1877-1977

One of the jobs I had to do, besides putting and printers devil on the staff, was to... I cleaned one and then... (one day not long after I started to get to the printing plant, I decided to clean the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned for some considerable time.)

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily. He thought the remark pretty good and sensible.

Sometimes the gasoline engine stopped a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and the "Man" if that man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results, Man would then stand back and come over dramatically then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of coaxing."

On other occasions when some papers refused duty for the need, seemed to be broken, "What would I say, "use a little oil" and note remark after that is all it took. They often since have I heard of the value of that remark and the actual need of oil in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like, the time I had "Mac" and four teenage boys who in the spring season of 1968 got together and believe that on wearing and decided to utilize the people built outside Penn Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just out of the pool, nobody else wanted to be around except the four

Clothes were taken off and, for the first time, the four pool, nobody was intended to be around them. As the boys, on thought or time for bathing suits, as in the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in. The rest quickly followed and across the pool the swim. "Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Daily Courier" had a good story on the episode: "Four Boy Swims Officially Open Pines Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the four? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Carl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars (second world war), Kenneth, was awarded the Victoria Cross; Sidney L. Korman, was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor; Smith, now prominent dragboat, for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby whodunnit poster; and myself.

As a young teenager I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day I was asked to tell how about writing your version of the story told about "The Marooning of Jerome". I liked and read at least two somewhat different versions of the man who was found marooned on a beach at some point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Dublin County. When found this man's torso had been cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Jerome" appeared to have been a man of some considerable social standing and considerable wealth. However, the man could not or would not say after being asked for by some family in the French who something that sounded like O'Connell either, you'd not, or, would that, who he was or why he was left there. It was, and is, one of Dugby County and different ideas have been put forward concerning this man. However, "Mia" was, I felt on a high level, different about this man. The man has been very well explored by people, and he was a sort of a trouble who started where he started.

Study in the early days. Gain an picture idea.

From the files of the Chamber of January 22, 1960, the following account has been copied concerning Inghel:

Among a number of old newspapers killed and to be friends is a copy of the Scott's Daily Gazette of 1845. 1845 was the Triumphant and among other advertisements contained in the issue before us is one describing the town and township of Digby, and offering for sale certain lots in the town. In this area we are told the township of Digby "extends from the Gut of Cansuque westward to the extremity of the province of Nova Scotia, and contains about 130,000 acres." The town plot is then described.

The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Basin, and trends north from Annapolis Town, and its miles across land from the head of W. Mary's Cove. This land on time the water's edge, partly on level ground, and partly on the declivity of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having with an eastern aspect, a view of the Annapolis Basin and its cultivated shores by twenty miles in extent. It terminates with the Port and River's mouth of that name. It was named by Loyalists from New York in 1782 the coast of which went early in fashion, as, moving in other countries, left the whole free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students and myself, which was "J.J.'s" daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Moberg of Tibet, Precourt, Digby Co.). Some days later the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters; I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print." I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like embossing, stamping, perforating, coating, cutting and mounting paper stock, mixing inks for certain desired colors, and so forth. But, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "p", the printers name for a centered space.

There was a taste of trying to sell a little black one early outside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried it, made several calls (Christmas cards were most of the time at one particular place) and most of the time I was out of order, but

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 4, 1962

VOLUME LXXXVIII, No. 9

Elected 5th Time As President

Mrs. Ina Dillon was re-elected president of the Digby General Hospital Ladies' Auxiliary at the thirty-eighth annual meeting of the group, Monday held at the Nurses' Residence. This marks the fifth consecutive year that Mrs. Dillon has filled the high office.

Other officers elected for the coming year were: first vice president, not filled; second vice president, Mrs. Allen Harris; secretary, Mrs. Mary Stoddard; assistant vice, Mrs. Charles Hersey; treasurer, Mrs. Grace Edwards; assistant treasurer, Miss Dora Wane.

It was reported that $6,550.00 had been raised during the year. The visiting committee had made 890 visits to the hospital visiting patients. It also stated that the management of the hospital fair will be taken over by the Board of Digby General Hospital for coming year.

Guests at the meeting were four members of the Hospital Board.

In addressing the meeting, F. C. Purdy, president of the Digby Hospital Board, said that mechanical trades plans and specifications are expected to be ready shortly and it is hoped tenders for construction of the new 90 bed Digby General Hospital will be called before the end of October.

Mr. Purdy traced the progress of efforts to secure the new hospital, which began late in 1959 and said the Ladies' Auxiliary had played a great part in maintaining public interest in the project and encouraging the hospital board to proceed with efforts to secure the new hospital, despite difficulties that had to be overcome.

With the advent of the new hospital, Mr. Purdy said, the auxiliary would be called upon to play an even more important role. It was through local, volunteer organizations such as the auxiliary, he said, that "we will be able to meet the additional financial requirements for the hospital not met from other sources."

Graduates From Guards Depot

Guardsman Harvey D. Langford, 17, son of Mrs. C. Langford, of Weymouth, Digby Co., N.S., graduated from the Canadian Guards Depot recently following completion of 2 years of basic training.

A member of the Canadian Guards, he commenced advanced training with the 2nd Battalion Canadian Guards at Camp Petawawa.

Harvey enlisted in the Army at Halifax, N.S., in January 1962.

Before entering the Army, Harvey attended Weymouth Consolidated School and was employed by Lewis Lumber Company.

Form New Association

Fish and Game Associations in western Nova Scotia have decided to unite and form a new organization, representative of associations in the whole western area of the province.

Decision to unite the game associations was made at a meeting of representatives of fish and game organizations from the western counties area, held at Defuga Lodge of the Digby East Fish and Game Association.

The new organization will be known as the Western Nova Scotia Conservation Society and the first meeting will be held in Digby, December 9. Each association in the western area of the province will be asked to send three representatives to the meeting.

Provisional officers of the new organization, elected at the meeting, were Jack Nichols, Digby, president; James Buchanan, Liverpool, vice-president, and Victor Cardoza, Digby, secretary.

It was stated at the meeting that the new organization would provide a forum for conservation associations in the western end of the province to air and deal with problems common to the area. It would also provide an opportunity for development of full area support for resolution to be submitted to the provincial body.

Jack Nichols, president of the Digby East association and a governor of the provincial body, said there was great dissatisfaction throughout the whole western area of the province regarding the provincial association. He said voting regulations seemed to weigh the association in favor of the eastern part of the province.

Meetings of the governors as required by the constitution were not being held, he said, and officers of the association had on occasion publicly committed the organization to courses of action that the association had not had opportunity to endorse or reject.

Mr. Nichols said, however, that he was in accord with opinions expressed at Sunday's meeting that the New Western Nova Scotia Conservation Society should take no action at this time to have its member associations break away from the provincial body.

Plan Busy Week

Fire Prevention Week will get off to a start by Digby Fire Department on Sunday when the volunteer firemen will parade to church at 10:30 for 11 o'clock service at the Salvation Army. All volunteer members as well as honorary members and Warden are asked to take part in this important week.

On Sunday afternoon the boys will take part in an extensive distribution program of folders and general information to the public in connection with the prevention of fires. Also a display will be put in one of the store windows in the shopping area and during the week inspection programs will be carried out in various parts of town at different times. All public places will be inspected, as well as dwellings and other areas.

As part of Fire Prevention campaign this activity will not only be carried out during Fire Prevention Week but will also be continued throughout the year. Also it is expected to have Auxiliary Fire Department members organized and trained in conjunction with the regular fire department. These classes will be carried out in co-operation with Civil Defence program and up to fifteen members will be enrolled to take the first course commencing the last part of October. Anyone over eighteen years of age wishing to take these courses should contact the Secretary of the Fire Department for further information.

Please do not give fire place to start.

Trinity Evening Guild will meet with Mrs. Allison Davis, Tuesday at 8 p.m. with Mrs. Ralph Wright co-hostess.

Outline Plans For Campaign

A meeting of the Board of Directors of the Digby County Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association was held at the Hedley House, Smith's Cove, at 8:00 p.m. on Wednesday, September 26th.

Twenty members were present, including Mr. Andrew Crook, Executive Director of the Nova Scotia Division of the Canadian Mental Health Association. The President welcomed several new members - Rev. Mother St. Antoine de Jesus, Principal of Ecole Guay School, Saultierville, Rev. Mother Marie Charles, teacher at the Clare District High School, Meteghan River, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Hoare, and Mrs. Bradford Barton, Acadiaville.

After the minutes of the last meeting were read and approved, several reports were presented.

Mr. Stanley Moklovan, chairman of the Campaign Committee, outlined plans for the Mental Health Campaign which will be held during the month of October. These included house to house canvassing - this is the normal source of campaign income and the best single means of raising money. The territory is to be divided into the following areas headed by a zone chairman: French Shore, Mr. and Mrs. S. LeBlanc; New Tusket, Hassett, Havelock Easton and Hilltown, Mrs. Elton Ford; Weymouth, Rev. E. C. Irwin; Acadiaville, Mrs. B. Barton; Bear River, Mrs. H. Dunn; Smith's Cove, Mrs. C. Raymond; Centreville, East Ferry, Mrs. H. Morehouse; leaving Digby town, Plympton and the Islands not covered yet. The Zone Chairmen will be responsible for the appointment of Team Captains who, in turn, will find canvassers. Other events which will take place will be canvassing of local businesses and head offices of large firms who supply the area, letters to patients inviting donations, the holding of a Halloween Hop at the Lions Hall, Digby and one in Clare; a pantry sale to be held in the shop formerly Chan's Coffee Shop; a special fund raising event sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Digby; and a Poster Contest for the school children of the Digby area, Weymouth and Clare Municipality, to publicize Mental Health - prizes will be awarded.

Mr. H. Deveau, chairman of the Housing Committee, reported that this committee is presently exploring several possibilities in view of acquiring permanent premises to be used by the Digby Clinic.

The possibility of holding a workshop to study the "Tyhurst Report" was also discussed. The "Tyhurst Report" is the result of a five year study of psychiatric treatment services in Canada, by the Canadian Mental Health Association's Committee on Mental Health Services. Many members showed interest in such a study.

Before the meeting adjourned, refreshments were served by the management of the Hedley House and a very hearty vote of thanks went to Mrs. M. P. Gott and those concerned for their hospitality.

The next meeting of the Digby County Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association will be held at the Clinic, in Digby, on November 8.

Red Cross Branch Reopens

The Digby Red Cross Branch last week reopened its workroom for regular weekly meetings, which will be held as usual every Wednesday afternoon. Quilting was resumed with a fairly good attendance.

The President, Mrs. R. B. Lent, conducted the September business meeting of the Branch, when reports were received on the various Red Cross activities which have been carried on during the summer recess. The work of the Disaster Relief Committee goes on and on, regardless of whether or not meetings are held, and the chairman, Mrs. George Winfield, reported 11 families supplied with clothing during the summer and early fall months also bedding given to a cancer patient. Thanks were expressed for the assistance rendered by Mrs. Gladys Budrow, who has contributed on quilt per month to this committee.

The work of the Sickroom Loan Cupboard has also been continuous, with all hospital beds, wheelchairs and crutches in use at the present time. Many loans have been made during the summer months and it was reported that one patient had been waiting and hoping for the use of a wheel chair for some time. After discussion in regard to finances, it was decided that the funds raised by the Ways and Means Committee were sufficient for the Branch to purchase an additional wheel chair, at an approximate cost of $80, and that the first loan be made to this patient.

Mrs. H. M. Warne, chairman of the Women's Work Committee, welcomed the workers back and reported new materials on hand for knitting, sewing and quilting, expressing the hope that more workers might be available to make them up.

In a report on the recent Blood Donor Clinic, sponsored by the Lions Club, assisted by Red Cross members, Mrs. Lent stated that the total number of donors was 130. With the Digby quota set at 200, it was regretted that our total had dropped since the Spring clinic, and the hope expressed that we might be able to make a better showing the next time. Thanks were expressed for the splendid co-operation received from Bear River blood donors at our clinics.

Following the business session the usual social hour and cup of tea were enjoyed.

It was agreed that E. Scott Eaton, Town Clerk, is to attend the annual short course for Municipal Finance Officers, to be held in Halifax, October 24, 25 and 26.

The Police report showed that during the month of September, 12 complaints were registered of which 7 required some investigation. All except 2 have been terminated to the satisfaction of those concerned. 6 cases warranted court action, 1 under the criminal code, 4 under the N. S. Liquor Act, 2 motor vehicle accidents were investigated, 1 person sent to Dorchester Penitentiary and 3 boys were sent to the School for Boys in Shelburne.

The rainy weather was blamed for the hold up of the paving program in town. It was reported that most of the rock has been crushed. Lee Marshall's rock pit in Jordantown is being used. With good weather it is expected that the paving will be completed by the deadline, October 31.

Accounts totalling $1,917.42 were passed and okayed for payment.

About This and That Do Your Share To Help Prevent Fires

Will you make newspaper headlines in the coming year? 13 children, 6 women and 15 men did in 1961, a total of 34 killed by fire. These people did not have to die. Reasonable fire safety and fire prevention would have prevented much, if not all of this needless loss of life. The elementary fire safety measures were the prime factors in the loss of life.

There were 2,553 fires in 1961: for a monetary loss of $3,093,709. Of the 2,553 fires, 965 were caused by careless smoking, with stoves, furnaces, etc., second with 270 fires. Surely here we can be more careful. 965 fires from smoking alone. How many could have been prevented?

During the past few years, as a result of government co-operation and a complete survey, most of the municipal homes have been provided with full automatic sprinkler protection. A number of fires have proved that this protection was effective and justified examples:

June, 1962, Annapolis County Home — Fire discovered in basement and fire department called. On arrival of fire department the fire was out, having been extinguished by the operation of one sprinkler head. Without this protection there would probably have been loss of life and heavy property damage.

Cape Breton County Hospital — Fire in concealed space. Fire department called. Fire was confined to the one area by the sprinkler system and brought under control with minimum damage by the fire department. There was no danger to the lives of the patients.

The coming of cold weather always brings a hazard from heating plants and, therefore, this is the time to check our heating equipment to see that it is in safe operating condition. This year a child died in Yarmouth as the result of a fire caused by a defective oil range.

School fire safety is another must. Many schools have fire hazards as yet uncorrected. We can all help by insisting that our children be trained in evacuation. Yes, fire drills are required by law. Fire regulation cards have been approved by educational and fire authorities and are available from the Fire Marshal's Office, Halifax. Be sure our children have had sufficient practice in fire drills to be sure of getting out of the school without delay.

Fire prevention officials, municipal and civic bodies and others are waging a continual campaign against fire. The most elaborate fire engines and equipment in the world do not stop fires from starting. They try to save what is left. The best way of stopping fire damage is preventing fire from starting and that is where the individual comes in. Your help is essential in stopping fires before they start.

The slogan for Fire Prevention Week is "Don't give fire a place to start." Let us follow this slogan and help those who are trained to help us. Assist your Fire Department by removing or correcting the fire hazards in your home or place of business. If you do not know ask your Fire Chief or any member of your department. We're glad to help.

Remember: Fire Department Inspector visits your home on a non-emergency basis. We come to see and hear what we can to help you prevent fires. We are not there to inspect and we are not there to fine. We are there to help. There is no substitute for a personal responsibility for fire safety.

Quality Trees Sell Best

It is evident that Nova Scotia shippers should be more careful when selecting Christmas trees for export. A concerted effort should be made to silence the complaint that a number of Canadian trees sold in the United States are cut without much attention to quality.

Most evergreens are used for Christmas trees but some command better prices than others. There is no one best type of tree, but preference seems to run to Scotch pine, balsam fir, Douglas fir and white spruce. The popular sized trees last year were from six to eight feet tall. In New York City, however, quality trees in the four-to-five-foot size sold fairly well, especially for use in small apartments. More attention to the relationship between sizes and the market might mean more sales.

Last year 41% of Nova Scotia's entire Christmas tree exports came from the forests of Lunenburg County, where 1,094,700 trees were shipped to United States markets. With such unlimited wealth available exporters aid in blocking future markets by shipping trees of no value. It is understood that a significant factor in the light sale of balsam last year was the high percentage of waste trees per shipment.

Wonder Questions?
ANSWERED BY THE RESEARCH SERVICE OF THE BOOK OF KNOWLEDGE

I wonder... Curiosity is a priceless gift. A youngster's daily questions indicate a bright, inquiring mind. They should be answered intelligently. In this column each week in cooperation with The Book of Knowledge will print those questions... and their answers most frequently asked by children of their parents.

HOW CAN A SOFT CLOUD MAKE A NOISE WHEN IT THUNDERS?

It is not the bumping of clouds together that causes thunder. Clouds are too soft for that. Thunder is due to the disturbance of the air when electricity passes from one cloud to another or from a cloud to the earth. As the electricity passes, it causes the air nearby to become heated and to expand violently. We hear the waves caused by this violent expansion of the air as a crash or roll of thunder. Usually, thunder follows a flash of lightning.

WHY DO THE TELEGRAPH WIRES HUM?

Because telegraph and telephone wires are stretched from pole to pole, they often vibrate or tremble when the air is in motion. If the wires vibrate rapidly in the breeze or the wind, they produce sounds that our ears can hear. Just as we can hear humming of the bee's wings. Sometimes when we put our hands on the telegraph poles, we can feel the whole pole vibrating, too, from the movement of the wires.

We ourselves are able to hum because the column of air in our throats vibrates. Our tightly stretched vocal cords. In each case, something that is stretched from one support to another is set in vibration by air currents.

Investment In Life

The Canadian baby born in 1930 could expect to live until age 60; today's baby can look forward to 68. Along with this increased life expectancy have come many health advances in the last three decades. Enormous progress has been shown in public health with the inauguration of the health grants in 1948. Once hopelessly crippled children have been rehabilitated, mental patients once given up as incurable have been cured, and the ill in general get better treatment today. Both in the nature of its services and its costs, there is a wide difference between the hospital of the '60's and its predecessor.

In achieving this general brightening of the health picture, national health grants, federal money spent on health have played their part. Money has been channelled into many health areas, also hospital planning and building.

Health is the primary responsibility of the provinces, but the federal government assists them with development of new programmes.

This situation is very much like that of a partnership wherein one partner will supervise the administrative structure of the enterprise and provide while the other party sees to the executive side of the programme. With this comparison in mind, it is easy enough to understand the reason for the national health grants, which are administered according to set regulations and principles, towards the benefit of the provinces and territories, including the humblest hamlet as well as the most progressive centre.

Health grants are funds provided by Parliament through the Department of National Health and Welfare. Each fiscal year, estimates are voted and approved in Parliament for the administration and the utilization of the monies. These sums are then applied, with the Minister's approval, to the assistance of public health programmes and hospital planning and construction. The authorized expenditure last year amounted to $48 million. This tremendous amount of money was applied towards the following health grants which have done much to improve health services.

Mental health, although one of the chief concerns of our country, is being dealt with in a very vigorous manner thanks to the assistance of federal grants, in extending programs for the prevention and treatment of mental illness. Many new community mental health clinics for both children and adults stress prevention or the early treatment of mental illness, while new treatment procedures and larger and better trained staffs in mental hospitals have resulted in the return to society of many patients once thought to be incurable.

Child and Material Health have been assisted greatly in an accelerated and intensified programme for the improvement of material and infant care. Fewer deaths, both maternal and infantile, have been reported in recent years; children's health has been checked and maintained through the well mother and baby clinics and immigration programmes provided by county health units, established through health grants. Statistics show that in the last two years maternal deaths decreased from 5.6 to 5.5 per 10,000 live births and the infant death rate from 30 to 28 per 1,000 live births.

Crippled children and adults benefit by an approved programme of medical rehabilitation and prevention and treatment of crippling conditions. Tuberculosis control and cancer control also are aided by health grants to expand their program of detection, free treatment and rehabilitation. Tuberculosis deaths are definitely on the decline; and cancer victims are getting more and more conscious of

Mrs. Lemuel Raymond of Centreville, Mrs. Harold Crowell of Sandy Cove, left Sunday for Boston by TCA, Yarmouth, while there they will visit with Miss Elizabeth Raymond before continuing on to Washington, D. C., to visit with Mrs. Raymond's daughter, Mrs. Wilda Smith, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Eben D. Smith of Medford, Mass., were overnight guests of Mrs. Myrtle Jackson, Monday, Sept. 24, while working in Boston, Mass. Mrs. Jackson lived in the home of Mr. Smith and his parents.

Mrs. J. M. Wallis is spending a week in Ottawa, Ont. She accompanied her daughter, Mrs. D. G. Garthum, and grandson, Jimmy, who left Friday from Yarmouth via TCA.

Mrs. Ann Wilson of Ashmore spent a couple of days last week at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Harley Weir, Mr. Weir and family.

Doctors Patricia and William H. O'Neill of New York City returned after visiting Dr. Patricia O'Neill's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Matheon. They were accompanied back by their twin sons, Stephen and Stuart, where they will reside after spending a year and a half with their grandparents.

The Baptist Auxiliary will meet on Tuesday evening with Mrs. Russell Harris.

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Johnson and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Johnson spent two weeks visiting relatives in Ontario.

A THOUGHT STARTER

Ronald C. MacCormack

Starving Man

People are hungry. It is often an appetite that beef steak and pie a la mode will not satisfy. Yes, food will erase hunger, but are people mere animals? There are those who seem to believe that the knife and fork, alone, will gratify every human craving. Consequently, the daily overstuffing of the body has led to indigestion, disease, bulkiness of weight, and common weariness.

In the eager race for a full stomach, a fat checking account, and all that goes with plush mid 20th century living, this creature we call man has literally starved a vital part of his make up.

God elevated man by building in him a soul, a spiritual nature, which has been sadly overlooked and undernourished. The way many treat themselves in this regard is criminal. There is a penalty. It is the nagging misery of that prolonged empty as a vacuum feeling which food, drink or pleasure will never relieve.

Where can one find food for the soul? Others have found it in front of an open Bible, on their knees before God, and in humility of surrender. Our Lord clearly says, "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness; for they shall be filled". Failure to feed the body brings death, while failure to feed the soul is worse.

Indeed, "What shall it profit a man, if he gain (hunger after) the whole world", if he starves his own soul.

The excellent treatments provided through their provincial units. Hospital Construction Grants have assisted Canadian hospitals in expanding their facilities by awarding them sums of money for building purposes, renovations or alterations. This means larger and better equipped hospitals to serve a greater population.

The Public Health Research Grant assists hospitals and universities in stimulating and developing public health research in many phases of medicine. From time to time a province, or two or more provinces will work jointly on such projects, resulting in useful findings which will benefit all Canadians.

The Professional Training Grant has enabled hospitals, laboratories, provincial and local health services to get competent help through special training of doctors, nurses, dentists, sanitariums, laboratory technicians and other specialized personnel.

Dental health, both curative and preventive, is provided in some areas, specially in the remote regions where access to dentists is made impossible by distance and geographical accidents. For instance in Northern Ontario, the public health grants assist in the cost of staffing and maintaining a dental railway car, which serves the remotest outposts. VD control and radiological and laboratory services have equally been assisted by federal sums of money.

Fishing Ports Active

A glance at the general fishing picture by the information service of the department of fisheries in Halifax showed that fishing was generally good last week with most fishing ports active.

In the Tiverton area total landings were light but some individual boats had good catches. Druggers in the 65 foot class had good fishing with catches ranging up to 50,000 pounds. Meteghan druggers reported only fair fishing and most of the fish caught were small.

While there was considerable fishing activity in the Wedgeport area, many fishermen were engaged in gathering Irish moss. Spells of poor weather interfered, but a fair harvest was brought ashore to dry. Dried moss brought fishermen seven cents a pound while two cents a pound was paid for wet moss.

DO IT YOURSELF?

There is a time when, if you do it yourself, you will likely rue it yourself.

That is when, according to Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society, you try your own hand at attempting to treat arthritis and other rheumatic diseases. If you really go into this do it yourself treatment, you'll find yourself joining a group of otherwise fairly sensible people who try special diets which are supposed to "oil the joints," wearing copper bracelets; taking remedies which promise impossible results or, even crawling under bramble bushes!

The do it yourself craze is great for the handyman who has the skills and time to take on various household projects. But it is dangerous in arthritic and the rheumatic diseases.

Experience shows arthritis sufferers to be particularly susceptible to trying all sorts of treatment without the advice of a doctor. Such attempts at do it yourself treatments are dangerous. Dangerous, says the Society, because, while many forms of arthritis are not serious or crippling, they can become so through neglect, or improper treatment. The number one rule to follow is to see your doctor, according to C.A.R.S. authorities. There are effective measures of treatment available, even though specific cures or means of prevention are, as yet, unknown. Through early diagnosis and proper treatment, arthritis often can be controlled and serious disability and deformity prevented.

BACK IN HOME WATERS

One hundred and seventy three year late the good ship Bounty came home to London recently and received a welcome that would have melted the icy heart of Captain Bligh.

As she sailed up the Thames — under the power of her engines only because the wind and heavy traffic in the river made it too dangerous for her to leave her sails spread — Britons cheered and vessels hoisted.

And who should be among those on the Tower Pier to greet her as she slipped into her dock but the new Bligh himself, Actor Trevor Howard.

The arrival of the Bounty was for him something that would make even Tunisia take second place. Last night as the sturdy Nova Scotia built vessel swung at her mooring almost under the shadow of the battlements of the Tower of London a parade of distinguished visitors passed across her decks.

Among those attending a special VIP reception on board were Admiral Louis Mountbatten, Chairman of the Chiefs of Staff; Sir Thomas Butten, Governor of the Tower of London; Major General H. D. W. Sitwell, Keeper of the Jewel House; representatives of the Port of London Authority, the Admiralty and the film industry.

After a 16 day Atlantic crossing from Boston, the Bounty first called in at Calais in France and then headed for Dover where on Wednesday night it ran into some difficulty while still trying to depend upon her canvas. The remainder of the trip into London was made under auxiliary power.

For the last leg of the long voyage "home" Captain Ellsworth Coggins, from Weymouth and Dartmouth, and his 25 man Bluenose crew experienced no trouble. There was no sickness — and no mutiny.

"The only troubles were those experienced by foreign pressmen we picked up at Calais," said one crewman.

"Some of them were not quite used to sailing in a ship of this kind."

Britons were surprised — and perhaps happy — to find that Captain Coggins has become one of the staunchest champions of the skipper of the original Bounty.

"I have read all Bligh's logs and I am convinced that he was no tyrant. He was no more vicious than most of the naval officers of his day and he was a very great seaman and navigator, and above all, he was scrupulously fair," said Coggins.

"The trouble was that his men were too long ashore in Tahiti. They didn't want to leave a paradise like that." While here Captain Coggins plans to visit the birthplace and the grave of Bligh in Lambeth, south of the river, to pay his respects.

There is no doubt that many of the Nova Scotians in the 25 man crew are hoping that they will be able to sail her back to their home province for its last days.

"This is where she belongs," said one of its 23 year old "veterans".

New Radio Network

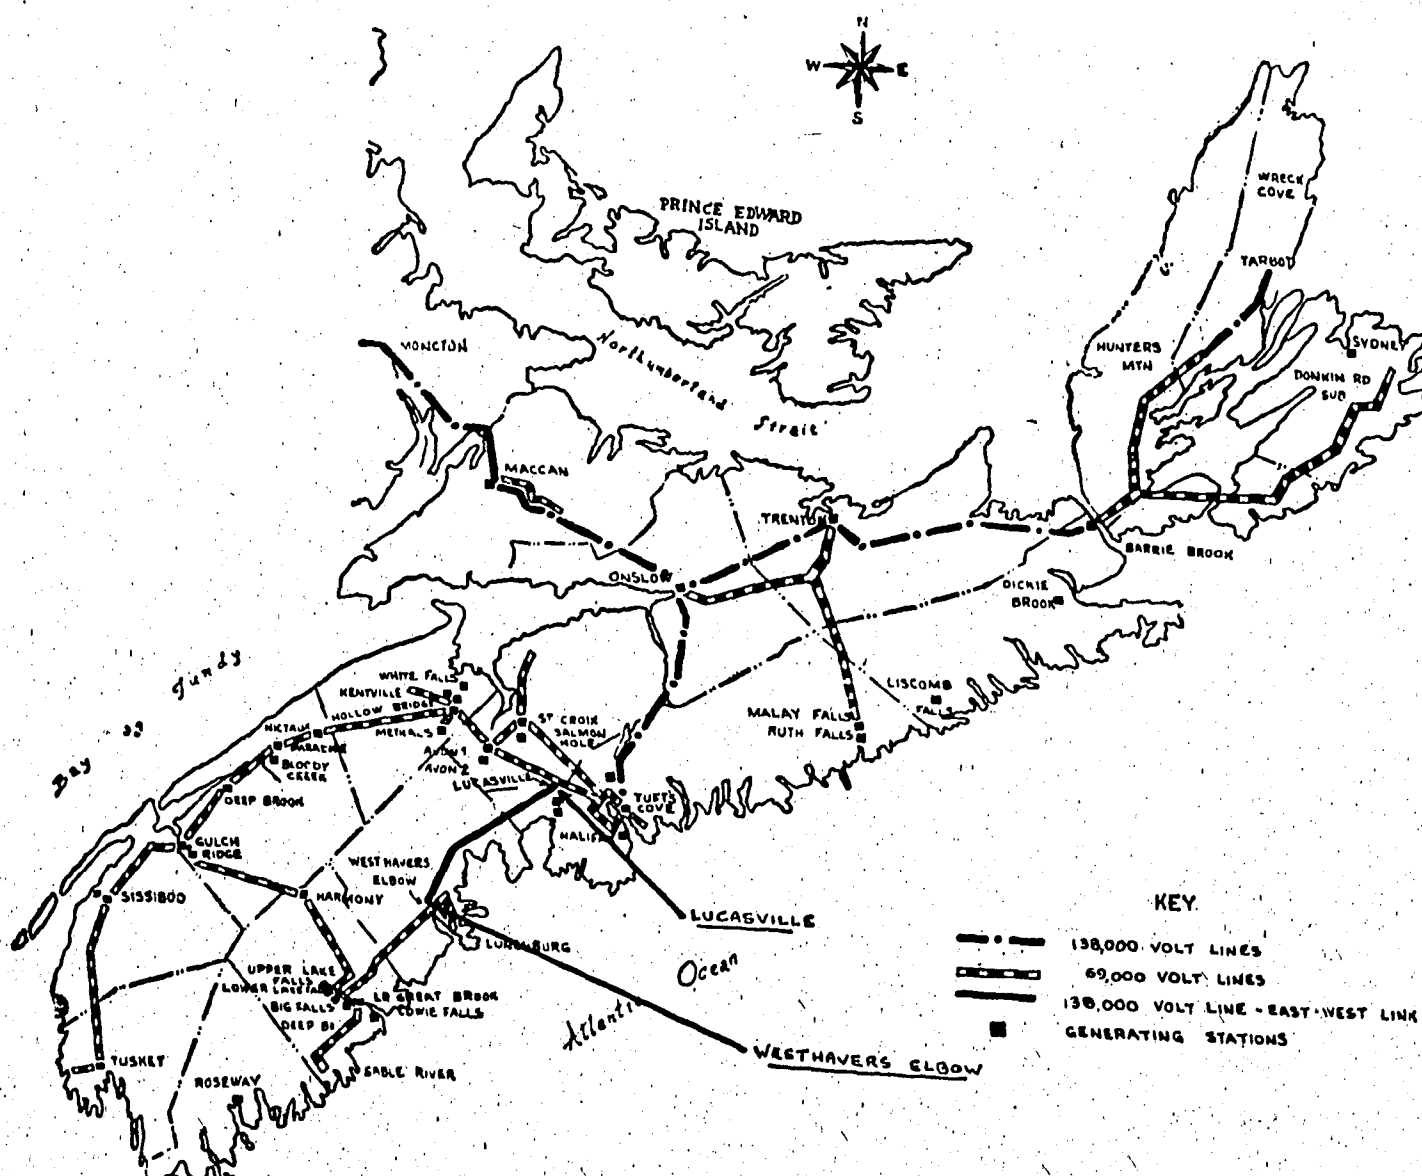

Canada's new coast to coast radio network was put into service on Monday. Called the CBC Radio Network, it replaces the two long standing English language radio networks, the Dominion and the Trans Canada.

Alphonse Quimet, president of the CBC, said the new network will provide a guaranteed weekly minimum of 26 hours, 7 minutes of national service.

The network consists of 79 stations, 24 CBC owned and 55 privately owned, together with 81 low power repeater stations which makes possible the expected coverage of about 90 per cent of English speaking Canadians.

The new service will in no way effect CBAC, Digby, which will continue to be part of the CBC French language network.

Major Power Project

The first stage of a major power project, designed to strengthen and further integrate the power facilities of Nova Scotia, is now in operation along the South Shore of the province.

The building of the new transmission line from Lucasville in Halifax County to Westhavers Elbow in Lunenburg County, is the initial phase of a two phase project jointly undertaken by Nova Scotia's two major power utilities, the Nova Scotia Power Commission and the Nova Scotia Light and Power Company, Limited.

The section of line built this year is 43 miles long, and is presently operating at 69,000 volts. Eventually, when the Nova Scotia Power Commission builds the Westhavers Elbow to Liverpool portion of that line, the operating voltage will be raised to 130,000 volts.

The new transmission line will provide greater responsibility of power supply and service continuity in the western sector of the province. Serious water shortages for hydro generation have been experienced in the past. With the new line in operation, thermal power from Halifax and Trenton can be used to reinforce the hydro facilities in the western part of the province during low water periods. On the other hand, during flood periods, surplus hydro power can be fed back into the grid. Substantial operating economies can thus be realized.

New and existing industries of any size in the western part of Nova Scotia are now guaranteed an adequate and reliable power supply.

The existing high voltage grid, exclusive of the new

GRAND OPENING

Thursday, October 4

Weymouth Motors Ltd. Showroom

KENNETH HANKINSON
President & General Manager, Weymouth Motors Ltd.

RENOVATED UNDER SUPERVISION OF L. C. RUBY, WEYMOUTH

Weymouth Motors Ltd. which this week marks the official opening of its new show room is the latest, most modern and best equipped automotive sales and service centre in Western Nova Scotia.

Starting out seventeen years ago in what was previously a blacksmith shop, the firm of Weymouth Motors Ltd. is a tribute to the faith of its president, Ken Hankinson, and his determination to succeed.

When it first began in 1945, in a blacksmith shop which Mr. Hankinson bought from his father, Weymouth Motors had little to go on except the faith of its founder. Two men only were employed and the firm did not even have an automotive dealership.

One year later the Pontiac, Buick and GMC truck dealership was secured and Weymouth Motors Ltd. began to grow by leaps and bounds. By the following year the firm had outgrown its original premises in the old blacksmith shop and moved its operations into new and more spacious quarters on the east side of Weymouth's main street. These quarters soon proved inadequate and they were expanded for the first time in 1951. The old blacksmith shop, which had been retained, was renovated and enlarged in 1952 to serve as a showroom and warehouse and in 1954 a body and paint shop was built and added to the expanding automotive service centre being created at Weymouth Motors Ltd. In 1960 the new quarters into which the firm had moved in 1947 which were enlarged in 1951, were again enlarged to more adequately accommodate the main office of the company, the stock room and service department.

This year's addition of new show rooms gives Weymouth Motors Ltd. a total floor space of 15,837 square feet. There is also an additional 10,333 square feet in the paved used car lot. Floor space in the new show room is 2,625 square feet and the conference room on the second floor of the new show room has a floor area of 490 square feet. A huge customer parking area has been created at the rear of the main building on the east side of the street, measuring several acres in size.

The building housing the new show room is the former Weymouth theatre, purchased by Weymouth Motors Ltd. in December 1961. The original building has been completely renovated and remodelled throughout and now is one of the most attractive and well equipped automotive show rooms in the province. The front of the building is paneled in B. C. red wood and has wide, full length display windows. An attractive canopy has been erected across the front and modern lighting provides exterior illumination for the building.

The interior of the new 75 x 35 foot show room is paneled in matching shades of pre-finished plywood with acoustic tile ceiling and an attractive tile floor. The rear of the main show room is partitioned for offices, rest rooms and a furnace room.

On the second floor a spacious conference room has been provided. Fluorescent lighting throughout provides splendid illumination.

Addition of the new show room to the Weymouth Motors Ltd. automotive centre has meant that the plant now is comprised of five separate buildings, all housing various departments. The body and paint shop, erected in 1954, is equipped with the finest in painting and body equipment. The paint shop includes an infra-red dryer which hardens newly painted surface within a very short time so that they are "factory new". The latest and best in body tools are in use in the body shop. These include a frame straightener to restore original shape to vehicle frames that may have been bent in an accident. In charge of the body and paint shop is Richard Amiraute, who is the senior employee of Weymouth Motors Ltd., having been with the firm since it began 17 years ago.

Weymouth Motors Ltd. proudly claims to give all its customers "Red Carpet Service" and this applies to every aspect of its dealings with the public, whether it be the sale of a new vehicle, service and repair work or sale of a used unit. All of the staff are fully trained to serve the public and factory trained to service vehicles handled by Weymouth Motors Ltd. Included in servicing equipment is a front end aligner and wheel balancer. Foreman of the service department is long time Weymouth Motors Ltd. employee, Willis LeBlanc. A complete line of GMC parts is carried and close contact is maintained with parts and accessories suppliers so that parts required for repairing non-GMC vehicles may be quickly obtained. Manager of the parts department is Curtis Hankinson.

Its used car lot, which is a sizeable paved area, adjacent to the new show room, carries a good selection of "Good Will" used cars and trucks. Every vehicle which is placed on the used car lot of Weymouth Motors Ltd. is thoroughly checked, serviced and cleaned before being offered for sale. A part of the original Weymouth Motors Ltd. building now houses the cleaning department for their Good Will used vehicles and here a thorough job of cleaning is carried out on every used unit brought on the premises.

Jared Frankland is sales manager of Weymouth Motors Ltd. and he has a staff of three trained and competent sales personnel. Besides Pontiac and Buick cars, Weymouth Motors Ltd. also carries the splendid new Acadian and the Vauxhall. Rugged and dependable GMC trucks are also sold by Weymouth Motors Ltd. The high volume of new vehicle sales made by the sales staff of Weymouth Motors Ltd. means a constant supply of late model used vehicles which meet the stringent requirements of the "Good Will" label.

From its first beginning in 1945 with a staff of two, Weymouth Motors Ltd. now has a total of 29 on its staff. Of this group nine have had ten and more years of service with the company and have received an engraved silver watch, a testimony of the good working conditions and employer-employee relations existing at Weymouth Motors Ltd.

The rapid expansion of Weymouth Motors Ltd. and the wide range of service which this company offers to the public has meant that its own internal business affairs have also grown rapidly. Office manager and vice president of the firm is Ralph Cosman who oversees the handling of the detailed "paper work" which must be part of a business as large as Weymouth Motors Ltd. Secretary-treasurer of the firm is Mrs. Ken Hankinson. As Weymouth Motors Ltd. has grown and developed and expanded its operations it has played a greater and greater part in the economic life of the village of Weymouth. Ken Hankinson, president and founder of Weymouth Motors Ltd., says that the opening of the new show room this year is just another step in the long range expansion plans of Weymouth Motors Ltd. "All of us, he says, are proud that Weymouth Motors Ltd. is a leader in the field of automotive sales and service and we intend to keep it that way."

Report From Parliament Hill

Hon. George C. Nowlan

The House of Commons is in session again and once more I have the pleasure of reporting to you through the courtesy of my publishers. The opening of Parliament was a dramatic and colorful event, and I have no hesitation in saying that I enjoyed every moment of it.

Some people say we should dispense with all the ceremony and formality of opening day and just march into the House of Commons and get down to business.

Well, if these people had come down with me to the front steps to see the Governor-General and Mrs. Vanier drive up in their horse driven landau, with the parade of soldiers in dress uniform and red coated RCMP, they might change their minds. The opening ceremonies serve to remind us of the high duties we have been elected to discharge, and now that they are carried on television they bring the historic foundations of our Parliamentary system to millions of Canadians. Personally, I never cease to be moved by the opening ceremonies and I remarked afterwards to some of my friends from Nova Scotia, I am probably as thrilled as any 10 year old boy.

Well, we are already hard at work. This session will be an important one as the speech from the Throne suggested. Incidentally, if it weren't for the formality and the ceremony of the opening day, we wouldn't get down to work so quickly. The House of Commons is peculiar creature, as many of you who have visited us here over the years know. Nothing would be accomplished if the rules of procedure were not strictly set out, and the first day of Parliament is given over to making sure that the House will be ready to deal with the debates and the various matters of legislation as they arise.

Of these preparations, the most important by far is the election of the Speaker. Again, some people ask why all the fuss? Why not just pick out some Member of Parliament and tell him to sit in the chair and keep order? This would be simple if the Speaker's job were an easy one. It isn't and frankly I've always been grateful that no one has looked my way when a Speaker has to be appointed. The speaker has to be completely above politics, partisanship and personal feelings. He must be considerate of the rights of every Member of the House, yet firm when a Member abuses these. He has the power to stop debate, channel it if it gets off course, even expel a Member from the Chamber if his conduct is unparliamentary. (There are even cases where a Speaker has had Member locked up behind bars). Unless the Speaker has the respect and confidence of every single Member, he will not be able to perform his duties effectively and keep the business of the House moving.

For the past five years we have been fortunate in having Mr. Roland Michener, a man whom Members of all parties regard as one of the outstanding Speakers in our history. Our new Speaker, Mr. Marcel Lambert, the Member for Edmonton West, promises to be equally outstanding. Traditionally, the office alternates between a French speaking and an English speaking Canadian. Mr. Lambert is the first French speaking Member outside Quebec to be so chosen. This is no accident. It is not generally known that in Alberta alone there are some 100,000 French speaking Canadians, and almost as many in Manitoba. Like the former Prime Minister, the Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, Mr. Lambert grew up thoroughly familiar with both languages.

You will be hearing a good deal about Mr. Lambert during the session. He has a distinguished war record, and was one of that gallant band that landed on the beaches of Dieppe. He commanded a tank squad and so intense was the fighting where he was located that he was listed as "presumed dead". Indeed, his family in Edmonton had already held a funeral service for him when the federal government informed his relatives that he was alive in a German prisoner of war camp. After the war, Mr. Lambert went to the University of Alberta, was a Rhodes Scholar in 1947, and was already a distinguished barrister when he entered federal politics in 1957. I am personally very pleased about his election since Mr. Lambert was my Parliamentary Secretary from 1958 to 1962 and we had many close associations.

In addition, the Senate appointed a new Speaker and there will be many of my friends who were probably delighted to learn that the honor had gone to Senator George White. Senator White was a senior member of the House of Commons when I was first elected, and he very kindly asked me to share his office with him.

The other important event of opening day was the reading of the Speech from the Throne by His Excellency, the Governor General. There has probably been no Speech from the Throne in the post war period that has received as much attention from the press and the public as this one. Part of the reason is probably the composition of the present House, where no single party has an overall majority. Indeed, Mr. Thompson, the leader of the Social Credit party, in speaking in support of Mr. Lambert's election referred to the house of Commons as "this House of minorities", an apt term since each party is in a minority.

As the various proposals contained in the Speech from the Throne come up for consideration in the House, I will report on them fully to you. I am, however, very happy that the Throne Speech contained a proposal to create an Atlantic provinces economic development board. Our own province of Nova Scotia is taking definite measures in stimulating industrial development, and it is my hope that through such a board the federal government will be able to make even a greater contribution to the development of the Atlantic provinces than it did during the last five years.

Other than the opening day of 1958 session, Thursday, saw more freshmen members of the House of Commons than on any other opening day since Confederation. Nor were all the freshmen confined to the House of Commons. There were several in the Senate, including two Nova Scotian friends, Frank Welch from Wolfville and C. O'Leary from Antigonish.

Fifteen 86 Foot
Draggers
Approved

The Fishermen's Loan Board of Nova Scotia approved loans for 15 new draggers of length of 86 feet and over during the first seven months of 1962. Hon. E. A. Manson, Minister of Trade and Industry, said recently.

Nine of the draggers are currently under construction. The Board also approved loans for 84 smaller fishing craft, 18 engines and two items of equipment between January 1 and August 1, Mr. Manson added.

The net value of the loans was $1,668,597.33, a substantial increase over the $627,750.49 approved for the same period of 1961. The 1962 session total was $274,478.79.

The Board, under the supervision of the Department of Trade and Industry, was established in 1944 by an Act of the Legislature to administer the Fishermen's Loan Fund.

It may make loans to a fisherman who is a British subject, has been a resident of Nova Scotia for five years, has at least two years of fishing experience and is between certain age limits.

Fishermen are required to make a down payment varying from 12 per cent, for the construction of a boat, to 57 per cent for purchase. The term of repayment runs up to 12 years in the case of a dragger.

Mr. Manson said the Board considered 154 applications up to August 1, deferring 14 and rejecting 17. Four others were withdrawn.

In 1961, it considered 94 and approved 88. In 1960, there were 84 applications, 75 of which were approved.

The bulk of the loans approved in 1962 were for the 15 draggers — one of which is to be 86 feet long and the others between 92 and 100 feet. The total approved for these boats was $1,305,642.04.

A total of 126,000 was approved for five smaller draggers, $69,120 for three long-liners, $67,120.32 for 66 shore boats, $40,604.20 for four herring seiners, $55,465 for six used boats and $24,645.77 for engines and equipment.

THE BIBLE TODAY

The preparation of a new edition of the Kuoyo Bible for Hong Kong and China has been printed in simplified form. Former editions ran the columns of ideographs up and down the complete length of the page. The new setting has the page divided across the middle and the sectional headings previously printed at the top of the page are now set on separate lines dividing the sacred page into duly titled sections.

The Book of Psalms has been completed in Kuoyo Braille, to be added to the New Testament produced some years ago. A strange situation arises. In the Kuoyo script the Chinese characters themselves convey the meaning and may be pronounced differently in different dialects. Chinese Braille however, is based on sounds. Each Braille letter represents a different sound. So a Cantonese Christian can read and understand the Kuoyo Bible if he has sight, but if he is blind he cannot understand the Braille letters which represent the Kuoyo sounds. So a further Braille Testament will be needed with the Braille letters representing the Cantonese sound. The Braille Scriptures production is being done in Taiwan where translation work in the Seriq, Pailwan, Bunan, Amis and Taiyal languages for the people of the Highlands is also being done.

Brighton Church
Redecorated

Bright in a new coat of white paint, windows repainted and broken panes mended, new roofing, doors and window sashes fresh green, the United Church of Canada building at Brighton stands out in pleasing contrast to the rather drab condition before this work was done. Known as the Barton-Brighton congregation, it was also known in years gone by as the Head of the Bay Methodist Church and earliest records show that in 1860 services were held here. It was then part of the Weymouth Methodist Circuit along with Plympton and North Range, the points alternating in times or hours that services were held. Names still familiar to us at this time include such names as Durling, Cosman, Morehouse, Leat, Adams, Abbott, Van Blarcom, Specht, Johns. Later appear McNeill, Lamberton and others, many of which names are still continued in present church membership.

The former Methodist church came into the great union of churches in 1925 and though membership has fluctuated with the passing years, still of three Sundays a month services are regularly held and attended by the faithful. The women folk are an especially active group in United Church Women. Since church union in 1925 the ministers have been Rev. A. G. Pentz, Rev. M. R. Ewing, Rev. C. U. McNiven, Rev. R. H. H. Barker (1940 to 1944), Rev. Alfred Thorpe, Rev. Ralph Knock, Rev. Ronald M. Cameron, Rev. B. R. MacMartin. Others serving as pastoral supply or student supply include Mr. Eric Fullerton and the present pastor, Lay Supply Mr. Fred I. Withers, who has been serving this charge since July, 1961.

The Church at the Head of the Bay has been generously remembered in legacies from thoughtful former members and friends and it is from these gifts the present work on the building just accomplished has been made possible, though the people, too, are gallantly bearing a share in making the services meaningful and helpful and in maintaining continued operation by their free will offerings.

Help Fight
Mental Illness

During the month of October, which has been chosen by the Digby Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association for their campaign, it is indeed worthwhile to consider what each one of us can do about mental illness.

We should realize that mental illness is Canada's number one health problem. Furthermore, the mentally ill are people just like the rest of us; however, they are people who are troubled, unhappy, needing help. Most people are able to accept this fact, but far too many of us when face to face with someone who is now or once has been mentally ill, react with superstitious fear rather than with a rational understanding of the medical problem involved.

The attitude of the individual citizen is perhaps the most important factor in determining whether or not a mentally ill person can be rehabilitated. The clinic, the hospital can diagnose, treat and return the patient to useful life. Whether or not that person can remain well depends on whether he is wholeheartedly accepted back in his community, by his family, friends, neighbours, work associates, and the other people in his everyday life.

In addition to understanding the nature of mental illness and having a positive attitude toward the problem, every citizen can help through the Mental Health Association. Through your efforts and contributions, you help support, among other things, the local community clinic for the treatment and counselling of those in need of it. Without your support, there can be no clinic.

The Mental Health Association needs your ideas, strength, cooperation, interest and support. Give generously during this campaign and help the mentally ill in your own community.

Remember: "Good mental health is your community's most precious possession!"

Hospitality
Pays Off

Peter Byrne, Jr., of Deep Brook, underwent an operation on his leg last week at Camp Hill Hospital, and is doing nicely. Mr. Byrne received wounds in World War II and but for a personal interest taken by a Scottish doctor in a British hospital at that time, would have had his leg amputated.

Peter tells the story of lying in a British hospital awaiting the process of amputation of his wounded limb. A doctor making the rounds picked up his case card at the bottom of the bed and asked him what the letters "WNSR" stood for. He explained it was the initials of his regiment standing for West Nova Scotia Regiment. The doctor then told of being in the Annapolis Valley at one time, when a troop ship enroute from England to North Africa had developed engine trouble and put into Halifax port for repairs. The troops were billeted in private homes and other hospitable places in the Annapolis Valley.

This particular officer was put up at the Kentville Sanatorium with other doctors and had been impressed by the hospitality of the Annapolis Valley people, which he had never forgotten.

As he read on the card that Peter was down for amputation of his leg, he frowned giving it some thought, and told him he thought he could avoid amputation and save the leg, due to the fact that they had just received a small amount of powdered penicillin, which was to be used at the doctors' own judgment where they felt it would do the most good. And if a man's leg could be saved he felt it would be one way of repaying kindness shown him in the past in Nova Scotia.

In those days penicillin was at a premium and in that time there were two nurses working with it so that not an atom was wasted.

The doctor worked with the limb and saved it.

The present doctor at Camp Hill Hospital who operated on the same leg was interested in the story Peter had told him of how he still had his leg, wounded though it was.

Following the operation he looked up past records and found that this same doctor had been a classmate of his at the University of Edinburgh, Scotland, in 1932, and had also been his best man at his wedding.

Mr. Byrne felt that the coincidence of the relationship between the two doctors was interesting and also feels that the hospitality and kindness of the Annapolis Valley people in this instance "paid off" for him, in the interest of the "WNSR" letters aroused in the Scottish doctor.

HOUSING HINTS

Question — What should a purchaser consider when choosing a ready built house? Answer — The purchaser should be concerned with the suitability of the design of the house and its location. Then he should ask himself, "will the layout of the unit fit my family's living habits? Will it meet my family's needs in the years ahead? Will it accommodate my present furniture? Is the property located within a reasonable distance from work, schools and churches?" These are just a few of the questions to be answered before the purchaser can make a sound decision.

Old House Face Lifting

The old Snow House, Smith's Cove, is undergoing extensive repairs. It has literally had its face lifted and made new, as well as being put on solid foundation and other improvements. Deacon Wallace Bailey, of Acadiaville, is in charge of the work. He was assisted by Mr. Fred Guy, as carpenter, and by his young helpers: David Bailey, Bradford Barton, Junior; and Alfred Bailey, Junior.

Of interest were the sturdy hand-hewn beams of the old house, built about one hundred and thirty years ago. They were skillfully put together and fastened with stout wooden pins. At the junctions of the beams each piece was numbered, indicating that they had been fitted together before becoming part of the structure.

Mrs. Sarah Cossaboom, one of the oldest residents of Smith's Cove, said her grandfather, Ambrose Cosset (as the name appears on the old deed) was the carpenter when the house was built. Mr. Cosset sold the property, in 1834, to Capt. William Quigley Snow, formerly of Westport, Digby Co. It has remained in the Snow family through the intervening years as has the old deed, having passed from William Q. Snow to his wife, Rachel (Winchester) Snow; then to her heirs; succeeded by Deacon William Burton Snow, grandson of William Q. Snow; and is now owned by Mary S. Snow, widow of William B. Snow.

Originally the property was the "Easternmost part of the property owned by Charles Cosset, who settled in Smith's Cove in 1783, the first of the Cossets to settle in the area. Ambrose was a son of the said Charles.

Study Groups To Continue

A meeting of the leaders of the Clare Study Groups was held at the Clare District High School on Tuesday evening with William LeFort, of Weymouth, agricultural representative, presiding. The group formulated plans to hold a Rally of the study groups of the Municipality of Clare, which will be held approximately around the 15th of November.

Mr. Herman Timmons, director of adult education of the Department of Education of Nova Scotia, was guest of honor. He stated that it was a very exciting thing that the people of Clare are doing with their study clubs. He favored the idea of holding a Rally, which would furnish an esprit-de-corp of the groups. The reports presented could possibly furnish other clubs with ideas from which they would be able to work from. The social aspect of such a rally, stated Mr. Timmons, would be very good.

The group mapped out a program and selected a committee for the holding of the rally. The following make up the organizing committee: Melbourn Blinn, Chairman, of Little Brook; Gerard d'Entremont, Meteghan Station, and Victor LeBlanc, of St. Bernard. This committee will work in conjunction with Keith Langille, of the adult education department, of Yarmouth and William LeFort, of Weymouth.

It is planned to appoint a permanent Clare Council of Study Clubs at the Rally, with each parish having a delegate or representative on the council. The purpose of a central Council as planned is chiefly to establish a continuity of study of general nature to all the study clubs of the Municipality of Clare. Occasional rallies could be called from time to time and inter-club visitations could be arranged would be some of the duties of the Council.

Thirteen study clubs were in operation in the Municipality of Clare before the end of the study sessions in May and it is expected that an equal number of clubs will be holding sessions in the new season. Several new areas are expected to organize study clubs. Among these prospects are in the parish of Meteghan and Salmon River. Last spring the parishes of Saulnierville, Concession, Church Point and St. Bernard were represented.

Most clubs expect to commence their study groups within ten days, while a few are unable to open their classes at the moment due to operation of fish plants in the evening, where some of the members are employees.

Mr. Keith Langille, of the Adult Education branch of the Department of Education, of Yarmouth, was present at the meeting and graciously gave

The treasure, Mrs. George MacDormand gave the financial report showing a goodly sum on hand.

These were followed by questions on the lesson. Mission study with Mrs. H. Swift was on Mexico and to coincide with the lesson, she had prepared a playlet, "With Halo Away", telling of some of the pitfalls and blessings, hard work, etc., encountered by these trying to bring Christianity to these in Mexico. No Gloom In Auto Sales

There's no use in crying the blues to the automobile industry, says Carlyle Dunbar in The Financial Post. Its catching its breath now after running the fastest sales race in history, a period when business generally has been less than ecstatic. And don't talk gloom for the next sales season, for the automakers and their dealers aren't listening. They expect business is going to be equally good during the coming model year.

For a car-happy country, Canada has made the auto business the one really burgeoning branch on the slow-growing business tree. Booming car sales during the past (1962) model year have pushed the industry and its complex system of suppliers close to the billion dollar class.

The Business Outlook

What stands out about the present state of Canadian business is the fact that there isn't any firm, clear-cut trend, says Dalton Robertson in The Financial Post. There is no evidence that business is about to fall out of bed. On the contrary, some indicators of physical activity such as gross national product and industrial production appear likely to edge up at snail's pace during the next few months. But the ups and downs in different segments of the economy are probably as close to dead centre balance as they ever are, and the word to describe the current state of affairs is stability.

Industrial common stock prices, usually an early indicator of what's ahead for business, are moving indecisively. Corporation profits, another indicator which traditionally moves ahead of general business activity, show signs of ending their advance. New orders for producers' durables, a forerunner of what's likely in capital spending on new facilities, could still revive, but at the moment their performance is not reassuring. Housing starts have been making no real month-by-month advance since January of this year, seasonal factors discounted.

Retail sales are on a rising trend and will likely continue to advance. But it is a reflection of the maturing business expansion that the rate of increase is slowing. Industrial production is holding up better in this expansion than it did in the previous one, but here too the rate of increase is slowing. In manufacturing, new orders are still high but in June they stood only 1% above January levels, a slow rate of increase when it is considered that there was 6% advance during the last half of last year.

Fire Destroys Garage

Fire completely levelled a garage and used parts depot owned by Earl Thomas, at Joggins Bridge, early Tuesday morning.

The fire was first noticed by a passing motorist who alerted nearby neighbours, who in turn summoned the Digby Fire Department. A quick response by the department kept the blaze confined to the garage. A fire pond located only a few yards from the scene of the fire, provided an ample source of water.

Damage was estimated at several thousand dollars. No insurance was carried.

Lionettes Plan Projects

The regular monthly meeting of the Digby Lionettes was held in the Lions Hall Saturday 4th, with President Joan Bearnie in the chair. Fifteen members of the Yarmouth Lionettes were in attendance.

Lionette Pat Wilson introduced the special speaker of the evening, Victor Cardoza, who gave a talk on the subject of Mental Health. Lionette Jean Turnbull thanked the speaker on behalf of all Lionettes present.

For fund raising projects the Lionettes catered to the Golf Club banquet on Saturday, October 6th, and will cater to the Lions Halloween Dance. Also each Lionette will hold a table of Bridge, 45's, etc., at her own home. These funds are to help pay for the new propane gas stove in the Lions Hall, as well as many other worthwhile projects sponsored by the Lions and Lionettes of Digby.

The business meeting adjourned and all present joined in the entertainment of the evening under the direction of Lionette Pat Wilson and her committee, after which refreshments were served.

Recognized For Service

The Canadian Mental Health Association has given The Digby Courier an award in recognition and appreciation of exceptional public service in the citizens' fight against mental illness in Canada. The award is in the form of a plaque neatly inscribed on white metal against a polished hardwood base. The plaque also contains the mental health symbol, "The White Cross" set in a blue background, the words "For Distinguished Service" in a background of black and the remainder of inscription in black letters.

The presentation was made to the editor and publisher Mrs. J. M. Wallis, on Tuesday by Mr. Hubert Deveau, president of the Digby County Mental Health Association. In making the presentation Mr. Deveau expressed appreciation of the service of The Digby Courier in endeavouring to foster good mental health in the area.

Boards Together In Nova Scotia Promotion

One of the more unusual enquiries was dealt with recently through co-operative effort between the Boards of Trade of Halifax and Digby. A letter was received by this Board, asking for scallop shaped shells to be decorated and sold at a bazaar in aid of the St. John's Convalescent Hospital (Toronto). The bazaar was being organized by the Pi Chapter of the Beta Tau Sigma Fraternity.

The requested scallop shells were obtained through the courtesy of the Digby Board of Trade, and were subsequently shipped to Toronto. It is expected that the shells will provide an unusual form of good publicity for the province of Nova Scotia. (Commercial News)

Board Meeting Stimulates Projects

Three current projects of the Digby Board of Trade were given stimulation at a busy and interesting meeting of the Board held at the Town Hall on Tuesday evening.

On recommendation of the Digby Board of Trade Port Committee it was decided to write to C. N. Crump, president of the Canadian Pacific Railway to show the Board's pleased interest in their endeavour of replacement for the Princess Helene with a much larger boat, if reports which are circulating are grounded on facts. The recommendation first made by A. L. Robinson was brought to the Board by Vincent Snow, chairman of the port committee. The recommendation as moved offered the Board's assistance in any way possible should a replacement materialize. A meeting between the Digby Board of Trade executive and the Saint John Board of Trade executive regarding the present Bay of Fundy service was postponed for the present by the Saint John Board.

A letter was read from Hor. Leon Balcer, minister of transport, in reply to the Board's concern addressed to him regarding reports on the possible closing of the Bay View Life Saving Station. Mr. Balcer said he would give the matter every possible consideration. It was decided to write the minister further to bring attention to the number of recent incidents requiring services of the Life Saving Station and demonstrating the important role played by the service. The Board further decided to circulate a petition regarding the closing of the station with H. M. Warne as chairman of the committee in charge. It was understood that fishermen were also circulating a petition. It was mentioned that more than 130 fishing boats were operating in the area served by the station.

Another matter coming before the Board was the air-strip project taken up by the Board some years ago and continuing through the present year with John Nichols as chairman of the committee. Mr. Nichols was given authority to make wide investigations regarding an air-strip in Digby County or Annapolis County and to present the matter before municipal authorities in each case. Correspondence had previously indicated interest from various Saint John sources including the Saint John Flying Club. A letter was read from St. John Flying Club giving figures on costs of other flying fields. Mention was made of bringing the project in on a winter's work program.

H. M. Warne in discussion on Agriculture felt that too little interest had been shown by the Digby Board of Trade in this industry and we are losing out on potential agricultural opportunities. Mr. Warne is convener of the agricultural committee for the board.

Ralph McIntyre reported that he expects to meet with representatives from Shelburne on the Shelburne Road project in the near future. Prior to the regular meeting the port committee met when the above recommendation was made. Letters were read from Portland, Eastport and Booth Bay, Me., regarding boats and ferry services. Mr. Snow was advised to reply to the letters stating that we were awaiting results of a government survey before any information could be forwarded.

Following the adjournment of the meeting members present remained to discuss matters of the day of concern to the area. On leaving several were heard to voice their opinion that a profitable and worthwhile discussion had been carried on giving an opportunity to study the problems of the area and find suitable remedies.

Mrs. Russell Atkinson has returned after spending two weeks at the Halifax Infirmary for treatment.

Present Golf Trophies

The annual banquet of the Digby Pines Golf Club was held at the Lions Hall Saturday night. After a supper served by the Lionettes the presentation of trophies for the year's play took place.

President's Trophy, 10 w gross, Don Fleet; low net, Mike VanTassel.

Nickerson Trophy, two ball foursome, Vince McCarlie, Roy Robertson.

C. M. Levy Trophy, 1st year player, Greg Outhouse.

Drs. Black & McCleave Trophy, junior championship, Billy Olsen.

Earl VanTassel, 4 man team, C. D. Snow, Tic Collins, F. Handsplaker, R. Johnson.

Ben Prince Trophy, club championship, low gross, Joe Turnbull; low net, G. Neville. Digby Home Furnishings Trophy, 2nd division, Paul VanTassel.

C. D. Snow Trophy, club championship, match play, Roy Robertson.

The annual meeting was then called to order and the new officers accepted. Their positions for the coming year: President, Hymie Webber; Vice President, Reg Walker; Treasurer, Marty Barnes; Secretary, Bob Morgan.

Ravens Reinstated

It was announced at a recent meeting that the management and players of the Digby Ravens hockey club have been reinstated by M.A.H.A. and accepted back into the Western Valley Hockey League.

New president of the W.V. H.L. is Frank Jubis. A meeting this Saturday evening at the Fire Hall will endeavour to reorganize hockey for the town, and determine whether or not Digby will enter a senior hockey team in the league this season.

Dragger Towed To Port

Air, trapped in the hold of the newly-constructed 43-foot Digby dragger "Cathy and Paul", kept the vessel from sinking Thursday morning about six miles off Digby Gut when a hole was punched in the hull of the vessel in a freak accident.

The accident occurred when a hoisting chain, used to handle the boat's huge fishing net broke and plunged down into the hold, smashing a hole through the bottom.

Within ten minutes the vessel filled with water until her decks were awash. Captain David Handsplaker and his crew man, Clarence Greek, the only two aboard, cut the net loose and let it go over side in an effort to keep the vessel afloat. Then they too to a dory in case the dragger capsized.

Capt. Victor Halliday, of the dragger Dale and Heather, who was fishing nearby, saw the plight of the dragger and went to her aid after calling the Bay View life saving station. He took Captain Handsplaker and Greek aboard and then put a line on the vessel. Within a short time the Bay View lifeboat arrived on the scene and towed the stricken vessel in to Digby where she was beached. Calm seas kept the boat afloat long enough to get her to shore. Capt. Handsplaker said nets and other gear that had to be jettisoned were valued at $1,000.

Mrs. Mary Lombard, wife of the late Augustine Lombard, New Edinburgh, celebrated her 90th birthday on September 20.

Mrs. Lombard makes her home with her son, Larry. She is able to get about and visit friends and relatives. A few days before her birthday Mrs. Lombard enjoyed a motor trip to Quinlan, Yr. Co.

Mrs. James Comeau, of Plympton, is a granddaughter.

Second Ferry Urged

A plea for favorable consideration and assistance towards establishment of a second ferry link between Nova Scotia and New England, new fish processing facilities at Liverpool and a feed grain depot at Bridge water was made in the House of Commons Tuesday by Lloyd Crouse (P.C.-Queens Lunenburg) in an address ranging from trade to farming.

A second ferry link, he said, would benefit both Canada and the United States.

The existing Yarmouth-Bay Harbor service has been unable to accommodate the demands of traffic, particularly in summer, he said, and was primarily a service to Canada because it favored drivers from Ontario and Quebec.

Mr. Crouse said he found no fault with this, but travelers from Massachusetts had to stay somewhere overnight in order to proceed to Nova Scotia and they might just as well drive all the way to the Maritimes.

A daylight run from Nova Scotia to Gloucester, he said, would open up the potential tourist market in the greater Gloucester, Boston and New York areas, and would provide quicker delivery of products of Nova Scotia's expanding fresh fish industry. Such a link was essential to provide an increased flow of trade between these historic areas, he said, and he hoped the federal government would give favorable consideration to the proposal.

K. Beckwith Elected President

Kenneth Beckwith was elected President of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society at last week's annual meeting, held at the home of Miss Marjorie Tupper. He succeeds Mrs. Eva Wendell, who took over the office of Secretary after a successful term as President of the organization.

Other officers were re-elected as follows: John Russell, Honorary President; Mrs. H. M. Warne, Vice President; Miss Dora Warne, Treasurer; Miss Marjorie Tupper, Mrs. John Russell and Mrs. Blanche Porter were appointed as Directors for a three-year term, replacing Mrs. C. M. Levy, Daniel Comeau and Delbert Forrest, whose terms had expired.

Committee chairmen were named to supervise the Society's three active projects for community beautification: Admiral Digby Well - Mr. and Mrs. John Russell; Welcome to Nova Scotia Sign - Ralph Burwick; Loyalist Cemetery - Delbert Forrest. Other committee chairmen were appointed as follows: Ways & Means - Mrs. Daniel Comeau; Publicity - Mrs. Fred May; Program - Miss Marjorie Tupper; Entertainment - Mrs. George Winfield; Membership - Mrs. E. B. Richardson; Telephone - Mrs. G. R. Weir; Rose Show - Mrs. Eva Wendell; Flower Show - Mrs. H. M. Warne.

Reports of officers and committees all showed a very successful year, with all parts of the organization functioning efficiently. The three projects reported successful seasons, despite the unfavorable weather. Regret was expressed that illness prevented Mr. Russell, chairman of the Admiral Digby Well project, from being present, but his work during the season received the highest praise. Mrs. Russell had also assisted with the garden surrounding the old foundation of the Digby Packing plant, and with the enlistment of nearby children in clearing up and beautifying the area around the walls.

Great improvement had been made, with further plans for the future. The report of Mr. Berwick, chairman of the Welcome Sign project, also showed a successful season, with the colourful flower beds surrounding the sign receiving much well-deserved praise, for which Mr. Beckwith was congratulated. Mrs. Wendell also (Please turn to page 8)

Loses Life In Accident

Miss Phyllis Marie Miller, 25, of Acaciaville, was instantly killed shortly after 10 p.m. Friday, when she was in collision with a car while walking along the highway at Conway. Driver of the car was identified as David Francis, of Digby.

Miss Miller, who for the past number of years made her home with Mrs. Whitfield Barton, is survived by four sisters, (Beatrice) Mrs. Floyd Barton; Jamie and Raye, of Bridgetown; and Yvonne, of Saint John; and a brother, James, of Acaciaville. The deceased was active in many phases of church work, being president of the Baptist Youth Fellowship, and leader of the C.G.I.T. group at Acaciaville Baptist Church, of which she was a member.

Funeral service was held Sunday afternoon from the Acaciaville Baptist Church, conducted by Rev. W. P. Clayton, assisted by Rev. R. R. Winchester, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, and Rev. L. R. Atkinson. At an inquest held Tuesday evening, with Coroner C. C. Nicholl in attendance, it was determined that due to lack of evidence the driver of the vehicle was found partly responsible.

N.S. Educationist Attends Oslo Meet

Clifford E. Edwards, inspector of schools for Annapolis and Digby Counties, has been selected by the Canadian Centre of Films, Ottawa, to represent Canada at an international meeting on Film and TV Teaching, in Oslo, this week, by arrangement with the Norwegian National Council for UNESCO.

Since 1952, Mr. Edwards, who is the only Canadian participating in the meeting, served two three-year terms as a member of the CBC advisory council (school and radio television) and as a member of the National Film Board advisory committee.

Mr. Edwards also served six years as chairman of the audio-visual education committee of the Canadian Home and School and Parent-Teacher Federation. Last May at Saskatoon he was elected to vice-presidency of the federation. Papers commissioned by UNESCO to serve as discussion documents at the meeting have been received for study by Mr. Edwards from London, France, the United States, Germany, Italy, Poland, The Netherlands, Austria and Australia.

Poor Reception In Area

F. C. Purdy, supervisor of Digby schools, voiced complaint last Thursday concerning poor reception of educational television lectures at the Digby Regional High School.

Mr. Purdy, who said that continuance of the television classes at the present level of technical reception at the Digby school might jeopardize the educational program of

Annapolis Presbytery Studies New Order

Rev. R. H. Hughes, Digby, chairman, presided at the meeting of the Annapolis Presbytery of the United Church of Canada at Grace United Church, Digby, on Tuesday. Considerable discussion took place on the new Book of Common Order which is now under preparation by the General Council of the church. Chief changes in the book were in services of baptism, marriage and burial and several changes in the plans were to be forwarded to General Council from the Annapolis Presbytery for consideration. Rev. Fred Burrell, Berwick, chairman of the worship committee, was to advise General Council of the recommendations.

A committee of three to confer with three from the Anglican Church of Canada from the area on church unity were named consisting of Rev. R. H. Hughes, Digby; Rev. Padre H. I. Hare, HMCS Cornwallis; and Rev. M. G. Butler, Annapolis Royal.

Three candidates from the Presbytery were recommended for further study for the ministry. William Brooks, son of Rev. and Mrs. James Brooks, Scotsburn, Pictou Co., formerly of Digby, was granted a fourth year of absence to teach school.

Three new ministers were welcomed to the Presbytery by Mr. Hughes. They were Rev. Elmer Asaph, Bear River; Rev. John Henderson, Lawrenceton; and Rev. M. G. Butler, Annapolis Royal. Mr. Hughes also extended a welcome to the delegates and friends, making special mention of Dr. T. W. Hodgson, now retired, who served in the Presbytery for seventeen years.

A film strip giving highlights of the General Council sessions held in London, Ontario, in September, were shown by A. W. Bent.

An important part of the program dealt with the new curriculum for young people designed to meet the needs of the home and the church school. The new curriculum has been authorized by General Council as a result of study in cooperation with the Church Education committee and the Board of Publications of the church. The new curriculum involves both parent and child and is hoped to overcome some of the spasmodic and incomplete Christian education of the child where continuity is lost from home atmosphere. The new curriculum presentation was made to the Presbytery by Rev. Reginald Barker, Sackville, N.B., who spoke of the Christian Education work of the church and emphasized the importance of Christian Education in the congregations.

The work and the needs of the Atlantic Christian Training Centre was explained by Mr. Gordon MacDonald, Charlottetown, P.E.I. He said that the most pressing need at the moment was more accommodation for the students who were anxious to study at the centre.

Rev. Morris Barss, Kingston, Secretary, appealed for more generous gifts to the Missionary and Maintenance Fund of the church. He said that some congregations had increased their gifts to this fund but others had not done so well and if the Fund was to meet the needs of the church at home and overseas more would have to be subscribed to the Fund.

After a dinner, prepared by Mrs. Gordon Ellis and her committee, Rev. F. E. Phinney, Waterville, expressed thanks of the Presbytery to the ladies, and the chairman closed Presbytery with prayer.

He said he had been giving positive assurance that immediate steps would be taken to remedy any conditions of a technical nature that might exist affecting transmission of the school, added Friday morning that he had been contacted by officials of CJCH-TV, who operate channel 6, Digby on which the classes are televised.

Thanksgiving In The Churches

Spiritual Bookkeeping was the subject of the sermon delivered by Rev. R. H. Hughes at the special Thanksgiving service held at Grace United on Sunday morning. He used the text "How much owest thou unto my Lord?" from St. Luke, and emphasized the fact that people could be rich toward self while not being rich toward God. The choir rendered the anthem "Bless the Lord", with Mrs. J. M. Wallis as soloist. Miss Margaret Black was organist. The church was decorated for the occasion with flowers, fruit and vegetables, under the direction of Mrs. Clayton Snow, Mrs. Gerald Hoare, Mrs. Reginald Holdsworth and Mrs. Kenneth Beckwith.

Church of Christ, Weymouth

A capacity congregation was present at the annual Roll Call and Thanksgiving service held at the Church of Christ (Disciples), Weymouth.

Rev. Lorne Nethercott presided, with Harry J. Lewis calling the roll and Wilfred Cosman reading the responses.

Rev. Archibald MacLellan, pastor of the United Baptist Churches at Lower Granville was introduced by the pastor as the guest speaker. He delivered an inspiring message on the text "Where Are The Nine", based on the parable of the ten lepers cleansed. Mr. MacLellan urged and challenged all followers of Jesus Christ to continually express their gratitude to God for the wonderful Christian heritage salvation and the freedom of worship which is for all today. Prior to the sermon Mrs. Lorne Nethercott sang "Where Are The Nine".

The pastor introduced another distinguished guest, Dr. Victor Nelson, of the Billy Graham organization. Dr. Nelson is touring the Atlantic provinces in the interest of future evangelistic meetings. On Saturday evening he met with ministers of the district and the Christian Men's Fellowship Executive in preparation of revival services being sponsored in 1963. Dr. Nelson was guest speaker at the morning service in Weymouth and was speaker at the Southville Church of Christ on Sunday afternoon.

A number of the new hymn books were dedicated in memory of Mr. Clarence Prime by Mr. and Mrs. Sherman, and several others for the late G. W. Fielding by Mrs. Fielding. A special dedication service was conducted for hymn books the previous week, at that time a number being dedicated to the memory of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Amero by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis.

The South Range Church of Christ choir were guest and provided special numbers in music.

As the closing hymn Mrs. Lorne Nethercott beautifully rendered a solo, "Thank You Lord For Saving My Soul" followed with benediction pronounced by Dr. Nelson.

A harvest table was prepared for the occasion and flowers were arranged by CWF members.

Trinity

In spite of hurricane Daisy, the Harvest Thanksgiving Services were held as planned in Trinity Church.

Facing gale force winds, congregations were fairly good, both at the 8:30 Communion and the 11 a.m. Harvest Festival Service.

The services were conducted by the Rector, the Rev. James Pike, and at 11 a.m., he was assisted by Mr. Victor G. Cardoza, Parish Lay Reader. During the 11 a.m. service the music was under the direction of the organist, Mrs. H. O. Turnbull, assisted by Mr. Ralph Berwick. The senior and junior choirs combined for the singing of a special Harvest anthem and other Harvest hymns.

The Rector's sermon dealt with Thanksgiving and Harvest. He reminded the congregation of man's duty to give God thanks for His many mercies. Harvest time, he said, is a reminder that all things come from God and without God's help there could be no harvest. As we realize the truth of this we shall appreciate all the more the truth that man exists and indeed

About This and That

Another Exhibition Idea

From the Nova Scotia Farm News we find this bit of information along with others about the Lunenburg County Exhibition held at Bridgewater. It reads as follows —

Tree Competition Something New

A new competition which proved to be a new attraction at Bridgewater was the Christmas tree class. This competition is believed to be the first ever held in the Atlantic Provinces and its inclusion on the exhibition programme was prompted by the fact that 41 per cent of the 1,200 cars of Christmas trees which are exported from Nova Scotia annually come from Lunenburg County. With each car valued at $1,000, and with $600 freight involved on each car, as well, it can be seen that this is "big business" and that it forms quite an important portion of the farm income on many Lunenburg County farms.

The competition was arranged by Tom Ernst, Extension Forester, and Ralph Morehouse (formerly from Centreville, Digby Co.), Agricultural Representative. It was a competition that attracted a large number of entries which were judged by Lloyd Hawboldt, Director of Extension for the Department of Lands and Forests. The trees had been tastefully displayed and arranged by Mr. Ernst and actually formed an exhibit that attracted the interest and the attention of hundreds and hundreds of exhibition visitors during the week. Those interested in Christmas tree culture saw what constituted a premium tree and, consequently, they should be in a better position to know what the market is seeking. That this section of the exhibition should be repeated goes without saying and if this year's show is any criterion, then the Exhibition Commission will have to provide much more additional space next year if it expects to accommodate the increased number of entries which many producers and shippers of Christmas trees indicated would be on the grounds.

Maybe or maybe not that the Digby County Exhibition will adopt the Christmas tree show for their exhibition but if for nothing more we mention the above to prove that there is always something new to add to an exhibition to give it an extra note of interest or uplift. Then, too, we had an editorial on Christmas trees last week and with Christmas approaching so fast we are Christmas tree conscious and know that the yards will soon be in full swing with the Christmas tree trade.

By the way, we noted in the Bridgewater Bulletin that the Lunenburg County Exhibition was "Deeper In The Red" and that on account of the weather attendance was the worst this year than in its 71 year history. Digby County exhibition was also hit by one day of bad weather but in comparison with Lunenburg County it was not so bad after all.

Two hits, no errors.

Volkswagen is battling a thousand. Our first car (the 1200) has been on top for a decade.

And now it looks as if our new model (the 1500) will be the rookie of the year. The immediate success of the Volkswagen 1500 wasn't much of a surprise. (Especially for the 200,000 Canadians who have proven the reliability of "old faithful".) Our reputation for quality, dependability and economy means that you can buy this brand new car with complete confidence.

And the 1500 is a completely new automobile. For a start, it has two luggage trunks. One in the back (like a conventional car) and one in the front (like a Volkswagen). We managed this unique feature by designing a flat engine and putting it under the back trunk. It gives the 1500 amazing traction in snow and makes it even better at holding the road.

Take a look at the luxurious interior and you may start to worry about the price.

Relax. Everything in sight is standard equipment. And that includes seven heater vents, five arm rests, three ash trays, two padded sun visors, one electric clock but no radiator. (We still think it's better to cool a car's engine with air instead of water.)

Visit your Volkswagen dealer soon. He'll let you drive our newest (and most unique) Volkswagen.

The service was conducted by Rev. Father Luc Gaudet, pastor of St. Patrick's parish, assisted by Rev. Fr. Delbe Comeau, pastor of Weymouth, and Rev. Fr. Stokes, priest-assistant of St. Patrick's parish.

Mrs. Comeau, who was born in England 65 years ago, was the former Mabel Gertrude Hopkins, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James Hopkins.

She came to Canada in 1925 and during her lifetime here was very active and prominent in church and community organizations in a number of Digby county communities, including Meteghan, Weymouth and Digby, where she lived with her husband who recently retired from the Canadian Customs service.

Topic - Mental Health

In an address to the Digby Lionettes Thursday, Victor G. Cardoza stated that many more helping hands and understanding hearts are needed if the continuing fight against mental illness is ever to be won.

Mr. Cardoza, vice-president of the Digby Mental Health Association, said never before has so much money been given by so many to more charities than at present. Despite this, he said, there seems to be a reluctance to become personally involved in charitable endeavors. It is simple to give a donation. Much more is needed if we are to continue to make any real progress in the fight against such scourges as mental illness, he said.

The public must learn, he said, that mental illness is but another form of sickness that attacks man and that no one is immune. Realization of this should result in the development of hospitalization and clinical services for the mentally ill at least as adequate and as fully staffed and equipped as those for the physically ill.

He urged support of the current mental health campaign in the Digby area and outlined the work and program of the Mental Health Association and the mental health clinic in Digby.

Hard Feelings

Some people can't stand the sight of other people. For reasons known or unknown, an attitude of irritation or antagonism may rear its ugly head bringing rifts and quarrels. Hard feelings between neighbors and kinsfolk destroy like a cancer if the disease goes untreated. What is the cause of such disgraceful actions?

Could it be that prejudice or jealousy has replaced respect and kindness?

A person may feel that another wants what he has, or that the other person thinks himself to be superior. Much that separates is imagined! A misunderstanding over a word spoken or written may split a fellowship for years.

Is such sickness of the heart curable? That depends on the desire. If one so afflicted really wants his own heart made straight, he will find that there is hope.

It is said that if a man will only forgive and forget, he will find the one who has victory. But if he will not forgive, he will find the one who has victory. The sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with the glory that shall be revealed in us.

If any life is rocked by the storm as a ship then the love, mercy and justice of the righteous God can give stability and at last take us to our home port in safety.

This is not the illusion of a few fringe people. It is the normal discovery for anyone who is willing to put his hand in the hand of the Master through good times and bad.

Why Mourn?

Who started the idea that if men serve God and live their lives to please Him, then by special intervention He will spare them of pain, misfortune and persecution? This is not taught by the Bible nor by experience, yet many murmur and say when trouble strikes, "Why should this happen to me?" No matter how dead a person is spiritually he always seems to have life enough to murmur with self pity when things go wrong.

There are those who talk as though God has broken His side of the bargain in allowing illness or disappointment to come but in His word the Lord makes no such promise.

We are not kept from trouble but are kept through it. The worst battles of life will leave no permanent scars. No circumstances can defeat the one who has victory. Christ, whatever comes, will show Paul put it. "The sufferings of this present time are not worthy to be compared with

If any life is rocked by the storm as a ship then the love, mercy and justice of the righteous God can give stability and at last take us to our home port in safety.

This is not the illusion of a few fringe people. It is the normal discovery for anyone who is willing to put his hand in the hand of the Master through good times and bad.

The Dumpers

One of the great schisms between city and country people springs from the pet problem. I sometimes suspect that the urban population regards the country as a vast dumping ground. Cars will pull up briefly near our place, then drive rapidly away — and we discover too late that a cat has been booted out. So far I've never been quick enough to get the license number, but one of these days I will you dumpers and then look out!

What do they think is to be-come of their discards? Are they happy at the thought that their pet will now die of hunger or exposure, unless it can prey on farm birds and animals? Do they just assume that some softhearted dumbbell will adopt it? Or do they simply not think at all, because they're too stupid?

I acquired a Dumped Dog once. I'm in no position to keep a dog, but he moved in on us and we grew to love him terribly. He had every virtue and no vices, except that he was the worst car chaser in canine history. Car-chasing is the dog's equivalent of acute alcoholism and other virtues are unavailing. He got hit and I had to take him to the Humane Society, where I cried so hard they nearly put me in the gas chamber, too.

Next we inherited a cat. It was thin and gaunt, with a frightful gash on its side, on which was a curious, snailish looking thing. The vet. identified it as a foul sort of parasite, something like a warble fly, and the gash had been caused by its coming out of our cat. He removed it and cat improved unbelievably in health and personality.

I got to like that cat, reluctantly; a sociable creature, she was grateful for deliver-ance from the worm, and often spoke eloquently of her cordial feelings toward us. She spoke good English and as I am reasonably fluent in cat we had many illuminating conversations. I was so im-pressed by her civilized at-titudes that I let her in the house; a mistake. She talked a good line but did not practise what she preached. She was soon condemned to life as an Outside Cat, and for a while we were barely on speak-ing terms. But she was a gift-ed and indefatigable mouser, and we would have kept her except that she got distemper and in her turn, too, had to be dispatched to the Happy Mousing Ground.

Why can't the original owners take on these chores? I suppose I could take my dis-cardable pets into town and drop them on someone's lawn; but I happen to think it is im-moral.

I also think everyone should have to pass a severe test before being allowed to keep a dog or a cat or any other animal. Or a baby, come to that — their own or anyone's else. Basic requirements: a sense of responsibility.

Kindness is no substitute. I once argued with a known cat and dog dumping family about this practice, protesting that if they must get rid of their animals at least they could take them to the Hu-mane Society, or destroy them painlessly at home. They were outraged. The Humane Society charges $2, and as for doing it themselves — ah, they couldn't! They were too kind hearted.

It would be even more kind hearted to abstain from get-ting pets, in the first place, if you don't intend to take care of them.

Church Service Marks Reopening

Wind and rain affected attendance at the reopening of the Barton-Brighton United Church, severely. However, about sixty persons from Barton, Brighton, Centreville and Weymouth congregations were in attendance and a fruitful service was enjoyed. Mr. Fred I. Withers, pastor of the charge, conducted the service, which opened with the singing of three well known hymns. Mrs. Joseph Specht, organist of the church, played for the various parts of the service, with the exception of two contributions by the Weymouth Choir, which were "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Shepherds Psalm". Miss Margaret Hankinson, organist, and Mr. Allan Irvine, were in charge of this part of the service.

Miss Dorothy Outhouse, of Centreville, read greetings from Dr. John B. Corston, President of Maritime Conference and from Rev. J. Milton Fraser, Supt. of Missions, and from Rev. Eric Fullerton, Ronald M. Cameron, Wm. Armitage, Arthur G. Pentz, M. C. Ewing and B. D. MacMartin, all former ministers of the charge. Rev. R. H. Barker, also a former minister, and now Associate Secretary of the Christian Education Committee of the Maritime Conference, brought greetings in person and was special speaker. He chose a his text and message the Vision of Isaiah. People of the Sandy Cove congregation were unable to attend because of a violent storm.

The church at Barton has been thoroughly cleaned inside and completely repainted outside, with an attractive sign to tell passers-by of services to be held.

Youth Activities Under Way

The largest group of girls in the history of the church gathered for the first Fall meeting of the Canadian Girls In Training, sponsored by the Baptist Church of Digby. It is expected that the total enrollment will be in the vicinity of 30 girls this year, and it was found necessary to divide the members into Senior and Intermediate groups. Mrs. J. J. Brittain and Mrs. Alfred Marshall will continue as leaders. Miss Gloria Joudrey will be an assistant.

Mrs. Jean Olsen, organist of the church, was present at this opening meeting and told of her plans to organize the members of the C.G.I.T. into a girls choir. The pastor of the church welcomed the girls to the renewal of Fall activities, and extended a special welcome to the new members. The girls also voted to purchase a leather-bound hymn book for use in the church pulpit.

Youth activities in the church are now in full swing with a high enrolment in the Boy Scouts and Cub groups. The Explorers began their meetings this week and will meet weekly on Tuesday evenings at 6 o'clock, with Mrs. Paul Snow and Mrs. Charles Hersey again leaders.

A total of more than 100 young people of the congregation will now be meeting in group activities during each week.

At the Hill Grove church the young people held their first Fall meeting last Tuesday evening. This group is also making plans to entertain the Digby County Baptist Youth Conference on Saturday, October 20th.

In spite of the heavy storm last Sunday, Thanksgiving services at the Digby and Hill Grove churches saw a fair attendance, and both churches were decorated with tokens of autumn or the harvest season. Because of the storm the evening meeting of the Bible Study Group in the Digby church was cancelled, but meetings will commence this coming Sunday night.

reported on her efforts to improve the Cannon Bank beyond the steps, and expressed appreciation of the help she had received from the children in the area, also expressing hope for further improvements next season. All reports emphasized the interest shown by the many visitors to the gardens. The Loyalist Cemetery project, reported on by Wilfred Conno, was also deserving of praise for its improved appearance this past season. The erection of a sign, painted by Mrs. Ralph Wright, bearing the date 1783, had also been a further improvement.

Interesting programs for the regular monthly meetings held during the year had been arranged by Miss Marjorie Tupper, who reported briefly on them. The Membership Committee reported increased attendance at the meetings, and two new members, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Grimmer were introduced.

Digby was well represented at the Rose Show, held in conjunction with the Champlain Garden Club at the Community Center in Annapolis Royal. Mrs. Eva Wendell and Mrs. G. R. Weir were joint conveners of the Digby committee, and Digby rose growers captured their share of awards.

Mrs. Blanche Potter, in reporting for the Flower Show committee, stated that there were over 300 entries at the Digby Flower Show, which was held at the Regional High School. It was most interesting to learn from a report in the "Landscape News", published by the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, that the Digby Show ranked third in size and had some of the flower arrangements shown in the Province. The Entertainment Committee, under Mrs. George Winfield, had convened the afternoon tea served to a large number attending both events.

Mrs. Daniel Comeau reported almost $200 raised through the efforts of the Ways and Means Committee during the past year. Of this amount, over half had been received from the proceeds of the Seafood Chowder Supper held at Hedley House in the Spring.

Thanks were expressed to all the committee by the retiring President, Mrs. Wendell, and Mr. Beckwith upon taking the chair solicited their continuing cooperation in making the club a success.

Looking forward to another season's activity, "Yogi Bear", painted on plywood by Mrs. Wright, was displayed to the members and plans made to set up two of these, holding waste cans, near the Admiral Digby Well for the collection of waste paper. A donation of extra benches, received from the D.A.R. for use in the park, was gratefully acknowledged. Plans were made for the taking down and storing of the signs, benches and picnic tables, as the closing act in another season's program.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Miss Tupper, assisted by the co-hostesses Mrs. Levy and Mrs. Beckwith.

Following service with the Extension Division in Annapolis County, as Assistant Agricultural Representative, Mr. Morehouse was transferred to Lunenburg-Queens, where he has done exceptionally good work, particularly in the fields of livestock promotion and 4-H projects.

Mr. Morehouse majored in entomology and his transfer to an area where the fruit industry plays such an important part of the agricultural activity is appropriate.

In the five and a half years that Mr. Morehouse was in Bridgewater, he became integrated with community life in the area. He was president of

Fifty-two Years Married

Above are Mr. and Mrs. James White, Gilbert Cove, who on October 10 celebrated their 52nd wedding anniversary. Although Mr. White, a carpenter by trade, has been unable to work or go about for the past 5 years, he enjoys having visitors and watches from his window the outside activities.

Mr. and Mrs. White were married at St. Croix Church, Plympton, by the Rev. Father Thibault, then parish priest. Mrs. White was the former Sadie Melanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Melanson, Ashmore. Mr. White was the son of Mr. and Mrs. La

Move To Organize Town Hockey

A letter will be sent to every organization in the town of Digby asking that a representative be named on an organization to be an official backing for the Digby Ravens Hockey Team and any other hockey teams in Digby. This was decided at a meeting of the Ravens Hockey Club presided over by the present chairman, H. M. Warner, and held at the Digby Fire Department Hall on Saturday evening. "There never has been an official organization to back a hockey team in Digby," said Robert Morgan, a member of the club which has always been just a few who showed interest in hockey.

Present at the meeting by special invitation of Mr. Warner were Mayor V. L. Bent; Mrs. J. M. Wallis, president of the Digby Board of Trade; Dr. J. R. McCleave, chairman of the Digby Recreation Commission; William MacLeod, representing the Kiwanis Club; and Jack Nichols from the Digby Fish & Game Association. Also present were members of the present team, members of the present club and friends from the St. Anne's College team.

Digby Board Committee Meets Minister

The Port Committee of the Digby Board of Trade met on Tuesday afternoon at the Town Hall, with the Hon. Stephen Pyke, minister of highways for the province of Nova Scotia present. The meeting presided over by Vincent Snow, chairman of the committee, presented to Mr. Pyke some of the highway problems of the area and projects which the Digby Board has in mind.

The dangerous stretch of road West of Victoria Bridge and the outmoded bridge itself were pointed out to the minister. The minister said that his department was aware of this particular area and they were concerned about it. Suggestions were made by members of the committee to level and fill some portions of the road to eliminate some of the curves and hills as an interim measure. On more professional and closer examination it was found the problem could not be eliminated as easily as it appeared on the surface.

Former Little River Woman Dies At 104

Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, 104, died at the Wollville Nursing Home, Wollville, on Tuesday. She was born in Little River, N.S., and had lived in Wollville for many years. She was a very active member of the Little River Baptist Church.

She was born at Little River, N.S., daughter of Peter and Lucinda Denton. In 1878 she married Charles Denton. Following his death in 1911 she resided with her son, George, in Halifax. She was later moved to Wollville. She was the oldest member of the Little River Baptist Church.

Addresses P.C. Meet

Hon. Stephen Pyke, federal appointed Minister of Highways for the Province of Nova Scotia, addressed a regular meeting of the P.C. executive and friends at the Lions Club Hall on Tuesday evening. Mr. Pyke was introduced by Keith Potter, president of the P.C. Association for Digby County, and thanked by Dr. D. E. Lewis, president of the association in the town. The Hon. Mr. Pyke was formerly Minister of Labor and of Public Works but was relieved of the Minister of Labor post to take on the duties of highway minister.

Was 90 Years

Mrs. Agnes Comeau, Gilbert Cove, celebrated her 90th birthday on October 4 at the home of her son, Frank, and Mrs. Comeau, with whom she resides.

Mrs. Comeau was born in Salmon River, Digby Co., daughter of Timothy and Genevieve Melanson, of that place. Later in life she moved to the United States where in 1905 she married William Comeau, of Gilbert Cove. They later moved to Nova Scotia, settling in villages nearby Gilbert Cove and since 1905 Mrs. Comeau has lived in the Gilbert Cove home, although her husband had passed away.

Although not home for the actual birthday celebration, Mrs. Comeau's two daughters make regular visits to see their mother and were home some weeks previous to October 4. The daughters are Irene (Mrs. Westhead), White Plains, N. Y., and Mrs. Lawrence Deveau, Glenwood Land, Long Island, N. Y. She has 16 grandchildren and a number of great grandchildren.

Suffering a heart attack a year and a half ago, and a 82 had eye operations, Mrs. Comeau made a quick recovery and now enjoys watching T.V., car riding, her treasure flower plants and her family and friends. After she does her own mending although in earlier years she was fond of hooking mats, knitting and gardening. Her hearing is somewhat impaired but her gentle smile showed she was following carefully the interview on Saturday. Mrs. Comeau's life was not easy, having to care for an invalid husband in her earlier married life and to bring up her family by hard work on the farm. But throughout, the spirit of kindness never left her and she gave of her younger years in caring for relatives and friends of older years. The same kind spirit and consideration spoken of by her friend today still is revealed in her happy smile at 90 years. Never can you do something for her, said her daughter-in-law, that you do not note the most sincere appreciation in

Loses Life In Accident At Meteghan

Gary Dean Newman, 23, a native of Campbell Island, N. B., lost his life early Sunday morning in an accident at Meteghan River. Three companions in the car, Gerald Handsaker, Rodney Fredericks, and LeRoy Handsaker all of Digby, escaped injury.

The accident occurred when the car, driven by Newman failed to round a sharp curve and plunged over a bridge into about eight feet of swift moving water. The victim made his home with his sister, Mrs. Merle Halliday, and Mr. Halliday, in Digby.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Mayis Newman, of Campbell; sisters, Ruth, of the U.S.A., Betty (Mrs. Merle Halliday), Digby; and brothers, Paul and Raye, of Campbell. Funeral services were held Tuesday in Campbell.

Given Award

For the second time Emerson L. Cook, of the Digby Post Office staff, has been given an award for a suggestion made to the Postal Department to effect improvement in service. Mr. Cook's latest suggestion and which was accepted by the Department with award was to change the unemployment insurance stamps in such a way as to distinguish between regular stamps and stamps for fishermen. Mr. Cook demonstrated the change in mind.

Mr. Cook's suggestion which received an award previously was with regard to denominator number orders.

Siamese Twins

Two average-size apples, joined together at their tops, were brought to the Courier Office on Tuesday. They were recently found by Mrs. Margaret VanTassel on her property on Warwick Street. It is interesting to note that these apples have but one stem.

School To Be Officially Opened

Premier Stanfield will officially open the new Islands Consolidated School at Freeport on his expected visit to the school on the evening of November 5, at 8 p.m. It is expected that he will be accompanied by Mrs. Victor Cardozo, M.L.A., Mr. C. E. Edwards, Inspector of Schools, Keith Potter, also councillors, members of the school board, trustees, and the architect and engineers of the school.

What? No Venison?

What? No venison? We possibly the next time you purposely go hunting you will just as purposely take along your gun.

The drive by car to the hunting ground was taken leisurely and surely and the very best and right spot. So right was the spot that the hunter-driver didn't dare to disturb the deer by even turning off the engine. Quietly he opened the door of the car, daylight had just begun and the deer stood still under the apple tree, a perfect shot if there ever was one. Stealthily the hunter backed himself to the car door always with the eye on the deer. Quietly he opened the car door, eye still on the deer as he reached backward in the car for the gun. But who is the gun? It was home, he forgot it.

Many are the stories of the biggest fish that got away. The sad part of this story, I was only too true and the deep freeze at a home in Cove way will be minus deer meat unless someone is endowed with a better memory for the chief utensil the next time there'll be no venison for the C's this winter.

Tides Extra High

Strong winds, which played havoc along much of the Bay of Fundy shore, failed to have caused any extensive damage in the Digby area during recent extra-high tides.

With Fundy tides as high as 28.5 feet last weekend, a storm would have proven quite hazardous to fishermen along the coast. Digby was not bothered by strong gales that whipped the coast of Annapolis and Kings Counties on Saturday. Thousands of dollars damage was caused in breakwaters in the Parker's Cove and Hall's Harbour areas.

To Present Cantata

Members of choirs from three Digby churches will present a Christmas cantata on December 16, it was announced by the director, Elton G. Arnold.

Rehearsals were begun on Sunday night at the Digby Baptist Church with members present from Grace United Church, Trinity Anglican and Digby Baptist.

Miss Margaret Black will be organist for the cantata presentation in the Grace United Church.

Bags Big Bear

On the first day of the Nova Scotia deer hunting season, Fred Daley, Digby, came home with a 200-pound bear. While hunting at Big Lake, near Bear River, Mr. Daley and his companions found themselves being charged by this big animal. The first shot fired only wounded the bear, but another brought it to the ground. Use will be made of the fat and hide.

Mr. Daley was accompanied on the trip by his wife, Mr. Daley, and Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Mullen, Jr.

Charged With Armed Robbery

Three Digby County men were charged with armed robbery as a result of the holdup of an elderly Mill Grove couple last week. Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Foster were confronted by two masked men Thursday evening and at gunpoint were tied to chairs and robbed of $900 cash and their 1960 model car. Telephone wires were cut by the bandits, and the Fosters were warned that four more men were waiting outside. The car was found abandoned and undamaged, about five miles from the Foster home by a man on his way to work Friday morning.

Charged were James P. Amoro, 24; Hugh Lewis, 20; and George L. Swayne (Kilham), 22, who were taken into custody by police Friday evening and remanded by Provincial J.P. Delbert Forrest, Saturday morning. They appeared before Magistrate Charles LeBrun on Tuesday. Swayne and Amoro pleaded guilty to the charge, and their cases were adjourned for a week before sentencing. Lewis was granted a week's adjournment.

Bridge Under Repair

The highway bridge in the centre of Weymouth was closed to traffic Wednesday in order that repairs to the bridge could be carried out. Men, working from scows, were busy erecting new stringers and supports. During the day traffic was re-routed through Weymouth Mills.

To Supply Adequate Needs

At a special adjourned meeting of the Digby Town Council Tuesday evening, it was passed that the Town undertake to supply adequate sewage and water to the new Digby General Hospital, subject to the Department of Municipal Affairs and the Ratepayers.

Get Out Your Maps

Will you follow us into the point where Digby, Shelburne, Yarmouth and Queens Counties meet? On the map you notice the Tobaccat Game Sanctuary partly in each of those four counties and just a few miles from Annapolis County. We are sorry we weren't bright enough to think of it ourselves but since somebody else has suggested the idea we would go along with it wholeheartedly. Why not get some action going to have a national park for Nova Scotia located in that area? One thing, just while a Digby-Shelburne road is on our minds, wouldn't this sort of solve that road problem? There would have to be roads from all five counties in to the park. Can you think of a better network of transportation for Western Nova Scotia? Besides a park in an area of wooded country, birds and all manner of wildlife. Think about it. Maybe we can persuade the powers that be that that particular area of Nova Scotia should have a park. At least you can tell the Courier what you think of it. We feel the other counties would be as interested as Digby County.

Fire Prevention Week Observed

Fire Prevention activities which were carried out during Fire Prevention Week by the Digby Fire Department have proved to be successful. The program got under way on Sunday, October 7th with a church parade to the Salvation Army Citadel at 1:45 p.m. Due to the adverse weather on Sunday part of the programs of distribution of leaflets and posters had to be delayed until Monday and Tuesday when the town was covered with posters and fire prevention materials. A window on the prevention of fire was placed in a down town window supplied through the courtesy of Steadman's.

Many inspections of the business district and other areas were carried out. This program has been more extensive than in the past and will continue at every available opportunity. These inspections will be followed up by reports to the owners and occupants of the buildings pointing out what hazards were discovered and an effort made to have them remedied. All inspections made to date have proved good and in cases reporting hazards the co-operation of the owners has been most encouraging. Return check inspections will be made on properties where faulty equipment, wiring or other hazards were found in order to try and improve these situations.

About This and That Newspaper Week - Oct. 11-20

This week is Newspaper Week and we can think of no better time to start a series of articles on the weekly press and particularly The Digby Courier.

The Digby Courier, like every other weekly newspaper, is a business organization providing a public service for a profit. This is an accepted definition of a weekly.

In the 19th century the publication of weekly newspapers was the happy hunting ground of unsuccessful politicians, long-haired artists and earnest souls striving for the uplift of mankind. The editorial department was usually entrusted to tramp printers. These latter were marvellous craftsmen, when they were sober. The infant mortality rate amongst weekly newspapers was tremendous.

In modern times the publishing of a weekly has become a business with a highly developed sense of public service and weeklies are now run on a business-like basis. A paper must make a profit or it must be subsidized. And no subsidized newspaper is free. The only way to have a free press is to have independent journals which have to look neither to state nor to political party for financial assistance. Therefore, to be independent, a paper must be a business organization making a profit.

The weekly is dedicated to public service in particular, service to the community it serves. In every community in Canada, all worthwhile community efforts receive columns of publicity and editorial support. Therefore a weekly newspaper is a business organization providing a public service for a profit.

Be Sure Before You Shoot

The hunting season has opened and once again the fear of tragedy besets us — tragedy which with precaution can be averted.

Careless hunting practices cause most of the accidents that take place during the hunting season, we are told. Hunters should know the following safe hunting rules:

1. Treat every gun with the respect and care due a loaded gun.
2. Guns taken into a home, a camp or carried in a vehicle should never be loaded. Make sure the ammunition has been removed.
3. Be sure the barrel of the gun is free of any obstruction.
4. Carry a gun so that it is possible to control the direction of the muzzle even if one stumbles.
5. Never point a gun at anything that you do not want to shoot.
6. Never climb a tree or a fence while carrying a loaded gun.
7. Do not shoot at a flat or hard surface of water. If shooting at a target, make sure the backstop is adequate.
8. Alcohol and gun powder are a dangerous mixture. One drink may mean the difference between a pleasant hunting trip and a fatality.
9. Wear bright clothing when hunting, preferably blaze orange.
10. Be positively sure the target you are aiming at is game and not a fellow being. To be sorry for your mistake after an accident has occurred does not help the injured person and will not restore a human life.

Then, too, there is the anxiety, exposure and inconvenience experienced by a few who become lost while hunting. To aid the inexperienced hunter or woodsman, here are a few valuable suggestions —

1. Have a map of the area in which you are going to hunt. The most popular map is the National Topographic series at a scale of 1:50,000 or 1 inch equals 1.25 miles. Each sheet covers about 17 miles by 12 miles.
- These maps may be purchased from the Department of Mines, Provincial Building, Halifax, at 25 cents per sheet. An index map of Nova Scotia showing the area covered by each sheet of this topographic series is available free from the same source.

2. Carry a dependable compass with you and know how to use it. Know your direction of travel on the map and by the compass.

3. Inform somebody where you are going to hunt and do not change your mind without informing someone. In the past the alarm has been sounded sending RCMP officers and forest rangers out looking for a supposedly lost hunter. Later it has been learned the hunter changed his original plans, going to some other area and was not missing.

4. Do not hunt alone in strange country. Should you get turned around, remember that two heads are better than one, particularly if the other knows a bit about the country in which you are hunting.

5. Wear comfortable clothing, bearing in mind that you may have to stay in the woods overnight. Wear what you want for comfort and convenience but wear a blaze orange vest over your jacket and a cover of the same color on your cap.

If you become lost don't panic. If you attempt to find your own way out, there are a few suggestions which might be helpful.

Consider the network of roads in your area and the relatively short distance to one of these. You might undertake to walk in a selected direction until you come to a road and then follow it.

To keep yourself from travelling in circles, use trees or land features as sighting points, and in this manner, sight a straight-line course from one point to another until you come out of the woods.

All brooks and streams follow a course to the sea. One can follow these waterways DOWN STREAM and eventually come to civilization.

A cutover area may lead you out in logging areas.

there are usually roads that will lead to a public highway or to the old mill site.

When you realize you are hopelessly lost, do not keep wandering farther. Stay where you are, and if possible, locate yourself near an open area so you may be readily seen from search aircraft.

Don't wait until you are lost to try woodcraft methods. Be familiar with these before you go to the woods.

Buy Canada Savings Bonds

All over Nova Scotia, just as in many other parts of Canada, many thousands of employees in factories and offices of industrial and commercial establishments will be approached during October and November this year to buy the 1962 series of Canada Savings Bonds through the payroll deduction plan.

In fact, even before the 1962 series was announced as bearing an average interest yield of 5.11% — a record high in the 17 year history of Canada Savings Bonds — people were beginning to ask when they could again begin putting money away for the purchase of these Bonds.

The 1962 series of Canada Savings Bonds will be sold at par until November 15 and carry coupons designed to give the investor an average return of 5.11% if the bonds are held to maturity in 14 years. The coupons bear interest at 4½ percent for each of the first three years; 5% for each of the next three years, and 5½% for each of the final eight years.

Last year, 667,000 employees across Canada bought a total of $223 million worth of bonds through the payroll savings plan. The public purchased $1,096 billion in Savings Bonds through 1,405,000 transactions. The business payroll plans accounted for 667,000 of these transactions and the periodical returns of the sales during the campaign showed that the people of the Atlantic Provinces, particularly Nova Scotians, played a major role in this evidence of thrift.

The Payroll Savings plan offers employees an easy and convenient way to pay for these bonds. The employee places an order with his employers for the amount of bonds he wishes to purchase. Each month, a specific amount of money is deducted from his wages or salary to pay for the bonds. These payments can extend over a 12 month period.

Most Canadians — and Nova Scotians have shown that they are about as thrifty as they come — have a major reason for saving — a cherished future project such as a comfortable retirement, the education of children, family travel, marriage and growing families, buying a house, a business or farm, or for the purchase of furniture and furnishings. Canada Savings Bonds provide an ideal method of accumulating enough money to see such projects realized.

As in former years, Canada Savings Bonds may be cashed at any time by the holder at any bank in Canada for their full face value plus accrued interest. The bonds are again being issued in denominations ranging from $50.00 through to $5,000, with a maximum holding by any individual of $10,000. In addition to being purchased through the payroll savings plan, the new bonds will also be available for purchase from chartered banks, investment dealers, stock-brokers and trust and loan companies.

If you think real automobile value is a thing of the past, take a close look at the new 1963 Custom Volkswagen.

First you'll notice that it's the same shape as last year. But that's the secret of our success. And the reason a Volkswagen is worth more when you trade it in. We never change the basic design, we just keep improving it.

For example: The list price of our

Custom model includes adjustable bucket seats. (Optional in most cars.)

And every VW has a built-in heater and defroster. (Extra cost on most cars.)

Standard equipment includes 2 padded sun visors, windshield washers and an automatic choke.

And then there's something we've always had. An air-cooled engine that can't boil over in summer and never needs antifreeze in winter. A rear mounted engine that gives you better traction on snow and ice. A dependable engine that gets an average of 38 miles to a gallon of gas.

If you think car prices are out of this world, take heart. The '63 Custom Volkswagen is still down to earth.

You can't go ALL-OUT
If you feel ALL-IN

These days most people work under pressure, worry more, sleep less. This strain on body and brain makes physical fitness easier to lose - harder to regain. Today's tense living, overwork, worry - any of these may affect normal kidney action. When kidneys get out of order, excess acids and wastes remain in the system. Then backache, disturbed rest, "fired-out" feeling often follow. That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's stimulate the kidneys to normal action. Then you feel better - sleep better - work better. Ask for Dodd's Kidney Pills at any drug counter. 64

Digby Red Cross Plans Disaster Rally

The October business meeting of the Digby Red Cross Branch was held last week at the Court House with the President, Mrs. R. B. Lent, in the chair. The Treasurer, Mrs. B. H. Ruggles, presented the financial statement, while the office of Secretary was filled by the assistant, Mrs. J. J. Brittain, in the absence of Mrs. Elton Arnold. Correspondence included a letter of thanks from one family receiving the use of a Red Cross wheelchair, also a cash donation from a patient using a Red Cross bed.

The report of the Disaster Relief Committee, presented by Mrs. George Winfield, showed clothing given out to three families during the past month, also bedding to the family of a cancer patient. Mrs. Winfield also reported the purchase of 1 1/2 dozen new dolls in preparation for Christmas boxes, and the need for soliciting used toys and dolls in time to have them repaired before the Christmas season. It was suggested that the Scouts, Guides, C.G.L.T. group, and Lionettes, be approached to assist in collecting toys.

The report of Mrs. Ralph Berwick regarding the work of the Ways and Means Committee showed the sum of $26.36 in receipts, with expenditures of almost the same amount, including the purchase of dolls amounting to $18.71. Thanks were extended to all those contributing refreshments for the week-end Tea from which the funds of the committee are mainly raised. The President expressed her appreciation of the work of the Ways and Means Committee which is responsible for a large proportion of the funds used for local Red Cross work.

The Sickroom Loan Committee reported its equipment in almost constant use, with many expressions of appreciation testifying to the service rendered. The chairman, Delbert Forrest, also reported the urgent need of crutches for a permanent case, and that sufficient funds from donations were on hand to purchase same. This gift was authorized by the meeting.

The Women's Work Committee report, presented by Mrs. H. M. Warne, stated that aprons were again being made under the chairmanship of Mrs. Allen Stark, in preparation for the usual fund-raising table at the annual meeting. It was also reported that a special meeting on women's work had been requested by Mrs. H. G. Raymond, Provincial Chairman, who wished to visit the Valley and South Shore branches in the interest of her committee. Mrs. Warne would be entertaining representatives of the Annapolis Royal, Bear River and Digby branches at her home the following week to meet Mrs. Raymond and learn the latest requirements in the field of Women's Work.

The meeting concluded with plans for holding the annual meeting of the branch in November with Commissioner C. L. Hilsley as guest speaker. Included in the program would be a special Disaster Rally of representatives from the entire Digby branch area for whom Mr. Hilsley would outline Red Cross policy in regard to major and minor disasters. It was hoped to include visitors from the Bear River and Weymouth branches at the meeting, and invitations would also be extended to the Mounted Police and Forestry officials with which the Red Cross Disaster Service is coordinated.

A nominating committee was named to bring in a slate of officers and committees for the annual meeting, those constituting the committee being Mrs. Allen Stark, Mrs. Loran Hayden, Mrs. G. R. Weir and Mrs. Ralph Berwick.

The usual social hour followed the adjournment of the business meeting, tea being served by the Ways and Means Committee.

Distribute C.D. Pamphlets

Aroused to civil defence consciousness by the Cuban situation in which President John Kennedy, of the United States, ordered a "quarantine" of Russian ships going into Cuba, the publicity committee of the Digby C.D. corps is again circulating pamphlets renewing the citizens' acquaintance with warning signals and other C.D. measures. The pamphlets or circulars state that there are three types of warning — the Alert, Take Cover and the All Clear.

The Alert — A steady note on the sirens for three minutes or more means: an attack is possible or radioactive fallout from an attack elsewhere is expected; turn on your radio and while one member of your family listens for instructions, the others should proceed with household preparations.

Take Cover — A rising and falling note on the sirens for three minutes or more means: danger of an immediate attack in your area; take cover immediately; if not already operating, turn on your radio. If there is not time to sound the Alert, the first signal may be the Take Cover.

The All Clear will be announced only on the radio and NOT by the siren. Announcement, does not cancel the Alert. The All Clear is given when your area is expected to be free from radioactive fallout or attack for more than an hour.

An emergency broadcasting plan has been prepared. A battery-powered radio is essential because electricity may be cut off.

Because of questions on some radio programs regarding school children, the Civil Defence authorities in Digby informed the Courier that it was not necessary or not advisable for children to stay home from school. It was stated that students are to remain in school and if anything develops that would indicate a threat locally, students will immediately be taken to their homes by bus. It was felt that adequate warning would be received to insure students arriving home safely, and also to avoid clogging of highways.

Honor New Rector & Wife

The congregation of St. Anne's Anglican Church in Smith's Cove met in the church recreation room on Wednesday evening, October 17 to tender a welcome party to Rev. W. Logan and Mrs. Logan. The hall was tastefully decorated with fall flowers.

The rector was welcomed to St. Anne's by warden Ira Davis. Mr. Logan replied with a few well chosen words. The evening was spent playing cards and singing. A highlight was the singing of happy birthday to warden Ralph Cossitt and treasurer, Elmer Henshaw two of the oldest members of the congregation. Mrs. Logan was presented with a corsage and Mr. Logan with a boutonniere. A table at rear of the hall was laden with pantry supplies. A gift from the members.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Arnold Purdy assisted by Mrs. Walter Keizer and Mrs. Wendell Robinson.

The evening ended with all good wishes to the rector and his wife. All hoped they would have a long and happy stay in the parish.

Defaga Lodge Ends Season

The Digby East Fish and Game Association lodge at Haynes Lake will be officially closed for the winter this Saturday evening, it was announced by association president, Jack Nichols. A dance will mark the closing.

Defaga Lodge has been the scene of many outings since it was officially opened early this summer by Nova Scotia's Lieutenant Governor E. C. Plow.

School Paving Turned Down

At a meeting of the Municipal School Board Monday evening it was decided that due to unfavorable criticism a paving program to be carried out at the school would be cancelled.

Students of Digby Regional High had made plans to underwrite a $4,000 paving program of driveways, paths, and parking areas around the school. This was decided by the 600-member Students' Council. Decision to guarantee the cost was made at a special assembly where the proposal met near-unanimous approval.

The Council decided the project should be undertaken in recognition of the many advantages and opportunities made possible to the students through the Regional High School program in Digby. The paving project was to have been presented as a "perpetual gift" to the school board.

The matter came to a second vote on Monday afternoon with 75% of the students in favor of going ahead with the project.

As far as can be learned this is the first time that the school board has interfered with any plan being carried out by the Students' Council.

Bridge Under Repairs

The bridge over the Sissiboo or river of the Six Owls at the village of Weymouth is getting a face lifting and repairs. It was understood twelve large girders are to be replaced. A large crane and a floating scow are being used in the operation and an expert crew from the Department of Public Works is called into play to complete the work.

The bridge is closed for some period of time each day while the work is being done and the traffic is routed past the Lewis Lumber Co. through Weymouth Falls settlement across the bridge below the Sissiboo dam development. One driver through the route had met 15 cars and two large trucks. 2 transport trucks and a large oil truck, indicating the traffic which ordinarily travels over the bridge at Weymouth.

It was understood that many in Weymouth feel the bridge should be replaced entirely, claiming that the old bridge is only wide enough to permit one way traffic, making a bottleneck that holds up traffic. While there are many bridges to be replaced, it was stated by a Weymouth resident that this one is long overdue and should have early priority.

Deveau, who lived alone, was known to have had a history of heart disease. Pathologists in Yarmouth, Thursday, determined he was alive at the time of the accident. At an inquest held Tuesday evening it was determined that no blame be attached to the driver of the vehicle.

A bachelor, Deveau was survived by two brothers, Henry and John.

Receives Award In Music

Miss Bonnie Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shaw of Annapolis Royal, who received the silver medal from the Royal Conservatory of Music in Toronto, for the highest mark in Nova Scotia in Grade II piano examination, 88. This also entitles her to share the Frederick Harris scholarship, granted to seven pupils in the Maritimes and the Province of Quebec, giving free tuition if she continues with the same music teacher. She is a pupil of Mrs. Hazel Morine, A. R. T. C. of Annapolis Royal.

Miss Shaw is a granddaughter of Mrs. Maye Frost, Little River, Mrs. Oakley Turnbull of Digby is an aunt.

New Look In Education

The New Look In Education was the subject of a panel discussion at the Home and School County Council Rally held at the Smith's Cove Consolidated School on Thursday. Taking part in the panel chaired by Wilfred Higgins, secretary of Home and School Federation for the province of Nova Scotia, were F. C. Purdy, supervisor of Digby area schools; C. C. McInnis, principal of Digby Regional High School; K. C. Langille of the Adult Education Division, Yarmouth and Dr. N. Butcher, president of the Annapolis Home and School Association.

Mr. Higgins noted the many changes which are coming so suddenly in the field of education and felt that Home and School members should be provided with accurate information on the changes. He introduced the first speaker, Mr. McInnis, who dealt with T.V. Learning in schools and took D. R. H. S. where he was principal, as his source of information. At present there are 60 students viewing the science and math courses on T.V. at D. R. H. S. There are 100 students taking the science and math courses but 10 study in the regular classes not using T.V. There are two portable T.V. sets available and accommodating 30 students each.

Mr. McInnis said that the T.V. learning was too new to voice an opinion on its benefits. He felt the material was taught well but it lacked in material content. He also complained about the reception in Digby. Teachers, Mr. McInnis said, are generally in favor of the T.V. type of learning but find the time element unsatisfactory not providing proper preparation. The alert student grasps the subject matter but others require extra help. Sixty percent of the students said they found the T.V. learning more helpful. Most found the picture reception only fair but the sound good. They felt particularly that experiments, explanations and technique in science teaching by T.V. was an advantage and favored continuation of the program.

Adult Education, said Mr. Langille, is the newest and yet the oldest in education. He advised those in homes who had T.V. available to make use of it for furthering formal education by this newest method.

Dr. Butcher spoke on the theory side of the teaching machine learning or programmed learning and Mr. Purdy gave a demonstration of the teaching machine. Programmed Learning, Dr. Butcher said was simply learning logically and in small measures. When something is learned a reinforcement and reward is necessary immediately in order that learning might be effective. This is where, he said, the teaching machine is effective. Pupils leave school, he said, because they do not see reinforcement in their work. With the teaching machine they learn at their own rate.

In demonstrating the teaching machine, Mr. Purdy said the mechanics were quite simple but the cost makes them limited in usefulness. A child or adult using the machine learns in his or her own pace and each question answered on the machine is verified or in other words the learner is reinforced. Confidence is then instilled in the learner. He felt the teaching machine would be good for remedial work and for both adults and children it was more of an aid to teaching than to teach.

President, Albert Jones, thanked the panel for their participation.

PICK RASPBERRIES
Bruce and Ricky Andrews of Rossday, were surprised on Sunday to find growing in their field ripe raspberries and blossoms. They picked enough for a small dessert and hope there will be more. They are sons of Mr. and Mrs. Preston Andrews.

The value of a sentiment is the amount of sacrifice you are prepared to make for it. — John Galsworthy.

Board Cuban Boat Off Sandy Cove

Collector of Customs at Weymouth, Mr. Dennis Comeau, accompanied by R.C.M.P., Digby, boarded the Cuban boat, Fundadore, laying in St. Mary's Bay off Sandy Cove shore for five days. The boat registered at Havana, Cuba came into the Bay on October 16th. On October 20, the collector of Customs decided the stranger boat should be inspected. It was found the boat had left Montreal on October 11 and because she could not enter U. S. A. ports she put into St. Mary's Bay to avoid the hurricane, Ella, which had been forecast. There were 22 in the crew, all young Cubans. They left the Bay on October 21 expecting to have another 10 day run to Cuba.

It was found by Mr. Comeau and the R.C.M.P. that the boat had a cargo of milk, refrigeration machines, shoe repair materials, etc. The crew were anxious to buy cigarettes but didn't have the $10 price to hire a boat to go shopping for them. Mr. Comeau, the R.C.M.P. and the boatman had a half pack between them which they gave the visitors. It was felt that the crew were also low on food.

County Council Passes Resolution

A resolution submitted by the Weymouth Home & School was backed on Thursday by the Digby County Council Home & School which met at Smith's Cove Consolidated School and presided over by Albert Jones, Weymouth, president. The resolution presented by Gifford Lewis, president of the Weymouth Home & School Association, asked that efforts be made to have music teachers in all the schools and that they come under the Foundation Program. This request was to go to the Home & School Federation and the Department of Education for the province of Nova Scotia.

An earlier resolution from Weymouth had asked for an expansion of the French program in school beginning with the elementary grades.

Mrs. Daniel Hanksen brought to the attention of the audience the matter of the Digby County Music Festival which was at first sponsored

Charges Patronage By Government

Earl W. Urquhart, leader of the opposition in the provincial government, charged on Thursday night at the annual meeting of the Digby County Liberal Association that the Stanfield government showed a practice of patronage which posed a threat to the system of responsible and democratic government and further stated that the patronage business was the biggest business the Stanfield government is in today. Patronage, he said, is in all departments of the government.

Mr. Urquhart said the unemployment in Nova Scotia was the highest since the days of depression and the standard of living had diminished. In trading, he said, we had dropped and there was a slow down in production. Mr. Urquhart also accused the Stanfield government for being a part of the concealment of economic ills in Canada during the election campaign.

Mr. Urquhart was introduced by Peter Nicholson, M.L.A., who said the net debt in Nova Scotia had increased 40% since 1956, now the highest per capita debt in the province's history. Mr. Urquhart was thanked by John Nichols, president of the Digby County Liberal Association, who presided over the meeting.

V. G. Cardoza, M.L.A., questioned the austerity program and the cutback in federal spending. No area of Canada will be more adversely affected by a cutback in federal spending, particularly in public works, defence and transport, than the Atlantic provinces, Mr. Cardoza said. The cutback will seriously affect employment and money in circulation in the area, he said.

He stated many secondary roads in Digby area are being neglected. He complimented government on making a start on the new road from the fishermen's wharf at East Ferry and said he had strongly advocated this for several years.

He pledged continued effort to prevent closing of Bay View life saving station and for major improvements to roads and bridges in county.

Commenting on ARDA program, he said that while local participation is essential, leadership must be provided by government. He called on the federal and provincial governments to provide the needed leadership so that an ARDA program might be operated effectively in Digby Co.

Officers elected were: President, John Nichols; 1st Vice President, George Wagner; 2nd Vice President, B. S. Morrell; 3rd Vice President, Wellington Halliday; Secretary, Mrs. Murray Kauback; Treasurer, Richard Warner.

Sub executive: Mrs. Leigh Sabean, Weymouth; Basil Porter, Marshalltown; Wilfred Miller, Smith's Cove; Harry Saunders, Sandy Cove; Alvah Young, Tiverton; B. F. Webber, Digby; Lawrence Sabean, Doucetteville; H. M. Warne, Digby.

COURAGE

I have met an old, old lady, Who has lived for many years;

With a deep abiding beauty In her soul of many tears.

Deep darkness is her only sight, She now is totally blind;

She cannot hear, not ev'n a mite — But all this, she does not mind.

She cannot walk, one leg is gone So she sits and sits all day;

But just the same, she goes along — With a smile that seems to pray.

Now from this brave sweet old lady, I have learned a lesson well;

That if one like her, finds beauty How can I my problems, tell?

To remove tar spots or sap which sometimes falls on cars from trees, use a mild solvent such as varsol.

T.V. Program For Adults Too

The recently inaugurated television education broadcasts in Nova Scotia are a benefit not only to grade II students of mathematics and science but also to interested adults who are at home during the mornings.

Those persons who are at home from Monday to Friday during the broadcasts and who wish to continue their secondary education in these subjects may register for the courses. Adults who pursue these courses may also make application to write the provincial examinations provided they have not been registered at school for the past two years.

The courses being offered are grade II mathematics (algebra and geometry) and science (physics and chemistry).

Adults wishing to register for one or both of these courses are required to pay a registration fee of $2.50 per course to cover cost of printed materials.

The materials to accompany each lesson are provided through the Department of Education and are the same that are supplied to the teachers using the broadcast lessons. Adults taking the courses at home are strongly advised to follow the suggested exercises and make good use of the guide material. Copies of lesson plan already covered in the TV series, which began September 21, will also be supplied registrants.

Those who are considering writing the provincial examination are required to make application to the Registrar, Department of Education, P. O. Box 578, Halifax before May 1, 1963.

About This and That

National Forest Products Week

This is National Forest Products Week. A message from Hon. E. D. Haliburton reminding us of the importance of the forests to the economic welfare of Nova Scotia people is included in this newspaper. Also included in this issue during the National Forest Products Week is an advertisement by Lewis Lumber Company, Weymouth. Their advertisement, we feel, will boost the sale of their products somewhat, but even if it does not have a direct influence on their sales, the Lewis Lumber Company is doing its part to make Digby County people conscious of this asset to our country's economy if we want to use it to advantage. Indirectly, then, they should get in return much more than their outlay for the advertisement even if no direct results are apparent at once.

Why are weeks set apart for certain products? Simply to make people aware of the product and what can be done with it. A special week is designed to further the production of some product on the national level or area level so as to boost economy in general and so that firms and individual participants will stand to gain as well. Yet it seems that those directly concerned in a sale of a product are often the ones least concerned in promoting a product.

Take, for instance, National Fish Week. We doubt if there was a fish dealer or processor in all Digby County who did not have knowledge of National Fish Week. Digby County depends on fishing for its economy yet we doubt if one dealer anywhere, retail or otherwise, did one thing last week to boost the industry in which he is directly concerned. If so, we stand to be corrected and would like to know about it.

Actually the point we want to make in this paragraph is that we so often complain about the lack of transportation for fish, the lack of wharfage facilities for fishermen and probably a dozen more things which are lacking and which we would like provided by governments or some agency. In the meantime we do nothing on our own to keep our industry or product before the public. For example, during National Fish Week we should have been encouraging our own people to be eating more fish — as the late editor George Murray had put it, "eating our way out of our fish problems."

The lack of boosting for our fish products is so pertinent and so obvious that we mention it especially but there are other opportunities being slipped also. For example, Restaurant Week just passed without a mention of the observance locally, yet we feel that all our restaurant proprietors were aware of Restaurant Week. These just happen to be some recent observances passed by. There are many others of less recent dates.

"The most squeaky wheel gets the grease" can be applied in more ways than just yelling to governments and departments for help. We want all the help we can get but we must also show that we are trying to help ourselves — so we at The Digby Courier do our bit of squeaking this week by proclaiming This is National Forest Products Week. The products, not in any special order, include such things as Christmas trees (see the Christmas tree ad), pulp, furniture, lumber, houses, logs, boxes, shingles, boats, pressed wood, sawdust, paper, fencing and a host of others. Did you take advantage of Forest Products Week to mention these or did you leave it for someone else to do?

"Truro Board of Trade Retail Merchants Section is raising $6,000.00 for a Christmas shopping promotional campaign, $4,000.00 of which will go towards decorative street lighting. In the words of Committee Chairman Bernie Sidler, 'the object of the project is to make Truro an interesting, live, exciting place in which to shop at Christmas.' A Santa Claus parade is planned and businesses will be urged and encouraged to decorate their stores as well."

Just a passing remark for the benefit of Digby merchants.

Issues Statement

Statement by Hon. E. D. Haliburton, Minister of Lands and Forests, regarding the third National Forests Products Week, October 21-27, 1962.

On behalf of the Government of the Province of Nova Scotia, I wish to proclaim support of the third National Forest Products Week. Although we call special attention to the produce from our forest during October 21-27, the importance of these materials to our economy and well-being deserves consideration at all times.

Looking around us for a moment we become aware of the irreplaceable position that forest products occupy in our surroundings and activities. Consider the emptiness, the loss of aids, comforts and wealth if all things derived from the forest were to disappear from around us.

Yet, it is not enough only to be aware of the vital part that these products play in our everyday existence. Individually and collectively, we must feel this and accept a responsibility as citizens of Nova

Celebrate

Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. L. G. Ecker were honoured on the occasion of their silver wedding anniversary when a group of their friends surprised them at their home. The evening was spent playing Canasta and Rumoli, and after refreshments were served a gift of silver was presented to the guests of honour.

Guests invited were Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Cleveland, Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Conau, Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Connolly, Mr. and Mrs. Phillip Donald, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hattis, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McIntyre, Mr. and Mrs. Reg Turnbull and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Winchester.

Scotia to see that forest products are supported as the essential part of the general economy that they are.

Forest products have been a mainstay for the people of Nova Scotia for a longer period than any other part of the western hemisphere. Products from the forest have been the materials for all manner of construction. A great many industries, both large and small, have developed to serve the needs of our people. By supporting these industries, we maintain production and employment which are estimated to have a value in excess of $50,000,000 annually. It is said that $1.00 of every $7.00 of the provincial economy is derived from forest products.

At this time, I rededicate the support of the Department of Lands and Forests in promoting and assisting the many phases of the forest industry in the development of forest products.

Famed Pianist At Church Point

The Jeunesses Musicales of Canada Concerts will commence on October 30th at St. Ann's College auditorium at Church Point, which will feature Marek Jablonski, pianist, winner of the 1961 JMC National Competition. This will be a real musical event, which should not be missed by music lovers.

The aims of the JMC is to foster the love of good music amongst the people and especially the youth of our country. It also enables Canadian artists to be heard and it encourages them. The JMC concerts are given throughout Canada and the artists are heard in twenty other countries.

A varied program will be given this season by the JMC with outstanding artists participating. Over 70,000 members belong to the Jeunesses Musicales of Canada made up of 120 sections in 86 centres and covers Canada from coast to coast.

Marek Jablonski, winner of the 1961 JMC National Music Competition was born in Poland in 1939. He won a scholarship prize at the Warsaw Conservatory at the age of 6 years. He was ten years old when he moved to Canada with his parents. They settled in Edmonton, Alberta, where the young gifted pianist soon won many other scholarships.

Marek Jablonski was following a course at the Aspen Summer School of Music when he met Mrs. Rosina Ihevine who persuaded him to study at the Lulliard School of Music in New York. In the 1961 JMC National Music competition he participated and he became famous. He has been guest artist of many symphony orchestras right across Canada, playing in such cities as Victoria, Kitchener-Waterloo, Halifax, Edmonton, Toronto, Windsor, Montreal, Saskatoon, Sherbrooke, Quebec, Nanaimo, Calgary and Regina.

He has given 70 concerts sponsored by the JMC and has been also heard many times on the CBC radio and television networks. He featured at Stratford Festival last year with Glen Gould. He made his debut in Paris and New York where he was widely acclaimed by the press and critics.

24 Tuna Landed

At Cape St. Mary

A total of 22 bluefin tuna have been caught in Nova Scotia waters so far this year.

With the season drawing to a close, the year's record fish appears to be the 750 pounder caught by Jimmy Butler, of Halifax. The largest fish -- a world record holder -- ever caught in Nova Scotia waters was a 977 pound tuna taken at St. Ann's Bay in 1950. The second largest fish taken this year was a 700 pound bluefin caught off Cape St. Mary by Dr. A. S. Baylen, Port Washington, Long Island, New York.

This year the largest number of fish taken in any one area were from the waters off Halifax, where 31 tuna were boated. Six were caught off Chester. On the other side of Nova Scotia, 10 tuna were landed at Wedgeport and 24 at Cape St. Mary.

To Develop Rural Areas And Resources

Agriculture Minister Alvin Hamilton announced Monday the signing of general agreements under the Agricultural Rehabilitation and Development Act with seven provinces.

The seven are Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island, Quebec, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia.

Mr. Hamilton hailed the signing as a major milestone for ARDA. The agreements launch the program into action by permitting approval of a wide range of individual projects and open a broad new field for joint federal-provincial action to develop rural areas and resources.

The projects, embracing alternative use of marginal and submarginal farm land, rural development, and soil and water conservation, will be carried out jointly by federal and provincial governments or by a province with federal assistance.

An amount of $50 million has been set for federal contributions to all provinces during the initial three-year period covered by the general agreement, with the amount not to exceed $20 million in any fiscal year.

Projects contemplated under ARDA are designed to improve rural resources, income, job opportunities and living standards in areas affected by technological and economic changes.

The broad ARDA program embraces:

1. Alternative uses for farm lands which are no longer suitable or economic to cultivate. This could include establishing the land for community or co-operative pastures, for tree production, or for recreational and wildlife uses.

2. Soil and water conservation projects to boost productivity of good farm lands. These would include drainage of arable land, tree planting, water storage, grassing and terracing to prevent soil erosion, and flood control measures, including dams and dikes.

3. Rural development which includes research to determine the most productive use of rural resources, and development projects to provide increased income and job opportunities. It would also include vocational training to take advantage of the new opportunities.

Pointing out that the Act and the agreements will be administered through the ARDA organization, Mr. Hamilton observed that ARDA provides the machinery to tackle many of the basic problems of rural development.

A crowd is not company, and faces are but a gallery of pictures. — Frances Bacon.

Wood Harvest of the Future

This young forest (left) will not be ready for the harvest until after the year 2000 A.D. Yet because it represents Canada's woodland wealth of tomorrow, the speed and manner of its development are important to all Canadians. Today through such methods as soil analysis (right), foresters are learning more than ever before about tree growth, and their studies are constantly bearing fruit.

To remind Canadians of their dependence on these woodlands, and of the efforts made to manage them effectively, National Forest Products Week is currently being held. From the forest comes, for example, the raw material of the pulp and paper industry, Canada's leading producer, wage payer, and exporter.

Foot & Mouth Paintings Now In Canada

Association of Foot and Mouth Artists is the unusual name of an organization which has become an important factor in international art and art publishing.

Its story is still more unusual.

Canadians will hear a great deal more about it in the coming months. For the first time, reproductions from the works of the world's most unique group of artists will be made available in Canada. The project has been a booming success in every country of Europe this side of the Iron Curtain, as well as in South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, Japan, India, Brazil and Argentina.

The Association was formed after the war in the tiny Principality of Liechtenstein as a means of drawing attention to a group of painters from many nations who all produce important works of art under a terrifying handicap: they are deprived of the artist's most valuable tool — their hands. Some were born crippled, some are victims of polio, some of war and accidents. All have trained themselves to wield a paint brush with their mouth or their feet.

It is not a charity organization. It is a business — fully owned by its members, the foot and mouth artists themselves.

At present, the Association has one Canadian member, Earl Bailly of Lunenburg, Nova Scotia, one of Canada's outstanding landscape painters who lost the use of both hands in early childhood through polio and whose work is now on permanent display in the National Gallery in Ottawa.

A series of original paintings by the world's leading foot and mouth artists have now been reproduced in Canada in the form of greeting cards and are being distributed from coast to coast. Not only do these people paint with foot or mouth but the letter which accompanied this press release was originally written by one of these people and the copies are from the original.

GRANT SOUGHT FOR MICROFILMING OF NEWSPAPER FILES

The Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association will ask the Canada Council for a grant to microfilm all the back files of all weekly newspapers in Canada.

A resolution passed at the 43rd annual CWNA convention just concluded at Winnipeg called for an unspecified fund to be set up for use by provincial archives.

Moved by Jeff. Hurley of the Burlington (Ont.) Gazette, the resolution reflects a worry on the part of many association members that invaluable files containing the history of Canada will be lost forever if not gathered for safekeeping in the near future. Already many papers have incomplete files due to fires, changes of ownership and natural deterioration.

The resolution also contains a clause calling for sufficient funds for histories of the weekly press to be commissioned. These histories would be handled on a regional basis.

Some weeklies have already been privately microfilmed, but the cost would be prohibitive to the average small weekly newspaper. A 100 year old weekly would have nearly 6,000 issues for photographing.

Rushing around smartly is no proof of accomplishing much. — Mary Baker Eddy.

Jared's letter compares the expense of supporting a family in Oxford and Weymouth, Oxford being so much less than Weymouth, N. S.

Letter Of 1846 Found

Gordon King, who recently purchased the home of Albert Amoro, Doucetville, brought to The Digby Courier a letter dated Oxford, Mass., January 31, 1846. The letter, addressed to Mr. John McConnell, Weymouth, was found by Mrs. King when replacing some carpeting. The letter evidently had not been enclosed in an envelope but had been folded so that the outer part could be addressed for mailing. No postage stamp was on the letter but an inscription where a postage stamp would ordinarily be today served to give the cost of posting.

The letter was on paper similar in texture and size to foolscap and actually were three letters in one — one from Jared Crane to his brother and sister, one from a niece to Aunt Sally, uncle and Eliza and another from Ionna Crane to brother and sister.

In Ionna's letter she tells that "the Yankees are erecting an 'electric telegraph' from Boston to New York city that will convey news at the rate of 40 miles in a minute by means of a wire which is supported by posts about 10 rods apart. It is said that if a bird attempts to light on the wire it is instantly killed on its touching the wire. It is completed nearly all the way from Boston Springfield, about 100 miles."

The letters contain such names as Eliza McConnell, William Mofses, Aaron, Mary and Elizabeth Ursula Bathsheba, Mr. Tyler and Mrs. Robert Hankinson, Jane Hankinson.

They state that women's wages at Oxford are very high, 12 shillings per week. The women go in the factories and make six and seven dollars per week.

NEW BADGE FOR AIR DIVISION IN EUROPE

As one of his last official duties before retiring as Canada's Chief of Air Staff, Air Marshall Hugh Campbell presented the newly approved badge to the RCAF Air Division in Europe to the Division's Commander, Air Vice Marshall Larry E. Wray.

In presentation at Air Force Headquarters AVIM Wray accepted the original design of the badge, bearing the approval of the Queen and the College of Arms.

The design incorporates 4 golden maple leaves, representing the Division's four fighter wings, surmounted by crossed sabres, symbolizing both the Division's fighting power and the "Sabre" aircraft with which its units were originally equipped. The Latin motto "Ad Custodiendam Europam" can be freely translated, "For the Defence of Europe."

Air Marshall Campbell was the first Commander of the NATO Air Division, which will celebrate the tenth anniversary of its formation on October 1st. With headquarters in Metz, France, it controls fighter bases in France and Germany and will soon be re-equipped with the supersonic CF-101 Starfighter.

Clerk Retires After 19 Years

The Digby Municipal Council in special session Monday approved recommendations in the report of the special committee on the education program appointed by the provincial minister of education in September 1961.

The motion was moved by councillor M. P. Gott and seconded by Councillor Walter Wood.

It contained a provision that the approval was contingent upon the province continuing to share in education costs as outlined in the report.

Council accepted with regret the resignation of Deputy Municipal clerk, Mrs. H. R. Bishop, Mrs. Bishop, who has served as deputy clerk since 1943 is retiring.

Official Badge For Collectors

Decision to equip tax collectors with an official badge of identification came Monday after a suggestion to Digby Municipal Council from Councillor, M. P. Gott.

The only identification carried by tax collector Paul Swansburg, and others before him, has been a pair of handcuffs, said councillor Gott, and this is not sufficient authority for a person expected to take delinquent taxpayers into custody.

Ability is a poor man's wealth. — Matthew Wren.

Forum To Open

Plans were made at a meeting of the Digby Recreation Commission meeting on Monday night to open the Digby Forum around the middle of November. Season tickets will be on sale at once, it was announced.

Plans were also made at the meeting on Monday to hold the annual meeting of the Digby Recreation Commission on November 14. It was understood that all current bills had been disposed of through contributions and remittances from the Digby Curling Club.

Concern was expressed in the fact that only three persons had been on hand to attend a meeting called for the purpose of re-organizing the Ravens Hockey Club. A request had been sent to all organizations in town to send a representative.

The Recreation Commission meeting on Monday night was presided over by Dr. J. R. McCleave, president.

Rescue Courses In Progress

Two rescue courses were in progress at the Digby Fire Station during the past two weeks when ten volunteers from Annapolis Royal and 12 from Digby took training in rescue work on several nights in the week. The courses are being directed by Earl Anderson, Vaughn VanTassell and Joseph Doucet, all of whom had taken special training in Annapolis, Ontario.

It is expected that approximately forty will attend the operational courses which will be given in Digby on the 7th and 8th of November. The courses are especially designed for the chief of services and any elected members of the council who wish to attend.

Curling Club Meets

The semi-annual meeting of the Digby Curling Club was held at the Curling Club Rooms on Saturday, October 20th. It was in the form of a dinner meeting, which was catered to by the Ladies' Curling Club.

Dr. J. R. McCleave, representative of the Curling Club to the Recreation Commission and President of the Commission, gave a report on the condition of the Commission and asked the Curling Club for financial assistance in order to re-open the Forum and in making every effort to have curling at an early date. Advance dues were paid by members present and a payment of considerable amount was passed for the work of the Commission.

The following chairmen of committees were appointed or elected —

Only by that method would every member have the right and opportunity to make his choice for skip for the 1962-63 season.

CELEBRATE 59th ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Cossitt, Smith's Cove, celebrated their 59th wedding anniversary on Sunday, October 28th.

Stood By During Crisis

The civil defence office in Digby was kept open continually for a few days last week during the height of the Cuban crisis, it was learned at a meeting of Civil Defence workers on Monday evening. This was purely a local move in case a situation would arise when further preparation would suddenly seem necessary.

The regular meeting on Monday night was presided over by the director of C. D. in Digby, Thomas Cleveland. Each service chief gave a report of work to date and plans for the future and an open discussion was held on various aspects of C. D.

William MacLeod, head of welfare for C. D. expects to start a program for each welfare chief on November 15. He reported that he is still looking for a chief for clothing. Direction signs will be made locally it is understood and will be in blue and gold as regular C. D. colors.

Webster Dunn said that there are 10 or 12 active members in the auxiliary police but that he has been requested to double that number. It is expected an auxiliary police school will be held shortly.

William Troupe and Graham Saunders each reported plans lined up for their respective committees, welfare feeding and radiation monitoring. Mrs. J. M. Wallis reported a new drive on publicity for the benefit of the citizens and that 1000 copies of "Eleven Steps To Survival" had been ordered for distribution.

Charles McBride reported that permission had been received from the Municipal School Board to use the school buses and other facilities in case of emergency. A list of transportation information was being made.

Dr. D. E. Lewis reported having recently attended a Hospital Disaster course in Halifax and reported a number of items which would be necessary to carry out evacuations and general C. D. precautions effectively.

Reginald Turnbull, secretary, said there were two services to be filled in the Digby Civil Defence program, that of warden and lodging.

In general discussion the subject of ambulances, the necessity of having a list of people who had taken Saint John Ambulance or Red Cross First Aid Courses came up. It was felt that further First Aid Courses should be started. Other subjects discussed included stretcher supply and maps of artesian well water available. Communications also came in for a thorough discussion with the possibility of using boat radio sets.

Mayor V. L. Bent and Councillor Leigh Jayne represented the town at the meeting. Others present besides the above mentioned were William Green and V. G. Cardoza.

The price of power is responsibility for the public good. — Wintrop W. Aldrich.

Digby County Teacher In Africa

Miss Ruth Connick is scheduled to return home in mid-November after teaching in Germany for three years and travelling throughout Africa the past five months.

Miss Connick a teacher for about 12 years, taught in Canadian Defence Department establishments in Germany and left for Africa immediately after classes ended in June of this year. Included in her African itinerary were visits in Kenya, Johannesburg, Kimberley, Ghana and Cape Town. She also attended an African Teachers Convention in September.

She had taught in schools in Nova Scotia and Ontario before going to Germany. Miss Connick is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Connel of Hecanooga. On her return she plans to resume teaching in the province. Above is shown Miss Connick in a school in Africa, one of the many she visited while touring the continent during the past five months. The little boy is pointing out Nova Scotia on the globe held by Miss Connick. Miss Connick is from Hecanooga, Digby County.

Truck Caught In Drags

While at work eight miles off Gulliver's Head, Captain Lefroy Robicheau's fish dragger "Wendy Faye" became entangled in the remains of what was probably an oil truck.

Four wheels remained on what appeared to be the tail end of a large tank trailer truck. Most of the vehicle was badly bent and damaged so as to distort its entire shape. Drags became entangled last Thursday. Cables were left there until Tuesday when it took twelve hours to tow the mass in to Centreville where it was beached.

Harold Thompson of Centreville was the only crew member aboard the boat at the time of the incident.

Correction Paving

The story last week in The Digby Courier re school paving should have read "At a meeting of the Digby Regional High School Board" and not "At a meeting of the Municipal School Board". The story referred to the decision not to pave driveways and parking areas around the school.

F. C. Purdy, supervisor of schools, in drawing the error to the attention of the Courier also stated that if the Student's Council wish to go ahead with the paving program "on their own" there was no reason why they could not do so.

Bad driving, not bad luck, causes accidents.

Turns Down Hockey Offer

Paul Althouse, 18-year-old Kentville hockey centre star and ball player, has turned down an offer from the Toronto Maple Leafs to sign a contract, but plans to accept the offer next year, after he completes Grade 12 at Kings County Academy. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Holland Althouse.

There were 80 prospects who were called to Toronto by head coach Bob Davidson, but only ten were chosen. Paul, checked in at 170 pounds but took off five pounds during the workouts.

His plans now are to return to Toronto for the 1963 season and to play junior hockey with the club to which he is assigned, and also enter the University of Toronto.

Paul says they were all royally entertained. There were three other Nova Scotians who tried out — Hal Dobson and Fred Malcolm, both forwards, of New Glasgow, and Lyle Carter, goaltender of Brookfield, Carter, as well as the other two lads, made good showings.

STRAWBERRIES AND DAISIES

Mrs. Sarah Amero, Smith's Cove, found strawberries in full growth and daisies in bloom on Tuesday. Nine strawberries and one blossom were on the vine with one strawberry fairly well ripened.

Justice without power is inefficient; power without justice is tyranny. — Blaise Pascal.

Mrs. Clinton Miller, of Bear River, was district delegate to Provincial Convention, held at Acadia University last July.

In her report of the event she said how very much she had enjoyed her first convention, and urged everyone who could to attend them. She told of the announcement that the organization will adopt the Island of St. Christopher in the West Indies, or St. Kitts as it is commonly known. British Columbia was the first province to adopt an island, which was Turks Island, and it is hoped Nova Scotia has set a pattern for the other provinces to follow.

Mrs. Willis Buckler, Past Provincial Convener - Legislation and Citizenship - addressed the gathering, taking as her subject the theme of the year, "Building Today for a Brighter Tomorrow". She stressed the need of education for world citizenship so that we may be able to meet the challenges of this life.

Celebrate 57th Anniversary

About seventy-five gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Robicheau, Gilbert Cove, on Tuesday evening to help them celebrate their 57th wedding anniversary. Outstanding among the guests were their bridesmaid and groomsmen of fifty-seven years ago. The bridesmaid, now Mrs. Martin McLanson, Gilbert Cove, was formerly Miss Elizabeth Thibault, Doucetteville, a cousin of the bride. The groomsmen was a brother of the bride, Jesse Amero.

Mr. and Mrs. Robicheau were married on October 31, 1905 at Holy Cross Church, Plympton with Rev. Father Ruest officiating.

The bride was the former Mary Emily Amero, daughter of Frank and Eliza Amero, Doucetteville. The groom, Joseph Desire Robicheau, was the son of Joseph and Eliza Robicheau, also of Doucetteville where the bride and groom lived for seven years before moving to Gilbert Cove.

Mr. and Mrs. Robicheau had nine children, seven of whom are living. They are two daughters, Bernice (Mrs. Thomas McCullough), Richmond, N. Y.; Lillian (Mrs. Walter McLanson), Gilbert Cove; five sons, Jesse, Gilbert Cove; Eugene, Plympton Station; Charles, Sydney, C. B.; Vincent, Gilbert Cove and Bernard, Gilbert Cove. There are sixteen grandchildren and ten great grandchildren.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Robicheau are in good health. Mrs. Robicheau takes care of the home without outside help and Mr. Robicheau, a lumberman of 83 years continues to be active cutting cord wood and pulp wood for sale. Although blind in one eye, he utilizes the other so that he enjoys shoot and snaring animals. Last year he caught eight foxes, travelling by snowshoe to cut wood in the woods and watching the snares enroute home.

Mr. Robicheau likes telling stories and reminiscing and both are active in the church.

Fifty-six Years Correspondent

Departure from the community of Tiverton of Mrs. Georgia Outhouse, who will make her new home in Dartmouth, has created many vacancies in local organizations and offices.

Mrs. Outhouse, in her late seventies, had completed 56 years as correspondent for The Digby Courier, and 33 years as correspondent for the Yarmouth Herald. Seven years as divisional registrar of births, deaths, and deputy issuer of marriage licences, this post will be filled by Melbourne Outhouse.

She had been financial secretary of Sunrise Rebekah Lodge since its organization in 1950, and she had also been organizer for both the Baptist Church and the Church of Christ (Disciples).

In Dartmouth Mrs. Outhouse will reside with her son and daughter-in-law and family, Mr. and Mrs. Delroy Outhouse.

Celebrate 50th Anniversary

The Neighbourly Club of Deep Brook met on October 24 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Borden Fountain. A special evening was planned as it was the 50th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Adams. Mrs. Adams is one of the club's active members. Mrs. Lillian Vroom led the devotional. Refreshments were served, after which the guests of honour were presented with anniversary gifts.

Deveau was Meteghan's contribution to the days program. Bear River presented a "Hat Fashion Show" with members of various branches modelling hats and wearing accessories, made of kitchen gadgets. Mrs. Buckler was the commentator.

A social hour was enjoyed, with refreshments served by the hostess institute.

Addresses Finance Officers

Edward W. Twobig, C.A., Digby, addressed municipal finance officers at their 3-day refresher course held recently at the Nova Scotia Hotel, Halifax. His topic, "Municipal Accounting", was directed chiefly to smaller municipalities and towns which make over three-quarters of the municipal units of the province.

He gave an outline of various methods of improving the information available to town and municipal councils to assist them in carrying out the management of municipal and town finances.

Mr. Twobig was assisted by former Digby Deputy Town Clerk, Carl Warner, now Town Clerk at Bridgetown. Mr. Warner displayed certain systems that had been put into use in his office.

The course was attended by some eighty town clerks, municipal clerks and others. E. Scott Eaton and Roscoe Handsaker were present from Digby.

Road Improvements In Progress

Despite the unfavorable weather experienced this season, the highway program for the Municipality of Digby is progressing favorably and not too far behind schedule, the Courier has been advised by E. Keith Potter, president of the P. C. Association for the Electoral District of Digby.

The Lighthouse Road has been completed to paving standards. A section of the Broad Cove Road, (Shore Road) from the intersection of the Lighthouse Road towards the Life Saving Station, has been reconstructed and will be gravelled shortly, thus bringing this portion of the road up to paving standards. The remainder of the Broad Cove Road from this point to the Town Limits will not be subjected to further construction work this year, due to the lateness of the season and the moisture content of the area, however, the bushes, etc., along the right of way will be cleared on this section of the highway this fall, the spokesman said.

The Doucetteville Road has been reconstructed from Lewis' Mill at Weymouth, through the community of Weymouth Falls and covered with crushed gravel.

The Sissiboo Road has been reconstructed from the end of the pavement towards Doucetteville.

About This and That Subscribers & Advertisers Must Be Pleased

A newspaper has two customers to please — the subscriber and the advertiser. Of these two, the subscriber is the most important.

This is true even though the advertiser provides most of the revenue of any paper. But the advertiser buys space for one reason: to get his message read by a large number of people. Therefore he is vitally interested in the circulation of his advertising media. The greater the circulation a paper has, the more advertising it can sell and the higher the rate it can command.

Over the years, therefore, the paper must cover the activities which interest its readers. Otherwise circulation will drop off and advertising revenues will shrink in consequence.

It is because of reader interest that such a large proportion of weekly newspaper space is devoted to District and personal news. Often this may seem of the "Mrs. Smith went down the road to visit Mrs. Brown" variety, but the little item has definite reader appeal to the Smith and Brown families, relatives and all their friends. In The Digby Courier we have had many examples of the great interest taken in personal and District news.

Reader interest builds circulation and upon that circulation a newspaper's revenue depends. Therefore to the publisher of any paper the subscriber is the most important person.

Surviving is a son, Carlos at Westwood, N. J. Three sons predeceased her.

Hurried Hearing

The municipal clerk at Church Point had been advised that a hearing on the proposed closing of the railway station there was scheduled for October 25, but for some reason no one was informed about it.

When an official from the department of transport, the general manager of the Dominion Atlantic Railway and his chief engineer, arrived at the station last week they found no one but the station agent. Station agent, Edward Blinn, hurriedly called some of the interested parties who ship via the railway. Only three of the representatives, the hydro electric committee, Frankland Canning Company and Saint Ann's College, were able to attend because of such short notice.

ROAD IMPROVEMENTS

cetteville to Hal Wagner's Corner, however, the crushed gravel still has to be laid on this road and plans are under way for the gravelling to be done soon.

A section of the Fort Point Road at Weymouth North is still to be reconstructed this fall.

A major improvement at East Ferry has been under way for several weeks. A new highway is being constructed along the shoreline connecting French Beach to No. 17 highway at the Ferry Slip, thus eliminating the steep hill that has been a handicap to the fish plants located at French Beach for many years. The provision of a new access road to this area has been advocated locally for over a quarter of a century. In the fall of 1960, Hon. George Nowlan, Federal Representative, made arrangements for Engineers from the Federal Dept. of Public Works to meet with the provincial Highway Engineers at East Ferry with the idea in mind of providing a new access road to French Beach on a shared expenditure basis between the two governments, the Federal Govt. participating in the project on the basis that an improved highway to the area would be a direct benefit to the Govt. wharf. Following this meeting, the area was surveyed and arrangements were made between the two governments whereby the road would be constructed and maintained by the provincial Department of Highways with the Federal Govt. providing half the cost of construction.

On June 16, last when Mr. Nowlan visited East Ferry, he informed the people that the Federal Government's share of the proposed project, namely, $18,000, had been provided in the estimates and authorized by the Treasury Board. Following the announcement by Mr. Nowlan, the provincial government made capital funds available for their share of the project. Mr. Thomas Deveau of Digby has been in charge of the project since

Christian Education Theme

Christian Education was the theme of the program presented on Tuesday evening to the U.C.W. of Grace United Church by Mrs. William Marshall and Mrs. Gerald Hoare. Christian education, said Mrs. Marshall, should be directed to mission and evangelism, it is life long, it should be planned and it requires leadership. By means of a chart Mrs. Marshall and Mrs. Hoare showed the various methods and groups through which Christian Education is imparted through the Grace United Church.

Rev. R. H. Hughes led the Bible study on the church in Corinth and Mrs. J. M. Wallis led the thanksgiving worship. The meeting was presided over by 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Elton Arnold.

Reports were given by each of the four unit leaders showing study being carried on and handwork for sales accomplished. Fifty-seven calls were made.

Mrs. Richard Baxter was named in charge of the sale of church calendars; Mrs. Milton Atkinson, Christmas boxes for shut-ins; Mrs. Dilon on committee for Christmas supper planning; Mrs. Gordon Arnold and Mrs. Boyd Milbury, fancy work; Mrs. Allen Harris and Mrs. Kenneth Beckwith, candy; Mrs. Gladys Budrow and Mrs. John Abramson, food for the sale. Plans were completed for a United Church Women workshop to be held on Saturday afternoon in the church hall. Mrs. G. Banks, Kingston, is in charge of the workshop. Mrs. Gordon Ellis, Digby, will convene the tea hour.

We can offer up much in the large, but to make sacrifices in little things is what we are seldom equal to. — Goethe.

The nostalgic sound of disks sliding over a crokinole board, the marching of pins around a cribbage board, the friendly rivalry of a game of 45's, the concentration on a game of "Canasta" and "Solitaire" and the friendly hum of conversation, along with such toe-tapping tunes as "Over the Waves", "Golden Slippers" etc., played on the mouth organs of Mr. George Wool and Mr. Maurice Nicholl, were much enjoyed and appreciated by the guests at the home of the host and hostess, Mr. Harold and Mrs. Alice Dunn recently at a social evening held to raise money for the Smith's Cove Home & School Association.

Prettily decorated pies went down under the auctioneer's (Mr. Arthur Isles) persuasive "going, going, gone" and were sold and sampled, in the time-honoured tradition. On pie in particular sold for $7.50.

That's the time to take Dodd's Kidney Pills. Dodd's help stimulate the kidneys to relieve this condition which may often cause backache and tired feeling. Then you feel better, rest better, work better. Get Dodd's Kidney Pills now. Look for the blue box with the red band at all drug counters. You can depend on Dodd's.

Premier Speaks At Opening

More important than the progress in erection of school buildings in the past ten years, said Premier Robert Stanfield, Minister of Education, at the official opening of the Islands Consolidated School at Freeport, is the growing conclusion that education is really important. Today anyone without an education finds it difficult to carve out a career or get employment. In older days education was not absolutely necessary except for those entering professions. It was a recognized fact that vocational education is necessary to prepare for making a living and vocational aspects are being stressed by schools constructed strictly for that purpose, the Premier noted. However, he warned students against the attitude of depending solely on vocational training and neglecting the academic. One might learn a trade today, he continued, and find it of little use in later life because of rapidly changing times. By being equipped with a good academic education a switch to another vocational field can readily be made.

The Premier stressed the attitude of the parents as important to the success of a child's education. Competent teachers, he said, are not the only requirement but much depends on the attitude of the student and also on the attitude of parents toward school and teachers.

The Premier brought greetings from the government and expressed appreciation of the high calibre of people occupying places as county commissioners, members of school boards and other responsible places in the educational system. He complimented the Islands people on the importance they have placed on education in the past and which they continue to do. He expressed the hope that the schools would continue to be blessed with good teachers and the students come from homes where parents know the value of education.

Premier Robert Stanfield was introduced by Keith Potter, Plympton.

V. G. Cardoza, MLA, Digby, in a few remarks said that he hoped the new school would not only serve as a place of instruction for classroom hours but that it would be a center of learning for all the Islands, youth and adult. He pointed out the importance of instilling in the minds of the young people pride in community, province and nation.

The impressive program, which served to officially open both the Freeport and Westport schools began with "O Canada," invocation by Rev. Neil Burt, minister of the Church of Christ, Westport, and a welcome by the chairman for the evening, Leonard Small, chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Islands Consolidated School.

Other speakers for the evening were Rice Kinney, Ashmore, chairman of the Digby Municipal School Board; Ronald Morehouse, Warden of Digby Municipality; C. E. Edwards, Inspector of Schools, and B. E. Finigan, supervising principal at Freeport. The prayer of dedication was given by Rev. W. Ideson, of the Baptist Church, Freeport.

Mr. Kinney in his remarks said that on the administration level they were proud to perform their administrative duties over schools such as at Freeport which not only continue an interest in education but enhance that interest. He complimented the people of the Islands in their participation in the business life and (Please turn to page 5)

Propose Winter Works

The regular session of Digby Town Council was held on Monday evening. Councilor Bruce Baxter, chairman of streets committee, reported that the concrete wall on the Shore Road has been repaired. Among projects proposed under the Winter Works program are the repairing of curbwork on Water Street, and repairing abutments at the Racquette. As yet this has not been approved by the Dominion government.

It was reported that paving of town streets has been finished. Plans as outlined at the October meeting to erection of street signs and painting of crosswalks are to be carried out. A letter was read from the Lions Club requesting the town to straighten several street markers that the club had erected and to put up further signs obtained by the Lions. On request from the Lions it was the decision of the council to take over from the club which had made such a worthy contribution.

The council gave permission to the Lights committee to have two streets lights erected on Third Avenue between Prince William and Carleton Streets, when money and lights are available.

It was also decided to add the council's voice to that of Yarmouth town to create legislation to prohibit vehicles passing stopped buses on provincial highways. The government has been notified by the Town office of this motion.

Mrs. Zoe Robichaud, Little Brook, celebrated her 99th birthday on October 18. Mrs. Robichaud, formerly of Cape St. Mary, makes her home with her daughter, Mrs. Camille Gaudet.

On this special occasion Mrs. Robichaud received many letters, cards and gifts, including a birthday cake from Mrs. Eloi Doucet of Maville. Her daughters, Mrs. Marie Carriere, de Legal of Alberta, Mrs. Dean Byers of Santa Clara, California and Mrs. Gaudet of Little Brook, presented her with flowers and gifts. Messages of good wishes were received by telephone from New York and Massachusetts.

Addresses Group

The Clementsport Home and School Association held its regular meeting October 24th. The twenty-two members present decided to hold a card party some time in November. Guest speaker, Miss E. Graham RN (Retired) gave an interesting talk on Public Health in Labrador from seventy years ago to the present time. Next meeting is November 28th.

New Church Dedication

On Monday, November 12, at 2:30 p.m., the new Reformed Baptist Church (above), on Victoria Street in Digby, will be formally dedicated, with appropriate ceremonies.

The church is located on Victoria Street, near its junction with the main highway. A basement type church with a permanent roof, it has been under construction for the past several months and is nearly completed.

The church began in a small way several years ago as a home mission church. Its members felt it had shown sufficient growth to warrant the construction of the new structure to care for the increased needs. The church is situated on a large lot with sufficient room for a parking lot and parsonage.

An interesting program has been arranged for the dedication of the Reformed Baptist Alliance, Rev. Ralph Ingersoll of Saint John, N. B., will be in charge, assisted by Rev.

C.D. Meets In Digby

Responsibility of municipal and town officials for a Civil Defence program and in formulating local terms of reference was stressed on Wednesday by Rafee Douthwaite, Deputy Co-ordinator for the province at a C.D. meeting held at Hotel Champlain. Mr. Douthwaite emphasized making all possible use of government departments and agency employees in the C.D. program and volunteer agencies to fill in on the survival plans.

C.D., he said, is not a separate organization but part of the government. Mr. Douthwaite further stressed the necessity of having plans in advance and having them on paper so that in an emergency everybody would know what to expect. Besides, he said, it must be known whether or not the plan will work and it must of necessity then be tried in actual practice. Government planning guides for operation, the speaker said, were pliable enough so that local leadership and initiative would have an opportunity to operate. This was necessary because something of importance to one special community might not be in the guide.

Mr. Douthwaite noted that the C.D. program here is not so much concerned with target areas as it is in the acceptance of evacuees and care of these along with care of individuals in the area.

In charge of administration of the school being held in Digby on Wednesday and today is Thomas Cleveland, C.D. director in Digby. Deputy Mayor Mrs. Helen Anthony gave a welcome to some thirty delegates and officials on behalf of the town.

Another speaker on Wednesday morning's program was J. A. Orlik, training officer, who dealt with standing operating procedures. The characteristics of a good SOP, Mr. Orlik said, were simplicity, flexibility, co-ordination and a plan of rehearsals. They must be planned for quick action as emergencies are unpredictable. There must be rapid means of collecting and assembling information, personnel and equipment. Diagrams are most useful. Improvisation is a necessity in any type of C.D., the speaker continued, for facilities with which we are accustomed might fail in time of emergency.

A syndicate discussion on terms of reference, headed by Donald Machum, Mr. Douthwaite and Mr. Orlik closed the morning session.

Only years ago to the present time. Next meeting is November 28th.

Milton Bogby, of Barker's Point, N. B., president of the Home Mission Board, and other ministers of the district.

An evening service, which will be evangelistic in nature, is planned for 7:30. There will be visitors and delegations from other churches and the public is cordially invited to these services.

Minister at the church for the present is Rev. H. M. Kimball, pastor of the East Ferry Reformed Baptist Church. Mrs. Kimball is the former Stella Mullen, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Asa Mullen Havelock, Digby Co. They have nine children, one of whom is still at home. She is eleven-year-old Cheryl.

Rev. and Mrs. Kimball came to East Ferry from Kingman, Maine. Mr. Kimball attended the University of Maine, was ordained in Maine in 1930 and had served for 25 years in New Brunswick churches. For six years he was with the Home Mission Board in the State of Maine.

AVABT Hears Boom In Europe

Jack Golding, Halifax, regional officer of the National Productivity Council for the four Atlantic Provinces, addressed the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade annual meeting in Annapolis Royal on Wednesday on the subject "Boom In Europe". Mr. Golding had recently returned from a visit to six European countries where he accompanied twelve other men on the National Productivity Council mission.

In Sweden, he said, ninety percent of industry is under private ownership but there is no arguing between employer and employee. A labor court within the plant makes decisions. Economists are brought into use and for a number of years economics shows a full picture. Although no one country's plan could be used in Canada exclusively, each country had some point of plan which could be made workable here, the speaker said, and each country visited showed a high standard in the economic situation.

In Holland, Mr. Golding said, great emphasis was put on education and training. Business firms sent students to university and then they returned to the business to work. In areas that are not economically prosperous and without a bright outlook, it has often been found more advantageous to move people to more concentrated areas.

In Sweden, the speaker found that free education was offered to those who qualified and had ambition.

Germany was experiencing a bit of inflation but shops are full of machinery and industry thriving. This, he said, was a result of freezing wages and profits for 10 years after the war and their entry into the European Common Market. Workers were retrained and plans drawn up as to requirements of employees and ability of firms to pay.

France, too, had full employment with all civil servants having college degrees. England is going through complex times with probably more strife and difficulty than in other nations.

Vincent Snow, chairman of the resolutions committee, placed before the assembly several resolutions which were passed, all of which dealt in some measure with the Digby area. That Valley and South Shore boards ask government to turn Tobatic game sanctuary and the Lake Rossignol area into a national park; that better transportation services between Digby and Saint John, N. B., be sought; that better docks be provided at Digby.

Though Digby Board had prepared a resolution regarding the park, John Hirtle, Bridgewater, and D. Bowers, Shelburne, of the South Shore Affiliated Boards, visited the A.V.A.B.T. annual on the same matter having taken up the project in 1957.

The matter of T.C.A. service extension and the Fundy Trail were still to be pursued.

Attention of the meeting was to be drawn to CJCH-TV regarding the poor reception from the Bay View satellite. Favorable reports were given regarding CKAD radio station.

The matter was also introduced by Clare of asking the Department of Fisheries to undertake a survey of all scallop fishing grounds which might be found for benefit of the scallop fishing industry in the area. It was drawn to the attention that scallops on George's Bank were decreasing. The proposal was endorsed by the meeting.

David Waterbury, Wolfville, succeeds Gordon Goucher, Middleton, as president. Other officers are: Emanuel Adelaar, Weymouth, first vice-pres.; Dennis Soule, Meteghan, second vice-pres.; Victor Bruce, Bridgetown, third vice-pres.; and George Wamboldt, Bridgetown, treasurer.

Wins Medal

William Malcolm Bruce Armstrong of Bay View, has been named Digby County winner of the Lieutenant Governor's Medal. In all, twenty-one of this year's grade XI graduates throughout Nova Scotia will receive the prize. The medals are awarded to the student in each area who attains the highest aggregate on the annual provincial examinations in English, history, mathematics, science and one foreign language.

IN HOSPITAL ... Juvenile Court

A fifteen-year-old Digby boy may lose the sight of one eye as the result of teenage pranksters Halloween night. At 8:30 p.m. David VanTassel, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald VanTassel, Church Street, was walking towards his home when he was hit in the left eye by a heavy object, probably a rock, thrown at him by a passing group of teenagers. He was alone, returning from a Halloween gathering.

The mask that David was wearing was badly smashed by the force of the object thrown. The boy said that when he called for help, saying that he was in pain, the group laughed and walked away.

He was rushed to Digby General Hospital where he is still resting. There is probability that David will lose the sight of his eye.

Many Digby Firms In A.V.A.B.T.

Of thirty-three firms from Clare to Windsor, N. S., and on Digby Neck and Island, belonging to the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, twelve or nearly forty percent were from the town of Digby according to a report presented at the annual meeting of the A. V. A. B. T. held in Annapolis Royal on Wednesday. A special membership drive was made last summer in order to produce a folder advertising the Annapolis Valley area and surroundings for tourist benefits.

The Digby Board of Trade having instructed its delegates to seek information on voting and other privileges at the A. V. A. B. T. for business firms, the question was presented by the Digby Board president, Mrs. J. M. Wallis.

It was explained by Edward Twohig of Digby and generally considered correct that only delegates from local Boards had voting privileges and that memberships in the A. V. A. B. T. other than that of Boards within the boundaries were merely for financial backing. V. G. Cardoza also of Digby, reiterated Mr. Twohig's remarks and further added that he felt firms and merchants, who are people standing to benefit from tourist promotion, should be willing to give financial backing.

The Digby Board at a recent meeting had brought up the matter of dual membership in the A. V. A. B. T. by firms and persons who were both members through the local Board and by contributing directly to the A. V. A. B. T. Mrs. M. P. Gott, secretary, and Mrs. Wallis, president, named official delegates to the A. V. A. B. T. annual from Digby were directed to get information respecting the matter.

Tom Davis To Yarmouth

Thomas Davis, well known Digby citizen, is to assume the position of Inspection Officer with the Department of Fisheries, Yarmouth, beginning the middle of November.

Mr. Davis, a native of Hespeler, Ontario, is married to the former Melvinia Glancy, of Halifax, and they have four children. For the past three years he has been employed with the Digby Post Office, and before that was the local representative of Great West Life Assurance Company.

Mr. Davis, who served twenty years in the Royal Canadian Navy, first visited Digby when he was stationed at Cornwallis.

The Digby Post Office will be open on Monday, November 12 from 8 a.m. to 12 noon, wicket, and 8 a.m. to 6 p.m. lobby.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Robicheau, Gilbert's Cove, celebrated their 57th wedding anniversary at their home on October 30th.

Outstanding among the couple's guests were their bridesmaid and groomsmen of fifty-seven years ago. The Juvenile Court Judge Addresses U.C.W.

A common denominator is linked with the causes of delinquency, said Judge of the Nova Scotia Juvenile Court, W. Marshall Black, of Kentville, in addressing a supper meeting of the Annapolis Presbyterian United Church Women in Berwick on Saturday. The common denominator referred to by Judge Black was lack of religious training, in the home and community, which has a definite influence on delinquency. He noted that Jewish and Chinese in the province, who are a people solemnly religious and with strong family ties, do not seem to have delinquent tendencies that come to social knowledge. Among the causes contributing to delinquency, the judge said, were broken homes of many kinds, improper or lack of discipline and physical, mental, emotional and economic problems. If we are to survive in our free society, the speaker said, the community must consist of a majority of people who have been taught and practice morality and have a clear understanding of right and wrong. This, he said, can only come from proper religious training.

Judge Black was concerned that the clergy, except in a few cases, do not attend court when a family has trouble with a delinquent. He challenged his audience that as Christians they should evangelize in their own communities, go after the non-attender at church and familiarize themselves with law, welfare, police officers, and court officials and personnel.

Mr. Marshall said that the job of a juvenile court judge is not easy because two decisions are always before you -- what is best for the child, family and community and must this child be removed from its parents and community. The court itself is not a social agency nor is it a criminal court, said the judge. It is a court, he said, and must be treated as such but with a policy of rehabilitation and not punishment. The delinquent is not to be treated as a criminal but as a misdirected and misguided child and in need of encouragement and assistance. Each child is heard and treated separately even if each has committed the same offence, unless they are of the same family. This, he said, is because rehabilitation (Please turn to page 5)

Masons Meet At Bridgetown

Rothsay Lodge No. 41, A.F. & A.M., hosted the District Meeting of Masonic Lodges of Annapolis and Digby Counties at the Masonic Temple, Bridgetown, on Wednesday evening, October 24.

Richard D. Longman, V. M. S. Master of the Bridgetown lodge, was chairman of the banquet which opened the evening's program at 6:30. The guest speaker at the occasion was Grand Master Charles S. Walker, of Port Hawkesbury. Mr. Walker expressed concern over declining attendance at lodge meetings and urged Masons of the district to do all in their power to remedy the situation.

Invocation was by Rev. D. M. Quinn, District Grand Chaplain. The toast to the Queen by E. W. Outhouse, P.G.S.; the Grand Master of Masons in Nova Scotia, proposed by C. M. Levy, P.S.G.W. and responded to by Grand Master G. S. Walker; the Grand Lodge of Nova Scotia proposed by Past Grand Master Judge K. L. Crowell, and responded to by Grand Secretary H. F. Sippell. Thanks to the ladies of the Order of the Eastern Star, who served the excellent supper, was extended by C. M. Davies, P.G.P.

A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation of a fifty-year jewel to Francis W. Stevens, 85-year-old member of Rothsay Lodge. This presentation followed the opening ceremonies of the regular lodge meeting which included reception of the visiting Masters of the District and reception of the Grand Lodge of officers.

District Deputy Grand Master Lockhart B. Ferguson was chairman of the evening session following the banquet. Grand Lodge officers taking (Please turn to page 5)

To Europe

Victor Cardoza, L.Digby, is among seven members of the Nova Scotia Legislature who left from Halifax International Airport today on a four-week tour of Europe. They will study labor management relations in seven countries. An eighth member will join them in England.

The group, a special committee on the Trade Union Act established at the beginning of the 1961 Legislature session, will be accompanied by R. E. Anderson, deputy minister of labor.

They will visit Sweden, Denmark, Germany, Belgium, Holland, France and England. Itinerary includes discussions with government officials, union leaders and industrialists.

The European tour is the latest in a series of events which began when the Nova Scotia Federation of Labor sponsored a bill in the Legislature to amend the Trade Union Act.

Urquhart Liberal Leader

Earl W. Urquhart, 41-year-old MLA for Richmond Co., was elected leader of the Liberal Party of Nova Scotia on Saturday, defeating Halifax lawyer Gordon S. Cowan, by a margin of 11 votes.

Mr. Cowan, who polled 303 votes to Mr. Urquhart's 314, immediately moved to have the election of Mr. Urquhart unanimous, at the party convention called to elect a successor of Dr. Henry D. Hicks, who submitted his resignation following his defeat in the provincial election of 1960.

The newly-elected leader, who first entered the Legislature in a by-election in 1949, told delegates he would visit "every city, every town, every village and every remote community in Nova Scotia" in a "Liberal crusade for better and brighter days for Nova Scotia."

Mr. Urquhart's nomination was moved by Peter M. Nicholson, MLA for Annapolis West, who said the party needed a man of proven ability to attract voters. He said Mr. Urquhart had won each of his elections since entering politics in 1949.

It was seconded by Mary Gillis, of Antigonish, a niece of the late Hon. Angus L. Macdonald.

Those from Digby attending the convention included Victor Cardoza, MLA, and Mrs. Cardoza; Mr. and Mrs. Hector Jourdain; Mr. and Mrs. Earl Anderson; Donald Amiraux; Hubert Warne and John R. Nichols.

Others attending from other parts of the electoral district of Digby included Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ring, Barton; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Comeau, Hill Grove; Charles Francis, Jordantown; Charles Kaulback and Oakley Smith, Smith's Cove; Emile Amero, Doucetteville; Sidney Small, East Ferry; Ernest Frost, Little River; Harry Sappiers, Sandy Cove; Hubert Peters, Westport.

About This and That Will We Remember Them?

The Thanksgiving observance is coming so near to Remembrance Day that it is almost impossible to make us more conscious than we are of our obligations to those who have fought in two world wars. They made the supreme sacrifice that we might have a better world in which to live. The tenderness of a couple of weeks ago brings to mind not only the brave souls who fought with gun and other ammunition but it makes us realize more acutely that there were those who died who were maimed and who still though they carried no fighting arms.

The fighting was so far removed from our country in past wars that we scarcely could imagine the devastation. Only pending of a major crisis brings us to the stark reality that this country too could suffer devastation many times greater than the wildest dreams of twenty odd years ago. It is a time for deep reflection. It is a time to lay a wreath in memory of those who served and died but the laying of a wreath alone is not a suitable remembrance. Accompanied by the laying of wreaths must go the solemn resolve to make this world a better place for mankind. This is what the brave had died for and to continue their job is the only worthwhile respect to their memory.

Can we make this Remembrance Day more than a round of wreath layings? Can we resolve to live now as they would have us live by fostering peace and good-will, supplying succor to the needy, each in his own small community. The waves of good deeds, the ways of peace have a unique way of travelling from family to community, from community to nation and from the nation to the world.

They died so that we might live in a better world. We might ask ourselves, "Do we want a better world?" Then remember them on Remembrance Day and keep remembrance day each day of the year.

Proud Of Our Paving

The paving of Digby streets is just about finished as we write these few remarks. What seems to be a marvel to us is the amount of territory covered on a limited budget. We feel that a great deal of credit should go to His Worship Mayor V. L. Bent and to Councillor Bruce Baxter, chairman of the streets committee and those who served with him.

Paving the streets of Digby or any other town is no easy job for those in town office. Along with praise must come abuse. Money has a limit to the length to which it will stretch, yet everyone feels himself in a preferred position and wants to be catered to. That is quite natural. But the people who war in the funds, humble and dwindle must take a stand. Of in this stand while winning friends on one hand is to bring on the wrath of the other. We must hand credit to those who are in the line of good judgment in their decisions on the paving program.

Streets with heavy traffic, school areas, church areas, business areas must be kept in mind and provide employment. All these and more were taken into consideration for the paving program. At night and in the morning, roads were completed so that any resident wanting to get in and out of town on either end can do so with travelling over very little if any dirt road.

Just to drive over the streets in Digby now is a joy and distinctly different in comparison to the dirt surface streets. And if the newly paved streets are a joy, convenience and distance benefit now, think of how they will be appreciated in the winter months. In the long run we expect to see that the pavement is much more economical.

Congratulations are due to those who were proud to have their names registered in the town records in the year 1962 when the paving program went through. But then, only the ratepayers could make it possible. They deserve some credit too.

Advertisers Make Newspaper Possible

The advertiser is the man who makes the modern newspaper possible. He provides the major part of the revenue for the paper. Without advertising the subscription price of any paper would be prohibitive.

The advertiser wants to sell his goods or services to a large number of people and the best way to do this is through the newspaper. A much higher percentage of both news and advertising appears in the home-town journals is actually read than that appearing in a metropolitan newspaper or any other kind of paper. This is the reason why the weekly is such a valuable advertising medium. Two readers are estimated to read one half of a retail business in Canada is done in small centres served by weeklies.

While on the subject, we would like to refer to the old chestnut that advertisers dictate a paper's policy. The advertiser wants his message read, and this means a large number of subscribers who have a fair amount of faith in the paper. Such a circulation is possible over a period of years, only by a paper with an independent policy. It would not therefore be in the advertiser's own interest to try to dictate editorial policy.

Here at the Digby Courier we have had very few attempts made by advertisers to "dictate" to us. And those few attempts were rebuffed.

Summing up, the advertiser makes it possible to sell the paper for a few cents a piece. An independent, outspoken press provides better advertising than does a subservient one. No paper, therefore, need be dictated to by its advertisers, even though the advertiser does provide the major part of a paper's revenue.

At the afternoon service at 3:30 p.m., Rev. J. W. Derby, Freeport, gave the lesson, "The Churches' One Foundation." The junior choir from Tiverton Church of Christ rendered two selections, "The Lord Is My Shepherd" and "Search Me."

In the evening about 100 persons gathered to worship and praise in song. Rev. Neil Burt, pastor, was in charge. The Tiverton choir sang special numbers. Rev. Mr. Derby led in prayer. A duet, "Listening at the Heart's Door", was rendered by Mrs. Shirley Elliott and Miss Janet Sollows, of Tiverton. Mr. Edgar McDormand and Mr. Harold Thompson received the offering.

In pertaining to the roll call service, Rev. Burt read some of the history of the church, which was organized on the 25th day of October, 1859. Mr. Edgar McDormand called the roll and Mrs. Harold Swift read the responses.

Rev. Neil Burt used as scripture 1st Cor., 3rd chapter. "The Churches' one foundation and the foundation or chief cornerstone is Jesus Christ," he said. A household of faith or our own lives are built on the way the cornerstone is laid. To show the meaning of this the pastor had made a chart showing a church; the main cornerstone; the windows being faith and hope; the door that can be opened, etc. A great deal of work and time were involved in getting this ready and it proved most interesting. Every brick in the building had a meaning.

The Tiverton choir were served supper at the church vestry and following the evening service refreshments were served to all.

PREMIER AT OPENING

then outlook in educational fields.

Mr. Morehouse gave praise to Councillor Victor Finigan and said the new school was a valuable addition to educational facilities in the municipality. He charged that now since the students, teachers and parents have the tools with which to work that they should use them effectively and well.

C. E. Edwards said that it was a thrill to know that the dream of less than two years ago had now become a reality. He commended the Tiverton people in their readiness to surrender their school and said the accomplishment of a new school could only be possible by cooperation. The schools, both in Westport and Freeport, came about as a genuine need as in 1960 in one of the schools there was no Grade XI taught and part of Grade X was taught through correspondence.

Mr. Edwards noted that education was on the threshold of a new era but that there was no royal road to learning. Students, he said, in this age of technology which adds to the difficulty must work to the end of the chapter. Education, he said, must be designed to earn a living and to live a life. Only thirty-one percent of the labor force now is unskilled labour. By 1975 it is expected the percentage will drop to twelve. He also mentioned the need for schools to consider more thoroughly preparation of students for international relationships.

B. E. Finigan, supervising principal and who also taught at Freeport twenty-five years ago, said that he had long looked forward to the day when instead of having one teacher to teach grades VIII to XI inclusive that they would be able to have specialists in subjects to teach the various grades. The day, he said, has come. He spoke of the two new departments this year in industrial arts and home economics.

Mr. Finigan said that to be successful a school system must have teachers, students and facilities and important in the three was that students must have the desire to attain an education.

Parker Thurber read a message of congratulations and good wishes from M. S. Leonard, former Minister of Education for the Province of Nova Scotia.

The keys of the school building were presented by the architect, Mr. Webber, to the contractor, Mr. Armstrong, to Victor Finigan, chairman of the Building Committee, and thence to B. E. Finigan, supervisor.

On the Freeport teaching staff are Mrs. Dela Hooper, vice-principal; Keith Manzer, Mrs. Florence Tibert, Miss Donna Whitman, Mrs. Helen Blackford, Mrs. Ruth Outhouse, Mrs. Bertha Ruggles, Mrs. Theresa Nickerson, Mrs. Alexandra Milburn and Herbert Thurber.

At Westport the staff consists of Mrs. Helen Welch, Mrs. Greta Swift and Mrs.

Finds Old Papers

While reframing pictures at his home recently Louis Ecker, Digby, found an issue of Volume 4, The Digby Weekly Courier, published January 10, 1879. At that time R. S. McCormick was editor. It was interesting to note that very little local news appeared within the four pages of the paper. Instead news was more world wide.

Most of the advertisements, however, were of a local nature. This issue announced that Miss J. E. Wright had just opened a large store of new millinery, dress, wool and fancy goods.

Of special interest was an ad stating that the newest type fountain pen was now available from Collin Campbell and Co., Weymouth Bridge. The pen "fills itself by suction with any kind of ink. It holds enough ink to write a quire of paper. Can be carried in the pocket as safely as a pen-knife."

Another local firm gave a list of "bargains" for that particular week: Board Nails, $2.61 per keg, cash; Narrow Axes, 80c each; Mortise locks, $1.35 per dozen; Eureka Wringers, $5.00; Handsaws, 75c; Shingling Hatchets, 40c; Coal Scuttles, 40c.

Mr. Ecker also found a copy of the December 4, 1878, Morning Herald of Halifax.

Dies From Burns

Jean LeBlanc, 17-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George LeBlanc, of Church Point, died in the Yarmouth Hospital early Tuesday morning from burns. He was in a flash fire when Monday afternoon roared through a garage and service station at Church Point where he was employed.

The fire, which swept the garage and service station in flames following an unexplained explosion, occurred about 5:15 Monday afternoon. It destroyed the building and its contents, including two cars, property of service station owner, Gerald Comeau.

Mr. Comeau said Tuesday that he and LeBlanc and Herman Gaudet, another employee, and Thomas Melanson, a bystander, were in the service station waiting to close up.

"All of a sudden there was a terrible explosion and flames seemed to be everywhere. But no equipment or machinery was being used in the station at the time," he said.

LeBlanc was burned badly over most of his body, face and hands. The three men got the boy out of the building and rushed him to a doctor from where he was taken to the hospital in Yarmouth. Gaudet, the other employee, was also burned about the face and arms and Thomas Melanson was also badly burned on both arms and hands. Both men were taken to the Yarmouth Hospital where Melanson is still a patient. Comeau, received minor burns about the face and hands.

Little Brook fire department was called but could do little but confine the blaze to the service station.

Kill Your Son A Hope-My Son Won't

C. E. Edwards, Bridgetown, Inspector of Schools recently returned from attending an educational conference in Oslo, Norway. At the official opening of the Consolidated School in Freeport Mr. Edwards spoke briefly, in the course of his remarks, on his Oslo trip. He mentioned that his room mate was Hungarian but fortunately he and his room mate could speak French and conversation was carried on in this manner. One of the comments the Hungarian made was that he hoped Russia and the Western world not go to war. He said, "I hope my son will not kill your son or that your son will not kill my son." Both Hungarian and Mr. Edwards have sons the same age. When leaving the Hungarian gave Mr. Edwards his usual parting expression of a hug and kiss.

VOLUME LXXXVIII, No. 12

Former Minister Of Education Passes

Malcolm Stewart Leonard, Q.C., former Minister of Education and also of Health and Welfare in the provincial government, passed away suddenly at his summer home, Porters Lake, on Sunday night.

Mr. Leonard was 51 years of age. He was born in Paradise, N. S., son of Robt. S. Leonard and the late Ruby Durling Leonard of that place.

Mr. Leonard, who had formerly been a school teacher at Canning and Kentville, N. S., graduated from Acadia University and the Dalhousie Law School. He came to Digby in 1938, where he established a successful law practice and continued this practice except for the years he was a member of the Nova Scotia Legislature.

In 1957 he assumed the portfolio of Minister of Education and later had also the added responsibility of the portfolio of Health and Welfare. Mr. Leonard was the only legislative member from the area to hold a cabinet post. Because of ill health, he retired from active politics in 1960.

During his life in Digby, he took an active part in community affairs and also a keen interest in the youth in the town, having organized Little League Baseball. He was a Past Master of King Solomon Lodge and a Past President of the Digby Board of Trade. He was a member of the Digby Kiwanis Club and was interested in the Digby Bowling League and the Digby Golf Club.

Besides his father, he is survived by his wife, the former Lillian Watkins, of Digby, and four children: David, teaching at Annapolis Royal; Howard, attending Acadia University; Terry, 12, and Joy, 9, at home. He is survived also by a brother, Mark, of Paradise, and a sister, Evelyn (Mrs. K. C. Marshall), of Kingston. He was predeceased by his mother, a sister, Lillian (Mrs. Ralph Warren), Bridgetown, and a brother, Gordon, of Paradise.

Funeral service was held on Wednesday afternoon from the United Baptist Church, Digby, with Rev. H. S. Hartlin conducting the service.

Pallbearers were Hon. Richard Donahue; Hon. Stephen Pyke; Dr. Harold Nason and Dr. H. C. Moffat of the Department of Education; Basil Porter and H. C. Marton. Among those present were Clifford Levy, M.L.A.; George Lobnes, M.L.A.; Dr. P. B. Beliveau, M.L.A.; School Inspector Clifford Edwards and members of the Bar Association from points in the province.

Remembrance Day Services

Digby —

A large number of the members of the local branch of the Royal Canadian Legion and also of the Legion Auxiliary attended the Remembrance Day services held in the Baptist Church of Digby last Sunday morning. Attending in a body the legionnaires filled nearly all of the pews in the center section of the church auditorium.

Members of the Legion took part in the Act of Remembrance, with wreaths in tribute to fallen comrades of World War I and World War II laid by M. C. Denton and Thomas Cleveland, President of the local branch. The Last Post and Reveille were sounded by Bugler Harry Payne, of HMCS Cornwallis. The church choir sang an appropriate anthem.

The service was conducted by the pastor of the church, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, Ex-Chaplain of the Royal Canadian Air Force. In his address he used for his subject "The Hour of Decision", based upon Daniel's trial and testing.

Courageous and wise decisions, he said, are not made without years of moral preparation, both in the life of an individual and of a nation.

Canadians met the test in the years of 1914 and 1939 when fateful decisions had to be made. Greater tests may yet come for Canadians. These can only be successfully met and withstood when people are morally and spiritually equipped, and are fortified with faith in God. In closing his address the speaker said: "We remember best those who paid the supreme sacrifice in the cause of freedom and liberty when we offer our lives in dedication to God and to His service."

Following the service members of the Legion marched to the cenotaph where wreaths were laid in tribute to fallen comrades.

Rev. R. H. Hughes took as his subject "We Will Remember Them" for his sermon at Grace United Church on Remembrance Day.

Three thoughts were emphasized by Mr. Hughes — there is no death of the spirit, love never dies and service persists. To remember them, he said, we should live such a life as would contribute to a better world for their children and friends to live in.

The senior choir, under the direction of Elton Arnold, and Miss Margaret Black, organist, sang an anthem for the occasion. Honor rolls, set in a background of a flag and poppies, added to the attractiveness of the sanctuary.

Bear River —

Remembrance Day service was held in the United Baptist Church, Bear River, on Sunday. Members of the Legion, Auxiliary, Scouts, Cubs, Explorers and CGIT marched to the church. Speakers were Rev. Elmer Asaph, of United Church, Mr. Maurice Darras, of Advent Church, Rev. Aubrey Hubley delivered the sermon based on Psalm 29.

Following the service the service groups paraded to the cenotaph for wreath-laying ceremonies.

Smith's Cove —

Remembrance Day observances were held at Smith's Cove on Sunday night in the United Church when Rev. E. Asaph, Bear River, delivered the sermon for the occasion. Stuart MacLean sang, "O King of Peace", accompanied by Mrs. J. J. Wallis on the organ. Mrs. Russell Savary presided at the organ for the general service.

The church was beautifully decorated with a memorial wreath and flowers from the garden of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Raymond.

Following the church service a wreath-laying ceremony was held at the cenotaph, when a wreath was laid by Borden Hyson, and Carl Pyne and Darron Hyson were on guard. Two minute silence was observed.

Freeport —

Neil Burt, pastor of the W. St. port Christian Church, was the guest speaker, and delivered an impressive Remembrance Day message.

Discussion — Digby Centre For Navy

Mrs. J. M. Wallis, President of the Digby Board of Trade and Ralph MacIntyre, first vice president were named on a committee from the Board to meet with officials from H. M. C. S. Cornwallis regarding a club or centre for young Naval personnel who visit Digby. The committee was formed at the regular meeting of the Digby Board of Trade on Tuesday evening after a letter was read from J. V. Ouellette, Lieutenant, R. C. N., regarding such a meeting. It was understood that several other organizations in Digby had received a similar request and that committees had been formed. The committees will discuss with Cornwallis personnel the need of a general, social, and recreational centre. Mr. Ouellette had suggested that lockers be provided, a soda fountain and snack bar, a lounge with T. V. and facilities for dancing, a quiet room for reading and overnight facilities. Mr. Ouellette requested suggestions for location, management and supervision of such a centre if and when it would materialize.

Discuss Survey Digby & Clare

The matter of an Industrial Development survey for Digby and Clare areas was discussed at the regular meeting of the Digby Board of Trade on Tuesday evening. The matter was presented by A. Adelaar of the Weymouth Board of Trade who visited the Digby Board.

A. L. Robinson of the Industrial committee of the Digby Board, with power to add, was named to meet with committees of Weymouth and Clare boards and possibly the Fundy and Bear River boards and industrial committees of municipalities to discuss a survey of industrial potential in the area. The survey would include population, labor force, social conditions, climate, transportation facilities, taxation and other pertinent information. The survey if and when completed would be made available to government agencies and business organizations at home and overseas. The idea behind the move is similar to that which prompts the tourist promotion folder of the A. V. A. B. T. in that in unity there is strength and that any economic growth in any part of the area is beneficial to the entire area. It was noted that Digby had made similar study of the town and county area some five years ago.

Mr. Adelaar, who is first vice president of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade and also on the executive of the Maritime Provinces Boards of Trade briefly addressed the Digby Board on the benefits which can be derived from affiliation with these boards. Governments on all levels, he said, are interested in having views of trade boards. A board of trade or chamber of commerce, he continued is one of few which is not a pressure group that can approach the government. He called attention to the annual meeting of the Maritime Boards meeting to be held in Amherst on June 2, 1963 and asked that resolutions be prepared this winter for presentation at that time. He also mentioned that a meeting for briefing of presidents and officers is expected to be held.

The meeting was presided over by the president, Mrs. J. M. Wallis.

Fumes In Tank Cause Explosion

Mr. Charles Thimot, Tiverton, was seriously injured when an empty 20-gallon gasoline tank exploded. Mechanic Robert Ruggles was attempting to repair the tank with a blow torch. Said Mr. Thimot, "We ran water through the tank for 24 hours and were sure the gasoline was all out of it. I was holding the tank when Robert started to melt the solder with the blow torch when it exploded."

He said it all happened so fast that he was not sure if the tank hit him or if it was the concussion resulting from the explosion that caused his legs to be bruised and painful. He was unable to walk for several days and is receiving treatment for blood clots from Dr. Mine, Freeport.

A wrench was sent flying from the hand of spectator Edgar Outhouse and a brief case from the hand of Rev. Neil Burt, who was also present. Mr. Ruggles was not injured.

About This and That Nominations Opened Tuesday

Strong, self-sacrificing personalities, there is no doubt, are essential for holding office on any level of government, be it local, provincial or civic. People are needed for these offices who are anxious to see improvements made in cities, towns and communities, but they also must be people who are cautious enough to refrain from spending public funds when not warranted because of financial circumstances or because of an unwise investment. People who accept civic, provincial or federal government positions must be willing to take sides on important issues and stand up for what they feel is right with the risk of being unpopular because of their stand. People in government positions must be willing to put aside all petty personal jealousies and administer the affairs of the country or the individual community with all fairness and to the best of his or her ability.

The above seems a big order but nevertheless all features of the order are prime requisites for any public service. These are the type of personalities which the Digby people will be looking for Tuesday, November 20, to nominate for service on the Digby Town Council.

We are not suggesting through these columns any names for candidates for town council seats but we are suggesting that to the above features should be added the one called experience. Experience is always an important factor and before complacency or unthoughtfulness of citizens let councillors Helen Anthony, Bruce Baxter and Earle Morrell decide not to run for office again we would suggest that experience be a factor considered along with the aforementioned features.

If our opinion is worth anything we would say that harmony within the Digby council has been at par excellence in 1962. Nor can it be said, as so frequently is thought, that unless there is a stir and bustle and confusion that nothing is being accomplished. Each councillor seems to feel at liberty to express his or her own views for or against an issue but once the majority rules that settles the matter. There is one thing pleasant about most civic governments at any rate, that is the fact that nobody feels obliged to be "against" for the mere sake of being against as is so detrimental to progress in many governmental circles.

Be thinking, now, whom you want for civic leaders in Digby for 1963. A choice or an election is a democratic way of choosing your next year's councillors. Nominations close at 5 p.m. on November 20. To be eligible for councillor a candidate must have had all rates and taxes paid in full by November 10. Councillors must be British subjects of the full age of 21 years. They must be ratepayers for at least one year preceding nominations and a resident or having a primary place of business in the town for a year preceding nominations.

Mourn Passing

The town of Digby this week lost one of its prominent citizens in the person of M. S. Leonard, Q.C. Mac, as he was generally known about town, was held in high esteem and his memory will go down through the ages of Digby County's history.

Mac was the only member of the provincial government from the area to hold a cabinet post, having been Minister of Education and Minister of Welfare during his short term in the legislature. As a lawyer, Mr. Leonard ranked with the best. As a citizen, he shouldered during his years of health responsibilities in community affairs and was particularly concerned about youth. He was a devoted family man.

Our sympathies go out to his family, who will miss him most of all.

Book Week

In commemoration of Book Week we are inserting an interesting and enlightening article on the library presently being operated in Sandy Cove, N. S.

Final Responsibility Rests Upon Publisher

The person who has final responsibility for any paper is the publisher. He lays down the newspaper's policy and has supervision over all departments.

The publisher's responsibility extends to every word printed in his paper. He is held responsible for all news items and editorial comments and has secondary responsibility for paid advertisements and articles. Publication of a letter over the author's name does not free a publisher from his responsibility.

The editor has the day-to-day task of carrying out the paper's policies as laid down by the publisher. All the reporters and writers work under his direction. The space and treatment any particular story receives will depend on the editor's judgment.

Broadly speaking, therefore, the publisher lays down the policy of a newspaper and the editor carries it out. However on some papers like The Digby Courier the duties and responsibilities of the editor and publisher are combined.

SANDY COVE NOVA SCOTIA

PUBLIC LIBRARY

The top picture shows the public library at Sandy Cove, Digby County, at the present time. The lower picture shows the interior at the time the library was opened. Today tables are required to hold the books in excess of shelf space.

The Eldridge Memorial Library of Sandy Cove was opened on May 6th, 1936. The first books on the list of over 3,600 books are those written and given to the library by Lord Tweedsmuir, John Buchan, then Governor General of Canada. His wife, Lady Tweedsmuir, also an author, sent several of her books as also did Lord Tweedsmuir's sister, an author whose pen name is O'Douglas (Miss Emily Taylor), of Germantown, Penn., U.S.A., a librarian and a summer visitor at the tourist home of Mr. and Mrs. Amosa Eldridge, gave of her time and talent and many dozens of books. She also gave thirty beautiful pictures, copies of famous paintings, as well known nursery rhymes, The Gleaners, The Torn Hat, The Age of Innocence.

The Sandy Cove stories, written by Miss Alice Dalgleish, an author of 36 books and still writing books, also she is Editor of Saturday Review Books for young people (Re-Saturday Review July 22/61 contains a picture of Miss Dalgleish).

The first Sandy Cove Story Book, 1935, was The Blue Teapot (suggested reading in the N. S. Tour Book) a portion of which is being used in the Ontario School Books Grade IV. A copy of the Ontario school book is in our library, given among other books by Rev. Edgar Bull, Mrs. Bull and their children, and the latter's sister, Miss Ruth Asler, head librarian in Toronto Library.

Reliefs Rucker, name taken from a grave stone (Relief Tucker), date 1813, in Church of England graveyard, and Roundabout are the three books of Sandy Cove stories. Another book, The Silver Pencil, written by the author, tells how she happened to come to Sandy Cove, why she bought a home there and why she named her home Roundabout. The Silver Pencil (1945) was a runner-up for the Newbury medal. Roundabout, her home, is now owned by Mrs. Margaret Nelson, of Montreal, and her brother, an artist, who illustrated The Children Story of The Great Lakes, and was a gift to the library by his sister.

The Book Plate (above), a lovely view of Sandy Cove, was taken by Miss Clara B. Shaw, of Boston, a visitor to Sandy Cove for over forty years. She called herself an amateur photographer. She was much more. A steel engraving of this print was made in Boston where Miss Shaw taught English in High School until her retirement two years ago. Miss Shaw and her teacher friend (Miss Laura F. Wentworth, vocational guidance), bought a home at Sandy Cove and for over twenty years "Mooring", their home, was opened early in July and remained open until after Labor Day when school re-opened. Every year "The Mooring Folk" brought a large carton of books in their car for the library, not forgetting new book plates always donated by them.

Another summer visitor, Mr. A. H. Archibald of New York, wrote two books about Sandy Cove. The first one, 1940, Sandy Cove, An Idyll, and the second, Pleasant Reflections, are typewritten, with lovely illustrations (drawings) and also bound by the author.

Every book in the library has been donated either by visitors or local residents. There are the classics, semi-classics, fiction and books on almost every subject.

Once a year a fund raising project is necessary to meet the cost of insurance, building repairs, librarian fees, etc. Here again the visitors have been generous, some showing slides in the Community Hall. Some were Miss Clara B. Shaw, Dr. Donald F. Morehouse, Mr. S. W. Fairweather, Dr. E. A. Archibald, Mr. Ralph Machum and Mr. Wyman Bristol, who also had post cards made of his slides with the proceeds from the sale of the cards going to the library.

One whole section of books was given in memory of Mrs. Elizabeth Eldridge by her daughters, the Misses Irene S. Eldridge and Nancy Eldridge, of Philadelphia. Both daughters were school teachers, the former a graduate of Bryn Mayr, who taught a class in Shakespeare in Nova Scotia Adult Education Division, Halifax. Several plays were read including "Hamlet" and A Mid-Summer Night's Dream.

Dr. H. G. Morehouse is chairman of the library committee, Mrs. Curtis Denton is secretary-treasurer and Mrs. Emiden Morehouse has been

Letter to the Editor

Weymouth, N. S., Nov. 1, 1962.

The Editor, Digby Courier.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

Will you allow me to air a few views on a situation which arose in Weymouth on Halloween.

For many years, parents and citizens have made every effort, by having parties and treats, to make Halloween less boisterous than it was "in the good old days." We have succeeded very well, I think. The children have a wonderful evening visiting homes, and receiving treats -- actually, tricks, in a real sense, are practically unheard of.

Now this is where I, with a lot of other parents, are exploding. On Halloween this year, a truck, with men (or were they full grown delinquents?) went about Weymouth throwing buckets of cold water on people -- most of them, children, out having innocent fun.

Three children came to my home, positively drenched, as well as frightened and crying. Their whole evening spoiled.

Frankly, Mrs. Editor, I can't help but think this perverted sense of humor is very uncalled for. How can we expect children to be less than juvenile delinquents, if men -- citizens supposedly responsible for the youth of the village, find this type of practical joke such fun.

Halloween fun, yes -- they can have real fun -- play innocent tricks -- but if they must throw water, why not have a private party at some lake, and with someone of their own mentality and size -- and not throw it on youngsters who have spent weeks planning how to dress up on Halloween for an evening of delight. The children I am speaking of, all under 12, had their costumes and clothes ruined, as well as their fun.

Thank you.

"Anirate Mother."

Letter to the Editor

Have been trying to write Report from Parliament Hill which would accurately report the activities of last week, particularly with respect to the various votes of the parties on the motion to go into supply.

I have drafted and re-drafted such a report but if it is to be presented honestly it is bound to have political implications and no honest report could avoid criticism of the Liberal party for swallowing its principals for political advantage.

For the last fourteen years I think I have avoided political partisanship in these reports. Therefore, there will be no report for this week.

My apologies to my readers. Regards,

George Nowlan.

Obey the signals, stay in line. The life you save, may be mine.

Arthritis is a leading cause of physical disability in Canada today.

librarian over fifteen years. Recently all the books were arranged according to subject and in alphabetical order, requiring many hours and days of work by Mrs. Denton, Mrs. Morehouse and Mrs. Jack Morehouse of the library committee, without remuneration.

Besides books there are clippings from newspapers, etc., telling of such events as the finding of "Jerome", the legless mystery man on the Bay of Fundy Beach at Sandy Cove, Capt. Joshua Slocum, who sailed around the world alone in a small boat (1895), for whom a monument plaque has been erected in Westport, Briar Island.

Lovely books of poems, one by a local boy, Laurence Dakin (re Dal review) and one by Mrs. Wyman Bristol (Helen O. Bristol), a summer-home owner in Sandy Cove for over thirty years and an author of two books, one in prose. Both books were gifts to the library by the author.

Membership is free to all, including tourists and summer visitors. Open days are Tuesday and Friday, 3 to 5 p.m.

Books can be borrowed for two weeks without charge and then renewed for two more weeks. A fine of two cents a day is charged for over-due books. During the past summer between 40 and 50 books were donated by summer visitors from many parts of Canada and U.S.A.

Marriages

Coffey - Morine

The wedding took place at St. Patrick's Church, Digby, N. S., on Saturday morning, November 10, 1962 at 11 a.m., when Barbara Jean, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon H. Morine of Bear River and John William, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Coffey of Sydney, N. S., were united in marriage by Rev. (Father) Gaudet, in the presence of a large number of invited guests.

The bride was beautifully gowned in white velvet, with veil and she carried a bouquet of red roses. Her only ornament was a necklace of pearls, the gift of the groom. Elaine Morine, was her sister's only attendant, and she wore red velvet with white accessories and carried a bouquet of yellow and white mums. The best man was John LeBlanc, on the Royal Bank staff in Weymouth, but formerly of Sydney, N. S. The ushers were Howard Morine, brother of the bride and Edward Hubley, a cousin of the bride. The organist was Mr. E. J. Theriault of Digby.

Their gifts to their attendants were cuff links to the best man and a pearl pendant to the bridesmaid.

Mrs. Morine, mother of the bride was gowned in blue figured nylon with black accessories, with a yellow corsage, while Mrs. Coffey, the mother of the groom wore blue velvet with matching accessories with a white corsage.

The out-of-town guests included friends and relatives from Halifax, Sydney and Yarmouth.

The reception was held immediately after the ceremony at Riverview Lodge, Bear River, where the wedding breakfast was served. The toast to the bride was proposed by the best man, John LeBlanc and was responded to by the groom. A few well chosen remarks were made by the fathers of the bride and groom, welcoming the new members to their respective families. The guest book was in charge of Marilyn Morine, a sister of the bride.

Following the reception, the happy couple left via the Princess Helene for St. John, Montreal and other points of interest. Upon their return they will reside at Bear River.

A Spreading Flame

Often people get fired up about something, but the tendency of fire is to go out. Stimulations may lift us to a feverish pitch of activity, but we need to guard against excitement only.

An overpowering speaker may lift an audience. Great music and great ideas can stir people to put forth extraordinary effort. To what purpose, we may ask, are great impressions if they burn out like a candle in a gale of wind?

This is a picture of what may happen as big programs are carried on in the name of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. I am all for sudden transforming conversions, and for revivals of godliness, but, to me, flashy spurts are meaningless. Christ can transform the life of a true believer, but if that life does not stay transformed then it is doubtful if God were ever in it in the first place.

Human enthusiasm impressions pounded home by a convincing preacher and a situation of vigorous activity are nothing until the Holy Spirit is allowed to take over in the whole program.

Evangelism is necessary.

without it cobwebs will soon be found growing over the doors of churches, but it must be evangelism where Christ is obeyed and where His power is known.

If the fire is man-made it will go out, but if it is God, it will last and intensify. The early church far from being a dying flame was a spreading flame. Today's world needs a Christ-centered church. Any other kind is without value.

A moment of carelessness can mean a lifetime of regret.

bride of Ross Blair Hayes, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Hayes. Rev. Lorne Nethercott officiated at the double ring ceremony. The bride looked lovely in a winter white suit, with blue accessories and wore a corsage of pink roses. Maurice Young was best man. A reception was held at the bride's home following the ceremony, after which the happy couple left on a honeymoon in the Maritime provinces.

The Holy Triangle

June is the month of brides.

Out of all the people of the world, two have chosen one another, and stand at the altar to declare it so.

Love is the mortar which binds two hearts into a mystical union. Love is the miracle by which weaknesses are forgotten, the years smoothed of their bumps, and a strong team forged into being, until the day when one shall lay the other into the arms of God.

A sweetly arrayed gentle girl on her wedding day cannot see the long trail which she is to walk, yet she needs to be ready for anything. There will be tears, both kinds, of joy and pain. There will be work, all kinds, the drab and the glamorous. There will be demands, day and night. There will be sacrifice of self-interest and of independence, before the bride of today can become the saintly mother and wife of tomorrow.

Such a picture of the ideal bride is not complete until there comes the presence of a third member of the marriage. Here is the holy triangle which includes the Son of God, the living Saviour. A marriage without His mastery will never be at its best, and may quickly be at its worst.

Two people who hope really to be one, need to be three, including the One Who came to give the "abundant life". He who is the great lover of souls, can breath upon two and make them truly one. There is no other way to an ideal marriage.

BOOKLET OUTLINES FEDERAL SERVICES FOR BUSINESS

A useful booklet for businessmen has been published by the Department of Trade and Commerce.

Federal Services For Business summarizes the wide range of services and information of direct interest to business available from 21 Federal Government Departments and Agencies. The need for this publication has been demonstrated by the numerous requests for information received by the Government, particularly enquiries which cut across several fields of activity. It will enable those interested in federal services for business to obtain information on a wide range of subjects with a minimum of time and effort.

The 88 page booklet is another in the well known Spotlight Series of publications prepared by the Domestic Commerce Service of the Department of Trade and Commerce to highlight information for business which has an important bearing in the continued economic development of Canada.

Each section of the booklet includes a listing of offices to which enquiries for further information may be addressed, as well as a selected list of departmental publications.

Canadian businessmen may obtain a copy of Federal Services For Business, in English or French, without charge from the Small Business Branch of the Department of Trade and Commerce, Ottawa. Copies are available to the general public from the Queen's Printer, Ottawa, at $1.50 a copy.

Boomeranged

It was to be a joke, and only a joke, but the joke boomeranged. A certain guest at the official opening of the Consolidated School at Freeport on Monday night jokingly said during his speech that he had wished there would be a storm for crossing the ferry at Petite Passage. His reason was so that the "powers - that - be" would be inclined to put a causeway between the mainland and Long Island.

But, Premier Robert Stanfield and most other guests who attended the opening returned over the Passage on Monday night in relatively calm waters. A few did remain to cross on Tuesday, among them being the man who wished for the storm. His wish came true all except that the storm brewed on Tuesday instead of Monday and the "wisher" found himself stranded on the island until the storm abated. He agreed with the editor of The Digby Courier as the scow dipped into the heavy seas that Cape Breton Island with its causeway would be much easier to get off. But, he agreed further, that if one had to be stranded on an island by storm you couldn't choose a better one than either of Long Island or Brier Island. Both are inhabited by people noted for their distinct and most gracious hospitality.

Conclusion to the conversation, however, after seeing the tie-up of cars and trucks waiting for the storm to subside - a causeway is needed and that is no joke.

Represents Atlantic Provinces

Annapolis County Warden
Malcolm Balcom represented

the Atlantic Provinces in a Canada wide Farm Radio Forum from Toronto on October 29. He was one of a panel of four covering Canada from east to west. The subject "property taxation" brought interesting discussion. Mr. Balcom stated "our present system is 200 years out of date. There have been great economic changes since the setting up of a tax on property as the source of all taxation money. Tax revenue should come from income, rather than from property, or at least enough to look after education. The present tax is discriminatory.

The "Queen Mary" Visits Halifax

The Queen Mary, $1,000 ton Cunard liner visited Halifax because of a waterfront strike. The liner anchored off the Imperial Oil Refinery for 12 hours taking on fuel from the tanker Imperial Sarnia, before continuing on to Southampton, England. Other trans-Atlantic liners were also expected to refuel in Halifax if the New York strike continued.

Women's Corner

Planning Your College Shoes?

Well, leather shoes are the key to the well coordinated co-ed this fall, so they say.

On view at the headquarters in New York of the Shoe Fashion Service of the Leather Industries were hundreds of flats, boots, heel pumps and strap shoes in leather colors and finishes designed to make a costume of skirts, blouses, jackets and other separates. Also on display were the leather garments, handbags and other accessories that will be seen on the smartest college and high school co-eds this season.

Whether she's back-to-school or off on a date, the hip teen will select her shoes in a leather texture and color to coordinate with her leather gloves, handbag and belt. Trends in shoe accessories matching were featured: one color in a variety of leather finishes - smooth, suede, brushed or grained leather; or one leather texture in a variety of tonal gradations - such as red maple, red clay, vintage and scarlet.

But whether she mixes or matches, this season the teen girl has her choice of the high and the low in footwear fashions - from the low-cut skimmer to the mid-calf boot in soft, supple, foot-hugging leather. In between, she'll find fresh ideas in smooth leather lined date shoes, re-styled versions of the classic leather moccasin and even the "bother sneaker".

In every style, there are striking leather textures to suit your taste. For example, in date shoes, you can get gleaming black patent, a new idea in fall shoes, suede, grain or brushed leathers. In moccasins, the popular shoe in the teen girls' wardrobe, there are brushed leathers, waxed leather and smooth leather. The use of golden tones highlighted by yellow or greens add another whole color family to the teen shoe collection.

The classic mocc is found in both refined and heavy "handstitched" versions. Set on its slim leather sole, the moccasin is as comfortable as it looks. Bold colors - some in brushed leather, others in glove leather - lift the moccasin off the ground and onto Cloud 9. There are wild oranges, chrysanthemum gold and lime green - a new blue-green.

As the leather boot, the teen's own shoe discovery, grows more popular, more styles become available. This year the "almost boot" leads the boot fashion parade. This style restricts the rising line to throat-one side or back. One new "almost boot" in a smooth - and - brushed leather version has a high back brought all the way around the ankle and then cut straight down to form a flat silhouette for the front of the shoe. A single eyelet tie at the top of the throatline closes the flap that is formed.

Higher boots are available in brushed, glove and steerhide - a leather that is both tough and soft, giving the teen that combination of wear and comfort that an active girl on a limited budget appreciates. With short skirts, the teen wears knee-high boots in soft leather that can be crushed down or folded over in "fireman's fashion". The weather-proof leather sole that forms the base of the boot gives you support as well as smooth flexibility.

The teen has still another footwear passion - the leather sneaker - one of many leather flats that's fast replacing the canvas sneaker. As light as any canvas rubber shoe, the leather sneaker has the added advantage of comfort, durability and fashion coordination. Very few stylists have even attempted to coordinate sneakers, which rapidly become misshapen and discolored, with other fashion accessories.

Utilize Old Socks

Have you been among those who have been saving old nylons to send to Korea? Have you ever seen the beautiful place mats or any of the other articles made out of our discarded nylons by these Korean women? Mark you, we think it is a fine thing to help the Koreans in this manner. We have admired the floral designs made here in Canada from discarded nylons, but we also feel that we can't be too hard pressed economically when others can make a living from the things we discard.

Anyway, keep on sending your nylons to Korea, we don't mind, just a thought that maybe we should count our blessings rather than complain. Besides, we wanted to hand on some ideas we've heard about for making use of those old socks.

For example, an old sock can be used to cover the top end of an outdoor ladder to prevent it from sliding against the exterior of the house, and prevent unsightly marks or the painted surface.

Slip a pair of worn-out old socks on your hands when cleaning venetian blinds. Dust with both hands. You can work easily around the tapes into the corners of the slats, and make a quick job of it. Children's socks wear much longer if they are darned on the bias. Darning on the bias allows the darn to give during walking.

You can keep the upholstery in the car much cleaner if you slip a pair of socks over baby's shoes before putting him in his car seat.

There is still a better one, we believe. Did you see the display of dolls at the Hospital Fair this year? Many were made from old socks. If you didn't see it, make it your business to find out about it.

Fish Stick Sandwich

The versatility of sandwich service is limited only by our imagination and creativity. They can be elaborate or simple - to suit the occasion and the mood of the cook. With sandwiches as the basic menu item the light luncheon or supper menu can expand with the addition of soup, salad and other trimmings. Should the weather pull a fast switch and boost appetites of your hungry hoarde. Here's a new twist on the standard sandwich - Fish Sticks in Toast Coats, a good supper suggestion when a crisp tossed salad, assorted fruits and crunchy cookies complete the menu. Try this.

Fish Sticks in Toast Coats
1 package frozen fish sticks
10 slices white bread trimmed
1/2 cup commercial sandwich spread
1 tablespoon prepared horseradish
Toothpicks
Combine sandwich spread and horseradish. Spread on one side of each bread slice. Arrange one fish stick diagonally across spread surface of each bread slice. Bring two remaining opposite corners to centre over fish stick. Secure with toothpick. Place in hot oven preheated according to package directions for fish sticks. Heat until bread is golden and fish sticks are heated through. Serve immediately.

Cooking

Venison Roasts

If there is a hunter in the family - and if he is lucky - chances to one the family cook will be expected to prepare main courses of venison for the table.

Now, since venison is a relatively dry meat, recipes often specify ways to retain moisture, or increase the moisture. There are several ways in which this may be done: the meat may be basted with rich sauces, covered with strips of bacon, or spread with seasoned butter or suet.

Chops and steaks, of course, should not be overcooked. For those who prefer the meat rare, 140-145 degrees is sufficient. Internal temperature

For well-done meat, cook it to 170-175 degrees. For the benefit of any who may be interested in trying a couple of recipes which are said to be very good, here they are. Incidentally, fruit relishes, spiced peaches and pears, apple sauce, or tart jellies make good accompaniments for venison, regardless of the method of preparation.

Venison Roast With Honey-Soy Baste

1 venison roast (4 to 5 lbs.), fat removed 1/2 pound salt pork in thick slices
2 cloves garlic, slivered
1/2 cup soy sauce
1 cup orange juice
1 cup catsup
1 cup wine vinegar
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon dry mustard
1 teaspoon paprika
1/2 teaspoon liquid hot pepper seasoning
Spiced apples, peaches, or pears

Wipe roast with a damp cloth, or towel. Make slits in the roast; insert slices of salt pork and slivers of garlic. Place roast on rack in roasting pan, or on spit of rotisserie. Mix together: the honey, soy sauce, orange juice, catsup, vinegar, salt, mustard, paprika, and hot pepper seasoning; spoon over the roast. Roast in moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 3 1/2 hours or until meat thermometer reaches 140 to 175 degrees. Baste with the sauce from time to time, adding a little water if drippings begin to stick to pan. Garnish with spiced fruit. Makes about 8 servings.

Venison Roast With Cider Sauce

1 venison roast (3 1/2 to 4 lbs.)
16 whole cloves
1/2 cup molasses
1 cup vinegar
1 cup apple cider
1 tablespoon Worcestershire
2 bay leaves
2 teaspoons salt
1 cup water
2 tablespoons flour, blended with 1/2 cup cold water
Wipe roast with a damp cloth or towel. Stud with the cloves; place on rack in roasting pan. Combine molasses, vinegar, cider, Worcestershire and bay leaves; spoon over roast. Sprinkle with 1 teaspoon of the salt. Roast in a moderate oven (350 degrees) for about 3 hours, or until meat thermometer registers 140 to 175 degrees. Remove roast from pan and make a gravy by adding 1 cup water to dripings, then stirring in the flour blended with water and the remaining 1 teaspoon salt. Cook, stirring, until thickened and smooth. Serves 8 to 10.

DO-IT-YOURSELF WITH FIR PLYWOOD

Did you know that over 65 fir plywood do it yourself plans are available from your lumber dealer? Built in shelves and cupboards for the kitchen, bunk beds for the children's room, boats and backyard furniture can all be easily constructed by husband, son or even yourself maybe from these easy to follow plans designed especially for fir plywood.

Fir plywood is an ideal material to work with too. It comes in convenient panels of 4'x8'. It can be nailed, glued and sawed. It's suitable for use either indoor or out. The waterproof glue line that bonds it together is stronger than the wood itself.

Any housewife would appreciate a built in fir plywood serving centre in her kitchen. It's designed to fully utilize all available space and help save time in preparing meals.

The kitchen isn't the only room that will benefit from the fir plywood plans. There are designs for every room in your home. There's a built in music and T. V. centre that houses a radio, television and record player with plenty of space for storing records and books. Sectional coffee tables are quick to make, and can be used on the patio in summer and brought in to your basement recreation room in winter.

Doing it yourself is not only a money saving way to build, but it's fun too. Fir plywood is easy to finish. You can paint, tint or stain it or clear finish it with lacquer or varnish letting the natural grain pattern of the wood show through.

There's hardly a homeowner around who has all the storage cabinets, music facilities, wardrobes and entry walls he wants, unless of course he already has the fir plywood habit.

See your lumber dealer soon, and ask him to show you his wide selection of fir plywood plans.

DIARY OF A VAGABOND by Dorothy Barker for Canadian National Railways

Let's Not Abolish Bazaars
I couldn't agree less with the author of a recent article who suggested we abolish the church bazaar. Her argument was that this form of money raising effort for any cause was beneath the intelligence of modern women.

Bazaars and rummage sales have not only filled the coffers of women's institutes throughout the land, but they have paid off the mortgages of many of our town churches and contributed vast sums to any number of charitable institutions. Volunteer contributions, as she suggests, or tithing would never have the same results.

The author claims a bazaar is merely a sweat shop effort depriving merchants of required sales and I resent the article's inference that it takes little originality, no creativity and less brain power to launch a successful bazaar. I ought to know, I was once Joed with the convention of a church bazaar and if ever I put my ingenuity to work and was amazed at the tireless co-operation of a large group of women, it was during the six weeks of preparation that preceded that sale.

Bazaars are not all pot holders and baby socks. They are an annealing process for temperament, a breeder of contentions that must be amicably settled giving stature to individuals and finally, they are a proving ground for friendships and social demeanor.

My initiation into the weird world of the annual church bazaar was unsought and unexpected. I, as a newcomer to a community, was invited to attend a meeting of church women. I'll shortcut the way I was inveigled into accepting the convention. As my nature is always invigorated by the prospect of expression and originality, I dashed in where angels (at least all those angels sitting round planning that bazaar) fear to tread.

Be Original by all Means

This bazaar, I decided, was going to be different. I fired my committee's enthusiasm with plans for a lampshade booth, a felt booth where original petticoats for Christmas and cloth for holiday cocktail tables would be on sale.

Cocktails! Don't mention the name. First snag, first uproar, first stand I must take. But the majority won, the tablecloths were just tablecloths, not for cocktails. My sophisticated urban attitude bowed to this ruling with grace.

I designed the booths as a carnival and rented costumes from the local skating club for the attendants. These, it appeared were fine for a rink,

School Receives Braille Books

Halifax School for the Blind now is the proud possessor of a 145 volume World Book Encyclopedia in Braille. The encyclopedia is the gift of the Rotary Club of Wolfville and was presented in an informal ceremony in a senior classroom by officials of the donor club.

The Halifax school is believed to be only the second in Canada to have this encyclopedia. The other is in Montreal. The encyclopedia, which cost approximately $650 and has been on order for more than a year, was purchased with proceeds from Easter Seals.

Accepting the encyclopedia on behalf of the school were two senior students, Mary Whiffen, 16, Rushoon, Nfld., a grade 11 pupil and Darrell Pike, 11, Hawkes Bay, Nfld., grade 6.

Superintendent C. R. K. Allen said of the gift: "This does represent a great step forward in our training program in that it increases the opportunities for our students to become active, rather than passive, learners. Hitherto, they were dependent on those with sight to obtain information supplementary to their text and class work. They now are able to obtain this for themselves. May I express the deep gratitude of the students and staff of the school for this very generous gift."

but too daring for a church hall.

When I got the show on the road I had made and broken more friendships only to be mended again, poured more oil on troubled waters and made more concessions to keep the peace than I had ever imagined in my most christian mood I could be capable of doing. I had sewn most of the lampshades myself and finished the cock, pardon me, tablecloths to the last sequin. But I was ecstatic. It was a huge success, garnered $500 for the work of the Ladies Aid and taught me a lesson in co-operation.

Yes, bazaars and rummage sales are necessary, if only as a leaven of human emotions. But in this age of packaged mixes, I still look forward to the date in November, when I purchase an honest to gosh homemade cake at our annual church bazaar.

Editor's Note - We thought you'd like and enjoy Mrs. Barker's comments on church bazaars although we might not all be in accord with her sentiments on the subject.

The incidence of rheumatoid arthritis is particularly high among women, the ratio approximately three women for every man affected.

Your contribution to The Canadian Arthritis and Rheumatism Society will help ease the pain of tens of thousands of Canadians.

Breaks Forum Record

Sunday's opening of the Digby Forum set an all time attendance record. Hundreds gathered in the afternoon to take advantage of the first skating of the season. It was interesting to witness the large number of youngsters present. Ernest Tufts is chairman of the management committee. Season forum tickets are available from the Ladies Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion and from Kiwanians Charles McBride and William McLeod. The forum, under the management of Richard Thomas is supervised at all times by T. B. Christmas Seals.

Lost Boys Found

Two boys, Michael Outhouse, 11 years old, and James Outhouse, 8 years old, both of Tiverton, entered the woods in back of their home at 1 o'clock to locate suitable places to set their rabbit snares when the season opens on Thursday. As this particular part of the woods was unfamiliar to the boys, they became lost. At 5:30, when the boys failed to come home, Woodrow, father of James, asked if someone would go with him in search of them. About 100 ft. equipped with lights, all volunteered. For 3 1/2 hours they searched the woods for a radius of about 2 miles. Occasionally, they paused to call Smith's Cove, instructress; to the lads. About nine o'clock Mathematics, Wallace Hodg, their call was answered, and son, instructor; and Choral, the boys were found in a dense thicket about 1 mile from their home. They had walked and stumbled through the bushes and thick underbrush in an effort to find Bear Cove Road, but grew tired and laid down for a short time. Both were frightened, but apparently the only ill effects suffered from the experience were some bad scratches about their hands and faces and both were very cold.

Michael Outhouse, a grade 6 pupil attending Freeport school, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Baden Outhouse. He has an older brother, Daniel James Outhouse, a grade 2 pupil attending Freeport school, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Outhouse. He has a younger sister, Susan.

Addresses Group On New Hospital

The Brotherhood of Grace United Church met in the Church Hall on Saturday evening. After a delicious supper George O'Neill presided over the business meeting assisted by Jack Keen, secretary. Arthur Cudmore introduced Courtney F. Purdy who showed the plans of the new hospital. Explaining the need for the new hospital he said that the present hospital is overcrowded and ill equipped for the present needs. After hard planning and many committee meetings the plans for the new hospital are being finalized and it is hoped that in the near future more definite steps may be taken. The president and Arthur Cudmore thanked Mr. Purdy for a most informative and interesting talk.

Elected President

Paul F. Snow was elected president of the Digby Bowling Club at a meeting held at Lions Club Hall on Monday evening. He replaces Thomas Davis who recently resigned. Mr. Davis and his family have moved to Yarmouth. Mrs. Fred Amaro was elected first vice president to fill the vacancy left by Mr. Snow. Serious discussion was held pertaining to rules. One rule was amended so that there is no restriction as to the number of trophies any one person may receive. Plans were made for a Christmas Bowl-off to be held in December.

Christmas Seals.

French Classes Begin

Thirteen have now registered for Conversational French classes at the Digby Regional High School. It is expected more will be availing themselves of the opportunity which the class affords. It is hoped that others will register within the coming week so that these might be started. It was stated by Baden Powmen, equipped with lights, all volunteered. For 3 1/2 hours they searched the woods for a radius of about 2 miles. Occasionally, they paused to call Smith's Cove, instructress; to the lads. About nine o'clock Mathematics, Wallace Hodg, their call was answered, and son, instructor; and Choral, the boys were found in a dense thicket about 1 mile from their home. Introduces Study

Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby, was guest at the United Church Women of Heartz Memorial Church, Weymouth, on Tuesday evening when she introduced the mission study "On Asia's Rim" by Andrew T. Roy and the Bible study "The Word and the Way" by Donald Mathers. On Asia's Rim is a study on the Asian islands, Korea, Okinawa, Taiwan and Hong Kong. The physical and social conditions of the islands and the responsibility of Christians toward the people exposed to Communism were discussed. Mrs. Hill conducted the devotional, which included the story of Jack Miner banding birds with scripture passages. More than 50,000 ducks and 40,000 geese had been banded. Some of the birds were picked up by Indians and Eskimos of the north and others by peoples south. Mrs. Hill said many people were brought to learn of God through the messages and when some of the messages were printed in newspapers they were read by thousands. The birds became known as Jack Miner's bird missionaries. Mrs. Curtis Hankinson reported on the recent rally of Presbyterial U.C.W. held in Berwick. Mrs. A. W. Irvine presided over the meeting held at the home of Mrs. Charleston when a Christmas party was planned and gifts be given the needy. Mrs. Francis Billn and Mrs. Irvine were named on the entertainment committee. Plans were also made for a food and fancy work sale. It was decided to forward to Presbyterial enough money to meet the allocation for 1962 and to accept the $70 allocation for 1963. It was also decided to give $10 to the Maritime Home for Girls. A partial slate of officers was submitted by the nominating committee headed by Mrs. Howard Payson. Mrs. A. Irvine was elected president to succeed Mrs. Hartley Powell, and Mrs. Maurina Hill, 2nd vice president, but other officers remained to be filled at a later meeting.

Dr. Kelsall Guest Speaker

Dr. Arthur Kelsall was guest speaker at the November meeting of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society held at the home of Mrs. Fred May. With an informal account of the care of his own grounds and gardens, Dr. Kelsall gave the members many items of information on the culture of numerous plants and shrubs.

Highlights from his address included: the care of peach trees, cherry trees and the English walnut tree. He emphasized the importance of an early spray to prevent "peach leaf curl" and stated that the peach tree is self fertile so that even one tree is satisfactory in the small garden. In cherry trees the variety called "gold" is particularly satisfactory because it is not attractive to birds on account of its yellow color, yet the flavor is as good as the other well known red varieties. The English walnut trees, which Dr. Kelsall considers rare are grown by several of the club members in Smith's Cove and Digby Area. Small fruits mentioned were raspberries and strawberries, both of which he finds very productive in his own garden.

Turning to the topic of spring bulbs, Dr. Kelsall described his method of planting and caring for daffodils, crocuses and grape hyacinths, all naturalized in grass. Tulips and garden hyacinths bloom too late for this type of culture as the grass would have too much growth before the bulbs bloomed. He also mentioned the colchicum or fall crocus, which he is planning to naturalize. Speaking of gladioli Dr. Kelsall recommended rolling in 50% D.D.T. just before winter storage in hampers of sawdust or peat moss. Winter care of begonias does not require D.D.T. but the storage is the same. In describing his flowering border, the speaker mentioned several of his favorite perennials including primulas, valerian and tibet-an blue poppies. Among annuals mentioned were ageratum asters and petunias, all of which are planted as seedlings, some of the latter being started in the basement under fluorescent lighting.

The subject of lawns was also discussed, the speaker recommending a light dressing of a general fertilizer such as 8-8-8 in May. Although he does not require lime on his own lawn owing to the natural high fertility he stated it might be necessary in some cases. Speaking of the uses of fertilizer he listed the following signs of deficiency which may show in plant growth: (1) poor coloring, lack of nitrogen, (2) browning around edges of leaves, lack of potash, (3) browning in the middle of leaves or too early fall coloring — lack of magnesium.

Dr. Kelsall's address was greatly enjoyed by the members whose thanks were expressed by Miss Marjorie Tupper, chairman of the Program Committee. The meeting was chaired by Mr. Kenneth Beckwith, president of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society, who also heard reports from the various committee chairmen. Two new members, Mrs. Arthur Cronin and Miss Marjorie MacCormack were introduced by Mrs. H. J. Anthony of the membership committee and welcomed to the society.

The meeting concluded with the usual social hour, the hostess being assisted by Mrs. Wilfred Comeau and Mrs. Burton Ellis. Plans for the December meeting were announced to include a contest for Christmas decorations among the members, the hostess to be Mrs. Donald Logan of Smith's Cove.

FLOWERS A-PLenty ON ISLAND

Although the weather doesn't indicate summer, wild flowers are still in bloom in Westport. Last week three small children of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Welch Jr. picked daisies, dandelions and clover and Leonard Watkins found a lady's slipper. A report from Mrs. Julia Gower says that robins are still plentiful on the island.

About This and That Cause For Concern

Full-grown delinquents! We think "An Irate Mother" who wrote a letter to The Digby Courier last week phrased it rightly when she called the "Hallowe'en water-pail pranks" in the village "full-grown delinquents". In fact, we wonder how much juvenile delinquency stems just from that very source — the source of the "full-grown delinquent".

Definitely there is cause for concern. All over Canada reports come in of Hallowe'en being used for some form of rowdiness, irresponsibility or criminal act instead of innocent fun as it is supposed to be. There definitely is, as "An Irate Mother" wrote, a perverted sense of humor but an expression of that nature hardly covers some of the acts committed in the name of a Hallowe'en stunt. Granted, accidents will happen innocently which destroy the fun of Hallowe'en and therefore caution must always be instilled in youthful minds. But the outright destruction and violence has no excuse whatsoever.

But, Hallowe'en might even be considered by some as a faint excuse for abuse in the fact that "hoodlums" packing together get carried away. What excuse can be offered for such acts as we have been reading about apart from Hallowe'en. Punks' backs being broken, killing of innocent three months old pigs, slashing pet goats and such acts of violence to people's property have been carried out in Digby town and outside areas of late. Surely somewhere "full-grown delinquents" are bringing up a breed of irresponsible human beings. Isn't it time "full-grown delinquents" began to take stock. In fact, it is about time that each and every grown-up, parent or not, began to examine their own ways to see how much they are contributing to the juvenile trend of the day. Some diversions from the "good old days" might seem minor offences but they might be contributing in the long view to much of the juvenile delinquency of today. We might mention many but a few minutes thought will bring them to anybody's mind. A deeper respect for things sacred and for authority might well be a profitable concern of grown-ups. Are we giving too much liberty and too little responsibility? Are parents too much separated from their children so that the children feel a lack of security?

Dr. John Rich, a psychiatrist and teacher at the University of Toronto and Queen's University in Kingston, Ont., suggests that youngsters of today — at least those living in cities and towns — are driven to join gangs because of insecurity.

He says, for example, that families tend to move from one place to another much more than in former years, with the result that children often live in a rootless vacuum, cut off from a traditional and stable community.

With grandparents perhaps living thousands of miles away, the family unit was growing smaller, cutting the sense of security even more. In many cases the teen-ager's only stability lay in a meaningless conformity to the gang.

"We are all pretty smug about the liberty we give our teen-agers but it's a liberty limited by our own framework," Dr. Rich says.

It's a question that each parent and grown up must answer for himself, or herself. Are we all in some form even minor "grown-up delinquents"? We have cause for concern.

Were You Prepared?

Crisis after crisis arises which brings the nations of the world, it would seem, to the brink of nuclear war. Just a few weeks ago an extremely tense situation arose by the Cuban crisis. Cuba is so near, only a few miles from Florida which has during the past few years become a common winter-time vacation land for our people. Cuba is a land so familiar to us, especially in the shipping circles of our country. Yes, the crisis was so near home it made the people think. Telephones began to ring. What are we to do? Where do we go? What about the children? These were familiar questions. Our question is, how many people here were prepared for an emergency at the time of the Cuban crisis? How many, now, have decided the crisis is over, let's forget about it and the bothersome civil defence measures?

The truth of the matter is that we are never actually not of a crisis. The truth is that while Cuba seemed so near, any country is so near in this nuclear age and we are almost continually in a crisis for one mistaken move is all that is required to cause a crisis.

Should the sirens have sounded some weeks ago, how prepared were families for an emergency? How prepared were the communities? It might be wise to remember that when a siren announces an emergency there is no time left to start building an emergency shelter. When a siren sounds there is little time to call an emergency council meeting to make preparations in a town or municipality. The latter is where a civil defence organization comes in.

Digby town C.D. organization, we are happy to say, is rapidly becoming prepared to meet emergencies. In fact, we would judge that preparations now exceed a number of other towns in the province. Plans are fairly well laid out on paper. A number of persons have taken special courses in branches of civil defence. Emergency feeding, shelter, traffic, police measures and most other branches of C.D. are being carefully studied. But Digby is not entirely prepared for several vacancies still exist in the organization. With each branch of C.D. depending on another for complete and smooth operation it is necessary that all branch and committee heads be named. We are not prepared to say what C.D. measures have been taken immediately outside the town and in the municipality of Digby at large.

However, C.D. plans of the town cannot be perfected either unless families, too, take measures of protection. We have heard that there is, at least, one family fallout shelter in town. There are families who have basements already considered adequate protection. We do know of several families living side-by-side who plan to congregate in one basement which provides adequate protection. But, in general, we wonder how many people in Digby were ready for emergency at the time of the Cuban crisis. Even people with special jobs on C.D. organizations forget that their own families must be protected. Several town C.D. personnel have made arrangements for their families if they are on C.D. duty in emergency. One person said, "My wife knows exactly what she is supposed to do for herself and the children. I won't be able to be there with them." After the C.D. workshop at Hotel Champlain last week, others decided to go home and see that their own houses were in preparation as well as preparing to meet community emergency.

Were you prepared? There is literature available to help in your preparations.

When, Oh When?

Four children and two adults were killed in a two-car collision near Timmons on the Labor Day weekend. Five were passengers in one car carrying nine people; the other was the driver of the second car which was carrying no passengers.

This was Ontario's most serious Labor Day weekend accident. A coroner's jury has now ruled that excessive drinking and speed caused the crash. Both drivers were found to have consumed quantities of liquor. Prof. Joslyn Rogers, a consultant to the attorney-general's department, and considered one of Canada's top experts on this subject, testified that 40 per cent of all fatal accidents in Ontario are caused by excessive drink.

Are provincial attorneys-general impressed to the extent they will now demand tougher laws for impaired and drunken drivers? Are magistrates impressed to the point where they will impose the maximum penalties for drivers convicted of impaired or drunken driving? Or will they continue with their light taps on the wrist and warnings to be good boys and not do it again?

The public and the politicians can get quite excited if four deformed babies are born in Canada because mothers took thalidomide during pregnancy. It becomes a national and political issue to be raised on the floor of the House of Commons. But four children die in a highway crash, the victims of drinking drivers, and the public and the politicians are silent. If the four children died in a house fire the shock of the tragedy would likely see hundreds of people lined up to watch the coffins carried out and the funeral procession. But four children killed in a highway accident? Isn't it too bad!

A mum can steal a loaf of bread for his hungry family and be sent to prison for two years; an impaired driver can kill and get a $50 fine if it is his first offence. When are law-makers and law enforcement agencies going to "get the message" that they share the guilt for the blood spilled in 40 per cent of the fatal highway accidents in Ontario? — The Sudbury Star.

Editorial Defined As An Informed Opinion

An editorial is an opinion. More correctly, an editorial is, or should be, an informed opinion on matters of public interest.

The Digby Courier rarely deals editorially with world subjects except in their reaction upon this district. This is not because we or our readers are not interested in the world situations, but first of all because it is practically impossible for us to be fully informed on these world problems, and secondly, we deal exclusively with local news. We lack time for the research necessary for a discussion of world problems and an editorial not solidly based on information is a mere street corner guess.

It is easy to write editorials criticizing policy or administration of public officials and bodies. Much harder is the task of putting forth constructive ideas. We try to refrain from the class of irresponsible critic, for no public good is served by that kind of editorial.

Our editorial columns are pledged to the support of all policies and movements which will advance the welfare of the people of Digby County.

Marriages

Orde - Mayo

The United Church of Canada, Bear River, was the scene of a very pretty wedding on November 10th, when the pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. Asaph, united in marriage Judith Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mayo of Bear River and Donald Philip, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Orde of Granville Beach. The artistic arrangements of flowers and greenery that added so much to the beauty of the service were done by Mrs. Rae Burns and the organist was Miss Linda Buckler.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage. Her floor length gown was of white brocade and with it she wore a shoulder length veil, and carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, a gift from the groom. She was accompanied by Miss Sandra Yorke, who wore a dress of dull turquoise chiffon over taffeta with white accessories, and a nosegay of yellow mums.

The groom was attended by Larry Bower of Annapolis Royal as best man, and the ushers were Michael Robblee and Bruce Thorne of Port Royal.

Mrs. Mayo, mother of the bride wore a dress of pink lace with beige accessories and corsage of yellow mums. The mother of the groom wore ruby velvet with harmonizing accessories and corsage of pink mums.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception for about seventy guests from Bear River, Digby, Annapolis Royal, Granville, Halifax, Montreal, and Deep Brook was held at the I.O.O.F. Hall, Bear River, with members of Elta Rebekah Lodge assisting. Background piano music was provided by Miss Linda Buckler, and the guest book was in charge of Miss Beverly Mayo, sister of the bride. Donald Melanson of Little Brook won the monthly championship at cribbage at the Church Point Men's Social club with 29 points. He was followed closely by Dr. Louis Thibodeau and Arcade Belliveau, both of Church Point, with 28 points each. Many others participated in the game.

Monthly points will be carried over for the grand total of points won by individuals which will designate who shall be the grand champion of the year. The tournament will be held every Tuesday evening until sometime in late April or early May. The yearly champion shall receive a trophy. Great interest is shown in the tournament.

Hikers Not From Digby

Last summer The Digby Courier made an effortless search to find someone in town who knew Mrs. Mari McKenna. Local press, radio and T.V. reported in July that Mrs. McKenna, from Digby, accompanied by her two children, left to hitchhike across Canada. Their plan was to stop over in Eagle Bay, B. C., and spend part of a vacation with Mrs. McKenna's parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. J. Day, whom the family had not seen since 1957.

Well, the truth of the matter has finally been learned. The McKennas live in Waterville, Kings County. Mr. McKenna took his family by car the eighty miles to Digby, where they boarded the S.S. Princess Helene for Saint John. In some way newsmen became confused. They made Digby the starting point, thus giving their story an air of confusion to readers in this area.

Hon. G. I. Smith

Partial text of speech made by G. I. Smith at dinner meeting of Annapolis Royal Board of Trade, Monday, October 29, 1962.

I would like to suggest to you that the greatest resource of any country is its people. From the most ancient times the experience of mankind is filled with examples which support this proposition. How often do the pages of history reveal that a people possessing little in the way of wealth in natural resources have reached pinnacles of achievement for outstripping the highest accomplishments of other wealthier peoples. Their energy, determination and ingenuity enabled them to make the best of what they had, while others, more fortunate in natural endowment failed to do this.

May I carry this idea one step further, and ask you to consider the thought that the people is the attitude of that greatest single asset of any people to life, life's problems, life's opportunities, and life's challenges.

For some, their predominant attitude leads them to take this easy road of accepting things as they are. For others, their attitude leads them to assess carefully what they have, what opportunities can be found or created and how they can make good use of them. These are the people who get things done for themselves and for their country.

Nova Scotia's people are equal in ability to any and better than most. As a province, we are not so well endowed with mineral wealth and geographical position as some may be. But we have many valuable resources, many challenging opportunities. With an attitude that is careful to learn the lesson of the past, zestful and flexible in doing the work of today, eager and imaginative in seeking and preparing for the opportunities of the years ahead, acting always with vigor and determination, we can reasonably hope substantially to improve our rate of growth and our standard of living. Let us work, let us plan, to make the best of the good we have.

WEST COAST NOW A DAY CLOSER

New, fast freight trains have brought the west coast 24 hours closer to Atlantic Canada.

Two trains which lop a day off the travelling time of Canadian National Railways' transcontinental freight service, are making the saving possible. They are shown as 303 and 304 on the new winter schedules which went into effect October 28.

E. J. Cooke, regional general manager, said the trains did not operate in the Maritimes, but they connected with fast freights from the Atlantic region. This made it possible for Maritimers to ship goods overland to the Pacific coast in much less time than was possible before.

Savings of up to 72 hours in the movement of traffic from east to west coasts had been made possible by new techniques and new equipment introduced by CN, said Mr. Cooke.

Two CTV shows, Dr. Kildare and The New Loretta Young Show, have been sold to the network of the New Zealand Broadcasting Commission for showing there.

Be sure to use spar varnish or another varnish specifically formulated for exterior use when you varnish doors and other surfaces outside. Floor and furniture varnishes ordinarily will not stand up under exterior exposure. Check the label before you brush it on.

Hospitality Christian Service

The C.W.F. group of Westport Church of Christ held their November meeting at the home of Mrs. Harold Swift.

A Circle of Prayer was led by Mrs. Neil Burt. The C.W.F.
prayer was repeated in unison,
followed by the devotional, with Mrs. G. Thompson using the theme "Whom shall we fear?" - scripture Luke 12:47.

Mrs. Charles McDormand, secretary, read letters acknowledging gifts, from M.C.C.
Prince Edward Island, Camp Fund, and Mrs. Hupman for Unified Promotion, also an interesting news letter from Mrs. Fletcher, Saint John,
N. B.

The group decided to celebrate Women's Day on Sunday, November 18th morning service instead of December.
Bible Study, with Mrs. Burt, was on Christian Hospitality — entertaining guests in our homes willingly. Scripture used: 25 Matt., Rom. 12:12-13, 1 Peter 4:7-9, 1 Tim. 3. Some of these showing hospitality in Bible days were Mary and Martha to Jesus; Lydia, seller of purple, to Paul and Silas;
Priscilla and husband Aquilla,
Paul; Mary, mother of John
Mark, services of the Church; Pheobe to Paul. We, as Christians today, may show this good act, to entertain through Church groups and in our home to visitors, Mrs. Burt said.

Mission Study, with Mrs. H.
Swift, on Paraguay and Argentina, also a study of Allin Sharpe, missionary, who members were fortunate to meet this past summer at the Westport Church. Mrs. Swift had prepared eight situations concerning missionaries and Disciple Churches, such as should a layman be allowed to serve communion; should we,
if taken to task, combine two denominations; if we had the chance, would you say have one Church with trained missionaries or ten Churches, one missionary and laymen to help out? There were varied answers and a great deal of discussion pro and con.

The meeting closed with C.W.F. benediction, with the invitation to meet with Mrs.
E. McDormand in December.
Refreshments were served by the hostess.

THE NEW RELIABLES

ONLY CHEVROLET OFFERS THIS PROVEN PAY-OFF IN POWER, PERFORMANCE AND DEPENDABILITY

1963 Chevrolet trucks proved their mettle before they went on sale. To do this, six Chevrolets were taken across the continent for a 2,000 mile shakedown run through some of the wildest terrain in North America—the Baja California peninsula in Mexico.

Chevrolet's power, performance and dependability paid off—the entire run was completed without a breakdown, failure or delay, and with only normal maintenance! That's how '63 Chevrolet trucks got the name "The New Reliabilities".

This proven reliability is built into every '63 Chevrolet truck. Whether you run 'em cross-country or cross-town, '63 Chevies will deliver what they promise!

Get the facts today, from your local Chevrolet truck dealer, then you'll know—Chevrolet pays off!

NEW POWER for '63, Chevrolet has two new engines—a 230 cu. in. Six (140 hp) and a 292 cu. in. Six (165 hp). Both are equipped with 7-bearing crankshafts, positive crankcase ventilation, full-flow oil filter and Delcotron generators. They're the newest additions to Chevrolet's complete line of proven performance-tested engines.

TWO NEW SUSPENSIONS. Light Duty Chevrolets feature independent coil spring front suspensions for top comfort and increased durability. Standard equipment for Mediums and Heavydies is Chevrolet's new Variable-Rate leaf spring front suspension. Based on Chevrolet's work-proven Variable-Rate leaf suspension, it provides better tracking and handling with reduced maintenance.

NEW FRAMES. Stronger, more durable ladder-type frames are '63 Chevrolet's backbone. Each frame, in each series, has been specifically engineered and built to meet the demands of load and road conditions. It's Chevrolet's way of making sure that every payload pays off in profits for you!

Dr. McCleave Again Heads Commission

Dr. J. R. McCleave was elected chairman of the Digby Recreation Commission at the annual meeting held at the Town Hall on Monday evening. Elected as vice-president was Mrs. J. M. Wallis; secretary, Mrs. Helen Anthony; treasurer, E. Scott Eaton; head of the rink management committee, Wallace Hodgson and building, Thomas Cleveland. The auditor's report for the year received by the commission showed that operating revenue for the year amounted to $11,064.42 and operating expenses 11,954.67 making an operational deficit of $890.25. Interest on debentures, taxes and other items makes indebtedness for the year to the amount of $6,534.00.

A discussion of the statement revealed that the year past was actually a good year in comparison with previous years. Several back accounts were paid and repairs on the building amounted to $1760 and to machinery $3500 which leaves the building and machinery in good condition to start the present year's operation.

Reports indicated that patronage at the forum for skating this present season is much in excess of any previous year. New musical records are being purchased for use at skating times.

61 Attend Clinic

Sixty one children attended the annual fall clinic on November 19, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Digby for the benefit of crippled children in the area. Held at the Lions Hall on First Avenue, Doctors Coward and Acker, and nurse, Miss McLellan, of the Nova Scotia Society for the Care of Crippled Children were in attendance.

Seventy-seventh Anniversary

Smith's Cove United Church will observe the seventy-seventh anniversary of its present sanctuary with a special service this Sunday, December 2. Opened as a Methodist Church, January 25, 1885, the fine state of preservation of the structure today testifies to the skilled workmanship of that earlier time.

The special speaker at this Sunday's anniversary service will be the Rev. Mr. R. H. Hughes of Digby. He will be assisted by the church's present minister, Rev. Elmer Asaph, who was inducted into the Bear River Charge of the United Church of Canada last June. The choir of the Bear River United Church will lead in musical worship.

Mrs. J. J. Wallis, who is church organist, has in her possession the minute book of the first board of trustees of the church. Life was very different in those early days of the congregation as testified to in these records. The churches financial account for its first year shows receipts of $19.13 as against expenditures of $15.15, a half ton of coal was purchased for $2.00.

Some family names that were entered in those first records are still well known in the Cove today, names such as: Smith, Raymond, Thomas, Sulis, Hunt. The pastor at the time of the opening of the church was Rev. W. H. Heartz, D. D.

Farm-City Week

The Kiwanis Club of Digby celebrated Farm-City Week by a dinner held at Hotel Champlain on Thursday night when Frank Scammell, Truro, was guest speaker. Mr. Scammell, whose son, Frank Junior, was at one time a teacher at Digby Regional High School, is himself on the staff of the Agricultural College. Born in Newfoundland, he was educated at the Agricultural College, Truro, and also MacDonald College and was Inspector of Co-operatives. He was introduced by William LeFort, President of the Weymouth Kiwanis Club and also Agricultural Representative for Digby County. He was thanked by H. M. Warne, Chairman of the Agricultural Committee of the Digby Board of Trade.

It is well, the speaker said, for the people who dwell in towns and cities to understand and appreciate the problems which are faced by those who work on the half million farms or as he termed them "factories" in our country. He said they should consider the farm being exposed to the threat of insects, wind, weather, weeds and many other problems. To be a good farmer one must be familiar with modern techniques, have a knowledge of chemistry, physics and biology, he said.

So often, Mr. Scammell said people will complain of their food bill being too high, while in reality they are confusing their grocery bill with their food bill. To arrive at the cost of their food, he said, they should eliminate from their grocery bill such things as soaps, floor wax, smokes, bird seed, etc., and also the cost of packaging and the built-in maid service.

You will find too, he said that the farmer gets less than forty cents of every dollar you actually spend on food. Besides, the farmer is up against high marketing costs.

As yet, the speaker continued, no one has come up with a solution of how to use excessive food surpluses in one country to feed the hungry in another country. In North America, he said, each person consumes three-quarters of a ton of food each year; they spend one-quarter of their income for their appetites and a working man uses up 3,000 calories of food a day, while a third of the world does not have one-half that amount.

Population growth, the speaker said, was an extreme problem with a daily increase of 65,000 in the world. At the present rate, in another 40 years the population will have been doubled or will be raised to six billion people. The sad part, said the speaker, is that the population increase is greatest in the places where there is not sufficient food or not sufficient land on which to grow the food. He brought to the attention of his audience that this is a problem facing all of us for as a Japanese friend had said to him at one time, "The Japanese people won't starve quietly".

A great necessity, the speaker said, is to teach the people in the overseas country to use modern farm techniques and machinery and proper care of the soil so that they can produce as much food as possible. However, he said, the elements of weather are detrimental to high soil fertility. He remarked that some of our best soil in this area is being washed down into the Bay of Fundy and that much waste and sewage which could produce fertile soil is washed out to sea and lost. Europe is far ahead of our country in solving the problem of waste, he went on to say.

The speaker gave some practical suggestions for farm operations in the area and various foods which adequately provide proteins for the body.

While the soil in the local area is not the best, he said, it could be readily built and the climate is most favorable and frost free. Farmers, he said, might have to turn to other crops or make changes in order to demand a good income. He said that the welfare of other parts of the country reflect on the farmer and that it would be well for the town and city people to help out the farmers in the area, especially by asking to buy products grown in Digby

P.I.O.'s Meet

Two major crises, that of Berlin and of Cuba, have shown the public the need of a Civil Defence organization, said Gordon Grant, coordinator of Nova Scotia Civil Defence, at a conference of Civil Defence Public Information Officers held in Halifax on Saturday. Two years ago, Mr. Grant said, we were faced with complacency and even open antipathy, but today people see the necessity of such an emergency measures organization.

The meeting, chaired by N. P. Wigglesworth, provincial civil defence P.I.O., was designed to give the press and information officers the background and knowledge of civil defence measures being taken in the province. Digby was represented by Mrs. J. M. Wallis.

The Civil Defence Health Service discussion was headed by Miss N. E. Taylor, R.N., Nurse Consultant, Doctor S. H. Kryszel was being newly appointed to head Civil Defence Health Service in the province.

Miss Taylor said that with a little planning and preparation it has been said that the dead and injured, in time of emergency, could be cut by 75%. Such probability of being with out heat, light and power and of epidemics breaking out must be considered, said Mrs. Taylor. She described the advanced treatment centres which will be set up from pre-packed aged units (trucks). Existing hospitals, she said, have limited facilities there being less than 3,000 beds outside the city of Halifax. By hospital disaster planning, these could be doubled and in time of emergency, about 8,000 beds could be provided in the province.

Of the 800 doctors in Nova Scotia, over 40 are in the city of Halifax and many of these will have special duties. Of the 2,000 nurses in the province, 1,200 are in the city of Halifax. Any hospital planning, Miss Taylor said, is not complete unless the plans co-operate with those of police, welfare, home nursing, etc.

Hospitals in order to be accredited must include an emergency measure plan. This plan which provides training of assistants in home nursing is not a cheap labor scheme for hospitals, she said. Plans must be put on paper and before approved must have a "try out" to see that they are workable.

Major T. E. Sallman, Eastern Command Public Relations Officer, brought the P.I.O.'s up-to-date on what has been done during the year in Civil Defence by the Army. He said there is a daily preparedness program carried out continually from instructions sent down from Ottawa. He told of the sirens installed in the province, of the move to have standardized fire hose which can be used in any part of the province and the training that the Army is getting in commanding, discipline, crowd control, sanitation and hygiene. He said publicity was most necessary to induce other people towards emergency measures and to get co-operation from a wider public for if they do not know the true story of what is going on, co-operation cannot be expected. Public information, he said, relieves people's feeling and affects other people's plans if they are in the know.

Harold Shae, Managing Editor of the Halifax Chronicle Herald, said that it is not good enough for a country to have a plan of survival unless we tell the people how to make use of those plans. The present time, he said, is good to inform people for with the recent Cuban crisis people are civil defence conscious. He said different branches of Civil Defence should contact the newspapers with answers to the public's questions in their particular departments.

J. G. Parsons, Regional Officer Emergency Measures Organization for Nova Scotia, told of the plans of the government of relocation units which are set up for the continuance of government and legislature in time of emergency. Space has been provided and plans made to accommodate new service during an emergency. Municipalities are responsible for providing space for P.I.O.'s.

Jerry Orlik, Training Officer for Nova Scotia Civil Defence, gave the P.I.O.'s a demonstration of decontamination

Meet In Digby

The semi-annual meeting of the Yarmouth Diocesan Council of the Catholic Women's League was held recently in St. Patrick's Parish Hall, Digby. Mrs. C. B. McEachern, Diocesan president, presided. Executive members were present from Greenwood, Kentville, Weymouth, Yarmouth and Yarmouth B. and P. (C.W.L.).

The president gave an interesting account of the work accomplished both at Provincial and National conventions, which she had attended as a delegate in Kentville and Halifax since the last meeting. Provincial president, Mrs. Ernest McKinley, who is also a member of the Yarmouth Diocesan Council, gave a resume on matters arising from the National resolutions.

At the suggestion of the Finance Convener, Mrs. James Gratton, the meeting approved a financial project which would be undertaken early in the New Year, whereby each Council would carry out a project, according to their own choice, to raise an amount equivalent to $1.00 per member.

Increased interest was evidenced in the Canadian League magazine, when the convener reported the membership magazine had been combined. In four councils, thus giving 100% subscriptions in their districts. All Councils were urged to be prompt and accurate in sending in their revised subscription lists to National Office.

Items of interest to members on the local Parish Council level were reviewed by the various conveners, and ideas were exchanged on various means for raising funds for parochial benefit through League activities.

Speaking to the meeting, Very Reverend J. H. Durney, P. P., Diocesan Director, urged all councils to participate in Leadership courses now available. One such group is already established in Yarmouth.

Father Durney informed members that the Regional meetings which had proven to be of value, would be resumed this fall. He also recommended the Encyclical "Mater et Magistra" (Mother and Teacher) for study through brief reading periods at local council meetings. He suggested the continuance of the method of introducing new members, which he had previously outlined for use at the meetings. Father Durney asked the members to pray for Monsignor Thomas LeBlanc, former Diocesan Director, who is seriously ill.

At the close of the meeting St. Patrick's Ladies' Guild entertained the visitors at a buffet supper.

Family Reunion

A family reunion took place on Sunday, November 18, 1962 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baxter, Plympton Station, N.S., when Mrs. Baxter and her five sons were all together for the first time in thirty years. The sons are Lawrence Thibideau, Ancaster, Ont., who arrived home on November 13, 1962 to spend some time with his mother after being away for fifteen years, Alden Thibideau, Karsdale, N. S., Ross Thibideau, North Range, Arthur (Ted) Thibideau and Carl Thibideau, Plympton, N. S. Others present were Mrs. Hoss Thibideau, Mrs. Ted Thibideau, Mrs. Carl Thibideau, James, Donna and Faye Thibideau.

Dinner was served and many other relatives and friends gathered.

after radioactive fall out. He said that senses could not be used to detect fall out, and it was necessary to depend on machines. Distances and shielding are most important to control the amount of fall out, and it is necessary to get rid of fall out as quickly as possible.

Ivor Hambling, Emergency Welfare Planning Officer, said that welfare planning should include Children's Aid Societies, municipal welfare officers and private welfare services wherever possible. Children's Aid would take care of children in the event that parents were dead or lost because of disaster. He also stated that it was most necessary to select the right people for the right jobs for volunteer Civil Defence Service.

Addresses P.C.'s.

Planning is the keynote of governmental economic planning or a study of what to do for the economy of Nova Scotia, said Hon. W. S. K. Jones in an address at the annual meeting of the P. C. Association in the Electoral District of Digby held at the Lions Club Hall on Monday night. With this in mind the Nova Scotia government has created a new department, that of Finance and Economics with Hon. G. I. Smith as the minister, said Mr. Jones. Mr. Smith, he said, had studied the economic planning of England and France, had met the leaders in economics and government and had obtained much information. He has now started preliminary plans for Nova Scotia. These plans are not socialistic nor are they to be imposed on the people but are planned for voluntary acceptance and helpful planning by the people. Mr. Smith, he said, has divided the work into sectors. Economic planning means that the leaders will see what the obstacles are, make plans to remove obstacles, set a target and try to achieve the target. The first sector will be attempted when a meeting will be held on agriculture in Truro early in December. Other industries including forest industries and fishing, will be examined under the Finance and Economic minister and the Economic Planning move of which it is believed Nova Scotia is the first in North America to embark on such a course. He quoted Mr. Smith as follows:

"It has often been said, that I believe truly, that a country's greatest resource is its people. I suggest to you that the greatest asset of a people can and should be their attitude toward life, life's problems, life's challenges. The attitude that is careful to learn the lesson of the past, zestful and flexible in doing the work of today, eager and imaginative in seeking and preparing for the opportunities of the years ahead will carry any people to great achievements for themselves for their country and for those who come after them."

Nova Scotia's people are equal in ability to any and better than most. Let us see to it that we do not blunt the keel blade of that ability with the rasping obstacle of a dull static, lifeless attitude. Let us rather ensure that we bring that keen blade to the very sharpest edge with the whetstone of a lively, forward looking, vibrant attitude. Let us work, let us plan, to make the best of the good we have."

Mr. Jones brought his audience up to date on progress in the Department of Welfare where the Field Services Division was established and where the Juvenile Court was extended. The Juvenile Court was created in 1911. Prior to 1961 only half the province was served and in 1961 the whole province was covered by having one court to cover all of Nova Scotia but with addition of judges. This enables the court not only to serve a larger area but to deal more adequately with juvenile delinquency.

Further in welfare, Mr. Jones dealt with the sharing of costs in Municipal Homes where two-thirds of the costs of improved homes is paid by the provincial government. Relief is changed today in that two-thirds of the cost of assistance given by the municipality is repaid by the province. Fifty percent of this is recovered from federal source. Coupled with this, the speaker said, is a qualified welfare officer is secured so as to have an element of rehabilitation the Provincial government pays fifty percent of the cost of administration.

Continuing on the subject of Municipal Homes, Mr. Jones told of launching the project of placing persons from municipal homes in private boarding homes, an idea which began in Hants County. It was thought that these persons could have greater comfort and happiness and take a more useful part in life if so placed. Mildly mental patients, they felt, would be better in boarding homes.

Mr. Jones spoke of the raise in Old Age Pensions from $55 to $65 a month and of raising the income ceilings in this re-

Powell Heads P.C. Association

Keith Potter, Plympton, on Monday evening was elected president of the P. C. Association for the year 1962-63. Mr. Potter, who is a mechanical science at the Digby Regional High School, was acquainted with the area he represents, having been born and lived on the Islands and having taught school on the Islands, the Neck and in various schools throughout the entire district. Mr. Potter, through research for writing of plays and short stories, has already come to understand the background, the history, the needs and inclinations of the people he will serve as president.

First vice-president named at the meeting held at the Digby Lions' Club Hall, on Monday night was Keith Raymond, Centreville. Other presidents from areas were Dr. D. E. Lewis, Mrs. A. J. Dillon, Forest Eisner, all of Digby, Roy Snell, Bear River and Gifford Lewis, Weymouth. Secretary is Charles Haliburton, Digby. Treasurer and chairman of finance is Dr. G. V. Turnbull. The slate was presented by George Thibault, Rossy, who was also chairman of the candidate survey committee.

Mr. Potter who has served the constituency as member of the provincial legislature, president of the association in 1937 and again from 1959 to 1962, thanked members of the association for their co-operation and support.

Mr. Powell, in accepting the office of president said, that he felt the best contribution he could make to his country, province and municipality at present was to accept the position offered to him and stand behind the Progressive Conservative government which has done much for the area and has shown vision both from Halifax and Ottawa. He expressed the hope to instill confidence in the people of the constituency which has contributed so widely of its intellectual resources to our own nation and to the sister nation, U. S. A.

A minute silence in memory of the late M. S. Leonard was observed and expressions of sympathy were sent to Mrs. Leonard and family.

The Hon. W. S. K. Jones, guest speaker also paid tribute to the late Mr. Leonard who had been a former minister of Education and minister of Welfare for the province of Nova Scotia. Mr. Leonard, he said was a big man in every way and did all he could for the people and party he served. He gave of himself in service for his people and while in the Provincial House spoke out for Digby County. He also paid tribute to Mr. Leonard as an able lawyer who did not spare himself in the defence of his clients.

Motions of confidence in Premier R. Stanfield and Prime Minister John Diefenbaker and their respective governments were made by Mrs. A. J. Dillon and Dr. H. T. Pothier, Weymouth, respectively.

ward so that in effect the raise was more than ten dollars. The number of persons receiving Disabled Pensions has doubled since 1956 and 1,300 are now receiving Social Assistance Disability Allowance which was inaugurated in 1960.

As Provincial Secretary, under whose department is found the Water Act, Mr. Jones emphasized the importance of water, especially in new industry. A more extensive organization, including representation from other government departments, had to be set up to deal with problems confronting this vital commodity, he said.

The Honorable Mr. Jones is head of Civil Defence in the province and as such stressed the importance of each person taking responsibility in supporting C.D. organizations and acquainting themselves with literature available.

As a member of the Human Rights Committee the minister said that we owe it to the minority groups to help them to a better education and better job opportunities. Mr. Jones was introduced by Keith Potter and thanked

Safe Driving Week

The week of December 1 to December 7 has been declared Safe Driving week. This campaign is conducted across Canada by the Canadian Highway Safety Council and is sponsored in our province by the Nova Scotia Highway Safety Council.

The campaign is aimed at the apathetic motorist and pedestrian who believe that advice and words of caution are meant for someone else. These people must learn that accidents can be prevented. The majority of accidents are the result of human error and judgment.

Last year, 157 persons lost their lives on our streets and highways; and more than 2,000 were injured. Many of these unfortunate people might have averted tragedy had it not been for their own carelessness or the carelessness of some other person.

In endorsing the objectives of Safe Driving Week, I ask every person who drives or walks to exercise a special degree of care and courtesy. By so doing, this week and every week will be a safe one on the highways of this province.

We've got 40 horses that run on chicken feed

The Volkswagen will cruise all day at 72 miles per hour.

In the city, and on the highway, it averages 38 miles to a gallon of gas.

What's the secret? How does the Volkswagen do so much for so little?

We wish we had a good, simple answer. Instead, there are a lot of reasons that explain the VW's amazing performance.

To begin with, the Volkswagen is lighter than conventional cars. Not only because it's compact, but because of the way it's designed.

For example, there is no radiator or plumbing. (V's use air instead of water to cool the engine.)

The Volkswagen has no long, heavy drive shaft that runs from the front of the car to the back. The VW engine is in the rear where it gives direct power to the drive wheels. The weight of the engine provides better traction on ice and snow.

And the engine weighs less because it's made with magnesium. (Magnesium is one of the many products we buy in Canada.)

Take a look at the front of the car and you'll see how we've reduced wind resistance. Instead of a flat grill, like the bow of a barge, the Volkswagen is streamlined.

Enough talk. Your Volkswagen dealer has 40 horses all saddled up and ready for a test ride. (Don't be afraid to go for a good run. It costs us chicken feed.)

Orde - Mayo

The United Church of Canada, Bear River was the scene of a very pretty wedding on November 10th, when the pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. Asaph, united in marriage Judith Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mayo of Bear River and Donald Philip, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Orde of Granville Beach. The artistic arrangements of flowers and greenery that added so much to the beauty of the service were done by Mrs. Rae Burns and the organist was Miss Linda Buckler.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage. Her floor length gown was of white brocade and with it she wore a shoulder length veil and carried a bouquet of red sweetheart roses. Her only ornament was a string of pearls, a gift from the groom. She was accompanied by Miss Sandra Yorke, who wore a dress of dull turquoise chiffon over taffeta, with white accessories, and a nosegay of yellow mums.

Hall, Bear River, with members of Elia Rebekah Lodge assisting. Background piano music was provided by Miss Linda Buckler, and the guest book was in charge of Miss Beverly Mayo, sister of the bride. After the reception the happy couple left on a short motor trip through Nova Scotia and New Brunswick. For going away the bride chose a three piece ensemble in brown and beige, with beige accessories, and wore a corsage of pink carnations. They will live at Deep Brook.

Dr. George Burridge, M.L.A., Yarmouth, in a short address, spoke of the importance of leadership, taking note of the outstanding leadership by the Premier of the province. He said one of the most serious problems facing the province was education and the Premier as Minister of Education needs the cooperation and assistance of all. One of the problems, he said, is to find money for education while knowing that none of the work of other departments can be sacrificed for the purpose. He said 15 years ago ten percent of the total budget was devoted to education; in 1960 the portion of the total budget given to education was 25 percent.

Nova Scotia produces more than 5,000,000 tons of gypsum a year. This represents about 85 per cent of Canada's total annual production.

$2,000 Collected

At the service last Sunday morning the pastor of the Baptist Church of Digby announced to the congregation that the canvass conducted for funds to meet the cost of the new furnace installed under the church auditorium had been successful. More than $2,000.00 was received, the greater part of it in cash and the remainder in pledges, and the total sufficient to meet the costs of the new installation. Mr. J. J. Brittain headed the work of the canvass committee.

At the worship service last Sunday, Eleanor Burnham, on behalf of the Canadian Girls in Training of the Digby Church, presented to the church a black leather bound volume of the Hymnary for pulpit use as a gift from this group of girls. The pastor, receiving the gift on behalf of the congregation, thanked the C. G. I. T. for their thoughtfulness. On the outside cover the name of the church is stamped in gold letters, and the fly leaf bears an inscription from the C. G. I. T. to the church.

The Women's League conducted a successful Tea and Fancy Sale in the church hall on Tuesday afternoon. A large number of guests were present for this enjoyable occasion.

December promises to be a busy month in the Baptist Church with many pre-Christmas activities planned. Included in the December program will be a Men's Supper meeting sponsored by the Brotherhood. This will be held on Saturday, December 1st.

The Christmas Cantata, presented by the joint choirs will be held in the United Church on the evening of December 16th, and the annual Sunday School Christmas Concert will be held on Sunday evening, December 23rd.

Industrial Estates Limited is a Crown Company of the Province of Nova Scotia. It was set up in 1957 to encourage the development of secondary industry in the province.

Art Workshop

A two fold art workshop to be held in Bridgetown this Saturday, December 1, will be of interest to both local artists and teachers. Jointly sponsored by the Annapolis County Home and School Association and the Nova Scotia Society for Education Through Art, the sessions will be held at the Bridgetown Regional Elementary School from 10 to 12 a.m. and 1:30 to 3:30 p.m.

Persons involved in picture painting, whether at a "serious" level or "Sunday Painters" will take part in a workshop directed by Mrs. Thaya C. Batdorf, Mrs. Batdorf, a resident of Lunenburg County, is a well known Nova Scotia artist and this fall held a one man exhibit at Acadia University. As well as dealing with techniques and principles of painting Mrs. Batdorf will criticize the paintings of participating painters at their request.

For persons, parents or teachers interested in children's art, a separate workshop will be conducted by Miss Paige Pineo, also now a resident of Lunenburg County. Miss Pineo, an artist and retired art teacher who taught for many years in Montreal will follow the theme "Modern Art Teaching".

Work by either adult painters or by children is invited and should be sent before 3 p.m. Friday if possible.

Participants should bring a box lunch and tea and coffee will be served. Registration fee will be charged.

Mrs. Fred Hoyt, Bridgetown, is organizer of the workshops and works for exhibit should be sent to her.

C.D. Courses In January

At the regular meeting of the Digby Civil Defence organization, held Tuesday evening at the Fire Station, it was decided that a campaign of the town be made to seek volunteers to enter various C. D. courses to be held after the new year. The courses will offer training in police, fire, welfare, first aid, radiation, home nursing and rescue.

Volunteers for the auxiliary police course should be at least 21 years of age, it was stated and should be local residents who could be easily located in the case of emergency. It was also decided that, if possible, volunteers should not be members of the fire department as these trained men, during a serious fire, would not be available for police duties. The auxiliary fire course will deal mainly with types of extinguishers, and show how to fight fires on a small scale.

Three Hockey Leagues In Clare

Three leagues will operate in the Municipality of Clare, in Digby County, this year. Plans are being formulated to organize a new league for school children. An intermediate league has been in operation for the last five years with teams from Saultville, Meteghan, Bellevue's Cove and Church Point, with a new entry this year from Yarmouth when the Notre Dame team was accepted.

The Juvenile League was organized four years ago with teams from Meteghan, Church Point, Saultville Station and Bellevue's Cove entered this year. A new league for the younger school children of the public schools will be organized for the first time this year for those up to and including 14 years of age. The latter league will play its games on Saturday mornings.

The Intermediate League, which is known as the Western County Hockey League, will play its games at St. Ann's College arena on Tuesday evenings. The juvenile league, known as the Clare League, will play its games on Monday evenings, with the first game starting at 7:30 p.m. and the second game at 9.

The young school children from various villages played exhibition games last year. It was felt that an organized league would benefit the players much more than just playing exhibition games. This younger league will furnish players for the juvenile league in the future and in turn the juvenile league will be a farm team for the intermediate league.

The organization that is sponsoring the leagues in Clare will move up a player to a higher league whenever a player is felt to have the ability of doing so, irrespective of his age. It is felt that hockey players would be developed in a shorter time by starting with the youngsters.

Older high school boys will help in coaching and handling the youngsters on Saturday mornings, which should improve the play of this group. What is lacking in skill is made up in determination by the youngsters and they must be encouraged to play the game as it should be played, as a team and not for individual glory.

St. Ann's area, which was slated to be ready for games on Monday, November 26th, will be unable to have a ready for hockey until December 2nd, it has been learned. A breakdown in a portion of the ice making machine has delayed the official opening match to the dismay of the youngsters who are chafing at the bit to get started.

It is expected that six teams will make up the new league with teams lined up from Meteghan, Saultville, Low or Saultville, Little Brook, Church Point and Bellevue's Cove or St. Bernard's.

The intermediate league will be composed of teams from Meteghan, Church Point, Saultville, Bellevue's Cove and this year a new entry, Notre Dame, of Yarmouth, which will be known as the Seven-ups of Notre Dame. Rev. Father Albert LeBlanc, of Yarmouth, entered his team in the Western County Hockey Intermediate League because he felt that his group of players would be better off in the new league and possibly learn the fine points of hockey by playing with more experienced players of their own age than in the Yarmouth league, where older players play a more robust type of hockey.

The three leagues will enable players to move up from one league to another according to their ability, irrespective of their age. Each league has been organized with an eye for certain age groups. Nevertheless, if a player develops ability he can be drafted to a higher league.

Artificial ice in St. Ann's arena has enabled the youngsters of Clare to play more hockey than they were able to on natural ice. Play generally starts the last week of November and continues into April, which was not so when natural ice surfaces were the only medium for playing ice hockey. The developing of players in this area took a slump when the weather did not cooperate for a number of years when natural ice was used.

Years ago it was mainly from the village of Church Point that hockey players were known. The first player from Church Point to play for an outside team was Vincent F. Melanson, of the present Municipality owned Hydro System, when he played with the famous Digby Ravens. He was employed with the Royal Bank and had been transferred to Digby with which team he played until he was transferred from that town. One of the players, who now operates a dry-cleaning place in Digby was Fred Maise. He was called the "bulldog" of the team.

Later, the famous French line of the Bridgetown Hawks

Eddie LeBlanc, with the bullet shot, Frankie and Johnnie Melanson. This trio scored 90 percent of the goals of their team and they made up a very fine combination. Just about the same time, Peter Blinn hooked up with Berwick Bruins and a year later Denis Bellevue, now of Digby, was added to that team. Archie Bellevue and Albert Melanson then went to Berwick with Denis Bellevue, where they played for several years.

Edmond Melanson, one of Church Point's best stick handlers and fastest skater, played with Digby Ravens. All of these boys, with the exception of Vincent Melanson, made up the team of the once famous "Les Acadians" of Church Point, who sported their blue uniforms with red and white stripes.

This team played several exhibition games with teams from Yarmouth in the earlier rink on two successive years in the spring. Such players from Yarmouth who can be recalled were Arthur Cosma, Eddie Deveau, of the Royal Store, Ralph Doucet, of the Lurche Lightship, Biss Boyd in the nets.

Of the Church Point Le Acadians, they are now spread all over the country as follows: Johnnie Melanson, Hopedale, Manitoba, near Flin Flou; Frankie Melanson, manager of the Liquor Commission store at Annapolis; Eddie LeBlanc, Boston; Moses Blinn, Malden, Mass., but presently visiting at Little Brook; Peter Blinn, Albert Melanson, Ben M. LeBlanc, Willie LeBlanc, Boston; Bernard LeBlanc, Boston; Edmond Melanson, a plumbing contractor at Church Point; Denis Bellevue, Digby, and Jos. Melanson, Montreal.

Considerable changes have been made in the lineup of the Church Point and Saultville teams this year due to former players having obtained employment elsewhere. The Church Point team will practically be made up of former juvenile players of the Church Point Maple Leafs, who won the championship last spring. To date only two former Comeau players will be in the lineup and these are Norman Theriault and Paul LeBlanc.

Saultville has lost the services of Melbourn Sault and young Bougeois, of Saultville, Walter LeBlanc and Paul LeBlanc, of Little Brook, but former players of Church Point, Paul LeBlanc will line up with the Church Point aggregation and will be playing coach of the team. Both Church Point and Saultville will bolster their teams with young players of the juvenile league and they should be able to hold their own in the league. Meteghan will be obliged to fill the gaps left in their ranks by some of the older players calling it a day. They are fortunate to line up some of the juvenile league players from the Meteghan Centre team and along with younger players from Meteghan itself, they should be a greatly improved team.

Bellevue's Cove entry will be a tough entry to beat as this team has been made up of young players who have managed to stick together for the last two years. They played in the finals with Saultville Pepsi-Cola team last spring and both teams battled it out right down to the final minute when the Pepsi-Pirates sank the winning goal. The Cove team may be somewhat stronger with Allen Comeau back in the nets after year's absence. Comeau played one game of the playoffs where he replaced an injured goalie last spring and played a what of a game. If he continues from there, he will be hard to beat.

The new entry, Notre Dame of Yarmouth, is an unknown quantity as far as the Western League is concerned as they have never played against teams in this league before. It should create more interest in the league, especially when the teams tangle in the Yarmouth arena.

At a recent meeting of the league, Raymond Thimot, formerly of Little Brook and former Church Point player of Meteghan Centre, was appointed vice-president; Denis Thibodeau, of Church Point, was elected as secretary-treasurer.

Due to the lateness in starting play in the league on account of a breakdown in the ice making machine at St. Ann's College arena, the deadline for sending the list of each team as the official list is set at January 15th.

All captains of the teams shall automatically become directors of the league, which will allow difficult matters to be ruled upon before or after a game. The number of players allowed a team for 1962-63 season has been set at twelve players. This has been made a ruling because some team may have some difficulty in icing a full team if certain parishes were allowed to use more than twelve players.

Teams in the Western County Hockey League must be made up from players within a parish and the parish boundary shall determine which team may use each player. In event that a certain parish has its full quota of players on their list and there remains unlisted players, a team from another parish may request the league for permission to use the unlisted players. Players from other parishes were loaned to other teams, especially those from Church Point St. Mary's parish, which comprises the villages of Comeauville, Little Brook, Church Point and Groves Coques were loaned to Saultville Pepsi-Pirates for the last two years and this year only one player from the Church Point district will be playing with that team.

Line-up of teams to date, which is not final, will be:

Heads Nova Scotia Liberals

Earl W. Urquhart, 41 years old M. L. A. for Richmond County, was elected Leader of the Liberal Party of Nova Scotia at a provincial nominating convention held in Halifax on November 3rd. Mr. Urquhart was first elected to the Legislature in 1949 while still a law student at Dalhousie University. He served as Liberal Party Whip under Premiers Angus L. MacDonald, Harold Connolly and Henry D. Hicks. For the past two years Mr. Urquhart has served as Leader of the Opposition in the House of Assembly. His first major job, he indicated following his election, will be to start immediately to visit "every city, every town, every village and every remote community in the province" to sell the Liberal Party's program.

Melanson Heads Western County Hockey League

The Western County Hockey League, which originally was planned for teams from the Municipality of Clare but in the first and second year of operation the M.V. Bluenose had an entry in the league. Organized five years ago, the league has proven popular.

Albert P. Melanson has been elected president for the fifth time and this year the team entered are Saultville Pepsi-Pirates, last year's champions, Meteghan, Bellevue Cove and Church Point from Clare and Notre Dame Sevens from Yarmouth.

About This and That Fallout Falls Anywhere

The tension of the Cuban crisis has definitely lessened almost to the point of ended but we would not go so far as to say that all is well. The shadow of war still is over us and from more than one area of the globe. What still lingers so frighteningly is the fact of how ill prepared most of us would have been for a real Cuban nuclear emergency. True, no other town seems to have improved so greatly of late in its Emergency Measures plans as has Digby, but improvements started from a low level. Progress in Emergency Measures plans are slow at the best when people must be trained and plans go through in deliberate and orderly fashion. But there would have been many of us confused and frustrated, we fear, not so much from lack of official organization as from our own lack of concern.

Digby town has its organization. Digby is preparing to take in 4,000 people if need be. The town has also included in its emergency measures the fact that Digby could be covered with fallout should a nuclear blast arise from some other part of Nova Scotia, Canada or U.S.A.

The fact that Digby town is preparing its people for emergency does not seem to satisfy our query when we wonder how well prepared are the people of the municipality for a disaster of any kind. Fallout, for instance, falls anywhere — on the villages, on the countryside and on the towns and cities as well. Possibly people in the Municipality of Digby have their own Emergency Measures program but if so we have not heard about it. We know the Municipality of Clare has its Civil Defence organization but we have not heard about Digby Municipality. We can think of some fairly large centres like Weymouth, Sandy Cove, Freeport, Westport and Tiverton, for instance. But even at that, fallout won't fall on any one of these places without falling also on the communities near-by. Should a forest fire arise either because of nuclear war or peace time causes, how prepared are the people in the municipality to meet such emergency?

It is something to think about. Fallout falls anywhere.

Light Up Early

The special blaze of light and color put on for the Christmas season in Truro will no doubt attract people even from Digby. We've seen it ourselves; streamers with bells strung across the entrance streets and in the shopping areas, trees and Santas prominent in store windows and public places. Others from Digby have passed through Truro and have seen the glow and have told their friends. Publicity through newspapers and other news media has spread the word that Truro is ablaze with Christmas tinsel and bells. We do not expect that many people from Digby are going to take the time or spend the money for gas to drive to Truro to see the lavish adornment, but believe it or not, we have heard some people mention it.

And where do Digby merchants fit into such a scheme? Oh, on a smaller scale, no doubt, but they fit in none-the-less. Simply, light up early, make it known that you are ready for Christmas business, announce store hours early. You probably won't attract the Truro people to Digby but there is a great potential in and around Digby providing they do not go some other direction first. Remember, people have been educated to shop early. Give them a chance to shop in Digby.

And to inject a note on behalf of the Digby merchants — we happened to be in Halifax over last weekend and did some window shopping. To be truthful, Barrington Street had little resemblance to Christmas but definitely did Bayers Road Shopping Centre, Halifax Shopping Centre and Simpson's. We must confess there was much more variety on display but when you examined price tags you were glad there was a Digby where you could do more than window shop.

Oh, getting back to the Truro Christmas array. The idea was spearheaded and assisted by the Truro Board of Trade. Would be interesting to know how many "front" street merchants regularly attend the Truro Board of Trade. Percentage wise they might not be any greater than Digby, but we wonder. Although Digby Board of Trade has had a good 1962 record we can't credit attendance to down-town merchants who stand to benefit most by its activities. How about getting on the Digby Board of Trade band-wagon and have a light-up for Christmas 1963, if a nuclear blast doesn't get us?

Letters To Editor — Expression Of Opinions

Like all newspaper, The Digby Courier publishes communications or letters to the editor, when we receive them. They are expressions of the opinions our readers hold upon matters of public interest.

Often conditions arise in every community that make certain phases of community welfare appear unsatisfactory. They can often be rectified simply by voicing a complaint in the local newspaper. Such action arouses interest, creates arguments, and sometimes rights the real or imaginary wrongs.

The Digby Courier has always held to the policy that the full name of the author should be published along with his letter. If a man has an opinion he should be willing to back it with his name. However, many people will not have a letter published over their signature and we do allow pen names provided the author's real name is known to the editor.

The letters-to-the-editor column should be the editorial comment of the subscribers. It allows everyone an effective voice in the affairs of the community. Thus, if you have something constructive to say on a public matter or something you want the community to know about, write a letter to the editor. If it is not libelous and doesn't offend good taste, it will be published.

Mrs. A. Allen,

Nov. 22, 1962.

Editor, Digby Courier,
Dear Mrs. Wallis:

I am taking this opportunity to wish you all at home in Digby, N. S., a Very Merry Xmas and a Very Happy New Year.

I sent my mother, Mrs. Clyde Robar, Carleton Street, Digby, a message tape quite some time ago and up to now she has been unable to hear it.

I wonder, do you happen to know of anyone who has a tape recorder and who would be so kind as to play the tape over for my parents to hear. I know it would mean so much to them, now that Xmas is so near.

I do hope I am not putting anyone to any great bother, but it would mean so much to me for my parents to be able to hear our voices at a time of year when families would all love to be together.

Thanking you,
Sincerely,
Mrs. Eleanor Allen.

Letter to the Editor

Editor,
Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.
Dear Editor:

Now that the month of November has arrived we notice that looking out over the Bay of Fundy that the sun sets somewhat farther to the north than the previous summer months. As I gazed across from up on the hills the other fine afternoon it seemed that the blue land on the other side, the friendly New Brunswick shore, had a different shade of blue. It was rather grey and drab inland too. The trees had turned their summer coat of green to red and finally freed themselves of leaves. The flowers have also given their all for this season.

I was just thinking what a good time of year to give bouquets when they should be most appreciated. But how or who to? There just must be someone. Yes, what about our home town Digby Courier which does such a fine job, regardless of season? The little kind words are always present and can be detected even by me. Whether it be for the young or the old, the poor fellow who got hurt, the man called Honest John. It will be found there somewhere. Yes, I have to print the court news which sometimes is bad, and the names of the guilty ones. If you neglected to do so the phone would be busy. But about the bouquets. We just cannot walk up to a person and tell them, "I like you" or "I like your work very much." It seems so personal. But yes, one can from behind a pen; a little sneaky perhaps.

I get out of the Courier the good that is meant for me and all the rest of the readers, which is plenty. We could go on and on with more sincere words. So let's pay on those due subscriptions to the Digby Courier and the good news will come in automatically to us. I would like this opportunity to congratulate you and your staff on a fine job well done. May only the best fall within your grasp in the days and years to come.

Sincerely,
From Behind The Pen.
G. H.

HOME AND SCHOOL AT WEYMOUTH

The Home and School of the Weymouth Consolidated School met on November 13th, reports by those who attended the County Council held in Smith's Cove were given.

Mrs. Frankland, convener for Adult Education, requested names of those interested in taking a course. There must be eight to make a class. Some are interested in classes in English and Sewing.

There is to be a sing song at Weymouth Falls on November 21st.

The president, Mr. Gifford Lewis asked all the teachers to prepare entries for the music festival in the spring. Mr. Gordon Campbell, program director, introduced Mrs. Stockdale who gave an interesting talk on the school library and spoke of the necessity of outside reading. Parents finding their children reading books from the library could rest assured that it was good reading and all part of their education, she said. Pupils are helped by their teachers to choose an interesting book. Two books are allowed at a time.

Mr. C. Sabine gave an informative talk on a Driving Education course he has taken and which qualifies him to teach this course. It is given in some of the schools in Canada for the upper grades. It promotes good driving habits, safety on the highways, care of the car. 20 to 25 pupils are in a class. Each pupil has 30 hours of class work, six hours driving a car, twelve hours in the back seat. He spoke of the excellent record the pupils have that have taken the course in Canada. A committee was elected to look into the requirements for a class. The committee consists of Mr. C. Sabine, Mrs. C. Blynn and Mr. Gifford Lewis. The next meeting will be in February. Coffee and doughnuts were served by Mrs. Gordon Prime and her committee.

of ours not to accept letters of this sort. Your name must be on the letter but not necessarily printed in the newspaper. We make an exception here, I guess, because the Courier is getting so many nice bouquets. Thank you "From Behind The Pen."

Waterfront Retaining Wall Town Concern

Councillor Bruce Baxter, in giving his streets committee report at the regular session of the Town Council on Monday night said that the retaining wall along the waterfront to the bandstand is a source of worry in every storm and actually should be reinforced with a cement wall. It was suggested that a sinking fund for a retaining wall should be opened.

At present, it was learned from Baxter's report, that work is being done in repairing the present wall under the Winter Works Program. Six extra men have been employed by the town on the wall project, thus relieving the unemployment situation to some degree. About 50,000 feet of timber is presently being used in the reinforcement. Mr. Baxter remarked that waterfront towns are at a disadvantage in comparison with the Valley towns in regard to retaining walls which are often responsible for higher taxes in waterfront towns.

It was noted that all Winter Works projects for the town have been approved. They include the work now in progress on the abutment, further breastwork on the waterfront and on the Shore Road, continuation of work at the park on the reservoir hill, reconstruction of road to the Lily Lake water supply and repairs to the storage building of the Town Hall property.

A request was made to have mercury-arc lamps placed along Queen St. Councillor Baxter felt that before any commitments were made a survey of the town in respect to lighting should be made. He especially mentioned the poor lighting around the Racquet area. It was brought to the attention of council that lights can only be installed as the money is available and that there is a system to their installation. It was felt that it would be necessary to have James Ayer, of the Digby County Power Company, explain procedures to the council.

It was remarked by council that the paving on the streets absorbs the light and makes seeing at night difficult. Many complimentary remarks were heard on the lighting as already installed.

Water pipes on the wharf were to be checked before winter freezing sets in. It was felt by Councillor Baxter that some form of rotation should be worked out for clearing snow from the streets in winter.

Baptists Plan Christmas Programs

Members of the Brotherhood Group of the Baptist Church of Digby held a supper meeting in the church hall on Saturday evening. Donald Brown, president of the group, presided at the meeting. The supper, which included a delicious fish chowder, was prepared by Burton Ellis and Russell Atkinson. Interesting travelogue moving pictures were shown by Mr. Brown. It is proposed to hold the next meeting in January with the expectation that the Provincial Scout Commissioner may be present as the guest speaker.

Members of the CGIT of the Baptist Church have been busy preparing for their annual Vesper Service to be held next Sunday evening. It is expected that there will be a large attendance at this usually fine service conducted by the girls.

Members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship of the Hill Grove Baptist Church spent most of their evening on Tuesday wrapping Christmas parcels for needy children. Many gifts were brought in for this purpose. Last year a similar service was performed by the young people and the gifts were greatly appreciated by the recipients. The young people are planning to hold their own Christmas service and exchange of gifts on December 18th.

Dr. and Mrs. J. R. McCleave were visitors this week in Montreal.

Incinerator Needed

The collection of the town dump is a source of concern at the town council on Monday night. The clerk was asked to make arrangements for the disposal of garbage. The council decided to purchase a new incinerator to dispose of the garbage. The council also decided to purchase a new truck to haul the garbage to the dump.

Report on the elimination of the town dump was made by the town clerk. The council decided to purchase a new incinerator to dispose of the garbage. The council also decided to purchase a new truck to haul the garbage to the dump.

A letter was read from the Department of Health in the town that a new health board consisting of both town and county members should be formed. The council decided to purchase a new incinerator to dispose of the garbage. The council also decided to purchase a new truck to haul the garbage to the dump.

The report of the police was given by the chairman of the police committee, Earl Morell. Twelve complaints had been filed during the month, six of which required investigation. Two cases required court action, one case under the liquor control act and one motor vehicle. Twenty-eight dollars was collected in fines.

A summary of police activities for the year was given in which it was found that 61 cases had been heard, 10 under the motor vehicle act, 10 criminal code, 4 Nova Scotia liquor act. Three boys were sent to Shelburne and 3 persons to Dorchester penitentiary. Fines collected amounted to $1,568.

The mayor's report for the year was suggested to be published in the local press.

Permit was given to Landers Ltd. to erect two houses on the South side of Mount St. between King St. and 3rd Avenue, formerly the Lynch property.

Permission was granted to H. M. Warne to hold a tag day for the hockey team on December 14 and 15.

Lawrence Anderson was granted permission to operate a taxi. Two other license requests were referred to the license committee headed by Councillor Leigh Jayne for consideration. One was from Herman Gray, Barton, to sell Watkins' products and the other from Dionne Bros. Bakery, Upper West Pubnico, to sell bakery goods from house to house. During the discussion on products sold from door-to-door it was pointed out that products of farm, sea and forests are exempt from license fee.

Mr. Jayne also reported on the Civil Defence or Emergency Measures organization for the town. He mentioned the vast improvement in the organization, the courses which have been passed by members and the preparation being made for teaching of courses during the winter. One emphasis now since the report of the possible fallout in Yarmouth, is the fact that Digby might not necessarily be a reception area but might have to be evacuated. Previously, Digby had been considered only from the reception standpoint. Plans are now being considered from both angles.

In placing the relief accounts before the council, Councillor Russell Atkinson drew to the attention of council that these accounts were gradually getting larger and that the amounts had risen considerably since 1961.

Firemen's salaries totalling $1,629.97 were placed before the meeting. Nine hundred and sixty-four dollars and seventy-nine cents were in cash payments.

A letter was read regarding consideration of a municipal tax agreement of fixed graduated assessment for prospective industry to be financed by Industrial Estates. The town clerk, E. Scott Eaton, reported

Seek Liquor Plebiscite

On request of the Digby Curling Club the Digby Town Council on Monday night approved the holding of a liquor plebiscite for the town of Digby and will proceed to make representation to the Nova Scotia Liquor Control Board that such be held under the Liquor Control Act.

The vote to approve a plebiscite was unanimous. It was noted in discussion that while the vote of approval of a plebiscite was unanimous, this did not mean that the council was necessarily unanimously in favor of licensing establishments for the sale of liquor in the town. Each would use his or her individual vote in a plebiscite as conscience dictated, the same as every other citizen of the town. Without the council's approval of a plebiscite it would have been necessary to obtain a petition signed by twenty percent of the citizens to have a plebiscite under the Liquor Control Board.

Christmas Free Parking

At the regular meeting of the Digby Town Council on Monday night it was decided to again cap the Digby parking meters from December 15 to the end of Boxing Day. This practice, which has been carried out for several years, had been designed to make shopping in Digby more convenient for the public by not being burdened with anxiety of meters and to foster good-will and cheer at Christmas time.

At the same meeting December 26 was declared Boxing Day to be observed as a holiday in Digby.

Meet In Digby

Preachers and delegates of the Reformed Baptist Church are expected to arrive in Digby on Sunday when the Quarterly meeting of Western Nova Scotia Reformed Baptists will meet in Digby at the church on Victoria Street.

At ten o'clock in the morning a Love Feast will be held and at eleven o'clock the morning service. In the afternoon at 2:30 a preaching service will be held and at seven in the evening the final service for the day will be conducted.

Mark 50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hazelton, Neck Road, Digby, celebrated their 50th anniversary on Tuesday by attending the Christmas Turkey Supper of Grace United Church as has been their custom and then at a small family gathering at the home of their son, Reginald, in Digby. Also attending the party besides Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Hazelton and family were their daughter, Edith, Mrs. W. E. Gidney, Culloden and Mr. Hazelton's sister, Mrs. Janet Everett. Also attending were Mr. Hazelton's nephew, Buddy Barr and Mrs. Barr and son.

The bride of 50 years ago was the former Florence Cossaboom, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. James W. Cossaboom, Gulliver's Cove. Mr. Hazelton was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Hazelton, Digby. They were married at the bride's home by the Baptist minister, Rev. Mr. Irvine.

STRAWBERRIES IN DECEMBER

Mrs. George Winchester of Smith's Cove, picked partly ripe strawberries on December 4. Blossoms were also seen on the strawberry vines.

ed that federal authorities had been in town regarding reassessment of Dominion Government property such as the Post Office, Mounted Police Headquarters and the wharf. A letter was also read regarding model sub-division regulations.

A letter from the Department of Municipal Affairs advised that the firearms by-law was approved.

Resolutions from Sydney regarding change in taxation and one from Kentville regarding changes in traffic violations were referred to committees or to be dealt with later.

Camille Deveau Heads Federation

Twenty-nine persons were present at the annual meeting of the Digby County Federation of Agriculture held at the agricultural building in Conway on Thursday.

The nominating committee, consisting of Lloyd MacNeil, Camille Deveau and Lloyd Jefferson, brought in the following report which was unanimously accepted: president, Camille Deveau, of Meteghan; vice-president, Edmond Read, Bear River; sec'y-treas., Lloyd MacNeil, of Marshalltown.

Directors are: Arthur Gates, Acaciaville; Arthur MacKay, Conway; Roger Freeman, Lansdowne; Chipman Chisholm, Bear River; Burtis Freeman, Lansdowne; Leonard Boudreau, Concession; Jean LeBlanc, Concession; Ambroise Lombard, Concession; Charles Dugas, St. Martin and John Saulnier, of Saulnierville.

Resolutions brought in by Edmond Read, Arthur Gates and John LeBlanc were:

1. Hay situation in the county; 2. Taxation - try to have $2,000 exemption on machinery; 3. Permanent feed freight assistance; 4. The question of a vet for the Municipality of Clare.

Mr. Maberly, provincial director for the western part of Nova Scotia was introduced as guest speaker by the president. Mr. Maberly is a farmer from Yarmouth, has been president of the Yarmouth Federation for the last four years and is a well informed representative from the farmers. Mr. Maberly gave a good account of what the Federation is supposed to do and what it has done in the past. Among the comments made by Mr. Maberly are that it takes a lot of organization to make a good Federation. The Federation has to work with all other organizations like the Milk Producers Association, the Sheep, Hog and Beef Associations and many others. The Federation has been active in the promotion of hogs, beef and sheep. Mention was made of the fact that the government of Nova Scotia wants to meet with the farmers of the province to study a program of agricultural expansion based on what the farmers are able and willing to do. The question of co-operatives was outlined and means of keeping co-operatives on a sound basis should always be kept in mind.

Pierre Bellevue, of the St. F. X. Extension Department, gave some interesting information on credit unions and co-operative stores and the necessity of working together for worthwhile success.

William Lefort, the agricultural representative for Digby County, mentioned the two important meetings held for farmers. They are: one in Truro on December 11th, when the farmers meet the members of the government, and one on the 17th for the small fruit and vegetable growers to form an organization. Will Need All The Sea Can Produce

C. B. MacDonald and C. B. Boudreau, fish inspectors, Digby, discussed the current needs of fish at the annual meeting of the Digby County Federation of Agriculture held at the agricultural building in Conway on Thursday.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Mr. E. F. Homan, assistant director of the Department of Fisheries and Marine Services.

Noting that the world's present population was expected to increase to more than five billions by the year 2000, Mr. Homan raised the question of how it was possible to feed those billions when only one third of the world's population today get enough to eat.

"For many reasons the food cannot be expected to produce much more food than it is doing now. The sea remains our only large source of additional food," he said.

In order to assure a sufficient supply of fish in the future, the world's catch of fish would have to be greatly increased. Mr. Homan said that would require tremendous advances in fisheries technology in every possible direction. It would include development of more efficient vessels, gear, location of new stocks of fish, better conservation methods, improved methods of handling, processing, preserving and transporting as well as better packing and marketing techniques.

Regarding possibilities in research and development in the fish industry Mr. Homan said there were intriguing "The sea is the imagination's playground. I don't think we are engaging in wishful thinking. We had better not be because it will not be too long before man must harvest all that the sea can produce - or be obliged to colonize another planet."

Report Of The Mayor For 1962

I trust that many of our citizens will be interested in this report, which we have decided to have published for the year 1962, and that you will concur with me that your Council has endeavored at all times to further the interest of all Digby citizens to the best of our ability.

The past year has been a rather routine one for your council to face up to, but many projects, started in 1961, and others begun in 1962 have been completed to our complete satisfaction, and I hope with your approval as well.

We completed, during the fiscal year 1962, the following projects: (not in order of importance):

An intensive winter works program, in an effort to transfer a portion of out-right relief money to the employing of local labor for public improvement; and to clean up our North and South Commons land, with a long range view to parkland. We have applied for a still larger program for the winter of 1962-63.

We have completed work necessary for upkeep and renovating of our Town Hall. This project was in our budget.

Upkeep of our retaining wall from Salvation Army Hall to Band Stand; also the retaining wall below the Pines Hotel. This is a continuing problem and is budgeted for each year.

Routine work on Sewers and Waterworks has stepped up this year because of our paving program.

A new truck replacement for our Streets and Public Works Department was necessary this year. This expense was unexpected and was not in our budget.

Our modified paving program has been completed. The $75,000 given us by you, the ratepayers, on June 21 for approximately four miles of paving has, much to our satisfaction, stretched to nearly 5½ miles. We regret the necessity of our decision earlier this year to hold the paving debentures to $75,000. Previous commitments and imperative demands of the coming year made it necessary. We felt, however, a start on the paving of the streets of Digby was of paramount importance to the economic well-being of

Well Known Doctor Passes

Dr. Wilton H. Robbins, a prominent retired New Glasgow physician and surgeon, veteran of the First World War and a former member of the New Glasgow Town Council, died at Wolfville, Sunday morning following a long illness.

Born at Rossway, Digby County, 90 years ago, he was a son of James and Clarissa (Thompson) Robbins. After completing his schooling at Rossway and Digby Academy, he graduated from the Provincial Normal College, Truro and later entered Dalhousie University where he graduated in medicine. Dr. Robbins took post graduate work in London, Glasgow and Edinburgh. In 1911 he received the F.R.C.S. from the Royal College of Edinburgh. He enlisted in the Canadian Army and served with the Canadian forces and with the British forces in England and on the continent during the First World War, with the rank of Captain. Dr. Robbins returned to New Glasgow and practised as a physician and surgeon.

He was an elder of the Westminster Presbyterian church until his death. He served three terms on the New Glasgow Town Council, was a member of Norton Lodge, I.O.O.F., and was a member of the Scotia Club, Bluebonnet Curling Club and of the Abercrombie Golf Club.

He is survived by his wife, the former Margaret Clark and one brother of Rossway. Seven brothers predeceased him as well as two sons in infancy.

Funeral service will be held from the H. C. Lindsay Funeral Home, Wolfville, on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock. Rev. Austin MacPherson will officiate. The body will be taken to the New Glasgow Westminster Presbyterian church for services on Wednesday afternoon at 2 p.m. Rev. Gordon J. MacWille will conduct the service there.

Interment will be in the family lot at Fox Brook, Pictou County.

Mrs. Raymond Hostess

Mrs. Cecil Raymond, Smith's Cove, was hostess at an afternoon tea held at her home on Saturday when approximately $70.00 was raised by women of Smith's Cove United Church. Late fall flowers adorned the living room and added another touch to the splendor of scenery as seen through the picture windows from the Raymond home near the shore.

Pouring at the tea were Mrs. J. J. Wallis, Mrs. Madge Murray and Mrs. Donald Logan. Mrs. Fred Fullerton had charge of the fancy work and candy table.

Guests were there from Smith's Cove, Digby, Deep Brook, Clementsport and Bear River.

Christmas Cards 1908-09

Mrs. Guy Morehouse, Windsor, formerly of Digby brought to the Courier Christmas cards of the 1908 and 1909 years. Bells and holly and Joyous Christmaside inscriptions were similar to the 1962 variety. Absent were poinsettias but in their place were such flowers as apple blossoms and summer flowers.

the town. We have a complete survey of the remaining streets on file to be dealt with by a future council.

Our Police Department, under the capable direction of our chief, Mr. Webster Dunn, and our Constable, Mr. Donald Jayne, has performed its duties during the year 1962 in its usual quiet and efficient manner. A new signal light was installed at the corner of Carleton and King streets. Plans for additional painted crosswalks and safety signs are waiting for implementation. The year has been a busy one for the department.

I am very pleased to note from our minutes of 1962 that permits to build were issued to eight applicants. Total estimated value of this construction is $136,000 - an indication of our growth. (Please turn to page 7)

About This and That People We Can Do Without

Drivers who tailgate at any speed but particularly at 60 mph on a highway refuse to signal before they turn signal turn after they've started to drive astraddle the white line take up both lanes while waiting a chance to turn park their delivery trucks in the travelled portion of the street even though there's an empty parking space at the curb unload cases of drinks from trucks smack in the middle of traffic turn left from a right-hand lane or right from a left-hand lane get out of their cars on the traffic side then glare daggers at you when you sound your horn to let them know you almost killed them edge their cars gradually into an intersection while awaiting the red to turn green screech their tires on a take-off or turn maybe they don't care that it takes 75 cents worth of rubber off with every screech refuse to fasten the seat belts in my car refuse to install seat belts in their car occupy two parking spaces block a used laneway when they park drive with parking lights on when lights are called for the law requires headlights, so does common sense.

Cyclists who ride two on a bicycle ride two abreast in traffic ride the wrong way on a one-way street sass at you when you sound your horn to let them know you're there so they won't suddenly turn into your path ride a bike without lights at night demand car-size space in rush-hour traffic refuse to signal turns stunt weave through traffic refuse to stop at intersection hitch rides on automobiles and trucks do not obey school patrols.

Pedestrians who stroll across in front of cars waiting to move jay-walk stand several feet out on the street while awaiting the "Go" signal start to cross an intersection on the amber signal refuse to obey "Don't Walk" lights defy death by walking on the travelled portion of a highway when there's plenty of safer room on the shoulder walk along the right-hand side of the highway cannot be seen at night talk to a policeman when he's directing traffic forget that a car's brakes just might not work this time.

Thin Plastic Still Kills

During the fall and winter months, there is increased danger of small children suffocating from thin plastic film. Clothing is brought out of storage wrapped in the filmy fabric. Children spend more time indoors, and therefore have more chance of finding the airtight bags and playing with them.

The Nova Scotia Federation of Home & School Associations warns parents that even during the warmer months this year, more infants suffocated from plastic film than in the two previous years. Despite frequent warnings by this and other safety organizations, apparently adults are forgetting, and becoming careless.

The responsibility for protecting a baby from plastic film plainly lies with the parent. The plastic itself only leads to mishap when it is misused by an adult. Every child depends in early years on his parents for safety, and plastic ranks with poisons and matches as a potential hazard from which he must be protected.

Again parents are reminded that thin plastic film, such as that used by dry-cleaning and laundry firms, is completely airtight. Because it is so thin it attracts static electricity and the slightest inward breath of a sleeping child can draw the fabric over his face.

It must surely be obvious, then, that re-using plastic bags as "protectors" for crib mattresses, carriages, cushions or furniture, is about as safe as leaving loaded revolvers all over the house.

Let us digest these facts here and now, and make it a permanent habit to knot and discard every plastic bag that comes into the house, before it leads to trouble.

Local Correspondents

Serve Community

Without its district correspondents a weekly newspaper would contain little news. Correspondents are essential to the gathering of news of the district.

This is particularly true in a district such as The Digby Courier serves. We try to record the happenings from as many villages as possible and it is impossible for our small staff to attempt to cover them all from one office. Local men and women, living in those communities, knowing their residents, are the ones who can and do gather our district news.

These correspondents are performing a public service to their communities. They chronicle the doings of its people and report the meetings of community organizations. A good district correspondent is a valuable aid in the building of a live, definite community.

Without the aid of our district correspondents it would be impossible for this paper to carry all the news it does from the various communities of Digby County.

They Won't Starve Quietly

It could have been a church meeting. It sounded so much like it. It sounded as though a minister or priest were on the pulpit pleading for the congregation to practice Christian Stewardship and share those things with which God has so generously blessed them. But it wasn't. It was the Kiwanis Club of Digby celebrating Farm-City week by a dinner at Hotel Champlain. The speaker was Frank Scammell, Truro, giving the farmers and "towners" some pointers on better farming in the area. The farmers, though few in numbers at the dinner, we regret to say, took their ideas home and definitely are wiser than before. The "towners", we learned, can be of great service to the farmers, and incidentally to the economy of the whole area, by buying and insisting on buying home grown products.

But, that is beside the point for now. The part of Mr. Scammell's address with which we wanted to deal at this time was his genuine concern for the hungry in the world. As we said, it sounded at times something like a sermon from the pulpit or a study in a Woman's Missionary Society as he told of the over population of areas in Eastern countries, of the hunger, want and discontent. He told of the out-moded, inferior techniques of farming and machinery in some of the Eastern and over-populated areas. He showed a genuine concern for the "have-not" countries of the world and it would seem that one could detect a more than ordinary concern when he told of a Japanese friend's attitude when he remarked, "The Japanese people won't starve quietly." In fact, as readers, we might all well consider the remark of the Japanese and apply it to many of the other peoples of the world. Usually, people do not starve "quietly" or at least they attach themselves to those who attempt to make life easier for them.

As the speaker said, "no one has come up with a solution of how to use excessive food surpluses in one country to feed the hungry in another country." It all appears easy to some but problems not appearing on the surface arise and reasoning must also be used in governing action. In the meantime, and particularly at such a season as Christmas time, each person, individually, can do a small share in helping to alleviate the hunger or bring happiness to the less fortunate of the world. There are child-care agencies where a child can be "adopted" for support; there are all sorts of funds in church and welfare organizations which eventually are put to the purpose of relieving hunger, pain or ignorance near home or far away. There are even projects specially planned to help people in other countries to produce more food for themselves. Christmas is not only a time of buying for one's own, it is more so a time of sharing with those who need both materially and emotionally. Remember, people are not likely to be in want or starve "quietly" and there are many and varied indirect ways in which people show their disquietness.

Letter to the Editor

Digby, N. S.
Nov. 26, 1962.

Editor,
The Digby Courier.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

The Canadian Bible Society is one of twenty-three National Bible Societies of the world, and it's November, 1962, quarterly newsletter contained the following statement:

"Universal Bible Sunday, which falls this year on Dec. 9, is a reminder of the place the Bible has played in shaping our whole way of life and of the heritage we have in the English Bible. Like so many blessings we take it for granted and forget that those who bequeathed it to us suffered persecution and in some cases martyrdom."

To the above, I would very much like to add the following statements at this particular time. The local branch of the Canadian Bible Society is now making its annual canvass in the Digby town area, and I do not believe there is any better way of putting Christ into Christmas than by helping the Bible Society by giving of our interest, time and substance to its cause.

Further to this, I wish to add some statements which I believe to be very timely, and true. If no Christian Bible exists, there would be no Christmas. The Bible bears witness to Jesus Christ and is personal for all people. Church people must press forward and exploits Christian gains, through greater and greater distribution of the Holy Scriptures, until final victory.

The most valuable thing in the world is the Christian Bible. I submit that what the world needs most today is more Bible reading, students of the church. Let us not starve our souls for want of this spiritual food. No other book can take the place of the

No "Bounty" This Winter For N. S.

The Nova Scotia built replica of the Bounty will not return to the province, at least not this winter. The crew of twenty Nova Scotians will return while the boat on which they served for over two years will tie up in Long Island Sound, New York.

The decision to have the Bounty remain in the United States came Friday morning after officials of M.G.M., who own the boat, met with the Bounty's master, Captain E. G. Coggins. The ship has been scheduled to arrive in Halifax about the end of the month.

Captain Coggins, Dartmouth, formerly of Weymouth, held his first command at the age of 21. Through a chain of circumstances, including deaths of the captain and mate of the Nova Scotia schooner "Daniel Getson", Coggins became the mate and captain on the same journey from Weymouth to Martinique via eastern U. S. ports.

Captain Coggins comes from a sea going family, as his father, G. L. Coggins was also a captain. Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Coggins reside in Weymouth.

Christian Bible; it is now written in up to date language. No matter how righteous or unrighteous any person may be, that person is always a better person when he or she is a true Bible reader. Prayerful, careful, and faithful reading of the Bible is the greatest means of obtaining the best life possible.

The Christian Bible, alone is the source of all we know about Christ and his people. No other book can take its place in the life of the church. Donald M. Mathers in his book, "The Word and The Way" points out that through the Bible we can encounter the Holy Spirit of God, through trust and obedience, because the Bible bears witness to Jesus Christ who is the way to God. I believe that sufficient knowledge of God's Word is the key for the solution of all our problems.

Vincent Snow,
Bible Society Agent.

YARMOUTH

Why don't the wheels spin?

The Volkswagen engine is in the rear with its weight directly above the drive wheels. That's why the Volkswagen keeps moving on any surface. Snow. Ice. Mud. Sand. The underside of the VW is completely flat. Like a toboggan, it hangs down to hold you back in deep snow. (You can come to a drift without coming to a stop.) The wires and rods, that are usually exposed, are inside where salt and water can't get at them. (The only thing you'll find under a Volkswagen is paint. Four coats of it.)

There's another, big reason why a Volkswagen thrives on winter. The cooling system can't freeze.

Ever.

There is no water in the VW because the engine is cooled with air. That means no radiator. No hoses. No water pump. No anti-freeze. No change-over with every new season. (If you feel left out of things you can change the oil. But that's all.)

Want to make winter driving easier? See your Volkswagen dealer. He's got the car that made spinning wheels old-fashioned.

HEADS FEDERATION

tion of their own so they can work together as a group.

The president, Butts Freeman, in his address, thanked the members who were present. He also paid tribute to past president, Mrs. Mary Frances Comeau, who passed away during the year in Saint-Nierville. He stressed the necessity for the farmers to work together through the Federation if they want to be able to compete with others and still be able to make a living on the farm.

The report from the provincial delegates to Truro was read by William LeFort as the Agricultural Societies report was read by Camille Desautels. Some of the work during the year consisted of keeping up the building now known as the Maple Leaf Agricultural building, sponsoring H.I. Club work, and encouraging farmers to buy lime and send their cattle to the Co-operative Abattoir. The society has a lime spreader, used by members and others who want a load of it to spread lime. The society has loaned a piece of land where a livestock pen has been built by the Co-operative.

Lloyd MacNeil, who read the Marshland report, mentioned that when the work of dyking the marsh started, seventy-four owners were listed. After a few years it is now owned by thirty-four. It was supposed to be used at first as a community pasture, probably developed under the ARPA program, but now there are enough owners interested who want to keep their shares of their own private use.

The abattoir report was read by William LeFort and also the report from the Veterinary Assistance Board was given by Mr. LeFort. In reporting for the abattoir Mr. LeFort said there are two shipping clubs in the county, one in Clare and one in Digby, shipping through the Conway Co-operative. He said it is understood that animals 275 to 350 lbs. range are not in demand. These should be kept until they are 450 lbs. and up. Farmers should feed them a little longer or sell them to farmers who have feed. Veal calves should be in the 90 to 150 lb. range. About 80% of lambs go to the abattoir when prices are the lowest. Early lambs should pay. A 35 lb. lamb does not pay. The scale is 36 to 51 lbs. Fat cows go into boners and the fat has to be taken off. Do not fatten up bulls either. Oxen are a hard merchandise of which to get rid.

The directors' report was read by Chipman Chisholm, who spoke of the short courses held last winter in Digby and Meteghan. As result of special meetings and short courses, he said, a group of farmers from the Digby-Bear River area became interested in growing small fruits and vegetables. This group supported by the Research Station of Kentville should prove to be very good and be of great value to the agricultural class of this region.

The financial statement was read by the treasurer, Mrs. Chipman Chisholm. The secretary also read a letter from Mrs. Nadine Archibald re hay, or other crops lost during the year. It was also mentioned that the farmers should fill in forms and be sent back to the provincial secretary as soon as possible.

In Memoriam

MERRITT — In loving memory of wife and mother, Mrs. Gertrude Merritt, who departed this life three years ago, December 8, 1959.

Memoiries
Memories of Mother,
Are treasured within my heart
I miss her, how I miss her,
Since the moment she did part.

In her sick bed, facing east,
She suffered for many a year;
Then the call came from up yonder,
And she left me without fear.

Often as I think of her,
Tears come, but are wiped away;
Then the ache comes in my heart
And it is there to stay.

Mother is forgotten by many,
Except as a part of the past;
But as I loved, and lost her,
Her memory will always last.
— Inserted by a loving husband Edgar and daughters, Alda and Della. 15:1p

In Memoriam

WAGNER — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Willie Wagner, who passed away December 6, 1958.

The one we loved has gone to rest

His fond true heart is still
The hands that always helped me
Now lie in death's cold chill
Unseen, unheard, he is always near

Still loved, still missed and forever dear
Some day, some time our eyes shall see
His face we love so well
Some day we'll clasp his loving hands

And never say farewell,
— Sadly missed by wife Lois, sons James and Eric, daughter-in-law Ruth and grandchildren. 15:1p

WAGNER — In loving memory of our dear father, Willie Wagner, who passed away December 6, 1958.

We lost you, Dad with a heart of gold
You were more to us than wealth untold
Without farewell you fell asleep
But left pleasant memories for us to keep
Time has not helped us to forget
But has proved only how we miss you yet
God gave us the courage to bear the blow
Of losing you, whom we loved so

Yes, we have lost, But God has gained
One of the best fathers this world contained.
— Sadly missed by son Gerald, daughter-in-law Violet, grandchildren, Billie and Kenneth. 15:1p

MIDDLETON — In fond and loving memory of a dear father, Otis B. Middleton, who departed this life December 7, 1959.

To us his name will ever be,
The key that unlocks memory.
Of a dear Dad gone but cherished

Yet, a beloved face we will never forget — Ever remembered by his daughter, Mrs. Eva Baxter, Digby and son, Roy of Salem, Mass. 15:1c OUTHOUSE — In loving memory of our dear mother, Annie E. Outhouse, who passed away December 6, 1952.

Our eyes shed many a tear;
God knows how much we miss you,
As it ends ten lonely years.

— Always remembered by her family, Elsie, Alvah, Genevieve, Curtis, Edwin, Lloyd, Violet and Hugh. 15:1c

MAYOR'S REPORT

Our Electric Power Commission under the capable management of Mr. James Ayer, Engineer, has continued the policy of replacing our old-fashioned lights with the new mercury lamps. Permission was granted early in the year to transfer the out-of-date wire and poles from the water side of Water Street to the west side. This change was made necessary because of technical difficulties in replacing the maze of wiring with new wire without depriving the business houses of power. Also the system of connections built up over the years had become outmoded and dangerous. The expense of these considerable changes is, of course, paid out of electric rates. We thank Mr. Ayer for his efforts to modernize our system. More changes will be made as money is available.

Our Civil Defence Coordinator, Mr. Thomas Cleveland, continues to work most diligently, surrounding himself with a truly interested group of citizens. Digby instructors have been created at courses held in Annapolis, Ontario, and they are at present passing on their knowledge to classes in the various phases of Civil Defence. The Digby organization is in a healthy state with lots of interest evident.

The services of Mr. Godfrey, consultant engineer for Town of Digby Water Commission, has been engaged and plans started for the construction of a larger water main across King Street to Warwick Street. The advisability of supplying a larger volume of water to the residents of our south end for fire-fighting purposes as well as household consumption, has been with us for a great many years. The problem has "snow-balled" recently because of our hospital plans as well as further building activity. The cost of this main has been estimated by our engineer at $39,500. A request to the Department of Municipal Affairs to prepare a resolution to be taken before the ratepayers in the early spring is necessary, as work should be completed during the summer of 1963.

Welcome to our town was given a delegation from Gloucester, Mass., on July 10; and to another delegation from Eastport, Maine, on June 9. Subject of the discussions was additional ferry services from those points on the New England coast and some point in Western Nova Scotia best suited to the interests of Nova Scotia as a whole. Considerable interest has been apparent on state and provincial levels, both sides of the border. It is this very important matter. Naturally we consider Digby the logical terminal in Nova Scotia for such a ferry.

Some twenty-odd addresses of greeting and welcome were given at functions during the year by your Mayor, and Deputy Mayor, Helen Anthony. I am very happy at this time to have the opportunity and privilege of conveying my personal thanks to the following individuals and organizations who have made my first year in office relatively simple and certainly a most pleasant duty. Again my wholehearted appreciation goes to the following:

(1) All town employees for their full co-operation during the year — when called upon to perform extra work after hours they did so without hesitation — many thanks.

(2) Our continued appreciation of the efforts of our Fire Chief, George Humphrey, and his very able group of fire fighters. We have difficulty in conveying adequately our high opinion of this civic minded group of men.

(3) To our Civil Defence group under the capable guidance of Mr. Thomas Cleveland, co-ordinator, and Mr. Reginald Turnbull, Deputy Co-ordinator.

(4) To Mrs. J. M. Wallis, president of the Digby Board of Trade, along with her entire executive for their enthusiastic efforts to make Digby a more progressive town.

(5) To the Canadian Legion for their public-spirited attitude toward all good and worthy projects on so many occasions during the year.

(6) Certainly to the en-

U.S. Reads Of Valley Apples

An article in the October 19 edition of the "New York Times" states that Nova Scotia's apple production is rising after a post-war slump. The story, dated in Halifax, says that Annapolis Valley orchards have been revitalized by long-term tree renewal. At the same time, there has been notable growth in specialized general farming in the area. It continues: "The 1962 apple crop will be down about 20% from last season's bumper output of 2,400,000 bushels. Good years are usually followed by moderate harvests the next year. But this season's crop is of better quality than fruit picked in 1961, despite a wet summer."

"Successful marketing of the Nova Scotia apple crop depends in large measure on United Kingdom demand, and from reliable reports the British market has never looked better."

"In general, the apple industry here is doing well and other segments of the province's farm economy show continuing improvement. Fewer farmers operate than in years gone by but they are efficient and exploit a larger acreage. Tobacco shows promise. It has been grown experimentally in the valley by federal scientists for more than a decade and is expected to develop into a valuable crop."

A clipping of this article from the Times was sent to The Digby Courier by Karl S. Nash and Elizabeth Nash, editors, "The Ridgefield Press", Ridgefield, Connecticut.

Wood's useful acoustical properties please the ear, and are enhanced by its natural beauty, so pleasing to the eye. Other related advantages of wood are its availability in a great variety of shapes and sizes, including sheet material, and its ease of fabrication for a number of acoustical constructions. It is not surprising that many of the world's finest concert halls, opera houses and auditoria use wood both structurally and for interior finish.

Nova Scotia's first temperance lodges were formed in 1864 at Economy.

gotic and progressive Lions Club of Digby, that has indicated in great measure the truly wonderful word "service". These men have carried through many projects for the betterment of our town. Many thanks to all Lions.

(7) To the Kiwanis Club of Digby who have fostered many progressive enterprises throughout the years for the betterment of our people.

(8) To our Yacht Club, Curling Club and other sports clubs of Digby for their wonderful inter-town and district public relations work. We thank them all.

(9) I would indeed be remiss if I didn't commend the efforts of citizens who have served on our Recreation Commission throughout the years; and to the business firms which have been so patient and generous in their donations. The Forum is a very expensive, as well as necessary part of our lives.

We thank the press for all services to our town organizations and for its unbiased treatment of the news.

In conclusion, may I say that I am happy to have one more year in which to serve you, and to associate myself with the truly dedicated group of people whom you have on your Council. Mrs. Helen Anthony, Deputy Mayor; Mr. Bruce Baxter and Mr. Earl Morrell (who have been re-elected by acclamation to serve another two year term); Mr. Russell Atkinson; Mr. Reginald Turnbull; Deputy Co-ordinator. This lady and these gentlemen have served you well and deserve your commendation.

Finally on behalf of the entire Council, I pledge our continued devotion to your interest, and take this opportunity of wishing every citizen in this beautiful town a happy and prosperous 1963.

Vernon L. Bent,
Mayor of Digby.

No Off-shore Scallopers Out Of Digby

Howard Nickerson, secretary-treasurer of the New Bedford Fishermen's Union, charged last week that "Canadians are a bigger threat to the New England fishing industry than the Russians". He was complaining about the inroads the Canadians were making in the scallop industry on George's Banks.

"The Canadian fleet has mushroomed during the past several years. The grounds are just as close to Halifax and Digby as they are to New Bedford and Boston", he said. Only five years ago the New England scallop fleet had the whole scallop deal to itself, or nearly so, the fishermen's union stated. He adds, "This year the Canadian fleet is producing almost as many scallops and we are its selling almost all of them on this side of the border."

This complaint provoked a wry smile from a senior fishery official in Halifax. He said: "From the American point of view what Mr. Nickerson says is reasonably true. Canadians have only been fishing for scallops on George's Banks for the past five or six years. Our fleet has grown rapidly and what's more it's more efficient than the American. But after all, George's Banks is international waters and quite as close to Nova Scotia as to any part of New England."

"Our vessels fishing for scallops are also more modern and larger than the American vessels. Nor are they hampered by the same restrictions that the Americans are. The Americans have some kind of regulation which says they can only catch 1,000 lbs. per crew members per trip. Off-shore fishers operate out of Lunenburg, Shelburne, Yarmouth and Meteghan. Some boats have brought in catches as big as 50,000 lbs. per trip. . . but this is exceptional. The average is from 20,000 to 25,000 lbs. a trip. In-shore scallop fishing has of course been carried on from Nova Scotia for much longer than this. The in-shore scallop fleet operates out of Digby, and consists of about forty small boats. Contrary to what Mr. Nickerson says no off-shore fishers operate from Digby or from Halifax."

"But big as the Canadian catch of scallops, it is still only half that of the American catch. Our off-shore fleet consists of over thirty modern boats, the majority of them in the 90 to 95 feet class. They carry a crew of around 18. The druggers remain at sea for up to ten days in the fall, winter and spring, but in the summer the trips are shortened to seven days. Last year the combined off-shore and in-shore fleets landed almost 9,000,000 lbs. of shucked scallops, some 7,000,000 lbs. of this came from the off-shore fleet, practically all from George's Banks."

"I suppose that Mr. Nickerson is building up to a big request to the U. S. Government to impose some kind of a quota system on the import of Canadian scallops", said the Canadian official.

Accountants Continue Education

Another in a series of continuing education seminars was sponsored in November at Dalhousie University by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of Nova Scotia. The seminar was attended by E. W. Twohig, Digby.

Under the chairmanship of E. C. Harris, B'Comm., L.L.B., L. L. M., R.I.A., C.A., the Institute conducted a study programme which consisted of nine, two hour sessions devoted to the various aspects of estate planning. In addition the participants studied and discussed a specific case with a view to formulating a useful estate plan. The case study enabled the participants to apply the principles developed during the seminar to a specific set of circumstances.

Chartered accountants recognize the service they can provide the general public in this area and gathered at Dalhousie to share experiences and to keep pace with current developments by examining the laws and principles related to planning estates, said Mr. Twohig. The results of the course was an enlargement of each chartered accountant's knowledge of the techniques he may employ to assist his clients plan their estates.

In connection with the continuing education programme, chartered accountants attended courses, in 1961, on tax techniques and practice. The next planned courses will be in management accounting.

Mr. Abbott, during his talk, explained that there were four Past Presidents of the Canadian Institute of Chartered Accountants in attendance at the dinner, a fact that pointed to the high regard in which the chartered accountants from the Atlantic Provinces are held in the national organization. The Past-Presidents in attendance were: Mr. J. W. Hudson, F.C.A., of Moncton, N. B., Dr. Harvey E. Crowell, F.C.A., of Halifax, N. S., Mr. G. E. Martin, F.C.A., of Halifax, N. S., and Mr. H. R. Digby Regional High emerged the winners of both "B"

The Digby girls played Middleton first and they had the will to win. They defeated them 15-0, 6-4 and 15-11.

The second series saw Digby playing the last years champions, Bridgetown. Digby defeated them 15-11, 10-15 and 15-6.

Digby faced Annapolis last and played well after their success against Bridgetown, beat them two games straight.
The scores were 15-11 and 15-1.

Digby played 8 games, won 6 and lost 2.

Members of the winning team were: Marilyn Patterson, Janet Hawkins, Bonnie Skillian, Carol Roberge, Dianne Raymond, Marilyn Robich-eau, Dedra Bell, and Joan

In the boys section Digby played Annapolis and defeated them in two straight games 15-12 and 15-3.

Digby then faced the chalenge of the day. They played Bridgetown, highly rated and last years champs. They defeated them 14-12, 7-11 and

Happy with their defeat of Bridgetown the boys swept

New Manager For Ravens

The Digby Ravens hockey team, reinstated in the Western Valley Hockey League, will be under new management this season. At the meeting, Willard Carter was appointed manager of the club, with R. Thomas, assistant manager. Bob Morgan has already had the team through a couple of practises. He reports a few new entries showing up for practise along with other local boys. He said the outlook for a stronger team than last year is probable. The manager stated the first exhibition game will be this Monday night.

The longest discussion at the meeting concerned the possibility of raising funds to offset the current debt the club has and to be able to purchase some needed equipment to start the season. W. Dunn was elected to head the Ways and Means committee, with A. L. Robinson, assisting. Other members elected to the executive were H. Warne, president; J. Nichols, secretary-treasurer. Also passed was the possibility of putting on a tag day within the week.

The club, which starts league play around the 2nd of January is asking the support of all hockey enthusiasts to give them their support by attending as many games as possible.

Well Known Merchant Passes

Tilley Bigelow Price, one of the best known citizens of Annapolis Royal, died in Annapolis General Hospital after a brief illness. He was born in Parrsboro, son of the late Oliver and Sarah (Killam) Price and was educated at Pattersons School, Horton Landing.

A retired merchant he was widely known throughout the Maritimes and central Canada.
In 1912 he married Marguerite
Young and they lived in Moncton until coming to Annapolis Royal in 1924, where he had since lived. For 35 years Mr.
Price operated a well known Valley dry goods store. He retired three years ago.

Active in community affairs
he was a member of town

Area Lobster Season Opens

More than 3,000 lobster fishermen in Shelburne, Yarmouth and Digby counties made final preparations last week for the opening on Saturday of the six-month lobster season.

With approximately 48% of the Nova Scotia lobster production caught in these three counties, it is of utmost importance to the economy of the area. Last year's landed value in the three counties was 4.1 million dollars. This was made up of 1.7 million dollars each in Shelburne and Yarmouth counties and 0.7 million in Digby county.

Statistics show a total of over 300,000 lobster traps in the three counties. These are handled from over 1,500 motor boats measuring from 30 to 40 feet, and an assortment of skiffs, rowboats and such numbering close to one thousand. The latter fish the harbors and bays, while the larger
"Cape Island" type start out close to shore but eventually end up by fishing grounds up to 20 miles from shore.

In order to ensure that none of the fishermen beat the "starting gun" for setting traps the Department of Fisheries takes special precautionary measures. During last week's opening of the season, a heavy concentration of the department's protection, me-chanery was centred in this area.

MERRY CHRISTMAS.

SEASON'S GREETINGS!

Addresses Kiwanis

John J. Gurhalt of the Nova Scotia Division of the Navy League of Canada was guest speaker at the Digby Kiwanis Club last week when they held their meeting at the Champlain Motor Hotel. Above in the picture left to right (front row) are Lieutenant Bert Levy, Supervisor of Sea Cadet Corps, Halifax; C. F. McBride, Digby, the first president of the Digby Branch of the Navy League and the oldest charter member of the Digby
Kiwanis Club living; Mr. Mc-Bride's son, Charles, commander of the Digby Sea Cadet Corps.; Edward Twohig, president of the Digby Kiwanis

Club; (back row) left to right
H. M. Warne, Chairman of the Kiwanis Sea Cadets committee; the guest speaker and to the extreme right Lieutenant Commander Addison, H.
M. C. S. Cornwallis who represented Captain Steele at the Kiwanis dinner.

Attention and interest of the sponsoring body is required for the sea cadets, said
John J. Gurhalt of the Nova Scotia Division of the Navy League of Canada when he addressed the Kiwanians on Thursday. Mr. Gurhalt said that the sea cadets were not formed to train boys for the navy or steer them toward the navy but the obligation of the sponsoring body was to direct them in good citizenship and other fine principles of youth. The sea cadets, he said, were different from the boy scouts who have to supply their own uniforms and take care of other expenses. The sea cadets, he said, are supported financially by the navy.

Transportation and the cost of courses for the cadets are borne by the navy so there is not much left for a sponsoring body to do, he said, but to see that qualified officers are in charge and lend encouragement to the boys. It is important, he said, to learn about the boys and the many opportunities provided through the cadet corps for them.
Someone from the sponsoring body should attend each parade of the cadets, he said. The speaker also said that while the navy supplied the essentials, they do not provide the trimmings such as bands, hockey teams and other extra provisions.

The speaker was introduced by the Kiwanis president and thanked by Chester Levy. Mr.
Gurhalt was born in Oslo,
Norway and was educated in Oslo and Sweden. He came to Canada in 1940 where he had served in the Canadian Army and Airforce and as a Naval architect and engineer.
He is especially active in youth organizations and in service organizations.

In attendance at the Kiwanis dinner were: Charles Light of Clementsport, Ted Miller of Smith's Cove, Earle Anderson,
Wellington Halliday, Digby, all the sea cadet officers who were introduced by Commander Charles McBride.

Logans Entertain Horticultural Society

The regular monthly meeting of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Donald Logan, with the president, R. K. Beckwith presiding. Committee reports on the various garden projects indicated that the gardens both on the Cannon Bank and in the 'Old Loyalist' Cemetery are well prepared to withstand the rigor of winter, and that extensive plans are being made for the next gardening season. It was reported that 600 bulbs had been planted for early spring bloom.

As is usual in December, the program consisted of an exhibition of Christmas de-coratives, arrangements submitted by the members. These arrangements were judged by Mr. and Mrs. Fred Fullerton after which Mr. Fullerton gave a talk on arrangements emphasizing why some of the various exhibits were awarded prizes.

The first prize was awarded to Mrs. C. M. Levy for a very modernistic design of "spitnik" characterization made up to resemble a Christmas tree, the second prize to Miss Louise Daley for a driftwood arrangement with inserted candles banked with native greens and Canadian holly and third prize to Mrs. Eva Wendell for a vase of native greens and artificial poinsettias banked by Christmas candles. Mrs.
Wendell also received a prize for a door decoration. Mrs.
Hubert Warne exhibited an arrangement much admired by garden club members. It represented a ski slide and was gaily decorated with bright red flowers and tall red tapers. There were a number of other interesting Christmas decorations as well.

Mrs. Logan as hostess to the club provided delicious refreshments at the close of the meeting. These too were in keeping with the holiday season.

To Present Christmas Cantata

A Christmas Cantata entitled "Christmas Song of Songs", by Ira B. Wilson, will be presented at Grace United Church on Sunday night under the direction of Elton G. Arnold, leader of Grace United Church choir, and organist:
Miss Margaret Black. The church choirs will be combined to present the cantata, Trinity Anglican Church of Canada, United Baptist Church and Grace United Church.

In attendance to conduct the service will be Reverend James Pike, Reverend H. S. Hartlin, Reverend R. H. Hughes.

The cantata will consist of special numbers and choruses.
Solo parts will be taken by Mrs. Donald Brown, Mrs.
Shirley Clayton, Mrs. J. M.
Wallis, Paul Snow and William Marshall. A trio will be sung by Mrs. Clayton, Mrs. Harry Daley and Mrs. Reginald Wei-

Abc This and That Various Question

The Digby Courier last week carried a top column, front page, well-lined story about the town council in regular session its approval to holding a liquor plebiscite in town. Wosely gave the story the position we did for we felt it important subject and a serious matter. We felt that should be informed early and give the question very thought if and before the plebiscite would be held; question of having open sale of liquor in the town of.

That the difference of opinion on the subject as to whether should be open sale of liquor in the town can be readily understood, of course, expected. And we dare say, different dances tend to influence people in their decisions. For instance, within five minutes of each other, two men express opinions in the office of The Digby Courier last week had strong views on the matter. One was a man whose sons growing up. He was dead against any thought open sale of liquor in the town. It doesn't take too prodding to follow his line of thinking. The other was married man who had no one but himself to think about, his views were decisively for it. Why, that is fair society, now, he remarked, and why should anyone deny the privilege to have liquor if they want it? Still he said it was the young women of the town for whom concerned if there is to be open sale of liquor. You'd, he said, that more women will drink. Another remark was, "And then when there is excessive crime town if we have open sale of liquor they'll complain the police isn't doing a job." And still another named where, according to that person, they were "some sooty voted for the sale. At any rate these are some views expressed and they give thought for more.

The fiction of some was disapproval of the council giving it to hold a plebiscite. Yes, of course, if the town has said "no" then the worries for those opposed to the sale of liquor would be already over without any further ado on their part. Or, at least, worries would run for a while. But, the town councillors all agreed that the matter was placed before them, the only democratic to handle it would be to approve a plebiscite and people express their wishes should a plebiscite be carried though not all the councillors would be in favor of sale of liquor.

The Council, would have found it so easy and simple to have a request for a plebiscite turned down. For instance, would not feel obliged, then, to write this editorial. We can go on our merry way for a while without having a particular way of life disturbed. That way, of course, has personally, to respect and enjoy our many friends associates who do not think as we do along the line of time but to also firmly stand by our own belief that liquor beverage is an entirely unnecessary commodity and wrongfully it can be most foolish, degrading and dus. We prefer to stay far removed from either of those sides. So far as the Digby Courier publication is concerned have chosen to date to lose hundreds, maybe thousands a year which other weeklies are earning by liquor advertising. The privilege to use it is there. Not to happen to be our way of thinking and fortunately our advertising agencies respect our views and do not deny us advertising because of our view on this type of merchandise. On the other hand we do not expect, and we are sure we won't find, people who think like ourselves; to any financial rescue by offering us a higher price for advertising and printing and for subscriptions because loose to forego liquor advertising. We have sometimes it very much otherwise.

Again, if the town council have turned down approval of a vote we could have gone on in our own way of life, undisturbed and undisturbed as many others do. The question plebiscite if one should be called; this matter of giving "a privilege to enjoy" as seen against "endurance of hardships forced on others" is a matter for serious thoughtful voter. A voter should seriously consider which has the greater element of human rights in its structure; privileges must be weighed in the balance against advantages and in this case it is not a matter to be decided lightly. This is a way of life which people might live upon to live under whether they approve or not give it some serious thought.

Now, we have made our own stand clear, we also feel that would be, like the town council, democratic in our approach matter. Our columns are open for those who wish to express themselves on this subject either for open sale of liquor for those who feel we should continue as we are would you wish to write letters we ask that they be not rambling and repeating in nature. We would see signatures published but this is not necessary. On the other hand no letters will be published which come unsigned. If the writer would rather not have a signature published please indicate so but do have your signature publisher's benefit. Space will not permit too many in one week so we draw the matter to your attention. We will not guarantee that any one person will hire than one letter printed so we suggest you give care to the one you do write. We have a feeling that of letters from one person on the same subject lose effect and that new blood creates a new interest and with deeper respect and concern. Remember this of so vital importance is up to the voter and the privilege your message across is offered to you.

Objective Dept. Finance And Economics

Statement by Hon. Robert L. Stanfield, Premier of Nova Scotia.

By an act of the Legislature, the Government of the Province of Nova Scotia last spring established the new Department of Finance and Economics.

The new department has two main objectives. It is responsible for the functions of the former Department of the Provincial Treasurer, which it replaced, and its empowered to establish an organization for voluntary economic planning in the province.

Voluntary economic planning is a new concept that already has had a beneficial effect upon the economic life of France and other European countries. As far as we are aware, Nova Scotia is the first province or state in North America to embark upon such a course.

Basically, voluntary economic planning is designed to help private enterprise perform at its optimum capacity, to plan for increased growth, to assist public and private facets of the economy and to co-ordinate their activities.

This type of planning is based on the belief that some of Nova Scotia's basic industries can, in association with governmental representatives, establish realistic rates of expansion, provided appropriate measures can be agreed upon and adopted.

We believe that the theory of voluntary economic planning is sound.

At the time the province was establishing the new department, I suggested that other countries were advancing in economics growth at a remarkable rate.

I suggested further that machinery should be set up to study these economic matters and situations, to take action wherever possible and to formulate plans for steady growth of our province.

The Department of Finance and Economics was empowered at the outset to collaborate with other department heads of the federal and provincial governments, municipal councils and public and private enterprise, labor and farm organizations.

This power was given with a view to making plans to create, assist, develop and maintain productive employment and to develop the human and material resources of Nova Scotia.

A basic principal in such planning will be government respect for the freedom and initiative of the industry under study.

Much groundwork has been laid for the success of this new venture since the creation of the Department of Finance and Economics.

The theme of the economic planning program will be "Voluntary Economic Planning for the New Nova Scotia."

Hon. G. I. Smith was appointed Minister of the department in May. With other officials of the department, he immediately set about to make an extensive study of the New Europe.

The agriculture industry, its make up, complexities, potential and avenues of improvement, then was selected as the first industry for study. Is it fitting that this vital and traditional segment of our provincial economy was so chosen.

To oversee this agricultural study, a cabinet committee was formed, composed of Hon. E. D. Halliburton, Minister of Agriculture and Marketing; Hon. E. A. Manson, Minister of Trade and Industry, and Mr. Smith.

A sub-committee of senior civil servants also was formed to organize this study.

Now, I am pleased to announce that the first voluntary economic planning conference to deal with agriculture will be held in Truro, Tuesday, December 11, 1962.

Representatives from the departments of Finance and Economics, Agriculture and Marketing, and Trade and Industry, with persons connected with all phases of agriculture, will meet to form an agricultural sector.

This sector will have as its objective the setting of targets for an increased rate of growth and formulating plans

Canadian Wins Citation Award

Mutchmor (left), newly-elected Moderator of The United Church of Canada and secretary of its Board of Evangelism and Social Service, is shown receiving a Citation presented by The Upper Room, interdenominational and international daily devotional guide, published in Nashville, Tennessee.

The Citation was made at Niagara Falls, Ontario, Canada, recently at a luncheon held at the Hotel Sheraton-Brock. The Rev. Dr. J. Manning Potts, editor of The Upper Room made the presentation to Dr. Mutchmor for "outstanding leadership in world Christian fellowship."

to achieve them, for this particular industry.

Invitations to attend the meeting are going out today from the Minister of Finance and Economics to more than 250 people who are closely associated with agriculture.

At the meeting, the whole matter of our agriculture industry will be explored carefully.

At the day long conference sub-committees will be nominated for each segment of agriculture. These segments will begin to lay plans that will lead to the setting of targets for the industry, and how the industry is to reach these targets.

Voluntary economic planning in agriculture and in all other sectors can boost our economic development if we have the co-operation and diligent efforts of all our people.

I hope that members of the media here today will take advantage of this opportunity to ask questions of my colleagues and departmental representatives who are responsible for this new venture in the field of voluntary economic planning.

The Nova Scotia Power Commission has taken delivery of a 5,000 KVA, 69,000 volt mobile transformer, the only one of its type in the province.

L. F. Kirkpatrick, commission general manager, said the transformer can be moved to any location in the province served by main highways.

"The mobile sub-station, permanently fixed to a trailer, will help to ensure continuity of service to customers and will keep power outages at a minimum," said Mr. Kirkpatrick.

With this mobile station it can be used several of the station-transformer equipment and no long repairs to be longer will be and will shortest time possible used for expansion.

FLOWERS PART OF LEGENDS

There are several flowers appropriate during the Yuletide season which are connected with the birth of Christ by the legends of history.

Saint John or Holy Hay is said to have cradled the infant Christ in the manger. The snowdrop is the flower of the Virgin Mary and is said to be the emblem of the candles she lighted on Christmas.

According to legend, the Christmas rose was divinely created. A shepherd maid wept at having no gift to lay before the Babe in the manger. Suddenly an angel appeared to her. On hearing why the maiden wept, the angel touched the ground where her tears had fallen and immediately the place was white with Christmas roses, which the maid gathered and laid in the manger.

The chrysanthemum is said to have appeared first on Christmas Eve near the manger as a sign to the Wise Men that they had reached the spot where the star had bidden them.

NEW YEAR GATHERINGS

Gathering with family and friends to celebrate the New Year is a custom older than when the date January 1 became accepted as the first day of the year.

Watching the old year out and the new year in is one of the oldest and most universal of all celebrations. The ancient Romans got together although they celebrated the New Year in the spring to wish each other health, wealth and happiness in the days ahead.

And, long before this time the Vikings built huge fires at the turn of the year to propitiate their fierce Norse gods.

FILLED FROM MANY LANDS

Nuts from all over the world go into your nut bowl at Christmas. Like Christmas traditions, the nuts so popular at this time of year are a mixture of many varieties and different histories.

The English walnut for instance is not English at all. It originated in Asia centuries ago and was called "the food of the gods."

The round little filbert and the almond came from the Old World. Other nuts, so familiar at Christmas, the hickory nuts, the black walnut and the chestnut, to say nothing of the pecan, are strictly American. The pecan is native to America and is found nowhere else. Two other American nuts worthy of mention are the chestnut and the butternut.

Although many nuts originated in other parts of the world almost every variety known is now grown on American soil and experts are constantly searching for more kinds of nuts to transplant to this country.

Station To Change Frequency

Changes and extensions to CBC French language radio service in southwestern Nova Scotia will be completed this week. The CBC Director for the Maritimes, S. H. Kennedy, has announced that a new low power radio transmitter is being installed at Wedgeport, N. S., and the existing outlet at Meteghan is being moved to a new location and at the same time will change frequency.

The new installation at Wedgeport is located at the central exchange office of the Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Company. It will be heard at 990 on the radio dial, and will go into service this weekend.

Mr. Kennedy also revealed that the Meteghan outlet is being relocated, more centrally, on property of the Riverside Inn. The transmitter was installed originally at the Meteghan railway station, and has been broadcasting at 1490. When the change is completed this weekend, it will move to 590 on the dial.

The Weymouth and Meteghan installations, along with other stations at Digby and Yarmouth are part of the CBC's complete French language radio network and relay program service from CBAT, Moncton, N. B. The Digby station, CBAT, is located in the CPR building, and operates at 990 on the radio dial. It provides a clear signal to the surrounding countryside.

BOARD OF TRADE—

ings were also held, all in the interest of future port development and transportation. In regard to the New England-Nova Scotia ferry, Mr. Snow said that the committee is awaiting findings from a provincial freight movement survey between the Boston-New York area, and Nova Scotia. The committee, he said, had initiated action for a national park in Western Nova Scotia and which if it materializes would result in better highway transportation between Shelburne and Digby. The proposed park area would be at the Lake Rossignol or Tobean area. This too, he said, should be an incentive for better transportation facilities between Digby and Saint John. "It seems important and proper to me," Mr. Snow had in his report, "that if private enterprise fails in providing the necessary means for transportation, and I mean a transportation service that is competitive, in an area such as Western Nova Scotia where over one hundred thousand people are vitally concerned, then responsibility surely falls on our provincial and federal governments to provide what is necessary. Proper and sufficient means for transportation are necessary for growth and prosperity, anywhere and everywhere, at all times."

Mr. Snow had in his report recommended that a Digby Port Committee be one of the standing committees of the Digby Board of Trade. The Board of Trade adopted the recommendation of Mr. Snow but no defining terms were laid out at Tuesday night's meeting as to the duties and scope of such committee.

The financial report was given by the treasurer, A. Williamson. The year started with a credit balance of thirty-one cents and to date the balance is $143.35. Seven hundred and sixty-six dollars and forty-four cents had been received during the year. One hundred and fifty-five dollars and seventy-five cents had been received for dinner tickets and expended, two hundred dollars had been a grant from the town for the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival princess sponsorship under direction of a committee from the Digby Lions Club.

It was learned that membership of the Digby Board of Trade stands presently at 105. A letter was received from HMCS Cornwallis stating that the fleet club which had been proposed to the November meeting of the Board would not be followed through at this time.

A letter was read from Hon. Stephen Pyke in reply to a letter from the Digby Board in which he stated that the Victoria Bridge is considered by his department as one of the major problems on the trunk highways in the province and that his department's planning division is giving the matter consideration with a view to determining the most reasonable answer to the problem. In regard to the Shore Road from Digby to Bay View, the minister wrote that this holds a fairly high degree of priority in the plans for improvement to secondary roads.

Wilnot Christie, who had been named on the nominating committee in November, reported having been able to secure a few nominations for offices or committees for the 1963 Board. Mr. Christie resigned from the nominations committee and a new committee was appointed to continue the work. They are C. M. Levy, Gregg Gilliat and Bradford Amero.

C. W. F. MEETS

The C. W. F. of the Church of Christ held their December meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Edgar McDormand. The meeting opened with "Silent Night" followed by the devotional led by Mrs. Albert Welch using a Christmas theme "As we share Christ, we share Christmas," Scripture Luke 2:8-14. Mrs. Burt led in a circle of prayer.

Roll call was called with 11 members responding. Mrs. G. MacDormand, treasurer gave a report that the collection from Women's Day was $14.05. Bible Study with Mrs. Burt was "What Shall I Give?" scripture Exodus 4:1-17, being read by members. Moses and the Lord changing the rod into a serpent. Peter healing the lame man at the gate, money had he none but what he gave was far better than all the silver and gold. Other interesting points were Little things that count. I gave my time, my talents and my money.

Questions pertaining to this topic were, Why do we give? Can one be acceptable to God without giving money? Can one give double portion of time that he may be excused from giving money? Is it possible to give money directly to God? Should one give with the idea that we may get in return? Does the giving at Christmas give the idea of getting in return? This was very fitting as the Christmas season is so near.

Mrs. Burt closed this study with a prayer. Mission study with Mrs. H. Swift was a summary of the past five lessons, needs in Latin America and of the greatest needs — money, qualified ministers, lack of school education, we learn also that 90 per cent of the population are real poor people.

Mrs. Swift read of a C. W. F. group in Jamaica and Puerto Rico and of the joys they find in the work.

The meeting closed with the C. W. F. benediction. Mrs. McDormand served refreshments following the closing. Next meeting place is with Mrs. Lou Bailey on January 3rd, 1963.

Russians To Stay Out Of Bay

Russia is understood to have given assurances that its fishing vessels will in future stay out of the Bay of Fundy. Two Soviet vessels were sighted in the bay last month and Prime Minister Diefenbaker said in the Commons November 15 that they would be requested to leave if they hadn't already done so. They had.

Mr. Diefenbaker said Canada has always considered the Bay of Fundy as Canadian territorial waters.

Informants said Monday that Russia has agreed to adhere to Canadian wishes in this regard.

The Russians maintain that their fishing vessels are after fish, period. Canadian officials say they fish all right but may conduct extra-curricular activities by fishing for military information as well.

A THOUGHT STARTER

Ronald C. MacCormack
The Truest Fragrance

There is a certain undefinable fragrance about a true Christian. This invisible though real abstraction may be called spirituality. While a carnal Christian may love the world much and God little, a spiritual Christian will love the world little and God much.

There are certain road blocks to this high point of Christian growth. The main obstruction to Christian vitality is wilful disobedience. Man is born to want to write his own laws. The breakdown of obedience starts in the home, perhaps in the bassinette. If children lost respect for parents, could it be that the parents have not exerted enough authority to command respect? Those who have submitted to parental discipline usually find it easier, also, to submit to the Laws of God. Failure at this point is insubordination.

There are outward evidences of this inward rebellion. One person may quit church, presenting a variety of excuses. He may say, "I don't have to attend". Of course, he doesn't "have to" but he would profit thereby.

Another may taper off in his prayer life. The pressure of the daily grind, social obligations, and pleasure may crowd prayer out of the picture. A prayerless Christian is hardly a spiritual Christian above all. Salvation is a prerequisite of this fragrance for "How shall we escape if we neglect so great Salvation?" Hebrews 2:3.

A False Cult
A long time ago, I used to picture the devil as a creature with horns, a red suit, three tined fork, and a tail. If this were true it would be more simple than it is to steer away from temptation. The fact, however, is that the tempter is a smooth and subtle character who can disguise himself and his intentions. He makes bad and lost people feel good and secure. He is a master at making people think that black is white. His trickery brings despair and doom. Goodness without Godliness has become a false cult. The person who is loose and promiscuous says, "I am not so bad. I am just a victim of circumstances". Those who are addicted to self pity, make of themselves a kind of totem pole, and when others don't honor them, these folks cry that they are being trampled upon. Those behind bars often swagger, boast of their innocence and claim that they were framed. You may pick up a drunk in the street and in his debauchery he may say, "Leave me alone, I am alright". Or he may claim there is nothing wrong with him that a few drinks won't cure. These are poor deluded mortals to be pitied. There was the Pharisee in

Wonder Questions?

ANSWERS BY THE RELEASE SERVICE OF THE BIBLE OF KNOWLEDGE

WHY DOES A BOOMERANG COME BACK?

Some people suppose that the boomerang comes back after hitting what it is aimed at. That would really be very convenient but it is not what happens. What happens is this: the first part of the boomerang's path is straight or practically straight. It is expected to hit its object while it is in this part of its path. If the boomerang were flying through nothing, it would have to fly always in a straight line, according to Newton's first law of motion which states that when a thing is moving, it will go on moving at a steady rate and in a straight line unless something outside it changes its motion. But the boomerang is flying through air which slows it down; and it is so shaped that the air resists one part of it more than another, so that it has to travel in a curved path after its speed has slowed down below a certain rate. As it travels in a curve, it more or less comes back to the place it started from.

Endless study has been devoted to finding why the boomerang must have its exact shape; what the consequences are if its shape is a little different; what the speed at which it begins to curve; how its weight and size affect the curve; and what the relation is between the curves of the boomerang itself and the size of the curve it makes in the air. But these questions are immensely difficult and still undecided. If the boomerang, instead of being gradually slowed down, is arrested entirely in its flight, it simply drops dead, as we say. If it is to return, it must be slowed down by the resisting air.

The stories about Australian aborigines being able to throw a boomerang so that it will kill an enemy hiding behind a tree and then return to the thrower, or of a native throwing the boomerang with his back to the object he wishes to hit, are mere Old World Fables. It is true, however, that an Australian native who is an expert thrower can cause a boomerang to pass behind him, after a short preliminary flight in front.

There are various forms of boomerangs; heavy throwing sticks for fighting close quarters and lighter ones for hurling at game at a distance. The boomerangs that return to the thrower, the kind best known to us, are often called play boomerangs; and the Australian aborigines practice throwing these to show their skill. Such boomerangs always consist of a flattened curved blade, usually quite flat on one side and slightly rounded on the other, and the power of returning seems to be associated with a very slight twist in the weapon. A skillful thrower can make a boomerang describe first, a large circle and then one or two smaller circles before it falls at his feet. These return boomerangs, contrary to general belief, are found only in very restricted areas of Australia. Weapons similar to the boomerang, but unable to return, were used in Ancient Egypt and by Hopi Indians in Arizona.

WHY DOES AN ONION MAKE YOUR EYES WATER?

Our eyes are really watering all the time, since we are always producing tears that pass over the eyeball to keep it clean. We blink to carry the tears that appear under the upper lid over the surface of the eye. These tears escape into the nose. We say that our eyes water when the tears form so fast they cannot escape quickly enough. Onions give off something to the air that excites the ends of the nerves of smell in the nose and also excites the ends of the nerves of touch in the eyeball and the eyelids. A message is sent to the brain telling the tear glands to make tears quickly; and we say that eyes water. There is use in this for the rapid flow of tears helps to protect the eyeballs and the eyelids from the pungent stuff the onions give off.

WHICH ANIMALS ARE THE MOST INTELLIGENT?

The question has been much discussed. Dr. William Hornaday, formerly with the New York Zoological Park, made a study of the intelligence of different animals. He said that the chimpanzee is most intelligent and also easiest to train and that the orangutan is not very far behind. The gorilla is much lower. The Indian elephant is next easiest to train; then comes the horse and the dog. The beaver has great intelligence but cannot be trained at all. Lions are more intelligent than tigers or leopards and are also more intelligent than bear, but it can't be trained easy as the European brown bear. Wolves great intelligence, cannot be trained at all. The deer and the wild goats are intelligent, but they are hard to train.

Restoration Plans Announced

The federal government has announced its detailed plan to partially restore the 18th century French Fortress of Louisbourg on Cape Breton Island. The restoration will take 12 years and involve an expenditure of $12 million, although about two-thirds of the work will be completed by 1967.

Details of the plan were announced at a meeting in Louisbourg Monday afternoon by the Louisbourg Restoration Committee to representatives of Cape Breton Island Chambers of Commerce and other public groups. Mr. Robert J. McCleave, Member of Parliament for Halifax and Parliamentary Secretary to the Minister of Public Works, represented the Honourable Walter Dinsdale, Minister of Northern Affairs and National Resources, and the Honourable George C. Nowlan, Minister of Finance, at the meeting in Louisbourg.

The historical restoration project will affect a far greater area than the 57 acres comprising the site of the former French fortified town. A total area of 20 square miles extending both northeast and southwest of the present town of Louisbourg will be involved in the restoration so that the points at which landings were made, entrenchments, ditches and stockworks built during the sieges of 1710 and 1758 may be included in the restoration.

To enable visitors to gain a total impression of the reconstructed Fortress and the historical events associated with the two sieges, there will be a complete visitors' interpretation centre on Lighthouse Point overlooking the harbour and the fortress. The centre will offer displays and other visual means to help visitors understand and appreciate the reconstruction and its historical background.

All the reconstruction and restoration work for the Louisbourg Fortress is being carried out by the federal government; but the Government of Nova Scotia is co-operating by providing the land for the National Historic Park. Already 20 square miles of land has been acquired by the provincial government. It is planned to acquire three additional parcels to round out the area required for a full presentation of the Fortress of Louisbourg complex.

Nova Scotia possesses the world's largest known single deposit of barite, a product used chiefly in oil well drilling.

Be certain the way is clear before making any move. A single change may be your quota.

DIARY OF A VAGABOND

by Dorothy Barker

Why Pick on Santa?

One hazard a columnist has to cope with often is the temptation to become nostalgic. At this time of year I remember how ruffled my feathers became when a prominent Canadian came out with his famous pronouncement that children should be told there really isn't any Santa Claus.

I would not, if I could change the years of my childhood when Christmas had a magic promise, a fairy like aura nothing since has ever equalled in complete emotional satisfaction.

When my youngsters came along they were subjected to the same make believe treatment. They survived, seem perfectly well adjusted grown men in spite of the fact they gave each other knowing looks when we, their parents, asked them that they wanted Santa to bring them for Christmas. They didn't want us to know they had been "enlightened"; it might spoil our fun and cut down considerably on their prospects for loot.

I cannot remember any spasms of grief or shock at the eventual realization my own toys were not brought down the chimney by a fat little man in a red suit. As for my sons, I remember the youngest one remarking on Christmas eve when he was about seven, "I guess we don't need to put a lunch on the mantle for Santa this year", and that was that.

I have been wondering as the season again gets into full swing if those who deplore the commercialism of Christmas realize what a safety valve the custom of gift giving is in times of tension and political mistrust. It is the holiday spirit that often means local shops and their year in the black instead of red. It warms the heart or Scrooge in our society and is often the means of reuniting those who have experienced a rift in their family relationships. The rush and spending for weeks before the big day provides jobs for the seasonably unemployed and stimulates the ability of those entrusted with creating new ideas.

A Sure Thing

Every year we wonder how any one can come up with something new. Last year for the first time the CN offered in Santagram service. Thousands of youngsters (conditioned to this modern age almost as soon as they can talk) composed their lists of requests to Santa on these special forms. In their child wisdom they had the assurance there is no fooling with a telegram. No one could get away with the excuse their letter might have been lost in the mail.

The age old reasoning parents have been using for generations still works. When children count their gifts before dawn on Christmas day, sleepy papas and mammas can still say, "Santa has all the good little boys and girls in the world to remember and there is only so much room in his sleigh."

Thousands more kiddies will again this year lick their stub-print in big letters on a Santagram form a message to Santa something like this one phonetically written in 1961 by a six year old boy:

"Piez sent by rudolf one hisckle to me also a wetums dol for my sister who does my mother sez we are good kids love johnny."

Letter to the Editor

Digby, N. S.,
December 10, 1962.

Editor,
The Digby Courier,
Dear Mrs. Wallis:

According to your December 6 publication, it appears that certain liquor interests are asking for a liquor plebiscite and seeking it through the Digby Curling Club.

I wish to submit that there are the best of reasons for voting NO in any such plebiscite and against the establishing of any more liquor outlets, especially when a yes vote includes the legal right to establish liquor taverns after licenses for such have been granted.

Comparatively little or no alcohol education is taught or received for most people of our community. Let us BEWARE of entirely destroying the "protective fence" of the liquor law.

Dr. Andrew C. Ivey of the University of Illinois quoted in the magazine "Listen" as stating that in the United States 1,200 alcoholics a day (438,000 a year) are being produced through the common custom of social drinking.

Certain authorities tell us that about one in ten drinkers becomes an alcoholic and no person can tell in advance who will become the one, or who will be the nine. But, on the whole it is the social type of drinker who is the most responsible for the total alcohol problem. Other certain authorities tell us that the people who are the worst menace on the highways are the people who drive motor vehicles after two or three drinks, and beer or ale is often the drink that has been consumed.

Check every indication of faulty brakes at once. Loss of and beer or ale is often the drink that has been consumed, experience.

Digby Courier

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 13, 1962

Add to this the well investigated truth that for every one alcoholic, there are about seven others persons who frequently suffer or lose something as a result of one alcoholic's way of life. Let us not have any more legalized "breeding places" for alcoholics or killers of the highway.

There is no true rest or peace in a liquor saturated community, but only strife and suffering especially for mothers and children. Increasing the number of legalized liquor outlets lowers the moral standard of any community.

It now appears that, for many people the love of liquor and the love for liquor profits is stronger than the true love for God and neighbors, and of course this is IDOLATRY.

All denominations of the church have common cause in this area of life because the true mission of the church is being seriously hindered by this unholy love which breeds falsehood. The church people as a church body, will surely advance if we take up the challenge but will seriously lose if we do not.

CHURCHMAN

St. Mary's Church at Church Point, N. S., is the largest wooden church on the North American continent. Completed in 1905, it seats 1,500 people. Its steeple is 202 feet high.

Check every indication of faulty brakes at once. Loss of and beer or ale is often the drink that has been consumed, experience.

NO ROOM FOR THE STRANGER

It was Christmas Eve. Alone a strange man clad in a garment ragged and stained walked the streets of a great city. At all the doors he knocked and begged entrance, saying, "My name is Christus," and sadly left each door. No one in the houses, where all were feasting merrily in celebration of Christmas, knew him.

So he passed on from the cold streets and the highways out to the lone field. And there, in a narrow lane, he found a little hut of some poor folk. Candlelight gleamed from the window. A hymn sung by children's voices, came through the stillness.

The stranger knocked and the door opened. True hearts met him, majesty enveloped him, love and kindness beamed from his countenance and he blessed the home which had not rejected him.

Verily the joy of the world was in that humble home, for they forgot not the stranger in whose honor they celebrated Christmas.

Conclude Assembly

Jehovah's Witnesses concluded their three day assembly on Sunday in Yarmouth. It ended on a highly successful note as an enthusiastic audience of 315 persons heard Mr. Wall, District Supervisor, speak on the timely subject, "The Bible's Answer to Our Problem of Survival". Mr. Wall stated, "We are facing a danger unlike any danger that has ever existed." Further he said, "They see only fall-out that would rain down a steadily merciless death upon generations to come". Reading Matthew 24:21 Mr. Wall explained how Jesus Christ forewarned of a danger far worse than what our most advanced scientists have envisioned, the coming of "Babylon the Great".

Mr. Wall's address was "The Bible's Answer to Our Problem of Survival". He then quoted Zephaniah 2:3, "seek Jehovah, all ye that seek one of the earth, seek righteousness, seek meekness, probably you may be concealed in the day of Jehovah's anger". In conclusion, Mr. Wall encouraged the 315 persons in attendance to familiarize themselves with the Bible, the book of the Kingdom, and have a share in proclaiming the only hope of survival living in harmony with the hope.

The convention came to a close with scriptural counsel from D. Bevan, Circuit Supervisor, and Mr. Wall followed with concluding remarks on the subject, "Keep Proving What You Are by Accepting Responsibility".

Friday evening saw 204 delegates assembled in the auditorium of the Consolidated High School, for the opening meeting of the three day assembly. The address of welcome delivered by Mr. Wall was "Spread the Word of Life". Mr. Wall pointed out from Philippians 2:16 that we must work hard in spreading the "Word of Life" in order to keep a tight grip on it.

Mr. Wall then introduced "The Ministry School" a vital cog in the educational program of Jehovah's Witnesses. This was followed with encouraging discourses and demonstrations delivered by local ministers: T. Holmes and W. Holmes of Digby; P. Manzer of Hill Grove and N. Hodges of Weymouth.

The delegates assembled Saturday afternoon for the "Dedication and Baptism" delivered by Mr. Wall. Eight candidates were baptised symbolizing their dedication to their Creator. Mr. Wall in speaking to the candidates, showed that this was their ordination date.

On Saturday evening the two hour program "Examining Our Ministry" featured activities of the energetic preaching organization and gave thorough consideration of ways and means of spreading the Word of Life.

Hill Grove W.M.S. Meets

The December meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Hill Grove Baptist Church was held last Sunday evening at the home of Mrs. Donald Marshall, Marshalltown. Mrs. Orbin Minard, president of the group, presided at the meeting. During the devotional service a reading was given by Mrs. Harold Marshall and a Christmas meditation was given by the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin.

An interesting feature of the service was the presentation of a Dominion Life Membership in the Baptist Affiliated Women's Missionary Societies of Canada to Mrs. Tracy Milner. The presentation was made by Mrs. Curtis Porter and Mrs. Joseph Vincent.

A large number of the women from Marshalltown and Hill Grove were present at the meeting. At the close refreshments were served.

SHOWER AT BEAR RIVER EAST

On Tuesday evening, November 27, a large number of guests were present for a post nuptial shower held in Mite Society parlour for Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sanford who were married in Middleton on November 24. The bride was assisted in opening the gifts by Mrs. William Fish. Gifts consisted of towel sets, linen, china and a beautiful hand made quilt. The groom thanked the gathering for their lovely gifts. Guests were present from Pictou, Clementsport and Clementsvalle.

Open Pearl-Essence Plant

One of the largest processors of herring in the Municipality of Clare, the Frankland Cannery Co., Ltd., of Church Point, reports that herring are still arriving by boat at their plant. It is rather unusual to have herring caught in this area at such a late time of the season.

Mr. Frankland stated that in other years they would be cleaning up the remainder of smoked fish at this time of the year. This year the smoke house is filled to capacity. Frankland's ship from 35 to 50 carloads of pickled herring in a year's operation. Pickled herring has become big business in Western Nova Scotia. It is shipped to the United States market. Pickled herring, the common term used, is the herring which is salted and pickled in vinegar for a certain period of time. The herring is also bleached, skinned and repacked into barrels.

Approximately 150 barrels may be packed into a railway box car. The pickled herring is further seasoned and bottled before it reaches the market. Various spices are added.

In former years, especially in Clare, the herring was principally used for lobster bait and was also being smoked for "Digby Chicks." With the introduction of vinegared herring in this area, the fishermen have received an incentive to fish for herring. During the summer months, the Grand Manan herring fleet move into St. Mary's Bay, when the herring are running. A fleet of twenty boats was stationed at Meteghan wharf last summer, which included the sealing boats and herring carriers.

Frankland's at Church Point have opened a pearl-essence plant at Church Point wharf. Herring scales contain a certain substance which may be removed and which is used for making artificial pearls and other materials. The herring scales are placed in a special container, after having been removed by the herring sealing boats, and at the factory. The scales are stored in vats with special chemicals removing the material required from the scales.

A huge separator working on the same principle as the cream separator separates the substance from the liquid chemicals. The substance is silver in color and is quite thick. This substance is what is used to make the artificial pearls and other materials. The Frankland pearl-essence plant was only completed late this fall and is not expected to operate on a large scale until the herring season next spring.

Miss Marge Henderson, Mrs. Elwood Haight, Mrs. Lloyd Adams, Mrs. Aven Sanford and Mrs. Earl Thomas, Mrs. Clayton Woodman used her car to assist the canvassers.

Robert Winchester, chairman of the local branch of the society, expressed his appreciation to those who gave of their time so willingly to help spread the story of the Christ Child to lands who have never heard.

Belliveau's Cove Hockey Team In Lead

Belliveau's Cove opened the Western County Intermediate Hockey League with a bang when they ran roughshod over last year's champions, Saulnierville Pepsi Cola's to the tune of 12 to 3. Belliveau's Cove made it 3 - 2 in the first when Alain Belliveau, Charles Belliveau and Paul Belliveau each scored while Bobby Gennette and Raymond Tufts scored for the losers. The winners made it 7-2 in the second and in the third scored five more to Saulnierville's lone tally. Paul Belliveau scored seven goals for Belliveau's Cove. Gennette scored two and Tufts one for the losers.

In another game of the same league, Church Point Comets eked out a 4-3 victory over Meteghan Miomacs. The first period ended 2-2 with Ronnie Saulnier opening the scoring after four minutes of play for Meteghan. Victor Thibault evened it up several minutes later. Harold Boudreau scored for Meteghan and Albert Dugas evened it up.

In the second period each team scored one goal with Guy Thibodeau putting the Comets ahead for a short spell and Duff for Meteghan evening it

New Post Office

A $20,400 post office building is to be built at Church Point under the winter works program, with completion slated within four months, Felton Le-gore (PC-Shelburne-Yarmouth-Clare) announced on Monday. Contract for the building went to Charles J. Thibodeau, of Meteghan, who submitted the lowest of two tenders on the job.

The building will measure 32 feet by 36 feet and will be a two-storey structure without basement.

It will be situated on the north side of No. 1 highway. Plans call for a concrete foundation and frame construction with an exterior finished in brick veneer. Interior finish will consist of plaster board and plywood. Heating will be by coal-burning furnace. A truck yard and loading platform will be at the rear of the building.

THE BIBLE TODAY

One third of the bulk of the Gospels of Matthew, Mark, Luke and John, is taken up with the narration of the events leading up to the death of Jesus, His crucifixion and His resurrection. This emphasis is not lost on the New Bible readers, because these events seize at once the mind of the person reading the stories for the first time and cast light upon all the New Testament story as well as forming the basis of an understanding of the Christian faith, the Bible Society has always published not less than a whole Gospel in any new translation. An illustration of the carrying out of this policy is the recent publication of Mark in Dola, a language spoken by 250,000 people, (of whom 5,000 are Christian and 50,000 non-Christian literates), who live in the coastal area of Casamance, Senegal; and also in Manbya, spoken by a tribe numbering 35,000 (of whom 7,000 are Christian literates) living in Rhodesia. Mathew in Sora, spoken by 250,000 people in the Ganjam and Koraput districts, Orissa in North Cameroun has also been published recently.

Recreation Commission Meets

The meeting of the Digby Recreation Commission was called for Saturday evening instead of the regular night which falls on Christmas Eve.

A good report was presented by the treasurer, showing a substantial increase in revenue over the past year.

It was pointed out by Thomas Cleveland, chairman of the building committee, that a good deal of money could be saved each month if the hot water tanks were removed from the engine room to the furnace room where it had originally been planned for. The commission decided to have this done.

Wallace Hodgson, chairman of the Forum management committee, announced the Forum schedule as follows — Monday afternoon, 2 to 4 p.m., skating; Tuesday, 3 to 5 and 8 to 10 p.m., skating; Wednesday, Ravens; Thursday, 3 to 5 and 8 to 10 p.m., skating; Friday, Catholic League, 4 to 6 skating and district league; Saturday, 8 a.m. to 2 p.m., Little League; Saturday, 3 to 5 p.m. and 8 to 10 p.m., skating; Sunday, afternoon skating and evening Ravens practice.

Three Churches Unite For Cantata

Rev. James Pike of Trinity Anglican Church of Canada, Digby, in speaking at Grace United Church on Sunday night when a Christmas Cantata was presented by choirs from the Digby Anglican, Baptist and United Churches, said that it would be a happy time to which all look forward when the churches will be united in one. In the meantime, he said, such occasions as these, when a few churches unite in common worship and praise as was done through the presentation of the cantata, serve as a beginning toward that end.

A service preceded the presentation of the cantata when Rev. R. H. Hughes led the worship assisted by Mr. Pike and Rev. H. S. Hartlin of the Digby Baptist church.

The cantata, Song of Songs by Ira Wilson was presented before a capacity audience under the direction of Elton Arnold and with Miss Margaret Black as organist. About This and That

Christmas Peace —

Where Shall We Look?

During World War I, as we have read, G. K. Chesterton wrote these lines and we repeat them here without disrespect to Christmas and its meaning:

"Peace on earth was said; we sing it,
 And pay two million priests to bring it;
 After two thousand years of Mass
 We've got as far as poison gas."

At first thought we are inclined to hopelessly write again with Chesterton and substitute the last line for something more horrifying in 1962: "We've got to fear a nuclear blast". Then we take a different view of "Peace on earth, good-will toward men" and we think what might be the state of the world had the angels never sung their peace on earth. We think of the many more hearts so disturbed and restless without the peace the angels sang and that each restless heart would contribute to more unrest and confusion in this already chaotic state. And so we once more give thanks for the angels' song that first Christmas Morn. We raise a prayer of thankfulness that the priests have continued their proclamation of peace on earth good-will toward men. We are thankful that much of their proclamation really has brought true peace to many individual hearts as it was meant to do.

We have every sympathy with Chesterton as he expressed himself but as we seriously thought of those lines, we wondered how many of us are looking in the wrong place for the kind of peace of which the angels sang. We wonder how many of us are looking at Christmas time for some magic voice to announce "peace — a world free from the dread of war." We wonder how many forget that the Babe of Bethlehem came to bring peace to each individual heart and that only by each individual finding the peace of which the angels sang two thousand years ago can we expect a different world in which to live.

It took but one solitary life to change the world of two thousand years ago. Quoting from others' lines "It is not too much to say that all the armies that ever marched, all the navies that were ever built and all the parliaments that ever met, and all the kings that ever reigned put together, have not reflected the life of a man upon this earth as powerfully as has the One Solitary Life." The individual life is still important to the peace of the earth. The peace the angels sang must first be found in the individual heart before it can reflect peace and good-will toward men throughout the earth. Only by changing of individual lives and by the reflection of each life can peace be found to reign on earth.

Where then shall we look for peace this Christmas time? We must look in our own individual lives to see if we really have let the Babe of Bethlehem come to dwell and remain forever with us. Or, is the peace we sing about, the peace the priests bring to us, passing by the world because we forget that only through each of us as individuals can peace enter the world.

How will we celebrate Christmas in 1962? Where shall we look for peace?

MRS. PAYSON ENTERTAINS W. C. W.

The home of Mrs. Howard Payson, Weymouth, beautifully decorated and lighted for the Yuletide Season, was the setting for the December meeting of the United Church Women's group when held on Tuesday evening, December 11th. This was the date also of the Annual Lobster Supper which preceded the meeting, being held at 7 p.m. with some twenty members attending.

The real meaning of Christmas was caught in this lovely setting and during the worship period with which the meeting was opened. This part of the program was under direction of Mrs. F. Withers, her subject being, "Three Wise Men", and consisted of readings interspersed with Christmas Carols. Mrs. R. K. Hill presided at the piano, with a number of the members taking part in the readings. Scripture readings taken from the second chapter of Matthew and first twelve verses, was read by Mrs. E. C. Gates.

The business meeting which followed immediately had the president, Mrs. Harley Powell in the chair. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. Frances Lent, the minutes were read by Marina Hill. A report on the food and fancy work sale, held the previous Saturday, was given by Mrs. Carl Blynn and rs. Scott Hankinson. This showed receipts to date to be $93.75 with additional funds yet to be received.

The year 1962, the first year for the new group, United Church Women, proved to be a good one, under direction of a capable president, with all financial allocations met. A donation of $130.00 was made to the Church fund, at this time and the president asked that Christmas Remembrances be sent to shut-in members of the congregation. Gifts were brought to this meeting to be given to those who have large families, might be in need of some help.

The president for the year 1963 is Mrs. Allan Irvine with Miss Frances Lent the secretary. January meeting will be held the 2nd week and 3rd week. The second week will be at the home of Mrs. Perley Charlton in the afternoon. This is the work meeting. The business meeting will be held during the 3rd week of the month at the manse.

Mrs. Max Doucet and family of Ottawa are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joe Doucet.

BETHLEHEM'S FORGOTTEN BARE

The story is told of a christening that was to be held many years ago by a very wealthy European family. Many guests were invited to the home for the occasion and came in the very latest fashionable garb. Their wraps and coats were carried to a bedroom and laid upon the beds. After the usual lot of conversation and commotion they were ready for the christening ceremony and someone appropriately asked, "Why, where is the baby?" The nurse was sent upstairs to look and returned in alarmed distress. The baby was nowhere to be found! After several minutes search someone remembered that the child had last been seen lying on one of the beds and after a frantic search the little figure of a child was found smothered under the wraps of the guests. The chief reason why they had come had been forgotten, neglected and destroyed!

We cannot help but think that in the observance of Christmas again this year many will forget neglect and even

MERRY CHRISTMAS

Another Christmas is about to be ushered in and at this time every year it affords us an opportunity to celebrate the birth of our Saviour and to extend our greetings to everyone for a Joyous and Merry Christmas.

What a happy world this would be, if everyone would live up to the grand ideals of the Christmas Season, throughout the whole year and remembering at all times that the birth of Jesus nearly two thousand years ago still remains a living force, wherever Christian people are to be found.

destroy the Christ-child! He will be forgotten amidst the gifts, the eating, the drinking, the revelry that now seems to characterize the celebration of His birthday. We might well ask the question, "Whose birthday is it anyway?"

Perhaps the error of the Sunday School scholar who quoted John 3:16 thus: "For God so loved the world that He gave His only begotten Son" is but the modern version in fact. Christ, whose birthday we profess to celebrate, is relegated to the stable yard. There is no room for Him in the over crowded inn of our Christmas festivities, in our hearts, in our lives.

Certainly there is to be rejoicing. Christmas is indeed a time of joy. The angelic announcement was, "Behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy." But let it be remembered that "joy" centres and finds its source only in the Person of Christmas — "For unto a SAVIOUR, which is CHRIST THE LORD!" (Luke 2:11).

May he find a place in our celebrations, in our hearts, this Christmas!

LEGEND OF THE FINE CONES

Once upon a time — according to Marz mountain legend — a poor miner's wife was gathering pine cones in the forest. It was just before Christmas, her husband was ill, and there was no money in the house for food. So, she gathered the cones and sold them to the villagers for kindling — obtaining enough for the day's necessities.

One morning while she was looking for such cones, a little imp jumped out of a huge fir tree.

"Here, are the biggest, driest cones of all! Take these!" he shrieked, jumping up and down excitedly.

Suddenly there was such a shower of cones that the poor woman was frightened. She tried to run away, but could not move until the little imp had filled her basket. And, having started home, the basket grew heavier and heavier — she wished the elf hadn't disappeared, he might have helped her.

When she finally reached her hut, she called the children to help carry the basket inside. Emptying the basket they found that every cone was made of solid silver.

Commemorating these legendary silver cones, gilded pine cones are sold in modern stores to decorate our homes — to burn and crackle gaily in our Christmas fires.

SCOUTS ENTERTAIN

Words from the S. M. (at the last scout meeting) were "Well, scouts be at the For-ester's Hall sharp 6:30 p.m. on Friday, December 14th to fix up for a Christmas party! Sure enough right on the dot 21 scouts arrived and in only minutes the trees for the forest scene were arranged and the tree trimmed, season greeting placed around the hall and tables decorated for the occasion with food, nuts and oranges and candy. The special attraction to the scouts was the large snowman. With candles lit the scouts were ready for the arrival of their S. M., their guests which included their parents, the president of district council, Dr. G. V. Turnbull and Donald Brown assistant in training of Digby.

The S. M. introduced the A. S. M. and then scouts were introduced by their patrols. Then called on the chairman of the group committee for a few words followed by showing of knot tying while the scouts did their skits and jokes around the camp fire.

Later in the evening Dr. G. V. Turnbull and Donald Brown met each scout personally and gave each the scout hand shake and spoke a few encouraging words to all. The scouts presented a present to their S. M. a token of appreciation for what he has done for them. This was followed by a social evening with the committee serving a lunch.

HOME ON CHRISTMAS

Of all the occasions, of all celebrations throughout the year, Christmas is for families — a time when the fires of family affection burn brightest and warmest.

Each of us remembers those shining moments of our childhood when the family circle drew closest. The Christmas we knew as children had a special lustre, an air of breathless and urgent joy that was spread like contagion from one member of the family to the next through smiles and warm greetings.

Year by year as one grows older this magic atmosphere is recaptured whenever families gather at the present season. The holly wreath hanging

FRANKINCENSE MYRRH AND GOLD

These were the gifts borne by the wise men to the newborn Babe in Bethlehem. What were these gifts? Yes, they have material, tangible, definitions; but a much closer, deeper understanding of their value is to think of frankincense as high-mindedness, myrrh as the spirit of sacrifice, and the gold as pure thoughts.

on the front door is a magnet whose pull can be felt miles away by absent kinfolk.

And once home, nothing seems really changed from our childhood.

MERRY CHRISTMAS

CHRISTMAS CRACKERS

Christmas crackers originated in Britain some 70 years ago. The idea was brought back from a continental holiday by Tom Smith, a confectioner and maker of wedding cake ornaments. Tom saw a French confectioner make his candles more attractive by wrapping them in tissue paper.

That Christmas he wrapped his sugared almonds in this way. Later, to make the packages more entertaining he included a loving message in each wrapping and so began the present day cracker.

Limanda Captain Honoured

Captain Owen McGrath, retiring captain of the Limanda was honored on Thursday evening when personnel of the Department of Fisheries and friends gathered at Cornwallis Cafe to wish him well on his retirement. Above left to right are G. M. Bullerwell, Annapolis Royal, Mrs. McGrath, the captain and G. W. Smith, Department of Fisheries, Digby. Mr. Bullerwell presented a bouquet of flowers to Mrs. McGrath and Mr. Smith, on behalf of those present, presented Captain McGrath with a watch.

In making the presentation Mr. Smith said that Capt. McGrath had given exceptionally good service and his superiors had been most pleased in his operation of the boat and crew. He said that Capt. McGrath was one of the finest gentlemen with whom he had ever worked. "In reviewing the life of the retiring captain, Mr. Smith said he had been born at Victoria Beach, was a top line fisherman from the age of 12 years to 1925, operated the Port Wade - Digby ferry from 1925 to 1935 and served on a 'crash boat' in the R. C. A. F. in the Second World War from 1939 to 1945. From 1952 to 1959 he was with the Department of Public Works and manned a tow boat in the Strait of Canso. In paying tribute to Capt. McGrath and his ideals Mr. Smith said "Nobody grows old by the number years they've lived but only by deserting their ideals, Captain McGrath will not do this."

More than 40 attended the dinner in honor of Captain McGrath and among those extending good wishes and appreciation were Desire Doucette, engineer on the Limanda; Capt. Richard Blinn; Capt. R. George Boudreau; fish warden Alden Sproule; Mochelle; Charles MacDonald of the inspection branch, Digby; Douglas McClafferty, inspection officer; Avery Nickerson; Mrs. Russell Stonehouse, stenographer at the fisheries office, Digby, and John Thibault, Weymouth, who recently retired from the Department of Fisheries.

She was a trained nurse and spent many years in that occupation. She was the last surviving member of her family.

SMOKERS SAFETY TIPS

Smokers are urged to use care with fire during the Christmas season, particularly around the Christmas tree.

To keep your Christmas a merry one, use care, and don't smoke in the vicinity of the tree.

After the tree has been up several days, it is still more of a fire hazard because standing trees dry out.

The Canadian Underwriters' Association estimates that nearly one fourth of all fires are caused by matches and smoking. Care by smokers can help reduce our gigantic fire toll.

So, keep your smokes far away from the Christmas tree.

Christmas trees, like flowers, will respond to being kept with the base in the water. Here are two simple things to do if you want your tree to stay green and fresh.

Buy a tree which has been cut as recently as possible.

Cut off the end of the trunk diagonally, at least one inch above the original cut. This will absorb water at once, and if it is not to be taken into the house for several days, keep it in a cool place.

OPEN NEW YEAR'S DAY

Can you beat it?

If you tried to design the ideal car for Canada because of the way it was built. And we are still making new friends in Canada.

Just add things up. Economy? This begins when you buy a VW and continues on your rare visits to the gas station.

Quality? The beetle is built to last—our '53's are still running around.

Reliability? Day in day out you start at the turn of a key.

Performance? Put yourself in the driver's seat and you'll see what we mean.

All this didn't just happen. Volkswagen became the ideal car for Canada because of the way it was built. And we are still making new friends in Canada.

For instance. Every VW sold in this country now contains Canadian parts and materials. Things like steel, tires, headlights, bumpers, and engine parts. This alone represents a six million dollar investment in Canadian manufactured goods. We believe in doing business with our customers.

After 10 years Volkswagen has a sizeable stake in Canada. Between our 346 dealers and ourselves we have invested 54 million dollars in Canada's future and we provide jobs for 5,500 Canadians.

What more? Well consider this. Canada is a trading nation—it must trade to live. One of Canada's best customers is West Germany. The Volkswagen you buy helps Canada to sell West Germany a dollar and a half's worth of Canadian goods for every dollar's worth she buys in return.

Imports pay for Exports.

Make sense?

The Warriors lone reply was by L. Cowan (D. Turnbull, W. Jeffrey).

Growers Meet

The Digby County small fruit and vegetable growers meeting was held at the agricultural building at Conway, Monday night when William Lefort, Agricultural Representative for Digby County was appointed chairman of the meeting and Lloyd MacNeil was appointed as secretary.

Two guest speakers from Truro were present in the person of Walter Grant, assistant director of Extension and John Gates, Farm Management representative. Mr. Grant stated that he and Gordon Kinsman, Director of Horticulture, had made a survey of the farms in the Digby area. He pointed out that most of the farms being small it is difficult to make a living on them. The big problem to solve first is farm organization. To do this farm accounts have to be kept accurately and the farmers must work together to find markets for their crops. So the main objective of this meeting should be, he said, 1. To organize a group of farmers who are interested in growing small fruits and vegetables. 2. To study farm management, keep accounts on the farm, review what has been done in the past and find out what can be done in the future. 3. Market crops co-operatively. The Conway Co-operative is the logical agent to do such marketing.

John Gates of the Farm Management division was introduced by Walter Grant. Mr. Gates spoke on what can be studied and discussed in a Farm Management Club. On the farm we need a lot of planning he said. One of the main reasons why our young boys leave the farm is the lack of understanding and planning. In some cases lack of agreement between father and sons. He continued his talk by stating that the problems on farms are generally:

1. Business - Farming is a business and should be considered as such. As a business arrangements and planning have to be studied.

2. Income tax has to be paid and accounts have to be kept.

3. Work simplification through planning can make all the difference in the world.

4. Technology which is the scientific way of farming, has to be guided by farm account.

The Farm Management experts are trying to help farmers in working a farm program. This farm program he said, is entirely in the hands of the farmers depending on:

1. Income needed from farm. To know this the farmer has to take an inventory of the farm and find out how he can improve his income.

2. Alternatives - The farmer will have to choose for himself what is best for the business. There is a belief among some farmers that if you have not a milk contract you are doomed. This is far from the truth. He can find his alternatives in hogs, poultry, small fruits, vegetables, etc.

3. Information - The farmer has to know how to grow, to process and how to market.

4. Decision - The farmers have to make decisions. Some of them grow cabbage because its the custom in the area or because their grandfathers grew them. Others toss a coin and if it turns heads the grow cabbage, if it tails they go into livestock. The farmer has to make a budget and stick to it. The budget must be made so that the farmer will have a good investment with low cost of production and with as high a return as possible. If a farmer wants to change from one crop to another he must figure out the difference in cost production and returns from such a change over.

The factors influencing the changes are, he said:

1. Capital or money needed to go into such or such a crop.

2. The risk of changing over is important.

3. The farmer's preference for such a crop.

In conclusion Mr. Gates said that to farm successfully the farmer has to be ready to change with the times. What may be profitable this year might be out of date in three years time.

So as to have a continuation of the meeting during the year, a committee of three farmers was appointed to in charge of future programs. Those appointed on the committee were Gerald Chute of Bear River, Lloyd Jefferson of Rossway and Chipman Chisholm of Bear River.

It was decided at the end of the meeting to have a two day short course for the group the third week in Jan., 1963.

The following gave their names as being interested in aerial photos of their farms and also interested in a farm management program:

Warne Attends Agricultural Meet

Where do we go from here? What comes depends on you - It is clear that the government and the department of agriculture particularly are sympathetic to your problems, and that they look to you on how to proceed. The targets must be yours.

These were the words of S. E. Lewis, deputy agriculture minister, at the close of the one day agricultural meet in Truro last week. The meeting was one and the first sector of the provincial governments voluntary economic planning program. Others will follow, dealing with other phases of Nova Scotia's planned industrial growth. H. M. Warne, representing the Digby Board of Trade, was one of the 350 agricultural people who attended the meeting. Others from various parts of Digby County were also in attendance.

Five sub-committees known as segment committees of the agricultural sector were formed. These committees represent livestock, horticulture, poultry, dairy and field crops.

Finance and Economics Minister G. I. Smith, who is responsible for the government's participation in the economic planning set-up, opened the conference with a plea not only to farmers but to all persons concerned with the economy to cooperate in getting a plan for this important sector of the economy.

Mr. Smith outlined in detail the pattern by which the government hopes to have various sectors of the economy, such as agriculture and manufacturing, undertake with government help programs to aid each group specifically and an overall coordinated plan for the economy as a whole.

He said other sectors of the economy would be planned in the same way sector by sector. He divided the economy into eight of these sectors - agriculture, fisheries, mining, forestry, manufacturing, electricity, power, tourists and service. He suggested that these divisions might change as planning progressed.

"You will see at once that the whole basis of this type of planning rests upon the co-operation of all the elements in our society... it is not a

Would Have Watched Bounty Sail

Mrs. Kathleen Titus and Mrs. G. L. Coggins of Weymouth were visitors in Digby one day last week. Mrs. Coggins whose son, Ellsworth, is the famous captain of the Bounty expressed disappointment at the Bounty not coming to Nova Scotia. I was going to stand on the Angus MacDonald Bridge and watch her sail in, said Mrs. Coggins.

Time is a sandpile we run our fingers on. - Carl Sandburg.

program designed to find new means of providing government hand-outs. It is an effort rather to help a people to help themselves. It is not an effort designed to encourage the production of things which cannot profitably be sold. There is no virtue in producing things which are not profitable," he said.

Referring to the agricultural sector in session Mr. Smith said "In asking a cross-section of our whole economy to work with the farmers, and the farmers to work with them to plan for the improvement of the agricultural sector, we hope to encourage this mutual interest, co-operation and help. We expect to follow the same course as we work with other sectors," Mr. Smith said.

Agriculture Minister Haliburton, also expressing the need for province-wide co-operation in bolstering agriculture, said that every percentage increase in agricultural income meant three or four percentage points in the whole income of the province because of the additional money going to processors, shippers and others handling farm products.

Speakers at the conference in addition to Mr. Smith and Mr. Haliburton were Premier Stanfield, Trade and Industry Minister Manon, Professor W. Y. Smith, economic consultant to the finance and economics department and F. W. Walsh, former deputy minister of agriculture.

All the working groups agreed that future meetings should be held to continue with the planning program and all committees agreed to meet although only one - the horticulture segment committee - set a definite date for a meeting in Kentville January 11.

CHRISTMAS EVE

From starless skies the soft snow fell,
And eddied on a sudden swell.
The moon gleamed briefly through the cloud,
Torn by the wind, which bleakly howled,
Then suddenly was still.

Here where the street lamp cast its glow
On houses white with drifting snow,
There behind the darkened panes
Children dreamed of candy canes Hung on the tree below.

On city streets the melting slush
Muted the noise and slowed the rush
Of tardy shoppers homeward bound
As carols pealed in joyous sound, Born on the evening hush.

From stained glass windows, candleglow
Cast orange patterns on the snow.
The age old hymns drift o'er the night
Where now a star is shining bright
On the land below.

Its bright rays through the shadows cleave,
And here a silver pattern weave
Of silent cattle mid the hay,
As by a manger once they lay,
Tonight is Christmas Eve.

CHRISTMAS EVERYWHERE

Everywhere, everywhere, Christmas tonight!
Christmas in lands of the fir tree and pine,
Christmas in lands of the palm tree and vine,
Christmas where snow peaks stand solemn and white,
Christmas where cornfields stand sunny and bright,
Christmas where children are hopeful and gay,
Christmas where old men are patient and gray,
Christmas where peace, like a dove in his flight,
Broods o'er brave men in the thick of the fight;
Everywhere, everywhere, Christmas tonight!
For the Christ Child who comes is the Master of all;
No palace too great, no cottage too small.

ILL LUCK AT CHRISTMAS BROUGHT HEATHEN KINDNESS

Christmas Eve of the memorable year 1492 was unlucky for Christopher Columbus, who was planning to observe the Feast of the Nativity with the Indian chieftain, Guacanagari, who ruled over the island of Haiti.

Already he had received fine presents from the chief whom he believed to be the great Khan of Chuagno, that fabulous realm of the Orient Columbus mistakenly thought he had found.

But Columbus' plans went awry. He was so tired from long watches while the Santa Maria cruised the island channels that he retired to his cabin for a nap.

While he was sleeping, the next in command also decided to take a rest and went below. The helmsman, as tired as the others, decided that he deserved a rest as much as they and turned the tiller over to a cabin boy.

The worst happened. Within a few minutes the Santa Maria was fast on a reef. The rolling surf drove the ship higher and higher upon the reef and opened her seams.

Soon she fell over on her side and the water poured into her hull. Columbus and the crew were forced to seek refuge on his other ship, the Nina.

Early next morning Columbus sent word of the wreck to Chief Guacanagari. Promptly the chief sent a message that he would give him all the assistance possible.

The noble chieftain was better than his word. He assembled a great flotilla of canoes and dispatched them to the Santa Maria to bring all the valuables ashore.

Amid the cargo the natives saw many things that made their eyes open wide with envy. Yet so strong was their friendship for the white men and so careful Guacanagari's supervision that not a single article was stolen.

After the last article had been brought ashore, Guacanagari had another plan. His guests had missed Christmas but there was no reason why Columbus and the men should not enjoy the finest banquet he and his followers could provide.

There was game from the woods, lobster and fish from the sea, and all sorts of tropical fruits and vegetables. A thousand natives danced in Columbus' honor after the feasting and the climax of the ceremonies came when the chief brought out a coronet of gold and placed it upon Columbus' head. There were also presents of gold for the crew.

In the journal which he kept for Ferdinand and Isabella, Columbus wrote: "Those people love their neighbors as themselves; their discourse is ever sweet and gentle, and accompanied by a smile. I swear to your majesties, there is not in the world a better nation or land."

A ROYAL CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

I said to the man at the Gate of the Year
Who stood at the portal wide:
"Give me a light that I may not fear
"As I cross to the other side."
And the Man replied with a kindly nod:
"A light you do not need; I But put your hand in the Hand of God
And go where he doth lead,
"His Hand shall be to you a guide
Better than any light,
And safer than charted way beside;
Go forth nor fear the night!"

— B.I.L.S.

A CHRISTMAS PRAYER

Christmas brings that blessed message,
"Unto us a Child is born,
Unto us a Son is given,"
Praise the Lord for Christmas morn.
Father God who are in heaven,
Hear our prayer for thankful praise,
Help us live our love for Jesus —
Giving thanks through all life's days.
Lord, we thank Thee for Thy mercy.
For the joy Thy birthday gives;
Deep within our hearts, Lord Jesus,
Every Day Thy birthday lives!
Faithful God and loving Saviour,
Help us give to Thee our all —
Give the talents Thou hast given,
Help another hear Thy call.
Help us show how much we trust Thee
By the way we live each day —
Guide us Lord, we fall without Thee,
Thou who art Life's only way.
Father God — Thy Christmas message,
Unto us a Child is born,
Unto us a Son is given,"
Gives New Joy each Christmas morn.

THE MUSIC OF CHRISTMAS

Christmas, without the beautiful music which through the centuries has grown up around the celebration of Christ's birth, would lack sparkle and inspiration. Much of the music associated with Christmas is folk music — carols whose composer is unknown and whose words and melody have been changed gradually through the years as they were handed down from generation to generation before music notation was developed. And every year modern composers are writing new carols in honour of the birth of Christ.

This community is fortunate in having an opportunity of hearing a great deal of beautiful Christmas music. Most of the schools and churches in the district, have had or will have, special services at which carols will be sung and other Christmas music heard.

Christmas music on the radio has been exceptionally fine this year so far but nothing takes the place of actually singing carols in company of one's friends and neighbors. We suggest that you plan to attend one or more of the special services which will be conducted in community churches during the holiday season.

WHAT I SEE AT CHRISTMAS

Christmas lights and tinsel
And presents on a tree
Merry Christmas messages
Are sent from you to me.

But as I sit and ponder
Of that first Christmas Day,
I see a little baby
As he sleeps upon the hay.

I see the lowly shepherds
As they travel from afar,
I see the wealthy wisemen
As they gaze upon the star.

And as I keep on thinking
Of that night so dark and still
I seem to see a rugged cross
Upon a lovely hill.

I see that same dear baby
As he hung upon the tree,
He gave his life that we might live
Yes, He died for you and me.

And then I see an empty tomb
With an angel by the door,
And I hear those words so precious
"He's alive for evermore".

AMERICANIZED ST. NICHOLAS

The original Santa Claus was St. Nicholas, a 4th century bishop in Asia Minor who gave gifts to the young and poor. But the legendary patron of children has undergone striking changes of robe, beard, personality and transportation as he drove through the ages. The American Santa, rotund and ruddy aboard his reindeer sleigh, evolved from the St. Nicholas of Dutch colonists in New York. The transformation reached full stature in Dr. Clement Clarke Moore's classic, "A Visit from St. Nicholas", in 1823.

Greeting cards are an English contribution. Two of the first cards — designed in the 1840's but not generally sold for two decades — bore an identical message still most widely used today: "A Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year to You."

The tree tradition goes back to the 8th century missionary St. Boniface who persuaded the Teutons to transfer their worship of Odin's sacred oak to the more, symbolic evergreen, decorated in honor of the Christ Child's birth.

SEASON'S GREETINGS!

TIPS ON CHOOSING LASTING CHRISTMAS TREE

If your Christmas tree shed needles all over the living room last year, chances are you weren't careful enough in buying a "fresh" tree.

Touch typing will help you pick a choicy tree. You can tell by the feel which trees are better able to withstand the hot siege indoors.

If twigs and foliage aren't reasonably resilient or needles feel dry and crumbly, better pass up the tree. Chances are it will look like a hat-rack before Christmas day. And if you're not quite sure by the touch method, bang the butt of the tree sharply on the floor. A shower of needles will tell you if the tree's drying out, even before you get it home. Of course, the way the tree looks is an important factor, but an attractive tree that will lose its beauty in short order is hardly a bargain.

The ideal holiday tree boasts the traditional pyramid shape, with lush branches reaching to the base. The two favorites in the market places are Balsam fir and Norway spruce. The slower growing Balsam fir is more expensive than the spruce, but it retains its beauty longer indoors.

MERRY CHRISTMAS.

The essential thing to remember with regard to Santa Claus is that clothes don't always make the man.

Santa's costume should be anything but the red and white livery everyone presumes he appreciates. What he should wear is a cope of cloth of gold and in lieu of a tasseled cap — a mitre on his white locks. For Santa Claus that superlatively misunderstood Christmas man, is none other than good St. Nicholas of Myra, bishop, confessor, saint.

People are still talking plenty about a "mythical" distributor of Christmas gifts. If they only knew their heavenly Who's Who, they might whisper a prayer to the far-famed Christmas personage who really walked this earth some 1600 years ago, and who fashioned for himself a halo in the process.

THE FIRST CRIB

"A certain knight, valorous and true, Messer John of Greccio who for the love of Christ had left the secular army, and was bound by closest friendship unto the man of God, declared that he beheld a little Child right fair to see sleeping in that Manger, Who seemed to be awakened from sleep when the blessed Father Francis embraced Him in both arms.

"This vision of the devout knight is rendered worthy of belief, not alone through the holiness of him that beheld it, but is also confirmed by the truth that it set forth, and in addition proven by the miracles that followed it."

St. Bonaventure.

YOUR FAVORITE BABE!

Sometimes a mother hardly realizes what blessings come to her little one — especially when compared to the Christ Child in that cold stable at Bethlehem. Mary held Him close to her breast to keep Him warm. Today's babies (most of them) lie within insulated walls.

A star or two reflected light into the cave. Our electric lights are still a miracle to those who have to fuss with lamps with smokey chimneys. True, there was an angel chorus to sing a lullaby to the Holy Babe. Today, much of the world's best music is available at any time by just turning the button on radio or TV. There was gold, frankincense and myrrh for Bethlehem's Babe; but no toys or pretty rattle or lovely bassinet. Perhaps the big brown eyes of cattle watched Him as He slept. But He slept in hay, no soft and downy coverlet to keep Him warm, no toy animal to cuddle.

But above all — and this is of far more worth than creature comforts — the Christ Child spreads a canopy of stars above you baby's cradle and surrounds him with all God's love and everlasting blessings!

Your baby is the miracle you hold within your loving embrace. The Child of Bethlehem is the Miracle to be cherished in your heart!

SIZABLE FORTUNE

Tradition has it that Saint Nicholas was born at Patara in Lycia, a province of Asia Minor. Nothing very precise is known about the boyhood and teen years of this top flight celebrity beyond the fact that he came from sound Christian stock and was orphaned early in life. Orphaned but not penniless, that is; for his thrifty parents had left him a sizable fortune.

Any giddy adolescent who'd struck it rich in Asia Minor would have jumped at the chance to spend the bonanza. But not Nicholas. Yes, even in those days a young fellow could wade through money like a duck through water; he could go in for one big splurge and end up empty handed. But, a God conscious youth could acquire a fortune without losing his head, and this one built his funds into three parts: for his own expenses, for Masses for his parents and for charitable purposes.

MERRY CHRISTMAS.

DUTCH DO IT RIGHT

The only country that takes Santa's episcopal status into account seems to be Holland. The Dutch do it the right way. In their land of dikes and windmills, the modern double of St. Nicholas is attired like a bona fide bishop with mitre, cope, pastoral staff, zucchetto and pontifical ring.

Centuries back, the Dutch people affectionably shortened the word "St. Nicholas" into "Sinter Klaas." When they naturally brought along their "Sinter Klaas" which in time became Americanized, for better or for worse into Santa Claus.

MERRY CHRISTMAS.

HAPPY HOLIDAY

By retaining for them some outward rejoicings, they may the more easily be won to rejoicings of a spiritual kind. Letter from Pope St. Gregory to St. Mellitus, quoted by the Venerable Bebe in his History of the English.

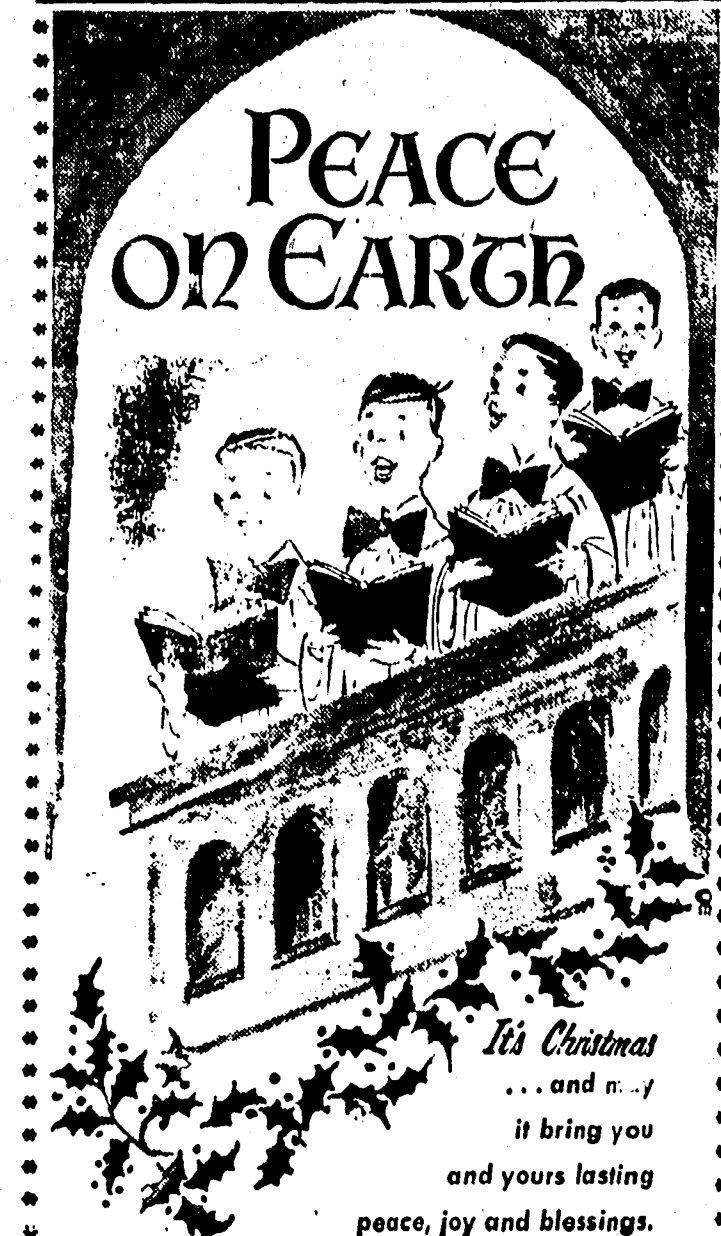

When Pope St. Gregory the Great sent out missionaries in the seventh century, he told them to let pagan converts weave the harmless features of their festivals into the spiritual fabric of Christian observances. But whether of pagan or strictly Christian origin no other day combines such a harmonious pattern of religious, seasonal and national traditions in so many corners of the world as Christmas.

THE Digby Courier

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1962

Christmas as we observe it in the United States is a pageant of something old, something new, a great deal borrowed, and all of it blended into the happiest holiday of the year.

As for the old, pagans decked their halls with holly for mid winter festivals thousands of years before the birth of Christ. In comparison, three favorite symbols of Christmas are fairly new: the Christmas tree, the greeting card and Santa Claus in his modern guise.

CHRISTMAS REVERIE

"Can any good come out of Nazareth?" This is always the question of the wisecracks and knowing ones. But the good, the new, comes from exactly that quarter whence it is not looked for, and is always something different from what is expected. Everything new is received with contempt, for it begins in obscurity. It becomes a power unobserved. — Paul Johann Feuerbach, German jurist (1775-1833). The world has grown so small today. That Bethlehem's not far away. The hills where shepherds watched by night Are circled now by routine flight. With speed and ingenuity We've conquered earth's geography. But still the angels story chimes Above a world of troubled times. And, too, the gentle Christ Child knocks, On doors where hate has forged the locks, And turned the hearts of men once more Down evil, twisted paths of war. The world has grown so small today. That men must lose their pride and pray That love will motivate the mind Till peace shall come for all mankind.

I would rather be an author of one original thought than the conqueror of a hundred battles. — William Benton Clulow.

THE CHRIST CHILD HAD NOTHING AT CHRISTMAS
(By Ena Constance Barrett)

The Christ Child had nothing at Christmas — In the Inn there was no room; So a Virgin suffered her travail In a stable's lonely gloom. Yet, all the glory of Heaven, And all the hopes of the Earth Were met in that lowly shelter When Mary gave Jesus birth. The Christ Child had, nothing at Christmas — No soft little quilted bed, No cushion of down and satin To pillow His precious head, Yet, Angels stood by the Master, Their carols of joy to sing; Their voices in exaltation, Their voices in exaltation. The Christ Child had nothing at Christmas — No beautiful robe had He; Only the love in a mother's eyes, And the shade of a Cross to be. Yet, the promise of Life Eternal Came down to the Earth that day, Sealed in the heart of a Baby Asleep on the sweet, clean hay. The Christ Child had nothing at Christmas — No tree with its lights ashine No neon signs in the darkened streets Brought cheer to the Babe Divine. Yet, Shepherds and Kings and Wise Men, Believing came from afar, Seeking the crib of a Saviour, By the light of one blazing Star.

The Christ Child, had nothing at Christmas — Does He have any more today, As the world spends this blessed season In its own mad, reckless way? While glasses click in the night clubs, And the devil and man keep tryst, You can hear, like the soft rain falling, The tears of the little Christ, Sweet Child who had nothing at Christmas. We need you so much tonight, With Christianity challenged And evil armed for the fight; Weary of war and turmoil, Weary of strain and stress, Our longing souls are enlanguered For Bethlehem's tenderness. O dear little giver of Christmas Come back to our hearts and live, Bring us that peace we know so well This world can never give. Strike the chords of our spirits Till they wake to the wondrous touch, Of a Christ who had nothing at Christmas That we might have so much.

SANTA'S DILEMMA
Since Santa doesn't like to skip anyone he's faced with a dilemma here. If he should get lost climbing down this old castle's chimney, he's likely to miss out on the rest of his rounds. On the other hand, if there's a passage to the fireplace at bottom, he'd certainly like to stop in. Would you please check on his best course of action?

There would be no Christmas without Christ. This is the essential part of Christmas — the part we are not to forget. All of our Christmas endeavors lose value if we neglect to hug this thought to our hearts.

IT'S CHRISTMAS
...and may the joys of Christmas abound in your heart always.

IT'S FROM SANTA! — Wow-o-o, it's from Santa! marvels eight-year-old Patsy Henderson of Moncton as she reads the Santagram which has just been delivered to her home by a Canadian National Telecommunications messenger. Last year some 20,000 of these gaily-colored messages from Santa were delivered to children by CNT, more than a third of them in the Maritimes. This year the tradition is being continued. Thousands of girls and boys will receive Santagrams dattained at the North Pole, assuring them they will not be forgotten on the night before Christmas. THE YEAR 46 B. C. CONTAINED 445 DAYS

The longest year in calendar history was 46 B. C. and contained 445 days. This is how it happened: Numa Pompilius supposedly created the Roman calendar in the seventh century B. C. It was revised several times, but by Julius Caesar's time it was two months behind the sun. When Caesar's experts revised the calendar in the year 46 B. C. there was the problem of catching up with the sun. So two months were inserted between the months of November and December. As a result 46 B. C. contained 445 days. There is no report of the confusion it must have caused, but it must have played heck with the tax collections and the like. God creates all forms of reality. His thoughts are spiritual realities. — Mary Baker Eddy. SEASON'S GREETINGS!

"BORN THIS DAY"

And it came to pass, as the angels were gone away from them into heaven, the shepherds said one to another "Let us now go even unto Bethlehem and see this thing which is come to pass, which the Lord hath made known unto us." And they came with haste and found Mary and Joseph and the Babe lying in a manger. Now when Jesus was born in Bethlehem of Judaea in the days of Herod the king, behold, there came wise men from the east to Jerusalem, saying, "Where is he that is born King of the Jews? for we have seen his star in the east and are coming to worship Him." "Fear not, for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord." CHRISTMAS DAY

Hail, blessed day! to Christians dear. Dawn with thy wondrous story Of how the Son of God came here From his 'bright throne of glory. Hail, blessed day! when first to earth Angelic hosts of splendour Proclaimed the royal Saviour's birth His highest praise did render.

See how in raptured awe they band Arise with haste to meet Him, See how raptured in awe they stand As reverently they greet Him.

There lies the world's Creator blest, The glorious King of heaven, to whom all homage is addressed, All adoration given.

Hail, heavenly Child! like those of yore, We, too, would come before Thee, Our inmost longings to out-pour, To worship and adore Thee.

Hail heavenly Child! incarnate Love More fair, than all earth's creatures; That love which drew Thee from above Shines forth in Thy pure features.

Hail, blest Redeemer, heavenly Child! Lo, now Thou art our Brother, By taking manhood undefiled, Of Thy sweet Virgin Mother.

Hail, heavenly Child! With us abide; O part Thou from us never, But let the joys of Christ-mastide Abide with us forever. Wm. Edgar Enman.

SEASON'S GREETINGS!

THE CHRISTMAS STORY

And it came to pass in those days that there went out a decree from Caesar Augustus, that all the world should be taxed.

(And this taxing was first made when Cyrenus was governor of Syria).

And all went to be taxed, every one into his own city. And Joseph also went up from Galilee, out of the city of David, which is called Bethlehem (because he was of the house and lineage of David)

To be taxed with Mary his espoused wife, being great with child.

And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered.

And she brought forth her first born son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger, because there was no room for them in the inn.

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the fields, keeping watch over their flock by night.

And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them and the glory of the Lord shone round about them; and they were sore afraid.

And the angel said unto them, Fear not; for behold, I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people.

For unto you is born this day, in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord.

And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger.

And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men.

St. Luke 2:1-14.

THE REAL MEANING OF CHRISTMAS

Soon it will be Christmas. In millions of homes across the country families and kinsmen will sit down together, eat a little more than is good for them and make merry. There will be a slight temporary, yet perceptible allround rising of the temperature of human kindness.

What does it all mean? For a minority Christmas is a religious commemoration, the highlight of the Christian year. For a majority, it is merely a feast and a holiday and is kept by them because their fathers kept it because their earliest memories of celebration and family reunion go back to Christmas Day.

The "Christian myth" that is how clever men refer to the body of Christian belief out of which the Christians feast rises. But before we dismiss the "myth" there are certain historical facts which we should do well to remember.

The first is that on a specific day there was born in the manger of a poor inn in Judea a child called Jesus. He was not a prince or statesman or a warrior. He was not a member of a conquering race; He wrote no book, raised no artistic monument. His years on earth were few and lived out in a poor, obscure, conquered province. He was regarded by cultivated and educated contemporaries as a person of no consequence. As a matter of prosaic history, it is to celebrate this Man's birth that we sat down to eat roast turkey and plum pudding. It takes, one might think, much explanation.

The theological interpretation put by churches and scholars on Christ's reported words has varied in all ages & varies to this day. What there never has been any doubt about is that those who knew Christ best during his life and particularly after His terrible and agonizing death, became convinced that He both was and knew Himself to be more than man. He believed He was the Son of God, and He succeeded in the teeth of every opposition, ridicule and persecution in communicating that belief to others.

What Jesus did caused them to worship what He was. For what He did created in those who were witnesses of it — and in those who came to learn of it only by hearsay — a conviction of what He was. The conviction was so intense that they regarded His existence on the earth as infinitely the most important thing that had ever happened. Not only did they try to alter their own lives — to live, however unsuccessfully, as He had lived — but in many cases they deliberately elected to die as He had died. This is not a myth; it is fully documented history that happened and nothing can alter that fact.

For this wonderful man, whom those of us who call ourselves Christian believe to have been more than man, possessed an attribute which we know from our own experience to be utterly beyond the capacity of human nature. He possessed an infinite capacity for love that enabled Him to regard and treat every other being's personality, need and suffering as though they were His own. He did not love only individually and spasmodically, as all human beings at times do; even the worst and most selfish; He loved so much that all human suffering and need mattered to Him.

Moral perfection is incompatible with human nature.

For if a perfect man existed in a world such as ours, he would die of horror and compassion at the terrible things that happen in it every second. However tender and loving, however shaken and moved by the sufferings and tragedies that affect them person-

BIRTH OF THE SAVIOUR WAS GREATEST EVENT IN WORLD'S HISTORY

Pleasant as it is to dream of a "White Christmas" with its carols and gifts, feasting and merry making, the sparkling eyes of children delighting in Santa Claus and the wonderful Christmas trees, these things never can symbolize the tremendous significance of the day.

The birth of the Saviour was the greatest event in the history of the world. In spite of all the backslidings, Christian peoples have pressed forward steadily.

However vicious and corrupt the world today is far better than the world of pagan times; familiarity with the cross and crucifixion has abolished legal tortures and much cruelty — and, if given a chance, might shame us into banishing the curse of international viciousness for the sake of Him who became the Saviour of Mankind.

CHRISTMAS . . . is a time for enjoying the gentler graces of life — a hospitable table, fine food and other luxuries — a time for sharing these graces with others — Christmas is a time for the good life.

They are the true disciples of Christ not who know most, but who love most. — Fred erick Spanheim.

Meet the first beginnings; look to the budding mischief before it has time to ripen to maturity. — Shakespeare.

MERRY CHRISTMAS.

ally, men and women instinctively close their hearts to other tragedies every whit as great as their own and those immediately around them. A perfect being would not shut his heart in self protection. He would suffer with others and give himself unceasingly to relieve and succor them.

The whole meaning of Christmas, the miracle of Christ's birth — and death — is that once and once only in human history was there such a being. He so loved His fellow men that His whole life was dedicated without the least alloy of self to the relief and service of all those who stood in need of them.

Two simple Rules

He left us two commandments: that we should love God — whose nature He revealed to us by His own — with all our being; and that we should love our neighbor as ourselves. However for we are from fulfilling either, we all of us, as a result of Christ's life, come at Christmas for a moment a little nearer to both.

THE SWEETEST STORY

No more lovely story has ever been told than that of the first Christmas. In legend, in song, in drama, in life it has spun a mighty web around the whole world.

There is something incomparably pathetic about the account of that first Christmas Eve, when the tired and travel worn couple entered the little Judean town of Bethlehem, after a long and tiresome journey and tried to find shelter for the night.

It was their old home town, but they had been away so long that no one seemed to know or remember them. The streets were crowded with strange faces. Only those who have come into a strange city after nightfall to find it crowded with all accommodations taken, know that feeling of utter loneliness and helplessness. This is especially true after nightfall. There are people in abundance, but none interested in you.

Providence has a way of overruling the best laid plans of men and turning their errors to fit the greater divine plan. The hour has struck for the advent of the world Deliverer, and the Lord of all is ushered into the world in a stable.

How the guiding hand of the Ruler of worlds directed the stage setting of this greatest of world dramas time has borne testimony.

Mother and child were moved the next day into the more comfortable quarters of a Bethlehem home, but the birth had taken place in the humblest of places with the companionship of the meek.

Ere the Holy Family left their stable shelter, the shepherds, humble men, came to give the best they had — their adoration. Then in swift succession came the world's great and wise with costly gifts and the two extremes of society met around the Christ Child.

Imagine, if you can, men who had never had anything in common before sharing together the Christ. The world has never been the same since.

Barriers have a way of breaking down in the presence of Christ. The unconscious spirit of good will at Christmas time is fine evidence of this fact. Crowds jostle one another in the shops and on the streets, but where frowns might have been the order at another time, at Christmas time there is a different spirit of friendliness and good will.

A troubled and aging world torn by factions in society, distrust among nations, clashes between capital and labor, and alas, divisions within the church of Christ, might recall with profit the experiences of that first Christmas, when men found a common ground on which all could meet.

CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

"I don't know that I can answer your question son, but I'll try."

"The Christmas spirit . . . well, it's something you can't touch as you can the tree, or feel as you do the cold and the wind and snow. It's greater than the distance to a star or the silence of the night more wonderful even than Santa Claus. . . ."

"Oh, yes, Christmas trees and snow, presents and things they're all part of the Christmas spirit. But these are things that we could have the whole year round without the Christmas spirit. It's only at Christmastime that they . . ."

"Why? Well, it's because the Christmas spirit sort of changes the way we look at things and the way we feel. Little, everyday things, usually so important, go off somewhere and are lost among the Christmas tree lights or the evergreen arches along Main Street. We completely forget about ourselves as we gather presents for all our birthdays and anniversaries, it's true, but it's not the same. When Christmas spirit moves us, we feel happy. We just want everyone in the whole world . . ."

"Is it being happy?" Not just being happy as such, it's being happy and kind, and generous full of peace and most important of all being reverent, all at once.

"Sure, like when we are in church. Outside the snow is deep and the midnight wind through the trees. But inside there's warmth and comfort and a quiet peacefulness that you don't find anywhere else. Though just outside, the world, with its wind and snow and trees and stars and sky seems far removed. The flickering altar candles seem to be repeating a humble prayer in a language of their own. Your heart swells inside you and suddenly you are warm to the very tip of your toes. It's then that you know . . . that you feel it . . . the true Christmas spirit. With every breath you know you are nearer and closer to Him . . . you know."

God? Surely God. You know it all the time. The Christmas spirit doesn't come from Santa, nor does it come to any man as a present. It comes only when each of us, though we may have been careless and forgetful, reaffirm our faith in His presence and goodness and so strengthen our hopes to be with him forever and forever. Then we have the Christmas Spirit, the most wonderful feeling in the world.

Letter to the Editor

Candler, North Carolina, 11/28/62.

Editor, Digby Courier,

Digby, N. S.

Dear Mrs. Wallis, Maybe some of your readers, of your Women's Corner would like to try these for Christmas Cheer.

Christmas Colored Cones To prepare cones for burning in the fireplace dissolve 2 table-spoons of powdered glue in one gallon of water.

Dip cones and drain. Sprinkle with various chemicals, finely powdered, and let dry.

1. Powdered strontium chloride - makes a red flame. 2. Barium chloride - green. 3. Copper sulphate - blue. 4. Potassium chloride - lavender.

5. Sodium chloride (table salt) - yellow. These chemicals may be obtained from the drug-store.

Another method may be used by dipping cones in self-polishing wax and drain. Sprinkle chemicals on them and let them dry.

Try this too!

Anchor a tall red candle to the bottom of a tall apothecary jar with child's modeling clay. Toss in a handful of moth-balls, and add a quarter of a cup of vinegar, plus a teaspoon of soda, for every glass of water needed to fill the jar.

The moth balls will bounce merrily around the candle for an hour or so. When they get sluggish, add another dash of soda and vinegar. It will jostle them back into action.

May I say Merry Christmas to all your readers, and especially to my relatives and friends in the Weymouth area?

Adelle Blackadar Johnson, Candler #2, North Carolina.

Editor's Note — We are grateful to Miss Johnson for contributing the above to our Women's Corner.

To ask wisdom of God, is the beginning of wisdom. — Mary Baker Eddy.

GUARD AGAINST FIRES THIS YULE SEASON

Guard against fire in your home this Yule season.

A small tree is safer than a large one and festive trimmings can make up what is lacking in size.

Don't use lighted candles. (This may seem an unnecessary precaution in this day of electric lights, but lighted candles contribute to tragic fires every year).

For a Christmas trim to a party going casserole, sprinkle a circle of snipped parsley atop the dish and add one or more clusters of "berries", i. e. thin slices of pimento-stuffed olive.

MERRY CHRISTMAS.

NO MORE SANTA CLAUS

In 1930 the authorities in Mexico decided to abolish the Santa Claus during the Christmas festival as they considered him out of place in a country where snow is seldom seen. The well known bearded figure was ousted by Quetzalcoatl, the Indian god, half bird, half snake, who was worshipped by the Aztecs before the Spanish invasion.

In its new Christmas program the southern country has made a feature of the distribution of presents to thousands of needy children by the plumed serpent, and every year this big scale present giving takes place on December 23.

GOD REST YE MERRY Christmas is not the greatest feast of the year, but it possesses a social atmosphere or feeling of its own. It is an atmosphere which persists and quickens for a fleeting moment our drab lives, despite the commercial and materialistic assaults on its spirit by the Santas and the Rudolfs of the song writers and the advertising agencies.

Certainly it is no thanks to commercial and advertising interests, if the true fundamental spirit of Christmas still survives. Due in part to them the revellings of the old pagan festival of Yule are more practiced in many lands than the Christian observance of the Nativity. It was to counteract the growing tendency to think of Christmas only in the materialistic sense that there was started the campaign to Bring Christ Back To Christmas; but his campaign
although conceived laudably, carries within itself its own shortcomings.

It might be suggested that what is really needed is to Bring Christmas Back to Christ.
But apart from that an already apparent danger was pointed out last week by the Chancellor of this Diocese in an address to C. W. L. members.

The Chancellor said that over emphasis of aspects of the campaign had tendered simply to encourage commercialism in religious cards and articles connected with Chris-mas without encouraging any lasting appreciation of the significance of the feast.
After a few days perhaps even before all the turkey had disappeared from the tables, people reverted to their materialist outlook.

What is needed, said the Chancellor is to bring Christ back into our everyday lives, not just at Christmastime. In this way, all our lives will be Christian.

Will this lessen our fun at Christmas? Hardly, for the basis of the Christmas observance is joyousness; rejoicing that God did not disdain to become Man for our redemption; gladness that the Lord of all became on this day as the least of all; gratitude that our Saviour "assumed human nature to reconcile it with its Author, and conquer the devil the inventor of death, through that flesh which he had conquered.

The man who, in the name of religion, seeks to dampen our spirits at Christmas, misrepresents the mind of the Church, does God an injustice and His children a disservice.
In the office for Chris-mas, the Church quotes St.
Leo: "Our Saviour is born today; let us ratify day of Life.
Let no man be cut off from a share in this rejoicing." And the Church goes even further making almost a demand that the Christian be joyful when on Christmas Eve she prays no less than six times that "we who joyfully receive Thy only begotten Son as Redeemer may safely behold Him when He comes as Judge."

Christmas is joyous feast, not only for the children, but for all the children of God. It is the feast of the family, and a family feast in which joy, fun and merriment have rightful place. And so our Chris-mas wish for you is aptly expressed in the words of an old and favorite carol, God rest ye merry. Let nothing you dimay.

HOLIDAY SAFETY CHRISTMAS TREES

Here are some Christmas safety tips from the National Safety League of Canada. One:
After the right tree is selected, make sure that the base is sawed off at an angle. Two:
Keep the tree standing in water during the entire period it is in the house. This helps keep the tree from drying out. Three: Try to place the tree well away from fireplaces, radiators, television sets and other sources of heat.
Four: Don't use candles for decoration. Don't smoke near it. Use only approved electric lights and make sure the wiring is in good condition.
Five: If you leave the room or house for any length of time disconnect the tree lights.
Six: Take the tree down before it becomes dry and easy prey for fire. If these safety points are kept in mind, they will help keep home and family protected against needless Christmas tree fires. Extra care can mean extra fun.

OLD SUPERSTITION ABOUT EATING MINCE PIES

Many writers say the mince pie originated in Germany, while others claim that its beginning is lost in the annals of history. Nonetheless, it was an essential part of the yuletide celebration in early England.

Old superstition held that any person refusing to eat mince pie would be unlucky for the coming year. Should he accept the invitation, and partake of mince pie during the holiday season, he would have the same number of happy months during the year as the number of houses at which he ate mince pie.

EVERY GOOD GIFT IS FROM ABOVE

God's gift — every good

For God so loved the world

What are you, dear readers, giving God, for Christmas?
God is asking, "Whence com-thou go?"

He, the Lord, one born in a manger, is pleading: "My son, give me thine heart, and let thine eyes observe my ways," Proverbs 23, 26.

Christmas is a time of giving but how small all gifts are compared to God's gift to a lost world — His only begotten Son Jesus Christ our Saviour, who came into the world to seek and save that which was lost.

Thanks be unto God for His unspeakable gift, 2 Cor. 9, 15. How deep is the love and the gift of God!

Christmas is a time of family gatherings. Hate and jealousy is forgotten, for the gift and the love of God shall cover the multitude of sin. But the gift of God must be accepted through believing — "that whosoever believeth on Him shall have everlasting life."

Thus we must have repentance unto God, faith in Jesus and be sanctified through the Holy Ghost.

The Lord Jesus came in the flesh almost 2,000 years ago, and is coming today in spirit in every repentant sinner's heart. John 14, 23: "Jesus said unto him, If a man love me, he will keep my words, and my Father will love him, and we will come unto him, and make our abode with him."

The third time, He, the Lord is coming in the clouds of heaven with power and great glory, Matt. 24, 39. Let us therefore use wisely our days of grace in preparation to enter the glorious eternity.
For "The Hope of the righteous shall be gladness, but the expectation of the wicked shall perish," Proverbs 10, 28.

TIME FOR REFLECTION

Christmas is a time for reflection. It is a time when all of us could take a few moments off to examine our hearts and see how much Christmas spirit really exists within. Is there truly goodwill within our souls for all mankind or do we merely make Christmas a bacchanalia celebration of feasting and drinking, of handing somebody a tawdry trinket and expecting something back?

How many times in the past year did you exercise consideration and thoughtfulness for others? How tolerant were you of your fellow man, how forgiving were you in the past twelve months? Did you stop just once to help somebody who had fallen? Did you put yourself out just once to add a bit of cheer for the downcast? How often did you go out of your way to succour
the ailing or comfort those who knew sorrow?

If you accomplished all these things, the world was better for the moment, indeed for all the future.

For tolerance, thoughtfulness, cheerfulness and helpfulness for those who need it form the great gift of Christmas, 365 days of the year.

He who was born two thousand years ago on the first Christmas night, came into this weary world to preach and practise all these heavenly virtues. In His short ministry on earth he had hoped that all men would apply themselves with Christian zeal to His own Golden Rule. And indeed, sad must He have been then and since at the bitterness and selfishness which rule the hearts of His people.

As Dickens wrote in his immortal Christmas Carol, one should always keep the spirit of Christmas within one's heart. It is easy yet all of us must confess there have been times when our thoughts and our actions were hardly in keeping with the true precepts of this most holy season.

Yes, let's keep the spirit of Christmas within our hearts every waking moment. What a wonderful world it truly would be.

A CHRISTMAS WISH

I wish you "Merry Christmas"
And joy and peace as well,
And may you hear the Angels' song
In every chiming bell.

And may the Yuletide gladness
Find echo in you heart,
And all of life be richer
When the Christmas hours depart.

The childhood shows the man, as morning shows the day. — John Milton.

A bad beginning makes a bad ending. — Euripides.

Well begun is half done. —
Horace.

CUSTOMARY MINCE PIE EVEN BETTER WITH CRANBERRIES

There are many old and interesting customs from different lands connected with Christmas. In some countries cake and breads were made in the shape of horns. In Switzerland and France the goodwife made a "thanks cake" for every cow, sheep or goat the family possessed. These cakes were put in wrappers and given to the poor. Homemakers of Austria and Germany made spice dough in the shapes of religious symbols — pictures and quotations appeared on gingerbread.

During the Middle Ages almond cookies were made in honor of the Christ Child. In France godparents threw dragées (similar to Jordan almonds) to village children waiting on the church steps. Mince pies are equally traditional for Christmas. In Elizabethan days a huge mince pie was kept in the castle hall during the Yule season — an invitation to eat and come again. Fruit and spices represented the gifts of the Magi; the meat, the barnyard animals that shared the stable with the Christ Child; the coffee or pastry shell, represented the manger. Cranberries, distinctively American contribution, did not come into the Christmas preparations until a much later date. The bright color and pleasing tartness of this abundant native fruit soon gave it a place in holiday food planning. Combining cranberries and mince meat, here is a recipe for a beautiful pie which will enhance any Yuletide meal. The decorative wreath is easily made from the pie crust.

Cranberry Mince Christmas Pie

3 tablespoons, quick cooking tapioca
1 cup sugar
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 cups fresh cranberries
3/4 cup water
1 1/2 cups moist mince meat
Pastry for two crust 9 inch pie
15-20 Pastry Holly Leaves

Few whole uncooked cranberries
Combine tapioca, sugar, salt, 2 cups cranberries, water and mince meat in saucepan. Cook and stir over medium heat until mixture comes to a boil. Cool, stirring occasionally.

Roll half the pastry 1/8 inch thick. Line a 9 inch piepan and trim pastry at edge of rim. Roll remaining pastry 1/8 inch thick and cut several 2 inch splits or a fancy design near centre. Fill pie shell with fruit mixture. Moisten edge of bottom crust. To adjust top crust, fold pastry in half or roll loosely on rolling pin; centre on filling. Open splits with knife. (Well opened splits are important to permit escape of steam during baking). Trim top crust, letting it extend 1/2 inch over rim. To seal press top and bottom crusts. Press edges together on rim, using tines of fork. Bake in hot oven (425 degree F) 45 minutes or until syrup boils.

MOST BELOVED CAROL IS "SILENT NIGHT"

The most beloved carol of the many that are sung in all parts of the world is "Silent Night," that simple and tender German song.

Its origin was unknown for many years. Recent research, however, disclosed that it was written by Joseph Mohr, an assistant priest in Oberndorf in South Germany. The melody was composed by a schoolmaster, Franz Gruber. The poet and composer were part of the choir that sang the carol for the first time on Christmas Eve in the Oberndorf church in 1818.

The night it was sung the small church's organ was out of order and the choir sang to the accompaniment of a guitar.

Since then the carol has been sung to the tune of almost every musical instrument in the world and in the languages of nearly all men.

With heavy bubbles that do not burst.

Before serving arrange baked Pastry Holly Leaves around edge of pie, overlapping leaves slightly to form a holly wreath. In the centre of the pie, arrange whole cranberries and 2 or 3 pastry leaves in a cluster to resemble a sprig of holly.

Pastry holly leaves. Use pastry recipe for 1 crust pie. Roll pastry 1/8 inch thick and cut holly leaves about 1 to 1 1/2 inches long. (Make pattern from paper, then cut out pastry leaves with a sharp knife). Brush lightly with cream. Bake on a cookie sheet in a hot oven (425 degree F.) 8 to 10 minutes or until very lightly browned.

DUCK FOR CHRISTMAS DINNER

For the small family a young duck or two is something different and hearty to serve for Christmas dinner. The skin is white and tender and the flesh underneath is dark, rich and flavourful. Ducks are quite fat so no basting is needed — in fact after the first hour of cooking the fat and the water in the pan should be poured off, the same with goose. A 325 degree F. oven is recommended and the stuffed duck should be placed breast up on a rack in the roaster with one cup of boiling water added. It will take about two and a half hours or about 40 minutes per pound to cook a four pound ovensized duck. The flavor will improve if the cooked bird is allowed to stand awhile after cooking so it should be taken out of the oven a little ahead of mealtime and kept until it is put on the table.

Stuffings that go with duck are many and varied but the semi-tart, semi-sweet flavors of fruit stuffing such as apple, cherry or orange and raisin, seem to combine especially well with this rich meat. A stuffing highly recommended by some duck lovers consists simply of quartered apples and onions, and another one of just chopped onions and celery. Well seasoned mashed potatoes make a good basis for duck stuffing and a combination of sauerkraut, chopped celery and bread crumbs is good, too.

It is the birthday of this King of kings and Lord of Lords that we celebrate. May the Spirit of God, which is the only true Christmas spirit, help all to humbly but joyfully extol the Child that was born and the Son that was given Jesus the Saviour.

THE GREATEST EVENT IN WORLD HISTORY

"Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given," Isa 9:6a. The birth of Jesus Christ in Bethlehem of Judea was the greatest event in world history. It brought to the world a Christian civilization, without which our existence would be practically intolerable. We cannot deny that the incarnate Christ and the efficacy of the redemption wrought through Him is the pulsating heart of every mortal and kindly and beneficent purpose of man. Whatever good there is in us has come from Him.

Through the consecrated ministry of those who have accepted His commission to continue the work He began countless numbers of people today acclaim Jesus the Son of God and the Saviour of the world. Alleged disbelievers in His deity have done their best to break down His blessed influence, destroy His Word, uproot His established church; but His spirit lives on and His gospel is carried by obedient followers to the uttermost parts of the earth. In His name the spiritually blind receive their sight, the moral leper is cleansed, the thief made honest, the drunkard is cured, the outcast becomes pure again, distress is relieved, the poor have the gospel preached to them, and the way to eternal life is made straight and plain for the people.

If you would create something, you must be something. — Goethe.

GOD'S OWN GREAT GIFT
German, Dutch and Swiss children have for centuries received gifts in remembrance of St. Nicholas on his feast day, December 6. The Dutch who settled in New Amsterdam brought this custom with them. But eventually the feast of giving was changed from December 6 to December 25, honoring God's great gift of His own Son.

In olden days St. Nicholas was extremely popular in Asia, where every church had its shrine in his honor. He was also widely venerated in Germany, Italy and other European countries. By the end of the Middle Ages, more than 2,500 churches and chapels were dedicated to St. Nicholas within the Roman obedience. Of this number, approximately 400 were in England. This great man of God is still mentioned daily in the Greek liturgy. The Orthodox Church observes his feast on May 9. The celebrated Flemish painter and dean of the Bruges Painters Guild, Gerard David, has portrayed St. Nicholas at an open window with a bag of gold in his hand. Three girls are asleep in a bed, propped up on a high pillow, their sandals scattered about the room. Their serious minded father sits on a bench by the window.

Three golden apples, representing bags of gold, are the most familiar symbols of St. Nicholas. According to legend these are the origin of the pawnbroker's sign.

GOOD SHEPHERD
Nicholas had an uncle who was a bishop. Impressed by the young man's exemplary Christian living, this bishop ordained Nicholas a priest at the earliest age sanctioned by the customs of the Church. And he predicted that his nephew would become, all in good time, the "consoler of the afflicted, the savior of souls in peril, the good shepherd who gathers the scattered sheep into the fold of Christ".

Nicholas, just home from a pilgrimage to the Holy Land, journeyed on business to the city of Myra. It so happened that his bishopric was vacant at the time, and the Spirit of God inspired both clergy and people to cast their eyes upon the priest from Patara as being the choice of heaven. Nicholas was accordingly consecrated a bishop in the year 325.

SAFETY WITH TOYS
If you still have toys to buy, remember these tips from the National Safety League of Canada: Buy toys that fit the child, not just something you would like to play with. For example, don't give a chemistry set to a child too young to appreciate or understand the dangers involved in its misuse of such a set, or roof and child may go into orbit! If the toy is for an infant, be sure there are no sharp edges, or small parts that could be swallowed. Don't be forced by last minute shopping into buying anything without regard for the dangers the toy might bring. Make every toy a careful selection based on appropriateness and value. Guard a child's Christmas pleasures with safety measures.

THE LIGHT OF THE STAR
Golden shone the desert sands
Beneath the starry sky,
And, through the night the laden shepherds
From the hills passed by.
First the star and then a song
Seemed not to make the journey long.

In the night to Bethlehem
The travellers made their way,
Searching for their manger low,
Beneath a starry ray.
And when they saw the lowly place
A glory fell on every face.
Golden shone the present that the Wise men brought the Child;
The shepherds gifts were simple ones,
But Mary's face was mild.
And rich and poor bowed on their knee
In reverence and simplicity.

Many years have passed since then
Many stars have gleamed,
But never has a star so rare
From out of the heavens beamed.
As that far star of living light
Which shone upon that Christmas night.

Today the star shines in our hearts,
It glitters in our eyes;
Just as it glistered long ago
From out the midnight skies.
That means its light will never die —
Forever it will shine on high.

Greetings
Best Wishes to you and yours for a most Joyous Christmas

TWAS THE NIGHT BEFORE CHRISTMAS
'Twas the night before Christmas,
When all through the house
Not a creature was stirring,
Not even a mouse;
The stockings were hung by the chimney with care,
In hopes that St. Nicholas soon would be there;
The children were nestled all snug in their beds,
While visions of sugar plums danced through their heads;
And mama in her kerchief and I in my cap,
Had settled our brains for a long winter nap.

When out on the lawn, there arose such a clatter,
I sprang from my bed to see what was the matter,
Away to the window I flew like a flash,
Tore open the shutters and threw up the sash.
The moon on the breast of the new fallen snow,
Gave a lustre of midday to objects below;
When what to my wondering eyes should appear,
But a miniature sleigh and eight tiny reindeer,
With a little old driver, so lively and quick,
I knew in a moment, it must be St. Nick.

A bundle of toys he had flung on his back,
And he looked like a peddler just opening his pack.
His eyes how they twinkled! His dimples how merry!
His cheeks were like roses, his nose like a cherry,
His droll little mouth was drawn up like a bow,
And the beard on his chin was as white as snow.
The stump of a pipe he held tight in his teeth,
And the smoke, it encircled his head like a wreath.

He had a broad face, and a round little belly
That shook, when he laughed, like a bowl of jelly.
He was chubby and plump — a right jolly old elf,
And I laughed when I saw him, in spite of myself.
A wink of his eye and a twist of his head,
Soon gave me to know I had nothing to dread.

He spoke not a word but went straight to his work,
And filled all the stockings; then turned with a jerk,
And laying his finger aside of his nose,
And giving a nod up the chimney he rose,
More rapid than eagles his couriers they came,
And he whistled and shouted, and called them by name:
"Now Dasher! Now Dancer! Now Prancer! Now Vixen!
On, Comet! on, Cupid! on, Donner and Blitzen!
To the top of the porch, to the top of the wall;
Now dash away, dash away, dash away all!"
As dry leaves that before the wild hurricane fly,
When they meet with an obstacle mount to the sky,
So up to the house top the couriers they flew,
With the sleigh full of toys and St. Nicholas, too.
And then in a twinkling I heard on the roof
The prancing and pawing of each tiny hoof.
As I drew in my head and was turning around,
Down the chimney St. Nicholas came with a bound.
He was dressed all in fur from his head to his foot
And his clothes were all tarnished with ashes and soot;
He sprang to his sleigh to his team gave a whistle
And away they all fled like the down of a thistle;
But I heard him exclaim as he drove out of sight —
"Happy Christmas to all, and to all a Good-night!"

ROAST A GOOSE
To roast a goose, a 325 degree oven is recommended in which it will take three hours to cook either an eight to twelve pound undrawn goose or a six to nine and a half pound eviscerated one. The stuffed bird should be placed on a rack in the roaster with one cup of boiling water added and the pan covered tightly. After cooking for one hour the water and fat should be poured off and the cover left off for the rest of the roasting time.
Many French recipe books call for chestnut stuffing with goose but filberts may be used instead — in either case at least one pound of nuts should be added to the basic stuffing. Potato, apple and apricot stuffings are all good with goose and marjoram and sage are appropriate seasonings to use. If the inside of the goose is rubbed with lemon and salt before stuffing, it is sure to be remembered with pleasure.

CHALLENGING YULE PARTY STUNTS
Unless you are an exceptional person, you cannot —
1. Stand for five minutes without moving, while blindfolded.
2. Stand with both your heels together against a wall and pick up something from the floor.
3. Light a candle while balancing your weight on one knee.
4. Turn around rapidly five times and then walk a straight line.
Try these feats and test them on your friends. It's a good routine for breaking the ice at a party.

MERRY CHRISTMAS.

CHRISTMAS IN THE HOSPITAL
Good health is so common a blessing that few of us remember to give thanks for it, even at Christmas. If we were among the thousands who leave a hospital just before Christmas or on Christmas Day itself, we would be full of Christmas thanks for health bettered or fully recovered. So, remember to include in your prayer at Christmas and on every day "Thanks, dear God, for good health" and say a special prayer for hospitals and their year round service to suffering humanity.
And for those who happen to be patients in a hospital at Christmas, there are many things that we can do. As to what these acts should be varies according to conditions and places, but it is the spirit that is important. And don't forget the poor overworked staff who, in addition to their regular duties, do so much "beyond the call of duty" to make Christmas in the hospital a day of cheerfulness and brotherly love, a day in every sense one of goodwill among men.

MERRY CHRISTMAS.

WHEN THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD WAS BORN
Hark, the herald angels sing,
"Glory to the new born King
Peace on earth and mercy mild,
God and sinners reconciled."
Joyful all ye nations rise,
Join the triumph of the skies;
With angelic hosts proclaim,
"Christ is born in Bethlehem."
Hark! the herald angels sing,
"Glory to the new born King!"

A CHRISTMAS TOAST
Now Christmas is come,
Let's beat up the drum,
And call all our neighbors together,
And when they appear,
Let us make them such cheer,
As will keep out the wind and the weather.

The beginning is the most important part of the work, — Plato.

CHRISTMAS EVE MEMORY CHECK
Did you remember . . .
To take home a few extra toys? If you are expecting two or three neighborhood small fry to drop in, you can be sure six will show up. And three toys and six children do not enhance "Peace on Earth."

Did you remember . . .
To check the Christmas tree lights? Not day before yesterday. Not last week. We mean right now. A few stores are still open and you can supply new ones. Better pick up a few more ornaments too.

Did you remember . . .
Those last minute Christmas cards? If not, you can send telegrams to friends too far away for cards to reach them by December 25. You can even have a messenger call at your house while the guests you invited in for the snacks are there, and probably everybody will remember someone far away who should have a Christmas greeting.

Did you remember . . .
To hang some kind of Christmas decoration outside the house, so passing strangers may enjoy some of the Christmas glow that is in your home and reflect it around your town? Remember, everyone has a part in this Christmas cheer, not just your small circle and the more cheer you scatter the more you will gather.

beyond all human understanding. Is it little wonder that we sing, "Joy to the World?"
The coming of Jesus the Christ is the one event which is the answer to every other event. Have you heard the story? Has it found its way into your heart? If it has, then you wish Peter will say of Jesus: "You are the Christ." And in that moment come.

A JOY NO EARTHLY WEALTH CAN GIVE
There is an old tale which becomes appropriate chiefly at the Christmas time.

An agnostic — a disbeliever — made this offer to a nine year old:
"I will give you an orange if you tell me where God is."
The youngster was equal to the challenge. "I will give you two oranges," he said. "If you will tell me where He is not."

Many great men have always felt the spirituality of Christmas, and some have managed to put it into words.
For instance when Woodrow Wilson was asked to prove the greatness of Christianity, whose founder was the Christ Child, he said simply, "Try it."
Cardinal Spellman had a Christmas gift for the mind
when he said:
"The joy of Christmas is a joy that war cannot kill, for it is a joy of the soul, and the soul cannot die. Poverty cannot prevent the joy of Christmas for it is a joy no earthly wealth can give. Time cannot wither Christmas, for it belongs to eternity. The world cannot shatter it, for it is a union with Him who has overcome the world."

The late Franklin D. Roosevelt once illustrated the spirit of Christmas with this story:
"A thief broke into the home of a priest and stole his purse.
That night the priest wrote in his diary: 'Let me be thankful. First because I was never robbed before. Second because although he took my purse, he never took my life. Third because although he took all
I had it was not much, and Fourth because it was he who stole and not I'."

KEEPING CHRISTMAS
Are you willing to stoop down and consider the needs and desires of little children, to remember the weakness and loneliness of people who are growing old; to stop asking how much your friends
love you and ask yourself whether you love them enough; to bear in mind the things that other people have to bear in their hearts; to try to understand what those who live in the same house with you really want without waiting for them to tell you; to trim your lamp so that it will give more light and less smoke and to carry it in front of you so that your shadow will fall behind you; to make a grave for your ugly thoughts and a garden for your kindly feelings with the gentle step — are you willing to do these things, even for a day? Then you can keep Christmas.

Are you willing to believe that love is the strongest thing in the world — stronger than hate, stronger than evil, stronger than death — and that the blessed life which began in Bethlehem 1900 years ago is the image of the Eternal Love? Then you can keep Christmas.

And if you can keep it for a day, why not always?
But you never can keep it alone.

That which the fool does in the end, the wise man does in the beginning. — Richard Trench.

Love is the hardest lesson in Christianity; but, for that reason, it should be most our care to learn it. — Penn.

WHEN LOW THINGS ARE EXALTED
Once again it is Christmas!
And once again we see the eternal truth that what is wisdom on God's part is foolishness to men. For it is with every coming of Christmas that we see low things exalted to places of high decree.
It is with every coming of Christmas that we see God choose the weak things of the world to confound the mighty,
the base things of the world to confound the arrogant and the foolish things to confound the so called wise. God comes down to earth at Christmas time in utter humility. This is the time when our ideas
our standards, our values, our answers, are all judged by the truth in Jesus!

Life is a vexing problem —
No one can deny it. Man labors strenuously with his brain and hands to find an answer to what it all means. We flee to the highest heights, we flee to the best in human thought, we flee to the strongest of human creations. And where do we find ourselves? We find ourselves sitting on the mountain peak with philosophies that are but day dreams and with the threat of atomic annihilation over our heads.
And all the while God has come down to Beth-lehem town!

Is not Christmas the time when so called high things are revealed to be barren?
Is not Christmas the time
When simple things become the really high things after all? Is not Christmas the time when the apparent foolish things on earth is the highly esteemed thing in heaven.

Look at the Christmas story.
There is a poor young wife,
Mary, at Nazareth, thought nothing of and regarded as one of the lowliest women in the town. No one is aware of the great wonder she bears.
And she herself keeps silent, does not pride herself and thinks herself the town's poorest woman. She goes up to Bethlehem with Joseph, her husband. Luke presents them to us as the most wretched and disdained of all the pilgrims, being forced to give way to everyone till at last they are turned out into a stable and made to share snuff and straw with the beasts, while says Luther:
"Merry a wicked man sits in the inn above and is treated like a lord." Not a soul notices and knows what God is doing in that stable. He leaves empty the mansions and stately chambers and leaves the people to their eating and drinking and their good cheer.
What a thick, black darkness was over Bethlehem then, that she failed to see so great a light. That night God had no regard for the world and its ways. And that night also,
the world had no regard for God,
for what He was and is and does.

The Christmas story is an invitation to renounce high things for something that is simple and lowly and yet in spite of its simplicity is the great wisdom and power of God. It is the story of God become Man. To receive it we must renounce ourselves and receive God on His own terms.
It is a simple and wondrous story — God coming to earth to walk with us. We are offered that early joy our first parents knew in the Garden of Eden. It is the story that lifts the burden of life. It is the story which brings peace

CHRISTMAS TREE CAN BE DISASTROUS Christmas trees, a symbol of gaiety and happiness, too often becomes a mass of flames and a symbol of disaster, according to the All Canada Insurance Federation.

Trees, decorations, and special Christmas costumes should all be chosen with special care and protected from fire.
The Federation, which represents more than 200 Canadian fire, automobile and casualty insurance companies, makes these recommendations for safety in the home during the Christmas season:

1. Choose a small Christmas tree; it will be less hazardous than a larger one.
2. Keep the base of the tree in a container of water; the water will be absorbed and keep the tree moist.
3. Keep trees away from stoves, heaters and fireplaces.
4. Use good quality electric lights on the tree not candles.
5. Check your lights for any defects which might cause
short circuits.
6. Be sure that Christmas lights do not overload the electrical circuits in your home.
7. Keep papers, gifts and other inflammable articles away from the base of the tree until Christmas eve.
8. Do not use paper, gauze like materials or other highly inflammable cloths for children costumes.
9. Check carefully for burning cigarette butts after every party or gathering in your home.

CHRISTMAS FOR CHRIST
Christmas is essentially a home day. Children troop home from school wildly excited about the day of all days. Young people from college or business have been looking forward to this for weeks. Those from a distance strive to make home at all costs. If they fail they phone and if they cannot get through on the phone they wire. The one thought which more than any other gripped the boys and girls in the forces was home. Home at Christmas giving and receiving gifts, enjoying a Christmas dinner, just sitting around relaxed chatting about this and that playing with the children trying to make their mechanical toys work.

It is a wonderful day, for home. It may be a little cottage, perhaps a larger house or even a more pretentious building, but it is not the building that makes the home. It is the spirit of those who live inside its walls. The parents, brothers, sisters who are bound together in a common concern for each other.

It is hard for us who live in the twentieth century to think of a time when the home did not hold the affections and the interest of the family that it does today. But the family as we know it is a Christian institution. Before the Christian era children were all but ignored. They had to be fed and clothed of course but that was about all. Women too were but the slaves of men.

MANY PEOPLE STILL CELEBRATE FEASTS BY ANCIENT CALENDAR
Many people who use the Gregorian Calendar still so-lemnize traditional feasts including New Year in accordance with ancient calendar.

The Jews observe a 10 day
New Year season at the time of the autumn equinox. The observances begin on Rosh Hashana and end on Yom Kippur; Rosh Hashana commemorates the Day of Creation and is also the annual day of judgment with judgment being irrevocably sealed on Yom Kippur (the Day of Atonement); therefore the spirit of penance dominates the solemnities.

Penance is also a feature of Hindu observances solm-nized in accordance with the ancient lunar calendar during the spring equinox.

The Moslem calendar, which dates from 626 A.D., is unique, since the twelve months of the year begin with the approximate new moon without any calculations to keep them geared to the seasonal equinoxes. Thus, the months — and New Years, too — retrograde through the entire year in about 33 years.

CHRISTMAS BELLS
I heard the bells on Christmas Day
Their old familiar carols play,
And wild and sweet
The words repeat
Of peace on earth, goodwill
to men!
And thought, how, as the day
had come,
The belfries of all Christendom
Had rolled along
The unbroken song
Of peace on earth, goodwill
to men!
Till, ringing, singing on its way,
The world revolved from night to day.
A voice, a chime,
A chant sublime
Of peace on earth, goodwill
to men!
Then from each black, accursed mouth
The cannon thundered in the South.
And with the sound
The carols drowned
Of peace on earth, goodwill
to men!
It was as if an earthquake rent
The hearth stones of a continent,
And made forlorn
The households born
Of peace on earth, goodwill
to men!
And in despair I bowed my head;
"There is no peace on earth,"
I said,
"For hate is strong."
And mocks the song
Of peace on earth, goodwill
to men!
Then pealed the bells more loud and deep:
"God is not dead, nor doth He sleep!"
The Wrong shall fall,
The Right prevail,
With peace on earth, goodwill
to men!"

Love is to the moral nature exactly what the sun is to the earth. — Honore de Balzac.

They had a very inferior place in the family.
Christianity changed all that. Jesus set a child in the midst of a crowd and gave him
the position of prominence.
Women too were given new status in the society that He established. The home is a Christian institution. Whatever good there is in it stemmed from the teaching of the founder of our faith.

Christmas In The Churches

Grace United
Rev. R. H. Hughes took the text for his Christmas Sunday morning sermon at Grace United Church from Matthew: "And they shall call His name Emmanuel." He said, "Emmanuel, he said, means God With Us and he expounded on the text from the two themes of love and human. God has been revealed to us in nature, history, providence and our lives, he said, but Christmas reveals to us God's mind and heart. By the light of the Gospel God is seen as the light of the world. We cannot find God through reason, he said, but only through the revelation of Jesus Christ. He continued that Jesus should be the standard by which we can judge ourselves and if we were to condemn them we must be willing to save. If we say we are a Christian then we must be willing to follow Christ, he concluded.

The musical highlight of the morning at Grace United was a solo "O Holy Night" by Miss Margaret Liddle, of Acadia University. Miss Liddle is daughter of Rev. Stuart Liddle, of Alberta. Two at them were rendered by the choir with Miss Margaret Liddle on guitar, in which a solo part was taken by Mrs. J. M. W. Liddle and a duet was sung by Mrs. Elton Arnold and Mrs. Emerson Graham.

Four hymn books were received at Grace United on Sunday in memory of the late Mrs. William Snow. A sum of money was also received as a "Living Memorial" to the late Mrs. Snow.

United Baptist
The Christmas service held in the Baptist Church of Digby on Sunday morning was attended by a large congregation. While a number of the members of the choir were away from home during the Christmas holiday, special music by those present was provided in the form of an anthem and a duet under the direction of Wallace Hodgson and with Mrs. Jean Olsen as organist.

The pastor, Rev. H. Hartlin, spoke on the topic "The Unfading Wonder," referring to the wonder that has always existed in the hearts of men from the days of the Bethlehem shepherds to the present in the reality and greatness of God's love revealed in His Son Jesus Christ, and what that love does for the redemption of men. Only as we retain this capacity for wonder, he said, can we be humble enough to learn and to grow in spiritual knowledge, grace and power.

During the service the pastor called attention to the forthcoming departure of Rev. L. R. Atkinson for India. Mr. Atkinson will represent the Canadian Baptist Foreign Mission Board in a series of evangelistic conferences which he will conduct on the mission fields in India. He will be absent for a period of three months.

The annual Sunday School Christmas Concert was held in the church auditorium in the evening with a capacity congregation. Various exercises and Christmas songs were presented by the members of the church school under the direction of their teachers. The music was written by A. Dillies, Mass No. 1, Mr. E. J. Thorburn, Mass No. 2, and a number of Christmas Carols were sung by the choir and Hubert Deveau were soloists, sang, both by the choir and the congregation. Mr. Chastet, Novello's "Adieu Fideles", and "The Christmas Carols" were sung by the choir. During the latter part of the program the smaller children were taken to the church hall and treated with ice cream.

The church was beautifully decorated with greenery, flowers and lighted candles tastefully arranged by Mrs. Chester Levy.

St. Patrick's
Traditional Midnight Mass was offered at St. Patrick's Church Christmas morning at 12:01 a.m.

Proceeding the Midnight Mass the girls' choir, under the direction of Sister Ann Catherine, sang Christmas Carols.

Prayers of the Mass, as the 9:00 o'clock Mass, later in the morning, given by young people.

Legion Hall Dedicated At Clementsport

At a festive evening, December 15, 1962 marked an important event in the history of Clementsport Branch No. 122 of the Royal Canadian Legion. That evening the new, recently dedicated Legion Hall was dedicated by the Rev. W. H. Laidlaw, pastor of the Parish of Clementsport, an impressive ceremony.

The evening was presided over by the president, Eric W. Laidlaw. In addition to Rev. W. H. Laidlaw, the guest of honor, P. M. Nickerson, M. L.A., and W. H. Laidlaw, mayor of Acadia University. Past President, E. L. Roy and Leslie W. Laidlaw, of whom spoke at the ceremony.

Mr. Roy paid a glowing tribute to the work of the members of the Legion Auxiliary of the Legion for their assistance at all times, with special recognition to the work of Mrs. W. H. Laidlaw in the Poppy campaign over the years and particularly this year, in spite of her own bereavement, she carried on with excellent results.

Past President Leslie Wright also paid tribute to the members of the Legion for their interest and work with the Legion, particularly reference to the magnificent contribution in time and labour by comrades Walter Robar and Clyde Potter in charge of building operations.

Clementsport Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion was chartered on January 20, 1948, with the late William Brown the first president. The Branch has grown and prospered and today has 96 veterans on the membership roll.

This branch a few years ago, purchased the Ely Hall which has been repaired and improved over the years. Last Fall the building was placed on a new foundation, and major renovations carried out. The upper hall has been finished in mahogany and fir plywood, and the floor is covered with battleship linoleum. The lower floor contains a recreation room, and a modern kitchen. A new oil furnace has been installed, as well as water and toilet facilities. All in all, the Legion Hall provides excellent facilities for the many and varied activities carried on by this progressive group of veterans.

After the dedication ceremony a social hour was enjoyed with dancing and an abundance of choice refreshments. Music was supplied by an orchestra composed of Jim Sanford, Darrel MacGowan, Earl Wright, Vaughn Mulen and Clyde Wright.

Clifford Hasset, of Tampa Florida, who is spending some time in Nova Scotia, was a visitor in Digby on Saturday.

Robert Beckwith, of Acadia University, is spending the holidays with his parents Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Beckwith.

Other selections sung were the Pastors, Father Luc Gaudet, "The Midnight Mass," a High Mass, was sung by St. Patrick's choir. The music was written by A. Dillies, Mass No. 1, Mr. E. J. Thorburn, Mass No. 2, and a number of Christmas Carols were sung by the choir and Hubert Deveau were soloists, sang, both by the choir and the congregation. Mr. Chastet, Novello's "Adieu Fideles", and "The Christmas Carols" were sung by the choir. During the latter part of the program the smaller children were taken to the church hall and treated with ice cream.

The church was beautifully decorated with greenery, flowers and lighted candles tastefully arranged by Mrs. Chester Levy.

AT THE STROKE OF TWELVE WHEN YOU GREET A BRAND NEW YEAR, WE'LL BE WISHING WITH YOU THAT IT BE ONE OF PEACE AND REAL HAPPINESS.

Guides Hold Carol Sing

On Wednesday evening some 36 members of the 1st Digby pack of Brownies visited many homes in town to sing carols. They also conducted a carol sing at the community Christmas tree, which is located in the centre of town.

The carol singing program was under the direction of Mrs. Robert Beattie and Mrs. Robert Morgan, leaders of the Guides and Brownies.

The Guides also held their annual Christmas party on Thursday evening. The party got underway at 6:30 p.m. at the Lions Hall. Hostesses were Guides Patty Chisholm, Beverly Kaulback, Barbara Cottrill, Janice Cudmore and Rachael Roy.

Guests at the party were Mrs. W. L. Carson, district commissioner; Miss Louise Daley, judge secretary; Mrs. E. H. Anderson, president of the local association; and Mrs. Robert Beattie, Guide Captain.

Parish Hockey Scores

Last week's play in St. Patrick's parish hockey league resulted in the following scores:

First game: St. Pat's, 13 goals by Doug VanTassel, 1; John Amero, 2; Richard VanTassel, 2; David Doucette, 2; Paul Burgess, 1; John Cole, 1; Billy Nickerson, 1; Savios, 1; goals by Tom Amiraull, 8.

Second game: St. Therese's, 7 goals by Eric Melanson, 2; Fred Jordan, 2; Danielle Doucette, 1; Andy Doucette, 1; Pete Comeau, 1; Christophers, 2 goals by Mark Amiraull, 1; Mike Surette, 1; Mas-on VanTassel, 1.

Spread Christmas Cheer

Red Cross rooms at the Court House were a scene of activity on Wednesday afternoon when several women along with the president, Mrs. Raymond Lent and Delbert Forest gathered to pack Christmas Cheer boxes. Above at work are left to right, Mrs. Daniel Comeau, Mrs. George Winfield and Mr. Forest. They stand behind a table laden with toys but these did not represent a quarter of the articles which had been donated for the Christmas Cheer boxes. Christmas gifts for children of all ages including teenagers were spread on chairs and over the floors ready to be packed. They consisted of boys fairly large size wagons to the tiniest of cars. Girls toys included large dolls, miniature designs and all types of pretty, useful and amusing items.

Prominent in the work of collecting and distributing the gifts were Mrs. Comeau, Mrs. Winfield and Mr. Forest. Mr. Forest had gathered many used toys during the year but by the time Wednesday

Lions Announce Contest Judges

The judges for the Digby Lions Home Decorating contest have been announced by project chairman, W. E. Hodgson.

Mrs. A. H. Trepanier of Annapolis Royal, C.P.O. and Mrs. E. A. Rigby and C.P.O. and Mrs. R. C. Knight all of H.M.C.S. Cornwallis have consented to act for the 1962 contest, the third such contest to be held in Digby. It is hoped that in future seasons, lighting of the down town area will be a part of this annual event.

The judges will be taken in a tour of the town during the evening of Thursday, Dec. 27th, and the winners will be advised the same evening by telephone and a subsequent announcement in this paper.

The guest judges will be entertained by committee members and club officers and their wives at the Lions hall following the viewing of the contesting homes. The winners as usual will be decided by ballot as soon as the judges return from the tour through town.

As in the past two seasons the winners, their wives and judges will be entertained at the first regular supper meeting in January (Jan 9th). It is at this meeting that the individual prizes will be awarded.

Had arrived there was little difference in appearance of the newly bought and the renovated articles.

Boxes were packed for complete families with a gift for every child of whatever age, boy or girl in the family.

Mrs. C. H. Saunders and brother, Oscar McKay, Sandy Cove, were in Digby on Saturday enroute to Wolfville to spend Christmas with Mrs. Walter McKay and Mary Eliza, formerly of Digby.

Holiday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Elton Arnold are their daughter, Carolyn of Acadia University and her friend, Miss Glennis Liddell of Acadia University and Alberta.

About 600 children met Santa Claus at the Digby Forum last Thursday afternoon. The jolly old gentleman assisted by local scouts and sea cadets distributed treats to the youngsters. A decorated tree and clowns helped to make the occasion a happy one.

Farmers Meet

In November, over two thousand Canadian farmers met to discuss the role of farm organizations in Canada. Out of their discussions emerged a number of interesting conclusions.

Farmers are too often indifferent to their organizations. They decline to take part for various reasons, but know that any gains which are made by their fellows who do work through organizations will benefit them as well. Compulsory membership in a major farm organization might be a solution.

There are many farm organizations. The farm voice is divided on important subjects. The cost of administration is increased.

Farm organizations fail to keep their members informed. Too often meetings are dull, information does not reach the grass roots and the membership is not told about important decisions. On the other hand, when lengthy appeals to the membership are made before policy is worked out, it may take too long to reach an effective decision. Nevertheless, education and information services should be expanded. More local meetings should be held.

Farm organizations do not work together. Even though the goals may be similar, there is too much emphasis on narrow interests; not enough on the welfare of all Canadian farmers. There should be more co-operation among farm groups.

There is a circular problem. When organizations are weak and divided, results of organization are not significant. When results are not significant, few farmers want to support the organization. Would compulsory membership help to build stronger farm organization, wondered a number of the groups.

On the positive side, the groups lauded the Federation of Agriculture, the Farm Union, Cooperatives, Farm Forum and commodity groups.

The Federation and Farm Union "present problems to government, are democratic, provide an opportunity to discuss problems, help to provide stable prices, provide a united farm voice, increase farm bargaining power, and provide solutions to farm problems".

The Co-operatives, Wheat Pools and Grain Growers provide competition in the market place help to stabilize prices and provide items at lower cost.

Farm Forum "help to develop ideas and provide a democratic base for farm organizations".

Commodity groups "have improved marketing conditions have stabilized prices and have provided power in the markets".

Western N. S. Folk School

The Western Nova Scotia Regional Residential Folkschool will be held again this year at the Parker House in Caledonia from February 3rd through 9th, 1963. All organizations in the area are being invited to send a representative to the school, and it is hoped that they will again participate by sponsoring one or more of their members.

Last year this Folkschool was shortened from eleven to six days. As much as possible of the composition of the eleven day course was condensed into six day course and the program was more dynamic and functional. This change was initiated with the expectation that more people would find it possible to attend for the shortened period, and more than thirty attended throughout. This represented a 100% increase from the previous year.

Another consideration in favor of the condensed and shortened Folkschool is expense. The cost to each student for the six day program will be approximately $25.00. This covers room and board throughout the Folkschool, including supper on Sunday evening through dinner on Saturday, Feb. 9th, 1963. This represents a considerable drop from previous Folkschool costs to the student or sponsoring body, and will, no doubt, have some bearing on one's decision to attend.

The purpose of the Folkschool remains unchanged:

(A) It is designed to help people better understand themselves, their communities and their fellow man.

(B) It gives students an opportunity to discuss the problems of family and community relationships in an effort to achieve co-operation within these areas.

(C) It provides instruction and experience in programme planning and group leadership, reading, conducting meetings, group singing, drama, recreation and a look at Nova Scotia's past present and future, all of which are related to the three main topics at Folkschool: Your Occupation, Your Life in the Community, and Your Heritage as a Nova Scotian.

The Folkschool atmosphere will be as stimulating as ever, with every effort being made to help students fit into a setting of acceptance and co-operation through participation. Students will receive new ideas from reading and discussion, will develop interesting programmes to include recreation, music and drama, providing opportunities for individuals to learn by doing. People at Folkschool will have many common interests and will develop skills and techniques in special interest groups and skill sessions.

The Folkschool will be conducted by the Adult Education Division and will be staffed by members of the Dept. of Agriculture's Extension Services, the Adult Education Division in co-operation with the Department of Public Health and Physical Fitness Branch, whose services are always at the student's disposal for advice and consultation.

The Adult Education Regional Representative, or the local Agricultural Representative can supply further information.

Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Shortliffe of North, Range are spending their Christmas holidays with their son, Alfred and Mrs. Shortliffe in Monton.

Driver Education Course At WCS

A driver education course will begin in January at Weymouth Consolidated High School. Sponsored by the school's Home & School Association, it will be held in co-operation with the Department of Education and Department of Highways. Cars will be provided by a Weymouth garage and a local insurance agent will provide the necessary insurance.

About twenty-five students are expected to enroll in the course. They will share expenses with the Department of Highways. The Home & School will donate about $300.00. Chester Sabean will be the instructor. He took his pilot course in driving safety in Digby, and also attended courses in Fredericton.

The committee in charge of the school, consists of Chester Sabean, chairman; Mrs. E. L. Stockdale, secretary; Mrs. Carl Blynn, treasurer; and Gifford Lewis. Mrs. Blynn is receiving

About 600 children met Santa Claus at the Digby Forum last Thursday afternoon. The jolly old gentleman assisted by local scouts and sea cadets distributed treats to the youngsters. A decorated tree and clowns helped to make the occasion a happy one.

HAPPY NEW YEAR

Women's Corner

Crispy golden cracker crumbs hide plump, succulent scallops from view in this elegant but easily made casserole dish.

Tasty, But Elegant

An easy meat dish, which is also festive, is a homemaker's joy this time of year. Most varieties of shellfish are ideal for this type of dish, but one which especially comes to mind is the scallop. Scallops are in good supply now and are reasonably priced. They are readily available in frozen form in many food stores.

The first step, while most of the scallop has a rather sweet flavor which is especially good in a casserole dish. A wonderfully simple one to keep in mind for a busy day is Scalloped Scallops. Prepared in similar manner to the classic scallop, Scalloped Oysters, the scallops are quickly baked between layers of buttery crumbs. A little chopped onion and green pepper are added flavor fillips.

Scalloped Scallops

- 1 pound scallops
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper
- 1 medium onion, sliced
- 1 medium green pepper, chopped
- 2 tablespoons butter, melted
- 2 cups medium coarse soda cracker crumbs
- 1/2 cup melted butter
- 1 cup light cream
- 1/2 cup milk

Thaw scallops, if frozen. Rinse well in cold water to remove any grit; drain. Cut large scallops in half. Season scallops with salt and pepper. Fry onion and green pepper in 2 tablespoons of melted butter for 5 minutes. Combine with scallops. Combine cracker crumbs and 1/2 cup melted butter. Spread 1/4 of crumb mixture over bottom of the greased 6 cup casserole. Cover with a layer of scallop mixture. Repeat layers. Combine cream and milk. Pour over contents of casserole. Top with remaining 1/4 of crumb mixture. Bake in a hot oven, 450 degree F., for 20 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

A PARTY DISH

A big party casserole is one of the most dependable and easily served buffet dishes. It can be prepared well in advance of serving time, bakes with little attention from the cook, and stays piping hot in its container until the guests are ready for seconds.

A new casserole of this type, recently tested in the kitchens of the Department of Fisheries of Canada, combines lobster meat in a delicate Fondue Celestine type of dish. The recipe, which recently won second prize in its category in a nation wide recipe contest, is quite simple and all of the ingredients are easy to obtain.

Party Lobster Strata

- 1 pound cooked or canned lobster meat
- 10 slices white bread, crusts removed
- 1 cup mayonnaise
- 1 medium green pepper, finely diced
- 1 small onion, finely chopped
- 1 cup finely chopped celery
- 1 egg, beaten
- 2 cups milk
- 1 can (10 ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup
- 2 cups (1/2 pound) grated Cheddar cheese
- Paprika

Chopped lobster meat into bite sized chunks. Dice half the bread slices and place in the bottom of a greased 3 quart casserole. Combine lobster, mayonnaise, onion, green pepper, and celery. Spread over bread. Cover with remaining bread slices. Combine eggs and milk. Pour over contents of casserole. Cover and chill for at least 30 minutes. Bake in an oven at 350 degree F. for 20 minutes. Thoroughly combine mushroom soup and cheese. Spread over partially cooked casserole. Sprinkle with paprika. Continue to bake at 325 degree F. for 1 hour. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

HOMESPUN AND HEARTY

Take a chill breeze from the north, add a flurry of snow with a sudden drop in the temperature and the prediction on the home front is for sharpened appetites. A hearty satisfying dish such as Salmon Shepherd's Pie is indicated.

For this dish, canned salmon is combined with hard cooked eggs and chopped celery in a creamy sauce, then topped with fluffy, hot, mashed potatoes and baked until the potatoes are lightly browned. A canny suggestion regarding it is that it be made with the modestly priced, Pink variety of canned salmon. In some years, such as the present one, more Pink Salmon is canned than any other single salmon variety. Moreover, Pink Salmon is an especially good choice for a casserole dish.

Salmon Shepherd's Pie

- 1 can (15 1/2 ounces) canned salmon
- 3 tablespoons butter or other fat
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 1/4 cup flour
- 2 cups liquid (salmon liquid plus milk)
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper
- 2 hard cooked eggs, chopped
- 2 to 3 cups mashed potatoes

Drain salmon and break into bite sized chunks. Crush the heat softened bone with

GOLDEN AND GOOD

If you are looking for a dish to help dispel the gloom of a chill, gray day, try a clam bake. An easy fix one which comes from the oven proudly puffed and golden is made from clams, sweet corn and eggs color accented with a little fire cracker red pimento. The completed dish is fairly low in calories but filled with good flavor.

Here's a time saving tip. When making it, stir the ingredients right into the greased casserole. By so doing you will save washing an extra bowl afterwards.

Golden Clam Bake

- 1 can (10 ounces) clams
- 3 eggs, beaten
- 1 can (10 ounces) cream style corn
- 1 tablespoon chopped onion
- 2 tablespoons chopped pimento
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- Dash pepper

Combine clams and clam liquor with other ingredients listed in a 1 quart casserole. Should a slight sandiness be observed in the clams, before adding the other ingredients, strain the liquor through several layers of fine cheesecloth and rinse the clams under cold water. Mix all ingredients thoroughly. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degree F., for 1 hour or until puffed and firm in the centre. Makes 4 servings.

DELICIOUSLY DIFFERENT

For an oriental flair, team canned tuna with crisp chow mein noodles, celery, onion, and mushroom soup — then bake in a casserole. The results is a deliciously different luncheon or supper dish. Though it takes but a jiffy to assemble, this dish has superb flavor and you will enjoy the pleasing combination of textures. As an accompaniment, a tangy citrus salad is recommended.

Chopstick Tuna

- 1 can (7 ounces) tuna
- 1 can (10 ounces) condensed cream of mushroom soup
- 1/2 cup water
- 1 cup finely sliced celery
- 1 cup finely chopped onion
- 1 can (3 ounces) chow mein noodles

Drain tuna and break into bite sized chunks. Blend mushroom soup with water. Add celery, onion, and tuna. Mix thoroughly. Place half the noodles in the bottom of a greased 6 cup casserole. Add tuna mixture. Top with remaining noodles. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degree F., for about 50 minutes, or until thoroughly heated. Makes 4 servings.

THRIFTY

When it comes to holding food costs in line, it's hard to beat a casserole made from plentiful, nourishing low cost foods. A good example, guaranteed to simplify an evening meal, is Fundy Shore Casserole made from Canadian sardines, cheese, and potatoes.

Canadian sardines are small silvery fish of the herring family, caught principally in the Passamaquoddy area of the Bay of Fundy and canned in New Brunswick on the Bay's southwestern shore. In Fundy Shore Casserole they contribute high quality protein coupled with delicious flavour.

FUNDY SHORE CASSEROLE

- 3 cans (3 1/2 ounces each) Canadian sardines
- 2 tablespoons chopped onions
- 2 tablespoons melted fat or oil
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons flour
- Dash Pepper
- 2 cups milk
- 1 cup grated nippy Cheddar Cheese
- 2 teaspoons Worcestershire sauce
- 5 cups sliced cooked potatoes
- Drain Sardines. Reserve 6 sardines for a top garnish. Cook onion in fat until tender. Blend in flour and seasonings.

Add milk gradually. Cook until smooth and thickened, stirring constantly. Add cheese and Worcestershire sauce; stir until cheese melts. Arrange half the potatoes the sardines broken or hot, as desired, and the remaining potatoes in layers in a well greased, 2 quart casserole. Cover with the cheese sauce. Garnish with the 6 sardines. Bake in a moderate oven, 350 degree F., for 25 to 30 minutes, or until thoroughly heated. Makes 6 servings.

DAIRY OF A VAGABOND

by Dorothy Barker

We need More of this Breed

Lenah Field Fisher could possibly top 60 inches in her stocking feet if she stretched to her full height. One might expect her to be even taller, for this dynamo of energy is noted in her home town for sticking her neck out. She is a petite person, who might be suspected of using her feminine wiles to accomplish her objective. Instead she uses determination and conviction to reach the goals she sets in her public spirited ardor.

Deputy Reeve, county commissioner, director of the local Opera and Drama Guild, member of the Board of Ontario Lake Development Association, plus owner and operator of the Marie Dressler restaurant in Coburg, Ontario, it was hard to believe that tragedy had hit the spark that fired her enthusiasm for public service.

In one year Mrs. Fisher lost her mother, father and husband. Her parents had operated the restaurant for many years and because she had graduated as a dietitian and obtained experience in Montreal institutions she undertook the arduous task of running a business she was only familiar with through observation. During my interview with her recently, it was hard to believe she was until recent years, by her own confession, an introverted person unable to drive a car, afraid to travel alone or even make decisions on her own.

I found her in a mellow room filled with warm old pine furniture, colorful antique chintzes and a huge TV set loudly broadcasting the World Series. She was rooting for the under dog which, I was to learn, was characteristic of her entire attitude toward life. The room bespoke her warmth, gentility, perfect taste and appreciation for attachments to the past while living in a thriving, new decade.

It was because evidence of part of Coburg's past was threatened with demolition that Mrs. Fisher faced the electorate and became a member of council. The old Post Office had already become a memory and the Town Hall seemed to be headed in the same direction. She hoped to be made chairman of Public Property, but instead, as a rookie on council, rated the chairmanship of Sanitation. "I was humiliated to be made the town's first garbage girl, but after I slept on the appointment I was determined to be the best the people had ever elected." Next year she headed the poles got the appointment she sought and immediately started her crusade to restore the old town hall.

This is indicative of her re-birth. She has made a tremendous success of the restaurant, traveled abroad alone both by plane and ship and learned to drive a car expertly. "When I shut the door on the past, the new vistas that stretched ahead were so challenging there was no time for remorse," said Deputy Reeve Fisher.

Enthusiasm Catching

My intense interest in Mrs. Fisher was stimulated by the many facets of her accomplishments. She is not content with merely operating one of the most unusual dining spots in Canada, she is a rapid promoter of industrial potential for her town, booster of harbor facilities and tourist attractions in the area.

I have written about Mrs. Fisher because there are undoubtedly many women readers across Canada who have, even as I have recently, come to a turn in the road. Because of bereavement or other discouraging circumstances they find the way ahead difficult to face. I hope that as she helped me in my time of need, her story will encourage others to find their "vistas challenging."

Letter to the Editor

Editor, Digby Courier

Dear Mrs. Wallis, When in Digby last week I noticed a large number of the dark skins of ripeness, and apparently no one buying them. I thought it a pity that the Digby cooks had not seen the opportunity to make a banana cake for the children so I enclose a good recipe which I have used many times. Perhaps you would like to publish it.

Banana Cake

Mash well 3 medium or 2 large very ripe bananas (skin dark). Cream (1 cup sugar, 3 tablespoons butter) beat in 1 egg and mashed bananas, add 1 1/2 cups flour, 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 teaspoon baking soda, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 3 tablespoons soft milk. If shortening is used a little salt is necessary. Bake in slow oven (not more than 350 degree) good lead with a brown sugar icing or eaten plain.

HOUSING HINTS

Question — Are an architect fees out of reach of the average homeowner?

Answer — No. As in any other specialty, the cost must be measured against the value of the service. By the same token you could say a doctor or dentist's fees are expensive, but few of us would consider removing our own appendix or extracting our own teeth. This is where the service of an expert pays off. Many homeowners now living with some serious mistake that went unchecked at the time of construction would gladly pay the architect's fee twice over if it would help. But in most cases it's too late and too expensive to correct errors of this nature.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1962

Hon. E. D. Haliburton, Minister of Agriculture and Marketing, announced that the Nova Scotia government had approved a co-operative agreement between federal and provincial governments, known as ARDA, and had authorized him to sign the final, or master, agreement. The province of Nova Scotia is, therefore, one of the first to sign the master agreement, which was presented to the province in its final form last week.

ARDA is the short name for the Agricultural Rural Development Act, which was passed by the federal government last year. However, details in connection with the administration of the Act had to be worked out and personnel secured to staff the new department and hammer out a workable agreement with the provinces before it could be presented for signature. The Act, briefly, enables the federal government to enter into agreements with the provincial governments for joint undertakings of:

- (1) Alternative uses of land that are presently classed as marginal or of low productivity;
- (2) Development of income and employment opportunities for rural agricultural areas, and
- (3) Development and conservation of the water and soil resources of Canada.

The federal government has earmarked nearly $3,000,000 for expenditures in Nova Scotia over the next three years, providing (a) that the Province, and (b) municipalities or community groups match the expenditure dollar for dollar.

For some time the Department of Agriculture has had an active committee studying ARDA possibilities and investigating projects which they hope could come under the Act. Their efforts will be stepped up with the signing of the agreement, and Mr. Dave Milligan, Director of Agricultural Engineering Services, has been appointed Director of the efforts of this committee to ready proposals for consideration of the Ottawa director of ARDA and for the approval of the government.

A Lands and Forests committee will be appointed in the near future to promote community developments in reforestation, conservation and recreation.

make the world and sometimes they unmake it. People are a problem to themselves. In fact all problems result from human interference with the design of God.

The only way to straighten things out is to get the human heart reconciled with its maker. Pride and independence keep many from seeing this point. The Bible says, John 3:16, "God so loved the world." This is the world of human intellect and the human will. It should be enough to wake up any sleeping sinner to know that God loves even him. Forget you have heard it before, and say for the first time, "God loves me". If the meaning doesn't sink in the first time, keep saying it.

The main problem God has with people is that they think they are bigger and stronger than they really are. Too often they don't think they need His love at all.

The prayer we must all utter first is this, "God show me what a weakling and a failure I am. help me cast myself on You".

People are fine. It is good that we have them, but they have some lessons to learn. The first is their need of coming to God through faith in His Son and so to get life straightened out now and for ever.

FEW FIDGET IN FIJI

The balmy climate of the Fiji Islands in the South Pacific is described in Encyclopedia Americana. The temperature seldom rises above 90 degrees or falls below 60 degrees. The islands are well forested and have about 50 species of birds. The only indigenous mammals are bats and rats. People of Indian origin now outnumber the native Fijians. The islanders enjoy a pleasant surplus of exports over imports.

Georgian City has had long hard life. Tbilisi, capital of Georgia in the south of the Soviet Union, was founded in the fourth century. It became capital of the old kingdom of Georgia in 455 A. D. In succeeding centuries, the Encyclopedia Americana recalls, Tbilisi was ravaged repeatedly by the Persians, Greeks, Arabs, Khazars, Mongols and Turks. It was occupied permanently by the Russians in 1799.

Christmas In Canadian History

The old-fashioned English Christmas came to Canada with the 20,000 United Empire Loyalists who founded New Brunswick and the 25,000 who first peopled Upper Canada, now Ontario. It was at Christmas, 1783, that the first Yule Logs were cut in the Ontario forests and dragged to the settlements by shouting men and boys, for no beast must ever be yoked to the log which was "Christmas".

This was before stoves were used in Ontario and though those wide open hearths must have left the houses chilly in zero weather, yet, when the stove came in the Yule Log had to go and it is only when looking back to those first pioneer Christmas-masses that we can see the pretty pictures of the family and guests standing around the hearth on Christmas Eve, while the master of the home solemnly lit the great log, and by the light of the flames read aloud the sweet old story of the Christ Child.

It was the custom then to have the religious service on Christmas Eve, and fasting and games on Christmas Day. In addition to the old English games, corn popping was a recognized Christmas amusement in those days.

Then on December 25, 1790 was the first wedding in Upper Canada, when the only minister in Upper Canada who could perform a legal marriage rode from Kingston to what is now Mainland on horseback to marry the couple awaiting him in the house all decked with spruce boughs and dried bunches of red rowanberries (for holly normally does not grow in Ontario, and it was not imported then), and lit by the dancing flames of the Yule Log.

We must not forget those old-time Christmas dinners; venison was the chief dish, with salmon and whitefish, for a first course and partridges and wild turkey to follow the deer meat. There was bread of course and abundance of butter; but pumpkins and onions seem to have been the main vegetables. For dessert there was a quantity of pies, of dried and preserved berries and cakes of maple sugar.

The next Christmas date noted in Canada's history is also a pleasant homely one. A fortnightly mail was established between Canada and the United States, December 20, 1792. So that year the first Christmas mail bags would be interesting if we could see them now; there were no Christmas postcards, but many thick letters for those were letter writing days, when people covered many sheets with beautifully fine writing, as clear as type. Then there would be some copies of the one and only newspaper in Ontario. The "Upper Canada Gazette," a sheet fifteen by 9 1/2 inches. It appeared weekly and its price was 3 dollars a year. But its Christmas editorials and advertisements had the same spirit if not the same wording as ours.

As the years advanced, other customs gradually found their way into Canadian life. The Christmas tree idea came from Germany, via the United States and today scarcely a home from one side to the other of the Dominion but what boasts its gaily lit tree. The English term "Father Christmas" gave way to Santa Claus - a Dutch importation or rather the English phonetic way of saying St. Nicholas as the Dutch say it. So, borrowing customs from here and there the Canadian Christmas is as jolly as it is anywhere in the world.

On the other hand the principles eliminate coverage for those who are in Nova Scotia on a temporary basis. Thus students coming into the province to study with the intention of returning to their home province or state will not be covered regardless of their age, marital status or course of study.

In some cases students may be considered residents at the discretion of the commission if they have established homes in Nova Scotia and live here on a practically continuous basis for a period of more than a year or two. The commission says such cases are likely to be rare.

LAUGHTER

Laughter is my secret of successful living. Plain and simple laughter. I have seen so many men and women worry their way through life. Everything was a problem to them. And, each problem was more difficult than the last. I do not understand how such people can be happy. Life is serious sometimes, but it is rather amusing. And, when I think of the amusing things that have happened to an absence from a province where a person makes his home and is ordinarily present for the purpose of a holiday, visit, education or employment. Such an absence is considered temporary when it can be established that the person intends to return to his home province.

During a period of temporary absence a resident is eligible to receive insured services at any time, subject to the general limits fixed by legislation. No specific period is fixed for the length of a temporary absence, but for administrative purposes, a period of 12 months is considered as ordinary the outside limit. The limit may be extended at the discretion of the commission, if it considers that the absence is truly of a temporary nature and otherwise approves.

These principles provide maximum coverage for residents who are temporarily absent from Nova Scotia in some other province or outside of Canada. This is particularly helpful to students who have to go outside the province for training.

me in my lifetime, I have to laugh.

The best way I know to sum up my feelings about life and laughter is a poem. I do not know who wrote it, but it says everything I want to say about looking at things lightly:

How do I know my youth is all spent? Well, my get up and go has got up and went. But in spite of it all I am able to grin.

When I think of the places my get up has been. "Old age is golden," as I've heard it said, But sometimes I wonder when I get into bed, With my ears in a drawer, my teeth in a cup, My eyes on the table until I wake up.

Ere sleep dims my eyes, I say to myself Is there anything else I should lay on the shelf?

And I'm happy to say as I close my door, My friends are the same or perhaps even more. When I was young my slippers were red.

I could kick up my heels right over my head. When I grew older my slippers were blue.

But still I could dance the whole night through. Now that I'm old my slippers are black.

I walk to the store and puff my way back. The reason I know that my youth is all spent.

My get up and go has got up and went. But I really don't mind when I think with a grin Of all the places my get up has been.

Since I've retired from life's competition I busy myself with complete repetition. I get up each morning, dust off my wits, Pick up my paper and read the obits.

If my name is still missing, I know I'm not dead, So I eat a good breakfast and go back to bed.

When You Should Stop ADVERTISING

WHEN man becomes a creature of habit so thoroughly he will certainly buy this year where he bought last year

WHEN younger, fresher and spunkier concerns in your line cease starting up and taking "your customers" away through advertising

WHEN population ceases to increase and no new folks want to live and work in your town

WHEN you have thoroughly convinced everyone who ever has or ever will be in your store that they will now and for ever get better buys from you

WHEN business principles reverse themselves and the non-advertiser does more business than the successful advertising merchant

WHEN men stop making tremendous strides in business through well-planned newspaper advertising

WHEN you can forget the words of wise merchants the world over who attribute their success to the wise use of newspaper advertising

WHEN you would rather have your own way even if you fail, than to follow sound advice and perhaps win success

WHEN you want to be rid of all the troubles of waiting on customers and are tired of making money!

GOLDING SAYS, "SMARTEN UP"

Canadian industry must move fast to improve productivity if it expects to compete for world markets with the modern industrial organization of Western Europe, according to Jack Golding, Atlantic Region representative of the National Productivity Council. 18:1c

In an address to Imperial Oil Refinery technical staff at their dinner meeting in the Lord Nelson Hotel on Wednesday, Mr. Golding put it bluntly: "Industrially speaking, the European Common Market countries will leave us stale as last Christmas's turkey, if we don't smarten up." 18:1c

One way for Canadian industries to "smartan up" is to diligently study working methods, management techniques and use of labor on the job, he said. From these studies new operating methods can be found that will reduce production costs and thereby improve the competitive position of Canadian products in both the world market and at home. 18:1c

Canadian industry relaxed during the post war years with a sellers' market, while the war ravaged countries of Europe toiled to rebuild their industry along the most modern lines, he said. By now they are leaving us far behind. 18:1c

The former Halifax newspaperman and broadcaster who was secretary to the Canadian labor management government mission to Europe last summer, said he was most impressed with the co-operation of labor and management and the effectiveness of work study in Europe where these are accepted as industrial necessities. 18:1c

European labor and management apparently recognize that efficient production means more sales and this, in turn, means more jobs as well as increased profits, Mr. Golding said. While the industrial structures of any of the six countries visited by the mission were not necessarily the answer for Canada, many of their attitudes and ideas would be useful in this country. 18:1c

He pointed out to Imperial Oil engineers and technicians that the first work study school in Canada, sponsored by the National Productivity Council and the Nova Scotia Government, is now in operation at Nova Scotia Technical College, in Halifax. The next three week course for representatives of industry begins at the school on January 21 and the 20 vacancies probably will be oversubscribed before the new year. 18:1c

THE LIGHT OF THE WORLD

"And Jesus spoke to them saying, 'I am the light of the world; he who follows Me will not walk in darkness, but will have the light of life.' (John 8:12). This is the Christmas message. In Jesus Christ a great light has come into the dark world. 18:1c

Christ is the light of God. And how many there are who are in the dark about Him. When Christian Rosetti wrote "Love came down at Christmas time" she had in mind the coming of God Himself. For Christmas is the time when we remember the love act of the Word made flesh in Jesus of Nazareth. "Show us the Father," cried the disciples "and it sufficeth us." This is the haunting question of the ages — to know what God is like. And it isn't answered by the stars above us. Only God Himself can tell us what God is like. And He does it in His revelation in Christ. 18:1c

Christ is the light of man. And how many there are who are in the dark about themselves. Apart from Christ we do not know how to be true people. Jesus Christ is the manhood and womanhood we have lost. He shows us what is involved in being human. It was Christ's perfect obedience to the Father that sets Him apart as the only true man who ever lived. In the light of His obedience we see our own disobedience. In Christ's presence we are not. Before Christ we stand as sinners. Whether we be men of the 20th century or of the 1st century the only cry men can make before this Man is this: "Christ, make us clean; Christ restore our sight." 18:1c

Christ is the light of death. And how many there are who are in the dark about their future. Without Christ the future is an impenetrable mystery. We can speak of eternal life only because it has appeared in Jesus Christ, the first born of the dead. We have hope only because Christ was crucified, died and was buried but rose on the third day to be alive forevermore. The Christian hope after death is the only hope in the world that is real and concrete. It is the hope that brought the Church into existence. All other hope is unreal, wishful thinking, and vain speculation. 18:1c

Jesus Christ is the Son of God, the Son of Man, and Risen Lord. This is God's Gift to the world. But the blessings are not unconditional. They are only to those who take Christ. Will Christmas come to us this year? If it is, then it has to be true of us as it was true for those of long ago. "The people that sit in darkness have seen a great light, on them hath the light shined." 18:1c

Mr. and Mrs. Emdon Morehouse spent Christmas with their son, C.P.O. and Mrs. Robert Morehouse and family in Armdale. 18:1c

21 and the 20 vacancies probably will be oversubscribed before the new year. 18:1c

At present Nova Scotia is well ahead of the rest of Canada in work study, Mr. Golding said. He was introduced by Murdo MacLeod, Imperial Oil Refinery manager, who was chairman of the meeting. 18:1c

TELEGRAPHY BY TORCH-LIGHT

Greek soldiers of 300 B. C. are credited by the Encyclopedia Americana with inventing the first systemic method of telegraphy. They worked out a standard code of placing up to five torches at night in such a way as to signal a letter of their alphabet to distant allies. By rearranging the torches, letter by letter, they could send a complete message. This kind of code system is still the basis of most military telegraphing over short distances. 18:1c

HAPPY NEW YEAR

MRS. E. J. TO

She used to hear "DALE" When I stopped to wait. She even used her hankie To wipe my runny nose. She made me oh, so happy When she used to look at me. And call me little Goldie Locks And hold me on her knee. How oft I'd tried to thank her But not knowing what to say, Or how I could repay her So I'd wait another day. So many days have come and gone, And yours have passed away. And still I have not thanked her. And still can not repay. 18:1c

At night I lie awake and wish The whole wide world could know, The way she used to mother me In those days so long ago. So I scribble all these empty lines To try and let her know, She was more than just a neighbour When I needed Mother so. 18:1c

THE BIBLE TODAY

The Most Reverend F. O. Coggan, Archbishop of York and president of the United Bible Societies, when addressing Churches at New Delhi on the subject of "The Bible and the Churches' Need", said, when dealing with the section on "Facing the World's Need". "The challenge comes to us forcefully, to look to our priorities lest we go to our warfare either with weapons totally inadequate for the task, or with weapons so blunted by the passing of the years that they fail to do the job for which they were made." 18:1c

H.M.C.S. Cornwallis

In this vital Navy shore establishment which produces some 2,400 new sailors a year for the Royal Canadian Navy, training is constantly changing for the better.

H. M. C. S. Cornwallis occupies a well manicured, 615 acre site on the shore of Nova Scotia's historic Annapolis Basin and has a tradition of naval training second to none in the Commonwealth navies.

An experienced staff takes 15 weeks and infinite pains to turn out not only a man with the rudiments of nautical knowledge, but fosters in each and every new entry such lifetime qualities as dignity, understanding, appreciation of the democratic way of life, and perhaps above all else, a deep sense of responsibility.

All of these qualities are necessary to keep the backbone of the Service strong afloat and ashore throughout a sailor's career. The training staff is there to make sure each new sailor has them in sufficient quantity.

From Bonavista, in Newfoundland to Vancouver Island in the west, from the north country down to Windsor, Ontario, young men answer the call of the sea. They come to recruiting stations in major Canadian centres, or recruiters fan out through the smaller communities to sign them up.

Almost every Monday throughout the year, 70 at a time, these aspirants, dressed in anything from business suits to jackets and jeans, arrive at the little train station in Cornwallis to begin the big transition from citizen to sailor.

There are four phases to the new entry's life at Cornwallis. For the first two weeks he goes through psychological, dental and X-ray examinations, is kitted up with uniforms and accessories, and becomes a member of a division.

Next phase the toughest, for adjustment to Navy life in this period is hardest, the workload is heaviest and the homesickness greatest. For, from the third week onwards, his average daily routine covers 12 hours. It includes classroom instruction, parade training, physical training, discipline and elementary naval knowledge. Some fall by the wayside, but not very many.

As the new entry advances in his training, many "clivvy street" characteristics are shown off. He becomes highly motivated towards the Service and already is developing the necessary esprit de corps. To enhance the teamwork vital to Navy life, some of this new enthusiasm is channelled into inter divisional competitions for which points are awarded each competing group.

Within each division too are certain important incentives. There are trophies for the man who is "Best in Parade", one with the "Highest Marks", the neatest and cleanest earns "Best Kit". The best combination of all merit "Best All Round".

But Cornwallis doesn't limit a new entry's naval education to books, or parade training or physical fitness alone. Each division goes "into the field" for experience in handling small arms, the practice of survival, how to swim. More than 66 hours a month are spent on calisthenics, but there are also an important 18 hours of recreational sports each month, with the emphasis again on teamwork.

The new entry's day begins at 6:30 and ends at 10:00 p.m. for the full 15 weeks longest period of basic training given any new entry in the Commonwealth. Periodically through this schedule, divisions are joined by handfuls of new

School For Retarded

The Nova Scotia Training School, located at Brookside, near Truro, is the only residential treatment centre in Nova Scotia for the care, training and education of our mentally retarded children.

It is the only one of its type in Canada since most institutions caring for mentally retarded children are primarily custodial.

The training school is operated by the Province of Nova Scotia under the Child Welfare Division of the Department of Public Welfare.

The school was established in 1929 following more than 10 years of study regarding the problems of the retarded and their effect on the economic and social life of the province. Additional facilities have been added to the school in the intervening years and accommodations are now provided for 181 children.

Situated on a 250 acre tract of land, the school provides ample space for an attractive and functional building layout as well as adequate acreage for a modern farm program. The school consists of five residential buildings, an administration building, which also contains classrooms and an auditorium, and a building housing a modern bakery and laundry.

The provision of specialized care, training and education for the 181 children requires a competent staff with special talents who are dedicated to working with mentally retarded children. This staff consists of the superintendent, nine teachers, one nurse, one psychologist, two social workers, business manager, a consulting psychiatrist, counsellors, stenographers, cooks, and maintenance personnel.

Children from all parts of the province are accepted for admission to the school. Basic requirements are an I.Q. range between 35 and 70 and a chronological age between 10 and 15 years. Because of the large number of children seeking admission, it has been necessary to establish a system of priorities based on the urgency of each individual's situation.

The program carried on in the school is necessarily very comprehensive and emphasis is placed on the physical, emotional, educational, spiritual and moral development of the children.

The physical needs of each child are provided under the immediate supervision of the school nurse who is advised by the doctor who visits the school on a regular weekly basis. The children receive adequate wholesome and nourishing food and have suitable opportunities for recreational activity according to their ability to participate.

Academic instruction to the extent of the children's capacity, is provided in regular classroom situations. Education starts with ward training and winds slowly upward through many groups to the grade five level. For those who reach this level, there is a program of vocational training that equips them for their return to the community.

Occupational training is provided through classroom instruction in such things as handicrafts, sewing, woodwork and cooking. Additional training is given in practical work throughout the school and on the farm.

Social and personal adequacy are developed in the children through experiences in group living, games, social functions and training situations designed to promote self-reliance, a sense of personal worth and a feeling of belonging.

Spiritual development is cared for by local ministers and priests with strict attention being paid to the religious creed of each child. Regular church services are held at the school each Sunday and whenever possible, the children are taken to church services in Truro.

Every effort is made to maintain and strengthen the family ties of the children. Efforts are also made to keep the children associated with community life.

Christmas and summer vacations are encouraged as well as visits to the school by parents and interested groups. These often include persons from other provinces interested in the welfare of the mentally retarded and teachers who must instruct such students in schools throughout the province.

The school holds regular mixed parties. These are movies, picnics, visits to the park, exhibitions, ice shows and participation in the local music festival, where many cups and certificates have been won.

The majority of the children are ready for discharge from the school by the time they become 17 years of age. The social service department then finds employment for them in work with which they are familiar. Successful work placements are the rule and as a result it is not difficult to find employers interested in having the services of these children.

The social workers maintain their supervision of the children until such time as there is assurance they are able to make their own way and become useful, self-supporting citizens of the community.

Where Does That Road Go?

(The Wayfarer, F.I.W.)

Nov. 7, 1962

Our "Where Does That Road Go?" should today be more accurately "Where do Those Roads Go?" for though we start out from Digby on a paved road that starts on a hill top with out, backs to what is one of the finest views of Annapolis Basin and Digby harbour (don't let's fail to stop and run to see it, it is not to think of one road but many, on this trip. (My, what a sentence to get around in one breath!)

Well, at the top of the hill overlooking Digby we start in what is roughly a south-western direction. A large yard devoted to the gathering of pulp wood is soon drawn to our attention. When are we going to learn how to make use of the bark as well as the wood of the spruce trees? A sharp dip in the road leads us to a railroad crossing. (We are acutely conscious of railroad crossings). They spell danger and warn us to drive with caution. On the other side of the crossing the road climbs quickly and suggests an over head bridge is quite feasible here. A mile or so further on a road bears off to the left and should one desire so, will lead one out to the paved road on the outskirts of Digby town.

But remember this road, too, crosses the railway and again be aware of this as you drive. It is perhaps four miles from the point of starting that another road which is not paved and which in length is approximately three miles, leads across the land at the head of Saint Mary's Bay to Marshalltown and enables one at that end to turn east to wards Digby and Halifax or west to Weymouth and Yarmouth, etc. A well built little church has just been painted at the turning point there and the transformation from a rather drab yellow to nice bright white is attractive indeed.

You are now at Rosway and a few miles further on another road bears away to the right. This time, don't be tempted by the fact that the sign says Culloden. It is a long way to Culloden and the road is rough, and steep in places, and unless you are thinking in terms of hunting we think you would do well to stay off it. True, if you do drive over it it is very attractive at the Culloden end or where it is in sight of Digby itself, but "nuff said" as to where that road goes.

Better stick to the main Digby Neck road for a while where it passes an old Anglican church whose sign dates it back to 1812. A bit beyond this the road bears upward and near the crest is a memorial to war dead and just opposite another church. Nearby we were able to purchase some of the finest strawberries in season. They were, we were told "Sparkle Variety" and were most tasty. It is just beyond this point and in view of the Seawall marsh that there is a road that leads to "Gulliver's Cove" not a long road but one which leads to a little seashore community with scenes well worthy of attention of artist or photographer.

Returning from Gulliver's Cove, we resume our journey on the paved road. The scene at Seawall well deserves our attention with the seven weirs (folk in Hants County pronounce these weirs on the fishing boats bobbing in the waves, or at low tide stranded on the mud flats) out. Looking back we see the great cliffs of "Red Bank" looming so high, but when we have climbed the great hill in our car the cliffs look quite small again. If you are tempted, (and we hope you are), at the very crest of the hill a dirt road leads back at almost an acute angle. We imagine it must at one time have been the original road. Anyway, a mile or so on it brings one to an old Roman Catholic Church and to a view of Saint Mary's Bay and the surrounding countryside clear from way up towards Acaciaville down past Church Point. On a very clear day we believe you can see Cape Forchu and certainly Cape Saint Mary's. A wonderful spot for a panoramic view.

Well, once more back to the main road and on towards the ferry at Westport and Tiverton.

We will mention in this article but two more roads that at Centreville which, as it indicates, is just about the centre of Digby Neck. The number of churches in this little area intrigues one. We have already passed another church between Seawall and the Centreville road "turn-off" and there are three, perhaps four, churches on the paved

THE BIBLE TODAY

The difficulties of translation work is illustrated even in the names of places concerned with Scripture distribution. An interesting item came from Guatemala where at an Independence Day Fair held at Quetzaltenango, just day, and produced in the second largest city in Guatemala, a "walk-around" exhibit was placed by the Guatemala Agency of the Bible Society.

The exhibit featured a Scripture on the subject of the Country with ribbons leading to a large map showing the area where the displays are spoken.

The Bible Society exhibit was awarded first place among cultural exhibits. A public presentation of a Diploma of Honour and a Gold Medal was made to Secretary Herrera of the Agency.

8,000 copies of "Encuentro" (Found - the parables of Luke 15) were distributed at the Fair. A new translation of the New Testament into Kechi was dedicated at a special two hour service, attended by 13,000 people in the Evangelical Church in San Juan. This translation is the fruit of 25 years missionary experience and dedication of Mr. and Mrs. William Sedat of the Church of the Nazarene.

road that leads to the shore. Here, too, is a splendid wharf and several well established fish-processing plants and the product of this little community is well and favorably known. If one is interested in such pictures, one may obtain one of a pair of whale bones arched together to form a gate. How long they have stood there no doubt can tell a story in itself. They stand by the roadside less than a quarter mile from the Centreville wharf.

We will return along this two mile paved road, full up with gas at the service station and drive along just another mile or so to stop by Lake Minto, for it is a delight to stop and have your lunch if you have brought one. Good place for setting up camp or trailer in the summer time. On the side of the road, away from the lake, is a farm with one of the largest flocks of sheep in the Digby Neck area. Let's rest a bit, sheltered from the wind from the west and north, by the high ridge of hills, and with the lovely lake before us, let's go for a short journey to find where do these roads go?

There is little you can do about controlling how the other fellow drives beyond being more watchful than usual and giving other traffic as wide a berth as possible. In most families, fortunately both adults drive and many of them take turns driving after various social events to ensure an alert driver is at the wheel at all times. Keeping the windshield clean, driving at a speed that allows you to stop within headlight range, and toasting the joys of the season with a sparkling soft drink are three sure ways of getting your year off to a happy and healthy start.

SPIRIT OF CHRISTMAS

With humble steps a mystic walked Among his fellowmen and talked Of simple things and homely good And all mankind in brotherhood

Refusing power, foregoing greed, Betending whom He found in need, What to compass for all He gave?

Delight? A cross? A borrow'd grave? Not so! While men who filled their day With crowds and cults have passed away, Although two thousand years have gone The Christmas impulse carries on Because in Him a Sense Sublime Knew not the bounds of place and time!

SEASON'S GREETINGS

An old Scots saying goes "The road to a friend's house is never long."

But sometimes, and especially over the holidays, the roads back from a friend's house can be not only long but also highly dangerous.

Somewhat the urge to sample the "cup that cheers" reaches a peak during the festive season that rounds out the year and the total of fatal accidents shows a corresponding increase.

Statistics show that two car collisions account for nearly one third of all holiday accidents and more than one third "sopping" situation upon so. Drinking drivers are involved in more than half of these fatalities.

There is little you can do about controlling how the other fellow drives beyond being more watchful than usual and giving other traffic as wide a berth as possible.

In most families, fortunately both adults drive and many of them take turns driving after various social events to ensure an alert driver is at the wheel at all times.

Keeping the windshield clean, driving at a speed that allows you to stop within headlight range, and toasting the joys of the season with a sparkling soft drink are three sure ways of getting your year off to a happy and healthy start.

WE SINCERELY WISH YOU AND YOURS
PEACE, HEALTH AND HAUUINESS DURING 1963.

At the Bear River United Church on Thursday evening, following the usual choir practice, a social hour was enjoyed, during which time a gift, in appreciation for his faithful attendance and help, was presented to Dr. D. S. Brennan, a valued member of the choir.

Following the presentation refreshments were served.

Sunday School Gathering

About fifty students met at eleven o'clock on Sunday morning at Bear River East. The superintendent, Mr. Marshall Wheelhouse, conducted a devotional. Treats were given to each pupil. Presents were distributed to both students and teachers. Mr. Roland Anthony dismissed the school with prayer.

FEAST OF FOOLS

From the 5th to the 6th century a highly irreverent celebration called the Feast of Fools lasted from Christmas to the last Sunday of Epiphany, says the Encyclopedia Americana. Church ceremonies, even the most sacred, were ridiculed in amazing contrast to the piety of the times. The Feast of Fools is said to have been of very ancient, possibly pagan, origin. Though often prohibited, the Feast of Fools persisted in various European countries until the stern era of the Reformation.

PRODUCTIVE PORKER

Little or nothing of the modern pig is wasted, according to the Encyclopedia Americana. It is a source of roasts, chops, spare ribs; of fat and lard; of lard used in doctored human digestion; of bristles for brushes; of fertilizer made from its ground bones and of leather wrought from its hide.

MODERN CANNIBALS OF NORTH AMERICA

The Seris Indians of Tiburon a Mexican island in the Gulf of California, are described by the Encyclopedia Americana. The Seris have been left to themselves and are still primitive. Warlike, they employ poisoned arrows and are said to practice cannibalism. Tiburon has an area of 485 square miles and is covered with grass and desert vegetation.

NO ROOM IN THE WINDOW

Christmas greetings to the nation have been issued by the Board of Evangelism and Social Service of the United Church of Canada in two different forms, A billboard and a cartoon.

The poster, designed by the E. L. Ruddy Company, shows three heads representing the Caucasian, Asian and African races and will appear in cities across Canada during the two weeks before Christmas.

The cartoon was drawn by James G. Reinford of the Globe & Mail, and shows the interior of a store window crowded with merchandise.

The store's display man is shown bringing in a nativity scene, obviously wondering where to put it. The caption is "No room in the window." "In this cartoon," said Dr. Homer R. Lane, Associate Secretary of the Board of Information, "we are attempting to call attention to the similarity between the situation today and at the time of Christ's birth. As in the nativity story, there was no room in the Inn for the Christ Child, so our modern society is equally preoccupied with getting and spending. Our store windows are full of merchandise, but we have again crowded out the Christ Child."

"Because of Christ's coming into the world, the Church emphasizes in this season the body as the temple of God's Spirit and teaches temperance and self control. It supports every effort of police and highway safety authorities to reduce drunken driving and mass murder on the highways", concluded Dr. Lane.

FAMOUS CANADIAN JOURNALIST OF YESTER- YEAR

Edward Farrer, journalist, is recalled in the Encyclopedia Americana. Irish, he came to Canada at 20, in 1870 and became a Toronto newspaper editorial writer. Later, he became foreign editor of the New York Mail, then editor of the Toronto Mail, the Winnipeg Times and Sun and finally the Toronto Globe. His fiery views on religion and his advocacy of Canadian annexation to the U. S. A. won him many foes, but he was considered the ablest editorial writer of Canada in his day.

Believe it or not, you can eat your way to 12 months of prosperity. According to an old Irish superstition, a bite of salt herring in the first second of the New Year will assure you of plenty of money. For the luck of the Irish, a holiday hostess might serve Digby Chicks (salted and smoked herring fillets) as hors d'oeuvres at a New Year's Eve party.

Local, Personal

Carol Atkinson, teaching at Barrington, is spending the holidays with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Atkinson.

Ruth Atkinson, senior student of Gordon College, Boston, Mass., is home for Christmas vacation. Accompanying her is Thudsi Silapalikitporn, another Gordon student, whose home is in Phuket, Thailand. Joyce Atkinson, of Dartmouth, arrived home on Friday with Ruth Atkinson and Thudsi Silapalikitporn, who had been visiting Ruth's sister, Mrs. Graham McCleave, and Dr. McCleave, in Halifax.

Miss Geraldine Syda was in town for Christmas at the home of her cousin, Mrs. Sypher Morrell, Mr. Morrell and family.

Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Hughes went to Halifax by train on Sunday night to spend Christmas with their daughter, Mrs. A. Allen and Mr. Allen.

Mrs. J. M. Wallis spent Christmas in Amherst with her daughter, Mrs. K. H. Chappell and Mr. Chappell and family. Rev. and Mrs. Kenneth Goveatte and family, Maine, U. S. A., spent Christmas with Mrs. Goveatte's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brittain. Other holiday visitors are their daughter, Jean of Acadia University and Mrs. Brittain's father, Albert Shaw and Mrs. Shaw of Black's Harbour.

Donald Snow spent the Christmas holidays with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Snow.

TOMMYGUN INVENTOR

John Taliaferro Thompson spent his life as an ordnance officer of the U. S. Army, says Encyclopedia Americana. He rose to the rank of brigadier general. Thompson invented several semi automatic rifles, but it was in 1920 that he and a U. S. Navy man developed the sub machine gun named for him. It was first employed by the U. S. Marines in Nicaragua in 1925. However, its use by Chicago gangsters in the 1930's made the weapon notorious all over the world.

FOLK DANCES HAVE ODD DERIVATIONS

The tarantella, a quick Neapolitan dance, is said to be based on the gyrations of a person poisoned by a tarantula spider, observes the Encyclopedia Americana. The faruca, a Spanish dance, represents the attitudes of the bull-fighter. The Ukrainian chumok is a character sketch of a merchant.

NEWFOUNDLANDER EX- PLORED ARCTIC

Robert Abram Bartlett of Brigus, Newfoundland, began his exploring career under Peary in 1897 and commanded Peary's expedition ship from 1905 to 1909. The Encyclopedia Americana tells how Bartlett later survived the crushing of one of his ships by pack ice, after which he trekked to safety over the icy wastes. Bartlett was still exploring the Arctic as late as 1945, the year before he died.

THE ORIGINAL BARRYMORE

Founder of the Barrymore family, popularly known as the "Royal Family of the American Stage," was Maurice Barrymore. Born in India in 1847, Herbert Blythe, as the Encyclopedia Americana recalls his real name went to England to become a lawyer. Instead, he became an amateur boxing champion and then began a stage career that lasted 30 years. Barrymore became a great star, moved to the U.S.A. and died there in 1905.

BECAME TYCOON

An early American business leader by the unusual name of Preserved Fish is recalled by the Encyclopedia Americana. A New Englander, Fish left his father's smithy to become a farmer and then a sailor. At 21 he was master of his own whaler. Later he became a whale oil merchant. He was said to sell two kinds of whale oil, good and bad. After an eventful and impulsive career, Preserved Fish became president of a New York City bank in 1836.

PRESERVED FISH

One of the simplest and tastiest party appetizers is made like this. Spread toast fingers with softened butter and top each with a thin slice of smoked salmon (lox), trimmed to size. Garnish with lemon, thinly sliced and cut in

Some folks like to mix per food in a dip, while other prefer to serve it as the dipper. Two popular seafood dippers are small shrimp and nuggets of cooked lobster meat speared on picks.

Re Liquor Plebiscite

Let us be sure to use our Right to Vote in the coming Liquor Plebiscite. You know that our Right to Vote was bought at Great Price.

Let us vote for what we truly believe to be the highest good, and NOT commit the sin of voting for that which often causes someone to sin.

Mark X under "NO" if you're against more liquor outlets. A yes vote is for taverns included.

Let us NOT be like some city of Dartmouth people who did not vote in THEIR liquor plebiscite, and then later petitioned against a certain liquor outlet when one was planned for their own immediate area.

A community cannot drink itself INTO prosperity, but, it can drink itself into poverty.

The fabulous non-taxable capital gains of the liquor interests are making the Booze Barons of Canada more and more powerful - a very serious trend indeed!

The liquor traffic has ever been the cruel enemy of childhood.
