Now and then a printing job had a save in parchment paper which required a special kind of printers' ink which smelled very bad some days. I always dreaded it when "Mac" would take you to the largest press in spite of the fact he always opened an outside door to lessen the odors on the constitutent.

One of the jobs I had to do, besides putting and printers devil on the staff, was to... I cleaned one and then... (one day not long after I started to get to the printing plant, I decided to clean the floor that apparently hadn't been cleaned for some considerable time.)

"J.J." came along and said, "how are you making out Vince?" I assured him that I thought I was beginning to see the floor. "J.J." laughed very heartily. He thought the remark pretty good and sensible.

Sometimes the gasoline engine stopped a piece of machinery would refuse to work, and the "Man" if fix-it man had patiently worked for a certain length of time to get it going again, without results, Man would then stand back and come over dramatically then he would immediately start working. "See," he would say, "all it needed was a bit of coaxing."

On other occasions when some papers refused duty for me and seemed to be brokenhearted, I would say, "use a little oil" and note remark after that all it took. They often since have I heard of the value of that remark and the actual need of oil in many life situations, applied at the right time, right place and in the right way.

Other things that sort of stick in my memory and come to mind now and then are, like the time I told "Mac" of four teenage boys who in the spring season of last year together met before dark and wearing and decided to utilize the newly built outdoor Pools Hotel swimming pool which had just been filled with water. Clothes were taken off near the road just out of the pool. Nobody else seemed to be around except the four Others were taken out near the shore. In the four pool, nobody was intended to be around except the four boys, so thought or time for bathing suits, as in the pool they went. They stood on the edge of the pool and looked at the chilly water, one soon jumped in. The rest quickly followed and across the pool the swim. "Mac" intended to the story and hardly said anything, but the next "Digby Courier" had a good story on the episode. The heading of the story went something like, "Four Boy Swims Officially Open Pines Hotel Swimming Pool." Who were the four? Many years later they are known as: the late Dr. Earl H. Anderson, veteran of two wars, second world war; Kenneth, was awarded the Victoria Cross; Sidney L. Kottman, was awarded the Purple Heart; for many years in Smith, now prominent druggist; for many years in Digby; Clayton D. Snow, Digby Wholesale Appliance and myself.

As a young teenager I used to like doing some writing about different events interesting to myself and mostly for myself. One day I was asked to me how about writing your version of the story told about "The Marooning of Jerome". A friend and I read at least two somewhat different stories about the man who was found marooned on a beach at some point on the French Shore of St. Mary's Bay, Duxbury County. When I read this man's story, it had been cut out and his legs quite freshly amputated, were surgically well dressed and bound. He was presumably left by some vessel before dawn one morning, all for some mysterious reason.

"Jerome" appeared to have been a man of considerable social standing and, possibly, of considerable wealth. However, the way things could or would evolve after being found and cared for by some family in the French Alps was something that sounded like Out of Africa, either, you'd not, or, would that be, who he was or why he was left there. It was, and is, one of Dagher's most unusual, different ideas, have been, and, facts concerning this man. However, "Mia" was, I felt so sure, because of the different about this man. The people have been very well explored and people, and he was a sort of, and people was raised where he was.

free trade with the U.S.A., especially with the New England States. The question was then debated by some Digby High School students, one of which was my 13-year-old daughter, Florence (now Mrs. Abbott of Tibet, Prospect, Digby Co.). Some days after the debate a man from some part of Nova Scotia came to the printing shop looking for Florence, one of the successful debaters. I had the impression that this man was interested politically but, maybe I was wrong.

Well, I felt that I had learned considerable from my short experience at "The Wallis Job Print." I was learning to do beginner jobs: receiving some knowledge about things like embossing, stapling, perforating, counting, cutting and trimming paper stock, mixing inks for certain desired colors, and so forth. Well, the only experience I had at setting type was just enough to make a "go," the printers name for a corrected manuscript.

There was a taste of trying to sell products outside the plant. Work was a little slower one early fall day and so "Mac" said to me, "how about trying your hand at taking orders for petunia personalized Christmas cards?" I tried it, made several calls around town, spent most of the time at one particular street, but not much time and got no order, but

Law To Enforce Harbours Act Re Parking On Government Wharves

The Digby Courier was informed this week that strict enforcement of parts of the federal government harbours and piers act has come into effect. The enquiry was made by the Courier after complaints by fishermen and others that they were being asked by law officers to keep their cars off the government wharf in Digby.

It was learned that more strict enforcement of use of wharves by vehicles, both locally and throughout the province, is anticipated. A number of warning tickets have been issued since the first of the new year to vehicle owners parked illegally on the government wharf, and RCMP say further offenders may be prosecuted.

The government harbours and piers act, in effect for many years, states in Section 14, subsection (1): no person shall drive any vehicle on a wharf except (a) for the purpose of taking persons to or from a vessel; (b) while employed in loading or unloading a vessel; or (c) in carting goods in connection with a vessel. Subsection (2): No person shall leave a vehicle standing on a wharf except while engaged in an activity described in subsection (1).

Other interesting parts of the federal act which could be enforced by law are:

Section 20: A vessel lying at a wharf shall, from sunset to sunrise, exhibit a white light at each end of the vessel at a height not exceeding six feet above the deck.

Section 10: No person shall attach any fish net or any other thing not connected with the business of a wharf to a wharf so as to hinder any person in the proper use of the wharf.

Section 11: No person shall place on a wharf any dirt, oil, sweepings or rubbish or dump any such thing in the water from a wharf or from a vessel moored at a wharf.

Section 24, subsection (1): A person who violates any provision of these regulations is guilty of an offence and liable on summary conviction to a fine not exceeding two hundred dollars, or to imprisonment for a term not exceeding sixty days or to both such fine and imprisonment.

It has been suggested that persons who do not fully understand the government harbours and piers act should visit their local detachment RCMP or department of fisheries to read the act. These laws governing vehicles on a government wharf have been in effect for many years, it is understood, but like many laws have never been enforced to the fullest extent, and in some areas have never been enforced.

Strict enforcement of the wharf parking regulations came about no doubt by the recent congestion of traffic at certain times on the government wharf in Digby, caused to a certain extent by vehicles parked for many hours and not being directly used in the transporting of passengers, freight or gear to a vessel.

Tenders Called

R. Baden Powell, M.L.A., Plympton, has received information from the Department of Highways, that tenders have been called for repaving of highway trunk number one from the D.A.R. overpass near Digby, to the Digby-Clare line at Weymouth, a distance of approximately 18.8 miles.

Centennial Lights

Digby County Power Board has a new lighting feature. It has to do with Centennial. Attractive, too.

Centennial suggestion by citizen — have gardener to do the Centennial flag in flowers at the Monument bed.

Winning Team

The opening bonspiel took place Friday and Saturday at the Digby Curling Club, with a smaller turnout than in recent years.

A team skipped by Doug Miller took first spot. Others on the team were Janis Raymond, mate; Greg Outhouse, second; Barbara Black, lead.

Runner-up team was composed of Charlie Haliburton, skip; Coleen Campbell, mate; DeMille Raymond, second; Claire Doiron, lead.

The bonspiel closed with a box lunch, for which $20.00 was realized.

Home Saved By Firemen

One pumper unit and crew from Digby Fire Department was successful in saving the home of Roy Amoro, at Mar shalltown recently, when an alarm was sounded at 8.20 a.m. after a call was received from Mrs. Amoro, stating there was smoke coming from the eaves of the roof of the new home just being constructed. Within a matter of minutes the Digby unit was on the way.

On arrival it was found that the house was full of smoke requiring the use of breathing equipment to get into the seat of the fire. As near as can be determined, the cause of the fire was electrical, as there was no heating equipment in use. It appears that this fire had been smouldering all night and noticed in the morning. Snow was blowing at the time. No one was living in the building.

Damage was caused from smoke, with some joists being burned and finish materials damaged from water. Approximate damage is $1000.00, partly covered by insurance.

Other equipment stood by, and complete communications were maintained at all times with two way radio. Fire Department officials commended Mrs. Amoro for her calmness and giving full particulars of the situation which helped a great deal in getting help to the scene in the least possible time.

Centennial Steering Committee Meets

Chaired by Bernard Bell, the steering committee for Digby's Centennial celebrations met at the Fire Hall on Tuesday evening. Present at the meeting were William MacLeod, vice chairman; Arthur Everett, secretary, and directors, Mrs. Keith Dunn, Stewart MacNaughton, Kenneth Beckwith and Mrs. J. M. Wallis. Other directors are John Wightman, Smith's Cove; Ray Thibault, Jack Whalley is Treasurer.

The Centennial Caravan will be in Digby on June 14th, and Digby celebrations will be held on June 26, 27 and 28th. The Department of Transport vessel will be here on the Digby celebration dates, and a naval vessel will be in port August 25th to 28th.

The Kiwanis Club is to be asked to sponsor the parade for the celebrations, and to get letters out soon to ask people to participate, so that there will be plenty of time for preparation locally, and for inviting outside participation. It was suggested that scrolls be issued to participants.

It was decided to request the Lions and the town to have the Christmas lights remain for the Centennial Year, possibly in a different arrangement. It was noted that the Digby County Power Board had put up the first lighting in town in keeping with Centennial.

Mr. Bell reported he had contacted the Acadian Choral Group and the Acadian band, both of which were willing to entertain in Digby. It was expected that a concert might be arranged for February, Mr. Bell also reported that the Acadian Choral Group would also feature some of Mrs. George Outhouse's compositions. Discussion arose on publishing her compositions.

It was announced that Dominion Stores, the Air Force Wing Association, and the Nova Scotia Garden Clubs, were sponsoring essays for school students.

Another interesting feature in the Digby Centennial celebrations will be a Digby Centennial Minor League Baseball tournament sponsored by the Digby Minor League Association. It is open to all Little Leaguers in the province of Nova Scotia. Prizes will be awarded. In conjunction with the tournament a Sunday morning interdenominational service will be held, with a guest speaker.

Canada's Indians will be featured in Digby celebrations with the Indians of Digby County participating.

The Digby Centennial committee will be taking care of the town's participation in the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival.

It is hoped by the committee that the Associated Press will participate in the celebration taking the viewers back services. (Please turn to page 5)

Fire Chief Arthur Hand, announced the results of a recent fire prevention coloring contest, which began fire prevention week in October. This contest was conducted by the fire department in conjunction with 1st Digby Brownie pack, 2nd Digby Cub pack, and intermediate school classes, after they had visited the fire station to learn about fire prevention. After the judges' decisions were announced, Chief Hand, presented cheques to Anne Comeau, of the Brownies; Barry Snow of the cub pack, and George Thomas, of the Auxiliary class for their excellent efforts in coloring the best fire prevention poster in their groups.

Congratulations go to the winners from Digby Fire Department, and to those who participated, thanks is extended. In the picture above, left to right are George, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Thomas; Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Comeau; and Barry, son of Mayor and Mrs. C. D. Snow.

A.V.A.B.T. Urges Federal Government To Implement Findings Of Margeson Report

A copy of a resolution presented to Honorable J. W. Pickersgill, federal minister of transport, by the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, was read at the regular meeting of the Digby Board of Trade on Tuesday evening. The report read "Be it resolved that the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade go on record and urge the Federal Government in co-operation with the Provincial Government to implement the findings of the Margeson report as soon as possible."

An accompanying letter from the A.V.A.B.T. said that in petitioning governments to provide modern ferry service across the Bay of Fundy, we wish to point out that it is the desire that governments provide a modern ferry service from Digby to Saint John and further to implement the findings of the Margeson report when this becomes feasible by whichever means they deem advisable.

President Reigh Jayne presented to the Digby Board for approval a letter he had prepared for posting to the minister of transport, the minister of public works and to member of parliament, Pat Nowlan, and to the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade. Mr. Jayne's letter regarding a new federal terminal follows —

"The Digby Board of Trade requests that the Honourable Minister of Transport and the Honourable Minister of Public Works, make it their objective to see that financial consideration is given to the new ferry terminal for Digby N. S., in the 1967 Federal Budget, and that construction of the terminal begin in 1967.

A few years ago the sum of three million dollars was allocated for this purpose but due to the fact that negotiations with the C.P.R. fell through, this money was not used. One million dollars of this, however, was made available for improvements to the fishermen's wharf at Digby. This project seems to have bogged down with only phase one (dredging) having been completed.

We feel strongly that if this expenditure for the new terminal is not placed in the 1967 estimates that there will be an unnecessary delay in modernizing Bay of Fundy ferry services.

From information gathered by this body it would appear that this terminal should be designed for end load ships, and should be made available for the Digby-Saint John service and for the proposed Digby to New England service.

It is our earnest wish that you give this your immediate attention because the economy of Western Nova Scotia depends on this service to assist present industry and to attract new industry to the area.

Reigh W. Jayne, President

The Digby Board decided to draw up new by-laws for the organization since the original by-laws seem not to be in existence. New membership cards are to be ordered for 1967.

A report was read from Stewart MacNaughton that the brochure being prepared by the Digby Board of Trade was proceeding favourably but that suitable pictures were still needed.

H. M. Warr reported for the agricultural committee.

Graham L. Saunders, above, has received the provincial government appointment to the Digby General Hospital Board. He replaces Ernest B. Richardson, who had spent twenty-five years as an active member of the board, and who was recently given honorary membership by the board. Mr. Saunders is managing director of Digby Salvage and Disposal Co. Ltd., a partner in Saunders Jewellers Ltd., and owner and operator of G. L. Saunders Real Estate. He lives on Prince William St. Digby.

Dr. R. S. Longley Passes

Former vice-president of Acadia University and a past president of the Maritime Baptist Convention, Dr. Ronald Stewart Longley, died Saturday at Eastern King's Memorial Hospital, at the age of 70.

Born in Paradise, Dr. Longley attended Paradise High School, then Acadia University. He earned his MA and Ph.D. degrees from Harvard. In the First World War, he served in the 10th Siege Battery, RCA.

After a high school teaching career, Dr. Longley was appointed assistant professor of history at Acadia University in 1929.

He became alumni professor of history in 1938 and held this chair for 26 years. In 1950, he succeeded the late Thomas Dadson as head of the department of history.

When he retired from Acadia in 1964, a scholarship was established in his name for the highest standing student at the end of his freshman year who is going on for an honors history degree. His contribution to education was recognized when he was awarded an honorary LL.D. degree from MacMaster University and an honorary Doctor of Letters from Acadia. Dr. Longley was a town councillor in Wolfville, mayor of the town and president of the Apple Blossom Festival committee for three years and a director of the festival until his death.

He served on the executive of the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities, was past president of the Wolfville Rotary Club and past president of the Scottish Rite Club of the Annapolis Valley.

He worked at all levels of his church, serving as a deacon of Wolfville Baptist Church, chairman of the Home Mission Board, president of the Maritime Baptist Convention, 1949-51, and vice-president of the Baptist Federation of Canada.

He was active in the Masonic Order, having reached high attainments in the order. Surviving are his wife, and three brothers: Avard, Springfield, Mass.; E. Gordon, St. John's; and Maxwell, Paradise.

The body was at the H. C. Lindsay Funeral Home, Wolfville, until 6 p.m. Monday when it was taken to Wolfville Baptist Church for Masonic service conducted by Grand Lodge officers at 8 p.m.

Funeral service was held Tuesday at 2 p.m. at the Baptist Church, Wolfville.

Boy's Parliament Meets Here

Plans were made on Tuesday night for the Annapolis Valley Regional Boys' Parliament, which meets in Digby on February 3, 4 and 5. The preparatory meeting was held at Grace United Church Hall with Baptist churches from Digby and Acaciaville; United Church of Canada from Bear River and Digby, and the Church of God, Digby, represented.

Hugh Brittain was named chairman of the billeting committee and the C.G.I.T. of the Baptist and United churches are to be requested to provide entertainment on one of the evenings of Parliament.

Hugh Brittain gave a short report on the 44th Maritime Tuxis and Older Boys' Parliament held in Wolfville recently. Hugh was the only representative at the Maritime meet from Annapolis to Yarmouth.

The Maritime meet was attended by boys representing seven Protestant denominations and two dioceses of the Roman Catholic Church. Subjects debated at Wolfville.

Maude Lewis In Advocate

The paintings of Mrs. Maude Lewis, of Digby County, N. S., are becoming the rage with a number of prominent art critics and art dealers, says an article in the January issue of the Atlantic Advocate.

The author of the article, Mrs. Doris McCoy, quotes Toronto artist Gordon Payne as saying: "These are truly primitive paintings. They're delightful."

The simplicity and freshness of Mrs. Lewis' techniques has brought praise from many quarters. Yet she has had no art lessons or any other training, she is now elderly, and she has to overcome the effects of paralysis.

She is regarded as another "Grandma Moses".

Mrs. McCoy says in the Atlantic Advocate that Mrs. Lewis has remained unaffected by her success. She lives in a "nine-by-ten" and is proud of her independence. She once dismissed a New York Christ-mas-card businessman, who kept asking her to do original cards, by saying "no — she found them too fiddly."

Admitted To Bar

David Leonard and Miss Janet Davidson, Halifax, spent the weekend with David's mother, Mrs. M. S. Leonard. David was admitted to the Bar of Nova Scotia at an impressive ceremony in Halifax and attended by his mother and other members of his family.

Plan To Be Submitted

Lloyd K. Hill, Secretary Manager of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, said last week that a formal proposal for the Fundy Vacation Trail is expected to be presented to the Atlantic Development Board before the end of the month. Preparation for the submission is now being completed.

The trail, supported by the Boards, and business groups, extends around the Bay of Fundy from St. Stephen, N. B., to Yarmouth.

Well-known Maritime hotelman, Mitchell Franklin, heads up the general committee, comprised of representatives from both provinces, to promote the Trail.

Has Document Signed By Sir Chas. Tupper

A document signed by the Rt. Hon. Sir Charles Tupper to James H. Roop, is in the possession of the late Mr. Roop's great granddaughter, Miss Sue Winchester, of Joggin Bridge.

The document issued on behalf of His Excellency, Sir Wm. Fenwick Williams to Mr. Roop, invested in him the powers and authority as Her Majesty's Justice of the Peace for the County of Digby, in the Province of Nova Scotia.

The document read — "Hereby investing you with all the powers and authorities specified and contained in a Commission of the Peace for the said County, bearing date the twentieth day of November, in the Year of Our Lord, One Thousand Eight Hundred and Forty-eight, as fully as if your name had been inserted therein. Given under my Hand and Seal at Arms, at Halifax, this tenth day of April, in the Thirtieth Year of Her Majesty's Reign A. D. 1867. By His Excellency's Command, Charles Tupper."

Mrs. John Harris and son, Gary, returned the past week from Halifax, where they visited Mrs. Harris' son, Robert, who is a patient at St. dacona Hospital.

MONTH'S TRIP TO WEST COAST

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Parker, returned to Bear River on Tuesday, after a month's trip to Western Canada, travelling out by C.P.R. via Winnipeg and Regina, etc. While in Calgary, Alberta, they attended the wedding of their daughter, Miss Nancy Claire, R. N., to Mr. John Strom Christensen, of Calgary, formerly from Frederikshavn, Denmark. The couple travelled by plane over the Rockies, to Pentteton, B. C., where they visited Mr. Parker's brother, Wilbur and family. They also called on Mr. and Mrs. Eber Peck, who live in Happy Valley, Summerland, B. C., and Mr. Carl Miller's sister and niece. A drive across the United States border and into the State of Washington, was also enjoyed.

Returning to Calgary by bus, a days journey over the treacherous Rogers Pass, and through the beautiful town of Banff, etc., with its snow covered mountains, was a sight long to be remembered.

An interesting feature of their trip was a tour of the LUXOM Indian Museum, near Banff, and a visit to the famous Calgary Zoo.

After spending Christmas with their daughter and husband, in Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Parker returned home C.N.R. via Edmonton and Saskatoon, etc., a more northerly route, stopping in Chatham, New Brunswick, to spend New Years with their son, Corporal Allan D. Parker and family.

While in Calgary, they visited Mrs. Murray Davis and daughter, also two former Bear River girls, Mrs. L. Jamison (Margaret Henshaw), and Mrs. Dennis Nikiforuk (Eliza both Dukeshire).

Miss Doris Porter, Digby, has been transferred to the Telephone office in Truro. Mrs. Carol Snell and daughter, Margaret, Saint John, were overnight guests of Mrs. Ross MacCormick and attended the funeral of Mr. Ross MacCormick. Mrs. Clara Parker, of Boston, spent a few days at the home of her sister, Mrs. Easterly Sloan Jr., called here by the death of her uncle, the late Ross MacCormick.

HEALTH AND WELFARE PROGRAM

The January meeting of the Bear River Women's Institute, was held on Monday afternoon January 9th, at the home of Mrs. Fred Harris.

After routine business and reports of committees, an interesting program was presented, prepared from material put out by the Federal Department of National Health and Welfare, relating to the administration of the Food and Drugs Act, and the Proprietary or Patent Medicine Act. The use and issuing of drugs by consumers is one of the very important areas to which the "Advisory Council of Consumers" is turning its attention. Colourful posters, information sheets and booklets were displayed, and many helpful suggestions given to make our homes safer for children and adults.

Tea was served to 15 members and guests, by Mrs. Howard Cress, Mrs. John Harris, and Mrs. Ruth Tolles, and Mrs. Take.

CELEBRATES GOLDEN WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Ruggles, Bear River, were at home in the afternoon and evening, of Dec. 26th, to relatives and friends. The occasion was the marking of their 50th wedding anniversary.

Kenn O. Sweeney President - Manager

Mr. Sweeney is also President of Weymouth Funeral Home Ltd. Born in Yarmouth, N. S., was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Vernon S. Sweeney. The Sweeney name is synonymous with the Funeral Profession and has been since 1860. The Sweeney Funeral Home was opened in Yarmouth in that year by Mr. Jacob Sweeney, father of late Vernon S. Sweeney. In the early 1900's, following the death of his father, V. S. Sweeney carried on the Funeral Service. Kenn joined his father in the funeral profession in 1938, obtained his Embalmers and Funeral Directors License in 1942, continued service in Yarmouth until 1964 when he moved to Weymouth, and is now operating the Weymouth Funeral Home, which was formerly the C. C. Nichol Funeral Service.

The annual ratepayers meeting was held on Monday night at Weymouth Consolidated school with 18 present, representing the whole consolidated area.

Rev. Father Deveau was chairman for the evening, and Mr. A. E. Adelaar was appointed secretary for the meeting. Harley Amiraull gave a report of the special committee on a brief presented to the school board last January, regarding the situation in this area.

Mrs. Vera Hankinson, secretary to the trustees gave the report of the trustees. She mentioned the exit doors, the south exit, and a storm porch on the west exit, which had been built on during the years. Considerable work had been done on the pumps and boilers, a gate with chain, the entrance to the grounds, which will be closed during the holidays, had also been installed. Improvements in the heating facilities of the elementary wing had been made, but to have adequate heat in some rooms, more improvements are necessary. It was hoped that storm windows might be of help. Mrs. Hankinson said that each year some improvements had been made to the playgrounds, and that the hollow in front of the school was at present being cleared. A door had been installed between the auditorium and the canteen, and some painting had been done in the corridor of the original building. A new tape recorder and film projector had also been bought this year.

The staff was congratulated on the fine showing on the number of students who entered colleges this year, and the reports of the high academic standing that the students acquired. Thanks was expressed to the members of the staff for their interest and contribution to the educational program in the school and consolidated area.

As so many students travel by bus, thanks was expressed to the drivers for careful and conscientious attention to their duties, and Nelson Cromwell was complimented in his "house keeping duties" at the school.

Mrs. John Shaw then presented the budget for 1967, and some discussion followed regarding this, and other situations relating to the school, the size and extent of the new rooms, and plans for the erection of the new building, now being advertised for tenders for construction.

Rev. A. G. Peters was elected as trustee, to replace Wilford Kinney, who has moved from the area.

Anglican Church Women met at the Rectory on Monday evening. Plans were made for a reception to be held after confirmation at St. Thomas Church, Sunday evening.

IN MEMORIAM

COMEAU - In loving memory of mother, Edith Comeau, who passed away Jan. 11, 1963.

January recalls sad memory. Of a loved one gone to rest. And the ones who think of her today.

Are the ones who loved her best.

Always remembered by daughter, Nellie, Earl and family. 21:1p

COMEAU - In memory of my wife, Mrs. Oscar Comeau, who passed away Jan. 11th, 1963. She would not wish for sorrow. But just to be remembered throughout the passing years. - Always remembered by husband, Oscar. 21:1p

FORD - In loving memory of a dear wife and mother, Mrs. Stephen Ford, who passed away, January 9th, 1964.

Through tears we saw you suffer. We saw you fade away. Our hearts were almost broken.

You fought so hard to stay. But now we know you are. Sleeping so peaceful free from pain.

We could not wish you back to suffer so again. Our hearts still ache with sadness.

Several tears still flow, for what it meant to lose you. No one will ever know. Lovingly remembered and missed by husband and family. 21:1c

1953 - 1967

To hear your voice, to see your smile.
To sit and talk with you awhile.
To be together in the same old way.
Would be our dearest wish today.

Sadly missed by Ma, sisters, brothers, and sons. 21:1p

COMEAU - In loving memory of a dear mother, Edith Comeau, who passed away January 11th, 1963.

What would I give if I could say, I guess I'll go and see mom today.

To hear her voice and see her smile.
To sit and talk with her awhile.

Always remembered and sadly missed by daughter, Primrose, son-in-law, Jesse and grandchildren. 21:1c

DOUCETT - In loving memory of a dear mother, Margaret Doucett, who passed away January 6th, 1966.

She troubled no one. Her wants were few. And now, dear Lord, she is with you.

Take care of her, as she takes her rest.
You know God and we know she was the best.

Always remembered by son, Jesse, and daughter-in-law, Primrose, and grandchildren. 21:1c

ville were the Christian attitude to divorce; the God is Dead Movement; the relevance of the church to modern society; censorship; provincialism and federalism and the place of the Senate and monarchy in the government of Canada.

In reading the Speech from the Throne Dr. J. M. R. Beveridge, of Acadia University gave a brief outline of the work done by the Maritime Boys and Girls Parliament and noted that several members of past Parliaments had already started their training for the Christian ministry and others had indicated intentions to do so after they had completed high school. Dr. Beveridge spoke of others who had started academic studies leading to other honorable professions.

Dr. Beveridge said that the purpose of the Parliament was to challenge older boys to Christian living, to train them to give effective leadership in their local churches and communities and through vivid practical experience to give them a real understanding of Christian democracy.

Obituary

Reginald V. Andrews

The sudden passing of Reginald V. Andrews, 47, of North Range, Digby Co., occurred at the Victoria General Hospital on December 30 after a brief illness.

Born in North Range, he was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Andrews. He lived all his life at North Range except three years in which he resided at Boston, Mass. His occupation was farming and he was a Christmas tree exporter.

Mr. Andrews was clerk and deacon of St. Mary's Bay United Baptist Church and was an active choir member.

Surviving are his wife, the former Alice Fisher; one daughter, Maxine (Mrs. Ivan Bain), Halifax; one sister, Phyllis (Mrs. Allan Thomas), North Range; two brothers, Dean, of Ontario, and John, of Montreal; a brother, Harris, predeceased him by eight years. The body rested at Jayne's Funeral Home until the service Monday, at 2 o'clock p.m. at the North Range Baptist Church. Rev. R. R. Winchester, assisted by Rev. George Bell, conducted the service. Interment was at the North Range Baptist cemetery.

Rev. Hartlin Appointed Chairman

The Executive of the Atlantic Baptist Convention has announced that Rev. H. S. Hartlin, of Digby, has been appointed chairman of a Study Committee on the Structure and Organization of the United Atlantic Baptist Convention. Terms of reference for the Committee are to make "a careful study of the Convention's structure and organization in order to provide the most effective approach to the demands of the 20th century."

It is expected that the report will take nearly two years to complete, and that at least a preliminary report will be available by the summer of 1967.

The Convention Executive considers the work of this Committee to be one of the most important assignments of recent years, greatly affecting the future of the Convention.

The Atlantic Baptist Convention includes over 600 churches and nearly 70,000 members. Last year a total of $3,667,888.00 was raised by these churches for all purposes.

Mr. Hartlin was also a member of a Study Committee last year, appointed to make recommendations to the Convention regarding the future of Acadia School of Theology. As a result of such study and the recommendations of the Committee, negotiations are now going on between the Executive of Convention and the Board of Governors of Acadia, relative to the changed status of the School of Theology and its future as a proposed Divinity College, affiliated with Acadia University.

FOR THE LADIES

JEWELLERY FROM ITALY

The tradition of Benvenuto Cellini is at present carried on by an estimated 8,000 jewellers in Italy, where the trained and skillful hand has been developed from generation to generation. In this photo the young lady dramatizes her basic black dress with an Italian necklace and pin of cut diamonds, baguettes and pearls.

Take a trip for dinner to the Orient some evening soon... via pantry shelf and skillet. From the pantry shelf comes a can of condensed tomato soup and a can of pineapple tidbits.

In the skillet you combine the soup and the pineapple with other good things... browned beef, sauteed mushrooms, and green pepper. Stir distinctive Oriental sweet-sour flavour into the tomato soup sauce with ginger, syrup drained from the pineapple, and lemon juice. Marvelously seasoned tomato soup blends meat, fruit, and vegetables harmoniously.

Good cooks everywhere are discovering Canada's favourite soup is a wonderfully versatile cooking ingredient. Tomato soup gives sun-ripened tomato goodness to stews, casseroles, meat loaves, and skillet dishes. The dual role of soup as soup and soup as a cooking ingredient makes condensed tomato soup the most flexible tomato product on your pantry shelf... at a cost of only pennies.

Complete your Oriental menu with other "shelf service" foods: rice, canned green beans and fortune cookies. From refrigerator and freezer take hearts of lettuce salad and ice cream. Pour milk for the kids, tea for you and Dad.

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1 pound thinly sliced round steak (2 x 1-inch strips). | 1/3 cup water |
| 1/2 pound sliced mushrooms | 3 tablespoons pineapple syrup from canned pineapple |
| 1/2 teaspoon ginger | 1 tablespoon lemon juice |
| 2 tablespoons butter or margarine | 1 cup green pepper strips |
| 1 can (10 ounces) condensed tomato soup | 1/2 cup canned pineapple tidbits |
| | Cooked rice |

In skillet, brown beef and mushrooms with ginger in butter. Stir in soup, water, and fruit juices. Cover; cook over low heat 30 minutes. Stir now and then. Add green pepper and pineapple. Cover; cook 15 minutes longer or until green pepper is tender. Serve with rice. Makes 4 servings.

Town Clerk.

Conclude Services

Rev. George Bell, Protestant Padre at C.F.B. Cornwallis, brought the Digby Week of Prayer services to conclusion, when he spoke at Grace United Church on Wednesday night.

Rev. Mr. Bell said that the church must be understood as the people of God. The laity is not an appendage to the church, but the laity is the church.

The church today he said, is awakening to the needs. The time has come to let some of the organizations roll by themselves, while Christians distribute the Gospel of Jesus Christ in a way to answer questions which people have on their minds. The work of the church above all else is to spread the knowledge of Jesus Christ, so that the whole world may know.

The speaker said, it has been found that it is more important to rub shoulders, than to stay across the street and pat our backs because of our beliefs. There was a time, he recalled, when it was thought people who did not belong to the same faith would not "make the grade". Others, he said, must not be condemned for their differences.

The service on Wednesday was conducted by Rev. H. S. Hartlin, assisted by Rev. Hazen Ricker and Rev. John Denchfield.

The third phase of the Week of Prayer series, "The Church at Worship in 1967", was held at The Wesleyan Methodist Church, on Tuesday evening. Rev. Hazen Ricker presided with Rev. H. S. Hartlin reading the scripture, and L. Gerald Usher leading in an open prayer service.

Rev. John Denchfield based his talk on the experience of Moses standing, shoes removed, with astonishment, wonder and fear in the awesome presence of the Majesty of God, as he received his Lord's commission for service. It was pointed out that it continues to be the privilege and responsibility of the Church, in '67 and at all times, to preserve and to stimulate that same realization of adoration, reverence, fear and wonder in the worship of The Almighty God. Being thus aware of God's presence, the Church too may receive and fulfill its commission.

Coffee AT janes

We drove thirty miles through a raging blizzard last Thursday, to the nearest town, in order to take the children to the annual holiday musical spectacular. It was our first experience with theatre performed especially for children, and their first experience with any form of live theatre. They had not been quite sure what to expect. When we told them we were going to a play, the little one asked if there would be swings. I explained that we would leave the baby with a sitter, because he was too little to go. She agreed. He was too small to climb on slides and swings. I tried to explain that people would stand up in front of us and act, "something like you did when you sang at the Sunday School concert." A light, which I mistook for understanding, came into her eyes.

Perhaps more because of than in spite of, the storm, we arrived at the theatre comfortably early. "How long now?" "What time is it?" the children asked every few seconds. We adults read our programs to pass the time, but photographs of normal looking men and women meant nothing to two little people who had come to see something so mysterious as a play.

The lights finally dimmed. The children sat on the edges of their chairs in the electric hush, staring expectantly at the blank curtain. They waited. The curtain did not open. Suddenly, a voice from the back of the theatre shouted something about being late. We all turned. The Grand Visier made his way down the aisle. He stopped several times to ask children what time it was. He mounted the steps to the stage, and tripped. From that moment, every child in the room was enchanted. I turned to look at my small boy. His face seemed to be flushed with an odd light. He was lost in the world of Sinbad. Bagdad in her golden glory shimmered before him.

I had heard before how involved children got in these plays, but I had never seen it happen. The involvement was deliberately heightened by the actors, who directed remarks, asides, and ad lips at the audience. The action flowed on and off the stage, up and down the aisles. The people were real, and three dimensional. The villain, who was made doubly villainous by having a green face, carried on a running argument with the children. When, at one point, he was hiding from the good guys, the children screamed, "Look behind you, he's behind the curtain!" but it did not happen to be the part in the play where they found him, so the actors did not hear the shouts. When the stage was empty, the green faced villain came out of his hiding place. "You're a bunch of squealers", he hissed at the children. "We don't like you," they roared back. When the villain gained the upper hand, and had the hero, Sinbad, running from him, he tried to engage the help of his young audience. "Which way did he go?" he asked. "That way," the children lied together, pointing to the ceiling, the balcony, the exits, any place where he had not really gone.

After good had triumphed over evil, the mermaid was turned back into a woman, and the penguins turned back into soldiers, the play ended. We left Sinbad, Bagdad, and the Shimmering Island, and went out into the blizzard which had worsened while we had been in the theatre. Our little boy still wore a faintly glowing, ecstatic expression.

"That was no play!" our daughter announced in disgust. "That was a movie."

I asked her where she got that idea. Hadn't she seen the people coming off the stage, going up and down the aisle? You don't see that in a movie.

"It was no play," she insisted. "Nobody played anything. And it wasn't like the Sunday School concert either. Nobody asked me to sing!"

We drove home, from Bagdad, through the snow. We left the Shimmering Island for a supper of hamburgers and french fries.

Women's Club Meets

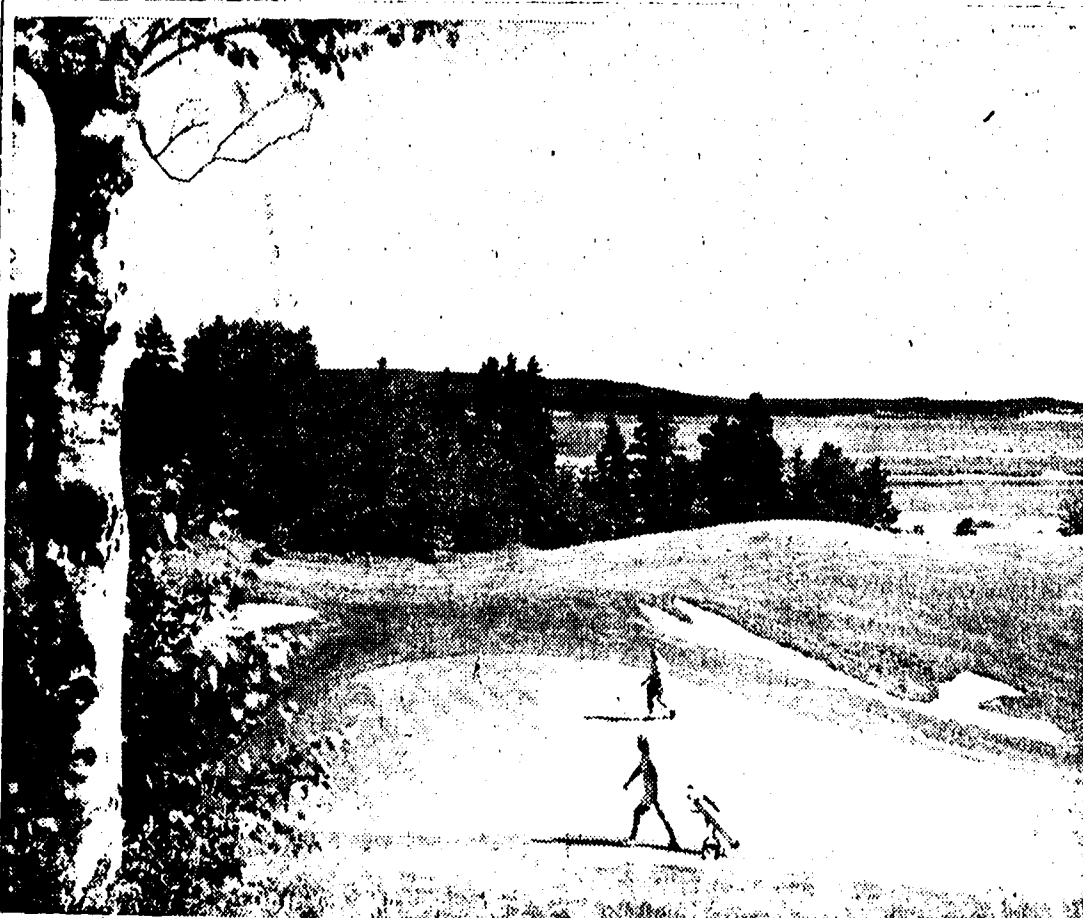

The Rossway Women's Club met last Wednesday afternoon for their regular weekly meeting. Six members were present and quilting was carried out until refreshments were served, late in the afternoon. The occasion was also the birthday of Mrs. Willard Wentzell and a cake made by Mrs. Trueman Wentzell was presented to her.

Missionary Society Meets

The Baptist Women's Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. Willie Hersey on Tuesday evening for their monthly meeting. At this meeting the collections for the helper Mission were opened during the year and it amounted to nineteen dollars and nineteen cents.

Officials of March of Dimes call this date the "Date to Remember" and urge householders to welcome volunteer fund-raisers in their once-a-year campaign.

Chimney Fire

A number of men gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stillman Harding, on Thursday evening and stood by several hours to help evacuate (if necessary), when they had a severe chimney fire, in the height of a bad gale and freezing rain storm. The chimney was left cracked in several places and slight damage to the house from smoke and water occurred.

New Years Party

A New Years party was held at the home of B. Goudey, and several gathered to watch the New Year enter. Lunch was served and games played. Hostesses were Mrs. Helen Goudey and daughter-in-law, Ruth Goudey, from Peterboro, Ont. Ruth and daughter, Virginia, left the following Monday via Air Canada, for their home in Peterboro.

Caroling

Following a brief Christmas program presented by the children of the Christian Church on Christmas Eve, Rev. Ivan Rayner and Mrs. Rayner, accompanied the group in the annual Christmas caroling. Later they met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rayner's for refreshments.

LOOKING FOR US?

We can be found at the Schubenacadie Wildlife Park in Nova Scotia. We're raccoons — and we have 800 other forest friends living with us. Last year we had 20,000 visitors. Why don't you drop in for a visit, too? We love to meet everybody, especially tourists. (Nova Scotia Information Service Photo)

Christmas activities started at Hill Grove Baptist Church on December 7th, when the members of the church Auxiliary and Women's Missionary Society combined to sponsor a social evening at the Church Hall. A short devotional service, appropriate to the Christmas season opened the meeting and the members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship group presented a very impressive candlelight service, telling the Christmas Story in readings and musical selections. A social period followed when gifts were presented to all present as well as a substantial number of toys being donated for use by the Red Cross in their Christmas boxes, and bountiful refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

On December 17th, the annual Sunday School Christmas party was held in the Hall, when the children enjoyed playing games, being served refreshments of ice cream and cookies, but most important of all was the visit of Mrs. Santa Claus, who presented a gift and a bag of treats to all Sunday School members.

The B.Y.F. held a Christmas social at their meeting on December 20th, and also gave a substantial gift to the Salvation Army to aid in their Christmas work.

On December 21st, members of the Church Auxiliary met at the home of Mrs. Thomas Franklin when 20 boxes of Remembrance were packed to be delivered the next day to Senior Citizens of the church area.

It was necessary to postpone the Christmas concert on December 25th, but on January 1st, a large congregation was present at the church service to hear the young people of the Sunday School and Junior choir, present a splendid program of recitations, exercises and musical numbers, and with Rev. Hartlin giving a brief New Year's message. The church was beautifully decorated in the spirit of Christmas by Mr. Kenneth Keysall.

tions were given by members of the Primary Class; Stephen Franklin, Maxine Height, Sheila Roope and Marlene Height, followed by them singing, "Away In A Manger". The Junior class members giving recitations were Patsy Height, Debbie Franklin and Rodney Franklin, and their musical number was "Christmas Means a Message". The Intermediate class presented an exercise, God's Plan, and sang the carol, "Once In Royal David's City". Members from this class giving recitations were Janice Height and Bruce Murley, with Sandra Height giving the prayer, "We Thank Thee", preceding the offering. The Senior class members presented an exercise, "The Christmas symbols. Selections by the Junior Choir were, Christmas Bells, and God's Gift, and congregational carols were Angels From the Realms of Glory, and Come All Ye Faithful, and Joy to the world, with the Benediction being given by Rev. H. S. Hartlin.

Edward Hall opened a new barber shop in the store facing the Victoria House. "Ladies paid special attention. When ladies served, no loafers allowed on premises. Satisfaction guaranteed to all."

Lots Of Snow On Island

Youngsters in the area were over-joyed this week to learn that the weather man had not forgotten them after all, and thought that this is January and we should have some snow.

The pleasure derived from use of sleds, toboggans and everything available to coast down hills and the fun of wading waist-deep through the banks of the white stuff, left no room in their minds for "sympathy" for Orland Guier Jr., of Central Grove and his brother, Roy, of Freeport, who forfeited a nights sleep to operate the snow plow through the 11 mile length of the Island in an effort to prevent the roads from becoming blocked during the heaviest snowfall of the season.

However, Saturday's higher temperatures and rain, left the toboggans and sleds useless on bare ground and Messrs. Guier at home enjoying a nights sleep.

An attractive piece of pottery was given as a prize at a successful card party in the community hall, Sandy Cove, Saturday evening. The pottery made and given by Mrs. Clarence Hayes, who with Mr. Hayes are formerly of Montreal, was made of Sandy Cove clay, black sand, etc., at her home, where she has her potter's wheel, kiln, and all necessary equipment for her hobby. Proceeds from the party is for the street lights fund.

The Truest Fragrance

By Ronald C. MacCormack

There is a certain undefined fragrance about a true Christian. This invisible real quality may be called spirituality. While a carnal Christian may love the world much and God little, a spiritual Christian will love the world little and God much.

There are certain road blocks to this high point of Christian growth.

The main obstruction to Christian vitality is willful obedience. Man is born to want to write his own laws. The breakdown of obedience starts in the home, perhaps in the bassinet. If children lose respect for parents, could it be that the parents have not exerted enough authority to command respect? Those who have submitted to parental discipline, usually find it easier, also, to submit to the laws of God. Failure at this point is insubordination.

There are outward evidences of this rebellion. One person may quit church, presenting a variety of excuses. He may say, "I don't have to attend". Of course, he doesn't "have to" but he would profit from it.

Another may taper off in his prayer life. The pressure of the daily grind, social obligations, and pleasure may crowd prayer out of the picture. A prayerless Christian is hardly a spiritual Christian. Above all, Salvation is fore runner of this fragrance, for "How shall we escape if we neglect so great Salvation". Hebrews 2:3.

Here is something to think about!

Spry At 96

"How did I get into this? Now, I won't be able to get away with doing anything without them finding me" was the joking remark made by George Harland Adams of Brighton, when he faced the camera on his 96th birthday on Friday. Right then we knew what keeps this 96 year old gentleman so spry and young. It is his sense of humor and his philosophy of life. Of this we were more convinced as the interview progressed.

Mr. Adams was born in Brighton in 1871, right in the house where he now lives. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Edward Adams. For 15 years George Adams lived at Nahant, Mass., near Boston, where he was engaged in gardening and managing a summer place for tourists. It was there that he met Miss Lydia Ethel Campbell of Alliston, and Montague, P. E. I. They were married in Tremont Temple more than 50 years ago. Both are enjoying their quiet life at Brighton, without interruption of T. V. and little disturbance by radio. Reading however, is a joy in the Adams household and the weekly and daily papers are read completely. Magazines and the latest books are read, those having to do with ships and the sea are most popular with Mr. Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Adams have two children. They are a son, Cortland, of Brighton, and a daughter, Georgia. Mrs. Ralph Moors, of Halifax. A great delight to Mr. and Mrs. Adams are their six grandchildren and three great grandsons.

Though 96, Mr. Adams thinks nothing of walking 4 or 5 miles to visit his friends or to row around the head of St. Mary's Bay. He likes to plant his garden and split wood. He has a fascination for picking acorns which he plants near his home and that of his sons across the highway.

Mr. Adams has always been well. He had sciatica about 50 years ago. The cure was "fly blisters" which you bought at the drug store.

Recalling the old days he says there is less snow and the winters are not so cold. He remembers about 75 to 80 years ago that timber was hauled across the Bay from Digby Neck, about 2 miles, on the ice to the VanBlarcom shingle mill. Now the Bay doesn't freeze over.

Looking back to his boyhood and even later years, Mr. Adams sees many changes. There was the blacksmith shop, the tanning shop, the shipyards where three masted ships were built. He remembers seeing thirteen vessels at once loading cargo in the Bay for Boston. He remembers the schooner Princess, which transported hard wood, cordwood, Rockland wood and lumber to Gloucester and carried passengers too. He could recall about a dozen schooners and two barques built along the Bay and mentioned Little Annie and Silver Cloud.

Mr. Adams always had his own small boats, many of which he built himself. He was keenly disappointed not to have seen Bluenose II last summer. He waited in town for her arrival but the schooner did not show up.

Looking back to his youth, Mr. Adams recalled that they worked like the devil. There were many young girls and boys in the village at this time. They held dances and played in stunts. Mr. Adams still keeps his violin and banjo. He recalls that the village had a musical band.

Speaking of Confederation, Mr. Adams thinks Canada is a good place to live and added "but the old flag was pretty".

Observe 50th Anniversary

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. James Everett, who on Monday January 16th celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett have spent their entire married life at Victoria Beach.

Shown are Mr. and Mrs. Richard James Ross following their recent marriage at the Church of God, Digby. The bride is the former Sandra Faye Murphy, second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Murphy, Digby. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ross, Culloden. Rev. John Denchfield officiated at the double-ring ceremony. The happy couple make their home in Marysville, N.B.

Mr. and Mrs. John Strom Christensen, above, were recently married in Calgary, Alberta. The bride is the former Nancy Claire Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carleton B. Parker, Bear River. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Christensen, of Denmark. They will reside in Calgary.

Deer Visits Business Area

Even in a "rural" town like Digby it is not often that a deer is seen walking on the sidewalk. Such an instance occurred Wednesday morning when storekeepers and shoppers were amazed to find in their presence a buck deer, believed to be about a year old.

No one knows exactly in which area of the town the animal's journey began, but when first noticed it was heading south on Water Street near Cameron's Florist.

After causing alarm to several motorists the deer gracefully jumped over a parked car, descended the cliff, and entered the chilly waters of the Annapolis Basin proceeding towards Bear Island. However, before reaching the island, the animal was rescued and returned to Digby, where it was turned over to officials of the department of lands and forests for release in a wooded area outside town.

Old Certificate Of Service

James Edward Adams, son of Cortland Adams, Brighton, has in his possession a certificate of Service as Master, issued in 1874 to his great grandfather, of the same name, James Edward Adams. The certificate, remarkably well preserved, was issued at Halifax to the bearer from Port Gilbert, Digby County, after examination also in Halifax. The certificate was signed by Wm. Smith, Deputy Minister of Marine and Fisheries, and by A. MacKenzie, Minister of Public Works, for the Honorable, the Minister of Marine and Fisheries for the Dominion of Canada at Ottawa.

The certificate recognized that the bearer had produced satisfactory evidence of experience, ability, and general good conduct on board ship and that he had fulfilled the duties of master of a seagoing ship in the Merchant Service prior to January 10th, 1870.

Red Cross Christmas Cheer Reported

Reports covering the Christmas welfare work of the Digby Red Cross were heard at the January meeting of the Digby Branch, held last week at the Court House. Mrs. George Winfield and Mrs. Daniel Coleman, joint conveners of the Welfare Committee, reported on the packing of 29 Christmas boxes, containing mittens, dolls, and suitable toys for 157 children. Mutual assistance was rendered by the Digby Red Cross and the Salvation Army in providing Christmas cheer in response to the requests received by both organizations, the gift boxes being delivered by Lieut. Usher, who also provided Christmas dinners for the families. The Red Cross committee also reported the donation of a number of dolls, mittens and toys for the Christmas boxes given out by Sister Constance and her helpers from St. Patrick's Church.

In her report, Mrs. Winfield thanked all who had assisted the Christmas program in any way, with special thanks for a $10 donation from the Conway Club, and $1 which was the proceeds from a puppet show held by Miss Mary Robinson and Master Robert Marshall. Donations of toys were received from the Eastern Star and Rebekah Lodges, also from the Conway Club. Mrs. Burgess VanTassel and daughter, and many others. Special mention was made of the invaluable assistance rendered by Delbert Forrest in repairing the used dolls, and toys donated to the Branch. Mrs. R. B. Lent, Digby Branch President, commended the Welfare Committee on the successful program which they had carried out.

Mrs. H. M. Warne, in reporting for the Women's Work Committee, stated that a shipment of finished articles had been packed for Red Cross Headquarters, consisting of 12 large quilts, 2 crib quilts, 6 baby blankets, 40 pairs booties, 120 diapers, 2 children's sweaters, 49 pairs men's socks and 1000 gauze wipes for the Blood Transfusion Service. Materials were also reported to be on order for the continuation of knitting, sewing and quilting in the New Year. Acknowledgement was made of the children's sweaters knit by Miss Bertha Boggs, formerly of Digby and Kentville, who has now moved to Halifax; also of the quilting done at home by Mrs. George VanTassel, Mount Pleasant, who has completed 3 quilts herself and is continuing to quilt another.

The Ways and Means report, prepared by the chairman, Mrs. Ralph Berwick, showed the sum of $22.70 raised from teas during the months of November and December. In addition to this, the proceeds of the November apron sale had amounted to $91.00, both sums being held for local welfare work and the sundry expenses for carrying on the work of the Branch. Motions were passed that the Welfare Committee be authorized to purchase yarn to begin knitting its 1967 supply of Christmas mittens, and also that six additional pairs of crutches be ordered for the Sickroom Loan Cupboard so that the Branch may be better prepared to meet the many requests for this item.

Service of another type was rendered by the Red Cross in December, so it was reported, when a message was relayed through the Digby Branch to the Nova Scotia Division, Halifax, who notified a member of the United States armed forces in Viet Nam of a bereavement in his family in Nova Scotia.

Members of the Ways and Means Committee served the customary Ten Cent Tea at the conclusion of the meeting.

Special Report On School Board Survey Re D.R.H.S. Expansion

In preparation for the rate payer's meeting, next Thursday, The Digby Courier endeavored to get some school facts to present to its readers so that an intelligent vote could be made by each of Digby's ratepayers. This newspaper acknowledges with thanks the copy of a survey made recently for the Digby School Boards. Unfortunately while the survey is in great detail and most informative, neither time nor space at this late date permits us to do justice with the report of the survey. The best we can do is to glean a few facts for the reader's consideration.

The Digby Regional High School opened in September 1948 with an enrolment of 295 pupils. Growth continued in student population so that expansion programs had to be carried out in 1957 and 1960. The present enrolment exceeds 900 and has created a serious congestion. Staggered classes for grades VII and VIII were approved during the present school term.

The survey contains projected enrolments for the years 1967-74. These indicate that student enrolments at D.R.H.S. will range from 909 to 976. Under the comprehensive program it can be expected that enrolment by 1974 or 75 will exceed 1100 students. Rooms which would be required to accommodate the students would be 33 while 27 are now available.

The new comprehensive school system is designed to provide all children in Nova Scotia an equal opportunity for education according to needs and ability. The program offerings are broad, tending to reduce the number of drop-outs each year by making available a program of study from which the drop-out group can benefit. While students who had continued at D.R.H.S. had made fine achievements in various fields, it was noted that of the 171 pupils who left D.R.H.S. during the period surveyed, none had settled jobs. An average of 34 pupils, one full class per year, could have benefited from further training during that time.

To implement the comprehensive program at D.R.H.S. would require certain changes in the physical plant. The library, science and other facilities were designed in 1948 for 300 students. They serve 900 students today with no expansion having been made in science facilities. Changes would have to be made in the commercial department, extended facilities in economics, industrial arts, audio-visual area, library, science department and certain office and staff personnel space. Some of these changes would come about by converting one or Total project cost is $750,786.50 of which Federal-Provincial contribution is $402,247.55, leaving $348,538.95. Provincial grants are $183,251.33 to municipality, and $41,239.13 to Digby town. The contribution of the town of Digby is estimated at $63,322.55 and the municipality 60,725.94.

It is worthy of note from the survey that 1000 municipal pupils are transported daily to town schools, schools employ 74 people, consisting of 68 teachers, 5 caretakers and one secretary. The municipal school board employs 39 drivers and mechanics of which 18 operate out of Digby.

The average pupils enrolled per class in Nova Scotia is 26.5 while Digby's is 30.2. Per pupil cost to the province is $315.29. Digby is $246.23.

Layoffs At Cornwallis

Fourteen civilian personnel at C.F.B. Cornwallis were notified that their services would terminate on January 20th. According to one source these have been "casual" employees in the maintenance department and all have been there for an uninterrupted period of five years or more.

Alarm again pervades the community and Philip Woolaver, chairman of the Save Cornwallis Committee, has protested to Prime Minister Pearson. Mr. Woolaver felt the four-day notice to be most inadequate.

Appointed Returning Officer

Basil Belliveau, Belliveau's Cove, was appointed returning officer for the South Western Nova Scotia district, according to a list submitted in the Commons at Ottawa. In the Annapolis Valley returning officer will be John P. Covert, Kentville.

Class Confirmed, Officers Installed At Trinity Church

On Sunday, January 15th, 1967, the annual general church meeting was held in the Trinity Church, Digby. 18 candidates were present. The Rev. Mr. Morris in the chair. Following a dinner and social hour, Dean White read the minutes of the last meeting. The resignation of Cecil Jones and Dr. G. V. Turnbull as members of the vestry, were accepted with regret; they were thanked for their many years of service.

Remember This Film

An obituary in another column of the Courier tells of the death of Duncan MacD. Little, long-time visitor to Smith's Cove.

Mr. Little, in the late 20s spent some time in Digby making a movie, the title of which escapes us, about early methods of porpoise hunting among the MicMac Indians of Nova Scotia.

The action was laid in Digby basin and members of the Indian Reserve at Bear River were the actors. In old Indian days the porpoise were harpooned from canoes, at certain times of the year, for their oil. At other seasons the Indians travelled across country to the rivers running into the Atlantic for salmon.

If any of our readers know of this film and circumstances surrounding it, the "Letter To The Editor" column is waiting.

V.O.N. Looking For Relief Nurse

At the January meeting of the Digby Branch of the Victorian Order of Nurses, members learned that, National Headquarters at Ottawa had not been successful in procuring a replacement for the former V.O.N. Miss Florence Brown, permission had been granted to appoint the relief nurse, Mrs. Sherman Rice, as temporary replacement.

The Board was also informed no relief nurse has been located and members were requested to be watchful for a nurse willing to act as relief for Mrs. Rice. Mrs. Rice reported 119 visits had been made in December with 36 of these for nursing care, 9 prenatal care and 32 postnatal and newborns. Eight school visits had been made and the majority of vision tests completed in Grades 1 to 6.

J. J. Brittain presided in the absence of the president, John Nichols.

Freighter Bound For Weymouth Lost

The freighter Nelson B., owned by A. Bouchard Company Limited, North Sydney, bound for Weymouth to load pulpwood, foundered and became a total loss off Port Maitland on Friday. On board were seven men, two women and two dogs.

The 19 year old vessel, 174 feet by 29, tonnage 750, was captained by Alphonse Bouchard with his son, Raymond, as first officer. Five members of the crew were of the same family.

The ship's papers were saved but all personal effects of the crew were lost. The crew was taken aboard the boat of George Snow, MLA, and were taken to his home where they were given warm food before leaving for North Sydney. Other boats which went to the rescue were owned by Jesse Ellis, Ivan Thomas, Charles Ellis, Edward Smith and Tom Smith.

Joseph Lawrence Comeau, age 20, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Comeau, Marshelltown, of Digby, Co. N. S., engaged in the R.C.M.P. on July 13th, after completing his education at Digby Regional High School, and was posted to "Depot" Division, Regina, Sask. for recruit training. He graduated from training on Dec. 21st, and has been posted for duty in Ottawa.

Lawrence was one of the exchange students who visited Saskatchewan last summer.

Appointed Aide To Shriners

Rieder Bernsten, Digby, was appointed Valley Shrine Club Aide at the annual meeting of Shriners of Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland, held in Halifax at the Philae Temple, College St., on Saturday. Mr. Bernsten was accompanied to Halifax by Mrs. Bernsten.

At the annual session the illustrious Potentate for 1967, Victor Thompson, Alfred Fred Jervais, Halifax, and Grimmer, Harold Emmerson, other officers were installed. About four hundred were present at the meetings which were also held at the Nova Scotian Hotel.

Letters To The Editor

(All letters must be signed, although pen names may be published, if desired)

Digby, N.S.
Jan 12 67
The Digby Courier.

Dear Mrs. Wallis,
After reading your article today on "Faith In Our Youth" I felt it time some students did give their views on the problem of the extension.

I have been a student of the Regional High for four years now, and during that time I have constantly been aware of the necessity of an extension. However, the fact has been outstanding this year more than ever before. It is not only the crowded halls and classroom areas, but also the inadequate space in the Study Area, Commercial Area and Domestic Areas, also our Science Laboratory. How can students be expected to study or work efficiently in these areas if they are overcrowded?

There are about four teachers who have no regular classroom areas, with their students they "drift" to a different classroom every day. Also there is the matter of those students in grades seven and eight who have to stay at home one day out of every twelve days. Is it fair to the students to ask them to lose this valuable classroom time? No, but what can you do? There is not enough room for everyone. Why, then, is even one grade twelve class which has set up a classroom in the corridor. How much worse can this situation get?

It is said the students of today have more than adequate facilities, things which our parents did not have in their days. But do the students of DRHS have adequate facilities and if they do what is the good of having them if there is not enough room to work in?

I would urge all ratepayers for the sake of all concerned with DRHS to get out and vote for the extension. Remember the students of today are tomorrow's citizens, they will be only what you make them. If they see you are willing to help them they in return will strive harder. So why not help them?

Sincerely,
A Friend for "J.H.T."

P.S. — If anyone has doubts as to the situation I am sure no student would really mind trading places for a day, just so the person interested could see just how severe the problem is.

Disgusted
of the old clip-and-paste scheme were mailing out so-called 'memo-invoices' to thousands of business firms, said H. G. Kinnear, local Managing Director of Halifax Bureau.

"Some of these pseudo-invoices were even imprinted with Canada's Centennial Emblem, no doubt to make them appear much more official," he said.

If recipients are deceived, especially through the use of our official Centennial Emblem, cautioned Mr. Kinnear, much of the hard work and publicity which has gone into organising our country's centennial program could be quickly dissipated.

"Clip-and-pasters", Mr. Kinnear says, resort to a variety of deceptions to practice their trade. As the name implies, they often "clip" advertisements from a legitimate publication, "paste" them on their own "invoices" and mail them to the original advertisers. The recipient, seeing his own "ad" in print, often pays the amount requested without checking further.

If he did this he might find that the 'invoice' emanated from a hole-in-the-wall office or a post office box leased by a couple of sharp cookies whose total investment in the business was confined to some stationery, postage stamps, and a bottle of paste.

This plagiarism of a sort is sometimes passed off by an explanation in very small print or by use of the increasingly popular expression "MEMO INVOICE", whatever that may mean, said Mr. Kinnear.

In any case, there is every indication that the scheme is paying dividends. Despite inquiries to our office from cautious advertisers, there is every evidence that the promoters are becoming more affluent and that this flood of spurious material by mail will assume even greater proportions in the future.

The sharpies behind this scheme are often smart enough to commit themselves to no publication date for "their own directory" and circulation figures are seldom quoted. In the event of non-publication, far away victims are not likely to prosecute local offenders and, of course, a cheaply-printed edition with limited circulation can always be produced to satisfy legal requirement, he said. Either way, the advertising value is null.

A word to the wise should be sufficient, says Mr. Kinnear. Recipients of 'memo-invoice' from an unfamiliar publisher should check its bona fides with their local Bureau. Don't commit yourself to an advertising contract without proof of publication and circulation. (Better Business Bureau Maritime Inc., 5555 Young St., Halifax, N.S.)

Dear Editor:
Minor Hockey Week, 1967, is scheduled for Saturday 21 January, to Saturday, 28 January, inclusive. May I direct this message at the parents in the Digby area.

The fact that this is Canada's Centennial Year, has inspired the Executive of the Minor Hockey Association of Digby to plan special activities in the Forum during Minor Hockey Week. However, after spending much time and thought organizing games, providing coaches and officials, etc., the Executive is asking HELP from each and every parent. How can you HELP? Easy! Encourage, show a genuine interest in the fact that "your son is able to have advantages that you yourself were unable to have when you were his age" and above all BRING do not send, but BRING your children to the Forum, especially during MINOR HOCKEY WEEK.

Elsewhere in this issue is the proposed programme for Minor Hockey Week. Let's have your support.

See you at the Forum!

To the Editor.

"Why wait for Spring" do it now."

At our east coast ports You all know so well I'm thinking of Digby And the sad story to tell.

With a wonderful harbour And the wharves a disgrace Does the Government know People live in this place

Through the Basin, up the river To the town of Port Royal The Queen's wharf at Annapolis I'm afraid it has spoiled Silence is virtue Good in its place, But it doesn't work here. It's a public disgrace.

Digby Courier,
Digby, N.S.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

I noticed in this week's Courier that Miss Sue Wierchester has a document signed by Sir Charles Tupper. I also have one, an original Land Grant to Ichabod Corbett to land in Victory, dated May 20, 1859, and signed by Charles Tupper "at his Excellency's Command" — the Excellency referred to, according to one of the clauses of the Grant was the Earl of Mulgrave. At the bottom of the grant is a notation signed by Edward H. Cutler, Registrar, stating that the Grant was registered at Annapolis Aug. 26, 1859.

The way in which this document came to me is also of interest. Ichabod Corbett or his heirs sold the land to my husband's grandfather, and turned over the original grant to him. It was kept with other papers, unnoticed as a historical document, until after our marriage the box of papers was brought over to my house by my husband. I have treasured the Land Grant ever since, although the land granted has long ago been sold.

Incidentally, my hobby is genealogy, and if anyone has books or newspapers of the 1800's or early 1900's I would be grateful if they would lend them to me if there is any information in them regarding Nova Scotian families, since very often an obituary or a Marriage or Birth notice allows me to complete a family history or to begin to build up one. If anyone can provide information which will help me in my research into early families I would be glad to give them any information I have regarding their own family history.

Yours truly,
Marion B. McCormick,

Clementsport Woman 92

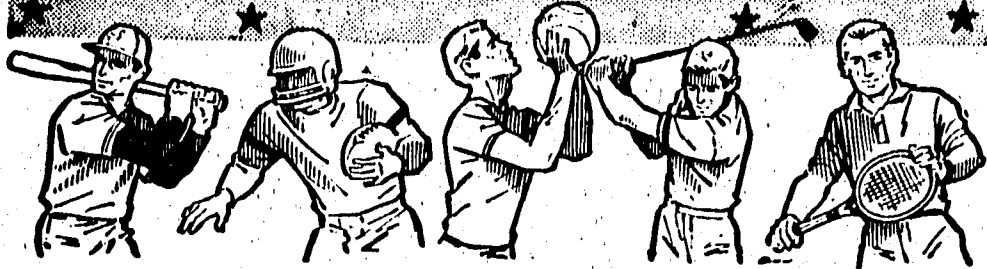

Mrs. Aratia Elizabeth Wright celebrated her birth day last week at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Ira Duke Shire. Clementsport. A party was held in her honor when five generations were present and a daughter whom she had not seen for 30 years and more. The daughter is Vera, Mrs. Robert Caverly, Danvers, Mass., who came unexpectedly for the celebration.

Mrs. Wright was twice married. Her first husband was James Greenslade of Devonshire, England. After his death she married William Wright of Bridgetown, who died 18 years ago. She is a daughter of the late John and Sarah (Banks) Combs, Virginia East, Annapolis County, and spent all her younger life in Round Hill, later coming to Clementsport. The past two years have been spent with her daughter, Mrs. Ira Duke Shire in Clementsport.

Mrs. Wright has four children from the first marriage: son, Ernest Greenslade, daughter, Marguerite, Mrs. Ira Duke Shire, and Mildred, Mrs. Israel Duke Shire, all of Clementsport, and Mrs. Caverly. She also has eight grandchildren, nineteen great grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

During December, Mrs. Wright knitted eight pairs of men's socks, often completing one sock in a day. Other interests are attendance at the church sewing circle and the church services every week with her daughters, and as an extra occupation at home she always has some quilt squares at hand, all this without the aid of glasses for she seldom uses them for threading needles or reading or for any other close work, more of a bother than a help, thinks this lady in her 90s.

MINOR HOCKEY NEWS

by Wayne Snow

Last week saw a clinic held in place of the regular hockey games. This clinic was run by the coaches of each respective team. A very poor turnout was noticed in various leagues and this was discouraging to those who had planned the clinic for the benefit of all. The Squirts turned out in the greatest numbers to this clinic and capable instruction was given in skating and hockey fundamentals. This clinic also marks the first half of the schedule completed.

This Saturday January 21st, will be the start of Minor Hockey week in Digby, so bring your young hockey hopeful to the Forum and come in and watch him perform. This being Centennial year let's make Minor Hockey Week in Digby the best its ever been, and put your full support behind this part of a young man's growth.

HOSPITAL GENERALS

DEFEAT C.Y.O.

Last week a team composed of employees of the Digby Hospitals defeated a C.Y.O. team from Digby in an exhibition hockey game by the score of 5-3. This was the first win of the season for this team and only the second loss for the C.Y.O. The hospital team who are lead by Mr. C. Wells as their coach have been practicing regularly and playing each week and up to now have been defeated in all contests by the C.Y.O. and Marshalltown.

The team was led to this victory by Pete Hewitt and Ernie Gaudet, the team captain, along with the stalwart defence work of Wilfred Small and Dick Vidito.

CHARLES FITT NEW PRESIDENT

Petty Officer Charles R. Fitt, was made President of the Digby Minor Hockey Organization last week. Mr. Fitt succeeds Mr. Bob Morgan who stepped down as President because of other commitments. Mr. Fitt has been a supporter of the Minor League for some time and has always shown great interest in youth programs.

Mr. Fitt was put to work immediately when he was put in charge of organizing the hockey clinic program for last Saturday with the aid of other officials of the league.

Mr. Fitt lives in Digby on Second Avenue, and is stationed at C.F.B. Cornwallis.

Bobby Gennette scored the final goal of the game.

IT'S MINOR HOCKEY WEEK starts Jan. 21st.

Don't send, take your boy to the arena!

Oil Kings Tie

Last Thursday evening the Digby Oil Kings continued to be undefeated this season in their home rink. A late third period goal by B. Hazel gave Digby a 6-6 tie in the third game of the Wright Trophy play. As this game ended in a tie, the two teams decided to play it over. Tuesday night the game at Cornwallis counted as the League opener for these two teams and also was the third game in the Wright Trophy play. This series is the best 3 out of 5.

C.Y.O. Ice Sports

Last Sunday, January 15th, the C.Y.O. was active at the Forum again.

In the broomball the Weymouth girls overpowered the girls from Plympton in the highest scoring contest of the season. The final score was St. Joseph's 5, Holy Cross 2. The scorers for St. Joseph's were Paulette Gaudet with two goals and Linda Thibault, Cora Thibault, and Susan Burke each got single markers.

Holy Cross markers came from Joan Melanson and Sheila Ameri.

In the hockey game, the St. Pat's boys came from behind 2-0 to take a 13-4 victory over Holy Cross boys from Plympton. Danny Doucette scored 4 goals to lead the Digby boys. John Amiraub notched a hat trick and Billy Nickerson and Paul Theriault each scored twice. Other goals came from Glenn Winchester and Jerry VanTassel with one each. Digby remains undefeated in league play.

Holy Cross marksmen were Robert Wagner, Lloyd Robicheau, and Russell Melanson each with one goal and Charlie Thibault fired one from the blueline.

Recipe for New Year's cake: 1 lb. sugar, 1 lb. butter, 1/2 pint cold water, 3/4 lb. flour, 2 eggs, 1 tea-spoon soda. Mix well, bake in hearts and rounds or any small tin.

Apparition was made next session of the Dominion House for an act to lay a telegraph cable some place in Great Britain to some place in the Dominion.

Notes on shipping, as published in first three issues of Courier, 1877:

Brigantine "Alice" out of St. John and bound for "Dundalk." No word for 117 days and presumed lost. William Lavery, master and Hugh Sherris, mate, most of crew from Salmon River, Dr. Co.

Recognition given to James Morrison, Digby, by Department of Fish for heroic rescue at sea of crew members of Schooner "Winnans." Mr. Morrison effected the rescue by small boat in mountainous seas. He was mate of the Bark "Crown Jewel" out of St. John, N. B.

Bark "Seaward" of this port attempted salvage of abandoned Brig. "Wild Horse." Failed due to gale force winds and condition of "Wild Horse" which was fast breaking up. This trial of courage against the elements occurred off Portland and the temperature was near zero.

Schooner "Cornella", Captain Godet, owned by Messrs. Amaro & Doucet, Ednburg, Dig. Co., left this port for Belliveau Cove last Friday (January 5). Driven ashore at Church Point and dashed to pieces. Crew saved.

"George C. Corbit" out of Annapolis, bound for England reported high winds, blown on beam ends, deck load of pitch-pine lost. Barely saved ship on two occasions.

New Tuskot

Mr. and Mrs. Hallett Sabean have sold their former home on the Easton road, and are residing in the Earl Mullen home for the winter months.

Who Can Claim?

This Prominent Nova Scotian
Among our readers are descendants, persons who can claim relationship to prominent Nova Scotians and persons who came to Nova Scotia and gained prominence in the province and who had Digby County connections. For example, History of Nova Scotia, a book containing biographical sketches of representative Nova Scotian citizens and genealogical records of old families, written by Dr. David Allison and published in 1916, more than 50 years ago, has a sketch of Hon. Alfred Gilpin Jones, who can claim him for a relative. He was a prominent business and public man who led a useful and honorable life.

Hon. Alfred Gilpin Jones, born September 1824 at Weymouth was a son of Guy C. Jones. He was educated there and at Yarmouth. He was twice married. His first wife was Margaret Wiseman Stairs and his second was Emma Albro, of Halifax.

Mr. Jones was head of the firm of A. G. Jones and Company, West Indian Merchants, a man of industry, sound judgement and wise foresight. He was a governor of the Protestant Orphan's Home, governor of Dalhousie College, lieutenant colonel, commanding the First Halifax Brigade, garrison artillery, sat in the House of Commons, Halifax, from 1867 to 1872, and from 1874 to 1878 when he resigned in consequence of an alleged breach of independence of Parliamentary act.

He was sworn to the Privy Council and held the office of Minister of Militia in the McKenzie administration from January 1873 to September 1878. He was re-elected again in 1887. On July 26, 1900 he was appointed lieutenant governor of Nova Scotia, which office he held until he died in 1906, discharging his duties in a manner that reflected much credit upon himself. His children were Alfred E., Walter G., Col. Guy Carleton, Alice C. and Mrs. Frances Bannerman.

Home Destroyed

The home of Edward Thibodeau in Comeauville was gutted by fire Sunday morning, starting around 9 o'clock and believed to have been started in the basement caused by a furnace. Although the four walls remain upright and a portion of the roof is in bad shape, is not expected that the building can be salvaged.

A double roof in the attic where a dormer had been built appears to be the cause of difficulty of putting out the fire in the attic. The firemen from Little Brook and Meteghan Fire Departments tried desperately to reach the portion of the attic mentioned, but found some difficulty again in reaching the area to make a hole in the roof, due to the dangerous condition of the roof at this particular area. Another difficulty encountered is the low water source which would allow both departments to use their fire pumps more efficiently.

Both fire departments remained on the scene until past 2 o'clock and played water on the dangerous spot until the fire was out. Lack of a good water supply hampered the firemen and this is a great problem in the rural areas where no water mains exists and water holes are the only solution in most cases.

Marriage

Titus - Titus
The marriage of Judith Ann Titus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Titus, West Saint John, to Edward Ansley Titus, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Titus, Westport, N. S., took place recently in the Carlton United Church, West Saint John, N. B.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. W. S. Stackhouse and Mrs. Percy McLean was organist. Christ mas decorations adorned the altar, centered by a large basket of mums and gladiolus. The matron of honor was Miss Juanita Little. The groom was attended by Mr. Paul Barton, as best man.

Ushers were brothers of the bride, Ronald Titus and her cousin, Allan Titus.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride looked very lovely in her floor length gown of white nylon tulle over satin, embroidered inserts adorned the full skirt and empire bodice, with long lily point sleeves. Her double tiered shoulder length veil of nylon tulle was held in place by a large satin Rosette. She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and red roses. Her only jewellery was a string of pearls.

The matron of honor was attired in a dress of yellow brocade taffeta, with nylon organza over-skirt and matching headpiece. She carried a bouquet of yellow and white carnations.

The brides mother was wearing a brown three piece suit with brown and gold metallic hat, gold purse and gloves, topped with a mink stole and corsage of yellow roses.

The groom's mother wore a black dress, topped with a sequin jacket and lace sleeves, rose pink hat and accessories, mink stole and corsage of pink roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Reid's Banquet Hall, Lancaster.

Mr. Paul Barton proposed the toast and the groom responded.

The guest book was circulated by Miss Laurie Faye Titus, niece of the groom. Later the bride and groom left by plane for a trip through Nova Scotia. For travelling the bride wore a beige winter suit with brown accessories.

Out of town guests were from Westport, N. S., Digby, Grand Bay, Noma and South Bay.

The bride was employed in the accounting office of Simpson Sears, N. B., and the groom is stationed at Edmonton, Alberta, where the couple will be leaving shortly to take up residence.

MARRIAGES

Ross — Murphy

The Church of God, Digby, was the scene of a pretty fall wedding when Sandra Faye, second eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Murphy, Digby, became the bride of Richard James, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ross, Culloden.

Rev. John L. Denchfield, officiated at the double ring ceremony. Mrs. Avery Finigan played the nuptial music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Victor Finigan, grandmother of the groom, who sang the Twenty-third Psalm and during the signing of the register. The Wedding Prayer, The church was colorfully decorated with baskets of artificial flowers, arranged by Mrs. Leo Kaye, aunt of the groom.

The bride looked lovely as she entered the church on the arm of her father, by whom she was given in marriage. The bride wore a full length gown of nylon over satin, with long sleeves tapering to points at the wrists. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a crown of sequins and pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses. Her only jewellery was a single strand of pearls, a gift of the groom.

Attending her, sister, as maid of honor was Miss Carol Murphy of Halifax. The bridesmaids were Misses Marilyn and Brenda Murphy, Digby, also sisters of the bride. They wore identical floor length gowns of yellow peau-de-soie, with empire waistline, matching headpieces and carried bouquets of yellow and white chrysanthemums.

The flower girl, Susan Ross, a cousin of the groom, wore a gown identical to the bridesmaids and carried pink and white chrysanthemums. The ring bearer was Bruce Ross of Culloden.

Eric Ross, brother of the groom was best man, the ushers were Robert Murphy, Dartmouth, brother of the bride, and Reginald Ross, Digby, cousin of the groom.

The bride's mother chose for her daughter's wedding a three piece cranberry wool suit with beech accessories. Her corsage was of pink and white carnations.

The groom's mother was attired in a blue velvet dress with black accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

A reception for one hundred and thirty five guests was held at the Digby Lions Club Hall, following the ceremony. The brides table were laid with a white tablecloth and two silver candelabra making a beautiful setting for the four tier wedding cake which was made by the mother of the groom.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. John L. Denchfield and responded to by the groom.

Sheila Hersey and Belinda Tufts served the bridal party. Mrs. Douglas Forrest, aunt of the bride and Mrs. Basil Tufts, aunt of the groom presided over the silver services. Serving the guests were friends of the bride and groom, Mrs. Robert Murphy, sister-in-law, of the bride was in charge of the guest book.

Amid showers of confetti, the couple left on their honeymoon to various parts of Nova Scotia. For travelling Mrs. Ross chose a pink wool suit with black accessories and a corsage of white roses.

The happy couple have taken up residence at 44 Murray Ave., Marysville, N. B., where the groom is employed with the Department of Agriculture, Soil Survey, and the bride is on the staff of Teacher's College.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were from Fredericton, Halifax, Yarmouth, Shelburne, Dartmouth, Bear River, Bedford, Middleton, Annapolis, Tiverton and Freeport.

Christensen — Parker

The chapel of First Baptist Church, Calgary, Alberta, was the scene of a candle light wedding on Thursday evening, December fifteenth, when Nancy Claire Parker, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carlton B. Parker, Bear River, Nova Scotia, was united in marriage to John Strom Christensen, elder son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Strom Christensen, Frederikshavn, Denmark.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Dr. C. H. Bentall, pastor of the church. Mr. V. Harbridge sang, "The Wedding Prayer" at the beginning of the ceremony and "O Perfect Love" during the signing of the register, accompanied by the organist, Mr. C. Mossop.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown, of white imported satin with lace sleeves, ending in a flare at the elbow. The chapel length train was accented by two satin roses at the waistline. The three tiered veil was held in place by two matching roses. Her only ornament was a necklace of pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and ivy.

The bride was attended by Miss Nettie Arenburg, of Calgary (formerly of Lakeville, N. S.) who wore a floor length gown of peau-de-soie, in royal blue shade. She carried a colonial bouquet of blue tinted carnations with floral head pieces to match. She wore a cultured pearl necklace, a gift of the bride.

The best man was Torben Lorenzen of Calgary, uncle of the groom, and the ushers were Wayne Johnson, and Gerhard Menzel, of Calgary, friends of both the bride and groom.

The bride's mother wore a grey double knit wool suit with turquoise accessories and the groom's mother was attired in a dress of blue brocade with navy accessories. Both wore corsages of white gardenias.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Westgate Motor Hotel, where the toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Vernon Becker and responded to by the groom. Mrs. Wayne Johnson had charge of the guest book.

For their wedding trip to Banff, Alberta, the bride chose a dress of emerald green with gold and black accessories. Her corsage was of yellow roses and suede coat completed her outfit.

Out of town guests included the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Parker, of Bear River, Nova Scotia, and the groom's mother, Mrs. Arthur Strom Christensen of Frederikshavn, Denmark. Relatives of the groom from Drumheller, Alberta, were also present.

The bride is a graduate of the Victoria Hospital, School of Nursing, Halifax.

The groom is a graduate of the Business College in Frederikshavn, Denmark. The happy couple will reside in Calgary.

Program To Curb Teacher Shortage

Hon. Robert L. Stanfield, Minister of Education, announced that the third session of the Emergency Teacher Education Program for university graduates will be held in conjunction with the Nova Scotia Summer School for teachers, on the campus of Dalhousie University, July 3rd to August 11th.

The program, instituted in 1965 in response to a recommendation of the Nova Scotia Council on Teacher Education, is designed to help in alleviating the serious shortage of qualified teachers in the province.

The full program requires the successful completion of four summer school sessions. It is open to new candidates this year as well as to the students who began the four summer course in 1965 or '66.

Requirements for entrance to the program are a recognized university degree and a contact, which can be arranged by the candidate, with a school board in Nova Scotia to teach in a particular position at any grade level.

A temporary general professional certificate of Class III is granted to new enrollees upon completion of their first session. This enables them to teach during the next school year and throughout the rest of their emergency training program. Admission to the second, third and fourth sessions is dependent on successful teaching experience. The P. C. III will remain valid until the four summer school sessions are completed, when the candidate will be granted a Professional Certificate Class II.

The program is offered for a minimum of 20 qualified persons and a maximum of 50 in each of the four years of the program.

School boards and Department of Education officials report that teacher vacancies remain difficult to fill in various communities at all grade levels. The shortage continues to be acute because of the increased demand for teachers, particularly in the fast-growing high schools, and the loss of Nova Scotia teachers to other parts of Canada.

Year-End Report On Digby Town Affairs

Whereas the ratepayers of the town of Digby very often are not fully aware of the town assets and liabilities, I consider it to be my duty to give a summary of the affairs of the town of Digby for the year of 1966.

I wish to take this opportunity to express my thanks to the Digby Courier for the excellent coverage of the monthly meetings of the town council. This weekly paper served the public of Digby not only as to reports on council, but also on all matters which support the town's welfare and the welfare of Digby Co.

In summing up the town affairs I wish to point out to the ratepayer: first the benefits which are derived from the taxes received by the Town of Digby Inc. The mayor and councillors are given the responsibility of administering those funds, for the welfare of all the people who reside within the town and for visitors to the town.

The greatest expenditure of tax money by far is for the education of their children by the municipality of Digby and sharing cost in proportion to students attending from each area. Several School Boards have been commissioned to oversee the operations of the school located within the town. The town council and ratepayers must first approve their share of money for capital expenditure expansion before the school boards can proceed with additional accommodations for the students and teachers. The provincial government provides a share of the capital investment in the schools and in the operating expenses of those schools based upon the ability of payment of the different areas for which the schools services are provided. Once the schools are established, the town council's responsibility is to provide the town's share of money to the school boards to operate and maintain the yearly expense that become involved and the actual operation of the schools lie within the authorities of the school boards and provincial government.

If the town and area do not take advantage of better school facilities such as the comprehensive school system now offered by the Dept. of Education (that is a system whereby the school children who do not wish or can't complete academic courses may start to or complete a course in preparation for an occupation while still attending school at Digby) the residents of the area will still be paying provincial taxes to assist other areas which do provide better schooling to their children. It is a question of being able to afford our direct share of cost from property tax. The taxpayers or shareholders of the Town of Digby Inc. must decide this issue on Thursday, January 26th, 1967 at a ratepayers meeting to be held at the Digby Regional High School.

By CLAYTON D. SNOW
Mayor of the Town of Digby

Other services rendered out of property tax revenue are the maintenance, improvements and expansion of the town streets, the cost of fire protection, police protection, emergency measures organization and the cost of welfare to those citizens who are not capable of providing for themselves or those who do not have relations who can provide for them. Some assistance to our citizens is of short duration, while others are of long standing. Assistance is given to worthy organizations which work for the benefit of the citizens of our town. The assistance to the Digby Recreation Commission by providing the necessary tax money to finance a skating rink capital expenditure since 1949, has been a worthy cause and a great benefit to the youth of Digby and the surrounding area.

The Town of Digby Inc., whose ownership is the ratepayers of the town, also owns the Town of Digby Electric Utility. The Town of Digby Water Commission, Water Utility, and a share in the Digby County Power Board. The utilities are self supporting from revenue received from the customers of those utilities. The Town of Digby is called upon to secure the borrowing of money necessary for capital improvements or expansions to those utilities. There is a direct benefit to all the ratepayers from the property tax which is assessed to those utilities and benefit is received by the ratepayers who use those utilities in the form of lower rates charged for service at cost.

Proper garbage and sewage disposal is a very essential service. Garbage disposal is paid out of tax revenue, but not garbage collections. The maintenance of the public sewers is also of tax revenue. The capital cost of sewers is paid by the land owners whose property is fronted on the street by the sewer. It is my belief in order to provide for expansion of the town, a proper sewer system is necessary to the health and welfare of the town. The system should be operated as a public utility, and the shareholders would be the owners of the land who pay the sewer frontage tax, and provide the necessary revenue for its operation. The town has 14 miles of streets which are serviced with water mains. There are only 6.5 miles of sewer lines, all streets should be serviced. The town council during the year 1965 went to the ratepayers to approve the borrowing of necessary money to expand the sewer system within the town. At that time the Federal government had made money available to the municipalities for such a purpose, and in order to encourage the necessary construction would make a grant of 25% of the borrowed money. Since that time the Federal Government has discontinued the offer. The council saw the opportunity to save the land owners whose land would have been serviced by the much needed extension, but the majority vote at the ratepayers meeting was opposed to the borrowing and a small percentage of the ratepayers were present. The borrowing of this money would not have increased the property tax to the ratepayers, only a sewer frontage to those who would have had the direct benefit as to their property by such a sewer rendered or made available.

The town council has established the Town of Digby Planning Board, under the direction of a past deputy mayor, Dr. D. E. Lewis. The purpose of the town Planning Board is to make a study of the existing physical conditions of the town and make recommendations to the ratepayers as to how the best use of the land for an orderly building program for the future. Zoning the town as to commercial and residential areas becomes an important aspect of town planning for future development.

In order to carry out the many essential services of the town of Digby, I wish to bring to the attention of all the ratepayers of our town, the many citizens who devote a great deal of thought and time, free of charge or for very little remuneration. In many cases the only reward to these people is a job well done. When the job is not done or not completed, the effort of those people who have been directly concerned with the worthwhile project are not supported by the ratepayers for whom the effort is applied; the results can only be discouragement for those who are willing to give their services free of charge.

In summary the assets of the town of Digby, the town has a great many assets which very often we fail to recognize or do not have knowledge of. When one hears the expression, "what do I get for the tax dollar?" (referring to property tax), it can be answered that the benefit can be small or great, depending upon the person who asks the question. When the town ratepayers as a whole ask the same question, then the reply can only be a great benefit to all our citizens at a minimum cost.

The liabilities of our town, are some of the inefficient services. The town should in all haste up-grade those services for the benefit of our citizens and visitors to our town. There should be made available a greater proportion of property tax money for engineering to improve the public owned properties, to help create a better environment for economic growth. The goal should be at the highest level possible. Rome was not built in a day. Digby must first provide the basic needs not in part but to all its citizens and visitors as soon as it becomes possible to do so.

The Town of Digby is not independent. The welfare of our town depends upon the economic growth of all areas of Canada and the world. The closer the prosperity is to our town, the better chance for the prosperity of our town. There is opportunity at home and abroad, the degree depends upon many factors of which some are factors of development within our control while others are in the control of Provincial and Federal governments.

This being the Centennial Year of Canada, it is a year of celebration, a year to celebrate the prosperity of Canada as a nation, a year to celebrate Canada as a nation of influence and respect amongst other nations.

Within Canada, like all countries, there are areas of lesser prosperity. The Maritime provinces fall in this category and are recognized by the Federal Government, which is assisting the Maritime provinces as a whole to up-grade the economy. During the term of proposed confederation, the Maritime province's economy was well above the average of Canada. Western Nova Scotia enjoyed prosperity and was prospering in trade and commerce and industry. Nova Scotia was blessed with the geographic position to build ships and to carry on world trade. To-day Nova Scotia has lost that position and Canada depends on foreign ships to carry the millions of tons of freight to and from Canada. There are reasons why this came about. The reasons were not sufficient to have lost this valuable traffic to N. S. or to Canada as a whole. The only two remaining ships travelling from Western Nova Scotia are the Blue-nose from Yarmouth to Bar Harbour, which is a modern boat, capable of transporting passenger and all types of vehicles, and the Princess of Acadia from Digby to Saint John, an interprovincial connection serving the C. P. R. Company and a port service to the public's needs. The Blue-nose crossing from Yarmouth to Bar Harbour is an international ocean voyage, while the Princess of Acadia is an interprovincial ferry service between Western N. S., and N. B. The service from Digby to Saint John is outdated and it is hoped that facilities are adequately provided in order to take care of all traffic at reasonable rates in relation to the distance of travel by water, comparative to other ferry services operating in Canadian waters. For the last 20 years the Bay of Fundy service has been a liability and not an asset as far as the economy of Western Nova Scotia is concerned.

"Spring Thaw '67" At CFB Cornwallis

"Spring Thaw '67" is a fast moving, satirical musical revue with an all star Canadian Cast featuring such famous names as Barbara Hamilton of TV and radio fame; the lovely Dinah Christie who provided the scenery and singing in the controversial programme "This Hour Has Seven Days"; the talented, popular singer Catherine McKinnon of the Don Messer Show; Peter Mews, a perennial favourite, Dianne Nyland, Dean Regan and Ron Tanguay.

Written by Donald Harron, the show is directed and choreographed by Alan Lund. The Review got its start in Toronto in 1948 when it was produced by Dora and Mavor Moore.

In recent years it has taken to the road on cross country tours and has played in major Canadian cities. It is always topical and lampoons the Canadian scene in general and frequently the politician in particular.

This year's show will have a Centennial flavour and promises to live up to its reputation for being the best in Canadian comedy.

There will be a matinee Thursday, 2 February, 1967, for Wrens, Airwomen and New Entries commencing at 2:00 p.m. in the Recreation Centre Theatre.

The evening performance will be by reserved seat only and will be open to all members of the staff, families, and the general public. Curtain time is 8:00 p.m. Tickets are on sale at all local drug stores.

Weymouth Kiwanis Elect Officers

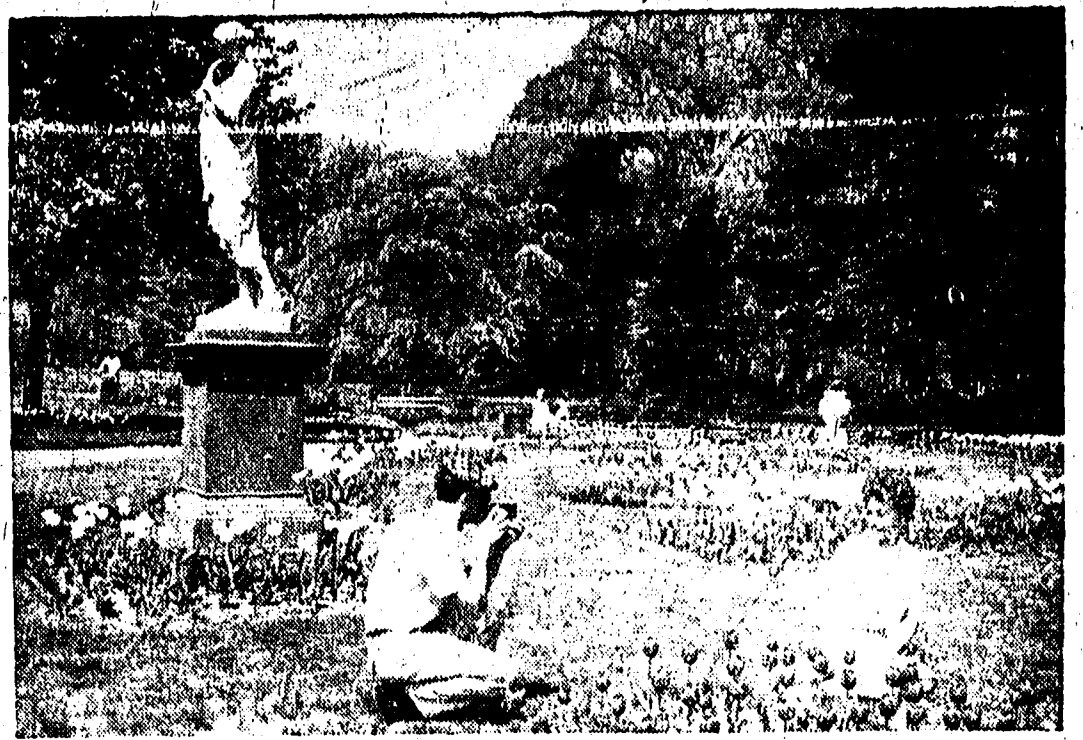

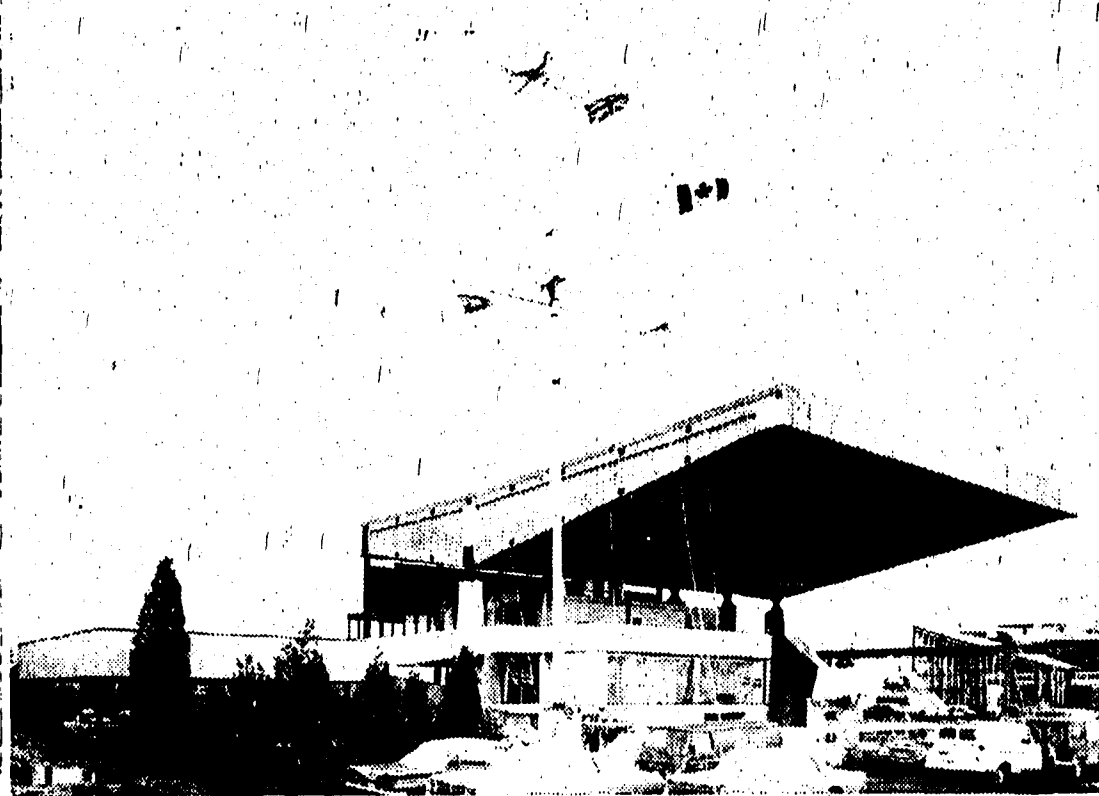

The Kiwanis Club of Weymouth elected on Monday evening, January 9th, at the Goodwin Hotel the following: President, Kenn Sweeney; 1st Vice-President, Charles Myles; 2nd Vice-President, Emmanuel Adelaar; Treasurer, Perley Charlton; Secretary, William Lefort; Past President, Dennis LeBlanc.

The Directors are: Bernard LeBlanc, Lawrence Stockdale, Basil Belliveau, Nelson Gaudet, Elie Belliveau, Fidele Theriault.

Atlantic Pavilion A Stand-Out

The millions of tourists expected to visit Expo '67 will have no difficulty in finding the Atlantic Provinces Pavilion thanks to a large ship's mast that towers above the now completed structure. The mast, flying the flags of Nova Scotia, New Brunswick, Prince Edward Island and Newfoundland, contains a top mast, two yards and a gaff. At its base is a console containing weather instruments. Officials of the four provinces held one of their regular meetings at the pavilion December 9 during which time they inspected the progress to date.

PROVINCIAL AFFAIRS

By Gerald A. Regan

This will be one of those "let's give credit where credit is due" columns.

All Nova Scotians greeted the announcement of Prime Minister and the Premier of Nova Scotia of the comprehensive programme for the rehabilitation of the Cape Breton economy. At last the uncertainty of the future of the coal mines has been dispelled and it is possible to know more of the future.

I think it would be extremely premature to say that the crisis has ended or that daylight and sunshine are in sight. Many serious problems and difficulties will be encountered in the execution of the policies that have been announced. Perhaps if one could borrow from the late Winston Churchill, it could be said that the launching by these policies of a Crown corporation to operate the coal mines and promote new industry, does not mark the beginning of the end of the Cape Breton problem, but rather the end of the beginning.

The problem of attracting even with generous government grants, industries that can provide a sufficient number of jobs to replace the coal mines in Cape Breton is a task of the first magnitude.

The problem of the declining steel industry, every bit as serious as the coal problem and much less excusable, remains unresolved, but it may be that the terms of reference of the Crown corporation will enable it to examine remedies for steel as part of the overall rehabilitation of the Cape Breton economy.

I started this column by saying that credit should be given where it is due. In my view there was too little said at the time about the role of Allan MacEachen, M.P. for Inverness-Richmond and Minister of National Health and Welfare, in the accomplishment of this grand plan for Cape Breton.

It was my experience during the years I was a Member of Parliament at Ottawa, that in all parties the elected representatives tended to be concerned with the problems of their own areas. For example, it was always difficult to make British Columbia Members, be they Liberal, Conservative, New Democrats, or Social Creditors, understand the problems of Nova Scotia or our needs for special assistance.

Among other veterans the late George Nowlan once told me that it had always been almost overnight a virtual ghost town, no such comprehensive programme of massive federal government expenditure was undertaken. It has not been done in any other primarily because of the efforts of one man — Allan MacEachen.

Let's be brutally frank. In the context of old-time politics a government did little or nothing for an area that rejected the government party's candidates. As one who is sometimes critical of Ottawa, I want to say how proud I am that they have displayed that type of politics in the past, in undertaking this tremendous programme for the industrial Cape Breton area, which had rejected the government's candidates at one of the four or five men who, since Confederation, have been able through determination and ability to make the rest of the nation understand and wish to assist our special problem.

Often we tend to make Ottawa a whipping boy, demanding much and showing no gratitude when we receive it.

In the case of this plan for Cape Breton, let us remember that it is totally without precedent in Canada. When the uranium boom faded and a city in Prime Minister Pearson's own constituency became almost overnight a virtual ghost town, no such comprehensive programme of massive federal government expenditure was undertaken. It has not been done in any other primarily because of the efforts of one man — Allan MacEachen.

Let's be brutally frank. In the context of old-time politics a government did little or nothing for an area that rejected the government party's candidates. As one who is sometimes critical of Ottawa, I want to say how proud I am that they have displayed that type of politics in the past, in undertaking this tremendous programme for the industrial Cape Breton area, which had rejected the government's candidates at one of the four or five men who, since Confederation, have been able through determination and ability to make the rest of the nation understand and wish to assist our special problem.

For all of these reasons this week I salute Allan MacEachen as one of the finest representatives that Nova Scotia has sent to Ottawa during our first 100 years as a nation.

N.S. Teachers To Have Salary Increase

Hon. R. L. Stanfield, Minister of Education, in announcing major changes in the Foundation Program of the public schools, said that effective August 1, 1967, the salary scales for teachers and the cost scales for maintenance of buildings, teaching supplies and conveyance of pupils toward which the Province will pay grants will be substantially increased.

The Province will also share, for the first time, in the costs of summer schools conducted by school boards and in payments made by school boards to their teachers to assist them in improving their professional qualifications.

These changes have been approved by the Government following the submission of recommendations by the Foundation Program Committee and discussion of these with the executive of the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities.

The Foundation Program Committee comprises representatives of the Department of Education, the Nova Scotia Teachers' Union, the Nova Scotia Association of Urban and Municipal School Boards and the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities. Its function is to examine annually the educational services and scales of costs included in the Foundation Program and to make recommendations to the Minister for additions and improvements.

The Government has also agreed to assume the major share of the estimated $8,000,000 increase in costs resulting from these changes.

In the first full school year after August 1 the Provincial Government will assume approximately $7,300,000 of the costs, with the balance to be paid by the school boards. This will be brought about under the provisions of the Education Act, by increasing in most of the municipal units the percentage that the Province will pay after August 1 toward all existing costs and the proposed new costs of the Foundation Program.

These increases in the provincial percentage where they apply are expected to cover all the increased cost of the new teachers' salary scale. The increase in the shareable allowance for maintenance and conveyances will result in a direct saving to those municipal units which are now paying above the present scales for these services.

Since the provincial percentage also applies to school debt service charges, the higher percentages that will apply after August 1 will result in a considerable reduction in the municipal share of these costs.

petitive, notwithstanding the substantial increases made last year.

The new Nova Scotia scale provides for sizeable increases in the starting salaries and very substantial increases in the maximum salaries reached through much larger annual increments than at present.

The Minister drew particular attention to the new scales for Teachers' License Class 1, the license issued after the two-year course at the Teachers' College and for the professional certificate of Class II, granted to those who obtain a regular bachelor's degree and a bachelor of education at a university.

T. L. I's will now begin at $4100, rising to $5750 in six years. The P. C. II's will start at $5700 and go to $8950 in 10 years. For the first time the grant scale for a classroom teacher, with a P. C. I (B.A., B.E.D., and master's degree) will rise to over $10,000 per annum. Mr. Stanfield expressed the hope that these scales would retain more of our Nova Scotia trained teachers in the Province and perhaps attract back some of our "ex-ports" of recent years.

Details of the other changes recommended by the Committee and approved by the Government include:

1. An increase of 10 per cent in the cost scales (recognized for the payment of grants) for the maintenance of buildings and purchase of teaching equipment and supplies. (Please turn to page 12)

Committal service was held on Monday morning by Rev. Max Spencer, and interment in Lake Medway cemetery.

Duncan Little — Word has been received here from his sister, Mrs. Edith Milbank, South Orange, New Jersey, of the passing of Duncan Little, a long time summer visitor in Smith's Cove. Death occurred on December 17th, as a result of pneumonia.

The death of Mr. Little came as a shock to many of his friends here who had received Christmas greetings from Mr. and Mrs. Little, which had been posted previous to his death in December.

William Arthur Crowe — William Arthur Crowe, 77, passed away at the Digby General Hospital on Sunday. He was born in Upper Grandville and was a son of the late J. Frank Crowe and Carrie (Boutillier) Crowe. He moved to Halifax at an early age and later attended Horton Academy. After completing his studies he was associated with the late W. E. Crowe in the grocery business in Halifax, and later with his father in the Halifax Seed Company. He also worked with the late Harry Crowe in the lumbering industry in Grand Falls, Newfoundland.

During the first World War he served with the 63rd Regiment. In 1919 he moved to Bridgetown, where he operated a farm and dairy business. He was also for many years representative for the Massey-Harris Company. For nearly thirty years he represented the Famlex Company of Montreal in Annapolis County.

Mr. Crowe was a life member of the Royal Canadian Legion and for many years served as Secretary of the Bridgetown branch of the Legion. He also took an active part in the work of planning and building the Legion Memorial Centre in Bridgetown. He was a member of the Bridgetown Baptist Church, and for many years served on the board of the Riverside Cemetery.

Following the death in 1959 of his wife, the former Hattie H. Dauphinee, he moved to Digby, where he made his home with his daughter, Mrs. Victor Cardoza, and Mr. Cardoza.

He is survived by his daughter, Eileen, (Mrs. Victor Cardoza); a granddaughter, Elizabeth Cardoza, and one sister, Miss Eva R. Crowe, of Halifax and Fort Lauderdale, Fla. A son, Gordon predeceased him as did a brother, Harold.

The body rested at Jayne's Funeral Home in Digby until Wednesday morning, when a family service was held at 9:30. Following this, the body was taken to Bridgetown, where it rested at the Bridgetown Baptist Church until 2:00 p.m., when the funeral service was held. The Rev. Gerald Steeves conducted the service and interment was in the family lot in the Riverside cemetery, Bridgetown.

STORM DAMAGES CHURCH

One of our recent and bad wind storms, raised havoc with the New Tuskot Baptist Church, Havelock. A large portion of the ceiling plaster gave way, and left the re- mainder cracked and hanging. It has been too dangerous to hold services for the past 2 weeks, but it is understood a new ceiling is nearly com- pleted and other work done.

ute program of tape recorded carols and Christmas readings. As has been her custom for many years, Mrs. Fulton Stark gave the Club a large iced cake. This was won by Mrs. Myrtle Jackson. Mrs. Jackson was also the recipient of a birthday cake made by Mrs. Howard Adams.

A pleasingly plump Santa Claus arrived promptly at 9 o'clock and distributed gifts. Games and stunts and a bit of black magic provided en- tertainment and amusement for everyone during the social hour.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Hirtle, assisted by Mrs. Rose Baxter, and Mrs. Paul Vroom.

plies. At present the recognized cost scales for maintenance range from $450 to $1000 per room with an additional allowance of $100 per room for teaching equipment and supplies.

2. An increase in the shareable cost per mile of larger vehicles used for conveyance of pupils — from 40c to 50c per mile for vehicles with a capacity of 40 to 55 pupils; from 45c to 55c per mile for vehicles with a capacity of 60 or over.

3. Payment of the provincial percentage of costs assumed by school boards for "make up" programs conducted in the summer months; costs assumed by school boards for payments to teachers for taking up-grading courses at summer school, attending professional meetings and conventions and taking full-time courses on sabbatical leave; and of the additional salaries of department heads appointed by school boards to co-ordinate the work of teachers in particular subject matter fields.

A recommendation of the Committee that adult evening classes be included in the Foundation Program was deferred for one year, to allow time for adjustments and administrative arrangements.

The Premier indicated that the main purpose of the changes was to enable school boards to obtain qualified staff, in nation-wide competition. The second purpose was to enable school boards to supply the necessary supporting services at realistic costs with little or no increase in municipal tax burdens. He stated that the Foundation Program Committee would review all cost scales, including the salaries of teachers, each year to ensure that the scales remain competitive and realistic.

Marriages

Smith — Robicheau

St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, Toronto, was the scene of a lovely wedding, when Blanche Ida, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Rhodie Smith, of Conception Bay, Newfoundland, was united in marriage with Ronald Joseph, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Robicheau, Gilbert Cove, N. S. Father McWilliams officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a floor length gown of white peau-de-soie, with lace bodice featuring a chapel train attached at the waist.

Her bouffant veil of illusion tulle, was held in place by a rose. Her only jewelry was a pearl necklace. She carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Mrs. Joanne Leblanc, was bridesmaid. She wore a floor length empire style red velvet gown which featured a chapel train. Her head piece was of red illusion tulle, held in place by a red velvet rose. She carried a bouquet of red and white carnations.

The groom was attended by Hank Leblanc.

The groom's mother looked lovely in a green brocade dress with beige accessories. Her corsage was of yellow rose buds.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the White Castle Inn. The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. Wilkinson. After dinner was served, dancing was enjoyed.

The groom's mother, Mrs. Jesse Robicheau and his aunt, Miss Doris Doucette, were out of town guests at the wedding. The happy couple are residing in Toronto, where he is employed at Canada Steel Case, and she is employed at the Workmen's Compensation Board.

Doucet — Thibodeau

A very beautiful wedding was solemnized at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church at Church Point on January 7th, when Rev. Camille Comeau united in marriage Miss Marie Nancy Thibodeau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Thibodeau, of Church Point and Larry Edward Doucet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ulysse Doucet, of Belliveau Cove in a double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in her two piece navy blue suit with white accessories with a pink carnation attached to her suit. She carried a prayer book. The bride's attendant was Miss Patsy Doucet, sister of the groom, who wore a navy blue suit with white accessories and carried a prayer book. The groom's attendant was Allan Doucet, brother of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a black Persian lamb jacket with an aqua dress trimmed with lace, with beige accessories. Her corsage was pink and white carnations. Mrs. Edmond Melanson provided the nuptial music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Clarence Comeau, on the organ.

A reception was held at

Discuss Petite Passage And Weymouth Bridge

Baden Powell, M.L.A. in his address before the opening session of the Municipal Council on Monday, reviewed the accomplishments in road improvements throughout the county and projected some of the plans of the department for the future. In answering questions from the council which touched on Petite Passage, he said the Provincial Government had agreed to build the approaches to the causeway but the Federal Government had not, as yet, agreed to build the causeway. The council felt that all efforts should be made to "push" the project of a causeway and for adequate breakwaters.

On the question of a causeway at Weymouth bridge, the problem, it is felt, is a very complex one. One hundred feet is the width necessary for a causeway. A tunnel beneath the railway on the east side is necessary. The people in Weymouth should agree on the site as well as the possible removal of buildings that line the approaches, Mr. Powell said.

A number of children from Digby Regional High School attended the opening and were welcomed by the Warden. They sang "O Canada" at the start of the session. The Rev. George E. Morris led in prayer. Vernon L. Bent, representing The Digby Courier at the opening, assured the council of the continued co-operation in all matters pertaining to public interest in council affairs and wished them success in their deliberations.

Spoon For First Baby

Christmas activities at the Digby General Hospital was the general topic of discussion at the January meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary, held January 9th. There were fourteen members present.

It was announced that the year's first baby, born to Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Saulnier, of New Tusket, was presented with a silver spoon.

The auxiliary expressed thanks to Mrs. R. Bernsten for the beautiful needlepoint picture which she made and donated. A letter of thanks was sent to Harold Sulis, who personally went into the woods and brought back all of the Christmas trees used in the hospital at Christmas time. The ward Christmas trees

Capt. C. G. Houtsma, First Coast Guard District Chief of Staff, presents retirement certificate and plaque to Chief Warrant Officer Randall H. Spooner, right, retiring after 27 years service.

Retires After 27 Years Service

(The Everett Times)

A Coast Guardsman who hails from Everett, Mass., has retired from military service after 27 years in uniform. Chief Warrant Officer Randall H. Spooner, son of Mrs. Edwin E. Ellis, of 15 Marion Place, stepped out to join AVCO as an engineering specialist.

Spooner now resides in Peabody. He is married and has three children: Lawrence, Edwin and Karen.

During a ceremony at the John F. Kennedy Federal Building the First Coast Guard District Chief of Staff Captain C. G. Houtsma, presented Spooner with his retirement certificate and a handsome plaque commending him for his years of faithful and dedicated service.

Spooner's interest in electronics goes back to his early years when he was attending school in Everett. He obtained an amateur radio license in 1935 while still attending Everett High School.

Enlisting in the Naval Communication Reserve in 1937 he served two years before entering the Coast Guard in 1939 as an apprentice seaman. Because he held FCC commercial operators licenses he was assigned as a radio operator on board the Coast Guard Cutter Duane, whose home port was Boston.

Since his initial assignment on the Duane he has served in many capacities. He was transferred to Coast Guard Headquarters Radio Station, Washington, D. C., in January of 1942 and to the Fenwick Island experimental station. In December, 1942, he was assigned to Cape Bonaville, Newfoundland, as senior electronic technician for construction and placing of the first overseas Loran station on the air and in commission. He served there for more than six years with a break of five months in 1945 to attend electronic technician school at the Coast Guard Training Center in Groton, Conn.

Mr. Spooner comes to Westport, Nova Scotia, every year and is an ardent fisherman, both surfcasting and from his boat. He was the first fisherman to fish with rod and reel from the "Point" and he has pulled in some big ones.

Warden Urges Expansion Cornwallis

In his opening address at the annual meeting of Municipal Council Monday, Warden Ronald Morehouse expressed deep concern over the unsettled problem of the fate of CFB Cornwallis. "Not only should we be assured of the continuance of the base past July 1968, but expansion of the base should be undertaken." The Warden felt that to enable Canada to "play its role in the vital area of defense" expansion was necessary.

Canada's centennial year should be recognized and celebrated in every way possible, said the Warden.

The fishing industry has had an exceptionally successful year, the Warden reported. The fund set up to assist fish plants to come up to recently applied standards in processing has been of help to the industry, he said.

Agriculture, thanks to the Beaverbrook Farms, is in a stronger position than ever before. The potential is enormous for the hiring of additional labor in the years to come.

The new Home for Children, to be opened in February in the old hospital, will accommodate some 33 children. The staff is already preparing the building for occupancy. Considerable renovating has been done and more to the grounds will be done during the spring.

Hans Twisk, of Egmond Hof, Holland, spent two days recently with Mr. and Mrs. Donald Cameron.

Retired RCMP Officer Passes

Louis George Ecker died suddenly Wednesday morning at his home in Digby. He suffered a heart attack.

Mr. Ecker was a retired officer of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police and served in Digby for many years before his retirement. He was born in Marlinville, Alberta. He was a member of a number of worthy organizations in the Digby area.

Surviving are his wife, the former Eileen Mason; two daughters, two sons and a number of other relatives.

Funeral arrangements have not as yet been completed. The service will be held at

$50,000 Fire At Digby Dairy

When smoke and fire poured from the roof of the Digby Dairy Limited on Monday morning before 10 o'clock, the situation looked hopeless for saving any part of the building. Prompt response by the Digby Volunteer Fire Department, however, soon confined the fire to the back area of the upper storey, where storage was kept. Smoke and water damage occurred throughout the interior. Butter and a quantity of containers and other dry goods was lost. Damage is estimated between $40,000 and $50,000. It was covered by insurance.

On Tuesday, clearing away of debris was underway and it is understood the dairy will operate in full as soon as possible. In the meantime milk will be sent to Yarmouth to be processed and returned for regular deliveries. Milk will be received from farmers regularly as usual.

Manager of the Digby Dairy Ltd. is Gregg Gilliat, a member of the Digby Town Council.

This Is The Night

This is the night when we people in Digby town go to the Digby Regional High School to decide whether or not we are going to spend $63,322.55 of our hard earned cash to accommodate the educational requirements of our children and our children's children. We think the figure quoted above is necessary to emphasize since the ratepayers meeting has been called for the purpose of getting permission to borrow $105,000. True, this amount is necessary to borrow but the provincial and federal governments will look after a portion of that, leaving the actual cost to the town estimated in the sixty-three thousand. Of course, the Municipality of the District of Digby is also required to pay a similar amount of $60,725.94. They, too, will have to borrow or be prepared to put up $243,977.27 until the school is constructed and the portion returned in grants. The total cost of the school is estimated at $750,786.50.

The chief purpose of this editorial is not to quote figures but to once more urge you to attend the meeting tonight. All in Digby town will have had the Courier in time to see this page and be once again reminded. Just slip into a hat and coat and take upon yourself your civic duty. Be at the D.R.H.S. for eight o'clock to hear the arguments for or against. Ask questions. There is no question too trifling to ask. Others want to hear the same questions answered. Not all of us can deal in complicated figures and detailed accounts but we all have a right to answers to specific and simple questions.

What will an extension or new school mean for Digby industrially? As an industry on its own? What will it do towards attracting new industry?

How will a new school affect the educational and employment advantages for the young people?

How badly do we need the new school? Do we need other services in town worse than a school? Is the new educational system an advantage? If so, do we need the school to take advantage of the system?

Some will want to know what we would be getting for the overall amount of $750,786.50. This question needs rather a long involved answer. Better get it at D.R.H.S. tonight as there are to be new classrooms, new labs., etc., and then there are converted and renovated rooms. Some are for the commercial department (6 shop and 6 classrooms, one storage area) to accommodate 6 teachers and 190 students; Home Economics Department (food area, clothing, home making, commercial cooking); Industrial Arts (general shop, woodworking and drafting, etc, machine shop); Audio-Visual area; Library facilities; Science lab. facilities (chemistry, physics, biology) and administration, etc.

There is much to be learned which you can only get at the meeting tonight. It is important that there is plenty of time for discussion and that everybody comes with an open mind and not ganged up to defeat or railroad the resolution through. This is an important issue in the light of many things. This Is The Night that figures far into the future.

Cummins, Capt. 'Sixty Years A March Of Dimes Paul Directors Blacksmith Canvass

The whole country will be alert during the month of February with Heart Fund campaigners calling on residences and commercial enterprises. In Digby, Dudley Cummins is President and Captain J. M. Paul of Cornwallis is the Director associated with the area. February is Heart Month all over Nova Scotia, Canada and the United States.

In Nova Scotia, 3,011 ladies and 321 men will campaign during January 21 after spending sixty years as a blacksmith. After three years with Mr. Cummings he went to Lynn, Mass., where he worked for about two years as a blacksmith. He returned to Digby and after several years working as a blacksmith he bought out the man who trained him and set up his own business. In 1929 he moved into his present shop and carried on his trade in this location until his retirement. Until recent years he walked to and from his shop each day, a distance of nearly two miles.

Humphrey Retires After 33 Years Ottawa Studies Digby Fire Chief Improvement Ferry Service

George Humphrey

Digby Fire Chief George E. Humphrey has retired after thirty-three years of active service with the department. He has been succeeded by Arthur "Buster" Handsaker.

Mr. Humphrey joined the Digby volunteer fire department in 1933. He served in the ranks as a fireman for five years and was made assistant chief in 1939. He acted in this capacity for eight years and was then promoted to chief. He retired on December 31 from that position. For a short period Mr. Humphrey was also president of the fire department.

As a chief for nineteen years Mr. Humphrey was closely involved in the expansion programs and development of the department carried out during those years.

During Chief Humphrey's term the fire department developed into one of the most efficient units in any community of its size in the province. All members of the department have undergone extensive training in fire fighting, prevention, rescue and salvage work. Courses in first aid have also been carried out and many department members have undergone special emergency measures training.

At a recent meeting of the department Mr. Humphrey was made executive chief and an honorary member of the department in recognition of his many years of service.

Probable Cause Of Crash

The department of transport reported Saturday that failure to maintain flying speed during low altitude flight was the probable cause of a crash of a Piper seaplane in Deep Brook, Nova Scotia, in July of last year with the loss of two lives.

The aircraft, being flown from Legro Lake to Sam Harris Lake, stalled in a turn and dove to the ground near the mouth of the Bear River. The pilot and single passenger, Philip Comeau and Frederick Thibodeau, Halifax, both natives of Clare, were killed and the plane destroyed.

Protests Game

Meteghan Flyers of the Clare Juvenile League downed Church Point 8-1, but Church Point has protested the game due to Meteghan using an averaged player. Meteghan scored six unanswered goals in the first period, with Alain Cotteau scoring twice and Melvin Deveau, Paul E. Comeau, Russell Deveau and Yvon Pothier each scoring singles.

Alain Cotteau scored the only goal of the second period to put Meteghan ahead 7-0, and in the third period Delbert Theriault scored a single for Meteghan and Junior Gennette scored Church Point's only goal of the game.

Lions Lose To Saulnierville

Saulnierville downed Meteghan Lions of the Clare Juvenile League 7-2. Saulnierville took a 5-1 lead in the first period, with Hubert Melanson scoring twice and Emile Comeau, Hector Saulnier and Alain Comeau scoring singles. Paul Louis Deveau scored the Lions lone goal of the period.

Paul L. Deveau scored a single in the second period to cut down Saulnierville's lead to 5-2. In the third period Saulnierville scored two unanswered by Russell Maillet and Thomas LeBlanc to clinch the game.

Meteghan Blanks Belliveau Cove

Meteghan ran roughshod over Belliveau Cove Thunderbirds winning by a score of 6-0 in a regular Western Counties Hockey League contest. J. P. Vallee scored the only two goals of the first period to take a 2-0 lead and Brian Comeau and Emery Maillet each scored singles in the second period to take a 4-0 lead and in the third period Emery Maillet scored two more for a hat trick to end the game.

Saulnierville Defeats St. Bernard

Saulnierville Maple Leafs of the Clare Bantam League defeated St. Bernard Canadians 2-0.

Saulnierville and St. Bernard played two scoreless first and second periods, and Wayne Doucet and J. P. Boudreau clinched the game in the third period keeping their opponents scoreless.

Saulnierville Wins

Saulnierville defeated Church Point 8-6 in a Western Counties Hockey League fixture. Saulnierville took a 3-1 lead in the first period with Alain Comeau scoring twice and Bobby Gennette a single for Saulnierville and Benoit Melanson scoring the Johnston, G. Johnson (D. VanTassel), D. VanTassel (G. Johnson, S. Morrell). The Maple Leafs crushed the new entry into our league from Cornwallis by the score of 8-3. The Cornwallis boys were outplayed and outclassed in all roles in their first appearance of the season. With a few games under their belt the new team may make for better competition in coming weeks. Scoring for the Maple Leafs was done by G. Cress, G. Harris (L. Budd), M. Potter (G. Harris), R. Bell (G. Harris), G. Harris (R. Bell), R. Bell (L. Budd), G. Harris, G. Cress (G. Fletcher). The Cornwallis goals came from Beaulieu, Stark (Fraser), Beaulieu (Brown).

Regular play will resume this Friday afternoon and Saturday.

C.Y.O. Ice Sports

By Jerry VanTassel

Last Sunday afternoon the C.Y.O. once again was active at the Forum.

In the broomball game a hard fighting Holy Cross team from Plympton handed the home town St. Pat's girls their first defeat. Joan Melanson scored both Plympton goals in their 2-1 victory over St. Pat's whose only goal was scored by Mary Jane Amirault.

In the hockey game St. Pat's after losing their early three goal lead had to come back to eke out a 9-8 win over a strong St. Joseph's team from Weymouth. Danny Doucette led the home team with 6 goals. Jerry VanTassel scored 2 goals, and with one minute of play remaining in the game, John Amirault banged in the winning tally.

For the losers, Paul Comeau put on a fine display of hard skating and accurate shooting, for 5 goals. Greg Mackin accounted for the other Weymouth markers with a hat trick.

These games were followed by an hour of free skating.

Church Point Falcon's lone goal of the period.

Each team scored 3 goals in the second period to give Saulnierville a 7-4 lead. Fernand Comeau scored three goals for Church Point while Alain Comeau, Melbourn Saulnier, Yvon Thibault and Rene Thibault each scored singles.

In the third period Saulnierville's Melbourn Saulnier scored one while Church Point's Fernand Comeau scored twice for his fourth goal of the game.

Church Point And Meteghan Tie

Meteghan scored the only goal of the first period when Herbert Thibodeau tallied just a few minutes before the period ended. Church Point tied it up in the second with a goal by Julien Comeau when he was tapped in by Bobby Doucets rebound in for the goal. The third period went scoreless.

First Win of Season

Church Point Blackhawks won their first game of the season in the Clare Bantam Hockey League when they defeated St. Bernard Canadians 1-0 in a hotly contested contest. The only goal of the game was scored by Denis Comeau on a pass from Gerald Theriault in the second period.

Leafs Defeat Bruins

Saulnierville Maple Leafs defeated Meteghan Bruins 5-4 in a Clare Bantam League match. The first period ended in a 2-2 tie with Wayne Doucet scoring both Saulnierville goals and Marcel Aymar, who had a hat trick in the game, scored his first goal and Jr. Comeau scored a single for Meteghan. In the second period, each team scored singles with Marcel Aymar scoring his second goal of the game for Meteghan and J. P. Boudreau scoring a goal for Saulnierville. Saulnierville went ahead in the third period when J. P. Boudreau scored again and Henry Gaudet scored a single. The Bruins tried hard to tie it up but only managed to score a single with Aymar scoring his third goal. Aymar plays on defence and his strong playing kept the Bruins in the thick of the game throughout the match.

Firemen Defeated

In a game held at the Forum on Sunday evening, the Digby Generals defeated the firemen in red by the score of 8-3. This was the first meeting of these two teams this season. Next Sunday evening the two will again meet in an exhibition game, and it is hoped a better turnout of fans will be present.

Scoring for the Generals was done by Wayne Snow with 4 goals, John Cowan with 2, Greg Hewitt 1, and the happy barber with one. The firemen's team was a lawful team with a strong hard working forward by the name of Randy Cummings, and two sturdy defencemen by the name of M. Surrette, and Y. Plomp. These two teams are evenly matched and with a little practice the firemen should provide stiff competition for any team.

N.S. Centennial Canoe Team Withdraws

By David W. Caldwell
Provincial Commodore N. S. In 1966 a team of nine men manning a 25 foot canoe entered in the trials of the Centennial Canoe Race with no backing of their Province financially and no backing from any major firm financially, and at times pushed up into third place on the first half of the race and had a total overall place for 6th position. The officials had voted them the most improved team there. On the 2nd half of the race, even though the two teams who were closest to them strengthened their teams with five new paddlers, the N. S. team managed to come across the finish line in New York in 7th place. With still no public support and still no finances, it is necessary for the team to withdraw from this National event and the province of Nova Scotia will not be represented in the 3500 mile canoe race across Canada in 1967. The operation in 1966 cost $1,800, and there was approximately $500 raised in donations and the balance is outstanding against the Commodore. The budget for the 1966 race and the 1967 race was set down as $5,000. As they do not have it, they will not be going. As a matter of fact, at this date even if they had the necessary finances, it would be impossible to train a team in time for the 24th of May for the race which starts at Rocky Mountain House, Alberta.

Editor's Note: This is the same canoe team in which Watson Peck, Bear River was entered.

that the Meteghan Lions Club had been organized in Meteghan, a great change has occurred in better relations among business men who are in competitive business even in the same town.

Build Or Not Discussion

Repairs estimated at $87,300 to the Digby County Court House made the municipal councillors at regular session on Wednesday morning look with shocked surprise. Immediately, the question arose as to whether it would be better business to build new or to repair the 58 year old structure.

The subject had not been fully debated and discussed at time of going to press and opinions divided on the question. In one case it was felt the figure should be kept to $40,000 and spread this amount of repairs over a few years. Others felt this was a vast amount of money for repairs and a long range look should be taken of the matter with serious thought of a new building.

It was felt in one section that with the building of a school pending it would not be wise to consider building at this time. It was also drawn to the attention of councillors that the vault was becoming too small for present day books and documents. The heating system, too, was deemed inadequate.

Grace United Holds Annual Meeting

Norman Wright, president at the annual meeting of the Grace United Church congregation and Mrs. J. M. Wallis was secretary for the meeting.

Reports of the various organizations were heard. Membership increased by 13. Attendance at Church School had dropped from the previous year which the superintendent, Oakley Turnbull attributed to a corresponding decline in church attendance by adults.

Grace United Church Women, under leadership of Mrs. Fred Fullerton, had one of the best years financially in its history. The Missionary and maintenance committee report also showed excess over allocation. An amount of $200 donated by Mrs. C. F. McGrath to the parlor fund was acknowledged.

Reports of the C.G.I.T. were presented by Miss Maria Trask, president, and Miss Heather Halliday, treasurer. Both showed active years, under the leader, Mrs. Bryson Denton.

Mrs. Shirley VanTassel was leader of Explorers, and Mrs. Charles Pitt, of the club unit she was succeeded by Robert Payne and Richard Mithury. Lefroy Brooks is scoutmaster.

New officers and committees were elected and appointments made as follows.

Norman D. Wright for a one year term on the Session, and C. D. Snow for a four year term. The session consists of Rev. R. H. Hughes, N. D. Wright, re-elected, R. K. Beck with R. E. Jefferson, Dr. D. G. Black, G. Hoare, J. O. Turnbull, George O'Neil, Shirley VanTassel, Fred Fullerton, Sherman Rice, Retiring was Aubrey Hawkins.

Trustees: Rev. R. H. Hughes, R. G. Handsaker, Secretary: Donald Fleet, Treasurer: H. M. Turnbull, Carl Melan son, Clifford Farnsworth, A. Hawkins, Clayton Snow, Russell Stonehouse, Boyd Ellis, George O'Neil.

Stewards: M. B. Atkinson, Wm. MacLeod, Wm. Reid, Clinton MacInnes, Donald Macdonald, Mrs. Fred Fullerton, Miss Gertrude Budrow, Edward Essex, Robert White, Retiring from the committee of Stewards were W. V. Troop, Mrs. Charles Pitt, Mrs. J. M. Wallis and Charles Halliburton.

Further To The Porpoise Film

In last week's issue, the Courier printed a story requesting information concerning porpoise hunting among the Mic Mac Indians in the early days in Digby Basin.

In addition to replies which are printed in "Letters to the Editor" column this week, we have received information to the effect that Dr. Alexander Leighton made a film on porpoise hunting in 1934. The principal characters in the film were: Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Pictou, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Pictou, Matt Pictou and William Muisse. Other Indians of the district were "extras" and appeared in the film.

At the request of Duncan D. Little, this film was shown in New York in 1937. It was also shown in Digby later. One of the children of Joseph Pictou, who was a teacher, also requested the film to be shown in Shubenacadie, which was done.

It is understood that the late Duncan Little, either in late 20 or early 30's, made a documentary film of the district which was shown in New York.

Meteghan Center Girl Gets Medal

Among the names of the winners of the 1966 Lieutenant Governor's Medals, announced by Lieutenant Governor H. P. MacKeen was that of Marcelle Marie Comeau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis E. Comeau, Meteghan Centre, Digby Co., a student of Clare District High School.

The silver medals have been awarded annually since 1960 to the students who obtain the highest aggregates on the Grade XI provincial examinations in English, history, science, mathematics and a foreign language.

Because the Grade XI science course has now been changed to consist of two full value papers, the aggregates next year will be calculated by including either physics or chemistry, whichever is the higher. The aggregate will not be calculated on an average of the marks received in the two subjects. This already applies for the foreign language.

Aggregates will be calculated by including either physics or chemistry and either French or Latin or German, whichever is the highest in each case.

J. W. Tatem Passes

John William Tatem, a summer resident of Smith's Cove, N. S. died December 18, 1966, at the home of his daughter, Mrs. J. M. Oliver, at Ensenada, Puerto Rico, West Indies.

Mr. Tatem was born June 3, 1881, at Corktown Harbour, South Caledonia Island, in the Falk Islands group, one of nine children. He is survived by five sisters, Janet, Helen and Estelle, in Long Island, Eva in South Africa and Almiria and a brother, Eben, in Jamaica.

Also surviving are a son, J. W. Tatem Jr., of New York City, daughter in law, Marion, three granddaughters, and three great grandsons.

When he was twenty-one upon the death of his father, Mr. Tatem took over the responsibility of his entire family and their salt business. Five years later he moved to Santo Domingo in an effort to improve his situation and after many years of struggle and setbacks, he came into his own and established a flourishing shipping agency in San Pedro de Cacoris, Dominican Republic. His name was synonymous with honourable dealing in a country where unethical practice were the rule.

He was American Consul, Lloyd's Agent and Lyle's Agent and representative of a number of shipping lines. His firm salvaged ships, dealt in sugar, coal, lumber, etc., and he had a varied and colorful business career.

In World War I he took over German shipping interests and in World War II he headed the British Shipping Authority in Santo Domingo. His opinion on shipping matters was unequalled and he worked day and night over seeing lighterage and loading of sugar and molasses bound for England. He retired from active business in 1949.

In 1945 Mr. Tatem bought a cottage at Harbour View and in 1947 built "The Highlands" where he spent many happy summers. Although he was not well last summer, he spent two months at the Cove during which time his health improved. He took a keen interest in the Digby Flower Show each year.

Mr. Tatem will be remembered for his friendliness and many acts of kindness to others in every walk of life. In the West Indies he was loved by the blacks and white colony alike. He had great feeling for anyone who suffered and great tolerance. He established scholarships for sons of R.A.F. pilots and for medical students at Cornell. He was widely travelled and well informed, although his formal education was slight.

Memorial services were held in Long Island, N. Y., and Ensenada, P. R. Many years ago he had expressed a wish to be buried in Digby, and next summer his ashes will be committed there.

Women Conduct Service

The United Church Women had charge of the morning worship at Grace United Church, Digby, on Sunday.

Mrs. A. J. Dillon, president, conducted the service and led in prayers and Psalm. The children's story was read by Mrs. William Marshall, who also gave a brief outline of the work of U.C.W. and its purpose.

The address was given by Mrs. Boyd Ellis, who pleaded with the women to use the Centennial Year to show great and far reaching results in women's work and fulfill its purpose for the total mission of the church. Mrs. Ellis reviewed lives of women both in the Old Testament times and the New Testament times as examples of goodness and virtue to follow.

The saving of souls should be woman's chief concern, Mrs. Ellis said, and then suggested ways in which women can serve in the Centennial Year by prayer, gratitude, supplication, giving and showing hospitality. Women, she said, have capabilities which they hardly know they possess, and the U.C.W. endeavours to make these women more useful in church and also to be good homemakers too.

An all female choir sang the Centennial Hymn as an anthem. Mrs. J. M. Wallis rendered My Task as a requested special number. Mrs. Elton Arnold was organist.

Receiving the offering were Miss Gertrude Budrow, Mrs. Alan Harris, Mrs. William Reid and Mrs. A. L. Robinson.

Municipal Committees

Committees appointed on Monday at the annual meeting of the Municipal Council are as follows:

Assessment: The Whole Council.

Finance and Public Accounts: Councillors, Sydney Westcott, Roy Snell, Curtis Prime, Hubert Shortliffe, Eugene Outhouse, Mrs. Gott.

Poor and Harmless Inmates: Councillors, Aubrey Forrest, Sydney Westcott, Wilfred Swift.

Tenders and Public Property: Councillors, Hubert Shortliffe, Richmond Journey and Sidney Westcott.

Hydro: Councillors, Clyde Cosman, Wilfred Swift, Roy Snell.

Arbitration: Councillors, Mr. Roy Snell, Mrs. Gott, Sidney Westcott, Eugene Outhouse.

License: Councillors, Walter Wood, Richmond Journey.

Revising Jury Lists: Councillors Eugene Outhouse, Hubert Shortliffe.

By Laws: Councillors Richmond Journey, Clyde Cosman, Mrs. Gott.

Reginald Turnbull, Fire Chief Alister Milner, of Bear River, and Cecil Slauenwhite, co-ordinator of fire services in the County of Annapolis, appeared before the Digby Municipal Council in regular session on Tuesday morning to discuss and lay before the council a position respecting the coordinating of fire protection services within the municipality. In the outline as presented by Mr. Turnbull and Mr. Milner, the three major areas Digby, Bear River, and Weymouth were mentioned. Smith's Cove and Barton (Bridton Plynmouth) had fire protection on their own and did not expect to be included in the new system if adopted. It was also brought before the council that outlying areas such as in the Riverdale Danvers Southville section, and the North Range South Range and Bloomfield section were not included. Also excluded for geographical reasons were Digby Neck and Islands. It was expected that Emergency Measures Organization would put fire protection equipment on the Neck and Islands area.

Distance and time in arriving at a fire were discussed in relation to the new system proposed. It was noted that equipment would be of no value without water to use.

Each participating area would be required to provide water. Discussion centred around the best financial arrangement for the plan in view of incomplete participation in the proposal. Grants and special tax levy were studied.

Mr. Slauenwhite told of the successful operation of the plan in Annapolis County, but recognized difficulties in the Digby area for total participation in regard to geography. He was most complimentary to the Digby firemen and also remarked that Annapolis Royal was on the alert to help with the recent Digby Dairy fire if necessary.

John Nichols went before council requesting a grant to the Digby Library Association.

Visitors who brought greetings to council on Tuesday were H. Warren, of the Bank of Nova Scotia and Mrs. Edith Wallis of The Digby Courier.

Correspondence was read from Premier Robert L. Stanfield and Prime Minister Lester Pearson, respecting the N. E. - N. S. proposed ferry resolution passed by the Digby municipality. Other correspondence consisted of letters requesting grants by the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, Digby - Annapolis Mental Health Board, Muscular Dystrophy Association and the Digby Salvation Army.

It was decided that the municipality would arrange to have the warden, Ronald Morehouse included in the Save Cornwallis delegation, when it goes to Ottawa to meet government officials on the Cornwallis closing situation.

A letter from A.V.A.B.T. advised the council that with limited staff it would be impossible to conduct an industrial survey in the area but would be willing to have discussion if the data is made available. It was at this time Councillor Gene Outhouse spoke of the unfair competition from New Brunswick herring services and felt that a herring processing plant should be operating on Digby Neck or Islands. Councillor M. P. Gott, chairman of the Digby Municipality Industrial Development committee will look into the matter.

On Tuesday afternoon the council was addressed by E. C. Edwards, inspector of schools, regarding school libraries, and by Arnold Marshall, chairman of the Municipal School Board. He placed before the council anticipated expenditures of $4800 for the Digby Neck Consolidated School; $4500 for Barton; $5500, Digby; $815, Westport; $10,070 Smith's Cove; $4509 Islands and $5,145, Weymouth. Total $35,339. The amount for Digby Elementary School was for refacing the front which is a shareable expenditure.

Some of the major items in other schools included, well, roof repairs, foundation repairs, lighting, rail protection, science and industrial equipment. Minor items consisted of radios, cabinets, projectors, shelves, chairs, blinds, doors, library books, household science equipment, fire extinguishers, etc.

Much discussion arose on the water supply at the Digby

Digby Library Competition

An advertisement in last week's issue gives the particulars of a Library Book-Plate competition. Its purpose is to provide a design for "Book Plates". The Library Association wishes to use these in donated new and special books presented to the Library now and in the future.

Instead of ordering a package from a catalogue, the committee deemed it more interesting to invite artistic people to use their imagination and skill, and also to have the Book Plates reproduced in Digby. So decided from January 23rd, to March 1st, there would be a competition open to the general public.

The design, as well as being original, is to be in some way related to the Digby locality. This project offers a challenge to those who enjoy pen and ink sketching and gives an opportunity to make a fine contribution to the growing Library.

Details will be explained to students throughout the Art Department of the Digby Regional High School.

For others wishing further information, inquiries may be made from the committee, Mrs. H. M. Warne, Mrs. W. R. Marshall and Miss Mary Marshall.

Mrs. Kaye Complimented On Poem

Mrs. Anne Kaye received a complimentary letter from Flushing, New York, on one of her poems published in The Digby Courier. The contents of the letter read - "I was thrilled to read your magnificent poem, 'Put Christ back into Christmas.' Unquestionably that poem reached the hearts of thousands and stirred the precious meaning of what this blessed season really means.

You have merited the esteem and affection of thousands by the grandeur and sublimity of those lines. I deeply regret not having received that poem weeks before the Yuletide season, for had it reached the celebrated Lawrence Welke's show of television fame, those exquisite expressions could quite probably have been broadcasted throughout the entire land, by this renowned television company.

Though the blessed season of Christmas is passed, your precious poem will be shown to many, I assure you."

W.M.S. Uses Centennial Theme

The January meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Baptist Church was held in the home of Mrs. Earl Webber. Mrs. Lawrence Shaw presided.

Mrs. Gilbert Ingersoll gave the Devotional, "Little is Much When It's Given to God".

The "Circle of Prayer" was led by Mrs. Earl Webber. Business dispensed after which a program presented by Mrs. Willie Poole was opened. The subject was, "I Live in Three Rooms, Past, Present and the Future". The program consisted also of a solo, "My Prayer" by Mrs. Albert Bailey, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Richard Welch. Mrs. Kenney read the poem, "So Swift The Way, So Short The Day."

A social hour was enjoyed with Mrs. Albert Bailey and Mrs. George Clements co-hostesses assisting Mrs. Webber at refreshment time. A cake was beautifully decorated by Mrs. Clements. Decorations being in keeping of Canada's Centennial Year.

Neck Consolidated School, where the water is contaminated by oil and drinking water is supplied to the school by milk cans and costing in the vicinity of $1.00 per day. Having already sunk two wells on the property, the question arose as to whether the next one should be an artesian well or a shallow well in case the same trouble was again a problem.

She's travelling all over the world. Miss Expo hostess and del. and recently appeared at the annual meeting of the Inkeepers Guild of Nova Scotia in Halifax. Greeting her were Fred T. Irvin, left, immediate past president of the Guild and Jacques Beizer, director of Logexpo who outlined to delegates steps being taken by the non profit housing bureau to ensure reasonably-priced accommodations for visitors to the world exhibition.

Mrs. A. Outhouse Given Dominion Life Membership

The W.M.S. of The United Baptist Church, of Truro, met at the home of Mrs. Emerson Outhouse, Tuesday afternoon, January 10th.

The Society presented Mrs. Atwood Outhouse, a faithful worker of long standing, with a Dominion Life Membership Certificate and Gold Pin.

The Certificate was presented by Mrs. David Outhouse, her speech ending with this sentence: "Upon one of these faithful ones it is our pleasure to bestow recognition."

The Gold Pin was pinned on Mrs. Outhouse by Mrs. Aubrey Elliott who said, "This pin with its open Bible and the cross indicates the worldwide mission to which our service is given. We charge you therefore, as you wear it, to constantly live, practice and further those things which it represents, rejoicing in the symbol of your Life Membership in the Affiliated Baptist Women's Missionary Societies of Canada."

At a chord from the piano, all joined in singing, "Bless Be The Tie That Binds". Mrs. C. L. Chute offered prayer as all members joined hands in a circle.

Mrs. Outhouse thanked the Officers and members for the honor shown her at this time. After the regular Devotional Period, plans were made to pack a "White Cross" box to ship early in February.

The 1967 slate of officers are as follows: President, Mrs. Emerson Outhouse; Vice-President, Mrs. Ronald Outhouse; Secretary, Mrs. David Outhouse; Treasurer, Mrs. Delbert Clifford; Assistant Treasurer, Mrs. Edwin Outhouse; Mrs. Atwood Outhouse had held the office of Treasurer for more than 21 years.

Mrs. Ronald Outhouse presented an interesting program of singing, with Mrs. Eugene Outhouse as pianist, a challenge for the New Year, and several readings on Missions, showing that we are serving God and doing His will, as we obey His laws and keep His commandments.

After the meeting closed, refreshments were served by the hosts, Mrs. Emerson Outhouse, assisted by Mrs. Eugene Outhouse and Mrs. Keith Outhouse.

MARSHALLTOWN
Mrs. Raymond Comeau, of Lynn, and Phyllis, of Halifax, visited Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Comeau returning to Halifax with Larry.

Constable Larry Comeau, of the R. C. M. P., Ottawa, spent two days last week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Comeau. Larry returned to Ottawa via Air Canada, Halifax.

Digby Baptists Hold Annual

The annual business meeting of the Baptist Church of Digby was held last Wednesday evening during which the usual reports from all departments and organizations of the church were presented.

The pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, conducted a brief devotional service which included a tribute to the memory of members of the congregation who had died during the past year.

Gordon Turnbull was appointed chairman of the meeting.

The report of the Christian Education Council of the church spoke of the work among the young people of the congregation as represented by Scouts, Venturers, Cubs, Explorer and C.G.I.T. groups. Tribute was paid to the leaders who give direction to nearly 120 young people in youth week activities alone.

The financial report given by the treasurer, J. J. Brittain, showed an increase in receipts from all sources over that of the previous year, particularly in support of the Missionary and Extension work of the Atlantic Baptist Convention. It was the largest amount received in the history of the church. Mention was made of the generous bequests made to both the church and cemetery funds from the estate of the late Mrs. C. Sollows. Bequests to the Cemetery Fund had also been made from the estates of the late M. C. Denton and Forrest Eisener.

The Women's Missionary Society reported a membership of 22, and that 1966 had seen an increase in missionary giving from this source. The Women's League had been active during the year and had raised nearly one thousand dollars through activities in the organization.

Reporting for the Board of Trustees, Charles Hersey told of the work that had been done in improving church property during the year, and that further work would be done on the parsonage and on the interior of the church building in 1967, including a proposed tile covering for the hall, kitchen and classroom floors. The kitchen had been fitted with a refrigerator and an electric stove. Thanks was expressed to the Senior girls of the C.G.I.T. for sponsoring the improvements to the church vestibule.

In his report, the pastor spoke of the severe loss to the church in the death of Maynard C. Denton. He expressed his thanks and appreciation for the splendid work and cooperation of Officers, Boards, Committees, Organist and Choir, Sunday School teachers and all youth leaders during 1966, and expressed the hope that 1967 would prove another good year in the history of the church.

Mr. Brittain rose to express the thanks and appreciation of the congregation to the pastor and Mrs. Hartlin for their dedication and leadership during the past year.

Refreshments were served by members of the Women's League under the direction of the President, Mrs. Sidney Smith.

Christian Youth Council:

A. Denton Elected Board President

Allison Denton was, on Monday night, re-elected president of the Bear River Board of Trade for the fourth consecutive year. Vice-president is Jack Harris and assistant secretary-treasurer elected was Truman Wright. No replacement had been found for the secretary-treasurer, Rev. K. M. MacNeill.

Special speaker for the occasion was Philip Woolaver, Digby barrister, who heads the Save Cornwallis committee. Sometimes the situation looks better and sometimes worse, said the speaker, when making a summary of events which transpired since the Save Cornwallis campaign started. Right now Mr. Woolaver stated they are awaiting an economic survey and as soon as that data is collected the committee will take off for Ottawa to discuss with Hon. Mr. Hellyer the retention and expansion of CFB Cornwallis. The situation is two ways, he said, we have what Hellyer wants, a basic training centre and we want to make him aware of the economic situation here.

Of all the areas to be affected by the possible closing of CFB Cornwallis, it was thought that Bear River would be hardest hit. Cornwallis, it was said, was the main line of transference for Bear River.

It was the contention of Mr. Woolaver that the Minister of National Defence and the government were not aware of the grave situation should the base be removed from here and now they are taking a second sober and sensible look at the situation. Mr. Woolaver felt that it was entirely reasonable that Defence Minister Paul Hellyer make a visit here and get an idea of what it would do to the economy of the area should Cornwallis close.

Mentioning the recent lay-off at Cornwallis, Mr. Woolaver did not think this too alarming but that the lay-off had been too quick with only four days notice. The 14 men laid off were casual employees and had been in the habit of moving from one category to another in slack-work times. Some had been working for five years without interruption. Mr. Woolaver had written about the matter of the sudden lay-offs to government authorities and requested an answer as to imminent prospects of future lay-offs and uncertain future of Cornwallis.

Mr. Woolaver was thanked by Mr. Denton.

Mr. Denton reviewed activities of the Board in 1966. He commended Frank Miller for the special effort he had made to get a causeway as replacement for the bridge across Bear River.

He mentioned that more than four truckloads of salmon had been stocked in the West Branch to which should be returns this year.

Many other projects by the Bear River Board, some completed, others unfinished, were mentioned by the president.

Kelton Blair Wagner

Kelton Blair Wagner, 67, died suddenly on January 13, at his home in Sudbury, Mass. He was born at Danvers, Digby Co., a son of the late Edmund and Ada (Mullen) Wagner. He went to the United States when quite young and was employed with the Waltham Watch Co. until his retirement.

Surviving are his widow, the former Beulah Warner, of Kingston, N. S.; a son, Kelton, Sudbury; a brother, Earl, also of Sudbury; and a sister, Mrs. Ralph McNeill, of North Range, N. S.

Mrs. Colin Cuthill

Mrs. Gertrude Cuthill passed away at St. Augustine, Florida, recently.

Born at Freeport, N. S., seventy-five years ago, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Prime.

Surviving besides her husband are three sisters: Janet (Mrs. Claude Grey), California, Annie (Mrs. Mendall Bates), Freeport, Cora (Mrs. Irvin Thompson), Westport; and a brother, Cecil Prime, Freeport.

Sympathy is extended to all who are left to mourn her passing.

Fred M. Dakin

Fred M. Dakin, 93, of Centreville, died at the Halifax Nursing Home on December 31, 1966.

Born in Centreville, he was the son of the late Jacob and Amelia Dakin. He spent his early years in the United States and Western Canada. He was a fisherman and carpenter.

He is survived by his wife, Mabel, and two sons, Gilbert.

Thanks was extended to Mr. MacNeill for his services during the year.

A letter was read from Pat Nowlan, M.P., regarding the Cornwallis closing situation.

Plans were made for the annual dinner on March 9 and to have a representative at the Digby Centennial Committee on January 31.

The financial report showed $85.53 in the general fund, $85.53 in the rink account and $125.69 in the swimming pool account.

Suggest Pines For Winter Training

Lloyd Hill, executive manager of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, told the Digby Municipal Council on Wednesday morning that he suggested at the recent Manpower Conference held in Halifax that the Pines at Digby be kept open the whole year 'round and used in the winter to train waitresses, cooks and other summer hotel and year 'round employees. He said the matter is getting attention by the Department of Trade and Industry.

Mr. Hill appeared before council with a request of a $700 grant. He felt the area had great potential if it continued to be united. Plans for the future include focusing attention on Western Nova Scotia.

Many phases of economic betterment already accomplished and other plans to be executed by the AVABT were cited by Mr. Hill. He stressed strongly the agricultural phase on a land of 600,000 acres in the Valley with only 147,000 acres in use. He saw a great potential for grain, beef, pork and dairy products as well as many other products which we import into Nova Scotia.

Bernard LeBlanc, president of the AVABT, spoke of two main projects of the Board being transportation to Saint

Final Tribute To Native Jurist And Statesman

Marriage

Doucet — Thibodeau

A wedding was solemnized in St. Mary's Roman Catholic church at Church Point when Rev. Camille Comeau united in marriage Marie Nancy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Thibodeau of Church Point and Larry Edward Doucet, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ulysse Doucet of Belliveau Cove in a double ring ceremony.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a two piece navy blue suit with white accessories and a pink carnation attached to her suit. She carried a prayer book.

The bride's attendant was Miss Patsy Doucet, sister of the groom, and the groom's attendant was Allan Doucet, brother of the groom.

Mrs. Edmond Melanson provided the nuptial music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. Clarence Comeau, on the organ.

A reception was held at Chez Pierrot's restaurant at Church Point for immediate relatives, friends and guests. The toast was proposed by Gustave Doucet, uncle of the groom.

The couple left for points in New Brunswick on their honeymoon. They will reside in Church Point upon their return.

Looking Back On Digby

By Marjorie Hamilton,
Valois, Quebec

On this winter day, sitting by the open fire-place, it's nice to relax and think of my childhood days, and growing up in the little historic town of Digby.

My grandfather Dakin was a shipwright and helped to repair and build ships at the Racquette many years ago.

My father followed the sea as a young man. There he learned the trade as a sail-maker and furnished the sails for the fishing schooners, the Albert J. Lutz, Loran B. Snow, and many others.

In those days there were a number of Indians who would come for the summer and camp across the Racquette. My father was always a very kind man and would give them old rope and canvas for their tents. I recall one summer, a porpoise came in the Racquette and the Indians in no time were out in their birch bark canoes and speared it, and the tourist from the Pines Hotel flocked down on the beach for all the excitement.

There was one character, a hunch-back by the name of Dan Lony who would come to visit them. He'd get full of fire water and start a brawl. Then you would see Chief Police Bowles going over to arrest him. Next morning all the Indians

Digby School Systems Combined

(Release from the Office of the Inspector of Schools, January 13, 1967)

Effective August 1, 1967, by joint agreement among the Digby Urban, Regional, and Municipal School Boards, all schools of the Town of Digby and the Municipality are combined under one system. The decision to unite followed a series of joint and separate School Board meetings at which C. E. Edwards, Inspector of Schools, interpreted the new legislation.

The new program means little change, if any, in the operation of the Digby and Municipality Schools. It, however, makes provision for the appointment of a Superintendent of Schools for the System, as well as a Supervisor of Curriculum, both of which appointments will be made at a later date, in all likelihood to become effective in August this year.

Sub-Systems of the one large System will be as follows, each with a Supervisor of Schools:

Digby and area schools; Weymouth Consolidated; and Islands Consolidated.

Supervisory personnel in all schools will continue to be appointed as at present.

The Superintendent of Schools for the System will be responsible to the employing Boards and will have overall responsibility for the direction and administration of the program offered in the System. This will include —

(a) Initiating and co-ordinating the in-service training of teachers and other super-

"Elliott Hour" A Success

By

Mrs. John P. Outhouse

Two lads in the Taverton area found a new way to spend a holiday and with profit for all.

Lorry Elliott and Mark Ruggles, 10-year-olds, combined their talents, wrote four plays, added a few songs and presented a program, "The Elliott Hour", to an audience of about thirty.

One of the plays featured a young man played by Mark, a jilted suitor who attempted to drown his sorrows in a "pint or two." Reports regarding the star were that he was hilariously funny and good.

Songs were featured by Lorry and Mark and soloist, Nancy Stanton.

Lorry, who directed the plays and who said he would like to be on the stage some day, said they all enjoyed doing the show and hope to present another one in about two weeks.

The program was presented in the lower flat of Lorry's home. Admission was ten cents and a slight charge for refreshments, which were served by the youngsters. The door prize was won by Jim Outhouse and other prizes by Lads Terry Elliott and Brian Perry.

After expenses were deducted the children had a net profit of $7.02, which was

THE PIGEON THAT CAUGHT THE TRAIN — Leave it to a carrier pigeon to find the fastest way to travel from Halifax to Moncton. The pigeon, Serial No. A2785 APA 29, unwittingly boarded Canadian National's fast freight 441 at Halifax when the doors were closed on an empty boxcar. Next morning the car arrived in CN's Moncton hump yard, and when car cleaner Fred Breau opened it to prepare it for another shipment he found the pigeon resting comfortably after its effortless "flight" from Halifax. So far the pigeon has shown no signs of any homing instinct, and car foreman Ray Matchett is looking after it until the owner can be traced. Here Fred (left) and foreman Ray make friends with the carrier pigeon as it poses outside CN's unusual 'pigeon carrier.'

90 Years Back

FROM EARLY FILES OF THE DIGBY COURIER

January 19, 1877 —

It is understood an agency for the Bank of Nova Scotia is to be opened in Digby under the management of George Henderson Esq.

Sad Drowning Accident — The body of Robert Douglas, 22 years, recovered from the basin after a drowning from a canoe. The Indian, Jerry Bartlett, bravely rescued two boys who were with the victim. A sum of money was collected and given to Jerry.

A Letter to the Editor concerning the taxing of dogs in the county. $1.00 per dog. An Act passed 1775 and apparently rescinded 1776 caused much confusion: Half population paid and demanded money back. Letter signed by one John W. Powell, Freeport, N. S.

Western Counties Railway between Digby and Annapolis seems to have had extensive social activity for "employees and employers". Drove through the streets to the music of bagpipes.

A newspaper called "the Farmer" was at that time published in Annapolis. Considerable rivalry existed between the two papers in coverage of territory.

Agents for the Courier were: W. T. Hardwick, Bear River; Jones Morehouse, Brighton; H. S. Mallett, Gilberts Cove; C. R. McDonald, Plympton; George Johnson, Weymouth Bridge; C. D. Jones, Weymouth; James Lovett, Belliveau Cove; Father Wauteur, Grosses Coques; C. M. Melanson, "Port Acadia"; John G. Nowlan, New Tusket; B. H. Ruggles, Westport; J. W. Eldridge, Freeport; St. Clair Ruggles, Tiverton; Collins Johnston, Sandy Cove; Capt. George German, Meteghan; Maude Bonnantant, Saulnierville; Peter Frost, Little River; R. Sanford, "Hesian" Line.

Proprietor of the Courier, R. S. McCormack. Subscription terms: $1.50 per annum. Advertising rates: $1.00 per sq. inch; 25c per sq. inch for each following insertion. (Note — This works out at $374.00 per page for the first insertion. Three times as much as it costs today.)

Notes on Shipping — Total loss of shipping out of Yarmouth during year 1866 was 18 vessels. Total tonnage 5298. Disastrous years. Seventy lives lost. Most in any one year with the exception of 1831 when the Brig. "Billow" was lost with 137 lives.

On Sunday, 14th inst. Schooner "Cambria", Capt. Simpton of Saint John, N. B. was driven ashore at Pond Cove, Brier Island and became a total loss. No mention of lives lost.

Bright. "Herbert", Capt. Mullen, while lying off Weymouth, dragged anchor and driven onto "flats" by high winds. Succeeded in refloating without damage.

Islands isolated by storms. Oldest residents cannot remember being cut off from mainland for so long a time.

Victoria Bridge Rebuilt — Advertisement calls for lumber for construction of Victoria Bridge. "Old bridge has become inadequate for present day traffic."

Report From Parliament Hill

By Pat Nowlan
M.P.
Digby-Annapolis-Kings

January 13th, 1967

Perhaps it was symbolic, by accident or design, but regardless it was Mr. Diefenbaker who took the floor of the Commons and spoke the first words on the 181st day of this resumed Parliament. He paid tribute to a guest in the gallery, the Hon. H. H. Stevens, a Minister in a former Conservative Government. Mr. Pearson followed and the Christmas recess was over.

However, the memory of Christmas and Centennial glow combined to produce an even and constructive mood this week. There is still of course the parliamentary exchange, but so far it has been on a high plain with logic mixed with humour to score a debating point.

The main item of business has been the Transportation Bill which is still under study and quite rightfully so. This mammoth piece of legislation is going to consolidate the various areas of transportation under one Board in the hope a consistent national transportation policy will evolve to resolve the transportation problems which have been a blemish of the Nation.

Before the Bill ever came to the Commons floor it was studied in depth by Transportation Committee when a multitude of organizations presented briefs. So far this Bill is a classical and constructive example of how Parliament should operate, for in committee and Commons amendments have been made by the Government and Opposition in the hope the best Bill possible will be produced.

The Bill is fundamental to Canada and its importance increases in direct ratio from the centre of the country. The West is concerned about rail-line abandonment, the East port parity and the preservation of the protection now given under the Maritime Freight Rates Act. In brief the Bill is supposed to free the railways from Government regulation so they can charge rates on a businesslike basis. However, Canada was not built on the logic of business and there are many areas where the bonds of steel should operate for the national purpose rather than the profit of a railway. The dilemma of the Member and the Government is to maintain a balance.

It is perhaps ironic that we are now just debating a national transportation policy, 100 years after confederation, when it was Sir John A. MacDonald's railway to the West which produced the child of confederation. And in a further irony the transportation debate was derailed on Wednesday when all Party Leaders took time to pay tribute to the memory of Canada's first Prime Minister. After the speeches the Speaker of the House in true non-partisan fashion was the host at a brief reception when Cabinet Ministers and Members of all Parties joined in reminiscing about John A. and wondering about Canada. Unfortunately we seem to ignore our history, and if the various centennial celebrations do nothing more than make us proud of our past in order to develop our potential it will be a success. Already several facets of our past have opened to this writer. I wonder just how many of us realized that the Presidential battle cry to the south of us "Hail to the Chief" was a battle song in Scotland brought over during the time of MacDonald and used in his various campaigns. It seems the Americans have been adept in absorbing parts of Canada from the very start and this perhaps is just as much a challenge today as it was in 1867.

There is a good deal of speculation here on how long this session will run. Some of the optimists think it will wind up by mid or late February and then adjourn for a week before the much discussed Centennial session is held. The latter is not supposed to have any controversial legislation, but only debate the state of Canada and the estimates of the various Departments. I am afraid the plum pudding and goodwill of Christmas has affected the judgment of the powers that be.

The Transportation Bill will run another week and then on the agenda is the controversial Bill to unify the Forces, a Bill to give civil servants the right to strike and fundamental revisions to the Bank Act. Any one of these topics is liable to stimulate prolonged debate.

As far as a Centennial session is concerned I just wonder if 265 speeches on Confederation will provide any cement, or just sentiment. The railway tie seems a more solid structure.

The names of all persons owing 1964 taxes to the Municipality of Clare will be published in this paper after January 31st.

Municipal Tax Rate Up By 25c

The Digby Municipal Council in annual session set the tax rate for the municipality for 1967 at $3.75 per $100 of assessment. This is an increase of 25 cents over the 1966 rate of $3.50.

Total revenue for 1966 was $530,042.09. Expenditures amounted to $503,680.66, making an excess of revenue over expenditure of $26,361.43. Of this revenue, $394,446.63 came from taxation and $105,890.35 from grants, contributions and subsidies. The remainder from licenses, permits, interest and unclassified of which $12,024.95 was recovered from Digby General Hospital. The greatest expenditure was for education, $182,150.00. Debt charges for schools and hospital was $101,972.78. Capital expenditure for schools, $31,871.21. Total amount for welfare $78,360.70, for health, $21,982.18.

In the Municipal School Board report was shown an excess of revenue over expenditure of $5,271.20. Income of the Board was $647,110.82, expenditures $640,382.11.

The Hydro Electric Distribution System report saw the revenue increase by $19,237.02 over 1965 to an amount of $195,700.14. Expenditures increased by $18,686.40 to $170,946.62.

Valley Boys Parliament Meets In Digby

The Model Boys Parliament for the older boys of Hants, Kings, Annapolis and Digby counties meets this week in Digby. The first meeting is on Friday night at the United Church Hall where the boys will register and receive instructions for the parliamentary sessions on Saturday.

The session open on Saturday morning at United Church hall with a worship period led by Rev. David Shaw of Annapolis Royal. Mr. Shaw will also conduct other devotional periods throughout the day. Lieut. Commander C. H. Humble will read the Speech from the Throne. Interesting subjects and questions rising from the Speech will be debated by the boys, as well as other subjects that will arise during the day.

Following the afternoon session, the Banquet will be held in the Baptist Church hall. Lieut. Commander Humble will be the guest speaker for this occasion.

When the evening session is over there will be a social hour for the boys at the United Church hall, and refreshments will be served by older members of the C.G.I.T. groups of both the Baptist and United churches.

On Sunday morning boys attending the Parliament will worship at churches of their choice.

The Parliament will be brought to a close with the Sunday afternoon session.

Rev. K. MacNeil of Bear River is Planning Chairman. The Director is Capt. James Fraser of Bridgetown. Gary Wright of Kingston is Speaker of the House, while Wayne Wright of Kingston is the Premier. Rev. H. S. Hartlin is chairman of the Committee for Local Arrangements and Hugh Brittain is Registrar.

Warm Winter In Guinea!

If the weather's chilly where you live, move to Guinea. There the winter months will give you plenty of reminders of the "good old summertime." Guinea is a small village outside Clementsport. How many have heard of it?

During December, people there picked Mayflowers. In the middle of January, they picked a large bouquet of pussy willows, by a running brook. The Digby Courier has proof of the bouquets.

Mrs. Alan Stark spent two days recently with her brother, Mr. Earl VanTassell. Mrs. VanTassell and son, Earl Douglas, of Halifax.

Council Meets Second Week

Because of pressure of municipal business the Council of the Municipality of the District of Digby was forced to extend its annual session beyond the usual one week duration. This is believed to be an unprecedented move. Council concluded the session on Tuesday.

At the Friday afternoon session much discussion arose regarding the Occupancy Tax, newly-imposed this year. Council voted to reduce the tax to 15% for the year 1968. The tax was levied in the Municipality of Digby at 20% for 1967. Various councillors reported a number of complaints in their areas regarding the "unfairness" of the new tax.

Council approved the borrowing of an additional $20,000.00 for the addition to the Weymouth Consolidated School. Total borrowing for this addition now is $160,000.00.

Entering of negotiations with the department of welfare to provide administration and services for welfare in the municipal district was authorized during the council session. It is understood a special meeting of council will be called prior to the semi-annual meeting to deal with a contract for these services.

It was decided that the municipality would join the Emergency Measures Organization on a joint basis with the Town of Digby. Warden Ronald Morehouse and councillors Marion P. Gott and Aubrey Forrest were appointed as the control committee for EMO.

A motion was passed requesting the provincial government to "continue payment of the usual grant in lieu of taxes on the Pines golf course and buildings situate in the municipality.

The Council decided to sell by tender surplus school buildings at Smith's Cove, Weymouth Falls and Freeport. It was also decided to sell the furnace and heating ducts from the old Weymouth school.

Lawrence Sabean, assistant tax collector, for the municipality, was re-appointed. He will receive a salary of $3,000.00 and another $2,500.00 for car allowance and postage.

It was decided that the council would pay a bounty of $4.00 on wildcats commencing April 1st. The bounty will be paid upon proper arrangements being made for certification of the bounty to be paid. It was stated at the meeting that wildcats are in great abundance in the municipality and are killing deer and pheasant. Mention was also made of the large number of fox in the district.

Working On Base Survey

Alex D. Harris, Industrial Development Officer for Department of Trade and Industry, Middleton, R. J. Dwyer and J. B. Stern, both in the economic services of the same department, were in Digby on Wednesday obtaining information dealing with the economic impact of CFB Cornwallis on the surrounding communities. The survey is being made by the Provincial Government through these representatives of the Department of Trade and Industry.

In an interview the representatives remarked that the Department of National Defence was giving excellent co-operation to the representatives who are having a questionnaire completed by all personnel at the Base.

The government representatives are working closely with Philip Woolaver, chairman of the Save Cornwallis Committee and the Department of National Defence and the result of the questionnaire and related information will be provided to the Save Cornwallis Committee.

Besides the Base personnel being addressed and receiving questionnaires the representatives also interviewed key business personnel at Annapolis Royal, Digby, Bear River and Meteghan.

A portion of a brief to be drawn up dealing with the economic impact on the area will be based on the findings of the survey. When the survey and brief are completed Mr. Woolaver advised the Courier, the committee will seek an interview with Hon. Paul Hellyer through Hon. Alan MacEachen.

Chairman Welfare Appeal Board

Twenty appeal board chairmen were sworn in by Provincial Magistrate Nathan Green, Q.C. in Halifax.

The new appointees were familiarized with the Social Assistance Act and their duties in relation to appeal procedure. Representing various provincial counties, the members will act as liaison officers between the Nova Scotia welfare department and the public.

The establishment of the appeal system was announced earlier this month by Welfare Minister Harding.

In his address to the chairmen, Mr. Harding said although he did not envisage many appeals, he did feel such a system was necessary.

Among the appointees are: Gerald d'Entremont, Meteghan Station, Clare; Gifford Lewis, Weymouth, Digby County.

Set Date For Trade Board Meet

At a meeting of the executive of the Digby Board of Trade on Friday, a tentative date for February 15th was set for the annual meeting. It is understood the meeting will be held at the Canadian Legion, Digby Branch headquarters on the Shore Road. Speakers and times are to be announced later.

The president, Reigh Jayne, brought the executive up-to-date on the latest ferry correspondence. Letters had been received by the Digby Board and the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade from the municipality of the County of Saint John, N. B., which was concerned with the inadequacy of the Bay of Fundy service connecting Saint John and Digby. Their resolution asked the Minister of Transport and the C.P.R. to take steps to improve the service by providing improved docking facilities at Saint John and Digby; by replacing the present Princess of Acadia with one or more ships designed to better meet the present day and future business and tourist needs of the area; that steps be taken to increase the number of daily crossings between Saint John and Digby to better serve the area; and further that these Canadian Pacific Bay of Fundy service requirements between Digby and Saint John be given top priority.

It was also reported that the Hon. E. D. Halliburton had stated to Hon. J. W. Pickersill, Minister of Transport, that a service capable of handling large truck transports, as well as piggyback trucks and cars, operating on a fast schedule, three times daily, would have a tremendous effect on the industrial development of the Annapolis Valley area, in particular, and Western Nova Scotia in general.

Ninety-six

Mrs. Laurabell Burrill recently celebrated her 96th birthday at the home of Mrs. Edward VanTassell, Sidney, St. Digby. Although Mrs. Burrill suffered a fall this winter, she is again up and around, looking after all her personal chores and keeping in touch with family and friends by writing letters almost daily.

Although Mrs. Burrill has almost as many years to her credit, as does Confederation, she keeps up with events in Canada of present day by means of newspapers, radio and sometimes T. V.

Mrs. Burrill was born in Waldee East as Laura Henshaw. She later married Charles Sanford and still later Avar Burrill. Her family consists of Mrs. Wilfred Marsters, Windsor, Vermont; and sons, William, Eldon, Herbert and Wendell Sanford.

Digby Has Centennial Project

At a meeting of Digby's Centennial committee on Tuesday night to decide on Centennial events for 1967, it was decided that the committee should take on a Centennial project. The project is to be a memorial to the seamen of Digby and Annapolis Counties who have been lost during the years. A committee, headed by Glen Smith, was named to deal with the project.

The idea was introduced by Mr. Smith when he told of finding a Marine Fisheries Bell in the vicinity of 100 years old, buried in the mud at Westport. The bell was a warning bell rung in foggy weather. It is the hope of the committee that the bell, when cleaned and polished, will be erected on a cairn surrounded by a bed of flowers, as a suitable memorial to the seamen. It has been decided to request the federal government to grant permission to use the federal building grounds in Digby for the location of the memorial.

Organizations represented at Tuesday's meeting included Scout Council, Digby Fire Department, Knights of Columbus, Department of Fisheries, Digby General Hospital Auxiliary, Digby Branch Canadian Legion Auxiliary, Rebekahs, Fish and Game Association, Labor Union, Little League Baseball, Weymouth Kiwanis Club, Men's Bowling, Ladies Bowling, Minor Hockey, and Digby Board of Trade.

Centennial events in Digby scheduled for the summer of 1967 include Apple Blossom Festival, Princess Ball, May 4th; the Caravan visit on June 14th; the five day celebrations from June 24th to June 28th; the Fly Over on July 1st; the Static Display, July 31st; the Canadian ship visit from August 25 to August 28, followed by a visit by a French or German ship. Recognition was also made on Tuesday evening of such events as the Bear River Cherry Carnival; the July 1st Day at Weymouth; Little League Baseball event and Fish and Game Association event in July; 4th Club shows, Flower shows and Digby Hospital Fair in August and the Digby County Exhibition and Digby Firemen's Day, in September. Other events will also take place beginning in February, when the Bowling Club will stage a dance for Centennial purposes. Except for regular expenses entailed in operating and expenditures for the memorial, the proceeds from celebrations in Digby are to be applied to the Digby Forum, it is understood.

The meeting attended by L. V. Hutt, Nova Scotia Centennial Co-ordinator, was presided over by Bernard Bell, chairman, and opened by Mrs. Geo. Outhouse playing tapes of songs she had composed in recognition of Centennial and presented by local talent. Mrs. Outhouse, it is understood has hopes of recording musical numbers by some of the 85 to 96 year old citizens of the area.

Tentative plans were made for Digby's five day celebrations to include such events as June 24, Yacht Race; June 25th, Blessing of Fleet, Dedication of Memorial, Pipe Band, chicken Barbecue by Knights of Columbus; June 26th (Youth Day) Doll carriage parade, Little League Baseball, dance and other events planned by youth; June 27, which is hoped to have proclaimed a holiday in Digby, parade, Red Knight Acrobatic Show, arrival of Pony Express from Halifax on time to lead the parade; June 28th, clam bake, Indian hand craft show, musical talent show.

Mr. Bell expressed the hope that all the communities to and including Weymouth, Bear River, Annapolis Royal and Islands, would participate and that Digby should then be expected to reciprocate. It is expected that the parade will have entries from the towns of the Valley from Windsor to Clare.

Vote 96-90 In Favor School Construction

A close vote of 96 to 90 in favor of new school construction carried at a meeting of Digby town ratepayers at the Digby Regional High School on Thursday night. There was one spoiled ballot making a total of 187 voting. Many others interested in the subject were at the school and for to hear arguments for and against construction.

The meeting was presided over by His Worship Mayor C. D. Snow. Dr. D. E. Lewis, chairman of the D.R.H.S. Board moved the resolution that gave approval for the borrowing of a sum not exceeding $105,000 for proposed extension to the Digby Regional High School. The motion was seconded by Donald Brown, a government representative on the school board. An opportunity was given to F. C. Purdy, Superintendent of Schools, and C. E. Edwards, Inspector of Schools for Annapolis and Digby, to make presentations. Scrutineers were Kenneth Beckwith and Arnold Trask.

The total construction expansion proposed was $40,000 square feet at a total cost of $717,786.50. To this is added an estimate of $33,000 for equipment, making a total cost of the project $750,786.50. From these estimates are deducted federal and provincial contributions to the commercial undertaking, leaving the cost to the Municipality of Digby, which had already approved construction, at $348,538.95 and the town $104,561.68. To these amounts provincial grants would be applied making the municipality estimated amount $60,725.94, and the town estimated expenditure $104,561.68.

Teacher Reduction Protested

At a meeting of ratepayers in the Village of Bear River attended by 65, on Monday night, a resolution was passed that the present staff of teachers, namely eight, be retained at the Oakdene School for the year 1967-68 and that delegates from the Board of Trustees, including the Secretary of the Board of Trustees, including Secretary of Board of Trustees, appear at the next meeting of the Municipal School Board for that purpose. A copy of the minutes of the meeting is to be forwarded to the Annapolis Municipal School Board and a copy also to the Department of Education.

According to the Department of Education regulations, it is understood that each classroom will consist of 35. At present time there are eight teachers at the Oakdene School teaching 10 classes with an enrolment of 221. By 1968 it is expected there will be 228. If the number of teachers is reduced to seven, there will be overcrowding according to the Department of Education and Provincial Fire Marshal regulations, it was stated. The teacher load, it was expressed at the meeting, is too heavy now.

Howard Yorke, on the School Board for 21 years, stated at the meeting that it has always been the policy at Bear River to work for the interest of education for the children. They had always felt, he continued, that they must have capable teachers to carry out the program and they tried to keep harmony and goodwill among the teachers. Mr. Yorke questioned the Department of Education system of eliminating teachers to save money and then engage a superintendent of schools at a salary of $9,000 and a supervisor of curriculum to be appointed in each county. By reducing the number of teachers, he said, there is more work put on the teachers. If the policy goes through at Bear River, Mr. Yorke stated, there is a danger of losing three other teachers who would otherwise remain on the staff for next year.

Another motion made at the same meeting was that Yorke was secretary.

TB Among Clare Students

Three positive tuberculosis cases had been uncovered at Clare Regional High School and six other persons had shown symptoms, which might be due to tuberculosis infection within the last few weeks.

All cases have been admitted to the Nova Scotia Sanatorium at Kentville. The three positive cases will be treated while the other six will undergo investigation. Dr. V. K. Rideout, the health director who announced the discovery, said 65 other students had shown positive reactions and had been asked to take drugs. None of the 65 showed TB. All the school's staff had been x-rayed and none had shown signs of the disease. Public health nurses were checking family and other contacts.

He said that while this was serious, it was not unique. Outbreaks had occurred in schools before and would occur again. Digby schools had an outbreak in 1954-55 and two positive cases were found at the Clare school in 1964.

Dr. Rideout said the younger generation in Nova Scotia was "possibly more susceptible to picking up the disease due to their low positivity rate to tubercular testing, although the older generation is still the basic source and reservoir of the trouble in this province."

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Chappell, Kim, Andrea and Michele, of Birch Cove, Halifax County, were weekend visitors of Mrs. Chappell's mother, Mrs. J. M. Wallis.

The Digby General Hospital Ladies Auxiliary will hold their monthly meeting at the cafeteria, Monday evening. Hostesses Mrs. Margaret Russell, Mrs. S. Smith, Mrs. E. Theriault and Mrs. Thompson.

United Baptist Church News

A mass youth service on this coming Sunday morning will bring activities of Christian Youth Week in the Baptist Church of Digby to a close.

Lieut. Gerald Usher of the Salvation Army is guest speaker for this occasion. Members of the C.G.I.T. groups will have charge of the music. All of the young people of the church will gather in the church hall previous to the service and will then proceed to the church auditorium. A number of the young people will take part in the service.

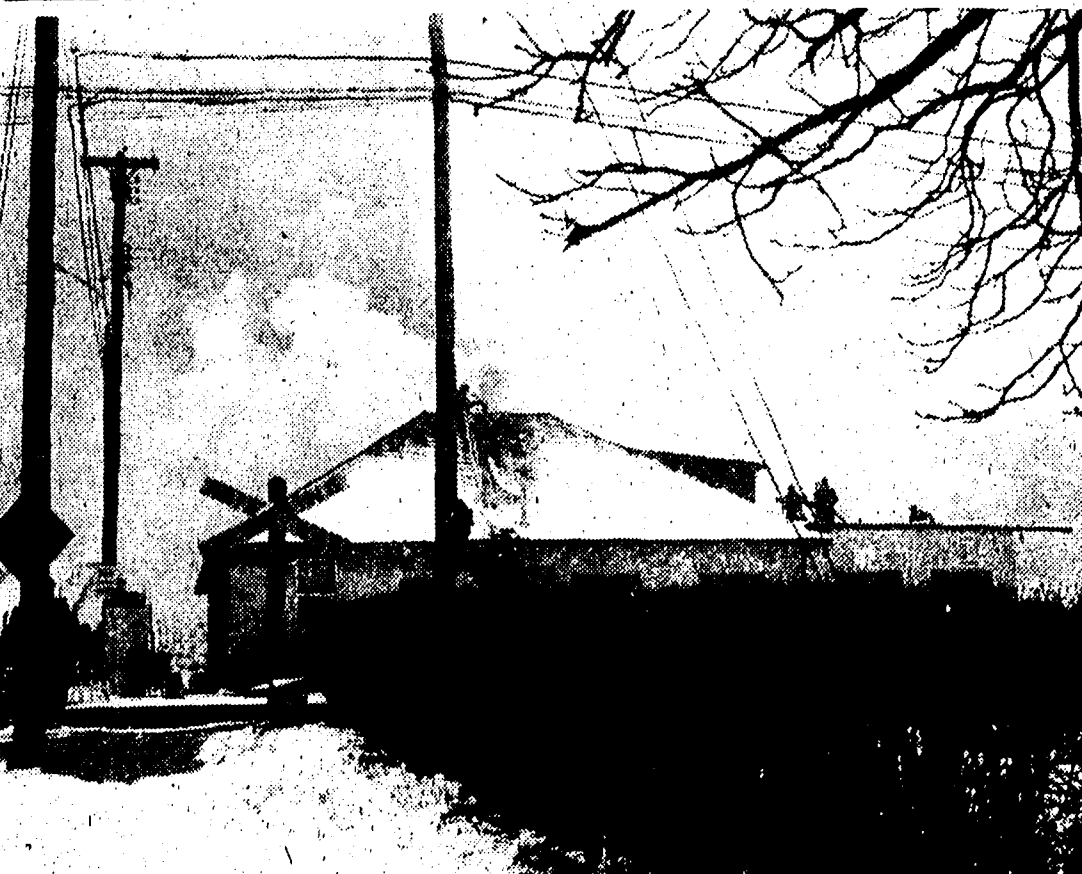

A mass youth party was held in the church hall last Saturday evening. The various youth groups of the church presented a program of songs, skits and stunts. The young people of Hill Grove church were guests for this occasion.

A number of the young people of the Hill Grove church were guests of the Baptist Youth Fellowship of the Smith's Cove church on Tuesday evening of this week.

Correspondence From Ireland

The Digby Courier was pleased to get correspondence from Ireland last week, where Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Hughes of Grace United Church, Digby, have been visiting since early Fall of 1966. Rev. and Mrs. Hughes, formerly of Ireland, are visiting their son, Rev. W. J. Hughes, Mrs. Hughes, and family in Enniskillen, Ireland. The correspondence contained a special number of the weekly calendar from The Scots Church (Presbyterian Church in Ireland) at Enniskillen, and contained a picture of the present minister, Rev. and Mrs. W. J. Hughes and their two sons, Rev. Mr. Hughes was installed there in 1962. Other pictures showed the church's activities.

The special calendar marked embarkation on a campaign of Christian Stewardship and Lay Evangelism and contained a message from the moderation of the General Assembly, The Right Rev. W. A. Montgomery, M. A., D. D., Church history went back to 1664. Lawrence Henshaw, was at when three came from Scotland to Ireland with the commission to administer the Annapolis Municipal School Board and by the teachers to the Scottish army, and were cordially received in Enniskillen.

Above is shown Digby Dairy Ltd. after fire broke out in the upper storey last Monday, causing loss of $40,000 to $50,000 damage. By quick response by the Digby Fire Department, the blaze was confined to the upper storey and repairs are proceeding this week.

90 Years Back

FROM EARLY FILES OF THE DIGBY COURIER

February 2, 1877

One of the terrors of earlier years was diseases, the type of which we today have no fear. The following, gleaned from the files of the Courier of above date are worth noting. "Regret to learn of several cases of Small-pox at Lunenburg. The disease was brought to the place by a shipwrecked crew. They stayed at Heister's Hotel. One death so far. Hotel quarantined." "The settlement of Isaac's Harbor, Guys. Co., has suffered a diphtheria epidemic. Within three weeks 13 cases out of 20 have proved fatal." "The young son of James Halliday, Lower Onslow, died last week. He complained of severe pain in the lower abdomen. It is thought he may have had "Appendicitis".

Social Activity -- "About thirty ladies and gentlemen made a sleigh ride from this place to Bear River yesterday afternoon. After partaking of the warm hospitality of Mr. and Mrs. J. V. Purdy and completing a lengthy dance program the party returned by the struggling moonbeam's misty light. The jaunt was enjoyed exceedingly."

Shipbuilding Ship of different tonnage were being built at Westport, Barton, Pizington, Port Wad, Meteghan, Canoe, Shelburne and Lunenburg during the winter of 1876-77.

Differences of Opinion A bitter controversy raged in the letters to the Editor column of the Courier over school lands decided to the town of Digby in 1792 by the Corporation of Trinity Parish. Names involved were: E. R. Oakes, D. Hawkesworth, J. Holdsworth, Edmund A. Poole for the Township and W. B. Stewart, A. W. Savary (later Judge Savary), Wardens for Trinity Parish.

Births At Broad Cove on the 12th inst., the wife of Alexander Dalry of two boys.

Destitution, famine in New York City "Word received in Digby of the sad state of destitution in New York City. 45,375 men out of work. Laborers glad to work for 90 cents a day. No food, no fuel in homes. People crowding into public buildings to escape the bitter cold. Police problem -- say never before have seen the class of men destitute as now."

Residents of this area and abroad, may be interested in names of families who lived in Digby and near, in 1877. Your great grandparent's name may be among them. Partial list: James Nichols, Sara Franklin, James Aymar, Laura Nichols, Phoebe Franklin, Thomas Hill, Adela Reed, John Nichols, Isaac VanTassel, Isaiah Wilson (later wrote Wilson's History of Digby County), Benjamin Potter, Abraham Nichols, Sarah Nichols, Alvaretta Keen, Georgiana Warne, Elephall Marshall, Margaret Cronen. These people all belonged to Sons of Temperance divisions that flourished in and near Digby ninety years ago.

Home need fixing up? DO IT NOW with HFC cash!

Making home improvements during the winter is a smart investment. Why? Materials are in stock... labor is available... off-season prices are low and you'll increase your home's value. An HFC Householder's Loan can provide you with up to $5000 to pay for repairing remodeling or redecorating your home. Then, as you enjoy the new beauty of your home, you repay HFC conveniently, as shown in the table.

Histed — Melanson
Victoria Village Church, Toronto was the scene of a picturesque wedding, between Josephine Ruth, daughter of Mrs. Marian L. Melanson, Gilbert Cove, and Joseph, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Histed, London England.

Given in marriage by her brother, Joseph Melanson, the bride looked lovely in a bouffant net and lace original, with lace applique caught up around the bottom with lilies-of-the-valley.

Her shoulder length veil was held in place with a cluster of lilies-of-the-valley. Her bouquet was of Yuletide Red Roses. Mrs. Betty Harding was maid of honour.

Mrs. Norma Arbour, sister of the bride, was the bridesmaid. They both wore gowns of blue peau-de-soie empire style, floor length. Their head pieces were of matching bows and veils. They carried bouquets of pink and white mums.

The groom was attended by Irrior Rowe and Larry Burnette.

The bride's mother looked charming in a satin brocade dress of turquoise with matching accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

Standing in for Mr. and Mrs. Histed, who reside in England and were unable to attend, were Mr. and Mrs. Campbell. Mrs. Campbell looked lovely in a royal blue dress with white accessories and fur stole. She wore a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at Parkway Restaurant. The happy couple received many telegrams of good wishes from England.

Search For 100-year-old Houses

A search is being started in Bear River for authentic proof of age of houses 100 years old in the district. The Bear River Women's Institute is fostering the idea and a committee has been set up to carry the project through. It is the Institute's wish that homeowners who have proof of age of their houses will contact the committee for help in finalizing the proof.

Injured In Fall

Mrs. Fred Marsters, 91 Clementsport, is a patient in Digby General Hospital suffering from a fractured pelvis received in a fall in her home.

Whether the awards will be in the form of plaques for the houses or in some other way is not known at this time. The meeting that dealt with the findings of the committee was held at the home of Mrs. Percy Take on Monday afternoon. Five members and two guests attended.

Marriage

Stoddart — Hudson

A pretty wedding took place on December 31st, 1966 at 6:30 p.m., when Beverly Ann, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hudson, Port Wade, became the bride of James Edward Stoddart, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Stoddart of East Baccaro, Shelburne Co.

Rev. David Turner, Baptist Clergyman, officiated at the ceremony, held at the parsonage at Granville Beach.

The bride was attended by her sister, Mrs. Arthur Lewis, Upper Granville and Mr. Lewis acted as best man.

Following the ceremony a reception for about 50 guests was held in the Port Wade Hall. The hall was tastefully decorated with pink and white streamers. The bride and groom were seated at a table laid with a white cloth, centered with a three tier wedding cake with pink candles on either side. The happy couple received many lovely gifts. Miss Joan MacLellan had charge of the guest book. Friends of the bride served.

Later the bride and groom left for a short honeymoon with relatives in Halifax. For travelling the bride wore her blue wedding suit with matching hat and corsage of white carnations.

They will reside in East Baccaro, where the groom is employed.

Who Can Claim?

Among our readers are descendants, persons who can claim relationship to prominent Nova Scotians and persons who came to Nova Scotia and gained prominence in the province and who had Digby County connections. For example, History of Nova Scotia, a book containing biographical sketches of representative Nova Scotian citizens and genealogical records of old families, written by Dr. David Allison and published in 1916, more than 50 years ago, has a sketch of Rev. Fenwick Williams Vroom, D. D., who gained recognition in being elevated to high position as a churchman in Nova Scotia.

Dr. Vroom was a descendant of a Dutch Loyalist family which came from New Jersey and settled in Clements, N. S. in 1783. Dr. Vroom himself was born in St. Stephen, N. B., July 25th, 1856, eleven years before Confederation. He was a son of William and Francis Eliza (Foster) Vroom.

Dr. Fenwick Vroom married in 1885, Miss Agnes Jessie Campbell, daughter of Hon. Colin Campbell of Weymouth. They had one daughter, Mary Gertrude Vroom.

Dr. Vroom had written several reviews and articles, and in 1915 had published "Lectures on Prayer Book Revision."

He received his B. A. with classical honors in 1880. M. A. in 1883, Bachelor of Divinity in 1890 and D. D. in 1901.

He had been an Almon-Welsford prizeman, a Stevenson scholar, a McCawley classical scholar and a McCawley Hebrew prizeman. He was the first to pass examinations required under the canon of the Provincial Synod of Canada. He received the honorary degree of Doctor of Civil Law from Bishop's College, Lennoxville, in 1903.

Attends Training Command

Commissioned Officer E. McKearney, base supply officer is attending for CFB Cornwallis.

Rossway

Mrs. Bernard McBride, who has been a patient in the V. G. Hospital for the past two weeks has now returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Thurston Banks spent Saturday evening with Mrs. Gordon Landers at Smith Cove.

Mrs. John McBride and daughter, Anna May, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Chase and family, all of Waterville visited Mr. and Mrs. Charles Theriault and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McBride on Sunday.

IN MEMORIAM

STEELE — In loving memory of our dear mother, Mrs. Oressa Elizabeth Steele, who passed away February 4th, 1964.

Three years have passed since that sad day.

The one we loved was called away;

God took her home, it was His will,

But in our hearts she liveth still.

—Sadly missed by Winnifred, Marguerite, Florence, Evonne, and Stedman, also the grandchildren. 24:1p

COOK — In loving memory of a dear mother, Edith Cook, who passed away February 5th, 1959.

There's a daughter who misses you sadly,
And finds the time long since you left.

Though I think of you daily, and hourly,
And try to be happy and content.

But the tears I shed in silence,
And I breathe a sigh of regret.

For you were mine mum, and I loved you
Though all the world forget.

So all I can do, dear mother, is go,
And see your grave,

And leave behind a token of love.
To one of the best mothers, God ever made.

—Always remembered by daughter, Verlit. 24:1p

MULLEN — In loving memory of our dear son, Brady Neil Mullen, who passed away January 31st, 1962.

When ties of love are broken,
And loved ones have to part,
It leaves a wound that never heals.

And also a broken heart.
But looking back with memories,
Upon the path we tread,

We bless the years we shared with him.
And leave the rest to God.

It is not the tears at the moment shed,
That tell of the heart that is torn.

But the silent tears of the after years,
And the grief that is silently born.

Always a silent heartache,
Many a silent tear.

But always a beautiful memory.
Of the Son we loved so dear.

—Ever remembered and sadly missed by mum, dad, four sisters, two brothers and uncle Nevens Amero. 24:1c

MINOR HOCKEY NEWS

by Wayne Snow

Last Friday saw the Squirt league go into action in the afternoon after school. The score sheets of this league are to be picked up at the Forum canteen on Friday before the games and returned to the canteen immediately upon the conclusion of the games. This practice if followed will assure each player and each team of receiving all points coming to them. Loss of these score sheets makes it impossible to keep accurate records of the seasons play.

Squirts

The Rockets defeated the Comets 4-3 in a close fought contest throughout. Scoring for the Rockets was done by G. Baxter (T. Johnson), G. Baxter, G. Baxter, G. Baxter (B. Halliday). Comets goals came from D. Johnson, D. Johnson, D. Johnson (P. Halliday).

The second game saw the Tartans and Wolves battle to a 4-4 draw. Tartan goals came from B. Wood (M. Belliveau, G. Ricker), B. Wood (P. Doucette), B. Wood, B. Wood (M. Belliveau). Wolves scorers were P. Theriault (G. Hall), G. Hall, M. Hodgson (R. Morgan), M. Amoro.

Pee-Wee

The first Pee-Wee game of last Saturday saw the Knights trample the Bruins by the score of 9-3. This win moved the Knights to within 1 point of the 1st place Bruins. Scoring for the Knights was done by D. Moulaison, D. Moulaison (F. Miller, K. Amoro), F. Miller (D. Moulaison), F. Miller (D. Moulaison), F. Miller (D. Moulaison), D. Moulaison, F. Miller. The Bruins goals came from D. Marshall (J. Nichols), F. Smith.

In the second game the Bruins defeated the Canadiens 6-2. Rangers goals were scored by M. LeBlanc (G. Comeau), R. Dickie (M. LeBlanc), M. LeBlanc, M. LeBlanc (T. Cowan), M. LeBlanc (T. Cowan). Canadian goals came from D. Grimmer (D. Black), D. O'Neill (D. Grimmer).

Midgets

The Maroons defeated the Trojans 6-3 in their contest last Saturday. Scoring for the Maroons was done by V. Comeau (G. Winchester, M. Blenkhorn), G. Winchester, G. Hersey (L. Amoro), V. Comeau (M. Wilson), G. Hersey (G. Winchester), M. Blenkhorn (L. Amoro). The Trojan marksmen were M. Bailey (J. Morgan), L. Miller, R. Robicheau (M. Bailey).

The Flyers skated to an easy victory over the Vics on Saturday by defeating them 9-5. The Flyers goals came from A. Wilson, C. Baxter, R. Barr (P. Hewitt), P. Hewitt (A. Wilson), A. Wilson (A. Winchester), R. Barr (P. Hewitt), A. Winchester (P. Hewitt), A. Wilson, E. Hodgson, P. Hewitt (A. Wilson, R. Barr), P. Hewitt (A. Wilson, S. Robinson). Vics goals were scored by B. Patterson (T. Mudge), T. Mudge (S. Smith), T. Mudge, H. Barton (T. Mudge, B. Patterson).

Juniors

The scheduled game between the Generals and the team from Cornwallis was cancelled due to Cornwallis team not showing up for the game. The Maple Leafs then made ready and played the Generals and so it looks as if the Junior league is going to operate with three teams again. The final score of this first game was 12-6 for the Generals as gave the 2nd place Maple Leafs. Scoring for the Generals was done by D. Doucette (G. Tidd), W. Snow (D. Doucette), A. Doucette (D. Doucette, G. Tidd), J. VanTassel (W. Snow), A. Doucette, D. Doucette, D. Doucette (G. Tidd), A. Doucette (G. Tidd, P. Connolly), D. Doucette (C. Handspiker), A. Doucette, A. Doucette. The Leaf goals came from G. Harris (R. Bell), G. Harris (L. Budd, R. Bell), G. Harris (R. Bell, L. Budd), G. Harris (L. Budd), R. Bell (T. Merritt, L. Budd), G. Cress (G. Harris, R. Bell).

The second Junior game saw the Bombardiers win their first game of the season by defeating the Maple Leafs 8-2. Brian VanTassel played a strong game in the Bombardiers nets while several new entries on the Bombardiers team provided the scoring punch. Scoring for the Bombardiers was done by J. Simms, J. Ameriault (J. Black), G. Johnson (J. Black), J. Black, J. Simms (G. Johnson, E. Melanson), R. VanTassel (J. Black, D. Banks), A. Thibideau (E. Melanson, G. Johnson), J. Simms (E. Melanson, G. Johnson). The Maple Leaf goals came off the sticks of G. Fletcher (L. Budd), R. Dunn (G. Fletcher, L. Budd).

The games will be played next Saturday as by the schedule.

Church Point Downs

Saulnierville
Church Point Falcons defeated Saulnierville 5-4 in a Western Counties Hockey League match and Meteghan downed Belliveau Cove by the tune of 10-0.

Church Point and Saulnierville tied it up at 2-2 in the first period on goals by Cecil d'Entremont and Jean Comeau for the Falcons and Bobby Gennette and A. Comeau for Saulnierville, each scoring singles. Church Point took a 4-3 lead on goals by Emile Melanson and Benoit Melanson while Melbourn Saulnier scored for Saulnierville. Each team scored singles in the third period with Gennette scoring for Saulnierville and Cecil d'Entremont for the Falcons.

Meteghan scored 4 unanswered goals in the first period with Emery Maillet scoring 2 and Alain Cotteau and C. Comeau singles. Meteghan added 3 more in the second with H. Comeau, E. Maillet and Alain Cotteau scoring singles, and notched 3 in the third period with A. Cotteau, Alain Comeau and Emery Maillet scoring one each. Maillet scored 4 and Cotteau 3 for a hat trick.

Meteghan Defeats

Falcons
Meteghan defeated Church Point Falcons 5-1 in a Western Counties Hockey match. Meteghan took a 2-0 lead in the first period on goals by Jean Dugas and Emery Maillet and added one more in the second period when Brian Comeau tallied. Meteghan scored two more in the third period before the Falcons could prevent a shutout, when Emery Maillet and Jerry Comeau scored singles for Meteghan and Jean Comeau scored for the Falcons.

Pays To 4-4 Tie

Belliveau Cove Thunderbirds and Saulnierville tied 4-4 in a Western Counties Hockey league game. Scorers for the Thunderbirds were Rene LeFort, D. Comeau with singles and Belliveau with two. Saulnierville's scorers were Melbourn Saulnier and Alain McCaulley with one each and young Alain Comeau with two goals. All scoring was in the first period.

Wins Over Church Point

Saulnierville Maple Leafs eked out a 3-2 win over the Church Point Blackhawks in the Clare Bantam League after taking a 2-0 lead in the first period when Wayne Doucet and J. P. Boudreau each scored singles. Church Point came back in the game when Denis Comeau scored, but Saulnierville notched up another score by Henry Gaudet to make it 3-1 in the second period. The Blackhawks scored the only goal in the third period when Denis Comeau scored his second goal of the game and tried desperately to tie it up but to no avail.

Meteghan Trounces

St. Bernard
Meteghan Bruins handled St. Bernard Canadians by trouncing them 5-1 in a Bantam league match. Meteghan made it 3-1 in the 1st period when Yvon Robichaud, Marcel Aymar and Yvon Comeau each scored singles and David Doucet scored St. Bernard's only goal of the period. Marcel Aymar scored the only goal of the second period to give Meteghan a 4-1 lead in the third period Yvon Robichaud scored the only goal of the period for Meteghan to end the game.

Consol Play At Digby

Last week the Digby Curling Club held their curling playdowns. Seven teams took part for the play. The winning team will represent Digby in the Nova Scotia playdowns to be held at Halifax. As of Wednesday morning only two teams remain in the running. They are Jack Brittain, with 4-0, and Ed Porter with 3-1. The winner should be declared before this weekend.

test. The thunderbirds took a 4-1 lead in the first period when Desire Belliveau scored 2 and G. Comeau and B. Beatty each scored singles and Emile Melanson scored for the Falcons.

Belliveau Cove added 4 more against 2 for the Falcons in the second period with R. LeFort, D. Belliveau, P. Blinn and J. Mullen scoring for the Cove, while Michael Doucet and Norman Theriault dented the twine for the Falcons.

Rene LeFort scored twice for Belliveau Cove in the third period. Dennis scored for the losers.

D. R. H. S. Sports

by Christine Dickie

Due to Christmas vacation and exams soon after, there has been very little sports activity lately. However, as soon as exams were over, the basketball teams started practice and have been working hard.

The first games were played by the "A" and "B" boys' teams at St. Anne's on Jan. 20th. The "A" team, composed of Glenn Dunn, Conan Carter, John Black, Greg Outhouse and David Turnbull, lost to St. Anne's 38-19. Conan Carter was high scorer with 7 points, David T. 4, Glenn D. 4, Greg O. 2, John B. 2.

The "B" team was also unsuccessful, though their score was slightly better at 38-22. Murray Thomas was tops with 14 points, while Bruce Raymond and Lawrence Marshall each tipped in three points and Levi Keddy scored 2. Other members of the team are Tom Ritchie, Dudley Hicks, Robert Turnbull, Wayne Titus, Roger Balser, Bruce Wright. Friday, the 27th, the "B" team (boys) played Weymouth but lost by a very close score, 27-22. Murray Thomas was again high scorer with 13 points, Lawrence Marshall, 4, Tom Ritchie, 2. Later the same afternoon the "A" boys and "A" girls team left for Cornwallis, where the girls played their first game against the Wrens. Digby took the lead from the beginning and retained it throughout the game. The final score stood at 22-8 and we had our first victory of the year. The team consists of Vanya Turnbull (captain), Christine Dickie (co-captain), Cathy Raymond, Johanna Outhouse, and Linda Lewis. Linda popped in 3 points while Vanya T. was a close runner-up with 7. Johanna Outhouse, 5, and Chris D. with 2.

This week will be the deciding week in basketball play because it will determine the team to represent this area in Headmasters. Digby and Annapolis "A" boys play-off in Digby on Feb. 1st and the "A" girls play in Annapolis. Meanwhile, Bridgetown and Middleton square off. The winners of these games play-off on Friday, Feb. 3rd, and the winners to Headmasters. Here's hoping!

Firemen Down Digby Generals

A team composed of the firemen and some additives defeated the Digby Generals 10-5 behind the scoring of M. Burgoyne and Doug VanTassel and the defence work of M. Surette and Y. Plomp. These two teams have met twice so far this season and each has won one game. A league has been formed now and games of this league will be played on Wednesday evenings. The teams in this league are the Generals, Marshalltown, Centreville and a team from the Digby area known as the Mountain. It is hoped that this league will follow a weekly schedule on Wednesday evenings. Playoffs will follow the season play and a cup presented at the end of the season to the winning team if such a trophy is made available through a contribution. For more details on this league contact Mr. Roy Simms or Mr. Ernie Gaudet.

To make any league a success fan support is a necessity. Get behind your local team and make this league a success even at this late date.

Cougars To Meet Shearwater

The Cornwallis Cougars will host the Shearwater Flyers in an exhibition hockey game at the Cornwallis Arena, Saturday, 4th February. Game time is 2:00 p.m. The majority of the Flyers' team recently competed in an exhibition match against the NHL Montreal Canadiens Old Timers in Montreal, and they are reported to be much stronger than last year. Both these teams have entered the N. S. Provincial Intermediate "B" Round.

Stark Leads Oil Kings To Victory

On Thursday of last week the Digby Oil Kings defeated the Cornwallis Cougars 6-3 at the Digby Forum. Leading the Digby team was Hedley Stark with a 3 goal performance. This was the second defeat for the Cougars in a row. The Cornwallis team was swamped 10-2 by the Greenwood Bombers earlier in the week.

Palmeter Play In Digby

Play for the Palmeter Cup, representing supremacy in ladies curling circles in the Annapolis Valley, will take place this year in Digby on Wednesday, February 15th, beginning at 9 a.m.

Cougars Defeat St. Anne's

In a game played in Church Point last Sunday, the Cornwallis Cougars defeated the St. Anne's entry in the W.V.I.L. by the score of 9-6.

The Cornwallis team was led by Bruce Campbell who potted four goals with Hun-singer, Walton Reeve, Solomon and Philips all scoring once. The high scorer for St. Anne's was Jean-Paul Solomon who scored four times and Roy and Guais each scored once.

Daniel Hankinson, Riverside; Harley Brooks, Bethel; Central Treasurer (salary), Mrs. C. Willis Mullen; Organists, Mrs. Clarence Thurber, Riverside; Mrs. Daniel Hankinson, Assistant, Riverside; Mrs. Scott Kinney, Bethel; Flowers for Deceased Members, Mrs. C. Willis Mullen, Riverside; Mrs. Scott Kinney, Bethel; Flower Committee for Church, Mrs. Richard Godett, Mrs. Merle Mullen, Miss Helen Weaver, Riverside; Mrs. Ellsworth Kinney, Mrs. Scott Kinney, Mrs. Victor Doty, Bethel.

Further appointments for the Bethel Church were: Trustee, Louis Thibault, three year appointment; Ushers, Charles Andrews, Scott Kinney, Malcolm Manzer, Ronald Main; Visiting Sick Committee, Stanley Brooks, Gladys Gavel, Mr. Burgess, Weaver, Mahon Manzer, Barbara Thibault, Carla Weaver.

Due to business which arose at this meeting, a special meeting of the two churches will be held on Wednesday, February 15th.

Tragedy And A Happy Ending

A heart warming story comes from Weymouth this week, about a little girl and her pony. The little girl is Joyce LeBlanc, 10 years old, Weymouth, Galley 2 daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark LeBlanc of this place. Joyce had yearned for a pony, so pennies were saved, and eventually, the amount needed was raised, and on Thursday of last week, a lovely black and white pony was purchased, and after much excitement of combing, currying and feeding, the pony was bedded for the night in the barn. From here no one knows exactly what happened, the pony apparently became frightened, and jumped its stall, becoming wedged between two doors, it struggled until cut and bleeding, and with a broken back, it collapsed. Help was called in the morning, a local doctor helped all morning fighting for its life, but to no avail. The pony died. Small towns are wonderful places to live. Men about the community hearing of the calamity, began to talk and with the help of some younger friends, enough money was raised to buy Joyce a new pony. Joyce's remark, on hearing the wonderful news was, "this one is coming to bed with me".

Youth Week At Bear River

This being youth week, the pastor of Bear River Baptist Church gave a special message to the young people. He said they face a world today full of violence, crime, drunkenness, doubts and questions. He stated that three of the problems were insecurity, sex and too much leisure time. Many look in the wrong direction for answers instead of looking to Christ who can give victory over these problems. God is not deceived, for what one sows, that will he reap. The Bible tells us to flee youthful lusts. He said time given to God in our teens is the happiest life and a challenging Christian life, and there is no alternative.

In the evening Lie. William Duffell, of Clements was the speaker, having exchanged pulpits with Rev. J. W. Bartol. His subject was "Light". The men's choir rendered two numbers.

Bear River Baptist Holds Annual

The annual business meeting of the Bear River Baptist Church was held Wednesday evening with Everett McCorkin as chairman.

Reports from the Treasurer and Clerk and various committees and organizations were read.

During the year a reservoir was dug to supply water for parsonage and two oil furnaces installed in the church, and in repairs to the fence.

The "Ladies Circle", reported an active year with much needlework done, and mending for "Cornwallis". Some work was done to the parsonage and the garage is to be repaired in the spring.

The "Philathea Class" made up their usual cheer boxes at Christmas, made donation toward furnace fund, along with their visitation activities.

A carton of "tinned foods" was sent to India by the W. M. S., and hospital supplies also for India, besides a goodly sum of money for the support of missionaries, also a bag of seed clothing to the Congo.

There are two active groups of young people.

The church still fully supports two missionaries, one in India, the other in Nigeria, also the Sunday School partially supports a worker in the Northern Canada "Evangelical Mission", among the Indians of Canada.

Rev. John Bartol, the pastor, settled in the parsonage in July and has been active in calling and holding services, besides conducting instruction classes for new converts.

Officers appointed for 1967 are as follows: Clerk, James Harris; Treasurer, Lawrence Henshaw; Asst., Mrs. T. Gates; New Trustees, Thomas Gates; New Deacons, Elmer Porter, Denton Orde; Sunday School Superintendent, Sr. Department, Cleveland Dukeshire; Assistants, Chester Kaulback, Stuart MacLean; Superintendent Jr. Department, Gordon Morine; Assistant, Mrs. S. S. Sime; Auditors, Chester Kaulback, Robert Benson.

A number of committees were appointed to carry on different phases of the work.

Dean Thibodeau, Prince

date, was a weekend guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mayo.

On Sunday, Jan. 22nd, Mrs. Harry Ellis and son, Ricky, of Yarmouth, were guests of Mrs. Pauline Lent and were accompanied home by Gregory Ellis. Mr. and Mrs. Donald Orde, Windsor, N. S., were weekend visitors with Mrs. Orde's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mayo.

Mr. and Mrs. Percival Take, went to Halifax on Tuesday where Mr. Take is to be guest speaker at a luncheon meeting on Wednesday on "The Family Trail Project".

Entertained

The Aerie Croquet Unit of the U.C.W. was entertained on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Win. Morine.

Week Of Prayer

The conclusive meeting of the annual observance, "The Week of Prayer", was held in the United Baptist Church at Tiverton, on Thursday evening, Rev. Mr. C. L. Chute and retired minister of the Church of Christ (Disciples), Rev. J. Derby, of Freeport, conducted the service.

During the week Rev. W. Ideson, of the United Baptist Churches of Freeport, Central Grove and Tiverton, exchanged pulpits with Rev. Ivan Rayner, of Christian Church, who officiated at the combined service at Freeport on Wednesday evening.

Rev. Rayner chose as his text the second chapter of Revelations, and his topic, "The Church of Smyrna". During this combined service, Rev. Ambrose, Rev. Mr. Chute and Rev. Derby led in prayers and Rev. Miller presented a solo.

First Accident

Kevin Leeman 7, received a severe bump on his hip when he crashed into the slowly moving school bus Friday afternoon. Kevin who ran out from the lineup of children to board the bus for home, slipped on a piece of ice, and struck the bus. Driver, Allen Outhouse had just arrived to pick up the youngsters and was practically at a standstill when the accident occurred. It is understood John Small, a high school student signalled Mr. Outhouse to stop.

Dr. Guest of Freeport was summoned to the scene immediately. Mrs. Robert Lee man, mother of Kevin, said afterward, "There is no mark on Kevin, but the doctor said he might have a stiff leg for a day or two."

Kevin is the oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Leeman and has two brothers and two sisters.

Thank You!

We are indeed indebted to the Digby Fire Department for their splendid efforts during the recent fire which destroyed a portion of our plant. High winds, driving snow and other factors made the blaze a difficult one to fight.

Begin Youth Week

Youth Week began at Grace United Church on Sunday morning, when C. C. MacLennan, principal of Digby Regional High School was special speaker. He noted the many changes in life which have taken place in the past hundred years and more especially with in the past twenty years. All these have brought increased responsibility and challenge to youth in the church, school, and home to stand up and be counted. He charged the youth not to be afraid of responsibility and emphasized that "growing up" is bringing random impulses under control. He stressed belonging in the real sense of the word, sense of proportion, discrimination when choosing the best of life instead of the mediocre and shoddy and to work together. The service was conducted by Bruce Wright. Miss Deidre Morrell told the children's story and Miss Carol Kaye led in prayer. Explorers in charge.

Build Second Ship For Johnston

A new 52.6 foot luxury yacht leaves for Boston this week, then continues to Philadelphia for her owner, Alfred Johnston. Mr. Johnston made world news last year when he had built a replica of Donald McKay's immortal square rigger, the "Flying Cloud." Both the new yacht and the "Flying Cloud" were built by St. Mary's Bay Industries of Me-of Mrs. Shirley VanTassel and C.G.I.T., in charge of Mrs. Bryson Denton rendered special musical numbers. Mrs. Elton Arnold was organist. Scouts with their leader, Le Roy Brooks and Cubs led by Robert Pyne and Richard Milbury, were in attendance. John Wright and Peter McInnis were ushers and those receiving the offering were Lee Wright, Eric Milbury, Michael Hoare and Bryan Turnbull.

Accompanying the yacht to Boston, which will be piloted by Robie Nickerson, well-known Rockville resident, will be Dine Quigley, who is in the employ of Mr. Johnston, and John Skully, representing the firm who installed the two Cummins Diesels 370 h.p. turbo-charged engines in the yacht. The interior, or a considerable portion of it, will be fitted out in Philadelphia with the finest woods available.

It is understood that during the two months the "Flying Cloud" was in Newburyport Mass., a total of 50,000 persons paid admission to tour the vessel, bringing in a total of $30,000. The "Flying Cloud" is presently in Philadelphia and she is drawing hundreds of visitors every day. Renovations have been made for catering of food and refreshments. Johnston also purchased the famous ship "Bear" from Dartmouth owners a few years ago but she sank before reaching her Philadelphia destination.

Letter To The Editor

Digby, N. S.

The Digby Courier,
To The Editor:

It was stated in a news story in last week's Courier that $67,300.00 is required for necessary repairs to the Municipal building (Court House). If this vast figure is spent, we are still left with an antiquated building on our hands.

I also heard last week that the Digby firemen are badly in need of space. Their hall is terrifically overcrowded. I was told, and following the recent fire at Digby Dairy lack of space created concern in the re-arranging of equipment. I was given to understand by one of the firemen that if another fire had occurred immediately following that of the Dairy, the firemen would not have been prepared.

Everyone knows the deplorable condition of our present Town Hall. The needs no further comment! Would it not be sensible and economically feasible combine resources to erect a modern building to house the three groups and their direct agencies? This would also provide adequate police headquarters and offices for the various town and municipal departments. Perhaps the Library would also be interested in locating there. I believe my ideas are worthy of comment by the groups concerned, by other readers, and by you in your editorial column.

For Progress.

Statistics prove that at least 50 per cent of the automobiles in operation today would not pass a basic safety inspection. Defective brakes, improper lights, faulty steering, blowouts and worn tires take their deadly and growing toll each year.

As a direct and specific attack on this problem, the Province of Nova Scotia is introducing a Motor Vehicle Safety Inspection Program requiring yearly inspection of all passenger vehicles.

STARTING FEBRUARY 15

PROVINCE OF NOVA SCOTIA MOTOR VEHICLE SAFETY INSPECTION PROGRAM

All passenger motor vehicles, including station wagons, registered in the Province of Nova Scotia must now undergo a yearly safety inspection. This inspection is in accordance with motor vehicle inspection regulations and must be carried out by an authorized Inspection Mechanic.

It shall be unlawful for any person to operate a passenger motor vehicle or station wagon on the highways of this province at any time after the vehicle's inspection date unless it has been inspected and bears a prescribed Inspection Sticker.

INSPECTION PERIODS FOR 1967

The Date by which you must have your vehicle inspected is determined by the Last Number on your Nova Scotia license plate.

Last Number on LICENSE PLATE
TWO (2) or THREE (3)
FOUR (4)
FIVE (5)
SIX (6)
SEVEN (7)
EIGHT (8)
NINE (9)
ZERO (0)
ONE (1)

Vehicle MUST BE INSPECTED BY MARCH 31
APRIL 30
MAY 31
JUNE 30
JULY 31
AUGUST 31
SEPTEMBER 30
OCTOBER 31
NOVEMBER 30

It should be noted that vehicles may be inspected at any time prior to the allotted inspection date. To avoid delays, owners and operators are encouraged to have their vehicles inspected early.

In subsequent years, approval stickers issued for the month in which the vehicle was inspected, shall be valid until the end of that month in the next ensuing year.

INSPECTION CHECK POINTS

Motor Vehicle Safety Inspection will include the following checks:

- All Glass and Windshield
- Horn
- Windshield Wipers
- Brakes
- Steering and Suspension System
- Exhaust System
- Fuel System
- Tires and Wheels
- Lights

Fee for this inspection has been established at $2.00.

INSPECTION STATIONS

Official Inspection Stations, duly licensed by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles and located in all localities of the province, will conduct the prescribed safety inspections.

INSPECTION APPROVAL STICKER

All vehicles satisfying minimum safety requirements shall have an official APPROVAL STICKER affixed to the windshield.

REJECTION STICKER

All vehicles not satisfying minimum safety requirements will receive a REJECTION STICKER. The operator of the rejected vehicle has ten (10) days from date of rejection to have defects corrected and vehicle re-inspected.

SUSPENSION OF REGISTRATION

If the owner or operator of a rejected vehicle fails to have the defects corrected, and his vehicle re-inspected, the Registrar may suspend the registration of the vehicle.

The Nova Scotia Motor Vehicle Safety Inspection Program is designed to reduce the problem of unsafe vehicles. It has been noted, that in other areas, where motor vehicle inspection has been inaugurated, there has been a reduction of up to 80 per cent in accidents arising out of mechanical failure of vehicles.

To avoid delays—have your vehicle inspected as early as possible before the allotted inspection date.

AGREE TO BUILD REGISTRY OF DEEDS OFFICE

Mayor C. D. Snow, Councilors Gerald Hoare and Paul Winchester reported on Monday night at the Digby town council meeting on a joint meeting with the Municipality of Digby committee and a committee from the Municipality of Clare to investigate the possibilities of a new Registry of Deeds office at Weymouth. Council moved at the close of the report to share in building such an office.

The cost of the structure is not to exceed $50,000, which price includes $3,575, the cost of the land where the old school stands at Weymouth and which will be used for the new building site. The old school will be demolished but some of the foundation can be utilized for the new construction. The new one-storey building will be 30 by 40 feet and contain a 664 sq.

ft. vault. Share costs arrived at will be 43.5 per cent Digby Municipality; 33.7 per cent Clare and 22.8 per cent Digby town.

The same arbitration committee who looked into the Registry of Deeds office also studied the possibility of a new "Court House". The present structure requires $60,000 for basic repairs. The committee, Digby municipality and Digby town, decided to do only the most necessary immediate repairs and to look into costs of a new building with possibility of grants to relieve the burden.

Permission was granted on Monday night to the Roscoe Construction Ltd. to remove the present staff residence at The Pines and to erect a new residence providing it could apply with the National Building Code. The new 45 room residence with recreation area will be a two storey wooden structure 167.5 ft. by 34 ft. 10 inches.

Council also approved of the erection of Kingfisher Motel on Warwick St., Digby, near MacDonald Motors, under condition it applied with the National Building Code. The approval had reservations regarding sewage, leaving the permission open to the town to carry out a survey on the most feasible way to provide sewage facilities and if necessary to call a meeting of ratpayers. The 13 unit motel will cost, for construction and furniture, in the vicinity of $100,000.

Permission was granted the Ladies Auxiliary of the Digby General Hospital to hold Tag Days, March 3 and March 4.

A petition to pave certain streets in Digby was placed before council. It was decided that it would be better to look into the sewage problem along those streets before any paving program be attempted.

Mayor Snow announced that Ralph S. Widrig, of Lockeport, would be at the annual meeting of the Digby Board of Trade where he would speak on low rental housing where rent is paid on the basis of the person's ability to pay. The mayor will also attend a meeting in Halifax with federal and provincial authorities on February 17th, when Mr. Widrig would be present.

Bid For Improved Ferry

His Worship Mayor C. D. Snow reported at the Digby Town Council meeting on Monday night that he and Mayor Arthur Gould of Saint John, N. B., had been named co-chairman to jointly prepare a brief to be presented to the federal government, the provincial government and the C.P.R., for an upgraded ferry service between the two provincial points, Digby and Saint John.

Mr. Snow reported that he had been to Halifax last week with other interested groups and representatives from the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade in the interest of the improved ferry, and terminals. Among those who were in Halifax, were Mayor Snow, Reigh Jayne, president of the Digby Board of Trade, Captain Joe Casey, Mitchell Franklin, Kentville, Bernard LeBlanc, president A.V.A.B.T., Lloyd Hill, executive manager A.V.A.B.T., Mayor Gould and Seward MacDonald, Port and Industry Commissions of Saint John. They met with Hon. E. D. Haliburton, Nova Scotia Minister of Lands and Forests, and other government officials.

The brief to be drawn up will ask for a roll-off type of service, three trips a day and cheaper fares across the Bay. Mr. Snow said that as far away as Truro, they expected to feel the benefits of improved service, according to John Murphy, Truro.

The same committee also met with the government to seek financial assistance for a Fundy Trail starting at St. Stephen, N. B., following the Bay of Fundy shoreline to Yarmouth, N. S. Besides the above mentioned the committee also included Logan Barnhill, warden of Colchester Co., and Mayor Bishop, of Hantsport. They met with Premier Robert L. Stanfield; Hon. Stephen Pyke, Minister of Highways; and Hon. W. S. K. Jones, Minister of Trade and Industry.

The Premier said that the provincial government agrees in principle to the Fundy Trail idea. He will ask the government of Nova Scotia to seek assistance from the Atlantic Development Board in conducting a study of benefits to be derived from such a trail and suggest the Board include such a survey in its current study of tourism in the four Atlantic provinces.

Celebrates 94th Birthday

Mrs. Robert Leslie Dittmars, Clementsport, celebrated her 94th birthday, Feb. 3. Unlike other years, Mrs. Dittmars received her callers at the Annapolis Royal Rest Home, where she is a guest during the winter months.

The former Emma Gertrude Coffill, daughter of Louise Wickwire Coffill, Mount Denison, Hants County, and Capt. Freeman Coffill, Hantsport, this lady's early life was spent in the United States where she was married. Since the death of her husband in 1924, Mrs. Dittmars has occupied the Dittmars family home in "The Square", Clementsport.

Boy's Parliament In Digby

The Sixth Annapolis Valley Boy's Parliament, held in Digby, N. S., this past weekend, ended up with only one Resolution being passed.

This resolution was "Religion Instruction in Public Schools".

It went on record that 1. A course in religion be offered in Nova Scotia Public Schools commencing at the grade seven level; and that this course consist of history and methods of religion from grade seven to grade nine; and that this course consist of religious philosophy at the High School level; and that these elective courses be given by those who possess a degree in Philosophy or by a clergyman (Minister).

"Unification of Canada's Armed Forces" and "Canada's Divorce Laws" (resolutions) were defeated by the House.

A Humor Resolution was brought to the floor — "Adult Delinquency", stating that parents are hypocrites and unreasonable and too strict. This resolution was only to bring humor and was neither defeated nor passed by the members.

"Hate Literature" resolution was defeated, reconsidered and Tabled by the members of the house.

In attendance at the Parliament were sixty-five boys from the Hants, Kings, Annapolis and Digby Counties.

Outstanding hospitality was given and shown by the local churches of Digby, along with special greetings from the Mayor, C. D. Snow.

Officers elect for next year were: Kirk Anderson (A.R.), Speaker of the House; Albert Layton (A.R.), Premier.

Boy's Parliament will be held in Bridgetown, N. S., next year for all four counties.

Local planning arrangements for the Sixth Boy's Parliament were made by the Rev. H. S. Hartlin, of the Baptist Church. Parliament was under the direction of Captain James Fraser, of the Salvation Army, Bridgetown, N. S., and Clerk of the House was Raymond Jefferson, of Wolfville, N. S. Registrar was Hugh Brittain. Page boys were Douglas Warner, Barry Snow, James Warner and Eric Milberry. Aide-de-Camp was Chris Humble and Sgt.-at-Arms, Paul Lewis.

Parliament was dissolved on Sunday afternoon by the Lt. Governor, viz., Lt. Cdr. Humble, of C.F.B. Cornwallis.

New Fisheries Vessel Launched At Meteghan

A new federal fisheries patrol vessel to replace the "Limanda", which has been patrolling the coast since 1949, was christened last week at the shipbuilding yard of St. Mary's Bay Industries Ltd.

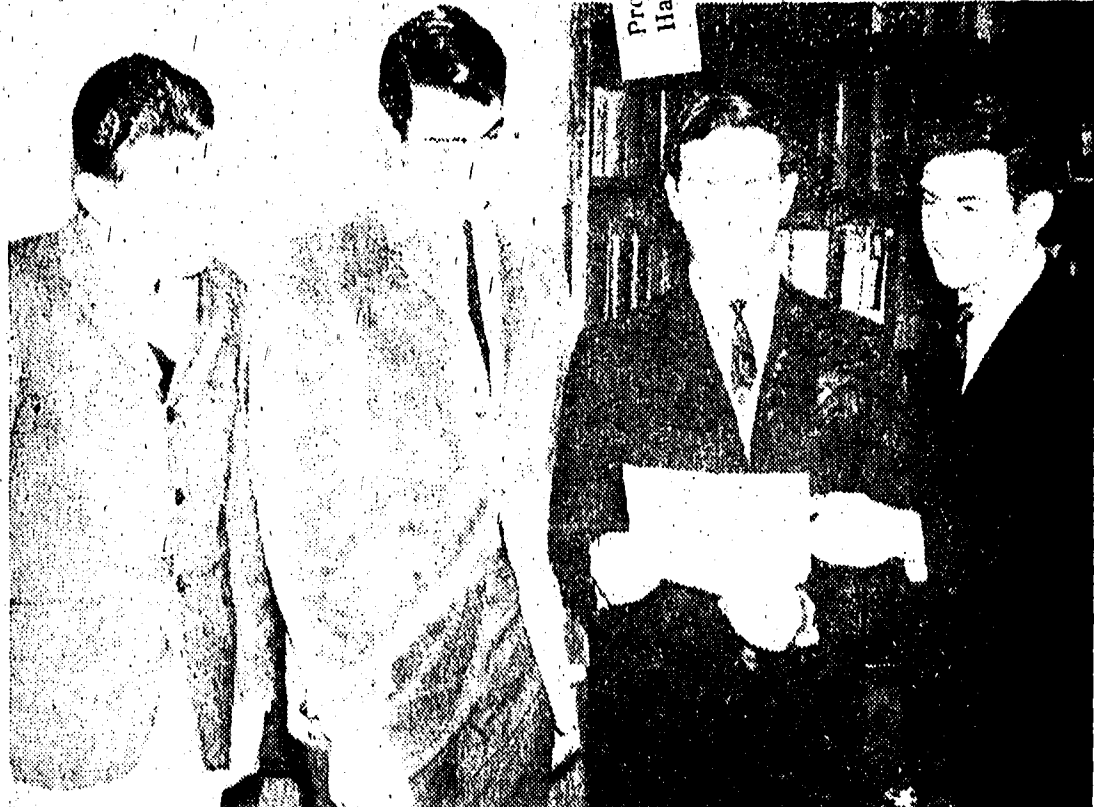

Officiating at the christening ceremonies of the "Cobequid Bay", were Mrs. R. E. S. Homans, wife of the regional director of fisheries for the Maritimes, who broke the traditional bottle of champagne across the bow; and Rev. Louis Theriault, Meteghan, who blessed the new ship.

The new boat, an offshore patrol vessel, was built under the supervision of Yard Foreman, Ben d'Entremont, and is 70 feet in length with a moulded breadth of 18 feet and a depth of 7½ feet. It is powered with a 340 h.p. Cummins V-12 engine and will have a speed of about 11 knots.

The new boat carries a crew of five, under Capt. Desire Doucet, who was previously in command of the "Limanda".

The newest of 29 fisheries patrol vessels, the "Cobequid Bay" will have its sea trials on February 14th.

Mrs. Helen Nixon and Miss Julie Woolaver recently spent some time visiting with friends in Fredericton.

The past weekend saw upwards of 60 parliamentarians in Digby when the Annapolis Valley Boy's Parliament met in annual session at Grace United Church hall.

Michael, of the South Shore Boy's Parliament, were observers. Michael is a son of Dr. Wendall Jeffrey (formerly Sandy Cove), and Mrs. Jeffrey.

1967 Municipal Council Budget $737,252.71

Council at its closing session Tuesday, struck the tax rate for Digby Municipality for 1967. The new rate is $3.75 per $100 of assessment. This is an increase of 25 cents over the 1966 figure.

Total expenditures for 1967 were estimated by Council to be $737,252.71. Sundry revenue was estimated at $251,620.40.

Council decided to apply the sum of $79,272.53 from accumulated surplus to the 1967 revenue estimates, leaving a total of $406,359.78 to be met through taxation.

It was decided by council during the session to increase the annual salary of Council Members from $400 to $600. The Council also decided to do away with the payment of expenses to Council members, although travel costs to council sessions will be retained. Necessary by-law amendments to accomplish these changes were made at the closing session after due notice of motion had been given.

The financial report of the Digby County Power Board was presented at the meeting by Power Board Superintendent, Stewart MacNaughton. The report noted that total revenue for the Power Board in 1966 was $387,565.56. This was an increase of $42,517.71 over the previous year.

It was also noted that cost of power purchased by the Board in 1966 increased $38,661.77 over the previous year.

Mrs. A. J. Dillon, Mrs. C. C. MacInnis and Mrs. J. M. Wallis attended the executive of the Valley Presbyterian of the United Church of Canada held at Berwick on Saturday.

Society Seeks Centennial Project

Twenty-five members attended the monthly meeting of the Adolphus Digby Horticulture Society, held at the home of Mrs. W. Sutcliffe on Wednesday.

Checks amounting to $105 to assist in the work of the society, were gratefully acknowledged. It was reported that two standards on the main street in front of the post office supporting the hanging flower baskets in summer, had been broken and would have to be replaced.

On request of the president, R. K. Beckwith, centennial project suggestions were, flower show to be held during the summer and a lattice fence to be placed around the map of the Town of Digby, near the Tourist Bureau.

A committee consisting of Mrs. H. Warne, Miss Mary Marshall and Mrs. W. Spencer, was appointed to bring to the next meeting, suggestions as to possible projects, that might be carried out.

A penny auction was held with articles donated by the members, and $11.35 was realized.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Sutcliffe, assisted by Miss Louise Daley and a vote of thanks expressed to them for their hospitality.

The March meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. W. Spencer.

Returning February 16

Rev. and Mrs. R. H. Hughes have booked a flight from Ireland to Halifax for February 16. After remaining in Halifax for a few days they will return to Digby.

R.C.'s Join For Prayer

For the first time in history the women of the Roman Catholic Church in Digby will join with the Protestant congregations for the World Day of Prayer service. The service this year will be held at the Salvation Army Citadel, Queen St., at 3:30 p.m. to-morrow.

Mrs. Gerald Usher, of the Salvation Army will be the speaker for the afternoon and those taking leading parts will be Mrs. Raymond Lent, Anglican; Mrs. A. J. Dillon, United Church of Canada; Mrs. J. J. Brittain, United Baptist; and Mrs. Hazen Ricker, Wesleyan Methodist. Other voices will be heard including those from the Roman Catholic and the Church of God.

Army Officer Preaches At Grace United

Capt. James Fraser of the Bridgetown, Salvation Army Corps was guest speaker at Grace United Church on Sunday morning. Capt. Fraser was director of Annapolis Valley Boys Parliament which met in Digby over the week end. With him in the pulpit, and assisting in the service were, Gary Wright, Speaker of the House, and Bert Layton, Deputy Speaker.

Capt. Fraser said we live in a world that has lost its central figure, the Christian. He said a Christian is a man ever on his way to God and therefore each day by grace of Christ, must be a little more fit to stand the scrutiny of God.

Several of the Parliamentarians assisted in the choir. Miss Deirdre Morrell was organist.

Buried With Full Naval Honors

Mr. Connor, age 87, died at Cape Blomidon, Sunday. He was born in England, a son of a British army officer, the late Captain Timothy and Marie (Margeson) Connor. His mother was a native of Nova Scotia. He grew up in England, Ireland and Egypt.

He had an active career in the Royal Navy, during which he saw service in many parts of the world. He served in the Boer War, the Chinese Boxer Rebellion, the Russo-Japan War, and World War I. He retired from the R. N. in 1917 as a master-at-arms following injury in the bombardment of the Chatham (England) Military Hospital.

Mr. Connor came to Digby 45 years ago. He was interested in naval history and made a number of contributions to the Canadian Naval Museum. Besides a long and colorful career in the navy, Mr. Connor had the distinction of being one of the oldest Scout Masters in Canada. He was appointed in 1906 by Col. Baden-

Powell, founder of the scout movement. He had been a Free Mason since 1902. He was registered a ship's diver in 1894 and held the distinction of being the world's oldest living diver. He knew King Edward VII and on many occasions had met with the Royal Family. Mr. Connor was regarded as Canada's oldest living Blue Jacket, and in 1965 Capt. J. M. Paul, commanding officer at C.F.B. Cornwallis, presented him with a white ensign in recognition of his many years of military service. The presentation was made before a massed parade of over 1,000 officers, men and cadets on behalf of the chief of the defence staff.

Mr. Connor was a member of the Royal Canadian Legion and other ex-service associations. He maintained membership in a number of such organizations in Britain. He is survived by one son, Rufus Connor, of Lowell, Mass., a grandson, Victor, two great grandchildren; and one brother, A. Paul, of Baltimore.

Willis Tibbits, and Mrs. William Wagner cut the anniversary cake when the Digby Corps Salvation Army celebrated its 80th anniversary.

The Salvation Army opened fire in Digby on January 26, 1887. Special services were held on January 29, 1967, to give thanks to God for the victories of the past and to ask His help for even greater victories in the future.

As the anniversary was celebrated, many went back in memory to the happy times experienced in the old Citadel on Water Street, the home of The Army for seventy-eight of its eighty years. For the past two years Army activities have centred in the new Citadel on Queen Street.

Special guests for the day were Captain and Mrs. Kenneth Crews, of Liverpool, who were formerly stationed at Digby. Captain Crews spoke movingly in both meetings on love and commitment to God. The evening meeting was of the old fashioned "free and easy" type which featured the warmth and spontaneity of the early day Salvation meetings. Captain Crews drew the meeting to a devotional close with his message from God's Word.

After the evening service, soldiers, adherents, and friends of The Salvation Army gathered for a time of fellowship together. Memories were exchanged and old comrades, now promoted to Glory, were remembered. The anniversary cake was cut by Mrs. Lois Wagner, whose name is first on the roll, and by Retired Sergeant Major Willis Tibbits. The celebration of the eightieth anniversary of Digby Corps closed with a rededication of the Corps and its soldiers to the honour and glory of God.

To Reconsider Occupancy Tax

A notice of motion for reconsideration of a resolution passed at a previous session of the annual meeting, was introduced in the Digby Municipal Council, by Councillor Clyde Cosman. The reconsideration notice concerns a motion passed by council to reduce the occupancy tax for 1968 to 15 percent, from the present figure.

Canteen Shows Small Profit

The canteen operated by the Ladies Auxiliary at the Digby General Hospital is greatly appreciated by patients and visitors and also shows a steady but small profit, according to the report given at the regular meeting of the auxiliary on Monday night.

The recent pantry sale had netted the auxiliary $150 to date and plans were made to hold tag days in March.

The yearly auction amongst auxiliary members will be held at the next meeting.

Baden Powell, M.L.A. and Mrs. Powell left on Wednesday for Halifax, to attend the session of the Legislature which opens to-day.

Firemen Honor Retiring Chief

Digby firemen, meeting in annual banquet at Grace United Church hall on Monday night honored their retired chief, George Humphrey, and also one of their retired firemen, Paul Winchester, who recently became one of the town's councillors. Both were presented with honorary certificates by the Digby Fire Department president, Ray Thibault, who presided over the functions.

Special speaker, was V. G. Cardozo, who paid tribute to both retired men, and remarked on the excellent fire department in Digby and on the sacrifices made by all the firemen.

Mr. Humphrey came to Digby from England in 1923 and worked at his trade as a carpenter. In 1937 he joined the Digby Fire Department where he was a volunteer fireman for 5 years, assistant chief for 8 years and chief for the past 19 years until his retirement on December 31st, 1966. He was active during this time in helping to build up the department to its present excellent standard.

Mrs. Humphrey was also presented with a bouquet by Mrs. A. J. Dillon, president of the organization which catered for the banquet.

Mr. and Mrs. Humphrey have three sons, Donald and Gordon, who are sergeants in the R.C.M.P., and Ralph, in civil service.

Mr. Humphrey was later in the evening presented with a chair on behalf of the firemen at the fireman's hall. The presentation was made by Deputy Fire Chief, Joseph Doucette. Chief is Buster Handspiker.

Mr. Winchester served the fire department for 20 years both in fire fighting and in fund raising for equipment. In paying tribute to Mr. Winchester, the speaker remarked on his special knowledge as a councillor of the needs of the firemen and his ability to interpret these to other council members. Last Sunday, the C.Y.O. wrapped up the regular season play at the Forum.

In the broomball game the St. Joseph's girls from Weymouth met with a strong team from Holy Cross parish in Plympton and lost 1-0. The lone marker in the game was scored by Linda Melanson.

In the hockey game the St. Pat's boys from Digby finished the season undefeated with an impressive 11-4 victory over Holy Cross. Danny Doucette's fancy stickhandling and blazing shots enabled him to lead the attack with 6 goals. John Amerault notched a hat trick and Billy Nickerson and Jerry VanTassel each tallied once.

Lloyd Robicheau paced the Plympton attack with 2 goals. Donnie Robicheau fired a marker and Russell Melanson banged one home to round out the Holy Cross scoring.

Sunday evening the St. Pat's team trounced the Digby General Hospital staff 14-5. After Winston Wells' disputed goal the Hospital team seemed to come alive but St. Pat's put back their efforts.

In action on Sunday, January 29th, the Digby girls suffered injuries to three key players in the persons of Evie Amoro, Hazel Harrington, and Jean Harrington which forced them to discontinue play and Weymouth won the game by default although the score was 0-0. It is hoped these girls will be back in the lineup for the finals.

In the hockey game St. Joseph's beat Holy Cross 4-1. The only statistics available from this game was that Andy Burke scored once for Weymouth and Lloyd Robicheau scored for Plympton.

This Sunday the semi-finals begin with St. Joseph's meeting Holy Cross in both leagues. Next week the final League statistics will be published in this section of the Courier.

Francis, Joe Bond, Jr. Simms (L. Jordan). Scoring for the Mountain was done by B. Me-Leod (J. Mullen), J. Muller, B. Johnson.

The second game saw the Centreville Pirates defeat the Digby Generals 8-5. Scoring for Centreville was done by R. Walker, C. Nesbitt (B. Pyne), B. Pyne (C. Nesbitt), S. Shaw, C. Nesbitt, C. Graham (C. Morton), G. Titus, C. Nesbitt (G. Titus). The Generals goals came off the sticks of W. Snow (P. Hewitt), W. Snow (P. Hewitt, P. Budlow), W. Snow (P. Hewitt), P. Hewitt (W. Snow), C. Wagner (W. Small).

This league although late starting will play up until the closing of the Forum sometime late in March or early April. Thanks are extended to Mr. E. Gaudet of the Digby Generals for getting this league started and it is hoped that before the Forum opens for its 67/68 season that this League will be formed with its officers and also it is hoped that several more teams will enter. Support given this year will help to form a better league next year.

$500,000 Whale Plant At Comeauville

A whale processing plant, which will sell whale meat on the world market will be established at Comeauville, Ronald Comeau, son of the late Senator, J. Willie Comeau, who will probably be the manager of the $500,000 Scotia Whaling Company hopes to see the plant opened by the summer of 1967. The plant will process whale blubber for oil, process meat for mink food and also human consumption.

The plant will employ 50 to 60 men and two vessels will employ from sixteen to twenty-four men. The vessels are now operated by Comeau's

Cougars Defeat Flyers 7-6

Despite a four goal performance by S. Gregory, Shearwater Flyers dropped a 7-6 decision to Cornwallis Cougars in Cornwallis on Saturday afternoon in an exhibition hockey game. MacNeil and Butler were other Shearwater scorers.

Bruce Campbell shot two goals for the Cougars with singles coming from Lee, Phillips, Boucher, Honsinger and Wells.

Sea Foods Ltd., at Saulnierville.

The modern whale processing plant will have special equipment installed to eliminate any possibility of obnoxious odors.

A Brunch That Beats Winter's Bleakness

More and more hostesses are discovering the gaiety and carefreeness of entertaining at brunch. A late morning or midday light meal is a most welcome way to greet guests.

Put your electric frying pan to work. The main dish cooked in the frying pan goes right to the table or buffet.

Creamed condensed Cheddar cheese soup joins forces with the egg for a dish to highlight any brunch menu — Cheesy Eggs. The uniqueness of the flavour and texture of this quick to prepare dish will win compliments for any hostess.

Wedges of coffee cake (one of the packaged varieties for additional ease), still warm from the oven, and individual dishes of chilled bananas and pineapple chunks lightly torped with coconut make this meal worthy and memorable.

CHEESY EGGS

8 eggs, separated
1 can (10 ounces) condensed Cheddar cheese soup
1/2 cup minced cooked ham
1 can (5 ounces) mushroom slices, drained and finely chopped
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
2 tablespoons chopped chives
2 tablespoons butter or margarine
Preheat electric frying pan to 300 F.* Beat egg whites until stiff but not dry. Beat egg yolks until thick and lemon coloured; beat in soup; fold into egg whites with ham, mushrooms, celery, and chives. Melt butter in frying pan; pour in egg mixture. Cover; cook 20 minutes. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

*Follow manufacturers' directions.

"An Illustrated History of Education of Nova Scotia is nearing completion". Rod Fredericks, President of the Nova Scotia Teachers Union, said recently that this Centennial project "has been underway for several months and the deadline date for publication is May. This History will be an attractive book, well written and illustrated to capture outstanding moments in the educational progress of our province."

Doris Hitehey, a teacher from Halifax who has researched the topic for a number of years, will write the History, and John Cook, a well-known Halifax artist, will do the sketches.

The History will contain 25 sketches, and 25 written pieces about 500 words long.

The History when opened will present the written account on the left-hand page,

The 25 pieces of writing and 25 sketches will commence with education in an Indian village, pass through the French period, and so on until the present is reached. The NSTU Centennial Committee consists of Shirley Blakeley, chairman; Ella Corbin; Terence Punch (all from Halifax City schools); Neil Horswill, Dartmouth; Mary Hollett, from Rockingham.

90 Years Back

FROM EARLY FILES OF THE DIGBY COURIER

February 9, 1877

The editorial of that date dealt with the explosive situation in the Middle East and the Balkans. After differences between Russia and the Ottoman empire. Protracted religious war feared.

"A bell buoy is to be placed on Portuguese Shoal at entrance to Halifax harbour."

The first number of the Truro Times has been received. We wish our old friend H. Fisher, publisher every success.

"Dr. Elijah C. Drev, well known in Clementsport in connection with the Iron Works of that place, died suddenly in Boston."

"People of Weymouth have just discovered a new source of amusement, that of smelt fishing through holes cut in the ice. There were over a bushel of fine ones caught on the ice above the bridge, some catching four and five dozen apiece. The sport promises to become very fashionable."

Men interested in shipping attempted to clear Bear River of ice last week. They were successful and the river is open to shipping two months earlier than usual. The "Heiress", Captain Spicer, sailed on the 6th for Barbadoes, and the "E. Walsh", Capt. Peters, came up to load. The Brig "J. R. E." is loading lumber for the West Indies.

"The lash and the whipping post are in constant use in the State of Virginia, U.S.A., in the control of petty crime, being administered to white and black impartially."

In agriculture, it was the opinion of experts, in 1877, "the crop best adapted to the soil of Digby and vicinity was 'hops'."

Sometimes prophecies do not materialize even after 90 years. In a letter to the Editor signed by Dr. R. S. Timpany, he says: "The depot for the railway should be located at Baxter's Point. The Point is the natural terminus for the road and the most convenient for the town. Increase of business and logic of necessity will force this arrangement."

"A meeting of parishioners of Trinity Church is to be held to receive a report of a committee in connection with the contemplated new church."

"A driving snow storm Monday, which immediately cleared up. To all appearances the heart of the winter is broken." (We had ours, in 1967, three days later, Thursday night and Friday morning.)

Youth Assist In Service

Christian Youth Week activities in the Baptist Church of Digby were brought to a close last Sunday morning with a special youth service conducted by the pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin.

Lieut. Gerald Usher, of the Salvation Army, was the guest speaker for the occasion. Members of the C.G.I.T. and chorale of the choir, and they also sang a special number.

The pastor was assisted in the service by Miss Wenda Franklin of the Hill Grove Church. Also present on the platform was Kirk Anderson, of Annapolis Royal, the premier of the Boy's Parliament which was conducting its sessions in Digby over the weekend. Mr. Anderson spoke of the Christian and educational goals of the parliament which meets annually and represents the counties of Antigonish, Kings, Annapolis and Digby. A large number of the representatives to the parliament attended the worship service.

On Saturday evening, about 70 members of the parliament, with their leaders and guests, attended the Lieut. Governor's banquet held in the Baptist church hall. The dinner was served by members of the boys' work committee of the church, and by the Boy Scouts, under the direction of Don Brown and Bernard Bell. Acting as the Lieut. Governor for the opening and closing of the parliament, Lt. Cmdr. Humble, of Cornwallis, was the guest speaker.

Next Sunday evening the service for the Girls' Day of Prayer will be held in the Baptist Church. Invitations have been extended to the girls of Grace United Church, the Bear River church, and the Hill Grove church to attend the service. The service is open to the public.

Home Safely At 12:30 A.M.

Michael Jeffrey, Shelburne, and Ross Hartlin, Brooklyn, Queens Co., were not long in advising they had arrived home safely on Sunday's icy roads after being observed at the Annapolis Valley Boys' Parliament held over the weekend in Digby. Michael, son of Dr. Wendell Jeffrey (formerly of Sandy Cove, Digby Co.) and Mrs. Jeffrey, arrived in Shelburne safely at 12:30 a.m. according to a radiogram picked up by amateur radio operator, Tex Matkinson. The radiogram read "IRVELAOT 16. Shelburne N. S. Time 12:30 a.m. Feb. 5 to Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby, N. S. — Thanks for most enjoyable stay with you. Best wishes. Hope to see you again. Michael Jeffrey and Ross Hartlin." Michael is an enthusiastic amateur radio operator.

IN MEMORIAM

CROMWELL. — In memory of George Cromwell, who was killed on Feb. 7, 1963. "Sleep on dear George Sweet be your rest. God called you home Among the blest. We miss you now. We always will. You left a place That none can fill." Ralph and Eleanor Cromwell and family. 25:1c

CROMWELL. — In loving memory of mother, Mrs. Hubert Cromwell, who passed away February 8, 1966. "Peacefully she's sleeping. Free from all pain While we journey on. 'Til we meet her again. It hurt so to lose her. But it was God's will. And we know she waits for us. Over Heaven's hill." — Always loved and remembered by daughter, Annie and family. 25:1c

1942-1967
In loving memory of our Dear Sister Nettie, who passed away February 11th, 1942. You left some aching hearts 25 years ago. Who loved you most sincere. We never have, and never will. Forget you, Sister, Nettie Dear. — Always remembered by your Sisters and Brother, Elsie, Evelyn, and George. 25:1c

MACDORMAND. — In loving memory of my husband and father, Byron MacDormand, who passed away February 16th, 1951. Looking back with memories. Upon the path he trod. We bless the years we had with him. And leave the rest with God. — Always remembered by Wife and Daughter. 25:1p

Plan Acadian Festival

The Acadian Festival Committee, under the presidency of Edouard LeBlanc, of Saultnierville, has already begun to plan for the 1967 Centennial year and the Acadian Festival will be held from August 10th to 15th inclusive this year. The Festival will be the principal incorporated in the program to celebrate the Centennial year.

The Festival will open with the Acadian Ball at which an Evangeline and Gabriel will be chosen from delegates selected by the various businesses and associations in Clare and will terminate on the 15th of August which is a religious feast day in Clare. The Smorgasborg consisting of fruits of the sea, which as fish, shellfish of all kinds: the annual chicken barbecue will be held at Major's Point on the first Saturday preceding the annual parade and garden party of Les Dames Patronesses of the C.J.A. The Annual Flower Show of the La Jardiniere garden club and exhibition of paintings by artists of Clare will help to make this year's festival the best yet.

The financial report was presented by Remi Comeau, which showed receipts of $1,655.33 made up as follows: Acadian Ball $257.00 and Chicken Barbecue $1,398.33. Expenditures were: Advertising $559.60, Decorations $221.31, Postage $53.36, Acadian Ball (orchestra, etc.) $143.58, Chicken Barbecue (including cleaning grounds before and after barbecue) $719.64, Parade expenses $309.11, Telephone $18.05, paper and envelopes, etc., $71.22, for a total of $2,098.87, causing a deficit of $443.54.

A grant from the Municipal Council of $100.00 and the Provincial government $300.00 and a special donation of $43.54 cleared up the deficit. Les Dames Patronesses of the Colonie de Jeunes Acadiens (C.J.A.) presented the committee with $53.54 made up of a donation of $20.00 towards the parade expenses and a special donation of $43.54 to clear up the deficit.

Hold Closing Service

The conclusion of Christian Education Week was observed by the Bethel United Baptist Church, Ashmore and the Riverside United Baptist, Weymouth North in a special way at a joint service Sunday morning at Weymouth North when members of the Baptist Youth Fellowship formed the choir and assisted in other ways.

Misses Carla Weaver and Coleen Manzer read scripture, the President, Ronald Main, gave the morning prayer and acted as organist when the choir sang, "Stepping In The Light". The interim Pastor, Rev. L. Atkinson, Digby, spoke on the words, "Be Strong", addressing many of his remarks to the younger people. Mrs. Clarence Thurber was organist and the ordinance of Communion followed the service. The previous Sunday, Rev. Atkinson installed the following officers of the B.Y.F.: President, Ronald Main; Vice President, Malcolm Manzer; Secretary, Lois Stevenson; Treasurer, George Manzer and song leader, Gladys Gavel.

Mr. Dennis Comeau is a patient in Yarmouth Hospital for surgery.

Well Known In Youth Work

The Dundas Optimist Youth of the Month Award for January was given to 20 year old Gary Blackadar, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Blackadar of Dundas, Ont., and grandson of Mrs. Guy Blackadar of Weymouth. The award was presented to him at the Optimist club on January 31st.

Gary has the unusual ability of being able to work with very young boys and instill in them the confidence they require when first engaging in sports. Gary was graduated from Central Public School and from Dundas District High School and is currently a first year student in arts and science at McMaster University. He has coached the Canadians in the Optimist Squirt Hockey League for four consecutive years and has worked with several other younger leagues for a number of years. Gary is also active in St. Paul's United Church, where he teaches Sunday School.

The Optimists regard Gary as one of the many young people with natural gifts and desires to succeed. "To put one word to Gary Blackadar", say the Optimists, "it would be builder, builder of character, in others, builder of teams, builder of friendships, and a builder of a good and satisfying life for himself."

OBITUARIES

Mary S. Snow

Mary S. Snow passed away suddenly January 26th at the King's County Hospital at the age of 93.

She was born in Milton, Queen's County, and was the eldest daughter of Martha and John Kempton. After her marriage to William Burton Snow, who was Colporteur for the British and Foreign Bible Society, she travelled to parts of the U.S.A. to support him in his work. In the year 1904 she and her husband with their daughter, Hazel, came to Nova Scotia where Mr. Snow worked with the Halifax Branch of the Bible Society.

She was a member of the Smith's Cove Baptist Church, a Fifty Year Jewel Member of the Sons of Temperance, a member of the W.M.S. of her church, and an ardent oral genealogist.

Surviving are two brothers, Warren and Harris Dexter, of Milton, a grand daughter, Helena, and two great grand children, Sandra and Pamela Comeau of Smith's Cove. A large number of nieces and nephews also survive. Her husband and daughter are deceased.

The body rested at Sweeney's Funeral Home, Digby, until Sunday afternoon at 2 p.m., when a service was held at the Smith's Cove Baptist Church. Officers of The Sons of Temperance wore regalia in memory of the passing of a faithful sister of that Order.

Interment was in the family lot in the Thomas Cemetery in Smith's Cove.

Philip J. Doucet

Requiem mass for Philip Joseph Doucet, 80, of Bellevue Cove was Friday at 9 a.m. at the Roman Catholic Church, St. Bernard.

Mr. Doucet died at Digby General Hospital.

He was born at Doucette Point, and was the last of the nine children of the late John Doucet. He was a farmer and carpenter and was twice married. His first wife, Agathe, died several years ago and his second wife, Margaret, died three years ago.

Weymouth Funeral Home was undertaker and interment was in the church cemetery.

H. E. Robicheau

Harold Emil Robicheau, 62, of Waterford, Digby County, died at home recently of pneumonia.

Born at Waterford, he was the son of the late Charles and Emma Lewis Robicheau. In 1939 he joined the West Nova Scotia Regiment and served overseas for a period of five years.

He is survived by a brother, Edgar of Waterford, two sisters, Mrs. Alma Melanson of Digby and May (Mrs. John White, Saint John. He is predeceased by his parents, 4 brothers and 3 sisters.

Funeral service was at Saint Patrick's Roman Catholic Church, Digby on Saturday. Members of the Canadian Legion attended and pallbearers were from the Legion. Interment was in Saint Patrick's Cemetery.

Mrs. Raymond LeBlanc

A funeral mass was held January 9th, for Mrs. Raymond LeBlanc of Meteghan Centre. She died in St. Petersburg, Florida, where she was spending the winter. Interment was in Meteghan Cemetery.

Mrs. LeBlanc was born in Three Rivers, Que., the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Pelletier. She was a member of the Women's Institute and took an interest in local arts and crafts.

She is survived by a brother, Jean, of Montreal. Her husband, the former agronomist for Digby County, died in 1962. A son died at the age of 12.

Kenneth Bishop Joseph

Kenneth Bishop Joseph, 87, of Conway, died at the Digby General Hospital Tuesday evening. He was born in Granville Ferry, son of the late Robert and Emeretta Harris Joseph.

As a young man he went to sea as a mate on the old sailing vessels, and after he married he moved to Conway and worked as a laborer. He was the senior, deacon of the African Baptist church, Acaciaville.

Second Blizzard In A Week

The weatherman provided western Nova Scotia with another heavy snowfall on Tuesday evening, the second blizzard within a week. From five to eight inches of snow fell and northeast winds with gusts of up to fifty miles per hour created high drifts. The storm had earlier played havoc in the New York and Boston areas where, at presstime, they were still digging out from under fifteen foot drifts.

A storm last Thursday evening, the major storm so far this winter for the Digby area, stalled traffic for a time, and forced the closing of schools from Clare to Annapolis Royal on Friday.

Mayflowers vs. Snow

When the editor of The Digby Courier couldn't get out any of the doors at her Birch St. home on Wednesday morning after the big snow storm, she had something to remind her that such things as a few feet of snow, too, shall pass. It was a small bowl of fully inflated mayflowers picked prior to the previous week's snow storm. They were picked in a pasture just North of Digby town by Harley Weir.

Needless to say the cheerful mayflowers won over the gloom of several feet of snow. After all, this is nearly the middle of February. But who said we weren't going to have winter? Better take it all back.

It is that each Credit Union branch is not alone in its operation but is a participant in an international movement.

Rev. Lisouri Roy, pastor of Saultmerville parish, complimented the members for the good work accomplished during the year and asked them to continue the improvement of the Union. A beautiful Centennial cake was cut and served to the members. It had been made by the Thibodeau Home Bakery, of Saultmerville.

Film On Viet Nam Shown

On Sunday evening a combined service of the Westport churches was held in the United Baptist Church vestry when a film on some of the happenings in Viet Nam was shown. This film showed the army at work but the important phase of it was the showing of the work done by the missionaries and the workers they have trained, of the way the natives thirst for the Word of God, of the miseries they go through. It told how we at home can help by prayers and by money, of the uses the money is put to. This film was made by the Church World Vision.

In the absence of Mr. Miller, pastor of the church, Mr. Earl Ambrose led the service.

Before the close of the service a collection was received to be sent to Church World Vision.

GETTING A LEG UP — MARCH OF DIMES STYLE — This earnest young man is hard at work at Nova Scotia's only "sheltered workshop", a special training institution sponsored by Nova Scotia's March of Dimes organization. To date, some 42 handicapped men and women have been job-trained at the workshop, known as New Leaf Enterprises. Each now has a full time job in the community, successfully meeting standards set by employers. Workshop projects include printing (shown above), collating books, assembly materials, punching department store credit cards, and similar time-consuming operations. March of Dimes' campaign slogan is "Give to Rehabilitate the Handicapped."

Thirty-nine years ago when Helen Creighton, a young Nova Scotia writer, was searching for a pirate legend, she was advised to go to the home of an oldtimer, Enos Hartlen, at South East Pass, near Halifax (known today as Hartlen's Point). "Because the people down there will not only tell you stories, they'll sing you songs about them as well". So she visited Hartlen.

"You see those stars up there," Hartlen asked her. "Well as many stars as there are up there as many songs as I used to be able to sing, but now my teeth is gone and my voice is rusty." He sang for her anyway, tales of shipwrecks, unhappy loves, rollicking parties, and she decided she must search out other oldtimers, too, and not allow this colorful heritage to die with them.

Thus began a hobby that developed into a remarkable career and brought Dr. Creighton scholarly recognition, national acclaim, and fellowships and appointments in the United States Library of Congress and the National Museum in Ottawa.

On Thursday, January 26, CBC-TV's Telescope '67 visited Dr. Creighton to explore some of the natural beauty (in color) and super-natural legends of Nova Scotia, in the documentary, "The Lady of the Legends".

With her tape-recorder in her ear, or trundled in a wheelbarrow, bouncing in an oxcart, or heaving in a boat, she is a familiar sight in the inlets and backroads of N.S., and there is scarcely an old lighthouse keeper, lumberjack, fisherman or farmer who hasn't sung for her.

She has many friends, one of her favorites being the spy oldtimer who sang and danced right up to his death at 101. Many of them are too shy at first to "rob her" with a song, so he will sometimes sit for hours with them while they fish, finally coaxing out the words and melody she wants.

Dr. Creighton has spent many summers in Victoria Beach. She makes the Fund View House her headquarters while doing interviews and tape recordings of traditional folk songs of the Digby-Annapolis area. She has become acquainted with practically every fisherman, farmer and lumberman in the district and many of the tales they've spun are featured in her novel, "Blue-nose Ghosts".

Radio, TV and other media tern distractions don't seem to have curtailed talking and the spinning of tall tales in Nova Scotia. "Every summer I come home with full notebooks," she says. "When other people could keep a person going for 10 years, I could play you French Gache, Micmac and Negro songs, each race expressing its soul in its own characteristic way through its songs. From these songs you can see that we in Nova Scotia are a people with imagination, a love for a story, for tradition, and for music. They show we can create even those who are different. They show we have a sense of humor and again that we

Marine Writer Has Many Relatives In Nova Scotia

The following article about Sgt. Wilfred G. Basque and his poem was taken from the Boston Traveller of January 3rd. Basque is a son of Mrs. Elsie Basque, the former Elsie Charles, of Hectanooga, the first Indian to have graduated from Nova Scotia Teachers College. She taught several years in Nova Scotia before going to the U.S.A.

How It Feels To Be Is Going On 50

How does it feel to be "13 going on 50?"

In the ages of man when does this time come?

Where does it happen that a "man is a man long before he has grown?"

Pondering these age-old questions was 22-year-old Marine Sgt. Wilfred G. Basque, 3rd Fleet Marines, as he waited on a crowded but lonely Okinawa dock for his fourth trip to combat in Vietnam.

Basque, searching as many men have on countless battle-grounds throughout his story for the "Why" of war, wrote to his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Basque, 63 Lawn St., Roxbury.

A graduate of English High School in 1961, Basque, who won the Purple Heart last Easter, put his thoughts into a verse titled "The Old Salt." The poem is published nearby.

Mrs. Elsie Basque, the sergeant's proud mother, said her son had never done any writing prior to going into the service.

He is the last one I would have thought that would express his emotions and feelings this way," Mrs. Basque said.

She said her son was one of four survivors of an 18 man patrol when he received the Purple Heart near Da Nang.

"Now he and another boy are the only ones left," Mrs. Basque said apprehensively.

Mrs. Basque has another son, Bryan, 18, who is a para-trooper at Fort Bragg, N.C., and a 9 year old daughter, Marcelle who is anxious to see her big brother. The family, who are members of the Micmac Indian tribe, came to Boston from Nova Scotia in 1951. Mrs. Basque, the former Elsie Charles, was born in Hectanooga and is the first Indian to have graduated from Nova Scotia Teachers College. She taught several years in Nova Scotia before going to the U.S.A.

Sgt. Basque, who extended his tour of duty last August, isn't expected home until October, 1968.

"That will be the best day ever," his mother said.

This is a portrait of Sgt. Wilfred G. Basque, a 22-year-old Marine, who is the subject of the article. He is shown in a military uniform. The caption mentions that he was on the cover of the Boston Traveller and that his story was featured on CBC-TV.

The Old Salt

"Here on a dock in a storm do I stand
With a company of Marines, in a far off land.
The clouds are black, the rain beats down,
The air is cold and the wind breaks the sound.
When will we board? It's hurry up and wait
In this wind and rain, to create more hate.

"I close my eyes and my mind starts to roam.
There's too much time to think, because now I see home.
Making way for Christmas, snow falls tonight
On Maines' covered bridges and Boston Common lights.
Busy parents and children decorating their tree.
Wrapping presents, singing carols, it's great to be free.

"Someone stirs me I'm back from a dream.
I must stop thinking, no sense now it seems.
A young Marine asks me, 'You've been there before.
What's it really like, the VC and war?
Is it really as bad as they seem to put on,
Are they really that tough, the enemy, the Cong?'"

"What can I say? He'll find out on his own
That a man is a man, long before he's grown.
And how he'll grow old, at an old age of nineteen.
Nineteen going on fifty, with nothing between.
Should I tell him of someone, or tell him a lie
Or that you don't know what life is, until you nearly die?
"The gangplank is lowered, we're boarding at last.

Strange it seems, even this will pass.
The time has come, once more I'll return
To that war-torn land that makes Hell burn.
With rifle in hand I pick up my pack
And take my last look at Freedom, I swear I'll be back!

Suggest Canoe Pageant '67

Atlantic region Micmac Indians may join together in a Nova Scotia canoe pageant to Expo '67, led Grand Chief Donald, of Montreal, from Nova Scotia's shall, Sydney, a canoe club, Chapel Island.

The possibility was discussed during a Nova Scotia Micmac Centennial Council meeting in Antigonish last week when 10 chiefs from the province's 11 reserves and their councillors met to discuss Micmac involvement in centennial celebrations.

Held in the St. Francis Xavier University Extension Department boardroom, the meeting was chaired jointly by Frank Wallace, Halifax, the Centennial Commission's regional officer for Nova Scotia, and Centennial Commission Indian Projects officer Ken Goodwill, Ottawa, a Dakota Sioux formerly of the Standing Buffalo Reserve at Fort Qu'Appelle Saskatchewan.

The proposed canoe trip was brought up by Nova Scotia Micmac Grand Captain Noel Doucette, Sydney, who is seeking a grant from the Centennial Commission, Ottawa, to cover expenses for six paddlers from the Chapel Island (Cape Breton) area. Delegates to the meeting agreed unanimously that the current sub-mission be revised to include

On Monday evening, February 6th, the Home and School Association met at Oakdale School with a good attendance. The following letters from the Canadian Mental Health Association and the Ladies Auxiliary were read. It was moved that we obtain the Dental Hygiene again this year. A good report concerning the Adult Education was presented. The subjects being taught this year being: English, Math, Book Keeping, and Typing, with a class in Aluminum Pottery. The book award went to Miss Hubble's class.

Mr. Arthur Isles gave an interesting report on the Boy Scouts and Girls.

Following this, Mr. P. Take gave a talk on the Fundy Trail and also read a brief, which the Executive Committee presented to the Nova Scotia Government last Wednesday. This was all very much enjoyed and was followed by refreshments.

Historical Sites Dealt With At W.I. Meeting

The February meeting of the Bear River Women's Institute was held on Monday afternoon, February 6th, at the home of Mrs. J. H. Cunningham, with the President, Mrs. A. G. MacIntyre in the chair, and all officers present.

After opening exercises and reading of the minutes by the Secretary, Mrs. F. S. Chesley, and the Treasurer's report by Mrs. Cunningham, reports of committees were given and necessary business transacted.

The program of the afternoon was under the Publicity Committee, consisting of Mrs. G. H. Cunningham, Mrs. W. Morine, and Mrs. J. L. Warren, assisted by other members. The subject being, "Nova Scotia, Past and Present" in this centennial year. Following a brief introduction by Mrs. Cunningham, a number of artists in the Valley were noted, from the first permanent white settlement in Canada at Port Royal in 1605, to the first British Justice of the Peace in Canada at Annapolis Royal in 1727. A reconstruction of the original "Habitation" at Port Royal has been carried out, and is open year round to visitors. The first officers quarters at Fort Anne were built in 1797, and the cornerstone laid by the Duke of Kent, father of Queen Victoria. Last summer, 1966, the "Old Robblee House" was converted to a museum and gift and antique centre, four hundred yards from the Habitation, and operated by Geo. and Rosemarie Cox, of Pic A Rose Gardens in Round Hill.

In Lequille by 1968 there will be an electric power station with the capacity of 15,000 horsepower, and its exterior will simulate a French grist mill of the 19th century. The first grist mill was built by Poutincourt in 1607 at Lequille.

Old churches at Deep Brook, Clementsport, Annapolis Royal and in Grand Pre Memorial Park, were mentioned and the Old Church of the Covenant, and on the modern side, "The Youth Hostel at Grand Pre. Museums have been established at Wolfville, Windsor and Baddeck, and the fort at Louisbourg is being restored as a Centennial Project. Halifax, the provincial Capital has many interesting buildings, old and new, and on the South Shore we find the Perkins House and the old churches at Barrington.

Tea was served to 16 members and one guest by Mrs. Cunningham and Mrs. Ruth Tolles.

Miss Alice Clark, Digby, was an overnight guest on Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Morine.

Rev. Kenley MacNeil, attended a Presbytery meeting at Middleton on Thursday of last week.

Miss Marilyn Isles is the guest of her Uncle and Aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Isles of Halifax.

Freeport

(M. E. Finigan)

REGISTRY OF MOTOR VEHICLES

Motor Vehicle Inspection Division

A-3588

Statistics prove that at least 50 per cent of the automobiles in operation today would not pass a basic safety inspection. Defective brakes, improper lights, faulty steering, blowouts and worn tires take their deadly and growing toll each year.

As a direct and specific attack on this problem, the Province of Nova Scotia is introducing a Motor Vehicle Safety Inspection Program requiring yearly inspection of all passenger vehicles.

STARTING FEBRUARY 15

PROVINCE OF NOVA SCOTIA MOTOR VEHICLE SAFETY INSPECTION PROGRAM

All passenger motor vehicles, including station wagons, registered in the Province of Nova Scotia must now undergo a yearly safety inspection. This inspection is in accordance with motor vehicle inspection regulations and must be carried out by an authorized Inspection Mechanic.

It shall be unlawful for any person to operate a passenger motor vehicle or station wagon on the highways of this province at any time after the vehicle's inspection date unless it has been inspected and bears a prescribed Inspection Sticker.

INSPECTION PERIODS FOR 1967

The Date by which you must have your vehicle inspected is determined by the Last Number on your Nova Scotia license plate.

Last Number on LICENSE PLATE	Vehicle MUST BE INSPECTED BY
TWO (2) or THREE (3)	MARCH 31
FOUR (4)	APRIL 30
FIVE (5)	MAY 31
SIX (6)	JUNE 30
SEVEN (7)	JULY 31
EIGHT (8)	AUGUST 31
NINE (9)	SEPTEMBER 30
ZERO (0)	OCTOBER 31
ONE (1)	NOVEMBER 30

It should be noted that vehicles may be inspected at any time prior to the allotted inspection date. To avoid delays, owners and operators are encouraged to have their vehicles inspected early.

In subsequent years, approval stickers issued for the month in which the vehicle was inspected, shall be valid until the end of that month in the next ensuing year.

INSPECTION CHECK POINTS

Motor Vehicle Safety Inspection will include the following checks:

- All Glass and Windshield
- Horn
- Windshield Wipers
- Brakes
- Steering and Suspension System
- Exhaust System
- Fuel System
- Tires and Wheels
- Lights

Fee for this inspection has been established at $2.00.

INSPECTION STATIONS

Official Inspection Stations, duly licensed by the Registrar of Motor Vehicles and located in all localities of the province, will conduct the prescribed safety inspections.

INSPECTION APPROVAL STICKER

All vehicles satisfying minimum safety requirements shall have an official APPROVAL STICKER affixed to the windshield.

REJECTION STICKER

All vehicles not satisfying minimum safety requirements will receive a REJECTION STICKER. The operator of the rejected vehicle has ten (10) days from date of rejection to have defects corrected and vehicle re-inspected.

SUSPENSION OF REGISTRATION

If the owner or operator of a rejected vehicle fails to have the defects corrected, and his vehicle re-inspected, the Registrar may suspend the registration of the vehicle.

The Nova Scotia Motor Vehicle Safety Inspection Program is designed to reduce the problem of unsafe vehicles. It has been noted, that in other areas, where motor vehicle inspection has been inaugurated, there has been a reduction of up to 80 per cent in accidents arising out of mechanical failure of vehicles.

To avoid delays—have your vehicle inspected as early as possible before the allotted inspection date.

(Mrs. John P. Outhouse)

Wishes for a speedy recovery are extended to Mrs. Norman Outhouse and Mrs. Heber Outhouse who are patients in Digby Hospital; Mrs. Edith Outhouse and Mrs. Emmerson Outhouse who are confined to their homes with flu.

Mrs. Lloyd Guier and Mrs. Larry Elliott visited friends and relatives at Mink Cove on Thursday.

Mrs. Laura Outhouse and Mrs. Emmerson Outhouse visited friends at Freeport one day this week.

School sessions were cancelled on Friday because of the heavy snow fall and blizzard conditions.

Mrs. Gladys Thurber, of Weymouth is visiting her daughter, Dorothy, Mrs. Blair Outhouse.

Retreat From Winter

While people of this part of Canada are shivering in cold winter weather, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Denton of Little River, and Mr. and Mrs. Lou Theriault of East Ferry, are spending a month in Hawaii. For them a blizzard will be just something they will read about and frost will be, for a month, a faint memory of parkas, insulated clothing and chilled (numb) fingers harvesting the frozen clothes from the outside clothesline which will probably create a cozy feeling of "being away from it all".

It is expected the trip will require five days during which time they will spend a brief time in Yarmouth, Boston and Seattle.

Mrs. Denton is the former Betty Leeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Leeman of Tiverton.

Good Attendance At H. & S.

Approximately forty-five attended the monthly meeting of Home and School, held in the auditorium of Islands Consolidated School at Freeport.

Honored On 81st Birthday

Mrs. Dalton Sollows, East Ferry, employed the use of a quilting bee to camouflage a surprise birthday party in honour of her mother, Mrs. Laura Outhouse of Tiverton, who observed her 81st birthday on Tuesday.

Mrs. Outhouse and invited guests, Mrs. Charles Thimot,

Sandy Cove

(Mrs. E. Morehouse)

Miss Heather Morehouse entertained a group of classmates on her birthday at a Bowling party in Digby. On their return they enjoyed a supper-party at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Morehouse, Miss Sharon Morehouse, who assisted her sister in entertaining the guests has since returned to her teaching duties in Dartmouth.

A successful card party was held in the Community Hall on Saturday evening. The special prize was another piece of lovely pottery made and donated by Mrs. Clarence Hayes, formerly of London, Ont.

Miss Ada Johnson entertained at a canasta party on Friday last, in honor of Miss Louise Bard. Gifts were presented, and a birthday cake was enjoyed at the refreshment hour.

Mrs. Emmerson Outhouse, Mrs. Lewis Elliott, Mrs. Nelson Prime, Mrs. Hilton Sollows, Mrs. Bernard Robbins, Miss Violet Outhouse, Mrs. Thomas E. Outhouse, all of Tiverton, Mrs. Vernon Perry of Freeport and her sister, Mrs. Wilda Frost, of Tiddville, arrived at the home of Mrs. D. Sollows early in the morning and remained until about 6 p.m.

During the afternoon, Bingo was played. Everyone received a prize. Mrs. Emmerson Outhouse was winner of the indoor prize.

Mrs. Laura Outhouse was presented with two birthday cakes, one from her daughter, Ida, Mrs. Dalton Sollows, and one from her grand-daughter, Miss Burla Sollows, of East Ferry. She was the recipient of many gifts, dress, card table, nylons, ten dollars, and others including cards and letters of congratulations.

Besides a daughter, Mrs. Outhouse has two sons, Belford and Blair, both of Tiverton. She has three grandchildren, Robert of the R.C.A.F., Hilton Sollows, of Tiverton, and Burla of East Ferry. She has two great grandchildren, Shauna Lee and Jacqueline, children of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Outhouse, and a grand-son, of her late son, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Outhouse.

Mrs. Outhouse is the widow of Allister Outhouse and resides with her son, Belford.

Freeport Native Passes In Ontario

A native of Freeport, Digby County, Dr. H. L. Harris, "Hum", of London, Ontario, died suddenly there Tuesday morning. He was 58. Dr. Harris was brought up and received his schooling in Yarmouth. He was a son of the late Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Harris, of Yarmouth.

He attended Dalhousie University and graduated from McGill.

Prior to World War II, he took up practice in Kentville and at the outbreak of war he entered the armed forces and served overseas. After the war he remained in the services and served in Vancouver, Trenton, Halifax and Ottawa.

In the mid-1950's he served as commanding officer of the 12th Dental Company in Halifax, and advisor to Eastern Command Headquarters as Command Dental Officer, and before retiring, served as deputy director of dental services (Navy) at national defence headquarters in Ottawa. At time of his death he was in charge of dental administration for the London school system.

Surviving are his wife, the former Margaret Farquharson; one son, Robert Pembroke-Ont.; one daughter, Joanne (Mrs. Charles Mann), of Amherst; and one brother, Karl Harris, Fairview.

Funeral service will be held today in London, Ont.

A cheque of $200 presented to H. Y. Porter, manager at the Digby General Hospital was the balance of a thousand dollar donation of the Deep Brook Community Club towards a sponsored room. Presenting the cheque on behalf of the club on Wednesday was the treasurer, Mrs. Harold Hirtle. Looking on at left is Fulton Stark, president of the club, and to right is F. C. Purdy, chairman of the Digby General Hospital Board.

Besides the $1,000 donation the club also donated a wheel chair to the hospital. Seen above the chair has the inscription "In memory of Mr. Cleveland Jefferson and Mr. Joseph Woods. Donated by the Deep Brook Community Club."

Two Deep Brook Hospital Projects Completed Four Years Ahead Of Schedule

That which was started early in 1966 as a 5-year project in Deep Brook has been completed within one year, and this month Digby and Annapolis hospitals have a room each, furnished by Deep Brook and area residents. Early in the venture a Community Club was organized with full slate of officers and from there a whirlwind interest developed.

Prominent was the compiling and sales of cook-books that reached Ontario, down into the New England States, with one lone book finding its way to Santo Domingo. Of the eight hundred books printed, only thirty remain on hand. In addition there were pantry sales, quilt sales, variety concerts, etc., of a local nature together with cash contributions from individuals, generous donations from the East Walpole Women's Group and the Deep Brook Neighbourly Club, all playing a part to reach an objective. As this effort becomes a reality, on completion of payments, it will be recorded as a Centennial project of this area.

Beside the room furnishings, Digby hospital was presented with a wheel-chair in memory of Joseph Wood and C. W. Jefferson; while Annapolis hospital receives a doctor's shower in memory of C. M. Nichols and Frederick E. Purdy, all four former local residents.

Find Digby Students Do Well

D. O. Snow, Ph. D. Director of Student Assistance at Acadia University announced last week that the value of University Scholarships had recently been increased from $500 to $600 per year. Mr. Snow was also announcing the Reid Scholarships.

In making the announcement to C. C. MacInnes at Digby Regional High School, Mr. Snow stated that the scholarship committee had been impressed with the number of students who came to Acadia from the Digby school and had done extremely well in their studies. Special mention was made of Misses Leanne Oickle and Doreen Atkinson, both scholarship students who continued to maintain high scholarship standings and were among the top students at Acadia.

Mr. Snow urged that students apply for scholarships and reminded Mr. MacInnes that suitable scholarship candidates should have an average of eighty per cent or higher.

A limited number of deserving students with reasonably good records, but not of scholarship calibre, may be awarded bursaries on the basis of financial need.

As previously published, four former Digby students have been on the Dean's List of outstanding students at Acadia.

Square Dancers

Approximately one hundred were at the Knight's of Columbus hall for the first meeting to organize a square dancing class in Digby. The demonstration dance was performed by the Nixon Promenaders, of Paradise. Dancers were present from Paradise to Saulnierville including the Promenaders, the Blueshoe Twirlers, Cherry Blossom Squares of Bear River and the Les Danseurs Acadians, of Meteghan.

On Thursday night last, the dancers met in the hall of the Digby Fire Department when thirty-five registered for classes. Reigh Nixon of Nictaux will be caller for the classes. Heading the venture in Digby are Mr. and Mrs. Avery Sears, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Bell and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Wilson.

Police Seek Mean Thief In Deep Brook

A mean thief or thieves entered Hirtles Garage sometime during Saturday night or early Sunday morning, after breaking a window in the rear of the garage.

The card of March of Dimes, nearly completed, was taken among other things. They took car keys, tried a car parked outside, only to find the gas tank empty.

Nearly residents flashed a light on hearing the noise and probably frightened the thieves away before other mischief was done.

Digby detachment RCMP is investigating.

Plan Community Pasture Improvements

Plans for further improvements and expansion of the Digby community pasture were discussed and decided upon at the regular meeting of the members of the Digby Cooperative Pasture Ltd., held at the Digby community mental health centre.

It was decided additional land breaking, liming, fertilizing and seeding would be carried out this spring on the nearly three hundred acre pasture. New fencing would also be erected at the pasture it was decided, and existing fences repaired and renewed. A detailed plan, outlining improvements for the five year period, was discussed by the meeting.

Reports presented showed that 51 head of cattle were pastured on the community pasture last year. In the summer of 1965, when the pasture was first acquired, only 17 head were pastured. It was stated at the meeting that, despite an unusually dry summer last year, cattle came off the pasture in extremely good shape.

Charles A. Douglas of the provincial community pasture board and Leo Cox, provincial community pasture supervisor, were present at the meeting and outlined provincial regulations regarding the community pasture program. Both complimented the Digby community pasture group on the development of the pasture in this area. Details of assistance available and the regulations concerning pasture development were discussed in detail.

The Digby community pasture, which is located at Roxville near the head of St. Mary's Bay, was acquired in July of 1965. A cooperative group, headed by Graham Saunders of Digby, with John Roope of Hillgrove as secretary-treasurer, was organized to operate the pasture. The pasture area, which is in excess of 250 acres, is held on a lease arrangement by the cooperative from the provincial department of agriculture. Financial assistance for initial improvements to the pasture is available through the provincial community pasture board. The project is a part of the MRDA program through the provincial agricultural department, and was initially undertaken after study by the agricultural sub-committee of the Digby area resources council, headed by Lloyd MacNeill of Marshalltown. William LeFort, Digby County agricultural representative, has worked closely with the pasture cooperative group throughout the development.

Join In Day Of Prayer

For the first time in the history of World Day of Prayer in Digby, women of the Roman Catholic Church joined with women of the Protestant churches for service. Owing to the stormy weather a smaller gathering than usual was present when the service was held at the Salvation Army Citadel on Friday.

Mrs. Gerald Usher, the speaker, used a comparison of Pilate, the governor of Judea, and Jesus, the Galilean, in her discourse on "And of His Kingdom there shall be no end." One, she said, was an earthly kingdom, the other a heavenly kingdom; one was a misused power, the other a power for the good of the world.

Leading parts were taken by Mrs. Raymond Lent, Mrs. J. J. Brittain, Mrs. A. J. Dillon and Mrs. Hazen Ricker. Other voices were Mrs. W. B. Christie, Mrs. Clinton MacInnes, Mrs. Fred Amers, Mrs. Charles Cook and Mrs. Dorothy Small.

Mrs. Jean Olsen, the pianist, accompanied Mrs. Hazen Ricker who rendered a vocal solo.

The offering was received by Misses Sandra Harlow and Marilyn Wilkins.

Fundy Trail Endorsed

A resolution endorsing the concept of a Fundy vacation trail has been given unanimous approval by the Maritime Provinces Board of Trade, executive council meeting in Moncton with the Maritime regional committee of the Canadian Chamber of Commerce.

L. K. Hill, executive manager of the Annapolis Valley affiliated boards of trade, said the council urged the governments of Nova Scotia and New Brunswick as well as the federal government to take immediate action to implement the trail.

The vacation trail committee plans to present a brief to premier Robichaud later this month.

Up 88 Percent In Five Years

The landed value of fish in Nova Scotia increased 88 per cent to $39,475,000 from $20,994,000 in the five years from 1960 to 1965, says the annual report of the provincial fisheries department for the year ended March 31, 1966.

The report, tabled in the Legislature, puts the market value for fish in 1965 at $93,950,000. Lobsters were the most lucrative catch with a landed value of $13,600,000, compared with $12,000,000 in 1963.

Forty-two different species were landed and nine by-products produced in 1965. The by-products were oil, livers, roes, scales, tongues, sounds and cheeks.

The report says that in 1945 the landed value of fish brought to Nova Scotia ports was only $19,000,000.

Capt. R. G. Wilkie

Fisheries Minister E. D. Haliburton, announced the appointment of Captain Raymond G. Wilkie to the newly created post of hull inspector with the provincial fisheries department.

Mr. Haliburton said the fisheries department has created the new post to meet the need for an extension service to fishing boat and vessel owners and crews.

The fisheries minister said that under the supervision of the director of fisheries training, Captain Wilkie will conduct inspections and provide practical and technical advice on the proper care, operation and maintenance of boats, vessels and equipment financed by the Fishermen's Loan Board.

Drama Club

St. Patrick's C.Y.O. in Digby, consisting of around 40 young people from ages 13-21 will present their first annual Dramatic Night '67 on March 17 and 18 in honor of St. Patrick's Day. The group is attempting to establish a drama club within the C.Y.O. and are looking forward to presenting this type of annual entertainment to the people of Digby and surrounding areas as an annual event. Dramatic Night '67 will have a variety of interesting presentations, such as two-act plays, vocal solos, ballet dances and choruses by smaller children. The show is under the direction of Miss Elizabeth Lorette and assisting her in planning is Sister Babinneau and Sister Cunliff.

Miss Lorette won the second award for the best directed play in the New Brunswick Regional Drama Festival in 1960 which was held in Moncton. She also organized a Y.M.C.A. drama club in Moncton in 1959, consisting of over 100 adults and young people.

Other members of the C.Y.O. drama club are: Advisors - Rev. Father Mills and Mrs. Victor Comeau; Scenery - Bobby Smith; Paul Connelly; Danny Doucette; Billy Nickerson; Makeup - Mary Jane Amiraull and Rita Skilford; Promoters - Jackie Connelly and Caroline Igoo; Program Advertising - Barbara Cottrac; Mary Jane Amiraull; Program Design: Danny Doucette; Publicity: Jerry VanTassel; Tickets - Dianne McLanson, Debbie Wood, Stephen Robinson and Anne Marie Saulnier; Ushers - Jerry VanTassel and David VanTassel; Fudge - Susan Amers, Linda Gray and Maureen Smith.

Province To Spend $6 Million More In Aid

The Nova Scotia government made public Tuesday its promised multi-million dollar aid package for financing municipal services. It will spend a total of $6,087,920, almost all in 1967, for provision of fire and police protection, street lighting, garbage, water and sewage facilities, and street paving.

Also included in this amount will be:

An increase in the general grant for rural municipalities; Grants in lieu of taxes on livestock and farm production machinery;

Grants in lieu of taxes on boats and gear of inshore fishermen; Additional welfare assistance;

Grants in lieu of taxes on property owned by the province;

Grants in lieu of taxes on the Nova Scotia Power Commission;

Assistance for snow removal and ice control;

Additional aid for board of prisoners;

A rebate based on income tax paid to Ottawa by Nova Scotia Light and Power.

This program is the second phase of a two-part increase in overall aid to municipalities by the Province. First phase was an injection of $7.3 million into the foundation program for public education announced by the Province in January.

Tenders Soon

Tenders for the proposed crossing of Bear River will probably be called sometime this year, Highways Minister, S. T. Pyke said in the Legislature, Tuesday.

He said the design for the causeway-type structure was still with consultants and indicated the possibility of accommodating a railway line on the crossing being considered by government and D.A.R. officials.

Mr. Pyke was questioned by Opposition House Leader, P. M. Nicholson.

The St. Anne's Collegians of Church Point downed the Digby Oil Kings, 5-3 in a W.V.H.L. Intermediate Hockey League game here last Thursday evening.

R. Vincent scored two of the goals for St. Anne's with D. St. Annand, V. L. Neault and J. M. Boudreau sharing the other three.

Oil King goals came from A. Belliveau, P. VanTassel and B. Nickerson. The Oil Kings host the Cornwallis Cougars at the Forum to-night at 8 o'clock.

Clare District Hockey

Church Point, Saulnierville Register Wins
St. Bernard Canadians defeated Saulnierville Maple Leafs, 1-0, in a Clare Bantam League match to give the Maple Leafs their first loss of the season. Maurice Doucet of the Canadians scored the only goal of the game in the first period. From then on the goaltenders blocked all pucks shot their way in what proved to be the best game of the season for the winners.

Church Point Blackhawks defeated Meteghan Bruins, 4-2, to win their second game of the year, although they have tied three games to date. Julien Comeau and Bobby Doucet scored in the first period to give Church Point a 2-0 lead. Each team scored two goals in the second period with Junior Comeau and Marcel Aymar scoring to tie up the game but Church Point came back on goals by Bobby Doucet and Julien Comeau. The third period was scoreless.

St. Bernard Nips Saulnierville In Bantam Clash

Saulnierville Juveniles defeated Meteghan Lions in the Clare Juvenile Hockey League 4-2. Meteghan took a 2-1 lead in the first period when Paul L. Deveau scored twice, while Gabriel Comeau of Saulnierville scored.

Saulnierville took the lead in the second period on goals by Alain Comeau and Alain Maillet while keeping Meteghan scoreless. In the third period Alain Maillet of Saulnierville scored the only goal to clinch the game.

Church Point downed Meteghan Flyers, Meteghan's second entry in the Juvenile loop, 7-3. Church Point led 2-1 in the first period on goals by Russell Comeau and Bobby Comeau and Paul Comeau scored for Meteghan.

Bobby Comeau scored two and Junior Gennette a single for Church Point in the second period while Yvon Pothier scored a single for Meteghan to give Church Point a 5-2 lead in the second period. Church Point added two more while Meteghan scored one in the third. Russell Comeau and Bobby Comeau were the marksmen for Church Point with one each and Julien Pothier tallied for Meteghan.

Church Point, Bruins Score Loop Victories

Meteghan Bruins defeated the league leading Saulnierville Maple Leafs, 2-0, in a Clare Bantam Hockey League match. Meteghan led 1-0 in the first period when Marcel Aymar scored and Aymar scored his second goal in the third period to clinch the game.

Church Point Blackhawks won their second straight game when they defeated St. Bernard Canadians, 4-1. Church Point marched in the lead in the first period when Bobby Doucet scored making it 1-0. There was no scoring in the second period. Church Point made it 2-0 in the third when Julien Comeau tallied, but St. Bernard came across with a single by Marcel Gaudet unassisted. Then Church Point's Bobby Doucet added two goals for a hat trick.

One more game remains to be played by each team before the playoffs.

Valle Scores 5, In Meteghan's Triumph

Meteghan defeated Church Point Falcons, 9-4, in a Western Counties Hockey League fixture. Meteghan took a 2-1 lead in the first period with Paul Boudreau of Church Point scoring the opening goal and Meteghan coming back with two by Gerald Saulnier and J. P. Vallee. In the second period Meteghan added four more while Church Point scored two. J. P. Vallee scored two and Edward Denis and E. Maillet scored singles for Meteghan, while Russell Comeau and Cecil d'Entremont scored for the Falcons. Meteghan added three in the third and the Falcons a single with J. P. Vallee coming through for two and his fifth of the game and Emery Maillet a single for Meteghan, while Bernard Comeau tallied the Falcon's goal. Belliveau Cove Thunderbirds won the game against Saulnierville, 5-4, but lost through a forfeit by using a player from another team when the game was protested by Saulnierville. The Thunderbirds took a 2-1 lead in the first period when Philip Blinn and Maurice Soucie with singles while Alain McCauley scored the lone goal for Saulnierville.

Saulnierville evened it up in the second when Bobby Gennette scored an unanswered goal. In the third period the Thunderbirds scored three while Saulnierville denied the twice twice. Desire Belliveau got two for Belliveau Cove and his teammate, George Comeau sniped one. Bobby Gennette and Melbourn Saulnier each scored singles.

Sports

by Christine Dickie

The past two weeks have featured a great deal of basketball activity. On Wednesday February 1st, the "A" girls basketball team travelled to Annapolis Royal, where they won 26-24. This placed us in the position to play Middleton on the 10th.

On Saturday, February 4th, the "B" boys tournament was held at Annapolis. The boys succeeded in placing third with one win and two losses. Bridgetown 23, Digby 13; Annapolis 20, Digby 19; Digby 23, Middleton 13.

The "A" teams and the "B" boys again played Middleton in Digby on February 10th. The "A" boys were defeated 43-20 after a fast played game. Conan Carter was top scorer with 10 points, John Black 6, Glenn Dunn 3, Greg Outhouse 1, and David Turnbull 1.

The "B" boys also played and defeated Middleton by a score of 25 to 21.

The "A" girls game was really the highlight of the evening, since it determined the Headmaster's representative. After a very exciting game, which Digby led from the beginning, the score stood at 29-19 for Digby. High scorer was Linda Lewis who made 10 points, Vanya Turnbull 9, Chris Dickie 9, and Cathy Raymond 1. Other team members were Johanna Outhouse, Tanja Robicheau, Shirley Melanson, and Laura Daley. The "A" girls now advance into Headmasters play and will play off against the eastern end of the province.

Digby was the scene of the "B" girls tournament held on Saturday, the 11th of Feb. The team, consisting of Shirley Melanson (captain), Barbara Black, Lee Hall, Marie Hawkins, Julie Winer, Dianne Coteau, Laura Daley and Janice Raymond placed third, although the scores were fairly close.

Digby 12, Annapolis 16; high scorer for Digby was Barbara Black, 4 points. Laura Daley 2, Shirley Melanson 2, Dianne Coteau 2, and Janice Raymond 2.

Digby 15, Bridgetown 20; high scorers were Laura Daley with 9 points, Barbara Black 3, Lee Hall 1, and Dianne Coteau 2.

Palmeter Cup Play In Digby

With His Worship Mayor, C. D. Snow throwing the first stone, the play for the Palmeter Cup got underway in the Digby Curling Rink on Wednesday, at precisely nine o'clock in the morning. At his report it was expected the play would not terminate until the wee hours of the morning.

Before going to the lanes, His Worship extended a welcome to the visiting teams over a cup of coffee provided by the hostess club. Eight teams, thirty-two women in all are participating in the play. They are included in teams from Windsor, Greenwood, Bridgetown, Kentville, Wolfville, Cornwallis, Berwick and Digby. Middleton Women's Curling Club is not represented.

Playing on the Digby team are Fern Webber, skip, Mary Porter, mate; Jean Turnbull, second; and Sandra Plomp, lead. President of Digby Women's Curling Club is Kiki Nichols. Chairman for the bonspiel is Mrs. Kelsey Raymond Smith's Cove, and convener of food, Mrs. E. D. Lewis. Sandra Plomp looked after decorations. The hostess team was assisted by members of the Digby men's club of which Hy-mie Webber is president.

A luncheon at noon and a dinner at night was provided by the hostess club.

It has been nearly ten years since a Digby Club entertained for the Palmeter Cup.

Mayflower Rink Wins N. S. Crown

By Robert Dakin

A team skipped by Ron Franklin won the Nova Scotia Curling Championships when they defeated Greenwood by a score of 6-5 after losing the first game 7-6. The Franklin rink now goes on to represent Nova Scotia in the Canadian Curling Championship, to be held in Ottawa. This team went through the four day bonspiel with six wins and only one defeat.

The members of the winning team are Ron Franklin, skip; Peter Corkum, mate; Don Oyster, second; and John Hawkins, lead.

John Hawkins is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Hawkins. He started curling when he attended the Digby Regional High School. He is now employed with the Maritime Tel. and Telephone Company, Halifax.

Assists At Quilting

Several of the ladies of this area assisted Mrs. George Cosman at a "quilting" held at her home on Thursday.

PRESENT FOR PRESIDENT — When Donald Gordon, chairman and president of Canadian National, visited the Atlantic provinces for a farewell tour prior to his retirement at the end of the year, local CN officers greeted him with an appropriate gift. They gave him a 12 foot aluminum boat, complete with outboard motor and yellow "down east" oilskins. In handing over the gifts, Ernest J. Cooke, Atlantic region vice-president, said that the boat would remind the president of the extensive marine operations carried out by CN in the Atlantic provinces. Here Mr. Gordon tries out his new boat with obvious enjoyment while Mr. Cooke looks on. Mr. Gordon, a keen fisherman, is building a lakeside home in Quebec for his retirement.

My Visit To Newspaper Plant

By Charles Pitt Jr.
Reported for Blue Star in Cans.

On Monday, January 29, 1967, I visited the Digby Courier office. The people there, who are around the place, were very nice to me and each man showed me how to operate his machine. I found it interesting to see how they got the end of the old newspaper by dropping them into a hole in the floor and into a box which is emptied into a furnace and melted down for reuse. I also noticed that each man kept his work area clean and clear of any object that might cause an accident.

Anglicans Elect Officers

The annual meeting of the parish of Clements, held at the parish hall, Deep Brook, Monday evening, was preceded by a congregational potluck supper. The business meeting was chaired by the rector, Rev. A. F. Sheward, who covered the work of the past year and proposed ideas for the centennial year. Satisfactory financial reports were heard from all parts of the parish which comprises churches at sea, River, Smiths Cove, Deep Brook and Clements.

Routine business was handled and officers elected for 1967 are: Parish Wardens: Eric Williams and Harold Purdy; Church Wardens: H. A. Purdy, Leonard Purdy, Deep Brook; John Salmon, Glen Merritt, Clements; Edward Hughes, Aton Daries, Bear River; Heinrich Mangels and Ralph Cossitt, Smiths Cove; Church Treasurers: H. Purdy, R. Potts, R. Mervin, Mrs. M. Gott.

Vestry: W. H. Spurr, I. Purdy, H. H. Vroom, H. Manley, E. Thomas, Capt. J. I. MacPherson, R. Potts, J. Salmon, G. Merritt, E. Hughes, A. Daries, R. Mervin. Vestry Clerk: W. H. Spurr. Parish Treasurer: Leonard Purdy. Diocesan Times Convener: Mrs. W. H. Spurr. Synod Delegates: H. Purdy, J. Curry. Alternates: I. Purdy, S. Pitman. Parish Auditor: Robert Potts.

Bishop R. H. Waterman, rector and now of this parish, expressed thanks for the sums of money from the various guilds towards the Bishop Waterman King's Bursary Fund founded since the retirement of His Lordship three years ago.

Westport Son Retires In Lunenburg

After a 41 year association with the Lunenburg school system as principal, Donald Collins is retiring in June. Born at Westport, Brier Island, Mr. Collins lived in several towns including Yarmouth, Oxford and Digby, where he attended high school. His father, Ernest H., was an insurance agent with the Metropolitan Life Insurance Co. in Digby. His grandfather, John C. Collins, died in his middle fifties, relative young but owned two small schooners, a fish plant at Westport and two general stores at Sandy Cove and Little River.

In 1920 Collins entered Acadia University and graduated in 1924 with a B.A. At that time the province was hit by a shortage of teachers and the department offered a six weeks summer course at Teacher's College. Mr. Collins took this and later taught in Cape Breton.

He married the former Marguerite Patterson, of Glace Bay. Mr. and Mrs. Collins have three children and nine grandchildren. Joan is married to Gordon MacDonald, who works with Industrial Acceptance Corporation at Newcastle, New Brunswick. Eric has been teaching six years in the science department at Westmount High School, Montreal. David, the youngest, works with the education office, Municipality of Lunenburg.

Kingsley Collins, Digby, is a brother of Mr. Collins. Mr. Collins spent a couple of days in Digby last summer with a golfing team from Lunenburg Academy. He remarked at that time on the changes in Digby since his boyhood days.

Writes From Vancouver

When looking at the mountainous piles of snow here in Digby this week we will reflect with envy on the visit of Mrs. Wilham Henshaw, Deep Brook, to that other mountainous province, British Columbia. A letter from Mrs. Henshaw, mailed in Vancouver, relates about the green lawns like green velvet carpets, and about the flowering shrubs. The Centennial train was also there and Mrs. Henshaw offered to write to us about it.

Study Group Reorganized

The study group in St. Peter's Parish have reorganized for the winter months, using this year the study book, "The Principles of Union", by Dr. D. C. Chalmers. The course will be a combined one, with members of the United Church Congregation. At the initial meeting about 15 people were present. Meetings will be held at the Rectory, and are open to anyone interested.

Conference Of 4-H Leaders

4-H leaders and junior leaders from Yarmouth, Digby and Annapolis counties were addressed by Victor Cardoza, Digby, Mr. Cardoza speaking at a 4-H conference in Weymouth, offered suggestions for developing better citizens of tomorrow from today's rural youth. He felt that the 4-H forestry projects could greatly aid in conserving our forests in the future. The training received in other projects will also prove valuable as these young men and women seek their places in our nation.

A panel led the discussion on the subject "What About the Rural Non 4-H Teens?"

The 4-H program stresses the development of leadership skills, better citizenship and higher ideals in the rural community but many people think of a 4-H club as a "cow club" or a "sewing club".

Calf projects, sewing projects or any of the many other items available are only some of the means by which the individual develops his head, to clearer thinking; his heart to greater loyalty; his hands to larger service and his health to better living for his club, community and country.

It was felt that the leaders and members should stress this 4-H image so as to involve more rural young people in the 4-H program.

Fred Fiske, 4-H leader in Lawrencetown, Susie Swinmer, Home Economist, Yarmouth and Lorna Sweeney, 4-H junior leader from Chignecto, participated in the panel.

Wood and daughters, Miriam and Juanita sang a trio. Mrs. Frank Lewis was organist. In spite of the inclemency of the weather, the congregation was fairly large and St. Peter's G. A. attended in a body. Mrs. Russell Cosman and Mrs. Glidden Lewis were ushers.

Weymouth Tax Rate Held At 30 Cents

Sherman Prime, who has served part of a term as a Commissioner for the Village of Weymouth, was re-elected for a full three year term at the annual meeting of the ratepayers held in the Fire Hall and chaired by Dr. J. E. Comeau.

The balance sheets and year end statements were presented by the clerk, C. W. Mullen. Due to grants received from the volunteer firemen and other protected areas, the ratepayers Dept., showed a small surplus of $379.91, and, as no major expenditures are anticipated for the coming year, the tax rate was held at 30 cents per $100.00 of assessment.

A report on the electrical department showed an excess in revenue over expenditures of $2,581.28. The major capital expense during the year was the purchase and installation of ten more mercury vapor lights. The replacement of the remaining street lights with these modern lights is expected to be completed within the next few months.

It was decided to observe Easter Monday and Boxing Day as civic holidays and to hold Daylight Saving time for a period to correspond with neighbouring towns.

The Chairman extended his thanks to the members of the Volunteer Fire Department and to the Clerk.

Auditors appointed were Wilfred Cosman, Ralph Cosman and P. V. Charlton.

Donna Thibodeau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thibodeau is back at school again after a few days illness. She was a patient at the Yarmouth Hospital.

Larry Lewis, left for Newfoundland last week, where he is employed.

Drive Carefully

"Well, that's over for another year," Glennie said, as she unpinched her delegate's tag from her dress. "How did you find it?"

The car slid uncertainly around another icy turn on the highway. I guided it gently away from another man-high wall of snow, similar to the one from which we had just been extricated.

"I don't know," I told her, when I could give some thought to the convention we had just attended. "There is something appalling, or frightening, or something about ... Bunches of women," Glennie interrupted me. "I know. I feel the same way."

I was a bit surprised that she had reflected my line of thought so accurately. I am sort of used to statements similar to mine being made by women in my own age group. To us, and perhaps to women younger than we are, the statement has a sort of snob value. Somehow, we feel ourselves a trifle superior to the average woman if we can declare that we prefer the company of men. Glennie belongs to a generation before mine, a generation during which, I somehow had the idea that women liked women. She is one of those pillars of the church, leader of the community, active in organizations type of woman who I thought liked women in bunches.

We are an enigmatic group, aren't we, our half of the human race. Men find it amusing to say they cannot understand us. We cannot understand ourselves or each other. We declare that we want to use our talents, to be treated as people first and women second. We are delighted to have Ann Francis head a Royal Commission into the status of us. We may discover inequalities we did not know about. We may discover who we are.

We say we hate groups of women, but we cannot resist forming and joining such groups. When they are formed, or joined, we regard the women who dare say outside with a sort of pity, and self-righteously say that it is always the same few who come out to work. In groups, we push, bombard, claw, and shove our way to our goals. We boss, nag, organize, more, I am sure, and with greater efficiency, than men ever do, and to our own surprise, these tactics produce some pretty effective results.

When we are not ample bosomed, well-girdled club women, sailing like full rigged ships into some project, we either cannot, or pretend we cannot, organize a family picnic. This delights the male half of the human race. Together they and we happily perpetuate the myth that we are unorganized. We cluck our tongues about women who become mayors of cities, or truck drivers, or who go on private peace missions to Viet Nam, and call them unfeminine. Then, we, and the Canadian government, and Ann Francis, hold an enquiry to see why so few of us hold executive positions.

We are more durable than men, live longer than men, and are less susceptible to disease than men are. Because we are less powerful than men are, we accept it as our right to be taken care of. There are fewer gifted people among us than among the male population, fewer geniuses, and fewer idiots. Our thinking tends to be not very adventurous or original. We start our school lives in girl-oriented schools where original thinking and probing questioning are frowned upon, and where neat coloring is praised, and we do better than our brothers in this environment. Some time in high school, our brothers meet some good male teachers, and discover that there is something to this school stuff after all. More of them go to university than we do.

Physically, and perhaps emotionally, we mature before boys do. In our teens and twenties, most of us concentrate on the one thing which we think will separate the failures from the successful women — marriage. We become nurses, or shop clerks or architects, but few of us are such dedicated career women that we do not think of these professions, perhaps a little secretly, as stop-gaps until the real thing comes along. Yet, this universal ambition is the one about which we can do nothing ourselves. We might drop hints, and wear the right perfume, and know Bobby Hull's scoring record, but in our society, the man makes the decision.

By the time we are thirty, most of us are married. We matured earlier, perhaps, but suddenly we realize that our husbands have been grown up and responsible citizens, taking care of us and our children, for about twelve years. They are budding politicians, or union organizers, song writers or master plumbers, and we realize, with a shock, that we have, not grown or altered in our minds or attitudes since the day we got married. We are years beyond the stop gap. Now, twelve or fifteen years behind our husbands, we have to begin to be us.

So we join women's organizations. We hate these bunches of overbearing women, because when they are in that big group, they might overcome us, and take away our precious, late found, sense of selfness. We love the organizations because we have to accomplish something in a hurry. When that pushing, shoving, nagging, organizing bunch of femaleness under full sail gets a new school for ... retarded children," Glennie was continuing. My mind must have been occupied with my own thoughts for a while, I had not been paying attention to her. "Or a library, or a symphony orchestra, it always makes me proud to have been part of it."

I inched the car around another icy turn. "We get things done," I said.

W.M.S. Meets

The February meeting of the Smith's Cove Baptist W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Vera Langman.

The opening exercises and circle of prayer were conducted by Mrs. MacWilliam.

The program was on "Bolivia" and this was taken by Miss Kit Weir with an interesting talk and using a map.

Mrs. MacWilliam had the Spiritual Life program, aided by some members with Bible references.

Ratepayers Decide On School Question

A ratepayers meeting was held in the school house on Monday when residents of Westport gathered to settle matters pertaining to school problems at Westport and Freeport, where pupils from Grade IX attend.

Mr. Raymond Robicheau was chairman of the meeting and Mrs. Stanley Moore Secretary. Mr. MacBeth, Supervisor of the Islands Schools, was present to answer some of the questions that were asked.

Mason Wamboldt and Mrs. Wilson Reece.

Mrs. F. Long gave a meditation on the Kingdom. The message on the World Theme, "And of His Kingdom there shall be no end," was ably presented by Mrs. M. Wheelhouse, President of the Clementsvalle W.M.S.

The offering was for the extension of His Kingdom in other parts of the world.

World Day Of Prayer

The Women's World Day of Prayer was observed in the Clementsvalle Baptist Church on Friday afternoon, February 10. The order of service, published by the Women's Interchurch Council of Canada, was used.

Leadership roles were taken by Mrs. Marshall Wheelhouse, Mrs. William Duffett, Mrs. Donald Baird and Mrs. Frances Long. Others taking part were Mrs. Borden Sanford, Mrs. Arthur Jefferson, Mrs.

C.W.F. Monthly Meeting

The Christian Women's Fellowship of the Westport Church of Christ met in the church vestry for their February meeting and it was decided to meet there for further meetings.

Minutes of previous meeting were read and roll called. With all present responding with a verse of scripture containing the word "heart". A letter was read from Miss Alice Porter, who, on behalf of Vimla La, thanked the society for the gift sent at Christmas. A Valentine game was then played when each member took a half valentine and matched it with someone else. When they were matched a portion of scripture was to be looked up in the Bible, and each portion contained the word "Heart".

Bible study with Mrs. Stanley Moore was from the new book and there was a discussion on the writings of Paul in the book of Acts and in the book of Galatians.

The Mission Study director presented an interesting program on "Let Us Now Praise Famous Men", dealing with the Disciples of Canada. These were people who were active in church work and some who went to the mission field. Those learned of during the evening were Archibald McLean, who was born in P. E. I. Baptists Hold Annual Meet Lie. Dana Miller was chairman on Wednesday evening when the Westport United Baptist Church met in their annual business meeting. The Treasurer's report showed a substantial increase.

Officers were as follows: Clerk - Mrs. Albert Bailey; Asst. Clerk - Miss Myrna Garon; Treasurer - Mrs. Earl Webber; Financial Secretary - Mrs. Lawrence Shaw.

Great effort with reward of accomplishment was made by the church trustees to renovate the church hall and parsonage.

The new pastor, Lie. Dana Miller, and Mrs. Miller, came to the pastorate in June, 1966, and the work under their leadership progressed steadily. Previous to the Millers' arrival the Rev. Mr. Petchey was minister and much good seed was sown by this dedicated man of God.

The Women's Missionary Society has grown in number and also showed increase financially over the previous year. Mission Band re-opened in the fall with good attendance. The Willing Workers completed a good year and was able to give support financially to the work on the parsonage. Renovation on the church was made by volunteers among the men of the church. The Sunday School was well attended, with no shortage of teachers.

Following the business session a social hour was enjoyed, with the ladies providing refreshments. A time of hymn singing was also enjoyed, with Mrs. Richard Welch at the piano.

W.M.S. Meets

The Women's Missionary Society of the Westport United Baptist Church met for their February meeting at the home of the president, Mrs. Lawrence Shaw. The hymn, "Wonderful Words of Life", opened the meeting, followed by scripture found in 1st John, chapter 1.

Mrs. Loran Swift gave the devotional lesson, using the theme "Covenant of the Rainbow". The roll was responded to with scripture portion containing the message of "Word".

New business called for motion to send food parcel to Rev. and Mrs. Hahn, Kinnada, India. Plans were finalized to pack the parcel at the March meeting.

Miss Luie Repool gave the Spiritual Life lesson and a reading was given by Mrs. Albert Bailey and her program subject was "Why Am I Interested In Missions."

The meeting was closed by singing the hymn "Open My Eyes That I May See" and the repeating of the Covenant and the Mizpah benediction.

Westport

Miss Hazel Amberman has returned to Fredericton, N. B., after spending two months with Mrs. Guy Thompson.

A number of ladies have been entertaining at quilting parties.

Westport, along with the rest of the province, has been in the grip of a cold snap, definitely the worst this winter, with the thermometer going down below zero. The cold, along with the strong winds, made it quite uncomfortable to be out of doors.

Linda Titus returned home Saturday from the Digby Hospital where she has been a patient for the past two months due to an accident.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Specht and son, Timmy, of Digby, spent Sunday with the latter's aunt, Mrs. Francis Lent, and Mr. Lent.

hostesses with Mrs. Shaw in preparing refreshments for the social hour following the meeting.

Philathea Class Holds Meeting

The February meeting of the Philathea Class was held at the home of Mrs. Sally Rice with fourteen present.

The devotional theme was "Love", in keeping with St. Valentine's Day. Hymns were sung and poems read. Each one received valentines, games were played and films were much enjoyed.

A miscellaneous auction is planned for next month's meeting.

Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

68th Anniversary Of Fire That Destroyed Most Of Digby's Main Business Section

The people of Digby who retired to their beds on Monday evening, February 13th, 1899, during one of the worst north-east gales and blinding snowstorms they ever had, little dreamed that within a few minutes they would be called out to fight the worst fire that ever visited our town.

The following account of the disaster was gathered almost entirely from the accounts as written by a reporter or reporters of the Courier at that time. The publisher was Mary McCormick, daughter of the founder and the manager was O. S. Dunham who was later Editor and Manager of the Courier, and who moved to Bridgetown in 1917.

"Fire was discovered in the basement of G. I. Letteney and Brothers store on Water St., about 9:45 p.m. Two snow-bound D.A.R. trains were across the track at Sydney St., entirely blocking the route to the fire. As soon as possible the train was backed up and the hose reel proceeded to the nearest hydrant and a stream was turned on the burning building, but it was soon realized that the entire northern portion of the town was in danger owing to the heavy northwest gale that was blowing and that seemed to be constantly increasing in force.

The flames and sparks from Letteney's immediately ignited the Saunders building occupied by Guphil & Young, general merchants, on one side and the building occupied by Louis Komiesky, drygoods, on the other.

"In the meantime the flames had crossed the street and caught the Wilson block containing S. M. Wilson's fruit and confectionary store and R. G. Munroe's law office.

"The flames then spread both ways on both sides of the street, but the building to the south and the ones on 1st Avenue were considered to be the most in danger of being caught by the flying embers, including the D.A.R. station. A train of freight cars sidetracked in front of the building were in immediate danger, but were miraculously saved from the flames. The railway station was surrounded by sparks and was so hot that the telegraph operator had to leave the building. However, after the fire had been checked from spreading northwardly, the operator again returned to his post, and shortly afterward the building was considered out of danger, having escaped with slight damage.

"Things at this time, however, were not so promising on Water Street and it was still thought by many that we would lose the entire business portion of the town.

"The cold was intense and many of the citizens, as well as the firemen, were covered with ice.

"Goods of all kinds were being carried into the streets by the people and being rapidly covered by snow drifts. Most of the goods were already damaged.

"Communication between the northern and southern boundaries of the fire was cut off except via Queen Street which at times seemed almost impassible.

"The next to go was the small vacant building formerly occupied by Frank Jones, a law office. The next and last on the north end of the east side of Water Street to burn was the premises of Capt. J. Dillon. The building contained Dillon's Grocery and the upper story was occupied by Capt. Dillon and his family. This building was also destroyed with nearly its entire contents.

"On the other side of the street that was burning, worse and the fire had now reached Mrs. McMillen's general provision store having burned everything on the west side of the street north of Letteney's, including a small building owned by Miss Marie McCormick and occupied by Miss George Braman as a bakery. On H. Warner's large confectionary store, known as the Bapin, the building was owned by E. Bolen of Amherst, the millinery establishment of Miss Jane Wright with its entire contents, the large building belonging to the estate of E. E. Nichol, containing law offices of Jones and Nichols, H. L. Dennison and the Sheriff's office, also Edmund Jenner, apothecary known as the New Drug Store and containing a large assortment of drugs and medicines. Part of this stock was saved from the flames.

"During the time the flames were still spreading in a southerly direction up Water Street.

"On the east side of the street the next to burn was the two-story wooden building owned by George Bishop and occupied by Jos. A. McNeill as a tailoring establishment on the lower floor and George Trohman's Tonsorial rooms were in the upper part of the building. This building was totally destroyed and the contents were saved.

"The next to go was the Burnham block, generally known as the Brick Grocery, occupied by E. E. Burnham, containing a large stock of groceries, G. I. Letteney, the first building to burn, also had a large stock of furniture stored in the upper part of the Burnham block. This was the most valuable building to burn and the only brick building in the business part of the town.

"The next was the Turnbull block containing the Post Office and grocery establishment of E. Turnbull. Building and part of the contents were a total loss.

"The next and last building on the east side of Water St. to burn was the building owned by Henry Titus and occupied by Mrs. B. Morse, who carried on a stationery and fancy store for T. S. Patilla Company, Truro, and occupied the upper story as a dwelling. This building was also totally destroyed and but a small portion of the contents saved.

"On the west side of the street the fire had meanwhile been devouring a large amount of property including the buildings owned by John Post of Broad Cove and occupied by Capt. Fred Robinson, who since the loss of the tug Clipper had gone into the restaurant business and had kept on larging until he was now well prepared to cater to the public. They lost everything.

"The next to burn was C. A. Young's fruit and confectionery store with its entire contents. Mr. Young was in Boston.

"The next was the new jewelry store built less than two years ago by E. E. Feltus, Launceston, and occupied by C. A. Lindstrom. The upper part of the building contained Dr. Morgan's dental rooms. Mr. Lindstrom lost a valuable stock of jewelry, books and stationery. He was in East Ferry at the time of the fire and knew nothing of the fire for several hours after the building was ashes.

"The next to suffer with the flames was the small building owned and occupied by John Russell as a harness shop and Edward Young, a shoemaker. This building along with the contents was soon among the lost.

"About this time the Waverly House, owned by Miss Forsythe and Mrs. Jos. Merritt, and occupied by Miss Woodman was discovered to be on fire, having caught from the flying embers. The guests had barely time to save their effects and Miss Woodman lost nearly all her furniture.

"It was now discovered that we must lose the large Shreve block (formerly the Oakes building), containing the large and well furnished law office of T. C. Shreve, the Mayor of the town, also the town clerk's office, as well as the Digby Boot and Shoe Store, occupied by the proprietor H. B. Short. Part of the contents of this building were saved from the flames.

"By this time it looked as though we would certainly lose the entire business portion of the town, but the vacant lot on the east side of the street greatly assisted the firemen whose attention could now be almost entirely turned to the west side. From the Shreve block the sparks were blowing up the hill and at one time the Digby House and other buildings were threatened.

"From the Shreve block the fire leaped to Mrs. Louise Bacon's store and residence which was soon wrapped in flames and burned to the ground.

"The firemen and citizens who had already worked constantly and faithfully seemed just here to put forth an extra effort, and for the first time, during the night, seemed to be getting the fire under control. A stream was turned on Oakes Fruit store and with extra efforts that building was saved.

"The fire now turned its course in a north-westerly direction and after burning a small building in Mrs. Bacon's yard crossed First Avenue and caught in the roof of Messrs. Keen & Hutchinson's carriage and undertaking shop. Nearly all the contents were removed from this shop about midnight and were carried to places of safety. It was now generally known that the large stables of the estate of George Starling & Son would be the next to suffer. The building was soon on fire, and burned very rapidly. It seemed almost useless to put water on this building after the fire had got control of it and a stream was then turned on the buildings on the south side of Sydney Street, which were in danger, including the residence of Frank A. Braman.

"The wind seemed to baffle and the sparks were going up the hill between Mr. Braman's house and the Digby House, owned by Capt. Jos. Wright. These gentlemen's furniture was all packed up, but we are pleased to state their buildings escaped with slight injuries.

"While the latter buildings were burning, a stream was still on Oakes building and the corner double tenement building owned by the estate of E. B. Nichol, and occupied by the Jamieson's and R. A. Monroe. The furniture had been removed from this building, but was almost entirely destroyed by the snow, water and ice having to remain so long in the street during the severe storm. Although this building was saved it was almost entirely ruined by water.

Digby Man Gives Life In Rescue Attempt At Sea

FEBRUARY 23, 1877 —

A lost language is the speech and descriptive phrases of seafaring men of sailing vessel days. Except in the memory of our older folk the meaning of the words are lost. The following story of a rescue at sea, taken from the Courier files of February 23rd, 1877, is a case in point.

"Gallant Rescue. Captain Sheehan, master of the Barque 'Assacuradeur' thus reports the rescue of himself and crew by a Nova Scotia vessel. The 'Assacuradeur' was on voyage from St. John to Queenstown, and on the 7th of January after enduring great hardship, they were about to abandon the vessel and take their chances in the boats, when a sail hove in sight. Captain Sheehan says: 'She proved to be the 'Alpheus Marshall', of Digby, N. S. Capt. Parker, from New York for Bremerhaven. He asked what we wanted and we asked him to take us off. He said he would do so and in a short time a boat came alongside us with the mate in charge. He took eight of our men safely on board the 'Alpheus Marshall'. The mate, finding himself unable from the great exertion he made in managing the boat excused himself from coming again, as he felt unwell, but immediately the second mate, a fine young fellow named Franklin Marshall, of Digby, jumped in, and had got half way when a tremendous sea broke, the boat upset, and the five men were seen dining to the bottom of the boat. Captain Parker was round at once and reached to wards them, and when he was close to the wreck the boat was nearly a mile to the windward. She had nothing on but lower maintop-sail.

They at once put foretop sail and foresail and some storm staysails on her. He gave her all she could possibly suffer, as it was blowing a mad gale. After remaining an hour on that reach he again wore ship, hoping to reach them or keep them in sight. By the time she was close to the wind on the other tack she lost a great deal of ground. The boat long before this, was out of sight, and the 'Alpheus Marshall' instead of holding her own was losing fast. The captain, seeing there was not the slightest chance of reaching them and darkness coming on, was forced to give her up. Before dark he came down on us and said he would stay by us till the weather moderated. The next morning, January 8th, weather more moderate, captain Parker again came down on us. We launched our boat and eight of us went aboard the 'Alpheus Marshall'. Nothing could exceed the welcome and kindness with which we were received by Capt. Parker and his mate and during the remainder of the passage to Bremerhaven he spoke very highly of brave Marshall as being a fine, brave and fearless young fellow. May God reward him and his companions as they deserve."

New Vacation Formula

ST. TROPEZ — To the "cine de l'air" who reside between a sea and a sky and who, in the air, find their life, Air France this year offers a 100 formulae of entertainment and a 3-day stay in Paris, a 2-day stay in St. Tropez and a 3-day stay in the Riviera and an evening work on the modelling of the body.

Leading the work on the Mediterranean, venturers have a chance of a shore leave in Jost, the last of the area's popular beaches on the west coast, a "vacation village" with facilities for sunbathers, including a swimming pool, beach, tennis courts, and a restaurant. At Restaque, lodging is in comfortable canvas-covered structures, each equipped with electricity. Each "bungalow" has

The first village reached by Air Force 155, Despacito, is located on a large cove just four miles from San Trapez. Most of the village is the Club Hotel, an ultra-modern building set on the edge of a large swimming pool and holding a vast dining room and bar and a sun deck. The bar and the sun deck are free for everyone, at all times, every day.

CHEERS FOR FISH CHOWDER

A piping hot fish chowder is a fine dish to sit down to on a chill' blustery day. It warms one to the toes and satisfies the most ravenous appetites.

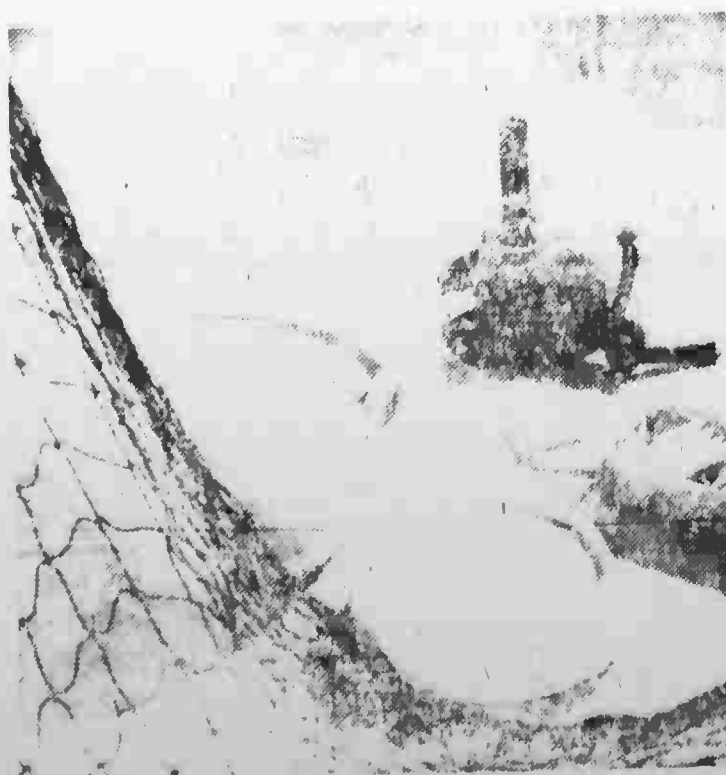

Fish chowder may be served either as the hub of a meal, or as an entree. When served as a main course dish, generous helpings (10 ounces or more) are allowed for each person and are accompanied by crackers or crusty rolls, also a salad if desired. A simple dessert and beverage can complete the meal.

Almost any variety of fish fillet is suitable for making chowder. Either fresh or frozen fillets may be used, although if using frozen fillets, they should be slightly thawed to permit cutting. Depending on your choice of ingredients, fish chowder can be an economical or festive dish.

Bluenose Fish Chowder

1 pound fish fillets	2 teaspoons salt
2 tablespoons butter	1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 cup chopped onion	1/4 teaspoon monosodium glutamate
2 cups diced potatoes	Pinch sugar
3 cups boiling water	1 cup evaporated milk

*Thaw fillets slightly, if frozen. Cut into 2 inch pieces.

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Annie McG. Knowlton

Mrs. Annie McGivern Knowlton, wife of Major C. D. Knowlton, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. E. A. Flewelling, 813, Anderson Drive, Lancaster, N. B., following a lengthy illness.

Born in St. John, a daughter of the late James S. and Maria E. (Sydney) McGivern, she spent her early life in that city. She moved to Plympton about 35 years ago, and later went to Kentville, where Major Knowlton was with the National Employment Service. They returned to Plympton several years ago upon his retirement, and for the past three months lived in Saint John.

Mrs. Knowlton was a member of St. Peter's Anglican Church, Weymouth, and took an active part in the church activities until failing health set in.

She is survived by her husband, who is making his home with his daughter, Mrs. Flewelling; one son, F. J. G. Knowlton, Moncton, and one daughter, Mrs. Flewelling; three grandchildren, several nephews and nieces.

The funeral was held from Brennan's funeral home, Interment was at Fernhill Cemetery.

Mrs. Knowlton will be greatly missed in this community where she had many friends.

Mrs. James' Duff

Mrs. Anna Duff, 78, widow of James Duff, died at Wolfville on Saturday, February 4th. She was born in Scotland.

Following school, she married and they moved to Avonport, where they resided until her husband's death in 1921. She then moved to Sandy Cove for 12 years, later returning to the Valley area. She lived in Wolfville the past three years and was a member of St. John's Anglican Church, Wolfville.

Her body rested at the H. C. Lindsay funeral home, Wolfville. St. John's Church service was held on Wednesday, February 8th, at 2 p.m. Rev. Austin Munroe officiated. Interment was in Willow Bank Cemetery, Wolfville.

Gladys M. Harris

The sudden passing of Gladys M. Harris, 1 Newport Road, Cambridge, Mass., occurred on Friday January 6, 1967.

She was born at Brighton, Digby Co., N. S., daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Edward Tobin Harris.

Surviving sisters are Mrs. Wynna H. MacDonald; Ruby N. Harris of Cambridge, Mass.; Mrs. Grace B. Main, of York, Maine; and Mrs. Jessie C. Ryan, of Toledo, Ohio. Also brother-in-law, Albert D. Cain, of Sand Beach, Yarmouth.

Five sisters, Mary, Maude, Gertrude, Euella (Mrs. J. Vian Andrews), Hazel, and a brother, Byron predeceased her.

She was a member of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Boston, Mass.

The service was held in Waterman's Funeral Service

Chapel, Commonwealth Ave., Boston, Mass. The interment was in Mt. Auburn Cemetery, Cambridge.

Mrs. Margaret L. Whynot
The death occurred at Queens General Hospital, Jan. 6th, 1967 of Margaret Louise Whynot, age 53, of Liverpool.

She is survived by her husband Mark, five daughters, Mildred of the late Roger Croft; Grace (Mrs. Douglas Roberts); Marjorie (Mrs. Kingsley Small) East Perry, Digby Co.; Anna (Mrs. John Leaman); Kattie (Mrs. Gary Leavey); five sons, Allen, Sydney, John, David and Lyman, twenty-eight grandchildren, one great grandchild; two sisters, Daisy (Mrs. Daniel Whynot); Emma (Mrs. Parker Whynot); two brothers, Raymond and Bruce.

The funeral service was held from the Trinity Anglican Church on January 9th at 2 p.m., conducted by Rev. E. L. Parsons. Floral tributes were many. Pallbearers were four sons, Allen, Sydney, John and David Whynot.

MODEL FERRY FLEET — These vessels may be landlocked or confined to duck-pond cruises, but they are almost perfect copies of their big sisters — three of Canadian National's ferries linking Prince Edward Island and the mainland. Arthur Jay of Borden, P. E. I., boatswain on the ferry Confederation, combined skill, patience and three months of spare time to construct each of these scale models. Using copies of actual ship's plans, Mr. Jay shaped the Confederation (top), and Prince Edward Island (centre) and the Abegweit out of pine and plywood to a scale of one-eighth of an inch to the foot. They are faithful replicas in almost every detail, from the stylish CN on the funnels to the port-holes he made from the eyelets of old shoes. Mr. Jay, who joined CN's Northumberland ferry service in 1942, now plans to build a model of the new ferry, John Hamilton Gray, when it enters service.

90 Years Back

FROM EARLY FILES OF THE DIGBY COURIER

February 16, 1877

One of the oldest legal problems now decided in England. Circumstances were these: A meeting duly called of shareholders in a certain company. On the day and hour set one shareholder only attended. He voted himself into the chair and passed several resolutions including one levying an assessment of four shillings and six pence on each share, and after a vote of thanks to the chairman he adjourned. The assessment was contested and action brought against the punctual shareholder for the amount. Judges concurred in the opinion that as there was no provisions in the bylaws respecting a quorum the resolutions were valid. The case was carried up on appeal, the decision was reversed on the ground that "one man cannot meet".

Weekly Newspapers and their towns in the Valley were: Annapolis, "Farmer" and "Journal"; Bridgetown, "Monitor"; Kentville, "Chronicle".

A cobbler reports having made a pair of outsize boots for a man. The size, 17 3/4" long and 6" wide. A special "last" had to be made.

Bad flood in England. Midlands under water. River Isis, near London, so changed its boundaries that varsity sculling teams are boating over the hedges and trees in the classic fields of Oxford.

Sea Serpent. Captain George Drevor, barque "Pauline", appeared before a magistrate in Liverpool, England, and asked that his worship should receive an affidavit signed by himself, his officers and part of his crew as to their having seen a great sea serpent. It followed the ship for miles, sporting on the surface. The magistrate accepted the affidavit and completed it.

"An item clipped from the Annapolis "Journal" says a little girl on her sixth birthday completed a quilt composed of 3,146 pieces and is now busy on a second, though not yet seven. The little worker's name is Vienna Spicer, daughter of William and Mary Spicer, Bear River.

Centreville. The following have dwelling houses in course of construction here, or intend to build in the spring: Capt. Albert Graham, Capt. Lloyd Morton, Messrs. James Dorsey, Burpee Morse, Franklin Dakin, Benj. Robins and probably others.

"103 deaths from smallpox in the city of London, England, in one week. Largest number in any week with exception of first week in January.

Current soul-searching about capital punishment is not without precedent. In 1876 "A Mr. Pease, M.P., introduced into the 'House' a bill to abolish the death penalty.

An account of a rescue at sea was published in the issue of Feb. 23, 1877, by the ship "Alpheus Marshall", out of Digby, bound for Bremerhaven, Captain Parker. Too long for inclusion in this column, it may be of interest to older readers who remember seafaring talk and know the difference between a maintop sail and a spinnaker. The account will be found in another column of this issue.

Trade Boards Protest Fredericton Location Of New CBC-TV Station

Telegrams have been sent to Miss Judy LaMarsh, Secretary of State and J. Patrick Nowlan, M. P., protesting plans by the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation to build a television station in Fredericton.

Boards of Trade in the Western Valley, Annapolis Valley have joined forces with the Saint John Board of Trade in an effort to have the new CBC station located in Saint John.

After the proposed new station is on the air, perhaps within the next two years, it is understood that CHSJ-TV, Saint John, a privately owned CBC affiliate, will become part of the private Canadian network, CTV. It is feared by groups in the Western Valley area that if such a change takes place, the district from Middleton to Meteghan, now depending upon the Saint John station for CBC coverage, will lose service from the publicly owned system. If Fredericton is chosen as site of the new station it is believed the Annapolis Valley would not be classed in its prime coverage area, although the Fredericton station could provide good service to the city of Saint John.

The Eastern portion of the Valley receives CBC program from Halifax and Moncton. This area would not be affected. A CBC rebroadcasting station in Yarmouth covers much of the District of Clare and the Islands of Digby Neck. The Annapolis Valley now receives the services of CTV by a chain of rebroadcasting stations from CICTV, Halifax. These are located in Cambridge, on channel 10, and Digby, on channel 6. If no CBC alternate station is erected, as far as can be learned the Western Valley will receive service from two CTV stations, CICTV and CHSJ.

A telegram to Ottawa, sent jointly by the Digby, Weymouth and Annapolis Area Boards of Trade, reads: "Area from Middleton down to Meteghan depending on Saint John CBC station for TV coverage. Should this station be removed to Fredericton above area would be without CBC coverage. Please consider our interests in CBC coverage by selecting Saint John as new building site."

The CBC has made no commitment regarding erection of a rebroadcasting transmitter for the Valley area from its Halifax station, as requested in recent resolutions from the Digby Board of Trade and endorsed by the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Board of Trade.

In a letter to the Digby Board of Trade, the CBC says: "You will be interested to know that the Corporation has been looking into the possibilities for providing service to the Annapolis Valley. The whole situation concerning television channels in the Maritimes has been discussed between the CBC and the Board of Broadcast Governors and a joint engineering committee has been set up to look into the question. We are concerned about your specific area, as well as the broader Maritime picture, and until the study has been completed it will not be possible to make a firm statement on plans for extended coverage in the region."

Digby area Trade Boards are primarily interested in receiving service from the Halifax CBC station, but feel that since there has been no assurance of this from Ottawa, it is sensible to protest possible loss of CBC service from Saint John.

Convicted Of Illegal Parking

Reginald Hazelton, Digby fisherman, was convicted February 13th, of illegal parking on a government pier and was fined $10.00 and $4.75 court costs. He appeared before Magistrate H. B. Dickey. His conviction was under section 14, sub section 2 of regulations respecting government wharves under the Harbours and Piers act, and involved parking on the government wharf in Digby. Due to heavy congestion of traffic at the wharf, federal authorities are enforcing more rigid regulations regarding wharf use by vehicles.

Drowned At Meteghan

Joseph Lombard, New Edinburgh, Digby County, was drowned when it is believed he fell from the fishery's new patrol vessel, Cobquid Bay. The body of the 65 year old watchman was recovered on Tuesday morning near the St. Mary's Bay Industries wharf in Meteghan. It is believed the employee of the shipyard fell overboard sometime Sunday night. The Cobquid Bay was tied up at the wharf for inspection.

College Advisory Board Meets At Church Point

E. J. Theriault, Digby, was in Church Point to attend the St. Anne's College advisory board meeting. There were 23 members present at the meeting chaired by Rev. Raymond LeBlanc, president of College Ste. Anne. Vice chairman is Rodolphe Doucet and secretary is Gerald d'Entremont.

The temporary advisory board is acting pending a change in the act of incorporation of the university which will transfer the administrative authority of the university from the Endist Order to a board of governors consisting mostly of lay citizens prominent in industrial and educational pursuits.

The major portion of the deliberations centred around new academic programs which will be offered in September. St. Anne's proposes to add new degree courses which will meet the needs of English speaking students while retaining core programs for French students.

28 T.B. Cases Cause Closing Clare School

Clare District High School has been closed for an indefinite time. This was announced by Bernard LeBlanc of Bell's Cove on Tuesday.

Reason for closing the school is that 28 actual T. B. sanatorium cases were discovered in recent months in the district. Thirteen of these had been discovered since February of last year.

Mr. LeBlanc who is a member of the Clare Municipal Council and president of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade has asked that a team of government experts come to the rescue of the Clare people. Mr. LeBlanc said that 297 tuberculosis tests given since Christmas had turned from negative to positive. As high as 28 pills a day destined to arrest the development of the disease had been given to people in Clare.

Given Annapolis Co. Appointment

Keith Chappell of Halifax has been appointed the supervisor of curriculum for Annapolis County. He leaves his position as divisional supervisor of school in Halifax County to accept this position.

He is a native of Tidnishon of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Chappell, and was educated from Mount Allison University in 1943 with minors in education and obtained his B. Ed. from the same university in 1947. He taught high school for seven years in Annapolis, Tatamagouche, Middleton and Sackville, N. B. He served for three years as divisional supervisor in Halifax County. In the field of education Mr. Chappell has specialized in remedial reading and in the education of retarded children.

As supervisor of curriculum, under the direction of the superintendent, Mr. Chappell will be responsible for classroom visitations, teacher consultations, in-service training, and the application of the curriculum in all subjects.

Mr. Chappell is married to the former E. Ruth Wallis of Digby. They have three children: Kimberley, age 3, Andrea, 4 years, and Michele, 2 years.

The inspector of schools will continue to function as the representative of the department of education in his division. He will continue to meet with supervisory personnel and school boards and discuss with them the application of the regulations under the Education Act for school accommodation and equipment, and the welfare of the pupils.

Keith M. Parker, supervisor of schools at Middleton has been appointed the first superintendent of schools for Annapolis County. The new administration system of the schools of Annapolis County is a first of its kind in the province.

Transportation Topic Of Conference

The topic of transportation in transportation is the focus of a conference on transportation to be held on Monday, February 27, at the Grand Hotel, Kentville. The conference will be the first of a series of conferences on transportation to be held in the province.

The conference is being organized by the Nova Scotia Transportation Council.

All business and industrial leaders from throughout the Annapolis Valley are invited to attend. Registration starts at 1:30 p.m. after which lunch will be served. The conference will introduce the discussion chaired by Donald F. Archibald, Port Williams.

A dinner will be held from 6:30 p.m. to 7 p.m. after which the discussion on transportation costs will take place.

Others who will take part in the discussion will be J. M. Crosby, Maritime Transportation Commission; J. Patrick Nowlan, M.P. for Digby; Annapolis-Kings, W. G. Scott, C.P.R.; Montreal, John MacLean, Canadian Trucking Association; Ottawa, Craig S. Dickson, M.T.C.; Moncton, N. B., Gerald A. Reardon, Leader of Liberal Party of N.S.; Meteghan, John MacLean, Ltd., Halifax; Garth Galkin, T. P. Galkin Ltd., Kentville; Philip R. Lincoln, Cole's Express of Moncton; Bangor, Maine, Bruce Robinson, Maritime Paper Products Ltd., Halifax; and E. J. Christie, Christie Trunk & Bag Co. Ltd., Annapolis.

Low Rental Housing

Low Rental Housing was the subject of an address given by Ralph Widrig, Lockport, before the annual meeting and banquet of the Digby Board of Trade on Wednesday. Mr. Widrig is employed by the Housing Commission set up in 1934 to improve substandard and inadequate housing in the province of Nova Scotia. The program operates on the principle of cost sharing with the municipality bearing 12 1/2% of the total capital cost of the project, the provincial government 12 1/2%, and the federal government 75%.

Until recently activity was confined mostly to Co-operative housing, where small groups of prospective homeowners would get financing through the commission. This was to encourage ownership by providing low cost long term loans. Eight hundred of these homes were built in Cape Breton and 36 in Western Nova Scotia with one of the groups being at Belliveau's Cove, Digby County. If one of the group failed to complete the others in the group were responsible for the payment.

Today, the speaker said, people are moving and relocating so much that families are not always anxious to be tied down to a 25 year mortgage contract and the rental market is provided for a rental price in accordance with ability of tenants to pay.

Mr. Widrig explained the operation of the 24 new units set up at Yarmouth and told the audience that any operation which does not become a burden on a town. A grant in lieu of taxes for the assessed value of the property is paid which allows the municipality to recover its share of the operating deficit if any. The municipality is also repaid its initial share of the capital cost over a 30 year period with interest at 6%.

Administration of rental units is done by a Board of Directors, chosen from local citizens of the area.

Mr. Widrig was introduced by Mayor C. D. Snow and President of the Board of Trade, and Mrs. Denyse, E. L. Sangster, Bernard LeBlanc, president of the Annapolis Valley At the Digby town council.

Lionettes Elect Slate

On Monday, February 6th, the annual monthly meeting of the Digby Lionettes was held at the Lion's Hall with a pot luck supper.

The nomination brought in the following slate of officers for the year: President, Erma Abene; Vice-President, Ada Holdsworth; Secretary, Ruth Johnson; Treasurer, Helen Fleet; Ways and Means, Maxine Connell; Jean Turnbull; Mazie McClinton; Tail Twister, Evelyn Kinney; Entertainment, Marilee Whitman; Sick and Visiting, Helen Daley and Peggy Wentzell; Refreshments, Jean Raymond and Frances White.

Transferred To Germany

Cecil B. VanTassell, son of the late Boyd VanTassell, who was stationed at Oranmotto, N. B., was transferred to Germany with the armed forces. Mr. VanTassell, Mrs. VanTassell and children, Sharon and Ronnie, left on Friday, February 10, for overseas.

Safe Driving Awards

Four of Digby's Maritime Tel. & Tel. Co. employees were presented with National Safety Council Safe Driver Awards. They were Gerald Hoare, who had 13 years of safe driving; M. J. White had twelve; Bernard Bell had eleven and L. C. Nickerson ten.

Initiated Boards of Trade addressed the banquet session on significant board matters. Other guests present included Mrs. LeBlanc, Warden Ronald Morehouse, Allison Denton, Mr. Widrig, introduced by Mayor C. D. Snow and President of the Board of Trade, and Mrs. Denyse, E. L. Sangster, Bernard LeBlanc, president of the Annapolis Valley At the Digby town council.

New Mail Time Announced For Digby Neck & Islands

G. Russell Harris, Digby post master, informed the Digby Courier Wednesday that beginning March 1st, a new expedited mail delivery system will be in effect for Digby Neck and Islands. Mail will be delivered in Westport at 2 p.m. instead of 7 p.m. Closing time for dispatch to the Neck will use the same time schedule as in the past, 10:30 a.m.

About This And That

Alarming Situation

The situation at the Clare District High School is becoming increasingly alarming. The school is in a state of disrepair and the teachers are being paid less than in previous years. The school board is not doing enough to maintain the school and the teachers are being forced to work longer hours for less pay. This is a very serious situation and it is hoped that the school board will take action to improve the situation.

Co-operation In Agriculture

The Digby County Agricultural Society is holding a meeting on Thursday evening at the Digby Town Hall. The meeting is open to all interested parties and it is hoped that a large number of people will attend. The society is interested in promoting co-operation in agriculture and it is hoped that the meeting will be a success.

Protest Losing CBC Coverage

It is generally understood that the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation plans to build a television station in Fredericton. If the new publicly owned station becomes a reality, it is to be opened within the next year or so. This would mean that the Digby County would no longer have its own CBC station. This is a very serious situation and it is hoped that the Digby County will take action to protest the loss of CBC coverage.

Daily Adopts "Corona"

Monday last the Halifax Herald came out with a new typeface. The name of the typeface is "Corona" and it is a very attractive typeface. The Digby County has decided to adopt this typeface for all of its publications. This is a very good decision and it is hoped that the Digby County will be able to maintain this typeface for a long time.

Deserving Retirement

A Digby County resident is retiring in June from a long and successful career in the Digby County. He has been a very dedicated and hardworking employee and it is hoped that he will enjoy his retirement. He has been a very good example to all of the other employees and it is hoped that he will continue to be a good example to all of the other employees.

Congratulate Curlers

The Digby County Curling Club is holding a meeting on Thursday evening at the Digby Town Hall. The meeting is open to all interested parties and it is hoped that a large number of people will attend. The club is interested in promoting curling and it is hoped that the meeting will be a success.

Digby's Worst Fire

A fire broke out in the Digby Town Hall on Thursday evening. The fire was very large and it is hoped that the fire will be quickly extinguished. The fire was caused by a faulty electrical wiring and it is hoped that the fire will be a lesson to all of the other buildings in the Digby Town.

Scout Week

Scout Week is being celebrated in Digby County. The Scouts are holding a number of activities and it is hoped that a large number of people will attend. The Scouts are a very dedicated and hardworking group and it is hoped that they will continue to be a good example to all of the other people in the Digby County.

Dear Mrs. Edith M. Wallis:

I note the query raised by "Interested" of Tiverton in your Feb. 16th edition respecting the Fundy Vacation Trail and the Digby Neck Peninsula.

I do not think that it is possible to conceive of a Fundy Vacation Trail without considering this amazingly interesting peninsula with its marvellous scenery, varied land and sea scapes, world and wonderful geological formations and its abundant interests for the "rockhound", artist, bird watcher, nature lover and humanist.

It so happens that I am heading a committee to gather all pertinent data of interest to the tourist especially and some general data of economic value as preliminary to the main engineering survey which must be made before any actual work is done on the Trail itself. I am therefore in a position to state the Fundy Vacation Trail Committee is considering every part of the N. B. and N. S. coasts bordering on the Bay of Fundy which of course includes the Digby Neck Peninsula. I would be very glad to hear from "Interested" if he or she cares to write to me giving notes of historic legend, folklore and natural interest which may have perhaps escaped me. We now have a very thick file of such information from nearly all points along the "Trail" from Campbellton to Yarmouth.

It should be borne in mind that the construction of the Trail must follow a formal engineering and economic study to determine actual routes and feasibility. For example, everyone can see the amazing desirability of a bridge across Digby Gut from Victoria Beach, linking a continuous road to Briar Island. Such a bridge would be in the same category as the Ten or Bridge, London and the Eiffel Tower, Paris as a tourist attraction but it would not have the traffic opportunities of the Golden Gate Bridge, San Francisco and of course would probably be ruled out as much too expensive at the present time at least.

Also, parts of the "Trail" would be used for heavy commercial traffic, as required, whereas other parts would serve the tourist and local residents only.

The survey shortly to be undertaken will probably also determine what parts of the Trail would be completed first and over what period of time the whole Trail would be completed. It may be necessary to follow a pay-as-you-go policy for say, a ten year period.

Very much can be written about the Trail, but of its economic value all are agreed that it would be a most sound investment.

I hope this answers the very pertinent question raised by "Interested".

Yours very truly,

Editor: Dear Sir,

"Democracy in Canada" Bah, humbug! The Blacks in Rhodesia have more say in their country's affairs than we do by way of their headmen and tribal chiefs, not to mention their parliament.

Like when were we Canadian voters ever asked if we wanted to see Red China seated in the U.N.? Whether we wanted our country to apply sanctions against Rhodesia and deprive babies of their milk? Were we ever asked if we wanted to get rid of our familiar National flag or wanted to integrate our armed forces and hand them over to the U.N. as a "peacekeeping force while 'we ourselves' became defenceless?"

Did the pseudo-socialist Liberal Government ever ask the voters how we felt about selling our wheat to help feed the Red Chinese army or whether we'd like to help the U.S.A., Australia and New Zealand stop the spread of Communism throughout Asia?

Not on your life! They just weaselword an X out of us with a phoney platform of promises, then cynically lead us by the nose down the pink path of socialism and "One Worldism" under the dictatorship of the U.N.

But not me, brother. My kind of democracy is the kind where Government serves the people, not vice versa, and I'll keep saying so till the next election by which time I hope voters won't kiss their liberty goodbye with an X.

Yours sincerely,

Sir,

"The present hour is especially grave," Pope Paul VI. Well, does he realize that a mistake or a blunder could set off a nuclear holocaust that would leave this earth a shamble.

Why can't we have peace? Why war with its death, destruction, disfigurement, sorrow, suffering and ruin? The peace convocation held in New York recently did not bring out the important truth that peace is a gift of God, our Creator and Redeemer. The various speakers did not mention the Prince of Peace, Our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, who can we hope to attain peace among nations without Him? Who said, "Without Me you can do nothing."

War is the result of sin and widespread violation and rejection of the Ten Commandments and the Golden Rule, and is a punishment by God intended to bring back His disobedient and rebellious children from the ways of sin and infidelity. War is a kind of fearful foretaste of hell.

Would that more leaders in each church and state realized and emphasized this truth. Would that we had in other St. Francis to conduct

Editor: Dear Sir,

"Democracy in Canada" Bah, humbug! The Blacks in Rhodesia have more say in their country's affairs than we do by way of their headmen and tribal chiefs, not to mention their parliament.

Like when were we Canadian voters ever asked if we wanted to see Red China seated in the U.N.? Whether we wanted our country to apply sanctions against Rhodesia and deprive babies of their milk? Were we ever asked if we wanted to get rid of our familiar National flag or wanted to integrate our armed forces and hand them over to the U.N. as a "peacekeeping force while 'we ourselves' became defenceless?"

Did the pseudo-socialist Liberal Government ever ask the voters how we felt about selling our wheat to help feed the Red Chinese army or whether we'd like to help the U.S.A., Australia and New Zealand stop the spread of Communism throughout Asia?

Not on your life! They just weaselword an X out of us with a phoney platform of promises, then cynically lead us by the nose down the pink path of socialism and "One Worldism" under the dictatorship of the U.N.

But not me, brother. My kind of democracy is the kind where Government serves the people, not vice versa, and I'll keep saying so till the next election by which time I hope voters won't kiss their liberty goodbye with an X.

Yours sincerely,

Jane Hunt.

Sir,

"The present hour is especially grave," Pope Paul VI. Well, does he realize that a mistake or a blunder could set off a nuclear holocaust that would leave this earth a shamble.

Why can't we have peace? Why war with its death, destruction, disfigurement, sorrow, suffering and ruin? The peace convocation held in New York recently did not bring out the important truth that peace is a gift of God, our Creator and Redeemer. The various speakers did not mention the Prince of Peace, Our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, who can we hope to attain peace among nations without Him? Who said, "Without Me you can do nothing."

War is the result of sin and widespread violation and rejection of the Ten Commandments and the Golden Rule, and is a punishment by God intended to bring back His disobedient and rebellious children from the ways of sin and infidelity. War is a kind of fearful foretaste of hell.

Would that more leaders in each church and state realized and emphasized this truth. Would that we had in other St. Francis to conduct

You Can Believe It!

OVER 100 YEARS AGO A SCIENTIST NAMED CHARLES WHEATSTONE INVENTED A DEVICE FOR MEASURING DIFFERENCES IN RESISTANCE TO THE FLOW OF ELECTRICAL CURRENT. HIS DEVICE IS CALLED A "WHEATSTONE BRIDGE".

THE NEWEST USE OF WHEATSTONE'S BRIDGE IS IN A WATER SOFTENING APPLIANCE. ELECTRONIC SENSORS IN THE SOFTENER TANK DETECT THE NEED FOR SOFT WATER JUST AS A THERMOSTAT DETECTS THE NEED FOR HEAT.

THIS NEW SENSING DEVICE KEEPS FAMILIES FROM RUNNING OUT OF SOFT WATER - REGARDLESS OF THE FAMILY OR THE AMOUNT OF WATER USED.

THE SOFTENER RECHARGES ONLY WHEN NEEDED WHICH, ACCORDING TO THE DIGBY WATER INSPECTOR, SAVES KIDNEYS AND ON SALT. WHEN THE FAMILY TAKES A BATH, THE SOFTENER TAKES ONE 100.

Entertains Bride-to-be

Miss Joy Leonard and Mrs. E. B. Tufts entertained at a yellow bath room shower at the home of Mrs. M. S. Leonard on Saturday evening in honor of Miss Janet Davidson. Miss Davidson will be married in March to David Leonard, barrister. Digby son of Mrs. M. S. Leonard and the late Mr. Leonard.

The rooms were beautifully decorated in yellow and white streamers with the same color scheme extending into the table centre and other droll arrangements. The gifts were secluded beneath a shower a great crusade for peace and good will to go from place to place preaching on the love of God and love of neighbor to help banish crime, corruption, discord, hatred, injustice and materialism.

For us, a fortnightly every day the following prayer: "O God, from whom are holy desires, that we may be holy and not work for a Thy service that peace with the world, cannot see that our hearts may be directed to Thy. The Commandments and the fear of crimes being removed, our lives by Thy inspiration may be peaceful. Through our Lord Jesus Christ, The Son Who lives and reigns with Thee in the unity of the Holy Spirit, God forever and ever. Amen."

Obituaries

Leonard C. Comeau

Leonard C. Comeau of Comeauville, aged 46, one of Clare's most successful business men died Tuesday night about 12 o'clock at the Yarmouth General Hospital. He was taken suddenly ill Tuesday morning and rushed to the hospital. Mr. Comeau had not been of robust health during the last year but was able to continue working at his business. He operated a grocery, electrical appliance, chainsaw, motor cycle and outboard motor store in Comeauville.

He was very well known throughout the Municipality of Clare as well as other areas of Digby and Yarmouth Counties. Interment took place Sunday at 2:30 p.m. with services at St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church at Church Point.

He leaves to mourn him, besides his wife Albina, four children, Paulette, Jolene (daughters) Aurel and Daniel (sons). Two brothers and four sisters also survive him: Armand, merchant of Comeauville and Dr. Jean Eudes Comeau of Weymouth; Miss Benoit Comeau and Mrs. James (Minnie) Mead, both of Randolph, Mass.; Mrs. Gerard (Ellen) Robichaud, Somerville, Mass.; Mrs. Henry (Zelma) Rowe of Everett, Mass.

He is the son of Charles Comeau, of Comeauville, who also survives him.

Daniel Budd Journey

The death of Daniel Budd Journey, of Weymouth occurred in Digby General Hospital on Monday Feb. 13th.

He was born 82 years ago, the son of the late Charles and Catharine (McBride) Journey of Weymouth. He was the last member of a family of eight children. Mr. Journey had lived in Weymouth all his life, and during the first World War, served in the 12th Battalion. He was a farmer, and also worked as road foreman for fifteen years. He was known to all children and others in the community as "Mr. Dan", and was loved and respected by all who knew him.

Funeral services were held from St. Thomas Anglican Church, on Thursday afternoon, with the rector, Rev. A. G. Peters officiating. Pallbearers were Foster Journey, Harold Journey, Gerald Journey, Arthur Journey, Alan Muise and Lloyd Burke. Interment was in St. Peter's Cemetery at Weymouth North.

Historic Church Reorganized

A special meeting of the members of the Riverside United Baptist Church, Weymouth North and the Bethel U. B. Church, Ashmore was held at Ashmore, which was chaired by the Interim Pastor, Rev. L. Atkinson, Digby, when a decision was made to reorganize the members of the Weymouth Baptist Church into separate units.

One of the oldest churches of the Baptist Convention of the Atlantic Provinces the Weymouth church (formerly called Sissiboo) was formed in 1799 and through the years many worshippers have gone out from this mother church to form their own church or organizations throughout Digby County. The last group to go were the residents of Ashmore who opened their own meeting place in 1857. However this group was unique in that, although they had a separate place of worship and their own officers, the two congregations had a common church roll and church clerk and the Riverside church being by the cemetery was always used for funerals until just recently. The members continued to meet together at least several times a year for business meetings and roll call services.

At the last annual meeting, the opinion was expressed by younger members of the church at Ashmore that their church should be recognized as a separate unit on the records of the Convention, and notice was immediately given that this special meeting would be called to consider the matter. During the next few weeks, all members of the church will be contacted regarding this and further meetings called as they become necessary.

Save Cornwallis Co-operation

Keynote In Board Reports

Bear River in celebration of its Save Cornwallis campaign will receive financial contributions by all citizens in this regard. Bear River has worked side-by-side with the Save Cornwallis committee headed by Philip Weagles, Digby barrister, and has opened an account at the Bank of Canada, Bear River branch, for contributors to leave their financial support to the effort. It is expected that contributions will be received from all areas.

Bear River has been one of the most affected should C.F.R. Cornwallis. Since after 1968, many of the residents of Bear River are employed in the base, services of a military nature are supplied from the base.

of the struggle," remarked the Mayor, but we must not forget the contribution.

John Jayne, president, also stressed co-operation in his report and scored the advertisement of Digby which has found its way into some Nova Scotia newspapers and which he felt was detrimental to the image created by Digby. We live here and get our livelihood from here. We all want Digby to grow, said the president, so we need co-operation in Digby which might be on the threshold of its greatest boom. We must take a good look at ourselves, he repeated, if we want to sell Digby to the rest of Nova Scotia.

Mr. Jayne expressed his sincere thanks to those on the Board of Trade who had been so co-operative during the year and reviewed events past

People in Digby, the president continued, took a new lease on life when the Marston Associates report had determined Digby to be the most feasible point for a terminal for the proposed new Nova Scotia-New England ferry. This received a lot of opposition, he remarked, and the attention has been focused on modern transportation across the Bay of Fundy from Saint John to Digby. By 1970, the president ventured, a new terminal would be built here and the C.P.R. would have a new "load" ship, especially for this run which could make two trips a day without difficulty. Mr. Jayne remarked that excellent support had been received from Saint John this year, on the Digby-Saint John service, support which had not been visible in the past. Letters advising of support on this project have been received from towns and municipalities in the greater part of Nova Scotia and it is rumored that this route would be patronized extensively. Mr. Jayne said, "There is a possibility," he intimated, "that Digby could be the home port with rearrangement of train schedules."

Capt. Joe Casey, port committee, reported that the Digby wharf project proposed by 1968 would be a major development. One million dollars had been designated for the purpose of improving the wharf in three stages. Already the dredging stage has been completed. Other stages to follow are the marginal wharf, the 325 foot finger wharf, the removal of the old spur and construction of the new one and the wharf extension.

Stewart MacNaughton reported that the civic committee had been instrumental in purchasing brochures for the Board and in presenting a slate of candidates for the civic election.

Home From Toronto

Mrs. Helen R. Thurber has returned from Toronto, Ont., where she spent the past five months. While in Toronto she completed a course in cafeteria management and vending machines. The past few weeks she had been employed as a practical nurse.

Mrs. Thurber visited Mr. Ray Walley, editor of a publication. Mr. Walley is one of "The Travellers". This musical group is being sponsored by Ontario Provincial Government at Expo '67. The "Travellers" are well known across Canada and have recordings on Columbia and Arc labels. Some songs of the Maritimes by Mrs. Thurber and Mrs. Peters, Digby, will be heard by "The Travellers". This group is planning to tour the Maritimes in October and will visit with Mrs. Thurber and family for a few days.

Canadian Music Sales Corp. Ltd. (for which Mrs. Thurber is a writer) have eight plat forms ready at Expo '67. They will retail practically all records and sheet music at Expo. "The Travellers" will entertain here also as well as at the Ontario Pavilion while their recordings are being sold. Several well known Canadian recording artists will participate in this event. Songs by Helen R. Thurber and Frances Peters, Digby, both published and unpublished, will be heard here, as their sheet music and recordings of Nova Scotia are being sold.

Mrs. Thurber also spent some time with Gordon Lightfoot, Canada's number one folk singer, who is a close friend of "The Travellers". Gordie Lightfoot, "The Travellers" and Mrs. Thurber are all members of Composers, Authors and Publishers Association of Canada (CAPAC), of which there are 500 members.

Investors are interested in opening a Maritime Shell Shop in "The Village" (Yorkville) in the near future. Samples of shellcraft by Mrs. Thurber have been examined and discussed. Mr. Buchanan will visit Digby this spring to discuss supplies, wages, etc. in Digby area.

While in Toronto, Mrs. Thurber lectured to executive and employees at Canadian Folding Cartons and other groups on her "curios from the Bay of Fundy and Continental Shelf, creating a great deal of interest in the town of Digby as vacation land, where many, many families plan to spend their holidays, from Toronto, summer '67.

Obituaries

James F. F. Mackintosh

James Francis (Frank) Mackintosh, 56, a retired lieutenant-commander in the Royal Canadian Navy, and manager of the Fleet Club in Halifax, died recently in the Halifax Infirmary.

An amateur boxer in his earlier years, he was a promoter of both amateur and professional bouts, and a referee.

Mr. Mackintosh was co-chairman of the Atlantic Football Conference's first annual dinner of awards scheduled to be held in Halifax next month.

Born in Halifax, he was son of Frank and Kathleen (Spears) Mackintosh. He joined the Navy as a stoker in 1931, was commissioned as an officer in 1944, and retired in 1960.

He was a member of St. Clement's Roman Catholic Church, Dartmouth, and lived at 18 Virginia Avenue.

Mr. Mackintosh is survived by his wife, the former Marion Edna Hirtle of Dartmouth; seven sons: Russell, Dartmouth; Frank, Digby; Bruce, Dartmouth; David, Halifax; Robert, Michael and Gage, at home; seven daughters: Kathleen (Mrs. Glen Colclough), Dartmouth; Lorraine (Mrs. Dean Holden), Guelph, Ont.; Gertrude, Dartmouth; Patricia (Mrs. Allen MacInnis), Dartmouth; Mary, Brenda and Dawn, at home; two brothers: Robert and Kenneth, Halifax; two sisters: Mrs. Arthur Moore and Mrs. Chester Dauphinee, Halifax; and 18 grandchildren.

William H. Hunt

Funeral services for William Henry Hunt, 73, was at Granville Beach Baptist Church on Wednesday, Rev. R. M. Turner and Rev. H. C. Quartmain officiated. Interment was in Stoney Beach Cemetery. Mr. Hunt died at the Annapolis General Hospital.

Born in England, he came to Canada in 1927. Mr. Hunt was a veteran of two world wars and a member of the Port Royal Branch, Royal Canadian Legion.

Surviving are his wife, the former Alice Bateman of England; four daughters, Maisie (Mrs. Victor Magarvey), Granville Beach; Mary (Mrs. Harold Bent), Granville Ferry; Violet (Mrs. Lovett Hamilton), Port Royal; Ethel (Mrs. George Bent), Granville Centre; three sons, Stanley, Granville Beach; Charles, Don

Sanford — Alcorn

Lighted candles, fern and white glads decorated the Bear River United Baptist Church for the marriage of Marjorie Alcorn, Bear River, to Earl Sanford of Lancaster, Mass.

The double ring ceremony

Mills, Ont.; Ronald, Digby; one brother, Jack, Cares Brook; two sisters Ester Lane and Sarah Ann Harris, both of England; and 15 grandchildren.

was performed by Rev. Kinley McNeil.

The bride was given in marriage by her son Joseph Alcorn of Toronto. She was attended by her daughter, Miss Peigi Alcorn, also of Toronto.

Don Brydon was best man, Keith Brydon and Gary Gerner were ushers.

The bride wore a chiffon over taffata dress of turquoise with matching shoes and white accessories. She carried a white bible decorated with red roses.

The choir sang "O Perfect Love" with Dr. D. Brennan singing the solo part during the signing of the register.

After the ceremony a reception was held in the church vestry. The toast to the bride was proposed by Rev. G. D. Brydon.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Keith Alcorn and Mrs. A. Harlow of Calgary, Mrs. Robert Bouvette of Ottawa; Mr. Joseph Alcorn of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wolfe of Clinton, Mass.; Miss Dorothy Graham of Halifax; Mr. Gary Giesler of Summerside, P.E.I.; and Mrs. P. Durand of Hantsport, N. S.

The couple will reside in Lancaster, Mass.

OLD AGE SECURITY PENSIONERS: DO YOU QUALIFY FOR THE GUARANTEED INCOME SUPPLEMENT?

By now you have received your application form and information booklet. Be sure to read the booklet carefully. If you qualify, apply early for your supplement. It will take some time to deal with the large number of applications. The sooner you apply the sooner you will have your first payment. Payments will be combined with your Old Age Security pension cheque. If you were entitled to a supplement as of January 1967, your first cheque to include the supplement will cover payment for each month back to January.

The new guaranteed income supplement is a monthly payment of $30 which will be added to your $75 Old Age Security pension if you have no other income. If you do have other income, but it is less than $720 a year ($60 a month), you still qualify for a supplement but on a reduced scale. This means that every Old Age Security pensioner in Canada is now guaranteed a monthly income of at least $105. A married couple is guaranteed at least $210 a month if both are Old Age Security pensioners. If you qualify, apply without delay. If you need help in filling out your application, contact your nearest Old Age Security, Canada Pension Plan or Income Tax Office. Addresses are listed in your booklet.

90 Years Back

FROM EARLY FILES OF THE DIGBY COURIER

February 23, 1877

Last November, in testing Professor Bell's method of conversing by telegraph it was found that words spoken in Boston were audible at North Conway, Mass., a distance of 143 miles.

From one of the speeches in the Legislative Assembly, as published in the Courier, 1877, we take the following: "There is a depression in the Coal Industry and in a modified degree in the Lumbering and Fishing Interests of Nova Scotia.

and the following homely little local item: "Three rounds were fought in the Back Alley yesterday and there was a dog fight this morning".

"William Morehouse, Little River, dropped dead at the home of a neighbor. A Coroner's Inquest was held and verdict was returned that death occurred "by the visitation of God."

"Fred Dakin, of this place, while in the back part of his house Tuesday night was attacked by a person and stabbed in his left side. The stab went through his vest and two shirts, but the wound was only slight. It was too dark for Mr. Dakin to identify "the cowardly villain". No clue has yet been found".

"President Hayes (U.S.A.) has had his inaugural and has named his cabinet for Senate approval".

Tiddville, in 1877, was known as "Tidd's Village".

The following two items from our files are not to be taken too seriously: "Brigham Young is too feeble to walk and has to be rolled about in an easy chair. His pillow is smoothed by thirty-eight mothers-in-law yet he is not happy."

"Women require more sleep than men, and farmers less than those engaged in other occupations. Editors, reporters, printers and telegraph operators need no sleep at all. Lawyers can sleep as long as they choose — it will keep them out of mischief".

"Maine has prohibited pool selling and lotteries within her boundaries, and the law applies especially to schemes of chance in church affairs".

"Three o'clock Sunday morning fire broke out in a grocery store in Annapolis. Three properties were burned to the ground and another damaged. A small part of the goods were saved and that in a damaged state".

We learn from the '77 file that "John W. Snow, Digby, was married to Alma John, Granville Ferry".

"Annapolis is about to boast of a hot and cold water bathroom, thanks to the enterprise of Mr. Rob't Hopkins who got the idea from Boston and New York".

We received the following note this week, 1967, from Mrs. Mary Doucette, correspondent in Gilbert Cove: "In the Courier two weeks ago, it was brought to my attention that 90 years ago my great grandfather, Captain Henry Mallett, was the correspondent for the Digby Courier".

World Day Of Prayer

The World Day of Prayer service was held this year in the Christian Church on Friday evening, February 10th. The theme for the program was "And of His Kingdom there shall be no end." (Luke 1:33)

Mrs. Clarence Chute (wife of retired Baptist minister, Rev. C. Chute) officiated at the service and presented an inspiring message on "Prayer". She stressed the importance of prayer and pointed out several illustrations showing how prayer had been the means of thousands being won to Christ.

Taking part in "Praise and Thanksgiving" were Mrs. Herbert, Cossaboom, "Confession

Witness Death Of Nineteen Soldiers

A film depicting the horror and devastation of the Viet Nam War was shown in the I.O.O.F. hall at Tiverton recently.

The film, obtained by the clergymen of the Island area, portrayed the hardships, cruelty and suffering endured by the people there as a result of the war. Missionaries, Mr. and Mrs. H. Jackson, who served in that area for 15 years shared in the struggles of Vietnamese. They witnessed the death of 19 soldiers who were killed when an important structure they were guarding, exploded. They joined the Vietnamese in their flight for freedom when their village was plundered and destroyed.

The Vietnamese expressed their desire for religion when they gathered together their booklets, pamphlets, regarding christianity to take with them on their flight from death.

Following the destruction of the village, Minister, John Millman walked 200 miles

Literature, children's books, adult's magazines, all based on the Bible, and sent in by other countries were shown being distributed by a book-noble.

Pictured also was an aged lady giving Bible literature to civilians of that area and to soldiers who packed them in specially prepared lookers.

Narrator for the film was B. Pierce, it is understood.

Ski School

The Ski Instruction School was held on Saturday and Sunday on the ski slopes on Chisholm Hill, and was most successful. Skiers from Yarmouth, Weymouth, Annapolis and Bear River were in attendance. Mr. and Mrs. Chisholm served hot coffee and cocoa during the day.

The instructors were Ron Moore, Greenwood, Joe Gillis, Greenwood and George Milard, Yarmouth. While in the village, they were guests at "The Fraser House".

25th Wedding Anniversary Observed

Mr. and Mrs. David Yorke, Bear River, were honored recently on the occasion of their 25th Wedding Anniversary, when eighteen friends gathered at their home to tender them a surprise party. Arranged by their daughter, Mrs. Robert Mansfield, Clements, the party proved to be very enjoyable. Gifts were presented to this popular couple and included a beautifully decorated three-tiered Anniversary cake made by their son-in-law, Robert Mansfield. Cards were enjoyed during the evening and was followed by a delicious lunch served by Mrs. Mansfield. Out of town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Miller, Round Hill, and Alvin Yorke, Halifax.

Cloverleaf 4-H Club In Radio Quiz

Four members of the Cloverleaf 4-H club partook in the Annapolis County Radio Quiz held between Annapolis District and Cloverleaf clubs, Bear River, at eight o'clock, January twenty-eighth. The Bear River players won a glorious victory, the score being one hundred twenty-two (Bear River) to ninety (Annapolis). Malcolm Fuller, quizmaster, heartily congratulated both teams.

The Cloverleaf team consisted of Margaret Chesley, Jennifer Brook, Jimmy Langley, Bruce Prime.

The time was donated by C.K.A.D. studios, Middleton.

THURSDAY SPEECH

by the benefits derived can not be contained within the compass of the area. The modern-day movement of people, goods and ideas carry benefits or adversities from one constituency to those adjoining.

I assert that what is good for Digby Constituency is good for Western Nova Scotia and what is good for Western Nova Scotia is good for the Province. We must, in this age of mobility, look over the artificial boundaries of geography and assess the good generally when the Provincial Government turns its attention to a problem in a particular area. This, Mr. Speaker, I also contend can work in reverse - back to my constituency from other areas of the Province.

These young men and women find employment in the more populous areas of Nova Scotia. Ten years ago their counterparts stayed at home, frustrated from the lack of opportunity of employment in their native province or were lost to Nova Scotia when they left for other parts of Canada or the U.S.A. there to bolster the structure of their adopted homes and contribute their energy to the economic advancement outside of the Province.

It is far better, Mr. Speaker, for these young men and women to contribute their energies somewhere within the confines of this Province and help build the New Nova Scotia. This, Sir, has been made possible by the persistent efforts of the present Government to provide training and opportunities to those able and willing to take advantage of these provisions. The concentration of workers in central areas where it is possible to develop industry of a type not feasible in areas less fortunate in geography and established services, is not an advancement of even recent years. I have such areas means greater help for the Provincial Government to assist those areas as fortunate as an unseparated that at times we over-look. It allows opportunities for our youth that otherwise would not exist within the Province.

In the past year, thanks to the progressive Government of Nova Scotia, tangible efforts have had increasing benefits on my constituency. The Pines Hotel had a successful year under the able administration of the present manager. Beaver Brook Farm has been expanded under ARDA and the aid of the Nova Scotia Land Settlement Board and has provided a source of employment to many who otherwise would be unemployed in the area.

Industrial activities, which Mr. Speaker would not be in operation but for the government agency I.E.L., has given steady employment to forty persons, and I am assured, will in the present year expand its activities and work force.

Sir, there has been no like period in the history of Digby Constituency when a Provincial Government has recognized our needs in such a tangible manner. These three endeavours would not be in existence if we had not a Government which was willing to extend support to those areas in need of assistance.

The interest taken by the present administration in my constituency has come as a surprise to some. So much so, that the Honorable Opposition reaches for imaginary faults in administrations of these benefits. At a more appropriate time I will likely expand in detail on one of these projects, which has received special mention and may I add, concern by our friends of the Honorable Opposition.

Sir, in the Constituency of Digby, due to geography and other factors, we have many conditions which contribute to stagnation of economy and social development. Free flow of traffic has impediments which delay and even present safety hazards for goods and persons. I have spoken of these matters before in this Assembly, but I feel I must re-emphasize that it is my role to keep these matters alive in this House, year after year, and I hope my successor will also be so concerned with corrective measures have been found.

On our trunk roads we still have three major problems given us by nature: Bear River, Weymouth and Petite Passage crossings. It is indeed with satisfaction that I speak of the progress made towards the solution of the Bear River situation. The plans are being drawn and my people are elated over this move by the Department of Highways. The Minister informs us that prospects are good work will be underway on construction this year. The completion of this project on No. 1 Highway will benefit not only my constituency but all of the western section of the Province.

This leaves us with two major trunk road problems. The Weymouth crossing is under consideration and I feel confident that, in due course of time, a solution will be forthcoming if the present administration remains at the helm of this Assembly. The present approaches to the one-way bridge at Weymouth present special difficulties. We, at present, have a level railroad crossing at the top of a very steep hill. This, Sir, presents a hazard to the travelling public. Then the traffic through the business section of the village itself, of necessity, slows down. I hope this crossing across the river in Weymouth will be corrected in the near future to the satisfaction of those most intimately concerned after due consideration is given to the problems involved.

The Petite Passage crossing also continues to give me great concern. The future of the economic and social life of the residents of the lower part of Digby Neck and the Islands depend, in large measure, on a solution to this problem. The construction of a bridge causeway across this stretch of water would rectify present impediments to progress and assure the future of the Islands. A permanent crossing would provide twenty-four hour passage of goods and persons and a deep-water harbour for the fleets of this area as well as those from New Brunswick and Maine.

It is ironic that those of authority in such matters advocate bigger boats for offshore fishing in this area. There are not sufficient docking facilities to accommodate the small draggers which now shelter in stormy weather in this section of the Bay of Fundy.

Mr. Speaker, we do not have a fishing village on Digby Neck or the Islands which can accommodate the boats we now use. In a storm the owners of the boats stand on the shore and pray that the moorings will hold as they see the efforts of a lifetime hanging by a nylon rope. Or they risk their lives at inadequate docking facilities trying to keep their boats from being torn adrift and dashed on the nearby boundaries.

In one storm alone, in Petite Passage, three small draggers and a ferry boat were dashed to pieces in spite of the efforts of their owners. And, Mr. Speaker, to my knowledge, the Federal Government has made no material move to correct this situation. For one so close to this life as I have been, I can draw but one conclusion: the Federal authorities fail to grasp the gravity of the situation. Mr. Speaker, we do not have sufficient harbour or dock facilities in the Town of Digby, Digby Neck or the Islands. I only hope that a major disaster to our fleet and the fleet from our neighbouring province, with accompanying loss of life, to bring the gravity of the situation to our Federal Public Works Department. True, a million dollars was apportioned to the fisherman's pier at Digby during the last Federal Election campaign. This was spent over a period of five years. So far considerable dredging has been done, but construction of berthing facilities has as yet to be started.

While speaking of marine topics, Mr. Speaker, I would like to recall that in 1963 on the 64th Press announced that two and one-half million dollars were to be expended in building a wharf to accommodate the Digby Saint John Ferry. Then, after spending considerable money surveying and preparation of plans, the project was cancelled. Now we hear that dialogue is going on between the Federal Government and the C.P.R. concerning a wharf and a new boat for this service.

In the meantime we have an eleven-month service, not counting the trips cancelled because of the risk of docking at the decrepit Government pier.

This gives us hope that this time something will be done especially when we learn that a survey is being carried on as to the potential trade for a new type boat and docking facilities to accommodate here.

Mr. Speaker a cloud has developed in recent months which threatens to waft frosty winds over the seedlings planted in Digby Constituency by the Provincial Government. I refer, Sir, to the chilling rumour concerning the future of C.F.B. Cornwallis.

If the base is closed we will lose one of our major agricultural industry and I sources of employment. The only assurance given to date of legislation or waving a magic wand will not correct the ills of agriculture in Nova Scotia. With this assurance we are like a prisoner when the judge withholds sentence. The judge is not in Halifax, his present abode is in Ottawa and he remains detached from our financial problems in the Valley and that the fellows in the bleachers never lose a ball game. Only those who carry the ball horse rocker will not crush win or lose and the most successful players in the history of the Province have been the ones who now, Mr. Speaker, sit to the right of your honored position.

Sir, I am pleased with the proposed legislation for this session. I am happy that, though I sit close to the Honorable Opposition, I have not their problem. They must of necessity vote for the amendment, but I, unfettered, can vote according to my better judgment, and oppose the amendment and support the motion now before the House.

This I believe is a step in the right direction.

We must realize that the problems of agriculture are not of a local nature or even provincial but of national and of international implication.

The easy flow of farm products from province to province makes it more difficult to regulate cost of production and prices. Aggressive salesmanship from distant parts of the U.S.A. and Canada makes it difficult for our people to compete even on our own markets. Mass production in other areas make it difficult for our farmers to meet outside competition. Out of season vegetables shipped into the Province at high prices have a tendency to level off the demand for our products when they are ready for market. Attractive selling packages often sell the product which is not superior and may be even inferior to the local offerings. This forces us to adopt the methods of the outside competitors to sell our produce on our own markets.

Many and far-reaching are the problems which face our valley. Sir, that any one piece of legislation or waving a magic wand will not correct the ills of agriculture in Nova Scotia. This being a year of promise we will likely hear of positive remedies to be instituted if others take over the administration of Government. But let us remember that the fellows in the bleachers never lose a ball game. Only those who carry the ball horse rocker will not crush win or lose and the most successful players in the history of the Province have been the ones who now, Mr. Speaker, sit to the right of your honored position.

Sir, I am pleased with the proposed legislation for this session. I am happy that, though I sit close to the Honorable Opposition, I have not their problem. They must of necessity vote for the amendment, but I, unfettered, can vote according to my better judgment, and oppose the amendment and support the motion now before the House.

patrol boats along Nova Scotia's north-eastern shore. Although in 1919 he graduated to the captaincy of a coastal steamer, he did not desert sail, but took a four master to Eu rope.

Even in retirement the captain has been taking the odd job as master on coastal vessels. Last summer he decided he wanted to visit Canada's first world exhibition, and set about planning the trip in the only way practical to him.

So, into the navy cutter his savings went.

"She's fitted with a three cylinder engine that'll push her along at about eight knots, and I'll be putting a cabin on her with a couple of bunks and an alcohol stove."

"When I find the other crew member, we'll sail out of Halifax, through the Canso and Northumberland Straits, along the Gaspe coast then down the St. Lawrence."

The captain reckons the entire trip will take about 20 days as he plans to pull into port each night along the way.

"Though the boat sleeps two, there's not much comfort in it, but roughing it is part of the business. You have to have a challenge to make it interesting."

Unilingual, he is not worried about language difficulties. "I know all the places along the way. There's no problem with language, a man can always make himself understood."

Not quite sure yet how he will finance the trip, fuel costs both ways are estimated at $160. The old man never doubts he will sail to Expo in his own boat, head held high.

MARRIAGES

Sabean — Finigan

A pretty wedding took place at the Port Wade Baptist parsonage on Saturday, January 14th, when Marie Elaine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Finigan, Freeport, N. S., was united in marriage to Kenneth Stanley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Sabean, Port Wade, at a ceremony performed by Rev. David Turner.

The bride wore a white taffeta floor length dress, with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of yellow and white mums.

She was attended by Sandra Hayden, who wore a blue dress with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of white mums.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Port Wade school auditorium.

They will reside in Port Wade where the groom is employed.

Puhalski — Finigan

St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, Sarnia, Ont., was the scene of a lovely wedding, when Linda Ann Finigan, of Sarnia, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Finigan, Bridgeport, N. S., was united in marriage with Joseph Peter Puhalski, of Kirkland Lake, Ont. Father Ver Schraegen officiated at the ceremony and Mrs. F. Bandura was soloist.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown, empire waisted of white peau-de-soie. Her veil was shoulder length and she carried a bouquet of red roses. The bridesmaids were Heather Emmons, niece of the bride, and Elaine Sexsmith.

They were dressed in gowns of jade green peau-de-soie with headaddresses of matching wedding rings and they carried muffs trimmed with red roses.

The best man was David Puhalski, brother of the groom, and the usher was Gene Neilson.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride's sister, Mrs. Charles Emmons, where the toast to the bride was given by Mr. Donald Spradbrook and responded to by the groom. Dinner was served to forty guests, and dancing was enjoyed.

The happy couple left on a honeymoon to Kentucky and Florida. The groom is employed by the Ontario Hydro Co., and the bride by the Bell Telephone Co.

Ryan — Moore

A pretty wedding took place at the Freeport United Church parsonage on Saturday, January 28th, at 8 p.m., when Louise Diane, was united in marriage to Walter Gerald, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Ryan Sr., at a ceremony performed by Rev. W. Ideson.

The bride was becomingly attired in a blue silk street length dress, with matching accessories and a corsage of pink and white carnations.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Rodney Stark who wore a pink nylon street length dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The groom was supported by Rodney Stark.

They will reside in Freeport.

where they are employed by Connors Bros.

Mullen — Saulnier

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Wesleyan Methodist parsonage, New Tusket, on February 11th, 1967, when Rev. B. Hicks united in marriage Elaine Faye Saulnier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Saulnier, of New Tusket and Chester Mullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mullen, of Havelock.

The bride looked lovely in a gown of white with shoulder veil and she carried a white Bible. She was accompanied by Mrs. Vernon Mullen, sister of the groom, and the groom was attended by Mr. Vernon Mullen.

A shower was held Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Mullen and was largely attended. The newly weds received many lovely gifts, also money. They will reside in Hillsdale.

Digby Children's Home Now Open

(by Edith M. Wallis)

The fact that the Children's Home in Digby employs a superintendent, an assistant, a receptionist-stenographer, a teacher, sixteen child care personnel, two domestics and one utility man is not the chief consequence of the Home in Digby. Nor is the fact that merchants supply foods and other necessities of much significance. One visit to the Home dispels any thought of the Children's Home being of monetary benefit to Digby as honorable and as welcome as such a prospect can be. Paramount in the visitor's mind is that the children under the roof of the Home, all retarded, and some more so than others, are receiving love and happiness given by persons dedicated to the care of these children.

The Children's Home, formerly, Digby General Hospital (above) was opened on Monday. The capacity of the Home is 40 and by tomorrow the superintendent, Mrs. Dorothy Smyth, expects to have admitted twenty-one.

My visit to the Home on Thursday was a revealing and heart-rending experience, one which aroused both sympathy and joy. Sympathy, because one must admit the lives of the children cannot be normal as that of most of us, and joy to know that life for these children will be, at least, lived to capacity under constant guidance and care. Already those on the staff with whom we spoke had noted advancement in some of the children from Monday to Thursday to be sure the advancement was in very simple things like learning to associate with others, to care for their own basic needs where possible, to sit still. They learn to use the most simple and safe in the line of educational toys and uncomplicated toys for sheer enjoyment.

The welcome received from the superintendent and her assistant, Mrs. Joan Thibault, R.N., was typical of the friendly atmosphere throughout the home in presence of children and staff. Indeed, the welcome mat is open to visitors, we understand, particularly those visitors who are willing to give of their time, their love and understanding to help care for the children at the Home. Another Children's Home was opened in Pictou on Monday and one was opened at Beaverbank in December. All of the Homes receive children from ages 2 to 16 years from all over Nova Scotia. They are placed by an admission board under the Department of Welfare for the Province of Nova Scotia, which department operates the Homes. Only one of the children at the Digby Home is bed ridden.

On the Digby Children's Home staff is Mrs. Smyth who had operated the Lilac Nursing Home in Annapolis Royal for fourteen years and was on the staff of the Annapolis Hospital for 4 years. Mrs. Thibault had been at the Digby General Hospital for 14 years, ten of which she was an operating room nurse. The receptionist-stenographer is Mrs. Evelyn Jefferson and the classroom teacher is Mrs. Nancy Lewis. Gulliver's Cove, The two domestics are Mrs. Emogene Barton and Mrs. Rita Robicheau. Digby, Wilfred Small is utility man and the child care staff consists of Mrs. Mary Barton, Mrs. Eleanor Elms, Mrs. Erna Henshaw, Mrs. Mary Kaulback, Miss Diane Porter, Mrs. Evangeline Francis, Miss Valerie Comeau, Mrs. Mildred Woodworth, Mrs. Annie Corn-

Terms Of Reference Said Vague

In reply to a question posed at the meeting on transportation held at Kentville on Monday, Pat Nowlan, M.P. for Digby-Annapolis-Kings said the terms of reference in the Atlantic Development Board study regarding Digby-Saint John ferry service were "vague". This service has been a major issue with boards of trade in Western Nova Scotia for some time. Any Atlantic area study that does not take in that essential transportation link is not going to solve a basic problem in Western Nova Scotia, Mr. Nowlan said.

The meeting, held at Cornwallis Inn, heard talks and panel discussions by leading businessmen on the subject of transportation.

Second rate transportation of our products is just not good enough, a fact that had better be fully realized by all concerned if we are to expand the Atlantic economy to full potential, said R. G. Smith of National Sea Products Ltd., Halifax. He said that all-weather main highways are essential. Transportation costs also came under discussion.

Mr. Smith said "situated as we are at great distance from markets, transportation costs are of particular importance to shippers and freight rates must be kept low if we are to compete successfully for business." Mr. Smith is also vice-president of the Maritime Transportation Commission.

Also speaking on costs Craig S. Dickson, executive manager of the Maritime Transportation Commission, Moncton, said that while increased tonnage would be important to railroads, it would be important only if it yields greater profits.

"This means that a mere showing of increased business for the railroad will not in and of itself, bring the required rate. It may be that the railroad is now carrying this traffic from another source at a rate which yields it a greater revenue."

He suggested the carrier be treated fairly in respect to losses and damage claims by proper packaging when considering things a shipper can do to protect his interests in transportation and its costs.

In discussion of the legislation to establish a national policy on transportation, passed recently by the Commons and Senate, John Magee, general manager of the Canadian Trucking Association, Ottawa, said gains of the trucking industry under the new act were "tremendous".

State Secretary, Judy LaMarsh —

No Definite Decision Made On Location Proposed New CBC Television Station

J. P. Nowlan, M.P.

But the gains did not confer special favors upon the industry.

W. G. Scott, manager, traffic research, Canadian Pacific Railway, Montreal, said the CPR did not seek to perpetuate its railway on the basis of subsidy, and was relieved to see an end to a situation that had prevailed since freight rates were first frozen in 1959.

"What we seek is a climate where there is equal competitive opportunity, a type of regulation that does not restrict us in the exercise of our particular advantage of low cost operation, in competing for traffic, nor in adjusting our plant and operations to the necessity of changed market conditions."

Will Annapolis Valley shippers be "captives" of the Canadian Pacific Railway, during the 6 or 7 months of the year when truck weight restrictions are in force on the highway?

In answer to this question at the transportation conference CPR executive W. G. Scott said if the shipper felt rail rates were excessive, he could negotiate with the CPR for a better deal. If he was still not satisfied, the newly formed Transportation Commission would hear the complaint.

The Commission may prescribe a maximum freight rate for the period of time the Nova Scotia highways are closed to full loads on trucks, Mr. Scott said.

Nova Scotia Liberty Party Leader, Gerald Regan, chaired a panel in the evening on distribution costs.

About 150 attended the meeting. Those from Digby were H. M. Warne, Digby; E. Adelaar, Weymouth; Bernard LeBlanc, Belliveau's Cove.

In a telegram to the Digby Board of Trade Miss Judy LaMarsh, Secretary of State, caused concern to groups in said "Board of Broadcast the Western Annapolis Valley Governors and Canadiana, Inc. The Valley would not be Broadcasting Corporation" within the prime coverage area of a Fredericton station, age pattern in your region to and after the proposed new ensure maximum possible use station is on the air, it is of available channels. Unable to understand the Saint John to give you any definite word station, now providing CBC on plans at this stage but am service to Nova Scotians from drawing your representations Middleton to Meteghan, will to both BBC and CBC."

The telegram was in re-work. It is feared that unless sponse to one sent last week action is taken to locate the by Digby area Trade Boards new station in Saint John, the requesting that a proposed western Valley area will lose new CBC TV station be built service from the CBC net- in Saint John. The possibility work.

Woman Of The Year

Mrs. Leslie Elvin Stewart, formerly Miss Myrtle Rice of Bear River was named the Winchendon Women's Club "Woman of the Year" at Winchendon, Mass.

Mrs. Stewart, who is Winchendon's District Nurse, was confined to bed in Burbank Hospital in February when she received the citation and award. She had several bouts with illness earlier and recently she had fallen on the ice and sustained a broken hip. Presently she is convalescing in a nursing home in Garden-er, Mass.

The award was based on Mrs. Stewart's many activities, typical of which were the local families at Winchendon that had Christmas and Thanks-giving because Mrs. Stewart solicited friends and neighbors for contributions for holiday food baskets. Friends of Mrs. Stewart agree that one of her special talents is that she understands and has compassion for the older people. Other recognition received by Mrs. Stewart was a money tree of $400 on her birthday.

Mrs. Stewart, now 70, received her nurse's training at Symmes Arlington Hospital, and went to Winchendon in 1925 to serve as a school nurse. For the past twenty years she has been the town's district nurse.

Mrs. Stewart is an aunt of Mrs. R. R. Winchester, Bear River.

No Decision On Ferry

Premier Stanfield said that the provincial government had not made any decision as to where a second ferry service between this province and New England should have its Nova Scotia terminus.

He said the matter of selecting a terminus was still under consideration. But the province had made no recommendation to the federal government as to where it should be located.

The premier, in questions put to him by Opposition House Leader Nicholson, said it would not be "practical or prudent" for the provincial government to approach the matter "unilaterally." Without the federal government's assistance such a move would mean the province would have to accept the full responsibility of the project, he said.

"We believe we have a part to play but we do not believe we should go ahead unilaterally. We should assist the Government of Canada in this regard," said Premier Stanfield. Asked if the government had made up its mind about the relative merits of one site as opposed to another, the Premier said, "No."

Chronicle-Herald

The Digby General Hospital Ladies Auxiliary will hold their monthly meeting Monday night at 8 o'clock in the cafeteria. Co-hostess, Mrs. Sangster, Mrs. A. Thomas, Mrs. George Winfield and Mrs. Paul Winchester.

Hospital Requests Assistance In Financing

Representatives of the Digby General Hospital Board will approach municipal bodies requesting forgiveness of interest charges on outstanding obligations to municipalities and also of their differential revenue commitment for a certain length of time, according to a motion passed at the Digby General Hospital Board meeting held last Thursday night. The motion followed the annual report of the president, F. C. Purdy. The request, if granted, would tide the hospital financing over a period until bank borrowing obligations had been attended to and then the obligations to municipalities would resume.

Owing to inclement weather only approximately twenty were able to attend the meeting held at the Digby Regional High School.

Areas of concern during the year, Mr. Purdy said, were staffing, salary adjustments and change in administration. He complimented the nursing staff, generally working in short supply of personnel, in the high standard of patient care. There was a sharp rise in the number of patients with total patient days exceeding 21,000. This was 5,000 more than had been expected. Patient days were accounted for in these percentages — Municipality of Digby, 60; Digby Town, 17.2; Clare, 12.4; Annapolis Municipality, 6.4; CFB Cornwallis, 2.2 and 1.8 in other sections. He compared these percentages with the capital investments of each area: Digby Municipality, 52.3 percent; Digby, 35.3; Clare, 6.2; Annapolis Municipality, 6.2.

While new born had declined extensively in other areas, the decline in new born at the Digby General Hospital from 1965 to 1966 were only 11.

Speaking further on finances, it was noted that there were essential replacements on equipment during the year. The equipment which had come from the old hospital had outlived its usefulness.

Both Mr. Purdy and E. Y. Porter, administrator, reported that the year 1966 had seen a severe shortage of nurses in Digby, as has been general throughout Canada. Mr. Porter gave credit to nursing assistants, aides and orderlies that the hospital was able to operate. He reported patient admissions of 2,017 an increase of 396 over 1965; new-born 288; number of operations 1,547, increase 445; laboratory units 45,574.

Film Available

V. G. Cardozo has on hand the film "And Now" available to private persons or clubs wishing to make use of it without charge except for shipping costs from Warwick St., Digby, to the destination. The production, in color, by Crawley Films, was commissioned by the Nova Scotia Voluntary Planning Board.

A. R. Harrington, chairman of the Board, states:

"I hope the message of this film will reach all Nova Scotians and I hope that organizations throughout the province will make sure everyone has a chance to see it."

The individual's stake in economic planning is dramatically presented in the film.

It gives a broad picture of Nova Scotians at work in the province's various industries, and points up the necessity of sound planning now if people are to achieve the way of life made possible by their resources and developing opportunities.

Does Well In Festival

At the twenty-second annual Queens County Music Festival held in the Liverpool Junior High School, Mount Pleasant Senior Choral Group made a fine showing with a mark of 85, which was the highest in the class. The Junior Choral Group took second place with a mark of 85.

Soloists from the school also received good adjudication from David Thomson, former Superintendent of Music with the Dept. of Education of New Brunswick, who was adjudicator.

The music was under the direction of Mrs. Gerald Freeman and Larry Woodman, Smith's Cove, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Woodman, who was also accompanist for these entrants. Mrs. Freeman and Mr. Woodman are teachers at Mount Pleasant School.

Accident At Port Maitland

Merle R. Peters, of Deep Brook, escaped serious injury Saturday at Port Maitland, Yarmouth County, when his car was involved in a head-on collision. Mr. Peters suffered facial bruises and his glasses were smashed by the impact.

He had taken his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Peters, to their home at Port Maitland. Later he went on an errand to the business section where the accident, which caused extensive damage to both cars, occurred.

DEBATE FAVORS PETITE CAUSEWAY

If government decisions depend on conclusions of high school debates, then a causeway across Petit Passage between East Ferry and Tiverton, Digby County, should become a reality within a short space of time. Grade XI and XII students of the Islands Consolidated School debated the question on Friday night with the affirmative arguments winning the resolution. "Resolved that the construction of a causeway across Petit Passage would be beneficial to Long Island and Briar Island. Holding up the affirmative were Misses Betty Jo MacIntyre, Louise MacBeth and Loretta Crocker, all of Freeport. The negative was supported by John Small, Central Grove; Miss Rickie Robicheau, Westport, and Ray MacBeth, Freeport, Chairman, of the debate and other functions was supervisor of the school, D. B. MacBeth. Judges were Rev. J. W. Derby, Freeport; Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Digby; and John Jay, Digby and Little River.

The debate was part of a Family Night program held at the school to raise funds to transport students of grades X, XI and XII to Halifax, where they will visit Dalhousie University and other places of educational, cultural and industrial interests. The sum total of $123 was raised on Friday night. Included in the program was a panel discussion on "Are Today's Youth Responsible?" card games and other amusements, dance and a food sale. David Titus was chairman of the panel discussion. Other participants were Luvanna Outhouse, Tiverton; Ruth Kenzie, Freeport; Lovetta Crocker, Janet Peters and Betty Jo MacIntyre, Freeport. Chief arguments in the panel had responsibility on parents for any irresponsibility in youth. Parents were asked to lend encouragement, to help the youth and not criticize. Misunderstanding in the home and lack of security were scored as affecting behaviour of youth. The panel was concerned that the example of elders was often poor for teenagers and named use of alcohol, drugs, loose morals and fast driving, as detriments seen by youth in elders. The panel felt that more should be provided for youth in the form of amusement or Youth Centres and that more love and understanding of youth should be found in the home.

The affirmative decision by the debate judges was based mainly on depth of arguments showing much research and use of competent survey material having been used extensively. Presentations were well and orderly made on both sides climaxing to a free and easy battle of words and arguments to bring the debate to an interesting and exciting conclusion. Debate arguments were many on both the affirmative and negative sides with the affirmative delving into costs of repairs and upkeep of the present system of transportation over the Passage. They argued the benefits to the fishing industry on the Islands, the employment which would be provided in the construction of the causeway and by the improvement in industry. Comparisons were made of the quantity and value of fish caught by Islanders and mainland fishermen to prove a causeway would be beneficial. The provision of a harbour by (Please turn to page 6)

Digby Juniors Defeated

Last Friday evening at the Digby Forum the newly formed Digby Juniors were defeated 3-1 by an all star team from C.F.B. Cornwallis. The Digby Junior team has been holding practices at the Forum afternoons after school and on some evenings under the direction of Stan Vidito and Mr. Fred Muise. Thanks must be given these two men for taking an interest in forming a Junior team in this area and plans are underway for the forming of a league next season.

The game on Friday night was very poorly attended by local people and it is hoped that in future games a greater effort can be made by some to attend and give support to these young hockey stars of their own local area.

The game opened up with Digby getting a quick goal from D. Doucette (P. Hewitt), but this lead was lost when Stark (Barefoot), scored. Then Barefoot (Paul), scored the winning goal of the game before Paul (Fraser), scored the clincher.

A return game is planned for Cornwallis in the near future. Any team wishing exhibition games against the Digby Juniors is asked to contact Mr. Stanley Vidito at the Digby Forum.

Cougars Win

Rollie Lee and Bruce Campbell fired three goals each to pace the Cornwallis Cougars to a 13-6 exhibition win over the Berwick Apple Kings. The Cougars jumped into a 3-0 first period lead, outscored Berwick 6-3 in the second and finished the third 4-3 in the free scoring contest.

Skip Solomon scored two for the Cougars and Phil Klinsman and Rod Dorey had a brace each for the Apple Kings.

C.Y.O. Ice Sports

By JERRY VANTASSEL

In the girls' broomball game, Weymouth's St. Joseph's girls beat defending champs, St. Pat's from Digby. The score was deadlocked 0-0 and went into overtime. Then, Linda Thibault scored the only marker to win the game. Weymouth now leads the series 1 game to 0.

In the hockey game, defending champions, St. Joe's of Weymouth eked out a victory over Holy Cross of Plympton. The final score was 4-2. Scoring for Weymouth was done by George Comeau, Greg Mackin, Bernie Belliveau and D. Lefort each scored one goal for the winners.

Lloyd Robicheau and Donnie Robicheau scored singletons for the losers. The game was very close with several flareups when tempers got out of hand and we would like to express our appreciation to the officials, Dave Wood and Buddy Thubert for the fine job they did handling the game.

Weymouth will now meet St. Pat's in the final series for the championship.

The games were followed by an hour of skating.

Meteghan Bows To Thunderbirds

Belliveau Cove Thunderbirds won the first game of the semi-final series of the Western Counties Hockey League by downing Meteghan 13 to 4.

The Thunderbirds took a 3-2 lead in the first period when Thurber, J. Mullen and Adrien Belliveau each scored singles while J. P. Vallee and Emery Maillet scored for Meteghan.

The Thunderbirds notched five unanswered goals in the second period with Thurber, A. Belliveau, R. Lefort, P. Blinn and D. Belliveau each scoring.

The Thunderbirds scored five more in the third against two by Meteghan. Buddy Thurber scored his third goal in this period and D. Belliveau scored two. Adrien Belliveau also tallied twice. Alain Comeau scored two for Meteghan.

Church Point Falcons and Saulnierville Cooks Dairy played to a 2-2 tie in regulation game of the Western Counties League and played two overtime periods before Saulnierville emerged the winner, 3-2.

The first period was scoreless and in the second period the Falcons took a 2-1 lead when Jean D. Comeau and P. Boudreau scored while Yvon Thibault scored Saulnierville's lone goal of the period. Alain McCauley tied it up in the third period and Richard Saulnier netted the winner for Saulnierville in the sudden overtime period.

Meteghan Teams Split In CJHL

Meteghan Flyers went down to defeat at the hands of Saulnierville, 7-6, in a hotly contested game in the Clare Juvenile Hockey League.

Saulnierville went ahead 3-1 in the first period with G. Comeau scoring twice and H. LeBlanc and Alain Maillet scoring singles with Delbert Theriault scoring the Flyers lone goal of the period.

Each team scored three goals in the second period. G. Comeau scored twice and Alain scored one for Saulnierville while Paul Comeau scored twice and Delbert Theriault scored a single for Meteghan.

Thomas LeBlanc scored in the third period for Saulnierville and Julien Pothier and Delbert Theriault added singles for Meteghan.

Meteghan Lions downed Church Point 6-4 in a Juvenile Hockey League game. The first period ended in a 1-1 tie with Russel Comeau scoring for Church Point and Donald Melanson for the Lions.

Meteghan outscored the losers 4-2 in the second. Wilard Comeau, Marcel Thibodeau, Paul L. Deveau and Don Melanson each scored singles for Meteghan while Russell Comeau and Rhea LeBlanc scored for Church Point.

The teams traded single goals in the third period with Junior Gennette scoring for Church Point and Ronald Comeau for Meteghan.

Service Bonselpiel in Bridgetown

Three teams from Digby were entered in the Annual Valley Service Club Curling Bonselpiel, held last week in Bridgetown. The three teams entered from Digby were R.C.M.P., Digby Lions, and the Digby Kiwanis Club. The bonselpiel began on Tuesday and ran through Wednesday. The Digby Lions Club posted a 2-1 record in which they defeated the Digby R.C.M.P. by a score of 12-2 and then defeated Kentville Legion by a score of 10-1 before losing to Windsor Juniors 9-3. The other club from Digby lost their matches. The teams were as follows: Digby R.C.M.P.

Joop Plomp, skip, Gerry Howard, mate; Earl Hamilton, second; Clayton Dyke, lead.

Digby Lions

Jack McClinton, skip, Mac Duffus, mate; Bryce Belyea, second; Austin Algee, lead.

Digby Kiwanis

Dr. McCleave, skip; John Ritchie, mate; R. Stonehouse, second; Bill MacLeod, lead; Stu. McNaughton, spare.

The three Digby teams were well entertained by the curlers.

Western Counties Bonselpiel

The Western Counties Annual Bonselpiel is celebrating its 40th anniversary at the Lunenburg Curling Club, getting underway March 7th through March 9th. This bonselpiel is one of the oldest in Canada. Thirteen teams are expected to take part. Greenwood captured top honors in 1964-67-66, and are defending champions. The major trophy is the Rolston Cup, donated by the late Hon. James Layton Rolston, and the Dykes Shield as runner up prize, donated by C. E. Dykes of Yarmouth.

Bridgewater and Lunenburg have won the bonselpiel six times while Yarmouth has won it on five different occasions. Digby has yet to win the Rolston Cup.

Four teams in the Digby Curling Club are scheduled to start play for the Western Counties playdown. It will be a double knockout competition in which the winner will represent Digby in the Western Counties Bonselpiel.

Mixed Bonselpiel Successful

The Digby Curling Club held their third annual mixed bonselpiel on Friday and Saturday in which twenty-two teams took part. The winning team was skipped by Aubrey Hawkins. With him were Marsha Hoare, mate; Gerald Hoare, second; and Pauline Hawkins, lead. The runner-up team was composed of Joe Turnbull, skip; Jean Turnbull, mate; Bob Morgan, second; Vera Morgan, lead. A consolation prize was presented to Pop Hanson and his team which was composed of himself, skip; Don McDonald, mate; Guy Hamilton, second; Mary Porter, lead.

A delightful supper was served. The bonselpiel closed with the awarding of prizes to the winners.

District Hockey

The high flying Marshalltown Hawks defeated the Mountain Flyers 4-2 in a closely fought contest. This game insured Marshalltown of a first place finish in the District League. Scoring for the Marshalltown team was done by S. Doucette (J. Simms), Jun. Simms (L. Jordan), D. Frances, E. Melanson (S. Doucette). The Flyers got their goals from D. Doucette (A. Thibodeau), D. Doucette (R. Hatfield, S. Morrell).

The second game of the evening saw the Digby Generals get on the winning road with a 7-5 decision over Centreville entry. This was the first win of the season for the Generals. The team was sparked by a three goal performance by the team captain, Ernie Gaudet. The scoring goes as follows for the Generals, B. Walker (P. Hewitt), W. Snow (P. Hewitt), P. Hewitt (W. Snow), E. Gaudet, E. Gaudet (W. Snow), P. Hewitt (E. Gaudet), E. Gaudet (W. Snow). The Centreville goals came from A. Wilson (R. Walker), G. Titus (L. Budd), L. Budd, G. Titus (L. Budd), G. Tidd.

If you thought Pontiac was coming out with just another sports car, you don't know Pontiac!

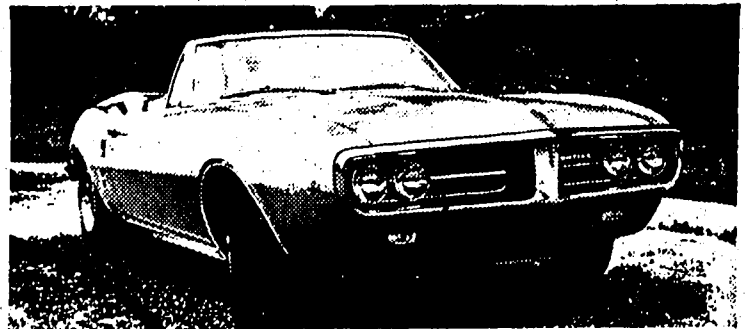

Pontiac announces not one, two, three or four, but five magnificent new Firebirds for every kind of driving.

Now you can choose from five new Firebirds with the same advanced Pontiac styling, but with five entirely different driving personalities. And they all come with supple expanded vinyl interiors, wood grain styled dash, exclusive space-saver collapsible spare, bucket seats and wide-oval tires.

Firebird 400. Coiled under those dual scoops is a 400 cubic inch V-8 that shrugs off 325 hp. It's connected to a floor-mounted heavy-duty three speed. On special suspension with redline wide-oval tires. This could be called the ultimate in grand touring. After this, there isn't any more.

Firebird HO. HO stands for High Output. As a split second behind the wheel will attest to. The Firebird HO boasts a 285-hp V-8 with a four-barrel carburetor, dual exhausts and sportstripping. Standard stick is a column-mounted three-speed. Naturally, all Firebird options are available.

Firebird 326. Is there room for a family in a sports car? There is now. The excitement of a sports car with the practicality of a 326 cubic inch V-8 that delivers 250 hp on regular gas. Standard transmission is an all-synchro three-speed, but you can order an automatic.

Firebird Sprint. Now you don't have to go to Europe for a sophisticated road machine. This is the 215-hp version of our eager Overhead Cam Six. It's mounted on special suspension that practically welds it to the road. (Any road!) With a floor-mounted all-synchro 3-speed.

Firebird. This is our economy Firebird—with the same exciting options and interiors as the more exotic ones. It's Overhead Cam Six squeezes 165 hp from regular for inexpensive fun driving. See him all at your Pontiac dealer's.

Gold At Victoria Bridge?

From the files of the Courier, July 11, 1890, we take the following: "The gold bearing quartz discovered in the deep railway cutting near Victoria Bridge has been subjected to an assay by Balfour Brown of Yarmouth. The following is the result: No. 1 seam, quartz, gold, $42 per ton; silver, none. No. 2, $31.50. No. 3, quartz and slate, $26.00. No. 4, slate, $10.40. This appears to settle the question of gold in this country. No. 1 seam averages 14 inches in width, the others are wider."

IN MEMORIAM

PORTER - In loving memory of Gerald Porter who lost his life in the sinking of the Nova doc, March 3rd, 1947. May heaven's winds blow softly Over that sweet and hallowed spot. Where one we love lies sleeping. Who will never be forgot. Always remembered by mother, father, sisters and brothers. 23:1p

HERSEY - In loving memory of my dear mother, Alice Mae Hersey, who passed away March 3rd, 1953. Fourteen years have passed since that sad day. That one we loved was called away. God took her home, it was his will. But in our hearts she liveth still. Sadly missed by your loving daughters, Marjorie and Bernice and Evelyn. 23:1c

HARNISH - In loving memory of our dear daughter and sister who passed away March 2nd, 1963. Four years have passed since that sad day. When one we loved was called away. God took her home it was his will. But with our hearts she liveth still. Always remembered by Mum and Dad, Sisters and Brothers. 23:1p

MULLEN - In loving memory of a daughter and sister, Kathleen Mullen, who passed away February 22nd, 1952. As the golden gates stood open. Fifteen years ago today. With farewells left unspoken. She sadly slipped away. God knew that you were weary. The hills too steep to climb. So he gently took your hand in his and whispered "Peace be thine." Always remembered and sadly missed by Dad (Mr. William Nesbitt), sister and brothers. 23:1c

HILL - In loving memory of Linda Hill who passed away March 5th, 1964. It seems so strange that those we need. And those we love the best. Are just the ones God calls away. And takes them home to rest. Lovingly remembered by Mommie and Daddy. 23:1c

ROBICHEAU - In loving memory of my dear Dad, Edward John, who passed away March 5th, 1966. He left us quietly. His thoughts unknown. But left us a memory. We are proud to own. So treasure him, Lord. In your garden of rest. For when on earth. He was one of the best. Always remembered by his daughter, Helen and her husband, Larry. 23:1c

ADAMS - This poem entitled "Uncle Allen" was written in August 1935 and is about Wm. Allen Adams of Bayview who suffered with gangrene of the foot for nearly four years prior to his passing, February 27th, 1936. The poem was probably written by a U.S. tourist friend. A white haired old man, with one foot on a chair. Sits day after day with patience quite rare. Deep blue are his eyes. As blue as the sea. Where deep in his heart he is longing to be. All his eighty four years he has lived by the sea. Like St. Peter of old, a fisherman he. And his faith in his Master, renews courage each day. He may not understand, but he will not give way. By his little white house, runs the little main street. So the neighbors in passing, find him easy to greet. So he sits there all day, with his Bible and glasses. A verse to sustain him, a smile for the passers. Just a white haired old man, but so cheerful and bright. That the passerby visions his Haven of Light. Lovingly remembered by his son and grand-son, Fred and Harry Adams, Bayview. 23:1p

HOWARD - I wish to extend my sincere thanks to my friends and relatives, who sent cards, letters, treats, and flowers, and visited me while I was a patient in Digby General Hospital. Special thanks to Dr. Black, Dr. Birsell, nurses and staff on 2nd floor. Mrs. Charles Howard. 23:1p

CARDOZA - I wish to thank all those who sent me cards, letters, flowers and who visited me while I was in the hospital. Your kindness and thoughtfulness is deeply appreciated. - George C. Cardoza. 23:1p

Digby defeated Annapolis 18-5, Bridgetown 20-4, and Middleton 24-3. All in all, Digby girls scored 62 points, while other Valley schools could only rack up 12.

Congratulations, girls!

The junior boys did not fare so well. They played well, but were defeated in all their games. The team consisted of Paul Theriault, Peter Armstrong, Roddy Robicheau, Gary Miller, Terry Mudge, Billy Patterson, Jerry Van Tassel, Paul Ryan, Mark Kilam, Willard Doucette, Joey Turnbull and Roger Marshall.

The scores are as follows: Annapolis 23, Digby 13; Digby 17, Bridgetown 28; Middleton 21, Digby 7.

well, Charles Francis, Winston Wells, Earl R. Waterman, Donald Davidson, Edward Essex and Alden Cromwell.

Dr. D. E. Lewis makes regular professional visits to the Home as doctor-in-charge.

Entering the old Digby General Hospital very little but the stairs and elevator, both of which are used, looks familiar. To the left and right are the offices. The newly painted rooms are in green, yellow, pink and blue, and will have draperies of matching color scheme. There are two bed and four bed dormitories where the children learn to live together in harmony. The beds are all neatly made with attractive spreads emphasizing order and tidiness. Several utility stations and bathing stations are found on both floors and especially designed to meet the needs and safety of the retarded child. Closets for linen are also in good supply. Regular washing is done at the new hospital, but personal washing for children and mending is done at the Home. One isolation ward with two beds and crib exists.

Food for the children is prepared at the new Digby General hospital and brought to the dining room of the Home. By trial the superintendent finds the most sought after suitable foods and provides these frequently as well as special dishes as gifts. The Home has its own kitchen with supplies and refrigerators.

There are two playrooms, one on the second floor and one in the basement. In the basement can be found the classroom with suitable furniture, toys, modelling clay, chalk boards, skipping ropes and other toys especially designed to give physiotherapy for strengthening limbs. A visitors room and staff lounges can also be found.

A day at the Children's Home begins about eight o'clock when the children are prepared, taken to the dining room where the meal is served and the children are taught to eat by themselves if possible. A play period comes next. Baths and toilet care are also part of the days routine. Next they go to the upstairs play-the construction of a causeway and a possible ferry service to Maine were arguments set forth. It was agreed that tourists would flock to the Islands and native people would have incentives to stay on the islands. Advantages of a causeway for more adequate police protection were named and advantages in cultural and educational aspects were presented. A point was made for the advantages of a causeway in transporting ill patients to hospital.

The negative disagreed on many aspects and argued that the people from the mainland would usurp their jobs, they would come to the islands with snowploughs and other machinery to do the work which native islanders do now.

The negative tried to prove that undesirable from the mainland would have easy and unidentifiable access to the Islands bringing more crime with greater police protection. The negative side deplores the fact that independence and the friendly community spirit would disappear from the islands if a causeway was constructed. They endeavoured to prove educational and cultural advantages which the school on the Islands now provide superior to many advantages on the mainland.

Previous to Family Night on Friday, the students of the Islands Consolidated School held a valentine party when a sum of $50 was raised. Valentine princess and prince chosen were Freda Robicheau, Westport and Roy Cassaboon, Tiverton.

Fish

Recipe Swap

Digby County is fish country. Why not advertise the fact by featuring fish dishes? What better way can we celebrate centennial than to offer to our expected increased influx of tourists our best and fanciest sea-food dishes this summer?

With this in mind we are opening our columns for a swap of sea-food recipes. You are invited to submit your choicest and we ask that you allow us to use your name. We'd even suggest you make some interesting comment on where and when you got the recipe, if you wish.

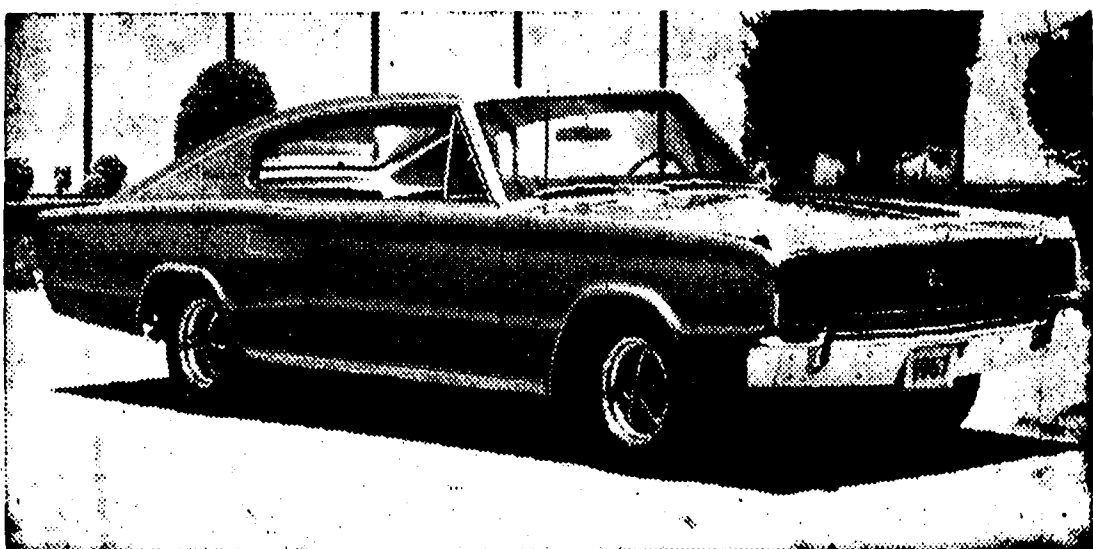

At the close of the summer season, by vote, the first five persons whose recipes are used most by our readers will receive each one year subscription to The Digby Courier.

Just to start the ball rolling the editor submits the following scallop recipe: We won't ask for votes on this one.

SCALLOP CASSEROLE

1 lb. scallops
1 can cream of mushroom soup
¼ cup fine dry bread crumbs, buttered

Separate scallops and cut into uniform size, if necessary. In a greased 1½ quart casserole, stir soup until smooth. Mix in scallops and top with bread crumbs. Bake in hot oven (450° F) for 20 minutes or until hot and bubbly. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

POTHIER SPEAKS IN N. S. HOUSE

Dr. H. J. Pothier,
Member for Clare

Monday, Feb. 20th, 1967

Mr. Speaker, the Speech from the Throne, read by His Honour the Lieutenant Governor, at the opening of the Session, gives evidence that our Government is determined to continue to show progress during the coming year.

We are all aware of the tremendous task to be undertaken, but we are confident that it will succeed, as it did in the past. It goes without saying that our present Government will help those who want to help themselves, and in the meantime, will give a great deal of assistance to those unfortunate, who can not help themselves.

Mr. Speaker, in this Centennial Year, if the Fathers of Confederation could look down and see the progress accomplished in this Province during the last 100 years, I am sure they would be deeply impressed and astonished.

This progress, Sir, did not just happen. It was brought about by keen foresight and good judgement, coupled with dedication and hard work. When I mention keen foresight, I mean the type that prevented the Bell Telephone Company to acquire control of the Maritime Tel. & Tel.

The citizens of this Province owe a great debt of gratitude to our Government. We have concrete evidence that this debt is well recognized by our people, by the results at the polls in the Fall of 1963.

Mr. Speaker, it is pleasing to learn from proposals Number 45 and 46, in the Throne Speech, that financial assistance will be given to municipalities for Police and Fire protection, street lighting, and other utilities. Also Number 45 to increase the grants to rural municipalities from 26¢ to $1.25 per capita.

Mr. Speaker, in my constituency, the economy (if I may use the classification according to the Voluntary Economic Planning) consists of the primary sectors of fishing, forestry, manufacturing, agriculture and the services sector.

Mr. Speaker, in Fisheries, we welcome proposal Number 14 in the Speech from the Throne, on flexible credit policies and training programs, also proposal 15, Municipal Tax exemption on boats and gear for inshore fishermen.

Sir, the landed value of fish in weight for 1966 in my constituency was 60,190,000 pounds, with landed value in dollars, of $2,439,000. This Mr. Speaker, was accomplished, regardless of the fact, that we have very inadequate harbor and wharf facilities along the St. Mary's Bay shores, from where our fleet of boats of all sizes is operating.

Sir, it was so well pointed out by the Honourable Member for Digby (Mr. R. B. Powell) in his excellent speech last Wednesday, one can visualize the tremendous handicap, especially for the larger druggers, to land their catch and seek shelter during stormy weather.

In some instances, it is necessary to dock at a distance of as much as 80 miles away, and transport the fish to the processing plants by truck.

Two years ago, the Federal Government started to build a one million dollar wharf at Saulnierville, which gave promise of being a boon to our fishing industry. Sir, it would appear that the engineers had under-rated the strength of our winds and tides. And unfortunately when this wharf had just come into usage, the first big storm on the eve of last Christmas, toppled the wharf over to an angle of over 10 degrees, making this structure useless and a menace in its present state.

Incidentally, during this storm, the President and part owner of the large Comeau Seafoods Plant, miraculously escaped with his life, while attempting to tie an extra line to one of the draggers moored at this wharf. This man is still in plaster cast. Now it is estimated that it will cost an extra $350,000 dollars, to repair the damage, and build a breakwater to protect this area will be given to municipalities for Police and Fire protection, street lighting, and other utilities. Also Number 45 to increase the grants to rural municipalities from 26¢ to $1.25 per capita.

At Meteghan, extended addition to the Public Wharf is urgently needed to accommodate the over crowded fleet lying there. At Meteghan River, where the A. F. Theriault & Sons Shipyard is located, giving steady employment to more than 150 men — they are laboring under a big disadvantage, due to lack of docking facilities. A pier, protected by a breakwater is badly needed there also.

Other wharves, further up the St. Mary's Bay shores, require much needed repairs. It is said, that Ottawa admits that shipbuilding for fishing, is running far ahead of the building of wharf facilities in Southwestern Nova Scotia.

If the Federal Government is at all sympathetic to the economy of this region, it should take immediate action toward starting building and maintaining wharves, to keep pace with the fast growing industry, which is so vital to all the nation.

Our Provincial Department of Fisheries is doing its utmost to put this industry on a sound and scientific basis, but we are not empowered to provide wharves and dredging where needed.

Mr. Speaker, as to forestry, we welcome proposals Number 11, 12 and 13 in the Throne Speech, which apply to this sector. This industry is keeping our sawmills and secondary manufacturing plants and shipyards working at full capacity the year round. The surplus of the products from the forest, is exported as lumber and pulp wood.

Construction has been fairly active in my constituency, with 64 new homes built within the last two years. A good barometer of our growing economy is the amount of electrical energy consumed during 1966. This amounted to 9,974,000 K.W.H., an increase of one and a half million K.W.H. over 1965.

Mr. Speaker, in agriculture, farming as such is not a big factor in Clare. Whatever is produced is for family use or the immediate local market. However, milk farming is one of the biggest sources of revenue in our Municipality. This industry suffered some what of a setback last year, due to the lower prices received for pells.

Mr. Speaker, on behalf of the people of Clare, I wish to thank the Hon. Minister of Highways (Hon. S. T. Pyke) and his able staff, for the excellent job of repaving Number 1 Highway, from Weymouth to Darling Lake in Yarmouth County. And for the fine bridge at Meteghan River. Also the paving of roads to our fish processing plants.

I can assure the Hon. Minister that these improvements to our roads are deeply appreciated by my constituents. I know that the Hon. Minister is aware of the fact that we still have important, secondary roads that need to be paved. We are looking forward for these improvements as soon as the money is available.

Mr. Speaker, permit me at this time to offer sincere thanks to the Hon. Minister of Trade and Industry (Hon. W. S. K. Jones) for bringing (Please turn to page 12)

Watson Peck, Bear River, Chairman St. John Ambulance

A veteran Nova Scotia guide and sportsman who has tracked down many a quarry in the forest lands and lakes of Nova Scotia, has joined the Provincial Campaign of St. John Ambulance, February 15th.

He is Watson Peck of Bear River, himself a certified first aid instructor who knows full well the importance of being trained in First Aid.

Mr. Peck joins a distinguished group of campaign chairmen who have volunteered under general Chairman M. H. Sarty to seek $30,000 during the Centennial Year drive for funds to assist the work of St. John Ambulance.

Report From Parliament Hill

By

Pat Nowlan

Digby-Annapolis-Kings

February 17th, 1967.

This week's session revolved around and about Parliament, but many took place outside of it. The House primarily debated the budget and ran out the debate on Mr. Sarty's budget. Amendments to the Excise Act, the Old Age Security Act, deposit insurance for the Federal Bank, and amendments to the Small Business Loan Act occupied most of the time.

While the House of all with these basic but rather colourless legislative business, the interest of the Press turned to the Defence Committee hearings on unification, the pending announcement of Mr. Hees on leadership and the sudden and unexpected illness of Premier Roberts in Ontario.

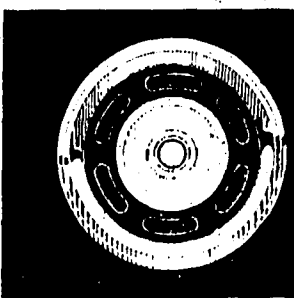

The Defence Committee has begun to call the many experts on unification. A spokesman for the Department of National Defence supporting the plan was immediately followed by Admirals Brock and Landrymore, who bombarded both the principle of unification and the way it is being carried out. The opening sessions of the committee were marked with some unpleasantness as the members got somewhat personal with each other and invective and temporarily forgot to discuss the issue on its merits. This perhaps is not too surprising in view of the very real and continued emotion Mr. Hees's plans have aroused throughout the country. For instance at one stage in the Throne Speech debate a young Government backbencher suggested that if the opposition of the Admirals to unification was an indication of how they fought then perhaps they should all resign. Such a comment of course provoked several nasty but pertinent replies from Members who had service experience, and actually were defending this country when the Member in question was in swaddling clothes. The hearings of the Defence Committee are expected to take some time.

The time and place of the Conservative convention and possible contenders for the leadership mantle occupied a good deal of conversation in the rooms and around the corridors. The Western Members are upset about the September date as it's conflicts with harvest time and the fact it is being held in Toronto accentuated their displeasure. When Mr. Disenbaker requested the convention be held at the earliest possible date it turns out that practical considerations rule out any date before late June, and September was unanimously chosen by the Executive Committee of the Conservative Association after weighing all the factors. Especially the availability of hotel accommodation in this very busy centennial year. It appears Toronto is the only city that has the available hotel accommodation until after EXPO. And it is obvious that no date

Worship Service Of Scouts Held

The annual worship service for the Scouts and Cubs was held in the school auditorium on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Baden Powell and Prof. W. J. Belliveau were speakers for the occasion, and the service was chaired by Mr. Roy Rice. Rev. A. G. Peters opened the service with prayer and the closing prayer was given by Mr. Albert Jones. Mrs. Ted Robicheau and Mrs. Don Gidney, cub leaders were in attendance with a full cub pack, and Mr. Atwell and John Jones were in charge of the scout troop. Mrs. L. U. Wood accompanied the hymns with her accordion.

Coasting Party

A very enjoyable social evening was enjoyed by thirty young people when the C.Y.F. of the Church of Christ (Disciples) invited the B.Y.F. of the Ashmore United Baptist Church to unite with them in an evening of fun and activities. The first hour was spent tobogganing, followed by games of crokinole and checkers in the church hall. Refreshments were hot dogs, cakes, soft drinks and dishes of homemade ice cream topped with strawberries or chocolate sauce.

Following the refreshments the young people joined hands for a closing circle of prayer and the singing of "Into My Heart".

Both groups expressed their gratitude for being able to share in such an evening of fun and fellowship.

The Physician And The Campesinos

Though urbanization is everywhere upon their lands, over 100 million Latin Americans today still are no part of the big, blooming city.

They are campesinos, country folk, much like the members of the family here, in the Guatemalan village of Santa Maria Cauque. And their home is usually a settlement of less than 2,000 inhabitants, one of many dotting the topography of 20 Latin American nations.

But no matter the country of the campesinos, theirs is a common lot of malnourishment, and poor education, and low income. They are beset by high mortality rates — for the age group 15 to 45, in some cases, their rate is three times higher than the urbanites'. An estimated 40 million of them need potable water now.

In short, they are generally the last group to benefit from national programs for improved health and welfare.

Yet, the campesinos count for a sizeable chunk of Latin America's total population. In fact, for about one half of it.

Because of such compelling facts, Dr. Abraham Horwitz, director of the Pan American Sanitary Bureau, regional office for the World Health Organization, rates the improvement of the rural Latin Americans' life and livelihood as the foremost challenge to hemisphere public health.

He speaks with impressive credentials — as recently re-elected director, to his third four-year term beginning February 1, of a continent-wide health program, and as a 1966 winner of a ranking U.S. honor, the Bronfman prize.

Awarded to him by the American Public Health Association,

PHYSICIAN'S VISIT — Making a house call in rural Guatemala, along with a vigorous point, is Dr. Abraham Horwitz of Chile, in 1966 a top newsmaker in international public health, and, with the New Year, an advocate of health as an agenda item for a projected inter-American summit conference.

socialism, the prize is for "adroit and diplomatic leadership that has resulted in unprecedented advances in the improvement of health services in the hemisphere".

The Chilean physician opens the New Year message in exactly such a role — as a chief advocate for health topics, and prime among them, rural health, as agenda items for a projected Western Hemisphere heads of state summit scheduled for April.

The idea of an inter-American summit has gained steady support for over a year, with chiefs of state of Chile, Colombia, Ecuador, Peru, the United States, and Venezuela among those coming out for it.

Though a summit agenda is still in the making, as are the place and the exact days for the party to be decided, often mentioned as presidential-cadre items are agriculture, arms control, and the economic integration of Latin America. But, thus far at least, not so health.

The presidential talks, Dr. Horwitz holds, can mean a "powerful inducement" to stepping-up programs for the well-being of the largest single segment in Latin America.

Deficit Of $7,201.50 For Clare H. S.

The Clare municipal school board, in its report to the municipal council at Little Brook, showed that expenditures for 1966 were $563,645.36, which was an increase over 1965 of $67,518.34. The appropriation from the municipal council showed an increase of $18,611.00 and $51,755.80 in the estimated foundation program grant resulted in gross revenue of $574,713.80. Excess of expenditure over revenue for the year was $6,881.05 and with various adjustments showed a total deficit of $7,201.51.

Capital expenditure for school purposes was shown at $146,771.63, of which $90,467.00 was borrowed from the municipal development and loan fund with the balance of $56,304.63 being provided from the general fund. Three new buses were purchased at a cost of $25,020.72.

Revenue was as follows: appropriation from the municipal council, $136,681.00; grants, province of Nova Scotia, for foundation program, $436,400.00; business education grants, $1,360.00; tuition, municipality of Digby, $242.00, for a total of $574,713.80.

Expenditures: administration, $11,326.71; deficit of the previous year, $4,622.78; foundation program services, instructional salaries, $331,072.04; maintenance, $73,672.02; conveyance, $90,238.52; plus of revenue over expenditures of $18,643.23.

The report of the Municipal Home which showed expenditures of $24,532.72; is broken down as follows: Salaries $4,346.00; Groceries $6,107.51; Supplies $626.73; Fuel $489.39; Clothing $222.09; Repairs and Alterations $7,286.49; Lights $387.58; Telephone $17.92; Medical $1,002.70; Convention $303.91; Insurance $183.50; Equipment $1,653.00; Debt Charges, serial debentures redeemed $2,000.00; Interest $600.00, for a total of $26,466.72, less revenue from pensions of $1,924.00, leaving a total of $24,532.72.

bus capital, $31,744.29; tuition, $93,792.69; pupils' board, $72.00 and correspondence courses, $54.00, for a total of $565,645.36.

The school board has recommended to the municipal council additional classrooms be added at the high school level due to overcrowding at the Clare District High School at Metechan River. The present district high school which was constructed in 1956 with 16 academic classrooms, was felt at that time would be sufficient for at least 10 years. Ten years later, the municipal school board finds that additional space is required.

Plans have been received by the school board for approval and although still under discussion, Warden Gerard d'Entremont says that the addition to the high school will be a separate building and possibly as large as the original school.

Island Students To Visit Dalhousie

It has been disclosed by the supervising principal of Islands Consolidated School, at Freeport, Mr. D. B. MacBeth, that for the first time grade X, XI and XII students of this school will visit Dalhousie University.

Mr. MacBeth announced that students are anticipating a 2 day visit to Halifax, where they will attend an Open House to be held at Dalhousie University.

The purpose of their visit is to acquaint the students with the various courses and facilities which the University has to offer them and to observe first hand how the various classes are conducted. They will also note the advantages of a University life both academically and on the campus.

Mr. MacBeth, who it is understood plans to accompany the students, said they hope to attend the Ice Capades during their stay in Halifax.

The trip to the Provinces capital which is expected to be made by one of the Islands school buses, is expected to cost approximately $150.00. However, it is understood, parents of the students are responsible for the cost of meals, lodging and other expenses incurred by the students.

To defray the amount of $150.00, members of the Student Council of the school are busy engaged in promoting enterprises to raise the necessary funds. The first of these was a Valentine dance.

Rev. Clayton Addresses Service Clubs

To make democracy effective, a renaissance is necessary in man's thinking toward his fellowman. Silent objection to bigotry and discrimination must give way to public condemnation of such practice in all walks of life in which it is known to exist. Several aspects of Negro life, as a large representative group of the minority segment of society were touched upon on Monday by Rev. Willard P. Clayton in a Brotherhood Week address to the combined Service Clubs of Yarmouth.

Mr. Clayton, who is a high school teacher on the staff of the Weymouth Consolidated School, also noted instances in which it has been often proved that the possession of educational qualifications are in themselves little guarantee of obtaining various positions unless those of the majority segment of society who control the power structure permit the door of opportunity to open. The Negro, along with other minority groups, is quite conscious of this subtle, but effective psychological technique.

There exists a great need that even in N. S. privileges, which go beyond cold, legal rights, be made accessible to Negroes. Opportunity in a democracy should afford any man privilege to train his mind, own a decent home, find decent employment, and permit him to escape from poverty. The basic concepts of justice and righteousness are dependable and reliable criteria in dealing with ethnic and minority problems, but in addition the majority segment of society must develop a methodology suitable to today's circumstances.

The Negro, himself, has long noted the futility of using tokenism as an attempted remedy for his problem. It serves as a veneer, but underneath the sore of prejudice and discrimination continues to fester. Certain basic rights must be afforded a free man, by virtue of his being born in a democratic society.

Mr. Clayton also referred to several transitions which must be eventually made if true Brotherhood is to be achieved in Nova Scotia. The segregated Negro Church will have to go the way of the segregated Negro School. The segregated pattern of community living will have to give way to integrated relationships. Common experiences will have to be shared in fraternal, social and commercial relationships.

The transformation already witnessed in racial harmony and understanding during the past few years should make the Negro and other minority groups hopeful and optimistic that men of good faith will continue moving forward, together toward the higher concept of brotherhood for all the human family.

Drowning Victim Buried

Requiem Mass for Hellaroy Larry Joseph Lombard of New Edmund, R.R. No. 1, Weymouth was Saturday at 9 a.m. at the Roman Catholic Church St. Bernard.

Rev. E. LeBlanc officiated at the service, pallbearers were the six nephews of the deceased, Albert Mallett, Nelson Mallett, Camille Doucet, Ulisse Doucet, Jim Comeau and Patrick Comeau.

Mr. Lombard, age 37, was accidentally drowned at the public wharf in Metechan. He was born in New Edmund, a son of the late Augustin and Mary Agnes Comeau. Lombard had had resided there most of his life. The body was at the Weymouth Funeral Home.

For several years he operated a meat and grocery store, Larry's Market in Weymouth. Following his retirement as a merchant in 1961, he worked as a ship's carpenter and at the time of his death was a night watchman at St. Mary's Bay Industries Ltd. Metechan. He was not married.

Surviving is one brother, Edgar, Chelsea, Mass. and three sisters, Georgina (Mrs. Fred Mallett), St. Bernard, Ella (Mrs. Thomas Comeau), New Edmund; Madeline (Mrs. Arnold Melanson), Waltham, Mass.

One sister, Eva and one brother, Alfred predeceased him.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Theriault and son, Kevin, Tiddville, were visitors at the home of his sister, Mrs. Victor Doty and family on Sunday.

Dr. A. R. Ross of Truro, and Dr. D. N. Carruthers of Windsor are guests at the Goodwin Hotel while doing a Boyne T. B. survey in Clare.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Raymond and two daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Raymond, Ottawa, arrived home to attend the funeral of their grand father, the late J. Daley Raymond. While here they were visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Blinn, Ashmore.

POTTER SPEAKS

back the Nova Scotia International Tuna Cup Match to Wedgeport and Cape St.
Mary's last year. Now we are pleased to hear that this match will be repeated again this summer.

This is good news to the Cape St. Mary's Anglers Association. Quite a few reservations for tuna and deep-sea fishing for next summer are already on our books.

More boats will be made available at the Cape to carry on this very popular sport.
As another, tourist attraction,
I am pleased to announce that an 18 hole golf course is under construction in Clare. The first nine holes will be ready for next summer.

Mr. Speaker, permit me at this time to digress to thank the Honourable Premier and his Cabinet for having chosen me to represent Nova Scotia at the bicentennial celebrations in June of last year, commemorating the repatriation of an Island situated in the Open Atlantic Ocean, Ginn-gama. As I stated at the beginning of my speech, under the present administration, this Island, about seven miles wide by eleven miles long, called Belle Isle in Mer-was given by King Louis XV to 78 Acadian families who had lived in Nova Scotia before 1755. One group — consisting of 40 — mostly representatives from different parts of Canada and the United States, was organized by the Acadian Historical Society.

While in France we were giving 12 official receptions. The first at Dunkirk, then Dieppe,
St. Malo, and the last one in Paris.

At Dinard, near St. Malo,
I had the pleasure to get a glimpse at the world's first tidal power development. Having the Fundy development in mind, I was very anxious to visit this marvelous development. Unfortunately, time did not permit me to linger there long enough to satisfy my curiosity.

Mr. Speaker, pardon me if I have dwelt on the economy of my own region. It seems to me the same could apply to all rural areas in Nova Scotia. As I stated at the beginning of my speech, under the present administration, the opportunities are many for those willing to work.

is going to be ideal to all sections of the country or Party.
Interestingly enough, it appears, a time in Toronto was possible in August, but this was ruled out because of heat (and not the political kind) and minimal T.V. impact because of vacation time with its natural diverting interests.
While our social patterns are not identical with our neighbour to the south of us, then Republican and Democratic Presidential conventions in July and August appear to rejoice the factor.

Another contender entered the leadership ring this week. In this case the Hon. George Hees not only threw his hat in, but at his press conference under hot T.V. lights removed his navy blue suit coat to expose wide red suspender. Certainly it's announcement was not unexpected and the red suspenders added an element of colour which his candidacy is expected to produce.

The surprising news was the illness of Premier Robarts. He always looks robust, is only 50, and certainly appeared to be in the best of health. At the moment the nature of his internal disorder has not been announced, but this is just an example of the wear and tear in politics.

Sometime in March a special Dinner is being planned for Senator Chubb Power who in that month will be celebrating his 50th year in Parliament as a Member and Senator. The demands of travel and television in this day and age in all probability precludes the possibility of any other 50 year veteran, so the Dinner should be a singular historic occasion.

Action Withheld On Councillor's Resignation

The Digby town council at their session Monday night decided to withhold action on a resignation from the police committee submitted by Councillor Howard Cottreau. It was stated at the meeting Councillor Cottreau submitted his resignation because of a dispute with Constable Michael Surette concerning matters relating to his police duties. Decision was made by council to withhold action on the resignation pending a full discussion by the police committee with Constable Surette and Councillor Cottreau. Constable Surette is at present attending police school in Halifax.

FIRE PROTECTION

A lengthy and sometimes heated discussion arose around the question of fire protection for Hill Grove - Acaciaville - Marshalltown region. Council granted permission to the Digby Fire Department to provide protection to this area for a charge of $50.00 per call, regardless of the nature of the fire. The area involved is served by Councillors M. P. Gott and Walter Wood of the Municipal Council. It is understood a request for fire protection had not come from either the councillors or any organized group of ratepayers in this municipal area. Mayor C. D. Snow suggested it reflected poor public relations to refuse service to homeowners at a reasonable distance from town when their property is on fire. Several councillors were of the opinion that if the area in question is serious about fire protection, the matter should be taken up with their municipal councillors and residents be prepared to pay a certain percentage of fire tax based on their yearly property assessment. This type of payment is presently in force in the Mount Pleasant-Culloden-Bay View area and was arranged by the residents there in co-operation with Aubrey Forrest, their municipal councillor. It was suggested that considerable difficulty could be encountered in collecting the $50.00 charge for the fire call.

Mayor Snow reported that nineteen replies have been received from thirty-six requests for endorsement and

Teacher Resignations Received

Mrs. A. J. Dillon, who has for a number of years been head of the commercial department of the Digby Regional High School and who had one time been a teacher in Digby Public School primary grades, has tendered her resignation to be effective at the close of the present school term. Mrs. Dillon, it is understood, is retiring. Others retiring are Mrs. Ina Logan and Miss Freda Bishop. Resignations were also received from Miss Margaret Leonard, John Whitmore, Miss Katherine Hebb, Eric Shillong, N. K. Nakpil and Mrs. Eileen Belliveau. Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Dhami, who have been here for the past year, will go to Springfield, Mass., for further study.

P. C. Purdy will be superintendent of municipal and urban schools under the new supervisory system adopted in the Municipality of the District of Digby. C. C. MacInnes will be supervisor of urban and feeder classrooms. Mrs. Ada L. Jorgensen, supervisor of curriculum for the primary support in efforts to receive more modern transportation between Saint John and Digby. Replies have been received from all parts of the province. These endorse support for a joint effort being co-chaired by Digby Mayor Snow and Mayor Arthur Gould of Saint John. No reply has been received from a request for support sent to Premier R. L. Stanfield, he said. Similar appeals for endorsement are being made throughout New Brunswick.

Council granted permission for the Victorian Order of Nurses to hold tag days on August 4 and 5; proclaimed Easter Monday, March 27, a public holiday in the town of Digby; and decided to adopt Daylight Saving Time from April 30 to October 29 to coincide with other major centres throughout the province.

Clare Tax Rate Held At $3.80

The Clare Municipal Council terminated the longest session in years at Little Brook Court House, and the tax rate will remain at $3.80 but the Poll Tax will be increased to $20.00 per person from $14.00. The 1967 budget has been drawn up and shows expected revenues of $264,988.85 and expenditures are estimated at $248,882.00 which could show a surplus of $16,106.85.

The Clare Municipal Council has set aside a grant of $15,000.00 towards the operating costs of the various fire departments in the Municipality. This amount was set up at this year's council meeting because the Provincial government will come to the assistance of the Municipalities in the province to meet the demand of the fire departments' operating costs.

The Council has problems in educational construction to resolve for the year 1967. The present Clare District High School at Meteghan River is now too small to meet the demands placed upon it. Although it contains sixteen academic classrooms, 1 domestic science, 1 industrial arts and 1 laboratory classroom, space has been cramped in recent years due to the increased demand for classrooms in the higher grades of 10, 11 and 12 as well as Commercial. This means that the students of Clare are continuing on to the higher grades which is a great improvement over the last ten years.

The present high school is

Accident At Conway

An accident that involved a school bus and a passenger vehicle resulted in considerable damage to both at Conway on Tuesday. Hazardous walking and driving conditions due to the storm, which dropped some eight inches of snow on the district, was blamed for the crash. No one was injured.

Corporal R. Dugas, right, received the personal congratulatory letter from Wing Commander G. A. Doolittle, CD, Acting Base Commander of Canadian Forces Base St-Jean, Quebec, as she was presented with an honour scroll.

Cpl. R. Dugas graduated as the honour student of the Military Instructor course at CFB St-Jean, Quebec.

She is the daughter of Mrs. Lucy Dugas of Weymouth, Digby Co., N. S. (Canadian Forces Photograph)

Action On Causeway Plan Urged

The Fundy Board of Trade wants some positive action from the federal and provincial governments on the building of a harbor-causeway complex at Petite Passage, linking Long Island with Digby Neck. Citing government statistics, the Board contends that Digby County led the province in the volume of fish caught last year, and that 75 per cent of the fish were caught in waters within a 15-mile radius of Long Island.

Due to the lack of adequate harbor facilities and a causeway, however, more than 50 per cent of the catch was landed and processed in other areas, the Board claims.

The Board members expressed the view at a meeting last week that the provincial government has given little support to the project, other than agreeing to build approach roads, if and when the federal government agrees to go ahead with the actual harbor complex.

Dragger Destroyed

The scallop dragger Eleanor L. was destroyed by fire at the Westport dock Saturday night. No one was injured.

It is understood the fire was noticed at about 8:30 p.m. by a passerby. Efforts by the local volunteer fire department to control the blaze were futile, and the ship is a total loss.

Ray Robicheau, owner of the dragger, estimated his financial loss at $10,000, part of which is covered by insurance.

Mrs. Russell Henshaw is visiting with her son, Stearnes and Mrs. Henshaw, in North Vancouver.

Meet For Study On Tourism

An introductory meeting for a study-discussion program on tourism was held last Wednesday evening at the Digby Community Mental Health Centre.

Sponsored jointly by the tourism committee of the Digby Area Development Council and the tourist committee of the Digby Board of Trade, the study-discussion program will take a close look at the subject of tourism, particularly as it relates to the Digby area.

Included in the program, which is expected to be a six-week course, will be a general outline of the tourist industry, its economic aspects and the growth of the industry, nationally and provincially. The program will also include study and discussion of the history of tourism in the Digby area. Particular attention will be given to changes which have occurred over the years and the causative factors involved in these changes.

The study-discussion series will also probe factors involved in the success of tourism as an industry and will look closely into reasons for failure or decline of tourism in areas where this has occurred. An effort will be made to determine the local area rating in terms of fact.

Honored On Birthday

Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Sabine, of Bear River, who are spending the winter in Florida, U.S.A., gave a birthday party at their home on Gulfport Blvd. in honor of Clarence V. Snow, of Digby, Mr. and Mrs. Snow are also spending the winter in Florida.

Guests were Mr. and Mrs. C. V. Snow, Digby; Mr. and Mrs. Ross Parsons, Bear River; Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bagley, Middleton; Mr. and Mrs. Donald L. Sabine, of Needham, Mass.

An enjoyable evening was spent playing games. At the close refreshments were served in the dining-room by the host and hostess. A beautifully decorated birthday cake was placed in front of Mr. Snow, who served the guests. A toast was proposed by Mr. Parsons, and all joined in wishing Clarence many more happy birthday days.

Tribute To Memory Governor General

Schools, federal offices and provincial offices were closed in Digby on Wednesday morning while the whole nation mourned the Sunday passing of Georges P. Vanier, Governor-General of Canada since 1959. His Excellency was 78 years of age. Death was caused by heart collapse.

The body of the late governor-general lay in state in the Senate Chamber at Ottawa from 2 o'clock on Monday until Wednesday morning when a state funeral was held at the Roman Catholic Basilica on Sussex Drive.

The funeral cortege left Parliament Hill at 10:15 a.m. for the service at 11 o'clock. Following the service the procession left by motorcade for the railway station where a special train was waiting to carry the body and mourners to Quebec City. Among them were Prime Minister Pearson, Opposition Leader Diefenbaker and cabinet ministers.

Arriving at Quebec at 7:30 p.m., the body rested at the Notre Dame Basilica there, where the public was admitted until midnight. Today a service will be held and temporary interment will be in the church crypt.

Some 20,000 persons from all walks of life filed past the flag-draped closed walnut coffin at the Senate Chamber in Ottawa. As the cortege left Parliament Hill guns fired 78 shots, one for each year of his life. The coffin was on a naval gun carriage drawn by 50 naval ratings and in the funeral cortege were 2,000 servicemen while another 1,000 lined the streets.

Behind the carriage, officers will carry four black pillows bearing Gen. Vanier's military decorations and honors.

After them will come a riderless black horse, black boots reversed in the stirrups, a traditional funeral salute to military officers of field rank.

Heading the cortege will be a 100-man guard of honor from the Royal 22nd Regiment of Quebec City, the unit Gen. Vanier helped to found at the beginning of the First World War and later commanded.

Every major element of the armed services will be represented by the units and bands taking part in the march.

The mass at the Basilica will be celebrated by Paul-Emile Cardinal Leger of Montreal, 10 bishops representing each of the provinces and Gen. Vanier's son, Georges, a Trappist father from Oka, Que. Ather Christian faiths joined in the farewell rites before the body left the church.

Messages of sympathy from many parts of the world joined those within Canada which were sent to Mme. Vanier and the family consisting of Jean in France; Michel, Ottawa; Georges, a Trappist Monk in Oka, Quebec; Bernard, Paris; and Therese, in London, England.

Receives Medals And Citations For Service In Vietnam

George Edward Dunn, 27-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Dunn, Bear River, is one of the chief aircraft inspectors presently serving in Vietnam with the United States Army-Air Force. He is a sergeant with the 402nd Transport Detachment.

Mr. Dunn, who went to war-torn Vietnam last year, has received a number of medals for distinguished service. He has the Air Medal, National Defence, Vietnam Defence, Vietnam Operation, five all-told, plus his wings.

On January 5 of this year, in Vietnam, Mr. Dunn was presented a citation by direction of the President "for distinguishing himself by meritorious achievement while participating in sustained aerial flight in support of combat ground forces of the Republic of Vietnam during the period 7 August 1966 - 6 December 1966."

"During this time he actively participated in more than twenty-five aerial missions over hostile territory in support of counter insurgency operations. During all of these missions, he displayed the highest order of air discipline and acted in accordance with the best traditions of the service. By his determination to accomplish his mission in spite of the hazards inherent in repeated aerial flights over hostile territory and by his outstanding degree of professionalism and devotion to duty, he has brought credit upon himself, his organization, and the military service."

Digby Town Council expressed concern over the serious condition of the town's water supply and the possibility of problems even more serious if the area is faced with a dry summer season. The opinions were expressed at the March council meeting held Monday evening at the town hall. Walter Wagner, a town employee, said that water at Lily Lake, source of supply, is lower this winter than he had ever seen it.

Council blamed much of present difficulties on lack of co-operation from provincial authorities. Mayor C. D. Snow said that plans submitted many months ago have not as yet been approved by provincial water and health authorities. Work cannot be carried out to combat the water problem until such approval is granted, he said. Efforts by Digby Water Commission more than a year ago conserved up to seventy million gallons of water for the town, the mayor said.

Everett Hall, town water superintendent, told the meeting that present water coming from Lily Lake has a swampy smell and taste, caused primarily by algae which developed in the lake last summer. Council agreed that Digby residents have a right to protest present water conditions, but gave assurance that every effort is being put forth to remedy the situation.

Mr. Hall said large quantities of eels had been removed from the screen chamber leading to the lake. He suggested that the smell and taste of the water could disappear as rapidly as it had come.

Councillor Gregg Gallant said the town has a moral obligation to provide good water for its residents. Water at Digby Dairy has to be filtered, he told council. It is a rusty color and contains a green slime, he said.

Mr. Hall said that from experience he has found that if three different engineers were engaged to study the situation, the result would be three different answers. He suggested no remedy, but said the situation may be improved by raising the lake level and extending the intake pipe further in to the lake. He said the Water Commission is trying to overcome the situation but are experiencing difficulties in obtaining cooperation from the provincial department of health. Reports from the department of health showed the water, tested at several points in the town, was satisfactory during February.

Mr. Hall said measures had been suggested to rid the system of eels, but these have not as yet been approved. It was his opinion that the water problem is not one of supply. He said no engineer has said there is insufficient water in the lake. He said millions of gallons of water in the lake last summer could not be run into the system.

Mayor Snow reported that he had discussed the problem with provincial water authorities, and the town is awaiting approval of proposals presented, and information requested from the Utilities Board about the system. Copper sulphate has been suggested as a remedy for the algae, the mayor said, and reminded council that the last time this was used in the town's water supply was about 1942. The mayor suggested dredging at the lake to open up springs that feed it. He said that springs are clogged because the bottom of the lake is deep in mud. Copper sulphate should be applied in May, he said.

Mr. Hall said the water used by the town is being kept pure through the use of the town's chlorination plant. He suggested there is sufficient water at the lake to meet the town's needs, but said the problem is to get it into town. He said that if Lily Lake is abandoned and another source is attempted the cost could run to a half million dollars. Present problems might be solved for much less, he said.

Nova Scotia Radio Station Fails In Effort To Give Service To Digby-Annapolis Area

An effort by CKBW, Bridgewater, to provide daytime radio service to the Digby-Annapolis area has been turned down by regulating authorities for radio broadcasting in Ottawa.

A CBC-owned French station in Digby, CBAE, at 990 kc, causes interference to the Bridgewater station, 1000 kc, throughout most of the Digby-Annapolis region. The French station, rebroadcasting programs from Moncton, N. B., has a power output of only 40 watts. CKBW Bridgewater, now with 10,000 watts, could provide reasonable daytime service to all of western Nova Scotia, it is understood, and does so now except for the immediate Digby-Annapolis area. In this area reliable service from any Nova Scotia station does not exist.

During the last two months CKBW has made strong representation to broadcasting authorities in Ottawa to have the French station in Digby changed to some other frequency on the radio dial. A similar formal protest was made by CKBW in 1962 when the French station came on the air. This was also turned down. The reason given is that Digby is outside Bridgewater's prime coverage area, therefore authorities cannot consider protection for CKBW's listeners in this region by changing the frequency of the French station.

The intention was to more widely separate the two stations on the dial so as to eliminate interference and also provide the Digby area with reliable daytime service from a Nova Scotia station.

Scholarship Student In Calgary

Miss Lynn Nickerson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Avery Nickerson, of Digby, recently awarded a $500 physical education scholarship, is in Calgary, Alberta, attending a national volleyball meet.

Miss Nickerson, who is a first year physical education student at the University of New Brunswick, also was recipient of a $200 bursary from the department of education. Miss Nickerson graduated from Grade XII at the Digby Regional High School last year. At her graduation she was the winner of the Birks' Gold Medal. At her junior graduation Miss Nickerson was the winner of the Major E. H. Anderson trophy.

School Opened

The Clare District High School, Meteghan River, which had been closed for two weeks, due to an outbreak of tuberculosis, was reopened Monday.

Dr. V. K. Rideout, director of western unit, department of public health, said that 3,632 X-rays were taken in the Clare District during the month of February, bringing the total to about 6,000 since the campaign started early in the new year.

Two adult "suspects" were found and these were referred to the Nova Scotia Sanatorium, Kentville, for investigation. Since the last report one other student was found to be a suspect and he also was sent to the sanatorium last week end, bringing the total of the Clare Regional High School children at the treatment centre to 36.

However, it was reported that one, and possibly two, of the students were ready to return to their homes in a short time. Others are being given the rest cure and drug treatment.

In the adult clinic, held at Meteghan during the past week, 11,000 X-rays were taken. Dr. Rideout said that all positive reactors to the tuberculin tests at the Clare High School were being re-X-rayed and all the negative tests given the Heaf TB test.

The department of Health staff has tuberculin tested all primary schools in Clare. Each year the test is given to all primary and grade six pupils, but this year all the pupils, from grade primary to six, were given the test.

Students Witness Film On Berry Picking

Over a thousand Digby area youngsters, pupils at the Digby Regional High School and at Oakdene School in Bear River, witnessed special training films on strawberry harvesting Monday afternoon. The film showings were part of a series which is being carried out in Digby County schools by M. E. Jamerson, of Beaverbrook Farms Ltd., in order to train local area youngsters for strawberry picking at the farm project which is located at Seabrook, about two miles from Digby on the Digby Neck highway.

Mr. Jamerson explained to the youngsters who were present for the film showings that the colour films being used were taken in Florida less than two months ago. He pointed out that the films showed both the correct and the incorrect way of picking and packing strawberries. He emphasized the need for care in picking berries in order not to damage them and explained how the films showed in very detailed fashion how the strawberry plants should be handled during the picking and how the berries themselves should be picked.

In his commentary Mr. Jamerson drew to the attention of the youngsters that the pickers shown in the films never touched the strawberry itself during the picking. He also noted the need, as shown in the films, to pick all the near-ripe berries so that none would be left to become over-ripe and unmarketable. He stated training sessions would be held for all the youngsters in the area who were interested in picking berries and said care would be taken that they thoroughly understood the techniques involved.

It is understood some seven hundred pickers will be required at the Beaverbrook Farms Ltd. this summer to harvest the hundred acres of strawberry plants which were set out last year. Transportation will be provided without charge in the local school area to and from the farm project and pickers will be paid at the rate of fifty-cents a flat. Mr. Jamerson stated plastic berries will be used for training sessions and said the flats to be used in the picking season will be manufactured by the company.

METEGHAN WINS OVER SAULNIERVILLE

J. P. Vallee, of Meteghan, scored seven goals in the first game of the final series of the Western Counties Hockey League when Meteghan won 12-7. After holding their own with the strong Meteghan team for two periods, Saulnierville fell apart near the half way mark of the third period and the winners swamped the luckless losers.

Meteghan took a 3-2 lead in the first period on goals by Emery Maillet with 2 and J. P. Vallee with a single, while Coral Amirault and Alain Comeau scored singles. Meteghan added five in the second and Saulnierville four. J. P. Vallee scored 3 in the second, Emery Maillet and Alain Comeau one each for Meteghan, while Alain McCaulay, Alain Comeau, Coral Amirault and Donald Doucet scored singles.

In the third period Meteghan scored 4 and Saulnierville 1 with J. P. Vallee coming through with 3 goals, Gerald Comeau with a single for Meteghan and Yvon Thibault with the lone goal for Saulnierville. Young Alain Comeau of Saulnierville played despite a sore shoulder. The second game of the finals will be played Tuesday night.

SAULNIERVILLE DOWNS CHURCH POINT

Saulnierville Maple Leafs eked out a 3-2 victory in six minutes of overtime against Church Point Blackhawks, winning the semi-finals in two straight games and won the right to meet St. Bernard Canadians in the finals for the Clare Bantam League championship in a best two of three series. The first period ended in a 1-1 tie when Real Genette scored for the Blackhawks and Wayne Doucet for Saulnierville. The second period went scoreless and in the third period Denis Comeau put the Blackhawks ahead, but Russel Comeau evened it up in regulation play. Wayne Doucet scored his second goal of the day on a breakaway after six minutes of overtime in a sudden death overtime period.

ST. BERNARD ELIMINATES BRUINS

St. Bernard Canadians downed Meteghan Bruins 4-2, taking two straight games of a best two of three semi-final series in the Clare Bantam League to win the right to battle it out with Saulnierville Maple Leafs for the league championship. This is the first year for the Canadians to

The playoffs continued at the forum last Sunday.

In the broomball game the St. Joseph's girls from Weymouth and St. Pat's from Digby battled to a 1-1 draw. After 45 minutes of overtime the score remained 1-1. Cora Thibault scored for St. Joe's and Hazel Harrington tied it for St. Pat's on a pass from Mary Jane Amirault. The girls will be in action again this Sunday. Weymouth still leads the best of 3 series 1-0.

In the hockey game the St. Pat's boys from Digby, after falling behind 2-0, rallied to a 5-4 victory over St. Joe's of Weymouth. The score was tied at 4-4 on goals by Digby marksmen Billy Nickerson with 2 goals, and John Amirault and Jerry VanTassel each with one, and Weymouth snipers Greg Machin and Paul Comeau each with two goals. Then, with 25 seconds remaining in the third period, Billy Nickerson, playing a brilliant two-way game, cashed in on Danny Doucette's rebound to get his hat trick and give Digby a 1-0 lead in a best of 3 final series for the championship. The game was close and very exciting and there was good fan support for both teams. These two teams will clash again next Sunday, Mar. 12.

The games were followed by an hour of free skating.

reach the finals since the league was started 5 years ago.

The first period ended in a 1-1 tie when Junior Comeau scored the first goal for Meteghan and St. Bernard tied it up with Jean Bonenfant scoring. The second period went scoreless and in the 3rd Junior Comeau put Meteghan ahead but St. Bernard snapped in three quick goals with Vernon Amirault, Wayne Doucet and Maurice Doucet scoring singles to win the game.

METEGHAN AND CHURCH POINT TIE

After playing twenty minutes of overtime in a sudden death overtime, Meteghan Lions and Church Point ended in a 1-1 tie. The game was halted after twenty minutes of overtime due to other commitments made by the arena and the game will be played Wednesday evening.

Harold Melanson, of Meteghan, got credit for a goal scored accidentally by Church Point's Real LeBlanc, which gave Meteghan a 1-0 lead in the first period. The second period went scoreless and Bobby Comeau tied it up in the third period on an assist from Russell Comeau. Real LeBlanc received a cut on the nose and was unable to continue play after the middle of the second period.

SAULNIERVILLE WINS SEMI-FINALS

Saulnierville Juveniles made it two straight wins in a best two of three semi-final series when they defeated Meteghan Flyers 5-2. Saulnierville led 1-0 in the first period when Alain Comeau scored the first of three goals for a hat trick. Gabriel Comeau made it 2-0 for Saulnierville early in the second period but Delbert Theriault scored two goals to tie it up. In the third period Gabriel Comeau scored a single and Alain Comeau scored two to end the game. Saulnierville will play against the winner of the Church Point - Meteghan Lions series.

Garden Clubs Offer Contest

Mrs. E. W. Spencer was hostess for the monthly meeting of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society on March 6th, with twenty members attending.

The president, R. K. Beck, presided and the minutes of the previous meeting were read. Miss Dora Warne gave the treasurer's report.

Members were informed that orders for glads, begonias and dahlias could now be placed at special prices through club membership.

The annual contest for coloured slides, conducted by the Nova Scotia Association of Garden Clubs, will again take place with closing date, May 15th, 1967. These slides may be of any private garden or any Garden Club land scape, individual flower, plant or shrub. Each contestant must be a member of the Association or belong to a member's family, with slides being taken in Nova Scotia no earlier than 1965 and only

Miss Nettie O'Neill

Miss Nettie O'Neill, 74, passed away Tuesday morning after a long illness at the home of her nephew, Claude O'Neill, in Plympton.

She was the daughter of the late Isaac and Mary Jones O'Neill. She was the last surviving member of her family. Her husband, a son, Lewis O'Neill, a daughter, Phyllis, two brothers and two sisters preceded her. Miss O'Neill worked most of her life as a housekeeper, and during her younger life spent some time in the USA at this occupation. She was a member of the Baptist Church. Her body will rest at Jayne's Funeral Home, Digby, until today when funeral service will be held from the Digby Baptist Church at 2:00 p.m. with Rev. H. S. Hartlin officiating. Interment will be in the Barton cemetery.

Mrs. J. Wilfred LeBlanc

Requiem mass for Mrs. Marie Therese LeBlanc, wife of J. Wilfred LeBlanc was Tuesday at the Roman Catholic Church, St. Bernard.

Mrs. LeBlanc, 70, died at her home in St. Bernard following a lengthy illness. She was born in New Edinburgh, Digby County, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles Doucette.

Surviving, besides her husband, are two sisters, Mrs. Lennie Buckley, St. Bernard; Mrs. Alcide Gaudet, Digby County, and one brother, Emile Doucette.

Mrs. Eugene Burns

Mrs. Frances Katherine Burns, 56, wife of Eugene Burns, of Bay View, Digby County, died Saturday at Digby General Hospital.

Born at Colliodon, Digby County, she was a daughter of Enoch and Mildred (Nelson) Campbell, and a member of Bay View United Church. Mrs. Burns is survived by

IN MEMORIAM

SIMMS - In loving memory of Timothy James, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Simms, Digby, N.S.
He was a flower too sweet for earth.
Sent here but for a while,
God marked him when he gave him birth.
And took him with a smile.
Always remembered by Mommy and Daddy 29 1c

FROST - In loving memory of my wife, Elsie Frost, who passed away March 7, 1966.
Sweet memories will linger forever.
Time cannot change them, it's true.
Years that may come cannot sever
Our loving remembrance of you
Ever remembered by his band, Ernest 29 1c

BOUCHIE - I wish to extend my sincere thanks to my friends and relatives for their kindness shown me while I was a patient in Digby General Hospital, for the lovely flowers, fruit, books and the many cards and letters received, also a thanks for all who called on me. Thanks to Dr. Black and nurses and staff on second floor. Mrs. Bernard Bouchie 29 1c

SAFORD - Our sincere thanks and appreciation to our many friends of Smith's Cove for the nice farewell party that was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Rudolph on our behalf before moving to Ontario. Special thanks for the lovely blanket. Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Sanford 29 1p

janes

Mr. Gerard settled his ample bulk into the sofa. He sighed comfortably. With one hand he reached for the cup of coffee I was passing him. With the other he gently touched the rigging of the model ship on the table.

"Beautiful!" he breathed. "Your husband built it all by himself?"

"It took all his spare time for about two months," I gloated. I pointed proudly to the rows of cannon and the intricate rigging which grace the model of OLD IRONSIDES which has recently become a member of our household.

"Very nice!" Mr. Gerard said thoughtfully. He took another sip of coffee. "I don't have any hobbies," he added, a little sadly, "except, of course," his face brightened, "cooking."

"And what have you cooked lately?" I asked Mr. Gerard. Talking to Mr. Gerard about cooking is a little like talking to John Fisher about Canada. He waxes poetic. He is utterly fascinated on the subject. Around every turn of the conversation, he can find something he had not mentioned before. I prepared myself.

"Well," he began, "last week my wife invited some guests in to dinner. Just before they came, she suddenly remembered that she had invited another couple, which she had forgotten about. Then, some relatives dropped in unexpectedly."

"What did you do?" When Mr. Gerard talks about cooking, you may as well be excited. He winds up something like an airline pilot telling the story of some harrowing adventure. I moved toward the edge of my chair.

Mr. Gerard closed his eyes. He leaned his head back, and touched the tips of his fingers together over his nonexistent waistline.

"I began with hamburger," he said, in the tone of voice the narrators in old adventure movies used to use when they said "It began in a remote village in Africa, and spread . . ."

He went on, describing in minute and poetic detail the exact size of the pieces of celery, the degree of crispness of the green peppers, and the time it requires to sauté the onion. He interrupted himself when he came to the part about adding the rice, to declare that with rice, hamburger, and stew meat, one could feed royalty. I agreed. So many of us tend to think of these foods as plain, family fare, yet they are the basis of some of the greatest dishes in the world.

"Like cabbage rolls . . ." Mr. Gerard was saying. The last time I was in some of my friends decided to have a party. I cooked the cabbage rolls. He described in patient detail the art which I have never mastered, including his trick of mixing tiny ones with the big ones, so that people who have never eaten them can sample the little ones first.

The conversation moved to sea food, and then to regional foods. We compared notes on all the oddball dishes we had sampled in all the oddball places we had been, over another cup of coffee.

"You know," Mr. Gerard said, "no matter where I go, I am less surprised by what people eat than what they don't eat. I am always a little annoyed by people who go to a restaurant and order something they have home in their refrigerator, or something they can cook just as well themselves. What do they think a restaurant is for? And then there are those people who are afraid to try foreign foods for fear they won't like them. Do they refuse to listen to a symphony they have never heard before because they may not like it?"

Oh, but they do, I thought. And they refuse to read a book they have never heard of before, or to go to a place where no one they know has ever been.

I passed my new cook book over to Mr. Gerard. He opened it to the recipe for bacon and onion bread, and pulled a pad and pencil from his pocket. With one pudgy hand, he held open the book, with the other he copied the recipe.

Mr. Gerard was listening to a new symphony.

Guest Speaker At Bear River Baptist

Rev. R. R. Winchester of Congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses, in the absence of the pastor, Rev. J. Bartol, reading from the Book of Jeremiah, he took as a topic "A Second Chance". As the pastor made another vessel after the first was marred, so God can restore by forgiveness.

He stated, too, that a time comes when the vessel is hard and the character formed, and it cannot be changed or restored. Past wrongs cannot be righted, it's too late.

The evening service was in charge of the "Gideons International", with Chester Kaulback as speaker.

McGill Appoints Medical Dean

Dr. Maurice McGregor, a clinical researcher and teacher in the field of cardiovascular diseases, has been appointed dean of the faculty of medicine at McGill University, Montreal, it was announced recently. A native of Rustenburg, South Africa, he will succeed Dr. Ronald V. Christie, dean of the faculty since 1964, who will be retiring.

The above will be of interest to the many friends of Miss Mildred Roebeling, an aunt of Dr. McGregor's, who was a resident of Bear River for many years and is now residing in Africa with Dr. McGregor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank McGregor.

Misses Mary Lou Parker and Leanne Oickle, who are attending Acadia University, were weekend guests at their homes in Bear River.

Mrs. Ruth Tolles is a patient in Digby General Hospital. Mrs. Maurice Benson is also there for treatment.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kaulback, of Digby, and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Kaulback, Kingston, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kaulback.

Paul Harris arrived home the past week to spend a few days with his mother, Mrs. Edith Harris, leaving again on Friday for Truro where he and friends left by motor on Sunday for Macdonald College, Ste. Anne de Bellevue, Quebec, to resume their studies.

Mr. and Mrs. Denzel Yorke have returned home after a holiday spent in Quebec province.

Miss Annie Banks, Mr. Arnold Banks, Mrs. Eldon Banks and sons, David and Edward, and Mrs. John Harris motored to Steviacke on Saturday to attend the wedding of Robert Forrester to Miss Carol Meadows.

GIRL GUIDES ENROL

The Girl Guides, under the leadership of Mrs. Claude Brooks, assisted by Mrs. Lawrence Simpson, held their enrolment ceremony in the Oddfellows Hall recently.

There are fourteen members at present under the company leadership of Jennifer Brooks.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE MEETS

The March meeting of the Bear River Women's Institute was held in the Oakdene School auditorium on Monday, March 6th, at three o'clock with all officers present. After opening exercises and flag salute, the regular business was carried on. After roll call the business meeting was adjourned.

The program was under the committee on agriculture with Mrs. Ronald Purdy as chairman. A film was shown by Mr. Jamerson of the ARDA project in Digby County. Mr. Jamerson explained the project as the film was shown and it proved to be of great interest. The Oakdene pupils of grades 7, 8 and 9 were invited to attend and it is hoped many of the young people from the area may find summer employment there.

A vote of thanks was tendered Mr. Jamerson.

Witnesses Plan Convention

The Digby and Weymouth Congregations of Jehovah's Witnesses are making preliminary plans to attend a three-day training program in Auburn, N. S., March 17, 18, 19.

Mr. Causey, presiding minister of the Digby Congregation, in discussing this announcement with the congregation, pointed to the challenge to Christian thinking and Christian works in the rising tide of atheism.

"Most persons," said Mr. Causey, "are aware of the serious decline in spirituality that has eaten into the very roots of modern society. Many feel that 'God is Dead' or at least unconcerned about the affairs of man, while others doubt the authenticity of the Bible."

"We believe," continued Mr. Causey, "that those who say that 'God is Dead' have looked for Him in the wrong places. There can be no success in finding the True God unless consideration is given to His Word the Bible. To focus attention on this Book of Books, the Assembly program will feature the theme 'Supply to Your Faith Endurance.' The local minister explained that the three-day program would begin at 6:45 p.m. Friday evening and will include faith-strengthening talks and demonstrations which are open to the public. Highlight of the convention will be a two-hour color movie to be held at 3 p.m. Sunday entitled 'God Cannot Lie.'

Gilbert Cove

Get well wishes are extended to Mrs. Lizzie Melanson, who is a patient in the Digby General Hospital.

Visitors at the home of Mrs. Murray Doucette were Mrs. Rene Saulnier and son Philip, Little Brook, Tommy and Philip Lombard, Clarence, Mrs. Chester Mallett and son Jeff, Toronto.

Kevin Cook of Weymouth and Tommy Robicheau of Ashmore were visitors at the home of Carl and Billy Doucette on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Doucette and Mrs. David Doucette called on Mrs. Albert Robicheau in Ashmore recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Smith, Linda, Debbie, Jimmy, Ashmore visited their grandfather Harley Thibedeau on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Doucette visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Doucette, in Mount Pleasant on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Melanson, Brighton visited the home of David Doucette on Monday.

Garth Cress spent the weekend in Truro visiting his aunt, Mrs. Percy Ferguson, and Mr. Ferguson.

Miss Pauline Harris, R. N., of Middleton hospital, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Leigh Oickle.

AVABT Dinner For Cyrus Eaton

Cyrus Eaton, world renowned industrialist and Thinkers Conference founder who has focused international interest upon his native province, will be tendered a testimonial dinner at Wolfville, Aug. 19, by the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade.

In making the announcement, Bernard J. LeBlanc, AVABT president, said internationally known figures in science, education, industry and government will be invited to the testimonial in Acadia University's Wheelock Hall. Receptions will be in the Cornwallis Inn, Kentville, for Mr. and Mrs. Eaton.

Mitchell Franklin, vice-president of the Valley Affiliated Boards, will preside at the dinner which will have a guest list of 500.

Included in the guest list will be Nova Scotia board of trade presidents, mayors, wardens and their wives, church, industry, government and education executives.

Mr. LeBlanc said board of trade officials are keeping in touch with Mr. Eaton at his Philadelphia home in making arrangements for the event.

Mr. LeBlanc said the testimonial was in recognition of a native Nova Scotian for his accomplishments in finance and industry, and acknowledgment of Mr. Eaton's role as founder of the Pugwash Thinkers' Conference to promote international understanding and stimulate renewal of intellectual life.

New Tusket

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Mullen arrived home Tuesday from Ontario where they spent the week end.

Mrs. Hubert S. Mullen and Mrs. Leland D. Mullen left Wednesday by Air Canada for Washington D. C. to attend the wedding of one of the former's granddaughters.

Mrs. Francis Ford was hostess Wednesday to the Womens Auxiliary to a quilting party. A delicious supper was served by the ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. Lindsay Ford and daughter Rachel of Southville and Miss Sharon Prime spent Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Ford.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Theriault and Mrs. Richard Daley of East Ferry were visitors on Sunday last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marr.

Miss Rose Marie Marr spent last week at her home here. Mrs. Albert Marr, Mrs. Clyde Mullen and Mrs. Alvin Marr and Alvin Marr motored to Yarmouth on Friday. Albert Marr entered the Yarmouth Regional Hospital for surgical treatment. His many friends wish him a speedy recovery.

Former Digby Rector To Windsor

The Rev. H. Y. MacLean, rector of Saint George's Church, Sydney, for the past nine years, and formerly rector of Digby, has been appointed rector of Christ Church, Windsor, by the Rt. Rev. W. W. Davis, Bishop of Nova Scotia, effective August 1, 1967.

Mr. MacLean is a graduate of Sydney Academy, the Nova Scotia Teachers' College, and the University of King's College.

Mr. MacLean is a member of several committees of the Synod of the Diocese of Nova Scotia, including the Executive Committee of that body, and is an Anglican representative on the Atlantic Ecumenical Council. He was the organizer of the first inter-faith study group in the City of Sydney, and presently is secretary of the inter-denominational committee of clergy which has organized successful conferences with leaders in the Federal and Provincial Governments.

He has been active in many phases of community life during his stay in Sydney. He served as president of the Cape Breton Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association for several years, and also as chairman of the Cape Breton Mental Health Centre, as well as on the boards of the John Howard Society and the Victorian Order of Nurses. At present he is president of the Sydney Branch of the V.O.N., and a member of the provincial board of that order. He has been a member of the Board of Trustees of the C. B. County United Appeal almost since its inception. He also serves as a member of the board of the Cape Breton Hospital and the programme committee of the Sydney Centennial Commission.

Mrs. MacLean is the former Margaret Morehouse, of Sandy Cove, and the MacLeans have one son, Peter, who will be entering Acadia University in September.

Fish

Recipe Swap

We were happy to choose the recipe below to insert for our Fish Recipe Swap for this week. Our thanks to Mrs. Gordon Pulsifer and those who submitted recipes for this week's column.

BAKED HADDOCK

1 round haddock 4 or 5 lb., average. Clean and dry fish carefully. Fill with favourite potato dressing and fasten with skewers. Arrange about 6 slices of bacon diagonally on bottom of baking pan. Place haddock in pan and sprinkle with salt. Lay another 6 slices of bacon on top of fish to keep it moist while baking.

Oven should be hot - about 400 to 425 degrees. Allow about 10 minutes per lb. of fish up to 4 lbs. and 5 minutes extra per each additional lb.

When fish is baked remove skewers and place baked haddock on platter. Garnish with onion rings fried in butter or margarine until golden brown.

Now your haddock is ready to serve with your favourite vegetables.

Mrs. Gordon Pulsifer,
130 King Street, Digby, N. S.

For Reader's Use I used the recipe in the Fish Recipe Swap of March 9 and give my vote for the person who submitted it to qualify for a free subscription to the Digby Courier at the close of the contest. Signed:

Digby Water Supply — Problems 73 Years Ago

(For years the water supply for the town of Digby has been a source of interest and sometimes concern, to the people of Digby. The following opinions of one J. A. Pickett, Civil Engineer, hired in 1894 to go into all aspects of the problem of supplying water to the town, may be of interest.)

"An examination of reports published by other towns of this country, having a population of less than 10,000 reveals the fact that the average demand for water in such cases varies from 30 to 70 gal. per capita per diem, depending upon the character of the town as regards manufacturing industries, etc. I am of the opinion that demands for water in Digby will not be found to exceed an average of 50 gal. per day for each inhabitant and, assuming the population to be not more than 2,000 a supply of 100,000 gal. per day should be provided. Moreover, no source of supply should be adopted that cannot be relied upon to yield much more than this, should the town grow and demands for water be unexpectedly increased. The water, too, should be potable and "soft" both for domestic and manufacturing purposes.

With these requirements in view, I have carefully examined all reported available sources of supply, which may be described as follows:

"Springs at North End of Town — These springs are found in the new red sandstone formation, having such a limited catchment area, so far as this immediate locality is concerned, as to preclude all possibility of obtaining an adequate supply from this source.

"Springs at South End of Town — Flow from same porous strata which on this slope are saturated by the rainfall on the town plot itself and consequently are liable to serious contamination, not only from accumulation of filth on the surface, but from cess pools, or wells that may be used as cess pools and that pierce the same formation. Consequently it would be very unsafe to depend upon this source for a permanent supply of water for domestic purposes.

"Spring at Beaman's Mountain — On the 22nd inst. the springs on the mountain slope, back of Mr. B. Condon's house were measured, and the largest was found to yield only 1.08 gal. per minute, the next largest flowed at the rate of 0.84 gal. per minute, while the other springs, so-called, were found to be mere soakage of the soil. In all probability not more than 5 gal. per minute could be gathered from this district during ordinary dry seasons.

"The Intervale" — Is too low to furnish water to the town by gravitation and the drainage area is too limited to assure a sufficient supply.

"The Springs at VanTassels — Are at an altitude of some 275 feet, only two of them, however, show a visible flow, one of these was found to yield 4.26 gallons and the other 2.09 gal. per minute.

"Syda's Lake" — Is altogether unsuitable as a source of supply. It is bordered by quite extensive marshlands and the water is thereby rendered unfit for use.

"Haines Lake" — Is a fine body of good water, situated about nine miles from Digby. It would form an admirable source of supply, were it not for the fact that it is so surrounded by high lands that the water cannot be brought in this direction.

"The same remark applies to Porter's Lake.

"Mallett Lake" — Is a small sheet of water lying to the eastward of Porter's Lake, about eleven miles from the town. There is a steam saw mill on its banks, whence sawdust is dumped into the water and the lake is used for rafting saw logs.

"The stream flowing from Bingay's mills through Acadia Valley is polluted by quantities of saw dust and lumber refuse.

"Stream on North Mountain — About 3 1/2 miles from Digby and one mile south from the school house on the Broad Cove Road is a considerable stream, having its source in an elevated plateau surrounded by mountain slopes and situated a mile or two southwestward from Lily Lake. Last week this stream was measured at a point in its course some 280 feet above high tide, and was found to be discharging water at the rate of 200 gal. per minute. The outlet from Lily Lake is tributary to this stream, but at the time of the above measurement, the flow from the lake itself was not more than five gallons per minute. A catchment area of about 100 acres only, drains into this lake, so that in itself it is insufficient for a town supply. If thoroughly freed from lily pads and vegetable deposits, however, it would form a satisfactory storage reservoir, and thus in times of drouth, be a valuable auxiliary to the mountain stream into which it flows. Moreover, this lake may be supplemented by the flowage from a separate catchment area lying to the north-east, the brook from which crosses the Broad Cove Road twice near Mr. Daley's and thence flows into the Bay of Fundy. Without great expenditure, this brook might be directed into Lily Lake, thus about trebling the latter's flowage and rendering the mountain stream capable, under proper management, of supplying continuously not less than 1,000,000 gallons per day, an ample quantity for a city of 12,000 people.

"The construction of a comparatively inexpensive impounding reservoir suitably located will enable the mountain stream itself, without the assistance of Lily Lake, etc., to yield continuously 150,000 gal. per day, a quantity that will probably be found sufficient to supply Digby for years to come.

The water from this stream has not yet been analyzed, but I believe it will be found a good, soft, wholesome water for domestic purposes.

"All things considered, I would recommend your adopting this stream as the source of your public water supply. A satisfactory system may be constructed for about thirty-two thousand, five hundred ($32,500). Hydrants will be under pressure varying from 90 pounds per square inch downwards, according to elevation. By the simple arrangement of valves this pressure may be increased about 20 pounds in case of emergency, so that water may be thrown over any building in the town, not excepting the spire of the Roman Catholic Chapel (corner Prince William and King Streets).

"With regards to Artesian Wells — I would say that I believe the geological formation of your town and vicinity is such as to render it exceedingly problematical whether a satisfactory supply could be obtained by that means. At all events I could not recommend your experimenting in that direction, except as the dernier resort.

Your obedient servant, Sgd. J. A. Pickett, Civil Engineer.

"Report of Provincial Assayer — Analysis of the water taken from the source of supply recommended by the engineer is as follows:

"Physical and chemical examination (parts per 100,000) — Temperature: ; turbidity: very slight; color: pale darkish straw; taste (warm): Woody; reaction: neutral; odour (cold): very faint; odour (hot): woody; total solids: 7.20; loss of ignition: 4.40; fixed solids: 2.80; odour on ignition: peaty; phenomenon on ignition: blackening; free ammonia: 0.0000; albuminoid ammonia: 0.0030; organic matter - oxygen consumed: 1.0130; nitrogen as nitrates: 0.0000; chlorine: 1.0650; hardness: 2.50; organic nitrogen and nitrates: not determined.

The sample collected, Nov. 5th, 1894. The sample examined, Nov. 5th, 1894.

"It was kept on ice from time of sampling until examined. One cubic centimeter of water contained 38 bacteria; of these only three were capable of liquefying 12.5 per cent peptone gelatin. There were six different kinds of bacteria, but none of the known pathogenic bacteria were present — the micro organisms being what are generally known as "water bacteria."

(We here, delete the Microscopical Examination from the report. Anyone who wishes to read same may do so at the Courier Office.)

"Remarks — From the foregoing results, supplemented by a knowledge of the local surroundings obtained from your engineer (Mr. Pickett), I beg to report that this water is perfectly good and health-

Mrs. K. M. Hankinson and Mrs. Richmond Journey

Students home from Acadia University for the mid term break were Maritz, Adelaide, Diane Dion, Owen Hankinson, Louise Powell, Gary Gidney, Bernard Mullen, Roger Mullen and Errol Goudy.

Mrs. Austin Mullen is a patient in Digby General Hospital.

Miss Jane Hankinson has been visiting her parents this week while convalescing from the flu.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Cosman spent the weekend in Halifax where Mr. Cosman attended a minister's and elder's conference of the Church of Christ (Disciples).

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lewis left on Monday for Truro.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Barr were visitors in Halifax this week. On their return they were accompanied by their son, Raymond, who is home on leave from Calgary.

Miss Theresa Comeau, of Teachers College, Truro, accompanied by Gary Cook, also of Truro, spent the weekend with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Denis Comeau.

Rev. John Bergman, of Edmonton, Alta., was an overnight visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Cosman.

Surprise Party On 25th Anniversary

A surprise party was tendered, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Barr by members of the Church of Christ (Disciples), on the occasion of their 25th wedding anniversary. The celebration took place in the Church of Christ (Disciples) basement on Thursday evening, when about 100 people gathered to wish them well. Telegrams and greetings were received from former clergy, and they were the recipients of a large sum of money and gifts. Women of the church served delicious refreshments, and the table was decorated for the occasion with a three tiered cake and silver decorations. A delightful evening was spent singing the old songs and hymns.

50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Ruggles received about 100 guests last Thursday on the occasion of their 50th wedding anniversary. Mr. and Mrs. Ruggles were seated under a golden arch to receive their many guests, and the rooms were tastefully decorated with flowers and tapers for the occasion. Assisting Miss Pauline Ruggles were her sisters, Mrs. Bernard Fraser, of Bear River, and Mrs. Geo. O'Neill, of Fort Williams, Ont.

Many lovely gifts were received, including a large sum of money, and telegrams and telephone calls from family and friends were received. A personal telegram from Pat Nowlan was one of the highlights of the occasion. Delicacies were served by the Olive Branch Rebekah Lodge, and the table was decorated for the occasion with a three tier wedding cake and bridal decorations.

ful for drinking and household purposes. By improvement in the stream and storage, the water will diminish in organic matter, and become clearer and less colored. The bacteriological examination is very satisfactory, — the number of bacteria being exceedingly small.

Sgd. Alfred E. MacIntyre, Provincial Assayer for New Brunswick.

(It is estimated that some 15 feet of sediment has been built up in Lily Lake in the 73 years since the above investigation was printed in the Courier.)

In a supplementary report published in the issue of the Courier of Nov. 30, 1894, Mr. Pickett said "the proposed dam will impound some 8,000,000 gal. of water for use in dry seasons and the distributing reservoir in the town will hold 500,000 gal. for extra supply in case of emergency."

Renee Cromwell of Calgary, is home on leave before being posted to Cyprus.

Miss Sandra Jarvis left this week for Montreal where she will be employed.

Mrs. Edgar March has returned home after visiting her daughter in Halifax.

Mrs. Edward Gove, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. Geo. Hankinson, visited the latter's sister in Annapolis on Saturday.

Mrs. Kenneth Hankinson and sons, Owen and Eddy, accompanied by Alan Robicheau, were visitors in Freeport on Sunday.

Dr. and Mrs. Dan Garnham and children, of Stanley, N. B., were visitors in town Saturday.

Miss Margaret Filleul, Halifax, spent the weekend with her brother, Ken Filleul, and with her mother, Mrs. P. E. Filleul, who is a patient in the Digby General Hospital.

Mrs. Neily Cromwell is a patient in Digby General Hospital.

Miss Joy Cosman had the misfortune to sprain her ankle while skiing last week.

Mrs. Arthur Journey entertained about 18 little girls on Friday in honor of her two daughters, Loretta and Sandra, whose birthdays were celebrated.

Mrs. George O'Neil (nee Leslie Ruggles), who has been visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. N. L. Ruggles, left on Friday for her home in Fort Williams, Ont.

Chas. Knowlton, Saint John, N. B., visited several friends in Weymouth this week.

Alvin Atwell is attending a convention in Toronto this week. Mrs. Atwell and children accompanied him to Halifax and visited relatives in Ellershouse on her return.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Rice are visiting in Halifax this week. Keith Coggins, Halifax, visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thurber on Friday.

Byard Thurber, Kingston, spent the past week with Mr. and Mrs. Winslow Thurber.

Earn Technician Certificates

Congratulations are in order for eleven mechanics from Weymouth Motors who received their certificates from General Motors Technicians Guild this week, all having passed the exams for the year 1966. All the men who trained on this course in Moncton during the year passed, several with 100%, and the others with high marks.

Each year new courses are given the mechanics on new methods and models to enable them to keep up to date in repair work.

Repair Of Tombstones Is Centennial Project

It was announced at the annual congregational meeting of St. Peter's Anglican parish held at Killam Hall, Weymouth, that a centennial project planned for 1967 is the cleaning and repair of the historical tombstones in St. Peter's cemetery, Weymouth North.

This church celebrated its 175th anniversary in 1965.

Some highlights from the report given by the rector, Rev. A. G. Peters, indicated that the parish had a high spiritual level throughout the year, a successful series of adult study groups on the ecumenical level had been held, four boys attended a boys' conference held at King's University and a vocational conference for the deanery was held with 70 girls in attendance, and a vacation school was held by St. George's Sunday School.

Thanks was extended to Gordon Campbell, Sunday School Supt., the organist, Mrs. Ken Hankinson; Clare Ruggles, vestry clerk and to the wardens. The resignation of John Shaw, warden of St. Peter's Church, was accepted with regret and a vote of thanks passed to him for his service.

The treasurer showed a good financial standing for the year.

A new warden, Kenneth Filleul, was appointed by St. Peter's Church and R. S. Hallett remained in office for St. Thomas' Church. Vestry men appointed were: C. R. Ruggles, R. Gaudet, G. Campbell, H. Walker, R. Rice, J. Jones, G. Jarvis, A. Ruggles, A. Atwell, W. Layton and N. Cromwell.

Delegates to the synod: D. Filleul, Miss M. Morris; alternates: C. R. Ruggles, Elmer Jarvis; St. Anne's camp committee: K. Filleul; auditor: Donald Filleul.

This parish is composed of three churches: St. Peter's, Weymouth North; St. Thomas', Weymouth and St. Matthew's, Weymouth Falls.

ors involved in both success and decline.

As the study-discussion program proceeds, sessions will deal with exploration of realistic and practical ways and means through which the local area can more closely meet the requirements for success and overcome factors which might tend to produce decline or failure.

One of the end results which it is hoped will be achieved by the program will be the development of a workable plan and a set of guidelines leading to a series of action projects, involving local agencies and organizations as well as cooperative efforts by local and out of area groups, agencies and departments to bring about a greater and more rewarding participation by the local area in the tourist industry.

Those involved in the tourism study-discussion series will include representatives of local area business and commercial enterprises and organizations most directly factured locally.

In his commentary, Mr. Jamerson also explained the pre-cooling process which is undergone by the strawberries following picking. He said that, after picking, the berries were taken to grading tables and then to the pre-coolers where they were kept at least four hours before shipping. The training films shown at Monday's training sessions showed both air and truck shipment of berries to market and demonstrated the extreme care exercised at all stages of handling to prevent damage to the fruit.

In response to questions from the youngsters, Mr. Jamerson explained that payment would be by a ticket system. Each picker would receive a printed ticket for each flat picked and accepted at the grading table. At the end of the day they would exchange these tickets for cash. He stated a canteen would be operated at the farm where youngsters could purchase at cost food items. Picking would be carried out during the season every day weather permitted, he said, and youngsters would be expected to work full days. He stated it was hoped some teachers might be available to work as supervisors during the harvesting season and said the evening training sessions would include those teachers who were interested.

With Mr. Jamerson at the film showings on Monday were George Kalin, a strawberry grower from Florida and New Jersey, who is now working with Beaverbrook Farms Ltd. Gordon Kinsman of the N. S. Department of Agriculture, Truro; and William LeFort, Digby County agricultural representative. Chairman of the student assemblies held at the Digby Regional High School for the film showings was Jack Ritcey, vice-principal of the school.

Beaverbrook Farms Ltd. at Seabrook is a joint project of the Nova Scotia Land Settlement Board and a group of U. S. fruit and vegetable growers. Some three hundred acres of land are under cultivation with a hundred acres of strawberries ready for production this coming summer. It is understood a warehouse and cooling rooms will be constructed at the farm site in time for this summer's operation. According to Mr. Jamerson, who is in charge of the farm operation, labour requirements at the farm will be extensive this year. In addition to strawberry pickers, loaders, supervisors, graders and other help will be needed for this crop. Other farm help concerned with the tourist industry and promotion of tourism.

and elementary grades of the urban and municipal schools and Jack Ritcey will be principal of the Digby Regional High School.

Sub-systems of Weymouth and the Islands will also come under the new supervisory system with J. Wilbur Layton and Donald MacBeath as supervisors for these areas respectively.

Paul LeBlanc, Little Brook, will be on the staff of Digby Regional High School in the physical education department as will also be Neil Bergher of Kentville. Miss Jane Lessel, Bridgetown, will be the French teacher; Miss Julia Pynn, Annapolis Royal, English; Miss Margaret Hankinson, Weymouth, English and Social Studies; Wayne Boudreau, Church Point, Industrial Arts.

Other appointments for 1967 in Digby schools are: Miss Marilyn Atkinson, Digby; Miss Jacqueline E. Comeau, Meteghan River; Mrs. Cleveland Dukeshire, Bear River; Miss Sandra Sherman, Digby, and Peter Balser, Digby.

will also be required for other fruits and vegetable production to be carried out at the farm. It is the intention to recruit all the needed labour force from the local area.

complete the construction program for the Municipality of Clare as far as educational buildings is concerned for a number of years.

Much time was consumed in studying the various health problems which confronted the Municipal Council this year with specialists meeting with the Council on various occasions during the winter session.

A new bus garage will be constructed near the present one, which has become too small and more space is required with the additional buses purchased within the last few years. The Municipal School Board operates its own repair garage which is situated near the Clare District High School at Meteghan River.

The taxable assessment for 1967 on real and personal property in the Municipality of Clare is $6,973,391.00, which is an increase of $452,766 over the 1966 assessment. This is made up of $5,487,775.00 in real property; $1,717,091.00 in personal property; exemption of $231,475.00. This includes milk ranches at $137,530.00 and the Clare Municipal Hydro System at $62,000.00.

Officials Favour BCG Vaccination Against TB

At the Canadian Tuberculosis Association they are getting tired of reading that the Association is against BCG, the vaccine which gives about 80 per cent protection against tuberculosis.

It just is not so. Dr. C.W.L. Jeanes, executive secretary of the CTA, states that for years and years the Association has urged BCG vaccination for all tuberculin negative hospital staff, nurses in training, medical students, teenagers and members of households where there is a person with active tuberculosis.

This adds up to some millions of Canadians for whom vaccination is recommended who have not been vaccinated.

To meet the needs of Canadian hospitals, the Red Cross must collect more than 915,000 units of blood in 1967.

And why? Because they do not want to be vaccinated and this is a free country.

Quite a range of infectious diseases have been virtually wiped out in Canada by immunization, immunization of infants whose cries of protest were heard but not heeded.

If the same attitude could be adopted with teenagers and they could all be marched along for immunization there is no doubt that the incidence of tuberculosis would drop sharply in the next few years.

Since BCG provides 80 per cent protection it is reasonable to ask why the Canadian Tuberculosis Association and its affiliates are not conducting an all-out campaign to get all the tuberculin negative men, women and children in this country vaccinated with it. (Those who have been infected and react to the test have as much protection as can be achieved.)

Some idea of what is involved may be estimated by any one who will take the trouble of asking 100 people met at a bridge, the office, clubs, bowling, bowling or in buses, but it has a high degree of effectiveness.

If two or more have been the questioner has almost certainly run into a medically sophisticated group.

Yet chances of contracting flu are many times greater than the danger of contracting tuberculosis, as thousands of Canadians learn every year. The usefulness of the vaccine of BCG it is not a guarantee, but it has a high degree of effectiveness.

Is this classified information being concealed lest it be learned by enemy agents? From the number of people who go to their doctors for the vaccination, one would think so. Actually, the benefits of the vaccine have been publicized.

The trouble is that people do not like being vaccinated. In the case of immunizing children this does not hinder the operation because infant's consent is not asked.

It happens, however, that where the incidence of tuberculosis is low the best time for BCG vaccination is not in fancy but the teens. This is not only the opinion of the Canadian Tuberculosis Association. It is also the view of the World Health Organization.

A few, a very few Canadian communities, have undertaken a programme to get high school students vaccinated. Where the effort is preceded by a sound educational campaign, the programme works.

DIGBY NECK

By Myra P. Ellis

One of Nova Scotia's fingers,
Fell in quest upon the sea,
Found it fair and ever linger,
Where the tides flow strong and free.
Strength and length lie in its bending,
Rocky hills and fragrant groves,
Take a story's happy ending,
Nestle many little coves.
One who walked upon the ocean,
Walks in glory now, as then;
Loving all in deep devotion,
He called first the fisherman.
Though upon life's mighty ocean,
This may be a tiny speck,
I have yet a dreamer's notion
That the Lord loves Digby Neck.

Digby Courier Helps Boost Red Cross Revenue

THIS YEAR - BRING A FRIEND!

Publishers of 11 weekly newspapers in Nova Scotia are putting an extra push into this year's Red Cross drive for funds. All have announced tie-in circulation campaigns, with part of subscription payments received during March being channelled towards the Society's month-long goal of raising $73,000 for areas not served by a United Appeal.

"This move by many weekly newspapers is another example of the generous help all our provincial papers give to Red Cross and other similar organizations," said A. F. Wigglesworth, Halifax, president of Nova Scotia Red Cross. "We are very grateful for their support in our March campaign."

He pointed out that the theme for the 1967 campaign is "Double Your Dollars, to help your Red Cross." Idea behind the theme is to encourage the many donors who normally contribute $1 or less to increase their gift this year to $2 or more.

"At present the work of our provincial Red Cross is being subsidized by our sister provinces," he said. "Results of past campaigns show that most contributions in Nova Scotia average $1 or less. We'd like to see donors of smaller amounts take our theme to heart and double the amount of their gift this year. If they do, we'll be able to stand on our own feet financially."

During March, traditionally Red Cross Month in Canada, volunteer workers will be calling on all provincial homes and business firms outside United Appeal areas. Red Cross workers will remind residents that they may supplement their direct donation and help their community reach its objective by subscribing to their local newspaper during the month.

In all cases, subscription payments are made directly to the newspaper, and not to the Red Cross volunteer.

Publishers conducting the tie-in circulation campaign have indicated they will contribute amounts ranging from 50 cents to $1.60 for each new Weekly News. The Victoria subscription payment received Inverness Bulletin, The Hants Journal (Windsor), and The also will donate a portion of, Acadia (Wolfville).

payments for subscriptions renewed or extended during the month towards the Red Cross appeal. Weeklies outside United Appeal areas conducting this March circulation campaign are: The Spectator (Annapolis Royal); The Bridgetown Monitor; The Bridgewater Bulletin; The Digby Courier; The Advertiser (Kentville); The Progress-Enterprise (Lunenburg); The Canso Breeze; The Truro Weekly News; The Victoria Inverness Bulletin; The Hants Journal (Windsor); and The Acadia (Wolfville).

Report From Parliament Hill

By

Pat Nowlan

M.P.

Digby-Annapolis-Kings

It was interesting to see the parliamentary process at work this week when public service collective bargaining became the law of the land without much of a murmur. Other big steps in Government are the quiet ones without fanfare and fury. Such is the case with the Bills which passed on Monday giving public servants the right to strike.

In a way, it was a move from the forest to the satellite, for prior to the legislation on Monday, public servants in Canada did not even have the right to bargain on rates of pay, conditions of work or other labour management problems.

Canada decided to go all the way and in a unique piece of legislation provided public servants, prior to negotiation of their contract, with an option to elect which method they are to follow to determine their differences with the Government if there is no agreement after negotiations. At the moment over 60 staff associations or bargaining units are affected. After they receive certification they then can bargain for their employees within the group and before each negotiation decide if they are to strike or have their differences settled by compulsory arbitration.

The right of public servants to strike is rather restricted throughout the world. Only France and Sweden have strike machinery by law. In England differences between public servants and the Government are settled by compulsory arbitration. This is the same procedure followed in Australia and the majority of the other provinces of Canada excepting Quebec and Saskatchewan. The United States rates of pay, hours of work and conditions of employment are largely determined by Congress. Further, it is interesting to note that in the country to the south of us, notwithstanding their powerful and politically motivated unions, no employee of the U.S. Government can strike. If he does he is immediately fired and is ineligible for re-employment by the Government for a period of 3 years.

The legislation passed Monday has had a long gestation period. Early in 1963 a body composed of senior Government officials was appointed by the Pearson Government to review collective bargaining procedures throughout the world and to make recommendations for reform in Canada where differences were resolved only by consultation with no reference to ordinary labour management conciliation or arbitration proceedings. This committee, known as The Preparatory Committee on Collective Bargaining in the Public Service, brought in its report in July of 1965. The Report, known as the Heeney Report (after its Chairman) showed that in 1963 over 340,000 persons worked in the public service of Canada. Of these 140,000 were employed in Crown corporations and over 200,000 in departmental branches, services and corporations. The report recommended a collective bargaining procedure in the public service and if the agreement could not be reached in negotiation then machinery be established for compulsory arbitration.

The legislation passed on Monday goes much further than the Heeney Report. While the Bills received exhaustive study in a joint committee of the House and Senate they came before a sparsely attended House of Commons notwithstanding that the Minister responsible for the legislation admitted the intended reforms were the most far reaching in the public service since the Civil Service Act debate of 1918 which eliminated patronage and gave the Civil Service Commission effective authority in matters of personnel. The debate of 1918 lasted 6 days. The debate on the present Bills lasted little over 6 hours, for the mood of the House was to equate employees in the public service with those in the private sector and thus the right to strike carried the day.

It is an interesting paradox and an irony of the whole debate that regardless of all the protestation about discrimination, the employees who work closest with the Members, namely, the staff and administrative personnel of the House of Commons and Senate, do not have any rights under the Bills.

Also, the armed forces and RCMP, and others engaged in the security and safety of the country are excluded.

It is going to be interesting to see if the security and safety of the country reigns supreme when some staff association, or union (as it will become) decides to follow the letter of the law.

Some 55,000 articles of sick-room equipment are loaned free of charge to about 38,000 persons every year from Red Cross Sickroom Loan Cupboards.

Rhubarb Crown In February
On Saturday, February 25, the Rev. B. Hicks gave Havelock correspondent some rhubarb which he had just cut from his patch. Sound impossible, with probably a good foot of snow over the rhubarb patch, "out doors". Well, Mr. Hicks planted a few roots late in the fall in his basement, in saw dust and has several stalks that came up, from each root. To be exact, the bunch he gave the correspondent amounted to 3 lbs. and each stalk was at least 19 inches long and good healthy pink in colour. The leaves home and the evening was spent with a hymn sing and prayer by Mrs. Jones. Lunch was served by Mrs. Shimmer and Mrs. Sabine at the close of the evening.

Need Better Wharves

by Mrs. Charles McDormand

This past month of February has seen many high winds and rough seas such as the one which blew on Thursday evening, Feb. 23rd. Boats lying at government wharf at Westport, Brier Island took a beating from the wind and sea - dragners and herring seiners "Whistling Sea", Blue Swan and "Miss T" were in danger of being beaten against the wharf, as happens when attempting to back out, a heavy sea along with winds drove the "Whistling Sea" causing damage to both boats.

This was just before high tide and shortly after the sea was continually washing over the wharf making it nearly impossible to get to boats.

In his speech at the Legislature in Halifax Mr. Baden Powell stated true facts as quoted. In a storm the owners of boats stand on the shore and pray that the moorings will hold as they see the efforts of a life-time hanging by a nylon rope. Or they risk their lives at inadequate docking facilities trying to keep their boats from being torn adrift and smashed on the nearby boundaries. Unquote, which seems to sum up very neatly that better docking facilities are desperately needed in the area. Surely a government that has so much money to spend for "Expo" and such projects could have some money to throw this way so that men who reap their living from the sea could have some protection from the elements.

CFB CORNWALLIS SURVEY COMPLETED

Philip Woolaver, Digby barrister and Chairman of the Save Cornwallis Committee, has announced the completion of the survey and evaluation of the economic impact of CFB Cornwallis on the Annapolis-Digby-Clare area. This study was made in co-operation with the Save Cornwallis Committee under the direction of R. E. Drover, Supervisor of Economic Services of the Nova Scotia Department of Trade and Industry, in fulfillment of a public pledge to support the efforts of the Save Cornwallis Committee made by Honourable E. D. Halliburton on behalf of the Provincial Government at a mass meeting held at Digby last November. Co-ordinator of the work between the Save Cornwallis Committee and the Department of Trade and Industry was Alex Harris, the Department's field representative, whose headquarters is in Middleton. Mr. Woolaver stated that his committee had received the fullest help and co-operation from the Provincial Government through Mr. Drover and Mr. Harris and their staff and that their efforts would certainly make a most significant contribution to the ultimate aim of the Save Cornwallis Committee. In quoting from the survey, Mr. Woolaver stated some of its highlights were:

"There are over 4,300 people who are directly supported by CFB Cornwallis. The area in which over 90% of these people live has a population of under 16,000. In this area - a 20 mile radius of Cornwallis - one out of every four people either work at the base or is supported by someone who does."

"Total family income for those working at the base is estimated at $6.75 million. 90% of disposable income is spent within 50 miles of the base, only 2% is spent outside the Province of Nova Scotia."

"80% of the civilian employees at the base have lived in their community for over 11 years. 50% (i.e. around 250 employees) have worked there for a period in excess of 10 years and 3 out of every 4 own their own homes."

"The semi-skilled and unskilled, whose average monthly income is $250.00 would suffer the greatest personal loss from change at Cornwallis. On a per capita basis, more of these workers own their own homes than the civilian average and they also have the greatest number of children and hence are the least mobile class of workers as well as the fact that the unemployment rate for this class of worker is particularly critical in Western Nova Scotia."

"The clerical worker, while in somewhat better position than the semi-skilled and unskilled, would have no market for their skills in the area of their present residence."

All conclusions in the study are supported by tables and statistics compiled from interviews and questionnaires completed by base personnel in meetings with Mr. Harris and Mr. Drover and their staff. Comparative statistics are from the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The study personnel received the full co-operation of Captain Paul, the base Commanding Officer, and his staff.

The report has been submitted to the Department of National Defense for pre-study by Departmental officials and will form an important part of the submissions to be made directly to Honourable Paul Hellyer by a strong representative delegation from the Save Cornwallis Committee. Peter Nicholson is making arrangements through the good offices of Honourable Allen MacEachen, on behalf of the Committee, for an appointment with Honourable Mr. Hellyer. Mr. Woolaver stated that throughout its work, the Committee has received much valuable help at Ottawa from Pat Nowlan who is giving the Committee his full co-operation in relation to its meeting with Honourable Mr. Hellyer.

The recent reports out of CFB Cornwallis have been encouraging to the Committee as expenditures have been recently authorized and barracks blocks utilized which would appear to refute an intention to close Cornwallis. However, Mr. Woolaver states that his Committee intends to continue with its efforts on behalf of all segments of the community to ensure the fulfillment of its ultimate aim for the retention and expansion of CFB Cornwallis in its present location.

Trade Board Discusses Ferries, Wharves, CBC-TV

Ten people were present at the March meeting of Digby Board of Trade held Tuesday evening. The meeting was chaired by Elmer Sangster, vice-president, in the absence of Reigh W. Jayne, president.

Mayor C. D. Snow reported on meetings being held in an effort to receive upgraded transportation service across the Bay of Fundy. He told of progress being made to improve harbour conditions in Digby and gave notice of a meeting to discuss further improvements next Monday.

It was announced at Tuesday evening's meeting that phase two of the Digby harbour improvement program will begin about the first of May. Phase one, dredging operations, has been completed.

Keith Raymond spoke of the increasing need for a causeway and improved wharf facilities in the Digby Neck and Islands area. He suggested a definite need for extended service across Petite Passage and said that night crossings should be arranged for faster transportation of goods, so that citizens of the Islands may participate in social activities on the mainland.

Discussion arose concerning the need for a public address system for the Town, and the Board agreed to pay fifty percent of the cost of equipment if the Town would be responsible for remaining costs.

Mr. Sangster read telegrams from State Secretary Judy LaMarsh and Pat Nowlan, M.P., concerning future plans by the CBC for television service to the Western Annapolis Valley. Digby area Trade Boards had sent telegrams to Miss LaMarsh and Mr. Nowlan suggesting that a proposed new CBC television station for New Brunswick be located in Saint John instead of Fredericton. Fear was expressed that transmitting equipment of a Fredericton station may be at too great a distance to provide adequate reception to the Western Valley. The new station would be the only means of CBC service to the area, it is understood. After the new station is on the air it is believed CHSJ-TV will become part of the CTV network.

Stewart MacNaughton presented a draft of a picture containing a map of Digby showing tourist - promotion highlights, which will be used on a brochure to be printed for the Board.

With the advent of advanced equipment and more sophisticated aircraft, the problems for aircraft controllers have increased immensely during the past few years. An intensified training program for sea-going, tactical aircraft controllers was instituted in 1965 and has trained a score of controllers since that time.

CIRP4 Graham McBride, having successfully completed the fourth ACO Course on December 16, 1966, is the first non-commissioned officer to become qualified in this demanding field of endeavour.

Long Time Digby School Teacher Mourned

Miss Bessie Bonnell Turnbull, aged 82, a teacher in the Digby Academy for fifty years, passed away at the Stewart Nursing Home in Annapolis Royal on Saturday.

Of United Empire Loyalist stock, Miss Turnbull was born in Digby and was the daughter of the late Charles Edward and Margaret Louise (Bonnell) Turnbull. She was a great great granddaughter of the Rev. Roger Viels, first Rector of Trinity Parish, who came to Digby from Simsbury, Conn., in 1786.

After her graduation from the Provincial Normal College in Truro, she returned to Digby County and taught for a year in Rossby. She then accepted a position on the staff of the Digby Academy where she taught for fifty years.

A devoted teacher with a great natural talent for imparting knowledge and arousing the interest of her pupils in their studies, Miss Turnbull was much beloved by the great number of pupils who passed through her classroom. These pupils included three generations of many Digby families. She was possessed of a great love for her country and for her native town and was able, through her talents as a teacher, to develop in her pupils a large measure of the strong feelings of loyalty which were so much a part of

Support For Digby

The City of Halifax is considering lending its support to the Town of Digby in pressing the federal and provincial governments for modernization of the Digby-Saint John ferry service.

The finance and executive committee last week unanimously recommended that a later date city council endorse the Digby Town Council's petition.

Digby Mayor, C. D. Snow requested the city's support to accompany a brief to be presented to the provincial and federal governments, and Canadian Pacific Railway.

The brief is to ask for immediate modernization of the ferry service, with the establishment of new terminals at Digby and Saint John. Saint John city is working with the Digby council in preparation of a joint brief.

Halifax Mayor, Allen O'Brien said the city's endorsement of the brief could have the effect of improving CPR service to Halifax, the competitive effect of which should surely be good for us.

Tourism - Bringing Market To Goods

Transportation is usually thought of in the light of taking goods to market. Tourism is bringing the market to the goods, said Percy Take, Bear River, when he addressed the Bear River Board of Trade on Thursday night. One hundred and fifty million people are in easy reach and we have the goods, declared the speaker. We must supply roads, entertainment, accommodation, things which will bring the tourists here and detain them here. He mentioned especially the interests for tourists on Digby Neck, Long Island and Brier Island.

In bringing the tourists to the western end of Nova Scotia, Mr. Take particularly mentioned the Fundy Vacation Trail. Presently, he said, seven out of ten cars entering Nova Scotia go to Cape Breton. The proposed Fundy Vacation Trail from St. Stephen, N. B., to Yarmouth, Nova Scotia, is sponsored by dedicated men from all around the trail and is of interest to some half million people. The committee, he said, is enthusiastic and they mean business.

The Fundy Vacation Trail has the blessing of both Nova Scotia and New Brunswick governments. Economically the venture would be absolutely sound and there is definitely no politics involved. Mr. Take was hopeful that something would get started this year.

However, Mr. Take said, costs must be looked at seriously. He felt that after the trail was started it would carry on by its own momentum. Some places the trail will be good and in some places not so good; sections will probably be finished here and there and not in continuous stretch. The total cost will be in the vicinity of $78,000,000 when completed. He felt the trail should be divided into vacation areas to suit different types of people.

In the meantime, Mr. Take said that we must prepare for tourists. People have more time, they are more mobile and they want something new. They want recreation to make themselves new again. He suggested brochures to appeal to the people; bright, clean premises; good foods and something planned at

Pines Hotel Open Two Weeks Longer

R. J. Forhan, manager of the Pines Hotel, told the Courier yesterday that plans are well underway for the hotel's opening, June 15th. The Pines will be open two weeks longer this season, closing September 15th.

There will be 175 staff members this year, Mr. Forhan said. Some of these will arrive as early as June 1st. Mr. Schmidt, chef, and Mr. Hazelhuhn, Maitre d', will return for their second season with the Pines.

Mr. Forhan said a number of applications have been received from Nova Scotians formerly employed at Jasper Park Lodge, in Alberta. This is a switch, he said, and is probably been brought about by the possibility of wage increases to employees of the Nova Scotia government.

At the opening of the Nova Scotia Legislature in February the speech from the Throne proposed "to provide for minimum payment of one dollar and twenty five cents an hour for employees of the Government or Boards, Commissioners or Agencies of the Government and under contracts of construction entered into by

Resume Classes Question On At Sanatorium Water For Digby

Over thirty young people from Digby County are presently at the Kentville sanatorium. Classes have now been resumed at Clare District High School where an outbreak of tuberculosis was discovered recently by the Nova Scotia department of health. The school was closed for two weeks during investigation and control measures instituted by the department.

The Clare patients are continuing their studies at the "San" school and one teacher has been added to the school staff. The school has an enrollment of 57, including the Clare student. According to Dr. Earl Hiltz, Medical Superintendent, all patients are "doing fine."

Dr. Hiltz said the expanded staff was necessary to cope with the admission of so many young people. Most of them were mobile patients, taking periods of bed rest and treatment to which they were responding well, the superintendent said.

Admission of such a large number of patients created some crowding problems at the Sanatorium for the first time in ten years. Dr. Hiltz said. With 192 patients the institution was at full capacity. Fourteen extra beds have been set up and rooms formerly used for various utility purposes, have been turned into bedrooms. There were no beds placed in corridors. School classes are held in a bright sunroom where students assemble daily.

Beaverbrook "Unfair Competition"

A federal-provincial experimental farm in Digby County, designed to explore the feasibility of large-scale production of vegetables and small fruits for export, drew mixed reactions from vegetable growers during a symposium held in Kentville to assess the farm's progress.

Established in the Seabrook area of Digby County, the operation was started as a joint effort of the Nova Scotia department of agriculture and marketing, and the federal agency set up under the Agricultural and Rural Development Act (ARDA).

Last year the farm concentrated on strawberries and blueberries, although some vegetable test plots were in operation.

The main focus of criticism from growers in attendance was the belief that the experimental farm constituted unfair government-subsidized competition to private operators.

This view was expressed by A. E. Calkin, general manager of Scotian Gold Co-op Limited, Kentville, when he said that "multi-hundreds of acres under cultivation by a government-sponsored corporate colossus are going to have a real impact on markets at home."

J. E. Peill, Canning vegetable grower, countered with the view that the Seabrook experiment "was exactly the kind of thing farmers have been seeking for years."

Farm organizations, said Mr. Peill, have stressed the importance of a modern business (Please turn to page 6)

About This And That

All In The Eyes You Look Through

When it is true that we are the beneficiaries of modern research and advanced public health practices, we cannot leave everything to the physicians, surgeons, dentists, pharmacists, nurses, laboratory technicians, nutritionists. With all these partners, one more partner is missing, essential to a successful health programme to get the public.

As the scientific discoveries and the advances made in the past few years have been used to begin with, since the war, it is possible that children and adults should be protected against such diseases as smallpox, poliomyelitis, diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough, diet should be checked regularly and the public water supply should be fluoridated.

Adolescents should be warned of the dangers of contracting a venereal disease; every one should have regular and complete check-ups, medical and dental. Early diagnosis of cancer, diabetes, heart disease and mental health is important and we should all give thought to aging and prepare to enjoy our later years.

These things are not only important, they are essential. As Herbert Spencer put it, "The maintenance of health is a duty. Few people seem to realize that it is such a thing as physical morality."

For nearly half a century the Health League of Canada has been doing these things on the Canadian people's behalf. During this 23rd Annual National Health Week, let us begin again.

Conflicting Reports

There is a conflict of reports about the cause of the increase in venereal disease. According to the report of the Health Department based on cases reported to the provincial health departments, the incidence of venereal disease is much higher. There were 1,000 cases in 1963 and 1,923 in the first nine months of 1964. These were in the 15-19 age group.

These are startling figures and there is indication that the disease is on the increase throughout the country, more and more teenagers.

Prevention of venereal disease depends upon a combination of factors and not medication. It is true that the widespread use of penicillin and other antibiotics has helped to reduce the incidence of venereal disease, but these measures alone cannot conquer this disease. Venereal disease is again on the increase as the above figures will show. Does this mean a decline in moral standards?

In a Report entitled Venereal Disease and Young People, issued by the British Medical Association, the following points appear: "We do know that much of the disease has been among teenagers in Britain. In 1961, this age group accounted for more than a quarter of all gonorrhoeal infections among females. The increase among both sexes between the ages of 15 and 24 was only slightly greater than among older people. This suggests a factor that young people are becoming more promiscuous."

We really need improved facilities for treating venereal disease. So we need education too. The physical dangers of promiscuity are simply facts and should be known so that people can take them into account in the planning of their lives. But even more important is the danger to the ultimate happiness of the individual.

But prevention is the better answer and prevention will only begin to affect this growing problem when promiscuity is frowned on as unfashionable, square and proper. And that can come about only by wise education for past sex education, but education for living. The real remedy to the problem lies in a change of society.

When people care for the needs and welfare of others and bring up their children to understand that this responsibility is laid upon every individual as upon every government, then promiscuity and devaluation of human life cannot flourish. Only then will venereal disease be a thing of the past.

One member of our House of Commons would like to see a study of the problem undertaken in Parliament.

In an article in the December issue of "Health", written by Peter Field, President of the Vanier Institute of the Blind, it states, "science changes and customs alter but the moral values do not alter. They are eternal." Peter Field continues, "the surest way to create a happy and healthy nation is to abide by the happy moral values of the past, and to find a mate who has done the same."

Children start to learn from example in infancy. They learn to do things through life. It is the gentle discipline of the home which in turn creates self-discipline in the individual, prepares the individual for life in society.

It is up to parents to direct the course of our children. We submit that the real remedy to the problem lies in a change of society itself.

Partners In Health

(National Health Week, March 12-18)

The World Health Organization has announced Partners in Health as the World Health Day theme for 1967 and the Health League of Canada, as a Canadian citizen's committee for WHO, is promoting the idea that we are all every citizen of Canada partners in health.

While it is true that we are the beneficiaries of modern research and advanced public health practices, we cannot leave everything to the physicians, surgeons, dentists, pharmacists, nurses, laboratory technicians, nutritionists. With all these partners, one more partner is missing, essential to a successful health programme to get the public.

Venereal Disease And The New Morality

Venereal disease heads the list of the ten leading diseases in Canada according to the report of the Health Department based on cases reported to the provincial health departments. Bear River, N.S. March 8, 1967

The Digby Courier.

Dear Editor:

I have been reading considerable about the water condition in Digby.

I believe most of the "lake water in the district gets quite warm in the summer."

Do eels come in from the salt water or do they live in the mud of the lake in the winter time?

Guess someone should hunt around with a diving rod and find some underground springs.

I only have five springs on my property there.

Better luck with the water situation.

Yours truly,

George R. Benson.

To the Editor

Dear Editor:

NO CAUSEWAY MINUS FERRY

I predict, if the Fundy Board of Trade members are getting no support at this time from the provincial government it is time to change horses. The answer to your problem re causeway at Petite Passage lies with the voters. If Digby County and Annapolis County stop catering to Pat Nowlan and Robert Stanfield and support the party who is in the Drivers Seat, that is the Liberal party in Ottawa, Ontario, you will get action. Not until just read the newspapers. See what the unions demand and get. Non union has to take what he is offered and like it.

Don't vote opposite your neighbour because you don't like him. In unity there is strength. Read what has happened to a vote getter from Nova Scotia on the House of Commons floor. Voted out of order once, defeated on vote on two other occasions. You are getting no place fast.

The present ferry of Petite Passage might be discontinued leaving the Islanders marooned.

A. C. Denton.

P. O. Box 3000, Halifax, Nova Scotia, March 10, 1967.

Editor, Digby Courier, Digby, Nova Scotia.

Dear Sir:

In your February 23rd issue, you printed a contributed editorial expressing fears for the future of CBC television coverage in a portion of the Annapolis Valley.

The author of the editorial appears to have assumed quite mistakenly, that coverage would be affected by the location of the studios. Actually, the studios have no bearing on the coverage of a station, it is the location of the transmitter which is a large determining factor. The studios can be, and usually are, many miles distant from the transmitter as is the case with CHSJ-TV whose studios are some 20 miles from the transmitter.

In proceeding with plans for its own television station in Western New Brunswick, the CBC is, of course, concerned with maintaining existing coverage. The new transmitter is planned to be located so as to give the greatest possible coverage to the Fundy Shore of Nova Scotia as well as to Saint John and Fredericton.

I hope this information helps to remove any doubts which may have existed respecting the continued availability of CBC service.

Yours truly,

E. B. Baillie,

Supervisor of Information Services for the Maritimes.

Fish Recipe Swap

Mrs. Gordon Hyson, Smith's Cove, said the following recipe makes a delicious meal. She served it on Sunday night for supper.

CREAM OF SEVEN SEAS

One can cream of mushroom soup
1 1/2 cups milk
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 1/2 cups of minute rice
1 can seafood (salmon or other)
1 package frozen peas (thawed)

Mix soup, milk and salt in a saucepan and bring to a boil over medium heat and stir occasionally.

Four: mixture in greased casserole dish. Add in layers the minute rice as it comes from box, the seafood and peas. Add remainder of soup. Sprinkle with paprika.

Bake 20 minutes in 350 oven.

For Reader's Use I used the recipe in the Fish Recipe swap of March 9 and chose my vote for the person who submitted it to qualify for a free subscription to the Digby Courier at the close of the contest. Signed,

North End vs. South End In Hockey Tilt

A challenge has been accepted by the two end's of own to once and for all see who is supreme holder of the town's best young hockey talent. Coaching the South end will be Freddie Smith, and although not living in the North end now, Murray Baxter will coach the North end. Game time for this major event will be 6:30 p.m. on Friday evening at the Forum.

This game could possibly become an annual event if trophy was made available. The players taking part will be no older than Pee-Wee age, these players will be notified by the respective coaches who to play on Friday night.

Winners of the game will be treated to a hot-dog and a glass of soft drink at the Forum canteen, donated by Forum manager, Mr. Stanley Vidito. Being from the North end myself, I can only see a North end victory, but come and support your end of town in their effort to become the kings of hockey in Digby.

C.Y.O. Ice Sports

By JERRY VANTASSEL

Last Sunday the C.Y.O. wrapped up the season's play-offs.

In the girl's broomball game the Weymouth girls out fought a determined defending champion St. Pat's team from Digby and came out on the best end of a 2-1 score. This game saw more than two hours of overtime. St. Joseph's of Weymouth are now the new champions taking the series 2 games to 0.

In the hockey game, St. Pat's of Digby remained undefeated in League play and playoff action with a very close 5-4 overtime victory. Danny Doucette scored 4 goals including the game winning overtime marker while Jerry VanTassel accounted for the other St. Pat's goal.

Weymouth marksmen were Paul Comeau, Greg Machine, Digue Lefort and George Comeau. Weymouth never gave up for a second and continually came from behind to tie the score until the overtime goal. The defending champions put up a fine stand against the hard-fighting St. Pat's team.

Cornwallis Wins Series

Cornwallis Cougars blanked the St. Ann's College team, 4-0, to advance in provincial intermediate "B" hockey play-offs.

Cougars, who dropped the opening game of the best-of-three series to the collegians, won the series the hard way by taking the next two games.

Frank Boucher scored one goal and assisted on the other three in the final game. Bill Burge, Roly Lee and Joe Smale scored the other goals. Doug Millen made several sparkling saves in posting the shutout.

The largest crowd for the season turned out for the game.

Saulnierville Defeats Lions

Saulnierville Juveniles defeated Meteghan Lions 6-3 in the first game of a best two of three series for the championship of the Clare Juvenile Hockey League. Saulnierville went ahead 2-0 in the first period when Gabriel Comeau scored his first two of four goals. In the second period Saulnierville and Meteghan each notched 3 goals apiece with Gabriel Comeau, Thomas LeBlanc and Emile Comeau each notching singles for Saulnierville while Willard Comeau, Ronald Comeau and Don Melanson scored each a goal for Meteghan, giving Saulnierville a 5-3 lead. Gabriel Comeau scored his fourth goal of the game in the third period and the Lions went scoreless.

The Salvia mixed bonspiel is scheduled for Friday and Saturday at the Digby Curling Club. Between 20 and 24 teams are expected to participate. A supper will be served, including corned beef and cabbage, and Irish stew. At the conclusion of play the Salvia trophy will be presented to the winning team. Other prizes will also be presented.

Last year the Salvia Trophy was won by Russ Stonehouse and his team of Verna Stonehouse, mate; Emmerson Graham, second; and Virginia Graham, lead.

The Salvia Trophy is donated to the club for annual competition by Dot and Gordon Marshall, of the Salvia House, Digby.

A team skipped by Kelsey Raymond represented Digby in the Western Counties play-downs, which were held in Lunenburg last week.

Lunenburg, Kentville, Berwick, Yarmouth, Bridgewater, Wolfville, won births in the championship section while Digby, Liverpool, Windsor and Greenwood wound up in the consolation division. In the fifth draw it was Digby 22, Windsor 8. In the seventh draw it was Digby 17 and Yarmouth 13. In the championship round Digby was eliminated by Liverpool 9-3.

The Digby team was composed of Kelsey Raymond, skip; Frank Wightman, mate; Bob Morgan, second; John Nichols, lead.

Semi-Finals Won By Meteghan Lions

Meteghan Lions of the Clare Juvenile League ousted Church Point in the third game of the semi-finals series by a score of 6-3. Meteghan won the first game, tied the second game and won the third in a best two of three series. Meteghan will meet Saulnierville in the finals starting Monday, March 13th.

Meteghan took a 2-1 lead when Paul Deveau and Willard scored singles and Russell Comeau scored a goal for Church Point in the first period. Meteghan scored three more in the second with Paul Deveau scoring his second of three goals in the game, Ronald Comeau and Michael Germain each scoring singles for Meteghan and Russell Comeau and Gerald Melanson scoring singles for Church Point to give Meteghan a 5-3 lead.

In the third period Paul Deveau scored the only goal to put Meteghan ahead by a 6-3 score.

Second Game Won By Meteghan

Meteghan took a strangle hold on the Western Counties Hockey League championship when they defeated Saulnierville Cook's Dairy 12-3 in the second game of the finals, having won two straight games in best three of five series.

Meteghan led 5-0 in the first period when J. P. Vallee scored 3 of his 7 goals, and Emery Maillet and Alain Comeau each scored singles. Meteghan added three more in the second period on goals by Vallee, Alson Comeau and Emery Maillet with singles and Alain McCauley scored two for Saulnierville.

In the third period Meteghan added four more while keeping Saulnierville to a single goal with Vallee scoring 3 and Alain Comeau a single for Meteghan and Alain McCauley scoring his third goal of the game for Saulnierville.

Saulnierville is minus their star Melbourn Saulnier who is absent from this area. Hubert Gaudet of Saulnierville team was injured when he was cut in the face when hit by a flying puck and was unable to continue in the game.

District Hockey

Last Wednesday evening the semi-finals between Marshalltown and Centreville, and Mountain Flyers and Digby Generals began. The outcome was a victory for Marshalltown over Centreville and likewise the Mountain shut-out the Digby Generals behind the fine goaltending of Brian VanTassel and playmaking of Danny Doucette and "Bull" Bell. The series resumed last night. Next Wednesday night at 7:00 p.m. the games will continue at the Forum.

The League would like to wish Mr. Lovitt Jordan of the Marshalltown Hawks a speedy recovery from his accident which occurred while playing last week. Lovitt will be missed flying up and down right wing for the Hawks for the remainder of the season.

Rodney "Bull" Bell was successful in winning the scoring championship in the District League this season while playing for the Mountain Flyers. This first place finish was only wrapped up in the last game of the season's play.

On March 1st, Digby "A" girls played the first of their semi-final games against Liverpool. The game was a very exciting one, and many fans were present to support the team, for which we were grateful. However, Liverpool won by a score of 36-34. Linda Lewis was high scorer with 11 points, Chris Dickie 8, Vanya Turnbull 8, Cathy Raymond 2, Jo Outhouse 3, and Shirley Melanson 2.

On the 3rd, the team played once again against Liverpool but were downed 27-23 and thus eliminated from Headmasters play. Chris Dickie and Vanya Turnbull both had 9 points, Linda Lewis 5.

Middleton Regional High was the scene of a series of games played by the "A" boys, "A" girls, and "B" girls basketball teams on Friday, March 10th. The "B" girls defeated M.R.H.S. 17-13, and Laura Daley was the best scorer and popped in 7 pts. Tanya Robicheau was a close runner-up with 6 pts and Shirley Melanson scored 4 points.

The "A" girls were also defeated 33-30, however, due to the system of determining the winners by total game points, Digby girls triumphed 59-52. Chris Dickie was high scorer with 11 pts., Linda Lewis 8, Vanya Turnbull 6, Johanna Outhouse 4, and Cathy Raymond 1.

The "A" boys were sadly defeated 69-35. Conan Carter was the top scorer with 13 points, Greg Holdsworth 6, David Turnbull 5, John Black 4, Glenn Dunn 4, Murray Thomas 2, and Greg Outhouse 1.

Birds Make Winter Visit

Bird lovers in the Digby area have been experiencing a treat over the past few days. Several enthusiasts in the town report sizeable flocks of Snow Bunting feeding on grain, which has been placed on snow banks for the visiting birds.

It is understood it has been some years since Snow Buntings have been seen in the area. Thousands of these attractive birds were commercially slaughtered in Quebec province, until efforts of Canadian bird lovers were successful in having the practice banned.

Another treat for bird fanciers in the Digby area lately, has been several sightings of the Red Headed Woodpecker, which is also a rare visitor in the area. The Red Headed Woodpecker has been reported in several areas of the town and one watcher stated the bird was seen to eat bread crumbs from the snow in her yard.

Cougars - All Stars Playoff Tonight

The South Shore All-Stars will meet the CORNWALLIS COUGARS in the second game of a best total goal series at the Cornwallis arena Thursday night. Game time is 8:30 p.m. The teams met in Lunenburg in the first game on Tuesday night. The winner of this series will receive a bye into the N.S. Mainland Finals. The South Shore All-Stars won the right to advance by eliminating Digby, and the Cougars won out over Ste. Annes in another series. Little is known about the All-Stars, however, reports from the South Shore indicate they have some of the best hockey talent in that district in their line up. The home-town Cougars have a good record this season with 17 wins, 5 losses and two ties.

Contract Awarded

A $64,172 contract has been awarded to D. J. Lowe Limited, of Deep Brook, N. S., for construction of a post office at Berwick, N. S. Public Works Minister George J. McInnis announced Thursday.

The tender was the lowest seen only rarely in the Digby area. This winter several sightings of both male and female Evening Grosbeaks have been reported.

These birds, which regard sunflower seeds as real delicacy, become tame if they are fed and are an attraction for the bird enthusiast. (Chronicle-Herald) of four received in response to public advertisement, the high bid being $79,000.

Built to a standard design, the new post office will face Union Street in Berwick, 85 miles west of Halifax in the heart of Nova Scotia's orchard belt. The one-storey structure will be of frame construction on a concrete foundation and will have a brick exterior finish. It will measure about 50 by 50 feet.

Interior finish will be gypsum board with vinyl asbestos floor surface. Heating will be by oil.

A truck yard and loading platform will be at the rear of the building.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Russell Harris have returned home after spending two weeks in Sherbrooke, Montreal and Augusta, Maine.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Keen, Halifax, were visitors this week of Mrs. Sherman Rice. They recently returned from a trip to Bermuda.

Mr. and Mrs. Llewellyn Theriault, East Ferry, and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Denton, Jr., Little River, arrived home after spending a month in Hawaii.

Friends and relatives of Mamie Ludescher are happy to hear that she is convalescing at her home in Hollywood, Florida, after having undergone surgery.

Mrs. Flora M. Lindstrom left by plane on Friday to visit her sisters, Mrs. Dorothy J. Sullivan, Mrs. Frances R. Pearce, in Denver, Colorado, and Mrs. Donald E. Butler, in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Trask, Michael and Cheryl, of Sudbury, Ont., are visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Trask, also other relatives and friends of Mrs. Trask in Plympton and Doucetville.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnson and little daughter, Kathy Lynn, of Oxford, spent a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Allen Stark, and Mr. Stark. They also visited other relatives.

When Easter Happens

The meaning of the Easter event is renewed when we begin to discover in ourselves the capacity for that "greater love" of which Christ Jesus spoke.

Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. Jesus said (John 15:13). And his total willingness to do this opened to all mankind a new estimate of reality — brought resurrection, showed us a new and unending life.

Our readiness to learn what Jesus' words mean in our lives can begin to open to us this vast view.

His words are a call for the most penetrating kind of self-sacrifice — for a spiritual devotion that overcomes human pride, fear, and selfishness in a triumph of divine love.

It is literally a call to be born again. Can the "average" person accept this call, this self-surrender?

It is really inevitable. And we know this in the first stirrings of our own deepest spiritual intuition. It can happen in July on a city street, in a classroom, in an office. Easter comes when it happens, in the heart.

Writing of the new birth, Gary Baker Eddy, the founder of Christian Science, said: "It begins with moments, and goes on with years; moments of surrender to God, of childlike trust and joyful adoption of good; moments of self-abnegation, self-consecration, heaven-born hope, and spiritual love" (Miscellaneous Writings, p. 15).

Our intuition grows into perception and understanding. Gradually, we gain the conviction that the lives of all men are ultimately bound together, in Truth. Then we begin to find the courage, strength, and intelligence we need to lay down our lives for each other, day by day — to sacrifice whatever is self-satisfied or self-seeking in our hearts, to break through the barriers of mortal ego.

Then Easter comes. And then we begin to see ourselves — and each other — in this new light.

For this is where the "greater love" leads — to clearer views of what is actual, to resurrection, to a life that is new and to life that is endless.

Jesus said: "He that loseth his life for my sake shall find it" (Matt. 10:39).

IN MEMORIAM

BANKS — In loving memory of my husband, Hallett Banks who passed away March 20, 1963.

Nothing can ever take away The love a heart holds dear, Fond memories linger every day, Remembrance keeps him dear.

— Always remembered by wife, Muriel. 30:1c

RICE — In loving memory of LeRoy C. Rice who passed away March 18th, 1957. When ties of love are broken And loved ones have to part It leaves a wound that never heals

And also a broken heart. But looking back with memories.

Upon the path we trod, We bless the years we shared with him. And leave the rest to God. It is not the tears at the moment shed.

That tell of a heart that is torn But the silent tears of the after years

And the grief that is silently born.

So slow to anger or rebuke So quick to sparkling laughter His presence in our home is missed

Now and ever after. Sadly missed and always remembered by wife, Peggy, daughters, Frances and Thelma Rice. 30:1c PYNE — In loving memory of our dear father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. H. Warren Pyne who passed away March 16th, 1955, and March 30th, 1947.

When ties of love are broken And loved ones have to part It leaves a wound that never heals

And also a broken heart. But looking back with memories

Upon the path we trod, We blessed the years we shared with them

And leave the rest with God — Sadly missed and always remembered by daughters and sons. 30:1p

Marriages

England — Harris
The marriage of Miss Florence Harris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred W. Harris, of Bear River, to Floyd Ingram England, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jessie England, of Port Williams, N. S. was held recently. They were married by Rev. Mr. Pike, Church of England clergyman, of Port Williams. Miss Harris is a Registered Nurses Assistant working at the Nova Scotia Sanatorium, Kentville.

A reception for the young couple was held in the Ladies Auxiliary Hall in Bear River.

Forrester — Meadows

The United Baptist Church at Stellawake was the scene of a pretty wedding when Carol Doris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Meadows, and Robert Kenneth Forrester, of Bear River, were united in marriage. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. G. E. Huestis.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a street length dress of white satin over taffeta with lace bodice. Her headpiece was held in place by a white satin bow. She wore a corsage of red roses.

The bride was attended by Miss Olivia Sanford, of Dartmouth, who was given in a navy blue dress with white accessories. Her corsage was white roses.

The groom was attended by David Banks, of Bear River, Sunday School Supt. for several years and a member of the choir of the Church for the many years, giving of her time and talents unstintingly as long as health permitted. Mrs. Wm. Morine read a poem in remembrance.

The bride is on the staff of the Nova Scotia Hospital and the groom is employed at H.M.C. Dockyard.

Mr. and Mrs. Borden Hub, they spent several days the past week in Halifax.

Mrs. Edna MacCormick is spending an indefinite time with her sister, Mrs. Ross MacCormick.

Shower For Newly-weds

Monday evening, March 13th, the home of Miss Annie Banks was the scene of a nuptial shower held in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Forrester who were recently married.

An enjoyable evening was spent in playing games and contests.

The happy couple received many useful gifts.

Presented 60 Year Jewel

It was a proud occasion for Mr. Maurice Benson when recently he was presented with a 60 year jewel at his home, commemorating 60 years of masonry.

In attendance from The Keith Lodge of which Mr. Benson is a member, were Right Worshipped Bro. Oakley Smith, D.D.G.M., Cecil Jones, W.M. and Roy Snell, P.D.D.G.M. chaplain.

Takes Tour

Grade XII students of Weymouth Consolidated School, made their annual tour of Halifax on Thursday last week with Mr. Gordon Campbell, supervising. Mr. Gifford Lewis also accompanied them, taking a car load of students. Those attending the tour were Benson Bishop, Gail Cosman, Sharon Dixon, Donna Dugas, Floyd Gale, Edith Guy, Rod LeFort, Alston McAlpine, Larry Melanson, Maria Sabean and Lois Stevenson.

The students visited Acadia University, Wolfville, Dalhousie University, the Legislative Buildings, and Imperial Oil in Dartmouth and CBC Television. While there, the students were billeted at the Y.W.C.A. They returned home on Saturday.

Guest Speaker

Mr. E. Tufts, Digby, District Chairman of Blood Donor Clinics, told members of the Weymouth Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society at a meeting held in the Conference Room of Weymouth Motors Ltd., that not enough blood was recovered in two clinics in the County to cover what was used in Digby General Hospital. Quoting figures for the past two years, he said that in 1965, five hundred and sixty-eight (568) pints of blood had been used for 196 persons and that in 1966, seven hundred and twenty-five (725) pints had been needed for 219 persons. In comparison in 1965, four hundred and fifteen (415) donations had been made and in 1966, this was down to three hundred and sixty-three (363) due to the prevalence of flu. He was introduced by the local Blood Donor Chairman, Ralph Cosman, who is heading a drive in this area to get more donors, not only for the next clinic in Digby, presently scheduled for Tuesday, April 11, but, in the hope that a Fall clinic may be held in the village.

During the discussion period, Mr. Tufts explained how the clinics were set up, donors contacted and made many helpful suggestions. He was thanked by the chairman, P. V. Charlton, President of the Weymouth Branch.

A report received from Mrs. Russell Lewis, Chairman of the Women's Work Committee showed that already this year a shipment had been sent to Headquarters containing:

16 prs. boys and girls socks, 2 large quilts, 3 crib quilts, 2 women's shawls, 9 girl's skirts size 12 yrs., 28 prs. men's socks, 23 cotton baby nightgowns, 9 prs. baby booties.

Campaign Chairman, W. E. Cosman reported that the annual campaign for funds was well underway and that the Branch quota had been raised as their guests, Dr. and Mrs. H. L. Brayton, Milton, Mass. $704.00. As more money is needed to provide the many services of Red Cross, emphasis is being placed this year in increasing the dollar contribution which an analysis of campaign receipts has shown to be the most popular gift to Red Cross. A social period followed the business meeting.

Gift Of Land To Church

A special ceremony took place at a joint service of the members of the Bethel United Baptist Church, Ashmore and the Riverside United Baptist Church, Weymouth North, at Ashmore Sunday morning, when Deacon Stanley Brooks, on behalf of the Trustees of the Bethel Church, accepted the deed for a piece of land, adjoining the present Church grounds, from Mrs. Boyd Mullen, Weymouth North. The parcel of land, made up of a piece twenty (20) feet by one hundred (100) feet beside the church and a piece one hundred and twelve (112) feet by two hundred and ninety (290) feet, at the rear of the church, was recently purchased by Mrs. Mullen and has been given to the church to provide more parking space and the larger piece is to be a cemetery. The only stipulation to the gift is that funds raised from the sale of plots in cemetery are to be used for repairs to the church building. Other trustees assisting were Messrs. Parker Manzer and Louis Thibault.

The service was conducted by the Interim Pastor, Rev. L. R. Atkinson, Digby, who spoke on "Church Drapery." A combined choir sang "Looking In the Face of Jesus" and Mrs. Scott Kinney was organist.

The Baptists of Ashmore, a part of the Weymouth Baptist Church, but who are now being reorganized as a separate unit, opened their own church building in 1857 but continued to use the cemetery adjoining the mother church at Weymouth North.

Mrs. Mullen is the former Sadie Sabean of Ashmore.

Messrs. Grant Morash and David White, Halifax, auditors for Rhuland Ind's Ltd. are at the Goodwin Hotel.

The Anglican Church women met at the home of Miss Meriam Morris on Monday evening. The group welcomed Mrs. Frank Simmonds who moved here recently. Plans are being made for a pantry sale to be held the last of the month.

Mrs. Clarence Simmonds, who has been visiting her son, Mr. Frank Simmonds family has returned to her home in St. Andrews, N. B.

Mr. Gifford Jarvis had the misfortune of cutting his foot while working in the woods and is confined to his home.

Early Crocus

her own being.

On the occasion of her retirement in 1955, Miss Turnbull was tendered a testimonial banquet at the Digby Pines Hotel, attended by several hundred of her former pupils. She was presented with a number of valuable gifts on behalf of her former pupils. The guest speaker at the banquet was the Hon. Henry D. Hicks, then Premier of Nova Scotia and Minister of Education.

Throughout her lifetime, Miss Turnbull was a faithful and devoted Anglican and an active worker in Trinity Parish. For many years she sang in the choir of the parish church and acted as choir mother. She was also a member of the altar guild, never failing in her duties in this office, except when prevented through illness from carrying out her work. She was a life member of the Women's Auxiliary and a member of the church guilds. For many years she acted as parish representative for the Diocesan Times.

She is survived by two sisters, Miss Mary Turnbull and Miss Ethel Turnbull.

The body rested at Jayne's Funeral Home until Tuesday when the funeral service was held from Trinity Anglican Church at two o'clock. The service was conducted by the Rev. George Morris, Rector of the parish. Interment was in the family lot at Forest Hill Cemetery.

Representatives from all Catholic youth organizations from Plympton to Wolfville held a meeting in St. Monica's Parish Hall in Middleton. The purpose was to plan a rally of all members of the CYO from the various parishes in the Valley. It was decided that the rally would be held in Digby on March 28. Three hundred young people are expected to take part. The program will include registration at 1:00 p.m., mass at 2:00 p.m. followed by the business part of the rally. Supper will be served and will be followed by a social evening.

The following represented their parishes at the meeting: Mary Kenney, Wolfville; Terry Myers and Gary Pearl, Kentville; Elaine Crowell, Berwick; Barbara Bennett, Greenwood; Ricky Connell, Middleton; Allen Grant, Bridgetown; Eloise LeBlanc, Annapolis; Robert Smith of Digby; Rachael Roy, Plympton; and Daniel LeBlanc, Weymouth.

It was also decided that a representative of each group would assume the following posts at the mass: commentator, Greenwood; servers, Kentville and Bridgetown, Lecker, Annapolis; offertory procession, Middleton-Weymouth, Wolfville-Berwick, Plympton-Digby.

A number of clergy were present to assist the young people in their discussions, including Fr. D. Mills, Fr. D. Stokes, Fr. G. Saulnier and Fr. T. LeBlanc.

Digby District Scouters Hold Annual Meet

The annual meeting of the Digby Scout District was held recently in the Digby Legion Hall with the District Council President, V.G. Cardoza, presiding.

The meeting took the form of a supper session and 50 representatives of group committees, their wives, uniformed staff and guests were in attendance. Guest speaker was the Rev. George Morris, who spoke of the work of the Boys' Brigade and the Boy Scouts, comparing their aims and ideals.

Victor Cardoza, in his President's Report, expressed his thanks and appreciation to District Commissioner Jack Humble, his staff, members of group committees, and the staff of local Scout Troops and Cub Packs, and the District Executive for their dedicated service during the year.

The President congratulated Commissioner Humble on his excellent report, and stated that the advances made in scouting over the past year were due in great measure to the Commissioner's zeal and dedication to the scout movement.

Group Committee Reports were heard from six groups. The following officers were elected: Honorary President, Dr. G. V. Turnbull; President, V. G. Cardoza; Vice-President, V. G. Snow; Secretary, L. H. Everett; Treasurer and Finance, Alvin Pettipas; Camping, James Harris; Activities, E. A. Haas; Training, Don Brown; Public Relations, David H. Mitchell.

C. H. Humble was recommended to the Provincial Commissioner for re-appointment as District Commissioner for 1967. The President and Vice-President were appointed as District representatives to the Provincial Council, and David H. Mitchell as District Representative to the Provincial Executive Committee.

approach to farming, and have asked for more studies of specific crops under experimental conditions.

"Here we have this approach, and now we're worried about competition," he commented. "Competition is a fact of life."

Members of the symposium panel were Gordon Kinsman, director of horticulture and biology services, N. S. department of agriculture, Truro; Fred Harding, director of horticulture services, New Brunswick department of agriculture; and Allister Marshall, assistant supervisor, land settlement services, Kentville. Chairman of the symposium was Harold Gates, manager of Maple Leaf Fruit Co-op Limited, Canning.

Reviewing the farm's progress, Mr. Kinsman noted 110 acres of strawberries and six acres of high-bush blueberries had produced 156,000 pints of strawberries and 20,000 pints of blueberries for shipment to the Boston market last year.

He commented that one of the largest markets in the world — the Boston-New York-Philadelphia area lay within 1,000 miles of western Nova Scotia; but it was not being exploited by Nova Scotia growers to its full potential.

Since a steady supply of products in large volume was necessary to open and maintain access to this market, the experimental project could motels for the tourists to do on wet days.

Mr. Take praised the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade in being the backbone of the Fundy Vacation Trail and added that there is a new spirit in the Valley. We are on the eve of things that have never been envisioned, the speaker said. The next fifteen years belong to Nova Scotia. But he warned, we must do something about it.

The first step, Mr. Take told his audience, is to join the Board of Trade and then be unanimous in what you want.

The dinner was presided over by Mr. Denton, who reviewed the accomplishments of the Board and also gave credit to other organizations in town for much that is accomplished for Bear River.

Mr. Harding commented that it was not the intention of the government to compete with the local growers for domestic markets, but rather to develop foreign markets.

Several growers, noting that the pilot farm was destined to be sold this year, expressed the fear that the buyer or buyers would be given the farm "on a silver platter" by the government, to the detriment of local competitors.

Some of the Board of Trade members, he pointed out, belong to several of the community organizations. Mr. Denton put out a plea for financial support for the Save Cornwallis project.

The dinner opened with The Queen and the blessing asked by Rev. K. N. MacNeil. Two films were shown at the close of the evening program.

ity & Fraternity" as their aims, and a history and explanation of the Knights of Columbus was given to them by Grand Knight Glen Smith. Other speakers were Deputy Grand Knight, Gerrard Connelly and Financial Secretary, Victor Comeau.

Although the membership is limited to the wives, widows and sisters of the Knights of Columbus, there are now over 75 members on their charter nominal roll.

Election of officers followed the meeting with the following declared elected: President, Mrs. Aiden Mullen; 1st Vice President, Mrs. Clifford Mullen, Jr.; 2nd Vice President, Mrs. Victor Comeau; Secretary, Mrs. Donald Hattie; Treasurer, Mrs. Stewart MacNaughton.

It is believed that the formation of the "Ladies of Columbus" club is unique in that it is the first one to be formed in Nova Scotia. Regular monthly meetings are planned and they intend to take an active interest in the community and religious affairs of the area.

NO TAX CHANGE IN ANNAPOLIS CO.

Tax rate for the Municipal Government of Annapolis will remain unchanged at the 1964 level, 2.75, through this year.

Expenditures were up $10,000 from last year, but increased provincial grants and assessment helped to maintain the tax rate.

One loss of assessment will be fishing vessels in the county. Council voted, after hearing a representation last week from 21 fishermen from Parker's Cove, Victoria Beach and Hibernia, to exempt all fishing vessels from taxation this year.

They contend they are basically fisherman and the province intends to exempt them from taxation except from Dr. By town clerk.

The municipality will pay to $14,000 to add the additional $10,000 to the total of $14,000. Council voted this maximum sum for the extension, which will cost $20,000 in entirety.

It will house a commercial department, which will be sections.

Advise Curb Ramps

Life has been made pleasant for countless mothers pushing baby carriages, plus a considerable group of wheelchair users in Halifax since they have been installing curb ramps in 1960 and Donald B. Curran, executive director of the Division of the Canadian Paraplegic Association in a letter to Dr. By town clerk.

TV journalist Warner Troyer, host of the CBC-TV Tuesday night public affairs series The Public Eye, is pictured in a typical scene — sounding out public opinion on major issues of the day. Each week, The Public Eye focuses on significant happenings in Canada and the rest of the world. Troyer also appears about once a month when The Public Eye combines with the program Newsmagazine to present a full-hour report under the title This Week.

The following account taken from the 1891 file of the Courier will be of interest to people who have attended the Digby schools since that date and who fondly remember the structure as "good old 'rat academy'." For the information of those who do not know, "rat academy" is the nickname given the brick school building beside our Court House back in the days when rats were more plentiful than they are today.

"An incident that will not be soon forgotten in the history of Digby took place last Saturday (October 9, 1891), when the corner stone of the new school house was laid by the Society of Free Masons in due and ancient form.

Grand Lodge was opened at 9 a.m. by M.W. Grand Master C. J. McDonald. A little later the procession headed by the D.E.B. marched to the site of the new building.

380 BURSARIES FOR TEACHERS ANNOUNCED

Hon. R. L. Stanfield, Minister of Education, announced that 380 bursaries worth a total of $57,000 will be made available to teachers for study at the Nova Scotia Summer School in Halifax.

The $150 government bursaries will be provided for qualifying students in selected block programs at the six week summer school. A block program is a form of special teacher training that extends over four summer school sessions.

The bursaries, to be offered in block programs in high school science education, senior high school mathematics education, mathematics education in grades seven to 10, guidance and in advanced reading, will be given on the condition that the school board employing the teacher provides an additional bursary of $100.

Last year 1357 students attended the summer school. Of these 877 were enrolled under block programs offered in auxiliary education, business education, guidance, supervision, junior and high school mathematics, high school science, industrial arts, home economics, music, physical education, reading and primary, intermediate and junior high school education.

CRIPPLED KIDS AT PLAY — This game of "Wheelchair Croquet" brings excitement and activity to the lives of Nova Scotia's handicapped children who benefit from contributions to the Nova Scotia Easter Seals drive. Taken at the Easter Seals crippled children camp, at Tidnish, last summer, the photograph captures the serious attitude handicapped children have when it comes to games of competition — just as much friendly rivalry, indeed, as non-handicapped children show in their own games.

BACKGROUND INFORMATION ON NAVAL ASSEMBLIES

The idea of massing warships to help celebrate a happy national event isn't exactly new, but it's new enough to be termed relatively modern. One thing certain, however, according to old accounts and photographs, is that a naval assembly is always impressive.

King George III of England started these reviews with the British Fleet in 1773. He reviewed those of his ships which had taken part in the Seven Years War. Since then, naval reviews have developed into traditional and colourful affairs, taking much from that particular event.

The ships involved anchor in two or more lines, leaving a corridor through which the ship carrying the reviewing officer will pass. Each vessel is decorated with pennants and flags, and is said to be "dressed overall". Vocal colour is added when the ship with the reviewing officer aboard steams along the lines. In turn, each vessel being inspected salutes, and then "cheers ship".

For the inspection, and cheering, the men of each ship's company are lined up along the guard rails at one side of the vessel. The officers occupy places in the higher decks, and the captain stands on the bridge. On the order "cheer ship" the entire ship's company remove hats, hold them high, and cheer three times. The chorus of shouts volley across the water as the reviewing officer's vessel cleaves past ship after ship.

The first review or assembly, by the RCN in Canadian waters was the British Columbia Review held in July 1958. That province, thirty-two naval ships took up review anchor. John G. Diefenbaker, then Prime Minister of Canada, and Her Royal Highness Princess Margaret, in HMCS Crescent, officiated as reviewing officer.

The following year a reigning monarch reviewed a ships' assembly in Canadian waters for the first time.

The ships involved were from the RCN and the USN. The date was 26 June 1959, and the event was held during the Royal Visit to Canada.

On that day Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II, in the royal yacht Britannia, steamed down lines of ships assembled on Lake St. Louis near Montreal. She was officiating at the opening of the newly-completed St. Lawrence Seaway.

Ports-mouth, England, in 1953. This was the British Naval Review honouring the Coronation of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II. The Queen was the reviewing officer for the ships of many nations, including Canada, which took part. A variation on the naval review, or ships assembly, is the sail-past. The RCN held two of these in 1960 as part of its 50th Anniversary celebrations.

For a sail-past the reviewing officer usually occupies a prominent location ashore from which to conduct his review. The fleet then steams slowly by. Each ship salutes, and then her crew cheers as she passes the reviewing officer.

The largest of the two sail-pasts held by the RCN in 1960 was at Halifax. The reviewing officer was the then Chief of the Naval Staff, Vice-Admiral H. G. DeWolf. On that day, 19 May, in Bedford Basin, 48 ships sailed (Please turn to page 9)

OBITUARIES

Mrs. Roberta Osgood

Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 2:30 in the Second Congregational Church for Mrs. Roberta Osgood, 58, of 14 Brown St., Peabody, Mass. The wife of Lawrence A. Osgood, she died suddenly Sunday night in J. B. Thomas Hospital.

Born in Bear River, Nova Scotia, she had resided in Peabody for the past 40 years, and was a well known South Peabody wholesale news dealer. She was the daughter of the late Robert J. and Augusta M. (Copley) Isles.

The chairman of the Nurses Aid for the Red Cross Bloodmobile, Mrs. Osgood also was a member of the Second Congregational Church, the Ladies Aid Society of that church, and the Couples Club Bowling League.

Surviving besides her husband are: a son, Walter L. Osgood of Mentor, Ohio; a daughter, Mrs. Ada Filka, of Muskegon, Mich.; three brothers, John B. Isles of Greenfield, Russell Isles of Waltham, and Chester Isles of Deep Brook, Nova Scotia. She also leaves two sisters, Mrs. Hildred Thomas of Smith's Cove, Nova Scotia, and Mrs. Grace McGowan of Bear River, Nova Scotia, seven grandchildren and a number of nieces and nephews.

Mrs. Arthur Melanson

Mrs. Eugenie Melanson, widow of the late Arthur Melanson, died Sunday at Yarmouth Regional Hospital. She was a daughter of the late Manda Doucet of Lake Doucet.

Surviving are four daughters, Mrs. Leonard (Lizzie) Deveau, of Dartmouth; Mrs. Marguerite Maillet of Woodville; Mrs. Edmund (Sophie) Jeddry of St. Alphonse; Mrs. Leo (Anna) Thibault of Mayflower; one son, Danny Melanson of Lake Doucet, with whom she lived; one sister, Mrs. Emile Deveau, Yarmouth; four brothers, Martin Doucet, Lake Doucet; Charlie Springdale; Dan, Arcade, N. Y.; Simon, Monticello, Maine; 23 grandchildren; and 16 great-grandchildren.

Requiem High Mass was at St. Vincent de Paul Church, Salmon River, Wednesday. Rev. Father L. Comeau, pastor, officiated, assisted by Rev. Father L. Armstrong of St. Alphonse. Interment was in the parish cemetery.

Ralph R. Trimper

Ralph Raymond Trimper, 46, died at his home in Deep Brook, Saturday after a brief illness.

He was the son of Mrs. Emma (Early) Trimper, of Wolfville, and the late George W. Trimper, Clementsvalle. Mr. Trimper served in Italy with the West Nova Scotia Regiment during the second World War. He was employed with the International Nickel Company in Sudbury, Ont., for 17 years. Returning to Nova Scotia two years ago he operated a restaurant in Clementsvalle for a short time. Mr. Trimper moved to Deep Brook last fall and was employed at CFB Cornwallis.

Surviving, besides his mother, are his wife, the former Marie McAndrews of Hampton; three daughters, Lynne (Mrs. David Bidderman), Germany; Pamela and Susan, at home; two sisters Pauline (Mrs. M. V. Skerry), Wolfville; Marilyn (Mrs. L. M. Mahum), Saint John, N.B.; two brothers, Clinton, Clementsvalle; Dean, Halifax.

Funeral service will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. in Clementsvalle Baptist Church, Lie. W. G. Duffett officiating, assisted by Rev. G. D. Brydon.

J. A. Robichaud

Requiem mass for Joseph Arthur Robichaud, Meteghan, was held Monday at Stella Maris Roman Catholic Church, Meteghan. Mr. Robichaud, 78, died suddenly at the home of his niece, Mrs. Alfred Roy, Plympton. He was born in Moncton, a son of the late Wilfred and Virginia (LeBlanc) Robichaud.

His wife died five months ago.

He is survived by one son, Norman, in California; two brothers, Alfred, New Bedford, Mass.; Eric Gardner, Mass.; and three sisters, Ida (Mrs. Walter Deveau), Peabody, Mass.; Emelda (Mrs. Henry Nowlan), Baltimore, and Alfretha (Mrs. Premillette Robichaud), Bouctouche, N. B.

Mrs. A. J. Snow

There passed away at the Annapolis General Hospital on March 7th, after a four month illness, Mrs. Annie Jane Snow of Victoria Beach, at the age of 75 years.

She was the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Adam Feltmate of Canso.

Surviving are four daughters; Mrs. Dennis Jennings, Spryfield; Mrs. Howard Snow, Rossway; Mrs. H. Haives, Ontario; Miss Eleanor Snow, of Victoria Beach; four sons, Alfred, Freeman, and Ernest, of Spryfield; Edward, Scotsburn; also 46 grandchildren and 36 great grandchildren.

The remains rested at Chisholms Funeral Home, at Granville Ferry, until Thursday at 2:30 p.m., when it was brought to the United Baptist Church at Victoria Beach from where the funeral service was held. Rev. David Turner officiated. Interment was in the Victoria Beach cemetery.

Sandy Cove

((Gloria Trask))

Naval Assemblies

past. Fifty naval aircraft also flew past — adding a variant into a variant.

Too, five days earlier at Esquimalt, 14 ships of the Pacific Command had steamed past HMCS Fraser in which His Excellency Governor General Georges P. Vanier received the customary three cheers. There was also a fly-past in conjunction with this ceremony. Participating in the fly-past were aircraft from the RCAF's Number 407 (Maritime Patrol) Squadron at CFB Comox.

But in 1967, because of the occasion and the number of guests, the 'naval assembly' will have quite a different meaning.

The RCN is putting out special welcome mats at her home ports — the old and busy sea-side cities of Halifax and Dartmouth, Vancouver and Victoria.

When the guests sail in, Canada will receive a stately maritime wish on her 100th birthday. It will come from the ships of her Navy and those of other fleets.

MARRIAGES

Mullen — Saulnier

A quiet wedding was solemnized at the Wesleyan Methodist Parsonage in Havelock, N.S. when Rev. B. Hicks officiated in marriage Elaine Faye Saulnier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Saulnier, New Tuskent, and Chester Mullen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Mullen, Havelock.

The bride wore a white gown with shoulder veil and she carried a white Bible. The attendants were Mrs. Vernon Mullen, sister of the groom, and Vernon Mullen.

The couple will reside in Hillsdale.

Hartley — Foley

Rev. W. Bryant performed the marriage ceremony in the United Baptist Church, Halifax, when Sheila Ann Foley became the bride of Ralph Peter Hartley. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Foley of Port Wade.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph G. Hartley, Annapolis Royal.

The groom's parents entertained in the couple's honor at their home in Annapolis Royal.

Ryan — Farnsworth

The United Baptist Church at Victoria Beach was the scene of a wedding of interest on Saturday afternoon, February 25th at 4 o'clock, when Mary LaVern, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Howard Farnsworth, of Waterford, Digby, Co., became the bride of David George Ryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ryan, Victoria Beach.

and waist line train. Her double-tier veil of nylon tulle fell from a crown of pearls and sequins. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Mrs. Darrell Mailman, sister of the groom was matron of honor and Miss Marilyn Kierstead, R.N., of Saint John, N.B., was bridesmaid. They wore floor length empire dresses of deep pink and turquoise "peau-de-soie" featuring a train. Their headpieces were wedding band shaped in the matching peau-de-soie with gathered veiling. They carried cascade bouquets of pink and white carnations.

Darrell Mailman of Halifax, was best man, Michael Casey and Walter Haynes Jr., of Victoria Beach, were ushers. Mrs. Joe Wong, acting as mother of the bride, wore a brown wool suit with matching accessories. She wore a corsage of white and yellow mums.

The groom's mother wore a blue wool suit, blue silk hat and black accessories. She wore a corsage of pink and white carnations.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the groom for over one hundred guests. The bride's table was centered with a three tiered wedding cake, surmounted by a miniature bride and groom and flanked by tall white candles in silver candle holders. Miss Jean Trask, of Digby, served the bride's table and other friends served the guests.

The guest book was circulated by Mrs. Richard Solomon, of Montreal, sister of the groom.

For travelling the bride wore a navy suit, beige coat with matching accessories. After a wedding trip the couple will reside in Victoria Beach.

Guests were present from Halifax; Dartmouth, Montreal, and various parts of Digby and Annapolis counties.

Ties Series

Meteghan Lions tied the series of the finals of the Clare Juvenile Hockey League when they defeated Saulnierville 3-4 in the second of the best two of three series. Saulnierville took a 2-0 lead in the first period when Guy LeBlanc and Alain Comeau scored singles. Thomas LeBlanc scored one for Saulnierville early in the 2nd period to put his team ahead 3-0, but Meteghan kept plugging away and suddenly came to life with three goals. Scorers were Ronald Comeau, Paul L. Deveau and Don Melanson.

Meteghan added 3 more in the third period with Willard Comeau, Paul L. Deveau and Ronald Comeau each scoring singles and Thomas LeBlanc scored Saulnierville's sole goal of the period.

by Christine Dickie

On Friday, March 17th, Digby's basketball teams travelled to Bridgetown.

The "B" girls tried hard but unfortunately lost to B.R.H.S. 18-12. Lee Hall was top scorer with 6 points, while Shirley Melanson, Tanya Robicheau and Dianne Coteau each racked up 2 points.

The "B" boys also lost 19-12. Murray Thomas played his usually great game and popped in 5 points and Bruce Raymond scored 5. Tom Ritchie also hooped 2 points.

The "A" boys also were defeated 49-30, but the "A" girls broke Digby's losing streak by topping B.R.H.S. girls 35-22 and capturing the Congress trophy. Tough luck Bridgetown! Linda Lewis came out on top with 14 pts., followed by Vanya Turnbull with 13 and Chris Dickie with 9. The victory was also due to the excellent play of Cathy Raymond and Jo Outhouse who have, through the season, set up the plays and shooting opportunities for the three main scorers. Congratulations "A" girls!

To summarize Digby's victories this year, it was found the Junior boys are the soccer champs, the Junior girls took the volleyball and basketball tournaments, the "A" boys went to Headmasters in soccer, as did the "A" girls in basketball, and the "A" girls captured the Congress basketball trophy. Three cheers for Digby!

C.Y.O. Ice Sports

By JERRY VANTASSEL

Last Sunday St. Pat's champion C.Y.O. team battled against the Knights of Columbus team plus. The outcome was a 7-6 victory for the Knights. They were led to the victory by the standout goal tending of Greg Holdsworth, who continually robbed the C.Y.O. boys. Carl Saulnier scored the winning goal and the plus of the team accounted for the other 6.

For the C.Y.O. boys, Danny Doucette led the parade with 5 goals, while Jerry VanTassel got the other marker.

The game was fast and furious and the Knights really put on a good show, coming from behind 5-1 to squeeze out the victory. It is understood that these two teams will meet again with a trophy at stake. This will be an annual event with the C.Y.O. League Champions meeting the Knights of Columbus.

Next Sunday the C.Y.O. will again be in action, playing either Yarmouth or Greenwood here at the Forum.

Clare District Hockey

Saulnierville Juveniles defeated Meteghan Lions, 6-3, in the first game of a best-of-three series for the championship of the Clare Juvenile Hockey League. Saulnierville went ahead 2-0 in the first period when Gabriel Comeau scored two of his four goals. In the second period Saulnierville and Meteghan each notched three goals with Gabriel Comeau, Thomas LeBlanc and Emile Comeau scoring for Saulnierville, while Willard Comeau, Ronald Comeau and Don Melanson tallied for Meteghan. Gabriel Comeau scored his fourth goal of the game in the third period.

Western Counties Hockey Champs

Meteghan Intermediates won the Western Counties Hockey Championship when they defeated Saulnierville 12-5 in the fourth game of a best four of seven series. Meteghan led 5-1 in the first period with J. P. Vallee scoring 2, Alain Comeau 2 and Vernon Thibodeau a single for Meteghan, while Alain McCauley scored a single for Saulnierville.

Meteghan added three more in the second, while holding Saulnierville to a single goal. Alain Comeau, Alain Coteau and Vernon Thibodeau each scored singles for Meteghan and McCauley scored one for Saulnierville.

In the third Meteghan added 4 more and Saulnierville notched three goals. Vallee and Vernon Thibodeau each scored singles and Alain Comeau scored 2 for Meteghan to lead the scoring with 5 goals. Bobby Gennette scored

Cougars Host Framingham In Exhibition Game

One of the biggest sporting attractions in the Western Valley area in years is slated for the Cornwallis Arena, Friday, March 24th, when the Framingham (Mass.) Pies meet the Cornwallis Cougars in an international exhibition hockey game. Game time is 7:00 p.m.

The Pies, winners of the Massachusetts Senior League, and currently involved in Eastern United States Play-Downs, will fly to Yarmouth from Boston Friday afternoon, play the Cougars Friday night and move to base Gaagetown Saturday for a return game against the Black Watch team of the Southern N. B. League. The Black Watch and Pies played to a 3-3 tie in Framingham a few weeks ago.

The Pies team is comprised of former college stars and several former members of the USA National team. One of their players had a brief whirl with the Boston Bruins. The members of the Framingham team were all born in the United States and came up through minor hockey and the college circuit in the States. One of their big guns is John Chambers, a forward with the Pies team. Chambers played hockey at Boston University and has played for the Pies the past three seasons. Another Pies stalwart is George Lambert, one of their highest scorers and a former member of the Arlington Argonauts, United States National Champions in 1963.

It all adds up to a big event at the Cornwallis Navy Base, and the Cougars, who have lost only three of their last twenty games, will be at full strength and ready for this promising hockey attraction.

Britain Team Wins

Salvia Trophy

Good ice conditions highlighted curling in the Salvia Mixed Bonspiel over the weekend. 12 teams took part in the two day Bonspiel.

A team skipped by Jack Brittain took top honors, when he posted three wins without a loss. His team consisted of Winnifred Brittain, mate; Hugh Brittain, second; Barbara Olsen, lead.

The runner-up team was composed of Bob Morgan, skip; Jean Turnbull, mate; Jerry Wentzell, second; Vera Morgan, lead.

The winners of the consolation were Demile Raymond, skip; Jean Raymond, mate; Keith Raymond, second; Freda Raymond, lead.

The Salvia Trophy was not on hand to be presented, so the individual Trophies were presented to the winning teams.

Wright Trophy Goes To

Sandra Plomp's Team

The Wright Trophy was won Tuesday by the Digby Ladies Curling Club in a home-and-home series with Bridgetown. This is the first time in four years that the team has come to Digby. The trophy and prizes were donated by Norman Wright.

Sandra Plomp skipped the winning group. Other members were Julie Wentzell, Helen Daley and Lorraine Hall. They won by a total of 13 points, taking 10 in Bridgetown and 3 in Digby.

Runner-up teams included one composed of Fern Weber, Winnifred Brittain, Maisie McClellon and Sis Raymond, and another composed of Mary Porter, Jean Turnbull, Vera Morgan and Erma Algee.

District Hockey

Last week saw the semi-finals in the District League wrapped up when the Mountain Flyers came from behind to defeat the Digby Generals 8-5. The Marshalltown Hawks swamped the Centreville Pirates 10-3.

In the first game the last place Generals led 3-0 at the end of the first period and it looked as if they might be able to force a 3rd game in the series, but the Mountain came to take form and came raring back to win the series in two straight games. Scoring for the victors was done by D. Doucette, J. Mullen (D. Doucette), D. Doucette, R. Bell (D. Doucette), R. Bell (B. Johnson), B. Johnson (J. Mullen), R. Bell (J. Mullen). The General goals came from G. Hewitt (W. Wells), W. Snow, W. Snow (P. Hewitt), B. Walker (G. Hewitt), W. Snow (P. Hewitt).

The second game was a free scoring contest with Marshalltown continuing their unbeaten string. Scoring for the Hawks was done by D. Francis (P. Woodman), E. Melanson, J. Simms (R. Simms, J. Bond), E. Francis (J. Bond (D. Francis), E. Melanson (J. Simms, J. Bond), P. Woodman (J. Bond), J. Simms (E. Melanson), E. Melanson (R. Simms), D. Francis (J. Bond). Centreville goals came from C. Graham (B. Hersey), C. Graham (L. Budd), L. Budd (C. Graham).

The finals are now on between Marshalltown and the Mountain Flyers. 2 and Donald Doucet a single for Saulnierville. Saulnierville was minus their star defenceman, Amirault who was not able to play. Meteghan won the Hood's trophy, emblematic of the Western Counties Hockey League Championship, which was donated by Hood's Limited of Yarmouth, when the league was first organized.

North & South Tie

The battle between the North and South ends of town was staged at the Forum last Friday evening. The result of this game was a 7-7 tie in the first of the two game total goal series.

The strong South-enders behind coach Fred Smith led most of the way in the game by one or two goals but the determined North-enders behind the capable coaching of Mr. Murray Baxter continually came from behind and finally tied it up late in the third period and from here on the two teams played defensive hockey. Each team had sufficient players for three lines and some extras. This shows the real interest in hockey in Digby among our young players.

Both coaches tried to pull fast line changes on each other in trying to catch the other off his guard, but both coaches played it smart and a real tough contest is in store for tomorrow night at 7:00 o'clock at the Forum. This game will decide who is supreme in both hockey playing, and hockey coaching from the two ends of town.

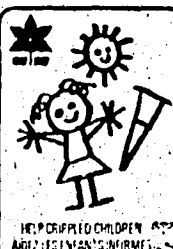

It is planned in the near future to have a trophy presented to the winning team and this trophy will be played for annually between these two teams. A thanks must be given to Mr. Stanley Vidito, manager of the Forum, and to Murray Baxter and Fred Smith, for their work and effort which they have put into this series, to make it possible for these younger players to have a chance to play some extra hockey and the chance to do something for their end of town. Playing sports today will make better citizens for tomorrow.

CYO Rally At Digby

For the first time St. Patrick's CYO of Digby will host the other CYO Groups from Wolfville to Weymouth at the Digby Regional High School on March 28th. The activities will get under way in the early afternoon, with registration from 1-2 p.m. A special Mass will be offered at St. Patrick's Church and a homily preached by Most Reverend Albert Le-menager, Bishop of the Diocese of Yarmouth.

From the Church the group will proceed to the High School, where a number of discussion and study groups will be formed to discuss pertinent subjects concerning CYO in the Valley. Following supper, a social evening will be held featuring the music of Bobby Marshall and his band.

of the District. Approximately one eighth of the sales made in the area are induced from money derived from incomes by employees and personnel of the establishment. Only one industry in my constituency, that of fishing, contributes more to the economic stability.

Mr. Speaker, I have revealed sufficient figures to justify the grave concern of my constituents, when rumours of Cornwallis closure become prevalent.

I trust this Government, which has been very thoughtful of my charge, will keep close watch on developments at Cornwallis Base.

If the Federal Government policy develops to a point where removal of the personnel at Cornwallis Base to another more favoured province, then I ask that this Government do all within its power to place all the resulting factors before the Federal authorities which it has at its disposal.

Personally, I feel that the Cornwallis area is an ideal location for expansion of the trainee programme of the proposed unified force. Climate, location and space are conducive to intensive new entry training. This factor should not be overlooked.

But if the day comes when reason and persuasion do not prevail, then Mr. Speaker, I ask that this Government insist, the Federal Government assume its responsibility to my constituents and declare their intentions at least two years in advance of closure of the Base.

During the intervening time it would be the responsibility of the Federal Government to see that alternative employment is provided in the District, employment which the present employees at the Base can perform.

No Government has the right to remove employment from an area and leave economic chaos in its wake. National necessity placed the Base in Western Nova Scotia. But regional necessity forces the Federal Government to recognize its responsibility to those who served its needs in time of emergency.

Mr. Speaker "A study of the Economic Impact of C.F.B. Cornwallis on the surrounding Communities" prepared by the Economics and Development Division of Trade and Industry, Province of Nova Scotia is an excellent treatise.

A review of the Document reveals in detail the serious impact upon Digby and Annapolis Counties if C.F.B. Cornwallis is closed. I wish to add this report to the list of the many expressions of concern this Government has shown for Western Nova Scotia.

According to an article on page 7 of the Chronicle Herald, Friday, March 14th, Mr. Woolaver, Chairman of "Save Cornwallis Committee" has indicated this survey will be the basis of the Committee's report to Ottawa. I am certain the Trade and Industry's excellent work will be appreciated by those so vitally concerned. The figures given by Mr. Woolaver from the report with what I have mentioned is an indication of the scope of the work done by this Department.

IN MEMORIAM

ROBBINS In loving memory of my dear parents, Mr. and Mrs. Norman A. Robbins. Father passed away March 14, 1962. Mother passed away March 23rd, 1949. God gave me wonderful parents. Their memory will never grow old. He fashioned their smiles out of sunshine. And moulded their hearts of pure gold. Beyond the blue horizon. Neath the gold and blue of the skies. They live in a land of beauty. Where loveliness never dies. Lovingly remembered by daughter, Rita, son-in-law, Clarence and grandchildren. 31-1c

HERSEY In loving memory of a loving father and grandfather, Arthur Hersey who passed away March 28, 1965. God gave us a wonderful father. His memory will never grow old. He fashioned his smile out of sunshine. He moulded his heart of pure gold. God needed a new star in heaven. A beautiful light to shine. To show us the way our dear father. Went to that wonderful place divine. He never broke a promise. He never failed a friend. He did his work he found to do. Contented to the end. He never let his troubles spoil. Some other person's fun. And he left a lot of mourning. When his time on earth was done. So in a little graveyard sleeping. Close beside us for sure. So peacefully rest our dear Dad. Gone from us forevermore. Never will your memory fade. Sweetest thoughts will always linger. To the place where you are laid. Sadly missed and always remembered by daughter, sons and their families. 31-1c

WILSON For the many tangible expressions of kindness extended to me during my stay at the Digby General Hospital I am most grateful to those who cared for me. Dr. Lewis and the nursing staff. I am most appreciative. The cards, flowers and many gifts brought cheer to my bed side and again I thank you all. — Freda Wilson. 31-1c

TURBULL The family of the late Miss Bessie Turnbull extends sincere thanks to all who have shown kindness during her illness and death to Dr. McLeave, Digby Hospital Staff 2nd floor, Stewart Nursing Home, Annapolis Royal, to those who sent cards and other messages of sympathy, floral tributes, and to donors to the memorial organ fund we say thank you. Ethel and Mary Turnbull. 31-1c

ONEL We thank all those who sent flowers, cards, etc. or helped in any way in our recent bereavement. Special thanks to Mr. and Mrs. Carl Rins, Mrs. Willard Amero, Jayne's Funeral Home, pallbearers, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, and choir of the Digby Baptist Church, also Dr. D. G. Lewis, Claude O'Neill and family. 31-1p

WRIGHT I wish to thank those who visited me, sent cards, fruit and candy, while I was a patient in the Annapolis General Hospital. Special thanks to Dr. Kerr, the nurses and staff for their excellent care. — Earl Wright. 31-1p

EVERETT The family of the late Mrs. Robert (Louise) Everett is appreciative of the many acts of kindness shown during her recent illness and death. To Doctors, Lawrence and Nicholas, staffs of Annapolis General and Halifax Infirmary hospitals, Fickes Ambulance Service, Mr. Hatfield, pallbearers, and the many friends who have sent flowers and messages of cheer we extend our sincere thanks. It is a comfort to know so many share our loss. 31-1c

SNOW Many thanks to relatives and friends who offered and supplied transportation, sent cards, letters, flowers and treats, and to members of the clergy and other who visited me while a patient in the Digby General Hospital. CYO Dramatic Night '67

On March 17th and 18th Saint Patrick's CYO of Digby went "all out" to celebrate the feast of the patron Saint of the parish, St. Patrick. For the first time, the local CYO group entered the field of drama. CYO has four aims: religious, cultural, athletic, and social. Dramatic Night '67 contributed a great deal to the fulfilment of the cultural objective of the organization.

The show was produced and directed by Miss Elizabeth Lorette of Digby. Miss Lorette prior to her coming to Digby two years ago, has had extensive experience in drama. Advisors and assistants to Miss Lorette were Sister Rita Cumont and Sister Yvonne Babin. Miss Lorette was assisted by Bill Nickerson and Norman Griffin. Ushers were CYO members: Victor Comeau, John Amiraull, Bill Nickerson, and Bruce Surette.

An original program, bearing the centennial emblem on the front cover, was designed by Danny Doucette. Advertisements for the program were obtained from merchants of the area by Misses Mary Jane Amiraull and Barbara Cotteau.

Ticket sellers were Miss Jacqueline Connolly and Stephen Robinson. Tickets were sold in advance, also by CYO members and at May's Store.

The program opened with M. C. Danny Doucette, inviting the audience to stand for O Canada. A few words of welcome and the first number of the evening was presented. The Tiny Tots of the parish, ages 6 and 7, danced a minuet under the direction of Sister Babineau. Included in the dance were: Mary and Karen Saulnier, Krista Wood, Lorie Donovan, Linda Mackintosh, Dorothy Doucette, Cindy Donovan, Alison Thibeau, Robert Cotteau, Richard Halliday, Timothy Theriault, Brian Comeau, Robert Harris, William Ross, Mark Halliday, and Richard Mullen.

Three little boys from the above group made up the second item on the program. Robert Harris, Robert Cotteau, and William Ross, singing their song entitled "Three Wishes".

Twelve youngsters disguised as Teddy Bears, Alan Surette, Stephen McVeigh, Mark Comeau, Alfred Belliveau, Bobby Comeau, Michael Theriault, Joanne Currie, Katherine Wood, Cathy Currie, Cathy VanTassel, Linda Handspiker, and Linda Cowan, delighted the audience with their interpretation of the Teddy Bears Picnic. Under the direction of Sister Cumont the children danced, and sang most pleasingly.

In keeping with the March 17th festivities, two sisters, Mary Lynn and Pamela Theriault, sang the perennial Irish favorite, "Too-ra-loo-ra-loo-ra".

Dressed in green skirts, six young ballerinas, Misses Sharon George, Tamzon George, Susan Surette, Julie Mackintosh, Sherry Muise and Pamela Halliday, balleted to the Blue Danube.

An old-time Irish favorite, Peggy O'Neill, was sung by Miss Sheila Cotteau with a choir including Lorraine Winchester, Elizabeth Ross, Elizabeth Connolly, and Mary Lynn Theriault. Costumes for the children were made by the Sisters of Charity.

Concluding this Drama Night '67 got underway with the first one-act comedy on the program, entitled "Rumours Wanted". The story centered around the Spratt family. Mrs. Spratt, a neurotic had been in bed for five years. The problem facing the whole family was how to get her out of bed. Evelyn Amoro starred as Mrs. Spratt. Others in the cast were Rick Connolly as Grover Spratt, Maureen Smith as Mary Lou Spratt, a niece of the Spratts, Paul Connolly as the family physician, Dr. Deems, Hazel and Jean Harrington, and Dona Milberry as helpful neighbors.

Following the play Miss Rita Schilling performed for the audience with a ballet.

Following intermission, the second one-act comedy, A Mad Breakfast, was presented. A certain Mr. Jones (played by David VanTassel) answered an ad in a newspaper placed by a Mr. Long (Jerry VanTassel) to do a study in an insane asylum. Mr. Jones replied and invited Mr. Long to his boarding house. Through clever verbal manipulation, Mr. Jones confused all the boarders as to who Mr. Long actually was. You can guess Mr. Long's observations. Others in the cast were Mary Jane Amiraull as Mrs. Simkins, owner of the boarding house, Debbie Wood as Lizzie, an employee; Barbara Cotteau, Susan Amoro, Rita Schilling, Diane Melanson and Ronnie Smith, all boarders.

On Saturday evening, prior to the intermission, CYO President, Bobby Smith, called Miss Lorette to the stage and offered the thanks and appreciation of the CYO for her invaluable assistance. Little Pamela Halliday presented Miss Lorette with roses from the CYO and vice-president, Paul Connolly presented a gift on behalf of the casts of the plays. Miss Lorette in reply thanked the young people for their excellent cooperation and especially the audience for their warm response. It is to be hoped that CYO Dramatic Night will be an annual event in Digby.

Pianist for the event was Miss Gail Hersey. The program ended with God Save the Queen.

The plays will be presented in Yarmouth next week for the aged at Villa Saint Joseph du Lac and at the Yarmouth Youth Center on next Wednesday night. Proceeds from the concert will be used for remodeling the former parish bowling alley, and converting it into a CYO Youth Center.

As you can see I am also a "Courier Lover" and read it as soon as it arrives every Monday. I am most interested in your "Fish Recipe Swap" and would like to submit a most delicious recipe for:

BARBECUED FISH FILLETS

2 tblsp. butter or margarine
1 lb. fish fillets
1/2 cup diced onions
salt & pepper

Preheat pan and melt butter. Add onions and simmer. Remove from pan. Fry fish as usual. Now return onions, add sauce and simmer for 20 minutes. Cover and reduce heat to low.

Barbecue Sauce For Above

1/2 cup catsup
1/3 cup lemon juice
1/4 cup water
2 tsp. sugar
2 tsp. Worcestershire Sauce
2 tsp. prepared mustard

Celebrate 34th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Ford celebrated their 34th wedding anniversary on March 9th. Their daughters, Mrs. Roy Prime and Mr. Prime of Pleasant Valley and Miss Bona Ford of Yarmouth, and their son, Lindsay and Mrs. Ford of Southville, spent the evening with their parents. It was also Lindsay's birthday. None of the other children were near enough to get home for the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Ford were presented with two anniversary cakes, besides other presents, and ice cream. An enjoyable evening was had by all.

Mr. Donald Lusk spent the week-end with his mother in Yarmouth.

Miss Bona Ford returned to Yarmouth Saturday after spending a few days at home by the hostess and some of the other ladies.

Miss Rosalie Marr, who is employed in East Ferry spent the week-end at her home.

Mrs. Clyde Mullen was hostess to the Ladies Guild Wednesday to an all day quilting party. A very enjoyable day was spent by all present and delicious food was provided.

Misses Gaylene and Beverley Mullen were supper guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Marr on Sunday.

Mrs. Ivan Prime accompanied her sister, Miss Carol Harding, R. N., to Halifax on Saturday. They attended the Teo Capades and also visited the former's baby, Lynn, who is a patient at the Children's Hospital. They will return home this week.

Mrs. Herbert S. Mullen and Mrs. Leland Mullen, who have been visiting in Washington, D. C., returned home Sunday.

Come to Church for Easter Services

Joyfully, we celebrate Easter, with songs of exultation for His Resurrection, and with prayers of gratitude for His gift of life eternal. Reverently, we gather in our churches, and with families, friends and neighbors we worship, we rejoice. As the Miracle of Easter lives anew, we wish for all the spiritual inspiration, the faith-renewing, heart-lifting blessings of this holy season.

To you and yours, a Happy Easter.

MARRIAGES

Marriages

Tibbets — Dugas

Mimico Baptist Church, Mimico, Ontario, was the scene of a quiet but pretty wedding on February 18th, at 2:30 p.m., when Rev. N. D. Beattie united in marriage, Sharron Eileen Dugas, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dugas, Bear River, Nova Scotia and Curtis John Tibbets, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Tibbets, Bear River, N.S., in a double ring ceremony. The wedding music was provided by the church organist.

Mr. Stan Davies.

The bride given in marriage by Mr. Stanley Thibault looked lovely in her ballerina length gown of white nylon, over satin. Her shoulder length veil was trimmed with pearls. She wore matching white accessories and carried a crescent shaped bouquet of red roses.

The bride's attendant was Mrs. Stanley Thibault. She wore a blue flowered nylon over taffeta with white accessories and wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Best man was John Fisher.

friend of the bride and groom. A buffet supper was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Thibault. The table was decorated in pink and white centered by the wedding cake.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. John Fisher. They received many useful gifts including, linen, electrical appliances and money.

For travelling to the Seaway Hotel in Toronto, the bride chose a navy suit, black accessories and wore a corsage of yellow roses.

The happy young couple are residing in Mimico, where the bride is employed as a Laboratory Technician with Canada Vintages and the groom is with Canadian Laboratory Supplies.

Out of town guests were from Oakville, Niagara Falls, Rexdale, Montreal and Nova Scotia.

Prime — Outhouse

A pretty wedding was solemnized in the Baptist Parsonage at Freeport Saturday evening, March 11th, when Valerie Dawn, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Outhouse became the bride of Lyndsay William Cecil, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Prime of Freeport. Rev. W. Ideson officiated at the single ring ceremony.

The bride's gown was a street length blue nylon with white accessories and she carried a corsage of white glads. Miss Wanda Outhouse, sister of the bride was bridesmaid and wore a gown of red and gold nylon, white accessories and corsage of white glads.

Mrs. Edgar Outhouse, mother of the bride, wore a gown of Biege lace, white accessories.

Gregory Stark of Freeport, attended the groom. Attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Outhouse, parents of the bride, Lloyd Prime, father of the groom, Mrs. Enos Comeau, and Rhonda Prime, sisters of the groom, David Prime, brother of the groom.

A reception was held for the couple Saturday evening, on March 18th, in the Community Hall at Freeport.

Mr. and Mrs. Prime will reside at Freeport.

Thanks For Help On "Family Night"

Supervisor, Principal, of Board's Consolidated Schools at Liverpool, Mr. D. B. MacGee, on behalf of the staff and students of the school, expressed thanks and appreciation to parents and adults who enthusiastically supported the "Family Night" held recently in the school. He thanked especially those who contributed to the Bake Sale and Fish Pond. He stated these two items were successful, especially the Bake Sale from which approximately $3000 was derived. The "Family Night" was a huge success, he said, and approximately $125.00 was netted from all activities. This was combined with the $2400 sum taken in at the Students Valentine dance and gave the Students Council a total of $1736.63 which helped to defray the transportation

Digby CYO Hosts Valley Rally

On Tuesday, March 28th, St. Patrick's C.Y.O. played host to the C.Y.O. Groups from the parishes of Wolfville, Berwick, Kentville, Greenwood, Middleton, Bridgetown, Annapolis Royal, Digby, Plympton, and Weymouth. In addition, executive members from the youth groups in Meteghan and Yarmouth were in attendance.

This was the first Rally for Digby and the largest attendance recorded for such a Rally in the Valley Deanery with some 250 C.Y.O. members in attendance.

Registration began at St. Patrick's Parish Hall at 1 p.m. with Evelyn Amoro and Hazel Harrington as registrars. At 2 p.m. a mass was celebrated by the Bishop of the Diocese of Yarmouth, Most Reverend Albert LeMenager. In his homily, Bishop LeMenager gave an explanation of the Mass, and his concluding words of appreciation for the invitation to come to Digby from the C.Y.O. and his pleasure at having so many participating. He expressed his assurance that the future of the Church was indeed bright with these young people as her future leaders and members.

Servers for the Mass were C.Y.O. member, Ivan Myers of Kentville, and Allan Grant of Bridgetown. Lector was Michael LeBlanc of the Annapolis C.Y.O. Commentator was a C.Y.O. member from Greenwood. In the offertory procession were Patsy Pothier of Berwick, Rachel Roy of Plympton, Rodrigue Lefort of Weymouth, Robert Fortune of Middleton, Mary Kenny of Wolfville and Jerry VanTassel of Digby. Cross-bearer was Kenny Amoro of Digby.

In the prayers of the faithful members from each group participated including Clark Moulaison of Plympton, Barbara Bennett of Greenwood, Adrian Nellie of Berwick, Diane Croteau of Digby, Barbara McGillivray of Greenwood, Beatrice Wilkins of Annapolis, Brian Grant of Bridgetown, George Comeau of Weymouth, Jeannie d'Eon of Kentville and John Merks of Wolfville.

Two Digby Men Sentenced To 2 Years In Dorchester

David Wayne Thibault, 20, and James Percy Amoro, 23, both of Digby, were last night sentenced by Magistrate Chas. T. LeBlond to 2 years in Dorchester for break and enter.

The duo were arrested by Constable Don Jayne, of the Town Police on Saturday evening, March 18, following an incident at the C. D. Snow Co. Ltd. plant. Mr. Snow, upon entering the building, disturbed the two men who fled through a window and ran along the waterfront.

Benefit Night At Forum

A benefit night at the Digby Forum will be held early in April for Lovett Jordan Jr., of Brighton who had his leg broken this winter while playing hockey in the Industrial Hockey League. The night will be sponsored by the Digby Recreation Commission.

Part of the entertainment will be a play between the Knights of Columbus and the St. Patrick's C.Y.O. champions for a trophy. The Ladies of Columbus will play St. Joseph's Brown Ball Champions of Weymouth. Other features will make up the evening's program.

Fraser To Visit Digby

Halifax based Royal Canadian Navy warships and sailors of Maritime Command (Atlantic) will have an interesting though busy schedule in connection with Canada's Centennial celebrations this year.

Between April 27th and October 30th, seventeen naval units of Maritime Command will visit over 80 Newfoundland, Nova Scotia, Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick, Quebec and Ontario ports of all sizes.

In many instances various types of ships will visit the same port. However, in many instances the ship visits have been planned to coincide with other Centennial celebrations planned at various coastal communities. Arrangements have been made to enable the ships and their personnel to participate in any or all of the Centennial activities planned at the many ports.

At each port the ships will hold "open house" programmes in which residents of the coastal areas will be invited on board for tours through the warships. In many instances and where space on board allows, the naval ships will put on children's parties and will hold luncheons and receptions. Special arrangements will also be made for children's groups to visit the ships for both junior and senior citizens.

Halifax based Maritime Command ship, Fraser, will visit Digby, August 25th to 28th.

Allied Youth Conference

Dr. Robert W. Baird

"For the more than 400 young Nova Scotians that are to attend the 1967 Allied Youth Conference in Amherst, March 28-30, the chance to meet, discuss with and listen to Dr. Robert W. Baird, the Doctor With a Heart, will prove an invaluable experience," said Rev. R. B. Atkinson, conference director and provincial supervisor of alcohol education.

Dr. Baird will be the featured speaker at the three-day conference that will bring Allied Youth members from all over the province together to learn and study a program of lectures, addresses, discussion groups and panel discussions. Dr. Baird has been leading a double life for the last 10 years. By day he is a specialist in internal medicine and diabetes and a faculty member of the New York Medical College of which he is a graduate. By night Dr. Baird turns his efforts to the HAVEN (Help Addicts Voluntarily End Narcotics), a clinic which he set up 10 years ago to treat drug addicts free of charge.

Testing So For Bridge Or Causeway

Preliminary work which should lead to a decision whether to build a bridge or causeway over Bear River near the site of the present Victoria Bridge is being carried out. Two men of the Logan Brothers Diamond Drilling arrived on Tuesday to conduct soil testing operations. It is understood that two others will be joining the crew within a few days. A test line is being taken. It is understood across the Basin from near Warner's Point to a point near the old Colonial Arms. The operation is being carried out for the department of highways of Nova Scotia.

John Nichols Re-elected President

John Nichols

John Nichols was re-elected president at the annual meeting of the V.O.N., Digby Branch, held in the Baptist Church hall on Tuesday afternoon, March 14th.

The secretary reviewed the activities of the year as being rewarding, but still not enough income from all sources to finance the work.

The nurse, Miss Brown, had resigned the end of the year and a replacement was not available. Relief nurse, Mrs. Eleanor Rice, is carrying on the work.

During the year the per visit fee was raised to $3.00. Thanks were extended to the Digby General Hospital for office space and telephone service, also to Mr. and Mrs. Croft of the Marla Motel for so long in taking calls for the nurse. Thanks were extended to the Lion's club for snow tires for the car and to all friends who had made donations during the year.

The treasurer reported total receipts for the year $9467.37, of this amount $15,231.2 was raised by fund raising committees. Total expenses $9230.70. Bank loan $925, at the end of the year.

Mrs. Rice read the nurse's report, total number of visits 1738, an increase of 207 over last year. Four immunization clinics were held when 257 children were inoculated and an active program had been carried out in the three elementary schools.

Mrs. H. Warren reported for the publicity committee, the activities of the board had been kept before the public and thanks were extended to the Digby Courier for co-operation. Notices of the Provincial centennial meeting in Halifax, April 12th and National annual meeting in Ottawa May 4th and 5th were read.

The full report of the nominating committee read by Mrs. David Daley, chairman, was adopted as follows: Hon. Pres. Mr. Fritz Dakin, Pres. Mr. John Nichols, 1st vice-president, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, 2nd vice-president, Mr. J. J. Brittain, Secretary, Mrs. J. W. Christie, Treasurer, Mrs. H. R. Bishop, Board members, Mrs. E. H. Anderson, Mrs. A. T. Easter Services In Digby And Surrounding Areas

Grace United

Rev. R. H. Hughes was assisted by Rev. Dr. T. W. Hodgson in administering communion on Easter Sunday morning at Grace United Church. Four were received into membership of the church. They were Misses Dona King and Deirdre Daley and also Larry Boodosingh and Gregory Holdsworth.

In his sermon Rev. Mr. Hughes said the Easter message is not one of survival for Christ not only conquered death, He met death. Good Friday He said gives two words, "Jesus defeated" but the Easter message is "Jesus defeated enemies". He asked the congregation to consider the relevancy of the Easter message to their present lives.

An appropriate duet was rendered by Mrs. Gerald Wilson and Norman Wright, accompanied by Mrs. Elton Arnold.

On Tuesday evening an Easter worship was conducted by Mrs. William Marshall at the regular meeting of the Grace United U.C.W. Mrs. Allan Harris presided at the meeting.

Digby Baptist

Despite the severe weather on Sunday, Easter services in the Baptist Church of Digby were well attended. At the morning service two anthems were sung by the church choir.

Potted plants, including Easter lilies, hydrangea, petunia, mums, as well as baskets of flowers made a beautiful picture at the front of the platform. Most of these were memorial presentations.

The pastor, Rev. H. S. Hartlin, preached on the Easter theme, and stated that there is only one affirmation that is big enough to meet the real experiences of us all — joy and sorrow, sin and sainthood, suffering and ecstasy, life and death, and that is the resurrection of Jesus Christ from the dead. "In the very heart of the unseen world, there is no final disaster, but a victory of love."

Service was also held in the evening followed by the Ordinance of Baptism to nine candidates for church membership. These will be received into the fellowship of the church next Sunday.

Easter service in the church at Hill Grove was held in the afternoon. The Junior Choir sang two special numbers.

Bear River Baptist

A Good Friday service was conducted by the young people in the Baptist Church of Bear River and was followed by the communion service. Several of the group took part in reading scripture, prayer, special music and an Easter message, with the Youth Choir in attendance.

On Sunday morning the pastor of Bear River Baptist took for his topic, "If Christ be not Risen." He said it was impossible to close the tomb, also that the resurrection was the foundation of Christian belief.

The evening message was "This Same Jesus". He spoke of the women at the tomb who were afraid, perhaps wondering if Jesus would be the same.

A beautiful solo was rendered by Mrs. James Harris. "He Died for Me". In the evening the men's choir was in attendance, and a fellowship hour was enjoyed in the vestry, conducted by the "Philathea Class."

Several potted plants were placed in the church in memory of loved ones.

Acaciaville Baptist

Easter Sunday services began in the Acaciaville Baptist church at 5 a.m. The service was conducted by the pastor, Rev. L. R. Atkinson and the choir consisted of members from the Baptist Youth Fellowship. The message was "The Experience of Christ's Appearance at Emmaus."

At 11 a.m. the prayer and praise service was conducted by Deacons Whitfield Barlow and Wallace Bailey. Mr. Reginald Cromwell, president of the Baptist Brotherhood, assisted in the service and the members of the Brotherhood formed the choir and supplied special music.

At the 7 o'clock service, 20 voices in the mixed choir sang as special numbers: Christ Arose; He Lives; and Blessed Redeemer. A solo "Aloft" was rendered by Miss Dorothy Cromwell. A large congregation attended the service and the pastors message was "Looking in the Wrong Places."

Miss Amanda Cromwell, church organist, presided at all services.

Lower Granville Baptist

A sunrise service was held in the Port Royal Union Church, for the combined Lower Granville United Baptist Churches, on Easter Sunday at 7 p.m. Rev. David Turner officiated. Breakfast was served at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wagner, Port Royal. A goodly number attended.

PROCEEDS FOR SCOUTS

Although the Community Concert was postponed from the sixteenth to the seventeenth of March, due to a bad storm, Oakdene auditorium was filled to capacity.

An enjoyable program of music, singing and skits was arranged by various groups from the community.

Total proceeds were donated to the Boy Scouts to be used towards their trip to Scoutland.

E. B. Tufts, Chairman

An urgent appeal for blood donors is being issued in the Digby area for the forthcoming Blood Donor Clinic, to be held at the Lion's Club Hall on Tuesday afternoon and evening, April 11th. The clinic will again be sponsored by the Digby Lions Club, with assistance by the Lionettes and the Digby Red Cross Branch. Arrangements are being made by the district Blood Donor chairman, Ernest B. Tufts, who, together with committee members in Digby and nearby communities, is making every effort to obtain a record turnout from the entire area from Bear River to Weymouth, Digby Neck and the Islands.

With the enlarged hospital facilities in Digby, and the fact that the Digby General Hospital is now being used to its fullest capacity, the need for an increased supply of blood from this area is readily apparent. In a recent statement, Mr. Tufts pointed out that up to the present time the two Digby clinics per year have not produced sufficient blood to replenish the number of pints used for transfusions in our local hospital each year. According to the statistics which were quoted, in 1965 there were 568 pints of blood used in the Digby General Hospital, and only 415 blood donations, while in 1966 the deficit was even worse, with 725 pints used and only a total of 363 pints donated at the two clinics held in Digby.

Blood transfusions are free to the hospital patients, and the Canadian Red Cross Society assumes the responsibility of collecting, processing and distributing the blood to the hospitals. However, there is one factor over which the patient and the Red Cross workers have no control. Mr. Tufts said, "that is the donors themselves, who must voluntarily give the blood which is required. Were the Blood Bank in Halifax to fall short the whole system would cease to function, and it would be those who are critically ill in hospital who would suffer. The Blood Bank depends solely on its volunteer donors to keep it filled, and the Digby Blood Donor Clinic has a serious responsibility in helping supply the blood which is used in our own hospital. It is sincerely hoped that all those who are physically able will heed the call to help provide the gift of life, on April 11th."

Virginia East Food For Man And Beast From Sea Weeds

The increasing demands for seaweed and a program to step up the development of the Canadian Atlantic marine plants industry will be discussed at a meeting to be held in Halifax April 5th and 6th.

The resource and its exploitation as well as its development potential will be considered by representatives of the federal Government and the governments of the five Atlantic coast provinces, as well as by marine plant processors from Canada, the United States and Europe. Scientists will report on their investigations into various species.

There is a rapidly expanding market in the food manufacturing industry for alginate obtained from Irish moss, which is widely harvested in the Atlantic region. This plant is also dried and ground for use as a supplemental feed for animal and poultry feed. Kelp also is used for the production of marine colloids. Dulse is packaged and dried for sale in retail stores, and other species of marine plants are used as fertilizers.

Possible new markets for by-products of marine plants will be discussed at the meeting, at which surveys of the resource will be available, as well as reports on methods of harvesting and preparation prior to the extraction process. The Industrial Development Service of the federal Department of Fisheries will review the activities of its new marine plants experimental station at Miminegash, P.E.I. A feature of the meeting will be a report by Miss C. MacFarlane, of the Nova Scotia Research Foundation, on a recent visit she made to Japan for the federal Department of Fisheries to study the seaweed industry of that country.

Recommendations for future exploratory and experimental activity involving a wide variety of marine plants will be considered, as well as measures for conserving the

The giraffe and Ella Trixy tell their own story. They help to remind you that electricity, almost alone amongst household necessities, is still sold at low prices. You can better realize how low these prices are when you know that the average Canadian family now gets about twice as much electricity for its money as it did fifteen years ago. If your bill isn't smaller, it is because you have more electric servants and are using more electricity each day than you did then. It's a real achievement to keep electric service cheap in spite of rising costs and taxes - and to keep it plentiful in the face of the tremendous demands for power. The credit goes largely to the men and women of your electric utility. Their skill and experience - plus the planning and foresight of sound business management - have made this record possible.

SwapBishop's Falls, Nfld.
March 11, 1967.

Dear Mrs. Wallis,

I just read with interest in the Digby Courier, the contest on "Fish Recipe Swap." It's very interesting, indeed.

I used to live in Bear River so I am familiar with your paper. My father, Gerald Frost, sends it to me here from Windsor, Nova Scotia, every week. I enjoy it very much. I always did.

Please find enclosed 3 or 4 recipes I would like to enter. I have tried most of them but the fish recipe makes very delicious.

Mrs. Kevin Flynn.

2 cups milk
1 cup mushrooms
1 cup grated cheese
1 cup chopped green pepper
1/2 cup butter

Thaw and separate scallops. Sprinkle lightly with salt. Cook onion, celery, mushrooms and green pepper in melted butter for about 10 minutes or until partially cooked but not limp. Heat a cup butter, blend in flour and salt; add milk gradually. Cook and stir over hot water or low direct heat until sauce has thickened. Add scallops and cooked vegetables. Mix well. Transfer to a 1 1/2 qt. casserole. Combine bread crumbs and 1/2 tsp. melted butter. Top casserole with crumbed crumbs. Sprinkle with grated cheese. Bake in a moderate oven (375 F.) for about 20 minutes, or until sauce shows signs of bubbling at edges of dish and crumbs are delicately browned. Makes 6 servings.

COD FISH CAKES

1 pound boneless salt cod
2 1/2 cups diced raw potatoes
1/2 cup chopped onion
2 tbsp. butter
Salt to taste (about 1/2 tsp.)

1/2 cup fat for frying
Dash pepper
1 egg slightly beaten
1 cup dry bread crumbs

Rinse fish and soak overnight. Drain, and simmer in fresh water, over low heat. Drain and flake. Simmer a second time if fish is too salty.

Cook potatoes in boiled salted water. Fry onions in butter till tender but not brown. Add onion to potato and mash. Stir in cod, season to taste. Add egg. Beat mixture well. Shape into flat round cakes; roll in bread crumbs. Fry in hot fat. Turn once to brown both sides. Makes 4 to 6 servings.

FISH CHOWDER

1 lb. fish fillets
2 cups boiling water
2 tbsp. butter
1 tsp. salt
1/4 cup chopped onion
1 tsp. pepper
1/2 cup chopped celery
2 cups milk
2 cups diced raw potatoes
chopped parsley
1/2 cup thinly sliced carrots

Cut fillets into bite sized pieces. Melt butter in large saucepan; add onion and celery; cook until limp. Add potatoes, carrots, boiling water, salt and pepper. Cover and simmer 14 to 15 minutes, or until vegetables are tender. Add fish and simmer, covered, 10 minutes longer. Add milk; reheat but do not allow to boil. Serve piping hot sprinkled with a little chopped parsley. Makes 6 servings.

SARDINE PIZZA

2 cans sardines
1 cup biscuit mix
1/4 cup milk
1 can tomato sauce
1 cup grated cheese

Drain sardines, reserving oil. Mix milk and biscuit mix together. Knead for 10 seconds. Roll out and place in 9 in. pie plate. Flute edges of dough. Brush dough with oil from sardines. Place half sardines on the dough and sprinkle with half of the grated cheese. Pour tomato sauce over sardines and cheese and sprinkle with remaining cheese. Arrange the remaining sardines on top of the pie, spoke-fashion. Bake in a moderately hot oven (400 F.) for 20 minutes. Makes six servings.

Palm Sunday was celebrated in Grace United Church on Sunday morning, when Rev. R. H. Hughes preached a special sermon for the occasion on the subject, "Lost Communications Restored." Many people, he said, have lost communication with God and do not know where to find Him. They say that God is dead. Restlessness and rebelliousness result from lost communication with God, he said. The place where people are restored is at the cross.

Obituaries

Clayton S. Crocker
Clayton S. Crocker, former Freeport resident died at Sarina, Ontario on Monday. Born at Freeport, N. S. forty-six years ago he was a son of the late Earl and Lola Bates Crocker. For the past eighteen years he has been employed with Imperial Oil Refineries at Sarina. His wife is the former Vera Zinke of Halifax, N. S.

Surviving besides his wife is a son Michael age nine years; brothers Watson, Harry and Donald of Freeport; sisters Freda (Mrs. Scott Perry) Freeport; Neta (Mrs. Merwin Paine) Moncton, N. B. and Norma (Mrs. Shirley Elliott) Thorton, N. S.

His body rested at Jayne's Funeral Home, Digby, N. S. until Saturday when funeral service was held from the Freeport United Baptist Church. Rev. W. Ideson conducted the service and interment was at Freeport.

Mrs. Robert Everett
There passed away at the Annapolis General Hospital, March 15th, Doris Louise Everett, 58, wife of Robert Everett, of Victoria Beach. She had been ill for two months.

A daughter of the late James and Eliza Thorne of Port Royal, she was a school teacher for a number of years. Following her marriage she moved to Victoria Beach and with the help of her husband operated a general store and post office for 21 years. She was a member of Christ Anglican Church.

Surviving are her husband and a number of nieces and nephews. Two sisters predeceased her as did her parents.

The remains rested at Chisholm's Funeral Home, Granville Ferry, until March 18, when funeral service was held at Christ Anglican Church, Karsdale, at 2:30 o'clock. Officiating at the service were Rev. R. S. Shepherd and Rev. R. A. Neish, of the Anglican faith, and Rev. David Turner, of the Lower Granville United Baptist pastorate. Hymns sung were "Abide With Me" and "The Lord's Prayer." Interment was in the Victoria Beach cemetery. Many floral tributes testified to the esteem in which the deceased was held.

JONES — Sincere thanks to the many friends who thought of me while I was at the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, and since my return home. To those who visited, sent flowers, cards and other messages of cheer, or showed kindness in any way, I say "thank you". — Vivian Jones, 32:1c

MORASH — Mr. and Mrs. Murray R. Morash wish to thank the nurses of the maternity floor of the Digby General Hospital, and a special "thank you" to Dr. D. G. Black for the kindness shown Mrs. Morash while a patient there. 32:1p

CARD OF THANKS — I wish to express my sincere thanks and appreciation to relatives and friends for cards, letters, visits and gifts, while I was a patient in Digby General Hospital. My thanks to Dr. Bircel, my nurses and the hospital staff for the wonderful care they gave me. — Glen G. Dargie, Round Hill, N. S. 32:1c

IN MEMORIAM

BAXTER — In loving memory of my dear wife, Aleesta Gertrude, who passed away April 5th, 1964. Three years since the sad day the one I loved was called away. God took her home, it was His will. But in my heart she liveth still. Always remembered by husband, Charles. 32:1p

1933 - Grant 1967
In sad but loving memory of Marion Hallowell Grant, who departed this life, March 29, 1963. You'll be within our thoughts today. No matter where we go, You'll be within our hearts, dear Marion. Because we loved you so. Only those who have lost can tell. Pain of parting without fare well. A silent prayer, many tears. Only memories of you Marion dear. Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by her lonely husband, mother, sister and brother. At St. Joseph's Church in Weymouth, Nova Scotia, the thirty fourth anniversary mass will be sung for the repose of the soul of Marion Hallowell Grant, requested by her husband, Frederick Grant of Boston Mass. 32:1p

FROSST — In loving memory of my dear dad, Howard Arthur Frosst, who passed away March 24th, 1961. We miss you dad, and always will. Deep in our hearts you are with us still. You shared our hopes, our joys, our tears. God bless you "dad" for those wonderful years. — Always remembered and sadly missed by daughter, Mabel, son-in-law, Bobby and grandchildren. 32:1c

DENTON — At the Easter Sunday Service in Little River, a financial donation was made in loving memory of Mrs. Cora Blanche Denton. It was accompanied by the following: Softly the leaves of memory fall. Gently we gather to treasure them all. Unseen, unheard you are always near. Still loved, still missed and very dear. — Husband and family, Austin Sr., Rodney, Viola and Greta. 32:1c

ROBBINS — In loving memory of Mary Robbins, who passed away March 30th, 1966. Although you are not beside us, You are never far away. You are always in our hearts. Through every passing day, You never failed to do your best. Your heart was true and tender. You worked so hard for those you loved. And left us to remember. — Always remembered by her son, Bernard and daughter-in-law, Nellie. 32:1c

OUTHOUSE — In loving memory of a dear Husband and Father, Ronald E. Outhouse, who passed away March 19th, 1956. As long as we live, We will cherish his name. In memory we see him ever the same. ROLLING HOME — The train crew's home away from home has taken on a new look. This Maritime-built prototype of 150 newly designed units has been approved by Canadian National to give trainmen a more effective and efficient mode of travel. The all-steel caboose has electricity from its wind-driven generator, its cupola moved to the center of the car with wide-vision windows and were built at Trenton, N.S. and completed at L. J. Williams, Ontario. And when the trainman hangs his cap, he will be able to relax in an upholstered swivel chair with a head rest. Smoothing the miles away will be roller bearings, specially designed rolling gear, and shock absorbing underframes. This is a far cry from the old wooden van with its pot-bellied stove and smoky oil lamp that was a feature of railroading in the past.

The famous King Family, surrounded by water in this TV production number, also uses lots of water in their homes — over 2,000 gallons a day. Now, the King Family has discovered an almost inexhaustible supply of soft water. It's a compact Culligan Aquasensor water cleaner that takes less than 2 square feet floor space. This new appliance contains an electronic sensor which detects the need for soft water, just as a thermostat detects the need for heat. This new sensing device keeps families from running out of soft water, even one as large as the King Family.

First Woman To Head Committee

Miss Gertrude Budrow was elected chairman of the Committee of Stewards of Grace United Church. This is the first time a woman had been named to head the Stewards at Grace United.

Other officers are Ted Essex, secretary, and Milton Atkinson, treasurer.

Members of the committee are Mrs. Fred Fullerton, Donald MacDonald, William MacLeod, William Reid, C. C. MacInnes, Robert White and Gerald Wilson.

Miss Budrow succeeds William Troups as chairman and Mr. Essex succeeds Mrs. Charles Fitt as secretary. Other retiring stewards were Mrs. J. M. Wallis and Charles Haliburton.

Urges Digby Ferry Service

The Digby-Saint John ferry service was the most "economical way" to travel to five points in western Nova Scotia while the Yarmouth-Bar Harbor ferry service was the "quickest," George A. Snow (PC-Yarmouth) told the Legislature.

He said a survey taken by a Yarmouth Board of Trade sponsored committee had proven this.

Mr. Snow said the committee had recommended to a joint meeting of all the municipal units in the Yarmouth area that the most urgent need for improved ferry service was at the Digby to Saint John crossing.

It was felt improvements should be made to accommodate trucks and trailers and that two round trips should be made each day.

sisted by Rev. Donald Amira, pastor of St. Patrick's Digby, and Rev. David Stokes of Holy Cross, Plympton. Other clergy in attendance were: Rev. Clarence Thibault, Director of the Catholic Information Center at Yarmouth; Rev. Gerald Boudreau, curate at Meteghan; Rev. Daniel Mills, curate at Digby; Msgr. J. N. Theriault, pastor of Annapolis Royal; Rev. Thomas LeBlanc, pastor at Middleton; Rev. Yvon Guerin, pastor at Berwick; Rev. Fr. Lalley, chaplain at Greenwood; Rev. Gerald Saulnier, curate at Kentville, and Rev. Leo Maillet, pastor at Wolfville. Clergy who attended later in the day were Raoul Deveau, pastor at Weymouth and Rev. Roy Comeau, curate at Yarmouth. Choir director was Rev. Gerald Saulnier of Kentville; organist, Mrs. Ed Belliveau of Digby.

Following the Mass, the entire group proceeded to the Digby Regional High School where all assembled in the auditorium. Here, Rally Chairman, Robert Smith of Digby (St. Patrick's C.Y.O. President) welcomed the group and expressed the pleasure of the young people of St. Patrick's in sponsoring the Rally. The groups were divided according to age to discuss the theme of the Rally: "Unity in C.Y.O. in the Valley." The 13-14 age group discussed this theme in relation to the social and athletic ends of C.Y.O.; the 15-16 age group, in relation to religious activities; and the age group 17 and up with regard to cultural activities. The groups, 10 in number, proceeded to various classrooms for discussion with St. Patrick's C.Y.O. members as leaders for the younger groups. Following the discussion, all returned to the auditorium where the chairman called the secretaries of each group to the stage to give their reports on their findings.

Upon completion of the reports, the chairman called the C.Y.O. presidents to the stage to ask them for their observations on the Rally. Praise and in keeping with the renewal in the Church, constructive criticism was offered as to how the Rally could have been improved upon.

A buffet was prepared by C.Y.O. counsellors, Mrs. Victor Comeau and Mrs. Robert McVeigh, assisted by Mrs. Clifford Mullen Jr.

Following the supper, time was provided for casual chatting and mixing to facilitate the young people with the opportunity to meet one another. At 7:15 Robert Marshall and his orchestra provided music for the social evening which ended at 10 p.m. Under the direction of David VanTassel and the St. Patrick's C.Y.O. Social Committee, several prizes were given for spot dances during the evening.

This C.Y.O. Rally was a project of the Valley Deanery. Digby was chosen as the site by a committee of Fathers, Gerald Saulnier, David Stokes and Daniel Mills together with the Presidents of the various C.Y.O. groups. Once Digby was selected as the site it is praiseworthy to note that all the C.Y.O. members of St. Patrick's assumed full responsibility by forming the necessary work committees for various tasks; more praiseworthy still is the fact that when the time came everyone did their task well.

NOVA SCOTIA POWER COMMISSION

HISTORY OF CONWAY CO-OPERATIVE

By Lloyd MacNeil

The modern new Conway Co-operative store being opened this week to the public marks another milestone in the progress of organized effort which had its beginning back at the turn of the century.

It started with the Digby Central Agricultural Society, organized in the early 1900's. The Agricultural Society was a branch of the Nova Scotia Farmers' Association, and its main function was to purchase and keep purebred livestock sires for use by its farmer members.

The local Society, in conjunction with the Bear River Agricultural Society, also sponsored the annual Digby County Exhibition.

In 1940, the Digby Central Society was reorganized to cover a much larger area. The new organization was called the Maple Leaf Agricultural Society, and expanded its services to include the purchasing of limestone, seed, fertilizers, and sprays. It also started ordering feed in carload lots for distribution to its members.

The first officers of this organization were President, Frank Hazelton; Vice-President, Lloyd MacNeil; Secretary, Joseph Jefferson, Darcy Roop, William Roop, Ralph Dunn, Arthur Gates, Wynn Smith, Hubert Warne, and John Theriault.

Besides its other activities, the Maple Leaf Society also organized a Calf Club and sponsored a Calf Club Fair, the first of which was held on the farm of Duncan MacKay at Acaciaville. This was enlarged the next year to accommodate classes for farmers' exhibits of horses, cattle, sheep, swine, vegetables, and field crops. For three years this fair was held at the farm of William Roop at Hill Grove.

The Society then purchased a plot of land from Robert Russell at Conway to serve as a permanent location for the annual Fair and other activities. By 1947 the business operations of the Maple Leaf Agricultural Society had grown to the point where it was necessary to build a warehouse. The ground floor was used to store flour, feed, and farm supplies; with accommodations on the second floor for a meeting hall.

Cecil Jones was engaged as Secretary-Treasurer, to have charge of the warehouse, and to order and sell the feed and farm supplies.

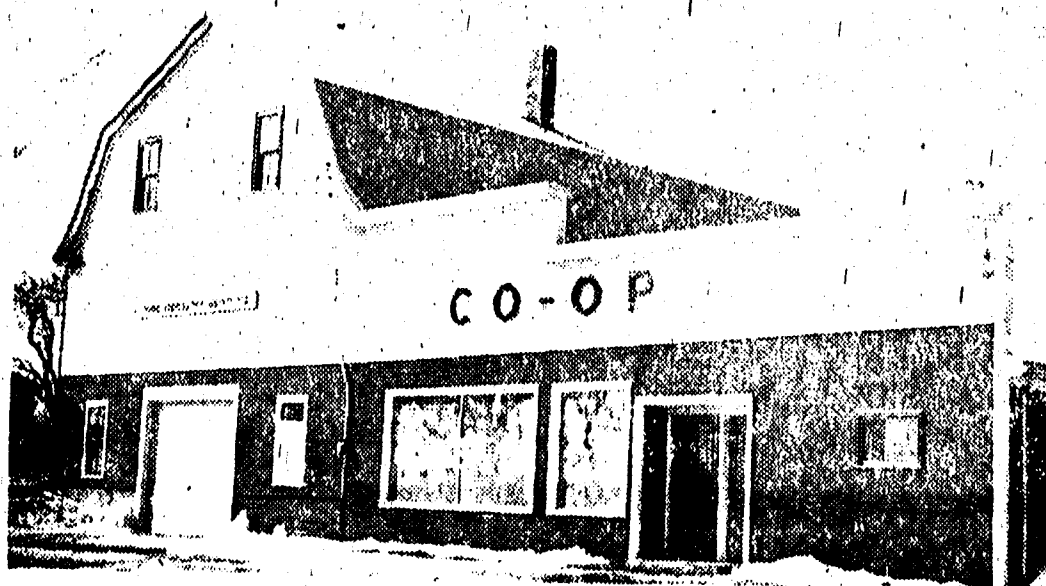

After several years of operation, the members of the Society began to examine the possibility of reorganizing their business into a Co-operative. Study group sessions were held one night a week during the winter to learn about co-operative organization. After much study and numerous membership meetings, the Conway Co-operative Society, Ltd. was chartered on September 27, 1957; to take over the business activities that had been carried on by the Agricultural Society.

The charter officers of the Co-operative were President, Chipman Chisholm; Vice-President, Lloyd MacNeil; Secretary, Joseph Specht; and Directors Max Isles, Lloyd Jefferson, Austin Lutz, Hubert Warne, Wynn Smith, John Theriault, and Bertus Freeman.

In March, 1958, the store in Conway known as the New-Way Market was purchased by the Co-operative, and opened for business on Monday, March 26. Cecil Murley was appointed Manager, with clerks Carl Bremner and Carl Franklin. In the fall of 1964, the Co-operative added a petroleum service, with Layton Savary as driver-salesman.

The business volume at Conway Co-operative has gradually grown and expanded. By 1966 it had become obvious that the facilities were no longer adequate to handle the business. At the Annual Meeting of Conway Co-operative on March 30, 1966, a Building Committee of Lloyd Jefferson and Roy Warner was appointed to work with the Manager toward planning and supervising the construction of a new store.

This has now been done. The building has been completed, equipped, and stocked, and is ready for service to the public.

The Co-op store occupies the new addition to the right of the warehouse building. A large parking area in front of the store assures convenience for shoppers.

Conway Co-operative offers a full selection of groceries, meats, produce and hardware in its modern new store. Feed, farm supplies and petroleum products are also available to its members and customers. Driver salesman is Layton Savary.

Conway Co-op serves members and customers with Co-op gasoline, furnace oil, stove oil, diesel oil, motor oils and lubricants.

Co-op Offers Large Hardware Selection

Due to restrictions in space, Conway Co-operative only carries a small portion of its total hardware offering on display in the store. A large number of additional items are available to members and customers on a few days' notice. These can be selected from a large illustrated Co-op Hardware Catalogue at the store.

There are over 7,000 different items in the illustrated catalogue, covering general hardware, household appliances, building supplies, plumbing fixtures and supplies, farm hardware, tires and batteries.

Members and customers are requested to check with Manager Cecil Murley for price quotations and specifications on any hardware items they may need.

Early History Of Co-ops In Nova Scotia

The history of co-operation in Nova Scotia dates back to the days when most of what is now Canada was still a wilderness. The first co-operative venture of a commercial nature of which there is any record was started in Kings County in the Annapolis Valley. This co-operative, curiously enough called "Colonia Societas" was formed in 1781 by the settlers known as the "planters" who came from New England and to the land of Evangeline following the expulsion of the Acadians.

It is said that upwards of forty names appear on the original membership roll of Colonia Societas. Most of these names are still well known family names in the Annapolis Valley, and many of their descendants have attained to positions of prominence in various walks of life, including two prime ministers of Canada.

Among the early activities of this organization was the marketing of livestock. In 1790, one Joseph Allison, Jr., was appointed agent at Halifax to sell beef. Three members went surety for him, in the sum of five hundred pounds, and for his services, including the killing of the animals, he was to take seven and one-half percent of the gross proceeds.

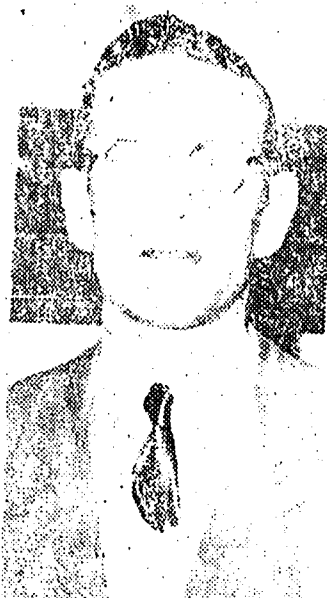

Nova Scotia may also be credited with the first consumers co-operative store in Canada. This was the Union Co-operative Store opened at Stellarton. In 1861, only 17 years after the Rochdale Pioneers started their historic co-operative in Toad Lane. The moving spirit behind the co-operative at Stellarton was one James Mitchell, who had been associated with the rapidly growing co-operative movement in England before he came to this country. Mr. Mitchell served as secretary of the Union Co-operative Store for fifteen years, and as manager for 38 years.

Far-reaching Connections By Conway Co-op

Conway Co-operative Society Ltd., through its membership in Maritime Co-operative Services, enjoys the benefit of large volume purchasing through a national Co-operative wholesale. Here's how it works.

Conway Co-operative is owned and controlled by its individual members. The local Co-operative, along with approximately 150 other local Co-operatives in the Atlantic region, owns and controls Maritime Co-operative Services, Ltd. Maritime Co-operative Services offers a wholesale service in groceries, hardware, petroleum products and farm supplies, and a manufacturing and wholesale service in livestock and poultry feeds.

The regional Co-operative, wholesale, with several other regional Co-op wholesales across Canada, owns and controls Interprovincial Co-operatives Ltd., the national Co-operative wholesale. Interprovincial serves as a purchasing agent for many lines of groceries, hardware, and agricultural supplies that are distributed through the regional Co-operative wholesales, and sold through local Co-op stores.

The Caribou Are Gone - The Moose Nearly So

A correspondent in the above issue of the Courier, who called himself "Snuzzler," objected strongly to an open season on deer during breeding time. The law as passed, to go into effect in September 1877, had closed all hunting for moose and caribou except by the open season in October. In answer to "Snuzzler" (the law) allows moose hunting in October. That is, it allows the deer to be shot during the reproductive season. The first and fundamental law of all game preservation is a closed season during breeding time. (This was 17 years before Major John Dalrymple introduced the Virginia or White Tail deer into the province. The deer referred to were Moose and Caribou.)

"The editor of the Scientific American" says that undoubtedly electricity will soon supersede all other artificial agents for illumination."

"A social crisis has hit a community in New Brunswick. The young men are taking a dislike to the idea that they would not court nor marry any young man who drinks intoxicating liquor or uses tobacco. The young men of the same place are taking a dislike to the idea that they would not court nor marry any young man who wears a big bustle, a pectoral chain, or other fancy appliances as an improvement on nature. This has put a gloom over social life in this community."
