a painting of the original Bluenose by Earl Bailey, Lunenburg. We were pleased to note that Earl and his brother were among the guests for the inaugural trip.

Among other guests from Lunenburg for the Friday and Saturday trip was Capt. Angus Walters, who manned the first Bluenose. Personally, I was most pleased to see Captain Walters of the old schooner Bluenose and realize that in a way a deep wish of his had come true. Just a few years ago, I sat in Mr. Walters' office at the dairy in Lunenburg (it markedly displaying pictures and relics of the old ship) and had him tell a tale of disappointment at the fate of his famous ship. He wished that the Bluenose could have been kept in Lunenburg as a historic attraction for years to come. The new Bluenose will in some measure keep alive the history of her famous namesake. It was with delight that other guests on Friday knew that the venerable sea captain, Angus, was on some part of the trip at the master's helm. Another happy occasion was the announcement of Captain Walters' birthday on Saturday, the 9th, Bluenose Day, and hearty good wishes were extended from all ends of the ship. As we sailed across the waves we could imagine Captain Angus recalling the days of the earlier Bluenose. Being a daughter of the same part of Nova Scotia that was famous for its racing schooners and closely associated by kin with the lives of the sea captains of the day, my own thoughts were directed to more youthful days when we waited with anxiety for the final outcome of the famous races or for word of the safety of the fishing crews after a storm had swept the sea.

But back to the newer Bluenose. What everyone has been waiting to hear is how the M.V. Bluenose behaved at sea. With all the stories we had heard, we, the guests for her trips on Friday and Saturday, were also anxious to get our own impressions of her sailing qualities. As stated above, being a daughter from a sea-faring country, I may be too good a sailor to judge, but my own impressions of the behaviour of the M.V. Bluenose were favorable. There were occasions when vibration was felt for a very short time, there were certain areas on the ship where we felt there was more vibration than in others as we unofficially tested and scrutinized the ship with vibration in mind, but generally we were not conscious of the ship's much talked of vibration. We sat and ate with reasonable ease on both the voyage to Bar Harbor, Maine, and return.

Just this word to remark on the courtesies of the stew-ardesses and the hospitality of the people at Bar Harbor, Maine, and we shall direct your attention to the news story on Bluenose Day elsewhere in this issue or next.

HANDWORK FOR MISSIONS ON DISPLAY

On Tuesday evening an interesting meeting of the Granville Ferry United Church WMS was held at the home of the president, Mrs. Walter Milo, with twelve members present. Mrs. H. C. Munro presided at the piano and Mrs. James F. Berry was in charge of the program. Mrs. Milo read an interesting letter from Dr. Sidney Gilchrist, medical missionary now in Canada. Mrs. K. L. Oliver read Dr. Florence Murray's address at Pine Hill Convocation and other readings of interest were given by Miss H. Laura Hardy, Miss Doris M. Pickup and Mrs. E. C. Shaffner. Mrs. Clifford N. Rice gave a most encouraging treasurer's report.

A number of lovely articles made by Mrs. E. C. Shaffner, including children's nightgowns and knitted wear, were on display. Mrs. Shaffner recently celebrated her 79th birthday. Her lovely handwork and keen interest in the work of the WMS is most inspiring. Mrs. Shaffner was for many years organist of the Granville Ferry United Church and since the resignation of Mrs. H. C. Munro, Mrs. Shaffner is again acting as organist. Mrs. Shaffner's daughter, Mrs. J. A. Ruffee, is a delegate at the Maritime Conference Branch of the WMS now meeting in Sackville, N. B.

Rev. W. E. Jefferson attended the sessions of the Anglican Church of Canada Synod in Halifax recently.

The ceremony was performed in the parlour under a lovely arch of apple blossoms. Music for the wedding march was played on the organ by Miss Audrey McCormick.

Following the ceremony a reception was held. The toast to the bride was proposed by Victor Cardoza and responded to by the groom. Out of town guests included Dr. and Mrs. Allan Purdy, Somerville, Mass.; Mr. and Mrs. Manning Potter and daughter, Elizabeth, of Wilmot; Mrs. Sadie Dennis, Truro; Mr. and Mrs. Victor Cardoza, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Snow, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Bent and Mr. A. W. Mason, Digby. Also attending the wedding was Mrs. Seraphine Potter, Deep Brook, 94 year old grandmother of the groom.

Mrs. S. B. MacGregor received word from her daughter, Mrs. A. Butchart, Victoria, B. C., who has been very ill, that she is now out of danger. Major Don Wilson, of Gagetown, N. B., spent the weekend with his family here. Mrs. Richard Dunn has returned home after spending the winter with her daughter, Mrs. Robert Mason, of Springfield. Robert A. Marsters and his bride from Windsor arrived at the Hedley House on June 1. While on tour Robert made a special trip to visit his grandmother at the home of Mrs. Geo. VanTassel.

Mrs. E. DuVernet, who spent the winter in Fredericton, has arrived at her home here. Her sister, Miss Mary Peters, Fredericton, accompanied her and will spend a week in Digby.

Government is not mere advice; it is authority, with power to enforce its laws. — Washington.

W.M.S. Officers

Elected

The Rossway Women's Missionary Society met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Ingeborg Worthylake. Nine members and one guest attended.

Following the opening and devotional period the election of officers took place for the ensuing year.

Mrs. David Balser was re-elected president; Mrs. Douglas Andrews re-elected First Vice President; Mrs. Bernard McDormand elected 2nd Vice President; Mrs. Melbourne Prime re-elected Secretary and Treasurer; Mrs. Douglas Andrews re-elected Mission Band Leader, and Mrs. Ingeborg Worthylake elected to look after "Tidings" subscriptions.

The "piggy bank", which held donations from each meeting for the Leper Missions, was opened, and contained eleven dollars and eighty-five cents, which will be sent to the Leper Mission. This dread disease is no respecter of persons nor religions and the Leper Missions are undenominational. Without contributions towards this very worthy cause very little could be done in research or cure. Only through the generosity of the people can those afflicted be helped to a better life and health.

Mrs. Worthylake had charge of the programme. Several articles were read by members pertaining to the leper missions and missionary work. At the end of the meeting Mrs. Worthylake told of the missionary meeting she attended last fall at the Stratford St. Baptist Church in West Roxbury, Mass., while visiting her sister, Mrs. Denton. Her programme finished with a Bible quiz. She then served refreshments before the members dispersed.

Clinton Anthony Burnes Less than an hour after he had attended the regular church service on Sunday, June 3rd, Clinton Anthony Burnes, Fyfe-ton, Digby county, was called

"I know what I'm going to do to that home prepared for all those that love and do the Heavenly Father's will. His sudden passing was a great shock to the community, and at the age of 17 all the more heart-touching. When we have lived our three score and ten, we are more or less resigned to the way of the flesh, but at such an early age we wipe away our tears and wonder why. About a year ago he was received into the fellowship of the St. Mary's Bay United Baptist Church, and since that time has been active in its interests, serving in what-ever capacity he could. Clinton attended the Digby Regional High School where he was a very popular member of the Grade XI class. His pleasant and amiable disposition gave him a large place in the hearts of his fellow classmates and associates. He will be sadly missed.

He had lived with Mrs. Amy Amoro since he was four years old. Besides Mrs. Amoro and among the host of friends and loved ones that sorrow at his passing, there is a brother, Douglas, also at the home of Mrs. Amoro, and a sister, Mrs. (Helen) Thibeault, of Ashmore. The largely attended funeral services were conducted by his pastor, Rev. R. Roosevelt Winchester. After a short service at the home, the body was taken to the Baptist Church at North Range where the pastor was assisted in the service by the Rev. Lawrence R. Atkinson. The Grade XI boys, Clinton's classmates, attended in a body, presenting a guard at the church and cemetery.

The many beautiful flowers spoke their silent message of sympathy and love expressed in this way by a host of friends and loved ones. Interment was in the family lot at North Range.

John J. Burney

Friends and relatives were saddened to learn of the death of John J. Burney, who passed away in the Annapolis General Hospital, Annapolis Royal, on May 28, following a period of failing health.

Mr. Burney was born at Litchfield, Annapolis Co., 72 years ago, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Burney.

As a young man Mr. Burney went to sea. His first trip to sea he was under the command of Captain Clarence W. Crocup, of Granville Ferry. Capt. Crocup is still living and is now 95 years of age.

The Burney family moved to New York in 1905 where Mr. Burney was employed for 45 years. The last fourteen years he was employed as a barge captain for Jacob Rice & Sons. He retired in 1949.

Mr. Burney was unmarried. He had been a member of Jehovah's Witnesses for forty-three years.

He is survived by one brother, Frank R. Burney, and one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth W. Dague; two nephews, Harold U. Burney and Ronald H. Burney, and two grand nieces, Christine and Nora Burney, all of New York. Mr. Burney's brother and sister

Smith — Bodden

A lovely summer wedding was solemnized at St. Rose of Lima Church, Short Hills, New Jersey, at eleven o'clock on the morning of June 8th, when Rev. James J. Coyle united in marriage Barbara Ann Bodden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Bodden, of Short Hills, N. J., and Richard Charles Smith, Charlotteville, Va., son of Mrs. Edwin Smith, Cleveland, Ohio, and grandson of Mr. Chas. Smith, of Barton, N. S.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was beautifully gowned in a princess style dress of French organza with empire bodice of applied embroidered roses and chapel train. Her flowers were white roses with ivy on a prayer book.

Bridesmaid was Miss Charlotte Bodden, sister of the bride, who wore white embroidered organza over pink taffeta in street length. Her flowers were pink and white carnations and ivy in a cascade with crown to match.

The best man was William H. Swan, Norfolk, Va.

White — Young

The United Baptist Church at Granville Centre was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums, apple blossoms and forsythia for the wedding on Friday evening, June 1st, of Joyce

Ann Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram S. Young, of Bellefleur, who was united in marriage to Edward Martin White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. White, of Philomey Cove. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Carol R. Armstrong.

To the strains of the wedding march, played by Miss Roberta White, of Halifax, sister of the groom, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage.

She was lovely in her floor length wedding gown of white nylon net and lace over satin. Over the strapless bodice she wore a French lace jacket with sequin trimmed collar and long sleeves tapering at the wrists. Her full flowing skirt was trimmed with wide bands of lace to match the jacket and she wore a finger-tip veil of nylon illusion which fell gracefully from a coronet type headpiece with sequin trim. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Christiana Young, R.N., sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. She wore a floor length gown of Queen's blue nylon net and lace with matching head-dress. Mrs. Curtis Condon, dressed in mauve nylon and matching lace jacket, was matron of honor. Miss Marilyn Barnes, of Kentville, niece of the bride, was junior bridesmaid, wearing a pink gown with matching head-dress, and little Rosalind Young, of Smith's Cove, niece of the bride, dressed in daffodil yellow from her little yellow shoes to her head-dress of yellow, was the endearing little flower girl. Hector Guest, of Paradise, was best man, and ushers were Stewart Young, brother of the bride, and Emden Hamilton.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Young, of Bellefleur, which was attended by a large number of relatives and friends of the bridal couple.

After the reception the bride and groom left on a honeymoon trip to Niagara Falls. For travelling the bride wore a suit of air-force blue with pink hat, gloves, and shoes, and a corsage of pink carnations.

On their return home Mr. and Mrs. White will take up residence in Annapolis Royal, where the bride is a valued employee of the Maritime Telephone Company Ltd.

Many friends join in wishing the recently married couple every happiness.

High School Graduates

You will find exceptional employment opportunities in the Royal Bank

If you are a young high school graduate with an eye on the future, you will find in the Royal Bank exceptional opportunities. Read carefully the solid reasons why this bank holds a future for you. Discuss this advertisement with your parents. Ask your local manager to tell you more about the opportunities for young men in the Royal Bank.

Facts that spell "opportunity" for young men in the Royal Bank:

1. The Royal Bank is North America's fourth largest bank. Branches number well over 850, with new branches opening all the time. During the past three years we have opened 76 branches. Each new branch means a new managerial appointment... and a string of promotions for young Royal Bankers.
2. You don't need "influence" to get to the top in the Royal Bank. Our chief executive officers, from the Chairman and President down, started as juniors in small branches and won their advancement in open competition. Nothing counts but the man's own qualifications and attitude to his work.
3. Courses in banking are available to all members of the staff for home study. Successful candidates move ahead quickly. Practical experience plus the banking course provide what is virtually the equivalent of a university Commerce course.
4. The Royal Bank has 74 branches abroad... in New York, London, Paris, in many of the largest cities in Central and South America, in Cuba and throughout the West Indies. We have openings for young men particularly interested in gaining international banking experience in other countries.
5. We have one of the most generous pension plans to be found anywhere as well as group life, health and hospital insurance, at low cost to employees.

Ask at your local branch—or write to Head Office, Montreal—for your copy of "Your Future in Banking"—a booklet describing the opportunities for young high school graduates in The Royal Bank of Canada.

Your favorite movie star's smile beams three times as clear and bright from an aluminum screen recently developed for outdoor theatres.

The new screen has won the praise of both audiences and owners. Little wonder the latter like it: one operator found his receipts increased by $40,000 in two months after he replaced his conventional screen with the highly reflective, weather-proof aluminum job.

And so it goes... Still another improved product, still another use for this versatile modern metal. The result: everybody gains by production from Canadian smelters that already account for a quarter of the world's primary aluminum.

Teachers' Study Club Holds Banquet

Some thirty-five teachers and their guests attended the closing banquet of the Teachers' Study Club of Digby Municipalities at the Harbour View Lodge in Sandy Cove last Saturday.

Presiding over the banquet session was Lawrence Hersey, of Weymouth, President of the Study Club. Reports on activities during the year were given by Mrs. Nola Jeffrey, Smith's Cove; Mrs. Charles DeLong and Mrs. Muriel Cosman, of Weymouth. These reports indicated a very active year with special attention being given to teaching problems in reading and other aspects of teaching.

Guest speaker at the banquet was Victor Cardozo, M.L.A. Introduced by Lawrence Hersey, Mr. Cardozo urged the teachers to keep always in mind the need for providing their pupils with a proper and adequate foundation in the necessary fundamentals upon which all higher education, if it is to be effective, must be built.

He stated the past number of years had seen many changes in the educational system of our province. Changes, he said, had been wrought in both the physical aspects of the educational program as well as in methods of teaching and in curriculum. While there is real virtue in many of the changes made, he said, we must never lose sight of the real purpose of all of our educational facilities.

The work of the teacher in our modern system of education, he said, has become much more complex than it was in the past. Many things have been added to their duties which take time, effort and the attention of the teacher. It must not be forgotten though, he said, that the real job of the teacher is to teach and that all other school activity should be secondary or complementary to that task.

The thanks of the meeting to Mr. Cardozo for his address were expressed by Mrs. Helen Riordan and Mr. Lawrence Outhouse.

D. R. H. S. GRADUATION EXERCISES ARE HELD

The eighth annual graduation exercises of the Digby Regional High School were held Tuesday evening in the school auditorium.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Professor A. S. Mowat, Professor of Education, Dalhousie University. Introduced by Mayor Gordon Turnbull, Dr. Mowat delivered a most inspiring address on the theme "Resourcefulness." He took as an example of resourcefulness in various circumstances the adventures of Captain Joshua Slocum, well known seafarer who lived for a time at Westport and who, in 1895, started alone on a successful voyage around the world in a small, rebuilt schooner.

Professor Mowat took a number of episodes from the life of this adventurous seaman and showed how, in face of seemingly impossible obstacles, he had been able, by making use of meagre facilities at hand at the time, to overcome these obstacles and turn what appeared to be serious disadvantages into means of achieving success.

In concluding, the speaker said people were not endowed with the same abilities or talents but that everyone, by being resourceful in the use of the talents and opportunities which they had could achieve what they most desired from life.

The thanks of the gathering to Prof. Mowat for his address were expressed by Warden H. E. Chisholm.

Valedictorian for the evening's program was Miss Ruth Wallis. During the evening two vocal selections were presented by Mrs. Furber Marshall who sang "The Gypsy Love Song" and "Summertime."

The Regional High School Memorial Cup, highest award given at the graduation exercises, was presented by Supervisor F. C. Purdy to Jean Snow for outstanding contribution to school life in junior and senior years.

Ralph O. Wright presented the Legion Memorial Trophy for outstanding leadership in extra-curricular activities to Kay Balser. The Mayor's Cup for Academic Achievement was presented by Mayor Turnbull to Ruth Wallis. Dr. L. F. Doiron presented the Citizenship award to Kenneth Woodman. The Birk's Gold Medal for outstanding leadership in Student Affairs was presented by R. G. Handsaker to Harry Thomas.

School Board Chairman Dr. J. R. McCleave in presenting the Athletic Award stated this year for the first time in the history of the school it had been necessary, because of the excellence of effort of two students, to make a double award. He awarded athletic trophies to Larry McNeill and Garry Murley.

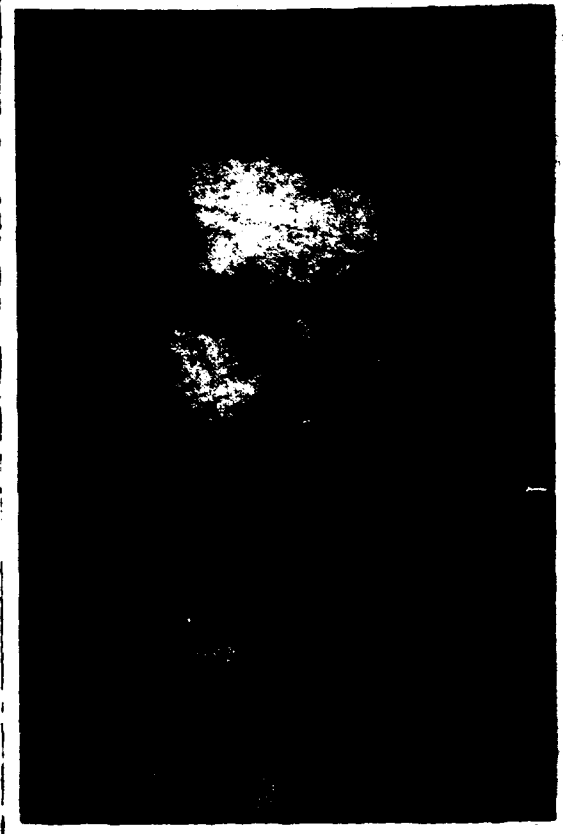

The Messenger Award, a new trophy awarded by R. G. Messenger, of Bridgetown, for outstanding students in a number of valley high schools chosen by student vote, was presented by Mrs. J. Vian Andrews to Sandra Franklin. H. J. Campbell presented the Digby Home Furnishings Bursary to David Ryan. This bursary is a $150.00 university scholarship presented annually by Digby Home Furnishings Ltd. of Digby.

The MacLean's Award to the valedictorian and to the honour student was presented by E. Scott Eaton to Ruth Wallis and Jean Snow. Miss Helen Kirkconnell was pianist for the evening's program.

It was reported at the graduation exercises that 100% of the Grade XII Commercial Class had successfully passed their final examinations. This figure brings the total to 84%. The percentage figure for those securing passes in Grade XI is 80%. Ten of the Grade XII Commercial Class have already passed their Civil Service examinations and nearly all of them accepted positions, some in Ottawa and Toronto.

Transferred To Bermuda

Lieut. and Mrs. Earle Birt of the Digby Corps of the Salvation Army have received word of their transfer to Bermuda. They will hold their farewell meeting in Digby June 24th. Following this they will leave for Saint John, N. B., where they will remain for some time before proceeding to Bermuda.

While in Digby Lieut. and Mrs. Birt have made many friends. In the past two years since they have been here Lieut. Birt has been active in the Digby Kiwanis Club and has also been an active worker for the V.O.N. here. He has also been instrumental in having many structural improvements made in the local Salvation Army Citadel.

Lieut. and Mrs. Birt will be succeeded in Digby by Lieut. and Mrs. Clarence Bradley, now stationed at Bridgewater. A farewell party was recently held in Bridgewater for this couple, attended by many civic, community and service club dignitaries. They will take over their duties in Digby July 8th.

PRINCESS HELENE STRIKE AVERTED

All western Nova Scotia rejoiced early Saturday morning when news was received that a settlement had been reached in the labour dispute between the Seafarers' International Union, bargaining agents for the unlicensed personnel of the CPS Princess Helene, and the Canadian Pacific Railway, operators of the ship, which plies daily except Sundays between the ports of Digby and Saint John.

The settlement was reached before the strike deadline set by the union of 12:30 a.m. Saturday, when the SIU and the CPR accepted a wage proposal presented by H. R. Pettigrove of the Federal Department of Labour. Negotiations between the railway and union had broken down when Mr. Pettigrove succeeded in bringing the two parties together for further talks aimed at settling the dispute.

Final agreement on the new wage contract, scheduled for two years, was not reached until after a meeting of the ship's crew had been held following arrival of the Princess Helene in Saint John Friday evening.

The proposal presented by Mr. Pettigrove and accepted, calls for a general wage increase, a three per cent raise retroactive to January 1 of this year, increased to six per cent as from April 1 this year. The wage boost will be increased to eight per cent on November 1 of this year, and to 11 per cent on June 1, 1957.

All percentages are based on the current rate. The length of time to be eligible for vacation with pay has been decreased, and after 15 years of service vacations will be increased to three weeks from the present two.

The company has made a contribution to a welfare plan. There has been a pro rata increase in both standby and overtime rates.

Program For Governor-General's Visit Announced

The program for the visit of the Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, Governor General of Canada, to Digby on June 28th was announced this week by His Worship, Mayor Gordon Turnbull.

It is understood the Governor General will arrive in Digby by train at three o'clock on the afternoon of June 28th. He will be met at the train by an official party and escorted to the station platform where an official welcome to the Town of Digby will be given by Mayor Turnbull. The Governor General will also inspect a guard of honour from HMCS Cornwallis. The band of HMCS Cornwallis will also be in attendance at the ceremonies at the station.

Following the official welcoming ceremonies the Governor General will be driven to the Digby Regional High School where he will meet the school pupils. If the day is fine the pupils will be gathered on the lawn of the school and if it is stormy it is understood they will be assembled in the Forum.

After meeting the school children His Excellency will proceed to the Pines Hotel where he will inspect the 1st Digby Troop of Boy Scouts and the Scout Cubs. This will be followed by an afternoon tea at the hotel. Hosts for the tea will be the Mayor and Council of the Town of Digby.

At the close of the tea the Governor General will return to the station where he will take his train.

Fishing Reported Good

Salmon fishing in Nova Scotia rivers was reported very good by the Department of Fisheries, a total of 125 Atlantic salmon being landed. Trout fishing in Kings and Digby Counties was also reported good during the past week.

The Medway River with 31 salmon landed by anglers was the best river reporting. The LaHave river in Lunenburg County with 24 salmon landed by anglers was the next best. Gold River, also in Lunenburg County, reported 11 Atlantic salmon landed. Nictaux River in Annapolis County, reported 10 salmon; the St. Mary's River in Guysboro County, gave up 9 salmon; Gasperaux River in Kings County reported 8 salmon; and the Annapolis River also yielded 8.

Other rivers reporting were Salmon River, Digby County; Musquodoboit river, 3; West River, Sheet Harbor, 2; Ingram River, Halifax County, 3; Petite Riviere River, 3; Tusket River, Yarmouth County, 5; Clyde River, Shelburne County, 1; East River, Lunenburg County, 1.

FIVE CHURCHES HOLD ROLL CALL SERVICE

The annual roll call service of the five United Baptist Churches of the Lower Granville pastorate, namely, Victoria Beach, Port Wade, Karsdale, Port Royal and Granville Beach, was held in the Granville Beach Church on Sunday, June 17th, with afternoon and evening sessions.

The afternoon service, which was well attended, was conducted by the pastor, Rev. R. W. Lindsay, with Mrs. Lindsay as organist. The choir, consisting of members from the five church choirs, under the capable direction of Mrs. Harold Hedgepeth, of New Jersey, rendered special selections. Soloists were Rev. R. W. Lindsay and Mr. Harold Hedgepeth, of Princeton School of Music.

The roll was called by the church clerk, Mrs. Alvin Ellis, of Victoria Beach, assisted by Miss Marion McWhinnie, of Port Wade.

The evening service, which was particularly well attended, was conducted by Rev. Lindsay, with Rev. Harry Barber, of Middleton, as the interesting guest speaker. Special music was rendered by the choir and soloists were Mrs. Orbin Everett and Mr. Harold Hedgepeth.

Memorial gifts were given in loving memory of Mrs. Ernest McGrath, of Port Wade; Mr. Samuel McGrath; Mr. Ralph Haynes and Mr. Reginald Everett, of Victoria Beach; Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Shaffner, Mrs. Lloyd Shaffner and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Longmire, Port Royal.

Lovely floral tributes were in memory of Mr. Kenneth Casey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Casey, of Victoria Beach; Mrs. William Winchester, Port Royal; Deacon Hugh Armstrong, Granville Beach, and Mrs. John Everett, Victoria Beach.

The offering for the day amounted to approximately $320.00.

The Lower Granville Baptist Church is the second oldest Baptist organization in Nova Scotia and dates from March 10, 1780. The Wolfville Baptist Church was organized two years earlier. Rev. James Manning was the first settled pastor of the Lower Granville Church. He settled there in 1798. The first Baptist Association in Canada was organized in the Stoney Beach Church (now Granville Beach) in June 1800.

A number of hard working pastors labored on the field during the early years and in July, 1861, Rev. Isaiah Wallace served at Lower Granville. During the first year of his ministry, the meeting house at Granville Ferry was built. In 1862 a church was built at Litchfield. In 1864, a building was erected at Victoria Beach for a school house and meeting house combined. Rev. Wallace, who was minister from 1861 to 1871, reported a revival every year.

In the journal of Rev. Isaiah Wallace, a sadder note is sounded when he writes of the thirty victims of diphtheria whom he buried shortly after going to Granville Beach. Such a scourge was not uncommon in the Nova Scotia of less than a century ago. The record of the ministry of the church in those times of epidemic and anguish is a glorious one.

From the year 1920 pastors on the Lower Granville field have been Rev. W. G. Heisler, Lic. C. T. Olmstead, Lic. A. A. Mason, Lic. H. S. Hartlin, Rev. W. Crowell, Rev. L. W. Mills, Rev. H. D. Hopper, Rev. E. A. Robertson, and Lic. Judson Corey.

The present pastor, Rev. R. W. Lindsay, began his work in the pastorate on March 26, 1950, and during the past six years, with the ever ready assistance of Mrs. Lindsay, much good has been accomplished on the field. New organizations have been started and carried on with steady interest and many followers have been brought into the fellowship of the church. It is with sincere and deep regret the people of the Lower Granville pastorate accept Rev. Lindsay's resignation. Rev. Lindsay preaches his farewell sermon at Port Wade United Baptist Church next Sunday evening, June 24th.

At the close of the roll call service on Sunday evening Deacon Stephen Ellis, on behalf of the five Lower Granville United Baptist Churches, presented Rev. and Mrs. Lindsay with farewell gifts.

Rev. and Mrs. Lindsay very graciously thanked their many friends for the kindness shown them and expressed their regret at leaving Lower Granville, where they had spent six very happy years.

Many Attend Special Service

A capacity congregation met in the Southville Church of Christ on Sunday, June 17th, at 7:30 in the evening to observe the 104th anniversary of the founding of the work there, and the 67th anniversary of the dedication of the present church building. The service was conducted by the minister, Rev. John A. Carr, assisted by the Rev. Wm. Fermer, who had served the church for a short time some years ago.

The service opened with the singing of the Doxology, which expressed the deepest thanksgiving to God for his blessing across the years. The congregational hymns sung were "Standing on the Promises of Christ my King, through eternal ages let His praises ring" and "When the Trumpet of the Lord shall sound". Mrs. Leigh Sabine and Mrs. William Steele sang a duet, "Wonderful Story of Love" and Mrs. Leigh Sabine later in the service sang a solo, "Precious Memories". The three children of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McCollough, of South Range, Alice, Verna and Arnold, sang a trio, "Kneel at the Cross". These young people are the great great grandchildren of one of the charter members of the church, Charles McCollough. The mixed choir sang as a special

Directory Of Manufactures, 1956

The Economic Services Division of the Department of Trade and Industry today announced that the Nova Scotia Directory of Manufactures, 1956, is available for distribution and may be obtained upon request.

For easy reference, the new 100-page directory is divided into four sections. The first section lists alphabetically more than 600 products manufactured in the Province with, under each product, the names of companies manufacturing it. The second section lists nearly 1700 Nova Scotia companies, their addresses and brief summaries of their product. The final two sections are comprised of general economic information about the Province. To facilitate usage, a second colour paper stock has been employed for the second section.

The previous directory, dated 1953, listed 482 products and 965 companies. Assistance of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics has now made possible a more complete coverage and the general growth of industry in the Province has added its quota to the totals.

The directory is, first and foremost, a reference book. It should certainly serve a useful purpose on the desks of businessmen in the Province and purchasers of Nova Scotia products in many parts. Distribution has been arranged to Nova Scotian industrialists, a selected list of companies across Canada and to industrialists in many foreign lands through the Canadian Trade Commissioner Service. No doubt students of the Nova Scotia economy also will find value in its pages. No charge will be made for copies.

Gifts Dedicated

At the regular service at Grace United Church on Sunday morning a communion runner, gift of Dickson Sabine, and a pulpit fall from anonymous donor, were dedicated to the service of God. F. C. Purdy accepted the gifts on behalf of the session and Milton Turnbull on behalf of the Trustee Board. A gift of $50.00 from the estate of the late Thomas Farnham was also acknowledged.

Rev. James Brooks expressed regret that Mrs. William Longaker and family and Miss Mary Blair, V.O.N., would be leaving Digby within the next few weeks. Best wishes on behalf of the congregation were extended by Mr. Brooks.

At his address on Sunday morning Mr. Brooks told of the recent Maritime Conference of the United Church of Canada, held at Sackville, N. B. Many of the highlights of the addresses given by Home and Foreign Missionaries were relayed by Mr. Brooks to his congregation and an impressive account of the ordination service on Sunday was also given.

Among the many flowers in the church were those in memory of the late William Hazelton, placed by his wife and family.

Take Part In Conference At Dartmouth

The Laymen's Perfecting Conference of the African United Baptist Association was held Saturday and Sunday in the Victoria Road Baptist Church, Dartmouth. Rev. Donald Fairfax, pastor of the church, welcomed the delegates Saturday afternoon.

A short devotional service was held by the provincial president, V. I. Upshaw, followed by reports from the various churches in the province. These reports showed that all laymen societies were most active throughout the year.

The nominating committee presented the following slate of officers for 1956-57: Pres., Deacon Byron Tynes, Dartmouth; Vice-Pres., Deacon Howard Lawrence, New Glasgow; Bro. Ryland E. Walton, Acadiaville, Digby Co.; Deacon Arthur Faris, Truro; Bro. Edward Mitchell, Bridgetown; Sect'y., Noel H. Johnson, Halifax; Recording Sect'y., Deacon John Reddick, Treas., J. H. R. Kenny, of Westphal.

The banquet was held after the business meeting when Rev. B. Jones was the speaker. He said, "We must thank the Lord for the African Baptist Association, for without it how would our laymen's council last, seeing all the changes that have been made. There should never be a division in any church, and we should show love in the brotherhood and churches as a whole."

The Sunday sessions opened with a prayer and testimony meeting at 10 a.m. This was led by Deacon Howard Lawrence and Bro. Charles Colley, of Preston East. At the service at 11:00 a.m. the Brotherhood choir of Preston East supplied the music. Rev. H. D. Thomas, of New Glasgow, was the speaker. Mr. Thomas took his text from Isaiah 6, "I saw the Lord." This was the hour that broke through for the first time in Isaiah's consciousness that he was a sinner. The great hour in a man's life is not when he is ambitious but when he needs God for the first time. Isaiah saw himself in a different light.

"It's like the theme of this conference," said Mr. Thomas, "open my eyes that I might see and that I might know Jesus Christ."

The afternoon meeting was held in the First Baptist Church and the pastor, Mr. Kennedy, gave the invocation and welcomed the conference. The Brotherhood of Zion Baptist Church of Truro, provided the music and Rev. W. R. Oliver, of Halifax, filled in for Rev. M. L. Anderson, of Yarmouth, who was unable to attend because of ill health. Mr. Oliver compared vestry was enjoyed by all. The May meeting of the W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Lloyd Adams. Mrs. Harold Marshall was guest speaker at this meeting and used as her topic "Missions in Africa", which was most interesting and informative. Roll call word was "gift".

this twelfth conference to a twelve-year-old boy showing signs of growth. A church may have rich members but yet it may be in unhealthy condition. Jesus expects us to worship Him in spirit and in truth and put away the spectacular. With Jesus all things are of equal importance.

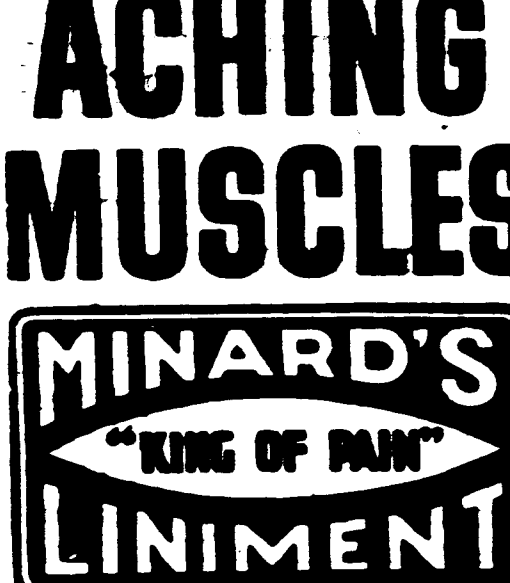

At 7 p.m. the Brotherhood of Second Baptist Church, of New Glasgow, provided the special music. The new slate of officers was installed by Rev. D. D. Skier, of Halifax.

Rev. H. C. Cornish of Zion Baptist Church, Truro, was the speaker. He took as his text, "What shall we do with these men?" Peter and John bore in their lives the influence of Jesus Christ and we as Christian men and women must also bear in our lives the influence of Jesus Christ. God is always on the side of people who are influenced by His will. If God had not been with the men this organization would not be flourishing as it is today.

Because of the implicit faith and trust, progress has been noticed in each of the brotherhoods. May we never, continued Mr. Cornish, allow anyone to cause us to throw away our personal experience with Christ.

The meeting was then turned over to the new president, Mr. Tynes, for the closing. Mr. Cornish pronounced the benediction. The executive meeting will be held in Cobeguid Road Baptist Church, Halifax, on the 2nd Saturday in September.

MEMORIAL SERVICE HELD

The annual district memorial church service for district No. 10, I.O.O.F., was held on Sunday afternoon, June 17, at 2.30 in the Bear River United Baptist Church. This service in memory of members of the Order who have passed on to their reward, was well attended by members of the subordinate, Rebekah and Grand Encampments located in Digby, Bear River, Annapolis Royal, Bridgetown, Lawrencetown, Middleton and Springfield.

The members assembled at the Lodge Hall in Bear River and paraded to the church where the service was held from 2.30 until 4.00 p.m. The speaker for the occasion was a former pastor of the Bear River United Church, the Rev. W. J. Wright, of Liverpool, N. S.

Mr. Wright, who is a Past Noble Grand of Friendship Lodge, gave a very fitting address and stressed the pleasure it gave him to be speaking to a gathering which contained so many familiar faces. Assisting in the service were Howard Yorke, District Deputy Grand Master of District No. 10 and C. B. Miller, Chaplain of Friendship Lodge No. 122. Also assisting in the service were the choir and organist of the Bear River United Baptist Church and the Misses Virginia and Nancy Lohmes who rendered a solo and duet.

The officers and members of Friendship Lodge No. 122, I.O.O.F., wish to take this opportunity to thank any and all who assisted in any way to make this service a living memorial to those who have passed on.

On Tuesday afternoon Mrs. (Dr.) D. S. Brennan entertained a large number of friends at a delightful afternoon tea at River View Lodge. Mrs. D. Purves presided over the tea table and Mrs. Frank Miller served.

Letter To The Editor MARRIAGES

Editor,
Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.

The Westport breakwater is one that is used more than most breakwaters in the county and a large number of fishermen depend on its shelter during the heavy gale winds which are so frequent.

As the ferry and scow are depending wholly on this protection, a breakwater in good condition is a necessity. All the freight received on the Island has to come either by truck or boat. The "Mohawk" uses the wharf four times a week.

Many Grand Manan boats stop for a harbor and a number of the Digby scallop boats are presently using it nights.

During the past month scallop boats have had to leave and make their harbor in Freeport during southeasterly storms. As fresh fish are even brought in by truck from Digby for the fish firms due to poor fishing near Westport, the breakwater certainly is of great importance to the economy of the village, but is in very poor condition.

It is possible that the importance of this breakwater is overlooked.

A Westporter.

Miss Mildred Carty was a visitor at the home of her brother, Harold, and Mrs. Carty, Saint John, N. B., last week. While there they received word of the serious illness of their brother, Kenneth, in California. The brother, Harold, left immediately by plane for Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Shaw, Black's Harbor, were visitors last week of Mr. Shaw's daughter, Mrs. J. J. Brittain, and family, Mr. and Mrs. Shaw motored to Yarmouth to attend the graduation exercises at Bethany Bible College where Mrs. Shaw's son, Stillman Cameron, and Mr. Shaw's granddaughter, Anne Brittain, were among the graduates.

Young — Cunliff

A pretty wedding of interest to friends in Digby and various parts of the U.S.A. was solemnized at Annabel Taylor College Chapel, Ithaca, N. Y., when Rev. Halderson, chaplain, united in marriage Ruth Marilyn Cunliff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cunliff, of Boston, Mass., and Frank Young, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Young, of Seattle, Washington. The wedding took place June 1st with 100 guests attending.

The bride looked charming in a street-length dress of lace over white with pink accessories. Her bouquet was of pink roses and lily of the valley. Matron of honor was Mrs. Elizabeth Lambert. The groom was attended by Norman Chance. The wedding party left immediately for the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Lambert where refreshments were served.

The bride and groom have lived in Ithaca, N. Y., for several years where they attended Cornell University. They are doing graduate work for Cornell at Westport for a few months. Mr. Young is known in Freeport where he spent the summer months in 1955, and also known in Digby.

The bride wore a pink dress with white accessories for traveling. The couple arrived in Westport on Tuesday.

Sherman — Chisholm
A marriage of interest to many relatives and friends in Nova Scotia was solemnized at Miami, Florida, on Saturday, June 8th, at 2 p.m., when Mary DeCormis Chisholm, formerly of Lower Granville, Annapolis County, N. S., and daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. William C. Shaffner, of Karsdale, N. S., was united in marriage to Robert Sherman.

The ceremony took place at the Holy Comforter Episcopal Church with the Rev. Eldon Garrett officiating.

The bride was attired in a dusty rose silk crepe dress with white accessories and carried a bouquet of red roses.

She was given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Captain Harold R. Clark, of Fort Lauderdale.

Her sister, Mrs. Ella Prince, of Lake Wales, Florida, was matron of honor. Mrs. Prince wore a flowered silk dress with white accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

The groom's attendant was his son-in-law, Frank Uzel, of Miami.

Immediately after the ceremony a reception for fifty guests was held at the home of the groom's daughter, Mrs. Frank Uzel.

Among the out of town guests were the daughter and son-in-law of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Dougall MacDonald (Joanna Chisholm), of Windsor, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman left for a honeymoon trip to Havana, Cuba, and on their return plan to visit in Massachusetts, and also spend the summer months at the bride's former home at Karsdale.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman will make their home in Miami.

Coombs — Wright
Miss Betty Lou Wright, R.N., daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Wright, Princetown, Annapolis Co., and Lloyd Coombs, Virginia East, were married at the home of the bride's parents by Rev. Edgar Robertson, pastor of Clementsvalle United Baptist Church.

Miss Hannah Lyghtie, R.N., of Windsor, served as bridesmaid and Carl Wright as best man.

The bride was gowned in ballerina length gown of white lace and nylon with finger-tip veil, and carried red roses. The bridesmaid's dress was of blue net and she carried an old-fashioned nosegay of flowers.

Fitt — Morehouse
A pretty wedding of wide interest was solemnized in Grace United Church, Digby, when the minister, Rev. James Brooks, united in marriage Ruth Vera, daughter of Mrs. Hilda and the late Archibald Morehouse, and Charles William R. Fitt, son of Mrs. and the late S. B. Fitt, of New Waterford, N. S. The guest pews were marked with nosegays of lily of the valley tied with white satin bows. Baskets of tulips and lilacs adorned the sanctuary. Mrs. David E. Morehouse, sister-in-law, of the bride, was organist and John Fitt, brother of the groom, was soloist.

Joseph Furdas, of New Waterford, N. S., was best man and the ushers were David E. Morehouse and Eric Longley. Mrs. Allison Perry, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Miss Marie Fitt, sister of the groom, and Miss Betty Mount, Little Miss Alice Fitt, niece of the groom, attended as flower girl.

The bride, given in marriage by her eldest brother, Donald L. Morehouse, was attired in a ballerina length gown of white chantilly lace and nylon net over taffeta. The strapless dress of lace was made with folds of net across the bodice and the lace which extended below the hip line was caught up diagonally, revealing tiers of nylon net. Her shawl jacket of lace was made with a small winged collar and long fitted sleeves tapering to points at the wrists. A crescent-shaped headpiece of lace and sequins held her shoulder length veil of tulle illusion in place. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink delight roses and stephanos.

The matron of honor wore a ballerina length gown of snip crêpe ailette with an orchid spray, made on princess lines with short shrug jacket, and carried a bouquet of yellow roses and white mums.

The bridesmaids were gowned in Nile green made on identical lines to that of the matron of honor. They carried nosegays of pink and white carnations. All attendant's headpieces corresponded with their gowns. The flower girl wore a ballerina length gown of turquoise taffeta and net and carried a basket of mums.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a dress of navy blue crepe. Her accessories were navy and pink. Mrs. Fitt, mother of the groom, wore a dress of mushroom lace with corresponding accessories. Both mothers wore mink furs and corsages of pink carnations.

Following the ceremony reception was held in the church hall, catered for by the E. & G. Club under the convership of Mrs. Oakley Turnbull. A toast to the bride was proposed by her uncle, Guy E. Morehouse, to which the groom responded.

Miss Jean Morehouse, younger sister of the bride, had charge of the guest book.

Mrs. Seymour Denton and Mrs. Thomas Sabeen, cousins of the bride, presided over the tea and coffee cups. Those serving were the Misses Connie Kirkpatrick, Eileen Woodman, Marilyn Campbell, Joyce Bremner and Pat Thibault, and Mrs. Andrew MacKay and Mrs. De-Mille Raymond.

The bridal couple later left for a motor trip to the Annapolis Valley and Cape Breton Island. For going away the bride wore a pink linen sheath dress with matching nylon duster and white accessories.

Her corsage was of pink and white mums. On their return the happy couple will reside in Digby.

Out of town guests attended from Saint John, N. B., Cape Breton, Halifax and St. John's, Quebec.

A large congregation attended the evening service held in Zion United Church, Sandy Cove, on Sunday, June 17th.

At this service the choir of Weymouth Falls had charge of music. Among the selections rendered was the negro spiritual "I Was Walking With My Lord."

During the service a pulpit fall was unveiled by Miss Elizabeth McCullough, in memory of the late Capt. Ernest Morehouse. This gift was presented to the congregation by Mr. and Mrs. Clark, of Dansbury, Conn., friends of the family. This gift was dedicated by the minister, Rev. Mankind will be God-governed in proportion as God's government becomes apparent. The Golden Rule utilized, and the rights of man and the liberty of conscience held sacred. — Mary Baker Eddy.

MANY ATTEND ROLL CALL

The annual Roll Call service was held at Riverside Baptist Church on Sunday evening with a good congregation attending. Beautiful flowers made the sanctuary very lovely, among which were memorial bouquets for the late Mr. H. M. Mullen and Mr. Ary Doty. Mrs. Geo. Wagner rendered two solos during the service.

The special speaker was Rev. J. W. Whitney, of Wolfville. He stressed in his sermon that we must worship the one God. So often we have wayside shrines for other interests and devotion, and are so prone to worship material things. He emphasized putting the church and its work first, then these other gods would be looked after anyway.

BEST WISHES

Our best wishes for success of the Digby Dominion of Canada Day celebrations, July 2. We urge all Canadians to respond to the temperance cause and thereby serve our Canada well. We solicit your financial support by sending money donations to our treasurer for use in temperance education. We ask your support in helping the cause of prevention against alcoholism by advocating total abstinence as the best policy.

Our organization endeavors to teach the truth about alcoholic beverages so that many people will themselves pledge to be total abstainers. Let us be our brother's keeper according to Saint Paul's admonition, so that no one of us will be guilty of causing another's downfall through usage of liquor or any other way.

Our children's future welfare and true success largely depends on a stand against the liquor traffic. Will you help by sending us a contribution now? We can be your personal agent for the great cause of true temperance; please help us to be so.

More Coffee?

Brazil has been testing portable aluminum irrigation systems to increase the coffee crop. Results are startling: yield per tree is more than doubled. Even if applied only to half of Brazil's coffee crop, production would be increased by 3,000,000 bags!

Our own Canadian farmers have found endless ways to use Canadian aluminum: Piping for orchards, field crops and stock ... foil for mashing ... roofing and siding for barns, brooders and silos ... cans and pails for dairy farms.

Canadian output of primary aluminum is being further increased to supply the makers of these and a thousand other products useful in agriculture, industry, defense and the home.

The Many-Splendored Thing...

Splendor is everywhere in Oldsmobile.

There's the splendor of distinctive Starfire styling—fresh, dignified, but so alive. There's the splendor of rich, custom-tailored interiors—luxurious, gracious and so comfortable. And there's the splendor of mighty power, tamed to go quietly about its task of producing swift, smooth motion.

And this Oldsmobile splendor is not a sometime thing. From the moment you proudly take possession until that distant day when you decide to trade it in on an even more exciting Olds of the future, you'll keep discovering new splendors in this unusual car. And you'll keep reflecting all the while how wise you were in 1956 to step up from the ordinary into an Oldsmobile.

lashed one year later. On June 23, 1899, this building was dedicated to the service of God, and the salvation of souls. The dedication sermon was preached by the Rev. W. H. Harding. Before this, and for thirty-seven years, services were held in the school houses at Riverdale and Danvers. This all began when Elder Donald Crawford visited Duck Pond (now Southville). After describing his interpretation of the Bible to Stephen Steele and John E. Wagner and after talking with Mr. Wagner as he accompanied him to the pasture for the sheep, when Crawford apparently taking his thought from the fact that they were handling sheep, referred to the Gospel of St. John, Chapter 10, where Jesus said "I am the Good Shepherd". Mr. Wagner invited him to come to his home and preach from this text, which he did. As a result, Stephen Steele, John Wagner, his two sons and two daughters were immersed. Later, others joined them, making eleven in all. These became the charter members of the Southville Church. They were Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Steele, Mr. and Mrs. John E. Wagner, Benjamin Wagner, Peter Wagner, Catherine Wagner, Sarah Wagner, Charles McCollough, John Berry and Jane Hassett.

Today there are four direct descendants, namely, Mrs. Charles Amoro, 87 years old (nee Wagner); Mrs. Enoch Mullen (nee Wagner); Mrs. Albert Grant (nee Wagner); Mr. Elijah Wagner.

Mrs. Charles Amoro is the oldest living member. At the service 40 grandchildren, great grandchildren, and great great grandchildren stood up to be counted. The minister took as his subject "Sound the Trumpet", referring to the Jubilee Year of the Israelites. He reminded his hearers that this jubilee of ours was not only a time of rejoicing and self-congratulation over the past, but also a challenge for the present and the future. In all ages the eternal truth is enshrined within the church. It is the task of the church to make that truth meet man's every need.

We All Join In Welcoming Governor General Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey

The visit of The Governor General of Canada in Digby today will be from 4 o'clock to 6 o'clock p.m. Atlantic Daylight Time.

V.O.N. Drive Progressing

A committee meeting to review the progress of the annual June Drive for the Digby Branch Victorian Order of Nurses was held last week. Proceeds from six districts had not been turned in and expected responses to letters had not all been received to date, making it difficult to compare the 1956 campaign results with that of the previous year.

In general collectors were held up in finalizing their accounts because of necessary repeat calls. Those who have not been contacted for donations are requested to leave their contributions with Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Mrs. H. R. Bishop, Mrs. Fritz Dakin or Mrs. Thomas Deveau.

Given Two Years On Escape Charge

Arthur William Wright, who escaped jail here while being held in custody for Saint John, N. B., authorities and who eluded an all-out police search for several weeks before being recaptured on the main street of Digby, was sentenced to two years in Dorchester Penitentiary by Magistrate H. B. Dickey last Wednesday when he appeared on a charge of escaping custody.

D.F.D. Activities

Prize winners at Thursday night's card party were: Door prize, Janet Everett; ladies' high, Margaret Comeau; ladies' second, Mrs. Helen Smith; men's high, Walter Letteney; men's second, Fred Peck.

Card party winners on Monday night were: Door prize, Fred Peck; ladies' high, Cora Skellan; ladies' second, Mrs. Carl Winchester; men's high, Jim Pilgrim; men's second, Dannie Dakin; draw, Helen Saulnier.

This was the last card party for the season which had to be discontinued due to small attendance. The support of all attending is much appreciated.

All arrangements are now complete for the parade on Monday with a good entry of floats which are expected to be better than usual this year and of the weather permits there will be an exchange of floats between Weymouth and Digby, which will give both parades an added number. All entries are asked to form up on the north end of Queen Street, heading north, by 1:45 p.m. It is also important that the persons driving the floats follow instructions which will be handed out to them when forming up. This is to assist the judges in their difficult task of judging.

All men of the Fire Department are asked to be on hand at the Fire Station for their appointed duties in plenty of time, the first time being at 8 a.m. sharp for drivers to Weymouth; at 9 a.m. for duty at the Air-Sea Rescue; at 12:30 p.m. for Parade duty, and at 3:30 p.m. at the Forum.

Due to parade work taking considerable time and circus canteen, the regular monthly practice had to be postponed until the next regular practice night when the final assignment will be completed and following this tests will be given for certificates.

The regular meeting of the Department will be held July 4th at 8:00 p.m.

17 ENTER CONTEST FOR SCALLOP QUEEN

Seventeen contestants from sections of Digby County have entered the contest for Digby County Scallop Queen. It was announced Monday night at a meeting of the management committee of the Dominion Day celebrations.

The Queen will be chosen from among these seventeen contestants at the Princess Ball, to be held tonight at the Hotel Champlain.

It was decided at Monday night's meeting that the Midway at the Forum would be opened at twelve o'clock noon rather than at three o'clock as had been previously decided. The decision to open the Midway at noon was made in order to provide entertainment and food services between the morning program and the parade, which gets underway at two o'clock.

Plans for the Air-Sea Rescue demonstration near the government pier Monday morning are fully completed, it was reported. A navy helicopter will take part in this demonstration as well as personnel from the base. Every effort is being made to see that the large crowd expected for the demonstration are properly accommodated.

All other events scheduled for the celebrations are expected to be carried out according to the program. The massed religious service Sunday evening at the Ball Park, together with the ceremonial Sunset by the band and guard from HMCS Cornwallis will mark the actual date of July 1st. On Monday the program is scheduled to get underway at ten o'clock with the Midway at noon, the parade at two o'clock and ball games, physical training demonstration and amateur show in the afternoon.

In the evening an adult amateur show will be held and the Midget Wrestlers, expected to be a great drawing card for the celebration, will present a wrestling card. As a preliminary bout to the Midget Wrestlers Frank James and Pat Sullivan will present a wrestling bout.

Supper will be served at the Forum and the Midway will operate all afternoon and evening. Every effort is being made to see that the large crowd expected for the demonstration are properly accommodated.

Warehousemen To Meet

Well over two hundred delegates from all parts of Canada, United States and Great Britain will meet on July 2nd for the four-day annual conference of the Canadian Warehousemen's Association, at Digby Pines.

The thirty-sixth convention of the national association for public warehouse management will feature many internationally known industry authorities, dealing with a wide variety of subjects ranging from business financing to the latest advances in long-distance household goods hauling equipment and the fast freezing of foodstuffs.

"The CWA is a rather unique organization," points out W. Dennis Day, Toronto, president of the association, "in that it has three distinct types of business within its membership. These include refrigerated warehouses, household goods warehouses and merchandise warehouses."

The convention theme, Mr. Day added, will be "Keeping Pace With Canada". "We feel this is very appropriate, since it emphasizes the industry's alertness to the need for keeping in line with their dynamic pace that has been set by Canadian business generally during recent years."

Maritime members of the convention hosts, and arrangements have been made to highlight the social activities with such traditional Maritime specialties as a shore dinner, and visits to historic sites.

Keith MacKinnon, Charlottetown, and Mrs. Mary Parsons Johnston, Halifax, head the regional organizing committee. Committee members include: Clarence Thompson, Middleton; Douglas G. Anderson, Saint John; Lyle Wallace, Moncton; Paul Killeen, Fredericton; George Coates, Truro; Curtis Bonnyman, Moncton; and Jack Minshall, W. B. Greenwood and Leonard Hoyt, all of Halifax.

Senator Harold Connolly, of Halifax, will be spotlighted at the opening day luncheon, and will extend a welcome to the visitors on behalf of Canada's Atlantic coast provinces.

Taking advantage of the fact that Dominion Day and Independence Day both occur during the convention period, a special "Hands across the border" luncheon program has been arranged at which J. C. Aspinwall, Jr., Norfolk, Va., will be the chief speaker.

H. Cecil Rhodes, of Toronto, managing director of the association, states that the business program will give particular attention to ways and means of improving the industry's service to the public.

Daylight saving time was first adopted in Canada in 1918.

Well Known Digby Businessman Dies

The community of Digby was deeply shocked to learn of the sudden passing at an early hour Monday morning, after but a brief illness, of Frank K. Hayden, a prominent citizen of the town.

Born in Bay View, Digby County, sixty-one years ago, Mr. Hayden was the son of the late Captain and Mrs. John Wesley Hayden of that place.

A veteran of World War I, Mr. Hayden, for many years, operated a restaurant in Digby and for the past number of years has been prominent in the real estate business in Digby.

Well known in sporting circles, Mr. Hayden was for many years closely associated with the original Digby Ravens Hockey team which achieved considerable fame in Maritime hockey annals. He was also associated with baseball and curling in Digby, as well as other aspects of sports in the area.

He is survived by his wife, the former Bessie Snow, and by one daughter, Loran Hayden, Digby, and two sisters, Helen (Mrs. Lawrence Anderson), of Somers, Mass., and Evelyn (Mrs. George R. Vincent), of California.

The body rested at the Ramsey Funeral Home until Wednesday afternoon at 2:30, when the funeral was held from Grace United Church, Digby.

Employed In North

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hattie have received word that their son, Joseph, has arrived in the north after leaving Ottawa where he attended Saint Patrick's College.

Joseph, who is studying for a Bachelor of Science degree, has found three months summer employment within the Arctic Circle.

He reports it a most fascinating country, about 6 feet of ice and snow and twenty-four hours of daylight. Joseph reports it seems peculiar to go to sleep and also go to work, both in the daylight.

15 50 YEARS
Congratulations and best wishes are extended Mrs. J. A. Foster, who celebrated her 90th birthday on Monday, June 25th. Mrs. Foster, a resident of Granville Ferry for the past number of years, is now a guest of her daughter, Mrs. R. D. Bailey, in Round Hill.

RE LETTERS TO THE EDITOR
Many times good "Letters to the Editor" have to be laid aside without use because the writer neglected to sign his name. The signature does not necessarily have to appear in The Courier, but it is most necessary that it appear on the copy submitted.

ANCIENT LEDGER IS INTERESTING BOOK

An ancient ledger, the property of George B. Dexter, and beginning in 1824, was given to the Courier by Miss Eleanor Warrington, of Digby.

Although the ledger does not carry this information, it is evident that George B. Dexter was a medical doctor and carried on a practise at or near Annapolis Royal.

Many of the entries in the old ledger are most interesting. All of the charges are in pounds, shillings and pence. One item in 1825 shows a total charge of $3.59 against Joel Webber and a total charge of $2.46 against "The Widow of Joel Webber". Following this entry there is the notation, "This is forgiven".

The fact that doctors, even in those days, had difficulty in collecting their accounts is shown by a number of entries in the ledger. One of these accounts, dated November 1824, against Captain Daniel Curtis for $2.39 carries the amusing notation after it, "When he pulled up stakes to go away he did not think to call and pay". A number of other entries show a notation following them, "Outlawed".

Another account which was evidently not paid to the doctor bears the notation after it, "went to Canada clear". Still another bears the notation, "dead and gone". One patient whose account was evidently written off by the doctor has written at the end of his account in the ledger, "hung himself". Another account bears the notation, "a poor fish".

One really priceless notation following a charge of 10 shillings against a patient whose only name is given as "Edson" reads "the damnedascal ran away". This charge and notation is dated December, 1826.

Payment of the doctor's accounts in those days was also made in many cases by rendering service or exchanging goods. One entry for George Hall shows that he is credited with 21 bushels of potatoes in the amount of 26 shillings and three pence and also with wood and with fish. Edwin Reed is credited with 10 bushels of potatoes at 1/6 and 3 1/2 bushels of early potatoes at 2 shillings. One account that is puzzling shows a charge against John Thomson of 0.76. This is followed by the notation, "By damn... 0.76".

Another notation which seems quite puzzling follows an account for eight shillings against an Abraham Lowe. The account, according to the ledger, was paid in full by "horse hire", but there follows the account this notation, "no matter — he died one day".

St. Patrick's School Closing

On June 21st and 22nd the pupils of St. Patrick's presented their annual operetta "The Cobbler of the Enchanted Forest" in three acts.

Words of welcome were heartily extended by the future All-Stars of Tomorrow, the pupils of grades one and two.

The story of the Operetta depicted King Martin the Meek (Arthur Surette) of the Kingdom of Make Believe, and his domineering Queen (June MacDormand) who were preparing to give a grand party in honor of the birthday of their lovely young daughter, Princess Delmarie (Wendy Adams).

The Princess had a powerful champion in Vengefulletta's crafty cat, Machiavelli (Thomas Muise), who gave her one of his enchanted whiskers to ward off evil spells.

The leading characters in acts two and three were played by: Lady Lucinda (Marguerite Doiron); Percival, a court page, (Clifford Melanson); Ladies-in-Waiting, Christobel (Brenda Marshall), and Rosaline (Margaret Smith); Fairy Cobbler (James VanTassel); Head Painter (Floyd Amero); Second Painter (Joan McIntyre); Head Cook (Betty Baxter); Vengefulletta, the uninvited bad fairy (Mary Sharon Theriault); Witch, who got her spell mixed (Karen Wood); The Gift-bringing Fairy Guests (Elizabeth Cardoza, Louise Comeau, Cecile Doiron, Gloria Roop, Jean Dugas, Carol Handspiker); The Assistant Cobblers (David Wood, John Amirault, Donald Ecker, Jerry Connolly, John Amero, Clarence Maillet); Woodland Elves (Marlene Comeau, Yvonne Comeau, Doreen O'Neill, Marilyn Smith).

Special Events Mark Baptist Service

Two special events marked the evening service at the Digby Baptist Church on Sunday.

The first of these was the affiliation service of the C.G.I.T. with the Women's Missionary Society. This service was conducted by Helen Kirkconnell, Helen Harding and Miriam Grant of the C.G.I.T. and Mrs. High Vincent of the W.M.S.

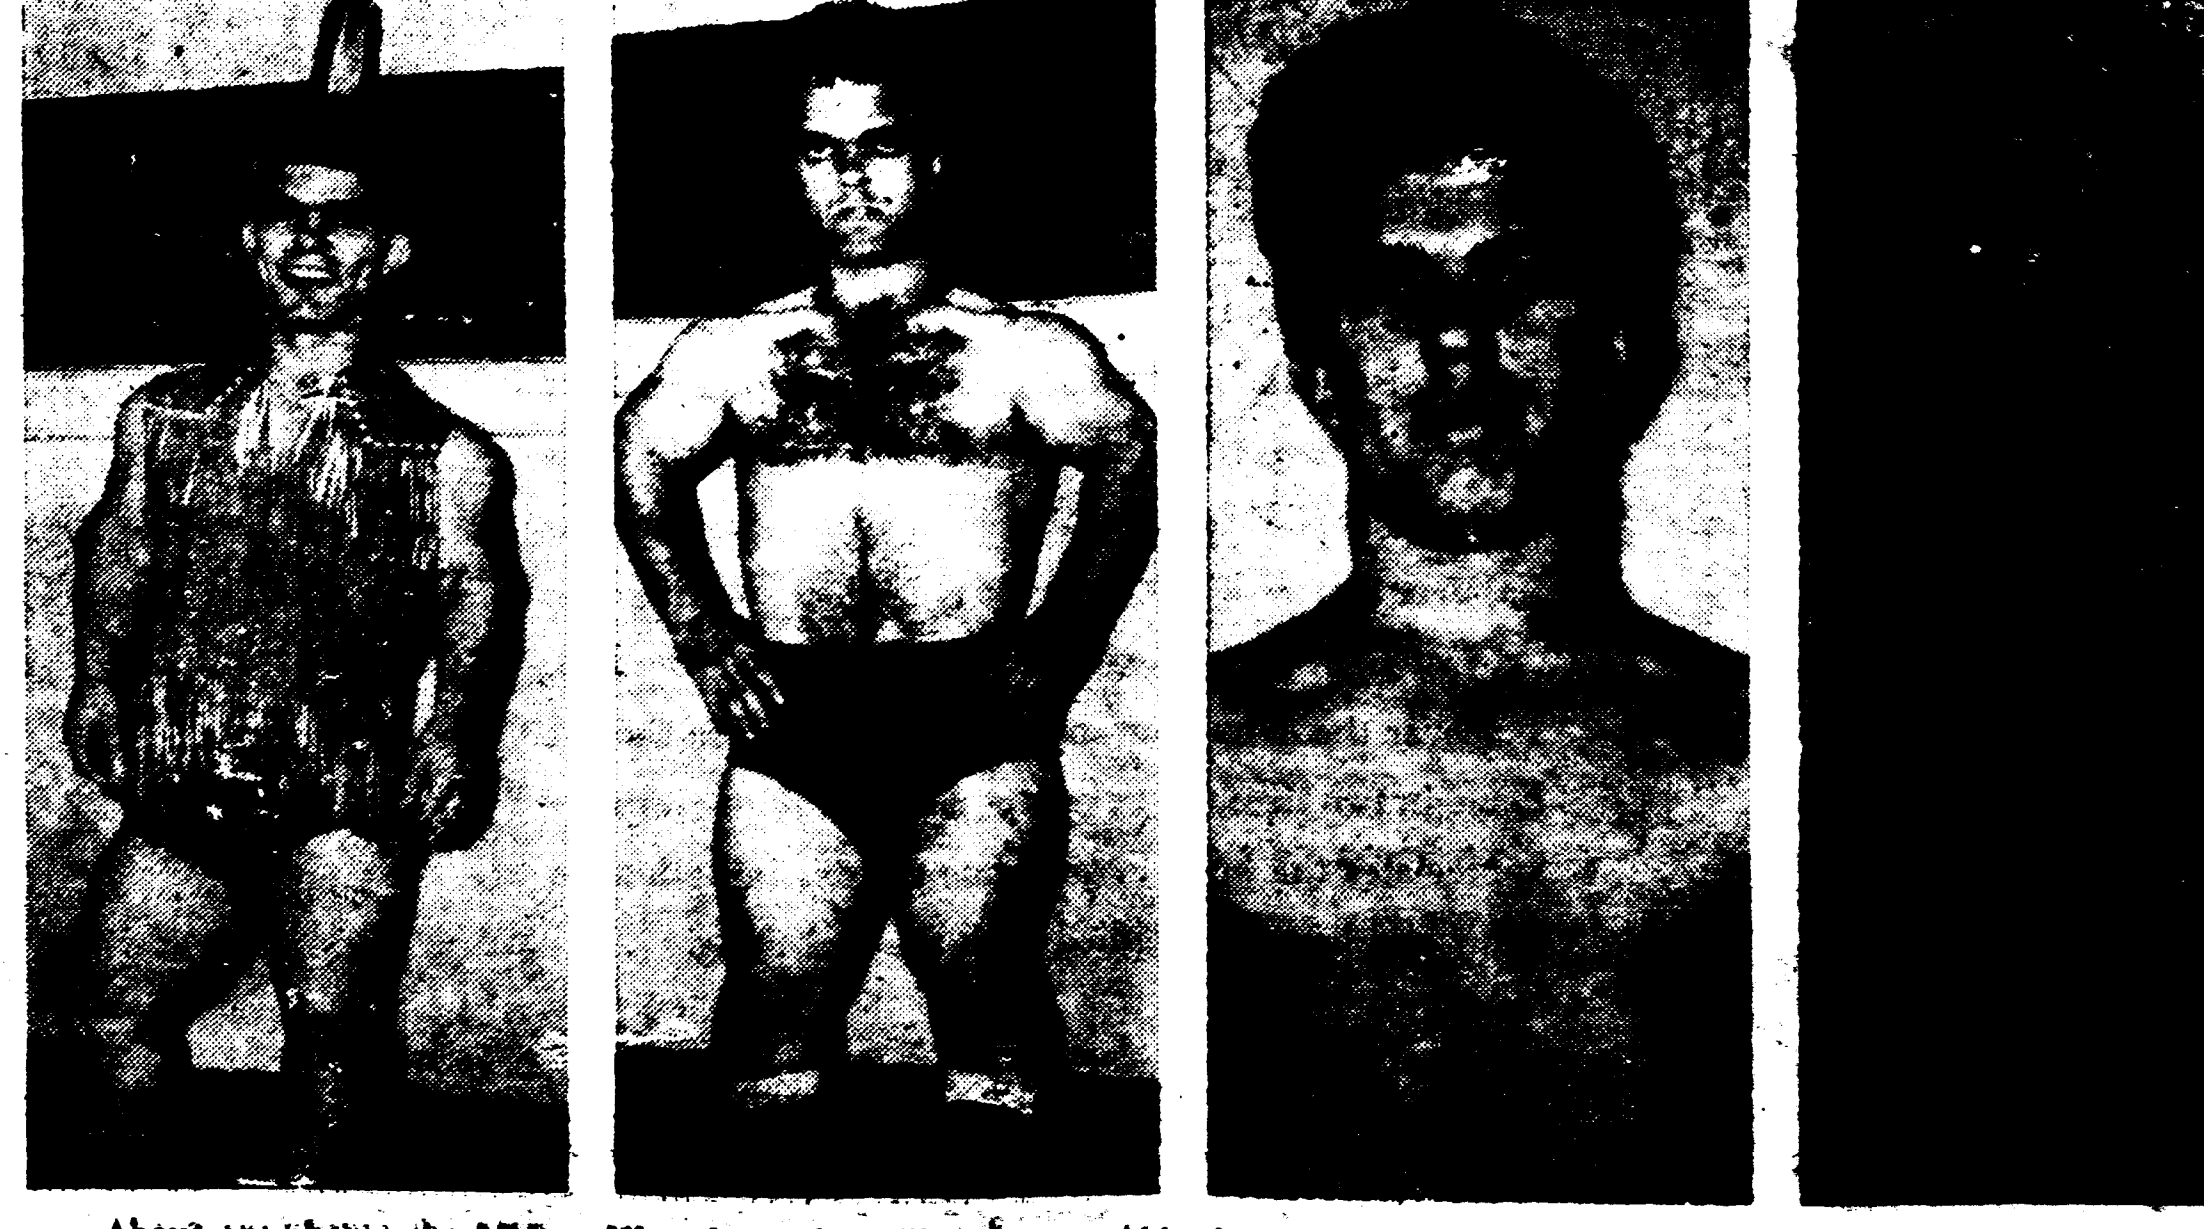

Mrs. Vincent presented the affiliation pins which were awarded for the completion of a mission study and the provision of a financial contribution by the C.G.I.T. to the missionary work of the W.M.S.

The second event featured the presentation of a Dominion Life Membership in the Women's Missionary Society to Mrs. M. C. Denton who for many years has been active in the work of the W.M.S. of the Digby Baptist Church. The presentation was made on behalf of the W.M.S. by Mrs. E. C. Churchill and Mrs. J. W. Christie. They presented to Mrs. Denton a pin and certificate marking her enrolment as a Dominion Life Member in the W.M.S.

Special selections, "Holy Spirit Hear Us" and "Ye Heavens On High," were presented by the Junior Choir. Mrs. James Thornton was organist for the service.

Mr. Dick Milberry, son of Mr. Austin, of Shawbridge, Quebec, and Mrs. Boyd Milberry, left for Saint John Monday to take up his new duties with Irving Oil Ltd.

A cow's best friend

Any self-respecting cow likes to know that the precious food product she supplies is handled with greatest care so it will reach her customers fresh and pure.

From the dairy farm to your doorstep, aluminum is aiding the hygienic handling and processing of dairy products. Milk pails, cans and churns... tank trucks and dairy equipment... hoods for milk bottles and foil for butter and cheese... all are of aluminum. This modern metal's smooth surface prevents contamination, is easily kept shiny-clean. And it does not "pick up" foreign flavors or odors. As one European authority has said, aluminum and milk are made for each other.

YOUTH CENTRE PARTY

Wet and cold weather changed the Youth Centre's plans for a wicker roast on the beach to an indoor party held in St. Joseph's Parish Hall on Thursday of last week. Nearly sixty members and leaders enjoyed a happy evening under the direction of Mrs. Dixon Rice and the social committee of the Centre.

The evening's entertainment included dancing, games and community singing and was concluded by a much appreciated lunch of wieners and rolls, washed down with plenty of 'pop'.

Appreciation for the use of the hall was expressed by the president, Mr. Stan Hallett, whilst Keith DeLong moved a vote of thanks to the ladies for their excellent arrangements for the evening. It was the opinion of all that the evening was a real success and it is anticipated that there will be another in the near future. The evening was financed by the Centre members, out of their subscriptions.

Cecil Dakin and Patsy Morehouse, of Halifax, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Morehouse and relatives in Kentville.

MARRIAGE

Rollins — Langford

A pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Matthew's Church, Weymouth Falls, on June 7, at 7:30 p.m., when Nina Muriel Langford, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Langford, of Weymouth Falls, became the bride of Glenn Robert Rollins Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Rollins, of Akron, Ohio, U.S.A. The Rev. D. F. L. Trivett officiated.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage, to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. Ralph Jarvis. She looked winsome in her floor length gown of white satin, fashioned with a full skirt, long tapered sleeves trimmed with seed pearls. Her conventional veil was held in place by a small tiara of imported Italian lace applied with small white roses. She carried a cascade bouquet of pale pink, white and yellow carnations.

Miss Marua Langford, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and wore a street length dress of pink nylon net sprayed with white velvety flocked cloths over a full satin skirt. She carried a cascade bouquet of pink roses and white daffodils.

Misses Faye Jarvis and Viola Smith were maids of honor and they wore street length dresses of pale blue made on princess lines. They carried cascades similar to that of the bridesmaid.

Little Shirley Langford and Geneva Sparks were flower girls. They looked demure in their white silk dresses. They carried baskets of forget-me not and pink roses.

Little Malcolm Sparks, the ring bearer, was nattily attired in a blue suit.

Brown, of Cleveland, Ohio, and Lester Jarvis, of Weymouth Falls.

Mrs. Charles Langford, mother of the bride, wore a dress of grey nylon with white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

During the signing of the register the choir sang "O Perfect Love."

A reception was held later at St. Matthew's Hall, which was prettily decorated with Union Jacks and pink and blue streamers. Lovely gifts of linen, silverware and a sum of money were received by the happy couple.

The bride's table was centered with a wedding cake and a bouquet of white daffodils and yellow tulips, and lighted blue, pink and white tapers in tall white candelabras. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Trivett.

Mr. and Mrs. Rollins spent a few days in Weymouth Falls, then boarded the Bluenose for a month's vacation in Akron, Ohio, home of the groom. The bride wore for travelling a grey suit with matching shoes. Her corsage was a white rose.

On their return Mr. and Mrs. Rollins will reside at Loring Air Force Base, Maine, where the groom is stationed.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Donald Sutherland (former employer of the bride) and daughters, Cathy and Margaret, of Saint John, Mr. James Ayers, of Digby, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Smith, of Limestone, Maine, and Barbara Lucas, of Annapolis Royal.

Nothing is impossible. We merely don't know yet how to do it. — Thomas A. Edison.

Most modern truck V8's ...and the pounds prove it!

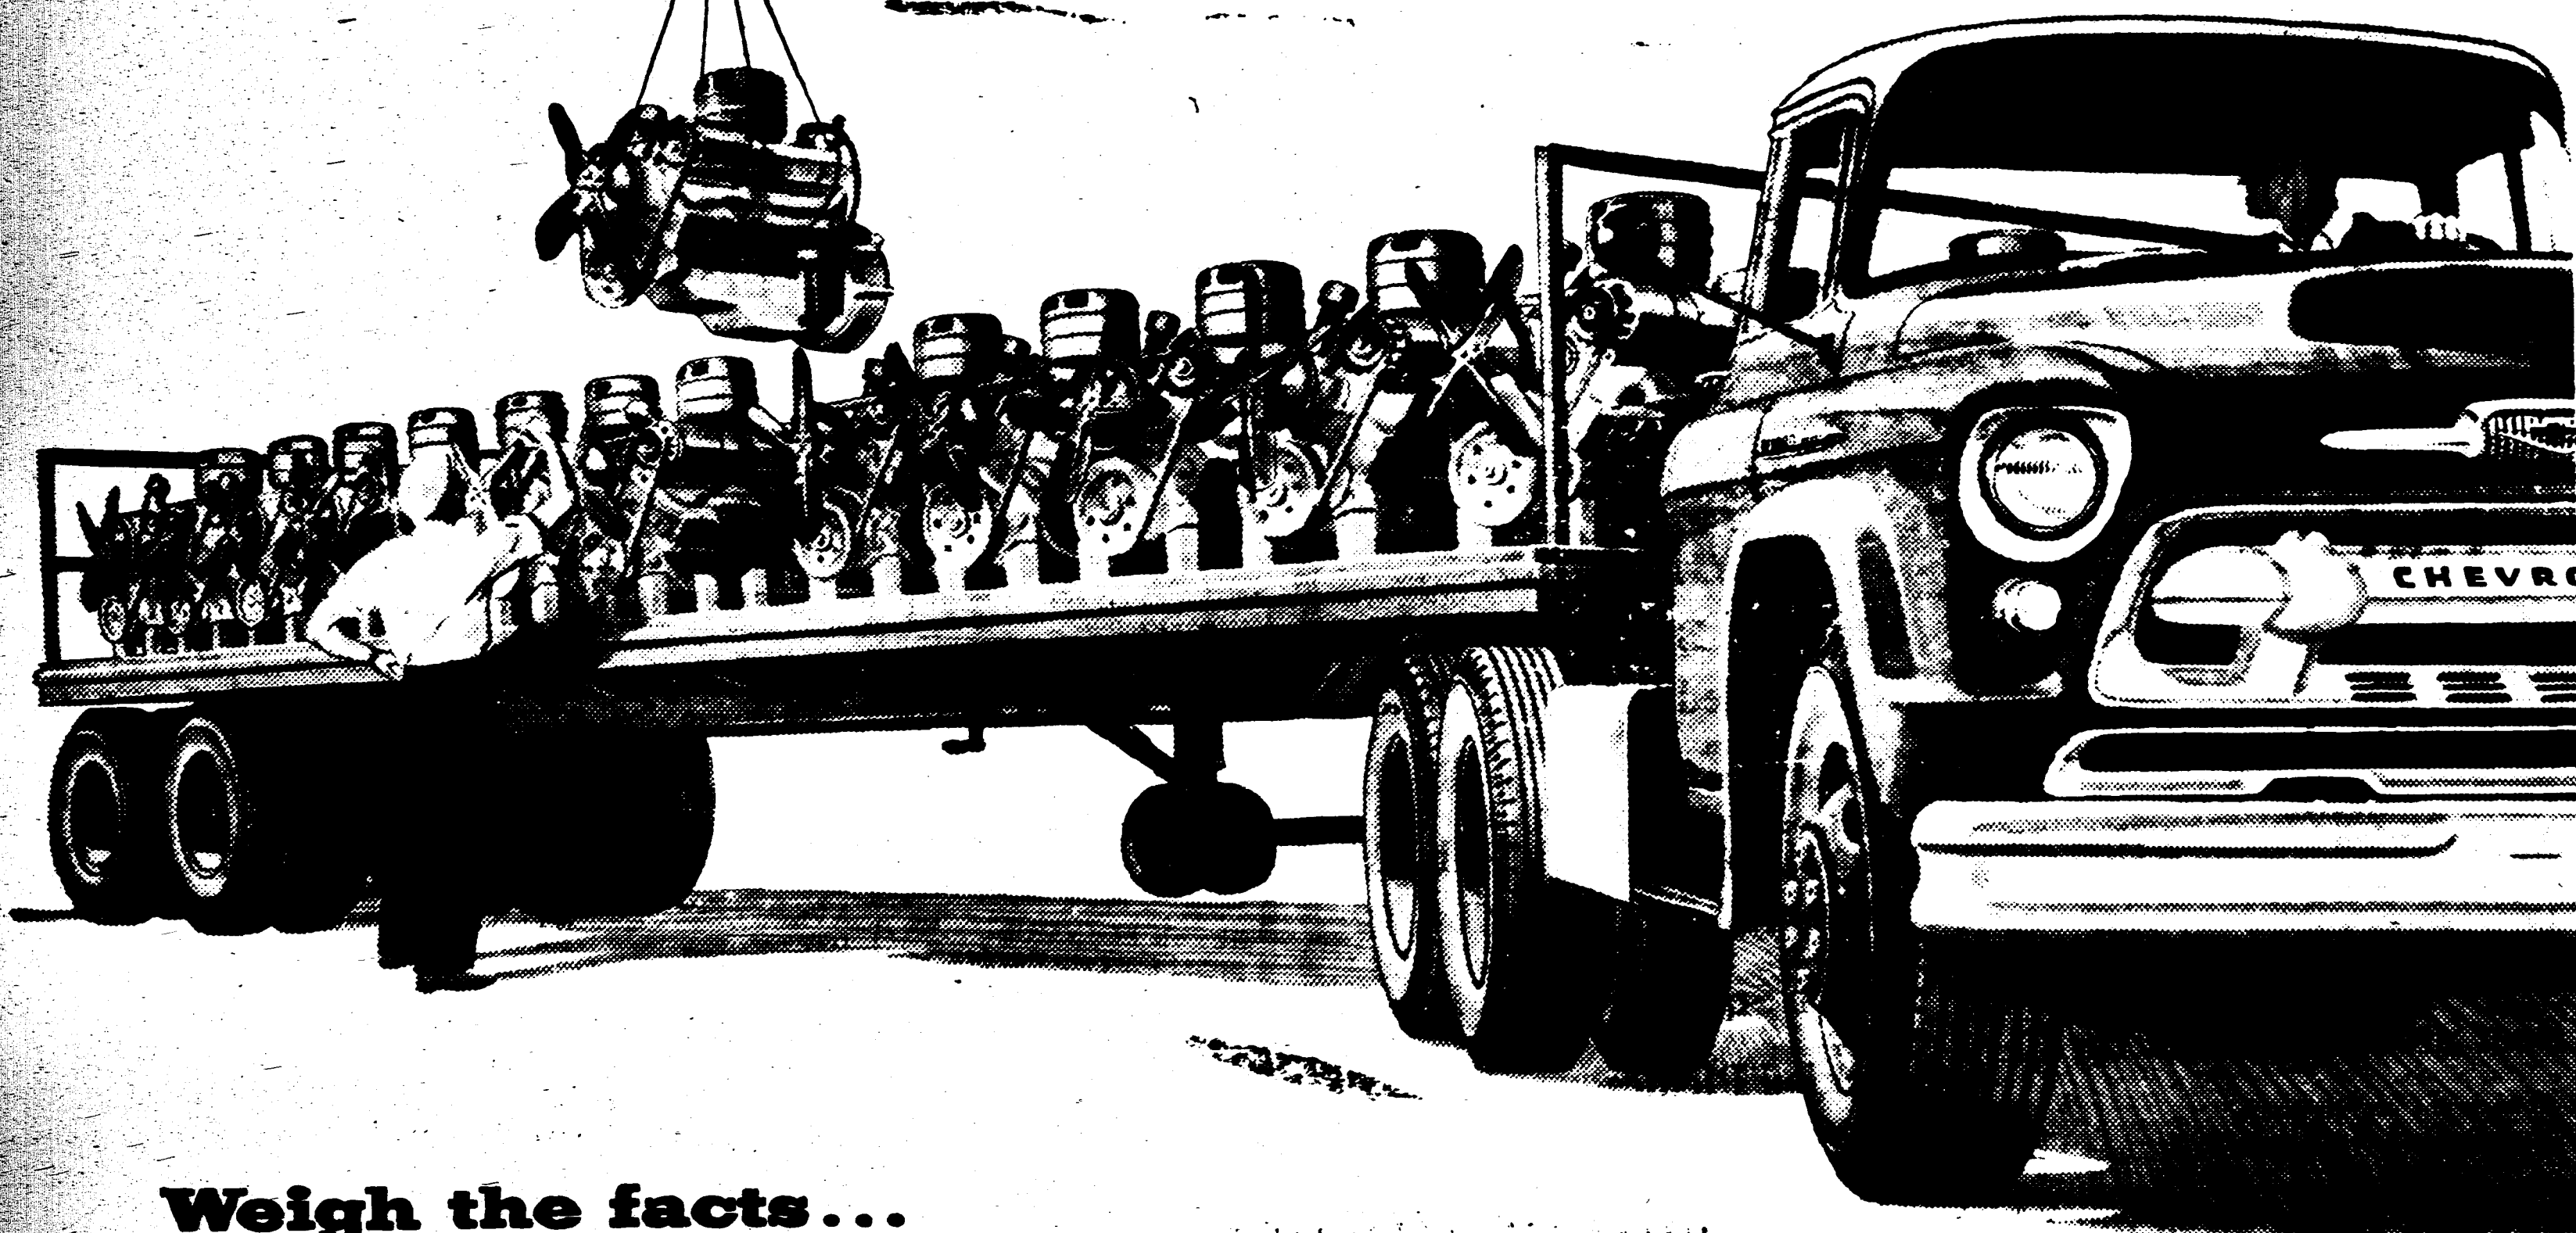

Pound for pound, the most powerful truck V8's today are Chevrolets. That's one way you can tell they're the most modern V8's going!

Any engineer will tell you that horsepower-per-pound is a good indication of efficient engine design. And Chevrolet's modern short-stroke V8 truck engines do more work for their weight than any other V8 in any truck today.

That means they carry around fewer pounds for power they develop. (They weigh up to 200 pounds less than other comparable engines!) It means, too, that less of the maximum truck G.V.W. consists of engine weight — and more is devoted to payload. So, you not only can haul bigger loads — you have more usable power to move them!

Stop by and let us show you how Chevrolet's compact, super-efficient truck V8's can save hours and dollars on your job.

Wasted weight is engineered out of Chevrolet truck V8's!

The ultra, short-stroke design of Chevrolet's truck V8's makes possible a rugged yet compact cylinder block. Modern multiple-purpose components save weight and increase engine efficiency.

More power per pound means more power for your payload!

Since less power is used in moving engine weight, a bigger proportion is available for moving your payloads. You get hour-saving performance on the job. And modern V8 power saves dollars, too!

There's a modern V8 for every Chevrolet Task-Force truck!

There's a powerful, deep-breathing V8 — either standard, or optional at extra cost — in every Chevrolet truck model. Horsepower ranges as high as 195 for fast, efficient high-tonnage hauling.

A treat of candy, provided by the Patron, was greatly enjoyed. The new officers for the next quarter were appointed and will be installed at the first meeting in September when the Band meets again. The officers are as follows:
