About This And That

Two weeks ego we wrote an editorial with the the "Be Friendly". We think is must have been one of the set editorials we had ever written. Why? Beccuse our Mayor Glean Smith could be the first and only ac-the set editorials we had ever written. Why? and our of the best response we've ever had from an glorial. Dave trvine of Harbour View House and Cottages, hith's Cove, both praised and tore us to shreds in the risk we wrong. Your Workship? If so we stand correc-ted. If not, we offer our congratulations, though late. the "Be Friendly". We think it must have been one of the the last week. We know he was sincere in what he had a say and we appreciated all his comments, those in praise and those in blame.

We must first of all apologize to Mr. Irvine for our Net rouse rate of a spongues to ref. a vite or our slip-up both by linotype operator and proof reader. We printed the copy "atthough the title struck me as being righter insane." "The word which Mr. Irvine used was "inther insane." "The word which Mr. Irvine used was "im-ge" and not "insane". Of course, trane can mean ally c, Golish which has some relationship to insane. Never-tens we give Mr. Irvine credit for using the milder with the some of the source of the source of the speed, too, Dure for our error? We might add, though, sity whether insare or insane we just have no intention of sharging that 'tills. We pride ourselves on being positive ther than nearbut thinknow. negative thinkers

W. Ivine also takes us to task for making excus-tion of the interval of Digbytes. Well, now, let us be a little charitable. Basically, we do not believe Digby-impope are ilso friendly than people in most towns and villages in this province. We feel they just haven't acquir-ed the brack of bringing their innate friendliness to the foreiront, periodularly, for the purpose of selling Digby-(Gh, dear, here is a contradiction. Well-ode people liv-figs some thrity miles from Digby told us that Digby klows, where to book when they want shoppers but other-yies they are unifiendly and unhelpful. I only the besides frigh Pagy's Cove species leading photographies this way. Wighers, can I. find a place to take isconic pictures? Just dyn't send the photographer away from Digby. We need him here.

To the above you can add a few more apprecia tions of various kinds.

There were several other points in Mr. Irvine's le There were several other points are solving at us objectively he which were worth noting. Looking at us objectively he ain us a "caro-less" etititude. Sort of "Let the govern-net take care of it. Why work if I can get unemploy-rit insurance?" Any individual or any town which has the an attitude certainly Is not entitled to gripe.

Mr. Irvine has also been concerned about the

For all the world we wouldn't want to let up on our days for better transportation across the Bay of Fondy. We do have to go along with Mr. Urine, though, that we absuid be providing the attractions and services to en-dourage more people to with inter, if we get more people coming, Mr. Invine argues, we'll convince the politicians bayar cause. Deve, you couldn't be more right. We'll con-deds to what maybe was an error but on the otherhand, if we can get the better service we'll lake it anytime event if it means "the cart before the horse" in a motorized ege.

We appreciated Mr. Irvine's response to our edi-. We hope to hear from him again and expect other ws are going to take up the challenge he has thrown parial. We have out to the

Road Hazardous For School Children

From Our Files imes you live around something so long 30 YEARS BACK Nou become that you become acoustomed to it. Oi, sometimes condi-tioner gradually worken. Our attention, was brought this week by a newcomer to town, to the hazardous traffic con-ditions for if-bood children on the abtrip tiece of read which diverts over the thill in front of the jail, Court House and elementary school. His suggestion was to have that made a one way traffic route. "Digby's Mayor, M. C. Denton, and refiring Com Olders, H. L. Woodman, E. Churchill Sollows and G. A Morrell, were returned for a two year term by acclamaga, as the result of the civic nominations Tuesday. Other me, bers of the council whose terms are unexpired are S. s Aymar, F. L. Something to think about before it is too late a life is lost or a timb broken.

Hungry Visitors

Designe the fact hat most families like to stay home and be together for Christmas Day and New Year here are people who either by perference or needs are away from home. The Kingfisher Motel In Digby had visitors our these dates this year and although the star was baik agement is not in the food catering business not withes to be, it was necessary, wu understand to scurry around and find food to feed the hungry visitors. There were no restaurant come in twm. estaurants open in town.

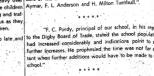

Suggestion - restaurants do as service stations ee that at least one is open.

Good health and heart habits begun now can re-duce later risk of heart attack

Interview research is going forward to find the or causes of hardwing of the arteries, which sets the stage in for hear stark. Until this knowledge is evailable, physi-w, clans generally agree that the individual can do much to of improve his chances of living longer by minimizing certain risk fectors.

Be setting a good example, parents can not only encourage their children to form risk-minimizing habits that may last a lifetime, but at the same time protect their own hearts.

Here are basic successions for perents:

2. Stress the importance of

Form good diet habits by serving mon ted fats (mostly vegetable oils) in place of satural animal) fats, and fewer foods rich in cholestero

4. Encourage them to keep physically fit through regular exercise, and if possible, make regular and moderate physical activity a family affair.  $\psi^{L}$

6. Make medical check-ups a family routine.

Risks of heart attack, of course, increase v on is your of its and thereafter than females. Some families, the seem to be more vulnerable than females. Some families, the seem to be more prodisposed to heart diseste than others, and there factors, age, sex and genetic inheritance, can-inded not be controlled. But you can control the factors already as of mentioned and thereby improve your risk.

Take the middle-aged man with three major risk factors against him, high cholesterol level in the blood, high blood pressive and excessive digarette smaking. His chances of incurring a heart attack are more than ten times greater than a man of the same age with no disadvantages

We old women have always gone about improving ourselves. We dutifully read eniquette books, and books of high moral tone, and books which will instill cutture into us. We never, of course, read, or approve of any thing into us. We never, of course, read, or approve of any timing which might hake our preconcivel notation can any sub-ject. Then we seek out our friends to discuss babies. We find it a bit disconcering that this new woman goes around finding things out because she finds the world an interesting place, without ever a thought of improving herself.

I like traditional wedding gowns, because I am romantically inclined. I bet that young girl will look real cute in her setin boots and mini skirt. There might be some things this age does better than other eges, and she may have found one of them.

Digby And Housing

No one can be blaimed for studying a, pr for delying critically into consequences of action steps to proceed are taken. Generally this is go mon sense. On the otherhand there are times quick anap lug/ment must be taken irrespective sequences for to hesitale might mean to lose.

ne, too much, the Digby to

We cannot blame, too much, the Digby fown coun-cillors for delaying a definite decision for two weeks on the matter of low-rental housing placed before them at the last town council meeting. Many of the councillors were new on the job, actually their first council meeting. Low-rental housing might have been a brand new subject to them. Now that they have had lime to think out the proposition ji this hoped they might come up with a posi-tive solution.

First of all they will have asked th First of all they will have asked themselves wheth-er bigby needs more housing units, The only conclusion would be the affirmative; A survey would show that few if any good apartments are vecant in town. Not every, body wants to live in town, to Ee sure, but in quick time we housing units would be filled with those who are presently living outside of lown by necessity father than, by choice. With talk of a new ferry, deep water facilities, industry, a home-gra-the-aged and other progressive ateps we should also expect more people to come to Digby to live. Some provision for adequate shelter should be consid-ered. ored.

I hours ered. y now Then there is the opportunity too good to be by-the pre passed. It might not last forever and it might be write to is com be in on the bandwagen. Here is a proposition where the will be capitel cost is shared by federal and provincial govern-te sort-ments and where maintenance cost as we understand, is is on also shared and recovered by rents. What is there to lose? Rather we should be thinking positively. What is there to gain?

would be a good hing for every man, woman and child in all Canada to feel secure from medical bills but the thing is not working that way. All the provinces are not nearing the scheme and what do we wan! or should we have, for Nova Scolia, Securital nor what so that the nearing the scheme and what do we wan! or should we have, for Nova Scolia, Securital nor what so fixed pro-vinces will be shering the load. Of course, there is a cer-tain share which will be borne by everytody in all the provinces whather advantage is taken of the scheme in any one province or not. If Nova Scolia descrit adopt medicare in we still pay towards those provinces which do but on the otherhand can Nova Scolia afford to adopt a medicare jos at this time? Our financial exports know more about that than the rest of us.

Some issues are not quite so clearly black and down white and the medicane decision at present, for Nova Sco-dren." It is one of them made all the more worse by Canada's insistance to put through the program before everybody was in agree

There are questions which arise. Should medicate, cover only those in the needy class? Should middle class and well-to-do persons (most of whom already have pri-vate medical insurance) be covered? Will the medical service quality decline because of trivial demands? Who would be in the needy class if only the needy were serv-ed? Would that be judged by the takehome pay or the size of family the pay envelope provide; for? Why not go all out to cover drugs which is often the most expen-sive part of illness?

Medicare if not abused could be good but it de-finitely isn't a simple issue as fay as Nove Scotia is con-cerned at the present time. Much study and consideration will still have to go into this scheme before a doction can be made. There might be those who would like to express their views on the issue.

Two Separate Projects

They are not to be confused. This special commit-tee from the Canadian House of Commons which comes to Digby on March 5 will be looking over existing whard and boat facilities for the presently existing ferry service from Sain John, N. B. to Digby. They will be studying fright rates at they affect the Digby area. It is the hope of the committees and the public in general of Western Nova Scotla that the persons in the Commons Committee will see the drastic needs in this area as the people who contend with them day in and day out see them. Up-dat-ed service should result in short time.

The above number one project should not be cor In the above number one project should not be con-taced with an interest in trying to convince other people and this committee too, if possible) that Digby has be ables the above all the potential for a Deep Weter Har bour form which super-thips can sail and dock with ease to accommodate considentization type of freight service. Virginia

Again, we try to clarify that these are two separ-ate projects, both worthy of study and consideration. The DigbySaint John service is number one on the program but the other is not an impossibility. If Digby has the best natural facilities, who can deny it?

Music is a science as well as an art and definite Music is a science as well as an art and definite requirements of time, rhythm, form, fore and harmony must be obtained. Only practice can really achieve these and only encoursement and proper attitudes can furnish the driving power for the practice. This is usually where parent and leacher can cooperate. There is need of both encouragement and technique. The parent and leacher can encourage and set the mood for the child so the learning music can be a happy privilege rather than a heavy reer possibility. That goes for the fictival time! To participate should be a privilege and not so much responsibility.

 Ausic is generally thought of as isyosabut, of cause there are the minor mode of semiinmanially and address which are directly opposite to the happy, merry major modes. Both have their place in an individuals tifte providing an outlet for relaxation from cares and penhap emotions. Music, then, is almost a necessity in this troubled and exacting world.

Let us not discount the value of music in fello Let us not discount the value of music in fellow-ship and brotherhood either. Here is a common bond whether white, black, red or yellow. Race and cred, and generally language is no barrier in appreciation of reelly good music. All become brothers and staters. "Speak and you are my fellowman

Education Week - Build Your School

We are now in the middle of Canadian Education Week (March 3 9). The theme is "Don't Quit - Choose!"

and the second states

all determinester

No metter what else we could write, about in Education Week we would fail our town if we didn't direct attention to the advertisement in this issue of The Digby Courier announcing a ratepayers meeting for March 21. This meeting is being called to obtain permis-sion by the town to borrow a sum of money not exceeding $105,000 for the sion by the town to borrow a sum-money not execteding $105000 for the purpose of building a school extension. Before we go any further we want to strongly emphasize that much of this $105,000 which the town needs to bor-row will be returned in grants of one form or another so that the cost to the town is really only in the wichiny of $57,000 plus carrying charges.

The theme of Education Week could not be more appropriate for Dig-by them it is at the present time. "Don't Quit — Choose" In order that the stu-dents don't quit but are able to choose the vocations which are basis fitted to their lives they must have something rhom which to choose. You as parents, you as relepayers, are the only people who can provide the facilities to make a choice possible. The students can choose but they cannot provide the fa-cilities which provide a choice oppor-unity, without the facilities to present tunity, Without the facilities to present an industrial arts course at school, there would not be an industrial arts course for the student to choose from and yet in the industrial arts might be his voca tion. The same is true of household science, chemical science, physical science, commercial courses or aca-demic, if you wish.

Built 1 Our SCHOOL Why do thuden's quit shool? Often becaus they are being aducated in a role to which they cannol adapt after physically, mentally or amotion-aity. They become bared or discouraged. The new comprehensive ichool program at which Digby is aiming helps students to find their proper niche, help right vo-cation. Töday's world demands more and more aducation no matter in what field it is pursued. Today's world has lit-e place for the quitter in education. The comprehensive school system is a means of keeping your child in school in the proper channel. for him or her.

Now, as a parent numeric for tim of her. Now, as a parent in Digby whet are you going to do about 17 Do you went, quiters? Or, would you rather provide the facilities, for nonquiters? Opportunity doesn't knock too often. If you want the bast for your child, see that you are at that ratepayers meeting on March 21 to you're your opinion. Lat us not have any triffing. Let us consider with which to keep up and the children of today are the ones who must be pre-pared to mein that Lig world. Surely, we can do our best to give our very own children a chance.

The cost? Of course there is a cost. But, there are two ways to count the cost. Can we afford the cost of not providing? Better consider building that school extension, and be ahead on the cost angle. Consider the students pre-selly at this school and, for goodness sake, let us abut-up about industry not coming to thous if we don't look ahead coming to town if we don't look ahead a little bit to make school provision for such an event. Why pray for rain and not carry an umbrella

What Industry Looks For

In keeping with the suggestion Of greater importance is the availability of labor in terms of both quality and quantity. Industry generally wants to be a good corporate citizen and vided to accommodate industry if we are so fortunate to obtain it and in direct relation to the town's anticipated low rental housing program we wanted to will pay competitive wages in return for relation to the town's anticipated low rental housing program we wanted to offer other suggestions, too, for attract-log indicity to a town. To do this we found a much better way to present the case than any words of ours could do. We reprint here a news released by 8. W. M. Manoga, vice president and general manager, industrial Estates Limited. a stable, conscientious and dependabl a statle, conscientious and dependable work force. Often they apply to local high school and vocational school gui-dance counsellors to obtain recommendations on recent graduates in the trades relevant to the manufacturing operation.

Since it is usually'not possible to have a pool of trained labor to meet this needs of all industry which may be st-tracted, facilities for training are desira-ble. Included among those are regular schools, vocational and trades training institutes as well as universities.

Industry needs to be assured of a continuing well-trained labor force to ensure future growth and community ef-forts in this direction will add to the at-tractiveness of its industry environment.

. It is the total industrial environ-ment of a community among others which industrialists take into account in the selection of new plant sites. The orus is thus on the community to, assess its assets in terms of what industry requires for a visble operation. Another major factor contributing to a desirable industrial environment is the calibre of civic government itself. Industry wants to be assured that it is Industry wants to be assured that it is dealing with people who understand its needs and problems. A civic administra-tion which is industry-oriented, realizing industry and prepared to make neces-sary concessions will give industry some of the assurance it needs. As a general rule, industry is not looking for handouts, but it is impressed by a civic administra-tion which shows, by tangible evidence, that it is axious to have industry in the commonity.

Some of the constituents of a good industrial environment should be given careful consideration. There is the avail-ability of industrial land with water, iúnity, One such form of tangible evi dence is a tax incentive to new industry. Taxes are an important part of cost in the early stages of an operation. They are a fixed item and if high can be cripsewer, power, access to road, rail and water transport if these are of importance to the industry. However, it should be noted that most communities can propling, Industry feels ma ine secure w vide land at competitive cost. It has it has a guarant eed tax rate for a period been estimated that there are nearly 20,000 communities competing for the one which will not be in with a change in civic administration, as the result of a reassessment or some other reason beyond its control industry that is developing or planning to move, land availability is not consid-ered a primery factor in the overall pic-ture.

Other factors, comprising the industrial environment, which directly affect the decision of industry to locate are the level of building costs, the ability of contractors to complete construction on time; the cost of services such as water and power, and their availability quantities required.

The presence of other successful industry in the community forms a part of this environment as well. The new inof this environment as well. The new in-dustrialist is interested if others have been able to locate operations in the community in a profitable manner and have been successful in obtaining the necessary labor and other requirements to make, a viable operation.

In addition to these factors frialics amenities of the community considered necessary to attract and relatin the kind of people it may be necessary to, re-cuit to operate a new venture. These include such things as recreation facili-face schools, shooping facilities. Itving accommodation, cuttural opportunities, service dubs shooping facilities. Itving accommodation, cuttural opportunities, service facilities and as on. These constitute not anyly a part of the total environment of the community but and are of parti-cular importance to the industrialist.

Finally the industrialist takes Finally the industrialist takes in-to consideration the attitude of the citi-zenry generally. The more (desirable and attractive the community is to people in general, the more it has to offer as a place to live and work, the more attrac-tive it will be to new industry."

The Mail Comes Through

We hear manify every day that shoppers cannot get this or cannot get that from local merchants. Many times this is true, but it came about over a per-iod of time when local residents picked up the bad habit of shopping out of town by mail. This cut the income buy-ing power of local businesses and they in turn, had to reduce their inventories to the liems that were in constant, de-mand.

Larger communities have a wid-er selection because they have built up a greater buying power with your dol-lars. Just having gone through Dol Ie Teys in Diply we are consideus of shopping at home and our ideas on the subject could not be better expressed than by the editorial in the Vernal Ex-tern (The Wallis editors even think press. alike.)

Why Shop At Home?

Have you ever stopped to consi-der, really consider, the importance of shopping and spending your dollars at home? Have you considered the econo-mics of the over-all effects to yourself, your community and your neighbors?

Do outside businesses come into your lown and support street improve-ments, parks, recreation, school activities, lighting projects, library and anything your care to mention? Local businessmen do.

Can these local businesses co tinue to support local projects If you do not support them? You know they can't.
