Dedicates Organ

Above is Rev. D. R. MacTavish who on Thursday night conducted an impressive service of dedication when the new memorial electric organ was dedicated at the Smith's Cove Baptist Church. The organ, fully paid for, is a gift of many contributors in loving memory of former members of the church and of families.

Other than the dedication service the program was completely musiced with Mrs. J. J. Wallis, regular church organist presiding and rendering special music as prelude, offertories, postlude and in accompanying vocal selections.

Soloists for the evening were Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby, and Stuart MacLaren, Smith's Cove. Mrs. Wallis sang "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings" and "Teach Me To Pray". Mr. MacLaren sang "I Walked To Day Where Jesus Walked".

A male quartette from the Digby Baptist Church consisting of Guy Monrohouse, Wallace Hodgson, J. J. Britton and Paul Shaw rendered three selections. Mrs. Herman Olsen, Digby, presided at the organ for the quartettes.

The church choir rendered two anthems, "Come To The House of The Lord" and "Dear Ase God".

A service on which refreshments were served by the ladies of the church was held following the service.

Bowling News

The regular bowling league of the Digby Bowling Club will meet on Monday night at the Digby Bowling Club. The league is composed of 12 teams and the season is in progress.

The following are the current standings in the league: 1. The Aces, 2. The Stars, 3. The Bulls, 4. The Bears, 5. The Lions, 6. The Tigers, 7. The Wolves, 8. The Panthers, 9. The Hawks, 10. The Eagles, 11. The Falcons, 12. The Ravens.

Fire Prevention Program

Digby firemen met on Monday night at the Fire Hall to finalize plans for the observance of Fire Prevention Week in town. The week October 8 to 14 will begin with a church parade on Sunday.

On Monday night a hose demonstration will be held when two companies will demonstrate. Inspection Day is on Tuesday with further demonstrations at the Cannon Bank. Inspection Day will continue on Wednesday and that day will conclude with an "Open House" at night. On Thursday the activities of the firemen for Fire Prevention Week will be brought to a close when the Digby Fire Department Rescue Team will give a demonstration at 7:00 p.m.

Confusion Of Seasons

Whether it is the madness of the weather or whether it is a freak of nature, is not certain, but an apple tree on the property of Harry Haight, of Hill Grove, has the seasons confused. It is not sure whether it is the season for blossoming or bearing fruit so to make sure it bears both at once. A sample of the blossoms was brought to the Courthouse on Wednesday and we take this as proof for the fruit.

Council Deals With Winter Works Program

A report of the Winter Works special committee of the town was given at the regular town council meeting on Monday night after having met in special congregate some few weeks ago. On the committee were Deputy Mayor Vernon L. Bent, Councilors Bruce Taylor and Russell Atkinson, along with His Worship Mayor V. G. Cardoza. Their proposal was to clear up common lands around the reservoir and the south end of town with a view to beautification and supplying park areas and to drain swamps and other works necessary to the town.

At the council meeting the special committee was asked to meet with the superintendent of streets to draw up a statement of costs for the projects and state the number of men who would be required for the work. They are then to proceed to make application to take advantage of the government program on winter works.

The council on Tuesday evening gave approval to a resolution circulated from the Yarmouth Town Council requesting the governments of Canada and United States to fix the amount of goods at $200 which might be carried across the border free of duty in either direction.

Another traffic warning signal is to be installed in town. This will be at the corner of King St. and Carleton St.

A letter was read from the Dominion Atlantic Railway which stated they had instructed employees to stop cars in such a way that the train bell would not clang while in the yard. A complaint had been made at a previous council meeting of the unnecessary train noise at crossings in town during sleeping hours.

Budding portraits were placed to the Honour View Bakery to make a note to their premises for a store room and also to Danny Dakin to make an extension of 125 sq. ft. Heating and Plumbing jobs were on Sydney St.

Police today received the following calls:

1. A call from the Digby Fire Department regarding a fire in the Digby Fire Hall.

2. A call from the Digby Fire Department regarding a fire in the Digby Fire Hall.

One Woman Nominated

Mrs. M. P. Goff was nominated in the district of Smith's Cove in contest Cyril E. Jones in a municipal election for councillor in that district according to nominations which closed on Tuesday. Dr. Christine MacInnis Guest Speaker

Dr. Christine MacInnis, Halifax, has accepted an invitation to be guest speaker at the last Fall Rally of the Annapolis Presbyterial of the United Church of Canada which will be held in Montserrat on November 2. Dr. MacInnis, who was formerly registrar at Mount Allison University, Sackville, N. B., is presently secretary for the Conference Branch W.M. and as a member of the Dominion Board of the W.M.S. is well versed in the new women's organization which will come into being in the United Church of Canada in January 1962.

Detailed plans for the Rally were made on Saturday afternoon when the executive of the Annapolis Presbyterial met at the home of the president, Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Birch St., Digby. It was decided that a banquet would be held to mark the occasion when former Presbyterial presidents will be especially invited guests. The meeting to begin in the afternoon will feature reports and impressions by those who attended the School For Leaders at Berwick and Taramagouche in August Discussions will be held by Mrs. Fitch Barker, Kingston. Special letters will be sent to women missionaries connected with the Annapolis Presbyterial.

A financial report was presented by the treasurer, Mrs. Elton Arnold.

Assisting Mrs. Wallis as hostesses were Mrs. Arnold and Mrs. Burton. Fleet president of Grace United W.M.S. Miss Carolyn Arnold and Miss Barbara VanTassel served when a social hour was held.

Presented With Gifts

Reign Jayne, president of the Digby Kiwanis Club, meeting held on Thursday evening at Hotel Champlain when Reign Jayne, former president, was presented with gifts in recognition of his service to Kiwanis and the community of Digby. Mr. Chan, who with his family, Merling, Ronald and Cheryl, will join Mrs. Chan in Montreal this week. Mrs. Chan was presented with a beautiful picture of Digby on behalf of the club by Kiwanis president, Reign Jayne, presented Mr. Chan with a memorial cup. Previous to this, the society of M. J. Jayne, president of Kiwanis, had a party in recognition of his 10 years of perfect attendance.

Many friends of Kiwanis and personal friends of the Chans were present for the occasion. Roy, R. H. Hughes spoke highly of Mr. Chan and family as members and workers in Grace United Church during their residence in Digby. He especially mentioned Mr. Chan's friendliness and kindness to strangers in the church. He expressed regret that they found it necessary to reside elsewhere but hoped they would continue their active participation in the church.

A financial report was presented by the treasurer, Mrs. Elton Arnold. The party was given in her honor by Mrs. H. W. Wallis, V. G. Cardoza, and Mrs. M. P. Goff.

Loses Life in Crash

Word came on relatives in Digby Sunday of the accidental death of 72-year-old Harry Spurr MacLaren of Rye Beach, Me., killed in a plane crash last Thursday.

MacLaren left his home Thursday evening in his private plane and did not return.

At the time of the crash, MacLaren was on a flight from New York to Digby.

Tea-Time Treat

The popular song "If I knew you were coming, I'd have baked a cake," sums up the idea that a piece of cake is the table waiting to greet a guest is one way of spelling out hospitality. The great popularity of cake might stem from the fact that it can be made in an almost infinite variety. And just about everybody from the toddlers on up can think of their own favorite flavor. A cake such as Mocha Square with Chocolate Butter Icing has special appeal because it has not one, but many flavor ingredients — instant coffee, nutmeg, brown sugar and chocolate. For variety, a coffee or vanilla butter icing, or a brown sugar, seven minute frosting may also be used as a topping. The party pleasing appearance of this cake makes it an ideal choice for more formal entertaining as well as family desserts.

MOCHA SQUARE

1 1/2 cups once-sifted all-purpose flour or 1 1/2 cups once-sifted pastry flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon baking soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 tablespoons powdered instant coffee
1/2 teaspoon grated nutmeg
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 1/2 cups lightly-packed brown sugar
2 well-beaten eggs
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Grease an 8-inch square cake pan and line in the bottom with greased waxed paper. Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. (moderate). Sift together 3 times the all-purpose or pastry flour, baking powder, baking soda, salt, instant coffee and nutmeg. Cream butter or margarine; gradually add brown sugar and beat until light. Add eggs, part at a time, beating well after each addition. Measure milk and add vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients to creamed mixture alternately with milk, combining lightly after each addition. Turn batter into prepared pan and spread evenly. Bake in preheated oven 45 to 50 minutes. Let cake stand in its pan on cake rack for 10 minutes, then turn out onto rack and peel off paper; let stand until cold. Frost with the following Chocolate Butter Icing. Yield: One 8-inch square cake.

CHOCOLATE BUTTER ICING

1/2 cup butter or margarine
Few grains salt
2 cups sifted icing sugar
2 tablespoons (about) scalded cream
2 ounces (2 squares) unsweetened chocolate, melted
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
Cream butter or margarine until soft; add salt. Work sugar into butter or margarine alternately with very hot cream, adding melted chocolate after part of the scalded cream has been stirred in — use just enough cream to make a frosting of spreading consistency; beat in vanilla. Spread on cold cake. Yield: Sufficient for top and sides of an 8-inch square cake.

Fitness Begins In The Cradle

Concern about physical fitness should begin when your child is still in the cradle, according to Dr. C. K. Rowan-Legg of Ottawa.

Few mothers will give their infants a chance to exercise naturally. Dr. Rowan-Legg writes in a special physical-fitness issue of Health Magazine, published by the Health League of Canada.

"For example, the young infant is dressed in a nightgown so long he can't possibly move his legs freely when awake, and many of them are wrapped up in a shawl so they can't lift their hands from their sides."

The best idea is to take the child out of his crib, take off all unnecessary clothing and allow him to exercise naturally with complete freedom of arms and legs.

Later when it is unsafe to leave him on a bed, he can be moved to a playpen where he has a chance to "struggle, strain, roll and pivot to his heart's content."

Unsuitable outdoor clothing also limits the physical activity of a pre-school child, especially snowsuits that are "at least two sizes too big, so that it will last two or three years, and likewise the snowboots which he can hardly lift."

"In this regard," Dr. Rowan-Legg says, "he might just as well be in splints."

Preschoolers are great copy-cats and the example the parents set in physical activity is important.

"The problem of the father who is an ardent Saturday and Sunday golfer during the summer months and just as ardent a curler during the winter months is setting a poor example to his pre-school child, and ample to his pre-school child."

"Many of the fathers would benefit greatly by showing the young son how to do a chin-up. Many fathers no doubt would be able to tell Mrs. Lowell Feener on Sunday how to do it but unable to give an adequate demonstration."

Mrs. Wendell Heads Society

Mrs. Eva Wendell was elected President of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society at a well-attended meeting held at her home last week. She succeeds Mrs. H. A. Nichols who has been President of the Society for the past five years.

Other officers were elected as follows: Honorary President, John Russell; Vice-President, Mrs. H. M. Warner; Secretary, Kenneth Beckwith; Treasurer, Dora Warner, Mrs. H. A. Nichols, Mrs. Donald Logan and Ralph Berwick were the newly appointed Directors, replacing retiring Directors, Mrs. Fred May, Mrs. F. A. Kenney and Wilfred Como.

Committee Chairmen were named as follows: Admiral Digby Well Project, John Russell; Welcome Sign Project, Ralph Berwick; Loyalist Cemetery Project, Wilfred Como; Ways and Means Committee, Mrs. Daniel Comeau; Publicity, Mrs. H. M. Warner; Entertainment, Mrs. George Winfield; Program, Miss Marjorie Tupper; Membership, Miss Edith Lynch; Flower Show, Mrs. Ralph Wright and Mrs. Jack Keen; Telephone, Miss Mildred Carly.

Reports presented from the various committees showed an active year, with four projects being carried on, besides participation in the Rose Show held in conjunction with the Champlain Garden Club in Annapolis Royal, and the holding of a successful Flower Show in Digby. Mrs. Blanche Porter, in presenting the Secretary's report, stated that average attendance for the ten regular meetings held during the year had been 19.4, this being a slight increase over the preceding year and indicating greater interest on the part of the regular members. Paid up membership in the Society stood at 55, this including a number of summer residents whose support is greatly appreciated but who, of necessity, can attend only one or two meetings or other functions during the short season they are here.

Project reports were given by the chairman, Mr. Russell, reporting that the Admiral Digby Well plot had functioned as well as could be expected during the season, with plenty of bloom from the bulbs, roses and other flower beds surrounding the well. Mrs. H. M. Warner reported a less satisfactory season for the "Welcome Sign" garden, where there was considerable damage from children and through the demolition of the adjacent Digby Packing building. The report on the Loyalist Cemetery, presented by Wilfred Como, showed satisfactory maintenance of this project, also the addition of some extra roses and dahlias along the fence and the repair of one damaged tombstone. Miss Louise Daley, in reporting on the Hanging Baskets, expressed her disappointment in their appearance this summer, presumably on account of lack of water since they had been well started with a large number of plants, and recommended that some change be made in this project next year in order that it may be improved or discontinued.

Mrs. Daniel Comeau's report as chairman of the Ways and Means Committee showed an active and successful year, funds having been raised from tea collections at regular meetings, a penny sale, plant sales to individual members, and the sale of tickets on a cake and a hand-carved salad bowl and servers, these totaling over $125. Special thanks were extended to Hedley House for donating the cake, and to Mr. Elie Comeau for carving the bowl and servers. In addition, the funds of the Society were also augmented by proceeds from a Tag Day convoked by Mrs. Kenneth Beckwith and by small balances from the Flower Show and the Rose Show. These two latter events were included in the report of the entertainment Committee, presented by Mrs. George Winfield, whose committee solicited and served refreshments at both functions and also at an open meeting at the school when films were shown.

Mrs. Wendell, reporting for the Program Committee, stated that she had prepared nine bulletins on garden subjects appearing to the seasons, and

Thanksgiving In Digby

Thanksgiving was celebrated in both the Trinity Church and the United Church in Digby on Sunday.

At Trinity the church was decorated with fruit, vegetables and flowers for the harvest festival by members of the Women's Fund and others. Special Thanksgiving music was rendered by the choir and the rector, Rev. James Pike, delivered a sermon appropriate to the occasion. He stressed the importance of expressing thankfulness by church attendance and by giving. He pointed out in connection with the harvest service that while we had reaped an earthly harvest the spiritual harvest had not yet been reaped and it was necessary to prepare John Stoddard assisted as server at Holy Communion.

Several important occasions for Trinity were announced. Children's Day and Youth Sunday will be observed next Sunday when there will be Corporate Communion for Sunday School children and teachers and young people. At 10:15 will be the procession of the young people and choir for the church service at eleven. Harvest Festival is scheduled for Marshalltown on next Sunday at 9:30 a.m. and at All Saints, Rossaway, at 3 p.m. Trinity choir will assist with the music at All Saints.

An announcement was also made that on Tuesday, October 17, St. Luke's Day, will be held when women from the Annapolis Deanery will meet here. There will be Holy Communion at 10:30 with Rev. James Pike conducting the service. Rev. L. White, Bridge-town, will be the preacher. Other notable occasions will be the Laymen's service on the 22nd when there will be Corporate Communion for the men of the parish at 8:30 and breakfast at 9:15. Dr. R. A. Armstrong will be special speaker and Mayor V. G. Cardoza, M.L.A., and layreader, will deliver the address at the laymen's service at 11 o'clock.

At Grace United, Rev. R. H. Hughes took for his Thanksgiving text "What shall I render unto God for all His benefits toward us?" In relating many of the benefits to man, Mr. Hughes said that all God's dealings with man are distinguished with love and kindness. Gratitude for the benefits of church and the gospel can be expressed, he said, by service and by financial help. They are not to be given as a payment but as an expression of true gratitude for benefits so freely bestowed. They should be given in the spirit of not how little can I give but how little can I keep. A special Thanksgiving number was rendered by the choir.

Two infants were baptized during the morning service. They were Susan Folkins, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Donald Folkins, and Jeffrey Gordon Galbraith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Galbraith. Following the morning service the rite of baptism was administered to Vance Frank Hazelton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Hazelton.

A pair of plant stands and brass vases were dedicated at the morning service to the Glory and Praise of God and in memory of the late J. Mac Naughton Wallis. They were presented by Mrs. Wallis and two daughters, Mrs. D. G. Garnham and Mrs. K. H. Chappell.

Resumes Meetings

The Digby Red Cross Association held its weekly work meeting in the Court House in September, held its first Fall meeting in October last week, presided over by the President, Mrs. R. E. Lant.

The Treasurer's report, prepared by Mrs. B. H. Regan, dealt mainly with bills from the recent Flood Relief drive, which were authorized for payment. The Clinic, which was held at the Lions Club Hall under the chairmanship of Mr. Stanley MacDonald, had an attendance of 112 donors, with refreshments provided and served by a committee of the Digby Red Cross, who were most appreciative of the cooperation given by the Lions Club.

In reporting for the Women's Work Committee, Mrs. H. M. Warner stated that a large shipment of finished work had been forwarded to Halifax Headquarters after the Red Cross closing in June, consisting of over 250 articles of knitting and sewing and 13 quilts. During the summer extra sock yarn had been obtained for a knitter in Ross-way, and in September a shipment of materials for Fall work had been received, including quilt cottons, flannel, etc. and knitting wools, for which extra workers would be appreciated. A letter was read from Mrs. Raymond, Women's Work Chairman for Nova Scotia, outlining the quota of work for the coming year and stressing the need for quilts.

In the half-yearly report of finished articles received from the branches, Digby was credited with 570, which compared favorably with other branches of similar size.

Mrs. George Winfield reported that the Disaster Relief Committee had been called on for assistance this summer at the time of the forest fire at Plympton and that thermos jugs of coffee and over 100 sandwiches had been provided. Fortunately the fire was brought under control before it was necessary to obtain the emergency equipment from Annapolis Royal for setting up a field kitchen. The Disaster Relief Committee also reported supplying second hand clothing for nine families in Acadiaville, Marshalltown and Centerville. It had been necessary to refuse some requests owing to a lack of children's clothing, which was urgently needed by the committee.

Mrs. Ralph Berwick thanked all those who had provided refreshments for the weekly Ten Cent Teas by which funds were raised by the Ways and Means Committee, and reported that the sum of $10 from this source had recently been paid to the Branch Treasurer. Even though the Branch had been closed during the summer months, the Sickroom Loan Service had continued to function, with several loans of crutches and at least one loan of a wheelchair for a case in Freeport. Much other equipment also remained on loan.

With the date for the branch annual meeting set for November 15th, a nominating committee was named and plans made for the usual tea and sale of aprons. It was also left with the President to arrange a meeting with the leaders of Junior Red Cross in the Digby schools to consider the provision of "Happiness Kits" for children to be used in case of fire and disaster.

The meeting was followed by the usual social hour, with a decorated birthday cake provided by Mrs. Elliott Van-Tassel in honor of Mrs. Olin VanTassel.

Thievery In Culloden

A daring midnight robbery took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gidney, at Culloden, on a recent Saturday evening.

The bold thief invaded the premises and removed about five large armloads of firewood from the woodpile at the back door while Mr. and Mrs. Gidney entertained guests in the living room. To add insult to injury the thief selected only the best of the wood to remove.

Must have been preparing for a cold day at Mr. Gidney's expense!

Discuss Mental Health Problems

Above, left to right, are Mrs. Edith Campbell, Weymouth; Mrs. R. A. Armstrong, Dartmouth; and V. G. Cardoza, president of the Digby Mental Health Association, who recently attended a mental health conference in Toronto. The conference was sponsored by the Nova Scotia division of the Canadian Mental Health Association.

Director of the Nova Scotia division, Andrew Crook, of Halifax, said that since its inception less than a decade ago, the Nova Scotia division had grown from one or two branches to 14. An original 25 volunteer workers had increased to more than 1,000. Mr. Crook said many significant changes had been effected by volunteer workers.

He said volunteers had "distinguished themselves greatly by their work of rehabilitation among patients and outpatients and their continuing war on overcrowding and understaffing of mental institutions."

A plea for inclusion of facilities in general hospitals for treatment of mentally ill was voiced by Dr. Carl Giffin, a practising psychiatrist at Truro.

He said a closer integration of medical and psychiatric treatment facilities in general hospitals and community centres would provide better continuity of treatment. Local treatment was not so apt to disrupt a patient's home life or employment, he added.

Such facilities would ensure early diagnosis and hospitalization when required and speed public acceptance of mental cases as legitimate illnesses.

Dr. Giffin said many of the existing hospitals for the mentally ill had "too many patients and too few staff."

Treatment tended to lag under such conditions, he said, while the condition of the patient deteriorated from the acute to a state of chronic illness. He added, "Most cases of mental illness, including psychosis and the more serious forms of illness can be treated in local hospitals."

Accident Takes Life

An inquest on Tuesday night ruled accidental, the death of Clifton Gidney, a fisherman of Little River, who was killed instantly in an accident near his home on the same afternoon.

Mr. Gidney, a man of forty, was killed when the truck he was driving left the highway and overturned three times. The truck was loaded with slabwood which shifted to one side causing it to topple. The accident occurred on a curve at the foot of a hill at Mink Cove on Digby Neck.

Gidney is survived by his wife, the former Elsie Denton; eight children; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Gidney, Mink Cove.

The children are Dianna, Mrs. Edgar Frost, Little River; David, Dennis, Doreen, Deborah, Joanne, Michael and Susan at home.

Also surviving are two sisters, Joan, Mrs. Edward Connell, Digby; Joyce, Mrs. Eric Marshall, Montreal; three brothers, Donald, Weymouth; Wilfred Jr., Mink Cove, and Samuel, Montreal.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon from the Little River Baptist Church.

Officers elected were: president, Capt. Paul Davidson; vice-president, Mrs. K. E. Greene, Granville Ferry; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. H. M. Warner, Digby. The retiring president was Mrs. Emerson North, of Kentville.

Injured In Car Accident

Rev. William Van Zoost, Mrs. Van Zoost, Yarmouth, and son Timothy, Mrs. Bruce Read, Bear River and Mrs. Ruth Raymond, Carleton St., Digby, were injured in a car accident near Kentville on Friday. Mrs. Van Zoost was the former Miss Verge Winchester, of Digby. The victims were taken to the West Kings Memorial Hospital where Mr. Van Zoost, driver of the car, was treated for chest injuries. Mrs. Van Zoost a fractured rib; Timothy, fractured leg; Mrs. Read, concussion and Mrs. Raymond, fractured arm and ribs. All suffered multiple lacerations.

Other injured passengers in the car which was in collision with the Van Zoost car were Abbie Warden, Kentville, driver of the car; Mrs. Everett Huntley, New Minas; and Jack McGee, Kentville.

The Van Zoost car was proceeding from Yarmouth toward Kentville and the Ward on car was travelling in the opposite direction.

Two ambulances from Kentville sped to the scene and six doctors were in attendance.

Miss Yvonne Nichols, of Aylesford, night superintendent at the West Kings Memorial Hospital, was first on the scene and gave assistance until the ambulances arrived. Crowbars were used to free front seat passengers in the Van Zoost vehicle.

On October 7th the Golden Arrow Patrol of the 5th Digby Boy Scout Troop, consisting of John Barrham, Geoffrey Hodgson, William Olsen, Percy Turnbull, Michael Baxter, Richard Olson and Wayne Snow, under the leadership of Scout Master Donald Brown, departed for a canoe trip starting at Lake Jolie.

Camp the first night was on the shore of Sixth Lake where the boys built a lean-to and beds from softwood brush.

The next morning, after cooking breakfast, the Patrol went to Wild Gardens Camps, on Sixth Lake Stream. Plaster, cast impressions of animal tracks, Signalling and Camp Cooking were the main items on the programme.

Due to news of a hurricane heard on the transistor, much preparation was made for the worst. However, Frances did not arrive and the next morning, after an early breakfast, the patrol was homeward bound.

The Scout Leader and members of the Patrol wish to thank those who loaned equipment for the trip.

On Sunday evening the young people of the Baptist Church of Digby will gather in the church hall for the evening service to be conducted by the pastor, included in the program for this service will be a Bible Quiz. This will be the beginning of a series of special youth gatherings to be conducted in the Digby and Hill Grove churches.

Comeau Testifies Attended In Own Defence Guide Meet

Joseph Henry Robicheau, accused murderer, testified on the stand in the case for the first time. The accused was asked by defence counsel P. R. Woolaver, to tell the court about the events leading to his coming to Nova Scotia from Toronto with the deceased, Joseph Henry Robicheau, and also what had happened between the two men after they had gone to Robicheau's camp on the night of November 14, 1960.

Spectators listened in hushed silence as Comeau told his story and later as the Crown prosecutor got the witness to admit that on several occasions following the slaying of Robicheau he told falsehoods to various people.

The accused said that Nov. 11 he had been visiting a friend, Eddie Deveau, in Toronto, when Robicheau came in and asked him to drive him home. He didn't do so at first but later agreed and drove him to a house in the city. At that time, the accused said, Robicheau told him he had "left his wife". He told Comeau of stopping at one place and Robicheau knocking at a door several times before a woman opened it and asked him what he wanted. He said Robicheau was in the house for two or three minutes and later came back and told the accused he had a case of beer.

His other testimony was much the same as had been given in evidence by witnesses before, showing that the pair had gone astray in the United States and were only 151 miles from Boston when they sighted themselves and came back through Gads, Me., and into New Brunswick where they spent the night of Nov. 13 with a friend in Black's Harbor. They crossed the Bay of Fundy on the Digby boat on the 14th and that evening went to Robicheau's camp on what had been described as a rabbit hunting trip.

Comeau said he put some paper in the stove and that Robicheau put the kindling in and lit the fire. They then drank some whiskey and Robicheau kept repeating that he wished his wife, Leah, was present. He told the accused that he had never taken a trip without her. The accused said he had his foot on the oven door and that Robicheau objected and cursed at him and hit his leg. The accused then said that he told Robicheau, "I've good a good foot 15 miles from here and can walk it."

When he got as far as the car out in front of the camp the accused said Robicheau said, "That's as far as you're going, Joe."

The accused said Robicheau was standing in the doorway with a shotgun and fired just as he jumped behind the car. The accused said he ran back into the camp, knocked Robicheau down, picked up the gun and two shells and went outdoors again and shot in the clearing about 15 feet back of the car. He said Robicheau came out of the cabin and went around the building and when he saw him come around the other corner he fired one shot high. Robicheau ran in the camp and about five minutes later the accused said he walked into the camp and that Robicheau "jumped me" and both started struggling for the gun. In a short while the gun discharged and Robicheau fell to the floor. Comeau said the wounded man tried to get up to stairs and then fell back on the floor. He said he listened to see if he was breathing and then he knew he was dead.

The accused continued, "I away from him."

He rebuked the gun and was going to blow my head off but I couldn't do it so I wrapped the body, put him in the car and drove to Bear Cove Road and dropped him where I showed the RCMP later. I then went to Fita Morrisons where I had quite a few drinks."

From then on he said he had slept at various places and went to Yarmouth and Shelburne "trying to hide". He was arrested Nov. 23 at Paradise, Annapolis County.

Cross-examined by Crown prosecutor E. J. Torrance, Q.C., Digby, the accused said he had not known Robicheau very well before they left but had met him on several occasions at bootleggers in Toronto. He said he had never met Robicheau's wife but had seen her before.

Mr. Torrance went on to the accused's story step by step and asked the witness, "The worst purpose did you go to the camp after he had been going?"

Witness: "To get the gun away from him."

Prosecutor: "Why did you keep on going?"

About This and That

National Newspaper Week

Here it is, National Newspaper Week, has crept up on us. We had visitors earlier in the year of having "open house" and seeing that our visitors were so very "up to the nines" in coffee and tea. That didn't wait by the way when it was announced last week that a large party had arrived from Boston and was to be delayed at our shop as soon as we had cleared our custom. Oh yes, the party was a very large one, but it wasn't the reason we delayed it, it was a visit to a shop of tea. The reason was because the party, like a lot of machinery, is a big piece of equipment. To get it into the office, as usual, part of the building had to be taken down and a place for the party and a place for the party to be held. The general approval reminded one of those "open house" twice yearly house-cleaning episodes when an owner of a house always said "Visitors stay out!" But to long we had have things set to rights and make a small attempt "open house" we shall again welcome visitors and maintain only seeing the plant in operation.

Each year during newspaper week we try to impress on our readers the value of this newspaper. We tell them that our news is reported as fairly and accurately as possible without fear or favor to anyone. We extol the virtues of a newspaper in helping to promote town affairs and all worthwhile community projects. We have attempted to show that as a medium of advertising, the local paper is the very best to reach the local people. We shall leave that for this time except to draw your attention to a highly complimentary letter we had this week from one of our Digby girls who has just gone out to prepare herself for a career. We consider Linda's letter one of the highest compliments The Digby Courier has ever been paid. Often people will write their appreciation of the hometown paper but seldom does a teenager take the trouble to do so.

What we want to mention in this column today is the fact that a newspaper is a business like any other business under our system of free enterprise and as such it is operated to produce a profit. That last word "profit" is a must in newspaper work as well as in any other business or soon the business ceases to operate. Our aim is still to give our readers the very best kind of paper possible but we cannot run the risk of giving the best kind of paper in intangible qualities without having that tangible profit to keep it up. It is a great satisfaction to an editor or publisher to know that he or she is promoting something worthwhile, that appreciation for services are expressed by friends, that campaigns have been successful because of the fine publicity received from the local press. The many compliments are heart warming, but again we repeat there is only one type of matter to go into a newspaper which keeps the newspaper in existence. That matter is advertising matter. Free publicity can never do it. Advertising space is the only commodity a newspaper sells. When it ceases to sell advertising it ceases to be able to afford the paper and ink to promote good causes. Yet there are people who feel the function of a newspaper is nothing more than to give this service.

Strangely, the same paper which is considered a valuable asset for publicity is so often, by the same people, condemned for advertising on the grounds that "nobody reads it anyway." Not a bit consistent. Machines, paper, ink and other expenses cannot be met from the revenue of "free advertising." Only paid advertising can keep your newspaper in a healthy condition to remain a public servant in the community.

Rules For Hunting

With the hunting season almost ready to open a few rules of safety are in order. Wear bright clothing. Do not leave loaded guns unattended. Do not climb a fence with a loaded gun. Control muzzle of gun at all times. Remember alcohol and gunpowder, like alcohol and gas, do not mix. Know where other members of your party are and carry the gun with muzzle pointed away.

In Memoriam

SNOW — In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Effie Snow, who passed away October 6, 1951. Always remembered by her family. 7:11c

DENTON — In loving memory of Mom who died April 3, 1955 and Dad, who died October 9, 1960.

What would I give to clasp their hands.
Their dear faces see.
To hear their voices and see their smiles.
That have gone from me.

Two Weekly Publishers In Forefront
Two Nova Scotia Weekly newspaper publishers were in the forefront during the past two weeks.

G. Cecil Day, editor and publisher of the Liverpool Advance, was honored last week by receiving a special award in Civil Defence. The award in the form of a certificate was given to the Advance for the paper's efforts in the promotion of civil defence and was given by the International Association of Civil Defence Public Information Officers. It was the only award received by any newspaper in Nova Scotia for 1960, and is considered a signal honor.

Ralph Morton, of the Dartmouth Free Press, made a departure from newspaper work on Monday night when he appeared on the T.V. program Live A Borrowed Life.

COMEAU TESTIFIES

Witness: "We were still friends. I ran in to get the gun away from him."

Prosecutor: "Did you see an empty shell?"

Witness: "No."

Prosecutor: "Was it ejected?"

Witness: "I don't know."

Prosecutor: "Well you should know, Mr. Comeau, because you reloaded the gun after that."

Witness: "I don't know."

The witness then told the court he immediately went out behind the car and reloaded the gun.

Prosecutor: "When did you fire the first shot?"

Witness: "When he came around the corner of the camp."

Prosecutor: "You saw you hadn't struck him and you immediately put another shell in the gun?"

Witness: "Yes."

The witness then told the prosecutor he was holding the shotgun in both hands when he reentered the camp and that Robicheau jumped him as soon as he entered inside the door. He went on to describe the struggle once more for the gun and what eventually taken place leading to Robicheau's death.

Prosecutor: "Will you explain how the injuries to the wrist and chest of the deceased could have been caused in the position you describe?"

Witness: "No, I can't."

Prosecutor: "I am suggesting that you were holding the gun when it was discharged and that the shot went through the wrist and through the chest."

Witness: "I don't remember."

The accused then told of taking the body to the car and putting some water and mopping up the kitchen as best he could.

Mr. Theriault then questioned the accused regarding several stories he had told various people around the area regarding Robicheau's whereabouts even though he knew all the time Robicheau was dead.

Prosecutor: "All these things were falsehoods?"

Witness: "Yes."

Another witness heard on Tuesday was Madame Rolande Rouen, whose testimony dealt mainly with blood stains found on clothing and on linoleum.

No other witnesses were being called, it was understood.

During the ten day trial 49 witnesses were heard and more than 200,000 words of evidence recorded.

Expect Verdict Today

Just before going to press it was learned from Little Brook where the retrial of Joseph Antoine Comeau is taking place that E. J. Theriault, Q.C., addressed the jury for the crown and that the defence counsel had also addressed the jury. These addresses were over by noon and court was adjourned until 10 a.m. this morning when His Lordship will commence his charge to the jury. In his address to the jury Mr. Woolaver suggested three possible verdicts - guilty, guilty of manslaughter or not guilty.

It is expected by many attending the court sessions that the jury will retire around one o'clock to come to a decision. A decision is expected to be brought in during the afternoon.

Obituaries

John Simeon Darres

John Simeon Darres, who died at Digby General Hospital on October 2nd, was born at Rhodes Corner in 1867. Mrs. Ralph Wright reported that the Flower Show, which she and Mrs. Jack Keen convened jointly, had been a success in every way, and it had been proved that the Digby Regional High School provided more space for an effective display of the flowers than had been possible in smaller halls used previously. Mr. and Mrs. Jan. had judged the show, which they complimented for the quality of the flowers and especially for the variety and originality of the arrangements. Following the show, flowers had been sent to shut-ins.

At the conclusion of the other reports, Mrs. Nichols, the retiring President, thanked all the members for their cooperation during her term of office. Mrs. H. M. Warne then moved a hearty vote of thanks to both the retiring President and the Secretary, Mrs. Blanche Porter, commending both on their untiring efforts on behalf of the Society. Mrs. Nichols had been a member of the Executive from the founding of the organization, first as Secretary-Treasurer during the two years Mr. Russell was President, then succeeding to the presidency, which she has held most successfully for the past five years. Mrs. Porter, although serving as Secretary for a shorter period, has performed her duties with such exceptional efficiency as to make the quality of her service most outstanding. Mrs. Porter also paid tribute to Mrs. Nichols, as well as to Mrs. Warne, who is retiring from the chairmanship of the Welcome Sign Project, which they had jointly helped organize.

New business dealt with by the incoming President, Mrs. Wendell, included the appointment of Mr. Russell and Mr. Beckwith to attend a meeting of the Rose Show Committee in Annapolis Royal, also a further discussion of possible improvements in the Hanging Baskets for next season, concluding with the suggestion that they might be moved from the business district to the "islands" of the boulevard, where they might be more easily kept watered. It was also proposed by Miss Marjorie Tupper that the Society go on record as supporting a tree-planting program in the town if permission could be obtained to plant a few each year.

The usual social hour followed the business meeting. Mrs. Wendell being assisted in serving refreshments by the co-hostesses, Mrs. H. M. Warne and Miss Dora Warne.

Shipyards

Busy

The second of four sculpin druggers will be launched at the shipyard of A. F. Theriault, Meteghan River, within the next month, it is learned. The first of the four launchers, sculpin druggers, was the Mary Patricia, 92 feet in length. It is now fishing as a command of Capt. Lorin R. L. Lumbert. The second boat is 56 feet long and 23 feet wide. Two more druggers, each 97 feet long, are to be built at the Meteghan River yards. It is expected the four are being built for Sweeney Fisheries, of Yarmouth. They are equipped with 40 h.p. engines.

The building of the sculpin druggers means direct employment to upwards of 100 men, and Mr. Theriault uses Nova Scotia lumber and other materials.

Crumpets & Tea

"There'll be crumpets and tea without you," says Eliza Doolittle in My Fair Lady.

The love affair of the British with tea has been going on since 1657 when an enterprising coffeehouse owner in the City of London started serving tea by the cup. In an article called "Tea," Not Lead Diana and Men Gillon write: "Tea entered Europe via Holland where it achieved popularity as an alleged remedy for constipation. Before this European debut its origins are lost in the mists of Oriental antiquity. One legend pinpoints the first cup of tea at 2037 B.C. when a couple of tea leaves fell off a tree into a pot of water which a hygienically minded Chinese emperor was boiling for drinking purposes."

"Whatever its origin, in Britain tea-drinking spread quickly. By less than 50 years after it was introduced, tea was the drink of courtiers, literary men and soldiers."

"Like many other tea-drinking peoples, the British make a kind of ritual of tea. The warmed pot is always brought to the kettle, not vice versa. The freshly boiling water is poured on the leaves, one spoonful for each person, plus one for the pot."

The British regard the American custom of suspending teabags in water as near sacrilege. Professional tea-tasters and blenders in Britain insist that they can taste the material in the bags.

"Nutritionally speaking, tea has little to substantiate the elaborate claims that are made of its powers. It contains tannin (which produces the color, astringency and flavor), caffeine, minute quantities of minerals and vitamin B.

Nevertheless, "A Chinese mystic of the Tang Dynasty wrote 'the first cup of tea moistens my lips and throat. The second shatters my loneliness. The third causes the wrongs of life to fade gently from my recollection. The fourth purifies my soul. The fifth lifts me to the realms of the unwinking gods.'"

So much for tea.

CRUMPETS

2 teaspoons sugar
4 cups lukewarm water
2 envelopes active dry yeast
1 tablespoon salt
5 cups sifted all-purpose flour
Dissolve sugar in 1/2 cup lukewarm water. Sprinkle yeast on top of water and let stand 10 minutes. Then stir well.

Add well-stirred yeast to remaining 3 1/2 cups lukewarm water in a large bowl. Add salt, then stir in 5 cups flour. Beat with a wooden spoon until batter is smooth.

Cover bowl with a clean towel and let batter rise in a warm place, free from drafts, for about 1 hour or until doubled in bulk.

Beat batter down. For each crumpet, spoon 1 heaping tablespoon of batter onto a

"As slippery as wet ice sliding on wet ice." That's the closest scientists can come to describing the smoothness of the coating on the new "non-stick" frying pans in Canadian stores.

No fat, oil or shortening is needed to fry foods and even such notoriously sticky foods as scrambled eggs slide off the coated surface.

There's no magic in this latest household labor-saver. It's simply a method of making a surface so smooth that nothing can adhere to it. The plastic coating called "Fluon" has been used for years to provide industrial bearings which are so smooth they don't need lubrication. Commercial bakery rollers are coated with "Fluon" to keep the dough from sticking. A British ski team has even used skis coated with the plastic to provide extra speed.

Now this coating is being bonded to aluminum pans for Canadian housewives. Ideal for dieters and "cholesterol counters," it makes it possible to fry food without the fat or oil normally used to prevent sticking.

As with any household equipment, the non-stick pans must be properly cared for if they are to retain their usefulness for years of service. The pan will lose its non-stick quality if the coating is carelessly scratched and some manufacturers provide a wooden spatula for stirring and removing food. Also, it is important to note that the pan should not be left empty on a hot stove. Overheating may damage the coating and lead to fumes which could be harmful. Since nothing sticks, the pan can be washed in soap and water as easily as a saucepan and should not be scoured.

Cleaning the frying pan has always been a sore trial to the housewife. So even if she has no dieters in the family, this latest boon from the plastics industry should still earn her gratitude.

lightly-greased hot griddle. When bubbles in the batter rise to the surface and break, making holes, through the crumpet from top to bottom, reduce heat to slow.

Continue to bake crumpets until they are dry on top and beginning to shrink at the edges. Then transfer them to a wire cake rack and allow to cool.

To serve, toast each crumpet on the unbrowned side, and spread generously with soft butter. Serve piping hot. Delicious with cream cheese and strawberry jam. Makes about 21 crumpets.

Nothing Sticks To Fall Fashions Are Sew-able

with Seamstress Abbie Brown

New York and Paris preview have spotlighted this fall's final look—a feeling of mobility achieved by clever draping.

With the pencil-slim silhouette outmoded, skirts will be slightly flared, pleated, or controlled by boders. Jackets and bodices, however, will continue to reflect the "easy look," being fitted just enough to indicate a waistline.

This relaxed silhouette, combined with the new "drapable" fabrics like flowing silk and woolen crepe, should delight the woman who is her own dressmaker. She will enjoy sewing the casually fitted, fluid styles of the coming season and can obtain, if necessary, sewing information regarding the new fabrics from local sewing center experts and the pattern booklets on the newsstands.

Interesting news for home sewers is the introduction of stretch fabrics made available in nylon, wool, or cotton blends, as a result of last season's spectacular acceptance of ready-made stretch pants. The home-sewer will find that when treated like jersey fabrics, the new stretch materials are easy to stitch up and adaptable to a wide range of garments.

The biggest fabric news, of course, is the profusion of crepes, double-knits, and laminated jerseys. Of equal interest are the new airy and lacy weathers. Mohair is back again, this time in luscious garments and bold plaids.

Corduroys are appearing in a dazzling variety of smart and fanciful prints that will enliven sportswear and children's clothing. Corduroy is a favorite home-sewing fabric and it's been the experience of sewing center experts that sewing pros and novices alike enjoy this easy-to-handle material.

Fabric counter will be ablaze with the vibrancy of fabric colors this fall. The muted tones of last autumn have been replaced by magenta, teal, brilliant copper, and a new vivid turquoise called "baltic blue." There'll be lessoden and more emerald and jade green this year.

Evening gowns will be long, slim and glittery, in clinging crepes, chiffons and satins, or beaded, fringed and tiered, reminiscent of the 1925 era. Velvet is making a strong comeback, and huge floral prints in satin will be popular, too. Gitter is everywhere, in everything from jet to sequins, and can be purchased by the yard.

New Wave In Hand Crafts

A new wave in Canadian hand crafts is sweeping the country, reports George Hancock. "It is an unprecedented awakening," he says. "Canadians are suddenly becoming aware of the timeless beauty and everyday usefulness of articles being made by our craftsmen. But the new wave of interest, which only began a few years ago, is catching over the craftsmen by surprise."

Ceramics is still the most popular craft, and its best examples are being displayed in various cities in the annual show, Canadian Ceramics, 1961, sponsored by the Canadian Guild of Potters. In September this show was in Saskatchewan. Then in October moves on to B.C. for exhibitions in Vancouver, Victoria and Vernon. Early next year, the show will visit Calgary and Edmonton.

Other unheralded crafts that are impressing more and more Canadians include enamelwork (from Quebec) and silverware (from Ontario), wood carving, stained glass, weaving as well as the newest Eskimo Craft: things fashioned from skins. In the case of enamelwork and silverware the best work can match examples from anywhere in the world. One craft which has gotten some recognition recently is tapestry making, of which the best-known artist is young Micheline Beauchemin of Montreal. Not only does her work sell as fast as she can design it, but she was awarded a Canada Council grant to pursue her studies in this craft. She used her grant money to import wool from England and Greece and produced 13 tapestries from that material.

George Hancock's report on Canadian crafts also tells about the work of Ted and Susan Harlander of Brooklyn, Ont., whose ceramics aptly fit the definition, "A true hand-crafted article is something delightful to look at and useful to live with."

Evidence of the awakening interest in crafts abounds in cities from coast to coast. Visitors to the Queen Elizabeth Hotel in Montreal or the Royal York Hotel in Toronto can't escape being struck by the newly installed examples of stained glass, custom-printed fabrics, wood carvings, enamel work, and mosaics by Canadian craftsmen. Also in most major cities, more and more shops selling crafts have sprung up in the last few years. Some are directly connected with such organizations as the Canadian Handicraft Guild, others are private shops which deal with their "stable" of local craftsmen, as well as gathering objects from elsewhere.

The new wave in Canadian crafts owes its impetus partly to the influx of craftsmen from Europe in the postwar immigration. But native-born craftsmen are also important in the upsurge. Governmental aid has also accelerated progress. The Quebec government in particular with its program of subsidizing a crafts program and supporting several craft schools has made its province's ceramics, wood carving, weaving—and particularly, enamel work so outstanding that some craftsmen have been able to turn full-time professionals.

Where can you see and buy the work of Canada's outstanding craftsmen? The best way, writer George Hancock says, is to visit their studios. Other ways are to visit the specialty shops, and watch for craft exhibitions like the traveling Canadian Ceramics show, Montreal, Toronto and N. B., St. Jean Port Joli, Que., Vancouver are the largest Bolton, Ont., Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., Banff, Alta., and White Rock, B. C.

Letter to the Editor

Nurses Residence, Jeffery Hale's Hospital, Quebec 6, P.Q., October 3, 1961.

Editor of Digby Courier, Digby, N. S.

Dear Mrs. Wallis: Another Courier arrived for me today! I never realized what a wonderful weekly newspaper we "Digbyites" have. When I was home, Thursday was always known in our house as "Courier day". I would read the Courier as a matter of course, but now, being away from home, I read it, and enjoy it immensely. I find it is easier and more concise to get the news this way, than in letters and it also saves time for those writing me.

I was surprised and shocked people working at diverse crafts in many smaller places, such as Lantz, N. S., Sussex, show, Montreal, Toronto and N. B., St. Jean Port Joli, Que., Vancouver are the largest Bolton, Ont., Fort Qu'Appelle, Sask., Banff, Alta., and White Rock, B. C.

to read in the September 14th edition, of the breaks, thefts, etc. Terrible, isn't it! Maybe if these "vandals" were to leave town for awhile (presumably Digby is their hometown) they would appreciate it more. I certainly am proud to be able to say that I am from Digby, Nova Scotia, and wish that every girl in my class could have the opportunity to see it. Even though my classmates are from various places in Quebec (plus one from Czechoslovakia and two from Egypt), many have shown interest in my Couriers. Gee, I was proud! It may not be much praise, merely coming from a teenager, but I think the Courier is wonderful. Keep up the good work.

Yours truly,

Linda Ellis.

SUNDAY SCHOOL RALLY

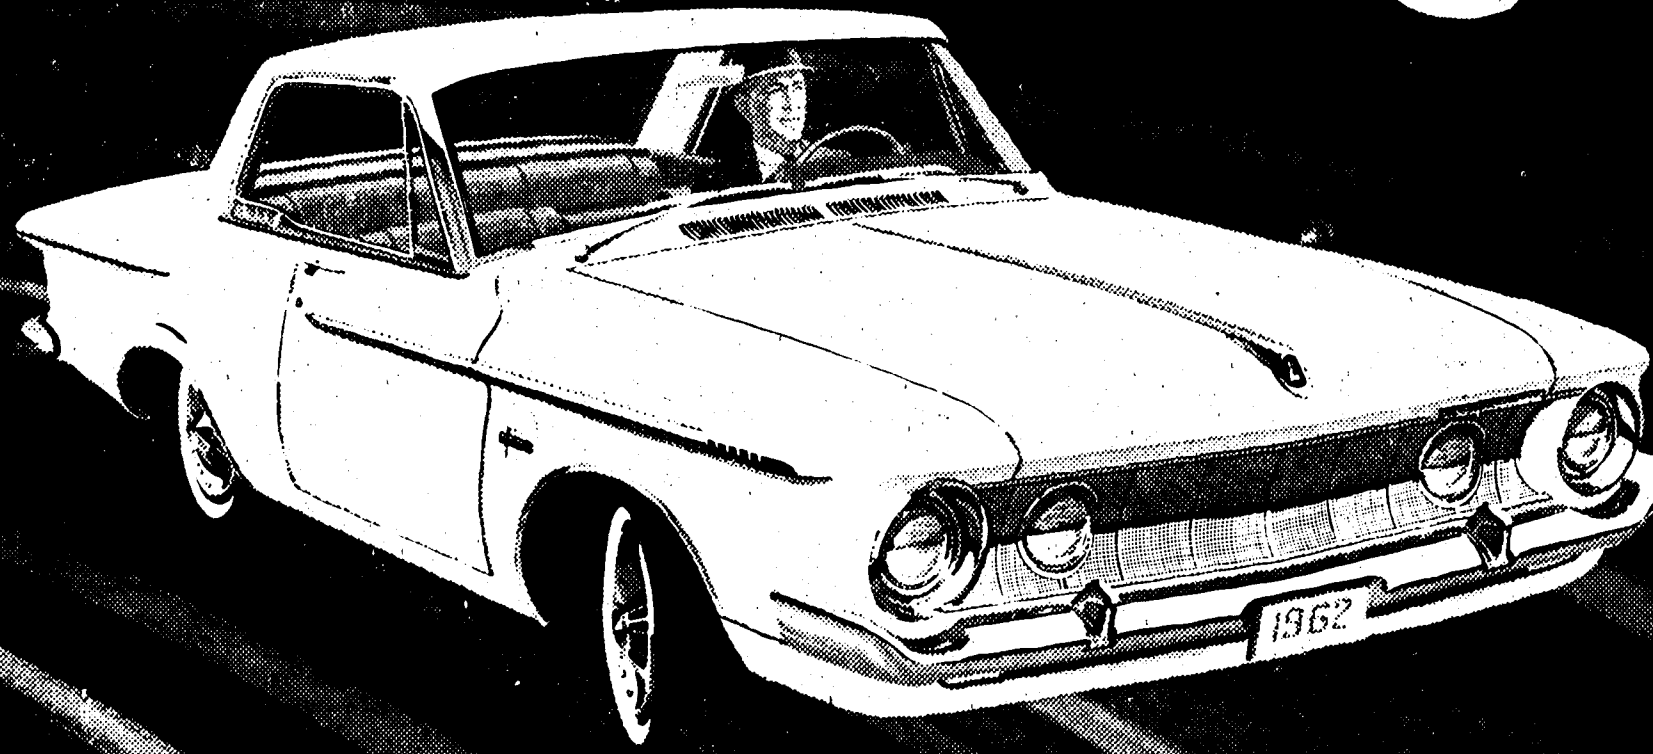

A Sunday School Rally was held in the Little Falls Baptist Church in September. The service was led by the assistant superintendent, Mrs. Shirley Tidd, and a sing song was conducted by the clerk of the church, Royce Elderkin.

The Junior Choir rendered two selections and a solo. Blessed Assurance was sung by Mrs. Royce Elderkin, Mrs. Edgar Trask and Mrs. Adeley Tidd. A duet, I Was A Man, also was sung by Claudia Tidd and Carolyn Raymond.

Rev. L. R. Atkinson, Digby, gave the message of Faith My Lambs. The pastor, Rev. Mac Lellan, closed the service with prayer.

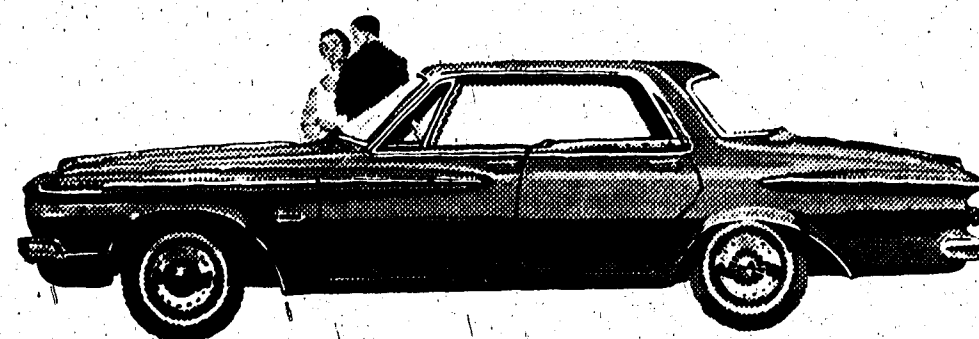

Of the 13 members of the Canadian that was elected the members of Confederation in the delegates to the Quebec conference of 1861, only two were later to become Prime Ministers, Sir John A. Macdonald and Sir Charles Tupper.

THE BURNING QUESTION

WHAT CAUSES THE FIRES THAT MEAN THE LOSS OF SO MANY LIVES, JOBS and HOMES?

Last year 32 people were burned to death — of whom 16 were children.

This year 26 people were lost by the end of August—of whom 13 were children.

There were 2,659 fires last year, with property damage amounting to $3,661,464 — with thousands of dollars lost in wages.

The Human Element is the Greatest Hazard!

REMEMBER—JUST ABOUT ANY CLOTHING WILL BURN

Some clothes, because of the way the cloth is made or because of the style of the garment, are more dangerous than others.

Beware of light weight, loosely fitting clothes, ruffles, flounces, kimono type sleeves, filmy nets and gauze. Also beware of sweaters with brushed long fibres for some ignite easily and burn intensely.

Remember that most clothing fires occur because of the wearer's carelessness. Train yourself and your family always to be careful in the presence of open flames, heaters, stoves and other sources of ignition.

Select the safest material available. If a safe substitute cannot be found, it will be possible to reduce the hazard of some fabrics by flameproofing. Before attempting to flameproof any clothing consult your fire department about flameproofing formulas or commercial compounds that will be effective on the particular material to be treated. Be sure to check the effect of washing and dry cleaning on flameproofing treatments.

Discuss flammability of clothing at civic and club meetings. For assistance and background material, go to your fire chief.

Mr. Everett R. Peck spent the holiday weekend at his home here. He returned to Halifax on Monday accompanied by Mrs. R. Peck who has been here for the summer.

Rev. L. R. Atkinson, an evangelist, was speaking to the masses on Evangelism and the chapel services at Acadia University.

Linda Stark was a weekend visitor of her friend, Sheila Horsey, Rosway. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stark visited at the same home on Monday.

Rev. and Mrs. L. R. Atkinson and Doreen, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stark attended the wedding reception for Mr. and Mrs. Orrin Peck at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence VanTassel, Shore Road, on Saturday night.

Some car drivers ask: Are seat belts really necessary, since most of my trips are short, local trips? The Nova Scotia Highway Safety Council's answer is a firm "YES!" Every time the car is in motion all passengers, including the driver, should be wearing seat belts. Two-thirds of the drivers involved in fatal accidents lived within 25 miles of the accident. Even that short trip to the grocery can be dangerous, so everytime, "Fasten your safety belts, please."

Chester, common ending for English town names, comes from the Roman word castr meaning camp, since many were originally Roman camp sites.

Marriage

Peck — Bremner

A pretty sunset wedding took place on the lawn at the home of Rev. and Mrs. L. R. Atkinson, Bay View, on Saturday, 7 p.m., when Erna Blanch Bremner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bremner, Lighthouse Road, Digby, became the bride of Orrin Peck, son of Mrs. Peck, Bear River. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Mr. Atkinson.

The bride approached the hydrangea arbor leaning on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage. She looked lovely in a floor length dress of white, charmingly lace designed with a basque waist and a full flowing skirt. The necklace was low and heart shaped and the long sleeves tapered over the hands. Her headpiece was a style with an elbow length veil of tulle. She carried a bouquet of red sweet heart roses.

The bride and groom were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Bremner. Mrs. Bremner wore a street length dress of blue brocaded satin with fitted waist and full skirt. Her headpiece was of matching material and color. She carried a cascade of pink and white carnations. Mr. Bremner is a cousin of the bride.

Nuptial music was played by Miss Doreen Atkinson, who also accompanied Mrs. J. M. Wallis in the vocal selection, "A Wedding Prayer".

The bride's mother was attired in a blue taffeta with beige accessories and wore a corsage of yellow carnations. Mrs. Peck wore a grey fall suit with navy accessories and her corsage was of pink carnations.

About forty guests attended the ceremony and immediately after were present at a reception at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Lovett VanTassel and Mr. VanTassel on the Shore Road. A toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. Mr. Atkinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Peck left for a short motor trip through the province, the bride travelling in a coral dress and beige accessories and donned a beige fall coat.

On their return they will reside on the Lighthouse Road, Digby, where the groom is employed with Earl's Esso Service Centre and the bride is on the staff of Wallis Print Ltd.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Morehouse spent a few days in Halifax. They were accompanied by Miss Norma Sitland who had spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. T. R. Lowe.

Where Does That Road Go

By the Wayfarer Man

W. I. F.

So... that's where that road leads! We trust this was your exclamation as you read the first of our little series. "I often wondered just where it did go. Now I wonder where?"

Now wait just a wee bit friend. Don't rush us. You see we are just finding out too. If you have not in the thump years you have lived hereabouts, already found out for yourself you must not expect we newcomers will be able to tell you immediately about the particular road that intrigued you.

However, if you find a road you have in mind which has not appeared in this series, please let us know in a letter addressed through this paper and we will endeavour to investigate.

Now! Where does that road go that leads off to the right as you reach Barton coming from Yarmouth? North Range. It is a nice hard surfaced road for some well over two miles and just before one comes to the D. A. Railway tracks a gravel road bears off to the left, and but a few hundred feet leads past the Old Methodist Church and Burying Ground where the annual memorial service held once a year was held this year in August. The gravel road continues on about a mile and a half to Bloomfield and if you want to turn left at the intersection, three miles further, brings you back to the pavement at Brighton.

But, perhaps you want to follow the pavement beyond the railroad tracks. This brings you to North Range Corner less than a mile further on. Here if you turn left, a road runs roughly parallel to the railroad and the first gravel road of which we spoke. Turning off left again, a mile and say three-eighths further, you are back at Bloomfield and thus on to the road towards the pavement again. But, you say, if there's a North Range, surely there is a South Range too. There is. Go on from North Range Corner past Mistake Lake and turn left and through South Range. That is where that road goes.

has been spending the summer months in Saskatchewan, returned on Monday.

Does this sound familiar? I'm a safe driver and don't intend to get into any accidents, so I don't need seat belts." According to reports from the National Safety Council, the victims in motor vehicle accidents, in two cases out of five, did nothing in violation of a traffic law to cause the accident. They were the innocent victims. As long as some drivers misjudge road conditions and speed, or let their attention wander, accidents are going to happen. And when it does whether the accident is injury producing or death dealing can depend a great deal on whether or not those involved were using seat belts at the time of the accident. Scientific research has proved the automotive seat belt is the most effective single item of protective equipment presently available to reduce the toll of injuries and deaths in all traffic accidents. Use seat belts, every time, for the accident some other driver may cause. This message comes to you from the Nova Scotia Highway Safety Council.

1962 RAMBLER Classic & American

LOADED WITH EXTRAS

What do we mean by Extras? We mean the all-welded body and frame that eliminates squeaks and rattles, adds years of life to the car. Deep-dip rustproofing (6 separate dips) that helps keep that showroom shine. The new Double-Safety brake system which makes front and rear brakes operate independently — providing a double margin of safety. Then there's the Ceramic-Armoured muffler and tail-pipe — guaranteed as long as you own the car. And guaranteed for two full years are the Rambler-Gard all-season radiator coolant and the new Powr-Guard battery — standard on all Rambler models. These exceptional features are all part of Rambler's new standard of basic excellence.

The 1962 Rambler Classic is priced below the low-priced three! It's the car that started the swing to compacts. This young, eager performer gives you the best of both sizes — small size outside and big size inside. It's taken us twelve years to develop this new Classic with the die-cast aluminum engine yet it costs you less than the low-priced three — Ford, Chevrolet or Plymouth.

The 1962 Rambler American is the lowest priced Canadian compact! The American is the Classic's little brother, a true compact with a wheelbase of only 100". It has an exciting spirit to go with its good looks and has won every economy run it has ever entered. This is a good indication of the thought and work we've put into the Rambler American. Yet you pay less for it than any other Canadian compact! See your Rambler dealer today.

AN INDEPENDENT NEWSPAPER

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS AND

First Woman Councillor Elected

The first woman to be elected to the Digby Municipal Council, Mrs. Marion P. Gott, defeated Cecil Jones, at Smith's Cove in the municipal election on Tuesday. Mrs. Gott's majority was 125 against 109. Mrs. Gott was a new comer to municipal council. Mr. Jones has been councillor for the past seven years.

At Plympton, Hubert Shortliffe won the election over Robert E. Morrissey by 199 to 98. Both were new to the field of municipal elections.

Eight councillors were previously elected by acclamation. They were Clyde Cosman, Weymouth North; Warden Ronald Morehouse, Sandy Cove; Walter Wood, Brighton; Eugene Outhouse, Tiverton; Whitney Derby, Westport; Roy Snell, Hillsburg; Victor Finigan, Freeport, and Sydney Westcott, Rossway.

No nominations had been received for the Weymouth and Culloden districts. The new nominations date has been set for October 21.

Gustave Comeau, Concession, won the only election in the Municipality of Clare by a margin of 31 votes in the district of Concession. He polled 111 votes. His only opponent, Leonard Boudreau, polled 80. Total number of voters in the district is 326.

Already returned by acclamation were: Leonard Gaudet, Bellevue's Cove; Gustave Dugas, Church Point; Vincent Gaudette, Little Brook; Harvey Deveau, Salmon River; Gerard Lombard, Corberrie; and Gerard d'Entremont, Meteghan River.

In the Annapolis municipality Ronald Meisner, Granville Ferry, was defeated 312 to 249 by Frank Troop, Granville Ferry, in Ward 6, where there are 778 voters. Harold Riordan defeated Harold Farnsworth in the Victoria Beach area, Ward 7, 133 majority. LeBaron Troop, for six years warden of Annapolis County, was defeated by 161 votes to 130 in a Ward 5 election battle with Firth Balcom. Both men are from Granville Centre.

Returned by acclamation were: Ward 8, Lawrence Snell, Deep Brook; Ward 9, George Jefferson, Bear River.

Hold Youth Conference

About 80 young people and their leaders gathered in the Baptist Church of Digby last Saturday for the fall Conference of the Youth of the Baptist Churches of Digby County. Representatives were present from the Digby, Hill Grove, Bear River, Smith's Cove, Barton, Centerville, Sandy Cove and the Little River churches.

Following the registration the afternoon session opened with a devotional service conducted by the Smith's Cove group, with the President of the Conference, Stewart MacLean, in charge. The Conference Counsellor, Rev. A. MacLellan, of Little River, led the young people in a period of Bible Study and discussion. The young people were divided into small groups and assigned questions for study.

At the close of the study period a recreational hour was held in the church hall, with Rev. Dale R. McTavish, of the Smith's Cove church, in charge of the games and contests.

The early evening session opened with an enthusiastic song service. The devotional period was conducted by the Digby group with Miss Bernice VanTassel in charge and Dancan Atkinson at the piano. Rev. H. S. Hartlin led the conference in a period of worship, using colored slides depicting nature's beauty, to illustrate the wisdom and the glory of the Creator in the world about us.

Rev. L. R. Atkinson brought to the conference gathering an address that was inspiring and challenging in its appeal to youth to follow and serve Christ. The meeting was brought to a close with a fellowship circle and the singing of "Blest Be The Tie That Binds."

The Conference accepted an invitation to meet at Sandy Cove for the Spring Rally.

Golden Wedding

Above are Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Trask, Little River, who on October 9 celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Trask were married at the home of Mrs. Trask's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Denton, Little River, and have spent their lives in the village. The officiating minister was the late Rev. Mr. Martell, of Wolfville.

Home to observe their parents' anniversary were their sons, Leland and Mrs. Trask, and Laurence and Mrs. Trask, Yarmouth. Also home was their grandson, Rex Trask, and Mrs. Trask, Yarmouth. Mr. and Mrs. Trask have two other grandchildren, Mrs. Bruce Raymond, Halifax and Michael Trask, Windsor, N. S.

Services To Focus On Youth

At the service held last Sunday evening in the Baptist Church of Digby a large number of the young people of the congregation attended the worship hour held in the church hall. This marked the first of a series of monthly Sunday evening services that will center emphasis on youth and their place in the life of the church.

The pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, brought a message dealing with the gifts and qualities that David brought to his nation in the hour of its need. He stressed the fact that it is these same qualities — courage, enthusiasm, vision and hope — that youth should bring to the church and the world today through faith in Christ and dedication to his service. The service included an enthusiastic song service. Following the address by the pastor, the young people were led into a Bible Quiz contest.

At the close of the service the young people and a number of the youth leaders of the church went into discussion with the pastor on the advisability of organizing a Junior and a Senior Baptist Youth Fellowship, to include all the youth of the church from 12 years of age and up. This would include any young person in the congregation, whether he or she is a member of any existing organized group or not. The Fellowship would be responsible for promoting and holding two meetings each month — one on Sunday night and the other on a week-day night.

To promote this movement within the church an executive for the two groups was appointed. For the Senior group Bernice VanTassel was appointed President, Riekey Olsen, Vice President and Gloria Joudrey, Secretary-Treasurer. For the Junior group, Dancan Atkinson was appointed President, Glenn Dunn, Vice President and Sandra Raymond, Secretary-Treasurer. Mr. Wendell Collins was appointed Counsellor for the Senior group, and the appointment of a Counsellor for the Junior group has yet to be made.

The next Sunday evening service for the fellowship will probably be held in the Hill Grove church jointly with the Baptist Youth Fellowship group of that church sometime during November. Arrangements are also being made for the first monthly week-night gathering to be held in November.

Rite Of Baptism Administered

The rite of baptism was administered to Susan Michelle Hardy, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Hardy, at Grace United Church on Sunday morning. Two children of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Winchester, Nathan Charles and Roger Warren, were also baptised by Rev. R. H. Hughes during the past week.

Imprisonment For Life

Life imprisonment was the sentence handed down to Joseph Antoine Comeau, Toronto and Salmon River, Digby County, by Mr. Justice J. H. MacQuarrie, Q.C., on Wednesday. In passing the sentence the court asked the convicted man if he had anything to say and he replied, "Nothing at all, sir."

A twelve day trial of Comeau ended at Little Brook on Tuesday when the jury brought in a verdict of guilty of non-capital murder of Joseph Henry Robicheau, Meteghan, on or about November 11, 1960.

Comeau was found guilty of murder by a grand jury at Digby in June of the present year and sentenced to hang on August 10, 1961. Defence counsel P. R. Woodaver appealed to the Full Bench of the Nova Scotia Supreme Court and was granted a retrial. E. J. Theriault, Q.C., Digby, was crown prosecutor. The retrial was the first retrial granted in Digby County. The trial lasting, in all, three weeks, it is understood, the longest criminal trial in the history of Digby County.

Comeau was first charged in the case in November of 1960 following the discovery of the gun shot riddled body of Robicheau at Bear Cove Road, near Meteghan. Robicheau was last seen alive on November 14, 1960. The two, Comeau and Robicheau, had some time earlier left from Ontario to return to Digby County by car and had apparently gone on a hunting trip. Both had been at Robicheau's camp.

Will Mark Anniversary

Next Sunday morning a special service will be held in the Baptist Church of Digby to mark the 75th anniversary of the dedication of the present house of worship as a Baptist Church. The Baptist Church of Digby was organized in 1839 and the present building was acquired and dedicated in 1886.

The service will be conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin. Mr. M. C. Denton, Clerk of the church for the past 42 years, will present a brief historical sketch of the dedication services of 75 years ago and the steps that led to the possession of the present edifice. The anniversary sermon will be preached by Dr. M. R. Cherry, B.A., B.D., Th.D., of the Faculty of Theology, Acadia University. Dr. Cherry is a popular and dynamic speaker, and his visit is awaited with interest.

Special music will be provided by the choir.

Prominent Machinist Passes

George Reginald Weir, 66, a prominent electrical machinist, who operated a business in the south end of town, died at the Digby General Hospital early on Wednesday morning. Mr. Weir was stricken with a heart seizure during the night on Tuesday but was not considered to be serious. He was taken to the hospital late on Tuesday night.

Mr. Weir was born at Deep Brook, son of Mrs. George Weir and the late Mr. Weir, Smith's Cove. He was a devotee of the Digby Baptist Church, a member of the King Solomon Masonic Lodge, was interested in the Fish & Game Association and Board of Trade. He was also a member of the Digby Branch Canadian Legion, having served in World War I, a member of the 75th battalion.

Mr. Weir leaves his widow, formerly Barbara Banks, Edinburgh, Scotland; a daughter, Jean (Mrs. Herman Olsen), Digby; two sons, George Robert, in Toronto, and Edward (Ted), in New York. His mother, who spent the summer at her home in Smith's Cove, left only a few weeks ago to spend the winter in Toronto and will return for her son's funeral. Also surviving are two sisters, Miss Katherine Weir, Toronto, and Bessie (Mrs. Edward Payson), in Vancouver. Several grand-children also survive.

The funeral will be held on Friday afternoon from the Digby Baptist Church with Rev. H. S. Hartlin conducting the service. A Masonic service will be held at Jayne's Funeral Home on Thursday evening. Interment will be in the Baptist cemetery in Digby with the Digby Branch Canadian Legion conducting a service at the graveside.

Service at the church will be at 3:00 p.m.

House Warming

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton McInnis were taken completely by surprise when about thirty of their friends, neighbors and teachers staged a "House Warming" for them at their new home on 2nd Avenue on Saturday evening. The party was headed by Mr. and Mrs. Donald Wallace of the Digby school teaching staff.

A gift certificate for furniture was presented to Mr. and Mrs. McInnis on behalf of the guests. Mr. and Mrs. McInnis were enforced to be "guests in their own home" as thoughtful planners saw to it that chairs, flowers, cups and saucers and all things necessary were supplied to make the party one of fun and complete relaxation for the "at home guests".

Recently Married

Mr. and Mrs. Orin Peck, above, were married recently at a sunset service at Bay View. Mrs. Peck was the former Edna Bremner, daughter of

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bremner, and Orin is the son of Mr. Enock Peck and the late Mr. Peck, Bear River.

To Review VON Finances

Mrs. M. Thurber reported for the Fund Raising Committee at the October meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses that the Committee had planned a telephone bridge which is now in progress.

Mr. James Ayer was nominated to replace Mr. Stanley MacDonald as chairman of the committee. The committee comprises Mr. James Ayer, Mr. H. Webber and Mr. Arthur Robinson.

Thanks were extended to Mrs. J. W. Christie for holding a V.O.N. Tea for those who do not play bridge.

The finance committee, consisting of Rev. H. S. Hartlin, chairman, Mr. Fritz Dakin, Mrs. J. W. Christie, were asked to meet to review the financial situation of the Order.

Miss Valerie Squance, nurse-in-charge, reported 110 home visits — 32 requiring nursing care, 2 demonstrations baby baths, 1 nursing visit to pre-school child, 29 to adults and 1 night call, 72: 72 health instruction and 6 no service calls.

Daisies And Blossoms

We wonder what happened to the daisies and apple blossoms after the freezing weather early in this week. On Saturday, October 14, that beautiful warm day, Kenneth Drew, Marshalltown, picked daisies on the property of Earl Drew and Jimmie Drew picked apple blossoms on the same property.

In Russia they have a TV in every room, only it watches you.

Officers Installed

The W.M. welcomed the distinguished visitors, Sis. Annie Horton, W.G.M.; Sis. Mable Dodge, A.G.M.; Sis. Lauchez Bozanson, G. Chap.; Sis. Florence MacConnell, G. Chap.; Sis. Marjorie Keupen, G. I.

P.M. Sis. Eva Wendell was presented with her jewel by her sister, Blanche Bozanson, G. Chap.

P.P. Bro. Guy Morehouse was presented with his jewel by Bro. Joseph Seadman, P.G.P.

Gifts were presented to Sis. Annie Horton, W.G.M., and retiring W.M., Sis. Eva Wendell, by Sis. Alice Keen, Bro. William Whitman presented Bro. Guy Morehouse, retiring, W.P., with his gift.

Soloists were Mrs. Reginald Weir and Miss Carolyn Arnold.

Previous to the installation a banquet supper was held at the Hotel Champlain in honour of Sis. Annie Horton, W.G.M.

Victoria Beach Man Sentenced

Alton Munroe, of Victoria Beach, was sentenced to two years in Dorchester penitentiary by Mr. Justice J. H. MacQuarrie, Q.C., at Little Brook on Wednesday, following the trial in which he was found guilty of criminal negligence.

His driver's license was suspended for 7 years in Canada.

The case arose from the death of Otis Ellis, 48, of Victoria Beach, who died in a car accident on November 2nd at Marshalltown, Digby Co. Driver of the vehicle was Munroe.

The same accident claimed the life of Ronald Tufts, 17-year-old son of James C. Tufts, Weymouth Mills, at the Digby General Hospital on November 7th, where he was treated for injuries. Tufts was a passenger in his father's car when this car and the one driven by Munroe met head on at Marshalltown. The father was also injured.

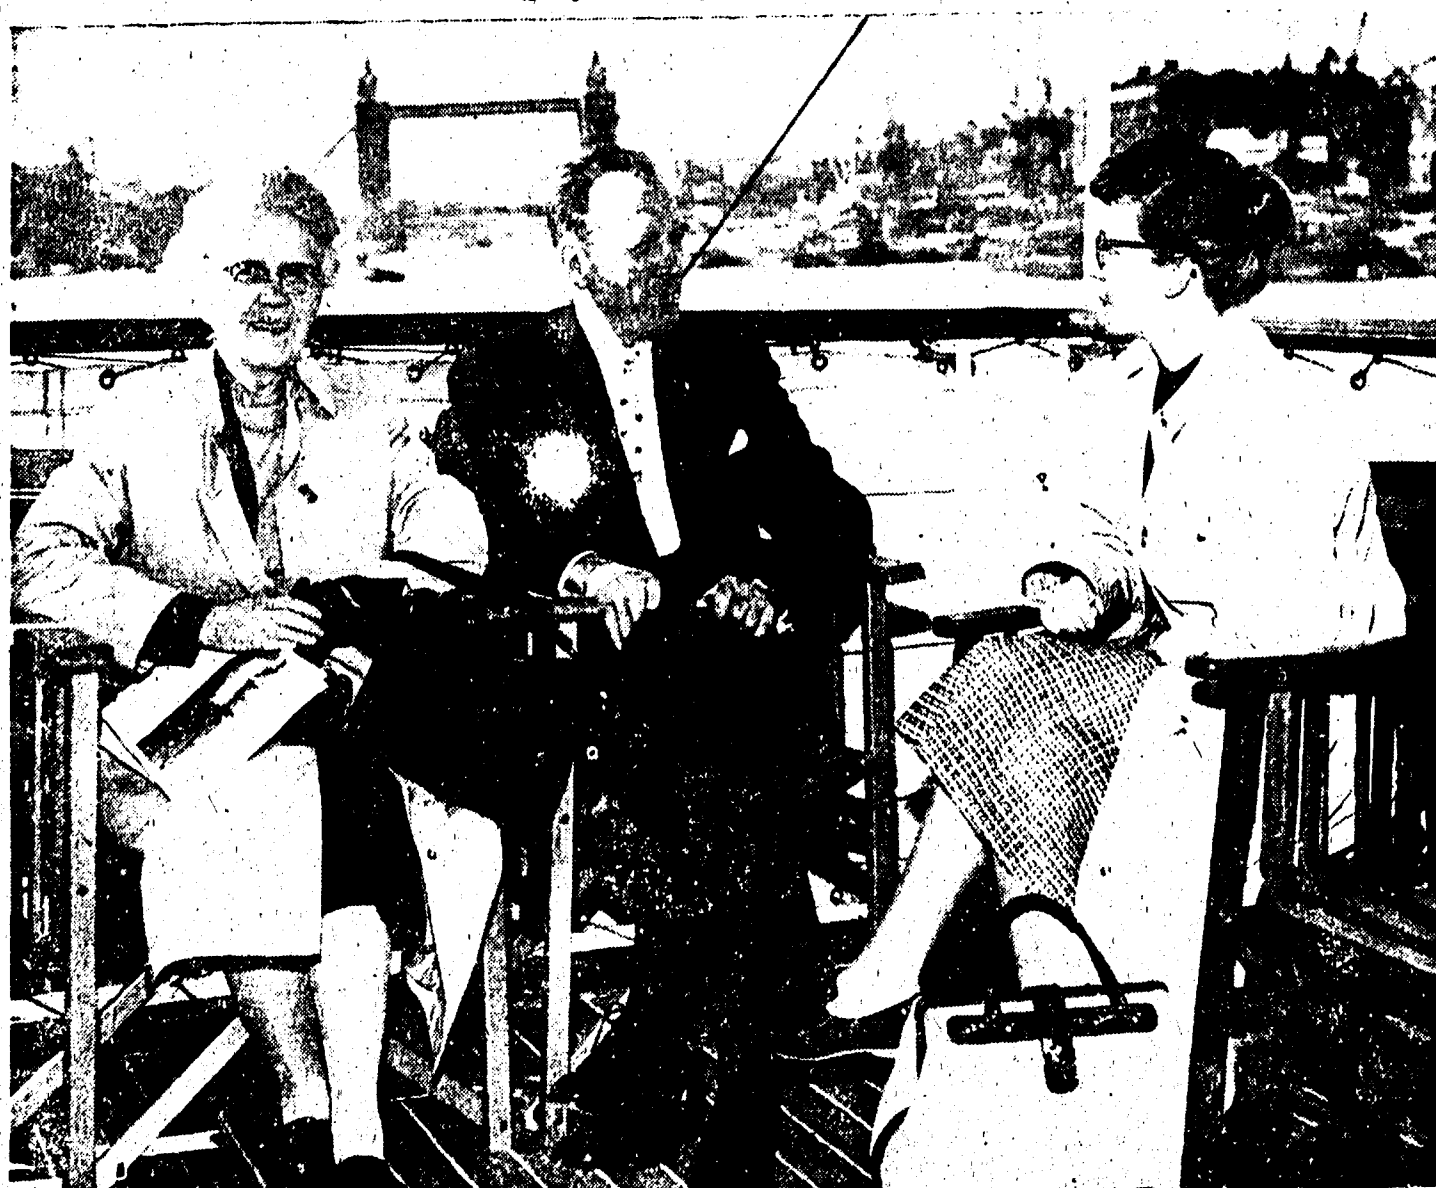

Plan Cantata

Grace United Church and the Digby Baptist Church began practices on Sunday for the Christmas cantata, "Child of Heaven," by Roger C. Wilcox.

About thirty-five voices from both churches will assist in the presentation, with Elton Arnold, of the United Church, as director and the United Church organist, Miss Carolyn Arnold, at the organ.

Definite date for the presentation is undecided as to whether it will be December 10 or December 17.

Digby People In London

Interested visitors in London, England, are Mrs. Fred May and her daughter, Helen, Digby, with Dr. H. Watson

About This and That

National Fish 'n' Sea Foods Week

More than forty observances are listed in our Publishers' local directory for the month of October. Some are worth while, others have no significance whatever for this part of the world. For instance there are National Honey Week, Potato Week, Copport Week, Mountain Week and a host of others. There are weeks to be observed which have no relation to food, such as Save the Horse Week, Cleaner Air Week, Letter Writing Week, Foot Care Week. This is also National Fish Week, a week which should not be passed by without observation. Fish and sea food will not permit even a casual all the observances in the month of October and there are two which should not be missed in Digby and those are Fish 'n' Sea Food Week and Forest Products Week. Both of these fall during the month of October. If we are sincere in promoting industry in this area, we will take the opportunity this week to promote the two industries which are already ours.

First of all housewives can promote the fish industry by serving special fish dishes and serving them often during the week. Numerous recipes are available for fish dishes. In this issue of The Digby Courier will be found a few recipes for fish dishes. Try out some that fit the folks, your Women's Page editor has chosen for you.

Restaurants can help promote the industry by featuring fish dishes this week. Retail and wholesale fish houses can promote their own industry by making people conscious of the fish product this week in such a way that their consciousness will last into weeks to come.

Service organizations can help the fish industry by having speakers to talk on the subject. This is a good week to get together and discuss a fish booth for the Digby County Exhibition. Posters and banners can be used this week or at anytime to draw attention to our means of livelihood, the fishing industry.

Usually one week is set aside to promote some industry, product or movement but there is nothing to prevent any of these observances to be continued into future weeks or celebrated some other week. We cannot eat our way out of our fish problem in one week alone. We must eat fish and talk fish for many weeks to come. What are you doing this week or any week to promote your Digby County industry? The same question can be asked of the Forest Products Week.

Remember October 15 and 16 to October 21 and 22 are Forest Products and Fish 'n' Seafoods Weeks. Two observances which should be of interest to Digby County people. Show your sincerity in wanting industry for Digby County by observing both these weeks.

Forest Products Week

For our part in promoting Forests Products Week we give you the Proclamation by Hon. E. D. Haliburton, Minister of Lands and Forests. We could not express ourselves nearly so well. The Honourable Mr. Haliburton says:

"Nova Scotia's forest lands occupy about three-quarters of the land area of the province. From the forests come products which provide employment and wealth through the many wood-using industries and the wildlife resources. These forest products contribute an estimated $55,000,000 annually to the economy of this province.

If we pause for a moment to consider the contribution of forest products to the material things around us, it will reveal how very important are these products to our pleasures, comforts, conveniences, necessities and well-being.

It gives me great pleasure to proclaim my endorsement of October 15th - 21st as National Forest Products Week in Nova Scotia.

Where's The Sign?

"We have heard so much about the beauties of Digby Neck and Islands" perhaps through the columns of the Courier. "We want to get there and see the fishing villages. Where is it, we find the road which leads in that direction?" These were the queries and comments of an interesting looking tourist couple. They enquired of the right person for that person lived on the Digby Neck road and had been down town shopping. How proud she was to be able to direct the couple up Canada St. turn the corner to the left and on the very next street you turn to the right. You just can't miss it, said the directing voice, because there is a great big sign there which directs you to all the villages, Centerville, Sandy Cove, East Ferry, all the way to Westport. "Well," thought the lady with a puff of the chest, "I've done my good deed for the tourist industry in Digby County today." And so she thought until she started on her way home. Then her conscience began to work. "What will they think of me? What will they think? For there was no sign at the corner of King Street and the road to the Neck. As she put it "Not a blessed thing to tell them where to go." The lady meant well and should have to regret the lack of the sign. Where is the sign? Why isn't it there? Or why isn't it replaced? Maybe it is just down for repairs.

One thing we can say that the Neck and Islands had more visitors this summer than ever before. Or, at any rate the number who crossed the ferries, visitors or local people, far exceeded any previous year, we understand. To judge the visitors we can take a look at the visitors at the light - their addresses are Montreal, Toronto, other parts of Ontario, Quebec, the Maritimes and from areas of the United States. What a tourist potential! Let's not neglect it. Particularly, for the want of a sign. Tourist traffic was up 18 per cent in Nova Scotia this year. Entering Digby were 2936 as against 2896 in 1966. Two ways to keep the percentage going up are by telling them we are here and by pointing out the way.

Watch The Advertisements

Speaking of the lady from Digby Neck shopping down town reminds us of a comment we heard the other day. A lady from the Islands said "The people from the Islands watch the grocery ads in the Courier like a hawk to see where the best bargains are." We don't know of a better place to watch than in The Digby Courier. Also what applies for groceries applies for other commodities we believe.

Give The Children A Place To Walk

The Nova Scotia Highway Safety Council has recently issued the following Life-lines for Children's Safety:

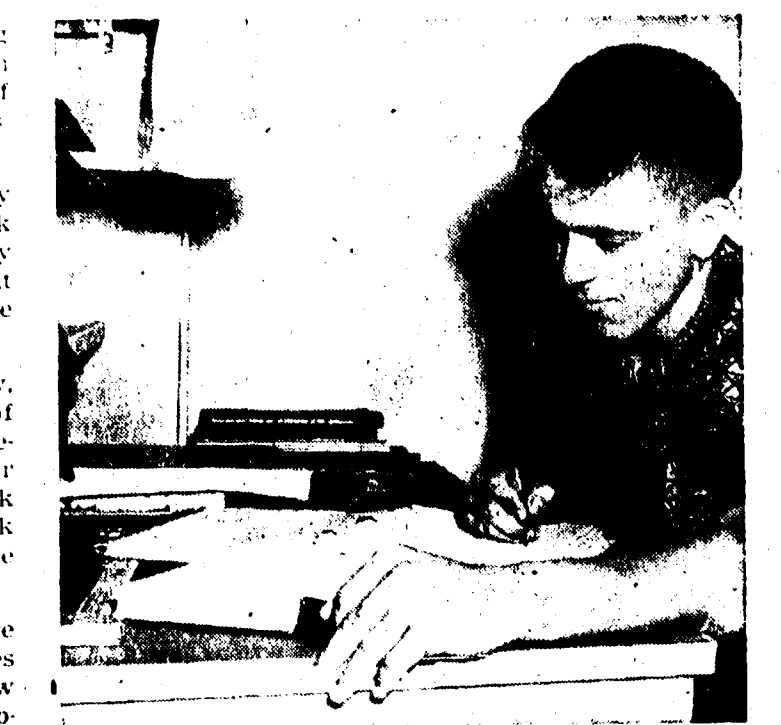

1. When school's out — watch out for children when driving. Think small — and be prepared to stop in time.

2. Anytime is children's playtime. Think small — and protect child life with watchful, careful driving.
3. When driving in residential neighborhoods — think small. Be prepared to give children the right-of-way — to long life.
4. Motorist, remember when you were a kid, and all outdoors was yours. Show your memory by driving carefully so that today's children will be more sure to grow into tomorrow.
5. Drive as if that child near the street were your own.
6. Motorist, remember children don't always think. Are you grown-up enough to think for them when you drive?
7. I wonder where the children are — right this minute. Do you know? According to the Nova Scotia Highway Safety Council, more children are killed or injured while playing in the street than in any other single type of traffic accident. Where your youngsters are concerned, enforce the rule that streets are "out limits."

We commend the Highway Safety Council for all their effort in saving the children's lives by making motorists conscious of children and their habits of play. We agree that children are not always responsible. Their young minds are more concerned with fun and laughter than with safety. Who would deny them the joys of childhood? Naturally, they must be taught to protect themselves but grown-ups must do all they can to make this protection easy for them. Making motorists conscious of them is one way to help protect them, giving them a definite place to walk is another way.

For this reason, we are much in sympathy with the Western Canada Council of Trade or whatever organization or group attempts to be advocating a sidewalk for school children in the village. We, the grown-ups, must do a lot of thinking for children. One way to think for them is to provide a definite place for them to travel. Have you ever noticed that if you tell a child "Don't drop the pretty cup" more than likely the child will drop it on the suggestion drop. On the other hand if you tell the child "Hold fast to the cup" it is quite likely to hold fast to it. Wouldn't it be much better if the Weymouth parents could caution their children "Walk and play only on the side walk" rather than "Don't walk and play in the streets and on the highway."

Back To School

grandparents live in Weymouth, is now at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College, Truro, after 11 months spent aboard the famous "Bounty" as messboy.

They arrived back in Nova Scotia September 17 from Honolulu where the ship was being fumigated for cockroaches and rats which had virtually overrun her (worms were also a problem, he said). Almost before he had time to catch his breath he was on his way to enroll in the first-year degree course at NSAC.

The son of Bounty Capt. Ellsworth Coggins, he was at boarding Grade 12 at Dartmouth when he signed on as messboy last October. He was away 11 months, more than half of them at Tahiti. Besides his duties as messboy he was an extra in many scenes.

One of the strangest incidents of his whole trip was his writing a Nova Scotia provincial examination in geometry while the mufing scenes were being filmed on the top deck.

Church Marks Anniversary

Members of the congregation of the United Church, Clements-Port, recently celebrated the 10th anniversary of the erection of their present building. The cornerstone is marked 1961 and the first service was held there in August of that year.

This church, built by the Methodists of Clements, was a part of the Annapolis Royal circuit and was named Wesleyan Methodist Church. Among the founders who worked long and hard for its success are the names of J. Norman Burns, Capt. James Merritt, W. V. Vroom, W. C. Jones, Hon. W. H. Ray, H. Woodman and others whose memories remain to encourage those now interested in the work. W. H. Ray was the first steward and the first pastor was Rev. C. Lockhart.

Most of the work of building was done by voluntary labor and there were also gifts of material from interested persons. The mortgage on the building was replaced in a few years by the "all clear" and the church was free of debt.

From records found, the section received $12 a year for his care of the building; wood was purchased for $3 a cord, and oil for the lamps cost 18 cents a gallon.

In 1903 the interior of the church was redecorated and a Mr. Bishop, of Bridgetown, did the mural behind the pulpit.

In 1925 this church joined the United Church of Canada. In the 1920s and became the United Church of Canada. In the redistribution of charges in 1940, this congregation was joined to the Bear River charge while the Rev. Reginald Roach was pastor of the latter church.

Anniversary service was held with the pastor, Stewart Russell, in charge. The message was delivered by Padre H. Hare, of HMCS Cornwallis.

It's Fish 'n' Seafood Month

From Newfoundland to British Columbia it's Fish 'n' Seafood Week, October 16-22. Fish cookery is an especially useful art to acquire because fish, although usually less expensive, has protein values equal to and in some cases greater than the best meats, and it's also rich in iodine and the B vitamins.

Fish is also a good source of fluorine and phosphorus. Because the iron content of fish is low, iron must be supplied by other foods, such as leafy green vegetables.

No part of the world is more symbolically represented by a fisherman in sou' wester and oilskins than is Newfoundland. Newfoundland supplies almost one-third of this country's commercial catch of fish.

Of all the fish harvested in Newfoundland waters, the cod is by long odds the most important.

Indeed, to a Newfoundlander the term "fish" means cod. Should you go to a market on the Island and ask, "Have you any fish today?" the reply might well be, "No, but I have a nice piece of salmon."

Newfoundland, however, is not the only province where fish is a main source of livelihood. Nova Scotia, as we well know, produces its share.

Fish and Brewis

An oldtime favourite salt cod dish is Fish and Brewis. For the uninitiated, Fish and Brewis consists of boiled salt cod and "hard tack", generously laced with diced, fried out, fat salt pork usually referred to as fat back. Newfoundland families of all income brackets, and in all geographical locations, serve this dish with varying frequency, especially for Sunday morning breakfast. Directions for making it are simple.

The night before, skin the desired quantity of dried salt cod and cut the fish into pieces. Cover with cold water and soak overnight. Also split cakes of hard bread and soak overnight in cold water.

In the morning, change the water on the fish, heat to simmering temperature, and simmer until the fish can easily be separated into flakes. Drain and flake it, at the same time removing any bones that are present. Bring the hard bread to a boil in the water in which it was soaked. Remove it from the heat and drain immediately. If overcooked, it will be mushy.

Meanwhile, finely dice some fat salt pork and fry it until the pork scraps are crisp and brown. Newfoundlanders call these crisp, brown nuggets of pork, "scrunchions". Some prefer to combine the cooked fish and bread, and serve piping hot topped with the "scrunchions" and sizzling fat. Others arrange the bread on a platter, spoon pork and hot fat over it, and serve the fish separately.

East Coast Fish Crowder

Several years ago, an enterprising club group of home-makers in Halifax undertook to run a tea room. When the subject of menus came up for consideration, it was decided to serve bowls of fish crowder for lunch on Fridays. Each member of the committee-in-charge had a favourite recipe for this typically Maritime dish. Ideas were pooled, tests were conducted, and the following recipe emerged as the overall favourite. Try it sometime for lunch or supper. A big steaming bowlful makes a nourishing main course dish.

- 2 pounds haddock fillets
- 1 pound fat salt pork
- 1 medium onion, chopped
- 3 cups sliced potatoes
- 2 cups water
- 1 quart fresh milk
- 1 cup evaporated milk
- 8 soda crackers, crushed
- 3 tablespoons butter
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 2 teaspoons salt
- Pepper

Cut fish into bite-sized chunks. Dice fat salt pork finely and fry until crisp and brown. Remove pork scraps from the pan, drain, and reserve for a garnish. Fry onion in hot fat until tender but not browned. Add potatoes and water. Cook until the potatoes are tender. Add fish; simmer gently for 5 to 10 minutes, or until the chunks will flake, showing they are cooked. In another saucepan, combine milk, crackers, butter, parsley, and seasonings. Heat, but do not allow to boil. Combine with cooked fish and potatoes. Blend well and heat gently for a few minutes longer. Serve sprinkled with crisp, pork scraps. Makes 8 servings.

Note: The secret of success with this recipe lies in the slow cooking. Incidentally, if a whole fish rather than fillets is available, it is an improvement to simmer the head and bones of the fish and use the strained cooking broth in place of water.

Oyster Stew

Oysters are native to both our east and west coasts. Right now they are in season, so now is a good time to treat the family to a steaming bowl of oyster stew. This is an easy dish. To make 6 servings you will need 1 pint of shucked oysters. Combine oysters and their liquid with 1/4 cup of melted butter. Heat to simmering temperature and simmer gently until the oysters plump up and their thin edges show signs of ruffling. This will take about 3 minutes. Meanwhile, scald 1 quart of rich milk. Add the heated oysters and liquid, then season with 1 1/2 teaspoons of salt and a dash of pepper. Serve at once, garnished with a sprinkling of paprika.

A Preview Of Spring

For a colourful preview of spring, force some Dutch bulbs this fall. All you need to grow bulbs in pots is a cold, dark corner in your cellar and a little patience.

The bulbs must be allowed to root in a cold, dark place before being brought into the light. This takes from eight to ten weeks — or until the bulb shoots are up about three inches. Do not bring the bulbs into the light too soon. Impatience is almost always the reason for failure.

Plant the bulbs in sandy soil, in clay pots, with a few bits of broken pot placed over the drainage hole. Place the bulbs quite close together — five or six bulbs to a pot — and just barely cover them

Soft Hot Colors

The newest decorating trend is Soft Hot Colors — reds, oranges, yellows and purples that are intense and almost violent. So reports Canadian Homes magazine in the October issue. The way to use these new colors is as accents, not for large areas. And suitably, Soft Hot Colors come in Canadian shops as small items and accessories. Examples are napkins, coasters, candles, ashtrays, other ceramics and glassware, woven baskets, hanging fixtures and the like. The appealing thing about this new trend is that you can add it now to your rooms without doing any major make-overs like revamping entire color schemes.

Says decorating editor Margit Bennett: "Two things are news about the Soft Hot Colors. First, the colors themselves. They are off-hues, answering to such names as strawberry and raspberry red, hot pink, orange, magenta, saffron, sunny yellow, lilac, lavender, fuchsia, ultra marine blue and fern green."

"The second news is the unusual, and sometimes shocking, combinations in which they are used. Red, orange, lilac plus blue is one; yellow and pink in the same scheme is another surprise — seldom are such strong colors used together in restrained modern interior design. Thrown out the picture window as well is the rule that you should use more than three basic colors in a room. Soft Hot Colors are used for a multi-colored effect, intended to liven up and stimulate."

Mrs. Bennett suggests that when experimenting with this new decorating trend, start cautiously. Use Soft Hot Colors as accents. Always have a lot of white for relief against the intensity of the new colors. And after trying out different combinations, know when to stop.

Bring Warmth To Fashion

There's a new trim look to coats and jackets this fall due to a "sandwich" approach to cold-weather fabrics: a thin layer of insulating foam between two layers of cloth.

Called "laminates" or "foam-backs", they've sparked an entirely new concept in outerwear. It used to be that warmth was synonymous with bulkiness and winterwear was usually rough and heavy. Now smooth knit jerseys and fine woven fabrics are being given the warmth of heavy blanket-cloth and cold-weather fashions have taken on summer comfort and sleekness.

The secret lies in a thin layer of flexible polyurethane foam, a product of the plastics industry. Laminated — or bonded — to the outer fabric, it is made up of millions of tiny air cells which provide a downy soft insulation. It also gives the fabric "body" and wrinkle resistance, while adding very little to the weight.

The performance of laminates with soil. Then water them often enough to keep them gently moist until you bring them up from the rooting cellar into the light.

Be sure to place your bulbs in subdued light when you first bring them into the sunlight. When the flowers start to open, remove them from direct sunlight if you want them to last a long time.

Select those bulbs marked in your garden catalogue as particularly good for forcing, or ask the advice of your garden supply dealer. All of the Dutch bulbs — hyacinths, daffodils, tulips, crocuses, grape hyacinths — have varieties which force extra well. Do not try to force bulbs two years in a row. You can, however, leave the bulbs in the pots in the cellar until next summer and then plant them in the garden where they will bloom for years.

Marriages

Potter — Kavanagh

Friday evening, Oct. 6, 1961 at 9 o'clock in the United Church, Bepwick, Rev. F. C. Burrill performed a double ring ceremony when Shirley Ruth Prosser Kavanagh, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Prosser, Yarmouth, was united in marriage to Lenley Ross Potter, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. M. B. Potter, Meadowdale, Annapolis Co.

Miss Elizabeth Potter, Yarmouth, and sister of the groom, was maid of honor, carrying the bouquet. Mr. A. J. Lindsay, Bepwick, who sang "O God of Earth" and "O Perfect Love". The couple were attended by Mrs. F. C. Burrill, sister of the bride, and Rev. Vincent Rushton, Canning.

Following the wedding refreshments were served. The guests at the home of Rev. and Mrs. F. C. Burrill. Among those present was the groom's maternal grandmother, Mrs. E. M. Potter, Deep Brook, who is nearing her 100th birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Potter will reside in Aylesford.

Mullen — Steele

The Church of Christ (Disciples), Southville, was the scene of a double ring ceremony, on Wednesday evening, October 4, when Rev. L. B. Nethercott united in marriage Ruby Evelyn, oldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Steele, Southville, and Donald Eaton, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Minot Mullen, Havelock.

Miss Gloria Lewis played the wedding music and Mrs. Leigh Sabine was soloist.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white peau de soie styled on simple lines with three-quarter length sleeves and a waistline designed with cummerbund and a flower centered rosette at the back. Her elbow length veil was silk illusion with seed pearls and she carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Miss Helen Steele, sister of the bride, was maid of honor and Miss Leota Lewis was bridesmaid. They were identically styled street length ated fabrics depends on the outer shell, however. Since all necessary warmth is in the "meat" of the sandwich, the outer fabric can be as light and thin as anyone would wish, but it must also be strong since the foam has little strength of its own. That's why so many of this fall's laminated fabrics are making use of durable "Terylene", either used alone or blended with cotton.

Washability also depends on the outer cloth. If the fabric is one like "Terylene" which has proven washability, there's no need to worry about the insulation. The foamed plastic won't mat, crumble or deteriorate no matter how often it is washed. It can also be safely dry-cleaned.

As for the wind and water resistance of laminates, this also depends on the outer fabric. The foam itself is porous — that's why it traps body heat — so it can't be counted on to keep out the wind. For a coat to withstand the chilly blasts, a tightly woven or knit outer shell is a necessity. For a raincoat, the outer fabric should be shower-proofed.

The old-time method of measuring the warmth of a coat by its weight and bulkiness is no longer valid. A fine broadcloth fabric, backed with foam, is just as warm as melton cloth and a fraction of the weight. New plastics, teamed with traditional textiles, may well change the shape of warmly clad Canadians.

Sponsor Boys' Camp

Les Dames Patronesses of Clare the Colonie de Jeunes-Acadiens held their annual fall meeting on Friday, October 13th at St. Anne's College, Church Point. The Colonie de Jeunes Acadiens is a summer camp for young boys operated by Rev. Lanteigne, of St. Anne's College, at Victor's Lake in Concession. Les Dames Patronesses are an auxiliary group of ladies who were organized to assist in the operation of the summer camp, both financially and otherwise.

The association now comprises eighteen regions being represented in the Municipality of Clare. Nine ladies from the village of St. Alphonse joined the group recently. The association has done an immense job in recent years, mending quilts as well as making new ones, repairing mattresses and organizing fund raising campaigns for the summer camp. It is one of the most energetic group of ladies in Clare and a lot of credit must be given to the association for the fine work accomplished.

It was decided that further activities will be organized to raise the necessary funds for next summer's operation of the camp. A rummage sale has been organized for Saturday. This will follow with a card party and other fund

Taken Ill On Trip

Mrs. Mansford Wyles is a patient in Digby Hospital having undergone surgery last Wednesday. The many visitors, cards and flowers received show the good wishes of her many friends.

Mrs. Wyles accompanied by her husband recently visited Toronto, Ont., the guests of their son LAC John and Mrs.
Wyles, and also to bid Bon Voyage to son LAC Basil,
Nancy, and grandchildren,
Richard and Karen Anne who embarked from Montreal for a tour of duty in France. Mrs.
Wyles was taken ill and entered Digby Hospital almost immediately upon her return.

In Memoriam

COSMAN - In loving memory of Willis Ward Cosman, who passed away Oct. 21, 1959.
There is an open gate at the end of the road,
Through which each must go alone.
And there is a light we cannot see,
Our Father claims His own.
Beyond the gate our loved one
Finds happiness and rest.
And there is a comfort in the thought
That a loving God knows best.

Moves For Talks With Anglicans

The Annapolis Presbytery of the United Church of Canada meeting recently at Bear River authorized Rev. I. Hare to seek ways of arranging talks with local clergy of the Anglican Church.

This action was taken following a report by Mr. Hare on the recent regional Ecumenical Conference at which representatives of various denominations discussed matters of Christian interest.

The meeting, which was under the chairmanship of Rev. Nathan Bowering, Annapolis Royal, opened with devotions conducted by Rev. F. C. Burdill, New Brunswick, and S. Russell, student supply at Bear River, were made corresponding members of the court.

F. Withers, of Weymouth, was named as Presbytery representative on the finance committee of The Maritime Conference and was also asked to investigate the possibility of providing a booklet of information concerning The United Church for the use of visitors and tourists.

The Christian Education report laid emphasis on the provision of training for local church leaders, and suggestions were made for training schools. Plans were made for the appointment of counselors to supervise the various phases of educational work within the Presbytery.

Rev. Nathan Bowering presented the report of the committee on evangelism and social service. Speaking for the committee of information and stewardship, Rev. F. Phinney, of Waterville, urged the appointment of delegates to the forthcoming Audio-Visual Workshop to be held at the Atlantic Christian Training Centre at Tatamagouche.

The Presbytery still had a long way to go to meet its objective for the missionary and maintenance fund, stated Rev. Morris Basso, of Kingston. Almost $10,000 remains yet to be raised. Nevertheless, the Presbytery showed an increase of 3.3 per cent over the same time last year.

The camp committee gave information regarding the campsite at Molega Lake, which is being considered as a possible property for camping purposes in cooperation with the Lunenburg, Queens and Windsor Presbyteries. The court authorized the treasurer, M. Atkinson, of Digby, to pay the Presbytery's share of any fees that might accrue during the preliminary legal investigation.

Rev. J. R. C. Fraser, Bridgetown, informed the members that the Presbytery provisional committee, which is responsible for arrangements in connection with the new women's organization, would be called to meet in the near future.

At The Capitol

The big pictures just keep on coming to the Capitol. I guess that's just why business is climbing back again to its rightful place. An automobile racing thriller and a musical fairy tale. The thoroughly delightful screen version of the immortal fairy tale, with music and color, "TOM THUMB". It's a natural for young and old and just wait 'til you see the cast. On the same program for thrills galore "THE GREEN HELMET", starring Bill Travers and automobile racing picture about the men who love speed and the women who love them. One show nightly on Thursday and Friday at 8 p.m. Extra showings Saturday at 2:30, 7:15 and 9.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, at 8 p.m., the funniest,

Rossway

Mr. Maynard McBride of Waterville, Kings Co., spent Sunday with his grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Charles Theriault.

In the issue of last week's Courier regarding the Red Cross activities in Digby, it was stated extra yarn had been purchased for a Ross-way knitter during the summer months.

whackiest picture of the year, "OPERATION BULLSHINE" in Technicolor, starring Donald Sinden and Barbara Murray. Fall in for laughs! The army had a word for it, an am dress parade of fun! All was peaceful until the girls started enlisting and drawing uniforms two sizes too small. You'll howl at "OPERATION BULLSHINE" in Technicolor for three days only. One show nightly at 8 p.m.

mer months. This knitter was Mrs. Charles Theriault who and Mrs. Ingeborg Worthy has been knitting Red Cross socks continually for the past several years.

Mrs. Margaret Wentzell has been visiting her daughters Mrs. Percy Harris at Sandy Cove, has returned to Sea Wall with her son Willard, and Mrs. Wentzell.

Mrs. Waters Comeau spent Wednesday with her daughter Mrs. Eugene Shaw, Centerville.

Mr. Harvey Peters who is employed in New Hampshire returned home for a short time.

Mrs. Allison Merritt and family of Mink Cove spent Saturday with Mrs. Merritt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Theriault.

Delegates from Rossway attending the Baptist District Meetings at Centerville, Wednesday, were Mrs. Thurston

Miss Harding, Addresses, Cancer Annual

The annual meeting of the Weymouth and district unit of the Cancer Society was held at St. Croix Church Hall in Pympton, Oct. 13th. The president, Mr. Stan. Hallett called the meeting to order by all singing O Canada. A moment of silence was observed in respect to the memory of Mr. Dixon Rice, a former president, who had passed away during the year. The treasurer's report showed total receipts as $1565.04 and total disbursements as $1304.60.

The Welfare report showed 30 patients had received 68 transportation to Halifax to attend the Tumor Clinic. 13 patients had received the services of the Loan Cupboard, and 4 patients had received help with drugs. There are 11 groups making dressings with 78 volunteers; 23210 dressings had been made with 5,986 dressings given out and used locally. Mrs. Fergusson thanked all the workers and made special mention of the group at Gilbert's Cove, who on several occasions had made special types of dressings for emergency occasions. Other members of the welfare committee include Mrs. Louis Melanson, Gilbert's Cove, dressings convener, Mrs. Glidden Campbell, Weymouth North, Loan Cupboard, and Miss Ruth Goodwin, Weymouth, who assists with transportation. The campaign chairman, Mr. Bern and Manzer's report showed total receipts collected during campaign month of April as $1869.00 which had exceeded the quota by $119.00. The envelopes used by the school children totaled $133.11, making an average of 7c per pupil.

Home & School Officers Elected

The first meeting of Home & School was held at the Weymouth Consolidated School on Oct. 10, with a large attendance. The new officers and pres. Mr. Gifford Lewis; vice pres. Mr. E. Adelaar; sec'y, Mrs. DeLong; treas. Mrs. Harley Amers; program chairman, Mrs. Curtis Hanksen; teachers' rep., Mr. L. Stockdale; adult education, Mrs. J. Frankland; publicity, Mrs. Glidden Campbell; refreshments, Mrs. Colwell.

New swings have been procured for the old school. Adult Education classes started are sewing, oil painting, French. Teachers are available for Shellerath, and Home Nursing. In regard to the additional school rooms, to be added, plans have been sent to Halifax and are being reviewed. A discussion on the sidewalk to be built on Highway No. 1, west side of highway from school grounds to Victoria Ave. This was taken up by the Board of Trade in 1959. A solution, petition to be signed by those interested in the area because of the hazard to the lives of the children.

The attention of the causeway leading to the school was also discussed as to its improvement and repairs. To be taken up by the ex. committee.

The staff of 32 teachers was introduced to the group. There are 503 pupils this year. Refreshments were served by the committee.

who contributed. All those who helped to make the campaign so successful were thanked. The Education report showed that numerous pieces of literature had been distributed, also calendars and films had been given by different groups. The nominating committee submitted the following report which was received as officers and members of the executive for the coming year:

Pres. Mr. Stanley Hallett; 1st vice-pres. Mr. Gordon P. Campbell; 2nd vice-pres. Mr. Thos. DeLong; sec'y, Mrs. C. Hanksen; treas. Mrs. J. E. Comeau; welfare, Mrs. E. A. Fergusson; publicity, Mrs. Florence Melanson; Campaign, Mrs. John Shaw; Mr. Bernard W. Manzer; Medical Advisory Chairman, Dr. John R. McCreave.

Mr. Hallett introduced the guest speaker, Miss E. A. Harding, the executive secretary of the Canadian Cancer Society, Nova Scotia Division. Miss Harding opened her remarks with two questions: "Where are we going?" and "Are we getting anywhere?" She went on to stress the growth and development of the society during the past 16 years. At present there are 10 units in the province. The Tumor Clinic had been established in Halifax, transportation services were provided patients while attending the clinic, a cobalt bomb was in operation and the latest X-ray devices were in use. Loan Cupboard supplies were available to all patients, who required this type of assistance, with newer methods of chemotherapy requiring more drugs and special apparatus and the use of more of the hormone drugs in the alleviation and control of cancer disease the society must continue to grow and enlarge. There was still hope a hostel with overnight accommodation for patients attending the Tumor Clinic would become a reality. In the field of education, Miss Harding said there seemed to be a ray of light in that patients were coming to their doctor, and subsequently, to the Tumor Clinic earlier and stressed the fact that cancer in the early stages can be cured. Despite the thousands of pieces of literature distributed, lectures and talks given, films shown there seemed to be a standstill or full in the field of education. In cooperation with members of the medical society, a campaign had begun among the women in Nova Scotia urging them to obtain a medical examination and a checkup from their local doctor. In closing Miss Harding expressed the thanks of the society to all officers and members of the executive, dressing groups and volunteers who had given of their time and services to make

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1961

Mrs. May Rice Conway, a good attendance of members were present and a very interesting service was held under the leadership of the president, Mrs. Odette Milner.

We are sorry to hear that Miss Rosemary Kameg of Ash Grove is a patient at Digby General Hospital. Miss Kameg is a frequent visitor here, and her many friends wish her a speedy recovery.

A number of young people attended a Baptist Youth Fellowship convention, which was held at the Digby United Church on Sunday afternoon. A pleasant time was enjoyed by all.

Schools were closed for the day for not only the children but for the keep trying.

Marriage
Read — Brewster

A lovely wedding was solemnized on Saturday evening, Oct. 14th, at 8 o'clock in the Bear River United Baptist Church, when the Rev. Donald McDermott, pastor of the Kingston United Baptist Church, officiated in marriage Paul, one Georgia daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Elmer Brewster of Granville, N. S., and Edmond

Willard, second son of Mr. and Mrs. Read of Bear River. The bride entered the church in a white gown, a white halo hat, and carried a nosegay of yellow lilies. The three tier floor length veil of hand rolled tulle illustrated the wedding march played by the organist, Mrs. Pearl Porter. The groom was supported by Robert Benson of Bear River, as best man, and the organist with velvet sash and highers were Leon Graham and David Ryan of Digby.

About This and That Solemn Acts Of Dedication

Let us first of all render thanks to Almighty God for the privilege and opportunity given to us to serve our fellow citizens as their representatives on the Councils of our respective cities, towns and rural municipalities. May we prove ever worthy of the trust placed upon us and in all the things that we do may we prosper the true welfare and development of this great land of hope and promise so richly endowed and so resplendent in the beauties of nature.

The above is an extract from the Act of Dedication which was repeated at the close of each conference of the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities. Similar acts of dedication or installation are conducted and representatives make solemn promises as they enter and receive the field of rural, urban, provincial or federal governments. Let us think that these promises are taken on lightly if each councillor or government representative is true to the solemn dedication he or she has made. We wish that more people could be present at some of these installations so that they, too, would realize the part they should play in helping these representatives to be true to their obligations.

Last week saw elections for councillors in many of our rural districts. Right here we congratulate the successful candidates and particularly congratulate Penny Gott in being the first woman councillor elected in the Digby Municipality. We congratulate those who were elected by acclamation. In either case, the councillors are subject to the same dedication of their time and ability in the service of their communities. In a few places no one was willing to subject himself to such obligations. This attitude is possibly not so much fear of the obligations imposed as a lack of realization of the high privilege of service. Before this editorial will appear in print, a new nomination day will have been held in Weymouth and Caledon. We hope in each case that someone will have seen fit to offer his services.

With the taking on of office such as municipal councillor, naturally comes heavy burdens. Weighty questions of educational facilities, community health and welfare, protection of various kinds will have to be considered. Demands will be made by the people. Councillors will naturally try to meet these demands with perhaps the startling realization that while the people demand services they are not so willing to pay for them. Criticism is launched on either side, yet, the councillor is obligated, almost, to accept this without retaliation and continue to perform his or her duty. At least, we have seen good councillors do this. Again, a lack of understanding by the public is responsible for so many demands and so much uncalculated criticism in many cases.

Yes, the councillors will do all in their power to satisfy the public demand in material and social welfare but in so doing they should not allow themselves to be pressured or overlooked one other phrase in the act of dedication quoted from above. That phrase is "We will fight for the ideals and sacred things of the city, both alone and with many."

Town Councillor Nominations

Some weeks ago we wrote in this column on thinking about nominations for Digby Town Council. We would not be so proud as to feel our editorial created so much interest but, no matter what the reason, we are happy to hear that quite some amount of nomination and election talk has been going on. Several possibilities for mayor have been rumored. We have heard some mentioned of people who might possibly be considered for the council. All this is good, we believe, and we hope to see a report of some of the candidates in the near future. We hope that the candidates will be able to give us some idea of their qualifications and their plans for the town. We hope that the voters will be able to make a choice of the best candidate for the job.

Civil Defence

It is a well known fact that one of the most serious threats to the security of any country is the threat of civil defence. Whether or not a nuclear war takes place there is the threat of an over-dose of radiation to human beings through the test of nuclear power. Radioactive materials can cause cancer, leukemia and genetic damage to humans now living so that a person descended may suffer some physical deformity. It is not a pretty picture to paint, yet it is a problem which must be met by every sense of good reasoning and not just as a phase of it is too utterly distressing to think about.

Civil defence methods, particularly radiation, is complicated. There is much to be learned in the subject as a whole and as much is learned of the limits of those in whose hands the nuclear weapons are found. Evacuation, might have at one time been the major consideration, but now it is not. It is now considered the most protective device. We had even at one time heard that a pill was being developed for protection to man against nuclear exposure.

What is being done in Digby in the matter of civil defence? We are not prepared to say. Committees, we know, have been set up but how active the committees are, other than the nursing, we do not know. However, civil defence is a subject which is not being neglected throughout the country and much information on the subject was released through government departments by the pamphlets "Blueprint for Survival", numbers 1, 2, 3 and 4. They are "Your Basement Fallout Shelter", "Fallout on the Farm" and "Steps to Survival". These are available for those requesting them, we believe. Frequently, a civil defence meeting is called by those in charge of operations in Nova Scotia. At present the editor of the Courier is looking forward to a Public Information Conference on Civil Defence to be held in Halifax on November 14th. Usually these meetings are very informative with the latest available on the subject of civil defence. An opportunity is usually given to ask questions. We wonder if our readers have any questions on Civil Defence which are troubling them and to which we might find the answer on November 14th.

Code Of The Road

Some safety tips for drivers who wish to live are:

1. Keep your car in top mechanical condition. Steering gear, brakes and lights are especially important. Watch your tire pressure.

2. Keep your eye on the cars behind and in front of you. Anticipating what the other fellow may do is an essential of safe driving. Keep your distance - a car's length for every ten miles of speed.

3. Stay alert at all times. On long, monotonous drives, stop every two hours for a coffee-break (iced coffee is just as effective as hot for sharpening your reflexes). Get out of the car, walk around, relax for a few minutes.

4. Share the wheel if you can. Don't fight fatigue. Pull over to the side of the road and take a rest. You'll lose a few minutes, but perhaps save your life!

5. Know and obey all traffic regulations, especially speed laws. Speed too fast for conditions is the most common cause of fatal highway accidents. Slow Down and Live!

As Is Our Family - So Is Society

By Mrs. Willis Buckler, Bear River

When I was first beginning my work as Provincial Councillor for the Legislature and Citizenship Committee of the Women's Institute, I received a letter from someone who asked, "Just what could be expected under this commitment?" After careful thought, I replied, "Everything!" This is true, because almost any subject is related to one of these groups, and usually there is a connection with both. The title of my little talk today was the theme of our Provincial Convention this past summer and I think this thought in a different form. Our theme will be Health is Wealth, and I am certain that there is no argument about that. Good Health, both mental and physical, is a must for good citizenship. A family of people who are mentally alert, and physically fit, are an asset to a nation.

I remember when I was in school, probably about Grade IV. Sometimes the ones who made the selection of what to include in our Readers had chosen one that ended part way down a page, and then they sometimes used "little verses or other things as fillers. One of these made such an impression upon my young mind that I have remembered it. It was something like this:

For want of a nail the shoe was lost,
For want of a shoe the horse was lost,
For want of a horse the rider was lost,
For want of a rider the battle was lost,
For want of a battle the cause was lost, and all for the want of a horse-shoe nail.

Young as I was, I sensed the tragedy in these words - but because I was so young, my sorrow was only because a brave soldier has lost his life. Now that I am older, and I hope, wiser, I realize that the real tragedy was not the failure of it all - but the fact that it need not have happened. It might have been prevented by a little more care and a little more foresight.

Have we done all we could? I think not. We are living in times of change and we must change with the times. Laws that seemed the best for us yesterday are outmoded for today and today's laws may be good changing tomorrow. We must be prepared to make these changes. Since this is a democracy we are the only ones who can make the changes, and we need intelligent informed people who will make certain that we get the best possible laws. History very plainly shows that when family relationships deteriorate, it will not be long before the nation as a whole will follow. It was said long ago, "As goes the family, so goes the nation". Politicians and statesmen recognize this, and enact their decrees accordingly. Teachers and clergymen recognize it, and preach and teach accordingly. Magazine editors recognize it, and their recent "togetherness" campaign is an indication. But better than this, the W.I. has always recognized it - and you know just how women will work for a cause in which they believe. As a matter of fact, they have been working toward this very goal ever since they were first organized. When they chose as their motto, "For home and country", were they not simply stating their belief that the home and family determine the way the nation will go? Were they not saying, in effect, "As is our family - so is the nation".

Copy of an address given at the W.I.N.S. Convention, July, 1961. Mrs. Buckler is the Provincial Convener of Legislation, we, through our elected representatives in parliament, have given practical assurance of our belief that "As is our family - so is society", and that the health of the nation depends on the health of the family. Again, this is just one of the ways we have sought to protect the family. Fair Employment Acts, Child Labor's Allowances, Pure Food Laws, and others too numerous to mention, have all sought a way of making to protect the family unit.

Have character - don't be one.

Gary and Dale, Ellis, are staying with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Burton Everett, while their mother, Mrs. Albert Ellis, is a patient at the V. G. Hospital, Halifax.

On Wednesday evening the Junior Young Peoples was organized in the school house, by the pastor of the United Baptist Church, Rev. John W. MacLeod.

Supper guests on Wednesday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Haynes were Mr. Hanson T. Dowell, Q.C., Mrs. Dowell and daughter, Middleton.

Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Kaye and family, Hillsburn, spent Sunday with relatives here.

Mrs. Hattie Bacon, of Port Wade, spent Sunday with her sister, Mrs. Willie Taylor and Mr. Taylor.

Messrs. George and Roger Cosman, Yarmouth, spent

PRIMATE ISSUES NOON HOUR PRAYER FOR ANGLICANS

"The Kingdom Come in my life and my home; in our Parish and in the whole church; in Canada and in all the world. AMEN"

This is the noon hour prayer that the Primate of All Canada, the Most Rev. Howard H. Clark, Winnipeg, asks Anglicans across the country to say daily. The prayer is now in two languages, the Cree Indians of St. Thomas' Church, Moose Factory, having recently asked for a translation. They paid to have it printed and made available to their people.

More than 150,000 cards already have been printed, and additional runs are contemplated. It has been suggested that Anglican business men and women have one of the cards standing on their desks with a supply on hand to give away. Housewives are urged to put them in a prominent place, hospital chaplains to distribute copies during visits, and parish clergy to give the cards to all their people.

SMITH'S COVE

Mrs. Hazel Clayton and Mrs. Mary Snow motored to Milton, Queens Co., on Friday with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Dexter and family, returning on Monday. While there they visited with relatives and with friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Leland Potter and two boys were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. A. Comeau and family.

Miss Anna Height is a patient in the Digby General Hospital having undergone a tonsilectomy.

Benjamin Franklin once said, "Doing an injury puts you below your enemy; forgiving one makes you but even with him; forgiving one sets you above him."

Office gossip travels faster over grapevines that are slightly sour.

the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Casey and Brian, of Toronto, are spending a vacation with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elsworth Taylor.

Mr. Robert Foley and friend of Halifax, spent the weekend with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Foley.

WHEN A CAR IS THIS BEAUTIFUL

YOU KNOW WHO BUILT IT!

Introducing the style of the year has become a habit with Pontiac!

Time after time, Pontiac has introduced the style that was the year's most looked at and longed for. And along comes the '62 with the kind of freshness and fineness that only Pontiac comes up with. New twin-scoop grille. A crisp, low silhouette. Cleanly curving taillights. You don't have to look twice to get a '62 Pontiac! And you only have to drive it once to know that nothing else will do for you. Why not take the wheel and go places with Pontiac soon!

Vivacious, spacious & going places...

"Seat belts are for sissies," some car drivers say. Whether you're heard that phrase or not, don't believe it. Just as workers know the importance of hard hats, safety shoes, and goggles, and the football players know the need for shoulder pads and face guards, so drivers must realize that seat belts should rate a standard equipment. Seat belts belong in any driving situation. Get them, install them, use them.

Our town guests were from Yarmouth, Greenwood, New Brunswick, and Halifax.

WARNING TO DAIRY FARMERS

Dairy farmers across Canada have been warned again of the need for careful handling of antibiotics and chemical sprays.

Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton, authorizing a departmental contribution to the campaign of the National Dairy Council of Canada and the Dairy Farmers of Canada, said antibiotics and chemical sprays were a great boon in almost every field of agriculture but they could be a hazard if not properly used. While his department had some control over the products permitted on the market it could not carry through to the ultimate use the kind of educational campaign the industry was undertaking.

A spokesman for the industry said that 130,000 cheque-stuffers and 101,000 barn cards in English and French had been sent to warn farmers to carefully observe directions for use of the disease and pest controls. This was a follow up to the first warning sent a few months ago.

Letter to the Editor

Digby, N. S., October 23, 1961.

Editor, The Digby Courier, Digby, N. S.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

I would like to make some mention of a special weekend conference being held in Digby, starting Friday, November 3, 7:30 p.m., and finishing Sunday, 4:15 p.m., November 5. The conference is being held at the Digby Regional High School, Digby, under the direction of D. R. Gilchrist, B.A., B.Ed., Supervisor of the Alcohol Education Unit, Department of Education for Nova Scotia. The undersigned attended a similar conference in another town of Nova Scotia, and it appeared that all those who attended were very favorably impressed, and greatly wished that more people had attended.

Without doubt, this way of dealing with the alcohol problem in our society is one of the best approaches to solving it as best as can be solved. I fail to see how any right thinking person should object to this method, but, what is more important, is I believe, that every person who has reached the age of understanding, and knows the value of education, should support this weekend conference, where and when possible. This is surely important to all people, including teenagers, and especially the adults.

The Royal Commission, which made a study of Nova Scotia's liquor laws last year, appeared to favor the idea that alcohol education was a first and one of the most important steps in getting public support for proper enforcement of any and all liquor laws, and that certain law making was secondary to education.

Vincent Snow.

Conference In Digby

Tomorrow evening will see the opening of a conference on problems related to alcohol when registration will begin at 7:30. Subjects discussed will be The Effects of Alcohol on the Human Body and Personality, Alcoholism & Crime, Problem Drinking & Industry. Films will also be shown.

Speaker will be Dr. Ross C. Eaton, A. Keith Ellinwood, D. R. Gilchrist, B.A., B.Paed., Harold Seammell, M.D., C.M., Mrs. Mary Shaw and Miss Edith Retson.

Ross C. Eaton, D.D., is Executive Secretary, Nova Scotia Temperance Federation, Fellow of the School of Alcohol Studies, Yale University.

A. Keith Ellinwood is an author, lecturer and educator and has experience in counselling and rehabilitating with alcoholics.

D. R. Gilchrist, B.A., B.Paed., is Supervisor of Alcohol Education, Nova Scotia Department of Education.

Harold L. Seammell, M.D., C.M., is a Fellow of the School of Alcohol Studies, Yale University, and Executive Director, Nova Scotia Alcoholism Research Commission.

Mrs. Mary Shaw is a mother, educator and counsellor, and Miss Edith Retson is Secretary and Librarian of the school and graduate of Nova Scotia School of Alcohol studies.

The conference continues until 4:15 p.m. on Sunday.

Guest Speaker At Anniversary

Rev. H. S. Hartlin, pastor of the Baptist Church of Digby, will be absent from his church next Sunday, having been invited to preach the sermons at the anniversary services of the First Baptist Church, Lancaster, N.B., on that day.

In his absence, Dr. Ross C. Eaton, General Secretary of the Nova Scotia Temperance Federation, will conduct the service in the morning and give the message. Rev. Frank Smith will have charge of the afternoon service at Hill Grove. At the evening service in Digby, laymen of the congregation will take charge of service supported by the Male Quartette who will present eight selections, including solos, duets and quartettes.

Members of the Baptist choir are now meeting every Sunday evening with the choir of Grace United Church for practice of the Christmas music to be presented at a joint service of the two churches to be held in the United Church on Sunday evening, December 17th.

The young people of the Baptist Youth Fellowship of the Hill Grove church met in the hall on Monday night for their annual Hallowe'en Party. There was a good attendance and a fine time was had by all. The young people of the church are now preparing for the joint service with the young people of Digby, to be held in the Hill Grove church on Sunday evening, November 19th.

Robert Weir, Toronto, and "Ted" Weir, of New York, who were home to attend the funeral of their father, the late G. R. Weir, returned last week.

Only Newspaperboy

Above is Joseph Everett, Victoria Beach, who last week was recognized as The Digby Courier's only newspaperboy. Joseph delivers papers in his home village. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram L. Everett and attends the Annapolis Royal Regional Academy.

Assume Responsibility Speaker Says

"Assume responsibility and do not call upon the government to do the things we should be doing ourselves," said Ted LeBlanc, executive vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce for all Canada, in addressing a banquet meeting of the Weymouth Board of Trade on Monday night. His suggestion for Nova Scotia was to concentrate on smaller industries. He commended Nova Scotia in its participation in the National Productivity Council, an organization which goes into all aspects of all industry in all regions, analyzing problems and suggesting methods and ways of improvement.

Communism, said Mr. LeBlanc, is the real threat to the world today but communism can be licked by prosperity. Communistic countries, he said, are dominated by a few. In some places there is only one per cent of the population and the rest of the people become like sheep and are led. They lose their self respect, liberty and often property. We need to protect our God given rights, the speaker said, and named three of them as liberty, person and property, none of which we can have without the others.

Mr. LeBlanc also spoke on the organization, functions, operations and purpose of the Junior Chamber of Commerce and compared the program of the junior organization with that of the Board of Trade. Their theme he said is "Young men can change the world." The functions include leadership training, self development, promotion of civic responsibility. Among other things the program includes beautification, traffic safety, health and worthy community affairs of all kinds. The junior and senior organizations, Mr. LeBlanc said, are similar in their belief in the Canadian way of life and the free enterprise system. Their creed, he said, is that economic justice (Please turn to page 10)

Hockey To Get Underway

A general meeting of the Digby Industrial Hockey League was held at the Fire Station on Thursday evening last when plans were made for the coming season.

A large attendance indicated much interest in the league and it was decided to again carry on with five teams, namely, Mountain Flyers, Marshallow Hawks, Digby Junior Beavers, Town Crows, and the Digby Fire Department.

Arnold MacCallum and Wallace Hodgson were present on behalf of the Minor Hockey League and both spoke on minor hockey and district league hockey in regards to players' ages and school studies.

The meeting decided to limit the age of players playing in the Industrial League to 17 years before December 15th.

The league expressed a fine season in 1960-61 and is looking forward to an even better season this year because of the early date on which play will commence.

On another page in this issue of The Digby Courier appears an advertisement for the annual meeting of the Digby Ravens Hockey Club scheduled for tonight.

H. M. Warne, president of the club, said that one of the main items of business to be dealt with will be the possibility of the Ravens entering a team in the Western Valley Intermediate League.

Legion At Army Citadel

The Digby Branch Canadian Legion will begin the Remembrance Day observances by parading to the Salvation Army Citadel on Sunday morning, November 5.

Captain Joan Vaughan and Captain Lorraine Luxford, of Bridgetown, will conduct the service in the absence of Lieut. Owen MacPherson. Captain Vaughan and Captain Luxford were formerly stationed in Digby.

The parade lines up at Main Lane at 10:30 a.m.

Hallowe'en Quiet

Police, civic and school authorities, it is understood, are pleased that Hallowe'en went off quietly in the town despite the fact that more young people than ever seem to have gone out to enjoy the festive occasion.

Plenty of soap was used but this is considered a minor thing and provides more fun than destruction. Some six cars at the bowling alleys were dabbled with red "paint" but it is understood that it was readily removed.

Earl Morrell was unfortunate in having the tires of his truck slashed. The truck was in his house yard. A few reported deflated tires. A few traffic signs were removed but none were damaged and easily returned to their proper place.

Partridge, But Not For Dinner

During a final check of the house before a Sunday trip through the Annapolis Valley, Mrs. Len Franklin, 150 King Street, Digby, was literally knocked down by a low-flying partridge. While checking the furnace thermostat, a sound similar to "an explosion" blasted through the room, as a pump partridge burst through a 30"x30" window, and continued through a closed venetian blind.

In several merry swoops the confused visitor was successful in putting practically everything in the room out of place, including the hat on Mrs. Franklin's head.

Mr. Franklin, who was waiting in the car, was summoned, and after a thorough search, Mr. Partridge was found amid broken glass, behind the piano. Although rather stunned, the bird made a hasty retreat when Mr. Franklin released him in the out-of-doors.

Has Old German Bible

Fred Franklin, Acaciaville, brought to The Digby Courier on Tuesday a copy of a German Bible of which he is now the possessor. It was the property of his late wife who was the daughter of Joseph Gates. The Bible had been handed down by will through the Gates family since 1790 when Martin John Gates became the first owner. Records of births had been kept for many years from 1790 on, written in German and later in English. The original owner died in 1836.

The Bible, printed in 1788, is the Dr. Martin Luther translation begun in 1522 and completed in 1537. It also contains illustrations, explanation of Bible characters, the story of the life of Luther and his family and the original speech of Charles V. ruler, at Augsburg, when he sanctioned the religion of Luther.

The particular volume in Mr. Franklin's possession contains approximately 1,200 pages, is 10 x 16 x 4 1/2 inches. The covers seemingly are made of wood and covered, have brass corners and brass hinges attached with nails.

Also in Mr. Franklin's possession is a King James version of the Bible printed in 1853.

Special Speakers In 3 Churches

Members of the staff of the Week-End Conference on Alcoholism Studies which takes place this week in the Digby Regional High School will occupy the pulpits of three of the churches in the area next Sunday morning. At the Baptist Church of Digby, Dr. Ross C. Eaton, General Secretary of the N. S. Temperance Federation, will fill the pulpit. Mr. A. Keith Ellinwood, author, lecturer and educator, will speak in Grace United Church, while Mr. D. R. Gilchrist, Supervisor of Temperance Education, Province of Nova Scotia, will speak in the United Church at Weymouth.

All three of these men have long experience and training in the problems associated in their fields of work and are qualified to speak on the many difficulties and questions related to alcoholism and temperance.

Addresses Lions On Planned New Hospital

Mr. Purdy addressed the Digby Lions Club Wednesday, October 25th, on the efforts of the Trustees in having a new 90 bed hospital built for the community. He stated that if plans can be finalized the million and a quarter dollar building could be started in the late spring of next year.

Mr. Purdy is flanked on his right by Mr. D. E. Raymond, President of the Digby Lions Club, and on his left by Mr. A. J. MacCallum, 1st Vice President, who introduced the guest speaker.

Nomination Day Set Third Time

With no nominations for municipal councillor in Digby municipality coming forth in the Weymouth district on two recent nomination days a new date for nominations has been set for Tuesday, November 14. Election day, if one is necessary, will be on November 28.

Aubrey Forest was elected to the council by acclamation in the Culloden district after the second nomination day had been set.

Kenneth Coutts, of Calgary, Alta., national president of the Young Liberal Federation of Canada, is scheduled to address a public meeting in Bear River on the evening of November 8th. It has been announced.

The meeting, which is being sponsored by the Digby Young Liberal Association, will be a joint one, covering the provincial constituencies of Digby, Annapolis and Clare.

Included among the speakers scheduled to address the gathering in addition to Mr. Coutts are Victor Cardoza, Digby M.L.A., Peter M. Nicholson, M.L.A. for Annapolis West, and Dr. Pierre Belliveau, M.L.A. for Clare.

Bible Society Plans Canvass

Members of the Executive of the local branch of the Canadian Bible Society met in the hall of the Baptist Church of Digby on Tuesday evening to make plans for the annual canvass for the work of the Society.

Rev. H. S. Hartlin, Chairman of the Digby branch of the Society, presided at the meeting. Attention was called to the fact that the goal of the branch for the Digby area is $500.00, and it was felt that this amount could be achieved with proper organization and adequate public information. Rev. John Denchfield was appointed chairman of the Canvass Committee and arrangements will be made for the selection of the canvassers, who will make a house to house call of the Digby area after the middle of November.

Preparations are also being made to hold a public Rally on behalf of the Bible Society before the canvass takes place. This will take the form of a service in the Baptist Church of Digby on Sunday night, November 12th, in which the various churches of the community will be invited to cooperate. Rev. M. C. P. Macintosh, District Secretary of the Canadian Bible Society, will be guest speaker for this occasion.

Kiwanis First With $500

The Digby Courier was informed that the Digby Kiwanis Club was the first organization to come across with a five hundred dollar donation for the Digby Recreation Commission. Above C. V. Snow, treasurer of the Digby Kiwanis Club, presents to Dr. J. R. McCleave, president of the Recreation Commission, a five hundred dollar cheque. It is understood that other organizations in town expect to match the Kiwanis' donation, which was given void of any stipulations. The whole project started when Dr. McCleave, newly elected president of the Commission, made known to some influential, prominent and civic minded people in town the extreme financial difficulty in which the Commission had found itself. While much work was done in preparing the forum for the opening season, and economy seemed to be the key-note in expenditures, according to a spokesman, yet the plant and building repairs exceeded normal expenditures by $2,800. It is understood that different organizations have expressed their intentions of eliminating or greatly reducing the debt incurred.

Gala Opening Planned

The Digby Recreation Commission has planned to open the Digby Forum, with a variety show, according to information of E. J. Tully, chairman of program committee.

The Forum will open on a Thursday night and an extra effort is being made to focus attention on the forum and its needs, the spokesman said. Mr. Tully described the plans and chairs which have to be made to the forum and building and which resulted into a plant almost nine feet and a building normally free of fire hazards. Mr. Tully said there had been considerable donations to date, the Ladies Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion offered assistance and it was hoped that towns and villages in the municipality would see a responsibility to ward the upkeep of the forum.

Highlighting activities at the forum this winter will be the children's program, boys' and girls' hockey, skating, District League, figure skating, labor and son participation and other features are on the winter's program. School supervisors and police have pronounced the program as an asset to the children and one which will do much to prevent juvenile problems, it is understood. Season tickets, it is understood, will be so priced as not to be prohibitive to any child.

Skating, it is understood, starts tonight.

Folk Dance Evening Success

An amount in excess of fifty dollars was realized for the Digby County Mental Health Association at a dance held at the Lions Club Hall on Friday evening.

A troupe of 16 teenagers, under the direction of Sylvia Spidell, came from Bridgewater and gave an exhibition of ballroom dancing and folk dancing. They also demonstrated a Hawaiian Folk Dance when it is customary to greet the mayor. His Worship Mayor V. G. Cardoza was on hand for the occasion. Other dances taught were the polka and cha cha cha. A record hop was also enjoyed.

The evening was in charge of Stanley Moldovan, of the Digby Psychiatric Clinic, who anticipates further evenings of its kind when record hops, dances and instruction classes will be held.

The Lions Club donated the hall for the project, it is understood and merchants also assisted with donations.

The fifty dollars will be applied to the funds from the drive staged for October. With six or seven districts still to be heard from the proceeds to date from the drive in Digby town is $414.84. So far no reports are available from outlying areas Mrs. E. A. Fergusson, Weymouth, is convener of the drive, which has set as its objective $2,000.

Organize School House System

(By Carolyn Arnold) Last week the House System was organized so that competitors may begin immediately. This system was instituted four years ago. Each pupil belongs to one of the four "Houses" and this automatically makes him eligible to take part in the various House activities. At the end of the year the House having the most points is awarded the shield.

This year's House officers are as follows:

Vikings: Captain, Jim Dunn; Girls' Sports, Marg Black; Boys' Sports, Ian Anderson.

Highlanders: Captain, Reg Wood; Girls' Sports, Linda Amero; Boys' Sports, George Holdsworth.

This week saw the beginning of the volleyball season at D.R.H.S. Volleyball enthusiasts are now turning out nightly for practice under the leadership of the coaches, Mr. Wallace Hodgson and Mrs.

Rail Shortage Hinders Lobster Fishermen

Harvey "Buck" Buckle, a lobster fisherman, was in a predicament last week when he could not get his lobster traps to sea because of a shortage of rail cars. He said that he had to wait for a rail car to come to the wharf and then he could get his traps to sea. He said that this was a real hardship for him and his family.

The storm damage to the wharf is understood to an estimated amount of $40,000.

Another two other companies were affected by the storm. The Atlantic Marine Transportation Co., Ltd., of Lunenburg, and the W.L. Fishery in the same area. The latter, however, was not affected by the storm, but was held up by the storm, which lasted nearly five days.

Reports indicate a heavy run of salmon here in the St. Mary's Bay area. Last week's catches took an estimated 400,000 fish. Last week's catches took an estimated 400,000 fish. Last week's catches took an estimated 400,000 fish. Last week's catches took an estimated 400,000 fish.

Fresh Fruit Out Of Season

While leading hotels include on their summer menus "fresh fruit in season," A. J. Cornwell at this time of the year includes in his daily board fresh raspberries "out of season".

Luscious, large and plentiful were the raspberries in the stalk which Mr. Cornwell brought to the Courier. Teen eating them right now, said Mr. Cornwell.

Board Resumes

The Digby Board of Trade, dormant for the summer, will resume its meetings. It is understood, through a conversation with the secretary, Mrs. Penny Gott, Smith's Cove.

The first meeting for the fall is being called by president John Nichols, for Tuesday, November 11, it is understood.

Eide Kihnsman, from this group, both Junior and Senior teams will be chosen to compete with the opposition from other Congress schools later in the fall.

In Memoriam

Capt. Robert W. Hanksin
C.O. — Nov. 1, 1901 — 1961
Dear Father, you are missed.

Those who loved you will miss you more and more as the years go by. As you always were before, fondly remembered by his wife and children. 10:1c

WORTHYLAKE — In loving memory of Awd H. Worthy, who was called home on Nov. 1st, 1951.
"Dad's dead. No! Yes, he passed away this evening."
More tragic words have never stabbed our faltering hearts. But we insist that Dad is not dead. He is truly alive, even more than ever before. For he has taken an eternal journey to that city built without hands forever in the heavens whose maker and builder is the Lord. Thank God, he cannot come to us, but we can go to him. To wish him back to a world of heartaches, tears, sin and death would only be selfishness on our part. Even now, he is enjoying the fullness of happiness, peace, joy, contentment, and most of all, the abiding presence of the Lord Jesus Christ. Ever remembered by his family. 10:1p

TRASK — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Alfred E. Trask, who passed away October 30, 1944.
"We cannot think of them as dead, who walk with us no more."
Along the Path of Life we tread, they have but gone before."
— Sadly missed by wife and family. 10:1c

VANTASSEL — In loving memory of a dear father, Edward Vantassel, who passed away Oct. 30, 1959.
Not dead to those who loved him.
Not lost, but gone before.
He lives with us in memory. And will forever more.
— Always remembered by son James, and daughter-in-law, Florence. 10:1c

HAUGHT — I wish to express my sincere thanks to all my friends and neighbors who sent me gifts, fruit and cards while I was a patient in Digby General Hospital. Special thanks to Dr. Lewis, Dr. McCleave, Rev. Nethercott, the nurses and staff who were so kind to me, also Mrs. Gerald Wagner who so kindly cared for my family. — Mrs. Donald Haight, North Range. 10:1p

WEIR — The wife and family of the late G. Reginald Weir wish to express sincere thanks to their neighbors and friends for the many kindnesses extended to them during their recent sad bereavement. 10:1p

Above is the Westport Church of Christ which recently celebrated its 102nd anniversary. Special evangelistic services were held for a period of two weeks when special speakers were present and gave of their talents in speaking and musical ability. Pastor of the church is Rev. Neil Burt. At the roll call service the letters were read by Mrs. Harold Swift and the roll called by Edgar McDormand.

Juvenile Courts

Something new in Nova Scotia was started in Nova Scotia in October when facilities were expanded to cover the entire province of Nova Scotia, as was announced by Hon. W. S. Kennedy Jones, Minister of Public Welfare.

At the request of the Province the Federal Government proclaimed the Juvenile Delinquents Act to become effective for all Nova Scotia on October 1st. This was entirely new from Halifax west to Yarmouth. Heretofore delinquents appeared before the magistrate. Now, at an advantage to the children, the cases are heard in privacy and confidence in the Department of Public Welfare offices. Judge W. M. Black, who presides at sittings of the Juvenile Court in the western part of the province, presides in Digby every second Wednesday.

The first Juvenile Court in Nova Scotia was established in the City of Halifax in 1911. Subsequently, Juvenile Courts were established for the following counties: Pictou (1915), Cape Breton, Hants, Kings, Colchester (1929), Antigonish and Cumberland (1952) and Guysborough (1954).

The Juvenile Court structure is designed especially to deal with the problems of children. It is not a legal institution but an agency in which society has placed its positive concern for children. The reason for having Juvenile Courts is contained in Section 38 of the Juvenile Delinquents Act:

"This Act shall be liberally construed to the end that its purpose may be carried out, namely, that the care and custody and discipline of a juvenile delinquent shall approximate as nearly as possible that which should be given by its parents, and that as far as practicable every juvenile delinquent shall be treated, not as criminal, but as a misguided and misguided child."

Piggyback Old Hat For Nova Scotia

Nova Scotians might well be excused an indulgent yawn when railroaders talk about the advantages of modern road-rail service.

After all, they had "piggyback" a dozen years before Confederation. In an address to the annual convention of the Retired Railway Employees Association at Sydney, Canadian National Personnel and Labor Relations Vice President W. T. Wilson said the country's first piggyback service was inaugurated at Halifax in 1855.

When the line was opened between Halifax and Four Mile House, farmers drove their carriages to the station and loaded them on flat cars; a box car carried the horses, the farmer, rode for free. After a day's marketing or

Guest speaker for the occasion was Rear Admiral H. E. Pullen, who said that leaders of boys should be able to do three things - impart tradition, moral courage and leadership. Admiral Pullen said most

Marriages

Lowry - Franklin

A wedding of Oshawa, Ont. and Digby, N. S., interest was solemnized recently at Saint James United Church, Dartmouth, N. S., when Joan Laurene Franklin and Leading Seaman Lyle Raymond Lowry, both of Dartmouth, exchanged nuptial vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Franklin of Digby, N. S., and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Vera Lowry and Mr. Norman Lowry of Oshawa. The Rev. Grant MacDonald officiated.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a semi-formal bouffant gown of pale yellow crepe over yellow taffeta with matching accessories. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses. Miss Anne Warner was the maid of honor in a blue broad-clothed nylon sheath dress with a white hat and blue accessories and white rose corsage.

Mr. Ronald Lowery acted as best man for his cousin.

A reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Lowery, Fairview, N. S. For the occasion the bride's mother wore a brown sheath dress with beige accessories. The bridegroom's mother was in rose crepe and lace with black accessories. Each wore a white carnation corsage.

As the couple left for a wedding trip to the Cabot Trail, Cape Breton, the bride was wearing a brown and blue plaid suit with brown accessories and white rose corsage. The newly wedded pair will live in Dartmouth.

Francis - Jarvis

A lovely autumn wedding was solemnized in St. Matthew's Anglican Church, in Weymouth Falls on Saturday, Oct. 21st at 8 p.m. when the Rev. E. C. Irwin united in marriage Evangeline Mae, daughter of Mrs. Beulah Jarvis, of Weymouth Falls and Lloyd Nelson Francis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ansley Francis of Digby.

Given in marriage by her grandfather, Roy Cromwell, the bride looked radiant in a floor length gown of lace and organza with fitted bodice and round neckline. The full length sleeves tapered at the wrists. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a tiara of pearls and she carried a bouquet of pink and white mums.

Miss Joanne Bailey was lovely as bridesmaid in a street length dress of yellow and white chiffon nylon. She carried a bouquet of yellow and pink mums. The best man was Frederick Hill of Digby.

Miss Sandra Jarvis, sister of the bride rendered a solo, O. Perfect Love, and was accompanied by Mrs. Ken Hankinson who also played the wedding music.

Ushers were George Langford and Austin Langford. Following the wedding a reception was held at the Riverside Inn, Meteghan, River. For going away the bride wore a light brown suit with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

The couple plan to visit relatives in Boston and New York during their honeymoon trip and on their return will reside in Church Point.

Doctor Made President

Dr. Harry L. Roberts, of Springfield, Mass., one time a practising physician in Digby, was elected president of the Massachusetts chapter, American Academy of General Practice at the annual meeting recently.

In conversation with Noah Gordon, journalist, Dr. Roberts told of his practice in the town of Digby and why he is partial to the small town practice. Following is the story as taken from an American newspaper.

"Go rural, young medical school graduate."

The new family doctor will gain far more in terms of general satisfaction and income in the small town than he will in the big city.

This is the opinion of Dr. Harry L. Roberts of Springfield, new president of the Massachusetts chapter, American Academy of General Practice.

The rural practitioner who is qualified to practice obstetrics, treat fractures, perform surgery and work in other medical areas, he said at the opening of the academy's annual session yesterday at the Statler Hilton, will enjoy an income greater than the family doctor who is in the city.

Reason? "Greater limitation is placed on what the general practitioner may do in the city," he said.

Dr. Roberts is in a unique position to know the relative merits of both rural and urban medical practice. He is a veteran of both.

The 61-year-old physician has been a family doctor for 39 years. After he was graduated from Tufts University School of Medicine in 1920, he took a rotating internship at Springfield College and then came to Boston for advanced training. He took seven months of obstetrical training at the Evangeline Booth Hospital, then three months each in the ear, nose and throat at the Boston Dispensary.

After an additional training period of three months in the X-ray department of Boston City Hospital, he proceeded to follow a dream.

"I went to Digby, Nova Scotia, to practice medicine," he said.

Digby was a fishing, lumber and farming community of 1800 persons. With him from Boston Dr. Roberts carried a portable X-ray machine - the first to be taken into the Digby region.

"I went up there with the idea of starting a hospital," he said. Within two years of his arrival in the town, a small cottage hospital was founded, with facilities for 15 patients. Five years later, a new building was raised, with room for 35 patients.

And recently, the Provincial Government allotted $1,250,000 for the construction of a large, ultra-modern general hospital - the fruition of a young doctor's vision and inspiration.

Dr. Roberts practiced medicine in Nova Scotia before the advent of macadam roads. Much of the travel done in the course of his practice was across the Riverside Inn, Meteghan, River.

For going away the bride wore a light brown suit with matching accessories and a corsage of yellow roses.

Awarded Fellowships

Three Cornell University social scientists, including an outstanding sociologist and a husband-and-wife team which has participated in Cornell's continuing program in Social Psychiatry, are spending the 1961-62 academic year exploring new ideas in behavioral research and training.

Robin M. Williams Jr., chairman of the Department of Sociology and Anthropology at Cornell, and Charles C. Hughes, senior research associate and assistant professor of anthropology, have been awarded fellowships for study at the Center for Advanced Study in the Behavioral Sciences, Stanford, Calif. Professor Hughes will be accompanied by his wife, Jane Murphy Hughes, coordinator of Projects of the Cornell Program in Social Psychiatry.

Professor Williams has headed Cornell's Department of Sociology and Anthropology since 1956. He came to the University following service with the War Department. He received the bachelor and master of science degrees from North Carolina State University and the doctor of philosophy degree from Harvard University.

Professor Hughes most recent research has concerned values among college students. He also wrote "American Society" and "The Reduction of Intergroup Tensions"; co-authored "The American Soldier"; edited "Schools in Transition" and published many articles in sociological and other professional publications.

Professor Hughes joined the Cornell faculty in 1959. He received the bachelor of arts degree from Harvard University and the master of arts and doctor of philosophy degrees from Cornell. Mrs. Hughes also received the doctor of philosophy degree from Cornell.

Professor and Mrs. Hughes have taken part in several Cornell studies in Social Psychiatry, dealing with mental health and social change in Nigeria and Nova Scotia, and among the Eskimos. Their Nova Scotian research has been reported in "People of Cove and Woodlot: Communities from the Viewpoint of Social Psychiatry" which Professor Hughes edited. They also wrote "An Eskimo Village in the Modern World". In addition, Professor Hughes has published articles in scholarly journals.

Completed in a sleigh or a wagon, behind a team of horses. During the spring thaw the roads became ribbons of mud. "It was not uncommon to have to borrow a rail from a fence to stick under my wheel," he remembered. "And many's the snow bank I shovelled out of."

In true rural tradition, a certain number of doctor's bills were paid in kind. "Lobsters were not infrequently given to pay a bill," he recalled. "We'd also get half a lamb in the springtime, and potatoes."

The doctor still works the 11-hour formal day he has put in throughout his career - 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. The quitting time is very elastic.

Night calls seemed to come much more frequently in the 1820's than they do now. "People have grown more considerate of their physicians," he said. But medical emergencies still arise, he emphasized. "I went out on one this morning, at 2 a.m."

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Small attended a wedding at H. J. Fox on Saturday morning, Oct. 28. Mrs. May Small spent the week-end in a definite time at Bear River Nursing Home.

Mrs. Emerson, Outhouse, Miss V. J. Outhouse, Miss B. J. Outhouse, Mrs. Laura Outhouse made a trip to Weymouth last week.

Not long ago, the tax collector came and was going to take our TV set and sell it to pay the tax, so I borrowed the money and paid them. Three days after we were to it to Lake for a job, the tax collector came to Irwin Boudreau's for the tax and when Irwin told him he couldn't pay the tax, he didn't have money to feed the family, they were living on the town, the tax collector said then Irwin would have to go to jail. Irwin told him he couldn't go, because he had no one to keep house for him, but he took Irwin to jail and left the 9 children and the sick mother.

They needed some fire wood and Pearly Gates sent them a load, on their town bill, and it's old rotten plank so full men have been found employment.

Making The Most Of Meat

It is possible to buy a roast just large enough for a single family meal. (Approximately a half pound of meat per person per serving is a good buying guide.) Most of us, however, hope to get more than one meal from Sunday's roast. It's more economical and it often saves precious minutes of preparation time. But a roast that's simply reheated and carved, meal after meal, can be tiresome by Tuesday. With planning, it needn't be. Any roast can put in three appearances at the dinner table and seem like an entirely new dish each time.

Suppose Pot Roast is your choice for Sunday dinner. Follow it with Barbecued Pot Roast one night and Beef Stroganoff another night for three different meals.

Sunday Pot Roast

- 1/4 cup shortening or salad oil
- 3 tablespoons flour
- 1/4 teaspoon powdered garlic
- 2 1/2 teaspoons salt
- 1/4 teaspoon pepper
- 4 1/2 to 5 lbs. rump roast beef
- 1 1/2 cups water
- 1 bay leaf
- 6 to 8 small whole onions
- 4 to 6 carrots
- 1 to 6 medium potatoes

Heat shortening or oil over low heat in a Dutch oven or heavy kettle with tight fitting cover. Combine flour, garlic, salt and pepper. Roll the roast in the flour mixture, coating it well. Brown roast in hot fat, turning to brown slowly and evenly on all sides. Add 1/2 cup water and the bay leaf. Cover and simmer 3 hours, adding a bit more water from time to time to prevent roast from sticking to the pan. Meanwhile peel onions, scrape carrots and peel potatoes. Cut carrots in 2" lengths and potatoes in half. When roast is tender (about 3 hours) add vegetables and the remaining 1 cup of water. Cover and cook over medium heat until vegetables are tender, about 30 to 40 minutes. Makes Sunday dinner for 4 to 6 people with about two-thirds of the roast left for other meals, or enough meat to make the Barbecued Pot Roast and Beef Stroganoff.

Barbecued Pot Roast

- 1 1/2 cups beef gravy or 1 1/2 cups gravy from roast

- 1 clove garlic, peeled and minced
- 6 to 8 peppercorns
- 1/4 teaspoon powdered ginger
- 3 whole cloves
- 3 tablespoons vinegar
- 3 tablespoons catsup
- 4 to 6 "1" slices cooked pot roast

Combine beef gravy, garlic, peppercorns, ginger, cloves, vinegar and catsup in a heavy skillet with tight fitting cover. Cover and allow mixture to simmer 5 minutes. Add beef slices from pot roast. Cover and heat slowly another 10 minutes. While meat mixture is cooking, scrape carrot and grate it on medium grater.

Remove meat from gravy and put on a heated serving platter. Strain the gravy. Stir grated raw carrot into it and pour over the roast. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

Beef Stroganoff

- Pot roast
- 1 tablespoon flour
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup butter, margarine or bacon drippings
- 1 cup minced onion
- 1 source can sliced mushrooms

1 1/2 cups can condensed chicken soup
- 1 cup commercial sour cream
- 1/2 cup parsley flakes

Slice two or three "1" slices from cooked pot roast and cut into strips about 1 inch wide. Slice enough strips to make 2 1/2 to 3 cups. Combine flour and salt. Roll meat in flour mixture. Heat butter in a heavy skillet. Add beef and brown lightly. Add onion and continue to cook, stirring frequently until onion is lightly browned. Add mushrooms, juice and all, and soup. Cook over very low heat, stirring occasionally, 15 to 20 minutes, or until sauce is thick. Stir in sour cream and parsley; heat 1 to 2 minutes until mixture is thoroughly heated but not boiling. Serve with rice or noodles. Makes 1 to 6 servings. The above recipes were taken from Family Food magazine.

Projects For Girls

Extra money is useful at any time of the year. But perhaps it is around Christmas that teens most wish their allowances could be augmented. Ruth Ellenweig gives some suggestions in an article called "Pennies from Your Projects". She says, "If you are skilled in doing leatherwork, painting on china, making artificial flowers or table mats or designing lampshades or jewelry, improve your talent. Read any books available on the subject at your local library. Work out really individual designs for your handiwork. When you think that your work is professional enough to sell, show your best samples to neighbors or to owners of local shops, either gift, hardware or stationers."

"This is the time of year for knitted items. Many mothers, who haven't time for knitting, would appreciate the chance to buy hand made mittens and caps, cable-knit or jumbo-knit sweaters for their children. You may not be able to take on many knitting orders before Christmas, but you'll find this project popular during most winter months. A supply of baby booties, bonnets and other pretty make layette items is marketable at any time of year when baby showers are in the offing."

"Skill with needle and thread can meet the demand for aprons, tea towels, children's and dolls' clothes. You're going to need a sample of each handmade article to show prospective customers. That's a must! You can keep the expense involved in making dolls' clothes low by using remnants. Think of little individual touches to give the dolls' clothes a special look,

To Avoid Problems Around 1984

About Bedtime

Making bedtime a pleasant, cheerful time and not a time for battles is the key to helping a child sleep well and peacefully, says Dr. Joseph D. Teicher in a recent issue of Health Magazine. In an article called "Your Child and His Sleep" Dr. Teicher says, "Most children do not like to go to bed; they do not think it is fun and they would rather go on playing. Bedtime can be made happy, warm, and comfortable. It is unfair to stop a child in the midst of his play, or a radio program, or reading or homework, and announce that bedtime has come, or order him to his room instantly. He will not like it, and justly so."

It saves time to be unhurried, Dr. Teicher says. "Until the child can put himself to bed, lead him to bed and tuck him in. Bedtime should be an affectionate time, peaceful and untroubled, no matter how much a parent may be in a hurry to get to the kitchen or out to dinner. After the small child is tucked in and kissed good night, pull down the shade or put out the light and it is "good night." Exciting play, horseplay with father, frightening stories told or read do not help the child to fall asleep easily. As it is, a child does not ordinarily fall asleep the minute he is in bed; this average time for falling asleep is twenty minutes. In the meantime he talks or plays."

"The older child needs to be given more advance notice of bedtime so that he can finish whatever he is doing. Children who suddenly remember their homework at bedtime are not unusual. With a school child it is a good idea to ask early in the evening whether his work is done and to see to it that he gets started then. It is not wise for parents to be absently turn at all times about the exact hour of bedtime. Sometimes there are special occasions when a child can stay up later, but by and large, bedtime comes too often to make many exceptions."

such as embroidering a child's monogram on the clothes."

How does the average Soviet consumer live? The New York Times recently contained an article, called "Khrushchev Again Ponders the Consumer" by Madeleine and Marvin Kalb. The authors say, "When a Russian packs a lunch these days, chances are he wraps his sausages, herring, bread and vodka in a copy of Pravda (paper bags are rarer than spatulas), and chances are, on any day, that this communist party newspaper will be devoted largely to a discussion of a new program boasting of a rosy future for the Soviet consumer by 1980."

"Until recently, the daily life of the Soviet consumer was a dark mystery. Although Soviet economists still do not publish comprehensive statistics about consumers, they have in recent years released a few 'average' budgets."

"The Bochkov family is typical. Mr. Bochkov is married and has 3 children. His wife does not work. This is not typical — the social category of housewife is an enviable one. The 'typical' Bochkovs live in a two room apartment and can consider themselves quite lucky; they do not have to share it with anyone. Among them, the three bread winners earn 280 rubles or $10.80 a month. If the Bochkovs are really typical, then Mrs. Bochkov does not have a refrigerator. For her, this means a daily shopping trek. She buys what she finds, and she cannot plan a chicken dinner in advance because she cannot always find a chicken. If the housewife goes to a state store, she needs patience, because often there are long lines outside."

"The waiting list is a way of life for the Soviet Union's consumers. Even the elite must wait — as much as seven years for a car; a year for a television set."

"Stimulated by the flow of tourists, foreign films and foreign fashion shows, the Russian people are becoming more style-conscious. The striped ankle-length cloak and stubby flat shoe are gradually retreating before the nylon stocking and the high heel."

"But the process is not an

At The Capitol

The weekend attraction in both Cinemascope and Color promises a feast for the eye and a thrill for the pulse. Rory Calhoun and Patricia Bredin in a good old fashioned, swash-buckling adventure drama, "The Secret of Monte Cristo". Short subjects on the same program, "Bally Wooney" and "The Saga of Windwagon Smith" in color. One showing of this program on Thursday and Friday at 8 p.m., with three showings on Saturday at 2:30, 7 and 9.

"Ada", with Susan Hayward and Dean Martin, in Cinemascope and Color, will be the big attraction at the Capitol Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with one showing nightly at 8 p.m. "What was the truth about 'Ada'?" the names her husband called her? The stories the headlines carried? Or the tape recordings a lot of people wanted to hear? "Ada" climbed the ladder of success from a Sharecropper's shack to the governor's mansion. "Ada" is based on the best selling novel "Ada Dallas" from the pen of Wirt Williams. The short subject on this program is "Farm Of Tomorrow". Don't forget, one show nightly at 8 o'clock.

easy one. The major problem with housing, food, furniture, clothing — with all the areas affecting the consumer — is that the Soviet Government, which pioneered the centrally planned development of heavy industry, is trying to apply the same technique to consumer production, and is finding that it does not work."

A New World of Worth from Chevrolet

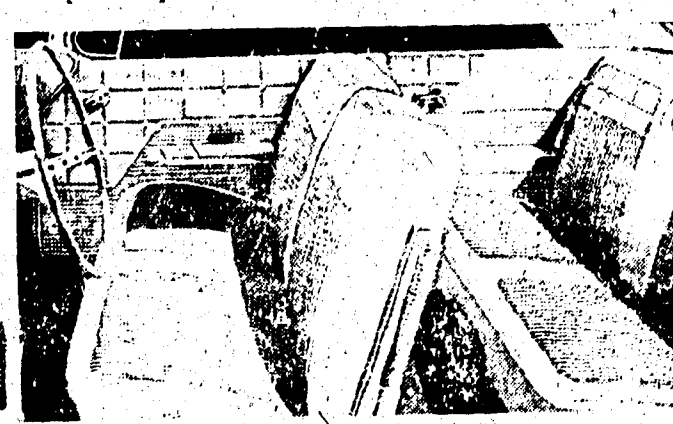

Jaunty new beauty with a road-gentling ride! JET-SMOOTH '62 CHEVROLET

In came the new '62 Chevrolet — and out went the days when you had to plunk down a big bundle to ride around feeling like a king. Look at that fresh styling — clean, graceful, tasteful, isn't it? Imagine opening one of those big solid doors, slipping in, sinking down in those sofa-wide seats and taking in the rich new decor. Now, you switch on your engine—a fuel-shy 135-hp. Six or your choice of new V8 vigor up to an optional-at-extra-cost, 109-hp. whirlwind — and go, man, go. Isn't that Jet-smooth ride something, though? At each wheel a big steel coil spring turning the road into cream and over 700 sound and vibration insulators turning the car into one big quiet zone. Ahead of you are front fenders with steel underskirts that give extra protection against rust, slush and stones — what won't our engineers come up with next? Behind you there's that goods-gobbling deep-well trunk. And, in between, you'll find one fine car feature after another, along with Body by Fisher quality. Really, about the only thing the new Jet-smooth '62 Chevrolet leaves to be desired is—a prompt powwow with your Chevrolet dealer. Whichever! Times Optional at Extra Cost

And inside—beautiful new ways to bolster your pride!

The Impala Sport Coupe interior, at right, shows just a sample of how Chevrolet makes you more than pleased and proud of your exciting new '62 car. Deep soft seats. Thick deep-twist carpeting. Plush new upholstery in a host of new color combinations. And, of course, you're surrounded by the unmistakable, and unbeatable craftsmanship of Body by Fisher. When Chevrolet gives you so much, who needs pay more? See your Chevrolet dealer today!

CHANGE DIAL SYSTEM

A complete new installation of dial telephone equipment is contemplated for the Weymouth office as crews from the Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Co. Ltd., work in construction and installation projects in the village. The change is deemed necessary because of increased use of telephone facilities. It is understood that the change-over to the new equipment will be made early in January.

With the new installation telephone numbers of all Weymouth subscribers will be changed in order that they may be in with the continent-wide telephone numbering plan. The proposed new numbers will have 7 digits but in making local calls only the last five will need to be dialed, subscribers have been advised in a letter received this week from the company.

Weymouth has had a dial system in effect for about 25 years being one of the first villages to be converted to this system. At present the numbers have three digits. About six years ago a modern new brick building was constructed for the Maritime

Organize Cadet Corps

The Army Cadet Corps No. 2676 has again been organized in the Weymouth Consolidated School, training being carried on every Thursday evening at 1700 hours. Since there are no activity periods at the school this year, cadets are required to provide their own transportation for parade in the evenings.

Chief instructor is Lt. J. R. Doucet, assisted by Mr. Gordon Campbell. The following boys have been given promotions and lead the corps: Cadet Lt. W. Blynn, Cadet Corporals: D. Comeau, Ivan Lewis, David Coggins, Cadet Sgt.: Roger Hankinson, plus his platoon duties, helps with the Q.M. Stores.

Lt. Doucet reports that he is satisfied with the training progress, also with the course, reports he has received on behalf of the Cadets who attended a leaders' course at Aldershot during the summer. Lt. Doucet is at present trying to locate a suitable place in Weymouth for an indoor shooting range.

On Thursday, Oct. 26, certificates for Fundamentals of First Aid, were presented to the following boys, after having passed the course of instruction at Aldershot, Aug. 10th: Cadet Lt. Wayne Blynn, Cadet Sgt. Roger Hankinson, Cadet Cpl. David Coggins, Cadet Cpl. David Comeau, Cadet Cpl. Ivan Lewis, Cadet Alvin Williams.

Congratulations is extended to the boys and their instructors.

Mr. LeBlanc was introduced by the president, Gifford Lewis, who also presided at the meeting and he was thanked by Dr. H. J. Pothier.

Another important part of the program on Monday was the interesting and instructive report presented by Mr. Adelaar on the 32nd annual Chamber of Commerce meeting held in Halifax. In conclusion to his report Mr. Adelaar urged the members of the Board of Trade to not only pay dues but to share their ideas and suggestions. He said the Weymouth community has brains which should be shared for the prosperity of all. He strongly advocated that Clare, Weymouth and Digby and Island Boards unite in their efforts to go after new industry for if a new industry is established in one of these districts it will be beneficial to all the others. He suggested that this part of Nova Scotia should attempt to manufacture goods of a kind imported from Canada and not made in Canada.

Mr. Adelaar reported on the various phases of interests of the national Chamber of Commerce. One was productivity. The speaker said that in our country we stand for free enterprise and if we want to maintain a good standard we should go after an increase in foreign markets and an increase in productivity at home. He mentioned other nations which had made rapid strides in the past few years. He said that the wages should be kept at the same level but that we should produce more for prosperity.

Another urgent question to be studied by Trade Boards, Mr. Adelaar said, was our method of taxation. Freight rates was another problem to be met, said the speaker, who had presented to the national meeting a resolution from the Weymouth Board on the subject. The Weymouth resolution, he said, did not proceed because it failed to have the requirements for presentation. He suggested it be re-worked for another presentation. He highly commended the Canadian Chamber of Commerce on its influence and traced the work particularly of the national policy committee which presents resolutions for discussion. These resolutions are voted on at the last day of the meet and are then presented to the federal cabinet. He said that the cabinet carefully listens to suggestions from the Commerce Chamber and often government policies are formulated from these suggestions. Subjects to which the chamber gives attention, Mr. Adelaar said, are freedom of enterprise, business relations, marketing, education, immigration, health, natural resources, manufacturing, effects of communism, employment and numerous other subjects of national interest.

Mr. Adelaar was thanked for his comprehensive report by President Lewis. Mr. Adelaar is a director of the Boards of Trade of the Maritime Provinces and 1st vice president of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade.

Catering for the banquet was a woman's group of the Ashmore Baptist Church.

AWARD-WINNING SYMBOL: The new Canadian National trademark was one of only three winning designs chosen from 1,666 entries in Typography '61, the annual showing of the best in Canadian typography. The trademark made its first appearance on box cars during the past spring, has now been applied to rolling stock, trucks, stations and other buildings, telegraph blanks and stationery forms and will appear on a new series of passenger tickets soon. Allan Fleming, designer of the symbol, and Charles Harris, CNR's Director of Public Relations, discuss its application to the front of a diesel locomotive.

How do I save?

When it comes to saving here's a trick worth knowing. Avoid writing cheques against your Savings Account. Impossible? Not at all! Just open a Personal Chequing Account at the "Royal" and use it for paying bills.

Then you can keep your Savings Account strictly for saving. The bank calls this the 2-Account Plan—a sure-fire way to save. It makes sense. It's business-like. And it's easy...Why don't you give it a try?

At P.C. Annual In Halifax

Over a private joke with occasion. One speaker included Mr. George Nowlan, federal member for Digby-Annapolis-Kings. Nowlan, Premier Stanfield during sessions of the annual Progressive Conservative meeting for Nova Scotia, held Thursday at the Windsor Hotel in Halifax. During the past weekend in Halifax president of the Pro-

Young Liberals Meet At Bear River

Remembrance Day In Digby Area

An impressive "act of remembrance" was performed at the Capitol Theatre as Digby citizens gathered to honor their war dead. The program, under the direction of Melvin Nixon, of Digby Branch, Canadian Legion, opened with a parade of the colors. It was followed by the reading by Guy VanTassel of the names of those from Digby who had given their lives in the two world wars and veterans who had passed on since last Remembrance Day.

Digby Board Continues

A motion to suspend operations of the Digby Board of Trade for a year was defeated at a meeting held at the town council chamber on Tuesday evening. Only two of the twelve present voted in favor of the motion. On motion of Edward Twohig, seconded by Fred Stoddard, it was decided to continue the Digby Board of Trade as an active body. In making the motion Mr. Twohig also included that the president, John Nichols, contact A. Ross, of the Halifax Board of Trade, and A. Parkes, of the Maritime Boards, to meet with the executive to study the ills of the Digby Board and formulate some plans for reactivating and rejuvenating the Board. These plans are to be presented at a future meeting, date of which is to be set.

Mrs. Fiefield To Talk On Youth Program

The monthly Sunday evening service of the Baptist Youth Fellowship of the Digby church will be held tonight with the young people of the Hill Grove B.Y.F. next Sunday night in the Hill Grove church at 7:30 p.m. The Digby group is made up of both the Junior High and the Senior High Fellowship. At the service the music will be led by the Hill Grove young people, with special music provided by both the Hill Grove and Digby groups. The young people will also assist in other parts of the service.

Talks On Bible Society Work

Rev. M. P. MacIntosh, District Secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, Nova Scotia and Newfoundland Branch, was guest speaker at the Digby Baptist Church on Sunday evening. In preparation for the 150th anniversary of the Bible Society in 1963, Rev. Mr. MacIntosh had looked into the history of the society in Digby and found an active society in 1800. Approximately fifty years ago such names as Monroe, England, Saunders, Turnbull and Lett were in office of the society in Digby.

Comeau On Municipal Council

John Comeau, Weymouth was elected by acclamation as councillor for the district of Weymouth in the Municipality of Digby. Mr. Comeau, who is a car dealer in Digby, resides in Weymouth and is a commissioner of that village. He is a member of the Weymouth Board of Trade and active in church and community affairs. Mr. and Mrs. Comeau have three children, Margaret Ann, Lionel Stephen and Candace. Tuesday was the third day set for nominations for the Weymouth district. The former two nomination days failed to produce a name to fill the council seat.

Nomination Papers Filed

Nominations for the post-May 16th Town of Digby election were filed this week at the office of Vernon L. Bell, clerk under school. Nominations for town councillors filed before time of going to press were for Ross, Atkinson and Ray. Mr. Bent, who has served 1 year on the town council has been deputy mayor for the past two years. His term of office as councillor expires this year. Mayor of the town for the past three years was V. G. Cardoza, who had also served on the council for six years.

Toesin Bravo II Quiet In Digby

No explanation has yet been found for the complete darkness in which Digby and Cornwallis were shrouded for approximately five minutes on Monday night. Laymen on Tuesday had laid the cause to part of the exercise Toesin Bravo, stating that lights were out all over Nova Scotia. This was completely erroneous. According to a spokesman from the Nova Scotia Light and Power Co., Bear River, there was a line fault but so far the cause has not been determined. The situation, which existed only in the Digby and Cornwallis area, was immediately remedied.

Guest Speaker For Service Was Digby Mayor Victor Cardoza, M.L.A.

Wreaths were laid at the Digby War Memorial. Master of ceremonies for the occasion was Aubrey Chisholm. Remembrance services were conducted in the Baptist Church of Digby last Sunday morning in tribute to members of the congregation and community who had laid down their lives in the two great wars. Following the Remembrance prayer, a period of silent tribute was paid by the congregation and followed with a special selection by the choir. The pastor preached from the words of Jesus, "Blessed are the peacemakers for they shall be called the children of God."

Two Matters Of Importance Were Presented To The Board On Monday Night

One was the matter of an airport for Digby and the other on Regional Libraries. It was stated that two officials from the Department of Transport had visited Digby in response to a request from interested citizens and Board members regarding an airport. The usual proposition in this regard is a cooperative effort between town or municipality and the federal government. Nothing definite had been accomplished, it was learned, but some investigation of property for a runway was done at Landsdowne. A space of 1 1/2 miles by 1 mile wide was recommended in case of expansion but a strip 2000 or 2500 feet by 300 feet would be sufficient to handle private and smaller machines for some time.

Not Part Toesin Bravo

No explanation has yet been found for the complete darkness in which Digby and Cornwallis were shrouded for approximately five minutes on Monday night. Reorganize H. & S. Digby County Council

A motion before a delegation from Home and School Associations in Digby County who met at Smith's Cove on Thursday of last week resulted in the decision to reorganize the Digby County Council Home and School. Plans are underway for the election of a slate of officers at a May meeting at Sandy Cove in 1962. Besides delegates from Home and School groups

Friendship Mug Appreciated

After Truman Funderburgh, retired Pomona Superior Court clerk, returned to California from a visit in Digby, he was sent a "Friendship Mug" by Douglas Woolaver.

Conducts Workshop

Rev. Morris Bass, Kingston, N. S., chairman of the Missionary and Maintenance branch of the United Church of Canada, conducted a workshop at Grace United Church hall on Thursday evening. Discussion groups were formed and a film "The Will of Angels to Nash" was shown. By means of a telephone, Mr. Bass explained what the M & M branch of the church was doing. He also explained how the workshop was to be held. He said that the workshop was to be held on Thursday evening. Discussion groups were formed and a film "The Will of Angels to Nash" was shown.

Deer Scarce

A scarcity of deer has been reported by hunters in Digby County, it is learned. One hunter from the Marshfield area it is understood, has found evidence that many of the deer have died during the past year. An experienced hunter in 1960-61 has some cases been blamed for the decline in deer population. Another theory advanced is the possibility of destruction by wildlife.

DRHS Highways And Byways

Last Thursday the auditorium was the scene of an engaging debate between the Memes and the Highwayers on the resolution that a third world war would be beneficial. The affirmative was upheld by the Highwayers' team, which consisted of Don T. Smith, Pamela Isles, and Bruce Armstrong. The negative side was supported by Shirley M. Jones, Pat Duncanson, John T. Duncanson, and John Duncanson. The debate was held at the Digby Community Centre.

WEYMOUTH

Members of the Canadian Legion, Branch 67, and army cadets paraded to the community cenotaph in annual Remembrance Day ceremonies. R. D. Hallett, officer commanding the parade, read the roll call of war dead. Following the laying of wreaths, a service was held at Legion Hall with Rev. E. C. Irwin, Rev. C. R. Barkhouse and Rev. L. B. Nethercott officiating. A banquet for over one hundred was held later in the evening at which time Mr. E. Adair was guest speaker. (Please turn to page 10)

Rev. M. P. MacIntosh, District Secretary of the British and Foreign Bible Society, Nova Scotia and Newfoundland Branch, was guest speaker at the Digby Baptist Church on Sunday evening. In preparation for the 150th anniversary of the Bible Society in 1963, Rev. Mr. MacIntosh had looked into the history of the society in Digby and found an active society in 1800. Approximately fifty years ago such names as Monroe, England, Saunders, Turnbull and Lett were in office of the society in Digby.

Comeau On Municipal Council

John Comeau, Weymouth was elected by acclamation as councillor for the district of Weymouth in the Municipality of Digby. Mr. Comeau, who is a car dealer in Digby, resides in Weymouth and is a commissioner of that village. He is a member of the Weymouth Board of Trade and active in church and community affairs. Mr. and Mrs. Comeau have three children, Margaret Ann, Lionel Stephen and Candace. Tuesday was the third day set for nominations for the Weymouth district. The former two nomination days failed to produce a name to fill the council seat.

Nomination Papers Filed

Nominations for the post-May 16th Town of Digby election were filed this week at the office of Vernon L. Bell, clerk under school. Nominations for town councillors filed before time of going to press were for Ross, Atkinson and Ray. Mr. Bent, who has served 1 year on the town council has been deputy mayor for the past two years. His term of office as councillor expires this year. Mayor of the town for the past three years was V. G. Cardoza, who had also served on the council for six years.

Toesin Bravo II Quiet In Digby

No explanation has yet been found for the complete darkness in which Digby and Cornwallis were shrouded for approximately five minutes on Monday night. Laymen on Tuesday had laid the cause to part of the exercise Toesin Bravo, stating that lights were out all over Nova Scotia. This was completely erroneous. According to a spokesman from the Nova Scotia Light and Power Co., Bear River, there was a line fault but so far the cause has not been determined. The situation, which existed only in the Digby and Cornwallis area, was immediately remedied.

DRHS Highways And Byways

Last Thursday the auditorium was the scene of an engaging debate between the Memes and the Highwayers on the resolution that a third world war would be beneficial. The affirmative was upheld by the Highwayers' team, which consisted of Don T. Smith, Pamela Isles, and Bruce Armstrong. The negative side was supported by Shirley M. Jones, Pat Duncanson, John T. Duncanson, and John Duncanson. The debate was held at the Digby Community Centre.

About This and That
C. D. Director Speaks On Church & National Survival

Mr. C. D. Director, Chairman of the Board of the Church of the Nativity, spoke at the Digby Town Hall on Wednesday evening, November 16, 1961, on the subject of "Church and National Survival".

Mr. Director, who is a well-known speaker, discussed the role of the church in a world of increasing technological advancement and the challenges it faces in maintaining its spiritual mission.

Before we can decide our role in the cold war, or whether we as individuals actually have a role, we should examine the underlying issues in this conflict for survival. It is really a war of doctrine - or indeed of a way of life.

OUR way of life - the Western way - is based on a belief in GOD, whatever our particular religion, we believe in GOD, in Christian morals, in Christian ethics.

The SOVIET way of life - is based on the State. The State is everything and everything is for the State.

In OUR World - man and man's rights are the prime concern of our government, which we freely choose.

In the SOVIET world - man is the servant of the State, his individual wishes are secondary to the needs of the State, and it is expendable, if necessary, as an individual.

OUR laws and government - conducted for the protection, betterment and security of the individual and his rights, are based on the Christian ideals of brotherhood and family rights, of the community and our civilization.

SOVIET law and government - is by irrefutable edict, based on material needs and gains for the good of the State and the expansion of a materialistic society - which calls Christianity a "myth" and which all but forbids gathering for prayer or thanksgiving, and by so doing does away with the soul.

On One Hand: God; Man and Man's Rights; Spiritual Ideals.

On the Other: The State; Material Law by the Party; Soulless Materialism.

We must make a choice. There must be a winner in this cold war. We play for disarmament - for no one knows better than those of us dealing in education for survival how devastating war could be. But it still seems a long way off - and in the meantime we may find ourselves unprepared for a nuclear disaster that could start from a simple human error.

So, if you are in church today, I am assuming you choose as yours. As an individual, what can you do to see that OUR way of life is preserved? There are things that you and I in our homes and in our community can do now to see that a certain segment of our Christian way of life survives this time of crisis, so that:

1. Local government can continue to function.

2. Education of our children in our way of thinking can continue.

3. Our family and community life can continue as a way of life.

4. Our religious and spiritual life can continue as a way of life.

5. Our standards of living can continue as a way of life.

6. Our sense of responsibility can continue as a way of life.

7. Our sense of community can continue as a way of life.

8. Our sense of individuality can continue as a way of life.

9. Our sense of purpose can continue as a way of life.

10. Our sense of hope can continue as a way of life.

11. Our sense of love can continue as a way of life.

12. Our sense of faith can continue as a way of life.

13. Our sense of justice can continue as a way of life.

14. Our sense of mercy can continue as a way of life.

15. Our sense of peace can continue as a way of life.

16. Our sense of unity can continue as a way of life.

17. Our sense of harmony can continue as a way of life.

Remember we can tell you what to do, but we can't do it for you. Survival is therefore an individual and family effort and if you have not formulated your plan - it is time that you did.

I have attempted to show:

1. That our way of life - the Christian way is worth preserving.

2. That we have an individual and community responsibility to see that it can survive.

3. And ways and means by which it can be done to the best of our ability under even the worst of circumstances.

In conclusion, may I say - I sincerely hope I may have helped to help you. A. F. Wigglesworth, Liverpool, N. S.

Retarded Children's Week

The population of Nova Scotia is estimated to be 1,000,000. Every 20 minutes of the day, a child is born. One of every 100 children is born with some form of mental retardation. This is the basis for the Retarded Children's Week.

At the Digby Town Hall on Wednesday evening, November 16, 1961, a group of children and their parents were present for the opening of Retarded Children's Week.

The children, who were accompanied by their parents, were given a special program of songs and games.

SULTANA BUNS
 1. Scald 1 1/2 c. milk; stir in 1/2 c. granulated sugar, 1/2 tsp. salt and 1/2 c. shortening. Cool to lukewarm.
 2. Measure 1/2 c. lukewarm water into a large bowl. Crumble and add 1 cake Best Yeast OR stir in 1 tsp. granulated sugar and sprinkle with 1 small envelope (or 1 tsp.) Best Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 mins., then stir well. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture, 1 well-beaten egg, 1 tsp. grated lemon rind and 2 1/4 c. pre-sifted all-purpose flour. Beat until smooth and elastic. Mix in 1 1/2 c. Sultana-type raisins. Work in sufficient additional flour to make a soft dough—about 2 1/4 c. more.
 3. Knead on floured board until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl. Grease top. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk—about 1 1/2 hours.
 4. Punch down dough. Turn out and knead until smooth. Divide into 3 equal portions. Cover with a tea towel; let rest 10 mins. Form each portion of dough into a roll 8 inches long and cut into eight 1-inch pieces. Shape each piece into a smooth ball and place in a greased muffin cup. Grease tops. Cover. Let rise until doubled in bulk—about 45 mins. Bake in a mod. hot oven (375°) 20 to 25 mins. Makes 2 dozen buns.

where Mr. Coutts spoke to an audience.

Coutts, a graduate of Arts and Laws, one who maintained a high scholastic record and has participated in three national Liberal conventions, began his participation in the political life of the country at the age of 15. He told his audience that the young liberals could help a great deal in an election. There is no problem as to the young and older Liberal for there is only one kind — a working Liberal. An election cannot be won entirely over a T.V. he told his audience but it is won over back fences, in fishing boats and other ordinary ways of spreading liberalism.

Politics is not just the business of going to meetings and passing resolutions but the people of village, town and factory must be won and that has to be done at the polls.

The next election, Coutts said, will not be fought as free enterprise vs. socialism but the issues will be the record of the Tory government.

Mr. Coutts paid tribute to the Liberal leader, Lester Pearson, whom he said knew the dimensions of the universe and can look the future in the eye. The platform of the Liberals, he said, concerns itself with problems of peace in the world. He said that Mr. Pearson makes up his mind on horns and missiles but charged that the government won't. We must prepare for the future of our province and county but must also prepare the future for mankind. As Liberals, he said, they must be flexible in thinking and never afraid to take on a new slant — a new look at the province, have problems always in mind and come to grips with issues.

One serious issue, the speaker said, was trade — where to sell agricultural products of orchards and fields. He charged that the Conservatives have antagonized Britain in regard to her entrance into the common market question. He felt that Britain should enter the common market, expand her trade and this would benefit our economy here.

Regarding the twelve mile fishing zone, Mr. Pearson, he said, knows every problem from British Columbia to Nova Scotia.

The speaker was thanked by V. G. Cardoza. Cardoza said that Canada was one of the greatest nations in the world and Nova Scotia was the greatest province in Canada and all that was lacking was leadership. He noted the progress in New Brunswick and said that we cannot promise our way to prosperity. Nova Scotia, he said, has the same potentials as New Brunswick. He complained that the unemployment in Nova Scotia was mounting. There are those going begging, he charged, something which had not been known in the province before.

Others who addressed the meeting on Wednesday were P. M. Nicholson, M.L.A., Annapolis West, and Dr. Belliveau, Dr. Belliveau, who is in his fourth term in the provincial house, brought greetings from the municipality of Clare. In discussing the advent of new parties on the political scene he felt that the two old parties were much better than multiple parties. He deplored the high taxes and hoped that something soon might be done to live within our means. He cited several incidents in his history where taxes were responsible for difficulties: the Boston Tea Party, the American and French Revolutions and the fall of the Roman Empire. Arrangements for the meeting were made by Harold Jackson and catering for refreshments was done by the Women's Liberal Association of the area.

Little River Minister To Address Men

The first Fall Supper meeting of the men of the congregation of the Baptist church of Digby will be held in the church hall next Saturday evening at 6:30 o'clock. Sponsored by the Men's Project Committee of the church, an invitation will be extended to all men of the congregation of the Digby and Hill Grove churches.

The committee, headed by Mr. Burton Ellis, has a number of projects in mind for the winter season. The meeting this coming Saturday night will be addressed by Rev. A. MacLellan, of Little River.

Meet At Refresher Course

Chatting between sessions of the 35th annual Dalhousie medical refresher course P. H. LeBlanc, Little Brook, Digby County; and R. W. Campbell, Shelburne.

levels of Home and School. Home and School, he said, was the only organization through which a body of people interested in education on the local level have to execute plans and ideas which they have developed. It is one means of seeing the education picture and through which they may effect influence for change if seen fit.

A panel discussion was held in the evening when Mrs. Duckworth, Mr. Higgins, F. C. Purdy, Supervisor of Schools, Digby area, and Mrs. Cromwell, Yarmouth, Regional vice-president of the Nova Scotia Home and School Federation, participated. The panel decided that a County Council provided an opportunity for various locals to hear about the activities of other groups; it provides a level through which resource materials and personnel from each department of Home and School can be secured and the larger organization has a better insight into the total movement and changes necessary for the welfare of all the children and people everywhere. It was thought by the panel that financing of the council should be no cause for concern since a percentage of each individual membership of $1.00 is returned to operate the council. Without a County Council as in Digby County at present there is no opportunity for representation on the Provincial Federation.

The nominating committee to bring in a slate of officers in May consists of Mrs. Harold Dunn, Mrs. Ashford Balser and Mrs. Emdon Morehouse, with power to add.

The meeting was presided over by Mrs. Dunn and arranged by the Smith's Cove Home and School in collaboration with Keith Langille, Yarmouth, of the Adult Education Department.

Games and workshops were conducted during the day and a basket lunch was served.

A Letter From Deep Brook

"This has been a wonderful year in the Annapolis Valley for peaches. Most farmers reported good crops of highly colored and well flavored fruit, 25 years ago (approx.) a peach tree with ripened experiments of a few trees peaches in the Annapolis Valley was a rare thing. It was thought the climate too severe in winter and the summers neither long or warm enough to ripen the peach. Peaches were in the class of imported fruits as lemons, oranges, bananas, but gradually from the experiments of a few trees peach growing is becoming quite common in several places in Nova Scotia, including Wolfville, Round Hill, Michellie, Clementsport and Deep Brook. My apologies if I have overlooked any others. With successful cropping the growers will soon be able to meet the demands of local markets rather than have to have them imported from Ontario. This will be of an advantage to the consumer as well, as the peach will be allowed to reach a more stage before being picked and not the full flavor.

Tourists from Washington, D.C. from Georgia, U.S. where peaches really grow from the Niagara Peninsula were amazed this summer, to find such highly colored, delicious peaches at fruit stands this summer, that were grown in Nova Scotia. One gentleman from Washington, after consuming 8 good sized peaches and enjoying every one, made the remark, "Now I have had a belly full of Nova Scotia peaches", and drove away pleased as punch.

Now for some ways to prepare them other than just eating them from the hand:

What is nicer than a fresh peach pie for dinner? Follow your favorite apple pie recipe and you can't go wrong, using peaches in place of apples. Serve with cream (whipped) or just plain and it is a delicious change.

For breakfast this winter what will be nicer on toast than some Peach Marmalade from this summer's crop? Now to make it:

10 large Freestone peaches (ripe) and by ripe 1 mean ripe enough so that the skin peels off like an orange skin, not with a knife, but naturally following the shape of the fruit; 3 oranges, 2 lemons, 1 can drained crushed pineapple. Prepare as for marmalade, adding 6 cups sugar. Bring to a boil after the sugar has melted and formed a syrup. Boil 15 minutes, add 1 small jar drained maraschino cherries, simmer for 20 minutes or half an hour. Bottle hot (yum, yum).

Or, try peach jam with lemons, with crushed pineapple

Modern Materials Permit Modern Kitchen Styling

Factory-made kitchen cabinets, designed to fit together units and ready to put in place, are rapidly replacing the spot carpentry of kitchens.

It takes a carpenter many a day to build the cupboards needed for a modern kitchen. And even with all his skill, it's hardly likely the drawers will pull so smoothly or the doors close so neatly as in factory-made furniture. The finish is also likely to be less than perfect.

A few years ago ready-made cabinets available were of unfinished wood, ready for painting. Today, about 80 per cent of the cabinets leaving the Hanover, Ontario, factory of Canada's largest kitchen cabinet manufacturer are finished beauties finished to fine furniture standards in wabian, birch or mahogany.

Much of this kitchen cabinetry would do credit to a formal dining room. Yet up-to-date materials and techniques give these luxury piece mahogany furniture can be repaired by touching up with a little ordinary iodine. Apply the iodine carefully with a very fine pointed brush, or with a toothpick which has a small piece of cotton wrapped around the tip. Try to avoid getting the iodine anywhere but inside the scratch itself, and wipe off excess promptly. Ten allow to dry thoroughly and finish by waxing and polishing.

Light scratches on dark furniture can also be touched up with ordinary shoe polish, colored stain wax -- or even children's wax crayons. There are also special touch-up materials available in most paint and hardware stores. These come in various shades to match all common woods.

is a kitchen durability. Take the "modern" provincial style, for instance. Rich mahogany veneer, adorned with delicate moldings and elegant hardware, has been given a synthetic resin finish which will never and last for years. Drawers move smoothly on rollers of nylon rollers, and doors are equipped with shock absorbers to prevent slamming. The most recent innovation in kitchen colors is "Perspex", an acrylic material which is available in many colors with a warm lustre that stays away from the laboratory effect of traditional sinks.

As cabinets are new, they've been used in other parts of the world for about 12 years. However, they are now attracting the attention of Canadian homeowners, quite apart from their beauty, they don't rust or chip and they are not stained by tea or citrus juice. Soap and water keep them clean.

Fitting today's pre-fab cabinets into a kitchen is no problem. The Hanover Kitchen, for instance, can be assembled from about 100 different units of every shape and size imaginable providing an almost infinite variety of choice. There are revolving shelf units for corners, upper wall units to fit over refrigerators, base units with divided drawers for pots, racks for towels or trays, drawers lined with metal to keep bread fresh.

The designers have forgotten nothing. Remodelling a kitchen today calls for no further tools than a tape measure and a catalogue!

Peach Ice Cream In Cinnamon Toast Cups

Yield - 12 ice cream cups.

For the Ice Cream:

1 cup mashed ripe peaches

1 tablespoon lemon juice

2 eggs

1/2 teaspoon salt

1 cup fine granulated sugar

1 teaspoon vanilla

1/2 teaspoon almond extract

1/2 pint (1 1/4 cups) whipping cream

If the manufacturer recommends it, turn control of refrigerator back to its coldest point. Peel, finely chop and mash sufficient ripe peaches to yield the required 1 cup prepared peaches; stir in lemon juice. Separate eggs; beat whites in a large bowl until foamy. Add salt, then gradually beat in sugar. Beat egg yolks until thick; beat in vanilla and almond extract. Beat whipping cream until softly stiff. Fold prepared peaches, egg yolks and whipped cream into meringue. Turn into freezes trays and freeze until firm.

If cold control has been advanced, turn it back to a point which will keep ice cream at desired consistency and allow it to mellow. At serving time, spoon the ice cream into the Cinnamon Toast Cups.

For the Cinnamon Toast Cups:

1 cup butter or margarine

2 tablespoons fine granulated sugar

1 teaspoon ground cinnamon

12 thin slices white bread

Preheat oven to 375 degrees F. (moderately hot).

Cream butter or margarine; gradually blend in sugar and cinnamon. Remove crusts from bread slices. Spread cinnamon mixture on both sides of bread. Fit each slice into a rather large muffin cup or tart pan. Bake in preheated oven crisp -- 10 to 12 minutes. Cool thoroughly.

Repair Damaged Furniture At Home

Wood furniture, which is accidentally scratched, can often be satisfactorily repaired at home.

Shallow scratches which are in the finish -- but which do not go down into the wood itself -- are probably the easiest of all defects to hide. In most cases they do not need to be filled in, merely stained or colored to match the original finish. On a walnut finish, light colored scratches can often be camouflaged by rubbing with the meat of a walnut or brazil nut. The finish is then restored by rubbing on a coat of paste wax and polishing to restore the original luster.

Discussion Topic Education

The monthly meeting of the Bear River Women's Institute was held in Oakdene School Auditorium on November 6, the Mrs. Albin Riley, vice-president in the chair. The program was provided by the members of the staff of Oakdene School, with Miss June Schmidt as leader and took the form of a discussion on the final report of the Nova Scotia Conference on Education, held in Halifax in May.

Stress was laid on the necessity for students continuing education through grades XI and XII and figures were given showing the high rate of unemployment among pupils who dropped out of school at grade VIII or under and that the number steadily decreased for pupils who reached higher grades, especially grade XII, and university. There were suggestions on how parents could take more interest in education and give more assistance to the teachers, also the need for the school curriculum across Canada to be standardized; that mathematics in some form should be made compulsory in all the grades from primary through grade XII.

Many more points regarding education were brought to the attention of the meeting, before the conclusion of the interesting program. Tea was served by Oakdene staff.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Woolf of Dartmouth, were weekend guests at Riverview Lodge.

Misses Diane Wade, Nancy Cook of Halifax, visited their parents over the weekend.

Marriage

Sproule — Everett

A wedding of wide interest was solemnized at 6 p.m. on Saturday, November 11th at the United Baptist Parsonage, Port Royal, when the Rev. John W. MacLeod united in marriage, in a double ring ceremony, Juanita Alberta Everett, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hiram L. Everett, Victoria Beach, to Otis Lee Sproule, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Sproule, of Delap's Cove.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was daintily attired in a beige suit of seal skin wool trimmed with a brown mink fur collar with matching headress. She wore a corsage of white and red carnations. Their attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence L. Taylor, sister and brother-in-law of the bride.

Following the ceremony a wedding reception for over one-hundred guests was held at the home of the bride. Many lovely and useful gifts were received including money, silver, and a three-tier wedding cake. Assisting Mrs. Earle Ellis and Mrs. William Titus in the serving of refreshments, were Mrs. Raymond Burnie, Mrs. Percy A. Johnston, Misses Linda Casey, Susan Everett, Carolyn McGrath; also William Titus and Leigh Everett. The guest book was circulated by Joseph Everett, brother of the bride.

The happy couple left for a wedding trip through the Annapolis Valley and points of interest in western Nova Scotia. They will reside in Delap's Cove, where the groom is employed in the fishing industry. Guests were present from Massachusetts, Saint John, Halifax, Bear River, Port Royal, Freeport, Digby, Hillsburn, Delap's Cove, and Port Wade. The remains rested at

Obituaries

Mrs. Margaret Banks

Mrs. Margaret Banks, wife of Lewis Banks, Bear River, passed away at her home on Wednesday, November 1st.

Born in Belfast, Ireland, she was the daughter of the late Joseph and Agnes Connor. Surviving besides her husband is a brother, Thomas Connor, and a sister, Mrs. Agnes Gleason of Montreal, Quebec, and two sisters in Belfast, Ireland.

Funeral services were held in the Advent Church, Saturday afternoon, Nov. 4, John McGinnis conducting the service.

Burial was in the family lot in Mount Hope Cemetery.

Mrs. Sabra Adams

Sabra Melissa Adams, widow of Alexander Adams, passed away at the home of her grandson, Eugene Burns, Bay View, on Sunday.

Born at Colloiden 86 years ago, she was a daughter of the late George and Mary Stark, Middleton.

Her husband predeceased her.

She was a member of the Day View United Church.

She is survived by four step-daughters: Margaret (Mrs. Samuel J. Burns) of Saugus, Mass.; Laura (Mrs. George R. Stimpson), Wrentham, Mass.; Allie (Mrs. Homer Babblin), Oswego, N. Y., and Mrs. Mabel Robertson of Boston. The remains rested at Jaynes Funeral Home, Digby, until Wednesday when they were taken to the Bay View United Church for service at 2 p.m. Rev. R. H. Hughes conducted the service and interment was in the church yard cemetery.

James A. Harding

James Andrew Harding of Barton, passed away at the Nova Scotia Sanatorium, at Kentville, on Sunday.

He was 19 a son of the late Edmund and Helena Melanson Harding.

He is survived by a brother, Dominick at the Kentville Sanatorium, and a sister, Elizabeth, at Barton.

Father R. Doyon conducted the mass in St. Croix R. C. Church and interment was in Holy Cross cemetery, Plympton.

Marriage

Goucher — Como

A quiet but very pretty wedding took place in Digby at the Baptist Church on Saturday afternoon, Oct. 28, when Nancy Carolyn, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Como, was united in marriage to Fred Arthur Goucher, of Paradise.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Hodge, son and bride's sister, Amelia, and groom's brother, Morley, were attendants.

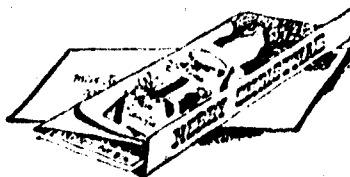

A wedding reception was held at the Baptist Hall with 100 guests present.

The happy couple left on a short honeymoon trip through the province, and on their return will reside in Paradise.

FILBERT CRISPY BUNS

1. Scald 1/2 c. milk; cool to lukewarm. Measure 1/2 c. lukewarm water. Crumble and add 1 cake Fleischmann's Yeast OR stir into the water 1 tsp. granulated sugar and sprinkle with 1 envelope Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 mins., then stir well.

2. Cream 1/2 c. butter or Blue Bonnet Margarine; gradually blend in 1/2 c. lightly-packed brown sugar and 1/2 tsp. salt. Add 2 eggs, 1 at a time, beating in well after each addition. Mix in dissolved yeast, lukewarm milk and 1/2 c. pre-sifted all-purpose flour. Beat until smooth and elastic. Work in sufficient additional flour to make a soft dough — about 2 c. more. Knead dough on floured board until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl. Grease top. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 1 1/2 hours. Punch down dough. Turn out and knead until smooth. Divide into 2 equal portions. Cover with a tea towel; let rest 10 mins. 3. Combine 1 c. granulated sugar and 1 c. finely-chopped filberts. Roll out 1 portion of dough into a 12-inch square. Brush generously with melted butter or margarine; sprinkle with 1/2 c. of the filbert mixture. Roll up jelly-roll fashion; seal seam. Cut roll into 12 equal slices. Place slices, cut side down, on a sugar-sprinkled cookie sheet. Repeat with second portion of dough. Cover with a tea towel. Chill 1/2 hour. 4. Sprinkle baking board with filbert mixture; roll out each portion of dough on the sprinkle, turning once, to a diameter of 4 inches. Place on greased cookie sheets. Cover with a tea towel. Let rise until almost doubled in bulk — about 45 mins. Bake in a hot oven (425°) 5 mins., then turn buns with spatula and continue to bake until golden — about 5 mins. longer. Yield: 2 dozen buns.

About This and That
Everybody Else Is Doing It

Everybody else is doing it. How often we hear that expression in a manner which would have us believe that somehow so long as "everybody else" is doing it then it is right and proper that we do it too. Of course, "the everybody else" is merely an excuse because we want to do the same thing, but we ease our consciences by "everybody else". There is an implication there that it really is wrong, but just so long as everybody else is doing it then there is no reason why we too should not be in on it. "Everybody else" somehow makes it appear right. We ask, "Did two wrongs ever make a right?"

One of the most frequent uses of the expression "everybody else is doing it" is in reference to the unemployment insurance. Everybody else is drawing unemployment insurance so why shouldn't he, or why shouldn't she? or why shouldn't I? as the case may be. The very same people who wouldn't think of stealing from a neighbor will think nothing of "stealing" from unemployment insurance funds by making an excuse to draw from the fund. Fishermen who complain about foreign boats and rightly so taking the fish from our shores are probably the same fishermen who work long enough at harvesting the food of the sea to get unemployment insurance. From there on the fish are left for the foreign boats to reap while the fisherman at home idly sits by, still complaining, but with that consoling expression "that's the way everybody else is doing it, now." The same people who kneel in reverence and respect on November 11 for those who died that truth, justice and right might prevail in the world forever, go home and cash an unemployment insurance cheque obtained under "false pretences". They see nothing wrong because "everybody else is doing it."

Occasionally someone big enough will stick to principles and refuse to submit to the "everybody else" excuse. We have in mind a young lady who not so long ago left employment in town to be married. "Everybody else" was drawing unemployment insurance in similar cases. The cheques would nicely buy furniture to help outfit an apartment. But, no, the young lady felt unemployment insurance was meant for those who really needed it and not for those who wanted to make themselves more comfortable. You do not devise excuses to use other kinds of insurance benefits. Why this kind? Thank goodness for those who have spunk enough to refuse to submit to "everybody else is doing it". The trouble is there are far too few of them. For this reason it is time the whole structure of the unemployment insurance scheme be looked into. The government has taken a right move to recently appoint a Royal Commission to study the whole Unemployment Insurance scheme.

Disappointing Audience

Where six or seven hundred might have been expected to fill the seats at the Digby Forum on Wednesday night for the official opening of the rink for the season, scarcely more than a hundred were there. Of these more than fifty percent were children — an unappreciative audience for the type of program provided.

Business men who contributed to the advertising project and other projects could readily be excused if they felt they had contributed their share without paying a dollar admission fee. But, where were the parents of boys and girls, for whom the rink is supplied? This was one way to contribute to the defraying of the debt which occurred in order to open the Forum for the 1961-62 season. We do know of some church activities and such which were scheduled for the same night and when, naturally, can't be laid aside for every occasion of this sort. By so doing, we would be defeating the very purpose for which we want a Forum. But, there must have been a great deal of disinterest shown all the way from Digby to Westport, Digby to Annapolis Royal, Digby to Clare and all the areas between to have so small an audience.

One of the embarrassing features of the whole show was to have such excellent talent come the fifty miles from Middleton to perform to so small an audience and to fifty percent of the audience not mature enough to enjoy the performance they gave. Here was a group, "The Driftwood Group", who have performed to large and enthusiastic audiences. They have earned already this year an amount exceeding $1,000. We believe, they have contributed $8,000 to the new Middleton Hospital since the organization of the group. It can readily be seen that they put on a good show or they would not be so successful. Their performance on Wednesday night proved that worth even though it was put on under difficulties at the Forum. The acoustics there are very bad and the type of performance was not the kind which could go over as well in a Forum as under night club or stage conditions.

What brings us to another reason which might account for the small audience besides lack of interest and other engagements. Was enough effort and thought put into attracting people? For example, those who engaged the Driftwood Group to perform probably knew the type of performance they gave. To those who did not know "The Driftwood Variety Show" probably brought various visions of an entirely different program. One person told us on Thursday following the show he thought one of the garden clubs was having a driftwood display. Others who had heard of this energetic and talented group in Middleton did not know them as the "Driftwood Group".

While Recreation Commission officials could not help being discouraged by the small audience on Wednesday night, the Driftwood Group appeared not to be phased and expressed the hope to return again. We hope they do. We hope, too, that they will have a more suitable place to put on their type of show where they can do justice to themselves and where the audience will have an opportunity to appreciate their efforts.

What Do We Do?

What do we do at night if a nuclear bomb lands? How will we know? What about our children at school? These questions are natural after the Torsin Bravo Demonstration in Digby last week for they were not answered at that time. They are sensible questions and are a natural outcome of any bomb or fallout exercises. They are questions asked in a letter elsewhere in this issue by "Worried Mother". We do not profess to be able to answer the questions but we think a healthy and sane interest in national and local survival in case of nuclear fallout is good. We welcome the questions and expect that those in charge of civil defence will come up with some satisfactory answers.

In answer to the first question we are sure that plans are made to have all night radio service and as our Digby director for civil defence has said, there will be a siren alarm. This has not yet been worked out to satisfaction in Digby. At least, it had not been at the time of the exercise.

We know that in many places plans of some kind are laid for school children. We'll await a reply to that question from the director as far as Digby is concerned. No doubt already this has been considered but, we have sympathy with any "Worried Mother" who must make herself content with "they have plans". To be a calm, collected, assured and capable mother to answer the children's questions and deal with situations she must be assured by knowing what the plans are.

We can think of a number of questions. Maybe others can too.

Music Week

Somewhere we saw that November 19-25 has been designated as Music Week throughout Canada. In Nova Scotia we are asked by the N. S. Music Teachers' Association to recognize this special week. Its purpose is to focus attention on the growing importance of music performance and music education in Canada.

Music is a culture too valuable to be ignored and passed by the youth of Canada. While we know of no special observance of Music Week around Digby we must compliment those who were responsible for bringing the Halifax Symphony Orchestra to Digby. This is a fine way of exposing the youth to a worthwhile performance and an excellent type of music. We would judge that their unique way of doing so would make the student's ear sensitive to tones and parts, creating a deeper insight into the fundamental studies of music.

We hear talk also about the 1962 Music Festival. This too is a commendable way to uphold and improve on musical culture in the Digby County communities. Plan during Music Week to support those who are endeavouring to keep alive the heritage which has been handed down to us in the music world.

Hill Grove

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Roope left Saturday for Florida where they will spend the winter. They are making the trip all the way by auto.

Mr. Wilfred Peck and his brother-in-law, Mr. Merrill Holmes of Allston, Mass., arrived on Saturday for a short visit with Mr. and Mrs. Arthur MacKay, and Mr. and Mrs. Duane MacKay, after visiting Bear River, where they were guests of Mr. Lewis Banks.

Ladies Auxiliary of the Baptist Church have postponed their supper and sale, advertised for the 25th, until Dec. 2nd.

Mrs. Wendall Kerr, Kingston, who spent the week at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Franklin, at Conway, attended afternoon services at the Hill Grove U. B. Church on Sunday.

A number of the members of the Baptist Church here attended the Brotherhood supper held in the vestry of the Digby Baptist Church on Saturday evening, and a pleasant time enjoyed. Rev. MacLellan of Little River was a guest speaker.

The service in the United Baptist Church on Sunday evening sponsored by the Baptist Youth Fellowship, was much enjoyed by a large congregation, which included the members of the Digby B. Y. F. Devotional exercises were carried on by the local group. Miss Velva Franklin reading scripture, and Miss VanTassel of Digby giving prayer. Music was by the junior choir, including two specials and a duet.

NEW POWER — NEW PAYOFF!
CHEVROLET
1962
'62 CHEVROLET JOBMASTER TRUCKS WITH NEW High-Torque Power!
Here's new High-Torque power for every weight class — light, medium and heavy... the most powerful engines in Chevrolet history, including a new 4-cylinder diesel. Here, too, are modern versions of the world's most popular 6-cylinder truck engines. For 1962 Chevy brings you true truck power in every one of its 198 new models.
There are plenty of powerful reasons for Chevy superiority. High-torque reasons. Reasons that range all the way from a mighty new High-Torque 409 V8* for heavies, right down to the thrifty Sixes in the Light-duty models. Reasons that include the brawny new 4-53 Chevy-GM Diesel and the tough new High-Torque 327 V8* for Middleweights, and the eager-hauling High-Torque 261 Six* that's available for the first time in Light Duties.
Loads of other reasons, too. Like the new work styling with downward-sloping hoods that let drivers see up to 10% feet more of the road directly ahead for better manoeuvring, safer driving. Like Chevrolet's proved Independent Front Suspension for even smoother riding, easier working trucks. Like the beefier, heavier duty hypoid rear axles for Middleweights and the rugged new I-Beam front axles* (9,000- or 11,000-lb. capacity) available on Series 80 Heavyweights. Like work-proved Corvair 95's (2 pickups and a panel) that haul up to 1,900 lbs. of payload with low-cost dependability and sure rear-engine traction. Like to know more? See your Chevrolet dealer.
NEW CHEVROLET-GM DIESEL DURABILITY
Here's new earning power for Chevrolet middleweights... the Chevy-GM 4-53 Diesel for 15 new D60 and D60-H models with GVW's ranging from 15,000 to 23,000 lbs. Here's years-longer engine life, rack-bottom maintenance costs, compact size, low weight, top torque and top power — all backed by years of GM Diesel experience. Ideal for operations with high mileage and few stops or those calling for extensive engine idling.
NEW HIGH-TORQUE V8. The huskiest V8 that ever powered a Chevy truck... the new High-Torque 409 V8* with 140% per cent more torque than ever before available from Chevrolet. Made to order for top efficiency on top-tennage hauls.

Party Pleasers

This recipe for Frosted Ratafia Cakelets was developed with entertaining in mind. And whatever the occasion, Christmas, bridal shower, graduation party, etc., these party confections will add a new and colorful note to the table.

These little cakes, or cookies, are made from a sweetened mixture of grated almonds and fine, dry bread crumbs. The mixture is then rolled into tiny balls and wrapped in a shortbread-type dough. After the cookies are baked they are frosted with a simple Almond Confectioners' Icing, tinted to suit the occasion, and topped with toasted almond halves.

Their festive appearance be-lies the ease with which they can be prepared.

Frosted Ratafia Cakelets

Yield — about 3 dozen little cakes
About 3 dozen blanching almond halves
1 cup unbleached almonds
1 small egg
1 cup fine dry bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
1 1/2 cups (about) sifted icing sugar
2/3 cup butter or margarine
2 cup lightly-packed brown sugar
1 1/2 teaspoons vanilla
1/2 teaspoon salt

Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. (moderate). Toast almond halves in oven. Cool. Grate the 1 cup unbleached almonds or put them through food chopper, fitted with a rather fine blade. Beat egg well; stir in grated or ground almonds, fine dry bread crumbs, almond extract and sufficient icing sugar to make a stiff dough-like mixture. Form mixture into about 36 tiny balls, 1/2 inch in diameter. Chill while preparing dough.

Cream butter or margarine until soft; gradually blend in the 1/2 cup lightly-packed brown sugar and cream very thoroughly. Blend in vanilla and salt. Add sifted all-purpose or pastry flour to creamed mixture part at a time, blending in well after each addition and kneading dough with the hands as it becomes stiff. With a spoon, cut off a bit of dough about the size of a small walnut; flatten the piece of dough in the palm of the hand and wrap around a tiny almond ball, encasing it completely. Repeat with remaining dough and almond balls. Arrange well apart on an ungreased cookie sheet. Bake in preheated oven 15 to 18 minutes. While the little cakes bake, prepare the following Almond Icing. Place baked cakelets well apart on wire cake racks and frost while warm with Almond Icing. Top each little cake with a toasted almond half. Cool.

Almond Icing
1 1/2 cups sifted icing sugar
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon almond extract
Milk

Combine sifted icing sugar, vanilla and almond extract. Add sufficient milk to make an icing of spreading consistency. Tint to match any color scheme, if desired.

Little Cakes For A Big Treat

A few good cup cake recipes are basic to most good cooks' recipe repertoires. The reason is not hard to find because few things are easier to make or can be served on such a variety of occasions under different guises. Plain cup cakes can be served for brunch or at the morning kaffee klatsch. Add a few raisins or dates to the batter and the cakes become a delightful, yet easy-to-carry dessert for lunch box toppers. On more formal occasions, they can be quickly transformed into a party treat with the help of a little icing.

The delicately spiced little cup cakes in today's recipe have a festive air about them — acquired with ease thanks to a chocolate cream filling based on an instant pudding mix. The combination is delicious.

Cream-Filled Cup Cakes
Yield 1 1/2 dozen cup cakes
1 1/2 cups once-sifted all-purpose flour or 2 cups once-sifted pastry flour
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 teaspoon ground cinnamon
3/4 cup butter or margarine
1 cup fine granulated sugar
2 well-beaten eggs
1/2 cup milk
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

1 1/2 cups cold milk (may be part cream)
1 package (approx. 1 1/2 ozs.) chocolate-flavored instant pudding mix Sifted icing sugar
Grease 18 average-sized muffin cups or line with paper cup-cake liners. Preheat oven to 400 deg. F. (hot).

Sift all-purpose or pastry flour, baking powder, salt and cinnamon together. Cream butter or margarine until soft; gradually blend in sugar. Add eggs, part at a time, beating in well after each addition. Combine the 1/2 cup milk and vanilla. Add sifted dry ingredients to creamed mixture, alternately with milk, combining lightly after each addition. Two-thirds fill prepared muffin cups with batter. Bake in preheated oven 18 to 22 minutes. Stand pans on wire racks for 5 minutes, then turn out the cup cakes and turn them top-side up. Cool completely on wire racks. Using a small pointed knife, cut out a rather large cone-shaped piece from the top of each cup cake.

Measure the 1 1/2 cups cold milk (or half milk and half cream) into a bowl. Sprinkle with chocolate-flavored instant pudding mix. Beat 1 minute. Let stand until mixture begins to thicken — about 3 minutes. Fill each cup cake with the chocolate pudding mixture; top with cone-shaped pieces of cake. Sprinkle tops lightly with icing sugar.

No Other Business So Great
No Other Business So Needful
 Thanks to all persons who help provide the Scriptures of God, as contained in the Bible. The broad principles as contained in Holy Scripture are most needful for the people of our time. If we knew these principles as we should, we would have no undue fear of evil forces, and we would do much more to provide the priceless Holy Scriptures for the many people who do not now have them.
 From time to time, as years go by, certain persons on behalf of the Canadian Bible Society, go from home to home and from business to business, asking for money contributions to help provide Scriptures for people throughout the world. Let us give most generously to these people.
 Let us ponder the fact that certain people of the world, like ourselves, now have the Bible, and that it appears to be God's Will that we share the Bible with those who do not have it, for the blessing of all. The sharing of the greatest thing in life, gives highest purpose to life.
 It seems that we must show considerably greater value for God's Word as contained in the Bible, if we are to successfully oppose and convert the fast growing godless and evil forces of today's world.
 Let us give the best Christmas present to God by giving generously to provide His Gospel throughout the world to people of every tongue, and thereby help to turn the tide against present evil forces.
 If we, who now possess, read, and preach the Bible, do not fulfill the command of God, as given through His Son, Jesus Christ, then many will surely die, and who shall live? The influence of the Gospel, supported by God's unlimited power, wisdom, and love, can bring peace and happiness to all mankind.

An Annuity For Life

Ends Life In Weymouth
 Solome, wt. 300 lbs., came to her death in Weymouth on Monday. Most pigs get no recognition when such a fate befalls them, but Solome, is different. Solome came to the Weymouth Kiwanis Club when a mere infant of one month. Poor Solome missed out on some of the excitement in life which had been planned for her. She was to have seen more of the world. She was to have gone to all the Kiwanis Clubs in the area but somehow Solome got "stuck" in Weymouth and during its lifetime was the pride of joy of Fidelde Theriault, the Kiwanis president there. Mr. Theriault was not sure how the remainder of the story about Solome would end. Might be an inter-cub banquet, or Solome might boost Kiwanis revenue.

Smith's Cove Home & School
 The regular meeting of the Smith's Cove Consolidated Home & School Association, was held on Nov. 14, with 44 present. The president, Mrs. Harold Dunn, who presided, welcomed members and friends to the meeting with a special welcome to Mr. W. Marshall, Mrs. Marshall, and family. Mr. Marshall is principal of the Smith's Cove School. Also present was Mrs. J. M. Wallis, editor of The Digby Courier, who acted in the capacity of a judge to choose winners, in an exhibition of various articles on display by the members.
 Mrs. Dunn extended to Mrs. Wallis a vote of thanks on behalf of the association to which Mrs. Wallis graciously responded.
 The meeting got underway with O Canada being played by Miss Sidney. In the absence of the regular secretary, Mrs. James Dunn, Mrs. Thomas Milner assumed that position. The president read a full report of the activities of the Fall Rally when special guests attending were Mrs. Muriel Duckworth, Mrs. Lilian Cromwell, Mrs. Edith Wallis, Mr. C. E. Edwards, Mr. C. Purdy, Mr. Wilfred Higgins and Mr. Keith Langille. A report was heard from various committees.
 Miss Sidney reported that the sum of $45.25 was collected by the children in her charge from the Smith's Cove School in the UNICEF Campaign for funds conducted recently at the time of Haloween. A landscape project has been postponed until next spring, it was reported. Ways and means convener, Mrs. Albert Comeau reported that the pantry sale on Oct. 27th brought in $47 for the association, also her project of salt and pepper shakers to be sold by students is underway. Mrs. Ruby Kinsman, adult education convener, reported that four classes were in progress; typing, drama, copper tooling and home nursing.
 The attendance banner went to grades I and II with Mrs. Daley, teacher. The next meeting will be in form of Christmas party. The meeting adjourned and the chair was taken by Mrs. Ashford Balser, program convener, who had an exciting program, which featured various aspects of exhibitions. Mrs. Balser also introduced three younger guests who told of their exhibits and the benefits they got from them.
 Two coloured films were shown about Spring On The Farm.
 An auction was held of the articles on display. Proceeds of $17.90 went for the association. The program came to a close after delicious refreshments were served by some of the ladies of Smith's Cove.
 Celebrate 40th Anniversary
 Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Comeau, Weymouth, were at home on Sunday, November 12th in honor of their 40th wedding anniversary. Close friends and relatives gathered to greet them for the happy occasion. Also present were their five children, Andy and Eve, both of Halifax; Frances, on the staff of Digby Hospital, and Emile and Louise, at home. Serving were Mrs. Restair Gaudet, and Mrs. Dennis Bonnefant.

Letters to the Editor
 29 Case Street,
 Fort Edward, N. Y.
 Nov. 16, 1961.
 The Editor,
 The Digby Courier,
 Digby, N. S.
 Dear Mrs. Wallis:
 I am a Girl Scout/Leader here in Fort Edward, and I have been interested in any items of your Girl Guides.
 My girls are between the ages of 10-12 and some are anxious to earn their "Pen Pals" badges. I would appreciate it if you could send me the name and address of the leader there in Digby, that has a troop in this age group.
 We visit Freeport most every summer, and therefore are frequent visitors to Digby and I can't think of any place better to have Pen Pals. I would appreciate this information if it is not too much trouble.
 Sincerely,
 Mrs. Lester Doty.
 (A very avid reader of The Digby Courier.)

Club Holds Annual
 Members of the Deep Brook Neighbourly Club held their 5th annual business meeting at the home of Mrs. Borden Fountain on Wednesday evening, November 8th.
 The secretary's report showed a busy year including quilting parties, the making of cancer dressings, participation in county fairs and social events and numerous other activities. There were 9 resident members.
 The Treasurer reported that $130.00 had been raised during the year. Donations made by the club, amounting to $260.00, were as follows: $3.00 each to the Deep Brook Baptist Sunday School, Clementsport United Sunday School, Graywood Baptist Sunday School and Deep Brook day school (Christmas treat); $10.00 each to March of Dimes, Canadian National Institute for the Blind, Crippled Children's Fund, Red Cross, Walter Calow Fund, Red Shield Campaign, County Home and Hospital at Bridgetown and Annapolis General Hospital; $25 each to the Deep Brook Baptist Church, the United Church of Canada at Clementsport and the Parish Hall at Deep Brook; $60.00 to the Canadian Cancer Society (Reception Centre); Special gifts, including flowers, $25.00.
 The nominating committee presented the following slate of officers for the coming year: President, Mrs. Paul Vroom (re-elected); Vice-President, Mrs. Pearl Henshaw (re-elected); Recording Secretary, Mrs. Dorothy Jefferson (re-elected); Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. Jas. Johnston; Treasurer, Mrs. Howard Adams (re-elected); Supervisor of Cancer Dressing Work, Mrs. Borden Fountain (re-elected).
 The club is looking forward to two special occasions the year — the celebration of Mrs. Howard Adams' Fiftieth wedding anniversary, and Mrs. Seraphine Potter's 100th birthday anniversary. Both esteemed ladies are members of the club.

Obituary
Joseph Stanley Hines
 Joseph Stanley Hines, well known Digby County farmer, passed away at the Digby General Hospital on Thursday, Oct. 26, 1961.
 Born at Rossway, 83 years ago, he was a son of the late Jacob Stanley and Alice Cornwell Hines.
 He was a member of the Church of Christ, also a member for the past 52 years of the Oddfellows Lodge, at Digby.
 During his younger days he sailed out of Digby with the fishing fleet to Brown's Banks in the "Dorothy M. Smart" and other noted vessels. He also sailed from Yarmouth, Boston and Gloucester, Mass. When his father passed away in 1928 he took over the farm at Sea Brook, and operated that until the home was destroyed by fire a number of years ago.
 He and his sister, Georgia, then moved to Digby where he has resided ever since.
 He is survived by two sisters, Minnie (Mrs. A. I. Millar) of Edmonton, and Maude (Mrs. R. M. Johnston), South Range.
 The funeral was held from the United Baptist Church at Rossway where the family had attended church in their early years.
 The service which was largely attended was in charge of Rev. J. W. Derby, of Freeport, who had been a close friend of the deceased for many years. He was assisted by Rev. Max Spencer, pastor of the church and Rev. Lorne B. Nethercott of the Churches of Christ of Weymouth, South Range and Southville.
 The choir sang two numbers, "Nearer my God to Thee" and "Rock of Ages". Rev. and Mrs. Nethercott sang "Good Night Here and Good Morning up There".
 St. George's Lodge, IOOF, held a very impressive graveside service. The interment was in the family plot at Rossway.
 Many beautiful floral offerings testified to the high esteem in which he was held.

NEW TUSKET
 Mr. and Mrs. Murdock Hollingsworth of Truro, were the overnight guests of her mother, Mrs. Charles Doucet and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gaudet recently.
 Word has been received recently of the death of Henry Gaudet in Maine. He was formerly from here and much sympathy is extended to his nephews and nieces here.

ESCAPES DROWNING

Howard McGrath had a narrow escape from drowning on Sunday when a wave struck the small boat he was returning home in to Victoria Beach, from a hunting trip at Bay View. Mr. McGrath was thrown into the water but somehow he managed to get hold and into the boat. With only one oar he managed to get to shore. He was rushed to the doctor at Annapolis Royal, where it was found he was suffering no ill effects.

Marriage
Taylor — Gregory

A wedding of interest was solemnized at 2 p.m. on Saturday, October 21st, at the United Baptist Parsonage, Port Royal, when the Rev. J. W. MacLeod united in marriage Lorraine Gregory, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gregory, Hillsburn, to Stewart Taylor, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Taylor, of Victoria Beach.

The bride was becomingly attired in a street length dress of white nylon with navy accessories. Their attendants were Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Gregory, Hillsburn.

Following the ceremony at 7 p.m. a wedding reception was held in the basement of the Hillsburn United Baptist Church. The happy couple received many lovely and useful gifts. They will make their home in Port Wade.

Obituary
Mrs. Jane Tobin

Mrs. Jane Tobin, widow of Dr. Brunswick Tobin, former Digby physician, passed away at Clementsport, Wednesday, Nov. 22nd, at the age of 86 years. She was a daughter of the late George and Elizabeth Webber, Devonshire, England.

Rev. James Pike, rector of Trinity Anglican Church, conducted the funeral service. Interment was in the family lot, Anglican cemetery, Digby.

Missionaries From Nigeria

Rev. H. M. Perly and Rev. Allen Shaw, visiting missionaries of Nigeria, spent a week at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Archie MacLellan, Little River, while they conducted missionary services and showed films of foreign countries, in the Baptist Church.

Rev. Mr. Perly also gave an inspiring message on Tuesday evening. The W.M.S. was in charge of the service with a crusade service, entertaining Smith's Cove, Sandy Cove, Centerville, North Range, and Mink Cove W.M.S. The president, Mrs. MacLellan presided.

Mrs. Clyde Denton presented the welcome. Mrs. Bernard Denton read the scripture. The Lord is my Shepherd; a trio Touch of His Hand on Mine, by Mrs. Ainsley Tidd. Mrs. Edgar Trask, Mrs. Royce Elderkin; duet He knows It All, by Mrs. Rupert Trask, and Mrs. Wilfred Trask. Organist, Mrs. Lindsay Raymond. Refreshments were served at the community hall. Convener was Mrs. Rupert Trask, assisted by Mrs. Susan Denton, Mrs. Edgar Trask, Mrs. Wm. Vassaw, Mrs. Wilfred Trask, Mrs. Bernard Denton. Sixty-five were served.

YOU, TOO, CAN OPEN A PHARMACY . . .

if you will invest in years of training . . . It generally takes four years to obtain a degree from an accredited college of pharmacy. Then, to satisfy your province's licensing requirements, you must complete an apprenticeship and pass the Nova Scotia Board examination (an exhaustive test of your theoretical and practical pharmaceutical knowledge). Then to really learn the business, you may spend two to five years working for some other registered pharmacist.

if you can arrange the financing . . . National surveys have shown that you should be prepared to spend $11,000 for the fixtures and technical equipment you must have in the "average" drugstore; and invest $20,000 in a permanent inventory of the best possible variety of available drugs (several hundred new drugs appear yearly). Then, in order to cover initial operating expenses, you must have $2,500 in cash on hand. You must further expect to spend $2,400 for a year's rent and $9,000 annually for "other" expenses, including 12 types of personal and casualty insurance to compensate for accidental injuries to people on your premises, fire, theft, even for "misinterpretations of patrons instructions." Finally, figure on a weekly payroll (for clerks, messengers) just less than $200, and in addition, of course, your own salary.

if you can wait for slow returns on a continuing investment . . . Besides your training and financing, your greatest investment will be in time: the long hours you will spend working in the pharmacy; the time you must devote in your continuous professional education; the time it will take to establish yourself in the community. they can rely on you, you will have the great Once physicians, dentists and their patients know satisfaction and responsibility of being of vital service to your community. But only hard work and time will help you develop your community standing so that eventually you have the "average" drugstore. Then you will find that the returns on your financial investment are both slow and small. The "average" pharmacy shows a profit of 5 to 6 per cent. A profit, incidentally, you might obtain without special knowledge and effort from many another good investment.

Overwhelmed? If not now discouraged, join the more than 100,000 dedicated men who are America's licensed pharmacists rendering their unique and vital services in their communities.

The new Ford car — Fairlane — a completely new car [especially in size and value]. Sized between a full-size car and a compact... priced below many compacts...and so well built you can feel it... Fairlane is probably the most sensible car you can buy today...

Fairlane 200 Sedan... one of Ford Canada's fine cars, built in Canada.

Features of the new Ford car

FAIRLANE IS A NEW SIZE—BETWEEN A FULL-SIZE CAR AND A COMPACT...

The Fairlane series is a completely new line of cars. It gives you the room, ride and performance of a big car at a price below many compacts. It's available in two series, Fairlane or the deluxe Fairlane 500.

SO WELL BUILT YOU CAN FEEL IT!
Visit your Ford Dealer now... take a ride in the '62 Fairlane—and actually "feel" the difference. Its solid single-unit construction brings you a new level of quiet and quality. That is because the floor, sides and roof are all welded into one solid unit so that there's no place for rattles to start.

NEW V-8 ENGINE...

Ford has developed a completely new V-8 engine that combines the strength of iron with the lightness of aluminum. As a result, the 221 cu. in. Challenger V-8, the newest from the world's V-8 leader, brings you responsive power with smoother, quieter, more economical performance. A new Fairlane Six will deliver substantially better mileage than any other in its class and it is actually more economical than many of the compacts!

ROOMY AND COMFORTABLE FULL-SIZE INTERIORS...

Inside, Fairlane is not a compact. It boasts traditional big car roominess for six passengers. Posture-perfect front seats are generously foam padded. There is a wide selection of luxurious interiors. And the optional choice of power steering and power brakes completes the remarkable standard of built-for-people comfort everywhere!

AS SERVICE FREE AS A CAR CAN BE!

The new Fairlane enjoys Ford's famous built-to-take-care-of-itself features. You go up to 30,000 miles between chassis lubrications... up to 6,000 miles between oil changes. There's a new 30,000 mile or two-year radiator coolant. Brakes adjust themselves—automatically. Ford Dealers give a 12-month or 12,000-mile warranty, whichever comes first.

See the new Ford Fairlane now!

To The Electors Of Digby ...

Friends:

I hereby solicit your support at the polls in the election for Mayor of Digby on December 5th.

Time may not permit me to call on all of you personally between now and election day but I give you my assurance that, if you do me the honour of electing me as your Mayor, I will do all in my power in that office to further the best interests of our town and its people.

During the past four years I have gained considerable knowledge of civic affairs and experience in town government, having served as a member of the town council, as Deputy Mayor and as council representative on the hospital board.

It is my hope that you, the voters, will allow me to make use of that knowledge and experience for the benefit of our town by electing me as your Mayor.

Yours sincerely,

Vernon L. Bent.

Christmas Play

The Christian Youth Fellowship of the Weymouth Church of Christ (Disciples) is making plans to present a Christmas play, "Back to Bethlehem", on Sunday, Dec. 17th.

The play tells of a modern family, too busy with their own individual interests, to remember the real meaning of Christmas. Through the faith and understanding of a loving grandmother, they find the true spirit of Christmas.

William LeFort Heads Weymouth Kiwanis

William LeFort, on Monday night, was elected president of the Weymouth Kiwanis Club. He succeeds Fidèle Theriault in this capacity. Other officers elected were vice-president, Rev. E.

C. Irwin; treasurer, Perley Charlton; secretary, Lawrence Stockdale. Directors are Lew Ruby, C. Caird Nieholl, Basil Belliveau, Hector Pothier, Raymond Rice, Bernard LeBlanc and Geoffrey Journey. The meeting, which was held at the Goodwin Hotel, was presided over by Mr.
Theriault. The slate of officers was presented by Dr.
Hector Pothier.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Edith M. Wallis, Digby, editor of The Digby Courier. Mrs. Wallis dealt with the purpose and functions of the weekly press which in Canada has a circulation of approximately 2, 500,000 and a readership of nearly ten million, but also touched briefly on the history of newspapers. The first newspaper in Canada was founded 202 years ago when Bartholomew Green, son of a famous Boston printer, came to Halifax and established the Halifax Gazette. The first paper in Digby County was the Digby Athenaeum, established 104 years ago. Other Digby County papers were the Weekly Examiner, L'Examinateur, L'Acadie, Liberal, Sisiboo Echo, Telegraph,
Digby County Record, Weymouth Gazette, Bear River
Telephone, Bear River News,
Tiny Tater and The Digby
Courier, published 88 years ago and which still exists.

Mrs. Wallis gave her audience an insight into the preparation of a weekly edition, how the news is obtained, how it is written and the problems which are encountered in fitting the copy into a compressed number of pages when working with a hot hot press.

One of the assets of the weekly press, Mrs. Wallis said, was its closeness to the people it serves. This is what makes it so valuable a means of advertising and for which it is generally recognized by the national advertising agencies. The columns of news, letters and editorials are devoted entirely to local interest.

The speaker noted the grave responsibility of one entrusted with a newspaper, especially in a country where freedom of the press is enjoyed.
It is then that the editor and publisher must realize the grave responsibility in executing that freedom as a sacred trust. Truth, justice and service must ever be watchwords of the newspaper profession whatever the cost, she said.
She closed her talk with the words quoted by Prime Minister John Diefenbaker at a weekly newspaper convention in Halifax in August:
"A local newspaper is something more than ink, or rags or wood pulp; it is a living spirit — it breathes life into a community."

Mrs. Wallis was introduced by Kiwanian Lawrence Stockdale and thanked by Kiwanian (Dr.) Hector Pothier.

It was reported that a new gate had been installed at the Kiwanis lake in order to eliminate problems created by motorists using the property.
It was reported that serious foot injuries had resulted be-

TO THE VOTERS TOWN OF DIGBY

As you know I have offered to serve in the position of Mayor of our town. If elected I will serve to the best of my ability. My opponent is a man of outstanding talents and to run against him is an honor indeed. Please go out and vote for me on December 5. If not, go out and vote anyway. A town is only as good as its citizens want it to be.

The Town of Digby has given me many things, amongst them a lot of true friends, a good living and a real place in which to live. Is it any wonder that I want to serve the town in some way?

On December 5 I will look forward to your vote.

Thanking you,

I am,

Thomas Cowan.

DEVOTED TO THE INTERESTS OF

VOLUME LXXXVIII, No. 43

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1961

Nowlan Confident P.C. Victory

"Should there be an election tonight the Conservatives would be re-elected with an increased majority", Hon. George Nowlan, Minister of Revenue for Canada and member for the Digby-Annapolis Kings constituency, said at the annual meeting of the Digby County Progressive Conservative Association held in Digby on Monday night. That is a statement of fact not a prophecy, the Minister declared. In the next election, he said, there will be three parties—Conservative, Liberal and the New Party. All that is needed is to study the Conservative record. We have made mistakes, the speaker said, we'll make more, but the only people who do not make mistakes are those who do nothing. The Minister said he did not know when the next election would be. He said he would not be surprised if it came within two years, nor shocked if it came in one year and it might come in six months.

Mr. Nowlan reviewed the work done by the Conservative government in the field of social security. He noted the increase in old age pensions, blind, crippled, helpless, the war veterans.

In referring to unemployment he said there was a great deal of talk about it, but if you want someone to do housework or work in the woods you just can't get them. In looking over the record he stated that in 1960 the labor force in the Maritimes was 592,000. In 1961 it was 613,000 or 21,000 more. Jobs were provided for 25,000 more in 1961 than 1960, which meant that the 21,000 which came into the labor force were taken care of and 4,000 more of the unemployed had found work. He said unemployment was always a serious matter and the government recognized this but there would always be unemployment with more coming into the labor force. Before the war, Mr. Nowlan said, thirty-five per cent of the labor force was on the farm. Today only eleven per cent is on the farm but the eleven per cent produces more goods than the 35 per cent did. There won't be too much talk in the House of Commons about unemployment this winter, he continued.

The speaker said that it is about time we speak of how well off we are in Nova Scotia instead of considering ourselves depressed. Maybe our highways are not as good as some provinces but neither is it so expensive to live here. We have many things of which to be proud. For much of the progressiveness, the honorable minister gave the reason that there was a close cooperation between the federal and provincial governments. In 1957, he said, the Nova Scotia government had received $31,300,000 from the federal treasury; in 1961 the amount was four times as much or $67,900,000. Seventy-five per cent of all money spent in the province for technical and vocational education comes from the federal government, he said. University grants, he said, were up by 66 per cent.

The government housing project in Canada, Mr. Nowlan declared, was equal to any in the world. Within the past few years the amount available for housing has increased from $100,000,000 to $2,000,000,000. More than 500,000 new houses were built within the last two or three years on the government plan.

Income tax had been reduced and seventy-five per cent

Singer Claimed By Death

Death this week claimed the life of an international hit record singer, Thomas Cowan, 40, of Digby, Nova Scotia. He was a professional singer and a member of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. He was a member of the band of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. He was a member of the band of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police.

Thomas Cowan, head of the Communication School under the Town of Digby, died last week with eight members viz. Carl Melanson, Robert Pyne, Earl Anderson, William Troop Jr., Arthur Everett, Mrs. Calvin VanTassell, William Holliday and Mr. Cowan. Teacher for the course is Lew Barnes, Bear River.

Cowan Heads School

On Tuesday night of this week the class met at the home of their teacher, Bear River, when they had an opportunity to observe and listen on a ham radio and thus get first hand and practical knowledge of working equipment.

Mr. Cowan said the operation of ham radios is tightly tied in with the C. D. program so that in case of nuclear attack and radio communication he hindered the ham radio would immediately be put into operation.

Mr. Cowan urged that more ladies avail themselves of the communications course under C. D. as this was one of the fields in which women can serve.

Entertain At Cards

A delightful card party was held at the home of Mrs. Paul VanTassell, Digby, on Tuesday evening when those present were Mrs. Roy VanTassell, Mrs. Frank McIntosh, Mrs. Iver Mullen and Mrs. Louise McVeigh.

90 YEARS

cent are still paying income tax at a lower rate than when the Conservatives came into office in 1957, the speaker informed. Sales tax on cars was reduced for it is considered now that a car is not a luxury but a necessity for travelling to the mill, fish plant or other place of work.

Loans to small businesses had climbed from 7 in Nova Scotia to 49 within the last four years through the Industrial Development Bank. Mr. Nowlan told his audience.

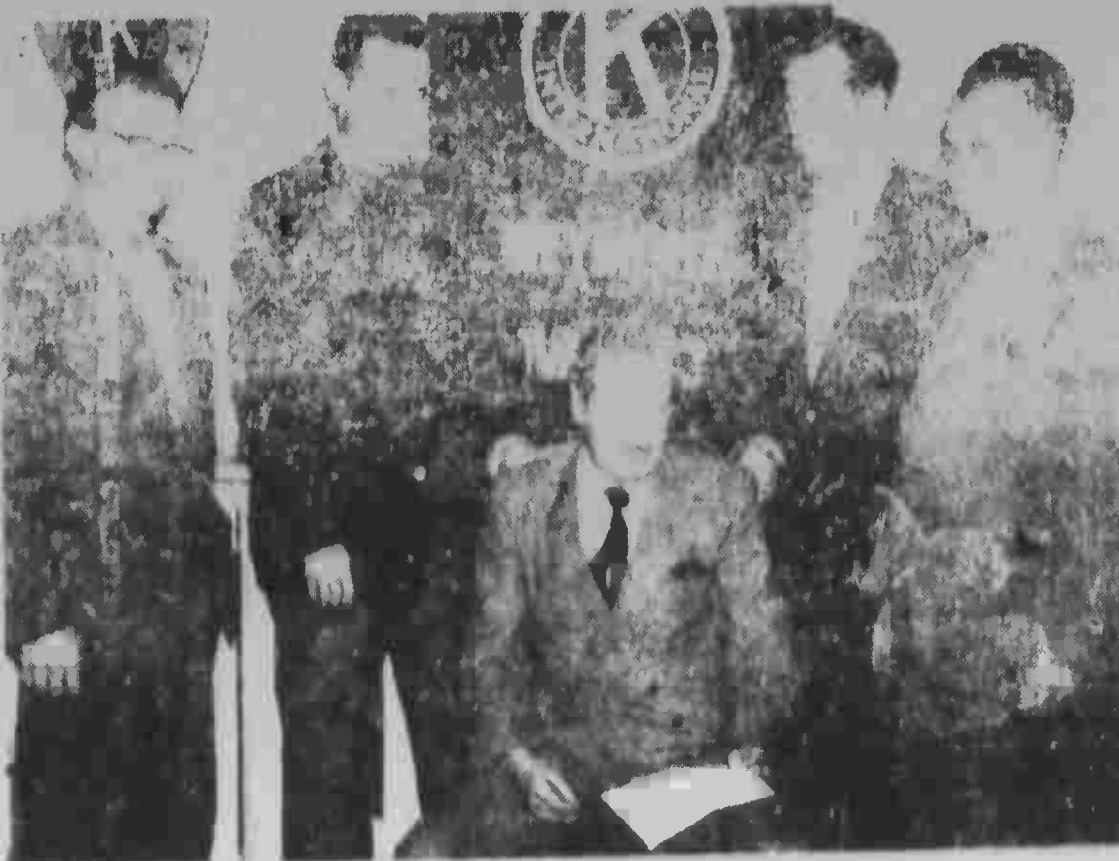

Because of our geographic location transportation presents a problem, he said, but a Royal Commission is studying the problem.

Mrs. Helen Anthony moved a vote of confidence in Mr. Nowlan, the Prime Minister and his administration, as well as one of confidence in Premier Stanfield and the Nova Scotia government.

The Honorable Mr. Nowlan was thanked for his talk by Dr. D. E. Lewis, president of the Digby town P.C. organization, Keith Potter, president of the Digby County P.C. Association, president.

Officers elected at the meeting were: President, Keith Potter; Plymouth: Vice Presidents, Leonard Small, Tiverton; Mrs. A. J. Dillon, Digby; Forest; Esmer, Digby; Roy Snell, Bear River; Gifford Lewis, Weymouth; Dr. D. E. Lewis, Digby; Secretary, Keith Raymond, Centreville; Assistant Secretary, Mrs. Clara Perry, Conway; Chairman Finance, Dr. G. V. Turnbull, Joggin Bridge.

Digby Minor Hockey League

The Digby Minor Hockey League was again in action last Saturday. The morning's action began with the two Paperweight teams playing across the ice surface. On the far left, the Maple Leafs, on goals by B. Patterson (T. Mudge), G. Winchester (T. Mudge), T. Mudge, a hat trick assisted on all goals by B. Patterson and G. Winchester (G. Winchester) outscored the Blue Devils 6-1. The Devils' single was by M. Bailey (P. Lewis).

On the near ice, the Black Hawks fought to a 2-2 tie with the Red Wings. Hawks' markers were by Gary Dunn (Rod Doucette, Mike W. and Gary Dunn (R. McCarlie, D. Potter). The Red Wings' goals were by Andy Wilson (Randy VanTassell, P. McInnis) and Eric Hodgson (Ken A. and A. Wilson).

In the Pee Wee League the Knights edged the Rangers 1-0 on a goal by B. Surette unassisted.

In the second Pee Wee game the Canadians shut out the Bruins 2-0 on goals by J. Black (P. Wewitt) and G. Hewitt (P. Wewitt, G. Marshall).

The Bantam League Warriors and Aces ended their contest in a 1-1 tie. Warriors' lone marker was by L. Cowan (J. Amero, C. Haynes). The Aces' single was by D. Doucette (Handspiker, Sabo).

Return From Europe

Town councillor Helen Anthony and Miss Jean Robinson returned on Thursday after spending several weeks touring England, European and Scandinavian countries. Mrs. Anthony returned by plane and met Miss Robinson in Montreal from where they completed the tour together. Mrs. Anthony's sister, Mrs. Louise Stephen, who was also one of the party returned to New York by boat from Montreal.

Tells Lions Of Digby History

A resume of the history of Digby Town and County was given to members of the Lions Club recently by Mayor Victor Cardoza.

He traced the history of the town from its first settlement in 1766 under the name of Conway. This settlement, he said, was short lived and when the Loyalist settlers arrived in 1783 most of the original settlers had departed.

The name of the community was changed to Digby in honor of Sir Robert Digby, whose flagship led the Loyalist settlers to their new home here. In many respects the Loyalist settlers of 1783 were much like the displaced persons who are finding new homes in Canada today. Many of them, he said, were professional people not prepared or equipped to meet the hardships of pioneering in a new land. Many, he said, found the going too rough and either returned to the United States or went on to England.

The government of the day dealt generously with the Loyalist settlers, providing them with three years' provisions, bricks and framing for their houses.

In his review Mayor Cardoza paid tribute to the work of the Admiral Digby Horticulture Society, which established a park near the property occupied by the admiral when he wintered in Digby.

NSAACP Meets

The November meeting of the Acadiaville-Weymouth branch of the Nova Scotia Association for the Advancement of Coloured People Inc. held its November meeting at the Acadiaville Church Hall on Monday night with a good attendance, despite the stormy night.

Reports were given by the secretary, Mrs. Mary Borden, including a brief outline of the annual conference of the provincial body recently held at Halifax. The recent News Letter was read.

The steering committee was authorized to continue study and investigation of several deute community problems and to bring recommendations for further action before the next meeting.

The chairman, Rev. W. P. Clayton, outlined a few ways in which organized communities can and are dealing with problems which have become part of general living in an economic and technical system, inherently geared toward the survival of the fittest.

Two essential factors basic to remedial action are recognition of our problem and self-help.

Special guest at the meeting was Mrs. M. P. Gott, who in a few words laid before all the tremendous challenge with which all progressive-minded communities are confronted.

The meeting closed, encouraged by the speaker's summary that this group is not alone with its problems.

Freeman Heads Federation

Bartus Freeman, Lansdowne, was elected president of the Digby County Federation of Agriculture at the annual meeting held at Conway on Thursday of last week. He succeeds Mrs. Mary Frances Comeau of Saintville.

Other officers elected were: Camille V. Deveau, vice president and Mrs. Chipman Chisholm, secretary-treasurer. Directors elected were Roger Freeman, H. M. Warne, Arthur Mackay, Edmund Read, Parker Manzer, Delbert Thibault, Charles Dugas, John Sauthier, Isaac Doucette, J. R. Deveau, John LeBlanc, Chipman Chisholm and retiring president Mrs. Comeau.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Professor Edgar B. McKay, University of Maine and formerly of Bear River. He said that the aims of the Canadian Agriculture Rehabilitation and Development Act were similar to those of a rural development program with which he was familiar as it was carried out in Maine and other areas of the United States. He urged that an effort be made to have the provisions of the Agriculture Rehabilitation and Development Act program applied to Digby County. This, he said, would require co-operation of government agencies and also of the people concerned.

Professor McKay told of the program carried out in Maine and which began in 1956. A study of conditions and problems had been made as to resources, markets and opportunities for development. A plan was then presented which included assistance financially, technically and in career counselling. Both human and material aspects of the plan for all segments of the area population were included.

Prof. McKay said results of studies in Maine indicated special emphasis should be given to better forest management, especially for pulp and Christmas tree production; the poultry enterprise held promise for further expansion and consideration was needed for the possibility of development of county freezing facilities for product. Short courses were made available in special vocations. A hardwood mill had been established and efforts made to develop it. Work is underway in marketing cedar and new promotional efforts for seacoast tourist development.

Professor McKay is at present on a year's leave of absence from the University of Maine to work on a Cornell Research Program in the Digby area.

A report on the activities of the provincial federation was also given on Thursday by Paul Bishop, of Somerset, a provincial director.

The meeting decided to renew its request for establishment of an animal pathological laboratory at Kentville. Another resolution passed will seek action from the federal government toward the payment of freight subventions on grains shipped to the Maritimes from U. S. points.

Miss Ruby Chisholm, Annapolis, Royal, formerly of Digby, celebrated her 91st birthday at her home recently. She is believed to be one of Canada's oldest active business women.

Miss Chisholm, who operates a hat shop in the town, lives alone and takes keen interest in church, town and world affairs.

The CPR, to have a replacement for the Princess Helen at such times as she was in drydock for extended repairs.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. J. M. Wallis, editor of The Digby Courier, for the fine material for tourist promotion distributed during the summer in the form of scallop shells and accompanying pamphlets.

E. Adelaar of Weymouth, past president of the Weymouth Board of Trade and an executive director of the Maritime Board of Trade and of Canadian Chamber of Commerce, contributed many helpful hints in a short talk to the Digby members. He suggested that Clare, Weymouth, Digby and Fundy Boards get together regarding industrial opportunities. An idea advanced by Mr. Cardoza to improve the state of the Digby Board was to widen the territorial scope to outlying areas for membership. It was also discussed that fewer meetings of the general board with the executive directing much of the business might be advisable.

It was decided to hold the next Board meeting in January. Mr. Parkes, who was brought to Digby to endeavor to revitalize the "slumping" Digby Board of Trade, was thanked by Mr. Cardoza who said there was indication that Mr. Parkes had fulfilled the mission for which he had come.

Delegates named to the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade which met in Bridgetown Wednesday were V. G. Cardoza and H. M. Warne. Others expected to attend were A. L. Robinson, John Nichols and Edward Twobig.

The Digby Board went on record as supporting a resolution from the Bridgetown Board requesting a scenic drive to be made along the Fundy Shore from Annapolis Royal, through Victoria Beach to Cape Blomidon and touching points as Grand Pre, Windsor, known as the Valley and Fundy Scenic Drive. This would be an attraction for tourists, provide employment, raise living standards for residents and enhance the value of properties along the route.

On motion of V. G. Cardoza it was decided to request

Commander R. W. J. Cocks, HMCS Cornwallis, and family left last weekend to take up a new appointment at Naval Headquarters.

During their stay at Cornwallis during the past three years, Commander and Mrs. Cocks had made many friends, not only among the navy personnel but among civilians in Digby and other nearby towns.

Commander R. W. J. Cocks, CD, RCN, was born in Victoria, B. C. He entered HMCS "Royal Roads" in 1941 and upon graduation as shipman in 1943, he served in HMCS "Valiant" and HMCS "Norman". Sub-Lieutenant's technical courses followed in 1945, then flying training with the RAF and RN. In 1949 there were appointments to HMCS "Nootka" and "New Liskeard" and then back to flying in 825 Squadron until 1950. Further flying appointments followed until Mr. Cocks took over command of 881 Squadron. In 1955 he was appointed to the staff of the Royal Military College until he assumed command of HMCS "Annapolis". He was promoted to his present rank in January, 1957.

Flowers For Christmas

If the weather continues as at present Mrs. Amy Robinson won't be using flowers for Christmas decorations. She'll have single blooms such as pansies, marigolds, mums, alysium, and other such blooms for the occasion. At least the bowl of flowers left on the editor's desk on Monday would indicate a variety would be still in good condition for the Christmas table centre.

TO THE VOTERS TOWN OF DIGBY

As you know I have offered to serve in the position of Mayor of our town. If elected I will serve to the best of my ability. My opponent is a man of outstanding talents and to run against him is an honor indeed. Please go out and vote for me on December 5. If not, go out and vote anyway. A town is only as good as its citizens want it to be.

The Town of Digby has given me many things, amongst them a lot of true friends, a good living and a real place in which to live. Is it any wonder that I want to serve the town in some way?

On December 5 I will look forward to your vote.

Thanking you,
I am,
Thomas Cowan.

ALRIDE — SPICER

Berwick United Church was the scene of a pretty candle-light wedding, Wednesday evening, Nov. 12, at 7:30 o'clock when Joy Lorraine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Spicer, Berwick, was united in marriage to Captain Alex Alride, son of Mrs. Cecil Cusman and the late Alex Alride, Weymouth. Rev. F. C. Bunnell performed the double ring ceremony.

The church was decorated with baskets of yellow, bronze and white mums and guests' pews were marked with nose-gays of pink roses.

Mrs. F. C. Bunnell played the wedding music and also acted as the best man. The bride wore a floor-length gown of white tulle with a fitted bodice trimmed with clusters of pearls and sequins, high neckline and long sleeves which came to points over the wrists. The beautiful skirt was trimmed with lace, pearls and points of lace over each side and modillions in the back. Her shoulder-length veil had a fringe of pearls and carried a dashing bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Alride, sister of the bride, was married of honor, and Miss Sylvia Baleson, of Weymouth, was bridesmaid. They wore identical street-length gowns of midnight blue satin, with matching head-dress and veils, and carried bouquets of pink carnations. Little Miss Holly Spicer, of Weymouth, sister of the bride, was a flower girl, wearing a rose satin gown with matching head-dress and carried a basket of mixed flowers. Master Mack Spicer, brother of the bride, dressed in a white shirt, was ring bearer, and carried the rings on a rose satin pillow. How and Alride, Halifax, brother of the groom, was best man and ushers were Stewart Spicer, Wilmet Station, brother of the bride, and Brian Bethune, Berwick. Following the ceremony a reception for 150 guests was held in the church vestry where the parents of the bride and groom received with the bridal party. The bride's mother wore a teal blue silk dress with other accessories and corsage of pink carnations. The groom's mother was wearing a light navy silk dress with beige accessories and a corsage of pink carnations.

The bride's table, covered with a damask cloth was centred with a three-tier wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom, with white in crystal candleabra and bouquets of bronze and yellow mums on either side. Mrs. Stewart Spicer, of Wilmet, sister-in-law of the bride, and Mrs. Donald Alride, sister-in-law of the groom, poured. Serving were Misses Sharon Mollen, Mary Cogswell, Ann Rhynold and Carolyn Semple, assisted by the Explorer Group of the Berwick United Church, of which the bride is a leader. The wedding cakes were served by the bride and groom.

Gregg and Allen Spicer, brothers of the bride, were in charge of the guest book. Amid showers of confetti and good wishes the happy couple left on a trip to Montreal. For travelling the bride wore a beige wool dress and brown fur jacket with melon accessories and corsage of red roses. The bride is on the staff of the Spicer Nursing Home and the groom is assistant station agent. They will reside in Berwick. Previous to her marriage the bride was guest of honor at a shower where she received many lovely gifts.

Out of town guests were from Kentville, Truro, Halifax, Weymouth, Greenwood, Wilmet Station and Middleton.

NAUGLER — PIERCE

A pretty wedding was solemnized Saturday, November 18, 7 p.m., at the Gospel Light-house, Centerville, Digby Co., Nova Scotia, when Rev. Cleveland Pierce united in marriage his youngest daughter, Viola Phyllis and Gerald Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Naugler of Middlewood, Lunenburg Co., Nova Scotia.

With the double ring ceremony being used, the bride entered the church on the arm of her mother, looking lovely in a floor-length gown of nylon net over white bridal satin, the bodice and torso being of alencon lace with matching bodice having long sleeves and collars trimmed with pearls and sequins. Her waist-length veil of white nylon was held in place by a halo trimmed with pearls and sequins. She wore a pearl necklace gift of the groom and carried a white Bible with a spray of red roses attached.

The matron of honour was Mrs. Donald Trimmer, Bear River, Nova Scotia, sister of the bride.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Keith Stattenwhite, Western Shore, and Miss Linda Naugler, Middlewood.

Best man was Mr. Donald Trimmer, brother-in-law of the bride.

Ushers were Mr. Keith Stattenwhite, Western Shore, and Mr. Walter Pearce, Centerville.

The flower girls were Pamela Bradley and Tanya Trimmer.

The bride's mother wore a grey blue suit with navy and white accessories. Her corsage was of white mums and roses.

The groom's mother chose a blue dress with white accessories. Her corsage being of white mums and roses.

Miss Shirley Smith was organist. Rev. T. Davies, sang "The Wedding Prayer" at the signing of the register.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Centerville Hall. Rev. T. Jobb offered the prayer of thanks.

The happy couple left for a motor trip to points of interest in the province. For travelling the bride chose a Loden Green suit with brown and white accessories and wore a corsage of white roses.

The bride was a graduate of the Digby Regional High School and was employed at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis Naval Base.

Guests were from Halifax, Hants, Annapolis, Digby and Lunenburg County.

The happy couple will reside in Middlewood.

CBC Has 25th Anniversary

The Canadian Broadcasting Corporation celebrated its 25th anniversary on November 2. Starting with eight, CBC owned or leased radio stations in the fall of 1936, the CBC now operates and administers the world's longest and most complex radio and television networks, and performs this job in two languages.

Today, CBC's three radio networks — the Dominion, Tigers Canada, and French — reach almost 98 percent of Canada's population, and its two television networks — French and English — reach more than 94 percent of the population. The radio networks comprise 133 stations, 31 of them CBC owned and 102 privately owned. The television networks number 61 stations, 16 of them CBC owned and 45 owned by private interests. In addition there are 26 rebroadcasting stations.

CBC has undertaken many duties not well known to the general public: a special radio service directed to the 75,000 Canadians living in the Yukon and Northwest Territories; the management of armed forces stations in Canada and overseas; provision of programs to the armed forces, including naval vessels at sea; operation of an international short wave service broadcasting to many different countries of the world.

The CBC employs more than 7,000 people and last year operated with a budget of $101,000,000. Of this amount, a little more than $59,000,000 came from public funds, averaging about one cent per day per Canadian.

In the development of its radio and television networks CBC had to face many challenges — challenges which have had to be met by every national development in our history.

The geographical layout of the country, its vastness and its relatively small population presented one of the greatest problems in the networks' march from coast to coast. Too, there were two languages, which meant that program production effort had to be doubled from the very beginning.

At the beginning of this year, the Corporation faced a new challenge — competition for the commercial dollar from private television stations that started operation in each of the CBC's main production centres.

Over the past 25 years, the CBC radio and television has fostered the development of Canadian talent and has provided a major outlet for the abilities of Canadian artists and performers. Last year, for example, the CBC paid $12,729,000 in fees to performing artists, and $2,678,000 for scripts, performing rights, music and musical arrangements.

In addition, the CBC has enabled Canadian artists to be seen in other countries through its sale of television programs to foreign countries. Programs have been sold to the United Kingdom, Australia, the United States, the Netherlands, Germany, France, Belgium, Luxembourg and Switzerland.

BYPU ORGANIZED

On Friday evening, Nov. 17, a young people's group was organized at the Ashmore Baptist Church, including the young people from Weymouth North Church, under the leadership of Rev. C. Barkhouse. There were 23 present. The meeting was opened with a devotional led by Winifred Manzer, in which Carole Thibault and Murray Manzer took part.

Following a talk given by Rev. C. Barkhouse, concerning a young people's group, officers were appointed as follows: pres., Winifred Manzer; vice-pres., Diane Manzer; sec'y., Carole Thibault; treas., Russ Hankinson; organist, Mrs. Scott Kinney. The group will meet every second Friday evening.

To The Electors Of Digby ...

Friends:

I hereby solicit your support at the polls, in the election for Mayor of Digby on December 5th.

Time may not permit me to call on all of you personally between now and election day but I give you my assurance that, if you do me the honour of electing me as your Mayor, I will do all in my power in that office to further the best interests of our town and its people.

During the past four years I have gained considerable knowledge of civic affairs and experience in town government, having served as a member of the town council, as Deputy Mayor and as council representative on the hospital board.

It is my hope that you, the voters, will allow me to make use of that knowledge and experience for the benefit of our town by electing me as your Mayor.

Yours sincerely,

Diary Of A Vagabond

by Dorothy Barker

THE CAT'S MEOW

There are times when my good judgment can be swayed, when I throw caution to the four winds and, as my grand-mother would say, "may the devil take the hind most". The day on which my most recent tilt with reason occurred was sunny and warm. Golden leaves drifted in rustling little heaps and beneath them a soft white fur paw played with the laces of my walking shoes.

The kitten was the color of fall, a fluffy bundle of orange argenta with turquoise eyes, innocent of all guile. I should have known better, for this was a female feline, a witch in cat's clothing. On that glorious afternoon she cuddled into my neck, purring her way into my heart and took little possession of the part of her mistress to make me her proud owner. Especially when I learned there were three girl kittens in the litter and two at least were destined for an early demise unless someone adopted them.

Sometimes since that fatal afternoon I greatly regret having been so easily coaxed into believing that "Butty" would be an ideal companion for our senior citizen who spends her days in the lap of counterpane. I might have known that kittens don't stay put and that flying fingers on a key board become fascinating pleasure for a predatory disposition. So there will be a brief interruption in recounting my Maritime Tour. Butty's antics and the hectic contribution she has made to our peaceful household has obliterated all thought from my mind. It is hard to rave about the scenery on Cape Breton Island while yards of skin are being ripped from fingers and noses are creeping up my eyelids, started by a quick swipe of a playful paw.

Seemingly Innocuous

Butty was an angel the first three days we owned her. I brought her home in a huge carton which must have appeared as cold and frustrating to her as the walls of St. George's to a prisoner after the warm fur bosom of her mother and the playful companionship of her sisters. She curled up on our senior citizen's bed and nothing except the urge of nature could budge her from the comfort of human love and a woolly blanket. This was joy. She was so cute and playful, sweet and cuddly. That any apprehensions I had about having her invade our privacy were lulled almost into oblivion.

She got her second wind about the evening of the third day. I had been told by her former mistress to feed her a teaspoonful of a well-known cat food along with a bowl of warm milk three times a day. I can vouch for the voracity of the company's advertising. It not only made Butty feel like a tiger, but act like one as well.

Her first adventure was scaling the bamboo blinds and hanging like a deflated balloon six feet from the security of the floor. It was at this moment she discovered she had a voice. She meowed a plaintive plea to be rescued, then caterwauled her terror like a Tom cat. I had hardly packed her off the curtains when she discovered the luxurious hoya vines that grew up the wall beside the dining room window. She capered up like Jack climbing the beanstalk and brought the whole lovely mass of green stuff down in a heap, looking as though a tropical storm had hit it with a blast.

I Go Up Too

Butty, I have decided, has no fear of anything that provides a challenge to her climbing ability. My palmetto legs, any tree within a mile, rafters in the basement and the inaccessible gable in the roof top are all adventures for her. She can get up, but aside from being shaken from my palmetto legs, she can seldom descend of her own accord. This has developed in me an unexpected agility. As long as I don't look down while trying to rescue her from the limbs of an apple tree or the crotch of an elm I can safely bring us both to earth.

She has an absolute mania for African violets. Stealthily she creeps among the foliage of a favorite double "Plink Plink" until she finds the biggest, juiciest blossom. Then, "quicker" than anyone can grab her, she has decapitated the bloom, swallowed it whole and ducked under the bed where no one can reach her.

Our kitten is a TV buff. Our only means of taming her high spirits is either to starve her near unto death or turn on the video contraption in the corner of the room. She will sit for an hour, ears perked, tail coiled, paws licked to a creamy white and just stare and stare. She is not particular about the program I don't believe she has any aesthetic taste about plays or music, she doesn't abhor the commercials or become hysterical over westerns, nor does she swoon over pop singers. She just sits, and so do I. Whether I like the view, the face or not it is comforting to know that lamps, plants, upholstery, my skin and hose are safe for a moment from complete destruction.

Still, we love this feline bomb I am sure, for when she strays for an hour or so I "love, Kitty, Kitty" myself hoarse until she is safely back in the fold of the family.

Lighthousekeeping — Not Light House Keeping

(By Madeline Lent)

As recently as nine months ago my husband was a fisherman. Now he helps tend a light on Brier Island, at the westernmost tip of Nova Scotia. Its beacon reaches out into the tide-torn waters of the Bay of Fundy.

Early last December Wickerson and I moved into the Island home at Grand Passage Light, along with the four young ones. The weather was wonderful, but sky. Little did that rainy day prepare us for what was ahead.

Our three sons, 12-year-old Chester, 10-year-old Harry and 8-year-old Brian, readily took to life at the Light. With hills galore to slide on, a skating rink all of their own and a 6-manure animal stabled walk to school each morning, they were as happy as sandboys. Haversacks loaded with lunch, they set off each morning along a trail rich with nature's wonders. Everything about the wild life fascinated them — a mink scurrying across the path, birds twittering in the branches overhead. How they ever reached their destination, I'll never know.

One day they arrived home carefully nursing a near-dead, red-tailed hawk. The poor thing had a mouth full of porcupine quills and was suffering from starvation. It must have made its way over from the mainland since no porcupine inhabit our island. We did all we could, but it didn't get through the first night. However, the boys still have their prized hawk — a taxidermist mounted it for them.

I had my run-ins with nature early, too, but mine were not nearly so pleasant. The first week we were at the light a large — and stubborn — snowy owl blew in from the Arctic. Every time I hung out the washing, he would sit on a nearby pile of wood and hiss. One afternoon, tiring of this relatively tame sport, he flew over to the step and started to make short work of a habrit he had caught. That finished it! Mustering all the backbone in me, I chased him away. But he did manage to get even. As a parting shot, he began chewing away on a wet mop — a D.O.T. one at that. I don't know if D.O.T. wet mops are any more indigestible than any other kind, but friend owl never came back.

By now our first Christmas at the light was almost on top of us. The kitchen oven — a real beauty — hummed with the efficiency of an incubator at a chick hatchery. Cakes, pies and puddings slid in and out with Christmas-time regularity, scarcely allowing the oven to cool.

It had been many years since a child had been at Grand Passage for Christmas and we wondered if Santa might have forgotten the address. But, no, the kindly gentleman, apparently called here first, for the mound of toys and treats which confronted the youngsters on Christmas morning must have nearly emptied his pack.

Christmas, 1960, was "any thing but uneventful" as Wickerson will attest to. Our living room was small and already overtaxed, but since there must be a tree — a tree rose. During the day it was fine, but when the church was pulled out for sleeping, Wickerson ended up under the tree with the lower branches reaching down to tickle his nose. That he was soon to find out was nothing.

A morning or two after the 25th our year-old crawler, Faye, approaching the lights, ran around against the tree and forward it came. On ornaments, tinsel, icicles and needles spewed over the "master" of the house as he layed unspontaneously. Needless to say, the tree stayed down.

Not all the games were on the Christmas tree. We heard our first "snow-eater" — a real doer — soon after. Gales, sleet and snow beat against the dwelling. Even the smallest dent in the insulating armor seemed to become a wind-spread rent. We moved the children, beds and all, into the kitchen, along with most of the articles from the pantry. Of course, we forgot the odd thing from the shelves and to get it required an excursion over the baby's crib — no small problem when Faye was asleep. Electricity failed during the height of the storm and Wickerson raced to the light to get a lamp going.

The next morning our home looked like a limestone igloo outside, but like a London blitz blackout within. Frozen spray covered every wall and window keeping the sunlight out, while electricity was nonexistent on the inside.

However, I don't want this to seem like a North Pole saga. Our home was cosy in spite of the inconveniences of the weather and over the Christmas season, when we had expected to have a quiet time due to the storm, 17 friends came to visit from Westport — the only village on the island.

Sundays, so it seemed, were mostly stormy. We stayed at home — but eased our consciences by putting money in the mission boxes. Often I would listen to the Sunday services on the radio. One morning, as I was praying along with the congregation, I felt an icy spoonful of cold oatmeal being forced into my mouth. It was spoon-wielder Faye's way of reminding me that twelve o'clock was time to be eating, not sitting in a chair with my eyes shut!

All was not as serene as cold oatmeal and radio church. As winter wore on the storms seemed to grow; growling thunder was interrupted only by the odd accident like a gurgling sound from the bathroom, for instance. A dash upstairs found the toilet seat floating on the floor and the flush erupting like "old faithful".

Below zero temperatures froze pipes, burst the hot water tank and left us without water, while the waves in the Bay were practically falling over themselves to crash on the rocks. All we could think of was "water, water everywhere, but not a drop to drink". A tankful of water kept in the kitchen rescued us from this "Atlantic Sahara".

I must admit nerves were frayed at times — especially when the weather kept the boys home from school. I found some solace in reading, "How To Live 365 Days" — thankful that all 365 wouldn't be like these few and that spring lay just around the corner.

It was about this time we received word that a temporary keeper would no longer be needed at Grand Passage, since the light was being changed to an automatic one. We would have to go home — back to Westport. How could we break the news to the boys? We stressed all the advantages of returning to "civilization": no more cold lunches, sleep later in the mornings, shorter walks to school.

As the hour for us to go came near, I thought the boys were sold. But just about that time a call came for an assistant keeper at Brier Island Light, five miles away, and the joyful whoops from the boys told me that I failed to convince them.

Going to Brier Island Light meant trading electricity for a telephone, the home we were leaving had electricity, but no phone; the new one, a phone but no electricity. It took just a little adjusting: washing by hand and heating pots on the fire, for example. But there are more subtle things to living without electricity — a quiet house with no radio or T.V. Reading is coming back into style in the Lent family and I think everyone is benefiting.

We have benefited in many other ways. Wickerson likes his job and hopes it will be made permanent. You see, he lost one leg in a boyhood hunting accident and although he has lived a normal life, he finds lighthousekeeping more suitable than being a fisherman. As well, this work enables him to pursue his keen interest in birds.

He assists ornithologists in banding birds every fall and has a special licence to collect rare specimens for the Museum of Science in Halifax. He provided valuable bird data for a book written by Nova Scotian R. Tufts, which is soon to be published.

Our "new" home, a 1900 model, until recently was the keeper's house. With the building of a modern duplex at this station, the keeper and first assistant and their families moved into it, and our dwelling became the "official residence" of the second assistant. The contrast between the two places shows the great improvements which are underway in D.O.T. accommodation. As in any 60-year-old house, the plaster sometimes springs leaks in the most interesting places; the toilet facilities are of the healthy variety — lots of good, fresh air — and the odd cupboard is minus a door. But life is still mighty cheerful and, if we stay on in the service, we probably will get a new home sometime.

Although I only get to the village once every week or so, staying home gives me extra time for sewing and knitting — two things which I enjoy very much. The daily happenings are sufficient to keep us all interested. A Decca station to assist in charting the Bay of Fundy is within sight of us, and the C.M.S. Baffin works near by. As well, when the department helicopter brings our supplies we get a thrill watching it land a short distance from the house. And, of course, living within a few yards of a fog alarm with its "interesting" aspects — it blows, night and day, one long blast, one short, pauses and then another long and short blast followed by a minute and a half of silence.

In spite of all this, people often say to me, "How dull it must be away off at the light-house."

A THOUGHT STARTER

Ronald C. McCormack

Sympathy For Our Day

Since God is a God of love, what kind of love does He hold for those whom He has created? The answer is, sympathetic love.

This is more than pity. In mere pity one stands on the sidelines and feels badly while watching another suffer. But, in sympathy, the onlooker hurries to the helpless person and helps him carry the load. God shares our perplexities and sins in this personal fashion. He has sent His Son to bear the whipping which we would otherwise have to take.

If the world possessed more sympathy, it would be less dangerous. If folks would stop pitying themselves and, instead, would rush to sympathize with their troubled neighbors, there would be far less misunderstanding. It is pretty generally true that we have no idea how big the other fellow's burdens are, and we are not very eager to find out. The way into the heart of another is to listen sympathetically without discussing your own problems.

For those of rugged temperament, let us add that this exercise of sympathy is more than a noble sentiment. It is the best achievement of the best people. Our civilization needs a new baptism of sympathetic love. An ancient English dramatist, Aaron Hill, said, "Shame on those hearts of stone, that cannot melt in soft adoption of another's sorrow."

To be angry is to revenge the faults of others upon ourselves. — Alexander Pope.

Bent Is Mayor Elect

Vernon L. Bent (above) became mayor elect of the Town of Digby in a sweeping victory for the mayoralty seat contested by Thomas Cowan on Tuesday. Mr. Bent will take oath of office early in January when the seat will be vacated by His Worship, V. G. Cardoza, the present mayor.

Mr. Bent, who is at present deputy mayor of the town, polled 516 votes and Mr. Cowan obtained 141. Three bad lots were spoiled making 600 votes cast out of an approximate 1,200 eligible voters. This was the highest number of votes polled at a civic election in town in recent years and the first mayoralty election for some 15 years.

Mr. Bent who has spent the past four years on the town council, is employed as foreman at Wallis Print Ltd., publishers of The Digby Courier. He has taken an active part on the Hospital Board, the Digby Recreation Commission, the Digby Branch Canadian Legion and other community groups and committees.

Mr. Cardoza who retires from civic government this year, had been on the town council for 19 years, 16 as a councillor and 3 as mayor. Mr. Cardoza is a member of the provincial government as representative for the municipality of Digby.

Recently elected to council by acclamation were Russell Atkinson, Reigh Jayne and Charles Hersey. Terms unexpired are those of councillors Mrs. Helen Anthony, Earl Morrell and Bruce Baxter.

The mayoralty election in Annapolis Royal on Tuesday, saw Fred W. Beattie defeat Wilfred Crosby by a majority of 167 votes.

In Yarmouth where there was a three way contest, Frederick Emin won over Mayor W. P. Allen and T. A. M. Kirk.

Free Parking From 15th To Boxing Day

Again Digby parking meters can be ignored during the Christmas season giving shoppers the ease and comfort of shopping without the continuous consciousness of time running out. By motion at the regular meeting of the town council on Monday night it was decided to grant 10 days of free parking in Digby over the Christmas season. The free parking starts December 15 and ends at the close of Boxing Day.

A previous motion at the same meeting declared Tuesday, December 26, as Boxing Day in the town of Digby.

Highways And Byways

(Carolyn Arnold) Recently the students re-organized their curling group under the leadership of Mr. R. Purdy. The group, which was organized into mixed teams, expects to begin playing on Saturday.

On Friday, Dec. 1st, The Junior Boys' Volleyball team attended a tournament in Bridgetown. Following are the Digby scores: Bridgeport vs. Digby - 15-10, 15-12; Annapolis Royal vs. Digby - 1-12, 5-15; Middleton vs. Digby - 15-07, 15-10.

'Speedy' Junior Typists Recognized

The students of St. Patrick's Business College have successfully passed the November timed tests prescribed by the Gregg Testing Program, New York City, and have earned 135 certificates which were sent by their Committee of Examiners.

On November 16 Catherine G. Marney, of Digby, set a new record for juniors by typing 160 words in ten minutes. On November 8 Barbara DeAdder, of Deep Brook, led the juniors with a net speed of 36 words per minute on a ten-minute timing.

Gregg Competent Speed Typists Certificates were earned by: Helen Potter, Bear River for 30 and 16 w.p.m.; For 30 and 10 w.p.m.: Marjorie Ellis, Bear River; Janet Troop, Granville Ferry; Joan Baxter, Deep Brook; Barbara DeAdder, Deep Brook; Carolyn Marney, Digby; Angela Skidmore, Deep Brook; Betty MacInnes, Digby, for 31 w.p.m.; Corrine Hudson, Hampton, 31 w.p.m.; Anna Adams, Smith's Cove, 31 w.p.m.; Sheldon Gidney, Mink Cove 31 w.p.m.; Dale Robbins, Bear River 31 w.p.m. For 30 w.p.m.: Marie Thibodeau, Lequere; Joyce Charlton, Granville Centre; Robert Murphy, Digby; Violet Barton, Acadiaville.

Junior Order of Artistic Typists Certificates were won by the above students, and Donna Adams, Judith McCleave and Patricia Roberts of Digby; Diana Hensy of Culloden; Catherine Mallet, of Mavilotte; Curtis Addison and Murray Trask of Little River; and Lorna Theriault of East Ferry.

Bookkeeping Award No. 1 and Alphabetical Filing Award No. 1 were also won by the entire group.

Lobster Catch Is Good

Despite the heavy gales and in some areas low tides which hampered the early setting of lobster traps in Digby County last Thursday in order to be ready for Friday's catch, the lobster fishing is well underway and good catches have been reported to date.

The lobster industry in Digby County is one important to the economy of the area. Last year about 700 were employed in the lobster fishing in Digby County, using 315 boats. The value of lobsters caught in Digby County was $553,963 it is understood.

Catches during the week from the Neck and Islands area were reported good and the District of Clare which takes in from Cape St. Mary to Church Point reported good catches each day especially in the Meteghan area.

In Tiverton the lobster fishing is taking the place of the declining haddock fishing. It is understood, about 25 boats are operating from there.

At one time as high as 35 boats carried out haddock fishing operations out of Tiverton. The catch has dwindled to such an extent that it is understood, the fishermen consider it unwise to rig up the gear for the present season. This is the first year since haddocking was started by John Hall and a Mr. Clifford (father of Byron Clifford) in Tiverton that boats will not go out for the harvesting of the haddock.

Resigns After 32 Years

Miss Vida Everett who had been employed at the Digby Post Office for 32 years, tendered her resignation effective last week. Miss Everett, was presented with a gift on behalf of the staff by Emerson Cook. Mr. Cook paid tribute to her faithful service and commented that she would be greatly missed by the office personnel and the public.

Miss Everett served in the capacity of postal clerk, assistant post master, previous to 1957 and acted as post mistress for some time after the death of post master James Merkle, until the present post master, Russell Harris, was engaged for the position. Miss Everett intends to leave Digby in the near future.

Mental Health Realizes $1500

It was reported at a meeting of the Digby County Mental Health Association, Thursday, that the recent campaign for funds to date had netted $1502.07. The folk dance had realized $75.00. The objective for the drive was $2000 and hope was expressed that this amount might still be collected by the time final returns were made. The campaign was in charge of Mrs. E. A. Ferguson, who was complimented on the thorough organization of the campaign and the complete and accurate records kept. Clare was also complimented on its participation in the campaign.

Bills for operating costs were presented at the meeting and a committee consisting of Dr. R. A. Armstrong, Mrs. Marilyn Stanton and V. G. Cardoza was named to meet with the Annapolis County Mental Health Association to discuss division of costs.

Highlight of the evening was the presentation by Dr. Armstrong of a tentative program of mental health for Digby - Annapolis. The program as outlined and which received most favorable comments from the members, was endorsed by the Association. It had previously been adopted by the Digby-Annapolis Mental Health Service Board.

One of the items of the program concerned integration of medical services. Why, said Dr. Armstrong, should there be separate hospitals for somatic illness and mental illness? All the trends in our social life are against separation so why remove the mentally ill from his familiar home ground? By having a patient with mental illness hospitalized at home there is continuity of care from the home to hospital and back home again by people with whom the patient is familiar. A psychiatrist should be just another doctor in the locality and should use the same hospital facilities and office locations similar to other doctors, the plan revealed.

Many ordinary human trials and tribulations are contributing factors to mental illness, the doctor said: "... loneliness, bereavement, sickness or injury, retirement, leisure, and its use or the lack of it, employment or the lack of it, religious differences, etc. A commonsense view of mental or emotional disturbances should be taken, the speaker continued. People who deal with large sections of population and who are perceptive and aware of the possible problems can be of aid in bringing people to the attention of mental health clinics. Such people are general practitioners, clergy, health nurses, welfare workers, school teachers and social and welfare clubs. Dr. Armstrong stated.

The program as outlined, Dr. Armstrong said, could not be implemented entirely at once but in general it would be carried out as and where the opportunity arose. One aspect the speaker referred to particularly was the problem of retarded children and their parents for whom no facilities whatsoever are available in Digby or Annapolis counties.

Mrs. R. A. Armstrong, and the president, V. G. Cardoza, gave reports on the provincial conference on mental health held in Truro. There was definitely a growing awareness of mental health. It was stated, and mental illness is now looked on as something which can be remedied and cured provided the services are available.

The next meeting was scheduled for March 16.

Correction

RE SISSIBOO In the editorial on Official Opening Sissiboo Development in this issue, paragraph six should read "the commission now owns and operates 21 hydro electric stations with a total H.P. rating of approximately 133,000" instead of the figures 22 and 141,000 as used. Also paragraph seven should read "The combined transmission and distribution lines of the Commission and the Canada Electric Co. total approximately 5,600 miles" and not 1,500 miles.

to leave Digby in the near future.

Extended Appreciation Of Services

On motion of Deputy Mayor Vernon L. Bent at a regular meeting of the Digby town council on Monday night recognition was made of the long service given the town by retiring Mayor Victor George Cardoza (above). His Worship had given 19 years of service to the town, 16 as councillor and three years as mayor. So far as known, this was the longest term of service given to the town of Digby in such capacity by any individual. Another runner up was Dr. J. R. McCleave, who served on the town council for twelve years.

Monday night was the last regular meeting at which Mayor Cardoza will preside during his term of office. John Woodover, a retiring councillor, expressed his appreciation to his fellow councillors and the mayor for co-operation during his term of office. He said it had been a pleasure to serve for two years and that he had found his work in serving the town not only interesting but oftentimes entertaining.

Mayor Cardoza also thanked the council for co-operation in their endeavours to improve town affairs and civic government. He was happy to see the town end the year in a healthy financial condition and expected by the end of the month the taxes collected would exceed one hundred per cent of the current levy. He said that the councillors, he was sure served with one purpose in mind, betterment of service to the ratepayers of Digby. In thanking the council for the expression of appreciation His Worship said that he was happy to have played a part in the government and life of the town and that every citizen should serve as a member of the council. People who do not serve on the council, he said, often fail to understand problems which face the leaders of the town and to realize that many things were beyond the control of the town fathers. Those people who serve on the council, Mr. Cardoza said, become more understanding and take a more charitable view. He said that when it is considered that the councillors direct a sizeable business with out remuneration and often by expense out of their own pockets, giving of time and talents unstintingly, they do not often get the credit they deserve. It was a pleasure he said to have served the town to the best of his ability and for the betterment of the town.

Mayor Cardoza also thanked the council for co-operation in their endeavours to improve town affairs and civic government. He was happy to see the town end the year in a healthy financial condition and expected by the end of the month the taxes collected would exceed one hundred per cent of the current levy. He said that the councillors, he was sure served with one purpose in mind, betterment of service to the ratepayers of Digby. In thanking the council for the expression of appreciation His Worship said that he was happy to have played a part in the government and life of the town and that every citizen should serve as a member of the council. People who do not serve on the council, he said, often fail to understand problems which face the leaders of the town and to realize that many things were beyond the control of the town fathers. Those people who serve on the council, Mr. Cardoza said, become more understanding and take a more charitable view. He said that when it is considered that the councillors direct a sizeable business with out remuneration and often by expense out of their own pockets, giving of time and talents unstintingly, they do not often get the credit they deserve. It was a pleasure he said to have served the town to the best of his ability and for the betterment of the town.

Traffic authorities agree that no one really knows how many accidents are caused by drivers who actually are half poisoned from carbon monoxide. With the approach of colder days and nights, traffic police know with certainty that deaths from carbon monoxide poisoning will increase sharply. As the American Medical Association observes, this colorless, odorless, tasteless gas that is expelled from the car's exhaust system is a deadly poison in an enclosed space. Before the driver realizes what is happening he gets drowsy and begins to doze at the wheel. If the gas itself doesn't kill, the resulting crash into a tree or a bridge rail or an oncoming car might finish the job.

The Health League of Canada endorses the American Medical Association's basic rules to cut down the danger of carbon monoxide poisoning. They are:

Leave at least one window open slightly, even on bitterly cold days. If there is leakage of gas, the fresh air will dispel most of it.

— Keep the front vents closed when driving in bumper-to-bumper traffic. Your vent can suck in exhaust fumes from the car ahead of you.

— If you park for more than a minute or two with the motor running, open a window several inches. Wide open is safer.

— Most important is to make certain that exhaust, muffler and manifold are tight and free of leaks. It is worth a few dollars to a mechanic to guard against gas poisoning.

-- If you feel sleepy on the highway at night, it might be the late hour, or it might be carbon monoxide. Whatever the cause, get off the road and take a nap. It may save your life.

of DIGBY Ltd.

Maple Street needs another Volkswagen.

When you own a Volkswagen, you can expect company after a snow storm. Inquisitive company. They'll want to know why your car got through the drifts, and theirs didn't.

There's no trick to it. A Volkswagen has its engine in the rear where it does the most good. The extra weight over the drive wheels provides an amazing amount of traction, even on icy hills. When you want to stop safely, but in a hurry, the VW's traction keeps you out of trouble.

Another blessing in cold weather is the VW's air-cooled engine. There's no water, so there's no need for anti-freeze. You don't even need a garage. (If your Volkswagen won't start in sub-zero weather, check the gas gauge.)

Look underneath a conventional car and you'll find wires and rods and whatnot. In deep snow they can be a drag, and they can be damaged.

The underside of a Volkswagen is completely covered with a smooth sheet of metal. There's nothing to hold you back but your own caution. So, if clearing a snow-filled driveway is not for you, make friends with a Volkswagen owner. Or, better still, a Volkswagen dealer.

Marriage

Moore — Cann

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Digby Baptist Church, Saturday evening, at 8 o'clock, when Rev. H. S. Hartlin united in marriage Faye Cann, daughter of Mr. F. I. Cann of North Range to Murray Moore, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Moore, of Owen Sound, Ont. The double ring ceremony was performed before a few relatives and friends.

Mrs. Shirley Clarke, of Halifax, attended the bride and Douglas Moore of Halifax, a brother of the groom, was the best man.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Dine & Dance, where many useful gifts and a substantial sum of money was received.

On Monday evening a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Haight, North Range, where a few relatives gathered to wish the happy couple a long and happy life. Among the guests were two great great aunts, of the bride, Mrs. Harry Lewis Sr., of Weymouth and Mrs. Hanford Marshall, Barton. The couple left on Tuesday for Halifax, where they will reside. Mr. Moore is stationed at HMCS Stadacona.

Attending the wedding were mother of the groom and Mrs. Dorothy Miller, aunt of the groom, of Owen Sound, Ont. Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Miller and Doug Moore motored to Halifax, on Sunday, where Mrs. Moore and Mrs. Miller returned by plane to Ontario.

The program was in charge of the Home Economics Com. headed by Mrs. J. R. Warren.

THANK YOU

I wish to take this opportunity to express my sincere and heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the splendid support given me in the civic election on Tuesday. I particularly want to thank those people who worked so hard during the election, contacting voters and making sure they got to the polls. Without the work done by these friends the vote would not have been nearly so heavy or the results so decisive.

To all the citizens of Digby I renew my pledge, made before the election, to do my utmost as your mayor to further the best interests of our town and its people.

Again I want to say "Thank You" to everyone who voted for me and who worked for me. I shall work to justify your confidence in me.

Vernon L. Bent.

Roger Ballson, of Conway, spent Saturday with Bobby Stark.

Rev. L. R. Atkinson was speaker at a youth service at Centerville on Thursday night and on Sunday he was speaker at services in the Little River Baptist Church.

Mr. Gordon Ellis, of Digby, visited with his mother, Mrs.
James Ellis, Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett Rit-cey who have their summer home in this community, have been visiting with their son, Gordon, and Mrs. Ritcey in Ottawa. Mr. Ritcey returned to Halifax and Mrs. Ritcey visited her sister Mrs. Dorothy Kirkham in Montreal. She later left by plane for Vancouver, B. C., where she is visiting her daughter, Mrs.
George Woollett and Mr.
Woollett.

Hold Social

The Young People's group of the Westport Baptist Church recently held a social evening at the vestry. The president, Phillip Welch, led a short devotional period, after which Lindsay McDonald and Nellie McLellan directed a game period. Refreshments were served by several of the girls.

James Robbins, Mrs. Clifford Morine of Annapolis Royal, was a supper guest at the same home on Sunday.

If You're TIRED

Now and then everybody gets a "tired-out" feeling and may be bothered by backaches.
Perhaps nothing seriously wrong, just a temporary condition caused by urinary irritation or bladder discomfort. That's the time to take Dr. K. K. Pills. Dr. K. K. Pills help stimulate the kidneys to relieve this condition which may also cause backache and tired feeling. Then you feel better, rest better, work better.

BLACK CURRANT ROSEBUD ROLLS

1. Scald 1 c. milk; stir in 1 tsp. salt, 1/2 c. granulated sugar and 1/2 c. butter or Blue Bonnet Margarine. Cool to lukewarm.
2. Measure 1/2 c. lukewarm water into a large bowl. Crumble and add 1 cake Fleischmann's Yeast OR stir in 1 tsp. granulated sugar and sprinkle with 1 envelope Fleischmann's Active Dry Yeast. Let stand 10 mins., then stir well. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture, 2 well-beaten eggs and 3 c. presifted all-purpose flour.
Beat until smooth and elastic.
Work in sufficient additional flour to make a soft dough—about 2 1/2 c. more. Knead dough on floured board until smooth
3. Punch down dough. Turn out and knead until smooth.
Divide into 3 equal portions.
Roll out 1 portion into a 12 1/2-inch square. Spread with 1/2 c. thick black currant jam.
Roll up as for jelly roll. Cut into ten 1 1/2-inch slices. Place, a cut side up, in greased muffin cups.
Repeat with remaining portions of dough.
4. Using scissors, cut a cross
1/2 inch deep in top of each bun.
Cover. Let rise until doubled in bulk—about 45 mins. Bake in a mod. hot oven (375°)
12 to 15 mins.

Yield: 2 1/2 doz. rolls.

Urge Valley And Fundy Drive

Two of the items on the agenda of the semi-annual session of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade held in Bridgetown last week had bearing on Digby.

Improved Bay of Fundy steamship service between Saint John and Digby was discussed with the emphasis on the inconvenience created when the Princess Helene is withdrawn for overhaul.

The withdrawal, stated a Digby sponsored resolution, occurs bi-annually for a period of two weeks and more. The resolution noted that the CPR place adequate substitute service during the period.

An inquiry, following the 29 year old story, made to be made by the end of service, brought forth some criticism from Mayor C. A. M. A. who charged that the withdrawal of the ship was a "disgrace" and one that made the citizens of the town look "ridiculous."

A resolution passed by the town board, based on the fact that the withdrawal of the ship was a "disgrace" and one that made the citizens of the town look "ridiculous."

The resolution noted that the CPR place adequate substitute service during the period.

In Memoriam

BAKER - In loving memory of my mother and father, Ole C. Baker who passed away Dec. 26, 1958 and Noah F. Baker who passed away Jan. 20, 1961.
Though your smile has gone forever,
And your hands we cannot touch,
In our hearts we have a picture
Of the ones we loved so much.
Your memory is our keepsake
With which we'll never part.
God has you both in his keeping.
We have you both in our hearts.

AN APPRECIATION - Rev. W. D. Mrs. VanZoost and Timmy should like to take this opportunity to express their sincere thanks to the members of the congregation and friends for the many tokens of thoughtfulness and concern shown during their confinement to Berwick Hospital and home, following a recent automobile accident. It has been indeed, a real spiritual therapy to sense the strength of Christian friendship.

Timmy would like to say a special "Thank You" to Magistrate Roger, Mrs. Rand and family for taking him in to their hearts and home. His friends, playmates, classmates of the Primary Department of the Sunday School, even strangers, thrilled him "with everything from a monkey on a string to a bright tin hopping toad". It is with much gratitude to Providence that good progress is reported for all. 15:1p

ROBBINS - I wish to extend grateful thanks to relatives and friends who remembered me during my hospitalization, sincere thanks for cards, letters, flowers and gifts, and to all those who visited me. Thanks also to doctors, nurses and hospital staffs for their kindness to me. A special thanks to my neighbors for kindnesses shown my son while I was in hospital. - Mrs. Charles Robbins. 15:1p

SPRAGUE - The family of the late George Reid Sprague, Donnetville, wish to express their sincere thanks to all their friends and relatives, who sent floral tributes, sympathy cards and mass cards or helped in any way during their recent sad bereavement. Special thanks to Rev. Father Deveau and C. C. Nicholl. Again our sincere appreciation. 15:1c colors are a major part of the decorating scheme. Teenage boys also prefer the bold hues, but used sparingly to complement walls painted a masculine beige, gray, slate-blue or blue-green. The preference of the junior miss is toward the softer pinks, blues or lavender shades, but again with bold accents.

Before redecorating, the slab of plywood could be mounted on a bare wall to carry pinups of the year's stars. Before the teenie hottie's picture on TV, the plywood could be painted to match the walls and will hold the poster from thumbtacks.

At home, Miss Bell says, "I have a desk and a chair. A decorative desk or table is essential. Even an old kitchen table would do the trick, given a colorful coat of enamel to make it a decorative feature of the room. Enamelled furniture can take rough wear and needs only wiping with a damp cloth to stay shiny and bright. Shelves, painted to match the walls or the desk, will encourage tidyless storage of books and papers and will also give the child a place to display his trophies."

Miss Bell doesn't suggest that a pleasant place to work is going to change a school-boy's attitude to study. That would be expecting miracles. But cheerful colors can't fail to brighten homework gloom.

Turn on your ear's lights, then walk around it to check them, urges the Canadian Highway Safety Council.

Strengthened Power Position

L. F. Kirkpatrick, Manager

With the commissioning of the 20,000 H.P. Sissiboo Hydro Development in Western Nova Scotia, the power position in this Province is even more strengthened to provide plenty of capacity for present requirements and future needs.

Harnessing the Province's water power potential is in line with the mandate of the Nova Scotia Power Commission to provide the best possible electric service at the lowest possible cost consistent with sound business principles.

The integration of hydro developments such as Sissiboo with thermal generation, along with a strong Provincial and Interprovincial transmission grid, guarantees this adequate supply of dependable power at reasonable costs.

Electricity plays a vital role in the economic growth of this Province in supplying the needs of our domestic customers and in providing for industrial life and expansion. The Nova Scotia Power Commission has witnessed an amazing growth since its modest beginning back in 1919. In our planning we are ever mindful of this historical growth and we are building today for the future.

Editor,
The Digby Courier
Digby, Nova Scotia
Dear Madam:

I see in your paper from time to time letters relating to new schools. Well this is not about school. But a school bus.

We have one here on the Island. What for I'll never know? But as long as it is here, why not have it run right. I will try to explain how it is run.

At 7:45 a.m. it picks up the grade eleven students to take them to the wharf to catch a ferry. Also a teacher who only has 100 yards to go. Then it goes to the western light and picks up 6. Then to Southern point and picks up eleven more. Then it is finished until after school in the afternoon. When it picks up 6 from the light and takes them home, while the children from the Southern end have to walk home.

Now there is also another end to this Island with more tax payers whose children have to walk to and from school. There is thirty or more who walk regardless of weather and range in ages from 5 years and up. Now I ask is this fair? If we are going to have a bus let it pick up all the children and take them all home.

It has been our privilege to have been connected with this great development at Sissiboo Falls by supplying room and board to some of the personnel.

But if we only want something to keep the road open down to the light we have a tractor and plow for this work.
Please print my letter as it might wake someone up to the fact that we are going to pay for something that we can't use.

Editor,
The Digby Courier,
Dear Mrs. Wallis:

During this time of the local Bible Society's annual canvass, I wish to express the following observation: In these days, as one sees, hears and becomes aware, through the voice of reason and conscience, of so much cause to fear for all people, it becomes increasingly important that we all grow in wisdom. And of course, it is known that all sufficient and saving wisdom comes from God.

Someone has taken the trouble to learn what verse stands at the very centre and heart of the Bible. The middle verse is Psalm 118:8, and according to the revised standard version it is as follows — "It is better to take refuge in the Lord than to put confidence in man."

The most important question then arises, how are we to take refuge in the Lord, in these days of worry and fear? May I humbly suggest that it is by hallowing His Name, and one of the best ways to do this is to do reverence to His Holy Word as contained in the Bible. So, let us learn wisdom from the Bible, for ourselves, and at the same time let us do all we can to share its wisdom with all mankind. I wish to submit that all the secular knowledge in the world will not save any of us from destruction by evil forces, only knowledge of God shared with all mankind can do that.

One Observer.

even the debate of whether to have coloured margarine.
The subject that I'd like to discuss is much different but any way I'd like to have my two cents worth.
There is a business on our Island as well as other places that is commonly known as bootleggers, the illegal sale of liquor. These bootleggers are concerned only with the money they collect and therefore sell this liquor to young and old alike. I'd like to hear other people's views on this important matter.

Marriage
Stevens — Withers
A marriage of interest in Digby County was solemnized in the Lutheran Church at Gimli, Manitoba, when Margaret Beverley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Withers, Weymouth, became the bride of John Douglas Clifford Stevens, son of Captain and Mrs. J. Clifford Stevens, Gimli.

The ceremony was performed in candle-light with Rev. Lorne Nadiger officiating. Mauve and yellow mums enhanced the beauty of the candle lighted church.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was lovely in a floor length dress of white chintilly lace over bridal satin. Her veil was shoulder length and she carried a white lace covered Bible with baby rose corsage and streamers.

The matron of honor, Joan Stevens, sister of the groom, was attired in a bitter sweet faille with corresponding halo hat. The two bridesmaids, Patricia Robinson and Wilma White, of Selkirk, Manitoba, wore fern green faille and blending Valos. Miss Dianne Lee MacIntosh, Selkirk, was flower girl. Her corsage was in gold shade. The bride's attendants had bouquets of white daisies.

Mrs. Sam Wright and Mrs. Eva Perkins were guest of Mrs. Ronald Perkins, Clementsvalle, on Monday.

Mrs. Earle Wright and sons Terry and Danny spent Thursday with Mrs. Chester Wright in Princedale.

Mrs. Donald Mullen and son Randy, and Mrs. Duvernet ceremony the Wedding Prayer and the Lord's Prayer, were sung.

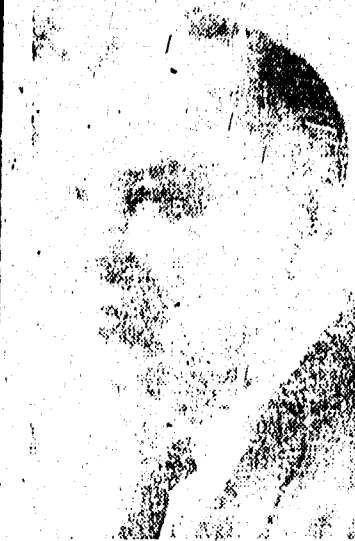

The couple will reside at Gimli. Attending the wedding were the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Withers, Weymouth.

Riley and children, accompanied Mrs. Ben Thibodeau on a trip to Greenwood on Thursday, while there they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Victor Nesbitts and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Chipman Potter of Clementsvalle were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Robar on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Donald Mullen and Randy, Mrs. Earle Wright and sons, were guests of Mrs. Chester Potter of Deep Brook on Wednesday.

Mr. Harvey Hearn, Princedale, was guest of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mullen on Tuesday evening.
Mr. and Mrs. Courtland

Mrs. Lawrence Wright, on Saturday evening.

The initial capacity of the development is 20,000 H.P. able to supply 67,500,000 Kilowatt hours for electrical living in Nova Scotia. The overall Sissiboo project, which will not be developed before demand requires, possibly not before 1966, will provide for 115,000,000 kwh with an installed capacity in excess of 36,000 H.P.

The main storage reservoir at Fourth Lake, about 18 miles from Weymouth, was formed by the construction of four dams. The largest is 72 feet high and 1,450 feet in length. There has been no hydro installation made but provision for a 4,000 HP plant has been incorporated in the overall design.

The reservoir will hold approximately 32 billion gallons of water which will be released at periods of low river flow to maintain electrical generation. Construction by Atlas Construction (Maritime) Limited started on the dam in 1959 and has been completed for some time. At present the stored waters are being used for generation at Sissiboo and Weymouth Falls to assist in energy production for the western part of the province.

Situated about eight miles above Weymouth, the Sissiboo Falls project consists of a 371 foot long concrete dam and a powerhouse containing an 8,000 HP turbine and a 6,000 KW generator which has been in operation more than a year. In addition there are two compacted earth fills on either side of the dam.

The structure floods an area of approximately 389 acres and has energy production capability, in an average water year, of 27,000,000 kwh. This section of the project, constructed by Diamond Construction Company, was put in service in February 1961.

Both the Sissiboo and Weymouth generators will be operated using power line carrier remote control equipment from the Commission's Guleh generating station on the Bear River. This system will enable central control to be maintained of all generating facilities.

The Nova Scotia Power Commission's interest in the development of Sissiboo River is in keeping with its development of the province's water potential for power purposes. The Commission however was not the first to harness the power of the river.

The Digby County Power Board operated two small plants up until 1958 at which time they were purchased and dismantled by the Commission to make way for the new development.

Wiles of Bear River East were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Wright on Saturday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Coombs and two children of Dartmouth visited with Mrs. Coomb's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Coombs. While at home they called on several of their relatives.

We are sorry to report Mr. Andrew Coombs is a patient at Digby General Hospital.

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, DECEMBER 14, 1961

Parole Service Representative

Stanley M. Macdonald, who has taken up duties as regional representative of the National Parole Service for Nova Scotia and Newfoundland.

The National Parole Service has opened a new office in the Ralston Building, Halifax. Previously the service controlled operations of the Atlantic provinces from Moncton. The Moncton office is now in charge of New Brunswick and Prince Edward Island.

Mr. Macdonald graduated from St. Francis Xavier University with his bachelor of commerce degree and masters degree in social work. He recently returned from a two-month training period at the head office in Ottawa and regular offices in Moncton, N.B., Kingston, Ont., Montreal and St. John's, Nfld.

He worked with the department of health and social service in New Brunswick for three years and was regional administrator for western Nova Scotia with the department of welfare for the past six years and stationed in Digby. Mr. Macdonald is married and has three children, Yvette, 13, David, 6, and Carol Lee, 4. His family is residing in Digby until Mr. Macdonald locates living accommodations in the city.

Addresses Kiwanians

Dr. James Wickwire, Liverpool, lieutenant governor of district number 11, Kiwanis addressed the Digby Kiwanians on Thursday night at a meeting held at Hotel Champlain. Following the meeting the Kiwanians and their queens were entertained at the home of the retiring president, Leigh Jayne, and Mrs. Jayne, Birch St.

Dr. Wickwire spoke on the aims and ideals of Kiwanis. He also installed the newly elected president, Edward Twobig, and other officers and presented certificates to the three new members, Willard Greene, Hubert Deveau, and Earl Morrell.

About eighteen couples were present from Digby besides visiting Kiwanians from Liverpool, Yarmouth and Weymouth.

Plans Shown For Nurses Residence

Plans were shown at a recent meeting of the Digby Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary for remodeling the present hospital into a nurses residence, when the new proposed hospital becomes a reality. The plans were revealed by F. C. Purdy, chairman of the Hospital Board who addressed the ladies' meeting on Monday night. Also addressing the auxiliary was E. B. Richardson, chairman of the finance committee.

Mr. Purdy told the meeting that preliminary plans for the building the 90 bed hospital in Digby were finalized and had now been fully approved by the Nova Scotia Hospital Commission. The architect, E. J. Turcotte, Montreal, had been authorized to proceed with the final working drawings. The cost for new hospital and remodeling the nurses residence was to be in the vicinity of $1,250,000. at the close of the meeting.

Jefferson Heads Power Ratepayers Development Commission

Lloyd Jefferson, Rossburg, was elected president of the newly formed Ratepayers' Association at a meeting held last Wednesday at Conway. Other officers elected were: Harold Smith, president; Harold Smith, vice president; Harold Smith, secretary; Mrs. M. P. Gott, treasurer; and M. P. Gott, secretary. The association was formed to represent the ratepayers of the Sissiboo Falls plant, near Weymouth, on the Digby River. The association had been acting as a liaison for the ratepayers in the organization of the plant. Directors appointed were Commander James Goss of Bear River; Frank Wright, man, Smith's Cove; Elmer Jarvis, Weymouth Falls; V. R. Trefoil, Weymouth North; Walter Thibault, of Gilbert's Cove; Allan Thomas, North Range; Burtis Freeman, Lanes; George Thibault, Rossburg; Frank Hazelton, Coluden; and Harold Simms and Lloyd McNeil both of Marshalltown.

No representatives were present from Brier and Long Islands but plans are under way for a day time meeting on the islands for the future as representatives from the islands find difficulty in attending evening meetings when the ferry has to be crossed at night.

The association which had its beginning during the past spring is non-political and non-partisan in nature. A need was felt for such an organization for the general improvement of the county, to acquaint ratepayers with municipal government problems and create a better understanding and good relationship between the two and to further promote good government.

One of the misunderstandings is often in the field of assessments and methods of assessment. To help overcome this the association decided to have a panel discussion on the subject at some future date when it is hoped that James Hubley, assessor, will be available for participation and also that the Department of Municipal Affairs might be represented on the panel.

A negotiating committee to work with the council will be named at some future date. By-laws were read and approved at Wednesday's meeting.

Final Meeting

The W.M.S. of Grace United Church met at the church hall on Tuesday for the final meeting of the organization. At the end of December of this year the W.M.S. will cease to be and the women of the church will have a new organization known as United Church Women.

The meeting, on the theme of Christmas, was presided over by the president, Mrs. Burton Fleet. Two Christmas dinners were sung by Mrs. Milton Atkinson and Mrs. Vincent Snow and by Mrs. R. H. Hughes and Mrs. J. M. Wallis. Readings were given by Mrs. John Abramson, Mrs. Oakley Turnbull, Mrs. Phillip Kaye and Mrs. Gordon Arnold. Mrs. Elton Arnold was pianist. Christmas stockings containing a gift of money, were hung on the tree and a Christmas verse recited by each donor.

Reports for the year were read and received. Eighty pounds of supplies, valued at $130, had been shipped overseas. This included seven pounds of worn nylons. The report of the Baby Band showed there were 43 members. Ten had graduated to Mission Band and 22 were newly enrolled. The Christmas offering presented at the meeting on Tuesday amounted to more than seventy dollars but from the report presented by the treasurer there was much to be done to reach the allocation before the end of the year. The report of the secretary, Mrs. C. B. Parker, who was absent because of illness, was read by Mrs. Elton Arnold.

An invitation was extended by Donna King to the WMS members to attend the Trillium Explorer Christmas Thanksgiving Service on December 13.

Rev. R. H. Hughes, on behalf of the session and church, thanked the WMS for the work they had done through the years and told the members that the same opportunity for mission work would be present in the new organization. A social hour was enjoyed at the close of the meeting.

Hon. G. I. Smith, Minister of Highways for Nova Scotia, was also chairman of the Nova Scotia Power Commission, formerly Commissioned the Sissiboo River power plant at the Sissiboo Falls plant, near Weymouth, on the Digby River. In his address before the official opening ceremony, the Honorable Mr. Smith noted that this first stage of the development is just an other step in the plans of the Nova Scotia Power Commission to provide better power facilities.

The remaining phases of the development which will be carried out as the need arises envisage generation stations at Riverdale, Grand Lake and Fourth Lake with an installed capacity of 11,000 KW and possible installation of additional machines at Weymouth Falls and Sissiboo Falls. If the use of these plants for peaking become necessary, the Minister said, the ultimate annual output is estimated to be in the order of 115 million KW/h.

The total cost of the first phase is about $7 1/2 million. The total estimated cost for completion of the whole project is in the order of $12 million.

The total annual production from the first stage of development will be about 67 1/2 million KW/h, 27 million at Sissiboo Falls and 40 1/2 million at the Weymouth Falls unit.

Mr. Smith dwelt at some length on the cause of the costly construction faults encountered in building the project but stated that all the difficulties had now been overcome and all necessary remedial action had been taken.

The first trouble began in July 1960 when a seepage occurred under the south earth wing dam at Sissiboo Falls. This was dealt with by replacing the troublesome area with a new core.

In August 1960, a seepage occurred under the south earth wing dam of the Weymouth Falls project and later a similar seepage, to a minor extent, occurred in the south abutment of the main dam. These were for the most part dealt with by grouting the rock strata below the dam. On the north abutment of the wing dam, however, the badly fissured rock under the core of the dam was excavated and replaced with impervious material. A small but quite acceptable seepage remains at this site but no further difficulty is expected from it.

In November 1960, a question arose as to the stability of the concrete dam section at Sissiboo Falls was thoroughly studied and as a result it was concluded that in view of the apparent trend toward greater flood magnitude, the provision of additional spillway capacity was required to provide a maximum degree of safety. This decision also made it necessary to provide a corresponding increase in the spillway capacity at Weymouth Falls.

On the 30th day of April 1961, a leak was observed in the main dam at Fourth Lake. After a somewhat anxious time, this leak was stopped by grouting the foundation rock in the area where the leak originated and still further investigations were carried out, the speaker said.

Mr. Smith said that he intends to lay the matter of the Fourth Lake Dam trouble before the next session of the Legislature where careful examination will be made.

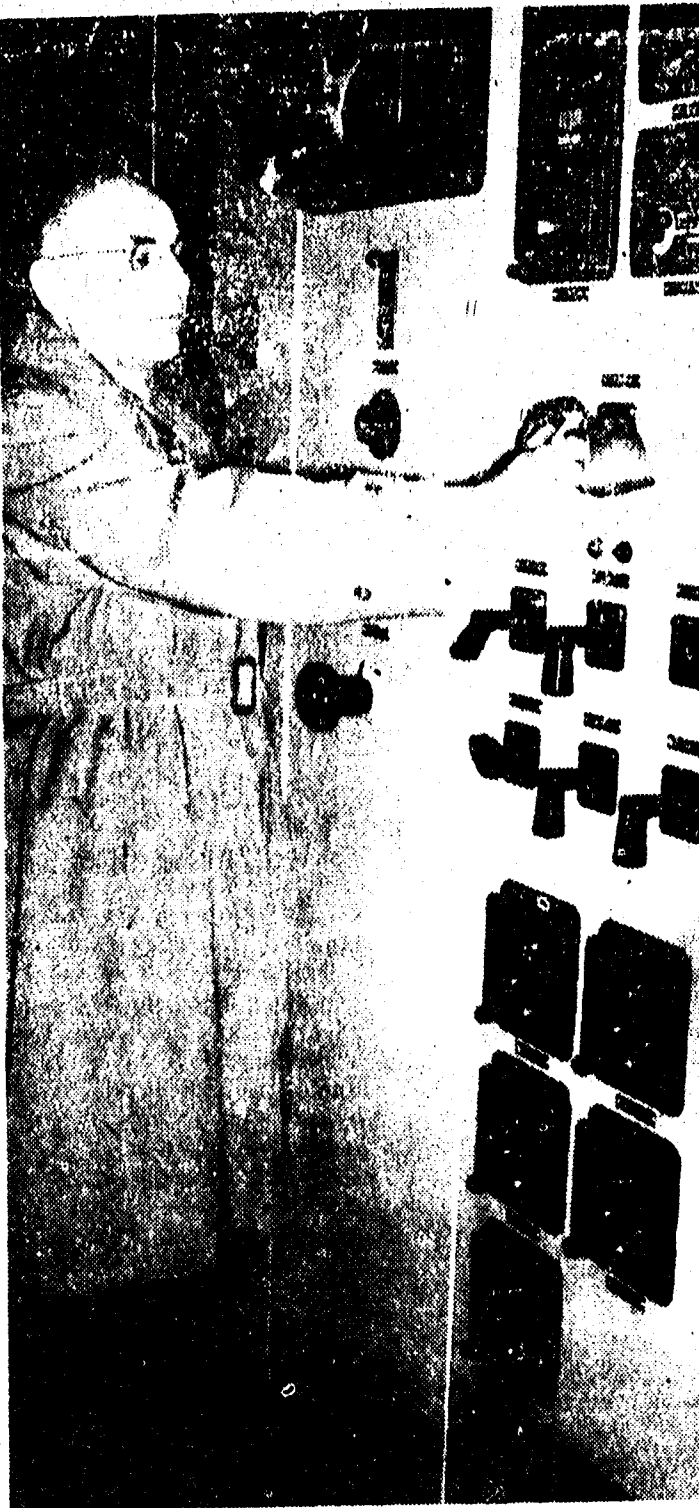

Present for the ceremonies and the banquet held in the evening at the Weymouth Regional High School were government, municipal and civic officials and Trade Board officials.

OUT-OF-SEASON BLOOMS
Out-of-season blooms continue to come to the attention of the editor. On Friday of last week a Deep Brook correspondent forwarded seven or eight yellow and pink roses in full bloom from the garden of Mrs. Eugene Howard, Deep Brook.

On the same day Calvin Keddy, Digby, brought donations he had picked on the golf course.

SEASONS GREETINGS

Pulls Switch For Hydro Flow

Hon. G. I. Smith, chairman of the Nova Scotia Power Commission, throws the switch to officially open the first stage of a major hydro electric project on the Sissiboo River. Initially, the project will be able to supply 67,500,000 kilowatt hours for electrical living in Nova Scotia. The overall Sissiboo project, which will not be developed before demand requires, possibly not before 1966, will provide for 115,000,000 kw/h. (N.S. Information Service.)

To Present Cantata

The combined choirs of Grace United and the Digby Baptist churches will present a Christmas cantata on Sunday night. The cantata, Child of Heaven, by Roger Wilson, will be presented in Grace United Church with Elton Arnold as director and Miss Carolyn Arnold as organist. Written for mixed voices the cantata will feature solos by Mrs. Donald Brown, Charles Pitt and Paul Snow. A trio will be sung by Mrs. Harry Daley, Mrs. Shirley Clayton and Mrs. Reginald Weir. Mrs. Jack Keen will be narrator of the scriptures which chronicled the events concerning the birth of Christ.

Seriously Injured

Ray Holdsworth, Moncton, N. B., formerly of Digby, is in critical condition in a Moncton hospital following a car accident. Mr. Holdsworth, who was crossing the street to his parked car, at the corner of John and High Streets, in Moncton early on Saturday evening was struck by a car. He was rushed to the hospital in an unconscious condition.

Ray, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Holdsworth, Digby, is married and has a teenage son. His sister, Mrs. Gordon Ellis and brother, Reginald, live at the Racquette.

Bluenose Off Christmas Day

Canadian National Railways has decided not to run the MV Bluenose between Yarmouth and Bar Harbor, Me., on Christmas Day or Boxing Day. This will give the men who run this year round service a chance to spend Christmas with their families.

The announcement of the usual Christmas holiday for the Bluenose was made by area passenger sales manager George Cunningham, who said the trip from Yarmouth to Bar Harbor on Dec. 25 and the return trip from Bar Harbor to Yarmouth, of Dec. 26 would be cancelled.

At peak periods the Bluenose provides employment for 260.

Girls Conduct Vespers

The annual CGIT National Vesper Service was held in the Baptist Church of Digby last Sunday night. The impressive service was conducted by the 25 girls of the Baptist group who also formed the choir and sang the Christmas carols. Mrs. John Brittain and Miss Arlene Wentzell, leaders of the CGIT, were in charge of the service. Mrs. Jean Olsen presided at the organ.

Members of the CGIT group will also carry out their annual Christmas carol singing at certain places in the town area some night next week. Their stops will include a visit to the Digby General Hospital.

The Sunday School Christmas Concert of the Baptist Church of Digby will be held next Sunday morning at 11 a.m. There will be no evening service in the church as at this time the Christmas Cantata "The Child of Heaven" will be presented by the joint choirs of the Baptist and United churches in Grace United Church.

On Tuesday evening of this week, members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship of the Hill Grove church brought together and wrapped a large number of toys and useful gifts to be distributed to needy children at Christmas time. Next week they will conduct a Christmas Party and exchange gifts among themselves.

Peculiar Accident

Owners of a weir fishing boat were called early one morning last week to be told that their boat was badly damaged by a truck. On arriving at the scene they found that a large transport truck from a Nova Scotia South Shore village had apparently left the road at an early morning hour, landed near the scallop plant of Jordan, and O'Neil where it smashed beyond repair the boat owned by five weir fishermen. Besides damaging the boat the truck also cut off a telephone pole enroute. The boat was owned by fishermen Golden, Donnelly's and Lewis.

Get C.D. Certificates

Reginald Turnbull and Thomas Cleveland who spent two days last week at Liverpool, Nova Scotia, on a course in radiation monitoring obtained their certificates.

Mr. Cleveland, who is Civil Defence director in Digby said that plans were underway to have a public meeting on Civil Defence when an informed speaker would address the audience and a film shown.

The director said that part of the role of Digby in C. D. should be to receive fifty car loads of people evacuated from other areas.

Span Of Age

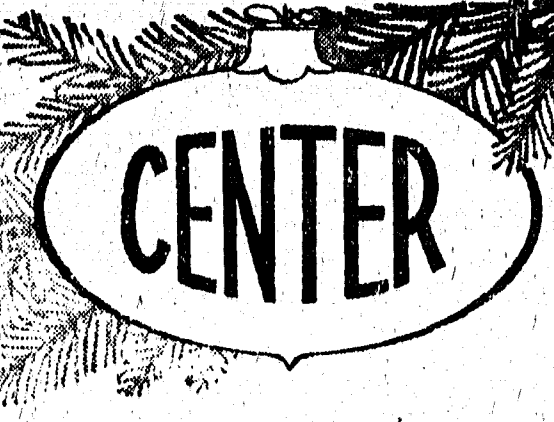

Age does not hamper the companionship of Walter Scott Tidd, age 18 months, and Mrs. Edward Tidd, Tiddville, who recently celebrated her 95th birthday. The third party is usually the dog, Mrs. Tidd resides with her son Milledge, and Mrs. Tidd, and their son shown in the picture above. The youngest Mrs. Tidd says the relationship of "grandma and Walter always recalls the poem of our school readers 'The Boy Who Was Half Past Three'.

Marriage

Milo — Crane

Standards of White clayston, themans decorated the altar and chancel steps of the Cathedral Church of All Saints, Saturday morning for the marriage of Elizabeth Ann Crane, Halifax, and Philip Murray Milo, Antigonish and Granville Ferry.

The bride, who attended Enchill School for Girls and is a graduate in journalism from the University of King's College, is the daughter of Wallace A. Crane, St. John's, Nfld., and the late Mrs. Crane.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Milo, Granville Ferry, Annapolis County. He is a graduate of Lawrencetown Survey School.

Rev. G. Russell Hutton officiated. Maitland Farmer was organist and accompanied the Cathedral Boy's Choir.

Escorted to the chancel steps by her father, who gave her in marriage, the bride wore an original floor-length gown of white peau de soie.

The gown was styled with a basque bodice having a bateau neckline and three-quarter length sleeves. The fitted skirt ended in a bias flair. The Watteau cathedral train extended from the shoulder line. Her full length veil of imported French tulle was held in place by a circlet of pearl de soie and white feathers. She carried an arm bouquet of white calla lilies.

Mrs. Gavin Milo, Halifax, was matron of honor. She wore a Lanvin design street length gown of gold peau de soie.

The fitted bodice had short sleeves and bateau neckline ending in a deep V in back. The front panel overdraped of the skirt, which was styled on an A-line, ended with a bow at the back waistline. She wore a headpiece of pale green Fiji mums and carried a bouquet of the same flowers.

The other attendants, Mrs. George Caines and Mrs. Russell Hutton, Halifax, and Miss Judy Coates, Amherst, were similarly attired.

Gavin Milo was best man for his brother. Ushers were George Caines and David Munroe, all of Halifax.

Following the ceremony the guests were entertained in the Atlantic Room of the Nova Scotian Hotel, where Dr. C. M. Bethune proposed the toast to the bride.

Mrs. Crane, step mother of the bride, received the guests in a street length gown of peacock blue pure silk. The gown was styled along sheath lines, ending in a slight flair. She wore a velour hat with peacock blue and white feathers, white and black accessories and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids.

The mother of the bridegroom, Mrs. Milo, wore a street length gown of silk jersey in muted tones of gold and green. Her hat was of gold velour and she wore gold accessories and a corsage of cream cymbidium orchids.

For her wedding trip, the bride wore an original ensemble of light cerise, white mariou hat, black accessories and a corsage of white cymbidium orchids. They will reside in Antigonish.

HOME & SCHOOL CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

Sandy Cove Home & School held its meeting on Thursday, Dec. 7, in the school auditorium with president, Mrs. Eileen Morehouse presiding.

In keeping with the Christmas spirit and holiday the program was presented. Carol singing was led by the music convenor, Mrs. Clyde Deaton and Mrs. Landay Raymond accompanied at the piano.

Miss Marilyn Robicheau of Centerville sang two solo selections, White Christmas, and Silver Bells. A Christmas selection was sung by a group of ladies from Little River.

Marsha Lewis, Carolyn Jeffrey, Wanda Jeffrey and Susan Trask, school pupils from Sandy Cove, also sang Christmas Lullaby. A delightful group game was enjoyed by all when colorful Christmas hats were made and decorated.

A model was chosen from each group and three girls, pupils from the school, had the best decorative hats. Also a Christmas playlette was presented by Home & School members from Little River, under the direction of program convenor, Mrs. Loran Titus.

The pupils of grade V will receive another book for having the highest percentage of parents attending the December meeting. In closing refreshments were served to some 55 members and guests by social conveners, Mrs. K. Tidd and Mrs. Kenneth Merritt.

Obituary

Gordon K. Rice

Relatives and friends of Mr. Gordon, Kempton Rice, formerly of Bear River, N. S., were shocked to hear of his death as a result of a car accident near Toronto on Wednesday, Dec. 6 while on his way to work.

The deceased was the elder son of David L. Rice, Brantford, N. S., and the late Susie Kempton Rice, and was born at Bear River 17 years ago. He was a member of the United Baptist Church and had been an employee of the Macsey Ferguson Company in Toronto for many years.

Besides his father, he is survived by his wife, formerly Bessie Morgan of Bear River and three children, Arthur, George, and Katherine, all at home. Also surviving are a sister Evelyn (Mrs. R. R. Winchester), on the staff of the Digby Regional High School, and a brother, Ronald, on the staff of the Trenton High School, Trenton, N. S.

The funeral service was held at the Branton Funeral Home, Brantford, Ontario, on Saturday, Dec. 9th. His brother Ronald, and two sisters-in-law, Mrs. Dwight Sabean, of Yarmouth, and Mrs. Ira Harris, of Bear River, flew to Toronto to attend the service.

At Work During Tocsin B

The success of a recent nationwide Exercise Tocsin B depended in large part on the labors of signalman in the Canadian Army. Here at Camp Debert, gunnery, Jerry O'Neill, of Concession, N. THE BIBLE TODAY

Approximately 60 delegates met in Leopoldville recently when the Congo Protestant Council held its annual meeting. The Conference was marked by an optimistic faith that the work of the church would continue. The delegates emphasized the unity of the work. The increased distribution of the Scriptures was seen as a means of transmitting the truths of the Word of God to the people who are living in a very confused state.

It was also learned the Bible Sunday had been observed. One Congolese pastor brought the gifts of three BMS churches to Bible Society headquarters in a large bundle. The total was 2,400 francs or about $48.00 mostly in one franc pieces.

The churches in the lower Congo are trying to distribute a large number of Gospels and the proceeds from their sales are used to establish a Colportage Fund by which still more Gospels may be offered to the people. This procedure will develop self-reliance among the African Churches in the Congo.

Most of us know that about three-fourths of the whole surface of the earth is covered with water. If now we could learn the average depth of the sea all over the world, it would need only multiplication to answer this question.

We find great variations in the depth of the oceans, places where the highest mountain might be buried and great shallow areas, too; but the latest result of an enormous number of soundings taken in every part of the sea, except at and round the poles, is that the average depth all the world is a little under two and a half miles.

This is probably a great deal deeper than you would have thought, and it means a rather long multiplication if you want to learn the number of cubic miles. Scientists have estimated the amount of water in the sea at 323,722,000 cubic miles.

Christmas Card Idea Originated By Englishman

Christmas cards are so much a part of the modern Yule season that one seldom stops to wonder how the idea originated and by whom.

This simple idea of wishing your friends a Merry Christmas brought honor and knightship to the originator, Henry Cole, a middleclass Englishman.

Cole mailed his cards on a December day in 1846. The cards depicted a Victorian family assembled at the festive board and the traditional Christmas custom of giving to the poor. They also bore the now-classic greeting: "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to you."

He had a thousand of the cards struck off by a lithograph. They were such a success that plain Henry Cole subsequently became Sir Henry Cole.

The cards we send today, however, are a far cry from those mailed by Cole. The cards you send and receive this year will be designed by famous names in contemporary art.

Joseph Proved His Love for Mary, Mother of Jesus

Joseph, the bible relates, had to prove his faith in and love for Mary before they were married. It is one of the great love stories of all times.

When Joseph thought of Mary, he forgot the difference in their ages: she was the girl he had waited for, his beloved. They were espoused—or, as we would say, engaged—which was almost as official as being married. His heart soared on wings of the approaching wedding day, and then . . .

What Mary insisted had come to pass, simply could not be! Joseph wanted desperately to believe Mary, but such things just didn't happen, and if they did, they happened to somebody else.

Much as he loved Mary, Joseph was a righteous and God-fearing man and while he couldn't even think of making her a public example, he had just about made up his mind to put her away privately. That is, he thought he had made up his mind. In his heart, he knew he couldn't; what would become of her . . . of her child . . .

Then one night, after he had exhausted himself with tortured thinking, he fell asleep and the angel of the Lord appeared to him in a dream: saying,

"Joseph, son of David, fear not . . . And when Joseph awoke, he did as the angel had bidden him, and took Mary as his lawful and cherished wife."

"Fear not," the angel spoke unto Joseph.

"Fear not," the angel had declared unto Mary.

"Fear not," the angel spoke unto the shepherds of Bethlehem.

Attend Community Planning Meet

Attending a recent community planning meeting in Yarmouth were E. Scott Eaton and Russell Atkinson, representing the town of Digby and E. C. Outhouse, Victor Fingim and Mrs. M. P. Gott, municipal councillors from the county.

Speaker for the meeting was Donald J. Bird, director of Community Planning for the province of Nova Scotia, who noted the fact that the services of an engineer could often save large sums of money for a town. He advocated the use of an engineer wherever financially possible and an early start on town planning.

He felt that an engineer could be of immense help in community planning and thereby helping to attract industries to the area.

He strongly urged that municipal bodies pay more attention to various services, including facilities for recreation and other activities which make for a more contented community. This was supported by a comment from Mrs. Gott who told the meeting that a few years ago she had met representatives of an European concern who were making a survey of her area. They had finally decided against establishing their industry in the area because there was no public library and because there was a prevalence of shacks in the vicinity, and garbage was to be seen littered everywhere. These and other things, she had been told, discouraged industries to settle where they wanted the labour force to be contented. Mr. Bird pointed out that unless proper ground work was laid through community planning it was impossible to think of industrial development.

Mr. Bird pointed out the various advantages to be gained by the establishment of a community planning and industrial development board. He said this could cover the three counties of Yarmouth, Digby and Shelburne and it was proposed that the representatives at the meeting go back to their own councils and discuss the matter to find such a program.

Seek Permission First

The Department of Lands and Forests said that persons who cut down Christmas trees without authorization from the landowner are liable to prosecution.

In many cases individuals are not aware of the penalty that can be imposed upon them for trespassing and theft, a department official said.

"At this time of the year many persons from towns and cities go to the country to cut Christmas trees. Quite innocently they cut trees from lands other than their own, not realizing they are trespassing."

On the other hand, untold damage is done to the forests of the province as well as destroying the beauty of the countryside.

In past years people have been known to cut Christmas trees from the Halifax City watershed that were planted by the Boy Scouts and Girl Guides to improve the watershed. Others cut a tree, see a better one, and abandon the first."

Department officials have discovered cases where people have cut a 10 foot tree for the top part, leaving a valuable log lying in the forest. A great number cut on land fronting on provincial highways, spoiling the natural beauty.

For their own protection they should obtain permission from the landowner before cutting trees.

THE BIBLE TODAY

In the heart of the Commercial part of the city of Yaounde, in Cameroon, the Ambassador of the United Kingdom, who recalled the distribution was ceremoniously declared open by His Excellency Charles Assole, Head of the Cameroon Government.

Among the distinguished people who took part were four government ministers, three ambassadors, a representative of the Federation of Churches and missions and pastors representing the Presbyterian, Evangelical, Seventh Day Adventist and Baptist churches.

The scene was one of brilliant dignity and ceremony and great joy at this event was expressed in the remarks of Pastor Mbendel, president of the Union of Baptist Churches.

That reindeer is becoming an American tradition. Once upon a time there was a reindeer with a brilliant flashing red nose. You know, Rudolph, the red-nosed reindeer. From a small beginning in 1939 the little animal with the brilliant red nose has become as familiar a household name as Santa Claus and his reindeer.

Fisheries Officer
Retires

One of the best known figures in the federal fisheries service in Nova Scotia has retired after 31 years service. He is John H. Thibault, former district protection officer for the Department of Fisheries in western Nova Scotia. His area of jurisdiction included Yarmouth, Digby, Annapolis and Kings counties.

Mr. Thibault lives at Grosse Pointe, Digby County, but his operations were conducted from the district office in Digby.

Since joining the Department of Fisheries more than 30 years ago, Mr. Thibault has served in various capacities. He was president of the Colchester County Liberal Association, having been past president. He was the defeated liberal candidate in the 1937 election.

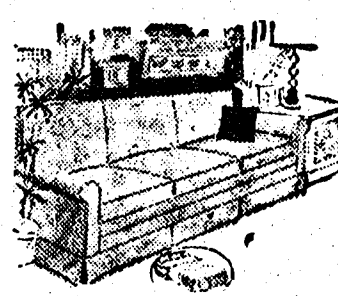

established himself as one of the department's most efficient protection officers. While enforcement of commercial fishing regulations occupied much of his attention, Mr. Thibault and his field staff were closely identified with protection of the inland fishery resources. Both as a fishery officer and as a sportsman, Mr. Thibault has been a firm exponent of conservation of sport fish. "If we are to have fish in our lakes and streams tomorrow we must protect them today," was his motto.

On the occasion of his retirement, his associates in the district, as well as official representatives of department headquarters in Halifax, gave him a testimonial dinner in Digby. Fishery Officer Glenn Smith was in general charge of arrangements, which were features by the presentation of a gift to Mr. Thibault on behalf of his associates.

Addresses Board
On Fishing
Problems

Speaking at the annual meeting of the Cape Breton Association of Commerce at Meteghan River on Friday, George R. Clarke, Deputy Federal Fisheries Minister said "The European fishing fleets are modern, efficient and effective. In my opinion their activities are of immediate concern to the Canadian fishing industry of the Atlantic coast."

Competition on deep sea grounds by fleets from Europe, he said, was becoming intense.

New conservation methods would have to be found and implemented because the pressure on the available supplies of cod, haddock and rosefish was beginning to be felt, he said.

He added: "Urgent consideration must be given to ways and means to ensure that Canada is able to maintain, and if possible expand, our share of the fish catches of the Northwest Atlantic area." Canadians already caught some 1,000,000 tons of fish and shellfish each year, he pointed out.

"But, so that we are not too independent on foreign markets, we have to convince Canadians to eat more fish," he said.

He commended south shore lobstermen for exercising "proper conservation practices," which led to greater future revenue.

The government, he said, had spent over $1,000,000 in Nova Scotia last year on conservation and development of fisheries.

"The need to modernize our fishing vessels, introduce new types of fishing gear and to generally improve fish finding and fish catching techniques are deserving of a very high priority," he said.

The speaker was introduced by Felton Legere, M.P., for Shelburne - Yarmouth - Clare and thanked by Urban Belliveau of Belliveau's Cove. J. Medrie Comeau of Meteghan River, was elected president at the meeting. Mr. Comeau, Clare municipal clerk, served as the chamber's first president 12 years ago.

Others officers elected were Bernadin Comeau, Saulnierville, vice president; Dennis L. Comeau, Meteghan, treasurer; and J. Marcel Valotaire, Church Point, secretary. Directors are J. Alphonse Comeau, Meteghan River; Dr. Julius Comeau and Denis Soucie, Meteghan; Urban Belliveau and Bernard LeBlanc of Belliveau's Cove; Herman Doucette, Cape St. Mary's; Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade.

UNION OFFICERS

Mrs. C. R. Barkhouse was elected president of the United Protestant Women's Missionary Union of the Westmouth North and Ashmore Baptist churches at the December meeting held in the parish hall. Other officers elected were:

1st Vice-president, Mrs. Ronald Kinney; 2nd vice president, Mrs. Daniel Hankinson; secretary, Mrs. Merle Mullen; treasurer, Mrs. Willard Kinney; spiritual life convener, Mrs. Ellsworth Kinney.

The Baptist Women's World Day of Prayer was observed and the program "Prayer Through the Years" was led by the vice-president, Mrs. Ronald Kinney and was followed by a circle of prayer. The program also included articles on "How Christmas is spent in the West Indies" by Mrs. Willard Kinney; "In China" by Mrs. Merle Mullen and "The Christmas Spirit" by Mrs. C. R. Barkhouse.

Plans for the packing of a White Cross box were laid over to the January meeting. Following the meeting, a social hour was enjoyed with refreshments served by the hostess, Mrs. Barkhouse.

THE BIBLE TODAY

From the Bible Society in Australia comes the report that one of the doubtful benefits of modern procedures, unemployment, has caused some problems in Scripture distribution in Anglican mission in Levuka, Fiji. The people were thrown out of employment by the diversion of the copra trade to Suva. In consequence, when a need arose for Bibles for classes both in church and school, the people had no money to buy them. A gift parcel of English and Fijian Scriptures was sent to Levuka and a recent letter from the Archdeacon there tells of the joy in the hearts of the Christians to this token of fellowship between the Bible Society in Australia and the field work of the Anglican Church.

A further item of interest from this area is that history is being made by the printing of the revision of the Kuana New Testament, under the auspices of the Bible Society, by the Methodist Press in Rabaul. This is an instance of the Scriptures being actually produced on the field where they will be used.

LeBlanc, and Albert P. Melanson, Church Point.

Guests at the meeting were representatives of the various service clubs of Clare and Westmouth municipalities, and Yarmouth and Doucette, Cape St. Mary's; Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade.

Folkschools For Everyone

Each year for the past fifteen years, the Department of Education has held this most successful Folkschool in the province. It is an educational project for adults. There are many people who have never heard of the folkschool program, and similarly there are a great many who have heard about it but have many misconceptions in regard to its general nature and purpose.

Who attends Folkschool? Farmers, housewives, stenographers, clerks, sales people, school dropouts — or anyone interested in learning.

Are you interested in music, drama, your job, yourself, your neighbour, your community, art, nutrition, credit unions, budgeting and marketing, farming in all its phases, literature or any of the problems concerning our modern day living? Then you should attend Folkschool and learn how to cope with these everyday tasks — to enjoy life more fully — to appreciate the finer things in this work-a-day world in which we live.

Young people, oldsters, men and women who would like to know how to lead a meeting, or even find courage to speak in a meeting may do so here. Learn the proper conduct of a meeting and gain some insight into parliamentary procedures.

Does the history of Nova Scotia interest you? Its people, economic development, folk songs and their origin and folk dancing? Would you like to know about good citizenship — and have a real fellowship with folk from all parts of Western Nova Scotia? Then — Folkschool at Caledonia is for you.

Trained instructors in all of these subjects are yours for the full period.

If you have never attended one of these schools, the opportunity is yours right now for the asking — and you will be well rewarded for the time spent at Folkschool — returning home with a "New Outlook" on life and its problems.

You will find this a most interesting, constructive and enjoyable program. It is under the auspices of the Adult Education Division, Department of Education — directed by Mr. K. C. Langille, Regional Representative — and will be staffed by members of the Department of Agriculture's Extension Services, the Adult Education Division in cooperation with the Department of Public Health and Physical Fitness Branch. Organizations, Clubs and Societies may sponsor a member, who will return much to their program. The real mission of the Folkschool: "We live by learning — and we learn by living together."

Special Speaker

Rev. R. W. Lindsay, Wolfville, was speaker at the Baptist Church on Sunday. The Young Peoples' choir was in charge of the music at the evening service with special Christmas numbers.

The Ladies' Circle met at the home of Mrs. Lila Purdy. Philanthropy class will hold a Christmas program at the home of Mrs. Oakley Banks.

Lodge Has Social Evening

Elita Robichaud Lodge held their regular meeting on Monday night when the second nomination for new officers took place.

Following the session a social evening was enjoyed when the Oldfellows and friends were invited. Cards were played, prize winners being Mrs. Marjorie Alcorn, high; and Bert Mayo, low. Refreshments ended a pleasant evening.

Legion Auxiliary Elects Slate

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Bear River Canadian Legion held a Pot Luck Supper in conjunction with their usual monthly meeting. After an enjoyable supper, the meeting was held and the new slate of officers was elected: pres., Mary Sloan; 1st vice pres., Megan Isles; 2nd vice pres., Dora Riley; secy., Thelma Buckler; treas., Gladys Wheelhouse; Sgt. at Arms, Alice Sloan.

Mrs. Purdy Entertains WMS

A cheerfully blazing fire in the fireplace and a lovely Christmas Worship Centre placed nearby was the setting for the last meeting of the WMS of Bear River United Church held at the home of Mrs. R. H. Purdy on Friday afternoon.

The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. J. E. Langley with one exception all other members were present. Favorite Christmas hymns were sung with Mrs. Purdy as organist. The story of the Nativity as recorded in Luke, chapter 2 was read. A meditation by the president of the impressions and thoughts of one who journeyed through the Holy Land and followed the roads of the countryside from Nazareth to Bethlehem, the birthplace of Christ, followed by prayer, which closed the devotional program.

A business session followed when a generous offering was received. Mrs. Howe and the Travelling Angels with many patches sewed on it, each containing silver donations, was handed in. Several letters were read and Mrs. W. Morline read a list of the contents of the missionary box sent very recently, containing 71 pounds of food used clothing, also a large parcel of discarded nylon to be sent to Korea.

Following the benediction, Mrs. Purdy invited the ladies to the dining room where the table was most attractive with a Christmas tablecloth, and dainty refreshments were served by Mrs. Purdy and a social half-hour enjoyed.

W.M.S. Christmas Program

The December meeting of the Baptist WMS met at the home of Mrs. Holland Titus, Westport, with president, Mrs. L. McLellan presiding. Mrs. Lawrence Shaw was pianist. Opening hymn "Hark The Herald Angels", was followed by the devotional led by Mrs. H. Titus and the theme "The Christmas Letter". Prayer requests were read and circle of prayer, led by Mrs. A. Moore.

After scripture the program was on Christmas with readings by Mrs. A. Moore, Mrs. Earl Webber, Miss Lulu Reppel, Mite Boxes were opened and $35.97 was received. Next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Earl Webber.

A Blessed Christmas...

This Christmas, when again we celebrate the birth of the Prince of Peace, let us allow His spirit of hope and love to enter every heart. Let us pray to Him to keep us steadfast in our faith. Let us beseech Him to give us strength, courage and wisdom so that we might be worthy of Him to whom all praise is due.

"For unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given; and the government shall be upon his shoulder; and his name shall be called Wonderful, Counsellor, The mighty God, The everlasting Father, The Prince of Peace." (Isaiah 9:6)

Saint Is Reality

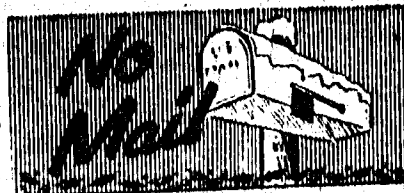

Swedish Yuletide ceremonies began officially on December 13, St. Lucy's Day. According to legend, St. Lucy went about carrying food and drink to the needy. The Swedes give the legend reality by choosing one of the girls in the family to represent St. Lucy. St. Lucy rises early and walks, each member of the family, serves them coffee and bakes buns.

When the heavy snows keep you back straightly in knees bent and feet flat on the floor.

Old Customs Live

Christmas in the United States reflects a heritage of customs from many lands and times. Trees, candles, bells, carols and other well-loved traditions came, like the people of the U.S., from other countries. In many communities, people still celebrate Christmas as their ancestors did.

The U.S. has made its contributions to Christmas customs around the world. The Santa Claus legend and red suit, was first personified in the North Pole Christmas story by Dr. Clement Moore in his poem, "Santa Claus Comes in the Night." In Sweden, the Yule log is a tradition that has been kept in many homes.

By DANIEL F. LINDSAY
TOM LARKIN opened the kitchen door. His wife looked up with a hopeful smile as he entered. He just shook his head.
"No mail at all," she said as she went on fixing dinner.
"Oh, there were a couple of ads and a bill from the seed company," he hung his hat on a hook and crossed to the pump. His white hair was damp around his face when he straightened up again.
"It's not like Pa," she sighed. "Bill's got an unforgiving streak, always did have, even when he was a little fellow." Pa's old brow gave off a pungent odor as he lit it.
"But this is different, Tom," she said, putting a tin of biscuits in the oven. "However, it is Christmas. It's a long way to the coast. Maybe he wrote but didn't mail it in time."
"Ma," his tired old voice was filled with bitterness, "there's no

Norway Prepares

In Norway preparations for Christmas traditionally start six months before December 21. The Christmas celebration itself lasts three weeks. The period, according to Book of Knowledge researchers, is known as the Yuletide, or the Peace of Christmas.

Pinata Scramble

In Mexico and other Latin American countries, the breaking of the pinata is a traditional Christmas custom. Earthen jars are filled with toys and sweets, covered with colored paper mache figures and hung in an open space.

Hundred children take turns at trying to break the pinata with a stick. When it is smashed, there's a merry scramble for its contents.

Novel Ornaments

It is customary among the Czechs and Slovaks, say the editors of the Encyclopedia Americana, to break a branch off a cherry tree at the beginning of Advent, place it in a pot of water in the kitchen and keep it in the warm air. The twig is then supposed to burst into blossom at Christmas time and make a festive decoration.

The Christmas festival in China is Sheng Dan Jieh, the Holy Birth Festival. Paper decorations and evergreens adorn churches and homes. The Christmas tree is decorated with paper flowers, colored paper chains and cotton snow flakes.

Get Mail Deluge

Among the busiest of Santa's helpers at the Yuletide season are post offices in towns with Christmas names. In Noel, Mo.; Christmas, Fla.; Santa Claus, Ind.; and Bethlehem, Pa., many thousands of packages and cards are received around Christmas time, to be postmarked with the Yuletide town's name and mailed to other states and countries.

The towns also play host to many visitors during the Christmas season. In Bethlehem and Nazareth, Pa., there are permanent displays and festivals or light, emphasizing the religious meaning and beauty of Christmas.

"She could see Pa striding into the living room."

"Don't forget the coat," he called at the door. "It's hanging at the entrance. It's his father's."

"Don't forget the coat," she said. "It's hanging at the entrance. It's his father's."

"You're wrong, Tom," Ma replied as she lifted her head and smiled. "The day after Christmas, first delivery, we'll get a letter. You'll see."

"Not from him," he shook his head grimly.

"You're forgettin' Judy," she reminded him as they sat down. "She's a good daughter-in-law."

"Oh, I'm not blamin' her," replied as he covered his biscuits with gravy. "Judy's a fine girl. It's his bull headed pride."

She got up and taking the coffee pot off the cook stove filled his cup. They ate in silence. Finally he pushed his plate back.

"You aren't eatin' much," he scolded.

"I'm just not hungry, Pa."

"I see," he stood up. "I'm going out and turn the heater on in the hen house. It'll be cold tonight."

His old stomach growled forward as he went outside. She shook her head and started running up the stairs. Her mind sank back to the past. To the days when Christmas was alive with the excitement and laughter of young voices.

She could see Pa striding into the living room, carrying a large evergreen on his shoulder. Behind him three small, always excited, little boys, bearing an axe. She would see if the little boy ever thought of it.

anyone here," she defended herself. Then added curtly, "And anyway, I wouldn't dream of going out in such ghastly weather."

Ruby shrugged. "Oh, well, if you feel that way about it, happy new year, Penny." She hurried away before the wretched girl could make any response. "Now why did I act so nasty?" she asked under her breath. Ruby hadn't meant any offense—she was simply so wrapped up in her own little world that she felt sorry for anyone who had no Beanie to which to cling. She was essentially a generous person and now Penny had deliberately hurt her.

AS SHE stood in the middle of the sidewalk, angry and discouraged, she saw her bus speeding recklessly down the street and without another thought to anything else she hurried toward the corner. "Wait, oh, wait!" she called, running breathlessly. No one else was waiting, however, and she careened sharply off the curb, hurrying on his way.

"Oh, dear!" She burst into tears at this new disappointment and reached blindly for the curb.

But her foot missed and came down on a sheet of ice sending her into an astonished heap in the street.

For a moment she was too stunned to move. She heard footsteps hurrying past her and managed to sit up dazedly. A man knelt down beside her but his face was a blur of features. "Take it easy," he admonished, placing an arm across her back. She tried to focus her eyes upon him and hadn't quite succeeded when he cried, "Penny! Why, Penny Lindsay! What in the world are you doing out here?"

And then everything cleared and she saw the handsome, blond features of a former school friend. "Oh, Alan!" Tears tumbled over each other in happy excitement. He helped her to her feet. "Gee, it's good to see someone from the old home town. I've been so doggone lonely," he told her, manipulating the handkerchief skillfully around her nose and eyes.

"I'm lonely, too," she gasped. "I've only been here a month."

"Say! What are you doing to night? Anything?"

"Nothing." Her heart skipped a beat in anticipation.

"Then why don't we go somewhere and talk over old times? Gee, I'm dying to hear some gossip about the Turnbells and the Mitchells and all the rest. Will you, Penny?"

And Penny smiled happily this time. "Yes, Alan. Even this ghastly weather couldn't stop me from talking over old times with you."

Germans Name 'Kris Kringle'

In Germany when the character of Saint Nicholas started to become too prominent, and the idea that Christmas was about the birth of Christ was becoming neglected, the Germans replaced him with Christ Kind, the Christ Child. This game has been modified to Kris Kringle, say The Book of Knowledge editors.

Although Christmas is the celebration of the birth of Jesus, the roots of the observance go deeply into the folk lore of the Druids, Scythians, Romans and Egyptians.

CHOOSING THE LOG

Because they delivered the Christ Child had been washed and dressed at Bethlehem beside an ash wood fire, early English people always had Yule logs of ash wood. The log was kept burning during the 12 days of Christmas.

Oak, pine, spruce were Yule log sources in other European countries. In Scotland the choice was birch.

Yes, Virginia, There Is A Santa Claus —

Virginia O'Hanlon's letter to The New York Sun is transcribed here, as an eight-year-old today might write it.

"Dear Editor: I am eight years old. Some of my little friends say there is no Santa Claus. Papa says, 'If you see it in the Sun it's so.' Please tell me the truth — is there a Santa Claus?" Virginia O'Hanlon.

Sixty-one years ago, an eight-year-old girl posed a question to the editorial staff of the New York Sun. The newspaper's answer has become one of the Christmas season's classics. The little girl wanted to know simply "Is there a Santa Claus?" and the answer is reprinted here, as it appeared in The Sun.

Virginia, your little friends are wrong. They have been affected by the skepticism of a skeptical age. They do not believe except they see. They think that nothing can be which is not comprehensible by their little minds. All minds—Virginia, whether they be men's or children's are little. In this great universe of ours man is a mere insect, an ant, an intellect, as compared with the boundless world about him, as measured by the intelligence capable of grasping the whole truth and knowledge.

Yes, Virginia, there is a Santa Claus. He exists as certainly as love and generosity and devotion exist, and you know that they abound and give to your life its highest beauty and joy. Alas! How dreary would be the world if there were no Santa Claus! It would be as dreary as if there were no Virginias, here would be no childlike faith then, no poetry, no romance to make tolerable this existence. We should have no enjoyment, except in sense and sight. The eternal light with which childhood fills the world would be extinguished.

Not believe in Santa Claus! You might as well not believe in fairies! You might get your papa to hire men to watch in all the chimneys on Christmas Eve to catch Santa Claus, but even if they did not see Santa Claus coming down, what would that prove? Nobody sees Santa Claus, but that is no sign there is no Santa Claus. The most real things in the world are those that neither children or men can see. Did you ever see fairies dancing on the lawn? Of course not, but that's no proof that they are not there. Nobody can conceive or imagine all the wonders there are unseen and unseeable in the world.

You tear apart the baby's rattle and see what makes the noise inside, but there is a veil covering the unseen world which not the strongest man, nor even the united strength of all the strongest men that ever lived, could tear apart. Only faith, fancy, poetry, love, romance, can push aside that curtain and view and picture the supernal beauty and glory beyond. Is it all real? Ah, Virginia, in all this world there is nothing else real and abiding.

No Santa Claus! Thank God! He lives, and he lives forever. A thousand years from now, Virginia, nay, ten times ten thousand years from now, he will continue to make glad the heart of childhood.

(— Reprinted by permission of the New York World-Telegram and Sun.)

OF GREENS...

At early Christmas celebrations, the most popular "greens" were holly, ivy, mistletoe and rosemary. An old story says that rosemary, emblem of constancy, was endowed with fragrance when Mary placed the Christ Child's garments on this shrub.

It was used at Christmas for many years, especially in England, but for some reason lost popularity as a decoration about the time of the Victorian era.

CLEARING THE WAY

To St. Nicholas, a bishop of the early Christian church, goes credit for the custom of holiday giving to children.

Housewives in Northern Europe, who had their chimneys cleaned for better heating during the Yule season, told children the work was done to clear the way for St. Nicholas to come down the chimney with gifts for them.

MYSTERY OF MAGI LEADS TO LEGENDS

Only St. Matthew Reports Visit

Familiar to all is the visit of the Magi to Bethlehem and yet little is known about it. In the books of the New Testament, only St. Matthew reports the visit.

St. Matthew called them "wise men from the East." In the legends that have developed, they are sometimes called "Magi" because this is the Latin word for "priest," and sometimes "kings" because they were the rulers of the world. After their visit, they saw the infant Jesus and the infant Mary, and then they returned to their homes.

St. Matthew says they had a dream that told them to go to Bethlehem. In Bethlehem, they gave the infant Jesus gold in a shrine and a silver in a shrine to the infant Mary. After this, they returned to their homes. The King of the East, who was the ruler of the world, was the one who gave them the gold and silver. The King of the East was the one who gave them the gold and silver. The King of the East was the one who gave them the gold and silver.

Taste it, touch it, test it. That's the rule of thumb Margaret Pope uses in her job as hostess of the radio program, For Consumers. The show, heard Monday to Friday on the TransCanada network, offers information on such things as new products, child care, traffic safety and home decoration. Margaret's daily reports are based on personal experience, careful research and the advice of experts.

HELPED CAROLS

Martin Luther, the Reformation leader, felt that group singing in churches was important and did much to help spread the custom of carol singing. He composed a Carol "From Heaven Above I Come To You" and "Away In A Manger" is sometimes attributed to him.

Familiar Faces

Familiar faces on TV screens across the nation are those of Max Ferguson and Gwen Grant, hosts of CBC-TV's women's show, "Open House". Every afternoon, Monday through Thursday, they present 30 minutes of features and entertainment of special interest to women.

YULE ENDS IN SAFE BLAZE

Christmas can come to an end in a blaze of glory - and a safe one, too. Custom sets a date for the disposal of the tree by burning. It's January 6, the Twelfth Night of Christmas, or Epiphany - traditionally the night when the Three Wise Men, or Magi, made their visit to the Christ Child in Bethlehem.

The modern world, reviving the Twelfth Night custom of bonfires for disposing of the tree and other greenery, combines the safety factor with community spirit and fun.

Twelfth Night celebrations are planned in many communities in public parks for neighborhood groups. It's a great night for the kids and their parents.

Children bring the trees to the park, or the town collects them. On Twelfth Night everyone gathers around the bonfire of trees and greenery to sing carols.

Epiphany Cake Helps

French Choose King

And Queen For Evening

"La Galette des Rois", the "Kings' Cake", is the French form of Epiphany cake, according to the editors of The Encyclopedia Americana. Epiphany cake is baked all over Europe, either at Christmas time or until Twelfth Night, January 6, or on Epiphany day.

French peasants put a bean into the cake mix, and the finder of the bean, when the cake is baked and cut, is "King" for the evening. He then chooses a "Queen" to share his honors.

In the French towns, a china doll is substituted for bean.

AS WASHINGTON CROSSED RIVER

During the American Revolution, George Washington used his knowledge of Christmas celebrations to take an important step toward peace. Puritan settlers in the New World disapproved of Christmas festivities, but Washington knew that the Hessians, employed by George III to fight the colonists, would observe Christmas as they had done at home.

On December 25-26, 1776, he crossed the Delaware, attacked and put to rout the surprised Hessians who had been obliviously sleeping off the effects of their holiday festivities.

Spanish Children

Go To Seek Magi

In Madrid, Spain, it has long been the custom, say Encyclopaedia Americana researchers, for men and boys bearing jars of clay, bells and tin cans to go pack in the back of his head makes the Magi. When children, realistic or not, complain they do not see the beams, bags and girls, Three Kings pass by, they are warned to be good, for the Kings pass, headed by the king of the mountains.

Young Japanese

Heed Hoteiosho

Although Santa Claus does not visit Japanese homes, the native god Hoteiosho, the kind of a gentleman who carries a dice, bells and tin cans to go pack in the back of his head makes the Magi. When children, realistic or not, complain they do not see the beams, bags and girls, Three Kings pass by, they are warned to be good, for the Kings pass, headed by the king of the mountains.

Friends Have Christmas Party

The annual Christmas party for the Society of Friends of Juncos Bay was held at the home of Mrs. W. B. Hirst on Wednesday evening, December 13th.

Hobby decorations provided a cozy atmosphere for an evening of merriment in room with the season. An exchange of gifts from a pretty decorated tree added to the enjoyment of all. A buffet lunch was served and complete refreshments were served. The evening was for the gift exchange of the merry ladies present.

Santa Visits Woodman's

Santa Claus paid a visit to the children of the community on Saturday evening at C.P.W. Woodman's home. As he arrived he was greeted by approximately one hundred children and left as many adults, many of them parents, and others who accompanied them. The night of the following presented every child with a treat and held a brief conversation with many of them, some of whom were delighted while others were a bit reluctant and preferred staying farther away. Throughout the visit cards were played and enjoyed by all, through the courtesy of Mr. Woodman, who also lent valuable assistance in many ways to the Society of Friends who arranged Santa's visit as in previous years and judging from the ever increasing number who attended each year it would seem that it is an extremely worthwhile effort.

H & S Feature Christmas Program

The Smith's Cove Consolidated Home and School Association held its regular meeting on December 12th in the form of a Christmas party. The room was beautifully decorated for the festive season.

The meeting opened with the reading of the "Home and School Creed," read by Mrs. Emma Balser.

Mrs. Tom Milner acted as secretary in the absence of the regular secretary, Mrs. James Dunn. Mrs. Emma Balser was appointed as chairman of a School Education children, the association will look into the possibility of sponsoring a Boy Scout group in the New Year and will also sponsor the ballot class which are now being conducted by Miss Harriet Graves.

Parent attendance was good. Mrs. Daley's class grades 1 and 2.

The adult classes will resume after the Christmas holidays. The business meeting was adjourned and the choir was taken by Mrs. Emma Balser program coverer. She opened the program with the reading of the 2nd Chapter of Matthew. Brian Christ in to Christmas Mrs. Marshall Turner at the piano played Christmas Carols.

Mrs. Morehouse told a story of the "Crooked Mouth Family" and was called again for another one "Caster Oil."

Mrs. Harold Dunn, read a "Christmas reading," written by Mr. Fred Folton. Mr. and Mrs. Anton Goerling played guitar and bongo in a series of Dutch and German folk songs.

A few games were played and then Mrs. Dunn, Mrs. Morehouse and Mrs. Isle had a puppet show. About Rudolph the Red Nose Reindeer. Mr. and Mrs. Goerling entertained again while the gifts were being exchanged.

Delicious refreshments were served by the ladies of Lansdown.

Urges Joining Of Trade Board

(By A. P. Melanson)

It is surprising to learn that a large segment of the population does not know what a Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce is. One often hears the destructive critic mean, "Why does not the Board of Trade start now to beautify those particular areas. It also invites influential speakers to enlighten the population on how they can improve their lot. In other words, a Board of Trade will try to provide the tools and it is up to the population itself to finish the job.

Unless a Board of Trade receives assistance it can do very little. In most cases some people will depend on the Board of Trade to start now to beautify those particular areas. It also invites influential speakers to enlighten the population on how they can improve their lot. In other words, a Board of Trade will try to provide the tools and it is up to the population itself to finish the job.

Unless a Board of Trade receives assistance it can do very little. In most cases some people will depend on the Board of Trade to start now they sit at home. Not much good work can be accomplished if we all stay at home and do nothing. It is most necessary that we forsake part of our leisure time to perform interesting work in aid of other more unfortunate people than ourselves.

The Clare Board of Trade, which is also called The Clare Chamber of Commerce, has done its share in trying to improve the economy of the Municipality. How has this been done? It has had speakers who extolled the benefits that the various provincial and federal governments will give to fishermen and farmers of the areas in the construction of cold storages, fishing boats and some other varied services.

The Clare Board of Trade is interested in having a course in Selective Cutting and Re-forestation for the Municipality of Clare. The Board has been in touch with government authorities in regard to this matter and it is hoped that the farmers who have woodlots will take advantage of these courses. It is studying the possibilities of establishing a pulp mill in the area.

The Clare Board of Trade has asked to have various wharves repaired and dredged from time to time and in many cases the work has been done. The Board does not claim all the credit as other persons also have worked toward the same end but there is no doubt that the support of the Clare Board of Trade has assisted in having various items looked after.

The Acadia Festival which is sponsored by the Clare Board of Trade. The Acadia Committee is responsible for the Board but it is not the only one. The Acadia Festival is a very important event in the life of the Municipality. The Clare Board of Trade has been instrumental in having each end of the Municipality clearly marked with a large sign stating that the tourists are entering the largest main street in North America, and another sign at each end of the district welcomes the visitors to Clare. This welcome sign is in French to show that the area is inhabited by French speaking people.

The Clare Board of Trade is endeavouring to instill into the people of Clare the necessity of retaining a French atmosphere in the area, chiefly as a tourist attraction. Headway is gradual, but is expected to improve. Several years ago the Board met with members of the Provincial Department of Trade and Industry, Tourist Division, and one speaker mentioned that Clare should retain its French atmosphere and organize something typically French in nature to attract the tourists to the area. That is why the Acadia Festival was organized and the Board would like to have the signs on the merchants' stores in Clare in French, which would create the French atmosphere required.

Denis Soude, manager of the Royal Bank branch at Meteghan, is president of the Clare Board of Trade and he has had his committee studying the possible economical improvements in Clare. Although the work has been progressing without failure, it nevertheless is going ahead. The Board consists of approximately 65 members and there is room for improvement in membership. Many merchants have not yet joined the ranks of the Board of Trade. All merchants and business men of Clare should have interest enough in Clare itself to come to the assistance of the Board. Constructive criticism is welcomed but these criticisms would carry more weight if person doing the criticizing was a member of the Board of Trade.

It is often said that something should be done to keep our young people at home after they have graduated from school or college. Why not join the Board of Trade and help it to encourage the improving of the economy of Clare. Why be only a talker? Is it not better that we develop ourselves into doers instead of only talkers? You may talk until you are blue in the face about shortcomings but talk alone will not erase the shortcomings; they will still be there when you get through talking.

Clare has improved its economical picture in late years, but this has been done by persons with foresight and initiative. These persons are not waiting for a handout, but set themselves to the task of developing an idea and succeeding in fulfilling their dreams. Many farms in Clare have started out on a small scale and successfully on now. What he actually did larged the business as they proved that they could produce quality goods at competitive prices.

In the Province of Quebec a tinsmith made himself an electrical refrigerator, purchasing a freezer unit and constructing the cabinet himself. A neighbor, seeing the refrigerator, was pleased with what he saw and asked the tinsmith to build him one.

From this small beginning, a new company had its origin. A brother, who had taken a course in refrigeration, joined with his brother, and they formed a company, which has been quite successful.

During the depression years a salesman in Ontario lost his job. What did he do? He decided to start a small scale and successfully on now. What he actually did was to figure out what he could package that was not then actually being put up in packages. He started out on a small scale in his home and became very successful and enlarged his business. These are but a few examples of what can be done. First one must find what the public is interested in and secondly prove that quality goods can be sold.

The improving of conditions in the Municipality of Clare is everybody's business, so let us all get together and do something about it. Join your Board of Trade or any other organization that is interested and willing to do something about improving our economic condition.

Lodge Holds Party

Oliver Branch Rebekah Lodge No. 100, IOOF, held their last meeting of the year in the lodge room on Monday evening, Dec. 18 with P.N.G. Sister Wilma DeLong acting as Noble Grand in the absence of the Noble Grand. Following the lodge meeting a Christmas party was held with Christmas readings and carol singing. Two beautifully decorated trees held prominent places, one decorated all in blue, held gifts for each member present; the other tree, all silver, held offerings from the members for CARE. A bountiful luncheon was served provided for by members from Weymouth. Christmas boxes for shut-ins was provided for at this meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gaudet were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Pate at Moteghan last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Journeay were in Digby on Thursday.

White Gift Service

A White Gift service was held by the Sunday School children of Heartz Memorial United Church, in Weymouth, on Sunday morning, and it proved to be one of the loveliest held by the school. Miss Margaret Hankinson was organist and Mrs. Carl Blynn, superintendent was in charge of the service. A full choir was in attendance. Prayers, scripture reading and story were all given by members of the Sunday School, and a beautiful solo, Away in a Manger, was rendered by Kevin Irvine, six year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Irvine. Benediction was pronounced by the pastor, Mr. Fred Withers.

Close W. A.

The Ladies Aid of the United Church, Weymouth, held their December meeting at the home of Mrs. E. C. Gates. Following the business meeting, four boxes of used clothing, games, books, etc., for children, were packaged and later delivered to their destination by Mr. Gates. The annual Christmas supper was held; the dining room being beautifully decorated for the occasion. Following the supper a delightful social evening was held, making this meeting one of the highlights of the year. This was the final meeting of the Ladies Aid, as such, as the women of the United Church of Canada meet under one group in 1962.

Women Hold Pound Party

The annual Christmas Pound Party, sponsored by the Weymouth Anglican Evening Auxiliary, was held on Saturday evening in Killam Hall. Admission was a pound of food or its equivalent, to be put in the Christmas Cheer boxes.

The hall was tastefully decorated for the occasion, with decorated trees, and a Christmas table laden with bowls of fruit and food. The table was centered with an Advent wreath.

During the evening games were played, and following refreshments, prizes were given and a sing song was enjoyed.

HERE'S HOW TO SELECT A TREE

"How can we select a Christmas tree that holds its needles?" is a question fathers and mothers ask year after year.

The answer depends on the type of tree you buy and the care you give it once you set it up. All trees tend to drop their leaves after they are cut and stored in a dry room. But some kinds naturally hold their needles longer than others. Trees used most commonly on Christmas are the spruces, fir, hemlock, pine and red cedars.

Spruce are the first to shed their needles. A spruce can be identified by grasping a branch tightly. Its sharp needles will prick your hand.

The ideal Christmas tree is the fir. It resembles the spruce except that its needles are not sharp. The needles stay on the tree for a long time, and become a golden brown before they finally drop off. Needles of the Douglas fir are flat and soft to the touch. This popular tree can be easily identified by examining the cones which have small appendages on each side.

Fir trees have never been very popular as Christmas trees, in spite of the fact that they do not shed their needles easily. This is most likely due to their unsymmetrical appearance which does not closely resemble the traditional Christmas tree.

No matter what kind of Christmas tree you select, it will hold its needles longer if it is standing in water. Place a little water in the base of your tree stand and you will be bothered less with falling needles than you were last year.

Rev. D. F. Forrester left on Friday for Victoria, B. C., where he will spend the winter months.

Miss Betty Walker spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Walker in Digby. On her return home she was accompanied by Mr. and Leonard, who returned the same day.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Bartlett and daughter of Annapolis were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bartlett.

Mrs. Neil Sabine who underwent surgery in Digby General Hospital has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Blynn spent Monday in Paradise, Middleton and Wilmot.

Mr. David Hankinson of Halifax spent a day this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hankinson.

Miss Lillian Spechts of Barton spent the weekend with her grandmother, Mrs. John Dunkley.

Garry Rice of Acadia University is spending his Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rice.

The regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club was held at the Goodwin Hotel on Monday with Mr. Fred Gaudet joining as a new member. Mr. David Jubis of Moteghan spoke to the men on promoting Nova Scotia, which proved most inspiring to the group.

Mr. Murphy of Montreal Engineering, has returned to Montreal.

Mrs. Scott Hankinson drove to Berwick on Friday, where she met her son, Jim of Mount Allison University who arrived home for Christmas holidays.

Weymouth Consolidated School children celebrated the Christmas season with a concert and Christmas gifts and treats for the younger children on Tuesday afternoon. In the evening the High School held a Christmas dance which was very much enjoyed.

Mrs. George Fielding left on Tuesday for Kentville and Halifax where she will visit for the next two weeks.

Mr. Hallett McLaughlin of Bridgetown was a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hankinson this week.

Mrs. A. E. Fergusson is spending Christmas and New Years with her sons in Halifax.

Mrs. Mel Barr who has been a patient in the V. G. Hospital in Halifax, has returned home.

MISSION BAND

CHRISTMAS PROGRAM

On Friday afternoon, Dec. 8, the Centreville Mission Band members had a Christmas program at the home of Mrs. Ronald Morehouse. Mothers of the children, W.M.S. members, pastor Rev. Max Spencer and Mr. Spencer Sr. attended. Mrs. Morehouse welcomed the guests, after which the Mission Band repeated their purpose and sang the Mission Band Hymn. Opening carol was Silent Night. The scripture was read by Wayne Titus, followed by prayer by Mrs. Morehouse. O Little Town of Bethlehem was sung by the girls. A flannelgraph story was given by the assistant leader, Mrs. Loran Titus, on the Christmas story. Mrs. Morehouse had a Christmas poem in which all took part. Quisms "Birthdays" and "He's Come! The Saviour's Come!" were read by Tanya Robicheau and Cathy Raymond.

Mrs. Violet Cann, vice president of the WMS presented Russell Titus with a life membership certificate and pin. This honor is conferred on a member for their interest, attendance and co-operation. Closing hymn was Joy To The World.

Mrs. Morehouse thanked the friends for coming; also the Mission Band members for their co-operation during the past year. Refreshments were served by Audrey Hersey, Pamela Robicheau, Cathy Raymond, Carolyn Cameron, Marlene Morehouse and Janis Raymond.

A vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Morehouse and Mrs. Titus by Pamela Robicheau for the work they had done in preparing the program and for the lovely refreshments. This was seconded by Rev. Max Spencer.

CGIT Hold Vespers

The Shining Lights CGIT group of Heartz Memorial United Church, Weymouth, presented the annual candle-light Vesper Service on Sunday evening in the church.

The service was led by the group leader Mrs. Allan Irvine, who also gave the message of the form of a Christmas story.

This year the usual form of the service varied from former years so as to contain a short dramatization "The Christmas Fantasy". Girls taking part in this were Wendy Lynn, Louise Powell, Joyce Irvine and Kathleen Nickerson, Jane Hankinson and Eleanor Ford.

The girls sang the anthem "Brightest and Best of the Sons of the Morning", and Doreen Bellinger rendered a solo "In the Bleak Midwinter".

A very impressive service was brought to a close with the Candlelighting and Act of Dedication by the girls, followed by the recessional during which the girls left the church carrying their lighted candles.

CHRISTMAS PARTY

The ladies of Walpole East held a delightful Christmas party in the community hall on Saturday evening, Dec. 9. During the social hour, games and contests were provided by each member present, and gifts from a pretty Christmas tree were exchanged. Delicious refreshments were enjoyed at the close of the evening. Among those present were Mrs. Ira Dukeshire, Mrs. Israel Dukeshire, and Mrs. Albert McKenzie, all of Clementsport.

On Stage For Yule

Theatre in England began with Christmas plays. The first British comedy was written for a Yule celebration, and the earliest tragedy, "Gorbudus", was performed at Christmas, 1561.

Hope For Digby Better T.V. Service

The privately owned television station CJCH, Halifax, expects to open a new rebroadcasting station to serve the Annapolis Valley, Cumberland and Southern New Brunswick, January 1. Following that the station plans to determine ways to extend coverage to the overall Digby area. It is understood a spokesman for the station has said. It is expected that the new rebroadcasting station on the top of Cape Blomidon will be able to extend reception from the station down to Bridgetown and Annapolis Royal. In the meantime suggestions have been made that the Halifax station continue to extend its service down the Valley to Yarmouth.

At a recent meeting of the Digby Board of Trade, under the presidency of John Nichols, it was announced that this body among other promotional schemes, had been pressing CJCH to extend TV service to Digby. It is understood that assurance has been given by CJCH-TV that as soon as the Valley rebroadcasting unit is in operation a technical study will be made to determine if the signal can be boosted the necessary 20 miles so that it can be received in Digby.

At present most of Digby is served by only one TV channel -- channel 4 from Saint John, N. B., and is practically cut off from programs of special interest to Nova Scotians. A similar situation exists in Digby with Nova Scotia radio programs.

In August the Digby Board of Trade pledged and gave support to CJCH in its effort to extend that station's reception through the Valley. They have continued ever since to press for the extension of the service to Digby.

Invited Church Families

The Young People's of Grace United Church, Digby, with Miss Valerie Squire as president, took on a unique undertaking when they invited all the families of the church to a Christmas party. Charging only fifty cents for a whole family the Young People found they had practically as many as the hall would hold of fathers, mothers and the children for their entertainment.

Skits were presented and a carol sing was led by Charles Pitt. The primary classes of the Sunday School, under Mrs. Pitt and Mrs. Oakley Turnbull, assisted with the program.

Santa was present and distributed approximately one hundred gifts to the children under 12 years.

Rev. R. H. Hughes spoke a few words to the parents and children on the meaning of Christmas and expressed his pleasure at seeing so many parents accompanying the children. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes were presented with gifts on behalf of the Young Peoples. Refreshments were served.

Explorers Entertain Mothers

Mothers and friends of the Explorer group of Grace United Church were entertained at a Christmas function on Wednesday of last week. Miss Debby Turnbull presided at the opening and closing before a worship centre of a manger scene and Bible. The Explorers took the audience on an exploration to other Christian lands. Each week of November saw the explorers on a Christmas expedition until the exploration was attained.

A Christmas Thanksgiving service was presented with Miss Dedrie Morrell as narrator. Miss Carol Kaye presided.

HAPPY NEW YEAR GREETINGS

Neighborhood Club Christmas Party

The Deep Brook Neighborhood Club held its annual Christmas party at the home of Mrs. Borden Fountain on Monday evening, December 18th, with a good attendance.

The Christmas devotional was led by Mrs. Fountain and included carol singing and the story of The Three Wise Men. Prayer was offered by Rev. Frank Smith. Greetings and gifts were received from friends and absent members. A generous collection and proceeds from sale of a beautifully decorated cake, made by Mrs. Fulton Stark and won by Mrs. Lucie MacDermid, will be used to further the work of the Cancer Society.

Following a short business meeting all joined in games and guessing contests. A musical interlude, with Mrs. George Brydon at the piano, was much enjoyed. Due to the absence of Santa gifts were attached to a long cord, then members and guests were blindfolded and snipped off the gift of their choice.

Mrs. Bernard Baxter and Mrs. Peter Stobbe assisted the hostess in serving refreshments, which included delicious Scotch shortbread made by Mrs. James Johnston.

The Treasurer, Mrs. Howard Adams, reports the following donations made during the month of December: $5.00 each to the Graywood Baptist Sunday School, Clementsport United Sunday School, Deep Brook Baptist Sunday School; Deep Brook Day School; Cancer Society (Reception Centre); $10.00 to the Municipal Home and Hospital at Bridgetown.

Visits Courier

Gordon Green, magazine editor of the Family Herald, was a visitor at The Digby Courier office enroute to Yarmouth, N. S., for a feature story.

Mr. Green informed the Courier that he had a chat with Fred Brooks who is visiting for a few weeks in Saint John, N. B. Mr. Brooks, over ninety years of age, is a resident of Freeport, N. S. Mr. Brooks and Mr. Green have a standing joke that Mr. Brooks really gave the Family Herald its "kick-off" for Mr. Brooks made the feature story for the first edition of the Family Herald as it is now known. Previously it used to be the Family Herald and Weekly Star.

Community Party Success

The Digby community party held at the Forum on Friday of last week under the auspices of the Industrial Hockey League, was an outstanding success despite the fact that it was arranged in quick time. Heading the committee was Arthur Everett and those who helped Santa at the Forum were E. B. Tufts, Arnold MacCallum and Wallace Hodgson. Also assisting were 12 Boy Scouts and 20 from the Sea Cadets.

Approximately 800 children attended the function and received treats from Santa at the Forum. It is understood that Santa left the Forum and distributed treats on his way to boys and girls at Conway and Jordantown who were unable to meet him at the Forum. On Saturday night Santa accompanied the group to the Municipal Home in Marshalltown and distributed treats. He was also met there by a group of people from Centreville, Digby County, who were spreading cheer and joy of Christmas to the people living at the Home.

Miss Irene Gaudet, of the Digby Branch of H. R. Doane & Co., spent the Christmas holidays with her parents, in Kentville.

The Ballad Of The Bluenose

"The Ballad of the Bluenose" has just been released by the Canadian Music Sales Corporation Limited, Toronto, and a review copy has come to the desk of the Courier editor.

The words of the song were written by Mrs. Helen R. Thurber, Digby, and the music by Miss Joan Ledger. This is the second song published in which Mrs. Thurber composed the lyric. The other song, "Blue Tartan", had the music arranged by Mrs. Elaine Eaton, Freeport.

The copy of "The Ballad of the Bluenose" is illustrated by L. G. Thibodeau on the front cover and the back cover contains the dimensions of the famous schooner and a story of her racing career written by Mrs. Thurber.

No Substitute Ferry Service

It is understood that the Digby Board of Trade has received a reply to their request to have a substitute service provided across the Bay of Fundy between Saint John & Digby when the CPS Princess Helene is out of service for repairs and refit in the spring. The reply, it is understood, is in the negative. It has been customary for the ship to be laid up for a three weeks period. According to information, a letter was received by the Digby Board of Trade from N. R. Crump, president of the CPR, in which he stated the Helene would be out of service from April 30 to May 18 and no substitute service would be provided for the time.

In conversation with a CPR wharf worker, the Courier was informed that most of the men use this lay-up time of the Helene for their annual vacation and it is expected they will do so in 1962.

A Most Wonderful Holiday

Digby received a bit more publicity this Christmas when a visitor put out her annual Christmas circular letter. Following is an extract of a letter written by Mrs. Gerry Scott of Gananoque, Ontario: "Our vacation this year was in Nova Scotia in August. The Canadian Weekly Newspapers' Association Convention was held in Halifax, which we thoroughly enjoyed. Then we rented a car with another couple, The Campbells of Dutton and their daughter, and went east and north around that end of the peninsula. They had to fly back on the weekend, so we returned to the Halifax airport. Then we set out south and west and went around that end of Nova

Ricochets Off The Prince Regent Battery

Joe R. Terman

Three quite similar guns lie buried in the floor of the Prince Regent Battery. They are of iron, some 10 feet and 6 inches long, with a bore of 5 1/2 inches. A general classification places them as Royal Artillery siege or garrison pieces. One, however, is in such a position as to make visible sufficient markings to allow for positive identification.

This gun bears the cipher of George 2nd, weighs 4519 pounds. Across the breach of English guns of this period three groups of figures are shown. This is the weight of the gun. In this case we have 10 - 2 - 13 meaning 10 hundred weights (112x10), 4180 pounds; 2 quarter hundred weights (28x2), 56 pounds; 13 pounds, total of 4519 pounds. The markings on the trunnions show that it was made by William Bowen.

William Bowen was an English Gunfounder in business during the middle seventeen hundreds. One of his guns, a presentation piece, is in the Tower of London. It is cast in bronze from cannon captured at Cherbourg in 1758.

A Bowen 8 inch mortar was taken from the English in the battle of Stony Point, July 15, 1776 and a 12 pounder was captured by General Washington at Yorktown Oct. 19, 1781.

Early in the present century there were four guns at Lighthouse Point, the companion battery to the Prince Regent. We are given to understand that these were removed to Fort Anne for safekeeping. During the loading one slipped its sling and dropped into the Gut. Several residents of Victoria Beach know exactly where this gun is. In this case, however, identification will have to be left to our local skin divers.

Meteghan Lions Active

The Meteghan Lions Club Christmas project, preparing Christmas parcels for underprivileged and crippled children of the Municipality of Clare, has progressed favorably. The project which commenced two years ago is becoming an annual affair.

Gustave Gaddy chairman of the committee is assisted by W. Arsenault and Roland Comeau.

Robert Aucoin is in charge of preparing the parcels and it is expected that this year's distribution will equal last year's which was approximately 30 parcels.

The annual lobster supper is planned this week and the annual New Year's Ball will be held on Saturday, Dec. 30, instead of the 31st, due to the fact that the last day of the year falls on a Sunday.

The Lions, who also sponsor the street lighting in the Meteghan business sections and also a portion of the southern section of Clare's largest village, expect to provide more lighting. The entire cost of the lighting service is borne by the club.

Scotia, stopping or continuing as we pleased, visiting newspaper folk on the way. "The Days at Liverpool, Mrs. Edith Wallis at Digby and several others. We went deep sea fishing, saw the scallop and other fishing fleets come in at Digby, and enjoyed ourselves thoroughly from the beginning to the end of the trip. We flew from Montreal to Halifax and return. It was one of our most wonderful holidays".

Mrs. Scott's Christmas letter goes to many of her friends from Vancouver to Newfoundland and to friends in the United States and over.

Christmas In The Churches

Special music in all the churches hailed the birth of the Manger Babe for Christmas 1961. At Trinity Church on Christmas eve a midnight communion was held when the choir was heard in special Christmas anthems. Solo parts were taken by Ralph Berwick and Mrs. David Daley. The sermon by the rector, Rev. James Pike, was in keeping with the season as was also the sermon on Christmas Day at Trinity. Adding to the festivity of Christmas at Trinity was the newly erected crib outside the church. On Sunday coming a carol service will be held at eleven a.m.

The celebrant at the Christmas midnight mass at St. Patrick's Church was Rev. Miles Power, O.M.I., Ottawa, formerly of Digby. Mass in four parts was sung by the senior choir under the direction of Father Luke Gaudet, with E. J. Theriault as organist. Soloists were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Deveau. The sermon, also by the celebrant, Rev. Fr. Power, centred around the theme "The Real Meaning of Christmas". Father Power also expressed his joy at returning to Digby for the Christmas occasion. Father Power, who spent a number of years in Digby and became well known and loved by many, particularly among the younger people, was introduced by Rev. Father Gaudet. A special feature of St. Patrick's Christmas celebrations was the beautiful rendition of carols by the boys' choir under the direction of Hubert Deveau. Their voices floated over a capacity congregation bringing back the spirit of the Bethlehem hillside where 2,000 years ago the infant Saviour brought the glad message of faith, hope and love which was announced to a weary world. Jimmy Amirault was soloist.

As the midnight hour drew near the procession of altar boys in robes of red and white proceeded, under the direction of the Rev. Father Power. The procession, led by Peter Saulnier who carried the infant, wended its way to the crib where the infant was placed by Father Power. The altar boys then took their places and Mass began. The Midnight Mass was followed by the Dawn Mass when Father Power was again celebrant.

The crib was erected and the church decorated by men of the Holy Name Society under the direction of Rev. Father Gaudet. Altar decorations were done by girls of St. Patrick's Academy and flowers were donated by Mrs. Mary Thompson.

For the Midnight Mass the Master of Ceremonies was David Wood; Thurler, Michael Surrette; Candle Bearers, John Martin and Paul Connelly. In charge of the new altar boys was Gerard Connelly.

Special music was the feature for Christmas at Grace United on Sunday morning.

Two special selections were sung by the choir with Mrs. Elton Arnold and Charles Fitt taking solo parts. A special musical number was a duet by Misses Julie-Anne and Janice Cudmore, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cudmore. In the afternoon the same musical numbers were rendered by the choir and duet at Bay View, George Holdsworth of the Digby Young People's Society, led the service in the absence of the minister. The morning sermon by the minister, Rev. R. H. Hughes, was on the Christmas theme.

Two anthems by the choir and a quartette were heard at the Digby Baptist Church on Sunday morning. The quartette consisted of Mrs. Shirley Clayton, Mrs. G. R. Weir, Wallace Hodgson and J. J. Hartlin. Rev. H. S. Hartlin used as his sermon topic "The Call of Bethlehem". An evening service was also held on Sunday when the Christmas theme continued.

On Sunday afternoon the Hill Grove Baptist Sunday School presented a Christmas program with a short Christmas passage by the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin.

Because of the inclement weather the Christmas program planned for presentation at the Lighthouse Mission on Sunday night did not take place. Plans are being made to have the presentation of recitations, play, pageant and song on the coming Sunday evening.

On Sunday afternoon, members of the Bay View United Church Sunday School presented their annual Christmas concert. The program was under the direction of Mrs. William Clayton who was assisted by Mrs. Ronald Denton. Mrs. Denton announced the various numbers of the program which included recitations and exercises by Pat Bremner, Linda, Debbie, Faye and Rodney Stark, Tony O'Neill, Jeannie, Randy and Brian Bremner, Philip and Dwight Harris. Scripture was read by Carolyn Clayton and a story entitled The Returned Wallet was read by Phyllis Burns. Duets were sung by Linda Stark and Carolyn Clayton and Faye Stark. Miss Dancan Atkinson was organist and Rev. L. R. Atkinson offered prayer. At the close of the program Mrs. Frank Wilson and Phyllis Burns assisted Mrs. Clayton in distributing gifts and candy to each child.

On Friday evening, December 22, the Pentecostal Church at Victoria Beach held their Christmas program at Victoria Tabernacle. Group singing, duets, recitations, dialogues and motion-songs were on the program. At the close of the service gifts and treats were presented to the members and children from a prettily decorated tree.

On Sunday evening, December 21, the United Baptist Church held a candlelight service under the leadership of the pastor, Rev. John MacLeod. While the organist, Mrs. Roy Casey played the opening carol, candles were lighted by the ushers, David Ryan and Walter Haynes Jr. During the service new hymn books, presented to the church by the late Mrs. Louisa Gross, of Lynn, Mass., were dedicated. The junior choir under the direction of Mrs. Roy Casey was in attendance, and rendered several beautiful carols. Vera Faye Ellis played the offering music. A beautiful nativity scene at the back of the church was painted by Susan Everett and added much to the Christmas service. At the close Carol Lou Haynes presented Rev. and Mrs. MacLeod and son, David, with gifts from the church, and Mrs. Casey with a gift from the choir.

On Sunday afternoon, members of the Bay View United Church Sunday School presented their annual Christmas concert. The program was under the direction of Mrs. William Clayton who was assisted by Mrs. Ronald Denton. Mrs. Denton announced the various numbers of the program which included recitations and exercises by Pat Bremner, Linda, Debbie, Faye and Rodney Stark, Tony O'Neill, Jeannie, Randy and Brian Bremner, Philip and Dwight Harris. Telephone Changeover In Weymouth

Weymouth gets a new telephone system Sunday morning, January 29, 1962. Maritime Telephone and Telegraph Company Ltd. has announced the installation of a completely new dial telephone system in their office in Weymouth to be placed in service early Sunday morning, January 29.

The community and its surroundings which are served by Weymouth Exchange have had dial telephone service for twenty-five years. So long subscribers will only be affected by a change of telephone numbers on the new equipment.

The change of telephone numbers is one of the principal reasons for installing the new equipment, the announcement points out. Weymouth will now join most of the other dial exchanges in Nova Scotia and hundreds throughout the Continent on the All Number Calling System of telephone numbers. These numbers consist of seven digits with the first three used as an exchange identification. Weymouth's designation is 837 and therefore all telephone numbers will start with these three digits, followed by four other digits. This gives Weymouth subscribers a standard length telephone number plan which will permit Long Distance calls to reach Weymouth telephones direct from the originating operators or subscribers in all parts of the Continent as the Direct Distance Dialing arrangements expand.

New telephone directories have been prepared containing Weymouth Exchange listings which will be issued as supplements to the regular Western Directory until the next scheduled issue later in the year. Subscribers will also receive Number Cards containing round labels with the new telephone number printed on them for use on the centre of the dial on the telephone. The Company is advising its customers to place these labels on their telephones as a ready reminder of their new number especially when placing long distance calls.

In dialing local calls, it will only be necessary to dial the last five digits of the new numbers, the announcement concluded.

DRAGGER LOST

The Lunenburg scallop dragger Aegir sank on George's Bank, about 120 miles south of Yarmouth, Friday afternoon, about 500 miles an hour winds smashed in the vessel's after quarter. All 16 crew members were rescued.

Fourteen of the crew were picked up by the Massachusetts dragger Ikenientz out of New Bedford. The other two were picked up by the Halifax dragger Barbara Jo. Captain of the dragger is George Crouse of Lunenburg. Acting skipper on the trip was Paul Rhuland.

The Aegir, operated by Adams and Knickle of Lunenburg, was built seven years ago at Meteghan River. Last summer the vessel became entangled in a giant herring net spread out on George's Bank more than a mile behind a Russian trawler. Captain Crouse estimated damage to the hull and engine at $1,000.

In 1958 the Aegir developed engine trouble off the Massachusetts bank and was forced to pull into New Bedford for repairs. American custom officials prevented the sale of 9,500 pounds of scallops in her holds and the crew was forced to throw the cargo overboard.

Mr. F. C. Purdy, supervisor of Digby Schools, delivered a Christmas message to the student body in which he stressed the fact that in today's troubled world it is well to remember at this time of the year the Peace and Good-will toward our fellow men which was taught by the Great Teacher.

The first item on the entertainment program was a medley of Christmas songs by Grade 11-S, accompanied by Margaret Black. Margaret also read the Christmas Story to the students.

An item of great enjoyment to the assembly was "Silent Night", sung by the Staff.

A skit was then presented by Grade 11-N in the form of a television program. Soloists in the skit were Linda Buckler, Stuart MacLean and Gordon Smith. One particular highlight of the skit was a poem written in honour of Mr. Thurber, the home-room teacher of 11-N. Another clever item was the interview with one of the favourite staff members, Mr. F. L. Pigot, impersonated by Ronald Hamilton. The skit was complete with commercials, a band, choruses and a solo, "Jingle Bells" by Nickie Nickerson on her toy xylophone.

The final item on the program was a medley of songs by Grade 12-A, with Forrester Parker, accordion; Maxine Andrews, piano; Ron Winchester, banjo; Rodger Donchfield, drums; Philip Mervin, maracas; Ann Harrington and Otto Geerlees, guitars.

Mr. MacInnes expressed the best wishes of the staff to the students for a happy holiday.

Entertains At Family Reunion

Mrs. Gerda Rice, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. Ted Miller, entertained at a family reunion at her home on Tuesday, December 26th, when members of the family were served a buffet lunch.

Guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Miller, Bea River, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Miller, Bear River, Rev. and Mrs. Frank Smith, Deep Brook, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Morton, Halifax, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Frude, Acadiaville, Mrs. Harold Sullis, the Misses Barbara and Shirley Sullis, Mr. Edward Sullis, Ottawa, Miss Eleanor Frude, Bridgetown. The hostess was assisted in serving by younger members of the family.

A most enjoyable time was spent in going over and recalling many and various incidents of the past. All expressed their appreciation to Mrs. Rice, the hostess, and her daughter, for the happy time spent in their hospitable home and all admired the well laden Christmas tree with its galaxy of well chosen gifts.

About This and That

Happy New Year

Peace, happiness, health and prosperity are so often the individual's making. So, with every confidence that these can be yours we wish you each and every one for 1962 -- peace, happiness, health and prosperity.

Facts About Radioactive Fallout

When a nuclear weapon is exploded on or near the ground the danger from radioactive particles is greatest. The force of the explosion may make a crater up to a mile wide and up to a hundred feet deep. Millions of tons of pulverized earth, stones, buildings and other materials are drawn up into the air and become radioactive. Some of the heavier particles fall out around the point of explosion. The rest are carried up into the mushroom cloud which rises as high as one hundred thousand feet.

This radioactive material is then carried by the winds until it settles to earth. This is called fallout. Under many circumstances you may see the fallout fall under other names. The radioactivity it gives off cannot be seen. You can't see it, nor smell it. But fallout doesn't come out of the sky and fall and seep into everything. It can be described as a cloud drifting down with miles above the ground. Because the wind direction varies at different levels it is possible to judge from the ground where the fallout will settle. For more information, see the article in the Digby Courier, "Facts About Radioactive Fallout".

Confidence In The Cow

Scientists exploring the frontiers of the unknown are often far ahead of the rest of us that we are inclined to consider them to perfection and follow our own judgment. There are scientists who have issued grim warnings about the effects of cigarette smoking and others who describe the threat as overrated. There are teetotal scientists who trace the dreadful results of alcohol and moderately imbibing scientists who claim that the stimulant is necessary. We have been warned, on numerous occasions, of the danger of radioactive fallout. It has been explained that Someone's coming up the walk," said Mrs. Parker. "Looks like Major Fennell, but it's hard to tell with all this snow. It is the major and there's a lady with him."

She opened the door, then let in a cry that brought us all to our feet. "Elsie, come, a wonderful present!" And she threw her arms around her sister's neck. "Happy New Year, Major!"

New Year's Eve Festive Occasion For Native Scots

Christmas never aroused much interest in the Digby area. New Year's Eve, however, is a festive occasion for the native Scots. The Digby area has a large population of native Scots. The Digby area has a large population of native Scots. The Digby area has a large population of native Scots.

Tell Me an Indian New Year's Story

The ceremonial for the snow has passed, when enemies are forgiven and harsh words forgotten, as a new trail has been blazed for all through the New Year's festivities.

The story-telling grandmother has taught the ancient chants and customs through the beads of the strings of historic wampum; but now she again has time to entertain the children.

Gathered around her lodge fire, they plead for another story with their bright eyes and shrill voices. To satisfy them, she tells an ancient legend about the clouds.

"Long moons ago when the world was first made, the sky at winter time was cloudless much as it is on clear summer days. The ground was covered with white snow and the trees, except the pines, stood the bare, dark, and with a cloudless sky, everything above and below looked dreary."

"The children, too, missed the green leaves and changing colors over the landscape and they gave a wish that the sky might have clouds now and then. It is true, dark-gray, fierce-looking clouds came in great numbers and covered all the sky and let down snowflakes to amuse the children. But the children also wished for bright clouds and the old bear in the sky heard their wishes."

"So the old bear blew his moist breath into the heavy clouds and broke them up; he even made humps in some of them, and held on to the corners of others, until when they passed over the village, each cloud had a different shape. Some like bears, some like ships, some like hills and even some like funny people. Ever afterward, the clouds took these strange shapes to bring smiles and imagination to all children in midwinter."—Dr. E. A. Bates, Cornell.

Traditional New Year's Gifts Were Sacred

The Druids distributed branches of the sacred mistletoe, cut with peculiar ceremonies, as New Year's gifts to the people and the Saxons observed the day with gifts and festivals.

The Roman custom of taking gifts to the emperor was introduced into England as early as the time of Henry III. Queen Elizabeth is supposed to have supplied herself with her jewels and wardrobe almost entirely from these gifts.

As late as 1692 the English nobility were accustomed every year to send to the king a purse containing gold. Under the Tudors and the Stuarts it was the habit of all classes to give presents to friends with the best wishes for the New Year.

Ladies received presents of gloves or pins which were then expensive. Sometimes the gifts were wrapped in money and from this practice we have the term "pin money."

Christmas Elf Concerned With Well-Being of Cattle

Julie-Nisse was not exactly a Danish version of Santa Claus. He was an elfish little old man who lived in the attic and was primarily concerned with the well-being of the cattle, keeping them quiet and contented, caring for them if the stable hands neglected their duties.

Nisse's name and association with Christmas probably stems from his legendary tenancy of houses where peace and contentment prevailed. He said he either avoided homes where contention ruled or played all sorts of gremlin-like tricks upon the occupants thereof.

Danish youngsters, mindful of Nisse's long memory and watchful eye, put themselves upon their good behavior as Christmas approaches.

TREES FROM MARITIMES TO U.S.

Thousands of Christmas trees grown in the Maritimes are now decorating homes, stores and offices throughout the United States. More than 1,600 carloads of Maritime-grown trees were shipped out by Canadian National Railways for the U. S. Markets.

Some of the trees went as far afield as Florida and Texas. Biggest shipment of trees in the Maritimes, about 600 carloads, came from the Chaleur area of New Brunswick. Lunenburg County in Nova Scotia came next. Most of the 550 carloads shipped through Halifax came from the Bridge-water area. Antigonish county furnished most of the 350 carloads handled at Moncton.

Marriage

Rev. D. Canadian Mounted Police dress uniforms were presented at the marriage of Martha Louise Nickerson, to Constable Alison W. Sabean on November 18th. Rev. J. H. Gougeon performed the ceremony in the Mission City, B. C. Baptist Church. Martha is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis E. Nickerson, of South Side, Shelburne Co., and Allison is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Sabean of Havelock, Digby Co.

The bride, given in marriage by Mr. D. J. Newell, wore a white floor length gown of embroidered satin. The bodice featured an Empress waist line, lily point sleeves and scalloped neckline outlined with pearls and sequins. The finger tip veil was gathered to a sequin and pearl tiara. The bride's bouquet was a cascade of red and white feathered carnations. Attending the bride were Mrs. Gerry Wainwright, matron of honor, Mr. Carol Anne Staples, and Mrs. Goldie Roggeveen. All three wore identical gowns of sky blue satin in a sheath style with overskirts of blue nylon net, matching head-dresses and gloves. Bouquets of cascading white chrysanthemums were a lovely contrast. The groom's attendants were Constable R. L. Nicholas, host man and ushering Constables D. L. Stables and E. A. Roggeveen. All wore their dress uniforms. Soloist, Miss Margaret McCre, Victoria, accompanied by organist Miss Gladys Overstall.

The Bellevue Hotel was beautifully decorated for the reception. The bride's table was centered by the three-tiered wedding cake, flanked by white candles and bouquets of red roses. Toast to the bride was given by Mr. D. J. Newell and replied to by the groom. Toast to the bride was given by Mr. D. J. Newell and replied to by the groom.

Usual Holiday

Most everyone in town, except old Martin, received a share of Christmas greetings. He got only one, that from a little girl. Eleven needy people received cards with no signature and each card was accompanied by a five dollar bill. The face of every card was such as though something had been pasted to it and then removed.

Nancy received the twelfth card in care of her father's garage, and though she recognized it as of the style she had sold she didn't recall to whom she had sold it. It contained a ten dollar bill.

Christmas Eve, an old man knelt and prayed for the first time in thirty years but from the outside the old brick house looked the same as usual.

End of the Year

End of the year guests attending the ceremony were Constable and Mrs. Ronald Nicholas, Abbotsford; Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Hurd, Chilliwack; Corporal and Mrs. J. Brown, of Agassiz; Constable and Mrs. V. Edwards, Burnaby; and the groom's sister, Mrs. W. A. White, Ottawa.

The remains are resting at the R. D. Lindsay Funeral Home, 86 Quinpool Road and will be taken Thursday to Freeport where funeral services will be held in the Baptist Church with burial in the family lot, Freeport.

Antoine Comeau

Antoine Comeau, 87, of Concession died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Bernard Lombard of Corberrie. He was the son of the late Anselm Comeau and Charlotte (Gaudet) Comeau and was well known throughout the municipality of Clare and in Digby and Yarmouth counties.

It was a common thing for Mr. Comeau to walk from his home to Mont Carmel Church, a distance of eight miles to attend church services.

He was one of a family of thirteen children of which seven sisters entered the Holy Orders of the St. Famille in the Province of Quebec.

His wife, Philomene, daughter of Michel Doucet of Douville, predeceased him. He leaves to mourn the following children: Gustave, rural mail courier for Concession; Anselme, Bernard, Gerald, Benoit of Concession; Marcel of Saint-Jovite; Lucien of Waterville, Mass.; Alphonse of Meteghan Station; Mrs. Edward Blinn, Corberrie; Mrs. Denis (Charlotte) Saultier, of U.S.A.; Mrs. Nelson (Antoinette) LeBlanc, St. Bernard; Mrs. Emile (Agnes) Robichaud, St. Bernard.

Funeral services were held at Mont St. Carmel R. C. Church at Concession with Rev. Leon Gagne officiating.

Mrs. Leonise Melanson

Mrs. Leonise Melanson, aged 88, passed away on December 15 after an illness of a few days. She was taken suddenly ill on Monday. It was a great shock to her many friends in the community to learn of her passing.

Mrs. Melanson was a de-generosity. Children have toys and sweets on December 6, his feast day.

Americans added a bit of fun, a reindeer-drawn sleigh and a few extra points to the saint to create Santa Claus. His name comes from the mispronunciation of the name of which Dutch settlers in New York called the saint.

In Italy it's La Befana, kind of aging fairy queen who comes down the chimney in France the best of all is the Christ Child Himself known as the Petit Noël.

Children in South America have a special way of celebrating. They were not, and they are present, then, for their last journey from the East, they leave water and food on the doorstep for the wise men's camels.

New Year greetings to all our customers. Wishing you a Happy and Prosperous New Year.
