1877-1977

One of the jobs I had to do, besides putting and graders' devil on the staff, was to... I cleaned one and then... One day not long after I started to get to the grating plant. I decided to climb the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned for some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily. He thought the remark pretty good and said:

Sometimes the gasoline engine, a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and the "Man" fix-it man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results. Man would then stand back and come out dramatically then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of coaxing."

On other occasions when some group refused duty for the dead, seemed to be brokenhearted, I would say, "use a little oil" and sure enough, after that is said, "use a little oil" and sure enough, after that is said, it took. They often since, have I heard of the value of that remark and the actual need of oil in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the June 1941 "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring season of 1941 got together just before dark one evening and decided to initiate the newly built outdoor Pease Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just out of the pool, nobody else seemed to be around and the four boys, no thought or time for bathing suits, up in the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in. The rest quickly followed and across the pool they swam. "Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Swims Officially Open Pease Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the four? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Earl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars (second world and Korea), was awarded the Vietnam Cross; Sidney L. Smith, now prominent draughtsman for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale importer and bookshop; and myself.

As a young treasurer I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day "Mac" said to me how about writing your version of the story told about "The Marooning of Jerome". I did it and read it aloud to two somewhat different groups of the men who was found marooned on a French Island some place on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Duffy County. When I read this man's tongue had been cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

Jerome appeared to have been a man of considerable social standing and, possibly, of considerable wealth. However, the only thing I could or would ever say after being asked for by some family in the Forest was something that sounded like "Oh, my, before either you'd run, or would not, with the who he was or why he was left there, it was, and is, one of Dugby County, and, different ideas have been put forward, and, concerning this man, however, "Mia" was, I felt so sure he was, the different about this man. The man, I have been very well explained to."

From the files of the Chamber of January 23, 1967, the following account has been copied concerning India in 1965:

Among a number of old newspapers kindly sent to us are two from a copy of the Saint John Telegraph and among other advertisements contained in the issue before us is one describing the town and farming of Digby, and offering for sale certain lots in the town. In this area we are told the township of Digby "extends from the Gulf of St. Lawrence westward to the extremity of the province of Nova Scotia, and contains about 134,000 acres." The town plot is then described.

The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Bay, and twenty miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles distant from the head of H. Mary's Bay. This land, and not from the water's edge, partly is level ground, and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having with an eastern aspect a view of the Annapolis Bay, and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in extent, it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth at that name. It was secured by Leyden's tract, New York in 1643, the land of which went nearly to Britain, or, moving to other countries, left the shore free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students, one of which was J.J.'s daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Morton of Tibet, Prescott, Digby Co.). Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters. I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print." I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like embossing, stamping, perforating, crumpling, cutting and crumpling paper stock, mixing inks for certain desired colors, and so forth, but, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "go," the printers name for a confused mess.

There was a taste of trying to work inside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "How about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried it, made several calls over most of the time at one particular order, but

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, APRIL 5, 1962

VOLUME LXXXVIII, No. 32

Proclaims Chamber Of Commerce Week

Whereas this community can benefit from friendly relationships among business competitors, between our town and the surrounding area and other communities across Canada, between employer and employee.

Whereas this community can benefit from new industries, good business conditions, more tourists, civic improvements, more jobs, better facilities for education, health and recreation.

Whereas the Digby Board of Trade is a voluntary organization of citizens enabling us all to work together to achieve the above goals and generally to improve business, to build a better community, and to develop better citizenship in our community, our province and our country, I, by virtue of the powers vested in me, do hereby proclaim civic support for CHAMBER OF COMMERCE WEEK being observed April 8 to 11 and call on all citizens to lend their interest, support and cooperation in making this observance successful in every way.

Town Considers $75,000 Paving

The council of the Town of Digby at regular session on Monday night passed motion to request the Department of Municipal Affairs for permission to hold a ratepayer's meeting and to prepare the necessary resolution to place before the ratepayers for approval to go ahead with a proposed $75,000 paving program within the town.

His Worship, Mayor V. L. Bent, presented figures showing savings which would be made and which could be applied against the paving expense. The budget average over three years is $3,000 for chloride, $1,000 for gravel and fill and $750 for grading operation. He estimated that of this $15,250 could be saved yearly by the proposed paving program. Added to this were estimated revenues from parking meters of $3,500. He also produced estimated figures on bond issue plans showing that on a 25 year plan the highest payment would be $7,500, 20 year plan $8,250 and on a 15 year plan $9,500.

The council was unanimous in its decision that a paving program for the town was necessary for the convenience and economy of the town and that it was time such program be begun if at all feasible. Matters of upkeep of the streets, convenience of residents, asset for attracting tourist business and industrial plants were among some of the considerations which prompted the council's move.

Child Hit By Car

Dale Denton, 11 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Denton, Little River, was struck by a car allegedly driven by Eldred Lawrence Outhouse, of Tiverton, at approximately 7:30 p.m. on Wednesday.

The child, who was riding a bicycle, obtained a skull fracture, and it is understood he is being taken to Halifax for treatment. At press time no other details were available.

Miss Bonnie Wright, Cornerbrook, Nfld., spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wright.

Mrs. Christopher Duffy and small son of Shelburne were weekend guest of her parents, Dr. and Mrs. V. G. Turnbull.

Steps To Stricter Taxi Laws

The Digby Town Council on Monday night took preliminary steps to amend the town by-laws which would enforce stricter rulings for owners and drivers of taxis, particularly in the case of violations of liquor laws.

Further steps in enforcing property owners to clean up unsightly premises were also taken on Monday night. Specific attention was given to properties on which buildings had been dismantled and left in an unsightly condition.

The council chamber and offices at the Town Hall are also to get a "face lifting" and undergo renovations, according to business transactions at the council meeting on Monday. An amount not to exceed $1,000 was voted for this purpose. This will include redecorating the council chamber and offices, provide an office for the police and meter reader on the ground floor and to open an office for the Mayor on the second floor adjoining the council chamber.

The town's course of action in having the light poles moved to the opposite side of the street had met with a small amount of objection from a few business proprietors, it was reported at the meeting. There were many factors which entered into the decision to have the poles on the opposite side when moved. One of these was that considerable less cost was involved in making the change in this manner, there would be no inconvenience in cutting off power for the change and it was understood the lighting would be better with poles away from the water side of the street. Other smaller advantages also influenced the decision.

It was reported that the Maritime Telephone and Telegraph Co. would bear the cost of the poles for the Water St. change. This was approved by council.

At a previous meeting it had been explained that the decision to change the wiring had been made on safety measures. An entanglement of wires and crossing over buildings had become dangerous for fires.

Earlier Monday will be a holiday in Digby according to action taken by the council. Much discussion on Monday night centred on the storm damage in town, particularly that area where store basements were flooded. The current in the DNR station yard had overflowed, it was thought by a broken or defective drain, spilling the water over part of the yard and tracks and landing into the basements of stores. High tides covering the exit of sewer pipes on the beach added to the difficulties, it is understood.

It was announced that the Winter Works program had been extended by the Department of Municipal Affairs to May 1st.

A letter was read from Dr. R. A. Armstrong, secretary of the Digby Mental Health Clinic, in appreciation of the $750 grant to the clinic and requesting future considerations in this regard. An invitation was to be issued to Dr. Armstrong to address council on the mental health program for the area.

Council on Monday night decided to purchase a Kloppe coin counting machine. The old machine had been worn past repair and such a machine was considered necessary because of the parking meter coins which sometimes constitute a whole pall when collected.

The matter of a Regional Library was left to be considered after the visit of Miss Lettis to the area in May.

The police report showed 20 complaints laid, of which 10 required investigation. Six required court action, four under the liquor control act and two under criminal code. Three motor vehicle accidents were investigated.

Receives Cap

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Ellis, spent last weekend in Quebec City. While there they attended the capping ceremonies at Jeffrey Hills Hospital, where their daughter, Linda, a student nurse received her cap.

Well Known Sportsman Passes

Lyman Harold Pyne, well known Digby County sportsman, passed away at the Digby General Hospital on Wednesday.

Born in Digby fifty-three years ago, he was a son of the late Percy and Agnes Handsbaker Pyne. He was educated in the Digby town schools. He served overseas as a Sergeant with the RCASC and was wounded in Holland.

He was a member of the Anglican Church, the Royal Canadian Legion, Digby Branch and the Digby Fish and Game Association.

His wife is the former Oda Gates, of Milford, Annapolis County, N. S. For the past seventeen years he has resided at Smith's Cove.

For the past number of years he has been employed at HMCS Cornwallis.

Surviving besides his wife are three sons: Harold, in the Army, stationed at Camp Gagetown, James, stationed at Camp Petawawa, Ont., and Carl, at home; a daughter, Dora (Mrs. Joseph Yeoman) at Shearwater, N. S. He was predeceased by a daughter, Paula. He is also survived by two brothers and two sisters: Allen, of Digby; Roy, of Lockeport, N. S.; Mrs. Mildred Shubert, Digby; and Kathleen (Mrs. Kathleen Longmire), of Hillburn, Anna Co., N. S.

The remains will rest at Jayne's Funeral Home in Digby, N. S., until Saturday, when they will be taken to Trinity Anglican Church for service at 2 p.m. Rev. James Pike will conduct the service and interment will be in the Anglican cemetery, Digby. Members of the Digby Branch Royal Canadian Legion will conduct their service at the graveside.

John Nichols VON President

John Nichols, local bar-rister, was on Friday re-elected for the third year president of the Local Association of the Order of Nurses. The meeting was held at Grace United Church hall when reports of the year's activities were presented and when members and friends were privileged to hear an interesting address by Dr. Prince Bond, Annapolis Royal.

The secretary, Mr. Fritz Dakin, in his report, said that on the national scene there was a more optimistic outlook for V.O.N. now than there had been for some time because of the Royal Commission on Health Services. Details of services provided by the VON had been submitted and it was hoped that the VON would find its place into the national health scheme as the important of preventive measures and care of patient in the home were realized for communities. Among the local revenues for the year Mrs. Dakin mentioned the bequest from the Edith Hughes and Mrs. L. H. Morse estates, the bonspiel played for the Lynch trophy, the T. B. Association grant, contributions from the men's bridge club and other usual activities.

It was with regret that the board heard of Mrs. Dakin's decision not to carry on as secretary. The vacancy had not been filled at the time of the annual meeting on Friday.

Deep regret at the passing of the last charter member Mrs. L. H. Morse, was expressed. Mrs. Morse had been honorary president for a number of years and in the early years had been an active board member. Fritz Dakin, who has given much of his time and capabilities to the finance and car committee, was elected honorary president to succeed the late Mrs. Morse.

Other officers elected were: 1st vice-president, Rev. Mr. Hughes; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. J. W. Christie; Treasurer, Mrs. H. R. Bishop; board members: Mr. James Ayer, Mrs. D. G. Black, Mrs. Glen Conrad, Mrs. Arthur Cudmore, Miss Louise Daley, Mrs. Thomas Deveau, Mrs. Webster Dunn, Mrs. Forrest Elsen, Mrs. W. K. Ganong, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, Mrs. Gerald Hoare, Mrs. Fred May, Mrs. Ruston Marshall, Lieut. Mac (Please turn to page 5)

Perform At Festival Concert

Top picture to the left is Leila Wong, ten year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wong, Digby, whose breath control, tone and expression far exceeded her years as she rendered the vocal solo "Cradle Song" at the Digby Music Festival Concert on Thursday night. The concert was made up of numbers presented at the festival on Monday and Tuesday and were chosen not alone for excellence but also for making an interesting program. To the top right is Susan Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Potter, Bear River, who appeared in the first solo number in the concert, playing the piano selection "Minuet and Trio".

In the bottom picture to the left are Sylvia Dukeshire, vocalist, accompanied by her sister, Rosamond, at the piano, who performed in the family group at the festival and who also appeared in the concert on Thursday night. They are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Dukeshire, Bear River. To the right are brother and sister, who played in the family group. Violinist is Benny Marshall, accompanied on the piano by his sister, Carol. Their parents are Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Marshall, Hill Grove.

Another outstanding vocalist on Thursday night, not in the pictures, was Miss Madonna Cole, whose voice command also belied her years in the rendition of "The Fair". Miss Cole was again heard in a vocal duet with Miss Susan Amaro as they capably and pleasingly sang "Greetings". Special mention also went to Miss Myfanwy Davies, in the handling of her violin selection, accompanied on the piano by her brother, John.

Also in the family group on Thursday night was the piano trio by Misses Margaret and Barbara Black and John, children of Dr. and Mrs. D. G. Black.

Piano solos were played by Carol Lombard, Gilbert Bourgoine, Margaret Black, Susan Comeau, Nancy Jayne, Deborah Douglas, Marcia Trask, Gale Bundy and Marilyn Atkinson. Piano duets were played by Misses Nancy Jayne and Claire Dolron and Misses Doreen Atkinson and Cheryl Woolaver.

School choruses were interspersed throughout the program which began with a selection by Grace United Church Junior Choir, Digby and closed with a Ladies Chorus from Grace United. Rev. Lorne Nethercott, Weymouth, president of the Digby Music Festival, was master of ceremonies. He thanked those who helped to make the festival a success, and made special mention of the work done by the secretary, Mrs. Daniel Hanksin Weymouth. Mr. Nethercott drew attention to the excellence in performance in Thursday night's program and by others who performed during the festival. This, he said, was the type and calibre of music which the festival committee is endeavouring to foster. He urged the parents to start, now, to make ready for the festival next year.

Those who followed the festival from its beginning some twelve years ago made mention of the improvement in performances. Particularly was improvement noted in school choruses.

Board Of Trade

Tuesday night, April 10th, regular meeting of the Digby Board of Trade conveniently falls during Chamber of Commerce Week when it is expected by the executive that a full attendance of members will be present. One of the activities for Chamber of Commerce Week is to hold the Chamber or Board meeting during the week with an urgent plea for attendance. Besides observance of Chamber of Commerce Week, a full attendance is expected at the Digby Board to further projects which had been started, to review progress on the projects and to hear of new business which members are expected to bring before the Board.

Chamber of Commerce Week is expected to be observed in Digby next week by distribution of pamphlets explaining the Board of Trade functions, displaying Chamber of Commerce banners in stores, displaying Maritime products in stores, using Chamber of Commerce place mats in restaurants and similar methods of publicity arranged by the publicity committee convened by Mrs. Leigh Jayne.

Newspaper and radio publicity have also been planned and both the Digby Kiwanis Club and Lion's Club presidents have agreed to bring the Chamber of Commerce Week to the notice of their members.

Support Move For New T.V. Channel

The Digby Town Council on Monday night wholeheartedly supported a move planned by Finlay McTavish, of Halifax T.V. station, channel 5, to have a re-broadcasting station located in the area. The re-broadcast station, it is understood, will be located at Bay View, it is understood, by broadcast station No. 10 at Canning, N. S.

Councillors expressed the hope that the channel would be opened so that viewers in the area would have access to Nova Scotia programs and news broadcasts.

Besides support of the town council, support was also expected from the Digby Trade Board, Lions Club and similar organizations, it was said.

Support Digby Bid Second Ferry

Letters were read at the Digby Town Council on Monday night endorsing the resolution passed at the March meeting urging that the proposed second ferry between New England States and Nova Scotia have a terminus at Digby.

The resolution was endorsed by Dr. P. E. Belliveau, M.L.A., V. G. Cardozo, M.L.A., and the town of Bridgetown. Ronald Morehouse, warden of Digby Municipality, reports that the municipal council was in full accord with the resolution and that the municipality had passed a similar resolution and forwarded to responsible parties.

In his reply to the town's resolution the Hon. George Nowlan, federal member for Digby, Annapolis and Kings said the matter was still in the stage of preliminary discussion and he did not anticipate anything definite for some time. He stated that he would keep the town informed.

Acknowledgements of the receipt of the resolution forwarded from a previous meeting of the Digby town council were read from Premier Robert Stanfield, Hon. Kennedy Jones and the city of Gloucester. The city of Gloucester did not feel in a position to accept or reject resolutions on the matter from any particular town.

Prominent Business Woman Passes

Mildred Carty, well known proprietress of "Carty's", a ladies' wear shop, passed away at her Digby residence on Monday evening as the result of a heart attack.

A daughter of the late Charles and Ada (Marsden) Carty, of Sandy Cove near Barton, N. S., she was a lifelong resident of Digby but was also well known throughout Nova Scotia, Canada and the United States. She was a member of Grace United Church, Digby, and was interested in community affairs, being most generous to the various charitable organizations of the town and county.

She is survived by two brothers, Harold M. of San John, N. B., and Arthur, in the United States. Also surviving are a nephew, William R. Carty, of Halifax, and three nieces, Mrs. Alfred M. Abney, Springhill, N. S., Mrs. Phillip Parish and Mrs. Ronald McQuaid, both of Los Angeles, Calif.

The remains will rest at Jayne's Funeral Home in Digby, until this afternoon when they will be taken to Grace United Church for service at 2 p.m. Rev. R. H. Hughes will conduct the service and interment will be in Fairview cemetery, Digby.

Warns Of Dwindling Funds

Rev. H. S. Hartlin, chairman of the Finance Committee for the local association V. O. N., warned the board on Friday at the annual meeting the investment account of the organization is not as healthy as it once was.

This remark was made in the report of the finance committee which followed the treasurer's report revealing that a bond was again sold during the year to meet V. O. N. expenses. The investment account, he said, had grown smaller and smaller during the past three years and it was pointed out that the investment account was now only $1,000.

The report of the treasurer, Mrs. H. R. Bishop, showed an operating deficit of $6,125 to the year 1961. Total receipts were $57,636 of which $1,000 was from fund raising. The deficit was attributed to the fact that the operating account had been depleted by the sale of bonds to meet the needs of the organization. The treasurer also pointed out the possibility of expansion of the organization and the need for more funds.

Mrs. Bishop also mentioned that the organization had a great misunderstanding about the service and hoped this could be cleared up. The matter of financial support was brought up.

Miss Valerie Squire, nurse-in-charge, presented her report in which she stated the 1238 visits made had been a slight increase over the previous year. Twenty-four percent of the visits were for direct nursing service, seven hundred children were seen in the three schools and 100 beginners inspected, 400 were immunized at the four clinics.

Marathon Prepare Final Plays

The Ladies Hospital Auxiliary sponsored marathon bridge will begin final play the third week in April, it was announced by Mrs. James Ayer, who will be hostess for the marathon at that time.

Group winners of the bridge to date were Ladies, Mrs. Garnet Neville and Mrs. Edward Twigh, score 34,350; Group A, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Cudmore, 21,060; B, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Warne, 18,930; C, Mr. and Mrs. Ira Davis, 19,860; D, Mr. and Mrs. David Daley, 28,840.

A round robin series will begin and winners will play off and prizes be presented in the third week of April.

Storm Does Severe Damage

Torrential rains and gale force winds caused extensive damage throughout the town and area during the weekend. Winds of 53 miles an hour churned up heavy seas along the coast, but fishing craft made for the safety of port.

Up to seven inches of water overflowed the town's drainage system, making the main street all but impassable. Flooding was reported at four locations. In a three-mile stretch of Number 1 highway between Digby and Marshall town, Third Avenue, below the hospital near Warwick Street, was gullied out, and the railway tracks along First Avenue were under water.

Extensive flooding of basements in the stores and homes of the town has been reported. The basement of Ruggier Hardware Store on Water Street had to be pumped out Sunday night. Mayor Vernon Bent placed damage at $5,000.

Tons of gravel and debris were carried by rushing water along a water front DNR spot and two streets. Workmen repaired the main line.

Tuesday, most gravel had been cleared from the streets. A portion of the Lighthouse Road near the Lighthouse at Bay View is practically impassable and there are gullies two feet deep near the old school house on the Shore Road. Work has been undertaken on the Bay View roads but, in a telephone interview, with The Courier on Monday evening, it was stated that they are still in hazardous condition.

Smith's Cove residents reported roads flooded near the Anglican Church of Canada and many cellars flooded. The highway on the curve directly west of Victoria Bridge has been completely undermined. A bridge was washed out at Hill Grove between Fox Heights and North Camp Corner.

In Marshalltown the marsh land at the head of St. Mary's Bay is completely flooded. Waters estimated at a 10 ft depth covering areas from Bule's Brook, to the Marsh Point to Digby Neck and a number of roads washed out and left the roads impassable. The saw mill of Clifford's Bros. was blown down on Sunday, and a school cottage belonging to Mrs. George Donnelly was completely surrounded by water and cut off from the road.

Cooking Without Water

Nutritionists have long advocated "waterless" cookery which, they say, preserves the color, vitamins and minerals of foods and also enhances the flavor.

It really means cooking meats and vegetables in their own moisture or in the water that naturally clings to foods after they are rinsed.

Certain conditions must be followed for successful results. The pans in which the food is cooked should be sufficiently heavy so that the heat spreads evenly. In such a pan, the food cooks from the bottom up, from the sides in and from the top down. The pan should be nearly full, leaving little or no air space above the food. It should be covered and placed over medium heat. When the cover is hot to touch, the heat should be turned very low.

Here are two recipes for foods cooked in this manner:

1 ten-ounce package frozen peas
2 large outside leaves of lettuce
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 tablespoon butter
1/2 clove garlic
1. Break the block of peas into several pieces.

PEAS IN LETTUCE

2. Place one leaf of lettuce in the bottom of a one-quart pan. Add peas, salt, butter and garlic. Cover with the other lettuce leaf and the lid. Place over medium high heat.
3. When the lid is hot to the touch, reduce the heat and cook 15 minutes. Remove lettuce and garlic.

Yield: Four servings.

POT ROAST

1 three-and-one-half to four-pound rolled beef round, without added fat
1 teaspoon pepper
1 cup coarsely chopped onion
1/2 teaspoon basil
1/2 teaspoon thyme
1/2 bay leaf
2 tablespoons flour
1. Heat a heavy aluminum pan until very hot over high heat. Reduce the heat and brown the meat on all sides. Reduce the heat and cover the pan. Cook about two hours.

2. Add the seasonings, and turn the meat. Cover and cook until the meat is tender, about one and one-half hours longer. Remove the meat from the pan.

3. Measure the liquid in the pan and add enough water to make two cups. Blend the flour with a little water and add to the pan. Cook, stirring, until the mixture boils and is thickened. Serve with meat.

Yield: Eight servings.

Experts Give No-Iron Tips

There's no need to pamper a man's shirt of "Terylene". It is actually more rugged than its cotton counterpart and should be tossed in the washing machine along with the rest of the family's white clothing.

This is the word from people who should know: the technicians at the "Terylene" laboratories at Millhaven, Ontario, who have test-washed hundreds of shirts.

However, to be sure that a shirt will need no ironing after washing, and will remain sparkling white, the technicians have a few tips to offer. Before washing, heavily soiled areas such as the collar and cuffs should be sprinkled with detergent and rubbed briskly with the tail of the shirt. Detergent rather than soap is recommended. If the water is hard, as it is in most areas, soap-suds will leave a deposit that is difficult to budge.

Household bleach won't harm "Terylene" providing, of course, it is rinsed out. Thorough rinsing of any garment — whether bleached or not — is as important as thorough washing. Otherwise, clothes may look dingy.

If hand washed, the shirt should be removed from the water dripping wet. It should not be wrung for creases may form that might be hard to remove. For the same reason a shirt should be taken from the washer before the spin cycle starts. It can then be hung on a wooden or plastic hanger — a metal one might rust. Smooth the collar and cuffs and fasten the top button so that the shirt hangs straight. If the shirt is to be dried in an automatic dryer, it can go through the complete washing cycle, for any wrinkles that may be picked up during spinning will be eliminated by the dryer before they have time to set.

If washed this way, the shirt will be ready for wearing without any ironing. If the fabric is a blend of "Terylene" and cotton, even if it is bone dry a touch-up with a warm iron will suffice.

Combination Catchy

Most cooks are aware that judicious mingling of selected flavors serves to heighten their individual appeal. Raisin Oat Bars are a dramatic illustration of just how tantalizing such recipes can be. These rich little "cakes" have a luscious orange-flavored raisin filling baked between two layers of rolled-oat crumble. They would make a tasty addition to any morning kaffee klatsch or the four o'clock tea break.

Raisin Oat Bars

1 cup prepared seeded raisins
1/2 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/2 cup orange juice
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1 cup once-sifted all-purpose flour or 1 cup plus 2 tablespoons once-sifted pastry flour

1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon ground mace
1 cup rolled oats (regular or quick-cooking)
1/2 cup butter or margarine
1 cup lightly-packed brown sugar
1/4 cup chopped filberts, optional

Grease an 8-inch square cake pan. Preheat oven to 350 degrees F. (moderate). Separate and halve sufficient seeded raisins to yield the required 1 cup. Prepare orange rind and juice. In a small saucepan combine raisins, orange juice and granulated sugar. Stirring often, cook over low heat until mixture becomes thick and jam-like. Cool.

Sift together the all-purpose or pastry flour, baking powder, salt and mace; mix in rolled oats. Cream butter or margarine; gradually blend in brown sugar and grated orange rind. Add dry ingredients to creamed mixture and blend with a fork or fingertips until crumbly. Spread half of this mixture in prepared pan and pack firmly; cover with raisin mixture spreading it to within 1/4 inch of edges. Add chopped filberts, if being used, to remaining crumb mixture; sprinkle over raisin filling and pat down lightly. Bake in preheated oven 30 to 35 minutes. Stand cake in its pan on wire rack until cold. Cut cold cake into 8 strips; cut each strip into 4 bars.

FOOD FILLERS

For a quickie pizza, toast split English muffins. Top each half with a tomato slice, a slice of cheese and one of two sardines. Place under broiler flame for a minute or two, until the cheese melts. Serve hot.

The next time you're in a quandary about what to serve on meatless days, try this recipe for Shrimp Wiggle. Clean and cook shrimps, or use the canned variety, drained. Make a good rich cream sauce, adding a bit of heavy cream if you're in a mood for elegance. Stir in the shrimp and enough cooked green peas to add color — about a cup to each two cups of shrimp. Season and serve over hot biscuits or toast.

Mix cream cheese with chives or green onion tops, finely chopped. Spread the mixture between layers of home baked or brown 'n' serve rolls. Bake the rolls in a moderate oven, preheated to 350 degrees, for 25 minutes. Another delicious way of serving these rolls is to spread half of each roll with cottage cheese and half with strawberry jam. Wrap the rolls in aluminum foil and bake them in a hot oven, preheated to 425 degrees F., for 5 to 10 minutes.

Make sure that the Hot Cross Buns you serve are really hot. They can be reheated in several ways. You can put them in a brown paper bag, close the bag tightly and pass it through running water. Heat in a moderate oven, preheated to 350 degrees F., about 15 minutes. The rolls can also be wrapped in aluminum foil and heated in a moderate oven, 375 degrees F., for about 20 minutes. Finally they can be heated in a covered pan. Put about two tablespoons of water in the bottom of a pan, or skillet which has a tight-fitting lid. Place a trivet in the bottom of the pan and arrange the rolls on the trivet. Close the pan and steam the rolls about 10 minutes over low heat.

In Victoria Beach tree were blown over and caused the ditches and bridges to overflow onto the roads, which eventually led to the erosion of large pieces of highway, making a total blocking of traffic. Homes situated below the road level experienced heavy flooding of basements and extensive outside damage due to the large amount of rocks being carried with the water. Hardest hit was the home of Bernard Taylor. A culvert near the home of Burton Halliday became clogged and caused a small river about two feet deep, to flow onto the road for a distance of fifty feet, before turning its course and flowing into the Annapolis Basin. With ditches overfull the two major hills in the village, near the home of Earl Ellis and Donald Everett, were badly gullied out.

A bridge was completely washed out at Thorne's Cove taking with it about ten feet of road on either side. A portion of the paved highway in Granville Beach was also torn out.

Heavy flooding was also experienced in the area where the Annapolis River overflowed into pastures and fields, causing damage to crops and livestock.

Blood Donor Clinic Planned

Plans for an April Blood Donor Clinic were announced at the March meeting of the Digby Red Cross Branch. This will be held under the sponsorship of the Lions Club, with the Red Cross assisting with refreshments and other clinic room duties. Arrangements were also discussed regarding an early presentation of Blood Donor awards to two Digby donors who have given over twenty pints of blood, thus qualifying for the Red Cross Scroll.

Mrs. R. B. Lent, Red Cross President, stated that the financial campaign was progressing favorably, although no statistics were available as yet. Digby town, under the chairmanship of Mr. Ralph Berwick, and the rural area under the chairmanship of Mr. Alfred Gilmour, were being covered by canvassers and it was hoped that the campaign would be completed by the end of the month.

Father & Son Banquet Held

A total of about seventy persons attended the Father and Son banquet held in the hall of the Baptist Church of Digby last Saturday night. It was one of the largest gatherings of its kind held in the church for a long time.

Sponsored by the Boy's Work Committee of the Christian Education Council of the church, the gathering was attended by members of the Boy Scout and Cub groups of the Baptist Church, with their fathers as guests.

Following the dinner, the boys gave a demonstration of their talents under the direction of Scoutmaster Donald Brown and Cubmaster Bernard Bell. The dinner was served by members of the social committee of the Brotherhood group of the church. A treat of ice cream was donated by Mr. Hubert Warne.

Both the Scout and Cub groups of the church have grown in numbers and attendance during the past season. Two of the boys will soon be invested as Queen's Scouts. Nine of the Scouts are presently seeking the Religion and Life awards and are taking a course in religious subjects under the direction of the pastor of the church.

TO PACK MISSIONARY BOX

The afternoon Unit of the Bear River United Church Women met on Friday with Mrs. H. E. Harris.

The meeting opened with a Worship Service of hymns, scripture, meditation and prayer.

A missionary box is being packed in the near future and a number of articles of clothing have been handed in by members and friends. Two crab quilts and children's socks have been made recently, donations of discarded nylon stockings for Korea have been received.

The programme for the afternoon consisted of a dialogue "The Bible Speaks" and a chapter from the study book "Hasten the Day".

The name of Annie Croscup, the late Mrs. George Croscup, has been chosen for this Unit of the U. C. W. in loving memory and grateful worker in this church, a teacher in the Sunday School for a long period of time and keenly interested in work with youth groups but most especially is her memory lovingly honoured for her outstanding contribution to the work of the Women's Missionary Society, where she served as President and Honorary President for many years.

ORGANIZE NEW GUILD ON ISLAND

On Monday evening, March 5, several of the young married women of the community of Westport met at the Baptist vestry to form a World Wide Guild. The meeting was led by Mrs. L. McLellan and Mrs. R. Thompson as secretary.

Mrs. McLellan opened the service with prayer and the Great Commission as recorded in 28th chapter of Matthew.

A lengthy discussion period on WWG and why we should have a group on the Island, was conducted with everyone present taking part. The election of officers for the group resulted as follows: president, Mrs. Charles Glavin; secretary, Mrs. Richard Thompson; treasurer, Mrs. Roland Swift. Four vice presidents are Mrs. Lawrence Welch Jr., Mrs. Earl Lent, Mrs. Enos Comeau and Mrs. Kingsley Denton.

During the winter months the group plans to meet once a month, and twice a month in the summer. The first meeting will be held in April at the home of Mrs. K. Denton. Roll call will be a Bible verse containing the word "Life". Devotional and program will be in charge of Mrs. R. Swift and Mrs. E. Lent.

Marriage

Durnan - Irving

The Sandy Cove United Baptist Church, decorated for the occasion with white mums and forsythia, was the scene of a lovely spring wedding at two thirty Saturday afternoon, March 24th, when Edith Jeanette the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Owen Irving, Sandy Cove, was united in marriage to James Earle, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. James Durnan, Springfield, New Brunswick. Rev. A. MacLellan, pastor of the church, performed the ceremony.

The wedding music was played by Mrs. R. W. Sypher, soloist, Miss Linda Morehouse, friend of the bride, rendered two solos: "The Wedding Prayer" prior to the ceremony and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register.

Mrs. Edna Andrews, sister of the groom, served as her matron of honor, with Miss Sandra Hamm, R.N., as bridesmaid, Stanley Durnan, brother of the groom, was best man, Kenneth Irving, brother of the bride, and Everett Sprague, friend of the groom, were ushers.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father who gave her in marriage. She was a lovely picture in her Princess line floor length gown of white peanude sole fashioned with V shaped neckline, wristpoint sleeves, the back panels were hand fashioned with pean de sole sprays of roses, her finger tipped veil of illusion was caught to a tiara trimmed with seed pearls and rhinestones. She carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and lily of the valley with white streamers, and wore as her only ornament a strand of pearls, the gift of the groom.

The matron of honor was attired in a Princess line street length gown with a V shaped neckline of deep pink pean de sole, matching headdress trimmed with illusion, accessories to match; she carried a bouquet of deep pink and white roses. The bridesmaid's gown was of identical style in light pink pean de sole with similar headdress and accessories. Her bouquet was of light pink and white roses. Mrs. Irving, mother of the bride, chose a sheath gown of satin brocade in gold, with matching hat and accessories, wearing a corsage of pink roses. The bridegroom's mother was attired in a red velvet gown, matching accessories, her corsage was of yellow roses.

A reception was held in the Community Hall, it being nicely decorated with wedding bells and white streamers. The wedding cake on the bride's table was centred between tall white tapers. The toast was given by Rev. A. McLellan, responded to by the groom, and the toast to the bridesmaid and matron of honor was given by the best man.

Miss Elizabeth Williston, R.N., friend of the bride was in charge of the guests book. Mrs. Wm. Veno, aunt of the bride, and Miss A. Brown, cousin of the groom, presided over the tea services with Mrs. Curtis Denton replenishing. Serviteurs were Mrs. Elmer Lewis, Mrs. Nelson Merritt, Mrs. Sheldon Merritt, Mrs. Ernest McCullough, Mrs. Rodney Denton, Misses Linda Morehouse, Marsha Lewis, Susan Trask and Margaret Ann Gidney.

After the reception the bride and groom left on a motoring trip through various parts of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. For travelling the bride chose a suit of flamingo wool boucle, a navy wedding ring hat and wore a corsage of white roses. The bride is a graduate nurse of the St. John General Hospital, the groom is employed with the New Brunswick Hydro Commission. They will be residing in New Brunswick. Attending the wedding were guests from St. John, Fredericton and Springfield, New Brunswick; Kentville and Digby, N. S.

Rice - Bohaker

A quiet wedding was solemnized at St. Luke's Anglican Church, Annapolis Royal, Tuesday, March 6th when Barbara June, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bohaker of Granville Beach was united in Holy Matrimony to Robert James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Rice of Granville Ferry. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. J. McMahon.

The bride looked lovely in a ballerina length dress of aqua chiffon, with white accessories and a corsage of white mums. The groom was attended by Linus Hamman of Annapolis Royal.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Manning Raffuse. Delightful refreshments were served and the couple received many useful gifts. They will reside in Annapolis.

Comeau - Jordan

Sheila Mary Jordan, daughter of Edna Jordan and the late Archibald Jordan of Marshalltown, was united in marriage to Murray Raymond Comeau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morris Comeau, Weymouth North, at St. Croix Church, Plympton, on March 24th.

The bride wore a street length dress of blue nylon and a white flower hat, and white accessories.

Her sister, Miss Lorna Jordan, wore a street length dress of pink spot brocade, Jimmie

SO THIS IS NATIONAL LAUGH WEEK

Since the Jackers killed all the deer last fall
Now we don't even need a hunting season.

And there's no need to worry about Russian bombs
Because the target is going to get us first!

And now the rain has washed out everything,
So we don't have to observe National Clean-up Week.

And everyone is trying to slip a disc,
Since we've all gone "Twist" crazy.

Speaking of the twist, the store hours are so twisted
You have to make an appointment to buy a loaf of bread.

Business has been so quiet we can hear our Bank note drawing interest, so what in ---- is there to laugh about.

But we are open all week - Just for laughs whatever your needs.

Acadians Oppose Separatist Plan, Says Belliveau

The Acadians of the Maritime Provinces were opposed to the separatist movement of the province of Quebec, seeing it as dangerous not only to other Canadians of French origin but to Canada as a whole, Dr. Pierre Belliveau (L.-Clare) told the Nova Scotia Legislature.

"So many of our traditions are like those of Quebec that we would hate to be hit by this extremist idea and be separated in any way from the large province," he said, and urged, "on the eve of the 100th anniversary of Confederation, let us be united as never before."

"It is too risky to have any dissensions," in the face of world tensions, Dr. Belliveau urged the people of Quebec not to take a backward step, "because it is easier to foment disorders than to stop them."

Dr. Belliveau urged support for a Home and School Association resolution, presented to the provincial government recently and calling for the teaching of French in the beginning grades in school. He made his address in both English and French.

"Who can convince me that bilingualism is not a goal to attain," he said, and denied that studying of English would have to be neglected in the attempt to master French.

"Many who use only one language are far from being experts in the use of it," he said. "There are so many similarities in French and English that a more thorough knowledge of the one seems easier if you know the other."

"Whether we want it or not, Canada has first been settled by two races and French was the first language of civilized inhabitants to be spoken in Nova Scotia," he said, and asked, "should it not yet be a recognized language in this province where part of the population has been using it continually since the first settlers came?"

Speaking of the needs of his constituency, the Clare member urged the highways department to make improvements at Meteghan River, where, he said, the shipyard was expanding and was "right on the highway."

"Something has to be done soon to determine exactly what is highway and what is shipyard, so as not to inconvenience either one," he said. He had seen a survey team at the bridge in Meteghan River and expressed hope that it meant the construction of a new bridge.

He urged some action to encourage new industry in Clare, "as we are exporting part of our population" as well as help for farmers and fishermen and expressed hope that there would be some improvement in the tuna fishing situation at Wedgeport and Cape St. Mary. (Chronicle-Herald)

Marks 25th Year In Priesthood

Rev. Francois L. d'Entremont, president of St. Ann's College, of Church Point, celebrated his twenty-fifth anniversary of his ordination to the priesthood on February 28. A special mass was celebrated in the college Chapel at 4 o'clock in the afternoon with His Excellency Mgr. Albert Lemenager, Bishop of Yarmouth, attending. Most of the clergy of Clare assisted at the mass and those from outside the area were Rev. McCluskey, Superior of Holy Heart Seminary, of Halifax; Rev. Father Bourque, President of St. Louis University of Edmundston, N. B.; Rev. Father Leopold Laplante, of the Sacred Heart University, of Bathurst, N. B.

Rev. F. d'Entremont was assisted by his cousin, Rev. Leopold d'Entremont, pastor of Concorde's Hill, Yarmouth Co., and Rev. Louis Theriault, pastor at Middleton. A reception was held at the college parlor where many friends of the President of St. Ann's congratulated him.

Rev. d'Entremont was born in West Pubnico, the son of the late William and Mrs. Barbara d'Entremont. He completed his studies in the village school of his home town and then entered College Saint Laurent in Montreal and following his completion of studies there, he entered the English Order of priesthood seminary in Charlesbourg in Quebec. He was ordained in 1937 and he entered on the staff of the Sacred Heart University at Bathurst, N. B. In 1941 he was transferred to Saint Jean des Ecoles College in Quebec and in 1942 he returned to Bathurst. He became professor of theology in 1944 at Holy Heart Seminary in Halifax and in 1950 he became professor of philosophy at Saint Louis University at Edmundston, N. B. Finally in 1957 he was transferred to Church Point, where he became assistant to the President of St. Ann's College.

Involved In Staff Changes

In view of the possibility of Britain entering the European Common Market, and in view of the change in the marketing pattern which may result as a consequence of such a move, the Government of the Province of Nova Scotia today took steps to investigate such a possibility and to ascertain its probable effect upon the marketing of natural products produced in this province.

This it did, advises the Hon. E. D. Haliburton, Minister of Agriculture and Marketing, through the selection and appointment of Dr. F. W. Walsh, Deputy Minister of Agriculture and Marketing, as Special Markets Advisor. Dr. Walsh, recognized as one of Canada's outstanding authorities and exponents of orderly marketing, will relinquish his position of Deputy Minister upon taking over his new responsibilities and his overseas assignment, effective April 1st.

As a successor to Dr. Walsh as Deputy Minister, the Government, says Mr. Haliburton, has chosen one of the senior staff members of the Department of Agriculture and Marketing, S. E. Lewis, Director of Immigration and Land Settlement Services, and Chairman of the Nova Scotia Land Settlement Board.

Mr. Lewis, in turn, will be succeeded by Dr. W. A. Jenkins, Associate Director of Extension, whose promotion and appointment as Director of Immigration and Land Settlement and Chairman of the Land Settlement Board has also been announced, by Mr. Haliburton, as being effective April 1st.

All three men involved are graduates of the Nova Scotia Agricultural College, Dr. Walsh graduating in 1917, Mr. Lewis in 1922, and Dr. Jenkins in 1938.

"Dr. Walsh's first assignment," said Mr. Haliburton, "will involve an analysis of possible trading changes which may take place with the entry of Britain into the European Common Market community. Such an entry is bound to have an effect upon the primary producers in Nova Scotia particularly those engaged in the production of agricultural products, lumber, and fish and who, over the years, have been accustomed to placing the production of their orchards, forests and sea upon the markets of both the United Kingdom and continental Europe.

"Other purposes of Dr. Walsh's fact finding mission, upon which he will embark next month, will be to expand the markets for Nova Scotia natural products; to make a study of up to date agricultural production methods as practised in overseas countries; and, to make a study of the agricultural education systems employed in the training of young farmers for work on the land in Europe.

Pre Easter Services

Rev. Archie MacLellan of Little River will be the guest speaker at all five holy week services in the Weymouth area, April 16 to 20 inclusive.

Mr. MacLellan was born in N. Uist, on the north west of Scotland, of Highland parents, but was brought up in the city of Glasgow. For nine years he worked as a grocer. He continued his studies at night school during this period, and also conducted a bilingual mission (English and Gaelic) in Paisley for three and one half years. For two years he attended the Bible Training Institute of Glasgow, which had been founded by D. L. Moody. Upon receiving his call for foreign missionary service, he went to Nigeria, West Africa, in 1933, where he served for twenty one years. In 1959, while on furlough under the Sudan Interior Mission, he decided to remain in the homeland for an indefinite period for the sake of his children's education. For the past two and one half years he has laboured under the Maritime Baptist Convention in the Little River-Sandy Cove field.

Mr. MacLellan's subjects will be Monday, "What mean ye by this service", Tuesday, "Jehovah - Jireh", "The Lord will provide", Wednesday, "The Missionary Message of Easter", Thursday, "The Glory of the Cross", Friday "Is it nothing to you, all ye that pass by". All people are invited to these services.

Lobsters On Increase

Lobster prices in Yarmouth have dropped from 90 to 70 cents per pound. Slight increases in catches have been reported from all sections of Yarmouth and Digby counties so that with a greater number of fishermen operating, total catch should be good.

A. S. Smith, Yarmouth, who has been in the lobster business for 25 years, says that the catch is about 10 per cent better than last year.

A family of 14 was left homeless Wednesday when fire raged through a two-storey frame house at Salmon River, Digby County, ten miles from Meteghan.

Mr. and Mrs. Augustin De veau and their 10 children, one a cripple, managed to save only a few pieces of furniture as flames burned the house to the ground within half an hour.

"The house was already gone when we arrived," said a fireman from the Meteghan department which fought the blaze.

The house, owned by Mr.

Deveau's brother Frank, who also lived there with their 86-year-old mother, was not insured. Firemen estimated the loss at $2,000.

They said cause of the blaze was unknown, but it may have started in the chimney.

The children, who range in age from 2 to 16, were taken in by neighbors. Mrs. Emile Boudreau, wife of the disaster chairman of Meteghan Red Cross branch, sent bedding.

They don't know that they can start someone on the road to insanity or death that way. I know, because I've been near to both." Lillian Roth, famous actress and singer, author of "I'll Cry Tomorrow".

Vocational Evening Class Graduation

Since 1949 Vocational Evening Classes have been held in Digby, and on Monday evening, at 8 o'clock, Digby Regional High School was the scene of the 1962 graduation. Exercises were opened by Belden Powell, local administrator, who read his yearly report. It stated that total registration in October, 1961, was 59. There have been 11 drop-outs, leaving 48 registered at completion of the term. Of the 48 remaining 14 received certificates for successful completion of the three-year courses they have been studying. It was mentioned that Mr. Leslie Bacon, oxy-acetylene welding, had missed one evening in three years. His attendance was 131 of 135 sessions. Messrs. Eric Kinsman, Gordon Pulsifer, and Robert Thibault, Bookkeeping, and Mrs. Dorothy Warner, Home Sewing, received recognition for perfect attendance this year. The report stated that the staff for next year is complete to date. Congratulations were extended to Mr. Carl Warner on his new appointment. He was one of Mr. Elton Arnold's first graduates. Mr. Arnold is bookkeeping instructor for the classes.

Certificates of Merit were presented by Keith Raymond to Watson Peck, Mrs. Virginia Edna Shaw, Gordon Pulsifer and Sara Townsend. Graduation certificates were presented to Donald Ambault, Leslie Bacon, Denis Saulnier and Lloyd Speicht, in oxy-acetylene welding; to Mrs. Annie Cornwell, Mrs. Wilda Woodman, Mrs. Louella Haynes, and Mrs. Alice Brinton, in shorthand and typing; and to Mrs. Delma MacLean, Eric Kinsman, Mrs. Pauline Marshall, Mrs. Hilda Handsplaker, Eagle Hardy and Mrs. Pauline Robbins, in bookkeeping. Mr. Powell commended the graduates on their achievements and expressed hope that the present team of instructors, Mr. Victor Comeau, oxy-acetylene welding, Mrs. Barbara Kauback, shorthand and typing, Mr. Elton Arnold, bookkeeping, and Mrs. Marjorie Sabean, home sewing, would return another year.

Mr. F. C. Purdy, on behalf of the High School staff, and the School Board, congratulated the group. He then introduced the evening's speaker, Mr. Joseph Steadman, High School mathematics teacher in Digby, and well known real estate agent. In his address Mr. Steadman reminisced about education. He told of his experiences in the New Glasgow schools and how at one time he was a principal of F. C. Purdy. He compared the old wooden school building with the modern structures of today. It was in his childhood, he said, that a school was referred to as a place with dirty windows, well-worn soft wood floors, and pine board desks that seated three pupils. He recalled days of the flat-topped pot bellied wood stove in the centre of the room, the old water bucket, the up-to-date outside plumbing. He told of his four years as janitor, at $1.00 per year, when there were no plows, no buses, no gyms, and the three r's comprised the structure of school lessons. Then came smaller classes and compulsory education.

The speaker complimented Mr. Purdy and Mr. Powell, making special mention of their achievements; and in closing congratulated the graduates. He said that it required backbone and initiative to attend through slush and snow so that they may receive their graduation certificates. Mr. Purdy thanked Mr. Steadman for his message, and for his guidance throughout the years at the Digby schools.

At the close of the ceremonies refreshments were served by the ladies.

To Give Organ Recital

On the evening of April 16, at 8 p.m., music lovers in Digby and vicinity will have the pleasure of listening to an Organ Recital in the Baptist Church, given by the Rev. T. Edgar Roberts (above) of Western Canada.

For a time Mr. Roberts was organist of the First Baptist Church in Calgary, and also was the Director of the Canadian Pacific Male Voice Choir, and under his direction these choirs achieved an extremely high standard in festival competitions. He was born in Wales, of the kind of musical family for which the Welsh are famous. His father was seven times named as winning conductor in the Welsh National Choral Festival.

Coming to Canada as a young man, Mr. Roberts soon established himself as a musician of outstanding ability. For some years he was the Staff Musician for a number of radio stations in Western Canada. Some of his distinctive piano and organ stylings have been commercially recorded and sold.

Some of the selections for the Organ Recital on Monday night will include: The Alleluia from Mozart; Trumpet Voluntary by Purcell; The Holy City by Adams; Largo by Handel; Hymn Transcriptions; Jesus, Joy of Man's Desiring by Bach.

The Recital itself will be preceded by a brief worship service conducted by the pastor of the church, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, and the guest recitalist will be introduced by Rev. L. R. Atkinson. A large gathering of listeners is anticipated.

Tax Rate Up Six Cents

The town of Digby has set the tax rate for 1962 at 3.34. This is an increase of 6 cents on a hundred dollar assessment over 1961. The rate was struck at the adjourned April meeting of the Town Council on Wednesday night. The school tax increased from 1.26% in 1961 to 1.30% in 1962. General tax increased from 2.01% in 1961 to 2.03% in 1962. Total expenditures for 1962 have been estimated at $173,466.04. Total net assessment is $4,022,590 which will yield $6,237.09 from real, and $8,117.42 personal property, it is expected at the new rate of $3.34. Total taxes, it is thought, will yield $14,893.00. Expected revenue other than taxes, $9,111.53. Estimated to be collected from parking meters is $3,500.00. On the estimated expenditures $2,465.51 is appropriated for social welfare; public works, $27,894; protection to persons and property, $24,120.00; health, $8,200; joint and special expenditure, $6,711.00. Total estimate for debt charges is $17,277.50 which includes $12,497.50 for school purposes. In addition Digby Recreation Commission debentures of $500.00 and debenture interests of $1,190.00, with a total of $5,690.00 are included in the estimation and will be paid in 1962.

Current taxes paid before May 31 will have allowed a discount of 2 per cent. After July 31 interest of 6 per cent will be charged.

Mrs. Dewaard Addresses Group

The regular monthly meeting of the Digby Lionettes was held at the Lions Hall on April 5th.

At this meeting Mrs. Peter Dewaard, of Bear River, gave an interesting talk on Physical Fitness. In accordance with this talk the Lionettes are sponsoring Physical Fitness Classes at the Hotel Champlain every Monday. These classes are being conducted by Mrs. Dewaard, who was trained in this field in her native country, Holland. All ladies are cordially welcome to attend.

A very successful Ice Carnival was held again this year under the sponsorship of the Lionettes. Many thanks to Miss Susan Stoddart, who trained the children for the Carnival. A donation of $60 was made to the Rink Commission from the proceeds of the show.

A Bridge Party is being planned by the Lionettes, to be held in May. The exact date has not yet been set.

Every step of progress is a step more spiritual. — Mary Baker Eddy.

Visions Of The Wild West

Ken Brokenshire, a P2 in the Navy at HMCS Cornwallis, kept excitement at a peak in Digby on Monday night when he held the RCMP at bay for a few hours with the use of a rifle.

The situation arose when town police went to enquire into a disturbance at his home on Sydney Street. Mr. Brokenshire allegedly took a rifle and forcefully escorted the men to the street. A series of rifle shots brought the town to life, and within minutes a number of spectators gathered around the vicinity of the Town Hall to watch proceedings. He fired a total of four shots, two in the vicinity of the harbour, and the other two at the Town Hall.

Within a few hours Mr. Brokenshire fell asleep and according to Digby RCMP, authorities entered the house and made the arrest. He was taken to the Digby jail.

He was charged before Justice of the Peace, Delbert Forrest, here Tuesday. Digby Police Chief, Webster Dunn, said Brokenshire, 30, was charged with shooting with intent to wound and was remanded until April 17, when he will appear before Magistrate Charles LeBrun.

During the fracas the man's wife and three children, ranging in age from 10 months to three years, also were in the house. None was harmed, the Chief said.

Garden Club Plans Spring Program

The Admiral Digby Horticultural Society was entertained for its April meeting at Hedley House, where a full attendance and a full program of business and entertainment provided an outstanding evening. This was brought to a fitting climax by a beautiful and beautiful buffet served at the conclusion of the program.

Spring planning was the keynote of all committee reports, and covered a broad scope of community beautification. The report of the Tree Planting Committee, as drawn up under the guidance of Mr. Jankov, Nova Scotia landscape advisor, was received and adopted, requiring only permission from Ottawa for planting around the Post Office before the whole program can be put into effect. Recommendations regarding the Post Office included the planting of three trees — Red Pine, Maple and Mountain Ash — behind the building and two Lindens at the front corners, also the planting of Boston Ivy to cover the brick walls. The tree planting program also includes the addition of a Red Pine and a Spruce near the band stand and three trees at the front of the school grounds on King Street. In conclusion, it was the intention of the committee to invite the owners of new homes in town to attend a meeting at which they might discuss Mr. Jankov's suggestions regarding suitable trees for modern home landscaping.

The Welcome Sign Garden Project was endorsed for the coming season, and it was left with the standing committee, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Berwick, to order seedlings and carry on the regular maintenance work. Mr. Kenneth Beckwith reported suggestions for improvements, including more perennials for the upper rock garden and the addition of a bed of bright flowers in the lawn facing the Welcome Sign.

Mr. Wilfred Comeau reported on the Loyalist Cemetery Project, which will again be carried on under his supervision. Spring plans include the moving of the "Princess Margaret" Oak tree to a suitable location in the cemetery, following advice from the C.P.R. that they can (Please turn to page 7)

Attend Course In Kentville

Groups from Digby, Yarmouth, Lunenburg, Annapolis and Hants counties attended a two-day Radiological Defence Training course in Radiation Monitoring, held at the Dominion Research Station, Kentville, last weekend.

Those from Digby were Vernon VanTassell and Murray Baxter, from the Fire Department; Graham Saunders of the local Civil Defence organization; and Fred Stoddard, stay technician at the Digby General Hospital.

The instructors included J. A. Orlik, Civil Defence Training Officer for Nova Scotia; C. A. Hayes, Research Officer, Agricultural Research Station, Kentville; M. C. McKenzie, of the technical staff at the Research Station, and Sgt. A. W. Pugh, of the Army's Black Watch Regiment. Also present was J. W. Machum, Controller of Zone No. 1.

The first day consisted mostly of classroom lectures, and on Sunday exercises, with the practical use of machines, were carried out at Camp Aldershot.

A Civil Defence Orientation Course will be held at Hotel Champlain commencing on April 14th, at 9 a.m., and continuing through April 15th. This is an important course on general C.D. planning, and it is hoped that all persons as committee heads, as well as anyone interested, will make themselves available to attend. It will make overall planning much easier and help greatly by giving a better insight into Civil Defence organization.

Via Seaplane To Halifax

Friday morning, around 9 a.m., an RCAF seaplane landed in Westport harbour and tied up to a lobster car, to await the arrival of Mr. Gordon Dakin, who was to be taken to Camp Hill Hospital, Halifax.

Mr. Dakin was brought to the public wharf by Mr. Albert Bailey, transferred to stretcher and placed on the stern of M.V. Charlie Boy II, and taken out to the plane. Mrs. Dakin accompanied him to Halifax.

Crowds of people gathered to watch the plane, a spectacle not very often seen in this area, being only the second time that one has landed in Westport harbour.

More Than 20 Donations

Above, Miss Louise Daley, right, is being presented a citation in recognition of twenty-two donations of blood. The citation said "this example of generosity and self sacrifice is worthy of all praise and beyond all price. From such a magnificent gift will come new life for many of our fellow Canadians."

The presentation was made on Wednesday afternoon at the Red Cross work room by Russell Stonehouse, centre, Blood Donor Committee chairman of the Digby Lions Club, the sponsoring body. Missing from the picture is Buddy Barr, who also has given twenty-two donations of blood.

To the left is Mrs. Raymond, president of the Digby Branch Canadian Red Cross, who presided at the meeting when the presentation was made. Mrs. Lent stressed the importance of blood donations and expressed appreciation to the Lions Club for sponsoring the clinics. She mentioned that there were expectations at the last clinic of 400 donors but only 252 had donated. She reminded those present that the next clinic would be held April 17.

Tea was served at the close of the meeting to workers and guests who had been invited to see the presentation.

Calendar Of Events In Digby

The Nova Scotia Travel Bureau last week released a calendar listing special events for the province during 1962. Conventions scheduled for Digby during the summer are: Nova Scotia Dental Society convention, June 21-23; Maritime Wholesale Hardware convention, June 21-27; Nova Scotia Barristers convention, June 28-30; Atlantic Provinces Auto Dealers convention, July 1-4; Nova Scotia Pharmaceutical Society convention, July 4-6; Canadian Construction Association convention, July 7-10; and Maritime Professional Engineers convention, September 5-8.

In addition to the events listed there are numerous other attractions of interest to travellers to this area.

Digby Board Of Trade Has Busy Meeting

One of the most important matters to be placed before the Digby Board of Trade on Tuesday evening was that regarding better wharfage facilities. (Story on another column.)

Ladies were read from the Kentville Board of Trade and the Annapolis Board endorsing the resolution of Digby Board to have Digby port a terminus for the proposed 2nd New England — Nova Scotia ferry. A letter was also read from Hon. George Nowlan, who stated that nothing definite would probably be done about the ferry for some time as the matter was still in the stage of preliminary discussion. The secretary advised that the municipal council of Digby had also forwarded a resolution re the proposed boat similar to that of the Digby Town Council and Trade Board.

The Board on Tuesday night ratified the action of members of the executive in supporting a move to have a regraded casting station set up at Bay View. The matter had been placed before the Board by the town council, which body also supported plans by Finley MacDonald of Halifax T. V. station to get permission to erect a station at Bay View known as channel 6, similar to the regrading station No. 10 at Canning.

A letter was read from the Saint John Board of Trade offering support in a Digby Board project some months previous regarding an air strip for landing light aircraft near Digby. The secretary was advised to write the Saint John Board thanking them for their support and bringing them up to date on action which had been taken by the Digby Board. A committee consisting of Arthur Robinson, V. G. Cardozo and John Nichols had been in touch with the (Please turn to page 7)

Made Queen's Scouts

John Brittain, Ian Anderson and Frank Ayer were among the ninety-two Queen's Scouts from all parts of Nova Scotia who were presented with their parchments by Lieutenant-Governor E. C. Plow at the annual Queen's Scout recognition ceremony, held Saturday in the ballroom of the Lord Nelson Hotel, Halifax.

The Lieutenant-Governor said he felt that the Scout movement was fulfilling its purpose. Mr. Plow was elected patron of the Association and Rt. Hon. J. L. Halsey, Chief Justice of Nova Scotia, became honorary president.

It was reported that a total of $42,703.62 was spent on the Scout movement in Nova Scotia during the past year. Revenue was $47,713.89, bringing the excess of revenue over expenses for the year 1961 to $2,010.27. Excess of revenue for the previous year amounted to only $419.00.

The total Scout population in Nova Scotia in 1961 was 14,213, 296 more than in 1960. The number of Scouts increased from 1,359 in 1961, indicating improvement in the coverage of work.

R. D. Evans, provincial commissioner, said in his annual report that 78 camps with a total of 2,239 boys were registered in the year 1961. Those from Digby who attended the ceremonies were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brittain, Mrs. E. H. Anderson, Miss Louise Anderson, Miss Carolyn Arnold and Mr. and Mrs. James Ayer.

93 Years

Friends and relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ingram Dakin, Centreville, on Sunday, March 31, occasion being Mr. Dakin's 93rd birthday. The party was arranged by his grand daughter, Mrs. Frank Titus.

Although in good health on Sunday to enjoy his special day, it is understood that Mr. Dakin has been confined to bed during the week.

The industry would stand still while competitors took advantage. (Please turn to page 7)

Marshalltown During Storm

High winds and rain played havoc throughout the entire province last week. The above picture to the left shows the marshland at the head of St. Mary's Bay, which was flooded at an estimated 10 foot depth by water coming down from Budd's Brook. Had any cattle be grazing on the marshland, the result could have been even more disastrous. To the right you see a portion of the Marshalltown and Digby Neck highway where a bridge was almost washed out and the road badly gullied.

THE SOLE OF DELIGHT

Most Canadians consume very little fish during the course of the year. Yet many a returning tourist has raved with-out end about the wonderful cuisine in Scandinavia, France and Spain where some of the most succulent dishes are based on fish.

The prejudices against fish are many, but unfounded. The housewife may not like the bones or odor of the fish, or she isn't too sure how to cook it. Actually it is as easy to buy, clean and bone fish nowadays as it is a plucked chicken, and fish that isn't overcooked doesn't smell. As for cooking fish, chefs tell us there are two basic rules that apply to the preparation of all fish. The fish should be cooked gently, overcooking makes fish tough and dry, and it should be seasoned with discretion as the delicate flavor of fish can easily be overwhelmed.

With this in mind, here is a recipe for Rolled Stuffed Fillets of Sole, a dish to delight the most discerning gourmet during Lent or any other season. The fish fillets are rectangle. Preheat oven 350 rolled around a flavorful, deg. F. (moderate).

bread crumb stuffing mixture. Chop the fish trimmings; add bread crumbs, salt, pepper, onion, parsley, 1 egg and 1 tablespoon lemon juice; combine lightly but thoroughly. The wine used in this dish adds its own inimitable flavor but its use is not imperative.

Rolls Stuffed Fillets of Sole

Yield: 6 servings
2 pounds fresh or frozen fillets of sole (or other suitable fish)
1 cup coarse soft bread crumbs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
1 egg
1 tablespoon lemon juice
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
2 tablespoons white wine or water
1/2 cup water
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon corn starch
1 tablespoon white wine or water
1 egg
Paprika

Thaw the fish if it has been frozen. Spread out the fillets and trim each one into a neat or. You will find these loaves make a tempting different breakfast toast or lunch box sandwiches.

Cracked Wheat Bread

Yield: 2 loaves

2 cups cold water
3 tablespoons brown sugar
1 cup cracked wheat
1/2 cup lukewarm water
2 teaspoons granulated sugar
2 envelopes active dry yeast or 2 cakes compressed yeast
4 1/2 teaspoons salt
5 1/2 cups (about) once sifted all purpose flour
1/2 cup soft shortening

Measure cold water into a rather small bowl; stir in brown sugar and cracked wheat. Set aside for 2 or 3 hours to soften cracked wheat.

Measure lukewarm water in a large bowl; stir in the 2 teaspoons granulated sugar. Sprinkle or crumble with yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, then stir well. Stir in cracked wheat mixture, salt and 2 1/2 cups of the flour. Beat until smooth and elastic. Add and beat in soft shortening. Work in sufficient additional flour to make a soft dough, about 3 cups more. Turn out on floured board or canvas and knead until smooth and elastic (this will require a little more kneading than white bread).

Place in greased bowl, grease top, cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 1 1/2 hours. Punch down dough. Turn out on lightly floured board or canvas and knead until smooth. Divide dough into 2 equal portions, shape each portion into a smooth ball. Cover with a tea towel and let rest 10 minutes. Shape each ball of dough into a loaf and place in a greased loaf pan (4 1/2 x 8 1/2 inches, top inside measure). Grease tops. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 45 minutes. Bake in a hot oven (400°F.) 40 to 45 minutes, covering the bread with a sheet of brown paper if it darkens too quickly.

Marriage

Gillis - Guest

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of the bride, March 21, at 7 p.m., when Anna Dale, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Guest of Parker's Cove became the bride of Calvin Archibald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gillis of Dalhousie Centre. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. B. R. Hamilton.

The bride looked lovely in a ballerina length gown of white nylon with over lace panels and a lace bodice trimmed with white sequins. The tapered sleeves came to a point over the wrists. She wore a matching tiara and a veil of nylon net studded with seed pearls. A single strand pearl necklace and pearl teardrop earrings were her only ornaments. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Miss Ruth Hudson, cousin of the bride was bridesmaid. She wore a street length gown of pink nylon over taffeta with a lace bolero. Her corsage was of pink and white carnations. The groom was supported by Mr. Lloyd Durling of Dalhousie.

A buffet luncheon was served at the reception which was held at the Parker's Cove School Auditorium with about one hundred and fifty guests present.

The bridal party was served by Mrs. Bert Ramey, sister of the groom, Mrs. Edwin Gillis, sister-in-law of the groom and Miss Judy Clayton. Relatives of the bride were in charge of the luncheon, Miss Jeanne Fox was in charge of the guest book.

For going away, the bride wore a navy blue double knit suit trimmed with white and white accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

The happy couple left for a short honeymoon trip through the valley and will reside in Dalhousie Centre where they purchased a new home.

More Women

For Army

Lt. Col. C. R. MacLellan, MC, CD, Commanding Officer of the West Nova Scotia Regiment has announced that the regiment is now conducting a stepped up recruiting campaign for female members to join the Canadian Women's Army Corps attached to the "West Novies." To date the response has been good and already a number of applicants are being processed.

Styles change over the years and members of the Canadian Women's Army Corps report that this season young women's fancy seem to be turning to Khaki. Over the recent years enlistment in this popular corps has been somewhat restricted in certain trades but now new opportunities are being offered without lowering the standards. The establishment for the C. W. A. C. in the West Nova Scotia Regiment has been TRIPLED. There is interesting employment in many fields and a real job to be done once more in releasing reserve force soldiers for heavier duty. National Survival training is becoming more widespread and as the men learn the tougher re-entry and rescue work the girls can help out with clerking and other office tasks, signals, cooking, medical and dental assistance and a dozen other trades. Training for the C. W. A. C. members of the West Nova Scotia Regiment attached to "C" Coy of Cornwallis will take place on Wednesday evening once a week.

If she does not have experience in one of the above trades, training can be obtained if the recruit is otherwise suitable. At present there are 35 officers and 540 other ranks in the Atlantic Provinces but under the new regulations and stepped up recruiting these members could swell to about 1,500. The C. W. A. C. members attached to the "West Novies" can attend Summer training at Camp Aldershot from June 23 to July 7 and all recruits joining before May 24, 1962 will be eligible to attend. Applicants for enlistment must be between 18 and 45 years of age, single or married with grade 8 education and should apply immediately to the West Nova Scotia Regiment Headquarters at Deep Brook, Cornwallis Naval Base on Wednesday evenings.

Music should never be painful to the ear but should flatter and charm it, and thereby always remain music. — Mozart.

Giving does not impoverish us in the service of our Maker, neither does withholding enrich us. — Mary Baker Eddy.

All the sounds of the earth are like music. — Oscar Hammerstein II.

Letter to the Editor

24 William Street,
Homer, N. Y.

Editor,
The Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.

My Dear Mrs. Wallis:-
The writer has been an appreciative recipient of the Courier for the past month or so due to the generosity of Miss Oda Van Blarcom of Barton. I believe I am a native of Nova Scotia, having been born in Weymouth some 63 years ago, the son of Annie and Boyd MacNeill and the brother to Victor MacNeill the incumbent Registrar of Deeds for Digby Co. and also an ex-member of the Weymouth contingent of the C. E. Forces during World War I.

In my childhood I was a frequent visitor in Digby as a guest of Will and Annie Van Blarcom. My aunt and uncle, I remember many visits to the Courier during my many trips to Digby. Being an ardent trout fisherman I have been wondering if the dam building activities on the headwaters of the Sissiboo River have created any havoc on the excellent trout streams in that area. During my boyhood I made many trips to fish such streams as Grand Lake Rapids, Chub Brook, 3rd and 4th Rapids and Beaver Brook at the foot of 4th Lake where I helped in the Construction of Gov. Foster's camp, the then Gov. of New Brunswick.

I had the privilege in those early days of numbering among my friends such famous guides as Ned Sullivan, one of the greatest and Brum Hill and Ned's brother, Tim Sullivan.

I made many trips in the woods in the company of Uncle Will Van Blarcom, my dad and Harry Smith, a late sheriff of Digby County.

I think your records will show that my dad was a successful competitor in the Guides Regatta an early Digby attraction. He competed in fly casting and rifle shooting.

Since I am bed ridden as a result of a stroke suffered Christmas Eve 1961, I look forward to the weekly arrival of the Courier and would like to extend my thanks to Oda Van for her thoughtfulness in having it sent to me. The Weymouth items are avidly scanned for news of my family and friends. So please keep up your good work and keep the Courier coming and thanks for reading this far.

Would you per chance know the present address of Susie Van Blarcom, the daughter of Will Van Blarcom and my cousin whom I have not seen since my return from overseas in 1919. I would like to get in touch with her. I think she is in Halifax.

Again many thanks for the Courier and the many pleasant hours it has afforded me. With best wishes for your continued success and future happiness, I am,

Sincerely yours,
John S. MacNeill.

A black and white illustration of a anthropomorphic rabbit, likely a character from a classic cartoon. The rabbit is depicted from the chest up, facing slightly to the left but looking towards the viewer. It wears a tall, dark top hat and a formal tuxedo with a white shirt and a dark bow tie. A large, light-colored star-shaped brooch is pinned to the center of the bow tie. The rabbit's right hand is raised, with its index finger pointing upwards and its other fingers slightly curled. Its left hand holds a dark cane, which is positioned diagonally across its body. The rabbit has large, upright ears and a friendly expression with a slight smile. The illustration uses heavy black lines and cross-hatching for shading, giving it a classic, woodcut-like appearance.

CLUB PLAN SPRING WORK ON POOL

The monthly meeting of the Bear River Road Community Club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Marshall with twelve members present. Two new members were welcomed into the club by the president, Mrs. Easterly Sloan Jr.

At this meeting plans were made to continue with the work on the community swimming pool. Plans were made to run a cement walk and put a fence around the pool. The fence will be all the way around the pool bordering the cement walk with a gate at one end where a tub of water will be set in the cement through which everyone will walk when entering the pool. This will avoid the carrying of dirt and gravel into the pool by the feet and so help to keep the pool clean. A new dam will be built so that fresh water will be running into the pool all the time. It was also decided to paint the pool, this too will help in keeping the pool clean as well as adding to the appearance of the pool. Plans were also made to start on the landscaping of the pool area.

It was decided not to use the trailer in town on Saturday nights as in previous years. Instead the club hopes to find new ways to raise money to use on the swimming pool, such as quilting, pantry sales, etc., starting with a May Day sale of bulbs, shrubs and transplants as well as home cooking.

At the end of the business meeting refreshments, which included a decorated anniversary cake, marking the 4th anniversary of the club, was

NDP Provisional Committee Named

At a meeting of interested citizens held in Lawrencetown recently, Murray A. Bent of Middleton was named chairman and Mrs. Lillian Henshaw of Deep Brook secretary of a provisional committee of the New Democratic Party for the 1962 constituency. The meeting was held in the room of the Provincial Secretary of the party, Allan O'Brien, at the Digby and Port Road Hotel.

Other members of the committee named were George Goudie, New Minas, George Turner, Kentville, Russell Leach, Grandville and Louis Bode, Upper Clements. The duties of the committee include making contact with other members and calling an organizing meeting to establish the party organization. The committee met last week and has arranged a general meeting of supporters to be held Thursday, April 12th at Annapolis Royal Community Centre at 8 p.m.

At this meeting, Ralph Loomer, vice chairman of the Nova Scotia Committee of the party and other executive members will take part in the program. The committee elected by this meeting will have the responsibility of promoting organization of a nominating convention and the election campaign.

The party has announced it will run a full slate of candidates in the province, and has nominating conventions planned for this month in several constituencies.

Entertains At Hospital

Last Friday evening Rambert Doug Foley, rodeo recording artist, entertained at the Victoria General Hospital, Digby, by special request of Captain Angus Walters, who is a patient there.

The skipper of the racing vessel Bluehouse, most famous of Canadian ships, especially asked for the selection "Queen of the Sea", a new song written by Doug, and to be recorded by Doug within the next week. The record will also feature Joan Farnell, of Digby; George Beck, bass violin; and Chuck Lohnes, electric steel guitar. The flip side of the record is entitled "Maple on the Hill".

At the end of the business meeting refreshments, which included a decorated anniversary cake, marking the 4th anniversary of the club, was

Dr. Armstrong Addresses Group

A general meeting of the Digby County Ratepayers' Association was held at the Court House, Digby, on Monday evening. The main reason for the meeting was to read the answer of the Warden of the Municipality in response to a brief submitted by the ratepayers' association to the Municipal Council at the January session.

The brief stated in part that they were dissatisfied at the way the Appeal Board functioned and wanted a different and better type of appeal board personnel. It recommended that all county business involving public funds over $2500 should be advertised by tender in the local press; and that the Municipality take advantage of the winter works program which they have not done in the past. It also asked that the deplorable condition of the roads be given to non-profit groups who wanted to do the work for the community.

Other members of the committee named were George Goudie, New Minas, George Turner, Kentville, Russell Leach, Grandville and Louis Bode, Upper Clements. The duties of the committee include making contact with other members and calling an organizing meeting to establish the party organization. The committee met last week and has arranged a general meeting of supporters to be held Thursday, April 12th at Annapolis Royal Community Centre at 8 p.m.

University Head Guest Of Society

The Yarmouth County Historical Society was honoured by having as its guest speaker on Friday evening, Rev. Mr. Lloyd F. D'Entremont, Superior of the University of St. Anne's College, Church Point, and the only Yarmouth County native ever to have become a University head.

Introduced by Vice President T. A. M. Kirk, himself the holder of an Honorary Doctorate from St. Anne's, Fr. D'Entremont, in a most able and instructive address, traced the history of the institution from its beginnings in the tiny parochial tutoring of the revered Fr. Siroigne, about 1800, to the highly regarded University of today with its tremendous and invaluable impact upon the lives and status of the Acadian people.

The president, Mrs. E. H. Spinney, on behalf of those present expressed the Society's appreciation of Fr. D'Entremont attending and delivering such a valuable address, following which he was guest of honor at the Society's social hour.

DRHS Highways And Byways

Last Thursday noon hour the high school gymnasium was again the scene of an inter-house debate between the Silverdarts and the Miamees. The affirmative of the resolution "That benevolent autocracy is the best form of government" was upheld by the Miamees with the Silverdarts taking the negative. The judges, Miss G. Vincent, Mr. D. Wallace and Mr. F. L. Pigot, voted unanimously for the Silverdarts which consisted of Marilyn Atkinson, Henry Lewis Jr. and Carolyn Arnold. The Miamees were composed of Sharon Morehouse, Pat Doucet and John Jay.

On Saturday, April 7th, the Junior Boys basketball team competed in the tournament at Auburn and Greenwood. The scores for the games which Digby played were: Digby 16, Barrington 39; Digby 15, Berwick 52; Digby 19, Middleton 38.

Units Meet

Unit 1, U.C.W., met at the home of Mrs. Oakley Turnbull at 2:30 p.m. on Tuesday, April 10th, with 11 members present.

Mrs. W. Clayton, of Bay View, was in charge of the worship programme, which was on the "Lenten Theme". Mrs. Frank Wilson read the scripture. Mrs. Clayton gave a summary from "Hasten the Day".

During the meeting the members worked on quilt patches. Yarn was distributed for knitting.

The hostess served a cake in honor of Mrs. Marjorie Denton's birthday. Mrs. Vincent Snow assisted the hostess.

A routine meeting of Unit II was held at the home of Mrs. Charles Fitt.

Plans were made for the next meeting, to be held at the home of Mrs. A. J. Dillon on May 8th.

CGIT Affiliates

At a meeting of the Women's Missionary Society held in the church hall last Thursday night, an affiliation service of the C.G.I.T. group of the Digby Baptist church with the W. M. S. was conducted by Mrs. Hugh Vincent, president of the Society. She was assisted in the service by Miss Arlene Wentzell, leader of the C.G.I.T. and Eleanor Burnham. Affiliation badges were presented to this year's new members of the C.G.I.T., namely, Gloria Joudrey, Linda Lewis, Linda Baxter, Barbara Olsen, Linda Burnham and Johanna Outhouse. A piano duet was played by Daneen Atkinson and Cheryl Woolaver. The pastor showed a set of slides depicting Baptist missionary work in Bolivia.

Before the close of the meeting refreshments were served. Two boys of the Baptist congregation of Digby, John Brittain and Ian Anderson, received Scout honors recently when they were presented with badges making them Queen Scouts. The presentations were made by Lieutenant Governor Plow of Nova Scotia. John is a member of the 1st Digby Troop, sponsored by the Baptist Church, while Ian is a member of the 1st Digby Troop, sponsored by the Baptist Church, while Ian is a member of the 1st Digby Troop, sponsored by the Baptist Church.

Pre-Easter services will be held in the Baptist Church of Digby on the evenings of April 19th and 20th, and at Hill Grove on the evening of April 18th.

Compares Girl Scouts & Guides

On Tuesday evening, April 10th, the Commissions, Guides, Brown Owls and members of the Local Association for Digby-Annapolis Division met at the Community Centre, Annapolis Royal, to meet Mrs. Foyette Latham, of Annapolis, Md., U.S.A. Mrs. R. A. Lawrence, Provincial Training Commission, introduced Mrs. Latham, who is on a tour of Quebec and four Maritime Provinces as a U.S. Girl Scout Observer. The trip is sponsored by the World Friendship Fund.

BEJEWELLED CAPE BLOMIDON

Cape Blomidon, in Nova Scotia, is bejewelled by the great tides of the Bay of Fundy, which cast amethyst at its foot.

The Indian God Glooscap lived on Blomidon, according to Miemac legend. He scattered jewels on the shores for his grandmother, Nogami. Amethyst, Jasper, agate, onyx and shalcedony are found there.

The language of tones belongs equally to all mankind, and melody is the absolute language in which the musician speaks to every heart. — Richard Wagner.

Easter Seals

Crippled Children know that Easter Seal gifts provide the chance that they need, the chance to improve and in some cases, even remove their physical disability.

The Easter Seal Campaign with an objective of $85,000 in Nova Scotia established for care and treatment of over 15,000 crippled children needs not just an individual, but a community effort to justify and pursue its purpose fervently and efficiently.

Your local Easter Seal service club, with its dedicated volunteers, looks to you as a community minded citizen for a contribution to the lives of others whose activities have been temporarily restricted through no fault of their own.

Since March 22nd, some 200,000 Easter Seal mailings have been entering homes, offices and factories searching for helpers of crippled children. For a number of years, Easter Seals have and still do guarantee to provide education, recreation and progressive health programmes which are channelled into a dynamic force for the crippled child and community betterment. In Digby the Easter Seal sale is sponsored by the Digby Kiwanis Club.

Bad Publicity Is Claimed

The Yarmouth Board of Trade last week heard complaints that bad publicity had been given eating places between Yarmouth and Digby on a CBC-TV program, Friday night. One person in town, it was said had become so irate that he had called the CBC at Halifax while the program was still on the air. The Board decided to ask the CBC for a copy of that portion of the script alleged to have been bad publicity.

Marriage

Oickle - Adams
The Deep Brook Baptist church was the scene of a lovely candle light service on Thursday evening when Sandra Augusta Adams, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric Adams, became the bride of Robert Wayne Oickle, son of Mrs. Lloyd Snowdale of Bryantville, Mass., and the late Lewis Oickle of Bear River. Rev. Dale MacTavish performed the double ring ceremony. The church was beautifully decorated with evergreen and cut flowers. The nuptial music was played by Mrs. Walter Lent of Bear River.

Mr. Walter Dittmars of Middleton and uncle of the bride sang before the service "God hath Not Promised" and during the signing of the register the "Wedding Prayer". Given in marriage by her father the bride chose a full length gown of white chantilly lace and nylon sheer over satin. The bodice of lace featured a scoop neckline embroidered with pearls and sequins with three quarter length sleeves also embroidered. The lace bouffant skirt slightly entrained in back. She wore a crown of seed pearls and elbow length veil of silk illusion with wide lace edging. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace gift of the groom, and carried a shower bouquet of red roses lily of the valley and trailing ivy.

Miss Janet Johnston of Halifax was maid of honor, wearing coral silk organza over taffeta, white headress and carrying a bouquet of white mums and pink sweetheart roses.

Junior bridesmaid, Elizabeth Moore, niece of the groom wore pale pink dotted sheer over taffeta matching rose headress, her bouquet was pink and yellow sweetheart roses and white mums.

Junior bridesmaid, Eileen Adams, cousin of the bride wore Lilac silk organza over taffeta and net, matching flower headress a bouquet of yellow sweetheart roses and white mums.

The best man was Raymond Moore Jr., brother in law of the groom and ushers were Robert and Richard Moore.

Following the ceremony a reception for 75 relatives and close friends was held in the church hall.

Receiving their guests with the bridal party were the parents of the bride and groom's mother.

The bride's mother chose black and white print dress with carnation, pink accessories corsage of pink rose buds and white carnations.

The groom's mother chose sheath style dress of blue with beige accessories, corsage of white carnations and yellow rosebuds.

The bride's table was centered by a three tier wedding cake and tall white candles in crystal holders. A buffet tea was served and toast to the bride was proposed by her uncle, F. Courtney Purdy, of Digby, responded to by the groom.

Mrs. Edwin Giffin of Middleton, cousin of the bride was in charge of the guest book.

Following the reception the happy couple left via Yarmouth for Bryantville, Mass., where they will reside. For travelling the bride chose suit of turquoise, dark brown borg jacket and black accessories, corsage of white carnations, yellow and pink rose buds.

The bride has been on the staff of Maritime Tel. and Tel. Co. Ltd., Digby, for the past two years. The groom is employed as a bookkeeper in the Inventory department of Estes Auto Parts in Brockton, Mass.

Out of town guests were from Halifax, Kingston, Kentville, Bridgetown, Middleton, Bear River, Digby, Yarmouth and Bryantville, Mass.

Money is like an arm or a leg, use it or lose it. — Henry Ford.

A THOUGHT STARTER

Ronald C. MacCormack
A Surplus Where It Counts

Look around. Everywhere there is abundance. Our way of life has produced so much of everything that we can't use it all. What about money, someone may ask? Even here, we have more than people on any other continent, or in any other age of man's history.

There is an abundance of the intangibles also, such as freedom, and mental security.

as contrasted with other Lands and Ages.

All of this is excellent, but still there is something more. The soul of man cries out for reality in the world of the Spirit, as well as in the world of flesh and things. Moral beings crave the fellowship and acceptance of God. This can be had through Jesus Christ alone, then comes the greatest commodity of all — Life.

Jesus said, "I am come that might have life, and that they might have it more abundant."

ly", John 10:10. This life from above is in enormous supply. Of it there is surplus. There is more of it than we can understand or experience. The magnitude of this new endless life is greater than the space over our heads.

This sense of God's gift to believers may leave us breathless. It leaves us with the glow of inner peace, and a hope which makes all other hope dim by comparison.

He who feels dull and dispirited can draw from this eternal well of supply, and truly Live. Why do so many die of spiritual thirst, when the message is so clear?

The oldest French Acadian house preserved in its original condition in Nova Scotia is located here at Meteghan a tiny community on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Nova Scotia.

The interior of La Vieille Maison has boarded ceilings and open beams, and the original small windows and stone hearth. Hand turned beds and rawhide chairs, wooden utensils, earthenware and churns are set in their accustomed places. Ironstone china and Acadian crafts such as quilting and needlework are on display.

The house contains the earliest known portrait of an Acadian settler, an old woman with black cape and rosary, who reached the age of 105.

BUY EASTER SEALS

Diggings more than 100 feet deep, with platforms appearing every 10 feet, represent many attempts to recover the elusive treasure of Oak Island on Nova Scotia's South Shore. Each attempt has been doomed by a network of water tunnels that pour water into the shafts. Somewhere the maze may contain Captain Kidd's or Blackbeard's booty.

One must be poor to know the luxury of giving. — George Eliot.

Give what you have. To some one it may be better than you dare to think. — Longfellow.

Avarice and happiness never saw each other, how then should they become acquainted. — Benjamin Franklin.

The art of progress is to preserve order amid change and to preserve change amid order. — Alfred North Whitehead.

Tea Will Mark 100th Birthday

Mrs. Edward (Seraphine) Potter, Clements, will be 100 years old on Sunday, April 22. Her 100th birthday will not go unnoticed. The Ladies Guild of St. Matthew's Church and the Neighborhood Club at Deep Brook have planned an afternoon tea in her honor. The tea will be held from 3 to 5 p.m. on Sunday. All relatives and friends are invited to attend.

$5,000 Bail

Kenneth William Broken-shire, 30, elected trial by county court judge following preliminary hearing here Tuesday on a charge of shooting with intent to wound. The charge arose out of an incident in Digby April 9 when the accused, a naval petty officer, allegedly fired several shots from a rifle, one at James Dunn, son of Digby Police Chief Webster Dunn. The shooting occurred during efforts that were being made by Digby police to quiet a family dispute in the Broken-shire home. The accused was granted bail in the amount of $5,000 and released on open custody to HMCS Cornwallis.

Palm Sunday Services

At the 11 a.m. service at Trinity Anglican Church last week palm crosses were blessed by the rector and then distributed to members of the choir, Sunday School children, and the congregation. Following the distribution of palms the choir and Sunday School children walked to the front in procession where the sacrament of holy baptism was administered by the rector to Christopher Dean, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Moore, and to Annie Elaine Dennison.

Traditional Palm Sunday hymns were a feature of the service and the rector explained in his sermon the events and significance of the lenten season leading up to the triumphal entry into Jerusalem.

Palm Sunday service at Grace United Church, Digby, saw seven new members given the right hand of fellowship. New members by profession of faith were Misses Janet Hawkins, Karen Jayne Verleia Ellis and Diann Handspiker and Roger Wright. Those who were received by transfer certificate were Mrs. John Russell from St. Paul, St. Stephen, Kentville, N. S. and Gordon Galbraith from Grace United, Sturgis, Saskatchewan.

The sermon by the minister, Rev. R. H. Hughes, was on the cup, the cross, the crown in the cup that Jesus drank he said, was found more than communion and fellowship. There was rejection, temptation and loneliness. Christians also drink of the same cup but it is different in that it is related to His cup and we are not alone.

In the matter of the cross he said, that we too must feel of the sufferings of Christ by sharing the crosses of others. We must show friendship to the lonely, give moral support, understand the misunderstood and be not quick to judge.

The crown, he said, was no a crown of gold but a crown of victories won by Christ for us victory over sin and death.

The choir at Grace United sang "The Palms", with Charles Fitt as soloist.

EARLY BLOOMS

Spring came early to the garden of Mrs. Nina Young, Deep Brook. Last week she brought to the Courier jonquils in bloom and a scilla which had been in her garden on the South side of her house for almost three weeks. The jonquils had grown to a height of 13 inches while those in most gardens were just peeping from the ground.

Please Pay Up

Notices will be mailed this week to all subscribers whose Courier payments were due in February and March. Any Couriers due before February and not paid will be struck from our list whether these were Christmas gifts or not. The Digby Courier, like other newspapers, must make a sworn statement to its circulation and only paid up subscriptions are counted. We shall be revising our list within a few days. Especially Christmas donors — save embarrassment. Payment for subscriptions due in April will also be accepted to avoid sending notices.

First Rally For New Organization

The first Rally of the Annapolis Presbyterial United Church Women was held at Kingston, N. S., with an attendance of approximately 130, on Saturday afternoon when Rev. Kenneth Sullivan, Kentville, was guest speaker. He noted the lives of women in Bible times who figured in the life of the church, the influence of Christian mothers through the years and continued into the part which women play in the life of the church today. He spoke confidently of the new organization for women which, he said, has already shown that it will work and gave helpful suggestions for its successful operation. He felt the structure should be kept as simple as possible and suited to each congregation. He told the women not to be afraid to make mistakes for if mistakes are not made nothing is being done. He reminded them that they were dedicated to the total welfare of the church in their program.

Mr. Sullivan was introduced by Rev. Morris Barss, Kingston, and thanked by Mrs. J. M. Wallis Digby.

The meeting, presided over by Mrs. Harold Murray, Berwick, president, began with worship conducted by Mrs. J. M. Wallis and Mrs. William Marshall, Digby. A welcome was extended by Mrs. F. B. Banks, Kingston, and responded to by Mrs. Curtis Hankinson, Weymouth.

Rev. Mr. Barss brought greetings from the Annapolis Presbytery, in which he used the theme "That They All May Be One". He said that the new organization was hailed as the greatest thing which happened in the United Church since church union, but one organization is not sufficient, but one purpose and one goal must be the object if we fulfil the wish of Christ that all may be one. He announced that a World Mission Rally would be held in the Presbytery on May 9, when Dr. Florence Murray would be guest speaker.

Mrs. Mervin Conrad, Kingston, rendered the vocal selection, "The Palms".

The president, in her remarks, emphasized that this is not a merger of former organizations, but a new organization.

Mrs. M. S. Horsburg, Berwick, who was the delegate attending the conference in augural meeting in Amherst gave an outline of the inaugural address and business meeting.

The treasurer's report was given by Mrs. Elton Arnold Digby, and Mrs. E. Myers, Middleton, presented the literature.

A leadership discussion was held prior to a workshop, with Mrs. J. R. Parr, Middleton, convener. Presentations were made by Mrs. William Marshall Digby, on Programs; Mrs. Fred Bath, Middleton (Please turn to page 10)

Objective Met

It has been announced that the recent Red Cross campaign in the town "has gone over the top". The objective set was $700.00. The credit goes to Mr. Ralph Berwick, campaign chairman for the town, and his busy staff of collectors.

Trinity W. A. will meet at the home of Miss Louise Daley.

Contract Awarded

Landers Limited, of Digby, N. S., has been awarded a contract by the Department of National Defence for construction of a Perimeter fence at Yarmouth Armoury, Yarmouth, N. S.

The tender submitted by the Digby firm was the lowest received.

Marriage

Miss Sharon Jean MacIntyre and Mr. Jack L. Collier were united in marriage Friday evening, April 6, 1962 at 7:30 p.m. They exchanged vows at the First Methodist Church, Franklin, Ohio. Dr. G. M. Haggard officiated.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willard C. MacIntyre, Franklin and the granddaughter of Mrs. A. G. MacIntyre, Bear River, Nova Scotia. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Collier, Franklin, are the parents of the groom. Pre-nuptial organ music was presented by Mrs. Wilhelmina Vinnell for the double ring ceremony.

Mr. MacIntyre gave his eldest daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of white peau de sole. The tightly fitted bodice and gauntlet sleeves of beaded alencon lace dramatically complimented the Medici skirt. A full blown rose of white peau de sole heightened the cascading chapel length train. The fingertip length illusion net veil was caught to a crown of alencon lace medallions enhanced by seed pearls and sequins. She carried a cascading bouquet of gardenias and elegants.

Mrs. Gordon Hollon attended as Matron of Honor and bridesmaids attending their sister were Miss Sally Mac-Intyre and Miss Sandra MacIntyre. The attendants wore identical street length sheath gowns of sky blue satin with bouffant detachable overskirts. The lace veils were topped with bows matching the dresses. They carried bouquets of cascading white gardenias and elegants.

Mr. James Collier attended his brother as Best Man while Mr. William Fryman and Mr. Gordon Hollon were ushers. Mrs. MacIntyre wore a charcoal lace sheath dress over buff satin. Her hat matched the dress. Mrs. Collier was attired in a light blue silk organza dress. A pink organza flowered hat and long pink gloves complimented her outfit.

Hostesses for the reception were Miss Mary Sue Tinch, wearing a soft yellow dress and accessories, and Miss Katherine Collier, dressed in blue with complimenting accessories.

Mrs. Collier was a graduate of Franklin High School and is presently employed by Armo International Corporation. Mr. Collier attended Franklin High School and Ohio University and is now employed by Black Clawson Corporation, Shartle Division. They will reside at 1211 North Ave., Middleton, Ohio.

Civil Defence Meet In Digby

Sixteen or more from the zone met at Hotel Champlain, Digby, on Saturday and Sunday in a general orientation course sponsored by Zone 1 of Nova Scotia Provincial Civil Defence. After a welcome extended by His Worship Mayor V. L. Bent, the classes settled down immediately to lectures, films and work sheets on Saturday morning.

Mr. Bent in his greeting said that he extends a welcome to those who are taking part in the course. It is a reason for sadness, he said, when a nuclear war is possible either by the intended actions of madmen or by miscalculation. Should such a tragedy happen, thousands of people would be killed or injured. On the other hand by preparation such as they were making at the meeting thousands of Canadians who otherwise might perish could survive a nuclear war.

Also present were Thomas Cleveland, director of Civil Defence in Digby and Leigh Jayne, representative from the town council.

The first class was shown the need for trained hands in Civil Defence by means of a film "Our Good Neighbors" and Kings have organized and appointed a nominating committee as noted by a news story in this issue.

J. A. Orlik, Provincial Civil Defence Training Officer, lectured on the effects of blast fallout and said that even if the blast be disastrous and serious there is a defence of the individual against it.

Raele Douthwaite, Deputy Coordinator for the province of Nova Scotia introduced the subject of Civil Defence organization and planning. He traced the background of Civil Defence and the change of concept when Civil Defence became a normal function of the three levels of government, federal, provincial and municipal, instead of the concept as a separate organization. Civil Defence now is regarded as a responsibility of government and of every municipal employee.

In other lectures Mr. Douthwaite pointed out the role of the army in National Emergency. They are responsible he said, for the national warning system, issuing, maintaining and using sirens to warn of fallout, evacuation and re-entering devastated areas.

In the matter of Emergency Welfare services, Mr. Douthwaite pointed out the necessity of government at all levels to direct and control these services when a mass movement of people was involved, when feeding and clothing of large numbers was concerned as in Civil Defence. Such direction, he said, was beyond the capability of local voluntary organizations and a different pattern is used. In general local situations to which voluntary agencies in communities lend their efforts outside help can be solicited. But in national disasters involving Civil Defence all local help is needed in the immediate area. Because all the assistance must be given locally it is most essential, Mr. Douthwaite said, that local government plan and train local groups to carry out all functions. The scale of disaster, he said, would be such as could not be provided for in a moment's notice and so training beforehand was essential.

Each locality has different problems, Mr. Douthwaite said. Government can only (Please Turn to Page 10)

Pressing For New Park

At Monday night's meeting of the Annapolis Board of Trade, it was agreed to send a delegation to Halifax to meet the Hon. E. D. Haliburton and other ministers of the Nova Scotia government, to discuss matters in connection with the Board's proposal to have a new park established in western Annapolis County, on the Bay of Fundy, from Victoria Beach and extending eastward.

This decision was reached following a report of the tour committee, read by E. C. Atkinson, due to the absence in Halifax of the chairman, Leigh M. Marshall. The tour committee will select members of the delegation to meet the ministers at their convention.

Election Date June 18th

Although not coming as a shock, people in Digby and vicinity were interested to learn on Tuesday evening that Prime Minister John Diefenbaker had announced the date for a federal election on June 18. Election machinery is expected to get into motion as soon as the Easter holidays are over and the campaigning which has already started in some places is expected to get into full swing here shortly. In Shelburne, Yarmouth, intended actions of madmen and Claret, Fred Armstrong, or by miscalculation. Should such a tragedy happen, thousands of people would be killed or injured. On the other hand by preparation such as they were making at the meeting thousands of Canadians who otherwise might perish could survive a nuclear war.

To date no liberal candidate has been chosen for the date in Digby, Annapolis, and Kings constituency and while two or three names have been rumored, nothing official has been done. The New Democratic Party for Digby, Annapolis and Kings have organized and appointed a nominating committee as noted by a news story in this issue.

Presses For Causeway

At a recent meeting Fundy Board of Trade, Freeport, resolved to submit letters requesting a causeway between the mainland and Long Island to the Prime Minister, Premier Stanfield, George Nowlan, MP, and Victor Cardozo, MLA for Digby County.

Board members agreed a causeway across Petite Passage would result in one of the finest harbors in western Nova Scotia, and as a consequence boost the economy in the region.

Victor Strickland of Westport, was elected president of the trade board at the meeting. Rev. J. W. Derby of Freeport was elected vice president.

F. C. Purdy Addresses H & S

The Smith's Cove Consolidated Home and School Association held their regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, April 10th, with Mr. Alice Dunn, president, in the chair.

Mrs. Sabine of Bear River opened the meeting with "O Canada" and Mr. F. C. Purdy, guest speaker, read the philosophy of Home and School. Mr. W. Marshall, principal of Smith's Cove Consolidated was also present at the meeting. Mrs. Sabine who was a guest, is teaching piano at the school in Smith's Cove. Other guests were the V.O.N. nurses from Digby.

Mrs. Frances Berry was appointed as hospitality chairman. Mr. Gerald Wyles, reported for landscaping and stated no definite plans made as yet.

Playground equipment is ready under the direction of Mr. Turnbull who would like help from members or anyone interested in this project.

Mrs. Ruby Kinsman, reported that all Adult Classes are over, and the closing was April 4th. She gave a note of thanks to everyone for their cooperation.

The V.O.N. nurse was introduced and explained V.O.N. duties in Digby, and expressed desire to answer calls in the surrounding areas. A motion was made to approach other clubs in the area to help sponsor the V.O.N. service for surrounding areas.

Mrs. Dunn reported that the Spring Rally for the Home and School County Council will be on May 12th at Sandy Cove, with afternoon and evening session.

The parent attendance banner went to Miss Sidey, teacher of Grades 4 and 5.

Mrs. Emma Balser, program chairman, introduced Mr. F. C. Purdy, who gave an interesting talk on education. Mr. Purdy answered numerous questions on education, and different courses taught in Digby schools and also in Yarmouth Vocational School. Mrs. Balser thanked the guests for their kindness (Please Turn to Page 10)

Nowlan Honoured

A testimonial scroll, lauding the leadership qualities of National Revenue Minister George C. Nowlan, was presented to him by Nova Scotia members of parliament at a dinner party in Ottawa during the weekend.

The minister, readying himself for his 10th election campaign, seven of them in the federal field, received the honor at the dinner tendered by the two Nova Scotia Conservative senators, Hon. J. M. Macdonald (Cape Breton) and Hon. Fred Blois (Cocheston-Hants).

Presentation of the scroll was made by Clem A. O'Leary, representative of Amigonish Guysborough.

Text of the scroll: "This fellow member of parliament from Nova Scotia wishing to attest to the leadership among them of the Hon. George Nowlan, PC MP, minister of national revenue, present to him this testimony of their respect, admiration and affection, for the devotion to our beloved province."

Chairman Senator Blois recalled the efforts of Mr. Nowlan in the provincial and federal fields, commending his work in connection with payment of the Atlantic Province adjustment grants, federal aid to power production, and the coal industry, increased university grants, and other measures of benefit to Nova Scotia.

Senator Macdonald paid glowing tribute to Mr. Nowlan's achievements in the field of aid to the coal industry.

Mr. Nowlan, in a brief acceptance speech, lauded the work of the Nova Scotia MPs who came to Parliament in 1957 and 1958 and said Nova Scotia "had been well served by a team."

"No other federal cabinet minister," he said, "had enjoyed such co-operation and assistance from provincial MPs as I have from you," he said.

The members, he said, had wide experience in fields important to Nova Scotia, including the fisheries, transportation, the law, veterans affairs, the mining industry and business generally.

"Together, we have accomplished quite a lot for Nova Scotia since 1957 and 1958. There are problems yet to be solved, but I can say the province is farther ahead as the result of your teamwork and your devotion," the minister told his colleagues.

Car Plunges Into Harbour

Two fishermen leaped from their car just as it plunged off Digby pier about 7 o'clock Monday evening. The pair landed on the edge of the wharf and the late-model car dropped into 40 feet of water.

Walter Raymond Longmire Parker's Cove, and Sherman Clayton, Hantsport, drove on to the pier where their fishing boat was moored, but when Longmire applied the brakes the vehicle skidded on snow. Neither man was hurt after jumping from the car but both admitted to being badly frightened.

With the aid of scuba-divers Bill Jefferson and VanTassel, and the drags "Angela Fern" and "Blue Swan", the car was successfully raised to the water's surface at about 1:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Ripe Berries At Mt. Pleasant

A strawberry plant, owned by Willard Wagner, Mount Pleasant, was purchased last year in Ontario, and is supposed to grow as tall as a man. The plant, called Mount Everest Climbing Strawberry, was planted in the ground last spring, and was brought into the house in the fall. It now bears thirteen berries, twelve green and one ripe; one blossom and three buds.

Pupils Get Good Marks

Pupils of Mrs. Eric Adams taking part in the Annapolis County Music Festival were Constance Adams, of Deep Brook, in the non-competitive class, who received an excellent adjudication.

Carolyn Vroom, of Deep Brook, and Anita Nast, of Cornwallis, played in the competitive class and received marks of 81 and 83.

EASTER

Rejoice

On Easter Sunday, come to church
... come to worship and rejoice ... come to experience, more deeply and fully, the glory of the season. Come, pray together with family, friends, neighbors.

of Meteghan, a registered nurse, was instructress and she was assisted by Dr. Robert Belliveau, of Meteghan. Miss Joyce Starrat, of the Department of Public Health, and others.

Mrs. Comeau spoke a few words explaining the training that the group had taken and stated that a larger number of ladies had shown their interest in taking the course but were prevented from doing so due to the large registration of members. Mrs. Comeau stated that it may be possible to hold another class of Home Nursing in the not too distant future.

Mrs. Comeau thanked the group for their fine devotion in following the classes each week and congratulated them for having had such fine marks in the final examinations. The course, she said, was limited to approximately 20 members but that an exception had been made here and that 25 had been allowed to enroll. The course consisted mainly of demonstration of improvising with materials that are generally found in the home; nutritionists instructed the group; they learned the value of remedies and how to use them successfully; treatments and their value, especially with ice and hot water. The VON gave instructions in pre-natal and baby care. Artificial respiration was demonstrated with films on the subject and discussions on how to tend the old people, contagious disease and infections.

Dr. Robert Belliveau, who is the appointed Civil Defence doctor for emergencies in case of disaster, handed out the certificates to the graduates and Warden Emile Boudreau, assistant Civil Defence director for Clare, presented them with Civil Defence lapel pins. The course was held in cooperation with the Civil Defence organization of Clare.

Emile Boudreau spoke on behalf of the Civil Defence of Clare. He told the group: "You are all qualified and ready to play an important role in any disaster." Whether the disaster shall be from a natural cause or a man-made one there is one thing that is worthwhile mentioning: "Canada is graphically situated between two nuclear powers and that is one reason why the Canadian government and Civil Defence department insists that at least 800,000 persons, both men and women, should be trained this year in different fields of Home Nursing, fire reserve and others."

Mr. Boudreau thanked Mrs. Comeau, R.N., for the fine work that she had accomplished with the group and her untiring devotion in giving instructions made it possible

Letters to the Editor

Connor Landing Field,

Mrs. Wallis,
Editor of Courier.

I would like to correct a very serious statement made by Mr. Cardoza, M.L.A., in Saint John while I was in hospital, i.e. that there were no facilities for aircraft in or around Digby.

Might I call his attention that when a boy he played at my house with my son, Rufus. My field was mentioned in your paper at the time when I received my Permit and my Licence for an Airport as above. This Licence was granted in 1926 and is still in force.

I can only hope Mr. Cardoza will correct what he has said at Saint John, CFBC. To prove my point I will lay out a few of the requirements:
Inspected by 3 officers of Transport Air Division:
Length of field runway — 700 feet;
Telephone — yes.
Distance to town — 200 feet;
Custom House at Digby — 1 mile 1/4;
Post Office — ditto;
Telephone exchange — 1 mile;
Telegraph Office — 1 mile;
Railway Station — 1 mile;
Police Station and, Town Hall — 1 1/4 miles;
Ferry steamer service — 1 1/2 miles.

That is just a few necessary things required. You see where you are situated. Add about 6 miles.
Please let it be understood that I agree with the idea of progress.
Mr. Cardoza, please inform the Saint John B.O.T. of this letter.

Mrs. Wallis,
Editor of Courier.

I would like some information, if you may assist, on —
1. Solomon Bunnell — "late of Lanesborough" — taken prisoner at Bennington Aug. 16, 1777 — taken to and jailed at Northampton, Mass. — escaped in 1780 — in New York 1781 — came to the Province in 1782 — at Annapolis till spring of '83. Went to Sissiboo Sept. 17, 1783. Filed a claim on January 11, 1786, at Annapolis. Had a wife Anne and 6 children.

2. Richard (Burgis) Squires or Squire — also of Lanesborough — went to New York — re-married later at St. John N. Brunswick — made a claim at St. John's January 30, 1787 — (had been ill) before an Elias Hardy.

3. William Stiles — also of Lanesborough. Wife was Anna Stiles, Morehouse. Had 2 acres — barn and house — part of lot No. 35 — confiscated Feb. 25, 1783. He appears to have died, for his wife married a Stephen Morehouse Jr. Oct. 3, 1779. Whether he made Canada is not known. She made claim to commissioner at Halifax, March 28, 1786.

I would like as much data on the above — or on any others from Lanesboro', Berkshire County, Mass. (there were several), particularly these:
1. Date of arrival; 2. How and where; 3. Land holdings; 4. Eventual residence; 5. Family; 6. Demise, etc.

In fact, anything that would tend to clarify their final existence after they left this town back during that crucial era.

Mass., will celebrate its 200th anniversary. There were several American Loyalists who left this town circa 1777-8 and removed to Canada. I have some data already on hand, viz. from the Ontario Archives and the Public Record Office, London, England.

I would like to correct a very serious statement made by Mr. Cardoza, M.L.A., in Saint John while I was in hospital, i.e. that there were no facilities for aircraft in or around Digby.

Might I call his attention that when a boy he played at my house with my son, Rufus. My field was mentioned in your paper at the time when I received my Permit and my Licence for an Airport as above. This Licence was granted in 1926 and is still in force.

I can only hope Mr. Cardoza will correct what he has said at Saint John, CFBC. To prove my point I will lay out a few of the requirements:
Inspected by 3 officers of Transport Air Division:
Length of field runway — 700 feet;
Telephone — yes.
Distance to town — 200 feet;
Custom House at Digby — 1 mile 1/4;
Post Office — ditto;
Telephone exchange — 1 mile;
Telegraph Office — 1 mile;
Railway Station — 1 mile;
Police Station and, Town Hall — 1 1/4 miles;
Ferry steamer service — 1 1/2 miles.

That is just a few necessary things required. You see where you are situated. Add about 6 miles.
Please let it be understood that I agree with the idea of progress.
Mr. Cardoza, please inform the Saint John B.O.T. of this letter.

Yours sincerely,
Rufus E. W. Connor,
(R.N., Rtd.)
Proprietor.

If You're TIRED

Now and then everybody gets a "tired-out" feeling and may be bothered by backaches, perhaps nothing seriously wrong, just a temporary condition caused by urinary irritation or bladder discomfort. That's the time to take Dadd's Kidney Pills. Dadd's help stimulate the kidneys to relieve this condition which may often cause backache and tired feeling. Then you feel better, rest better, work better.

New Democratic Committee

From the New Democratic Committee, Digby, Annapolis, Kings, at an organizing meeting held at the Community Centre, Annapolis Thursday night, a Federal Constituency New Democratic Party Committee was named. George Turner of Kentville was named convener and Mrs. Lillian Henshaw of Deep Brook as acting secretary.

The committee was left to elect officers at their first meeting.

Among those elected to the committee were professor Glen Tilletson and Earl Merrick of Wolfville; Allister Clark of Hantsport; Murray Bent, Middleton; Mrs. Louise Shaw, Bridgetown; Russell Leat, Granville; Louis Beeler, Upper Clements; Leo Melanson, Kentville; Chris Goldenberg of Bridgetown; Mrs. Beatrice Church of Lawrencetown and Dale Young of Middleton.

The committee was given power to add to make it more fully representative and was instructed to make preparations for a nominating convention and organize for the campaign.

H. A. Fries, a long-time member of the CCF, was made an honorary member of the committee.

Edgar L. Smith, vice chairman of the provincial executive, addressed the meeting. "The New Democratic Party has a plan for development, particularly in the area of basic research and employment in the Atlantic Provinces," he said. "The great Atlantic Canada last summer gave this policy of a massive investment program to Maritime development. It had approval. All New Democratic candidates across Canada are being nominated to carry out this official program."

Mr. Loomer outlined the organization needed to win the election. "The New Democratic Party depend on volunteer effort in every poll," he said. "Any poll with a minimum of ten active volunteers can be won for the Party. None of us doing volunteer work, except any personal reward except better conditions that will be fairly shared by every Canadian he declares. 'There are no patronage committees in the Party and certainly no slush funds to corrupt supporters.'"

"We must organize to register the vote of every citizen favorable to the principles and purposes we represent," he concluded.

Mission Band Meets

Mission Band meeting of April 7th was held in the Baptist Vestry with 20 members present, under the leadership of Gopie McLeellin. Mrs. Harold Denton was pianist. Songs were sung followed by a prayer by Mrs. L. McLeellin and the Mission Band Prayer in mission.

The devotional led by Rick J. Robichau was "Peter's Prayer". Offering was received by Judy Robichau and donated to Denton.

During the bandcraft period checks were made to be able to take time to give God thanks, ending with a song and a prayer.

On Friday, April 13th, the Junior Debating Group, which is under the direction of Mrs. Banks, presented an interesting debate on the topic "That mercy killing should be allowed". The affirmative lead by Marsha Lewis, assisted by Sharon Hensley and Lance Woodley, upheld the resolution splendidly, however the judges, those as the winners the negative side which consisted of Juliaanna Cudmore, Kevan Graham and Duncan Armstrong.

These young debaters, most of whom are in grade eight, show great promise and should be encouraged in this activity.

Life Membership: Mrs. P. B. Banks, Kingston, United Budget; Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby. Representatives on Church Boards and Committees: and Mrs. Elton Arnold, Digby, on Nominations. Findings of the workshop were presented by Mrs. Allan Irvine, Weymouth for presidents and vice-presidents; Mrs. Curtis Hanks, Weymouth, for secretaries; Mrs. Morris Bars, Kingston, for treasurer, stewardship and recruiting; Mrs. George Russell, Bear River program and literature; Mrs. Arnold, nominations; Mrs. G. W. Andrews, Middleton, Christian Education and Missionary Education; Mrs. Frank Mailman, Middleton, Christian Citizenship and Supply; Mrs. G. W. Hawkins, Kingston, Community Friendship and Visiting; Mrs. Norman Morrison, Middleton, Press and Publicity and Periodicals. Mrs. Bars, in her findings, said that if stewardship were carried out there would be no difficulty whatever in raising necessary monies. Mrs. Russell felt that if people did not come out to hear the gospel, the minister should endeavour to take the gospel to the homes. Mrs. Andrews said that concern was shown in the group discussion on the lack of camps for boys and girls in Nova Scotia. Mrs. Banks informed the women that Presbytery had taken some steps towards rectifying the matter.

CIVIL DEFENCE

give policy and direction which is to be applied to each separate locality as situations exist.

It was noted that Civil Defence plans are preparation both for national disasters and natural disasters.

Gordon Grand, Civil Defence Co-ordinator for Nova Scotia took up the subject of Provincial and Municipal Civil Defence Planning. He stated that the federal and provincial government departments and agencies are busy planning for emergency and it is equally important, he said, that municipal government carry out every emergency planning.

Miss Norma Taylor, R.N., Nurse Consultant conducted a class on Emergency Health Services. Health, she noted, takes an important place in the national survival plans both as directed for natural and national disaster. Existing medical quarters, she said, are insufficient for national emergency and stressed the need for each hospital to be prepared and each household have training in home nursing and first aid. The professional medical health service would of necessity be spread widely.

William MacLeod, Civil Defence Welfare Service director for Digby conducted a syndicate discussion on the basic community Civil Defence organization. A basic organization beginning from the director through advisory committees and all the services of fire, police, communications, health, rescue, engineering, radiation, transportation and welfare was planned in theory. Again, it was noted the responsibility of municipal governments in the direction of Civil Defence and that of municipal employees in the area.

person or organization able to give me some information about the Allaire family and especially how it came to be located in Nova Scotia. The confusing thing about this is that there seems to be evidence that about 1700, an Alexander Allaire came to America and helped to settle New Rochelle New York. The guess of a descendant now living in Long Island, New York, is that some of the family, including probably James P's father, sided with the Loyalists during our Revolutionary period and moved to Nova Scotia for that reason. James P. and others of the family returned to the United States. I do not know if any remained in Nova Scotia. Verification of the birth and christening dates appearing in the Bible referred to is also desired.

VOLUME LXXXIII, No. 35

The Profession Of Novice Lorna

Novice Lorna (above) is a daughter of Mrs. Constance F. Connell, Digby.

At the Holy Eucharist, at 7 a.m. on Tuesday, March 27 (which this year was observed as the feast of the Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin) Novice Lorna was professed under Junior Vows (i.e. making the Vows of Poverty, Chastity and Obedience for a three-year period only).

Bishop Snell, Coadjutor of Toronto, received her vows on behalf of the whole church and Canon H. Hertzler was celebrant at the Holy Eucharist.

At the beginning of the ceremony the Novice Mistress presented Novice Lorna to the Bishop, standing at the altar steps. Following question: by the Bishop, there was solemn prayer to God the Holy Spirit. The Novice then knelt and made her vows. She then signed the form of vows, and gave it to the Bishop, who placed it on the Altar. The Bishop then placed the different articles of clothing, which were on the Altar, and handed each in turn to her with an appropriate prayer — first the girdle, then the veil, and lastly the sister's cross. The Novice gave these articles to the Mother Superior, who then led her to the Lady Chapel, and clothed her in the sister's habit.

The Reverend Mother then brought back the new Sister into the main Chapel, and the Bishop gave her a lighted candle, symbolic of Christ the Light of the world, burning within her. He then blessed the Sister and received the lighted candle from her hands, placing it in a candlestick standing in the sanctuary, to burn there throughout the remainder of the day. This symbolized the new Sister's life which was to be completely consumed for God, aflame with the fire of His love.

The Mother Superior then conducted the newly-professed Sister to her seat in choir, and the Holy Eucharist proceeded, all those present receiving Holy Communion.

"To give all for love is a most sweet bargain."

Mrs. Connell was in Toronto to see her daughter take the professional vows.

Distributes Stripes & Pins

Mrs. W. L. Carson, Digby District Commissioner of Girl Guides, and two Guides, Sally Carson and Elizabeth Carjoza, of Digby, were guests of 1st Tiverton Brownie Pack recently. At the gathering Brown Owl, Mrs. Jean Elliott, assisted by Tawny Owl, Mrs. Edgar Outhouse, presented Verona Outhouse, Katherine Cossaboom and Maxine Guier with their Sixer stripes and Golden Bar. Lynn Outhouse was enrolled and received her Fairy pin.

Mrs. Carson commented on the keen interest displayed by the Brownies and the wonderful work the leaders were accomplishing with the group. She was particularly impressed by the unique and original method the leaders employed during the presentation ceremony.

Mrs. Carson expressed the wish that the Brownies continue on to even greater achievements as Girl Guides.

Jack Richardson, of New Glasgow, is visiting his sister, Mrs. Daniel Bremner, and Mr. Bremner, Digby.

Be Careful on the Highways.

Easter In The Churches

A large congregation attended the Easter services held in the Baptist churches of Digby and Hill Grove on Sunday. In the Digby church many additional chairs had to be used to accommodate the overflow congregation. Included in the musical numbers at the morning service were an anthem by the choir and a selection by the male quartette. The choir of the Hill Grove church also sang two anthems at the service of that church in the afternoon.

At the evening service next Sunday the Ordinance of Baptism will be administered to a group of candidates from both the Digby and Hill Grove churches. On this occasion, Rev. L. R. Atkinson will preach the sermon.

After a series of Lenten services attended by much better congregations than for some years, Easter Sunday services saw many more people out to worship the Risen Christ than usual at Trinity, Digby.

The 7 a.m. Holy Communion was well attended and at the 11 a.m. Choral Communion a large congregation received their Easter Communion.

The church was adorned with beautiful Easter flowers in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas E. G. Lynch. Mrs. George Cardozo, Mrs. Joseph Hall and Mrs. Fred Robinson. During the service, the choir, under the direction of the organist, Mrs. H. O. Turnbull, sang a special Easter anthem and the recently revised Prayer Book was used for the first time.

All services were conducted by the rector, the Rev. James Pike who, in his sermon, reminded all of what Easter means. He said that because of the Resurrection of Christ man could now look forward with confidence to an Eternity of Life and that now death holds no terror for mankind. However, it was pointed out that the only way that people can be assured of Everlasting Life is by serving God faithfully here on earth. Christ, Himself stressed the fact that faithfully people served God faithfully here and loved Him and their fellowmen, they would have no future life.

A practical expression of gratefulness to God was an unusually generous Easter offering for the work of His church.

An overflowing congregation worshipped at Grace United Church on Easter Day when Rev. R. H. Hughes spoke of Jesus as the gardener of our lives. He cultivated the fruit of the spirit; love, long suffering, temperance, faith, etc. The first responsibility is to reclaim the soil and Jesus comes to reclaim lives for God. Lives must be watered, weeded and uprooted of envy, hatred, jealousy, malice and sin. The sacrament of the Lord's Supper was administered.

The choir rendered two anthems — "To Him Be Glory", by Caleb Semper, and "The Resurrection Morn".

Flowers were placed in the church in memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. Augustus Turnbull, Mr. and Mrs. George Turnbull, Mr. William Graves, Mr. Fred May, Mrs. John Russell, Mrs. Alice Stark, Dr. and Mrs. Walter Dickie and Dr. Dudley Dickie, Mr. J. B. Thompson.

A service was held at Grace United on Good Friday when Mr. Hughes spoke on the reason why Jesus died and died on a cross. Jesus accepted the cross, he said, because he loved mankind so dearly. God and Jesus together climbed the hill of Calvary when He died for the sins of the world.

On Tuesday evening the United Church Women of Grace United conducted an Easter Thankoffering Service under the chairmanship of Mrs. J. M. Wallis and Mrs. Bryson Denton taking the leading part. Other participants in the program were Mrs. William Marshall, Mrs. Elton Arnold, Mrs. Reginald Holdsworth, Mrs. Graham Saunders, Mrs. Burton Fleet, Mrs. Clinton McInnis, Mrs. D. G. Black, Mrs. Milton Atkinson.

Drowns In Bay

Walter Melanson, 24, of Gilbert's Cove, drowned in St. Mary's Bay when the bottom of his outboard motor boat was ripped open by a heavy wave.

He hung on to the wrecked boat for a few minutes, but lost his grip.

Scuba divers from RCAF Greenwood, had not recovered his body by Wednesday night. A companion in the boat, Albert Robichaud, clung to a gas can until rescued by a fisherman, Scott Kinney, of Ashmore, who saw the accident from shore.

Melanson is survived by his mother, Mrs. Walter Melanson; brothers Harley and Frank; and sister, Almeda, all of Gilbert's Cove.

Proclaims Digby Safe Driving Week

His Worship Mayor V. L. Bent has proclaimed next week, April 29 to May 5, as Safe Driving Week in Digby. In making the proclamation Mayor Bent said he hoped the town would be devoid of any car accidents during the week in keeping with the Lions Club sponsored roadster for teenagers. The roadster, a project of whole community nature, he said, deserves every support from the citizens of the town. Any effort directed towards safe-driving by the teenagers of today is an effort directed towards community safety and welfare not only of today but for years in the future.

His Worship commended the Lions Club in their effort and congratulated the young people in the interest they are taking in the project. More than 15 applications have been received, written tests will be held on Saturday, April 28 and the practical test will be held on May 5.

VON Service For Annapolis Royal

Miss L. Wall, of Halifax, Regional Director of the Victorian Order of Nurses, and Miss Valerie Swayne, VON nurse, of Digby, were in Annapolis Royal last week to ascertain the feelings of citizens with the view of extending the VON service to that town. Digby has had VON service for several years. The VON nurse in Digby has considerable free time, and would like to extend this service to Annapolis Royal, for a modest fee.

The Victorian Order of Nurses for Canada is a National Visiting Nursing Service, established by Royal Charter in 1897. The VON is now represented by 115 branches, fifteen of which are located in Nova Scotia, with some 44 nurses serving in their respective communities.

The VON, working under the direction of the family physician, provides nursing care at home to the sick in the community. The Victorian Order Nurse makes her visits to patients daily, or less frequently, depending on the needs of the patient and on doctor's instructions.

A VON Nurse is available to everyone in communities where there are branches. The fee charged is based on the actual cost of the visit, while adjustments can be made to suit the individual budget.

The VON Nurse can provide an excellent service to the citizens of this or any other town or community, but all good things require an active interest and financial support on the part of the community.

In Digby, the VON group is headed by John Nichols, barrister. Funds to carry on the work are raised by an annual financial campaign, grants from the town and province, donations, pantry sales, bridge parties, etc. VON service, we understand, could be provided for Annapolis Royal at nominal cost, by joining in with the Digby Association, and sharing the costs on a percentage basis.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton Atkinson and daughter, Marilyn, spent Easter with Mr. Atkinson's mother, Mrs. Ezra Atkinson, Clark's Harbour.

Davis' Win Cup

Mr. and Mrs. I. R. Davis (left to right above) were winners of the DuVerne Memorial Cup at the Digby General Hospital Auxiliary Marathon Bridge just completed. Petition For Work On Shore Road

About sixteen or more who live on the Shore Road, near Digby, signed a petition this week, it is understood, urging repairs to the road past their homes and through to the Bay View village. The petition was forwarded this week to the Hon. G. I. Smith, Minister of Highways for the province of Nova Scotia.

The petition, it is understood, pointed out the deplorable condition of the road which was made practically impassable by the recent wash-outs. The petition stated that the road was in so serious a condition that immediate action is needed to make it safe. Their urgency, a spokesman said, was not only for the customary users of the road but also for visitors in the area during the approaching tourist season. It is thought that visitors might come to serious injury by travelling on the road while ignorant of its condition.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fisher, Halifax, spent Easter with Mrs. Fisher's mother, Mrs. Edna Jordan, Marshalltown.

Raise $150 Heart Fund

The Ladies Auxiliary, Royal Canadian Legion, Digby Branch No. 20, has been active recently according to their reports.

In February a canvass for the Heart Fund was conducted and the sum of $150.00 was realized.

The canvass for the Canadian Cancer Society is now being carried on by Auxiliary members throughout the town.

New banquet tables, chairs and kitchen equipment have been purchased so that the Auxiliary is fully equipped for catering services.

The Easter Bonnet Contest which was held recently was won by Mrs. Leland Marshall, Bear River, N. S.

A regular meeting of the Auxiliary will be held tonight.

BOWLERS GET CUP

At the end of the ladies' bowling playoffs, the Lucky Sevens were successful in winning the cup.

Members of the champion ship team are: Jean Manning, Betty Smith, Ellen Cleveland, Nonie Comeau, Flossie Hand, Dolly Milberry, Mable Marshall.

Accidental Shooting

A 19-year-old naval rating was taken to hospital in Halifax Wednesday night of last week after accidentally shooting himself.

Ronald Thibodeau, of North Range, was cleaning his gun at his home when it discharged, wounding him in the left shoulder.

He was taken to the hospital at Cornwallis naval base but later was transferred to hospital at HMCS Station at Halifax.

His condition was reported as satisfactory.

P.C. Nominating Convention

Revenue Minister George C. Nowlan and Postmaster General William M. Hamilton will be the principal speakers at the Progressive Conservative nominating convention in Bridgetown May 2nd. The meeting, to be held in the Bridgetown Regional High School, will get underway at 8:00 p.m. (EST) with Digby-Annapolis-Kings P.C. Association vice-president, H. G. Goucher, Middleton, as chairman.

It is thought unlikely that there will be any opposition to Mr. Nowlan, who has represented the constituency of Digby-Annapolis-Kings in the House of Commons for the past ten years.

Mr. Hamilton was recently nominated to again contest the election in the Notre Dame de Grace riding.

Among those on the platform will be Hon. E. D. Haliburton, provincial Minister of Agriculture and Marketing; Hanson T. Dowell, M.L.A., Annapolis East and Mrs. Gladys M. Porter, M.L.A., Kings North. P.C. party officials say all interested electors in the constituency "are most welcome to attend."

175 Persons Donate Blood

There were 175 donations given at the Red Cross Blood Donor Clinic, sponsored by the Digby Lions Club and held at the Lions Club Hall Tuesday. Committee chairman is Russell Stonehouse. The afternoon response, from 3 to 5 o'clock, was not good, but from 7 p.m. there was a continuous line of donors. The ladies of the Red Cross did registering and ushering and served tea and coffee. Red Cross president, Mrs. Raymond Lent, was in attendance to oversee the affair.

The response was better than in recent years, Mrs. Lent said, but is below donation standards. The Lions are to be commended for their efforts.

To Construct Fallout Reporting Post

Department of National Defence has awarded a contract to Landers Limited, of Digby, N. S., for construction of a Fallout Reporting Post at DAR Station, Middleton, N. S.

Celebrates 100th Anniversary

Mrs. Edward (Seraphine) Potter, of Clementsvalle and Deep Brook, celebrated her 100th birthday anniversary on Easter Sunday, April 22. A reception in her honor was held at the Parson's Hall, Deep Brook, on Sunday afternoon. Mrs. Potter received over 150 guests.

Ladies of St. Matthew's Guild and The Neighbourly Club entered surrounded with baskets of cut flowers and potted plants. Mrs. Potter received her guests in a charming manner, her alert mind having no trouble in recognizing familiar faces. She received personal good wishes of guests from Yarmouth, Digby, Clementsvalle, Kentville, Aylesford, Bear River, Kentville and Halifax.

A telegram of congratulations from Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth, letters from Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and National Revenue Minister George Nowlan were received, along with 146 cards. Gifts of flowers, fruit, etc. were also received from friends. Mrs. Potter's longevity.

While a granddaughter, Miss Elizabeth Potter, presided at the piano and the guests sang "Happy Birthday to You", a grandson, Chester Potter, placed a beautifully decorated three tier birthday cake with "100" in yellow and silver, on the table with other gifts.

Her daughters, Mrs. Allan Purdy, of Somerville, Mass., and Mrs. Manning Potter, of Meadowvale, Kings Co., and son, Stuart, of Clementsvalle were present for the occasion.

Mrs. John Bandin, a grand daughter, from Somerville, Mass., Miss Elizabeth Potter, of Yarmouth, Mrs. Chester Harris, from Middleton, Mrs. Augustus Wamboldt, Clementsvalle, were also grand daughters attending. Grand sons Rosecoe Potter, from Aylesford, Chester Potter and Robert Purdy, Deep Brook, were present along with 7 great grandchildren. Another grandson, Leland, and family from Berwick, had visited her the previous day.

Mrs. Potter lives in her apartment at Bay Crest Farm, takes an active part in the Neighbourly Club, especially at quillings; enjoys calling on her friends, often walking for a visit with nearby neighbours. Two years ago Mrs. Potter spent Christmas with her daughter, Mrs. Allan Purdy, in Somerville, Mass., making the trip by air both ways.

She says she can hardly believe that she is 100 years young, and recommends good home cooked food, work, and following the rules of the Good Book for longevity.

DRHS Highways And Byways

(By Carolyn Arnold)
On Monday evening, April 16th, the Allied Youth group held a Parents' Banquet at the High School with about forty parents and members in attendance.

Following the banquet itself, Mr. Victor Cardozo, on behalf of the parents, thanked the group for the kind invitation.

Two films, one depicting the work and purpose of A.Y. and the other on family life, were shown, after which Mr. C. C. MacInnis, high school principal, gave a short closing address in which he expressed the feeling that by this project he had come to better realize the goals of this organization.

Honored For Service

A meeting of British American Oil dealers was held at Hotel Champlain recently when Gordon Ellis, local dealer, was honored for 20 years of service with the company.

A presentation to Mr. Ellis of a two diamond pin was made by Harold Lawson, Halifax, on behalf of the company. Mr. Ellis was also presented with a lamp by the staff of the local office.

Recruit Graduates

Signalman Winston E. Walton, 20, of Digby, N. S., (above), recently completed 20 weeks of basic training at the Canadian Guards Depot in Camp Petawawa.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Ryland E. Walton, of Conway, Digby Co., Sgm. Walton will take up new duties with the Royal Canadian School of Signals at Kingston, Ontario.

Digby Airman Promoted

Air Force Headquarters announced recently that Leading Aircraftman Leigh A. Morehouse, of Digby, N. S., has been promoted to the rank of Corporal.

Corporal Morehouse attended Digby Rural High School before enrolling in the RCAF in 1953. He served at stations in Ontario and Alberta prior to his transfer to RCAF Station Chatham where he is currently employed as a Supply Technician.

Corporal Morehouse is married to the former Anna Mae Stephenson, of Chatham, N. B., and they have a son, Colin David. Corporal Morehouse is the son of Mrs. Hilda Vail Morehouse and the late Mr. Morehouse, of Digby, N. S.

Real Cooperation

We read in the daily press recently that David J. C. Waterbury, President of the Kings County Progressive Conservative Association, will address the annual meeting in Kentville of the Kings County Young Progressive Conservative Association. The heading on the story was "To Address Liberal Meet".

It's a relief to note that The Digby Courier does not make all the mistakes.

Executive Retires

K. G. Ingram, President of John Leckie Limited, has announced the retirement of H. L. Olthouse as Manager and Director of the Company's Halifax Branch.

Mr. Olthouse started his career in the Commercial Fishing Supply business in 1926 in Boston. When Leckie opened their Halifax Branch in 1933, Mr. Olthouse joined the Canadian Company as sales manager and in 1935 became Manager. He received an engraved watch for his 36 years association with the firm.

Mr. Olthouse is a son of Mrs. Lyman Outhouse and the late Mr. Outhouse, of Harbour, N. B., formerly of Tiverton, Digby Co., N. S.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen and children, Halifax, spent Easter with Mrs. Allen's parents, Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Hughes.

About This and That

Benefits Changes Life

The report of the Unemployment Insurance Commission Yarmouth Office for the past four years has just come to hand showing the low point of claims for the year to have been in August, 1961, and the high in February, 1962. These claims were low 584, high 5047. Of the high claims 2281 were attributed to fishermen. Naturally this was the stormy time of the year when the fishermen lay up because of storms or expected storms.

We have every sympathy for the fishermen, having been well acquainted with their hazardous life. We watched the schooners arriving from the fishing banks and knew the joy of the flag floating high on the mast. We also knew too well the sadness foretold by the flag half mast on the approaching schooner. We saw the icy lines and the frozen mittens so we have sympathy for the hard working fishermen. We have every interest in improving the lot of the fishermen by urging safety measures for their occupation, by improving facilities for their comfort or to further their industry both for their own benefit or the benefit of the country's economy. We surely are in favor of fishermen being able to earn a good living and if their catch or earnings are not up to standard that they are able to claim benefits to compensate. We cannot, however, fail to note the change as we read the figures 2281 fishermen unemployed.

We take for granted that 2281 fishermen were legitimately unemployed and that their unemployment resulted in 445 fish handlers to be unemployed in February, 1962. Our minds go back to the time when the earnings of fishermen for one period of the year, whether large or small, had to be spread over the whole year's living budget. And as we thought of the change and improvements in the fishermen's lot, including unemployment insurance, we began to wonder how many of those who were registered unemployed might have already earned a wage equal to an average yearly wage of those numbered among the employed. Fishing can be a lucrative business and a few weeks catch sometimes (and we repeat sometimes) brings sums which others do not earn for months in other trades. We even thought of the remark we heard that there isn't any merchant or head of a firm in Digby who wouldn't be better off working for someone else if there was someone else to work for.

Here is a business and employment at the door step. Are we making the most of it? The fish are in the sea, we are confident that the markets are available. Co-operation from the fishermen, the boat owners and those trying to improve facilities can make fishing for the Digby county area an increasingly profitable business. Unemployment figures of 2281 for fishermen should not remain long on statistics we think.

The Greeks Have A Word For It

In Greek mythology, ambrosia was a balsamic juice which served as the food of the gods and preserved their immortality. Mortals permitted to partake of ambrosia received additional beauty, strength and swiftness — tributes of the gods. The dictionary now defines ambrosia as anything very pleasing to the taste or smell. And by this definition, today's recipe is well qualified to be called ambrosia Pudding.

This upside-down pudding has an attractive baked-on topping of sweetened coconut and fresh oranges. The batter is light and delicately flavored with orange rind and mace. It's a flavor combination that's hard to beat!

AMBROSIA PUDDING

- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup shredded or flaked coconut
- 1 cup corn syrup
- 1 teaspoon grated orange rind
- 2 oranges
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1 1/2 cups once-sifted all-purpose flour or 1 1/2 cups once-sifted pastry flour
- 2 teaspoons baking powder
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 teaspoon ground mace
- 1/4 cup butter or margarine
- 1/2 cup granulated sugar
- 1 egg
- 1 cup milk
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Melt the 2 tablespoons butter or margarine in an 8-inch square cake pan; brush sides of pan with the fat. Sprinkle coconut in pan and drizzle with corn syrup. Prepare the 1 teaspoon grated orange rind and set aside. Peel oranges, discarding all white pulp; cut oranges into slices and arrange them over coconut in pan; sprinkle with the 1/2 cup granulated sugar.

Preheat oven to 350 deg. F. (moderate). Sift together the all-purpose or pastry flour, baking powder, salt and mace. Cream the 1/2 cup butter or margarine; gradually blend in the 1/2 cup sugar. Add egg and beat it in well. Combine milk, vanilla and prepared orange rind. Add dry ingredients to creamed mixture alternately

Don't Force Food

While the preschooler's total growth rate is drastically reduced from 15-20 lbs. the first year to about 4 lbs. a year thereafter, he actually has a relative increase in muscular growth, says Dr. W. D. Snively Jr. in an article called "The Nutrition Problems of the Preschool Child." This means that while he needs less total nutrition, he must have a relatively high content of protein in his diet. If he is to provide the building blocks for the new muscles, bones and other tissues.

But, says Dr. Snively, with the reduction in total growth, the child's appetite slows up drastically.

The mother who is unprepared for this decrease in appetite may start forcing food, which she usually does about the 14th month. The table becomes a battlefield, and the child begins to have some very unpleasant associations connected with mealtime. He will refuse to eat at mealtime, but will eat cookies, crackers and candy between meals with the result that his diet will be inadequate in protein, which can be obtained only from such foods as eggs, meat, fish and cheese.

To solve this problem, Dr. Snively suggests that the child, when he comes to the table, be permitted to stay there and eat, or leave, and have no more to eat until the next meal. Milk must not be allowed to monopolize the diet. Dr. Snively suggests that it be given in small amounts and at the end of each meal. Junior should realize that eating is a privilege and that mealtime can be fun. He should be allowed to get hungry by mealtime so that his normal instinct for hunger can have full sway.

Yield: 8 or 9 servings.

In this way, says Dr. Snively, the problem is solved, and physical, emotional and nutritional improvements result from the balanced, protein-adequate diet begins immediately.

EASTER IN WEYMOUTH CHURCHES

A large congregation was in attendance at the Easter Sunday worship services at the (Church of Christ (Disciples) Weymouth.

Rev. Lorne Nethercott gave the call to worship and led in a hymn singing with Mrs. Frank Lewis, organist. Albert Jones read the Scripture Lesson and gave the evening prayer, which was followed by a special selection by the choir "The Holy City" directed by Mrs. Lorne Nethercott.

Rev. Mr. Nethercott's subject "It is Either Heaven or Hell" was a soul stirring message, challenging men and women to break loose from the sin and Satan, roll away the stone of evil, and arise and follow Jesus Christ as their Saviour.

At the close of the service an impressive baptismal service was conducted, when

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Elliott, were baptized. Albert Jones presided, assisted by Henry Shortliffe reading the Scripture and Lawrence Sabean offering prayer. Prior to benediction, a duet, "The Beautiful Garden of Prayer" was rendered by Mr. Henry Shortliffe and Mrs. Elton McCullough of South Range.

Flowers adorning Sanctuary were placed in memory of Mrs. Harry E. Wagner and Mr. and Mrs. Loran Lewis by the respective families.

The C. G. I. T. of Hartz Memorial United Church held an Easter Sunrise service on the hill by Weymouth Consolidated School, under the leadership of Mrs. Allan Irvine. The worship was conducted by members of the group, with a short address by the pastor, Mr. Fred Withers. Music for the service was supplied by a tape recording of Easter music.

During the Holy Week, the United Church, United Baptist Churches, Reformed Baptist Churches and Church of Christ (Disciples) joined together in Pre-Easter services, with guest speaker, Rev. Archie McLellan of Little River. The area included Barton, New Tusket, South Range and Weymouth and special music was provided by the choirs each evening. In the Anglican Churches services were held each morning and evening with the traditional three hour service in St. Peter's church on Good Friday. St. Joseph's Roman Catholic church held its regular Holy week services also in preparation for the great festival of Easter.

The churches celebrated the Resurrection with special Easter services. At Mt. Beulah Baptist Church, Weymouth Falls a sunrise service was held at 5 a.m. and the evening service included a special dedication of children. The right hand of fellowship was extended to seven people at Hartz Memorial United Church, by the pastor, Mr. Fred Withers and was followed by a service of communion. In the United Baptist Churches, Rev. Mr. Barkhouse preached the Easter service at Riverside church and in the evening an Easter pageant was presented in Ashmore by the Sunday School. The Church of Christ (Disciples) rendered "The Holy City" in their Easter music, and following the service the sacrament of Baptism was

Fishing Gear Damaged

A storm that pounded the Maritimes with heavy snow and rain and hurricane force winds over the weekend died Monday after delivering a glancing blow at Newfoundland.

The storm, which packed winds up to 76 miles an hour, left the Maritimes surprisingly unscathed although some damage was reported to fishing gear along Nova Scotia's coasts.

Northern New Brunswick was digging out from under 19 inches of snow. Heavy snow fell in northern Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island.

At Westport, Digby County most westerly tip of Nova Scotia, seas of the Bay of Fundy swept a 45 foot fishing boat against a wharf after it broke loose from a mooring. Owners of the boat George and Albert McDormand, estimated damage "at several thousand dollars." A hut on the wharf also was damaged.

No damage was reported from the ports at Digby, Yarmouth, Shelburne and Canso. But lobster fishermen were apprehensive over the safety of traps. High seas since the storm have prevented inspection.

A longliner out of Clark's Harbour put into Shelburne on Saturday for shelter after riding out a storm on extremely heavy seas. The vessel with crew of six, was unreported at the height of the storm Friday night, but this was due to her radio being knocked out. No one was injured.

Two other vessels were reported in trouble at the height of the storm but both were safe by Saturday morning. One fishing boat made port at Weymouth, and the crippled freighter Markland was taken in tow and heading for St. John's, Newfoundland.

Home and School Meets At Weymouth

The monthly meeting of the Weymouth Home and School Association, was held at the school on April 10. Gifford Lewis, was in the chair, and in a brief meeting the nominating committee brought in the following slate of officers: Mrs. Wilfred Cosman, Mrs. Gordon Prime and Mrs. Carl Blynn.

It was announced that five new swings had been set up on the school ground.

The meeting was turned over to Mrs. Curtis Hinkinson, program convenor. Mrs. Hinkinson has prepared an interesting "Career Night" for the high school pupils and others interested.

Mr. P. Charlton, manager of the Royal Bank of Canada, Weymouth, outlined the work of banks and the growing need throughout the world for young men to study banking. School Inspector Comau of Clare, spoke on the education system, and of the various training schools. Mr. Glen Smith of Digby, Protection Officer on Fishing, told of the many parts of our major industry. Mr. E. Adelaar spoke concerning the pulpwood and paper industry and Mr. McNeil of Weymouth Industries spoke of the work being done in the making of boats, cruisers, etc.

Mr. LeFort told of possibilities in agriculture, and Mrs. Nethercott, who teaches Adult Education Classes, told of the many openings available in the field of arts. She drew attention to the walls of the auditorium, hung with paintings and drawings done by the people of Weymouth. Mr. A. Bellevue spoke of work selling gas, tires, and doing repair work.

The meeting was well attended, and at the close refreshments were served by Mrs. Colewell and her committee.

Little Gerry Thompson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thompson is a patient in the Digby Hospital.

Mrs. Llewellyn Theriault and family, of East Ferry, are spending a week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Banks.

Clare Ladies Assist Summer Camp

Les Dames Patronesses of Clare received their charter at an impressive ceremony at St. Ann's College and during the summer holidays at which supervised programs would be initiated, put his dream into action.

and who received the charter on behalf of the group. Mrs. Tufts is the general directress of the group, a position that she has held since its inception over two years ago.

Les Dames Patronesses is a group of ladies of the Municipality of Clare who have grouped together to assist in the operation of the summer camp for young boys at Victor's Lake at Concession which was originally planned by Rev. Lanteligh of St. Ann's College staff. Rev. Lanteligh noting that something should be done to organize a summer camp at which the youth of the Municipality of Clare could spend ten days or more

He made his plans known to the people of Clare and received some assistance in the form of a barn that a certain person had no further use for, although the barn itself was well preserved and in good condition. Rev. Lanteligh had the barn torn down and with the lumber thus salvaged he started the construction of the summer camp buildings. That was only the start. He received some help from the people in the form of voluntary labour, clearing of the land on the shores of Victor's Lake and the construction of the road leading from the secondary road to the camp.

Since funds were not too plentiful to start off with, much work was done voluntarily and more assistance was required. Rev. Lanteligh called the women folk of Clare to meet at St. Ann's College about two years ago and the ladies responded in large numbers. Explaining his work and plans for the future and the necessity of assistance required to the ladies, they wholeheartedly were in favor of organizing a group to do the work outlined. Thus the Dames Patronesses came into existence.

One of their first tasks was to mend old mattresses, quilts and blankets in readiness of the second year's operation of the summer camp. The sewing sessions were held at St. Ann's College and the ladies went to work in earnest. Amid the happy chatter, needles worked feverishly by the ladies, mended, renewed the many articles that had been donated by various persons.

Les Dames Patronesses not only prepared the camp for the summer but they also were in charge of the kitchen. Each day two to three ladies spent a day at the camp preparing the meals and this goes on all summer, with most of the group having had their turn. The group also raises funds for the operation of the camp.

Although a lot of work is done free of charge there are some charges that are inevitable, such as the procuring of construction materials, the maintenance of the various buildings, and the various other expenses of the summer camp.

Special guests at the presentation of the charter were: Rev. d'Entremont, President of St. Ann's; Edward J. Theriault, Q.C., of Digby; Frank Jubis, president of the Metcalf Lions Club; Albert P. Melanson, president of the Acadian Festival, and Desire Comeau, president of the Metcalf Fire Department. A special program was presented by a group of St. Ann's College students, under the direction of Rev. Fr. Dumas, which presented several well-executed choral group songs in which Acadian folksongs predominated.

Mrs. Daniel Tufts thanked the entire group for their untiring devotion to the task of assisting Rev. Father Lanteligh in his charitable work in operating the summer camp for boys. The work of the group functioned quite smoothly during the past year and Mrs. Tufts hoped that the group would continue to work

Mr. Manson said 16 applications had been received for the course which will be conducted by Capt. Ray Walkie, of the fisheries division of the Department of Trade and Industry. Fishing boats captains from various parts of the province, who plan to offer their vessels on charter to sport fishermen, gathered in Halifax April 2 to attend lectures at the Fisheries Research Board Building 7 p.m. to 10 p.m. daily till April 6.

Sponsored by the Department of Trade and Industry, as part of a promotional program by the Nova Scotia Travel Bureau of the Department of Trade and Industry to develop salt water sport fishing potential of the province, the courses give skippers a opportunity to obtain temporary masters' certificates. Charter captains are required by law to hold such certificates.

The courses are open to any British subject not less than 21 years of age and who has at least six months experience on the water in the area in which he intends to operate. Applicants must also have a Cape Island boat or better, with a cabin, and have safety equipment and toilet facilities aboard the boat or be willing to install them.

Temperance Education Week
For Youth

Premier R. L. Stanfield has publicly endorsed Youth Temperance Education Week being in Canada this week.

Text of the Premier's statement follows:
"The Women's Christian Temperance Union through the years has taken an active part in promoting temperance among our people, and its work merits the support of all the people of Nova Scotia. Although the work of the W. C. T. U. goes on all the year, special emphasis is placed on Youth Temperance Education during the week of April 8th.

I commend the observance of Youth Temperance Education Week to all the people of Nova Scotia."

"The Sons of Temperance of Nova Scotia extends its hearty commendation of this project by our sister organization, which also stands four square for total abstinence."

Let us all strive to build up the Order and to arouse a public sentiment for sobriety that cannot be denied.

As David Harum said: "Do unto the liquor business what it would do to you and do it first."

It seems strange that experience costs so much when there is such a lot of it.

H. Deveau Heads Association

Hubert Deveau, Digby, was elected president of the Digby County Mental Health Association at the annual meeting held at the Digby Regional High School on Thursday night. Mr. Deveau succeeds V. G. Cardoza, Digby.

Other officers elected were Reginald Purdy, Digby, 1st vice-president; V. G. Cardoza, 2nd vice-president; Mrs. R. A. Armstrong, Brighton, secretary and Mrs. M. Stanton, Digby, treasurer. On the executive are Dr. Philip LeBlanc, Little Brook; Mrs. S. LeBlanc, Saultierville; Mrs. E. Campbell, Weymouth; Rev. W. P. Clayton, Acadiaville; Mrs. Hugh Morehouse, Sandy Cove; Mrs. M. P. Gott, Smith's Cove; Mr. Alphonse Belliveau, Belliveau's Cove; Father Raoul Deveau, Plympton; Mrs. Harold Dunn, Lunsdowne; Mrs. A. Raymond, Smith's Cove; Miss Marjorie Tupper, Mrs. Richard Baxter, Mrs. Hughie Dickie, Andrew Williamson, and Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby.

Nominated to represent the association on the board of the Mental Health Clinic for the area were Miss Tupper, Mrs. L. E. Doiron, Digby, and Gordon Campbell, Weymouth.

The president and secretary were appointed to represent the branch at the Canadian Mental Health Association conference to be held in Fredericton, N. B., this month.

Other than salaries of the professional staff, the Digby County Mental Health Association is responsible for operating expenses of the clinic. These expenses are shared in part by the Annapolis County Association. Two thousand and forty-seven dollars was the amount raised by the Digby County branch in the past year. Expenditures amounted to $1965.07.

Before relinquishing the chair Mr. Cardoza thanked those who co-operated during the year to help him carry on successfully in office. He stressed the importance of attendance at meetings and remarked that it is not enough to provide dollars but also hands and hearts must be given to carry out the work of the mental health association.

Completes Training

R.C.M.P. Cst. Richard Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Lewis of Rossway, Digby Co., has completed training at the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Depot, Regina, Sask.

Cst. Lewis arrived in Ottawa, April 21, where he has been posted for duty.

Addresses Kiwanians

International goodwill can only be properly and adequately developed when there is international understanding, stated Victor Cardoza, Digby, M.L.A., in an address to the Digby Kiwanis Club here last Thursday. The club was marking the 39th observance of Canada and United States Goodwill Week, sponsored by Kiwanis International.

Mr. Cardoza stated understanding between nations and individuals can only come through knowledge and one of the first steps that must be taken in the development of goodwill is the promotion of greater knowledge of peoples, government and other aspects of the life of neighbour nations.

So far as Canada and the United States are concerned, he said, there is a real need for greater knowledge about the differences and similarities between the two countries. During a visit to the University of Maine, he said, he was impressed by the desire of the students there to learn about Canada, its geography, its government and its customs. There is a need to meet this desire for knowledge and Canadian and United States universities should work together on this.

So far, Mr. Cardoza said, there is only one university study centre that is especially concerned with Canadian and American relations. This is at the University of Rochester and its director is Prof. Mason Wade. Efforts are underway, he stated, to set up a New (Please turn to page 4)

G. Ellis Receives 20 Year Award

At a recent dealers' meeting of the British American Oil Co., Ltd., held on April 16, 1962, at the Hotel Champlain, C. Gordon Ellis was presented with a two diamond pin, representing 20 years of service to the company.

The award was presented by H. O. Layson, District Manager, Nova Scotia and P.E.I., on behalf of the company.

Mr. Ellis also was presented with a gift by his staff, sales representative, F. E. Murray, Tom Gates, distributor.

Mr. Ellis began his career as a tank-wagon salesman, April, 1942, and at present is Branch superintendent at Digby, N. S.

The opening session of an intensive study course program for auxiliary police volunteers in the Digby civil defence unit was held at the Digby Fire Hall.

The program was introduced by Digby civil defence director Thomas Cleveland. An outline of the duties expected of auxiliary police volunteers in the event of an emergency was given by Reginald Turnbull, deputy director.

The responsibilities for the civil defence program at all levels of government were explained by Victor Cardoza, Digby M.L.A. He said training of volunteers in all aspects of emergency service was part of the local responsibility and stated such training could prove invaluable even in the event of a local emergency unconnected with any nuclear attack.

J. S. Turnbull was elected second vice-president, and moves up to this position from third vice-president of 1961-62.

G. L. Wilson, the victor in a field of five candidates, was elected incoming third vice-president.

Other club officers elected are: E. J. Connell, lion twister; R. H. Marshall, lion tamer; D. L. Fleet, treasurer; L. G. Ecker, secretary.

Lion Lou Ecker will serve again after several successful years as club secretary. Lion Don Fleet was re-elected for his second term as treasurer, while Lions Club Connell and Bus Marshall are new to their respective offices.

The club annually elects four directors, and in this year's election there were eight candidates. Those elected were: H. L. Elliott, R. L. Bearne, A. L. Williams, W. E. Moses.

The chairmen and committee members for the new year will be appointed by the new president, who with his fellow officers, will take over their duties as of July first.

Draggers Launched

The first launching at the historic MacLean Shipyards, Mahone Bay, since the new owners, Zinck & Legere, began operations took place Monday when the modern stern dragger Sahyis slid down the ways.

A second dragger, the Wanda Elaine, was also launched recently and will join the Sahyis in the Bay of Fundy. The 60-foot Sahyis was built for Keith Raymond Limited, of Centreville, Digby County, and was christened by Mr. Raymond's young daughter, Janis. The name of the dragger is composed of letters from owners' three daughters, Melissa, Cathy and Janis. She is powered by a 290 horsepower engine.

The Wanda Elaine was built for Llewellyn Theriault, of East Ferry. She is similar in design to the Sahyis.

CORRECTION

In the Weymouth news, issue The Digby Courier April 19, the item "Mr. Roy Thurbur" accompanied by Mrs. George Townsend and Hal Jackson of Digby are on a fishing trip at Barne's River for a few days" should have read "Mr. Roy Thurbur accompanied by Mr. George Townsend..."

C.D. Regular Meetings

The last Tuesday of the month at 8 p.m. in the Fire Hall was the time and place set for regular Civil Defence meetings in Digby. This session was made at a special meeting called last Thursday for the purpose and also for the reviewing of duties of various Civil Defence heads in the town. It was also decided that each committee meet at intervals to discuss the best methods of performing their particular duties.

It was noted the Civil Defence responsibility lay with the municipal government to prepare itself and the public in safety programs. Directions, it was noted, come from the council but each committee head and director, appointed were made acquainted on Thursday night with the duties to be carried out in his or her department. Civil Defence calls in many agencies to make a thorough program. They include health, welfare, fire, police, engineering, utilities, public information, radiological defence, legal, finance, etc. Two committee heads were still to be appointed in Digby viz health and transportation.

A resources survey was to begin to ascertain accommodation and stocks available in the town.

Green, on the Welfare Committee felt more publicity should be given to Civil Defence in the area so that people would be informed what to do and what was being done. He felt that funds should be provided for the purpose and that press agencies should not be expected to provide the information free.

It was reported on Thursday that more than 100 are registered in Civil Defence in Digby. William MacLeod, head of the welfare committee, William Troupe, emergency feeding and Graham Saunders, radiation will be taking special courses at Annapolis within the next few weeks.

Mrs. Marshall Is Honoured

"Since Jesus was the champion of women during his short lifetime, it is up to us to pledge ourselves to Him during ours," said Commissioner Mrs. W. W. Booth, of Toronto. She addressed the afternoon and evening meetings of the annual Women's Home League rally, Nova Scotia division, of the Salvation Army in Halifax. Mrs. Booth is the Canadian president of the Home League.

Each year the Home League raises money for some particular project. This year it was to add to the facilities of the camp at New Glasgow and during the afternoon each group presented its own contribution.

Four persons, all retired Home League secretaries, were honoured during the meetings. Mrs. Annie Marshall, of Digby, was also honoured. Almost 96, she has never missed a Home League rally.

In recent years he had been correspondent for the Chronicle-Herald. He died as he was typing a story to be filed to The Chronicle-Herald Sunday night.

Mr. Mills was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Mills, Truro. He is survived by his wife, the former Katherine Archibald, of Springhill Junction.

4-H Plans Annual

On Saturday, April 14th the Green Meadows 4-H Club held their meeting at the Maple Leaf Agricultural Building in Conway. There were 13 members present.

At this meeting members were to make posters and put them around to advertise the annual meeting on May 5 at which time parents and any other interested guests are invited to attend. It should be an interesting meeting with movies and refreshments.

During the past year the club has increased in membership. There are two groups at the present time, one group in calf raising, the other a group interested in gardening.

Advisors are Mr. William LeFort of Weymouth and Mr. Lloyd Jefferson of Rossway, assisted by Greg Dickie.

The officers are as follows: President — Lloyd Jefferson Junior.

Vice President — Peter Dickie. Secretary — Gerald Porter. Treasurer — Betty Ann Nichols.

To Hold Graduation

Commencement exercises will be held in St. Patrick's Church next Sunday, May 6th, at the 11:00 Mass. Right Rev. Nat. Thériault, Rector of St. Ambrose Cathedral, Yarmouth, N. S., will be the guest speaker at this ceremony.

Graduating from St. Patrick's Business College are Donna Adams, Donna Horsey, Carolyn Murley, Catherine Murphy, Robert Murphy, Elizabeth MacLennan, Judith McGee and Patricia Roberge of Digby; Veda Barr, Avelyn, Marjorie Luns, Audrey Foster, Judith Mayo, Barbara Morice, Helen Potter, Dale Robbins of Bear River; Joan Baxter, Barbara DeAdder, Angela Skidmore of Deep Brook; Lorna Theriault of East Ferry; Joyce Charlton of Granville Centre; Janet Troop, Granville Ferry; Marie Thibideau, Lequille; L. Curtis Addington, Murray Trask of Little River; Constance Hudson of Hampton; Catherine Maillet, Maville; Sheldon Gidney of Mink Cove and Anna Adams of Smith's Cove.

Golf Course Opens Saturday

Weather permitting, the Digby Golf Club will open its 1962 season on Saturday, May 5, according to information reaching Arnold MacCallum, president, from CPR officials. The grounds will be open for club play for members and prospective members.

Mr. Nick Nickerson, club professional, will be present on weekends to serve members until the clubhouse opens on June 15. It is understood that he will welcome first year golfers for lessons.

Rates for this year have increased but not in any great amount, it was stated. Marty Barnes is club secretary and can supply any necessary information. Rates with the Digby club now coincide with those of other CPR hotels.

It is expected that approximately 150 members will take advantage of the facilities of the club this season.

Persons who are interested in joining the Digby Golf Club should contact either Mr. Barnes or Mr. MacCallum, or get in touch with Mr. Nickerson at the Pro Shop.

It was stated that the course itself has wintered well, and if weather permits, a longer season will be available than in other recent years. Club officials are planning an enlarged junior development program, which Mr. Nickerson started last year, with more instruction given by club members.

The new slate of officers is as follows:

President, Arnold MacCallum; vice-president, H. G. Weber; secretary, Bill Eldridge; treasurer, Marty Barnes; match committee chairman, David Daley; membership committee chairman, Dr. P. C. Outhouse.

South Range Man Killed

Earl M. White, 20 of South Range, Digby County, was killed Saturday when the tractor he was driving overturned, pinning him beneath it.

The accident occurred as White was using the tractor to free another farm vehicle that had become stuck. No inquest has been called into the fatality.

White was unmarried. He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Gertrude White, South Range; eight brothers, Stanley, Karl, and Gordon, Ontario; Dean, Kentucky; Donald, Ray and Scott, South Range; George of Japan, and one sister, Amy (Mrs. Kenneth Lewis) South Range.

Funeral service was held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Church of Christ (Disciples), in South Range. Pastor L. B. Nethercott officiated.

Ripe Berries

On April 29 ripe strawberries were found at Rossway. Church goers discovered strawberry blossoms and ripe strawberries on the Anglican Church property on Sunday.

Observe 60th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. George Merritt, Mink Cove (above), celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary April 5th, 1962 with their family and many friends present. They received many gifts and cards of congratulations from Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and Hon. George Norlan. Mrs. Merritt was the former Flora Maude Crowell, of Sandy Cove, Digby Co.

Mr. and Mrs. Merritt were married at Sandy Cove sixty years ago and made their home in the adjoining village, where they have spent all of the years of their marriage together.

They have five children, eleven grandchildren and thirteen great grandchildren. The sons are Kenneth, Mink Cove; Bradford, Sandy Cove; Arlington, Digby; and Allison, Mink Cove. Mrs. Basil Gosson (Marguerite), Tidville, is a daughter.

All Mr. and Mrs. Merritt's children, grandchildren and great grandchildren are living.

Davis Heads Bowling League

Bowling awards were presented at the annual banquet of the Digby Bowling League, held at the Lions Club hall.

Awards chairman, Harry Titus presented the top award in the men's section of the league to Phil Robertson, captain of the H Bombs who took top place in the league this year. Other members of the H Bombs: Dick Warner, Warren Gould, Willard Carter, Vince McCarlie, Bernard Bell and Harold Ritey.

High triple award in the men's section was won by Don Fleet. Willard Carter was the winner of the high single and the highest average award went to Bus Marshall.

In the ladies section the top award was presented to Jean Manning, captain of the Lucky 7s who took first place. Other members of the team: Flossie Handspiker, Nonie Comeau, Ellen Cleveland, Dolly Milbury, Betty Smith and Doris Barr.

The high single and high triple awards in the ladies division were won by Betty Smith. High average was won by Muriel Wilson.

At the annual business meeting of the league Tom Davis was elected president to succeed Bus Marshall who headed the league for the past year. Doug Grimmer was elected vice-president and Evelyn Patterson was re-elected secretary-treasurer.

Young People Aid In Service

On Sunday morning, April 29, the Junior and C.G.I.T. Choirs led the praise and rendered special music, under the leadership of Mrs. R. H. Hughes.

Four of the Boy Scouts who have been studying for Religion and Life Awards took part in the service. Frank Ayer led the congregation in Unison reading of Scripture, Roger Wright read the first Scripture lesson, James Purvis led in prayer and John Ayer read the second Scripture lesson.

Rev. R. H. Hughes expressed thanks to all who contributed to the service and especially to Mrs. Hughes, Mrs. Elton Arnold and the organist.

Congratulates Workers

Campaign reports received at the April meeting of the Digby Red Cross Branch, held at the Court House last week with Mrs. R. B. Lent in the chair, were most encouraging, and congratulations were expressed for the Digby Town Campaign having "gone over the top" under the chairmanship of Mr. Ralph Berwick. The sum of $705.35 was collected by Mr. Berwick and his canvassers. The Digby Rural Campaign, under the chairmanship of Mr. Alfred Grimmer, was also reported to be progressing favorably, with prospects of exceeding last year's returns. The Secretary, Mrs. Elton Arnold, was directed to write a letter of sympathy to Mr. Grimmer, who had been called away by the illness and recent death of his daughter. Mrs. Lent expressed the appreciation of the Digby Branch for the efforts of both chairmen, and also all the collectors, who had worked together to make the campaign a success, and stated that reports received from Halifax headquarters were very gratifying, with Nova Scotia leading all Canada in the percentage of its quota received to date.

A successful Blood Donor Clinic, held under the auspices of the Digby Lions Club, was reported to have had a total of 182 donors. Red Cross workers assisted with registration and refreshments, and the clinic room nurses were under the direction of Mrs. S. L. Smith, convener of the Red Cross Nursing Committee. Thanks were expressed for the assistance rendered by the Lions Club in promoting the clinic, of which Mr. Russell Stonehouse was the efficient committee chairman.

Mrs. Lent reported that a Divisional Blood Donor meeting was to be held in Halifax at an early date, which it was hoped that Mr. Stonehouse would be able to attend.

Mrs. B. H. Ruggles, in presenting the treasurer's statement for the month, reported a donation of $10 for the use of a wheelchair which had recently been returned. The report of the Sickroom Loan Committee showed that the wheelchair had again gone out on loan, and that a pair of crutches was also on order from the Division.

The Women's Work Committee had received a recent shipment of sock yarn, and would soon have another shipment of finished articles ready to forward to headquarters, according to the report of the chairman, Mrs. H. M. Warrne.

Mrs. Ralph Berwick, convener of the Ways and Means Committee, reported the purchase of supplies to the amount of $8.45 for local Disaster Kits, and a balance of $26 on hand from the proceeds of weekly Ten Cent Teas, were extended to all members who had provided refreshments for the teas during the month. The meeting concluded with the customary social hour under the auspices of the Ways and Means Committee.

Candidates Baptized

Fifteen candidates for membership in the Baptist church of Digby and Hill Grove received the ordinance of Baptism at the service held in the Digby church last Sunday night. The service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, Rev. L. R. Atkinson preached the sermon. These candidates will be received into the membership of the church at the services next Sunday.

The monthly meeting of the Women's League of the Baptist church was held on Tuesday evening. Plans were discussed concerning the entertainment of delegates to the Digby-Annapolis Association to be held in the Digby church May 22nd and 23rd.

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Hill Grove church conducted a successful Spring Tea and Fancy Sale in the church hall last week. Proceeds will be used to help meet digging of an artesian well and the installation of plumbing in the hall.

On this coming Saturday night the monthly meeting of the Brotherhood group of the Baptist Church of Digby will be held in the church hall.

Cabinet Changes Announced

Premier Robert Stanfield announced on Tuesday major changes in the provincial cabinet.

Hon. G. I. Smith relinquishes his highways portfolio to assume the new portfolio of finance and economics. He retains chairmanship of the Nova Scotia Power Commission.

Hon. Stephen T. Pyke becomes minister of highways. He retains his portfolio of public works, but relinquishes his portfolio of labor.

Hon. Layton Ferguson takes over as minister of labor, retaining his portfolio of municipal affairs but retiring as minister in charge of civil defence.

Welfare Minister W. S. K. Jones will assume the added responsibility of minister in charge of civil defence and minister under the Water Act. Premier Stanfield relinquishes responsibilities as provincial treasurer to Mr. Smith, minister of finance and economics.

Hotel Has New Ownership

Hotel Champlain is now under the new ownership of Fundy Hotels Ltd., with Archie Cohen, Yarmouth, president. Jack Croft, who has been manager of the hotel since last September, will remain as manager under the new owners.

Mr. Cohen said that the hotel was now undergoing a complete redecoration, both interior and on the exterior, and will be in renewed condition in time for the tourist trade as well as for the general and commercial patrons. It is Mr. Cohen's plan to build also a modern motel on the premises in the future.

Mr. Cohen, a native of Yarmouth, is married to the former Olive Lewis, of Yarmouth, and who was the Apple Blossom Festival Queen in 1951 when she represented Digby. At that time Mrs. Cohen had been employed at J. Margolian & Co. Mr. and Mrs. Cohen have three children.

Friend of the family.

Bring some cars home and they'll take you to the cleaners.

Not a Volkswagen.

AVW takes care of your gas. If you're careful you might even get 45 miles out of a gallon.

But day in, day out you can expect to get 38.

It's even stingier with oil. Never needs a drop between changes.

Another thing. Our car is very easy on its tires. You won't be setting any records if yours last 40,000 miles.

When the time comes for maintenance, you'll find that repairs which cost a conventional car owner an arm and a leg hardly disturb your budget.

You can trust a Volkswagen with your money.

But how about your wife?

When she discovers the charm of driving a VW, and how easy it is to park, they are likely to run away together.

In spite of appearances to the contrary, there's a lot of room in a Volkswagen.

Mum, dad, three growing kids, the dog and the luggage all fit in comfortably.

If you've got a car that's eating you out of house and home, it's time you met a Volkswagen.

(Nothing formal. Just drop in and get acquainted.)

Who knows? Your family might decide to give one of our cars a good home.

Marriage

Foley - Milbury

The United Baptist Church Chapel at Kentville was the scene of a pretty wedding of interest to many on April 21 when Viola Joyce, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Milbury and Robert Douglas, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Foley, Victoria Beach, were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony by Rev. G. N. Hamilton. The chapel was decorated with baskets of Easter lilies.

Due to illness of the bride's father she was given in marriage by her uncle, Webb Milbury. The bride looked beautiful in a street length dress of turquoise lace over taffeta with full skirt and matching bolero with three-quarter length sleeves. She wore white accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

The bride was attended by Mrs. Fred Eldridge as matron of honour who wore an apricot nylon dress with white accessories and by Virginia Atwell as bridesmaid, who wore a sheath dress of champagne brocade lined, and rayon, and white accessories. They wore corsages of white carnations.

Miss Geraldine Milbury was flower girl and looked winsome in a dress of white nylon, flower band and carried a nosegay of pink and white carnations.

The bride's mother chose a beige suit with pink accessories and the groom's mother was attired in a navy sheath dress with white accessories and they wore corsages of pink carnations.

The groom was attended by Russell Halliday and the usher was Donald Burgher, Kentville. The wedding music was played by Mrs. G. N. Hamilton and during the signing of the register a duet, "The Lord is My Shepherd", was rendered by Mrs. Orbin Everett and Mrs. Charles Taylor, grandmother and great aunt of the groom.

Following the ceremony the Dorcas Society catered to a reception at the church hall for approximately 50 guests. Presiding over the tea cups were Mrs. Gladys Porter, M. L. A., and the pastor's wife, Mrs. G. N. Hamilton. Mrs. Webb Milbury had charge of the guest book.

Out of own guests were from Victoria Beach, Halifax, Wolfville, Bridgetown, and Middleton. The bride is employed at M. T. & T. Co. Ltd., in Kentville, and the groom is on the staff of Burns' Fisheries, Halifax.

For going away the bride chose a green suit with white accessories.

Later in the evening another reception was tendered them at the home of the groom's parents, at Victoria Beach. A delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Fred Ryan, Mrs. LeRoy Haynes, Mrs. Melbourne Hudson Jr., Mrs. George Taylor and Mrs. James Everett. Mrs. Charles Taylor poured and Miss Rose Foley had charge of the guest book. The many useful wedding gifts included money, linen, china and electrical appliances.

The happy couple will reside at 26 Brook Ave., Kentville.

SURPRISE STUFFING UNDER ALL!

If your family is small or your guests few, you'll delight in his recipe for a holiday bird, cleverly portioned and baked on top of a tangy stuffing. In fact, this Saucy Chicken with Citrus Stuffing can be the answer to menu problems on many occasions. A chicken from the freezer, or cut-up chicken from the store can be fashioned quickly into an oven meal that's easy to prepare and delicious to eat. An interesting sauce containing lemon and orange juice and rinds, brown sugar and sherry is used to baste the chicken pieces as they bake over the fluffy bread stuffing. The result is a new flavor in stuffed poultry — a combination of tangy citrus, sweet sherry, bland bread crumbs and meaty chicken. The test is in the tasting. Why not try it?

Saucy Chicken with Citrus Stuffing

2 teaspoons grated lemon rind
1 teaspoon grated orange rind
1/2 cup orange juice
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/2 cup brown sugar, firmly packed
2 tablespoons sherry
6 cups soft enriched white bread cubes
1/2 cup chopped parsley
1 teaspoon salt
one 3 pound frying chicken, quartered
Combine one teaspoon lemon rind with orange rind, orange juice, lemon juice and brown sugar in a small saucepan. Bring to a boil and simmer for 20 minutes. Remove from heat and add sherry. Combine soft bread cubes, parsley, salt and remaining lemon rind, and toss lightly. Place stuffing mixture in bottom of a lightly greased square baking dish or casserole. Place chicken quarters over stuffing, cut side down. Pour half the sauce over chicken and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 45 minutes. Pour remaining sauce over chicken and cook for an additional 30 minutes. Yield: 4 servings.

THE EGG AND YOU

Among the most versatile of foods, eggs are an excellent and comparatively inexpensive way to step up the protein in family meals. Use eggs as freely as possible in desserts and sauces and serve them often in place of meat or fish.

We use eggs to thicken a custard or sauce, to leaven or lighten a soufflé or cake, to hold oil and vinegar together in a creamy mayonnaise. Eggs star in a countless variety of appetizers, soups and main dishes, sandwiches and salads. No wonder a famous chef once called the egg "the cement that holds the castles of cookery together!"

Here are a few pointers on storing and cooking eggs, as well as a few simple explanations for the cookery terms referring to eggs in recipes.

To Store Eggs

Treat a good egg right by storing it under proper conditions. The three rules to remember are clean, covered and cold.

Remove soiled spots from shell with a damp cloth, but don't wash eggs until you're ready to use them. When eggs are first laid, the shells have a film known as a "bloom" which seals the pores and helps keep out bacteria and odors. Washing removes this protective film.

Store eggs in a covered bowl or pan, away from strongly-flavored foods. Without a cover, eggs lose moisture faster and are more likely to absorb odors.

Keep eggs in the refrigerator or other cold place stored at room temperature, eggs can lose as much in quality in three days as those kept for two weeks in the refrigerator.

To Cook Eggs

Use a low temperature when cooking eggs. This is the fundamental rule to remember whether you're poaching, frying or baking them. Like all protein foods, eggs cooked at too high a temperature become tough and leathery.

To help prevent a dark ring forming around the yolks of hard-cooked eggs, immerse them in cold water immediately after cooking.

To add eggs to a hot mixture, pour a little of the hot mixture into the beaten eggs and blend well. Then slowly add the egg mixture to the remaining hot mixture stirring all the time.

To combine beaten egg whites with other mixtures, fold — don't stir — using a light under-and-over motion. When making omelets and soufflés, fold the heavy mixture into the beaten egg whites, not the whites into the other mixture. Avoid overmixing or you'll lose some of the air you've beaten into the egg whites.

TO BEAT EGGS

Eggs, lightly beaten: means whole eggs beaten just enough to blend whites and yolks. Used in recipes for scrambled eggs, baked custards, some sauces, cookies and cakes.

Eggs, well beaten: means whole eggs beaten until they are light and frothy. Used in recipes for some cakes, cookies.

Egg Yolks, well beaten: means egg yolks beaten until they stand in peaks when beater is removed. The points of these peaks droop over a bit and the surface is still moist and glossy. Used in recipes for some cakes, meringues.

Egg Whites, beaten very stiff: means egg whites beaten until the peaks stand upright without drooping when beater is removed. The surface of the egg whites looks dry. Used in recipes for chiffon cakes.

Culloden

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Gidney were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Horn of Calgary, Alta., Mr. Willard Gidney of Yarmouth and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gidney of Dartmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. William Hutchinson and son Bill of Bridgewater spent Easter weekend with Mr. Hutchinson's mother, Mrs. Dorothy Hutchinson.

L.A.C. Carl Stark, Mrs. Stark and family spent the Easter holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Stark. Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Betts and family of Saint John spent the weekend with Mrs. Betts' mother, Mrs. Gladys Handspiker.

Mrs. Sadie Stark has been enjoying a visit from her granddaughter Miss Sheila Bishop of Kentville for a few days. Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bishop accompanied by daughters, Sharon Ann and Debbie arrived to spend Sunday with Mrs. Stark.

If You're TIRED

Now and then everybody gets a "tired-out" feeling and may be bothered by backache. Perhaps nothing seriously wrong, just a temporary condition caused by urinary irritation or bladder discomfort. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's helps stimulate the kidneys to relieve this condition which may often cause backache and tired feeling. Then you feel better, rest better, work better.

Festival Brings Towns Together

In just three short weeks the Annapolis Valley will be a hive of activity for the opening of the 30th Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival, June 1-4.

The adjustment from long months of snow so recently past to the gentle days of summer heralded by the apple blossoms would be difficult to make were it not for this annual event.

In charge of festivities this year is Acadia Vice-President, Dr. R. S. Longley, who has been associated with the festival for a number of years. Official participation began for him when he became Mayor of Wolfville in 1956 and represented the town.

Last year he was Vice-President and Chairman of the program committee. "My interest in the Apple Blossom Festival," said Dr. Longley, "stems from an interest in the Annapolis Valley itself, both historically and economically." He felt the festival was part of the economy of the whole area, and that even if it did nothing to promote the tourist industry the festival would do much good because of the way it brought the Valley towns together in inter-community spirit, both socially and co-operatively.

Dr. Longley's strong feelings for the Valley were demonstrated in 1960 when he was chairman of the Planter's Festival and again in 1961 when he headed a committee which sponsored a coloured tourists brochure of the Annapolis Valley.

The festival committee were meeting after press time in Kentville last night to make final arrangements for the program.

In addition to the regular parades, dancing, banquets and tours by the royal party, some surprises can be expected on the program from the committee dedicated to keeping the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival alive in every sense of the word.

Combined Party

The teachers of the Digby Primary School held a combined farewell party-stork shower on Thursday evening, May 3, at the home of Mrs. Phillip Kaye, for Mrs. Danny Bremner, who is resigning from the teaching staff.

A pleasant evening was spent playing games, singing and listening to piano selections.

The guest of honor, Mrs. Bremner, was presented with many lovely gifts, from the teachers of the primary staff.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, Miss Peggy Jones assisted in serving the guests.

Two Digby Men Considered By Liberals

The Digby-Annapolis-Kings Liberal nominating convention will be held next Wednesday evening in Middleton. Names most often mentioned as likely candidates are Eric W. Balcum, as ex-MLA and one-time Wolfville Mayor; ex-Mayor Roy W. Rottler, lawyer E. B. Kinsman and Mrs. F. H. Burns, Kentville; Berwick barrister Don Hall; Peter Nicholson, M.L.A., and A.V.M. A. L. Morfee, Annapolis Royal; J. E. Steadman, a school teacher, and J. Nichols, Digby; it is understood.

Town Considers Paving Program

Although the letter to the Digby Town Council from the Nova Scotia Department of Municipal Affairs pointed out that a paving program would not save on maintenance of streets as much as the town had anticipated, the town council at the regular meeting on Monday night was encouraged that a paving program for the town was a possibility. While the letter from the Deputy Minister of Municipal Affairs, Mr. Moseley, did not in any way discourage the project it was pointed out that the pavement would have to be seal coated every four or five years and other repairs made so that the savings on repairs would not cover the payments on borrowing and also the upkeep of the streets. His Worship Mayor V. L. Bent apologized to the councillors for the unintentional miscalculation but felt that their project was still hopeful.

Councillor Helen Anthony said that she had been encountered with the sewer problem when the question of paving was mentioned by interested citizens of the town. This problem was discounted by the councillors because the sewers in most cases are not laid under the streets but are laid on the sides of the streets. There are two sewers only in town which go under the streets, it was noted.

Atlee Cornwell, King St., appeared before the council on Monday evening on behalf of himself and four other families in his neighborhood who were having difficulties with cesspools. He requested the town to provide a sewage system for their properties. The matter was left in the hands of the sewage committee.

Permission was granted to Ralph Velmot, 114 Warwick St., to erect a private garage on his property. Permission was also given to Pyne's Market and to Fred Mulse to carry out repairs on their buildings which would require making use of part of the sidewalk while doing the work.

The report of the streets committee showed that the usual graving, ditching and breast work had been necessary. Plans were made to renew the markings of the way of pedestrians on the pavement at the dangerous corner of Warwick St. and Montague Row.

A request was made from the Digby General Hospital asking that the hospital be advised when work would be done on the water mains. When work was done recently without their knowledge, the letter stated, x-ray films had been ruined by the condition of the water, washing could not be done and the water could not be used for cooking. The matter was to be brought to the attention of the streets superintendent.

Permission was granted to the Navy League to hold tag days on May 18 and 19.

In reporting on Civil Defence, Leigh Jayne, the town representative said that the past few months had shown a decided improvement in the Civil Defence program in the town. This he said was substantiated by reports from Thomas Cleveland, director in Digby and also from Donald Machum, Wolfville, Zone co-ordinator. Mr. Cleveland requested more support from the town council in attendance at Civil Defence meetings and by showing interest in general. Three have left for courses at Ampror, Joseph Doucette, Earle Anderson and Robert Handspiker.

Another improvement noted was that of the dog situation in town. Seven dogs were reported as having been impounded during the last month and fewer complaints had been laid regarding dogs running loose.

The police committee showed twenty complaints had been laid with the police department, 10 needed further investigation and all but two had been terminated satisfactorily. Six required court action, two under the criminal code and four under the liquor control act. Two cases are still pending.

A letter was read at the council meeting from the Department of Municipal Affairs containing a digest of changes in acts from the last legislative session which effected towns and cities in the

Addresses Council On Mental Health

Dr. R. A. Armstrong addressed Digby Town Council on Monday night on the Mental Health Clinic here and the Annapolis Mental Health Services Board which serves the two clinics, one at Bridgetown and the other at Digby. There are twenty-four members on the Board elected to represent the Mental Health Associations in the area, the Medical Associations, Ministerial Associations and other appointments. There are an equal number from each county. It is the responsibility of the Mental Health Associations to raise funds for the running expenses of the clinics. This amounts to approximately $2,000 per year for each clinic. The Province of Nova Scotia takes the responsibility of providing salaries for the professional personnel, travelling and original office furniture.

Dr. Armstrong paid tribute to the mental health system as carried on in Nova Scotia and said that it is one which has captured the interest of other provinces in Canada.

In speaking of the program in Digby, he said it is one of "prevention." One field in which they are particularly interested is the retarded child. The retarded child, the speaker said, is often a shock to parents, an upset to the family and leads to other emotional difficulties in the family.

Early diagnosis of mental illness is important, the doctor said. Lack of advantages, he said, often make people more prone to mental illness. If illness is caught early there are fewer to enter hospitals, there are fewer who must be detained from work, fewer lives disrupted, fewer to disrupt the lives of others and the cost is much less when treatment is started early.

Dr. Armstrong continued his talk with rehabilitating of patients on their return from hospital, the work carried on in cooperation with the Digby General Hospital and also the Department of Public Welfare.

Campaign Begins

This month, throughout Canada, is known as Red Shield month. Canadians everywhere have come to recognize the Red Shield as a symbol of service. They know that wherever the sign appears, some activity to sustain morale, ease conditions or solve personal problems is in progress.

As part of the great Church of Christ, the Salvation Army has helped to teach men, in a new way, that there is no degradation too great for redemption, no darkness too black for the dawn, no despair too deep for hope. They have gone with their music and faith into the dark places of the world, where famine and poverty have been the chief companions of men.

The campaign with an objective of $2,000 for Digby County got underway last week with Philip Woolaver, County Chairman, Mrs. Woolaver, Residential Convener, H. C. Morton, Treasurer, James Ayer, Business Convener and Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Publicity.

When the Army calls, give from the heart. Your assistance will help the Salvation Army to continue this vital ministry to the needy.

New Deputy Town Clerk

John Whalley, of Clarence, N. S., was appointed new deputy town clerk, it was announced at the Digby Town Council on Monday night.

Mr. Whalley takes the place of Carl Warner, who recently moved, with his family, to Bridgetown, where he accepted a position as town clerk there.

One in particular noted was that towns could now acquire property for industrial purposes under the new legislation.

Nowlan Nominated Sixth Time

Hon. George Nowlan

M. S. Leonard in glowing appreciation of Hon. George Nowlan and the record of the conservative federal government administration, moved the nomination of Mr. Nowlan to run as Progressive Conservative candidate for Digby, Annapolis and Kings in the June 18 election. The nomination seconded by Mrs. Gladys Porter, M.L.A., Kentville, was made at a convention held in Bridgetown on Wednesday evening. Mr. Leonard in moving the nomination said that we are experiencing the greatest prosperity that this nation has ever known in history. The meeting was chaired by Gordon Goucher, Middleton.

Minor Hockey Closing Banquet

The Annual Minor Hockey League closing Banquet will be held on Thursday, May 24, at 6 p.m. The guest speaker will be Mr. Danny Gallivan, the famous T.V. and radio hockey commentator.

Mr. Gallivan is a Maritimer now working for radio station CJAD, Montreal, and is responsible for the commentaries both radio and TV of all the games played by Montreal at the Forum.

Mr. Gallivan, a graduate of St. Francis Xavier University, possesses a wealth of hockey experience and anecdotes. As an accomplished public speaker he should add lustre to this gathering of Minor League players, parents and coaches.

At this banquet the award winners will be named and the trophies presented to the coaches and their winning teams.

It is interesting to note Mr. Gallivan is the fourth outstanding personality in the field of hockey to be present at a Digby Minor Hockey banquet. Other sports notables have included Forbes Kennedy of Detroit Red Wings; Major Fred Kelly of Acadia University; Maurice (Rocket) Richard of Montreal Canadiens.

The Physical Education Department and Students Council of the Digby Regional High School, together with the interested teachers and parent heads of the various league farm systems are to be congratulated for producing such an efficient program of Minor League hockey and for winding it up with a social function of such high calibre.

Clinic At Lions Hall

May 14 is the date for a spring diagnostic clinic to be held at the Lions Club Hall, Digby.

The clinic is one of a series for needy handicapped and crippled children in the province being conducted by the Nova Scotia Society for Care of Crippled Children in co-operation with 31 service clubs or franchise holders. Assistance is provided for special projects from health grants.

Alternating at the clinics will be Halifax paediatricians Drs. Maureen Roberts, Bruce Morton and R. M. Ritchie, and orthopaedic surgeons Drs. John C. Acker and A. M. Sinclair. Miss Amy Elliott, field worker for the society, will be present at all sessions.

Encouraging Replies Wharf Proposal

Five replies were received by the Digby Board of Trade and presented at the regular meeting on Tuesday evening respecting the proposal placed before Hon. D. J. Walker, Minister of Public Works, to have extensions made to the Digby wharf. The proposal suggested an extension of 250 feet, relocation of the floating slip, deeper dredging in particular areas, greater protection from waves and other improved facilities to accommodate present fishing boats and prospective future fishing fleets as well as other users of the wharf.

Replies were read from letters sent to Prime Minister John Diefenbaker, Hon. George Nowlan, Hon. Mr. Walker, Premier Robert Stanfield and V. G. Cardozo. In replying for Mr. Walker, the deputy minister, H. A. Young said that officials of the department had been requested to carry out investigation. In view of the major requirements, he said, it will be necessary to make a survey and in all probability take borings where new work and dredging is requested. The letter stated that when the engineering report is received and studied every consideration will be given if found feasible and the Board will be informed of action proposed by the department when the study is completed.

Leightons In Toronto

It may be possible one day to predict the kinds of societies where mental illness is most likely to occur, according to research being conducted by Cornell University in different cultures.

Two Cornell psychiatrists, Doctors Alexander H. and Dorothea C. Leighton, reported in Toronto this week at the Annual Meetings of the American Psychiatric Association that it is possible to have change in society without increasing mental illness if familiar human relations can be preserved during the change.

Cornell social scientists have found, in studies of vastly different cultures, that when the familiar patterns of a society break down there is a rise in mental disturbance. People from developing African nations or metropolitan New York need to feel they are important members of important groups.

St. Patrick's Graduation

The annual commencement exercises of St. Patrick's Business College were held in St. Patrick's Church, May 6th, at eleven o'clock. Those participating in the ceremony entered the church and proceeded up the main aisle as follows: Cross Bearer, Gerry Connelly; acolytes, John Martin and Paul Connelly; the organist at St. Patrick's Church, Celebrant, Right Reverend Nil Theriault; Master of Ceremony, David Wood. The girls and boys of the graduating class were clad in gowns and caps and they took their place in the sanctuary for the Mass which followed immediately.

The High Mass sung was by Arthur De Meuleneester, in three voices. The choir was conducted by Rev. Luc Gaudet, Pastor, who was accompanied at the Organ by Mr. E. J. Theriault, O.C., organist at St. Patrick's Church. The guest soloists were Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Deveau, who sang "Ave Maria" by Rosewile.

Mayor Vernon Bent and Mrs. Bent were present at the ceremony.

The address to the graduates was given by Rt. Rev. Nil Theriault, Rector of St. Ambrose Cathedral, Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, who was the Celebrant and guest speaker. Monsignor Theriault, in speaking to the graduates, said, "Not many graduates can qualify as 'Mountain Climbers.' You can on two counts — For the past year, in fair weather and foul, you have climbed the steep hill to St. Patrick's Business College, and this is proof enough of an outstanding physique. Figuratively you have climbed a new height of personal skill, no doubt aptly expressed in the parchments which will soon be yours. When I offer my congratulations for having attained these new heights, I would wish them to be shared by your loved ones, who have ever been at your side with warm love and financial support. Above all I wish them to be shared by the school which made all this possible.

Regarding the high standard of St. Patrick's Business College may I mention that I know of no school in this Province enjoying a higher standard in the area of Commercial Training than your own St. Patrick's in Digby. This is meant as no flattery, but as further evidence of my own personal belief that the current system of consolidation of schools may, and I believe will, sooner or later, affect adversely the training and development of the individual students.

Dear graduates, we have come to the happy day of your graduation! At this point, I see a fly in the ointment of your success. You may not be aware that a handicapped person, a marked individual... First of all, he has lost one good excuse for being useless. Then too, he has burned his bridges. You can never return to where you were; hard as it has been to learn it is still harder to unlearn. You are now endowed with certain skills which you have no power to abdicate. You may go ahead but you can never go back.

This is the Age of Automation. Man has invented himself out of a job, automation will gradually rob you of your personality. The good God, Who created you, endowed each one of you with life, liberty and free will, with love and willingness to serve, with an endless potential for kindness and self-giving. Now you are going into a business world where all these qualities must be translated into stocks. The tragedy of the new system of Automation is that the richest qualities possessed by women, the qualities that will make them loving mothers and dedicated wives, are of little or no value in business where nimble fingers are valued more than a generous heart. Call this progress — I call it servitude.

The graduate is called upon to serve in noble ways. You need not feel shy about this innate desire to do good, to be helpful, to radiate love and kindness around you. Be as-

Endorse Wharf Proposal

The Digby Town Council on Monday night endorsed the proposal of the Digby Board of Trade to request the federal government for an extension to the Digby Wharf. The proposal endorsed by the town was one which had been forwarded by the Trade Board to the Hon. David J. Walker, Minister of Public Works and of which copies had been forwarded to other federal and provincial government members.

The proposal pointed out that a survey had been made which revealed that the present wharf facilities were unsatisfactory for the number and size of the boats now making use of them and were totally inadequate for the anticipated future growth of the industry. Request was made for the extension of the present wharf by at least 250 feet, to relocate the floating slip to avoid congestion as experienced at present and deeper dredging to at least 16 feet so as to accommodate modern druggers. Concrete facing below the level of low tide on the outer side of the present spur and ell was also requested.

An alternative proposal was made to extend the present wharf in the form of an "F" to increase berthing facilities.

The letter forwarded to the government officials pointed out that the future of the Nova Scotia fishing industry is dependent on the use of larger vessels in order to compete with the very modern equipment now being used by Russia and other foreign countries. Fishermen in the Digby district are desirous of taking advantage of loans provided for building of larger boats but hesitate to do so as present facilities cannot handle the larger boats which are necessary for profitable operations, the letter stated. It also noted the ice-free harbour, the proximity of Digby to modern fish plants and other advantages.

Letters were also read at the council meeting on Monday night regarding the proposed New England-Nova Scotia ferry. The town of Windsor approved in principle the resolution to have Digby a terminus for the proposed ferry, the town of Wolfville and the Municipality of West Hants endorsed the resolution. A letter from the Minister of Transport, Mr. Walker, stated that the Bluenose service attracted heavy traffic in the summer but for the remainder of the year the traffic was so light that it operated with a deficit. The matter of a new ferry, he stated, was still under study and such factors as the shortest route, providing new terminal facilities must be considered.

Municipal Council In May Session

Routine business took up the opening day of the Digby Municipal Council on Monday.

On Tuesday a great deal of the discussion centred around the abandoned school houses in the communities. The discussion was sparked off when Oliver Belliveau and Forman Hulbert of Roxville appeared before the council seeking to purchase the closed school on behalf of the Roxville residents for a community hall. They stated that adults there had no place to meet and adult education therefore was suffering and that the young people walked the streets for want of a place to go.

sure that your desire to be useful is a true and noble one. We shall now point out three objects, truly worthy of your service, even to the point of complete personal dedication — Truth, Honesty and Purity of Life.

First: Truth — Truth means a true sense of values, hence a good sense of humor.

When our Saviour stood before Pontius Pilate He said, "For this have I come into the world to bear witness to the TRUTH." He was not speak-

To Appear In Digby

Jean Marshall (above), star of "Reflections", a CBC network production from Halifax, will appear in a minstrel show next Tuesday evening at the Digby Regional High School auditorium.

Jean has had no formal voice training. She took piano lessons for two years as a child in her home town of Yarmouth. Following her graduation from the Yarmouth County Academy, Jean started singing with a local dance band led by Furber Marshall, whom she later married.

She made her first appearance on CBC radio in 1957, on a Maritime network program called "Caravan". It originated from Digby where she was living at the time. In 1958 she auditioned for CBC radio Talent Festival, a music competition program. She won the regional finals and went to Toronto to appear in the national finals. Her success on Talent Festival led to numerous appearances on network radio. She also starred on a local television show and made frequent appearances as guest soloist on "Reflections" when it was telecast on the Maritime Television Network. In the spring of 1960 she became a regular soloist on the program.

The program next Tuesday night is sponsored by the Digby Kiwanis Club, and will feature other local performers in an evening of pure pleasure. Proceeds will go for community youth work.

Clean-up Week Proclaimed

By request of the Digby Fire Department, Digby Town Council decided on Monday night to issue a proclamation to have May 20 to 26 set aside this year as Clean-up Week in Digby. During this week the fire department will make inspection of the town and advise of public and private places in need of cleaning up. The week is observed not only to clean up for appearances sake, but also to clear up any existing fire hazards.

Four properties in town were cited on Monday night as being in especially unsightly or dangerous condition. Owners of these properties had previously been warned of their duties to have the properties cleaned up. In one case a satisfactory attempt is being made by the owner to clear away the debris, another is in the stage of a second warning, the third will have a notice posted to have the property made safe and the unsightliness cleaned up or concealed. In the fourth case, last steps had already been taken in warnings to the owner and the superintendent of streets was authorized to clean up the condition and necessary steps be taken to collect the cost from the owner.

The fire department report presented to the town on Monday night reported that the west end of the fire station was in need of repairs and also that children were playing on the roof of the building. In the latter case, the council moved that the public be alerted about the children and have the practice stopped.

Delightful Disclosure

It's true you can't always tell a book by its cover. The expression easily can be applied to foods too. Many tasty concoctions lie hidden beneath ordinary looking toppings and crusts, to give the diner an unexpected surprise once he digs beneath the surface. Such a dish is Salmon Roll-up with a double delight in store. Minced parsley and lemon juice in the dough produce a pleasant flavor change in what to the casual eye may look like an ordinary crust. And it encases a hearty filling of canned salmon with the added savor of chili sauce and ripe olives. Served in thick slices and topped with a suitable sauce, Salmon Roll-up is a winter dinner winner. It'll win approval, too, as an unusual, hearty snack at a teenagers' or stag party.

SALMON ROLL-UP

2 cups canned salmon (1, 1 lb. can)
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 cup chili sauce
2 tablespoons minced onion
1/2 cup chopped ripe olives
Grated rind and juice of 1/2 lemon
3 tablespoons minced parsley
2 cups biscuit mix
1/2 cup water
1 egg yolk
2 tablespoons milk

Drain salmon; flake. Blend in salt, pepper, chili sauce, onion, olives and lemon rind. With fork lightly mix parsley into biscuit mix. Combine lemon juice and water. Prepare biscuit mix according to package directions, but use lemon-water mixture instead of milk. Roll dough out on lightly floured board into rectangle 8 x 13 inches. Spread with salmon mixture. Roll up as for jelly roll. Combine egg yolk and milk, use a little to dampen outside edge of dough. Press in to seal. Lay roll seam side down on greased, floured baking sheet. Brush top and sides with rest of egg-milk mixture. Bake in preheated oven, 400 degrees F., hot, 30 to 40 minutes. Cut into six slices; serve hot with mushroom or tomato sauce. Makes 6 servings.

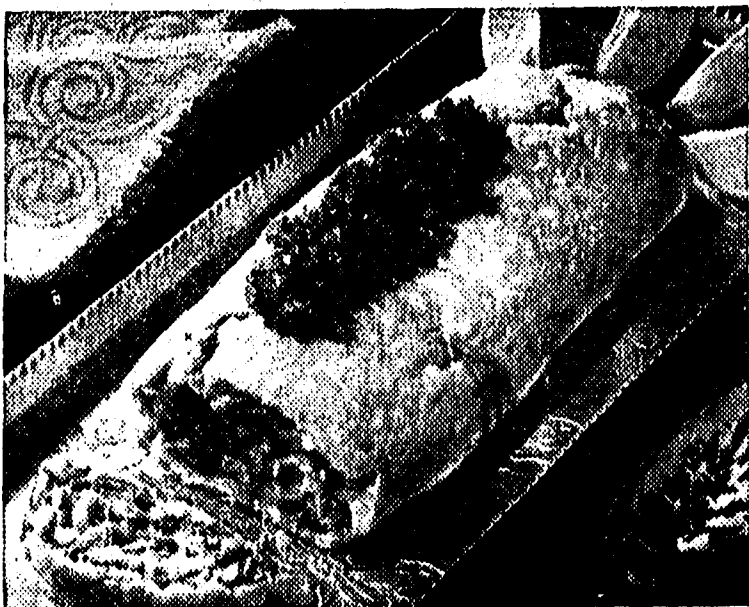

A Real Nutty Pie

In the 16th century a Spanish explorer visited Texas and reported that the Indians along the gulf coast retired each autumn to the river bottoms and ate pecans to ward off starvation. Strangely enough, it wasn't until approximately 20 years ago that people outside the south central section of the United States, where the pecans grew, realized the commercial possibilities of these rich, flavorful nuts. And even in areas where they grew wild, little effort was made to harvest them.

Nowadays, the pecans industry is big business and the nuts are exported around the world; although pecan pie is still thought of as a southern novelty. This recipe for Pecan Sponge Pie is an unusual version of the original. As the pie bakes, the filling separates into two layers, a sponge-like topping over a rich, sauce-like mixture. The result is a deliciously different pie that is not quite as sweet or heavy as the more conventional kind, but just as flavorful. If one wishes to save time, a packaged mix may be used for making the shell.

PECAN SPONGE PIE

Yield — 1 pie
Pie paste
2 eggs separated
1/2 cup lightly packed brown sugar
1/2 cup corn syrup
2 tablespoons soft butter or margarine
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1/4 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk
1/2 cup pecan halves
Preheat oven to 375 deg. F. (moderately hot).
Line a pie plate (8 1/2 inches, top inside measure) with rolled out pie paste; trim and crimp edges of paste. Beat egg whites until stiff, but not dry. Beat egg yolks slightly; stir in brown sugar, corn syrup, soft butter or margarine and lemon juice. Combine flour, baking powder and salt in small sieve; sprinkle over egg yolk mixture and combine well. Gradually stir in milk and pecans. Fold in beaten egg whites. Pour mixture into pre-

Pre-Sifted Flours A Gimmick?

Some milling companies have used the term "pre-sifted" when advertising their flour for sale on the retail market.

This suggests a simplification in using the flour and an economy for the user, since the accompanying directions state that, per cup, measured approximately one tablespoon of flour can be removed and saved.

The following information taken from the Consumer's Association of Canada Bulletin, was obtained by experts who are concerned with the milling of wheat and the use of flour.

1. "Sifting" is a part of the milling process and has been for years. The flour is sifted through several very fine silk screens, much finer than the flour sifters used generally in the preparation of baked goods. Therefore all flour is "pre-sifted" before we buy it.

2. When the flour is packaged into bags, it packs down, this is inevitable. If that flour is sifted immediately before use, thus incorporating air into it, it will be of greater volume than before sifting, the difference being about one tablespoon per cup of flour.

3. If "pre-sifted" flour is prepared in the mill by an additional sifting over and above that generally practiced it might produce a more uniform homogeneous product, but it is doubtful if there would be any significant advantage.

4. The cereal chemist consulted were of the opinion that "pre-sifted" was just an advertising "gimmick". They say that practically all milling companies are now labelling the flours pre-sifted.

However, recipes for flour mixtures have enough tolerance in them to compensate for some variation both in the composition of the flour and the methods of measuring it.

Food Fillers

A pretty open sandwich for afternoon tea can be made simply by first cutting the crusts off several slices of white bread then cutting the bread into one inch strips. Spread each strip with clear plum or cherry jelly and sprinkle grated coconut on top.

French Toast becomes a filling luncheon dish when it's made the following way. In a shallow dish, combine three slightly beaten eggs, one cup of milk, one quarter teaspoon salt and one quarter teaspoon Worcestershire sauce. Melt one third cup of butter in a skillet. Taking two or three at a time, dip twelve slices of bread into the egg mixture, then brown them on one side in the hot butter. Turn. Sprinkle the browned side of each slice with two tablespoons of grated cheddar cheese. Remove the slices from the skillet and serve them when the cheese is melted and the undersides brown.

When making sandwiches for a bridge luncheon or tea party, choose several different breads for flavor and variety. To save time, fillings can be prepared beforehand and stored, in tightly covered containers, in the refrigerator or a very cool place.

Judges use several tried and true tests for judging breads at a contest. They first look at appearance. Bread should be as symmetrical as possible, with an evenly rounded top. The bread should also have a good texture or "crumb" with many little holes, all about the same size. When fingers are rubbed gently over the cut end, the interior should feel soft and fine with no crumbliness, tear easily and show uniform texture. In fancy breads, even distribution of special ingredients is important. This means that the chopped fruits or spices in a loaf should be even throughout and not jammed up in one corner, or just underneath the surface.

Glass absorbs heat more readily than metal therefore if glass baking pans are used for baking, even temperatures should be reduced by twenty-five degrees.

When one beats a cake the ingredients are rapidly blended together with a vertical circular motion to enclose as much air as possible. A slotted spoon should be used for beating the mixture. When two previously beaten mixtures are folded in together, heap the lighter on the heavier mixture. Use a spoon or a rubber scraper. When the mixtures are heaped together lift the lower mixture gently, by a series of downward strokes, and place it over the top mixture. Repeat this motion until the two mixtures are well blended. During the folding process as much air as possible should be enclosed into the mixtures.

Italian Pizza was popularized in North America by returning veterans after World War 2, and later by the influx of Italian immigrants. Legend says the Italians themselves adapted it from Jewish unleavened bread, matzos, which were taken home by Roman soldiers in the third century B. C.

Soft cookies keep in a container with a tight fitting cover. If the cookies start to dry out, add a piece of apple or bread to the container, replacing it often. Crisp cookies should be kept in a container with a loose fitting cover. If they soften they can be heated in a very slow oven, preheated to three hundred degrees F., about five minutes before serving.

After serving cake, keep the unserved portion fresh by covering the cut surfaces with a strip of waxed paper held in place with a few toothpicks.

One package of active dry yeast gives the same amount of leavening action as one package of compressed yeast. But it's important to remember that active dry yeast should always be dissolved in warm, not hot, water. The compressed yeast should always be dissolved in lukewarm water.

If you have an electric blender, you can use it to make soft bread crumbs in a hurry. For two cups of crumbs, tear four slices of bread into quarters, and blend one slice at a time to the desired size. It will take about three or four seconds for each slice.

About This and That

Roads - Car & Bicycle

Firstly, congratulations to George Holdsworth, Mark Amiraault and James Dunn who, in order of merit, were winners in the Digby teenagers Safe Driving Roadshow held here on Saturday. Because of such events as Teenagers Safe Driving Roadshows, we are certain that the teenagers learning to drive today will be much more capable drivers than some of us who took our driving tests at the age of 16. Do you remember, way back there, when to be able to stop and start on a hill was the ultimate in driving skill as far as the examiner was concerned. Some of us still are unable to "skilfully" back into a parking space. By what we saw on Saturday, the teenagers of today will have no difficulty in manoeuvring a car by any obstacle.

By the way, soon and somewhere in the Courier, if not today, you will read where there are special courses offered to teachers for driver training. Scholarships of $100. are offered to each qualified teacher recommended to take the course. The person, to qualify, must hold a professional teacher certificate, temporary or permanent, and have a driver's license in good standing for two years. After all, what is more important in this world than life. Such a course learned and imparted might be the means of saving lives.

Then we've noticed another idea for saving lives. In Kentville we noted that the Kings County Boy Scouts 2nd bicycle rodeo was held. Granted there are not too many bicycles on the road but those that are on the road are surely the dread of car drivers. Truly, there are the careful bicycle drivers just as there are careful car drivers. But, on the other hand there are those who do not seem to have any idea of the right or wrong procedure in bicycle driving. Maybe the car drivers would be no more careful on bicycles than the young bicyclists of today and maybe it is the cyclists usually extreme youth which scares the car driver but so often is noted behaviour as quoted from the Berwick Register — Left side, right side, in the middle and a giddy graceful circling from one side to the other are a fairly, common practice.

Yes, a rodeo might help. With cooperation of the town police, RCMP, some organization might sponsor a bicycle rodeo. The Lions Club sponsors the car driving rodeo for teenagers; the Scouts, the Kiwanis, Board of Trade or some other organization might sponsor a bicycle riding rodeo. 'Twould be a fine short range project with a long range benefit.

Those Signs & Traffic Problems

One idea leads to another and safe driving automatically reminds us of safe driving for tourists — now that summer is coming. Along with publicizing our areas, cleaning up for tourists, etc., we should make it easy for tourists to find their way while in our province and make driving as safe as possible for them. It is time to take stock of the brightness and attractiveness of our signs and also to check on all roads to see that they are clearly marked. Nothing can be so frustrating to a driver in a strange place as to look for some marking and find that with driving his own car, watching the car ahead and listening to the honking of horns behind, he has missed the unimposing sign entirely. It just isn't fair to motorists.

We often wonder, for instance, if Halifax city officials realize how many of their shoppers, business transactors and motorists are not acquainted with their city, and have to depend on signs. We recall one night recently trying to reach the Angus Macdonald bridge by going down (or up) Windsor Street and turning right on North Street. So far as we were concerned there was no North Street. We went back another day just to find out why we had missed the sign. There it was, an insignificant faded old small sign stuck somewhere up on the corner of a building. Car number one at the red light might happen to see it, and possibly car number two, but maybe car number three would be behind a post obscuring from view such a high up, insignificant sign. When traffic started you couldn't start looking for street signs.

Another traffic sign which for a while was bothersome was a traffic light in the town of Kentville enroute through the Valley from Halifax. When the light was green it was quite discernible but when red you couldn't find a light for it blended in as a period at the end of a shoe store sign. We noted that this was rectified when we went through Kentville the last time.

The moral to all this, of course, is to look through the eyes of a stranger when erecting traffic or street signs. We who live in a town or city or near a certain traffic signal know the problem already. It is the stranger who needs to be warned.

Which brings us to Digby and its traffic problems. The worst ones occur when you get two large transports unloading cargo almost side by side on front street. The entire view is obscured and cars wait behind the trucks, neither line daring to move for fear of making the wrong move. Anybody come up with a solution? Someone suggested that the large transport companies should have a depot here from which small trucks could deliver the wares. What is your solution?

And while we are on the subject, a good parking lot would be the ideal thing to relieve some of our general parking problems. Another suggestion to relieve the traffic jams down town was straight parking rather than to narrow the streets by angle parking. What is your suggestion?

Mother's Day

Space will not grant a tribute to mothers in this column today. But don't forget to pay tribute to mother on Sunday. And a suggestion — visit a mother on Sunday. It doesn't have to be your mother. Just somebody's mother who needs a visit from somebody.

Care For Mentally Ill Improved

Mental Health Week having rolled around and passed by, we stop to assess the situation in this particular field. We, without hesitation, can say that the care for the mentally ill in Nova Scotia has improved greatly within the past few years. We are not referring so much to care in hospitals and through clinics. We do know that more clinics throughout Nova Scotia have been formed and that Digby, led by the Cornell University Research Program, was early among the clinics to be founded. We do know that the government of the province has taken an increased interest in Mental Health in the past few years, giving financial aid to community clinics and improving conditions in already established mental hospitals.

But clinics and hospitals are only half the battle against mental illness. A good deal of the battle is unprofessional, resting in the hands of families and friends. While much is yet to be done to improve attitudes, it cannot be denied that through education and leadership by sympathetic persons that family and friends are taking a much improved attitude toward the care of the mentally ill. Some few years ago, the mentally ill was an unfortunate victim and through ignorance of family and friends, and lack of professional aid, was left to get better by, sort or become ill enough to enter an institution. Family and friends were helpless then but to retire into detached concern, worry and shame. Today family and friends in a greater number of cases, have learned that mental illness is an illness just like any physical illness is an illness. No one hesitates to call in a physician for a physical ailment and mental ailments are now fastly being put into their proper perspective where professional aid is immediately secured when early symptoms appear. Family and friends, too, have become aware that the mentally ill are in need of their concern, sympathy and encouragement even more than the physically ill need these attentions. Just as the physically ill need time to recover in hospital and after release, so do the mentally ill need the concern, sympathy and encouragement during hospitalization and after their release until they have been rehabilitated into a normal life and useful occupation. There is much more to do; education must be more intense and spread wider but the last few years have certainly seen a vast improvement in mental care by family and friends of the mentally ill. A good deal of credit for this goes to the work of the Mental Health Associations which are being formed and which carry out an extensive educational program as well as a program of practical help.

Mental illness is being recognized by more and more people as just another illness just as physical illness. We look forward to the day when this idea is widespread enough that most of the mentally ill needing hospitalization will be treated within the walls of their own local hospitals, near to their families and friends who care so much.

Is Your Community Equipped To Fight Fires?

At this season of the year, one can hardly pick up the daily paper without finding out that someone, somewhere has lost property due to fire. All too often, loss of life is also reported and, in such instances, the tragedy strikes home all the more forcibly.

Farm fires are particularly disastrous since, in many instances, it is later revealed that the work of a lifetime goes up in smoke and flames. Now, of course, many fires are purely accidental, but, all too often, the fire marshal finds that had fire hazards in construction, maintenance, and the use of farm property been eliminated, the fire might never have been experienced in the first place. Furthermore, in many instances it has been demonstrated that no preparation for action in the event of fire had ever been taken, and that fire protection methods had never been discussed.

Two of the most common faults of farm building layout, which are often responsible for the spread of fire, are that the farm buildings are located too closely together and that the buildings are located in line with the prevailing winds in the area. The first fault allows the fire to spread from one building to another, even in calm weather. The second increases the risk of fire spread in windy weather.

To reduce these risks, new buildings should be located at least a hundred feet apart and it follows, if at all possible, they should not be located in line with the prevailing winds of the area.

Putting out a fire so that there is little property damage, depends on early discovery and quick, calm action. If your farm is distant from organized help, the fire fighting program is increased, and, in such instances, the property owner must have more equipment of his own and should be able to call for organized help at the earliest possible time. Above all, it is imperative that property owners have a simple plan of action, well understood by every member of the family, to sound the alarm and to avoid loss of life.

Here is a problem which, all too often, is studiously avoided by rural communities but, nevertheless, it is a problem which should be faced up squarely. An efficient fire fighting unit in a rural community is a necessity in these days of high capital farm investment.

So, if you do not have a rural fire department in your community, it is suggested that you get in touch with your neighbours and your Agricultural Representative and organize a rural fire department, or fire protection unit. The Provincial Fire Marshal will be only too pleased to lend whatever influence and support his office is in a position to provide. (N. S. Farm News.)

It Isn't Smart

A spokesman for the Unemployment Insurance Commission today urged all Canadian employers who have not cooperated in the past to reverse their stand and assist in the elimination of fraudulent claims.

C.A.L. Murchison, Commissioner, Unemployment Insurance Commission, Ottawa, told the 17th Annual Meeting of the Fisheries Council of Canada that "some people have the idea that it is smart to break some law and that there is no sin committed in so doing, the only sin is to be caught."

Referring to benefit payments, Mr. Murchison said that when an insured worker loses his job and applies for benefit he must tell the Commission of the circumstances concerning such loss. While the claim is being processed the Commission asks the applicant's last employer for his version of how the loss occurred. This is done by the employer on a form called "separation questionnaire."

The majority of employers cooperate by supplying the necessary information. "Unfortunately," Mr. Murchison said, "some employers do not carry out the duty that is imposed on them by statute. Some do not return a completed questionnaire; some delay making the return and this places an unnecessary burden on the administration; and some give reasons which are not true and which have the effect of our approving a claim for benefit when it should not have been."

Some employers have the notion that, by giving the correct information, they are virtually blackballing the former employee from obtaining other work. This is not correct as the information received concerning a claim is never placed on the claimant's application for employment.

One of the reasons employers do not cooperate, Mr. Murchison said, is their apprehension that "if they told us the truth, and the truth resulted in a disqualification against the claimant, the latter and all his or her relatives would discontinue to buy the goods or services which the employer has to offer. Such an attitude is to be regretted. The conspiring employer will gain nothing by it; in fact it could cost him more money through increased contributions to the fund."

"Unfortunately any increase in contributions would affect all employers and all employees, even those who in the past have cooperated with us to the fullest extent. No doubt the employers who have played the game fairly would regard such an increase as unfair, and with that view I am inclined to agree."

Guest speaker for the evening was William Hamilton, postmaster general of Canada. Mr. Hamilton said the Diefenbaker government had kept its promises and as a result Canada was booming — the last four years had witnessed the greatest industrial expansion this country had ever seen, and the outlook for the future was even brighter.

When the Conservative government came to power in Ottawa, Mr. Hamilton said, the country was in trouble. In the past four years, the government by vigour, drive and imagination had taken the country ahead in virtually every field of endeavour. Honest figures backed up the claims made by the Progressive Conservative government, he said — "we're not selling you a blue sky."

He said the previous Liberal administration had practically ignored the potentials of the far north. Since the PCs came to power, he said, they had contributed to the building of 1,200 miles of roads to residences and had encouraged building of some 300 miles of railway to resources. As a result private enterprise had received $700,000 in northern exploration in the past four years as against $8,000,000 in the last four years of the Liberal administration.

Mr. Hamilton said there was a $713,000,000 trade deficit in the year before the PCs took office. Last year, Canada for the first time in many years, had a trade surplus — more than $50,000,000.

When importing, he said, where is the employment? There is more employment more business and greater prosperity in Canada for the conservative government members got out and worked. A conservative government made it attractive for Canadian industry to work at trade, he said.

Mr. Hamilton said that the Conservative government believed private industry was capable of running its own business and if this was done properly, they could do a better job than was done in any social state. It is not the job of the government to get into business but to co-operate with industry.

Canada, the speaker said, was one of the few countries on the economic upgrade. Employment is up, income up and savings up. The industrial expansion, Mr. Hamilton said, is the real job. A remarkable job was done for the jobs and for those who wanted to work. The government assisted in a training program for those who lacked technical training to be advantage of jobs.

Premier Robert Stanfield in addressing the audience referred to increased provincial aid from Ottawa. With this aid, the provincial and federal governments and their leaders, this was seconded by Mrs. Marion Mills Annapolis West. An overflowing audience was on hand to hear the speakers and more than two assistance. It was a platform to raise as much money as Nova Scotia as was being done for the hospital program and the would have placed a heavy burden on the people of the province. Mr. Stanfield also stated that while education costs had increased in the past, they were going to increase in the future as well. The cost would be increased, he said, because of the need to broaden the field of educational opportunity for young Nova Scotians and to broaden the highways and health program for Nova Scotia. He said Nova Scotia was looking forward to receiving even greater assistance from Ottawa.

Paul Bethune, Berwick, moved a vote of confidence in the provincial and federal governments and their leaders. This was seconded by Mrs. Marion Mills Annapolis West. Mr. Hersey Visits Band

George Hersey, bass drummer with the Digby Salvation Army band, was present as a guest when members of the Yarmouth High School Band assembled for rehearsal Monday afternoon. Mr. Hersey, a former bass drummer with Yarmouth bands, is a veteran of two wars, and a man who has been beating the drum for half a century.

One of the well known Herseys, he enlisted as a youth with the Canadian Expeditionary Force in the War of 1914-18. Due to his youth he did not get overseas but served at Halifax, where he went through the memorable Disaster of December 6, 1916.

In between wars he played with Yarmouth bands and then in 1939 enlisted for active service in the second world war. While in Sydney, he was involved in an accident, in which he lost a leg. He was subsequently invalided out.

Although no longer able to march with the band, he often sat in with the Yarmouth Citizens Band at concert performances and later became a member of the Salvation Army Band.

IT'S ALL IN THE WANT ADS

In Memoriam

TRIMPER — In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Charles Trimper, who passed away May 10, 1960. When ties of love are broken And loved ones have to part It leaves a wound that never heals And also a broken heart But looking back with memories Upon the path we trod We bless the years we shared with her. And leave the rest to God. Always remembered by daughter, Verna, Mrs. Avar Collins. 37:11p

TRIMPER — In loving memory of our uncle, George Trimper, who passed away in May, 1960. We do not forget you, nor do we intend. We think of you often and will to the end. Gone and forgotten by some you may be But dear to or memory you ever will be. Sadly missed by sister, Martha and niece Ruth and Ruby. 37:11p

TRIMPER — In loving memory of my dear mother, Jessie Trimper, who passed peacefully away May 10, 1960. When all is still and silent And sleep forsakes my eyes My thoughts are in a silent grave Where my dear mother lies. — Silently missed and sadly remembered by her daughter, Gladys. 37:11p

GOSSON — In loving memory of our dear brother, John Gosson, who passed away May 12, 1957. You are gone but not forgotten And as dawns another year In our lonely hours of thinking Thoughts of you are always near. — Ever remembered by sister, Lella and brother Basil. 37:11c

STARK — In loving memory of Emdon who passed away May 8, 1945. — Always remembered by wife Gladys and family. 37:11p

DUNN — In memory of Mrs. Ralph L. Dunn on Mother's Day. A prayer of remembrance from our hearts. For a mum we all loved. But we had to part. The memory of you, you left behind Is of a wonderful mum, so sweet, so kind. We remember you mum, on this special day. In our own special thought, and our own special way, God will watch over you and help us to say. How we all miss you, mum, especially today. — Inserted by a Harold, daughter-in-law Alice and grandson, Raymond. 37:11c

THERIAULT — In loving memory of my father, Edgar J. Theriault, who passed away May 9, 1960. He is gone but not forgotten. He is in our hearts always. Thoughts of him are always near. Days of sadness will come over us. Friends may think the wound is healed. But they little know the sorrow That lies within the heart concealed. — Always remembered by daughter, Frances, son-in-law Godfrey, grandchildren Larry, Myrna and Brian. 37:11c

Mr. Jankov stated that a person who intends to build a home should plan the surroundings also before the construction work begins. The house should be so placed so that the best advantage of the lot will be taken. In most cases, stated Mr. Jankov, the dwelling is placed in the middle of the lot but it would be at a better advantage to place it to one side of the lot so that the grounds can be better landscaped. He explained the use of larger trees which are usually used for background purposes. He advised not to plant trees in front of the house so that it will hide it. Shrubs should be used to hide the grey monotonous lines of the foundation of the house and hedges need not always be in a straight line.

Flowers can be used to beautify the gardens but it should not be overdone so as to spoil the entire work. Rock gardens can improve certain lots but he advised against the practice of painting the rocks. These should be left in their natural state which would enhance the beauty of a rock garden.

The Admiral Digby Horticultural Society's report was given by Mrs. Eva Wendell. Their reports showed that they were caring for the garden on the cannon bank near the Welcome to Digby sign and a round the Admiral Digby Well. Further improvements will be made to the Loyalist Cemetery and the hanging baskets will be continued. They hoped to place the baskets in more conspicuous places and plant more flowers. They will hold their annual Flower Show in August. New projects: town tree and shrub planting consisting of encouraging new home builders to plant trees and shrubs. Hopes of initiating a Junior Club among the children.

The Hebron Club's report was given by Mr. Harold Sweeney which contained these highlights: Their main project is the beautification of an abandoned Cemetery in the village. The sum of four hundred dollars had been spent during the year past. A float was entered in the Yarmouth Bicentennial last July and it was judged the most outstanding float in the parade winning a $100.00 prize. The ninth annual Flower Show was held last August and it was a very successful one. Flowers were purchased and placed in the two churches in the village at Christmas.

The Weymouth Club report was given by Miss Constance Carr. Their club organized a clean-up campaign during the year and trash cans were painted green and decorated with painted flower designs which was done by Mrs. H. J. Molanson. These were placed at strategic spots and proved a great help in keeping the main street clean and tidy. The flower show which was held in August had 225 entries was greater than usual. A community Christmas tree was put up, which was lighted up during the Christmas festive season with a large sign displaying "Merry Christmas, Weymouth Garden Club". A children's section will be added to this year's flower show.

The report of Champlain Garden Club of Annapolis Royal was given by Joe B. Terman. Among their projects were, the annual Rose show held in July and the annual Flower Show in August. Another project of note is the one in which the club co-operated with other public bodies in landscaping of the large land area associated with the new causeway. In co-operating with the Canadian Legion, the club maintains the flower beds surrounding the War Memorial.

The Arcadia Club's report was rendered by Mrs. Rod McNeil which showed that the club was quite active in beautifying the village and held successful meetings.

La Jardiniere Garden Club Meteghan report was read by Miss Juliette Saulnier, the report showed that the club held a very successful flower show in August during the Acadian Festival and showed an increase of entries over the previous year. A float was entered in the Acadian Festival annual parade which won first prize. A new project undertaken was the planting of trees and shrubs in two different sections of the Municipality of Clare to know which tree and shrub would survive the frigid climate witnessed in his seaside area. The club always contribute towards the decoration of the High School prom. Efforts have been made to have a picnic park established in Clare and contact has been made with the Director of Parks Branch, Dept. of Lands and Forests, toward this goal.

The president, Mrs. Robert Belliveau of Meteghan welcomed the members of the various clubs who attended the meeting and Mrs. Bernard Comeau of Meteghan River acted as master of ceremonies a job which she capably handled. A question and answer period followed where the members took advantage of to ask solutions to their personal problems with plants and shrubs, which were answered by Mrs. Kinsman, Mr. Morton and Mr. Jankov.

A delicious lunch was served by the ladies of La Jardiniere Club and Mrs. Eva Wendell thanked the Meteghan Club for having invited the various clubs to attend the regional meeting.

Mrs. Lawrence Darres gave the Hill and Dale Club's report showing that this club is forging ahead with regular meetings being held and improving the community by encouraging the planting of flowers and shrubs.

First Game June 3rd

At a meeting in Meteghan on Tuesday night Frank Jubis was elected president, and Mac Mullen became secretary of the newly formed Western Valley Baseball League. The league is comprised of teams from Yarmouth, Meteghan, Saultville and Weymouth. The first game is to get underway June 3.

Leighions In Toronto

One Cornell study, whose recent publication as "Mental Health in the Metropolis" has received national attention, revealed that about a quarter of the New Yorkers studied had a significant degree of psychiatric disturbance.

In a study conducted in a rural Canadian county over the past ten years, which Dr. Dorothea C. Leighton discussed in Toronto Tuesday, the scientists found people as mentally disturbed as the New Yorkers. Although the methods used in the two studies are not identical, she said, the scientists feel these overall findings are comparable.

The amount of mental disorder in the rural area differs with age, sex and social status, with women generally showing more symptoms than men, older people more than younger, and lower social classes more than higher.

The most marked finding, however, which the researchers feel is related to mental health in other cultures — is that social integration is directly related to mental health.

"It is not poverty or limited education or lower class status, per se, that makes the difference to mental health," Dr. Leighton said, "but rather a whole constellation of factors that tend to be associated with them, and that create a social environment that lacks features that are vitally important to mental health."

She continued: "To improve mental health, economic resources must be mobilized up to a point, education must be provided up to a point — but this will not be enough unless these factors bring with them the other environmental forces which add up to giving the individual the feeling that he is a worthwhile member of a worthwhile group."

The findings of a pilot study of mental health in Nigeria, reported by Dr. Alexander H. Leighton at the Toronto meetings Wednesday, bear on community development in other newly emerging nations, he said.

"It is possible to have change without deterioration of mental health," the Cornell psychiatrist reported, "provided disintegration of the social system can be avoided." Once the social system becomes "unstuck," he explained, "people lose their bearings," and develop symptoms of anxiety, depression and apathy.

The scientists reached these conclusions after finding that, among the Nigerians they studied, there were more symptoms of mental disturbance, but fewer people whose lives were seriously impaired, than among North Americans. Men and women showed about the same degree of disturbance, unlike the North Americans. Among the Nigerians, as among the people of this country, social disintegration accompanied a high rate of mental disorder, and the people whose lives had been most changed by modern life were most likely to be affected.

While it is too soon for exact comparisons to be made, the indications of the research are that psychiatric distress is expressed in much the same symptoms by people of different cultures; that social disintegration increases mental disorder; and that improved social conditions, while greatly affecting well-being, cannot by themselves guarantee good mental health.

In such conditions of rapid change as Nigeria is experiencing, in societies like rural North America where economic problems cause dislocation, and in such metropolitan areas as New York City where many people lack a sense of identity with a group, it is essential that enough integration be maintained or fostered for the individual to feel a sense of belonging, the psychiatrists reported.

Others cooperating with the Leighions in the two studies were Dr. T. A. Lambo, a Nigerian psychiatrist; Professors Charles and Jane Hughes of Cornell's Program in Social Psychiatry; Assoc. Prof. John S. Harding and Research Assistant David B. Macklin.

Municipal Council

(Please turn to page 7)

Councillor Sydney Westcott from the Rossyway district in presenting a petition from his area seeking purchase of the Rossyway school, said that in the seven years he had been a member of the council he had made the same requests and no action followed. The school has been closed for a number of years.

Similar requests were made at the January session by Smith's Cove residents and Comby.

Municipal warden Ronald Morehouse told council Tuesday action on the petition would have to await a report on the matter from the municipal School Board. This report would be received later in the current council session.

Petitions were also read from the Digby Ratepayers' Association. One asked for action under the winter works program to beautify and develop the beach at Sandy Cove and a second at St. Mary's Bay. The petition said that the beaches, properly developed, would provide additional tourist and local recreational facilities and would assist the area in meeting competition for the tourist traffic.

A second petition from the Ratepayers' Association asked for the setting up of a committee by the council to work with representatives from the Digby Board of Trade and the Digby Town Council to develop a proposed air strip near Lansdowne in the Bear River area. In the matter of the development of the beaches, council decided to write the department of trade and industry requesting assistance. The petition requested action be taken to have the beaches ready for the 1963 season.

The Ratepayers' Association also requested school board financial statements in greater detail and that financial statements of the municipality be available from councillors in each district.

A report of the Digby General Hospital was read on Tuesday and much discussion on the new hospital to be built ensued. Hospital officials were to be called in the following day to answer questions which bothered councillors.

James Ayer reported for the Digby County Power Board bringing up matters of extension of lines to Porter's Lake, Whale Cove, Peter's Island and to a light at Westport.

On Tuesday afternoon discussion arose as to the perfect system of tax assessment. It was suggested that Digby County have its own tax assessor and that he have an office and be available when ever needed. Further discussion involved the assessing of parsonages, glebe houses and community halls.

Councillor Gott read a resolution asking that CBC-Halifax erect a satellite TV station in the area so that programs of interest to Nova Scotians could be available to Digby County residents and so that forthcoming educational programs to be carried by CBC stations in the province could be seen in this area.

The fact was considered that at a previous session of the council the Weymouth Board of Trade had requested that the Registrar of Deeds office in Weymouth be either renovated or rebuilt. It was decided to approach Digby Town Council and Clare Municipal Council to appoint a committee to work with Digby Municipal Council towards this undertaking.

An Industrial Development Committee was appointed consisting of Warden Morehouse, Centerville; Sidney Westcott, Waterford; Roy Snell, Bear River and Penny Gott, Smith's Cove.

A resolution presented at the Council on Wednesday by John Nichols, Digby, requesting the council to endorse a proposal to have an airstrip built at Lansdowne was tabled with Councillor Penny Gott casting the only "nay" vote. Miss Alberta Letts, Halifax, and Town Councillor, Helen Anthony appeared before the council respecting a regional library in the area. A committee to investigate and bring in the cost of such library was appointed viz Councillor Comeau and Outhouse.

F. C. Purdy and E. B. Richardson of the Digby Hospital Board assured councillors that they would not be required to pay more than the prescribed share of $160,000 towards the new hospital to be built. This was one of the questions which concerned the council due to delays and rising costs.

Digby Hopes To Get School T.V. Programs

Hon. Robert L. Stanfield, Premier of Nova Scotia, has announced that an agreement has been signed with the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to produce a series of television programs for schools. The series will consist of 20 minute programs a week in Grade 11 Mathematics and a similar number in Grade 11 Physics and will continue throughout the school year. In a joint statement Premier Stanfield and Alphonse Ouimet, president of the corporation, said the series will be broadcast by the corporation's television station in Halifax (CBHT), and will be available in certain areas of the Province not covered by CBHT, through the corporation's network facilities.

A. G. MacDonald, executive officer of the Association of Urban and Municipal School Boards, said, "The executive of the association has unanimously approved in principle teaching by means of in-school television."

"We are particularly anxious that the lessons are made available to 11 high schools in the province in areas where it is possible to receive the program in live form. We understand the telecasts will be conveyed by means of the corporation's network facilities."

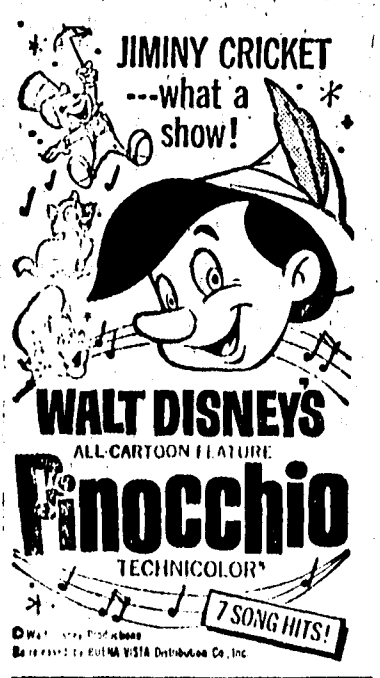

"This program is not an experiment but rather a method of making the services of highly qualified master teachers available to many thousands of Nova Scotia teachers and pupils. It is felt that this regular series of school broadcasts will stimulate greatly the constructive development and effective use of television for teaching in the other provinces."

"It is apparent that the Province will not for some time have teachers in the number and quality that are needed. Concentration then must be placed on finding ways of making one qualified teacher go farther than he does today. One way is the television lesson. There is a particular need for expert teachers in Mathematics and Science. It is largely for this reason that these subjects were chosen to launch these

Thirty-three years ago Mrs. Stanley Gennery, Halifax, formerly of Belleville, Ont., was assigned the post of Digby when first commissioned into the Salvation Army as Lieutenant. Somehow, the appointment did not materialize and Mrs. Gennery had not laid eyes on Digby until this week.

Lieutenant Colonel Gennery, Divisional Commander for Nova Scotia, and Mrs. Gennery, visited Digby this week where they were special speakers at the Salvation Army Citadel here.

They found Digby to be what they described as "a lovely spot."

first series of lessons.

The Courier was advised by school authorities here that it was quite likely that the T.V. programs would be made available here through CHSJ, Channel 4 from Saint John, N. B. While nothing definite was available on the matter, it was understood from reliable sources that this matter was being looked into.

Tells Of English Visit

In a letter to one of the Courier staff, Mr. Harry McGrath, Galt, Ontario, formerly of Victoria Beach, N. S., relates events of the recent trip to England of he and his wife. We thought it would be most interesting to Courier readers, so portions of the letter appear below.

"As you know this was my third trip over there. In the First World War I found England moving at a snail's pace; everybody and everything moving along as they did a hundred years gone by. At that time England was the mainstay of peace and freedom in the world. After I came back from France I was stationed there for two years. We left Canada the last of April and arrived in Southampton, England one week later. When we left here winter was still with us, but on our arrival over there it was like summer. Everything was all in bloom. We made our headquarters in a very tiny village called Port Slade, by the English Channel. After we got settled we began our vacation in real earnest. Three years ago when we were there I visited many of my old haunts during the war. The places where we had our military camps were so changed that I could hardly believe it was the same place. For instance, Bramshot had a beautiful hospital built in the centre of the old camp grounds. Shoreham Camp I could hardly find at all. The place is all built up with new houses. The houses they put up do not compare in the least with those we build in Canada.

"England is a beautiful country. There are many beautiful and historic things to see, and believe me I made the best of it. We went on bus tours to places of interest most every week. Here are some of the places we visited. Being in London for a week we made a quick trip to most of the interesting places there. St. Paul's Cathedral and Westminster Abbey are open to the public and there are guides to show you around, and to answer all questions. Buckingham Palace, you would think, would be the most elaborate building in London. But, in my estimation, is the most dreary old building of them all. The changing of the Foot Guards at the palace gates, and the changing of the Horse Guards at St. James Palace were really fascinating. They are so cleverly done. It makes one stop and wonder how long it took to train these horses to go through all the maneuvers of changing the guard without a woken to them. I have the change of guage times and every time fascinated by their mov.

"The Houses of Parliament Big Ben looks out a tower. I should say hundred feet high, the London Bridge and the Tower of England is a very interesting. They still carry on somraditions that they had Queen Elizabeth's timeguards at the tower called Beef Eaters. The dressed in the most anclifits you ever saw. Thgo inside where you can't the prison cells whongs both great and sma spent days, weeks andnbly years, and then in if taken out to the bloodack of the tower andieir heads. The most worstight in there were the Jewels. Every Monas a crown and differels made for them. So le, when this is all puther it makes quite a sil this is in an enormous case, made in the shaa bell. There is no roo anything else in the passage to walk and feast your eyes on Thilhon Pounds worth of nd precious stones. Ther looking at this is onez equal to 25 cents. Wh are in there, there is J in every corner of the

"I there to Madam tus Waxworks. There yound everybody from Kinthe most notorious mu done in wax. I had beethe old waxworks yea, but that one burned 20 years ago, and this one is not near as goos built on the same spo near the tower. We hadk at Ten Downing Streryone in the world has of that building at some or another. We were Kensington Gardens the Queen Mother livelarence House. Princzaret and Tony live the. These places are notte. You can go up the. There are guards evee but no one bothershey are not far from Buam Palace, and that is ly place where you caet inside the gates. Th numerous places we weese while in London. bute only time for the mportant ones. We wa tour down to Ports-marbour. I found this veresting. You pay so mt the tour, they show yoe sights worth while, giv a good lunch down th then take you home. Fly took us to see the olory. Lord Nelson's flain the Battle of Trafalgar. She lays in a cradle high and dry, and is exactly as she was in the days when she was Queen of the Seas. We went through this old vessel and as I looked her over I wondered what you would have thought of her coming up through Digby Gut. Next we went on the launch "Vesta" around the harbour, and believe me it was a sight never to be forgotten. There were warships, cruisers, air crafts, air-craft carriers, submarines and other ships too numerous to mention. We sail'd out around the Isle of Wight onto the spithead where we got another fine view of the forts and shipping. The boat we were on had loud speakers so they kept us informed on anything of any importance.

"Of course we had not travelled around all the time. We were over there five months and could take all the time we wanted. One day we took a trip out to a little village called Alfriston. It was quite a long way out in the country and it is supposed to be one of the oldest and most original villages in England, supposedly built by the smugglers. There are caves which the smugglers are supposed to have used to hide their smuggled goods. There is a church supposed to be the smallest in England, would seat about ten. It is never used but still stands there as another attraction. When we got there we couldn't find a place to park. There were so many cars and buses before us. There is only one street in the village and it is so narrow one bus cannot pass another, so you have to keep on going straight ahead. Most of the passengers on our bus wanted to get off to get a glass of beer. After driving all the way through the hot and dusty countryside their tongues were parched and dry as a bone. But they were assured there was plenty of beer ahead, so on we went. We stopped at a place called Sea Ford. I was stationed here at one time but the place had changed so that I hardly knew it. As promised there was plenty of beer and I guess by the way they all sang and carried on, they must have sampled everything in the house. We drove from Sea Ford to Port Slade along the channel about 50 miles. It was a beautiful evening. I enjoyed that outing very much. When I was in England during the First World War I was in Coventry, up in the north near Manchester. A man lived there who had a Photography shop, and we became quite friendly. We used to go on long rides out in the country and he took me to see some old castles. Among them were Warwick Castle, Kennelworth Stone Leigh Abby. In those days you weren't allowed inside the gates, but now you can go all through them for a small fee, about 60 cents. The present owners, does this to help pay the enormous Death Taxes which are causing the ruination of most all the beautiful places in England. I am sure you like to read about these old historic places and who knows you may be able to go see tem for yourself someday. I have been to see Arundel Castle, the home of the Duke and Duchess of Norfolk, twice. This is the best castle that we went to see. The building itself is well kept and the grounds are very beautiful. Of course you understand the Duke and Duchess live here most of the time. They also have a house in London. The castle was built in the reign of King Alfred in 901, and has been added to ever since. Today it is the largest pile of stones and mortar I ever saw. Where they ever got the great stones and how they ever raised them up to the top of the building makes one stop and wonder. There are great many historic things in the castle. They are kept just as they were. The things that interested me most were the furniture and the kitchen. The bedroom that the old lords of the castle used to occupy, and the bedroom reserved especially for Queen Victoria when she visited the castle were like something you might see in fairy land. You could not imagine a kitchen like the one in the castle unless you saw it for yourself. It is four times as large as any kitchen you or I ever saw and the things they had to use makes one wonder if they were ordinary people or an army of gluttons. In the centre of the kitchen there was a chopping table for meat. They didn't have small steaks but whole pigs and muttons. They cut a pig or lamb from head to tail and roasted it on a spit like one would have a barbecue. There were two immense fireplaces, one on each side of the kitchen large enough to roast half a dozen sheep at a time. Then there was a great shelf around the wall loaded with copper pots and pans of all shapes and sizes. On a lower shelf there were 15 small barrels. Each would hold about ten gallons of wine. "Well you will get tired reading about these old castles, so I will have to cut out some of them. Here is one that will interest you I am sure. This is Hove Manor House. It is not a castle but a great old rambling house built some years ago by a man who owned all the land around for miles. He built small houses and had hundreds of people working for him, probably

Citizenship Day

Friday, May 18 is Citizenship Day. A letter from the Department of Citizenship and Immigration to the Digby Town Council asked for recognition of the day. While not a public holiday, it was suggested that exercises be held to make the citizens conscious of their citizenship and what it implies. Citizenship Day is a time for each citizen to consider his or her rights and responsibilities and to show appreciation for privileges in being a citizen in a land of freedom and plenty. On Citizenship Day citizens will find time to take stock of their attitudes toward newcomers and show special appreciation of new people in the country.

Citizenship Day was first observed as such in 1950. Special emphasis is put on school observance of the day to have the children become conscious of their privileges and responsibilities in being citizens of their country. In some municipalities a week of observance is held, the letter stated.

There are three daughters, Mrs. Violet Bucci, Worcester, Mass., Mrs. Violet Bartfield, Centerville. They have thirty grandchildren and sixty great grandchildren.

Accepts Resignation

At a regular meeting of the Victorian Order of Nurses Local Association, held at the Court House on Tuesday, the resignation of Miss Valerie Squance, VON, was regretfully accepted by the Board. The resignation takes effect July 1st. Miss Squance came to Digby two years ago from Victoria, B. C., and has made many friends in Digby during that time. She has been active in church and community affairs during her stay here.

At the meeting, presided over by the first vice-president, Rev. R. H. Hughes, it was learned that 102 home visits had been made in April, 32 were nursing care, 63 health instruction and 7 for other home calls. Twenty-four patients were admitted. Miss Squance, in presenting the report, said that the past year to April had shown an increase in visits over the same period the previous year.

During the past month Miss Laura Wall, Regional Director, and Miss Squance had visited Deep Brook and Annapolis Royal on the prospect of extending the Digby VON services. It was also reported that a referral system had been set up at the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, so that patients from the city were referred to the Halifax VON, on leaving hospital.

Acknowledgement was made of a $40.00 donation from the Men's Bridge Club, of which Aubrey Adams is chairman.

Mass., all of whom were home recently to see their parents. The sons are Ansel, Medford, Mass., Harry and Hubert, Centerville. They have thirty grandchildren and sixty great grandchildren.

68 Years Married

Mr. and Mrs. Ingram Dakin, Centerville, on May 3, celebrated their 68th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Dakin are the oldest married couple in the village. Mr. Dakin is 93 years and Mrs. Dakin, 87. Although Mr. Dakin was ill for a few weeks recently, he has again recovered and was able to enjoy the anniversary.

There are three daughters, Mrs. Violet Bucci, Worcester, Mass., Mrs. Violet Bartfield, Centerville. They have thirty grandchildren and sixty great grandchildren.

Welcome 15 New Members

At the worship services held in the Baptist Churches of Digby and Hill Grove last Sunday fifteen new members were welcomed into the membership of the church by the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, and presented with their certificates of Baptism and Church membership.

At the monthly meeting of the Christian Youth Council of the church held last Sunday evening consideration was given to the forming of a Sunday Intermediate Class in the Sunday School. The sending of two young people to summer camp for training in Leadership was also recommended. Reports were heard from the leaders of the various youth groups in the church on activities accomplished and plans for the future.

The monthly meeting of the Brotherhood group, postponed from last Saturday night, will be held this coming Saturday evening in the church hall. Mr. Donald Brown, the president of the group will show an interesting motion picture, and there will be a discussion on matters of concern to the group.

Family Day services will be held in the Baptist churches of Digby and Hill Grove next Sunday.

Dr. West To Be Honoured

Six honorary degrees will be conferred at the convocation exercises at Mount Allison University. The recipients, all doctors of laws except Principal Frye, will be: Mrs. R. V. Bennett, Sackville, N. B.; Principal Frye; Mrs. Mackay; Hon. Campbell L. Macpherson, St. John's, Nfld.; Hon. Walter R. Shaw, Charlottetown, P. E. I.; Dr. Frank L. West, Sackville, N. B.

Dr. West is vice-president of Mount Allison, retiring this year after continuous service on the faculty since 1920 except when on leave of absence 1939-1946 to the Canadian Army. He was graduated bachelor of arts from Mount Allison in 1912 and bachelor of science in engineering from McGill University in 1916. He became director of the McClellan School of Engineering at Mount Allison in 1936 and dean of the faculty of science in 1949. He has been vice-president since 1956. His military training and experience began in 1914 when he joined the McGill contingent of the Canadian Officers' Training Corps. He was lieutenant-colonel commanding the New Brunswick Rangers 1939 to 1942. From 1942 to 1945 he was attached to National Defence Headquarters in Ottawa and in 1945-1946 was with the Khaki University of Canada overseas being commander of the unit when it was finally disbanded. He is an honorary doctor of engineering of Nova Scotia Technical College.

Mrs. James Ayer, Digby, is a daughter of Dr. and Mrs. West. Mr. and Mrs. Ayer and Noma and College Math Prize, presented by the Men of the Holy Name Society, Digby, to Dale Gifford Robbins.

Filling Prize, for Proficiency in solving three Business Education Projects, 100% Accuracy, awarded by Mrs. James Holmes, Gloucester, Mass., to Barbara Joan Morine.

Twin Prizes, sent by Monsignor W. Leo Murphy, Halifax, to the first twins to be graduated from St. Patrick's Business College, to Carolyn Gail and Catherine Gwen Murley.

Certificates and Pins for Perfect Attendance during the School Year, 1961-1962, donated by Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Amrault, have been given to: Anna Nora Adams, Donna Joyce Adams, Violet Marie Barton, Joan Marie Baxter, Joyce Winifred Charlton, Diana Mae Hersey, Constance Ada Hudson, Carolyn Gail Murley, Catherine Gwen Murley, Elizabeth Louise MacInnis, Dale Gifford Robbins, Janet Grace Troop.

Following the graduation exercises in the church, the graduates proceeded to St. Patrick's Hall where they were congratulated by the ladies of the Catholic Women's Club, after which they were seated at an appropriately decorated table and partook of a turkey dinner, prepared and served by the following ladies: Mrs. Ambrose Doucette, Mrs. Wilfred Combeau, Mrs. Joseph Hattie, Mrs. Herbert Theriault, and Mrs. Ralph Theriault.

The ushers at the church were: Mr. Joseph Hattie, Mr. Gerry Connelly, assisted by Mr. Arthur Surette and Mr. Donald Hattie.

True, we shall be on our guard against individuals of bad morals, evil principles or who exercise no control over their acts. We shall also strive to set and live up to Christian standards. Then, maintaining our own integrity, we will live at peace with ourselves, preparing ourselves and happily looking forward to the day of our own marital vows. The pure of heart are in possession of their own souls.

Truth, Honesty and Purity of Life, in God's Name, dear graduates, I charge you, make these the first objects of your service. By them you will ever keep alive in your soul a deep reverence for God Who made you, respect for yourselves, and a willingness to do good unto others, ever mindful that every good thing comes from a benevolent Father Who, in His own good time, will bring us all to strict account.

At the conclusion of the Mass, Father Gaudet congratulated the graduates, and after wishing them every success in their new work, presented the following diplomas and prizes:

Wharf Proposal

The premier of Nova Scotia's letter showed interest in the project and stated that he would also bring it to the attention of Hon. Mr. Manson who may have a special interest in the fishing aspects of the proposal.

The letter from V. G. Cardoza complimented the committee who had drafted up the proposal and said the request for extensions seem sound and sensible. He heartily endorsed the proposal.

A letter from Harry Thomas, secretary of program for the Halifax Board of Trade, was read in which Mr. Thomas offered to meet with the Digby Board to give any assistance he could to the Digby Board.

Mr. Thomas, who is a native of North Range, has a special interest in his home town. He was expressed for his interest and it was decided that the executive would meet Mr. Thomas on Friday evening at a hour cup of coffee. Any Board member who was to meet with Mr. Thomas, also went, and is asked to advise the president, Mrs. J. M. Wall, by Thursday, May 10, Friday while Mrs. Thomas, the town or Donna Lacombe of Smith's Cove will address High School students on vocations.

Other correspondence dealt with a request from the Nova Scotia Travel Bureau for brochures from Digby for distribution, a letter from the Campobello Island Board of Trade regarding a car ferry from Digby to Campobello and one from the Committee on Veterans Affairs, Eastport, Maine, re a ferry service from Eastport to Grand Manan, N.

President: Brian Bruce, vice-president: Peter Hall, Annapolis Royal, treasurer.

Guest speaker at the evening banquet was MLA Victor Cardoza, who gave an interesting and amusing account of the history of Digby. Rev. M. S. Hartlin gave the blessing and aided Jerry Adams in presenting the Congress awards. Digby received awards for Home Economics and Art; Annapolis for Debating; Middleton for Drama; and both Middleton and Bridgetown for Sports.

Following the banquet an open house was held for the delegates, as well as for the Digby students. Chaperons for the evening were Mrs. D. Brown and Mr. F. Pigot.

Committees for the year's graduation dance have already been chosen and plans are underway. Heads of these committees are: Program, Tom Amaro; Invitations, Greg Dickie; Refreshments, Laura Kinney; Decoration, Carolyn Arnold; Clean-up, George Holdsworth; chairman and coordinator for the dance committee is Marilyn Atkinson; staff supervisors are Miss H. Herkes and Mr. J. E. Steadman.

H. and Digby. A further letter from the Middleton Board of Trade dealt with stock on the Nictaux river with salmon. Further information is to be sought before action is to be taken on the letter. The same applied to the Campobello letter. In regard to the letter from Eastport, Maine, it was the opinion of the Board that the matter be pursued and that the Eastport party be invited that a committee would be willing to meet the Eastport committee regarding the proposal.

In discussion of the wharf the matter of no pre-cooked fish plants in the area was noted and that much raw material was going out of Digby to other places. It was also decided to obtain information from the local fisheries department as to the extent of fish landings in Digby. Lack of transportation facilities for tourists coming into Nova Scotia came under discussion. Copies of the survey being conducted by the Digby Board of Trade were given to members for distribution. These are to be returned by May 20. The survey requests citizens and residents in Digby and area to give opinions as to the strong points, the problems, needs and supply of leaders in the community. They are asked to state how adequate they feel the services and opportunities for people are within the area. The questions relate to water supply, sewage incineration, transportation, protection, health, education and many miscellaneous subjects.

N.D.P. CANDIDATE

Mr. Bent has been a member of the staff of Middleton Regional High School, served as Town Councillor in Middleton, secretary and president of District Federation of Agriculture and District Fish and Game Association, past president of Annapolis Co. Local N.S.T.U. He was a CCF candidate for Annapolis East in the 1958 Provincial election. He is now a successful and dynamic representative for Co-operative Insurance in the Valley.

His wife, former Edith Foster, of Bridgetown, is principal of MacDonald Elementary School, Middleton.

They have 3 sons, Foster, who received his Bachelor of Education at Acadia this year, Lyn and Alfred, attending Middleton Regional High School.

Professor J. Glen Tilston, of Wolfville, was chairman of the convention. Ralph Loomer, vice chairman of the Provincial committee, gave a brief address, explaining some parts of the N.D.P. program. If each supporter could influence their neighbour to "see the light" there is no reason why Tommy Douglas could not be the next Prime Minister, introducing a new era of living. Unemployment is leading to a higher rate of mental illness, finance companies are reaping a harvest, the word socialism is being misinterpreted... the two old parties are really putting a smoke screen over the eyes of the public. Our young men and women are walking toward the edge of an abyss of fear, want and darkness... what does the future hold for them? The country is hopelessly in debt, taxes are rising higher and higher, cost of living is mounting. How can they meet these demands with no employment? The New Democratic Party has much to offer to the men and women of today and of tomorrow if they will just give the Party their support and a fighting chance to act."

Mr. Loomer introduced Dr. Lawrence Cameron, NDP candidate for Colchester-Hants. Dr. Cameron formerly practised dentistry at Lawrencetown.

Dr. Cameron said "The New Democratic program of action is the only alternative to the kind of conditions working people have suffered under the old parties. If either old party wins the forthcoming election in June there will be more than 90,000 unemployed in the Atlantic Provinces every winter for the next 5 years. The only thing that might change this condition is a NDP vote big enough to jolt them into more action than just the engineering survey of a causeway."

"The old parties belong to private enterprise and must cater to the big financial and business interests who pay for their elections," he said.

"A planned economy starts with the idea that everyone has his or her place in it, and the economic social planning must provide jobs and opportunities for all. Effective planning requires a government that is free of financial ties and can adopt plans that will give working people their rightful share of their own productivity. Great forest and fishery wealth lie untouched in our province of Nova Scotia. Why? Because when the present governments cannot operate with the profit coming their way they just won't operate."

Armed forces are being recruited to be sent to other countries to fight the enemy while the enemy is here within our gates. The present conditions of poverty, unemployment and unrest is a breeding ground for Communism," concluded Dr. Cameron. "I ask every sound thinking man and woman to get out and work in this campaign. This is the greatest fight for freedom this country has ever faced, and if we lose the result may be disastrous. We who have young men and women facing the world must work and strive that their future and their lives will not be marred and crippled by this 'Fallout' the present parties are planting in this campaign."

OKLAHOMA IN KENTVILLE

It took a song referring to corn growing as high as an elephant's eye, and other simple rural items, to stand the most sophisticated of New York theatrical audiences on their ears and draw their laughter and tears. This was "Oh, What a Beautiful Morning," the opening song of "Oklahoma!", the long-run record-holder of all the world's musical comedies which is being presented in Acadia University auditorium, Wolfville, Saturday, June 2nd, at 8 p.m., for one engagement. For all its references to corn, and the wheat that sure smells sweet, and the chicks and ducks and geese that had better scurry when the hero takes his girl out in a surry with the fringe on top "Oklahoma!" won the hearts of America as the least "corny" show of its time.

"Oklahoma!" with its unforgettable songs was based on a play called "Green Grow the Lilacs," written by Oklahoma-born Lynn Riggs in loving memory of his childhood in that state when it was still known as Indian Territory. It spins its plot around two triangles. The main one depicts the wooing by a handsome cowboy of a pretty farm-girl under the obstacle of her being pursued by a sour-tempered hired man who lives gloomily in a smokehouse surrounded by indecent photos. This ominous Jud Fry stands in contrast to the wholesome sunniness of the farm and frontier life around him.

The other triangle is the richly funny tale of Ado An-

New Fish Meal And Fish Oil Plant Opens

Can Process 100 Tons Fish Daily

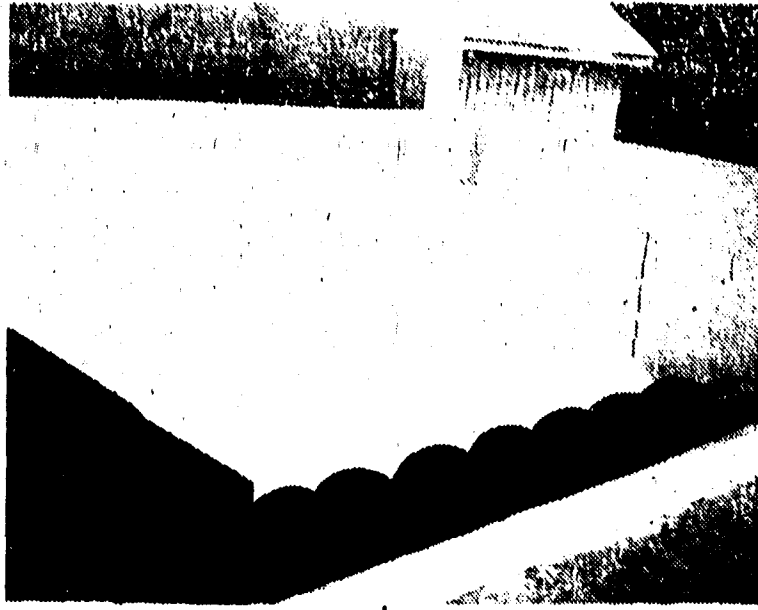

With machinery operated long time having been adopted by a 145 h.p. electric motor the ed and changed to best meet modern equipment Hipro Foods Limited plant open-which handles all types of fish is designed for continuous process of direct drying Digby Co. The plant built by Scotia Fat Salvage Co., under the supervision of William E. Sears, Bedford N. S., presents a result of many years experience by Mr. Sears in producing fish meal in both Canada and United States. The design is one which has been worked on for a

About 100 tons fish waste can be processed through the plant daily. It is understood. Another product manufactured at the Hipro Foods Limited is fish oil made not for human consumption but shipped. Above in the lower right picture is a measuring hopper made of all concrete where the fish are dumped from the hauling trucks and immediately screwed out by the screw shaped machine in the hopper and conveyed through a pipe to the inside of the building to the pre-cooker. In this way there is no spoilage lying around and the hopper is given a wash down daily keeping the plant fresh and free from odors.

In the pre-cooker the raw material is introduced into live steam and partly cooked. From there it is discharged to a mechanical press where water and oil are extracted.

The press can be dimly seen at the extreme right of the picture at the left. From the press the material goes by conveyor to the dehydrator, seen left, where moisture is taken out to only eight percent moisture. This is done by introducing high volume low temperature gases which are pulled through the dehydrator. Hot gases are introduced, fat is extracted and materials go through exhausts into a centrifugal separator and thence to the mill (extreme left) where it is ground and bagged into 100 lb. sacks ready for shipping to feed manufacturers.

Hipro Foods Limited Building

The dehydrator (large cylinder above) is 80 feet long and 6 feet in diameter. It makes 10 revolutions in a minute and can process 5 tons of material in an hour. The steam boiler for pre-cooking uses number six oil with the burner using about 50 gallons an hour.

Near the shore of St. Mary's Bay in the village of Mink Cove has recently been erected a plant for the manufacturing of fish meal and fish oil. The building approximately 30x114 ft., is made of wooden frame covered with metal sheeting. The building (shown above) is that of Hipro Foods Limited. Seen above in the picture are the superintendent, Fred D. Sears (left) and Scott D'Arcy, Waterford. Working at the plant were also Stuart Carty, Mink Cove; Charles Theriault, Mink Cove; and Wm. Sears. Two men will operate the plant. Officers of the company are Carleton Harris, Franklin Theriault, Keith Raymond and Edward Twopen.

Digby Native Makes Good

John Vernon Cossaboom, native of Digby but a resident of Houston, Texas, for the past 39 years, together with his wife, Cora, native of Weymouth, N. S., has recently opened his second Funeral Home in Houston. The Cossabooms left Nova Scotia in 1923, settling in Houston where in 1926 they started their first funeral establishment. Through the years the Cossabooms have become an important part of not only the Harrisburg area but of the entire East End of Houston. In 1936 the original Funeral Home was remodelled. In 1946 the Boulevard Insurance Company was organized by Mr. Cossaboom. This company has grown from a small mutual company to a large legal reserve company employing about 20 persons.

The new Funeral Home is located at 5733 Cullen Boulevard in the southeast section of the city. It is a modern buff brick structure of about 18,000 square feet, carpeted and with central heating and air conditioning. The Chapel has a seating capacity of 400 with pews made of natural Texas red oak. The ceiling is made in the design of the Star of David with beautiful stained glass windows letting in the sunlight. There are five offices and seven reposing rooms. The parking lot will accommodate 250 cars. Dr. Thomas R. Harris, Rector of the Episcopal Church of the Redeemer, and Rev. S. George Parrigin, Rector of St. Paul's Episcopal Church, officiated at the dedication ceremony. Approximately 2,000 persons visited the Home during the opening day.

Mr. Cossaboom, long a dedicated civic worker, is a charter member and Past President of the East End Kiwanis Club as well as the East End Lions Club. He is a life member of Lone Star Lodge No. 1, I.O.O.F., and Joseph Collins Rebekah Lodge; a member of Freeport Lodge, No. 65, A.F. & A.M., of Freeport, Nova Scotia, and an affiliated life member of East Gate Lodge, No. 1153, A.F. & A.M., of Houston, member of Park Place Royal Arch Chapter and Council, Knights Templar, Scottish Rite Bodies and Arabia Temple Shrine and a Past Patron of Magnolia Chapter No. 706 Order of the Eastern Star, all in Houston. He is also a Past President of the Texas Funeral Directors' Association of the State of Texas and a board member of the East End Y.M.C.A., a member of the Salesmanship Club and the Retail Credit Club and a Past President of both the Mason Park and Central Park Civic Clubs.

North Range

Guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Haight recently included Mr. and Mrs. Ben Marshall and family of Hill Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Don Marshall, Digby, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Serag of Bear River and Mrs. Ira Sabean of South Range.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baxter, Barton were the supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Haight on Sunday.

Mrs. Florence Bacon, Barton spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. William Wamboldt, she was the guest of her son Leslie and family on Sunday afternoon at the supper hour.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Tibert of Central Grove called on Mr. and Mrs. M. Bragg on Friday. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Waterman motored to Pleasant River and Hemford, Lunenburg County on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernie Haight and family of Hill Grove were guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Haight on Sunday. Mrs. Herbert Comeau and Sally Ann left for Terrace, B. C. on Saturday where she will spend a month with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Cook of Digby visited Mrs. William Wamboldt on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Wagner and family of Halifax spent Sunday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Avila Cyr.

Mr. Fred Spechts spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Spechts.

Y.M.C.A. presented Mr. Cossaboom with a plaque honoring him for the service he had rendered this organization. In 1958 the Motorcyclist Division of the Houston Police Department, numbering about 100 men, presented him with a plaque bearing each of their names and making him an honorary member of the force. In 1959 the East End Kiwanis Club made Mr. Cossaboom "Citizen of the Year", also presenting a plaque. In March of 1961 the East End Lions Club presented a plaque commemorating 30 years of service to that organization. Early in 1961 the East Gate Masonic Lodge had "J. V. Cossaboom Night" and presented Mr. Cossaboom with a plaque for meritorious service given to that body. Early in 1962 the Magnolia Assembly of Rainbow for Girls set aside an honor night for Mr. Cossaboom and presented him with a tie bar and cufflinks bearing the Rainbow emblem. Mr. Cossaboom served on the Advisory Board of the Assembly when it was constituted in 1936 and has been the Assembly's most loyal supporter ever since. Park Place DeMolay Chapter had an honor night for Mr. Cossaboom recently and presented him with a beautiful medal in recognition of many contributions to their Order.

April 12th, 1962, was designated "J. V. Cossaboom Night" at Magnolia Chapter No. 70, O.E.S. Friends from all over the city were invited to attend. A program was presented and a portrait of Mr. Cossaboom done in oil was unveiled. This was a gift of the members of Magnolia Chapter and is to be hung in the new Funeral Home on Cullen Boulevard.

John Vernon Cossaboom has been a benefactor to over 389 young men and women during the past 37 years. He has helped them to go to school and to complete their education. Most of the many golden deeds done by him have been unknown to everyone except those persons concerned. He enjoys helping his fellowman but he does not seek publicity from his many acts of charity. He has been successful in business and has shared his worldly goods with others along the way.

Mr. Cossaboom is a brother to W. F. Cossaboom, Tiverton.

No Idle Moments

Mrs. Alma Melanson, St. Mary's Street, Digby, doesn't believe in wasting time. It must be put to some good use so after she returns from a full day's work at HMCS Cornwallis she picks up needle and thread, knitting needles, hammer and nails or sets to work at any one of a variety of hobbies.

The newest hobby which Mrs. Melanson took on was the art of making dogs. This art might come naturally to Mrs. Melanson, for Mrs. Melanson has long been known as a lover of dogs, i.e. real live dogs. And it has been well known in Digby that the dogs at her home sense Mrs. Melanson's care for them and they return the affection. Mrs. Melanson has a knack of teaching dogs tricks. We know -- for the writer saw Mrs. Melanson's pet dog do from command the sitting act, the twist act, frog legs and also go through a series of routine exercises of sitting and standing. We might not have recognized it if Mrs. Melanson had not told us, but having been told, the polite response to food from the dog by a spoken "thank you" was quite audible. We heard the dog call its mistress "Alma" and we heard the saucy reply of "I won't" to the command "You will."

But the dogs in the picture above with Mrs. Melanson are not really alive even though they look the part. They are four of the twelve which Mrs. Melanson made during the winter. The one to the extreme left is 17 inches high, 34 inches long and measures 29 inches around the body. The frame is made of wood wrapped with cotton batting, pieces of old quilts or anything available to shape the body. The coat of the large Newfoundland dog named "Dodino" is made from a black Newfoundland fur coat which belonged to Mrs. Melanson's mother some seventy years ago. The dog to the extreme right, a cocker spaniel, is similarly made and covered with pieces of the same coat. Dodino is not the largest dog made by Mrs. Melanson. The largest one was not available for a picture as it had already become the pride and joy of a very small boy.

Of Mrs. Melanson's dogs, the two white toys poodles in the picture above are her specials. These are covered with a white coat which belonged to a daughter. Mrs. Melanson uses no patterns for her creations. She spies a dog in a magazine and starts to work. As the pictures indicate, they turn out most realistic.

Making dogs is not the only handcraft hobby in which Mrs. Melanson indulges. Mrs. Melanson pieced 4 quilt tops during the winter, knitted 3 bed jackets, did other sewing and made 11 door stop dolls, using bottles and vinegar jugs filled with sand for the frame work.

An ardent gardener and collector of houseplants, Mrs. Melanson displayed 105 plants in various parts of the house. They included African violets, cactus, gloxinias, amaranths, other varieties, all needing special care and attention.

Having seen the dogs, the dolls, the plants and bed jackets, and on entering the house having found Mrs. Melanson amidst a pile of boards, hammers, saws and nails where she was constructing cupboards and shelves in the kitchen, we questioned, "Mrs. Melanson, what else do you do?" The answer was, "Oh, anything, you name it." We are inclined to think that that is about the size of it, although Mrs. Melanson is readying her home for tourists so that she can retire some day from work at HMCS Cornwallis, ten miles away, and earn a living in her own home.

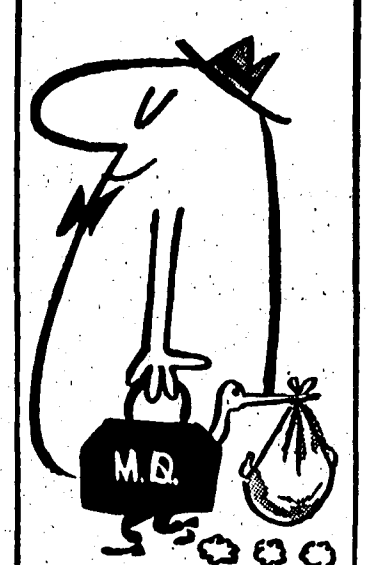

Mrs. Elmer Henshaw was hostess Thursday evening to her immediate family and several friends at a birthday party in her honor.

If You're TIRED

Now then everybody gets a "tired-out" feeling and may be bothered by backaches. Perhaps nothing seriously wrong, just a temporary condition caused by urinary irritation or bladder discomfort. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's help stimulate the kidneys to relieve this condition which may often cause backache and tired feeling. They help you feel better, rest better, work better.

All Obstacles Overcome

Despite the fact that their unfinished building had been blown down in a gale of wind, the officers and directors of Hight Foods Limited, Mark Cove, are rejoicing in the fact that such obstacles have been overcome and they proudly converse over the completed 30x114 ft. wood and metal construction as specified plans indicate.

Keith Raymond, Centreville, chairman of board; Carleton Harris, East Ferry; Franklin Theriault, East Ferry, director, and Edward Twohig, Digby, secretary-treasurer.

CAREER CONFERENCE

Ferber Marshall, Halifax, formerly of Digby, took the subject of electronics, particularly in regard to telephone communications. He touched on the local situation with the Bay View station established and plans for expansion and the recent change in long distance communication. He pointed out the engineering opportunities connected with the field. Nine attended the course.

A popular course with the girls was that for air stewardesses. Sixty attended. Miss Faye Wex, Montreal, took up the advantages in this field, including travelling and meeting people and she pointed out the qualifications necessary for a stewardess.

J. Ames, Yarmouth, had eight in a class on aircraft maintenance.

Twelve attended the class on Post Office and Civil Service when Clem Powers of the Personnel Office, P. O. Dept., Halifax, took up the nature of postal employee work and the advantage of making an early decision on a goal.

J. A. Comeau, Meteghan River took up school teaching advantages with 35 students noting the specialized fields in teaching.

Only three showed interest in the subject of dentistry conducted by Lieut. Col. N. A. Butcher, H.M.C.S. Cornwallis. He took up the university requirements and the financial requirements and also noted the assistance available for those entering university.

The subject of music was discussed by Mrs. J. Fred Hockley, Kentville, who pointed out various courses obtainable and their advantages.

Dr. Donald Folkins, Digby, had 12 students attend his lecture and discussion on medicine as a career. He told the students that a college education is available to anyone who wanted to work hard enough and they would never regret the decision to take advantage of the training. He challenged them to be non-conformists and pointed out opportunities for service in the field of medicine.

Mrs. Eva Wendell and Mrs. Nola Jeffrey of the guidance department of D.R.H.S. arranged the conference. C. C. MacInnis, principal, presided at the opening. A tea was served in the Household Science room.

WESTPORT

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Swift and son, Teddy, and Miss Myrna Garrison were away on Sunday.

The W.M.S. of the Baptist Church held their May meeting at the home of Miss Lulu Repool. Two life-membership were presented by the president, Mrs. J. McLellan to Mrs. Arthur Titus and Mrs. Harold Denton. The next meeting place will be at the home of Mrs. Ivan Thompson.

VOLUME LXXXVIII, No. 39

J. E. Steadman Liberal Candidate

Joseph E. Steadman, of Smith's Cove, mathematics teacher at the Digby Regional High School (above), was nominated as Liberal candidate for the constituency of Digby, Annapolis, Kings at a nominating convention held in Middleton last Wednesday evening. An estimated 1,500 attended the convention, which was termed one of the largest attended Liberal conventions ever held in the valley constituency.

Mr. Steadman's name was placed in nomination by John R. Nichols, of Digby, and seconded by Angus Edgerly, of Wolfville. The name of Eric Balem, of Wolfville, was also placed in nomination but Mr. Balem, a former member of the provincial legislature, stated that for personal reasons he would have to decline.

Guest speakers at the convention were Dr. Henry D. Hicks, former Premier of Nova Scotia, and Robert Nixon, M.P.P. for the riding of Brant, in Ontario.

Mr. Nixon, who is a farmer, spoke of matters pertaining to agriculture. He said that under the present federal government attention had been confined to the problems of western farmers. A Liberal administration, he said, would focus attention on the needs of the farmer in central and eastern Canada.

Expansion and extension of existing farm credit facilities will be part of the Liberal program, Mr. Nixon said. Such a program, he said, would make readily available at low interest rates adequate long term capital for farm improvement, the maintenance of the family farm as a healthy economic unit, purchase of farms by qualified young farmers with small cash payment and the consolidation of farms.

The Liberal program, Mr. Nixon said, will build up new markets both inside and outside Canada through the development of a freer trade policy. Over-production is the bane of many of our farmers, he said, and new and expanded markets must be created if farming is to prosper.

The manner in which the Diefenbaker government is looking at problems facing Canada should bring real pangs of sorrow to the breast of every Canadian, said Dr. Henry D. Hicks in his address.

In many of his statements concerning Canada's economy, the unemployment situation and other matters relating to the state of the nation, Mr. Diefenbaker and his colleagues are either badly misinformed or deliberately misinterpreting the facts, Dr. Hicks said.

Referring to unemployment, Mr. Hicks said the government obscures the facts concerning the massive unemployment that exists by saying "there are more Canadians at work than ever before." Since population increases by over 2% a year there should be more people working than before. The important factor, however, is the relationship of the number working to the total work force. Here Dominion Bureau of Statistics figures show that in March of 1962 8.7% of the total work force in Canada was unemployed. In the Atlantic provinces the figure was 16.8%.

For the decade from 1946 to 1956 under the St. Laurent government, Mr. Hicks said, the unemployed represented 21% of the work force. The

3-Day Search For Child

The three-day search for a missing two-year-old Granville Ferry girl ended in tragedy Monday when her body was found on the shore of the Annapolis Basin, near HMCS Cornwallis, seven miles from her home.

Ordinary Seamen Michael Olson and Joseph Colbary found the body of Alice Louise Halliday, youngest of eight children of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Halliday, at approximately 12:30 p.m. after the most extensive search ever carried out in the area.

The girl, who would have been two years old on Sunday, vanished from her aunt's home about 10:30 a.m. Friday. Her mother had left her there while she went into nearby Annapolis Royal to shop for an hour. Alice and some other children had been watching television when her aunt stepped outside for a few minutes. When she returned the child had gone.

Nearly 200 navy men from HMCS Cornwallis had joined civilians and RCMP in the search for the child. They searched everything for at least three miles in every direction, some places five or six times.

Wells and ponds were probed and some pumped dry as the search continued. Afloat from the search and rescue unit at Greenwood and a police dog from Truro also joined in. The two sailors found the body Monday as 90 additional seamen prepared to join the search.

Annapolis County coroner, Dr. G. R. Mahaney, of Bridgetown, said the girl had died of drowning. "Her lungs were full of water," he said. "There were absolutely no marks on the body that would suggest foul play." He added there would be no autopsy. Coroner Mahaney impelled a jury Monday night. The inquest adjourned until Wednesday at 8:00 p.m.

Alice's mother, Mrs. Gladys Halliday, received the news from Rev. W. E. Jefferson, Granville Anglican rector. Her father, a 34-year-old farm labourer, came home exhausted after three days and nights of frantic searching with little rest.

Alice is survived by her parents; three sisters, Joan, Dorothy and Joyce; four brothers, Frank, William, Donald and Stephen; and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Halliday, of Granville Ferry, and Mr. and Mrs. William Turbitt, of Aldersville, Lunenburg County. The body rested at Hatfield's Funeral Home in Granville Ferry. Funeral service was held 2 p.m. Tuesday at Holy Trinity Church. Rev. W. E. Jefferson officiating. Interment was in Stoney Beach cemetery.

Mrs. Dillon Entertains Women

Unit 2 UCW met at the home of Mrs. I. Dillon on Tuesday. An interesting devotional and study was conducted by Mrs. Clinton McInnis and taken from the book "Signals for the Sixties". As Mrs. Emmerson Graham, the group leader, resigned, Mrs. D. G. Black will take over for the remainder of the year. Materials for the aprons, doll clothes, etc., were distributed among members.

An invitation was extended to all members of the UCW from Smith's Cove United Baptist Church to visit there on May 25. A game, "Post Mortem", led by Mrs. D. Black and M. S. A. Cudmore, was enjoyed by all. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. D. Black on Tuesday, June 5.

year of highest unemployment, 1954, the figure reached only 4.6%.

When a leader or a government is unwilling to face up to facts, to tell the people the truth, then that leader and government will never solve the problems of Canada because they refuse to admit these problems exist, Dr. Hicks said.

Rev. Mr. Hughes Presbytery Chairman

The first Methodist cause in Nova Scotia was established at what is now Upper Granville in 1792. The Annapolis Presbytery of The United Church of Canada held its May meeting in the fine old church at Upper Granville on Thursday, May 10th, 1962, beginning at 10 a.m.

Mr. Fred I. Withers, lay supply at Digby Neck Weymouth, conducted the devotions. The chairman of the Presbytery, Rev. Nathan Bowring, of Annapolis Royal, constituted the meeting.

Among the items of correspondence was a report from the Halifax Hospital Chaplain, who stated that during the past year he had ministered to twenty-five patients from the Annapolis Presbytery area. Several members of the court expressed appreciation of the excellent work being done by the Hospital Chaplain, Rev. M. A. MacMillan.

At Graduation Of Great Granddaughter

Mrs. George Weir, Smith's Cove, who spent the winter with her daughter, Miss Kathryn Weir, Toronto, flew to Vancouver recently to attend the graduation exercises when her great granddaughter, Miss Lois Sutherland, graduated as a nurse from St. Joseph's Hospital, Victoria, B. C. Miss Sutherland is a daughter of Major and Mrs. Alex Sutherland, Vancouver.

Present for Lois' graduation were her mother, Mrs. Sutherland; her grandmother, Mrs. Edward Payson, Vancouver, and her great grandmother, Mrs. Weir.

Mrs. Weir was accompanied to Vancouver by her daughter, Kathryn. Mrs. Weir, who is still in Toronto, will be coming to her home in Smith's Cove late in June.

Suggests Story For Front Page Challenge

Harold Denton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bryson Denton, was winner of $25.00 for suggesting a front page story for the CBC-TV program "Front Page Challenge".

The story on the T.V. program about two weeks ago and sent in by Harold was about the United States Navy "Bathyscaphe" "Trieste" Makes World's Deepest Dive. The story was guessed just as the chairman was about to sound the gong, preventing Harold, by a split second, from getting $250.00.

Graduate In Medicine

Ronald F. Goldstein

In the graduation exercises at Dalhousie University Thursday, Ronald F. Goldstein, New York City, U.S.A., was awarded the degree of Doctor of Medicine. Prior to entering Dalhousie University, he attended Long Island University in New York, where he received a Bachelor of Science degree in Biology.

Following a summer vacation with his family, Dr. Goldstein will enter the United States Air Force as a Captain in the medical corps, where he will do work in aerospace medicine.

D. G. Garnham

Dr. Goldstein is married to the former Beverley L. Webber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Webber, of Digby, N. S.

D. G. Garnham, son of Mr. and Mrs. Brenton Garnham, Truro, N. S., and a graduate of Mount Allison University, also received his Doctor of Medicine at the graduation exercises at Dalhousie University on Thursday.

Dr. Garnham married the former Janet L. Wallis, daughter of the late J. M. Wallis and Mrs. Wallis, Digby.

Brotherhood Supper

Grace United Church Brotherhood held its closing meeting for the summer at the church hall on Saturday evening when they entertained wives and friends at a supper. The meeting was presided over by the president, Clayton Snow. Norman Wright was in charge of entertainment.

Named on the nominating committee to bring in a slate of officers for the coming year were Charles Pitt, Reginald Jefferson and Gerald Hoare.

It was decided that the men of the Brotherhood conduct the worship service at Grace United Church on the Sunday of the Maritime Conference of the United Church when Rev. R. H. Hughes will be in Sackville, N. B.

Bear River Girls Injured

Miss Judith Jeanette Marshall, 259 Oxford Street, Halifax, and Miss Beryl Henderson, of West Lawrenceton, were taken to the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, after a two car collision on Windmill Road, Dartmouth, on Monday evening. The two ladies, occupants of one car, are school teachers.

Both are natives of Bear River, Digby County. Occupants of the other vehicle were uninjured, a police spokesman said. Neither of the girls was reported in serious condition.

Surprise Party Held

On Saturday evening, May 5th, a surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Oakley Turnbull, Lighthouse Road, in honour of Miss Diana Hersey, who graduated the following morning at the commencement exercises of St. Patrick's Academy. Those present included members of the Berean Youth Group of Lighthouse Mission, Digby, who are also members of the Sunday School class taught by Mrs. Turnbull.

The evening was spent playing games and a melodious kitchen rhythm band accompanied the group in singing favourite songs.

At the close of the evening delicious refreshments of sandwiches, ice cream and cake were served by the hostess. Miss Hersey was presented with a picture of the Christ, and the best wishes of her many friends go with her as she embarks on her career.

She has accepted a position with the Civil Service and will temporarily be working at HMCS Cornwallis.

To Attend World's Fair

Digby Princess Miss Titus

Miss Joan Titus, Centreville, Digby Co., was the choice of the judges in selecting a princess to represent Digby in the 30th Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival to be held in Kentville on June 1, 2, 3 and 4.

The judges made their decision at a tea sponsored for the entrants in the contest and held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bearn on Friday.

Competing were following: Miss Donna Lewis, sponsored by the Digby Fire Department; Miss Delores McSweeney, Digby Kiwanis Club; Miss Joan Hattie, Digby Kiwanis Club; Miss Karen Barnes, Digby Lions Club; and Miss Titus, sponsored by Digby Branch Canadian Legion.

The Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival Princess Contest for Digby was under the overall sponsorship of the Digby Lions Club.

Mrs. Helen Anthony, Deputy Mayor of the Town of Digby, poured at the tea, where the tea table adorned with an arrangement of jonquils and in a room profuse with forsythia made a delightful setting for the occasion.

Judges were Mrs. Florence Purves, Mrs. J. A. Croft, Digby, and Mrs. Cecil Raymond, Smith's Cove.

In the evening a dance was held at the Lions Club Hall when Miss Titus was crowned the Digby princess.

Miss Titus is a daughter of Mrs. Flora Titus and the late Mr. Titus, Centreville.

DRHS Highways And Byways

On Saturday, May 19th, about 30 representatives of D.R.H.S., along with students from Bridgetown, Middleton, Annapolis, Weymouth, Lawrencetown and Clarke Rutherford School participated in the regional track meet held at Bridgetown. In the overall results, Bridgetown placed first with 396 points; Digby came fourth with 127½ points. This year is the fourth year in which Digby has taken part in the meet and it is interesting to compare the yearly scores of 26, 63 and 79 points with this year's score.

Those boys who will be attending the meet at Acadia are Gary Winchester, who won the "A" boys 440 yard dash and placed second in the "A" boys 220 yard dash; Terry Carson, who came first in the "B" boys 220 yard dash and also equalled the record of 25.1 seconds; and Peter Croft, who won the "E" boys 440 yard dash. Ian Anderson, who won both the "C" boys high jump and discus, will go to Truro. Both the "B" and "C" boys relay teams placed second and the "D" boys team came third.

The girls who participate in the track meet earned 23 points as compared with 4

More Letters Re Wharf

According to officials of the Digby Board of Trade two more letters have been received expressing interest in the Board's endeavour to have extensions and dredging done at the Digby pier.

A letter from Hon. Leon Baker, Minister of Transport for Canada, stated that he would be pleased to have his officers collaborate with the Department of Public Works on the matter. He said everything possible will be done to make the harbour attractive to general shipping and at the same time satisfactory to local users.

A letter from Hon. E. A. Manson, Minister of Trade and Industry, Nova Scotia, advised the Board that preliminary inquiries have been put into motion concerning facilities on the Digby water front.

Acknowledgement had previously been received from letters sent to Hon. D. Walker, Minister of Public Works, Hon. George Nowlan, Premier, Stanfield, V. G. Cardozo, M.L.A.

The Board took up the wharf project after it had been introduced by the chairman of the Industrial committee, A. L. Robinson. The committee in charge was H. C. Morton and Ralph McIntyre.

Endorsing the proposal were the Town of Digby and Digby Municipality.

Boat Total Loss

The fishing craft "Ginger & Sundae" went ashore near Centreville late Tuesday night with 6,000 pounds of fish aboard.

The boat, captained by brothers Roy and Arnold Nesbitt, developed trouble with the fuel line. Later, as the line was being repaired, the anchor cable parted and the boat went ashore. Northwest winds and heavy seas pounded the boat upon the rocky coast.

According to information reaching the Courier late Wednesday, the boat was a total loss.

The "B" girls relay team placed third, while the "C" team came fourth.

Last Friday evening an Open House was held at the high school, with Miss Grace Vincent and Mr. R. B. Powell as chaperones. Mr. and Mrs. C. C. MacInnes were also present during part of the evening.

During the past week the A.Y. group held their regular monthly meeting, when reports of the recent A.Y. conference, held in Pictou, were given by Elizabeth Cardozo and Carol Daley. Those chosen to go to the A.Y. Camp at Berwick this summer are Judy Budd, Pat Doucet, Luke Geerlings and Harold Denton. The meeting closed with a social period highlighted by a "chickenburger" supper.

Visits Digby

Liberal leader Lester B. Pearson made a brief stop in Digby last Thursday when he addressed a gathering at the Band Stand on Montague Row. The motorcade arrived in Digby one hour late due to short delays at other stops throughout the valley.

Mr. Pearson said he was sorry that his visit in the area was so hurried and that he had no time to enjoy the famous countryside.

He apologized for the delay of his visit to Digby, and thanked those who had patiently waited throughout the delay.

Little Susan Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Anderson, Digby, presented Mrs. Pearson with a bouquet. The motorcade left for Weymouth where it would be joined by a delegation from the District of Clare, and proceed to Yarmouth, where Mr. Pearson would speak that night.

Boys Meet Callivan Tonight

Danny Callivan, commentator for Montreal Canadiens hockey broadcasts, will be guest speaker at the Digby Minor Hockey League Banquet tonight at the Lions Club Hall. Former guests have been Forbes Kennedy, of the Detroit Red Wings, Maurice Kelly, of Acadia University, and the famous Maurice "Rocket" Richard.

At this fourth annual affair five awards will be presented to each of the four leagues. Tickets are available from W. Hodgson, A. McCahum, R. Morgan, W. MacLeod, H. MacPherson and Cpl. R. Douglas.

Ernest Height, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Height, Barton, is spending a short vacation with his parents before moving to Vancouver.

Mr. Height finished his Bachelor of Arts degree at Acadia University in May. Mr. Height, who had started his B.A. course some years ago, had in the meantime been on the staff of the High Commissioner for Canada in London and had been with the External Affairs Department in Ottawa.

Out For Jobs

Members of Allied Youth of Digby Regional High School are putting away sports and a day of leisure on Saturday for a day of honest-to-goodness hard work. They are "out for jobs" but only for the day. Asked, what are the chances? Left to the discretion of the employer, they said. Watch out for A.Y. They'll be descending on you Saturday. Good time to get those odd jobs done.

Catches Large Trout

One of the largest trout caught in the waters around here was brought home over the holiday by Harold Elliott, Convey. The fish, 18 inches in length and 5 inches deep, weighed 2 pounds, 11 and one half ounces.

Accompanying Mr. Elliott on the fishing trip was Edward Connell.

Questioned as to where the trout was caught the editor was informed at "Some Lake". We're all going there to fish when we find the lake, the editor thinks.

Children's Aid Elects Slate

The annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society of Annapolis was held Wednesday evening in the Annapolis District Community Centre, Annapolis Royal.

The president of the society, Mr. John Johnson, presided over the meeting and welcomed the guest speaker, Judge W. Marshall Black of the Juvenile Court, Mr. R. Purdy, Regional Director of the Western Regional of the Department of Public Welfare, Board members, Foster parents and interested friends. Mr. Johnson extended a very warm thank you to the past board members who have contributed with their time and talents to the necessary work of the Society and expressed gratitude to those who contributed financially to make the work possible. The president expressed concern over the financial condition of the Society, due to the increasing demand for welfare services in the County, for child protection, juvenile delinquency, probation work, adoption investigations, family counselling, etc. The Society has enlarged its services, but not its income, over the past few years. If the Society is to continue its services, it must appeal to the citizens of the County of Annapolis for further financial assistance.

Mr. Johnson introduced the Executive Director, Mr. Calvin A. Boutiller, and extended thanks to the Society's staff for an excellent job in the care and protection of unfortunate children over the past year. A vote of thanks was also offered to the previous Executive Director, Mr. E. W. Skinner.

In the absence of the treasurer, Mr. V. A. Thompson, Mr. David Armstrong gave the financial report for the fiscal year ending March 31, 1962, he explained the various accounts of the Society and the methods of book keeping and financing a welfare agency. Mr. Armstrong also appealed to the citizens of the County for increased financial assistance in the coming year.

The chairman of the nominating committee, Mrs. C. T. LeBrun of Bridgetown, brought in the report of her committee and after some discussion the following officers and board members were elected:

President — John C. Johnson, Annapolis Royal.
1st Vice-President — E. M. Allen, Annapolis Royal.
2nd Vice-President — Rev. C. Fraser, Bridgetown.
3rd Vice-President — R. E. Spence, Middleton.
Secretary — Mrs. D. Hatherly, Bridgetown.
Treasurer — V. A. Thompson, Annapolis Royal.

Board members were John C. Johnson, W. A. Thompson, C. W. Fikes, E. M. Allen, Rev. Paul Underwood, Mrs. E. F. Shaffner, Mr. J. Ternan of Annapolis Royal; Mrs. Raymond McNeil, Mr. Roy Melsaac, Mr. A. Davis, Rev. Calder Fraser, Mrs. Roy Currie of Bridgetown; Mr. David Armstrong, Mrs. F. F. Smith, Mrs. J. V. Payn, Mrs. E. Fields of Granville Ferry; Mrs. Lewis Mills of Granville Centre, Mr. Edward Freeman and Mrs. F. B. Young of Lawrencetown. Mrs. Irving Bishop, Paradise; Mr. T. H. Fortie of Upper Clements, R. A. Pierce, Bear River; and Mrs. Roy C. Elliott; Dr. W. J. Fortune, Mrs. Hannah MacLean, R.N., and R. E. Spence of Middleton.

Following the election of officers the business meeting came to a close and the President called on Mr. Roy A. Laurence, Q.C., to introduce the guest speaker, His Honor W. Marshall Black of Kentville, Judge of the Juvenile Court for the western region of Nova Scotia. This covers an area from Baddeck west to Yarmouth. Judge Black explained the operation of the Juvenile Court in Nova Scotia and stressed the importance of rehabilitation. Punishment is no longer the theme in juvenile corrections and he said every public minded citizen should make every effort to assist the Courts. We should all be aware, he said, of any trend in delinquency and report such trends to the proper authorities. If unchecked an innocent boy can develop into a hardened criminal and a burden to Society.

A social hour followed when refreshments were served by Mrs. J. V. Payn assisted by various board members.

YOU HAVE A HAND IN THINGS CANADIAN

when you own Life Insurance

Surprising? Yes—but true. Like most people, you have probably thought of your life insurance as protection for your family — as a good way to save money regularly — as a valuable collateral if you need a loan for an emergency.

Actually, your life insurance dollars are more than an investment in your personal security and your family's. These dollars are also an investment in Canada. They stimulate growth and progress and help make this country a better place in which to live and work.

At this moment, 9 BILLION DOLLARS of life insurance savings are invested in important Canadian enterprises—through the purchase of bonds and stocks and through mortgages. These hard-working dollars are helping to finance great projects all over this country such as pipelines, shopping centres, bridges and highways, homes, apartment and office buildings, schools, factories, industrial plants and power developments. These investments create employment opportunities, too. The income from these investments benefits you directly by reducing the cost of life insurance to you and the 9 million other Canadian policyowners.

WHAT'S THE 'INSTALMENT PLAN' WAY TO SAVE FOR THE Big DAY?

When you're looking ahead to wedding expenses, a trip to Europe, or a down payment on a house, Scotiabank's Personal Security Program is the ideal savings plan. PSP—exclusive with The Bank of Nova Scotia—puts saving on the same organized basis as your program of payments for anything you might buy on the instalment plan. It works this way: You select a goal (anywhere between $100 and $2,500) which you reach in fifty equal deposits. As you save, you're life-insured for the full amount of your goal. When you reach your goal, you collect all you've saved, plus a cash bonus. Ask for details on PSP at your nearest branch of The Bank of Nova Scotia.

WOMEN, ELECT SLATE

The regular monthly meeting of the Christian Women's Fellowship was held at the Church of Christ (Disciples) of Weymouth, with president, Mrs. Wilfred Cosman, presiding.

The devotional "Ye Shall Be My Witness - Through Suffering" was led by Mrs. Lorne Nethercott. Leota and Gloria Lewis were in charge of Mission Study; Mrs. H. J. Lewis presented the Bible Study taken from the book of Ephesians; and World Call Study was directed by Mrs. Frank Lewis who was also the organist.

During the business session the Nominating Committee brought in the new slate of officers, namely:

President - Mrs. Lorne Nethercott.

Vice-President - Mrs. Malcolm Cosman.

Secretary - Mrs. Russell Cosman.

Treasurer - Mrs. Newton Lewis.

Directors for the following services are:

Worship - Mrs. Jared Frankland.

World Call - Mrs. Clyde Cosman.

Mission - Miss Gloria Lewis.

Bible Study - Mrs. Harry J. Lewis.

Four boxes of used clothing were prepared for missions and a Sewing kit was completed. Plans were finalized to hold a special "Clean-up-day and evening" at the church by the group who voluntarily will give the interior a general cleaning, aside from their regular cleanings.

Following the CWF benediction refreshments were served at which time members presented Mrs. Wesley Grant with a gaily decorated birthday cake.

Clare Organizes Study Club

Great strides have been made in the Municipality of Clare, commonly called the "French Shore" along St. Mary's Bay, in regards to improving the economy of the area but perhaps the brightest star over the horizon is the great surge in organizing of study clubs that has been witnessed within the last six months. Study clubs have been organized in five of the seven parishes of Clare and it is expected that the two others will eventually join.

The response of the people of Clare to the appeal to organize study groups has been remarkable and far exceeded the expectations of those who recommended such clubs. The Study Clubs have blossomed out practically throughout Clare with St. Bernard's parish, comprising of the villages of Bellevue's Cove, St. Bernard, New Edinburgh and Ohio, being the first and the largest concentration of study group in the entire municipality. St. Bernard parish has six study clubs with a total membership of approximately sixty and it appears that more study clubs may be organized in the very near future.

St. Bernard, Concession in the parish of Mont St. Carmel of the same village; St. Mary's parish of Church Point; Saulnierville, St. Alphonse, five of the seven parishes have been organized with Meteghan and Salmon River yet to enter.

The St. Bernard groups studied various community problems among which were recreational facilities, the Fire department, credit union and co-operatives and Concession's group studied the credit union, beautification of the church and cemetery grounds. Saulnierville studied the problems pertaining to Credit Unions and community needs while Church Point's club studied the various phases of the community, its needs and what can be done to improve the community in general. The six weeks session on a weekly basis of the latter group followed the Adult Education branch's plan of study.

St. Alphonse's group discussed community pasture with the possibilities of organizing such a pasture at Cape St. Mary's marsh which would be reclaimed. Studies regarding this matter is continuing and investigations are being carried out by the group. Hobby clubs have also been organized and the participation in the Acadian Festival of next August has been one of the topics on which much discussion was had.

It is planned to hold a Study Club Rally at which all Study Clubs in the Municipality of Clare will participate. The Rally will consist of a program in which each club will review the work accomplished in the past and present each individual clubs program for next season, being of a flexible nature so that ideas presented by the various clubs may be entered on their proposed program of study. Weekly bulletins will be sent to each club commencing in the fall when the next sessions will commence after a short layoff during the two summer months.

The curtailment of the study club meetings during the summer months is due to the absence of a great number of the club's members who are employed outside the districts and also the holiday period which will commence during these months. Great things are expected from the study clubs of Clare.

LAST MEETING WEYMOUTH 'H & S

Weymouth Home and School Association held its final meeting for this term on May 8 at the Consolidated School, Gifford Lewis, president, was in the chair. Following various reports the nominating committee presented a slate of officers for the coming year, as follows: Gifford Lewis, president; E. Adelaar, first vice president; Mrs. Daniel Hankinson, second vice president; Mrs. Allen Irvine, secretary; Mrs. Harley Amiraault, treasurer; program chairman, Mrs. Gordon Campbell; social convener, Mrs. Gordon Prime; assistant, Mrs. H. Colewell; art convener, Mrs. L. Nethercott; music, Mrs. David McNeil.

Delegates were appointed to attend the Digby County Council of Home and School Association, held at Sandy Cove on May 12. A resolution was made whereas the present curriculum for the schools of Nova Scotia does not give English speaking students an adequate speaking and reading knowledge of French. The association was asked to confer with the Department of Education to investigate the possibility of expanding the program of students in French language and literature, and having the teaching of French begin in the elementary grades in schools throughout the province.

A committee was appointed for the prom, which will be held in June 5. Father Devau asked for volunteers to meet at the school on May 17 to help improve the grounds, causeway, etc.

The guest speaker was Mrs. Gordon Campbell who told of the importance of music in the schools. She stressed that music interests in the lower grades may help curb delinquency in the teenage years, and how music appreciation of the child may effect his future career.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by Mrs. Colewell and her committee.

Barton

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Haight and son, Lloyd motored to Halifax on Friday to attend the wedding of their daughter and sister, Miss Evelyn Dickson, they were accompanied by their brother E. Ashford Balser of Lansdowne.

H. & S. Has Active Year

Digby Neck Home and School Association held its final meeting of the current year in the school auditorium Thursday evening, May 24. Reports from various officers and committees showed that the organization had a very successful and active year. The treasurer's report showed a satisfactory state of solvency.

The talent show, held in April, was a great success both in the way of entertainment offered and financial returns ($150.00).

There was a lively debate, pro and con, sending a delegate to the annual convention to be held at Acadia University July 10, 11, 12. There were those who felt that the organization should be represented and should be responsible for the expenses of a delegate.

There were others who felt that the funds on hand should be used for the improvement of the school library, school grounds, etc. Finally it was moved and passed a delegate be sent, expenses paid.

The proceeds from the talent show are to be used to install a public address system in the auditorium.

New officers for the following year were installed by Ronald Morehouse, Warden of the municipality. Mrs. Emdon Morehouse, the retiring president, was presented with a Home and School pin.

Coffee and doughnuts were served at the close of the meeting.

Officers for the coming year are: Past president, Mrs. Emdon Morehouse; president, Mrs. Elmer Lewis; 1st vice-pres., Mrs. Bailey Gidney; 2nd vice-pres., Mrs. Austin Morehouse; rec. sec'y., Miss Dorothy Outhouse; cor. sec'y., Mrs. Clayton Denton; treasurer, Mrs. Gordon Theriault.

Conveners — Membership, Mrs. LeRoy Robicheau; visual aids, Mrs. Owen Irving; recreation, Mrs. Stanley Denton; music, Mrs. Bernard Denton; programme, Mrs. Keith Raymond; adult education, Mrs. Lee D'Arcy; health, Mrs. Curtis Denton; publicity, Mrs. Conrad Gidney; Founder's Day, Miss Elizabeth McCullough.

Chairman, Rev. R. H. Hughes, Digby.

Secretary and Statistical Secretary, Rev. Morris A. Bars, Kingston.

Treasurer and Press Secretary, Rev. W. H. Thomas, Aylesford.

Other members of the Executive are Rev. J. R. C. Fraser, Mr. Kenneth Beckwith, Digby, and Mr. A. B. Bent, of Lawrencetown.

Nominated by the Presbytery for Commissioners to General Council were: Rev. Morris A. Bars, Ministerial Commissioner, and Mr. A. B. Bent, Non-Ministerial Commissioner.

Rev. W. H. Thomas, speaking on Christian Education, informed Presbytery of the plan for the appointment of a team of Curriculum Consultants to supervise the introduction of the new Christian Education Curriculum.

Speaking for the Committee on Evangelism and Social Service, Rev. Nathan Bowering drew the attention of the members to the fact the circulation and sales of better class magazines were increasing considerably, while the poorer type of publication was losing in circulation. Mr. Bowering recommended several books, among them, "The Pastoral Relation Committee Report" was given by Rev. R. H. Hughes. A call from the Bloomfield Charge of the Bay of Quinte Conference to Rev. Nathan Bowering was approved, and appreciation of Mr. Bowering was expressed by the court. Applications to be left without charge were approved with regard to Rev. Allan C. Maclean, of Lawrencetown, to enter the Army Chaplaincy, and to Rev. H. I. Hare, to continue as a Naval Chaplain.

Rev. Fred Burrill, Berwick, reporting for Home Missions, stated that there is an increasing need for the amalgamation of pastoral charges in these days, if the work of the Church is to be carried on effectively.

Rev. Frank Phinney, Waterville-Woodville, reported on the Mission Rally held the previous evening in the United Church at Bridgetown, with Dr. Florence Murray as speaker. There had been a large attendance, and Dr. Murray had spoken with great effect.

Rev. Nathan Bowering and Rev. J. R. C. Fraser spoke on the work of the Atlantic Christian Training Centre at Tatamagouche.

Helped By Kiwanis

Billy, seven-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David Doucette, Gilberts Cove, underwent another foot operation similar to four others he has undergone within a space of three years. His transportation to the Children's Hospital was generously supplied by the Kiwanis Club of Digby. The Red Cross contributed a wheelchair to Billy while he had on a knee-length cast, which was removed May 14th at the Crippled Children's Clinic.

Billy spent three months in school and is now taking a correspondence course in Grade 1.

In Memoriam

STANTON — In loving memory of my dear mother, Mrs. Susie Stanton, who passed away May 20, 1960.
What would I give to clasp her hand,
Her happy face to see, To hear her voice, and see her smile,
That meant so much to me,
I dream of you dear loved one,
And see your smiling face,
And know that you are happy,
In our father's chosen place.
— Remembered by her son,
Carl Stanton. 39:11c

MARSHALL — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, John Marshall, who died June 2, 1957.
To us his name will never be
The key that unlocks memory
Of a dear one gone but cherished yet
A beloved face we'll never forget.
— Ever remembered by wife and children. 39:11p

84th Birthday Anniversary
Mrs. William Johnston of Waldoe West celebrated her 84th birthday anniversary on Tuesday, May 22. She is a patient at Digby General Hospital suffering a broken hip in a fall at her home last Sunday.

Mrs. Johnston came to Canada several years ago from Scotland with her husband and family, being the largest family to immigrate to Canada.

She has 6 sons, 2 daughters, 25 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren, living in Nova Scotia and Ontario.

During World War 2, Mrs. Johnston had 6 sons in uniform, 5 serving overseas, 3 grandsons and 2 sons-in-law also in uniform.

We wish her happy birthday greetings and hope she is on the road to recovery.

Given Promotion
The promotion of 22 airmen from the Province of Nova Scotia to higher rank has been announced by RCAF Air Division Headquarters. The promotions became effective the first of this month. The promotion list showed two new flight sergeants, four sergeants and sixteen new corporals.

Promoted to the rank of flight sergeant was Sergeant David H. Johnstone, 37, a power plant operator at Air Division Headquarters, Metz. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnstone, live in Deep Brook.

Promoted to the rank of sergeant was Cpl. Sheldon Outhouse, 23, of Tiverton, Digby County, who is employed as a firefighter at 2 Fighter Wing.

Speaking for the Committee on Evangelism and Social Service, Rev. Nathan Bowering drew the attention of the members to the fact the circulation and sales of better class magazines were increasing considerably, while the poorer type of publication was losing in circulation. Mr. Bowering recommended several books, among them, "The Pastoral Relation Committee Report" was given by Rev. R. H. Hughes. A call from the Bloomfield Charge of the Bay of Quinte Conference to Rev. Rev. Frank Phinney, Waterville-Woodville, reported on the Mission Rally held the previous evening in the United Church at Bridgetown, with Dr. Florence Murray as speaker. There had been a large attendance, and Dr. Murray had spoken with great effect.

Rev. Nathan Bowering and Rev. J. R. C. Fraser spoke on the work of the Atlantic Christian Training Centre at Tatamagouche.

Speaking for the Committee on Evangelism and Social Service, Rev. Nathan Bowering drew the attention of the members to the fact the circulation and sales of better class magazines were increasing considerably, while the poorer type of publication was losing in circulation. Mr. Bowering recommended several books, among them, "The Pastoral Relation Committee Report" was given by Rev. R. H. Hughes. A call from the Bloomfield Charge of the Bay of Quinte Conference to Rev. Nathan Bowering was approved, and appreciation of Mr. Bowering was expressed by the court. Applications to be left without charge were approved with regard to Rev. Allan C. Maclean, of Lawrencetown, to enter the Army Chaplaincy, and to Rev. H. I. Hare, to continue as a Naval Chaplain.

Rev. Fred Burrill, Berwick, reporting for Home Missions, stated that there is an increasing need for the amalgamation of pastoral charges in these days, if the work of the Church is to be carried on effectively.

Referring to the devaluation of the dollar, Dr. Hicks said the government would attempt to keep from the people knowledge of the real effect this would have on the Canadian economy until after the election. The fact is, he said, that the trading world has lost confidence in the Canadian dollar as they have in the present Canadian government.

He pointed out that, although the Canadian dollar had been pegged at 75 below U.S., it had actually fallen lower than this on the New York market.

Speaking of the economy of the country, Dr. Hicks said that statements of the Prime Minister and his cabinet members were not born out by Dominion Bureau of Statistics figures. Referring to claims made concerning growth in the Atlantic provinces under the Diefenbaker regime, he said D.B.S. figures disproved claims of the government.

According to D.B.S. figures, Dr. Hicks said, growth in the Atlantic area had slowed down since the Diefenbaker government came into power.

Eric W. Balcom, vice-president of the provincial Liberal association, urged election of the Liberal candidate in the constituency. He asked the audience to name any major accomplishment for the constituency that had been secured by the present government in Ottawa.

Under Liberal representation, Mr. Balcom said, this valley saw the establishment of the huge Cornwallis naval base, the Greenwood air base and Aldershot camp. Despite the fact, he said, that Mr. Nowlan had assured audiences in Kentville that the Aldershot camp would not close and had said that "for every man who marches out I will march another in", the only marching feet now heard at Aldershot are those of the unemployed.

Mr. Balcom said Liberal policies would restore economic stability to the Atlantic area; would increase employment and job opportunities and strengthen Canada's position in the world of nations.

Speaking of the probable outcome of the present federal election, Mr. Balcom said Gallup poll reports indicated a growing trend toward the Liberal party; newspaper reports across the nation indicate a lack of confidence among Canadians in the present government and the signs point to a Liberal victory. He said the Prime Minister was downgrading the reliability of the Gallup poll as an indicator of public sentiment. In 1957 and 1958 when it favoured him, Mr. Diefenbaker had referred to it as an accurate gauge, Mr. Balcom said.

Other speakers at the convention included Victor Carozza, MLA, Digby; Peter M. Nicholson, MLA, Annapolis West and Dr. E. D. MacArthur, MLA, Kings West. Chairman of the meeting was Malcolm Balcom, warden of Annapolis county.

WEYMOUTH BOARD CLEAN UP CAMPAIGN

The Board of Trade met on Thursday evening with 11 present. Items of interest to the area were discussed, which were as follows: (1) to obtain the services of another medical doctor for the area, (2) the difficulties in our transportation services, (3) and the feasibility of opening a highway between Digby and Shelburne. It was hoped that some positive action could be taken as a result of questionnaires mailed to each household, regarding garbage collection in the area.

Chairman Roy Sullivan stated that he hoped the citizens would all turn out on Thursday, May 27th when a work-night will be held at the school to clean up the grounds and do a few paint jobs. This is being sponsored by the Board of Trustees.

Considerable discussion was held on methods for increasing the membership and to get more of the regular members to attend these meetings. Progress is being made to adopt a new set of by-laws for the purpose of being eventually incorporated in the Weymouth Board of Trade.

FIRST ANNUAL INSPECTION

The first annual inspection of No. 2676 Weymouth Consolidated High School R.C.A. Cadets Corps was held on May 17, 1962 at 1020 hours at the High School Grounds.

Brigadier W. D. King, OBE, ED, CD, was the inspecting officer, accompanied by Capt. H. A. De Coste and Lt. E. Temple. Also taking part were: Major Potter, W.N.S.R., representing the Affiliated Unit, Lt. J. R. Doucet, chief instructor, Mr. G. P. Campbell, Civilian Instructor and Mr. Rice Kinney, chairman of the Municipal School Board, sponsors of the Cadet Corps.

The cadets were led by Cdt. Lt. Wayne Blynn and Cdt. Sgt. Roger Hankinson.

Following the inspection the Corps marched past in column of Platoon and column of Route, advanced in Review Order. At this moment Brig. King addressed the Corps having high hopes for the future of the corp, and praising their accomplishments. After the address, Lt. J. R. Doucet called out Cdt. Cpl. David Comeau to receive the "Best Cadet" trophy awarded annually was donated by the Student's Council in memory of David Nickerson, a pupil killed earlier in the year.

After the outdoor ceremonial the inspection team moved in the gym for the cadet's demonstration of weapons. Cadet Nelson LeBlanc and John Sullivan lectured on the LMG and cadets, Cpl. David Comeau, Tommy Thibault and Raymond Barr on rifle.

Many parents of cadets and interested village citizens along with the entire school turned out for the inspection.

DROWNING VICTIM BURIED

The funeral of the late Flt. Sgt. Harold Harris, who lost his life in a tragic drowning accident in Ontario, April 28th was held from the United Church of Canada in Bear River on May 14th.

The late Flt. Sgt. Harris had served with R. C. A. F. for twenty-three years and was due for retirement in two years.

He was the son of the late Wm. Harris and Mrs. Charles Balser, born in Bear River in 1920.

He leaves a wife, the former Eva Jack and three sons, Wayne, David and Brian; a brother Roland Harris in Saugus, Mass. and a sister, Mrs. Malcolm Patterson of Lynn, Mass.

The funeral was a Military one, conducted by Rev. Stewart Russell, pastor of the church, assisted by Padre Cox of R. C. A. F. Greenwood. Officers and other ranks from R. C. A. F. station at Centralia, Ont., and Greenwood were present. The bearers were fellow senior N. C. O. S. S. Many beautiful floral tributes were received from friends far and near. Interment was in Mount Hope Cemetery.

CLEMENTSPORT

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Elliott and family spent the holiday weekend at their summer cottage at Mallette's Lake, also visiting with them was Mr. and Mrs. Keith Berry and children. The highlight of the weekend was when nine year old Ricky Berry caught two lovely trout, one 15 inches long and the other 13½ inches long.

Medric Comeau Honoured By Degree

J. Medric Comeau, of Meteghan River, received an honorary degree in social sciences at the graduation exercises which were held at St. Ann's College, Church Point, on May 20th. Mr. Comeau is president of St. Ann's Alumni Society; president of the Clare Chamber of Commerce; president of Diocesan Sacred Heart League and Municipal Clerk of the Municipality of Clare.

He is the son of the late Acaipit Comeau, of Meteghan River, who was one of the town's most successful merchants. J. Medric Comeau graduated with a bachelor of arts degree at St. Ann's in 1936 and in 1938 he married Miss Laura LeBlanc, of Southville. They have two daughters and two sons.

Church Addition Dedicated

For many years the congregation of the Church of Christ, Southville, felt the need of an addition to their building to provide adequate space for the Sunday School classes. On April 11, 1961, plans were finalized by members of the congregation to erect an addition to the main building.

The work was left in the hands of a building committee consisting of Mr. Austin Mullen, Mr. Grant Sabine and Mr. Glendon Barr, who secured the services of Mr. Melvin Cromwell, a local carpenter. The addition was completed last fall and adjoins the rear wall of the church building.

The dimensions are 13 feet wide by 26 feet in length. The basement contains two classrooms and the main floor provides space for two classes, C.Y.F. or C.W.F. meetings or similar gatherings.

The dedication service was held on April 29, 1962, at 3:00 p.m., conducted by Mr. Lorne Nethercott. Approximately 150 people were in attendance. The service commenced with the observance of the Lord's Supper.

Greetings were brought from the M.C.M.S. by Mr. Wilfred Cosman; from the Weymouth Church of Christ by Mr. Harry Lewis; from the South Range Church by Mr. Arnold Marshall. Rev. R. R. Winchester, president, brought greetings from the Weymouth and District Ministerial Association. Rev. O. W. McCully spoke on behalf of the All-Canada Committee and the Churches of Christ across Canada.

Brother Albert E. Jones of Weymouth read the scripture lesson taken from the 24th chapter of St. Luke and then led the congregation in prayer. Following the Act of Dedication, Rev. M. V. Durling, pastor of the Reformed Baptist Church, Havelock, led in the prayer of Dedication.

The message of the afternoon was brought by Rev. O. W. McCully, General Secretary of the All-Canada Committee.

Accompanied by Franklin Rutherford as pianist, the choir sang, "Help Me Find My Place". A duet "Jesus Will" was sung by Mrs. Grant Sabine and Mr. Glendon Barr.

The Church of Christ at Southville was organized more than one hundred years ago, in 1853, but the building was not erected until 1888. In attendance for this service of dedication for the Sunday School rooms were a few who remembered the dedication of the present church in 1889.

Given Appointment

Spurgeon G. Roscoe, of Cambridge, Kings Co., has been appointed radio operator of H.M.S. Bounty. Mr. Roscoe attended Central Kings Rural High School, served nearly five years in the Royal Canadian Navy, and studied at Radio College of Canada, Toronto, from which he received the Canadian Government Certificate of Proficiency in Radio.

On May 2, his twenty-third birthday, he flew with other members of her crew to Los Angeles, where the Bounty is in refit.

The publicity cruise will include a trip to Seattle to attend the World's Fair. After visiting other ports on the Pacific and Atlantic coasts they expect to return to Nova Scotia in the early autumn. Mrs. Roscoe (nee Joan Kinney, of Ashmore, Digby Co.), is on the staff of the Nova Scotia Sanatorium, Kentville.

Try New Method Of Road Maintenance

A new method for maintenance of unpaved roads was carried out last week in the municipality of Digby. Known as the sand sealed treatment, it consists of a chemical with an asphalt base sprayed on the highway after the highway has been graded and properly prepared. A coating of fine sand is then spread over the chemical agent on the surface so that the chemical has a chance to penetrate the road surface.

The purpose of the treatment is to eliminate the dust nuisance. The treatment also eliminates further grading and also use of calcium chloride for the balance of the year. It has been emphasized that this treatment is not a paving program but a new method of maintenance for non-paved roads. The appearance, it is understood, resembles pavement and eventually a considerable durability is built up by repeated treatments.

The experimental treatment was first carried out by the Department of Highways in several locations of the province last year. The experiment continued last week in the Digby municipality on road No. 17 from Gulliver's Cove to Bay of Fundy shore, the back road at Bear River from the river road past the exhibition building and the Sissiboo Road and in Weymouth along Victoria Avenue.

Taking advantage of a windy spell of weather while the weir fishermen would not be using their seine reel a gull built her nest in a seine reel anchored out in St. Mary's Bay at the Sea Wall. When the fishermen came to use it there were already eggs in the nest at this unusual place for a gull to build.

Mr. Allen Minard of Liverpool was a weekend visitor here guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orbin Minard.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Gates who spent the winter months at her home in Hellerton, Pa., have returned. They report having spent a pleasant winter and are in the best of health.

Mrs. Vernon Cross has been appointed enumerator for this polling division and has completed the list of voters who will be eligible to cast their ballots in the forthcoming election.

Mr. and Mrs. Kingsley Collins of Digby were visitors here on Sunday guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earle Haight.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Durand of Bridgetown were weekend guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earle Haight.

Mrs. Ethel MacNeill of Marshalltown attended church services here Sunday afternoon. Her many friends were glad to welcome her back after being absent during the winter months which she spent at Kentville with her daughter, Miss Alma MacNeill.

The Christian Family and Mother's Day services held in the Baptist Church here on Sunday afternoon were very impressive and a very large congregation was present to participate. An announcement was made from the pulpit that Mrs. J. T. Gorrie of Short Hill, N. J., had sent a gift of $700.00 to help out with the expense incurred when a water supply was installed in the hall. This splendid donation was thankfully received.

ORDER YOUR LUNENBURG FURNACE OR WINTER AIR-CONDITIONING UNIT NOW!

SAVE 10 %

on the Purchase Price of any
LUNENBURG FURNACE OR AIR-CONDITIONING UNIT
by ordering NOW!
This offer expires July 1st

Not only will you save this 10% discount for early ordering, you will also benefit from the economy and efficiency that comes from Factory-to-You service.

For back of every furnace and air-conditioning unit that we sell, are many years of research into the designing, manufacturing, installing and servicing of them, which is your assurance of lasting comfort and satisfaction.

The units shown are representative of the wide selection we have available. Moreover, we own and operate a fleet of trucks, manned by installation experts, which regularly cover the Province. No other manufacturer offers such on-the-spot service.

But it will cost you nothing to have one of our heating technicians consult with you and advise the heating system that will best suit your requirements. And if you act quickly, you can secure our 10% discount on orders for installation before July 1st. So check over this list carefully and write us stating the unit that interests you.

LUNENBURG ALL-CAST COAL OR WOOD-BURNING FURNACE

Built to last a lifetime, either model will give economical and enduring satisfaction at a moderate cost.

LUNENBURG STEEL GRAVITY FURNACE

This is not just an ordinary steel furnace, but is built of heavily-constructed and electrically-welded BOILERPLATE. Burns oil, coal or wood with almost equal efficiency.

COMBINATION OIL AND WOOD BURNING FURNACE

Here is a furnace that lets you burn wood or oil whenever you want to. A thermostat stops the oil burner automatically when the desired temperature is reached. If the supply of oil should fail or in the event of a power failure, you can keep your home warm by burning wood. This unit is ideal for woodlot owners.

Send for FREE attractive, illustrated folder on any of the above items. And if you order before July 1st you secure a 10% Discount off our low factory prices.

PROCLAMATION

BY THE HONOURABLE E. D. HALIBURTON
Minister of Lands and Forests

To all whom these Present shall come or whom the same may in any wise concern:

Whereas the Minister of Lands and Forests of Nova Scotia deems it necessary for the protection of the forests to make this Proclamation:

Now Know Ye that the Minister of Lands and Forests of Nova Scotia under and by virtue of Section 117 of The Lands and Forests Act doth hereby set aside on, from, and after the eighteenth day of May A.D., 1962 until the thirtieth day of September, A.D., 1962, unless this Proclamation is sooner revoked, every area of forest land as an area of forest land upon which no person shall enter for the purpose of travelling, camping, fishing, or picnicking, or any other purposes, without first notifying the local Forest Ranger, or other person duly authorized to receive such notification, of the route, destination, purpose and duration of the trip with dates, and having obtained authorization in writing from the local Forest Ranger or other person duly authorized to issue same: Provided, however, that forest land may be entered upon by the actual owner or occupier thereof or his or their employees as such, and by Forest Rangers, Voluntary Rangers, fire fighters and land surveyors:

Any person found in any area of forest land without a permit whilst this Proclamation is in force is, upon conviction, subject to a penalty of not less than Ten Dollars nor more than One Hundred Dollars:

Of which all persons concerned are to take notice and govern themselves accordingly.

Given under my hand at the City of Halifax, this eighteenth day of May A.D., 1962.

E. D. Haliburton,
Minister of Lands and Forests,
Province of Nova Scotia.

Give Gift To M. & M.

Mother's Day service was observed in Grace United Church on Sunday morning before a large congregation. The scholars brought gifts for their mothers which were placed on the table at the front of the church. The Junior Choir under the leadership of Mrs. R. H. Hughes sang "A Child's Prayer" by Constance Barbour, which was most beautifully rendered.

A special ceremony was conducted when Janet Hawkins and Gail VanTassel from the C.G.I.T. and Delore Morrell and Marjann Turnbull from the Explorers handed over to Mrs. Elton Arnold a gift of money for the Missionary and Maintenance Fund of the church. Mr. Gerald Hoare, Chairman of the Christian Education Committee, led in the prayer of dedication.

Flowers were placed in the church in loving memory of Mrs. Effie Snow by the family. Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Holdsworth by Reg. Mary and Ray. Mr. and Mrs. George Turnbull by Jean, Joe and family. Mr. and Mrs. George Turnbull by Donna, Gerald Marino and children, Christina and Cathy, Ottawa.

The closing meeting of the Brotherhood for this season will be held in the church hall on this Saturday, May 19, when Ladies Night will be held.

Gifts of money received from Mrs. Scott in loving memory of her mother, Mrs. David Ellis.

Miss Judy Peck of Greenland spent Wednesday with her friend, Faye Jefferson.

George Murray At Festival

George Murray will be featured at the Coronation Ceremony, 30th Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival, Acadia University Auditorium, Wolfville, Friday night, June first, starting at 8 p.m. He will render two solos.

George Murray will preside as Master of Ceremonies, assisted by John D. Mosher, Festival MC, at Memorial Park, Kentville, on Saturday afternoon. Program will start at 2:15 o'clock headed by the outstanding Halifax Major-ettes, numbering 45, and the HMCS Cornwallis group in their thrilling acrobatic performance.

At Windsor, Mr. Murray will appear at two events on Saturday night, June 2nd, at the Youth Club dance at the Exhibition Arena, and at the Hockey Club dance at the Regional High School Auditorium, Wentworth Road, Windsor.

SPECIAL GUEST SPEAKER
On Sunday morning at the Westport Church of Christ Disciples, special guest, Rev. Alan Sharp, missionary from Paraguay, South America, gave the message. Mr. Edgar McDormand opened the service and then introduced Rev. Sharp.

He used as his scripture 1st Chapter of Ruth, speaking of Naomi and her sons and their wives. He also told of the work and pleasure of teaching the word of God, to the people of Paraguay and Argentina, whom have never known it, of the schools and farms being built up, the uneducated people learning and growing up to preach the word of the gospel to other people.

During Sunday School which followed Rev. Sharp, dressed in costume of the Gaucho of Argentina.

While in Westport he was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Welch.

MISSION BAND MEETS

The Mission Band held their regular meeting on Saturday afternoon at the vestry, with the president, Goldie McLellan presiding. Mrs. Earle Webber was pianist and also gave the devotional about "A Leaky Cup". Mrs. McLellan completed the Mission Study about Luciquita, the little shepherd girl of Bolivia.

During the handicraft period the children made Mother's Day Cards. The children practiced so they could take part in Mother's Day church service.

Mother and Daughter Honored

On Saturday, May 5th, the First Digby Girl Guide Company, under Mrs. Robert Bearne, Captain, attended the annual Girl Guide rally, held at HMCS Cornwallis.

After registering on Saturday morning, the Guides were inspected. A March Past of all the Guide companies present followed, with Mrs. H. A. Creighton, Lunenburg, Provincial Commissioner, taking the salute. Captain Steele, HMCS Cornwallis and Mrs. Creighton addressed the Guides.

One of the main highlights followed when Mrs. Margaret Carson received her Warrant as District Commissioner and her daughter, Sally, received her All-Round Card. Both were presented by Mrs. Creighton.

First Aid demonstrations, knotting competitions, swimming, campfire and taps completed a busy and eventful day.

Mother And Daughter Banquet

The C.G.I.T. of Grace United Church, Digby, under the leadership of Mrs. H. R. Hughes, held a mother-and-daughter banquet at the church hall on Monday night.

Speaker for the occasion was Mrs. J. M. Wallis, who referred to the influence of good mothers and noble women of Bible times and spoke of the importance of the influence of good mothers and leaders today. She reminded the daughters that they, too, had a duty to mothers and leaders who were deserving of their love and respect. The necessity of taking God into the individual life in each instance was stressed.

The meeting was presided over by Miss Janet Hawkins, who introduced the speaker. Mrs. Wallis was thanked by Mrs. Hughes, who also stressed the love and reverence due the mother from the daughter.

A toast to mothers was proposed by Miss Sharon Cook and responded to by Mrs. Philip Woolaver. The toast to the church, proposed by Miss Joan Milbury, was responded to by Rev. Mr. Hughes. He reminded the girls that they were not in C.G.I.T. just to be entertained but to be trained. He told them that the church is interested in them from Baptism through Baby Roll, Explorers, C.G.I.T. and throughout their entire lives. In childhood their thoughts are directed to God and when they become old enough they are able to identify themselves with the church.

Others who spoke briefly were former C.G.I.T. leaders Mrs. C. C. MacInnis and Miss Evelyn O'Neill. Mrs. Hughes extended the welcome to the guests.

Following the dinner the C.G.I.T. presented a short program. A trio was sung by Misses Julianna Cudmore, Carolyn Clayton and Dianne Handsaker.

A skit in pantomime and a court room farce were presented by the girls and a slingshot.

About 35 mothers and daughters were present. The

Digby In Broadcast Coverage

A crew has erected a 110-foot transmitting tower at Radio Station CKAD on the Dodge Road, one mile north of the main highway at Wilnot Station, Annapolis Co.

The concrete tower and guy bases have been placed and the welded steel tower, was erected in ten foot sections by a crew from Fergus, Ontario. William A. Bishop, Managing Director of the Evangeline Broadcasting Co., Ltd., said there remained the tedious task of placing in close to five miles of copper wire to form the ground system at the base of the tower.

Mr. Bishop said work is proceeding on schedule. Marconi engineers from Montreal will give the equipment the final check, and after a period of tests and approving of equipment the radio station will be ready for transmission.

Work is nearing completion on the main building at the site which will house the transmitter, a control room and a talk studio.

The studios are located in Middleton.

Mr. Bishop said plans are for CKAD to join Radio Stations CFAB in Windsor and CKEN in Kentville, in broadcasting regular programs at 1400 on the dial, beginning the first weekend in June.

The CKAD call letters were chosen from the area the 1,000 watt station is expected to serve, namely the western part of Kings, the county of Annapolis and the town of Digby.

Mr. Bishop said Station CKAD should give EBC coverage of the entire Valley area for the first time since the Evangeline Broadcasting Co. Ltd. began operations in 1945.

Mrs. Gordon Ellis has returned after spending two weeks with her son, Keith Ellis, Mrs. Ellis and Christopher, in Toronto.

Receive Scholarships

Those from the Digby area to receive undergraduate scholarships and prizes based on the spring examinations at Acadia University have been announced, as follows:

Daniel S. Bezanon Fellowship, $365.00, Wayne Everett Foster, Upper Granville; The MacNeill Prize (Books $25.00), Ray A. Riley, Bear River; Edward Manning Saunders Scholarship in Science, $125.00, Paul Bruce Corkum, Saint John, N. B. Mr. Corkum is a nephew of Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby.

Successful

The Bereans, a youth organization of the Lighthouse Mission Church of God, Digby, went on a new fund raising venture when they embarked on a car wash service last Saturday.

The venture was found successful enough to repeat this Saturday and will probably continue for the summer months. Their car wash stand is on the property of the church on Sydney St. and their open hours are from 2 o'clock to 6 p.m.

School Fashion Show

A fashion show and play were sponsored at the Digby Regional High School auditorium on Thursday night by the Fundy Light staff, with Miss Margaret Leonard as advisor.

A beautiful stage setting of lattice frames adorned with climbing roses and banded with forsythia added a touch as the garments, made and modelled by pupils of grades VII, VIII, IX, X and XI, were paraded. Instructors were Miss Grace Vincent and Mrs. Florence Purves.

Notable in the fashion show was the smart, trim and neat appearance of the well styled garments modelled. Also notable was the poise, grace and charm with which the girls in nearly every occasion fashioned the articles made and the personal touches added to accent the costume.

Among the garments were three which had captured 1st, 2nd and 3rd prizes at the Congress Home Economics Show. They were those of May Harrington, Sheila Silver, and Linda Pilon.

Grades XI and XII firstly displayed the children's garments made by them by having tiny winsome maidens and handsome little men appear on the stage modelling the garments to the captivation of the audience. Other garments fashioned by Grades XI and XII were suits, skirts, blouses and dresses ranging from the casual cotton sports wear to the dressy afternoon frocks. Dresses and jumpers were shown by Grade X, cotton dresses by IX, blouses with collars and set-in sleeves and skirts by VIII and aprons by VII. Articles from the Household Science work not modelled were on display in the Household Economics room.

The audience was given a welcome by Miss Carol Daley and commentators for the show were Misses Patricia Doucette, Linda Amirault and Ellen Stark.

A duet was sung by Misses Julianne and Janice Cudmore, accompanied by Miss Maxine Andrews. Other pianists for the occasion were Misses Margaret Black and Joyce Peck.

After a brief intermission Miss Carolyn Arnold introduced the play "Pete", put on by the Drama Group. The play was written and directed by Baden Powell, mechanic science teacher, who has for a number of years written and directed the plays for the drama group.

The story of the play was set at a western farm in the year 1923 with the character "Pete" representing a real person around which the fictitious story was based.

Pete was a harvest hand, of Russian origin, who had found refuge after the Russian Revolution and employment for a short time at the home of Bill and Martha. Pete was a co-ed daughter of Bill and Martha home for vacation, who fell in love with the farm hand much to the dismay of father and mother and to the chagrin of her tom boy sister, Bobby.

The play was well present

12 Complete Police Course

A meeting of Digby Civil Defence was held Tuesday evening at the Fire Hall, Second Avenue.

Bill MacLeod and Joe Doucette told the meeting of happenings during their recent trip to Annapolis, Ontario, where they attended Civil Defence courses. Also attending were Earle Anderson and Bobby Handsaker. Since they have finished the full course in rescue work it has helped to make available equipment here to be used for instruction to others.

An auxiliary police course was completed last month and the twelve who took part received their certificates. Instruction was given by the local police, the RCMP, and by Lawyer Theriault. Those who obtained their certificates are on call to be available in case of an emergency at any time.

It was announced that Bill Troupe will leave for Annapolis on June 10, where he will take an emergency feeding course. The last Tuesday of each month has been set as meeting date.

Biggest Apple In Valley

The theme of the parade for the 30th Annapolis Valley Blossom Festival is Progress of the Apple. The Lions Club of Digby has taken their title to be it's Bigger and Better and feel they'll have the largest apple in the valley.

The apple, 10 feet tall, is part of the float thought up and designed by Stanley Moldovan. A section is cut from the apple where Digby Princess Joan Titus will be seated in the parade and the "knife" which did the cutting will remain in the apple. More than 30,000 pieces of crepe paper help to make up the float.

The Lions and Lionsettes have been busy getting the float trimmed for Friday of this week.

Honored On Birthdays

Mrs. Elton Arnold, Light-house Road, was honored on her birthday on Saturday when Unit 1 of United Church Women called to tender her a surprise party. Mrs. Arnold is leader of the group.

Another member, Mrs. Burton Fleet, was honored at the same time, the occasion being her birthday.

A decorated cake was served with distinct articulation by all characters and with all the characters showing an adeptness to the art of drama.

The parts were characterized by Tommy Amirault as Pete; Leslie Anderson as Pride; Carolyn Dakin, Bobby; Dianna Mason, Martha and Philip Murley, Bill.

Miss Margaret Black and Carolyn Arnold were in charge of prompting and make-up and Mrs. J. R. McCleave in staging.

Successful Clean-up Campaign

This year's activity of the Digby Fire Department during its annual Clean-up Campaign proved most successful under the direction of the chairman, Carl Melanson.

Several meetings were held when plans were made for the campaign. Various inspections were carried out in several parts of town and results have already been visible from this campaign. All churches and organizations were contacted regarding announcements to the public and inspections and fire drills carried out at the High School on Wednesday, May 23rd.

After fire drill a film on fire hazards was shown and a brief talk was given by secretary of the department, Reg. Turnbull, on the Clean-up campaign. The same evening the Fire Station was open to the public, but the members of the committee and the department were disappointed with the turnout for this occasion. Considerable time and effort had been put in cleaning all equipment and the Fire Station when two children were the only ones interested in making an appearance along with Victor Cardoza, MLA, who is an honorary member of the department. No doubt the public realize that there must be activity at the Fire Station and as long as an alarm is answered that is all that is required, but, stated a fireman, that is only a small part of the system that goes into operation when an alarm is sounded and only by a visit to the fire station can the public realize what is involved and especially when an alarm is received for even a minor fire. The firemen are anxious that at the next open house there may be an inspection made by the public.

Home inspection forms were also distributed to twenty-five in town school pupils and ten to outside districts to get an idea of home situations and these will be checked by the committee.

The general condition of the properties in the town are considered to be good with a few exceptions and the co-operation of the public is appreciated in assisting to get rid of fire hazards.

Sailboat To Rent?

The Digby Board of Trade gets requests from many parts and for many things.

The latest request is for information about a sailboat, a sloop, available for rent the week of August 19. The sloop should be able to sleep two. Addresses sent to the president of the Digby Board of

Attends Meeting In Halifax

Mayor L. M. Huskisson, of Lockeport, was elected president of the Association of Urban and Municipal School Boards at a meeting in Halifax. Roscoe Handsaker, Digby, past president, is a member of the executive, and members at large are Lawrence Snell, Deep Brook, and Mrs. Lucille Russell, Yarmouth.

The topic under debate was "Should compulsory education on the primary level be abolished?" The delegates felt they did not have the necessary knowledge to decide in favor or against abolition of the present system and it was referred to the individual school boards for discussion.

Sentenced To Jail

One civil and one criminal case came before the Spring session of the Supreme Court of Canada in Digby on Tuesday.

The criminal charge involved Ray Osborne MacNeill, Weymouth North, who pleaded guilty to causing death by criminal negligence in the operation of a motor vehicle. He was sentenced to 10 months in the Digby jail.

The civil case involved contract. Evidence was brief and decision was reserved. Judge Vincent McDonald presided.

The sitting was completed in a single day.

Child Struck By Car

Little Peter Marshall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Rustin (Bus) Marshall, received minor head injuries Friday when he was involved in an accident on Carleton Street.

The boy, who was evidently playing in the ditch, it is understood ran out in front of a car driven by Everett Chalmers, Bear River. He was released from Digby General Hospital the same day.

RCMP Band To Visit Digby

It has been announced by the Hon. Davie Fulton, P.C., Q.C., Minister of Justice and Attorney General of Canada, that the Royal Canadian Mounted Police Band will present a Maritime tour in July, and will be in Digby on Saturday, July 28. Other local stops include Yarmouth, Lunenburg and Kentville.

Trade will be forwarded to the party. By the way, an auxiliary engine is requested. Anybody interested?

Religion & Life Certificates Presented

An impressive service was held at Grace United Church on Sunday morning where four boys of the 1st Digby Scout Troop were presented with certificates after completing a course in Religion and Life, under Rev. H. R. Hughes. The Scouts were Donald Ayer, James Purves, Frank Ayer and Roger Wright.

In presenting the certificates Mr. Hughes said that Baden Powell, in founding the organization, had emphasized not only the physical and mental aspects of the movement but also the spiritual as noted in the pledge "On my honor I promise to do my duty to God." Mr. Hughes said that the church realizes the importance of the spiritual development of the boys in the Scout movement and the course completed had been one prescribed by the United Church of Canada.

Norman Wright, Scout leader and also district commissioner, presented the badges. In doing so, Mr. Wright reminded the boys that these badges were different in that they were not award badges but were over and above such efficiency badges and represented something to live up to.

The four Scouts received the offering at the morning worship.

Coaches Service Team

Cpl. Duke Winchester is being congratulated on the success of the basketball team he coached for an overseas armed forces league.

From an overseas newspaper is read the following: "Congratulations are due to team Captain Bob Clarke and players Clint Perrin, Danny Hamood, Norm Stertz, Freddie Clover, Jack Tremblay, Yvonne Strasbour, Ben Lemarbee, Denis Carmichael, John Corson and Roy Carriff for their efforts during the season. Special credit also goes to Cpl. Duke Winchester who coached the team to victory and to Cpl. Carl Stitt and Pte. Jack Tremblay who held down the managerial chair for the team."

Danny Gallivan, sportscaster for the Montreal Canadian Hockey Club for the past two years, was guest speaker at the 4th season closing banquet for the Minor Hockey League in Digby. Mr. Gallivan stressed leadership to the boys or youth in general. He said that even if the best facilities were provided and leadership lacking it was of no avail. Good leadership, he said, would not permit education to come secondary to sports. If so, the speaker said that leadership is lacking and youth would be on the downward trek to ruin. Talent, he said, should be encouraged but not at the expense of education. Sport, he said, is more than passing out trophies, it is a part of education, physically, mentally, emotionally and spiritually.

90 Years Old

On Sunday evening, Mr. Charles MacWhinnie celebrated his 90th birthday. His family were all in attendance, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Kindred of Saint John, N. B., Rev. and Mrs. H. Hartlin, Digby, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Casey, Victoria Beach, Miss Marion MacWhinnie and sons Cyril and Clifford and Miss Elizabeth MacWhinnie a sister was also a guest for the occasion.

Gallivan Addresses Hockeyists

Other head table guests were Clinton McInnis, representing the school; Lieut. Owen McPherson, who asked the blessing; J. J. Brittain, Kiwanis; Mrs. Howard Patterson, who presented the Patterson Trophy, and Mayor V. L. Bent.

About 300 attended the banquet.

Danny Gallivan, sportscaster for the Montreal Canadian Hockey Club for the past two years, was guest speaker at the 4th season closing banquet for the Minor Hockey League in Digby. Mr. Gallivan stressed leadership to the boys or youth in general. He said that even if the best facilities were provided and leadership lacking it was of no avail. Good leadership, he said, would not permit education to come secondary to sports. If so, the speaker said that leadership is lacking and youth would be on the downward trek to ruin. Talent, he said, should be encouraged but not at the expense of education. Sport, he said, is more than passing out trophies, it is a part of education, physically, mentally, emotionally and spiritually.

Mr. Gallivan was introduced by Arnold McCallum. He introduced him as a native Nova Scotian having been born in Sydney, N. S., and educated at St. F. X. He had done sports casting for CJCH in Halifax and for St. Mary's Junior Hockey Team before he went to Montreal. The chairman of the banquet, Wallace Hodgson, thanked the speaker.

In sports the youth can learn the blessing of sacrifice, good discipline and respect the rights of others and exert influence on the community. These are the same things which a man must have later in life, Mr. Gallivan told the fathers and their sons at the banquet. He charged the fathers to their duty to do their part in creating an atmosphere for their sons where only those things good are recognized for encouragement. If Digby is to be a better place in 25 years it will stem from the young people who were then being honored, the guest continued. They would, he hoped, under good solid leadership become men with their feet trenched in the ground of reality. While boys always have heroes in heart his hero is really his father.

Mr. Gallivan especially paid tribute to the coaches who were helping to fashion the youth of the day and appealed to the boys to show appreciation, give cooperation and heed the advice of the coaches.

Mr. Gallivan was introduced by Arnold McCallum. He introduced him as a native Nova Scotian having been born in Sydney, N. S., and educated at St. F. X. He had done sports casting for CJCH in Halifax and for St. Mary's Junior Hockey Team before he went to Montreal. The chairman of the banquet, Wallace Hodgson, thanked the speaker.

Coaches present were William McLeod, Harry MacPherson, Corporal Robert Douglas and Robert Morgan.

The following trophies were presented —

Marriage

Smith - Boudreau

Christ Church, Stellarton, N. S., was the scene of a double ring wedding ceremony on April 21, when Rev. A. E. Kingsbury, united in marriage Charlene Faye, youngest daughter of Charles William Boudreau and the late Marjorie Whiston Boudreau of Round Hill, N. S., to Chester Allen, son of Mrs. Elizabeth Smith and the late Walter Smith of South Albert Street, New Glasgow.

The church was beautifully decorated with traditional Easter flowers.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Boyd L. Cross of Clementsvalle, the bride looked radiant in her floor length gown of white satin with double layers of embroidered nylon net. The long embroidered net sleeves ended in points over her wrists. She wore a shoulder length veil of tulle illusion. Her bouquet was a cascade of red roses. Mrs. Garfield Smith, sister-in-law of the groom was matron of honor. She wore a floor length dress of green net over taffeta with bandeau style headress and she carried a nosegay of pink carnations.

Miss Joy McIntosh, was bridesmaid and wore a street length dress of blue nylon sheer with stole collar and a bandeau style headress. She carried a nosegay of yellow carnations.

Miss Martha Hodge was flower girl. She wore a blue nylon dress with matching accessories and carried a basket of pink and white carnations.

Garfield Smith was best man and ushering the guests were Francis Smith, and Robert Wiles of Clementsvalle.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Christ Church Hall after which the happy couple left on a short honeymoon, throughout Nova Scotia. For travelling the bride wore a pale blue sheath dress with rose brushed nylon jacket. She wore a corsage of pink rose buds.

They will reside in Stellarton, N. S.

271 YEARS SERVICE TO MUNICIPALITY OF ANNAPOLIS

Five hundred and seventy-one years service to the Municipality of Annapolis County is the proud record of sixteen men, from this County from the year 1893 until the present.

D. M. Outhit had the greater number of years service, fifty-six, first as councillor and then treasurer for many years. He was followed as a close second by LeBaron Troop of Belleisle, who served as councillor and warden for 48 years, followed by Freeman Fitch, with 44 years, as councillor and clerk. Joseph I. Foster and C. L. Piggott, Bridgetown, and Myers Gibson of Dalhousie, served from 25 to 35 years. The present clerk, Wilfred L. Bishop has a total of 27 years service, first as a councillor and later a clerk. Harold Riordan also has 27 years service as councillor.

Three men and others were honored during the semi-annual session this month, when a plaque was unveiled in the Court House commemorating 25 years or more of Service. The plaque reads as follows:

COMMEMORATING TWENTY-FIVE YEARS SERVICE IN THE MUNICIPALITY OF ANNAPOLIS COUNTY

FLAG DEDICATION AT SERVICE

Two hundred and fifty Scouts, cubs, brownies and guides as well as parents and friends from the Digby district took part in the 2nd Clementsvalle dedication service for their scout flag.

Rev. W. Armsworthy of the Baptist Church gave a fine message and sang a solo in memory of the day. Both District commissioners, Norman Wright and Assistant District commissioners Charles Rhodes played prominent parts in the dedication of the flag. Mr. Wright also presented the charter to the group committee at this time.

At the close of the service two of the patrol leaders came forward and received the Union Jack and the Scout flag and marched out with the other troops. They made a colorful scene. Several of the Queen Scouts of the area were present.

The 2nd Clementsvalle troop is one to be proud of. It started in November, 1961. The scouts master, Gerald Isles and his two assistants have worked hard and now have all of the nineteen scouts invested.

They have had hikes and parties. At Christmas time they entertained their parents, group committee and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Rhodes with skits and jokes and treated them with refreshments. At Easter they sold hot cross buns. This month they had a salvage drive and plan a weekend camping trip.

The scouts and group committee worked hard during the winter months fixing up a building for the scouts to have for a scout hall.

About This and That
You Are Responsible For Highway Safety

"It's NOT the 'other fellow'; it's YOU!" declared C. E. Carson, general chairman of the Canadian Highway Safety Council. Mr. Carson was commenting on responsibility for safety on the highway, and pinned that responsibility directly on the individual motorist and pedestrian. Referring to the Council's current (through May) spring campaign for checking all vehicles for flaws and mechanical defects, Mr. Carson said "If every motorist accepted the responsibility that is his and his alone, to make certain his vehicle is in top operating condition, traffic accidents due to mechanical failure would be eliminated."

With summer driving all but here, the Council is urging car owners to have their vehicles thoroughly checked. At the same time, the Council warns, drivers should check their own attitudes and abilities behind the wheel. "Drive as you know you should," advises CHSC, "and never try to educate other drivers on the road. Safe driving is your responsibility. Live up to it."

Soon Back To Normal

For several weeks we've been purposely neglecting this column. Not because we haven't anything to write about but simply pressure of time in the mechanical department has been our reason. In an interview recently a lady asked the editor "Do you ever run short of topics to write about in your editorial column?" We had to reply "no, we usually have a long list waiting and each week presents its own subjects from the news here and there."

During the past few weeks not only copy for the newspaper has pressed us but our commercial printing department has also been running overtime so that our men have worked into the wee hours of the morning. Along with this correspondents in villages were annoyed about their copy not being used, letter writers complained and we didn't blame them. So, we figured that pleasing our correspondents was more important than "saying our little piece" even though we felt there were some important matters to be mentioned. Six or eight other weeklies in Nova Scotia have had to do the same.

While we are on the subject — we have a back log of pictures for the paper right now. They'll appear eventually and still be news, we hope.

Banquet Held Bloomfield

Following Mother's Day on Wednesday evening the annual Mother & Daughter Banquet was held at the Light House Mission Church of God. Approximately forty-two mothers and daughters assembled and in addition to the ladies were the men of the church who served the supper, assisted by many of the young men of the Berean Youth Group.

The banquet was organized and planned by the Dorcas Society of the Church of God and the pastor and Mrs. Denchfield, who through their untiring efforts made it all possible.

Mrs. John Comeau and daughter, Barbara Anne of Halifax were weekend guests of the parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. C. Comeau to spend Mother's Day. They motored to Yarmouth to visit her mother's sister, Mrs. John Harris.

Mrs. S. C. Comeau received the news last week that her niece, Miss Barbara Anne Comeau who has been attending the Queen Elizabeth School at Halifax also was one of the competitors in the Music Festival and came first in the vocal solo class for girls under 13 with a mark of 83.

P. C. WOMEN HOLD MEETING

Approximately thirty five workers of the Women's Progressive Conservative Association, Bear River branch, met in the Legion Hall, Bear River, on Friday evening, May 18, finishing up the parts women can play through a campaign and on election day. Among the letter, a letter was read from the Provincial President, Mrs. A. A. MacDonald. She expressed the wish that many of the group could attend the Party's tea at Digby, Mrs. M.
W. House, president, welcomed several workers in the district and expressed her pleasure for the goodly number of established workers who were present.

Following routine business
Mrs. Willis Buckler reported on the Annual meeting held last November at the Nova Scotian Hotel, Halifax, which she attended as delegate from the Bear River branch. Miss M. Roehling, former president, gave a resume of the accomplishments of the Diefenbaker government in the short period it had been in office.

Mrs. Ruth Govan, Cornwallis, presented a clear picture of benefits to be derived from the devaluation of the Canadian dollar. Mrs. W. H. Spurr dealt with changes in the election act and passed along some interesting pointers to workers in booths, gleaned from experience as a scruti-ner and later as deputy returning officer.

Following is a slate of officers presented by the nominating committee and accepted:
Honorary President — Miss
M. Roehling.
President — Mrs. M. Wheel-house.
Vice-president — Mrs. Willis
Buckler.
Secty. Treasurer — Mrs. M.
Wyles.

District Vice Presidents: Clementsvalle, Mrs. N. D. Sanford; Clementsport, Mrs. Harry Wallis; Bear River East, Miss L. VanBuskirk; Greenland, Mrs. Gordon Scragg; Princeton, Mrs. W. Fish; Bear River, Digby side, Mrs. Lovett
Harris; Bear River, Annapolis side, Mrs. T. Hood; Deep Brook, Mrs. P. Vroom; Sissi-boe Road, Mrs. Gladys White; Cornwallis, Mrs. Ruth Govan.
Publicity, Mrs. W. H. Spurr;
Refreshment Committee, Mrs.
G. White, Mrs. Stewart Potter, Mrs. J. Potter and Mrs. Lottie Stewart.

After adjournment a social half hour was enjoyed during the refreshment period.

SOUTH RANGE WEST
Mrs. Donald Sabean motored to Paradise Monday to attend the funeral of her aunt, who passed away recently.

Glad to report Mrs. Eli Marshall is improving in health.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Marshall spent Sunday evening with their little granddaughter, who celebrated her 2nd birthday.

In Memoriam

PARVIN — In memory of my daughter, Gertrude M. Parvin, who passed away, May 30, 1951 at Tucson, Arizona.
Eleven sad and lonely years have passed.

Since my great sorrow I feel
The shock that I received that day.
No one can ever tell.
God gave me strength to meet it.
And courage to bear the blow.
But what it meant to lose you,
No one will ever know.

Always remembered by mother, Sadie B. Theriault.
40:11c

MARSHALL — In loving memory of my dear son, Ernest Marshall, who was drowned,
June 5, 1943.

More and more each day I miss you.
The my thoughts are not revealed.
Little do they know the sorrow that is within my heart concealed.

Missed and lovingly remembered by mother, Gordon and Lynn.
40:11p

SMALL — In loving memory of husband and father, J.
Murray Small, who passed away at Tiverton, June 1, 1946.

"We will always remember."
— Elenora and Elaine. 40:11c

FITZGERALD — In loving memory of Capt. and Mrs.
Harvey B. Fitzgerald, who passed away May 28, 1955 and
May 21, 1936, respectively.
A page in life's book of memories.

Is gentle turned today.
— Always remembered and sadly missed by their children, Geraldine, Kathleen and Harvey Jr. 40:11c

STEELE — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Herman Thomas Steele who passed away June 7, 1959.
Gone is the face we loved so dear.

Silent is the voice we loved to hear.
Too far away for sight or speech,
But not too far for thought to reach.

Sweet to remember him who once was here,
And who though absent is just as dear.
— Sadly missed by wife and family. 40:11c

Hospital having undergone surgery there.

Mr. Henry Sullis who spent the winter months in Digby has returned to his home here.
Richard Nichols of Bridgewater spent the weekend with his father, Carl Nichols.

Mrs. Chester Potter has returned home from Digby General Hospital having undergone surgery there.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Lakam and George Croscup of Dartmouth spent the weekend at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zeke Croscup.

Miss Janet Johnston who is employed in Bedford spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Johnston.

Mrs. James Johnston is spending some time at the home of her daughter, Mrs.
William Young, Mr. Young and family.

East Waldec

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Haight visited Mr. and Mrs. Percy Ruggles and family in Bear River on Friday evening.

Cpl. Laurie Durling returned to Ottawa on Friday, prior to going to Kingston, Ont., where he will be taking a seven months course at the Royal Canadian School of Signals.

Mrs. Laurie Durling and son, Michael are spending part of the summer with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Parker in Canso.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Beattie and son, David, of Halifax spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Jones.

The many friends of Mrs.
William Johnston Sr. regret that she is a patient in the Digby General Hospital.

Between June 24 and September 2 CPS Princess Helene will operate a daily including Sunday round trip service, Saint John to Digby, instead of operating only week days as during the rest of the year. The vessel returned to service May 18 after annual overhauling in Saint John dry dock.

Funds in excess of $115,000 were allocated by Canadian Pacific for the refurbishing of the ship. K. R. Perry, operating superintendent in Saint John said this was the first major refit of the Bay of Fundy service since 1959. Normally the ship is docked every year for inspection, which ordinarily takes two days. Every second year, however, engine room machinery inspection and repairs extend the drydocking period to two weeks or longer. This year the hull was sandblasted and coated with a new anti-fouling paint.

Above water the whole ship was given a new coat of paint and the ravages of wind and high seas on the Bay of Fundy repaired. Life boats and life rafts have been checked and repaired, and inflatable life rafts were inflated, inspected and repacked.

The major portion of the work took place in the engine room and in underwater equipment. The steam turbines were completely torn down, inspected and repaired where necessary, propellers were pulled and all machinery gone over with a fine tooth comb.

A major change in the lunch room arrangements was made during the drydocking. Catering on the vessel on its return to service was done by the Canada Railway News Company.

home were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Shortliffe of Barton.

Organize H. & S. County Council

Members of the Digby Neck Home and School Association were hosts of the Spring Rally of Home and Schools, held in the school at Sandy Cove the afternoon and evening of May 12. "The Value of a County Council within the Home and School Structure" was the theme of the program.

"We must not be satisfied with anything but first place," says Albert Jones, Weymouth, incoming President of the Digby County Council of Home and School Associations. "By dedication of purpose, by sharing of ideals and working as a unit, our re-organized County Council can, once again, hold an enviable reputation in Nova Scotia."

Special guests included Mrs. J. M. Wallis, editor, Digby Weekly Courier; Wm. LeFort, Agricultural Representative, Weymouth; Wilfred Higgins, Administrative Secretary, Nova Scotia Federation of Home and Schools; and Dr. Butcher, President of the Annapolis County Council of Home and Schools.

Mrs. Wallis commented on the value of the County Council of Home and Schools as the third side of the triangle linking the local association with the Provincial Federation.

Mr. LeFort expressed the desire to see a County Council re-organized which would have greater voice when sending petitions to the municipal council.

The advantages derived from Home and School were traced by Mr. Higgins to all levels — from local to Council, to the Provincial Federation.

"We need a County Council," asserted Dr. Butcher, "as a necessary link between the local association and the Provincial Federation." He went on to say that "we must always keep in mind 'The Child'. By educating our children to fit them for later, we have fulfilled the aims and objectives of the Home and School movement."

Mrs. Harold Dunn, rally chairman, introduced the presidents of the associations represented. They, in turn, reported on the activities of their associations during the past year.

The recommendation of the nominating committee was presented by the chairman, Mrs. Harold Dunn, and it was adopted.

The slate of officers for the re-organized Digby County Council reads as follows:

President: Albert Jones, Weymouth; Vice President, Mrs. Alice Dunn, Smith's Cove; Area Vice Presidents: Joseph Specht, Barton; Mrs. Elmer Lewis, Digby Neck; Mrs. Roy Powell, Freeport; (not filled); Weymouth; (not filled); Tiverton; Secretary, (not filled); Treasurer, Mrs. Allan Thomas, Barton; Program Chairman, Mrs. Ashford Balser, Smith's Cove; Publicity Chairman, Mrs. Angela Francis, Smith's Cove; Arts Chairman, Mrs. James Dunn, Smith's Cove; Adult Education Chairman, Mrs. Emdon Morehouse, Digby Neck; Chairmen for Parent Education, School Education, Health and Organization have yet to be filled.

Mrs. Jack Morehouse was chosen to represent the Digby County Council at the Provincial convention to be held at Acadia University, in Wolfville, in July.

A resolution, drafted by the Weymouth Home and School Association, and endorsed by the Digby County Council, will be forwarded to the Nova Scotia Federation of Home and School Associations and reads as follows:

"Whereas the present curriculum for the schools of Nova Scotia does not give English speaking students an adequate speaking and reading knowledge of French;

And whereas a little knowledge of a language is but little better than no knowledge at all;

And whereas a completely bilingual population would greatly help to unify the French and English elements of our Province;

It is resolved that: The Nova Scotia Federation of Home and School Associations be asked to confer with the Dept. of Education of this Province and investigate the possibility —

(1) of expanding the programme of studies in French language and literature, and

(2) of having the teaching of French begin in the elementary grades in Nova Scotia.

The meeting closed with a prayer for guidance by Mr. Jones.

50 Years Married

Above are Mr. and Mrs. William Roblehaud, Doucetteville, who recently celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. Huey Foster, Sandy Cove, were taken completely by surprise when citizens of the community gathered at the community hall to help them celebrate the golden anniversary of their wedding on Wednesday evening.

Included in the party were guests from Digby and villages surrounding Sandy Cove. Seated at the bride's table with Mr. and Mrs. Foster were their parish rector, Rev. James Pike, Mrs. Pike and Valerie, Digby, and members of the church Guild, which Mrs. Foster attends.

Mrs. Newcombe Harris replenished while Mrs. Margaret Saunders and Mrs. Curtis Denton presided over the table adorned with golden candle sticks and daffodils. The hall was trimmed in gold and white streamers, daffodils and forsythia. The bride's table accented in gold was centred with a two layer cake marked with a golden 50.

Preceding the reception a motordade toured the village with the 50 year bride and groom, in a decorated car.

Two wall plaques were presented to Mr. and Mrs. Foster with Rev. Mr. Pike making the presentation. He remarked of the faithfulness and generosity of Mr. and Mrs. Foster to the church. He noted their life together had been one mixed with joys and sorrows and quoted the words "In the valleys and up on the hills" as being an apt description for their lives and that of life in general on earth. He extended congratulations to the couple and Mrs. Warren Crowell read the inscription on the card which accompanied the gift.

A sing-song, directed by Mrs. Nelson Merritt and with Curtis Denton at the piano, provided entertainment. Valerie Pike gave a solo selection.

Mr. and Mrs. Foster were married May 23, 1912, in St. Luke's Church, Annapolis Royal, by Rev. Henry Howe. Mrs. Foster was the former Mildred Healey, Port Royal, daughter of the late John and Elizabeth Healey, Lynn, Mass. Mr. Foster was the son of David and Mary Jane Foster, Karsdale. After their marriage they lived in Karsdale until ten years ago when they moved to Sandy Cove. They have two living children, Oran and Roscoe, both of Toronto. Their son, David, came to accidental death a few years ago.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Foster replied in a few words of gratefulness to the messages of congratulations, the gifts and to those who arranged the evening.

Hill Grove

Rev. Clyde W. Robbins a former pastor of the Hill Grove and Digby Baptist churches was a visitor here last week, guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan MacKay. Mr. and Mrs. Orbin Minard and children were recent visitors to Kempt, guests at the home of Mr. Willis Minard. her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Gavel.

SHOW SLIDES

On Friday evening, May 18, colored slides were shown in the Westport Baptist Vestry by Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Cosman of Weymouth.

These slides had been taken at Johnston's Christian Park at South Range from the time it was started a number of years ago, up to the present time.

The land on which the Park stands, borders on Porter's Lake and was donated by the late Rev. Roy Johnston of South Range to be used as a Christian camp for boys and girls from N. B., P. E. I. and N. S.

At the beginning of the camp there was only one building erected, a cook house and dining room. The campers slept in tents. At the present time there has been added 4 cabins which house 16 campers and 2 counsellors. During the summer months three camps are held for campers.

Also the C.W.F. Retreat has been held there for the past few years, and a Young Adult weekend camp.

Some of those attending the meeting on Friday evening saw themselves as campers, as well as friends they met there, the counsellors and others who made their stay at camp enjoyable.

Those who attend each year learn of the wonders of God's World and meet in Christian Fellowship with all present.

Deep Brook

The Neighbourly Club met on Wednesday evening with Mrs. Pearl Henshaw, spending the evening quilting.

Parish Lay Reader, Robert Pott had conducted the services at St. Matthew's Anglican Church in the absence of the rector, Rev. H. A. Kay for the last two Sundays.

Mr. William Spurr left early this week for a ten day visit with his cousin, Mrs. Harry McLaren at Manchester, N. H.

Miss Norma Stiland of Halifax spent the weekend at home with her mother, Mrs. T. R. Lowe.

FROM HORSE AND BUGGY TO OUTER SPACE

Mrs. Seraphine Potter who is 100 years and 1 month old, has lived to see the difference from horse and buggy travelling to man travelling into outer space. On Thursday last Mrs. Potter watched with interest the flight on T.V. of American Astronaut Scott Carpenter into outer space. Her faculty's are alert enough that she realized what was taking place, even showing concern at the time when contact with him was lost for a while. Quite a span between travelling with horse and buggy and travelling into outer space. Mrs. Potter flew by airplane a couple of years ago, making the trip at Christmas to visit her daughter, Mrs. Allen and Dr. Purdy at Somerville, Mass. She watched the T.V. program at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank King, being a guest there that afternoon.

DRHS Highways And Byways

On Wednesday, May 23rd, members of the Digby Fire Department were present at the high school to complete a fire inspection. During their visit approximately six hundred students enacted a regular fire drill when the building was evacuated within one minute. Following the fire drill there was a general assembly during which Mr. Reg. Turnbull, secretary of the DFD, was introduced to the students by Mr. C. C. MacInnes. Mr. Turnbull spoke to the assembly on the importance of fire protection and showed a short film on this subject entitled "A Word to the Wise".

On Saturday, Peter Croft, Terry Carson and Gary Winchester competed in the Acadia Relay held at Wolfville. Gary came third in the preliminary heat for the "A" boys' 44 but was eliminated from the finals as only those six top runners in regard to time were taken. Peter Croft, who ran the "B" boys' 440, also placed third in his heat, but was eliminated from the finals. Terry Carson, who participated in the "B" boys' 220 placed fifth out of eighteen.

Graduation Dance committees are busy preparing for this annual school event which is to be held on June 15th. The Troubadours, a local group, will provide the music for dancing. Tickets may be obtained from Greg Dickie, Philip Murley, Verlie Ellis and Carol Beeler.

The Allied Youth member of Digby Regional High School would like to take this opportunity to thank all those who offered them "odd jobs" last Saturday. The results of this enterprise have made possible the sending of Allied Youth members to camp this summer.

— CORRECTION —

In a letter recently from H. C. Mullen, Port Maitland, re Reformed Baptists, two errors existed.

Of the preachers who were disfellowshipped from the F. C. Baptists body, the third name in the list should have been Bamford Colpitts instead of Bowford Cobbitts.

In the paragraph beginning "As readers may have already noted" the word "consideration" should be "consecration."

VOTE THE LIBERAL TEAM

JOSEPH E. STEADMAN

Liberal Candidate

Digby-Annapolis-Kings

HON. L. B. PEARSON

Leader of the Liberal Party of Canada

Distinguished statesman, winner of the Nobel Peace Prize, Mr. Pearson has attracted good candidates to the Liberal team.

YOU SHOULDN'T HAVE TO WORRY ABOUT HEAVY MEDICAL COSTS All Canadians should be able to get health care when they need it, without fear of bills they can't afford to pay.

A new Liberal government will set up a medical care plan. The plan will cover all doctors' services without charge to: (1) all children up to the age of 16; (2) most retired people; (3) the unemployed. For all other Canadians, the plan will cover all doctors' bills above a low annual cost.

The Liberal plan will be worked out in co-operation with the provinces and the medical profession. There will be no restrictions on the freedom of choice of the doctor or the patient.

You can take a stand for better health care for all Canadians . . . vote for your Liberal candidate on June 18.

NOVA SCOTIA NEEDS NOWLAN!

HON. GEORGE C. NOWLAN MINISTER OF NATIONAL REVENUE

ON JUNE 18th VOTE

NOWLAN, George C. X

MORE THAN EVER Nova Scotia needs at Ottawa the dynamic leadership, the inborn ability and the uncommon wisdom of the man who, with the exception of a few months, has represented the constituency of Digby-Annapolis-Kings since 1948. Of course, reference is made to HON. GEORGE C. NOWLAN, Minister of National Revenue, who is seeking re-election to the House of Commons on June 18th as PROGRESSIVE CONSERVATIVE CANDIDATE for this constituency for the seventh consecutive time in fourteen years.

On the formation of the Diefenbaker Government in 1957 Mr. Nowlan was named Nova Scotia representative and accepted the important portfolio of Minister of National Revenue and the unenviable duty, at times, of reporting to Parliament for the Canadian Broadcasting Company, a Crown company over which the Minister has no direct control. In addition, Mr. Nowlan is Deputy Chairman of the Treasury Board and Chairman of the Economic Development Committee. He is generally known as the "work-horse" of the Cabinet, an indication of his wide abilities and his WILLINGNESS TO SERVE.

George Nowlan's desire to serve has not been confined to the political field. At the age of eighteen, during the First World War, he enlisted in the Royal Canadian Artillery and served with the 11th Battery in France as a Gunner. Truly, he is a VETERAN in more ways than one.

Mr. Nowlan was born in Havelock, Digby County, where he received his early schooling. In order that he might receive a university education his parents moved to Wolfville where, after his war service interruption, he received his Bachelor of Arts degree from Acadia University. He continued his studies at Dalhousie Law School and was admitted to the Bar of Nova Scotia in 1922. Immediately, he opened a law practice in the Town of Wolfville and became one of the leading barristers of his native Province. During his 25 years of active legal work Mr. Nowlan became most familiar with the problems of the farmer, the fisherman, the lumberman and the individual businessman. It is of major importance that the representative of this, or any other, constituency be intimately acquainted with the needs of his constituents. IN GEORGE NOWLAN YOU HAVE SUCH A MAN.

DIEFENBAKER HAS KEPT HIS PROMISES

Here are a few relating to

SOCIAL JUSTICE

OLD AGE PENSIONS and OLD AGE ASSISTANCE
Payments have been increased from $46.00 a month to $65.00 a month.

BLIND and DISABILITY ALLOWANCES
Payments have been increased from $46.00 a month to $65.00 a month.

CANADA'S VETERANS
Direct payments to Canada's veterans have been more than doubled.

HOSPITAL INSURANCE
Hospital Insurance was introduced during the first year of Progressive Conservative Government in office.

UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE BENEFITS
These benefits have been increased and the benefits period expanded from 36 to 52 weeks. For the first time FISHERMEN and OTHER SEASONAL WORKERS have been made eligible to receive unemployment insurance. Unemployment assistance payments, denied to almost 12 million Canadians by restrictive Liberal legislation, is now available to all Canadians.

TOTAL SOCIAL JUSTICE PAYMENTS are up 77% and the estimated increase in 1961-62 is 85%.

THESE ARE ONLY A FEW OF THE ACCOMPLISHMENTS OF THE Diefenbaker Government since 1957. DO THESE SIGNIFY "WASTED YEARS"? WE LEAVE IT TO YOUR GOOD JUDGMENT.

Marriages

Grant - Rhyno

At St. Andrews Chapel, Montreal, Quebec on May 19, Alice Margaret, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Rhyno Sr. of Liverpool, Nova Scotia, was united in marriage to Walter Mered Grant, by the groom's father, Rev. M. Grant of Digby. An immediate wedding ceremony at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. K. A. Anderson of Montreal, Quebec.

McGrath - Hudson

The marriage of Alberdina Pauline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hudson of Victoria Beach to Gordon Keith McGrath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard McGrath of Victoria Beach, took place at 7 p.m. Saturday, May 26, at the Lower Granville United Baptist Parsonage, with the Rev. J. W. MacLeod officiating.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a blue taffeta street length gown with lace bodice and net overskirt. Her shoulder length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a pearl trimmed tiara. A sister of honor was Mrs. Earl Ellis. She wore a street length dress of pink net over taffeta with white accessories.

Mr. Earl Ellis acted as best man. Miss Doreen Hudson, sister of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. The mother of the bride wore a royal blue dress of matte jersey with white accessories and corsage of carnations. The mother of the groom wore a two piece dress of lime green linen and a rose decked hat of pink organza. She wore a corsage of carnations. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom's parents for over a hundred guests. Out of town guests included the bride and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Smith and two children of Halifax; Mrs. Martha Merrill and Mrs. Thomas Gamma, both of Lynn, Mass.; Mr. Stewart Haynes, St. John, N. B.; Mrs. Morse Haynes, Mrs. Leo Haynes and family and Mr. and Mrs. Godfrey Griffith and son all of Digby.

For going away the bride chose a grey suit with white accessories. Upon their return they will reside at Victoria Beach.

Letter to the Editor

Editor, Digby Courier, Digby, N. S.

To The Editor:

Remember the shut-ins June 3rd. In 1942 a young Canadian, with the help of a few friends, founded the Shut-In's Day Association. It was observed annually of the first Sunday in each June. He selected the first Sunday in June because that was the ideal month — soft breezes, colorful flowers, leafy trees, green grass and kind friends with motor cars.

There are Shut-Ins who live within the confines of four walls day after day, week after week and year after year. All too often the saying "Out of sight out of mind" applies to the shut-in. A few feet beyond his door the world goes about its business, but he is as remote as though he were on another planet! There is nothing quite so terrible as loneliness and the feeling that no one cares. Believe me, I know from bitter experience.

The Shut-Ins do not want to become a forgotten segment of our population and Shut-In's Day is observed to remind the public of these, their fellow citizens, who cannot take any active part in the religious, business and social affairs of the community.

There remains for the shut-ins the newspaper, the radio and T.V. and the personal visitation — and the greatest of these is the personal visitation.

Therefore, on the first Sunday in June when the invitation is given us to visit the sick and disabled should be a pleasure instead of a duty with us. Not that anyone should even feel that he has discharged his full obligation by such observance one Sunday a year. It is but a token of our recognition and remembrance of the shut-in at all times. Furthermore, let no one think that by making such visits we are conferring a favor upon those visited. Any one who has had close friendship with a shut-in has experienced the enlargement of his own life. One comes to realize how feebly he exercises the full measure of health and strength, full powers of body and mind which he possesses as compared with the amazing use that others make of their limited capital of these resources. Truly they live "a large world in a small room."

Shut-In's Day! What a wonderful opportunity to visit shut-ins, send a card or letter, a gift, take them for a drive if feasible, in short do something for a shut-in to let him know the world has not forgotten him.

We feel the public has a big heart and need only to be reminded of Shut-In's Day. It takes so little to make a shut-in happy.

In His name who said "I was sick and ye visited me" let us unite in making the first Sunday in June a rare and unforgettable day for the glorious company of the shut-in and ourselves.

Fisherman Lost In California

A combined search by Coast Guard, Navy and Army units was called off after almost four hours of combing Monterey Bay produced no signs of Lawrence W. Silva, 1014 Del Monte Blvd., Pacific Grove, California.

Silva was the owner of the Peninsula Septic Tank Service. A native of Pacific Grove, he returned to the Peninsula in 1949 from Oakland to establish the business.

Fishermen in the harbor reported Silva took his 16-foot outboard motor boat onto the bay before 5 a.m. Apparently he was fishing for salmon off "D" buoy when a sudden squall struck at 7 a.m.

Coast Guard vessels were at the scene three minutes after a report of an overturned boat, but could find no trace of the man other than his floating life jacket.

Mr. Silva was the son-in-law of Mrs. Ida M. Everett and the husband of her only daughter, Arlene B. Dakin Silva, who was born in Centerville, Digby Co., Nova Scotia, Canada. Up to date his body had not been found.

A memorial service was held Sunday evening, April 29th, at the Peninsula Baptist Church, which was largely attended. Also a memorial is being dedicated to the Peninsula Baptist Church in loving memory by his friends.

Smith's Cove
H & S Meets

Members and friends of the Smith's Cove Consolidated Home and School Association held their monthly meeting at the school on May 8th with a good majority of the members present.

President Mrs. Alice Dunn was in the chair and Mrs. Madeline Milner acted as secretary in the absence of secretary Mrs. Joyce Dunn.

Business included sponsoring the VON service for surrounding areas. A member from each club has been appointed to attend the VON meeting at Digby in June. Mrs. Alice Dunn will represent the Smith's Cove Home and School Association.

Fifteen members responded to the invitation to attend the Barton Home and School Association meeting on May 2nd.

Mrs. Emma Balser was appointed to attend the Home and School Convention at Acadia University.

The parents attendance banner went to Mrs. Daley's class, teacher of grades 1 and 2. Mr. Wilfred Miller, chairman of the nominating committee, brought forth his list of officers for the coming year. They will be installed and take office at the June meeting.

Mrs. Helena Comeau, chairman of the ways and means, reported $50.00 was made at the auction on May 5th. The remaining articles are stored and a rummage sale will be held later on.

Smith's Cove drama group will combine with Sandy Cove for an evening of entertainment to be held at Digby in the near future.

An art program was the attraction of the evening. Mrs. Porter, art convener for the Smith's Cove School, also teacher of primary and grade 1, introduced Mr. Fred Fullerton, art instructor at Cornwallis. He gave an interesting talk on art. The child interest and environment will help the child direct his own ideas of art, he said. He also had an exhibit arranged by the Junior Red Cross as a part of its program to develop understanding among the young people of the world. 73 countries participate in this exchange of school art, correspondence albums and handicrafts.

Mrs. Porter also introduced Miss H. Graves, kindergarten teacher at Cornwallis and ballet teacher at Smith's Cove school, with her class of 12 girls. She gave a short talk on the history of ballet, and explained the different steps that she has been teaching the girls. They all performed well, after only a few months of classes.

A round of applause was given to the girls and a vote of thanks was given to Mr. Fullerton and Miss Graves by Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Balser for their fine program and wonderful work.

Refreshments were served by ladies of the association.

Mrs. George Brinton, Misses Gail Adams, Gilda Kemp-ton and Colleen Sell and Larry Woodman attended the Young People's Rally in Sandy Cove on Saturday.

Letter to the Editor

Tiverton, N. S.
Editor, Digby Courier.
Dear Editor:

I read with interest in your Digby Courier of the relinquishing of our unused schools in the Municipality of Digby — of the loss of $10,000.00 per year.

These schools could earn for us in ten years $10,000.00 or in 20 years $80,000.00. Sounds like a good investment especially when these schools will have to be sold at a "give away price" since they are mostly in small communities. They could never come within the $10,000.00 limit. Suppose they were of no value at the end of twenty years, we surely would have earned a nice fat profit.

Or is this a scheme to kill any dissatisfaction that may exist in our municipality? If such is the case, the cost is too great a price to pay.

What better investment could we have than to go on collecting our $4,000.00 yearly and at the same time save us that extra tax?

VOLUME LXXXVIII, No. 41

Nowlan Claims Present Govt. Did More

Revenue Minister George Nowlan, seeking re-election in the constituency of Digby-Annapolis-Kings, said at a P.C. public meeting in Digby on Wednesday that the present government in the past four and a half years had done more — the two governments working together — than any other government did for Nova Scotia in 25 years and they would continue to get more for this province in the future. He predicted the Diefenbaker government would be returned to power will possibly a bigger majority than in 1958. He stated the same Liberals who are seeking election now are those who were kicked out in 1957 and the people of Canada would not return them.

Continuing about Nova Scotia Mr. Nowlan said that in 1956 Liberal premier Iltis had begged Prime Minister St. Laurent to increase the grants to Nova Scotia, but had been refused. In 1957, he said, the Liberal government gave Nova Scotia between $21,000,000 and $22,000,000 but in 1962 this province expected to receive $44,000,000. He also said that from 1920 to 1956 Nova Scotia had got $10,000,000 from the federal government for highways. Since 1957 the province had received $27,500,000.

Mr. Nowlan was introduced by Dr. G. V. Turnbull, Digby, and thanked by Keith Potter.

M. S. Leonard introduced Nova Scotia Welfare Minister Kennedy Jones, who also lauded the federal government for the grants which had aided in the development of the Atlantic provinces. Among the other achievements attributed to the generous program of the federal government, he said, are increased assistance for the coal industry; subsidy for ship building; increased old age pensions to $65 a month and the means test changed so that more qualify; municipal assistance, it being the first time in the history of the country that assistance was shared at the community level; vocational training provided to equip people with skills necessary for employment; program of civil defence organization which helps in emergencies in peacetime or war; roads to resource program; housing and building; hospitalization.

The first speaker for the evening was Mrs. Gladys Porter, MLA, who was introduced by the chairman of the meeting, Dr. D. E. Lewis, president of the Digby local P.C. association.

Speaking of the recent devaluation of the dollar, Mrs. Porter said the pegged dollar should benefit all Canadian farmers. She quoted the Farmer's Advocate as having stated: "the recent government action would lend stability to farm markets and give Canadian farmers a material advantage in exports."

She spoke of the government putting our resources to work in the Northland to the benefit of all of us. Employment in Canada, she said, was at an all time high and unemployment was at a percentage lower than in the USA. She also spoke of the vocational training and the increased hospital grants, the Industrial Estates program.

Hon. Mr. Nowlan, in speaking of the pegged dollar, noted the advantages it would have to the fishermen in Digby. He also noted its effect on the lumbermen and the apple exporters. He said this was good economics for an exporting country.

Mr. Nowlan also brought before his audience the value of the Naval Base, HMCS Cornwallis, near Digby. He quoted Liberal Paul Hellyer as saying that the day of naval ships was through, that destroyer escorts and frigates should be discontinued and the navy should be supplied with landing craft. "This would mean landing craft, sailors in the navy and birdwatchers in the RCAF — the air force will man radar lines and do observation work." Mr. Nowlan said that Mr. Hellyer had stated he had been misunder-

Ratepayers To Decide Paving

The ratepayers of Digby will be asked to decide on Thursday, June 21, whether they will support a paving program not to exceed $75,000 proposed by the town council. The date was set at Monday night's regular meeting of the council when a resolution prepared by the Department of Municipal Affairs was adopted. The resolution reads:

"Resolved that this public meeting of the ratepayers of the Town of Digby hereby approves of the proposed borrowing by the said town of a sum not exceeding $75,000 for the purpose of constructing curb and gutter, paving with permanent pavement the streets or sidewalks and rebuilding bridges or culverts in the town."

The meeting was presided over by His Worship Mayor V. L. Bent.

Town Hears Hospital Report

A report of the Digby General Hospital Board by F. C. Purdy, president, and E. B. Richardson, was presented on Monday night to the Digby Town Council. The report said that while there was no concrete evidence of progress in hospital construction during the past year there had been considerable work done. According to the report, the architect, E. J. Turcotte, said that providing approval from the Hospital Commission is forthcoming he can have plans ready for construction to be in July or August. The Commission, on the other hand, cannot give approval for grants until such time as final working drawings are submitted by the architect.

The report assured that grants are available for the Digby hospital and Digby has high priority. The report stated that a letter from Dr. Graham Simms, Executive Director of the Nova Scotia Hospital Commission, disqualifies any stories current in the area that Provincial and Federal grants are not available for hospital construction.

Further the report stated that by amendment of the Incorporation Act of the Digby General Hospital, the hospital was given unlimited borrowing power which makes it possible to proceed with construction even if there would be delay in the grants.

On the new hospital building committee are F. C. Purdy, Board Chairman; E. B. Richardson, Chairman Finance Committee; W. L. Troop, Chairman House Committee; Dr. L. F. Doiron, Vice-Chairman of Board; Dr. J. R. McCleave, Chief Surgeon; Ward en Ronald Morehouse, Digby Municipal representative; George Jefferson, Annapolis Municipal representative; J. Medrie Comeau, Clare Municipal representative; Mayor V. L. Bent, Town of Digby representative.

During 1961 the Digby General Hospital was named a beneficiary in the will of the late Owen S. Oakes. By the terms of this will the hospital is to receive from the trust fund set up by provisions in the will the sum of $12,000 for general purposes, $5,000 for the maintenance of a memorial room for Mr. Oakes and the hospital was named as one of ten residual beneficiaries.

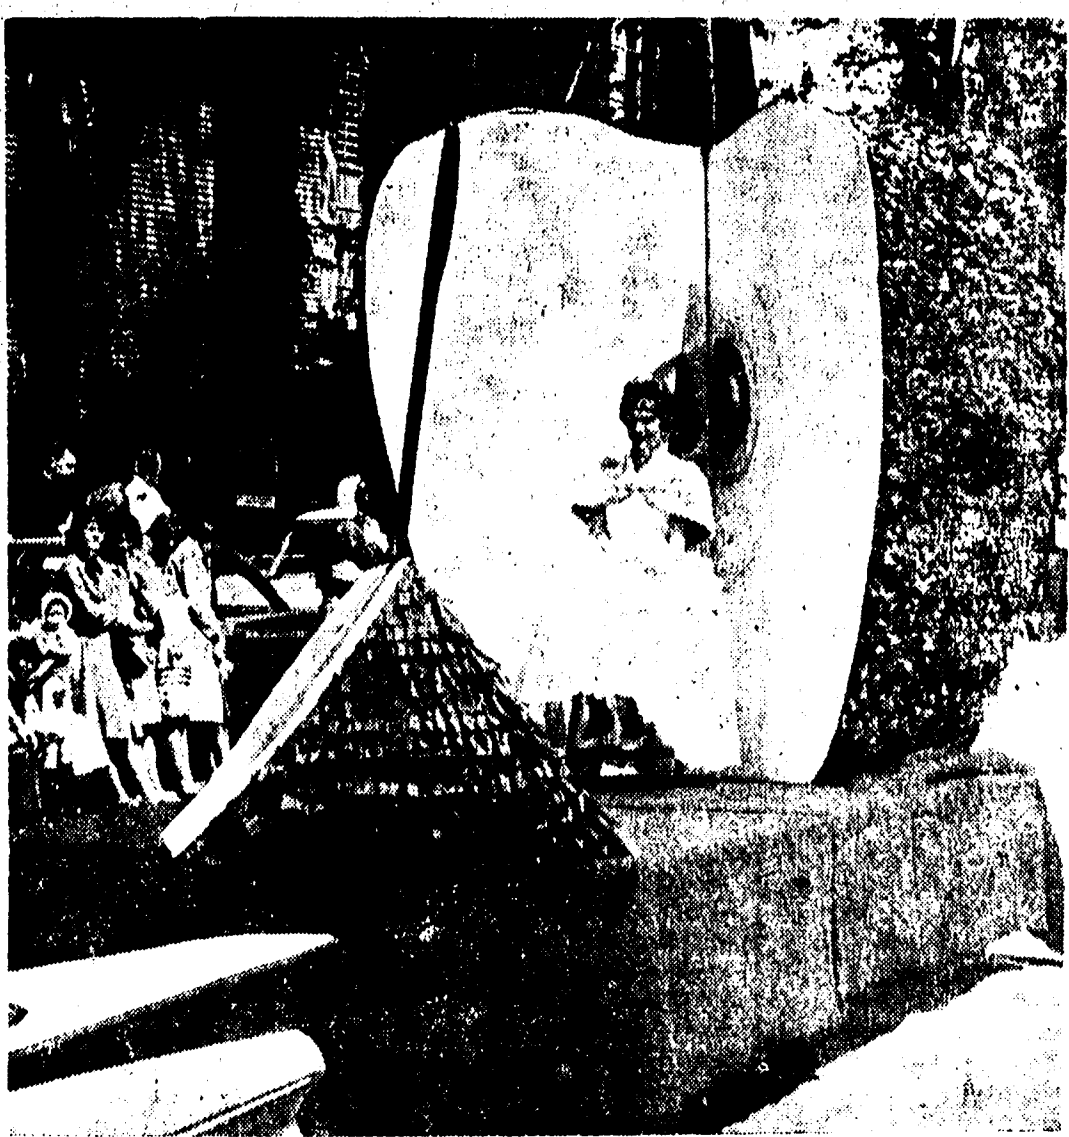

Pass With Distinction

Two pupils of Miss Marilyn Atkinson passed the Mount Allison Local Center Music Examinations in piano/forte held in Digby on May 30th and 31st.

Robert Turnbull passed Grade I with distinction and Carol Kaye passed Grade III, also with distinction.

stood but did not deny making the statement. Mr. Hellyer it is believed generally, would be the Liberal's choice for defence minister if the Liberals were in power. Mr. Nowlan said this would be the end of the Canadian Navy and Cornwallis.

Digby Wins MacDonald Trophy

Carol Reagh Kerr, 18-year-old brunette from Canada's oldest town, Annapolis Royal, was crowned Queen Annapolis the 30th at a richly colored ceremony in Acadia University Hall last Friday evening. Miss Kerr takes the crown to Annapolis Royal for the second time in the Apple Blossom Festival's history, the only other occasion being 1947 when it was won by Gladys Miller, now Mrs. Eugene Chipman, of Kentville.

Given Farewell Party

A going away party was held on Thursday evening in honor of Mrs. Charles Melanson at the home of Mrs. Louis E. Melanson, Gilbert's Cove.

Mrs. Melanson was presented with a lovely pearl pendant given by the cancer group and friends. An enjoyable evening was spent. Mrs. Walter Melanson and Mrs. Jessie Robichaud aided Mrs. Louis E. Melanson in serving delightful refreshments.

Mrs. Melanson is leaving to reside in Hantsport and will be missed.

Going-Away Party

Miss Virginia Turnbull and Mrs. Paul Swanburg entertained at a farewell party for Mrs. C. Douglas Dexter, of Jogglin Bridge.

Mrs. Dexter leaves shortly to join her husband who has been recently appointed Supervisor of Training at Federal Electric Corp., of Paramus, N. J., and will be residing at Dumont, N. J.

After an enjoyable evening Mrs. Dexter was presented with a gift of china.

Ordained To Priesthood

Rev. Father Maurice Comeau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Comeau, of Montreal and formerly of Weymouth, was one of 19 ordained to the priesthood at the Service of Ordination, which took place at the Cathedral of Montreal in that city, on May 26th. Cardinal Leger officiated.

Following the ordination a reception was held at the parish hall. Among the guests were Mrs. Frank Comeau, Gilbert's Cove, and Mrs. Augustine Lombard, Corberrie, aunts of Father Comeau, and Mrs. Martin Lombard, of Corberrie, Gisele Comeau, teacher at Marseilles, France, flew to Montreal to attend her brother's ordination.

Father Comeau celebrated his first Mass on May 27th at Saint-Enfant-Jesus church at Montreal.

N. J., and will be residing at Dumont, N. J.

After an enjoyable evening Mrs. Dexter was presented with a gift of china.

C.G.I.T. "Cook-out"

Leaders and members of Mount Beulah C.G.I.T. group held an all day "cook-out" or Day Camp at Johnston's Christian Park on Saturday, May 27th.

The group spent the day in worship and fellowship — with a programme of Bible study, recreation, handicrafts, vespers and a camp-fire at night when skits and ghost-stories were enjoyed.

The girls were responsible for the preparation of meals and planned all parts of the camp day under the supervision of their leaders, Mrs. Sidney Cromwell and Mrs. Willard Clayton.

Sincere thanks is expressed to the Church of Christ (Disciples) Church for the use of their splendid facilities at Johnston's Christian Park.

Cadet Bill Penrose, Hamilton, Ont., and Cadet Owen Whitney, Kitchener, Ont., were visitors at the Digby Courier on Saturday. The cadets are stationed at H.M.C.S. Cornwallis and will leave shortly for an overseas cruise.

Scouts Get Certificates

Members of the C.G.I.T. of the Baptist Church of Digby entertained their mothers at a tea held in the church hall last Saturday afternoon. This group also assisted in serving guests at the supper tables during the Association gathering held in the Digby church last week. Next Thursday night will mark the final gathering of the group for this season.

A considerable number of the young people of the Digby and Hill Grove churches attended the Digby County Young People's Conference held at Sandy Cove recently. An invitation was extended by the Hill Grove group for the Conference to hold its fall rally in the Hill Grove church.

At a meeting held on Monday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duncan MacKay plans were made for the holding of the annual Roll Call in the Hill Grove church. The event will take place during the last week in June.

During the summer season commencing with next Sunday, services in the Hill Grove church will be held in the morning at 9:45 a.m. instead of the afternoon. The Sunday School period will follow the morning worship service.

An interesting event took place during the worship service in the Digby church last Sunday morning when nine Boy Scouts were awarded their Religion and Life Certificates and Badges. The presentations were made by the pastor.

During the past several months these Scouts had taken a course in religious subjects under the guidance of the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin. Those receiving the awards after successfully completing the course and passing the tests, included: Ricky Olsen, Wayne Snow, John Brittain, Geoffrey Hodgson, Perry Sabean, Billy Olsen, Michael Baxter and Glenn Dunn. This Scout Troop, sponsored by the Baptist Church and under the leadership of Mr. Donald Brown, has a membership of about 24 boys.

The last meeting of the season of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Baptist Church was held on Tuesday evening at the summer cottage of Mrs. Sydney Smith, Porter's Lake.

Pass Examinations

The pupils of Mrs. Frances Peters who recently passed their pianoforte examination are as follows:

Deborah Douglas, passed with distinction; Honor students, Theodore Weagle, Colleen Cameron, Janice Raymond, Amanda Cromwell, Sandra Grant, Linda Gibson, Lynn Woolf.

The examiner was Mr. Carlton Elliott, of Mount Allison University. The examinations were taken on May 29.

Apply For T.V. Unit

Application for a CTV Television Network station in Digby on channel 6 was heard by the Board of Broadcast Governors last Thursday. The "drop-in" at Digby will re-broadcast the signal from the mother station CJCH-TV. If the Board will approve the request, extended service will be available to the people of Digby and area within a few days after the decision is made known to officials in Halifax.

What is planned is not a re-broadcasting station as such, but rather, what is known as a "drop-in". This is a much simpler installation than that of a re-broadcasting station and the power of it would be 5,000 watts, which would provide good reception not only to the people of Digby, but to additional persons in the surrounding area.

The application was supported by the Nova Scotia education department. Dr. H. M. Nason, the province's director of elementary and secondary education, told the Board of Broadcast Governors that the unit would allow more complete coverage for the Nova Scotia classroom.

Eastport Men To Meet Digby Group

Eight men from Eastport, Maine, will be in Digby on Saturday and have requested members of the Digby Board of Trade to meet with them to discuss the possibility of a ferry service between Digby and Eastport. Notice of their intentions were directed to the Digby Board of Trade and the president, Mrs. J. M. Wallis, laid plans for the full executive of the Board to meet the delegation at the Hedley House after arrival of the Princess Helene on Saturday.

The first correspondence regarding such possibility of ferry service was brought to the attention of the Digby Board by a Committee on Veterans Affairs from Eastport on behalf of the citizens there. They requested a meeting and the Digby Board at their last meeting replied that they would be willing to listen to their views and discuss the matter.

The delegation on Saturday, it is understood, will be headed by Walter MacGregor, Governor Representative.

Holdsworth Places First

George Holdsworth, Digby, placed first in the Atlantic regional finals of the Teenage Safe Driving Road-e-o held in New Glasgow on Saturday, and captured the Golden Esso Trophy. He also received a cheque for $100 and an expense paid trip to Victoria, B. C., to compete in the national finals in July. George is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Holdsworth, of Digby.

The competitions included a written test in highway situations, rules and judgment; an in-traffic driving test; and a test on an obstacle course. Judges were members of the RCMP and the Department of Highways Motor Vehicle Branch.

A total of 23 competitors from the four Atlantic provinces participated in the Atlantic finals. They were all winners of their local Road-e-o earlier in the year.

George was the winner of the Teenage Safe Driving Road-e-o, sponsored by the Digby Lions Club, and held at the Ball Park on Saturday, May 5. He scored a total of 380 points, 160 on the quiz, and 220 on the actual driving test.

4-Way Contest In D-A-K

For the first time in recent history there is a four-way contest in the federal constituency of Digby - Annapolis - Kings.

Shortly before 2 p.m. Monday, the time set as nomination deadline, George B. Thompson, Kingston jeweller, was named Social Credit candidate in the June 18 election. The complete slate consists of Hon. George C. Nowlan, Progressive Conservative; Joseph E. Steadman, Liberal; Murray Bent, New Democratic Party; and Mr. Thompson, Social Credit.

95 Years Old

Mrs. John Pleasant, Weymouth Falls, celebrated her 95th birthday on Thursday, May 24th, when relatives and friends gathered in her home to observe the occasion. She was the recipient of many lovely gifts and received congratulatory telegrams and telephone calls from Montreal and Boston.

Born in Weymouth Falls, Mrs. Pleasant is the oldest living native in the community. She has been a member of Mount Beulah Baptist Church for 41 years and is still active in the work of the church, rarely missing Sunday services and Ladies Auxiliary meetings. Her husband, who passed away in 1939, was a deacon in the same church. Mrs. Pleasant has seven children, 23 grandchildren and 76 great grandchildren.

In good health, Mrs. Pleasant enjoys travelling and doing her own shopping.

Property Cleaned Of Debris

High praise was given at the Town Council on Monday night to the manner in which the debris has been cleaned from the Winchester Hotel property, doing away with the unsightliness which had presented a problem for the councillors for some time. It was reported that the Cummings property would be cleared of debris by the same party which did the Winchester property. A notice was to be served to the agent for the Furdy Realty to have a property on the main street in town cleaned.

John R. Raymond appeared before the council on the appearance of the town dump, which dump he said was on his property. A request had been made to have the matter looked into and stated that rotting animal tissue, etc., in the dump was unsightly and offensive to the senses. After a discussion which followed it was decided to investigate the cost of an incinerator.

Permits were granted to William Joliveau, Prince William St., to erect a cottage 32x30 ft. and to L. M. Saunders to have the sidewalk closed for the purpose of making second storey repairs to his building on Water St. Also permission was granted to Mr. Cohen, who recently purchased Hotel Champlain, to have an electric sign erected at the corner of Warwick St. and Montague Row.

It was reported that repairs to the fire station had been made and that renovations to the Town Hall interior would be begun on Monday.

In the report from the Fire Department it was said that since the fire apparatus was called upon for additional mileage a consideration was being given to requesting the fee for outside of town use be raised from $700 to $1,000 after the close of the year.

A letter was read from Grace United Church asking that the ditch be filled in at the South of Prince William St. at the corner of Queen and First Avenue. This, the letter stated, would improve the appearance and save the town considerable upkeep.

The matter was referred to the streets committee. Permission was given for underground wires to be run across the street at the corner of Carleton and Birch Streets.

The arbitration committee, Councillors Russell Atkinson, Charles Hersey and Earl Morrell, were named to work with committees from the Municipalities of Digby and Clare on the matter of erecting a new Registry of Deeds office at Weymouth.

Mrs. Helen Anthony reported on progress regarding establishing a Regional Library for Digby, Yarmouth and Shelburne. She said that because Shelburne municipality had decided not to participate would not make any difference in the Digby figures for financing the project. She felt that no proposed participant seemed to want to go out on a limb and head up the project but each seemed to wait to see what others were doing. The latest was that Miss Lettis had visited the municipal council meeting which Mrs. Anthony also attended and they were awaiting word from her.

A letter was read from the Department of Public Works regarding the endorsement of (Please turn to page 12)

Honor Nowlans At Tea

An informal tea by the wives of men at HMCS Cornwallis was held on Monday night at the Parish Hall, Deep Brook, to honor the Hon. and Mrs. George Nowlan. Hostesses were Mrs. Bryan Govan and Mrs. Campbell.

Mrs. Govan welcomed the Nowlans and expressed thanks for taking time from their busy schedule to be there. Mr. Nowlan expressed appreciation for himself and Mrs. Nowlan to the hostesses and friends.

Refreshments were served.

P. C. Women Hold Tea

Amid a setting profuse with spring blooms and other decorations arranged by Mrs. Chester Levy, the Progressive Conservative Women of Digby held an afternoon tea at Hotel Champlain on Wednesday. In the picture above, left to right, are Mrs. Frank Walsh, wife of the president of the Nova Scotia Progressive Conservative Association; Mrs. Nowlan, wife of Hon. George Nowlan, the P.C. candidate for Digby-Annapolis-Kings in the June 18 election; Mrs. Forest Elsnor, Digby; Mrs. Gladys Porter, M. L. A., Kentville (formerly of Digby) and Mrs. Marshall Wheelhouse, president of the Bear River P.C. Women's organization.

Receiving the more than two hundred and fifty guests were Mrs. Ina Dillon, president of the P.C. women's organization; in Digby; Hon. and Mrs. G. Nowlan; Mrs. Walsh; Mrs. Keith Potter whose husband is the president of the Digby County P.C. Association; Mrs. D. E. Lewis, wife of Dr. Lewis, president of the town organization, and Mrs. Wheelhouse.

The tea tables were presided over by Mrs. M. S. Leonard and Mrs. E. H. Anderson and those who assisted with replenishing were Mrs. C. D. Snow, Mrs. V. G. Turnbull, Mrs. Sydney Smith, Mrs. John Russell, Mrs. John Nichols, Mrs. S. Manning and Mrs.

Carl Melanson. Also serving were Mrs. Garnet Neville, Mrs. James Ayer, Mrs. Helen Anthony, Mrs. Vernon Cross, Mrs. Keith Raymond, Mrs. G. R. Parry, Mrs. Fred Amiraault, Mrs. Owen Irving, Mrs. Cosman, Mrs. Gates, Mrs. Baden Powell, Mrs. Thomas Height, Mrs. John Woolaver, Mrs. Jack Rosenthal, Mrs. Culver and Mrs. Courtland Adams.

The Hon. Mr. Nowlan gave a short talk in which he thanked the ladies for their courteous gesture to himself and Mrs. Nowlan.

Following a P.C. meeting in the evening a social gathering was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. D. E. Lewis.

BROKEN PROMISES...

Five years have passed since Mr. Diefenbaker first made his five big promises. Let's take a look at the Big Five and what he has done with them.

FIRST, in 1957 and 1958, Mr. Diefenbaker solemnly promised to reduce your taxes. Instead they are up one-third.

SECOND, he undertook to balance the budget. Instead he has gone into the hole to the tune of THREE THOUSAND MILLION DOLLARS.

THIRD, the Tories promised Canada low interest rates. They're higher than ever.

FOURTH, Mr Diefenbaker said this government would cut government spending. It's risen from less than five billion dollars to seven billions.

FIFTH, "As long as I am Prime Minister, no Canadian will suffer from unemployment". Bureau of Statistics figures show it getting worse than ever in the Maritimes.

Marriage

Denton - Churchill

On Saturday evening, May 26 at 7 p.m. the Port Maitland United Church was the scene of a pretty spring wedding when Lynda Jean, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alden Churchill, was united in marriage to Gregory Brian Denton, son of Mrs. Clyde Denton Sr. and the late Mr. Denton of Little River, Digby County. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. J. R. Williams of Westley United Church, Yarmouth.

The church was beautifully decorated with candles and spring flowers with the arches in the aisles and at the altar decorated with cedar and pink roses.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiantly lovely in a floor length gown of white chantilly lace and chiffon over white slipper satin. The gown was designed with a square neckline fitted bodice, long sleeves tapering to points over the hands and a full hooped skirt. Her shoulder length veil of tulle illusion was held in place by a lace head dress fashioned with lilies of the valley.

She carried an arm bouquet of American Beauty roses. She wore a single strand necklace of pearls, gift of the groom.

The maid of honour was Miss Sylvia Southern, who wore a waltz length gown of pink nylon, fashioned with a fitted bodice, short sleeves and a bouffant skirt of organza ruffles over taffeta. Her head piece was pink studded with sequins. She carried a nosegay of pink variegated carnations.

The groom was attended by his brother, Richard Denton. The ushers were Keith Churchill, brother of the bride and David Gidney, nephew of the groom.

Mrs. Clifford Perry played the wedding march and rendered appropriate music while guests were assembling. Mr. Donald Crocker was soloist and sang "The Lord's Prayer" and during the signing of the registrar, "I Love You Truly".

Mrs. Churchill, the bride's mother, chose a dress of evening blue embossed bengaline with white accessories and a corsage of white mums. Mrs. Denton, the mother of the groom, wore beige lace over silk with wild rose accessories and a corsage of white mums.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Legion Hall, Hector St. Receiving with the bridal party were the bride's parents, the groom's mother and the bride's grandmother, Mrs.

Lena Blades.

The bride's table centered a three tier wedding cake and candles in silver candelabra at either end.

Rev. J. R. Williams proposed the toast to the bride which was responded to by groom.

Miss Glenna Smith was in charge of the guest book and Mr. Henry Churchill, uncle of the bride served the punch. Mrs. Alan Higby and Mrs. George Snow poured. Miss Winifred Churchill, cousin of the bride served the bridal party. Serving the guests were: Mrs. Norman Harris, Mrs. Gerald Doucette and the Misses Doreen Gidney (niece of the groom), Eileen Gower, Shirley Outhouse, Freda Crowell and Murrill LeBlanc.

Amidst a shower of confetti and good wishes the happy couple left for a short wedding trip, after which they will reside in Halifax, where the groom is employed with the Imperial Oil Co.

For travelling the bride wore a suit of navy blue shantung with white trim, a straw hat, purse and gloves. She wore a corsage of white mums.

Prior to her marriage the bride was honored at a shower given by her many friends where she was presented with lovely gifts.

She also received gifts of

Digby Men Decorated

The award of the Canadian Forces Decoration to a number of officers and men both the Regular and Militia forces has been announced by headquarters, Eastern Command.

The decoration is awarded to all officers and men of the Canadian Armed Forces who have completed a period of 12 years' service, undertaken the required phases of training and duty and are certified by responsible authorities as efficient and in every way deserving of the decoration.

The medal, gift in color, is in the form of a decagon; the 10 sides representing the 10 provinces of Canada. The front of the medal bears the effigy of the sovereign circled with the Canadian royal title. Below it appears the name "Canada". The reverse side contains a crown, maple leaves and an eagle, representing the navy, army and air force. The name of the recipient is engraved around the edge of the medal and holders of the award are entitled to the initial "CD" after their name.

A clasp to the medal is awarded for each successive 10 years.

Two from the Digby area were honoured in the name of the Queen. Bdr. B. J. Cromwell, RCA, Danvers, and Cpl. E. R. Gidney, RCME, Sandy Cove, received the Canadian Forces Decoration.

Art Exhibit At Clare

The Clare District High School branch of the Home School Association held its regular meeting at the high school in the library room in conjunction with the Arts Exhibition of the Clare schools which was held in the auditorium. This year's exhibits far outnumber those of other years with 160 entries. Judges were Mrs. Lawrence Stockdale and Mr. Gordon Campbell of Weymouth.

Mrs. Stockdale held her audience spellbound when she gave her report in flawless French language which she spoke very fluently. It is seldom that English speaking people can present such reports in French in such a manner as Mrs. Stockdale did at the meeting. Mrs. Stockdale majored in French in college and also spent one year in France where she was able to learn to speak the French language to such perfection.

The judges report reminded the group that judging of such Art Exhibits which is entered by children should be judged not by adult standards. A child who has a yearning to draw should be encouraged as drawing or painting will assist him in future classes at school, especially in geography and science. A child draws things as he sees them and everything is new to him. He sees things as miraculous and it is very important that he use his imagination as much as possible.

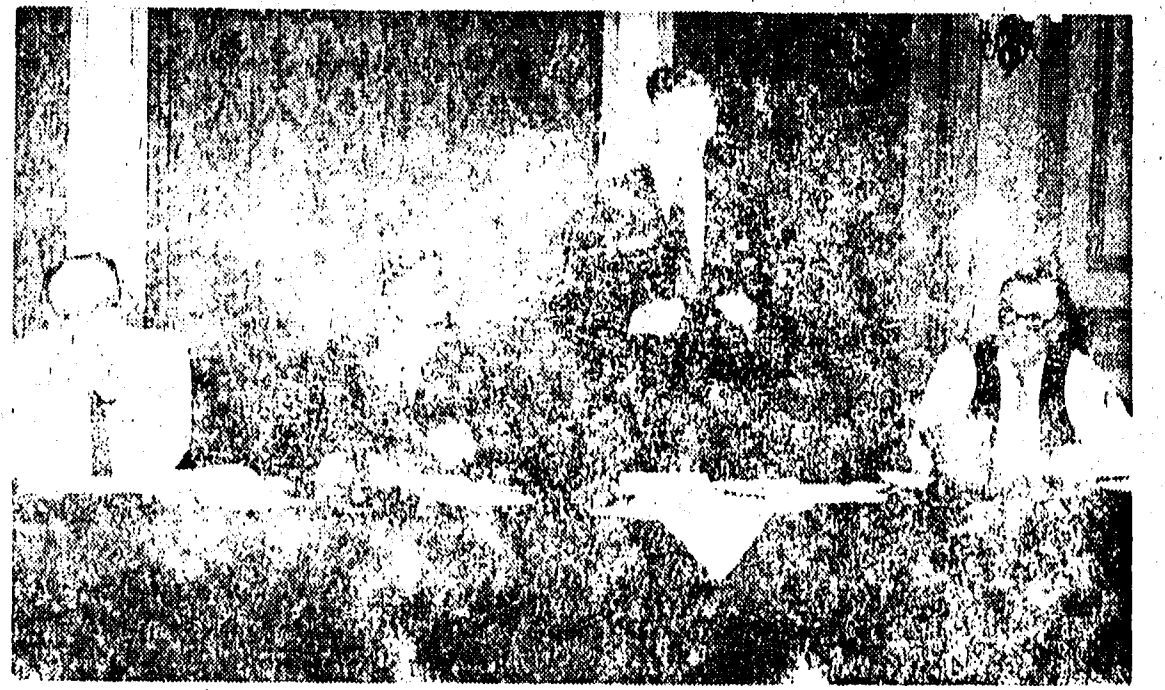

It is unfair to the child to criticize his work when judged at the adult level. The report stated that the judges disliked the use of rulers in drawing straight lines and the movement of the arm should be free and should not be cramped, stated the judges. It was very important that individual arts be encouraged and the imagination must be used as much as possible and the child should not copy. Original designs must be created by Nova Scotians whether it be furniture, jewellery or any other material so as to make the Nova Scotian goods distinctive. This may be done by encouraging the school children by using the arts to develop and encourage creativity.

The Saulnierville Home and School branch reported their activities of the year as follows: by Rev. Sister Barbara Marie: Sixty-two members are registered and they continued their program of the child and the school; sponsored an arts and drawing contest furnishing the paper, pencils and other materials; a conference was held with Inspector Maurice Belliveau who spoke on Creative arts. Cod Liver oil capsules were distributed, Basil Belliveau spoke on Civil Defence and a request was made for a class for retarded children be established in the school.

Meteghan's report was given by Mrs. Alphonse (E. M.) Comeau which showed that a membership of 40 members were registered. Special speakers, group discussions, Christmas Party for the children, used clothing was distributed to the needy, public speaking contest held and transportation was paid for the choral group of the school who attended the Yarmouth Music Festival. Projects for the coming year are: Continuing the various programs in the interest of the children and the equipping the school grounds with recreational facilities.

The Clare District High School's report was given by Mrs. Louis Thibideau. The report showed that 49 members are registered and of this number 16 are also members of their local school branch. The study of regional libraries was made and a request to the Municipal Council made to enter into the program of a regional library which was refused by the Municipal Council; Education week was celebrated with a conference on Education with Rev. L. d'Entremont president of St. Ann's college as guest speaker. The Arts Exhibition and the Public speaking contest recently held at the high school were both sponsored by the High School Branch. A request had been made to the Municipal school board for a Music Teacher who would visit all the schools of Clare. The request received favorable reception by the

Candidates' Conference

The third Progressive Conservative Atlantic Candidates' Conference held in Charlottetown recently was attended by 26 of the 33 PC candidates and their campaign managers, from the four Atlantic provinces. Shown above (right and standing) Hon. Hugh John Flemming (New Brunswick), Hon. Mr. Nowlan, spokesman for the conference, said the meetings concluded in a spirit of "regional solidarity and realistic optimism".

Municipal School board but the Municipal Council felt that the matter could be set aside for this year at least.

The librarian of the High School library and Alain Doucet of the school staff explained how the system of loaning books of the High School library operated, which proved interesting. A resolution was passed asking for a french network Satellite television station in Clare to serve the population of Clare and Argyle who number over 15,000.

Marriage

Ward - Hersey

A pretty wedding of interest to a wide circle of friends took place at Church of Nativity in Sandy Cove when Carolyn Diann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyall C. Hersey, was united in marriage to LAC Kent Sundry Ward, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Ward, of Port Elgin, New Brunswick. Rev. James Pike performed the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage, by her father, the bride was charming in a floor length gown of white satin and lace, a bouquet of red roses fitted down front of her dress. Her pearl-trimmed waist-length veil of nylon tulle fell from a coronet of sequins.

Mrs. Gary Taylor, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and daughter, Brenda Taylor, was flower girl.

Miss Andrea Taylor and Miss Dorothy Marks were bridesmaids.

Malcolm Kelly, uncle of the bride, was best man, and Danny Kelly was ring bearer.

The ushers were Murray Trask and Dennis Gidney, of Little River.

The organist was Mrs. Edgar Trask and solo sung by Mr. Edgar Trask.

Following the wedding a reception was held at the Sandy Cove Hall. After the reception the couple left on their wedding trip through to the groom's home in New Brunswick.

For travelling the bride chose a two-piece suit of green with beige hat and accessories. Her corsage was of yellow carnations.

Prior to her marriage the bride was employed as a typist at Brandram-Henderson Limited, in Halifax. The bridegroom is with the RCA at Gorsebrook, Halifax, N. S. They will reside at Halifax, N. S.

Mullen - Theriault

St. Patrick's Church, Digby, was the scene of a beautiful wedding when Lorna Faye Theriault, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Theriault was united in marriage to Aiden Ralph Mullen.

The bride looked lovely in white nylon lace and net over a full length white dress of satin. She wore a shoulder length bridal veil and carried a bouquet of red roses.

The bridesmaid, her sister, Eleanor Theriault, was attired in pink organza with white accessories and carried white and yellow mums. Another sister, Judith, as bridesmaid wore a blue nylon dress with white accessories and had yellow and white mums.

The matron of honor, Mrs. Clifford Mullen Jr. wore a dress of yellow organza, white accessories and white mums.

Rebecca Lynn Theriault, sister of the bride, looked winsome in a pink dress and hat with white accessories and carrying a basket of variety flowers.

Ushers were Paul VanTassel and Donald Hattie.

The bride's mother for the occasion donned a blue nylon lace sheath with white accessories and a corsage of yellow mums. The groom's mother wore a two piece beige suit, with white accessories and yellow mums.

A reception at the Lion's Club Hall followed the ceremony when Miss Patricia Roberge served the brides table and Mrs. Henry Lewis, aunt of the bride poured. Others serving were Misses Donna Lewis, Carolyn Murley and Linda Mullen.

Miss Sharon Mullen had charge of the bride's book. Henry Lewis proposed the toast to the bride.

The happy couple left for a two week honeymoon to Niagara Falls.

Cross - Rowland

A beautiful wedding took place in the Protestant Chapel at College Militaire Royale, St. Jeans, Quebec, on Saturday, May 19, when Lynda Sharon Rowland, older daughter of C.P.O. and Mrs. John Rowland, St. Jeans, Quebec, was united in marriage to Sub. Lt. Ronald E. A. Cross, older son of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cross of Annapolis Royal. Padre Bunham officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in her champagne coloured gown of peau de soie studded with pearls. It was made on princess lines with a wide, flowing floor length skirt. Her finger tip veil of hand rolled tulle was bouffant and fell from a beaded tiara. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Attending the bride were her cousin, Maria Tuero, maid of honor; Marcia Arnett, and Carol Day, bridesmaids; and Karen Rowland, sister of the bride, flower girl.

The attendants were all attired in identical gowns of Kennedy pink peau de soie with matching accessories.

James Carr was the best man, Ushers were Dave John and Ralph Genest.

Mrs. Rowland wore a sheath dress of nylon organza over pink rayon with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Mrs. Cross wore a pastel blue brocaded street length dress with white accessories and corsage of white carnations.

An honor guard made up of Senior officers from College Militaire Royale was formed for the bridal party as they left the chapel.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Sergeants mess, College Militaire Royale. A toast was proposed to the bride by the best man after which a delicious buffet supper was enjoyed by 200 guests.

The happy couple left on a motor trip through the New England States. For travelling the bride chose a white shark skin Bolero dress with Kennedy pink accessories and a corsage of white roses. They will reside in Halifax where the groom is stationed with the R.C.N.

Research On Family Life And Health

Cornell researchers will be in Digby County this summer to study changes in family life and health which have occurred since their big study of 1952. The early material has been sorted and is being published in a series of volumes, of which the first two are in print. Since 1952, other studies similar to that in Digby have also been completed (in New York and in Nigeria, for example) so there is now a growing body of material on these topics as they exist in many contrasting environments. However, the Digby study will be the first one to have material on change over a significant period of time.

The summer's work will consist primarily of interviewing with a questionnaire form in several Digby County communities. Most of the interviewing will be done, as in the past, by students connected with Cornell and other universities. The work will be directed by Dr. Alex Leighton and his wife, Dr. Dorothea Leighton, who will be assisted by several people already familiar in Digby, among them Professor Marc-Adelard Tremblay, now at Laval, and Tom Stone, who was in Digby last summer.

One reason Cornell has been able to do this study is the excellent cooperation and help it has received from Digby people, Dr. Leighton said. Since its research is on human problems, interviewing is the only way to gather information. This summer, some people who were interviewed before will be asked to grant interviews again. Sometimes others will be asked. The system by which names are chosen is a random one, like picking numbers from a hat. After the material is collected, it will be sent to Cornell University to be analyzed. This is done by IBM machines, which totals all data, then

Attend Graduation

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ossinger of Tiverton, recently spent a week visiting in Dartmouth with their daughter, Mrs. Wintford Garrison, Mr. Garrison and family. While there, they attended the graduation of their grandson, Willard A. Garrison, at the Nova Scotia Technical College.

Also present for Willard's graduation were his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wintford Garrison, his sister, Mrs. Arthur Field of Dartmouth and his aunts, Mrs. Elmer Welch of Halifax and Mrs. Percy Thurber of Freeport.

Willard is the grandson of the late Willard E. Outhouse of Tiverton and the late Mr. and Mrs. Salathiel Garrison of Westport.

Breeders Meet In Deep Brook

Chinchilla breeders of Nova Scotia, known as the Blue-nose Club, will play host to the Maritime branch show of the Chinchilla Breeders of Canada to be held in Truro early next year. Date will be announced.

Ranchers from all over Nova Scotia attended a meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adams, Deep Brook, with Truro president Murray Gunn to make arrangements for the forthcoming show.

While in the district Mr. Gunn visited ranches of Gordon Landers, at Smith's Cove, Thurston Banks, Rossyway, and others.

There are now about 400 animals in the area.

sorts it out into groups. Eventually, this material is reported in articles or books, as has been done with the 1952 data.

Dr. and Mrs. Leighton and family and the party of researchers will arrive late in June and will begin to work early in July.

60th Anniversary

Miss Muriel Bent, missionary on furlough from India, was guest speaker at the 60th anniversary of the Smith's Cove Baptist W.M.S. held on Friday evening. Miss Bent told of the culture and the background of the people of India where Hinduism is the religion generally practised. Hinduism, she said, is more than a religion, it is also a culture. There are several castes — the Brahman, the warriors, the merchants, tradesmen and the outcasts. In most of the Eastern countries, Miss Bent said, the Western culture has crept in but this is not so with India. Since the time of Mahatma Gandhi and since India received independence in 1947 the attitude of the people toward missionaries has changed. British industry has withdrawn from the country and the people of India do not feel that the missionary has come to exploit.

Referring to her work as a nurse in a hospital in India, Miss Bent said that people in hospitals usually have time to think and in India they have an opportunity to hear the word of God and a Christian has an opportunity to tell the gospel.

The meeting on Friday was presided over by the president, Miss Sue Winchester. Friends from adjoining places and within the district were welcomed by Mrs. Alex McLean; Mrs. Ruth Walker and Mrs. Garnet Adams led in prayer; Miss Blanche Woodman read the Psalm and Mrs. Vera Langman read the scripture.

An impressive memorial service was conducted by the president when the youngest member of the society, four and a half year old Susan Woodman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Woodman, placed a basket of flowers in memory of the departed. Mrs.

Elleen Woodman, Mrs. Alice Brinton, Miss Winchester and Mrs. Walker sang a quartet. Mrs. Mary Snow, the oldest living member, was present and recognized by the president.

Mrs. Langman read the minutes of the first meeting of the Smith's Cove Baptist W.M.S. organized on May 23, 1902, by Mrs. T. A. Blackadar, assisted by Mrs. I. W. Porter and Mrs. G. I. Brooks. The first officers were: president, Mrs. H. S. Hall; secretary, Miss J. P. Crousse; treasurer, Miss J. A. B. Dowley; managing committee, Miss Mabel Sully and auditor, pastor Fisher.

Of the charter members now living are Mrs. George Weir, Mrs. Ralph Cossitt and Mrs. Emma Weir.

During the 60 years there were three Dominion Life Members in the society: Mrs. T. F. McWilliams, Mrs. Emma Weir and Mrs. Ralph Cossitt. Plans were made on Friday to endow a Dominion Life Membership on Mrs. George Weir, charter member.

Neighboring societies and friends extended congratulations and in several instances contributed to the program for the evening. Numbers were:

Readings — Mrs. Baird, Clementsvalle; Mrs. Ralph Marshall, Hill Grove; Mrs. Vian Andrews, North Range; Vocal solos — Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby, and Mrs. Loran Shaw, Centreville; Duet, Mrs. Vincent Snow and Mrs. Milton Atkinson, Digby. Mrs. J. J. Wallis, Smith's Cove, was accompanist.

Refreshments were served in the church hall when the anniversary cake was cut.

ENTERTAINED WIVES AT FELLOWSHIP

An overflowing congregation was in attendance at the annual Christian Men's Fellowship meeting held at Johnston Christian Park, South Range, on Monday evening. Ladies were the special guests.

President, Harry J. Lewis, gave the call to worship with Invocation Prayer by Rev. C. R. Barkhouse.

A hearty song service was conducted by Mr. Gifford Lewis and Mr. Franklin Rutherford at the organ. Ushers were Lawrence Sabean and Thurston Mullen and Offertory Prayer by Rev. W. P. Clayton of Conway.

Mrs. Frank Gavel directed the Devotional Service with Scripture Reading by Rev. M. V. Durling of Havelock, followed with prayers by Gordon Prime and Albert Jones. Mr. Thurston Mullen and Mrs. Harvey Mullen rendered a duet "With My Saviour Through The Shadows".

Mr. Arnold Marshall, past president, introduced the guest speaker, Rev. Archibald MacLellan, pastor of the Sandy Cove and Little River Baptist Churches who delivered a challenging message taking his text from the Book of Revelation "Behold, I Stand At The Door And Knock".

Rev. Lorne Nethercott on behalf of the group extended their appreciation to the speaker. Mr. Nethercott also favored the gathering with a solo, "Only Believe" and later pronounced the benediction.

A social hour followed, long tables were arranged by CMF members who served a delicious lunch with Melbourne Barr, secretary, returning thanks.

July meeting is scheduled to be held at the Weymouth Falls Baptist Church.

Loses Barn

Willie Potter, Clementsvalle, had the misfortune on Saturday evening to lose his barn by fire. The fire started around 10:30 in the evening and cause is unknown. Mr. Potter was asleep at his home about 150 ft. away and was awakened by the noise.

No cattle were in the barn but four tons of hay was destroyed. The value was estimated at $1,000. The barn was insured for $500. Fire departments from Bear River and Clementsvalle came to the scene and were instrumental in saving the house.

Mr. Potter's son, Murray, wife and family live across the street.

Officer Appointed

The appointment of Glenn W. Smith as district protection officer for the Department of Fisheries in western Nova Scotia was announced at the department's Maritime headquarters by Loran E. Baker, area director. Mr. Smith was the successful candidate in the Civil Service Commission competition held to fill the post sometime ago. He succeeds J. H. Thibault who has retired.

Mr. Smith conducts his operation from the district office in Digby. He has supervision over the fisheries protection service in the counties of Yarmouth, Digby, Annapolis and Kings. The protection branch enforces fishing regulations both in the coastal and inland fisheries.

A native of Yarmouth, Mr. Smith is a graduate of Yarmouth Academy. When World War II commenced he enlisted in the Canadian Army

Market Staff Visits Digby

The staff of Shoppers Supermarket, 365 Rothesay Ave., Saint John, recently enjoyed a Nova Scotia visit. Sixteen members of the staff came to Digby via Princess Helene on May 29 and toured places of interest in the area. The ten remaining staff members made their journey on June 5. During the day they visited historic Fort Anne at Annapolis Royal.

The firm's manager, William Delay, made the trip with both groups. Just before their return last Tuesday they visited the office of The Digby Courier. In an interview, Mr. Delay stated this was his first visit to Digby in eight years. He complimented the town on excellent eating places and an enlarged array of tourist attractions. "Shoppers" have a daily radio program on CHSJ entitled Holiday Hints.

Has Narrow Escape

A Little River man narrowly escaped death last week in an incident at Whale Cove.

Lewis Mitchell and Eldred Frost were hoisting lobster traps from their boat to a truck at the wharf's edge, when the chain holding the tail-board of the truck broke and Mitchell fell over the edge of the wharf.

Hanford Raymond, who was standing nearby, jumped and caught the man's arm and shirt sleeve and held on until other help arrived.

$140 A MONTH FOR TODAY'S RETIRED COUPLE — UP TO $295 A MONTH WHEN YOU RETIRE. For people who are retired now: The Liberal plan for pensions will establish a new national minimum of $75 for today's old-age pensioners if they are single or widowed; $140 monthly for married couples.

For people planning their retirement: The Liberal plan will provide increasing pension, rising to a monthly income of up to $295 for a retired couple.

This would be $165 more per month than a retired couple gets now. The addition would be paid for entirely by contributions, not taxes. People will be able to start drawing a contributory pension at age 65 if they wish.

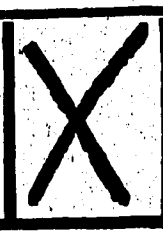

The pension will be completely portable if you change your job. The plan will provide benefits for disabled people, widows and orphans. Self-employed people will be encouraged to join in the plan.

Study Programs Successful

It was inspiring and exciting to see the people of a municipality come together with such enthusiasm and zeal as did the people of Clare in a study discussion program this winter.

Just how it all happened remains somewhat of an enigma. There is little question, however, but that the initiators of the idea and the program, the Clare Federation of Agriculture, were as much surprised as anyone at the almost overwhelming response to the Study Discussion project from so many people in so many communities. They felt ambitious in hoping to organize, with anticipated difficulty, about 5 or 6 such groups. Little wonder at their astonishment over the final organization and operation of nearly three times that many groups and the involvement of nearly ten times as many people as they had thought would be active.

The nearly 250 people in the 16 groups which carried on discussion activities over a 6 week, and in several cases an 8 week period, have concluded their formal discussions for the winter. Already, however, a program is being planned for commencement in the early Fall. Each of the group leaders is well satisfied with the progress to date.

The feeling throughout the groups from the outset was that this initial discussion period was aimed primarily at learning the skills of the method. All are satisfied that the group discussion method holds the most significant promise for their common aspiration and are now confident that it will work for them.

Through the co-operative efforts of Mr. K. C. Langille, Regional Representative, Adult Education Division, Dept. of Education, Mr. William LeFort, Agricultural Representative, Dept. of Agriculture and Marketing, and Mr. Pierre Beliveau, Field Worker, St. F. X. Extension, the project received able guidance and direction.

Staff Changes

The following changes in the Public Health Nursing staff have been announced by the Supervisor of Nurses, Cecile M. Amiraault, Western Division, Department of Public Health in Yarmouth. These changes will become effective in June.

Miss Vera Schofield has been appointed for the Barrington Municipality, the office of which has been vacant for the past five months.

Miss Mary Edge will be replacing Miss Joyce Starratt in the Municipality of Clare, the latter being transferred to Kentville. Miss Marlan Nelly, Shelburne, will be assigned to Chester, and is being replaced by Miss Marjorie Clifford.

These three new nurses graduated from Dalhousie University with their diplomas in Public Health Nursing. The Western Health Unit welcomes them to the staff.

FIRE QUICKLY EXTINGUISHED

What could have been a bad fire occurred at Westport on Thursday afternoon, when a car belonging to a non-resident, backed into a gas pump belonging to Raymond Robicheau. The force breaking the pump from the underground tank. The pump was completely burned and caused a bit of excitement in that part of town. Luckily the fire was put out and no one was injured.

About This and That

Congratulations All Around

Once more we congratulate George Holdsworth. Some few weeks ago we congratulated George for winning the Safe Driving Road-o for teenagers in Digby. Now we congratulate him for an even higher achievement. George recently brought honor to himself, his parents, relatives and to his town by placing first in the Maritime Teenage Safe Driving Road-o. With driving conditions becoming more precarious every day, safe-driving consciousness should become more and more an important part of the life of every vehicle operator. Bringing honor is only part of the accomplishment attained by George. Still more important is the fact that his influence and example might be the means of saving life and limb from the onslaught of other careless youthful drivers. We wish George success when he tries the tests in Victoria.

Almost in the same breath, for this week seems almost as rushed as the past three, we congratulate the Digby Lions Club and particularly those members who expended the time and energy to do the outstanding float for the Annapolis Blossom Festival. The float, a large red apple, not only advertised the leading industry of the Annapolis Valley but also advertised Digby before 40,000 spectators. We commend the Lions for undertaking the sponsorship of princess and float and congratulate them on winning a cherished prize for the float. While Digby, we would say, does not benefit directly from the festival (we've always thought we should have a real scallop festival here) yet participation is justified for the benefit of the Valley and indirectly Digby must profit somewhat by the festival.

Then, too, we want to congratulate Miss Joan Titu on being selected as princess from Digby for the festival. Truly, Miss Titu did not capture the queenship of the festival but having heard so many complimentary remarks about her from those who attended the festival at Kentville and who were at the bandstand in Digby, we pass our own judgment that she is a "queen" in her own right.

Ban Forest Fires

One of the weeks we neglected recently was Forest Conservation Week and yet the products of the forests are among our most valuable economic assets. Certainly we were well reminded of the week for it was at that time that fires were raging through the forests of the province. Recent rains have made us feel easier about forest fires but the danger of fire hazards should never leave our minds during the summer time when fishing and camping are the summer joys of so many.

Robert H. Burgess, Director of Forestry Division of the Nova Scotia Department of Lands and Forests in his statement for Forest Conservation Week said:

"Not all of us can be forest conservation officers, but we can all be forest protectors. This requires only that we do everything to prevent fire from burning the forest land.

As campers and picnickers, this calls for alertness in the use of fire while enjoying the great outdoors. As fishermen, it demands the same cautioning, there may be fewer fishing areas.

As children and youths, it means we do not play with fire, and we can also remind our parents about the need for care.

This is important to every man, woman and child in Nova Scotia. The forests provide direct employment for thousands of persons.

The seriousness of forest fires cannot be overemphasized. They destroy valuable woodland and injure the economy of local communities. Wildlife is destroyed. Watersheds are seriously damaged. The land is eroded and made barren.

Anyone using the woods who is careless with fire is a contributor to this destruction of life, beauty, timber, land and the livelihood of their fellow men.

For all of us, it will pay to make every week forest conservation week."

Be Water-wise

June 3-9 is National Water Safety Week. This is the sixth consecutive year that the Canadian Red Cross has sponsored the week in an effort to reduce the alarming number of accidents in the water during the summer months.

We're fortunate in Canada to have so many natural resources for pursuing water sports. This year we'll see many millions of men, women and children enjoying the water in a variety of ways. It is unfortunate that nearly a thousand people are destined to die by drowning this summer unless every individual decides to learn and practice water safety. What may seem like harmless horseplay around water may be the cause of terrible accidents. Running, pushing, diving from balconies, railings and ledges, swimming under docks and boats for "surprise appearances" might be fun, but inevitably someone must pay for it. Many people are seriously injured, maimed for life, and even killed as a result of horseplay.

Never dive into unknown waters! You might strike a dangerous object like a sharp rock or a sunken log. An unknown area should be checked before swimming or diving. Help to prevent accidents and unnecessary drownings by making sure of your own safety habits.

Air-inflated toys add a lot of colour to a beach scene. They put a kind of carefree gaiety into the picture. And yet who would ever think that these same colourful objects can

56 Years Married

Mr. Albert Dakin of Westport celebrated his 56th birthday, April 28th at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mary Chayko. A number of friends and relatives gathered to help him celebrate.

Mr. and Mrs. Dakin, also celebrated their 56th wedding anniversary recently. They have four children: Wilfred at home; Malcolm, Freeport;

Muriel (Mrs. Whitney Derby), and Mrs. Mary Chayko, Westport; also five grandchildren: Wilkenc (Mrs. Arden Perry), Freeport; Wayne Chayko, Derby, Westport; Deanna Derby, Saint John, N. B. Mr. and Mrs. Dakin's eldest son, Albert died in infancy.

We wish the above couple the best of congratulations in all things for years to come.

cause a tragedy? Imagine a youngster playing in the water with a beach ball. Suddenly a mild breeze catches it and carries it out into deep water, out of the youngster's reach. The child, possessed by the thought of losing his pretty toy, may try to go after it and falter in deep water.

It would help to reduce that fatal figure if citizens would take time out to brush up on their water safety knowledge and habits BEFORE they go on vacation or on a weekend trip to the lake. Those who have recently acquired a small boat should look not only into the common sense boating habits, but also the Federal Laws regarding the operation of small craft.

Water skiers should give swimmers and boats a wide berth. Keep well clear for safety. When stopping or falling, never lean forward. Do a sit-down fall on the back of the skis.

National Water Safety Week sparks a campaign which will be promoted by the Red Cross Society throughout the summer months. Contact your Red Cross and help to cut down on needless drowning fatalities. Be water-wise.

Allen Edward Perry

Allen Perry passed away at the Digby General Hospital May 2nd, after a long illness. Born in Freeport 82 years ago, the son of the late Edward and Emily Perry, he married the former Lena Sullivan, who predeceased him.

Mr. Perry was a member of Freeport United Baptist Church and a member of Chipewa Lodge, IOOF.

Surviving are three sons, Lenwood, Tiverton, Vernon and Romaine, of Freeport.

Funeral was held from the Freeport Baptist Church on Thursday afternoon, conducted by the pastor, Rev. W. Ide-son, assisted by Rev. J. W. Derby.

Interment was in Brookside cemetery.

Sympathy is extended to all who are left to mourn his passing.

William D. Vassaw

William D. Vassaw passed away at his residence in Little River, Digby Co., on May 3rd. He was born in Belleville, Ont., 75 years ago, a son of the late Joseph and Mary Vassaw. He moved to Little River two years ago.

He leaves to mourn his wife Alta M. Cheney, of Parrsboro; a sister, Mrs. Lottie May, Moose Jaw, Sask.; niece, Mrs. Lola Allison; and nephew, Lolo Vassaw, both of Trenton, Ontario.

A brief service was held at his residence, conducted by Rev. A. MacLellan. A duet, "Wilt Thou Be Near", was sung by Mrs. Wilfred Trask and Mrs. Rupert Trask.

Burial was at North Head, Grand Manan, N. B., Sunday afternoon, May 7th, conducted by Rev. Murphy, pastor of North Head Baptist Church. A duet, "Under His Wings", was sung by Mr. Donald Hatt and Walter Avery, of North Head.

Deacon George Thomas Martin KEMPT — The death of George Thomas Martin occurred at the Victoria General Hospital, in Halifax, N. S., on April 8, 1962, after a few months of failing health.

Born in Springhill, Annapolis Co., January 14, 1876, he was the eldest of a family of fifteen children, born to Allen and Mary (Dunn) Martin. Moving to Westfield at an early age, he had spent his entire life in the surrounding area, living in Kempt the greater part of his married life. In early manhood he married Adella Spears, of which union five children survive. A son, Sandy, and a daughter, Rena, died in early childhood.

A member of the United Baptist Church since the age of 18 years, he was a faithful follower and worker, a kind loving husband and father and a good friend. He will be greatly missed in the home and in the community. Funeral services were conducted from the United Baptist Church on Wednesday, April 11, in the afternoon, with Rev. D. E. Robertson officiating. Scripture readings were Psalms 23 and John 14:1-2. Hymns sung were "What A Friend We Have In Jesus", "Lord I'm Coming Home" and "When The Gates Swing Outward Never".

Pallbearers were Guy DeLong, Bariton DeLong, Gordon Hanley and Roscoe Luxton. Interment was in Lakeside cemetery.

Left to mourn their loss are his wife Adella; sons, Everett in Newfoundland, Reginald at Lakeside, Halifax, N. S.; daughters Alice (Mrs. Earl Potter) in Bear River East, Anna, Co.; Roxie (Mrs. John Boris), Walham, Mass.; Viola (Mrs. Wilfred Nass, at home, Brothers Blakney, Timmins, Ont.; Osmand, N. Is Volkswagen changing?

Have we decided to replace our familiar beetle-shaped car?
No.

Are we going to stop making it? Definitely not. In 131 countries around the world, Volkswagens are still being sold faster than we can make them. Once more our factories are being expanded so that production can be increased.

No, we are not discontinuing "old faithful". But we are changing our one-model policy. From now on you will have a choice of two models—our famous 1200 model and the new VW 1500.

IS THE VW 1500 REALLY A VOLKSWAGEN?

The VW 1500 is like its stable mate. It has an air-cooled engine in the rear, of course. It has a solid platform chassis. It has oversize wheels and tires. And it is independently sprung front and rear by torsion bars. In other words, the VW 1500 has all the features which have made the VW 1200 a world success.

THE VW 1500 IS A BIGGER, MORE POWERFUL CAR.

There is no doubt that our new car is a Volkswagen. But it is bigger, livelier, and offers more comfort. Once you have driven the VW 1500 (not just around the block, but over a longer distance) you will discover that it offers a whole new standard of driving performance. It has the responsiveness and road holding qualities of a sports car, and yet it has the comfort and convenience of a full-size family sedan.

The transmission, (synchronized in all four gears) is a pure delight to shift. Bucket seats (only recently rediscovered by so many automobile manufacturers and delivered as an option at extra cost) are standard equipment and can be adjusted to 49 different positions.

LUXURY APPOINTMENTS INCLUDED IN THE BASIC PRICE.

The VW 1500 is loaded with extras: heater, windshield washer, padded dashboard and sunvisors, armrests for all four seats plus a comfortable centre armrest in the rear, and many other items for which you would expect to pay extra. But they are all standard equipment. And you can trust us not to re-style the body each year to make your VW 1500 obsolete.

You can also expect to find the high standard of quality for which the VW 1200 is rightly known. After all, you don't build five million cars of one model without learning how to do it the best way. It is this constant improvement, rather than change for its own sake, that has made Volkswagen the third largest automobile producer in the world.

HOW VOLKSWAGEN HELPS CANADA'S EXPORT TRADE.

Volkswagens play a very important role in the trade relations between Canada and West Germany. Every Volkswagen sold in this country helps Canada to sell more goods to West Germany, and in this sense the additional Volkswagen model will make another contribution to the flourishing interchange between two good trading partners.

SEE THE VW 1500, AND DRIVE IT.

Our 346 Volkswagen dealers, already service trained and supplied with parts for this new model long before the arrival of the first vehicle, are eager to show you the new VW 1500. If you would like to meet a car which combines sensible design, excellent roadholding and low operating cost, test-drive the VW 1500 soon.

THE Digby Courier

THURSDAY, JUNE 7, 1962

MACDONALD TROPHY
University of New Brunswick, A Red Cross swimming instructor, one of her favorite pastimes is water skiing. She is a member of St. Luke's Anglican Church choir in Annapolis Royal.

In all there were twelve princesses competing for top honours. Digby was represented by Miss Joan Titus, daughter of Mrs. Flora Titus, and the late Herbert Titus, Centreville.

The princesses arrived one by one at the Cornwallis Inn, Kentville, during Friday morning. At midday they met the judges over luncheon. A public reception followed during which they met the officials of the participating towns and were introduced to the various dignitaries. An afternoon tea followed and then the princesses retired to prepare themselves for the annual formal dinner given in their honour. All day they were under the watchful eyes of the judges, who were on the lookout for charm and personality more than good looks.

Crowds were the highest in the history of the colorful event. Estimates put the number of people in Kentville Saturday for the grand parade as high as 40,000 to 50,000. Previous highs have been about 30,000. Crowds lined both sides of the street from New Minas, the parade's starting point, to its destination, a Memorial Park, Kentville, a distance of some two miles and were jammed 10 and 11 deep most of the way.

Receiving one of the biggest ovations was the first queen of the festival, the former Mary Armour, of Middleton, and now Mrs. Fred Duncan, of Lawrencetown. She rode in a special horse drawn vehicle used in the first years of the festival. Miss Gladys MacLean, of Wolfville, on her horse "Dark Moon" on whom she won the title of Rodeo Queen in Idaho, led the parade which was escorted by the RCMP.

The Digby float with princess Joan Titus, won the most outstanding float award, the Senator John A. MacDonald trophy, and $50.00. The float was designed by Stanley Moldovan for the Digby Lions Club and took the form of an apple 10 feet tall. A section was cut from the apple where Digby's princess was seated in the parade, and the "knife" which did the cutting remained in the apple. More than 30,000 pieces of crepe paper helped to make up the float.

Participating in the parade were the three armed forces in the valley, HMCS Cornwallis, RCAF Greenwood, and the West Nova Scotia Regiment band from Aldershot.

During the review touriste trade minister E. A. Mansor announced that the queen would accompany a delegation of the provincial government to Boston for Nova Scotia Day this Saturday. Premier Stanfield, and the Queen's chaperone, Mrs. Gladys Porter MLA, are members of the delegation.

The Royal Party toured the western part of the province on Monday, stopping at communities between Kentville and Digby, where they were officially presented to the subjects in their home towns.

The festival ended Monday night with the Blossom Ball at RCAF Station Greenwood. The queen and princesses were in attendance.

CLEANED PROPERTY

The Digby Board of Trade's proposal for wharf extensions and improvements in Digby. It was learned from the letter that a survey was to be carried out.

A letter from the Digby Fire Department recommended larger water mains in the south end of the town for the purpose of fighting fires, particularly as far as the hospital was concerned. The water pressure was decidedly low and a 12 inch line instead of the 6 inch was recommended.

There were 15 complaints laid with the town police in May. Ten needed investigation, seven cases required court action, four of which have been disposed of.

Revision in the tax by laws was studied so that stricter control could be kept under the liquor control act and the motor vehicle act.

S.S.Supt For 55 Years

"Perhaps," smiled Mr. William Cossaboom, Tiverton, as he was appointed Superintendent of the Sunday School at the Church of Christ (Disciples), "You had better appoint an assistant."

Mr. Cossaboom, who is one of Tiverton's outstanding church workers, was recently appointed superintendent for the 55th consecutive year. Melbourne Outhouse was appointed assistant.

Mr. Cossaboom became united with the Church of Christ (Disciples) at the age of 22 when Rev. John Lord, originally from Deer Island, was minister there.

"I have taught Sunday School all these years," he recalled. "I have taught every class from the beginners to the women's class. I have been teaching the men's class for quite a number of years. Though I do enjoy teaching a class, I find it easier to conduct a service from the pulpit." He recalled leading one of many such services. "I remember one Sunday evening about a year or so ago. The congregation had gathered at the church, and when the minister failed to arrive, someone suggested that I conduct the service. Though I had not prepared a sermon before leaving home, I did conduct the service. In a sermon," he explained, "one follows the one thought or theme right through, while in teaching a class, one touches many subjects."

"It is my belief," he went on, "that when one is asked to perform a duty in the church, one should never refuse. For by teaching even the smallest child to conducting a service for a congregation, one's knowledge of the Bible increases. One therefore, derives as much benefit from the service as does one's listener."

Mr. Cossaboom has been Elder of the church for quite a number of years and has served as janitor for the last (Please turn to page 4)

Narrow Escape For Fisherman

Seventeen-year-old William "Buster" Hudson, of Parker's Cove, was quite seriously injured Tuesday aboard the scalloper "Lottie L."

The boat, owned by his grandfather, Lewis Hudson, was involved in dragging operations nine miles off Gulliver's Head when eight feet of the derrick broke loose. The younger Lewis, standing directly under the derrick, was struck on the head, and was unconscious about three hours before a doctor arrived.

Using his small craft, Bruce Robertson rushed Dr. D. E. Lewis out into the Bay to meet the injured man. Both doctor and patient were brought directly to Digby where an ambulance was waiting at the pier.

William, who received concussion, is resting comfortably at the Digby General Hospital.

To Call Wharf Contract

Tenders for a government wharf at Victoria Reach will be called after June 18, Revenue Minister George C. Nowlan said in Annapolis Royal Tuesday evening.

Mr. Nowlan, speaking in the Community Centre, also referred to the decision of the Board of Broadcast Governors to permit building a satellite television station in Digby. The new station is in no way associated with the CBC, but is a member of the CTV network, a group of totally private stations. He added the Department of Education visual service would be made available to people in this area as in other parts of the province.

Deidre Morrell Leads With 88

Hold Meet At Porter's Lake

Lured by the charm of a perfect June evening and the freshness of the spring countryside there was a large attendance of members and several guests present for the regular business meeting of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society held at the summer cottage of Mrs. E. B. Richardson, at Porter's Lake. After all present had admired the view of the lake and enjoyed the sunset the meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. Eva Wendell.

Kenneth Beckwith reported that work on the rock garden at the Cannon Bank was progressing favorably but that some of the willows damaged by fire last year had to be removed and replacements would be needed. The upper part of the "Welcome to Nova Scotia" sign planter had been filled with annuals but until the tulips finished blooming nothing could be done around the base. Of the fifty dozen seedlings purchased about half had been planted and, under favorable conditions, the balance would be set out within a week.

Under the direction of John Russell, spring clean-up at the Admiral Digby Park was practically completed and the most urgent chore yet to be done was digging and preparation of the bed for the replacements of those that had been winter-killed. The charred remains of the loading platform between the two gardens has (Please turn to page 4)

Steadman Addresses Liberal Meet

Joseph Steadman, Liberal candidate for the June 18 federal election in Digby - Annapolis - Kings, said at a meeting in Digby last week that to keep Canada strong we must have educated people and we must have some financial means such as scholarships to provide education. He also said that a loan fund should be set up so that students can borrow for education and not have to pay back for four years or at least not until one year after graduation. Mr. Steadman also advocated an extension of the family allowance beyond the 16 year age limit. It is during the time when children are in high school, he said, that the greatest burden for clothing and necessities is felt.

Speaking on local issues, he pledged support for efforts being made to secure a permanent type crossing for Portie Passage at the end of Digby Neck and for wharf extensions in Digby. He said he and the Liberal party were committed to the provision of a 12-mile limit and he felt Canada should proceed in this unilaterally if necessary. He said that he could not accept the doleful pronouncements of government speakers as to reaction of the United States government if this should be done.

He explained the contributory pension plan which he said Mr. Pearson has promised will be started if he forms the government.

Among the things which he favors, he said, were maintenance of all armed forces and a strong defence for Canada, all civilian jobs be filled by civilians and have the Navy stick to Navy jobs. He favored, he said, the development of sports fishing in the Annapolis and Nictaux rivers.

Mr. Steadman was born at Young's Cove, Annapolis Co., and attended school in Young's Cove and at Annapolis Royal. He also attended provincial Normal College in Truro. He was principal of schools (Please turn to page 4)

MacPhersons Honoured

A farewell gathering was held at the Salvation Army Citadel on Tuesday night in honor of Capt. and Mrs. Owen MacPherson, who will be leaving shortly.

The meeting was chaired by Phillip Woolaver. Guests included Edward Twohig, Kiwanis president; Edward Murphy, representing the Canadian Legion; Rev. M. Grant, Reformed Baptist Church; Rev. T. D. Davies, Digby Pentecostal Church; Digby Deputy Mayor, Mrs. Helen Anthony, and councillors.

Presentation of table mats was made by Phyllis Howland. Refreshments were served by the Home League members.

Catches Large Trout

A 9 pound 4 ounce lake trout was caught by Don Denton, Trenton, Ontario, on Monday while fishing north of Egahville. The fish took a Williams Wobbler. Mr. Denton, a regular visitor to the lake, took four trout on Monday. The other three weighed 7 pounds, 4 pounds and 3 pounds. With him was Frank Plaut, Renfrew. Mr. Denton at the weekend won the first prize in the Legion contest for a pickerel weighing 5 pounds 11 1/2 ounces.

Mr. Denton is the son of Mrs. Sydney Denton and the late Sydney Denton, of Little River.

CORRECTION

In the 60th anniversary celebration of the WMS of Smith's Cove Baptist Church, the name of Mrs. Ralph Marshall should have been Mrs. Harold Marshall, Conway, and that of Mrs. Vian Andrews giving a reading should have been Mrs. Hubert Shortliffe, North Range.

Liberal Women Entertain

Liberal Women on Wednesday of last week entertained at Champlain Motor Hotel in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Steadman, Smith's Cove. Mr. Steadman is the Liberal candidate in Annapolis - Digby - Kings constituency in the June 18th election. More than 200 attended the tea when red and white carnations graced the tea table and apple blossoms and red tulips adorned the banquet room.

Mrs. Gerald Connelly and Mrs. Richard Warner were receptionists and in the receiving line were Mr. and Mrs. Steadman, Senator Harold Connolly, Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Wightman. Among others who assisted were Mrs. William Franklin, Mrs. Arthur MacKay, Miss Louise Daley, Mrs. Clayton Woodman, Mrs. Joseph Hattle, Mrs. Darrell Lewis, Mrs. Earle Anderson, Mrs. Thomas Milner, Mrs. David Daley, Mrs. Wilfred Miller, Mrs. E. Comeau (Hill Grove) and Mrs. Clyde Denton.

Mr. Steadman, on behalf of Mrs. Steadman and himself, thanked those who were responsible for the tea and for those who were gracious in attending.

Replenishing were Mrs. Edith Hayward and Mrs. Frank

Tragedy Strikes Again

Fire destroyed the Halliday homestead, Granville Ferry, on Saturday.

It was the second tragedy to strike the nine-member family within the past month. On May 21 the body of two-year-old Alice Louise Halliday was found washed up on the shores of the Annapolis Basin following a three day search.

Mrs. Gladys Halliday, 27, and her three-year-old daughter, Joyce, were alone in the house at the time. Mrs. Halliday was talking to her sister on the telephone when she heard a neighbor, David Armstrong, shouting that the house was on fire. It was at about 1:30 p.m.

The Annapolis Royal fire department was called but the blaze raged out of control after firemen used all available water. The house was outside the Granville Ferry water supply and firemen were dependent on water carried by the trucks and from a nearby well.

A washing machine and a few articles of furniture were saved. The house was slightly covered by insurance.

It was not known what started the blaze. Last week the house was lightly struck in an electrical storm and the fuses blew.

It was suspected the blaze was caused by a fault in the wiring.

Arrives In St. Patrick's Parish

Father D. H. Stokes arrived in Digby last week as curate in the St. Patrick's parish. This is Father Stokes' first appointment, having been ordained in Kentville on May 11.

Father Stokes was born in Kentville, son of Mrs. Stokes and H. H. Stokes, who operates a watch making business there. His early schooling was at Kentville and his college years were spent at St. F. X. in Antigonish. He attended Holy Heart Seminary in Halifax.

Digby Boy Gets Degree

Irving Dean White, of Digby, received his A.B. degree from Transylvania College at the college's commencement exercises Sunday, June 10, in McAlistair Auditorium, in Lexington, Kentucky.

Mr. White was one of 91 students upon whom the degree was conferred by Transylvania President Irvin E. Langer. Mr. White is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard White and received his degree in history.

While attending Transylvania, Mr. White was a member of the Phi Kappa Tau fraternity and served as a dormitory counselor in the men's residence hall.

Complete Rescue Course

Above are, left to right, Earle Anderson, Robert Hand-spiker and Joseph Doucette, who recently completed a Rescue Course under Civil Defence at Arrnprior, Ontario. The above men are now qualified to teach rescue work to other C.D. classes in the province. They will receive rescue equipment from Halifax to be used in teaching the basic 24 hour rescue courses which are expected to get started in Digby in September.

The three men received their instruction certificates from the Civil Defence College (Part B) at Arrnprior, where 19 classes were held for men from Vancouver to Nova Scotia. The three

Miss Grant Succeeds Miss Squance

The local association of the Victorian Order of Nurses were informed on Tuesday at the regular meeting of the members of the Digby (East) Board that Miss Shirley Grant, Fish & Game Association held a dance at Defaga Lodge on June 9th, 1962. All present had a good time. It is hoped that when exams are over by the past two years, there will be a bigger turnout. These dances, if well attended, will be carried on throughout the summer. At present playing for the junior dances are the "Spartans", a local young people's orchestra. The last dance was sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dunn, Smith's Cove. The report of the nurse showed 121 home visits made in May, 50 were for nursing care, 64 health instruction and 7 no service calls. One hundred and fifty-seven children were immunized against diphtheria, tetanus and polio. The receipts for the month of May were $97.50 and expenses $361.74. To date of May 31 the V.O.N. Digby credit balance was $30.56. The June Drive was being conducted. It was announced.

Clergyman Honoured

The Rev. R. A. Neish, rector of the Parish of Round Hill, was honoured by the clergy of the Deanery of Annapolis on Tuesday, on the occasion of the 40th anniversary of his ordination to the ministry.

The day began with the Holy Communion celebrated by the Rural Dean, the Rev. James Pike, of Digby, assisted by the Rev. L. White, of Bridge-town. A Testimonial, signed by the Rt. Rev. R. H. Waterman, Bishop of Nova Scotia and the Bishop Coadjutor, the Rt. Rev. W. W. Davis, was placed upon the Altar and later was presented to the Rev. R. A. Neish by the clergy.

Following Holy Communion breakfast was served at the Rectory when the Rural Dean presented a bouquet of flowers to Mrs. Neish, who had been a loyal helpmate to her husband for over 35 years.

The Chapter met in regular session after breakfast. Letters were received from the Bishops expressing their pleasure in concurring with the clergy of the Deanery on their choice of their new Rural Dean and from the Rev. R. A. Neish expressing his thanks for the many kindnesses shown him during his recent illness.

The Rev. J. R. McMahon was asked to express to the Rev. R. A. Neish the best wishes of the Deanery upon his anniversary. He was followed by the Ven. G. W. Bullock, who has already celebrated the golden jubilee of his ordination. The Rev. Mr. Neish acknowledged with many thanks the kind thoughts of the clergy and their gifts, which included a beautiful silver cross.

Plans were finalized concerning the operation of St. Anne's Camp and the Rev. J. R. McMahon, chairman of the camp committee, reported that prospects were good for a very successful camp. Chaplains were appointed as follows: the Revs. E. C. Irwin, L. White and H. Kay.

The Rev. L. White was elected as Diocesan Times correspondent for the Deanery.

It was decided that the Deanery chapter would meet at the summer home of the Rev. J. R. McMahon in late July, when the opportunity (Please turn to page 5)

Digby Station Granted License

The Board of Broadcast Governors in Ottawa Monday gave approval for a television re-broadcasting station in Digby. The unit, on channel 6, will use the facilities of a tower already erected at Bay View, and will be linked with CJCH-TV, Halifax, a member of the CTV network.

With a power output of 5,000 watts it is expected the station will provide extended service to an area of approximately 30-mile radius. It will be on the air in a matter of days.

Miss Grant Succeeds Miss Squance

The local association of the Victorian Order of Nurses were informed on Tuesday at the regular meeting of the members of the Digby (East) Board that Miss Shirley Grant, Fish & Game Association held a dance at Defaga Lodge on June 9th, 1962. All present had a good time. It is hoped that when exams are over by the past two years, there will be a bigger turnout. These dances, if well attended, will be carried on throughout the summer. At present playing for the junior dances are the "Spartans", a local young people's orchestra. The last dance was sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. Harold Dunn, Smith's Cove. The report of the nurse showed 121 home visits made in May, 50 were for nursing care, 64 health instruction and 7 no service calls. One hundred and fifty-seven children were immunized against diphtheria, tetanus and polio. The receipts for the month of May were $97.50 and expenses $361.74. To date of May 31 the V.O.N. Digby credit balance was $30.56. The June Drive was being conducted. It was announced.

Here On Colombo Plan

Dr. V. K. Pallai, Quality Control Officer with the government of India's Fisheries Department, spent several days in Digby this week. Here on the Colombo Plan, he is trying to pick up new ideas concerning the canning of fish.

Mr. Pallai, who is making a detailed study of Canada's fish canneries, works in the fish inspection lab. in India.

DRIVE CAREFULLY

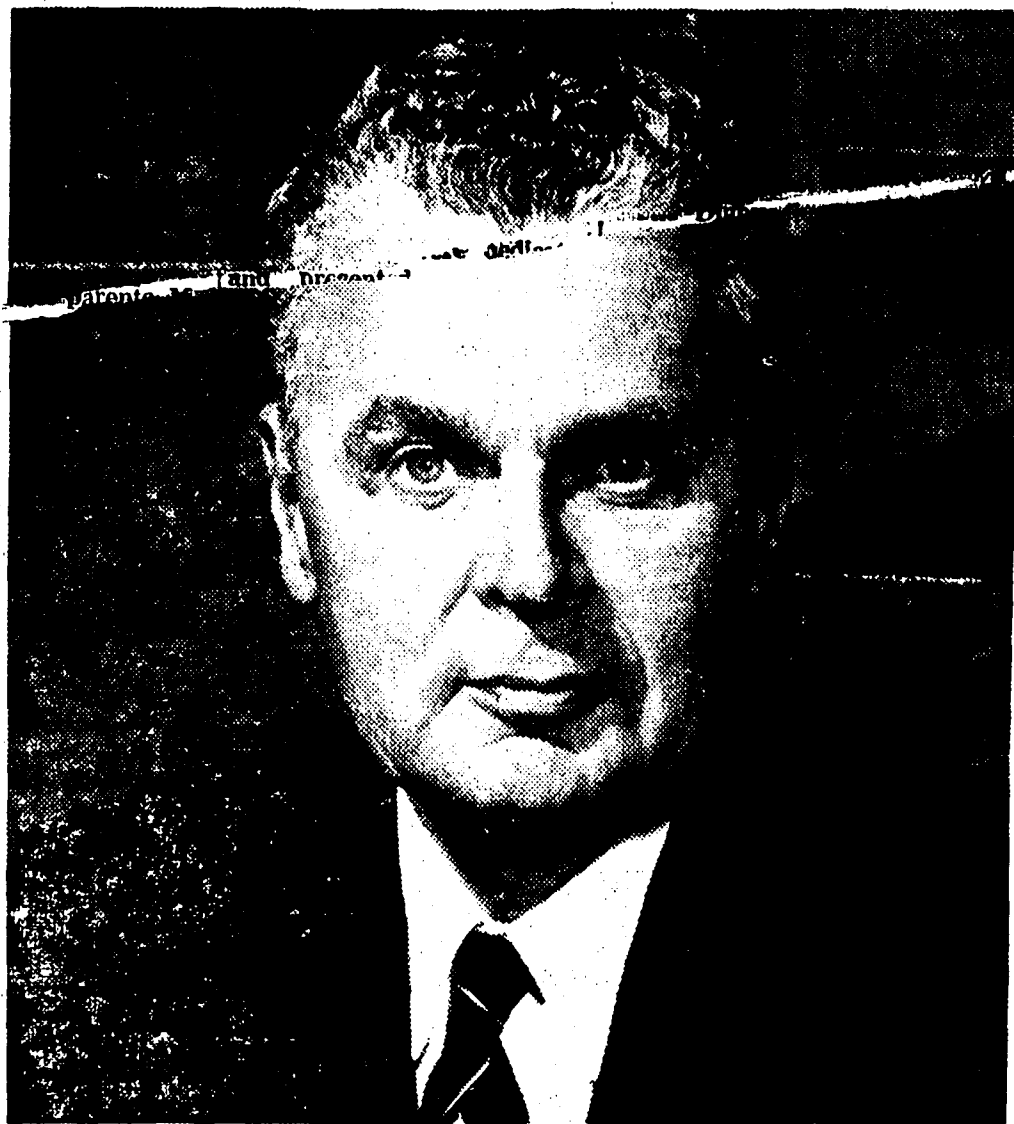

See what your vote has done for Nova Scotia!

Here are some of the results you helped bring about in 1958 by supporting the Diefenbaker Government and your Progressive Conservative candidates.

They promised a better deal for Nova Scotia—now just look at the figures on this page. The first fair deal Nova Scotians have had in years!

There is more to be done—but your Progressive Conservative members have made a good start. By continuing to work together with a Government led by John Diefenbaker, Nova Scotians can be assured of fair shares in the continuing growth and expansion of Canada.

Keep the team intact! Support good government and, in the best interests of all Nova Scotia, vote for your Progressive Conservative candidate on June 18.

The man for all Canada

Cradle Of The Navy

H.M.C.S. Cornwallis, this shore establishment deserves its description, "Cradle of the Navy", for it was used to the utmost in the Second World War, put away as unnecessary afterwards but returned to service in 1949 because of international tensions which dictated the strongest peacetime naval force in history.

The tensions have increased and so too has the naval requirements for its "Cradle".

As the postwar Navy reached its authorized personnel ceiling, Cornwallis was required to provide the fleet with no more than 2,300 new sailors a year. Now that the personnel ceiling has been upped a couple thousand, Cornwallis can handle up to 3,600 without apparent effort, many more with some adjustments.

Occupying a 615 acre site on the Nova Scotia shore of the beautiful Bay of Fundy, Cornwallis is virtually a self contained town with its own railway station, post office, bank, hospital, gymnasium, swimming pools, ice rink, theatre, library, recreation centre, canteens and messes, a weekly newspaper and a monthly payroll of about a quarter of a million dollars. The Annapolis Basin allows boatwork and sailing.

It would take well over $20,000,000 to duplicate all this, so small wonder that Cornwallis continues to be the largest naval training establishment of its kind in the Commonwealth. At the summer-time peak, there are 3,000 uniformed personnel on strength and more than 400 civilian employees. There are 196 married quarters and a 16 room school for 320 pupils of base personnel.

In command is Captain Richard M. Steele, 46, of Saint John, N. B., who was mentioned in dispatches in the Second World War and awarded the Distinguished Service Cross in the Korean conflict. In addition to the new entry training organization, he is responsible for schools in leadership, communication, and physical and recreational training. There are courses for officers, cadets, men and wrens of the regular and reserve forces, plus Sea Cadets. It all comes under the aegis of the Training Commander, Cdr. H. Charles LaRose of Waterloo, Quebec.

New Entries, at least a thousand at a time, have an officer in charge, Lieutenant Commander John Abraham of Halifax, himself an ordinary seaman before the Second World War. He has two officers and 30 chief and petty officers to guide the embryo sailors through the 15 week qualifying course.

Usually a division of up to 80 men arrives at Cornwallis on a Monday. On Fridays, another division, less the four or five percent who couldn't make the grade, are graduated with full ceremony. For those newly arrived at Cornwallis, the routine never varies. Their first two weeks is a transition period during which they get their clothing, mark it, learn to live in a crowded space and run through a battery of medical and psychological tests.

From the third week onward, they are in the full program, heavy on parade training and PT and sports to engender team spirit, fitness and instant obedience (Cornwallis sailors are nationally famous for the Sunset Ceremony and have performed it on occasions in the U. S. A.). Along with the discipline and self control, they learn elementary naval knowledge.

Cdr. LaRose has four basic rules for successful training "Follow the routines, play sports, make friends (one of the mainstays of service life), and take correction." In addition to the many inter divisional competitive trophies which foster teamwork and spirit de corps, graduation awards are made to men in each division who are the "best all round," and best in parade, best in marks and having the neatest kit.

Lt. Cdr. Abraham, remembering his own training days, added "There is far more opportunity in the 16 hour day for these men to take responsibility. In my day you didn't move unless someone told you to, but these lads take charge of their blocks for rounds, of their division, are fire sentries, and the like."

Surgeon Commander John Fleming, of Toronto, Principal Medical Officer, says there is an across the board increase in weight because of the big, regular meals and healthy life: "I'd say about ten pounds of good growing weight is put on by each new entry."

C.P.O. Gordon Dark, 45, a West Coaster with 22 years of naval service as cook and commissaryman, is one of the 15 divisional officers who are described by Cdr. LaRose as "mothers, sisters, friends, uncles and policemen" to their charges, most of whom joined from school and some of whom suffer the pangs of homesickness early in the course.

He has to drum into his men the need "for cleanliness, for tidiness and pride in Service. Practically none of them likes the course at first but by the sixth or seventh week they start liking it. One of my better divisions (he's had five of them) was full of little 'characters' but they caught fire after a while and by graduation had shaped up very well."

When the new entries complete the course, they get two weeks of special leave over and above normal annual leave. Then they join the fleet to take on the job training in a trade. The trade is selected at Cornwallis as the result of tests by a team of officers trained in psychology.

"About 60 per cent get the trade they want and have the ability to do it, 30 percent are satisfied because they have no great preference, five percent want trades they can't do but go along with our ideas, and the other five percent prove awkward," according to Lt. Cdr. James Bond, of Vegreville, Alta., and Prince Albert, Sask., who heads the Selection Team. "However," he added, "reclassifications over a year through course failures and such is under ten percent, so the system is fair to the men."

The recruits are generally ill co-ordinated and lack knowledge of sports, the authorities in the Physical and Recreational Training School have discovered. So they get 66 hours per man per month of PT and 12 90-minute periods for sports. They are taught to play games, particularly team sports with athletics high on the list. Cornwallis has three 25 metre swimming pools and at least two-thirds of each division have passed the naval swimming test before graduation and the rest no longer fear the water.

So, as fast as the recruits can obtain good men for the Navy, Cornwallis is producing young sailors who know what to expect of the Navy and what the Navy expects of them.

HOW DID THE NAME

"PRINTERS' DEVIL"

ORIGINATE?

The newest apprentice in a printing shop during the days of the old hand presses was responsible for all the menial chores to be done. He ran errands, swept the floor, kept the stove fired with wood and cleaned the presses. The result was, he became so blackened with ink that the workmen created the nickname "Printer's Devil" when referring to the apprentice and the old name still stands today.

port Chamber of Commerce, were named a continuing committee from the delegation. Others who were in the Eastport party were Roy Burr, Arthur Stevens of the city council, Charles Emery, Donald Brown, Merrill Conti and Doval Daggart, Grand Maran. They were accompanied by Mrs. Daggart and Mrs. Jean Lewis, Eastport.

Different opinions were expressed at the Digby Board on Tuesday evening regarding the ferry issue. While some members felt opportunities should not be lost, others felt that it might be wise to put more energy into the possibility of better service between Saint John and Digby with the idea that improved highways through New Brunswick and Quebec would attract tourists by car in that direction to a Saint John-Digby boat. It was advocated that more pressure be put on CPR to find out their intentions before making any commitments in other directions. It was felt by some members that the government would consider building a wharf in Digby if the CPR would provide a suitable boat to replace the Princess Helene now found inadequate to accommodate summer traffic.

The Board decided to continue the campaign for better wharfage facilities for Digby fishermen so that the large type scallop fishing boats could be accommodated and also to relieve the berth congestion experienced by the boats at present used. It was reported that engineers had been surveying the wharf to investigate possibilities of complying with the Board of Trades request for extensions.

The Board of Trade supported on Tuesday evening the move of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society in requesting the provincial grant to the Cannon Bank park and Welcome Sign to be continued.

Explorers Graduate

Six Explorers of the Trillium group in the Grace United Church, graduated into the Flamingo CGIT group at an impressive service on Sunday morning, with Rev. R. H. Hughes conducting the ceremony. Graduating were Misses Carol Kaye, Deldre Morrell, Sandra Turnbull, Marion Turnbull, Debby Wilson and Debby Turnbull.

Achievement pins were presented by the leader, Mrs. Bryson Denton, to Carol, Deldre and Sandra, who had earned 6 stars, 75 percent church and Sunday School attendance and 75 percent Explorer explorations.

A welcome into the CGIT was given by Miss Janet Hawkins and Mrs. R. H. Hughes, CGIT leader, extended the right hand of fellowship.

Those who, during the year had made Explorer record books, were given gifts, viz., Carol Kaye, Deldre Morrell, Mary Hawkins and Marion Turnbull.

Marriage

A quiet summer wedding was solemnized in St. John's Anglican Church, Wolfville, N. S., at 8 p.m., Saturday 16, when the Rev. W. R. Martell united in marriage Mary Elsie the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur White of Ashmore to Raymond Garry Rice, younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Rice, of Weymouth.

The bride looked lovely in a suit of azure blue wool with white accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses. Mrs. Morton Frankland of Weymouth was matron of honor, and wore a navy suit with white accessories and a corsage of pink carnations. Mr. Frankland supported the groom. The double ring ceremony was used. Following the service the couple left on a trip over the Cabot Trail, returning to Weymouth, where they will reside for the summer months.

Obituary

Mrs. Ernest Robicheau
The sudden death of Mrs. Ernest Robicheau (the former Patsy Mulse) of Azilva, Ont., on June 11, was a shock to all who knew her. She was born in Weymouth 27 years ago, the daughter of Mrs. Mulse and the late Adolphe Mulse. The late Adolphe Mulse was her grandfather. Besides her husband and mother, she leaves to mourn three children, Erln, 7 years, Garry, 6 years and Sharon Ella, 2 months. Funeral services will be conducted in Azilva, Ont., on Friday.

UCW Meets

The general meeting of the UCW of Grace United Church was held at the Church Hall on Tuesday evening, May 29, with worship service conducted by Mrs. J. M. Wallis. A film strip "Reason for Being" was shown by Mrs. W. Marshall. Reports of Units were given by E. G. Mrs. Reginald Holdsworth; Unit II, Mrs. D. G. Black, and Unit III, Mrs. Vincent Snow, who was elected leader of the group. Miss Grace Chisholm was named to notify Mrs. MacLeod of sick and shut-ins. Unit I recommended that Bible Study be directed by Mr. Fughe leader.

Report of Rummage and Pantry Sale held recently showed $159.51 was raised. I was announced that Support and Social Assistance were given by Mrs. O. Turnbull; Visiting Committee, Mr. A. J. Dillon; Finance, Mrs. Elton Arnold.

Laymen Lead Service

On Sunday morning, June 10, the Grace United Church Brotherhood conducted the service, while Rev. R. H. Hughes was at the Conference of the United Church at Sackville, N. B.

Kenneth Beckwith led the devotions. Prayer was offered by Gerald Hoare and George Holdsworth led the congregation in the unison reading of the scriptures. The scripture lesson was read by William Marshall and Arthur Cudmore preached the sermon on "Forgive us our Tresspasses".

The Brotherhood Choir under the leadership of Elton Arnold, led the praise and rendered two anthems.

Fish Landings High

Total landings of fish in the Maritimes during April amounted to 31.5 million pounds valued at 2.7 million dollars. The composition and value of the catch during the month, with comparable 1961 figures in brackets, was as follows: 26.2 (25.3) million pounds of groundfish valued at 1.2 (1.2) million dollars, 2.1 (0.4) million pounds of pelagic and estuarine fish valued at 50.3 (11.4) thousand dollars and 3.3 (2.6) million pounds of shellfish valued at 1.5 (1.2) million dollars.

Scallop landings reached record levels for the month during April, 1962, when 1.5 million pounds, valued at 500 thousand dollars were brought ashore by Maritime fishermen. Landings of scallop were about 800 thousand pounds and 300 thousand dollars greater than the monthly average of the previous three years. Inclement weather and unfavourable ice conditions resulted in a below average catch of lobster during April, or 1.6 million pounds worth about one million dollars.

Wrote Letter For 45 Years

Forty five years ago it was suggested at a Hillgrove Baptist Church cottage meeting that the church have a roll call service. Duncan MacKay was sent into another room to draft up a letter to be sent to all the members, resident and non-resident. Rev. Clyde Robbins, Yarmouth was the minister in charge.

On Wednesday night, Mr. MacKay placed an order with Wallis Print Ltd. for 150 Roll Call letters for the church. This was the 45th consecutive year that Mr. MacKay drafted the Roll Call letter for the church. There was one difference he said. The first year, all the 150 letters were written by hand. Since then the order has been placed with the printers of the Courier each year. We take pride, he said, in placing our work with the home plants.

Mr. MacKay is senior deacon at the Hillgrove church. He has lived all his life at or near Hillgrove. His father, Donald J. MacKay, a railway man from Baddeck Cape Breton, came to Deep Brook as a young man to work on the Western Counties railway between Digby and Yarmouth. He married Aliza Adams, Deep Brook, and remained there.

Duncan MacKay served in the 1st World War as major, commanding the 27th batt'y of the 11th Brigade. He was injured in the War and turned his attention to farming. As a sideline he corresponded for provincial daily newspapers and delights in telling of his scoops. In his day they were paid five dollars for the most original scoop and in one month he made $15 from this source. One of the scoops at that time was when Isaiah Wilson, writer of History of Digby County was missing. At another time Mr. MacKay said he received twenty five dollars for a story on the starting of the scallop industry in Digby. This, he said, seemed to be big pay forty years ago. He also sent the story to a New York paper.

Mrs. MacKay was the former Anna Woodman, daughter of John and Maria Woodman, Hillgrove.

Not To Fish Within One Mile

Purse seiners will not be permitted to come within one nautical mile of fishing weirs and trap-nets during the summer season when a new amendment to the New Brunswick Fishery Regulations by Fisheries Minister J. Angus MacLean comes into force.

Fisheries Minister MacLean announced that he was taking steps to amend the present regulations which allow purse seiners to fish within one-half nautical mile of stationary fishing gear following discussions with the operators of weirs and trap-nets as well as with the operators of purse seiners, particularly those in the Bay of Fundy area of Charlotte County, New Brunswick.

The one-mile restriction, when effective, will be for the period from April 15 to November 15 inclusive, which is when almost all the weirs and trap-nets are in operation. For the remainder of the year the purse seiners can operate within 2,000 feet of any weir, trap-net or any other stationary gear which is fishing.

Breakwater To Be Enlarged At Freeport

A $128,750 contract has been awarded by the Department of Public Works to L. E. Powell and Company Limited of Halifax, N. S., for the construction of an extension to the breakwater at Freeport, N. S. It was announced today by the Honourable George C. Nowlan, Minister of National Revenue, on behalf of the Honourable David J. Walker, Minister of Public Works.

The company submitted the lowest bid of 10 in response to advertising for public tenders which closed on May 9, 1962. The highest bid was $173,640. The work is scheduled for completion within nine months.

The extension will be 600 feet long by 17 feet wide and will be constructed to the existing south breakwater at the North East Cove. It will provide protection for the fishing fleet from storms from the south and south west, which in the past have caused damage to boats moored in the harbour.

Freeport is located at the westerly end of Long Island and is an important fishing and fish processing centre. Sixty seven fishermen with 37 motor boats and 30 row boats operate from the harbour.

Plans and specifications were prepared in the Halifax, District Engineer's office of the Department of Public Works. J. A. Brown, District Engineer (Harbours and Rivers Engineering) of Halifax, will be responsible for supervision of the work.

New Dragger Launched

A new 97-foot scallop dragger, built for the Laurence Sweeney Fisheries of Yarmouth, was launched at the Meteghan River shipyards, bringing the Sweeney fleet of draggers to ten boats. In addition, another dragger is already framed in the same shipyard, and the keel for still another was laid on Saturday afternoon. This will bring the fleet to 12 before the year is over.

The Karen Sweeney is another fine product of the well known Clare District shipyards which is headed by Gus Theriault. Christened by Mrs. Prescott Baker, of Yarmouth, the modern dragger is 97 feet in length and will be equipped with the latest in fishing and navigational aids. Her skipper will be Fidells d'Eon, of West Pubnico.

The two other Sweeney boats now under construction in the Theriault & Son Shipyards will be 97 feet in length.

Visits HMCS Cornwallis

Rear Admiral Jeffrey V. Brock, Vice-Chief of the Naval Staff, visited ships and establishments of the Royal Canadian Navy's Atlantic Command for ten days.

Admiral Brock visited HMCS Cornwallis, RCN training establishment on the shore of the Nova Scotia Annapolis Basin, and HMCS Shelburne, oceanographic station, on Saturday. On Monday, June 11, he visited Maritime Command Headquarters in HMC Dockyard, the RCN Diving Establishment and the Naval Research Establishment. On Tuesday and Wednesday he visited HMC Dockyard and HMCS Stadacona.

Admiral Brock will inspect RCN facilities at Sydney today, returning to Halifax tonight. Tomorrow he will call on the Hon. E. C. Plow, Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia, visit the destroyer escort Terra Nova and tour RCN Air Station, Shearwater.

Following discussions and briefings at Maritime Command Headquarters Monday, June 18, Admiral Brock departs for Ottawa.

Rear-Admiral Jeffrey Vanstone Brock was born in Vancouver on August 29, 1913. He later lived in Winnipeg, where he attended St. John's College School and the University of Manitoba.

Among the highlights of Admiral Brock's career at sea during the war was an encounter with a pack of more than 20 U-Boats in October, 1943. The escort group destroyed six of the submarines and drove off the remainder in a prolonged battle. On another occasion a ship he commanded was credited with sinking a submarine.

Admiral Brock was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross in June, 1945, "for outstanding service in anti-U-Boat operations during the war in Europe."

During his service in Korean waters, Admiral Brock on several occasions had ships of other UN navies placed under his command for specific operations.

Admiral Brock took up the appointment of Assistant Chief of the Naval Staff (Air and Warfare) in July, 1958. He was promoted to Rear-Admiral and appointed Vice-Chief of the Naval Staff and Member of the Naval Board in June, 1961.

representative from Yarmouth, attended the meeting.

A future meeting will decide definite plans for the coming year. Mr. Jones closed the meeting with a word of prayer; for guidance and good leadership for the executive members, and the work they had undertaken.

Convention In Valley

The Bear River, Centreville and Digby congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses will be represented by thirty delegates at a three day convention to be held at the West Kings High School, Auburn, Kings Co., June 22nd to 24th, said Mr. T. Holmes, presiding minister of the Digby congregation.

The purpose of the Auburn convention, as stated by Mr. Holmes, is to provide additional Bible instruction for the Witnesses and to enable them to apply Bible principles more fully in their every day living.

The convention opens Friday evening with the address "Faithfully Increasing our praise to Jehovah", by Mr. Levi Wall, District Supervisor. Mr. Holmes explained that Mr. Wall served as Circuit Supervisor in Western Nova Scotia a few years back and will be remembered by the people of Digby and surrounding area. Mr. Holmes said that R. Anderson and W. Holmes are among those having part on the program. Mr. and Mrs. Anderson are from the west coast and served as missionaries in New Brunswick before coming to Bear River, where Mr. Anderson serves as presiding minister of the Bear River congregation.

The Saturday program will open at 9 a.m. with the discourse "Increasing praise to the true God" by T. Holmes, followed at 1:30 p.m. by the Baptism discourse by Mr. Wall, and talks in the evening by D. Bevan, Circuit Supervisor, and others.

The Sunday session will open at 9 a.m. with the discourse "Having a full share in Kingdom work" by J. Federchuk, Kentville. In the afternoon the talk will be "Who will rule the world", by Mr. Wall. The convention will close with talks by W. Holm, at Bridgewater, D. Bevan and Mr. Wall's final counsel to the conventioners "Right view of the work ahead".

A Harrowing Experience

For sometime, Goldie, a canary belonging to Miss Doris Godett, of Weymouth North, has been very unhappy, wanting to nest. She has done her best to build a home with scraps of paper, and then became very broody.

A neighbor, while harrowing a field, found a nest with 5 eggs, and he told Miss Godett, who rushed over with a teaspoon, cotton wool and warm flannel in a tin box. She took one egg, and rushed back to Goldie, who accepted it at once, and promptly began to sit on it.

On Friday evening she hatched a sparrow and showed it off with great pride to Miss Godett, standing on the edge of the nest, looking first up at her, and then at the wonderful fledgling.

We wish we could add a 'to be continued' to the end of the last paragraph, but the little fledgling did not survive — whether Goldie could not provide the proper vitamins, or whether sparrows just don't thrive under adoption, we are not sure.

would present itself to bid farewell to the Rev. W. E. and Mrs. Jefferson, who will be leaving to take up a position in Halifax and to Padre H. Mortimer, of HMCS Cornwallis, who is being transferred to the West Coast of Canada.

It was suggested that the Rt. Rev. W. W. Davis, Bishop Coadjutor, might be present at the following meeting of the chapter to be held in Trinity Church, Digby, in October and would conduct a Quiet Day for the clergy, to be followed by Evensong and the Installation of the Rector of Trinity Church as Rural Dean.

The Revs. J. Pike, E. C. Irwin and H. Kay were elected as a committee to make plans for the holding of a Sunday School Teachers' Institute in the Fall.

Following the meeting the clergy were guests of St. Paul's Guild for dinner at the home of Mrs. John Spurr. Assisting Mrs. Spurr in serving were Mrs. R. A. Neish, Mrs. A. M. Gibson and Mrs. Murdo Fairn.

The Rev. L. White expressed the thanks of the clergy to the Rector and his wife and the ladies of the Guild for their hospitality.

Mrs. Richmond Journeay and Mrs. K. M. Hankinson

A full capacity congregation was present on Sunday evening at the Church of Christ (Disciples), Weymouth, to witness the ordination of one of its young men, Mr. Malcolm Osborne Smith, to the full time Christian ministry. This being the first ordination service to be held by the Weymouth congregation since its formation in 1950.

Wilfred Cosman, president of the Maritime Christian Missionary Society, expressed greeting and God's blessings for a successful ministry and also read greetings on behalf of Rev. O. W. McCully, General Secretary of the All Canada Committee, Toronto.

Rev. Russell H. Carr of the Wyndehelm Christian Church, Dartmouth, was the officiating minister giving the call to worship and Invocation Prayer.

Sandal H. Barr, student of Alberta Bible College read the Holy Scripture, Romans 10: 1-15, and offered the Evening prayer.

Announcements and offertory prayer were given by Albert Jones and the guest soloist was Mrs. Robert Yeomans of Saint John, N. B., who rendered "How Great Thou Art". Greetings through telegrams were read by Rev. Lorne Nethercott from other areas in Canada.

Rev. Loran Nethercott, host minister, delivered the sermon, "The Pastor, The Church, The World and God" taking his text from Luke 19:10. He challenged the young servant of Christ to go forward as an ambassador for the Master, preaching the Word, be instant in prayer, holding up the Word of God at all times, and also reminded Christians to reconsider their own vows made to the Master and commended all congregations to love and support their pastors.

Following the solemn vows read by Rev. Cecil Fletcher of Douglas Avenue Christian Church, Saint John, N. B., the candidate then knelt for the laying on of hands as part of the act of ordination by Elders Albert Jones and Melbourn Barr of the host church; Elder Sherwood Marshall, Southville Church of Christ (Disciples), and elder Arnold Marshall of South Range Church of Christ (Disciple) assisted by Elder Mac MacDougall of Dartmouth, Harry J. Lewis and Wilfred E. Cosman of host church, George Langford, Cyril Middleton and Sydney Cromwell of the Weymouth Falls Baptist Church; and all ministers present, with Rev. Fletcher leading in the Ordination Prayer.

Rev. J. W. Derby, Freeport, gave the charge to Mr. Smith, who charged him to follow the teachings of God's Holy Word throughout his ministry. Mr. Derby pointed out there would be times of discouragement as well as times of rejoicing, but through all these to continue to seek God's help as the apostles of old.

Rev. Russell Carr presented Mr. Smith with the Ordination Certificate and as the Provincial Representative of the All Canada Committee, Toronto, also brought greetings on behalf of its members.

From the local church Harry Lewis extended good wishes to Mr. Smith and that its concern and interest would be given in future as it had in the past.

Greetings from New Brunswick were given by Rev. Cecil Fletcher of Saint John, N. B., who praised Mr. Smith for having fully accepted the high calling of the Christian ministry.

Benediction was pronounced by Rev. Malcolm Smith. Organist was Mrs. Frank Lewis and ushers were Russell, Jared Frankland, Newton Lewis and Howard Wagner.

Immediately the congregation adjourned to the Church basement for a social gathering and to express personal greetings to Mr. Smith and family. Light refreshments were served by the Christian Women's Fellowship of Weymouth. During the hour the Weymouth Falls Male Quartette favored the congregation with several selections. Prayer by Mr. Jared Frankland brought a most impressive and momentous worship to a close.

Mr. Malcolm Smith, 22, is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Smith of Weymouth. He completed school at Weymouth Academy and Weymouth Consolidated High School, and was employed for one year by the Royal Bank of Canada, Yarmouth Branch.

Active in youth work he is a past president of the Christian Youth Fellowship of Weymouth and of the Nova Scotia Youth Fellowship.

In September, 1958, he enrolled at Alberta Bible College, Calgary, graduating in May, 1962, with a Bachelor of Theology degree. While in Calgary he served for a time as assistant pastor at Central Christian Church and taught a number of Sunday School classes. In 1961-62 he was student body president and was Chairman of sports for the College for two years.

Mr. Smith has accepted a call to Prince Edward Island and will leave early in July to begin his first pastorate at the South Lake Christian Church and the East Baltic Baptist Church.

TESTIMONIAL SURPRISE PARTY

The grade XI pupils of W. C. H. S. motored to Church Point on Thursday evening of last week to hold a surprise testimonial party for Mr. John Doucet, their home room teacher and Vice Principal, and Mrs. Doucet, home economics teacher at the same school.

Mr. Doucet has over the past years been particularly active in Cadets, originated at the W.C.H.S., Hockey team, and is noted for his interest in the young people.

The party was held in appreciation of the interest of both teachers in their students and a gift of an ash tray stand was presented to them. The evening was spent in playing games, dancing and showing of home movies. Refreshments were brought and served by the students.

Miss Patsy Cosman passed her Grade VI piano examination with a mark of distinction, 80 percent. Mr. Carleton Elliott of Mount Allison University was examiner.

Mrs. Parker Moore has returned from Montreal where she has been visiting for the past two weeks.

Mr. Gaston Comeau, student Moncton is spending his vacation with his parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Comeau. Mr. and Mrs. Morton Frankland were visitors in Wolfville on Friday.

Miss Lois Kinney of Ashmore was a visitor of Mr. and Mrs. Morton Frankland on Saturday.

Mrs. Smith is the former Frances Edith MacLaren of Saint John, N. B., and they have one daughter, Lorraine Deahn, six months old.

Dr. Felix Doucet was a visitor in Halifax for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Karsfield and two children of Halifax were weekend visitors of Mr. and Mrs. John Comeau. At the same home on Saturday, Miss Virginia Turnbull of Digby was a visitor.

L.A.C. Donald Titus called on his mother, Mrs. Kathleen Titus on his way to Freeport last Thursday.

STUDENTS VISITS ANNA-POLIS COUNTY

On Friday, June 8th, the grade seven students of Weymouth Consolidated School were taken on an educational trip to the National Historic Sites in Annapolis County. They were accompanied by their home room teachers: Mrs. Comeau, Mr. Kaye and Mr. Thimot.

The first highlight of the tour was the Port Royal Habitation. Here they were greeted by the attendant who gave them a brief history of the Habitation accompanied by colored slides. This was followed by a question and answer period. The pupils were divided into groups and taken on a tour of the different buildings. At noon the pupils and teachers enjoyed a picnic on the beach.

In the afternoon the students were taken on a tour of Fort Anne in Annapolis Royal. Here, there were many things of interest to them in the museum. A walk around the grounds marked the close of the tour.

For many, this was their first opportunity to visit the historic sites. All returned home enchanted by their visit and with many stories to tell.

The teachers of the Elementary school in Weymouth recently held a luncheon at the home of Mrs. Morton Frankland in honor of Miss Carol Atkinson, who will be leaving at the end of this term. Delicious refreshments were served and Miss Atkinson was presented with a lovely covered candy dish on behalf of the teaching staff.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bartlett and daughter of Annapolis spent the weekend with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bartlett.

Keith Comeau, Toronto, is spending a two weeks vacation at the home of his father, Mr. John Comeau, Weymouth North.

Mrs. Kathleen Titus spent Friday in Yarmouth.

Mrs. Gladys Thurber returned home from Tiverton after a week's visit with her daughter, Mrs. Blair Outhouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. J. Grant and son John were weekend visitors of his mother's Mrs. H. B. Grant.

We are pleased to report Mr. Ellsworth Doty much improved. He is a patient at the Digby Hospital.

Rev. Donald Forrester is leaving this week for a three week's visit in Ireland.

Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Ruggles are spending the weekend in Bear River guests of their daughter Mrs. Bernard Fraser.

Mr. and Mrs. Murray Barnard and children of Saint John, N. B., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Campbell over the weekend.

Miss Miriam Morris who has been visiting Miss Constance Carr returned to Halifax last Tuesday.

Rev. Donald Ruggles is spending a few days with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clare Ruggles, he is on his vacation from Phillips Mission, Fort George, Ontario.

We are pleased to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Smith, Weymouth as resident of Weymouth North. They are living in the home of the late Mrs. Wallace Blackadar.

MISSION BAND

The Mission Band of Westport held its closing meeting for the summer on Saturday, June 2, when 26 children and leaders were present. Mrs. E.
Webber was pianist and Goldie McLellan presided over the meeting. After the devotional was given, the minutes of the previous meeting were read by Susan Webber.

The offering was received by Juanita Thompson and Wanda Swift.

The special event of the day was the presenting of attendance prizes. During this presentation it was noted that one child had given perfect attendance for the past two years, while three others had missed only twice during the same period. These children were: Mary Webber, Winnie McLellan, Angela Gower and Wendy Gower. The Mission Band Picnic is to be held on June 10th.

W. M. S. MEETS

the call to worship by the president, the hymn "He Lead-eth Me" was sung, followed with prayer by Mrs. McLellan.
Scripture for the evening was read, alternately from the 96th Psalm.

Mrs. Holland Titus led in the devotional talk, leaving the members with many important thoughts to think about.

Miss Lulu Repool gave the Spiritual Life requests and the scripture of the month is to be read from the book of Galatians. The special memory verses learn are Gal. chapter 5 verses 22 and 23. Prayer requests were read by Mrs.
McLellan and the circle of prayer led by Mrs. Lloyd Denton.

An oral report was given by Mrs. Fred Denton on her

About This and That

To The Ratepayers Of Digby

Three days after the Federal Election is over — Thursday, June 21, the ratepayers of Digby will be asked to consider a paving program for the town. As might be expected, the federal election excitement has probably obscured the ratepayer's meeting somewhat from view. Right here we want to remind you that this is no small proposition placed before the ratepayers and considerable thought should be put into the question before the day of the meeting. It is not a question of "we will" or "we won't", it is a question of "can we afford to do this job?" or "can we afford not to do the job?" Other than to learn the councillors are being called almost daily to find out when the paving is going to be done to get rid of the dust, one hears little conversation about this issue so important to Digby people that we fear it is not receiving the attention it should by those concerned. Maybe all minds are made up that this is the thing to do and that permission to hold the meeting already indicates that the town can afford a paving program and all we have to do is give assent to go ahead? This is a question important to the ratepayers of Digby as the federal election is important to all Canada. We say "get out to vote at the ratepayer's meeting on June 21st." All persons whose names appeared on the last voter's list for the town and who are assessed for real or personal property are eligible to vote on this paving question. Exercise your vote and take responsibility in the progress and welfare of your town. Don't blame others afterwards for what was done or what was not done on June 21st, 1962.

Vote, Yes, Vote

June 18th — the day that the people go to the polls to mark a ballot for the man of their choice to represent them in the next federal government — will have come and gone before the next issue of the Courier is printed. In fact, the next issue of the Courier will have recorded on its pages the wish of the people. What is recorded will have been the wish of the people providing the people get out to vote. Therefore, we would be remiss if we did not take the opportunity this week to impress on our readers the important responsibility and privilege which is theirs to get out and vote on June 18th. Democracy, if it remains true to the word, is worthy of being retained. But democracy cannot survive if the people are indifferent to their responsibility and privilege of exercising their right to vote. By casting a ballot on election day, we show our appreciation for the democratic way of life and assure the party that the wish of the people has been fulfilled.

But some will say, how shall I vote? That is a question we cannot answer and only the enquirer can answer for himself. How you vote, or, in other words, for whom you vote, is your business, your secret, and no one should make up your mind for you. There are those who have always been Conservative, so have their parents before them and so their minds are made up. There are those who have been well pleased with the government for the past few years and they wish to give the Conservative government what they call a reasonable time to prove its worth and continue its program. Other reasons, too, have helped them make up their minds. On the other hand, there are Liberals who always have been Liberals and as with the Conservatives will remain traditionally so. Or they express dissatisfaction with what they have been terming "wasted years" and want to change. Or again, personalities or any other number of reasons might have helped them make up their minds. We have no doubt but that some people have now made up their minds to follow the New Democratic Party way or the Social Credit. But no matter how many have already made up their minds there will always be those on the morning of June 18th who will still be pondering the question "For whom or how shall I vote?"

Those who ask the above question might have cause for their indecision. It could be that they have not bothered to think on the issues at stake or that they have been too busy to give sufficient thought to the concerns which should be theirs. Or, it could be that radio, T.V. and platform addresses instead of enlightening these people have left them completely confused. For instance, one party says there were never so many people at work as there are at the present time. Another party says there were never so many unemployed. Both are right, no doubt, but to a person who does not use his reasoning power, the statements so seemingly contradictory can be confusing. One must look somewhat beyond the mere statement of either party to pass judgment. Sometimes even the speakers get carried away on this subject. Somewhere, on T.V. we think, a speaker was bewailing the unemployment situation, quoting figures of 400,000 unemployed and then went on to further the argument by saying the situation was even worse the year before when 565,000 were unemployed. The speaker seemed to argue against the point he was trying to make. What could be more confusing? Then there is the party which promises no unemployment whatsoever. This sounds good but rather magical for human beings who have human limitations and no magical powers to deal with those who would not work as long as there are unemployment insurance benefits to get.

The pegged dollar, too, makes a confusing issue. On one hand the foreign exchange dollar pegged at 92½ cents is pronounced wholly a good thing. Opposition downs the move. It is left to the people to sort out the good and the bad but to some the contradictory ideas leave nothing but confusion. If votes were to be cast on this one question and from listening to speeches on the subject the undecided voter would still say "Which way shall I vote?" Which all goes to show that the voter in the end must use his own mind.

So from an unbiased view we would say — remember that each is presenting the case for his own party. We would not say that any of the statements made are untrue but simply that none presents an argument, knowingly, that will be of advantage to the opposite party. The voter must do the studying. We would also unbiassedly say that whatever human being is sent to Ottawa to represent the people he will have no magic wand by which he can take care of all your wants and wishes without it costing money to do so. In this regard we respect both the D-A-K candidates who spoke in Digby town. They promised no magic and they both admitted limitations by saying "we'll make mistakes" and "of course, I can't do it alone." We also respected the candidates for their courtesousness when speaking of personalities from other parties. We did feel personalities were unduly attacked but it definitely was not done by either candidate seeking election. Our opinion was that there must be little left to talk about when a speaker resorts to that type of discourse. However, that is beside the point. Our point is to urge you to "Get out to vote on June 18. Vote for the man which your reasoning power and conscience directs you to do." Vote, yes, vote — it's your sacred responsibility and privilege.

In Unity Is There Strength

(Leigh H. Everett)

I feel that it is time responsible residents of Victoria Beach felt it necessary to support several moves by Doug Foley for the betterment of the area. For some years now Mr. Foley has been the prime figure in supporting actions that would directly help the people of Victoria Beach and surrounding countryside, yet so many "high-brows" of the village, either because of political feeling or that of superiority, sit back and condemn his efforts. If he feels that a move will directly improve situations in the area, Mr. Foley openly states his view, while others concerned refrain from such action for fear of public opinion.

There is nothing that would be more help to the general economy of Annapolis County than the extension of the highway from Victoria Beach to Delap's Cove, and then have the total amount paved. If this were done Victoria Beach could easily become a thriving centre on a main highway stretching from Annapolis

Royal to Cape Blomidon. This for years has been a dream of Mr. Foley, and in every way possible he has brought it to the attention of the public that such an endeavour would lead to better things for Annapolis County people. Perhaps citizens of Victoria Beach agree that the road should be extended but they don't have the initiative to get out and say so. I believe that anything that is worth having is worth working for. If Henry Ford was afraid of public ridicule think what a difference there would be in automobile traffic today. Victoria Beach has always been a great tourist attraction and with an extended highway lies the possibility of the expansion of this, possibly our greatest industry. I have met many visitors who were disappointed to learn that in order to visit our lovely coastal village they must travel the same route twice. With better transportation facilities I foresee greater tourist interest in the area east of Victoria Beach. Nowhere in the province of Nova Scotia is there a similar stretch of unpaved road with an equal number of tax-payers and registered motor vehicles. I have driven over miles of paved highway in this province where there is scarcely a sign of human life. The good people from Port Royal to Victoria Beach pay taxes in proportion with those outside the city of Halifax, yet compare the benefits reaped.

Think of the direct benefit derived from a deep water harbour at Victoria Beach. It could lead to an expansion of the fishing industry along the Annapolis County coastline and Victoria Beach in all probability would become home port. Perhaps 100% of the fishermen of this community agree with Mr. Foley that this would be a worthwhile endeavour but since nothing much is said of it the general feeling is that an enquiry would be wasted effort. Don't forget we have the only fish processing factory in Annapolis County.

Recently Mr. Foley donated logs for the rebuilding of a site at Victoria Beach where cannon once stood to protect the eastern side of Digby Gap, and urged that the Digby side do the same. It was his ambition to see that the cannon were restored together with a plaque and a flagstaff. Due to lack of co-operation within the village I understand that the whole idea must be scrapped.

I urge all interested parties to stand behind Mr. Foley or anyone who fights for the benefit of our community. In unity is there strength.

If You're TIRED

Now and then everybody gets a "tired-out" feeling and may be bothered by backaches. Perhaps nothing seriously wrong, just a temporary condition caused by urinary irritation or bladder discomfort. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's help stimulate the kidneys to relieve this condition which may often cause backache and tired feeling. Then you feel better, rest better, work better.

4 WAYS TO INVEST IN OUR YOUNG PEOPLE. For today's world, we need skilled people. For tomorrow's world, we will need more skilled people. No young Canadians should be shut off from education because their parents can't afford it. A new Liberal government will: (1) Extend family allowances beyond the age of 16 for boys and girls who remain students. This will mean that more teen-agers can qualify for skilled jobs. (2) In co-operation with the provinces, provide greatly improved vocational training for Canadians of all ages who need new skills for better jobs. (3) Pay each year for 10,000 university scholarships, awarded on merit and each worth $1,000 a year for four years of study. (4) Establish an independent fund to provide interest-free loans to qualified students. You can help to invest in Canadian youth... vote for your Liberal candidate on June 18.

Women's Corner

EDITED BY ILZE FOLKINS

Little Girls' Dresses Given European Flavor

Little girls' dresses — as well as women's — reflect the European influence; but in a different way. Instead of being concerned with the latest silhouette, children's wear designers are constantly seeking new and imaginative trimmings from countries where beautiful handwork is an old and inherited art. Just as women's clothes' designers make a regular trip to the fashion centres of the world for inspiration, children's wear designers visit Switzerland, Austria and Italy in search of new patterns in delicate eyelet embroideries, colorful braids and exquisite laces.

One such designer is Edith Werner who came to Canada from Vienna six years ago and whose dresses are called "Little Lady". She brought with her a natural talent and 25 years of experience in creating clothes for moppets. She also brought with her some definite ideas about fabrics. According to Mrs. Werner, one of the chief requisites in a fabric is that it be shrinkproof, since most children's dresses are washed after each wearing and must retain their original measurements. She also feels that even in colder weather active children are more comfortable in sturdy, lightweight, washable fabrics. These requirements were met by man-made fibres. Consequently many of her little dresses are in fabrics such as "Terylene" and cotton broadcloth, lavishly trimmed with lace or embroidery.

Colors for children are basic too. Blue, pink and yellow are perennially popular with the very young. However, Mrs. Werner uses "bold colors too, just to break the boredom", she says.

Although children's fashions do not follow slavishly what Paris or Rome dictates they sometimes adopt adult fashion features. For instance, this year the costume look is very strong. In the belief that "double-duty" clothes are equally practical for children Edith Werner designed a sleeveless sundress that can be transformed into a prim shirtwaist by adding a matching jacket that buttons to the neck. Another style that the tiniest miss would enjoy wearing is a simple dress with a removable bertha collar, edged in lace.

As girls reach the pre-teen stage, their taste becomes more tailored. Mrs. Werner found. At this age they prefer a simple dress with, perhaps, a buttoned-on-scarf, made in a crisp tailored fabric such as "Terylene" and viscose. Color preferences are more sophisticated too. Wedgwood blue and raspberry are this season's favorites. There's no doubt about it, little girls are influenced by fashion almost from the moment they choose their first dress. But as long as designers with Mrs. Werner's good taste and judgment cater to them, there's little to fear.

Household Painting Tips

One way to prevent falls on attic steps is to make these areas as visible as possible. Be sure the stairs are well lighted and paint the walls of the stairwell white for maximum reflections. If you paint the edges of the treads white they will stand out, and by painting the bottom step in a striped pattern — black against white or yellow — you will make sure that it is seen.

Quality paint brushes generally have a small round hole near the end of the handle so that the brush can be suspended in a solvent for cleaning purposes. A brush should not stand on its bristles tip because the bristles will acquire a permanent bend which cannot be removed. If there's no hole in your brush handles you can easily make one with a hand or electric drill.

Never dip a paint brush more than half the bristle length into the can. One-third the length is even better. Deep dipping causes paint to build up near the metal heel, harming the brush. Instead of wiping off excess paint by scraping the brush against the can, tap the bristles gently against the inside of the can. Your brush will last longer this way.

Because it breathes, allowing trapped moisture to escape, Clux acrylic latex exterior paint can be applied over damp surfaces. This means that it is possible to paint a short time after a shower. In addition, the fast-drying quality of this paint — one-half to two hours — means that sudden rains are less likely to spoil the job.

It's a very good idea after a repainting job to save a small amount of paint in a tightly closed container. This left-over paint comes in handy for any touch-ups later on — and for taking care of little touch-ups a cotton swab makes an ideal applicator.

If your home has brick, stone or other masonry below the wood siding, choose a non-chalking paint such as Clux tritone white 900. This paint is specifically designed so that it will not wash away in the rain and run down the side of the house, staining the area below.

Fort Anne at Annapolis Royal, Nova Scotia once a notorious French privateering port, was captured by a New England force in 1710 and the key kept in Boston in a safe for 212 years. In 1922 it was placed in the Fort Anne Museum through the agency of the Massachusetts Historical Society. The fort was attacked five times after 1710 by French and Indians, and in 1781 pirates plundered the town.

Rocking Chair Thoughts

ON HOW TO COOK A HUSBAND

With the thoughts and hopes that a "book mobile" may be at our service in the near future with library headquarters in town gives one real pleasure. It is hoped that if and when we do have this library coming "to our door" as it were, the public will take advantage of it and help make it a real success. It has proven so in other counties so let's hope all parts of Digby County will do as much to make it possible here.

Reading by some has almost become "a thing of the past" what with T.V. and other outside pleasures and activities. The older ones will remember how in their younger days a good book was a real treasure and a great pleasure to read. I'm afraid today the younger generation is missing a great deal by not cultivating the love and art of reading and enjoying a good book.

The book mobile will undoubtedly supply informative books on anything one wishes to know and learn more about as well as fiction and non-fiction, travel and many other interesting subjects. To readers, I'm sure it will be appreciated and looked upon as a source of real pleasure. Even in the "lowly cook book" one likes to sit down and look over all the recipes, possibly thinking "I'll try that someday." On looking over one the other day — from another country other than Canada — I came across this little humorous article — which goes to show — "reading can be fun!"

To Our Husbands: How To Cook A Husband.

This recipe for cooking a husband is not commonly found in books on cooking. A good many husbands are utterly spoiled by mismanagement. Some women go about it as if their husbands were balloons and blow them up. Others keep them constantly in hot water, while others let them freeze by indifference and carelessness. Some keep them in a stew by irritating French words and words. Others treat them and some keep them in a pickle all their lives. It cannot be supposed that any husband will be tender and good if managed in this way, but they are really nice when properly treated.

In selecting your husband, do not go to market for him, as the best are always brought to your door. It is far better to have none unless you will patiently learn how to govern him. See that the linen in which you wrap him is properly washed and mended, with the required number of buttons and strings sewed tightly on. Tie him in the kettle by a strong silk cord called comfort, as the one called duty is apt to be weak. They are apt to fall out of the kettle and to burn and be crusty; like crabs and lobsters you have to cook them while alive. If he sputters and fusses do not be anxious — some husbands do this until they are called done.

Add a little sugar in the form of what confectioners call kisses, but no vinegar or pepper on any account. A little spice improves them but it must be used with judgment. Do not stick any sharp instrument into him to see if he is becoming tender. Stir him gently, watching lest he adhere to the kettle and become useless. You cannot fail to know when he is done. If this treatment is closely followed you will find him all that is desired.

"Anon."

JOSEPH E. STEADMAN
Liberal Candidate
Digby-Annapolis-Kings

HON. L. B. PEARSON
Leader of the Liberal Party of Canada

Smith's Cove, Digby. Co.,
June 11, 1962.

Dear Friends:

Since time and the size of the constituency of Digby-Annapolis-Kings have made it impossible for me to visit all of you in your homes during this election campaign, I am taking this opportunity to ask you for your support at the polls on June 18th.

During the years I have lived and worked in this constituency I have become convinced that there are many things that could and should be done by the federal government to improve conditions in this area. These include the development of greater job opportunities for our people; the provision of greater assistance for our young people who want and need college or technical training; and the provision of more adequate measures in the field of social security for our aged, ill and needy.

As this election campaign draws to a close I repeat the solemn pledge I have made to myself and to all those to whom I have spoken that, if I am elected to represent you in Ottawa on June 18th, I will work unceasingly for the promotion of every good measure for the welfare and benefit of this constituency and its people and the good of all Canada.

Yours sincerely,

JOSEPH E. STEADMAN.

Marriages

Best - Austin
The United Baptist Church in Round Hill was the scene of a quiet wedding on May 18 when Rev. Paul Underwood united in marriage, Marilyn Diane Best, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emery Best of Round Hill and Clarence Earsel Austin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earsel Austin of Marysville, N. B.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked charming in a blue linen suit with white accessories. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Farquhar of Ayerford were their attendants. Organist was Mrs. Flora Bartaux of Round Hill. The happy couple left on a trip to New Brunswick, where they will be the guests of the groom's parents. The groom has been stationed at R. C. A. F. Station, Greenwood. On their return from New Brunswick they will be moving to Cold Lake, Alta.

Smith - Charlton

The United Baptist Church in Annapolis Royal, N. S., was the scene of a pretty wedding when Shirley Joan, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Charlton of Milford became the bride of Marland Boyd Smith the son of Mrs. Claudine Smith and the late Mr. Smith of New Glasgow, N. S.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Paul Underwood, Mrs. L. E. Moore played the wedding music. The bride given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a floor length gown of nylon lace and net over satin, with dainty square neckline, trimmed with sequins and seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Elmer McPherson, sister of the groom, was matron of honor. The bridesmaids were Sylvia Morse and Joan Johnston. They wore street length dresses of charmpun taffeta. The matron of honor wearing color seafame and the bridesmaids pink with matching hats and nosegays of white mums and pink roses.

Ardan Smith, brother of the groom was best man and ushers were Ronald Lane and Fred Baines.

The bride's mother was dressed in a hyacinth blue sheath dress of rayon and nylon lace with white accessories. her corsage was pink roses. The groom's mother wore spico embroidered faille with beige accessories. Her corsage was yellow roses.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Church Hall. The three tier wedding cake was cut in traditional manner by the bride and groom.

Mrs. Ronald Lane and Miss Sharon Walker served the bridal party. Mrs. Hugh Gibson was in charge of the guest book. They received many lovely and useful gifts including china, silver, linen and

Letter to the Editor

The Editor,
The Digby Courier,
Digby, Nova Scotia.

Dear Mrs. Wallis: -

An article in the Digby Courier regarding the Lehighs in Toronto, and the articles appearing in the Toronto papers, differed somewhat.

Large headlines and a lengthy article in a Toronto paper announced that a survey of the people of the Maritimes, conducted by a group of social scientists from Cornell University, found 30 per cent had clear symptoms of mental disorder, 25 per cent were in the "highly" probable group. Only 17 per cent showed no symptoms. Digby County was not actually mentioned, but was given the fictitious name of "Sterling County". The following day an editorial appeared in a Toronto paper with headlines "Madness In The Maritimes". One editorial stated that it would be hard to say whether patriots of the Maritimes, or country people in general, would be more outraged by the findings of this recent survey of mental health in the rural Maritimes. If emotions overcoming reason is to be considered a sign of mental illness, very few of us are sane. A letter in the same paper headed "Maritimers Maladjusted" ended by saying "thus proceeds a mumbo-jumbo of a mystique that bears much watching lest they finally have us all in cages".

Is Digby County not capable of handling her own mental health problems or does it need outsiders to do this for her and publish what they consider to be their findings, for all to see. Who is to money.

Following the reception the happy couple left for a wedding trip to Niagara Falls. For travelling the bride wore a beige suit with rose accessories and corsage of pink roses. Upon their return they will reside in Antigonish, N. S.

Take Solemn Vows

Over 40 teenagers of Holy Cross Parish made their Public Profession of Faith and received their Solemn Communion in a body at Holy Cross Church, Plympton. This was a lovely and unusual ceremony that took place in every parish some years ago. Unfortunately, this ceremony has been discontinued for many years, but is now being revived throughout the Diocese of Yarmouth.

This occasion crowned a full year of effort and study on the part of the youngsters. Thus, every year at this time, a similar ceremony will take place in Holy Cross Parish. This year, the pastor, Father Raoul N. Deveau, officiated in the presence of the children's parents and godparents, and parishioners who filled the church to over-crowding. The promoter of the occasion was Sister M. Albertine, superior of Holy Cross Convent.

For the occasion, the church chimes played appropriate hymns, and the choir, under the direction of Mrs. Harley Amiraault, organist, rendered well chosen hymns.

say they are justified in their findings?

I do not wish to start a controversy on this subject but I thought the rural inhabitants of the Maritimes might be interested to know what the rest of the world is thinking of them. I have seen many articles in the Toronto papers regarding the "poverty" of the Maritimes and actually had people ask me if they could find suitable accommodations in such a poor province as Nova Scotia. That is all the adverse publicity the Maritimes need.

I have no objection to signing my name to this letter but as my relatives live in "Sterling County", I do not wish to embarrass them. I will sign myself, Mad Maritimer.

N.D.P. Man Speaks

The continuous depletion of our natural resources alone is sufficient reason for a change in voting habits, said Murray Bent, New Democratic Party Candidate for Digby, Annapolis and Kings constituency at a recent N.D.P. house party. Daily on the flood tides and on the ebb tides the school children of our Bay shore and their parents, the voting citizens, witness the Gypsum Queen loaded to the rails taking away hundreds of tons of our natural resource. We receive about 6 cents a ton and buy back the gypsum in a finished product at $600 a ton, the speaker said.

The N.D.P. candidate went on to explain characteristic situations in almost every province in Canada. Our vast timber stands are being depleted, shipped out as raw material to be processed in other countries. Canadians pay high for the finished product. The story is the same with Canadian oil, iron ore, water power and other natural resources, the speaker said.

For years, under old party leadership, Saskatchewan sold her clay, sand and sulphur products to the US and in turn her citizens paid the high prices for US bricks to build their prairie buildings. The trend is reversed, said Mr. Bent. Today, in that province brick is being manufactured at home. The same story will be told about Gypsum products when our people are awakened to the facts and the possibilities and use the little pencil on the string.

How can anyone who has watched these US boats truck away our wealth support either of the old political parties, Mr. Bent asked. How can anyone request support for governments that continue to sell our children's birthright for a mess of pottage very poor, unsavory pottage for some. At that, Mr. Hamilton's trade surplus of $50,000,000 means very little to people who count in cents and who know that 6 cents a ton for a natural resource that rightfully belongs to the people of the country is much too cheap. Economically, we must accentuate our southern border and see to it that our raw materials do not move on a one way street. This we must do, if we are to build a nation for Canadians and take our place in the markets of the world.

CANADIANS URGED TO BOOST TOURISM

Canadians in all walks of life have an important role to play in promoting the tourist industry. Pierre Delagrave, general passenger sales manager of Canadian National Railway, said here last week. In a frank appraisal of the nation's second largest industry, he suggested that "no true Canadian should travel in any country without spending some time promoting Canada as the greatest and most satisfying land for tourists".

He added: "No letter addressed to anyone in a foreign land should fail to extend an invitation of mention a Canadian point of interest."

"No business or social club should allow any year to go by without attempting to persuade one affiliated or associated United States club to devote one meeting to Canada."

Mr. Delagrave who was addressing the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce, noted that the activities of CN in promoting tourism were extensive.

Twelve hundred showings of CN films were made on U. S. television last year. CN was the only transportation company offering package tours to Americans in Montgomery Ward mail order catalogues. In addition, CN office across the U. S. were promoting Canada as a vacation land.

Letter to the Editor

May 28, 1962.
Editor,
The Digby Courier,
Dear Mrs. Wallis:
I am writing these few lines today to my home town paper. My mother, Mrs. Clyde Robar, Carleton St., Digby, sent me over some lovely views of home how wonderful they were to receive and how much happiness they have given me.

I have been living in England for near on 12 years now and am pleased to say I love living over here but I still get the longing for my home town, which on receiving the lovely view cards it has helped me so much.

To relive in my heart all the beauty that surrounds my lovely home town. I have had great pleasure in showing to my friends here in Bristol and they all agree that it is a wonderful town. I am pleased to have come from Digby and hope to be lucky and once again return to Digby to see my parents and all my friends and to bring my two girls home to meet all my dear friends I left back in Digby.

Will say cherrio for now but just had to write as I was so happy with my view cards of lovely Digby. They have given me great happiness to look on and to remember all the joy and the beauty of our lovely home town, Digby.

Thank you,

Yours sincerely

Grants For Fire Protection

The Provincial government grants for fire protection services will be made immediately to municipalities where provincial buildings are located and where fire protection services are provided. Hon. Stephen T. Pyke, Minister of Public Works for Nova Scotia, said today.

Mr. Pyke said that in the case of volunteer fire departments, the government will make the grants direct to the municipalities, however, it is expected that the municipalities will utilize these funds to make further grants to the fire departments over and above the usual municipal grants to volunteer departments.

The grants are based on a formula which takes into account the type of fire protection provided, mainly in three categories: where there is a full time fire fighting staff; where there is a part full time staff plus volunteer fire fighters; where fire protection service is provided on a voluntary basis.

It is anticipated that the grants will be on an annual basis and will be reviewed from time to time.

Mr. Pyke said the government took the grants under consideration at the request of many volunteer fire departments and municipal units.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Pyre and little daughter of Moncton are spending a few days with relatives here.

R.C.M.P. Lindsay Robbins of P. E. I., and friend spent the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Robbins.

The Circus Is Coming To Town

Contrary to all rumors, past, present and future at the break of dawn on Tuesday, June 19, the huge motorized caravan carrying the personnel, equipment and animals of the all new Cristiani - Wallace Bros. three ring circus will positively roll into Digby to give two full and complete performances under the sponsorship of the Digby Kiwanis Club.

Heading the array of great circus stars assembled to entertain under the new big top this year, is the nation's space sensation, Miss X-1 catapulted from huge rocket launching pad, entire length of big top distance of over 300 feet, direct from international show time-billed as the world's foremost aerialists, The Flying Padillo's in an all new bag of tricks for 1962. Dogs, ponies, monkeys, and teddy bears will show off their almost human intelligence, Eddie Frisco and his funny ole hot rod. The Kings and the Queens of the Equestrian world, the renowned Cristiani Troupe will present their feature bareback riding.

In the old time tradition of the three ring circus jugglers, tumblers, leapers, and variety acts of all kinds entertain simultaneously in all three rings while a multitude of funny old clowns bring laughs to the hearts of all. Cristiani-Wallace aerial lovelies present breath taking displays high in the air and wondrous wire walkers perform equilibristic feats beyond compare.

Cristiani - Wallace Bros. all new circus presents 40 feature acts in three rings, under brand new big top, introducing many new innovations in circus equipment such as, all airplane cable construction, replacing the old fashioned rope, mechanical seating for approximately 4000 people, isles and added exits, all this to add to the comfort and safety of over 90 minutes of good old fashioned circus entertainment in genuine style.

Cristiani - Wallace Circus carries no games of chance, no dancing girl side shows, or any other objectionable features. Tickets are now on sale for the one day stand, and the Kiwanis Club urges you to buy tickets now and save at the low advance prices.

Ban Lifted

Hon. E. D. Haliburton, Minister of Lands and Forests announced that the ban on forest travel had been lifted to-day. The woods had been closed by proclamation on May 18.

Mr. Haliburton said the woods had been opened to travel because advanced "green growth" coupled with high humidity and rainfall had lessened the fire hazard.

"There is still some hazard and if conditions of May 18 were repeated the Department would have to consider closing the woods to forest travel again."

"The Department would like to thank the general public for their co-operation during the recent closure."

"In opening the woods to travel, Department officials would like to emphasize the fact there is still considerable danger. We would ask all those entering the woods to use extreme caution."

Nova Scotia was the first province of Canada and the first colony of Great Britain to have a flag of its own.

Base Free From Fire?

College capers are at a minimum in the Annapolis Basin naval training establishment of HMCS Cornwallis where up to 450 cadets of University Naval Training Divisions across Canada are on summer courses.

The cadets have made their mark nevertheless. A large sign at the corner of Broadway and the exit to the West Gate of Cornwallis proclaims:

"Your combined efforts in fire prevention have resulted in this base being free from fire for days."

The naval firemen one morning discovered charred ruins where the large sign had stood — a most embarrassing end to the fire-free period!

The cadets, college students taking naval training towards commissions in the Royal Canadian Naval Reserve, just as mysteriously replaced the sign which they had actually hidden, once the firemen's faces had faded to a dull, rosy glare.

GILBERT'S COVE

We are happy to welcome Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Melanson to our community. They are residing in the home formerly owned by Charles Melanson.

JENE WOOD AT DEEP BROOK

The Parish Hall, Deep Brook was filled to capacity, several standing on Friday evening when another "Time For Juniors" Show with Jene Wood from CHSJ TV, Saint John, N. B. in person.

The excitement of the children knew no bounds when Jene made her entrance accompanied by Mrs. Harry Wallis.

Little Karen Bennett of Clementsport, Janie Fraser of Bear River and Karen Brown of Deep Brook opened the show with "Time For Juniors".

The program consisted of 36 numbers, including several vocal and piano solos and group singing.

There were three family groups performing; the five Kay children from Clementsport presenting an interesting number; the four Baxter girls from Deep Brook singing and the three Dukeshire girls from Bear River presenting a lovely number in harmony.

Small pupils of Clementsport School sang three numbers in a very fine presentation. Vera Fay Ellis of Victoria Beach presented a piano solo. Blair Henshaw played an accordion solo.

Lynn Hamilton accompanied by Anne Chute with guitar sang a solo. Both were from Litchfield.

Edward Mailman from Upper Clements sang the Newfoundland Folk Song "The Squid Jigging Ground" accompanied by Mrs. C. Morine of Annapolis. A solo and dance "Harvest Moon" by Rosamond Dukeshire accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Cleveland Dukeshire was enjoyed by all. Mrs. Walter Lent of Bear River accompanied most of the children at the piano. All the tiny tots performed in their usual unrehearsed natural manner, under the spell of Jene with her charming personality.

Baskets of spring flowers were attractively arranged on the piano and stage.

Mrs. William H. Spurr and Jim Sanford assisted Mrs. Wallis in making the show a success.

Girl Guides from Clements

port with their leader, Mrs. Eric Williams acted as usher and also sold fudge during intermission.

Following the program Jene and her husband Wm. Stewart were guests of the committee at a half hour special period when a gift was presented to Jene in appreciation of her coming again to Deep Brook and giving the children of the surrounding communities the opportunity of seeing and talking with her in person.

RE-ELECT

HON. GEORGE NOWLAN, MINISTER OF NATIONAL REVENUE

GEORGE NOWLAN and the PRESS

"THE TELEGRAM'S OTTAWA BUREAU" — Chief Tax Collector George Nowlan, the Minister of National Revenue, is also one of Canada's outstanding story tellers.

The big, towering Nova Scotian can spin anecdotes by the hour. Sometimes they are about himself. Some may be drawn from Biblical incidents, some from his varied experience as a lifelong politician, some from the happenings in his department or in the CBC, for which he reports to Parliament.

It matters not whether he's in the House of Commons, appearing before a committee, on the hustings or addressing a service club luncheon — Mr. Nowlan has little difficulty holding his audience.

He's known for his frankness. He's known for his honesty. He's also known for his good humor."

* * * * *

OTTAWA REPORT TO "THE HALIFAX HERALD" May 6, 1961 — The organization and methods division of the Civil Service Commission, an efficiency experts' group, in reporting on estimated annual savings in various government departments has this to say — "In Mr. Nowlan's department, the saving was listed by the division as approximately $1,500,000 a year. Last year it was over $2,000,000, again the top department."

* * * * *

From "THE MONTREAL LE DROIT", LEADING FRENCH LANGUAGE NEWSPAPER, JULY 13, 1961. — "GEORGE CLYDE NOWLAN certainly dominates the situation in the Cabinet, succeeding in making friends while collecting revenue for meeting the needs of this country.

Whatever may be the questions put to him in the House, the Minister always proves to be well informed and in excellent humor.

Popular with all, the Member for Digby-Annapolis-Kings, who is 62 years old, is considered to be one of the most cherished members of the present Cabinet."

DIEFENBAKER'S PROMISES KEPT!

The Liberal Party and their Leader state that the Prime Minister has not kept his promises and that we in Canada have had "5 Wasted Years".

Canadians Everywhere Will Not Accept Such False Statements

This is what "Maclean's Magazine" had to say in its issue of September 23, 1961 — "Out of sixty-two specified pledges made by the Prime Minister during the 1957 and 1958 campaign, fifty have already been kept or are in the process of being discharged."

"Many Canadians are better off as a result of the past fifty-one months of Conservative rule."

* * * * *

On January 31, 1962 "The Ottawa Journal" stated — "It is no empty boast of the Government party, in most areas under federal jurisdiction, they have done more in four years than the Liberals did in twenty-two."

What Do The People Of Digby-Annapolis-Kings Say?

Our Senior Citizens

Who have received an increase in Pensions and Assistance from $46.00 a month to $65.00 a month.

Our War Veterans

Direct payments have been more than doubled.

Our Sick

Who have a great measure of freedom from financial anxiety and worry due to Hospital Insurance introduced during the first year of Progressive Conservative Government in office.

Our New Home Owners

In the last five years almost 700,000 new homes have been built in Canada. Many new homes in the Valley have been constructed through the low interest loans as provided by the Diefenbaker Government.

Increased advances have been made to VETERANS under the Veteran's Land Act, with repayment on loans increased in time from 25 to 30 years.

Our Farmers

Today, 23 agricultural products receive price supports — more than ever before. Loans available to farmers have been increased from $15,000 to $20,000 and, including livestock and equipment to $27,500.

Extensive marshland rehabilitation and construction of the Annapolis River Causeway have provided major benefits.

Our Fishermen

Fishermen and certain other seasonal workers have been made eligible to receive unemployment insurance, — never before provided.

Divers Discover Wreck

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forbes and son Bert, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Young and family all of Toronto, who have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Roy Powell of Freeport, have returned home.

While in Digby County Mr. Young and Mr. Forbes, underwater specialists of the Young and Forbes Diving and Marine Salvage, 39 Hook Ave., Toronto to 9 have been doing extensive work on wrecks, etc.

During their stay the divers discovered in 60 ft. of crystal clear water, the sunken wreck of the ship "Equator" built by Hy Lewis at Salmon River, N. S., in 1878.

This ship is 200 ft. by 38 ft. by 22.6 ft. and weighed 12,731 tons. The partners were the first divers on the wreck and recovered several valuable objects.

On several dives Mr. Forbes was accompanied by his wife, also an accomplished skin diver, shown above in her equipment. The divers plan to return next year to search for more wreck locations.

Annual Roll Call

The annual Roll Call Service of the Hill Grove Baptist Church will be held on the afternoon and evening of Wednesday, June 27th. The special speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Donald Quigg, B.A., B.D., of Lawrencetown. He will preach at both afternoon and evening services.

At the afternoon service the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, will conduct a brief service in the dedication of memorial gifts made to the church. At the evening service there will also be the unveiling of a brass plaque in honor of Mrs. Eliza Beth E. Gorrie, of Short Hills, New Jersey. During the afternoon session the Roll of Members of the Hill Grove church will be called by the Clerk and letters of response will be read.

At the evening session a song-service will be conducted by Rev. R. R. Winchester. Special music will be provided by the choir of the Hill Grove church under the leadership of the organist, Mrs. D'Arcy Roop. Special numbers will also be given by the Digby Baptist Male Quartette and by Mrs. Shirley Clayton.

Following the afternoon session a Fellowship Supper will be served in the church hall by the members of the Ladies Auxiliary, under the direction of the social committee of the church.

Wins $1500 Scholarship

Brian William Gates, son of Mr. Arthur Gates, Digby, has been awarded the Edwin Crowell Scholarship for further studies at Acadia University. The scholarship is awarded annually to the leading applicant from Yarmouth and Digby Counties and is valued at $1500.00. Mr. Gates is a student at Digby Regional High School. He plans to study for a Bachelor of Science degree in preparation for further studies in the field of engineering.

Urge Saint John-Digby Ferry

Among the resolutions, endorsed at the annual meeting of the Maritime Provinces Board of Trade held at Moncton last week was one presented by A. Adelaar, Weymouth, urging that the Nova Scotia, New Brunswick provincial governments, the federal government and the CPR get together and come to some decision about a ferry between the ports of Saint John, N. B. and Digby, Nova Scotia.

Among other resolutions presented was one from Shelburne County Chamber of Commerce requesting the government of Nova Scotia and the federal government to investigate jointly in collaboration with American authorities the establishment of a second ferry service between N. S. and a New England port.

Other resolutions dealt with low cost airstrip developments, road building, taxation and for public announcements to avoid suggestion of depression, poverty and backwardness of the Atlantic provinces and refer instead to the great potential in the relatively undeveloped economy which is now beginning to be realized.

Graduate From NSTC

Following is a list of Digby and Annapolis County students who graduated from the Nova Scotia Teacher's College, Truro, Thursday. All had at least Grade 12 entrance requirements:

Joanne Marie Aymar, Meteghan; Geraldine Lynn Cosman, Danvers; Pauline Kaye Handspiker, Digby; F-class: Gladys Grace Gates, Weymouth; Jane Anne Nixon, Middleton; G-class: Patricia Ann Cook, Bear River; Jane MacRae Purdy, Digby; K-class: Keith Alexander Trimmer, Clementsvalle. Home Economics: Boulah Ann Mason, Springfield; Mrs. Patricia Louise Stockman, Bridgetown. Mechanic Science: Scott McKay Marshall, Digby; Robert Franklin Mills, Granville Ferry.

Escapes Drowning

On Saturday, June 9th, Ronald Kinney narrowly escaped drowning when he was accidentally thrown overboard.

Ronald and Scott Kinney, owners of the dragger "July & Lois", were making their first tow early Saturday morning when Ronald's foot, unnoticed, became entangled in the rope of the drag net and as the net was thrown out by the engine he was sent flying over the stern of the boat.

It soon became apparent to him that he must kick off his rubber boot to free his foot. This he did and was then able to keep afloat until Scott threw him a life belt, and then he swam back to the boat.

Incidentally, the following Saturday morning after making their first tow they noticed a black object in the net with the fish. Yes — it was the boot Ron had lost the week before.

Receives Diploma

The "Mining Journal", of Marquette, Michigan, recently carried a picture of Clarence Siland, son of Mrs. T. R. Lowe, of Deep Brook, N. S.

Clarence is with the Royal Canadian Air Force attached to the SAGE (Semi-automatic Ground Environment), Air Division Centre at K. I. Sawyer Air Force Base and received his high school diploma at the closing exercises held at Sandy Knell School. Clarence was also class president.

He received his early schooling at Deep Brook, and at Annapolis Royal Regional Academy before joining the Air Force.

Appoint Mental Health Committees

Hubert Deveau, president, presided at the regular meeting of the Digby Mental Health Association on Thursday evening when committees were appointed to carry on the year's work. Heading the Program and Education committee is Mrs. Hugh Dickie; Publicity, Mrs. Richard Baxter; Fund Raising (including the campaign), Stanley Moldavan, Digby, and Mrs. Steven LeBlanc, Saultville; Finance, V. G. Cardozo, Mr. Reginald Purdy, Miss Marjorie Tupper and Mrs. Stanton; Policy (to formulate policy regarding Mental Health Service Board and Mental Health Association), Mrs. Penny Gotti; Housing, Mr. Deveau.

Regarding housing it was decided to enquire whether premises for the Digby Mental Health Clinic might be acquired somewhere on Digby hospital grounds.

Miss Marjorie Tupper was to head a committee to send gifts to Digby County patients in mental health hospitals.

Plans were made for the next meeting to be held at the Hedley House in September.

Attend Ceremonies

Mrs. Gerald Handspiker, accompanied by Mrs. Wallace Handspiker attended the graduation ceremonies at Nova Scotia Teacher's College at Truro of the former's daughter, Pauline. They stopped en route overnight in Halifax as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Rankin. Miss Pauline Handspiker was awarded the Governor-General's medal.

CGIT Honors Leader

With the advent of the summer season many of the activities in the Baptist church of Digby have come to a close for the summer.

At the last meeting of the CGIT tribute was paid to Miss Arlene Wentzell, who during the past year has been an outstanding leader in the work of the CGIT in the Digby church. Miss Wentzell, a teacher in the Digby school, will not be returning to Digby in the fall. The girls of the CGIT group expressed their appreciation to Miss Wentzell with a tangible gift.

The Ordinance of Baptism will be administered by the pastor to several candidates in the Digby church next Sunday morning.

Convention At Digby Pines

Members of the Nova Scotia Dental Association will be hosts to Maritime dentists at the annual convention to be held at the Digby Pines June 21-22.

Director of the convention is Dr. Tom Rogers, Shelburne, formerly of Digby, president of the Nova Scotia association. A large turnout of regional dentists is expected. General chairman is Dr. Don Eaton.

In addition to the professional papers and clinics a social calendar has been arranged, climaxing with the president's reception, dinner and dance.

If weather permits the dentists will compete for the Rice Trophy for low net golf scores.

Tenders Called June 8

Revenue Minister George Nowlan announced that wharf projects are slated for Victoria Beach and Annapolis Royal.

Tenders were called for the construction of a government wharf at Victoria Beach on June 8. It was erroneously reported in last week's edition of The Digby Courier that the bids would be called June 18, apace.

Wins Governor-General's Medal

Principal J. P. McCarthy presided over the exercises which were held in the Royal Theatre.

Some 351 students in all enrolled for the teacher training course last fall, and of this number 131 elected to take the two-year course, offered for the first time. In his remarks Dr. McCarthy announced that nearly 400 students are expected to register next term, bringing the total to approximately 50.

Delivering the principal address, Dr. William Crawford, vice president of Mount Allison University, told graduates that teaching as a profession, was one of the most formidable of callings, and that if they did not have knowledge, conduct themselves well, and have a deep sense of service, they could not consider themselves professionals.

He told teachers that theirs was a difficult, a most frustrating, and a most satisfying job, one which never lacks challenge and never reached perfection. Dr. Crawford complimented Nova Scotians department of education, which he characterized as a live department which will carry out many new developments in the future. He cited especially its multi-track program, and expressed the hope that the department would remain flexible in a changing world.

In discussing changes made in teacher training during the past few years, Dr. McCarthy mentioned particularly the two-year training course beyond grade twelve, which offers not only training for general license, kindergarten-primary license, and teacher of school music license, but an additional year of academic studies. He advocated the two-year program for all future students.

Units Meet

Unit II, UCW, met at the home of Mrs. D. Black on Wednesday, 6 June, 1962. Mrs. D. Black opened the meeting with a worship service. Mrs. I. Dillon conducted the study period, "Family Life, Collapse or Recovery".

Unit I, UCW, met at the home of Mrs. Donald Fleet with fifteen members present. The afternoon was spent in quilting, after which a potluck supper was served. The program and devotionals were led by Mrs. Clayton and the study by Mrs. E. Fleet.

Has Accident

Ronald (Stevie) VanTassell, Digby, lost portions of two toes in an accident at his home on Monday.

Mr. VanTassell, who was mowing the lawn, evidently slipped on a downhill grade and his toes went under the machine.

He was rushed to the Digby General Hospital for treatment and was released later in the week.

Musical Tea

Amid a profusion of apple blossoms, tulips, carnations, and other early summer flowers a delightful musical tea was held last week under the auspices of St. Mary's Chapter Eastern Star. Presiding at the tea table at various times were the past matrons, Mrs. William Whitman, of Bridgeport; Mrs. B. H. Ruggles, Mrs. Earle Anderson, Mrs. Eva Wendell and Mrs. May Rice. Receptionist was Mrs. Darcy Roop.

Musical numbers on the program were vocal solos by Mrs. Earle Anderson, Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Miss Carolyn Arnold, Miss Heather Murley and Miss Carol Robbins.

Violin solos by Mrs. Elton Arnold, Miss Myfawny Davies, and Benjamin Marshall accompanied by his sister, Carol.

Piano duets by Mrs. J. J. Wallis and Mrs. Norval Morehouse; Miss Barbara Olsen and Miss Lina Baxter; Mrs. Herman Olsen and daughter Barbara; Mrs. J. J. Wallis and Miss Linda Brinton.

Vocal duets were sung by Mrs. Chester Brinton and Miss Carol Robbins.

To Mark 101st Anniversary

Rev. Dr. John B. Corston, M.A., B.D., Ph.D., Professor of New Testament Theology at Pine Hill Divinity Hall, Halifax, will be guest speaker on Sunday morning when Grace United Church celebrates its 101st anniversary. Dr. Corston was recently elected president of the Maritime Conference of the United Church of Canada.

A short history of the church was prepared for the 100th anniversary in 1961 when it was learned that the earliest reference to Methodism in Digby was associated with colored people, most of whom came here, not as slaves, but as people who had been granted their freedom because they had assisted the British authorities or forces during the American revolution. These colored people were given land in Conway. A few years later they and their white friends had established Digby, that is in 1785, they were visited by Rev. Freeborn Garretson, a Methodist Evangelist. In the same year another preacher, William Black, made a visit extending over three weeks and it is recorded that he left behind a little church of 78 members, 66 of whom were colored people.

In 1819 a Rev. Sampson Busby began the erection of a church where the parsonage of the United Church now stands. This building was completed in 1831 under the ministry of Rev. Michael Pickles. The building served its purpose until 1860 when the present church was erected.

Through the years the church has been the recipient of donations, bequests and gifts which have added to the beauty of the church and also have been a service in the exercise of worship.

The ten stained glass windows and other gifts were presented to the church during the ministry of Rev. Thomas W. Hodgson, who still worships every Sunday morning.

One Of The First To Vote

Mrs. Seraphine Potter who celebrated her 100th birthday last May was one of the first to cast her ballot at the Deep Brook Polling Station on Monday. She required no assistance.

CORRECTION

The names of Mrs. Llewellyn Raymond and Mrs. Carl Small were inadvertently omitted as being among those who assisted at the Liberal tea last week.

DRHS Highways And Byways

On Friday evening the undergraduates of D.R.H.S. sponsored the annual graduation dance. The gymnasium was decorated in a marine scene, complete with light-house, lobster traps and imitation fish. Music for the evening was supplied by the troubadours and the chaperones were Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Purdy, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. MacInnes, Miss Margaret Leonard, Mrs. A. J. Dillon and Mr. F. L. Pigot. Staff advisor to the dance committee was Miss H. Herkes.

Ten students in grade nine worked diligently for several weeks writing a drama entitled "Project Ten: The Development of Education in the Digby Area." The purpose of the project was to produce a play employing correct grammatical usage, oral language, creative writing and include all the students in the nine S English class. After much research work, meetings under the chairmanship of Doreen Atkinson and rewriting of scripts, the play was in readiness for the class to use. Parts were assigned and rehearsals began. On June 8th the play, Education in Nova Scotia, was presented to a large group of ninth grade students in three acts. Narrators gave material to tie in the various acts and give continuity to the story.

The first act was in two parts with the first scene opening with two students, Sally Carson and Marion MacLellan, dressed in old fashioned dresses, gathering wood and dried bark for the school stove. The second part was the actual school room of a little "red school house" in charge of Ian Anderson, the grouchy schoolmaster, Mr. Crane. His students used the lesson, "The Whale" from the Royal Readers, a book used in the schools in our area over 5 years ago. The students included Sally Carson, Marion MacLellan, Verna Franklin, Linda Harris, Pearl Woolaver, Cecile Doiron, Joan White, Geraldine Oikie, Peter Croft, Robert MacNutt, Nanny Everett, Edith Sweeney, and Dianne Marshall and Heather Murley, narrators. Several slates were used that were over seventy years old and another item of interest was a very old ink bottle used by the schoolmaster, Mr. Crane, when he called the roll.

Act two included in two scenes the meetings that might have been held by the school board and the town council prior to the building of the present high school building. The narrations, given by Janet Hawkins, filled in the details of what actually developed in regard to the establishment of the Digby Regional High School. Lew Wilson acted as chairman of the board while Julia Wood, Carol Roberge, Eleanor Marshall, Frank Ayer, Donna Hill, Donnie Wood, Roger Wright, Peter Croft, Robert MacNutt and Geoffrey Hodgson as members of the board.

The final act gave one of the script writers, Frank Ayer, the opportunity to use his imagination as the part was entitled, Education of the Future. Included in this part of the play was the school room of the grade three class, District 4-F, Digby, in the year 2134 A.D., listening to a science lesson using the television was Gilda Kempton presenting a lesson on the unit of inductance in an alternating electric current. Later in this act a robot, Roger Wright, appeared and questioned the students, Gloria Baxter, Faye Turnbull, Marsha Cleveland, Paul Wilkins, and Carol Sabean with Patti Morgan and Wayne Snow acting as narrators. This concise, ultra-modern progressive school used teaching machines, television, robots, anti-gravity systems and the latest equipment of the year 2134. The group did feel that equipment of this sort would be

In the federal election on Monday, which returned John Diefenbaker, Prime Minister, to office, Hon. George Nowlan was returned as Progressive Conservative member for Digby - Annapolis - Kings with a majority of 3,223 over his Liberal opponent, Joseph Steadman, Smith's Cove, who scored 13,660 votes. Murray Bent, NDP, Middleton, won 755 votes and G. B. Thompson, Social Credit, drew 426.

St. Pat's Holds Closing

The pupils of St. Patrick's School held their annual school closing on the morning of June 19. Before the National Anthem, Rev. David Stokes congratulated the pupils on their progress and the splendid work done during the past year, and presented the certificates for Perfect Attendance from September 1961 to June 1962, to Barbara Cottreau, Theresa Maas, Lilia Wong and Jerry VanTassell, of Grade VI. Tanya Campbell of Grade IV, Kenny Amaro and Kurt Maas of Grade III.

Father Stokes also presented the prizes for highest standing in the various grades to: Grade 1 - 1st, (tie) Heather Robertson and Louise Woods; 2nd, (tie) Stella Marie Robertson and Lorraine Winchester; Grade 2 - 1st, (tie) Diane Amaro, Lorraine Dugas and Jimmy Pulsifer; 2nd, (tie) Doreen Smith and Mary Lynn Theriault; Grade 3 - 1st, Deborah Douglas; 2nd, Norbore Roy; Grade 4 - 1st, Jacqueline Connelly; 2nd, Colleen Collins; Grade 5 - 1st, Robert McVeigh and Peter Amiraull; Grade 6 - 1st, Barbara Cottreau; 2nd, Rachelle Roy.

Charles Fenerty who invented paper-made from spruce wood pulp, lived and died at Sackville, Nova Scotia.

used to some extent in the schools of "tomorrow" in Nova Scotia.

Time did not permit the presentation of this drama to be a finished product, but it did start minds thinking, the use of imagination, compiling material in logical order, co-operation, working together and some fun as a climax for the year in the grade nine English classes. Doreen Atkinson acted as prompter, chairman of the project group and general manager, Julia Woolaver took care of the properties and made the robot costume, and Geoffrey Hodgson chose the cast and directed the production.

Present Attendance Certificates

Six pupils of Grace United Church Sunday School had perfect attendance from October 1st, 1961, to June 3rd, 1962. They were Gregory Stonehouse, George Ayer, Bruce Wright, Ernest Kilcup, Roger Wright and Robert Vidito. They received pins in recognition.

Besides the above certificates for attendance during the same period were also presented on Sunday morning by Rev. R. H. Hughes and the superintendent, Oakley Turnbull. The pupils were: Douglas Wilson, Gordon Wilson, Wendy Hazelton, Donald Black, Glenna Hoare, Heather Halliday, Michael Hoare, Gregory Stonehouse, Douglas Ayer, Nancy Jayne, Barbara Black, Sandra Turnbull, Linda Milberry, Joan Milberry, Karen Jayne, George Ayer, Bruce Wright, Ernest Kilcup, Roger Wright, Robert Vidito, Grant Stonehouse.

In making the presentation Mr. Turnbull said that the prizes were awarded not in competition but in appreciation.

Cruises Start

The second of three UNTD summer training cruises will begin Saturday, June 23, when 140 university cadets from across Canada sail for overseas from Halifax in frigates of the Ninth Escort Squadron.

The five ships (Cap de la Madeleine, La Hulioise, Laurzon, Swanssea and Buckingham) will fuel at St. John's, Nfld., on the 25th and then proceed to Portsmouth, England (July 4th). The cruises are among 450 on annual training this summer at HMCS Cornwallis, RCN training establishment in Nova Scotia's Annapolis Valley. They are training for commissions in the Royal Canadian Naval Reserve.

About This and That No One Seems To Care

"Digby Citizen" wrote a letter which appeared in "The Voice of the People", Chronicle Herald, June 18, entitled "A Shabby District". We want to commend Digby Citizen for his or her interest in tidying up the town for the benefit of ourselves, and tourists.

Writing about passengers disembarking from the Princess Helene Digby Citizen says "they see an expanse of old papers and pasteboard boxes cluttering up the waterfront." This is allowed by the town and the Board of Trade to be there, and gives the tourist very unhappy impressions of the beauty of the town, the writer continued, and further added "No one seems to care." At least, if the old papers and pasteboard box clutter is not cleaned up, we can be thankful that at least the remark "No one seems to care" has been corrected for as of June 18 we know "Digby Citizen" cares. All that is needed is one person like "Digby Citizen" to care and the ball gets rolling. We won't promise that the remedy will be found for the 1962 tourist season but we all look forward to 1963 season. With "Digby Citizen" on the trail we feel something could be accomplished by 1963. We hope to be at the next Digby Board of Trade meeting when we are sure Digby Citizen, whether a member or not, will be on hand to introduce the subject and see what this body of citizens can do about the matter. From reports the Digby Board of Trade has not been sitting idly, but cleaning up the debris around the otherwise beautiful town of Digby would be a worthwhile project. If Digby Citizen is not already a member of the Digby Trade Board we are sure he or she will join now and get in on the band wagon and push this clean-up job.

Another place we expect to see "Digby Citizen" is at the next Town Council meeting. We do confess that we sat through quite a long session of the Town Council on June 4th when this same subject came up. We feel that the mayor and councillors would be happy to know at least one "Digby Citizen" is behind them in their problem. They sure had a long Town Council meeting on June 4 but they didn't mind taking time to discuss this also important subject of unsightly waterfront, town dump and private premises. Lend them a hand "Digby Citizen" to clean up the place and then we'll be able to write editorials and letters which advertise to our tourists how clean and tidy Digby is instead of the reverse.

We commend you again, Digby Citizen. It wouldn't be the first time Digby had to go through some adverse publicity in order to improve conditions around the town. Keep up the good work "Digby Citizen." Continue by taking on the challenge of coming out and introducing a campaign either to the Digby Town Council or Digby Board of Trade. No sense of hiding behind a false name on such an important and worthwhile project. We need citizens like you.

Obituary

Rudolph H. Thurber

Freeport lost one of its oldest citizens with the passing of Mr. Rudolph Thurber at the Digby Hospital on Friday June 8th.

Mr. Thurber was born in Freeport 84 years ago, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William Henry Thurber. He was the last surviving member of his family. He was a man of great nature and a good neighbour. He was a member of Clifflena Lodge, IOOF and a few years ago was presented with a fifty year jewel. He was a member of the Salvation Army.

He was married twice. His first wife (Annie Martin) predeceased him 48 years ago. By this marriage he leaves to mourn his passing three sons, Harry, Freeport; Karl, New York; and Lester, Woburn, Mass. A daughter, Prema (Mrs. Horace Musgrave) predeceased him. By a second marriage, he is survived by his wife Nina, a daughter, Rose (Malcolm Thurber), a son Herbert, both of Freeport, ten grandchildren, one great grand child, also several nieces and nephews.

Funeral service was held at the Freeport United Baptist Church on Sunday afternoon conducted by Rev. J. W. Derby. Pallbearers were Harold Crocker, Scott Perry, Theodore Morrell and Sidney Hooper.

brother Oddfellows. Interment was in Hilltop Cemetery. Sympathy is extended to all who are left to mourn his passing.

Miss Frances Comeau, R.N., of Digby spent a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Comeau, last week. Mr. Earl Ruggles of Vancouver, B. C., is visiting his parents, Mrs. and Mrs. N. L. Ruggles.

Marriage

Travers - Titus

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James E. McKinnon, Smith's Cove, Digby County, when their granddaughter, Audrey Helen Titus, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Titus, Smith's Cove, was united in marriage to Gareth Wesley Travers, RCN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Travers of Asbestos, Quebec.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was charming in a ballerina length dress of white nylon taffeta and white chiffon. Her veil was shoulder length nylon tulle and fell from coronet of sequins. Her bouquet was of pink and white roses.

Miss Belva Titus, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, wore a dress of aqua nylon with white accessories and carried a bouquet of yellow carnations.

The groom was attended by Edmund Read of Bear River. Mrs. Titus, the bride's mother, wore a pale blue arnel sharkskin dress with white accessories. Her corsage was of pink roses. The groom's mother wore a two piece white silk dress and a corsage of yellow roses.

A reception followed the wedding at the home of the bride's grandparents. Guests were from Smith's Cove, Digby, Deep Brook, Bear River, Quebec and Toronto.

For going away the bride chose a two piece bolero dress of pink and white, with white accessories. Her corsage was of pink and white roses.

Mr. Martin Barnes, manager of the Canadian Pacific Telegraph, Digby, has returned home much improved in health after spending two weeks in the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, for surgery.

Miss Margaret Graham, of Sherbrooke, Quebec, was a weekend visitor with Miss Linda Ellis at the home of Linda's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Randy Ellis, Linda and Margaret are both nurses-in-training in a Quebec hospital. Miss Ellis is vacationing with her parents.

To the thousands who supported me at the polls on June 18th I wish to express my sincere thanks.

To the hundreds of workers throughout the constituency who gave so freely of their time and efforts in my behalf I am deeply grateful.

To the citizens of Digby-Annapolis-Kings I promise to continue to work for the general good of all.

Sincerely,
GEORGE C. NOWLAN,

Colored Children's Camp News

A special meeting of The African Evangelistic Association Inc. was held at North St. Bible Chapel, Middleton, on May 29th. After a prayer meeting a business meeting, presided over by Floyd Everett, Chairman Board of Directors, was called to discuss present plans for Bethel Bible Camp. Through the kindness of the Minister of Lands & Forests the Association has been granted a lease of 16 1/2 acres of Crown land on Connel Lake, 20 miles from Middleton. It was decided to build a Lodge on the property this year and use this land for a permanent campsite. The last two years Bethel Bible Camp has used rented campsites and it was felt that they should use their own campsite this year.

Staff is composed entirely of Christian workers who donate their time to this work. Objectives before the Camp Staff is to knock on every door of every colored home in Western Nova Scotia inviting boys and girls to Camp and distributing Camp folders. Rallies have been held in the Truro and Kentville area and on June 3 a large rally was held in Yarmouth. Bethel Bible Camp is the only camp for colored children in Canada.

The Camp dates for this year are Juniors (8-13 years) August 8th to August 16th and August 17th to August 25th. Teenagers, 14 years and up, August 26 to September 2nd. Campers are charged $8.00 for the eight day session. Interested Christian friends support the work. The Camp does not solicit funds but accepts donations from Christian groups and individuals.

Door to door visitation has been carried out in the Weymouth colored areas with a rally planned soon for that area. Plans are currently being made for the Digby colored areas.

New Show For Earl Mitton

Earl Mitton and the Valley Rhythm Boys, a popular group of country music entertainers from Fredericton, N. B., will be heard over the CBC Trans-Canada Radio Network, Monday, Wednesday and Fridays at 12:15 p.m. ADT beginning May 9th. The Earl Mitton Show will replace Don Messer's Show for the summer months.

Earl Mitton made his start in the entertainment field at the age of 12 when he won a fiddling contest in Stewiacke, N. S. His father, one of the best all time fiddlers in Eastern Canada, presented Earl with a fiddle at the age of 10.

Earl's career started in earnest in 1950 when the present band was formed. Since then the group has appeared on TV and radio, in addition to playing regularly at dances, fairs and exhibitions. The group currently has two LP albums on the market. Several times Earl has appeared as special guest fiddler on CBC-TV's Don Messer's Jubilee.

In 1957 and 58 Mitton entered the National Fiddling Contest in Shelburne, Ont. The first year he won third place in both the Novely and Old Time Fiddling Class from 125 entries. The second year he placed second in both classes.

The present Earl Mitton group consists of Bob Barry, Piano; Gary Mitton (Earl's younger brother), drums; Roy Melanson, bass; Al Goguen, electric lead guitar; with rhythm guitar and vocals by Alan Sherwood.

The group also has a regular Saturday evening show over CHSJ-TV, Saint John, N. B.

Fear Industry Invade Sunday

Sport and entertainment are less of a treat to a Sunday of rest and quietness than industry in the view of the Lord's Day Alliance, according to its annual report just issued. The Alliance still regards the commercial aspects of Sunday sport as objectionable, but concedes that for some people this may be a desirable way of spending Sunday.

What Alliance fears most is "an unhindered invasion of industry," and the report appeals to the people of Canada to take second thought before "acquiescing in the depredations of an economic force which is showing itself to be ruthless, inhumane and socially irresponsible."

The report does not specify which industries are seeking recognition of their processes as continuous, but it does indicate that Alliance officials have waited upon such industries to stress their objections. If industry forces a seven day week, the Alliance believes the results would be injurious in the extreme. Sunday rest and quiet would go. Family gatherings and outings would cease. Sunday premium rates of pay and Sunday meetings of labor unions would probably be no more, the report declares.

The Alliance has requested that the Lord's Day Act be amended in a manner to deal better with modern conditions.

Membership in the Order of the Good Time (L'Ordre du Bon Temps) t. oldest social club in America, is open to visitors to Nova Scotia. To qualify for membership candidates need only stay seven days in Nova Scotia, have a good time, remember the province to others and return again. Women's Corner

Whims of Fashion

Affect Women's Luggage

"Luggage styles have changed almost as much as women's clothes, over the past 72 years." So claims Mr. Lucien Cantin, general manager of J. E. Fournier Limited, Montreal, who have been manufacturing all types of travelling bags for that many years. "Color is an important factor. This year, blue is the big favorite. Seventy per cent of our sales are in this color."

Somewhat the world seems to be shrinking in size. Jet flights and high-speed ships are making possible trips to faraway places... even for a two-week annual vacation. Everyone seems to be going somewhere. And everyone wants to travel lightly. This upswing in travelling has prompted the streamlining of luggage design and construction.

Consequently, choosing the right type and size of suitcase for a trip is no trick, for experts in the luggage field already have solved most of the problems. Take women's travelling bags, for instance. According to Mr. Cantin, "In addition to catering to milady's fashion whims, we are even more concerned with offering her functional luggage. It's not enough for luggage to look sleek and attractive. It must also be rugged enough to withstand rough handling en route, and light enough to be carried unaided, if necessary."

A fall order to fill... but modern vinyl fabrics such as "Fibrille" have passed the test. They combine toughness with lightness, and come in an array of tempting colors and textures that are as scrutable as they are beautiful. With outer fabrics such as this to work with, the designers have unlimited scope. The moulded type is the most popular design at the moment. Gracefully tapered and rounded for easy carrying, moulded bags offer more packing space than the frame variety.

"The lining of the case receives as much consideration by us as the outside covering. Even though it is seen mainly by the owner, she wants it to be pretty and feminine, as well as hard wearing. Dressmaker touches such as quilting, fancy stitching and braid trimmings add to the over-all appearance.

without detracting from the bag's usefulness," Mr. Cantin said.

Travelling habits change, too. Instead of taking just one large bag, the modern traveller frequently chooses two or three smaller ones, especially suited to the purpose. She might pack her dresses in a "fortnighter" or "weekender", and her hats and shoes in separate bags. And she knows the convenience on a plane or over-night train of the compact case.

Women sometimes "collect" luggage... buying the various pieces separately as they would fine china or silver. For this reason, most luggage comes in named sets. One such set of four pieces by Fournier is called "Voyage Air" in "Fibrille" with a grass cloth texture. Having a name makes it an easy gift suggestion... and adds distinction.

But whether you receive it as a gift, or buy it yourself, your new luggage will be filled with exciting promise.

SANDWICH AND FILLING IN ONE

When you make Devilish Cheese Sandwich, plan to have it baking when all the lucky diners can smell its superb aroma. There'll be no lack of appetite when you put it on the table.

Devilish Cheese Sandwich is a brand new recipe, made from a simple, yeast raised bread layered with zesty cheese mixture, and served cut into squares. It may be eaten hot just as it comes from the oven, or cold; or the squares may be split and filled with cold or hot meats to make sandwiches.

Keep this recipe in mind when you're looking for something new to add variety to lunchbox and picnic menus.

DEVILISH CHEESE SANDWICH

Yield — one 9 inch square loaf.

- 1 cup lukewarm water
- 1 teaspoon granulated sugar
- 1 envelope fast rising active or 1 cake compressed yeast dry yeast
- 2 1/2 cups (about) pre-sifted all purpose flour
- 1 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 3 tablespoons skim milk powder
- 2 tablespoons shortening
- 1 cup finely shredded Canadian Cheddar Cheese
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 2 tablespoons chopped parsley
- 1 tablespoon chopped chives or green onions
- 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, melted
- Few drops Tabasco

Measure lukewarm water into a large bowl; stir in the 1 teaspoon sugar. Sprinkle or crumble with yeast. Let stand 10 minutes, then stir well.

Meantime, combine 2 1/2 cups of the flour, the 1 1/2 tablespoons sugar, salt and skim milk powder. Add shortening and cut it in finely. Stir half of the flour mixture into dissolved yeast; beat 2 minutes with electric mixer set at a medium speed, or with wooden spoon for 300 vigorous strokes. Work in remaining dry mixture and sufficient additional flour to make a soft dough, about 1/4 cup more. Turn out dough onto a floured board or canvas and knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl. Grease top. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 50 minutes.

While dough is rising, combine shredded cheese, dry mustard, parsley, chopped chives or green onions, melted butter or margarine and Tabasco. Punch down dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board or canvas and knead until smooth. Divide dough into 2 equal portions. Roll out 1 portion of dough into a 9 inch square and place it in a greased 9 inch square cake pan.

Spread with cheese mixture to within 1/2 inch of edges. Roll out other portion of dough into a 9 inch square and place over cheese filling; pat down lightly. Grease top. Cover. Let rise in a warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk, about 40 minutes. Bake in a hot oven (425 deg. F.) 15 to 20 minutes.

VEGETABLES

Vegetables deserve the best efforts of every cook because of their fresh flavor and superior food values. Give your family three servings a day. Potatoes are a valuable source of protein and minerals, so serve them often. Leafy green vegetables are low in calories but rich in minerals and vitamins.

amins, so include one a day, cooked or as a relish or salad. Choose the third vegetable according to the season and your family's preferences.

Prepare fresh vegetables just before cooking whenever possible, since air on the cut surfaces destroys some of the food values. If you must prepare them ahead of time, cover them tightly and store in the refrigerator until time to cook them. To retain the highest food values, pare vegetables after cooking, or eat the vegetables, skin and all, unless the skin is very tough.

Taste vegetables before you serve them. They vary in flavor, so a recipe can only suggest the average amount of salt or other seasoning to use. Let your imagination suggest an occasional change in seasoning, add nutmeg, sherry or brandy or a suggestion of herbs. But remember that seasoning should enhance not overwhelm.

CHEESE SAUCE

for 6 servings
2 tablespoons butter
2 tablespoons flour
1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard (optional)
Few grains cayenne
1 1/4 cups milk
1/2 to 1 cup grated cheese
Melt butter in top of double boiler, then blend in flour and seasonings. Gradually add milk, stirring constantly until mixture begins to thicken. Then place over hot water and continue cooking for five minutes, stirring occasionally. Add cheese and stir until melted serve over drained, cooked vegetables. Makes about 1 1/2 cups sauce.

SALAD MAKINGS

Choose a variety of greens, cabbage, chicory, endive, escarole, lettuce, spinach, Swiss chard, watercress.
Use variety of raw vegetables in tossed salads, carrots, cauliflower, celery, cucumbers, green onions green peppers, mushrooms, radishes and tomatoes.

Use chilled, cooked vegetables in salads, asparagus, beans, beets, carrots, corn, peas, potatoes.
Use crisp, edible garnishes, celery, cucumbers slices, mint leaves, onions, parsley, pepper rings, radishes, watercress.

AN OUTDOOR MEAL WITH PICNIC-PARTY FLAVOR

Out of door meal can be an ideal way to entertain on weekends this summer. Served in patio or garden, the simplest meal can become an occasion. It is easy, too, if you plan food that can be prepared in advance so you have as enjoyable a time as your guests.
A pleasant solution to that perennial problem of sleep late company is breakfast and lunch combined into a brunch served outdoors. This gets everyone off to the best of starts, without putting the hostess behind schedule for the rest of the day.

For a simple menu, serve fresh strawberries with cottage cheese or sour cream, scrambled eggs, griddle muffins with lots of butter, jelly and honey. Coffee of course, completes a meal that is part picnic, part party and fun for guest and hostess equally.

GRADUATION DANCE AT WEYMOUTH

The graduation dance was held by the 1962 graduating class in Weymouth Consolidated School on Friday, June 15. The dance was sponsored by Home & School who with the help of the high school pupils decorated the auditorium in a most fitting manner of graduation gowns in black and white, mortar board caps and scrolls. A huge 8-ft. crest with congratulations, faced the graduates as they entered the auditorium and the stage and tables were arranged with beautiful floral displays. Officers of the Home and School were represented as were members of the Trustee Board. Chaperons were Mr. and Mrs. E. Adelaar, Mr. and Mrs. C. Comeau and Mr. and Mrs. H. Lewis.

Mr. Jean Doucet, vice-principal, was master of ceremonies, and welcomed the students and the past graduates. Mr. Jack Adelaar, president of the student's council thanked Mr. Doucet, the Home & School, and all others who had helped in any way.

Various types of dances were used, including a snowball dance, elimination dances and others. A delicious lunch was served by members of the Home & School Assoc.

Millions of dollars worth of gold came out of Goldenville, Nova Scotia, before the Second World War. A woman picking flowers made the discovery.

DIGBY NECK
One of Nova Scotia's fingers, Softly fell upon the sea, Found it fair and ever lingers Where the tides flow strong and free.
In between the Bay or Fundy And St. Mary's Bay it lies Like a bit of land left over From the Maker's great supplies.
Strength and length lie in its bendings, Rocky hills and fragrant groves Where, like many happy endings, Nestle sheltered, little coves. Seems the sun shines there forever In a village by the sea And the years of time can never Dim those memories for me. Though upon Life's mighty ocean, This may be a tiny speck, I have yet a dreamer's notion That the Lord loves Digby Neck.

YOU HAVE A HAND IN THINGS CANADIAN
when you own Life Insurance

Surprising? Yes—but true. Like most people, you have probably thought of your life insurance as protection for your family—as a good way to save money regularly—as a valuable collateral if you need a loan for an emergency.

Actually, your life insurance dollars are more than an investment in your personal security and your family's. These dollars are also an investment in Canada. They stimulate growth and progress and help make this country a better place in which to live and work.

At this moment, 9 BILLION DOLLARS of life insurance savings are invested

THE LIFE INSURANCE COMPANIES IN CANADA

in important Canadian enterprises—through the purchase of bonds and stocks and through mortgages.

These hard-working dollars are helping to finance great projects all over this country such as pipelines, shopping centres, bridges and highways, homes, apartment and office buildings, schools, factories, industrial plants and power developments. These investments create employment opportunities, too.

The income from these investments benefits you directly by reducing the cost of life insurance to you and the 9 million other Canadian policyowners.

Card of Thanks

I wish to take this opportunity to extend my thanks and appreciation to all the wonderful people who worked so hard and who voted for me in Monday's election.

Although we were not successful in winning this constituency I am deeply appreciative of the support I received and the efforts of so many fine people who worked for me and the Liberal party during the election campaign.

Sincerely,
Joseph E. Steadman.

Paving Program

Just a reminder that on Thursday night, whether or not you are present at the ratepayers meeting to decide about a paving program for Digby town, the meeting will be held. Whether you are for the program or against it, you should be there to voice your opinion. Have arguments for your case ready but also go with an open mind so that you can listen with reason to the other person's view. It is not necessary to be convinced but it is necessary to be able to listen without prejudice. You never can tell. You might change your mind willingly.

Who should go to the meeting? Anyone who is genuinely interested. Who can vote? All persons whose names appeared on the last voters' list for the town and who are assessed for real or personal property are eligible to vote on this paving question. See you there.

For The Good Of The Country

June 18th election resulted in a win for the Progressive Conservative party but without holding an overall majority in parliament. The most we can deduct is that of the two old parties the people still favored being governed by the P.C. government of the past five years. With the Social Credit gaining the seats which it did would reveal either that more people are dissatisfied with the two old parties or they have seen something in the program of Social Credit which captures their fancy. It could be, as we stated last week in this column that the whole thing is sort of confusing with this continual "for" and "against" play, "it is", "it isn't" play. If we felt the conflicting ideas were really genuine and not a silly notion that "the other side is for it, therefore we must be against it" we could not criticize for we do approve of opposition in order to keep valuable arguments open for debate. Our beef is the idea that nothing is good for one party if it is suggested first by the other party.

First and foremost we want Canada ruled for Canada's sake. We want what is best for the people who live here. With men and women of integrity, wisdom, reasonable intellect, conviction and courage to stand for the right, no matter on what side they sit in parliament we should be able to get on with the country's business.

Congratulations

The Courier extends congratulations to Miss Pauline Handsaker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Handsaker, Culloden, who was awarded the Governor General's Medal at the closing of the Nova Scotia Teacher's College. We cannot recall anytime when this honor came so near to Digby.

HOUSING HINTS

Question — How do you find a reliable builder?

Answer — A reliable builder is one who can give a firm price quotation and who is prepared to state in writing when he can have the house ready for occupancy. When possible, it's a good idea to examine a few houses already constructed by the builder in question. If you're favourably impressed with his past work, you can be fairly well assured that he will give you equal satisfaction. It's also important to choose a builder who has his business in the community close to the site. Such a builder will be familiar with local building regulations and the best sources for materials. Also, his labour force will be close at hand and he'll be able to supervise the work better.

Violets in April
Bring me violets in April
In a sweet bouquet;
If I have regrets in April
They will pass away.
Bring me violets in April
For my childhood's sake;
What the heart forgets, in April,
Violets awake.
In the glory of the wildwood,
Let me see and hear and smell
In the story of my childhood
Let me for a moment dwell,
Where the robin's red breast flashes
Through the budding tree,
April through the meadow splashes
In bare footed glee.

Guides To Meet

The Nova Scotia Guides' Meet, whose demonstrations and displays usually draw thousands of spectators, this year will be held at Lily Lake on July 23rd-29th.

Officials made the decision at a meeting of the executive recently held in Milton.

The sports meet, the largest of its kind, was inaugurated more than 50 years ago and since then this annual gathering has built fame that endures.

Campers will flock again for a six day assembly to find some of the most experienced outdoor men and a number of Junior Guides ready to display their crafts.

The program will be traditional — chopping, sawing, fire-making, shooting, innumerable ways of moving fast in a canoe, grease-pole walking and the always fascinating log-rolling will form the mainstay of the event.

Chester Sutherland, Molega, will be there to defend his senior title. The Junior Champion, Fred Scott, of Barrington, will be there to defend his title.

A major attraction this year will be a speed racing regatta by the Avon Boat Club.

There will be pony rides for the children and dancing will complete each day's activities.

The grounds at Lily Lake have been prepared to accommodate the ever growing throng of tenting enthusiasts. There is ample parking space and a large picnic area. Can- teen service, large dance hall and grandstand are other features.

Members of the Nova Scotia Guides' Association executive are: president, Andrew J. Moores, Milton; vice-president, Chester Sutherland, Molega; secretary-treasurer, Victor A. Kempton, Milton.

ALDERSHOT REVIVES

Dozing quietly since last summer, the Canadian Army's Camp Aldershot in the Annapolis Valley of Nova Scotia comes to life with a start on Saturday when over 300 young women from all over the Atlantic Provinces arrive to train for two weeks as members of the Canadian Women Army Group.

Other training to be carried on there this summer includes militia qualification courses for officers and N. C. O.'s and courses for Royal Canadian Army Cadets. About 200 officers and N. C. O.'s will train from July 2 to 14 to qualify with a further 200 taking instruction July 16 to 28 for advancement to the rank of major or sergeant.

About 750 cadets train between July 9 and August 24 in trades training, shooting or leaders courses. As do the C.W.A.C. and militia, the cadets come from corps in various centres in Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland.

Deep Brook

Mrs. Grace McLellan of Jamaica Plain, Mass., arrived on Friday and is a guest for two weeks at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. H. Spurr.

Little Graham Shackleton had the misfortune to cut his foot while wading in a brook last week, requiring five stitches. He is with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Longmire at Hillsburn for a few days.

The first powered flight within the British Empire was made by the late J. A. D. McCurdy at Baddeck, Nova Scotia, Feb. 23, 1909.

Nova Scotian At Toronto Show

A native born daughter of Nova Scotia, now living in Toronto, sees the Army's gymnastic display during her visit to the Canadian National Sportsmen's Show, Roneta Baxter, 18, whose grandfather Joseph Franklin lives in Hill Grove, N. S., balances on the bongo board with the help of Sgt. R. B. Partridge of Halifax and Angus, Ont. Sgt. Partridge is an instructor from the Army Physical Training Centre at Camp Borden, Ont., and a member of the seven-man gymnastic team at the show. (National Defence Photo)

Named Vice President

At the annual meeting of the Canadian Home and School and Parent-Teacher Federation held at Saskatoon during the week of May 21, C. E. Edwards, (above), Inspector of Schools for Annapolis and Digby Counties, was elected Vice President of the Federation. At the time of the election, Mr. Edwards was at Banff, Alta., where he was on the staff of the CEA Short Course held from May 19 to June 1 for School Inspectors and Superintendents across Canada. On receiving word of his election to office, Mr. Edwards made arrangements to fly to Saskatoon from Calgary for the installation ceremonies, which were held at the Bessborough Hotel, Saskatoon during the banquet given by the Provincial Government of Saskatchewan.

Since coming to Middleton from Shelburne in 1944, Mr. Edwards has been active in Home and School work on local, provincial and national levels. He has served as President of the Annapolis Home and School County Council, and held the Chairmanship of the Audio-Visual and Education Week Committees of the Provincial Federation, in addition to serving as a member of the Federation's Board of Directors for a number of years. In Canadian Federation, which office he held until 1955. He was again appointed to this office in 1957 for another three years term. Since 1960 Mr. Edwards has been chairman of the Federation's Legislation Committee. While holding these positions with the Canadian Federation, Mr. Edwards has served the Federation further during the six year period by representing that national body on the CEA-CBC Advisory Council (School Radio Broadcasts and Television), and the CEA-NFB Advisory Committee (Films, filmstrips, teaching aids).

Currently Mr. Edwards is preparing a documentary recording of the history of the Canadian Home and School and Parent Teacher Federation, a momentous task, and one which will take some months to complete. The recording, when completed, will bring messages from all Past Presidents of the Federation, with the exception of the first President, Dr. George W. Kerby, who served before the days of the tape recorder.

Although some courses have been held for UNTD's in other years at Cornwallis, 1961 was the inaugural year for a full program here. Captain Richard M. Steele, of Saint John, N. B., who commands this largest establishment of its kind in the Commonwealth, welcomes their presence: "It is the ideal place for them to train. Their presence spurs the sailors to do better and vice versa. These Cornwallis periods, properly administered, should do the Navy much good later as cadets take up their responsibilities as reserve officers. Their influence in civilian life is no less important."

Captain Steele has held several appointments closely associated with reserves in his 25 year naval career, one of them as Reserve Training Commander, East Coast, when the UNTD had its big upsurge in the immediate postwar years.

There is a break in the shore training of the UNTD's. They might spend a day at "Raven Haven", the Cornwallis Recreational Camp, or visit the first Canadian colony, Champlain's "L'Abitation" in nearby Port Royal. For others it is a chance to take supplemental exams in courses they may have failed. In the case of third year cadets this is important for, once qualified academically and in good standing with naval mentors, they are promoted to the rank of acting Sub-Lt. in the RCNR on return to university.

Thus, they are able to take up responsibilities at one of the 21 naval divisions stretching from Victoria, B. C., to St. John's, Nfld. It goes even further. Three-quarter of the UNTD training staff here this summer is composed of reserves, all of whom applied for this particular duty, most of them for the entire period.

Remarks by the leader, Mrs. Curtis Prime.

Mission Band Purpose, the children, followed with prayer by Mrs. Prime.

Devotional was given by Debra Thurber.

Game and questions on Mission Study Book by the leader, Miss Eleanor Thurber.

Prayer by Mrs. W. Ideson. Sharon Prime was pianist for the meeting.

University Students at Cornwallis

HMCS Cornwallis — The "Cradle of the Royal Canadian Navy", HMCS Cornwallis, on the shore of Nova Scotia's lovely Annapolis Basin, provides the Navy with a constant stream of new entry sailors. Each summer it furthers also the training of embryo officers of the Royal Canadian Naval Reserve.

Since May 7 special instruction has been given the bulk of cadets from University Naval Training Divisions across Canada, about 450 of them due to pass through this 615 acre establishment by mid-September. These students, from practically every university in Canada, are devoting their normal holiday period to hard work here and a month afloat in East Coast ships so that some day they will be officers of the RCNR.

All first and second year cadets come here. Almost half of the third year cadets arrive as well, most of whom spend the full summer in training. About 60 third year cadets train on the West Coast at the same time.

First and second year cadets get courses in navigation, communications, leadership, supply, engineering and power, basic at first but more advanced and selective in the second year. (During college terms, they have a night a week of training). On the one month summer cruise, they take special seamanship instructions and learn the rudiments of nuclear, biological and chemical defence and damage control as well as normal shipboard activities. Passing standard for all courses is 60 percent. Third year cadets take more sophisticated courses here, including a ten week communication course. Some have an eight week course at HMCS Homecoming, the Navy's Supply complex in Montreal.

More than 300 cadets are at Cornwallis at any time during the summer months. Officer in charge of UNTD training is Lt. Cdr. C. H. Court, of Amherst, N. S., and Charlotte, town, who becomes commanding officer of the UNTD at Mount Allison University in New Brunswick again when college classes resume in the fall. He has a dedicated staff of 40 regular and reserve officers (a third of them ex-UNTD) to help him guide his many charges throughout their summer instructions.

"We are most pleased with the rapid progress cadets are making in this environment," he said.

Although some courses have been held for UNTD's in other years at Cornwallis, 1961 was the inaugural year for a full program here. Captain Richard M. Steele, of Saint John, N. Vocational Training Needed

"Industries in the Atlantic Provinces are hampered by a lack of certain skills," report of Dan Scouler, Jr., General Manager of the Halifax Shipyard Limited, and chairman of the Atlantic Provinces Economic Council's committee on worker training, "even though much employment exists in the region."

The long term solution obviously lies in expanded vocational and technical training, but the need is urgent now. Workers must be available to fill today's vacancies. If they can't be found here, they must be imported, for our productive capacity must not be hobbled," said Scouler.

At a meeting held in the APEC offices today, attended by representatives from various government departments, Scouler and his committee sought to promote greater co-ordination of vocational and technical training plans and needs to combat this evident lack of skilled workers.

It was revealed that a full page ad for skilled workers appearing a short time ago in the London papers, under the auspices of the Atlantic Provinces office in London, had produced a surprising response from British workers interested in coming to the Atlantic Provinces.

The APEC committee will study the applications and make this availability of scarce skills known to businesses throughout the Atlantic region.

Your Regional Mental Health Clinic

Authorities agree that mental illness is the largest medical and hospital problem in Canada today. Over half of all the patients seen by physicians are suffering from some degree of psychiatric impairment; and there are many other individuals whose happiness, usefulness and health are impaired by lesser degrees of maladjustment.

Both government and voluntary organizations are working to relieve and prevent human suffering. The Mental Health Clinic, 43 Warwick St., Digby, is one of the facilities engaged in the fight against mental illness. It serves Annapolis County and Digby County as far as Meteghan River, a region with an area of approximately 21 sq. miles, with a population of 38,000. The staff consists of one psychiatrist, one social worker and one psychologist.

The management of the Clinic is in the hands of a local Board of responsible citizens who accept its administrative, financial and legal responsibilities. The local Medical Society appoints one member, for it is important that the community physicians not only be kept informed but also appointed by the local clergy, by local municipal and town governments and other agencies.

The Clinic's operating costs are shared between the Department of Public Health and the local Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association, with the Province paying 80 to 90 per cent. The province pays the salaries for a specified number of professional and secretarial staff, as well as their regular travel costs. It also pays for professional equipment and supplies and for office equipment.

The Digby Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association provides space, heat, light, water, as well as office supplies, telephone and telegraph, and other items not specified as provincial responsibilities. To provide for such things, this Association asks everyone, each year, during the Mental Health Campaign to help by their efforts and contributions, local community clinics for the treatment and counselling of those in need. Many of us have seen disturbed relatives and friends and witnessed their sufferings. You can help by your response to help provide your community with its most precious possession, its good health. Mental Health is a job for professionals, but it is also yours.

Addresses Graduates

J. Alphonse Comeau, Meteghan River, Inspector of Schools, District of Clare, was guest speaker at the graduation exercises at the Digby Regional High School on Wednesday evening. Mr. Comeau told the graduates that all too often opportunities within local areas were overlooked because of a desire for academic achievement and university recognition. He mentioned farming and fishing, small holdings as worthwhile considerations for graduates.
All too often, he said, graduates look to distant pastures as something greater and overlook the fact that a good useful living can be made in the home community. He charged the graduates to give careful thought to this idea.

Mr. Comeau was introduced by Dr. L. F. Dolan and thanked by Ronald Morehouse, of Centreville, Warden of the Municipality of Digby.

The report of Keith Raymond, chairman of the Regional School Board, gave an account of the year's achievements. Mr. Raymond said there were 90 percent of the Grade XII class who had passed the examinations and 71 percent of the Grade XI.
He urged close co-operation between school and home and visiting of schools by parents to maintain a high standard of achievement. Enrollment at the Digby Regional High School in 1961-62 was 829 and it is anticipated that the school will re-open in September with more than 870 students.
Two additional classrooms will be opened, bringing the staff at the DRHS to 31. Mr.
Raymond said, will tax existing facilities to maximum capacity and thought must be given to future planning and development if the continuously expanding school population is to be adequately accommodated.

Among the achievements of an in-service program carried on by the Digby teaching staff, F. C. Purdy, superintendent of schools, said was a survey and revision of the general course program for the DRH School. All too often, he said, new staff members failed to understand or appreciate the objectives of the general course program. Because of the survey, beginning in September each teacher of general course subjects will be presented with a comprehensive outline of the subject for which the teacher is responsible.

Another survey carried on,
Mr. Purdy said, was with the 45 colored children who had been registered at the Regional High School during 1952 to 1962. Lack of opportunity rather than any essential difference in intelligence it was found accounted for a slightly lower level of ability to learn with the colored student. Mr.
Purdy also spoke of the satisfactory integration of the colored children in the urban school system and of the rapid adjustment made by the majority of the children.

A survey of general course students was also made, Mr.
Purdy continued, and it was found that general course students who left DRHS now hold responsible positions in industry and the various branches of armed forces, especially excelling in radio,
T.V., mechanics, drafting and surveying.

Another research mentioned by Mr. Purdy was one designed at raising reading levels of lower grade students so that the below level readers might be brought up to normal more through the junior high school grades more rapidly.

Among the progressive projects cited by Mr. Purdy were
(1) improved teaching aids and facilities; (2) area filmstrip library and equipment pool for urban and area schools; (3) teacher's professional library.

A donation of a T.V. set was made by the Student's Council to D.R.H.S., the presentation on behalf of the council being made by Ronald Winchester, president.
They also made arrangements to have a steel flag pole erected over the main entrance of

Convention Closes

The three-day series of Bible talks, demonstrations of Bible teaching techniques and ministerial experiences which made up the program for the convention of Jehovah's Witnesses in the West Kings
High School at Auburn, concluded Sunday.

Talks were barely over when fast-working clean-up crews began dismantling equipment set up by the Witnesses and giving the High School a farewell clean-up.

Friday evening saw 260 delegates assembled in the auditorium at West Kings High School, Auburn, for the opening meeting of the three-day Circuit Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses. Mr. Wall, District Supervisor, used as his opening address the convention theme "Faithfully Increasing Our Praise To Jehovah". "We must walk as wise persons according to the Bible and not according to worldly wisdom as Ephesians 5:16 points out," Mr. Wall said. Those participating in the program included W.
Holmes of Digby, R. Anderson of Bear River, and W. I.
McKenna, of Digby.

On Saturday afternoon Mr.
Wall spoke on the subject
"Dedication and Baptism."
Ten candidates were baptized.

On Saturday evening the two hour program "Examining Our Ministry" featured activities of the energetic preaching organization and gave thorough consideration of ways and means of proclaiming the message of peace.

The highlight of the convention was the public discourse by Mr. Wall on Sunday at 3:00 p.m. entitled "Who Will Rule The World?"

The school. The gift was accepted by C. C. MacInnes, principal.

The valedictory was given by John Amirault, who quoted St. Paul: "But when I became a man I put away childish things." They (the graduates), too, he said, must look forward to a new life, for the year to come will find them in many parts of the world and in all walks of life.

The processional and recessional graduation marches were played by Mrs. R. R.
Winchester. Vocal selections were rendered by Wallace Hodgson, of the teaching staff, accompanied by Mrs.
Jean Olsen at the piano.

Joint Political Effort Needed

A joint effort by Canada's two major parties over the next two years is needed to solve the country's economic problems, Eric W. Kierans, president of the Montreal and Canadian stock exchanges, said Wednesday. He was addressing the annual meeting of the Maritime Wholesale Hardware Association held in Digby.

The Progressive Conservatives and Liberal parties did not have the backing of more than 25% of Canadians in the last election, he said, and many others supported them reluctantly. The two major parties face the challenge of trying to restore the two party system in Canada by positive, constructive leadership, he said. Another election at this time might confirm the trend away from the two major parties.

He said a return to a floating exchange rate would eliminate the pressure on the country's reserves and give the government greater freedom in undertaking measures to revive the economy.

$10.00 Taken

Approximately $10.00 in change, all that was left in the cash register, was recently stolen from the Fundy Fish Market, on Water Street.

Stanley Vidito, owner of the store, said entry may have been made through a window at the rear of the building.

To date those responsible have not been identified.

Little River Native 103

Mrs. Theodore F. Denton celebrated her one hundred and third birthday quietly on June 7, at the Wolfville Nursing Home, where she has been a guest since October, 1961.

Mrs. Denton has lived in Wolfville for 15 years residing with her son, S. D. Denton and Mrs.
Denton, 98 Main St. Mrs. Denton can still recall some of her varied experiences during the mid nineteenth century when a 25 mile trip to town with "Old Dobbin" was really an experience. Flowers cards and messages were receiver from relatives and friends and refreshments were served by Miss M. S. Furlong, director of the nursing home to all present including other guests at the home.

Mrs. Denton was born in Little River, Digby Co., N. S.

Fire Victim Dies In Hospital

Mrs. Myrna Brennan, 38-year-old wife of Dr. Donald
S. Brennan, of Bear River, who was severely burned last Thursday when the bed in which she was sleeping caught fire, died early Monday morning in the Digby General Hospital.

Born in Berwick, Mrs. Brennan was the daughter of Mr.
and Mrs. Hallett Jones. Before coming to Bear River with her husband thirteen years ago she was employed with the department of national revenue and Seaboard Brokers in Halifax.

She is survived by her husband and four children, Randall, Sherry, Nell and Nola, all of Bear River. Also surviving are her parents, three brothers, Vaughn, Earl and Morley and four sisters,
Marie, Ardythe, Geraldine and Pauline.

The body rested at the Jayne Funeral Home in Digby until Wednesday when funeral service was held at 2 p.m. from the Bear River
United Church of which Mrs.
Brennan was a member. The service was conducted by Rev.
Stuart Russell.

Interment was in Mount
Hope Cemetery, Bear River.
The graveside service was conducted by Cherry Blossom Chapter, Order of the Eastern Star, of which Mrs. Brennan was also a member.

Former Digby Minister Passes

Rev. Edgar William Forbes, retired United Church minister, Dartmouth, died Saturday at the Halifax Nursing Home. He was 89.

Born in Dartmouth, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. William T. Forbes.

He had held pastorates in Newfoundland, Bermuda, and in several sections throughout Nova Scotia, including Grace United, Digby. While in Newfoundland he was appointed chief commissioner of the Boy Scouts' Association.
He received his education at Dalhousie University, graduating with his BA in 1893. Since his retirement 25 years ago he had been active in several churches in the Halifax area, filling in when other ministers were away.

His wife, the former Margaret A. West, of Lussimouth, Scotland, predeceased him in 1956. He is the last remaining member of his family.

Oldest Resident Is 95

Mrs. John Pleasant, Weymouth Falls, celebrated her 95th birthday when relatives and friends gathered in her home.

Born in Weymouth Falls,
Mrs. Pleasant is the oldest living native in the community. She has been a member of Mount Beulah Baptist Church for 41 years and is still active in the work of the church, rarely missing Sunday services and Ladies Auxiliary meetings. Her husband, who died in 1939, was a deacon in the church.

In good health, Mrs. Pleasant enjoys travelling and doing her own shopping in Weymouth village. She has seven children, 23 grandchildren and 76 great grandchildren.

To Select Art

Selections will be made by Glenn MacNutt, Boston, formerly of Digby, for "An Artist Views New England", at the Boston Arts Festival, to be presented in the Boston Public Garden, June 21 through July 8. The festival aims to provide the direct channel through which artists of all persuasions, of varying degrees of fame and of all age groups, may show their works to a large and varied public.
The 1962 competitions, and resulting exhibitions, will be of, by and for the artists of New England.

"American Humor" selections will be made by Al Capp, while Mr. MacNutt is Juror for the above entrants in Boston's most important art event.

Prizes range from $100 to $500. The Artist Views New England competition includes oil and water-color and American Humor includes cartoons, prints and drawings.

Mr. MacNutt has also been issued an invitation to enter his own water-colors in the Royal Water Color Society
Exhibition in London, England, from July 17 to August 5. This is an all invited show composed of a selection of American Water Color Society members.

Mr. MacNutt is a son of Mrs. Gordon MacNutt and the late Mr. MacNutt, Digby.

Mrs. Kenneth Woodman spent last week in Saint John, N. B. On her return she was accompanied by Mrs. Mildred Griffin who visited with Mrs.
Woodman and with Mr. and Mrs. Baden Powell.

Nurse Gets Scholarship

Shirley Potter, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Potter, Plympton, Digby Co., was one of 56 nurses to graduate from Saint John General Hospital
School of Nursing this month.
She received the Cathedral Prize for Greatest Influence in Elevating Spirit of the School. She was also awarded a Scholarship from the Province of N. B. for Post Graduate study in Nursing Teaching and Clinical Supervision at Dalhousie University.

Miss Potter left on Saturday for Vancouver, where she is a delegate to the Canadian Nurses Association Annual Convention.

Hold Memorial Service

Under the direction of Sister
Ruby Roope, P.N.G., an impressive Memorial Service was held Monday evening, June 25, in memory of the departed Sisters and Brothers of Zelma Rebekah Lodge, No. 78.
Sisters Patricia Wilson,
P.N.G., and Helen Daley,
P.N.G., sang a duet, "What A Friend We Have In Jesus".
Others participating were Sister Jean Turnbull, P.N.G., Sister May Rice, P.N.G., Sis. Ruth Daley, Sis. Nina Webber and Sis. Rena Sulis.

Weymouth Falls Choir To Visit Kemptville

On Sunday evening the Rev. Willard P. Clayton, minister of the African United Baptist Church, will journey to Kemptville, Yar. Co., for a service at 8 o'clock. He will be accompanied by the choir of the church, under the direction of Cyril Middleton.

The minister of the church,
the Rev. Claude T. Olmstead, will preside over the service of song.

This choir has been to Kemptville several times during the past three years and made a good contribution to the spiritual life of the individual and the community.
All are most cordially welcome.

Miss Constance Kirkpatrick,
student nurse at the Victoria
General Hospital, left on Sunday to attend the Canadian Nurses' Conference in Vancouver and visit with her friend, Dianne Creaser, in Victoria.

Injured In Explosion

Barbara Rockwell, of Saint John, N. B., a waitress aboard the C.P.S. Princess Helene, is in the Digby General Hospital with burns about the face and legs following an explosion in a sewer manhole in Digby on Tuesday afternoon.

The accident occurred when the young woman dropped a littled match into the manhole, in front of the C.P.S.
Fisheries building on Lower
Water Street, near the wharf.
The explosion threw the manhole cover into the air and tore up a portion of the paving around the manhole. The injured woman was rushed to hospital by Mr. Casey in his car.

Vote 101-7

A decided vote of 101-7 on Thursday night gave the Digby Town Council permission to borrow up to $75,000 to begin a paving program for Digby town streets. The resolution as amended at the meeting gave authority to procure the money to lay down three inches of thickness and of a 20 foot width wherever possible. It was pointed out that one of more streets in Digby were not of sufficient width for a 20 foot paving.

Following the reading of the resolution at the opening of the meeting questions were put by the ratepayers. It was the general consensus of opinion that not quantity but quality should be the aim.
Several sections of the town were noted as bearing heavy traffic and the majority agreed that these sections should have preference in the paving program. Curbing before paving was also discussed.

The meeting was presided over by His Worship Mayor V. L. Bent, and the vote was taken at 9 o'clock, when of 108 who cast ballots, 101 were in favor and 7 were against the resolution.

Paul Snow and C. M. Levy were scrutineers.

P.C. Seats Remain

The Canadian armed service vote left all Nova Scotian seats unchanged but bolstered majorities of the two Liberal victors in the June 18 general election while reducing the majorities of nine Progressive Conservative winners and the lone New Democratic Party winner.

Here is the unofficial service vote for local ridings with the total of civilian votes plus service votes in brackets:

Digby - Annapolis - Kings --
Hon. George C. Newland (PC)
524 (17,483); Joseph E. Steadman (L) 699 (14,490); Murray A. Bent (NDP) 30 (799);
G. B. Thompson (SC) 16
(446).

Shelburne - Yarmouth - Clare
--- Felton Legere (PC) 179
(10,944); Fred T. Armstrong
(L) 389 (10,438); Ashley A.
Crowell (SC) 8 (358); Arthur
P. Monahan (NDP) 9 (349).

Dentists Gather In Digby

Some one hundred dentists and their wives from the four Atlantic Provinces met in Digby last week for the three-day
Atlantic Provinces Dental Convention held at the Digby Pines Hotel.

The convention opened on Thursday morning. Official opening ceremonies were held at the luncheon session when the delegates were officially welcomed by Dr. Thomas Rogers, of Shelburne, president of the Nova Scotia Dental Association, which hosted the convention. A welcome, on behalf of the town, was also extended by Mayor
Vernon L. Bent.

Speaker at the president's dinner Friday evening was Dr. Henry D. Hicks, Q.C., vice-president of Dalhousie University. Social activities included a tea for the ladies at the Pines Golf Club on Thursday afternoon, and a tour of the Habitation at Port Royal on Friday.

Miss Constance Kirkpatrick,
student nurse at the Victoria
General Hospital, left on Sunday to attend the Canadian Nurses' Conference in Vancouver and visit with her friend, Dianne Creaser, in Victoria.

Obituary

Mrs. George Taylor

Death came early on the morning of June 14th at Ashmore. She had been in failing health for nearly a year. A resident of Digby County for fifty years. Mrs. Taylor was born in Wales eighty six years ago, the daughter of English parents, Charles and Mary Ann Henderson. Her early years were spent in England, coming to Canada over fifty years ago.

She was a faithful member of the Anglican Church and the Women's Auxiliary, giving much of her time to mission work and the church guild.

Her husband predeceased her several years ago. Surviving her are three nieces in England and a nephew in South Africa.

The funeral was held in St. Peter's Anglican Church, Weymouth North. The Rev. E. C. Irwin officiating.

Burial was in Riverside Baptist Cemetery by the side of her husband, with committal prayer by the Rev. E. C. Irwin and the church choir.

HOUSING HINTS

Question — Can a realtor help you when considering building or buying a house?

Answer — He certainly can. For example, even when you are just purchasing a lot unless you're quite familiar with the value of the property and the procedures involved, you stand to lose more than you gain by ignoring the services of a realtor. His knowledge can save you time, trouble and very often, money. He has a listing of available properties and knows all about the actual market values. In some cases he may also be able to

Graduation At Freeport

The graduation of the Freeport Consolidated School was held in the Baptist Church on Wednesday evening, June 20th. The graduation class marched in to the Processional played by Miss Janice Hatfield, vice-principal of the school, and took their places on the platform with the teachers and members of the School Board.

Mr. Leonard Small, chairman of the School Board, extended a welcome to the large and appreciative audience.

Mr. B. E. Finigan, Supervisor, gave a summary of the year's work. He paid tribute to Miss Janice Hatfield, vice-principal, who had rendered valuable service to the students but had resigned to take a position at Yarmouth High School, and to Mrs. Evelyn Crocker, who had been on the staff for 28 years but who had resigned to take a position at Armadale, to Mrs. Welch who had been on the staff for 4 years but was taking a position in Westport School. He also congratulated the bus drivers, Mr. Murray Cann and Mr. Robert Ruggles, for the efficient manner in which they operated the buses, an accident free year.

The following program was then carried out:

Chorus, High School, 23rd Psalm (Crimond).

Presentation of Certificates, IX, X, XI, Janice Hatfield.

Presentation of Prizes, Mrs. Hooper, Mrs. Welch, VII and VIII.

Class History, Doris Hooper.

Class Prophecy, Brenda Thuerber.

Valedictory, Doreen Hooper. Solo, "David's Song", Sharon Prime.

The guest speaker was Mr. J. Roy McIsaac, Supervisor of Schools, Bridgetown.

After the singing of "The Queen" the students marched out to the Recessional.

The following prizes were awarded which were donated by the Freeport Home and School:

Susan Peake, highest standing; Doreen Hooper, industry and application, Grade XI; Doris Hooper, progress; Marilyn Titus, highest standing; David Teed, industry and application, Grade X; Tony Outhouse, progress; Lorraine Elliott, highest standing; David Elliott, industry and application, Grade IX; Sheila Outhouse, progress; Bruce Outhouse, highest standing; Eunice Howard, industry and application, Grade VIII; Jimmy Prime, progress; Pamela Outhouse, highest standing, Grade VII; Zora Outhouse, industry and application; Clinton Tinker, progress; Elena Greenlaw and Zora Outhouse, tied for highest, prizes presented by their teacher, Mrs. Richard Welch.

New Rector To Granville

The Reverend S. Reginald Shepherd, Rector of Chester since 1955, has been appointed Rector of the Parish of Granville, Annapolis County, by the Right Reverend R. H. Waterman, Lord Bishop of Nova Scotia. He will take up his new duties there on September 1st where he will succeed the Rev. W. Evans Jefferson who is going to Halifax to be Assistant Priest to the Reverend Canon H. St. C. Hickey at St. Paul's Church.

Mr. Shepherd received his early education at Bishop Field's School and Springfield Street Commercial School, St. John's, Newfoundland. He was on active service for four years with the Royal Newfoundland Regiment, three of which were served in France and Belgium. On his return from overseas he took theological training at Queen's College and was ordained in 1924. He served in the Diocese of Newfoundland at Whitbourne Mission and Upper Island Cove Parish, and in the Diocese of Nova Scotia at Petite Riviere Parish prior to his appointment at Chester.

Rev. Mr. Jefferson, a former Chief Engineer of the Maritime Telegraph & Telephone Company, who has been serving as Rector of Granville for several years, will join the Clerical Staff of St. Paul's Church on September 1st. Dr. Jefferson, who received an Honourary Degree from the Nova Scotia Technical College in 1961, will be Assistant Priest to the Reverend Canon H. St. C. Hickey, and with Mrs. Jefferson will take up residence in Halifax where he lived for many years prior to his Ordination in 1953 soon after retirement from his engineering post.

The new Assistant at St. Paul's graduated from the Nova Scotia Technical College with the Degree of B.Sc. in 1915, and taught at Mount Allison University before coming on the staff of the Maritime Telegraph & Telephone Company in 1921.

ANNUAL MEMORIAL SERVICE

The annual Memorial Service was held in the United Church, Port Wade on Sunday, June 17.

The pastor Rev. Nathan Bowering opened the Service with a short prayer. (The hymn "O God our Help in Ages Past" was then sung. Rev. Bowering then read the scripture, Rev. 7:17, followed by a prayer by Rev. John McLeod with a solo, "Give me thy Heart" by Mrs. Basil Taylor.

The Rev. Bowering preached the sermon, which was also his farewell to all as he leaves for his new charge.

He spoke on the memories of the Christian mother and father and how it helped in time of temptation, he closed his sermon on saying how much he had enjoyed serving his Lord and people in this church and how he would miss them all.

The mixed choir was under the direction of the Organist Mrs. Gerald Hudson.

The collection of $55.00 will be used for the up keep of the Cemetery.

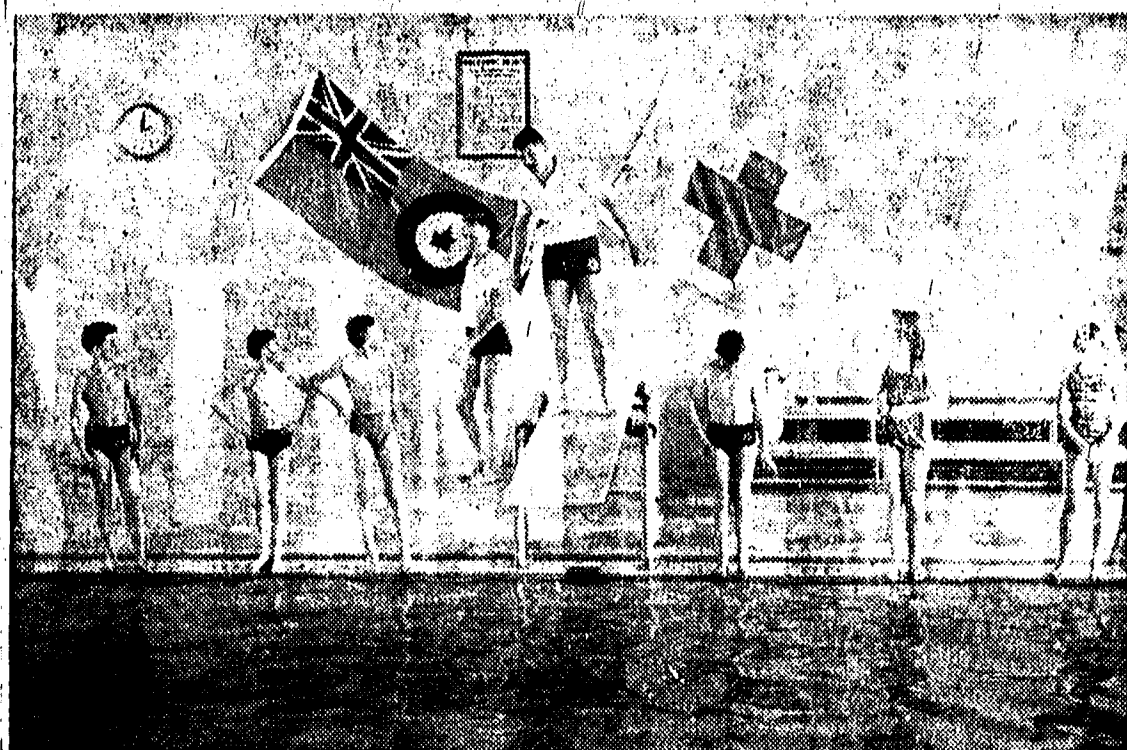

PRESENTATIONS MADE

A congregational farewell party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Willard Aptt on Saturday evening, June 23, when all the congregation of the Port Wade United Church met and enjoyed the evening with their pastor, Rev. Anniversary Speaker

Dr. John B. Corston, Professor of New Testament Theology at Pine Hill Divinity Hall, Halifax, and president of the Maritime Conference of the United Church of Canada was guest speaker on Sunday morning, when Grace United Church celebrated its 101st anniversary.

He took as his subject "The church's glory and responsibility" from the text "Can any good thing come out of Nazareth? Come and see" as found in St. John 1:46. He spoke of the humble beginnings of Grace United Church and the church at large throughout the world. These, he said, had seen hard times, suffered depressions and diversity but they are still praising God and have prospered wonderfully. The church is composed of human beings and not saints, he said and we must look below the surface before criticizing. By attending Church people demonstrate and witness for God but by their absence they demonstrate that God does not mean all to their lives. God, he said, is not our selfish possession but when commissioned to come, the

Researchers Seek Medical Breakthrough

In the war against disease, victory comes as the result of effort and energy expended. Canada today is pouring large sums of money into medical research and the outlook for significant victories is bright. As Hon. Waldo J. Monaghan, Minister of Health put it recently:

"Never before have we been in a more favourable position to look for major breakthroughs against many of those ancient enemies of man such as cancer or heart disease. Never before have we had greater opportunities for providing our people with the very best of health facilities and services. Medical research holds an important key to the future welfare of Canadians."

Many tasks come under the Research heading in the routine operations of the Department of National Health and Welfare.

A new vaccine to be tested for strength and safety. A survey of diets among older Canadians. An estimate of how radioactivity has affected air, soil and food is needed. To meet such needs and others, the department's various divisions are continuously working. The Laboratory of Hygiene, works to test the new vaccine. The Nutrition Division undertakes the diet survey. The Radiation Protection Division begins a study of radioactivity in air, soil and food samples.

In addition to direct research of this type within the department, the department's divisions co-ordinate and consult on many research projects elsewhere. For example the Research Development Section has the task of assisting and correlating many programs across Canada. In laboratories across the nation white smocked men work tirelessly to find new weapons against old enemies, rheumatism, arthritis, mental illness; to discover a more effective polio vaccine, to develop more powerful and safer antibiotics. The government, through National Health Grants of Money administered by the Department, supports and encourages these quiet wars against disease. These grants for disease research totalled $3,240,045 in 1960-61 fiscal year. Over 270 projects were involved.

Yet these figures do not tell the whole financial story. During the same year, research grants issued by all federal government departments totalled almost $10 million. High on the list of priorities are research projects to combat infectious diseases and mental illnesses. But much attention is being paid to ailments many persons consider minor such as the common cold. Doctors and scientists have long blamed this apparently innocent condition for many more serious illnesses. Research to discover a cure for colds is thought to be vital and men are working on this problem as well as others.

The crusade for health seems never ending. Many skirmishes are fought in the continuing battle against disease and death. Polio has been brought to its knees. Diabetes has been disarmed. But heart disease is still a powerful enemy. Cancer has not been beat-

HOME

Let others sing of wealth and fame.
Fame is a feeble thing
And wealth is but a flickering flame.
To "Home, Sweet Home," I sing.
Your home may be a mansion grand,
Mine but a three-room flat,
Yet love can make it handsome and Write "Welcome" on the mat
Where every room and rafters high
Reflects a mother's care
And echoes happy laughter, why
Be sure a home is there.
O, there a shining kettle sings
The windows gleam with light
To guide us from our wanderings
Back to the home fire-bright.
Wealth glitters and fame beckons,
Yet, though afar we roam,
There is no heart that reckons
A dearer love than home.

Tooth decay, the chief dental disease can largely be controlled by avoiding sweets, sticky foods - especially between meals.

HOW ARE CHILDREN TO KNOW

How are children to know what dangers they meet, When swimming at their favorite retreat. Weeds and holes and big sharp rocks. Teach them the hazards that they're to watch.

How are children to know that an air filled toy, Can bring the death of a little boy. A gust of wind blows it out of reach. Keep air filled toys up on the beach.

How are children to know when swimming alone, That water can take them far from home. Swift currents go way out to sea. Teach them to swim in company.

How are children to know on a speeding boat, That an upset makes it stop to float. Spill in the water but not near the beach. Give them life jackets, one for each.

How are children to know about water and air, The sea and the sky and how to take care. From you they see how to live and to learn. From you they know which way to turn.

As long as these and many other diseases continue to take their toll, research must continue.

A THOUGHT STARTER

Ronald C. MacCormack

Servant or Master?

This is the machine age, and I am glad to live in it. What would we do without our muscle saving devices? Every year, or more often, a gadget comes into the average home which the owner proudly declares to be a time saver. How did our grandfathers ever manage to live and find time to do the work which is done for us automatically? How did they break the soil and rear their large families without a tractor or an electric washing machine?

Yet, our forefathers had time to pray, they had time for family devotions and they took time to walk through forest paths to attend church. They had time to befriend their children and time for genuine hearty good neighborliness. We have saved time, but what has become of the time we save? Few families can manage to get together for family devotions, church services are streamlined to suit the rushing worshippers, and neighbors have little time to visit back and forth. Parents and children rarely sit down together and visit an evening in the family living room. What has happened? Why the big rush to nowhere? Why can't we settle down and enjoy this wonderful life which science has given us?

Ponder this question. Are people today the slaves or masters of this machinery? If they are the masters then the machine age is a blessing. If slaves, then we need to wake up and start living as God intended. Who is our Lord? Is it science or is it the living God?

Fifty three of every 100 American deaths are caused by heart trouble.

WINTER MOTH IN THE MARITIMES

Nova Scotia is the only place in North America where the winter moth has become established. But it could spread throughout the Maritimes unless halted.

The pest is of European origin and was probably introduced to this continent on nursery stock. It has spread slowly since it was found on the south shore of Nova Scotia 25 years ago. But during the last 10 to 12 years, winter moth has worked its way west into the Annapolis Valley.

The caterpillars hatch when leaf buds open in the spring. They strip the leaves from unsprayed apple trees and some shade and forest trees. Maturing quickly, they fall to the soil and by the end of July are pupating. In November the pupae become moths and are soon ready to lay their eggs on the rough areas of trees. The females are wingless, which helps to account for the slow progress of the pest into other areas. On the other hand, it has few parasites and scientists are bringing some in from Europe to try to hold the pest in check.

A W. MacPhee, of the federal research station at Kentville, says the winter moth can be controlled by spraying the trees in spring with four ounces of Guthion in 100 gallons of water.

An estimated 150,000 visitors have toured the GM of Canada South Plant passenger car assembly lines at Oshawa in the past eight years. A walking tour would take days to complete so visitors travel by motorized "train."

There is no preventive or cure for leukemia.

JUNIOR RED CROSS

Junior Red Cross in Nova Scotia will have a new director commencing July 1. She is Mrs. Blanche Baker who has been field supervisor for Junior Red Cross in this province since 1955.

The new director's appointment was announced Friday by Doctor J. K. P. Moffatt, Chairman of the Provincial Junior Red Cross Committee and Nova Scotia's deputy minister of education. Mrs. Baker succeeds Miss Elizabeth 35 years.

More than 1,200,000 cars and trucks have been built at the huge assembly plant of General Motors of Canada in Oshawa.

More than 100,000 claims were paid for Blue Shield subscribers during 1960.

RAIL TICKETS BY MAIL

If you want a simple and convenient way of obtaining a railway ticket, CNR has the answer.

Just pick up your phone. Starting June 1, Canadian National will introduce another innovation for rail travelers, tickets by mail. The new plan is the first to be offered by a railway in Canada.

Any person in Canada will be able to pick up his phone call the nearest CN passenger sales office and receive a rail ticket in the mail.

The only conditions: The applicant has only to call sufficiently in advance. He must either hold a CN credit card or be listed in the local telephone directory at the address and with the telephone number given when requesting the ticket.

Payments for the tickets can also be made by mail, using a self addressed envelope accompanying the tickets.

Commuter tickets, Maple Leaf Package Tours and tickets on other than CN lines can not be purchased under this plan.

Under the new system, travelers will no longer have to contend with bad weather, heavy traffic or parking problems to pick up a ticket. Simply make one phone call and wait for the mailman.

Approximately $300,000,000 is spent in Canada each year by General Motors for goods, services, wages and taxes. The company makes regular purchases from 4,500 Canadian suppliers.

HOUSING HINTS
Question: Should you hire a contractor before going ahead with building or buying a house?
Answer: Definitely. Most of us over estimate our knowledge and capabilities and this is never more true when we are building or buying a home. A lawyer who spends years learning all about the intricate details of the law will act with much greater prudence than the layman who is often carried away by his enthusiasm and ignorant of the pitfalls that await him. Handling legal formalities should be left to someone experienced in this field.

Sona, or "Solicitation" (pour oeuvres National Acadians), was the subject of a special address to the Association of Acadian Education of Nova Scotia congress held at St. Ann's College auditorium of Church Point.

Alban Diagle of Moncton, N. B., was the special speaker, who dealt with the Sona organization which acts to solicit funds pointed in one campaign when there are several Acadian Association solicit funds. J. Alphonse Deveau of Salmon River presided.

Changes which will take place this year in the university courses of St. Ann's were outlined briefly by the president, Rev. L. d'Entremont. The freshmen class will follow the customary program but sophomores will have the option of selecting certain subjects.

The choral group of Clare District High School led by Alain Doucet of the high school staff sang several French numbers.

The following officers were elected: president, Prof. Rene LeBlanc, Little Brook, replacing J. Alphonse Deveau of Salmon River; Yarmouth; Stan Sarrette, West Pubnico; directors, Rev. L. d'Entremont, Church Point; Marg. LeBlanc, St. Bernard; Rev. Louis Supette, Quispam; Mrs. J. Emile LeBlanc, West Pubnico; Dr. Elvan Melanson, Ste. Anne du Ruisseau; Mrs. Edith Deveau, Salmon River and Rudolph Doucet of Wolfegord.

The association went on record as supporting the request for a French language satellite station in Clare and Argyle municipalities. The association has requested previously for a bilingual superintendent at the parks at Grand Pre and Annapolis Royal. They were also working on a program for having more French

Grand Opening
Carleton Lanes Ltd.

The new Carleton Lanes Ltd., at the corner of Birch and Carleton Streets in Digby, will be officially opened this Saturday. Enclosed in a modern 50x120 ft. concrete block building, the establishment consists of eight modern bowling lanes, fully automatic pin-setters, and the only underground ball return west of Halifax.

Free instruction in bowling will be given to beginners. It is understood. Bowling shoes are available by rental.

Floodlights serve the large free parking area outside and make bright and attractive the entrance in the form of a glassed vestibule.

Those involved in the Carleton Lanes Ltd. bowling establishment are R. H. Marshall, Jack King and George E. Marshall. Mr. Marshall, owner and manager of Central Market for 13 years, is president of the new firm; Mr. King, model score table, control counter, and a modern heating plant. The modern light fixtures are recessed, with direct lighting over the alleys.

About This and That

Paving Program

Well over one hundred were out to vote and to listen in last Thursday on the ratepayers' meeting to decide whether or not we should have a paving program started in the town. While the more than one hundred there represented much less than a quarter of the eligible voters of the town, yet, in relation to the turn-outs at some ratepayers' meetings, the number on Thursday night could well be considered a representative gathering.

If the voters present revealed the thinking of the entire town then we would say that nearly 94 per cent of the town are in favor of borrowing a sum not to exceed $75,000 for the purpose of paving the Digby town streets. Of the 108 votes cast, seven persons expressed opposition to the program.

From general conversation before and after the meeting one would gather that the chief reason for willingness to go on with the program was to rid the town of the dust menace. This in itself would really be sufficient reason, not only, because dust is such a nuisance to the housekeeper, but also because by allaying the dust a health measure is being followed.

Many other reasons for beginning a paving program in town are apparent to those who consider the question but getting back to the meeting which decided the matter we were happy to see the interest displayed and the manner in which it was displayed. One could see that deep consideration had been given the subject by many of the ratepayers and the vote was not going to go through without satisfactory answers to questions. This we considered an indication of a healthy interest in town affairs. None of the questions were thrown as if to balk or confuse the issue but asked as if for a reasonable understanding of the issue and to aid the town fathers in making satisfactory and profitable plans for executing the program. The mayor and councillors were ready with the answers and were also willing, we noted, to take suggestions offered.

Right here we would also like to mention the compliments we heard about the mayor in that in a quiet, unassuming way, without pomp or push, he answered the questions which were placed before the meeting. We would add that there definitely were no signs of "pushing" this program. The decision was definitely the will of those who voted.

School Year Book

Two people in particular, recently, have said, words which are sweet music to our ears: Duncan MacKay, Hill Grove, who looks after the Roll Call letters for the Baptist Church there, said they had been getting their letters done in Digby for 45 years and why should they go any other place when there is a printing office at home.

Another man who said something similar was the supervisor of schools at Weymouth. In the matter of the School Year Book, he said, "I always tell the outside printers when they come along that we have a printing shop at home." We appreciate the views which these men take and feel they are correct in their thinking. After all, it is the home shop (printing or any other service) which supports the churches and schools. It is the home business which supports, promotes and speaks well of the work being done by the churches and schools and furthers interest in the work.

However, now that we have said our little advertising speech (?) we'll get on to what we meant to say. We think the Weymouth Consolidated High School Year Book for 1962 is one of the nicest we have seen for some time whether done at home or abroad. We have been happy and proud via Wallis Print Ltd. to have had a part in printing this book (and that is sincere and not advertising propaganda). We do not take credit for its loveliness although we are frank enough to admit our part of the work was a well done job and would go so far as to say the workmanship surpassed other year books we have seen in the province (more advertising?).

In the first place, we want to congratulate the students on the design of the cover, which is responsible for creating the first and often lasting impression of the book. The cover of the Weymouth school book was done on white cover paper. The design bore the name "Sissiboo Beacon" and the year 1962 with an arrangement of maple leaves. The letters, numbers and leaves were done in glittering gold ink, all smartly outlined in black. Black plastic ring binding added still more smartness to the already beautifully designed cover. Picture pages were printed on glossy paper and the other pages, containing carefully selected materials, were mimeographed by the students. Cost? Enough to say that the Weymouth students have long found that it pays to shop at home.

The Honor Came Twice

We still offer our congratulations to Miss Pauline Handspeker for receiving the Governor General's Medal at the close of the Teacher's College course at Truro. What we want to do is apologize to Diana Mary Wright, Bear River, in writing last week that the medal had not been received here for some time back or something to that effect. On checking our records we find it was the Governor General's Medal which Miss Wright received only back in 1959 when the Provincial Normal College closed. Guess our memory is short.

But, with all the scholarships and bursaries being captured by the clever people in Digby County, it is difficult to remember who won what.

Which all reminds us — congratulations to all this year's scholarship and bursary winners in Digby County. Each week since they started in the Spring seems to add one or more to the list. Our apologies to Diana and congratulations to all.

Water Safety

The warm weather is with us again, school is out, and Canadians will be getting to the nation's lakes and rivers to enjoy the pleasures of water recreation.

Out of the millions who will be enjoying these pleasures, it is probable that nearly a thousand will not enjoy them for very long. They are the ones who are destined to die the horrible death of drowning. Their pleasure will suddenly be interrupted when they will find themselves in the predicament of not being able to get that badly needed breath of air. They will be horrified by the thought that they have no choice but to breathe in the very substance which they thought to be their source of enjoyment a few seconds before. Their lungs won't hold out any longer. They will be in the helpless state of knowing that they are going to die and not being able to do anything about it. It's not long before they are mercifully made unconscious by the lack of oxygen.

It's human nature to assume that this could never happen to one's self, but there's no sense in hiding from the horror of drowning by saying, "Oh, it could never happen to me". One should face the facts that it has happened to many thousands of Canadians and that there is a possibility of it happening to every individual that goes anywhere near the water.

The Canadian Red Cross does its best to inform Canadians of the hazards involved in water recreation. But water safety, to all intents and purposes, is a very personal affair, for it is only through the individual's response to water safety knowledge that the drowning statistics can be cut down.

Over-confidence in water, and fear of the water are the two extremes of approach. Somewhere in between is the correct one. It's a level-headed approach that is somewhat of a mixture of the two extremes but is distinct in itself. It amounts to facing the water with confidence but, at the same time, giving it its due respect.

We can't live without water. It's necessary for our own survival. But whether it becomes a killer depends entirely on each individual that uses it for reasons other than those meant for survival. Whether those thousand potential victims go through the agony of struggling for that one badly needed breath of air depends on clear thinking now. It's their decision.

In conclusion be sure and follow the elementary rules of water safety. Learn to swim; don't go into the water beyond your depth until you can swim. Don't tire yourself on your first swim of the season and don't go beyond the point of no return. Learn how to apply artificial respiration and if you should get into difficulties keep calm and don't panic. Try and float until assistance arrives. This summer be water wise.

Going On Vacation?

Summer driving, on vacation or everyday routine, can be enjoyable, claims the Canadian Highway Safety Council. Promoting its vacation-time campaign called Slow Down and Live, the Council offers these ideas for happier summer motoring:

Be calm. Take it easy. Let the hectic drivers go on their feverish ways. You'll arrive a few car-lengths behind them, cool and at ease while their temperatures are high and nerves jangling.

On a trip, try different routes, main highways one way, secondary roads returning. Take time to explore the side roads, too. Some interesting things can be found off the beaten path.

Don't be afraid of expressway highways. They may appear frantic traffic lanes at first, but relax. Wait your chance to enter, match the speed of the other cars as soon as you can. If you want to drive more slowly, stay in the right-hand lane. Always signal first when you change lanes. Plan ahead. Getting off an expressway is like getting out of a revolving door except that if you miss your exit you may have to drive 30 miles to the next one.

Take care of yourself. Your life and the lives of your passengers are in your hands. Stop often, at least every two hours or 100 miles. Rest well. Have a coffee, tea, or milk. Night is man's natural time to sleep so drive in daylight, stop early, sleep plenty.

Taking youngsters in a car on a long vacation trip requires pre-planning on the part of parents. First, make children ride in the back seat, and put another adult or an older child back there with them. There's more padding and less danger of injury in a sudden stop when they're in the back. Seat belts will eliminate rough housing as well as provide security for youngsters. Boredom of children can actually be a hazard to the driver. Keep them occupied with games, or prepare a bag of surprises individually wrapped to be opened at certain intervals. Stop several times a day to play with children. Baseball, tag or racing provide vigorous exercise they need. Carry snacks for hungry hours when you can't find a place to eat. Don't include lollipops or ice cream on a stick though, for a sudden bump or swerve could hurt a child's eyes or mouth. Especially with children, plan your trip so you can stop travelling while it's still daylight. This gives children rest from confinement and helps keep Dad in shape for the next day's stretch of driving.

People who plaster their car windows with stickers, showing where they have been during their summer vacations, impress nobody but themselves. Such stickers reduce visibility for drivers. Legislation in Nova Scotia states that no unauthorized sticker or sign may be placed on any windshield, side wing, side or rear window of any vehicle. Before you pile items on the shelf above the back seat, stop and think: Will they interfere with the driver's vision to the rear? Could they become missiles aimed at the back of someone's head in case of a collision or sudden stop? If the answer is yes, find another, safer place to store them.

Take care of your car. No vehicle can care for itself, so it's up to you to check lights, tires, horn, glass, wipers, battery, steering regularly. Get to know your car and you'll sense anything wrong in the motor of equipment. Have it fixed NOW or it will fix you!
