

Welcome to the Digital DIGBY COURIER

100th Birthday

The hundredth anniversary of the Digby Weekly Courier has brought to mind some fond memories as recounted in the following historical chapter of the paper. For first, I want to congratulate the current editor of the Courier, Mrs. J.M. (Edith) Wallis, for a job well done over the years and still being well done, good service rendered with great fortitude.

According to my recollection, I have at hand, the Digby Courier, in one hundred years of publication, was controlled under the same family management for 42 years, 1837 to 1979, under the control of Wallis Print Limited. The late J.J. Wallis became editor of the Courier in the second time, in 1929, and at the latter time of the second time, in 1929, and at which he had been running for some time previously and which became Wallis Print Limited sometime between 1929 and 1931.

I well remember the last year of the twelfth when I worked in the office with the husband and father of the Digby Courier. Sometime in 1929 or early 1930, the late J.M. Wallis (Mac), son of J.J., engaged me to work every day after school hours, Saturdays, and for some months after for the office of work was in the building of the present Digby town hall on First Avenue. J.J. Wallis then worked occasionally at the print shop but mostly across the street at the Courier office which was then located on land in the general area where The Royal Bank of Canada is now.

Wallis Job Print operated in this building of four consisting of J.J. Wallis, J.M. Wallis, Miss Elva Haynes, who later became Mrs. George Kicop, and myself. I was in the staff in early 1929.

Mac's job was to run the staff in the left upstairs. J.J. occasionally printing plant but mostly at the Courier office. "Mac" worked nearly full-time at all the different jobs at the Job Print, and I worked at various duties most of the time being spent at operating printing presses.

We worked ten-hour days, six days a week. J.J. and "Mac" sometimes worked overtime. I worked only the regular hours being paid a weekly wage which was comparatively good for those times, and my lack of experience. I received five or five dollars a week for working after school hours to six o'clock and on Saturday all day, and nine dollars a week for half weeks after finishing school. A two or three dollar a week raise was offered to me in the fall of 1929 for me to stay on at printing, but I had made up my mind to enter a branch of the Royal Bank of Canada, starting salary of $200. The bank salary started out about the same per hour as for the printing plant those days, and experience however short, were helpful and appreciated to me.

J.J. was very jovial in his occasional trip to the Job Print and did consider the kidding all in good fun. "Mac" was a witty person who noised in a good deal of sarcasm now and then for no reason or another. Elva must always had good answers to all the kidding she was called upon to take, and she usually held her own in a quiet sort of way, always in a setting type. We four all got along very well together. However, I do remember that some days all seem long and weary because of the transitory of some repetitious jobs.

In spite of the great demand for printing those last happy days of the twelfth, business generally being brisk, it looked in his that people had to work long and hard to make any decent profit. There was However, trials and finger ends were used and I was sent back to work.

New and then a printing job had to be put on the paper which required a new kind of printers ink which smelled very bad those days. I always dreaded it when "Mac" would say that it was the largest press, it was at the factory as always spent an outside day in lower trenches on the construction.

One of the jobs I had to do, with the paper and printers devil on the staff, was to do a printing job and then, one day not long after I started my job at the printing plant, I decided to show the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned in some considerable time.

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you getting on Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily, he thought the remark pretty good and amusing.

Sometimes the gasoline engine or a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and the "Mac" the fix it man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results. "Mac" would then stand back and cross over dramatically, then he would immediately start working. "Mac" would say, "all it needed was a bit of cleaning."

On other occasions when some piece refused duty for the end, wanted to be broken, "Mac" would say, "use a little oil" and sure enough after that is all it took. How often since, have I heard of the value of that remark and the actual need of oil in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and, in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the time I told "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring month of 1928 got together just before dark one evening and decided to utilize the newly built outdoor Fern Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just out of the pool, nobody else seemed to be around except the four boys, no thought or time for bathing suits up to the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in. The rest quickly followed and across the pool they swam. "Mac" listened to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Scouts Officially Open Pines Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the boys? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Carl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars, second world and Korea; now prominent druggist, for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby wholesale haberdashery merchant; and myself.

As a young teenager I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day "Mac" said to me how about writing your version of the story told about "The Marooning of Jerome". I did it and read at least two somewhat different versions about the man who was (now) marooned on a beach in northern point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Digby County. When I read this man's tongue and been cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Jerome" appeared to have been a man of some considerable social standing and, possibly, of some considerable wealth. However the way the man could or would ever say after being bound and cared for by some family in the French shore was, something that sounded like the most of Jerome. He either would not, or would not, write anything about who he was or why he was left there. Well, it was, and is, one of Digby County's best kept secrets, and, different ideas have been put forward over the years concerning this man. However, the name of "Mac" was, I felt no urge to write anything about different about this man. The story seemed to have been very well explained in the story of many people, and he was a sort of a legend of many people who visited where he was.

Three years later, I was quite sure that I had heard that "Mac" was, I felt no urge to write anything about different about this man. The story seemed to have been very well explained in the story of many people, and he was a sort of a legend of many people who visited where he was.

Digby 172 Years Ago

Compiled by David Lambert

From the files of the Courier of January 22, 1967, the following account has been compiled concerning Digby in 1745.

Among a number of old newspapers kindly sent to me by friends is a copy of the first issue of the Digby Courier of 1825. The first issue of the Digby Courier was published on January 22, 1825. The Town Plot is situated at the east of the township just within the entrance to Annapolis Basin, and twenty miles from Annapolis Town, and six miles across. It is from the land of W. Mary's Bay. This land was then the water's edge, partly as land ground, and partly as the locality of a modern hill, dry and pleasant, and having with an eastern aspect, a view of the Annapolis Basin and its cultivated shores for twenty miles in where it terminates with the Fort and River's mouth of that name. It was owned by Loyola, from New York in 1762, the most of whom went early to farm, or, moving to other countries, left the whole free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students one of which was J.J.'s daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Melvin G. Thibert, Freeport, Digby Co.). Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters. I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print." I was learning to do beginner jobs, receiving some knowledge about things like embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and trimming paper stock, making ink for certain desired colors, and so forth, but, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "ye", the printers name for a confirmed fool.

There was a taste of trying to sell job printing outside the plant. Work was a little slack one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for printed personalized Christmas cards?" I tried to make several calls around town, spent most of the time at one particular house, and so much time and got no order, but

Killed In Argus Crash

Dr. Carmen L. Piggott, NRE, was a Defence Scientific Service Officer at the Defence Research Board's Naval Research Establishment in Dartmouth, Nova Scotia.

During the past ten years, he had been engaged in anti-submarine warfare research. In December 1964 he was appointed Scientific Consultant to the Maritime Command Atlantic, serving on the staff of the Air Officer Commanding, Maritime Air Command.

Dr. Piggott was born in Bridgetown, Nova Scotia, and received his B.Sc. and M.Sc. in Physics at Dalhousie University.

Dr. Piggott resided in Dartmouth with his wife, Dorothy, and their two children. A Memorial Service was held at 11 a.m. on Friday, 26 March, at RCAF Station Greenwood, in memory of the 15 officers and airmen and Dr. Piggott who perished in the crash of an Argus aircraft near Puerto Rico last week.

The thirty-minute service was conducted by both Protestant and Roman Catholic Chaplains. The officiating Chaplains were: Squadron Leader (the Rev.) G. B. Fee, Staff Officer Religious Administration (Protestant), Squadron Leader (the Rev.) W. Archer, Station Chaplain (Protestant), Flight Lieutenant (the Rev.) R. B. Cope, Assistant Station Chaplain (Protestant), Flight Lieutenant Father F. J. Lally, Assistant Station Chaplain (Roman Catholic). A combined Protestant and Roman Catholic choir was also in attendance.

Mourners and their families from across Canada attended the service. A total of 50 civilian dignitaries and senior officers from the three services were also in attendance.

Earlier on Friday morning, a Solemn Requiem Mass was said in Greenwood's Queen of Heaven Chapel. This service was conducted by Squadron Leader Father J. M. A. Sabourin, Station Chaplain (Roman Catholic).

Enrolment And Fly Up Ceremonies

On March 22, 1965, the Girl Guides and Brownies of Digby gathered at the Guide Hall with their mothers.

Barbara Wenaus and Kitty Chisholm flew from Brownies into Guides after receiving their wings.

The girls that were enrolled in Guides were Barbara Wenaus, Shirley Haynes, Kitty Chisholm, and Debbie Thomas. The Guides chose as a theme for the afternoon "Pennies With Wings". Both Guides and Brownies participated in making butterflies and fastening pennies on the wings. The patrol leaders, Laura Daley, Jeanette Cornwall, Lila Wong, and Maureen Smith read a note on the stages of the butterfly in relation to the phases of Guiding.

Laura Daley, and Maureen Smith received their Second Class badges. The ending of a successful afternoon reached a peak in the serving of refreshments to the mothers.

On March 15, the Guides held a Court of Honor at the home of the Guide Captain, Mrs. Joan Bearne.

Vocational Classes Close

Everett Green, supervisor of provincial vocational schools in Nova Scotia and of the Vocational Education Division of the Department of Education, was guest speaker at the closing exercises of the Vocational Evening Classes at the Digby Regional High School.

Mr. Green's topic was Changes in Education. Technological changes in the past twenty years, the speaker said, have exceeded all previous years. Technical advance, he said, is necessary for new adjustments in a changing world. Education, he commented, is faced with the task to predict the world of the future and identify knowledge relevant to the world in which children will live. More changes are still to come and we must self discipline ourselves and be capable of orientating ourselves to the requirements of the future. Those who have an aptitude toward change will benefit most from education.

As in general education, Mr. Green said, vocational education requires more emphasis but is expanding under federal and provincial financial aid. Since 1958 students in vocational evening classes in Nova Scotia increased from 4,800 to 6,338. The classes increased from 280 to 361. Four new vocational high schools have been built and two expanded. Naming some of the provincial vocational schools, Mr. Green mentioned the Nova Scotia Institute of Technology which gives courses in mechanics, electricity, electronics, laboratory technician, diesel mechanics, watch repairs, barbering, cooking, etc. He mentioned the Nova Scotia Marine Navigation School, the Nova Scotia Marine Engineering School, Nova Scotia Land Surveying Institute. Programs have been designed to train and retrain the unemployed and disabled, the speaker continued, as well as business management training programs.

Mr. Green was introduced by F. C. Purdy, superintendent of schools, and thanked by C. C. MacInnes, local administrator, who chaired the exercises.

In his report as administrator, Mr. MacInnes said the total registration in the four classes was 63, of which 43 continued to the end of the term. It is expected that accommodation will be available for 5 students in the acetylene welding class for the next year, 10 in bookkeeping, 9 in shorthand and typing and 8 in home sewing. Maximum number of students for each class are acetylene welding 12, bookkeeping 18, shorthand 18 and home sewing 18.

Certificates awarded, and presented by Mr. Purdy, went to the following in the Home Sewing Class with Mrs. Marjorie Sabean as instructor — Mrs. Thelma Bacon, Mrs. Alma Melanson, Mrs. Ruth Wilson, and Mrs. Marion A. Smith; Bookkeeping (Earl Hardy, instructor), Roger Sullis; Typing and Shorthand (Mrs. Winnifred Dakin, instructor), Mrs. Christine Algeux; Oxy-Acetylene Welding (Victor Comeau, instructor), Nolon Everett, Leonard Harvey and Sharon Peck.

Recognition of Merit to the student judged to have made the most progress during the year went to Percy Potter, welding; Miss Dorothy Melanson, sewing; Mrs. Elsie Gidney, bookkeeping; Miss Nellie Nesbitt, typing and shorthand.

In his report Mr. MacInnes commended those who had persevered to attend the 47 nights a year for three years for a total of 270 hours especially when some students have to travel 140 miles each week. Perfect attendance for the present year was attained by the following students — Percy Potter, Bear River; Roger Freeman, Lansdowne; Thelma Bacon, North Range; Marie Dugas, Barton; and Alma Melanson, Digby.

Receive AMS Certificates

Early in 1965 the students of St. Patrick's Business College entered the Administrative Management Society Spelling Program which was conducted by the Halifax-Dartmouth Chapter of this society.

This International Spelling Project was not a "spelling bee" nor was it a "contest". It was, in reality, a teaching aid one which educators have found to be effective in helping motivate students to become better spellers.

The Administrative Management Official Spelling List consisted of 500 words. After a test of 100 words, taken from this list, A M Proficiency Certificates for 100% Accuracy were awarded to: Eleanor Agnes Burnham, Digby; Dorothy Ann Comeau, Weymouth; Sharon Margaret Frost, Westport; Doreen Pearl Hooper, Freeport; Shirley Ann Seeley, Marshalltown; M. Ruth Marie Cox, Bear River; Edith Emma Sweeney, Deep Brook; Sandra Ann Tuff, Brighton, N. S.

Mr. C. C. Smith, Education Committee Chairman of AMS Halifax, has sent his congratulations to the school and to the eight girls who earned one of these beautiful certificates.

Commends Chamber Of Commerce Week

Hon. R. L. Stanfield

The observance of Chamber of Commerce Week across Canada takes place this year during the week of April 4.

I believe that all of us must continue our efforts to improve the economic climate in this province. Government, labor, business, and industry must work together in a united effort to develop and utilize all our human and natural resources.

The Maritime Provinces Board of Trade through the years has been unceasing in its efforts to promote and maintain the economic and social welfare of the whole region. It provides an organization through which the business and commercial leaders may express their views on provincial matters.

Through close co-operation with the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, the Maritime Provinces Board of Trade assists local boards and chambers with their problems. They have not been unaware of the problems that we face, and with their co-operation we have been able to adopt a common approach to many of our problems.

I commend the observance of Chamber of Commerce Week to all the citizens of this province.

The preacher for the Crusade was Rev. L. R. Atkinson, Secretary Evangelist of the Baptist Convention of the Atlantic Provinces. Services were held nightly for two weeks. Sunday services were also held at Tiverton and Central Grove. Two Saturday evening rallies were held at Tiverton.

Daily Bible Studies were conducted by Rev. Stuart E. Murray on the general theme "What the Holy Spirit Does". Studies convened each day at 2:00 at Freeport and 3:15 at Tiverton. Children's meetings afternoons at Tiverton and Freeport. Bible studies were conducted nightly at 6:45 for those who had made professions of faith during the meetings.

During the two-week campaign there was a total attendance at all meetings of 3,463. There were a total of 66 first time commitments to Jesus Christ as well as a number of rededications.

One week's Crusade began Sunday afternoon at Westport with a Sunday School rally in the Church hall. The evening service was held in the Westport Baptist Church with the pastor Lie. Ronald McLean presiding. Rev. W. Ideson led the song service and Mrs. Wallis again favored the audience with two renditions. The Westport campaign will conclude on Sunday evening, April 4. Attend Church Easter Sunday.

The Religious Survey

The Religious Survey which is presently being undertaken in the town of Digby is proceeding with more than 40 house to house callers filling out the survey cards.

Already many of the cards properly filled out have been turned in, and it is expected that within another week the survey will have been completed. Callers on the whole are meeting with a good response.

As previously pointed out, the survey is aimed at providing a complete file of all Protestant families in the area that the churches concerned may be able to give a more helpful ministry where required. Also it is considered that information concerning the number of children of all ages in the community is a vital importance in order that the churches may plan their future facilities and services required on the basis of the potential to which they are called upon to minister.

All information given to the callers to be entered on the cards is purely voluntary, and no information of a confidential nature is being sought.

When the survey is completed the cards will be screened and given to ministers of the various churches concerned with the information. The survey is being sponsored by the Ministerial Association of Digby.

North Shore interests should step up their fight for a second car ferry from Nova Scotia to New England to augment the present Bar Harbor-Yarmouth service. The Canadians want an Essex County terminus this time, either Gloucester or Beverly.

A Massachusetts group, with John Spencer representing Gov. Volpe, was in Shelburne, N. S., recently. There were strong indications then that the Commonwealth was willing to offer aid to the Essex County port selected. Money to build a terminal might be made available, with perhaps another access road from Route 128. Substantial Federal aid might be forthcoming, under the Public Utilities section of the Area Redevelopment Act.

To Replace Meteghan Bridge

Improvements planned for the Halifax-to-Yarmouth highway through the Annapolis Valley were announced by Highway Minister Stephen Pyke to a delegation from the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade.

The minister said work on a new highway between Bedford and Upper Sackville would commence immediately. Reconstruction and upgrading on the strip from St. Croix to Avonport would be commenced this year and so would work on No. 1 Highway between Kentville and Kingston.

Consideration would also be given, said Mr. Pyke, to the repaving of No. 1 Highway from Weymouth to the Yarmouth county line, either in whole or in parts. The department's plans call for a new bridge to replace the old bridge at Meteghan with work to commence this year.

The minister said that while the department's policy was to maintain Highway No. 1 at the same time it would be necessary to plan for a second highway via route one. He added that he would welcome any suggestion which the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade would care to submit. Mr. Pyke asked the delegation to realize that in requesting a second road via route one, that consideration be given to certain physical limitations. The new work and by-passes now planned and for immediate future, he said, would be all-weather standard and route one wherever by-passed would be maintained.

The AVET delegation that conferred with Mr. Pyke included Councillor Gordon Crossley, Falmouth; Mayor H. C. Lindsay, Kentville; Gerald d'Entremont, Meteghan; Bernard LeBlanc, Bellevue Cove; Lloyd K. Hill, executive secretary AVAET.

Blood Donor Clinic - April 13.

An emergency meeting of representative Digby citizens was called on Monday morning to protest the federal government's decision to shelve a $3,000,000 wharf project which had been the hope of the people as an economic boom to the area. First news of the government decision came through the provincial press, radio and T.V. on Monday bringing with it shock, disappointment and disturbance of mind.

The $3,000,000 project was to have included the new wharf for docking the Princess of Acadia at a cost of two and a half million dollars and an additional $500,000 to repair and build the fisherman's wharf. It is understood the latter part of the total three million project will continue. Reasons for abandoning the first part of the project were given to the effect that the C.P.R., which operates the Bay of Fundy ferry run from Digby to Saint John, N. B., were uncertain about the future of the service and had advised the federal government that they felt it unwise to make such an investment at the present time.

For some time, it had been understood, that negotiations between the government and the C.P.R. had been difficult in who should pay for a transit shed which was to be built on the new pier. People in Digby had been primed to think all difficulties had been settled because of recent activity around the waterfront in relation to procedure in constructing the wharf. The shock of the decision in shelving the project, therefore, came most severely.

The meeting on Monday asked Hon. A. J. MacEachen, minister of labor in the federal government, for definite and immediate assurance that the ferry service between Digby and Saint John would be continued in a manner consistent with modern transportation requirements. If this is not done immediately, it was stated at the meeting it will adversely affect the whole economic life of Western Nova Scotia. The ferry link, across the Bay of Fundy to Saint John, is vital to the life of the area and must be maintained and improved to meet modern transportation requirements it was stated. Any suggestion that this link might be abandoned at any time in the future must be met with utmost resistance, it was stated.

A telegram was sent to Labor Minister MacEachen on the day the shelving of the wharf project was announced and this was followed Monday by a telephone call to the minister. A telegram has also been sent to George C. Nowlan, MP for Digby-Annapolis-Kings, asking his active support. These will be followed up by a "March on Ottawa", if this is necessary to get action.

92 Years

Mr. Fred Dakin, Centerville, celebrated his 92nd birthday on Monday, March 8th, in Halifax, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Dakin, where he and Mrs. Dakin had been spending the winter.

Mr. Dakin is active, reads and enjoys company, and was the recipient of many cards, gifts and telephone calls on his birthday.

A dinner party was held on Monday evening and among the guests were two of his grandchildren, Sharon and Brian, children of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Dakin.

Mr. and Mrs. Dakin will celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary in October, at which time an "At Home" is being planned for family and friends.

About This and That

Shocking, Disappointing, Disturbing

It was a downright shock to Digby town and county to get the news on Friday that the federal government had shelved the $3,000,000 wharf project. It was tearfully disappointing and it was horribly and cruelly disturbing. It fell as a blow to the people who are experiencing a gradually declining economy of an area which now seems destined for the worst.

This newspaper, if nothing else, has always sounded an optimistic note. We are not easily discouraged ourselves and we feel everybody else should live with both eyes and not with a defeatist attitude. Since we have always tried to look on the bright side and to encourage us to have courage. This latest blow to the hope of the future of the town of Digby has now put us in the same rank as those who have been invited to hold a pessimistic attitude. The news has also intimated that the C.P.R. ferry might be withdrawn in a matter of ten years. We can see Digby as a ghost town that is such a thing happen. What plans for the future can be made in the town or county, under such a forecast of the future? What industry or business already established can hope for relief from the economic doldrums? How can they attempt to expand? What industry would want to locate here without a direct means of transportation out of the area?

We consider the decision of the federal government to cancel the Digby wharf project a severe blow to the courage of our people. They have little incentive now through the economic situation here and their incentive to progress can be nothing but less against such odds.

We've been proud. We've tried to hold up our heads, but the time has come when we had better hang out our sign "economically depressed area". And little should we care whether we are considered under the term "designated" or that horribly sounding word "depressed" for right now our spirits are depressed.

This area needs assurance of something brighter. People cannot keep up courage to strive against odds forever. Under the present shocking and disturbing disappointment they know not which way to turn while the rest of the province experiences an economic boom. It is time something definite is decided to give this part of the province the same economic boost that others are getting. And to lose the Digby-Saint John connection would be nothing short of tragedy. We want assurance that something will connect these two points and we are not too concerned whether it is C.P.R. or C.N.R. We're discouraged.

We earnestly hope we'll be more encouraged by the time this editorial is read.

Exhibition, 1965

Whoever heard of writing an editorial on the Digby County Exhibition in March when the exhibition is scheduled for September 2, 3 and 4 of 1965? But the truth of the matter is that if there is to be a Digby County Exhibition in 1965, then plans must be laid well in advance and "well in advance" is earlier than now.

We are a bit disturbed about the 1965 Digby County Exhibition. We understand that two meetings of the executive have been called. In one case there were three or four members present. In another there were two of the executive showed up. The chairman, we understand, became discouraged and resigned. Most of us would likely do the same, but let us hasten to say he has reconsidered.

Certainly it looked as though no one was interested. However, with our always (nearly always) optimistic outlook, we feel that, in some cases, there is not so much lack of interest as lack of understanding of the situation. "After all, September 1965 is six months away. Why rush?" seems to be the attitude, when actually there isn't too much time left to make plans for such an event. For example, what about the addition of a fish booth? Doesn't this have to be looked into really early? Or, what about additional firms to utilize some of the booth space which was not utilized last year? Expenses for such things must be considered in the firm's budget and budgets are not made up three weeks before exhibitions. So planning for exhibitions must necessarily be done months in advance.

We must consider whether this Digby County Exhibition (note that we said Digby County) is worthwhile. We think it is necessary to the economy of the county. Do you? Let's hear from you.

You And "They"

Whenever we are faced with the grim fact of cancer — through the death of a loved one, or the long illness of a friend, or even our own struggle with the dread disease — we inevitably ask: "When will 'they' find a cure for cancer?"

"They" haven't yet found a magic cure-all for cancer, but 'they' have already discovered many different ways to fight the disease. 'They' can now save one out of every three cancer patients and are working toward a realistic goal of saving one out of two.

But 'they' haven't done all this alone. They have had help — your help. This is Crusade against Cancer month. At this time, in particular, the Canadian Cancer Society asks you to get to know the Seven Danger Signals of Cancer and, if you should have one that persists more than two weeks, go to your doctor. In its early stages, cancer is usually localized in one area and grows painlessly. If detected and treated before it spreads, cancer can often be cured.

During Crusade against Cancer month each and every one has a special opportunity to join the Canadian Cancer Society in its mounting offensive against Cancer.

GIVE . . . AND GIVE GENEROUSLY, so 'they' can go on working to protect you and your loved ones against cancer.

Chamber Of Commerce Week

(Board of Trade)

Are our communities as beautiful as we would like them to be? Is everything possible being done to attract new industry? Are the merchants in our communities completely harmonious or are there points of contention which need to be cleared away? Would we like to find new ways of attracting tourists to our area with all their purchasing power means to our communities? Are the citizens in our communities opposed to some provincial or federal legislation which they feel is not in their best interests?

In short, is Digby town and county falling behind in the race of progress or are we going forward as rapidly as we would wish? If the answers to these questions would indicate some wants or needs for our communities then we should support the Boards of Trade which are operating in all of these fields for the benefit of all citizens.

It is surprising that so few people know the true role of a Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce. It has been described as a booster organization. It has been called a tourist attracting body. It is sometimes known as a businessmen's association. Well, it is, of course, all of these things but it is a good deal more. A Board of Trade or a Chamber of Commerce — in Canada these terms mean the same — is a voluntary organization of forward-looking citizens of a community banded together to promote civic, commercial, industrial and agricultural progress of the community and the district in which it operates and to work for good government at all levels. But a real, live, vital Board of Trade or Chamber of Commerce is also the conscience and the will of the community. The conscience to see and recognize the needs of the community and the will to do something about it.

The week of April 4th has been designated "Chamber of Commerce Week" when you will be given an opportunity to learn something of the Chamber of Commerce movement in Canada and in your own community as a Board of Trade. In all levels men and women who have accepted the responsibilities of citizenship are working together voluntarily to make their communities, their provinces and Canada better places in which to live and in which to earn a living.

High on the list of projects of the Chamber of Commerce movement is the effort to bring to all Canadians a better understanding and appreciation of Canada's economic system of competitive enterprise and to arouse Canadians to participate fully as individuals in the democratic political process. All Canadians are urged to support this dynamic movement at the community level in the interests of all citizens.

The strength of the Chamber movement lies in the fact that it is politically non-partisan, non-sectarian and without any special vested interest. Its operation on behalf of good citizenship, good government and good business is performed in the interests of all Canadians.

We owe it to ourselves and to our communities to know what our Boards of Trade are doing here in Digby County. We owe it to ourselves to support the Boards in every way possible and to encourage those in it who are prepared to devote time and effort to play an effective role in building a better community, a better province and a greater country.

The Boards of Trade in Digby County seem to have been specially activated of late. Digby Board has, for the present year, reached more than the 100 mark in membership. This, we must admit, was due chiefly to the efforts of one man, Vincent Snow, of the membership committee, but it is encouraging to know the interest is there when there is someone available to stir up the interest. At a recent well attended Board of Trade dinner meeting in Bear River, a fine report of community effort was heard. Clare Board has been most active in the past few years and the Fundy Board on the Islands has come into extra activity because of the need seen for a harbour-causeway-bridge complex in the area.

We cannot leave the subject of Board of Trade without giving a great deal of credit to one of Digby County's citizens, E. Adelaar, Weymouth, who is president of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade. Indeed, the whole Valley owes much to this enterprising man. Through his initiative and great interest the A.V.A.B.T. was able to obtain services of a secretary-manager in the person of Lloyd Hill. This week both these gentlemen successfully carried out an Annapolis Valley Day in Boston, Mass. A.V.D. has the advantage of reaching thousands of prospective tourists, not alone by those entertained on that day but by the publicity through press, radio and T.V.

Mr. Adelaar will be general chairman for a Board of Trade workshop to be held in Kentville on April 23. Boards in Digby County are urged to send as many members as possible to the workshop where ideas can be gleaned from others who have faced similar problems to those faced by the citizens of our own area.

Support Chamber of Commerce Week by seeking membership in your nearest Board of Trade. Do it now.

Music Festival

We've written several times this winter on the subject of music so our intention at this point is merely to remind our readers that the Digby Music Festival begins April 5 (along with Chamber of Commerce and Wildlife Week) and that the participants and those in charge of the festival need your support. Be there in person to give that support.

Stop Water Pollution

(National Wildlife Week)

The subject chosen by government wildlife agencies in Canada for special attention during National Wildlife Week, April 4 to 10, this year, deals with the serious question of water pollution. Again, in 1965, the Canadian Wildlife Federation and its member organizations are providing leadership for a nation-wide program based on the theme "Help Stop Water Pollution". This newspaper is pleased to support this program by encouraging its readers to take a stand against continuing abuse of our precious water resources.

Statistics of the world's supply of fresh water show Canada to be one of the world's most favoured nations. The Great Lakes alone contain almost one-quarter of the earth's total quantity of fresh surface water. Canada's rivers pour about two and one-half million cubic feet of water into the sea every second. If it seems incongruous, therefore, that many parts of Canada are desperately short of clean, useable water, the explanation lies in the degree to which we have taken for granted the very resources with which we are so abundantly blessed. But we do have water pollution problems in all of the populated portions of the land. From the coast of Newfoundland where oil-soaked carcasses of sea birds drift ashore, through the heavily industrialized complex of the Lower Great Lakes — St. Lawrence, even the rivers that traverse the sparsely-populated prairies, to the rivers that flow westward into the Pacific, pollution is creating serious problems.

It is as though pollution had overtaken us unawares, like the tortoise that kept on with the race while the hare slept. Our abundant supply of water was more than adequate for a nation of ten million sparsely-distributed people engaged largely in primary production from farming, forestry, mining and fishing. The natural purifying properties of water allow it to accept a certain amount of pollution without real impairment of its quality. Local problems developed only in centres of concentration of population or the vicinity of particular industries.

The mushrooming populations and rapid industrialization that followed World War II created conditions which were new and quite different. Two decades of rapid change from rural to urban living and from primary production to industrial complexity have found us poorly prepared to deal with our new problems. Sewage treatment plants designed for the relatively simple task of treating human wastes could not be expected to cope with the hundreds of new chemical wastes which are the by-products of modern industrial production. Municipal resources, both financial and technological, needed to be bolstered. Provincial governments are now providing some of the necessary research, leadership and legislation, but it is surprising how much of this has been developed within only the past ten years. The problem was allowed to get a long way ahead of us. It will take special efforts to catch up the lost ground — or should we say "lost water".

Municipalities have been caught in a squeeze, with costs of education and other services rising more rapidly than assessments. In most provinces there is now available limited financial assistance to municipalities from provincial treasuries. The federal government offers assistance through loans from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation for capital costs of sewage treatment plants. Twenty-five percent of the C.M.H.C. loan is in the form of a grant, but neither loan nor grant is available for constructing or enlarging sewage collector systems. Some municipalities need more help than they are getting — many need only the insistent urging of their own citizens who must express their willingness to pay for the right to enjoy clean water.

Some types of industry pose tremendous problems in pollution control. Often it is necessary to carry out extensive research into methods of neutralizing these wastes at reasonable cost. Recovery of useful by-products may reduce costs of treatment, and may even turn a profit, after research has shown the way. But research in this field has lagged far behind the mushrooming problem. Surely this is an area in which the federal government should be providing more leadership and assistance.

The present backlog of industrial pollution yet to be dealt with is such that we cannot afford to let the problem grow larger. New industries and new products must be prepared to accept treatment of their effluent as part of the cost of production. Concerted efforts must be made to help established industry find effective, economically feasible ways of cleaning their effluents. Use of some of the more persistent pesticides, which eventually find their way into watercourses, must be curtailed.

Progress is being made toward solving some of Canada's pollution problems. It is not too late if we face up to our responsibilities and show our preparedness to pay for correcting our mistakes. What do you know about water pollution and water supply in your community? Ask questions of your public utilities, public health and waterworks authorities. How clean is the water entering the water supply for your community? What kind of treatment do domestic sewage and industrial wastes receive before they are returned to watercourses? Is there evidence of pollution endangering human health or harming fish, wildlife and recreation resources? Are bathing beaches sometimes closed because of pollution? If the answers to these questions are less than satisfactory, you will know that it is your clear duty to demand action that will "Help Stop Water Pollution".

We were "listening" to one of those opinion poll shows on television the other night, as we did the dishes.

If we Canadians do not have a national identity, the announcer was telling us, it is because we know so little about ourselves. He gave statistics of the number of people polled who did not know the answers to certain elementary questions about Canada. I do not remember all of the questions, but among them, a shocking number did not know how many French Canadians there are; how many years a government can stay in power, before, by law, an election has to be called; where Canada stands, in geographical size, and in population among the nations of the world; how many provinces we have.

At this last item, the teen-ager who was helping me gave a snicker of disbelief. A Canadian so ignorant that he did not know how many provinces there were in his own country seemed abysmally, and ludicrously stupid to her. I did not snicker. I didn't have the right. The question about the number of provinces was the only one I could have answered myself.

Do you know what else I don't know?
I don't know where Mr. Pearson was born. I do not know where or when he started his political career, and I know next to nothing about that career until he was Minister of External Affairs during the St. Laurent government.

I don't know just about the same things about Mr. Diefenbaker. My knowledge of him starts with his election to the leadership of the Conservative party -- in what year? My knowledge of the other political leaders of this country doesn't begin anywhere. Somewhere along the line, I became aware that they existed. My knowledge of the provincial political leaders is in an even more desperate state, and the accumulated data I can call to mind on cabinet ministers, either federal or provincial, is practically non-existent.

My vast amalgamation of ignorance extends beyond the boundaries of this country. My essay on Harold Wilson, if I were to write one, would go --

"Harold Wilson is the Prime Minister of Great Britain. He was elected leader of the Labor Party in 1963, wasn't it? Or 1962? and his party won the general election of 1964. When he was ten years old, he had his picture taken in front of Number 10 Downing Street, and declared he would live there one day. The picture, which was published at the time of the election, cannot be apocryphal. Is the story?"

I rather suspect an essay on Lyndon Johnson would be longer, but its length would be due to such items of trivia as the names of his wife, daughters, and beagles. I would hate to think of what I could do with Charles DeGaulle, or Chancellor Erhard, or Fidel Castro, and who can spell the names of those two Russians.

Someone I greatly admire once told me that there are two kinds of knowledge -- that which you know, and that which you know where to find. At the time, I thought it a very clever statement, but tell me, where do we ignoramus look up these bits of information which the newspapers, thank goodness, assume we know? (Wouldn't it be dreadful if every newspaper story were prefaced with a short biographical note!)

Maybe I was newly aware of my profound ignorance, but even when I read THE GINGERBREAD MAN to my daughter for the forty-seventh time, I met a new, completely non-political dimension to my lack of learning. The book is illustrated with appealing little thirteenth century peasants, but did people make gingerbread in the thirteenth century? And if they did, did they use molasses? When did molasses come on the scene?

I think I'll take that NO SALESMEN sign off the door. Maybe that pesky encyclopaedia salesman who prompted me to put it up in the first place might come around again. My sales resistance to encyclopaedias is at an all time low.

Bye. See you in the reference section of the library.

At the moment Gloucester seems to have the inside track, but the advantages to Essex County as a whole are formidable. Studies show that 30-million persons live within a day's driving distance of the North Shore. It seems certain that many of these could be persuaded by skilful promotion to tour the county before embarking for Nova Scotia. When a visitor returned by way of Bar Harbour, our northern states would share the prosperity.

A ferry terminal in Essex County would almost certainly lead to fuller employment in a section that could stand more. Restaurants and motels would be built, commercial parking facilities would have to be provided. Visitors would leave dollars at stores, lounges and filling stations.

The proposed ferry admittedly would make most of its profit in the summer. But Essex County sources are working on plans for a trailer truck transport business through the winter months, providing a big enough ferry is built by the Canadians.

A good gamble all in all. Essex County should make every effort. The state should back it up. — The Boston Herald, March 25/65.

From other news sources we note that Gloucester city manager, Philip Tartas is most hopeful that Gloucester will be selected as the terminal point in the Massachusetts area for a second Nova Scotia to New England ferry.

Route No. 128 referred to in the above editorial is considered a good attraction for the ferry decision, it being within 200 feet of the proposed location of the terminus. It has been said that ferry boats from Nova Scotia could practically dock with their bows touching the highway, making access easy to the ferry facilities. Surveys have shown that there are more than 30,000,000 persons living within a day's drive of Gloucester and also that there are about 80,000 in the area who have direct or indirect roots in Nova Scotia.

National Wild Life Week
April 4 - 10, 1965

Each year the week of April 10 is observed as National Wild Life Week so that all of us may be reminded of the importance of preserving our wild life and natural resources.

National Wild Life Week will be observed this year during the period April 4 to April 10. Jack Miner, the great Canadian naturalist, was born on April 10, 1865 and he devoted his life to wild life conservation. His work must be carried on and each of us can do our part.

Wild life in Canada constitutes a precious heritage but that heritage can be lost if we do not take active measures to preserve it. We must have progress but that progress does not need to destroy our wild life and the natural unspoiled recreation areas that we now possess.

If we have even a little of the vision and compassion of the late Jack Miner, we will preserve these great resources for ourselves and for succeeding generations.

I ask every Nova Scotian to observe National Wild Life Week and to observe its purpose throughout the whole year.

CYO Debate - "Go Steady Or Not"

Another C.Y.O. debate was held Saturday evening, March 20th. Members of the affirmative side were: Evelyn and Susan Amoro and they were opposed by Gerry Connolly and Richard VanTassel of the negative. The subject for debate was: Resolved that teenagers should not go steady.

The first speaker of the affirmative, Evelyn Amoro stated that she thought that going steady was too important a step in life at the teenage stage and that we should not attempt it for fear of it leading to school drop-outs or marriage at a very early age.

The first speaker of the negative, Gerry Connolly, stated that going steady gives one an urge to finish school in order to impress your steady boy or girl friend and that dating one person tends to lead to more satisfaction than dating more than one person.

Susan Amoro, second speaker of the affirmative said going steady was too monotonous and doesn't give a person a chance to mix with others and that studies may be severely neglected and result in failure.

Richard VanTassel, final speaker of the negative, said that going steady could save a person from making a mistake in life now and pay for it later, and also meant the difference between worrying about not having a date for that "all important dance and being sure of one."

The debate was won by the negative side by a split decision. Judges were Mr. and Mrs. Donald Campbell and Rev. Father D. Stokes.

Letter to the Editor

Editor of Digby Courier
Digby, N. S.

Dear Madam:
There have been different letters written concerning the shows being held on Sunday evening.

In one it was said that even though there were no shows on Sunday evening there are no meetings in the churches.

We have meetings at Light House Mission every Sunday evening. May we extend an invitation to all.

Thank you,
P. Handspiker

Westport
March 24, 1965

Dear Mrs. Wallis,
I am a grade eleven student in the Islands Consolidated School and I have become completely disgusted with people who keep telling me that Canada is about ready to fold. If you could, I am wondering if you would print this letter in your weekly paper.

Mr. Bruce Hutchinson, a prominent westcoast newspaper man, has stated that Canada will never become a united country until the people want it to be.

This I believe has hit the nail right on the head.

Since the day of Confederation, Canada has never been completely united. There has always been that certain amount of envy and perhaps dislike of the French people, especially in Quebec. — A feeling of mistrust of the French by the English speaking majority has allowed the young fanatic groups to spring up in Quebec, and they have become very prominent and dangerous although they have been held in check in the past few months.

Returning to Mr. Hutchinson's statement, I feel that Canadian politicians are not working as hard and earnestly as they should on matters of top importance. Granted, they spend many long hours in debate and argument, but all over matters of very little importance.

Canada's flag now flies proudly over all government buildings and also private buildings. Still there are those people who seem to want to cling to the past and let the present and future be left to another generation. These people can't seem to realize that Canada did not have a flag to start with. Some people call the maple leaf flag "Mr. Pearson's personal flag" — I call it Canada's!

During the past few years and in particular last year, Canada's government has been rocked so to speak, by scandals of minor importance. And now, everything that goes wrong the public turn and point a finger at the Canadian government. I feel that all of this scandal has been told like the story of the fish. Everytime the fish story was retold the fish got bigger and bigger until it finally upset the boat.

I contend that these misunderstandings in Canadian political affairs are merely honest or perhaps not so honest mistakes. And I would class them as "growing pains" of a young nation.

In conclusion may I state that I am extremely proud to be a Canadian and I consider it a very high privilege to be able to live in a democratic nation which at present is overshadowed by a greater neighbour to the South.

A Canadian
P.S. A Canadian is a person who lives in the world's second largest country and speaks either English or French or has considerable knowledge of both languages, and wears a maple leaf on his sport coat.

Vacationing From Yukon

Mr. and Mrs. Spurgeon Roscoe of Teslin, Yukon Territory, have arrived at the home of Mrs. Roscoe's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Kinney, Ashmore, after a motor trip which took them through the Southern United States spending a few days in Bernice, Louisiana, and Waltham, Mass.

They were accompanied from Louisiana by a friend Mr. Bob Tubbs, who returned to his home by plane from Yarmouth last Friday. Mr. Tubbs found the climate here very cold and uncomfortable after being accustomed to temperatures which rarely go below 70 degrees above in his home state.

Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe have many interesting tales to relate of life in our Canadian North where in Teslin, the population is 200, including 24 white people, remainder Indian. They motor 114 miles on the Alaska highway frequently to Whitehorse which is the nearest and only shopping centre.

Mr. Roscoe is from Cambridge Station, Kings Co., N.S. and is employed with the Department of Transport, at their Radio Range Station in Teslin, and was given a ten week vacation.

Mrs. Roscoe is a certified Nursing Assistant, of Nova Scotia, and Ontario.

Witnesses Meet At Shelburne

It has been announced by Harold McLaren, presiding minister of the Digby congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, that about 45 delegates from the Bear River, Centreville, Digby and Weymouth congregations are completing plans to attend the semi-annual convention, to be held in the Shelburne Regional High School in April. The purpose of the convention, said Mr. McLaren, is an outstanding one, in that it is designed to further the education of the Witnesses in the ministry work, and to give instruction on personal conduct that will always be in harmony with Bible principles. The convention will be under the direction of Mr. Levi Wall, District Supervisor, assisted by Mr. Stanley Green, Circuit Supervisor.

Mr. Wall will deliver the address of welcome, and the theme "Willfully Forget Your Ministry". Many of the delegates will have part in the program and will also share in caring for the different duties that go toward making the convention a success. Included in these will be H. McLaren, W. L. McKenna, Geo. Laevens and W. Holmes, Digby; Alex Toloski, Geo. Jarvis Jr., Edward Jarvis, Weymouth, and Charles Stinson, Bear River.

The program Sunday will be highlighted by the public lecture at 3:00 p.m. when Mr. Wall delivers the much advertised talk, "The Moral Breakdown — What Can Be Done About It." This will be followed by talks by R. Verbrugge, New Germany, Stanley Green, Circuit Supervisor, and Mr. Wall's concluding remarks to those assembled, using as his subject "Meeting Today's Problems With Courage."

Young O.S. Wins Scoring Championship

For Ordinary Seaman R. Campbell, of Scarborough, Ontario, the highlight of his Navy new entry training at HMCS Cornwallis will have been his trip to the Tri-Service Hockey tournament at RCAF Station Summerside last week.

As one of the youngest members of the eleven service teams competing in the tournament, Campbell achieved top honours as he captured the leading scoring trophy with a total of eight goals and six assists.

His display of determination and skill was highly acclaimed by the older and more experienced participants in the tournament. As the only sailor under new entry training on the Cornwallis Club, he can be justly proud of his contribution which assisted his team in winning the Consolation title of the tournament.

Education For Better T.V. Says Edwards

"Television has the power to life society - power to portray society as it ought to be, instead of society at its worst", said C. E. Edwards in an address to the Bear River Home and School Association on Monday night. "We can never expect to build healthy minds, and to mould strong character on daily servings of crime and violence", the speaker said. "Programs of this kind destroy our values, and to a large extent they appear to be responsible for the breakdown of authority so common today".

Mr. Edwards believes that the approach to the problem over which society as a whole is deeply concerned must be educational. The TV program producer and sponsor say, "We give the people what they want", and to a large extent this is true. "The content of TV programs will always be determined by the understanding and level of appreciation of the TV audience", he stated. Mr. Edwards further expressed the opinion that what people want is determined by what they experience. Stressing the responsibility of the TV program producer and sponsor to society as a whole, Mr. Edwards felt that their approach to the problem, as far as possible should be, "What I give the Canadian public will make the viewer want things that are more valuable, and when they want these things I will give them still more". In this way the interests of the sponsor, who must have a large TV audience, can be met and at the same time the needs of our developing society. In any case, commercial interests must not be permitted to destroy those values upon which our society is built.

As a solution to the problem of better quality TV programming, European and Scandinavian countries have turned to education. Just as we teach an appreciation of good literature, drama, and music in our schools, the youth of these countries are taught the new language of communication - the language of picture and sound which has meaning far more subtle than that behind the printed word. While they are taught the language, they are exposed to the best in the media, and as a result learn to discriminate. In this way ideals, standards, and tastes are inculcated and developed. In 1960, for example, England had approximately 700 schools offering courses in Screen Education beginning with the Primary Grades and extending through the completion of secondary education. In Australia Screen Education was first introduced into the education system in 1956, and in the State of Tasmania no teacher is certified unless she has successfully completed required courses in "Screen Education".

At the Unesco-sponsored International Meeting on Television Teaching, held at Oslo, Norway, October 1962 at which Mr. Edwards represented Canada, representatives from eighteen countries, including a few from behind the Iron Curtain, heard reports on developments in screen education, and viewed films made by children as part of the creative activity associated with this educational program.

Mr. Edwards told his audience that the first breakthrough in Screen Education in Canada comes this year with Quebec's Royal Commission report on education. In an entire chapter dealing with the subject, the Commission recommends that courses in film and TV be started in Quebec's schools as soon as possible. Some of the basic courses will be compulsory. "The implementation of the Unesco Recommendations will go far in bringing mankind forward," Mr. Edwards said. In summary these include: The training of teachers of "screen education"; the prescribing of general courses in screen education for all students in our public schools; the offering of screen education courses in the field of higher education - at both the undergraduate and graduate levels; the provision of scholarships for the study of screen education abroad; and the organization of seminars for experienced teachers from different countries.

Mr. Edwards was thanked for his talk by Mrs. Roy Wade President of the Bear River Home and School Association.

Guests at this meeting were members of the Clements and Smith's Cove Home and School Associations.

Routine business was conducted at the opening of the meeting. It was decided to sponsor a pantry sale in April and to conduct the canvas for the Canadian Institute for the Blind in May.

The book award was won jointly by Miss Schmidt's class and Miss Morine's class. A film was shown by Mr. Edwards, following his talk, dealing with individual differences in children and the best methods of dealing with them.

Mrs. Joseph Proulx of Clements and Mrs. Gerald Young of Smith's Cove expressed the thanks of their members to the Bear River Association for their hospitality.

Mrs. Benjamin Higgins of Arlington Heights, Mass., has been a guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rice, for several days this past week.

Library Week

It is a privilege again this year to lend my patronage to Canadian Library Week. Because I love books, and because I can wholeheartedly endorse the Canadian Library Week's 1965 theme - "Reading is the Key to Contributing Education" - it is also a pleasure.

Two centuries ago, author Edward Gibbon, whose "Decline and Fall of the Roman Empire" has become a classic, wrote of his "early and invincible love of reading, which (he) would not exchange for the treasures of India"; and it was Francis Bacon, two centuries before that, who observed in his famous essay on studies that "Reading maketh a full man..."

In today's oft-discussed "explosions" of knowledge and education, the world of books which has inspired men through the ages is a world of growing dimension and importance. Truly, in human terms, it is an infinite world and one in which the professional librarian's role is of increasing public importance. For if there is an art of reading - as there undoubtedly is - there is also an art in being able to distinguish what is worth reading. And just as reading is the key to continuing education, good reading is the key to continuing quality of education.

As we observe Library Week, I hope that Canadians will pause again to remember the day-by-day contribution of librarians in their guidance of those who appreciate and hunger for that continuing, quality education which is ours in our libraries.

Protest Dump Location To Town Council

John Nichols, local barrister, appeared before the Digby town council on Monday night on behalf of the residents of the Shelburne Road area opposing the location on the Shelburne road of a proposed town-municipal dumping area. Mr. Nichols presented to council members a petition signed by Shelburne Road and area residents, including lumber dealers and camp owners, which stated the dump would be a fire hazard, it would be unsanitary and that drainage from the dump into the Acacia Valley would make the area undesirable for tourists. According to the petition, the soil being of granite rock nature, it was not given to bulldozing and covering.

The proposed dump, it was stated by council, had been approved by water authorities Department of Health, and the Digby Municipal Council but had not yet been approved by fire authorities, which might cause the location to be changed or a change of plans entirely. Council reminded Mr. Nichols that the proposed dump would have been a private venture and not a town proposition.

In reference to the present town dump it was felt that citizens should adhere more strictly to the law that paper must be packed and tied in bundles. Offenders against this law are to be prosecuted.

Stuart MacNaughton, of the Digby County Power Board appeared before council in respect to replacing the North end electric circuit in the town and proposed a change or simplification of rates and regulations. The council approved of the change as presented by superintendent MacNaughton and authorized him to seek approval of the Board of Public Utilities. The proposed new circuit includes Victoria St. to Prince William, from Victoria down Church St. to King St., along King to Carleton and down Carleton to Queen. Other parts of the town will be replaced in later years.

Mayor C. D. Snow reported that he had approached Acadian Coach Lines offering a tentative proposition for free tax on their property in lieu of using the property for a parking area. The Acadian Lines refused the offer because the property would be more readily sold if it remained unoccupied. The owners, council decided, should be contacted and made aware of the fact that the premises are unsightly and have the situation remedied.

It was verbally agreed, reported Councillor Charles Halliburton, that the Irving Oil Ltd. property on Water St. could be obtained for a year to provide parking facilities if alterations and taxes would be looked after by the sponsoring party. Council left the matter to be taken to the Digby Board of Trade.

The matter of taking action against those who violate the "no parking" regulations on 1st Avenue was brought up Councillor Ralph MacIntyre was asked to look into the cost of building a fence around town property at the corner of Victoria and St. Mary's Streets to house town equipment and thereby relieve space around the town hall for parking.

It was decided at Monday night's meeting to proceed with plans to call a ratepayers' meeting regarding the construction of new sewers in town. Further details to be submitted after a meeting of the sewer committee to decide on which sewers should be replaced first and the cost to be involved.

Arising out of the report of the relief committee, each store in town is to be notified that an itemized account of purchases for relief payment must be presented for payment and only necessities are to be given for relief customers. A request for permission to remove a tree in order to construct a driveway on her property was made by Mrs. Reginald Hazelton, Queen St. The matter is to be investigated by Councillor Ralph MacIntyre. Better drainage from the sidewalk in front of the Fundy Restaurant was requested by the proprietor, William Troupe. Permission was granted to the Digby Local Association V.O.N. to hold tag days on April 23 and 24. Approval in (Please turn to page 12)

Crusade Closes

From March 28th to April 4th special evangelistic services were held in the Westport United Baptist Church. These were part of the Islands Crusade and followed two weeks held in the Freeport United Baptist Church. The services were conducted by the pastor, Lic. Ronald McLean, assisted by Pastor Barr of the Church of Christ (Disciples). Rev. W. Ideson, Freeport, was song leader and the choir under the direction of Mrs. Bailey provided special music. Rev. L. R. Atkinson was speaker at the services and Rev. S. E. Murray conducted the daily Bible Studies and was Campaign Counselor.

The attendance was very large with many from Long Island attending nightly. Over a thousand people attended the various meetings during the week and decisions were made to follow Christ as Lord and Saviour.

On Sunday afternoon a Coronation service was held in the Freeport Baptist Church when 388 were in attendance. Rev. W. Ideson, assisted by Lic. Ronald McLean conducted a Baptismal service for 70 candidates and later the new members were given the right hand of fellowship and participated in the Lord's Supper. The candidates from Westport will be baptized at a later date.

Rev. L. R. Atkinson was speaker at the Coronation service and Rev. S. E. Murray spoke to the new members on the Church Covenant. During the three weeks campaign, a total of 82 services were held plus the many counselling sessions. There was a grand total of 5809 in attendance and 80 first time decisions.

No Social Welfare Can Beat Well Paid Job

Government spending is not the answer to our problems, said Col. Victor deB. Oland, when addressing the Nova Scotia Weekly Newspapers Association members at the Nova Scotian Hotel, Halifax, on Friday. No social welfare can beat a well paid job, the speaker continued, and the only place from which that can come is business - the more business the more employment.

You can't bring prosperity by spending more money - only by spending less percentage wise the Colonel said. He accused governments of spending money on many things on which they should not spend it. Government is spending a larger percentage of gross national product each year and the piece left over for the private taxpayer is less each year.

Speaking of the Canada Pension Plan, Col. Oland said that he and other business men are generally opposed to the plan. It is stateism and not social welfare, he remarked. It is an iniquitous scheme and only an additional taxation and not good for those who need it. There is no need for any to be ill clad or ill housed for those who have must help those who can't afford. There is no reason, he said, why all the population should be fed because of ten or fifteen per cent. If government would confine their spending to those who need it we would have a more prosperous country and more employment Mr. Oland commented. All government spending costs money and some is damaging to the unsuspecting and unknown public. Governments he said can be of more assistance in areas rather than the whole country. He commended the winter-works program.

Mr. Oland said the Canadian Chamber of Commerce of (Please turn to page 12)

Blood Donors Urgently Needed

An urgent appeal for blood donors is being issued for the semi-annual Red Cross Clinic to be held on Tuesday, April 13th, at the Lions Club Hall, Digby. The hours for the Clinic are 2-4 in the afternoon and 6-9 in the evening, and it is hoped that the attendance will equal or surpass the several record clinics which have been held in Digby during recent years.

An average of 800 pints of blood per week is required by Nova Scotia hospitals, and is provided by the Red Cross Free Blood Transfusion Service. This requires over 800 blood donors per week. At the present time, due to a high rate of accidents and operations, the Blood Bank is low and even more donors are needed. Although there is a special call for O Rh Negative type blood, all types are in demand. All persons between the ages of 18 and 65, who are physically fit, are acceptable as donors, and an appeal is being made to the high school for healthy students of 17 years to donate, with the permission of their parents. Each clinic is needed to reach its objective in order to keep the life-saving service in operation.

Many faithful donors have been attending clinics in the Digby area since the inauguration of the Blood Transfusion Service, and each year a number of Red Cross awards are presented in recognition of an outstanding number of donations made. During the past year the following donors have achieved this distinction:

Mrs. George Humphrey - 40th donation pin; Mrs. H. P. Mazier, Hectanooga - 30th donation pin; Norman Wright - 20th donation scroll; Paul Winchester - 20th donation scroll; R. Schaeffer, H.M.C.S. Cornwallis - 20th donation scroll.

Overall arrangements for the Clinics are in the hands of a Red Cross Blood Donor Committee which has been set up for the Digby area under the chairmanship of E. B. Tufts, and comprising: Mayor C. D. Snow and Stewart MacNaughton of Digby, Laurence Henshaw of Bear River and Perley Charlton of Weymouth. Under the direction of this Area Committee, district chairmen have been appointed to be in charge of donor recruitment, as follows:

Digby: Lions Club, David Daley, President; Bear River: Lawrence Henshaw; Smith's Cove: Mrs. W. H. Berry; Plympton, North and South Range: Father Deveau; Weymouth: Rev. Wood; Centerville: Mrs. Keith Raymond; Sandy Cove: Mrs. Emdon; Morehouse; Little River: Mrs. Eldred Frost; East Ferry: Mrs. Gordon Theriault; Tiverton: Eugene Outhouse; Freeport and Westport: Mrs. W. A. MacIntyre.

In addition to their program of donor recruitment, the Digby Lions Club also give the use of their hall for holding the Clinics, and their wholehearted assistance to the team of Red Cross nurses and technicians in setting up the equipment. Nursing service at the Clinic are under the supervision of Mrs. Sidney Smith, R.N., chairman of the Digby Red Cross Branch, assisted by other local nurses. Local doctors are also on call at the Clinic. Refreshment for donors are provided by the Digby Red Cross Branch under the convensership of the President, Mrs. R. B. Lent.

With preliminary arrangements now practically completed for the Clinic, Mr. Tufts, chairman of the Area Committee, has issued an appeal for the public support of Digby and the surrounding districts which alone can ensure the success of this vital project.

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Wright left on Sunday for Alma, N.B. having been called there because of the death of Mrs. Wright's father.

Other officers are to be appointed at a later meeting. Canvassers will be visiting the householders in these districts in the near future for donations. This money will be used to purchase pumps, hose, and other necessary fire fighting equipment.

Whole Families Take Stand

An aggregate number of more than 5800 attended the crusade meetings held in the Baptist churches at Tiverton, Central Grove, Freeport and Westport during the past weeks. The service and Bible courses were conducted by Rev. L. R. Atkinson, Bay View, Secretary Evangelist of the United Baptist Convention of the Atlantic Province, Rev. Stuart E. Murray, Saint John, N. B., Convention field evangelist for New Brunswick and

Conway Co-op. Holds Annual

The annual meeting of the Conway Co-operative Society Limited was held at the agricultural building in Conway, Wednesday, March 31st, presided over by chairman, Burtis Freeman.

The director's report mentioned the work that had been done by the directors during the year. Among these were the new petroleum service for the members, a piece of land sold to M.C.S., and a gas truck purchased.

The Board of Directors for 1965 is as follows: Burtis Freeman, Lloyd MacNeill, Roger Freeman, Lloyd Jefferson, Jack Connell, Arthur Gates, Austin Lutz, Chipman Chisholm, and Jack Harris.

As guest speaker, the president introduced M. S. Horsburgh, general manager of Sootian Gold and vice-president of M.C.S. Mr. Horsburgh has been working for the Co-operative movement for the last twenty years.

Mr. Horsburgh said that he was surprised that so few people of the Digby area are supporting the Conway Co-op. He was sorry that with the tremendous possibilities of doing business the co-operative way, that so few were taking advantage of it. He was glad that the Co-op had taken the extra service of delivering petroleum to its members and that he was sure it would be a success.

Mr. Horsburgh painted a picture of the co-operative way of doing business in the whole of Canada. The Conway store is affiliated with the Maritime Co-operative Services which is in turn a member of the International organizations having branches in all the provinces of Canada.

Mr. Horsburgh was thanked by the secretary, Lloyd MacNeill.

Other discussions brought up by Vernon Rice, representing Maritime Co-operative Service, and Mr. Pierre Belliveau, from St. F. X. extension, were centered on the possibilities of interesting more members to participate in the co-operative movement. Among suggestions was the appointment of a special committee to make a survey of the situation in the Digby area.

Proposed changes in the ways of doing business were mentioned and included that the present store being too small could be replaced by the large building now known as the Agricultural building; to push lines of business that would be attractive to the people of the Digby area, to study the possibilities of getting a group of producers to market their products through the Conway Co-op; to advertise more and organize a campaign for more members.

Kiwanians Hear Talk On Success

Two new members were received into the membership of the Kiwanis Club of Digby at the dinner meeting last Thursday evening held at the New Scotia Restaurant. These included Victor Thompson and Russel Stonehouse. The introduction and initiation was conducted by expresident J.J. Brittain, assisted by several members of the Club. The Club now has the largest membership it has enjoyed for some years. The meeting of last Thursday, attended by so many members so as to overcrowd the dining room facilities, also saw Past-President Wm. MacLeod invested with the Past-President's Pin.

Kiwanian Herbert Warren used a tape recorded speech to give to the meeting a fine talk on the subject of Success.

Kiwanian S. MacNaughton, chairman of the Easter Seals Drive, reported that a very substantial amount of money had already been received in response to the appeal, and that much more was expected for the work. The money is used in aid of crippled children.

Kiwanian Charles McBride, at a previous meeting, gave a review of what the Club had done on behalf of crippled children within recent times. This included 2 pairs of special boots, and repairs on special boots; transportation to Halifax and return for 12 children to the Children's Hospital; one pair of leg braces, and a wheel chair. This service was given in addition to work done through the Crippled Children's Clinic held at regular periods in Digby and sponsored by the Digby Club. The Club is also proceeding to raise funds by means of various projects to continue its support of furnishing a children's ward in the new hospital.

D.R.H.S. Girls Place Third

(By Lynn Nickerson)

Bridgetown Takes Girls' And Boys' Tournaments

The results of the Girls' "A" tournament in Digby were slightly disappointing to the Digby team. Although they got off to a good start by beating Annapolis Royal in two quick games, they were defeated by Bridgetown shortly afterwards. Then, the team rested while the other schools played off. The final game of the competition was between Digby and Middleton. In this game Middleton immediately captured the first game easily, but in the second the Digby team had the victory. The third game meant Digby would either be second or third in the tournament. In the touch and go, point for point play, Middleton fought to the end.

Bridgetown won the tournament; Middleton came second; ton finally edged Digby, who Digby, third; and Annapolis Royal, fourth.

The members of the Digby team were: Chris Dickie, Vanya Turnbull, Joan Rigby, Gwen Wilneff, Lynn Woolf, Nancy Morehouse, Linda Warren, Jenny Robinson, and Lynn Nickerson (captain).

Under the able coaching of Mr. Hodgson, the girls had previously on Thursday swept a four game victory from Annapolis Royal and at the tournament they showed spirit and sportsmanship and fine representation for D.R.H.S.

The girls thank Mr. Hodgson for his time and effort, and Mrs. Kinsman for transportation.

Spirits were up. After their defeat the girls said, "We'll win next year."

Annapolis	11	12
Digby	15	15
Bridgetown	15	13
Digby	2	16

Digby	1	15

The "B" girls' tournament is this Saturday in Bridgetown.

Digby Boys Disappointed In Tournament

The Intermediate "B" Boys' Volleyball Tournament was held in Bridgetown Saturday, April 3. Teams from Digby, Annapolis Royal, Bridgetown and Middleton were represented. Each played a round robin of one set with every other team. Two out of three games constitutes a set. Scores were:

Annapolis	15	10	15
Digby	8	15	12
Middleton	15	15	15
Digby	8	11	15
Bridgetown	15	15	15
Digby	0	1	15

Bridgetown copped top honours with an unbeatable performance. It was a disappointing day for Digby team members who were:

David Turnbull (captain), Eddy Cromwell, Conlin Carter, Richard Wenaus, Greg Outhouse, John Black, Richard VanTassell, Brian VanTassell and Robert Raymond. The team was coached by Mr. Sullis.

The Junior Boys' Tournament is Friday night in Bridgetown.

About This and That

Water Pollution Problems

As our country progresses industrially, as our population increases and even as our civilization thrives and modernizes, living becomes more complicated and often beset with more problems. Safe fresh drinking water has, for some time, been an aim of health authorities and we have accepted the fact that this is absolutely necessary. There was the day when we cautioned the children against bathing in certain cove or shore areas because sewers drained into the water causing pollution. But in most cases, the tides were depended upon to make the water fit for bathing. Today water pollution, particularly in some areas, has become a real menace and consequent problem. Not only are we concerned about fresh water for drinking, but salt water pollution has become a greater health hazard than before.

Salt water pollution is a special problem in our own area because our livelihood depends so much on fishing. Stricter enforcement of sanitary laws has been seen to be necessary in the fishing industry and this includes the water used in processing fish. Justification of these precautions can be seen but they do create problems and hardships for the fish plants. The water for processing fish must be free from contamination and the water itself be protected from contamination by fish offal.

We agree with ideal sanitary conditions and we are sure our fish dealers do also. We feel that some ways and means should be provided for our fish dealers to improve their plants to meet sanitary regulations and still be able to carry on a profitable business. Certainly Digby County needs to keep all the small business operations now existing and, as far as the fish dealers are concerned, we know they are not adverse to improvements.

Speaking of improvements and greater sanitary processes of fish, we want to add our congratulations to Connors Bros. Ltd. in the fine improvement they have made to their plant at Freeport.

Grass Fires Can Be Expensive Fun

We've seen more than the usual number of grass fires around the country this season. They've been fun to watch, no doubt. In fact, setting grass fires, we are sure, is more for the thrill and excitement than for any good which will come to the earth because of burning grass.

Setting grass fires can become expensive fun when the result is a home or garage or other property being consumed by the flames. In many cases, even when controlled before a building is lost, the fire can turn out to be more of anxiety than fun. We've seen evidence of run-away grass fires in some of our Digby County villages this year and we've heard of the panicky moments involved. We have read in the press of homes and barns being destroyed by run-away grass fires in the province. Pretty expensive fun, we think.

We see no good reason for setting grass fires and thereby endanger property, your own or another's, but if you must have the pleasure of seeing a grass fire lighted, then we add this caution — never leave the fire without your personal attention and don't leave a child in charge. Be ready for an emergency should it arise.

We further caution you to make sure you are not breaking a town or village law. Refrain from setting fires if the law does not permit it. Better check with your town or village officials. Your grass fire could be expensive fun.

Canadian Library Week

Next week, April 10 - 17, is Canadian Library Week. In keeping with the times, the theme of the week is "Reading is the Key to Continuing Education." That theme could just as well be quoted "reading is the key to the future" for, as we are being told and as we can readily see for ourselves, our future depends to a great extent on our education and education for the most part is obtained from the books we use. No, there is no standing still in education today, neither for the child or the adult. It is a continuing process and an available library is almost a "must" to keep up with the demand that education places on both the child and the adult.

Public libraries have become today more of a necessity than ever previously. Public libraries have always been greatly used for pleasure reading of fictional books. With earlier retirement and more leisure hours this type of reading is in even greater demand today. Also, today people are taking a much wider interest in what is happening in the entire world geographically and otherwise. In order to keep pace with the world, books are required to interpret and weigh ideas and to reflect on history. In either case reading material has ceased to be a luxury but is a necessity.

Knowledge and skills must be increased not only during the periods of formal academic or vocational education but they must needs be increased, too, through informal education through the use of books. But books are expensive. They are sometimes beyond the means of those who most need them. Who needs to improve his education and earning power more than a man with a young growing family? Yet, this is the very person who, because of family responsibilities, cannot afford books for continuing education. A public library is today, indeed, a necessity and not a luxury. It has become almost as necessary as the public school which has been with us for a goodly many of years.

A public library is a necessity for reading is the key to continuing education and continuing education is a must of today.

Digby does not boast of a public library. Surely someone will write a letter to the Editor next week (during Library Week) telling us why Digby should or should not have a public library.

Just about every finance manager in Canada will give you credit for buying this car.

They're experts when it comes to economy.

They know, when it comes time for you to make your last payment, chances are your VW will still be looking as nice as the day you bought it.

In 1953, we sold 960 Volkswagens.

And at last count, a few months ago, we found 855 were still on the road.

That's why, when you want to buy a VW, you'll find it's not very difficult to get backing from one of the finance companies that stand behind us. Or any bank, finance company or credit union you choose.

And because a Volkswagen sells for about $1,000.00 less than the average spent on a new car in Canada, the payments you make are likely to be smaller. Or fewer.

Does a VW demand a big down payment? Not very. In many cases, your trade will do the trick.

And we're taking all kinds of trades. Big cars. Small cars. Old cars. Late model cars. Compacts.

But the really nice thing about buying a Volkswagen is that it's priced low enough so you can pay it all in one lump sum.

Or we can come to terms.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

Spring Tonics

Once again it is Spring! Today we tell it by the calendar, by the bulbs pushing through the cold earth, by the pink fingerstrips on the trees and by the birds hurrying around Windom, looking for just the right tree in which to build their new Spring apartment.

I remember as a little girl, I knew it was Spring when mother brought out her array of Spring Tonics. I do not know where she learned the medical qualities of wild herbs, but I do know that she could concoct cures strong enough to drive away the "Winter Wilies" and put a sharp edge on the most jaded appetite.

Burdock grew in abundance around our field and if a tablespoon of Burdock Bitters wouldn't liven up one's appetite, nothing would.

Red Clover was picked and dried, then when needed, mother made "Red Clover Tea." As I remember, it wasn't very unpleasant to taste, just sort of blah! It was supposed to be very good for the blood.

Pennyroyal was a wild herb that brewed into a minty flavoured tea, good for tummy aches probably induced by eating green apples or green gooseberries.

Mother also made Dandelion Wine, pleasant to taste and a wonderful tonic.

There was a plant called Tansey or Tansy, which while not used as a tonic, had a pungent, powerful smell that sent the fleas scurrying out of the straw and feather mattresses.

Uppermost on my childhood shelf of memories is "Sulphur and Molasses." Thinking of it, I can almost taste its thick and gritty flavor. I have described it in the enclosed poem.

Do any of you readers remember these old-time tonics? They must have had potent, magical powers, to which I am a living testimonial.

SULPHUR AND MOLASSES
O, lovely Spring! The poets sing
Of flowers and growing grasses;
Yet as they sing, my thoughts will cling
To Sulphur and Molasses.

When Spring comes round, I think of her;
Who with her spoons and glasses,
Started spring cleaning on us kids
With sulphur and molasses.

When mother stood us in a row,
We opened wide our bills
Like small birds waiting for a worm,
We waited for our "pills."

O, sulphur and molasses! How the mixture oozed and clung
In thick and gritty flavor around the teeth and tongue.
We gurgled, gulped and swallowed,
Then legged it for the pump
And drank a quart of water
To liquidate the lumps.

I love the balmy air of Spring,
The green and weather glass;
But let me smile and dream
Of sulphur and molasses!

The many folk who buy them break in the end, drink the fluid or milk and the remainder of the nut is discarded. Malcolm brought a few of them home to show to his family.

Connors Bros. Ltd. $150,000 Expansion

Above is shown some of the equipment installed at Connors Bros. Ltd., Freeport, in their $150,000 extension program which gives the fishing fleet operating in the area an added advantage of the up-to-date refrigerated fish business in the port.

The fish are landed at the wharf and separated from the snow boats and draggers at machine by escalator form of the unloading stations from where they are flumed into packing boxes. The fish are then iced and again separated and stored in the holding area. A forklift truck places the box of fish on dumper at exit end of a bin and automatically they are flumed on the filleting table of 12 stations as seen in the picture above.

packaged either for fresh shipping or to be frozen in the modern plate freezer and stored in the spacious cold storage rooms.

The new plant of Connors Bros. Ltd. will be able to handle scallops in a separate scallop packing room. It is understood.

Included in the expansion is the new stainless steel filleting tables, ice making equipment and refrigeration and unloading equipment.

Donald A. McLean, Vice President and General Manager of Connors Bros. Ltd., Black's Harbor, N. B., announces the opening of a new fresh and frozen fillet plant at Connors Bros. Ltd., Freeport, N. S. This is an investment of about $150,000.00.

Connors Bros. Ltd., Black's Harbor, N. B., world's largest sardine canners, operate sardine canneries in Black's Harbour, Back Bay, Grand Manan Island and Deer Island, N. B. This company also operates a large fresh and frozen fillet plant in Beaver Harbour, N. B.

Connors Bros. Ltd., Freeport, N. S., has operated a fish cannery, fishmeal and fish oil plants since April 11, 1930, under the "Brunswick Brand" label. Groundfish purchased for canning are hake, cod and pollock, which are available in the Bay of Fundy and caught by local inshore fishermen. The type of fishing done is the baited hook and line method.

In June 1957, Connors Bros. Ltd. bought out the holdings of the former F. E. Davis Ltd. in Freeport and became more effectively engaged in the salt fish business. Products marketed are boneless cod and hard dried salt fish.

In 1963 the groundwork was laid for a fresh fillet plant. Local help was trained to fillet fish. Fillets were marketed on a local level and on the Montreal and Toronto markets.

Construction of the new fresh and frozen fillet plant was started in 1964.

The construction and design has been done by employees of Connors Bros. Ltd., Freeport and Black's Harbor, supervised by local management and Mr. W. J. Walsh, chief engineer at head office, Black's Harbor, N. B.

This new plant will meet and pass all regulations issued by the Department of Fisheries concerning all fresh and frozen fish operations. The new plant contains complete filleting lines with Baader 47 skinning machines and fillet packing tables.

The entire area gives a bright appearance due to the fluorescent lights used and the attractive paint design used in all areas.

The new plant will use Amerio plate freezers with a freezing capacity of 2,250 lbs. of packaged fillets per 2 1/2 hours per unit. Compressors used for plate freezers as well as ice making equipment are 9-cylinder two stage Frick.

Cold storage holding room has ample capacity for holding packaged fillets. This room is operated by Freon compressors.

The fish to operate all the plants are landed mostly by an active inshore fishing fleet which operates out of Freeport, Tiverton and Westport. Generally a 38' Cape Island type boat is used. Fish are caught by the baited hook and line method. In 1964 Connors Bros. Ltd. constructed in Freeport a bait freezer to have at all times a good supply of frozen herring available for the inshore fishermen.

A number of draggers in the 55' to 65' class also sell their fish catches to Connors Bros. Ltd. in Freeport. To enable the firm to unload draggers as well as inshore boats as quickly as possible a new unloading wharf was constructed. The wharf holds two modern hoisting sheds where the fish are weighed and then flumed to the storage areas. To be able to supply the draggers with their flake ice requirements, an additional twenty-ton North Star Ice Maker will be installed to supplement the present ice making equipment already installed in Freeport.

Fillets packed and frozen are labelled under the "Brunswick Brand" and will be mostly exported to U.S.A. markets. The fresh fillets put up by this company are shipped to Boston, New York, Montreal and Toronto markets.

Connors Bros. Ltd., Freeport, employs during the productive season roughly between 80 and 90 persons. It is anticipated that this number will be increased greatly as soon as the new plant gets into production.

All three fish plants are under the management of Gerrit (Gerry) DeBorst, a native of Holland, who came to Canada in 1959.

The people employed by Connors Bros. Ltd., Freeport, are mostly all from Long Island and the opening of the new plant will certainly boost the economy of this area.

Letter to the Editor

Yarmouth, N.S.
March 18, 1965

Editor,
Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.

Now that the matter of a second ship, to supplement the M. V. Bluenose service, is being seriously considered, it might be advisable for those responsible for making the final decisions, to be guided by the advice of authorities who have had many years experience in the sea-borne passenger business. The BLUENOSE takes six hours to make a one way trip, whereas marine traffic experts state that the limit to a "ferry" service should be a maximum of three hours.

Nova Scotia born, (Weymouth), Harry I. Brooks, formerly General Passenger Traffic Manager with the once gigantic Eastern Steamship Lines Inc., head offices in Boston, Mass. and operating a coastwise fleet of thirty one steamships, concurs in the opinion that a "ferry" service should not exceed three hours. During his long association with the Eastern S. S. network, which probably holds the world's record for the number of passengers carried by any one steamship company during the time it was in business, Mr. Brooks acquired a knowledge of the tourist trade held by few other living authorities.

After the Eastern S. S. Lines owing to war losses and other war caused disruptions to coastwise shipping, ceased to operate passenger ships, Mr. Brooks was employed by the Nova Scotia Government. He was director of the province's New England Travel Bureau in Boston for a period of twelve years until his retirement in 1959. He was a member of the original ferry committee which planned the details of the Yarmouth - Bar Harbour service and it was through the persistent efforts of Mr. Brooks that any passenger cabins were incorporated in the plans. Mr. Brooks now resides at the Grand Hotel in Yarmouth.

The Bluenose went into service with only twelve cabins, an entirely inadequate number as was soon apparent to the operators. By some international rearrangements a total of twenty three cabins finally resulted. During the tourist season the demand for such accommodation far exceeds the limited number of cabins available.

There is an unlimited number of vacationists who would come to the province via Western Nova Scotia ports but they don't want to go through the ordeal of sitting around in public places for six hours, with a congestion of sea sick passengers and squawking children. These travellers want a sea voyage in restful comfort and are able and willing to pay for the accommodations and services that are not compatible with a ferry service and a quick turnaround.

So to those who will be responsible for inaugurating any additional Western Nova Scotia - U.S.A. marine service, it is further suggested that Webster's dictionary be consulted for the definition of "ferry". It is considered that Bar Harbour is as far as a ship equipped such as the Bluenose is, could be successfully operated and another vessel of similar type would not be warranted.

Along the coast beyond Maine, a wider and richer field for the other class ship opens up. We hope that in view of past experience and present knowledge, augmented by pronouncements from authorities such as Mr. Brooks, serious attention will be given to the exploitation of the vast tourist possibilities which exist in this untapped area.

Family Of Ten Home Destroyed

Fire which broke out Sunday morning at 9:20 o'clock completely destroyed the house at Port Royal occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Deveau and their eight children.

The large two-and-a-half story house was owned by Horace Crandell, and was rented by the Deveaus. The building carried insurance. The Deveau family lost all their belongings.

The house was ignited from a grass fire burning nearby, which blazed out of control. Annapolis Royal firemen fought the blaze for 3 hours and wetted down other buildings nearby to prevent the fire from spreading. The house is located near the Port Royal Habitation, and windblown flames threatened the area for a time.

The Annapolis Royal Fire Department responded promptly to the call, but the fire was too far advanced to save the dwelling or any of the contents.

The Deveau family has secured a home nearby. They lost all their belongings in the fire.

Move To Beautify Digby

Miss Louise Daley was hostess to the April meeting of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society. The guest speaker for the evening was Roy Whitman, of Paradise. He spoke on the history and culture of the African Violet, and exhibited a variety of specimens. His wife assisted him with his demonstrations. Mr. Whitman, an ardent grower of African Violets on a large scale, is ever on the alert for new varieties to place on the N. S. market each year. Through radio, television, and other means of communication his reputation has been established. Interested people come from far and near to see his collection and purchase his beautiful and rare specimens. His talk was most informative, and the question period gave members a chance to present their particular problems.

Although the cold winds gave little hint of spring, a great deal of planning for the coming season was done. The Tree Planting Committee and the Digby Town Planning Committee will be meeting with a landscape specialist soon to map out a long-range program for beautifying the town. The organization will continue the beautification of the Cannon Bank, the work in the Old Loyalist Cemetery and the Hanging Baskets will again be set up.

Trees planted last year that did not survive will be replanted, and it is hoped that members may be able to do something by way of landscaping the area around the band stand. The society will also cooperate with the Champlain Garden Club in the Rose Show and hold its annual Flower Show. In addition, classes in flower arranging will be held, and it is hoped that both members and non-members interested will attend these classes.

Refreshments were provided by the hostess and her co-hostesses, Mrs. Ralph Berwick and Mrs. Fred May.

The Elton Arnold Memorial Cup was presented to Daneen Atkinson who in the opinion of the adjudicator, Louis Stephens, gave the best all round performance, along with ability, in this year's festival. The presentation was made by William Marshall. Miss Atkinson is a daughter of Rev. and Mrs. L. R. Atkinson, Bay View.

$24,491.60 TO DIGBY HOSPITAL

Ten members of the Southville - Riverdale Hospital Auxiliary were the guests of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Digby General Hospital at their April meeting held in the cafeteria of the new hospital. Previous to the business meeting the visitors enjoyed a conducted tour of the building.

Responding to a request for funds, the Auxiliary passed a motion to turn over $7491.60 to the Digby General Hospital Board. This makes the total contribution to date $24,491.60 which is only $508.40 short of their objective.

Further plans were laid for the establishing of a canteen in the new hospital when it is opened.

It was announced that the Annual Florence Nightingale Tea would be held on May and that another Rummage Sale would be held in May. Membership in the Auxiliary is steadily increasing. At each meeting new members are added. The organization to date has 83 members.

Delicious refreshments added to the enjoyment of the evening and gave an opportunity for the members to get better acquainted with the new recruits and the visitors.

Attend Tourist Conference

Mayor C. D. Snow, Digby, William Troupe, vice-president of the Digby Board of Trade, and Bernard LeBlanc, president of the Clare Board of Trade, were in Halifax this week attending the Tourist Association of Nova Scotia conference at the Lord Nelson Hotel.

An idea presented to the delegates by Gerald J. Redmond, director of the Nova Scotia Travel Bureau, involved a scheme whereby individual tourists will have the hospitality of private homes in Nova Scotia. Visitors of similar interests to their hosts would be invited to visit homes after the evening meal hour so that no great expense is incurred by the hosts. The scheme is one that has been tried in the Scandinavian countries.

First impressions are lasting, Mr. Redmond reminded his audience. Actions of indifference to tourists, impatience and irritability can harm.

Exhibition Dates Sept. 9, 10, 11

Digby County Exhibition will go on as usual this year with the dates set for September 9, 10, and 11. After some weeks of discouragement in trying to get enough people together to hold a meeting, there were fourteen interested persons attended a meeting in Bear River on Saturday night. President Allison Denton was in the chair.

One of the discussions centered around necessary repairs to the building and the possibility of volunteer help was considered in order to save expenses. It was noted that the buildings in the first place were constructed mostly by volunteer labor.

Another meeting is soon to be called when new committees for the year will be drawn up.

The dates of the Digby County Exhibition were among those announced last week at the meeting of the Nova Scotia Exhibitions Association held in Truro. The first of the exhibitions for Nova Scotia will be the Annapolis County Exhibition to be held in Lawrencetown on August 21 to 28.

At the meeting in Truro the Nova Scotia Association recommended that the various exhibitions in the province make an effort to "dress up" their shows and especially stressed cleanliness and tidiness where cattle were concerned. This included the stables, cattle and personnel.

Supports Islands Brief

The Digby Board of Trade on Tuesday evening supported unanimously a brief from the Fundy Board of Trade and Islands residents presented to its government officials and parties concerned requesting a causeway-bridge-harbour complex to be established at Petite Passage.

The brief presented was in detail of history and geography of the area with photographs for visual explanations. Exports to the islands, the imports, fish landings and vessel listings were all given in detail in the brief. Educational advantages, medical advantages and tourist potential were included. The brief also included engineering recommendations, calculations, estimated costs and recommendations. A plan was drawn up and submitted with the brief.

Jet Planes Harm Mink

Mink ranchers, who have made a large share toward the economy of the Weymouth area, are worried about possible losses among the young mink this year due to the continued action of jet aircraft breaking the sound barrier.

During the past two to three weeks jet aircraft have broken the sound barrier several times during the day and ranchers say if this continues, they stand to lose a large number of the young mink expected to be born within the next few weeks.

It is understood that authorities in the province have been contacted and ranchers have been given to understand that these are not Canadian craft but planes from American bases on exercises. Several large ranches are located on the outskirts of Weymouth while many more can be found further down the Clare shore.

Complaints from various sources about the aircraft had reached the federal house. It is understood, having been presented by Hon. George Nowlan and also Fred T. Armstrong, of Yarmouth. The defence minister reported the only Canadian territory which was flown over was Grand Manan Island.

Nowlan Pleas For Digby

Speaking before the federal house this week, Hon. George Nowlan asked the government to provide quickly adequate facilities to accommodate the fishing fleet in Digby. Regarding the recent decision by the government not to proceed with the three million dollar port development project at Digby because of the uncertainty of the CPR in its operation on the Bay, Mr. Nowlan said that he did not feel there were grounds for fear that the railway would withdraw its service.

Mr. Nowlan, it is understood, advocated the construction of a causeway to link Long Island with the mainland of Nova Scotia. Some of the fishermen on the islands, Mr. Nowlan said, have draggers that cost $80,000 to $90,000, but there was no place for them to moor at night. It has been suggested a harbour-causeway, complex be built.

Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Hughes are spending a week in Campbellton, N.B.

"Mohawk" May Be Discontinued

The ten-man crew of the motor vessel Mohawk II are faced with the loss of their jobs unless an increased subsidy is authorized by Ottawa to allow the vessel to resume her run. The Mohawk plies between Yarmouth and Saint John with stops at Tiverton, Freeport and Westport. The vessel is operated by Saint John Marine Transports Ltd., and makes two round trips a week in the summer and one per week in the winter.

The Mohawk is now on the slip at Meteghan for annual inspection, overhaul and painting.

Captain Albert Cosman has stated that the ship will be ready by the end of the week, but unless favourable word is received from the Canadian Maritime Commission, which has been reviewing the matter of an increase in the subsidy, the service will have to be terminated.

It is understood that F. T. Armstrong and George Nowlan, Members of Parliament, have been working on the question in Ottawa.

T. J. Collins, Saint John, manager of Saint John Marine Transports Ltd., stated he is seeking an increase subsidy of $12,000 per year, but declined to disclose the present subsidy.

LATER - Transport Minister Pickersgill said in the Commons that the situation with respect to the service was currently under review, "but the review does indicate that the amount of traffic now using this vessel is so small, and the subsidy per ton so high, that there is some question whether the taxpayer should be asked to subsidize at that rate for that amount of traffic."

He added, however, that a final decision had not yet been made. Service on this route is scheduled to terminate next week.

Lions Club Sponsors Princess

President Charles Haliburton reported at the Digby Board of Trade on Tuesday that the Digby Lions Club had again consented to sponsor the Digby princess entry in the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival and prepare a float.

Keith Raymond, Chester, and Stuart MacNaughton were named on a committee to find someone to represent the Board of Trade as princess at the dance usually held to choose the Digby Apple Blossom princess. The president was asked to find someone to sell advertising in Digby for the Apple Blossom Festival program booklet. The price per page is fifty dollars.

The president reported he had a request from the Canadian Manufacturing Association regarding the relocation of a company which wanted to find a location in an industrially zoned area, near a rail siding, 4 acres of property and a building of 100,000 square feet space.

Approach to Digby highway signs designs were submitted to the meeting by a Yarmouth contractor. The sign proposition was moved to be held in abeyance for further investigation of financing possibilities.

In regard to parking, president Haliburton reported that he was awaiting an answer in writing regarding a proposition with the Irving Oil Co on their property on Main St., Digby.

John Nichols, barrister, was appointed chairman of a resolutions committee, with power to add, to prepare resolutions to place before the Maritime Provinces Boards of Trade annual meeting in June and before other boards.

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Brittain and son, Hugh, were visitors in Halifax this week.

Scouts Receive Parchments

Gregory Dondale, Digby; Keith Ellison, Cornwallis; Michael Gesner, Bear River; Dudley Alvia Hicks, Digby; Dwight Hubley, Bear River; Robert Allen Neville, Bridgetown; Terrance Sabean, Digby; Gregory Russell Stonehouse, Digby; Douglas John Wenaus, Digby; and Robert Bruce Wright, Digby.

About 175 Queen's Scouts were told at the ceremony in Halifax that one of the biggest problems facing adults and youth today is the lack of communication between the two generations. "Scouting is one of the ways helping to bridge this gap," Major-General D. C. Spry told the gold cord Scouts.

Major-General Spry, director of the World Bureau of Scouting with headquarters at Ottawa, and former chief executive commissioner at Canadian Scout Headquarters, was guest speaker at a banquet in the Nova Scotian Hotel, attended by the Queen's Scouts and their families. Lieutenant-Governor H. P. MacKeen attended the afternoon event.

He told the Scouts "you've got an edge on a lot of people. As Queen's Scouts you have demonstrated the attitudes and characteristics of gentlemen, while at the same time being trained, prepared and skilled to act in emergencies, or in service of others."

Being a Queen's Scout was something "that you will be proud of and remember all of your days." He said some young people felt it was smart to be "tough" by being unruly. (Please turn to Page 12)

To Montreal And Ottawa On Port Development

After much discussion it was decided by regular motion at the Digby Board of Trade on Tuesday evening that a delegation go to Montreal and Ottawa in regard to Digby port development. Their mission, it is understood, would be in connection with the proposed fishermen's wharf, the abandoned project of the Princess of Acadia wharf and the insecurity regarding the Digby - Saint John ferry service.

Capt. Joe Casey reported that he had gone to Halifax with his proposal and requests for the new fishermen's wharf as placed before the Digby Board in February and had a two hour conference with district engineer J. A. Brown. He said his plan was well received by the engineer and superintendent of Public Works, N.S. and that they would be happy to receive a delegation from Digby. Capt. Casey displayed at the board meeting a draft of the proposed wharf showing the main wharf as proposed, the spur extension on which was to be built at right angles to the main wharf. Electrician Improved

David Daley, who has been hospitalized at Digby, is improving. Mr. Daley, a Digby electrician, suffered injury to his back last week while working on a neon sign for a local restaurant. Mr. Daley is in a cast.

The accident is said to have happened when Mr. Daley was thrown to the sidewalk below when experiencing an electrical shock.

Favors Jonesport, Me., Second Ferry

A letter from Fritz Dakin, prominent Digby citizen, addressed to the Digby Board of Trade, was read at the meeting of the board on Tuesday evening in which Mr. Dakin stated that he felt Jonesport, Maine, and Freeport, Nova Scotia, were the most logical terminal points for a second ferry from New England to Nova Scotia. He pointed out the advantages to the selection of these ports and asked the board to take them into consideration when, urging a second ferry.

About This and That

Easter Is Really Never Over

"I am He that liveth and was dead, and behold, I am alive for evermore." Shall we forget those words once the Easter season is over or shall we live the truth that Easter is never over?

On Good Friday, in the present week, we will in memory of Christ's death climb Calvary's steep and painful slope with Him. We will remember the anguish of mind and spirit which Jesus suffered along with the physical agony He bore on the cross. We will follow Him to the tomb. On Sunday all of this will have passed. Again we'll climb a hill with Him. This hill will be different. It will lead to the summit of rejoicing as the Easter message is heard — Christ the Lord is risen today.

Behold what a Monday that follows Sunday and Tuesday, which follows Monday? What of all the days that follow Easter? Will we have done and gone and find us living our lives as though we had never heard that message "I am alive for evermore"? With the rush of daily living drawn out the message? Will our clamoring for success, our greed, our envy, our jealousies and petty fault-finding overshadow all the genuine living of Easter Day?

There is a poem by Elizabeth Cheney which goes like this —

Said the Robin to the Sparrow:
"I should really like to know
Why these anxious human beings
Rush about and worry so."
Said the Sparrow to the Robin:
"Friend, I think that it must be
That they have no Heavenly Father.
Such as cares for you and me."

A humble bit of a poem, maybe, but isn't it a true picture of most of us today? We leave Christ buried in the tomb. We forget the Easter message "I am alive for evermore" and that He is ever near at all times to care for you and me.

Easter 1965 is almost here. Could we keep the message sounding in our own ears and in the world around "I am alive for evermore." Life would be much, much happier if we could all remember that Easter is really never over.

Promising Musicians

The Digby Music Festival is over for 1965. Although there were probably fewer entries, it appeared to be one of the most successful festivals held in Digby. It was well attended by parents and friends of performers. It certainly went off on scheduled time. The concert was good and the increased number of awards given is bound to create more interest for future years.

Most of all we feel the winners of trophies should be congratulated. The adjudicator was definitely not one who was lenient in his adjudication — he called a spade a spade in no uncertain terms. We doubt if there is one who won't profit by his frank remarks. We feel, too, that when praise was given it was well deserved. We would particularly like to refer to the best performance in the festival. As we got it second hand, it was not only the best in the festival but it was said that the adjudicator had never heard that number played so well before. We have no hesitation in believing that remark for we heard the number "Song Without Words — Mendelssohn" played at the concert. Especially do we make mention of Miss Daneen Atkinson and Miss Deidre Morrell who captured the Memorial awards but we are not forgetting any of the award winners who gave such enjoyable and excellently performed numbers. And may we add that many of the good performances too, were in the non-competitive classes.

Before we leave this subject we can't help but mention that we were a bit disappointed in not hearing even one vocal solo selection at the concert. We were more than pleased, however, to hear the boys from St. Anne's College, Church Point, in their entertaining and well rendered vocal numbers. They definitely added spark to the entire festival as well as leaving an inspiration to others to do as well. We hope St. Anne's will continue their interest in the Digby Music Festival.

Another field of music which should be mentioned is choir singing. Good choirs are especially necessary for church singing. A choir carries the message which the church has to proclaim just as well as the preacher does. The choir leads the congregation in singing and helps them in their worship of God. We commend those who trained the junior choirs which performed in the festival and also those who led the school choruses.

Music is good for all of us. It has its value for those who listen but it has more and better value for those who make music. For all, music through the ages has been known as an antidote against depression and grief. And certainly today we have music to fit everybody's taste — even for those who enjoy the Beatles!

The Digby Music Festival needs encouragement. It is rendering a worth while service to the communities. We congratulate the officers and those who helped to make the 1965 festival a success. To the participants who received any complimentary adjudication we would add that this should not discourage but rather inspire to greater effort. In the first place the festivals are organized to increase appreciation of good music and to correct errors in making music. An adjudicator is paid money to show how errors can be corrected and not solely to hand out complimentary remarks and nothing more. We hope the adjudication of the 1965 festival will have the desired effect.

Non Fire Protection Costly

The story in the daily press of a lady in Beaverbank losing her life for the want of adequate fire protection in the village gives us something to think about in this area. We have no intention of entering any controversy at such a long distance from our readership area but we could not help but be taken with the title of one of the stories "Damned If You Do, Damned If You Don't." We can just imagine our own fire department in just about the same situation.

Our own fire department feels an obligation to the people who are paying for the equipment and service. Should they go outside of town with the equipment and in the meantime a fire break out in town they certainly would be "damned" by the people in town who are paying for the service. On the other hand, we have heard that the Digby Fire Department is taking abuse, even now, for refusing to go outside of town for the grass fires which get out of control and into serious consequences. The firemen are in a dilemma. Their hearts might respond to the call but their reasoning forbids. They tell us they dislike the abuse for something over which they have no control.

Some, if not all the abuse, we understand, comes from the villages which enjoyed fire protection from the Digby Fire Department for several years and then turned down the offer. As we heard the story from a member of the Digby fire committee, the average number of calls to the outside area in a year amounted to 35. It was impossible to cover the cost at less than $50 a call, we were told. That was $1750 and the department was receiving $1000. Again, repeating what we were told, when the sum of $1500 was asked to bring protection to the areas which had been previously served, the amount was not granted and the fire committee given to understand that the people had expressed themselves as not even being prepared to pay $1000 let alone $1500.

We have no intention of telling people what they should do. Possibly we have our wires crossed. But under the impression we've received, we think the Digby Fire Department should not be abused. We certainly do not advocate heartlessness but it seems to boil down to "you can't have your cake and eat it too." Non-fire-protection is often more costly than fire protection.

Ready To Go Fishing?

Are you ready to go fishing? You are not unless you've obtained one of 'them there' fishing licenses. If you are one of those people always looking for a bargain or marked down sign you probably have your license now. There's been a fifty percent slash on the price. The licenses prove it. You'll find $2 marked out and a $1 substituted. A real bargain!

You probably bargained for that fishing license (or someone did) but we want to pass along some timely fishing advice. Don't bargain with injury or death while out on the lakes and streams.

Be careful, do not overload that canoe or boat. If an accident does happen stay with your boat until help arrives seems to be the general advice.

Do not overload your boat with power anymore than overloading with persons.

If fishing from the shore, do not travel out too far. You could possibly step into an unknown but deep channel.

Beware of slippery rocks or smooth soled foot gear. Better invest in new footwear with a firm grip to the sole.

Be careful of fish hook accidents to eyes or other parts of the body. In fact, be careful to avoid accidents which result in broken limbs or any injuries. It is wise to carry a first aid kit or some protection for wounds.

Go fishing. Enjoy your bargain license like a woman enjoys a bargain in a new Spring hat. But do be careful. Come back alive and uninjured.

Are you ready now to go fishing?

New Telephone Cable Run

On April 9 about 50 per cent of telephone subscribers on Long Island operated on a new line under new numbers.

Maritime Telegraph and Telephone Co. have run between 9 to 11 miles of new cable from Freeport to Tiverton. Spokesman for the Company said the new cable job is to bring line relief to lines that have for some time been overcrowded. Subscribers that have shared their lines with 16 and 17 others will now be reduced to 7 or 8 per line.

The benefit derived from the elimination of subscribers per line will most greatly effect line service at Tiverton and Central Grove. Because of overcrowded lines it was, on many occasions, almost impossible to get through to the operator, Mrs. Charles Young at Freeport.

The spokesman said better, more efficient service will be expected now that the number of subscribers per line have been reduced.

It is understood the extra lines that have been run will also take care of future expansion that will provide even better telephone service facilities.

Ice Review In Cornwallis ... Season Finishes

Over one hundred and thirty young skaters from the Cornwallis area took part in a dazzling display of skill and showmanship on the ice last Thursday and Friday when the Cornwallis Skating Club presented its season finale, "The Cornwallis Ice Review." The Skating Rink of HMCS Cornwallis was packed both evenings as the young performers, ranging from 2-year-olds to teenagers, performed in twenty-six delightfully varied routines.

The highlight of the show and perhaps the finest figure skating seen in this area, was the performance by the brother and sister team of Dick Salter and June Rheubottom. Dick Salter, a long-time professional skater and Gold Medal Winner, was brought to Cornwallis by his sister, Mrs. Rheubottom, Director of the show. He is presently a teacher of figure skating in Sun Valley, Idaho. Both brother and sister have travelled with International Ice Reviews.

Nancy Jordan and Wayne Storrie, of Kentville, N.S., presented the audience with an exceptional display of fine skating ability on Friday night, while Wayne Storrie executed an outstanding solo number on both nights.

The senior girls, in their gay nineties costumes, drew many whistles as they went through their difficult steps to the accompaniment of the Charleston music played by the band. The comedy feature, "The Builders," brought many laughs in a hilarious display of mixed-up carpentry.

As usual in a presentation of this kind it was the junior cast that stole the show, from the tiniest cowboy in the "Cowboys and Indians" number to the most winsome Miss in the "Hawaiian" number.

Particular mention must be made of the solo performances of Marlene Wallace, Patti Glinley, Cathy Jackson, Raymond Rheubottom and Karen Southall, and Gary Caine and Maurine Murphy.

On Friday evening, during the intermission, Miss Anne Brown, President of the Wardroom Ladies, presented Miss Patti Glinley with a gift, as the most improved skater of the year. Miss Glinley, who is a ripe old nine-year-old, skated

From St. Anne's

Two of the most enjoyable and well-presented entries in the Digby Music Festival held here last week were by students of St. Anne's College, Church Point. The male sextet rendered two numbers, "La Route d'Amite" and "Blowing In The Wind", to an appreciating audience. Above the sextet relaxes by the piano. Left to right are Benoit Dugway, Gilbert Bourgeois, Jean Claude Laporte, Gervais Rouillard, Pascal Boulianne and Renald LeBlond.

The sextet participated in the festival on Tuesday evening and in the festival concert on Thursday evening. Gilbert also presented a piano solo number on both occasions.

Obituary

Miss Mabel Shortliffe

Word has been received by relatives here, of the death of Miss Mabel Elizabeth Shortliffe, which occurred at Brown Hospital, at Dayton, Ohio, USA on Sunday morning, April 4th, at the age of 83 years.

Miss Shortliffe was the eldest daughter of the late Isaac Lee Shortliffe and Sophia (Outhouse) Shortliffe of Freeport, Digby Co., N.S. where she spent her early girlhood days.

As a very young girl she went to Boston, then later to New York, where she trained for a nurse and followed her vocation for many years. When the Americans joined with the Allies, during World War I she went overseas as an American Red Cross Nurse and served in field hospitals, for some time.

After returning home she again did nursing, both private and institutional, until a cardiac condition forced her to resign. She lived at Dayton, Ohio, for a few years then returned to N.S. and resided for a number of years at Digby. Eight years ago she returned to Dayton, where she has since resided.

She was given full military honors at the burial services at Dayton and the casket draped with a large Stars and Stripes flag was very impressive.

She leaves to mourn three sisters (Velma), Mrs. Emdon Tibert, of Hamilton, Ont.; (Ruby), Mrs. Lloyd Kentfield of Mexico, and (Maude), Mrs. Ritson Longmire of Milford, N.S. Besides a number of nieces and nephews and cousins. She was predeceased by three brothers and one sister, Melbourne, Delbert and Ernest Shortliffe and sister Eva, (Mrs. James Otis) as well as three sisters who died in infancy.

Mr. Jones, who is Nova Scotia's Minister of Trade and Industry and the province's representative on the Atlantic Provinces committee, said the Atlantic Provinces have been fortunate in obtaining the services of an outstanding Canadian to manage their participation in EXPO '67.

The Atlantic Provinces recently agreed to participate in EXPO '67 on a joint basis and at an overall cost of about $1,000,000, including design, construction and operation of the Atlantic Pavillion.

The Editor,

Capital Punishment

Dear Sir:

It is encouraging to see a stirring of public conscience in my native county on the vital question of capital punishment.

I wholeheartedly agree with your recent editorial suggesting that we should all do some hard thinking as a first step to ridding ourselves of this anachronism, this barbarism from a primitive age.

Not alone from a moral but from a practical standpoint, we are reminded by authoritative studies that the murder rate does not rise when capital punishment is abolished. Further, that the most enlightened way to reduce all forms of violence is to strike at their many causes; causes for which we, as a society, are largely responsible. Think of the saving in human misery as well as in dollars!

The warped person, the misfit, the criminal have as much right to corrective treatment as the physically sick; with what right do we so irreparably deny it?

Sincerely yours,

Eugene Denton.

April 5 65.

Dear Editor:

This letter is a beet and probably rightly so I've seen this incident happen before in town and I do not think it fair.

Friday afternoon a prominent office worker in town parked at a meter which plainly said "time up". He put some money in the meter but never turned the handle. After three quarters of an hour, a town cop went by on the other side of the street -- he could easily see the parked car and also to see the meter said "time up".

I've seen him cross the street before to put a parking ticket on a car (from out of town of course). After nearly an hour went by the handle of the meter got turned (but not by the man who owned the car) and of course the indicator registered one hour parking. The owner of the car already had one hour's free parking. Ah, well, they say this is one way to save money (in a small way).

I call this discrimination to out of town people and town residents. Not long ago there was a letter written to your paper suggesting and wishing for an out of town shopping plaza. I'm sure "out of towners" would welcome this -- then the Digby people could use all the parking meters, probably free of charge, any way they needn't be afraid of the cop giving them a parking ticket.

"An out of town shopper and observer."

P.S. Surely because the above mentioned man was in a walking cast didn't entitle him to free parking.

area than I but I never felt any of this "hostility" and why should there be? There are always undesirables in any race but these minority groups should not make anyone judge the whole race by those few.

Each and every nationality in Canada should contribute their own cultures and constructive ideas to this nation to make it truly great with out any prejudice to one another.

In my span of years I never once thought a different nationality was any better or worse than my own and I would never want to think the English people of Canada and especially this part in which we live would disparage the French people who live with us here or any where.

(Mrs.) Winifred Comeau (quite English)

The Digby Courier.

Dear Mrs. Wallis,

The following was taken from an old Yarmouth Herald, Oct. 31, 1878, which my mother, Mrs. Leonard Garrison, brought with her from a recent visit to the U.S.A. Her aunt, Mrs. J. E. Hicks (Minnie Buckman), formerly of Westport but now living in Natick, Mass., has had these for all these years.

Thought your readers would be interested.

"Should you ever visit Westport and endeavor to make a few notes for the Herald, you cannot fail to be impressed with the fact that you are in a well regulated community. Your record of crime will be a blank, of pauperism a joke, and sensations have to be imported.

Dear Editor:

The letter in last week's Courier from a grade eleven student in the Islands Consolidated School seems to me to be one fanning the flame of "disrespect and dislike" as she shares of attention but the parts in between the French and English races of course electors realize that though it she lives in a different part may be necessary at times of the Digby Neck and Islands be partisans it is better always to be neighbours. An intemperate people cannot prosper under the best government but temperance will, at least alleviate the evils of the first. Westport is strong in temperance. The Division and the Club are in a healthy and prosperous condition, and soon like Alexander they will have to weep (or rejoice) because there are no more worlds to conquer. The visit of the delegation from the Yarmouth Club will long be kindly remembered at Westport. The temperance hall has been made to assume a most inviting appearance. The interior decoration reflects the artistic skill of Mr. Newth and the enterprise of our leading temperance workers.

Where temperance holds sway, you will not expect to find education neglected. The school has been most liberally sustained by the ratepayers. By the resignation of Mr. B. Harvey, after five years service, the higher department passes into the charge of Mr. James P. Nowlan. The elementary still continues in the charge of Miss Fannie M. Titus, who has conducted this department with great success during the past year.

Fishing has been vigorously prosecuted as usual, and the catch has been large, but the success is largely counteracted by low prices. Hake sounds have commanded a high price and ready sale bringing more than the haddock. It has been estimated that $6,500 was paid for sounds during the season on the two islands.

While our fishermen have been drawing their wealth from nature's storehouse, we have had visitors seeking hidden treasure. Our harbour was visited several times during the season by a craft especially fitted out as a treasure seeker. Peter's Island was the center of attraction. Marks were sought and it is said found on the rocks, corresponding to those marked upon the chart of the island carried by the parties. The mineral rod was applied. An improved boring machine was produced and the surface of the island was tapped in several places, but Capt. Kidd's heirs have not yet proved themselves equal as seekers to their famous ancestor as a hider. We are expecting further developments of which you will be duly advised."

Mrs. Charles McDormand.

To the Editor,
Madam:

On January 14th, this newspaper carried a report on the monthly meeting of the Digby Board of Trade which states, in part, that the Board of Trade would support the Town Council in a move to expropriate lands for the purpose of providing lands for the purpose of providing parking.

Allan Pyne, a down town grocer stated that the merchants of Digby cannot do without the outside trade and parking facilities should be provided. He further stated that the merchants were Digby's biggest taxpayers. He expressed disappointment at the fact that so few merchants were on hand when they were notified that the parking matter was to be brought before the Board.

From a report of the March meeting we quote Mr. Pyne as saying that the parking in Digby was one of the most serious handicaps to business and especially to the grocer whose merchandise is heavy for people to carry. He credited the grocer for bringing the people to town by extensive advertising and he felt the grocer customer should have parking facilities.

I could not agree more heartily, that the customer should have parking facilities; but, in fairness to all, let us examine all sides of this question.

Firstly, I believe we have three grocery stores in the central down town area in question: Pyne's Market, Shortliffe's Grocery and Campbell's Grocery. Away from this central area we have Boyd McGibby's Grocery, Cowan's Grocery, I.G.A., South End Grocery, Brad Amero's Grocery as well as other businesses such as The Canadian Tire Store, Fidele's Beauty Shop, Hall's Furnishings and how many more?

All these businesses have provided their own parking needs and some at very extensive cost. To my knowledge they have not expressed any suggestion that the taxpayers should be responsible for this. Neither have I heard, Shortliffe's Grocery or Campbell's in the central down town area express any suggestion that the taxpayers should provide their parking facilities.

Could this then explain, at least in part, the reason so question of parking was to be brought before a meeting of the Board of Trade?

From the Board meeting of January 14th I should like also to quote the Mayor's statement that the "Digby Town Planning Board" thinks it wiser to centralize the shopping area rather than to have few had been notified that the spread.

Many of our largest businesses are outside this central down town area and they are also among the biggest taxpayers. If we are going to assist a few down town businesses why are we not applying this generous spirit to all merchants of Digby?

(Mrs.) Eileen Y. Chipman.

angles another extension providing adequate and safe harbour protection for the fishermen. Extending from the ashore towards the last extension and parallel to the spur was drafted a projection. It was expected that the space between this projection and the main wharf would be filled in and used for mooring small craft. Capt Casey reported that he found the idea already considered by the engineers were similar to those he had proposed to the Digby Trade Board.

Letters from Lucien Cardin, Minister of Public Works and J. W. Pickersquill, Minister of Transport regarding the fishermen's wharf and once proposed ferry terminal were brought to the attention of the Board. Also were read telegrams sent to Hon. George Nowlan from the Board and his reply.

The following resolution moved by Vincent Snow and seconded by Donald Amero was passed.

Digby, N.S., April 13, 1965

Whereas it now appears that the Canadian Pacific Railway Company is not sufficiently interested in sharing the cost of a new pier with transit shed for continued future ferry service between Digby, N.S., and Saint John, N.B., and

Whereas it does not appear that any satisfactory agreement has been made between the said company, and our Federal Government for said ferry service, and

Whereas an up-to-date ferry service is necessary to the whole economy of Western Nova Scotia, especially the Digby and Annapolis areas.

Therefore, let it be resolved that the Digby Board of Trade request the Editor of our local press for a leading editorial based on Digby Board of Trade's unanimous support for the following statement: The Digby Board of Trade in session April 13, 1965, unanimously agrees that any concern for an up-to-date ferry service to and from Western Nova Scotia, by both our Provincial and Federal Governments, should be registered by an act showing primary concern for an up-to-date ferry service between the Province of Nova Scotia and the Province of New Brunswick, and then secondly, concern for another ferry service between Western Nova Scotia and some point in the U.S.A. and let it be further

Resolved that the Editor of our local press send copies of such editorial to Editors of the following newspapers: the Chronicle, Herald, Halifax, N.S.; the Telegraph, Journal, Saint John, N.B.; and all western Nova Scotia weekly newspapers in the seven most western counties.

The waters off Canada's Atlantic coast comprise of the different kinds of fish, shell most important fishing fish and marine mammals grounds of the globe, apply such as seals and whales, are fish to people all over the world.

FAVOURS 2ND FERRY

Mr. Dakin, it is understood, has also placed the proposition before the Fundy Board of Trade on the Islands, the Digby Town Council, R. Baden Powell, M.L.A., and Premier Robert Stanfield.

Before contacting the various persons and groups above mentioned, Mr. Dakin had been in touch with Lawrence Smith, president of the Jonesport Chamber of Commerce, whom he reported had been most favorable toward the idea.

Jonesport is in Washington Co., Maine, and is a scenic town which contains the largest sardine plant on the Atlantic coast according to brochures received by Mr. Dakin. Its major industry is lobster fishing, while other fish are caught from the waters off the port and processed at Jonesport.

The distance between Jonesport and Freeport is only 5 miles (a matter of approximately 3 hours) in direct line across the Bay, Mr. Dakin said, and very little further than the distance between Digby and Saint John, N.B. Economically, Mr. Dakin felt there were no better ports could be chosen for a proposed second ferry than Jonesport and Freeport.

In reply to Mr. Dakin's letter to the Premier of Nova Scotia, the Premier stated that consultants are now at work determining financial considerations and other matters relating to a second ferry

Panel On School T.V.

The panel was chaired by Mr. Garth and dealt with the most effective and efficient use of T.V. programs.

The first speaker was Mrs. Mailman who said she used pictures extensively in teaching French, had the students compile a dictionary, be prepared for the T.V. broadcasts and review work thoroughly.

Mrs. Purdy felt the following should come immediately after the T.V. school broadcasts and that instruction should be followed carefully and repeatedly until the teacher feels an acceptable job has been done.

Mr. Fullerton dealt with the possibility of art fitting into the school T.V. programs and was favorable toward it from success he had seen in other fields. One essential of drawing, he stated, is to look and draw.

Mrs. Banks felt that each class should have its own T.V. set in order to give the most effective teaching. She also said that the class should be motivated toward the lesson and any vocabulary difficulties should be cleared up.

In taking the position of an administrator, Mr. MacInnes said there was a very important relationship between the T.V. program and the administrator which goes much further than having a set installed and visiting the classroom. An administrator, he said, needs to know what programs are scheduled now for the coming year. It is a teacher's response (Please turn to Page 10)

Rev. VanZoost Inducted

Rev. William D. VanZoost, B.A., B.D., was inducted as minister of St. John's United Church, Middleton, on Friday night. The service was conducted by Rev. Frank Phinney, Waterville, chairman of the Annapolis Presbytery of the United Church.

Rev. Mr. VanZoost, a native of Wolfville, is a graduate of Acadia University and Pine Hill Divinity Hall, and has had pastorates at Clyde River, Canning, Yarmouth and Windsor, Ont. His wife, the former Verge Winchester, of Digby, is a graduate in Arts of Acadia.

Harbour Improvements For County

Tenders on a dredging project at Sandy Cove East, Digby Co., are expected to close May 5 according to information supplied Labour Minister Alan MacEachen by the Federal Department of Public Works.

Included in the work will be the re-dredging of a mooring basin approximately 125 feet long by 75 feet wide and an approach channel 1300 feet long by 50 feet wide to a depth of 5 feet below L.W.O.S.T.

Labour Minister MacEachen has also been advised that local public tenders are being advertised for construction of a wharf mooring at Weymouth North, Digby County. Closing date for tenders is May 5, 1965.

The work will consist of the following: (a) the construction of an ell approximately 50 feet long by 10 feet wide to be located at right angle to the existing ell; (b) the placing of a mooring post and brace piles on the outer end of the new ell.

Plan T. B. Testing Clinic

Support for the forthcoming T.B. Testing Clinic was promised at the regular monthly business meeting of the Digby Red Cross Branch held at the Court House last week with the president, Mrs. R. B. Lent, presiding. Mrs. d'Entremont, of the N.S.T.B. Association, addressed the meeting and explained the methods to be used in making a thorough T.B. survey of the area during the coming weeks.

A report on Women's Work activities was given by Mrs. H. M. Warne, including thanks for a crib quilt and two quilt tops received from the Society. (Please turn to Page 10)

Move Into New Hospital

With the assistance of five nurses who live in Digby and under the preliminary plans and directions of administrator, Mrs. Grace Edwards and the hospital staff, all thirty-five or more patients in the old hospital were transferred to the new Digby General Hospital on Tuesday morning. First patient to be transferred was David Daley, local electrician, who recently suffered a back injury in a fall.

The move was executed without mishap or difficulty in approximately two hours from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. About 11:13 a.m. the first baby to be born in the new hospital arrived. It was a son, born to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Wagner, Plympton. Eleven babies were transferred from the old hospital.

On Monday the same five nurses from the town, Mrs. D. G. Black, Mrs. C. D. Snow, Mrs. A. L. Robinson, Mrs. Sidney Smith and Mrs. E. H. Anderson, made up beds and generally prepared for the transfer as well as to help with the transfer.

The present hospital is the third for Digby, the first one having been built in 1925 and was the building now occupied by Brad's, although many changes had been made during the years. The small cottage

Record Blood Donor Attendance

Combined totals of the Digby and Cornwallis Blood Donor Clinics reached a record of 884 donations for the area at last week's two clinics held on successive days in the respective centres. The Digby Clinic was held last Tuesday at the Lions Club Hall, and included donors from Bear River to Freeport and Weymouth, as well as those from the town of Digby. Donors from Westport were unable to attend owing to adverse weather conditions on the day of the Clinic.

Parking Fines No Respector Of Persons

His Worship Mayor C. D. Snow was handed a parking ticket for an offence early last week. This was Mayor Snow's second offence for the season and in each case the Mayor humbly and obligingly walked to the town hall and paid the required fine. Just goes to show there is no respector of persons when it comes to parking tickets in Digby. The Mayor didn't seem to mind paying the fines either. "Goes toward better parking facilities in Digby" he commented to the Courier.

The Courier was also informed by "a man in a cast" that he certainly could not be accused of receiving favoritism in parking offenses. Already he has paid $10 in fines this winter. He referred to a letter in the Courier last week which had a postscript "Surely because the above mentioned man was in a walking cast didn't entitle him to free parking."

Princess Of Acadia Damages Wharf Bumper

A ten foot wide bumper at the end of the pier where the Princess of Acadia docks was damaged on Friday when struck by the ship. Heavy seas forced the Saint John-Digby ferry into the pier when she was preparing to dock around four o'clock in the afternoon. The Princess was late due to train delays in Saint John. Ordinarily her arrival would have been at 1:15 p.m. Her departure which normally 1:15 p.m. was delayed on Friday to 10:30 p.m.

Damage by the impact resulted to a section of the bumper and wharf nearly 10x50 feet. About 30 pilings were also damaged. The bumper, estimated at 15 years old, it is understood, had been in a dilapidated condition. Some section of the wharf it is thought by residents, to be nearly 100 years. The section damaged on Friday has been fenced off from the public. It is understood that personnel from the Federal Department of Public Works, Halifax came to Digby on Tuesday to view the damage.

Board Of Trade Workshop Tomorrow

A Board of Trade Workshop will be conducted tomorrow at the Cornwallis Inn, Kentville, beginning at 9 o'clock in the morning.

Delegates will be officially welcomed by E. Adelaar, Weymouth, president of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade and also K. L. Taylor, president of the Kentville Board of Trade.

W. J. Sheridan, Montreal, assistant general manager of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, will lead in the subject of Community Improvement Through Understanding, in the morning. Also before luncheon A. T. Parkes, Moncton, Maritime manager of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, will speak on the subject of You and Taxes.

Luncheon chairman will be K. L. Taylor and speaker W. J. Sheridan.

Other speakers and leaders of groups will be J. E. Shaffner, vice president, The Canadian Chamber of Commerce; Walter deSilva, director of Regional Planning, Halifax and Halifax County; W. J. Collins, Atlantic Regional Urban Renewal Officer, Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation, Halifax; Ronald Peck, M.R.A.I.C., Wolfville, N. S. Association Architects and Mayor H. C. Lindsay, Kentville. It is expected that six will be attending from the Digby Board of Trade.

The Saint John-Digby Ferry should be a first on the list of any ferries in the area was the opinion expressed at a special committee meeting of the Digby Board of Trade held on Tuesday afternoon and presided over by Charles Halliburton. A more up-to-date service should have been provided years ago was another comment.

Shelving by the federal government, some weeks ago of plans to construct a nearly $3,000,000 wharf project in Digby, has resulted in the Digby Board of Trade planning to send a delegation to the Canadian Pacific Railway in Montreal and the federal government in Ottawa. It is understood that the Digby delegation will be supported by representation from the Saint John, N.B. Board of Trade and the Digby Board is also seeking support from other Nova Scotia boards and industrial concerns in Nova Scotia. At the meeting of the special committee of the Digby Board on Tuesday afternoon preliminary plans were made and a tentative date of the first week in May was set for the delegation to proceed to Montreal and Ottawa.

Personnel of the delegation was not definitely decided but it was planned that a detailed brief would be drawn up immediately. Working on the brief will be president Charles Halliburton and Vincent Snow, economics; Mayor C. D. Snow, and Charles Hersey, express and freight; V. G. Cardoza, history; John Nichols, engineering. It was decided to ask Lloyd Hill, executive director A.V.A.B.T. to provide tourist data. Attention will be given to population and area served.

The delegation will approach the government for the construction of a modern pier in Digby and also one in Saint John. They will seek the assurance of a Saint John-Digby ferry service with expansion and improvement.

This is a project, it was felt by the committee on Tuesday which should be endorsed by the whole of the Annapolis Valley and western end of Nova Scotia.

A letter read from the Department of Public Works stated that an engineering study had been conducted for a proposed new ferry terminal and for improvements to fishing facilities. The construction of the new terminal which is practically obsolete, it stated, depended on financial participation with the Canadian Pacific Railway. Plans were set back, the letter said, when word was received from the C.P.R. that long term economic prospects with the present vessel were not encouraging and the C.P.R. was unwilling to participate. The C.P.R. had urged the present terminal be maintained for 10 years, the expected life of the vessel. Because of the uncertain future major expense did not seem warranted. The letter stated a proposal (Please turn to page 5)

Dr. Berube Tells Of Easter Island Expedition

Concession Man Drowns

A 73-year-old Concession, Digby County man, Enos John Doucette, drowned in Eel Lake Monday night, 15 feet from shore in four feet of water. His 72-year-old cousin, Fred Doucette, reached shore safely.

The two men were fishing trout on the lake, in an eight-foot motorboat, when the craft capsized about 100 feet from shore. Fred, who reached shore exhausted, looked back to see the other man go under, and could only lie helplessly by. Meteghan RCMP said Fred was found lying almost in the same position as when he crawled from the water. It was late Monday night when searchers found Fred, after relatives became concerned that the two men failed to return home. RCMP said he was semi-conscious and almost delirious with shock when found.

The body of Enos Doucette was recovered Tuesday morning.

EASTER SERVICES

Trinity Parish

Easter Sunday was marked in Trinity Parish by a greater attendance at Holy Communion than for many years. Holy Communion was held in Trinity Church at 7 a.m. and at St. Paul's, Marshalltown, at 8 a.m. and at All Saints', Ross way, at 9 a.m.

At 11 a.m. Choral Eucharist was celebrated at Trinity Church, with a record number of Communicants present. The service was conducted by the Rector, the Rev. James Pike assisted by Servers Richard Wenaus, Richard Gidney and Brian Davis. The choir, under the direction of Mrs. Harry O. Turnbull, rendered an Easter anthem.

In his sermon, the Rector reminded the large congregation that the Resurrection of Christ was an undeniable fact (Please turn to Page 10)

V.O.N. Resigns

At the regular monthly meeting of the V.O.N. Board of Directors held at the Court House the nurse, Miss Dianne Rupert tendered her resignation effective June 30. The resignation was accepted with regret.

Miss Rupert reviewed the cost per visit for nursing care in this area. In 1962 the cost per visit was $3.00; in 1963 it was $3.12; and in 1964 it was $3.07. The decrease in 1964 was due to an increase in visits. In 1962 the nurse made 566 visits for nursing care; in 1963 she made 1,074 visits; and in 1964 she made 1,272.

It is only for nursing care visits that there is any charge, but this is only a part of the many services performed by the V.O.N. nurse. For nursing care, patients, who are able, have been paying a moderate fee of $2.00. Some pay only in part, and some are unable to pay anything, but none who apply are denied the care that they require. Much free or partially paid for nursing care is given as seen by the fact that fees for the 1,272 visits in 1964 netted $1,330, which is an average of $1.05 per visit.

The cost per year of the V.O.N. service in this area is approximately $7,000.00. The difference between the revenue from nursing care visits and the cost of the services is raised through grants, gifts and drives, and fund raising activities. After much discussion the V.O.N. Board decided that since the cost per visit is more than $3.00, the fee for nursing care should be raised from $2.00 to $2.50 effective May 1st.

The nurse also gave a brief report of the Provincial V.O.N. meeting held in Dartmouth, stating that the Provincial Government had given a grant of over $8,000 to be distributed among the 15 branches of the V.O.N. in Nova Scotia.

The fund raising activity for April will be a tag day. The regular V.O.N. drive for funds will be held in June.

Celebrates 90th Birthday

Mrs. Neil MacLean recently celebrated her 90th birthday at the home of her granddaughter, Mrs. Graham McBride, of Clayton Park, Rockingham, where members of the family and neighbors gathered to do honor to the occasion. A shower of cards, flowers and other gifts from friends and relatives were received by the guest of honor. Mrs. MacLean, a native of North Sydney, is in excellent health and except for impaired vision, which has curtailed her reading and sewing, is as active and alert as most people years her junior.

Mrs. MacLean has been making her home with her son, J. Alex MacLean, of Smith's Cove, and until recently has been able to visit with her daughter, Mrs. George Panter of Port Credit, Ontario. Another son is Rev. Randolph D. MacLean, of Halifax, who was able to be present at the gathering.

Mrs. MacLean has eight grandchildren and six great grandchildren.

Miss Anna Marshall, King Street, is visiting in Dartmouth.

Digby Kiwanians on Thursday night heard first hand the story of the recent medical expedition to Easter Island when Dr. Gilbert Berube addressed about 25 members at a regular dinner meeting. Dr. Berube was introduced by Peter Applejohn and thanked by Dr. D. G. Black. (In the picture above, left to right, are William MacLeod, past president, who presided in the absence of Donald Brown, president; Dr. Black, Dr. Berube and Mr. Applejohn.)

Dr. Berube, who is stationed at HMCS Cornwallis, was on the HMCS Cape Scott which assisted in transporting the expedition to Easter Island. The objectives of the expedition were to study and develop methods for transportation and erection of self-sustaining medical research laboratories in isolated and under-developed areas of the world as well as medical objectives. The former used portable pre-fabricated buildings (24 tent-trailers), electrical generators, water desalinating stills, x-ray labs., etc. The latter included a medical survey of the native population of the Island in order to identify and evaluate the relative role of environment. Daneen Atkinson Wins Medal

Miss Daneen Atkinson, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. L. R. Atkinson, Bay View, was presented with the Lieutenant-Governor's Medal for Digby County, at a ceremony at Government House, Halifax, on Monday. Seventeen of the twenty top student winners from the province received their awards from His Honor H. P. MacKeen, Dr. Moffatt, Deputy Minister of Education, was the speaker for the occasion. He urged the students to try to further their education and not to forget that an opportunity and a task awaits them in their own province.

Lt. Gov. H. P. MacKeen stressed the necessity of good basic education. He said the recipients of the awards are on their way to achieving great heights. The teaching and understanding of parents and teachers, it was said, as well as individual intelligence and capacity for hard work also contributed to success.

The medals are awarded annually to students from each of 29 districts in Nova Scotia who have obtained the highest aggregate marks in grade eleven.

Following the presentation, His Honor and Mrs. MacKeen entertained the medal winners, their parents, and the high school principals, and their wives who were present, at a reception in the drawing room of Government House.

Marriage

Blackwood — Gibson

The United Baptist Church, Digby, was the scene of a pretty wedding on April 5th at 7:00 p.m. when Rev. H. Hartlin joined in Holy Matrimony Shirley Ann Gibson, and Frank Maurice Blackwood.

To the strain of the wedding march played by Mrs. Jean Olsen, the bride entered the church on the arm of her uncle Mr. Arnold Cook by whom she was given in marriage. She looked radiant dressed in a street-length gown of white nylon sheer over taffeta with long pointed sleeves and trimmed with pearls. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a diadem trimmed with pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Attending the bride was Miss Lynn Wolf who was dressed in peach chiffon over taffeta with lace bodice and matching hair dress.

Junior bridesmaid was Miss Brenda Dunn wearing blue nylon brocade over taffeta with matching headpiece. Both bridesmaids carried nosegays of flowers.

Frank McGinnis of Montreal

acted as best man.

Ushers for the occasion were Gary Dunn, cousin of the bride, and Arthur Wood.

The bride's mother chose two piece dress of Nile green with beige accessories and wore a corsage of white carnations.

The grooms only attending relatives were his aunt and uncle Mr. and Mrs. Frank Legon of Dartmouth. She was attired in a dress of blue wool and wore a mink stole with a corsage of white carnations.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Shirley Clayton rendered a solo "Our Wedding Day". Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the brides grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cook. The brides table was tastefully decorated and centered with a three tier wedding cake. Mr. Hartlin proposed a toast to the bride which was responded to by the groom. Refreshments were served to about seventy guests. Serving the bride's table was Mrs. Leon Graham. Those serving guests were Misses Sandra and Carolyn Murphy and Linda Dunn.

After a brief visit with her grandparents the happy couple left for Montreal where they will reside.

The groom is a graduate of Psychiatric nursing and is employed at the Varden Protestant Hospital. The bride will return to her studies at the same hospital.

Bible Society Holds Annual

The annual meeting of the Canadian Bible Society was held at the Anglican Diocesan Centre, Halifax, recently with the president, Col. John A. Hebb, in the chair. There were approximately 190 delegates present representing the area from Yarmouth to Canso.

A short devotional was led by the Very Rev. E. B. N. Cochran.

Life Membership Certificates in the Canadian Bible Society were presented by His Honour M. P. MacKeen, Lieut. Governor of Nova Scotia, to Mrs. Andrew Crook and Charles Moffatt of Dartmouth. District Life Membership was presented to Wesley Graves of Aylesford and Hon. Life Membership to Spurgeon A. Grimm, Halifax.

His Honour H. P. MacKeen, after presenting the certificates, gave a brief address. In his remarks he spoke of two hungers in the world today, namely, physical and spiritual. Physical hunger due to rapid increase in population and shortage in food; spiritual hunger because of increase of illiteracy.

Dr. Henry D. Hicks introduced the guest speaker, the Rt. Rev. W. W. Davis, Lord Bishop of N. S., who addressed the meeting. His message gave a clear vision of the work being done by the Canadian Bible Society. He used as his subject "God's Word for a New Age," the theme of the Bible Society for 1965. He stated it is costly for each one if we are going to carry out the task of getting the Bible in the language of the people. The membership in the Christian Church in the world increases 20 million a year, while 60 million in the world learn to read in a year. The population of those learning to read increases three times as fast as the Christian population. We are not keeping up with the demand for Christian literature, he said. The Rt. Rev. W. W. Davis, in closing his address, reminded his audience that the Old Testament is a mirror of ourselves, and the New Testament is a mirror of what we can be and that the Bible Society in time would like to translate a Bible that could be used by both the Protestants and Roman Catholics.

Dist. Sec'y. Report was read by Rev. M. P. McIntosh. He stated that 400 Bibles were given to India by this district in 1964. Five million dollars is required by the Bible Society in 1965. We in this district must triple our giving in two years. Cooperation of churches is very important, he said.

Tribute to the memory of the officers and members who had passed away during the year was paid. The late Rev. Ernest Churchill, a former pastor of Digby town, was named among them.

The Bible a Month Club, which provides a Bible each month for some specific country or people had dropped in membership in 1964 to 50 members, a decrease of 32 from 1963.

Bibles are presented to each new Canadian when he takes the Oath of Allegiance. Over 1500 copies were given to new immigrants in 1964. The Army, Navy and Air Force are provided with copies of the New Testament for each recruit. This practice, which began in 1914, continues to the present. Churches in Canada will be asked to observe "Bible Society Sunday" on May 2nd. This is not to be confused with "Bible Sunday" which will continue to be observed on the second Sunday in Advent.

Adelaar Says Boat N.S. Concern Too

Emanuel Adelaar, Weymouth, president of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade said there was concern about the future of the Digby-Saint John ferry service. A delegation had been advised by the premier that this was a matter for the federal government.

"Technically, the premier is correct, but we feel that something like this that is extremely important to everybody in the Annapolis Valley, should be of concern to the provincial government who should follow it up."

Mr. Adelaar was speaking at a meeting of the Weymouth Board of Trade.

Speaking at the industry Mr. Adelaar said that industrial development in the Annapolis Valley will have to be based on resources potentially available in the area.

At the time would be to have a road to the new avenues of the valley in the possible future. Meanwhile, the AVABT was already involved in expansion of the tourist trade and taking the lead in dealing with transportation problems.

An aspect of tourist promotion was being explored, the president said. He saw the day when tourists would be entering the province by plane, and extension of the season to autumn.

Mr. Adelaar said some improvements were needed. The "general level of our restaurant is not as high as it should be." However, the Innkeepers Guild and Restaurant Association had given assurance that this was being given close attention.

AVABT Manager Lloyd Hill said with the reactivating of the Hantsport Board next week, all towns in the area from Windsor to Clare would have active boards.

Tourist promotion work was described and in answer to a question as to where "we will accommodate all these people" if the promotion boosts the summer influx, Mr. Hill agreed accommodations were a problem. However, on Route 13, for example, Shubenacadie, Noel Shore and Walton, a new motel was to be established soon. Four large concerns have been scouting the region of the national park at Kedge Lake for motel locations, he said.

A Fertilizer Subsidy Program became effective for all livestock farmers in Nova Scotia April 1st, 1965.

Under the terms of this Program, a livestock farmer is a farmer who maintains cattle or sheep and derives farm income from the sale of livestock or livestock products.

The object of this Policy is to increase the amount of livestock food produced in Nova Scotia from farm lands which are presently vacant, partially vacant or farm lands which are not yielding economical crops of crop production at the present time.

To receive the subsidy, the farmer must submit not later than November 30th a completed application on forms supplied by the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture and Marketing, with invoices showing amounts of fertilizer purchased and place of purchase.

There is no death He seems to Treasure our mother sweet

In your garden of rest,
For while on earth, she was the best.
She gave all her love in fullest

Care devotion and thoughts to treasure.
Unseen by the world she stands by our side.
And whispers my loved ones death can not divide.
Dearly loved and longed for

For some you may be forgotten.
But others, a part of the past,
But to us, who loved and lost
you.
Your memories will always

We returned to the town where we used to live, for the first time in five months, last week. I was a bit disappointed that the kids were sleeping as we drove into town. For five months, we have been treated to vividly detailed accounts of nearly every event of our lives before we moved to the city. To me, it seemed incredible that children so young, could remember things which happened a year and a half before.

We drove down the town's main street. The kids woke up. They and we, saw Hiram ambling down the street, the first familiar landmark. Hiram is the town's friendliest, dirtiest, and least domesticated beagle. By coincidence, when he was a very young beagle, before his wandering ways were so apparent, he had belonged to the family before us at number 151. They gave him to friends when they left, but after losing him for several weeks at a time, only to have him amble in unexpectedly and settle in the best chair one day, his new family came to an agreement with him. Hiram lives where he pleases, bestowing his affections for as long as he wishes, on those households which he thinks merit them, then returning to home base for a while.

The kids were bouncing up and down in the back seat. "Oh boy!" they shouted. "Here we are. There's Hiram. How far are we from our house? Take us to Robbie's house!"

There was nothing wrong with their memories. "There's where the ferry docks. Daddy, take us for a ride on the ferry. There's the corner store. Daddy, please buy us some potato chips. When are we going to get to Robbie's house?"

We booked into a motel, and got our supper in a restaurant. The man in this family lives in terror that somebody might invite us to dinner, or to stay the night just from politeness, so he tries not to give anybody the opportunity. After supper we drove down our old street.

"Mommy, when we get to our house, I'll let you know. If I go over to Robbie's house, I'll be real careful when I cross the street to come home," chorused the back seat passengers. The little one, who theory would have it, could not possibly remember back five months, was chanting "Robbie, Robbie, Robbie."

"I know who lives in that house — Mrs. . . ." shouted the big one, naming the wrong former neighbor. He corrected himself right away, and named the right one. "There's our house! There's our house!" Above the din, I explained, with no notable success, that somebody we did not even know now lived in that house, and that we were not moving back.

We drove into the back driveway of one of our friends. The car had not stopped before our kids were out. Our kids were not out before a bevy of under-sixers surrounded the

BLOOD DONOR

(Continued from Page 1) has expressed the thanks of the Red Cross Committee for the support received from the local chairmen in all communities in the promotion of the clinics, and to the volunteer workers who assisted, as well as hearty thanks to the donors themselves.

The breakdown of the grand total was as follows: Digby area, 233, which included: Digby Town, 96; Bear River, 87; Freepoint and Tiverton, 18; Smith's Cove, 7; Barton, 6; Centreville, 4; Plympton, 4; Weymouth, 3; Little River, 2; miscellaneous areas, 6. The honors for the highest percentage of donors for its population as usual went to Bear River, which has continued to maintain its record.

New donors attending the Digby Clinic for the first time numbered 43, which was a considerable increase over previous clinics, and a good omen for the future. There were also 21 donations of the O Rh negative blood type which is car. If you have ever seen the embraces and back-slapping of grown men at conventions, or the tearful glee of women at a class reunion, fancy these people at half their size, and you have some idea of the mayhem created by the joyful homecoming of an almost four to his friends.

We stopped into our neighbor's house, and were pressed into the usual cup of tea. The children wandered in. I waited for our friend's flattered and delighted reaction to the open armed recognition they would soon be afforded. After all, they had lived across the street from us for the major part of our kids' lives. There had been a time when our two could not do enough trotting back and forth between houses. Bill, the teen-age boy of the family, used to baby sit for us. They used to run to the window every morning to watch Bill get on the school bus. Grinning expectantly, I waited.

My two, who remembered every child, dog, cat, and house on the street, as well as names, had decided that the least important things in the world are the faces of people over twelve years old. They sidled shyly up to me, referring in shy, whispered questions to "that man," "that lady," and "that big boy."

I have been pumping them ever since, but so far there seems to be no glimmering of recall.

Wouldn't you like to know about that little trap door which decides what is important enough to remember?

Places Third In Pistol Shoot

Bob Pyne, of the Digby Pistol Club, placed third in the Centre Fire Aggregate and third in the Grand Aggregate at a successful pistol shoot held in Halifax.

The Royal Canadian Navy's Atlantic Command Handgun Club, over Easter weekend (April 17-18), held its third annual Indoor Pistol Tournament. The full 1800 point shoot was registered with and approved by the Shooting Federation of Canada, the governing body for pistol competition in Canada. There were additional matches for H.M.C. Ships' teams and club teams. Trophies and cash prizes were awarded to the aggregate winners in each classification.

Pyne's 22 aggregate in the sharpshooters was 777, centre fire 710, grand aggregate 1487.

Senior Club Wins Badminton

Among the main attractions in Freepoint last week was a badminton tournament between the arch rivals (the school) and the community club. Unlike the first two tournaments in which a definite advantage was held by either the student or the senior group, this engagement was closely contested all the way and provided some interesting and entertaining matches for all involved. The actual outcome was in doubt up to the final game, itself a see-saw battle, in which the breaks played a large roll. Final statistics showed a winning margin of 13 games to 11 in favour of the senior club. Playing decisive rolls for the winners were T. P. Outhouse and Jack Pyne, while Patsy Nickerson, Larry Finigan and Hardy Sullivan gave sparring performances for the losers.

Later the same week simultaneous surprise parties were held for two members of the Senior Badminton Club, the occasion was to present a wedding gift to the president, Miss Sharon Banks, also a birthday gift to Mr. Keith Manzer. Refreshments of birthday cake, wedding cake, sandwiches, cookies, coffee and tea were served.

Ordinary.

We took the body off this Volkswagen 1500 to show you. Let's start at the back. With the engine. What's out of the ordinary about it? Everybody knows we're famous for air-cooled engines in the rear. We made the 1500's engine more powerful. And so flat it fits right into the back of the car and still leaves room for a luggage compartment. (And that leaves you with two trunks. There's no engine in the front.) Now notice the chassis. The floor is one solid piece of metal. Covers the bottom of the VW 1500. So nothing hangs down. And gets damaged. By rough weather. Or rough roads. And even though we made the VW 1500 for families, you don't drive it like an ordinary family car. You sit on a comfortable bucket seat and shift through four fully-synchronized gears on the floor. Take a look at that suspension system up front. Inside that black metal tubing there's a torsion bar connected to each wheel. And it's the same idea at the back. Every wheel in the VW 1500 is independently suspended. So a pothole for instance, jars only the wheel that goes over it. Not the whole car. And everybody in it. We even put an anti-sway bar up front. With the result that the 1500 tracks around a bend just about like a Porsche. Why not visit a VW dealer and discover all the 'out of the ordinary' things about the Volkswagen 1500? He may not take a car apart for you. But he'll let you drive one.

Out of the ordinary.

ability to advise the administrator of needs if TV is to be effective. The administrator should see that the teacher's attitude conveys success and reveals feelings of enthusiasm. Mr. MacInnes felt the TV set a valuable teaching aid and a set in each room was necessary. He felt that it was wrong to use the school TV programs as a substitute teacher, but to use it as additional enrichment to what a teacher has to offer.

Mr. Edwards posed the question of what to do about children who need individual attention after a TV program. Ideas centered around repeating the lesson, taping the lesson and exact commentaries, using hands, words on blackboards and a clear vocabulary.

Mr. Edwards, at the close of the panel, stated that at the present time there are 300 TV sets used in the schools in N.S. and that by September 1965 he expected to see 400. In the Digby-Annapolis inspectorate there are 24 sets at present for 2,000 children. The programs inaugurated in 1962 teach French, mathematics and science.

It was suggested that when only one class can view TV programs that the teacher would be advised to use the techniques of the program for the benefit of other classes.

Robert Kennedy, senior TV teacher for Nova Scotia, said there was much reason to be pleased with the school TV and the special treatment received from C.B.C.

The meeting started at ten o'clock in the morning when Mrs. Lina Graham, television French teacher, introduced a one hour seminar on junior high French by outlining the audio-lingual teaching approach which is used on the provincial French telecasts. The four steps in this approach — listening, speaking, reading and spelling — are in reverse order to the traditional approach. Some facts in support of the audio-lingual method explained by Mrs. Graham were: in listening and speaking first the child is learning through a direct approach and as he would in his home in a natural way; being able to speak a language gives a person a sense of power that spurs him on to greater achievement; by learning to speak words before learning to write them the student is not led into mispronunciation through silent letters.

In the discussion period led by Mrs. Graham, the feeling of the group was that the teaching of French should begin at a lower grade level, probably about grade three or four. Mrs. Graham suggested that a fifteen minute television period once a day would help to make this possible. She felt that the present oral program which is now given in grade seven would gradually be moved down to a lower grade level.

The problem of obtaining teachers qualified to teach French in an audio-lingual French program aroused considerable discussion. Television was suggested as part of the solution but Mrs. Graham stressed that teachers must be willing to learn along with the pupils. As well as television programs, other aids to strengthening the teachers' capabilities are radio, records, tapes and films.

In summing up, Mrs. Graham stated that our high school French teaching program should produce some bilingual students but more importantly should develop in students sympathetic attitudes towards the French culture and grounding in the language that will enable them to move into French language situations and develop their potentialities to the fullest. The development of such attitudes mental and hereditary factors in an isolated population. The expedition was concerned with assisting the population of Easter Island with medical problems with which they are now faced and to which they will be exposed after permanent contact with the mainland has been established. They also were concerned with establishing a biological station on the island for purposes of assistance in the health and welfare of the population and to provide facilities for follow-up studies after isolation of the island is abolished.

The expedition, under direction of Professor Stanley C. Skoryna, of McGill University, Montreal, consisted of 38 members, including scientists, medical personnel and research assistants. The expedition sighted the island on December 13, 1964, and were met by well-dressed natives in outboard-powered boats, who gave them a welcome and then started to barter their wood carvings (as shown in picture above and held by Dr. Black and Dr. Berube) for soap and cigarettes. The expedition got set up by December 21.

Historically, Dr. Berube said, the island has a prehistoric and a historical age. A Norwegian expedition in 1955-56 revealed by excavations that primitive inhabitants were on Easter Island at the end of the 14th Christian century. This historic age has three different periods — colonization, when wood carving began probably around 1350. The carvings have their root in the strong belief of supernatural beings and spirits on the island. There is the second period known as Easter Island's golden age. During this time many stone statues were made. Nowhere else said Dr. Berube, are there so many monuments of sculpture and masonry made in such a small place by a population of barely more than 3,000. The third period is marked by an amazing decadence. Visitors to the island in the 19th century must share some responsibility of this moral decadence, the speaker said. The historical age came to a sad end in 1892 and 1893, when the natives became victims of Peruvian slave raiders. Kidnapped the natives and carried some 500 of them to Chile off the Peruvian coast where they were sold as slaves. Most of them died on the way back to the continent and carried smallpox and other diseases which decimated the population.

Easter Island has a population of 500. The Chilean government has done much for the natives' welfare since 1888. Sheep farming has been established and the island is presently administered by the Chilean Navy. The islanders of history. In this belief many thousands of Christians had laid down their lives in the Master's service. He said that today there is great need for people to return to the same sure faith that Christians had immediately following the Resurrection. In the meantime, he said, we give God thanks for the lives and examples of those who have gone on to Paradise in the faith of Christ and also for our hope of our resurrection and theirs to eternal life in heaven.

The church was decorated with many beautiful flowers in memory of loved ones. At St. Paul's Church flowers were placed upon the altar in memory of Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Woodman. Among those placed in Trinity Church were those in memory of Mr. Frank Alcorn, Mrs. Joseph Hall, Mr. Aubrey Adams, Mrs. George Carloza, Capt. George and Mavis Parry and Corporal David Foster. These and all the faithful departed were remembered in prayer during the services.

Digby Baptist

Easter services were attended by large congregations on Sunday in the Baptist Church of Digby. At the morning worship service the choir sang two anthems, and the Offertory, "The Holy City," was played by the organist, Mrs. Jean Olsen. The pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, spoke on the subject, "The Victorious Christ," and the meaning of the Resurrection for Christians today.

At the evening service the Ordinance of Baptism was administered by the pastor to would like to have more economic and political freedom to run their own affairs.

The HMCS Cape Scott brought the expedition personnel back to Halifax after carrying out their survey on all 949 native inhabitants of Easter Island. Approximately 17,000 samples, medical records and x-rays had been collected. Areas of study were in medical examination, child development, radiography, dental survey, anthropometric measures, hematology, bacteriology, virology, veterinary survey, biology, etc.

An interesting feature was that no case of extensive or progressive T.B. was found. About 15 new cases of pulmonary T.B. was suspected according to x-ray reports. There were 28 registered as lepers but of the six confined to sanatorium only one was regarded as contagious.

No bedbugs were found but there were plenty of fleas. Pin worm infection was found and also whipworm. Considerable ascarid was present, Dr. Berube said.

Dr. Berube closed his address with slides showing the Cape Scott being welcomed by the natives, setting up the tent camp, the work of the Substation and the natives on the island, public works with stone benches, flowers grown, sweet potatoes, the sheep raising, the hundreds of stone statues some weighing as much as 35 tons. The stone houses with steel roofs, the only beach, and other interesting features of Easter Island.

membership. Floral memorials at the Easter services included those presented in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Dan MacIntosh, Mrs. Harry Baxter, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Smith, Donald Levy, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Morehouse, George VanTassel, Barton Ellis, Capt. Hillyard Barnes, Hubert Marshall, and another in memory of loved ones.

Easter services in the Hill Grove Church were held in the afternoon with a large congregation present. Two anthems were sung by the choir of the church, with Mrs. Darcy Roope at the organ.

At the service next Sunday morning in the Digby church, Rev. J. B. Wilson, Field Secretary of Board of Christian Education of the Atlantic Baptist Convention, will be a guest speaker. Mr. Wilson will be attending the County Youth Conference being held in the Digby church on Saturday afternoon and evening, and he will speak at both sessions of the young people's meetings, of which the evening session is open to the public.

Bear River East

On Sunday evening the Bear River East Union Church had a service with the Rev. W. B. Armsworthy bringing the message to a large congregation. His sermon dealt with the three crosses.

Lovely potted flowers adorned the table in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Sanford by their daughter, Roberta, and Wilbur Trimmer and family, and love offering by daughter, Ola, Donald Carey, and family. Flowers were also placed in memory of husband by wife, Rose.

At the close of the service, communion was observed by a large number.

of Friends, Joggin Bridge, and two quilts made up by Zelma Rebekah Lodge, Digby. Regret was expressed over the recent death of an elderly Red Cross worker, Mrs. Leonard Melan, son of Plympton Station, who had pieced many quilt tops for the Branch.

Mrs. George Winfield, in reporting for the Disaster Relief Committee, stated that four families had been assisted with relief clothing during the past month, also one layette provided for a newborn baby at the Digby General Hospital upon recommendation of the County Health Nurse, Miss Marjorie Tupper. Mrs. Winfield acknowledged with thanks the receipt of 2 crib quilts and 1 large quilt which had been made up by the Earn and Give Club, and 2 crib quilts from Mrs. Budrow, also knitting from the Conway Club, and sewing for layettes done by various ladies.

The report of the Ways and Means Committee, prepared by Mrs. Berwick and presented by Mrs. G. R. Weir, showed the tea collections for the month to have been $11.05. The sum of $30 had been paid in to the branch treasury, and there was a cash balance of $25.34 on hand. The thanks of the committee was extended to all those who had provided refreshments for the Ten Cent Teas.

The report of the Sickroom Loan Committee included a request from the chairman, Delbert Forrest, for the purchase of another hospital gatch bed to add to the 5 already on loan by the Digby Branch. Although this would involve considerable expense, the members voted to invest in the bed owing to the fact that they were frequently more calls for beds than the branch had been able to supply. The gift of a wheelchair from Dr. and Mrs. T. W. Hodgson, to be added to the Loan Cupboard, was also gratefully acknowledged by the committee.

Mrs. Allen Harris reported on the Red Cross Campaign for funds, which had been in progress during March, but was not yet completed in some parts of the town. The sum of $821.10 had been received to date, which is still considerable under the Digby quota.

It was announced by the president that Mrs. Blanch Baker, Director of Junior Red Cross for Nova Scotia, had been invited to be guest speaker at the Digby Branch Annual Meeting, which would be held in June. At this time it was also hoped to have Junior Red Cross members from the Digby schools in attendance. A further announcement was made regarding the Red Cross Home Nursing Classes being held at Mac Millan with Mrs. Victor Carloza, R.N., as instructor.

The meeting adjourned for a social hour, with refreshments served under the auspices of the Ways and Means Committee.

Nowlan Says New Wharf Not Cancelled

Hon. George Nowlan, M.P.

Hon. George Nowlan, M.P., Digby - Annapolis - Kings, was guest at a gathering of the Digby Board of Trade Council held in the Town Hall on Thursday when he stated that the building of a new wharf at Digby had not been cancelled, and it was not right to say it was cancelled. The building of the wharf, he said, had been postponed pending a decision by the C.P.R. on what type of service will be operated when the present service cannot be used. Mr. Nowlan said he was in full agreement with Transport Minister Pickersgill that it is inconceivable that the Saint John-Digby ferry service would ever be discontinued.

It was several weeks ago when word got to Digby that the proposed building of a $3,000,000 ferry wharf in Digby had been shelved by the government because of uncertainty of the CPR over the future plans for the Saint John-Digby service. Fears and a sense of defeat and discouragement descended upon the citizens of Digby and area and a delegation was set up to go to Ottawa and Montreal to converse with government and CPR authorities. At the meeting with the Trade Board Council last week Hon. Mr. Nowlan advised the delegation that to be in a rush but to wait two or three weeks to give the government an opportunity to study the situation which arose from their decision.

Mr. Nowlan was much in favor of setting forth the needs of the fishermen's wharf at Digby which would be proceeded with regardless of any delayed decision on the ferry wharf. He advised the delegation to be well prepared with information before proceeding to Ottawa and to know what they were going to ask for when they arrive.

Fears were expressed at the council meeting that the shelved wharf project was detrimental to the morale of the people and to the economy of the area. Industry, it was felt, would be reluctant to settle where transportation is poor and tourism is hindered by antiquated transportation service.

Full deduction is allowed on costs of investigating factory or power development sites, landstapling business property, cancelling a lease or obtaining a licence, franchise or trademark.

Fast tax write-offs for machinery and equipment purchases by Canadian-owned firms extended to end of 1966, from old expiry date of June 13, 1965.

Guest speaker was Dave Mitchell, whose topic was "Adventures on the Bonaventure," around Scotland, Gibraltar, Malta, Cyprus, on the 1963-64 trip, illustrated by slides. He was thanked by W. D. Crosby, L. A. Thompson, of Digby, thanked the band. Mayor Fred Beattie, of Annapolis Royal, expressed thanks to Capt. J. M. Thompson, of Digby, and thanked the waiters.

Honorable George Nowlan, Q.C.N.P., was an overnight guest at the Salvia House last week.

Gets Captain Appointment

An 18-year veteran of Canadian Pacific's Bay of Fundy steamship service, Captain Joseph Albini Blinn, 55, has been appointed master of the ferry Princess of Acadia.

The appointment was announced last Thursday by H. A. Powell, superintendent, Saint John division, Atlantic Region.

Captain Blinn, native of Grosses Point, N. S., has been serving as master of the Acadia since the death of Captain John Goodwin on February 25 this year.

Educated at St. Anne's College, Church Point, N. S., where he received his commercial diploma, Captain Blinn joined Canadian Pacific's Bay of Fundy service in 1916, after 14 years in the Canadian government marine service and the merchant marine. Signing on as second officer on the Princess of Acadia's predecessor, the Princess Helene, he was acting chief officer during holiday relief.

In May, 1963, he was promoted to chief officer, the rank he held until becoming master. While chief officer, he served as relief master.

Growth Budget Cuts Income Tax Ten Percent

Finance Minister Gordon gave a 10 percent cut in the basic personal income tax in what he termed his "growth budget" announced on Monday night. The reduced 10 percent comes into effect July 1 and is limited to $600 maximum annual cut for the individual.

Noticeable in the budget was that corporation income tax and sales tax remains unchanged. An interesting announcement was the establishment of a Canada Development Corporation to raise $1,000,000,000 from government and public for investment in industrial expansion. Everyone will have an opportunity to buy shares at $5 each.

Other changes are that taxpayers' wholly supported nieces or nephews will qualify as income tax deduction on same basis as dependent children and deductible allowance of $550 is allowed if uncle or aunt is dependent on taxpayer for support because of mental or physical infirmity.

Farmers are allowed to deduct costs of clearing and draining farmland.

Industries are allowed 50 percent tax deductibility on capital costs of projects aimed at reducing water pollution by wastes.

Full deduction is allowed on costs of investigating factory or power development sites, landstapling business property, cancelling a lease or obtaining a licence, franchise or trademark.

Fast tax write-offs for machinery and equipment purchases by Canadian-owned firms extended to end of 1966, from old expiry date of June 13, 1965.

At the April meeting of the Order of Good Cheer, held at the wardroom of the officers mess, HMCS Cornwallis, Mayor C. D. Snow, of Digby, and Keith Raymond were among new members welcomed into the Club. Cornwallis Band was in attendance.

Guest speaker was Dave Mitchell, whose topic was "Adventures on the Bonaventure," around Scotland, Gibraltar, Malta, Cyprus, on the 1963-64 trip, illustrated by slides. He was thanked by W. D. Crosby, L. A. Thompson, of Digby, thanked the band. Mayor Fred Beattie, of Annapolis Royal, expressed thanks to Capt. J. M. Thompson, of Digby, and thanked the waiters.

"Acadia" Damages Wharf Bumper

Heavy seas forced the Princess of Acadia against the wharf while docking on Good Friday.

Damage by the impact resulted to a 10x50 foot section of the bumper and wharf. About thirty pilings were also

McBride Commodore Fourth Time

Charles McBride became Commodore of the Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club for the fourth consecutive year at the annual meeting held Saturday evening. Vice-commodore is Robert Bearne. Harold Nichols became treasurer for the fifteenth consecutive year.

Other officers include Robert Hemeon, rear-commodore and Evelyn Cameron, secretary.

Plans are underway for the annual competition with the Royal Kennebecasis Yacht Club, Saint John. There is a possibility of having two races this summer.

Mention was made of the many renovations and improvements made to the club property in Digby's south end. A granite stone fence has been erected at the entrance to the club. The stones used were from the old Digby post office building. Plans also call for a 110 foot jetty to be completed on the club's property this spring.

B.Y.F. Rally

The annual spring rally of the Digby County Baptist Youth Fellowship was held on Saturday, April 24th, at the Digby Baptist Church, with approximately eighty young people and their pastors in attendance. Registration was conducted by Lina Baxter and Beverley Kaulback. The afternoon devotion was conducted by Miss Marsha Cleveland and Greg Dondale, of the Digby BYF, and the speaker was Capt. Paul Murray, of the Salvation Army. He took as his text II Samuel, 24: "Neither will I offer burnt offerings unto the Lord my God of that which doth cost me nothing." He urged the young people to develop and use their talents for the extension of Christ's work.

The business session was conducted by the president, Miss Doreen Atkinson. Minutes were read by Rally Secretary, Miss Mary Lou Parker, of Bear River, and the roll call of the groups was taken. The treasurer's report was presented by Cheryl Dukeshire, and other items of business were discussed.

Lie. Ron McLean, Rally Counsellor, of Westport, introduced the discussion on the topic "Christian Vocations." The young people were divided into smaller groups, under the

Discuss Community Planning

Mayor C. D. Snow, Vincent Snow and Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby, attended the Canadian Chamber of Commerce workshop held at the Cornwallis Inn, Kentville, on Friday. Highlight of the workshop was a panel discussion on Planning For Community Improvement, chaired by J. E. Shaffner, Berwick, and vice-president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce. Panelists were Walter de Silva, Director of Regional Planning for Halifax and Halifax Co.; J. P. Ryan, Halifax, Assistant Atlantic Regional Urban Renewal Officer for Central Mortgage and Housing Corp.; Ronald Peck, Wolfville, M.R.A.I.C., Nova Scotia Association of Architects, and H. C. Lindsay, Mayor of Kentville.

The chairman said that back through the years community planning had been neglected either from lack of foresight or lack of appreciation of what we have. A great deal, he said, can be accomplished in community planning with resources available.

Mr. Peck also stressed the value of preserving what we have, particularly in architectural heritage. He also stressed more orderly planning in architecture of structures and referred to the Norwiche Plan.

Mr. de Silva spoke on the need and difficulties of planning and said that town planning takes into consideration the whole community - school, industry, parking, etc. It must be comprehensive. Zoning, he said, is not the answer to all ills. Planning, he said, is costly but it pays dividends. The provincial government will assist municipalities in planning but it will not interfere.

Mr. Ryan dealt with the Urban Renewal program and services provided by Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation. He outlined the percentage of capital costs assumed by the federal, provincial and municipal government in various housing projects and surveys.

The morning session opened with a welcome from Roy Taylor, president of the Kentville Board of Trade, who also introduced W. J. Sheridan, assistant general manager C.C. of C., Montreal. Mr. Sheridan took as his subject Community Improvement Through Understanding.

In his opening address Mr. Sheridan said that the first

Attend Mental Health Meet

Attending the provincial annual meeting of the Canadian Mental Health Association from Digby last week were Dr. and Mrs. R. A. Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. V. G. Cardozo and Mrs. Penny Gott. The meeting was held at the Cornwallis Inn, Kentville, on Friday and Saturday.

G. G. Barrett, president of the N. S. Mental Health Association, addressed the meeting on Friday. He stressed the need of preventing mental illness with children. To care for, cure and rehabilitate the mentally ill is not enough, he said, the prime purpose must be the prevention of mental illness.

In speaking of the association, Mr. Barrett said that a more decentralized setup is necessary so that activity will involve more members on the local levels.

Dr. F. C. R. Chalke, professor of psychiatry, University of Ottawa, predicted that in the next 50 years that more and more clergy will become involved, with facility and skill, in counselling and educating and guiding, in a sound way, those in their spiritual charge to a better level of mental health.

Dr. R. O. Jones, professor of psychiatry at Dalhousie University, who addressed the luncheon meeting on Friday, said the money spent to reduce the "terrible poverty" in this land and assure every pregnant woman adequate diet, may do more to cut down on health problems than would result from provision for a low quality medical care plan.

Dr. Jones said society should actively interest itself in the provision of adequate nutrition for the aged and in adequate social programs by senior clubs and arrangements of this kind.

Delegates toured the new Kings County Hospital in Waterville where a number of the sessions were also held.

Freeport Man $3,000 Bursary

Among Nova Scotians receiving the National Research Council scholarships is B. L. Blackford, Freeport, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Blackford. Mr. Blackford's bursary is in the field of oceanography.

Mrs. Wm. Mason is spending three or four days in Halifax visiting with her daughter Dianna.

Not Neglect Atlantic Provinces

Under a Liberal government, Hon. Hector Robichaud, federal minister of fisheries, said, the Atlantic Provinces should not, and will not, be tagged as a neglected and distressed area. Every measure at the disposal of the government will be used to bring the Atlantic economy and standards of living in line with the rest of Canada, he said. The Hon. Mr. Robichaud was speaking at the Clare District Liberal Association held at Meteghan River on Friday evening.

"We want," he said, "the Atlantic Provinces to participate in the general expansion now taking place. We have injected new confidence in the Atlantic Provinces by assigning one hundred million dollars in funds to the Atlantic Development Board; that we have created an atmosphere of full cooperation with the government of the Atlantic Provinces in all fields of activity including my own department of fisheries. We have entered in cooperation with the provinces in a number of cost sharing programs."

"In our attempt to further develop the fishing industry we have increased by 35 to 40 percent the subsidy on wooden fishing vessels as we realize that the ship building industry is one of the main factors in the economy of southwestern Nova Scotia. Since this program was started three years ago over 14 million dollars has been paid in subsidies to this important industry."

The minister said that the government is interested in the educational problems of the present generation and is willing to assist in matters which come within the constitution.

Well Known Captain Passes

Captain Fred Prime, 79, of Medford, Mass., retired sea captain and formerly of western Nova Scotia, died at home in Medford on Thursday.

Born in Eastport, Me., Capt. Prime was a son of Charles and Annie (Ossinger) Prime. He first visited Nova Scotia as a very young boy when he accompanied his mother to her old home in Tiverton, Digby County. Shortly after the return from this trip, both his parents died and he came back to Tiverton to make his home with his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ossinger.

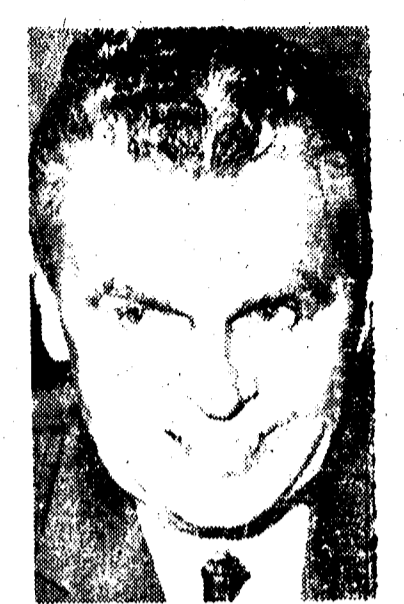

At the age of eleven Captain Prime first went to sea aboard his uncle's trawler "Dove". Between the age of 12 and 18 he served aboard a variety of craft and was shipwrecked at the age of 18 while serving aboard the James W. Cousins which was lost at Lobster Bay, beyond Yarmouth. By the time he was 25, Captain Prime owned and operated his own fishing vessel out of Digby. The vessel was lost in a heavy fog on Yarmouth Cape.

Captain Prime then became third mate on an American steamship operating between Spain and Italy. He got his 2nd mate's papers while serving aboard a coal carrier operating between Norfolk and Boston. During the First World War Captain Prime served aboard the Eastern Steamships vessel "Governor Dingley" as an instructor. He continued with Eastern Steamships until his retirement in 1954. He served as first mate aboard the Yarmouth when she was first put on the run between Boston and Yarmouth. He also served as first and second mate aboard the Evangeline on the same run. In the Second World War Captain Prime was sent to New London, Conn., aboard the "Boston" and acted as an instructor.

After completion of his duties aboard the Boston, he returned to the Yarmouth and retired on the dissolution of the Eastern Steamships Co. in 1954. For many years Captain Prime was a constant summer visitor in Tiverton, where he

Many From Digby Hear John Diefenbaker

Rt. Hon. John Diefenbaker

Many from the town and county of Digby were among the more than 1,000 who attended a meeting at Cambridge, Kings Co., on Saturday night when John Diefenbaker, Opposition Leader, was the principle speaker.

Mr. Diefenbaker strongly emphasized his stand for "One Canada and not two nations" and said that an election message of the Conservatives would be "One Canada, one nation." It is our responsibility, he said, to maintain one Canada, a strong Canada. As long as I am leader of the party I will do all I can to unite but I won't let policies for all Canada be vetoed by any one part of Canada, he said. I am for one Canada, he said, and French Canada is beginning to realize that. He will carry that concept to Quebec in his speaking engagements, he told his audience.

Speaking of the flag question, Mr. Diefenbaker said the Conservatives wanted a distinctive Canadian flag but they wanted one with a heritage of the past. Now, he said, the Liberal organizations are trying to bring about a republic but the retention of ties with the monarchy is necessary to preserve Confederation and the Conservative party will fight to ensure that Confederation is preserved.

A commission on B. & B. will divide the nation, Mr. Diefenbaker declared. The Conservatives would call a national conference and bring about by agreement any necessary changes.

The speaker said that the Conservative government had done more for Nova Scotia in 4 1/2 years than any government had done in 25 years before. He said the Conservatives stand for maintenance of free enterprise. He wanted to see an elimination of the eleven percent sales tax on construction material, deduction of municipal taxes on homes from taxable income. Education, he said, was a singular weapon against poverty and he hoped for a national system of federal aid to technical education and a national council for eastern agriculture.

The present Liberal government, the speaker said, got into more difficulties and imposed more self-inflicted wounds than any government in the history of the nation. I might not always be right, he said, but never am I on the side of wrong. It is unbelievable, he said, that there should be shown so much disregard for those things we believe to be right. It is high time, he went on, that the Prime Minister cleans up the cabinet and ensures rectitude in high places. We were criticized, he said, but we were honest.

Other speakers were Senator Frank C. Welch and George Nowlan, M.P. Digby - Annapolis - Kings, who introduced Mr. Diefenbaker. Chairman for the meeting was D. J. Waterbury.

Vandals Damage Tractor

Vandals caused extensive damage to a tractor-loader valued at $8,500 while it was parked on former Canadian Gypsum property at Deep Brook.

An investigation is underway by Digby RCMP. The tractor, it is said, was owned by C. S. Charlton, of Bear River.

About This and That

Helplessly We Wait

The title of this editorial is about sums up the position of the people in Digby and western Nova Scotia and Saint John, N.B., at the present time so far as the future of the Digby-Saint John ferry service is concerned. We can send a delegation to Ottawa to protest to the government about their showing the promised $3,000,000 wharf project in Digby and then wait in hope that some fruitful reasoning was brought to bear on the subject. We can send our delegation to the C.P.R. in Montreal and again wait in hope that some reasoning might prevail on the C.P.R. to look favorably on our project. Other than that it seems to be a case of waiting helplessly while the gingham dog and the calico cat side by side at the table sat.

Helplessly, indeed, we wait. We know it is not a case of waiting for the government or the C.P.R. not knowing the need of an inter-provincial service across the Bay of Fundy here. Both know that some sort of service has been in operation on the route ever since the settlement here by the Loyalists in 1783 and as time went on improved service resulted. Both Transport Minister Pickersgill and Hon. George Norlin are in agreement that it is inconceivable that this Bay of Fundy ferry would ever be discontinued. They all know as well as we do that while we have been grateful for small mercies the world progresses rapidly and our system of transportation here is rather outmoded. Actually, this service has for a long time been overdue for some really modern and updated accommodation for carrying not only passengers and cars but also trailers and trucks. We feel that both the C.P.R. and government recognize this as a number one project as far as Nova Scotia ferries are concerned. It is an all-Canadian and an inter-provincial service which is a big consideration.

We know the C.P.R. and the government both have all the facts and figures and if they have any doubt there can always be another survey. There is little use for us to bring up engineering data; passenger, vehicle or express and freight potential. We'll leave that to the delegation to Ottawa and Montreal to remind of these facts and figures even though we are certain that studies of this nature have been made by "the gingham dog and the calico cat while they side by side at the table sat." In fact, the term we heard the other day might suit the situation well — "paralysis by analysis" — while we await helplessly some concrete proposal on the Digby-Saint John ferry future.

Helplessly we wait for we are in no position to provide for ourselves the transportation we need. We are at the mercy of the government or a private company that has the where-with-all to provide the necessary commodities. Helplessly we wait for we cannot order either the C.P.R. to "get going" or the government either. At best, we can remind both that this is a public service and as such should be up-to-date to meet the need.

And what is our helplessly waiting doing for us and to us? It is having a most detrimental, confusing and irritating psychological effect on the people of western Nova Scotia, especially Digby. Instead of having a boost in morale so badly needed, the people are becoming discouraged and fearful of the future. Maybe these fears are unfounded but they are there, nevertheless, and as far as we can see, this is the worst feature of the whole "sorry mess." We feel, too, for the people who contemplate purchasing or establishing a business in the area. We have in mind a particular American couple whom we know have subscribed to The Digby Courier during the past year or more with the express purpose of locating a small tourist establishment for sale. Why do they want to come? Because they like our country here and feel it is a desirable place to bring up a family. We shudder to think what their conclusion might be after reading the news of the Saint John-Digby ferry in relation to the effect this transportation might have on their prospective customers. We could write such people, we suppose, and tell them to go ahead and buy for Transport Minister Pickersgill thinks it inconceivable that the ferry service would ever be discontinued. But, who "without millions" dares to invest except in a sure thing. Only action can restore the confidence needed. We could tell them that most people think this is only a delay in decision for better bargaining advantages in cost sharing or rentals. That might or might not be so. Who knows? We could tell such people who want to live here many things, but only action is going to provide the stimulus that the people need. Guesses won't do and far away promises will soon be lost in lack of faith.

In the long run, neither the C.P.R. nor the government is being damaged by this depressing delay because of disagreement. Only the people who helplessly wait on either side of the Bay of Fundy are the losers. If they could only be sure. If faith could once again be restored — but, no, they only helplessly wait.

Clean Up! Paint Up! Spruce Up!

Spring time means all of these things. Many people are busy these days cleaning, painting and tidying up around their places. Go for a walk around the town about any day after supper and you will probably find any number of Kiwanians doing the things that ought to be done around the place. This is one of the delightful things about the changing of seasons in our climate — they bring some changes in our habits, and in some measure, to our mental attitudes.

Speaking of tidying up — this writer, and probably other Kiwanians as well, is getting weary of looking at the messy wreck on the waterfront of Digby, namely, what was once the Central Motors. Seen from the street or the pier, it surely adds nothing to the appearance or pride of Digby. For two years it has stood there now, a monument to the indifference of its owners and an insult to the community. Tourists who came to Digby two years ago, and who may be returning again this summer will behold the same grim sight the moment they disembark from the boat. It is time for action in dealing with this situation. It is of no use to ask citizens to clean and tidy up their properties in the town of Digby while before their very eyes this condition is allowed to exist. Perhaps a

Coffee AT janes

Except for the janitor, who popped in now and then, to sigh audibly, rattle his keys, and give his broom a few ostentatious pushes, Reta and I were alone in the art gallery. This suited us beautifully. Reta and I are amateur (very amateur) artists. Alone in the gallery, we could discuss each picture at erudite length, impressing ourselves and each other with our technical vocabularies, and our knowledge, without the slightest danger of being overheard by anybody who knew what we were not talking about.

The exhibit was of portraits of Nova Scotians done by a London portrait painter during a visit here. She had used several different media, oil, chalk pastel, and oil pastel. Reta and I, who are mavericks in the world of amateur artists, we like to work in chalk pastels — examined the pastel portraits in minute detail, discussing the texture of the paper, knowingly assuring each other that "she lets the paper work for her," and congratulating ourselves on having the good sense to enjoy a medium which such a great lady so obviously liked. We did not mention, even to each other, that one of the major attractions of this medium for us is its undisputed cheapness.

In spite of our knowledgeable remarks it took us about twenty minutes of wandering among the pictures before we recognized the oil pastel portraits for what they were. We gazed in profound astonishment. We had spent as many days, in the superiority of our cleverness, assuring each other, and the instructor of the class where we, and about twenty other aspiring Rembrandts, with no more talent than we have "paint for pleasure," as well as anyone else who would listen, that oil pastels are fine for people who like crayons, that we were quite taken aback to find a professional artist working so sensitively and effectively with them.

Our discussions of family likenesses, whenever there were portraits of more than one member of a family, would have sent any self-respecting artist scurrying for a place to hide. That self-respecting artist, or the janitor, who probably knew a great deal more than we did, would have probably considered us worse than Philistines, had they overheard our long, psychoanalytic diagnoses of family relationships, and our character reading, of people we had never seen, based on our interpretation of the artist's interpretation of her subjects.

"He looks like a . . ." Reta giggled, examining the portrait of a very prominent Nova Scotian.

"His ears are . . ." I blurted, looking at the same portrait. "Lepruchaun," Reta finished, knowing I had the same thought. "Pointed," I said. We went into a fit of hysterical glee.

The evening had been successful. Knowing exactly what we had when we came in, but with our impressions of our own and each other's brilliance greatly reinforced, we smiled graciously at the janitor on our way out, as we thought befuddled ladies of culture.

The janitor grunted good evening, making a great show of looking at his watch, and began to vigorously sweep the room.

We didn't catch the exact words he muttered as we walked down the hall.

good stiff fine upon the owners for every day the property is allowed to exist in this deplorable state might bring results. (Kiwanis Bulletin)

Tips For Tots For Safety

Child Safety Day, on Sunday, May 2, will aim at reducing the injury and death of Canada's children. The one-day awareness campaign will be jointly sponsored by the Canadian Highway Safety Council and the National Safety Council and the National Safety League of Canada.

In this interest, the League and Council offer some tips for the tots:

Bike riders — slow down and look carefully before riding out of an alley or driveway.

Good manners are safe manners, riding a bike, or playing. Be considerate of others. Playing rough can hurt the rough player, and others, too.

Wait for the right time to cross the street. Jumping in front of cars is the sign of a show-off. Nobody likes show-offs. Watch for cars, not only on streets, but coming out of driveways, alleys or garages. A car being backed up can hide children from the driver.

Never leave it to the motorist to avoid a child. The child must always be alert and ready — and careful.

Blaming somebody else for an accident never makes a hurt feel better. Avoid the hurt in the first place by being sharp-eyed and careful.

Bicycle handlebars are for steering, not riding. Riding double — head for trouble.

Pick a safe place to play, away from traffic dangers. It's smart to be safe.

Keep Highways Clean

With the arrival of milder weather, Highways Minister Stephen T. Pyke has issued a special appeal to all Nova Scotians to assist in keeping the highways clean.

He said, "Nova Scotians are proud of their province and can assist substantially to maintain and enhance its natural beauty, by the simple practice of not 'litter bugging' on our highways."

"Over the past number of years, the drivers on our highways have shown substantial improvement in their 'house keeping' and I wish to both thank and congratulate them."

"However, we are most concerned with the practice of indiscriminate dumping of garbage along the sides of our highways which occurs at a number of locations throughout the province."

"This practice quickly turns an area into an eyesore; reduces property values; creates serious health problems; and becomes a dangerous fire hazard."

"A special drive is now underway to eliminate this practice. Offenders may be subject to a penalty plus the expense of removing the garbage and cleaning the area."

"It is honestly felt that if everyone realized the harm

Clare Civil Defence Plans Program

The Planning Committee of the Clare Civil Defence will hold its regular meetings on every second and fourth Wednesday of each month, stated Mr. Basil Belliveau of Belliveau's Cove, Civil Defence co-ordinator in Clare. The meetings will be held at the Church Point Social Club's committee room. The meetings will take place in the evenings of the dates mentioned.

The control committee is composed of: Gerard d'Entremont, Meteghan River; Bernard LeBlanc, Belliveau's Cove and Alphonse LeBlanc, Little Brook.

The Planning Committee is composed of the following: Dr. Louis Thibodeau, Church Point, Weymouth; Louis Thibault, Comeauville, Radiation monitoring; Frank Jubis, of Meteghan, communications; Bernard LeBlanc, Belliveau's Cove, policing; Public Information Officer, Albert P. Melanson, Church Point; Health, Dr. Robert Belliveau, Meteghan.

The Welfare division has five services as follows: Registration and Inquiry, Mrs. Lester Dugas, Grosses Coques, chairman; Mrs. Vincent Blinn, Belliveau's Cove, deputy; Emergency Feeding, John Melanson, chairman and Gustave Thibodeau, deputy, both of Church Point; Emergency housing, Antoine Deveau of Salmon River; emergency clothing, Mrs. Ina Belliveau, chairman of Belliveau's Cove and Mrs. Camille Blinn, St. Bernard, deputy.

Eight areas have groups trained in Home Nursing, with Salmon River, St. Alphonse and Maville, Meteghan, Saul, Meteghan, Church Point, Concession and St. Bernard each having such groups organized and the Havelock area is presently having a group participating in a home nursing course which will terminate shortly.

Goes To Ontario

Miss Shirley Ambrose, of Bloomfield, was pleasantly surprised on Saturday evening, April 24, when a large number of friends gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Allan Thomas, North Range, to extend to her their good wishes for future success in her new position. Shirley, who is presently on the staff of the Bank of Nova Scotia, Digby, is being transferred to the North Bay, Ont., branch. She will leave on Wednesday by train via the Princess of Acadia. She is a Grade XII Commercial graduate of D.R.H.S.

Following an evening of contests and games, a train case and other gifts were presented to the guest of honour by Mrs. Thomas, on behalf of her friends.

Just A Sonic Boom!

Along with others, Kenneth P. Harris, Digby, has questioned the tremendous bangs coming from the sky the past few weeks. He not only wanted to know the "what" of the big noise but also the "why", so he wrote to RCAF Station Greenwood. His reply from the Commanding Officer, Group Captain E. L. Baudoux, was as follows:

"Your enquiry concerning a recent sonic boom is acknowledged. As you may know, a sonic boom is caused by an aircraft exceeding the speed of sound. The intense speed builds up a shock wave which strikes the earth with much the same effect as a thunder clap. This sudden noise, under proper atmospheric conditions, can be very loud and disturbing."

It would first appear that military supersonic aircraft could readily be confined to uninhabited areas to eliminate disturbance of the civilian populace. Unfortunately, this procedure is not always possible. It is essential to the effective wartime utilization of these aircraft that their crews be adequately and realistically trained in peace-time. It is also essential, due to the world situation, that combat-ready aircraft perform interception missions against unknown aircraft. To do this, some supersonic flight is unavoidable although the utmost effort is directed at keeping such flights to an absolute minimum.

As long as the world situation remains as critical as it is today, all of us will be called upon to make various sacrifices in the interest of national defence. Tolerating the annoyance of the booms is one of the sacrifices, and while none of us like it, we must all realize that the inconvenience and possible expense is a small price to pay for national security.

In order that the utmost can be done to avoid similar occurrence in the future, your complaint has been passed to the proper authorities."

Letter to the Editor

To The Editor:
Monday at noon time my pup was run over the hind quarters by a truck in front of St. Patrick's school. The driver of the truck just glanced back at the dog and kept on going. He was left there squirming round in agony while a crowd of young school children looked on in amazement.

I know the dog should not have been on the road but it was impossible to keep him from following my son to school at noontime.

Two young children pulled the pup from the road to the ditch where he might have laid indefinitely had not the Sisters allowed my little boy to phone home.

I do not understand how a man could injure an animal and leave it to suffer without even trying to notify its owner.

Mrs. Edward Essex.

Leaders Needed, Scouts Told

J. Marcel Valotaire, manager of the Royal Bank of Canada at Meteghan, was guest speaker to the St. Francis Bay Scouts at Church Point at a supper held at St. Anne's College dining room.

He explained the aims and regulations of the Scout movement to the parents and young Scouts attending the supper. His Excellency Mgr. Albert Lemenager, Bishop of Yarmouth, was guest of honor.

His Excellency stated that leaders are required to keep the Scout movement alive and they need to be competent and active and have authority over the youth in his charge and natural ability, which is the key to success.

Another guest of note was Willie J. Belliveau, retired professor of St. Anne's College staff, of Belliveau's Cove. It was Mr. Belliveau who first organized Scouting in Church Point, but the movement died a natural death following a few years after his resignation as Scoutmaster. He served for four years as Scoutmaster at Church Point and also served as Commissioner of the district for the same period and was Provincial Counsellor for twelve years. Mr. Belliveau spoke briefly on Scouting and its history which was organized by Baden-Powell in 1908.

Following the supper, the entire group moved to the college auditorium where Rev. St. Laurent of St. Anne's presented colored slides which depicted various scenes of the Scouts on an expedition.

John O'Brien, St. Alphonse, and Russel Doucet, Cape St. Mary, received their second degree. Scouts who were accepted into the fold were: Richard Gaudet, Saulnierville; Irene Theriault, Amedee Theriault, Ronnie Saulnier, Vincent Theriault, all of Meteghan Station; Leo Thibodeau, of Church Point.

Officially nominated as captains of their troops: Andre Guay, of Champlain Commandos, and Lloyd LeBlanc, Clare Board Hears Of I.D.B.

Gordon Kenna, assistant organizer of the Industrial Development Bank, was guest speaker at the Clare Chamber of Commerce meeting held at Little Brook Court House. He spoke on the work accomplished by the Industrial Development Bank and the aid given by the bank to those who applied for assistance.

President Bernard LeBlanc gave a brief account of the delegation that visited Boston recently, sponsored by the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, at which Miss Carmella Comeau and Felix Comeau represented the Municipality of Clare, wearing the traditional costume. Mr. LeBlanc stated that the delegation was well received and given much publicity through the American press, television and radio and the trip was a huge success.

The Clare Board went on record of favoring a set of stairs from the provincial picnic park grounds at Meteghan to the beach at L'Anse aux Hirondelles (Swallow Cove) so older folk could descend to the beach and also reach the famous smuggler's cave that is a tourist attraction. Both the cave and the cave have proven interesting to visitors to these shores and the Clare Chamber of Commerce is promoting the attraction this year as one of their projects, along with an attractive Information Bureau near the park.

Gerard Lombard, of Corberie, proposed a resolution and the Board favored, that the section of highway between New Tusket and Richfield, a distance of approximately 7 miles, be improved.

J. Medrie Comeau, of the tourist committee, showed the Little Brook, of the Cartier Commandos.

Scoutmaster in charge was Yvon St. Onge, of St. Anne's, assisted by Paul Gaudreault, also of St. Anne's, Paul Emile Comeau, Meteghan, and Jean Comeau, St. Alphonse. Rev. St. Laurent, of St. Anne's is chaplain of the group.

Letter to the Editor

Washington County, Maine Chamber of Commerce, Inc. Jonesport, Maine 11 March 1965

Mrs. G. J. J. Edith M. Wallis, Editor,

The Digby Courier, Digby, Nova Scotia.

Dear Mrs. Wallis: Thank you for your letter and the courtesy copy of your paper which I received this morning. I have already read some of the news items and have been impressed by them, also the ads showing industrial development in your area.

I have been corresponding with Mr. Fritz Dakin of Digby regarding a ferry between Freeport, N. S. and Jonesport, Maine. It appears this would be a much shorter distance than that of the present ferry, and it is believed two trips in daylight hours in the summer months could be made between these two points.

I have already been assured of a site for the ferry landing in Jonesport which is one of the best in the area.

If this ferry project is realized it will cut the distance down considerably between the Maritime Provinces and the United States and will help increase the tourist business between these two countries.

Many of our men folk here have made this trip on lobster smacks and they all feel this should be a desirable course for the ferry and really the best route and the shortest, being about 58 miles between the two ports.

You may be sure we will do all possible to help establish

COMMUNITY PLANNING

signs of weakness in any organization or community is the feeling that all is well and there are no problems. He charged that we must recognize that we have problems and then set out to solve them.

Boards of Trade should take an active interest in our democratic system of government and what it means to us, the speaker said. The democratic process cannot survive, he argued, unless an interest is taken. If not the government gets into the hands of the wrong people.

A program of work is essential to any Board of Trade and should be written down (some long term and some short) and all the community should know what the program is. Every Board of Trade needs finances and an essential part of any Board is a Public Affairs Committee to deal with things on the provincial and national level.

At the noon hour luncheon Mr. Sheridan again addressed the workshop when he scored the attitude of non-involvement in his talk entitled "Who Cares Anyway?" Dealing with the goals set out by the Economic Council of Canada, the speaker said that we must involve ourselves and concern ourselves as businessmen and as citizens of Canada that any goals established must be compatible with preservation of personal freedom. If we are to attain this objective we must see to it that economic decisions are not based merely on political expediency. Our political situation is in a deplorable state, he said. The outlook is obscure and the electorate is confused. He continued that we as citizens cannot escape the burden of personal responsibility which falls on the shoulder of every good Canadian citizen by pushing it off on to the shoulders of the politician. We must play our parts, he said. We must become personally involved. By working together, by avoiding petty squabbles relating to ethnic origin or religion or color, the citizens of the country, with all the opportunities and advantages which Providence has given, can make this Canada a rich and noble heritage for those who follow.

A. T. Parks, Moncton, Maritime manager of C.C.C., spoke on taxes, particularly as they burdened private enterprise and as a concern to the people. Economic bankruptcy could result if we disregard or treat too lightly some facts of life about taxes and government spending, he said. Just because governments are providing more extensive services now than they did previously does not necessarily mean that the benefits received are in proportion to the increased tax required for their provision. Mr. Parkes continued. Nor does it mean, he said, that taxpayers can comfortably bear either the present weight of taxation or the increases that seem inevitable. It is a well known fact, the speaker said, that the tax load has reached the limits of safety, particularly on corporations and upper and middle income groups and as more money is required it would seem that the tax on lower income groups will have to be increased. The C.C.C. believes that by providing the incentive of a lower tax rate government revenues would increase by the resulting stimulation of economy.

Mr. Parkes said that any increase in government spending or expanded government services will increase the tax burden on the resources of the country. Some schedule of priorities should be established with regard to government spending, he said. It is necessary, he said, for every Canadian to examine all proposals of government requiring additional expenditure. Mr. Parkes stated, or the very resources which are vital to the production of wealth might be taxed beyond their capacity to produce.

Reviewing the accomplishments of the government, Mr. Robichaud said that the government had been able to reduce in only two years of office a deficit of three-quarters of a billion dollars into practically nothing.

The session was presided over by President (Dr.) Philip LeBlanc with Fred T. Armstrong, federal member for

A Memorial Amateur Radio Station For Kentville San.

The Nova Scotia Amateur Radio Association has undertaken the project of establishing a memorial in the form of an Amateur Radio Station to the memory of Flight Lieutenant Carl Sorge, who lost his life, while on duty, in the recent tragic loss of an Argus Aircraft off San Juan. Carl Sorge, at the time of his death, was President of the Nova Scotia Amateur Radio Association. He originated the idea of setting up an amateur station at the Nova Scotia Sanatorium at Kentville, N. S., to enable the patients to contact their loved ones, living in various parts of the Maritime. This project will be set up as the "Carl Sorge Memorial Amateur Radio Station" to perpetuate his ideals and the memory of one who was always thinking of others.

A Carl Sorge Memorial Fund has been set up through Box 821, Greenwood, N. S., with a goal of $600.00 to completely furnish the Amateur Radio Station. Courses at the Sanatorium to be conducted by volunteers from the Greenwood Amateur Radio Club. To date, two hundred dollars has been contributed by various groups and individuals in the Annapolis Valley Area and it was felt that this very worthwhile action should be made known to the public in order that others wishing to participate may do so.

The Nova Scotia Amateur Radio Association will sponsor different projects to raise the necessary funds to meet the goal over the amount donated, and will arrange for insurance, licenses, equipment maintenance, repairs, installation, and also ensure that qualified supervision is available. Mr.

Shelburne - Yarmouth - Clare, introducing the guest speaker, Mr. Armstrong said that more federal money had been brought into the constituency during the past year than in any year since the year the former Liberal government established the MV Bluenose Ferry run between Yarmouth and Bar Harbor. He said that among the many federal undertakings was a million dollar contract now underway at the Yarmouth airport with another million dollars to be spent in further expansion and improvement.

CAPTAIN PASSES

spent the summer months at his cottage overlooking Pettibon Passage. He had the reputation of being the first summer visitor to arrive in Tiverton each year and the last to leave in the fall.

He is survived by a son, Alan Prime, of Medford, Mass., four grandchildren; a stepson, William Pike, Reading, Mass.; a stepdaughter, Mrs. Richard Graham, of Melrose, Mass. His wife, the former Ruby Bent, of Digby, died in 1961.

He was a member of the Masonic Lodge of Franklin, Mass., and the First Baptist Church of Medford. He made his home in Medford for 36 years.

His body rested at Jayne's Funeral Home in Digby from late Sunday until the funeral service at Trinity Anglican Church in Digby at 11 o'clock Monday morning. Rev. James Pike officiated and interment was in Forest Hill cemetery, Digby, beside the body of his wife.

Tribute by Mrs. John P. Outhouse, Tiverton

Residents of Tiverton and surrounding area were shocked and saddened to learn of the sudden passing of retired deep sea captain, Fred Prime, which occurred at his home at Medford, U.S.A.

On Monday, Tiverton residents who were unable to attend funeral services held at Digby, paid silent tribute to the late Captain Prime, the man they claimed as their own.

Though Captain Prime was a native of U.S.A., he got his first "taste" of sea life off the coasts of Nova Scotia at the early age of 11. From that time, his love for the sea took him, as third mate, then second mate, first mate and finally as Captain from Canadian waters to American waters and the waters off the exotic coasts of the Far East.

But always at every opportunity Captain Prime returned to the Island where he built a summer cottage overlooking Pettibon Passage where many friends welcomed his arrival in early Spring.

Here, with the restless waters of the Bay of Fundy creating a background, Captain Prime held many of his listeners spellbound as he recalled his experiences encountered as deep sea captain.

Now, with all his labours behind him, Captain Prime will rest not far from the roll and roar of the sea he loved so well. Left are nostalgic memories of a great man whose dynamic personality won him many friends who are mourning his passing. One youngster, with tears glistening in his eyes, said, "I will not have any more talks with Mr. Prime."

Sincere sympathy is extended to his son, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Prime and their children, of Medford, Mass., and other members of the family. Mr.

Grass Fires

Digby volunteer firemen were called out twice Monday afternoon to assist in fighting grass fires within the town.

Both fires, one at the Racquette near the railway tracks, and the other in the south end of town, near Brad Amiraull's store, caused a considerable amount of anxiety for a while.

direction of Mr. McLean, Rev. C. Barkhouse and Rev. Max Spencer. Following the discussion, a secretary from each group presented the findings of their respective groups.

A singspiration period was conducted by Rev. L. Atkinson, and a Bible Quiz was led by Rev. R. R. Winchester.

Following a brief break, the group met in the church hall for the film "That They May Be One." Rev. J. B. Wilson, of Truro and Saint John, Field Secretary of the Board of Christian Education of the Atlantic United Baptist Convention, then outlined for the young people some of the work of the Atlantic United Baptist Young Peoples' Convention. He urged the young people to attend the Convention in Wolfville this summer if at all possible, where they would meet with other BYF members from all parts of the Maritimes. A panel discussion on the topic "What Do Young People Fear?" was conducted by Rev. H. S. Hartlin, assisted by Carol Young, Velva Franklin, David Milner and David Banks.

A recreational period was conducted by Rev. Victor Messereau, of Little River, after which the young people enjoyed their own box lunch suppers in the church hall.

At seven p.m. the Rally convened in the church auditorium, for the evening service. The devotional was conducted by Miss Dancien Atkinson and Miss Mary Lou Parker, with Mrs. Jean Olsen as organist. Special music was provided by Miss Carolyn Hendsbee, who played a violin solo, Largo, and by the Dukeshire sisters, of Bear River, who sang "Precious Hiding Place" and "Near to the Heart of God."

During this service the secretary announced the new officers for the coming year. They are as follows: president, Carol Young; vice-pres, Greg Dondale; secretary, Linda Cromwell; treasurer, Marsh Cleveland; counsellor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, all of Digby.

Speaker for the service was Rev. Mr. Wilson, who spoke on the topic "What are you going to do with your life?" The Rally closed with benediction by Rev. H. S. Hartlin and Mrs. Prime and family came East to Tiverton, where they remained until Monday to attend the funeral services of the late Captain Prime, which were held at Digby.

Phyllis M. Roop Chosen As School Nurse

the School Music News, Buffalo, N. Y.)

In this year, as in 1961, Phyllis M. Roop, R.N., M.A., District Health Nurse, Lake Shore Central, Angola, New York, has been chosen to be the Health Nurse for the IA All-State organization at the Buffalo Eastern MENC-NYSSMA Convention.

In addition to her regular school work, Miss Roop is active in many phases of education as assistant of the Supervisors of School Nurse Teachers of Western New York; member of the United Fund of Lake Shore Central; Chairman of the Gas Seal campaign for N. Y.; Chairman of the Aviation Army for the Evans; Instructor for the Civil Defense; Faculty Advisor for the Future Nurses Club at the University of two publications; "Nursing Outlook"; Past President of the Nurse Teachers' Association, Western Zone; and in offices in the State Nurse Teachers' Association.

Roop's connection with music groups goes back years. It was in 1950 that she was chosen as the Erie County Music Association's representative at the program of an all-county concert at the Erie County Music Hall in Buffalo for the final rehearsal. Roop, who was attending a music teacher friend, Margaret Fiske of Frontenac, recognized the need for an official nurse such a large number of people were involved. So she volunteered.

"I have not been a concert goer since that time," said Roop. "I have seen my white coat so often and I will recognize me in it."

Roop is a daughter of Mr. J. Roop and the late Mrs. J. Roop, of Digby.

Digby Jail Conditions Good

The May session of the Municipal Council opened Monday, April 3, with Deputy Warden Clyde Cosman in the chair in the absence of the Warden, Ronald Morehouse, who is receiving treatment in the Victoria General Hospital.

After prayer by Councillor Eugene Outhouse, correspondence was read by the Clerk, Roscoe Handspiker.

Alex Campbell, Inspector of Penal Institutes of Nova Scotia, after an inspection of Digby Jail, stated the property was well kept and of the highest order of cleanliness.

Stricter enforcement of existing laws regarding burning of grass and rubbish was urged by Councillor Gott, who considered the situation, at certain times of the year, to be dangerous.

It was decided to enquire, from the Department of Motor Vehicle Registration, about plans regarding regional offices to facilitate processing of permits.

Protests from different parts of the municipality about mail deliveries were voiced. It was decided to contact, personally, drivers concerned in an effort to arrive at an improvement in delivery times.

John Nichols addressed council about the proposed dump site on the Shelburne Road. Mr. Nichols brought a petition signed by 100 residents, urging that permission not be given to dump rubbish on the proposed site. The petitioners were concerned because of the danger of fire, rats, rubbish finding its way into Acacia Valley brook, and appearance.

Bushes and trees on the municipal property in the rear of the Court House and Jail, it is said, are becoming an unsightly danger. Permission was given the School Board to clear the property of same. Also a clarification of the deeds and property lines between the Court House and King Street is to be sought.

A report was brought in by the committee set up to deal with the building of additional school facilities at Freeport. It was decided to add four rooms to the present building rather than build another school. The District Inspector and the School Board are to be consulted before tenders are called.

The Municipal Home property, Marshalltown, which is assessed for $25,000, came in for considerable discussion. Tenders have been called for its sale but no answers have been forthcoming. It was decided to call for tenders again. It is understood the percentage of ownership between the town and the municipality is 23% town of Digby, 77% municipality. These percentages are based on the average yearly arbitrated sharing of costs since the incorporation of the town of Digby.

Mayor To Seek Land Prices

At their May meeting, held Monday evening, Digby Town Council decided to have Mayor C. D. Snow visit persons who own property on First Avenue between the Fire Hall and the Town Office in an effort to reach an agreement on the purchase price of certain portions of land in that area. The town finds it necessary to own said land for the purpose of street widening and the expansion of parking facilities.

A letter was read from the Council of the Town of Annapolis Royal giving assurance of their support in efforts to have ferry service between Digby and Saint John maintained and improved wharf facilities if this is necessary to this effort.

Representatives of Crown and Metropolitan Life Assurance companies addressed the Council regarding a sickness and accident policy for the Town staff. Another policy was submitted by J. J. Brittain Ltd. A decision by the town will be made at a later date.

PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

Urges Police Protection For Islands

Councillor Victor Finigan, Freeport, urged the Municipal Council at its May session in Digby this week to seek protection of an RCMP service stationed permanently at some central point on Long and Briar Islands. He suggested that application be made to the Attorney General's Department for such protection. Complaints, he said have been heard regarding reckless drivers, drunks, juvenile delinquency, noise until early hours of the morning, hooting and drag races on the islands.

Councillor Finigan reported that as soon as the RCMP sets foot on the islands all the residents know about it. The population of the islands is 1500.

It is expected a formal resolution will go before the council before the session terminates.

Urges Acadians Help College "Forge Ahead"

A former president of St. Ann's College said in Church Point Sunday night that immediate solutions "for the future of the college" are necessary. Rev. Edward Boudreau, Quebec, Provincial Superior of the Eudist Order of Canada, was addressing a banquet in conjunction with the college's 75th anniversary celebrations.

Honorary degrees were conferred Sunday night on His Excellency Msgr. James Hayes, Auxiliary Bishop of Halifax; Msgr. H. J. Somers, executive director of the Atlantic Universities Association, Antigonish; Judge Albert Pichette, Edmundston, N. B.; and J. A. Comeau, Meteghan River, inpector of schools for Clare Argyle.

Rev. Father Boudreau asked more than 300 banquet guests "do the Acadian people want a private institution of learning?" If the answer is negative, there is no need for the other two questions. The other two questions, he said, were do the Acadians of Nova Scotia need a cultural centre, and who will assure the Acadians in Nova Scotia of their rights?

Rev. Father Boudreau said "friends from other provinces" would assure the Acadians of their rights. Among the friends was the Eudist Order, which he said is working to improve "the best situation" at Church Point.

He said Nova Scotia's Acadians should use all methods at their disposal to enable the fulfilment of a project to help the college "forge ahead, and keep up with other universities."

Solemn high mass in St. Mary's Church was celebrated Sunday morning by His Excellency, Msgr. Patrick Skinner, Bishop of St. John's, Nfld. The sermon was given by Msgr. N. A. Labrie, of Quebec.

A band concert was held Saturday night, with special guest singer Gloria Richard, of Moncton.

State Deputy Visits Council

On Sunday, April 25, State Deputy Gillis, Cape Breton, made an official visit to the newly formed Digby Council of Knights of Columbus. The council takes in the territory from Annapolis Royal to the Church Point parish.

Chief feature of the afternoon was the exemplification of the first degree, after which a Chinese luncheon was served at Cornwallis Cafe when State Deputy Gillis was guest speaker. He congratulated the men in forming the council and spoke of the Knights as the world organization. He gave a resume of the Knights' undertakings such as the scholarship funds, the Catholic Information Service. The latter is a service to all who ask for the furtherance of the ecumenical relation between all men.

Rescued From Icy Waters

Two 14-year-old Shelburne boys had a narrow escape from drowning Tuesday afternoon when their 18-foot sailboat capsized in Shelburne Harbour about 2 miles from shore.

Peter Rogers, son of Dr. and Mrs. T. L. Rogers, and Jerry Fleming, son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Fleming, were pulled from the icy water by 4 crew members of the fisheries patrol vessel Cygnus, at anchor in the harbor at the time.

The boys clung to their overturned sailboat for a half-hour before being rescued.

Parking Meters Up $261.08

Digby Town Police reported at the May council session, held Monday, that a total of twenty complaints were registered during April, eight of which required field investigation. All complaints except two have been terminated to the satisfaction of those concerned. As a result of the police investigation nine cases warranted court action, and all have been disposed of before the court except two, which are pending court action. Three cases were under the criminal code and six under the Nova Scotia Liquor Act.

Two motor vehicle accidents were investigated in April. One person was charged with impaired driving. Fines collected amounted to $232.00. Police car patrol during the month was 971 miles.

So far this year parking meters within the town show an increase of $261.08 over the first four months of 1964. Receipts for 1965 show $1,829.06, compared with $1,567.98 for the same period of 1964.

Club Embarks On Projects

The Community Club, Head of St. Mary's Bay, in Marshalltown, has recently embarked on several worthwhile projects. A teenagers' Red Cross home nursing course is being conducted; a piano has been secured for the hall and a beginning made on a community library. Plans are also being formulated for a recreational and educational vacation project for the young people of the area, during the coming summer.

Organized somewhat over a year ago, the Community Club, Head of St. Mary's Bay, meets regularly every two weeks in St. Theresa's Hall in Marshalltown. President of the club is Mrs. Jesse Doucette; secretary is Mrs. Kenneth Ryan and treasurer is Mrs. Paul Dexter.

Membership in the organization is open to all residents of the area and the objectives of the club are concerned with the promotion of community improvement through group and individual study and action.

Last year the club sponsored a successful Red Cross home nursing course. Nineteen women graduated from the course and received Red Cross and Civil Defence certificates. At present nine teenagers are taking a special Red Cross teenagers' home nursing course. Graduation exercises for this course will be held on May 12th.

At a recent meeting the club had as guest speaker Miss Janet Walker, home economist for the department of agriculture. In her address Miss Walker dealt at length with rural development and the role played by organizations and individuals in such development. She outlined the organization of The Women's Institute and explained how this organization linked the local community to an international body. She also explained the structure and organization of 4-H Clubs and the role that such an organization as 4-H can play at the community level.

Evacuated During Crisis

By the time you read this, Stanley Bacon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hurtle, Deep Brook, will no doubt be home, having been safely evacuated with his wife and two small children from Santo Domingo.

Last Wednesday Mrs. Hurtle had word from her son that they were safe. Since then no word had come until Sunday evening, after several days of anxious waiting as developments in Santo Domingo grew worse, word came that Stanley, his wife and two children had been safely evacuated by Americans and were on their way home.

Mr. Bacon has been in Santo Domingo five years, employed with the Bank of Nova Scotia as assistant accountant.

His wife, the former Wanita Campbell, of Florenceville, N. B., flew to Santo Domingo to be married. Since then they have been home twice on vacation.

Eugene Walker, Bridgetown, and a Mr. Shepherd, from Granville, are also employees of the Bank of Nova Scotia there, and are supposedly on their way home.

$1,000 For New Hospital

A cheque for $1,000 was presented to F. C. Purdy, chairman of the Digby General Hospital Board, by Capt. J. M. Paul, officer commanding HMCS Cornwallis, Tuesday morning.

The cheque, a gift from HMCS Cornwallis charities fund, will maintain the solarium in the new hospital.

Ministerial Association Meets

At a recent meeting of the Digby Ministerial Association the attention of the ministers present was given to the distribution of the cards that were used in the recent religious survey of the town.

All cards indicating the denominational preference of the persons who were called on were carefully screened and then passed on to the ministers of churches representing these denominations.

While the pastors have not yet had time to carefully appraise and assess the results of the survey, casual scrutiny has revealed some interesting information that will be of practical value. This information may be passed on by ministers to their respective churches in accordance with their judgement.

One of the most helpful aspects of the survey was that it gave the churches a more adequate picture of the youth potential of the area. Also, in some cases, it indicated a desire for church affiliation by a number of people. It indicated the homes and the people in the community for whom the Protestant churches are expected to give spiritual oversight and guidance. The cards will provide the most adequate and thorough file of information that has yet come to hand and will be of value for a long time to come.

Nine Received Into Church

At the worship service in the Baptist Church of Digby last Sunday morning, nine candidates for church membership were received into the fellowship of the church, the welcome being given by the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin.

At a meeting of the Women's Missionary Society held last week, an affiliation service with the C.G.I.T. took place. Mrs. Hugh Vincent had charge of the meeting, which was well attended.

Family Day services in the churches of both Digby and Hill Grove will be held next Sunday with a specially prepared program.

Members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship of Digby held a meeting last Sunday evening. Discussion was given to the topic: "Are Young People Afraid To Face Up To Life Today?"

Red Shield Objective $2,000

On Saturday, The Salvation Army's annual Red Shield Appeal got under way according to Captain F. Paul Murray, officer in charge of Digby Army operations.

The objective of $2,000 is the amount needed to assure maintenance of Salvation Army services for another twelve-month period.

Citizens of Digby and the surrounding area have always responded to the call of the Red Shield, said Charles Hall, campaign chairman. This year's Campaign provides a unique opportunity for all to give generously as a token of appreciation of The Army's varied and necessary ministry as it celebrates its 100th birthday.

Mr. H. B. Warren, manager of the Digby branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, is the campaign treasurer.

Word From Ottawa Re Petit Passage

The following is a letter to John R. Nichols, Digby, dated Ottawa 8, April 27, 1965.

Re: Petit Passage, N. S. Harbour Bridge-Causeway Complex.

The Minister has asked me to acknowledge your letter of March 26, 1965, enclosing a letter signed by fishermen and fish dealers of Digby Neck and Islands and a copy of a brief proposing a harbour bridge-causeway complex at Petit Passage.

The Provincial Government is studying the feasibility of constructing a causeway-bridge at Petit Passage. Our officials are following this study insofar as it could have a bearing on the development of a harbour at this, or perhaps other possible locations in the Digby Neck area. The possible harbour aspect would seem to be the limit of federal responsibility in the causeway project.

It is felt that a meeting at this time would be premature. The Province's decision regarding the feasibility of constructing a new highway link at Petit Passage would have considerable bearing on both the need for, and location of, possible new harbour works in the area.

Until the Province's plans are established there would appear little to be gained in a meeting as suggested. We will, however, keep this under review and will write you again when sufficient information is available to determine the extent of this department's interests.

Yours sincerely,
H. A. Langlois,
Special Assistant.

Teenagers' Retreat

During the Easter holidays eighty-three teenage youths participated in a closed retreat at the Digby Fish and Game Association Lodge at Haines Lake. The retreat was sponsored by St. Patrick's Parish, Digby, N. S.

Director of the retreat was Father James Mason, CSR, a Sydney native now working in Brockville, Ont. The keynote of the retreat was "Growing up spiritually as you mature physically." The talks included subjects like personal relationships, the Mass, prayer, chastity, states of life. The time was also taken up with discussions question and answer periods, personal interviews, periods of reading and reflection in silence, and periods of recreation. This latter included a "Home-made" variety show, volleyball, sing-out, etc.

Each retreat was two days in duration, the girls' retreat lasting from Monday to Wednesday, the boys' retreat from Wednesday to Friday. There were 44 girls and 39 boys, mostly from Digby and surrounding areas, although there were some young people from other parishes. These included 11 from Kentville, 7 from Berwick, 4 from Annapolis; one from Liverpool and Arradale. All concerned found the retreat both informative and entertaining.

Members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship of Digby held a meeting last Sunday evening. Discussion was given to the topic: "Are Young People Afraid To Face Up To Life Today?"

Pine Hill Honors Five

At the spring convocation of the United Church of Canada theological college, Pine Hill, Halifax, five degrees of Divinity were conferred. Among those receiving honorary degrees are Rev. J. Milton Fraser, Halifax; Rev. J. R. Millar, Ottawa; Rev. F. J. Jefferson Neal, St. Martin, N. B.; and Rev. M. A. MacMillan, Halifax.

Rev. Mr. MacMillan is United Church hospital chaplain in Halifax, and a native of Cape Breton.

A daughter of Rev. and Mrs. MacMillan lives in Digby. She is Mrs. William Marshall, who with Mr. Marshall and two sons, live on King Street.

The entire corridor on Route No. 1 has been covered by aerial mapping. Route location studies are being carried out with a view to improvements to the following section: Annapolis Royal to Upper Clements; Clements to Deep Brook; Deep Brook to Joggins Bridge; Weymouth north towards Bellevue Cove, highway minister Stephen Pyke told the Kentville Board of Trade on Tuesday.

Mr. Pyke said work on these sections will involve replacement of inadequate major bridges such as the Allan Creek Bridge at Annapolis Royal; the Clements Bridge and the Victoria Bridge at Bear River, at a cost of approximately $8,500,000. The most important of these will be the replacement of the Victoria Bridge by a bridge or causeway.

Speaking about a requested all-weather standard highway, Mr. Pyke said that the government was standing pat on its plans for improvement to Highway No. 1, from Halifax to Yarmouth, but if increased trade and population warrants it "more drastic planning of direct routes to Valley centres from Halifax may be considered." The Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade and other groups have been pressing for an all-weather trunk highway from Halifax to Yarmouth.

To bring Highway 1 to an all-weather standard, that is, a road of sufficient strength to permit allowable summer weights to be carried through the spring break-up period, the cost was estimated at $33,000,000.

"It would appear that with hoped-for continued aid from the federal government along the lines of recent contributions, the government could accomplish this work by 1972," the minister said.

Besides other major improvements to Highway No. 1, announced at the Trade Board meet, the minister said a two-year repaving contract is also being called this year for 38 miles of repaving from Weymouth to a point 4 miles west of the Yarmouth County line. Mr. Pyke said it would appear that by 1967-68, improvements to Trunk No. 1, as originally committed in 1959 under the $30,000,000 program for improvement to Trunks Number 1 and 3, will be realized in the Valley route.

N. S. Fishermen Go Over Top

For the first time in history Nova Scotia fishermen landed over half a billion pounds of fish last year and as well their catch equalled the combined value of the other three Atlantic Provinces.

The landed value of the fish topped $41,000,000, and expectations are that this figure will go to $45,000,000 in the current year.

The landing in Nova Scotia for 1964 totalled 517,800,000 pounds, though if oils and seaweeds are included the total yield from the sea reaches 557,920,000 pounds and is over $42,000,000 in value.

The landed value of fish is usually taken to be just under half their market value.

About This and That

Encouraging Words

We noted a letter in the Voice of the People, Chronicle-Herald, from A. C. Denton, Little River, which sounded a most optimistic note regarding the Saint John-Digby ferry service. It was good, and a welcome release from tension, to hear someone native with a brighter outlook on the situation. Mr. Denton's view of the whole matter is that the CPR officials know that the trailer-truck is displacing the freight cars with a less costly but better service. He believes that the CPR officials have such a service in mind for Saint John-Digby and that a pier for the M.V. Princess of Acadia would be useless in a shorter time than 10 years.

Three cheers for you, Mr. Denton! Keep up the good work and infuse some of that optimism in more of the confused populace of the area. It is needed. Of course, we know of something which might do more to rejuvenate the people's sinking spirits. That is, if the C.P.R. would just come out boldly and tell us that these really and truly are their plans. Then we'd all certainly take a new lease on life. The economic future of this area would look up, we know, even though we might have to wait a while for plans to materialize.

And by the way, speaking of the future and all that, we mentioned last week in this column about a couple in the U.S.A. who subscribed to the Courier to help them locate a certain type of business which they were interested in buying. They had cancelled their subscription even before the editorial appeared. We are curious to know whether they located a place or if the Digby transportation problems loomed too big a future obstacle to encounter. Anyway, we made sure the couple received the Courier last week with the optimistic headlines: "Nowlan Says New Wharf Not Cancelled." We'll also send them a copy this week with these "Encouraging Words." After all, a newspaper can only print the news as it happens, whether good or bad. Comments. Well, we have to stick to our own viewpoint as we see it (not as we think someone else should see it) and present it in such a way as we feel would do the most good.

And we must not for a minute think we can write news on nothing but hearsay. We must have facts. For instance, we heard "rumors" that the CPR wharf in Digby is considered by some sources to be in good shape. Until now we've been hearing what a terrible condition it is in. We've seen it referred to as "the rickety old pier at Digby" and "the old pier at Digby is certainly a major flaw in the service." Local men have been vocal in its condemnation. Our optimism, we are sorry to say, was not raised one bit by the story about the wharf being in such good condition. Mind you, we are not vouching for that story as "news" at the time of writing this editorial. It does go to show, though, that stories, even about the Digby wharf, can be terribly conflicting.

So for once and for all, wouldn't we feel better to have something definite on the dotted line. There is one thing sure, we can't look for any improved service until there is a new wharf in Digby (and maybe Saint John, too) to accommodate the improved service. What good news it will make when we hear that as an accomplished fact.

Still Press For Second Ferry Here

Once in a while we used to get the feeling that we might be working at cross purposes by working on two ferry prospects at once. That is, the Saint John-Digby project and also the Petite Passage Causeway-Harbour complex and suggested ferry from some Neck or Islands point to New England. We've changed our minds on this score. We are convinced that one would definitely complement the other. How about it?

Pays To Advertise

Occasionally an error or omission in our newspaper will result in finding out how much the newspaper is appreciated or valued. We invariably learn that "Coffee at janes" is missed, should it be omitted any week. Week before last we came out without an editorial. We found people missed the editorial page enough to telephone.

But better than any, we found out that it pays to advertise. We were told that an omitted advertisement surely showed on the lack of attendance at a certain function? We deeply regretted the omission for it was definitely our error. There was only one thing made us feel better. We always knew "It Pays To Advertise." Now we know we are not the only ones who believe so.

Teach And Teach Child Safety

Sunday was known nation-wide as Child Safety Day. Actually the day is focused more on the parent than the child for it is the parent who must teach the child safety. Without being discouraged he must teach and keep on teaching on this subject.

Why this teaching process go on? Because children are so very spontaneous in their actions. They are so very unpredictable. Each situation to a child is so different. You might tell a three year old he is not to go out of his yard onto the street by his home. He probably obeys. But who is to say that if he suddenly notices his sister or brother across the busy down-town street that he won't dash like a streak of lightning across that street. And who is to blame? Certainly not the child. Probably not the parent. Just the child's instantaneous reaction to impulse. This was an entirely new situation. Each new environment brings on new teaching and all the parent can do is to be prepared as much as possible for each new adventure of the child.

Last week we saw a child, about 3 years, dash out from the Post Office in Digby. He crossed the street in front of one car going West and another going East. Fortunately all went well. We have no doubt but that the child had been warned about crossing streets but this was probably something different. An accident would probably have been neither the fault of the child, the parent or a driver. Just a child's sudden reaction to impulse. We must teach and keep on teaching the child by example and by word and teach and keep on teaching grown-ups to be on the lookout for children's impulsiveness and drive safely.

The calendar keeps insisting that Spring has been around for over a month now, but this information has been kept a closely guarded secret from those traditional harbingers, the birds, bees, and flowers. Maybe Spring has been afraid to go out of doors in this vile weather. Our April showers this year were more like April fog, drizzle and snow.

But Easter is over, and Spring, although she has so far been frightened off by the chilly remnant of winter outside, is beginning to creep into the house. The robins may have failed to get the message, but every woman in the land is feeling the effects.

Everybody knows where a young man's fancy is supposed to lightly turn after the vernal equinox, but it is the magazine editors and the soap advertisers, not the poets, who sing about where the thoughts of women, from young on up, turn in Spring. Perhaps it is the pure, clean, light-heartedness of the Easter flowers, which our husbands, prompted, we hope, by those thoughts of love, brought home, which sets us to trying to imitate the purity and cleanliness. Anyway, even the most stoic and resolute of non-believers among us cannot resist the Spring cleaning cult when April and the soap ads finally wear us down.

The living room in this house is now done. In fact, it has been rearranged twice in the past month. It took three mornings, a great deal of hard work, and two bottles of rug shampoo, at $2.50 per, to get the carpet clean, but that was less than half the price of having it done by a professional cleaner. The curtains are freshly washed and ironed, the furniture waxed and the windows cleaned. The walls have been washed down with ammonia and water. Even the light fixtures have been taken down and washed. To fittingly crown all this, we have at last purchased the new coffee table we have been talking about for so long.

For every women's magazine which preaches to the believers in Spring cleaning, another preaches the doctrine of anti-Spring cleaning. This doctrine says that the Spring cleaning ritual is old fashioned and time wasting, and that, if we keep our houses good and clean all year, it is absolutely unnecessary. The doctrine has merit, but, like those old fashioned cake mixes, to which we were instructed to just add water and mix, it probably won't catch on. Most of us are just puritanical enough to feel that there is a certain inherent virtue in work for work's sake. A cake that is made with our just adding water does not seem to require enough effort to prove to ourselves that we really love our families. We may recognize the one dish convenience of mixes, but we prefer the kind to which we add milk and eggs. We could thoroughly clean one room a week, by which method we could have the whole house "Spring cleaned" every four, six, or ten weeks, depending on the number of rooms.

But if we did this we would miss that annual purging of our houses, and our souls, which comes with the complete turning out of every room once a year.

There are those among us who subscribe to neither of (or both of) the schools of thought on housecleaning. We are those who start out enthusiastically enough on the annual purge, but, in the middle of cleaning the third room, we suddenly discover it is July, and the smell of salt water and sand is much more inviting than the smell of ammonia and carpet shampoo. Sometimes, around October, we make a half-hearted attempt to do something called "fall cleaning," but somehow Christmas always interferes with this.

Oh well, there is always next year. For this Spring, let's see... another bottle of shampoo should do the dining room rug; the buffet will have to be cleaned out, and the linen re-ironed. The finger prints will have to be washed off the walls, the floors scrubbed and waxed, and the furniture waxed.

How far into May should that get us?

ing the child by example and by word and teach and keep on teaching grown-ups to be on the lookout for children's impulsiveness and drive safely.

Traffic accidents are probably the most hazardous where children are concerned but there are other areas for teaching accident prevention. Protect the child from drowning, fire, falls, sharp instruments and toys, poisons, electric shocks, etc.

Make No Distinction

We have Mental Health Week coming up. Emphasis, we believe, is on prevention of mental illness. This is good. The same goes for mental illness as for physical illness if you want to use an old phrase "an ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure." Indeed, to be mentally ill is no different than to be physically ill. Intelligent people, we are happy to say, cast no stigma on mental illness and in most places stigma is rapidly vanishing. Today the trend is to further blot out any distinction between psychiatric patients and other patients by having them hospitalized in the same building. Nothing could be better, we think.

To prevent mental illness it might be well to know some of its causes. Some things which we have read recently which cause mental breakdowns are —

1. Harmful experiences in childhood;
2. Environment — tension, worry;
3. Something chemical goes amiss with the person affects him mentally.

The last cause in itself would indicate that no distinction should be made in mental and physical illnesses.

Be A Good Hospital Visitor

The new Digby General Hospital is now in use. Patients were transferred from the old building about two weeks ago. Visiting hours in the new building have been announced, and we note the hours provide a much wider range of visiting time than previously. This, no doubt, results from the uncrowded conditions and should be considered a privilege. However, it should not be a privilege which is

After we paint the car, we paint the paint.

And before we do either to a Volkswagen, we bathe it. We bathe it in steam, we bathe it in alkali, we bathe it in phosphate. Then we bathe it in a neutralizing solution. If it got any cleaner, there wouldn't be much left to paint. Then we dunk the whole thing into a vat of slate gray primer until every square inch of metal is covered. Inside and out. After the dunking, we bake it and sand it by hand. Then we paint it. This time the VW puts the paint on itself. The car is electrically charged to attract paint. Molecule by molecule.

You can't even see the paint going on. It just seems to grow on the car. Thick and even. After another baking, we wet-sand the finish. By hand. And another coat of paint is put on. Then we bake again. And sand again. And add another coat of paint. The fourth. Of course, every step we take in making a Volkswagen involves the same attention to detail. And there are 5,320 inspectors along our production line to keep us from getting rusty.

Plan Minor Hockey League Banquet

Wayne Maxner, the hockey talented native of Halifax and presently a regular forward with the Boston Bruins Hockey Club, will be the guest speaker at the Digby Minor Hockey League's Annual Banquet.

Mr. Maxner will speak to the boys on how a Nova Scotian makes his way into the National Hockey League and will present the trophies and awards to the winning teams and outstanding players.

The Digby Minor Hockey League Banquet has been for years the town's sporting highlight and Mr. Maxner follows such famous sportsmen as Forbes Kennedy, Major F. Kelly, Rocket Richard, Allister McNeill, Danny Gallowan and George Warden as the guest of honour.

The banquet will be held in the Digby Regional High School auditorium on May 22 and will begin at 6 p.m.

Digby Team Takes Trophy

The Western Valley Dart League, made up of teams from Annapolis Royal (2), Digby (1), Clementsport (3), and Bridgetown (2) brought the season to a close with a banquet and dance at the Annapolis Royal Community Centre recently.

The Digby team, consisting of Aubrey Chisholm, Tom Cleveland, Bill Jelleau, Joe Martin, Dick Vidito, Arnold Doucette, Stan Perry, Bernie O'Neil, Lloyd Hicks and Jerry Campbell, were successful in capturing the Mooshead Trophy, emblematic of the league championship.

Digby Branch, No. 20, Royal Canadian Legion, will be hosts to the Legion Provincial Dart Tournament on Saturday, May 22nd, at their hall, Shore Road. The Ladies' Auxiliary of the host branch will serve an afternoon tea and buffet supper on that date.

Some fourteen teams from the province will be competing in the tournament, which will be brought to a close with a dance in the evening.

Volleyball —

The finals have begun in inter-house volleyball. For this week, the boys have been playing their games for each section of the houses. The girls will decide the winner of their respective houses the following week.

Monday saw a three game set between the Senior Micmacs and Highlanders. Three sets of 8 minutes or game points were played. The Micmacs won the first game, but the Highlanders snapped back to capture the next two.

Intermediates will play on Tuesday and Juniors on Thursday.

Track & Field —

Little has been said about track and field as yet. Many students have shown a great deal of interest, but the immediate problem seems to be in getting a coach to take charge of the sport.

Practices should have started directly after Easter vacation, to enable students to train properly. However, the enthusiasm is still high.

The track and field meets are usually held in Bridgetown, where facilities are available. Consequently, Bridgetown takes the majority of events at the meet. Digby has always had a place in the sport, but if nothing continues to be done, it looks as if Digby athletic representation is going to suffer another blow.

 Rest in peace, your labour's ended.
 Never more will grief or pain
 Bow your head or cause you headache.
 You are safe where God dwells Rejoice.

THERIAULT — In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Edgar J. Theriault, who passed away May 9, 1960.
 There is no parting from those we love.
 No distance can divide
 For today in memory's garden
 We still walk side by side
 Each dawning day, a thought of him
 At evenside a prayer
 And in our hearts that loved him
 He always will be there.
 — Always remembered by daughter Lida and granddaughter Brenda. 37:1c

VANTASSELL — In loving memory of our dear husband and father, George W. Vantassell, who passed away May 4th in 1953.
 Twelve long years since that day,
 His name to us will ever
 Be more than just a memory.
 For his dear face will never forget,
 As he within our hearts lives yet,
 — Inserted by his wife and son and family. — Ella Vantassell.

SMALL — In loving memory of Sydney N. Small who was killed in a car accident May 5,

 So many things have happened
 Since you were called away.
 So many things to share with you,
 Always smiling happy and content,
 You were loved wherever you went.
 To a beautiful life came a sudden end.
 You died as you lived, everybody's friend.
 — Ever remembered by wife
 Mabel and foster daughter and

 How much we lost one year

The program was comprised of demonstrations of three types of musical instruction. Piano solos and duets from the Digby Music Festival were played by private pupils of Miss Frances Lent and Mrs. Ken Hankinson. A demonstration of piano class instruction under the Bureau of the Advancement of Music was given by Mrs. Ken Hankinson, and a demonstration of school music was given by Mrs. D. MacNeil and her classes. Mrs. MacNeil will be teaching school music here next week. The program proved interesting and varied and appreciation was extended to the students and teachers.

Following this, a citation was given to Mr. Sydney Wagner, by Mrs. Willis Mullen, secretary of the Red Cross, for his donation of twenty pints of blood. Mr. Wagner has been very faithful at the clinic, and in his reply stressed the need of more donors, and urged that more people volunteer for this worthy cause for the next clinic.

Miss Georgette Robichaud, dental hygienist, who is presently at the school, gave a short talk in her work and said that she has examined nearly 120 children to date. Twenty five of which, had received dental care. Miss Robichaud said she was amazed at the lack of care in the children's teeth and that the majority of children did not even clean their teeth regularly. She urged the parents to see that their children learned to clean their teeth, and have dental care at an early age.

A short business period followed and after its adjournment, a delicious lunch was served.

Letter to the Editor

The Editor,
Digby Courier,
Digby,
Nova Scotia.
Dear Sir:

We were particularly pleased to notice in your issues of March 25 not only an excellent account of the Annual Meeting of the Digby Branch of CMHA, but also the fine editorial that appeared with it, entitled: "Mental Health". The task of educating the public about mental illness, mental health and all that needs to be done in this vitally important field, is not an easy one, and we need all the help that we can get. Editorials such as this one do a tremendous amount of good, and are most effective more so than many of the other forms of public education. They carry a considerable authority to which the public does respond. We wish to say how much we at the National Office appreciate such contributions to the cause and would like to thank you for this public service.

Sincerely,
Leonard Crainford,

Digby Trade Board To Seek Fair Play For Small Fish Plant Owners

William Troupe, vice-president, presided over the May Trade Board meeting, held Tuesday evening at the Town Hall. Victor Cardoza acted as secretary in the absence of Mrs. J. M. Wallis.

Mayor C. D. Snow told the board of happenings at a recent meeting of the Western Nova Scotia Fish Packers Association. He said the association had discussed at length a government decision to have the A.D.B. grant assistance to fish plants which produce ten million pounds of fish per year. This would automatically eliminate any plants in this area, the Mayor said. He suggested that the Board of Trade, as an organized body interested in the economy of the entire area, should make protest to the government. Keith Raymond said that fish plants in the Digby area produce more than forty million pounds annually, and suggested that a resolution be sent to the Maritime Board of Trade and the A.V.A.B.T. stressing that small fish firms be used as fairly as the larger producers. He said that any group of firms producing ten million pounds annually should be eligible to receive a grant. The government grant is to assist firms in obtaining adequate water supplies for the processing of fish. In a letter to the board, E. D. Haliburton, provincial Minister of Fisheries, said, "It is quite true that the federal department of fisheries is getting stricter in its supervision of fresh fish plants and good clean water is a basic necessity. Fortunately, unpolluted salt water provides most of the requirements of these fish plants and this usually requires that only a long pipe be laid out to deep water. The provision of good fresh water is more difficult."

Mr. Haliburton continued, "... it is felt that the Provincial Government would hardly be justified in undertaking to supply water to every small fish plant. The government is anxious, however, to assist these small plants and is willing to do so by providing loans where they are needed in order to provide individual water supplies. These loans, of course, would have to be approved by the Industrial Loan Board and application would have to be made through the Department of Trade and Industry.

Mayor Supports Clean-up Week

In an interview with the Courier, Mayor Clayton D. Snow commended Digby firemen for their efforts to make Clean-up Week 1965 the most effective yet. "All citizens of the area should make an extra effort to clean up their properties of any unsightliness," the Mayor said. "After all, it's for their direct benefit and as well makes the town more pleasing to the eye of the tourist," he continued. "It is most important to make a good impression on visitors. We should all make a supreme effort to have Clean-up Week 1965 remembered for many years as a truly successful effort," the Mayor said.

Digby Girl In Choir

The Acadia Chapel Choir from the Manning Memorial (interdenominational) Chapel at Acadia University, Wolfville, N.S., was the winner of the 1965 Leslie Bell Memorial Choir Competition.

The choir, which represented the Maritime Provinces in the competition, heard across Canada on the CBC-Radio Net work, was heard on the CBC's national radio network on Monday in a special presentation. During the program the choir was presented with the Leslie Bell Memorial Award by Miss Lola MacQuarrie, president of the Canadian Music Educators' Association, who with the CBC, jointly sponsor the Leslie Bell competition.

The competition was originally introduced in 1963 to honor the memory of the late Dr. Leslie Bell, one of Canada's foremost choral directors. Winning the Leslie Bell Award concludes a successful year for the Acadia Chapel Choir, first formed in September, 1963, under the direction of Leonard Mayoh, for the purpose of singing the interdenominational services in the Manning Memorial Chapel.

They have appeared in public on numerous occasions as well as on radio and television, and have become nationally renowned for their excellence of style and musical ability.

The choir recently was awarded the T. C. Johnson Rosebowl for the second year in succession, the rosebowl being emblematic of senior choral supremacy in the Halifax Music Festival.

Clinics Planned

Plans are being made by the Nova Scotia Tuberculosis Association to conduct Heaf Tuberculin Testing Clinics in the Town of Digby.

These clinics are sponsored by the Nova Scotia Tuberculosis Association in cooperation with the Department of Public Health and are under the direction of Dr. V. K. Rideout, Director, Western Health Unit.

Clinics are scheduled in the outlying districts for the month of May and those for the Town of Digby will be held in June at Lions Club Hall.

The local Branch of the V.O.N. and the Ladies' Hospital Auxiliary have been contacted and are providing the necessary number of canvassers for the house to house canvass that will be carried out before the clinics.

A public meeting has been arranged for Thursday, May 13th, at the Digby Regional High School for workers and interested persons. Speaker for the evening will be Ralph E. J. Ricketts, Halifax Executive Secretary of the provincial administration.

Gates Receives Acadia Prizes

Brian William Gates, Digby, was winner of the Great Books Prize (Engineering) awarded at the Acadia University Convocation held at Wolfville on Tuesday. Mr. Gates, who graduated with a Bachelor of Science degree, also won the Ralph Mounce Medal in Engineering. Mr. Gates also received a certificate in Applied Science.

Among others who graduated from Acadia in science on Tuesday were Alan James Smith, Digby, Bachelor of Science, and Paul Bruce Corkum, Saint John, N.B., nephew of Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby, Bachelor of Science with honours (physics).

Mrs. Wood Addresses Auxiliary

In recognition of National Hospital Month Mrs. Mary Wood, Director of Nursing Services at the Digby General Hospital, addressed the regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Hospital. She compared the conveniences and comforts of the old hospital with those of the new building.

The new hospital represents a great advancement for our community with its modern equipment and architecture. Now that we have a modern hospital we are endeavouring to establish a much higher standard of nursing, Mrs. Wood said.

The speaker made mention of the small work room adjoining the operation room in the old hospital where emergencies were treated, and compared this to the modern, well equipped out patient department of the new hospital, where hundreds of types of emergencies can be taken care of.

A central supply room, in the basement is where trays and other equipment are sterilized. Previously the operating room staff had to sterilize all such equipment, including their own, in one small autoclave, Mrs. Wood said.

The Pediatric unit of the new hospital is bright and cheerful, and equipped to hold sixteen children. The children are completely separated from the adult patients, she said.

The medical and surgical departments have a capacity of 22 beds each. Each unit is capable of providing proper nursing routine suitable for the type of patient. We no longer have medical, surgical, and maternity cases all in one area. Because of this nursing was very strenuous and difficult in the old hospital. It also provides the opportunity for the members of the nursing staff to be allocated to the area that suits individual interests and type of specialization. This contributes towards a happier staff providing much better services, Mr. Wood told the group. The cafeteria is a great advancement over previous accommodations, she said. Staff as well as visitors may obtain meals at a nominal fee there.

Visiting hours have been extended to coincide with modern trends, the speaker said.

The Public Health office is in the new hospital. This helps to provide that necessary link between patient care in the hospital and the community. (Please turn to Page 12)

Collection From Local Materials

A unique merchandise is being made for a newly opened store in Digby. Mrs. Helen Thurber has succeeded in taking some of the myriad products of the sea and fashioning them into imaginative and beautiful objects of art.

There are spiders, limpets, star fish, crabs, scallop shells, razor fish, sea urchins and dozens more creatures the names of which are rarely heard except among fishermen and people who live on the shores of the ocean. Other names that come to mind are sea strawberries, sea cucumbers. Fishermen say there is no vegetable of the land that is not duplicated in the sea.

Mrs. Thurber has made beautiful articles from sea weed, clam shells of different sizes and agate stones from the shores. A contour map of the Continental Shelf off the coast of Nova Scotia is shown at the store. Small creatures from as far offshore as two hundred miles are mounted. Items on display make unique mementos of visits to Digby and vicinity.

Trade Boards Arrange For Special Meeting

At a special meeting of the Digby Trade Board executive, Monday afternoon, it was decided to have a delegation from the Digby board meet with the Saint John Board of Trade and the Saint John City Council within the next two weeks to discuss the matter of improved and modernized ferry service between the two ports. Tentative date of the meeting has been set for May 19, if arrangements can be made with the Saint John organizations. Personnel of the Digby delegation will be Trade Board president, Charles Haliburton, Mayor C. D. Snow, and John R. Nichols, barrister. The group will be joined by Capt. Lloyd K. Hill, executive manager of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade. Prior to going to Saint John the Digby board will prepare a brief outlining the needs of the area for modern up-to-date ferry service between Digby and Saint John and pointing up the economic effect of such service on all of western Nova Scotia.

Crippled Children's Clinic A Success

The annual spring clinic for crippled children, sponsored by the Kiwanis Club of Digby, was held at the New Digby General Hospital on Monday, May 3rd.

A total of 74 children were examined by Dr. J. C. Acker, orthopedic surgeon and Dr. N. Barrie Coward, Paediatric, of the Children's Hospital, of Halifax. They were assisted by Miss Maude McLellan, Easter Seal field worker, and Mrs. Sigrid Day, associate director of the chapter. Also assisting were the local Public Health Nurses of the Digby and Clare districts.

The Easter Seal Campaign in the local area is sponsored by the Kiwanis Club, who use their portion of the funds to assist local crippled children. The past six months has seen the club providing transportation to Halifax for treatment and examination, leg braces, glasses, special boots, and a special children's wheel chair for the children's ward of the hospital. They are also sponsoring two children to the crippled children's camp at Tignish this summer.

The Easter Seal Campaign will be closing on May 28th, and donations are requested before this date. The objective this year is $2,000.00, and a few more dollars are needed.

Lionettes Entertain

The Digby Lionettes entertained the Yarmouth and Bridgetown Lionettes at the Lions Hall at their May meeting.

A pot luck supper was enjoyed and games were played during the evening.

Recommend Trees King St.

Miss Dora Warne was hostess to the May meeting of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society.

Committees appointed to attend to the various project areas made recommendations on work that they felt should be done this year. A motion was passed authorizing entry in the Rose Bowl Contest, if the committee in charge of the Band Stand area feels that sufficient work can be done there to make it eligible as an entry.

R. S. Morton, Landscape Specialist, Department of Agriculture, acceded to the request of the Garden Club and the Town Planning Committee by visiting the town and recommending a tree planting program. A report was given on his visit by Miss Louise Daley, and his recommendation was that trees be planted along King Street this year if they could be obtained at once. Mr. Morton submitted a map of this street with where and what he would plant to beautify this new residential area. Mr. Morton will be guest speaker at the June meeting, and will discuss the whole planting program with the club members.

In reply to a letter written to Mr. George Powell, Manager of the D.A.R., inquiring about benches to place in the Cannon Bank Park, the railway contributed three benches for this purpose.

The district meeting of the N. S. Association of Garden Clubs will be held in Annapolis Royal in the evening of May 27th. All garden clubs in Western Nova Scotia will be invited to send delegates to this meeting.

Members were invited to send their colored slides as entries in the contest which is being conducted by the N. S. Association of Garden Clubs. The Flower Show Committee announced that a workshop on Flower Arranging would be held before the next flower show.

It was the privilege of some members to attend large Flower Shows this past winter: Mrs. Blanche Porter one in Clearwater, Florida; Miss Louise Daley the Boston Flower Show; and Mrs. H. M. Warne and Mrs. Barbara Weir the Flower Show in Toronto. Each of these members, in turn, gave brief descriptions of what they saw and told how Digby could improve the annual Flower Show by adopting some of the methods used in these urban areas.

Co-hostesses with Miss Warne were Mrs. Delbert Forrest and Mrs. Barbara Weir. Their delicious refreshments added to a very pleasant and profitable evening.

Recreation Commission Utilize July 1st

According to reports from the Digby Recreation Commission plans are being made for an all-out program to raise $3,300 for the Digby Recreation Commission. To do this the program will start on July 1st with holiday money making activities.

A meeting of town organizations is to be called May 18, it is understood, with an all-out effort to "save the Forum and save the child." It is the wish of the Recreation Commission to clear the Forum of debris to start afresh in the fall.

St. Patrick's Graduation

The annual commencement exercises of St. Patrick's Business College were held in St. Patrick's Church, Digby, May 9th, at eleven o'clock. Those participating in the ceremony entered the church and proceeded up the main aisle as follows: Cross Bearer, Daniel O'Neil; acolytes, Paul Connelly and Jerry VanTassel; the Business College graduates; the Celebrant, Rev. David Stokes; Master of Ceremony, David Wood. The young ladies and gentlemen of the graduating class were clad in gowns and caps and they took their places in their family pew for the Mass which followed immediately. The Commentator for the occasion was Mr. Gerry Connelly, Jr.

The Mass was celebrated by Rev. David Stokes. The choir was conducted by Rev. Luc Gaudet, Pastor, who was accompanied at the Con Artist organ by the church Organist, Mr. E. J. Theriault, Q.C.

Mayor Clayton D. Snow was present at the ceremony. The address to the Graduates was given by Monsignor W. Leo Murphy, Pastor of St. Stephens Church, Halifax, N. S., who was the Guest Speaker. Monsignor Murphy, in speaking to the Graduates said, "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God, and all these things will be added to you." Luke 12:31. He reminded them that Mother's Day, 1965, will be forever a reminder to them of their Graduation.

He suggested that each Graduate might pursue with profit, the 12th Chapter of the Gospel according to St. Luke, and learn the message Our Divine Master gave to us, — a warning against avarice; trust in God; learning to be ever watchful servants of God; vigilant and faithful in keeping the Commandments; steadfast when temptation threatens. The modern world with its affluence, its urge for easy living and luxury is at variance with the teachings of Him Who gave us the Cross. Young people going forth into the world, prepared to live Christian lives, must be ready to make many sacrifices for Christ. "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God" must be a way of life, not just a text of (Please turn to Page 12)

Two Digby Girls Graduate

Two Digby girls were among the graduates when St. Martha's Hospital School of Nursing, Antigonish, held graduation exercises in St. Francis Xavier University auditorium, Sunday.

The girls are Renette Marie Comeau, Meteghan River, graduate in nursing; and Mary Cecilia Thibault, Digby, graduate in lab technology.

In his address, Dr. Robert P. Thompson, associate professor of biology at St. F. X., stressed the importance of a nurse supporting and participating in professional associations to better professional standards and conditions. He told the graduates that since most of them would probably be working in hospitals, they must learn to work with others as part of a team, and maintain their identity as professionals through close association with administrative personnel.

Clean Up Week Underway

This week across the nation is Clean Up Week and in Digby the Digby Fire Department is carrying on an all-out effort to make the week one of the most successful in Digby's history.

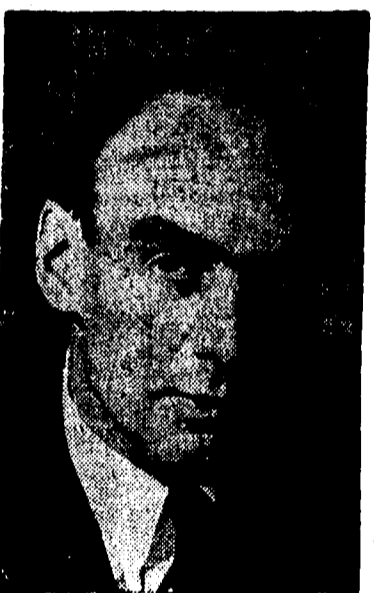

In their campaign the Fire Department is asking for the full cooperation of all householders, property owners and business establishments in carrying on a real clean-up effort on their own properties. Cooperation of the civic authorities has also been sought for a cleanup of town properties.

On Tuesday evening the members of the fire department, under the direction of the chairman for the Clean Up Week campaign, Wilbert (Bill) Whitman, made a thorough canvass of the town in company with the Wolf Cubs. Cleanup literature and informational material, prepared by the Clean Up Week campaign committee, was distributed and the cooperation of householders sought.

Grass and rubbish were burned by the fire department in a fuel oil storage area Wednesday evening as a part of the cleanup campaign. It was pointed out by the chairman that cleaning up and destroying rubbish not only made for a cleaner community, but also for a more fire safe town.

Each day and evening during the week the members of the fire department will be working towards a cleaner, neater and brighter Digby, a more attractive and fire safe community. They are hoping that every citizen will join them in this effort, so the job will be a really successful one.

Red Shield Appeal May 1-31

In the year 1965 the Salvation Army will observe its 100th Anniversary. It has been a century of struggle, adherence to basic concepts of Christianity, of faith which refused to accept discouragement or defeat and of great accomplishments.

The founder of the Salvation Army, General William Booth, was a practical Christian who recognized that the physical and environmental condition of many people had a direct bearing on their spiritual life. His speeches and published writings aroused the conscience of the nation and resulted in public action to elevate the condition of the poor and homeless.

The Salvation Army has continued its good works throughout the years and today it offers hope to the young, to the aged, to the homeless, as well as operating hospitals, schools of nursing, clinics and many other welfare agencies. It serves mankind on every continent without regard to race, colour, or class.

The Salvation Army today is a great humanitarian institution but still retains its original character of spiritual witness and practical evangelism.

It is with great pleasure that I extend greetings and congratulations to the Salvation Army on its 100th Anniversary.

About This And That

Clean Up Week

(Contributed)

The Digby Fire Department is asking every citizen of Digby — man, woman and child — to do his or her share in the work of making Clean Up Week in Digby this year a truly outstanding success.

Clean Up Week is much more than just another week. It is an opportunity to brighten up our town, to make it a cleaner and more attractive place in which to live and to work. It is an opportunity for us to make Digby one of the outstanding towns of the nation for its cleanliness, for the brightness of its appearance and for the evidence which it displays of civic and community pride.

All we really need to make our town a model community is to have a real sense of pride in Digby and to demonstrate that pride by getting out this week and cleaning up and brightening up our homes, our business premises and our properties generally.

We talk a lot about tourists in Digby. Here, during Clean Up Week, is an opportunity to do something, not only for ourselves, but also for the visitors who come to Digby. Let us get together, then, get out our brooms, brushes, rakes, shovels, hoes and paint pots and do our level best to brighten the spot in which we live. In so doing we will be brightening our own lives, the lives of those around us and the town which we all call "home."

Clean Up Week is being sponsored in the town of Digby by the Digby Fire Department, an organization known for the extent of its good works. The fire department deserves our support in this, their latest worthy effort, and we can benefit materially by cooperating with them. Let's all bend our backs to the task, then, and make Digby shine like the sun.

More Reason Wharf Attention

The Princess of Acadia on Saturday afternoon made several tries to get to her berth at the wharf in Digby. In one case she steamed over towards Victoria Beach in order to turn around for another attempt. Fortunately, she made it and after an hour delay passengers disembarked.

So far as we understand the cause of trouble was low tide and the ship struck bottom. This prevented her from making berth. The muddy waters after her attempts to berth would indicate that this was true.

This is a situation which need not exist. The harbour should be kept dredged in order to make docking easier. Imagine the needless anxiety and frustrations of the captain. Imagine the needless delays and frustrations of the passengers. We hope this situation will be remedied soon and better accommodations all round be added.

Thinking Of Handicapped

Building standards in Canada will now have in mind easier accessibility to public buildings by the handicapped. One in every seven Canadians has a permanent physical disability or an infirmity associated with aging, it has been found. Many of these persons, in an effort to participate in community life and to contribute to the economy of the nation have become frustrated by the present design of public buildings and facilities. This brought about strong representation to authority by persons and organizations and the Building Standards for the Handicapped, Canada, 1965 resulted. These are supplementary to the National Building Code of Canada and a handbook supplement has recently been published.

This newest addition to the National Building Code will be welcomed by many, especially the handicapped, who will be able to make use of public buildings without assistance and enable them to participate in many additional community activities.

Canadian Beautification Month

"Beautification of Canada" may sound like gilding the lily but the beautifying should be an attempt to remedy what mankind has already done to this most beautiful land.

When you are driving along a highway, you may wish to enjoy a picnic beside the road. In many areas, picnic tables and seats are set in attractive spots for your pleasure. These are also furnished with refuse containers. Anyone using these services can do their part in the beautification of Canada by putting all waste in the containers. Tossing soft drink containers, paper wrappers and other rubbish onto the highway spoils the scenery and, in many areas, is punishable by a fine.

If painting your name in large letters on prominent rocks along the way is your only means of getting your name before the public, make the sacrifice — DON'T do it! It detracts from the scenic beauty of Canada.

Coffee

Janes

My copy of Dr. Spock was already broken-backed, and dog-eared, and my son three months old, before I read it from cover to cover. The thing which impressed me most, on reading it, was that in three short months, I had managed to make every mistake in the book. At that point I gave up, and became one of the leading subscribers to the scream and holler school of motherhood.

Now the three-month-old has passed his fourth birthday, and his little sister is two. In typical fashion, now that it is almost too late, I have started to read YOUR PRE-SCHOOL CHILD, which my husband brought home with some magazines about a year ago. It is by Dorothy Kirk Burnett, and my copy is a paper backed edition, published by Macfadden Books.

Anybody who has been a mother during the past twenty years, must have, at one time or another, been exposed to Dr. Spock's delightful, practical, un-technical, friendly advice. Most of us have wondered how mothers coped at all in the pre-Spock days. Now, picture a Dr. Spock who is a lady, a Dr. Spock without a medical degree, a Dr. Spock whose sole qualification for writing a book on raising children is that she has managed, with sense, humor, and a fabulous store of patience, to bring two children to the ages of six and eight. The picture you have just conjured up will be Dorothy Kirk Burnett, a practical, common-sense lady, with a sense of humor, and an understanding of children which has enabled her, in her own words, to have "as much as several days in a row of enormous fun" with her children. To someone like me, who never gets the enormous fun beyond several minutes in a row, this seems an incredible feat.

The beauty of Mrs. Burnett's book, aside from the fact that it is funny enough to giggle out loud at, is its usability. Even our beloved Dr. Spock, for all his man-down-the-street charm, and his lack of technicality, remains the doctor down the street. He is just enough closer to that ivory tower of the medical degree than we are to breathe an air of Gospel authority on us. Mrs. Burnett, on the other hand, is the lady whose flower bulbs our children dug up last week. More, she is the lady whose own children mixed the instant coffee and sugar which you left on the door step, into a brown and white mess. She is the sort of neighbor we have coffee with, but she is stronger, calmer, better adjusted, more efficient, and just plain nicer than we are.

For Mrs. Burnett, I gather, motherhood is a full time job. This is more than saying she does not work in a drug store on Friday nights, or that she does not have a fascinating career as a lady aeronautics engineer — she does, after all, write books. She is a full time mother in the sense that like an English nanny, taking care of children is her life. To her, for instance, a child's safety is something more than the mere absence of accidents. She lists twenty-four safety rules, all considerably more complex than the "Look both ways before crossing the street" variety. She has advice on where and how to store the child's toys, advice on his clothing, play ideas for each season of the year, and travel tips, to name a few.

Mrs. Burnett tells us that these pre-school years are temporary, and non-repeatable, and that parents who enjoy their children create a life-long bond. All of this is true. With every word I read, I regret more of the mistakes I have made. I regret the times my temper has shown before my sense of humor. I regret not having, and knowing I have not, enjoyed my kids as much as I could have, and should have, during these precious years. I am sorry for the times my lack of understanding has contributed to their unhappiness. But at the same time, even though I do not work outside of my home, I could never really become a full time mother. Mrs. Burnett advises us to postpone clubs and concerts, fashionable wardrobes, elaborate entertaining, dining out, travel, and church, community, and school obligations. This, somehow, adds up to too much motherhood for me.

However, there is not one of us part time mothers, from the kind who just want to be a little selfish once in a while, to those who hold down a full time job, who would not first get a great kick out of Dorothy Kirk Burnett's wry, sympathetic, little book, and secondly, gain some of the most practical ideas, and deepest insight into coping with those little demons — she even puts you on their side — that we have had for a long time.

Fish Stories

The trout are getting lots of attention these days and Glendon Barr, of Danvers, has landed one of the largest in this area — eighteen and one-half inches in length.

On Saturday Mrs. Glendon Barr and Mrs. Grant Sabine caught a few nice ones. Their husbands say it would be useless to fish there again as they hooked and lost so many the trout will refuse to take bait.

Then there's the story of the two fellows who went fishing last Wednesday afternoon. One of them didn't have any extra hooks but his companion assured him that he had plenty. After catching a few trout the fellow with only the one hook had the misfortune to lose it and so approached his companion for another. Imagine their amazement when on opening the container to find only a few tacks. It seems that this fellow kept his hooks in the same kind of a container and in the rush to get fishing had picked up the wrong one. They took turns using the one rod and caught a dozen trout altogether, however. You may rest assured they will check their hook supplies before starting out on another fishing trip.

Friends will be glad to know that Mrs. Raymond Oickle of Greenland is improving at the V. G. Hospital where she has been a patient the past week.

Canoe Race On Annapolis River

Nova Scotia's aquatic season got off to a good start when No. 103 Rod and Gun Club, of Kingston, held its annual 25 mile canoe race on the Annapolis River.

Seven tandem crews from the Annapolis Valley faced the starter at Kingston and headed down stream for Lawrence town.

This aquatic marathon is a gruelling contest, calling not only for stamina but for skill as the course has some troubled waters and is tortuous throughout. Fortunately the water was high and no difficulty was experienced on account of exposed rocks.

The event was enlivened, near the start, when Doug Killen and Joe Gillis landed in the river while attempting to make a high speed turn. They soon got back into their craft and into the race.

The race was closely contested but before the finish there was an hour's paddling difference between the first and last canoes.

First to cross the finish at the Lawrencetown Bridge were Ed Hines and Ray Naugler of Greenwood. Time three hours, 21 minutes. Graham Peters and Rick Saunders, Middleton came second.

A large number of spectators, crowding the railings of the River Bridge, cheered a the contestants crossed the finish line.

The paddlers were started on their course by Bill Bradley, club secretary, and were checked at four points along the course. All crews finished in good shape.

This event was the third annual river marathon staged by the Kingston Rod and Gun Club.

HAVE PRAISE FOR U.S. MARINES IN EVACUATION

(LMDH)

Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Bacon and two small children, Steven, 3, and Allison, 18 months, arrived in Deep Brook on Thursday, having been safely evacuated from the capital of Santo Domingo, during the past week. Stanley is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hirtle, Deep Brook, and is employed as assistant accountant with the Bank of Nova Scotia there.

During the first days of the uprising, Stanley, who has been with the Bank of Nova Scotia, Santo Domingo, for years, was on local leave when the electricity and water were shut off, stores closed, and the curfew called for 8 p.m. they realized "this was no scare, that the situation was becoming serious and getting worse by the hour."

Families with children were asked to evacuate voluntarily. When word came that American Marines had arrived to evacuate all who wished to go, the Bacons packed what they could in two suitcases and were driven by a Canadian friend in Stanley's car (which of course had to be left behind) to Hotel Embajador, which was being used for evacuation headquarters. This was on Thursday.

Helicopters used the hotel grounds for a landing field. The Bacons were flown from here to the SS Carrier "Boxer" and cruised in the Caribbean for two days, during which time evacuees were being taken on board and food and other necessities were being unloaded.

At this time they did not know whether they would be taken to San Juan, Porto Rico, for an indefinite time, or would be going home to Canada, all depending on the developments of the uprising. They had no means of communication from the mainland, only what they heard from those coming and going. Reports from those coming aboard from the city of Santo Domingo were not good. Those being evacuated reported fighting still going on in the city, scarcity of food, and the whole situation growing worse.

Following two days aboard the USS "Boxer" they were transferred to one of two smaller ships and taken to Haines, 6 miles from the city, along with 1100 others. From here they were taken aboard the USS "Woodcarver," a tank carrier, to San Juan, Porto Rico.

Before leaving the "Woodcarver" strains of hymns in English and church music being played over the loud speaker made them realize it was Sunday, having lost all track of the days in moving from ship to ship, and to land. Prayers were also offered in English.

On Tuesday morning they were placed aboard a plane at San Juan, Porto Rico, and flown to New York, and from there to Presque Isle, Maine where they were met at the airport by Mrs. Bacon's anxious parents, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell, of Florenceville, N. B.

This period of days seemed long to those at home anxiously awaiting word, but short to those experiencing the situation. The food and care for women and children especially, and also for the men, was all so well organized and taken care of that the evacuees might have thought they were on a Caribbean tourist trip. The Bacons are grateful to the American Marines and have the highest word of praise for their safe evacuation.

They are now relaxing at the home of Stanley's parents, Deep Brook, enjoying the quiet away from the sound of whistling bullets, machine guns, and zooming planes. "I can look out and see little Steven enjoying the wide open spaces, free as a bird, in a peaceful country, for which we should all be thankful."

Marriage

Branch — Hill

A pretty candle light wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robie K. Hill, Bass River on April 17, at 9 a.m. when their daughter, Lorraine Joan, was united in marriage to Carl Vaughn Branch of Bathurst, N. B.

Potted Easter lilies, white mums and tall white tapers provided the altar setting for the double ring ceremony, which was performed by Rev. Gordon Pringle.

For the happy occasion, the home was attractively decorated with baskets of white chrysanthemums, vases of pink carnations and red tulips. The stair case was artistically trimmed with pink and white crepe paper.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a floor length gown of orchid brocade which featured a bell skirt with bustle back and slight train. The traditional basque bodice of orchid French crepe fashioned on a round neckline with double chiffon frilling and yoke of brocade edged with gold braid. The puffed fitted sleeves tapered to the wrists with chiffon frilling. The gown was originally worn by the bride's grandmother, 75 years ago. Her shoulder length veil of nylon tulle was held in place by a pearl headpiece and she carried a cascade bouquet of orchids and pink roses.

Her sister, Marina, was maid of honor. She wore a balerina length gown of electric blue peau de sole and carried a cascade bouquet of pink carnations. Her headress was a blue bow with shoulder length veil and her pumps were of matching satin.

The groom attendant was Wentworth Good of Bathurst, N. B.

The bride's mother chose a three piece dress of jade anel with a corsage of yellow roses. The groom's mother chose a two-piece dress of navy blue with a corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony a buffet luncheon was held for the immediate families and friends.

The refreshment table centered a crystal oblong container of white chrysanthemums and pink gladioli.

A silver service was presided over by Miss Joyce Reply of Greenwood.

Miss Edna Payzant of Greenwood and Miss Freda Gates, R. N. of Halifax, served the bridal party. The toast to the bride, was proposed by Mr. Wentworth Good, groomsmen and responded to by the groom.

The bride's table was laid with a hand crocheted cloth and centered a square three tiered wedding cake encircled in pink sweetheart roses. Tall white tapers in crystal holders on either side, completed the setting.

Telegrams of best wishes were read by the best man. Miss Dawn Branch had charge of the guest book.

For their wedding trip to Newfoundland, the bride wore a buttoned back walking suit of royal blue linen weave with pink hat and gloves, and a corsage of orchids.

The bride is on the teaching staff at the Russel C. Gordon School, Greenwood, and the groom is chief operator with Mining Corporation of Canada, Noranda, Que. The bride is well known in Weymouth, where she lived for some time.

They will take up residence in September at Senneterre, Que., where the bride will teach at the R.C.A.F. base. They received many gifts. Prior to the brides marriage, miscellaneous showers were held at Greenwood and Bass River.

Letter to the Editor

Tiverton, Digby Co., N. S., April 28, 1965.

To the Editor: Dear Sir,

Some time ago the public was informed, through the press, that the provincial government had engaged consulting engineers to make a study of Petit Passage and its transportation problems.

We are now wondering where those engineers are as we have seen nothing to indicate a study of Petit waters taking place.

Surely this study could not thoroughly be made from behind a desk in an office.

We understand that information pertaining to currents, tide heads, etc., is not available due to the fact that a detailed study of Petit Passage has never been made.

This information is vital in the construction of the harbour-causeway.

We hope for some positive action very soon as the transportation and harbour facilities are needed desperately, right at this present time. Why the delay?

A Puzzled Petitioner.

Family Day Observed

A large congregation attended the Family Day service held in the Baptist Church of Digby last Sunday morning. Members of the Explorer group, under the direction of Mrs. Jean Olsen, organist of the church, formed the choir for this occasion.

Speaking on the topic: "The Security of the Home," the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, pointed out some of the dangers which confront the home under difficult environmental conditions. The home, he said, must be undergirded with the pillars of faith, love, sacrifice and wisdom if it is to withstand the stress and strain placed upon it. The security of the home is something which cannot be neglected. So much of everything else depends upon it. The strength of the nation, the effectiveness of religious faith, and the happiness of individuals, depends in a large measure on the kind of homes we have. Nothing can replace a Christian home. Nothing is so beautiful and creative as a Christian home. Nothing is worth so much sacrifice of one's comfort, ambition and time. Family life should be creatively religious. This is in harmony with the great teachings of the Bible and in accordance with the will of God.

A Family Day service was also held in the Hill Grove Church in the afternoon, with special music provided by the choir.

On Tuesday evening of this week the Explorer group joined with members of the Women's Missionary Society of the Digby church for the annual affiliation service, with Mrs. Hugh Vincent, president of the W.M.S., in charge of the service. The young people sang a number of special songs, one of them in tribute to their leaders, Mrs. Charles Hersey and Mrs. John Comeau. The meeting was attended by the mothers of the girls and refreshments were served. This service marks the final meeting of the Explorers for this season.

Conducting Campaign

Digby area residents are again this year being invited to join the Yarmouth Community Concert Association during its current campaign for the coming 1965-1966 season. Admission to the three concerts is through annual membership in the association. Of special interest to Digby members is the fact that next season's concerts are scheduled for October, November and May — times at which driving conditions are more liable to be good.

The artists for next season's program have already been selected: a team of duopianists, a baritone, and a pair of dancers who will present a history of the dance called "Two for the Dance."

Local representatives of the Yarmouth Community Concert Association are Mrs. Cecil Raymond, Smith's Cove, and Fred Fullerton, Digby.

More than 90 per cent of the work done by the Canadian Red Cross Society is performed by volunteer men, women and young people from all walks of life.

Presbyteries Agree To Amalgamate

At a joint meeting of the Annapolis Presbytery of the United Church of Canada and the Windsor Presbytery, held at Kentville recently, it was agreed that the two presbyteries amalgamate. Amalgamation, however, depends on the approval of the Maritime Conference of the United Church of Canada which meets in Sackville, N. B. during the first week in June. The name of the newly formed presbytery, as well as other matters pertaining to the union, also awaits decision of the conference. The amalgamation, if approved, takes effect July 1st, 1965.

In a report for the boundaries committee, Rev. Mr. Butler, Annapolis Royal, said he felt the Annapolis Presbytery by change of boundaries could have two ministers for areas where they were needed more. Having sent out directives for boundary discussions, he asked that each committee look close to home first and that the undertaking be done with utmost seriousness.

Progress on the building of the proposed Sherbrooke Lake Camp was reported, with the Annapolis Presbytery having raised $2,239 of its $3,450 allocation for the camp. Voluntary work has been done and it is expected the contract for the main lodge will be let in the near future. A good response for leaders has been experienced, but there is still need for 25 to 30 more leaders, among these being cooks. More music leaders are also requested.

A report on the Atlantic Christian Training Centre emphasized that the Centre was not only for teenagers but for all.

The Demonstration School, under the Christian Education Committee, held at Middleton in April, was considered a success with more than twenty Church School teachers attending. An Observation Practice School is planned for July 16 to 23 at the Berwick camp grounds.

The Pastoral Relations committee reported that Rev. Mr. McNeil, Bermuda, was being called to the Bear River charge. Rev. Elmer Asaph tendered his resignation, to take effect in June.

THOU SHALT NOT KILL
"Thou shalt not kill" with gun or knife,
'Tis sin to take another's life
'Tis also sin you will agree,
To murder with a Mercury.

I think it would offend the Lord,
To kill a fellow with a Ford.
The same applies, I think you'll say,
To slaying with a Chevrolet.
'Twould prove that love to man you lack,
To hit him with your Pontiac.
So drive with common sense and care,
Your Tempest, Falcon or Corval.

This instruction includes all The foreign makes, however small.
It's sin to murder with a car,
Fiat, Rolls-Royce, or Jaguar.

Thou shalt not hot rod, drag or peel,
While sitting at thy steering wheel.
Excessive speeds thou shalt avoid,
Lest thou and others be destroyed.

And when thou meetest in the night
Another car, dim then thy light.
Whether thou drivest night or day,
The traffic safety rules obey.
Thou shalt not pass on curve or hill;
This is the law! "Thou shalt not kill!"

In Memoriam

TRIMPER — In loving memory of my mother, Mrs. Charles Trimper, who departed this life May 10, 1960.

Mourning her who went before
Faith keeps saying you will be with her
When you reach that other shore.

— Always remembered by daughter Betty and grandchildren, Glendon, Ruth, Violet, Cheryl, and Kim. 38:1c

TITUS — In memory of our loved ones: Father James W. Titus passed away August 16th 1937; mother Clara S. Titus passed away May 12th, 1942; Sister Ina D. Titus passed away May 15th, 1919; brother Earle B. Titus passed away January 20th, 1959.

Today a loving thought we give
To those that have gone before
One by one their seats were emptied,
One by one they went away.

Now the family is parted,
Will it be complete some day?
— Daughter Dorothy Johnson, son, Reginald Titus. 38:1c

SMALL — In loving memory of Sydney N. Small who was killed in a car accident May 5 1964.

So many things have happened
Since you were called away,

Always smiling happy and content,
You were loved wherever you went,
To a beautiful life came a sudden end,
You died as you lived, everybody's friend.

"We're seeing the country by car thanks to a Special Occasion Loan."

"Every trip we make in our car is a lot more fun because we know our Trans Canada Credit Man made it possible for us to get our car repaired and made safe for travelling. He was the one who suggested a 'Special Occasion' Loan to pay for the repairs. With the help of a 'Special Occasion' Loan we have our car in perfect shape and we can finance the repairs from our income."

PREVENT FOREST FIRES!

Red Shield Appeal May 1-31

I have seen and know the good works of the Salvation Army in many countries, in peace and in war. From the 19th Century slums where salaried men called to the cry of "Soup, Soap and Salvation" to the Army canteens of two World Wars, and the Soup Kitchens of depression years, "Sally-Ann" has earned and held a special place in our regard. Today, the "Army" has become a symbol of peace and good will; an effective instrument of compassion and help to people of every race and every creed. Because of it, "Now is our salvation nearer."

As the Salvation Army enters its second century of service to God and man, I am greatly privileged to extend the best wishes of the Canadian Government, together with my own warm personal greetings, to every Salvationist.

ROBIN RED BREAST

Today I saw a robin red breast
Ever so prim and proud was he,
He hopped across the barren lawn
Then stopped to look at me.
I was standing in my doorway
And so wanted to say, "hello."
Knowing he'd not accept my greetings,
I did not hasten him to go.
He perched himself upon my fencepost,
Then looking around, began to sing,
He seemed to say, "I have a message,
Come! Wake up! Its really spring."

Home and in the hospital, Mrs. Wood said.

There is still need of much assistance in bringing the hospital up to the level where the maximum use of all areas can be utilized, she said. The sewing department needs assistance in the upkeep of the linens and baby clothing. Books for patients are not yet available in any quantity. So many little things need to be done particularly for patients without friends or relatives. The hospital invites outside organizations to undertake some special category of services, work for its advancement, and truly see profits from their labor, the speaker said.

In closing she added: "The staff of the new hospital is proud to have such a wonderful building in which to serve the sick. We earnestly intend to uphold good nursing standards and fulfill the obligations it necessitates. We want to make the people of this area not only proud of the view from the outside but even more proud of the care and hospitality obtainable on the inside."

The meeting was held in the cafeteria of the new hospital, with the President Mrs. Ina Dillon in the chair.

Three gifts were acknowledged: a generous donation to the Auxiliary from Mrs. Mabel DuVernet in memory of her husband, Dr. Edward DuVernet; a $500 contribution by Mrs. Carrie Clarke, of Saint

"Miss Canada" At Festival

It has been announced that Miss Mary Lou Farnell, of St. John's, Nfld., will represent "Miss Canada" at the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival later this month.

John N. B. in memory of her mother, Mrs. Stephen Van Tassel; and the gift of a beautiful silver tray from Mrs. George Trudeau on which tickets will be sold at the Hospital Bazaar.

The members were shown some of the 6 large pictures which the Auxiliary has had framed to be hung in various places in the new hospital.

Plans were finalized for a Florence Nightingale Tea to be held in the cafeteria of the new hospital later in May. It was noted that the canteen which will be sponsored by the Auxiliary is about equipped for operation, and that work in the canteen will be done by volunteer workers.

The Auxiliary is looking into the possibility of organizing a Junior Auxiliary Group of high school students known as "Candy Strippers" for volunteer work in the new hospital. The refreshment committee consisting of Mrs. Margaret Carson, Mrs. A. L. Robinson, Mrs. Clinton MacInnes, Mrs. D. Lewis, Mrs. Allan Thomas and Mrs. Daisy Ruggles provided a delicious lunch at the conclusion of the business meeting.

Final Notes From May Session Municipal Council

Mr. Charles Haliburton appeared before the Municipal Council in its May session on 1964-65.

The shortage of qualified teachers came in for considerable discussion. It was stated the problem is a grave one, extending province-wide. Over scale pay, with its spiraling costs to the municipality, was noted as one of the dangers, as well as an enticement to teachers to settle here. Several possible solutions were put forth, one involving the utilization of Correspondence School courses supervised by mature persons but without teacher qualifications. In the meantime, it was stated, an immediate crash program of some sort is contemplated by provincial authorities in an effort to relieve the shortage.

Bible Sunday

Bible Sunday was observed in Grace United Church on Sunday morning when Rev. R. H. Hughes preached the sermon on the theme "God's Word For A New Age."

Though there are many changes in the world, the Bible has a message for the new age and the Word of God is relevant for the day. God speaks to us according to our needs for today, Mr. Hughes said. God has a message, he continued, but we do not always find it easy to get the message. If we want to hear the message we must be ready to pay the price in time, service to fulfill the message and in giving so the Word can be given to others.

A message in God's Word today is that we must learn to live together or we perish. We must become involved for the others' good. We must stop thinking we are always right or always white. We must ask if we are doing all we ought to for the glory of God and the good of mankind, Mr. Hughes continued. We must get out of our little world of Digby and listen to the cry of the people who are hungry.

The new age has created a need for more scriptures, he said. Every day increases the population of the world by 165,000. Every week 1,000,000 people learn to read. If we teach them to read we must give them something to read. Mr. Hughes said, and then asked the question what kind of literature are they going to read? In order to send the Word to the people we must be willing to give generously.

The Bible in the new age is a letter to each one personally. Mr. Hughes said. When we answer the letter we become involved. To know God, he continued, is not merely to know about God. The Bible introduces us to a personal God.

At Conference In Ottawa

C. E. Edwards, Inspector of Schools, was in Ottawa May 7 and 8 to participate in the program of the 1965 Conference of the Canadian Citizenship Council. Highlighting the Conference agenda was an address on the topic, "Change in the Mass Media of Communications". Discussion groups examined the role of the media in our society and implications or effects on our social purposes and social values.

WEYMOUTH

Mrs. C. R. Barkhouse presided at the monthly meeting of the Weymouth United Baptist Women's Missionary Union held at the home of Mrs. Ellsworth Kinney, Ashmore, on Tuesday evening.

The devotional "Serve the Lord with a Perfect Heart" was given by Mrs. Victor Doty which followed by a Circle of Prayer. Members answered the Roll Call with the name of a mother of the Bible.

It was reported that the box of used clothing for the Angola refugees had been sent to Africa and that gifts of money had been received to cover the postage.

Plans were made for a "travelling apron" to raise funds for other projects.

Following the Spiritual Life Work given by the convener, the meeting was closed and refreshments served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Scott Kinney. It is expected that the annual supper meeting will be held in June at the Ashmore Hall.

The purpose of the United Church of Canada's new curriculum is to get the members of the church to read the Bible with the family, to know God's purpose for each one and to know God in a personal way.

TO SEEK FAIR PLAY

age as the furnace, lighting equipment and hydraulic hoist could be sold by the board, the money would be a big help towards getting the building repaired. Even with these things sold, it was Mr. MacIntyre's opinion that the board would still be faced with costs of $600.00 or more. This seems like too much money to spend when we only have a one year lease from the oil company, he said. By motion the group decided to contact Irving Oil Co. suggesting the undertaking does not seem worthwhile on a one year basis. Allan Pyne suggested that the venture would require a lease of at least three years.

In connection with parking, Mayor Snow reported that he had made contact with property owners on First Avenue whose land is situated between the Town Hall and the Fire Station, and said that two had stated prices for their land and two are still thinking about it. The town finds it necessary to own said land for the purpose of street widening and the expansion of parking facilities.

Reporting for the Fisheries sub-committee of the Digby Resource Development Committee, Vincent Snow submitted the viewpoint of twenty-three members of the Western Nova Scotia Fish Packers Association, meeting in regular session May 11. The four questions outlined were chosen for first and immediate consideration, and discussed quite thoroughly by the association, and Mr. Snow asked that the Trade Board go on record as being in agreement with the fish packers association that for the expansion of the fishing industry in this area the following is of utmost importance:

(1) Up to date and sufficient transportation across the Bay of Fundy from Digby to Saint John, with improved highways leading to ferry terminals.

(2) Development of deep water harbours with sufficient wharfage, particularly at Digby and Petite Passage.

(3) Larger boats for fishing further afield as well as Bay of Fundy area, and far longer fishing season.

(4) Plant improvements for competitive efficiency.

Mr. Snow also informed the board that latest statistics reveal about seventy boats use the port of Digby regularly as the base of operations.

Ralph MacIntyre said that in his opinion replacing signs at the entrance to Digby is a venture too expensive at this time. Money has to be considered for our proposed parking lot in the old Irving garage, and also for a possible delegation to Ottawa and Montreal, he said. There should be a question of priorities here because we definitely can't afford them all, Mr. MacIntyre continued. Vincent Snow told the group that there are several business signs directing traffic to Digby, and that if the board undertook to have the large scallop shell sign repainted probably this would prove sufficient for the present time. On motion it was decided to redo the one sign until more funds are available.

Letters were read from The Lubec Boat Club and Mrs. Pauline K. Morrison, of Lubec, Maine, asking the Board's opinion concerning the possibilities of establishing a car and passenger ferry service between Lubec and Digby. After much discussion it was decided that the secretary should reply to these letters suggesting that at the present time the Board is concentrating all efforts on the continuance of adequate service between Digby and Saint John.

It was announced that A. J. Little, president of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, will address the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade on June 1 at the Town Hall, Middleton. Also announced was the semiannual meeting of A.V.A.B.T. at the Legion Hall, Digby, on May 26. Guest speaker at this meeting will be Col. J. K. S. MacNeil, president of the Maritime Provinces Board of Trade.

The treasurer, W. R. Marsh, all reported that as of May 11 the Board had a bank balance of $593.33. This compared with $65.26 in the bank on December 31, 1964. Mr. Marsh all expressed concern over a large amount of mail which seems to go astray and asked all members to forward to him all matters concerning payments as soon as possible. To have accounts in arrears and at the same time have nearly $600.00 in the bank does not look good, he said.

C. M. Lavy reported that Diane Raymond, an 18-year-old high school student, has been chosen to represent the Trade Board this Friday evening at a special ball held to select a Digby Princess for the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival.

By motion it was agreed to send $25.00 to the A.V.A.B.T. special transportation committee. The money will be used in efforts protesting the possible withdrawal of D.A.R. service through the Annapolis Valley.

Claims Revenue Does Not Justify Higher Rental Fee

R. A. Emerson, CPR president, who visited Nova Scotia recently, is reported to have said that the ferry wharf at Digby needed repairs, but the federal government would agree to make the repairs only if the CPR would agree to pay much higher annual fees for its use. The company could not agree to the stipulated fees, because the revenue derived from the service did not justify them.

Mr. Emerson and N. R. Crump, chairman of Canadian Pacific Investments Limited, it is understood, were in the province to meet with business leaders to discuss profitably investing funds into a province which, they said, has exhibited booming prosperity in recent years.

Speaking of the Bay of Fundy service, Mr. Crump referred to the service as an "old problem" and said that the operation could be profitable if the ferry could carry railway boxcars back and forth across the bay, but the extraordinary tidal lift would require prohibitively expensive wharfing facilities, where the ferry could be loaded and unloaded at any tidal level.

Quoting from a recent edition of The Chronicle-Herald regarding the visit:

"Presumably neither the Dominion Atlantic Railway's Yarmouth to Halifax run, nor CPR's car ferry service between Digby and Saint John qualify as types of investment opportunities into which Mr. Crump would like to sink more of his company's dollars.

The DAR has already appealed to the Board of Transport Commissioners for permission to cut down its passenger service, contending that the operation cannot be carried on economically. The board will call a public hearing to obtain views on the railway's application.

"All those who never rode on the trains will be there to complain about our petition," said the CPR chairman."

Campaign Reaches Objective

The successful completion of the annual Red Cross campaign for funds by the Digby Branch was announced by the President, Mrs. R. B. Lent, at the May business meeting of the Branch which was held at the Court House last week. The sum of $72.80 had been collected in the town of Digby, and Mrs. Lent extended thanks to the canvassers on behalf of Mrs. Allen Harris and herself.

Congress Meets In Digby

More than 150 attended the Annapolis Valley West Student's Congress held at the Digby Regional High School on Friday evening when guest speaker was Cpl. Quentin Wenaus, RCMP, Digby detachment. Cpl. Wenaus was introduced by Owen Taylor, president of the Digby Regional High School Students Council and was thanked by Peter Croft, Digby, vice president of the A.V.W.S.C.

Cpl. Wenaus charged the students to give serious thought to their aim in life and to put first things first in their lives. He told them that it is necessary to frame proper attitudes, have a high sense of responsibility and a high code of ethics. He emphasized the necessity of abiding by the laws of the land and not to condone others who do not abide by the laws.

Speaking of the Congress and extra curricular activities, Cpl. Wenaus praised the students for their participation in these activities and reviewed the personal benefits which the students derived from participation. Among other benefits, the Corporal said that the extra curricular activity helps to overcome stresses from hard work and helps develop a dignified citizen for now and the future. He referred to the great man, Sir Winston Churchill, who developed the art of painting as extra curricular but he had to use confidence and be unafraid to surmount problems.

The banquet meeting was presided over by John MacIsaac, Bridgetown. Rev. R. H. Hughes, Digby, gave the grace. Reports were given at the meeting from the afternoon sessions of the sports, arts, dramatics, debating, home economics, yearbook and executive committees.

At the election of officers, Calvin Bruce of Middleton was chosen president, succeeding John MacIsaac of Bridgetown. Duff Montgomery of Bridgetown was elected vice-president with Barbara Marshall of Middleton as treasurer.

Trophies won in competition during the year by the various schools were presented at the banquet. The debating, hockey and curling trophies were presented to the Digby regional high school. The boys' basketball, girls' basketball, junior girls' basketball and the drama awards were presented to Middleton regional high school. The boys "A" volleyball, girls' volleyball, and the girls' basketball trophies were presented to the Digby regional high school.

Shown presenting a cheque for one thousand dollars is Ordinary Seaman John R. Bottomley, Lethbridge, Alta. Receiving the presentation is Mr. F. C. Purdy, chairman of the Board of Directors of the New Digby General Hospital. The money was collected in a recently held drive by the HMCS Cornwallis Central Charities Fund and will be used to furnish a waiting room of the maternity wing in the new hospital.

New Ferries Being Built

Two new ferries are presently under construction at the shipyards of the St. Mary's Bay Co. Ltd., in Meteghan.

A ferry for the Petite Passage East Ferry-Tiverton crossing, is 39 feet long, 13 feet wide with a draft of approximately 5 feet. This ferry has a twin diesel motor and will push a scow for cars and trucks.

The second ferry of approximately the same dimensions is being completed for the Grand Passage Westport-Freeport crossing. This ferry has only one diesel motor.

Both ferries are to replace boats destroyed in gales during the winter.

Plan Meeting

Representatives from Annapolis West, interested in organizing a Women's Liberal Association for Annapolis County, met with Mrs. R. S. Dodge, at Carleton Corner, on Monday evening. Tentative dates were set for having an informal meeting and tea at Bridgetown early in June, when Annapolis County Liberals would have an opportunity of meeting members of the provincial executive and other members.

Those attending the graduation from this area were Mr. and Mrs. Victor Flinigan and Mrs. Cora Powell, Freeport; Mrs. Newton Ross, Mrs. Frank Ross and Mrs. Eric Ross, Culloden; Miss Sandra Murphy, Digby; and Mr. Bill Johns, Brighton.

Graduate From St. F.X.

Marguerite Denyse Marie Doiron, Digby, was among those who graduated in Bachelor of Arts at the St. Francis Xavier University convocation held on May 12 and 13 at Antigonish.

A diploma in engineering was received by John Alphe Amiraault, Digby.

Mohawk Service Still In Doubt

Resumption of the Mohawk II freight service between Saint John - the Digby Islands - and Yarmouth appears to be much in doubt.

A letter from the Canadian Maritime Commission to the Yarmouth Board of Trade, spoke of increasing highway transport shipments and declining freight on the Saint John Marine Transport service over the years. The commission felt an increase in the subsidy would not be justified.

It has been stated that the service is essential in the interest of transshipment of freight at Yarmouth, and for the business Yarmouth does with the Islands. It is understood that the operators of the service asked that the subsidy be increased to $50,000 a year. The subsidy last year was $38,000.

The Mohawk II, which operated on the service up to the end of March, underwent overhauling at Meteghan, and then went to Yarmouth, where she is still tied up, not having made a trip this month.

It is reported that the operators gave each of the crew a month's wages, pending word as to whether the ship would be able to resume service or not.

A fire broke out behind the boiler on the Mohawk II, on May 6, while she was tied up at Yarmouth. A considerable amount of the electrical wiring was burned out and part of the bulkhead was burned.

Visits Services

Lt. General Geoffrey Walsh, Vice-Chief of Canada's Defence staff, visited defence establishments in the Atlantic region during the past week.

General Walsh made stops at bases in Greenwood, Cornwallis, Shelburne, Chatham, Summerside, and in Halifax, where he attended a series of tours, briefings and discussions with senior military officers.

The Tag Day for the Blind, sponsored by the Digby Lionettes May 14th and 15th, collected $81.65.

Hold Course Closing

Not enough is heard of the positive accomplishments of teenagers, stated Mrs. R. B. Lent, president of the Digby branch of The Red Cross Society, in presenting certificates to a group of fine Red Cross Home Nursing Course for teenagers, sponsored by the Community Club, Head of St. Mary's Bay at Meteghan town.

Mrs. Lent commented that it was most commendable that these young girls should be given an opportunity to take the course and to apply themselves so diligently to learning how to help others. She noted that not one of the girls on the list missed a single session of the course.

Receiving certificates were Jean and Joan Comeau, Sheila and Shirley Edmondson, Mona Ryan, Debbie Amos, Dorcas Doucet, Doreen Jordan and Brenda Robichaud. The girls also received Civil Defence cards and pins.

Prior to receiving their awards each of the members of the home nursing class gave a demonstration and talk about one of the home nursing techniques she had learned during the course. At the close of the demonstration a film on mouth-to-mouth artificial respiration was shown.

At the close of the evening a gift was presented to Mrs. Eileen Cardozo, R.N., instructor, by Doreen Doucette on behalf of the students.

Refreshments were served by members of the community club.

Last year the Community Club, Head of St. Mary's Bay, in Marshalltown, sponsored a home nursing class for adults from which nineteen women of the community graduated.

Bicycles A Menace

Mr. Millard Wagstaff, of the Department of Highways, was guest speaker at the Home & School meeting held at Islands Consolidated School at Freeport Friday evening.

Introduced by program convener, Mrs. Bertha Ruggles, Mr. Wagstaff's topic for the program was "Highway Safety." He stated that during 1964, highway accidents in Nova Scotia claimed the lives of 203 pupils. He said the accidents occurred either because of the lack of knowledge of the laws of the highway or failure to observe the laws, and could have been prevented.

"Highway accidents stand third as killer, topped only by heart and cancer diseases. As yet there is no cure for heart and cancer diseases, but there is a cure for highway fatalities. That cure is "Common Sense."

Rev. Harvey L. Denton, Little River, Passes

Rev. Harvey L. Denton, D.D., one of the most widely known and highly respected clergymen in the Maritime provinces, died at the Victoria General Hospital on Saturday afternoon. Though seriously ill for several weeks, it was believed that he was recovering, and his death came as a shock to all.

Dr. Denton, besides winning distinction as a clergyman in Nova Scotia and in Ontario, where he spent his later years, was active in a great many humanitarian fields. Only recently he had accepted the chairmanship of one of the Heart Fund committees and had taken a leading part in the work.

He had been a member of the executive of the Canadian Mental Health Associations wherever he had lived in his more mature years - Halifax, Digby, Saint John, Peterborough and Toronto. In Peterborough he was a director of the United Appeal, just as in Halifax he had been a director of the YMCA and in Saint John had been chairman of the board of the School for Mentally Retarded Children, and at the time of his death he was a director of Nova Scotia School for Boys at Shelburne.

As a minister, Dr. Denton was particularly well known as a sincere and thoughtful speaker but it was in his work among younger men that he excelled. This was particularly true during the war years when he was a member of the Chaplain Corps in Halifax from 1942 until 1945.

Born in Little River 60 years ago, he was the only child of the late Thomas C. Denton, of Little River, and his mother was Pearl Harvey Denton, daughter of the late Rev. I. D. Harvey, a Baptist minister. Dr. Denton retained his interest in his home community all through the years and took pride in his home and garden in the village.

About This And That

Others Are Worse

A subscriber to The Digby Courier from Washington D. C. came to our office last week. Can you tell me, he asked, why we never get the . . . (a newspaper) at the Eastern end of the province) until 10 days, at least, after publication date. We got The Digby Courier, he said, most of the time on Saturday and never later than Monday after publication day.

We didn't have the answer for him, whether the fault was at the newspaper office or the postal service. In fact, it there is any sin in blaming over someone else's shortcomings, we experienced it. It was a sin in a sense and such "sweet sorrow" to know we were being praised and others were being looked down upon for late deliveries. Really, once in a while we see ourselves as not being so bad after all. At least, we would like our subscribers to know other newspapers are sometimes late, too.

Hide Those Car Graveyards

We do not happen to have the wording of that law before us. The purpose of the law, we do know, is to have unsightly car scrap piles hidden from public view. Again, the law says we should build a fence or barrier between our or the people concerned have fulfilled their obligations. If the law says the unsightliness is to be hidden from view, then, that is another thing, for, certainly, many car dump owners have done little to comply with the law.

To tell the truth, there are places on the highway from Digby to Halifax where the fence or the excuse for a fence, does little or nothing to improve appearances. And really, you don't have to travel many miles from Digby to see it. An insufficient part fence, lacking both in width and height, neither hides the view from the sides, the top or the bottom. From every angle some part of the whole view of the car graveyard is exposed to public view.

Are these car graveyards to have a fence or are they to be hidden? If the latter, then, let's see that they are hidden and hidden before our visitors begin coming to see our "lovely" countryside.

So Childish To Smoke

Judy LaMarsh, Canada's Health Minister, called a youth conference in Ottawa on cigarette smoking. So serious does the problem seem to be. So important it is to prevent teenagers from taking up smoking because of the relation of cancer incidence in smokers. We can only stamp our mark of approval on the step that Judy LaMarsh has taken.

We also see from news reports that Dr. Emerson Donyon, psychologist, when addressing the teenagers referred to people who smoke as childish or infantile. In fact, he said, that by continuing to smoke while knowing there is a well-established relationship between cigarettes and lung cancer shows masochistic tendencies.

Further, Dr. Donyon referred to smoking as a vicious habit and said, "When one does not know how to get out of a vicious circle, why begin?" How true! He urged discussions in school and T.V. programs to change people's ideas about smoking.

We also refer to Dr. Edwin Kinley who has been reported to tell the Boy Scouts that the risk of cancer is directly proportional to the amount smoked.

The youths, themselves, at the Ottawa conference came up with some suggestions such as that education about the ill effects of smoking should start when a child is in kindergarten; when government scholarships are awarded on merit, one of the qualifications should be whether the scholar smokes or not; radio and television stations should insert messages on the dangers of smoking on all children's programs; laws should make it mandatory for all cigarette packages to carry the sentence: "Caution! Cigarette smoking may be hazardous to your health."

Yes, there is something very important about this business of non-smoking to avoid lung cancer. There is much ado about it — that habit of cigarette smoking which was supposed to be a mark of sophistication and "esteem" just a few years ago both among male and female smokers. And today, so soon, it is considered a number one cause of lung cancer which can bring misery, pain and death.

Again, we say, there is much ado about cigarette smoking and we are not trying to belittle the importance of keeping our teenagers from acquiring a habit which can bring on misery, pain or death. We think the teenage years are the best years for drawing attention to the unhealthy habit, for the teenagers are the most likely to take on a habit, which they consider "big stuff." One point we make here to teenagers. Stand on your own feet and don't be wafted by every wind that blows. The wind can suddenly change with a big gust another way. Our other point is in the form of a question — When is Judy LaMarsh going to tackle the habit of drinking intoxicating liquors and make much ado about that? According to a teenage drinking survey in Saint John, N. B., there is considerable drinking among teenagers. An editorial in the Saint John Telegraph-Journal says, "It is a problem that can't simply be washed out of existence." We agree, and we believe it should have as much attention as cigarette smoking any day. Highway accidents cause more deaths than cancer and a goodly percentage of highway deaths have been a direct result of drinking. Highway accidents cause misery and pain and a goodly number are caused by someone having been drinking. Like Dr. Donyon's talk on cigarette smoking, drinking, too, is a psychological thing and causes a vicious circle.

Oh, we commend Judy LaMarsh on what she is trying to do. We commend our governments on their educational program and literature on ill-effects of cigarette smoking. We simply feel that teenage education should not stop at cigarette smoking and that cigarette smoking is no greater curse than other bad habits. We read that teenage drinking has "Their personalities are made up of a combination of heredity and environment," said the dentist, trying to screw yet another clamp into my over-burdened mouth.

"Nadegldp glub nurdle," I answered, through the hardware, hoping to impress him with the profundity of my reasoning.

"Some people think heredity is more important. I think environment is the real thing." He picked a wad of cotton about the size of his thumb from a tray, and popped it into my propped open mouth.

"Aghhh," I asserted.

But it's a funny thing," he said, jabbing his thumb in the direction of a photograph of three smiling children, on the wall above him, "my three — different as day, night, and next week. Same heredity, same environment. We've treated them all the same. They couldn't be more different!"

"Ughh," I responded.

The dentist, encouraged by my wisdom, stuck two fingers up into my throat before he went on.

About heredity — even if two, three or five children have the same parents, that is no guarantee that they have exactly the same heredity. There'll be blue-eyed kids and brown-eyed kids, redheads and blonds. If the physical characteristics, which are governed by pure heredity are so different, they must be able to inherit different personality traits, right?

"Gurgledad!" I agreed. Somewhere near my tonsils, I tried to think of what must have been a whole fist.

The dentist nodded thoughtfully. He was beginning to pull things out of my mouth. "You know," he said, "you're quite right. I never thought of it that way."

"Bernabogi!" It seemed as good a word as any to express my amazement. I wasn't sure how he had interpreted my last remark.

"You're right," He nodded again. I was half expecting to see a magician's rabbit or a silk scarf come out of my mouth. Surely he had not put that much in. "No two people ever have quite the same environment. If a kid has an older sister, his environment is substantially different from his sister's, who has a younger brother. A dumb kid in a smart family has a far different environment from his bright brothers and sisters. If a boy shares his father's interests, there'll be more rapport between father and him, than between father and the other kids."

The hardware was out of my mouth by now, but the sensation was so new that I could simply nod in agreement. He took the napkin from my neck, slapping the air with it in a flourishing gesture.

"All kids are people. Parents react differently to each one, just the way I react differently to each of my patients."

I rose unsteadily from the chair. I rubbed the lower part of my face, wondering if it would ever feel like a human jaw again.

"Come again in two weeks." The dentist waved jauntily as I walked out of the door. "It's always nice to talk to someone with ideas."

"Blub!" I called back gaily through the numbness of my jaw and tongue, as I walked down the stairs to the street.

increased and that there is a marked increase of venereal disease among teenagers. We think these are just as important for an all-out program. We commend the Nova Scotia government for issuing a pamphlet on venereal disease some short time ago. Such information is needed. There are teenagers and past teenagers who still ask "what's that?" when coming across the words, venereal disease. How can they choose the better way in any course if ignorance is a barrier?

Teaching Fishermen To Swim

In checking the statistics of deaths by drowning in the province of Nova Scotia for 1964, the Red Cross Water Safety Service has been most concerned by the increase in water fatalities in fishing communities. It would appear that one-third of the drownings last year involved fishermen, usually alone in boats and often near to shore and safety. A plan has been drawn up by the Red Cross to provide crash ten day learn-to-swim programs in as many communities as possible that had no previous form of water safety instruction and where lives have been lost in recent years.

This project is sponsored by the Red Cross Water Safety Service in cooperation with the Physical Education and Recreation Office, Department of Education, under the Federal Provincial Agreement for the promotion of Fitness and Amateur Sport.

The ten day learn-to-swim programs for fishing communities is in addition to the regular Red Cross swimming and water safety program that is carried on around the province and which saw some twenty-eight thousand young people enrolled in classes last year.

Marriages

Lally — Turnbull

Out of town guests from New York and Nova Scotia attended the marriage of Miss Linda Mary Turnbull, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick A. Turnbull, 45 Mayflower Road, Woburn, and Charles Henry Lally.

Mr. Lally is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry F. Lally, Banks Street, Waltham.

Rev. John Murdoch officiated at the ceremony, held at 10 in the afternoon at the First Baptist Church, Woburn, on February 27th.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was gown in white satin fashioned with scooped neckline and long pointed sleeves. Appliques started just above the waistline and extended to the hem of the skirt front. Her pillbox headpiece had a fingertip veil, and her only jewelry was a necklace, a gift from the groom.

Miss Sheila Turnbull was maid of honor for her sister, wearing a hot pink peau de soie sheath with an insert of lighter pink down the center front of the full length skirt. Her pillbox was of matching material and she carried a nosegay of deep pink carnations.

Similarly gowned in a lighter shade of pink, the bridesmaids were Miss Donna Magee, Miss Sandra Powell and Miss Sharon Ludwig.

Richard Tibbetts, of Waltham, was best man and the ushers were Richard Terry, Philip Anton and Otis Thorlander.

At the reception held at Ivy Hall, Lowell, Miss Jeanette Cleary was in charge of the guest book.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Turnbull wore a light aqua peau de soie dress with matching accessories and white roses corsage. Mrs. Lally, mother of the bridegroom, was dressed in hot pink with pink flowered hat and orchid corsage.

The bride is employed at Houghton Mifflin Co., Burlington, and Mr. Lally is assistant manager at Wonder Bowl, Quincy.

Mr. and Mrs. Lally are residing at 115 Chubbuck St., Quincy.

Longmire — Oliver

A quiet wedding took place in the Parker's Cove United Baptist Church when Beverly Eileen Oliver became the bride of Paul Franklin Longmire. Rev. Glendon Urquhart officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. Oliver and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Longmire, of Hillsburn.

Given in marriage by her father, she wore a floor-length dress of misty nylon sheer over rayon taffeta. REV. H. L. DENTON PASSES

From Little River, he attended Horton Academy in Wolfville, then to Acadia University, obtaining his Bachelor of Theology degree in 1930, and his Bachelor of Divinity in 1936. Later an honorary degree of Doctor of Divinity was conferred upon him by Acadia, as it was by McMaster University.

He was one of the leaders in the denomination and in 1948-49 he was president of the Maritime Provinces Convention of the United Baptist Church, and was a member of the senate of Acadia University, having been appointed in 1952.

Dr. Denton served in Parryboro, New Glasgow, First Church, Charlottetown, and at Germain Street in Saint John. He went to Murray Street Baptist Church in Peterborough and from there to the Walmoe Road Baptist Church in Toronto. There he remained until 1963 when he returned to Nova Scotia and filled the pulpit in many parts of the Maritimes until he joined the editorial staff of The Chronicle Herald the first of October last.

Mrs. Denton is survived by Mrs. Denton, the former Evelyn Natalie Powell, of Macan, Cumberland Co.; their three children, Thomas R., barrister, Calgary, Alta.; two daughters, Carol, wife of A. D. S. MacKay, Peterborough, and Evelyn, wife of John Dickinson, Toronto; and five grandchildren.

The funeral and committal service took place at 2 p.m. Tuesday at the First Baptist Church, Halifax, conducted by the ministers of that church, Rev. W. C. Harvey and Rev. David L. Kennedy.

The remains were taken to Saint John for cremation.

Portrays Work Social Service

An illuminating picture of the Social Service work being carried on by the Baptist of the Atlantic Provinces is given in the mid-May issue of the Atlantic Baptist.

The colorful story is told in a four page supplement. This sums up the many sided activities of the Atlantic Convention on such diversified subjects as alcoholic studies, race relations, the Maritime Home for Girls, the Interprovincial Home for Young Women, Hospital Chaplain Services, better housing, family relations, civic and political issues, and other human-relation services involved in answering the appeal to be "doers of the Word". All the published articles are informative and they are far from stereotyped.

Take for instance the paper on "race relations" where it clearly and emphatically states that the conventions "Race Relations Committee" views "the resurgence of the old time minstrel as an affront to the Negro people". Continuing the article cites a resolution petitioning the school boards of the Atlantic Provinces to refuse to allow school property to be used for entertainment which makes derogatory and stereotyping references to minority groups.

And again, something worth pondering, is the appeal for "reciprocal pastoral training" of hospital chaplains. The writer of the report contends that "there should be one chaplain to each 500 patients of a faith group." The article concludes "Atlantic Baptists are seeking to merit their Founder's commendation, ye visited Me".

The above are but two of the many though provoking bits locked up in the various carefully compiled reports making up Editor Gordon's Social Service supplement of the Atlantic Baptist.

To Seek Liberal Leadership

Alderman G. R. Matheson of Halifax, has announced that he will seek the leadership of the Nova Scotia Liberal party at the convention called for July 24.

Mr. Matheson, B.A. Halifax lawyer, is the first to declare his candidacy for the Liberal leadership, though former Halifax mayor, John E. Lloyd, Member of Parliament for Halifax, said if he received support, he would offer.

During last year's city council elections Mr. Matheson swept ward three in his first try for public office, with his two opponents losing their deposits. He is a native of Donkin, Cape Breton, and has served two terms as a provincial president of the Red Cross.

Observe 50th CGIT Anniversary

The 50th anniversary of C.G.I.T. in Canada was celebrated on Monday evening by the Flamingo group at Grace United Church Hall, when Mrs. R. H. Hughes, leader, cut an anniversary cake at the Mother and Daughter banquet.

The banquet was presided over by Patricia Morgan, president. Mothers and guests were given a welcome by Rev. Mr. Hughes. Miss Morgan proposed a toast to Her Majesty, the Queen.

The toast to the mothers was proposed by Miss Gail VanTassel and responded to by Mrs. Cecil VanTassel.

Miss Lynn Nickerson proposed the toast to the church. Norman Wright, Clerk of the Session, in responding to the toast, assured the girls of the church's unceasing interest in its young people. He advised them to also seek the church and become a member of the church before they left the home community for university or employment.

Mayor C. D. Snow, spoke to the girls on their responsibilities as they go out into the world. He said each would be either a leader or a follower. He cautioned them if they were leaders to be sure to know their way to travel and if they were followers to be sure to choose the right way to follow. He commended the guidance the girls were receiving from their leaders.

Mrs. Hughes and Mrs. Clyne Goodson, who would serve them for years to come, at the close of the banquet Reigh Jayne showed movies of a trip from Digby to Victoria, B. C.

At the close of the banquet Reigh Jayne showed movies of a trip from Digby to Victoria, B. C.

St. Mary's Chapter

(Continued from Page 1) Chapter, she stated that the Chapter, instituted in 1919 with 40 members had reached a peak membership of 81 by 1956. Since then, however, deaths and members had exceeded in numbers and affiliations to the point that membership was now only 61. Of these 61 only 15 are now resident in the area. She concluded with a note of optimism because several initiatives were in prospect for the near future, and two current applications for affiliation had been presented.

An enjoyable social hour, when delicious refreshments were served concluded the anniversary celebrations.

BICYCLES A MENACE

In keeping with highway safety habits, the speaker pointed out some reasons why bicycling is a menace. "In some instances when children learn to drive they are fearless and will drive their bicycle through traffic without sufficient knowledge of the safety rules, and with no regard as to the condition of the bike." He explained the danger of driving from one to four on the left side of the road facing traffic is the safety rule for pedestrians where there are no sidewalks," the speaker said. He illustrated his point by relating a true story of a highway accident which occurred at Truro and claimed the lives of two young people.

In summarizing his talk, Mr. Wagstaff repeated, "The almost perfect answer to highway safety is in applying common sense. We must constantly teach our children the safety rules and set a good example."

At this point Mr. Wagstaff gave the member an opportunity to ask questions regarding safety on the highway. Many took part in the discussion.

Among his comments, the speaker pointed out that the law regarding school buses has been amended and now reads, "all motorists must reduce speed to 20 m.p.h. when passing a stopped school bus."

A film, "The Invisible Passenger," (death) based on a true incident which portrayed the tragic results of speed involved with reckless, careless teenage driving, emphatically served to point out to the members the incessant need to stress the importance of a clear, sound knowledge of and observance of highway safety habits.

Mr. Wagstaff, accompanied by Mr. William Walsh, of the Department of Highways, also presented the above film to about 75 high school students of 15 Consolidated Schools on Friday afternoon.

Average Docket For Court Term

The spring session of Supreme Court opened here Tuesday morning with Judge J. H. MacQuarrie presiding over an average docket.

One criminal case and two without jury civil cases were heard. At time of going to press the criminal case was ready for the jury, and two of the without jury civil cases were postponed to the Fall Term, leaving six divorce cases and two civil without jury cases to come before the Judge.

LATER the Courier was informed that in the criminal case, the defendant was found not guilty as charged.

The draft report of the federal electoral boundaries commission has given Nova Scotia an entirely new electoral map. The provincial representation in the federal House of Commons has decreased from twelve to eleven, and the commission recommended scrapping the dual constituency of Halifax. A second riding has been taken away from rural Nova Scotia in giving the metropolitan Halifax area an additional seat.

To achieve as closely as possible a representation by population in the province, the commissioners worked on a basis of 67,000 per seat, with a 25% variation, either above or below this figure permitted.

Not only have the constituencies changed in size, but they will be known by entirely different names. The Annapolis Valley constituency of Digby-Annapolis-Kings will no longer exist, nor will Shelburne-Yarmouth-Clare. A new constituency called Annapolis Valley with a population of 69,019, comprises all of Kings County, the municipality of Hants West, the eastern portion of Annapolis County (beginning near Nietaux), and all offshore islands. This will have the greatest population of any seat, other than the Halifax ones. On the western end of the province, South Western Nova, includes all of Digby and Yarmouth counties plus portions of Shelburne contained in the Municipality of Barrington, and the remainder of Annapolis County. Its population will be 61,458.

On the south side South Shore is the least altered of any constituency. It has a population of 61,185 and includes Lunenburg, Queens, the remainder of Shelburne County, and the southwest of Halifax County to Peggy's Cove and the head of St. Margaret's Bay.

All three new Halifax seats will have more than 70,000 in population.

The commission, under Mr. Justice V. J. Pottier, was appointed in January, and since that time it has been redrafting boundaries of constituencies. Other commissioners are Nova Scotia's chief electoral officer Herbert Grant, Q.C., and Cape Breton County prothonotary, Alexander Mughah. The fourth member is Nelson Castonguay, Canada's chief electoral officer, who is a member of each provincial commission.

In the redistribution, by law, no seat could be over 83,751, and no seat below 50,251, in population. The commission will hold public hearings in Digby on July 20. Persons wishing to raise objections to the boundaries commission's recommendations will have a chance to air their grievances at the hearings.

Nova Scotia's eleven constituencies would be: (1) Cape Breton Highlands-Canso, (2) Cumberland-Colchester North, (3) Cape Breton-Sydney, (4), Cape Breton East-Richmond, (5) Central Nova, (6) South Western Nova, (7) Annapolis Valley, (8) South Shore, (9) Halifax City, (10) Dartmouth-Halifax East, (11) Halifax-East Hants.

Hartlin, announced that a gift of $100, in memory of the late Mrs. Gladys Handspiker, had been made by the Handspiker family of Colliodon. The money is to be applied to the expenses of the proposed church hall extension.

A number of the members of the Baptist congregation attended sessions of the Annapolis-Digby Baptist Association held in Bear River last week.

On Tuesday evening members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship held a social evening in the hall of the Hill Grove church. This group, holding weekly meetings during the past months since last autumn, will bring its meetings to a close for the season at an early date. About This And That

Graduation Time

Graduation time is here. Already universities and some special schools have held their graduations for 1965. There are others, including most high schools, which are preparing for their closings. Students are looking forward to that day which marks another step in their lifelong process of education. For truly, education is a lifelong process. It always was, whether recognized as such or not, but it is definitely more pronounced as a continuous process today.

Time was when graduation, so far as school was concerned, simply meant "finish to education" in the minds of students whether that was the original intention of the word or not. Today it is different. More and more, people are realizing that graduation is merely the commencement of another phase of education. It is another step in a continuing process which had never before been so much realized.

No, graduation does not mean the end of study. Not by a long way. The sooner the student realizes that the better. Some who have the will, the ability to cope and the where-with-all will go on to university. Others will not be attracted to university for various reasons. Some might not be university material. Graduation from high school does not mean "finish to education" for these either. There are trade schools and vocational schools where their talents fit without university education.

Students coming from high school should have acquired a fair idea what is expected of them as a good citizen. They should have learned that others have rights as well as themselves. They should have been taught that the world does not owe them a living and that it really is not smart to get something for nothing. Besides, students out of high school should realize that there is much more to be learned. They should realize that education must go on in their lives whether it is obtained through adult education classes, technical schools, universities or other means. High school students should be made to realize that this is a day of change. A continuous forward process is going on. Automation takes over the drudgery and routine, leaving unemployment in its wake. It is found that employment is for those with the knowledge, the skill and the will. Students should be informed that they must be prepared to meet the many changes as they arise. To do this they must be willing to continue in some form of education and "graduate" and "graduate" again.

Clean Up Or Pay Up

Clean up or pay up seemed to be the suggestion in an editorial we read the other day. The editorial dealt with uncared-for empty and abandoned properties. It suggested taxes should be doubled each year until the owner either tears the offending structure down in exasperation, sells the property at a reasonable price, or fixes it up in such a manner that it is fit for either sale or rent. What a switch! What nice looking properties we'd have if the more we fixed them up the less taxes we'd have to pay. Alas, but it doesn't work that way.

A Sight To Behold?

Have you ever had the pleasure of enjoying the fresh breeze and sunshine on the shore at the head of St. Mary's Bay? Too bad if you hadn't, but don't do it anyway. There was a time when it was a pleasure to take children on the shore at the "Head of the Bay." But, no more. We went down there one day last week to let small fry be entertained by throwing stones. The sight was one to behold, alright, but definitely not in any complimentary sense of the expression.

Truly, we had never seen such a pile of empty tin cans and other clutter like an old stove and such cast-aways. We don't know where the rubbish came from but surely there was a better place than that to dump old tin cans. Maybe it is private property and none of our business, but we couldn't help but think of the tourists who might be stopping at a nearby motel during the summer. The casual walk is almost a must for the tourist. The lovely sunset over that Bay is sure to attract the stroller to the shore. What a sight to behold. Certainly one that wouldn't bring them back again, no matter how pleasant the sunset.

How badly the Municipality of Digby needs a central location where garbage can be dumped and buried instead of having all these dumping grounds along the otherwise beautiful roadsides and shorelines.

What a pity to spoil the head of St. Mary's Bay like that! And we want to attract tourists. It's hard to understand.

Savary Park

After having to write about the above disagreeable sight, we are happy to have something more pleasant to write about. The beautiful park established at Plympton last year by the Nova Scotia government is a joy to behold.

We visited the park again on May 24 and were delighted with its appearance. Actually, it appears to be one of the nicest small public parks in Nova Scotia. The long winding roads around the green grass, the birch trees and other trees through which can be seen the Bay beyond, the shore for enjoyment, the babbling brook, running through the trees to the further side of the park all lend a picturesque, restful and useful stopping place. Tables, benches and litter cans are seen in goodly numbers and are attractive in appearance. After a summer's use we hope they will remain nearly as attractive as they presently are.

We said, the park was one of the finest small parks in Nova Scotia. Really, one has to be impressed with its size. Such a park should help keep our visitors happy and should be a real boon to the tourist industry here. People of Plympton and all Digby County should be proud to have the park established in the area.

Coffee

"You have an elusive quality about you," remarked our Mutual Friend. "One might call it sophistication or something. Who, for instance, besides you, could wear a beat up old trench coat like that everywhere, and still look good?"

My coffee guest bristled perceptibly, but managed to keep her composure until after the Mutual Friend had left.

"That cat!" she exclaimed vehemently, the minute the door clicked behind M. F. "Imagine the nerve of her saying that nobody but me . . ."

"Hold on, now!" I attempted to soothe her. "She was paying you a compliment."

"Could wear a beat up . . ." my friend was sputtering. Her face was taking on an ever deepening shade of purple.

"Now, now, now," I soothed, in my most mollifying tone. "She said it is a kind of sophistication. You know how it is — some people have such an air of sophistication, or smartness, or whatever it is, that they look as good in blue jeans as the rest of us look in our Sunday best. Me, I have to be dressed to the hilt before I even begin to look good. You're one of the lucky ones."

"But, but but but but . . ." My friend's face was becoming a really alarming shade by now.

"Our Mutual Friend envies you," I explained, pleased with my tact and diplomacy. "She just can't look gorgeous in an old trench coat, and she envies you because you can."

"This old trench coat," my ex-friend exploded, and with the explosion her complexion began to turn to a more normal hue, "cost me one hundred and ten dollars at one of the most exclusive shops in Montreal last summer. That's what I think of the kind of sophistication which looks beautiful in blue jeans."

The door slammed behind a much relieved woman, but M. F. and I will have to do a great deal of remedial work to get back on that particular friendship list.

My thought turned, however, from the lost friendship, as I listened to the retreating footsteps in the hall. I was thinking, instead, about this strange, indefinable thing called sophistication, smartness, savoir fair, or any number of other names. A definition, or rather a description which I like, of the quality goes like this:

Some people think checked tablecloths and wine are sophisticated.

Some people think that checked tablecloths and wine are neither sophisticated nor unsophisticated.

Some people think that to think checked tablecloths and wine are sophisticated is a dead give away of lack of sophistication.

Some people think that to think that checked tablecloths and wine sophisticated is a dead give away of lack of sophistication.

This is no treatise, of course, on the relative merits of either checked tablecloths or wine, but, I was thinking:

Some people can look unsophisticated in a Dior original.

Some people can look sophisticated in an old trench coat.

Some people can look sophisticated in a Dior original. Some people can look as if they are looking sophisticated in an old trench coat when they are wearing a Dior original.

I wonder where we, in our cotton dresses and hair rollers, with our checked place mats and milk rate on this scale.

Transportation Balls Going In Gutter

R. Baden Powell, MLA, above, in addressing the Country Bowling Club on Saturday night said "For some reason the transportation balls are going in the gutter." The banquet was held for 300 members and friends at the Legion Hall, Shore Road, and was presided over by Robert Morgan, president of the men's league.

Mr. Powell traced the history of bowling as one of the oldest recorded games and dating back to Egypt 7,000 years ago. He congratulated those who won trophies and all who participated in an old and honored game. He also stated that the bowling lanes brought people of the town and municipality together and gave them an opportunity to discuss the problems of the day. The most insistent problem of the area, he stated, is transportation, which has become so acute it could threaten the welfare, directly and indirectly, of every family in the town and municipality.

Mr. Powell referred to the problems back in 1862 when a steamer plied between Windsor, Saint John and Digby. The Bear River and Weymouth bridges were problems when they were built in 1887 at a cost of $10,000 and $9,000 respectively. There were problems, he said, when, in 1862, J. Blackford and J. Outhouse each received $30 as subsidies for ferries across Petite Passage. These are still problems today, he said, with modern demands for quick and efficient transit. A breakdown of any one, or lack of improvement to meet the demands, seriously handicaps the livelihood and means of enjoying the fuller life which is enjoyed by people where these problems do not exist, he commented.

Mr. Powell scored the lack of wash room facilities in Digby. He noted the passenger and freight train services were without a station and the bus service without a ticket office. We have a ferry boat, he continued, which will soon be without docking facilities.

It would seem, Mr. Powell said, that there is a bulge in the center of the lane we use for our transportation game and the balls are going down the gutter. We cannot make a strike, he said, yet we look around and see area after area making both spares and strikes.

Mr. Powell was introduced by Donald Fleet and thanked by Mrs. Ted Wilson.

A minute of silent tribute was paid to the memory of the late Aubrey Adams who, a member of the club, had passed away during the past season.

Mrs. J. M. Wallis asked the blessing at the banquet.

Digby Visited By Queen Annapolis

Queen Annapolis XXXIII and her royal party visited Digby on Monday, arriving at the band stand at 5:30 p.m. Crowds, including many children, were on hand to greet the queen as she, surrounded by ten princesses, stopped amid flags and banners and the music of HMCS Cornwallis band. The Digby stop was the last on the tour from Windsor to Digby following the festivities which took place in Kentville on Friday to Monday.

Mayor C. D. Snow extended a welcome to the 19-year-old queen, Miss Leslie Bond, Greenwood, and also welcomed home Digby's princess, Miss Carolyn Dakin, Centerville, and the other princesses, including Miss Sandra Davis, Bridgetown, formerly of Digby. The party was introduced by S. C. Gordon, Wolfville, and the ceremonies were presided over by Dr. R. S. Longley, chairman of the Apple Blossom Festival committee.

In a few well chosen words the queen told of her pride in being able to represent the Valley in this manner and promised to do her best to reign over her subjects well. Miss Dakin thanked those who had made a "dream come true" for her and expressed regret that the Apple Blossom festivities were coming to a close for 1965.

Wayne Maxner, of the Boston Bruins, accompanied the party and expressed delight in returning to Digby where he had so recently enjoyed being at the Little League banquet.

Little Miss Cindy Joy Bell, daughter of Councillor and Mrs. Bernard Bell, in a most charming manner presented her majesty, the queen, with a bouquet of red roses.

Before departing for HMCS Cornwallis, where dinner was served, Mr. Gordon thanked the Digby people for the courteous manner in which the party was greeted, and especially mentioned that Digby was the only town which had a welcome banner to greet Queen Annapolis XXXIII.

Among those from Digby who attended the dinner at HMCS Cornwallis were Mayor and Mrs. C. D. Snow and Mrs. J. M. Wallis.

The party proceeded from Cornwallis to RCAF Greenwood, where a dance brought finis to the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival for 1965.

33rd Festival A Success

Despite a lack of an abundance of blossoms the thirty-third annual Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival has been deemed a huge success by officials in charge. The four-day event was occasionally threatened by rain, but brilliant sunshine remained victorious to keep intact the festival's 33-year good weather record.

Miss Leslie Bond, 19, representing the RCAF community of Greenwood, was crowned Queen Annapolis XXXIII at ceremonies Friday in Wolfville. She was chosen from among eleven princesses representing Valley communities from Digby to Windsor. Digby's princess was Miss Carolyn Dakin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Dakin, Centerville.

Mary Lou Farrell, "Miss Dominion of Canada", took an active part in the festival. Also present was Wayne Maxner, of the N.H.L. Boston Bruins.

An estimated 15,000 people lined the route on Saturday to watch the grand street parade from New Minas to Kentville. The Wolfville float was winner of first prize.

NATION MOURNS M.P. PASSES SUDDENLY IN OTTAWA

Honourable George Clyde Nowlan, one time federal revenue minister and finance minister, died suddenly in Civic Hospital in Ottawa, Monday morning. He would have been 67 years old in August. He had entered hospital last week for a rest after a bout with bursitis and suffering from what doctors called "tired heart". From the beginning hospital officials were optimistic and advised Mr. Nowlan's friends to go ahead with plans for ceremonies in Halifax later this month. At the time of his death Mr. Nowlan was Opposition financial critic, and represented the constituency of Digby-Annapolis-Kings in the House of Commons for more than fifteen years, winning in seven straight elections and by-elections.

Born in Havelock, Digby County, August 14, 1898, Mr. Nowlan first entered Nova Scotia politics forty years ago. In 1925, at the age of 26, he was one of the youngest men ever to sit in the provincial House of Assembly. Following defeat at the polls in 1933 he returned to Wolfville and set up a prospering law practice. He remained there until 1948. In 1911 the Nowlan family sold their Digby County home and moved to Wolfville where higher education facilities were more readily available.

Mr. Nowlan was first elected to federal politics in 1949. Following the Conservative victory in 1957, under the new leader John Diefenbaker, Mr. Nowlan was chosen to represent Nova Scotia in the cabinet as Minister of National Revenue. In 1962 he was elevated to the portfolio of Finance Minister and minister in charge of the CBC. Mr. Nowlan had been nationally noted as a prime successor to Mr. Diefenbaker's Conserva-ive leadership.

As news broke of Mr. Nowlan's death government leaders spoke fondly and quietly in the Commons about his work, his warmth and gentlemanliness, then adjourned their regular business out of affection and respect. The Prime Minister, recalling that he entered the Commons at the same time as Mr. Nowlan, described him as "one of the tall men of the House of Commons in every sense of the word". Mr. Nowlan was six feet five inches tall. Mr. Diefenbaker said he served Canada with "courage, integrity and ability. He had a love for his province that was unusual on the part of one who had a national viewpoint as well. The Prime Minister has spoken of him as a tall man. Mr. Speaker, he was a giant, not only in stature, but also in those dividing things that make for greatness".

In 1923 Mr. Nowlan married Miriam Grace Chisholm, of Wolfville, who survives. Other family members left to mourn are four sons, George, Jr., Sudbury, Ont.; Charles, Ottawa; John Patrick, Vancouver; and Richard, of Halifax; also one daughter, Clara (Mrs. Raymond Jefferson), Wolfville; and a brother, Carl, Wolfville.

At time of going to press funeral arrangements had not been completed. Tentative plans are that the body will be flown to RCAF Greenwood on Wednesday and taken from there to Wolfville, where funeral services are expected to be held. Final plans await location of Mr. Nowlan's daughter who is on a tour in Europe with a group of school teachers. The department of transport has made plans to provide a plane to take the family to Nova Scotia and has offered another to take a Parliamentary delegation to the funeral.

Dept. Steps Up Training Program

The Digby Fire Department is currently conducting an extensive course for members in pumping with the use of all pumps being taken. The course takes in a knowledge of the various types of fire pumps along with actual operation and the care and maintenance of them. This course will round out the number of operators required in event of emergency or if someone is not available. It will ensure that there will always be an operator available. The course is scheduled for completion on June 28th. Instructors will be Reg. Turnbull and Ray Thibault. On completion of the course tests will be given and certificates awarded. Some eighteen members are enrolled.

Other members will be taking various phases of training including ladders, hose, extinguishers and breathing equipment.

Leaders Pay Tribute

Premier Stanfield

"George Nowlan brought a rare combination of gifts to his public career. He liked people and understood the problems of his people. He had a keen mind but he did not look down upon those who were not as bright. He was a devoted Progressive Conservative, but not a narrow partisan, and he was supported by members of all political parties.

"I believe he was the most gifted debater in the country: lucid, witty, resourceful, pungent, persuasive and charitable. "Mr. Nowlan's services to the Progressive Conservative Party were prodigious. For forty years he subordinated his personal affairs to the interests of his party and through his party the province and the nation.

"As a federal minister, Mr. Nowlan served Canada with great distinction, but as the minister from Nova Scotia he set a standard difficult for others to follow. I believe that his concern for the coal industry and his efforts to save it grievously undermined his health.

"George Nowlan devoted forty years to the public of Nova Scotia and Canada. In his death our province and the "George Nowlan was one of the 'old' men in the Commons in every sense of the word. We entered parliament together as a result of the by-election of December, 1948 - we became members of the class of '48 as he so often reminded me - and I am proud to say that political difference never hindered the development of a warm and friendly relationship. He was a fair opponent but always a fair opponent and a warmhearted and generous friend.

"George Nowlan was a memorable figure - a great patriot and a distinguished parliamentarian. His devotion to his native Nova Scotia was exceeded only by his devotion to Canada. 2 Hospitalized After Weekend Accidents

Barbara Robicheau, Ashmore, is in Digby General Hospital suffering a fractured pelvis and a lacerated scalp following an accident at Acaciaville, Saturday, when the car she was driving failed to negotiate a curve and overturned several times.

Passengers in the car, LeRoy Handsaker, Mount Pleasant; Harry Thomas, Conway; and Mildred Doucet, Ashmore, received minor cuts and bruises.

Another accident on Saturday occurred in Conway when a car driven by Rodney Fredericks went out of control and struck a car driven by LeRoy Brooks. There were no injuries but a considerable amount of property damage resulted.

Ruth Albright, of Freeport, is in hospital after being struck by a car operated by Kendrick Outhouse, of Tiverton. The Albright girl was walking along the left side of the highway in Freeport on Sunday when the accident occurred. She is suffering bruises.

Digby R.C.M.P. investigated the weekend mishaps. The Courier was later informed that Kendrick Outhouse and Rodney Fredericks were both convicted of impaired driving and have paid fines.

Heaf T.B. Tests Next Week

Heaf Tuberculin Testing Clinics, sponsored by the Nova Scotia Tuberculosis Association, consisting of a Testing Clinic, followed a week later by a Reading and X-Ray Clinic, are scheduled for next week in the Town of Digby and surrounding area.

Instructions were given at a largely attended meeting held recently at the Digby Regional High School and canvassers have been calling at all the homes filling out the survey cards; according to reports from the canvassers the public is co-operating well.

The "Heaf Test" is a simple painless skin test given on the upper left arm which shows whether or not you ever had the tuberculosis germ in your body. Contrary to public opinion, it is most important that adults come out to be tested. Only the babies under six months of age are not included in the survey.

The town and surrounding area has been divided into three sections and all the clinics will be held at the Lions Club Hall, Queen St., beginning Monday, June 7th. All dates, location of clinics and areas served are being advertised in the local press, television and radio.

This is a free public health service brought to you by the Nova Scotia Tuberculosis Association in close co-operation with the Department of Public Health.

These courses are part of the role being played by the E.M.O., formerly known as Civil Defence.

Trade Board Interested In Landing Strip

The Digby Board of Trade at a regular meeting on Monday night endorsed, without financial obligation, further investigation into the possibility of an air landing strip for Digby. William Troupe was appointed chairman of an airport committee.

The secretary was instructed to send a message of sympathy to the widow of Hon. George Nowlan, whose death occurred that day. A motion was passed to make a donation to the "Heart Fund" in memory of the late Mr. Nowlan.

Mayor C. D. Snow reported that Lloyd Hill, of A.V.A.B.T. and himself, had met with the deputy mayor of Saint John city regarding the Digby Saint John ferry. It was the opinion of the mayors and council that the service should be continued and modernized Charles Halliburton and Mayor Snow were appointed to prepare a brief for approval by the Digby Board of Trade and then presented for approval or additions by Saint John before proceeding with the brief to Ottawa.

A resolution presented by the Digby Board and passed in principle by the A.V.A.B.T. at the semi-annual meeting was accepted with amendments. The resolution dealt with port facilities at Digby, which are considered inadequate for the operation of a proper ferry service from Saint John to Digby. The resolution asks that the federal government be petitioned to assure that the ferry service be maintained and that a proper ferry service be put into operation between Nova Scotia and New Brunswick capable of handling passenger service and roll on service. The resolution asked for proper docking facilities both in Saint John and Digby. The resolution will be presented at the Maritime Provinces Boards of Trade meeting in Saint John on June 6, 7 and 8. Charles Halliburton and Mayor Snow will represent the Digby board. A resolution from the Western Nova Scotia Fish Packers Association endorsed the same resolution from Digby.

It was decided to invite the Hon. H. J. Robichaud, federal minister of fisheries, and his deputy, Dr. A. W. H. Needler, to visit Digby near to the time they are scheduled to visit Picton in June.

It was announced that Premier Robert Stanfield will be in Windsor, N.S., guest of the Windsor Board of Trade, June 17, when the 200th anniversary of N. S. exhibitions will be celebrated.

A motion was passed to write a letter to E. Adelaar, president of the A.V.A.B.T., expressing concern and willingness to help in obtaining stenographic assistance for Lloyd Hill, secretary-manager, and offering financial assistance on a share basis with other boards.

It was reported that members of the Digby Board had met with Mr. Brown, federal government engineer, and it had been confirmed that the channel would be dredged and work done at the south east part of the pier at once. The spur and facilities for fishermen would be done in 4 phases.

A bill for rental of the Cannon Bank submitted by the C.P.R. was to be referred to J. J. Brittain for consideration.

About This And That

George Nowlan, A Native Son, Will Be Long Remembered

The editorial we had already written and which would have occupied this same space in this same issue of The Digby Courier was written in appreciation and tribute to a highly esteemed and living person, George Nowlan, M.P. Suddenly word arrived that Hon. George Nowlan had passed away on Monday morning. We have in sorrow changed our editorial to a tribute in memory of the late George Nowlan, a great man, who was so suddenly snatched from the strain and stress of an exacting and strenuous political life to gain eternal rest in the great beyond. Our deepest sympathy goes out to the Nowlan family and most especially to Mrs. Nowlan who has so faithfully been by the side of her husband in both his political and personal life.

One of Mr. Nowlan's most recent visits to Digby was when he attended a special meeting of the Digby Board of Trade in April. His wisdom was being sought regarding the vital matter of transportation as it affected the community, which he so ably represented in the federal government at Ottawa. Mr. Nowlan received much admiration as he expressed, for his sound and unbiased advice. Though he was sitting in opposition to the government, he readily and willingly engendered understanding of the government's position regarding transportation in the area and gave credit where he honestly felt it to be due, regardless of political affiliations.

But George Nowlan was more to Digby County people than a political figure representing them at Ottawa. There was a much stronger tie and kinship. Digby County took an especially proud interest in the achievements of this great man because George Nowlan was a native son of Digby County. He was born at Havelock in the year 1898. To take advantage of greater educational facilities for their family, Mr. Nowlan's parents moved to Wolfville where their son, George, attended Acadia University, later graduating in law from Dalhousie.

Digby County followed with pride this native son, who, though he had his studies interrupted by service in the Canadian army, rose to be a successful lawyer and later a prominent and capable politician. Admiration by kin and friend was natural as this young man sat in the Nova Scotia legislature at the age of 26, the youngest man ever to sit in the Nova Scotia house.

In federal politics Mr. Nowlan's capabilities steadily moved him to places of responsibility until he became Canada's Minister of Finance in the Diefenbaker government.

The same Mr. Nowlan who had risen high in the political field, whose opinions won the respect and admiration of his colleagues in government, had also experienced defeat during his political career. Both success and defeat, had, no doubt, served in adding to his strength of character, his determination, his understanding and wisdom and his sense of fairness to all.

Today we mourn the passing of this great man with a keen mind, this man who could be a friend of many. But, memory of Hon. George Nowlan as a politician and George Nowlan as a friend will linger long. Digby County citizens, especially, will remember with just pride as history reveals the accomplishments of a colorful native son, George Nowlan.

Save The Forests

Fortunately the end of last week brought rain which reduced the hazards of forest fires to some extent. But the rain did not come in vast proportions and conditions could change quickly. In fact, there is no time when the woodland traveller should not be on guard against careless conditions which might cause a fire. A forest fire is a dangerous and unpleasant thing. It can take lives and it can sap the livelihood of many persons.

Did you know that 15,000 Nova Scotians earn a large part of their income from forest-based industries? Some 18 million trees are felled each year. More than 800 sawmills are operating. There are pulp mills and wood-using plants which produce over 100 wood products ranging from toys to railway ties. The forests in Nova Scotia mean an annual income of $80,000,000. That is a lot of money and some part of that is earned right here in Digby County. We have a responsibility to see that the forests are preserved by us and by the visitors who come to our midst.

Besides providing direct livelihood, Nova Scotia forests provide other services. Quoting from Hon. E. D. Haliburton, Nova Scotia Minister of Lands and Forests, during Forest Conservation Week in May, "Nova Scotia's forests are much more than raw material for the sawmilling and pulp industries. They give shelter to fish, birds, game and fur-bearing animals. They regulate stream flow and provide relaxation and recreation for thousands of Nova Scotians and visitors. A generation ago, there was so much forest and so little demand for it, except by the wood-using industries, that the interests of all could be served. Now, with more leisure time at weekends and longer holidays, a large proportion of the population spends a great deal of its time hunting, fishing and sightseeing. Nova Scotia's forests provide the most attractive environment for these activities."

Be careful. Don't destroy such an important asset by being careless with fire. Save the forests.

Come Home Week

Got some advertising or we should say free publicity material all the way from Newfoundland the other day. They are planning a Come Home Year in 1966. Ever thought of Digby staging a Come Home Week or Come Home Day some year? We surely have lots of people to "come home." Might pay off.

Apple-Cherry Blossom Festival

We sat under the beautiful cherry tree for a while Sunday afternoon until the sneezes came and we realized that under a blossoming cherry tree was no place for a victim of hay fever or rose cold. Might better be enjoying the Annapolis Valley Festival where there were no apple blossoms anyway.

How the valley people would just love to have had those cherry blossoms! Too bad you can't move the festival centre to Digby when the apple blossoms refuse to bloom in Kentville. Could be an Apple-Cherry Blossom Festival and we wouldn't feel so much on the tail-end of festivities.

Who Saw The Float?

By the time The Digby Courier is published this week, we'll know what holiday the Digby float represented in the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival. Frankly, we just do not know at the present time.

We congratulate the Digby Lions for helping to keep Digby on the map by looking after all the details for entering the princess and float in the Apple Blossom Festival. They are helping the festival to attract people to the Valley part of Nova Scotia (some of which would spill over into Digby anyway) but a princess and a float entered in the festival does a splendid advertising job for Digby, we are sure.

We think, however, that the Lions do not get enough credit in Digby for what they are doing so far as the Festival is concerned. We'd like the people of Digby to have an opportunity to see the float and consequently appreciate the efforts of the Lions on this score more than they do. Not too many Digby people visit the Festival in Kentville and miss out entirely on the float.

Incorporated 75 Years

We hope we are not missing the boat. (Take that as you like.) What we mean is that this is the 75th anniversary of the incorporation of the Town of Digby. Are we right? Incorporated 1890. We should celebrate. Don't you think? Just occurred to us when we saw the heading on our tax bill Saturday. Maybe by the time the Courier is out somebody else will also think of it and get cracking.

Anyway, the Digby Recreation Commission is planning an all-out effort to raise $3,900 required to pay off bills and needed repairs to the Digby Forum. Wouldn't be too far fetched if they incorporated the 75th anniversary into some of their money raising schemes which begin July 1st, would it?

After all, the chosen slogan is "Kids Keep Better on Ice. Save the Forum and Save Our Children." Can't have a town without the kids so why not combine two celebrations. Just a thought.

Need Some Entertainment?

Should you need some entertainment for some of these functions, we'll give you a lead. We watched three little majorettes from the colored population of Acaciaville perform on Saturday night and they could really captivate their audience. Performing like veterans, we were surprised to find they had practiced for two whole weeks only. Much credit must go to their instructress, Verona Golar, we're sure. The children seemed to be around five or six years. One had accomplished the art of twirling the baton.

By the way, repeating what was said by one of the town spectators, "I wouldn't have missed this for anything." It was a fashion show put on by the Acaciaville African Baptist Women's Auxiliary and featured mostly the tiny children in their newly made or just bought new togs. Like all children can do, they kept the audience spell bound as they modelled the garments with poise and fearlessness.

Adult garments and hats, which were also featured, definitely showed the skill of fine seamstresses, as most of the garments, neat and well fitted, were home made. The hats, too, were created by the women.

It's three inches taller than a Cadillac.

We didn't believe it, either.

So we measured a Cadillac sedan twice to make sure. And we are three inches taller.

Which is nothing for a VW owner to get swell-headed about.

But even if he did, he'd still have plenty of room for his hat.

From where a lot of people sit, the Volkswagen has always been a roomy car. It has as much legroom in front as most of the big cars you see around.

And for a very simple reason. We put the engine well out of the way in the back of a VW.

Of course, we thought of more than your head and legs, when we built the Volkswagen.

That's why the two front bucket seats in a VW adjust forwards and backwards. And that's why the seat backs can even be moved to three different positions.

Which goes to show that you don't always have to be sitting in the lap of luxury to be comfortable.

1,200 Pay Final Tribute

Upwards of 1,200 people crowded the Wolfville Baptist Church and lined the funeral procession route for the Saturday afternoon funeral services of the Hon. George C. Nowlan.

Leading the mourners from the nation's capital were the Rt. Hon. John Diefenbaker, Opposition Leader and former prime minister, in whose administration Mr. Nowlan served as Revenue and Finance Minister, accompanied by Mrs. Diefenbaker; and Hon. Allan MacEachern, Nova Scotia's representative in the federal cabinet, who officially represented Prime Minister Pearson.

Flying from Ottawa with them to pay final respects to the Digby County native and M.P. for Digby - Annapolis Kings were twenty-five of his colleagues in the House of Commons, including other top-ranking Cabinet ministers and former members of the Diefenbaker government. Hon. H. P. MacKeen, Lieutenant-Governor, and Premier Stanfield led the provincial mourners.

Officiating clergymen were Rev. A. D. MacPherson, Rev. Frank Eaton and Rev. H. C. Olsen. Full masonic honours were accorded at the graveside, under the direction of Dr. R. S. He undertook big tasks. He had a big heart."

Floral tributes from all parts of the country banked two levels of the church front. Hundreds lined the downtown business section as the body was borne from the church to the Wolfville cemetery, high on the hill overlooking the town. Sounding of the Last Post by bugler Benjamin Kyle, of the West Nova Scotia Regiment concluded the graveside services.

Evening Classes Hold Closing

At the closing of Adult Education classes held at Digby Regional High School on Thursday, R. He made special mention of sisters, Mary and Evelyn Atwood, who each completed a full grade at evening classes during the past term. "They have each lived two lives during the past year," Mr. Powell said. "Not only have they successfully completed a year as students, they have also kept steady jobs and have earned a year's living. This is most outstanding," he said.

Mr. Powell reviewed the general courses offered by the adult education classes, and expressed hope that a greater number will accept this opportunity to further their education when classes begin again in the fall.

F. C. Purdy, supervisor of Digby area schools, had high praise for the work carried out by Mr. Powell and by the instructors, Ronald Denton and

Loses Home By Fire

An early morning fire left Harry Clifford, Tiverton fisherman, homeless.

About 2 a.m. Sunday, Mr. Clifford was awakened by a loud explosion. The house was full of smoke and the heat was terrific. He grabbed a suitcase that was near the bed and a radio which belonged to his brother, Wilfred, of Tiverton, and took them outside. When he saw no blaze in the house he decided to climb a ladder to reach his bedroom window, hoping to save some clothing and other valuables. He was part way up the ladder when a neighbor shouted to him that there was fire coming from his kitchen. When Mr. Clifford reached the ground the roof of his home burst into flames.

Mrs. Charles Thimot, a neighbor, alerted sleeping residents by telephone. Others were awakened by the blasting of car horns.

A bucket brigade was formed and a fire apparatus at Freeport was called in to help fight the blaze. However, all efforts to save the house failed. His home was completely destroyed. About six hundred dollars worth of fishing gear belonging to Wilfred Clifford, was also destroyed in the fire.

Mr. Clifford said later he believed the flue exploded between the kitchen ceiling and the roof. His two-story frame home was only partly covered by insurance.

He is a widower and lived alone. His children are married and live on the mainland. At present he is residing at the home of his father, Mr. Byron Clifford, with sister Mariam and brother Wilfred.

Mrs. Baker, who last year had represented the Canadian Red Cross Society at a Red Cross League conference held in Lima, Peru, gave a most interesting travel talk, illustrated by slides of her trip. Altar Frontal Dedicated On Whitsunday, June 6th, the Rector of Trinity Church the Rev. James Pike, dedicated a new red Altar Frontal.

This was a gift from the members of Trinity congregation, Guilds, Womens Auxiliary and the Masonic Lodge, Digby, as well as friends of other Churches, given in memory of the Rector's wife who died in 1964.

For many years, Mrs. Pike had been an active worker as a member and President of Church organizations in the Diocese of Newfoundland and in Nova Scotia. A number of new churches and schools have been erected, due largely to her leadership in fund raising.

After moving to Digby a few years ago, although in poor health, she was President of the Afternoon Guild and Honorary President of the Evening Guild and Womens Auxiliary.

As she had expressed many times her wish that Trinity Church had a red Frontal, it was decided that this be placed in the Church in memory of her and as a tribute to her work in various parts of the Church for many years.

The Frontal, which is very beautiful, was the subject of many favourable comments on Whitsunday.

Use Trees To Meet Needs

Mrs. E. B. Richardson was hostess to the June meeting of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society held at her summer cottage in South Range.

From reports given by the various committees in charge of the projects sponsored by the Garden Club, it was obvious that a great deal of preparatory work has been done to beautify these areas as the season advances.

Reporting on the new project, the president, Mrs. Eva Wendell, forecast these improvements - planters are to be installed in front of the map stand, and on either side of the band stand steps. Baskets are to be hung on the band stand, and a bench kept moved, and a bench kept seaward installed. The aim is to make into one unit the whole area from the Information Bureau to the end of the boulevard.

The guest speaker for the evening was R. S. Morton, Landscape Specialist, Department of Agriculture, Truro. His topic was "New Trends in Tree Planting for Urban Beautification." He showed projected pictures of various species of trees that have been recently developed to meet the current need for trees that provide transmission lines. He discouraged the planting of any type of tree that in time would have to be mutilated to accommodate modern transmission services, or trees that are known to harbor diseases which to date have not been successfully controlled. He noted that the Dutch Elm disease was one of these uncontrollable pests, that it had now spread from Maine to New Brunswick, and nothing could prevent it from reaching Nova Scotia in the course of time. His illustrations and talk also covered proper planting plans for both home grounds and town planning projects.

A workshop on floral arrangements was announced by the Flower Show Committee. It will be in charge of two of the members of this committee, Mrs. Blanche Porter and Mrs. H. M. Warne, and will be held at the Court House in June. Both members and non-members are invited to attend this workshop.

On exhibition was the Garden Club Medal presented by the National Council of State Garden Clubs to the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society for their outstanding Flower Show in 1964.

The hostess, assisted by her co-hostesses, Mrs. Daisy Rugles, Mrs. P. C. Outhouse and Mrs. David Boudreau, served the usual refreshments during the social hour.

What Values A Home?

(Mrs. John Outhouse)
When collecting facts regarding the loss of a home through fire, reporters glibly ask what was the estimate value of your home and its contents?

How does one "estimate" the value of one's home, anyway? The value it offers in protection and shelter is limitless. The comfort and happiness felt in just "being home" is boundless. Pictures of family and friends, articles accumulated that reminds us of earlier days, all become part of one through the years and are priceless in the memories they hold. How does one estimate the value of being able to enjoy the material things one has bought with hard earned money of uxorious comfort to open one's door to this and say "This is Home?"

Reviews Legislation Which Helps Negroes

A review of legislation to help Negroes in Nova Scotia was given by George Matthews, newly appointed director of social development, in an address at the annual meeting of the Acaciaville Community Betterment Association.

In the main, Mr. Matthews said legislation and efforts of provincial authorities is aimed at "helping people to help themselves." He congratulated the people of Acaciaville on their community organization and said one of the first steps in solving community problems is to get the people of the community together to spell out the problem and discuss their possible solutions.

Mr. Matthews said he was impressed with the reports of committees presented at the meeting and with the amount of work accomplished through the organization. He noted there had been some disappointment but said the group should not be discouraged by failure but use it to learn how better to tackle the problem next time.

R. Baden Powell, MLA for Digby, introduced Mr. Matthews and the thanks of the gathering were expressed by Municipal Councillor Marion P. Gott.

The financial report, given by the treasurer, Mrs. Eleanor Elms, showed receipts of $217.05 and disbursements of $208.95. Mrs. Elms in her report stressed the need for adoption of a budget for the year and more attention to the raising of funds needed to keep the community centre operating and for other expenses.

In her report on the adult education committee and the library, Mrs. Elms said both of these were doing well. She stated the adult education classes were now in their second year and that twelve adults were at present attending weekly classes. She said the course given ranged through elementary, junior and senior high school. Additional books were being received for the library facilities. In the adult education program, Mrs. Elms said a rug hooking course had also been held which had been attended by eight women of the community.

Reporting for the social and recreational committee, Mrs. Irving Cromwell stated a weekly program for young people was being continued. She noted also that the Women's Institute continues regular meetings at the community centre. She referred to the vacation school project carried out last summer by students from Cornwall and said much of the program carried on since for the young people was based on techniques learned by helping during the summer program.

Wallace Bailey's report for the agriculture committee noted that two members of the community pasture cooperative recently formed in the county. Hope was expressed blueberry and strawberry growing could be developed in Acaciaville.

For the building and maintenance committee Irving Cromwell expressed disappointment that it had not been possible to organize a class in elementary carpentry. In the matter of maintenance of the community centre, he said finances were the main problem.

Mrs. Robert Borden, reporting for the employment and membership committee, stated a meeting of the employment committee had been held with officials of the National employment service in Yarmouth. She also stated she had made contacts with stores in the local area regarding employment of young people as clerks. No jobs had resulted from these contacts, she said. Regarding membership, she said there was need for more members to make the organization more representative of the community.

Reporting on human rights, association president Rev. W. P. Clayton reviewed the aims and hopes of the organization. He said basic social and employment needs of the community still existed but it was hoped proposed and enacted legislation of the provincial and federal authorities might help in alleviating some of these problems.

In summing up the reports of committees in a motion for adoption, Victor Cardoza, a director of the association, said the reports showed a year of accomplishment. He stressed the need of setting goals and working as a group in an organized manner to achieve them. He agreed an effort should be made to increase membership. He suggested general discussion type meetings in which needs of the community could be properly discussed and then presented in a manner that would propose solutions.

At the election of officers Rev. W. P. Clayton was re-elected president, with Bradford Barton as 1st vice-president and Wallace Bailey as 2nd vice-president. Mrs. Eleanor Elms was re-elected treasurer, with Mrs. Robert Borden as secretary.

It was decided the next meeting would be held on June 21, with a general meeting on June 28. The executive will appoint committee chairmen at the next meeting.

Radiation Physicist Retires

On Friday, May 28, 1965, Gordon H. Cameron, Radiation Physicist, retired from the Department of Health of the City of New York. He was given two parties of farewell at DeLoach House, 2100 Broadway, one given by the staff of the Department of Health and the other by the staff of the Department of Radiation Physics.

Mr. Cameron was one of those who were instrumental in the establishment of the Radiation Physics Department at the City of New York. He was a member of the staff of the Department of Health from 1945 to 1965, and was also associated with the late Dr. G. P. K. in the old Memorial Hospital for Cancer and Allied Diseases.

Following this, he was employed at Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, New York, working on X-ray diffraction and crystal structure determinations, and was also associated with the late Dr. G. P. K. in the old Memorial Hospital for Cancer and Allied Diseases.

For thirty-five years, Mr. Cameron has been employed by the Department of Health, New York City. Initially, he operated a radium emanation plant for the City of New York. However, developing a keen interest in a field of research, he transferred from that facility to the Physics Laboratory at DeLoach House.

It is said that Mr. Cameron has calibrated more X-ray therapy machines than any physicist in the country, and quite possibly, in the world.

Gordon Cameron has co-authored papers on "Depth Dose Measurements for 250 K.V. Roentgen Rays" with C. B. Braestrup and P. McClelland, and "Radiation in Dermatology" with Anthony Domonkos, M.D. He is a member of the Radiological Society of New Jersey, the New York Roentgen Society, the Radiation and Medical Physics Society of New York, the Health Physics Society and the American Association of Physicists in Medicine.

Under Daniel Bergsma, M.D., N. J. State Commissioner of Health, Mr. Cameron taught classes in the advanced technical Civil Defense Rad. course at Princeton, N. J.

He is an alumnus of Newark College of Engineering and of Carteret Academy, Orange, N. J.

With his wife and son, John (a student at Fairleigh Dickinson University), Mr. Cameron resides at 44 Halsey Road, Parsippany, N. J., and at Weymouth North, Nova Scotia, Canada. Another son, Burns, is married and lives in Larchmont, N. Y., with his wife and daughter.

Although retiring from his affiliations with the City of New York, Mr. Cameron will still continue his association with Messrs. Braestrup and Mooney, Radiation Physicists, at 325 East 72 St., N. Y. C.

Mr. Cameron has bought the Manahan House in Weymouth North.

H. & S. Holds Closing

Anniversary

June 10, today, the United Church of Canada celebrates the fortieth anniversary of the union of Presbyterianism, Methodism and Congregationalism. It was on June 10, 1925, in Toronto, that the three churches came together and formed the United Church of Canada.

Into the United Church came the three great heritages which date back into the distant past and bring wisdom, enthusiasm and courage. During the past forty years the United Church has progressed and reached out to the world.

Today the church is showing the progressive spirit in the new curriculum which she has introduced for the teaching of adults and children. Within a few months of publishing, ninety per cent or more of the Church Schools were using the new curriculum.

In 1925, at the time of union, the three churches were working in seven mission stations throughout the world. Today the church is working in thirteen mission stations.

On the United Church crest is the prayer of the Lord Jesus, "That they all may be one." This is the prayer of the church and to make this possible the United Church and the Anglican Church has set up committees to explore this possibility.

Newspaper Man Heads Trade Boards

He joined the News Publishing Company in 1940.

In community work he has served three terms as President of the Truro Board of Trade, is a Past President of the Truro Rotary Club and presently is a member of the Nova Scotia Confederation Centenary Celebration Committee and Secretary of the Truro Area Industrial Commission.

Attending the meeting from Digby were Mayor C. D. Snow and Charles Haliburton, President of the Digby Board.

Economics means nothing now. No use to worry anyhow - There's a thousand things that could be done. What's Nova Scotia without the Sun.

What's the matter with men. That's part of God's race. Are they tired of living in this beautiful place? God gave us the sky. And this beautiful land. Let's reassess it. And live like man.

Integrated Forces At Ottawa

Her Majesty's Canadian Ship Cornwallis will be well represented at the first National Armed Forces Day Ceremony to be held in Ottawa June 12, with 302 officers and men going to the Capital to participate in the parade Saturday morning.

Three companies of 270 men from the New Entry and Communications Divisions and 32 officers and chief petty officers will fly to Royal Canadian Air Force Station Uplands, Ottawa, Friday from RCAF Station Greenwood to march Saturday as a part of the Royal Canadian Navy's contribution to the Armed Forces Parade.

Sex Education

"Let sex education be the responsibility of the home," was the verdict of Annapolis County Home and School during a debate on a resolution put forward "That there be qualified teachers to give sex education in school, and that this should be taught not only from a physical standpoint but also from the moral." Teachers maintained that they had enough to teach now without the added burden of taking on what seemed to them solely a parental duty.

The clergy felt that some kind of education is needed on the subject of sex. Marriage counselling is not always sought, it was said. In fact one minister in the Council spoke of a couple that came to "get hitched" rather after the fashion of yanking out a bad tooth. Obviously, he said, a very "spur-of-the-moment" approach to marriage and parenthood.

Many parents felt a need of a training course in the matter.

The speaker of the evening was unavoidably detained.

The election of officers for the year is as follows:

President, Max Piere, Margaretsville; vice-president, Bill MacLean, Annapolis Royal; corresponding secretary, Mrs. Don Harris, Bridgetown; recording secretary, Mrs. Florence MacNeil, Bridgetown; treasurer, Mrs. Ronald Weagle, Box 48, Annapolis Royal; program convener, Rev. Lewis White, Bridgetown; family life, Mrs. Dianne MacDonald, Margaretsville; publicity, Mrs. Louise Shaw, Bridgetown, R. 1; school life, Mrs. Marjorie Mills, Granville Ferry; membership, Mrs. Peggy Pierce, Margaretsville; audio - visual education, Mr. Will Phinney, Melvern Square.

There will be a display at the Exhibition this year. Volunteers for duty may contact Mr. Haigh, South Farmington, who is chairman of the Committee, or Mr. Bill MacLean, Annapolis, or Mrs. Florence MacNeil, Bridgetown.

The Fall Council is invited to meet at Margaretsville.

Hold Fashion Show

The annual Fashion Show was held in the auditorium of Wey. Consolidated School on Wednesday evening of last week. Students of the Household Science classes fashioned the clothing they had made during the year, under the direction of Mrs. Audrey Frankland who was presented with a gift by the classes. The girls showed fine workmanship and style in their dresses, suits and blouses. The younger girls had fashioned pretty aprons and blouses, which looked trim and neat. Grade X made children clothes and these were modelled by the young misses, with the seamstress. Grade X had also done a handcraft and a dress or suit.

Between class groups, Pat Cosman and Louise Powell played a piano duet "In Hanging Gardens", Miss Sandra Jarvis gave a lovely vocal solo, "Break of Day" and grades VII A, B sang a beautiful choral selection "One Morning in the Meadow" under the direction of Mrs. Rose MacNeill. Misses Arla Barr and Joan Carr described the fashion shown throughout the evening.

Following the fashion show, the Industrial Arts exhibits were on display in the hallway of the school. Mr. Cortland Adams, is supervisor of this department and the fine work displayed, including bell hop ash trays, inlaid lamps and nut bowls, wheel barrows, gun racks, tables, tie racks, funnels, toys, showed excellent workmanship and supervision.

The work being carried on in both these classes are highlights in the training of the school. Young people learning to do practical work, will always find uses for it, whatever their future may be.

OUR FLAG

The Red Ensign was our flag. Of which we were so proud. We held it high, and watched it wave, - And cheered by many a crowd.

It was a symbol of our land. No matter what race or creed. Many a lad gave up his life - So we could all be free.

On battlefields there was no time. To think of flags and such. It was for freedom of our land. - And those they loved so much.

The Ensign now is laid to rest. Along with all the brave. -

And in its place a new flag reigns. So proudly does it wave.

We know it's just a piece of cloth.

With colors bright and new. When we hoist it toward the sky -

We are Canadian through and through.

Each in our way we should be glad.

We have our flag to fly. From Atlantic to Pacific. -

May we ever hold it high.

Mrs. S. Kinney.

Spend July 1st in Digby!

There is much talk, some of it quite loose, about the waning influence and importance of the Christian Church. Out siders who level their guns at sacred things, find a fair amount of glee in proving, at least to their own satisfaction, that the church is finished. They never were for it nor in it in the first place, and their criticism is intended to be anything but constructive.

The Church is the called-out group. These are called out of the world, to be transformed, different and possessors of Eternal life and pardon. Here is a group of imperfect people sinners if you will, who owe their all to the One Who called them from darkness to light. So, let us turn our eyes from earth to heaven. Let us look from man, even man in the church, with all his follies and follies, to the all-sufficient and sinless Saviour, the Lord Jesus Christ Who is Head and Leader of the Church.

I notice that while many attack Jesus they know that He stands as very God, ever living, ever glorified, ever the justifier of His own and ever the judge of those who will not come in simple faith and trust. Failure to preach and to persuade in the Name of our wonderful risen Lord, has given rise to the great vacuum which is being filled with worship of things, with cults and with Communism. If there could come repentance and a burning revival of dependence upon the Son of God, the enemies of the soul would soon be shackled. This can be only by the insistent prayer of the faithful few who have now bowed their knees to Baal. The Baal of our day is secularism, pseudoscience and self.

The Ferry Binds

The following poem was sent to Mayor C. D. Snow from Mrs. D. V. Titus, Lakewood, N. B., to be submitted to The Digby Courier. Mrs. Titus is a native Saint Johner and says — "We in Saint John feel quite strongly about the seriousness of the problem with the C.P.R., in regards to the Princess of Acadia — and I, for one, will try to help keep her with us — in the only way I can."

Harken to me, folks who live here.
There's a story I would tell,
Of our Princess of Acadia,
Dear to old and young as well.

For I've sailed out of the harbor,
On many a summer's day,
And I've passed old Partridge Island,
And into Fundy's Bay.

And across the bright blue waters,
I've watched the fading shore,
And then turned my face to Scotia,
Where the foaming breakers roar.

Now I'm not too smart at figures,
So correct me if I err,
But what other daily service
Can in any way compare?

For the folks across the Fundy,
Send their produce every day,
I have watched the freight loading
For the trip across the bay.

And for tourists from 'way in land,
It's a long remembered thrill,
To sail aboard the Princess,
Out the harbor, calm and still.

'Till they reach the Bay of Fundy,
And on the tossing waves,
To ride the surf-like sailors
From old explorer days.

'Till they see the Point Prim lighthouse,
It's there to show the way,
For the weather's often foggy
Round the shores of Fundy Bay.

There's Victoria Beach and Bay View,
The whole Gut's a lovely place,
And if the weather's sunny,
You can see Cornwallis Base.

From Saint John on to Digby,
Commerce is the golden chain
That binds the provinces together,
Cross the bay, and back again.

And on this chain of friend-ship,
Shining like a jewel so fair,
Is the Princess of Acadia,
May we always keep her there.

Courtesy on the water is just as important as courtesy on the highway. This is Red Cross Water Safety Week in Canada.

If I Turn Up Missing, Look On Lunenburg Moor

Ordinarily, that might sound like a remark of the Courier editor. But it wasn't. The remark was made by an American, the late Lucien Price, and it appears in The Boston Sunday Globe of March 28, 1965. He had written the article shortly before his death about a year ago. The Courier is grateful to Marjorie Larkin for the page from the Globe which is in memory of Mr. Price and which publicizes so many parts of Nova Scotia. Miss Larkin (who spends summers at Rossway) adds that Mr. Price was a classical scholar, a brilliant writer and a delightful personality. He died at age 81, beloved by all. Quite frequently he had talked with Miss Larkin and Ann MacKay about his fondness for Nova Scotia. Miss Larkin, no doubt, expected the Courier editor to be interested in what Mr. Price had to say about the Annapolis Valley and Digby. That was quite true. We print here the last paragraphs of the article:

"Have I given the impression that Lunenburg and Halifax Counties have a monopoly of scenic grandeur and story-book everyday life? You could convict me of being every bit as fanatical a bigot to the whole South, to the Annapolis Valley which in blossom time is Robert Schumann's 'Spring' Symphony transposed into apple orchards, green hills, and blue seawater; while Cape Breton, that islanded fiord, is celebrated by Neil MacNeil in 'The Highland Heart in Nova Scotia', richly flavored, and now happily reprinted in paper-back. Digby is easily, another volume, with its wharf, one arm of the 'X' for the steamer Princess Helene, the other for its famous fleet of scallop druggers on Fundy Bay, which make stories faster than you can write them down, especially in late-lingering twilight of May when the crews have time to talk. The town will be brilliant with dooryard flower gardens, the green footstep of Spring half way up the huge hillsides, and sunrise a blazing red cannonball which bounds up from the eastern heights beyond the basin's glassing water, seen over hedges of purple lilac and frowls of apple blossom. So, like a bas-relief, this does not end; it just stops. How it was that I lost my heart to this land and its people, never got it back, nor wanted to, I do not pretend to understand. They used to say that good Americans, when they die, go to Paris, or now, to Hawaii. Not for me.

If I turn up missing, look for me on the great Lunenburg moor where, having found myself, I can lose myself in a world of poetic imagination."

Of course, having another love besides Digby, viz. Lunenburg Co., the Digby Courier editor was most interested in the article on Lunenburg and the LaHave River — also Felsen South misspelled in the article, we believe, Felsen South for Feltzen South. Capt. Alex Ross mentioned, we expect was from the LaHave river and a neighbor, while we expect Laurence Ross might have been a cousin although we do not know of him becoming a Lutheran bishop. While the article was mostly on Lunenburg County, there were few parts of Nova Scotia not mentioned. We are sure Lunenburg citizens would be interested in the page in the Globe.

A native of Tiverton, Digby County, Mr. Small was educated at Tiverton School, Acadia University and Nova Scotia Technical College. He graduated in 1949 with a bachelor's degree in mechanical engineering.

Before his appointment, Mr. Small was employed on a part-time basis as an engineer with the Nova Scotia Department of Fisheries and was manager of Small Brothers Limited, of Tiverton. He previously held positions in Ontario as project engineer with Cockshutt Farm Equipment, and engineer with Richards Wilcox Ltd.

Mr. Small is president of both the Fundy Board of Trade and Tiverton Home & School Association.

He is married and has two children.

He is well known throughout Nova Scotia as Manager of the Nova Scotia Water Authority and through his activity with the Reserve Army and the Emergency Measures Organization.

Passes Course

Miss Joan Hattie, R.N., has successfully passed a two-months course in psychiatry at the Angus State Hospital, San Jose, California.

Miss Hattie is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hattie, Warwick Street, Digby.

"Get all the general education you can carry, but before leaving school be sure there is one thing that you can master. Have an aim in life, look for a service you can render, then strive to reach that goal." These were words of E. K. Ford, retired director of vocational education in Nova Scotia, as he addressed the 1965 graduates of Digby Regional High School, Tuesday evening.

Today's students are better educated than those of years ago, Mr. Ford said. Education facilities are more readily available to all today, and scholarships, fellowships and free tuition prizes serve as incentive as well as assistance. "As individuals you should prepare mentally and physically to go any place with the school facilities available today," he said.

The 1965 graduate should prepare for a change in occupation three times during a lifetime, Mr. Ford said. "New types of occupations spring up continually, while others become obsolete." Tonight ask yourselves three most important questions. Where are you going? What are you to do when you get there? Why are you going to do it? Ponder them thoroughly. Your answers should put "strength in your will, guidance into your path, and peace into your soul," the speaker said. Mr. Ford was introduced by R. Baden Powell, M.L.A., and thanked by Dr. D. E. Lewis.

Keith Raymond, School Board chairman, reported that the 1965-'66 D.R.H.S. enrolment will approach 1,000, and as yet there are some vacancies on the teaching staff. An emergency program set up by the provincial department of education may help to ease the shortage problem, he said.

F. C. Purdy, Supervisor of Digby area schools, said that the school's industrial arts department may be forced closed due to the teacher shortage.

The valedictory address was given by Miss Gilda Kempton. Music was provided by brothers Richard and Jack Wenaus, accompanied by Miss Katherine Hebb, pianist.

It was announced that the 1965 Student's Council have decided to pay for the installation of fluorescent lights in the display cabinets of the senior school, and have also donated $300.00 to the new Digby General Hospital, which brings their contribution to the hospital to a total of $1,000.00.

Study Points N.S.-N.E. Ferry

A firm of consulting engineers has been retained by the Nova Scotia Department of Trade and Industry to carry out a study on the terminal points for a proposed second Nova Scotia - New England ferry service.

Premier Robert L. Stanfield has announced that A. D. Margison and Associates Limited are carrying out the investigation which will be jointly financed by the federal and provincial governments.

The advantages of possible alternative terminal points are to be assessed in terms of convenience and service to the public, including the potential impact on business development. Regard will be had for cost in relation to economic benefits.

Called To Two Fires

Bear River Fire Department was called to two fires in Smith's Cove over the weekend. The first was on Saturday afternoon when a large barn owned by Rev. George Bell was destroyed by fire. The other was early on Monday morning when fire was discovered at the new Consolidated School at Smith's Cove.

Much praise and gratefulness was expressed to the firemen from Bear River for their prompt aid. This was especially voiced as the men were under no obligation to answer calls to Smith's Cove community, according to a spokesman from the village. Their willingness was greatly appreciated.

Entertains Hospital Auxiliary

Mrs. Marion Gott was host-ess to the monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Digby General Hospital held at the Hedley House, Smith's Cove.

That the organization was exceedingly active during the period between meetings was very apparent. It was reported that the Florence Nightingale Tea held in the cafeteria of the new hospital on May 12th in charge of the following committee Mrs. Allen Harris, Mrs. Barbara Weir, Mrs. Wallace Hodgson, Mrs. Sidney Smith, Mrs. Charles Hersey and Mrs. E. J. Theriault.

raised $61.00, and that the Rummage Sale, under the chairmanship of a committee headed by Mrs. Clayton Snow, added $239.62 more to the treasury. In addition a canteen has been established at the hospital manned by volunteer helpers every day of the week from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. This canteen has been well stocked, and is daily increasing its sales.

An invitation to visit the Southville-Riverdale Auxiliary at their regular meeting, which will be held on June 18th, was accepted.

Further plans were made for the Hospital Bazaar to be held on August 18th.

Children Found In Bog

Kevin and Stephen, three-year-old twins of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Thibodeau, Ashmore, are safe and sound at their home and probably no worse for their experience.

On Wednesday morning the two little boys started out to visit their grandmother, a few houses away on the Leviston Road. After some time when the children did not arrive, a search party with R.C.M.P. was organized. The children, wet to the skin, were found in a bog in the wooded area of the district.

Little League Plans Set

A good turnout of boys is expected at the ball park on Saturday morning, June 26, to register with the Digby Little Baseball League. The league will be the same as last year, with the exception that this year another team of boys 13-15 years old will be entered in the Nova Scotia playdowns. The team will be coached by Bill McLeod, assisted by Don Brown. Boys in this age group will also be registered with the league on June 26.

Dairyman Discovers School On Fire

Digby R.C.M.P. are investigating vandalism and possible arson attempt which occurred at Smith's Cove elementary school during the weekend. Evidence of vandalism was discovered Monday morning by a passing dairy truckman who noticed broken windows and smoke. Lloyd Robinson, school janitor, was immediately contacted.

It was apparent that an effort had been made to set fire to the seven-room school. A mattress and waste material had been ignited in the furnace room, filters removed from the furnace system and the thermostat raised to 90 degrees. The fact that the furnace room is in a separate cement-walled section of the building prevented the fire from gaining further headway before discovered. The Bear River Fire Department responded to a call for help to deal with the fire. The door of the furnace room and a number of storm windows stored in the room were burned and smoke from the blaze filled the building.

Some 29 windows in the school had been broken by the vandals. Quantities of liquid soap were splashed over the school room walls and several gallons dumped on the furnace room floor. Blackboards in the classrooms and some of the windows were written on with a substance which appeared to be aluminum paint.

Pupils from the school were taken by bus to Digby Regional High School for classes the remainder of the week. It is understood that closing exercises of the Smith's Cove School scheduled for Friday morning will be held at Digby Regional High School.

Greedy Fish; Hungry Snake

Chester Kaulback, on a recent fishing trip, hooked but couldn't land, a large fish which he thought was a trout. It broke off his hook, sinker and spinner, and swam away. A few minutes later his wife landed a large perch which she threw in the bushes. Passing that way later, Mr. Kaulback was surprised to see his golden spinner sticking out of the mouth of the large perch. The greedy fish, with a mouth full, had still taken the second bait and so lost all that he had gained.

On the same trip, Mr. Kaulback also caught a large sculpin which he threw in the bushes. On hearing a rustling noise some time later he was surprised to see a large greyish snake wriggling backwards dragging the fish by the head, into which it had firmly hooked its fangs.

Releases New Publication

A panorama of Nova Scotia, "Canada's Area of Achievement" is contained in the province's newest publication released by Trade and Industry Minister W. S. K. Jones.

The 21-page brochure features 80 photographs, several of them in color. Two maps are included: Samuel De Champlain's concept of the Atlantic region of Canada and a modern map showing Nova Scotia's central location in relation to the Western Hemisphere.

"Since the days of the early explorers, the Province of Nova Scotia has been part of the new world," Mr. Jones says in his introduction.

"Centuries ago, men of courage and of vision settled here because it offered new opportunities for them and for those who would come after them."

"During the intervening years, the province has gained many rewards from the foresight of those who laid the groundwork for progress."

"Scan the list of new Nova Scotia companies and you will see that our manufacturing late industry has attracted investment from the United States, England, Sweden, Italy and Holland, as well as firms from Central Canada. Like the early settlers, they see opportunity for profit and a good life for their people in Nova Scotia."

Scholarship Winner

Miss Doreen Atkinson has been awarded a $1,500 entrance scholarship to Acadia University and is winner of the Lieutenant Governor's Award in recognition of high level of achievement in placing first on the 1964 Grade XI provincial examinations for the Digby area.

She has also been awarded the Canadian Legion Memorial Award, presented annually to the D.R.H.S. student for loyalty and enthusiasm to the school and its program.

Rescind Order Time & Half

Harry L. Rincey, Chairman of the Minimum Wage Board, announced June 9 that a General Minimum Wage Order rescinding a previous Order made on February 20, 1965, has been approved by Government Council and will become effective on the 19th of June.

As a result of representations made to the Board from both labour and management the Minimum Wage Board has given careful and intense consideration to revisions proposed by both groups. The Board feels that Minimum Wage Regulations should apply generally as minimum social standards and the Board has, therefore, deleted the provisions of the previous order which exempted employees who were covered by collective agreement until December 31, 1965. These employees are now immediately included within the provisions of the new Order.

Because it was made known to the Board that the overtime provisions of time and one-half the regular rate of the employee levied hardships on certain classes of employers, the Board has suspended this provision, provided that work in excess of 48 hours in a week is paid at a rate of not less than time and one-half the minimum rate.

To assist those establishments engaged in tourist operations, specifically motels, hotels, restaurants and tourist resorts, the new Order provides that during the period June 15 to September 15, an employer may employ in his establishment experienced employees up to 60 per cent of his total working force. This is in variance to the general provision of 25 per cent.

Certain other revisions have been made to clarify the provisions of the previous Order.

Gidney, son of Mrs. Clifton Gidney and the see that our manufacturing late industry has attracted investment from the United States, England, Sweden, Italy and Holland, as well as firms from Central Canada. Attending the graduation exercises were his mother and sister, Mrs. Edgar Frost.

About This And That

Protect The Birds

A young girl on Warwick Street took in the injured little bird. She tried without success to nurse it back to health. This in itself was disappointing of course. But worse than that was the fact that the child was disappointed in human beings. How could children be so cruel to stop to injure an innocent little creature like a bird? It is hard to understand, isn't it?

The bird referred to was seen being willfully injured by some young boys. There are others, maybe, which get the same treatment and are left to die without the nursing care of a tender hearted little girl.

Parents have a duty to teach children to care for birds and animals. Story telling or conversation with the child can bring out protective instincts instead of cruelty. Sympathy for the life of small creatures could be a protection to human life.

Play Safe In Water

Last week we were sorry to report a drowning accident. We also reported someone adrift on a raft. This prompts us to warn parents that school is closing soon. Warm sunny holidays will be attracting children to lakes, rivers and seashore.

We are not advocating to keep children away from the water but we are urging that parents help the children to learn to swim well. We are suggesting, too, that children or adults should not go alone to swim whether they are good swimmers or not. Further we are suggesting that persons who cannot swim should not depend on rafts, tire tubes or other floating devices for safety in the water. These can give a false sense of security and the person can be carried away beyond their depth. Learn to swim and not to depend on floating objects.

Also warning should go to the young people about overly loaded boats and carelessly handled boats. A boat is not a wrestling or boxing arena. Don't use it as one. Enjoy the sail without gymnastics and you might save your own life or that of someone else.

Green Eyed With Envy

We were green eyed with envy when one of the weeklies appeared on our desk last week. There in large, bold, three-inch letters across the front page of the Pictou Advocate was the word CAUSEWAY. Just couldn't help wishing it had been The Digby Courier announcing a causeway across Petite Passage, Bear River or the Sissiboo.

We are sure we are forgiven for our green eyed envy. Envy is so natural to the forgotten or neglected child. And truthfully we are really beginning to feel like the forgotten child. Our built up hopes were suddenly dashed when the Princess of Acadia wharf project fell through. We see little visible activity towards the new fishermen's wharf although we haven't given up hopes on the promises. We haven't been able to induce industry to locate here and with all the "gifts from the gods" passing us by we feel a bit neglected or forgotten.

True, we have the tourist industry and if we don't make the most of it we are to blame. But the tourist industry in western Nova Scotia is running up against some strong competition from the east, the flame of which had been fanned to a blaze by excellent publicity.

We were interested in the press account of Mayor Hector Hill's address in Yarmouth regarding industrial expansion in Truro. These ingredients were in his recipe for industrial expansion — working capital, available land, good public relations, informed press, good water, sewage, power and transportation facilities, proper atmosphere created through educational facilities, churches and social and recreational facilities. Whether or not the ingredients were named in order of importance we do not know, but we do feel that the first one named might be the hardest one for us to achieve. Money makes money, so where do we get the capital we need?

Where hard facts of business alone are concerned we must make the most of that which will produce most successfully for us, it's true. Where people are concerned it is different. We would think it so fair in this area if somebody started to consider this area in the light of people for a while instead of a straight business venture.

Forgive us if we envy our neighbors. We're feeling like the forgotten child.

We had just been to see the crown jewels. Now we sat on a bench, in front of the White Tower, watching the queue winding its way into the Bloody Tower.

It was very hot that Thursday in London. The girl from Manchester took off her shoe, and rubbed her heel. A Negro child, in high pitched British accent, called to a group of his school chums. An Indian woman, in a sari, flung an incongruous looking tartan jacket over her shoulder, as she reached for her child's hand. The child, in a fluffy nylon dress, and gold earrings, responded with a warm, flashing smile. A long haired mod youth, in a jacket without lapels, glanced contemptuously in the direction of a long haired youth, in a leather jacket.

"There is no such thing," I remarked with the authority of one who has already spent two days in a foreign city, "as a typical Londoner." The girl from Manchester, who had been to London once before, as a child of seven, agreed. We leaned back on the bench, in the shade, and with the superior knowledge of people who had already seen the Bloody Tower, watched the slow progress of the queue.

In two days in London, I had discovered that the man in the black suit, with the bowler hat and tightly rolled umbrella, not only really exists, but is quite prevalent. I had always been more or less suspicious that he had been dreamed up by the tourist industry, like Halifax's Jolly Tar. I was surprised to find that mods and rockers really exist as well. When I talked to a friend's baby-sitter, I learned that, just as the papers have been claiming, these rival camps are very important to the lives of British teenagers. One got almost used to seeing young men, in shoulder length hair, with or without beards, either nattily or sloppily dressed, and those curiously clean looking girls, in straight, shoulder length hair, no lipstick and Cleopatra style eye make up.

The one thing all Londoners have in common, is the ability to instantly recognize a non-Londoner. There are little men who pop out of corners, trying to sell, for two shillings, pictures which they have just taken of us walking in front of some historic spot, but those overt manifestations of recognition are an exception. The general Londoner's attitude toward us strangers in their midst, is more subtle. It is a sort of gentle and curious, kindly brand of contempt, which is felt, rather than known.

A Londoner need not, I gather, be either white, Anglo-Saxon, or Protestant, those three bulwarks of the English nation, or need he have lived in London for the major part of his life, to pass inspection. Londoners, whether they are wearing bowlers, turbans, or fezz, never look at other Londoners. The African, his tribal tattoos plainly visible on his cheeks, in spite of his proper London suit and bowler, whom I had seen entering the turnstile at Kensington Park Zoo, followed by three wives and a bevy of giggling children, aroused considerably fewer curious glances than we did. We presumed this multiple family had been in London long enough, and had grasped the London way of life well enough to be assimilated into that peculiar anonymity which comes with acceptance.

It was past noon. The girl from Manchester sighed, and stood up. "Shall we get something to eat?" she suggested. A small boy in short pants and a school tie paused a second to look at me more closely. I made a futile effort to hide my camera and fold my cardigan so the MADE IN CANADA label would not show.

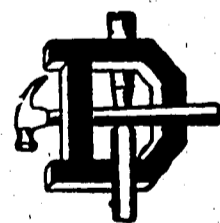

"Excuse me!" said a voice with an American accent. "How do you get to the underground from here?"

I had come on the underground in the morning. I knew the answer.

Swinging my camera, and with a new spring in my step, I tossed my MADE IN CANADA sweater over my shoulder, and, with the girl from Manchester, merged unnoticed with the crowd in the restaurant.

Sponsors Film

Bear River Baptist Church is sponsoring a Billy Graham film "World's Fair Presentation". The film is based on the story of two young people who are united by the film during the first season of its operation. The encounter of the two young people and their growing friendship during a day at the Fair, is the vehicle through which film viewers are at once entertained, informed and inspired.

The story climax takes place in the Billy Graham Pavilion where the wide screen motion picture "Man In the 5th Dimension" makes its impact on the film principals. The young couple's impressions of the unusual cinema presentation become a symbol of the actual response by thousands who have found spiritual meanings and purpose to life amid the glitter and excitement of New York World's Fair.

CANADA'S NEW LABOUR CODE/Hon. Allan MacEachen, Minister of Labour, answers some questions:

"Our new Canada Labour Code has been called a 'first,' Mr. MacEachen. Would you agree?"

"Yes, and it is one of the most all-embracing. Canada has a right to be proud of it. It sets higher standards than have been set for any other country I know. Other countries are taking note of the way Canadian Parliament is ensuring that more workers share in this country's growth."

"Briefly, who does this new Code apply to?"

"It applies to industries which fall under Federal jurisdiction — and may well prove to be a guide for other industries. The Government itself, which is a large employer in its own right, will take the lead by applying the Code's standards to its own federal employees."

"Let's get down to specifics. What, exactly, does it promise to those employees who are affected by it?"

"As we said, it sets minimum standards — and I stress that these are minimum, because, of course, a lot of workers already enjoy higher standards than the Code sets."

First, it sets a standard 8 hour day and a 40 hour week, with overtime limited to 8 hours a week, and paid for at time-and-a-half.

Second, it sets the minimum wage rate for all men and women over 17 years of age at $1.25 an hour.

Next, it provides for two weeks annual vacation with pay, after one year's service; or 4% of wages as vacation pay for those with from 30 days to a year's service.

Finally, it stipulates that each employee shall get eight statutory holidays with pay a year — or get a full day off in lieu of the holiday."

"You said the new Code applies to industries under Federal jurisdiction. Would you name them?"

"The Code covers interprovincial or international rail and highway transport, primary fishing where the fishermen work for wages, air transport, radio and TV, shipping, banks, uranium mining, grain elevators, flour and feed mills and warehousing, seed cleaning mills, interprovincial or international pipelines and ferries, interprovincial or international telegraphs and telephones, most Crown corporations and one or two other smaller industries."

If you are not sure whether you are covered by the Canada Labour (Standards) Code, write to Department of Labour, Ottawa.

R. J. Peppard, representing the Maritime Telephone & Telephone Co., Ltd., was special guest at a meeting of the Clare chamber of commerce held at the court house at Little Brook. Mr. Peppard's presence was due to a pre-arranged representation made by the chamber regarding improved telephone service in the municipality of Clare, and the installing of a dial system.

Mr. Peppard stated that the situation in Clare had been studied and three items were proposed by his company: (1) a poll of public opinion of telephone users in Clare must be made before establishing a free calling exchange between Saint-Nierville and Meteghan exchanges; (2) combining the Meteghan-Saint-Nierville-Weymouth exchange into a free calling exchange with an extra charge of 25 cents per month for telephones in residences and 75 cents for businesses being made; (3) reducing the rate for purpose lines to 10 phone lines instead of the 15 as at present.

He stated that the four-party line is available for subscribers, but they are not taking advantage of it.

A request was made by a representative of the Salmon River subscribers that they be transferred to the Meteghan exchange rather than with the Port Maitland exchange. This was because their business is mainly in Clare and such service would be of greater value to them than the present one. Mr. Peppard mentioned that he would meet with representatives of Salmon River to see if a solution to this problem could be worked out.

The earliest possible time to have the changeover made in Clare, stated Mr. Peppard, would be at least two years, provided that this area was first in line for the changeover.

A letter from the Canadian Broadcasting Company was received by the Chamber, written on May 4, which stated that the Corporation has plans for a French language station at Yarmouth. This will serve the southwesterly area of Nova Scotia. Relocation and more power for the English language station in Yarmouth have also been made in the design of the new tower to accommodate the antenna for the French language station.

The Clare Chamber of Commerce has also been advised that the CBC-TV programs from Halifax may be received in the Clare area when the relocation and increase in power of the Yarmouth outlet is completed. At the present time the Saint John television programs are received up to Maville with good reception but other areas must receive their television programs from the Yarmouth satellite station.

J. Medrie Comeau, chairman of the tourist committee, reported that the construction of the new tourist bureau is progressing and should be completed within a week or ten days. The bureau is situated near the provincial picnic park at Meteghan. It overlooks the cove commonly called "Smugglers Cove" with its natural cave which rises to a height of 35 feet and penetrates to a distance of over 50 feet.

Planning Ox-Pulls

The ox-pull, long a popular sport on the province's South Shore, will come in for a major facelift this summer.

Orland Johnson, of Bridgewater, announced that a Nova Scotia Ox-Pulling Association would be formed at a meeting which was held in the Masonic Hall at Caledonia on Tuesday, June 15th.

The new association's function will be to assist county fairs in promoting ox-pulls. At the same time organizers are hopeful that a standard set of rules and regulations for the sport will be adopted.

The association hopes to add a professional touch to the promotional aspect of the sport with the aim of winning more widespread spectator interest.

Long a key ingredient in county fairs throughout the province, the ox-pull in Nova Scotia enjoys world renown.

Dr. Haycock Retires

Dr. Maurice H. Haycock, formerly of Wolfville, N. S. and now of Ottawa, retires at the end of June from his association with the Department of Mines, after nearly half a century.

This means that Dr. Haycock can devote more time to a number of activities ranging from music to painting. He is a lifetime friend of landscape painter A. Y. Jackson, and has been his companion on northern trails from Newfoundland to the Yukon.

He has held a number of highly successful one-man exhibitions. On retirement he plans again to journey to Canada's Arctic Islands.

Maurice Hall Haycock was born in Wolfville, N. S., the son of Ernest and Priscilla Hall Haycock. He is of United Empire Loyalist descent, and his forebears on both sides were of sturdy seafaring stock. In the vanished era of the sailing ships, both Haycocks and Halls were captains of vessels plying the seven seas.

In the first World War Maurice then a sturdy athlete of 15, enlisted with the Seaforth Highlanders. He returned to Nova Scotia in 1917 and entered Horton Academy.

His father, a graduate of Harvard was professor of Geological explorations with the late Dr. Lullow J. Weeks, one of Canada's most outstanding civil servants. His shipmates in this Arctic adventure, included A. Y. Jackson, the late Sir Frederick Banting and Dr. L. D. Les Livingstone.

On returning from the Eastern Arctic, he entered Princeton, to pursue post graduate studies in geology and mineralogy, obtaining his degree of Dr. of Philosophy in 1931.

Notice to Seamen, Shipowners and Operators

The MERCHANT SEAMEN COMPENSATION ACT (Canada) under which employment injury benefits are provided to seamen, as defined, has been amended. The following improvements in benefits were made effective May 1, 1965:

The 'waiting period' is reduced to 3 days.

The maximum amount of annual earnings used for calculating compensation is raised to $5,000.

The minimum amount of compensation payable for total temporary disability or for total permanent disability is increased to $25 per week, except where earnings are less than this amount.

The monthly allowances to dependent children and orphans may be continued to age 21 to assist in furthering their education.

The maximum amount allowable for burial expenses of a deceased seaman is raised to $300.

In addition, and with effect from April 1, 1964, the monthly pension being paid to widows and children who are dependants of seamen killed prior to June 1, 1957, are increased by amounts that bring these old awards up to the level of current benefits for such dependants. These supplementary payments will be paid to the beneficiaries directly by the Merchant Seamen Compensation Board and will be subject to the same general terms and conditions as apply to the compensation payable under this Act.

Responsibility of Employer

The general responsibilities imposed by the Act upon the employer continue unchanged and include his obligation to:

COVER by insurance or other means satisfactory to the Merchant Seamen Compensation Board, the risks of compensation arising under the Act;

REPORT in the manner prescribed to the Merchant Seamen Compensation Board at Ottawa the occurrence of an accident that may involve compensation, within 60 days of its happening;

PROVIDE to the seaman entitled to compensation such medical, surgical and dental aid, and hospital and skilled nursing services; also such artificial member and apparatus and dental appliances as may be necessary as a result of the injury;

PAY compensation in the manner and to the extent provided by the Act except where the accident is attributable solely to the serious and wilful misconduct of the seaman unless the injury results in death or serious disablement.

Responsibility of Seaman

It is the responsibility of the seaman who suffers personal injury by accident arising out of and in the course of his employment to promptly notify the officer-in-charge. The seaman's interests are better served when particulars of the accident are supplied correctly and completely, including the names of witnesses.

COVERAGE UNDER THE MERCHANT SEAMEN COMPENSATION ACT

The Act provides coverage to seamen (or their dependants) who are employed on a ship registered in Canada or chartered by demise to a company operating in Canada when the ship is engaged in trading on a foreign voyage or on a home-trade voyage as these are defined in the Canada Shipping Act.

The Act does not cover seamen (or their dependants) who are entitled to claim compensation under a provincial workmen's compensation law or under the Government Employees Compensation Act nor does it apply to fishermen or pilots.

Enquiries with respect to the application and operation of the Act should be addressed to the Secretary of the Board at Ottawa.

J. H. CURRIE,
Secretary.

CAMPBELL — In loving memory of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Campbell.

One year ago our parents were called.

To their eternal rest.

Gone where the angels sing so sweet.

And taken when God knew best.

We miss them here so very much.

Their presence off seems nigh.

But we all hope in Heaven to meet.

Where no one says good-bye.

Sadly missed by the family

David Tizzard, manager of the Kentville branch of the Bank of Montreal, stated that a closer understanding should exist between local bank managers and the sellers and buyers in the Christmas tree industry. He said that banks are helpful to businessmen in many ways, and they will assist in determining the credit

panies.

Merlyn Wright, Maritime manager of Kirk's Ltd. (a large Christmas tree company) described his company's operation methods. He said that they own several woodland properties on which they farm

sawlogs, pulpwood and Christmas trees, and they have found by trial and error that it does not pay to cut small spruce, pine and hemlock before they are mature. His company is Editor Letter to the Bear River, N.S.

June 11, 1965

To the Editor:

After reading the article in the Digby Courier regarding the students of the Bear River School, I am sure that you will find it interesting. I am sure that the students of the Bear River School are not the hoodlums that you are suggesting. I am sure that the students of the Bear River School are the same as the students of the other schools in the area. I am sure that the students of the Bear River School are the same as the students of the other schools in the area.

It is such a thing as mentioned above why some children leave school. Bear River School has turned out some fine young men and women in the past and the Lord willing will continue to do so in the future.

The so-called hoodlums of Bear River are not all local teenagers so why class a group of students as this category.

An Interested Parent.

Loses Life By Drowning

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning for twelve-year-old Patrick Michael Robinson, who drowned Sunday afternoon when he fell into swirling tide waters under a railway bridge at Joggins Bridge. Navy divers found the body a few hours later on tidal flats, seaward from the village. It was feared the body would be carried to sea by tidal currents.

The boy, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Robinson, of Joggins Bridge, was playing with other children under the railway bridge when the mishap occurred. It is understood that a companion made an attempt to rescue him before he disappeared in the rushing waters.

He is survived by his parents, two brothers and two sisters.

Digby Co. Men Members St. John Ambulance

The prospect of establishing St. John Ambulance first aid as part of the school training in Nova Scotia was voiced at the 73rd annual meeting of Nova Scotia Council of St. John held in Halifax.

Mr. Sarty said that the prospect of establishing a first aid training program in the public schools of Nova Scotia had been brightened by Premier Stanfield's reaction to a brief submitted by St. John Ambulance requesting that first aid be incorporated into the regular course of studies. The institution of such a program, he said, had also been recommended by the manager of the Nova Scotia Accident Prevention Association and the Medical Director of the Emergency Measures Organization in Nova Scotia.

A study is being made, Mr. Sarty reported, by the officials of the Nova Scotia Department of Education with a view to incorporating these courses of study in the health course. At the present time, it was also shown, many schools, individually and on their own initiative, have been teaching first aid courses both junior and senior for certificates, with New Glasgow schools qualifying all junior pupils in a first aid course based on the "Fundamentals of First Aid."

Digby County members of the executive are:

Supervisor Departing

Mr. Bradford Finigan, Freeport has announced his resignation from activities in the Islands Consolidated School.

Mr. Finigan native of Freeport has spent 22 years in the teaching profession. Half of that time he spent in his own community first, as high school teacher and for the past four years as principal of Islands Consolidated School and supervisor of schools for both Long Island and Westport.

"I have seen a great many students pass during these twenty-two years," he recalled. "During those early teaching years I visualized a new, modern school that would be better equipped to accommodate students of the island. Four years ago that dream became a reality. It was the Consolidated school that brought me back from Bridgetown where I was teaching."

On behalf of the student body, Miss Judy Welch presented Mr. Finigan with a gift. In thanking Miss Welch and the students, Mr. Finigan said, "Saying good-bye, is like writing one's own obituary. I can only say I will always have thoughts of the island, and I hope the students have enjoyed having me as much as I have enjoyed my stay with them." Then he added, "I expect to be teaching in Bridgetown. Anytime any of you are passing through the valley, just come to me and say, 'Hello, Brad.'"

Presentations were made on behalf of the choir by the president, Fred Fullerton, to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Stark, who were recently married; Miss Queed Johnson, who attends Dalhousie University Summer School, and Kendall Abramson, who attends Acadia University Summer School.

Graduate In Nursing

Among the graduates from Yarmouth Regional Hospital School of Nursing last week were Misses Maxine Alice Andrews, North Range; Beatrice Shirley Comeau, Marshfield; Carol Louise Daley, Culloden; Carol Myrna Harding, Havelock; and Treasure Diane Hickling, of Granville Ferry.

Michael Macdonald, executive director of the N. S. Hospital Commission, was guest speaker at the graduation exercises. Even with ever increasing demands for higher education and the stress placed on specialization, the nurse's personal touch with her patient is what motivates her to enter nursing as a career, the speaker said.

C. Wilnot Dean, chairman of the hospital board, presided at the exercises.

Among those who graduated from the Halifax Infirmary School of Nursing on Sunday were Misses Judith Ann Hattie, Digby; Margaret Elaine Veinot and Linda Jane Amaro, both of Plymouth.

Andre Joseph Boudreau, of Concession, graduated from the School of Medical Technology and Cecil Roy Miller, Smith's Cove, from the School of X-Ray Technology.

Guest speaker at commencement exercises held at St. Patrick's High School Auditorium was Sister Alice Michael, Ph.D.

Discussing recent visits to Canadian and American hospitals and schools of nursing, Sister Alice Michael said there is a "growing tendency to group the many and varied programs of nursing into two separate categories of nursing service and nursing education."

"Nursing service," she said, "seems to expect the ideal nurse, while nursing education, the ideal hospital. Perhaps both will come closer to reality when nursing service and nursing education have more frequent frank and objective round-table discussion," Sister Alice Michael said.

Students Receive Honours

During his address to the graduates of the Islands Consolidated School, Bradford Finigan, supervisor, expressed special congratulations to two outstanding students, Miss Margaret Prime, grade twelve student who received a $200.00 bursary from Acadia University.

Bruce received further congratulations for winning $100.00 for a story written during a recent Province-wide short story contest sponsored by the Liverpool Kwanis Club. Students were allowed to choose their own topic. Bruce wrote an exciting story that deals mostly with fishing. Mr. Finigan announced the story will be published in the Atlantic Advocate in the near future.

Bruce is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Outhouse of Tiverton.

Certificates were presented to the graduating students by trustee, Herbert Cossaboom, teachers, Mrs. Florence Thibert, Mrs. Delta Hooper, Mrs. Ruth Outhouse and Mr. Keith Manzer.

Mrs. Hooper, in her address, compared education with a small boy depositing pennies in his bank. Eventually emptying his bank, he was amazed to discover he had accumulated the "huge" sum of $2.75! Said Mrs. Hooper, "The same applies to education. We get out of it only what we put in to it." She urged students to apply themselves diligently to their studies.

Mrs. Sharon Shaw, drama instructor, commented on behind the scenes activity which audiences are not aware of. She said there must be good co-operation and good humor among the players to produce

Forest Fires Under Control

A serious forest fire, first discovered at 1 p.m. on Tuesday in the Hill Grove Sheldburne Road district, about five miles from Digby, was brought under control late the same day. The flames lost their fierceness as winds died down, burning on a one-mile front the fire covered about 125 acres.

Firefighters were hampered by a lack of water. Two large tank trucks were used to transport water to the fire scene from a lake about five miles away. Planes from the department of lands and forests flew over the area, but at time of going to press it was not known if they were helping to fight the fire or not. The fire began adjacent to a section destroyed thirteen years ago. Cause of the blaze is not known.

Emergency rations were supplied to about eighty fire fighters by the Digby branch Red Cross Society. Late Wednesday the fire was still burning but was reported under control. The fighters remain near to keep a careful watch.

Forest Fire At Victoria Beach

A forest fire has been burning since early Wednesday in Victoria Beach. It is understood that the blaze is concentrated in a stand of tall spruces about one-quarter mile east of Charles Taylor's store, and it appears to be under control. Officials of the department of lands and forests are at the scene.

Celebrates Anniversary

Rev. Ian F. MacKinnon M.A., B. D., Ph. D. Professor of Church History, Pine Hill Divinity Hall, Halifax, will be guest speaker on Sunday morning when Grace United Church celebrates its 105th anniversary.

The history of Grace United Church goes away back to 1819 when Reverend Sampson Busby began the erection of a church in some central part of town, probably about where the Parsonage now stands. The 1819 building remained unfinished until 1831 when Reverend Michael Pickles came to Digby and aimed towards the completion of the structure. This building served its purpose 'til 1860, when the present Church was opened with probably aid of subscriptions from Saint John, N. B. and Halifax, N. S.

Even though the congregation was small when the first resident minister, Reverend James Taylor came in 1854, plans for the present Church were begun in 1856. First, land had to be procured. This was donated by a Gilbert T. Ray. In 1860 the Church was completed and July 29th of the same year it was opened for worship and dedicated.

District Quarterly Meeting

On Sunday, June 20th, at the Reformed Baptist Church, Digby, a district quarterly meeting was held. Represented in the congregation were Havelock, Sandford, Port Maitland, East Ferry, Yarmouth and Digby.

The first meeting of the day was a "Love Feast" at 9:30 a.m., at which Edward Smith, a layman of the Port Maitland church, conducted the service and spoke on how one can be an overcomer of sin and find victory in Jesus.

At 11:00 a.m. the morning worship service was held. Enjoyed by all was a special number in song, "When He Reached Down His Hand For Me," by Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellis, of Port Maitland. Rev. Mr. Morehouse, Sandford Reformed Baptist Church, presented a challenging message about Jesus Christ being not only "a master" but "The Master" of everything. His text was "The Master is come, and called for thee. The Lord of Lords and King of Kings calls the individual to repentance."

A goodly number was out to the afternoon service, which commenced at 2:30, with Rev. H. B. Ricker, of Digby, conducting the service. Melvin Perry, Port Maitland, rendered a number in song. Rev. W. E. Traflet, President of Bethany Bible College, brought the message, using as his text Ephesians 4:24. He presented what "true holiness is and what it is not." He stated that it was not a fad, not a feeling, not a covering to cover up something else. "It is the putting off of the old and putting on of the new." It is "after-God" or "God-likeness." True holiness is "not only negative but is positive. Our actions and attitudes must be out of a heart of love," he said.

The one-day quarterly meeting was brought to a close with the final service at 7:30 p.m. Special music was presented by Rev. and Mrs. Traflet, Yarmouth, and Miss Carolyn Pocock, music director of Bethany Bible College.

The speaker of the evening was the Reformed Baptist Alliance Superintendent, Rev. Ralph Ingersoll. His message was based on Luke 16:19-31, setting forth the reality that there is a heaven to gain and a hell to shun. "When the rich man entered Hell, he woke up to four things: (1) To the things that really matter; (2) To the truths of the Kingdom of God; (3) To his own terrible condition, and (4) To his responsibility to others. This man woke up too late," he said. "We ought to wake up to these things while we are on the active side of eternity." To all four meetings the church was filled to capacity.

About This And That

Time And A Half Law Stupid

We carried a story last week headed, "Rescind Order Time and Half". The news story originated from the Minimum Wage Board. We quote the following paragraph: "Because it was made known to the Board that the overtime provisions of time and one-half the regular rate of the employee levied hardships on certain classes of employers, the Board has suspended this provision, provided that work in excess of 48 hours in a week is paid at a rate of not less than time and one-half the minimum rate."

We agree that the overtime provisions of time and one-half the regular rate for the employee levied hardships on certain classes of employers. Especially in this area where the margin of profit is low and where some work, such as fish handling, can only be accomplished in "overtime" instead of regular time did the overtime regulation work hardship. For easy figuring take a wage of $2.00 per hour. There is a mighty lot of difference in what one needs to charge to make a profit on an article at $3.00 per hour as against $2.00. To stay in business something drastic had to be done by some employers and "right quick."

And if the law is rescinded, as stated above, we cannot see much improvement for some businesses. Take a business with employees of varying degrees of skill and ability. One man is paid $2.00 per hour because of his skill, another is paid 85 cents per hour because his skill or abilities do not warrant a higher wage. Yet, this man of lower income can demand 85 cents plus 43 cents or $1.28 per hour for overtime. What do you pay overtime to the man whose abilities warranted $2.00 per hour in regular time? Should his services be less valuable in overtime in comparison to the lesser skilled? Yet, $3.00 per hour would probably break the company for which he works or cause a loss on the job he is doing. We can't see a grain of justice in the law. We do not quarrel with a minimum wage but we think the minimum wage board should visit a few plants in western Nova Scotia before they kill off too many with the overtime rule. The whole thing sounds awfully stupid to us.

So long as employers are paying a just wage we think overtime should be the concern of the employer and the employees and not the Minimum Wage Board.

Something To Hold Fast To

Rev. R. H. Hughes, in talking to school graduates at Grace United Church on Sunday morning, gave the young people some words of wisdom to take with them to university or out into the world (story other page). There cannot be too much of this wisdom to support the young person's Christian convictions when he departs from the familiar home scene.

Some have seen examples, most of us have heard the criticism against our universities and colleges to the effect that so many young persons of Christian convictions who enter the institutions come away with a lack of faith in God. Rev. R. F. Aldwinckle, D.D., of McMaster Divinity College, Hamilton, Ont., speaking at Acadia University Baccalaureate service this year, said "Students graduate from college with chunks of unrelated knowledge lying around in their heads but hopelessly confused as to how these fit together into a view of life which has coherence, purpose and satisfying meaning . . . and God is lost in the confusion." This is often too true.

We believe that God gave us intelligence to use even in matters of religion. We think it is only sound and proper to reason and question. But, we also feel that the young person's faith must be deeply rooted to stand the opposition of the unbelieving college mate or teacher, the unbelieving work mate or employer. We think the young person's Christian convictions must be strong so that God is not lost in the confusion as Rev. R. F. Aldwinckle said. Or, if for a while God does become lost in the confusion that the young person's faith can more easily become reassurance to him.

The young person of today has many challenges to meet. He must stand up to the challenges. They hold the hand of church, parents and friends. Don't let them down. Give them something to be proud of.

The fact that many young persons are going to university and college is a good thing. It is a sign of progress. It is a sign of a better world. It is a sign of a better future. It is a sign of a better life. It is a sign of a better God. It is a sign of a better everything. It is a sign of a better world. It is a sign of a better future. It is a sign of a better life. It is a sign of a better God. It is a sign of a better everything.

Fire Dilemma

The Digby fire department and the fire insurance people seem to be at odds. The fire department says that the fire insurance people are going out of business. The fire insurance people say that the fire department is the hardest to deal with. The fire department says that the fire insurance people are going out of business. The fire insurance people say that the fire department is the hardest to deal with.

"Which reminds me," I wrote had a well written letter on the matter last week, but because it had no signature it had to be filed for "no use." Please bear in mind that while your name does not need to appear in the Courier, we must have your signature for our own protection. It's a rule with us and our decision on the matter is firm.

Have Facts Ready Re Ferry

Who has the facts on paper to prove that Digby or somewhere on the Neck or Islands should be the terminus for the new New England-Nova Scotia ferry? O. K. There's an opportunity to present them at Yarmouth, remember. Maybe Digby Town Council and the Boards of Trade should get together on the matter. How about it?

75th Anniversary

July 1st parade affords a great opportunity for the town of Digby to proclaim their 75th anniversary of incorporation. How about a float?

Not Exactly Honesty

A certain religious denomination has put out a booklet as a guide to church press secretaries or reporters on how to get church news into newspapers or other news media. We admired their Christian attitude in the statement, "Remember, too, that newspapers exist on revenue produced by advertising. While always glad to publish church news in their columns, publishers have a right to expect that straight advertising will be paid for." They believed in honesty even in getting publicity.

Compare this with the following from a world famous religious organization under — Advertising Suggestions . . . "News release - This is of value to you for newspaper and radio advertising. Newspapers print free articles from this type of release, if it is given in advance of scheduled showing date." The article referred to was nothing short of advertising. Besides the collection obtained from the program was to go to the very people who were seeking the free advertising. At least we admired the church people in our own area who rightly saw the item as "advertising" and offered to pay for the same.

Trying to obtain free advertising by falsely presenting it as news is not exactly honesty whether it is a church, other organization or individual.

Don't Aid In Crime

We had an editorial written last week with the same above title but it more or less centered around as isolated case. As the picture of the case was pieced together, and as circumstances changed, the editorial took on an entirely different aspect. We chucked the editorial. That is one difficulty with a paper which comes out once a week (especially in our case). What you write on Sunday and have printed on Monday could possibly be out of date by the time the paper is on the street on Thursday.

Anyway, the chief thought we wanted to get across last week can be summed up in a few words and is just as important for this week and weeks to follow as it was last week. It simply was that those persons who are reluctant to supply information against culprits whom they know have been involved in misdemeanours, reckless driving, vandalism and such, are aiding in the crimes committed in the community. Each time a person withholds information about those involved, whether they be relative or friend or foe, they knowingly or unknowingly aid in crime. Police have been trying for years to get this message across to people.

Only if police have the cooperation of the people can crimes of any nature be combatted and our country made a safer place to live. Don't aid in crime by withholding information. Be brave and make your own community safer.

OUR CHILDREN NEED THE FORUM! THEY CAN ONLY HAVE IT WITH YOUR SUPPORT ON JULY 1st.

175th Anniversary

On Tuesday, June 29th, St. Peter's Parish of Weymouth will celebrate its 175th anniversary. The first Anglican services in the community were taken by the Rev'd. Roger Viets of Digby who made the journey on horse-back at least four times a year holding services in the homes of the people. But in 1790 Colonel James Moody and his wife Jane gave the land and within a very short time a Church was built on the site where the present St. Peter's Church now stands. The Church was not consecrated until 1826, when Bishop John Inglis reports that he consecrated both the cemetery and the Church "which has been built for many years."

A great period of progress in the life of the Parish began in 1852 with the coming of the Rev. James Philip Filieul, who served the Parish for forty years, and whose descendants are still in Weymouth. "Parson" Filieul, as he was affectionately called, led his people in the erection of no less than four churches; a new St. Peter's (Consecrated 1879); St. Thomas, Weymouth Bridge; St. Mary's, Barton; and St. James the Less, Hassetts (New Tusket), sometimes known as "The Church of the Little Gem."

Work among the coloured congregations at Weymouth Falls was started by the Rev. G. D. Harris, and the Rev. Morris Taylor led in the erection of their Church (St. Matthew's around 1900.)

On June 29th special services will be held in St. Peter's Church, Weymouth North, to mark this important occasion; at 9:00 a.m. there will be a Holy Eucharist and at 7:30 a.m. Festal Evensong at which time the guest preacher will be the Rev'd. J. E. DeWolfe, a former rector of the parish.

Gives Address At Cheticamp

Bernard LeBlanc, of Belliveau's Cove, manager of the Acadian Textile Industries Ltd., visited Cheticamp, Cape Breton, to speak to the women of the area on what could be done to improve their lot in handicrafts, especially weaving.

Since this group was known to be famous for their hooked rugs, Mr. LeBlanc, he said that this was a fine area to be encouraged to improve their handicrafts, especially weaving.

The trip was sponsored by the Cape Breton County Council, and Mr. LeBlanc was accompanied by Mrs. LeBlanc and their children. He will be in Cheticamp for a few days, and will be giving a series of lectures on the subject of handicrafts.

Mr. LeBlanc explained to the group how the Acadian textile industry has been established in the municipality of Clare in Digby County among the Acadian people who are very skilled artisans. He explained how he trained the ladies the proper way to sew and prepare the articles for the market. Originally he had a group of ladies in their homes, sewing for him and this phase is still continuing, which has enabled ladies with families to earn extra cash. What has been accomplished along the St. Mary's bay shore in Digby County, among the Acadian people, may also be done in the Cheticamp area, stated Mr. LeBlanc. The skill is there and all that remains is to provide a market. Handicrafts, for example, hooked rugs, are a fine area to be encouraged to improve their handicrafts, especially weaving.

Falling In Love?

(By Ambrose Hills in "Of Many Things")

It was one of those hazy spring evenings filled with the familiar trimmings — robins singing, trees budding, clouds scudding across the soft sky, and young boys and girls everywhere, laughing, meeting, and — falling in love?

That's what they think it is, more's the pity. We did, too, in our day, when boys went "girling" and the girls made sure we found them.

But it wasn't falling in love. It was romancing. There is nothing wrong with romance, don't get me wrong. My arteries aren't that tired yet but what I grieve about is the sad fact that these kids don't know the difference between love and romance.

If they did, their Springs could be so much more fun, so much lighter and gay, and maybe a little less dangerous.

Romance is the meeting of new boy and new girl. The giggling, the wondering, there should be heaps and heaps of it, different boys, different girls. It's the tingle and the excitement, the glow, the stars-in-eyes. Great stuff, but let's not mix it up with that far greater thing called love.

You are in love when you are willing to work your fingers to the bone on your winter days, so that your loved ones will be happy. You are in love when no sacrifice is too great — when you can do without a car, or a coat you need, without whining. Love makes big demands for big, solid rewards. It isn't a bright burst of laughter on a Spring evening; it's the solid main course of most lives.

So get out in these wonderful Spring evenings kids, and do your romancing. It is part of the process of choice, and this is a free country where your future mate isn't picked out for you by your parents. You'll have the joy of making that choice by yourself. But don't rush it. Every romance isn't a love affair. And even if he has a motor bike or a convertible, you may not really be in love. Take it easy. Treat it lightly. Then, when love really comes along, you will be ready.

If You Have Loved These

(The following editorial by Associate Editor Ben Hur Lampman has been widely circulated since it first appeared in the Portland Oregonian)

If you have loved the glimpse of a doe and a fawn in the bracken in the morning, when the mists rise out of the little valley; and the resonant call of the grouse in the sentinel fire; and the sad sweetness of wild pigeons, calling one to another; and the wood duck low to the water; and the red rabbit that comes to the sand bar at dawn, out of the blackberry tangle — if you have loved all these, and love them still, be careful of fire in the forest.

If you have loved the deep, cool shadows of noon, with a hawk circling; the charmed stillness of the drowsy woodland, smelling of fern and resin and berry; and a peace that flows outward and inward, like a great pulse in harmony; and the knowledge that here is no urgency, nor ever has been; and a pendant vine drooping with purple berries — if you have one time loved these, and had healing from them, be careful of fire in the forest.

If you have loved the lengthening shadows that come from the forest at evening, when the deer steal forth again, and the plumed quail; the awareness that at twilight the near hills draw nearer; if you have loved, in that listening stillness, the splash of a fine trout rising, or a sea-run salmon ascending to the river; the assurance, somehow, that you are not alien to the trees, to the evening, nor to the Creator of these; if you have loved all this, and these, and are grateful, be careful of fire in the forest.

Pretty Felix Fitzgerald, one of CBC French network television's top actresses, is the new co-host of the conversational French For Love series, seen Sundays on the CBC-TV network. Felix, who has worked with such stars as Sir

E.M.O. Progresses

The federal-provincial conference on civil emergency planning meeting in Ottawa was told by Nova Scotia's Provincial Secretary G. J. Doucet that in the past year Nova Scotia has seen steady progress in all divisions of emergency measures.

Mr. Doucet, the minister in charge of Emergency Measures Organization in the province, said of the 66 municipalities in the province, 63 now have some form of organization.

"This completes our goal of an organization in every one of Nova Scotia's 18 counties." Mr. Doucet told the conference the proposed new incentive policy for the Financial Assistance Program will be of help in encouraging some municipalities to strengthen their position.

The conference also heard a statement on federal policy and programs by the conference chairman, the Hon. C. M. Drury, and statements from the other provincial ministers on emergency planning in their province.

Accompanying Mr. Doucet to the conference were Deputy Provincial Secretary C. L. Beazley, provincial EMO coordinator Gordon Grant and acting regional director (federal) C. R. Thornton.

Obituary

Rev. Edward Morris

Rev. Edward Morris passed away on May 29th at the Memorial Hospital in Middleton, N. S. just a few months after his 85th birthday. Two years ago he suffered a heart attack, from which he recovered and was able to drive his car up to a few weeks before his death.

Rev. Morris was a native of Preston, England, and after spending his early years in business in that country, came to Canada in 1900. He took up farming in the West, but later moved to Toronto where he put himself through Wyndol College, being ordained to the Church of England ministry, he filled several pastorates in Ontario and in Montreal, coming to Stellarton, N. S. in 1916. Three and one half years later he became rector of St. Matthias church in Halifax, where he remained until retirement in 1951. Last year he removed to Middleton, where his daughter Vivian was a dietitian in Hospital.

Becoming a member of the Band of Hope at an early age, he was a fearless champion of the temperance cause throughout his life, and always stressed the values of total abstinence. He joined Murray Division in Halifax in 1910 and entered the Grand Division of Nova Scotia in 1942 where he since served as Grand Chaplain and Grand Worthy Associate. Admitted to the National Division in 1949, he was elected as M. W. Chaplain in 1950 and M. W. Scribe from 1958 to 1964. For a number of years he was editor of Forward.

Funeral services were held at Middleton and conducted by Rev. Canon Heffler of Halifax, a close friend of long years, who paid a very fine tribute to the deceased.

Obituary

Louis A. McRae

Louis A. McRae, Sr., a pioneer resident who had been active in Alburquerque business life for 71 years, died in hospital after an illness.

The pioneer businessman, rancher and veteran of the Spanish-American War, served his 90th birthday on Dec. 19 with a breakfast party at the Alburquerque Country Club.

Although he had retired from full-time business life in 1946, he still maintained an office in the First National Bank Building West where he managed business interests.

A native of Nova Scotia, he returned to his boyhood home for a visit late last year.

Mr. McRae was born in Digby, Nova Scotia, on Dec. 4, 1871. He received little education as a child, and went to work as a post office clerk at the age of 12 to help support his family.

He decided to go to Alburquerque in 1890 after receiving a letter from his uncle, C. D. Anderson, an Alburquerque insurance man, telling him that clerks received higher salaries there than in Nova Scotia.

Mr. McRae was a member of the Alburquerque Board of Education from 1915 to 1924, serving as board president from 1920 to 1924.

Mr. McRae was married in 1906 to Miss Ethel Hayden of Alburquerque. She died in 1929.

Willis Asks Why?

And now that spring is there again, Come tell me things I'd like to hear

Of lupins blooming by the way, And song of birds upon the air.

I want to know how it seems in the night To wake to the sound of the foghorn's groan, Or to know again the smell of dew On grass and flowers newly-blown.

And don't forget to mention Big white clouds and blue, blue sky; And that the poplar leaves still rustle As a little breeze goes by.

Help me to remember How the radiant moon in May Paints a path of silver magic Across St. Mary's Bay.

Remind me, too, when tides are full And the Head of the River spreads wide around, How the houses and shrubbery all about Are mirrored in it, upside down.

Say how the gentle southwest wind Blows softly through the open door; Speak to me of all these things — Of all these things and more.

For I may never see again The Scotia springtime countryside; Nor hear again upon the shore The moaning of the Fundy tide.

Hold Graduation Exercises

Need Seven Out of Nine Teachers

David Lewis, school teacher at Bridgetown, N. S. was guest speaker at graduation exercises held at Islands Consolidated School, Freeport.

In congratulating the students, Mr. Lewis said, "There is not much more I can say to you that has not already been said. This is your life. For some of you this may be the turning point in your life. The time has come for you to choose a profession." The speaker urged students to accept teaching school as a profession. He said,

"The need for teachers is great, and teaching presents a challenge. Of course the pay check will not bring you happiness or self respect, your reward will be in leading youngsters out of darkness into the light of knowledge. The status for teachers is higher," he added. "However, let the key word of your chosen profession be, 'dedication' " he urged.

A comedy sketch, "Sunday Costs Five Pesos", was presented by four students under the direction of drama instructor, Mrs. Sharon Shaw. School trustee, Herbert Cossaboom, welcomed attendants and thanked teachers for work done during the past year.

During the singing of "O Canada", students marched to their places at the front of the auditorium. Organist was Miss Zora Outhouse of Tiverton.

Supervisor of Schools, Mr. Bradford Finigan, in his address congratulated the students and welcomed visitors and attendants.

In commenting on the dropouts he said, "We have two types of drop out students, those who have the ability to cope with the work that is laid out for them but lack the ambition to do it, and those who cannot cope with the studies. Both groups have our sympathy and we hope they find a satisfying, useful place in the community."

Mr. Finigan thanked the teachers, the Municipal School Board, the members of the Home and School and students for their support and co-operation during the four years he has been principal of the school.

"The Home Economics department, with Mrs. Peter Milburn as instructor, has done a tremendous job and are terribly underated. The students, who look advantage of the opportunity to learn to cook and sew have something no one can take from them."

He also commented on the Industrial Arts department and expressed his appreciation to instructor Herbert Thurber. The speaker recalled no accidents had occurred during the years the school buses

Make Province More Attractive

Premier Robert L. Stanfield said an inter-departmental committee has been established to coordinate the work of several provincial government departments in a program to make the province more attractive to its visitors and residents.

He urged the support and cooperation of every Nova Scotia individual and organization in a campaign to give the province a fresh new face by the time the 100th anniversary of Confederation occurs in 1967.

The premier said Trade and Industry Minister W. S. K. Jones will be chairman of the inter-departmental committee. Vice-chairman will be V. Michael Knight, Deputy Minister of Trade and Industry, and Miss Jean Ross, Director of Accommodation and Facilities in the department, secretary.

Other committee members will be representatives of the Departments of Lands and Forests, Highways, Agriculture and Marketing, Municipal Affairs and Labor.

Premier Stanfield said a number of provincial government departments obviously would have to be involved in the beautification program and the inter-departmental committee would be responsible for coordinating such efforts. He pointed out that hundreds of thousands of dollars are spent each year to attract visitors to the province and that these guests expect to see a well-groomed, unspoiled area.

Additional large sums of money were spent to attract new industries to the province, industries that based their decision partly on the environment in which their officials and employees would live.

"Apart from these considerations, there is the matter of provincial pride which is inherent among Nova Scotians," the premier said. "Our province is rich in history, traditions, natural beauty and in accomplishment."

He said community and service organizations, tourist development organizations, boards of trade and similar groups could play a leading part in the beautification project.

The Olmsteads of Port Wade spent the past week with their boys in Bridgewater and Halifax. In Bridgewater they attended the High School graduation where James is Principal. In Halifax they visited their daughter-in-law, Mrs. David Olmstead. David is working in the General Hospital, Inwick, N.W.T.

have been in operation on the island. He expressed sympathy to the family of the late Murray Cann, former school bus driver who passed away, September, 1964.

Mr. Finigan expressed regret concerning the departure from the community of two school teachers, Mrs. Sharon Shaw who organized and supervised the drama club and Mr. Manzer, French teacher, who, is an outstanding teacher and community man. He stated that nine teachers are required for the coming year, but so far, only two have been engaged.

THE LIGHTHOUSE KEEPER

As I sit alone by the light-house,
And gaze at the beautiful bay
I think of my faithful uncle
Who recently passed away.

When the north-east gale would howl
And the great waves roll on the reefs,
And the Bay of Fundy was at its worst,
Like a sentinel, he'd watch the sea.

As you'd hear the knell of the old fog bell
And the light would cast her rays,
As they guided the ships from the ragged reefs
As they were heading up the bay.

It is darkness on the Fundy
And to gale is at its height.
May God have mercy on the ships
That are on the Bay tonight.

The light is shining her beacon
And the bell is sounding her knell,
May they guide the ships away from the reef
And away from the rips as well.

Forty long years of service
On Fundy's rocky shore,
But he made a resolution
That he'd never ask for more.

Like a soldier, he lived on that rugged point,
And firmly stood his ground,
A long service medal he received from the King,
And in heaven, he received his crown.

He sleeps on Brier Island,
Under the threatening sky,
And the Bay of Fundy and St. Mary's Bay
Will sing him a lullaby.

janes

Two more weeks here, and the man in my life, as we finished the last of the exquisite little cakes we had been served with our tea, and I could become completely Angli-cized.

When the bounds of our limited experience, we had always considered ourselves sort of minor league gourmets, but so far British restaurants were something for which we had been unprepared. "We haven't hit a dud yet!" my husband was heard to say the night we ate in that marvelous Chinese restaurant in Portsmouth.

Part of our delight in English restaurants was due to the fine flourishes which were part of the service. I do not ever remember having the food brought on a plate. First the plate, always piping hot, was brought in. The waiter or waitress placed it with a towel, and placed it before us. Then, either she placed the food on our plates, or it was placed in front of us in small dished. Some restaurants served black coffee with a pitcher of milk. In fact, it would not cool the coffee - not much - when we asked for coffee, the waitress would ask "black or white?" We put this down to a charming eccentricity, until we found that "white" coffee is made of equal parts of brewed coffee and hot milk.

We had always known that one is expected to eat with both a knife and fork in Britain, a technique which I have never mastered, but we were surprised to realize that a good Britisher eats his dessert with a fork and a spoon. It took me several days to readjust after I returned.

Here it is the custom to give a restaurant customer a glass of water before he even reads a menu. In England, if we wanted water, we had to ask for it. It was generally tepid. I had heard so much about Americans demanding ice water in England, that I was very careful on the subject, for fear that my Canadian identity might be mistaken. Just to make liars of us, we were served a pitcher of ice water in a restaurant in Waterloo Station, in London.

We were surprised to see that in the most elegant restaurants, there was no plate under the soup plate. Soup was always served in real soup plates, however, not in bowls, so the waitress's thumb on the rim was in no way disturbing.

We avoided like the plague any food which smacked of being either American or Canadian. There would be no hot dogs or hamburgers for us in England. We did not avoid food, or restaurants of other nationalities. In London we had chicken briani, which was our first Pakistani food. Our two favorite restaurants of all were in Portsmouth, one Italian, and one Chinese. Another of my favorites was also in Portsmouth. It was called Ye Olde Tumble Inne, and if one were to judge by the walls and the rafters, it was a wonder it had not done just that years ago. This was an extremely plain, extremely English little place which served steak and kidney pies, and plaine and chips, steaming hot. Hot food in England, we found, is hotter than it is ever served here, even in the very best places, or for that matter, in our own homes.

The cream which is served in England, when we ask for cream, is real cream. It is served poured generously over apple pie, making a dish which puts apple pie and ice cream toward the bottom of the list of choice foods. Thin custard is frequently poured over pies and tarts as well.

We were amused at the jealousy with which sugar is guarded in English restaurants. There is only one container, which is brought to the table long enough for one to sugar one's dessert, and then removed until the next customer wants it.

If took a day or two, after I returned to adjust myself to our wide streets, vast automobiles, and to looking left first when I step off the curb. After my short love affair with English food, I am looking forward, with a small amount of apprehension, to becoming readjusted to Canadian restaurants. I wonder if all my standards have changed after one short journey abroad.

Two Year Old Injured

What might have been a more serious accident, occurred Thursday night when Walter Gaudett, New Tusket, returning from work, failed to notice his 2 year old child, Keith, who was playing in the drive way. The mud guard hit Keith throwing him on his back in the gravel and pushing him along.

Luckily Keith's grandmother er, Mrs. Charles Doucet, saw the child fall. She called alarm to her daughter who was able to stop Mr. Gaudett before the wheel could pass over the child's back.

Keith has many abrasions and bruises but x-rays show no broken bones. He is bruised and shaken and will be kept under daily check.

At the Sunday School period at the Church of Christ the team presented the following: Mr. Lawrence Meade read the scripture, Mr. Philip Welch led in prayer, Mr. and Mrs. Gay rendered several musical numbers, and Mrs. Gay told a Bible story for the children and a true story of a Jewish girl who gave up her parents and her rich background to follow the ways of the Christian life. Miss Lena Bailey was organist for the service.

The team assisted by Pastors McLean and Barr held an open air service at the Public Pier on Sunday afternoon which was most impressive.

The two churches united for the evening service in the Baptist Church with Lic. Prosser bringing the message, Miss Bailey and Mr. and Mrs. Gay provided beautiful musical numbers in solo and duet, Lic. McLean gave the closing prayer.

Obituary

Eldon L. Sanford

Mrs. Laura Burrell, Light-house Road, has received word of the passing of her son Eldon L. Sanford, at Windsor, Vermont on June 17.

Marriage

Amero - Trebly

A pretty wedding took place on June 5, 1965 at Precarious Blood Roman Catholic Church, Scarborough, Ont., when Father Hannon united in marriage Linda Marie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Trebly of Scarborough to Clyde Timothy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Amero, Plympton, N. S.

The bride who was given away by her father wore a full length white nylon tulle gown with lace bodice and attached train at the back. The veil was shoulder length caught by a crystal and pearl crown to match the dress. The bride carried a bouquet of pink sweetheart roses and carnations.

The maid of honour was Maureen Sullivan who was gowned in full length pink hammered taffeta with veil and flowers. The bridesmaids were Dorothy Bucci (sister of the bride) and June Reed (cousin of the bride). Little Susan Amero (niece of the bride and groom) was flower girl. Bridesmaids and flower girl all wore full length turquoise hammered taffeta gowns with veils and mixed flower bouquets.

The best man was Stewart Thibault. Ushers were Basil Amero (brother of the groom) and Albert Kamika.

A reception was held in the evening at Oddfellows Hall, Jerrard and Jones Ave., Toronto. Over fifty guests were present.

The next morning the bride and groom left by train to the home of the groom's parents in Plympton, N. S.

"Emergency Program"

In order to make it possible to continue the excellent youth program sponsored by the Digby Recreation Commission in winter sports of hockey, skating and curling, it has become necessary to raise enough money to pay past bills before the re-opening of the rink next winter. July 1st day celebration is one means of helping to produce the needed revenue for the continuing operation of the rink. This is a special appeal to the public to support one of the most worthy causes of all - "Our Youth Program." The physical well-being of a person is as important as an education; "without health or energy necessary to carry out the many tasks before our youth, the high cost of education will be of no avail." Besides this important factor it helps to train our youth in team work, and an excellent pastime of great benefit not only to our youth but to society as a whole. It helps to keep our youth from the undesirable activities which often take place from idleness and boredom.

The Digby rink is not only operated for the benefit of the youth of Digby, but for the youth of Digby County. There are over 275 boys who play hockey and over 60 boys and girls who use the curling rink, besides the ones who use the rink for skating. Every dollar spent to help support our rink on July 1st is essential and it is equally essential that all parents, children and people who are desirous to see the continued operation of the rink attend and spend freely in support of our youth activities.

Admission fees to the many activities for our youth at the Forum have been kept at a minimum in order that all children can make use of the rink. May the rink always be in operation. But it must be fully supported financially by all our public spirited citizens throughout Digby County. Make it our slogan - "I'LL BE SEEING YOU AT THE DIGBY RINK JULY 1st."
