1877-1977

One of the jobs I had to do, besides putting and printers devil on the staff, was to... I cleaned one and then... (one day not long after I started to get to the printing plant, I decided to clean the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned for some considerable time.)

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily. He thought the remark pretty good and said:

Sometimes the gasoline engine stops a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and the "Man" if fix it man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results. Man would then stand back and come over dramatically then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of coaxing."

On other occasions when some papers refused duty for me and seemed to be broken, I would say, "use a little oil" and note remark after that all it took. Now often since have I heard of the value of that remark and the actual need of oil in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the time I told "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring season of 1928 got together just before dark one evening and decided to initiate the newly built outdoor Penn Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just east of the pool; nobody else seemed to be around except the four boys, no thought or time for bathing suits, so in the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in. The rest quickly followed and across the pool the swim-

"Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Scouts Officially Open Pines Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the boys? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Earl H. Kierman, veteran of two wars, second world and Korean, was awarded the Victoria Cross; Sidney L. Smith, now prominent druggist for sixty years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby whaleboat lobster fisherman; and myself.

As a young teenager I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day I was asked to contribute about writing your version of the story told about "The Marooning of Jerome" at St. Mary's and read at least two somewhat different versions of the man who was found marooned on a beach at some point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Duffy County. When I read this man's name I had been cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Jeanne" appeared to have been a man of some considerable social standing and, possibly, of some considerable wealth. However the only thing that could be ascertained after being asked about his background for by some family in the French about the something that sounded like the name before he either could not, or would not, write down the name of who he was or why he was left there was that he was. And it is, one of the Digne Communards, and, different ideas have been put forward over the years concerning this man. What was said was that "Mae" was, I felt so sure, the same person as the different about this man. The only thing that I

From the files of the Chamber of January 22, 1967, the following account has been copied concerning Thelma:

Having a number of old newspapers handy and to be found is a copy of the United Town Gazette of May, 1882, says the Trillium and among other advertisements contained in the issue before us is one for hiring the town and township of Duple, and offering for sale certain lots in the town. In this area we are told the township of Duple "extends from the foot of Annapolis westward to the extremity of the province of Nova Scotia, and contains about 120,000 acres." The town plot is shown above.

The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Bay, and extends miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles about 1800 from the head of H. Mary's Bay. This laid out from the water's edge, partly on level ground, and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having with an eastern aspect, a view of the Annapolis Bay, and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in space. It terminates with the Fort and River's mouth at that name. It was owned by Lordships from New York in 1712, the most of whom went early to Britain, or, moving to other countries, left the whole

The question was then debated in some Digby High School students one of which was Miss Digby's daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Moberg of the Thert. Proctor, Digby Co.). Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters. I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print." I was learning to do beginner jobs: receiving some knowledge about things like embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and crumpling paper stock, mixing inks for certain desired values, and so forth. But, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "top," the printer's name for a finished line.

There was a taste of trying to sell plants outside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for pre-cut personalized Christmas cards?" I tried to make several calls over the next few days, but I was not very successful. I was not used to making cold calls, and I was not used to making cold calls.

Thankoffering Speaker

Rev. D. S. MacLeod of the United Church of Canada, Bear River, was guest speaker at the thankoffering service of Grace United W.M.S. held at the home of Mrs. John Russell, Maiden Lane, on Tuesday. Mr. MacLeod took as his text the command, "Go ye into all the world . . ." and entitled his talk "Missions an Imperative." What can we do but be missionaries in the world of today, Mr. MacLeod said, and charged that we are to be missionaries not only to the fields overseas but right at home in the offices and markets and in all business and social life. Science, he said, had created a world in which Christianity is imperative. Education, too, makes missions imperative for it is not the primitive people who terrorize the world today but the educated unchristian.

Mr. MacLeod was introduced and thanked by the president, Mrs. James Brooks, who presided over the meeting.

Mrs. E. G. Arnold conducted the worship assisted by Mrs. John Abramson, Mrs. Aubrey Hawkins and Mrs. Philip Kaye.

Mrs. Gordon Ellis sang as a solo, "Just For Today," and Marilyn Atkinson and Carolyn Arnold sang as a duet, "God Is Ever Good."

Associate members and visitors from Digby, Bay View, Barton and Bear River were welcomed by Mrs. Brooks.

A social hour was spent at the close of the meeting.

The thankoffering amounted to $40.39.

Digby Plans For Fire Safety Drive

"Don't give fire a place to start" is this year's slogan for Fire Prevention Week. It was announced today by Fire Chief George Humphrey.

Digby will join with thousands of other communities across Canada in observing Fire Prevention Week, which Governor-General Massey has proclaimed for October 6-12.

"Our aim in Fire Prevention Week," Chief Humphrey stated, "is to sell everyone on the idea that fire prevention is a life and death matter; that each individual owes it to himself, to his family and his community to think and act fire-safe every minute of the day the year 'round."

Digby's Fire Prevention Week program, according to the chief, will feature a church parade, inspections, youth and school activities, demonstrations and a poster contest.

Fire Prevention Week is the oldest and most widely observed of all special weeks, Chief Humphrey said. Traditionally, it includes the anniversary date of the Great Chicago Fire which, on October 9, 1871, took 250 lives and destroyed 17,430 buildings at a direct loss of over $168 million. For Canada, now beginning the cold weather-hot fire season, there could not be a better time in which to focus wide attention to the simple rules of fire safety, especially in the homes of the 16½ million people scattered throughout this vast country.

Miraculously Escape Drowning

Two Westport young men, Andrew Morrell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sheldon Morrell, and Donald Welch, son of Mrs. Robert Welch and the late Malcolm Welch, had a narrow escape from drowning one evening last week, when the boat, in which they were fishing, overturned. The Passage, where the accident happened, has tide whirls which are dangerous.

Mr. Wintford Garron had engine trouble and was delayed long enough to be near the scene of the accident and was able to rescue Andrew Morrell.

Another boat, owned by Mr. Herman Shaw, was also on the way and rescued Donald Welch. Artificial respiration was administered immediately and so saved the latter's life. The small boat was towed to shore by William Welch.

Although the accident was viewed from Westport and Peter's Island, there was no possibility for anyone to get to the scene in time.

Dr. Llewellyn Thomas, Freeport, was later called to the homes of the rescued.

Home & School Begin Season

The opening meeting of the 1957-58 season for the Digby Area Home & School Association will be held at the auditorium of the Digby Regional High School on Wednesday evening, October 9th. It was announced here this week by Baden Powell, Association President.

Mr. Powell has extended an invitation to all persons living in the area served by Digby schools to attend the meeting and to become members of the area association.

An interesting program has been planned for next Wednesday night's meeting, it is understood. This will include an introduction to members of the teaching staffs of the Digby schools.

Later in the evening's program an auction will be held to raise funds needed for association projects. This auction is expected to be an entertaining and enjoyable affair and all persons attending the meeting have been asked to bring some item or items which may be sold at the auction.

Entertains At Bridge

A delightful social event took place on Friday evening when Mrs. L. H. Morse and Mrs. Eva Wendell entertained eleven tables of bridge at Hotel Champlain.

The hotel dining room where the tables were located was aglow with the warm colors of autumn flowers, including zinnias, gladioli and chrysanthemums.

Prizes were won as follows: 1st high, Mrs. Seymour Denton; 2nd, Mrs. E. J. Theriault; low, Mrs. E. C. Sollows; 2nd lowest, Mrs. E. B. Tufts; lucky prize, Mrs. Tufts.

Assisting Mrs. Morse and Mrs. Wendell on Friday evening were Mrs. J. W. Christie, Mrs. H. A. Patterson, Mrs. A. P. Pittas, Mrs. A. J. Dillon, Mrs. H. M. Warne, Mrs. David Daley and Mrs. C. C. MacInnes.

Field Unit Visits Digby

The Salvation Army Field Unit from Toronto paid a visit to Digby last week. While here Captain William Bessant and Lieut. Wilder, of the unit, were guests of Lieut. and Mrs. Bradley, of the local Salvation Army Corps.

The field unit is a completely equipped van which contains living quarters for the Army personnel operating it and also is equipped with public address system, provision for carrying literature, and a portable organ for use in services where no organ is available.

Captain Bessant and Lieut. Wilder, who are in charge of the field unit, have been carrying on Salvation Army services in many areas and find the unit invaluable to them in their work.

Hold Flower And Bird Service

A unique but beautiful service was held at the Salvation Army Citadel, Digby, on Sunday, when a Flower and Bird Sunday was observed. Baskets of hydrangea, gladioli, mums and many other fall flowers adorned the pulpit and banked the entire front of the auditorium. A canary and a budgie bird in cages were placed attractively among the flowers, giving the appearance of a beautiful garden and lending an atmosphere for the particular worship of the day.

Lieut. Clarence Bradley spoke from Psalm 100, verse 4, on the theme that God speaks to man through nature. He referred to the offerings of Cain and Abel and also in his discourse to a large gathering at the Sunday evening service he spoke of how the birds and animals are tamed and lose their fear of man. He likened the beauty of the flowers to man in that they last for a short period of time as the seasons come and go.

Lieut. Bradley expressed his thanks to those who had contributed flowers and loaned items for the occasion, including members of the Salvation Army, the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society, the Digby Garden Club, the Pines Hotel and Cameron's Florist.

After the service on Sunday night the flowers were taken to the Digby General Hospital to cheer the patients and to provide a bit of outdoor nature for those shut in.

A harvest home service is planned for the Salvation Army on the coming Sunday.

90 Years Old

Samuel Hutchins celebrated quietly his 90th birthday on September 18 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. David Balser, Roxville, a few miles from the village of Rossway, where he was born.

Although failing sight overcame Mr. Hutchins in the last few years, he is in other ways physically fit and is keen of mind. His friends who call to see him are generally greeted with "What's the news in the papers and on the radio?", and Mr. Hutchins then shows an active interest in current affairs.

Next month Mr. and Mrs. Hutchins, who was the former Jane Sabine, of New Tuskent, N. S., will celebrate their 63rd wedding anniversary.

Honoured On Departure

On Friday evening a surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dittmars, Deep Brook, in honor of Mrs. Annette Litchfield, who left on Saturday for California.

A very pleasant evening was enjoyed and at the close she was presented with a small gift by Mrs. Garnet Benson on behalf of the St. Matthew's Guild. Dainty refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Miss Evelyn Purdy.

Rare Bird Sighted At Westport

A clapper rail, a thin gray bird that usually inhabits salt marshes from Connecticut southward, was identified near Westport on Brier Island on September 24th by a field party of the Nova Scotia Bird Society.

As one had been reported from Sable River, Shelburne County, earlier in the month, it seems likely that some storm recently brought a number of birds of this kind to our province. This rail has not previously been included in the list of Nova Scotia birds.

Other stray bird visitors that this field party found on Brier Island between September 21st and 25th are a western kingbird, a dickcissel, a yellow-billed cuckoo and two mourning doves. Bird migration on this island was brought nearly to a standstill by the foggy weather that prevailed from the 21st to the 24th, but clear sunny weather on the 25th was accompanied by many migrating birds, including a large flock of blue jays.

The pheasant population of Brier Island was found to be at a very low ebb. The gunners of Westport are missing much good sport that might be had if these birds were allowed to build up and maintain a thriving population.

The field party consisted of John Comer, Wickerson Lent, Harrison F. Lewis and Willett J. Mills. In five days these authorized workers put numbered metal bands on 91 birds of 21 different kinds.

Anyone finding a bird with one of these bands is asked to report it to the Nova Scotia Bird Society, 100 Spring Garden Road, Halifax, or to the Canadian Wildlife Service, Ottawa.

The complete number on the band and the place and date of its discovery should be stated.

Brothers & Sisters Hold Reunion

Re-united for the first time in 48 years, the six daughters and seven sons of the late Mr. and Mrs. Francois Thimot celebrated their reunion at the old family homestead in Little Brook.

Ranging in age from 72 to 48 years, they are the surviving members of a family of 15 children. Two of them had to come from Massachusetts to attend the reunion but the rest still live in Digby county. Six of them, including one of the daughters, have remained in Little Brook.

Sisters and brothers at the reunion were: Mrs. Gilbert Doucet (Mary), 72, New Edinburgh; Mrs. Jules Deveau (Amy), 69, Meteghan; Louis, 68, Little Brook; Miss Evangeline Thimot, 64, Somerville, Mass.; Miss Elize Thimot, 62, Little Brook; Edmond, 62, Tiverton; Mrs. Gilles LeBlanc, (Ella), 60, Weaver Settlement; Leo, 58, Little Brook; Alphe, 57, Little Brook; Ulysse, 55, Little Brook; Camille, 53, Haverhill, Mass.; Mrs. Jean Comeau (Therese), 52, Comeauville; and Alfred, 48, Little Brook.

Four of the men, Edmond, Leo, Ulysse and Camille, are carpenters, and Louis practised the same craft until his retirement a short time ago. Alphe, who lives on the homestead, is a farmer and Alfred, Little Brook's fire chief, is a milk rancher and contractor with the local firm of Thimot and Comeau. This firm has just completed the glebe house in Church Point and has been particularly engaged in wharf and pier construction in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick.

Vote To Continue Daylight Time

The Town of Digby will remain on Daylight Saving Time until October 27th, it was decided by the Town Council in special session here Tuesday morning.

By a vote of 4-1 the Council decided to continue the Daylight Time until the date agreed upon by the Council at a regular session last year.

It was pointed out the Digby Town Council had waited to make their original decision regarding the period for "fast" time until they were assured the towns in the Valley area were all going to cooperate with a request from the Railway to have daylight time continue until October 27th, in line with their national time table schedule.

Disappointment was expressed at the meeting that these Valley towns had decided individually to change their stand on the matter, thus creating a confusing situation.

Mayor Turnbull said he had become concerned about the matter when he first learned that some towns were changing. He said he had been advised that the Annapolis Royal Town Council had confirmed the October date at a meeting last Monday but that the Mayor of that town had issued a proclamation on Saturday setting September 28th as the date to revert to standard time.

The Mayor said considerable opposition was being heard with regard to the decision to change. He said also he had been contacted by the chairman of the Annapolis Municipal School Board with a request that Digby revert to standard time immediately because of the effect on pupils from Bear River attending school in Digby.

He said he had contacted the chairman of the Municipal School Board and had been advised school busses would operate on Standard Time effective Tuesday and had therefore decided to convene a Council meeting to discuss the time question.

It was pointed out at the meeting more than half the pupils attending public school in Digby are from the rural area and that operation of the busses on Standard Time would mean these pupils would not arrive at school until ten o'clock each morning.

Several Councillors expressed themselves of the opinion that the Council had acted in good faith when making the original decision about the period for daylight time and that this decision should stand. Mayor Turnbull said that Digby was the only town which had fully honoured the agreement.

Juvenile Gun Users Cause Complaints

A number of complaints have been heard recently concerning the use of "B.B." guns and 22 rifles by youngsters.

It is understood one resident of the Shore Road has had considerable damage done to his house and other building by 22 rifle bullets which have smashed windows and done other damage to the buildings.

In the town complaints have been heard with regard to the killing and wounding of household pets and birds with "B.B." guns in the hands of juveniles. Some residents also report windows broken by pellets from these guns.

Digby Pines Hotel Purchased

The Eastern Trust Company has purchased the three Canadian Pacific Railway hotels in Nova Scotia, the Digby Pines, Lakeside Inn and Cornwallis Inn, on behalf of Motel and Hotel Properties Ltd. of Nova Scotia, it was announced Friday by R. A. Mackie, general manager of CPR hotels. Sale price of the hotels has not been disclosed.

The new hotel company which purchased the CPR hotels has a three man board of directors. These are A. J. Garinther, of Montreal; John Kersley, owner of the Pictou Lodge; and Stanley LeBlanc, of Halifax. Although no announcement has been made by the directors, it is understood two of the hotels will remain open for a longer season under the new management. These are the Pines and Lakeside, which have been operating on a June-September schedule. Possibility was seen they might operate under new management the year 'round.

The CPR put the three hotels up for sale in April. Negotiations with Eastern Trust had been carried on for about two months.

Digby Pines consists of a resort hotel, 31 cottages, an 18-hole golf course, tennis courts and a swimming pool. It was built in stages from 1928 to 1937.

The Cornwallis Inn, a modern all-year hotel of fireproof construction, containing 97 rooms, was built in 1930.

Lakeside Inn is a resort hotel of old English architecture, with five cottages overlooking Milo Lake. It was completed in 1931.

The CPR earlier indicated the three hotels would be closed down if they could not be sold. The railway said it would keep the Cornwallis Inn open until the end of this year.

The Cornwallis Inn was officially opened in December, 1929, by late Nova Scotia premier Gordon S. Harrington. Since that time it has been a popular convention centre, hosting more conventions than any other provincial hotel outside Halifax.

The Digby Pines has been a popular tourist resort for 20 years.

The Lakeside Inn and the Pines were not operated during the war years, 1941-45. The Pines has accommodations for 310 guests and last summer employed 108.

Lakeside Inn, located on a 50-acre property, accommodates about 120 guests and had a staff of 50 this summer.

The last Canadian Pacific managers of these hotels have been assigned to new posts. H. S. Walker, of Digby Pines, has been appointed manager of Devil's Gap Lodge, Kenora, Ont., and Lloyd Margeson will go from Yarmouth to Winnipeg's Royal Alexandra Hotel.

J. W. CHRISTIE PROBATE REGISTRAR

According to information received by the Courier, J. W. Christie, of Digby, has been appointed Registrar of Probate for this district.

Mr. Christie succeeds Roscoe G. Handspliker, whose appointment has been revoked.

to AST, effective October 5th.

Just before press time yesterday the Courier learned that plans are underway to have school busses, serving the Digby public schools, operate on Standard Time, probably commencing on Monday, Digby School Board chairman, Dr. J. R. McCleave, says that if this is done Digby public schools will probably have to commence morning classes at ten o'clock. An announcement about the change in school bus schedules is expected today.

Thanksgiving October 14

A burning question on the islands of Digby Neck has been settled by a recent vice-regal proclamation. This proclamation sets the date for Thanksgiving in Canada this year as October 14th, and proclaims a public national holiday on that date.

Recently a writer from the islands asked the Courier to help in finding out what date Thanksgiving comes on this year and we are happy that a proclamation has now decided the matter.

According to this writer no one on the islands was sure of the date and this was causing a great deal of confusion on the part of those who wanted to get a turkey for the occasion.

To Present Ceremony For Queen

HMCS Cornwallis will be represented by forty new entries at the Sunset Ceremony on Parliament Hill in Ottawa on October 14, following the opening of Parliament by Her Majesty, Queen Elizabeth.

The historic ceremony, which dates back to the 12th century, will be presented by officers and men of the navy's Atlantic Command and will include an honour guard of 48 men, a fifty piece band and two gun crews from HMCS Cornwallis.

The Sunset Ceremony, which is one of the oldest military rituals, is sometimes called "beating retreat". It is believed to have originated with the Crusades when fighting ceased at sunset and warriors were recalled to their camp by the roll of drums.

At The Capitol This Week

Outside the Fort, the Sioux are attacking while inside the troops are revolting, resulting in a thrill upon thrill in this "true to life" episode of early American history in "The Revolt at Fort Laramie," the natural color weekend thriller now playing the Capitol along with "Coppers and Cops," "Guided Muscle" and "Football Royal."

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, the glorious epic of the sea, "The Battle of the River Plate," starring John Gargery, Peter Finch, Anthony Quayle. This masterful production in Technicolor and VistaVision—a Royal Command performance film, shows in detail the death of the Graf Spee, out-gunned, out-manned and out-ranged three fighting terriers attacked and destroyed this great tiger of the seas in one of the screen's most sensational battles.

Marriage

A pretty wedding of interest was celebrated at St. Luke's Anglican Church, Saint John, on Saturday, September 21st, at 3 p.m., when Rev. G. Philpotts united in marriage Lois Rae, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lovette E. R. Winchester, formerly of Digby, and Constable H. Angus MacKenzie, RCMP, son of Mr. G. A. MacKenzie and the late Mrs. MacKenzie, of Shelburne, N. S.

Vases of white mums adorned the altar and standards containing red and white gladioli were used for decoration in the church. The soloist was Mrs. George F. Elford.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was attended by Miss Janis M. Winchester, her sister, as maid of honor, and Miss Merline Wilson as the bridesmaid. The groom was attired in the dress uniform of the RCMP and was attended by Constable R. H. MacDonald, best man, and Constables R. Swin and H. McMonagle as ushers, also in dress uniform.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of silk organza fashioned with a princess bodice, full skirt worn over a hoop, short sleeves and matching elbow-length gloves. She carried a bouquet of red carnations, white stephanotis and green ivy. Her headpiece was a pearl and sequined tiara from which fell an elbow-length veil of tulle. She wore a matching set of pearl earrings and necklace, gift of the groom.

The maid of honour and bridesmaid wore matching ballerina-length dresses of gold crystal, fashioned with princess bodice, bustle bow at the back, Sabrina neckline and elbow-length sleeves. They wore matching headpieces, gloves and shoes, and carried bouquets of yellow and bronze mums centred with a single yellow rose.

The bride's mother wore a blue silk dress with matching jacket and pink accessories, and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses. The stepmother of the groom wore a pink wool dress and matching accessories. Her corsage was of white stephanotis.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Admiral Beatty Hotel. A toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Paul M. Winchester, uncle of the bride, to which the groom responded. Later the couple left on a trip to Ottawa and the United States. For travelling the bride wore a brown fall suit and brown shoes, matching accessories of tan and gold, and a corsage of bronze and yellow roses.

The bride is a recent graduate of the Saint John General Hospital.

Upon their return they will reside on Grand Manan Island, where the groom has been posted.

Has Pleasant Surprise

Mr. Waters Comeau, of Rossary, was pleasantly surprised on Thursday, September 12th, when he received a telephone call from a man who was at the Tourist Information Bureau at Digby, saying he was from out West and wanted to come down to see him to surprise him.

When he, Mr. Watson Hale, and his friend, Mr. Emil Erickson, arrived, he, Mr. Hale, turned out to be Mr. Comeau's employer of over thirty years ago out West in the days of the Harvester's Excursions. Mr. Hale is from Hemsford, Sask., where Mr. Comeau worked three different falls on his grain farm. Mr. Erickson is from northern California.

After spending the afternoon reminiscing, the three men drove down Digby Neck where they called on Mr. Edmund Titus, of Centerville, and Mr. Kenneth Carty, of Sandy Cove, who also had worked for him. After returning from the drive they had supper at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Waters Comeau.

Both exclaimed over the beauty of the Maritime Provinces.

They left Saskatchewan over two months ago and have been touring across Canada ever since, coming from P.E.I. across to Pictou, then up and around the Cabot Trail, down to Halifax and the Valley to Rossary.

Mr. Erickson, who is a world-wide traveller and only last year visited the Holy Land, says no place has exceeded Nova Scotia in scenic beauty.

ANNIVERSARY

On Sunday, Sept. 29th, the United Church of Canada celebrated its 96th anniversary.
 This beautiful church was dedicated February 13, 1860 to the Wesleyan Methodist congregation of Hillsburgh, Nova Scotia.
 The church was dedicated to the worship of God. This was done by their minister, Frederick Smallwood. Down through the years many people have worshipped here and have served their church faithfully. This generation will recall the 63 years of a faithful organist, Mr.
 Ralph H. Purdy, who at the tender age of 12 started to play the organ.

Rev. D. S. McLeod preached at the morning service and read from the First Corinthians, chapter I. His text was taken from the second verse.

In his sermon he reminded us of our beautiful place of worship and how well it was equipped, but, we should pause to pay tribute to those who built the church so well, and to their descendants and others who have laboured to keep it a very worthy place of worship. "We need to be reminded," he said, "that the life of the church is more than routine. The real life of the church is in the adoration of God in Christ, in the worship of Him, and prayer to Him, in its heartfelt faith in Him, and its total self-commitment to Him."

A full choir sang two beautiful anthems in keeping with the sermon. The organist was Mrs. D. Henshaw. The altar was decorated with beautiful fall flowers.

The evening service was also

The Bear River Branch of the Women's Progressive Conservative Association had a delightful picnic last Thursday at the summer home of Mr. and Mrs.
 Roy Snell on Lake Joli. It was a glorious September day. The cars arrived at the lake between 11 and 12 noon. The social committee under the leadership of Mrs. Stuart Potter, collected the food which members brought with them, and soon a most delicious meal was served.

After dinner a short semi-annual meeting was held. Later on members wandered through the woods or sat in the sun beside the lake. There was a large attendance with Clementsvale and Bear River East being well represented, as was Bear River. Before leaving Mrs. Mansford Willes proposed a hearty vote of thanks to Mrs. Snell for her kindness and hospitality.

well attended, at which time
 Padre Taylor from Cornwallis preached the sermon. He read from Isaiah, 44th chapter, taking for his text the 17th verse.
 His theme was "The Whole Time Religion." He also read from St. John, 15th chapter.
 Padre Taylor had a number of his choir from Cornwallis render several hymns.

After the services Padre Taylor and his choir were served refreshments by the Ladies Aid.

Rev. McLeod announced there would be the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper observed on Sunday, October 6th., this being Communion Sunday.

The Ladies Aid met with Mrs.
 Denzel York on Tuesday evening.

The members of the W.M.S. and associates are reminded of the pantry sale and variety sale October 5th at Mrs. Harris' taxi office.

The C.G.I.T. will meet at the vestry on Friday, Oct. 4th, at 6.45 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Willis Mullen and Mrs. H. M. Mullen, accompanied by Mrs. Fred Grant, of Barton, attended the exhibition at Bridgewater on Thursday.

An unusual occurrence took place at the home of G. L. Coggins, Weymouth North, on Sunday when a pheasant "crash-landed" in the kitchen. Shortly after daybreak Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. Coggins were startled by the sound of something falling. Immediately investigating the noise, they found a window in their kitchen had been shattered. Looking around for some reason for this, they found a large pheasant on the other side of the room with its head crushed. It apparently was killed by the impact.

What makes this more of a "believe it or not" item is that the window through which the pheasant came had an outside window on it as well. Both Mr. and Mrs. Coggins feel this is too expensive a way to try catching pheasants as they now have two large panes of glass to replace.

One can only hazard a guess as to what may have frightened the bird which probably belongs to a large flock which has been feeding in that area lately.

Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey Journeay, of Weymouth, are visiting in Saint John, N. B., for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred White and family, of Ashmore, visited Miss Lizzie Teabo, Weymouth Mills.

VOLUME LXXXIV, No. 6

Car Ferry Nearer Reality

The establishment of a car ferry, capable of carrying loaded freight cars between the ports of Digby and Saint John seemed nearer reality last week following a visit to Nova Scotia by C. E. Jefferson, Vice President of the Canadian Pacific Railway.

Mr. Jefferson, in an interview in Halifax, said "the day may be coming" when a car ferry will replace the Princess Helene as the CPR's link between New Brunswick and Nova Scotia. The provision of such a service will provide a direct link between lines of the CPR from Montreal and other points and the port of Halifax and will also make no longer necessary the unloading and reloading of carlot shipments made across the Bay of Fundy.

The car ferry project across the Bay of Fundy was first proposed by the Digby Board of Trade some years ago. A most active proponent of the idea was H. M. Warne, prominent Digby business man. He was instrumental in securing support of the Affiliated Valley Boards of Trade for the ferry project and did much to keep the project a live subject for discussion at meetings of that organization, as well as the Digby Board.

Coupled with Mr. Jefferson's remarks concerning the car ferry here last week was a statement concerning the conversion of the Dominion Atlantic Railway to full dieselization. He stated the new predominantly steam-powered DAR would be converted entirely to diesel-electric locomotives by 1960 if present CPR plans are effected.

Mr. Jefferson, in Nova Scotia on a four-day visit to CPR operations, said despite a lower freight volume this year the railway will continue its improvement program throughout the system, and adoption of piggy-back service — carrying truck trailers on railway flatcars — in this area is "not unlikely."

Mr. McCuaig, manager of the DAR, commenting on the proposals, said passenger business on the DAR's Halifax-Yarmouth main line was up 30 per cent in the past 12 months over the previous year. Both officials attributed the increase to the DAR's streamlined diesel "Dayliners", which went into operation about a year ago.

The DAR, which still moves much of its volume with coal-burning power, will continue to receive more diesels, changing over completely in two years.

As a cure for the ailing passenger business on Canada's railways, hard hit since World War II, Mr. Jefferson suggested elimination of all secondary and branch runs.

"RDC-1 cars (Dayliners) and diesels have worked out well on main lines and our passenger business is up this year," he said.

Piggy-back operation, now in use in Ontario and on some western divisions, is likely to become an international service, he said, and "piggy-back between Halifax and Vancouver is not unlikely."

Mr. Jefferson said the trucking industry has discovered "it cannot put us out. And we can't put them out. I feel both railway (CPR-CNR) will go in more and more for highway transport."

Asked to comment on the CPR's option on massive Smith Transport, Canada's largest trucking company, Mr. Jefferson said "we hope there will be an announcement shortly."

He said increased freight rates have not been sufficient to offset the drop in volume, far greater than the railways expected. January's firemen's strike on the CPR did not in itself account for the sharpened drop.

Mr. Jefferson, who resides in Montreal and heads the CPR's traffic department, arrived in Halifax last Wednesday and conferred with Mr. McCuaig and C. S. Clancy, DAR general freight and passenger agent.

He toured the DAR's Annapolis Valley operation last Friday.

Kiwanis Hold Fourth Clinic

The Digby-Kiwanis Club held its fourth Crippled Children's Clinic on Wednesday, October 2nd, at the Digby General Hospital, the Clinic being conducted as usual by Dr. T. B. Acker, of Halifax. Assisting him were Miss Marjorie Tupper and Miss Florence Thibault, Public Health Nurses, and Miss Ellen Murphy, V.O.N. Nurse.

About 30 children attended the Clinic, which makes a total of 82 who have been helped by this Kiwanis activity since it was started on April 25, 1956. These Clinics are carried on from funds received from the Easter Seal Campaign each year and all children under 16 years of age are welcome.

The Kiwanis Club expressed appreciation of the generosity of the Hospital Board for the use of their facilities, including the X-Ray machine operated by technician Fred Stoddard. Thanks are also due to Miss Patricia Ryan and Miss Constance Kirkpatrick who acted as secretaries for the day. Arrangements for the Clinic were made by Mr. Kenneth Beckwith, President Kiwanis Club, and Mr. H. C. Morton, Chairman of Underprivileged Children's Committee.

Celebrate 50th Anniversary

The home of Mr. and Mrs. James Thibault, North Range, was the scene of a pretty anniversary celebration on Oct. 1, when the family of Mr. and Mrs. Thibault gave them a surprise party, it being their golden wedding anniversary.

The occasion was greatly honored by having as special guests the bridesmaid and best man of 50 years ago. The bridesmaid was Mrs. Rudolph Doucet, of Little Brook Station, whom Mrs. Thibault had not seen for nearly 50 years, and the best man was Mr. Archie Wagner, Sisseton Falls, brother of the bride.

The tables were gaily arranged for the turkey supper, the bride's table center-piece being a beautiful wedding cake commemorating the occasion of 50 years ago.

In the evening an old-fashioned dance was held, after which a delicious lunch was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Thibault received many beautiful gifts including a television from their family of six daughters and four sons: Mildred (Mrs. George White), North Range; Frances (Mrs. Harry Payzant), Windsor; Marion (Mrs. Wilfred Lamirante), Chalk River, Ont.; Laura (Mrs. Arthur Winchester), Digby; Myrtle (Mrs. Geo. Eldridge), Windsor; Violet (Mrs. Gerald Wagner), of Plympton; Lawrence, of Yarmouth; Raymond, of North Range; Irving and Edgar, of Chalk River, Ont.

Mr. and Mrs. Thibault have 39 grandchildren and 5 great grandchildren. Both Mr. and Mrs. Thibault enjoy good health and their relatives and friends wish them many more years of health and happiness.

Has Interesting Program

The October meeting of the Smith's Cove Baptist W.M.S. was held at the home of the Misses Winchester.

After the opening hymn "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee" was sung, the 95th Psalm was read by Mrs. Stanley Weir. Mrs. Ruth Walker offered prayer. It was decided that $5.00 be sent to Supt. Hospital Supplies. Special cards were signed by members and sent to Mrs. Garnet Adams and Mrs. Clayton Woodman, who were on the sick list.

A program was carried out as follows:

A devotional talk on direct approach to Christian work, by Mrs. John Winchester; prayer by Mrs. Chas. Foster; duet, "We Thank Thee O God", Mrs. R. Walker, Mrs. Brinton; special readings on Thanksgiving by Mrs. Stanley Weir, Mrs. Oran Woodman, Mrs. Vera Langman; a paper on Mission Work by Mrs. Aileen Woodman; a Bible quiz was given by Mrs. Larimore.

A dainty lunch was served. The November meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Vera Langman.

Investigating Two Breaks

Police are investigating two weekend breaks, which occurred in the vicinity of Digby.

First of these was in the former home of Emdon McKay, on the Digby Neck Road, now occupied by two young ladies. Entry into this home was made through a pantry window sometime Saturday evening while the two young women were away. It is understood a watch and other valuables were taken in this break.

The second break occurred sometime early Sunday morning at the office of Max M. Nafthal Ltd., on the Digby Neck Road. In this break entry was made by breaking a window. A quantity of cash was taken as well as a number of cheques. Also reported taken was a bunch of keys.

Elected Grand Patron

Rev. R. Roosevelt Winchester, of Barton, was elected Grand Patron of the Order of the Sons of Temperance at the close of their annual session in Halifax last week.

Another from this area elected to office at the annual session was Mrs. Chesley Robbins, of Smith's Cove, who was elected Grand Sentinel.

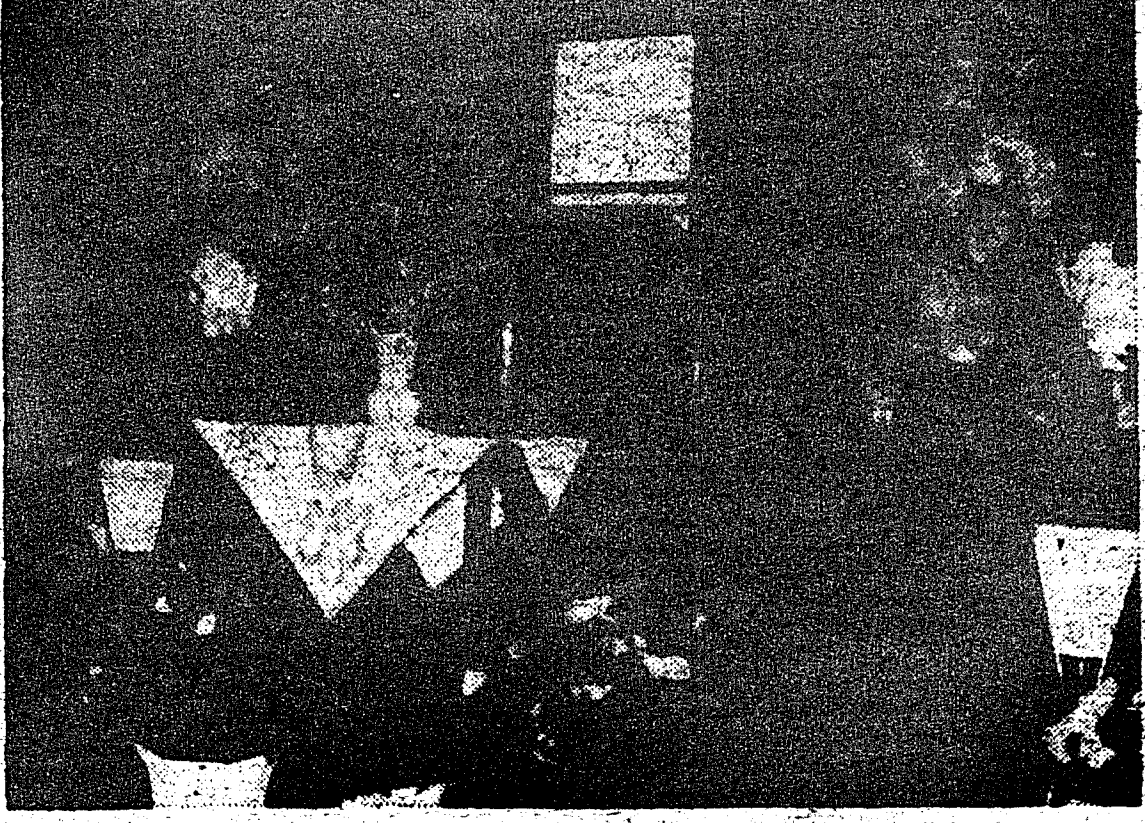

During the session the Rev. Mr. Winchester conducted a memorial service for members who had passed on to higher service during the year. Included was Mrs. John Smith, of Smith's Cove.

Observe 50th Wedding Anniversary

Above are shown Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hanson, of Digby, who recently marked the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding. A delightful party and dinner was held at the Cornwallis Inn in Kentville to mark the occasion. Mr. and Mrs. Hanson, who came to Digby from Amherst, have been active in church and community circles here.

The living room at Mrs. Snow's home reverted to the summer season with vases of roses and gladioli adorning the occasion.

V. O. Nurse Resigns

The resignation of Miss Ellen Murphy, R.N., V. O. Nurse here for the past two years, was regretfully accepted at the regular meeting of the V.O.N. Board Tuesday afternoon. Miss Murphy's resignation takes effect November 30th.

In her report the nurse stated 95 home visits had been made during September, 28 of these for bedridden care. Forty hours were spent in school nursing and 66 pupils were patch tested for T.B. Thirty-five pupils were tested for contagious diseases. One hundred and sixty-seven children were given injections at the first immunization clinic this fall. Four Well Baby Clinics were held, with an attendance of 27.

At Tuesday afternoon's meeting a nominating committee to bring in a proposed slate of officers at the annual V.O.N. meeting was elected. Named were Mrs. C. M. Levy, Mrs. L. F. Dolron and Rev. Father Donald Amiraux.

Visit Paper Mill

Some thirty-five pupils of Grade XII of the Digby Regional High School visited Liverpool last Friday and toured the huge plant of the Mersey Paper Co. Ltd.

The pupils, who were accompanied by their teacher, Mrs. Eva Wendell, learned first hand how a huge paper mill operates, its sources of supply of raw materials, processing methods, markets and operating personnel.

The visitors were much impressed with the operations of the plant and to learn that paper from the Mersey mill is used in such great quantities as the New York Times, Herald and Tribune and other great metropolitan papers in the United States and even overseas.

Issue Building Permits

A building permit was granted to the British American Oil Company to construct a bulk storage plant on their property on Victoria Street here at the regular monthly meeting of the Digby Town Council. Permits were also granted to Clifford Melanson to build a house, estimated to cost some $10,000, on his property on Warwick Street, and to A. J. Cornwall to build a storage building at the rear of his home on King Street.

Councillor J. W. Christie, of the Streets and Public Properties Committee, reported that a survey had been made of the extension of 2nd Avenue between Sydney Street and Church Street. It has been felt advisable, he said, to postpone work of opening this section through to Church Street until next year as a sizeable sum would be involved and this had not been provided for in this year's budget.

A report of the Police Department, given by Councillor D. G. Black, showed 25 complaints had been handled during Sept. with fifteen investigations. All but one of these have been terminated, it was reported. Seven cases were brought before the courts, five before the lower court, and two cases were pending. Of the seven cases, five were for infractions of the Liquor Control Act and two criminal. The report also recommended installation of flasher lights at the intersection of Warwick Street and Montague Row. Several night time accidents involving vehicles driven by people unfamiliar with the sharp turn at this intersection have occurred, it was reported.

It was reported temporary measures to ease the current water shortage in Digby were being taken. Gate valves at the storage dam near Lily Lake, the source of the town's water supply, have been opened and a deeper channel is being cut so that water in the lake now below the present intake pipe may be reached. Mayor Turnbull stated he had been informed the fire department was prepared to run hose line from a large pond some distance from the town in the event of a serious fire during the period of water shortage. Councillor Black recommended that samples of town water be sent for testing during the current low water supply.

It was decided by the meeting to renew an agreement between the town and the provincial Department of Highways for care and maintenance of main arteries through the town on a fifty-fifty basis with the province. The new agreement will run for a period of ten years and provides that work of care and maintenance will be done by the provincial highways department with the town paying half the cost.

A resolution from the Shelburne Board of Trade concerning a proposed steamship service between Shelburne and the east United States was tabled by the meeting.

Streets Superintendent F. W. Robinson reported that experiments with coarse salt for ice control on town streets made last winter had been successful and that salt would be used again for this purpose this year.

A letter from Curtis Harris requesting further consideration of his application for a renewal of his taxi license was read at the meeting. Mr. Harris objected that his license application had been refused on the grounds he was not providing service as required by the town tax by-law and listed a number of arguments in support of his claim for further consideration. It was decided to have the License Committee meet with Mr. Harris to discuss the matter.

Need for repairs to the former electric light plant building on First Avenue, now used as a storage for hydro equipment, was brought to the attention of the meeting. It was decided to look into this matter with a view to making needed repairs.

Aid President For Three Years

Mrs. B. D. Franklin was elected president of the Digby Ladies' Hospital Aid on Monday for the third consecutive year. The Aid which met for the annual business meeting at the Nurses' Residence also elected the following slate for the 1957-58 year:

1st vice-president, Mrs. Forest Elmer.

2nd vice-president, Mrs. M. S. Leonard.

Secretary, Mrs. Allan Harris. Assist. secretary, Mrs. Hugh Vincent.

Treasurer, Mrs. Sydney Smith. Supply Committee, Mrs. V. G. Cardoza, Mrs. Joyce Anderson, Mrs. Garnet Neville, Mrs. D. E. Lewis.

Sewing Circle, Mrs. Gladys Budrow.

On the nominating committee were Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Mrs. L. F. Dolron and Mrs. M. S. Leonard.

Appointed to the Hospital Board were Mrs. Franklin, Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Cardoza.

Monday night closed one of the most successful years of the Ladies' Hospital Aid when the organization showed a credit balance of $1,121.32. The total receipts for the year of $2,405.37 included a credit balance of $867.81 as of October 1956. The remainder was earned during the year as follows: $702.73 fund raising, $550.00 Hospital Fair, $157.37 donations, and the balance in miscellaneous receipts. Expenditures amounted to $1,284.05.

In her report the president reviewed the work accomplished during the year when hospital rooms were re-decorated as were also the nurses' dining room and kitchen. The kitchen also underwent a remodeling and enlargement project when new cabinets were built and an electric dishwasher installed. A room was also furnished in the basement. Mrs. Franklin thanked those who helped in making the year a success and made the best of her office earlier particularly mentioned the efforts of the retiring treasurer, Mrs. A. J. Dillon, that of the retiring convener of the Supply Committee, Mrs. D. E. Lewis, and Mrs. Gladys Budrow.

Mrs. Harris, in her secretary's report, said there were 39 members with an average attendance of eleven in 1956-57. She urged a better attendance at the business meetings. One hundred one calls were reported. Mrs. Harris said that the Con-way Club and the housekeeper at the residence had kept the sewing done so that no extra meetings were needed for that purpose. She also reported the donation day in 1956 had brought the best results to date and extended thanks to A. R. Pyne for the use of the store.

In the report of the supply committee by Mrs. D. E. Lewis on another page of the Courier can be found the tremendous list of articles handled through that committee. Mrs. Lewis expressed regrets at the loss by fire of the hospital supplies, which though covered by insurance, could not be replaced in hours of work and effort.

A rummage sale for the last Saturday in October was planned and Donation Day was set for November 16.

Workers from Southville and North Range were present for the annual meeting.

After refreshments a gift was presented on behalf of the Aid by Mrs. Dillon to Miss Alice Dill, R.N., who relinquishes her duties as matron at the hospital to spend some time at her home in Windsor, N. S., before furthering her studies. Miss Dill responded in a fitting manner and expressed pleasure in working on the hospital staff. A vote of thanks was extended to the retiring officers for the immense effort they had put in their work during the years and also to those who were continuing in office.

Bible Society Holds Rally

"Our churches are unable to fulfill their function without the support of the British and Foreign Bible Society", said Rev. M. C. P. MacIntosh, District Secretary of the B. & F. M. S., in an address before the annual rally of the Digby branch of the society at the Salvation Army Citadel here Monday evening.

The purpose of the church, Mr. MacIntosh said, is to go into all the world and proclaim the gospel. The British and Foreign Bible Society has printed the scriptures in 1109 different languages and has circulated over six hundred million copies of the Bible since its organization in 1804, he said.

The demands of the church for Bibles has been tremendously increased over the past ten years, Mr. MacIntosh said, because of several factors. Among these is the increased missionary activity, particularly in the overseas field, in India, Africa, South America. Also a factor is the tremendous increase in world population; "every morning 100,000 new humans sit down to breakfast", Mr. MacIntosh said. Increased literacy also means an increase in demand for Bibles, he said. Each year 25 million adults learn to read. Another factor in the increase demand for Bibles, he said, is the increase in native pastors and evangelists overseas.

Mr. MacIntosh pointed out printing costs in the past ten years have increased without giving to the society keeping pace. This means a greater need for those interested in the work of the society to promote efforts to bring about increased giving to make the greatly expanded work of the society possible.

Speaking of the home front, Mr. MacIntosh said that the society continues to provide New Testaments for men and women in the services, in schools, for church workers or port duty where new Canadians are welcomed to our country, and for the blind. With regard to Bibles in braille he said each of these costs about one hundred dollars and they are made available to the blind for one-tenth of this, the balance being raised through donations.

Legion-Airs

LEGION PROMOTING SALE OF WREATHS

The Digby Branch of the Canadian Legion is working this year to promote a greater sale of memorial wreaths to local business firms and to families who have lost loved ones in wars participated in by Canadian forces, it is understood.

The memorial wreaths are, like the Legion poppies, made by disabled veterans, and all funds realized by Legion branches through the sale of these wreaths and poppies are used in welfare funds for the relief of needy families of veterans.

It is understood a canvass will be made to promote the sale of wreaths in the area and families wishing these wreaths to place on the War Memorial here on Remembrance Day have been asked to contact S. C. Denton of the Digby Legion Branch.

It has been decided by the Legion here that this year the annual Remembrance church parade on November 10th will be open only to ex-service personnel. The service this year will be at St. Patrick's Church. On November 11th the regular Remembrance Day service will be held at the War Memorial at eleven o'clock in the morning with ex-service personnel, Sea Cadets, Boy Scouts, civic officials and others taking part.

Let us, therefore, give of our time and observe both the festival of the church and the national institution of Thanks giving, giving public recognition to the Giver of all good gifts. Let us cleanse our minds of dissatisfaction and soreness and meditate on the plentiful material and spiritual blessings that are ours. Let us open our hearts to God our Creator.

THE WORLD'S BIGGEST NEED

I believe that there is a better way of life than most people have yet discovered. Its discovery will heal much heartache and bring an end to the unhappy bickering and suspicion among families and nations. Looking around, one notices the devil tosses sand into the the rear of human relations. The human race is in need of God's love and applied to harsh attitudes by the lubrication of love. Battlefield wounds need to be healed, and those who are not on friendly terms would be brought together. Love is not something to take or leave as the dessert at the end of a meal. It is a command: "Love one another." To ignore this Divine law is to rebel against the One Who made it. To forsake this invitation is to live on a low and degraded level.

Let no hasty denial brush off the words of this challenge. Face facts: forgive and deserve forgiveness; swallow worthless conceit and begin to live. Life is too short to do otherwise. Love is not cold tolerance either. Rather it is a tender meeting of hearts on the common ground of human intimacy. Here is a prescription for the transformation of a harsh and cruel attitude. Read I Corinthians, Chapter 13 every day for three weeks. When a person truly loves he will receive love in return. To love the Lord is to love the crown of life.

DEBID, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1937

VOLUME LXXXIV, No. 7

Reveals Future Plans For Hotels

At a meeting of the Directors of the Hotel and Motel Properties Ltd., new owners of the C.P.R. Hotels at Digby, Yarmouth and Kentville, held in Halifax, N. S., the following is the first official information released by the new owners as to their future plans and policies for the operation of these hotels.

It should first be mentioned that the promoters of this venture desired that these hotels should be taken over by a Nova Scotia Company. Hence, a Provincial Charter was obtained, and second, the citizens of Nova Scotia would be given the preference to participate in the control of this company so that the hotels would be operated for the benefit of the Province as a whole. All of the Directors will be from Nova Scotia with the exception of Mr. A. J. Garinther who was appointed to the Board as a representative of the Management for the company. As to management, the company is fortunate in having as its General Manager, Mr. Garinther, past President of the Hotel Association of Canada, who brings to the company over 35 years of experience in large chain hotel operations.

Most of the subscribers for shares of the company are Nova Scotians and plans have been approved to allow employees of the company to participate as well in the shares of the company.

According to the survey made previous to the sale, by Garinther Associates Co. Ltd., the appraised value of all three hotels, including buildings, land and equipment, is well over $3,500,000.00, and the buildings and equipment are in such excellent condition that no expense is foreseen for some time to come. This survey also showed that under private ownership the three hotels, including the 18 hole Golf Course at Digby, can be operated with a return to the company of over twenty per cent before depreciation and income tax and without impairing the very fine service which existed before under C.P.R. management.

Head Office for the Management shall be set up at the Cornwallis Hotel in Kentville, N. S., and all the employees who are not retained by the C.P.R. shall be given the preference to remain with the new management.

The season at both Yarmouth and Digby is being extended to accommodate more conventions and package tours already booked for next season. To accommodate the Commercial travelers the Lakeside Inn at Yarmouth may later be operated all year round. At Kentville, the Cornwallis Inn shall make special rates for the Commercial travellers and shall also provide a floor for permanent guests from October 1 to May 20 at very low monthly rates. The 18 hole Golf Club at Digby shall be operated under a membership club and the club shall be opened from May 20 till October 15.

It is also the intention of the Management to tie in their advertising schedule with the advertising done by the Province so as to help promote such activities as festivals, in the Valley, tuna fishing at Wedgeport, etc.

At Digby the new owners have released a piece of land called Green Point which is to be used to provide a new harbour for the proposed Train Ferry which should increase the activity at this point for the benefit of Digby and the Province as a whole.

From the contacts made at Boston and other New England states the prospects for next season's business coming from these points, via the Yarmouth Ferry and Princess Helene and the Airport via T.C.A., should be increased by about twenty per cent over last year.

The Directors believe that each hotel should be organized as a community enterprise in order to co-ordinate their efforts, for the benefit of all concerned. The Organization Director, Mr. S. LeBlanc, contacted many businessmen throughout the Province and received their co-operation and interest to participate in the future plans of this enterprise. Although many businessmen had not visited the hotels personally they felt the hotels were of vital interest to the Provincial tourist industry and at least 4 or 5 more resorts of this type should exist in different parts of the Province.

The Directors feel that the Tourist Industry in this Province has unlimited possibilities

Thanksgiving In The Churches

Thanksgiving services in the Baptist Church of Digby were celebrated by a large congregation. For the occasion the church had been beautifully decorated with flowers and vegetables and colored leaves. The choir sang the anthem "Be Glad and Rejoice" from the cantata "The Rolling Seasons," by Caleb Simpson. Rev. E. C. Churchill preached from the text: "Always and for everything giving thanks in the name of the Lord Jesus Christ to God the Father." Mr. Churchill stressed that it is difficult going through life to always and for everything give thanks to God. One must have the mind and heart of St. Paul that the greatest gift in the world is Jesus Christ. And because of this no matter what may happen to us, if we think as Paul did, we can always thank God for His unspeakable gift. This attitude will assist us not just to give thanks, but to give thanks in the name of Jesus Christ to God the Father.

Communion services followed the general service of Thanksgiving. At this service the church voted to accept a report of the Board of Deacons to engage in anniversary services on Sunday, November 10, and to conduct a Mission of Evangelism November 10-17, with Rev. Neil Price, Lawrenceville, as preacher.

Thanksgiving service was held in the Baptist Church on Sunday morning, when the church was beautifully decorated with maple leaves, fruit and vegetables, preserves and pickles. The minister, Rev. Claude T. Olmstead, gave an inspiring message on "Thankfulness and God's Loving Kindness." The regular choir rendered a beautiful anthem, "How Great Thou Art."

Home & School Opens Season

The opening meeting of the Digby Area Home & School Association for the fall and winter season was held at the Digby Regional High School last Wednesday evening. Due to the mix-up in time in the area, attendance was not as large as expected, with a number of communities in the Digby Neck section not represented.

President Baden Powell presided over the meeting and reviewed activities of the association over the past year. Some discussion was had concerning the advisability of continuing the system of holding regular monthly meetings of the executive and representatives of all communities in the area and a limited number of regular association meetings. It was finally decided to have the executive take care of the matter of calling full representation of all districts on the board and that they also give consideration to the matter of the holding of meetings.

School Supervisor F. C. Purdy introduced members of the teaching staffs of the Digby Public Schools and extended to them a welcome on behalf of the association. At the close of the meeting a fund raising auction was held. This provided a great deal of entertainment and also realized some forty dollars for the association. Auctioneer was Victor Cardozo.

Deanery Chapter Endorses Program

Harold Vincent of Halifax, Chairman of the Bishop's Committee on Laymen's Work in the Anglican Diocese of Nova Scotia, was one of the guest speakers at the fall meeting of the Greater Chapter of the Deanery of Annapolis here last Thursday night.

Other speakers at the gathering were William McLean, of French Village, Vice-Chairman of the Bishop's Committee, and Harold Crosby, of Timberlea, Secretary.

Dealing with the subject of Christian stewardship, the speakers outlined the work of their committee and dealt with resolutions passed by the provincial synod concerning establishment of increased minimum stipends for the Anglican clergy of the diocese.

Mr. McLean pointed out to the more than one hundred laymen and clergy attending the meeting that stewardship means much more than giving money to the church and its work. "It means giving yourself as well as your money," he said.

He outlined efforts of the Bishop's Committee to seek an active endorsement of the stewardship program and the policy concerning clergy stipends by men's groups in every deanery of the diocese and urged the setting up of a committee to further this work in the Deanery of Annapolis.

After a thorough discussion the meeting unanimously adopted a resolution of endorsement and approved the organization of a committee in the deanery to carry out the program.

Victor Cardozo, of Trinity Parish, Digby, was elected chairman of the Deanery Committee, which will be known as the Annapolis Deanery Committee on Stewardship. Others elected to the committee at the meeting were James Craik, Bridgetown, Vice-Chairman, and Eric Caldwell, Digby, Secretary. Each parish in the Deanery will name a representative to the committee.

Last Thursday night's Deanery Chapter session took the form of a dinner meeting, with the meal provided by the ladies of Trinity Parish. Chairman of the meeting was Rev. H. Y. MacLean, Rural Dean of Annapolis Deanery. Members attended deanery in Trinity parish church, conducted by Rev. James Pike, Rector of Rosette Parish, prior to their business session.

Rev. W. E. Jefferson, reporting for St. Anne's Camp, the Deanery youth camp, reported that attendance at the camp this year had dropped, due in part to an unfortunate accident at Gibson's Lake, where the camp is located, prior to camp opening for the season. Operating account of the camp showed a deficit of $240.04 for the year, he said.

At the close of the Chapter meeting a special session of the Deanery Divinity Scholarship Committee was held. Following this meeting it was reported the awarding of divinity scholarships to two young men of the deanery had been approved. To receive these are Donald Ruggles, Weymouth, a fourth year arts student at King's College, Halifax, and Lester Mullen, Rossway, who is in his final year of training at the Church Army Training School in Toronto.

Tyros Entertain Parents

On Friday evening, Oct. 10th, the Tyro Group of the Digby Baptist Church, were hosts to their parents, and the boys of the Sigma-C to a supper held in the church hall. The arrangements were under the capable direction of the Tyro leader, Wallace Hodgson. The boys of the group had helped to prepare and serve the supper. Each boy of the group sat down to supper with his parents. Every boy had at least one of his parents with him. The supper is an annual event for the Tyro boys, but this is the first time the parents have been invited. The event was highly successful.

During the evening the Tyro boys put on a short play under the direction of Keith Churchill, assistant Tyro leader. Mr. Hodgson explained that two boys, John Brittain and Jackie Woolaver, had reached the age of being promoted from Tyro to Sigma-C. Mr. Churchill, C.G. of the Sigma-C, welcomed the new boys to the Sigma-C fellowship.

LEGION HOLDS ZONE RALLY

John Henderson, of Truro, Nova Scotia representative on the Dominion Command of the Canadian Legion, was guest speaker at the annual Zone Rally of the Canadian Legion, held at the Legion headquarters here.

In his address Mr. Henderson traced the history of the Canadian Legion from its organization by Earl Haig in 1925. He told of the work done by the Legion in the development of legislation beneficial to veterans and efforts made in rehabilitation of ex-service personnel.

High tribute was paid by Mr. Henderson to the work of Dr. L. M. G. of Wolfville, Dominion President of the Legion, in pressing for amendments to existing veterans' legislation and implementation of new measures to assist veterans. He said much of the credit for increased veterans' pensions and other beneficial veterans' legislation should go to the Legion which constantly pressed for improvements in these measures.

Mr. Henderson said the primary purpose of the Legion is to promote the welfare of veterans and their dependents, but the Legion is not a completely self-centred organization. This is evidenced, he said, by participation of the Legion in worthwhile community enterprises, provision of educational scholarship and bursaries and promotion of sports, including participation in the Empire games.

Speaking of membership, Mr. Henderson stressed the importance of keeping active a program of enrolment of new members in the Legion and said every member should try his best to interest other veterans in membership in the Legion.

Chairman of the meeting was Eugene Outhouse, M.M., Zone Commander, who urged full participation by all branches in the Zone in the forthcoming poppy campaign. Much of the welfare program of the Legion is dependent on the success of this campaign, he said.

More than one hundred representatives of all branches in the Zone, as well as visitors from Yarmouth, Middleton and Kentville, attended the rally, which took the form of a dinner meeting. The dinner was provided and served by members of the Digby Auxiliary of the Legion.

Deep Brook Man Serving In France

Swapping gas masks, tents and combat rations for the quiet comforts of home and normal office duty, airman stationed here at Canada's NATO Air Division, like Corporal R. V. Armstrong, of Deep Brook, Nova Scotia, recently wound up a seven-day exercise designed to test the effectiveness of the headquarters in the field under mock war conditions.

In an exercise code-named "Dispersal", Cpl. Armstrong, along with 700 other officers, airman and airwomen, moved working gear to a field position "somewhere in the Alsace-Lorraine district of France" and erected a tent village within three hours after the alert was sounded.

Shaving in cold water, cooking over a small camp stove and taking their turns at night guard duty besides doing their normal work, more than kept the airman busy.

Night after night, the field headquarters was harassed by "enemy" infiltrators, simulated by the Royal 22nd Regiment (Van Doos). Crawling through drizzling rain in the middle of the night, the Canadian soldiers kept the airman pressed fending off their sneak attacks.

Although the airman repulsed all major attacks, the Army experts made the airman realize what they would have to contend with in protecting their installations against real enemy insurgents.

At the RCAF's fighter wings in France and Germany, aircrews, supported by their groundcrews, worked round the clock flying fighter sweeps, reconnaissance missions, and dog-fighting "enemy" intruders.

The Air Division's exercise, an exercise within NATO's annual air-sea-land manoeuvres over the continent, named "Exercise Counterpunch" this year, provided the first opportunity for the Canadian-designed twin-jet CF-100 all-weather fighters to show their ability in European air manoeuvres.

Mr. Armstrong is the son of Mrs. Iva Armstrong, of Deep Brook.

Life Expectancy

In ancient times, a child was lucky if he lived to reach the age of 20. A baby born today has a good chance to spend at least 70 years on earth. Dr. Ivor Griffith, president of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science explains this increase in life expectancy like this:

"Possibly the one greatest factor in lengthening the span of life in America has been the research, the manufacture, control and distribution of the most spectacular drugs in the history of health professions."

Some of this research is recognized by the Nobel Prize or by some other famous award. For most researchers, however, the prize is the satisfaction that comes from adding knowledge to the human store, and with helping to improve people's health and prolong the span of life.

The product of all of this research comes to you through the training and facilities provided by your retail pharmacist and his prescription service.

Only the pharmacist knows how best to handle, store and dispense, rapidly and safely, the "spectacular" drugs which add so many years to our lives.

HOW TO INVITE A DEPRESSION
A man lived by the side of the road and sold hot dogs.
He was hard of hearing, so he had no radio.
He had trouble with his eyes, so he read no newspapers.
But he sold good hot dogs.
He put up signs on the highway, telling how good they were.
He stood by the side of the road and cried: "Buy a hot dog, Mister."
And people bought.
He increased his meat and bun orders.
He bought a bigger stove to take care of his trade.
He got his son home from college to help him.
But then something happened.
His son said: "Father, haven't you been listening to the radio?"
There's a big depression on.
The European situation is terrible.
The domestic situation is worse.
Whereupon the father thought:
"Well, my son's been to college.
He reads the papers and he listens to the radio and he ought to know."
So the father cut down on his meat and bun orders.
Took down his advertising signs.
And no longer bothered to stand out on the highway to sell hot dogs.
And his hot dog sales fell almost overnight.
"You're right, son," the father said to the boy,
"We certainly are in the middle of a great depression."

CARS ARE MY LIFE
by Ken Hankinson
AMAZE YOUR FRIENDS! MYSTIFY YOUR NEIGHBORS! BE THE FIRST ON YOUR BLOCK!
Those can be the most intriguing words in the world — and I suppose we've all thrown money away answering such bald and bold advertisements.
But this week, at great expense to the management, but at no cost to you, I'm going to pass on a little tid-bit that may help you amaze your friends, mystify your neighbors.
The next time you hear a car horn (and you hear it all too often I'm afraid) cock your ear, put on a very serious and learned expression and tell your friends slowly: "Ah, zat horn, zat is E Flat and G."
In almost every case, you'll be right. The car horn is built like a saxophone and those two notes were chosen for the "car saxophone" after a lot of study.
They have great power of penetration, which is a safety factor, yet are the most pleasant of the penetrating sounds. Some cars also add B Flat to increase these qualities.
We've come a long way from the early auto horns. The very first was actually a whistle. It was installed in the mufflers of pioneer cars and was pulled with a cable.
Today's auto horn is such a reliable piece of equipment it almost never goes wrong. It's like so much of the equipment in modern cars, working for us all the time and we hardly ever think of it.
But — and this is an important but — there are people in this town who are paid to think of such things. They are our skilled and factory-trained mechanics. Their job is not just to patch up when things go wrong. They have instructions from me to do their best to prevent trouble developing in the future in the cars they service.
While they're doing a routine job on a car, their eyes are constantly on the alert, watching for the telltale signs of trouble.

W. I. Meets At Rossway

The Rossway Women's Institute held their annual meeting in the hall on Tuesday afternoon, October 8th, with eight members present.

After the opening exercises the minutes of the previous meeting were read and the roll called. The election of officers for the coming year took place and are as follows: President, Mrs. Waters Comeau, re-elected; Secretary-Treasurer, Mrs. John Gidney, re-elected; Programme Convener, Mrs. Douglas Andrews; Directors, Mrs. Fred Lewis; Social Convener, Mrs. Kenneth Peters. The auditor is to be elected at the next meeting.

Plans were made for as many as possible to attend the W.I. Rally to be held in Bear River on October 15th, afternoon and evening.

The Institute will again sponsor a drive for the Unitarian Service Relief Fund, and collectors will be calling at the homes shortly.

Plans were also made for a parcel post sale and tea to be held soon in order to raise funds for the Institute's needs and towards the hall building repair fund, which continues to be the main project until the necessary repairs can be made on the hall.

Reviewing the year's work, it was pointed out that eleven meetings were held during the past year. The Institute has only been organized since October last. During that year it has sponsored and carried out a Cancer Dressing Group, which meets once a month, making gauze dressings; Red Cross knitting and sewing, especially during the winter months, and one lady, Mrs. Charles Theriault, has knit men's socks steadily all summer; carried out a clothing drive for the Hungarian Refugees in February, also one for the Koreans in August; and collected money for the Cancer and Red Cross Societies. All the necessary programmes of the Institute were carried out during the year, as well as several teas, sales, etc., for money raising purposes. A Christmas party was also enjoyed by the members.

The time of meetings is changed this year to afternoons instead of evenings.

After the business, two poems were read - "October Days", by Mrs. John Gidney, and "Thanksgiving" by Mrs. Kenneth Peters.

Mrs. John Gidney conducted a very interesting and pleasing quiz, and Mrs. Waters Comeau was hostess for the afternoon meeting, serving refreshments at the close.

LITTLE RIVER WOMEN MEET

The October meeting of the Centreville W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. John Tibbets. The devotional was entitled, "Count Your Many Blessings" and was given by Mrs. Guy Outhouse.

The business session was presided over by the president, Mrs. John Tibbets. Twelve members answered the roll call with a verse on "thanks." Plans for the crusade meeting were discussed. The reading course books were exchanged.

The program was presented by Mrs. Arthur Morehouse and consisted of a number of Thanksgiving poems and a report of the Missionary conference held at Wolfville, given by the delegate, Mrs. John Tibbets.

To close the meeting all members joined hands and sang

Local Shortage Of Licenses Reported

Many would-be hunters in the Digby area are reported as being frustrated in their plans to go deer hunting this week because local license vendors are completely "sold out" of the necessary licenses required by law before the hunters can go in the woods with their rifles.

According to reports no licenses have been available in Digby this week and some hunters are reported as driving twenty miles to Weymouth in search of the necessary licenses. It is understood license vendors in Annapolis are also sold out.

Finda Boulded Message

An interesting find was made by Lloyd Mahar on the beach near his home in Barton some three weeks ago. This was a bottle containing a message which had been released by agencies in the United States making a study of ocean currents, tides and other marine data. The bottle had been released from a point 42 degrees 04.5 minutes north and 67 degrees 19.5 minutes west on April 28, 1957.

Lloyd returned the bottle and received a nice letter of acknowledgment from the Woods Hole Oceanographic Institute in Woods Hole, Massachusetts. The letter explained the purpose for releasing bottles like the one Lloyd found, which is to study ocean currents and the drift of floating objects along the Atlantic seacoast. The bottles are released in collaboration with the Fish and Wildlife Service and other government agencies.

Along with the letter Lloyd also received an American fifty cent piece as a reward for returning the bottle.

Give Addresses At Meeting

A report on the provincial convention of the Nova Scotia Home & School Federation which was held last July in Wolfville was given at the opening meeting of the Digby Area Home and School association last week here by Mrs. J. M. Wallis, delegate of the Digby group to the convention.

In her report Mrs. Wallis told of her impressions of the convention and dealt at some length with the proposals and resolutions brought forward and passed at the meetings. She said she had thoroughly enjoyed her attendance at the convention since it brought with it many opportunities to renew friendships with people she had known from various parts of the province and also gave her a chance to see the work of the Home and School organization on a province-wide basis.

The importance of the Home & School organization in the changing program in education in Nova Scotia was stressed at the convention, Mrs. Wallis said, and it was pointed out that the organization must adapt itself to changed conditions if it is to successfully do its work.

Also addressing the opening meeting of the Digby Area H. & S. here last week was Miss Marjorie Tupper, R.N., Public Health Nurse for this area. Miss Tupper gave a most comprehensive account of the work done by public health nurses in the community and explained how this work is tied in with the school program. She said teachers and the public health nurses cooperate closely to promote improved health for the children.

In her remarks Miss Tupper also gave an account of the work of the various other health and welfare organizations in the area and told how the work of these groups, both voluntary and government agencies, is tied in with the public health nursing services.

An explanation of the new course in driver education being carried on at the Digby Regional High School was given at the meeting by Clinton MacInnis who will be in charge of the course at the school. Mr. MacInnis told of studies made by highway department officials which showed a high percentage of accidents in which drivers under twenty-five years of age were involved.

He explained in detail the operation of the new driver training course and said this course would give instruction, not only in actual car driving but also in maintenance and care of vehicles. The pupils would also be given thorough instruction concerning the rules of the road, the mechanical make-up of motor vehicles and other instruction designed to make them competent operators.

In his remarks Mr. MacInnis explained how the new course was being operated and stated it was at present a pilot study and the program would be closely watched by education authorities so that future courses might be designed from it. At present, he said, it was not possible to take care of all those who might wish to take

Heavy Scallop Catch

Perfect fishing days last week have resulted in flooding the scallop market, it was learned here. Prices dropped last week from thirty-eight cents to a new low of 23 cents. Predictions are that, if good fishing weather continues, prices may drop still further.

Some thirty scallop draggers are now operating out of the port of Digby and daily catches are reported from five hundred to a thousand pounds.

Local scallopers are so anxious to take advantage of the good spell of weather, which they fear may precede poor fishing weather, that they are not even stopping fishing long enough to shell their full catch and many of the boats are going back to the scallop grounds with part loads of unshelled scallops each day.

Some of the draggers carry a scallop "shucker" as part of their crew but others depend on extra hired help to take care of this work when catches run high. "Shuckers" are reported to get two dollars for each bucket of scallops they shell. Many of them are really adept at flipping open the large flat shellfish and extracting the edible muscle portion with a knife and can shell as many as thirty pounds, or a basket, an hour.

Digby Sister To New Post

Sister Mary Ruth, founder of St. Vincent's Hospital, Vancouver, has been transferred to Saint John, New Brunswick, where she will become administrator and superior of the new three hundred bed St. Joseph's Hospital there.

Sister Mary Ruth, who has been 25 years in the archdiocese of Vancouver, is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alexander Ross, of Colliedon and Digby. Prior to the construction of the first wing of St. Vincent's Hospital in 1932 she was superior at St. John's Home in Burnaby. As far as is known Sister Mary Ruth is the first girl from Digby to enter the sisterhood in recent years. She has two sisters living, Mrs. Lester Willett, Digby, and Mrs. Leonard Patriquin, Halifax.

Prior to leaving Vancouver for Saint John she was presented with a watch and other gifts by the medical staff of St. Vincent's Hospital. The presentation was made by Dr. Russell G. Yoeger, chairman.

Tour Visits Digby

Some eighteen members of the Senior Citizens' Club of Santa Cruz, California, were overnight guests at the Hotel Champlain here Thursday night.

The group, with their driver and their escort, Mr. Ray Armstrong, have been making a tour of the United States and eastern Canada and came to Digby after visiting in Halifax. Their tour was arranged by Greyhound Highway Tours.

So far as can be determined, last week's visit to Digby was the latest any tour has visited this area from the United States. It is to be hoped this visit may signal a lengthening of the local tourist season.

Arrives In Germany

Sgm. Joseph Amoro, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Amoro, of Acadia Valley, has recently arrived in Soest, Germany.

He writes his parents that the German countryside is much the same as here. The houses, he says, are different and there is still much evidence of World War II bombings.

Sgm. Amoro also recently spent some time on a visit to Holland. He found the Dutch countryside very flat and the streets narrow. Bicycles and motor bikes are much used for transportation, he says, so the narrow streets are not so inconvenient as they would be here.

He was much impressed with the train service in Holland and says trains there operate very swiftly with speeds up to 120 miles an hour.

the course but every effort would be made to train as many pupils as possible. Two courses would be operated in the school year, he said.

Suggest New Industries

A report prepared by the Industrial Development Committee of the Clare Board of Trade and presented at the board's recent annual meeting contains valuable suggestions regarding development of new industries for the Clare District. Holding of an industrial fair, featuring articles manufactured in Clare, was also suggested in the committee's report.

The committee's study suggests that the following articles or industries could be started in the District of Clare on the French shore: cement blocks, cement pipes and septic tanks, a laundry, a potato chip factory. Dairying has some possibilities as a large quantity of milk is imported into the district from outside sources. Large quantities of forest products are exported unfinished. One band saw mill in Clare is being operated and the owners claim that ten per cent of cut is saved. When one considers that the value of the forest products exported is in the vicinity of $12,000,000.00 per year it is shown that income from that source could be increased by the saving in wasted lumber in the form of sawdust.

The committee also recommended that an annual exhibition of industrial products from the District of Clare be held and the Acadia Festival Committee stated that it is in their plans for the 1958 season to enlarge their exhibition of handicrafts to include a better representation of products from the district.

Other items stressed by the committee that could be gone into was a greenhouse for cut flowers and vegetables; raising of strawberries; cold storage plant constructed; surveying of bogs, of which there are many to see if any marketable products could be found; raising blueberries; cranberries and frog farming.

Alpheus Belliveau, of Belliveau's Cove, read out the report in absence of the committee's chairman, Ernest F. LeBlanc, who was absent. The committee's report showed that there were 13 fish processing plants, 25 sawmills and wood-working plants, 11 milk ranches, 4 chicken farms, 3 turkey ranches, 9 fishing boat builders, 2 shipyards, 12 fishing draggers, 1 large scallop dragger in the District of Clare.

Officers elected for the new term were: president, Dr. Julius Comeau, Meteghan; executive members elected for a term of two years: Melbourn Comeau, Meteghan; A. P. Melanson, Church Point; Emile O. Theriault, Belliveau's Cove; Gerard d'Entremont, Meteghan Station; Gustave A. Comeau, Concession.

Other members of the executive remaining in office are: Raymond Deveau, of Mavillette; Denis (E. M. Comeau), Meteghan; Steve LeBlanc, Comeauville; Kenneth Weaver, New Edinburgh; J. Alphonse Comeau, Meteghan River; Louis Thibodeau, Church Point.

Vice-president will be Gerard d'Entremont, and the new secretary selected is Pierre A. Belliveau, of Comeauville, with Emile Theriault, of Belliveau's Cove, remaining as treasurer.

To Speak At Trinity

Rev. Dr. H. L. Puxley, President of the University of King's College, Halifax, will be the preacher at the morning service at Trinity Anglican Church here Sunday.

Dr. Puxley, who is a graduate of the universities of Oxford, Yale and Toronto, succeeded Dr. Stanley Walker as head of Canada's oldest university in 1954.

For several years Canon Puxley, who is a native of Britain, was a college professor in India and before coming to King's had held administrative posts both with the Student Christian Movement and the Canadian Council of Churches.

The sacrament of Holy Communion will be celebrated at the morning service at Trinity on Sunday, with the Rev. Dr. D. P. Forrester, of Weymouth, as celebrant. Dr. Forrester is a former professor at the General Theological Seminary in New York.

Rev. H. Y. MacLean, Rector of Trinity Parish, will be in Deep Brook Sunday morning for a celebration of the Holy Communion at St. Matthew's Church there at eleven o'clock. This will be the only service held this Sunday in St. Clement's Parish.

Mark Official Opening Of New School

Hon. M. S. Leonard, M.L.A. for Digby and Minister of Education for Nova Scotia, unveiled a bronze plaque on Friday evening at the new Digby Neck Consolidated School at Sandy Cove, marking the official opening of the new school.

A large audience attended the ceremonies, which were held in the school auditorium, to mark the opening. The stage was attractively arranged and decorated with fall blossoms for the occasion and the plaque, which was draped with the flag of Nova Scotia and the Union Jack, stood on an easel in the centre of the stage. The stand for the plaque was made by Councillor R. W. Jetterson, a member of the Municipal School Board.

Introduced by Councillor Ronald Morehouse of Centreville, a Municipal School Board member, Mr. Leonard was guest speaker for the occasion. In his address, Mr. Leonard traced the history of education in Nova Scotia from its early beginnings and the first education act in 1797. We in this province, Mr. Leonard said, have come a long way in the field of education over the years. Changing labour conditions which brought with them changes in social conditions also resulted in changes in education so that today schooling is provided, not only for the sons and daughters of the rich, but also for every child in the province. "No matter where they come from, children are entitled to a fair share of education," Mr. Leonard said.

Speaking of the new school at Sandy Cove, Mr. Leonard said it should be thought of not as just a building but as a school. It takes more than a building to comprise a school, he said. There must also be co-operation between teachers and pupils; school boards and government; between trustees and the people.

All of those concerned, he said, must unite in support of this new school and see that there is a right spirit of co-operation. The attitude of parents in the home toward schools is reflected in the attitude of the children at school, Mr. Leonard said.

Our schools, he said, are dealing directly with our greatest asset, our children. Education is costly, Mr. Leonard said, and even though our schools are operated economically taxpayers must realize they do not get these things without paying. It is essential, he said, that there be co-operation between taxpayers and school boards and the duty which school boards have to the taxpayer be not forgotten.

Mr. Leonard was thanked for his address by Councillor Victor Flahgan of Freeport, a member of the Municipal School Board.

Chairman of the opening ceremonies was Municipal School Board Chairman H. E. Chisholm who also spoke briefly concerning the new school and development of education. Also speaking at the opening ceremonies was School Inspector C. W. Crowell.

Miss Elizabeth McCullough, Principal of the new school, introduced the teachers. Two hundred pupils were accommodated in the school, she said. Teachers are: Mrs. Betty Denton, Principal; Mrs. Clara Morehouse, Grade 1; Mrs. Laura Belle Tidd, Grade 2; Mrs. Laura Jane Tidd,

Closing Out Railway Career

An active career of 40 years in railroading will be closed at the end of this month with the retirement of Harrison B. (Harry) Titus, division engineer of Canadian National Railways, Halifax.

Born in Digby, a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Titus, Mr. Titus is a graduate of Mount Allison University, and has had very wide experience in civil engineering. One of the first projects he worked on was the construction of the original car ferry terminals at Cape Tormentine, N. B., and Borden, P.E.I., in 1912.

Shortly after the outbreak of World War I, Mr. Titus enlisted in the Royal Canadian Engineers as a sapper, returning to Canada in 1919 as a Lieutenant, and in that year he joined Canadian National Railways at Moncton as an instrument man. Outstanding aptitude for railroading brought him rapid promotion, and he was successively concrete and soil inspector, assistant engineer, and division engineer, before his present appointment as division engineer at Halifax was made in 1948.

A project in which Mr. Titus played an important part during his railway career was the installation of the centralized traffic control system between Moncton and Halifax. CTC was installed during World War II, and at the time was a closely guarded military secret. It allowed the CNR to greatly increase the number of trains carrying troops, munitions, and other war supplies to the Atlantic seaboard.

As his retirement date nears, Mr. Titus is being feted by his fellow officers in recognition of his many years of valuable service to the railway.

Mr. Titus is married to the former Alwilda Snow, of Digby. Mr. and Mrs. Titus plan to make their home in Digby following his retirement.

Be Sure Before You Shoot

Grade 3; Mrs. Charlotte Denton, Grade 4; Mrs. Jaunita Morehouse, Grade 5; Miss McCullough, Grade 6. During the evening's program two choral selections were rendered by a chorus of pupils under direction of Mrs. Jaunita Morehouse with Mrs. Reg Sypher at the piano.

The keys of the new school were turned over by Mr. Hudson of the Annapolis Valley Construction Co. Ltd., builders of the school, to Mr. L. R. Fair, whose firm prepared the architectural plans for the structure. Mr. Fair, after congratulating the builders on a fine job, turned the keys over to the School Board Chairman, H. E. Chisholm.

The new school at Sandy Cove has seven academic rooms and a large auditorium-gymnasium, as well as office and store room space. It is well equipped and all the classrooms are well-lighted and ventilated to provide excellent accommodation for the pupils. In the primary department arrangements have been made for the convenience of the smaller pupils which should prove most satisfactory. Located on a hill just beyond the village of Sandy Cove, the new school is a splendid addition to the educational program of the municipality.

After the opening ceremonies these attending were guests of a social hour in the community hall in Sandy Cove. Teaching staff of the new school present and were assisted in serving by Mrs. Elmer Lewis and Mrs. Ernest McCullough.

Time Muddle To End

Citizens of this area are breathing a sigh of relief this week for they know that, come Saturday midnight, the confusing time muddle that has existed for the past several weeks will at last come to an end.

Effective at one minute past midnight on Saturday night the Town of Digby will revert to Standard Time as will the Cornwallis naval base, the villages of Deep Brook and Smith's Cove.

This year the time problem has been a thornier one than usual with some communities in the area remaining on Daylight Time until this weekend while others reverted to Standard Time at the end of September. The situation was further confused when it became necessary for schools in Digby to change their class hours to open at ten o'clock in the morning in order to accommodate the more than fifty percent of the students at the school who come from the rural areas.

The time muddle was not only confined to the Digby area but existed all over the province, and tempers of travelling men and others were often badly frayed with the problems posed in trying to keep appointments in various communities separated not only by miles but also by time zones.

Saturday night will see an end to it all, however, as communities throughout the province and Canada generally will revert to Standard Time that night. Radio and television program schedules will require some altering, however, to accommodate the change in time.

Former Digby Man Sees Rocket

Rufus C. Connor, a former resident of Digby but now chief engineer for the Hotel Vendome in Boston, was among those who saw the famous Russian Sputnik rocket.

In a letter to the Courier Connor wrote that he was able to see the Sputnik rocket from the roof terrace of the hotel. He said he saw it first at 6:09 a.m. Monday, October 14th, and that it was visible for two minutes. He saw the rocket again the next morning at 6:03 a.m.

Mr. Connor said the rocket was very bright and passed across the sky very rapidly. He said many people were turning out early in the morning to get a view of the spectacle.

Baptism At Ashmore

The shore of St. Mary's Bay at Weymouth North, below the Riverside United Baptist Church, was the scene of a beautiful baptism on Sunday afternoon, October 14th, when eight young people, of Ashmore, were led into the baptismal waters by their pastor, Rev. A. M. Rogerson. Upon their return they were received at the water's edge by their parents and members of the United Baptist Churches of Ashmore and Riverdale.

The weatherman gave his nod of approval by giving a beautiful day of sunshine for the occasion.

The candidates were received into the fellowship of the Ashmore Church at the evening service by their pastor, who presented to each candidate a baptismal and church membership certificate. An impressive message was delivered by the pastor from Psalms 119 and 59th verse, "I thought on my ways and turned my feet unto thy testimonies." The church was filled to capacity. The choir from the African Baptist Church at Weymouth Falls was in attendance and rendered beautifully many spiritual numbers. At the close of the service the new members were welcomed into the fellowship of the church by the pastor and members of the church.

Guest Preacher At Trinity Church

Rev. Prof. C. W. F. Stone of the Trinity Faculty of King's College, Halifax, was guest preacher at the morning service at Trinity Anglican Church here Sunday morning.

Professor Stone, Mrs. Stone and their three children were weekend guests of Rev. and Mrs. H. Y. MacLean at the rectory.

Cars Crash At Conway

Two cars were badly damaged in a collision which occurred late Monday evening near the residence of W. J. Franklin in Conway.

One of the cars, reportedly driven by Ernest Nesbitt, of Centreville, was on the way out of town, while the other car, said to be driven by Eugene Outhouse, of Mount Pleasant, was proceeding toward town when they collided.

Only minor injuries were received by the occupants of the two cars, although both cars were badly damaged in the crash.

Advised Sister Killed

Mrs. Dwight Sabean, of Yarmouth, recently received shocking news that her sister, Mrs. Frederick Roberts, of Toronto, had been killed in a traffic accident. Mrs. Roberts met death when she was standing in front of her home as a truck and a car collided.

The accident victim was the former Edna Morgan of Bear River and had many friends and relatives in this area.

Legion Meets

Plans for the annual Remembrance Day program and the banquet to be held on November 11th were discussed and finalized at the regular meeting of the Digby Branch of the Canadian Legion, BESL.

A church parade will be held this year to St. Patrick's Church on the Sunday prior to Remembrance Day. Ex-service personnel only have been asked to attend this parade. On Remembrance Day the annual service will be held at eleven o'clock in the morning at the War Memorial. Taking part in this will be ex-service personnel, civic dignitaries, St. Cathar's, Roy Scaun and others.

The annual service in the area, President R. G. Wright expressed the hope the drive this year would be most successful as much of the funds needed to carry on urgent welfare work by the branch are raised from the Poppy Campaign.

It was announced at the meeting members of the branch had been invited to a social evening October 29th, sponsored by the Ladies' Auxiliary, who will also put on the November 11th banquet.

Don't smoke in bed. The ashes they cover up in the morning may be your own.

Despite intensive fire prevention work and safety education, carelessness remains as a major factor of Canada's more than 500 fire deaths each year.

Mrs. E. M. Wilson, of Deep Brook, spent the weekend in Digby.

Churches Observe Laymen's Sunday

Laymen's Sunday was appropriately observed in the Baptist Churches of Digby and Hill Grove. At the morning service in Digby Scott Eaton led in the Responsive Reading, and J. W. Christie read the Scripture Lesson. The choir sang "God So Loved The World" by Sir John Goss. At Hill Grove Mr. Churchill was assisted by Lloyd MacNeill, who read the Scripture. The choir sang "Guide Me O Jehovah".

In Mr. Churchill's sermon, which was directed to the laymen of the church, he used the Scripture incident on Ananias going to seek out Saul of Tarsus to minister to him. Mr. Churchill emphasized that Ananias was a layman in the early Christian fellowship. He felt he had been sent by Jesus to minister to Paul that he might receive his sight, and be filled with the Holy Spirit. He stressed the observation that often the reason more men do not find work in the church is because they lack a sense of mission, and a purpose in being Christian laymen. A band of Ananias workers is needed in the Christian church.

At Grace United Church, Dr. Herbert Davy, of Digby Psychiatric Clinic, was guest speaker at the morning service. Dr. Davy took as his subject "the pilgrim's progress", often referring to the book of the same name, and talked of the mistakes made and the ways in which the pilgrim oftentimes strays. Fear and gloom and discouragement were danger points to be avoided. Aids along the pilgrim's way, noted by Dr. Davy, were personal human kindness, hymns, pictures, etc., which might move the pilgrim; a sense of humor; study of the lives of other pilgrims and a close relationship to God through prayer. He told his audience to give God the power of attorney in their lives, not for bringing about reward, but for giving the work of God and the power of God to the world.

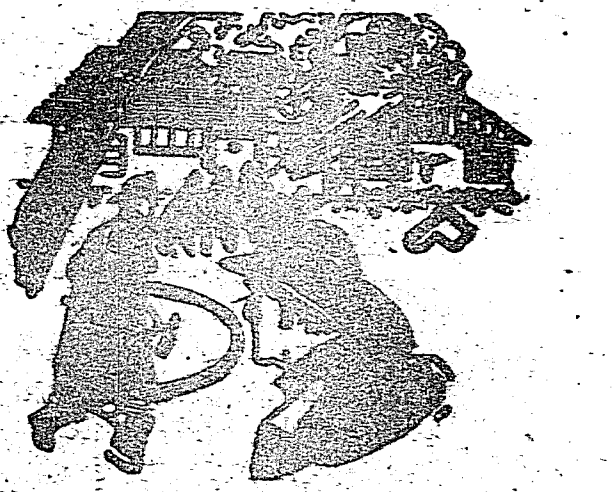

Dr. Davy quoted the beautiful hymn written in 1553 by Sarum Primer:

"God be in my head
And in my understanding
God be in mine eyes and in my looking
God be in my mouth and in my speaking
God be in my heart and in my thinking
God be at my end and at my departing."

The hymn set to music in 1863 by Henry Walford Davies was sung by Mrs. J. M. Wallis as a solo by request before the address.

Dr. Davy is a native of England and was connected with the Methodist Church there.

D. P. D. ACTIVITIES

Activities of the department have been rather quiet for the past month with the only project underway at the present time being the painting of the outside of the Fire Station. It is hoped that this can be completed before the weather gets too hot.

Fire practice was held last Wednesday evening when oxygen masks and Scott Air Paks were given a good work-out, with the boys under actual conditions made possible by the use of smoke bombs. This practice was held to familiarize the men with this equipment under or as near actual conditions as possible. This practice put a lot of confidence in this smoke equipment and will make actual operations much easier to cope with. This was the reason for the "smoke screen" over the northern part of town last Wednesday. Dr. Scott stated of the address are wondering what was taking place.

Don't smoke in bed. The ashes they cover up in the morning may be your own.

Despite intensive fire prevention work and safety education, carelessness remains as a major factor of Canada's more than 500 fire deaths each year.

On Wednesday evening at the home of the usual prayer meeting, Rev. Gordon Curwell was guest speaker. On Sunday evening he spoke from Luke 24 under the heading of "The Open Grave." The Oxford Scriptures and "The Open Grave" under-standings of the 15 chapters in Bear River as for some years he was a regular visitor as Deputation Secretary for the Sudan Interior Mission. This time he presented E. L. O. (Evangelical Literature Overseas). This is an international organization established by Moody Bible Institute five years ago. It assists missions by printing religious books, Bible helps, and commentaries to aid in study of the Bible, which missionaries need in native languages in the underdeveloped lands of the world. Their literature is the answer to the vast flood of Communist print in highly colored, very attractive magazine form used freely to spread Communist propaganda.

A Mohammedan does not dare to be seen talking to a missionary, or joining a group being taught by one. The only way to reach them is to give them the Gospel in a form easy to understand, which they hide away in the folds of their garment to read later. The Mohammedan peoples all over the world are rapidly learning to read and are avid readers.

Next spring Mr. Tournay goes to the Mohammedan peoples of Northern Africa to set up book stores, reading rooms and outlets for Christian and cultural literature from all over the world.

At Sunday morning worship service in the United Baptist Church the guest speaker was Rev. Ivor Powell, evangelist from Wales, whose text was from John 10:10, "I am come that they might have life, and have it more abundantly," and Romans 5:7, "They who receive abundance of grace shall reign."

He speaks each night this week at the Annapolis Royal Academy in the Crusade for Christ being held at that centre. Success leaves Bear River on Wednesday and on Friday evenings for these meetings at Annapolis Royal and will transport all who wish to go.

The C.G.T. have cancelled previous plans for Friday night and all are invited to go to the Crusade meeting on the bus.

Sunday evening service was conducted by the officers of the Older Boys' Conferences and the speaker was Rev. Charles Tournay who spoke from Acts 6 and 7 on the great faith, courage, integrity and dedication of Stephen.

The Ladies' Circle met on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Carl Miller.

Supper was served at six o'clock under a committee composed of Mrs. J. H. Cunningham, Mrs. Chas. Green and Mrs. John Harris. Following this an evening program was presented in Cabane Hall, the members dressed in costumes of 60 years ago, a supposed "rehearsal" for the show, with songs, skits, singing school and spelling bee complete. The full alerted cotton dress worn by Mrs. Donald Brown was nearly 100 years old, and the black taffeta "dolan" worn by Mrs. MacIntyre was about 75 years old. A number of the other dresses were authentic antiques as well. Mrs. Good of Bear River added original lines to the playlet. A silver collection was taken at the hall to defray expenses.

Pres., Mrs. Zelee Doucet, Little Brook.
1st. Vice-pres., Mrs. Vera Langman, Smith's Cove.
2nd. Vice-pres., Mrs. Robert Comeau, Saulnierville.

FOOTNOTE

It's been a long time since I read any school books, but do you remember how those long, dry texts were dotted with asterisks as if the pages had chicken pox?

All the most interesting material was down below in the footnotes.

I once heard of a professor who got so fed up with all this he wrote a text book that was entirely one big long footnote.

Footnotes are like a paper chase. You spot the asterisk like this: "and op. cit. and stop them back through other footnotes to find out where the author stole his stuff."

No one, however, has ever invented a way to write a footnote to a footnote. I wonder what you'd call a footnote to a footnote?

I don't know much about footnotes. But I do know that customers need fewer C-notes to shop at our lot because customers need fewer C-notes to shop at our lot because high-volume and high volume... but you get the idea. We have the best deals.

Professors don't get paid as much as they should, but we have cars to fit every pocketbook. Now there is a right one of our cars fitted into every pocketbook. We sell and trade a lot of cars, therefore we have the widest selection around here in style, year, make, and price. And right now is the best time of year to shop for a car.

I haven't the slightest idea what this means. If you know, come into our lot immediately and we'll be so pleased to show you the greatest selection of cars we've ever had. You won't get a minute to explain.

Now here's a REAL footnote. When you drive the new Pontiac your feet will note that it's the best car in the get pedal. This magnificent, powerful and sleek champion of the industry has a new look of graceful economy that has the whole auto business by the tail.

The only built-burping fire clay deposit of commercial size in Eastern Canada is now being developed at Shubenacadie, N. S. The project is expected to result in an additional production of several million bricks. A joint announcement was made recently by Mr. R. H. Shaw, President, L. E. Shaw Limited, and Mr. Charles Lawlor Shubenacadie, owner of the clay property, of this industrial development and a long term lease agreement.

Utilization of the Shubenacadie fire clay in the production of light built-colored face brick, heretofore not manufactured in Eastern Canada, is already underway. Manufacturing plants are the brick plants at Lantz and New Glasgow.

Production of the new brick follows two years of extensive research and tests by the Industrial Minerals Division of the Department of Mines and Technical Surveys, Ottawa, and L. E. Shaw Limited.

The new Shubenacadie deposit, with raw materials sufficient for years to come, answers a need that in the past, has been largely filled through the importation of built brick from such distant points as Ohio and Pennsylvania in the United States. Test results indicate a local product of the highest quality and one that will find an extensive market, not only in the Maritime Provinces, but in the United States and other parts of Canada as well.

Inasmuch as the deposit shows considerable promise toward the manufacture of certain types of fire brick, further research is being continued by the Company in co-operation with the Industrial Minerals Division in Ottawa. Should these results prove successful, an entirely new market would be opened up through the use of Nova Scotians fire brick in iron and steel mills and other industrial installations.

This unique Shubenacadie clay deposit was formed by an eddy in the glacial wash during the glacial geological period. Its development is commercially feasible at this time, due to the open pit system of mining made possible by modern earth-moving machinery. Giant bulldozers have already opened up an area of approximately one acre, removing 12 to 20 feet of overburden.

The clay deposit was originally discovered many years ago when their railway line was cut through Shubenacadie. A deposit on an adjoining property was shaft-mined by the Dominion Coal and Steel Company between the years 1910 and 1935. Before that time Mr. Thompson, of Shubenacadie, had shipped it in small quantities to a pottery located between Enfield and Elmdale.

Mr. and Mrs. William Freeman and family, of Shubenacadie, purchased the property in 1930, on the advice of a prominent geologist, Dr. E. R. Fairbairn, of Ottawa.

In 1935 the property was hand-drilled by the late Mr. Lawlor and his assistants from his gold-mining interests in the Moose River area. The property was then dormant until leased to L. E. Shaw Limited by Mr. Charles Lawlor for more complete drilling, analysis and testing.

In announcing the project, both Mr. Shaw and Mr. Lawlor paid high tribute to the research and testing work carried out by the staff of the Industrial Minerals Division at Ottawa, without which the present development would not have been possible.

The Chief of Industrial Minerals Division, Department of Mines and Technical Surveys is Mr. M. F. Goudie, who was intimately associated with the actual testing and development programme. Also actively engaged in the actual carrying out of this programme from the Department of Mines and Technical Surveys, Mines Branch, Industrial Minerals Division, were the following: Mr. Sam Matthews, Head of Ceramic Section; Mr. J. G. Brady, Ceramic Engineer; Mr. J. Phillips, formerly Head of the Ceramic Section, but who is now retired.

Holy Trinity Church, Digby
The annual fall festival was held on Saturday afternoon, October 15, at 3 o'clock, when Mrs. Muriel Bell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Bell Sr., of Bear River, was united in marriage with Maxwell Gillman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Gillman, 255 Rockway Road, Gore, Newfoundland.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. H. T. MacLean, and interpreted to the deaf couple by Rev. J. Light, D.D., of Boston, Mass.

To the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march, the bride entered the church on the arm of her uncle, Mr. Bernard Adams, and stood lovingly in her gown of white-nylon net over satin, with lace inserts and lace jacket with long pointed sleeves. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a halo of pearls and rhinestones and she carried a bouquet of red roses and white baby mums.

Mrs. Roscoe Cress, sister of the bride, was matron of honor, and wore a floor length gown of pink lace and nylon net over satin, with matching headpiece and mitts. She carried an old fashioned nosegay of pink and white gladioli.

Doris MacKillop, of Halifax, was bridesmaid and was gown in a blue lace and nylon net over satin, with headpiece and mitts to match, and carried an old fashioned nosegay of pink and white gladioli.

Little Hope Harris, looking demure in a pale blue bouffant dress of nylon net over tulle, with matching headpiece, carrying a basket of bronzes and yellow baby mums, was flower girl.

The groom was attended by the bride's brother, Bernard Bell, of Digby. Ushers were Percy Ferguson, brother-in-law of the bride, and Harry Banks, of Bear River. During the signing of the register Mr. James Harris sang "O Perfect Love".

The bride's mother looked charming in a teal blue printed silk shantung dress, with matching accessories, and wore a corsage of pink carnations.

Report From Parliament Hill

By Hon. George C. Newlan

A great deal of work was accomplished by Parliament during the past week. On Wednesday evening the debate on the Address was adjourned and the Government started to introduce its legislative programme on Thursday. The first item was a Bill to provide for cash advances to the Western wheat growers. I realize that this will be the subject matter of some criticism by Eastern farmers and other primary producers. I have already heard it suggested that if you can do this for the wheat grower why cannot you do it for the lumberman, for the fisherman and others. There is, of course, one simple answer to this query. The wheat grower is the only producer in Canada, other than gold and uranium miners, who are compelled to sell their product to the Government. In other words by legislation the Government of Canada has set up the Wheat Board and has ordered every wheat grower to sell his product to that Board. Whether this policy is right or wrong is immaterial at the moment. The fact remains that it is the law of the land and therefore its implications must be recognized. Thus for a variety of reasons, this Wheat Board has failed to sell Canadian wheat. The elevators at the various rural country stations are filled to capacity. So are the elevators at the Lakeshead, in Vancouver, Halifax and every port of export. As a result the farmer is unable to deliver his wheat. Naturally the farmer says this is no fault of his and that the Government having denied to him the right of delivery, should at least provide him with enough money with which to pay for some groceries and his taxes. Accordingly the legislation provides that farmers who are unable to deliver wheat and have it in storage on their own farms can get an advance on a small part of the wheat which he has grown but has been unable to sell.

I have referred to wheat, but actually the Bill covers wheat, oats and barley. It is a very complicated Bill but in effect provides that for a certain specified number of bushels, the farmer may receive an advance of 50 cents in the case of wheat, 20 cents in the case of oats, and 35 cents in the case of barley. He cannot get paid for more than six bushels of any grain for any one acre, nor can he receive more than $3,000 altogether. This assures that the small farmer growing only a few hundred bushels will receive more in proportion for his crop than will the larger grower. The $3,000 maximum, of course, prevents the factory producer type of grower who is farming thousands of acres from making a clean-up at the expense of the lesser producers. The Bill contains adequate provision whereby the farmer cannot get paid for any more grain after receiving the advance until he has delivered enough to pay off the monies which he has already received. In other words, it would appear that the taxpayer is adequately protected, but in the meantime, the Western grower will receive some money with which to pay some bills and be able to carry on until perhaps another season. It is a novel experiment which the Government has embarked upon and which the other Government refused to consider and said it was impossible. On the other hand it is so hedged around with safeguards that, personally, I do not think the taxpayer is going to lose a cent. At the same time, it will revive business in the smaller communities in the West which has virtually stagnated for weeks because no one has had any money with which to pay for anything.

Other measures which are of far more interest to our own people are those amending the Social Security legislation of this country. These, although very important, are very simple in nature and have probably already been reported fully in the press. In short, Old Age Security, Old Age Assistance, Blind Pensions, Crippled Pensions are raised to $35.00 per month. The residence qualification for Old Age Security and Old Age Assistance has been reduced from twenty to ten years, and six

Digby - Digby

A quiet wedding was solemnized in the West End Baptist Church, Halifax, October 12th, when the pastor, Rev. Ronald McCormick, united in marriage Amy Margaret, youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Jeffrey, of Sandy Cove, Digby county, and Philip Ernest, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Racine, of Halifax.

The bride wore a light blue satin embroidered street-length dress with matching blue velvet picture hat. She carried a nosegay of white and pale blue mums.

The bride's only attendant was her sister, Mrs. Edward Moslin, who wore a beige street-length paper taffeta dress with matching beige feather hat. She carried a nosegay of white and yellow mums.

Kenneth MacDonald, Halifax, was best man.

The groom's mother was attired in a blue lace dress with small blue velvet hat and wore a corsage of pale pink rosebuds.

Following the ceremony a reception for immediate relatives and friends of the bride and groom was held.

After a honeymoon spent in New York Mr. and Mrs. Racine will reside in Halifax where the groom is on the staff of the Royal Bank of Canada and the bride, who is a graduate of the Shelburne Rural High School, is employed in Civil Service work.

months is permitted each year in which one can be absent from the country. These are all changes which have been demanded for years and which I think will be popular in all quarters. Of course, it must be remembered that the Old Age Assistance legislation, as well as the Crippled and Blind Pensions are on a means test basis, and also receive contributions from the Provincial Government. I believe that the legislation of the Nova Scotia Government is so worded that the Government can, by Order in Council, authorize the additional payments which it will have to make without waiting for a session of the legislature. I am, therefore, hopeful that all people in Nova Scotia will be receiving these additional payments before the end of the year. Of course, to some extent that depends on how long the Opposition will debate these measures in the House of Commons.

The other noteworthy event of the week was the visit on Friday and Saturday of the Right Honourable Mr. Macmillan, Prime Minister of Great Britain, and Mr. Selwyn Lloyd, his Foreign Secretary. Both these gentlemen sat in with the Canadian Cabinet and I had the privilege of a fairly extensive conversation with both of them. I was particularly impressed when he discussed with us the responsibilities of democratic governments in these days and his own feeling of responsibility with respect to world peace. I thought the world was fortunate in having a man of his calibre and character as the head of one of the most important governments in the Western world. Both he and Mr. Lloyd gave to us a briefing on the international situation which was both fascinating and challenging.

Possibly the greatest mistake Mr. Khrushchev has made is the premature launching of the little baseball circling our hemisphere and known as Sputnik. Up until then, our American friends felt that they had a monopoly of knowledge and authority and suddenly that was shattered. The effect on them was very much the same as that of Pearl Harbor in the early days of the war. Now the American Government is ready and anxious to co-operate, to share its knowledge and to work together with other Western nations. Truly that is the only way in which we can safeguard our future. The Russians have centralized everything under one powerful central government. Not only have we been divided into different Governments, but at least the American Government has absolutely refused to share its knowledge and apparently assumed that it could maintain a monopoly until itself. All of that complacency and conceit was shattered in a few hours and as a result the Western world will probably make far more progress in the next year than it has been able to make in the last decade.

In the meantime the local political situation is full of excursions and alarms. One day the Liberal Party, like Don Quixote, of old, goes charging up the hill with his banner floating proudly from his lance. Later on it comes riding down the hill like Sancho Panza cowering backwards on his donkey. If they are deliberately indulging in a war of nerves, it is an interesting one, but like all wars of nerves, they may suddenly end in unexpected results.

10 Teams In Clare Bowling League

Bowling in the District of Clare in Digby County is one of the main winter sports and probably no section in western Nova Scotia can boast of so large an entry of teams in bowling leagues. The Clare League has ten entries for the new season just commenced with entries from Weymouth, St. Bernard's, Belliveau Cove, Church Point, Concession, Saulnierville, Meteghan River with Canadians, Muskateers and Sharpshooters being the three Meteghan teams. Only in 1949 did the Clare League boast of ten teams and that year the Weymouth entry won the championship.

The league first organized in 1947 has had its ups and downs but persevered until today it is one of the most interesting leagues in this part of the province. Meteghan brought the championship trophy home on five occasions when the Canadians won in 1947 and 1953; Muskateers winning in 1952, 1954 and 1955. Concession won three times in 1951, 1953 and 1957. Little Brook won in 1949 and 1950 and after the disastrous fire which destroyed their bowling alley this team dropped out of the league. Weymouth won their only championship in 1949, dropping out of the league until the 1957-58 season.

With three games played the Clare League standing is as follows: using the 4 point system, one point for each string won and one point for the highest aggregate score:-

Meteghan Muskateers	W 1
Meteghan River	11 1
Church Point	8 4
Concession	8 4
Meteghan Canadians	7 5
St. Bernard's	6 6
Weymouth	5 7
Saulnierville	4 8
Belliveau's Cove	4 8
	3 9

The Meteghan Town League consists of eight teams made up of four men and two girls in mixed teams. This is the fourth year that the town league has operated and enthusiasm is still very strong. Teams in this league consist of Wildcats, Bearcats, Wolverines, Cubs, Panthers, Lions, Tigers and Lynx. The town league was first organized in 1954 with 4 teams and the championship was won by the Wildcats captained by Adolph (E. M.) Comeau. The following year eight teams were entered and the coveted trophy was won by the Cubs, captained by Miss Florence LeBlanc, and in 1956 the Tigers won with Clarence Mallett at the helm. In 1957 the Cubs won the second time with Miss Florence LeBlanc again captain.

Schedules for both leagues call for games played until March after which the playoffs will commence followed by a banquet at which individual prizes as well as team prizes are awarded for the highest individual single and game scores for the season, as well as for the highest average. In the Meteghan town league prizes are awarded for the ladies' section and gent's section which means there will be double prizes awarded. Team scores both single and game may win prizes. The most coveted prize of the whole affair is the championship trophy which goes along with the championship.

About This and That

Remembrance Day Thoughts

"Remembrance Day—1937"—what does it mean? Surely, while it means many different things to different people, there is one thing it means to us all. And that is this—that our Freedom is a Liberty has a price tag on it.

Our greatest danger to the world today comes from the all too common belief that our Freedom gives us the right to do as we like—that it gives us the right to take everything and give nothing in return. We find this sort of thinking and living going on throughout the whole of our social life. We find it in our schools and colleges, with resultant poor sportsmanship. We find the idea of doing what you like going on in marriage and in our homes. How many marriages and homes are broken up because one or both of the marriage partners believe they have the right to do what they like—because they get tired of the routine or the responsibilities of the home or because they get tired of each other? We find this idea of doing what we like well and going out our own sweet way in the failure to participate in community enterprises or in civic government. There are too many citizens who are too busy with their own private affairs and pleasures to take time to work for the good of the whole.

It has become easy and fashionable to have no god but the god of one's own self and one's own desire. Ego, selfishness and indulgence are among our greatest enemies. But the God of the Bible tells us that these things are wrong and that true and lasting peace will not come until all wrong and sin have been put down and brotherhood and love will reign. To win this there must be sacrifice from each one of us. The Perfect Son lay down his life—sons and fathers have given theirs. To preserve Liberty and Freedom we must also be prepared to sacrifice our selfish outlook on life and let love for all mankind take its place. This is the real meaning of "Remembrance Day."

Planning Seal Campaign

During the first years of this century a strategic plan was outlined in Canada to fight the terrible disease of tuberculosis which was rapidly spreading throughout the country. The plan, sponsored by tuberculosis associations in the provinces, consisted of a program to solicit the co-operation of the general public in detecting and treating the disease before it had a chance to spread. Right up to this present day the citizens have co-operated to a great degree as shown by the remarkable decrease in the incidence of tuberculosis.

Tuberculosis can be arrested, and the health authorities of Canada are confident that with the continued co-operation of the public—all of whom are exposed to the disease—the scourge can be brought under control.

We bring this to the minds of our readers in preparation for the sale of T.B. Christmas Seals for 1937. Already the committee in charge in Digby has reviewed the lists of usual buyers and seals are expected to be in the mails in about a week. From there on the job is mostly up to the public. The people are asked to use them as they see fit, and to donate as generously as they can to the cause. There can be no better way to put the spirit of Christmas into good wishes than by affixing a tuberculosis seal on each envelope. It will be a definite contribution toward the health and continued life of many people, perhaps even yourself.

In Memoriam

THOMAS — In sad and loving memory of a dear husband and father, Walter E. Thomas, who passed away November 2, 1954. Please God forgive his dear heart. The constant wish that he were here: — You called others, yes I know, but he was mine and I loved him so. Dearest to me than words can tell. Was the husband I lost and loved so well; I will never forget him, I never leave. I think of him dearly and will be to the end. Whenever I go, wherever I go, forever dear Walter I think of you. — Always remembered by wife, Beatrice, and son, Carl. 10-15

BAKERS — In loving memory of our dear father and grandfather, Ralph, Orlan Baker, who passed away Nov. 3, 1956. To know us never said goodbye will always bring regret. But hearts that love you dearly are the ones that won't forget. God give us strength to take it and to bear the loss. But what it meant to lose you. Dad. No one will ever know. — Always remembered by daughter, Eleanor, son-in-law, Jack, grandchildren, Joan and Douglas, of Winnipeg. 10-15 cause I am happy to see people from other places like Nova Scotia and other places where I have never been. It's good to know them. Tell Barbara and Doris I kiss them. Tell Job I will write a letter to him next time. I shake hands with him. Tell my father I shake with him. Tell Jack Okemow I shake hands with him and his whole family. Most children wrote a paragraph about our 'flu epidemic and Christopher said: "I was so lonesome staying in bed doing nothing but eating and sleeping." Some children who do not live too far away get home for Christmas. Murdo hopes he will: "I was wondering if I could go home for Christmas this year. I sure would like to be home with you on Christmas. Let me know if you want to send for me. And if you couldn't afford to I wouldn't mind if I couldn't. But at least try to." Likewise the letter endings were most interesting: "So, Mother, don't worry about me. Worry about my father who is always working like you." "Well, may God bless you all and keep you in his tender care." "I might as well end my letter with love and kisses. May God bless you and everybody." "I kiss my little sisters and I shake hands with you." After one child had written quite a long letter he ended it thus: "May God bless you and guide you. I have no news to tell you right now." Still another closing was: "May God bless and look upon you until we meet again." "Well, Granny, I'm up to my conclusion now. May God bless you all." And finally, "May God bless you and keep you any place you go." Many children commented on the kindness of the teacher and others toward them. Correcting these letters was a difficult task because of the phrasing used by the pupils. To express the same sentence in proper English, many pupils would have had to erase whole sentences which, I felt, would have ruined the type of harmony contained in the letter. Furthermore I was inclined to think that the parent might understand it better just as it was written. One of Christopher's paragraphs read this way: "We have lots of fun in school killing mice and throwing sticks with sharp points in front of them." I wonder what his mother would have thought of it. He did erase it and put in a new paragraph all on his own, though.

THE NIGHT COURSER

Our church is very close to the residence and all the boys and girls go with their supervisors each Sunday. There is an afternoon service in Cree each Sunday. The service is through an interpreter since Mr. Brown cannot speak Cree. All hymns are sung very slowly and sound so druggy. Someone said that you can't get the Indians to sing fast. They seem to enjoy singing hymns, though. Sometimes there are baptisms at our church, too. The babies are dressed in fine dresses and bonnets while the mothers stand with their buckskin jackets and running shoes on. Not all of course, because some of the women dress as nicely as white people do.

We have a choir at our church now although it is very small. There are no gowns for the choir as yet. I knew Fifth Avenue choir in Medicine Hat planned to have new gowns soon so I quickly wrote to the president inquiring as to their plans for disposing of the old ones. Very soon a letter came back stating that the choir had voted unanimously to give us as many as we needed. You can bet that we were very pleased with the good news. The gowns will be used by the choir that sings during the Cree service in the afternoon, too.

A most interesting church service I've attended was at Paupanikas which is seven miles down the river. This is the name of a family rather than of a place as one might be inclined to believe. For this service we usually leave here around four o'clock, eat our picnic lunch somewhere along the way and arrive there around seven o'clock. Two or three families gather at one house where the service is held. Hymn singing is with guitar accompaniment. I've gone to Paupanikas on two occasions and told the children's story at one service. Communion services are also held for these people. If we are not in a hurry to return to the residence we spend part of the evening visiting either the Anglican minister or the teacher at Playgreen school or anyone else along the way. Our minister and deaconess alternate taking these services down the river.

This northern country is truly a land of water. All travel is by water, that is by boat or plane. The Fort, referred to by some of us as "town" is two miles down the river. There we have a Hudson Bay store and the post office.

The staff has its own boat with two motors and we use it whenever we wish, although we don't have time other than on Saturdays. Just as in any other place everyone goes to town on Saturday. If there isn't room at the dock for your boat, just push the next one over and make room. That's what everyone does. It isn't quite like parking a car on the street. Just as in other places, too, we have women drivers and sometimes young boys and girls drive the boats, too. Often times when we are going to the Fort and we see several boats going this way and that, I think of the early explorers and all the paddling they used to do.

We really get mail three times a week - weather permitting. A Trans-Air plane brings in first class mail twice a week, on Tuesdays and Fridays. The "Keenore" brings the second class mail once weekly, but will soon discontinue because of unsatisfactory weather. After this our second class mail will go the 500 or so miles to Wabowden from Winnipeg and thence to Norway House by bombadier, a distance of some 150 miles. This will be the case of course after the lake freezes over.

Our little place here is really Rossville which is a part of the Norway House reserve. Norway House is the largest reserve in Manitoba.

Even the cemetery has a story of its own. It's such an interesting place to visit although I've been there only twice. Many of the graves are surrounding with hand-carved fencing which is very fancy and shows a lot of hours of work. Also, many graves are decorated with glass bits from broken bottles. In one case the glass bits were arranged in the form of a cross. Some tombstones are hand-made crosses of wood, while a very few are granite. Many graves have only the fencing. A big percentage of the graves are those of children, while the others for the most part are of people who died surprisingly young. It seems to be that so many of these people died of undernourishment although there were several drownings, too. One outstanding old shows six children born to a certain time between 1903 and 1912. The youngest one lived to be one day old, while the oldest one lived only eleven months. There are interesting quotations from some of the tombstones and wood crosses, which also goes to show that the Indian people have Christian beliefs as we do. Here are some of them: "The Lord has given and the Lord has taken away. Blessed be the name of the Lord." "Lord, teach me to give back to Thee the treasure Thou didst lend to me." "Our loved one sleeps here." "What hopes have perished with you, my son." "He taketh the lambs in His bosom." "Suffer little children to come unto Me." At long last, Mrs. Wallis, I'm approaching the end of my letter. It's taken a long time to type it simply because I'm far from being a fluent typist. However, the typing will make the reading easier. May I say, too, that I sincerely hope that you and anyone else who may read the letter will enjoy it as much as I enjoyed preparing it for you. I count it a privilege to be working here at Norway House and to be able to tell you about life here, first hand.

I'm going to close my letter with a couple of requests which are really not very big. Perhaps some of your church groups could send us some old Christmas cards and comic books. The comic books especially are needed because the children like reading them in bed just before the lights are turned out. Really must sign off with all the best to everyone in and around Digby.

Sincerely,
Theresa.

New hope for prevention of Heart Disease

In spite of accurate diagnosis, advanced medical science and surgery, heart disease is still the greatest killer today. What causes it? Can it be prevented? The National Heart Foundation of Canada, recently formed, will intensify the search for the answers to these questions. The Life Insurance Companies in Canada are supporting this Foundation because it is so important to the future health of Canadians. They have made substantial grants to cover the cost of launching the organization.

The Foundation will encourage intensive research into the causes of heart disease by every possible means. It will seek to stimulate professional and lay education and help family doctors to keep abreast of the newest developments in diagnosis and treatment.

Support of the National Heart Foundation is just one of many ways in which the life insurance companies in Canada are helping to create a healthier, happier life for Canadians.

Leonard Speaks At School Opening

"Economic progress and educational progress go hand in hand," stated Hon. M. S. Leonard, Minister of Education, at the opening of the new Weymouth Consolidated School in Weymouth Friday evening.

Mr. Leonard stated that some countries which are not rich in natural resources nevertheless have a good sound economy and a high standard of living because of a sound educational system in their schools.

Consolidated high schools, such as the one in Weymouth, he said, give high school students in the rural areas an opportunity for a better high school education. This is necessary today, he said, because the many scientific and technical advances which have been made in recent years require higher levels of learning if young people are to take a proper place in the economic life of the country.

The government of Nova Scotia, Mr. Leonard said, is complementing its educational program by providing opportunities for the further development of the economic life of the province by the creation of Industrial Estates Ltd. The purpose of this development is the promoting of industry in the province, he said, and any person or persons in Digby County or anywhere in the province with sound ideas for industrial development are free, regardless of their politics, to apply to Industrial Estates Ltd. for assistance in the establishment of an industry.

In order for the new school at Weymouth to carry out its proper function as a school, Mr. Leonard said, there had to be proper cooperation between all parties. First, he said, there had to be a proper standard of teaching because no matter how grand the building, the end product of a good school was the result of good teaching.

Secondly, Mr. Leonard said, parents should reflect the proper cooperative attitude concerning the school because the attitude of the parents would probably be reflected in the attitude of the children. Furthermore, he said, the public generally should recognize the need of giving a good education to our young people.

Mr. Leonard said that members of the municipal school board should also cooperate, realizing that they are not only trustees charged with providing educational facilities but also trustees for the taxpayers. School boards often forget this, he said, but it should ever be present in their minds. They should practice proper economy in building construction, transportation and other phases of carrying out the school program, keeping their efforts reasonably in line with the ability of the various areas to pay taxes.

School boards, Mr. Leonard said, should constantly search for ways and means of operating the schools as reasonably as possible while doing as little violence as possible to the proper educational program to be carried out in these schools.

Mr. Leonard was introduced to the gathering by Merle S. Mullen, a member of the Municipal School Board, and thanks were expressed by Mrs. J. Vian Andrews, also of the Municipal board. Following his address Mr. Leonard unveiled a plaque and declared the new school officially open.

Chairman of the official opening ceremonies was Digby Municipal School Board Chairman, H. E. Chisholm. The invocation was pronounced by Rev. Raoul Deveau of Gilbert's Cove, and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. E. C. Irwin of Weymouth.

During the evening's program a piano was presented to the school from the Weymouth Area Home & School Association by President Albert Jones.

W. B. Hamilton, principal of the new school, stated some five hundred pupils were involved in the Weymouth school system and of those some 400 were housed in the new building. Teaching staff of the new school numbers twenty and five busses are used to convey pupils from outlying areas to the school.

During the evening's program the keys of the new school were formally presented by Mr. Garland of the Annapolis Valley Construction Co. Ltd., builders of the school, to Municipal School Board Chairman

Red Cross Active in Local Relief Work

Special activity in the Disaster Relief Committee was reported at the November meeting of the Digby Red Cross Branch held last week. Mrs. Winfield, convener of this committee, reported clothing supplied during the month for ten persons in the municipality, as well as assistance rendered in conjunction with the Canadian Legion to the family left homeless in last week's fire. The Red Cross had supplied 4 blankets, 2 quilts, 5 sheets and 5 pairs pillow cases, and were making plans to complete two more quilts next week for the same purpose. Mrs. Winfield made an appeal for clothing, particularly children's sizes, and also expressed her thanks to the many who had already contributed to those less fortunate, stating that it was difficult to thank donors by name owing to the many anonymous parcels left at the Red Cross rooms.

The business session, which was held at the Court House and presided over by Dr. T. W. Hodgson, also featured a report from Mrs. Sidney Smith, convener of the nursing committee, stating that a Home Nursing course would be given after Christmas if there were enough people interested in forming a class and a suitable place could be arranged for holding it. Mrs. Smith suggested that all those interested might send in their names while further enquiries were conducted as to a meeting place.

The Ways & Means Committee reported a balance of $16.50 from Ten Cent Teas and donations, and the treasurer, Mrs. B. H. Ruggles, also reported a donation for the loan of a pair of children's crutches. The Sickroom Loan report showed the receipt of six new pairs of crutches from Halifax headquarters and the return of one wheelchair and one pair of crutches which had been on loan.

In reporting for the Women's Work Committee, Mrs. H. M. Warne stated that no shipment had been made, nor new materials ordered from the Division during the month, as the workers were busily engaged in the making of articles for local Christmas boxes which would be given out, as usual, by the Welfare and Relief Committee. Special yarn had been purchased for mittens and socks for this purpose and donations were promised from local groups. A welcome visitor at a recent meeting had been Miss Bertha Boggs, now of Kentville, who had brought in several sweaters and taken more yarn to continue her knitting for the branch. A plea was also made for more ladies, particularly those who can sew, or who would like to learn to sew, to join the Red Cross group which is in need of more workers to replace the many who have been lost in the past year.

Plans were made for the annual meeting of the branch, which it was found necessary to postpone until January on account of the many church teas scheduled for all suitable dates in November and December. A nominating committee comprising Mrs. J. J. Brittain, Mrs. Alan Harris, Mrs. Daniel Comeau and Mrs. Ralph Berwick, was appointed to bring in a slate of officers for the ensuing year.

Quilting was in progress during the meeting, at the conclusion of which the usual Ten Cent Tea was enjoyed.

Remembrance Day Marked

Annual church parade by ex-service personnel to a Digby church on the Sunday preceding Remembrance Day marked the opening of the Remembrance Day program here this year.

On Sunday ex-service personnel from Digby and area marched in parade to St. Patrick's Church where the service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. Father Luc Gaudet. Father Gaudet also preached a fitting sermon for the occasion.

Monday morning the annual Remembrance Day program was held at the war memorial here. Memorial wreaths were placed on the monument on behalf of the town by Mayor Gordon Turnbull; on behalf of the province by Hon. M. S. Leonard and on behalf of the Canadian Legion by George Cardoza.

By request of the various families concerned memorial wreaths were placed on the monument in memory of veterans from Digby and area who have passed on. M. C. Denton placed a wreath in memory of Major E. H. Anderson; R. W. Connor placed a wreath in memory of Stanley Spray and Ross Turnbull. A wreath in memory of George Wilson was placed by Ernest Wilson and James Wood placed a wreath in memory of Pilot Officer Reginald Woolf. Reginald Turnbull placed a wreath in memory of William Arnold Yorkie and a wreath in memory of Vernon Rice was placed by his son, Chester.

Wreaths sponsored by merchants and businessmen of the area were placed by Legion members Edward Murphy, Gordon Baxter, Roy Warner, Dudley Cummings and Harold Surrette.

Following the remembrance service and two minutes' silence the parade marched past the monument with the salute being taken by Orbin VanTassel.

In the evening the annual Remembrance Day banquet sponsored by the Digby Branch of the Canadian Legion was held at the Legion headquarters. Catering for the banquet was done by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Legion.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Dr. W. Angus of the Digby Psychiatric Clinic. Dr. Angus is an Imperial veteran, having served as a medical officer with the British Army. He recently came to Digby from Perth, Australia, having served as medical superintendent of a large hospital there. Dr. Angus was introduced to the gathering by Legion President R. O. Wright and thanks were expressed by John R. Nichols.

In his address Dr. Angus told many amusing and interesting anecdotes of his career in the services. Zone Commander Eugene Outhouse also spoke briefly.

During the banquet session life memberships in the Canadian Legion were presented George Cardoza, a veteran of the Boer War who enlisted in the British Army in 1900, and to Orbin VanTassel, a World War 1 veteran. The presentations were made by M. C. Denton on behalf of the branch.

Minister to Address Farm Group

Hon. E. D. Halliburton, Nova Scotia Minister of Agriculture, is expected to be the guest speaker at the annual meeting of the Digby County Agriculture Society, scheduled for the Maple Leaf Hall, Conway, on the afternoon and evening of November 26th. Mr. Halliburton is expected to be speaker at the banquet session at 6.30 p.m.

Another guest at the gathering will be Mr. Gerrard Chaisson of Margaree Forks, a Director of the Nova Scotia Federation of Agriculture. It is expected Mr. Chaisson will deal with many matters on the program of the Agriculture Federation and seek local support and cooperation from Digby county farmers for these projects.

President of the Digby County Agriculture Federation is Chipman Chisholm of Bear River. Vice-president is Anselm LeBlanc and John Roope is secretary-treasurer. Lloyd McNeill is local director of the Nova Scotia Federation of Agriculture.

Among projects the local county agriculture federation is promoting is a marshland reclamation scheme to bring back into productive use marshlands along the head of St. Mary's Bay. The group is also strongly interested in cooperative production and marketing in order to improve the lot of agriculture in this district. Efforts are also being made to develop 4-H Clubs to hold the interest of youth in the area in farming.

It is the hope of the organization that everyone in the area interested in agriculture and its future in this county will attend the annual meeting on November 26th. Members feel that only through an active organization dedicated to the promotion of the interest of farmers and agriculture generally in the county is there any hope for the industry in this area.

To Address Annual Meet

The Honourable Lester B. Pearson, 1957 Nobel Peace Prize winner, will be the guest speaker at the annual luncheon of the Nova Scotia Liberal Association, to be held at the Nova Scotia Hotel on Friday, November 15, Provincial Party President, Mayor D. Owen Hartigan, Sydney Mines, announced this week.

The former Secretary of State for External Affairs, and former Canadian representative at the United Nations Assembly, will arrive in Halifax Thursday evening. Mr. Pearson will leave immediately after the annual luncheon for Charlottetown, P. E. I., where he is scheduled to address a Provincial Liberal meeting in that province.

Following the annual luncheon Liberals from all parts of Nova Scotia will assemble for their 1957 annual meeting. The guest speaker will be Henry D. Hicks.

The Provincial Women's Association will hold their annual meeting on Thursday evening with Mr. Hicks as special speaker.

On Saturday the Young Liberals will meet at the Provincial Headquarters for their annual meeting and at the same time the University Liberals will be holding their semi-annual meeting at the Dalhousie Law School. Mr. Hicks is scheduled to be guest speaker at both of these meetings.

The Nova Scotia Weekly Newspapers Association will also meet in Halifax on Friday, November 15th, and invitations have been extended to the members of this organization to attend the annual luncheon in order that they may have the opportunity of hearing Mr. Pearson.

Special services marking the 120th anniversary of the Digby United Baptist Church were held here last Sunday.

Guest preacher at the morning service was the Rev. Chas. Taylor of Acadia University. Basing his sermon on the text, "Ye are the Light of the World," Mr. Taylor stated that what people need most today is the light of Christ in their hearts to give strength to Christian witness, to give assurance of the purpose of life and to give ability to meet and conquer life itself.

During the morning service the choir rendered two anthems, "Guide Me, O Jehovah" by Harwood Jones and "Onward Christian Soldiers," arranged by O'Neill.

At the evening services letters of congratulation to the church on achieving its 120th anniversary were read from prominent Baptists including Rev. T. S. Roy, only minister who was ever ordained in the Digby church.

Special music was presented at the evening service by the Berwick Male Choir under the leadership of Norman Clarke. Baritone soloist Bill White presented "I Will Feed My Flock" with the full chorus. Bass soloist Cyril Pearson sang "Softly Now the Light of Day" and Norman Clarke rendered as a solo "Eternal Life." He was accompanied by Janet Clarke and Norman Hall accompanied the chorus.

BOAT BADLY BURNED

A fishing boat owned by Eli LeBlanc and Felix Thimot, both of Saulnierville, exploded and burned Wednesday morning around 5 a.m. at Comeauville wharf. Force of the explosion threw Felix Thimot overboard into the water but both managed to escape with only minor injuries.

The explosion occurred just prior to their leaving the wharf for the fishing grounds. Cause of the fire is believed that gas-oil fumes were ignited by the sparks from the engine.

The boat was burned beyond repair. Both Mr. LeBlanc and Mr. Thimot were fortunate that the explosion occurred while they were still close to the wharf and not alone at their fishing grounds.

About This and That

Still Time For Nominations

There is still time to file nominations for the offices of mayor and three councillors in the Town of Digby before December 19. We understand that the terms of Mayor Gordon Turnbull, councillors John J. McCleave, Norman Wright and Wilmet Christie expire. These men have served well and some with a great many years of such service to their credit. Rumors are that they will not re-offer but we wonder what their attitude might be should some of the town's people assure them that their unremunerative services are appreciated.

Like in a great many other towns, Digby citizens show a deplorable lack of appreciation for civic services. Rarely do we see people attending town council meetings out of sheer interest in town government and progress. After some petty personal beef is settled the comfortable chair around the home fireside becomes again much more inviting than the tressome straight chairs of the council chamber. In fact, the majority of people do not attend a council session for any reason and are satisfied to let affairs be handled by a few conscientious and civic minded persons within the council walls while they (the majority) are totally ignorant of town problems or are willing to accept the street corner version of proceedings.

At no time is the laxity of interest more pronounced than at the time for a civic election. When civic offices continue to be filled by acclamation there is cause for concern. We are not denying the fact that those who have served under acclamation have been men suited for the positions but in many cases they have accepted nominations under pressure and because no one else would do so. Contested elections show that there is an interest in civic affairs and give the people an opportunity to choose. An election tends to create further interest and besides, it gives the winning candidate the confidence that he was the choice of the people. We hope then to see a real election this December.

Service as mayor or councillor demands a great deal of time. Heavy town financial responsibilities are laid on the shoulders of these men in seeing to water supplies, sanitation, schools, streets and numerous other matters of business. It is a burdensome task but one however, which should not go without honor.

Before a man consents to run for civic office he should examine himself and decide if his experience, his education and his other qualifications are such that, should he be elected, he can properly carry out the duties entrusted to him. Digby has a number of capable men. Similarly citizens sponsoring a candidate should examine him carefully to see if he has something worthwhile to contribute to civic government. The running of even a small town is becoming more and more complex and men not only of good character but of varied types of experience are needed in municipal office.

And when the election is over, don't leave everything to the mayor and council to do except the destructive criticism and unfair comparisons with other towns. A town is only as good as the people who live in it no matter how good the men in the council seats might be. No town can stand still. It will either go ahead or slip backward. It is the residents, themselves, who will decide the way the town should go. Any town with any pretensions to being a "good" town has within itself the means of becoming a bigger and better town if the people have some degree of initiative, enterprise and progressive spirit to keep the town alive and developing.

Don't lose any time. The 19th is on its way with a sprightly step.

YOU'RE ALWAYS A STEP AHEAD IN CARS OF THE FORWARD LOOK

CARS ARE MY LINE

by Ken Hankinson
VAPOR LOCK

You're driving merrily along at a good highway clip on one of the first warm days of spring. You have to slow down at a traffic jam. Suddenly the car stalls and won't restart.

It's obviously the fuel pump, you say, and sometimes it is. But one of the possible causes people seldom think about is "vapor lock".

It's a mysterious thing, and since it's a condition you can't see, vapor lock is a dilemma that's not too well understood.

But if you remember about it, you may save yourself the expense of a new fuel pump.

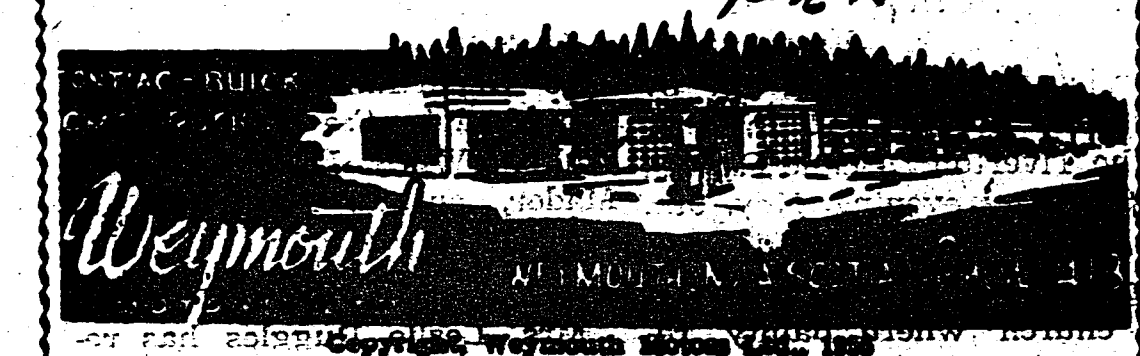

Vapor lock usually happens in the season's first warm days when some service stations haven't received their supply of summertime gas. The difference is important, for in the winter gasoline is made to vaporize easily for ready starts. In the summertime, that advantage becomes a disadvantage.

When you slowed down in that traffic jam, the engine heated up a bit and the gasoline in the carburetor, fuel line and pump began to vaporize. But the pump is made to force through liquid gas, not vapor. The engine stops. It looks like a case for a new fuel pump.

If it is vapor lock, it can be cured easily by pouring cold water over the fuel pump and fuel lines to condense the gas.

That's a simple answer to a complicated problem. Only experience can give you the answers, and it's experience that gives a good mechanic the ability to tell when you need repairs — and when you DON'T need repairs. That's just one of the reasons so many owners leave their cars in the careful hands of our service department.

Marriages

Mail — Long
Deep Brook Baptist Church was the scene of a pretty fall wedding on Saturday evening, November 2, when Elizabeth Gertrude Long, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Long, Deep Brook, was united in marriage to Wayne Frederick Hall, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hall, also of Deep Brook.

Rev. Sidney Whitehouse officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage, was charming in her ballerina length white nylon net over satin bouffant skirt with fitted bodice and bolero, her circular shoulder-length veil held in place with a bandeau of sequins, and carrying pink and white roses.

Miss Donna Hall, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, attractively dressed in ballerina-length pink nylon net over satin and carrying a nosegay of pink and white carnations and baby mums.

Murray Long, brother of the bride, was best man. The church was beautifully decorated with late autumn flowers and candlelight; the guest pews were marked with white ribbon rosettes and red roses.

Mrs. Eric Adams, church organist, played the wedding music. Mr. Ray Moore, Sr., was soloist, rendering "Because" during the signing of the register.

Ushers were Messrs. Stuart Haight of Barton, and Audrey Selig, of Deep Brook.

Mrs. Long wore gray with navy accessories and a corsage of pink and white mums. Mrs. Hall wore black with pink accessories and a corsage of pink and white mums.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Hall, for over one hundred guests. Receiving with the bridal party was Mrs. Howard Bailey, Deep Brook.

The toast to the bride was given by P.O. Howard Bailey and responded to by the groom. A beautiful decorated three-tier wedding cake was cut by the bride. The Neighbourly Club catered for the refreshments. Friends of the bride and groom serving were Misses Joan McDormand, Loretta Porter, Mahel Rawding, Velma Bacon, Elizabeth and Monica Wood, Joyce and Jean Harvey; Messrs. REMEMBRANCE SERVICE

AT DEAR RIVER

The United Church was filled to capacity Sunday, Nov. 10, for a united service of memorial. The service was conducted by Rev. D. S. MacLeod with Rev. Charles Bentley and Rev. William Ferner assisting.

A plea for greater Christian unity and peace was the theme of the entire service "that their sacrifice might not be in vain." This was emphasized in the scripture passage chosen: Isaiah 2:1-5, 32: 13-18; Phil. 2:1-11. The sermon based on the text "The work of righteousness shall be peace," Is. 32:17, was an apt reminder that no enduring peace will come to our world unless God's will is done in every aspect of life. Different viewpoints of life were examined finalizing with the Christian's viewpoint and a plea for greater Christian unity to achieve world unity.

Special music added to the beauty of the service. The choir chose as their anthem "Bless Me Now," solo part being sung by Dr. D. S. Brennan. A soprano solo, "Loving Father," was sung by Mrs. Donald F. Brown.

Following Kipling's "Processional" the Legion removed the memorial wreaths from the front of the church to the war memorial where they were laid in a solemn dedication service.

of Mr. and Mrs. Paul M. Vroom Deep Brook. The bride wore a ballerina-length gown of white net over tulle, styled with fitted bodice and flowing skirt; jacket of brocade net with sleeves ending in points over the wrists. Her veil that extended to the hem of her dress was held in place by a tiara. She carried an arm bouquet of pink and white carnations when entering the church with her father who gave her in marriage as the organist Miss Clare Buckler, played nuptial music.

Miss Patricia Brown, in gown of aqua patterned net over tulle, was bridesmaid and John Croscup was groomsman. Us-

Richardson — Small
Mrs. Myra Small of Tiverton Digby Co., was united in marriage to Mr. E. B. Richardson of Digby by the Rev. C. L. Chute at the United Baptist Parsonage in South Ohio, Yarmouth Co., on November 6th. They will make their home in Digby after a wedding trip to various provincial centres.

Nickerson — Gaudett
A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at St. John the Baptist Church at Corberrie, at 9:00 o'clock on Saturday morning, October 26, 1957, when Norma Marie, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Louise Gaudett, New Tusket, was united in marriage to Alton Jean, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Nickerson, Richfield, Rev. Dennis Robichaud, Parish priest, officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father by whom she was given in marriage was attractively gowned in a floor length gown of Pett Point Lace over satin, buttoned down the back to the waist, with a full hooped skirt, a high neck line trimmed with iridescent sequins and pearls, with long sleeves coming to points at the wrists. Her fingertip veil was held in place with a coronet of sequins and pearls. She carried a bouquet of deep pink carnations. The bride was attended by her only sister, Leola Mary, who looked lovely in an ankle length gown of pink net and lace over tulle, with matching beaded dress. Her bouquet was pale pink and white carnations.

The groom was attended by a friend, Dennis Gaudett. The bride's only ornaments were earrings, a gift of the groom.

The Organist during the service was Mrs. Edward Blinn. The wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride by a friend of the family Miss Julia Cole. Just the two immediately being present.

The wedding party motored to Yarmouth during the day where they had photos taken; returning to the bride's home for their supper. A reception was held during the evening to about 150 guests. Lovely gifts were received by the happy couple, including money, blankets, quilts, linen and silver. One quilt, the double wedding ring was a gift from the bride's grandmother, Mrs. Enock Mullen, who is over 80. She made and quilted the quilt herself this summer. Delicious refreshments, including the very pretty wedding cake which the bride and groom cut, were served by the hostess and friends of the bride.

On Wednesday, October 30, 1957, a shower was held at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Nickerson, Richfield. About 100 guests gathered and many more lovely gifts were received by the happy couple. A lovely bride's cake was also part of the delicious refreshments served during the evening. The bride and groom left Friday for Oshawa, Ont., where they will reside at 105 Court Street.

They were Ray Sanford and E. Croscup. A reception was held in Forrester's Hall, Clements, where Mrs. Jack Gillard was in charge of serving the seventy guests. The groom's grand mother Mrs. B. Claybourne, and Mrs. Lewis Long poured, and Mrs. Lovett Brown was in charge of the guest book. The traditional toast was proposed by the groomsman.

After a motor trip through the province, Mr. and Mrs. Vroom will reside in Deep

NEW PERFECTION GREATER SELECTION

HANDIEST, HEFTIEST TRUCKS ON ANY ROAD... GMC EXTRA-VALUE MONEY-MAKERS FOR '58

They're here... and how! A brand-new crop of GMC Extra-Value Money-Makers with a raft of rugged improvements that make them really big news in trucking. Some models offer a new 9000-pound front axle for even bigger loading performance... there's a bigger-than-ever range of GVW's—up to 36,000 pounds... there are new engines, new styling, new handling ease.

Smart new functional styling
 Dual headlights, new trim and new grille are just the beginning of GMC's smart, practical new styling. The windshield is bigger and wider—gives you an all-round better view of the road ahead. Wide, wide fenders help the driver in turning and parking. And even in the smaller details, GMC styling surpasses them all.

Brand new Utility Panels
 The most exciting newcomers to the GMC lineup in many a long day. GMC's new Utility Panels are exactly what truckers have been asking for... Forward Control models with steel van-type bodies in 8 and 10 foot lengths. Gross ratings go up to 10,000 pounds. And smaller wheels and tires give low loading and step heights.

New Workmaster "348" V8
 This new V8 will spark a revolution in truck engines... a power plant that develops 250 horsepower and has a governed engine speed of only 3700 rpm. The engine works easily, without straining, gives you plenty of power with less wear and tear. New cylinder head and piston designs also help to increase engine efficiency.

Full Air Brakes
 Extra-large brake shoes mean better, safer, surer stops, especially when they're powered by GMC's new full-time compressed air chambers. Even bigger loads are handled easily and safely under emergency conditions. GMC's full Air Brakes are optional at slight extra cost on all Heavy Duty models.

Improved Powermatic
 Powermatic was last year's big news in transmissions... an automatic unit that brought new ease and convenience to truck handling. And, in addition, Powermatic's exclusive Hydraulic Retarder made it safer on hills than any other. Now, Powermatic goes itself one better with the addition of an extra range for city conditions.

GVW's up to 36,000 pounds
 Gross vehicle weights go to new heights to give GMC a commanding lead in the heavy-duty field. Up to 36,000 pounds GVW is now available in W-91000 Series... ruggedly-built trucks that can really take a pounding from both the load and the road. Check body styles and features at your GMC dealer's.

Letter to the Editor
The Editor,
The Courier.
Dear Madam:
I should like, through the columns of your paper, to express disapproval of the "home accident" series of short programs being carried on television over the past several weeks.
It seems to me that these programs appear to have been designed by someone with a sadistic turn of mind—more anxious to create a feeling of horror and fear in the minds of the viewers than to help in preventing accidents of any kind.
Surely, it is not necessary to create such heart rending scenes of youngsters being burned and mutilated because of carelessness on the part of a parent in order to get across a message that parents should be ever watchful of their children in order to prevent tragedy.
Accident prevention is an important thing, one which requires the attention of all, and anything which can be done on the toll of accidents should be done. This, however, should not mean that it is necessary to employ such "scare" tactics as are used in this television series to convey a positive message concerning accident prevention.
Such scare tactics seem to be the stock in trade of the advertising programs which urge the early diagnosis of a dread disease. The theory in these seems to be that they will scare the viewer into going to his doctor for a medical check. This is something the viewer can do and get it over with after he has been jolted by the program.
In the matter of the accident prevention "horror" films, however, there can be no such immediate positive type reaction. Instead the viewer must constantly carry with him thoughts of what might happen to his loved ones should a momentary carelessness on his part result in an accident. Fear, constant nagging can have strange results, sometimes far different from the expectation of those who instigated the fear.
I would respectfully urge, therefore, that those who are responsible for these accident prevention films think on these things and remove their horrible handiwork from the television networks. Their work would be much more effectively done, I feel, if they substitute positive messages concerning steps which can be taken by every parent to prevent, insofar as is humanly possible, tragic accidents from the home scene.
Yours sincerely,
Viewer.

VOLUME LXXXIV, No. 12

Courier Editor Heads N. S. Weeklies

Edith M. Wallis, editor of the Digby Courier, was elected president of the Nova Scotia Weekly Newspapers Association at the annual meeting held at the Nova Scotian Hotel, Halifax, on Friday. Mrs. Wallis' election to office marks the first time in its history that a woman became president of the association. She succeeds Ralph Morton, publisher of the Dartmouth Free Press.

Other officers elected on Friday were J. R. H. Sutherland, New Glasgow Free Lance, vice-president; Jack Albion, Springhill Record, secretary-treasurer. On the executive are Ralph Morton, Dartmouth; F. W. Beattie, Bridgetown; David Albion, Windsor; Ivan Shortliffe, Yarmouth, formerly of Central Grove, Digby Co.; F. J. Burns, Kentville.

Hon. R. Clifford Levy, Minister of Municipal Affairs, in addressing the members of the Association at the dinner meeting on Friday evening said that the weekly press had played a big part in the progress of Nova Scotia by informing the public on its problems. He stressed the importance of presenting both sides to public issues. The speaker briefly traced the history of municipal government from 1879 to the present time, noting the changes which have taken place until lives in rural communities are now demanding services of convenience, culture, education and health comparable to those of their urban friends. As a result of a changing world problems are created, he said, which were not foreseen at confederation but which present a challenge of today. We must apply ourselves with power to meet this challenge, Mr. Levy said, and he spoke of the part which newspapers can play in building a strong community, province and nation as a whole.

Members of the weekly press were guests at luncheon of the Nova Scotia Liberal Association when they heard Hon. Lester B. Pearson, winner of the Nobel Peace Prize.

Others who addressed the editors were William Telfer, Toronto, secretary of the Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association, and Cecil Day, Liverpool, president of C.W.N.A. Mr. Telfer remarked on the personal participation of weekly editors in municipal government besides using their papers in its service. He said, too, that in a recent survey including all other media the weekly newspaper it was noted was recognized as an outstanding friend to the rural and small town residents. He said they were doing a tremendous job as the number one news and advertising media in these areas. He said the weekly newspaper was a long way from being "on the way out" and that they were steadily growing.

Hon. L. B. Pearson Speaks at Liberal Meeting

Hon. Lester B. Pearson, former Canadian Minister of External Affairs and winner of the 1957 Nobel Peace Prize, was guest speaker at the luncheon session of the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Liberal Federation, held in Halifax last Friday.

Introduced by Henry Hicks, Provincial Liberal Leader, Mr. Pearson was given a prolonged standing ovation by the group which crowded the Nova Scotian Hotel main dining room and two auxiliary dining rooms.

In his address Mr. Pearson scored the Conservative federal government for its failure to give "serious and sympathetic consideration" to the British free trade offer, its placing of the Royal Canadian Air Force under command "quickly and carelessly" and its lack of action in the case of the placing of Canadian National Steamships under Port of Spain registry.

To Observe Anniversary

Hundreds of congregations of The United Church of Canada from St. John's to Victoria will this week observe the 250th anniversary of the birthday of the co-founder of Methodism, Rev. Charles Wesley.

Many congregations have planned special hymn services to mark the event. Many sermons will be preached on Charles Wesley's life. Much of the strength of the Hymnary of The United Church of Canada lies in its large collection of hymns by Charles Wesley. He wrote 6,500 hymns in his lifetime.

Charles Wesley was born December 17th, 250 years ago, in Epworth Rectory, England, the eighteenth child of Samuel and Susannah Wesley.

Charles Wesley was one of the first circuit riders of the Church. He rode the roads of Britain, Ireland, Wales for nearly twenty years, from 1738 until 1756, and he met with a varied reception. Charles was stoned and struck and pelted with rotten eggs and dirt. He preached in churches when possible and often these were destroyed by angry mobs. He was charged in the courts with "speaking treasonable words or exhortations, as praying for the banishment of the Pretender." But persecution only spurred him on to even greater efforts. He continued to preach and sing anywhere he could find, in homes and rooms and at last in the fields. The people came; they believed. His congregations grew in size. At Moorsfields it was 10,000; at Kennington double that number.

Charles Wesley's brother, John, early realized the importance of publishing Charles' hymns and he took on the task of editing which he did with great skill. His best work was in the 1780 "Collection of Hymns for the People Called Methodists." He picked the best hymns and ruthlessly scrapped faulty lines. "I want no 'namby-pamby' verses," he said.

As there are a few reports still to come in, doubtless delayed by the prevailing sickness, there remains a ray of hope that the objective of $3,000 may yet be reached.

The December meeting is slated for Bridgetown on the 11th.

Mishaps at Culloden

Mr. Robert Ross suffered severe burns on the hands and arms Thursday when gasoline he was using to start a fire in a stove at a fishing hut flamed up suddenly. Fortunately the container of gas did not explode or he might have been injured more seriously.

Wilfred Murphy experienced a narrow escape Friday when his foot was caught in the coils of a lobster trap rope. He was hauled partially over the side before his rubber boot slipped off. As he had a severe cold and was unable to speak above a whisper, he couldn't attract the attention of his partner, Sidney Stark until the danger was past. They returned to the shore, obtained another pair of Rubbers then went back to finish hauling their traps.

Hold Joint Meeting

A joint meeting of the Digby Municipal Council and the Municipal School Board here Monday morning authorized the borrowing of a sum "not to exceed $60,000" for improvements and alterations to schools in Freeport, Tiverton, Westport, and Smith's Cove.

The meeting also accepted a tender from Leonard Small, of Tiverton in the sum of $45,000 for the proposed improvements and alterations to the schools at Tiverton, Freeport and Westport. Decision regarding work to be done to the school at Smith's Cove will be left with the building committee.

Alterations and improvements to the schools at Freeport, Tiverton and Westport will include the building of concrete block additions to the schools to house modern sanitary facilities and oil fired heating equipment. Improvements will also be made to lighting equipment at the schools and fire alarm systems will be installed.

Education Minister M. S. Leonard who was present at the meeting said that, although he had not seen the plans of the proposed additions to the schools he had been advised by Mr. Weir of the department they were satisfactory.

The matter of a consolidated school for the Barton-Brighton area, which was approved by the Municipal Council last May by a slim margin came before the meeting for discussion. Warden Chisholm stated some pupils in this school were only attending half day sessions because of lack of classroom space.

School Inspector C. W. Crowell stated that the school at Plympton Station and Plympton were unfit for continued use. He said the question seemed to be whether to remodel or consider the district as an area for consolidation. The schools at Weymouth, he said, are not up to pupil capacity nor will they be next year. Pupils could be conveyed from the overcrowded area of Plympton and Barton/Brighton into Weymouth.

Education Minister Leonard, who said he was speaking as the provincial legislature member for Digby in this matter, stated he was aware a bad situation existed at Barton/Brighton and in Plympton and Plympton Station. He said, however, that despite the fact some things were highly desirable action must be tempered by what can be afforded.

First of all, Mr. Leonard said the school board and council should pause and look at what the municipal tax rate is going to be because of expenditures which have been made and are being made. After this, he said, thought should be given to what can be reasonably expended on alternatives to the present situation. There is nothing in the Education Act, Mr. Leonard said, that states there must be consolidation. The department wants to have these things worked out at the local level taking into account the local economy.

Mr. Leonard said a good school was now operating in North Range, reasonably suited for the children it serves. He suggested that thought be given to erecting a similar three-room building at Plympton and at Barton/Brighton. This would provide for two classes to a room, which he said "is adequate in country districts." It is dangerous, he said, to put the emphasis on consolidation for grades 1 to 6 where this is not economically feasible. What the people want is reasonably good school facilities, he said. He also stated he was of the opinion the school board and council should examine carefully the McNab Commission report on school construction costs when it is released before making a decision on the matter of the situation in the Barton/Brighton and Plympton areas.

No action on the matter was taken by the Council at their meeting Monday morning.

Wallace Hodgson of the Regional High School teaching staff outlined the organized physical activity program conducted at the school during noon hours. This program including organized league games within the school has been noted to have a marked effect on discipline. For the sake of protecting clothing, comfort and the child's health Mr. Hodgson appealed to the parents to see that gym clothes were worn only in active participation in the gym activities.

John Layton outlined the visual aid program also conducted for those interested during the noon recess.

Inaugurate Driving Course

The first driver training course to be operated in a Nova Scotia school was officially inaugurated at the Digby Regional High School here yesterday by provincial Highways Minister, Hon. G. I. Smith.

Chairman of the inaugural ceremonies was School Board Chairman Dr. J. R. McCleave, who welcomed Highways Minister Smith and Education Minister M. S. Leonard to the gathering.

Highways Minister G. I. Smith, who was introduced by the Hon. Mr. Leonard, said that it was a great source of satisfaction to him and to his department that the new experimental driver training course had been undertaken by the Digby Regional High School.

He stated it was his understanding the course was proceeding well and he said it was important that new drivers learn not only how to step on the gas but also how to drive a vehicle without bringing danger to themselves and others.

In driving a vehicle, Mr. Smith said, it is important always to practice courtesy. If we are to make much progress in solving driving problems, he said, we must try to get people to follow a pattern of courtesy. Unfortunately it seems that when people get behind the wheel of a car they seem to lose the sense of courtesy which usually governs their affairs.

The new driver training experiment, Mr. Smith said, is important and useful not only to the job which the highway department has to do but also as a guide to others who are looking to the solving of highway safety problems.

In his address Mr. Smith congratulated School Supervisor F. C. Purdy and Clinton McInnis, who will teach the course here, for the interest they had taken in setting up the course and getting it underway. He also congratulated Mr. Arthur L. Robinson of the MacDonald Motor Co. Ltd., Digby, for providing a new dual control car for use in the driver training course.

At the close of the ceremonies Mr. Robinson turned over the keys of the new driver training car to School Supervisor F. C. Purdy who in turn handed them to Mr. McInnis, instructor for the course.

Television Safety:— See that the venting holes in your set are clear and open. This air space is necessary because TV sets generate considerable heat which accumulates dangerously when ventilation is cut off. It may be dangerous for instance, to install your set in a tight cubicle unless it was especially manufactured for such installations.

New hope for prevention of Heart Disease

In spite of accurate diagnosis, advanced medical science and surgery, heart disease is still the greatest killer today. What causes it? Can it be prevented? The National Heart Foundation of Canada, recently formed, will intensify the search for the answers to these questions. The Life Insurance Companies in Canada are supporting this Foundation because it is so important to the future health of Canadians. They have made substantial grants to cover the cost of launching the organization.

The Foundation will encourage intensive research into the causes of heart disease by every possible means. It will seek to stimulate professional and lay education and help family doctors to keep abreast of the newest developments in diagnosis and treatment.

Christmas Trees Are A Crop

Speaking of the British trade offer, Mr. Pearson said that Prime Minister Diefenbaker had informed the press, even before holding a meeting of his cabinet, of his intention of diverting 15 per cent of Canadian imports from the United States, our best customer, to the United Kingdom. This might not seem much, Mr. Pearson said, but 15 per cent is $620,000,000 worth of goods in terms of our 1956 imports.

Diversion of trade is not an increase, it is merely redistribution, he said. In any event it would be very difficult to bring this about without drastic and even damaging government action.

"If the government should attempt — or even threaten to attempt — an artificial diversion by governmental action at the expense of the United States and by discriminating against the United States, then we will be in trouble," Mr. Pearson said.

"It has been no easy task in recent years for the Liberal government to resist the efforts of the United States government to increase protection against Canadian imports," he said, adding that in one case it had been only the personal influence in Washington of the Prime Minister and the Rt. Hon. C. D. Howe that had prevailed against tariff arrangements that would have been detrimental to Canada.

"In some cases we failed and the United States took action which we considered to be unjustifiable and unwarranted. But in many cases — and in one of particular importance to the Atlantic Provinces, fish — we were successful and unanimous recommendations which would have been very harmful to our fishing industry were rejected by the president."

"If the present government, by their trade policies and their trade attitudes, give the U.S. proponents of further protection new ammunition, the Atlantic Provinces will, perhaps, be the first to suffer."

"I suggest that the Canadian government, on receipt of the important proposal, should have announced at once that it would be given serious and sympathetic consideration. I think that it deserves that and especially that this consideration should be extended to the possibility of enlarging the idea of freer trade to include all Atlantic nations."

Mr. Pearson said the Liberal party did not favor the old 19th century idea of free trade, but the freest possible trade with a minimum of restrictions and on the widest possible multilateral basis. "This is no sudden conversion for our party. We have preached it in season and out of season, in office and in opposition, to the Americans, to the British and at Geneva," he said.

Although Mr. Pearson devoted the major portion of his address to trade, he departed from his prepared text to question the government's policy in the strike which resulted in the transfer of eight Canadian National Steamships vessels to Port of Spain registry.

"If the government had intervened as the former Prime Minister did in the railway strikes, I wonder if negotiations might have had a different result."

Letter to the Editor

Digby, Nova Scotia.

Dear Editor:

By virtue of the fact that Branch 20 Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., sponsored the "Heart for Billy Fund" that made it possible for Billy Patterson to have the heart operation that will allow him to be a normal child and live a normal life, I would like to thank the people who contributed to this fund.

The cooperation that HMCS Cornwallis gave in this was wonderful. Captain Jette informed me that there could be no organized canvass for an individual cause as there would be too many calls on his men if he allowed that to happen.
So word was passed around to the men what we were trying to do and by voluntary contribution they collected over $550.00 for this little fellow.
Again, when the Kiwanis Club of the town was approached they from their Crippled Children's Fund gave $300.00 and made the contacts from the Nova Scotia Crippled Children's Fund and we received $250.00. The other part of the total was donated by a Tag Day with the Sea Cadets selling tags and contributions from the Ladies' Auxiliary of Branch
20, Canadian Legion, and contributions from the Poppy Fund of our Branch along with the many individual donations from interested people.

To all these people and organizations we say thank you.
When our Branch works in an effort such as this it renews our faith in the goodness of people of our country, and again we say thank you.

R. O. Wright,
President, Branch 20,
Canadian Legion,
B.E.S.L.

Heads Weekly Newspapers

Mrs. Edith M. Wallis, Editor of the Digby Courier, was elected President of the Nova Scotia Weekly Newspapers Association at the annual meeting of the association held recently in Halifax. Her election marks the first time in its history the association has been headed by a woman.

Descendants Of Founder Write

Mayor Gordon Turnbull and Digby Trade Board President C. M. Levy this week received letters and cards from Lord and Lady Digby, descendants of Admiral Sir Robert Digby, in whose honour the town of Digby received its name.

The cards and letters were in response to gifts, cards and photographs of Digby sent to Lord and Lady Digby from the Town of Digby and the Board of Trade some time ago.

In their letters Lord and Lady Digby express pleasure that the people of Digby still recall their link with the Digby family. They say they are proud also to learn that Digby in Nova Scotia has an Admiral Digby Horticultural Society and a Digby Garden Club. "This is especially appropriate," Lord Digby says, "since I myself am a keen horticulturist and a member of the Council of the Royal Horticultural Society of Great Britain."

An invitation is also extended to the Mayor and Trade Board President to visit Lord and Lady Digby and to see their garden at Minterne, some two miles from where they are now living.

Minterne was purchased in 1765 by Admiral Robert Digby from the Churchill family and it was the home of the first Sir Winston Churchill. This is especially interesting because the eldest daughter of the present Lord and Lady Digby married Randolph Churchill, son of the present Sir Winston Churchill. They have a son, aged seven, also named Winston.

Organize Relief Committee

A permanent committee to handle Christmas relief in Digby has been organized at a meeting of representatives of service clubs and other organizations here.

Decision to form a single, permanent committee to handle Christmas relief problems was made in order to avoid duplication in this work and to ensure equal treatment of all needy cases in the town.

It was decided that the Digby Branch of the Canadian Legion will be approached with a request that the President of that branch be permanent chairman of the relief committee. Mrs. H. M. Warne was named as Secretary of the committee. All calls for relief are to be directed to the chairman of the committee or to Lieut. Clarence Bradley of the Digby Salvation Army Corps.

The meeting decided to seek the cooperation of local merchants in the placing of Christmas cheer boxes in their stores for the collection of groceries and other goods for distribution to the needy. Service groups will be asked to make donations of funds to aid in the work. The churches of the community will also be asked to publicize the Christmas cheer boxes so that the public will make donations of goods through them.

Present at the meeting were representatives of the Salvation Army, Red Cross, Lions Club, Kiwanis, Canadian Legion, Legion Auxiliary and the Eastern Star.

Hospital Aid will meet on Monday evening with Mrs. Victor Gordon.

Premier Robert L. Stanfield, Prime Minister Diefenbaker and Governor General Massey all joined this week in endorsing National Safe Driving Week.

Text of Premier Stanfield's statement follows: "It is axiomatic that most accidents are avoidable. It can be virtually proved statistically that most traffic accidents would not have happened if a little more care and attention had been given by those, or some of those, involved in them."

"If the endeavours of those organizing Traffic Safety Week resulted in the saving of only one life, the efforts will be worthwhile. When it is considered that in 1956, 152 people were killed and more than 2,500 injured on our highways, I can think of no stronger endorsement for Traffic Safety Week."

"All citizens are most earnestly urged to practice safe driving and safe walking not only during Traffic Safety Week from December 1 to December 7, but through all of the days and weeks of the year to come."

Prime Minister Diefenbaker said: "There can be no greater work than that designed to save lives, prevent injury and reduce damage to property. It is an effort that every citizen of Canada should regard as his personal responsibility."

"It is because I believe good citizenship demands its endorsement that I am pleased to commend and support Canada's national Safe-Driving Week, December 1-7, being sponsored from coast to coast by the Canadian Highway Safety Conference."

"Since traffic is rated only below cancer and heart disease as a killer of Canadians, every action that might reduce this hazard to our national life and economy must be strongly encouraged. It is my earnest wish that every Canadian will support this campaign and co-operate and participate in all its phases."

The Governor General said: "No Canadian can fail to know the paths of the modern highway. Whether one is a motorist or a pedestrian, the action of driving or walking on the roads and streets to persons in this country is fraught with the danger of serious injury and, all too frequently, death."

"Campaigns designed to bring about a public awareness of these great hazards and, at the same time, to prevent traffic accidents and save life, are of the greatest importance. This is something that cannot be left to a handful of men and women—it must be the work of all."

"I wish earnestly to endorse and support the Safe-Driving Week campaign which will be sponsored across Canada by the Canadian Highway Safety Conference from December 1 to 7. May it achieve the fullest possible success in all its aims."

Mayor Issues Statement On Highway Safety

For the third year the Canadian Highway Safety Conference is promoting a National Traffic Safety program commencing December 1st, 1957. This year, as last, the program takes the form of a Safe Driving Week—December 1st to December 7th inclusive.

There will be two principal objectives in this Safe Driving Week:

- (1) To reduce traffic deaths and accidents.
- (2) To stress the responsibility of the individual motorist and pedestrian in highway safety.

During Safe Driving Week it is hoped that an intensive campaign will be carried out drawing the attention of both drivers and pedestrians to Safe Driving Week and awakening in them a sense of their responsibility for safe driving and walking.

The accident experience upon our highways is one of serious proportions which can only be reduced to a minimum by the concerted efforts of individuals in our own communities. During Safe Driving Week it should be the object of every community to avoid all traffic accidents and, with this in mind, I trust you may make Safe Driving Week a week without deaths and accidents.

Mayor Gordon R. Turnbull, Digby, N. S.

To Consider $7,000,000 Hydro Development

Feasibility of a huge hydro-electric power development on the Sissiboo River near Weymouth, involving the expenditure of some seven million dollars, was seen here this week with reports that a meeting has been scheduled for December 13th between the Nova Scotia Power Commission and the Town of Digby, the Municipal Councils of Digby and Clare and Commissioners of the Village of Weymouth.

The December meeting is an outcome of a request some time ago by the Digby County Power Board and the Power Commission in Halifax some weeks ago at which results of this survey and proposals by the Power Commission were discussed.

It is understood results of the survey show that the Sissiboo River has a potential of some eighty million kilowatt hours, which is 2½ times greater than the Bear River which has been developed to capacity by the Power Commission and is now producing 22 million KW/H from two generating plants, the Gulch and Ridge developments.

The proposals to be placed before the meeting of the Councils of Digby and the Municipalities of Clare and Digby and the Commissioners, who are the underwriters of the Digby County Power Board, by the Power Commission will, it is understood, call for the sale by the Digby group of the generating rights on the Sissiboo to the Power Commission for development to the ultimate. It will also be proposed that the Digby County Power Board retain its transmission facilities throughout the county and purchase power requirements from the NSPC for resale to county customers.

If the proposals are accepted by the Digby group, it is understood the NSPC will commence immediately on a power development program on the Sissiboo River which will cost in the vicinity of seven million dollars. Increased generating and water storage facilities will be installed and the potential of the river will be fully developed. At present a Montreal engineering firm is reported to be studying the proposals of the Power Commission for development of the Sissiboo. Their report is expected to be presented to the December meeting.

It is understood interest in the development of the power potential of the Sissiboo has been heightened by the severe water shortage experienced in western Nova Scotia this summer. Anticipated power needs for a proposed expansion at the Mersey River Pulp and Paper Co. Ltd. are also reported to be a factor in the proposed development of the Sissiboo.

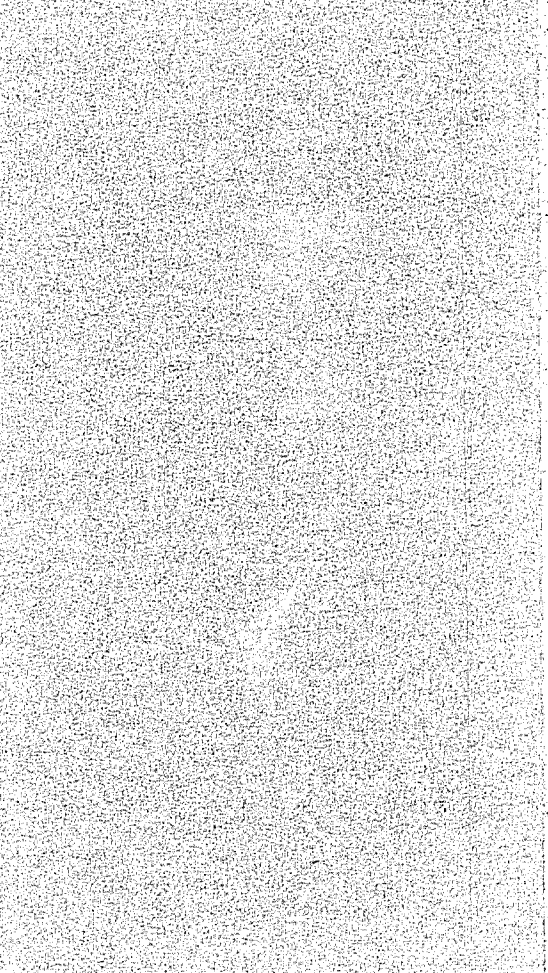

If the development of the Sissiboo is carried out power will be fed from generating facilities on this river to the grid system of the NSPC which supplies power to many sections of western Nova Scotia. It is understood the new generating plant will be operated by remote control from the present NSPC plant in Bear River.

At present generating facilities on the Sissiboo, owned and operated by the Digby County Power Board, are producing some eight million kilowatt hours. Some time ago a proposal was discussed by the board for an expansion of these facilities to meet the power needs of the county served by the board. These proposals will also, it is understood, be discussed at the meeting in December.

In 1956 the Digby County Power Board purchased 4,534,100 kwhrs. from the Power Commission in addition to the 7,377,300 kwhrs. produced on the Sissiboo to meet the needs of its customers. To date this year there has been an increase of 10.7% in power consumption in the area served by the Digby County Power Board over the same period last year.

The Digby County Power Board was first organized in 1923 with the Town of Digby, Municipalities of Clare and Digby and the Village of Weymouth authorizing the borrowing of $75,000 to construct a generating plant and transmission lines. On March 27, 1927, hydro power was first turned on in the county, produced at the generating plant at the upper Falls on the Sissiboo River. Some years later a second generating plant was established at Weymouth Mills. Over the years transmission lines have been extended so that practically all parts of the county are now served by the Digby County Power Board.

R. W. Jayne Heads Safety Drive

R. W. Jayne (shown above) has been appointed by Mayor Gordon Turnbull as Chairman of the Safe Driving Week Campaign in Digby. This campaign, which is aimed at cutting down on the toll of traffic accidents across the North American continent, is in effect from December 1st to 7th, inclusive.

In accepting the appointment as chairman of the committee Mr. Jayne stated his occupation had placed him often in a position where he saw at first hand the tragic results of motor vehicle accidents. We must do all we can to cut down on this terrible toll, he said.

Local police authorities have stated Safe Driving Week activities will receive the support and approval of every police force in both the United States and Canada. The Canadian Highway Safety Conference, which is sponsoring the week, and all other authorities responsible for promoting safe driving, are anxious that all motorists and pedestrians do their part in making this week successful.

The text conference campaign will be to reduce the toll from traffic accidents during the week of December 1st to 7th. It is emphasized that this cannot be done without the full cooperation of the public.

Federation Holds Annual Meet

Resolutions calling for more equitable treatment on farms, property in Digby County, to be submitted on March 2nd at the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Federation of Agriculture, held at the home of St. Mary's Bay, the home of federal aid for education in Nova Scotia, and special assistance for students of veterinary colleges, and a permanent policy on freight assigned on food grains were passed at the annual meeting of the Digby County Federation of Agriculture here Tuesday.

The resolution calling for reduced freight on some thousand acres of marshland at the head of St. Mary's Bay, which the Federation is seeking to have realized, stated that it would be five years, at least before this land could be used after it had been dyked and added that a ten year period of free tax be granted until this land could be brought into full production.

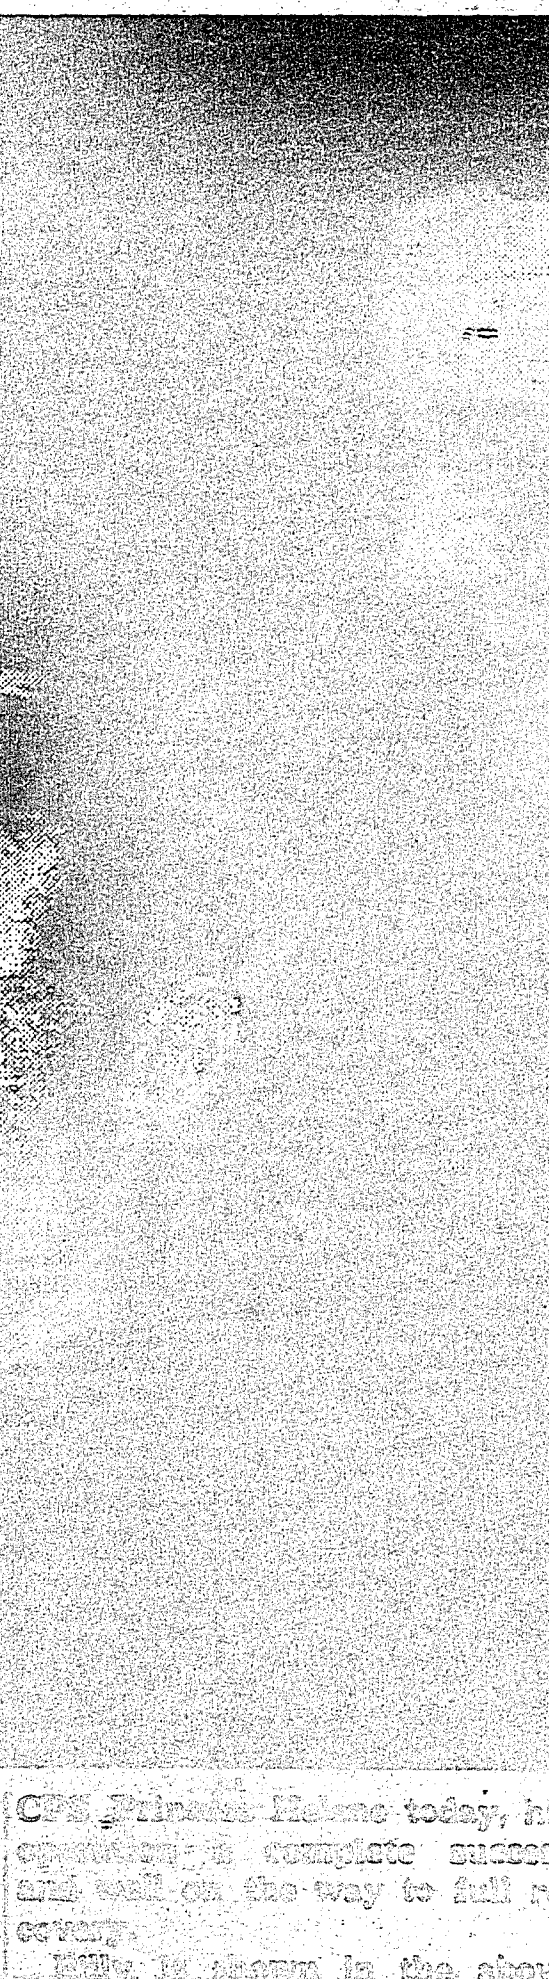

Need for assistance to students of veterinary colleges was discussed in a resolution which stated many young men who might otherwise enter the profession were deterred because of cost. A great need exists in the province for veterinarians, it was stated, and an educational policy should be set up which would provide for loans in aid to be repaid after graduation. Assistance should also be given on the grounds that receiving it would assist in the Nova Scotia for at least five years following graduation.

Student aid for education was added in a resolution which stated lack of industry in Digby county forces many school graduates to seek employment in other provinces. The high cost of education which is throwing a heavy burden on rural taxpayers was also mentioned in a resolution which called for a more equitable assessment of farm taxes.

The establishment of a nursery culture as a profitable venture for the farmers of Digby county was discussed by Agriculture Minister Hon. E. D. Halliburton in an address before the annual meeting of the Digby County Federation of Agriculture at the Maple Leaf Hall here.

Mr. Halliburton urged that local farmers take up this matter with horticulturists in the Department of Agriculture. He stated that in Cumberland county blueberry raising had proved very profitable and the crop there last year had brought in some $400,000. "The day may come," Mr. Halliburton said, "some time later in the winter, it is learned."

Plans Mac For Christmas Party

Nova Scotia doesn't apply this year will replace the oranges usually included in the Christmas treats given some 2000 youngsters from Digby and vicinity by the Community Christmas Tree committee, representing merchants, business groups, service clubs and churches of the town.

Decision to replace the oranges with Nova Scotia apples was made at a meeting of the committee which set the date of the annual Christmas party this year for Wednesday, December 18th.

The party will be held again in the Digby Forum and full cooperation has been assured from the Cornwallis Naval Base in presenting the program.

A soliciting committee was appointed at the meeting to contact local merchants for donations to assist in financing purchase of treats for the youngsters at the party.

Flowers & Fruit Out Of Season

Despite the sudden change in the weather and the lateness of the season, the Courier this week has received many reports of out-of-season flowers and fruit.

From Mr. A. J. Cornwell the Editor received a pint box of lovely raspberries, picked fresh out of Mr. Cornwell's garden. He informed the editor that he and Mrs. Cornwell have been enjoying raspberries picked fresh each day from the garden and have also given boxes of them to friends and neighbours.

Mrs. Alma Melanson sent the Courier a box of assorted out-of-season blossoms. Included were shasta daisies, marigolds, carnations, roses, sweet alliums, pansies and bachelor buttons. All were perfect blooms and made an attractive collection.

A real prize in pansies was brought in to the Courier by Benjamin Seeley, of Marshfield. These were blossoms from pansies in his garden which were first planted by his great grandfather, Benjamin Alfred Seeley, in 1812. The present Mr. Seeley is the fourth generation to bear the Christian names Benjamin and Alfred. His great grandfather was Benjamin Alfred Seeley who came to Marshfield as a United Empire Loyalist. The family homestead is still occupied by the present Mr. Seeley. Some members of the family settled in Argyle.

Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Messinger, of Tiverton, recently spent a week visiting friends and relatives in Yarmouth, Argyle Sound and Shelburne counties.

Weymouth H. & S. Sponsors Conference

A new health service was offered by the Department of Public Health, Western Division, to the parents of Weymouth and surrounding districts, when a Child Health Conference was opened at the Weymouth Consolidated School on Monday, November 18th. The conference will be held on a monthly basis on the third Monday of each month from 1:30-3:30 p.m.

The Child Health Conference is an integral part of the Maternal and Child Health program and it offers health supervision for well infants and young children. Its purpose is to keep well children well and promote their best possible state of health. It offers to parents facilities for the protection and promotion of the health of their children and teaches some of the fundamentals of child care.

The Weymouth Home and School Association is sponsoring these conferences and supplying volunteers to assist the professional staff. Without this type of assistance it would be impossible to carry on such a project.

Miss Marjorie Tupper, Public Health Nurse from Digby, is the nurse in charge of the conference and she will be assisted by other nurses from the Health Department.

The physicians of Weymouth will alternate in attendance at these conferences and will provide immunization service. Dr. T. E. Edgett was present at the first conference.

It is hoped that all parents of Weymouth District will take advantage of the services offered by the Child Health Conference for the promotion and maintenance of the health of their children.

DR. WHITTIER AT CENTREVILLE

Dr. Jean Whittier, medical missionary from India started a speaking tour for the Annapolis Free Will of the W.M.S. of the United Church of Canada on Monday, Nov. 25th, who is here in her native province on her speaking tour on Monday evening at Centreville United Church to an audience from the Weymouth Pastoral Charge. Her talk covered the mission areas where she had served, Rudram, Bandwara and Indore in India, where the missionary work which began 60 years ago was last year turned over to the United Church of Northern India and is now in the hands of the native people with the missionaries working by their side.

One of the important things to teach the people there is public health for they seem to have no knowledge of food and water cleanliness or other health protection, the speaker said. She also said that education is important, too, where the lowest literacy of the world exists but of greatest importance is their need for God's message and God's love. Dr. Whittier illustrated her talk with slides depicting life at the missions and out in the native villages.

Dr. Whittier reminded her audience that we Canadians do not speak to the people in India only through the missionaries for in a world which has come to be so small the influence of Canadians on other countries has become very great. Canada and the church is judged by our actions, she said, whatever is done in Canada as a Christian country the people of India feel is the proper thing to do.

Dr. Whittier was introduced by Rev. E. B. McFarlane, pastor of the church. A worship service was conducted by Mrs. E. B. McFarlane and Mrs. Frank Gilmour.

Dr. Whittier will speak in Bear River on Sunday evening at 8 p.m.

D. F. D. ACTIVITIES

The regular monthly meeting of the Department will be held at the Fire Station on Wednesday, December 4th, at 8 p.m., when regular transaction of business will be the agenda, with reports from existing committees.

Here are more television safety precautions: If you have an outside aerial it may increase the danger of lightning striking your home. Therefore, you should have a UL-listed lightning arrester. The arrester are inexpensive and usually is included in the installation of your set by a competent TV serviceman. Make certain it is part of your set. When buying a television set check to make sure it has been listed by Underwriters' Laboratories Inc., a non-profit organization which tests products for safety. The UL label means the set has been tested for both fire and shock hazards.

various Sunday schools in their respective districts, namely: Victoria Beach, Port Wade, Karadale, Fort Royal, Granville Ferry, Granville Beach, Annapolis Royal, Medford, Round Hill and Port Lorne.

Rev. John MacLeod of the Lower Granville Baptist circuit delivered a fine address and introduced the guest speaker of the convention, Rev. S. Baxter, of Fort Lorne-Hampton, N. S.

ville Ferry field; E. R. Wade, Annapolis Royal; Mrs. David Armstrong, Mrs. W. Orde and Mrs. Vernon Goldsmith.

You can't go ALL-OUT

If you feel ALL-IN

These days most people work under pressure, every move, every last. The strain on body and brain makes physical fitness a must to keep—harder to regain. Today's busy living, hurried movements, overwork, every-day of these may affect normal body action. When things get out of order, tension sets in and the result is the system. This includes disturbed rest, and "nervous" heavy-laden feeling after meals. That's the time to take a little time for your body. It's the only way to keep your body in shape. It's the only way to keep your body in shape. It's the only way to keep your body in shape.

THE YEAR'S NEWEST CAR, THE NEWEST CAR IN YEARS!

It's almost too new to be true! It sets a new style in styling. It takes a new approach to power. It's new right down to the smooth and solid way it rides. Now for '58, Chevrolet takes the giant step — the biggest, boldest move any car ever made!

It's long, low and luxuriously new — the beautifully moving '58 Chevrolet. It's new from ride to roof... new in every gracefully sculptured contour, from its bold new grille to its unique Gull-Wing rear fenders. And it offers quick-responding power aplenty in any engine you pick — V8 or 6.

NEW BODY-FRAME DESIGN
Chevrolet's new low-sweeping silhouette for '58 combines a new Body by Fisher with a new X-type frame. It's dramatically lower and wider — and a full 9 inches longer!

NEW TURBO-THRUST V8

Chevrolet unveils the revolutionary Turbo-Thrust V8* with Wedge-Fire design. Wedge-shaped combustion chambers are precision-machined in the cylinder block, not the head — a radical departure that helps achieve a new pinnacle of performance.

NEW FULL COIL SUSPENSION

Deep-coil springs provide cradle-soft action at every wheel, completely replacing conventional leaf spring rear suspension. New Full Coil suspension is standard on all '58 Chevis.

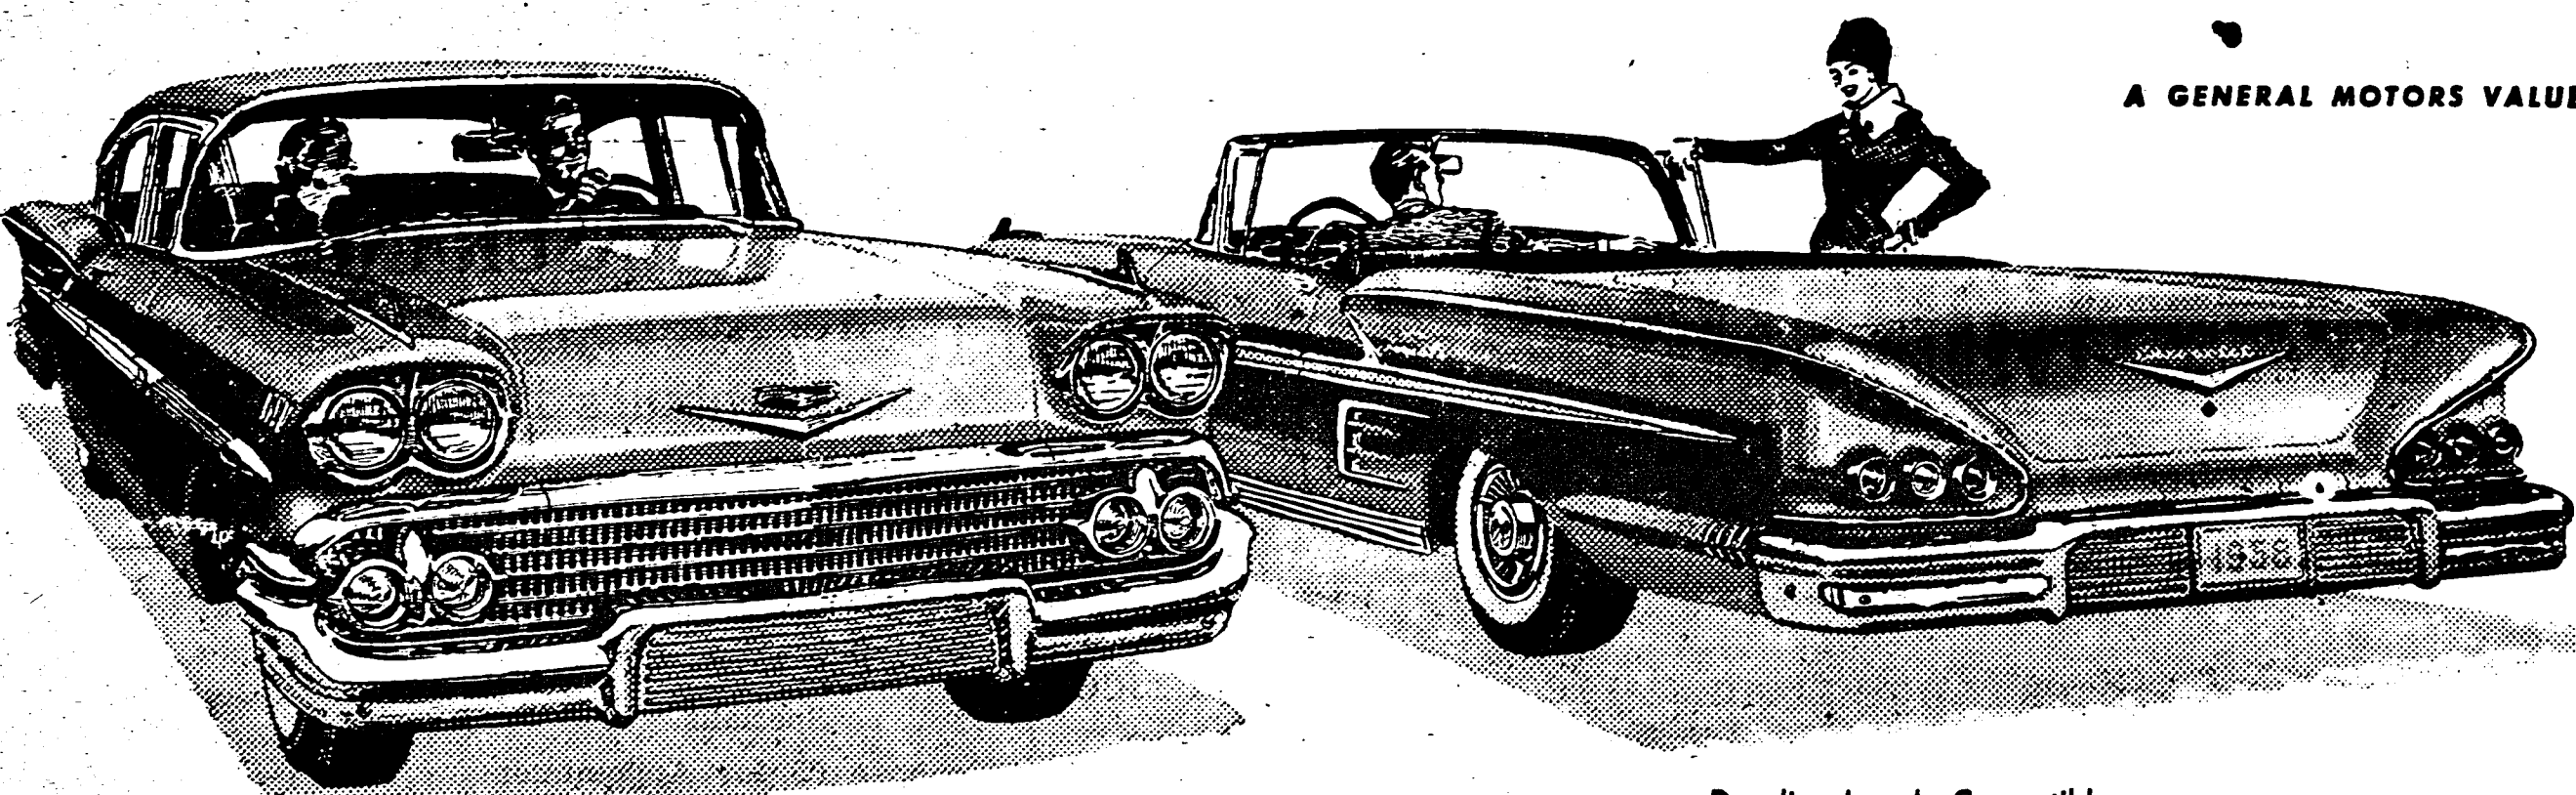

A REAL AIR RIDE

No matter what price car you're accustomed to, you'll never be sitting prettier! Chevy's new Level Air suspension* literally carries you on cushions of compressed air, with all its natural shock-absorbing properties. Available now, on all four wheels!

THE BEAUTIFUL WAY TO BE THRIFTY

Never before has there been so much low-priced luxury! Sedans with thin pillar styling... stunning interiors... a new foot-operated parking brake... triple-turbine Turboglide* and smoother-than-ever Powerglide*.

Your Chevrolet dealer is waiting right now to show you the beautiful way to be thrifty — the '58 Chevrolet. *Optional at extra cost.

Glamorously new Bel Air 4-Door Sedan — a beautifully moving thing! Come try it!

Dazzling Impala Convertible — boldly sculptured beauty sets a new pace in styling!

Only franchised Chevrolet dealers display this famous trademark. See Your Local Authorized Chevrolet Dealer!

Look what your money is doing!

Every time you make a bank deposit—no matter how small—you are helping to finance better living for yourself and for your fellow Canadians. The BNS statement below shows how your money is put to work, so that you enjoy better products... better schools... better roads... better living. The Bank of Nova Scotia is proud to be associated with more than a million depositors in this continuing story of money in action.

The Bank of Nova Scotia's 126th Annual Statement AS AT OCTOBER 31, 1957

LIABILITIES

$1,260,611,795 Deposits.
More than a million customers now bank with the BNS. They deposit their money for a host of reasons—to meet business and household needs... as a retirement fund for the future... or to finance a college education. Our customers place these funds for safety and convenience in current and savings accounts, personal chequing accounts, and such special accounts as the Bank's unique PSP.

$19,780,600 Letters of credit.
This is the extent to which the Bank has guaranteed the credit of our customers buying from suppliers, particularly those in foreign lands. It matches the amount pledged by customers for repayment (see amount opposite similar heading under "Assets"). Business at home is thus encouraged to expand abroad... another way the Bank serves as a partner in Canada's progress.

$4,964,680 Other liabilities.
This represents money set aside to cover expenses which must be met but are not yet due... such as our 1957 Income Tax.

WHAT THE SHAREHOLDERS CONTRIBUTE

$70,004,090 Capital paid up, rest account and undivided profits.

The shareholders—the real owners of the Bank—contribute these funds which protect the interests of the customers. They thus ensure the strength and stability of the BNS, and help make possible the Bank's increasing role in a growing Canada.

Total Liabilities $1,355,361,165

ASSETS

—how The Bank puts the money to work

$193,546,011 Cash, cheques, and due from banks.
This is like cash in the Bank's till to service the cheques which BNS customers draw on their accounts.

$318,452,943 Investments.
This amount (mostly Canadian Government Bonds) helps finance varied Government activities such as the St. Lawrence Seaway; the National Harbours Board; Wheat Board payments; our National Defence needs. Other investment funds go into the building of schools, highways, new plants and equipment—to make available for us all more of the good things in life.

$141,498,363 Call loans, secured.
This money, lent to investment houses, is subject to immediate recall if required.

$639,702,434 Other loans, less provision for estimated loss.

Our customers in Canada and abroad borrowed this amount for all kinds of personal and business purposes. These loans help finance the purchase of materials and the sale and distribution of goods... from the cutting of trees in the forest to the sale of refrigerators... from starting a business to improving a farm or home. Loans of this kind are the lifeblood of Canada's growth—the Bank's most important service to the community.

$19,780,600 Customers' liability under letters of credit.
This is the amount customers are pledged to repay the Bank for funds it may pay out under "Letters of Credit" (see this heading under "Liabilities").

$21,980,814 Bank premises and other assets.
Most of this sum goes into a continuous programme of improving our branch facilities so that customers can do their banking more pleasantly and easily.

Total Assets $1,355,361,165

Bake a batch of crusty Dinner Rolls

• If you bake at home, you'll want to try a batch of crunchy Dinner Rolls. They're so easy to make when you use fast rising dry Best Yeast!

CRUSTY DINNER ROLLS

Measure into a large bowl 1/2 c. lukewarm water; crumble and add 1 cake Best Yeast—or stir in 1 tsp. granulated sugar and sprinkle with 1 envelope Best dry Yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, THEN stir well. Add 3/4 c. lukewarm water and 1 tsp. salt. Add, all at once, 3 1/2 c. once-sifted all-purpose flour and work in with the hands; work in 3 tbs. soft shortening. Knead on lightly-floured board until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl. Cover with a damp cloth and set in warm place, free from draft. Let rise until doubled in bulk. Punch down dough in bowl, fold over, cover and again let rise until doubled in bulk. Turn out on lightly-floured board and divide into 2 equal portions; shape each portion into a long roll about 1 1/2" in diameter. Cover with a damp cloth and let rest 15 mins. Using a floured sharp knife, cut dough into 2" lengths and place, well apart, on ungreased cookie sheets. Sprinkle rolls with cornmeal and let rise, uncovered, for 1/2 hour. Brush with cold water and let rise another 1/2 hour. Meanwhile, stand a broad shallow pan of hot water in the oven and preheat oven to hot, 425°. Remove pan of water from oven and bake the rolls in steam-filled oven for 1/2 hour, brushing them with cold water and sprinkling lightly with cornmeal after the first 15 mins., and again brushing them with cold water 2 minutes before removing baked buns from the oven. Yield—18 rolls.

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 5, 1957

VOLUME LXXXIV, No. 14

Letter to the Editor

Dear Madam:

Every one of your readers was no doubt greatly interested to read in your last issue of the proposals concerning power development on the Sissiboo River. This is a tremendous subject and one which I feel deserves and should have the careful attention of all public spirited citizens of the county between now and when final decisions are made.

There can be no successful argument against the need for hydro development in this end of the province. One of the elements for expansion and development is electrical power in abundance and at a rate at which it can be used economically for industry.

The provision of hydro power in Digby County was first of all the culmination of the work and efforts and far sighted policies of certain men of this county in the early twenties. They worked against great obstacles, both in the matter of public opinion and in the provision of financial resources for the development they envisioned.

Through the efforts of these men hydro power was developed and for many years the generating resources they created served the needs of the area. The tremendous increases in demand for hydro which have occurred over the past years have, however, considerably outdistanced the generating facilities which were provided on the Sissiboo and power has had to be purchased from the Power Commission to meet these demands.

Now we have before us a proposal to develop the resources of the Sissiboo (which for many years did not attract the attention of those outside this county interested in power development), to their utmost. This proposal poses many interesting questions for the people of this area.

First of all, as I said, no one can really question the wisdom of developing the resources of the Sissiboo. There is, however, room for question as to the method in which this should be done.

It would seem to me that local public officials, in considering the proposals which should be placed before them should give thought, not only to the general good of the province as a whole but also the welfare of this county in particular.

What will be the effect of the proposed development locally? It is true the expenditure of seven million dollars cannot be overlooked in its effect on the economy of the area in which it is spent. What in the present case will it mean? As I see it, the lion's share of this money will be spent for purchase of machinery, equipment, cement and steel with only a minor portion expended on labour participated in by local workmen. This will mean, at the most, a temporary fillip to the local economy.

What about the long term effect? According to reports, the proposed development is to be run by remote control from Bear River. This will mean a cutting down on the present operating staff of the Digby County Power Board. Perhaps, however, these men will be absorbed in some other work locally.

Important too is the long term effect on local power rates. If the proposal is adopted it will mean the Digby County Power Board as an electrical generating facility is absorbed into the system of the Nova Scotia Power Commission. Our rates will then be affected by the overall operation of the projects of this commission whose domestic customers are now being subsidized by the public at the rate of nearly $14 per annum.

It is important also to remember that the proposals to fully develop the Sissiboo are motivated by the fact present generating facilities for hydro in western Nova Scotia have been exhausted and this development is needed to meet the needs, not only of Digby County, but also places as far remote as Liverpool, Yarmouth, etc.

If the present rate of demand continues to increase at anywhere near the rate it has over the past few years, it will not be long, perhaps even a matter of ten years, when even the full resources of the Sissiboo will no longer meet the demand from the area served by the Nova Scotia Power Commission and then it will be necessary to (Please turn to page 4)

Addresses Kiwanians

Early organization of a 4-H Club in the Digby Regional High School was forecast at the weekly meeting of the Digby Kiwanis Club by William LeFort, Agricultural Representative for Digby County.

Mr. LeFort stated interest in agriculture and the development of 4-H Clubs by the Kiwanis Club had been mainly instrumental in the planning for the organization of such a club at the school. He urged the Kiwanis Club to take over sponsorship of a calf club or other auxiliary club of 4-H.

In his address Mr. LeFort outlined the organization and work of 4-H clubs and told of the benefit such clubs can be in reviving and maintaining an interest in agriculture among the young people of a community. He stated the type of auxiliary club of the 4-H organization which the Kiwanis should sponsor would require study. If a calf club were sponsored would have to be given as to whether this should be a beef or dairy calf club. The Minister of agriculture, he said, is not too impressed with the present outlook for a beef cattle industry in this county as the farms are too small. For success, he said, there should be at least one hundred head of beef cattle to a farm.

In Digby County, Mr. LeFort said, there must be diversification in farming with beef, vegetables, fruit, grain, poultry and swine. "No one can make a living from farming through specialization in this county," he said. He urged a study of the whole matter by the Agriculture Committee of the Kiwanis Club and said that in the meantime he would take up the matter of the development of 4-H club work here with his department.

Reigh Jayne stated the Agriculture Minister had advised him that raising of cattle was limited in Digby County. Mr. Jayne recommended the Kiwanis club instead of limiting its activities to sponsoring a calf club should go ahead with the project of organizing 4-H (Please turn to page 10)

Observe Charles Wesley Sunday

Charles Wesley Sunday was observed at Grace United Church on Sunday morning when the hymns sung in the regular service and as special numbers were those written by Wesley, known as the greatest hymn-writer of the Christian Church.

Rev. James Brooks based his remarks on the life of Charles Wesley and his brother, John, founder of Methodism, and on the hymns written by Charles, which so emphatically and universally express the message of the gospel of Christ. He noted the important place that singing of hymns has taken in changing of lives and in the evangelism of the world.

Charles Wesley wrote nearly 7,000 poems, a great many of which were set to tunes and are still being sung all over the world and continue to voice the message of hope and life, the heart of the gospel. The writer was born in 1707 and Sunday marked the 250th anniversary of his birth in many United and Methodist churches of the world.

Digby Team Wins Debate

The debating team of the Digby Regional High School yesterday afternoon took the opening debate of the series sponsored by the Annapolis Valley West Students' Congress, when they won a unanimous decision over the debating team from the Annapolis Regional Academy.

The resolution under debate was "Resolved that mathematics at the senior high school level should be compulsory". The Digby team, composed of David Bent, Patsy Potter and Diana Wright, had the negative side of the resolution, while Annapolis team, composed of Marilyn Lingley, Ray Shergold and

Hotel Deal Falls Through

The "on again, off again" deal for the three CPR hotels, Digby Pines, Yarmouth Lakeside Inn and Cornwallis Inn at Kentville, definitely collapsed over the past weekend.

The collapse of the deal to take over the hotels came as a distinct shock since only last Wednesday A. J. Garinther, representing Eastern Hotels Ltd., had made arrangements with the Cornwallis Inn to take over operation of that hotel on Saturday. At noon on Saturday a telegram was received by A. L. Rennie, manager of the Cornwallis Inn, from the CPR office in Montreal advising him the deal was off. He was advised to continue the operation of the hotel on a reduced basis, cutting out meal service.

According to reports, the situation seems to be not so dark as it appears at present. It is known that another group, originally in on the deal with Mr. Garinther, are interested. This group withdrew when they learned that the control of the three hotels was to be outside the province. The only condition they would come in on the deal would be if it was Nova Scotia controlled.

The Nova Scotia Government has taken an interest and it is understood was approached by Eastern Hotels Limited, and while nothing definite is known, the feeling is that consideration would only be given from a financial standpoint if certain stipulations were fulfilled.

Hon. E. A. Manson, minister of trade and industry in Kentville recently indicated that his own feeling is that Nova Scotia control would be an important factor in any consideration, or recommendation by his department.

While Mr. Manson made no mention of it at Kentville, it is known that the Provincial Government is prepared to assist hotels and motels, provided the taxpayers' money is safeguarded.

Investigate Safe Smashing

Police are investigating a safe break in the premises of Snow Bros. Reg'd. here. The break occurred sometime between six and eleven o'clock Tuesday night and was discovered by the plant owner, Vincent G. Snow, when he went to his office in the fish processing plant about eleven o'clock.

Mr. Snow discovered his office, which is located on the top floor of a building located on a wharf in the centre of the town's business district, had been ransacked by intruders and the safe overturned.

A closer investigation showed that entry had been made into the safe by punching a hole through the bottom and the entire contents looted. Ironically, tools taken from the Snow Bros. plant had evidently been used to force an entry into the office safe.

Tuesday night's break was the fifth in the past two years into the premises of Snow Bros. Reg'd. The last break occurred November 4th. A quantity of money was taken at that time as well as in previous breaks. Tuesday night's break was the first in which the office safe had been molested, although in previous breaks steel drawers in the office were broken open and ransacked.

From preliminary investigation it appeared all of Mr. Snow's private papers as well as a quantity of cash had been taken from the safe.

Takes Christmas Recess

The Earn & Give Club of Grace United Church had its closing meeting on Tuesday evening before the Christmas recess and will resume on January 7. Plans were made to visit the Municipal Home at Marston on Wednesday before Christmas on an evening suitable to the matron there.

Billy Receives Welcome Home

A delegation of Digby citizens, lead by Mayor Gordon Turnbull and Digby Legion President, R. O. Wright, was on hand at the Digby pier here last Thursday afternoon to welcome home little Billy Patterson, six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Patterson, Digby, who was returning home after undergoing a successful heart operation in Boston.

As the little lad stepped off the gangplank of the CPS Princess Helene he was greeted by his father and then presented with a thoroughbred beagle puppy by Mrs. Ralph Wright of Harbour View Kennels. An official welcome home to Billy was extended by Mayor Turnbull. Ralph Wright, president of the Digby Branch of the Canadian Legion, which sponsored a "Heart For Billy" fund to help finance the little fellow's delicate and rare operation, also extended a welcome on behalf of all those who had contributed to the fund.

Accompanying Billy home from the hospital in Boston were his mother and his aunt, Mrs. Roy Wyman, of Digby. It is understood the boy has made such exceptional progress since his operation he will be able to resume attendance at school within two weeks.

Commission Plans Progressing

H. M. Warne, president of the Digby Recreation Commission, and A. Reginald Turnbull, chairman of the management committee of the Commission, stated that plans are progressing favorably towards the opening of the Forum, and ice is expected for skating this coming weekend, and curling as well.

The plant has been inspected and found to be in good condition, with only the usual necessary work to be done to get the plant in operation. The newly formed Commission is doing its best to get the Forum on an even keel and to meet general operating expenses as they go and at the same time try to offer the public a place of recreation, not only through the winter months, but throughout the year.

Just as soon as plans are completed for the winter schedule further plans will be made for the remainder of the year.

The month of December will be taken up mainly with skating and hockey practice. It is hoped that a Figure Skating class can be organized, with an effort being made for those in this class to present an ice show early in the new year.

It is anticipated that the schedule for December will be available in a few days, and an effort is being made now to draw up this schedule for the benefit of all, and that it will coincide with all activities of the different groups and the schools.

Special WMS Meeting

The ladies of the Centreville W.M.S. held their annual Crusade Meeting at the Baptist Church on November 1st.

Although the evening was very rainy the meeting was well attended, with guests from Hill Grove, Rossway, Sandy Cove, Little River and Smith's Cove.

The invited societies took part in the program by having a special number, and one member from each society took part in the circle of prayer. Special speaker for the evening was Mrs. R. Lindsay. The meeting was under the direction of the president, Mrs. John Tibbets.

After the close of the meeting refreshments were served at the Community Hall to approximately sixty guests.

The regular meeting was held on November 14th, at the home of Mrs. Lydia Gidney. The devotion was given by Mrs. Ingram Dakin, which was entitled "The Light of the World is Jesus". The roll call was responded to by a verse from one of Paul's letters. Mrs. Roy Cameron was voted to be the next Life Member. Two new members, Mrs. R. Lindsay and Mrs. Susie Morehouse, were welcomed.

The program was prepared by the program committee and presented by Mrs. Lydia Gidney and opened with the hymn "If Jesus Goes With Me". Each member was asked to name one thing which the funds support. The poem, "Life's Perilous Way", was read by Mrs. Guy Outhouse and a monologue, "A Stewardship Journey", was presented by Mrs. R. Lindsay. Mrs. Loran Titus and Mrs. William Titus. Several short prayers were read by members and the closing hymn was "Send The Light". All members joined hands and sang "Blest Be The Tie", and Mrs. R. Lindsay gave the closing prayer.

Final Schedule Costs Table

Final figures on the cost to the Town of Digby of the addition recently built on the Digby Regional High School were presented to the Town Council here by Town Clerk E. S. Eaton.

These figures show a total cost to the town of $57,535.43. A bond issue of $40,000.00 had been floated by the town to cover their estimated share of the cost. Net proceeds of this issue had amounted to $38,074.79, leaving a difference of $19,760.64. In the education budget for 1957 an amount of $5,000 was included to be paid on the town share of the school capital cost. This leaves a sum of $14,760.64 still outstanding on the town's share of the cost of the school addition.

The meeting passed a resolution asking that the Department of Municipal Affairs give permission to the town to transfer $14,500 from the town's surplus account to a special reserve for school capital. If permission is received it will permit the debt charges on this to be shared under agreement with the provincial government.

The Council at their meeting also gave approval to the Digby County Power Board to make a request to the Board of Public Utilities for a reduction in hydro electric rates for town of Digby electricity users. If the request is granted it will mean an estimated total reduction of $4,058 annually to the users of electricity in Digby.

Mayor Turnbull gave notice of a joint meeting on the evening of December 6th of the Digby Town Council, Municipal Councils of Digby and Clare, and the Commissioners of the Village of Weymouth to discuss proposals which it is expected will be placed before a further meeting of these bodies on December 13th by the Nova Scotia Power Commission.

The Town Clerk reported that, as a result of recent property tax sales, the town had acquired title of four properties. He also received approval of the Council to proceed with further tax sales of properties in tax arrears in the town.

Renewal of the lease held by the town on the former RCAF barracks on the Cannon Bank was authorized by the meeting. It was reported rental on this had been increased by the DAR from fifty dollars annually to seventy-five. The building is sublet by the town to the Fire Department.

Deep Brook Home Damaged

Only the quick and efficient response of the fire department from HMCS Cornwallis and work of neighbours prevented the destruction by fire Monday evening of the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Lowe in Deep Brook.

The fire, of unknown origin, broke out late Monday evening. Although the house, a new structure, was saved from total destruction considerable damage was done to the interior by smoke and water.

Because of the high wind blowing at the time fears were for awhile felt the house could not be saved but efficient action on the part of the firemen and neighbours were successful in extinguishing the blaze.

Furnishings of the home were removed and Mr. and Mrs. Lowe and their family are at present living with neighbours until repairs can be effected.

Speaks On Stewardship

An inspiring and challenging address on Christian Stewardship was delivered by Canon A. J. Jackson, newly appointed Director of Information and Stewardship of the Anglican Church of Canada, before a special meeting of clergy and laymen of the Deanery of Annapolis in St. Luke's Hall, Annapolis Royal, Tuesday evening.

In his address Canon Jackson, who is a former RCAF chaplain and Rector of the Parish of St. Hilda, in Toronto, paid high tribute to the work of parish priests, particularly in rural communities. "There can be no more rewarding work in life, he said, than that of a parish priest". He told of episodes in his own career as a service chaplain and a parish priest to illustrate the power of prayer in human living and the effect of true Christian stewardship on the lives of individuals.

Canon Jackson voiced a powerful appeal to his listeners to participate fully in the work of the church, to be true stewards of the Christian way of life. The Anglican Church, he said, possesses the whole of the faith and it is up to us to spread that faith to all our fellows. We must all give of our substance, of our talents and of our whole lives to Christ and His church. It is not enough to give to God what is left, we must give Him the first and the best, remembering always that we give because God so loved the world He gave His only begotten Son.

Chairman of the meeting was Rev. H. Y. MacLean, Rector of Trinity Parish, Digby, and Rural Dean of the Annapolis Deanery. Canon Jackson was introduced to the meeting by the Rev. Mr. Haviland, Rector of the Parish of Bridgetown and a former RCAF padre. The thanks of the gathering to Canon Jackson for his address were voiced by Victor Cardoza, chairman of the deanery committee on stewardship.

WIND PLAYS HAVOC WITH LOBSTER TRAPS

Of the thousands of lobster traps set at Westport on Saturday, gale force winds Saturday night, Sunday and Monday destroyed a large number of them. Fishermen have not been able to estimate their losses as yet. As all traps were set, fishermen are unable to replace those lost and those not insured are a total loss.

About This and That

Christmas Attractions

The most important thing about Christmas is that it is the birthday of Christ. We would want to be the last to divert anyone from the very important figure which should be the centre of our thoughts as the Christmas season approaches. But many good things involve the spending of money and the spirit of Christmas is not an exception. Today few people can go to the cellar and find a jar of lovely homemade jam, or pickles, or other good thing to give to a shut-in or to a friend as a gift at Christmas time. Many there are whose occupations require their full time and their own handicraft as a Christmas gift is simply out. Nevertheless, the spirit of giving to family and friends is with us and will stay. Of necessity, Christmas has become more commercialized than in former years. While we would not want to see the commercial aspect of Christmas overdone, yet the very spirit of Christmas seems to demand a certain amount of commercialism today.

In whatever demand there is we see no reason why Digby should not have its rightful share of commercial trade at Christmas time. We see no reason why people should be attracted to other centres when Digby can offer just as good value here.

Possibly one way to attract people from the surrounding areas to Digby for Christmas shopping would be to get on an early campaign for brightening and lighting up in the shopping district and residential area. Christmas is a bright and happy time. People are attracted to brightness and happiness. Why let them find it more in other centres than in Digby? People have a certain amount to spend for Christmas and they might as well be attracted to Digby as to be allured elsewhere.

And speaking of brightening up and lighting up for Christmas, we would suggest that the true meaning of Christmas need not be lost even in this respect. How many people take the time and effort to drive to H.M.C.S. Cornwallis each year to see the beautiful nativity scene which has been erected there for several Christmases back? A good many. Such a project taken up by a group in Digby would not only attract our own area people to their own town for shopping but would tend to keep the recognition of Christ the centre of Christmas thinking and planning. Other towns have done it, usually with the Junior Chamber of Commerce taking up the project. Other organizations might be induced to put Christ back into the Christmas thinking by a similar scene in Digby in 1957. Or, some business places might find it possible to do so; after all, there is no place where such sentiments are more needed.

At any rate we expect many people will be again looking for the lighted nativity scene which attracted people to the Trinity church grounds in 1956.

It is getting time to brighten up for Christmas. Think about it.

Christmas Seals

"Christmas again! How soon!" you say
"Why it seems just yesterday . . ."
But that is just because you've been
So busy in the months between.
Oh God be thanked for days that run
With pleasant work and carefree fun;
For nights when sleep is free from fear,
For health and strength in those so dear.
But what of those who each long day,
Think it will never wear away?
Who in the long and sleepless night
Yearn prayerfully to see dawn's light?
Each Christmas Seal pressed with a prayer
Can do a loving work somewhere.
A hundred bought can life the heart
In helping someone to his feet,
In making some sad home complete.
"Dear God, I'll say it in this way—I'll buy my Christmas Seals today."

Obituaries

Mrs. Manley Wagner
Predetta Blanch Wagner passed away at Plympton, Digby county, on November 15 following an automobile accident which occurred on the Digby-Yarmouth highway at that place.

Mrs. Wagner was born at Virginia, Anna Co., daughter of the late Michael and Mary (Mullen) McGowan. She was in her 78th year.

She is survived by three daughters: (Leta), Mrs. W. F. McCafferty, East Ferry, Digby Co.; (Dorothy), Mrs. William Steele, Southville, Digby Co.; (Esther), Mrs. Lawrence A. Sabeau, South Range, Digby Co.; three sisters: Mrs. Clarence Weir and Mrs. Lester Weir, both of Scotch Village, Hants Co., and Mrs. Henrietta McGowan, Lynn, Mass.; two brothers: Gilbert and Robert McGowan, both of Weymouth, Digby Co., and ten grandchildren. Her husband predeceased her eight years ago and a son, Carl Wagner, eleven years ago. A brother, Charlie, died in infancy, a brother, Nelson, was killed in action in World War I, and another brother, Enoch, was asphyxiated in an apartment house fire in Boston, Mass.

The funeral was held from the Southville Church of Christ on Sunday afternoon, November 17, at 3 p.m. The minister of the church, Rev. John A. Carr, conducted the service, assisted by Rev. Wm. Ferner, retired minister of the Church of Christ, Rev. R. R. Winchester, minister of the United Baptist Churches, Barton, and Llc. MacKinnon of the Reformed Baptist Church, East Ferry.

Pallbearers were four grandsons, Robert and Douglas McCafferty, Stewart Sabeau and David Clark.

Mrs. Wagner had been a faithful member of the church for many years, supporting its work at home and elsewhere. Her home has always been a haven of rest for ministers who came and went during her lifetime. She will be greatly missed for "her seat will be empty."

Hymns sung at the funeral were favorites of hers and her family: "Beyond the Sunset," sung by the choir, and "When I've Gone the Last Mile of the Way," solo by Mrs. Vernon Marshall. The sermon text was also a request, "In my Father's house are many mansions," John 14:2. The minister closed the message with a poem.

Mrs. Whitney Amaro

Charlotte Mae, wife of Whitney Amaro, Plympton, passed away at the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, on Sunday night. She had been a patient there for the past two months. Born in Plympton 65 years ago, she was a daughter of the late Ambrose and Ann Melanson Comeau of that place. She spent her entire life in the community of Plympton. Her chief interests were in her church and family.

She leaves to mourn besides her husband two sons, Roger of Digby, presently in Labrador, and Anthony of Toronto; and three daughters, Katherine with the Digby County Power Board, Anne in Toronto, and Lottie at home. She is also survived by two sisters, Lillian and Agnes.

resort to steam which is understood to be much more expensive generation.

The above are only a few thoughts on the proposals regarding the hydro development as reported in your paper last week. It seems to me these proposals should be examined very closely as well as any alternatives which may be advanced.

For instance, why would it not be feasible for the Digby County Power Board itself to proceed with a development program on the Sissiboo working with money loaned to it by the Power Commission or the provincial government and with an agreement from the Power Commission to purchase all the surplus power generated. Such a development would mean retaining the identity of the Digby County Power Board and would also mean the cost of the electricity produced would only be affected by the operation in Digby County. Surely such a program could be worked out if it were deemed advisable.

It is true, no doubt, that under law if the Power Commission wants to take over the generating facilities of the Sissiboo little can be done about it. However, since proposals have evidently been made, it would seem the final decision concerning these should be so made as to leave no room for regrets. In considering the proposals those in authority should not be over-awed by the magnitude of the sum of money which is reported will be spent nor should they be led astray by those who would talk glibly of "large quantities of cheap power." These are not the real factors, in fact "cheap power" is wishful thinking.

The project under consideration is such a large one and the proposals involve so much that it would almost seem the matter should be one which might be submitted to not only the councils involved but also the ratepayers of the districts who are, the real underwriters of the whole development.

Letter to the Editor

Nov. 30, 1957.

The Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.

Dear Editor:
From time to time someone advocates the sale of alcoholic beverages in eating establishments. Every thinking person must have an opinion on the matter. I have one, and would like the privilege of expressing my opinion in your paper.

We are told that tourists complain that they cannot get alcoholic drinks with their meals. I have met and talked to many tourists and I have never known even one to make such a complaint. They come here to cool off and get away from their work for a while, to enjoy our beautiful scenery and our hospitality, and we can be very hospitable without offering them liquor to drink. I have found that what a tourist really likes is friendliness. It doesn't cost us one cent to give him that and we meet some very nice people in the process.

I have been a tourist myself, usually in the United States and I have seen how the sale of liquor in dining rooms works out. We would go into some place for a meal and the waiter would first present us with the wine list. We would tell him we were not having any and then he would walk away. After all the drinking patrons were served he would come back to take our orders. The sale of liquor is more profitable than the sale of food, so why waste time on two cheapskates who didn't drink and hence would probably give a modest tip? I believe that the same thing would happen in Nova Scotia if restaurants and hotels were allowed to sell liquor. I also noticed that the places that sold liquor served inferior food, "probably" because they knew a patron with a few drinks in him would not be very discriminating. I do not believe this sort of thing would make our visitors any better satisfied.

People are inclined to overlook the fact that our through highways run along the main street of many of our towns and villages. Sometimes they even go out of their way to do so, as at Hantsport and Yarmouth. Before the province took over these roads they were almost entirely village streets on which children could play in safety. The province paved these streets and linked them up to form our highway system. For example, going from Yarmouth to Digby a motorist has the privilege of driving on the main streets of over twenty villages. There are filling stations along this route and that is as it should be. But there should be no places for the sale of liquor, because gasoline in the tank and alcohol in the driver do not make for safe driving.

The only good thing that can be said about the sale of liquor is that someone makes money in the deal. There are those who think they see an opportunity to get some more money out of our summer visitors. The tourist season only lasts about two months. Should we expose our boys and girls to this temptation for twelve months so that someone can make some extra money for two months? If there are tourists who cannot travel without an alcoholic crutch, for my part I would prefer that they spent their money somewhere else than in Nova Scotia.

who birthday we celebrate. If this is one of the terrible things we have done to Christmas then let us put Christ back into Christmas.

Christmas gave to us the Christ Child, and our greatest and foremost gift should be to Him who gave His all for us. So let us be honest with ourselves and children. Santa is a tradition that few of us would like to do without, yet we are in danger with all the commercializing Santa in all the stores of missing the true happiness and spiritual significance of the real Christmas.

Then let us make of Christmas this year what it was meant to be. Santa will be the spirit of Christmas giving to make others happy and let us teach our families to join together with saying what the angels said on that first Christmas morning of 2,000 years ago—"Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace, good-will toward all men."

Obituary

Mrs. Avar Marshall
The death of Mrs. Bessie Mae Marshall occurred at her home in Bear River on November 16 after a lengthy illness. She was born in North Range 69 years ago and was a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. John Andrews of that place.

Mrs. Marshall was a devoted mother and was also actively engaged in the work of the United Church of Bear River of which she was a member. She will be sadly missed by her family and in the community and church.

She is survived by one daughter, Elsie (Mrs. Harold Fredericks), of Sussex, N. B., and by six sons, Reed, Newburyport, Mass.; Byard, Alfred, Fred, Bear River; Earl, Montreal; Ray, Liverpool. Several grandchildren and four great-grandchildren also survive as do two sisters, Mrs. Perry Porter, Hill Grove, and Mrs. Hugh Armstrong, of Granville Ferry. Her husband predeceased her in 1952.

The remains rested at the Ramsay Funeral Home, Digby, until Tuesday when the funeral was held from the United Baptist Church in Bear River. The Rev. William Scott conducted the service and interment was in Mount Hope cemetery.

Joseph D. Hattie has been named to succeed Edgar Williams as a provincial government appointee to the Digby Town Board of School Commissioners. Mr. Williams has left Digby following the cessation of operation by the C.P.R. of the Digby Pines Hotel.

In Memoriam

OUTHOUSE — In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Annie Outhouse, who passed away December 6, 1952. In tears we saw our mother sinking.

And watched her fade away; God knows how much we miss her. In a home that is lonesome today. And as we stand before her grave.

With hearts still sad and sore. We think we hear those loving words. Not dead, just gone before.

ADAMS — 1942 — Alexander Adams — 1957.

Time and years roll swiftly by. But loving memories never die; Still loved, still missed, still very dear. As we come to the end of another year.

Lovingly remembered by wife and family. 14:15c

MIDDLETON — In loving memory of a dear father, Otis B. Middleton, who departed this life December 7th, 1939. The month of December again is here.

To us the saddest of the year; His passing was sudden. His thoughts unknown. But he left us memories we are proud to own.

Ever remembered by his daughter, Mrs. Eva Baxter, of Digby, and son, LeRoy Middleton, Salem, Mass. 14:15c

Marriage

Cosman — Messon

The United Church parsonage at Grand Pré was the scene of a pretty wedding November 23 when Rev. H. H. Blanchard united in marriage Marie May Messon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robie Messon, Hortonville, and Robert James Cosman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willis Cosman, Weymouth North.

The bride wore a grey suit with white fur hat and white accessories.

Mrs. Urban Praught, sister of the bride, was her only attendant and Mr. Laurence Cosman, brother of the groom, was best man.

Frazer — Pitman

A pretty fall wedding was solemnized by Rev. Father Amerault at St. Patrick's Church, Digby, as Joan Fay Pitman, RN, and Raymond Wayne Frazer exchanged vows in a double ring ceremony. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Pitman, Clementsport, and the groom, only son of Bernard and the late Mrs. Frazer, Bear River.

The bride wore an afternoon dress in winter white shade with white hat and gloves and corsage of pink carnations. Mrs. Robert Wallis was matron of honor, and the groom's uncle, Frank Raymond, served as groomsman.

Following the ceremony a reception for 65 guests was held at the home of the bride's parents. The bride is a graduate of Yarmouth Hospital School of Nursing and practiced her profession in Florida as well as in Digby and other hospitals of her native province. On December 1st she went on the staff of the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax. The groom is on the staff of the Army Medical Corps, Halifax, and on their return from their wedding trip they took up residence there.

Perry — Dakin

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Dakin, Friday morning at 10 o'clock, Nov. 22, when their daughter, Willene Muriel, became the bride of Arden Atwood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Perry, at a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. Frank Smith.

The bride entered the room on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage, to the strains of Lohengrin's wedding march played by Mrs. Avery Finigan. She wore a ballerina length gown of pink net over taffeta with matching headress and lace mitts. She carried an arm bouquet of pink and white carnations.

Her bridesmaid, Mrs. Hilton Solows, sister of the groom, wore a blue nylon ballerina length gown with matching headress and lace mitts.

The groom was attended by Andrew Weir, Hebron.

During the signing of the register Miss Sylvia Lent sang "I Love You Truly."

A reception followed the ceremony. The bride's table was centred with a three-tier wedding cake topped by a miniature bride and groom, and was cut in the traditional manner. Mrs. Frank Smith poured and the refreshments were in charge of the bride's aunt, Mrs. A. F. Weir, of Hebron. She was assisted in serving by Mrs. Raleigh Nichols, Mrs. Romaine Per-

Students Of Digby Area In Operetta

Two students taking part in the Acadia University Light Opera Society's production of Victor Herbert's hit musical comedy "Red Mill" are Rosamond Sabine of Bear River and Harry Thomas of North Range. Rosamond Sabine has been selected to play a role in the supporting cast. Rosamond is in her senior year of secretarial science. Harry Thomas, a third year business administration student, is in charge of publicity for the Society's production of the musical comedy to be staged at University Hall, Wolfville, on December 6 and 7. He is also playing the part of Franz who is a dumb cop.

This is the same group that has staged many successful Gilbert and Sullivan operettas and produced with great acclaim ry and Mrs. Luella Finigan.

Following the reception the happy couple left for a short honeymoon. On their return they will reside in Freeport where the bride is on the staff of the local Bank of Nova Scotia.

For travelling the bride wore a costume of black and white tweed with red accessories.

Mullen — Cosman

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the United Church manse on Saturday afternoon, November 23, when Dorothy May, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Cosman, Weymouth, was united in marriage to Lloyd Mullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Archibald Mullen, Springdale, N.S. Rev. Bruce MacMartin performed the double ring ceremony.

The bride looked lovely in a grey tweed coat with black velvet trim, worn over a red dress. She wore a white feathered hat, white gloves, and carried a grey velvet bag trimmed with rhinestones.

Attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Cosman, aunt and uncle of the bride.

Nova Scotia's now famous first operetta "The Mod At Grande Fre."

First produced in 1906, the Red Mill was the smash hit of that year as it ran 274 straight performances on Broadway. It has been revived time and time again down through the years and has always been a success. Its great popularity is often credited to the fact that it has always had current appeal because of its story, which is a very good satire on American, British and French tourists in Holland.

With never a dull moment in this sparkling comedy, it remains one of Broadway's classics and the most popular off-Broadway productions. There is hardly a tune or a song that is not familiar to everyone whether or not they know that it comes from the "Red Mill." Such songs as "Because You're You," "In Old New York," and "Every Day Is Lady's Day With Me," coupled with many witty lines and a beautiful setting are sure to make a very entertaining evening.

The cast is drawn from the campus at large, including all faculties, with students from six provinces and such diverse places as Hong Kong, Ceylon and India. Major roles in the operetta are held by George Kydd of Waterville, Foster Bent of Middleton, Ian Forrest of Montreal, Ian Phinney of Middleton, Ian MacLeod of Sydney Mines, Don Mosher of Wolfville, Helen Ritchie of Harvey Station, N. B., Norma Hall of Sussex, N. B., Sharon Dewar of Hantsport and Sandra Sutherland of New Glasgow.

Obituaries

Robert M. Nichols

Relatives and friends at Hill Grove received the sad news of the passing of Robert M. Nichols at his home in San Francisco, California, following a stroke and complications.

Mr. Nichols was a son of the late Albert and Mary Harvey Nichols and was born at Acaciaville 81 years ago. Receiving his early education at the local district school, he left at an early age for Boston, Mass., where he enlisted in the U. S. Marines, serving through the Spanish-American War in Cuba and the Philippines, after which he married and settled down at San Francisco and was employed at the navy yard as master technician, a position held until his retirement several years ago.

Surviving are his widow and three daughters. Also left to mourn are three sisters, Eva, Stella and Grace, and one brother, George Nichols, all of the United States.

The late E. Harte Nichols and F. W. Nichols, of Digby, were first cousins, as was Goudy G. H. Nichols, of Acaciaville.

Mr. Nichols visited his old home in 1952 after an absence of 62 years. He was a member of the Hill Grove United Baptist Church. The deceased possessed a very pleasing personality and was highly respected by all who had the pleasure of his acquaintance. He was a talented writer and his letters of some years ago to the Courier were much enjoyed, especially by local residents.

He was the last Elder of the Disciple Church of Christ in Westport and has been a most faithful follower. He was also a member of the I.O.O.F. Lodge of Westport and one of three remaining members of the Macabees on the Island.

each other marked "without prejudice"
Every trade has its own jargon — words that have lost their ordinary meaning. Lawyers write insulting letters to and bureaucrats can "immediately expedite" you right into the wastepaper basket.

If you've read the advertising of some of the flashier purveyors of used cars you'll know there's a jargon in their business too. Like this:

LOADED WITH EXTRAS: This car has a three-color spotlight, cigarette dispenser, alligator upholstery and a disappearing safari tent. Maybe if we spend enough time talking about these, you'll overlook the tail pipe that belches smoke like a Chicago roundhouse.

ONE OWNER CAR: Amazing, this car has had only one owner at a time.

CLEAN CAR: This doesn't really refer to the car, it describes the customer after he buys it.

GUARANTEED 11,000 ORIGINAL MILES: We guarantee that the madman who owned this car drove the last 11,000 miles in the most original manner you can imagine.

Well, maybe the ads aren't really that bad. But it still pays to look behind the words.

I can have fun spoofing the high-pressure boys because, with our new car franchise to protect, we couldn't twist like that if we wanted to.

Now, it just so happens we have on the used car lot right now a beautiful, clean, one-owner car, loaded with extras and with guaranteed low mileage.

NO, NO, this is for real! And this lovely 1957 Oldsmobile Super 88 2 Door Hardtop is a real special, only 9,000 miles.

Convention At Rossway

The Sunday School convention of the Digby Neck District, sponsored by the M.R.E.C., was held in the Rossway Baptist Church, Friday, November 15, at 3.00 p.m.

Rev. Kenneth Morrison, East Saint John, gave excellent leadership for which the district is grateful.

The afternoon session with the theme "The Great Commission," opened with worship led by Rev. B. D. MacMartin, B.A., of Weymouth. Using as key words "Go and Teach," Rev. MacMartin said, "If we follow Jesus' command we go as ambassadors, we must be faithful, prepare ourselves, and work together, then it will bring joy into our lives and to the lives of others."

The president of the convention, Mrs. Lottie Lewis, Waterford, called upon Mrs. Ingeborg Worthylake, Rossway, who gave a warm welcome to the delegates from the Rossway Church and Sunday School. The short business session which followed showed all schools reporting, and the allocation of the district to the M.R.E.C. had been met.

The afternoon program consisted of a spontaneous dialogue "Bring Them In," part one, with various delegates taking part, after which discussion groups were formed to discuss, 1. How to improve the worship in the church school and how to enlist suitable teachers; 2. A teacher's responsibility to the job and lesson preparation; 3. A superintendent's responsibility to the school and staff.

Rev. R. W. Lindsay, Centreville, closed the session with prayer. A fellowship supper served in the community hall was enjoyed by all.

The evening session with the theme, "Bring Them In," opened with worship led by a group of young people of Centreville: Frank Gidney, Alton Outhouse, call to worship and prayer; scripture, Proverbs chapter 4, by David Morton; a duet, "How Great Thou Art," by Dorothy Outhouse and Rosalind Hersey; closing prayer, Myrna Raymond, Mrs. R. W. Lindsay was at the organ.

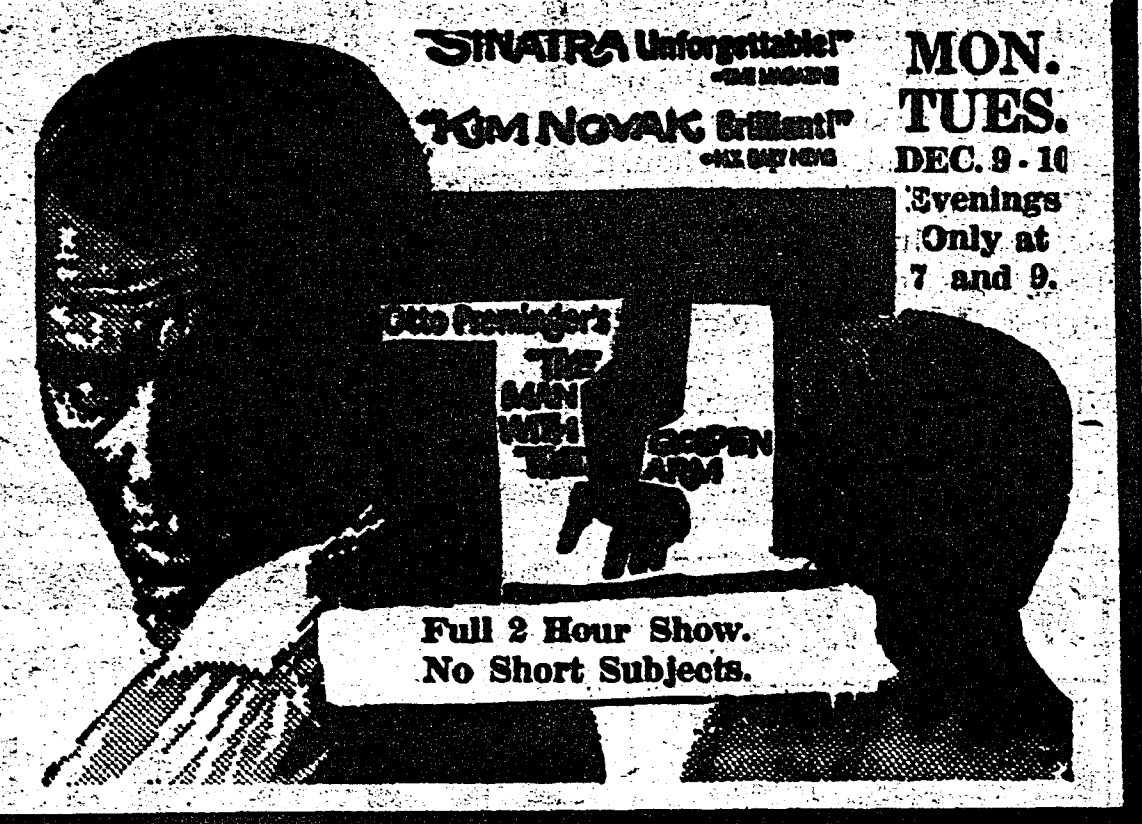

After a word of thanks to the Centreville group and a welcome to the people gathered, the president called upon Rev. C. T. Olmstead to report for the nominating committee and the following slate of officers was given:

Pres., Mrs. Ingeborg Worthylake, Rossway.
Vice-pres., Mrs. Roy Cameron, Centreville.
Sec'y-treas., Mrs. Eldon Mitchell, Sandy Cove (re-elected).

Mrs. Loran Shaw reporting for the courtesy committee, thanked the people of Rossway for their hospitality and Rev. Kenneth Morrison for his excellent leadership.

The offering was received by Mrs. John McBride and Mrs. Bernard McBride, both of Rossway.

Part two of the dialogue, "Bring Them In" followed, after which discussion groups were formed. A short film strip "Ways to Worship" and a short

At a brief centre ice ceremony to commence the game, Captain M. J. A. T. Jette, CD, RCN, dropped the puck between the Rev. C. T. Olmstead brought the convention to a close with thanks to the leader, and by prayers and benediction.

Dr. Whittier Ends Speaking Tour

Finishing two months of deputing work in the Maritime provinces, Dr. Jean Whittier, medical missionary on furlough from India, spoke at the Bear River United Church of Canada on Sunday evening. Dr. Whittier told of the missions at Rutlam, Bonswara and Indore and the work accomplished there in the past 80 years. She told of the early years when a missionary first taught there under the shade of a tree and someone believed in Christ. Later, of necessity, an educational program was planned and a hospital erected, but still the main job of the missionary is evangelism. Until quite recently, teaching has still been done under the shade of a tree in rural areas. At present the rural areas are given an opportunity to erect churches.

Literacy in India is very low, said Dr. Whittier, and in many places voting and reading is still done by picture method. The people, too, are generally through the school. He said two hundred and fifty dollars had already been allotted to this project and this could be used in sponsoring an exhibition, giving prizes.

Mr. LeFort said the trend backward in methods of health and cleanliness.

Dr. Whittier illustrated her talk by slides showing her work at the Indore hospital and the method of instructing the natives in health and education. In viewing the slides, the audience was struck with accomplishments which seemed to border on the impossible. Dr. Whittier in closing told the audience that they make the missionaries greater by their faith in them and by their prayers the missionaries are made more powerful and can do what otherwise would be impossible. She also warned the audience that they speak to the India people by their own lives.

The speaker was introduced by Mrs. J. M. Wallis, president of the Annapolis Presbytery, and thanked by Rev. D. S. MacLeod, pastor of the church.

The worship service was led by Mr. MacLeod, assisted by Rev. James Brooks, Digby, former pastor of the Bear River church. Mrs. Donald Brown rendered as a vocal selection "I Know Whom I Have Believed". The C.G.I.T. attended the service in a body and in uniform.

Following the service members of the W.M.S. of Grace United Church, Digby, were guests of the Bear River W.M.S. at a social hour in the vestry and were given an opportunity to personally meet the speaker.

even in Digby county seemed to be toward bigger farms. For success he said there would have to be organized production through the cooperative principle. "There will probably have to be cooperative farming," he said. The small farmers will have to work together in production and pool their produce for marketing.

H. M. Warne, who introduced the speaker, said he felt an immediate survey of the school should be made to find out how many were interested in the 4-H Club work and then carry on from that point.

ASKS MANDATORY JAILING OF JACKERS

Provision of a mandatory thirty days jail sentence for all persons convicted of jacking deer will be proposed to the Minister of Lands and Forests by Clarence A. Mason, provincial Director of Game Conservation, in an effort to curtail this practice. Mr. Mason told the annual meeting of the Digby County (East) Fish and Game Association here.

Mr. Mason also informed the meeting he had already recommended to the Minister that game law enforcement officials be reinforced by provision of additional personnel. He also stated he had recommended that game enforcement officers be provided with uniforms.

Speaking of inland fisheries, Mr. Mason said he was going to try to have a rod licence passed at the earliest possible date. "The people of this province, he said, should not object to a rod licence of $1.00 for those eighteen years of age and up, provided the money derived from the sale of such licences is earmarked for research into inland fisheries, the development of rivers and other work for the improvement of our inland fisheries."

Mr. Mason said that in his proposal for a rod licence he had specifically excluded those under eighteen so that the "barefoot boy" would not be affected by this regulation.

Since 1908, Mr. Mason said, control of our inland fisheries has been in the hands of federal authorities. "It is my opinion they would like to pass this responsibility back to the province," he said that the matter of water storage on the rivers of Nova Scotia, previously under control of the Department of Trade and Industry had now been passed over to the Lands and Forests Department. It is high time, he said, that the province took a more active part in the development of our inland fisheries."

To do the job that needs to be done in this money is needed than I can secure at present from the department; that is why I am proposing the rod licence, he said.

Speaking again of hunting, Mr. Mason said he had examined reports of the Department of Lands and Forests. From the figures for 1954, which was the last year before the forest inventory project was started, it appeared that from a revenue of $235,000 from game licences only $7,015 had been spent for game conservation. This amount was the salary received by Mr. Denis Benson, provincial wildlife biologist, he said.

The policy of forest conservation in Nova Scotia is second to none in North America, Mr. Mason said. It is effective and is backed by progressive and most courageous legislation. Unfortunately, our game conservation program has not kept pace. The two should go hand in hand, he said, and we badly need a more ambitious game and fisheries conservation program.

Between 1875 and the late 1880's moose nearly became extinct in Nova Scotia, he said. By rather good enforcement laws which prohibited among other things the use of dogs the moose population had been increased by 1908 sufficiently to permit the resumption of hunting, he said.

In 1923 Mr. Mason said he had met the late Otto Schierbeck who became Director of Game Conservation for the province. At that time Mr. Schierbeck told him that the people of Nova Scotia were "incredibly stupid" with regard to the moose in the province. "By killing off only the males since 1908 you have allowed the moose population to increase to the point that there are too many for the feed available and the time will come when disease and starvation will destroy them." In 1927, Mr. Mason said, Mr. Schierbeck recommended an open season on cows in order to somewhat restore nature's balance. "If his theories were correct this only slowed down the inevitable," he said.

Today, he said, the moose population seems to be steadily if slowly gaining ground in Nova Scotia. In Cumberland and Colchester counties this gain has reached the point where a limited open season would seem a possibility. The only way this could be handled, he said, was to have everyone who wanted to hunt submit their request for a permit and then have a limited number chosen by lot by some such person as the head of the provincial Fish and Game association. Speaking of the deer situation, Mr. Mason said he felt the present provincial wildlife biologist's theories concerning deer were much in line with those propounded by the late Otto Schierbeck regarding the moose. These theories and proposals put forward by Mr. Benson should not be discounted, he said. He is a hard working and sincere public servant and much concerned about the deer problem.

Last year, Mr. Mason said, we saw a group from western Nova Scotia go before a legislative committee and succeed in having the recommendation of the provincial Fish and Game Association for a continuation of the two deer bag limit thrown out and a single deer bag limit put into effect. At that time, it appeared to me there should be special treatment in this matter for the western end of the province. "If we can safely kill one deer in the western part of Nova Scotia then two deer can be killed in eastern Nova Scotia," he said. Any law the government enacts about a single limit on deer kill province wide must be wrong. The solution would seem to be to have the province zoned but this would pose difficulties and perplexing and vexing problems. (Please turn to page 10)

A Teenager Repents

Occasionally a person who pilfers becomes conscience stricken and in due time makes restitution for the article wrongfully gained.

Such was the case last week when Mr. Fritz Dakin proprietor of Fritz Dakin Ltd., received payment for a Tiny Atom Motor which had been taken from his store. Accompanying the payment was a letter from the lad which told of his passing through Digby a couple of years ago with his family when they stopped for dinner and a change of bus. Looking around in the Dakin store he saw and stole the motor valued at $2.50 or $3.00. The young man asks in his letter that Mr. Dakin should not judge all teenagers by his actions and continues: "At least I can be happy that I have paid for it. Please don't think badly of me."

Injured In Crash

Robert Moulaison, 25 year old Digby man, is a patient in the Digby General Hospital suffering from head and shoulder injuries following a motor vehicle accident here Tuesday.

The accident occurred on the Racquette Hill on the outskirts of the town about five o'clock Tuesday afternoon. A half ton truck driven by Moulaison went out of control on the brow of the hill and plunged into the ditch. It careened down the ditch for some distance before turning over.

Moulaison was cut about the face and head and received shoulder injuries in the crash. The truck was almost completely demolished.

To Present Pantomime

By kind permission of Captain M. J. A. T. Jette, C.D., R.C.N., the third of a series of Christmas pantomimes is to be produced in H.M.C.S. Cornwallis tonight, Friday night and Saturday night. The story is based on Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland" from which the pantomime's title has been shamelessly adapted to "Alice in Blunderland". The script for this year's production has again been written by Lt. D. B. Payne.

As in the two previous productions, "Snow White and the Seven O.D.'s" and "The Wonderful Wiz of Cornwoz," some of the scenes and the majority of the characters may readily be identified with the original story; however, a great many others are recognizable only by their marked resemblance to well-known personalities stationed at Cornwallis. This, of course, is proper pantomime procedure and enables the writer to use unlimited author's license.

The cast, including choruses, will number better than thirty and the tunes used will be easily (Please turn to page 10)

Christmas Party Plans Complete

Plans for the annual community Christmas Party were finalized at a meeting of the committee in charge at Chan's Restaurant on Monday.

It was reported collections of donations to provide funds to purchase candy and other supplies were proceeding and arrangements had been made with the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion to have the candy bagged.

R. O. Wright reported donations of dessert apples and potato chips had been promised as well as soft drinks. Arrangements for the erection of the Christmas tree at the Forum were also complete, it was reported. The party is scheduled to get underway at two o'clock, December 18th and Roy Scouts will assist with patrolling the youngsters.

Lt. Taylor of HMCS Cornwallis outlined the part the Navy will play in the party and stated this would include a parade, clowns, provision of Santa and other details.

Resignation of Edgar Chan, who has acted as chairman of the community Christmas party since its inception ten years ago, was received with regret. Rev. H. Y. MacLean was elected to succeed Mr. Chan.

Candlelighting Service Held

A candlelighting service which gave credit to the leadership they enjoy, was presented by the Flamingo group C.G.I.T. of Grace United Church on Sunday evening. Leading parts were taken by Miss Kaye Ellis, assistant C.G.I.T. leader, and Miss Sheila VanTassel.

The C. G. I. T. leader, Miss Constance Kirkpatrick, presided at the church organ throughout the service, when three anthems were presented — "In the Black Night of Winter", with Miss Margaret Black as soloist; "Of the Father's Love Begotten", with Miss Carolyn Arnold taking the solo part, and "Hail Gladdening Light".

The scriptures were read by Margaret Black, June Hawkins and Evelyn O'Neill. Lamplighters were June, Evelyn, Susan Carson, Verileia Ellis, Carolyn and Marilyn Atkinson. Others who assisted in the service were Carolyn McCleave, Lellah Clayton and Vairie Holdsworth.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Treau de Coeli of Restaurant Chez Leo attended the annual meeting and election of officers of the Canadian Restaurant Association at Truro, Nova Scotia. After the meeting a banquet was held and entertainment provided by members of Radio Station CKCL, Truro. They were accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Harris of the Sea Food House in Yarmouth.

Miss Fowler Visits Branch

Miss Dorothy Fowler, District Supervisor, V.O.N., is visiting the local association V.O.N. this week and attended the regular monthly meeting of the board on Tuesday. In reviewing the work of the Order in Digby, she noted the nursing visits had decreased during the last year, but educational visits had increased. She felt that when a child was sent home from school because of some infection or other defect it was important that the teacher make referral to the nurse so that contact could be made with the home.

Mrs. Paul Snow, who is carrying on the nursing service since Miss Ellen Murphy's resignation went into effect November 30, reported that 115 home visits were made in November, 63 of which were bedside care. Fifty hours were spent in school and at immunization clinics. Thirty children were treated for minor defects and seven were given vision tests. Thirty-five attended the Well Baby Conferences held for the benefit of mother and child on Friday afternoons.

It was reported by Mrs. J. M. Wallis that the October Bridge and 45's had netted to date $154.85. Mrs. John Russell said that a travelling clock had been purchased by contributions from board members and presented to Miss Murphy as a farewell gift.

The matter of a uniform for relief nurses and clearer understanding about the duties of the car committee were discussed and will be pursued with further detail in January.

Father Amaro, who replaces Father Lewis Comeau on the board, was given a welcome by the president, Rev. E. C. Churchill.

Donation Day Successful

One of the most successful Donation Days was held in November for the Digby General Hospital, it was reported at a meeting of the Hospital Aid, held at the home of Mrs. V. G. Cardoza on Monday evening. It was announced that the doll was won by Paul Newman and the quilt by Elizabeth Cardoza.

The sewing club, under the direction of Mrs. Thomas Sabline, had decided to take over the baby booth for the Hospital Fair and conveners for other booths were mostly all planned, reported the president, Mrs. B. Franklin. Convenership of the fancy work booth still remains unfilled.

It was decided to buy a panel of glass heat for the nursery and among the other things reported having been purchased by the supply committee were lamp shades and blinds for the hospital, new chesterfield and venetian blinds for the nurses' residence. This report was given by Mrs. Cardoza, supply convener.

Arrives From Germany

Passengers from Germany on the Queen Frederica which arrived in Halifax over the weekend were Gnr. LeRoy Hudson, Mrs. Hudson, and baby, Wanda. They were met in Halifax by Mrs. Hudson's mother, Mrs. Clyde Bremner, and sister, Irma Bremner.

They will visit in Digby with their parents for several weeks before Mr. Hudson proceeds to Quebec for an eight weeks course. He will then be joined by Mrs. Hudson and Wanda, to take up residence at Petawawa.

Movie Business

Wins Top Canadian Jewellery Award

L. M. Saunders, well known Digby Jeweller, was awarded first prize in the jewellery division of the 1957 Westclox Week Window Display contest held recently at the Royal York Hotel in Toronto.

Mr. Saunders placed first in the contest which was open to jewellers all across Canada. There were two thousand entries in the contest, which was divided into three sections.

Second prize in the contest went to Fred P. Leach, of Walsenburg, Ontario, and third prize was won by Henry Birks & Sons Ltd., of Yonge Street, Toronto.

Hold Investiture Ceremony

An impressive investiture ceremony was performed on Friday evening when seven former Digby Cubs crossed the imaginary line and new scouts were admitted into the Digby Scout Troop by Scout Master, Gerald Moore. The ceremony took place at the Community Hall in the presence of many parents and friends as the scouts formed the traditional horseshoe and the cubs took up the circle formation with the imaginary line between the two figures. On interview with the press, assistant scout master, Carl Warner, explained that the boys are all insured against broken limbs while actively engaged in scouting and one of the rules is to open and close with the horseshoe formation marking when the insurance is in effect. An especially impressive part of the whole ceremony was the bowed heads of some forty scouts and thirty-five cubs in silent prayer.

Clinton McInnis, in charge of the cubs, was assisted on Friday evening by William DeVries, Among the visitors were Norman Wright, former scout master, now District Commissioner, who took part in the program, and Dr. G. V. Turnbull, also a former leader.

Games displayed to the visitors the mental and physical skill of the scouts and cubs. Refreshments were served at the close of the program.

Forum Opens

Skating at the Digby Forum started Tuesday evening with a good attendance although weather conditions were not the best. Hockey practice preceded skating with the local team going through their paces. It is proposed to have skating every evening for the first week at least if attendance warrants it, and also on Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

Figure skating practice will also take place at a different time when a schedule can be arranged and complete organization of a club can be made. There are prospects of a hockey game possibly some time next week if arrangements can be completed.

D. F. D. ACTIVITIES

The regular meeting of the Department was held last week, when considerable business was transacted in preparation for the annual meeting next month. Reports will be expected from all branches of the Department and all committees, in written form, so that an annual report can be prepared from the information received and copies made up for each member and other interested persons, and the town. Heads of all committees and officers are asked to bear this in mind and have these reports ready.

There will be a meeting of the Ways and Means committee Friday evening (tomorrow night) at 7:30 p.m. There will also be a meeting of the Christmas committee tomorrow night at the same time to make arrangements for the annual Christmas parade, which will be held on December 18th.

All members are reminded that fire practice will be held as usual on Wednesday evening, December 18th, at 8 p.m., when a report on the New Year's committee is to be given and training films will be shown on Christmas fires and their prevention, and extinguishers, a continuation of last month's instruction, with more detail being placed on the actual operation of different types of extinguishers.

Be sure to check all wiring for Christmas lights, extension cords and any other electrical goods for damaged connections, frayed wires, before connecting them for the Christmas season. Use only approved electrical parts and fixtures. Make sure your fuses are not too heavy, that they are the right size, because they are the safety valves which might well prevent a fire.

DEFEAT RESOLUTION ON DEER JACKING

A resolution to have deer jacking in Nova Scotia made legal was soundly defeated at the annual meeting of the Digby County (East) Fish and Game Association here.

In proposing the resolution A. R. Pyne, of Digby, said that if efforts to prohibit this practice were not made more effective then jacking should be made legal. "If the honest hunter who buys his licence and hunts legally is to be fairly treated then the laws regarding jacking must be fully enforced," he said. The way the matter is handled now results in game being conserved for illegal hunters, he stated.

The legal hunter, Mr. Pyne said, must be protected. Local hunters pay not only for their licences but many more dollars in taxes which must be added to the cost of their hunting privilege. Visiting hunters also contribute many dollars for the privilege of hunting here, he said, and they deserve protection against the activities of jackers who are destroying our game resources.

He urged that more game wardens be provided and that they be fully empowered to carry out their duties effectively. "These wardens should be in uniform, he said, and should be given more authority to enforce the laws. If there is no better enforcement than there is at present then the only answer in all fairness to legal hunters is to make jacking legal.

Several speakers stated they were not in favour of making deer jacking legal but were in accord with opinions expressed by Mr. Pyne. One speaker stated the cutting of the bag limit to one deer had resulted only in keeping American hunters out of the province. This effort at conservation, one speaker said, has had no effect at all on the kill by jackers, in fact activities of jackers seemed to have been stepped up this year.

Jack Nichols said present system of using temporary wardens is not effective. He urged permanent wardens be appointed at a sufficient salary to make the job attractive. Charles Balser said he felt wardens should be used in districts away from their own homes to prevent retaliation against them in their own communities.

Mr. Pyne said he knew of cases where there had been apparent retaliation against local wardens or sub-rangers. The meeting finally passed a resolution calling on the provincial government to enforce the law regarding deer jacking through the employment of more effective methods and the use of game wardens with power to prosecute. The resolution also called for the employment of these wardens in districts other than where they are ordinarily resident.

A resolution was also passed asking that the deer season next year have a bag limit of one buck deer only, the dates to remain the same as at present. A change in the date of the rabbit season in order to prevent overlapping of the deer season was also asked. The dates suggested were from December 1st to February 15th. It was felt no extension to the end of February should be made because rabbits breed at that time.

The meeting also asked for a continuance of the present closed season on beaver and moose in Nova Scotia. Opening of the fishing season on April 1st instead of April 16th as at present was requested. No changes were asked in the pheasant and grouse seasons.

The meeting went on record as requesting an open season for the hunting of raccoon with the aid of dogs and lights from September 1st to December 31st. The use of lanterns and flashlights up to three cells in raccoon hunting was requested and the resolution also specified that no rifles were to be used, only shotguns loaded with shot larger than No. 2. It was stated if it was deemed necessary permits should be issued to raccoon hunters at a nominal fee.

Considerable discussion was engendered by the resolution on raccoon hunting with several stating they felt the move would only increase the temptation to jack deer. Arch Ellis stated he felt raccoon hunting could be developed into a real sporting activity that would attract not only local hunters but also visitors. He said raccoons were very plentiful in this district and were doing real damage to other game as well as field crops. He said no hunter who invested in a 'coon hound would use the dog for deer nor would it affect the jacking situation.

Reuben Mervin, President of the association, in reporting on pheasants released in the county last year stated 237 of these birds had been reared on his farm and later released. He said if this project were carried out next year more preparation should be made. He stated he felt some mistakes had been made in the method of releasing the birds but these could be remedied another year. It is little use to raise and release the pheasants if the raccoon are to get them, he said. He said development of raccoon hunting would help remove this menace to small game.

Dr. P. C. Outhouse, reporting for the bird committee, said he felt this area would not support too large a pheasant population. He stated he felt a closed season was not warranted here. Woodcock were on the down grade in the area, he said, and stated he felt the heavy snow in the spring of 1956 had caused a heavy loss. The grouse population is increasing, he said. The open season for grouse should be November, he stated, as this is the time they come out from the deep woods.

A. R. Pyne said fishing had been excellent during the past summer. He said if beaver dam were left alone to hold back water the fishing would be favorably affected.

Fred Mulise was elected chairman of the membership committee and Lewis Frude, Gordon Ellis and Basil Porter were elected a nominating committee to bring in a suggested slate of officers at the January meeting. Irving McKenna and Thomas Cleveland were named as auditors.

Meets Queen

Jeffrey Dillon, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Dillon of Digby, had a thrilling experience while the Queen and Prince Phillip were visiting in Washington.

Jeff, who is employed with the Canadian government service in Washington, received a gold engraved invitation to attend a reception with his wife and two children at the British embassy, given in Her Majesty's honour by the Commonwealth ministers.

In a letter to his aunt, Mrs. C. F. McBride of Digby, Jeff described the occasion. He said it was a real thrill to meet the Queen and Prince Phillip. He said they mixed with the guests at the reception and talked with many of them. Prince Phillip and Jeff's little daughter, Sue, had quite a conversation on two occasions at the party.

In his letter Jeff said the Queen wore a rose colored suit and hat to match. He said she looked very tired from the heavy round of public functions she had attended.

About This and That

You Can Kill By Walking

An angry motorist is a dangerous motorist, warns the Canadian Highway Safety Conference. And, the Conference adds, the inconsiderate pedestrian can create angry motorists by the dozen, without half-trying.

Almost certain to rile the tempers of the drivers he inconveniences is the walker who demands his "rights" while crossing a street, strolling nonchalantly and deliberately through traffic and holding it up when he could get across swiftly. Any one of these angry motorists, temper instead of good sense in control, could proceed to commit suicide. Additional peril is produced by the fact that rudeness is contagious — just as contagious as courtesy.

Certainly, the pedestrian will never consider himself at fault if the angry driver causes a mishap. He will maintain that the driver didn't have to get upset. The tragic fact remains, says CHSC, that the same driver would not have maimed or killed another human being if he had not been antagonized by the rude walker.

The Conference appeals strongly to pedestrians to make safe walking and consideration of others a habit. Antagonizing motorists is a sure way to pointing the finger of catastrophe at some other citizen. Some day, that pedestrian will find himself being pointed at.

Letter to the Editor

Plaster Rock, N. B., Nov. 18, 1957.

Mrs. Wallis, Editor, The Digby Courier, Digby, N. S.
Dear Mrs. Wallis:

As a native of Nova Scotia, I was interested to hear on the news this morning of your election to the presidency of the Nova Scotia Weekly Newspaper Association. I would extend best wishes and congratulations to you.

The radio news also reported that your weekly newspaper association was asking for the privilege of carrying liquor advertisements. It seems to me that all who are interested in the finest citizenship must view such an expressed desire with grave concern.

It would seem reasonable that we should consider the desire for liquor advertising in the light (1) of the purpose of advertising, and (2) the nature of the product advertised.

1. The Purpose of Advertising.
Advertising, it seems to me, has but one primary purpose, namely, to sell the idea or the product, or both the idea and the product. Companies spend money on advertising for but one main purpose — to increase sales.

Therefore, when liquor is advertised, it is for but one primary purpose — to increase sales. When we have liquor advertisements we are promoting the sale of liquor.

Is the promotion of the sale of liquor in the best interests of Nova Scotian and Canadian people?

2. The Nature of the Alcoholic Beverage.
There can be no room for argument as to the fact that beverage alcohol is not like any other drink.

(1) It has an effect on those who take it entirely different from any other drink.

(2) It is a contributing factor (often it appears to be the major factor) in countless car "accidents" involving thousands of killed, crippled, and temporarily hospitalized; in murders; in rapes; crimes of every sort.

(3) The alcohol of the alcoholic beverage is the cause of the fourth most serious disease in Canada, namely, alcoholism (which as a "disease" is unique in this that the individual deliberately takes into his system that which causes such disease).

Is it in the best interests of Canadian people to encourage them to take that which causes so much heartache, crime and broken lives?

Everyone that drinks alcoholic beverages does not become involved in the horrible and terrible tragedies (though most who do become involved did not intend to when they commenced drinking); but is it in the best interests of Canadians to encourage the drinking of that which does cause so many sad casualties?

In the case of alcoholism alone, is it right to encourage the drinking of that which will bring to thousands (it is estimated that there are now 200,000 alcoholics in Canada) the fourth most serious "disease" in our nation?

What right-thinking Canadian could put the consideration of

IN MEMORY OF AN OLD RED HORSE

There is a man in our town
His name I will not tell
But if you read this poem
I think you'll know him well.

He claims to be a licensed guide
The way he blows and brags
The Department of Lands and Forests
Are very slack on whom they hang a tag.

He brags about his deer hunting
He said he had taken a course
But he never brags about the night
He shot the old red horse.

He went back to his camp
One night after dark
He saw a form standing in the road
As big as Noah's Ark.

dollars from liquor advertising ahead of the health, happiness, purity and good citizenship of our people?

Yours sincerely,
Fred W. Gordon.

He jumped out of his car
So he could shoot of course
When he walked over to his deer
He found he had shot a horse.

He staggered onward to the camp
His chin was on his chest
He said to his partner Stan
We're in one hell of a mess.

I shot at what I thought was a deer
But I was mistaken of course
For lying out there by the gate
Was Ansil's old red horse.

For every dog has his day
And I sure ran out of luck
For shooting deer after dark
Will cost me a hundred bucks.

We'll have to make up a story
Or he'll hang us on a peg
We'll tell him it fell through a bridge
And died from a broken leg.

And if they don't believe us
The story I just said
We'll have to tell a better one

And say we found it dead.

Oh why did I ever go hunting
For it has ruined my life
I can't go back to Bear River
And face my loving wife.

My wife said I was crazy
To go jacking deer of course
But I never thought I'd see the day
I'd shoot an old red horse.

The boys will all rib me
I cannot save my face
I wish that horse was in my shoes
And I was in its place.

But I have learned my lesson boys
From now on never fear
That I will shoot an old red horse

Instead of a big buck deer.

Now my story is ending
I've learned my lesson well
I pray the Lord will take all deer
And cast them into hell.

LOBSTER TRAPS LOST AT WESTPORT
Little did the lobster fishermen of Westport dream on Saturday, the day traps were set, that before twenty-four hours passed, gale winds would begin to beat hundreds of traps against the back shore of Brier Island and with continued gales by Tuesday, one would see hundreds of dollars worth of broken traps, buoys and lobster gear. Three or four boats reported a loss of a hundred traps each, and a number more, a loss of eighty. Some fishermen carried no insurance on their traps, so will find it hard to replace their traps. The gale winds caused a great loss to the economy of Westport.

To Conduct Economic Survey

The Clare Board of Trade appointed a committee to study the feasibility of constructing a cold storage plant in Clare and also inaugurated an economic survey of the area at their first meeting of the new term under the presidency of Dr. Julius Comeau of Meteghan. Brian Meagher of the Dept. of Trade & Industries and J. A. Bergasse, field representative of the Economic Services Division of the Dept. of Trade & Industries, were guest speakers of the evening.

A large attendance showed interest in the proposed plan of establishing a cold storage plant in the district. Fish processors and other parties who should be in favor of such a plant were invited to the meeting. Mr. Meagher gave details of the assistance that could be received from both the federal and provincial governments. He answered questions that were given to him by the group during the question period.

Mr. Bergasse gave a brief outline of an economic survey that his department had made in another area and showed the group what benefit could be achieved by such a survey. He asked the co-operation of everyone in assisting in the survey which will commence shortly. This survey has been a topic of interest to the Board of Trade.

The committee to study the cold storage problem was proposed by Dr. Philippe LeBlanc, Little Brook, naming Urban Belliveau, Belliveau's Cove; William LeFort, Weymouth; Bernard Comeau, Saulnierville; and Dr. Julius Comeau. This committee was acceptable to the group. It was given the power to select additional members to assist them in the study if required.

The president, Dr. Comeau, gave an outline to what use the cold storage plant could best serve the area. With a number of fish processing plants in Clare that a cold storage plant would serve, there also would be the agricultural branch, poultry and turkey ranches, and many others. With frozen foods being on the market such foods could possibly be prepared for the market in Clare. He mentioned that one scallop dragger is now operating from this district fishing mainly on Georges Banks and another one will be ready for fishing in several months. It is quite possible that other scallop draggers will be constructed in Clare in the future. This will assist the economic situation in the district by providing jobs for fishermen as well as revenue to the owners.

Scallop draggers use a large quantity of ice and before too many years the smaller draggers will also be using ice to preserve their catch to present fresher fish for the processors.

Best wishes are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cosman who were recently married at Grand Pré. Mr. and Mrs. Cosman will be residing in Weymouth North.

Letter to the Editor
Digby, N. S.,
Dec. 6, 1957.

Dear Editor:

In the last issue of the Courier I read with great interest the very fine Letter from a Reader on the Electric Power transfer. It is a subject that should be well talked over before any action is taken.

As one of the Old Timers I have seen the changes in our lighting and power system and at one time Chairman of the Electric Light Committee. I am naturally very much interested in the matter of this Grid Hook-up. It is a pity we could not develop the Siasboon further ourselves but am afraid that the Interest and Sinking Fund would be beyond our means, and naturally would have to come out of revenue, which would mean an advance in Rates.

As I understand it now, the proposal is to develop all the resources of the River in one job. Now, if we do not need this increase in power immediately, why not borrow to make a reasonable increase in output and as needs arise go on from that.

True, it might cost a bit more than by doing it all at once but by golly it would be our own. The rates we now enjoy and I understand lower ones are coming, are the envy of the surrounding not so fortunate in other sections. Let us all give this thing a darn good airing before we jump.

Yours truly,
Another Reader.

"MAX" SAYS HI!

On a recent trip back from Goose Bay, Richard Journey, of Weymouth, was flying in the cockpit with Max Campbell, formerly of Digby. Max has been one of the men flying to New Delhi, India, to bring back monkeys for polio vaccine and is doing a fine job as pilot on the M.T.A.'s. Obituary

Charles Hudson

The death occurred in Annapolis December 2 of Charles Hudson, age 83.

Mr. Hudson had been in ill health for several months and had just returned from Halifax where he had been receiving treatments. He had lived in Annapolis eight years. Previous to that he lived in New Tusk forty-five years.

Left to mourn are two sons, Elveyn and Arnold, both of Woburn, Mass., and one daughter, Leota (Mrs. Lowe), also of Woburn, Mass.

The remains rested at the Nicholl Funeral Home, Weymouth, until Thursday when funeral services were held at the New Tusk Baptist Church conducted by Rev. A. M. Rogers, assisted by Rev. D. C. Webb. Pallbearers were four nephews of the deceased, Everett, Austin, Earl and Donald Mullen.

Weymouth Has Parking Problem

On Saturday, signs were erected in the business section of the village of Weymouth prohibiting parking on the west side of the main road between the bridge and the Community Theatre. The scarcity of parking space in the village has been a problem which no doubt will be aggravated by this move on the part of the traffic authorities. It is also felt by some to be a drawback to business in the area since people travelling through in a southerly direction, it is thought, will not turn around to find a parking place on the other side of the road, but will continue on to a place where parking facilities are better.

The restricted area previously was just in front of the post office and then only during the periods when the mail truck was due to be there. Interested people are awaiting and considering a solution to the problem.

Saulnierville

(Mrs. Ephie Gaudet) (Held over)

The unexpected weekend storm was not very welcome by Saulnierville fishermen. Gigantic waves broke both traps and buoys set out only a few hours earlier. Many fishermen either were wiped out or suffered heavy losses before they had a chance to haul their traps even once.

Mr. John Jensen, Yarmouth, was here on business Monday.

Mrs. Ephie Gaudet, Georgina Gaudet, also Miss Caroline Hutchings visited Mrs. Elsie Gaudet Sunday evening.

Mrs. Elsie Gaudet, grandson, Wayne Thebeault, and Mr. Charlie Gaudet spent Sunday with Mrs. Gaudet's son, Chesley Gaudet, and Mrs. Gaudet.

Mr. Clarence McGowan visited his sister, Mrs. Ephie Gaudet, recently.

"In the short time I have been on the job, Mr. Mason said, I have not yet got the answer to our deer problem. If the money and time were available the answer could be secured. At present there are two wild life biologists working and we are trying to get more. This matter is complicated by the salary question."

In Nova Scotia, he said, the field of game conservation as a science is new. In the United States it has been operated for nearly a quarter of a century and we would be foolish to disregard the findings there. "There can be no doubt that it is better at any time to have too few deer than too many and we would be foolish to seek legislation that would result in the stockpiling of more deer than the food supply can support. We should go slow on demands that seek to have our deer population returned to the figure it was some years ago, he said."

Mr. Mason said he had asked the Minister of Lands and Forests to set up a division of fish and wild life in his department. I feel, he said, we can look for more effort in this matter. It will be difficult to get sufficient monies as long as there is the pressing need for more hospitals, more schools and more paved roads, however, he said. Many new developments may be looked for within the next year, he said, however.

The whole matter of hunting and fishing has been complicated since World War II, he said. This war taught many youngsters extreme proficiency in the use of firearms and advances in logging, roadbuilding and other technological improvements have removed the hinterland. Today there are thousands more in our woods and on our streams and lakes than ever before and it is a wonder that we can hold the line rather than improve our fish and game resources.

Between 1936 and 1946 there were one-half million deer legally killed in Nova Scotia, he said. The economic value of the game hunting and fishing industry to the Atlantic provinces has been estimated at thirty million dollars annually. Whether we are to have game and fish in the future and whether this industry, if it can be properly termed as such, will continue to play such a big role in our economic life in future years will greatly depend on the work done through such organizations as the Fish and Game Association, he said.

We can be justly proud of where we stand in the matter of wild fowl conservation, he said, and the same results can be obtained with game and fish if we get the same type of co-operation. More money is needed from our licence revenue for the propagation of game, he said. "A lot of people fight hard for conservation while clamouring also for bigger bag limits". There is also a lot of apathy among sportsmen, he said. We must remember that sportsmen account for only some 10 to 12% of our population and we must all work harder to preserve our game resources.

Mrs. Eric Burton has received word that her daughter, Mrs. Henry Hubbard, and grandson, Karl, have arrived safely in Germany where she is going to spend two years with her husband, Gnr. Henry Hubbard.

Digby Board Plans Survey

With the intention of conducting an industrial survey in the Digby area, the Digby Board of Trade made plans for a special dinner meeting in January at the regular meeting of the Board held at the Town Hall on Tuesday evening. It was decided to endeavour to have a guest speaker from the Atlantic Provinces Economic Council and the date was set for January 14. Named on the nominating committee to bring in a slate of officers were Greg, Gilliat, H. M. Warne and Edgar Chan.

A resolution from the Shelburne Board of Trade with respect to further transportation between a Nova Scotia point and the New England States was endorsed.

Included in the correspondence was a letter from the Nova Scotia Fruit Growers Association showing their appreciation and commending the Digby Community Christmas committee for their intention of using apples for Christmas cheer in place of oranges in 1957.

Reports on workshop conducted in Kentville recently by the Chamber of Commerce was given by vice-president, Vincent Snow, and others of the six who attended from Digby. It was reported that a committee including representation from municipalities, farming areas and the Annapolis Valley Boards of Trade was formed to take up the matter of Daylight Saving Time. The consensus of opinion, it was stated, was that the matter should be handled by the provincial government. The statement by Hon. E. A. Manson regarding the non-return of many tourists to Nova Scotia as made at the Kentville meeting was discussed on Tuesday in the light of the report of an increase in tourist revenue in the province. This was accounted for in most part by rising prices in hotel accommodation and other costs.

A discussion on the light and power situation in Digby County was entered into relating to press releases on the possibility of a hydro-electric power development on the Sissiboo River. James Ayer of the Digby County Power Board who was present answered questions which arose during the course of discussion.

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Smith were Sunday visitors in Lockeport.

Little River WMS. Meets

The Little River W.M.S. held their Christmas meeting at the home of Mrs. Bernard Denton, with the president, Mrs. Rupert Trask, presiding.

Mrs. C. T. Olmstead was in charge of the Christmas devotional, taking "The Sign of the Closed Door" as her theme.

Sixteen members were present and offering amounted to $23.03.

The Women's Day of Prayer service was observed as taken from September Tiddings. All members took part by scripture readings or prayer, praying that all women throughout the world who took part might be spiritually blessed and strengthened.

A social hour followed.

BNS Deposits Hit New High

The annual statement of The Bank of Nova Scotia for the year ended October 31 shows that, largely as a result of an upsurge in deposits, total assets reached a new record of $1,355,000,000. The increase in assets of $85,219,000 was the second largest in the bank's 125-year history, being exceeded only in 1955.

Last year the savings of BNS customers rose by more than $33 million, as total BNS deposits climbed to a new high of $1,260,600,000. The increase the previous year was $56 million.

Personal savings during the year rose by $21 million. Another $14 million was transferred from "personal savings" to "other deposits", following a change made in the official classification of deposits in this category. On the basis of last year's classification, therefore, personal savings actually rose by $35 million, a gain of slightly more than 6 per cent. The increase last year, on the same basis, was 4.3 per cent.

The remainder of the Bank's increase in deposits was mostly in currencies other than Canadian.

Loans rose by $73 million, representing mainly the em-

Fill Cards Promptly

With the current Nova Scotia deer hunting season ending Saturday, November 30, the Department of Lands and Forests has requested that all hunters fill out the report cards attached to licenses and return them to the department as soon as possible.

Regulations require returning these cards within seven days of the close of the season, whether or not deer have been killed. If no kill was made it is required to mark "No Kill" on the card before signing and returning it.

The deer report cards are for the purpose of compiling game statistics which enable the department to keep a close check on game conditions throughout the province and to formulate plans which will ensure continued good hunting.

Opening Bospital Successful

Twenty new members were enrolled in the Digby Curling Club through the Recruiting Bospital which opened activities of the club for this season. The bospital was most successful with fourteen rinks taking part. Ten of the rinks were from the Digby club while four were from HMCS Cornwallis. The bospital was in charge of a committee under the chairmanship of E. B. Tufts. Members of the committee were Dr. D. G. Black and Webster Dunn.

The top prize winning rink in the finals of the bospital was skipped by James Ayer and members were Art Robinson, DeMille Raymond and Gordon Deal. This team took home the turkeys which were among the excellent prizes donated by local merchants and business houses to the affair. Runners up for top honours was the team of Commander Fowler, P/O Bailey, A/B Dawson and A/B Campbell.

In the other two divisions of the finals the team of Lt. Roggeveen, CPO Adam, CPO Hanson and P/O Lonnie took top honours in one section with the team of Ted Dakin, Marty Barnes, Ray Graham and George Coles taking runner up position. In the other section of the team of Dr. Black, Harold Nichols, Reigh Jayne and W. V. Troupe took top position with the team of Irving McKenna, Dr. Lewis, Ted Dakin Jr. and S. Whiteway taking the runner up spot.

Prizes in the bospital included four turkeys, four chickens, four electric clocks, four lighters and eight runner up prizes. The prizes were awarded by Digby Curling Club President Aubrey Hawkins, Commander George Geddes, President of the Cornwallis Curling Club, also took part in the presentations.

Girl Guides Entertain Lions

The Digby Girl Guides, under the leadership of Mrs. Estelle Inman, presented a fine program when they entertained members of the Digby Lions' Club and their wives on Tuesday evening.

When extending the welcome Mrs. Inman also thanked the Lions for sponsoring the Guides and for their co-operation and assistance since the group of 24 was organized.

The meeting opened with the formation of the horseshoe, after which Judy Hattie led in prayer and a demonstration of the tenderfoot test was given by Leslie Anderson, Lorna Winchester, Ruth Atkinson, Mayling Chan, Judy Hattie and Wanda VanTassell. These girls were then presented with their badges and welcomed to the Sisterhood of Guides by Mrs. Inman. A demonstration of tracking signs was also given.

A unique comic play was presented when four girls, Elizabeth Cardoza, Judy Hattie, Leslie Anderson and Lorna Winchester represented listeners to a radio program. The broadcasters were Nancy Comeau, Margaret Snow and Nancy Sanford, who revealed most amusing recipes for cooking and other amusing information.

Refreshments were served and the meeting closed with "taps" and a prayer led by Lorraine Patterson.

Truck Overturns

A large transport truck owned by Atlantic Wholesalers Ltd., of Digby, overturned at Conway Monday morning, spilling its load of groceries and heavily damaging the vehicle.

It is understood the driver, Joseph Doucette, lost control of the vehicle when a wheel slipped off the pavement onto the soft shoulder of the road and it turned over.

Donation boxes have been placed in food stores in Digby for donations of food items to help in the job of making up Christmas cheer baskets for the needy this Christmas.

The boxes have been distributed by the Christmas Cheer committee which is composed of representatives of local churches, service clubs and other organizations.

Institute Observes 36th Birthday

On Wednesday afternoon, December 11, members, ex-members and friends gathered at the home of the president, Mrs. D. S. Logan, Smith's Cove, to celebrate the 36th birthday of the Smith's Cove-Jogglin Bridge Women's Institute. The weather was ideal and many were able to attend.

After a short business a program of quiz games and Christmas carols was enjoyed. Letters of congratulations from members who are away were read.

During the refreshment hour Mrs. G. W. Wightman presided over the tea cups. A large birthday cake with 36 candles was wheeled into the living room and cut by Mrs. O. F. Woodman, assisted by Mrs. Edith George.

This birthday party proved to be a success both socially and financially and the executive would like to take this opportunity to thank those who contributed in any way.

Christmas Parade To Valley Towns

The annual Christmas Parade from H.M.C.S. Cornwallis again will provide entertainment and amusement for the children and adults alike in several valley towns close to this naval establishment.

Tuesday the parade, composed of colorful floats, a toy train, the Cornwallis band, clowns and Santa Claus on his sleigh, visited Bridgetown and Annapolis Royal putting on brief displays at the Regional High Schools and at the Annapolis General Hospital.

Digby, Bear River and the surrounding communities were included in the route on Wednesday, while on Thursday the parade will visit Clementsport and the married quarters of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis.

The coordinator of the parade is Lt. D. S. Taylor, D.S.M., R.C.N.

Christmas Party At Cornwallis

Again it will be the "Children's Days" Thursday and Friday at the New Entry Training Establishment when H.M.C.S. Cornwallis clears the gangway for over 1200 children to attend the annual Christmas party.

Held in the Leadership School, which is gaily decorated for this very special occasion, it requires the two afternoons to accommodate all the children of naval and civilian personnel.

Here in this fantasyland atmosphere children will have the opportunity to play various games of skill, receive refreshments at the Crystal Palace and visit the Eskimos in an igloo where ice cream is handed out. And of course the afternoons would not be complete without visits from Santa himself, who will arrive down the chimney loaded with gifts for everyone.

Santa Claus will also visit the children who are absent due to sickness to round out his busy schedule.

Entertains Society

The gaily decorated home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Woodman was the setting for the very delightful Christmas party for the Society of Friends on Friday evening, December 13, with 20 members attending.

Arriving a bit late, a band of travelling troubadours in native costumes serenaded the party from the sunporch with bells, musical instruments and vocal arrangements, after which they entered and took part in the program under the direction of Professor Quiz (Mrs. Davy). Music, games and contests were enjoyed, Miss Mary MacLean was the pianist. To the music of "Here Comes Santa Claus," the charming old fellow (Mrs. Daniels) appeared with a bag full of gifts and a very jolly personality, both of which were distributed liberally, adding much merriment to the occasion.

Committee On Power Plan Appointed

A nine man committee, representing the Digby County Power Board and the municipal councils of Digby and Clare, the town council of Digby and the village commissioners of Weymouth, was appointed here Friday night to meet with the Nova Scotia Power Commission to further discuss proposals to develop the hydro resources of the Sissiboo River.

The committee will report back its findings to the various municipal groups represented. Named to the committee were E. J. Theriault, Digby; E. E. Lewis, Weymouth; Marie Malen, Weymouth; and Basil Belliveau, Clare. Superintendent James Ayer of the Digby County Power Board was also named along with the four members of the power board, H. E. Chisholm, E. M. Turnbull, J. A. Matt and V. F. Melanson.

Formation of the committee arose out of a meeting here Friday evening between the Nova Scotia Power Commission and the municipal councils of Digby and Clare, the town council of Digby and the village commissioners of Weymouth. At this meeting Premier Stanfield, chairman of the power commission, outlined proposals which the commission has for the full development of the Sissiboo river.

Mr. Stanfield said he felt full development of the power resources of the Sissiboo was a job which the commission should properly do because of its magnitude. "It is not our intention, however," he said, "to take over the river without compensation to the Digby County Power Board for its facilities. He suggested an arbitration committee be set up with a representative from the Power Commission, the Digby County Power Board and one chosen by these two to settle on a valuation of the power board's facilities.

Urgency of the development of the Sissiboo, which would entail an expenditure of between six and seven million dollars, was stressed by the premier who said that western Nova Scotia had been threatened with a serious power shortage last fall.

Mr. Stanfield said also the development of the Sissiboo would provide a substantial amount of work in the area. He said this was desirable as things were rather quiet in this section of the province. "I hope this is only a temporary situation," he said. He said he felt if agreement could be reached, work should get underway in the spring. "It is urgent that we get along with it," he said.

Present at the meeting Friday night were representatives of the municipal groups, boards of trade in the county and the general public. Many questions were asked concerning the proposed development.

In answer to a question concerning whether the power commission would go ahead with the development, even if agreement were not reached with the Digby County Power Board, Premier Stanfield said he had never thought of what would happen if the agreement were not reached. "It is so obviously desirable that the development should happen," he said, "that I haven't given thought to what would be done if agreement was not reached."

Questioned concerning the possibility of a long term agreement for a fixed rate for power sales to the Digby power board as part of the consideration for the turning over of the facilities of the Digby County Power Board to the commission, Mr. Stanfield said the commission could enter into no such agreement. He said that, under the Power Commission Act, the commission is required to sell power at cost and any other arrangement would have to be made by an act of the legislature.

Charger Power

"I think we can supply power to you cheaper than you are getting it now," Mr. Stanfield said. In response to a suggestion that consideration should be given the Digby County Power Board for their water rights on the Sissiboo, he said the power board only owned their plants on the river and had no water rights other than those granted by the province.

Appointed Lieutenant Governor

Maj. Gen. Edward Chester Flow, Halifax, has been appointed by Prime Minister Diefenbaker as Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia. He succeeds Hon. Alister Fraser who has held the post since 1952. Major Flow's appointment is effective on January 19th.

The new Lieutenant Governor is now general officer commanding Eastern Command with headquarters at Halifax. He was named to that post September 1, 1956, after a distinguished career as a permanent force army officer in Canada and overseas.

Maj. Gen. Flow is a native of St. Albans, Vermont. He was educated at Lower Canada College and the Royal Military College in Kingston, Ontario.

The new Lieutenant Governor's first appointment to Nova Scotia came in 1957 when he married Mary Lynch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. G. Lynch of Digby. Since that time he has been a frequent visitor to the province although his present army appointment has given him his longest residence here. He has a summer home at Smith's Cove in Digby County.

General Flow has been described as one of the most approachable high-ranking officers to serve in Halifax. He acquired the name "John," and many still call him that, when he was attending military college. It is a custom at Kingston to call students by the first name of an older brother who attended the college. His brother, John, attended HMCS before he did.

Born in St. Albans, Vermont, 23 September 1894, the son of the late John and Hortense Marlow (Lodolin) Flow, General Flow has been a professional soldier for more than 30 years with a long and distinguished career in the Royal Canadian Artillery.

His early education was at the late John and Hortense Marlow (Lodolin) Flow, General Flow has been a professional soldier for more than 30 years with a long and distinguished career in the Royal Canadian Artillery.

Returned to Canada in October 1919, he assumed his present appointment of General Officer Commanding, Eastern Command, in December 1945. He became Commander, British Columbia Area at Vancouver. From 1948-50 he again served in England as the Senior Army Officer of the Canadian Liaison Establishment.

He was soon promoted to command the 8th Army Field Regiment, RCA, and later became Commander Royal Artillery of the 3rd Canadian Division with the rank of Brigadier. During the Italian Campaign, General Flow served in command of artillery of the 1st Canadian Corps, a position he held until he moved to Northwest Europe for the final battles of the war, where he became artillery advisor to the GOC-in-C of the First Canadian Army. He directed the massive artillery assaults of the First Canadian Army until the final surrender in May 1945.

At the conclusion of the war in Europe General Flow served with the Occupational Force in Germany. Returning to Canada in December 1945, he became Commander, British Columbia Area at Vancouver. From 1948-50 he again served in England as the Senior Army Officer of the Canadian Liaison Establishment.

In the seven years General Flow has directed the Army's activities in the four Atlantic Provinces, Eastern Command has become one of the major training areas of the Canadian Army. General Flow has carried considerable responsibility in the development of the multi-million dollar Camp Gagetown, N. B.

He was twice mentioned in dispatches for service in Italy and Northwest Europe during the Second World War and appointed Commander of the Order of Orange Nassau (Netherlands).

In recognition of her many years of service, both to the W.A. and to the church in general, Mrs. Berwick was made a life member of the organization. The presentation of the certificate was made by the honorary president, Mrs. H. Y. MacLean, while Mrs. R. B. Lent, the president, affixed the life membership pin.

Police are investigating theft of a sum of money from the office of the supervisor of the Digby Regional High School.

It is understood the theft occurred Tuesday morning. The supervisor, who was called out of his office after counting out a sum of money, returned to find the money, $73.00, which he had left on his desk, had disappeared.

Police were called in to investigate the disappearance. So far no trace of the missing money has been found.

Proceeds from the annual Christmas supper and sale sponsored by the Digby Baptist Church amounted to $331.75 this year.

ing refreshments were served by Mrs. Sydney Hall and Mrs. Robert Harvey.

Digby Children Santa Visits

A crowd of nearly two thousand and wildly cheering youngsters greeted Santa Claus here yesterday afternoon as he entered the Digby Forum for the annual community Christmas party, sponsored by the merchants, business men, service clubs and other organizations of the Town of Digby.

Santa's appearance at the Forum was preceded by a parade of Christmas floats, decorated cars and clowns from HMCS Cornwallis, headed by the Digby and Cornwallis fire engines, all gaily decorated for the occasion. Santa rode in splendour in his traditional sleigh drawn by his faithful reindeer in the centre of the parade. The parade, before reaching Digby, visited other communities in the area where streets were lined with eager eyed youngsters all shouting their greetings to Santa Claus.

At the Christmas party in the Forum, Santa and his helpers distributed gifts of goodies to all the youngsters. Santa also managed to have a chat with each of the youngsters as they passed him in single file to receive their treats.

Included in the treats which the youngsters received were Nova Scotia dessert apples, bags of Nova Scotia made potato chips and a glass of orangeade. The kiddies also each received a bag of candy. The candy was provided through donations solicited by the Community Christmas Party Committee and bagged by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Digby Branch Canadian Legion. Soft drinks were donated by 7-Up (Maritime) Ltd. of Bridgetown, while the Scottie potato chip firm made a donation of bagged potato chips and the United Fruit Co. Ltd. made a donation of part of the supply of Nova Scotia apples. This year the Nova Scotia fruit was used for the first time at the party, and replaced oranges previously used.

Prior to the distribution of goodies to the youngsters a down band from HMCS Cornwallis, which escorted Santa into the Forum, entertained the youngsters with their antics and by playing jolly Christmas airs. A team of clowns, all dressed in gaily coloured costumes, also brought gales of laughter from the kiddies as they cavorted around the ice and bounced high in the air off the trampoline which was set up on the ice surface of the rink.

Despite the fact the Forum was filled to almost more than capacity with youngsters from pre-school age up for the afternoon's party, the whole affair went off in a most orderly fashion. Members of the 1st Digby Troop of Boy Scouts were on duty for the occasion and helped to keep the youngsters in line as they paraded across the ice to meet Santa and to receive their treats.

Yesterday afternoon's community Christmas party here in Digby was the tenth such annual party provided by the community for the youngsters. The idea of the Christmas party, so far as Nova Scotia is concerned, originated here and for the past ten years Mr. Edgar Chan, of Digby, acted as chairman of the committee which has sponsored the affair. Each year new innovations have been added to the program and for the past several years participation by personnel from HMCS Cornwallis has added much to the occasion.

At a meeting of the community Christmas party committee last week Mr. Chan tendered his resignation because of other commitments. It was accepted with sincere regret by the committee who passed a unanimous motion commending him for the work he had done over the years in organizing and leading the efforts to promote and develop the party. Rev. E. V. MacLean was named to succeed Mr. Chan as chairman of the group.

Gets Promotion

Fred Cookson, a former resident of Digby, who has been sales manager for the Brampton-Henderson Co. Ltd. for Ontario, has recently been promoted to general manager of the company for the province of Ontario.

Mr. Cookson and his wife, the former Edith Morehouse, of Digby, are living in Scarborough, a suburb of Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. Geoffrey D. Journey left on Wednesday for Saint John, N. B., en route to the U.S.A. Mrs. Journey will visit in Virginia and Harrisburg, Penna., before returning home, brought the evening to a close.

O. Wright Re-elected

Ralph O. Wright was re-elected president of the Digby Branch, No. 29, of the Canadian Legion, B.E.S.L., at the annual meeting of the branch here last week.

Other officers elected at the meeting include J. R. Nichols, 1st vice-president; Bryson Denton, 2nd vice-president; Arthur Everett, treasurer; and E. W. Patterson, sergeant-at-arms. The secretary and committee chairman are named by the executive at a later meeting.

Gives Children's Story Naval Twist

The performances of HMCS Cornwallis Concert Company's production "Alice in Wonderland," a musical fantasy in three acts, were extremely well received recently. Styled after an English pantomime, the story was based on Lewis Carroll's famous book, "Alice in Wonderland," and adapted for presentation by Lt. Douglas Payne. The skilful and witty pen of Lt. Payne brought to life the well known characters of the story in an entertaining and complex naval situation.

Imaginative interpretation of the script by the producer, Lt. Henry Sproatt, and the director, Lt. Bill Chaster, presented a show equal to Broadway standards. Polished to perfection, the actors were most convincing in their roles and the audience was completely won over by the characters.

Delightful scenery and colorful costumes were given the additional touch of reality by musical background, which was provided by the band of HMCS Cornwallis under the baton of Commissioned Band Master Tudor Jones.

Principal members of the large cast included Jenny Chastler as Alice, Lt. Dave McMillan as the White Rabbit, Wren Virginia Wood as the Queen of Hearts and Leading Seaman Bud Webster as the King of Hearts.

D. F. D. ACTIVITIES

It is the wish of the Department that everyone will have a very Happy Christmas and one that will not be marred by fire.

Members and equipment from Digby Fire Department met Cornwallis at Conway yesterday noon and escorted the parade with Santa Claus to the hospital where Santa handed out fruit, nuts and other goodies from the local Dept. to the patients. The parade then went through the town and on to the Forum where the party had dinner. This parade is made possible by Cornwallis Naval Base and the cooperation of our Dept.

Winner of the 1955 Volkswagen on the two-in-a-tickets was Mr. Alfred Belliveau, of Church Point. Other winners locally were: Mrs. C. S. Spurr, Annapolis Royal, Frank LaBanc, Commaurville, William McConnell, Wilmet. Tickets are on sale by members of the Fire Dept. for the benefit of the Dept. each month.

Here are some fire precaution tips for the Christmas season: Don't put your tree up too early and do not keep it in a warm place before. After the festivities are over it should not be left up any length of time as it soon dries out and becomes very flammable. Don't forget when you trim the tree to check these lights for defects and make sure they are in good condition. Don't over use sparklers or other flammable ornaments for your decorations on the tree or elsewhere. What about those wrappings from your presents, don't leave them lying around but get rid of them in the incinerator or by some other fire-safe means because they will go up like tinder.

Report From Parliament Hill

That the world is now very small has become a trite saying, but the other morning at a Cabinet meeting I saw a very good illustration of this fact. Then within ten minutes after that, in walked the Minister of Trade and Commerce. The afternoon before I had been talking with him over the phone from London, but during the night he had flown the Atlantic and was back down in the Privy Council Chambers. We read of these matters, take them for granted, but when personal application appears it is always kind of a shock.

In speaking of Cabinet meetings in the morning it is certainly not a figure of speech. Last week the Cabinet met two mornings in succession at 8:30, and the next morning at 9:00 o'clock. These, I understand, are unprecedented in Canada's history. Then the House meets at 11:00 o'clock and sits until 10:00 at night. The only exception is Saturday when the House rises at 6 o'clock. I can understand now why people sometimes complain about the slowness of Government and the fact that letters are not answered as promptly as they would expect. Working under these hours it is virtually impossible for Cabinet Ministers to administer their Departments except in broad outline. Matters of emergency nature are dealt with in a hurry. In free moments, if any, matters which present little difficulty can be resolved. But those which are really difficult, those which require consultation and consideration, are put off "until tomorrow" and "tomorrow" is often a long time in arriving. Of course these are unusual days. When the session opened it was expected that we would be through by Christmas. After all, except for new matters which the Government was bringing in in implementation of election pledges, it was virtually an adjournment of last Spring's Parliament. Now a Christmas prorogation looks more and more remote. Therefore, in an effort to get through by Christmas, which ninety per cent of the members of all parties desire, we have been working under hours which relegate the problems of administration to the background. The Cabinet Minister, sitting as a Member of Cabinet, has to deal with major matters of policy such as tax reductions, extension of housing legislation, unemployment insurance benefits, and many other matters of general concern. The individual problems of his own Department are apt to pile up on him until he wonders when these can be dealt with. Naturally he hopes that session may be concluded by Christmas and then he will have time to deal with the accumulation of the last few weeks. But if it does not conclude by Christmas, at least the Liberals will be very anxious to have everything finished before January 15th when their convention opens. The progress this week will determine which date will be achieved.

In the meantime, there has been some talk in the House of the fact that there was no "budget speech." Those who have indulged in this criticism overlooked the fact that budget changes usually involve increases of taxes as well as decreases. In such cases a budget is constitutionally and properly necessary. But certainly no "budget" is necessary when only taxes are reduced. That was the situation this week.

Altogether it was a very important week, particularly for those in the lower income bracket. Not only were there reductions promised in their taxation next year, but also the changes in the Housing Act will make it possible for people in the lower income group to build homes under the National Housing Act under much more advantageous regulations than have prevailed up to now. These regulations, together with the easier money policy, which has now been adopted, have given a "great shot in the arm" to the building industry across Canada. As a result, the employment picture is much brighter and the seasonal unemployment which always prevails in Canada during the winter months will be less than expected—or perhaps hoped for in certain circles.

In addition, there was placed on the Order Paper a resolution presaging the introduction of a Bill to provide for support prices for agricultural products. Since the Bill has not yet been introduced, I cannot discuss the details of it at this time. Many long hours have been spent in the legislative committee drafting and re-drafting the Bill and it is one which I think will be of real interest and help to the agricultural producers of this country who have for the past two years been facing steadily declining prices for their commodity. At the same time the consumer has been paying more for his goods and as a result, the personnel of a Royal Commission will be announced this week to investigate the reason for the price spread between the price received by the farmers and fishermen for their product, and that paid by the ultimate consumer.

In the meantime, the Honourable Mr. Pearson has left for Oslo to receive the Nobel Prize. He was given a warm and cordial Godspeed by all the Members of the House of Commons Friday afternoon. At the same time the Honourable Paul Martin is touring Western Canada testing the political climate insofar as his own candidature for the Liberal leadership is concerned. Although he has made no announcement, there can be little doubt that he intends to contest the convention. Certainly it would appear that Mr. Pearson has the odds on favourite, but even at that it could develop into a very interesting contest. Moreover, there is always the possibility of a third party entering the field and under certain circumstances, it would be fairly easy to choose a compromise candidate between the two. However, that is for the Liberal convention to decide and I should not be kibitzing from the sidelines.

Letter to the Editor

December 5, 1957

The Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.

Kentville, N. S.

Mr. Editor:

I am informed a bulletin has been issued by the D. A. Railway announcing the removal of passenger coaches from the fast freight trains. The removal of coaches from trains will, in many cases, cause inconvenience and hardships for the travelling public. The day liners will be the only rail passenger service we will have West of Kentville, with the exception of Fridays and Sundays. There will be no passenger service on Saturday nights either out of Halifax or Yarmouth. C.N.R. trains arriving in Halifax during the evening will not make passenger rail connections with the Valley. Passengers travelling by C.N.R. in the past were, in many cases, able to make arrangements to transfer to the Fast Freight at Windsor Junction. They now will be required to stay over night at Halifax. The C.P.R. have been talking of improved passenger service. This is improvement in reverse.

If my memory serves me correctly, the Fast Freight service came into being in the fall of 1919. Since that time there has always been a passenger accommodation service, and for a long time Sleeping Car Service. The Sleeping Cars did not pay. Their removal was understandable, but the excuse for removing the passenger coaches is most ridiculous. They have no passenger coaches! The coaches on this run are so outdated they are not suitable to run anywhere except on mixed passenger and freight trains.

Since 1919 we have lost a number of rail services. At that time, trains 96 and 97 ran through to Annapolis Royal and had a Mail Car attached. We had two trains operating between Windsor and Truro, each way, connecting with the incoming Maritime Express at Truro. The Blueshoe and New Yorker in the summer. Our progress has been steadily backward.

We are now down to one Dayliner, each way, between Halifax and Yarmouth, and they now intend to remove the passenger coach from the Fast Freight. The train is still going to run, but they can't operate passenger service due to shortage of coaches. That excuse should take first prize. It is an insult to the intelligence of the public.

Funeral services were conducted Monday afternoon at two o'clock from the Ramsay Funeral Home, by the Rev. James Brooks. Interment was in the United Church cemetery.

Samuel William Hutchings, one of Digby County's oldest citizens, retired farmer Samuel William Hutchings, passed away at Digby General Hospital Sunday following a lengthy illness. He was 90.

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Hutchings, he is survived by his widow, the former Jane Sabean; two brothers, William and George, Rossaway; and one sister, Mrs. Mary Brooks, Weymouth. A son, Gladstone, was the victim of a drowning accident 17 years ago.

The remains rested at Ramsay's Funeral Home, Digby, until 2 p.m. Tuesday when the funeral took place from the Baptist Church, Rev. A. D. Lindsay officiating. Interment was in the family plot, Rossaway.

Although Christmas is the celebration of the birth of Jesus, the roots of the observance go deeply into the folklore of the Druids, Scandinavians, Romans and Egyptians.

The Christmas seal has become an annual institution and offers at the Christmas season an opportunity for rich and poor alike to help in the fight against an ancient enemy — Tuberculosis.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

The street festivals of Italy and Spain had fire works at Christmastime. America now has illuminated community trees. In some places, fireworks still persist.

The hanging-up of the mistletoe and the burning of the Yule log are two of the most ancient customs which come from our pagan ancestors.

"A Little Child Shall Lead Them"

By LEWIS MILLIGAN

Coming down town this morning on the bus I sat beside a young mother and her little child, a girl of about three years who chattered to me delightedly about the prospect of a visit to Santa Claus at one of the big stores in the city. Most of what she said or was trying to say was incoherent, for she spoke so fast in her eagerness to give expression to the wonder of the occasion.

Wonder is the first reaction of the infant mind to the new world in which it finds itself. It is the dawn of consciousness and individuality. Plato claimed that all acquired knowledge was a form of memory, reminiscence of a pre-existence, and Wordsworth expressed the same idea in the lines:

"Not in entire forgetfulness... But trailing clouds of glory do we come From God, who is our home," and he added, "Heaven lies about us in our infancy!"

To those very learned psychologists, who would disillusion the child mind of the reality of Santa Claus and his fairy train, that little child on the bus had been cruelly deceived by its parents. They would inform it that Christmas Day is just another 25th day of December, that all the display of mechanical toys in shop windows and the general decorative household preparations for the Festive Season are so much fantastic make-believe.

But what would be more cruel than to rob that child of the delight at finding itself actually in fairyland? You don't have to make a child believe in fairies. Christmas merely confirms its natal assumption that we are all fairies. That little girl took it for granted that I was as much interested in Santa Claus as she was. She was unaware that my mind was full of what I had just been reading in the newspaper. About crimes and fatalities, local, national and international politics, the latest scientific developments of atomic energy, war-headed guided missiles and rockets that can defy the law of gravitation and climb to the moon.

As I listened to that child telling me about the fanciful world in which she lived, it occurred to me that it was not as fantastic as the real world in which I was living. I nestled closer to the little one in the hope that I might catch some of the infection of the Christmas spirit that can transform this real world — if only for a brief season — into the fairyland of Santa Claus.

Gift To Museum

Mrs. Wilfred Robbins, Roseway, donated a large German Bible to the Mayor of Lunenburg, Mr. R. M. Whynacht, for the museum in that town.

Last week Mrs. Robbins received a letter from Mr. Whynacht acknowledging it with much appreciation and thanks.

They are having a new Fisheries Exhibition and Community Building constructed and a room in the building will be devoted to museum pieces, where, he said, "the German Bible will have an honoured place."

This Bible belonged to Mrs. Robbins' great grandmother. She does not remember her name, but her paternal grandparents were Joseph and Elizabeth Uhlman Feindel, who died in her father's infancy. Mrs. Robbins' father, Mr. William Henry Feindel was born in Upper Chelsea, Lunenburg Co., but lived his married life at Clyde River, Shelburne Co., where Mrs. Robbins was born over seventy-eight years ago.

Mr. J. W. Saunders, of the Lunenburg Foundry & Engineering Ltd., conveyed the old Bible to its destination at Lunenburg.

Mr. Ralph Tower was in Kentville on business Monday.

St. Peter's Parish choir practice will be held at the home of Mrs. Gordon Campbell at 7:30 p.m. Friday evening.

Extra Trains At Christmas

Extra equipment on trains in the Atlantic region will be available to handle an expected heavy increase in passenger traffic over the Christmas and New Year holiday season, the Canadian National Railway's passenger department said in Moncton.

Additional cars will be added to such trains as the Ocean Limited between Maritime points and Montreal, and local trains also will be enlarged to handle the traffic.

Mr. G. Stiven, CNR general passenger agent, advised that reservations for sleeping car space are already being rapidly bought up, and those intending to travel during the holiday period should make arrangements as soon as possible. Peak traffic is expected to commence December 20 and run right through until the 28th.

Tip to motorists: Watch out for school kids — they weren't brought up to be run down.

Scandal is one thing that never gets shop worn by being continually passed around.

The optimist sees things as they should be — not as they are.

Navy Selects Boxing Coach

It was announced recently that Lt. Cmdr. (E.) J. F. Macintosh, RCN, was the Navy's choice to the C.A.A.U. as boxing coach for the team going to the British Empire Games. The president announced the selection would be made in the very near future.

A Haligonian, Frank Mackintosh is well known locally and also in Montreal and on the West Coast where he has of late coached boxing for many years.

In 1956 boxing fans will remember that he coached Bob Hensen and Ray Shanks to Dominion titles in Regina, Sask.

Lt. Cmdr. Mackintosh is presently serving in HMCS Cornwallis.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Madam:
I have read recently editorial comment in some of the weekly papers of this province — thank goodness, not yours — to the effect that titles should be restored in Canada.

To my mind this business of restoring titles is something the Canadian people should resist with every effort. Surely, we have enough snobs already without deliberately going out of our way to create an artificial caste system to further promote snobbery in Canada.

Some of the proponents of the idea of the re-introduction of titles in Canada stress these should be awarded only on merit and be absolutely non-political and free of a price tag. Thoughts like these are alright for fuzzy minded dwellers in never-never land but surely anyone who is realistic at all knows that political favoritism and other such considerations would be at work within only a very short time after any action to restore titles was taken.

It seems to me that Canadians have no need at all for the use of artificial titles to remind their neighbours of their worth. In the world today the title "Canadian" has come to be respected and held in high regard. In Canada we have a nation where a man can, if he has the will to do so, win for himself position, fame and fortune, and the respect of his fellow men. Surely, the addition of a system of titles conferred on a selected group of Canadians arbitrarily selected by someone, somewhere, will contribute nothing worthwhile to this country.

No, Madam Editor, I feel that we should let those in authority know that we want no Sir Francis Tiddleywinks or Lord and Lady Plushbottoms in this country. Instead of being urged to interest itself about things like this our government should rather be urged to interest itself in the adverse economic situation that seems to be developing.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

To Aid Needy

United Church of Canada congregations across Canada will this month be asked to give half a million dollars to aid the needy in Canada and overseas.

The half million dollar gift is part of a $6,000,000 goal of The United Church's Missionary and Maintenance Fund which finances the church's own projects at home and overseas.

The half million dollars is to be a special Christmas gift for charitable projects for the needy. Part of the money will go, along with similar contributions from other denominations, into a multi-million dollar program of relief and rehabilitation work and aid to refugees in many countries which is supervised by trained personnel of the World Council of Churches. Part will be used for the care of orphans and of elderly people, and for medical and hospital services which The United Church provides in frontier areas of Canada and in the several countries in which it has medical missionaries.

Rev. H. E. D. Ashford, D.D., head of the Church's M. & M. Fund, is optimistic about not only the $500,000, but the total goal of $6,000,000.

the Church I have felt a deepening of interest in the church's mission," he said recently. "It isn't enough to build new churches, however much they are needed. We must never lose sight of our responsibility for caring for the poor, relieving the plight of the needy, the aged and the newcomer. The church should stand in the forefront of all charitable activities such as aid for the sick and the troubled."

Every United Church minister will be asked to spearhead local drives for the half million dollars before Christmas.

Marriage

Nichols — Houghton

The marriage of Miss Kathleen-Jane McKean Houghton and Mr. John Richard Nichols was solemnized on Saturday afternoon at three o'clock in All Saints Anglican Church, Laurier Avenue East, Ottawa.

The bride is the daughter of Rear Admiral and Mrs. Frank Llewellyn Houghton of Ottawa and Mr. Nichols is the son of Dr. Roberta Bond Nichols of Halifax, and the late Dr. E. W. Nichols.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. John L. Duncan and traditional wedding music was played by Mr. D. B. Sutherland. Autumn colored chrysanthemums decorated the altar and standards of chrysanthemums and ferns banked the chancel steps.

Rear Admiral Houghton gave his daughter in marriage and Mrs. W. C. Firth of St. Catharines was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Mrs. David F. Williamson of Vancouver; Mrs. John F. Howard and Mrs. J. Kerr Gibson of Toronto and Mrs. M. D. MacDonald of Halifax.

Mr. Michael MacDonald of Halifax was best man and the ushers were Mr. Robert Hart Nichols of Halifax; Mr. Michael L. Houghton of Edmonton; Mr. Charles Mackenzie and Mr. Geo. McG. Mitchell of Toronto; Mr. William C. Firth of St. Catharines and Mr. A. Kenneth MacLaren.

For her wedding the bride chose a floor length gown of pure silk French brocade in a deep ivory shade, modelled on princess lines with a portrait neckline and long fitted sleeves. The gown was buttoned in front from the neckline to the hem and the bell-shaped skirt was styled with a bustle at the back and extended into a chapel train.

She wore an heirloom veil of rosepoint lace over a billowing veil of silk illusion which extended beyond the hem of the gown. She carried a bouquet of frenched carnations centred with a white orchid.

Her attendants were gowned alike in waltz length frocks of Italian silk taffeta in shades of autumn brown copper and rose beige. They wore matching headresses and shoes and carried bouquets of chrysanthemums in autumn tones to contrast with their dresses.

The bride's mother wore a dress of Dresden green taffeta and lace fashioned with fullness at the back of the skirt. She wore a matching head-bugget hat and her corsage bouquet was of deep pink roses.

The bridegroom's mother chose a dark green sheath dress of fine French wool with a model hat of pheasant feathers and mink stole. She wore a bronze orchid in corsage.

The reception was held at the Country Club where the toast to the bride was proposed by Rear Admiral K. L. Dyer. The bride used her father's sword to cut the wedding cake.

Later the newlyweds left for the Seignior Club en route to New York and Nassau. They will reside in Digby N. S.

To travel Mrs. Nichols wore a tweed suit in avocado green with a matching coat, black hat and black patent leather accessories.

WAITING

When man is born, he gets a weight Of standard pounds, and ounces. Then starts right in to wait, and wait. 'Til death upon him pounces.

He waits for mother, nurse, or maid To come and bring him food. He has to wait to walk and talk And learn just what is good.

He waits to grow and be a man And play a many part. He waits, until a bit of fluff Blows by and takes his heart.

He needs must wait for harvest time To gather in the crop. To learn will wheat be free from rust Or will the corn ears flop.

The world is full of waiting rooms Of every style and measure. In which he waits with other men For sorrow, or for pleasure.

The hardest, oh! well that is when He has some good cigars. And waits to hear his miniature Broadcast to beat the cars.

Now I could name a thousand waits Explaining every one. But you could never wait — my friend Until my song was done.

Sufficient then to say He waits for Rabbi, Priest, or Quaker. But in the end he never waits To greet the undertaker.

Tag-a-long.

THEY FOLLOWED THE GLEAM

A star hung low in an eastern sky, On a night in the long ago, And Wise Men followed that beck'ning gleam— Pressed onward, with hearts aglow; For the star proclaimed to a weary world The truth of a seer's dream; And it led aright to the infant Christ Whom they worshipped with joy supreme.

Temperance Notes

Published by the Order of the Sons of Temperance

"During the past years we have, through the kindness of the various publishers, been enabled to furnish weekly Temperance Notes to the readers of a number of newspapers. We thank them for the space they have given."

In these notes we have endeavored to give the readers in a fair and reasonable way, some of the facts as to the effects of beverage alcohol and the reasons for total abstinence as given by various authorities, the author's name being given in most cases.

These facts endorse our historic position:

That total abstinence is the only safe rule of conduct.

That while science can tell if you are allergic to certain diseases, there is no known test as to whether you are allergic to alcohol or not, and the risk is too great to use it.

That if no beverage alcohol were used there would be no alcoholics.

That the increase of crimes, domestic troubles, highway accidents and similar events in which liquor is shown to be a contributory cause, show that its use and effects are a source of national weakness.

That it is the enemy within, which has weakened all nations, rather than the enemy without.

That total abstinence from the use of intoxicating liquors on the part of all citizens, would tend in a great measure to make this Christmas Season more of a time of peace and gladness, and a more fitting observance of the day which we commemorate as the anniversary of the birth of our Saviour.

The Order of the Sons of Temperance wishes all readers a Very Merry Christmas, and observed as was said of Scrooge in the last part of Dickens' immortal "Christmas Carol":

"He had no further intercourse with spirits, but lived upon the total abstinence principle ever afterwards, and it

A Thought Starter

Rev. Donald C. MacCormack, West End Baptist Church, Halifax, N. S.

LIFE AT CHRISTMAS

The instinct of self preservation is strong. Every normal person wants to live, and fights to survive. Often however, life is a word we use, without realizing a fraction of its meaning. Some who think they are living to the full, haven't yet started to possess life in abundance. Life is more than breathing; more than plodding from day to day. It is more than a moment of fun, or the gratification of some greedy desire.

God is alive and He has promised a new kind of life to those who trust the living Saviour. Here, indeed, is Eternal Life, a gift and a reality. Eternity is forever, and it is not beyond our reach.

This speaks of the vast length of bliss available to those who will accept the key. That key is Jesus who came "That we might have life and have it more abundantly." This gift He came to bring. Here is the greatest Christmas gift of all time, personally delivered by the Son of God.

Life promised in the Bible is not only long, but it has a special quality. This Heavenly gift is of a variety unknown in this world of evil and of perishing moments. People are quality conscious. They want the best and go after it. We want a quality life, one that is unaffected by hatred, by failure and by fear. Every person can have a life which sparkles with love, with beauty, with kindness and with forgiveness.

The better life is a gift from God. The key of faith will unlock this door to a golden tomorrow. This precious gift will not be found under a Christmas tree, but only at the Cross.

Witnesses Meet At Bridgetown

The Western congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses concluded their three-day convention at the Memorial Community Centre in Bridgetown, December 8th.

The convention opened Friday evening with Mr. A. MacNamara, District Supervisor from Toronto, using as his opening address, the convention theme, "Qualified to Teach". He pointed out that "We are here to become qualified to teach. The key is to hear as much as possible, and when we return to our assignments use the things we have learned." The remainder of the evening program presented model classes in public speaking and ministry development.

Talks were given on Bible subjects by J. Aldred, Yarmouth; G. Parker, Melanson; E. Barkhouse, Windsor; and on ministry development by J. Federchuk, Circuit Supervisor; T. Holmes, Digby; G. McHarg, Annapolis Royal.

The highlight of the Saturday sessions was the talk "Dedication and Baptism" by A. MacNamara, after which 16 new ministers symbolized their dedication to the service of Jehovah God by water immersion. The evening program was devoted to practical demonstrations on developing public preaching.

The three-day convention reached its climax on Sunday when Mr. Arnold MacNamara, District Supervisor, spoke to an audience of 344 on the timely subject "What are the prospects for lasting peace?"

The convention came to a close with scriptural counsel from A. Rosen and J. Federchuk, followed by Mr. MacNamara's concluding remarks on "Accepting responsibility in the new world society" and thus becoming qualified to teach.

Games For All Make Christmas Family Party

Christmas is the time for family get-togethers. One of the best ways to make these gatherings memorable for all concerned is to engage in games which the whole group can play.

A nice one to start off with would be a Sugar Plum Hunt. Have one member of the family hide Christmas candies ahead of time in various nooks and corners around the house. At a given signal everyone starts hunting and gathering the pieces. The one who gathers the greatest number would be given a prize.

The Christmas Puzzle is another good one to get things going. Look through some magazines, which are filled with pictures of Santa Claus at this time of year. Cut out enough of these to go around, paste them on stiff cardboard, and cut them into pieces. Then put each group of pieces in a separate paper bag. At the signal, everyone opens a bag and starts putting the puzzle together.

The Christmas Scramble Contest is good for a group with older children in it. This is simply a contest to see who can unscramble a group of words the fastest. Just for fun, see if you can work out the following — astna, erfreden, chsgll, dynea, gosklnet, erte, trefespa, hupne, alsorc, and niborb.

Urge Cold Storage Plant

A study to investigate the possibilities and feasibility of a cold storage plant for the District of Clare has been inaugurated by the Clare Board of Trade, it has been learned here. A committee, headed by Urbain Belliveau, to continue the study, has been named. Members are William LeForte and Bernadin Comeau. The Trade Board President, Dr. Julius Comeau, will also serve on the committee.

An economic survey of Clare will also be undertaken under the guidance of J. A. Bergasse of the Economics Service Division of the Department of Trade and Industry, it was reported at the meeting.

Present at the meeting was Brian Meagher, of the Provincial Department of Trade and Industry, who explained what assistance was available from both provincial and federal sources in the construction of a cold storage plant.

Quaint Rehearsal Of Christ's Birth Found In Carol

"Auld Lang Syne" has become such an integral part of our modern New Year's eve that no celebration, however gay, would be complete without it.

The music sheets for those nostalgic strains simply say "Robert Burns — Scotch Airs," and Robert Burns generally is supposed to have written it after he had settled down on a farm and taken himself a wife, following the sweeping success in 1778 of the second edition of his "Poems." Well and good, but Auld Lang Syne was not exclusively a Burns product, nor did he claim it to be.

In a letter to George Thompson, a publisher, Burns explained:

"It is an old song of olden times, which has never been in print. I took it down from an old man's singing."

Modern scholarship has discovered that Burns was wrong when he told Thompson "Auld Lang Syne" never had been in print. Its refrain, at least, was printed obscurely long before Burns heard his "old man singing."

Further, the original song of ten has been credited to Sir Robert Aytoun (1570-1638). Aytoun was one of the earliest Scots to use the lowland dialect as a literary medium. Multitudes of Americans descended from non-British stock are perpetually mystified by this dialect, nor does it seem to make much sense in the standard English translation.

Regardless of its original author and origin, it was Burns who gave "Auld Lang Syne" its immortality. And though the bells now welcome the New Year with joyous peals, symbolizing mankind's hope for a bright future, the nostalgist of "Auld Lang Syne" summarizes an adherent reluctance to leave the security and friendship of the past and embark upon a future which, however promising, may not be more pleasant. Thus, it remains a part of the English speaking heritage to "Drink a cup of kindness yet For Auld Lang Syne."

BRIGHT DISPLAY . . . Long noted for its pleasing Christmas decorations, Chicago's Merchandise Mart, which boasts more floor space than any other structure in the world, presented this gala Christmas greeting to the people of Chicago.

Observance Grew With Christianity

The observance of Christmas as we know it today is one of joy and peace, making it difficult for us to realize that the holiday has not always been universally recognized and observed.

When Pope Gregory sent out missionaries in 601 A. D., he told them to let pagan converts weave the harmless features of their festivals into the spiritual fabric of Christmas observance.

The popularity of the Christmas observance grew with the progress of Christianity, but there were setbacks. Abuses of Christmas reached such a pitch in feudal England that the Puritan Parliament outlawed the holiday in 1644. The observance declined until the middle of the 19th century when Charles Dickens published his heart-warming "Christmas Carol."

TRUE CHRISTMAS CAROL

Charles Wesley, a Methodist minister England wrote "Hark, the Herald Angels Sing" on a Christmas morning. The brother of John Wesley, founder of Methodism, was inspired by the pealing of church bells when he penned the famous carol.

Grandfather Frost Is Russian Santa

Christmas in Russia? Behind the Iron Curtain it's Grandfather Frost who delights the children.

Grandfather Frost (really an actor from the Moscow stage) was revived by the Russians two years ago. Through most of the month of January thousands of Russian children dance around a fir tree in St. George's Hall and may shake hands with Grandfather Frost, the Russian Santa Claus.

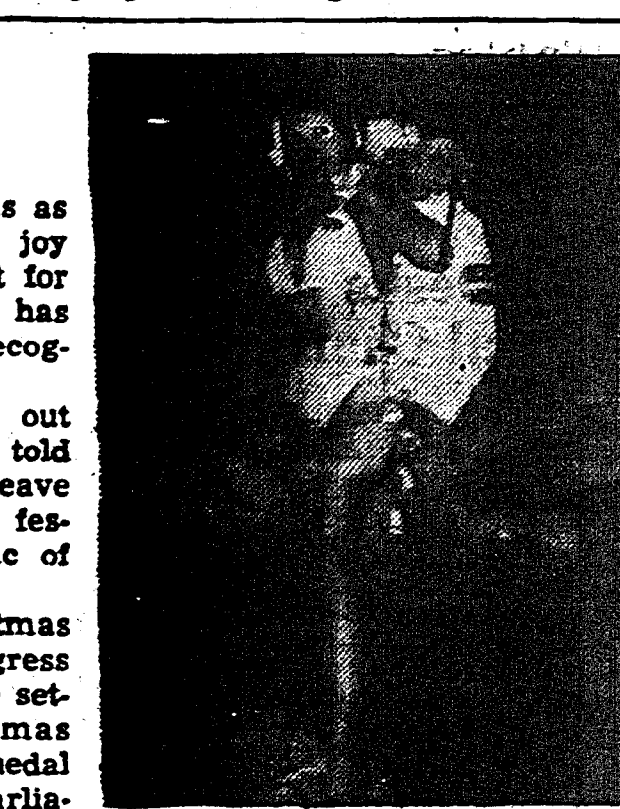

Grandfather Frost entertains the children with the aid of singers, dancers and variety artists from the theaters. Last year, for the first time, American correspondents were admitted to the Kremlin to see one of the gatherings.

SAVE THE TREE

If your tree holder is the type that allows the butt of the tree to rest in water, you can help keep needles from dropping by dissolving plant food in the water. If you use a pebble or rock-filled pail to support the tree, cover the pebbles or rock with a plant food solution.

Use one teaspoonful of plant food (or one plant food tablet) to each gallon of water in the container.

There are Scandinavian, French and ancient Egyptian legends which claim to have one of the Christmas trees to the 1605.

GUESS WHO . . . Everybody is impersonating Santa or Mrs. Santa these days. Here Hilda Estévez gives her impersonation of Mrs. Santa Claus—and while it may not resemble a reasonable facsimile, the gift-laden sack on Hilda's back may give a vague clue.

For Better

Her knees were shaky as she wondered what she would say when her mother saw the dress wrapped with such finality. It's for her own good, she told herself firmly. In a week or two she'll realize it's best.

When she heard the front door open and close, she ran downstairs to meet her mother. "Hi," she said, quelling her feeling of nervousness.

Her mother glanced at her anxiously. Her dark brown eyes darted around the room, looking to see if Marge had brought the dress downstairs. Then the expectant look changed to a questioning one. "Didn't you like the dress?"

The question was so humble and so blunt, Marge was startled. "Yes, it's beautiful, but—" "I knew you'd like it. Have you had it on yet?"

"No, I haven't."

"It will fit, I'm sure," her mother's voice dwindled off. The brightness in her face seemed to fade all at once. "What's the matter?"

"It's so expensive. I wanted you to get a coat for yourself."

"Oh, is that all. This old thing will last quite a while. While I was in the store I said to myself, 'There's nothing like my old maroon coat.' I didn't see anything I liked better so what was the use of buying a new one?" she chirped.

Her Secret

Marge knew she'd never tell her parents how she felt about their gifts. In a few years I'll be earning money and I can pay them back, but now I'll just take what they offer, she decided, feeling defeated.

"Your father's coming. Go put on the dress and show him how pretty you are," her mother said excitedly.

When she came downstairs they were waiting for her. Clutched in her father's arms was a box which she knew contained something for her. In their eyes were love, pride, and happiness mixed with a satisfied touch of martyrdom.

She had to swallow to keep her face pretty and composed, for what they really wanted most of all was a pretty and popular daughter. That was all they would allow her to give.

Christmas giving in England dates from the reign of Henry VII when Christmas boxes and New Year gifts were a common enactment of royalty from their subjects.

APPOINT COMMITTEE

Regarding a suggestion that the province should provide financing through a bond issue guarantee to enable the Digby County Board to go ahead with the proposed development itself, Mr. Stanfield said the province would have no authority to do this and it would be contrary to existing legislation. To do such a thing, he said, would mean going back and opening up agreements made with other groups elsewhere.

Morley Taylor, chairman of the Power Commission, said he felt there should be no problem regarding rates for power sold from the proposed development to the Digby County Power Board. "I feel," he said, "that the proposed development will instead benefit the rate." He said present rates on power sold by the Commission to Lunenburg, Bridgewater and other centres were lower than those charged in Digby County. "Had these rates been in effect in Digby County last year, he said, there would have been a saving of $50,000."

Existing rates of the Power Commission in western Nova Scotia can be continued for some time, Mr. Taylor said, and stated he was satisfied there would be no increase in rates for some years ahead.

Explaining the plan of the Commission to develop the Sissiboo River, Mr. Taylor said, "this plan contemplates a series of three to five generating plants on the river. A number of plans have been under study and these have been narrowed down to three. The final decision will be to adopt the plan which assures the largest amount of power development at the lowest cost, no matter which plan is adopted, it will not change the broad aspect of the power scheme.

Outlines Three Proposals

Gordon Mader, chief engineer of the Commission, explained in detail, with the aid of maps, the three plans now under study. He said a total of 107,000, 000 kilowatt hours could be developed with one of the schemes. One plan would produce an estimated 95 million. This plan would call for diversion of water and would mean a loss of some fifty square miles of storage but would require a possible smaller outlay than the other two proposals. Mr. Mader and Mr. Taylor both stated the matter of which of the plans would be adopted would be finalized within the next two weeks.

Mr. Taylor said that if agreement could be reached soon with the Digby group construction would commence in the spring and it would be the plan to have the first stage operating by late 1959.

About This and That

Christmas Greetings!

The Digby Courier extends to all its readers greetings at this happy season of Christmas time.

Christmas in 1957 sees the world still in a state of fear and unrest and to many there will arise doubts. Many will wonder who can be truly happy in a world of confusion such as the one in which we live. For these, we say Christmas was especially designed and we continue to send greetings of happiness.

Christmas is more than just another season. At Christmas time we remember the Christ-Child and rejoice in his birth. Christmas dispels doubts and fears for the Christ-Child whom we remember came as the Prince of Peace. He came to bring peace to all the world.

Christ came into the world to bring peace to the nations. By prayer and work we hasten His peace among men. He came to bring peace to families in the nation. By recognizing the Prince of Peace as the important figure in the home, happiness and peace will reign within. Peace comes to each individual as he fully grasps the true meaning of Christmas and lives a life full of that meaning throughout the year.

These are the secrets of happiness at Christmas time. These are the wishes of happiness extended to our readers for now and through the coming year.

Vandals At Work

The Christmas season was somewhat marred for a number of householders here last week when vandals took it upon themselves to steal coloured lights used to decorate homes.

It is understood one home where a real effort had been made to give a festive air to the house by the profuse use of coloured lights was badly hit by the vandals who cleaned the bulbs out almost completely.

Reports of similar acts of vandalism with respect to outdoor Christmas lights have also been received, it is understood.

The Ladies' Hospital Aid will hold their monthly business meeting on Monday evening, January 6th, at the home of Mrs. James Ayer.

BACKACHE May be Warning

Backache is often caused by lax kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, waste acids and poisons remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest or that tired-out and heavy-headed feeling may soon follow. That's the time to take Dadd's Kidney Pills. Dadd's stimulates the kidneys to normal action. CHRISTMAS In The Churches

Digby & Bay View United

Rev. L. R. Atkinson, Bay View, was guest speaker at Grace United Church on Sunday morning basing his Christmas sermon on the 35th chapter of Isaiah 1-4. He remarked on the customary reading of the Christmas story without noting the significance of history as it led up to Christ's birth. Although the people had looked for a saviour to come to the world for hundreds of years, yet when he arrived he was rejected by many and accepted by some. The offence of Bethlehem is still high, Mr. Atkinson said, in society at large and in the business world. There are still the Pharisees and the Herods and those who are guilty of backsliding.

The choir sang the anthem, "In the Starlight," by Bruce Carleton and a male quartette, "O Holy Night," was sung by Elton Arnold, Furber Marshall, Norman Wright and Dr. D. G. Black.

A hymnary was presented to the church by the Earn and Give Club in memory of Mrs. Annie Jefferson.

Rev. Mr. Atkinson was the speaker at the United Church, Bay View, on Sunday afternoon when he took as his subject, "Put Christ Back Into Christmas." He said we so often fail to use Christmas as the opportunity God gave to mankind to know His love and we follow the way of the Herods instead of listening to the Word of God.

The choir of Grace United Church sang the anthem "Come, Like the Shepherds" in which Dr. D. G. Black took the solo parts and the quartette again sang.

The evening service at Grace United took the form of a carol sing and special music was rendered by the choir with solo parts taken by Dr. Black and Norman Wright. Miss Constance Kirkpatrick presided at the organ for the three services.

Rev. James Brooks took as his subject "What Is It All About?" for his evening discourse. He said that Christmas time was a time to evaluate afresh God's great gift to the world. At Christmas time, he said, we celebrate an event, we think of a revelation and we proclaim the gospel or good news.

At the close of the evening service the choir was entertained at the home of Rev. and Mrs. James Brooks when gifts were presented on behalf of the choir to Miss Kirkpatrick and to Elton Arnold, choir leader.

Digby & Hill Grove Baptist

A beautiful Christmas cantata featured the evening service Sunday at the Digby Baptist Church. Titled "The Chorus in the Skies," the general setting of the cantata was around the familiar Christmas carols and the scripture story.

Solo numbers were presented by Paul Snow, Mrs. Shirley Clayton, Mrs. Furber Marshall, Rev. E. C. Churchill directed the cantata and Miss Anne Brittain accompanied on the church organ.

In the morning the annual family Christmas service was held. The children of the Sunday school presented the story of Christmas in their various age groups. Sunday school superintendent C. M. Levy read the Christmas music was presented by the junior choir. A trio, composed of Helen Harding, Marilyn Clayton and Jean Brittain, also presented several numbers.

Mr. Churchill's sermon for the occasion was the fourth in a series of Christmas contrasts. The annual family Christmas service was held in the afternoon at Hill Grove. There the children conducted the worship service with the theme, "Leading of the Star." Mrs. John Murley was in charge with Ruth Murley as reader, Johnny Murley read the scripture. Two anthems were rendered by the choir.

Sandy Cove Baptist

A Christmas worship service was held in the Baptist Church, Sandy Cove, on Thursday, Dec. 19th, with the children of the Sunday school taking part under the leadership of Miss Elizabeth McCullough and Mrs. Elton Mitchell.

A choir composed of the teenagers led in the singing and Mrs. Hugh Morehouse presided at the organ. Miss Linda Morehouse sang the solo "What Child Is This?" "Away in a Manger" and "Jesus Loves Me" were sung by the children of the nursery and beginner's classes. A candlelighting service in which there were ten candle lighters, namely: Marsha Lewis, Louise Carly, Susan Trask, Deborah Hersey, Elaine Carly, Stephen Morehouse, Hugh Trask, Wayne

Jeffrey, Stewart Winchester and Ronald Banks, was based on Isaiah's prophecies. "The people that walked in darkness have seen a great light." The girls of this group also sang the carol "Good Christian Men Rejoice."

Miss Jeanette Irving read the scripture from Luke 2, verses 7-16. A Christmas story of a little African girl was told by Mrs. Eldon Mitchell.

The offering was received by Margaret Ann Gidney and Wanda Jeffrey. A white gift in the form of white stockings filled with used stamps to help a hospital in Korea was also presented at this time.

Rev. C. T. Olmstead presented gifts to the children who had the best attendance record for the year, namely: Mary Ann Trask, Robert Jeffrey, Carolyn Jeffrey, Marsha Lewis, Stewart Winchester and Elmer Winchester.

The service came to a close with a tableau of the nativity scene - while the choir sang "O Little Town of Bethlehem." Mary and Joseph (Carolyn Jeffrey and Tomm, Merritt) took their places. "Wille Shepherds Watched Their Flocks," was sung while the shepherds (Edward Banks, Elmer Winchester, David Trask and Brian Morehouse) entered - and the three kings (Paul Gidney, Graham Merritt and Brian Crowell) entered while the choir sang "We Three Kings."

The service was closed with prayer and benediction by Rev. B. D. MacMartin.

Christmas service was held in the United Church at 11 a.m. on Sunday. The choir rendered the anthems "Glory and Praises to God on High" and "Angel Chorus," with the solo part taken by Miss G. E. Warne and duet by Mrs. W. A. Trask and Mrs. J. E. Morehouse. The solo "My Dearest Joy" was nicely rendered by Miss Linda Morehouse.

Both junior and senior choirs were in attendance.

Pageant Presented At Weymouth

A pageant entitled "The Light of the Christmas Carol" was presented on Tuesday evening at Heartz Memorial United Church, Weymouth.

Beneath a mural of the first manger scene set to a manger of straw Jane Hankinson played the part of Mary and Donald Payson as Joseph. The shepherds who came to adore the baby Jesus were depicted by Helen Marshall, Dianne Bishop, Gladys Gates and Marianna Hill. Characterizing St. Francis Assisi was Roger Hankinson; Martin Luther, Jimmy Hankinson; Father Jean De Brebeuf, Jesuit Missionary to Indians of Canada, Keith DeLong; and the part of Rev. Philip Brooks of Episcopal Church, Boston, whose Sunday School first sang his carol, "O Little Town of Bethlehem," was also portrayed.

The choir was under the direction of Mrs. R. K. Hill with Miss Ruth Hankinson at the organ. The pageant was under the direction of the Sunday School superintendent, P. K. Gates, and Mrs. Gates with Rev. Bruce McMartin as narrator.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and following the pageant a tree laden with gifts for the children was enjoyed.

Christmas Program at Bay View
On Friday evening, in a Christmas atmosphere made by evergreens, tinsel, and lighted lamps, the Bay View Sunday School told the story of the Christ Child in scripture and song. The programme of carols, recitations and dances was also portrayed. The choir was under the direction of Mrs. R. K. Hill with Miss Ruth Hankinson at the organ. The pageant was under the direction of the Sunday School superintendent, P. K. Gates, and Mrs. Gates with Rev. Bruce McMartin as narrator.

The church was beautifully decorated for the occasion and following the pageant a tree laden with gifts for the children was enjoyed.

Present Splendid Musical Program

A real musical treat was provided for a Digby audience here last Thursday evening when the famed military band of the Black Watch (Royal Highland Regiment) of Canada presented a program at the Digby Regional High School.

The program included several excellent band numbers as well as numbers by the male voice choir. In the second part of the program the dance band took over and presented a fine program of popular numbers, as well as familiar Christmas airs.

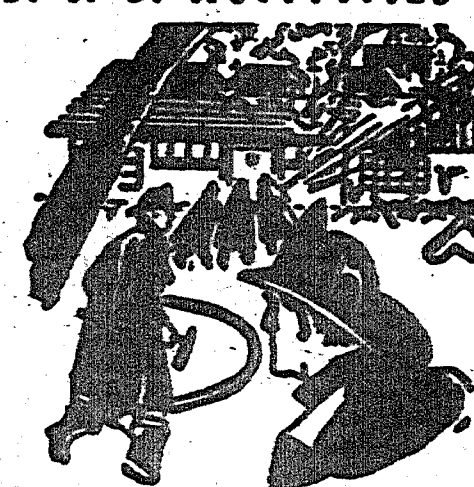

A feature of the second part of the program was the singing of extremely beautiful Spanish numbers by a most talented soloist who provided his own accompaniment on the guitar. A trio also sang several haunting Spanish airs. Also featured was the fine solo singing of a number of well known Christmas songs which delighted the audience.

The concert was presented through the permission of Major General E. C. Plow, general officer commanding Eastern Command. Bandmaster was Lt. D. V. Start, ARCM. At the close of the program the thanks of the audience were expressed by C. M. Levy, President of the Digby Board of Trade. The band also presented a concert in the afternoon for the school pupils.

Missing Money Merely Misaid

F. C. Purdy, supervisor of schools for Digby, is considering offering his services as a substitute Santa Claus somewhere if a red face is one of the qualifications.

Last Tuesday Mr. Purdy reported to police that seventy-eight dollars had disappeared from his office. He said he had left the office for a while and returned to find the money, which he had been counting, had disappeared. A search of the office failed to locate the money.

An investigation was started by local police also without success. Thursday night Mr. Purdy, while making another check through the office safe, came on the sheet of bills sandwiched between other monies which had been placed in the safe.

Friday morning Mr. Purdy expressed over the school's public address system his relief that the money had been found and also his apologies to the student body for the furore that was created by the supposed disappearance of the money.

80 YEARS OLD IN '58

by Ken Hankinson

A lot of people often talk about the good old-fashioned Christmas they knew when they were small, and many complain that Christmas is too commercial, when it should be a time for "peace on earth, good will to men."

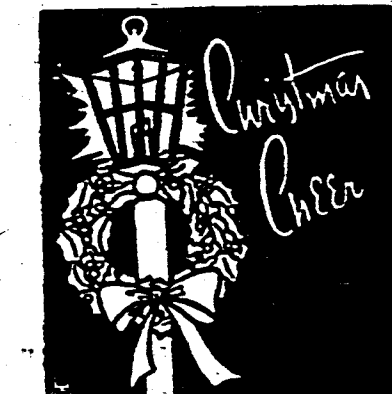

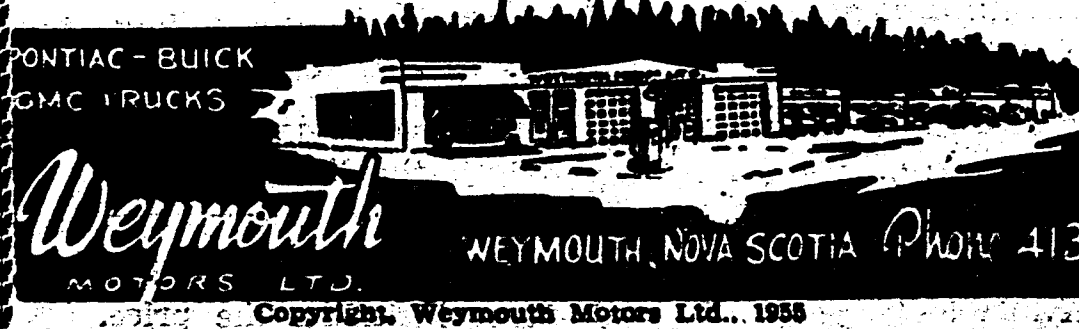

I agree, but to my mind there is no reason why people must let any deplorable commercial practices spoil their Christmas. They should decide what Christmas ought to be like, and then do everything they can to make it that way. They already do that to some extent, of course, for they make it a day of family gatherings and warm friendship. But there is always room for more acts of kindness and unselfishness.

Those who wish there were fewer frantic exchanges of gifts and more sincere, humble charity might perhaps remember some lonely individual or family whose Christmas would be much happier as the result of some little gesture of friendship. It need not be an expensive gift; for that matter, it might be better if it were not a gift at all, but rather, for example, an invitation to share Christmas dinner or some other part of the celebrations on Christmas Day. There aren't many people in this country today who won't have enough to eat on Christmas Day. But there are many — some of them right in this town — who need friendship, who need to feel wanted.

A gesture like this is charity in its truest sense, for it is something that is done for a fellow man.

That's one thing that many people could do to help bring back the old-fashioned Christmas, and I hope there will be many who do things like that this year.

SOME folks liked Mayor Fulcrum, and some didn't, but if election day had been January 1st, he'd have won by a whopping margin.

Mollie Nesbitt had lived in Hillcrest nearly eleven years before we found out about her sister Elsie. We heard the news from Mrs. Parker, who seemed a wee bit ashamed for not having discovered it earlier.

"Imagine!" exclaimed the talkative Mrs. Parker, as we wrapped the last of the New Year decorations in the Hillcrest Town Hall.

"The poor soul hasn't seen Elsie in more than ten years."

"Why?" asked Mayor Fulcrum. "Mollie says her sister lives out west; guess she just can't afford to buy a round-trip ticket."

"She works at Phil's Diner," doesn't she?" mumbled the mayor.

"She's always helping someone," said young Mrs. Rogers with a frown, as she reached for the mayor's candy bowl.

"Whenever any one of us needs a baby sitter we think of Mollie Nesbitt. When the children want a sucker, or kite-string, or pick up a silver—it's always Mollie Nesbitt."

"Why doesn't she call her sister on the phone?" asked the mayor. Then, turning his back on our little group, he strode off in search of new tid-bits.

"Good idea," "No! No!" cried Mrs. Parker as Mrs. Rogers raised the bowl menacingly above her head.

Mrs. Rogers grinned. "I wouldn't throw it—let's see. Besides, I think his honor has a good idea. Why not have Mollie call her sister—at our expense. I think we all owe her a holiday gift."

We all heartily agreed. The mayor or himself said that the plan was a dandy when we told him about it. He promised to write to Elsie to make sure she'd be home when the call came through; it wouldn't be a surprise, or a present, if Elsie weren't at the other end of the line on New Year's Eve.

When Mollie Nesbitt left Phil's Diner on New Year's Eve it was snowing. When she reached home it was snowing harder. By the time she opened the front door to admit our joyous delegation a regular blizzard was under way.

We charged the telephone, carrying Mollie with us. She let out a squeal of delight when we told her that she'd soon be talking to Elsie. Her eyes grew bright with anticipation when Mrs. Parker placed the call.

Then Mrs. Parker clipped our chatter. Her face was grim as she faced us:

"Martha Weeks says the lines are down. Big snow storm out west. We'll not be able to talk to Elsie tonight."

We were stunned. Mollie sat still for awhile, trying not to look too disappointed. A bit later she trotted into the kitchen for a tray of cookies, but they stuck in our throats.

"Someone's coming up the walk," said Mrs. Parker. "Looks like Mayor Fulcrum, but it's hard to tell with all this snow. It is the mayor—and there's a lady with him!"

Mollie opened the door—then let out a cry that brought us all to our feet. "Elsie! Oh what a wonderful present!" And she threw her arms around her sister's neck.

"Happy New Year, mayor!" I cried, grasping his hand warmly. "You sure brightened things up around here. Whatever made you decide to bring Elsie to Hillcrest?"

"Well, I ran into Mollie last week at the post-office, where she was mailing a package to Elsie. She was sending hearing-aid batteries. Thinking that Elsie might be too hard of hearing to carry on a phone conversation, I enclosed a round trip train ticket in my letter."

"She's not wearing a hearing aid now," I said.

"Never did. The batteries were for Mollie's uncle."

THE VALUABLE GIFT

By Janet Hall
EVERYONE was so nice, Kathie Carter thought as she remembered the Christmas gifts she had received last year. So many of her friends, neighbors, and relatives had remembered her.

"I'd love to buy something for them all, Kathie thought, but she knew it was impossible. She had only saved enough for a gift to her parents. She had tried to get a sales job, but she had discovered the was too late. There were no jobs left.

"Your relatives and neighbors don't expect you to give them gifts," her mother said.

"I'd like to give them all some little thing."

"When you're older you can return their thoughtfulness."

After supper Kathie went to Aunt Betty's and Uncle Ted's house to return a book.

"Hi, Kathie," Aunt Betty greeted. "I'm doing dishes so come on out in the kitchen."

"I've been having to make some fruitcakes for Christmas gifts, but I don't know whether I can do it this year," Aunt Betty said. "The

Christmas, 1957

Report From Parliament Hill

When this session opened it was confidently expected that it would adjourn before Christmas. In fact to accomplish that end the Government adopted a very rigorous schedule some weeks ago. Parliament had been meeting at 11.00 o'clock in the morning and sitting until 10.00 o'clock at night with the exception of Saturdays when it rises at 6.00. But during the week it became obvious that even with that rigorous program it would be impossible to finish the work before Christmas. There were two reasons for that. Perhaps more. In the first place the Government has brought down more legislation than was first contemplated, and as a result most of the Departmental estimates have not yet been considered. In the second place, the House has spent more time in the question period than ever before. In fact, it is very rare when at least an hour and a quarter to an hour and a half is not spent on so-called "questions." Most of these questions are out of order, but the Speaker has been leaning over backwards to avoid any criticism of him in his first year of office, and very few questions have been refused. Up until Wednesday it was hoped that we would at least be through by New Years and the thought was to adjourn only over Christmas Day and keep on sitting until the end of the year. However, that would have caused great hardship to Members who naturally wanted to be home at Christmastime. Therefore, it was decided that when Parliament rises next Saturday night, it will not reconvene until after New Years Day.

It is hoped that we will get through by January 14th so that Liberal members will be able to attend their convention without having also to sit in the House of Commons. There is no doubt, therefore, that they will co-operate in every way possible to close the session by the middle of the month.

Naturally the Government members would very much like to get through so that the Ministers can get back to their offices and start dealing with the many problems of administration which necessarily have to be postponed while the House is sitting such long hours. However, it may be that the CCF Party will grasp this opportunity to embarrass the Liberals still more and will delight in keeping the House sitting during the Liberal convention. In any event, it will only be with the greatest of cooperation that the House could finish its work by January 14th. If it doesn't conclude by then, the chances are that it will continue sitting until nearly the end of the month by which time it certainly should have been possible to have completed all of the material which is now on the Order Paper.

A unique situation rose in the House during the week. In the Committee as a whole, the chair is usually taken by the Deputy Speaker. But as that committee sits for many long hours it is, of course, impossible for any one man to keep the chair all the time. So other members are asked, or volunteer their services and preside over the sitting of the committee. One who has been doing it recently has been Mr. Charles Rae, the Conservative Member for Spadina. On Friday afternoon he probably regretted the fact that he had ever volunteered to take the chair.

The Income Tax Bill was before the House granting additional exemptions to dependents. The CCF Members moved that these Dependents Allowances be increased. Now it is a fundamental part of our unwritten constitution that only Ministers of the Crown can introduce amendments to Taxation Statutes. The CCF has tried to make an issue of the fact that in this particular tax reduction no budget resolutions had first been introduced. They argued that even the Government could not reduce the tax without introducing the budget resolutions. It is true that generally budget resolutions have been introduced prior to reductions because almost invariably there also have been changes increasing some taxes, and even an infinitesimal increase would require a budget resolution. However, the law was very clear that when taxes are only reduced, no budget resolution is necessary. However, CCF spokesmen hammered away at the fact that if the Government could reduce taxes without a budget resolution, then so could they, despite the fact that every constitutional authority was cited to the contrary.

However, Mr. Rae accepted the CCF argument and ruled their amendment in order. There was nothing then for the Government to do but to appeal his ruling and this course Mr. Green, the House Leader, adopted. This appeal is taken from the committee to the House of Commons with the Speaker in the chair. The division bells rang and the question was proposed as to whether the ruling of the Chairman should be supported. Of course, in nine hundred and ninety-nine times out of a thousand, in the past, it has been the Government who has been voting in favour of the chairman's ruling, and the opposition members ruling against it. This time the situation was reversed. However, Opposition Leaders and Members took good care to see that there were not enough of them in the House to sustain the Speaker's ruling. However, apparently someone counted noses carefully because there were only sixty odd votes cast by the three Opposition parties combined as against seventy votes by the Government. Of course, if the Chairman's ruling had been sustained it would not have technically been a vote of confidence in the Government, but the Opposition was taking no chances obviously in the Government assuming that it was a vote of confidence and dissolving the House. Altogether it was undoubtedly the most exciting period the House has seen since it convened in October and I suspect we will be in for more exciting moments during the rest of the days of the session. However, my guess also is that the Opposition would take very good care that the Government is not defeated even in a matter which is not theoretically a vote of confidence.

In the meantime, the Prime Minister and three of his colleagues are in Paris at the NATO conference. Undoubtedly Dr. Smith, the new Secretary of State for External Affairs struck a responsive note when he said the other day that it was the opinion of the Canadian Government that Russian proposals should not be brushed

The annual Christmas concert was held at the South Range Church of Christ Thursday evening by the Sunday School children.

Mrs. Edna Mallette is a patient at the Digby General Hospital.

Several people from this community attended the school concert at North Range Thursday afternoon.

Mr. Lawrence Sabean called on Mrs. A. P. Marshall recently. Mrs. A. P. Marshall is now a bed patient.

Mr. Harold Marshall, of Conway, and Mr. Hubert Shortliffe called on their mother, Mrs. A. P. Marshall, on Sunday.

Mrs. Lloyd Sabean recently made a call at the home of Rev. Mr. Johnston who is ill at time of writing. We hope he will be about for Christmas.

Misses Sylvia, Eleanor, Heather and Gordon Marshall, of North Range, spent Friday evening with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Marshall.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

off without more consideration being given to them than has been given to them in the past. Naturally one can suspect that they are made for propaganda value and that undoubtedly the Russians will extract every ounce of propaganda from them that is available. But the truth is they are getting so much favourable propaganda these days that they hardly need to write notes to create more. Sooner or later someone has to make some overture in this impasse which has now been created, or the world will drift inevitably into another war. It is obvious that Dr. Smith feels the Canadian Government has an opportunity to make some feelers in that direction. It will be interesting to see what comes out of it in Paris during these present days.

Obituary

Ralph B. Winchester
Ralph B. Winchester, popular Dominion Atlantic Railway freight agent, Kentville, died at Blanchard Fraser Memorial Hospital, Kentville, Thursday, following several weeks' illness. He was 63 and in his 50th year with the railroad.

In his long career, including four years overseas with the Canadian Army Signal Corps in the First World War, Mr. Winchester, a native of Digby, became widely known over the entire DAR system. For many years he was relief station agent, then a train despatcher and since 1953 freight agent at Kentville.

Son of the late William and Elmira (Blackford) Winchester, Digby, he was first employed in 1908 with the Maritime Express Company, later the Canadian Pacific Express, at Digby.

In January, 1910, he joined the DAR, retaining the two years seniority as a relief agent and in 1911 was agent at South Maitland. One year later he became night operator at Kentville and he enlisted and went overseas in 1915.

Upon his return to Canada in 1919, he became a train despatcher here, and continued in that capacity until 1940, when he went on the road as chief relief station agent all over the system. Seven years later, owing to a health condition, he took lighter work as station agent at Kingsport. In 1953, he returned to Kentville as freight agent. One of his brothers, Digby Winchester, who predeceased him a year ago, was also for many years a DAR station agent.

Mr. Winchester was a member of Hiawatha Lodge, IOOF; the United Church of St. Paul and St. Stephen, and was a charter member of the First Great War Veterans Association, organized in Kings County.

Surviving are his wife, the former Jean Margaret Webster, a member of one of Kentville's pioneer families; one son, W. Gordon Winchester, Moncton; one daughter, Joyce (Mrs. Fred Dyke), Yarmouth; two brothers, Paul and Burgess Winchester, Digby; two sisters, Mrs. Fred Thibeault, and Theta (Mrs. Reginald VanTassel), Digby;

5. Use only Underwriter approved Christmas tree lights and metal ornaments on the tree.
6. Don't go away from home leaving the Christmas tree lights on.
7. Don't leave small children alone.

Superstitions, Traditions Mark New Year Scene

Traditions and superstitions have long been a part of the New Year scene around the world. The Chinese believe one must pay up all their debts if the New Year is to be a successful one. The English, on the other hand, consider it a good idea to start a savings account on January 1, since what you do on the New Year's Day is indicative of what you will do the rest of the year.

One of the most widespread superstitions concerns the "first-footer," the first person to enter a household on New Year's morning. In early days, women and light-haired men were considered "un-lucky" first-foetors.

Ancient custom in Japan was to scatter parched beans about the house, supposedly driving away evil influences and inviting good luck to enter.

The Romans were accustomed to hanging tiny masks of Bacchus upon trees and vines, the idea being to impart fertility to every side of the tree to which the masks were turned by the wind.

Peasant families in various parts of the world once baked special cakes for the New Year. The cake was dashed against the door and as the family members gathered up the pieces to eat them they prayed that neither hunger nor want should enter the house during the new year.

In olden times some families also sought a glimpse into the New Year by "dipping" into the Bible. The head of the family, with his eyes closed, opened the family Bible and indicated a passage with his finger. The text, read and interpreted was supposed to be indicative of the luck—good or bad—that would be in store during the twelve months ahead.

Many People Still Celebrate Feasts By Ancient Calendar

Many people who use the Gregorian calendar still solemnize traditional feasts, including New Year, in accordance with ancient calendars.

The Jews observe a 10-day New Year season at the time of the autumn equinox. The observances begin on Rosh Hashana and end on Yom Kippur; Rosh Hashana commemorates the Day of Creation and is also the annual day of judgment with judgment being irrevocably sealed on Yom Kippur (the Day of Atonement); therefore the spirit of penance dominates the solemnities. Penance is also a feature of Hindu observances, solemnized in accordance with the ancient lunar calendar during the spring equinox.

The Moslem calendar, which dates from 626 A. D., is unique since the twelve months of the year begin with the approximate new moon without any calculations to keep them geared to the seasonal equinoxes. Thus, the months—and New Years, too—retrograde through the entire year in about 33 years.

LONGEST YEAR

Once there was a year which contained 445 days—or an extra two months.

Numa Pompilius supposedly created the Roman calendar in the seventh century B. C. Although revised several times, the calendar by Julius Caesar's time was two months behind the sun.

When Caesar set his experts to the task of revising the calendar in the 16th century, they found they had to meet the problem of catching up with the sun. So two months were inserted between the months of November and December for the year 46 B. C.

Egyptians Pioneers In Study of Time

The Egyptians were probably the first to develop any "exact" method of calculating time—about 4,000 B.C. they devised a "calendar."

The Christian era begins on January 1, in the middle of the fourth year of the 194th Olympiad, the 753rd year of the building of Rome and in the 4714th year of the Julian period.

The Jewish calendar reads 5717 in relation to 1856 A.D., since according to Jewish dogma and tradition the Creation antedated the birth of Christ approximately 3,761 years. The Jewish calendar was adopted during the 15th century.

Use of the notation A.D. (year of our Lord) was inaugurated in 759 by Charles III of Germany.

PARADE OF FIREMEN

Firemen have always been popular heroes in Japan because the construction of Japanese homes makes them fire hazards. So an annual feature of New Year's Day is the annual dezomesiki—parade of the fire brigades.

THE DIGBY COURIER Christmas, 1952

By F. L. Rowley

MR. OWENS is extremely popular in Hillcrest. He owns a big barn where the stock shows play each summer. He even serves coffee and sandwiches to his "guests" when they drop in to watch one of the shows. The truth is that Mr. Owens is a lonely old man who likes to surround himself with happy people.

Several years ago today, when Christmas cheer abounded and glowing parlor windows warmed the hearts of passersby, Mr. Owens was lonelier than usual. He had not even set up a tree that year; what good was a tree without someone to admire it?

Christmas Eve, and Mr. Owens strolled down Main Street alone, peering into the few shop windows that were still lighted. In front of the ten-cent store he saw young Jim Harder. Jim was watching the lights go out with an expression of dismay on his freckled face.

"It can't be that bad, my boy," the old man said kindly.

Jim tried to smile when he saw Mr. Owens. "It's bad enough. I'll sure catch it from mom when I get home. She sent me out to buy some Christmas-tree ornaments."

"Tree ornaments? At this hour?"

"Yes sir. Last summer we had a fire in the woodshed," explained Jim, "nothing serious, but our Christmas stuff was destroyed. We forgot all about it until we set the tree up this morning."

"And you waited until now to buy ornaments?"

"That's just it," groaned Jim. "I left home over an hour ago. It's just that—well, I've been looking in store windows—and"

Problem Solved

"I understand," said Mr. Owens with a twinkle in his eye. "Used to do the same thing when I was a lad. Never could figure out why clocks were invented. Say, I've got an idea! I have some old ornaments—"

"You have?" cried Jim eagerly.

"On second thought," Mr. Owens went on, "I don't think they'd do. Too old, most of them, with cracked sides and hairpins stuck in their tops. Had one box of good ones, but I stepped on it."

Jim didn't smile. He looked miserable.

"Wait!" cried Mr. Owens, laying a hand on the boy's shoulder. "I've got it! You'll have your Christmas-tree ornaments yet."

With Jim Harder striding hopefully beside him, Mr. Owens set off at a brisk trot that belied his years. A happy smile played upon the wrinkled face. He was doing someone a favor. Christmas; it was part of the scene. He joined Jim in a chorus of "White Christmas."

Hiding Place

When they reached his place he surprised Jim by taking the path that led to the barn. The boy followed. Once inside, he groped around until he located an old lantern. After squeezing between dusty props they reached a huge chest. Mr. Owens pulled out a drawer to reveal several dozen brightly colored balls.

"Wow!" They're perfect!" cried Jim. "What are they?"

Mr. Owens laughed. "Let's see now; those plastic ones are plums, and those pressed-paper ones are oranges. This other drawer is full of stars; it's all part of the scenery. I do hope you'll bring them back after the holidays."

"I sure will!" promised Jim with a big grin.

It was outside-church the next morning that Jim approached him breathlessly. "We got turkey, and you're going to get a drumstick, Mr. Owens!"

"Me? Now Jim, you needn't—" Mrs. Harder came up. "I asked Jim to invite you to dinner," she explained. "Besides, you must see our beautiful orange covered Christmas tree. Or would you rather spend Christmas Day in that big, lonely house of yours?"

Mr. Owens couldn't think of a single reason for not going. "I reckon I would like to see the tree," he admitted.
