Freak Accident

A broken axle while the car was in motion sent Ricky Graham, 21, and Wilfred Patterson, 21, to Digby General Hospital.

Graham, owner and operator of a passenger car, received leg injuries and Patterson received several broken ribs when the rear axle of the car in which they were riding broke causing the car to leap into the air, turn over and land right-side-up again on the opposite side of the road. They were the only occupants of the car.

The accident occurred at Tiverton about 7:10 p.m. on Saturday, while the men were enroute home. There was no dealer in the area. RCMP investigated the accident.

Patterson is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. Patterson, of Freeport, and Graham resides with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Graham, Westport.

RADIO DECISION DELAYED

The Canadian Radio and Television Commission has reserved decision until a later date on an application by Annapolis Valley Radio to establish an AM Radio Station at Digby.

Managing Director Willard A. Bishop told the Commission's public hearing at Montserrat on Friday that the company's proposed improvements in broadcasting service would assist in making the Valley a clear-cut community.

He said a proposed 1,000 watt transmitter at Digby, transmitting at 1420 on the AM band, would be aimed at the Valley toward Annapolis Royal and Bridgewater. The Digby station would start off with a small studio facility. A second company proposal, he said, to swap frequencies between the existing stations at Middleton and Kentville would allow the Middleton station to increase its signal power up and down the Valley.

Nothing that almost any other radio station can improve the service to its area by an increase in power, he said. Annapolis Valley Radio requires the multi-station network to cover the Valley community of 70 to 80,000 population spread along a distance of 112 miles.

He said the company was making application for the Digby station after receiving requests for such an outlet from both the Digby Town Council and the Board of Trade last year.

He told the Commission that the public service aspect has been first and foremost with the company since the beginning of Annapolis Valley Radio 22 years ago.

The Executive Manager of the Valley Affiliated Board of Trade, J. Grant Mims, appeared in support of the application. Mr. Mims said he did not feel that Saint John stations or CBC Fredericton can give the service that the Digby area wishes and to which it is entitled. He cited instances of a water crisis, school closings during storms and other cases where such a local station could provide a service for the area that has not been obtained under the present setup.

Mr. Mims said he had been authorized by the Town of Digby to support Annapolis Valley Radio's application and also presented supporting letters from the Federation of Agriculture and the Canada Manpower Center.

"Under present coverage," Mr. Mims said, "inhabitants can tell you what the New Brunswick government has done today but not what their own government has done." He said that Annapolis Valley Radio can give them their own province's news.

The Commission did not indicate when a decision will be rendered on the application.

Radio Advertising Too Expensive

According to a brief presented to the Canadian Radio and Television Commission in support of the Evangelical Broadcasting Company to install a new radio station in Digby, Mr. Mims, executive director of the Annapolis Valley Board of Trade, said that the local Digby businessmen and storekeepers claim that to advertise over St. John radio stations is too expensive for the return they get. They would, he argued, use a local station for advertising. Mr. Mims, it is noted in the brief, also argued for the Saint John stations when he stated that these advertisers would not be lost to the Saint John stations but would be a good source of revenue to the Evangelical Broadcasting Company.

This area can tell you what the New Brunswick Government has done today but not what their own Provincial Government has done. They must wait for tomorrow's paper, and let's face it, we are not what their own Provincial Government has done. They must wait for tomorrow's paper, and let's face it, we are not what their own Provincial Government has done. They must wait for tomorrow's paper, and let's face it, we are not what their own Provincial Government has done.

Mr. Mims' brief on behalf of the Evangelical Broadcasting Company, stated that at least one and possibly two men would receive full-time employment by a radio station in Digby.

Senator in Hospital

Senator E. J. Theriault, of Digby, who was appointed to the Upper House last April, underwent a major long operation in the Ottawa General Hospital Tuesday. Members of his family reported last night that he had been "as successful as could be expected" but that he would remain in critical condition for at least the next week. Senator Theriault had been a patient in hospital at Digby undergoing treatment for several weeks during the past summer.

Floater Gets Honourable Mention

A float in the Nova Scotia Fisheries Exhibition in Lunenburg, which received honorable mention and was recognized as a float from Digby, was one designed and entered by Mrs. Helen Thurber. Mrs. Thurber's nautically decorated car was given an honorable mention and was classed by the judges as an entry from Digby.

Mrs. Norma Joy headed a committee to arrange for a float to be entered in the parade from Digby. Due to a series of setbacks and difficulties, the intended float failed to arrive in Lunenburg for the parade.

Recent Graduate

Miss Louise M. Comeau graduated recently at the Nova Scotia Hospital in Dartmouth. She was successful in her RN examinations and also won an award for efficiency on the wards during her training.

Louise is a graduate of the District High School and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Denis A. Comeau, formerly of Meteghan River, now residing in Digby. Miss Comeau is a niece of Miss Marie Dugas, a Digby school teacher.

Digby Area Scouters To Hold Emergency Session

An emergency session of the Digby District Council, Boy Scouts of Canada, will be held at the Digby Community Mental Health Centre Thursday evening, October 10th, if it has been announced.

The meeting has been called to deal with a critical situation in the Scout movement in the area. It is understood the situation has developed mainly due to removal from the area of a number of people who have served in leadership roles in the movement. The need to secure replacements and to revive local interest in scouting activities prior to the annual meeting, scheduled for later in the year, has resulted in the calling of the meeting for next Thursday evening. It is understood.

Four Become Canadian Citizens

Mrs. Maria Carolina Gaudet, Church Point, Mrs. Ella Kyllik Lombard, Mount Pleasant, Digby County; Cecil Raymond, Smith's Cove and Kenneth Clifford Wheeler, Tiverton, became Canadian citizens on Tuesday at a Citizenship Court held in Digby and presided over by Her Honor Judge E. Allie Ahern. Flanked on one side by Her Honor and the other by Constable Derrick Burkholder, RCMP, in full ceremonial dress and the Canadian flag as a background, each of the four pledged faithful and true allegiance to Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth the Second in an impressive and colorful ceremony. Prior to the opening, Bibles, given from the Canadian Bible Society, had been presented by Rev. R. H. Hughes and these were used for the oath.

Mrs. Gaudet, a native of Holland, came to Canada in 1952. Mrs. Lombard came from Finland in 1957. Both married after coming to Canada. Mr. Raymond came from the USA to take up full residence in Canada nine years ago but had been a frequent visitor in Smith's Cove where his wife, the former Miss Constance, had lived. Mr. Wheeler came to Upper Mansuet about twelve years ago and later, with his wife, moved to Tiverton, where they carry on a trailer park business. Mrs. Ahern stressed the importance of the new Canadians to have an abiding feeling for Canada. Quoting the former Prime Minister of Canada she said "Canada belongs to every Canadian and every Canadian belongs to Canada." ## TRAINING AVAILABLE FOR FISHERMEN

Nova Scotia fishermen are not taking advantage of the excellent training provided by the provincial department of fisheries, says Mr. J. J. Potter, Counsellor-in-Charge of the Canada Manpower Centre in Digby.

Starting dates for courses offered in mobile units operating out of the Pictou Fisheries Training School have been delayed until November because of the lack of applicants, he said.

Any fisherman interested in the courses taught in the mobile units — navigation, gas engines, diesel engines, nets and gears and hydraulic — should contact his nearest Canada Manpower Centre, Mr. Potter said. Applications will then be processed in a central office.

location and the schedules of mobile units will be set to accommodate as many fishermen as possible. The mobile units are expected to be on the road from November through to April.

The courses are three weeks long, and many of the trainees will be eligible for training allowances for this period under the federal Occupational Training for Adults Regulations.

CHRISTIES GET GOVERNOR-GENERAL MICHENER

When Governor General and Mrs. Roland Michener were escorted to jetty 5 — shore water after their arrival in Halifax on Monday, they were met and greeted by Digby's Cdr., Commodore William Christie and Mrs. Christie and Dase Captain J. H. Hayes and Mrs. Hayes. Commodore Christie and Mrs. Christie are natives of Digby, the former being a son of Mrs. Christie and the late Wilmet Christie, and the latter being the former Maxine Bailey, daughter of Mr.

and Mrs. George Bailey, Digby. The Micheners, who had arrived from their visit to St. John's and other Prince Edward Island points, were escorted by a 21-gun salute by the Canadian Forces Cosmopolitan aircraft at the Nova Scotia capital. They inspected a 100-man royal guard of honor from the fleet school and the CFB Halifax land before being escorted to the jetty where the Christies and Hayes greeted the party. They were later escorted to Government House, where Mr. and Mrs. Michener stayed during their visit to Nova Scotia.

Following functions on Wednesday and today, the vice-regal couple will leave Halifax tomorrow for Truro, Amherst and Moncton.

Deep Brook Girl Rose Queen

Miss Helen Kilminster, of St. Catharines, Ontario, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Kilminster, Deep Brook, was recently chosen 1968 Rose Queen by the St. Catharines Horticultural Society.

The twenty year old beauty is employed with the Employers Credit Union in St. Catharines. She received her early schooling at Bear River and graduated from Digby Regional High School and from Saint Patrick's Business School.

To the charge that there were no berries on the acreage plowed under, Mr. Jamerson said the field was loaded with berries. Mr. Ripley had found that Mr. Ripley had been misled on his statement of yield on the farm. The Acadia variety yielded 8,000 quarts of saleable berries per acre, which brought good prices on the U.S.A. market. He said there certainly was no failure at the Nova Scotia Horticultural Fair in yield and price obtained from the berries. He felt the farmers could have the same success if they had the "units" to try.

Mr. Ripley had referred to strawberry fields on the Digby farm which were not covered. This, Mr. Jamerson said, was also an experiment. They experimented with heavy straw cover, light cover and no cover at all, and they have found the answers.

To the charge that a group of horticulturists were advised before their visit not to ask too many embarrassing questions, Mr. Jamerson said that all questions from any and all people are invited and answered regardless of how foolish the question might be. If the farm doesn't know the answer they take time to find out the answer.

Mr. Ripley had stated that a ton acre plot of strawberries under good management but had been a frequent visitor in Smith's Cove where his wife, the former Miss Constance, had lived. Mr. Wheeler came to Upper Mansuet about twelve years ago and

Government Farm Has Strawberries In October

The Nova Scotia Horticultural Project in Digby will be picking strawberries today for shipment. As an experiment in a late strawberry crop, an acre was planted nine weeks ago. Ripe red strawberries, averaging more than five inches in circumference, will be shipped to the United States market. M. E. Jamerson, manager at the farm, expects 65 to 75 cents an American pound for tons for the acre for three years.

The manager said that it has now been proven that strawberries can be grown here late in the season, a fact which he had advocated for trial by farmers in the area for three years. He feels the farmers are missing an opportunity by not growing strawberries late.

Mr. Jamerson was asked about some of the charges made by Hulton Ripley against the Digby Farm. In answer to these, Mr. Jamerson explained that the farm has been very experimental. He experiments in growing commercially and selling commercially at the best markets available. While some Nova Scotia berries were selling in the neighborhood of 40 cents a quart here, the same day those on the American market were selling at 40 and 42 cents an American pint. It has been proven, he said, that to get top money for strawberries in Nova Scotia you must go to market in containers which look their best and as the public demands and with a number one quality berry.

Last year, Mr. Jamerson said, the Halifax and Sydney market prices were higher than ever before due to the number of berries sent to the U.S.A. If more of the crop is shipped to the U.S.A. next year the price here will be higher. Local markets are limited to the supply they can use. It is understandable, he said, that strawberry fields on the Digby you have only a certain number of thousands of people in the whole of Nova Scotia and the market can get flooded. The Hunts Point market in New York, opened eight months ago, supplies thirty million people.

To the charge that there were no berries on the acreage plowed under, Mr. Jamerson said the field was loaded with berries.

Mr. Ripley had found that Mr. Ripley had been misled on his statement of yield on the farm. The Acadia variety yielded 8,000 quarts of saleable berries per acre, which brought good prices on the U.S.A. market. ## $620.00 At Roll Call Service

The annual Roll Call Service, held in the United Baptist Church, Tuesday, on Sunday evening, featured guest speaker, Rev. Gordon Byrd, of Deep Brook, who also directed the visiting male choir from Smith's Cove.

During the evening David Outhouse, clerk, presided by Mrs. Outhouse, called the roll. Rev. W. M. Wilson, regular pastor for the United Baptist Church in the area, read the scriptures and Rev. Brian Raynor, minister for the Christian Churches in the area, offered prayer. Clifford Outhouse extended a vote of thanks to the visiting participants.

Following the service an inspirational sing-song was held and refreshments were served by members of the Sunshine Bible Class, of the Tiverton Church.

Money contributed to the church by interested members and friends amounted to six hundred and forty dollars. Treasurer of the church, Robert Buggles, said there were from 10 to 12 members now living outside the area who have not been heard from as yet.

CANADIAN CITIZENS

Prosperity and success of any nation, the judge said, is dependent on the individual person who makes a contribution and by newcomers merging their talents with native Canadians.

E. F. Munroe, clerk of the court, emphasized the importance of having children become citizens. Children, he said, do not automatically become citizens, but when a father has become a citizen he can make application for the minor children, those under 21, not born in Canada but residing in Canada. Neither does the wife automatically become a Canadian citizen but must make application after residing at least one year in the country.

An informal court followed the formal court when Rev. R. H. Hughes, on behalf of the Canadian Little Society and the Digby Ministerial Association, His Worship Mayor Glenwood Smith, Digby, Mrs. J. M. Wallis, on behalf of the Valley Presbyterian of the United Church Women of the area, and Rev. Brian Raynor, minister for the Christian Churches in the area, offered prayer. Clifford Outhouse extended a vote of thanks to the visiting participants.

Leave For California

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Robinson, Freddie and Mary, leave on Friday to spend the school year in California. They will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Graham, who will spend a couple of weeks visiting.

Witnesses To Meet In Bridgewater

Members of the Digby congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses will leave Friday to attend a three-day training session this weekend at the Davis Memorial Auditorium, Bridgewater, N. S., so announced Norman M. Cassey, president of the Digby congregation.

"Conventions such as this," Mr. Cassey said, "are nothing new to Jehovah's Witnesses. They are as much a part of our social and religious life as our local meetings; for it is through them that unity of thought and belief, so lacking in the world today, is achieved. Early Christians, who were charged with the responsibility of bearing witness concerning God's purposes, were eager to receive instruction that their message to the people might be a source of encouragement and hope. So we too, being an organization of ministers, are equally concerned with the training suggested, to be 'Sharing Fully in Preaching the Good News'.

We try to keep our message alive and informative and the instruction received at such gatherings equips us for the ministry that lies ahead.

A peak attendance of about 400 is expected on Sunday to hear the featured public talk, 'God's Way Is Love', by the speaker, William W. Taylor, District Supervisor for Jehovah's Witnesses in the Atlantic Provinces.

It's happened!

It's important to all Nova Scotians!

It's starting April 1st, 1969

it's MSI

NOVA SCOTIA MEDICAL SERVICES INSURANCE

MSI is your provincial plan of Medical Services Insurance (commonly called "medicare") designed to provide all Nova Scotians with comprehensive medical insurance for all necessary physiotherapy services. You will pay no premiums. MSI will be financed by taxes for this purpose.

MSI, established by your Nova Scotia Government, is similar to the more popular private medical insurance plans now in operation. It is not "state medicine." With MSI you will continue to have your choice of qualified physicians. MSI will simply pay your bills for medically required insured services. This means that after April 1, 1969 you would ordinarily have no need for any other insurance for physiotherapy services. But you may still wish to have private insurance for supplementary hospital or other extended health services. MSI provides an easy way to pay medical bills. When you have your MSI identification card, your doctor may submit his account directly to MSI for payment or provide you with sufficient information to enable you to file your own claim with MSI.

HIGHLIGHTS OF SERVICES COVERED BY MSI

Your doctor's services in his office, at the hospital or in your home. All necessary surgical services (including the services of surgical assistants and anesthetists) Complete obstetrical care, including pre-natal care, confinement - post-natal care and newborn care - or any complications of pregnancy such as miscarriage or cesarean section. All necessary diagnostic services except those available under the Hospital Insurance Act etc. Treatment of fractures and dislocations. All necessary referred specialist services including consultations.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE FOR MSI

Generally, everyone who has been registered to show that he or she is normally resident in Nova Scotia and has a residential history of at least 3 months can qualify. In effect, anyone who qualifies for Nova Scotia Hospital Insurance would qualify for Nova Scotia Medical Services Insurance. There are no limitations of insured services because of age or status of health. MSI does not require a qualifying medical examination.

IT IS QUICK AND EASY TO REGISTER FOR MSI

The only information you have to supply to register for MSI is simply your name, age, marital status, and residence. Dependents and Social Insurance Number - just enough information to assure that future claims can be approved and paid promptly. For your convenience, a special house-to-house registration program will be conducted in your area between November 1 and 16.

South Shore Presbyterian Entertains Valley Women

The South Shore Presbyterian of the United Church Women, United Church of Canada, entertained the Valley Presbyterian at their Rally held at the Christian Education Centre, Bridgewater, on Friday.

Guest speaker for the occasion was Mrs. Margaret Errey, Toronto, secretary to the Board of Women of the United Church of Canada. She referred to various seasons and times at which the Bible and song through history. She stressed times of opportunity and times of responsibility in the Christian's life.

Mrs. Errey, who attended the U.C.W. School and Conference at Charlottetown, P.E.I., earlier in the week, was introduced by Mrs. Carmen Pierce, Liverpool.

Highlight of the afternoon was a panel on Human Rights, under the chairmanship of Rev. Miss Frances McLaughlin, Waterville, Kings Co. Panelists were Mrs. Benton Walker, Mosheville, Harla Co.; Mrs. J. M. Wallis Digby, Mrs. Carmen Pierce and Mrs. Reginald Barker, Shelburne. Topics discussed were the history of the Declaration of Human Rights, the significance, the barriers and what the U.C.W. has done about Human Rights.

The meeting was presided over by the vice-president of the South Shore Presbyterian, Mrs. J. Payant, Liverpool. Mrs. Wallis, vice-president of the Valley Presbyterian, extended thanks for courtesies on behalf of the Valley organization.

Mrs. Pierce gave impressions of Berrick Camp and School for Ladies and conducted a Book Review.

Worship was conducted in the afternoon by Miss Ruby Peat, Brook Meadows, and Mrs. Milton Warwick, Brooklyn. The evening meeting was

Strawberry Growers Form Association

Ralston Ripley, of River Philip, was elected president of the Nova Scotia Strawberry Growers Association formed at a meeting held at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College, in Truro.

Other officers are as follows: secretary-treasurer, Allison Woodworth, of Norwood; directors, Hubert Warner, Digby; Kenneth Parker, Durham; Seymour Dickinson, West Brook, Cumberland County; and Eric Jennings, Mastown.

Mr. Ripley said the three main aims of the newly formed group are education of the growers in reference to production, marketing, with an emphasis on a quality product; and research into new and more hardy varieties of strawberries, to withstand the rigors of shipping long distances.

He said quality must be continually emphasized as a growing growers if they are to capture the U.S. market.

He said that only about 30 per cent of any growers' crop should be sent to the U.S. market in an average year, because of the high quality demand by that market. He said this is one reason why he has disagreed with Digby Project Farm, but unfortunately any one who now disagrees with the farm is labeled "political".

He said the farm management has ignored the good economics which any man growing for a profit must follow, and is concentrating on selling a product regardless of what it costs to grow and sell it.

He said the Digby farm has not provided any answers for Nova Scotia growers but rather has followed them. Mr. Ripley and more money should be spent on research for the strawberry industry, especially in developing a berry which will sell on a quality U.S. market. He said Nova Scotia growers have "not yet scratched the surface of this good market and won't until they start fact finding from a family farm set up and proceed to extend research there."

Let your liver bile relieve irregularity

It's a proven fact that a sufficient flow of liver bile will relieve irregularity. If you do this work! Bile acts as globules in the digestive tract often cause irregularity. The best way to break down these unwanted fat globules is with a sufficient flow of liver bile. And Carter's Little Liver Pills has proved... clinical proof that it improves liver bile flow by breaking down unwanted fat globules and unblocking the digestive tract. So whenever you feel sluggish, hazy-headed, nervous and need relief from irregularity get Carter's Little Liver Pills. 50c.

School Highlights

Weymouth Educators' Association Meeting in Halifax
The boys and girls of the Weymouth Consolidated High School enjoyed a two day trip last Friday. This day off from school gave the teachers and administrators the opportunity to attend the Atlantic Educational Showplace in Halifax.
Many of the teachers were in attendance. New ideas, materials and equipment were on display. A sense of what education may be like in the future was felt by the viewers.
William Spurr, supervisor, not only visited the Atlantic Showplace, but was fortunate in having been invited by the Minister of Education to attend the International Conference on Communications Media in Education.

Teachers Entertained

The Commissioners of the Village of Weymouth assisted by the Trustees of the Weymouth Consolidated School, entertained at the tea hour on Wednesday afternoon in Killam Hall in honor of the staff of the schools to that the new teachers may become acquainted. The tea table was decorated with late summer flowers and yellow tapers.
The chairman of the Commissioners, E. Adelaar spoke briefly and introduced the Commissioners and their wives. Dr. J. E. Comeau, S. C. Prime, and the clerk C. W. Muller and Mrs. Muller, and the school trustees, Mrs. John Shaw, Mrs. Malcolm Thomas Comeau and Rev. A. Peters.
The Supervisor, William Spurr, formerly of Kingston, read the names of the teaching staff of some 30 teachers most of whom were present. One of the new members on the staff this year are Vice Principal Robert Baldwin and Mrs. Baldwin, Ohio, U.S.A.; Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gabriel; Eduardo Fancello from Spain; Miss Ruth Speights, Mrs. Donna Bates; Miss Beryl Henderson, Mrs. Avis Munster and Mrs. Margaret Morriey.
Assisting at the tea were Mrs. F. Adelaar, Mrs. J. E. Comeau, Mrs. John Shaw and Mrs. Malcolm Muller.

Farewell Sermon

A large congregation assembled at the Baptist Church, Rosaway, on Sunday evening, September 15th, to hear the Rev. Max Spencer deliver his farewell sermon.

Mr. Spencer concluded an eight year pastorate on the field, of which Rosaway was one of four churches — the others being Centreville, Watford and Foxville.

It was with sad hearts his congregation bade Mr. Spencer farewell. His ministry had meant much to them spiritually.

Their well wishes and prayers go with him as he goes to his new pastorate — that of the New Canada field in Lunenburg Co.

Safety is no accident!

MacDonald, Weymouth Mills, were visitors Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gaudet.

Farewell Address

Rev. George B. Bell, Smith's Cove, who has served the North Range United Baptist Church for twenty-three months as interim pastor, gave his farewell address on Sunday evening, September 29th.

Following the worship hour an hour of fellowship was held in the church hall. After an old-fashioned hymn-sing was enjoyed, Rev. Bell was presented with an engraved tray by Mrs. Floyd McNeill on behalf of the congregation.

Little Janet McNeill presented Mrs. Bell with a bouquet.

Refreshments were served by the women's group.

Lie. Miss Myrtle Ingersoll will serve the churches of the St. Mary's Bay charge as regular pastor, beginning October 6th.

Miss Jane Seel has taken up studies at Mount St. Vincent college in Halifax.

"Coffee at Janes" Receives Award

Mrs. Janet Garthum, wife of Dr. D. G. Garthum, Stanley, N. B., was on Friday evening presented with the 1967-68 "best column newspaper award" sponsored by the Nova Scotia Weekly Newspapers Association. The award was presented at the annual dinner of the association held at the Hotel Nova Scotia, Halifax.

At right is seen J. K. H. Sutherland, new Glasgow, vice-president, who donated the plaque and made the presentation on behalf of the association to Mrs. Garthum. Mrs. Garthum is a daughter of Mrs. Edith M. Wallis, editor and publisher of The Digby Courier, in which the "Coffee at Janes" column regularly appears. In making the presentation, Mr. Sutherland drew attention to the fact that Mrs. Garthum is the fourth generation to be interested in newspapers. Her father, the late James MacNaughton Provo Wallis, was associated with her grandfather, the late James John Wallis, on The Digby Courier. Her great grandfather, James Wallis, who came to Canada from England, was for a time editor of The Yarmouth Times.

Judge for the 1967-68 award was Brooks Hamilton, Professor of Journalism at the University of Maine.

Friday's dinner was presided over by Roy V. Mallman, Bridgetown, president, who introduced Hon. Victor de la Oland, Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia, as guest speaker. Speaking highly of the position of newspapers, the Lieutenant Governor said they are the conscience of the community and serve their own best interest by serving the best interest of the community and country.

Mr. Oland felt the weeklies might have a Nova Scotia wide column of bits of interest about things in Nova Scotia. The weeklies, for example, he mentioned as being extremely important to the farmers of Nova Scotia. The newspapers which are also important to the farmers, he said, could assist in its use. In transportation, tourism and other factors of importance to the economy of Nova Scotia, the Lieutenant Governor said newspapers play a part.

Federal, provincial and municipal governments, Mr. Oland said, can only do so much. Unless they have assistance of management, labor, the news media and the people, they can do only half the job.

Prior to the dinner the members of the Nova Scotia Weekly Newspapers Association and their guests were entertained by the Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Oland at a reception at Government House.

At a luncheon on Saturday sponsored by Bowaters, guest speaker was Mrs. E. Alie Ahern, Citizenship Court Judge in Nova Scotia. She was introduced by Mrs. Edith Wallis, Digby, and thanked by John Murphy, Treasurer of N.S.W.N.A.

Generally, Judge Ahern said, new people like Canadians but could stand a bit more friendliness from the Canadian people. There are three general classes of new citizens to Canada. There are the professional people who usually have a clear understanding of what to expect here and by being able to speak English do not have a language barrier. There are those who come here because friends or relatives are in the country and are helped over the language barrier by these friends and relatives. Others come here on their own, said Mrs. Ahern, and have language and communication problems difficult to overcome. They are willing to work hard to overcome these problems and become well established in the country.

On Friday noon the weekly newspaper editors and publishers were guests of the Department of Trade and Industry. Other hosts were Barber Killis of Canada, Maritime Photo Engravers, CNR and Imperial Oil.

Business sessions concluded on Saturday when Mr. Mallman was re-elected president. Other officers are: J. Alex Inglis, Liverpool, vice-president; J. M. Murphy, Truro, secretary-treasurer; Glenn Marchant, Oxford; Jack Alton, Springhill; Murray Beaman, Berwick; and Robert Rafuse, Bridgewater, were named directors of the association.

Named honorary members were Cecil Day, Liverpool; Thomas Beattie, Bridgetown, and W. B. Davidson, Wolfville. Frank Burns, Kentville, is an honorary member.

A new weekly, the Port Hawkesbury Sun, was admitted to the Association.

The Canadian Weekly Newspapers Association was represented at the meeting by Gerald Craven, of Bridgetown, Ont. Extensive plans for the C.W.N.A. Golden Jubilee to be celebrated in Halifax in 1969 were made. Cecil Day is chairman of the committee in charge of arrangements.

125 GALLONS PER MINUTE GOOD, CLEAR, SOFT WATER

A second well drilled near the chlorinator plant in Digby when an emergency was declared following the shortage of water from the regular supply at Lily Lake due to the dry summer. The first well was perched near the town reservoir to a depth of 350 feet and produced 110 gal. per minute. The drillers struck sand which presented delay and difficulties so the second well was started immediately. The first well has been encased in concrete which requires 48 hours to set. No official reports are available on the condition of water from the first well.

While the wells were being drilled pumps were used at Lily Lake to facilitate a flow of water to the town mains. Conservation of water was requested and supplies were being obtained by individual consumers from Donald Am-ly.

The Digby General Hospital, in order to conserve water, had "washing done at CFB Cornwallis" under arrangement with the Hospital Commission) and drinking water was brought in. Pumps were removed from Lily Lake on Monday following the rain which raised the lake by three to four inches. Cost to drill the first well was "approximately 2500 dollars of which Digby pays fifty percent. The second well under the same arrangement has a gross cost of approximately $200 with fifty per cent paid by the Department of Municipal Affairs. Flushing expenses are also to be added but it was noted that with the drilled wells much expense for chlorination would be relieved. Lily Lake will continue to be used, however.

REQUEST FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE

A letter will be sent from the Town of Digby to the Atlantic Development Board requesting financial assistance in supplying adequate and good water to the industrial users within the town.

C. D. Snow, lobster dealer, appeared before council on Monday night on behalf of ten industries in town which had signed a petition. One was the Digby Dairy but most were fish plants. Mr. Snow, as mayor of Digby, recalled the year 1952 when the Digby water was so polluted that fish plants could not use it. An instance of that nature at another time could cause a severe blow to the town he said. It was noted that during the summer the water supply in Digby has been short and from time to time polluted.

The Digby Water Commission had at a recent meeting endorsed the proposal from the industries and Councillor E. Y. Porter in passing the motion for immediate action said the industrial people of the town could not be expected to put up with such conditions much longer. Copies of the letter to A.D.B. will go to all the industries and government agencies concerned.

CONSIDER SITES FOR NEW TOWN HALL

Two properties have been under consideration for a new town hall. It was learned at a regular meeting of the Digby Town Council on Monday evening that the town hall is being considered for a site on the corner of the Digby Motor property which in some ways would make a suitable town hall where equipment could be stored. Considerable expenditure would be incurred to establish a council chamber he said, and this would be accomplished by re-novating an upstairs room to the building. The second property under consideration is the D.A.R.

station. Discussions with the superintendent D.A.R. have been held and agreements on deeds and agreements is being made. Lots are available for building a completely new town hall it was understood, but the expense of doing so creates a problem.

REVIEW TOWN TAXI RESOLUTION

A notice of motion was given at the Digby Town Council on Monday night that the resolution of the town council dealing with the number of taxis operating in Digby will be reviewed for the purpose of allowing any number of taxis to operate. Complaints were laid before council that no taxis were on the stand at a recent night train arrival and that a taxi phone had been ringing at the time with no one to answer it. The suggestion was made that the taxi business be opened up to the people who want to work and that the number of taxis be unlimited in town. The town resolution limits the number of taxi operations to twelve.

SCHOOL CONSTRUCTION IN NOVEMBER

It is expected that construction for the new Regional High School addition will get underway in November. Councillor Fred Amaro, who is the town's representative on the school board, informed council on Monday that tenders to be placed October 9 would be opened on October 31 and construction get started immediately. Excavations should be done before frost set in, he said, and the steel work and roof should be completed before Christmas.

It was reported by the streets committee that the new school will have entrance on the West St. side necessitating the opening of that portion of West Street. This will have to be done before frost occurs also.

The school is operating presently in four temporary classrooms so that all students are presently being accommodated on a full time basis. Expense of transportation and other reasons made staggering of classes impossible, Mr. Amaro said.

Despite the fact that 85 students are accommodated at Smith's Cove this year, the enrolment of the lower grades remains the same as previous and the Regional High has a small and steady increase in enrolment. Thirty-five students are attending the Annapolis Regional Vocational High School in Middleton.

RECENT MARRIAGE

40 Questionnaires On Low Rental Housing

Miss Donna Hill

RECENT GRADUATE
Miss Donna Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Hill, South Range, was successful in passing her R.N.'s at the Victoria General Hospital in Halifax.

Graduation exercises took place on September 8. She joined the staff of the V. G. Hospital, specialising in Cardiac Intensive care at the present time.

The low rental housing project plans are progressing in Digby according to His Worship Mayor Glenison Smith who reported at Town Council on Monday that forty questionnaires had been submitted to the town. The Housing Commission, he said, appeared to be satisfied with the number but questionnaires would continue to be accepted. A survey has been completed in the area and plans are proceeding through regular channels. It is expected a meeting between federal, provincial and town parties will be held shortly. The federal task force regarding housing is to be held in Halifax on November 25.

Outstanding Athlete

Paul Theriault, of Digby, was named outstanding male track and field athlete in the province of Nova Scotia. An award was presented at the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia branch, Annapolis Valley, at Canada, held last week in Halifax.

Since the federal department has ceased to conduct winter works programs which were used by the town, the streets committee was asked to look into the possibility of using the provincial program if it could be fitted into their program plans. Discussion arose on the feasibility of repairing the town trucks, making purchases or leasing the trucks for town purposes since it has been found that both trucks are in need of repairs. Digby Town went on record on Monday night to enter the incorporation of the Annapolis Basin Industrial Development Commission which will be made up of the towns of Digby and Annapolis Royal, the counties of Digby and Annapolis and the municipalities of Digby and Annapolis.

Discuss Beach And Park Improvements

Reidar Bersten told the Digby Board of Trade, Tuesday, that he had met with industrialists and government officials concerning industrial development in the Digby area. It was his opinion that Digby could become the most economically situated shipping point in Nova Scotia if adequate facilities were installed. Mr. Bersten said here to meet the demands. He suggested the government should build a gigantic warehouse here, including refrigeration, capable of handling anything the Annapolis Valley and South Shore might ship. With a larger and faster ship crossing the Bay of Fundy this dream could become a reality. Mr. Bersten said person with whom he talked appeared in favor of the idea, he said. The Digby Board was meeting at its October session. President Elmer L. Sangster was in the chair. C. D. Snow strongly urged a good representation from Digby at the Industrial Seminar. (Please turn to page 6) period and $625 for other electrical service from the Digby County Power Board. A request for a donation to the Provincial Red Cross building fund was tabled for further information. (Please turn to page 6)

NEW DOCTOR IN TOWN

A new eye, ear, nose and throat specialist has come to Digby. Dr. A. Samad, native of Libya, his wife and four children are presently at the Kingsfisher Motel. Dr. Samad received his education in London, England.

DGBY NATIVE AWARDED YUGOSLAV DECORATION

William (Bill) Morris Jones, son of the late Frank Jones, E.C. and Margaret Stanley (nee Douglas, of Stanley, N.B.), Digby, was this week awarded one of Yugoslavia's highest decorations, "Medal of Yugoslav Flag with Golden Wreath" for significant contribution to liberation struggle of the people of Yugoslavia in the second world war.

Major Jones was informed of the award by the Embassy of The Socialist Federal Republic of Yugoslavia in Ottawa in August. In September he received the following letter:

Zagreb,
September 9th, 1968.
Predsjednik Sabora, Majors William Jones, Toronto.

Dear Sir,
This year is the twenty-fifth anniversary of the foundation of the Croatian Anti-Fascist Council of National Liberation ZAVNOH. The date is an important landmark in the history of our people and will be commemorated at a special session of the Croatian Parliament on October 15th, 1968.

On this occasion we remember the events and the struggle for freedom and democracy. We shall always remember that you were at the head of the first allied military mission with the Yugoslav People's Liberation Army, which arrived in this country on April 22nd, 1945, and that you personally attended the first meeting of our ZAVNOH.

It is with a feeling of deep gratitude that we cherish the memory of your stay with us and of the work that you did performed as a sincere friend of our people and a supporter of their armed struggle for national independence.

We know also that you have remained our friend until the present day and that you are continuing to develop friendship between our two peoples.

It is my great pleasure therefore to invite you to come to this country as our guest for the ZAVNOH anniversary celebrations, which will also give you an opportunity to refresh your wartime memories and to see again people and places that you remember from that time.

I would also like to use this opportunity to congratulate you most warmly on the high order conferred upon you by our President, Josip Broz Tito, in recognition of your services. Hoping that we shall soon be able to welcome you among us again, I remain,

Yours faithfully,
(signed) Josip Broz Tito
Sabor, Socialističke

Major Jones, now lives on the Belgrade Farm in Westport, Ont., grew up in New Brunswick with a very early determination to be a medical missionary and spend his life in Africa. War determined otherwise. He enlisted in August, 1914, proceeded to Valcartier Camp, Quebec, and overseas to England with the 12th North Scotia Regiment under Colonel Struan Robertson in September of that year.

He was trained in the most of the British Empire, then to Tidworth Barracks, Salisbury, England, and drafted with others to the 12th Canadian Battalion, Royal Highlanders of Canada, better known as the "Black Watch", under Col. F. O. W. Loomis, at Ypres.

He arrived only in time to see the gas.

Feubert, Guesch, Clough followed, then on to Clough (Plag-Street) and was awarded the "M.C." in a mining operation. In the 13th of June 1916 battle for the Somme Ridge he was seriously wounded and landed in England, returning to France in time for the latter part of the fight for Vimy Ridge, April 1917. Wounded (loss of eye) in battle near Lens, awarded bar to "P.C.M." and commissioned in the field. In 1918, he then proceeded to the Officer's Training Course at Beetham, under Col. Critchley of Calgary, and returned to France to Canadian Corps Headquarters at Somme in Aug. 1918. Was appointed Assistant Town Commissioner of D.A.A. and Q.M.G., Calvo, and as soon as it was captured, Moss, under Capt. C. M. G. of Quebec, Nov. 1918. He then proceeded to the Rhine (Rath Heimer) with his old Regiment, 13th Can. Bn. He returned to Canada Jan. 1919.

Jones spent several months in the Mission Field at Neil's Harbour, Cape Breton Island, and entered Dalhousie University, Halifax, in Sept. 1919, as a member of Class 23 Arts and Science - still determined to be a medical missionary in Africa. He led the so-called "Strike" of the students in 1921, which resulted in the faculty refusing the traditional student's right of 10% absence from class. For economic reasons he was obliged to leave the university and seek employment. He worked at Price Bros. Ltd. (paper makers) at Kenogami, P. Q. There he organized the first Boy Scouts, Girl Guides and Wolf Cub units north of Quebec City and engaged in military Community Service. He returned to study at Toronto University in 1926 but in 27 was finally obliged to discontinue his course. He entered real estate in the City of Toronto and through the efforts of the depression maintained his own firm "Jones Realty Service", 21 King St. E., Industrial and Business Real Estate. It was during this period in 1935 that he married Helen Lillian Scott, of Hamilton, a student of Medicine at Toronto University. His married life, he considers, to have been his greatest experience of all. He entered marriage with the understanding that he believed another war was inevitable, as the moral forces of the world were not in equilibrium, and it should come soon he must certainly return to battle.

When war came in '39 he visited Ottawa twice, seeking to overcome the barrier of "one-eyed men needed". The third time he encountered Col. Ralston, Minister of Militia through the kind assistance of his old friend, Gen. Sir Richard Turner. After an hour's narrative Col. Ralston said, "You are best wanted to become a fighter pilot. I damn well wouldn't fly with you" - "and I damn well wouldn't let you, Sir" was the reply. With that the Minister reached for the telephone, called the Chief of Medical Services and asked for the training concerning one-eyed men. "Listen", the Colonel said, "the receiver still to his ear, 'the Chief of the Medical Services says the Medical Association has recommended closing the door to all one-eyed men as they thought, to enlist them, would be an unfair risk to harness on the Public Treasury'."

That was enough. There was no hope of serving. With a fellow Canadian so Jones proceeded to Montreal and headed for England. He signed on with a merchant on the Glasgow, the S.S. Darrochia, skipper Capt. Anderson, taking the place of a seaman who was drowned in the St. Lawrence river the day before. Landed at Barry Docks, Wales, proceeded to Adm. Hqs., Air Force Headquarters, London, was medically boarded, interviewed and requested to stand by until summoned. The Battle of Britain was at its height, and Jones helped to recondition the Cooper, Denham and Walkden plant, Verney Rd., London S.E. until he was called up and posted to the 1st Training Wing, Torquay, Feb. 24, 1941, under Air Commander Critchley, who set him to work immediately in charge of fifty observer trains.

After two months, the observer training, Jones was posted to the Middle East and arrived in Cairo in Sept. '41. Served on Cyprus for six months as Ground Defence Officer for the Air Force. Developed rifle defence tactics effectively. Was sent to the Western Desert to do the same for 205 Group under Air Commander Gayford, where he served during 1942. Because of his ground defence scheme for the area in the vicinity of Kilometer 40, on the Tiahi Road, west of Alexandria, the Army Council at Cairo invited him to transfer from the Air Force to the Army.

In the process of being transferred, Col. Kinnmont, D.A.A. and Q.M.G., Calvo, asked Jones if he would parachute. His answer came readily. After two months of parachute commando training, Feb-Mar. 1943, at Hilda and Itanah - David near Jerusalem, Palestine, Jones returned to Cairo. Asked if he would parachute to Yugoslavia his reply was "Why not, as well there as anywhere". He knew nothing about Yugoslavia any more than its location on the map and that it became a federated state under King Alexander by the Versailles Treaty of 1919.

He was informed that a resistance movement was operating in Yugoslavia against the occupier, Germans and Italians, that little was known about the movement and that the Allied Command in the Mediterranean wished to make contact with it. "It is a people's movement", Jones asked "We believe it is" was the reply, "but we know very little about it - only what we have been able to learn from our escaped prisoners who have returned to us via Yugoslavia and report that they were guided, protected and fed by members of a resistance movement called the 'Partisans'. Jones was given a quantity of such reports to look over.

The D.A.A. & Q.M.G., Col. Kinnmont, explained to Jones that it was quite unusual for one to transfer from the Air Force to the Army and that it would be necessary for him to be discharged from the Air Force and to be re-enlisted in the Army as a 2nd Lieutenant. He would be promoted to the rank of Major - "the rank to be confirmed immediately, as quickly as the successive stages can be published in Army orders". Jones requested to wear the uniform of his old regiment of the 1st World War, the Black Watch. "Well", said Col. Kinnmont, "I believe Maj. Gen. Rommie of the Black Watch, Rommie of the present time, I suggest we have lunch together". Gen. Rommie promptly consented that Jones be taken on the strength of the Black Watch Regiment at Perth, Scotland and wear the "Red Hackle". "But mind", smiled Gen. Rommie, "you are a member of the Imperial Black Watch this time and not the Canadian".

Jones was then posted to M.O.A. (Military Operation No. 4), a military wing of the Foreign Office (quite healthy bulk). He was subsequently appointed "Head of the First Allied Military Mission to the Partisans of Yugoslavia" with the confirmed rank of Major. He was duly briefed and ordered May 10th, 1943, to stand by until the moon was favourable for parachuting. He was accompanied by Capt. A. Hamer of the British Army, who was to be his assistant.

On the full moon period in April, 1943, Serg. Alexander Simich, a Sgt. Yugoslav, training in wireless operation, Serg. Paul Pavlovich, a Canadian Yugoslav of Toronto, and Sgt. Peter Endelger, also of Toronto, were asked to parachute to their homeland. They naturally selected an area familiar to them near their former homes. All three landed in Yugoslavia safely and their mission was regularly received. (To these men the greatest credit is due. They were the real heroes. They were dropped "blind"). They arranged for the reception of Jones and Hunter on May 19th at I. S. S. - Arvanika Palje in the heart of Croatia.

Jones spent a year in Yugoslavia moving about Croatia, and Slovenia and into to Tito's headquarters at Darvar, Bosnia. He returned to Italy by airplane in June, 1944.

His reports concerning the unity of the Yugoslav people and their effective resistance against the occupiers (forcing the Italians and Germans to maintain some twenty divisions in constant defence) their unselfish devotion to the cause of freedom, their will to fight, their courage and stamina to endure and their ability to organize effectively, undoubtedly influenced Prime Minister Churchill to change his policy in favour of support to the Partisans and recognition of the National Liberation Front and its executive council (Avn) as the Authority and Sovereignty of Yugoslavia by the British Government.

While Jones was in Yugoslavia the Germans were engaged enough to refer to him frequently over their broadcasting system as "a British General in disguise" and to publish his name in their "White Book" of those to be liquidated. He was informed, however, that Jones' identity in the early summer of 1944, in British official circles that had access to his reports Jones was frequently referred to as the "Lawrence of Yugoslavia".

In June 1944 Jones arrived in Bari and was flown to Gen. Wilson's Headquarters, Algiers, to make his report. He was greeted by Gen. Wilson with a handshake and who said "I congratulate you, Jones, on having done a damn good job and a damn hard one. Now what do you want to do? But before that we must have a full report on your experiences in Yugoslavia." For publication, Sir asked Jones. "Yes, by all means", replied the General, "the British Public must be brought up to date". "It will not be possible to mention place names or names of individuals or to divulge Partisan strategy", said Jones. "I will return to Bari where the records are and do the best you can". By the end of June, 1944, Jones had completed his report which was published a year or so later: "12 months with Tito's Partisans". Major W. M. Jones.

(The full story of Jones' experience in Yugoslavia cannot be told until the "Veil" of sworn secrecy is removed or expires in 1973).

Jones returned to England in July, 1944, and was soon in great demand as a lecturer.

He gave 107 lectures all over the British Isles to all kinds of groups and organizations. He was referred to there as the "One man campaign".

Major Jones has two sisters, Mrs. Helen Anthony, Digby, and Mrs. Louise Stephen, New York. His brothers are Cecil, Justin Bridge, Digby Co., and Douglas, in Edmonton, Alberta.

Buy into Canada.

There are probably as many good reasons for buying Canada Savings Bonds as there are Canadians. There are hopes, plans and ambitions you have for yourself and your family. There is the desire, which all of us share, to play a part in building the future of our country. The simple, safe, profitable way to help realize these goals is to buy Canada Savings Bonds.

They offer an excellent return. The average yield to maturity is 6.75% a year. There are fourteen annual interest coupons which begin at 5.75% and rise to 7.00% for each of the last nine years. These can be cashed each year as they become due. Better still, if you choose to keep these coupons uncashed, you can earn interest on your interest. Take full advantage of this option and, when your Bonds mature, your total interest earnings plus your original investment will amount to $250 for each $100 invested.

They are available to everyone. Canada Savings Bonds are available to every Canadian resident in amounts from $50 up to $50,000, for cash or on instalments, wherever you work, bank or invest. Adults, children, businesses and institutions - all may buy them.

They are instant cash. You can cash them any time at any bank in Canada at their full face value plus earned interest.

Few investments are so profitable. None builds more surely for the future. Buy into Canada today. Buy Canada Savings Bonds. It pays.

Doucet Leads Meeting On Employment

In various centres in the Municipality of Clare, a series of meetings is being held to investigate ways and means of bringing more employment to the locality.

The first meeting was held in Salmon River school under the leadership of Jean Doucet, regional director of adult education, assisted by Rev. Father LeBlanc and Rev. Father Corriveau of St. Anne's College. There were 25 citizens in attendance.

Suggestions brought forth were combining forces by means of co-operatives or companies, concentrating industries in a central area, rather than having them scattered; getting assistance and advice from the board of trade, from various organizations and industrialists; investigating possibilities of local investment that could be used.

The question of minimum wages was stated to be $1.95 per hour, compared to $1.50 in most regions of Nova Scotia, while the cost of living remains the same. One man earning $400 per week proved by illustrating his case on the blackboard, that it was impossible to maintain a home and family of three children on such low wages.

Possible industries suggested for the region were: books, paper box factory, brooms, clothes pins, battery cannery, fish freezing plant, pulp mill, cotton, glass products, plastics, hot houses, garden produce, and more publicity for the tourist industry.

It was also suggested that with centrally located industries there would be an advantage in having a central office building.

In a survey made at the high school some time ago, the students indicated their preference to remain in the locality if employment were available. Adults would stay if they could, as was proven during wartime when about 600 persons were employed at Metcalf Shipyard.

In closing the meeting, Mr. Doucet stated that all groups of Clare and Digby County would meet again in the middle of October to concentrate ideas and plan future action.

Letters to the Editor

Sept. 22, 1968
Editor, The Digby Courier,
Digby, N.S.

Dear Editor,
I would like to subscribe to the Courier which I enjoyed so much 35 years ago, now that I have returned to beautiful Weymouth, where I am making my permanent home.
Harry Marshall, Frank Anderson and myself were the original charter members of the Digby County Power Board and it pleases me beyond words to see the wonderful progress since those days in 1927 particularly since the Nova Scotia Power Commission has taken over and added so much to our vital resources which should under proper exploitation and attraction draw industry to our county.

Thanking you,
Very sincerely,
Lloyd Hailburton Potter
P.S. One of my contributions years ago was "The gateway of 32".

Dear Mr. Editor,
A year ago, through the good graces of your "letters to the editor" I had replied that enabled me to trace relatives of William Burton Taylor and his wife Anna Richardson. This was made possible through the Allied families of the Chute genealogy published in 1904. William Burton, grandfather James, according to the Chute book is reported to have descended from Rev. Edward Taylor of Westfield, Mass. I have checked this out very carefully and found an error and am wondering if there are any Taylor folks in the Digby-Annapolis counties that have accurate tracings for me. James Taylor, who is reported to have been born in Westfield, Mass., Aug. 18, 1750, settled in Granville in time of the Revolution married Becca Smith, and the children in the family were Amy, James, Stephen, Becca, Betsy, Bennett, Ingram and William (father of William Burton). I noted that Mr. Chute had acknowledged material for his book from Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor the Centenarian, who was wife of James Taylor Jr. who died in Cornwallis in 1888. I, too, had the privilege to have been one of my great grandmothers also a Centenarian - Anna Richardson Taylor, but as a sixteen year old boy I never thought to ask her these questions which she could have readily answered. She was born in Port Medway in 1857 and loved to tell the many stories of Oak Island treasure to McAskill of Cape Breton. [These 17 crows. Can any one and anything to my curiosity?

Yours truly,

Fire Prevention Week October 6 To 12

Over the past ten years there has been a 25 per cent reduction in the numbers of annual fires in Canada. The comparison is some 80,000 fires in 1958 and 65,000 in 1967. Moreover, as President Johnson said in signing March 1, 1968, the U.S. Fire Research and Safety Act, "Our per capita death rate is twice that of Canada." The President's statement was dramatic and true. Canada has some 600 annual fire deaths for a population of 20,000,000 compared to some 12,000 in the U.S. with a population of 200,000,000.

2nd PEGREE BURNS
Mrs. Roger Johnson, Mount Pleasant, suffered second degree burns to her entire right arm, October 2, when a pan of parol wax over-heated and broke into flames. Mrs. Johnson was in the process of preparing pickles.

NOVA SCOTIA MEDICAL SERVICES INSURANCE

MSI is the provincial plan of Medical Services Insurance (commonly called "medicare") designed to provide all Nova Scotians with comprehensive medical insurance for all necessary physician services. You will pay no premiums. MSI will be financed by taxes for this purpose.

MSI, established by your Nova Scotia Government, is similar to the more popular private medical insurance plans now in operation. It is not "state medicine." With MSI you will continue to have your free choice of qualified physicians. MSI will simply pay your bills for medically required insured services. This means that after April 1, 1969 you would ordinarily have no need for any other insurance for physician services. But you may still wish to have private insurance for supplementary hospital or other extended health services. MSI provides an easy way to pay medical bills. When you have your MSI identification card, your doctor may submit his account directly to MSI for payment or provide you with sufficient information to enable you to file your own claim with MSI.

HIGHLIGHTS OF SERVICES COVERED BY MSI
Your doctor's services in his office, at the hospital or in your home
All necessary surgical services (including the services of surgical assistants and anaesthetists) Complete dental care, including — pre-natal care — confinement — post-natal care and newborn care — or any complications of pregnancy such as miscarriage or caesarean section
All necessary diagnostic services except those available under the Hospital Insurance Act etc. C. Treatment of fractures and dislocations
All necessary referred specialist services including consultations.

WHO IS ELIGIBLE FOR MSI
Generally, everyone who has been registered to show that he or she is normally resident in Nova Scotia and has been a resident for at least 3 months can qualify, in effect, anyone who qualifies for Nova Scotia Hospital Insurance would qualify for Nova Scotia Medical Services Insurance. There are no limitations of insured services because of age or status of life. MSI does not require a qualifying medical examination.

IT IS QUICK AND EASY TO REGISTER FOR MSI
The only information to register for MSI is simply your name, age, marital status, length of residence, dependents and Social Insurance Number — just enough information to ensure that future claims can be approved and paid promptly. For your convenience, a special house-to-house registration program will be conducted in your area between November 1 and 16.

Premier Announces New Ferry Agreement

Premier G. I. Smith announced in Yarmouth Tuesday that the province has entered into an agreement with Lina Ferry, of Sweden to operate a ferry service between the port of Yarmouth and a part of the eastern seaboard of the United States commencing not later than June 1, 1970. Subject to the company making satisfactory arrangements with the United States interests.

The agreement was signed in England today by the Hon. Thomas J. McKeough, Minister of Trade and Industry on behalf of the province. The ferry will have a passenger capacity of approximately 1000 and automobile capacity of approximately 200 vehicles and will be able to carry 30 to 40 trailers. In addition the ferry will have passenger berths, dining room and cafeteria facilities.

Lina ferry will guarantee the operation of the service for 350 days each year over a period of five years. The province has guaranteed a subsidy to the company representing the difference between the annual gross revenue of the company and $2,500,000 provided that the guarantee of the province will not exceed $400,000 in any one year or a total of $1,000,000 during the five year period of operation. These had been considered to be a fire hazard and had been drawn to the attention of the fire marshal.

D. R. H. S. News & Views

by DIANNE COTTEAU

On Friday, Oct. 4, Congress met at Bridgetown. The meeting opened with a speech from Mr. Walker. The various groups then moved to their separate rooms for their discussions. The groups adjourned for supper at 6. During the supper Mr. Chappell gave a speech and this was followed by a general assembly during which each group gave its report.

On Saturday the Bridgetown teams came to Digby to play soccer. The girls gave Bridgetown four goals in the first half but prevented the team from getting a goal in the second half leaving the score 4-0 for Bridgetown.

The boys played a hard game against the Bridgetown boys. The final score was 2-0 for Bridgetown. Paul Theriault a student at D.R.H.S. was named "boy athlete" of Nova Scotia. This was announced in the Halifax press last week. We are proud of Paul and wish him luck in the future.

The girls team will play in Bridgetown on Saturday. Results will be given next week.

To Attend Institute

Town Clerk, Jack Whalley and Deputy Town Clerk, Robert Theriault were given permission on Monday night by Town Council to attend a Department of Municipal Affairs Institute to be held at the Hotel Nova Scotia on October 23, 24, and 25.

Mayor Glendon Smith in presenting the item of business mentioned the many services available to increase knowledge on town matters and subjects of benefit to the town. Times are changing, he remarked, and it is necessary to keep up with the times. We can't sit in Digby and let things pass us by, he continued, as we are urged to take advantage of these opportunities of educational value which can mean progress for the town.

Dedication And Roll Call Service

A combined Roll Call and Dedication Service was held at the Littlefield Union Church on Sunday evening, September 30.

The pastors were Rev. Dr. Keith, Baptist, of Hillsdale and Rev. Morely Shaw, Anglican, of Bear River. Organist Mrs. Morley Shaw.

Special music for the evening was rendered by Mrs. W. Emma and Miss Goldie Henderson, from Bear River. Organist Mrs. Morley Shaw. Also the "Girls' Trio" from Littlefield rendered an appropriate song "When the Roll is Called Next Sunday" by the choir.

The items which were donated were the platform, panel on front wall and plaques which was a communal effort, along with the Sun Society.

Two pulpit chairs and hymn books were donated in memory of Mrs. Henry Brown in lieu of flowers, from family.

A lovely floral piece was dedicated in memory of Mrs. Henry Brown by Mrs. Henry Brown.

After an inspiring message by Rev. David Keith, the program, which was held in the church, was attended by many guests from outside communities, gathered at the Littlefield Union Church for the dedication of the new hall.

The offering for the evening amounted to $108.00. Some of the money will be used for future renovations.

Home & School Meets

The first monthly meeting of Parker's Cove Home School Association was held Tuesday evening, September 17th, with the new president, Leonard Macdonald, in the chair. There was a good turn in attendance, with new members obtaining membership.

Mr. MacDonald introduced two new teachers, Miss Helen, of the Primary Department, and Hugh Willett, of the Junior High School.

The only business discussed was the Adult Education Classes being offered for the school and the final plan of the cook book.

Mr. and Mrs. MacDonald who were recently named as the winners of a Collier's War Dutch Oven from the association.

There was no program for this first meeting of the teachers retired to rooms, where the parents were given a chance to visit with them.

Refreshments were served.

HISTORIC SITE AND POWER PROJECT OPENED AT LEQUILLE

THE POWER HOUSE on the Lequille River, Annapolis County, modelled after the 17th century grist mill. The project was officially opened Wednesday. (Miller photo)

The $27 million Nova Scotia Light and Power Company project, nearly two years in the building at Lequille, Annapolis County, marks the approximate location of North America's first grist mill, constructed by the explorer Poutreirout in 1607.

Located south of Route One on Dugway Road, two miles west of Annapolis Royal, the main building which houses a 15,000 h.p. hydro generating plant, has been constructed as nearly as possible along the lines of a French mill of the 17th century right down to a working water wheel. Bright weather brought out huge crowds at the opening ceremonies on September 25.

A plaque to commemorate the mill was unveiled by Hon. Allan J. MacEachen, Minister of Manpower and Immigration. The unveiling was part of a pageant performed by members of the Annapolis Royal Historical Society with co-operation of the Annapolis district drama group. The pageant, directed by David Gault, of Neptune Theatre, Halifax, depicted the visit to the newly-opened original grist mill on the Lequille River by the Ven. Chief Membertou, played by Rev. M.

History came alive in colorful 17th century garb in a pageant at the opening last Wednesday of the M. S. Light and Power Company project, at Lequille. Micmac Chief Membertou is played by Rev. M. G. Butler, while Indian maiden is Dianne Sanford and James Sanford plays Sieur de Poutreirout.

Butler. Others in leading roles were: Magr. H. Theriault, A. A. Dalton, Fred Foy, John Cousineau, Chapman Kerr, James Sanford, Wilmer Horsfall, Stewart Hannam, Robert Smith and Harold McCormick. In the spring of 1607, Poutreirout and his French settlers invited Chief Membertou and his Micmac Indians to inspect a 100 horsepower four mill which he had built on the Lequille River, near Port Royal, the habitation he founded in 1605. After examining the mill, groups of Poutreirout and Chief Membertou were among the fifteen charter members of the order.

grew in that time, and the plant's work-load increase in proportion. When they began work at the plant, there were no buildings beyond it, south on the hill. Now there are five and maintenance department. The name "Chase Court" on one of the laundry containers indicates the newest addition to the campus, the women's residence, on the top of the hill, completed this summer.

TEACHERS ATTEND CONFERENCE

Digby County and town supervisors and teachers joined with more than 1000 educationists from over Canada and the United States for an International Conference on Communications Media, Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

The conference was sponsored by the Nova Scotia Department of Education and included the first Atlantic education showplace, more than two hundred exhibitors presented displays on the latest developments in school equipment. Panel discussions, lectures and demonstrations were presented.

Chief speaker was Dr. Harold E. Wigren, Washington, D.C., associate director of the educational technology division of the National Education Association in the United States. He emphasized the teacher's part in controlling the use of media, choosing the programs and material for his class needs and evaluating the effects on his pupils. He said that if educators did not make decisions and plans of action regarding the materials they wanted for the classroom of the future, they would be handed to them from industry and Wall St. executives.

Dr. Wigren also urged educators to give children the opportunity to use media to explore and express their own ideas, feelings and surroundings.

Media should be used in response to a need or problem, in combination with a skilful classroom teacher who will motivate students to its use.

use. The classroom teacher no longer needs to be the mediator of all learning, the speaker remarked. Children can, and do, learn through other resources directly.

Dr. Wigren spoke of the important roles which the communications media can play in teaching and learning. He said they give the learner immediate access to a wide variety of sources of information which he might use in the solution of his problems. They turn learners on, get them "stunned up" and spark their curiosity to want to know more about the subject, they open up the learner and encourage him to think critically and in depth about a topic, they serve to get feelings out and encourage learners "to tell it as it is" through their own use of media. They give learners a sense of participation in the solution of real-life problems, they increase communications and interaction between teacher and learners and between learners and they provide raw data from which the learner can make his own generalizations, establish hypotheses and determine alternative courses of action.

Dr. Wigren also urged educators to give children the opportunity to use media to explore and express their own ideas, feelings and surroundings.

Media should be used in response to a need or problem, in combination with a skilful classroom teacher who will motivate students to its use.

Good Government

Well, I for one, believe a man Should help his wife whenever he can There's always dishes to be dried That's no cause for sob or sigh.

There's baby diapers to be washed, The job is his as well as Ma's, He surely can hang up his clothes Boys always do what father does.

It should not fill a man with gloom, To tidy up the living room, And furthermore, he shouldn't balk To take the broom and sweep the walk.

When he's the clothes pins came apart His mending skill reveals his heart When mother's tired at end of day He sees the children tucked away.

When canning time comes round again He cuts and peels with might and main He's not afraid when company comes To help with duties that are mum's.

He's not afraid to take a stand, And guide his family with firm hand Example counts, there is no fuss He studies when the family does.

He mends the broken chairs and doors He paints the ceilings and the floors He cleans the chimneys' ere they smoke His overalls he pulls to free.

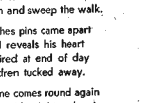

He keeps the cellar free from weeds Replaces casters, straightens pegs Now 'round home life is bright and span The boss is home and he's a man.

MOOSE DAMAGES CAR

Pte. Eric Journeay and Miss Bernice Richards visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Journeay, Yarmouth, over the weekend.

On their return to Gagetown, N. B., at Coles Island, a moose ran into their car and badly damaged the front fender and door.

The authorities said the animal had undoubtedly received death wounds, but it escaped into the woods.

"The strongest host duo in television" is how CBC-TV executive producer describes the combination of John Saywell (left) and Patrick Watson who will help keep viewers backlogged on what's going on in Canada and the world on CBC-TV's Sunday night pubaffairs series The Way It Is during the 1968-69 season. TWI starts its second season on the national network Sunday, Sept. 29. The sophomore series will offer 35 one-hour editions this year, including magazine-format telecasts and at least 10 full-hour filmed drama-documents on major topics of concern to Canadians.

Mrs. Milbury Honoured

The October meeting of the Annie B. Crocus Unit of the Bear River United Church Women met on Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. J. Fletcher Milbury.

The theme for the devotional was Thanksgiving and the opening hymn, scripture reading and commentary and prayer were in keeping with the season.

A poem, "My Gratitude," was read by Mrs. R. H. Purdy. During the meeting Mrs. Milbury, a devoted member of the U.C.W., and the Annie Crocus Unit, was honored by a Life Membership pin in this organization.

Mrs. J. E. Langley, leader in the Annie Crocus Unit, read the citation and Mrs. Bert Mayo, President of the Bear River U.C.W., presented the pin to Mrs. Milbury and placed it on her dress.

Thought taken for the completely surprise, Mrs. Milbury gratefully thanked the members for the honor shown her.

An interesting lesson from the Study Book, "Japan Profiles," was given by Mrs. Purdy.

Following the benediction a half hour was spent by the members and guests. Mrs. Stanley Rutkowski assisted Mrs. Milbury in serving.

Mrs. and Mrs. Walter Nichols, Norwalk, Conn., spent the past week with Miss Dorothy Hill and brothers, returning home on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon, Halifax, were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Stokic on Saturday, at the United Church House.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wilson, Brooklyn, were supper guests September 22nd of Mrs. and Mrs. Courtney Wiles and family. Other guests at the same home were Mrs. Lawrence Wright and son, Paul, Princeville, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Robb, Rosaway, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Darrin, Bear River.

Mrs. Sadie Wiles, of Upper Clements, spent Sunday afternoon recently with her aunt, Mrs. Lottie Brown.

Sympathy is extended to Mrs. Perry Freeman and family in the passing of her mother, Mrs. Horace Boelter, on September 22.

Albert Brown returned home last week from Camp Hill Hospital, Halifax.

South Range West

DIGBY, NOVA SCOTIA, THURSDAY, OCTOBER 17, 1968

WATER SITUATION REMAINS SERIOUS

DIGBY'S OLDEST RESIDENT PASSES

Digby's oldest resident, Charles Frederick McBride, age 96, died at his home on Thursday, October 10. Born in Digby he was a son of the late John and Katherine McBride.

For 44 years Mr. McBride was a general agent for the Canadian Pacific Railway in Digby. He served on the Digby Town Council and hospital boards being a chair member of the old Digby Cottage Hospital Board and chairman of the board for some time when the present hospital was known as the Digby General Hospital was in operation. It was Mr. McBride along with T. M. Lewis who in 1900 laid the corner stone for that hospital.

Mr. McBride was interested in education and was during his years a chairman of the Digby School Board. He was a charter member of the Digby Kiwanis Club and the Digby Golf Club. He was an active member of the original Digby Yacht Club. Mr. McBride had been interested in the Digby Fire Department and was at one time president of the Navy League.

Surviving are his wife, the former Caroline Ellis; one son, Charles Frederick, Digby; a grandson and three great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were held at 2 p.m. Saturday at Saint Patrick's Church, Digby, with Rev. Father Paul Belliveau, Metchen, officiating. Interment was in the United Church Cemetery, Digby.

Municipal Building Opened

The new municipal administration building for the County of Annapolis, situated at the intersection of the Highway 104 and Highway 102, was officially opened last Wednesday. Warren Malcolm Halsey was on hand to welcome the large number of interested citizens who came to inspect the ultra-modern building, which will facilitate all the municipal offices located in many parts of the county.

Gordon Ward, representing the architectural firm of Webb, Harrington and Ward, of Halifax, formally presented the keys of the building to Councilor Robert Mason, chairman of the building committee. Mr. Mason cut the symbolic white ribbon and declared the building officially open.

Re-elected For Seventh Term

Mr. J. Marcel Valotaire, president of the County of Annapolis, was re-elected president of the County Council last Wednesday. He received 4,615 votes, defeating his opponent, Mr. J. L. Gaudet, who received 4,515 votes.

The election was held on Wednesday, October 16, at the County Courthouse, Digby. Mr. Valotaire has served six previous terms as president of the County Council.

Released From Hospital

Senator E. J. Theriault, Q.C., Digby, who recently underwent a lung operation at the Ottawa General Hospital, was released from hospital on Tuesday and is now convalescing at his home in Ottawa at 131 Cooper St.

Senator Theriault was appointed to the Upper House in April, 1968, and later took ill, necessitating hospitalization in Digby and Halifax. After arriving in Ottawa, where he attended the awarding ceremonies and social functions, Mr. Theriault found it necessary to undergo surgery.

Friends in Digby County have been happy to learn that Mr. Theriault's health is improving and he is able to be at his Ottawa home. Best wishes go to both the Senator and Mr. Theriault in their new surroundings.

Mrs. Nichols Again Heads Garden Club

Mrs. E. W. Spencer was hostess for the monthly meeting of the Annapolis Garden Club on Tuesday, October 15. The meeting was held at her home on 22nd Street. Twenty-two members were present.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and the treasurer's report given and a donation from Mrs. H. Wayne was gratefully acknowledged.

Delbert Forrest reported that the garden at the approach from the Digby wharf had been well taken care of and showed a good growth despite the dry summer weather. This area has been enjoyed by local people as well as tourists this past season and the soil will soon be stored for the winter and fall work carried out.

Mrs. Lillian Nichols, president, adjourned the monthly meeting and after a short recess the annual meeting was conducted.

The secretary's report showed there had been ten monthly meetings, one work party and the annual flower show and tea. The treasurer, Miss Dora Worne, reported a good year financially. Miss Marjorie Tupper, for the Loyalist Cemetery Committee.

Three Schoolhouses Declared "Surplus"

Council of the Municipality of the County of Annapolis met in special session and agreed that the welfare office should submit a preliminary budget to the department of public welfare and the same item would be ratified at the fall session of council.

The following schoolhouses have been declared surplus by the department of education, and were authorized to be put up for sale: Lequille, Port Wade and Victoria Beach.

Council approved in principle the formation of the Annapolis Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association (CMHA) in Digby. The clerk was instructed to write to the director of Fundy Health Unit requesting the immediate closing of the Annapolis Rural School dump for health reasons. Clerk was also ordered to write to the attorney-general's department to acquire as to the authority of a protective agency operating in the area with special reference to the powers of this agency to stop motor vehicles and to carry red signal lights on automobiles.

Supervisor Visits

Miss Marjorie Lane, new assistant Victorian Order of Nurses supervisor in Nova Scotia, visited the Digby branch of the organization on Tuesday. Miss Lane recently came to Nova Scotia from Ontario. Supervisor is Miss Laura Wall, Halifax.

J. J. Brittain reported on the semi-annual meeting of the provincial VON organization held in Amherst.

Miss Lane noted the amount of overtime which had been given in July and August and also brought to the attention of the Board that the cost per visit had risen to $4.00. The Digby VON Board decided on $3.75 as a full fee per visit.

One hundred and fifty-five visits were made by Miss Doreen Fawcett, VON, in September, 88 were for nursing care. The others were instructional visits. Fawcett was granted permission to attend a Public Health Convention to be held October 23 and 24.

Large Flowers

A hollyhock grew to a height of twelve feet this summer in the garden of Mrs. Myrtle Halliday, Victoria Beach.

Mrs. Bertha Everett, also of Victoria Beach, reports a giant sunflower, seventeen inches in diameter. The second portion of the flower, without the petals, was thirteen inches across.

Plan Mental Health Campaign

This year's fund raising campaign for the Digby County Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association (CMHA) got underway October 21st, and continues through November 8th. It was decided at a regular meeting of the executive committee that the campaign goal will be a minimum of $3,000.

Members of the campaign committee, elected at the meeting, are Rev. George Bell, Victor Cardozo, Rev. Sister Constance, Harold Ensign, Alvin Pettigrew, and Mrs. Ruth Sullivan. Mrs. N. M. Armstrong will serve as an advisory role on the committee. The fund raising committee will also serve as the branch finance committee.

It was pointed out at the executive meeting that the continuance of the work of the mental health centre depends in great measure on the local support which is received through the annual fund raising drive and the provision of these monies. These costs include provision of the mental health centre premises, heat, light, water, telephone, janitorial services, office supplies and other such requirements.

Elected to the programme committee at the executive meeting were Mrs. H. O'Connell, Victor Cardozo, Miss Marjorie Tupper and Mrs. Percy Robert. Membership and volunteers committee members appointed were Mrs. Alva Jorgensen, Miss Mary Marshall and Mrs. Donald Robertson.

Reigh Jayne President

Reigh Jayne was elected last week as president of the Board of Registration of Embalmers and Funeral Directors for Nova Scotia when they met in Halifax.

Mr. Jayne is a past president of the Funeral Directors Association of Nova Scotia and is the Nova Scotia representative on the Canadian Funeral Directors Association.

Mr. Jayne was accompanied to the meeting in Halifax last week by Mrs. Jayne.

TALKS ON FUTURE OF STE. ANNE'S COLLEGE

Nova Scotia Minister of Education, Hon. Gerald Donahue, will attend a meeting of the Board of Advisors of the College Ste. Anne on Tuesday, October 22, in response to an invitation by the directors of the college.

Mr. Donahue expressed the wish of a meeting with the general public and all those interested in the future of the College Ste. Anne are invited to the college auditorium at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, October 22nd.

50 Years Married

Mr. and Mrs. George Modan, Mayflower, Digby, celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary recently when all their children were home for the occasion. Their son, James, was home for the first time in fifteen years.

Mr. and Mrs. Modan have 21 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Valley Area Chosen For Census Pilot Project

The Annapolis Valley area of the Annapolis County has been selected as one of four areas in Canada for a pilot project by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics to be carried out during the three weeks beginning October 22. The purpose is to gather first-hand experience in determining the best way to take the Canada-wide decennial census in 1971.

The census takers will call on about 2,427 households in this area of Annapolis County. The test will include a regular population census as well as the farm census. Large farm households will receive a special agricultural questionnaire by mail in advance of the census takers' call.

Now questions on fertilizers, sprays and dusts, irrigation and hired labour are included in the farm questionnaire to keep abreast of changes in practices and equipment used and production volumes.

Masons Welcomed To Digby

Worshipful Brother Lawrence K. Banks, W.M., welcomed members of the Annapolis-Digby District AF & AM, to the Masonic Temple, Digby, on the evening of Friday, October 4, when the annual meeting of the district commencing, District Deputy Grand Master of the Annapolis-Digby District, T. S. Matheson, Digby, presided and a welcome.

One of the highlights of the evening's program was the presentation to Richard R. Baxter of a fifty year jewel by the MWGM. Mr. Baxter was a Master Mason of the Bear River lodge in 1918 and a Past Master until 1923. He affiliated with the Digby lodge after moving to Digby in 1944. Mr. Baxter was born in Fredericton (Please turn to page 6)

91 Years

Congratulations are extended to Capt. B. N. Melanson, Gilbert Cove, who celebrated his 91st birthday on Sunday, October 6th. He was presented with a lovely birthday cake by the family of his nephew, Louis E. Melanson, and Mrs. Melanson.

Red Cross Workroom Reopens

Regular weekly meetings of the total to $500.00 for the Digby area. With the Branch bank holiday, as reported, it was gratifying to the officers to receive donations totalling $200.00 for the use of hospital beds, wheelchairs and crutches loaned by the Digby Branch, as reported by the Treasurer.

(Please turn to page 6)

Father Deveau Heads Weymouth Cancer Society

The annual meeting of the Weymouth and District Unit of the Canadian Cancer Society was held at the Weymouth Consolidated School with Rev. Roderic Deveau presiding.

The treasurer's report showed further contributions, bringing

No questions asked.

The Bank of Nova Scotia introduces the Cheque Guarantee Card.

What's it good for?
Paying by cheque, your own personal cheque, even in places where you're a complete stranger. Cashing cheques without question, delay or embarrassment.

What's so different about this card?
1. It carries your photograph. In living colour. This is proof positive that you are who you say you are. 2. It is proof positive that The Bank of Nova Scotia guarantees payment of your cheques. Anytime. Anywhere.

It's the photograph that does it. Your Scotiabank Cheque Guarantee Card introduces you with instant face-to-face identification. So there's absolutely no risk to the person who's accepting your cheque.

Another advantage. If you should happen to write a cheque for more than you have in your account, there's an automatic line of credit built right in.

What does the card cost you?
Two dollars. And that's it. There's no cost at all to the person who's accepting your cheque.

Come into The Bank of Nova Scotia. We'll photograph you with our special colour camera.

When you get your Cheque Guarantee Card, carry it at all times. Present it whenever you write a cheque. In a store. In a restaurant. Anywhere.

No delay, no embarrassment, no questions asked.

The back of the card tells how the guarantee works.

C.C.I.T. Meets

The opening meeting of the Baptist Senior C.C.I.T. was held at the church parsonage on October 19th.

The meeting began by introducing new leaders for this year: Mrs. Dick Levy and Miss Dianne Fawcett.

The election of new officers was postponed until next meeting, due to the poor attendance. There was a general discussion held on plans for projects during the forthcoming season. These events will be advertised in the "Courier" as they come up.

Next meeting is planned for Tuesday evening at the Digby Baptist Church.

C.Y.O. Organized

The Catholic youth of Digby and surrounding area met to organize their group on October 9. The executive consists of Jerry VanTassell, president; Maureen Smith, vice-president; Terry Mac, secretary; and Jackie Connolly, treasurer.

At the initial meeting plans were made for a car wash at the Shell service station on October 18. Plans were also made for a car rally to be held October 27. Father Paul Belliveau will act as parish councillor for the group.

On Saturday the girls' soccer team travelled to Bridgeton for two games. The first game was to be played against Hawks West but they failed to arrive. Digby then played games against Bridgeton and Central Kings, the Congress Champions.

The score of the first game was 2-1 for Bridge-ton. The goal for Digby was scored by Laura Daley. Then Digby

lost the girls from Central

Kings which ended in a 3-0 victory for the Kings.

The members of the soccer team expressed thanks to Mr.

Burgher for all the time and effort he put into the games and practice.

In another two weeks volleyball will be starting and we hope to see a good turnout.

There must be some school spirit somewhere among the students so lets prove it.

On Nov. 1 the student's Council will sponsor a "Sadie Hawkins" dance. So come on girls, grab someone and go to that dance.

During his stay here Father

Stokes made many accomplishments, including the finishing of the cemetery, establishing an office in the rectory, the painting of the windows and the beautiful stained glass windows, to mention but a few.

Father Stokes organized the CWL and was active with the CWL and was partially responsible for the summer program for the children by the Cornell students. To the sick and needy he showed sincere devotion.

His many friends from Holy Cross Parish and Mission wish him happiness, health and abundant blessings.

reported a successful campaign with proceeds amounting to $1964.96, well above the quota of $1500. She expressed her thanks to the Executive, team captains and collectors for their co-operation and assistance.

Mrs. Curtis Hankinson presented the following Education

Report: 2 films for pro-

mothers were shown to groups, including 112 women. 175 ca-

H. M. Warne Reports On New Association

H. M. Warne reported to the regular meeting of the Digby District Federation of Agriculture held at Conway last Tuesday evening regarding the new Nova Scotia Strawberry Growers Association held at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College in Truro last week. The idea behind the association, he said, was to make it easier to clear up some strawberry growing problems, develop markets and see what can be done for themselves in the province of Nova Scotia.

H. M. Warne

Mr. Warne said that when you talk with people who have been growing strawberries for years you learn a lot. The Nova Scotia Federation of Agriculture, he said, can give information on fertility, harvesting, marketing and containers. The association gives an opportunity to get all strawberry growers in this sector together and find out how many acres the growers would like to plant or can plant. He felt there were enough small growers to see what can be done.

It is a serious thing, Mr. Warne angrily remarked when kids are told they are not smart enough to pick strawberries. He also found much variance in the income when one man in Annapolis County can make $10,000 on strawberries and another man in Digby County gives up growing them because there is no money in strawberries.

Mr. Warne and Mr. Rowlett were the only two strawberry growers from western Nova Scotia at the association organization meeting in Truro on Tuesday evening.

From the minutes of the previous regular meeting it was emphasized that William LeForte, agricultural representative at Weymouth, Digby County was to deal with small fruits, and vegetables and Mr. Dehman would deal with live stock and field crops. The matter had come up in the September meeting through Mr. Dehman's objections to the arrangement. Mr. Warne on Tuesday night continued insistence to have Mr. Dehman be the mouthpiece for the Digby District Federation whether or not it was for small fruits and vegetables or live stock and field crops. He said we "don't want the wool pulled over our eyes" by the division as had been arranged.

Mr. Warne posed the question to Mr. Dehman whether or not the Department of Agriculture had come up with a crop program which would be good for the Digby County area. Mr. Dehman advised Mr. Warne that what can be produced in Digby County is not limited by more than any of the other Valley counties. The idea, he said, is to find what crops are suitable for the individual. Crops here, he said, can be as diversified as in the Valley. The information is available, and all that is needed is for the people to take the initiative to do the things.

A number of the farmers' group and present showed interest in planting the new Opal wheat as an experiment for the field. It is a new variety of Spring wheat brought in from Germany and outdoors other what crop yields by forty per cent.

Plans were made for members to attend a steering committee meeting of the Adult Educational Program in Agriculture to be held at St. Ann's College, Church Point, on October 22. Many were interested in a bookkeeping course.

Also suggestions were made for topics to be discussed at an advanced level educational program for the winter. They included strawberry marketing, weed control, health and diseases of animals, genetics, Record of Performance, feeding, soil and fertility management, sheep raising.

Much discussion during the evening centred around crop rotation on strawberry fields to prevent the corn being robbed by crows and other pertinent matters.

The meeting was presided over by John Roope, president. Secretary is Samuel S. Bancey.

Fun, action, make-believe and learning are among the ingredients to be found in CBC-TV's week-morning preschool series Mr. Dress-Up. Ernie Combs is the venerable Mr. Dress-Up, who lives in a "community" fashioned from the child's own world of imagination and experience. Each day he is joined by his puppet friends Casey and Finnegan, and his special helper Susan.

Roll Call Service At Little River

The annual Roll Call service of the Little River United Baptist Church was held on Sunday morning, September 29.

The service was led by pastor W. H. Beecham. There was a good attendance, with visitors from Quebec and New Brunswick.

An anthem, under the leadership of organist and choir director, Mrs. Lindsay Raymond, was rendered by the choir, with Mrs. W. H. Beecham and Shirley Tidd singing the solo parts. Miss Carolyn Raymond and Miss Claudia Tidd sang a duet.

A very inspiring Roll Call message was given by Mr. Ivany, of New Brunswick. Mr. Ivany also brought a message in song entitled "Sandy Good-bye And Mercy", with the choir and congregation joining him on the chorus.

The roll was called by the clerk, Mrs. Ainsley Tidd, and the responses from absent members were read by the assistant clerk, Royce Elderkin.

The roll call offering amounted to $285.00.

Brisk, informative, eye-witness reports of what's happening around the globe, that's the news on CBC radio. ## Good Year For Bible Society

The year 1967 was the greatest year in the history of the Bible Society said Rev. P. C. Macintosh, secretary of the Nova Scotia Branch of the Canadian Bible Society in addressing the congregation at Digby Baptist Church last Sunday evening. Scriptures were translated in more languages and there was a greater circulation of volumes than ever before, he said. In 1967 scriptures were translated in 40 new languages. The Bible Society now has translated, published and distributed the scripture in 1356 languages.

Giving to the work of the Bible Society from the Protestant people in Digby Co. is higher than in any other county in the province of Nova Scotia, Mr. Macintosh said as he urged the congregation to give more, if possible, to provide scriptures to those in the world not able to provide for themselves. Poverty is very real in the world, he said. We grasp it intelligently but we do not let it affect us emotionally. The demand for Bibles from the developing countries of the world is unprecedented, the literary rate is increasing and millions are learning to read. The scriptures must be made available to them.

Mr. Macintosh said that as members of the Christian Church we are a decreasing group in an increasing population. The task of the church, he said, is to reach out and the Bible Society came into being to assist the church to carry out its mission.

The service was conducted by Rev. Donald Robertson, pastor of the church, assisted by Rev. R. H. Hughes, minister of Grace United Church and president of the Digby Branch Canadian Bible Society.

Grace United Church choir was in charge of the music and rendered an anthem under the leadership of Norman Wright and organist, Mrs. Elton Arnold. Mrs. J. M. Wallis was heard in a solo "Lord, Thy Word Abideth".

Bridal Reception Held

On Saturday evening a reception was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Marr, New Tuscot, in honor of their daughter, Rose Marie, and husband, Brian Logan, who had been married in Toronto.

They received lovely gifts, including money, silver, linen, quilts, blankets, etc.

Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Blenkorn and daughters, of Port Williams, and Mr. and Mrs. James Wolf, of Digby, were among the guests present.

A lunch was served, including a wedding cake.

NOVA SCOTIA MEDICAL SERVICES INSURANCE

this card will entitle you and your family to all the benefits of MSI

NOVA SCOTIA MEDICAL SERVICES INSURANCE

It will also save time for you and your doctor. Should you or any member of your family require medical attention after April 1st, 1969, your MSI Registration Card will serve as proof of eligibility for benefits. Benefits which include all necessary doctors' services in office, home or hospital for you and your dependents regardless of age or state of health. Your MSI Registration Card, which will be mailed to you before April 1st, 1969, will provide your doctor with sufficient information to properly submit his account to MSI for payment - without delay or inconvenience to you or your doctor.

Registration will take place November 1st to 15th, 1968

To provide all Nova Scotians with MSI coverage, a house-to-house registration program will be conducted from November 1st to 15th. Along with information on age, marital status and dependents, the registrar will require the Social Insurance Number of the head of each family. A Social Insurance Number will also be required for each single person eighteen years of age and over and single persons under eighteen years of age who are employed.

Why Social Insurance Number for MSI Registration?

MSI has decided to use your Social Insurance Number as a means of identification because this number is unique and greatly identifies Canadians who participate in various Federal programs such as the Canada Pension Plan and Unemployment Insurance. Please keep your Social Insurance Card (or number) handy during the registration period. If you cannot locate your Social Insurance Card, you can find the number on your T-4 or Unemployment Insurance book. If you do not have a Social Insurance Number at all, wait for the registrar to call and he will help you to obtain one.

Please cooperate when the registrar calls

MSI will send registration if you have the necessary information ready when the registrar calls. If you are absent from your home during the registration period (Nov. 1-15), you can arrange to register yourself by contacting the nearest Maritime Medical Care office (after Nov. 15th) or by writing to Nova Scotia Medical Services Insurance, P.O. Box 500, Halifax, Nova Scotia.

It is important that you are registered during the registration period - November 1st to 15th. It will ensure that you will have your MSI Registration Card as proof of eligibility for benefits when the plan comes into effect on April 1st, 1969.

SUGAR AND SPICE

by Bill Smiley

Do we really need it?

Many people have a peculiar idea of "progress". They confuse it with growth or with change or with size. In many cases, these things represent progress, rather than progress. I try not to be bitter, but I have a perfect example of that in my front door. When we moved here, it was to a quiet residential street, a lovely row of white-painted maples and stately oaks, with a green lawn.

It was gentle and pleasant and safe for children. The town council, in the name of progress, tore out the maple, cut down some trees and widened the street.

Result? We now have a speedway cut front, and you can scarcely risk crossing the street to the mailbox. The equal of tires makes the night hideous, as the punks try their remaining tricks. The remaining trees are dying because their natural environment has been disturbed.

It's a proven fact that a sufficient flow of liver bile will relieve irregularity. How does this work? Bile acts as a cleanser in the digestive tract often causes irregularity. The best way to break down these unwanted fat globules is with a sufficient flow of liver bile. And Carter's Little Liver Pills has proof... clinical proof that it improves liver bile flow by breaking down unwanted fat globules and unblocking the digestive tract. So whenever you feel sluggish, headachy, nervous and need relief from irregularity get Carter's Little Liver Pills. 50c.

COMEAU URGES KEEP ST. ANN'S AT CHURCH POINT

Specialist Moves To Digby

Dr. A. Samad, Mrs. Samad and sons, Kamran, Imran, Osman and Aziz, have taken up residence in the former Benjamin Franklin home at 130 King St., having recently arrived in town from Libya. Dr. Samad has opened an office in the Hayden Block, over Smith's Drug Store, where he practices his profession as eye, ear, nose and throat specialist.

Dr. Samad comes to Digby well recommended, having spent the past three years as a consultant in his native country, after which he took further studies in post-graduate work in the University of London in England and with the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons. He has practiced for twenty years in his chosen profession, part of which was spent in giving technical aid as specialist in his field to developing countries, enabling them to raise their standard of health.

Born in Pakistan, Dr. Samad took his early education in education in his native country, after which he took further studies in post-graduate work in the University of London in England and with the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons. He has practiced for twenty years in his chosen profession, part of which was spent in giving technical aid as specialist in his field to developing countries, enabling them to raise their standard of health.

Counties Bilingual

Digby and Yarmouth Counties are areas for designation as bilingual districts under the government's new Official Language Act. The Nova Scotia area along with Inverness and Richmond Counties was among seven identified by a 1967 report of the Royal Commission on Bilingualism and Biculturalism. They were identified among major regions outside Quebec where people of French origin form more than 10 per cent of the population. Digby and Yarmouth Counties have 19,000 persons of French origin in a population of 43,000.

LIBERALS HOLD POLICY SEMINAR

Gerald A. Regan, leader of the Liberal party in Nova Scotia, was in attendance at the third regional policy seminar, held at the community centre, Annapolis Royal, on Saturday afternoon.

The seminar, held primarily for the discussion of local problems affecting the various areas, was chaired by Lou Griffin, Halifax, provincial organizer, with H. H. Cassey, of Victoria Beach, president of the Annapolis West Liberal Association, presiding.

Rev. Father Stokes Presented With Gift

Rev. Father David Stokes, Plympton, was presented with a gift on behalf of Holy Cross parish by Alfred White Sr., Ashmore. Father Stokes will be moving to St. Monica's Parish in Middleton. In the picture left to right are Mr. White, altar boy Andy Amaro, Plympton, Father Stokes and altar boy Billy Amaro, Plympton.

MacLEOD VISITS LITTLE LEAGUERS

William MacLeod, of Truro, formerly of Digby, who was responsible while living here to organize Little League Baseball, visited the Little Leaguers at the annual banquet held at the Digby Branch Canadian Legion headquarters on the Shore Road on Saturday evening. About 60 boys were in attendance and thirteen coaches, umpires and others interested in Little League occupied the head table. Among the head table guests were Hon. Worship Master Glendon Smith, William MacLeod, Robert McVeigh, commissioner and chairman, Jack Nichols, president of the Digby Branch Canadian Legion, donors of the banquet, Donald Brown, general umpire, Thomas Wood, Gerald Campbell, Legion coach, Carl Saulnier, Legion coach, Kent Skinner, merchants team coach, Lawrence Marshall, Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Courier, Vernon Wessell, team coach, and Conrad LeBlanc, umpire.

Guests were welcomed by Mr. Nichols following the grace asked by Mr. Smith.

Mr. MacLeod, who plays on the Truro Royals who won the Maritime title recently, warned the boys that they have a responsibility to be at their places in the games after they sign up or show their legitimate excuse if absent.

Mr. MacLeod tried to impress on the Little League baseball members of the interest and time expended by the gentlemen at the head table who give two and three days a week from their own homes and families to help them have the privilege of baseball.

Mr. MacLeod told the boys that when he came to Digby in 1960, he went to the ball field to see who was playing ball and there wasn't one. Ball began in 1961 for Digby's Little League, sponsored by the Digby Kiwanis Club. In 1962 other organizations became involved. Today, he said, it is quite usual to see boys with balls, gloves and bats walking happily and excitedly on Digby streets.

Mr. MacLeod congratulated the four teams on excellent play shown by the scores of 21 and 52. Good sportsmanship, he advised the boys, is to try to do your best whether win or lose.

Mr. MacLeod told the audience he was glad to see the Little League tournament started in Digby two years ago for Centennial and spread throughout the Valley.

Mayor Smith commended those who were responsible for making Little League such a success in Digby, the winning Kiwanis team and each and every player. Besides making the boys better sports, they will have better citizens for Digby because of their participation in sports, the mayor said.

Mr. MacLeod presented the trophy to the winning Kiwanis team. It was accepted by the coach, Ted Nicholson. In accepting the trophy on behalf of the team, Mr. Nicholson spoke highly of the sportsmanship of the boys and remarked that the whole team had been out for four years and the result was seen in their win.

Mr. Nicholson also remarked that Digby had a "great bunch" of community workers and that he was proud to be a part of a town which had so much potential and a Little League baseball with so much potential. He congratulated the mayor on doing an excellent job for the town, and praised Digby's "wonderful newspaper" which upholds best things for the town.

Mr. MacLeod presented the crests to each Kiwanis team player and Donald Brown presented Mr. MacLeod with a gift. The Legion Auxiliary ladies were thanked by Mr. McVeigh.

The applications were presented to the Commission in Moncton last month with the backing of the Annapolis Valley in the central and western Valley regions according to Managing Director Willard A. Bishop.

Mr. Bishop commented after the Canadian Radio and Television Commission gave approval to the station that the company's application for an additional outlet at Digby, improvement of the signal at Windsor and Kentville, and the program can be completed within two or three months.

Donat Comeau, M.L.A. for Clare, addressed the Council of the Municipality of Clare at Little Brook on Friday evening, October 18th, on a vital question that is on the minds of the great majority of the population of the Municipality, which is: "What is to become of college St. Ann of Church Point?"

Mr. Comeau stated: "I wish to publicly express concern about any effort which may result in moving college St. Ann from its present location in Church Point, Digby County. Since its founding in 1880, college St. Ann has been the leading cultural centre of the Acadian people in Nova Scotia and has played a vital part in the development and preservation of the heritage of the Acadian people."

It is my belief that the value of college St. Ann to the Acadian people and to all Nova Scotians is greatly enhanced by virtue of its location within an Acadian Acadian community. Further, before any move to college St. Ann was to be moved to any other predominantly English speaking community, such as Yarmouth, it would be just another small college without its present distinctive cultural characteristics. We would all be the poorer if such a move was made.

I hasten to emphasize that I am not advocating college St. Ann become exclusive to teaching French and for Acadian students, quite the contrary. I applaud the recent policy changes at the college, including becoming co-educational whereby any qualified student, regardless of his or her native language, is equally welcomed. Indeed, I believe that all Nova Scotian students would benefit from the fact that a university of Acadian origin located entirely within an Acadian community was available to them on an expanded and thriving basis.

I would hope that my views in opposition to the change of location of college St. Ann would not be interpreted merely as a concern for the Acadian economic impact on the District of Clare, of the loss of the college. I fully understand the province may very well have plans for alternative use of the land and facilities of the college in such fields as adult education or vocational training or a senior citizens home. As the elected representative of the people of Clare I would welcome any plans for provincial investment of this or any other land in Clare.

However, it is my considered and sincere view that whatever plans the provincial government may have for the alternate use of the land and facilities at college St. Ann, would, in the long run, be a poor bargain for the Acadian people if it were purchased by the loss of our university which the people of Clare for generations back, have worked so hard to establish and nourish in the hard days of the past.

I want to conclude with my personal views on this important subject regarding the future of college St. Ann.

First and foremost, with regard to any proposed move of the location of college St. Ann, it is my considered opinion that the college should remain at the Acadian community of Church Point. I take comfort from the fact that the Advisory Committee of the college, which is made up of leading Acadian citizens and clergy of Western Nova Scotia and other parts of Canada, have recorded in writing its opinion that college St. Ann should remain at Church Point.

On a positive note, I would recommend that the government of Nova Scotia urge the University Grants Committee to give serious consideration to awarding special grants to college St. Ann, to assure its continued operation and expansion in its present location within the Acadian community of Clare. Such grants would assure the fulfillment of our forefathers' plan for a permanent Acadian cultural center of learning within our midst where students of every faith and language would be welcome.

Following the termination of Mr. Comeau's speech, the Municipal Council of Clare voted to send a delegation to Halifax to meet with the premier and the minister of education to urge the government of Nova Scotia to do everything within its power to keep St. Ann's college at Church Point on motion of councillor George Dugas and seconded by councillor Gerald and Lomax. It is expected that the delegation will leave for Halifax shortly.

Senator Released Saturday

Senator E. J. Theriault, Q.C., who had been confined to hospital in Ottawa following surgery was released on Monday of this week, the second of last week, as was expected and reported in The Digby Courier of Oct. 17.

Latest word has been that Mr. Theriault is enjoying a short walk outdoors each day and is progressing satisfactorily.

Receives Scholarship

At the autumn assembly of the Nova Scotia Agricultural College on October 18, B. B. Bohaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lovell, was presented with a $150.00 scholarship offered to Nova Scotians by the Province of Nova Scotia on the basis of high academic standing.

Mr. Bohaker is enrolled in the first year of the degree course at the Agricultural College.

can Church women's organizations into Anglican Church Women was not gone into lightly, Mrs. Langille told the women, as she remarked on the progress of the organization. (Please turn to page 4.)

Artesian Wells Connected To System

At press time Wednesday, last minute work was being carried out to connect Digby's "second" artesian well to the main water system. The well in question was drilled near the chlorine plant at Mount Pleasant. A pumping test proved the well to yield 150 gallons of water per minute. The third well, located about one-thousand feet from number two, is expected to be joined to the main system by the end of the week. Air tests estimate the third well to yield at least 150 gallons per minute. Mr. Godfrey, engineer with Godfrey & Associates, Saint John, was in town and formulated a plan whereby the wells could be connected to the main system. He supervised the installation which was carried out by Town workmen and Hopper Bros., drillers. Mayor G. W. Smith informed the Council of these facts just before press time. So far no yield tests have been carried out on the first well to be drilled. It is 350 feet deep and which presented delay and difficulties to the second well was started immediately.

Rains on Monday brought the water level at the lower dam up by about eighteen inches, and the main lake rose about one-and-one-half inches, the Mayor said. This allowed the pump, on loan from Beaver Brook Farms, to be stopped. Pumping has been carried out at the lake since early in September when the water level went below the pipes of the screen chamber which sends the water into town. However, the water level still remains far below normal, the Mayor stated. This is the reason for considerable concern since there is only about another month of open weather before winter sets in, he continued. If cold weather comes before we have adequate rains the water emergency may last all winter, the Mayor said. "We're hoping the 300 gallons per minute from the wells will see us through the emergency."

Application has been made to the Atlantic Development Board for a grant covering costs of the wells, but to date no official reply has been forthcoming. The Mayor said that a full account of costs and problems involved in the drilling will be published as soon as the wells are in full production to the customers of the town.

Posted To Ottawa

Const. David Turnbull

Above is Third Class Constable D. F. Turnbull, son of Mr. M. J. Turnbull of 70 Shubhouse Road, Digby, Nova Scotia.

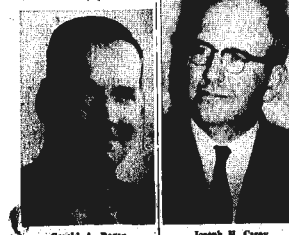

Constable Turnbull joined the Royal Canadian Mounted Police on April 2, 1968, and successfully completed Recruit Training at Myrnaty Park on October 13. He has been posted to Ottawa for duty.

Digby Scouts Hold Emergency Session

The future of active Scouting in the Digby District has been assured at least until the annual meeting to be held November 7. Twenty-eight interested persons attended a special emergency meeting last week, called by Victor Carls, president of the Digby District Council, to deal with a general apathy concerning the scout movement in this area. Representatives were present from Digby, Cornwallis, Weymouth and Bear River. The Digby District includes all territory between Allain's Creek, Annapolis County, and Weymouth.

The meeting also considered the resignation of District Commissioner R. A. Applejohn, scheduled for November 1, as well as a number of others of the district council who received transfers from C.F.P. Cornwallis. Mr. Applejohn told the meeting that the feeling of apathy in the district, particularly among parents, will kill the scouting movement here. The organization has been carried on far too long by too few, he said. "To work and progress we need interested leaders. We have a good organization we need a dedicated executive committee. They must preach the gospel of scouting to the general public who is not very much aware of the movement and its purpose, and achievements," Mr. Applejohn said.

We must find out if people in the district really want scouting and proceed from there, he told the group. "Scouting is one of the most worthwhile training organizations for youth and should be expanded," the Commissioner said, "but the dedicated few in the district are finding it increasingly hard to carry on." In recent years fewer people (Please turn to page 4)

Boys from grades 7, 8, and 9 will converge on Hantsport on October 25, 26, 27 for their 1968 J. H. Legislature. Jr. H. Legislature is an event to challenge boys to meaningful Christian living through the experience of small group discussion and Parliamentary debating, in an interdenominational setting.

Acting as Governor General for the event will be Norman Spence, M.L.A. for Hantsport. John Truitt, Acadia University student, will be Speaker of the House and Tommy Harris of Hantsport, S.S. at Arms serving as Counselors and assisting the boys in preparation of legislation.

Other high lights planned for the weekend include a Saturday evening banquet, a tour of local Hantsport industry, Canadian Koyote Fibre, selected by the boys.

The cost of the events is $2.50 per boy and registration is made through Junior J. H. Boys, Hantsport. Billington of the boys in Hantsport homes is being coordinated through Earl Faulkner. The event is under the general direction of Rev. Douglas Carlin, Berwick assisted by the Hantsport Ministers Rev. Fred Guy and Rev. Gordon Gower.

Topics debated will range all the way from UFO's to the general welfare of the community. The boys will be given the opportunity to give a boy's faith and devotion to God and to the community, from meditation to good sportsmanship, from teachers and parents to interdenominational views.

IN MEMORIAM

(Mrs. E. Morehouse)

HAYNES - In memory of our daughter, Charlotte Rosemary, born Oct. 28, 1904. The blow was great, the shock severe. We little thought the end was near. And only those who have lost can feel.

The pain of parting without farewell. More each day we miss you, Charlotte. Friends may think the wound has healed. But they little know the sorrow. That lies within our hearts concealed.

Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by Mom and Dad, sister Judy, and brothers Arnie and Brian. 1911.

HERNSHAW - In loving memory of my dear husband and father, Carey W. Henshaw, who passed away October 21, 1968. Memories are like threads of gold. Never tarnish or grow old. We live with you in our lives to share. But in our hearts he is always there.

Ever remembered and remembered by wife Lottie, son and daughter. 1911.

PUGH - In memory of Harold D. Pugh who passed away Oct. 20th, 1965. Like falling leaves, the years slip by. But precious memories never die. They live with us in memory still. Not just today, but always will.

Always remembered by wife and family. 1911.

SNOW - In loving memory of my dear mother, Effie L. Snow. Because you lived. Because you died. A vacant spot remains. - daughter Marjorie (Mrs. D. V. Keely) 1911.

Richelieu Club Celebrates 10th Anniversary

By A. P. Melanson

The Richelieu Club of Church Point celebrated its tenth anniversary with a banquet held at St. Ann's college main dining room with over 140 persons attending. Representatives of the Richelieu clubs of Carleton Place, Fredericton and Moncton, N. B. were in attendance and other clubs also attending were the Kwanish Club of Weymouth, The Meteghan Lions club and the French Club of Halifax. The latter club was led by Rev. Lege Comeau, brother of Dr. Julius Comeau, member of the Richelieu Club of Church Point.

Alphonse Devalon of Salmon River and professor on the teaching staff of St. Ann's College of Church Point, was guest speaker of the evening. He spoke on the early Acadia history and the early coming to the area of Devalon, who was born in 1898. He also spoke of Joseph Dugas, the first settler in Church Point, who arrived in September 1768 and succeeding interesting facts that took place in the area.

With the arrival of other Acadia and founding president Meteghan; Vice President, Maurice Bellevue, Meteghan Station; Director, Felix Thibodeau, Church Point; Jean Gaudet, Church Point; Jean Doucet, Church Point; Norman Pothier, Meteghan; Edouard LeBlanc, Saultville and Eddie Comeau, secretary. The club consists of 30 members and usually hold the semi-monthly meetings on the first and third Wednesdays at La Cave restaurant main dining room at Church Point.

In introducing the guest speaker, Alphonse Devalon, Richelieu Maurice Bellevue said: "He is professor of history at St. Ann's college; he is a historian of note and a distinguished author, having written 'Le Chef Des Acadies' and 'Journal de Colette Mural' and a third book: 'L'histoire de la Baie de St. Anne' will appear shortly.

One of the latest achievements of the Church Point Richelieu Club is the opening of a recreational park on the Meteghan Station road near where it crosses the Meteghan river. A toboggan slide was prepared last winter and a new swimming pool constructed in the spring which officially opened in July and numerous swimming courses were held during the balance of the summer. A picnic park was started but the complete recreational facilities will take several years to complete, according to the plans made by the club, Dr. Julius stated.

A social evening was held immediately following the banquet with Paul Saulnier, guest at the electric organ, furnishing the music. The social portion of the program was held in St. Ann's college auditorium, which was given decorated for the occasion.

Mr. Pothier received his shield in recognition of his fine work as chairman of the construction of the new swimming pool on the banks of the Meteghan River and Mr. Valotaire in honor of being the first president of the club and one of its principal organizers.

The presentations were made at the tenth anniversary banquet held at St. Ann's College at Church Point on Saturday evening, October 12th with 140 persons attending.

DEER CHECK STATION AT LITTLE BROOK

The Clare Fish & Game Association has established a deer check station at the Little Brook Fire Hall in cooperation with the Nova Scotia Department of Lands and Forests. The station will be open daily from 1 to 9 p.m. for the registration of deer killed. The association also will present $100.00 to a lucky hunter that places his name on the registration book and will allow the department to remove the lower jawbone of the deer. Names of persons having killed a deer which will be in the registration book will be placed in a receptacle at the termination of the hunting season and a name will be drawn which will give the hunter $100.00.

The idea of giving a prize of $100.00 to the lucky hunter is for the purpose of encouraging the hunter to register his kill and permit the removal of the lower jawbone, which is necessary to be eligible to win the prize. The lower jawbone of the deer will be sent to the Department of Lands and Forests for analysis and study.

The Clare Fish & Game Association, sponsors of the deer check, are offering the $100.00 prize. The check is also to assist in determining how many deer are killed in the area, although registration of the kill may be made by any hunter from any area of the province.

A large sign has been placed opposite the Fire Department hall in Little Brook, to indicate where the registration office is located.

From Our Files

May 15, 1896
"Town Council Methods in 1725"

The first town council of Annapolis after its final occupation by the English was organized in the spring of 1720 by Gov. Phillips. The members of the board were 10 in number: John Doucet, the lieutenant governor; Lawrence Armstrong; Paul Mascarene; Rev. John Harrison; William Southack; Arthur Savage; Hubbard Newton; Cyllian Shinniff; and Peter Boudie.

The first work this council found itself called upon to do was evidently in the line of superintendence of public repairs. The town was in a bad condition, according to the report of Phillips. When he landed in April he found the place "in as bad a state as was possible to describe, both within and without."

The criminal courts of those early councils were the occasions of decidedly amusing proceedings. The Jean Pizot affair and her sentence to 'ducking at high water' having become familiar history and other sentences to the early offenders of justice were equally strange and ridiculous. In September 1726, one Robert Nicholas, was charged with assaulting one of the officers and a court of four councillors found him guilty and passed the following sentence:

"You being found guilty, by H. M. Council for this province of the crime in which you are charged, the punishment therefore inflicted on thee is to sit upon a gallows three days, half an hour each day, with a rope about thy neck and a paper upon your breast whereupon shall be wrote in capital letters, 'AUDACIOUS VILAIN', and afterwards thou art to be whipt at a cart's tail from the prison up to the uttermost house of the cape and from thence back to prison house, receiving each hundred paces five stripes upon your bare back with a cat-o-nine-tails; and then thou art to be turned over for a soldier."

Evidently to be a soldier was not so high an honor as it once had been. Another sentence given in 1732 was that the prisoner should be publicly whipped "at the cart's tail" at four places in the town and at each place to receive five stripes on his bare back with a cat-o-nine-tails."

Secret Ingredient For Baby's Formula

The secret ingredient is high quality water. The compact new kitchen appliance shown here produces three gallons of it a day. Called the Culligan Aqua 1 Water Purifier, it takes out undesirable minerals, color, taste, odor, detergents, and other organic contaminants that might upset a baby's delicate digestive system. The highly purified water also makes superior coffee, tea, for cubes, soups, reconstituted juices, and is unsuited for just plain drinking.

NEW HOUSE DESIGN
— This brick veneer three-bedroom bungalow, by Architect Roland Dumais of Montreal, has been designed to be built using "plank" construction. The dimensions are such however that the more common frame construction can be substituted.

The entrance hallway provides room for a small table and chair. The living room has a fireplace and large corner window. In addition to the dining room there is ample space in the kitchen for a dining table. From the rear grade entrance there is direct access to the basement which contains sufficient space for playroom and normal household storage and utilities. For best siting this house should be placed on the lot so that its blank end-wall faces north.

The total floor area is 1,164 square feet with overall outside dimensions of 40 feet by 24 feet. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 264, are available from Capital Mortgage and Building Corporation at minimum cost.

Rector Honored On 25th Anniversary

The Rev. Basil Devens, rector of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church, celebrated his twenty-fifth anniversary of the priesthood on Sunday. A special Mass was celebrated by Bishop Austin Burke, and a letter was read by Dr. J. E. Comeau. Mr. Camille Cosman presented Father Devens with a purse of money on behalf of the parishioners.

Norbert Lellane was master of ceremonies at the presentation, and also at the buffet supper served in the hall later.

Many visiting priests from the Diocese, as well as members of his immediate family, also helped to celebrate the occasion.

The ladies of the parish provided the supper and had the table beautifully set for the occasion. About three hundred and twenty-five people were served. Following the supper, the Sisters of St. Edward's Convent had prepared a concert, in which children from Meteghan School, Weymouth, and Hantsville, presented vocal selections and musical numbers in honour of the occasion.

Bishop Burke thanked everyone for their efforts in making the anniversary such an outstanding occasion.

liveau, a native of Weymouth, obtained her Grade VI certificate from the Old Village School.

She then attended Nova Scotia Teachers College, graduated in 1932, after which a year was spent in Bellevue's Cove school to study French.

Her teaching experience consists of three years in Digby County, three in Clare and two more in Lunenburg County.

In 1934 she was married to Basil Beliveau, thus a happy period of bringing up a family of four - two boys and two girls.

1967 found Mrs. Beliveau doing substitute duties, while the present finds her on the daily staff, as Grade VI elementary teacher, plus Grade VII Jr. High French.

Appointed Administrator

Mrs. Carol Seaborn has been appointed tentative administrator of the Adult Education classes at the Weymouth Consolidated School.

She was born in New Tuxedo, Digby County, but her family moved to the United States when she was two years old. She went to school in Massachusetts and New Hampshire.

When 14 years old her parents moved back to Nova Scotia, so she finished her education in New Tuxedo and Weymouth North.

Mrs. Thurner has taught a total of twenty-six years in the District of Digby, from one-room schools in Southville and Weymouth Point, to two-room schools in Ashmore and Weymouth North.

When Weymouth Consolidated was organized she was fortunate to receive a position as Grade I teacher and has taught there ever since. She also tutored a number of boys from the United States in reading, algebra and geometry during the summer months when they were attending Camp Aldercliff.

Mrs. Thurner has one daughter, Charlotte, who received a Certificate in Secretarial Science while attending Acadia University in Wolfville. She is now working in Halifax.

Her husband, Clarence Thurner, has been retired some years because of health.

Mrs. Thurner's education and teaching experience has varied from one-room schools, New Brunswick and an ungraded school in New Hampshire.

There they progressed at their own rate until they were capable of writing a high school entrance examination. There were several very good high schools scattered throughout the County of Simard, New Hampshire.

Although she looks back with nostalgia at times, her happiest years have been during the Consolidation.

Unborn Child Swallowed Bullet

Dr. and Mrs. Albert Melanson and children, who have been visiting the former's mother, Mrs. H. J. Melanson, have returned to Burlington, VT. Dr. Melanson gave the correspondent a clipping from the Record American, Boston paper, from which the following article is published:

"New York - A three day old baby girl, who apparently swallowed a bullet while still in her mother's womb, was listed in critical condition at Kings County Hospital in Brooklyn. The mother, Mrs. Carlos Ortiz of Brooklyn, was shot in an unknown manner, in her home on June 10.

Doctors said her husband took her to the hospital where x-rays revealed that there was a bullet in her womb. Doctors decided that her unborn baby should be delivered by cesarean section.

After delivery, Mrs. Ortiz was x-rayed again, and the bullet was no longer there.

Dr. Albert Melanson said the fluid in the mother's womb apparently had slowed down the bullet so that the unborn baby's lips just under her nose, it just nicked the protective membrane.

The baby then apparently swallowed the bullet, which the doctors judged to be about 22 caliber.

Dr. Melanson said both patients came out of the operation alright and that the baby passed the bullet about five days after the birth.

Many visiting priests from the Diocese, as well as members of his immediate family, also helped to celebrate the occasion.

The ladies of the parish provided the supper and had the table beautifully set for the occasion. About three hundred and twenty-five people were served. Following the supper, the Sisters of St. Edward's Convent had prepared a concert, in which children from Meteghan School, Weymouth, and Hantsville, presented vocal selections and musical numbers in honour of the occasion.

where approximately one hundred and twenty five guests attended.

The toast to the bride was proposed by Harold Emerson and responded to by the groom.

Mrs. Ralph McIntyre, friend of the groom and Mrs. Maurice Millery, aunt of the bride, presided at the silver service.

Mrs. Donald Trimmer, a friend of the bride, was in charge of the guest book. For a short trip around the South Shore the bride chose a matching mod dress and coat of hot pink with black accessories. Her carriage was of white mums.

The happy couple will take up residence at Meaford, Ont., where the groom is presently employed.

Munroe — Outhouse

Freeport Baptist Parsonage was the scene of a lovely fall wedding which united in marriage Verona, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Outhouse of Tiverton and Farrell Jr., only son of Mr. and Mrs. Farrell Munroe Sr. of Freeport. Rev. W. Ide performed the singling ceremony.

For the wedding the bride chose a street length dress of lace over fuchsia tulle with black accessories. She wore a corsage of red roses and lily of the valley.

Attending the couple were Mr. and Mrs. George Crocker of Freeport, cousins of the bride.

Attending the wedding were the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Farrell Munroe, Sr. of Freeport, and his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Baxter Prime also of Freeport.

Following the ceremony, relatives of the bride and groom gathered for a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John P. Knights of Columbus Hall.

Outhouse where the newlyweds cut and served the two tier wedding cake. Other refreshments were served buffet style.

A reception for Mr. and Mrs. Munroe is to be held at Freeport in the near future.

The couple will reside at Freeport where Mr. Munroe is owner and operator of a scallop dragger.

Guest — Wamboldt

Edwin Belter, Upper Clements, and Robert Hudson, Parker's Cove, ushered.

Counsell — Beeson

A pretty autumn wedding was solemnized at the United Baptist Church, Deep Brook, on Saturday afternoon, October 12 when Rev. George Boyd united in Holy matrimony Velma Leona Beeson, RN, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hirtle, Deep Brook, Annapolis Co., with Hugh (Tim) Christopher Counsell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Counsell, Cornwall, England, and the late Hugh Counsell. Charles Milbury resident pastor assisted in the service.

Beautiful autumn leaves and colorful baskets of dahlias, gladioli and mums provided the setting. The guest poets were marked with sprays of lily of the valley.

Entering the church to the strains of "Praise The Lord, The King of Heavens" on the arm of her step father, Mr. Harold Hirtle, by whom she was given in marriage, the bride was a picture of loveliness in floor length gown of Peau de Lagoda, with boat neckline, lantern style sleeves with cut-away lace panels, simulated Empire waistline, "A" skirt, a long flowing train edged with gulfure lace left from her shoulders, attached to same with bows of same material. Her shoulder length veil of bridal net was caught with ruffles of organza, and wound with lily of the valley. She carried a bouquet of Red Roses and Gypsophila. Her only ornament was pearl earrings.

Miss Helen Huttler, RN of Timmins, Ont., was matron of honor, attractive in floor length sleeveless gown of emerald green peau de charme with square neckline, simulated Empire waistline, "A" skirt, elbow length beige gloves and matching shoes. Her head dress was a green bow of same material and veil. She carried yellow lily and gold colored mums with wheat and salad (posie style). Nieces of the bride, Alyson Bacon, Toronto, and Diana Bacon, Ottawa, were charming little flower girls in identical short red velvet dresses, "A" line skirts, matching head dress of red velvet bows. They each carried a basket of yellow and white daisies, mums and sweetheart roses.

Groomsmen were David Godman, Montreal.

Ushers were brothers of the bride, Allister and Roger Hirtle, Deep Brook. Mrs. Eric Adams, church organist, presided at the organ.

Mrs. George Brydon rendered "The Wedding Prayer" during the signing of the register.

The bride's mother chose a 3 piece trousseau knit suit of Eden blue, with rose maribou hat and matching accessories.

The groom's mother chose a 2 piece ensemble of Cambridge blue with navy hat and matching accessories.

Both wore corsages of pink sweetheart roses. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Parish Hall for 70 guests. The blessing was asked by Mr. Milbury. The bride's brother served the punch.

The toast to the bride was proposed by her uncle, Mr. Harman Schurman, Springhill, N.S. Congratulations telegrams from the groom's relatives in England, Australia and friends in Timmins, Ontario were read by the groomsmen.

Misses Carol Dawn Brydon and Deborah Baxter served the bride's table which was centered with a three tier decorated wedding cake, flanked on either side with lily buds in silver holders.

Centrepieces of pink mums, white orchids and vases graced the guests tables, which were served by Misses Diane Bacon, Barbara Peters, Doris Sours and Jane Gault. Mrs. Harman Schurman, aunt of the bride, presided at the silver service. Mrs. Archie Ripley, aunt of the bride cut the cake. Mrs. Mervyn Bacon, sister-in-law of the bride was in charge of the guest book. Mrs. Stanley Bacon, sister-in-law of the bride was in charge of gifts.

For going away the bride chose a red and beige wool dress with black accessories and corsage of red roses. The happy couple left for a motor trip through Nova Scotia and the New England States. They will reside at South Forenipe near Timmins, Ont., where the groom is employed as a glazier with Texas Gulf Sulphur Co. The bride is a member of the staff of the Precinct Health Centre, Ont.

They were the recipients of many lovely gifts of china, silver, cash and linen. Among those attending were both of the bride, Mr. Mervyn Bacon, wife and daughter, Diana of Ottawa, Mr. Stuart Beeson, wife and daughter, Alyson of Toronto, Ont.; mother of the groom, Mrs. Joan Counsell of Cornwall, England, who came via air for the occasion. Others were from Timmins, Ont., Montreal, New Glasgow, Amherst, Moncton, St. John's, St. John's, Upper Stewiack and Halifax.

Ossinger — Gratton

Guest At

An unusual lady guest appeared at the Digby Rally of the Women's Institute, who in a spirited and humorous dialogue with the program, Provincial Minister of Legislation and Citizenship, reminded the members of the many ways in which she had been of benefit and service to them. Her appearance came as a follow-up to the inspiring workshop session conducted by Mrs. Inglis, and Mrs. Connelly, Provincial Director for the Western Area. The session was called "How Not" with six ladies acting as conversationalists.

with

Canada Savings Bonds

$250 for each $100. That's what you can get with this year's Canada Savings Bonds. Here's how

The new Bonds have fourteen regular annual interest coupons which can be cashed each year as they come due. The first pays 5.75%; the second, 6.50%; the next three, 6.75% each, and the last nine a big 7.00% each. Total regular annual interest amounts to $92.50 on each $100 Bond.

If you choose you may hold all these regular annual interest coupons until your Bond matures. If you do, you will then get interest on your interest totaling an additional $54.50 on each $100 Bond. At maturity, therefore, you can get back total

Interest of $150 plus your original $100 investment. This way each $100 Canada Savings Bond becomes worth $250. Other denominations can grow at the same exciting rate.

Adults, children, businesses and institutions—all may buy Canada Savings Bonds. They are available in convenient amounts of $50 up to $50,000 for cash or on instalments, wherever you work, bank or invest. And, as always, Canada Savings Bonds are callable any time at full face value plus earned interest.

Few investments are so profitable. None build more surely for the future. Buy Canada Savings Bonds and make your savings really grow.

Propose Link With Campobello Island Port

Digby Mayor, Glen W. Smith suggested in a brief, submitted to federal and provincial authorities, that the proposed new ferry, which is scheduled to replace the CFS Princess of Acadia on the Digby to Saint John run, should be hired for a year, or for one summer season to operate between the port of Digby and Campobello Island, as an additional ferry service between Nova Scotia and Nova Scotia.

Mayor Smith said that the distance between these two ports makes the daily run possible without interfering with the regular daily crossings between Digby and Saint John.

He stated the vessel could leave Digby at 6 o'clock in the morning in order to get Nova Scotia fish, farm and other produce on the Boston market the same day, and return to Digby with tourist and other passengers and vehicles in ample time to make its daily trip to Saint John and return.

The Digby Mayor said if the authorities were willing to do this, it would prove, beyond question, the feasibility of the Digby-Welchpool route for a second New England ferry service, as recommended by A. G. Margeson and Associates, who were commissioned by the government of Nova Scotia to study the matter of New England-Nova Scotia ferry services, and recommend the most feasible route and terminal ports.

Mayor Smith pointed out the Digby-Welchpool route is shorter by over 3 hours less sea time than the Bar Harbour route, and over 9 hours less sea time than the Portmouth route, and over 5 hours less time from western Nova Scotia.

He pointed out the cost for both passenger cars and trailers on a 3 hour run, between Digby and Welchpool, would be a great deal less than the present Bar Harbour service, or the service being proposed from Yarmouth to Gloucester or Portmouth.

The Digby-Welchpool route, Mayor Smith said, can operate two complete return trips daily, leaving Digby at about 6 a.m. Produce from Nova Scotia could be landed in Boston markets at approximately 3:30 p.m. the same day. Other proposed runs he said, do not permit this short delivery service. In addition, he said, the Digby-Welchpool service could bring into Nova Scotia, with two return trips daily, about 7,000 people and 2100 vehicles per week of seven days.

Proposed runs between Yarmouth-Gloicester or Portmouth would require, because of the length of the sea voyage, staterooms and larger accommodations for two crews, cutting down on other accommodations, Mayor Smith said. He said the far shorter water route, between Digby and Welchpool, would tend to eliminate seasickness, which is the bugbear of the travelling public.

Mayor Smith noted that the Port of Digby is one of the best harbours for deep water and shelter in the world. It is fully protected, lies from the year round, and needs no dredging. Had Digby the geographical location, he said, it would be one of the best sites for a deep water port for container ships. He said the port of Welchpool also presents no major problems. He said there is still another harbor on Campobello Island which is also an excellent harbor for the service from Digby. This port is approximately five sea miles closer to Digby and should be investigated, he said.

Mayor Smith stressed that any increase in transportation on the Atlantic seaboard for a route between western Nova Scotia and New England will be beneficial to the whole area. He said he felt there were no conflict in his proposals regarding the Digby-Welchpool service and any other existing, or proposed service.

An Autumn Wish

O Hands of Time, move slowly
It is Autumn,
Walk gently 'neath these gay
Confetti bowers,
For I would gather each brief
Golden moment,
And make them into happy
Rainbow hours.
Pause here beside the vivid Scarlet maple,
That towers tall by banks of Amber gold,
Give time for me to paint a Memory picture,
Of vividest colors
Bright and bold.
Don't let me waste one single Precious second,
Or through my fingers let the Sun-lit days slip past,
For Autumn's stay is much too brief
For wasting.
These hazy, golden days can Never last.
Just give me time for dreaming
In the Autumn,
Hold close each brief and bright
Enchanting day,
For I would stop the hands of time
At Autumn,
If I, poor mortal, could but have My way.

Digby, N. S.

Guest At Digby District W.I. Rally

An unusual lady guest appeared at the Digby District Rally of the Women's Institute, who in a spirited and humorous dialogue with Mrs. Emma Inglis, Provincial Council of Legislation and Citizenship, reminded the members of the many ways in which she had been of benefit and service to them. Her appearance came as part of a follow-up to the inspiring workshop session conducted by Mrs. Inglis and Mrs. Bernice Cann, Provincial Director for Western area. The follow-up session was called "How and How Not", with six ladies acting as Conveners of Standing Committees, and bringing to the meeting their ideas of what constitutes worthwhile programming, and showing graphically some of the things that should be avoided. Mrs. Eva Cromwell, acting as Convenor of Agriculture and Nova Scotia Industries introduced as her guest Bessy, the Educated, Canadian, Bilingual Cow. Bessy proved to be well informed, and made quite a hit with both Mrs. Inglis and Mrs. Cann.

Beaver River Women's Institute was hostess for the Rally. Presiding Officer was Mrs. Inglis acting as Conveners of

W. I. Delegates were present from the four branches who make up the district, and reports showed all branches active. Many worthwhile projects were carried out during the past year.

Officers re-elected for the coming year were Mrs. Elaine Elms, President, Acadiaville; Mrs. Margaret Saulnier, Meteghan River, Lower Sault Ste. Marie; Mrs. Thelma Buckler, Bear River, secretary-treasurer.

Some delightful poems, a demonstration of tanning, pot-luck supper, a sing-song featuring "My Own Canadian Home", also several selections by the Acadiaville members, added to the Rally.

The outstanding feature of this Rally was the spirit of friendliness and co-operation, with three ethnic groups meeting as equals and as friends.

Have your child immunized against MEASLES!

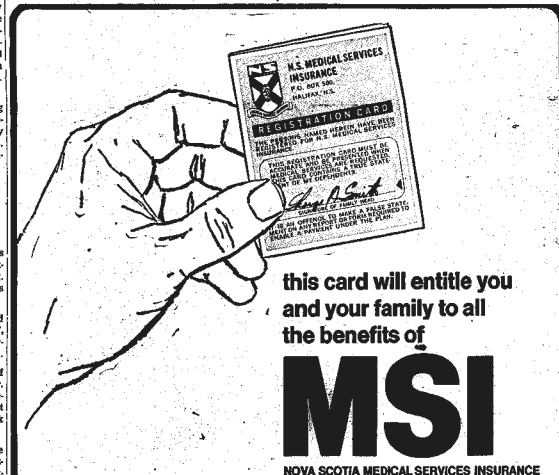

WHY? Because measles can be more than just a harmless childhood disease... it can and has been a killer. Encephalitis or inflammation of the brain is the most serious complication which occurs once in every 1000 cases of measles. Encephalitis ends fatally for 25 per cent of its victims... and tragically for another 33 per cent who are permanently paralyzed or mentally impaired. One in every six children of the seven to nine day variety commonly known as red measles. German (3 day) measles is not the same as regular measles. If you are not sure which type of measles your child has had he should get this vaccine to be sure he is really protected.

WHO? Who should receive measles vaccine? All pre-school children nine months of age, up to and including children in their first year at school, who have not had measles of the seven to nine day variety commonly known as red measles. German (3 day) measles is not the same as regular measles. If you are not sure which type of measles your child has had he should get this vaccine to be sure he is really protected.

HOW? By taking your child to the next public immunization clinic in your area. Adequate protection for your child requires only a single dose. Your signature on a permission slip will be required. For clinic schedules in your area, contact your local public health office.

*It is anticipated that the measles immunization program will be extended to include all susceptible persons regardless of age.

NAME: JAMES J. MEDICAL SERVICES
ADDRESS: 1000 BROADVIEW AVE.
HALIFAX, N.S. B3H 2Y4
DATE OF BIRTH: 10/24/68
DATE OF EXPIRATION: 10/24/69
SIGNATURE: JAMES J. MEDICAL SERVICES
DATE: 10/24/68

this card will entitle you and your family to all the benefits of

MSI
NOVA SCOTIA MEDICAL SERVICES INSURANCE

I will also save time for you and your doctor. Should you or any member of your family require medical attention after April 1st, 1969, your MSI Registration Card will serve as proof of eligibility for benefits. Benefits which include all necessary doctors' services in office, home or hospital for you and your dependents regardless of age or state of health. Your MSI Registration Card, which will be mailed to you before April 1st, 1969, will provide your doctor with sufficient information to properly submit this account to MSI for payment—without delay or inconvenience to you or your doctor.

Registration will take place
November 1st to 16th, 1968

To provide all Nova Scotians with MSI coverage, a house-to-house registration program will be conducted from November 1st to 16th. Along with information on age, marital status and dependents, the registrant will receive the Social Insurance Number of the head of each family. A Social Insurance Number will also be required for each single person eighteen years of age and over and single persons under eighteen years of age who are employed.

Why a Social Insurance Number for MSI Registration?
MSI has decided to use your Social Insurance Number as a means of identification because this number is unique and already identifies Canadians who participate in various Federal programs such as the Canada Pension Plan and Unemployment Insurance. Please keep your Social Insurance Card (or number) handy during the registration period. If you cannot locate your Social Insurance Card, you can find the number on your T-4 Income Tax form, Income Tax receipts or Unemployment Insurance book. If you do not have a Social Insurance Number at all, wait for the registrar to call and he will help you to obtain one.

Please cooperate when the registrar calls
It will speed registration if you have the necessary information ready when the registrar calls. If you are absent from your home during the Registration period (Nov. 1-16), you can arrange to register yourself by contacting the nearest Maritime Medical Care office (after Nov. 16th) or by writing to Nova Scotia Medical Services Insurance, P.O. Box 500, Halifax, Nova Scotia.

It is important that you are registered during the registration period—November 1st to 16th. It will ensure that you will have your MSI Registration Card as proof of eligibility for benefits when the plan comes into effect on April 1st, 1969.

RECENT MARRIAGES

Lewis — Kaulbach

A pretty Fall wedding took place at the United Baptist Church, Digby, at 3 o'clock on Saturday afternoon, October 8, 1968 when Beverly Diane Kaulbach, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Murray C. Kaulbach, Digby, became the bride of Lealand Allen Lewis, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Lewis, Rosaway, Digby Co. The double ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, Rev. Donald E. Robertson.

The church was decorated for the occasion with candles,abra, baskets and standards of white gladioli. Guest presents were marked with two white wedding bells tied with bows and streamers of red ribbon. As the organist, Mrs. D. E. Robertson, played the familiar Bridal Chorus by Wagner, the bride, escorted with her father and took her place beside the groom. She was given in marriage by her father and mother.

Prior to the ceremony, Mr. Stuart MacLean, soloist, of Sheet Harbour, Halifax Co., sang The Lord's Prayer. The bride was radiant in a gown of crystal pail satin, styled with scooped neckline, Empire waist and A-line skirt.

The long tapered sleeves, came to points over the hands and fastened at the wrist with tiny covered buttons. The bodice, skirt and sleeves were trimmed with heart shaped appliques in Viennese lace, embroidered with crystal and pearls. Her long cathedral train, fell from a bow at the shoulders of the gown and was bordered with matching Viennese lace and featured a small bow at the centre of the divided hemline. She wore a four tiered bouffant shoulder length veil of scalloped silk illusion. The head piece was styled with petals of Viennese lace, centred with tiny pearls and outlined with a cluster design of crystal. She carried a triangular cascade of white bridal roses and stephanotis.

Miss Johanna Outhouse, Digby, friend of the bride, was maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown styled with red velvet bodice, scooped neckline, elbow length sleeves, Empire waistline and having straight cut skirt of eggshell colored crepe. A bow of red velvet fell from back of the waist. She wore a hand of white stephanotis in her hair and carried a semi-cascade of white sandal chrysanthemums and feathered red carnations.

The two bridesmaids, Miss

Bonny Ilyson, Smith's Cove, and Miss Lynn Hall, Digby, friends of the bride, wore identical gowns styled with red velvet bodice, scooped neckline, elbow length sleeves and having Empire waistline and straight cut skirt of white crepe adorned with lace of self material fell from the shoulders. They wore headbands of white chrysanthemums and feathered red carnations.

The two flower girls, little Sylviane Prosser, Digby, cousin of the bride and Pamela Lewis, Rosaway, niece of the groom, wore identical gowns styled similar to those of the bridesmaids, having red velvet bodice, round neckline, short sleeves and Empire waistline outlined with white tulle. A large red velvet bow fell from the back of the gown. The flower girls carried bouquets of white chrysanthemums and feathered red carnations.

Best man was Harold Thre-

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 31, 1968

Paul, Brighton, Ushers were Danny O'Neill, Antigonish; Dwight Marshall, Bridgewater; friends of the groom; Randy Davis, Yarmouth, and Bryan Davis, Digby, cousins of the bride.

The bride's mother wore a street length dress of mint green imported lace over tulle, styled with modified A-line skirt and having multiple design at neckline, sleeves and hem. The bodice and elbow length sleeves were embroidered with tiny pearls outlined with silver beads. She wore shoes to match her dress. Her last was styled from white feathers with satin trim. White flowers completed her outfit. Her corsage was pale pink, French chrysanthemums and white stephanotis.

The groom's mother wore a sheath style dress of beige nylon lace over tulle with matching bolero jacket having short sleeves. She wore a pink leather hat and matching pink accessories. Her corsage was white French chrysanthemums and stephanotis.

During the signing of the register, Mr. MacLean sang The Wedding Prayer. The bride and groom were given away by the bride's father, Mr. Murray C. Kaulbach. A reception for approximately 100 guests was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall. The bride's table was attractively decorated with centre piece of white Figli chrysanthemums, gladioli, and aspidistra, and arrangements of tapers and white chrysanthemums, styled by Cameron's Florists.

The toast to the bride was proposed by her uncle, Mr. Ira Davis, Digby, and responded to by the groom. The best man, Harold Threault, proposed the toast to the bridesmaids. Mrs. Ira Davis, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Ronald Dakeshire, aunt of the groom, presided at the top table. Serving the bride's table, were Miss Barbara Olson, Halifax, and Mrs. Charles Hall, Digby. Others serving were: Miss Gail Lewis, Mrs. Alice Andrews, Mrs. Clayton Woodman and Mrs. Arnold Trank.

During the reception, Mr. Larry Woodman, Smith's Cove provided background music of appropriate selections on the piano. Miss Betty Anne Nichols, cousin of the groom, had charge of the guest book. The wedding cake, designed by the bride, was made by her grandmother, Mrs. Charles Kaulbach, and beautifully decorated by P.O. Bill Jones, C.F.B. Cornwallis. The cake featured four tiers topped by a white chapel with wedding veil. The two bottom tiers were designed to represent the front of a church with miniature bride and groom under an archway. Steps leading from the archway were covered in red velvet and decorated with miniature dolls, decorated to represent the bride and groom. The cake was decorated with miniature dolls, decorated to represent the bride and groom. The cake was decorated with miniature dolls, decorated to represent the bride and groom.

A reception for about sixty guests, followed, at the Flamingo Restaurant. The toast to the bride was proposed by Philip Brun, and responded to by the groom. For a wedding trip to Montreal, the bride chose a grey wool suit, with black patent accessories. Her corsage was of red roses.

Out-of-town guests were from Montreal, Saint John, N. B., St. Bernard, St. George's, Nfld., and Weymouth. The double ring ceremony was performed by Father David Stokes.

The Church was decorated for the occasion with an assortment of dahlias, gladioli, and sweet peas. The pew markers were of white peonies with pink ribbons. The bride, given in marriage by her father, looked lovely in a full length gown of white peon de sole with a train which fell from the shoulders. Her four tier shoulder length veil of nylon net had a matching head piece of five peon de sole roses, all of which was made by the bride's mother. She carried a bouquet of red carnations.

The Matron of Honor, Mrs. Jacqueline Amaro, friend of the bride, wore a street length A-line dress of green peon de sole. Her headpiece was of white nylon net with green peon de sole roses. She carried a bouquet of gold mums. The bridesmaid was Miss Connie Amaro, cousin of the bride. Her dress and headpiece was identical to the Matron of Honor, only gold and she carried a bouquet of green mums.

The flower girls were charming in street length dress of dark rose on the yoke style with matching leafage. They carried baskets of pink mums. They were Janet Amaro, sister of the bride and Karen Amaro, cousin of the bride, was ring bearer.

The groom was attended by Bill Amaro, friend of the groom, and John Amaro, brother of the groom. The ushers were Gary Surette, cousin of the bride, and Danny Pettit, friend of the groom. Altar boys were Peter Surette and Peter Amaro.

The bride's mother wore a blue suit with black and white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. The groom's mother wore a blue dress with matching jacket, with black and white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. A reception followed at the Church Hall where approximately one hundred and fifty guests attended. The toast to the bride was given by Father David Stokes and responded to by the groom. Mrs. Harold Surette, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Syd Hall, aunt of the groom, poured. Miss Carol Amaro and Miss Louise Robicheau served the bride's table. Miss Wendy VanTassel was in charge of the guest book. For their honeymoon trip north Nova Scotia and the Cabot Trail the bride chose a teal blue dress with brown accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. The happy couple will reside in Doucetville.

train, also trimmed at the hemline, with lace. Her shoulder length veil of net was caught by ten little white flowers, each centred with a rhinestone. She carried a bouquet of white roses and green fern.

The maid of honour, Miss Jeanne Cousens, of Halifax, sister of the bride, wore a floor length gown of mauve moiré taffeta, princess lines, with a purple velvet sash. Her head dress was a purple velvet bow, and she carried a bouquet of white shasta daisies.

The bridesmaids were the bride's sisters, Mrs. Herbert Robicheau, of Weymouth, and the groom's sister, Miss Eileen Turner of Montreal. Their gowns were identical to that of the maid of honour.

The best man was Jack Turner, St. George's, Nfld., and the ushers were Bill Turner, brother of the groom, and Paul Cousens, brother of the bride.

THIS CARD WILL ENTITLE YOU AND YOUR FAMILY TO ALL THE BENEFITS OF NOVA SCOTIA MEDICAL SERVICES INSURANCE

this card will entitle you and your family to all the benefits of

NOVA SCOTIA MEDICAL SERVICES INSURANCE

It will also save time for you and your doctor. Should you or any member of your family require medical attention after April 1st, 1969, your MSI Registration Card will serve as proof of eligibility for benefits. Benefits which include all necessary doctors' services in office, home or hospital for you and your dependents regardless of age or state of health. Your MSI Registration Card, which will be mailed to you before April 1st, 1969, will provide your doctor with sufficient information to properly submit his account to MSI for payment — without delay or inconvenience to you or your doctor.

Registration will take place November 1st to 16th, 1968

To provide all Nova Scotians with MSI coverage, a house-to-house registration program will be conducted from November 1st to 16th, 1968, with information on age, marital status and dependents, the registrar will require the Social Insurance Number of the head of each family. A Social Insurance Number will also be required for each single person eighteen years of age and over and single persons under eighteen years of age who are employed.

Why a Social Insurance Number for MSI Registration?

MSI has decided to use your Social Insurance Number as a means of identification because this number is unique and already identifies Canadians who participate in various Federal programs such as the Canada Pension Plan and Unemployment Insurance. Please keep your Social Insurance Card (or number) handy during the registration period. If you cannot locate your Social Insurance Card, you can find the number on your Tax Income Tax form, Income Tax receipts or Unemployment Insurance book. If you do not have a Social Insurance Number at all, wait for the registrar to call and he will help you to obtain one.

Please complete when the registrar calls

It will speed registration if you have the necessary information ready when

The bride's mother wore a blue suit with black and white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. The groom's mother wore a blue dress with matching jacket, with black and white accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. A reception followed at the Church Hall where approximately one hundred and fifty guests attended. The toast to the bride was given by Father David Stokes and responded to by the groom. Mrs. Harold Surette, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. Syd Hall, aunt of the groom, poured. Miss Carol Amaro and Miss Louise Robicheau served the bride's table. Miss Wendy VanTassel was in charge of the guest book. For their honeymoon trip north Nova Scotia and the Cabot Trail the bride chose a teal blue dress with brown accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations. The happy couple will reside in Doucetville.

From Our Files

May 15, 1896 -
The Old Time Pirate

Among the greatest enemies to progress in the first days of our country were the pirates who, ever thirsting for gold, and blood if need be, hovered around the coast like eagles scenting carrion. There is perhaps not a country that has not suffered to and Nova Scotia had her full share of freebooters' ravages. The folklore of many districts is filled with stories of the deeds of robbers and kiddy like pirates who by their daring adventures came to be the terror of every hamlet along the coast.

As far back as 1612 we find records of piracy on the Atlantic. One, Peter Easton, commanded ten pirate ships and with these he scoured the waters of the American coast, the Fundy and the Gulf and bays of Newfoundland, pillaging whatever fishing or other settlements he could find. In 1688 a band of pirates took a Portuguese vessel on the coast, threw the men overboard and with the worth of goods conveyed a booty of 3700 valuable articles to a rendezvous near Shelburne where they sold the loot to a Boston fair trader.

Hall's harbor, on the Fundy shore of Kings County, was its name for a noted pirate who in years gone by made this small inlet his hiding-place and centre of action. He was in the habit of leading attacks by night on the farm villages back in the valley and was so skilful that he always eluded discovery, successfully plundering the store houses and carrying the booty to sea before the unsuspecting farmers awoke. As he grew bolder, he followed his thefts by spreading fire on his tracks until Hall and his famous band became veritable demons of destruction. This hall, and numbers of other were privateer-commanders whose base of operations was the Nova Scotian coast from west to east. The war of 1812 gave them an opportunity to follow their nefarious calling under a cloak of respectability, and right zealously they did, with all the possible craftiness and resources of evil-fitted brains. Annapolis suffered greatly from their depredations and was one time completely pillaged. In July of 1812 a privateer from New Brunswick with thirty men anchored at Broad Cove, outside Digby Gut. The militia from Digby went to the place and drove her off, but she returned after two days. The militia again took the alarm and an affair ensued in which the privateer was worsted, two of her crew, including the captain, being taken prisoners.

Scores of other incidences from the early times down to eighty years ago are on record. Men are still hunting for Captain Kidd's buried treasure on Oak Island and there are doubtless hidden somewhere on the coast many other pirate stores. However dismal at the time, the pirates' careers have given an interesting association to numbers of places, for the mysterious always has interest. There is room for the rowdies to embellish upon the folk lore for these districts if he will.

Library Notes

(By Mary Marshall)

The Building Fund Campaign has been started. Letters have gone out to many former Digby people and also to others with a connection here or an interest in the town. Some of the early replies came by return mail, with donations.

A class of students at the Digby Regional High School helped with the campaign by addressing envelopes to be enclosed with an appeal letter.

By doing this, Mrs. Levesque's senior typing class saved much time for the volunteer workers. Perhaps other students will think of ways of making a contribution, such as raising money or sharing some of the work to be done in order to make the building ready to open as a library.

An English class, Grade XI-A, visited the library on one occasion this term with Mr. Dean White, who teaches Senior English. Several of the class already had membership cards and seventeen others their twenty-five cent fee envelopes at a time - one with hand covers and two with paper backs.

On Tuesday of this week the noon-day open house, from 12:15 p.m. to 1:15 p.m., was especially for benefit or bus pupils, although anyone may take advantage of it. On a very stormy day the library would not be open. The Saturday morning hour has not been started.

There have been inquiries from people in the town about how they should make their donations. They are sent to The Digby Library Association, c/o Treasurer, P. O. Box 135, Digby, Nova Scotia. Cheques are payable to Digby Library.

Adult Classes Need Teachers

A lively account of harvest vegetables, preserves and baked goodies highlighted the October meeting of the Glen-Estevale Home & School Association on Wednesday night. The harvest sale netted $81.20. Ab Eltinger was auctioneer.

The Adult Education Classes in sewing, art, bookkeeping and typing were reported to be in difficulties due to a shortage of instructors. Sewing and the bookkeeping and typing classes are to be held in Bear River and interested persons from the Clements district will have to go to Bear River. An art instructor is still unavailable.

A committee was set up to look into providing new equipment for gym classes and the playground. The meeting was chaired by the new president, Mrs. Robert Sanford. Attendance was good, with about thirty present, including four teachers. The "Top Dog" award for best Home & School attendance was presented to Mrs. Frances Long for Grades II and III.

payer, by a house-to-house canvass in a concentrated period of time.

A canvass by mail would be most unsatisfactory, inefficient and actually more expensive than the house-to-house method. As a result of the Commission's studies, it has advised that a canvass may normally elicit a reply of not more than 65 per cent at best and of these replies only about half can be expected to be reliable. To make up the shortage it would be necessary to conduct repeated door-to-door canvasses or even introduce a new method at extremely high cost.

Mr. Donahoe said the importance of obtaining accurate information cannot be overestimated because computers will be used to handle the transactions and information that is fed into the machines must be complete and accurate in every respect. Though insurance processes claims relating to an average daily admission of 400 people while with MSI it is expected that 10,000 claims a day will be processed.

It has been suggested Mr. Donahoe said, that doctors can handle the registration when patients come to them, for medical services. In the first place, he stated, physicians are going to be faced with a substantial increase in demand for their services and asking them to take on more administrative duties would be quite impracticable. Many doctors must practice without the benefit of clerical assistance. Time spent by such doctors on clerical work can only detract from the total income.

It is misleading to say that Ottawa can supply a list for registration. Mr. Donahoe argued. Some sources in Ottawa might provide partial lists of some residents of Nova Scotia but for various reasons these would be of little value for accurate registration. Since Social Insurance lists group all residents of the Atlantic Provinces together, no separate list for Nova Scotia is available. Even if such a list of Nova Scotia Social Insurance Numbers could be supplied by Ottawa, it would be incomplete and, in many cases, at least five years out-of-date. In addition, there would be no guarantee that the persons whose names appeared on a list of this kind were still residents of Nova Scotia. It would require many costly man-hours even to estimate the inaccuracies.

Official Opening Regional Vocational School

Nova Scotia Minister of Education, the Honourable Gerald J. Dineen, will officiate at the official opening ceremonies of the Annapolis Regional Vocational School in Middleton on Wednesday, November 5th, at 7:30 p.m.

The presentation of the building keys will be made by the Honourable George Snow, Minister of Public Works. With this official opening the province of Nova Scotia will have completed one more phase in its expansion program available for the rendering of medical services.

It is misleading to say that Ottawa can supply a list for registration. Mr. Donahoe argued. Some sources in Ottawa might provide partial lists of some residents of Nova Scotia but for various reasons these would be of little value for accurate registration. Since Social Insurance lists group all residents of the Atlantic Provinces together, no separate list for Nova Scotia is available. Even if such a list of Nova Scotia Social Insurance Numbers could be supplied by Ottawa, it would be incomplete and, in many cases, at least five years out-of-date. In addition, there would be no guarantee that the persons whose names appeared on a list of this kind were still residents of Nova Scotia. It would require many costly man-hours even to estimate the inaccuracies.

The school opened on September 16th, with the greater number of students enrolled from the area serviced by the school - Annapolis County, Digby County, the Western end of Kings County. About 25 students from Lunenburg and Queens County have been accepted for training in various courses where there were openings. This opportunity was granted due to the year's delay in opening the Vocational School for that area.

Enrollment for the 1959-60 year in the 10 courses offered is 235, with the number of students in the following school year expected to more than double the present enrollment. At that time, the number of courses will be increased to 22. Each course will be of two years duration. The school day is six hours long with about five-fifths of the time spent in the occupational shops where the students learn technical skills. The rest of the day is spent learning shop theory, together with one period each of date-related subjects of mathematics, science, and communications (English and social studies).

There are 23 shops in the school with 7 smaller shops, classrooms, and 11 related subject classrooms, laboratory, gymnasium-cafeteria, audio-visual and lecture room and other supplementary service areas. Most of the shops and the shop classrooms are in use, with half of the related subject classrooms in use. The school will be in total operation in the next term as the first year students move into the second year.

Since opening day, the cafeteria has been the training area for those enrolled in the cooking course. These students prepare the noon meals for staff of students and the supervision of the cooking instructor.

Vocational school pupils do not receive any training allowance, but transportation is provided for those living along the bus route. There is a boarding allowance for those students who find it difficult, because of location, to travel on the bus. The school bus system is operated under contract by Jack Turner, Kingswood Motors, Kingston.

The students have elected the members of their Student Council, and have a membership of 19 including Paul Clements, of Bridgetown, President; Ricki Robicheau, Westport, Vice-president; and Gary Simon, of Bridgetown, Secretary. The Council has been active in the organization of its council, fund raising and planning social activities.

During this fall the facilities of the school will be used for a Training in Welding and Electrical Construction Wiring. The new modern structure was designed by Halifax Architects, Leslie R. Falm and Associates and was constructed by Modern Construction Ltd., Moncton. It will cost approximately $3,000,000 when fully equipped.

Rev. David Turner Roll Call Speaker

Rev. David Turner, Baptist minister at Lower Granville, was guest speaker at the Roll Call service at St. Smith's Church on Sunday evening.

He compared the kind of people who receive the Christian way of life to a sponge people from which the water simply rolls off, the spongy people who soak up but never pass on to others, the sponge people who soak up but never give out to others until the pressure is on and to the sponge people who once they receive, cannot help but pass on their Christianity to others.

The church, he said, is only as effective as its members.

The service was conducted by the pastor of the church, Rev. Charles Milbury, Grace United Church, Digby, under leadership of Norman Wright and Mrs. Eileen Arnold, organist, provided the special music, with an anthem, Our God Is Great. Mr. Wright and Mrs. Gerald Wilson sang the duet, When I Look On His Face, and Mrs. J. M. Wallis was heard in the solo, Thy Will Be Done, by J. Truman Wolcott. Mrs. J. J. Wallis, church organist, presided at the organ for hymns and voluntaries.

Eric Kinsman called the roll, to which the members responded by a scripture passage. Letters from non-resident members were read by Mr. Milbury.

Flowers were placed in the church by Miss Katherine Wolt in memory of her brother.

To Plan County Programs

A public meeting with representatives of community organizations, service clubs and the various communities throughout Digby County will be held at St. Ann's on November 5th, at 8 o'clock on the evening of November 5th. The purpose of the meeting is to continue the planning effort to arrange for programs and other activities designed to improve economic and other conditions throughout the County.

The meeting at St. Ann's on November 5th is the result of a series of meetings that have been held in various communities throughout the County to determine the felt needs of the people of these various communities. Meetings have also been held with a number of organizations in this connection.

It is hoped that at the meeting plans can be made for carrying out of programs in Adult Education dealing with agriculture, industrial development, academic courses and other such programming in order to meet some of the needs that have been expressed by people of the various parts of the County for development of the area.

The meeting at St. Ann's is open to all of the citizens of Digby County who are interested in the development of the County.

Those who have been responsible for the planning for this meeting are hopeful that there will be a good representation of all the citizens from the County at the meeting. Because of the fact that plans are to be made for development in all of the various sectors of the economy of the area, it is hoped that there will be a good representation from fishermen, farmers, lumbermen, businessmen, professional people, housewives, students and others from the whole County.

At the meeting time will be provided for group discussion of problems affecting the County and these will be reported after consideration by the group to the general

fight, they had kept the faith, Mr. Clayton said, as he challenged the audience to take up the legacy and continue in the great ministry which was so much a part of the lives of those in whose memory they had gathered.

The choir rendered several special selections: Tell It On The Mountain, Well Done, and One More River To Cross, in which Amanda Crowwell was obligato soloist. Miss Crowwell is church organist.

Miss Crowwell, who possesses an exceptionally fine lyric voice, was heard in a vocal solo as she accompanied herself at the organ. A Grade 10 academic student at Digby Regional High School, Miss Crowwell looks forward to the future. Her early musical training in piano was under Mrs. Kenneth Gorvett, and Ann Britton, Mrs. Louise Stearns, Mrs. Roy Poirer, Miss Bonnie Wright and Miss Margaret Snow. She is a granddaughter of Deacon William Barton, who unveiled the photograph.

The offering for the afternoon is to be divided between the House For Colored Children, at Dartmouth, which Mr. Anderson had supported so loyally for many years and overseas mission, for which Mr. Atkinson had striven through the work of the Atlantic Baptist Convention.

meeting. Following this planning committee will take on the job of trying to seek out ways and means of meeting the needs at the preliminary meetings and at the general meeting at St. Ann's.

Entertain Rebekahs President

Zelma Rebekah Lodge, No. 78, entertained Sister Marion Smith, of Halifax, President of the Rebekah Assembly of the Atlantic Province, at their regular meeting on Monday evening. The meeting was presided over by the Noble Grand, which Amanda Crowwell was obligato soloist. Miss Crowwell is church organist.

Following opening of the Lodge the general routine of business was carried out and the Rebekah Degree conferred on Mrs. Deana Frost, Mrs. Lillian Addington, and Mrs. Dorcen Trank. Soloists for the evening were Sisters Helen Daley, Patricia Wilson and Victoria Graham, accompanied by Sister Ethel Turnbull at the piano.

Sister Smith addressed the large number present on the work of the order, and was presented with a gift on behalf of the Lodge by Sister Vera Morgan. At the close of the meeting refreshments were served by the committee in charge, and a social hour followed, with a number of musical selections by Sister Bess Hayden.

BEAR RIVER H. & S. MEETS

The monthly meeting of the Oakdale Home and School Association was held October 28th, with the president, Jack Harris in the chair.

Following the business meeting a skit was acted and games enjoyed. Refreshments were served at the close.

Smith Addresses Youth Organization

The days of seeking a good life as an end in itself are over, Digby Mayor Glen W. Smith told the audience at the installation of officers of the Acadiaville-Conway Youth Organization.

Mayor Smith said the good life for the individual must be the means to a higher end if we are to survive. He stressed the need for involvement of youth in works designed to promote the welfare of their neighbours and associates. In this regard, he said, cooperation must be the watchword.

Parents, the Mayor said, have a responsibility to inculcate by their own example a strong sense of community spirit in their children. The material well being of the individual must be matched by the well being of the society and the world in which he lives. Communities, he said, cannot thrive unless the individuals who compose them work toward this end in cooperation with their fellows. He stressed the need for youth to provide leadership. Too often, he said, young people are satisfied to be led and are unwilling to pay the price which true leadership demands.

Speaking to the newly installed executive members, the Mayor said that while their new offices gave them authority they also imposed responsibility. This responsibility must be prepared to accept and discharge.

Digby Municipal Warden Ronald Morehouse installed Graham Miller as the President of the newly formed Acadiaville-Conway Youth Organization. Other officers installed by Warden Morehouse were: Laurence Miller, Vice President; Calvin Barton, Treasurer; and Alfredo Bell, Secretary. Executive members installed were Reginald Cromwell and Howard Barton.

J. J. Potthier, of the Manpower office in Digby, spoke briefly and urged the young people to look toward the attainment of high personal and community goals. He urged tolerance and understanding in their dealings with others and an acknowledgement of their own and others' weaknesses and strengths.

Mrs. Eleanor Elms, Vice President of the Acadiaville Community Betterment Association, welcomed the new Youth Organization and expressed the hope that the young people would accept their responsibilities toward community development. She outlined work already undertaken in the community by the youth organizations and said these groups welcomed the enthusiasm of youth in the carrying forward of the aims and ideals of these organizations.

We are greatly concerned about our youth, she said, and we have faith in their ability to meet and overcome many of the difficulties they face.

A table tennis board, donated to the young people's organization by C. & M. Products of Digby, was presented by R. Baden Powell, Digby M.L.A. Mr. Powell commended the young people on the formation of their new organization and commented on the progress made in the community over the years. He said he was impressed with the success of the adult education courses and other community efforts.

During the evening, awards in the Home Gardening contest, sponsored by the Betterment Association, were presented.

The first prize award was presented by Mr. Powell to Whitfield Barton, Victor Cardona, secretary of the Digby Area Resource Development Council, presented second and third prize awards to Fred Guy and Arthur Francis.

The invocation at the meeting was pronounced by Rev. George Morris of Digby. Charles Francis acted as chairman of the opening session, with Graham Miller acting as chairman for the remainder of the meeting. Remarks were made by S. S. Bawey, social development officer, and the thanks of the young people were expressed at the close of the meeting by Alfredo Hill. Refreshments were served by the ladies of the community.

Leaves For Chegoggin

Rev. and Mrs. George Brydon, Deep Brook, will leave shortly to take up residence in Chegoggin, Yarmouth Co., where Mr. Brydon will be interim pastor in the Baptist Church.

Rev. Mr. Brydon retired from active ministry some years ago and settled in Deep Brook, where he and Mrs. Brydon operated the well known Brydon's Motel. The motel, it is understood, will be operated by his son, while Mr. Brydon is in the pulpit.

Urges St. Ann's Stay

On Monday the senior students at Clare district high school, Meteghan River, had the privilege of hearing the Hon. L. D. Currie, Q.C., former Chief Justice of Nova Scotia, who was visiting friends along St. Mary's Bay.

Before an audience of eager listeners, he confirmed his faith in the youth of today and especially those of the Acadian shore. He encouraged them to accept their role as the "leaders of tomorrow." The Acadians, he said, have a culture all their own and have striven, in spite of countless setbacks, to preserve this precious heritage handed down to them by their Celtic ancestors.

He placed special emphasis on the fact that the rocky shores and the soft forests of St. Mary's Bay are not sufficient to maintain a standard of living comparable to that of other parts of Canada. "It is regrettable," he continued, "that so many young people have this reason to seek employment elsewhere."

To alleviate this situation, he suggested that a thorough reassessment of our present resources, both cultural and material, be made and a well organized plan for future development be formulated.

Hon. Mr. Currie added, "Our richest cultural centre, St. Ann's College, has served Acadians for 78 years. It is here that our past leaders have been formed; it is here that our young Acadian leaders of today must have the opportunity of receiving that same formation."

"St. Ann's College must stay in Church Point," the former Chief Justice stressed. He strongly advocated that, in conjunction with this college, a vocational school be built in Church Point. Such a school would offer courses relevant to the needs of the Acadian people, such as: navigation, fish processing, shipbuilding, mechanics, etc.

In concluding, he appealed to the young to develop those innate potentialities, capabilities and leadership qualities that will lead Canada, and especially the Acadian shore, to a successful and secure future.

Autumn

The Summer days have come and gone
The heat has turned to chilly breeze
And so far away across the hills
We see bright color in the trees.

The leaves are falling to the ground
That fluttered in the summer sun
And so to Earth they lie and rest
Because their seasons task is done.

The birds have gone to warmer lands
We watch them slowly fly away
May God protect them as they go
And bring them back another day.

And as the seasons come and go
We bow our heads and hearts to pray,
The One who made the flowers sweet
Still watches over us today.

Mrs. Eugene (Viola) Dexter

PRIME URGES TEST FOR HUNTERS

Some system of compulsory testing to qualify for a hunting licence in Nova Scotia will have to be considered to curb accidents, many of them fatal, according to director of wildlife conservation, Merrill Prime.

Such a system might require a test in the handling of firearms, conservation and other relevant matters, before a hunting licence was granted.

Mr. Prime said hunting safety programs have been carried on by the extension department of department of lands and forests since 1961, with co-operation of fish and game groups and gun clubs. However, the number of trained hunters in the province in 1967 was only 500, out of some 75,000.

"We are very much concerned about the number of hunting accidents each year in the province," said Mr. Prime.

According to data supplied by A. F. Crow, chief instructor, hunter safety program, the hunter accident rate from 1961 to 1966 was 100 accidents. In the six years previous to 1961, when the safety program started, there were 122 accidents. Principal cause of accidents appeared to be the accidental discharge of weapons, personal and in the hands of others.

The highest number of accidents involved persons under the age of 20 years who were responsible for over 46 per cent of accidental shooting of others. An average of 42 per cent of the victims were in the under-20 age group.

Shot guns were involved in the highest number of accidents, high-powered rifles next, then .22 calibre rifles.

Mr. Crow says that the lost hunter or fisherman is also a growing problem. Twenty-four people were lost, on the average, per year, between 1961-66. Wider education in the use of maps and compass was essential. "It appears that the fish and game associations, gun clubs and general public are becoming more concerned with hunting safety and survival.

"They are asking for rigorous rules governing gun safety with a view towards the need for mandatory safety training in the future."

Remembrance Day Activities, Branch No. 20, Digby

This year the annual Church Parade will be made to the Grace United Church, Sunday, November 10th. Members of the Legion Ladies Auxiliary and veterans will form up at the Fire Hall, 1st Avenue at 10:45 a.m. Lloyd Hicks will be parade marshal for this occasion. Dress for this occasion will include berets and medals if possible. After the service we will return to the Fire Hall, dismiss, and thence to the Legion Hall to finalize the plans for 11th of November.

The 11th of November Parade will form up at the old airforce barracks, Maiden Lane, Comrade Lloyd Hicks will be parade marshal and we will fall in at 10:30 a.m. The Legion, accompanied by Veterans, Ladies Auxiliary, Sea Cadets and Boy Scouts will march to the monument where the service will follow with the Benediction by Reverend D. Robertson of the Baptist Church, Silence, Last Post and Reveille, Reading of the Honour Roll, Laying of wreaths, march past and dismiss at the place of beginning.

The 11th of November Banquet will be at the Legion Hall, Shore Road at 7 p.m. All Legion members and their wives, Ladies Auxiliary, Veterans and their wives are welcome. There will be a charge of $1.25 per plate. The catering is being done by a group from the Base, this will enable the Ladies Auxiliary to join us for this occasion, as they certainly deserve it, having worked so hard all year at banquets, etc.

His Worship Comrade Glen Smith, Mayor of Digby will be the guest speaker. After the banquet there will be a dance according to plans now. I would like to ask you all to please let us know by mail or phone by November 9th if you plan to attend so we can tell the caterers how many to prepare for. Mail to Tom Cleveland, Sec. Legion or call Legion Hall 245-4070 or Jack Nichols 245-2351. Leave your names and the number coming.

Jack Nichols,
President

Unemployment Insurance - Any Questions Please?

(Mrs. D. A. Roop)

WHY MUST I HAVE A SOCIAL INSURANCE NUMBER?

Q. Why must I have a Social Insurance number?

A. If you are employed in insurable employment it is used for your Unemployment Insurance contribution record. It is also used to record your contributions under the Canada Pension Plan, Le Régime des rentes du Québec, and must be indicated when you file an Income Tax return.

The Unemployment Insurance Commission has passed on answers to some of the questions that have puzzled contributors. Your question too can be referred to this feature for reply.

Q. I have an employee who is going on vacation for one week and then returning to work. Should I put a stamp in his book for the week he is on holiday?

A. You did not state if the employee would be receiving vacation pay for the week he is on holidays. If the employee is paid for the week a contribution is required. Contributions are not required for a vacation period without pay.

Q. I pay my employees every two weeks. What should I do if an employee works one week and is on vacation the next. Should I put two stamps in his book, one for the week he worked and one for the week he was on holiday?

A. If the employee is paid for the week of vacation two contributions are required, one for the week of employment and one for the vacation period. If the employee is not paid for the vacation period a contribution is not required for this week.

Meet The Teachers

Leola Marie Lewis attended Weymouth School and had her final year in Weymouth Consolidated High School, being one of the members of the first Grade XII graduating class in the new school. She was also Secretary-Treasurer of the Student's Council that year.

Miss Lewis graduated from the Nova Scotia Teachers College, Truro, in 1950. The following two summers she attended the Nova Scotia Summer School in Halifax, taking courses in reading, guidance, primary curriculum and working with exceptional children.

She spent four additional summers at the same summer school, also taking the primary education block, graduating in 1960. During the four years course, every subject on the primary curriculum was studied.

Miss Lewis has been on the staff of Weymouth Consolidated School for nine years. At present she is teaching Grade III, with thirty-one pupils.

Mrs. Muriel C. Coonan, a teacher of a Grade VI class, needs no introduction to this area, since she received all her primary and high school education in Weymouth Academy.

the former Muriel C. Hankinson.

After completing Grade XII, Miss Hankinson graduated from the Provincial Normal College at Truro with a Superior First Certificate, which gave her an "A" Class license.

She later attended the Nova Scotia Teachers Summer School for two summers.

Her first two years of teaching were spent in a rural school in Wilton, Annapolis County. Following those two years she returned to teach a class of Grade III and IV students in Weymouth. After two years of service here she decided to leave the teaching profession. Upon successfully completing Civil Service exams, she joined the staff of the local Royal Bank of Canada. In 1943 she married Wilfred E. Coonan, who at that time was a S/Sgt. in the Canadian Army Dental Corps in the Administration Dept. at M.D. No. 6, Halifax, N. S., and so she received a transfer to the main office of the Royal Bank of Canada in Halifax.

In 1951 Mrs. Coonan returned to school to teach a class of Grades II and III students in Weymouth School. Since that time she has continued on the staff either as a full time or substitute teacher.

Besides being involved with the school programme, Mrs. Coonan has always been very active in the Weymouth Education work sponsored by the Churches of Christ (Disciples). She has taught Sunday School for many years, acted as Adult Advisor to the youth group of the local church and is presently Adult Advisor for the Nova Scotia Christian Youth Fellowship.

During the summer she spends one or two weeks as a Counselor or Director of Camp at Johnston Christian Park. For the past three years she has been chairman of the Camp Programme Committee for the camp work of the Churches of Christ (Disciples) for Nova Scotia.

Mrs. Coonan has two children — David, a partner in the Wilfred E. Coonan & Partners, Insurance Co., and Patricia, a teacher of a Grade I class in the Alderney School, Dartmouth, N.S.

Mrs. Anna Rice, Mrs. Anna Bellevue, Mrs. L. Doucet and Mrs. Avis Manner have all been on the sick list. Substitutes for these teachers were Audrey Frankland, Mrs. Amy Lewis and Mrs. Shirley Baldwin.

A Child Health Conference was held at the school on Monday.

Farewells Held

A gathering for the Rev. and Mrs. A. G. Peters was held at Killam Hall immediately following the evening service on Sunday, when members and friends of St. Peter's Parish congregated to say farewell to the couple.

Mr. and Mrs. Peters have been in the parish for nearly five years, and have both been active in church and community affairs. They will be greatly missed in the community.

Clare Ruggles, Clerk of the Vestry, thanked the couple for their friendship and services to the church, and said that it was with deep regret that they had gathered to say farewell.

Mr. Peters was presented with a desk and chair as a memento of his stay here, and at a former gathering of the A.C.W. Mrs. Peters was presented with a Royal Doulton floral centerpiece.

Mr. Peters in a few well chosen words expressed their regrets in leaving, and said there would be many outstanding memories throughout the future of his first parish. He thanked the group for their friendship and cooperation throughout his pastorate here.

Mr. and Mrs. Peters left this week for Annapolis Royal, where Mr. Peters will be rector of St. Luke's parish.

On Thursday evening St. Matthew's Church held a reception in their hall for the couple. Mr. Peters was presented with a purse of money by Mr. Gifford Jarvis, on behalf of the church. The children were also given a gift of money from the Guild by Mrs. Beulah Jarvis, Sheila Gay, on behalf of the G.A. gave Mrs. "The Mount and the Valley" and "The Coldest Month".

Ripe Red Berries

Whether the cooler temperature and the rain last night denied R. C. Specht of Barton and his brother their anticipated dessert fresh from the field is not known. They were expecting to be able to pick enough ripe red strawberries for supper if the warm weather lasted a few more days. To prove it they forwarded a sample to the editor.

After a second serving they might have used raspberries, both blueberries and raspberries were growing in the field.

Roll Call At Sandy Cove

The annual Roll Call service of the United Baptist Church, Sandy Cove, was held Sunday evening.

The pastor, Lic. W. H. Becham, formerly of St. John's, Newfoundland, opened the service with prayer.

Guest speaker, Pastor H. Ivany, formerly of Newfoundland, read the scripture, which was taken from St. John 3:16.

A solo entitled "He" was rendered by Michael Trask, Sandy Cove, followed by prayer by a former pastor, Lic. Hayward Baker, Springfield, N.S.

Pastor H. Ivany sang "I Found The Answer, I Learned To Pray". The roll was called by the Clerk, Mrs. A. Dutton Sypher, who also read the responses from absent members.

Mr. Becham read the church covenant. A duet, "How Long Has It Been", was sung by the Misses Carolyn Raymond and Claudia Todd, of Little River.

Pastor Ivany took his text from St. John's gospel, theme, "Man's Helplessness and God's Power". The Roll Call offering amounted to $150.75.

Hallowe'en

What are these funny faces knocking at my door?

Goblins, ghosts and skeletons and witches by the score. They somehow seem familiar as they holler "Trick or Treat!" When tomorrow comes, I wonder if I'll know them when we meet. Hallowe'en is just the night for goblins to be out, when witches on their broomsticks are flying all about. Why is it on this spooky night in which the children take delight, my mind goes back to days gone by. When witches flew across the sky and ghosts and goblins liked to roam and through the darkness chase us home? Now suddenly, so suddenly, there are no years between, with "Trick or Treat" for young and old, once more it's Hallowe'en!

CONSIDER CAMERON TENDER FAVOURABLY

On Thursday last week the Digby Regional High School Board under chairmanship of Dr. P. E. Lewis, a provincial government representative, the architect and representatives from three of the bidding companies met at the Town Hall to open tenders for the building of the new comprehensive wing to the high school. Lowest tender, that of Cameron Contracting Ltd., Halifax, exceeded the amount which had been planned for the school necessitating an emergency meeting on Sunday afternoon following consultation with the architect.

At the emergency meeting attended by Dr. Lewis, F. C. Purdy, Mayor Gordon Smith, Robert Shortliffe, Aubrey Forrest and Warden Ronald Morhouse the architect was given authorization to negotiate with the contractors in accordance with the Canadian Construction Association Code of Ethics and the Board was then to report his findings and the board would make a decision.

On Monday, having received the finding from the architect the board was again called to meet at the Town Hall when on motion of Robert Shortliffe, seconded by Mayor Gordon Smith, the revised tender of Cameron Contracting Ltd. was accepted in principle, subject to approval from federal authorities regarding grants. It is expected that if Ottawa's approval is forthcoming the school should be built, equipped and ready for the school term of September 1969.

In order to reduce the price a number of substitutions had to be made but no cost was there any sacrifice of quality or necessary equipment. The final tender of $700,000 all inclusive, of Cameron's was the accepted figure. In addition there was $46,000 for architects fees. These figures, it is understood, come within the Town Policy.

Nearly 400 Children Entertained At Hallowe'en Party

More than three hundred and fifty children attended the Hallowe'en party sponsored by the Digby Lions Club at their hall on Thursday evening. In charge of the function was Lion John Walker. In the picture Mr. Walker is seen distributing the prizes to the costume winners judged by Mrs. Cherie Rice and Mrs. Victor Kynock, assisted by David Deloy.

Prize winners were: (girls)—1st, Sandra Thomas; 2nd, Cheryl Donnelly; 3rd, Joan Fawcett; 4th, Valerie Connell; 5th, Chrissa Wood; 6th, Chrissa Connell; 7th, Kim Mays; 8th, Kathy Donnelly. Others were Laurence Winchester, Brenda Smith, Sherry Kynock, Pamela Griffiths, Corrine Amers, Sharon Kynock, Janice Berry, Gail Dalziel, Billie Miller and Shelly Bailey.

Reidar Bernstein who arrived from Boston on Sunday where Mr. Bernstein is a patient in the Massachusetts General Hospital, attended the formal dedication of the Shriners Burns Institute in St. Louis, Mo., on July 1st, 1967. Since the people voted for this government, it has to be accepted that the majority of the people want a Medicare Plan, said Gerald R. Rice, M.L.A. for Colchester Co., when he addressed the annual meeting of the Progressive Conservative Association of the Electoral District of Digby. "When the Provincial Conservative Government went to the people in May 1967, knowing by vote nationally it appeared to be wanted, and knowing that taxes federally would be levied to pay for 50 per cent of the cost, the Provincial Government also asked for approval to implement a Medicare Plan by including it in their Election Campaign. Again, Mr. Rice said, the majority of the people responded by reelecting the Progressive Conservative Government."

Handicapped Children The Losers

The children at the Children's Home, Digby, were the losers when four big boys pounced on thirteen-year-old Douglas Lewis, Queen Street, on Hallowe'en night and made away with the treats he had collected.

Douglas, a small slender, Doreen, Fred and Glen Adams were enjoying the Hallowe'en fun when the "bullies" happened along and stole the pillow case and all its contents. Doreen shared with her brother on the family table where the children at the home. Douglas is a son of Mrs. Verda Lewis. He had given his treats to the home in 1967 and intended to do the same in 1968.

Accident

Stephen Donald Shaw, of Centerville received minor cuts and bruises late Friday afternoon when the car he was driving left the highway and overturned several times in a clump of bushes. The car was extensively damaged. He was treated in Digby General Hospital. The accident occurred near Beaver Brook Farms on the Digby Neck Highway. Investigation is being carried out by the RCMP and Digby Police.

Dragger Sinks

The scallop dragger "Melodan 6" sank in the "Melodan Basin" Tuesday after hitting a log. Details are scarce but it is believed all equipment was saved with the ship. Malcolm Greger, of Hillsburn, was captain. It is understood the boat was owned by Raymond Lent, of Digby.

People Wanted Medicare

"The Canadian people had a choice in 1965 because Medicare was the main plank in the Liberal Campaign which resulted in their election. They promised it as a birthday gift to the Canadian people."

The arrangement that is being worked out with the water transportation committee of the Canadian Transport Commission is that the C.P.R. will acquire and provide a ship and the government will assist in arriving at an arrangement between the two parties, said Mr. Hellyer, and this is proceeding satisfactorily.

Father LeBlanc Arrives With Broken Ankle

Rev. Father Thomas LeBlanc arrived in Plympton at parish priest at Holy Cross Church and had his first mass there on Sunday since he took up his new duties. He has one handicap. In the course of moving from Middleton to Plympton a work bench fell on his foot, breaking the ankle so that Father LeBlanc goes about with one foot in a cast.

Well Known Vocalist To Appear Here

Rev. Father David Stokes, former priest at Holy Cross Church, will be accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Lillian Nichols of Digby.

November Session Town Council

The letter from Mr. Jayne informed council that over a period of the last four years his firm had averaged a yearly loss of about $3,000.00 to $4,000.00 in the operation of their ambulance service. Council decided to meet specially to discuss the matter that is vital to everyone in the area. A full report is expected to be given at next month's council meeting.

Leave of Absence Request Turned Down

A request by Constable Stanley Vidito of the town police force for a leave of absence without pay until March was turned down by council. Mr. Vidito asked to be relieved of duties from November to March so he could operate the Digby Youth Centre as he has done in other recent years.

NOVEMBER SESSION TOWN COUNCIL

R. Bernstein told Digby Town Council that while on a recent trip to Boston he had visited their Chamber of Commerce and was shown a feasibility study of the Boston area. He said there is a great deal of interest there concerning a ferry service to Nova Scotia. Their talks also included industrial development possibilities. Mr. Bernstein addressed the Digby Council at a special November meeting, held Monday evening.

Considerable discussion arose concerning a letter received from Jaynes Funeral Home which stated their ambulance service would be discontinued as of January 1st.

The letter from Mr. Jayne informed council that over a period of the last four years his firm had averaged a yearly loss of about $3,000.00 to $4,000.00 in the operation of their ambulance service. Council decided to meet specially to discuss the matter that is vital to everyone in the area. A full report is expected to be given at next month's council meeting.

Councillor E. Y. Porter stated that a leave of absence for five months would be blocking a position. The vacancy should be filled and in March if another vacancy exists Mr. Vidito should apply for such a position then, he said. Mr. Porter moved that Mr. Vidito's position be declared vacant and a meeting of the police committee be held to discuss a replacement.

Mayor Smith had high praise for Mr. Vidito and voiced appreciation of his efforts, noting his ability to get along favorably with the youth of the town. The town clerk was instructed to write Mr. Vidito telling of the decision and thanking him for past good will with the police department.

Life Saving Boat In Drydock

The Bay View Life Saving Boat is at Saint John's. It left last Thursday morning for drydock, accompanied by the Captain, Harry V. Adams. Other members of the crew were Eugene Burns and Richard Joudrey.

County Committee To Study Problems And Remedies

At a public meeting held at St. Ann's College, Church Point on Tuesday evening a committee was formed to analyze the findings from group sessions on Tuesday morning and report back to a similar meeting set for December 3 at 8 p.m. More than eighty attended the meeting on Tuesday evening and it is hoped that the next meeting will have still more interested persons attending. The committee is also charged with the duty of bringing in suggestions on how to overcome adverse problems and how to proceed with making economic conditions within Digby County better. The committee named added twelve to the original committee. On the committee are John Doucet, chairman; Father Blaise Colville; Raymond LeBlanc; Morris Belliveau; V. G. Carozza; J. J. Pottinger; Sam Bancey; Mrs. R. A. Armstrong; Mayor G. R. Smith; Bernard LeBlanc; William LeFort; Pierre Bel.

Snake Story Was Prefabrication

We have the largest strawberry plantation in Canada, right here in Digby, said R. Baden Powell, M.L.A., and our own citizens run it down. Mr. Powell was addressing the annual P.C. Association meeting of the Electoral District of Digby held at the Lions Club Hall on Monday night. The story which was told last summer that a carload of snakes was brought in to kill the bugs on the farm was out and out prefabrication told in order to try to kill the project, said Mr. Powell in a heated voice.

Remembrance Day Activities Branch No. 20

This year the annual Church Parade will be made to the Grace United Church, Sunday, November 10th. Members of the Legion Ladies Auxiliary and veterans will form up at the Fire Hall, 1st Avenue at 10:45 a.m. Lloyd Hicks will be parade marshal for this occasion. Dress for this occasion will include berets and medals if possible. After the service they will return to the Fire Hall, 11th, and thence to the Legion Hall to finalize the plans for 11th of November.

Library Fund Grows

The Digby Library Association has purchased the Woodrow House on Main Street Row and has set a goal of $6000 for the campaign raising funds to pay for their project.

The campaign gets under way on Thursday and continues to November 18. Chairman of the overall campaign is H. Sutherland of the Bank of Nova Scotia. Digby, and Mrs. E. H. Anderson has the town. A special solicitation of the business district will be made. Mrs. H. L. Warren is treasurer.

Two hundred letters had been put in the mails and the response so far, including donations from as far away as Porto Rico, amounted to $1400. This is indicated on the thermometer which will appear in the Digby Courier during the duration of the campaign. Watch it rise.

of them thrown", the Chief added.

Mayor Smith congratulated the police, children and parents for making a Digby night in Digby a peaceful one. He made special mention of the Lions Club party which entertained about four hundred youngsters and kept them out of mischief.

Water Situation

The Mayor reported that a water emergency still exists in the town of Digby. Unforeseen problems had come up and the last two artesian wells to be drilled have not as yet been joined to the main water system as had been earlier planned, he stated. Pipes have been laid and pumps are ready for operation making two wells ready to be joined noted that the problem would be overcome if the ditch could be deepened about a foot. The superintendent of streets and town engineer were instructed to investigate the matter.

Winter Works

Council decided to discontinue their winter works program and not enter the one as outlined by the Provincial Government. It was felt that the cost of such a program would be a burden to the town at this time.

Minor Fires

The Digby Fire Department has reported several minor fires during the month of October. The mayor remarked that there have been no serious fires since the winter emergency was declared early in September. He also praised the efforts of Digby P.M.O. director, Ray Turnbull, throughout the crisis. All details were well organized during the peak of the emergency, he said.

Capital Budgeting

Town Clerk, J. F. Whalley, gave a brief summary of the new capital budgeting scheme coming into effect. This is a new plan under the Provincial government whereby municipalities must project costs for a period of five years to be eligible for provincial grants. Mr. Whalley recently attended a special briefing course on the scheme. Digby council plans to meet specially to study the plan.

Marriage

[Ross — Merritt]

A quiet but pretty wedding took place Saturday, October 26 at 6:00 p.m. at the Digby United Baptist Church, when Sharon Doris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Allison Merritt, and Mr. Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ross, of Digby, were united in marriage. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. D. E. Robertson. The bride was charming in her white lace street length gown with shoulder length veil and carrying a bouquet of red roses.

Sheila Hersey, bridesmaid, wore a green and white nylon dress with matching headpiece and carrying a bouquet of green and white mums.

Wayne Andrews was the groom's only attendant. The reception was held in the community hall, Boscawen, where 75 guests attended. The toast to the bride was given by Charles Thorburn, grandfather of the bride, and responded to by the groom.

The bride was wearing a jade green suit with matching accessories. The happy couple will reside in Rossby.

Gifford Lewis Heads P. C.'s

Gifford Lewis, Weymouth, was re-elected president of the Progressive Conservative Association for the Electoral District of Digby at the annual meeting, held at the Lions Club Hall on Monday night. Other officers elected were Charles Haliburton, Digby, secretary and vice president; Mrs. Conrad Gidner, Mink Cove; Raymond Thurber, Freeport; Mrs. A. J. Dillon, Dr. D. E. Lewis, Graham Saunders, Digby; Frank Miller, Smith's Cove and Earl Sabine, Riverdale. Honorary presidents are Dr. G. V. Turnbull, Digby; Roy Scott, Bear River; Elmer Jarvis, Weymouth Falls; Eugene Outhouse, Tiverton; Keith Raymond, Centerville, is past president.

A vote of confidence in Premier G. J. Smith and his cabinet was moved by Mrs. Gidner and an expression of confidence in the P.C. leader, Hon. R. L. Stanfield and J. Lewis Connor, M.P., were moved by Keith Raymond.

The following were among those appointed as delegates to the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia P.C. Association to be held in Halifax November 15 and 16: Willard Kenney, Digby; George Thibault, Rossby; Keith Raymond; Mrs. M. S. Leonard, Digby; Raymond Thurber; Graham Saunders; Mrs. Keith Raymond; Mrs. Willard Kenney; Frank Miller, Bear River; Elmer Jarvis, Weymouth; Gifford Lewis; Wilfred Swift, Westport; Warren Wong, Digby; and Charles Haliburton.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. Lewis, who extended a welcome to the gathering.

Digby Area Hockey News

by Wayne Snow

Hockey News

The hockey scene around the area will soon become lively once again, as the Digby County Youth Centre opens its doors for another season. The Forum opens this year with a new look both outside and in, something like the new Montreal Forum. The entrance has been given a new porch and doors, and just inside the main entrance the canteen facilities are found. A good deal of painting has been done to the dressing rooms also. The new ice is highlighted with a gold diamond at centre ice, surrounded with the words, Digby County Youth Centre.

So the Forum is ready and now it's time for the hockey season to look for the year by leagues.

Juvenile & Junior League

This organization is headed by Mr. Alan Nichols, who once again is taking on a large task of forming either a Juvenile or Junior team for Digby, by or maybe both. Application forms are being sent in and an executive meeting was held on Friday evening with the closing of the new officers for this season. Another meeting is scheduled for after all applications are in next week. The officers are President, Don Dexter, Alan Nichols, Secretary, Ray VanTassel, Treasurer, Greg Holdsworth, 1000 to 2000 and Saturday, 9, 1000 to 1200 and 1200 to 1500. Any persons interested in attending these clinics are to contact PO Woodford 638-825 by 1200 Thursday, 7 November, 1968.

Wrestling Clinic CFB Cornwallis

The Canadian Amateur Wrestling Association, through the fitness and Amateur Sports Directorate, has provided, for ten months, Mr. Bill Smith, the U.S.A. Olympic Coach, to improve and unify wrestling across Canada. These duties will be interrupted for a period of six weeks for the Olympic Games.

This is the first visit to this country for the 39-year-old father of five, and so far the clinics he has given throughout Canada have been received with tremendous enthusiasm.

Mr. Smith's credentials are impressive. The Iowa born coach won a wrestling gold medal for the United States at the 1952 Olympics in Helsinki. After the Olympics, he coached wrestling in Iowa high schools before moving to the University of Nebraska.

Eight years ago Bill moved to San Francisco as Athletic Director of the Olympic Club. Under his direction the club won nine national team titles.

He coached the U.S. team at the 1962, 1965, 1966 and 1967 World Championships.

Bill arrived in Canada March 1st of this year, and is now in Mexico with the Canadian Olympic Wrestling Team. On completion of the Olympics he will resume his clinics, coming to Nova Scotia in November.

On November 1968 Bill will arrive at CFB Cornwallis to conduct clinics Friday from 1000 to 2000 and Saturday, 9, 1000 to 1200 and 1200 to 1500. Any persons interested in attending these clinics are to contact PO Woodford 638-825 by 1200 Thursday, 7 November, 1968.

Canada Savings Bonds

$250 for each $100. That's what you can get with this year's Canada Savings Bonds. Here's how.

The new Bonds have fourteen regular annual interest coupons which can be cashed each year as they come due. The first pays 3.75%; the second, 6.50%; the next three, 6.75% each, and the last nine a big 7.00% each. Total regular annual interest amounts to $95.50 on each $100 Bond.

If you choose you may hold all these regular annual interest coupons uncashed until your Bond matures. If you do, you will then get interest on your interest totaling an additional $54.50 on each $100 Bond.

At maturity, therefore, you can get back total interest of $150 plus your original $100 investment. This way each $100 Canada Savings Bond becomes worth $250. Other denominations can grow at the same exciting rate.

Adults, children, businesses and institutions—all may buy Canada Savings Bonds. They are available in convenient amounts of $30 up to $50,000 for cash or on instalments, wherever you work, bank or invest. And, as always, Canada Savings Bonds are cashable any time at full face value plus earned interest.

Few investments are so profitable. None builds more surely for the future. Buy Canada Savings Bonds and make your savings really grow.

AROUND WEYMOUTH VILLAGE

CORRESPONDENTS: MRS. KEN HANKINSON AND MRS. RICHMOND JOURNEY

Weymouth School Hi-lites

Meet the Teachers

This year Weymouth's Grade V-A teacher is Martha Gidney. Gidney and her husband, Donald, chose the picturesque village of Weymouth as the ideal place for their home twenty-six years ago. Although Mrs. Gidney ceased to be a classroom teacher for a period of ten years while she raised a family of four, she never ceased to be keenly interested in the field of education. She gave twenty hours each week to the youth of Weymouth in tutoring or in discussing pupil problems with parents.

Mrs. Gidney feels fortunate in having had the opportunity of teaching under various school systems during her twenty-six years of actual teaching. Previous to her marriage she taught two years in the "Little Red Schoolhouse" system. Here she taught all grades from primer to twelve in one classroom.

Nineteen of her twenty-one years she has taught in her home village of Weymouth. She first accepted the position as teacher of Grades VI, VII and VIII and vice-principal in the old Weymouth High School. This was the multi-graded system.

That year Mrs. Gidney realized that during her lapse of ten years a new system of reading had been introduced; so to counteract this she decided to attend the six weeks course at the Nova Scotia Summer School. The next year she asked for position as primary teacher. This was granted and this was her first experience as teacher under the graded system.

When Consolidation came into existence, she continued to teach, trying to gain as much knowledge as possible about the various grades by actually teaching those grades. Mrs. Gidney's experience as subject teaching held little interest for her, because she felt the pupils lost their identity and became only a number due to the size of the classes. To her, the individual is the challenge, and without this teaching would be uninteresting and become only a job.

Last summer Mrs. Gidney graduated having completed a four-year block programme at the Nova Scotia Summer School and plans next year to start another four year session in order that she may become still better qualified to teach. Today she is challenged by the new system of Math, and so seeks help through these summer classes.

Some of Mrs. Gidney's extra activities were the first cubmaster for Weymouth Wolf Cub Pack, and has held various offices in the Weymouth Home and School.

She graduated from Weymouth Academy with honour standing and attended Teachers College at Truro, followed by two consecutive summer schools, granting her a general licence of Superior First Rank.

Bessie (Sabbie) Hankinson received her schooling — with the exception of one year — at Riverview — where she was born. Her Grade XII certificate was obtained at the Weymouth school. She graduated from Teachers College in 1939 and taught the following three years at Danvers and Southville. During this time two summers were spent in study at Summer School at Halifax and Truro. In 1943 she married Dan Hankinson, of Weymouth, where they have resided since 1945. For several years she acted as substitute teacher and in 1953 became a full-time teacher of Grade III.

Master Kenzie Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Cook, has returned home from Digby Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Forsythe, Wolfville, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Kinney.

Mrs. Victor Doty spent Saturday at the home of her sister, Mrs. Rose Baxter, Deep Brook.

Mrs. Edna Theriault, East Ferry, and her daughter, Mrs. Lida Gidney, Centerville, were made to attend the ceremony in Bridgetown on Saturday night.

Theresa Melanson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sonny Melanson, entertained 30 little guests on Saturday. The occasion being her 10th birthday. Games and a sing-song were enjoyed. A birthday cake centered the tea table. Refreshments were served. Her grandmother, Mrs. Mary Melanson, assisted in the serving.

Mrs. Hugh Colwell and Mrs. John Colwell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall of Hill Grove, visited Mrs. West Grant on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. David Hamilton of Saint John, visited Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hankinson on Saturday, and their return home were accompanied by their two daughters who have been visiting their grandparents.

Miss Sue DeLong, who has been visiting Mrs. Chas. Bevilacqua, has returned to Kentville.

Ken Hankinson is visiting in North Wayne, Maine, this week.

Mrs. Raymond Rice has returned from Halifax.

Mrs. Harvey Fitzgerald is a patient in Digby General Hospital at this time of writing.

Mrs. George Fielding has returned home after visiting in Ottawa and Montreal.

Miss Pauline Ruggles of Halifax spent a few days at her home here.

Miss Jane Fraser of Bear River spent the weekend with Joy Conman.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Thibault of Roomney, visited her sister, Mrs. Harvey Fitzgerald and Mr. Fitzgerald on Sunday.

Frank Campbell of Fairview was a visitor to Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thibault last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Dehon and daughter of Kingston, spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Harper Pitts.

Mrs. and Mrs. Bertha Fitzgerald of Tiverton visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thibault this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Bertha Fitzgerald of Tiverton visited Mr. and Mrs. Roy Thibault this week.

Mr. Paul Norden, of St. Paul, Minn., joined the staff of the Weymouth Consolidated School this week, and will be teaching a Grade VII class.

Over one hundred students at the Weymouth Consolidated School were disappointed in the necessity of cancelling the first social event of the year. Plans had been made for a gala Halloween party for pupils from Grades VII to XII.

Plans have been made to reschedule this event for Friday evening, in the form of a Sadie Hawkins Day party. Prizes will be given for the funniest, the ugliest and the most original costumes.

Leon Doty who left for Ontario in October has found employment in Roumaniaville, Ont.

Mrs. Gordon Cook, visited her sister, Mrs. Arthur Murphy, Digby, for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Garnet Parker, Yarmouth, spent the weekend with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Kinney.

St. Peter's Parish, A.C.W. will meet at the home of Mrs. John Shaw on Monday afternoon November 11, at 2 p.m.

Mrs. Hugh Colwell, Mrs. Frank Simmonds, Mrs. Mel Barr and Mrs. Laurie Parsons, were visitors in Digby on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Kinney, Yarmouth, Ontario, is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Kinney.

Major J. C. Minnis, Sec. of Annapolis Valley Board of Trade was guest speaker at the Kiwanis meeting held at the Goodwin Hotel, Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Prime visited their son, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Prime in Gloucester, N. B. over the weekend.

Mrs. Hugh Colwell and Mrs. D. White, of Digby, conducted the morning service at St. Thomas Church on Sunday.

The Rev. G. Morris conducted Evensong at St. Matthew's in the afternoon.

The Rev. Lloyd of Annapolis was a visitor in town on Monday.

Rev. W. P. Clayton was the guest preacher on Sunday, November 3 at St. Andrew's Episcopal Church, Yarmouth, when they observed their annual roll call service. Special music was provided by the Christian Men's Fellowship choir of Weymouth and area.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Vroom, Vancouver, B.C. were recent visitors in Weymouth. Old memories were stirred as Mr. Vroom called on Rev. and Mrs. W. P. Clayton, who are living in the former Brooks family home. Mr. Vroom attended the old school in Weymouth.

Thirty students are enrolled and taking advantage of the course. Each student will also spend 25 hours observing proper driving procedures. Motion picture films, furnished by the Department of Highways, showing how automobiles are manufactured and the function of the R.C.M.P. will be shown.

A new dual-control car valued at $14,500.00, is being contributed by the Weymouth Motors. The Treco company is donating approximately $100 worth of gasoline, and Wilfred Cosman is providing insurance protection valued at $200. Mr. Cosman feels that without this help it may have been impossible to offer this much needed educational training class to students.

High standards and expectations have been set forth for the students. Not only are they expected to meet minimum requirements of the course but their regular school attendance and school behavior must be outstanding. All students may take their final drivers' test following the successful completion of the course.

MARRIAGES

Hudson - Weir

A quiet but pretty fall wedding took place at the Baptist Church, Digby, N.S., when Rev. D. E. Robertson united in marriage Anita Leavon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Weir, Digby, and Mr. Frederick Hudson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hudson, Parker's Cove, N.S.

Her only attendants were the bride's sister, Mrs. Ray Wagner, and Mr. Ray Wagner, Weymouth.

The bride looked lovely in a turquoise wool suit with black accessories. Mrs. Wagner was dressed in a beige wool suit and black accessories.

A reception was held at the home of the groom's parents for approximately fifty invited guests.

Mrs. Lemont Lewis, sister of the groom, served the bridal party. Raymond Burrito, Mrs. Kinman Gregory, Mrs. Moody Tooker and Mrs. Arnold Millard served the guests. The happy couple will reside in Digby.

McBride - Cook

A beautiful fall wedding took place at the Wesleyan Methodist Church, Digby, on Saturday, October 19, 1968, when Gloria Rose, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cook, Ross, became the bride of Bernard Charles, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard N. McBride, Ross. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Bain.

The church was decorated for the occasion with an assortment of dahlias, gladioli and sweet peas. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Charles Bain.

Prior to the ceremony Mrs. C. Bain, soloist, sang "To the Church." This was followed by the familiar "Bridal Chorus" as the bride entered with her father and took her place beside the groom. She was given in marriage by her father and mother.

The bride looked lovely in a gown of peach de soire with rounded neckline and A-line skirt. The long tapered lace sleeves came to points over the hands and fastened at the wrist. The bodice and skirt were covered with lace. The long detachable lace train fell from a bow at the waist. Her five tier shoulder length veil of nylon net had a matching headpiece of a peach de soire rose. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

The maid of honor, Miss Linda Marshall, friend of the bride, wore a floor length A-line dress of green peach de soire. Her headpiece was of green nylon net with a green peach de soire rose. She carried a bouquet of green and white carnations.

The bridesmaids were Miss Carolyn Cook, sister of the bride, and Miss Harriet McBride, sister of the groom. They wore floor length A-line dresses of peach peach de soire. The matching headpieces were of peach nylon net with peach peach de soire roses. They carried peach and white carnations.

The flower girl, Dianne Cook, sister of the bride, looked charming in a floor length A-line dress of green peach de soire with matching headpiece of green nylon net with a green peach de soire rose. She carried a basket of pink and white assorted flowers.

Ring bearer was Andrew Merritt, Mink Cove, cousin of the groom. The groom was attended by Robert Sabino, Fred Ross, friends of the groom, and Maynard Hersey, cousin of the groom.

The ushers were Maynard Hersey, cousin of the groom, and Fred Ross, friend of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a pink suit with black and white accessories. Her corsage was of white mums.

The groom's mother wore a blue suit with white accessories. Her corsage was of gold and white mums.

During the signing of the register Mrs. Bain sang "Bach For The Other".

The bride party left the church as the organ played the Wedding March.

Comeau Scores Public Works Planning

“Louis Comeau, M.P. for South Western Nova Scotia, scored the Department of Public Works for a lack of planning. He brought before the Committee the fact that the National Arts Centre was first estimated to cost about $9 million. This cost was re-estimated at $10 million, but it will now reach something in the order of $46 million. Some things must have gone wrong somewhere, he said. I am not against an arts centre but an against extravagance at a time when this sort of money could be put to much better and more practical uses. It could have been spent to improve the marine facilities for fishermen.”

He gave another example. “According to reports I received today the town of Rock Island in Quebec is to have a new post office, despite the fact there have been many objections raised. It has been suggested that the present post office is perfectly adequate and that the reason for building a new one is to provide a better facility for the four people employed by the post office. Apparently the government is desperate to build a post office at this location. It has been brought to my attention today that 26 post offices in Nova Scotia will be closed by the end of 1969. Four of these post offices are in my constituency, and I am wondering whether this is justified. I should like to see the list of the departments in a new post office be constructed at Parker's Cove. Perhaps this money allotted for the construction of the project at Rock Island is to be devoted to some other use.”

In my part of the country we do not have a good deep water harbour. Mr. Comeau said. Many fishing boats have been constructed in this area, but why has no major improvement in wharf and dock facilities taken place? The government has paid subsidies on the construction of these boats, yet facilities capable of accommodating them have not been provided. There appears again to be a lack of planning in this regard.

Mr. Comeau suggested to the minister that every little village should not be provided with a new wharf or breakwater. I do suggest in respect of southwestern Nova Scotia that we should maintain and improve present wharves and breakwaters, while at the same time developing deep water harbours perhaps every 50 miles.

For example, in Annapolis County in Nova Scotia there is a need for at least one deep water harbour. There has been some talk along these lines for many years, and fishermen in the Pictou Cove have asked for one deep water harbour for many years. The port seems to have been not doing anything to improve some of these facilities and finally to say that it costs too much to repair them. I think the fishermen would be content if we were to maintain and preserve the present structures that we have, and every so often make any necessary improvements. The same applies to the town of Annapolis which has a large export business of lumber, and pulpwood. The government told the area in my riding that they cannot have a wharf in every little village. I am referring mainly to wharves simply because about 95 per cent of my constituents depend on

STRONG BRIEF ON ST. ANN'S PRESENTATION

Yacht Club Closes Season

The Western Nova Scotia Yacht Club, Digby, closed its 1968 season with a dinner at the Club building recently. In the picture above are Harold Nichols, treasurer; Charles McBride, commodore and Mrs. Donald (Evelyn) Cameron, secretary.

The club had an excellent season finishing one of its major projects, the Centennial Room. The room is paneled, has aluminum windows and is provided with T.V. and other recreational facilities. In a short address Mr. McBride reviewed the year's accomplishments.

Opposition to any plan to move St. Ann's College from its present location in Church Point continues following a public meeting attended by more than 1500 persons and held at the college two weeks ago.

Since that time a continuing committee headed by Norman Pothier, McElhan, has been formed and a brief has been presented to the provincial government by Warden Bernard LeBlanc.

Following is the brief printed in full:

To the Honourable G. I. Smith, Premier of Nova Scotia, the Honourable G. D. T. D. Macdonald, Minister of Education of the province of Nova Scotia and their colleagues, as Ministers of Her Majesty's Government of the Province of Nova Scotia:

Gentlemen:

On behalf of the people of the Municipality of the District of Clare, we the Warden and Councilors of that Municipality wish to begin our presentation on this important question regarding the future of College St. Anne and in particular, the future location thereof, by expressing our appreciation for the opportunity which has been afforded us to discuss this subject with the Provincial Government authorities. We believe, that of all the opinions and factors which will be brought to bear on this subject, the decision will be made by the people in large measure be determined by the position taken by the Government of Nova Scotia. On the other hand, it is submitted that the Acadia people of Clare will be the ones most adversely affected, both economically and culturally, by a decision to move College St. Anne from its present location with the cultural effect being the more important of the two.

The Government of Nova Scotia is urged to understand that since the time of the expulsion in 1758, the Acadia people have had little opportunity to express their views known to and discuss this subject with the Provin-

POTHIER COMMITTEE CHAIRMAN

Norman Pothier of McElhan was appointed chairman of an organizational committee which will consist of five members to formulate a plan of action and draw up a constitution. The committee will report to the Board of Trade Directors, members of those associations which presented briefs at the general meeting with Mr. Gerald Dooet recently at College St. Anne and other interested persons who attended the meeting called by the Directors of the Board of Trade this evening, which was held at St. Ann's College at Church Point.

This meeting was called principally to organize an association of actions to help St. Ann's College and the Municipality of Clare. The committee ordered at this meeting, will have the authority to select sub-committees to study various phases of organization and plans of action and will prepare a report to be given shortly and when approved will call a general meeting of citizens especially of Digby and Yarmouth Counties as well as surrounding areas who are interested in St. Ann's College and who are willing to assist this college.

Not content to let matters stand, following the meeting attended with the Minister of Education, Hon. Gerald Dooet, recently, a group of interested persons have indicated that they intend to continue the work started at the meeting. Citizens of Digby and Yarmouth Counties will be invited to attend the general meeting to be announced before many days have elapsed. The problems of (Please turn to page 3)

McCleave Again Heads Recreation Commission

Dr. J. R. McCleave was again on Tuesday evening elected president of the Digby Recreation Commission at the annual meeting held at the Town Hall with an attendance of nearly twenty. ## POTIER HEADS DIGBY SCOUTS

Julius Potier, manager of the Canada Power office in Digby, was elected President of the Digby District of Boy Scouts of Canada at the annual meeting, held at the Canadian Legion Headquarters in Digby.

Other officers elected were

Russell Stonehouse, vice president; R. MacLeod Rogers, secretary and A. F. Potier, treasurer.

Reports presented at the meeting from group committees indicated Scouting is in a healthy condition in the Digby district. A number of Scout and Cub activities, including camps, hikes, training courses and fund raising events were reported.

The financial statement, presented by A. F. Potier, indicated the district ended the year with an excess of revenue over expenditure totalling $131.36. Receipts totalled $468.00, with expenditures of $336.64. Expenditure items for 1968 included an amount of $129.00, plus $1.36 for uniforms, and $141.46 for badges.

District Commissioner Peter Applejohn reported that the new Scout program was being well received throughout the district. He complimented district

Mayor Addresses Remembrance Day Banquet

Digby Mayor Glen W. Smith was guest speaker at the annual Remembrance Day Banquet sponsored by the Digby Branch of the Royal Canadian Legion.

Mayor Smith, himself a veteran of the second world war, welcomed the guests and their wives and guests that Remembrance Day must be more than a day of remembrance. It is only this, he said, they must not be allowed to blot out the present and the future.

He urged his veteran listeners to try to keep alive the memories of the comradeship they enjoyed and "bury with our dead the hatreds" which caused them to die. He said that he fought in the war and that he fought for the freedom of the world and for the peace in the world in our day.

Mayor Smith said that, if there must be hatred it should be hatred for the ills that he hated the world and not for those of God's creatures who may have had the misfortune of being the instrument of those ills. "I say to you, the Mayor said, that if we are to have peace, we must have love."

Remembrance Day In Digby

Remembrance Day observances began in Digby on Sunday morning when the Digby Branch Canadian Legion No. 20 and the Legion Auxiliary attended service at Grace United Church in a body.

Rev. R. H. Hughes, pastor of the church, welcomed the Legion and Auxiliary and delivered a sermon on the theme "We Will Remember Them." He named four qualities which the fallen had shown and which were the same qualities which Jesus Christ had. These were: courage, leadership, dedication and sacrifice. These same qualities must be manifest in the people today if peace is to be won, Mr. Hughes said. "If all could realize we are one created by One and we belong to one great family of the human race, we would have a world of peace."

A wreath was placed in the church in memory of Cpl. Gerald Ellis by his father, Boyd Ellis.

NEW REGISTRY OF DEEDS OFFICE

The Registry of Deeds of Digby County was moved recently to a modern new building on land previously occupied by the Yarmouth County Jail. The building is of brick construction and contains a large concrete vault which is temperature controlled to prevent deterioration of paper and ink. It contains tables for use in searching records in the books as well as desks, telephone and filing facilities for the registrar and his deputy. Outside the vault is a large office and counter.

The new building also houses a private office and washroom facilities.

An interesting history lies behind the office recently vacated. It had been in use by the Registry of Deeds since 1807. Prior to that location it was used for a number of years.

Hospital Receives Full Accreditation

E. V. Porter, administrator at the Digby General Hospital, announced on Tuesday that the hospital which was previously under provisional accreditation is now under full accreditation. This has been an aim of the Digby Hospital for a number of years.

Mr. Porter said. Notice of the full accreditation came from the Canadian Council on Hospital Accreditation, a body which gives approval for accreditation.

The first survey for the hospital accreditation was made last year. With the re-survey this year the hospital received a "satisfactory" rating. Mr. Porter said that accreditation which is to provide an improved quality of patient care as approved by COHA.

Candlelight Wedding

Above are Mr. and Mrs. Thomas George O'Neil who were married at a candlelight ceremony, October 5, at Grace United Church. The bride is the former Vivian Mae Hewey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hewey. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George O'Neil, all of Digby. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. R. H. Hughes. Mr. and Mrs. O'Neil have taken up residence in Digby. A full account of the marriage can be found on page 3 of this issue of The Digby Courier.

Barton Man Killed

Ralph Gordon Turnbull, 58, of Barton, was killed instantly Saturday afternoon when he was involved in an accident with a car, while walking across the highway, near his home. The car, driven by Francis Sylvester DeVillier, 30, of Barton, struck Mr. Turnbull with the victim only 200 feet away, it is understood, leaving no opportunity to stop. The pedestrian was also confused by traffic in the opposite direction. No magisterial inquiry is suggested.

Dr. D. G. Black was called and Digby detachment of the RCMP investigated the accident.

Mr. Turnbull was born in Day View, Digby County, a son of the late Maynard and Elizabeth (Welch) Turnbull. Surviving are a brother, Bruce, 34, and two sisters, Mrs. Miriam Gail Galt, Medford, Mass.; Edith (Mrs. John) Wast, 40, Providence, Rhode Island.

The funeral service was held from Jayne's Funeral Home, Digby, Tuesday, at 3 p.m. Mr. L. B. Wood, of St. Heart Memorial Church, Weymouth, officiating. Interment was in Bay View cemetery.

VOC SCHOOL OFFICIALLY OPENED

Hon. Gerald Dooet, Minister of Education for the Province of Nova Scotia, laid the cornerstone and delivered the address at the official opening ceremony of the Annapolis Regional Vocational School at Middleton on Wednesday night. Peter Nicholson, M.L.A., substituted for Hon. Allen J. MacEwan, assisted in cutting the ribbon.

The cornerstone laying and ribbon cutting ceremonies were presided over by R. Baden Powell, M.L.A., and inquired that they intend to continue the work started at the meeting. Citizens of Digby and Yarmouth Counties will be invited to attend the general meeting to be announced before many days have elapsed. The problems of (Please turn to page 3)

Human Relations Topic At St. Ann's

Current concepts of human relations will be the lead-off topic in a two session seminar on human relations to be held at St. Ann's College at Church Point on two successive evenings, November 18 and 19.

Dr. W. P. Oliver, Regional representative of the Adult Education Division, Department of Education, will be guest lecturer. Dr. Oliver is considered an authority in this field and has been a vigorous worker in promoting the development of human relations in Nova Scotia.

The seminar is open to any interested persons and will deal with current concepts of human relations; problem areas under domestic, economic and social relations; and a special topic on human relations. The seminar will be held on Tuesday at 7:30. The second session will involve human relations training, leadership, the risk technique and discussion groups.

to grow big, this is a laudatory aim, however, there is no provide the resources that will enable College St. Anne to grow in its present location and thereby preserve its uniqueness as the founthead of Acadian culture available to all qualified students.

We are aware that College

St. Anne must be rescued from its present financial plight. No worthwhile plan is devoid of risks. To make mov-condition of rescuing it, it is to aim a blow at the Acadian people of Clare. To move the College merely for the purpose of increasing enrolment may just give birth to another small ordinary college of which there are too many now required additional funds in this manner would be a shame

as it would result in the demise of College St. Anne as an institution of Acadian cul-

Weymouth School Hi-Lites

Meet the Teachers
Eudora Shortliffe was born in North Range and with the exception of five years spent in the United States, has lived her entire life in this community. She attended the local school, where she was successful in obtaining a Grade XI provincial certificate.

Even before high school she decided to become a teacher. At graduation she was the youngest to enter Normal College, but obtained a permit to teach for a year in South Range East. The following year she wrote M.P.I. examinations which gave her a Class IV permanent license.

After teaching one more year she married Hubert Shortliffe, of South Range. They have two children. A son is with the Department of Transport in Moncton, N. B., and a daughter, who is the local postmaster.

For over twenty years Mrs. Shortliffe was assistant to her husband, who was the local postmaster.

When she decided to go back to the school room and taught five years in small schools in Digby municipality, during this period she studied Grade XII and was successful in obtaining a provincial certificate for Grade XII. She also spent four summers at the N. S. Summer School for teachers, thus raising her license to a T.L.S.

When the various sections were consolidated into the Weymouth Consolidated High School she was accepted as a member of the staff, teaching Grade IV. After two years she was asked to take over the Grade VI classes. For the past four years she has been doing remedial teaching, at first with Grade IV, V, VI, and VII, and now with Grades I, II, and III.

Although this type of work presents a challenge and sometimes a headache, she finds it interesting and in many ways rewarding. She is happy in her work and does not look forward with pleasure to the time when age will compel retirement.

Pupils of Weymouth School had an unexpected holiday for the past week while repairs were being made to the actonian well pump. School reopened on Tuesday.

ACW Annual
The annual meeting of St. Peter's A.C.W. was held at the home of Mrs. John Shaw, president, on Monday afternoon.

It was decided to hold their annual winter bazaar at Weymouth Motors Show Room in December.

The following officers were elected:
President, Mrs. John Shaw; vice-president, Mrs. Alvin Alwell; secretary, Mrs. Gordon Conner; treasurer, Mrs. Richmond Journey; social secretary, Mrs. A. Thompson; Family Life, Mrs. Keith Potter; Prayer Partner secretary, Mrs. Richmond Journey; recreation in charge of children, Mrs. Hallett Sabers; refreshment committee, Mrs. Robert Bartlett; devotions, Mrs. Richmond Journey.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Ferguson.

Musical Program Presented
The auditorium of St. Ann's College, Church Point, was filled to capacity on Thursday evening when a concert was presented by the College Band, under the direction of the Rev. Father Cole. Selections included popular music and classical selections, which were highly applauded by those present.

The College Troubadours, also under the direction of Father Cole, sang several selections and Clara High School presented two groups of choral music, directed by Sister Therese Valour.

Both choral and band selections were a credit to directors and students.

A Christmas concert will be presented during December by the group.

Children, Linda, Harold and Christine, and her husband, C. Willis Kroll.

Marriage

Sullivan - LeBlanc
A nuptial mass was solemnized in St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church on Saturday, October 26, when the Rev. Paul Devos, united in marriage Jeanette Marie, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid LeBlanc, of Weymouth, to Mr. John Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. LeBlanc.

The bride was charming in her floor length gown of nylon over satin, fastening a bodice of pearls, a gift of the groom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white roses with streamers of white satin.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. Elsie Taylor, sister of the bride, as matron of honour, who wore a floor length gown of gold and blue, in A-line style and bell type sleeves. She carried a bouquet of white roses.

The bride's mother wore a suit of medium blue, with ivory accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

For travelling the bride wore a camel coloured walking suit with tangerine and brown accessories, and a corsage of pumpkin coloured roses.

The bride has been on the staff of Rhineland Industries and the groom is employed with the Nova Scotia Power Commission in Halifax.

Prior to the wedding two showers were tendered the bride, one with Mrs. William Tracy as hostess, and one at the home of Mrs. Clyde Mullen. Many beautiful and useful gifts were received.

Valerie Sullivan, sister of the groom, was bridesmaid, and wore a gown of green and gold, with puffed sleeves. Her bouquet was of yellow mums. They both wore

Pink And Blue Shower

About thirty guests gathered at the home of Mrs. Ted Robichaud on Thursday night, where a pink and blue shower was held in honour of Mrs. Laurie Parsons.

Mrs. Victor Amiraill assisted Mrs. Parsons in the opening of the gifts. Games were played.

Refreshments were served with Mrs. Hugh Colwell, Mrs. Parsons' mother, Mrs. Aaron Colwell and Mrs. Grace Thibault assisted Mrs. Robichaud in serving.

The groom was attended by William Tracy and Medrie LeBlanc, brother of the bride. The ushers were Mr. Maurice LeBlanc and Mr. Larry Mullen.

Following the wedding a reception was held at Riverside Inn, Meteghan River, where about 100 guests were served. Mr. Thurston Mullen acted the blessing, and Mr. Camille Mullen proposed the toast to the bride.

Driver Education At W.C.S.

Teacher and driver education instructor of Weymouth Consolidated School, M. O. Comeau, left, receives the keys to a new dual-control car valued at $4150.00 from Kenneth M. Hankinson, president of Weymouth Motors Ltd.

Thirty students are enrolled in the driving instruction course at Weymouth Consolidated School. Each student will have completed 30 hours of classroom instruction and no fewer than six hours of driving experience in the dual-control car. All students will also spend 25 hours observing proper driving procedures. Motion picture films, furnished by the department of Highways, showing how automobiles are manufactured and the car being contributed by Weymouth Motors Ltd., the Texaco Company is donating approximately $150.00 worth of gasoline and Wilfred Coman is providing insurance protection valued at $300.00.

HIGH SCHOOL DRAMA GROUPS IN COMPETITION

"Suppressed Desires" by Norma Henderson, Carolyn Susan Glaspell was named the most outstanding play. Wednesday evening, when three schools of the Annapolis Valley West Students Congress competed at Annapolis Royal. The play was staged by Annapolis Royal Regional Academy. Also competing were Digby Regional High School and Annapolis Regional Vocational School. Adjudicator was Mrs. Doris Wheelhouse of the Greenwood Players drama club.

"Suppressed Desires" starred David Langille, named most outstanding actor; Susan Bellerive, best supporting actress; and Marion Freeman, Director was Mr. Fisher, stage manager, Boyd Wells, staff advisor, Mr. Peach. Others behind the scenes were Shirley Haynes, Mary Ann Woolaver and Jennifer Brook. Others behind the scenes were Emily Smith, Diane Miller and Caroline Height. In commentary the adjudicator commended the Digby students for their efforts. Acting and settings were generally good, she said.

"Daily Bread", directed by Edgar Fiske and Sandra Parker, was put on by the Annapolis Regional Vocational School at Middleton. The adjudicator suggested the play was "too depressing" and "too long" and was not worth more time than the 9

New Rector Welcomed

Saint Luke's Anglican Church was filled Sunday evening by members of the Annapolis-Granville Parish, which has suited on a trial basis for two years, with the Rev. A. G. Peters as new Rector. Rev. Richard Walsh of Round Hill opened the Service and the Lessons were read by Lay Readers, Stewart Hannam and Thomas Bartlett. Rev. Peters gave a sermon on "Sainthood".

Dea Young was organist, with a full choir.

Rev. Mr. Peters welcomed Rev. Dr. W. E. Jefferson of Granville Ferry and Rev. Robert Neish of Karsdale.

After Evening upwards of two hundred people gathered in the Parish House and Warden John Britton introduced Rev. Peters and Mrs. Peters and welcomed them to the Annapolis-Granville parish.

Warden T. M. How on behalf of Saint Luke's presented Rev. Mr. Richard Walsh with a gift, in appreciation of his service during the Service and the Annapolis Rectorship.

Refreshments were served under the direction of the Rector's Guild. Mrs. Murray Beaser, President, assisted by the women from Granville Ferry, Granville, Karsdale, Annapolis Royal, Lequille, Perotte, Lake La Rose and Graywood.

A social hour was enjoyed. Rev. Mr. Peters was at Weymouth before moving to the Annapolis-Granville parish.

Lions Ladies Night

(By A. P. Melanson)

It was ladies night at the Meteghan Lions Club supper meeting held at the Riverside Inn on the first Wednesday of the new month. A delegation of the Meteghan Lions Club was on hand and these were: Lions Hood, Sauter, Blais, Morris and Zone Chairmen, Bob Myers of the Year month club.

Mr. Frank Jubin reported that the light bulb sales were going well and it was expected that in two evenings, it would be completed. The sale included the entire municipality of Clare and since it is a large area to cover with limited time being available, each day or evening it requires several days to complete. The Lions Club has met with very good response by the population of Clare. Funds raised by the sale of light bulbs will be used towards charitable work in the Municipality.

The Lions Clubmen at the Fire Prevention Week held at Major's Point at Bellevue's Cove during the "Fire Prevention Week" showed a profit of $32.42, which was presented to the Western Nova Scotia Firemen's Association (Dixie Branch) comprising all fire departments from Digby to Beaver River.

A report was given regarding the proposed monument to be erected in memory of "Jerome", the unknown and unfortunate man found on the Bay of Fundy years ago and who never spoke or revealed his true name. "Jerome" is the name given to this man, who was found with both legs amputated on the beach near a large stone. He spent most of his life at St. Albans in Digby County and was buried in the Meteghan cemetery. Plans have not been completed of the monument but it is expected that more details will be given at the next meeting in a few weeks.

The delegation from Yarmouth honored the Meteghan Club with the tradition of "I have a lovely bunch of coconuts" which lasted but a few seconds and followed by "I am working on the Railroad".

Poetry Corner

Echoes

Small white crosses
In a distant foreign land,
Like spectral ghosts
In dignified array,
Point white accusing fingers
At the world.
And echoes of their voices
Float upon the dim, gray
Shadows of the years.
"Where is the better world
We died for?
Was our sacrifice
Just to be in vain?
Where is that lasting peace?"
While a mother draws the curtains
Of her heart, a silken veil,
To hide the unshined, silent tears.

Essay On The Cow

A description of a cow written by a 10-year-old English boy. It went thusly: "The cow is a mammal. It has six sides - right, left, an upper and a lower. At the back it has a tail on which hangs a brush. With this it sends the flies away so that they do not fall into the milk. The head is for the purpose of growing horns and so that the mouth can be somewhere. The horns are to hold with, and the mouth is to moo with."

"Under the cow hangs the milk. It is arranged for milking. When milk comes, the milk comes, and there is never an end to the supply. How the cow does it, I have not yet realized, but it makes more and more. The cow has a fine sense of smell; one can smell it far away. This is the reason for the fresh air in the country."

"The man cow is called an 30c"

A Minute Silence Observed

The November meeting of the Little River Women's Missionary Society was held at the home of Mrs. Stanley Denton with co-hostesses Mrs. Shirley Tidd and Mrs. Susan Denton. The president, Mrs. Rupert Troak presided. This time members were present. A duet, "God Was There" was sung by Mrs. Olive Denton and Mrs. Alastair Tidd. The Spiritual Life Convener, Mrs. Herbert Boehman, read articles on Amos from a newspaper which was provided in Jerusalem. The devotional "Ambassadors for Christ" was presented by Mrs. Donald Tidd and a minute of silence was observed in tribute to those who gave their lives in world war.

Returns To Preach After 43 Years

The Annual Roll Call Service of the Digby New First United Baptist Church was held on Sunday, November 3. The guest speaker was Dr. Thomas B. McDermand, General Secretary of the United Baptist Convention. He delivered an impressive message taken from Matt. chapter 12.

Dr. McDermand was in the Digby Neck field in 1925, this being his first pastorate, at that time, a student pastor. This was the first visit to the field in 43 years.

Although many changes had taken place in the 43 years of his absence, Dr. McDermand renewed many old acquaintances with those he knew before, and spent a weekend of fellowship with the people on the field.

Let your liver bile relieve irregularity

It's a proven fact that a sufficient flow of liver bile will relieve irregularity. How does this work? Bile is the globules in the digestive tract often cause irregularity. The best way to break down these unwanted fat globules is with a sufficient flow of liver bile. And Carter's Little Liver Pills, too, have proved a clinical proof that it improves liver bile flow by breaking down unwanted fat globules and unobstructs the digestive tract. So whenever you feel sluggish, headachy, nervous and need relief from irregularity get Carter's Little Liver Pills, too.

To All Parents

I'll lend you, for awhile a little child of Mine, He said. For you to love the while he lives and mourn for when he's dead.

It may be six or seven years, or twenty-two, or three But will you, 'till I call him back Take care of him for me?

He'll bring his charms to gladden you. And, shall his stay be brief Nor think the labor vain. You'll have his lovely memories As solace for your grief.

I cannot promise he will stay, since all from earth return. But there are lessons taught down there I want this child to learn. I've looked the wide world over In my search for teachers true. And from the throngs that crowd life's lanes

I have selected you. Now, will you give him all your love, Nor think the labor vain. Nor hate me when I call To take him back again?

I fancied that I heard them say Dear Lord - Thy will be done. For all the joy Thy child shall bring The risk of grief we'll run.

We'll shelter him with tenderness, We'll love him while we may, and for the happiness we've known Forever grateful stay. But should the angels call for him much sooner than we've planned,

We'll brave the bitter grief that comes and try to understand.

Edgar A. Guest

The back of the card tells how the guarantee works.

The Bank of Nova Scotia introduces the Cheque Guarantee Card.
What's it good for?

Paying by cheque, your own personal cheque, even in places where you're a complete stranger. Cashing cheques without question, delay or embarrassment.

What's so different about this card?

1. It carries your photograph. In living colour. This is proof positive that you are who you say you are. 2. It is proof positive that The Bank of Nova Scotia guarantees payment of your cheques. Anytime. Anywhere.

It's the photograph that does it. Your Scotiabank Cheque Guarantee Card introduces you with instant face-to-face identification. So there's absolutely no risk to the person who's accepting your cheque.

Another advantage. If you should happen to write a cheque for more than you have in your account, there's an automatic line of credit built right in.

What does the card cost you?

Two dollars. And that's it. There's no cost at all to the person who's accepting your cheque.

Come into The Bank of Nova Scotia. We'll photograph you with our special colour camera.

When you get your Cheque Guarantee Card, carry it at all times. Present it whenever you write a cheque. In a store. In a restaurant. Anywhere.

No delay, no embarrassment, no questions asked.

MARRIAGES

Brown - Germaine

A quiet but pretty wedding took place Saturday evening, October 19th at 8 o'clock at the Armour Heights United Church when Gail Brown, eldest daughter of Mrs. John Handwerker and Donald J. Germaine, 24, S. W. Highways, was united in marriage to Vincent John, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Brown, Toronto.

The bride was charming in a white street length wedding dress with shoulder veil, and carrying a bouquet of red roses.

The bride's only attendant was her twin sister, Mrs. Ray Wagner, and the groom was attended by Ray Wagner.

The bride looked lovely in a turquoise wool suit with black accents. The bridesmaid was dressed in a beige suit with black accessories.

A wedding reception was held at the home of the groom's parents for approximately fifty invited guests.

Mrs. Leonard Lewis, sister of the groom, served the wedding party. Mrs. Raymond Burns, Mrs. Kinman Gregory and Mrs. Arnold Milbray were the bridesmaids.

They were the recipients of many nice and useful gifts.

The happy couple will reside in Digby.

NEW HOUSE DESIGN
The straight-forward, simple design of this house, by Architects Venciarutti and Venciarutti of Toronto, Ont., is excellent.

An open stairway in the large entrance hall gives a sense of space when entering this home. The bathroom and corridor act as a separation between the bedrooms and living areas. The combined living-dining room offers flexibility as do the dinette and screened porch which lead off the inside kitchen. For best lighting effects the front door should face north.

The floor area, exclusive of the porch and attached garage is 1,220 square feet. The outside all-inclusive dimensions are 53 feet one inch by 41 feet ten inches. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 2237, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

Unemployment Insurance

—Any Questions Please?

CAN I BE EXEMPTED FROM PAYING?

Q. "I have not been paying unemployment insurance for years, as I have always been earning over the ceiling. Now I understand I must begin paying as I earn under the new ceiling of $7800. I am permanently employed and will not have to use the fund. Is there no way in which I could exempt myself?"

A. The fact that you consider yourself to be permanently employed is not ground for exemption. Most of us carry various types of insurance protection, for example, automobile or fire insurance, although each of us does not expect that the contingency will arise. Apart from this aspect, the principle behind a contributory scheme is that of spreading the costs of the plan in order that the cost to one person or to specific groups of persons will not be onerous.

The Unemployment Insurance Commission has passed on answers to some of the questions that have puzzled contributors. Your question too can be referred to this feature for reply.

Q. "I applied for a social insurance number about four weeks ago and so far I have not heard anything. I have changed jobs since and my new employer is insisting that I fill out another application as he needs a number for me. I was told some time ago that a person is not permitted to make more than one application for a social insurance number. What should I do?"

A. Four weeks is an abnormally long time to wait for a social insurance number. You should check with your previous employer as it is quite possible that he now has your social insurance number recorded. If not, contact your nearest UIC office and explain the situation, although it is correct that you are not permitted to make application for more than one social insurance number; you can make application for a replacement social insurance card if the first has gone astray.

Q. "When I started working for my employer a year ago, I gave him an unemployment insurance book with a plastic card attached to the cover. I have been laid off and have just received a new book from my employer, but it does not have a plastic card on it. Is the book valid without the card, and if not, how can I get one?"

A. The absence of a plastic card in no way detracts from the validity of your unemployment insurance book. The plastic book card was designed solely as an administrative convenience and is used to imprint your identification on certain of our documents. In the absence of a plate we make the entries by hand.

SNOW REPORTS FOR TRANSPORTATION COMMITTEE

C. D. Snow in presenting his report for the A.V.A.B.T. transportation committee at the annual meeting on Saturday said that the provincial and federal governments were now well aware of the need for better transportation to and within western Nova Scotia and will carry out their responsibilities to provide better service as soon as money and time permits. Until such time as improvements are made in transportation, the economic and population growth will remain stagnant, he said. The highways, ferries and rail services all require improvements, he commented, and added that Western Nova Scotia highways were being given priority by the federal government. Projects such as the Shubenacadie River crossing and Petite Passage ferryway have not been turned down by governments and will be carried out when money is available, he said.

To Establish Industrial Commission

Representatives of the Town of Digby, County of Digby and County of Annapolis held an enthusiastic meeting in Annapolis on Saturday, November 12th for the purpose of furthering plans towards establishing an Industrial Commission, to be known as the Annapolis Basin Industrial Commission. The two towns and Annapolis County Councils have already passed necessary resolutions and a special meeting of Council of Digby County will be called in a few days for this purpose. It is proposed that the Commission will serve an area within a radius of ten miles of the shores of the Annapolis Basin and to include Digby Neck and the Islands.

A Live Fish Story

The latest fish story is that Eric Barr, Danvers, caught a trout in a muskrat trap. Eric who has his trap set in a small brook at Danvers was surprised to find one trap sprung with a small trout caught about its middle.

SENATOR HOME

Senator and Mrs. E. J. Theriault arrived by plane from Ottawa on Saturday to spend two days at their home in Digby. They accompanied Sen. Theriault to the annual meeting at Greenwood in order to address the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade and to deliver a dinner at Kentville on Saturday evening.

WARNE HEADS AGRICULTURAL FEDERATION

H. M. Warne, Digby, was elected president of the Digby County Agricultural Federation at the annual meeting held at the Co-Op building on Tuesday evening and attended by approximately 250. The meeting on Tuesday was presided over by Arthur Mackenzie, vice-president who took over when Lloyd MacNeil resigned from the presidency in the early Spring. Officers elected on Tuesday were vice president John LeBlanc; secretary-treasurer, Jeanne Chisholm; directors, LeRoy Warner, Arthur Gates, Lloyd MacNeil, John Rouse, Arthur Mackenzie, Delbert LeBlanc, C. Gilbert LeBlanc, Leonard Bussard, Wilfred Bussard and Chas. Chisholm.

The slate of officers was presented by Lloyd MacNeil. On the nominating committee with Mr. MacNeil were John LeBlanc, Mr. Gates and John LeBlanc. Special speaker at the meeting was R. L. Rhodenizer, Barrs Corner, Lunenburg Co., a director of the Nova Scotia Federation of Agriculture. Mr. Rhodenizer said the federation is the most important thing a farmer has but like all machines it must be kept oiled. He found in visiting agricultural federations in other parts of the Maritime that farm conditions are no different than in Nova Scotia. By heavy investing the farmer can survive but the return is small per unit, he remarked. The consumer population he said is expanding but farmers are decreasing.

It is advocated, the speaker said, that more of the marginal farmers should abandon agriculture and get into another job, but he remarked, you cannot remove the human element. "Who is to say who should move out?" Mr. Rhodenizer mentioned the benefits derived from the Capital Grants program and the sub-subsidies and active boards and committees under the federation.

Mr. Rhodenizer was introduced by William LeFort. Mr. LeFort said he did not expect to see Digby County as an outstanding agricultural county but a living can be made if all work together through the federation. The Department of Agriculture is willing to help, he said. He complimented Samuel Baney for a good job in helping to revive the Digby District organization. He suggested the federation should include with the farmers, hog growers, small fruit and vegetable growers, milk ranchers, beef cattle growers, dairymen, sheep growers and poultrymen. Later they hoped to take an advanced short course in agriculture.

Angus Boutillier reported Centreville had 15 members. When Centreville was organized in 1959 there were 150 cows in the area. Today there are five in the district keeping cattle. As revealed by R. K. Pundy, the Bear River society has 63 members with an average attendance of 20. He reported on the exhibition and referred the federation to the account in the Digby Courier of this week. He urged more to participate in the exhibition and promised to contact the federations in the future.

Reports were presented by Gilbert Cove and Meteghan, which showed active organizations. Lloyd MacNeil reported for the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade that in the three private owned pastures this summer, the hay crop was tremendous with a yield of 3 or 4 tons to the acre. He spoke of the research at the marshland in fertilizers, retolled plots and various grasses. Mr. Boudreau reported for the Veterinary Assistance Board now to be named the Livestock Health Association. He feels all members of the board should be livestock owners. New prices for the veterinary for after hours were revealed.

The Community Pasture report was given by John Hoopes who said that $400 had been invested during the year and this amount would be reimbursed by the government. Fifty head of cattle had been in the pasture but they had hoped for 75. There are 300 acres to the pasture but it is not good pasture land. Mr. Boudreau in his report said that Clave had shipped 2500 hogs in 1967 and that 1968 the number should be 3500.

HON. PAUL MARTIN ASSURES NEW FERRY SERVICE

"The Public Works Department is actively proceeding with the engineering plans for the development of new terminals at Digby and Saint John. Meetings between Canadian Pacific Railway and government representatives resulted some time ago in tentative agreement on many details of the proposed new service. Public Works says, and are continuing with engineering studies of the proposed sites. The provinces of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia have agreed to provide approach roads and parking facilities," was the message Hon. Paul Martin gave at the annual meeting of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade in Kentville on Saturday.

While agreement has not been reached on rental charges for terminals, Canadian Pacific has gone ahead with an invitation for tenders for a ship and is now studying the bids that have been received, the minister informed. The Board and then gave the news that to avoid any delay in the project, the Cabinet had declared that if no final agreement has been reached with Canadian Pacific when the construction work is finished, the Government will take over the vessel at the cost to Canadian Pacific and find other operation.

what with a high yield potential, it has been licensed for production in the Atlantic provinces. This, he felt, will be a great boon to the dairy farmer, helping out costs by providing a local source of feed grain and reducing the need for costly import of feed grains from outside this region.

Edwin Elliott Heads A.V.A.B.T.

Edwin W. Elliott, general manager of Beaver Fruit Co. Ltd., Lunenburg, was elected president of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade at the annual meeting in Kentville on Saturday. He succeeds Bernard LeBlanc of Clave.

Nauand vice-presidents were C. D. Snow, Digby; Harold Woodman, Kentville; Herb McNeill, Seabrook; Hank Co. James Larabee, Middleton, will serve as secretary.

The meeting was presided over by Mr. LeBlanc. Mr. LeBlanc in his annual report reviewed the accomplishments of the year and remarked that the government respects the voice of 110,000 people of the Valley area. He thanked the government for its support and looked forward to a successful year in 1969. Mr. Elliott in presenting the agricultural report sounded a discouraged note.

"The loss of a substantial part of the normal British market for our fresh fruit, apples, excessive transportation costs, high overseas apple production and devaluation give him a reasonable chance to make an economic living. There are rapid changes and extensive updating of machines and techniques of production, Mr. Elliott continued but the farmers find themselves caught in the cost price squeeze, which is increasing so rapidly that the price he receives for his goods can't possibly increase enough to give him a reasonable chance to make an economic living."

problems give little hope of any great volume of apples going to British markets this year," he said and sales of apples and apple products to the United States markets are very limited.

He praised the provincial government and the federal research department in Kentville for their assistance in developments which would help the Valley fruit industry to better harvesting, storing and packing procedures. Mr. Elliott said efforts have been made by the N.S. Fruit Growers Association to encourage the federal government of Canada to establish a national and regional policy and give Nova Scotia fruit growers a reasonable chance to make an economic living. There are rapid changes and extensive updating of machines and techniques of production, Mr. Elliott continued but the farmers find themselves caught in the cost price squeeze, which is increasing so rapidly that the price he receives for his goods can't possibly increase enough to give him a reasonable chance to make an economic living."

The service will be Moncton-Saint John to Greenwood-Halifax, back to Moncton, on to Portland, Maine and Boston, with a four day New York City traffic warranted. Two such schedules daily were proposed.

Emanuel Adelaar, of Weymouth, president of the Maritime Provinces Board of Trade spoke briefly on the importance of that organization and announced the annual meeting of the M.P.B.T. for Kentville in June. At Park, secretary-manager was also present.

Bruce Cohoon, Acadia University student requested financial assistance for some 150 commercial students and faculty to take a tour into industrial sites in Europe. Mr. Adelaar commended the students on their venture and suggested they keep in touch that the major industrial developments on their tour were achieved by private enterprise.

Ruby Chisholm 101 Years

Miss Ruby Chisholm, formerly of Digby, was 101 years of age on November 9. She is a guest at Mountain Lea Lodge, Bridgeport.

Born in Windsor, N. S., Miss Chisholm lived much of her life in Digby. She was a member of the United Church and was active in church and community work. Later, she moved to Annapolis Royal, where she continued the millinery business and was operating her shop at the age of 95.

Cst. MacNeill Speaks On Highway Safety

"Highway Safety" was the theme for the program at the November meeting of the Clementsport Home & School Association. Constable MacNeill, of the Digby Detachment RCMP, led an interesting and informative question and answer period following the showing of two films pertaining to safe driving practices and attitudes. Constable MacNeill reported that the number

Five Year Old Girl Killed

A five year old girl was killed in a carpedestrian accident involving a school bus and two cars near Lunenburg on Monday afternoon.

Dead is Joanne Rachel Himmlman, daughter of Mr. Himmlman and Mrs. Himmlman of Lunenburg. She was five years old and was on her way to school when she was struck by a school bus.

Lunenburg RCMP said the child was walking along the edge of the North West Road near her home, with her sister, when the accident occurred. Her sister escaped injury. Police said the girl was enroute home from school, and had just alighted from the school bus prior to the accident.

Mr. Himmlman is known in Digby where he travels for Eastern Paper Company.

Digby Mourns Beloved Teacher

All Digby town and County was saddened on Thursday when news was received that death had claimed a devoted wife, mother and a beloved school teacher, Mrs. Bernice Miller Purdy, 50, wife of C. Purdy, superintendent of Digby County schools, died at the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, having been transferred from the Digby General Hospital where she had been admitted after becoming ill on Wednesday.

Mrs. Purdy, a teacher of French and Latin at the Digby Regional High School for the past several years, was born at Springville, N. S., the daughter of the late Reverend Colin MacRae and Jane Phillips MacRae.

Surviving besides her husband, is a son, Colin, supervising principal of the High School, Windsor, N. S.; daughter, Jane, teacher in the public school, Ottawa; two grandchildren, sisters Jessie (wife of Professor W. R. Fraser), Montreal; Evelyn wife of (M. Montreal; Evelyn (wife of Rev. Quebec.

A sister, Miss Lillian MacRae, who had also been a teacher in Digby, died recently.

Funeral service was held at Grace United Church at 2 p.m. on Saturday, Nov. 23. The service was conducted by the Rev. George Morris of Trinity, with the Rev. W. Hodgson and her brother-in-law, Rev. M. Williams. The Grace United choir was in attendance. A floral arrangement was presented by the St. John's, Mr. Purdy and son, Colin.

Digby Assured Of Election

Digby is assured of an election to choose new councillors for the coming term. On December 3 votes will be cast at a town election which will decide what three of the candidates nominated will sit in council.

By the time nominations closed on Tuesday the following candidates' names had been placed: Thomas Cowan, who previously had served on the council; Victor McBride, a newcomer; Douglas Alyn, now; Charles McBride, now; Graham Saunders, now; and Winchester, now; deputy mayor, who is re-electing.

In Shriners Hospital

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Loy have returned from Montreal where their daughter, Karen, was admitted to the Shriners Hospital.

CARD OF THANKS

APPT - Mrs. James Appt and son Murray and family, express their heartfelt thanks and appreciation for the acts of kindness, messages of sympathy and beautiful floral offerings received from their friends and neighbors during their recent bereavement in the loss of a husband, and father. They especially thank Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Ellis who gave so much of their time with their car, the nurses, Dr. Kerr who did so much for him at the Annapolis Hospital and Mountain Lee Home for their kindness in many ways. Thanks to Rev. David Turner, Rev. Clayton Anderson and pallbearers and special thanks to the choir. God bless you all.

RICE - We take this opportunity to thank every individual for doing everything in their power to salvage our home and content during the fire of November 10 which caused the loss of our home. The Bear River and Digby fire departments and a special thank you goes to our wonderful firefighters, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Dunn, Harold Dunn, and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Miller, George Woods, Arthur and Stevie, of Lansdowne. Again we thank you one and all - Peggy, Francis and Thelma Rice and Mrs. Beal.

READ - Sincere thanks to the nurses and staff on third floor, Digby General Hospital who were so kind during my recent stay there. Special thanks to ordering, Harriet Boudreau and Wells, and to Dr. Brennan - Bruce Read, Bear River.

DALEY - I wish to express my sincere thanks to all who remembered me with cards, letters, flowers and fruit during my recent stay in hospital. Also those who visited me while I was a patient in Digby Hospital. Dr. Birel and the nurses and staff of the 2nd floor.

BAXTER - My sincere thanks to relatives and friends for flowers, cards, treats and those who visited me while a patient in Digby Hospital. Special thanks to Dr. Black, Dr. Birel, nursing staff, Rev. Harris and Rev. Milbury for their kindness to me. Viola Baxter.

RICE - I wish to express my sincere thanks to those who sent me cards, letters, flowers and visited me while I was a patient in the Breckinridge Hospital. Special thanks to Dr. MacArthur and the nurses on the third floor.

STARK - In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Lea A. Stark, who passed away Nov. 20th, 1967. We lost a loved one with a heart of gold. Who was more to us than wealth untold. Sweet memories for us to keep. Quickly and quietly came the call. His passing was a shock to all. Peacefully sleeping is one of the best. O loving God called him home to rest. Always smiling, always content. Loved and respected wherever he went. Always so good, unselfish and kind. What wonderful memories he left behind. - Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by wife, daughters and sons.

MORAN - In memory of Delroy G. Moran, who passed away November 22, 1968. Sadly missed by his wife Barbara, daughter Sandra, son Billy and his mother Mrs. George Outhouse.

IN MEMORIAM

GAUDET - In loving memory of Ulysse Gaudet. Our thoughts wander as day-light fades. To the days of long ago. And memory paints the scenes of old. In the cold of the twilight glow. We seem to see, in the soft, dim light. A face we loved the best. And we think of him when the sun's last ray. Goes down in the far off west. With all our hearts we wish today. We were all together in the same old way. Deep in our hearts his memory died. To love and to cherish and never forget!

Lost Priest With Indians, 1604

by Albert Melanson

This first priest to set foot in the shores of St. Mary's Bay from foreign soil were the crew of De Monts in the spring of 1604 when they went ashore to investigate the land. They had sailed from Havre, France, across the broad Atlantic around the coast of Nova Scotia into St. Mary's Bay which name of La Baie Française was given to it by De Monts. Before arriving in St. Mary's Bay, De Monts had anchored off the shores of Yarmouth.

It was during this visit that Abbot D'Aubree followed the sailors into the forests to scout around. In these days the forest reached the shores of the bay. While they were in the forest, the priest stopped to drink from a brook and the sailors continued on their way. When the priest had had his fill of drink, he could no longer hear the departing sailors and for he might he could no longer locate them. Their trail became obliterated.

The sailors arriving on the shores of the bay, looked around to see if Rev. Aubree was following them, but to their surprise, he was not around. They returned into the forest endeavoring to find the unfortunate priest, but were unable to locate him. No doubt the priest had lost all directions and had wandered in an opposite direction. When the search became futile, the group returned to the ship. De Monts continued his voyage, believing that Rev. D'Aubree could not be found. The ship sailed for Petite Passage and the current was so strong that the sailing vessel could not make any headway in traversing the passage. De Monts had the vessel return to St. Mary's Bay and went around the islands and headed up the Bay of Fundy.

From Our Files

The Big Storm of 1759 —

The big storm of 1759 has come down through the years as a memorable bit of history. It was the most violent gale of wind that had ever been known around Halifax and has had far equal effects. It occurred on the night of November 3 and the morning of the 4th. In Halifax several thousand pounds loss was estimated to have been sustained, and vast damage being done to the wharves and the stores along the beach, which were almost entirely ruined. Two vessels were lost. Thousands of trees were blown down and loads made impassable. The tide rose six feet beyond its usual height and along the Bay of Fundy the dykes were broken down and marshes overflowed. At one place 200 cords of wood were swept away in a body.

Another big storm in 1813 was the death-blow of nearly a hundred vessels along the coast. A number were able, however, to repair without great loss.

*****
"The First Newspaper" — The first number of the Halifax Gazette was published by John Bushell and issued in 1752. It was a modest, two column, single sheet which gave the news of the world five months after its occurrence. The paper ran 40 years under the management of Anthony Henry, successor to Bushell, and King's Printer.

In August 1824, George R. Young, issued the prospectus of "The Nova Scotian" a weekly paper. The Recorder was established in 1813.

Monts ordered his boat to be sailed into what is now Annapolis Basin. In writing about the basin, De Monts stated that the basin could harbour a thousand ships. In sailing further into the basin De Monts decided to stop off at what is now Annapolis. Still thinking about the fate of the unfortunate Rev. D'Aubree, he sent a crew to sail back into St. Mary's Bay and search for the missing priest. The ship sailed for Petite Passage and the current was so strong that the sailing vessel could not make any headway in traversing the passage. De Monts had the vessel return to St. Mary's Bay and went around the islands and headed up the Bay of Fundy.

Library Fund Grows

The Digby Community Library Building Fund has reached the $1900 mark.

Donations have been coming in gratifying response from former residents and school students of Digby.

The town and area solicitations are still being made. Final report is not available on these.

ported $174 in Home & School funds. Adult Education classes in Clementeville this year. It was the wish of the meeting that a representative attend an Adult Education meeting of parents of smaller children being notified the previous day, wherever possible, of upcoming half-days of school. This would prevent a child coming home unexpectedly to an empty house. Mrs. Barbara Wiles announced that November 20th and 21st would be half-days at Clementeville School due to teachers' meetings elsewhere in the county.

The "Top Dog" award for best Home & School attendance went again this month to Grades II and III. Mrs. Frances Long accepted the award. Following the program tasty refreshments were served by the Bear River East Ladies.

The December Home & School meeting will feature Christmas parties. Instead of the usual exchange of gifts, members are asked to bring a rubber toy or large tub. These gifts will in turn be presented to the Home for Retarded Children, Digby, in time for Christmas. A social evening of games and entertainment is planned and a good turnout is anticipated.

In the field of fisheries the senator drew attention to the department's trade fair program and research program which help to improve marketing, methods and equipment. Regarding the establishment of the 12 mile limit for fishing rights in 1964, Mr. Martin said the fisheries people are now working on an extension of the head-to-headland principle which was established in some areas.

One of the best ways to give an assist to industry in the Atlantic Provinces was in making financial assistance available for the improvement of trunk highways, the minister said. This was not to be a highway programme, for

HEALTH & SAFETY

Mainly for Mothers

by Carol Hart

School Season Needs More Than Supplies

With the children now trooping off to classes each day, it's time for Mom to make some school year adjustments in her household. After the school supplies are purchased, the warlords put in order and arrangements made for proper study places and times in the home, Mom should give a thought to preparing herself to safeguard the family health and home safety, says the Council on Family Health.

What are some of these preparations? The Council, a non-profit organization established as a public service by members of the drug industry to promote family health and home safety, suggests:

Make a list of nearby relatives, friends and baby sitters. You may find that you need a responsible adult to stay with the smaller children if you have to leave the house suddenly. Having telephone numbers and addresses makes it easier to meet such emergencies. Keep the list close to the telephone.

Put up a bulletin board in the kitchen on which you can write down doctor appointments and other important dates. These reminders will give you plenty of time to arrange for sitters for your small children who must be left at home.

Give the medicine chest a thorough cleaning and discard old medicines and those containers that have smudged or damaged labels.

See if you can spare a closet near the entrance of the house in which children can keep bad weather clothes, such as boots and overcoats, raincoats and umbrellas.

If there isn't a top chest in the children's room, put one there and insist that toys be stored there when they are not being used. This will eliminate one serious cause of falls in the home.

Make some kind of plan for foul weather fun, so that the children are kept out of mischief when they are housebound.

However you plan your household tasks, be sure to include at least one hour during the day when you and the younger children take a complete rest.

New England, he remarked.

In closing his address Hon. Mr. Martin said that thinking today emphasizes that you must tell outside your own growth will just naturally follow.

Mr. Martin was introduced by John Shaffner and thanked by Gordon Tidman, M.L.A.

Mayer Frank Ripley extended a welcome to Kentville and the dinner was presided over by the newly elected president, Edwin Elliott, who succeeded Bernard LeBlanc, Beliveau Cove.

NEW HOUSE DESIGN

Featuring a living-dining room and kitchen which overlook the garden area, this house by Architect Douglas H. Miller of Vancouver, would be best suited to a lot which slopes gently down to the street.

Three steps separate the bedroom wing from the living-dining and kitchen wing. The kitchen has a "U" shaped counter layout and room for a dining table. It is close to the front door with one window overlooking the garden. An open hatch connects the living-dining area with the kitchen. From the dining room double doors lead into the garden and form part of the glass wall running the full length of the living-dining room. A three-foot high partition separates this room from the stairs leading to the basement, which extends only below the bedroom and entrance hall areas of the house. It contains a large recreation room in addition to storage and utility rooms. All ceilings follow the slope of the roof. For best lighting the living-dining room windows should face south-west.

The eternal floor area is 1,111 square feet, excluding the porch. Its overall and side dimensions, including the carport, are 48 feet five inches by 48 feet. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 704, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost. Design 704 is for a brick veneer exterior. The same house with a frame exterior is available as Design 760.

Weymouth Club Wins Award

To the surprise and delight of members of the Weymouth Garden Club, a check for fifty dollars was presented to them on Friday evening, November 15th. This award was given for the Mill Pond Garden in Weymouth North, for 1938. Col. R. Stanley Hallett, president of the W.G.C., was the recipient of the check handed to him by Mr. Jack Harris from the Rural Beautification Committee of Digby Co. (sponsored by the Women's Institute of N. S. and the N. S. Federation of Agriculture.)

Mr. Harris, of Bear River, is one of the District Directors for the Western Nova Scotia Association of Garden Clubs.

He gave a report on the Convention held in Truro last summer and also suggested plans for the coming year's work in the Weymouth Garden Club; and answered questions about the coming Convention to be held in Cape Breton in July, 1939.

A short business session followed, and then the members and guests were treated to an interesting 'sketch' written by Mrs. E. Adelaar - in which she had taken place in the early years of the Club, when Father Comeau was President. He was a special guest, and seemed to enjoy the little vignette in his honor.

A pot luck supper had preceded the program, at which Mrs. George Fielding and Mrs. Dan Hammonds were acting as hostesses with Mrs. Powell.

Following was a fashion show "Then and Now" and Mrs. Hankinson, Mrs. Powell, Mrs. John Shaw dressed very beautifully as the 'then's', were pursued by Mrs. Dennis Comeau, as the 'now's'. Mrs. Dixon Rice played appropriate songs during this time, and the whole cast received sincere applause.

At the later supper, Mrs. Fielding poured, as well as Mrs. Rice and Mrs. Comeau, who were at the tea table.

Mink Breeders Field Day

The Annual Field Day for Western Nova Scotia Mink Breeders was held October 30 at the Riverside Inn, Meeting house, with good interest and attendance.

The program commenced with the judging of live animals. Judges the show were William MacFarlane and Louis Fournier, of Hudson's Bay Company, Montreal, and Conrad Fregent, of Canadian Fur Auctions Company, Montreal.

Prize winners for the following classes were:

White: 1st, Emilie Thimot, Little Brook.

Pearl: 1st & 2nd, Brookside Fur Farm Ltd., Havelock.

Dark Males: 1st, LeBlanc Bros., Little Brook; 2nd & 3rd, Brookside Fur Farm Ltd., Havelock.

Dark Females: LeBlanc Bros., Little Brook.

Spangly: 1st & 2nd, Hillside Fur Farm Ltd., Easton.

Pastel (light): 1st, Dickson Mullen, Havelock; 2nd, Wilfred Baker, Middleton.

Pastel (medium): 1st, Hillside Fur Farm Ltd.; 2nd, Saul-Bernie Fur Farm.

Pastel (dark): 1st, Brookside Fur Farm Ltd.; 2nd, LeBlanc Bros.

Silver Blue: 1st & 2nd, Brookside Fur Farm Ltd., Havelock.

Special interest was aroused here where it was learned these two mink had not received the same diet. The animal carrying the first prize had received a "Dry Food Diet" for one month, while the second prize winner ate the usual food. This new "Dry Food Diet" experiment by Mr. Donald Mullen, president of Brookside Fur Farm, is the first dry diet ever attempted in Nova Scotia.

Heaviest Mink of the Show: 1st prize, Emilie Thimot - animal weighing 6 pounds, 11 ounces.

A petting demonstration followed with Great Saline, Borden, skimming, Maynard and Everett Mullen fleshing, and Mrs. Grant Sabine boarding and finishing.

Show concluded with a banquet sponsored by Parker-Eakins Company and Hulton Purins, with approximately 100 present.

Master of Ceremonies was Mr. Austin Mullen, of Havelock.

Among the special speakers were: Mr. Conrad Fregent, Canadian Fur Auctions Co., Montreal; Mr. H. Carter of Ranchers Marketing, New York; C. A. Douglas, Director of Livestock Services, N. S. Department of Agriculture, Truro; Dr. Gordon Finley, Fur Farm Specialist, Truro; and Mr. Michael Conditig, of Advertising Account for Canada Mink Breeders, Montreal.

Trophies were also presented to L. & M. Comeau, Little Brook, and Mr. George Gould, of Bridgewater.

show "Then and Now" and Mrs. Hankinson, Mrs. Powell, Mrs. John Shaw dressed very beautifully as the 'then's', were pursued by Mrs. Dennis Comeau, as the 'now's'. Mrs. Dixon Rice played appropriate songs during this time, and the whole cast received sincere applause.

Weymouth School Hi-Lites

Meet The Teachers
Ella Bartos, a Primary and Grade One teacher, is a native of Trenton, Nova Scotia, a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reddick. Having completed Grade XI at Trenton, she was transferred from New Glasgow High School the following year.

After holding teaching positions in the counties of Halifax and Guysborough, she then attended the Provincial Normal College at Truro. Upon graduation, the then Miss Reddick came to Annapolis, where she was employed by the Digby Municipal School Board to teach at New Conway School.

She married Alvin Barton and became a resident of Annapolis. They had two children, a daughter Sara, attending Digby Elementary School, and a son Michael, now deceased.

After consolidation of the Conway School into the Digby system, Mrs. Barton was offered a position in the new High School English, Grades IX, X, XI and XII, and continued to teach at Weymouth Falls, where she remained until given a teaching position with the Weymouth Consolidated School four years ago.

Mrs. Barton has completed twenty-five years of teaching in schools of Nova Scotia.

The past summer she had the privilege of meeting many of her former pupils at twenty-five years ago, who gave her a very warm welcome. She was delighted to be hosted overnight at one of several ways in which education has benefited young people who have moved from the area with a favorable educational background.

Mrs. Barton has seen many changes in education itself and in greater opportunities for young people during her twenty-five years of teaching. In addition to teaching she has also participated in other phases of community life, including adult education, church-related activity and community improvement programs.

Of the many developments noted in education over a quarter of a century, Mrs. Barton regards the improved opportunities for negro people as students and teachers one of the major changes.

Ruth C. Specht came to Weymouth Consolidated High School from North Queens Rural High, Colebrook.

She is the teacher of the High School English, Grades IX, X, XI and XII, and completed her high school there. She attended normal college in Lunenburg, Shelburne, Colchester, Halifax, Hants and Queens. She spent one year, cookies and pop.

at Buckingham High School in Quebec.

In the midst of her teaching years she withdrew, to attend the Eastern Nazarene College, Wollaston, Mass., where she received her B.S.

Sadie Hawkins Day Party
A Sadie Hawkins Day party was held at Weymouth Consolidated School on Friday evening, under supervision of administrator Robert Baldwin, with about 150 high school students in attendance. The gym had been decorated in Disputist style by members of the Student Council. Chaperones were Dr. and Mrs. Eriqve, Mr. Wilfred Costan and Mrs. Robert Baldwin.

Games were played during the first part of the evening. Leonard Cromwell winning the pie eating contest, and Rita Cromwell winning the Cake Walk. Dancing during the latter part of the evening was enjoyed, with music provided by high school students Paul Wood, Greg Mackin, Henry Bishop and Ross Cromwell.

Fritzes for costumes were given in Mela Bravara, Eddy Hankinson and Earl Cromwell. Refreshments were served in the form of sandwiches, cookies and pop.

It was decided to accept the plans offered by Thomas Shows of Mahone Bay and to feature them at a Midway for the 1960 Exhibition at Bear River.

Saddle Horses was added as a new class in prize lists with Royal Woodworth in charge. It is hoped that the show they put on will prove most attractive.

The admission price of fifty cents for afternoon and another fifty cents for evening was changed to twenty-five cents for all day. Plans are to be rebuilt and uniformed personnel used to check illegal entry into grounds and parking lot in Banks' field.

It was reported that this plan was widespread and not confined to juveniles. Revision of entry fees for exhibits was set over to the next meeting.

The president was instructed to appoint a committee to prepare a brief to be presented to the Municipal Council asking for a substantial increase in the County grant to the Exhibition.

Mrs. R. K. Purdy returned to Bear River after spending the past month visiting her sister, Mrs. H. C. Fines, Don Mills, Ontario.

Entertain Hill'n'Dale Annual

The Hill'n'Dale Garden Club members were guests on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. David Parker. This was the annual meeting reports were given by the Secretary showing a busy year. The club had held a tea and sale, sponsored a Christmas lighting contest, given Christmas cheer to the shut-ins, sponsored a row show and tea entered a float in the Cherry Carnival, cleaned the path building at the Exhibition and had the care of the flower display there, donated special prizes at Exhibition, gladiolus bulbs were bought by the club and grown by the members, and two boxes of knitting were sent to the Brunswick Street Mission.

The Treasurer's report also showed the club had finished another successful year.

Plans were made to again sponsor a lighting contest at Christmas. There will be three classes, one for the homes in the district and one for members' homes with three prizes for each class, also a class for commercial lighting, with two prizes. Plans were also made to again hold a tea and sale in December. Proceeds to help on the lighting contest and Christmas cheer.

Plans concerning a spring rally and to have the Exhibition signs repainted were made.

The officers appointed were: President, Mrs. Jack Harris; Vice President, Mrs. Curtis Rice; Secretary, Mrs. Lawrence Darter; Treasurer, Jack Harris; Programme, Mrs. Rose Benson. After the business, slides were shown by Mrs. Allister Milner assisted by Mr. Harris. These were of our rose show, and also points of interest, many have home of Nova Scotia. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Miller were Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Milner.

Visitors of William Morine and Stan Smith at their Lake hunting camp over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Smith's Cove.

Mr. and Mrs. R. K. Purdy returned to Bear River after spending the past month visiting her sister, Mrs. H. C. Fines, Don Mills, Ontario.

Message From The Governor General

A wise man named Erasmus once said "When I get a little money I buy books and if I am left, I buy food and clothes." Such was one famous scholar's estimation of the importance of books.

Indeed, if one thinks for a minute where we should be without the treasures of information and enlightenment to be found in books, one realizes just how much of our present knowledge and happiness is due to books. They stand ready to help us at all times, and they have the infinite patience to repeat their lessons as often as we wish.

But as Francis Bacon added: "Some books are to be tasted, others swallowed and some few to be chewed and digested." In an age when almost anything is permissible in print, the wise reader seeks the advice of a skilled librarian, a knowledgeable teacher or an informed parent or friend to make sure that the books he selects will add to his maturity and understanding rather than subtract from them.

I congratulate the organizers of Young Canada's Book Week.

POST GRADUATE COURSE

(By Barbara Ervine)

It was a beautiful morning when my husband and I, on the 24th of October, left for Prince Edward Island. Having a tape recorder in the car we started to record a letter to our parents. We told them of the beauty of St. Mary's Bay

as we drove through Gilbert

Cove, Smith Cove, etc.; the story of Annapolis Royal with the historic Fort Anne, and of the Valley with the red apples and pears and especial

the nice big golden pumpkins ready for fall colour. In Caribou to our surprise we had no trouble getting on the ferry. It was 6 o'clock and 7:30 was the time of registration for the Fourth

Conjoint Scientific Assembly of General Practitioners who are members of The College of General Practice of Canada in the Confederation Centre in Charlottetown. To be a member of the College of General

Practice a medical doctor must put in 100 hours of scientific study every year. This keeps the general practitioners from getting rusty, and enables them to keep in touch with the latest methods of preventing and treating disease. These number doctors who are young enough and ambitious enough to want to become

Specialists in general practice will have to take medical examinations to achieve this ambition. In the year 1972 the first doctor will graduate at

Specialists of General Practice in Canada.

After my husband registered all those present enjoyed cocktails. Here d'Arceville and delicious Smorgasbord, as guests of the Director of the College,

Dr. D. L. Rice, from Toronto, and Dr. S. C. Clark, President and Chief of St. John General

Hospital. It was very pleasant to meet again with those from previous years and also to meet those joining for the first time. The ladies were all in their prettiest clothes. Most of the dresses being of gold or silver lace. The next day the lectures for doctors started at 9:00 a.m. Dr. R. N. Anderson from Halifax, who is one of the best specialists for heart, lectured on the new concepts in Cardiovascular Diseases. Precoronary, Hypertension

Angina, Arrhythmias, Acute

Coronary Shock, etc. When the doctors were listening to

Dr. Anderson, we ladies were given a talk on the subject of Postgraduate Education. The

speaker was Dr. H. C. Shirley, Director of Children's Hospital in Birmingham, U.S.

who flew from Hawaii to come to our assembly. Although he tried to speak gayly, he seemed his listeners. He showed us a picture of a house — Home

Sweet Home, where especially the mothers are keeping their much stuff to kill our children.

Today 50% of the children die from accidents, and not from 20%, 30% die by poisoning. If we look first in the kitchen — just why are we keeping our detergents and cleaners in the lower part of cupboards where children could reach them? Why not we change the place and put the cleaning agents on the top of the cupboard and the boxes of cereal in the lower part of the cupboard? The two night tables with the sleepers, tranquilizers, aspirins are where a child will often go first. There are often more aspirins in the medicine cabinet of the bathroom, also cod liver oil, vitamins with iron, etc.

Too much vitamin D makes the bones brittle, and even 38 baby aspirin will kill a child.

How often does a mother try hard to give an aspirin to a sick child. But at the same time does she insist that he drink a great deal of fluids, such as milk, fruit juice, etc.

Often a child has flu and after a couple days he starts to breathe heavily and noisily.

The mother thinks it must be pneumonia, instead it may well be the beginning of aspirin poisoning. And in our "Home Sweet Home" we will have a basement. There you can find all kinds of insecticides, paints, gasoline, oils, mouse and rat killers, etc. Dr.

Shirley showed us a picture of a 12 year old boy. He was helping his father on a milk farm. It was a hot day and as they were spraying the milk with a cyanamide product to kill weeds, the boy reached for an open bottle of coke, thinking his father had left some in the bottle. What he drank out of the bottle, he quickly spit out. But what he swallowed was enough, and in half an hour he was dead. Dr. Shirley

"took this picture in the hope that everybody who will see it will remember "NEVER to leave anything injurious to humans in your bottle. If you want to save something, close the bottle well and put the paper with the poison label on it on the bottle and put it on the high shelves out of reach of children. It is so easy to be careless and how sorry

we are when it is too late.

But it could be much easier

if we give thought to making our homes safer places for our children. Every mother should keep on hand a bottle of actiated charcoal and a bottle of lemon or pop bottle. If a child eat something that may poison him, give him one or two spoonfuls of charcoal. This charcoal will absorb what is in the stomach and prevent its spreading in the body too quickly. After giving the charcoal give the child one spoon of Ipecac Syrup. In 15 minutes

the child should start to vom-

it. (Only fluids that would burn the throat, you don't make them vomit. You give only charcoal). Now you have time to call your family doctor who will tell you if anything else could be done, or he will ed to get up. I said to my husband, "Come on, let's go."

"Where?" he asked. When I turned my head I saw on the face of everyone the same enthusiasm. So I started to laugh and said, "Not to a hospital for a confinement! I thought

I could never be ready for the big formal supper and dance and the promised supper at 11 a.m. with Chinese food and European delicacies. But I made it.

When back home my 5-year-old son was helping me to unpack. Suddenly his eyes opened wide and, looking puzzled,

he said, "There is only one silver shoe!" I looked in the suitcase and saw that he was right. So I said to him: "Do you remember the story where someone lost a silver slipper?"

"Yes, Mamma," it was Cinderella; she danced too long and when she ran down the steps

she lost one of her slippers!"

"Well, my silver shoes in the hotel room!" His eyes opened wide, then he looked at me and suddenly put his arms around my neck and gave me a big hug.

My Fleet

How can I expect my ship to come in if it never sets sail on its sea?
How can I wish for its happy return,
To bring its treasures to me?
But one small ship is not enough
To combat life's tumultuous gale.
So I must send a whole sturdy fleet,
For fear, one lone bark might fail.
So I'll send forth my fleet of ships
From the sturdy ship-yards of love.
A ship of courage, youth and time
To battle the storms they find.
In steadfast youth you must build your ships
Then work and wait and yearn,
With a spirit high and a bit of luck
These good ships will return.

I hate November

"Don't worry, I don't have a plan for writing an advance of the month. But I'm almost certain that most people share my view of November. It is a bad bumper."

It may be beautiful in Adelaide, Australia, with bikini-babe on the beaches, and the sun belling down. But in the chill north wind and frost, it's as sad as the week of a once beautiful woman with nothing but good bone structure, and great black bags under the eyes.

It is suitably introduced by Halloween, that night when the instruments of darkness have their fling, and people put razor blades in apples and caustics in candles.

It is a time when 'night comes early and early, and we draw our shades and creep into the darkness of our souls, and contemplate with horror the five months ahead.

No wonder Guy Fawkes and the other guys in on the deal tried to blow up King James and parliament on Nov.
5th, 1605, in the famous Gunpowder Plot. But it was probably too risky that they couldn't keep their powder dry.

No wonder World War I ended on November 11th. Even thousands of dead and unborn fighters, the Germans, couldn't face going through the rest of another nasty November.

It's a month of soaring feet like last year's robbers, and sheds into this air, mud and wet leaves tracked onto the clean kitchen floor. A lot of putting on snow tires a day too late, storm windows a day too late, and studying the excuses, a month too late.

It's a month, this, in Canada, is symbolized by Guy Cup Day. Isn't that appropriate? It couldn't have been a Lord Brown or Blue or Green or any of those distinguished names who donated our football cup. It had to be a Lord Guy.

Oh, I suppose, for the lunatic fringe of our population, November has its merits. It's pumpkin month, which also can go out and muddle around in the marshes for $10. The only comfort I have here is that the deer population is steadily increasing.

Thanks to the incredible instincts of most hunters, people like Sidney Wyman, the hunter, are safer from hunters than the deer is from taxidermists.

And it's a grand month for those other nuts — the rainbow trout fishermen. I can't think of anything on those honeyhatched, moist-laden November mornings, up to your navel in ice-water, more compulsive to a long, happy life. Full of arthritis, neuritis, bursitis and plain old rheumatism.

November has a certain grim charm for the misanthrope — the guy who hates everybody to be as mean as he is. For once, he knows everybody is as dumb as he, which makes him glumly happy, or happily glum.

It's a month when every normal Canadian gets a rotten cold, which hangs on, with varying degrees of misery, until the 24th of May. It's the month when Christmas advertising reaches a zenith of stupidity.

It's a month when your kids quit university, when your roof springs a leak, when you realize you decide it is worn out.
When your old backache,
stunned by summer's sun, starts to ache back. When your car's "fall tune-up" turns into a major overhaul.

It's a month when all your best-laid plans of September turn off as dry and you realize you are running on three cylinders instead of the usual five.
It's a month, this year, when you had to look a six-cent stamp for the first time in your life. And your poor old Yank friends had to choose, not Snow White, but one of the seven dwarfs.

I would say November is for the birds. But even the birds have enough brains to head south in October. We're talking about "bird-brain" from now! I hate November.

JONES

Major Jones renewed acquaintance, both military and members of the parish movement, many of whom were still living and had been exiled to high ranking positions.
Mr. Jones visited the exact spot where he had purchased during the war and the time he headed the mission of liberation. In an interview with The Digby Courier, Major
Jones spoke of the advancement of the country. Naming the village of Koper on the coast which he visited, Mr.
Jones said it was but a small fishing village in 1951 when he was there but today it has a large dock and 6 merchant maritime, tremendous warehouse with refrigeration. One million tons of shipping went through there in 1967.

Of his visit with the president, Mr. Jones remarked that he had met the president in the White House. They talked two hours before they dinner and after dinner two hours more. He was interested in the fact that the president was born in the same place as he was, where the major was born and in many other honey subjects but was interested in the fact that the president was down with the Russian-Czech-slovakia situation and talked at this at length. He could see no justification for the move by Russia and thought there must be some cause he did not know about. He was hopeful that there would be no open conflict but was grieved and said that he had to ask the people to be ready to assume arms if necessary. He was concerned about the upset in the progress of his country now that energy had to be put into defence. President Tito asked Mr. Jones' views, to which he replied that he did not feel there was a return of Russian Imperialism but that the two great powers for each other and where they were own philosophies. Each wants to make the advantage which would mean the destruction of the other. He understanding could involve the whole world in destruction. He thought Russia might have felt she could stop Russia would not expose herself to possible war which would cripple her, jeopardize her advancement and let down people who looked to her for leadership in the peace of the world. Mr. Jones felt it is up to the United States to make the next move and suggested that should be to get out of Asia. Public opinion, he felt, could be a great factor in stopping the present situation.
President Tito, he said, apologized but felt that Russia did hold in her hands the means of saving public opinion over to her side if she admitted her error to the United Nations.

General Hospital where she underwent surgery.
Mrs. Alex Patterson, Indian Head, Saskatchewan, returned home after visiting with her son, Mrs. Helen Anthony.
The Ladies Hospital Auxiliary will meet in the board room at 8 o'clock Monday evening. Mrs. A. Boutiller and Mrs. Carrie Clarke hostess.
Mrs. Myrtle Lewis of Rossary, N.S., has been a recent visitor in Terrace, P. C. She stayed with her daughter, Mrs.
Dolma Cossetti and Mr. Cos-setti and while there she visited with her grandson, Beverly Cossetti and family. She also visited other friends who had formerly lived in the Digby area.

Recent guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reidar Berntsen were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Martin (Mrs. Gerald Martin, Martin, Ottawa); Mrs. James Harrison, N.S.; Mrs. J. H. Hush-visited the city of Plank where he addressed an audience of several thousand persons and then returned to Zagreb where the ceremony was held and awards presented.

The function was attended by all the heads and members of the original parliament and present heads of government and was held in the parliament building, comprising a whole city block which had escaped the destruction of war. An extremely old building, the decor of the rooms were all in direct with the 6th and 7th century in decor and matching furniture.
Major and Mrs. Jones visited many places in Yugoslavia and in all were given the same royal treatment and met by the government dignitaries.
Some of the places the major had previously visited and some entirely new experience. In Zagreb he was able to renew acquaintance with Dr. Clinchop, whom he met in his earlier station in Yugoslavia and was also able to locate two waitresses, "Olga and Onica", who had served him at the hotel in his former visit in the country.

IN MEMORIAM

BUDD — In loving memory of our mother, Nellie Blanche Budd, of Digby Neck, who passed away November 20, 1965.
We wish today, as we wished before.

That God could have spared
you many years more.
No one knows the grief we share.
When we all meet and you're not there.
Life goes on, we know that's true.
But not the same, since we lost
you.

Thought about you, you're always near;
Still loved and still missed,
still very dear.

— Lovingly remembered by her six sons and four daughters.
151c

BROWN — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Gordon L. Brown, who passed away November 27, 1966.
Today recalls the memory
of a dear husband and father gone to rest.
And those who think of him today.

Are those who loved him best.
If all the world was ours to give.

We would give it, we would more.
To see the face of you, dear
Gordon,
Come smiling through the door.

— Sadly missed and always remembered by wife, Evelyn and family. 151c

W.M.S. Honors Mrs. Lloyd MacNeill

The regular monthly meeting of the W.M.S. of Hill Grove Baptist Church was held at the home of Mrs. Lloyd MacNeill on Thursday evening, November 14th, with the president, Mrs. Vernon Jones, presiding, and twelve members and two visitors present.

Mrs. Orbin Minard was leader for scripture reading. The Women's Day of Prayer program was used, with Mrs. William Hoopes reading the President's message. The program was divided into four parts, and given by the following members: "Showing Compassion" by Mrs. Benjamin Marshall; "Testifying" by Mrs. Thomas Franklin; "Praying" by Mrs. Curtis Porter; and "Giving" by Mrs. Saddle Baisor.

After the service a special ceremony took place when Mrs. Lloyd MacNeill was presented with a Dominion Life Membership in the Women's Missionary Society of the United Baptist Church. The Presentation Charge was read by Mrs. Thomas Franklin, with Mrs. John Murley reading the certificate and presenting it to Mrs. MacNeill. The emblematic pin was presented to and pinned on Mrs. MacNeill by Mrs. William Franklin, with a few appropriate words. Although taken completely by surprise, Mrs. MacNeill expressed her thanks and appreciation for the honor bestowed upon her by the society members.

The meeting closed with prayer and benediction by Rev. Donald E. Robertson.

A social period followed the meeting, with refreshments being served by several of the members and a cake appropriately decorated for the occasion was presented to Mrs. MacNeill by Mrs. Vernon Jones.

The first Dominion Life Membership in the United Baptist Church W.M.S. awarded by the Hill Grove group was given to the late Mrs. Joseph Vincent in 1909, and since that time ten other such memberships have been given to members. This is an outstanding record in a society with

P.M. Issues Safe Driving Message

Prime Minister Trudeau.

During 1967, in traffic accidents across the nation, 5,379 people died and 165,694 people were injured, many of them crippled for life.

This is a serious national problem which must be solved, but with 7,800,000 licensed drivers using our highways no one individual, group or government can accomplish the task alone.

For this reason, I would urge every Canadian driver and pedestrian to do his part to support Safe-Driving Week, sponsored by the Canada Safety Council from December 1 to 7.

Oil Kings Lucky Draw Winner

The Digby Junior Oil Kings lucky draw was won by Miss Joyce Haynes for the first week. The drawing was made at the Bank of Canada by Mr. Mervyn Toole. The second draw will be made this Friday. Proceeds go towards the Digby Hockey Club expenses.

The small membership such as Hill Grove W.M.S.

All donations toward these Memberships are given on a voluntary basis, and are in addition to yearly dues and regular collections.

Golden Wedding Anniversary

On Monday, November 18th, Mr. and Mrs. Julius Leonard, New Edinburgh, celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. They had a small celebration, which included their children: Rose (Mrs. Johnnie Ameriault); Anna (Mrs. Arnold Wagner); George, with whom they reside, and another son, Danny, who was unable to attend, and a few friends at their home.

A purse of money was presented to the honored couple. A luncheon was served at the close of the evening, at which time they were the recipients of a cake from the family.

Women Do White Cross Work

The November meeting of the North Range Baptist W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Rice Kinney at Barton.

The president, Mrs. Clement Silver, was in the chair and conducted the devotional, using as her theme "Rememberance", in keeping with Rememberance Day.

Mrs. Floyd McNeil read the scripture passage from Deut. 8.

Following the devotional period the remainder of the program session was taken up with White Cross work under the direction of the convener, Mrs. Rice Kinney. Bandages and dressings were made by the group. A crib quilt made by Mrs. H. A. Shortliffe was on display.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served by the hostess. Despite inclement weather conditions, there were seven members and one visitor present.

Scholarship Offered

Announcement of an annual scholarship for library study by a Canadian has been made by Katherine Ball, president of the Canadian Library Association.

Known as the Howard V. Phelin - World Book Graduate Scholarship in Library Science, it will provide funds for up to one year of graduate study at an accredited library school in either Canada or the United States. Maximum amount of the scholarship is $3,000.

It is assumed that the recipient will use his professional education and experience for the further advancement of library science in Canada.

A committee appointed by the Canadian Library Association will award the scholarship.

Helen Thurber Song On T.V.

Students from the University of New Brunswick, Fredericton, featured the Ballad of the Bluenose on the T.V. program 11:30 Society on Thursday evening. The song written by Helen Thurber, Digby, was sung by Peter Chipman, paid tribute to the Bluenose I, the late captain Angus Walters of Lunenburg and to the vessel which foundered in Southern waters.

Scholarship funds are provided by World Book Child-ric of Canada, Ltd., in honor of Mr. Phelin, the company's recently retired board chairman and chief executive officer.

Letters to the Editor

Bay View,
Digby, N. S.
Nov. 25, 1968

The Editor,
The Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.

Dear Mrs. Wallis,
I would like to ask you for further space in your paper to tell you what has happened in my efforts to get the school bus to come to pick up my little girl, Mrs. Wallis.

On November 23rd I got a letter from Mr. Purdy that at a recent meeting of the Municipal School Board it had been decided not to send the school bus to pick up my daughter in view of the recommendations of Inspector Barkhouse, whose report I included in my last letter to you.

Also Mr. Purdy said he recommended that my daughter should be schooled by correspondence courses.

Now, long before I received Mr. Purdy's letter, others had written to you showing Mr. Barkhouse's report was not based on actual facts.

Also about a week before receiving Mr. Purdy's letter, the school had informed my wife that the Department of Education had said that correspondence courses were not suited to Primary Grade students.

Can anyone tell me what I am supposed to do when Mrs. Barkhouse seems to know nothing about bus routes and School Superintendents seem to know nothing about correspondence courses?

Yours sincerely,
Orrie L. Peck

Mrs. J. M. Wallis,
Courier Office,
Digby, N. S.

Dear Mrs. Wallis,
The time has come for me to renew my subscription to the Digby Courier as I am enclosing 12 sets also 2 10/ notes making £2 (two pounds).

I am not quite sure as to the rate of exchange but think this will be sufficient for one year's subscription. The Courier is now coming a little more regularly but I can assure you it is very welcome when it does come.

Just a word about "Coffee at Jane's". One of our storekeepers was in the day the last issue came and he wanted to read as he has done before "Coffee at Jane's", which he thinks is very remarkable.

Some of the friends here are unable to get over the surprise of the many news items in the Courier and especially the long accounts of weddings, etc. The weekly papers in this part of Wiltshire do not carry such reports, just a mere notice that so and so have been married and perhaps a picture of the bride party.

The Courier is read by older friends here who are interested and very much enjoyed. Our weather continues as it has all summer, wet and cool, wishing you continued success in the Courier Office, remain,

Yours sincerely,
Frank Smith

Editor The Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.

Dear Editor:
I would like the public to know that my name should not be linked with the rumour of a tavern being built on property formerly owned by me. (It is a tavern) as I have no way of knowing except what people are telling me.

Mr. MacAlpine came to see me about land to build a house. A tavern was not mentioned and to anyone interested I can supply a witness to that statement.

If Mr. MacAlpine changed his mind after the business was done and decided to build a tavern that's his business, not mine, the land belongs to him.

Several years ago I had a chance to sell a part of this property and turned it down as I then owned cattle and was using the pasture.

With taxes increasing every year and the land growing up in bushes it is of no use to me. Who can blame me for selling it when I had the chance?

Thank you Mrs. Wallis for your time and space.

Coffee at Jane's

We got took, really took, and I let you be witness to the taking.

Do you remember, a few weeks ago, my little tale about the lady who came to the door selling oil paintings, how pleased I was with myself when I sent her packing with what I thought was my own particular brand of rudeness. A short time later my husband happened on her shop, and, on impulse, bought a painting. As he wrapped it, the lady of the shop told my husband to be sure to tell me where he had got it, so I would believe she really existed.

That was on a Friday. The following Sunday the children came down from the attic with armloads of magazines to cut. They enlisted my help in helping them find pictures of wild animals. I leafed through the July 12 issue of LIFE. On page thirty-five, I stopped. There, staring back at me, was a bearded old man, the very old man whose portrait my husband had just bought for an exorbitant sum.

I was seized with a cold fury. I doubt if I had ever been so angry at anything before. In first, I supposed the magazine up on the mantle beside our portrait, then I decided the time was not yet ripe to let the head of the house know he had been the victim of a fraud, so I took the magazine out and hid it under the front seat of the car. For about three days I went round the house composing nasty mental letters to anybody I could think of who might be in any way interested in paintings copied from magazines. Whenever a particularly juicy bit occurred to me, I would stop my work to compose an actual letter. By the third day, I had written a real dilly to send to the daily newspaper.

I did not send any of them.

It must have been Wednesday before I managed to get to town. With my children in tow, I stormed into the shop where the painting had been purchased. My friend, the lady who had been to my door selling paintings in the summer met me with a warm, welcoming smile. I showed her the magazine. "Do you," I asked, "I hope was my haughtiest voice (it is a bit difficult to be haughty with three children pulling on your skirt) "the old man?" The woman looked with some confusion at the picture. "We, like him so much," I added in what I tried to think was an icy tone, "that we have him hanging over our mantle all the time."

Just about then a group of well dressed ladies, with hats a yard wide, and gloves to their elbows, came in. The lady of the shop murmured a few gentle, placating words, and shushed me toward a stool at the back of the room. I fell, sitting there in my ordinary shopping dress, and surrounded by my friend, glibly, girly, girly, somebody's poor relation. I started to say "I am very, very, angry," but the lady, with infinite patience, eyebrowed me into silence across the neatly elegiac backs of her customers.

I retreated from the shop. My friend left her customers in charge of a young, attractive, blond clerk, and fluttered along the street behind me, murmuring, still in her gentle, placating voice that she could not talk with all those people in there, that she could understand that I was upset, that she would keep my magazine to show to her resident painter, and that I was a very bright and intelligent woman in my own right, she knew, and not only because I was married to a bright and intelligent man.

I asked for my magazine back. She solemnly assured me that after she had shown it to the man who had copied from it, she would give it back. She would not dream of keeping my property. Somehow she made me feel like the sort of person who could not part with a fifty-cent piece of property. I did not insist. She probably could not hide every copy of the July 12 issue of LIFE in the province.

She called me on Monday, to say that she had spoken to her artist friend about his ability to copy portraits from LIFE, not life, that he has explained the situation to her, and that he would come to visit me to offer his explanations.

He did not. Three weeks later I updated, and to some extent unafraid my letter to the editor, and sent it. A few days later, a kind professional artist answered my letter. He said that there are quacks in the art world, just as there are in the world of medicine, but that artistic quackery is quite legal. I suppose we should be grateful for that, in a way. It would be a bit horrible if there were a law against copying photographs from magazines. It is only a step from there to legislating that there has to be a tractor in every picture. But it does seem that any artist worth his oil paints ought to be honest enough not to sell work of that sort.

I am not brave, as I have been called, for proclaiming my unfortunate experience. I am trying to prevent other poor suckers from buying, for exorbitant prices, Donald Weedman pictures copied from magazines.

the groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McDermid, of Westport, Digby Co., N.S.

The bride, who entered the church on the arm of her father, was given in a knee-length dress of white lace over taffeta, empire style, long sleeves. Her nylon illusion veil was attached to a headpiece of white flowers and seed pearls, and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses and white carnations.

Miss Iris Outhouse, sister of the bride, was dressed in a knee-length dress of aqua metallic lace over taffeta, headpiece of white 'mums, blue carnations attached to veiling shoes to match and carried a nosegay of white 'mums and blue carnations.

The bride was given in marriage by her mother and father. Richard McDermid was best man for his brother. Ushers were Burton Outhouse, brother of the bride, and Richard Thompson, cousin of the bride. Guest book was presided over by Mrs. Howard Nickerson, sister of the bride. For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Outhouse chose a blue lace dress with matching jacket, gold accessories and a corsage of yellow 'mums.

Mrs. McDermid, mother of the groom, wore a suit of coral wool boucle, beige accessories and a corsage of coral 'mums.

Following the ceremony the wedding party motored to Dartmouth, Yr. Co., where the reception was held at the Harris Wood dining room. During the dinner a toast was proposed by Earl Thompson, uncle of the bride, and was responded to by the groom.

The bride's going away outfit was a brown wool walking suit, brown accessories, and she wore a pink and white cottage of carnations. The couple motored to New Brunswick and Maine for their honeymoon.

They will reside in Westport, where the groom is engaged in fishing. Out-of-town guests were from Westport, Thorton, Freeport, Yarmouth, Sanford and Halifax.

Corkum - Oliver

The Parker's Cove Baptist Church was the scene of a pretty fall wedding on Saturday, October 19, 1968, at 7:00 p.m., when Mary Elizabeth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Oliver, Parker's Cove, was united in marriage to Kenneth Corkum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Corkum, Lawrencetown, N.S.

The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. C. David Turner, Port Royal, N.S. The church was decorated with bouquets of pink and white roses. The guest pews were marked with rosettes.

Mrs. C. David Turner was organist. The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in a floor length gown of white rayon peas de sole, with nylon lace detachable chapel train. Her shoulder length veil of nylon was held in place by a cluster of simulated pearls. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

The maid of honour, Miss Annette Merry, and bridesmaids, Mrs. Lewis Sarty and Miss Mervia Corkum, sister of the groom, wore identical street length gowns of turquoise nylon with nylon lace coat, and carried a nosegay of white 'mums.

The winsome flower girl was Miss Kelly Hamilton, cousin of the bride. She wore a gown of white rayon taffeta and nylon lace and a white an headpiece held in place by two roses. She carried a nosegay of red roses.

The bride's mother wore a two-piece suit of blue linen weave rayon with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The groom's mother wore a two-piece suit of gray rayon taffeta with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The groom was attended by the bride's brother, Clark Oliver. Ushers were Lewis Sarty and Donald Taylor.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the Parker's Cove School auditorium for approximately one hundred and fifty guests.

The bride's table was lighted with tall white candles and centered with the traditional three-tier wedding cake, which was served to the guests by the bride and groom. The bride's party was served by Miss Linda Oliver, cousin of the bride, and Miss Terry Whitman, cousin of the groom, while friends and relatives served the guests.

Miss Marsha Lee Sarty, cousin of the bride, was in charge of the guest book.

For going away the bride wore a three-piece navy blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

The happy couple will reside in Calgary, Alta., where the groom is employed at MacMillan and Bloden Limited, and the bride is employed at Simmons Mattress Co.

Combine For Roll Call

On Sunday evening, November 17th, a combined Roll Call service was held in the Annapolis Royal United Baptist Church.

W.M.S. Meets

The November meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Westport United Baptist Church met on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Earl Weber, with Mrs. Lawrence Shaw presiding.

Prayer was led by Mrs. Wyle Poole. New business included plans to prepare much needed supplies for the White Cross work of the Society.

The Spiritual Life lesson was given by Mrs. Dana Miller and a program presented by Mrs. Albert Bailey.

The President, Mrs. Shaw, in warm words of appreciation on behalf of the members, presented to Mrs. Miller a gift expressing thanks for her help and inspiration in the society, and assuring her of the continued prayers and best wishes as she and Mr. Miller take up the duties of their new field in Bradley, Maine.

A social hour followed, with expressed regret at leaving Westport, as it was to this village she came as a bride.

Mrs. Miller thanked and Mrs. Holland Titus and Mrs. Richard Welch co-hostesses with Mrs. Weber.

Of Prayer Observe Day

Baptist Women's Day of Prayer was observed on Monday evening in the church hall. The leader, Mrs. Lawrence Shaw, gave the call to worship.

The text was "Lord, Teach Us To Pray," and the Lord's Prayer followed. Scripture, Romans 10:8-15 was read by Mrs. Wyle Poole and scripture found in Matthew 25:31-40, by Mrs. Albert Moore.

Mrs. Shaw gave the message as written by Mrs. Edgates, President of the Women's Department of the Baptist World Alliance. Mrs. Earl Weber was pianist. There were four parts to the program: Showing Compassion, Festivity, Praying and Giving. Parts were read by Mrs. George Kenney, Mrs. Earl Weber, Mrs. Wickerson Lent and, Harriet Denton, with prayer by Miss Luile Repoli.

Mrs. Earl Weber, Mrs. Dana Miller and Mrs. Wyle Poole.

Mrs. Shaw pronounced the benediction.

PUBLIC MEETING ON ST. ANN'S

Following a meeting of the steering committee held at St. Ann's college of Church Point, a public meeting will be called for December 2nd to be held at St. Ann's, Mr. Norman Pothier stated. He is chairman of the steering committee organized recently for the purpose of planning the by-laws of a new organization which will have for its title, "The Friends of College Ste Anne".

The new organization will be formed by popular demand and high hopes have been held for the future of Ste Anne's programs.

college following a marked increase in the student body and teaching staff, stated Mr. Pothier.

The new organization is not only dedicated to maintaining the college in its present location but will prepare a master plan of development for the college and the community. The association will offer its services to the college administration and hopes that student housing, staff housing and other such services can be operated by a non-profit organization, thus relieving the college of this responsibility. Mr. Pothier stated that it was really a pleasure to coordinate efforts of such a large number of people interested in a project. Donations and pledges have already been made and support by other organizations as well as individuals received are most encouraging. The initial goal of the assistance fund has been set at $10,000.00 and fundraising projects have already been initiated.

Great things are expected of this organization.

Former Weymouth Man Drowned

Stuart Joseph Bomenfant, 53, of Saint John, N. B., formerly of Weymouth, N. S., was drowned along with four companions on November 8 when they were starting on a week hunting trip on the Musquash River.

He was employed as a Ward Supervisor, at the Provincial Hospital, Saint John, for more than 22 years.

A veteran of the Second World War, he served with the Royal Canadian Navy in the Atlantic Command. He was a member of the Maine Naval Veterans Association, N. B. Civil Service Association and the Saint John Fish & Game Association.

He was born in Weymouth, N. S., a son of the late Cam and Louise (Handrahan) Bomenfant. Surviving are his wife, the former Irena Welsh, one daughter Carol Anne, one son, Delbert R. D., both at home; two grandchildren, Stewart Joseph and Steven Joseph; two sisters, Loretta (Mrs. Roy McHugh) and Marie (Mrs. Thomas McHugh), both of Saint John; two brothers, Robert, of Robeson, N. B., and Donald, of West Africa; several nieces and nephews.

The funeral was held on November 13 from the Calvin Funeral Home to St. Rose Church where Requiem Mass was celebrated by Rev. Father Brian Sheehan. Assisting clergy were Rev. Father R. J. Muljaly and Rev. Father John R. Glazey.

Palbearers were Gerald Henderson, Lawrence Stillwell, John Palmer, Hazen Young, Ernest Bacon and Roy Sparks. Honorary bearers were Dr. R. A. Gregory, Dr. G. G. Hatfield, Leslie McGuire, Frederick Brigidon, Roydon Connors, Thomas Beman, Frederick Orr, Colin Coes, Milton Reid, Howard Brounwell and Roy Levenshulme.

Among floral and spiritual tributes received were those from: Staff of D. E. and F. Provincial Hospital; Moosehead Breweries Limited; Management and Staff, Saint John Bricklayers Limited; Atlantic Sugar Refinery; Office and Staff, Provincial Hospital; Staff, St. Rose Holy Name Society; Lancaster Nurses' Association; Main Brace Naval

63rd Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Josie Robicheau celebrated their 63rd wedding anniversary recently. Mr. and Mrs. Robicheau were married October 24, 1905, at Holy Cross Church, Plympton, by the late Reverend Father Zuest, parish priest at that time.

Mrs. Robicheau was the former Mary Amaro, daughter of the late Frank and Eliza Amaro, of Doucetville, while Mr. Robicheau is the son of the late Joseph and Eliza Robicheau, also of Doucetville. The bride and groom of 63 years had lived in Doucetville for some seven years before moving to Gilbert Cove, where they have since resided.

Mr. and Mrs. Robicheau had nine children, seven of whom are still living: two daughters, Bernice (Mrs. Thomas McCullough), at home; Lillian (Mrs. Walter Melanson), of Gilbert Cove, and five sons: Jessie, Vincent and Bernice, of Gilbert Cove; Eugene, of Plympton Station; Charles, of Sydney. There are also 17 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren.

Mr. Robicheau is 89 years of age and is still active, cutting wood and working around the house.

Mrs. Robicheau is active and does her own housework and they both enjoy good health.

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Robicheau.

Honored At Westport

Licentiate and Mrs. Dana Miller, pastor of the Westport United Baptist Church, were guests on Wednesday evening at a reception in their honor.

The church hall was the scene for this occasion and Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Raynor, pastor of the Church of Christ (Disciples), with members of his congregation, were special guests also.

With the church organist, Mrs. Richard Welch, at the piano, hymn singing was enjoyed. Mr. Raynor brought good wishes on behalf of his church and expressed the pleasure he and Mr. Miller had in working together in the community and more particularly with the young people's groups.

Lic. Miller is completing a ministry of 20 months in the church and it is with deep regret that he people bid Lic. and Mrs. Miller farewell. His ministry of song has also been a great inspiration to all. He will be missed also in the schools in Preport and Westport where he taught music.

A pleasant feature of the evening was the presentation by acting deacon George Clements to Mr. Miller of a gift of money, to which Mr. Miller responded with sincere thanks. Mrs. Miller, too, has been most helpful in all facets of the church work. Lic. Miller will on Sunday, November 24th,

The Tides Of Fundy

Who has ne'er seen the tides of Fundy
Has missed a most wonderful sight
Whether it be in the moonlight
By under the sun so bright.

The Gulf Stream, it's wonderful waters Swings east, towards Europe's far shore Past the Gulf of Maine and past Fundy's mouth
The warmer waters pour.

But in the Bay of Fundy Cool waters pile ever so high Till they reach their peak in "Winas"
Nowhere else may they draw so high.

And then having reached at "Cheverie"
Some sixty feet, to amaze
The waters recede to uncover the flats
With a swiftness the mind to dazzle.

And so at the "Bore" at Moncton
And so at the "Falls" at Saint John
And so at the "twain" by Digby's wharves
Each tide must be told of in song.

Ah, one might sing of Campobello
Or of Grand Manan's rocky coast
Or of "Digby Neck" and "The Islands"
Or of Pasmaguddy boat.

For there's never a tide of Fundy
But brings with it new delight
So of Fundy we'll sing and our voices ring
With song of it day or night.

Let your liver bile relieve irregularity

It's a proven fact that a sufficient flow of liver bile will relieve irregularity. It will do this work because fat globules in the digestive tract often cause irregularity. The best way to break down these unwanted fat globules is with a sufficient flow of liver bile. And Carter's Little Liver Pills has proven clinical proof that it improves liver bile flow by breaking down unwanted fat globules and unblocking the digestive tract. So whenever you feel sluggish, headachy, nervous and need relief from irregularity get Carter's Little Liver Pills. 50c.

Youth & Garden Club Officers Installed

The installation of officers of the Youth Organization and the Weymouth Falls Garden Club took place at the Weymouth Falls Community Hall on Wednesday, November 20.

Ralph Jarvis, President of the Weymouth Falls Betterment Association, welcomed the audience and special guests, and Rev. W. P. Clayton gave the invocation.

William Spurr, Supervisor of the Weymouth Consolidated School, summarized the duties of the officers before installation.

The officers for the Youth Organization were as follows:

President, Cathy Sparks; Vice-Pres., Kathie Crowell; Secy., Ann Smith; Treas., Henry Bishop. The heads of committees were Ada Smith, Roxanne Smith, Marcella Crowell, Dolores Langford, and Teila Clements.

Officers installed in the Garden Club were: Elmer Jarvis, Pres.; George Langford, Vice-Pres.; Ernest Robar, Secy.; Treas., and Arnold Jarvis and Nelson Crowell, committee members.

Robert Dechman, Agricultural Representative, installed the Garden Club officers. Mr. Dechman commended the formation of the Youth Organization and Garden Club and went into more detail on responsibilities of officers. He also reminded the committee members that they must act as counselors for the President.

Cathy Sparks spoke a few words, telling of the long time of planning for the group, and thanked the Betterment Association for their assistance. Mr. Elmer Jarvis also spoke a few words of appreciation for the help received.

S. S. Baney, social development officer, said that he had every confidence in the officers appointed. He said that they must meet the problems and face them themselves—not wait for someone else to do it for them.

J. J. Pothier, Canada, Man-power Representative for Digby County, congratulated the two organizations. He said that success depends on actions, plans, ideas and development. Mr. Pothier said that judgement is vital, that we must always decide upon things, and make comparative values. Judgement is the critical goal of all education—good judgement.

Unemployment Insurance

—Any Questions Please?

INFORMATION REGARDING BENEFIT PAID TO FISHERMEN

Q. I worked as a carpenter a year ago last fall for 14 weeks and this summer I worked for 16 weeks fishing lobster. My claim for benefits this winter was for only 13 weeks as a seasonal claim. Why did I not get credit for those 14 weeks I had earned within the last two years?

A. As you had earned 5 or more contributions in fishing in the 52 weeks prior to the date of your claim, you were automatically classed as a fisherman and, as you did not have sufficient "non-fishing" contributions which by themselves could enable you to establish a regular claim, a seasonal claim was set up on your behalf. For more information we will send you a copy of our booklet, "Information - Fisherman's Benefit".

The Unemployment Insurance Commission has passed on answers to some of the questions that have puzzled contributors. Your question too can be referred to this feature for reply.

Q. Why on the application for a dependent, does the UIC want to know why you are supporting someone?

A. The Unemployment Insurance Act provides for a somewhat higher weekly rate of benefit to a person with a dependent than in the case of a person without a dependent. The application for benefit asks the claimant to indicate if he is wholly or mainly maintaining a dependent and if so, to give details of the relationship, etc. in order that it can be determined if he qualifies for the higher rate of benefit. If the dependent is other than a wife or child over 16 years of age, a dependency certificate is required to be completed and the claimant is asked on this form to state the reasons for having to support this dependent. This is only one of several questions asked on the dependency certificate and it is on the basis of all the evidence furnished by the claimant that the adjudicating officer determines entitlement to the dependency rate of benefit.

History of Digby — May 15, 1896

Founded in 1783 by the Loyalists from New England. Named in honor of Admiral Digby, a British naval officer in command at that time. This is an outline of the authentic history available.

There are probably few localities in the province with so much unbroken history as Digby. With a situation at the very entrance of the country and only a few miles from Port Royal, the oldest and most important settlement of Nova Scotia antiquity, it is almost certain that Digby must have been the scene of many stirring events sharing with Port Royal, to some degree, her dangers and her glories. The western shores of the basin could tell, very likely, had they the powers to speak, of countless adventures, of pitched battles won and lost, of bloody strife, or of interesting developments in early industry. But all of this is merely supposition. We premise but we cannot prove, for if the place ever did participate in such a way in the doings of the olden times the history of Digby says nothing of it and we are obliged to pass on in our researches, unimpaired and conscious of a missing chapter in the annals of our country. There are in all probability, whole volumes of history unrecorded, interesting if not of essential importance.

The first mention made of the site of the present Digby we find in the letters of the early French explorers. They speak merely of the pleasantness of location, the beauty of the waters, the profusion of the forests, and prophesy future settlement. But we find nothing to show that there was a settlement, or any attempt, until 1766. In that year a party of English from the Valley of the Brandywine, in New England, came to the country and settled on the west shore of the basin. They were followed by one William McDormand, and he was joined by his brother-in-law, Fitzgerald, from Wilmer, above Annapolis. This settlement was a sparse one, extending toward the Joggins, but of what size or what duration we are not certain. It seems, however, not to have been in existence long, for twenty years later the evidences were that it had been broken up some time previous to that date. This was the only attempt at early settlement that authentic history mentions.

It might be a subject of some wonder that there had never been a French settlement at Digby. So far as can be ascertained such a settlement was at no time attempted or if so, only on a very small scale. The reason for this was that the early French settlers were attracted to those districts where there were marshes and so settled along the Annapolis river, up the valley. Here a living was more easily to be obtained than from the primeval forests of Digby and very naturally their settlements in such a case were eastward.

The Loyalist Founding

The founding of Digby was in 1783 and from this date we are on safer ground. Traditions are many of previous events but they conflict and, of small importance in any case are not to be depended upon. When the Loyalists from the newly established United States came to Nova Scotia they settled quite largely in the western part and a grant of 120,000 acres, between Annapolis and St. Mary's Bay was given to a party of the refugees headed by Alexander McNair. This was in March of 1783 and when the new settlement materialized it was named Conway. A census of 1784 accredits to the township of Conway a population of 2000 souls which would serve to show that the Loyalist influx was a large one though fluctuating soon afterward. The town, if such there was, was probably of primitive kind for, besides the consequent inconveniences of pioneer life, the settlement appears to have been scattered. Sites of Loyalist homes are known to be in Smith Cove and the Joggins. In Digby down the site of the present Baptist hall and church was an old Loyalist holding and was once the property of Isaac Bonnell, great-grandfather of Mr. A. D. Bonnell.

In December of 1784 the assembly of the province passed an act allowing Conway a member to represent it. One of the first members was Major Millege.

Exhibition Comes To Good Year

By R. K. Ford

Owing to severe weather conditions, one of which was a lack of interest, no Exhibition was held. This caused a number of artists with donations to the institution to be disappointed. With a totally new public meeting and February to gauge support that might be for an exhibition, the artists voted to hold this feature in a suitable and many a 1968 exhibition.

At its next meeting, the River Agriculture, which was a success, decided to go ahead. Shortly after this, Yorkie, who had been years of outstanding as manager, resigned was finally with deep regret. February appointed in.

Work on the old buildings went on. The grand stand was rebuilt, the old one was found to be equipped with steel sink. Water went into it and into one barn was refitted and entered a painted, an extra and roads and rills. Free labor, discount materials amounted to eight hundred dollars.

By most standards, this was a success. The show engaged a number of people, the attendance over 1000. The most committee to make up the loss. (Please turn to page 2)

Exhibition Comes Through Good Year

By R. K. Purdy

Owing to several factors, one of which was a seeming lack of interest, no Digby Co. Exhibition was held in 1967. This caused a future of prospects with demands that this institution be revived in 1968. With a totally new executive, a public meeting was held in February to gauge the active support that might be expected for an exhibition. A large gathering voiced the opinion that this feature was most desirable and many promises of assistance were offered. Finally the meeting voted 100% for a 1968 exhibition.

At its next meeting the Bear River Agricultural Society, which sponsors this event, decided to go ahead for 1968. Shortly after this, Mr. Howard Yorkie, who had spent many years of outstanding service as manager, resigned. His resignation was finally accepted with deep regret and R. K. Purdy appointed in his stead. Work on the grounds and buildings went on all summer. The grand stand was completely rebuilt, the clubhouse received new foundations and was equipped with stainless steel sinks. Water was piped into it and into the stables. One barn was refloored, boots and car tires repaired, painted, an extra toilet built and roads and signs restated. Free labor, discounts and free materials amounted to over eight hundred dollars.

By most standards the exhibition was a success. In spite of the fact that the midway shows engaged failed to appear, the attendance was up 37% over 1966. The executive committee acted quickly to make up the loss of midway (Please turn to page 6)

Happy Christmas

There are happy people on this earth and they make other people extremely happy. Miss Elizabeth McCullough, Sandy Cove, Digby County, was flown by RCAF helicopter to the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, Saturday evening, after being treated at Digby Hospital for a rifle bullet wound in the chest. The accident occurred approximately 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, while Morehouse was deer hunting on Digby Neck.

The injured man was treated at the scene by Dr. J. R. McCleave, Digby, then taken to Digby Hospital by ambulance, and later flown to Halifax for further treatment. Digby RCMP are investigating the accident.

Miss McCullough wrote later to the Courier, "I had thought that I was fortunate to have money to replace my loss and hoped that whoever had found it really needed it. I could hardly believe it was true when Mrs. Tufts called to tell me it was there as I had been back in the morning and retraced my steps of Friday and no one had seen it or heard of anyone finding any money. It had slipped down among some other papers."

PANEL DISCUSSES DIGBY COUNTY DEVELOPMENT

Married 63 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Josie Robicheau of Gilbert's Cove, recently celebrated their 63rd wedding anniversary. They were married October 24, 1905 at Holy Cross Church, Plympton, by the Rev. Father Russ, parish priest at that time.

Mrs. Robicheau was the former Mary Amaro, daughter of the late Frank and Eliza Amaro, of Doucetville. Mr. Robicheau is the son of the late Joseph and Eliza Robicheau, also of Doucetville. The bride and groom of 63 years had lived in Doucetville for some seven years before moving to Gilbert Cove, where they have since resided.

Mr. and Mrs. Robicheau had nine children, seven of whom are still living: two daughters, Bernice (Mrs. Thomas McCullough), at home; Lillian (Mrs. Walter Melanson), of Gilbert Cove; and five sons, Jessie, Vincent, and Bernie, of Digby Cove; Eugene of Plympton Station; Charles of Sydney. There are also 17 grandchildren.

Mr. Robicheau is 89 years of age and is still active, cutting wood and working around outdoors. Mrs. Robicheau is active and does her own housework and they both enjoy good health.

Five government specialists formed a panel at College Saint-Anne, Church Point, on Tuesday evening to give information to those interested in the development of Digby County. Upwards of one hundred were in attendance at the meeting presided over by John Doucet, adult education supervisor for South Western Nova Scotia.

Panelists were John Cooper, district forester, Yarmouth; Jack Kerr, promotion officer, tourist bureau, Department of Trade and Industry; Les McPhail, resource development division, Department of Fisheries; Mrs. Chaire Donahue, supervisor of grants and finances, Department of Municipal Affairs and Arnold Roy, of the farm management division of the Department of Agriculture.

There is no maximum to the return of the tourist dollar, said Mr. Kerr, in his address when he spoke of the money the province spends to bring tourists here. The potential of tourism is high, indicated the speaker as he spoke on some man made attractions to make the tourist stop in the area. When a tourist asks to there is to do he goes to other place of more interest if the answer he gets is uninteresting. Mr. Kerr stated. He spoke of the different tourism seminars held in hospitality and waiter training and advised that these would be good for the general public to attend.

Mr. McPhail outlined the government agencies established at both federal and provincial levels to assist with the development of industries in the Atlantic region, viz. the Industrial Development Bank (IDB) (federal), where most loans are made to purchase land, buildings, to alter or extend existing buildings or to purchase machinery and equipment; Nova Scotia Water Authority, dealing with problems of water supply and pollution; Industrial Loan Board (provincial), where loans may be approved up to 75% of the appraised value of land, buildings, equipment, etc., for a period up to 20 years depending on type of industry; A.R.A. Development Agency (ADA) (federal), which provides cash grants and other incentives to processing or manufacturing industries in designated areas; Program for the Advancement of Industrial Technology (PAIT), (federal), where grants or loans are given to stimulate the development of new products and processes for domestic or export markets; Atlantic Development Board (ADB), (federal), which pays grants particularly for facilities such as roads, electricity, water supplies, etc., and Agricultural and Rural Development Act (ARDA), Fund for Rural Economic Development (FREED).

The Division of Marine and Engineering Services administers the loans under the Fishermen's Loan Board and acts as the federal government's representative for approval of subsidy payments. Mr. McPhail said. Subsidy payments are now 30% of value on vessels of 45 feet to 100 tons and 40% on wooden and 35% on steel vessels 100 tons and over. The Fishermen's Loan Board, which consists of persons independent from government but interested in fisheries, reviews all applications for new vessel construction. Those over 45 feet in length are at present held in abeyance pending federal government decision on whether the subsidy fund will be re-established. The Division of Fisheries Training is administered by the Supervisor of Fisheries Training at Digby. Courses are given in small gas and diesel engines, advanced diesel, navigation, and nets and gear. Outport courses in engine, navigation and nets and gear for inshore fishermen are carried on during the cold months in various parts of the province.

The Resource Development Division is responsible for assisting with the development of fisheries resources. Generally this is accomplished by introducing new methods and techniques for capturing fish, by exploring for stocks of fish and species and by the artificial rearing of certain fishes that are adaptable to farming methods.

Mr. Cooper said his department was concerned with the supervision, control, survey and protection of forests and fish and game or in other words there is the forestry sector and recreation sector. He spoke of the help in financing available to private wood let owners to carry on proper techniques, to build access roads and in supplying seedlings for reforestation. Good management of land by private land owners is of interest to all the people in Nova Scotia, he said.

In speaking of agriculture in Digby County, Arnold Doucet advised to look at the resources available. There are about 6,000 acres of one per cent of the 620,000 acres of land in Digby County under agriculture. Seven to ten per cent of 620,000 is arable. Digby County has the advantage of suitable climate for agriculture, available labor supply and market availability. Among the products which can be readily produced are small fruits and vegetables, hogs, milk, etc. The secret, he said, is to get one man or co-operation or organization going and others will follow.

Mrs. Donaldson dealt with the various grants available through the Department of Municipal Affairs (to follow next issue).

Following the presentations group discussions were held when findings were reported by Miss Gail Hensley, Digby, for tourism; Waters Canada, Rosneath, fisheries; Don Brown, Digby, forestry; Emanuel Adams, Weymouth, agriculture; Gerald d'Entremont, Meteghan, municipal affairs.

Thanks to the panel was extended by V. G. Cardina, and plans were made for the next meeting January 7, with the steering committee to arrange the program.

From The Office Of Louis R. Comeau, M.P.

The Deputy Chairman, Order. The hon. member from South Western Nova.

Mr. Comeau: Mr. Chairman, I do not wish to be lengthy in my remarks tonight because when these estimates were presented to the house earlier I talked at length on the problem just enumerated by the hon. member for Vancouver East, namely, the lack of planning in the past with regard to deep water harbours. I wish to deal with the problem of deep water harbours in south western Nova Scotia.

I would simply like to know — and the minister knows that I am sure about because he was here the last time I discussed this matter — what are the department's plans for the development of deep water harbours in south western Nova Scotia. The government has provided subsidies for building larger and better boats, but there are no facilities for these boats. The wharves are crowded. There is on the east coast a great future for the fisheries, but the fishermen need these facilities. In my speech, which I recorded at page 2400 of Hansard, I mentioned Parker's Cove, the combination of harbour and a permanent cracker for Tiverton. I mentioned the Westport area, West Head and many other places. I would simply ask the minister to tell us what his plans are for the development of such deep water harbours.

ONE RE-ELECTED — TWO NEW COUNCILLORS

Paul I. Winchester, Digby Deputy Mayor for the past year was elected to another term of office as councillor at Tuesday's election. Other successful candidates were Charles F. McLeod, leading the polls with a vote of 281, and Glen W. Smith and councillors, Les Dillon, Gordon Ellis and Edward Porter, whose terms of office did not expire this year. The retiring councillors are Howard Outreau and Fred Amos.

Disturbed By Cancellation Adult Education Classes

Signified by approximately thirty-five persons, in Westport a letter was sent to J. G. Doucet, Minister of Education, expressing consternation over the fact that proposed adult education classes had been cancelled.

In information sent to The Digby Courier this week it was stated that on October 21, 1968 Mrs. Raymond Robicheau received a letter from the Superintendent of Schools, advising that the Westport program of Adult Education could be supported under the Foundation Program, providing each student paid a registration fee of five dollars. It is understood that Mrs. Robicheau was assured that the Municipal School Board would accept responsibility for the payment of all instructors in full. Later they were informed that the Adult Education Board can no longer see their way clear to continuing adult education in Westport.

In the letter to the honorable minister, the Westport people write in part, "Per-

HUNTING ACCIDENT

Hugh Ernest Morehouse, 66, of Sandy Cove, Digby County, was flown by RCAF helicopter to the Victoria General Hospital, Halifax, Saturday evening, after being treated at Digby Hospital for a rifle bullet wound in the chest. The accident occurred approximately 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon, while Morehouse was deer hunting on Digby Neck.

The injured man was treated at the scene by Dr. J. R. McCleave, Digby, then taken to Digby Hospital by ambulance, and later flown to Halifax for further treatment. Digby RCMP are investigating the accident.

Miss McCullough wrote later to the Courier, "I had thought that I was fortunate to have money to replace my loss and hoped that whoever had found it really needed it. I could hardly believe it was true when Mrs. Tufts called to tell me it was there as I had been back in the morning and retraced my steps of Friday and no one had seen it or heard of anyone finding any money. It had slipped down among some other papers."

Miss Alberts Letts, of the Regional Public Library Service, addressed Digby Town Council on Monday evening regarding Digby's proposed joining a Regional Public Library for Western Nova Scotia. Miss Letts pointed out that eight Regional Public Libraries have been set up in the province and only Western Nova Scotia remains to be organized. The town of Yarmouth, Municipality of Yarmouth and the town of Lunenburg have already agreed to accept the service which is partially financed by the Provincial Government. It is not absolutely necessary for all councils in the region to sign an agreement to enable the service to be started. In fact, Miss Letts stated, it is not unusual to start without all the councils agreeing at first. Upon establishment of the service a Regional Library Board is set up and each council has a representative on the board.

A standard agreement form was shown by Miss Letts and it was noted that a withdrawal clause was incorporated in the agreement allowing any member council to withdraw on a one year notice. This notice must be given on December 31 of the current year and to take effect on December 31 of the following year. Following discussion on the topic it was moved that Digby enter an agreement for the formation of a Regional Public Library.

TO RAISE $10,000 FOR ST. ANN'S

The people of Clare have already invested heavily in the College Ste Anne back through the years in the form of cash, labor and materials and they are willing to do so again in the form of a fund-raising drive. The fund-raising drive is being organized by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Fire Department, which is the sponsor of the fund-raising drive.  perted that despite crowded conditions, school work is being carried on as usual and that various vacancies in the staff had been filled. Plans for the large school extension had been approved by Ottawa, contracts had been signed and work has commenced at the site. Provision was made in the contract for the hiring of local labor. It was felt by council that the expansion construction would provide winter employment for a considerable portion of the local labor force.

Building Permits

A permit was issued to Cameron Construction for construction of the school extension. A permit was issued for a 20 foot by 25 foot extension to the existing RGA building. Councillor E. Y. Porter reported that the Digby General Hospital is now fully accredited. This means the hospital is equal in quality of service to the best in Canada. On behalf of the council and town Mayor Smith congratulated the staff and administration of the hospital and expressed a measure of pride in the attainment of the hospital staff.

Cutting Weir Poles

The question came up of cutting weir poles on the Digby Neck watershed area. It was felt that strict control should be kept due to the large number of weirs, and there are large number of cutters in the area. The matter was referred for further discussion. The Digby Fire Department answered four calls and one died by car. Estimate of property lost in fire was approximately $12,500. The heaviest was suffered by Mrs. Rhea Landstone, whose house was burned and was valued at $1000.

Christmas Tree, Turkey

A decision was made by council to erect a Christmas tree in the town square as soon as possible. A motion was passed in recognition of the day; they also would be dropping their ambulance service. Due to the town employees during the last year, with particular reference to the water situation during the summer when most of the employees had to give up their spare time, Christmas turkeys being supplied. On behalf of the town employees, Town Clerk J. F. Whalley, expressed his appreciation and gratitude.

Industrial Commission

Mayor Smith reported that at a recent meeting of The Annapolis Basin Industrial Commission, it was decided that before incorporation the name be changed to Annapolis Basin and Digby Development Commission. This change is supported wholeheartedly by the Town of Annapolis Royal, the necessary motion being made by Annapolis Royal.

Flooded Basement

Joe Hazel addressed council requesting information on what, if anything, was being done to remedy the flooding situation in his basement. He said that he had to install a sump pump and that it was running almost continuously. Mayor Smith replied that an investigation had been carried out and that he noticed that the ditch level was considerably lower than the drain pipe. Mr. Hazel then explained that the drain pipe to which Mayor Smith was referring was not the basement drain but a sink drain. Mr. Hazel also stated that raw sewage also passed from his property into the drainage ditch. Mayor Smith stated that due to the misunderstanding another investigation would have to be carried out.

Ambulance Service

Noted by Council was the fact that John D. Grey, of Smith's Cove, would be operating a 24 hour ambulance service throughout the area. This information was welcomed due to the fact that Jayne's Funeral Home would be dropping their ambulance service as of January 1st. A letter was received from Weymouth Funeral Home that in recognition of the day; they also would be dropping their ambulance service. Due

Chamber of Commerce. The purpose and objectives of the association as outlined at the meeting are to work towards the expansion of College Sainte-Anne in cooperation with the college authorities and the Alumni Association of College Sainte-Anne, to take the necessary action to keep the college in Church Point and to assist in the development of the college when the decision is made that college Sainte-Anne will remain in Church Point.

The association proposes several different committees which will take responsibility of increasing student enrollment, construct necessary dormitories of increased enrollment, obtain housing for faculty, develop a library and culture centre and make College Sainte-Anne one which can take its place along side of other colleges in Nova Scotia and Canada.

Chief address on Monday night was given by Father Raymond LeBlanc. Others to the fact that existing ambulance services have been operating at a loss, Mr. Grey has applied for a $2,000 subsidy from the town and municipality. The matter was referred for further investigation.

Pay Increase

A 5% to 8% pay increase to town employees and a $450.00 increase to Town Clerk J. F. Whalley was granted by council.

New Constable

Ray Thibault has been hired as the town's third police constable on a 6 months probationary period. It was reported at council.

Police Chief Dunn reported that of 10 complaints received 4 warranted further investigation. There were seven court involvements, of which one remains to be settled. Three charges were laid under the Motor Vehicle Act and four under the N. S. Liquor Act. Four accidents were investigated. Fines amounted to $94.00.

Board would understand how much these classes have meant to us. Living on an island as we do, it would be impossible for us to travel to the mainland to take such courses and therefore, interest was very keen in the entire program. The Home Nursing course, who spoke were Professor Benoit LeBlanc, Benoit Comeau, Guy LeBlanc, other members of the association executive.

Mrs. Stuart, president of Les Dames Patronnesses de la Colloie de Jeunessees Assa diene, expressed concern for the future of the college and that the organization was doing much in an effort to keep Ste-Anne at Church Point. Already 225 Christmas candles have been made and sold to the public to raise funds for the college.

John P. McAnon, chef, and his working staff as well as other personnel of the college are planning a supper to be held on December 15th for the purpose of raising funds for the new association. The Assumption Society of St. Anneville voted the sum of $25.00 for immediate assistance to the group.

Organizations, clubs and associations as well as firms in the Municipality of Clare or outside its boundaries may become members of the association for a membership fee of $10.00. Individual membership fees shall be $3.00.

Never in the history of the Academics of Clare has there been so much unity of purpose. Sincerely avowed to the fact that there was a possibility of losing their college, the population rose up in arms in an unprecedented manner which surprised many. As it has been stated on numerous occasions, stated Mr. Foster, Ste-Anne can increase its student body by retaining in Church Point and thus be able to continue to be a leading college, the only such institution of learning in the province, a distinction that the population of Clare do not wish to see changed.

considered to be of special value due to the fact that there is no nurse or doctor living on the island. It would seem to us to be very unfair that a variety of courses are available in centers such as Digby, whereas we apparently are not even to have access to very practical courses. Why could the available funds not be more fairly divided among the areas in the municipality?

To date, the participating adults have incurred quite an expense in these courses, some have purchased new sewing machines, some have purchased typewriters and supplies have been purchased for the Home Nursing course. Also, books have been ordered for all courses and the teachers have already put in several dollars worth of hours.

It has been thirteen years since any educational courses were available on this island and we cannot emphasize too strongly the enthusiasm and interest with which this whole program was accepted.

We would hope that the matter could be reconsidered so that adult education classes could be continued in Westport.

Clare Council Slide Exhibition

Le Conseil des arts de Clare (Clare Council of Arts) held its second exhibition of slides with commentaries at St. Anne's college on Saturday evening for its members and friends at Church Point. Eighty-seven slides were entered in two categories, Autumn scenes and Sunsets, with each member being allotted no more than

They do remember

Recently I wrote a column about Remembrance Day. It may have had a touch of bitterness in it. But so many things have come up since then that I thought you might be interested.

First of all, a light note. A lady in Ontario remembers something from away back there, "During the First World War, my husband came home on a furlow from Belgium. Although his pass said he was clean and free from lice, while we were sitting on the underground in London, I noticed the lice crawling up and down on his coat collar. So I had to scorch all the seams of his clothes as soon as I got him home, and shave all his hair off him everywhere he got rid of them."

Next, at our school we had the usual Remembrance Day service. But it wasn't the usual one. This year, we let the students plan it. They threw out the dreary old hymns and a lot of other things.

Instead, against a background of old songs from both world wars, a student read a commentary he had written himself. It began with, "In Flanders fields, the poppies blow..." It was simple, moving and honest. Then everybody sang that haunting folk song, "Where have all the flowers gone?" They went to young girls, and the young girls went to soldiers and the soldiers went to graveyards and the graveyards went to flowers.

Then the Roll of Honor from our school. Some of the old teachers can't take this time to school with the boys on the list. Last Post, silence. Reveille. Over. The students were silent and solemn and loved.

Afterwards, in the class room, we discussed the service. The day I'd brought along some photos and souvenirs. They were fascinated. After an incredulous look at the cocky young black-haired fighter pilot, and then one at the harassed, gray-haired teacher, they pelted me with questions. Then came that magnificent CBC documentary on World War I, with Raymond Blawie.

Loose Nuts

By W. Shakespeare, Manager, Nova Scotia Board of Insurance Underwriters

Our trusty steed, the ubiquitous automobile, has undergone a variety of developments over the past sixty or so years, and now so much of the progress and refinements are taken for granted. Each year, with the new models being shown off in all their glory, we see changes not only in design, but added safety measures are incorporated that bring greater efficiency and value to the vehicle.

But what about the "loose nut" that is behind the wheel? Have we developed our own reactions and capabilities to the same extent? The terrible destruction of life and property through automobile accidents on our highways and streets have often been shown to be due to this "loose nut" factor. Has the automobile evolved at a faster pace, technically, than we human beings have developed intellectually? Surely we say to ourselves, with a touch of the pried ego, in our pride of achievement, we cannot imagine that we cannot control our own destinies.

The human race has continually developed new and better inventions, and it is to overcome anything that has become uncomfortable, or deadly, yet in the manoeuvring of an automobile, humanity has never been able, since its invention, to collectively find ways or means to safely or surely handle it.

Not only have we not been able to develop the required driving ability for the ever-changing conditions that have taken place over the years, but our mental attitude has also shown a reluctance to appreciate actual facts. We shout "not guilty" when charged with traffic violations, and we continue to have a false sense of security that "an accident will never happen to us."

What sort of respect do we have for the colourable safety belt? While they are not intended to eliminate accidents, it certainly has been proven that in great many cases the outcome of numerous accidents would have been minimized if belts had been in use. Yet, how many of us can truthfully say that safety belts are applied every time our car is in motion? Are they not put in use because we feel that accidents are definitely not going to happen to us? And yet, we continually try to place the blame to other areas. The insurance industry is often redneckedly attacked by misguided individuals, whose complaints are centered on the high cost of policies, and the elusiveness of settling claims. Yet independent and impartial loss adjusters have constantly vindicated the industry's claims. The industry is far forward terms that it is operated on a highly ethical basis, which has stabilized rates, eliminated discrimination and that the method used in handling of automobile insurance is the fairest system yet devised to share the cost of accidents.

It is now time that we turned a deaf ear to the petty criticisms who say that it's the garages, the lawyers, the decisions handed down by our courts, poor adjusters or possibly a multitude of others who are responsible for the ever increasing costs of insurance.

Why cannot we all get the fortitude to face reality that it is the driving ability of everyone of us who are generating accidents and thus increasing the cost of our insurance premiums.

Surely to goodness with our apparent ability to land shortly on the moon, we should be able to find somewhere or

Kedgie Opens Summer 69

Ross Dobson, naturalist at the New Kedgie National Historic Park told the Annapolis Board of Trade Annual meeting that the Park would be officially opened in July or August of 1969.

He spoke of the facilities completed and plans for 1969. These include the main beach with lifeguards, change houses, canteens, picnic shelter camp grounds to increase from 38 aites this year to 250 in 1969; facilities for some 350 trailers and tents in a few years; a fish hatchery; seven miles of paved road to force next summer as well as other roads and trails and parking areas. A large amphitheatre to accommodate 600 people; a large office and information building.

Somehow a simple solution of being able to move the automobile on earth in a way to reduce our accident frequency. Why, then, can we not drive without accidents? Let's look for some of our foolish habits, which if we can remedy them, might not only save our own lives but those of fellow citizens.

EXHIBITION

by constructing swings, teddy-bearers and games. The small fry really enjoyed these, hence they will be supplied next year.

Other statistics include 25% increase in membership, a 18% increase in number of exhibitors, with exhibits up 15 per cent. A total of 17 items competed in the free for all ox pull with a top pull of 11,700 pounds.

While receipts were higher, higher labor costs and less free labor, caused expenditures to exceed receipts by several hundred dollars, which was covered by using part of grants, leaving a small bank deposit for next year.

It has been decided to hold a 1969 exhibition on August 28, 29, 30. Feeling that promotion should be a year round effort the 1969 executive board by President Ralph Pierce has already been appointed. Revenue must be increased by improving the Fair and its attractions, larger county grants and possibly higher admission and exhibition fees. More capital is required to gain more land, give more space for fairs and poultry and rebuild fences plus other repairs and improvement.

Freeport Native Passes

Rev. Egbert C. Prime, 70, pastor emeritus of the First Baptist Church, Pawtucket, died Sunday at Pawtucket Memorial Hospital. He died shortly after arrival at the hospital. He had been in failing health for some time.

Mr. Prime was born in Freeport, N. S., a son of the late Seth V. and Beulah (Rigg) Prime. He graduated from Acadia University, Wolfville, N. S., in 1922, and Andover-Newton Theological School two years later. He served as pastor of the First Baptist Church of Bridgewater, Mass., until 1959 when he came to the First Baptist Church in Pawtucket as associate pastor.

He served as associate pastor with Dr. Frank Reel until assuming the pastorate in 1951. He continued to serve until he retired in 1959 and was elected pastor emeritus. Since that time he has served as interim pastor at churches in Hiram, Mass.; Lewiston, Me.; Brattleboro, Vt.; New Britain, R. I. He also served at the Fourth Baptist and the Roger Williams Baptist Church in Providence, and at the time of his death was interim pastor at the First Baptist Church in East Providence.

During his life time Mr. Prime served in a number of capacities. He was a trustee of the Andover-Newton School. He was a former president of the R. I. Baptist State Convention, and served three terms on the board of managers of the Foreign Mission Society of the American Baptist Convention, a former secretary of the board of managers of the R. I. Baptist State Convention, a former secretary of the Family Service Society of Pawtucket, and a member of the Blackstone Valley Ministerial Association. He received an honorary doctor of divinity degree at Benedict College in Columbia, S. C.

Survivors include a brother, Ralph L. Prime, of Fredericton, N. B., and a niece and five nephews. While at Bridgewater Mr. Prime had charge of several young people's groups, one of which won the State award for the largest percentage of attendance for any church group for four consecutive years. In 1949 he was honored for his 20 years service to the First Baptist Church in Pawtucket with a testimonial dinner and recognition service attended by about 200 persons.

Several years ago Walter Harding, an internationally known author, dedicated a book, "A Thoreau Profile," to him. Mr. Harding and Mr. Prime became acquainted in Bridgewater and remained friends over the years. Last year a portrait of the pastor emeritus was presented to the First Baptist Church by the church's Women's Society. At the time of the presentation Mr. Prime was in his 38th year of service to the Pawtucket church, the longest any of its pastors had served.

Cremation followed at Swan Point Cemetery, Providence. Mr. Parsons conducted the committal service.

Attending the service were many clergymen from the Blackstone Valley and Rhode Island.

The Rev. Forest L. Parsons, pastor of the Rev. Arthur Sanborn, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Nyaek, N. Y., the Rev. Raymond Smith, executive minister of the United Baptist Convention of New Hampshire, and Dr. Hale Thornberry, executive minister

Federal School Grants Approved

Canada's Minister of Manpower and Immigration, Honorable Allan J. MacIsaac, has announced the approval of a government of Canada contribution toward the cost of an addition to Digby Regional High School. Total value of the project is $700,000 of which the Federal contribution will be $221,100.

The government of Canada will also contribute to the cost of equipping the addition. This addition to the Digby school will provide commercial training for 150 students, or group earned about $800 dollars.

During the past 15 years the group has earned nearly $9,000.00. From this amount $1,700 was raised from the sale of 133 quilts, which were made and sold by the group.

Donations are made to the churches and all other charitable organizations.

Sisters Sell Recordings

More than one hundred record albums have been sold with songs sung by the Duke sisters of Bear River.

The schools total 475 enrolment. Vocational training will also be offered.

So far, a total of 77 schools are under construction, in all cases, the government of Canada is paying up to 75 per cent of the cost of construction and equipment.

Manpower Minister MacIsaac noted that by November 29, 1968, $89,917,746 had been spent in Nova Scotia on buildings and equipment. Of this, the Government of Canada contributed $40,940,007.00.

The new wing of the Digby Regional High School which is now under construction also receives from the provincial government a grant equal to the Federal grant. The remainder of the costs are borne by the town of Digby and the Municipality of the District of Digby.

They are Sylvia, Cheryl and Marilyn, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Dukeshire.

A special story and picture of the sisters were featured in the Digby Courier last spring. A similar picture appears in the album cover. It is expected that another quantity of the records will be ordered for sale.

Letter to the Editor

November 22, 1968

Digby, N. S.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

Every so often I am moved to take my pen in hand, or more accurately, sit down by my typewriter, and let my thoughts flow into the typed page and today I was led to compose this poem. I don't know that I can recall, as I type, any other singing the long overdue praises of Ford.

So here is an attempt, at least. "Some time ago I was talking to Vernon Bent and mentioned "KEDDY" and you will, I think, be interested to know that after what seemed a very late start this fall paving of the main entrance road is now underway. While the extreme wet weather of these last two weeks has curtailed paving somewhat, in the vicinity of two miles or more of paving down the centre of the road has been completed, and Atlas Construction of Fredericton doing the work, still have, or at least up to the time of snowfall yesterday, a group of men at work. Five houses started last year (here at Caledonia) for housing staff members of the Park have been completed and are now occupied. Sundry of the mobile homes, at the park itself, formerly by the park entrance, have been moved to new locations. Construction is underway with blasting for drainage, and water pipes about complete and work at least started on construction of buildings, for what I understand will be homes for the park superintendent and wardens next year.

The allotted, well marked camp sites for tenters in the Jervis Bay section have already this year been used to some extent and it is anticipated that the park facilities will be used to well high full extent next summer. Anyone heading down to the park will find the Fish Hatchery with special emphasis on salmon fry and its care most interesting. Outside the walls of the carefully guarded ponds themselves there is a small stream where some of the trout are being reared. Of course no one is allowed to take any of the fish, but no doubt will return again in the spring for free hand.

Some of them must reach seven to ten pounds or more. Well, thought you might find this of interest for your paper.

With kindest regards,

Sincerely,

NEW HOUSE DESIGN

By having the rear garden area form an integral part of this three-bedroom house the Architect, J. Banella of Toronto, has introduced a relatively new and most interesting concept in Canadian house design.

Wide full length windows and sliding doors open directly into the garden from the raised living room. In the interest of privacy the bedrooms have been located in the rear. They too boast large windows. Other design features include the back entrance which is in the form of a covered patio. This permits the children direct access to a well-lighted basement play room, their own bedroom and bathroom, without going through the main part of the house. This design is particularly suitable for a lot which slopes to the rear. For best siting the front entrance should face north.

The total floor area is 1,420 square feet; the outside dimensions are 42 feet by 60 feet. Working drawings for this house, known as Design 2340, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

SUGAR AND SPICE

by Bill Smiley

Dear Mrs. Popovich

"I'll never forget Mrs. Popovich. My wife phoned from the bus station the other day, just home from her weekly visit at college. 'Bill, I'm in a terrible mess.' I groaned silently. 'What is it this time?'

To cut a long story short, she had started out with a little act of Christian charity, or plain humanity, and wound up with a problem that would have made the Good Samaritan take to his heels.

Mrs. Popovich has Parkinson's Disease. She can walk by inches. On a good day, she might travel 40 feet in 40 minutes, possibly falling flat on her face twice during the procedure.

My wife helped her onto the bus in the city. Four days later, we practically buried her onto a bus going back to the city.

In the intervening time, she was a thorn in the spiritual side, a scorpion in our minds. In short, we worried like hell about her.

She is sweet, and she has faith, and she has a sense of humor. And she's as stubborn as a mule.

She had come here to visit the Shrine, with a view to the spot of faith healing. The Shrine is closed in the winter. No priests, no services. Just a big, dark, cold church.

We got her settled in a motel room on street level because she can't climb steps. Arranged for hot food and drinks to be brought to her. Visited her. Made her promise to phone her daughter to come and get her.

She was adamant. Saturday, somehow, she got to the Shrine by cab. It took ten minutes to get her into or out of a cab. Told the cabbie to come back in two hours. Door of church was locked. She sat for two hours, high on a hill-top, in a bleak November wind, on the steps of the Shrine.

Sunday, after checking by phone, we took her to the Shrine. Two hour hard labor. Church like a holy barn.

MARRIAGES

Barrow - Holdsworth

On November 9, 1968, at Grace United Church, Digby, a pretty fall wedding was solemnized when Valerie Holdsworth, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Holdsworth, was united in marriage to Mr. James Edward Barrow, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Harrow, Spring.

Rev. R. H. P. performed the double ceremony. The church was festively decorated with bouquets of white chrysanthemums and tall white candles. Each guest was seated at a round table with a white cloth and a white centerpiece. The bride wore a white gown with a white train, and the groom wore a dark suit.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, and looked charming in a floor length gown of white floral velvet, with matching train that was attached at the shoulders by two white floral bows. Her head dress was of white nylon illusion net, carried with a white veil. She carried a bouquet of red Talamon roses.

The bride's attendants were Mrs. Karen Good, as matron of honor, Mrs. Donna Martin, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Verlene Ellis, a cousin, as bridesmaids. They were dressed in identical gowns of royal blue acetate brocade and silk.

Acadian Festival In July

The 1989 Acadian Festival will probably be held in the month of July instead of the customary month of August, stated Jean R. Doucet, who was re-elected president of the Festival Committee for a second term at the annual meeting. His suggestion of holding the Festival in July is to take advantage of the warmer weather. In August the evenings get colder, most years, and it causes a lot of inconvenience to those who wish to attend the evening activities.

Donald Wetmore, supervisor of Cultural Services of the Adult Education Division of the Department of Education of the Province of Nova Scotia, was guest at the meeting. He spoke briefly to the group about what could be done to make the Acadian Festival a better one. He also instructed the group where they could obtain help from the provincial government departments, especially the Cultural Division. He also mentioned where the committee would obtain assistance from outside the province.

Mr. Doucet stated that Mr. Wetmore's talk was very interesting and instructive and that the committee will take advantage of the sources of assistance that is available. Some difficulty arose in 1988 due to the postal strike which hindered the committee somewhat with the programming of the festival.

The officers re-elected for another term of office were: Jean R. Doucet, of Church Point, as president; J. Alphonse Comeau, of Melville, as 1st vice-president; Walter Gaudet, of Grand-Pré, as 2nd vice-president; E. Jean Gaudet, treasurer; and A. P. Melanson, secretary, both of Church Point. The officers will elect the chairman of the various committees and the latter will choose its own members. It is believed that this system will show a more active group of committees as those willing to work hard shall be selected by the chairman.

The 1989 Acadian Festival will be the fourteenth successive annual festival held since its start in 1976. The purpose of the Festival was to make the district of Clare in Digby County known to the people outside the area. That it has succeeded, it is certain. The press, radio and television releases in all these years has made the Acadian Festival well worthwhile. It is a lot of work and the members of the various committees as well as the officers of the Acadian Festival receive no remuneration for their tireless work and their only wish is that the Festival will continue to advertise our area.

With no towns within its boundary the job of putting on any sort of such activity as the Acadian Festival is not an easy one. Before putting on the first festival in 1976, the Clare Board of Trade invited representatives of the provincial Trade & Industry to give ideas by what should be done to make the Municipality known. Their advice was: "Do something different. Plan a something different. Plan a French theme", as this would attract tourists to the area, it was believed. The plan of the Board of Trade was outlined to the visitors at the meeting, which was held in Belliveau's Cove especially for the occasion, and the plan was approved.

One of the main themes of the new Acadian Festival Committee which was organized shortly after the Board of Trade meeting was the wearing of the traditional Acadian costume, which is a very colorful one. That they had any great success in having a large segment of the population wear this costume is not quite true. It has been a difficult task to bring the idea to bloom among the population of the municipality.

Many outside visitors, and especially members of the CBC television department, have stated that the population should be made to realize what great advertising value the Acadian costume would make during the Acadian Festival. The Acadian dancers, a square dance group, of Soudanville, have adopted the Acadian costume for special events that they participate in and these dancers have been incorporated in the program of

The Acadian Festival ever since they were organized. Their presence in the Festival has brought more color to proceedings.

It is hoped that other plans to have the costume featured to a greater extent will have to be made by various groups, such as clubs, organizations, hotels, restaurants in the Municipality of Clare during the Festival. It can be done.

The president, Jean Doucet, believes in starting early in planning the 1989 Acadian Festival and it will be but a short time before the main points of the festival will be ready and finalized with details coming in following meetings of the committees. "Clare is marching on and does not expect to be second to any other municipality. We must move on and we cannot afford to stand still", the president said.

Superstitions

By Mrs. John P. Outhouse

Since time began certain superstitions have been adhered to and handed down from generation to generation. For instance, fishermen are likely to tell you if you wear a red hat while traveling, etc., you will never catch a fish. To be the new moon, for the first time, over your left shoulder, bad luck will follow throughout the moon's phase. To cut your fingernails on Sunday is to keep sorrow on yourself for the remainder of the week.

However, perhaps, the most common superstition centers around the traditional black cat which foretells bad luck should it cross your path.

It was interesting to note recently the number of people who regard the superstition of walking under a ladder. As we sat in our car in Digby, watching the traffic and the passer-by, several men were carrying a ladder which they propped from the sidewalk against a building and prepared to repair a window on the second story of the building. They left the ladder and disappeared inside. Of the dozens of people from this vicinity, who had to pass the ladder, only one, a young man, walked under it — his com-

Unemployment Insurance

—Any Questions Please?

WHAT SHOULD I DO TO GET THE HIGHER RATE OF BENEFIT?

Q. I work as a carpenter and am paid on an hourly basis. I usually rate the highest denomination of contribution stamp but occasionally my income is reduced due to poor weather conditions. On these occasions my employer has been placing smaller stamps in my book and, when I file a claim, I am not allowed to draw benefits at the maximum rate. Why can't I pay the difference between the value of my stamp, my employer places in my book and the value of the highest denomination of stamp, so that I can get the highest rate of benefit? If my pay period was on a monthly instead of a weekly basis, I am sure my total earnings would be high enough to warrant the highest stamps.

A. It is just not possible for you to pay the difference simply because the stamp is based on earnings and is governed by a schedule set out in the Unemployment Insurance Act. However, the structure of rates of benefit and the scale of contributions are such that occasional reductions of earnings would not significantly penalize claimant.

Marriage

Hawkins — Miners

In a double ceremony at the United Church in Camrose, Alberta, on October 5, Rev. F. McPhee read marriage vows for Bonnie Catherine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Miners of Camrose, and Keith Robert Hawkins of Port Radium, Northwest Territories, son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey E. Hawkins of Digby, Nova Scotia. Mrs. Wophams, organist, played the wedding music and Sigurd Bus, uncle of the bride, sang "A Wedding Prayer".

Miss Susan MacDonald, R. N. of Yellowknife, was maid of honor; and Miss Wendy Miners, sister of the bride, was bridesmaid. The two flower girls were cousins of the bride.

Dave Combs of Yellowknife was best man, and ushers were Bruce Miners, brother of the bride, of Port Norman, N.W.T., and Gregory, Blair and Glen MacNeil, all of Mervin, Sask. The reception was held following the ceremony at Vick's Lamp Chandelier Room. Miss Mary Hawkins, sister of the groom, was in charge of the guest book.

The happy couple will reside at Port Radium, N.W.T. where the groom is a mining engineer. Wedding guests included the groom's parents and sister Mary of Digby, N. S., and many others from points in Saskatchewan, British Columbia and Alberta.

Change in Renewal Dates Chauffeurs' Licenses

Commencing December 1, 1968, all Nova Scotia Chauffeurs' licenses will be issued with an expiry date coinciding with the birth month of the applicant.

The change is designed to facilitate the issuing of Chauffeurs' licenses and provide more efficient service to applicants through use of our new computer system.

During the implementation period it will be necessary to issue Chauffeurs' licenses for variable periods based on the applicant's birth month. In the case of license applicants whose birthdates occur during the months of January to April inclusive in 1968, the license will be issued for periods ranging from one year and one month to one year and four months respectively; whereas persons whose birthdates occur during May to November will receive licenses for five months to eleven months respectively.

Fees for Chauffeurs' licenses will be calculated on the basis of 40 per month. A Schedule of Fees and renewal dates similar to that shown below will be forwarded to all Chauffeurs with a Renewal Reminder Notice. The Renewal Reminder Notice will show the exact fee required for renewal of the Chauffeurs' license. Your current Chauffeur's license expires December 31, 1968. The new license will specify the new expiry date.

Following the initial implementation period, all Chauffeurs' licenses will automatically be issued for one year period, expiring in the applicant's birth month, for a fee of $5.00.

Be sure to include your medical certificate (if applicable) when submitting your application.

Birth Month of Applicant	Expiry of License Renewable in Dec.	Period in Months	Fee

During the day she received many cards, gifts, flowers and calls from friends and relatives.

Honored At Dinner Party

Dr. Ronald F. Morhouse, of Montreal, and his sister, Mrs. (Dr.) Gordon Quigley, of Halifax, spent the weekend with their father, Dr. F. G. Morhouse, and Mrs. Morhouse, in Sandy Cove.

On Sunday there was a family dinner party, guests being Dr. W. Bertman Morhouse (brother), and Mrs. Morhouse.

Among the visitors who called to offer congratulations were Senator E. J. Theriault, and Mrs. Theriault, of Digby and Ottawa.

A boutonniere was presented by "Gabrielle" to Dr. Morhouse.

Honored On 90th Birthday

On Tuesday evening the Freeport Women's Missionary Society held their monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Harold Crocker.

At the close of the meeting, Harry Birthday was sung by Mrs. Joseph Crocker, the oldest member of the Society who was 90 years old.

The guest of honor was presented with many nice gifts and cards not only from the members of the Society but by friends and neighbors who were invited for the occasion.

During the evening she received telephone calls from her son Gratton and Lois, daughter Louise Walcott and grandson Joel Crocker, her sister Dr. and Mrs. Arthur Harding all from Mass., and Mr. and Mrs. Prof. Milburn Murray, R.F.C., which added to her enjoyment. Refreshments, including a birthday cake were served.

Mrs. Crocker enjoys good health, and maintains an interest in church and community affairs.

She thanked the gathering for bestowing such an honor on her and said she would remember it always.

Letters to the Editor

Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:
Another year has rolled around and its time I was sending in a check so that I will be receiving "My paper" during 1969. After I read and re-read every word, I pass it on to a gentleman that is eighty-six years young and though he left Clementevale sixty-six years ago, he is interested in every item and article in that welcome paper. Keep up the wonderful editorials. May you and yours enjoy another year of health and prosperity.

he has anything to do with a tavern that is being built on some land he once owned.

I am sure the whole building project is perfectly legal and in accordance with the antiquated liquor laws of this province, so why on earth should people bother Mr. Woodman?

As far as I know there is no law which says people must drink anywhere than there is one which says they must not. You just make your own choice.

Yours sincerely,

Editor,
The Digby Courier,
Dear Mrs. Wallis:

1968 years ago, the world had a perfect man. Since that time, the various places in the world have had to settle for the best men they could find as regards leaders. This of course has been the case in our town as well as other places.

It has been my privilege to have been, to some extent, in the confidence of both the presents and present mayors of Digby. From these I have come to know on which action had to be taken.

The dedicated men who have been and are running our town do so to the best of their ability, without any fee of any kind and in some cases spend their own money to promote the interest of our town. All these men get for their effort is a never ending stream of criticism and never a word of thanks for their efforts.

What is more frustrating is that most of the criticism comes from people who have no technical knowledge of things they criticize except their own opinions and certainly have no record of achievements on behalf of the town behind them.

Regarding recreational facilities for children in our town, the same thing applies. Dedicated men and women have worked hard to keep our children occupied with wholesome sports. Criticism again is practically driving them away from these activities which benefit the children.

The Beaverbrook Farms is another enterprise singled out for unfriendly criticism. This farm, according to government sources is put in this area partly to explore the possibility of agricultural expansion and partly as an educational institution in growing and marketing.

Last but not least it is put here to test peoples reaction to something new, such as in industry.

As a so called leader of our Industrial Development group I have had this question put to me time and time again. When are you people going to pull together?

In my own small way I want to clearly understand what I am standing behind and I ask all our citizens to do the same to the best of their ability and stop criticism.

DIGBY COUNTY NEGROES & WHITES HAVE GOOD RELATIONSHIP

Donald Morehouse, warden of the Municipality of Digby, in an interview with The Digby Courier, emphasized the excellent relationship which existed between the Negro population of the municipality and the councilors in general. He hopes for the continuous good relationship far into the future.

Warden Morehouse stated that during the past, nearly twenty years on the Digby Municipal Council, he has observed that the councilors in districts where Negroes reside are most sympathetic with any Negro problems and do all they can to alleviate their problems. He cited cases where the municipality had gone "overboard" to help the Negro.

The warden's statements arose from the recent news reports of a Negro man from the Municipality of Digby, in an interview with The Digby Courier, emphasized the excellent relationship which existed between the Negro population of the municipality and the councilors in general. He hopes for the continuous good relationship far into the future.

Human Rights conference in Halifax that Mr. Jarvis had been retained in the Digby jail for non payment of poll tax. Mr. Jarvis made the news despite the fact that thirty-three persons had been imprisoned in the Digby County jail during the past seven years for the same reason. Of the thirty-three, there were 27 white persons and six Negroes. Terms for these charged under Section 126 of the N. S. Assessment Act ranged from one day to five months with Jarvis spending the most time. A white man had spent something more than three months for the same reason. Jarvis was recently released.

Mayer Glendon Smith issued a statement in Digby, N.S., in which he clarified what he thought was an erroneous impression that the jailed persons were from Digby County. None of the 33 were from the town, the mayor informed. The erroneous impression was created because the jail, jointly operated by Digby Municipality and town, is located in town.

Louis Comeau, P.C. Smith was among the Canadian delegation who visited in Paris, France. He was with a delegation of nine Canadian members of Parliament led by Oreste Lacombe, M.P. They were joined by a delegation from the French National Assembly for the second meeting of the Canada France Inter-Parliamentary Association.

The Digby Courier has not been informed of any one from the Negro population near Digby town and Weymouth village who had attended the Black United Front or Human Rights meetings in Halifax during the past week.

They were joined by a delegation from the French National Assembly for the second meeting of the Canada France Inter-Parliamentary Association.

The Canada France Inter-Parliamentary Association was created in the fall of 1965 during an official visit to Canada by a delegation from the French National Assembly. This meeting followed discussions held in Paris in January and in June, 1965, between the President of the National Assembly, M. Chaban-Delmas and Canadian Speaker, Senator the Honourable Alan Macnaughton, and the present Speaker, the Honourable Lucien Lamoureux.

Mayor Glendon Smith, seated centre, listens with sympathetic attention to the plea of six students of College St. Anne, on strike in protest to reported news that the Deaneys of Yarmouth with the Provincial College Grants Committee were in favor of moving the college now located at Church Point to Yarmouth. Seated with him are Miss Madeline Deveau, Muriel, Miss Eleanor Jubb, Margaret, Miss Gail Hersey, Digby and James Doucette, Saulterville. Standing are Gerald Comeau, Meteghan Station and Richard Saulnier, Saulterville.

Ste. Anne's Students Continue Strike

College St. Anne students continued to strike on Wednesday while members of the student body and administration and teaching staff were in Halifax to discuss the position of the College with Education Minister, Gerald Doucette. The students began the strike on Thursday last, when they moved out of their school in Church Point. They have been given some thought to Yarmouth. Representing the College professors in Halifax were Ollie Dimes, Edward Comeau and Dr. George Gallagher. From the administration were Raymond LeBlanc, Gerard D'Extremont and Rev. Yvon Lantier. Students who accompanied them were John O'Brien, Real Desrosiers, Jean-Claude Poirier, Denis Braden, Lucille Tustis, Guy LeBlanc, Jean Pierre Val, and David Bourgeois.

The students felt the matter was not an academic one but one to consider and these will be influenced by a decision regarding the future of College St. Anne. They pointed out that for the past three years, students, bursas and other benefits from the area had been sent to government leaders, and others, warning that College St. Anne be retained in Church Point and be given greater government support, but they had brought little response. The strike, they said, had two objectives, one to influence the retention of College St. Anne in Church Point, and the other to speed up a decision in the matter. Referring to the clergy of the Diocese of Yarmouth, who met and voted to support a move for the college to transfer to Yarmouth, the students said they were expressing their views, only their own personal opinions and not representing the people of their parishes.

In closing the meeting the mayor again expressed concern and the hope that the college could be retained at Church Point but remarked that what over decision was finally made, all that should get behind the college with full support.

On Monday night the college students took their protest demonstration in the form of a play.

Mr. Norman Belliveau, a nearly 1,000 persons attended a Christmas concert by the College District High School of Meteghan River.

Both Rev. Father Cole and Rev. Sister Therese Varior directed the choral groups and Rev. Father Cole also accompanied on the electric organ. Pieces of the band provided the orchestral accompaniment for a number of choruses.

There were approximately 30 pieces of band instruments and 65 voices all providing high quality and pleasing Christmas numbers. The program opened with the playing of O Canada, Ave Maria Stella and Hymne du College. Their other numbers and special parts included Christmas Greeting (M. DeLamare), Christmas March (C. Poirier), March of the Three Kings (A. H. Batters), Here Comes Santa Claus (Mr. Hall), and Little Bell's Rhapody (P. Pierpont). Soloists were Harold Gaudet, Betty Doucet, Jean Comeau, Harold Gaudet, Josephine Neale, Andre Turbide and Nicole Boudreau.

During intermission students from the college and high schools nearby enjoyed a move of the college to Yarmouth.

Students, prior to the strike, began met, discussed the striking students long hours of the night and early morning in an effort to make the right decision and come to the proper conclusion.

On Thursday they broke up into groups of six and struck out in support of high schools at the way from Salmon River to Digby. Six, including Miss Gail Hersey, College St. Anne students from Digby, arrived at the office of Mayor Glendon Smith to place their case and ask his advice. The Mayor favored their case over any long strike action which might jeopardize their cause. He expressed great sympathy with the students and arranged for their meeting with the Digby High School.

The mayor informed the students that he had spoken with the Minister of Education.

DIGBY - ANNAPOLIS HARBOR IMPROVEMENTS

C. D. Snow, director of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, made known at the Digby Board on Tuesday evening a report to the AAVAT from Arthur Laing, Minister of Public Works, dealing with past and future maintenance and improvements to wharves in Western Nova Scotia.

In Digby County were the following: A harbour improvement project is being carried out at this location. In the last three years, dredging valued at $100,000, was installed.

Culender: Repairs averaging $100,000 per annum are carried out at this site. A new wharf, dredging valued at $100,000, was installed.

Little River: Dredging valued at $50,000 is now being carried out at this location. A proposal for a breakwater extension is now under review by the department.

Long Beach Point: Maintenance of the haulout and breakwater is carried out at an average cost of $15,000 annually.

First Snowstorm Of Season

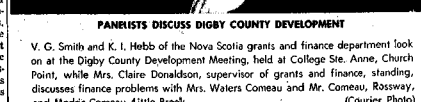

Scheduled daily sailing of the ferry from Acadia from Saint John to Digby, was cancelled on Thursday because of high winds over the area of Digby.

The first real snowstorm of the season arrived Sunday afternoon and in a forty-eight hour period, the snow continued to "flurry" dumped about four inches of the white stuff over the western part of the province. Winds were generally light and drifting was not heavy. Driving throughout the area was hazardous but highways remained passable. No serious accidents were reported.

Digby Trade Board Supports Government Farm Project

Digby Board of Trade on Tuesday evening voted to support a government farm project at Rosville near Digby. The motion included the statement that the Board welcomed constructive criticism aimed at encouraging the farm for economic gain for the area but opposed the unfair criticism which has been so much publicized. A fact-finding committee, consisting of J. J. Britton, Charles Halliburton and Keith Jayne, was set up and will report at the annual meeting in February when it is expected a follow-up motion or resolution will be presented.

The vote on Tuesday evening was unanimous and many far-sighted complimentary remarks were made regarding the farm project. One member quoted from a farmer in Yarmouth who said "Now we can spend time on strawberries and not know we have a market." One

On Well Drilling

A new booklet "Before You Drill A Well", prepared by the Nova Scotia Department of Mines, has been released for distribution to the public.

The booklet serves as a guide to some of the important facts that should be considered before hiring a well contractor.

Dr. J. P. Nowlan, deputy minister of mines, released copies of the booklet to members of the Well Drilling Advisory Board during a meeting. The Well Drilling Advisory Board is composed of representatives from the Well Drilling Association, the Department of Health, Municipal Affairs and Agriculture, and the Nova Scotia Research Foundation.

Drill before you build, warns the booklet. Too many homes have inadequate water supplies because the property owner did not have a well drilled before the home was built. It further recommends that, in areas where a usable water supply from drilled wells is questionable, the prospective buyer should obtain an opinion on the property with permission to have a well drilled first. This kind of procedure could have a bad investment.

The booklet also stresses the need for proper location of a well, particularly with regards to requirements of the Department of Health. General information on the water possibilities in a given area may be obtained from the groundwater section of the Department of Mines or from a reputable local water well drilling contractor.

To protect the buyer from any dissatisfaction or court action that may follow water well drilling the booklet recommends a written contract. The contract will not only protect the individual but also protect the contractor.

Harold Emerson Addresses ACW

The regular monthly meeting of Anglican Church Women was held at the home of retired Bishop and Mrs. R. H. Waterman, Smith's Cove. The guest speaker was Harold Emerson, retired engineer, New Jersey, now, with his family, living at Bay View, Digby Co.

Mr. Emerson offered his services to the Grenfell Mission.

TRADE BOARD

The adverse and unfair criticism about the form must be discouraging to the government and especially for their attitude in trying to establish other industries in the Digby County area, the Board felt and decided to make their feelings known.

The meeting was presided over at the outset by E. Sangster, president and continued by vice president Reg Jayne.

Several items of business were discussed viz. financing the recently printed brochure, possibility of a tourist park on Beaman's Mountain near Digby, the annual meeting program and the possibility of organizing a regional E. of T. rather than having several individual Boards.

A nominating committee to bring in a slate of officers was named consisting of Reg Jayne, Charles Halliburton and Vincent Snow.

The Board supported a move by the A.V.A.B.T. in approving the all weather highway to be located as near as possible to each of the Valley towns but that the chief aim was a safe fast route to Halifax.

Raw Sewage

Joe Hazel informed the Courier this week that raw sewage entering the ditch in front of his property is not from his home but from that of a neighbour. Mr. Hazel addressed the Digby Town Council on December 2 regarding the problem.

Well done is better than well said.

Of perhaps special significance was the explanation of WOP at the mission, which means "without pay" and in many English college students, out for vacation months.

Officers of the ACW for 1969 are: president, Mrs. Cecil Curry, Smith's Cove (re-elected); vice - president, Mrs. George Parry, Conway; secretary, Mrs. Eric Hille, Deep Brook; treasurer, Miss Evelyn Purdy, Deep Brook (re-elected). All committees were re-elected for another year. The January meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. H. A. Purdy.

Women Present Christmas Program

The "Muriel Best" W.M.S. of Bear River United Baptist Church held its regular Christmas program at the parish house with the President, Mrs. Carol Bartol, presiding. Twenty members and guests were present.

The devotional period prepared by Mrs. Evelyn Winchester on the message of Christmas 1968, was presented in scripture, prayer, poems and the carol "Silent Night". The roll was called, and in response to her name, each member hung an ornament with the picture of a mission on the Christmas tree. The nominating committee gave its report after which the following officers were elected for 1969:

President: Mrs. Carol Bartol; vice-presidents: Mrs. Myrtle Selig, Mrs. Marjorie Tibbels; secretary: Mrs. Vera McCormick; assistant secretary: Mrs. Della Morin; treasurer: Mrs. Neva Rice; assistant-treasurer: Mrs. Minnie Dukeshire; pianist: Mrs. Neva Rice; Mrs. Laura Buggles; Mrs. Allie Dukeshire; Mission Band leaders: Mrs. Viola Hendshaw; Mrs. Carol Bartol; supervisor of reading: Mrs. Laura Buggles; superintendent of the band: Mrs. Annie Gates; Spiritual Life convener: Mrs. Viola Hendshaw; Missionary Moment: Mrs. Marjorie Tibbels; publicity: Mrs. Evelyn Winchester; Tidings: Mrs. Annie Gates.

Following the business session the program committee, consisting of Mrs. Bartol, Myrtle Selig and Mrs. Earl Porter, continued the Christmas message. A playlet entitled "The Acceptable Gift" was read by several ladies. This was followed by readings and familiar carols, which concluded by Mrs. Mary Harris singing "O Holy Night." A very effective prayer and candlelighting ceremony concluded the program.

A lunch was served by the hostess assisted by Mrs. Annie Gates and Eva Belle Tibbels.

The first wagon road through the Alps was begun in 1328 and yet through the Septimer pass.

IN MEMORIAM

STEVENS — In loving memory of my dear husband, Walter Stevens who passed away December 13, 1967. There's a vacant chair at the table. And a vacant place at the wall. And many tasks left unfinished. Because of the sudden call. There's a picture on the mantel. That's always smiling through. There's a helping hand that is missing. In everything I do. To those who have a husband. Treat him with loving care. For you'll never know the heartache, till you find he isn't there. Always remembered and sadly missed by wife Helen. 17:16

WYNNE — In loving memory of my dear husband, George W. Wynne who passed away suddenly Dec. 18, 1968. His favorite chair is empty now. His pipe and slippers still hold. Since our dear ones gone to heaven. There with God in peace to bide. We little knew when we woke that morning. The sorrow the day would bring. The call was sudden, the shock severe. To part with a brother so dear. God gave us strength to face it. And courage to bear the blow. But what it meant to lose you. No one will ever know. — Sadly missed and always remembered by sisters and brothers. 17:16

VANTASSEL — In memory of my dear brother, Garfield Vantassel who passed away Dec. 10th, 1967 at the V.G. Hospital, Halifax. The month of December is here again. The month of the saddest of the year. In tears I saw you sinking. I watched you fade away. God knows how much I miss you words will say. And when I stand before your grave. Don't cry for me I'm happy here. I feel no further pain. — Deeply mourned and ever loved, by sister Mary Dakin, 1188 Queen St. 17:16

OUTHOUSE — In loving memory of my dear mother, Annie E. Outhouse who passed away Dec. 6th, 1967. This day we do remember. A loving thought we give. To one no longer with us. But in our hearts still live. We often think of bygone days. When we were all together. The family chain is broken now. But memories live forever. Ever remembered by daughters Elsie, Genevieve, sons Alvin, Curtis, Edwin and Hugh. 17:16

SMITH — In loving memory of a wonderful mother, Annie Smith who passed away December 16, 1968. He thoughts were all so full of us. — Always loved and missed by daughter, Marie, granddaughters, Linda and Greta. 17:16

ROZEE — In loving memory of our daughter "Archie Le" who passed away December 21st, 1967. Just when life was sweetest. And you could have lived. — Your best friend, God opened the gates of Heaven. And you entered the land of rest. We hold our tears back when we speak your name. But the ache in our hearts remains the same. No one knows the sorrow we share. When the family meets and you're not there. — Lovingly remembered by Mom and Dad and family. 17:16

MOREHOUSE — In memory of their daughter, Valerie Elaine, who died December 14th of 1968. In memory of a dear daughter, Merien who passed away Dec. 22, 1967. So peaceful free from pain. I could not say you back. To suffer that again. — Lovingly remembered by mother, sisters and brothers. 17:16

Stocking Party
The Baptist congregation of Digby met for their annual Christmas Stocking Party on Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Brice. The "stocking" yielded the sum of twenty-eight dollars, which will be set aside for church purposes. Approximately twenty-five enjoyed a special hour and refreshments, which were served at the close.

Graduate First Dancing Class

House of Both, Clements port, will graduate its first group of Square Dancers on Saturday, Dec. 21st, at 8 p.m. Due to the number of dancers and spectators expected, the graduation has been moved to the Parish of Clements Hall, Deep Brook, where callers Gloria and Johnnie Roth will call the Graduation Dance. Gloria and Johnnie are planning an after-party, with refreshments following the dancing, at the House of Both, for all attending.

All Adult Club Square Dancing couples are invited to attend and welcome this new group of dancers to the World of Square Dancing.

A Thought Starter

Ronald C. MacCormack Broadens Kindness
To those who are kind to us we are ever in debt, and to show kindness is to deserve to receive it. Tenderness toward others has a way of coming back to us in large measure. The person who receives meanness and contempt very often is only getting back the kind of attitude he is heaping upon others.

An outgoing heart of compassion must be sincere and within bounds. If it goes overboard in mushiness, then it is a step toward ourselves. The may be seen as a fraud, or an attempt to turn some advantage it seems to be quite generous. The hospitable person is that way by nature. His charity is not put on, nor contrived, nor talked about. To boast about one's own kindness to others would be to spoil it all.

Library Fund Grows

The Digby Community Library Building Fund has reached the $2,900 mark.

Donations have been coming in gratifying response from former residents and school students of Digby as well as town and Country people.

Miss Alberta Letts, director of libraries in Nova Scotia expressed pleasure when viewing the new library building in Digby.

What about the person who takes advantage of hospitality to make a nuisance of himself? There are always a few dead beats who will overwork the helping hand to their own advantage. These can be detected soon, and taught along the lines of responsibility, and faith toward God. They may need to be told how to stand on their own feet. It is easy to be good to friends, but the Word of God goes further, "Be not forgetful to entertain strangers: for thereby some have entertained angels unawares." Hebrews 13:2. The quickening power of the living God will enable us to bestow our love in all directions.

A strike, once the course of last resort, now seems the path of least resistance.

Canadian Students Union wants tax-paid tuition, board, travel and textbooks — and guaranteed diplomas?

Wedding rings are placed on the third finger of the left hand because of an old Egyptian belief that a nerve ran from that finger to the heart.

According to one scientist, the human brain could store about 50 times more information than is contained in the 8,000 volumes of the Library of Congress.

East Ferry: Replacement of the skidway at the fisherman's wharf is now underway at a cost of $17,000.00. Repairs to the ferry wharf have averaged $2,000.00 annually over the past several years.

Tiverton: Ferry wharf repairs amounting to $9,000.00 were carried out several years ago. In recent years, minor repairs have been carried out to both the Fisherman's and Ferry wharves averaging $500.00 a year. Repairs to the Fisherman's wharf are included in the department's future program.

Freeport: A rubble mound breakwater was constructed at this location in 1963-64 at a cost of $110,000.00. During the past fiscal year, repairs to the Fish Point Wharf and North-east breakwater were carried out at a cost of about $18,000.00. Annual minor repairs to the four structures at Freeport are carried out at an average cost of $1,000.00 annually. A contract was recently awarded for the installation of lighting on the South Wharf and Northeast breakwater at a cost of $2,000.00.

Westport: In recent years, minor repairs carried out to the Ferry and South Wharves have resulted in an average annual maintenance costing about $1,000.00. A derick was recently installed at the South Wharf costing $500.00. A proposed wharf extension will be included for consideration in the future program planning of the department.

Gilberts Cove: Minor dredging and repairs to the breakwater and skidway require an average annual expenditure of $2,000.00.

Weymouth North: Dredging valued at $40,000.00 was carried out at this location in 1962-63. Wharf improvements were completed the following year valued at $80,000.00. Minor repairs are carried out annually.

New Edinburgh: Minor deck repairs to the breakwater were carried out in 1967 at a cost of $1,000.00. Reconstruction of the breakwater over a five year period is being considered. Dredging and wharf repairs are included for consideration in the department's future program.

Whites Cove: In recent years, annual dredging and minor repairs costing about $1,000.00 has been carried out. Dredging and wharf repairs are included for consideration in the department's future program.

program of the department.

Consewauville: In 1965-66 harbour improvements valued at $50,000.00 were carried out. A dredging contract is now in progress at a cost of $19,000.00.

Saultville: During 1964-66, a breakwater was constructed at a cost of about $1,000,000.00. During 1962-63, repairs to the wharf costing $22,000.00 were carried out.

Meteghan River: Reconstruction of part of the east breakwater costing $6,000.00 was carried out in 1965-66. Annual dredging costing several thousand dollars has been performed in recent years. It is proposed to carry out dredging this year. A proposal for harbour improvements at this location was submitted in the 1968-69 estimates, however, it was not approved.

Meteghan: Dredging was carried out at this location in 1965-66 valued at $25,000.00 and during the following year wharf repairs costing $90,000.00 were completed. Dredging and minor repairs are carried out each year costing about $2,000.00. A derick was recently installed on the wharf costing $800.00.

An item for harbour improvements including extension to the wharf and dredging was submitted in the estimates for 1968-69 but was not approved. This item however will be resubmitted in the 1969-70 estimates for consideration.

Cape St. Mary: In 1963-64 a groyne was reconstructed at a cost of $56,000.00. Dredging two years later cost $4,800.00. Regular dredging and minor repairs are carried out averaging $1,000.00 a year. Fender repairs are included in the planning program.

Salmon River: In recent years minor repairs have been carried out at this location. An item for breakwater repairs was submitted in the 1968-69 estimates but was not approved.

In Annapolis County were the following:
Annapolis Royal: An item for the construction of a new wharf was submitted for consideration in the 1968-69 estimates but was not approved. This proposal is not included in the department's future planning program.

Battery Point (Victoria Beach): Since 1963, $127,664.00 has been spent here for repairs, maintenance and dredging. Except for minor repairs and dredging estimated at cost $1,000.00 annually, no future work is anticipated here. A contract was awarded on June 26, 1968, for the construction of a 20-foot groyne, however, on September 5/68, the contractor advised that he was unable to do the work and negotiations are now underway with the second low bidder to undertake the work.

Friends Of College Ste. Anne Draw Crowd

by Albert Melanson
Les Amis du College Ste. Anne (Friends of St. Anne's College) is the official name given to the new association organized at Clare recently. A large attendance marked the first general meeting of the new association and the following officers form the organization: President, Norman P.

More than one hundred record albums have been sold with songs sung by the Dukeshire sisters of Bear River. They are Sylvia, Cheryl and Marilyn, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Dukeshire.

A special story and picture of the sisters were featured in The Digby Courier last spring. A similar picture to the above graces the album cover. It is expected that another quantity of the records will be ordered for sale.

meeting of October 29th, stated Rev. LeBlanc, it must be understood that St. Anne's is interested in all people of the surrounding counties as well as those from Clare.

The new organization must be supported, said Rev. LeBlanc, and the committee appointed to organize it had worked hard and had met with him on several occasions to discuss the problems of St. Anne's College. The new organization, Les Amis du College Ste. Anne, must be supported by the population of Digby and Yarmouth Counties as well as other areas.

The needs of the college are numerous, said Rev. LeBlanc. The old college building of wood construction will have to go and be replaced by a modern structure, stated Rev. LeBlanc. Other requirements would be, a new dormitory for girls, enlargement of the present dormitory for boys, a new library as the present one is too small and an auditorium. Major repairs will be required soon on the old wooden building (built in 1890) first building built in 1890 was destroyed by fire.

Education is required to meet today's needs and higher education is needed in which the student may follow the proper courses to enable them to attend universities to continue in order to pursue careers of various nature, stated Rev. LeBlanc. The Friends of College Ste. Anne can help the college in many ways and their by-laws show that this can be accomplished. It is hoped that the college will be greater service to the population of Nova Scotia in the future, be stated in terminating his speech.

Benoit Comeau, M.L.A. for Clare spoke briefly, stating that his father had told him that his great grandfather, Louis Comeau had given all the cash that he had on him or at his home at a meeting called at Comeauville prior to the construction of the new college at Church Point by Rev. Gustave LeBlanc and all those who had attended the meeting had followed the example of his great grandfather. Rev. LeBlanc had called meetings in every village in the Municipality of Clare at that time.

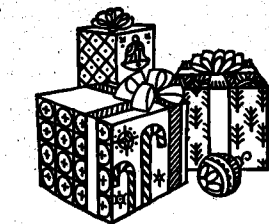

The farmers later went to their woodlots, stated Mr. Benoit Comeau, and cut their choice timber for the construction of the college and others gave their time on the construction free of charge. Other farmers went to the site of the college with their own teams and did the excavation work for the foundation, said Mr. Comeau. Our forefathers have all they had to help build the college.

The Dukeshire sisters who have operated the college for the last eighty years, of which Rev. LeBlanc was the first priest along with Rev. Morin to come to Canada for the purpose of building a college. They dedicated their lives to the education of the Acadia of the area. Are we going to cast away all the sacrifices of our forefathers and the unfaithfulers, Janette and Karen, Mr. and Mrs. Emile Sautier of Meteghan, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Dugas of Grosses Coques presented her with a lovely birthday cake. Tea was served by Mrs. Flagg. A happy evening was enjoyed by all.

Honored On Birthday

A birthday party was held and celebrated November 11 in honor of Mrs. Hilda Flagg at her home, New Edinburgh. Her son and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Flagg, flew from Detroit, and her three sisters and brother-in-laws, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Comeau of St. Martin, N. B.; Mr. and Mrs. Edward Deveau, Mr. and Mrs. F. de la Deveau of Meteghan and many friends were present. Mrs. Lester Dugas of Grosses Coques presented her with a lovely birthday cake. Tea was served by Mrs. Flagg. A happy evening was enjoyed by all.

The following visited Mrs. Hilda Flagg recently were Mrs. Dorcas Deveau and two daughters of St. Anne's college.

"The Vanishing Blue Jay"

Autumn has come and autumn has gone
I missed the sound of the blue jay's song
Amid the colours of Autumn's here,
I missed the colour of the blue jay's blue.
Oh! where has he gone with his joyful call?
He hasn't been around this fall.
To greet me in the trees by my door.
As he used to do many autumns before.
Yellow, orange, red and brown —
The blue of the blue jay isn't around
To contrast autumn's beautiful array.
Has the blue jay gone away to stay?
Will he return in a future year
With his beautiful color and song of cheer
To blend with autumn's colors gay?
Dear Lord, I hope and pray that he may.
A beautiful creature of "Jehovah" is he
Our God who created you and me,
Is man destroying this creature fair
By spreading poison in the air?
To settle down in earth and sad
And so destroy the creatures of God.
Could this be the reason he's not around
With his beautiful color and joyful sound.
For several years I've waited now
To hear the blue jay's call.
He didn't visit again this fall.
Glorious Autumn a picture divine
Painted by God in frost and sunshine,
A beautiful picture I must say:
But missing was the colourful blue jay.

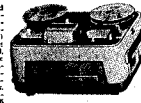

Mrs. E. H. Lent, Freepoint, N. S.

Unemployment Insurance —Any Questions Please?

SHOULD UNEMPLOYMENT INSURANCE AND CANADA PENSION BE COMBINED?

Q. "Why didn't they make the Unemployment Insurance Commission work under and be part of the Canada Pension Scheme? One contribution for both schemes, equally from employer and employee, would surely cut departmental costs. It would certainly cut accounting costs for myself and all other employees."

A. Consideration is being given to possible ways of enabling employers to make a single remittance that would include unemployment insurance contributions, Canada Pension Plan contributions and income tax payments in respect of their employees. This is a long-term study, as the matter is more complicated than it may appear to be on the surface. For the Unemployment Insurance Commission the employment and contribution record of an unemployed person has to be available immediately he is laid off and make a claim for benefit, in order to determine his entitlement. For the income tax authorities the information is not needed till after the end of the calendar year to which the payment pertains; while for Canada Pension Plan purposes the premiums are recorded as they are paid but the information may not be needed for a claim till many years later.

Letter to the Editor

R.R. 3, Digby, Nova Scotia
Dec. 6, 1969

The Editor,
The Digby Courier,
Digby, N. S.

Dear Mrs. Wallis,

I was whole heartedly in agreement with the sentiments expressed in your editorial "How Contradictory". It is ridiculous to have advertising of one toxic article, cigarettes and allow advertisement of another, liquor. If our legislators feel we are not fit to make our own personal choice, they should be contented.

However, I would like to comment on the statistics you printed regarding Britain's "problem drinkers". Britain has a population of over 50 million people and she is very concerned about 30,000 "problem drinkers". Therefore approximately one person in every thousand. Translated to this area, it would mean five problem drinkers in the whole of Nova Scotia. I don't know if statistics are available for this province, but I have a strong suspicion it would run higher than this.

Yours sincerely,
N. M. Armstrong

Christmas Theme

The monthly meeting of the Smith's Cove W.M.S. met at the home of Mrs. Gordon Landers with the president, Miss Sue Winchester, presiding. Mrs. Porter led in prayer and the story of the birth of Christ was read in unison.

The day of meeting was changed to Wednesday instead of Thursday.

The Nominating Committee reported the officers elected for 1969 as follows: President, Miss Sue Winchester; Vice President, Mrs. Oakley Smith; Secretary, Mrs. Garnet Adams; Treasurer, Mrs. Gordon Landers. Mrs. Oakley Smith conducted the programme. A reading by Mrs. Mae Wil-

No questions asked.

The Bank of Nova Scotia introduces the Cheque Guarantee Card.

What's it good for?

Paying by cheque, your own personal cheque, even in places where you're a complete stranger. Cashing cheques without question, delay or embarrassment.

What's so different about this card?

1. It carries your photograph. In living colour. This is proof positive that you are who you say you are. 2. It is proof positive that The Bank of Nova Scotia guarantees payment of your cheques. Anytime. Anywhere.

It's the photograph that does it. Your Scotiabank Cheque Guarantee Card introduces you with instant face-to-face identification. So there's absolutely no risk to the person who's accepting your cheque.

Another advantage. If you should happen to write a cheque for more than you have in your account, there's an automatic line of credit built right in.

What does the card cost you?

Two dollars. And that's it. There's no cost at all to the person who's accepting your cheque.

Come into The Bank of Nova Scotia. We'll photograph you with our special colour camera.

When you get your Cheque Guarantee Card, carry it at all times. Present it whenever you write a cheque. In a store. In a restaurant. Anywhere.

No delay, no embarrassment, no questions asked.

The back of the card tells how the guarantee works.

HISTORY OF COLLEGE STE. ANNE

By: Albert Melanson

St. Ann's College of Church Point was founded in 1880 by George Blanche and Rev. Morin, of the Eudiste Order of priests who left their native France to answer the call of the Acadians to establish the college. But before this came to pass, the government of the province of Nova Scotia had passed an act in 1866 classing education among the public service of the province. The people of La Vieille France, at what is known as Clare, were then called, resisted the fact that their children were to go to school but resistance was feeble. In those days the children helped on the farm during planting and harvest time.

Maxime Comeau, one of the students of Rev. Jean Marie Sigogne, who was the first pastor of St. Mary's parish, campaigned vigorously among the population of the area to bring them to accept the education law. He had to battle against those who were ignorant of the law and those who had their mind set against it. Nevertheless, he was successful in convincing them that such a law was to the benefit of their children.

In 1887, Rev. J. M. Gay, who became pastor of St. Mary's parish at Church Point, followed the first resident pastor, Rev. J. M. Sigogne, who had founded St. Mary's, the first parish in Clare. Rev. Gay dreamed of establishing an institution of higher learning for boys in the area, a superior college, which would serve the Acadian population. A convent for girls had been built at Church Point and every time that Rev. Gay would pass by the convent he would say: "Why the inferiority of the boys of the parish compared with the girls?"

During the visit of His Excellency Cornelius O'Brien, Bishop of Halifax, in the summer of 1883, Rev. Gay made it known of his project of having an institution of higher learning established at Church Point. He received the blessing and encouragement from the bishop. He studied the question carefully and in 1886 he started steps towards having a French religious order of priests come to the area.

The Oblats received the first request and they wrote to Rev. Gay to find out whether he would willingly relinquish the parishes in Clare in favor of the Oblats. Rev. Gay answered right away stating that he would be willing to relinquish the parishes of St. Mary's and Sackvilleville, the only parishes existing at that time. Metcalf was but a mission at that time.

The Oblats finally wrote stating that they were unable to come to Church Point due to shortage of priests in their order. The Redemptorists Order were next contacted by Mr. O'Brien, but with no success. He then addressed himself to Rev. Roussel, a learned Superior of the seminary of Montreal to help him find a French order who would be interested.

Rev. Roussel proposed finding the Eudiste Order or a French priest in France to see if they would be interested, or the Marists, but with no success. They could not undertake such a task at this time. The Oblats, Don Bosco, also interested in 1891. Mr. O'Brien, who was finding it very difficult to interest a French order to come to Church Point, was low in spirits after receiving negative answers, but decided to continue the enormous task of interesting someone. At this time, Rev. Alphonse Parker was pastor of St. Bernard's parish, which is about six miles from Church Point, who was to help in establishing a college in the area.

It was on August 15, 1890, when a grand meeting of representatives of the Acadian population was held at Church Point. Over a thousand people were present at this meeting, coming from the United States, the provinces of Quebec, New Brunswick and Cape Breton in Nova Scotia. At this meeting it was decided that a college should be built in the area. The Acadians selected August 15th as their special religious holiday and taking as their patron the Blessed Virgin Mary, the Star of the Sea.

On this particular day, Rev. LeDuc, superior general of the Eudiste Order, decided to send two priests, Rev. G. Blanche and Rev. Morin to Church Point. The two priests left Liverpool, England, on September 2nd, 1890, and arrived in Halifax on September 12th, where they met Mr. O'Brien. They were immediately given charge of the two parishes mentioned in another paragraph, and they set out for Church Point.

They stopped to visit the pastor of St. Bernard's parish and it happened that Rev. J. M. Gay was also a visitor. After resting and talking things over, Revs. Blanche, Morin and John Stuart, who lived a short distance from the college. Plans were started immediately towards the reconstruction of the college. Once again the Acadian people set to work cutting their choice timber and with cash donations were able to start the construction of a new building. Rev. Ory, Eudiste, gave a large sum of money towards the reconstruction of the college.

er learning was necessary in the area and worked up the population into realizing that it was true.

The people of Clare emptied their purse, some of whom gave all of their savings while others gathered together with their own funds and started the foundations for the new college. Woodlot owners among the Acadians cut down their choicest timber for the construction of the college and the Eudiste priests spent all the money that they had.

On March 7th, 1891, which was Ascension Day, the first stone was blessed by Rev. Gustave Blanche. He was assisted by all the clergy of the neighboring parishes. Activity around the building site was a beehive as the carpenters went to work to complete the college in time for the opening of the classes in early fall.

In the meantime classes were held in the house, starting on September 7th, 1891. Two types of classes were organized. One consisted of elementary classes and the other a classical course, which led to a Bachelor's degree. The building was of rectangular form measuring one hundred and ten feet long and fifty feet wide.

A fire in 1899 destroyed the college. Rev. G. Blanche and his other priests were taken to the homes of L. A. Melanson and John Stuart, who lived a short distance from the college. Plans were started immediately towards the reconstruction of the college. Once again the Acadian people set to work cutting their choice timber and with cash donations were able to start the construction of a new building. Rev. Ory, Eudiste, gave a large sum of money towards the reconstruction of the college.

Before the new college building was completed, Rev. G. Blanche was called to France by his superior and Rev. Pierre Emile Dagnaud was sent to replace him. He worked diligently to have the new college completed and worked hard to clear up the debt incurred in the construction of the new building by serving in other parishes, preaching retreats. Although the struggle was rugged, Rev. Dagnaud did manage to clear the college of all debts.

Throughout the years since, the Eudiste priests who served at St. Ann's College have given on the best of their years towards the education of the Acadian people of Western Nova Scotia. There were lean years and difficult times during the early years, but they overcame them bravely. Changes have taken place in recent years and the elementary classes which were adjacent to high school courses, have been eliminated and college courses are the only courses on their program.

The population of Clare, as well as friends from other areas in Western Nova Scotia and the Alumni Society of St. Ann's, have come to the assistance of the college financially. The largest assistance given to St. Ann's was made after a house to house canvass was made in Clare and in other areas other means were taken, the sum of $35,000.00 was raised, of which $25,000.00 was from the people of Clare. From time to time smaller contributions were made, when the necessity of funds required by the Eudiste Order to operate St. Ann's was made known. The Acadians of Clare have a high stake in St. Ann's College and they do not intend to have the college removed from the area without putting up a fight to retain what they have. It is for this purpose that Les Amis du College St. Ann's was organized and has set to work with all the resources in their possession to hold on to St. Ann's College.

"Knowledge"

The pressing need of ours today, is to try to earn success some way. Through education we often find, the stimulant for success in mind.

What we have or lack as such, is developed completely to keep in touch, in touch with tomorrow and future time, so that as progressers, We can perform with a polish shine.

This strive of ours seems difficult to bear, and it is often said to be unfair, but if we look hard upon our desks, cluttered with pen and pencil, much unrest, we shall glance, and in that one moment enhance our minds, to further this privilege to other finds:

As success and knowledge grows, We'll look back upon memories that flow, and see that all the time we really live, and the strife that knowledge accompanied, was all worth it.

Renovate Hall

The Rowsey Annual Hall Meeting was held last Wednesday evening, December 4th, with ten present. Truman Wentzell was all pointed to be the new trustee for the ensuing 3 years — the other two already holding office being Waters Comeau and Bernard McBride, with Mrs. Waters Comeau as secretary and treasurer.

One item of business at the meeting which was carried was the increase in hall rental for receptions, etc., from $5 to $10 — with the exception of church groups, which will be at the old rate. Many renovations have been made inside and drapes hung at the windows of the hall and more is hoped to be done within the next year. George MacKay was chairman of the meeting.

Mrs. Cardozo Wins First Prize

A sunburst mirror decoration for the Christmas season, created by Mrs. V. G. Cardozo, was first prize winner in the Christmas arrangements contest held at the December meeting of the Horticultural Society.

Second prize was won by Mrs. Fred May, who exhibited a table centerpiece featuring evergreens. Tied for third place were the entries of Mrs. Alex Wentzell and Mrs. H. M. Wane.

Guests of the Admiral Digby Horticultural Society at the December meeting were members of the Acadville Garden Club, Mrs. Robert Borden, of the Acadville group, told the meeting of work being done to improve the grounds at the Acadville Community Centre.

At the close of the meeting refreshments were served. In charge of these were Mrs. George Windfall, Mrs. Wilfred Conn, Mrs. Burton Ellis and Mrs. V. Cardozo.

The Latin "cavetto", fore-runner of the modern car, originally meant a two-wheeled vehicle.

DONATE $125. TO SALVATION ARMY

The sum of $125.00 to be used for Christmas cheer was presented to the Digby Salvation Army this week by the Knights of Columbus with co-operation of MacDonald Motor Co. The proceeds came from profits of a cigarette machine installed at MacDonald's garage, and donated by Gateway Jobbers Ltd. Captain William Bowers of the Salvation Army received the cheque. Future profits of the machine will be donated to charity.

Much Interest in Digby County Development

Interest in Digby County development is stirring from all walks of life from business, professional and religious. Back on is John Dorset, chairman of the Development Committee conversing with Mrs. Claire Donaldson, superintendent of grants and finances in the provincial government, who was one of the specialist panelists at a recent meeting of the committee.

In the rear is V. T. Smith, Kentville, with the finance department, while Sister Joseph Chaille and Sister Marie O'Leary, St. Mary's Convent, Church Point, and Mrs. R. A. Armstrong, committee secretary, listen to the conversation with obviously delighted interest.

Other panelists were J. MacPhail, Department of Fisheries; Jack Kerr, Promotion Officer, Department of Trade and Industry; John Cooper, District Forester, and David Rover, Farm Management.

Following the panel the meeting broke up into group discussions. Miss Gail Hervey, Digby, reported for the first group under Mr. Kerr when one of the main items of concern was with regard to grants for the Clare Golf and Country Club, under the Recreational Facilities Loan Board, of Department of Trade & Industry. The main part of function of Trade & Industry is to join everyone together to make ready for tourism. It was found. There exists distinct tourists associations in Nova Scotia covering different geographical locations. Digby County is under the Affiliated Boards of Trade in the An-in both French and English, which should be of keen interest to the people of Clare. It was recommended that at the next session the tourist commission of the Clare Board of Trade take part and be asked to head up improvements in the area. The meeting was at College Ste Anne, Church Point. (Continued from Page 1)

Weymouth Students March

Pupils from St. Ann's College and Clare High School joined by a number of interested pupils from Weymouth School, held a march through the village on Friday.

The young people were very orderly, and are making every effort to convince the power that be of the importance of keeping St. Ann's University in Church Point.

Graduate As CNA

Miss Jane Hankinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Hankinson, Weymouth, was successful in graduating in her Nova Scotia Certified Nursing Assistant exams.

At present, Miss Hankinson is employed at Deer Lodge, Winnipeg.

Plans Treats For Christmas

The Christmas meeting of the Weymouth ACW was held at the home of Mrs. H. B. Grant, on Monday afternoon with sixteen members present and several visitors.

A letter from Mrs. Arthur Peters was read, thanking them for the gift presented before her leaving for Annapolis Royal. The bazaar committee reported over $100 was received from their efforts on Friday, $100.00 was voted to be given to the Vestry; $15.00 to be sent to Diocesan headquarters and $7.50 for the "Friends of Kings".

It was suggested a pot luck supper be held sometime in January, and it was also voted to supply the Christmas treat for the Sunday School children. A list was made up for about 100 treats, which are sent every year.

The meeting closed with an exchange of gifts and delicious refreshments.

Re-elected President

Mrs. Daniel Hankinson was re-elected president of the Weymouth United Baptist Women's Missionary Union at the annual meeting held at the home of Mrs. Willis Mullen, Weymouth.

The devotional period entitled "Rejoice in the Lord" was conducted by Mrs. Parker Mazer, assisted by Mrs. Gen. Wagner, Mrs. Victor Doty and Mrs. Ronald Kinney.

During the business period, plans were made to pack food box this month for missionaries Dr. and Mrs. Kingsley Gill, in India, and to ship a box of White Cross Hospital supplies to the provincial depot next month.

The program included articles entitled "Centennial Societies" and "Bolshevik Christmas" presented by Mrs. Willis Mullen, Mrs. D. Hankinson and Mrs. Ronald Kinney.

Other officers elected were: 1st vice-president, Mrs. Clare Ruggles; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. Marie Mullen; Music Chairman, Mrs. Stanley Brooks; Program Chairman, Mrs. Willis Mullen; Spiritual Life Convener, Mrs. Victor Doty; Assistant, Miss Lucy Mullen; Stewardship Convener, Mrs. Parker Mazer; Welfare Convener, Mrs. Marie Mullen; Refreshment Chairman, Mrs. Parker Mazer; Tidings Agent and Missionist, Mrs. George Wagner.

The regular monthly meeting of the Weymouth Home and School Association was held on Tuesday evening, with the president, Thomas Cosman, presiding. About forty members were present.

William Spurr, supervisor of the school, was appointed a committee of two to promote better attendance. The next meeting will be held on January 21st.

Following the business Robert Baldwin, vice-principal, explained the many improvements made in the audiovisual department this year. He demonstrated the overhead projector, the educational television, spirit duplicator and the film projector, then concluded the programme with a picture, "Twist Ten and Twelve."

Drama Club Entertains

On Friday, December 6th, primary grades to grade six of Weymouth School were entertained by the High School Drama Club. Christmas cards were sung by Judy Stevenson, Anne Round and Maureen Frances, accompanied by Joan McCullough. Michael Mullen recited the poem "The Night Before Christmas", dressed in nightgown and night cap.

The cast of players, Victor McCullough, Debbie Wagner, Joan LeBlanc, Mark Marshall, Lorna Gould, Sheila Guy and Sheila Bright presented a Christmas comedy entitled "A Hilarious Christmas". The programme was highlighted by the vocal group singing "Here Comes Santa Claus" as St. Nick made an appearance, distributing treats to the boys and girls. Mrs. Shirley Baldwin, drama club director, co-ordinated and directed the entire production.

Drama Club Makes Christmas Program

A newly-formed drama club made their first Christmas program at Weymouth Senior High School on Friday night. Many students have exhibited their interest in participating in the club's work. Instruction is being given in stage properties, lighting and make-up techniques, as well as theatrical performance.

Mrs. Baldwin, drama club director, has been extended an invitation by the Dartmouth Department of Recreation to participate in the Dartmouth Winter Carnival. This program is competitive in nature, and participants will compete with one-act plays, with 1st prize a trophy and check of $100. ## NEW HOUSE DESIGN

This four-bedroom split-level house, by Architect Earl R. Dunlop of Toronto, has its sleeping area and two bathrooms at the back away from street noises.

Below the bedroom is a basement with space for recreation, work, furnace and laundry rooms. The living area is dry worked out with a generous hall leading to all the main spaces of the house - a carport, bedrooms, living room, kitchen and basement. There is a good space in the kitchen for dining and, from it, doors lead onto a patio protected by a brick wall. This should be an important area for summer living. The best orientation for this house would be to have the front door facing either east or west.

The floor area is 1,622 sq. feet exclusive of carport and patio. The outside dimensions are 48 feet eleven inches by 37 feet eight inches - approximately 2,780 square feet. Working drawings for this house known as Design 653, are available from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation at minimum cost.

Women Hold Christmas Service

The Centerville UGWMU met at the home of Mrs. Ronald Morehouse on Monday evening for their Christmas meeting. The hostess had her home beautifully decorated for the Yuletide season, including a lighted Christmas tree.

During the business period plans were made to work on material to be sent to the White Cross Supplies.

Mrs. Lottie Stanton will be presented with a Dominion Life Membership certificate. The nominating committee brought in the following slate of officers:

President: Mrs. Roy Cameron; Vice-president, Mrs. Keith Raymond; Secretary, Mrs. Ronald Morehouse; Assistant Secretary and Press Reporter, Mrs. Russell Lombard; Treasurer, Mrs. Loran Titus; Assistant Treasurer, Mrs. Willie Titus; Spiritual Life Convener, Mrs. Willie Titus; Program Committee, Mrs. Ronald Morehouse and Mrs. Loran Titus; Refreshment Convener, Mrs. Roy Cameron; Nominating Committee, Mrs. Keith Raymond; Mrs. Ronald Morehouse; Mrs. Fred Dakin; Tidings & Atlantic Baptist Agent, Mrs. Guy Outhouse; Auditors, Mrs. Loran Shaw, Mrs. Russell Lombard; Organist, Mrs. Loran Shaw.

Mrs. Ronald Morehouse presented the devotional in the form of a candle-lighting service — "Jesus, the Light of the World".

For the program a playlet, "Christmas Is In the Heart" was given, with Mrs. Roy Cameron, Mrs. Keith Raymond and Mrs. Loran Titus taking part.

Mrs. Ronald Morehouse read the origin of some of our Christmas customs. Mrs. Loran Titus read a poem, "Christmas Morning". Refreshments were served by the hostess, assisted by Mrs. Roy Cameron.

To Address Week Of Prayer Service

The Digby Ministerial met at the United Church Manse, December 12. The president, Rev. Hughes, chaired the meeting.

It was decided to have only one service during the Week of Prayer. This service will be held at the Salvation Army Citadel January 6, at 8:00 p.m.

Col. William Ross, of Toronto, will be the guest speaker.

BOYS and GIRLS Here Are The Winners in The Digby Courier's

12 DAYS OF CHRISTMAS

COLORING CONTEST

The Editor of THE DIGBY COURIER extends Congratulations to Joan Farnsworth, 89 Mount St.

10 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Farnsworth, Digby, who was the winner of First Prize.

Second Prize goes to BONETA PULLEY, age 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Pulley, Lansdowne.

Third Prize winner was STUART MELANSON, age 5, Weymouth, Nova Scotia.

JOAN receives $10.00 and a gift COURIER subscription for her parents.
BONETA'S prize is $5.00 and a year's subscription to the COURIER.

STUART receives $2.00 and the gift subscription.

There were 110 entries judged by Mrs. A. J. Dillon who found her job quite difficult because of the high quality of work. Mrs. Dillon said the coloring was good last year but this year it was exceptionally well done.

Thanks is extended to Mrs. Dillon for her service and congratulations to the winners and all those who did so well as to make Mrs. Dillon's task "not so easy."

IN MEMORIAM

CROWELL - In loving memory of a dear brother Harold R. Crowell who was killed Dec. 21, 1967. How very close his memory is with all of us today. Always remembered by sister, Verna Newcombe and Bonnie and Ritchie. 12:1p

SYPIER - In loving memory of a dear father, Scott Sypier, who passed away Dec. 23, 1968. Sweet memories will linger forever. Time cannot change them. Tears that may come cannot sever. Our loving remembrance of you. Always loved and remembered by daughter Frances, Carl and Kitti Sue. 12:1p

CROWELL - In memory of a dear son, Harold R. Crowell who was killed Dec. 21, 1967. Surrounded by friends I am lonely. In the midst of my joy I am sad. With a smile on my face I have a heartache. Longing dear Harold for you. My heart cannot tell what to say. God only knows how I miss you. 12:1p

TIDD - In loving memory of a dear brother, Bradford Lee Tidd who lost his life in a highway accident, Dec. 20, 1968. Two long and lonely years have passed since God called you away. You little thought when leaving home, you would no more return. That you in death would soon sleep. And leave us here to mourn. 'Tis not Christmas draws near. Oh how it makes me think of when you were here. Sometimes it is hard to understand why some things have to be. In his wisdom God has plans. Beyond our power to see. And to know we never said "Goodbye". There will always be regret. But we miss you, "Brad". We know God loves you in heaven. As much as we loved you here. Sadly missed and always remembered by sister Marguerite, brother-in-law Walter and Cindy, Dwayne and Randy. 12:1p

VANTASSEL - In memory of Garfield who passed away Dec. 19, 1967 at Victoria General Hospital. However long my life may last, Whatever lands I view, Whatever joy or grief be mine I will always think of you. Always remembered and missed. A friend. 12:1p

TITUS - In loving memory of John E. Titus who passed away Dec. 6, 1967. Like falling leaves the years drift by. But the memory of you will never die. For in our hearts you will always stay. — Loved and remembered every day. Vera, John and family. 12:1p

BAKER - In loving memory of my mother and father, Ois C. Baker passed away Dec. 26, 1968 and Noah F. Baker, passed away Jan. 20, 1967. Only a cluster of memories Sprayed with a million tears. Wishing God had spared me. For just a few more years. Angels keep watch up there. Please God let them know. That we down here do not forget them. We love and miss them so. Lovingly remembered by daughters Frances and son-in-law Donald and family. 12:1p

MERRITT - In loving memory of a dear brother, Kenneth Leif Merritt who passed away Dec. 25, 1968. No longer in our lives to share. But in our hearts you are always there. Always remembered by sister Marguerite. 12:1p

NEWELL - In loving memory of a wonderful brother and Uncle, Ralph Eugene, who passed away December 19, 1963. So many things have happened. Since you were called away. So many things to share with you. Did you been left to stay. You never said goodbye to us. Perhaps it's just as well. We never could have said goodbye. To the one we loved so well. 12:1p

IN MEMORIAM

GREENLAW - SPEICHTS. In loving memory of Irving Greenlaw and Ronald Speichts. Two years ago you were taken from us. The ones we loved most dear. We missed you then as we do now. For grief, pain and sorrow and many a sleep but can't bring you back to us. So we can only pray. That God will keep and protect you. Till we meet again in His glory. They were coming home for Christmas. When the accident occurred. Our lights burn bright at Christmas. In memory of you whom we loved so dear. Always loved and remembered by brother Phillip, brother Paul and sister Louise. 12:1p

NEWELL - In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Ralph, who lost his life in a highway accident, December 19, 1963. Surrounded by friends we are lonely. In the midst of our joy we are blue. With a smile on our face we have heartache. Longing dear Ralph for you. Our hearts cannot tell what to say. God only knows how I miss you. 12:1p

TIDD - In loving memory of our dear son Bradford Lee Tidd who passed away Sunday Dec. 20, 1968. Since our dear one has gone. We know he will be with God in peace. Little we knew when we awoke that morning that sorrow would bring a sudden call. Which was a sad and lonely part to part with us all. God gave us all strength, courage to face the blow. No one will ever know what it meant to lose a son so dear and there will be a vacant seat in our home. — Sadly missed and always remembered by parents, Alton and Lola Tidd and family. 12:1p

AMERO - In loving memory of mother, Mrs. Esther Amero, who passed away Dec. 18, 1968. Our hearts cannot tell how we miss her. God alone knows how we miss her. In a home that is lonesome today. Always remembered by daughter Mrs. Phyllis Vantas, son-in-law, Gordon and granddaughter, Mary. 12:1p

MERRITT - In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather Kenneth L. Merritt, who passed away on December 25th, 1968. We lost a father with a heart of gold. A man more true to us than words could tell. Without farewell he fell asleep. With only memories for us to keep. He was a father so very rare. Content in our home he was always there. The wound is deep it will not heal. Only those who have lost know how we feel. There are others, yes we know. He was ours and we loved him so. God takes the best for reasons divine. But memories will last till the end of time. We mention your name and think of you often. God bless and keep you are never forgotten. — Sadly missed by son Elmer, daughter-in-law Pat and family. 12:1p

THIBAUT - In loving memory of a dear daughter Merritt who passed away Dec. 22, 1967. You suffered so much in silence. Your spirit did not bend. You faced your affliction with courage. Until the very end. In tears I saw you sinking. I watched you fade away. My heart was almost broken. You fought so hard to stay. But when I saw you sleeping. So peaceful from your pain. I could not set you back. To suffer that again. — Sadly missed by mother, Sarah Amero, sisters and 12:1p brothers. 12:1p

VANTASSEL - In memory of Garfield who passed away Dec. 19, 1967 at Victoria General Hospital. However long my life may last, Whatever lands I view, Whatever joy or grief be mine I will always think of you. Always remembered and missed. A friend. 12:1p

TITUS - In loving memory of John E. Titus who passed away Dec. 6, 1967. Like falling leaves the years drift by. But the memory of you will never die. For in our hearts you will always stay. — Loved and remembered every day. Vera, John and family. 12:1p

BAKER - In loving memory of my mother and father, Ois C. Baker passed away Dec. 26, 1968 and Noah F. Baker, passed away Jan. 20, 1967. Only a cluster of memories Sprayed with a million tears. Wishing God had spared me. For just a few more years. Angels keep watch up there. Please God let them know. That we down here do not forget them. We love and miss them so. Lovingly remembered by daughters Frances and son-in-law Donald and family. 12:1p

MERRITT - In loving memory of a dear brother, Kenneth Leif Merritt who passed away Dec. 25, 1968. No longer in our lives to share. But in our hearts you are always there. Always remembered by sister Marguerite. 12:1p

GREENLAW - SPEICHTS. In loving memory of Irving Greenlaw and Ronald Speichts. Two years ago you were taken from us. The ones we loved most dear. We missed you then as we do now. For grief, pain and sorrow and many a sleep but can't bring you back to us. So we can only pray. That God will keep and protect you. Till we meet again in His glory. They were coming home for Christmas. When the accident occurred. Our lights burn bright at Christmas. In memory of you whom we loved so dear. Always loved and remembered by brother Phillip, brother Paul and sister Louise. 12:1p

NEWELL - In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Ralph, who lost his life in a highway accident, December 19, 1963. Surrounded by friends we are lonely. In the midst of our joy we are blue. With a smile on our face we have heartache. Longing dear Ralph for you. Our hearts cannot tell what to say. God only knows how I miss you. 12:1p

TIDD - In loving memory of our dear son Bradford Lee Tidd who passed away Sunday Dec. 20, 1968. Since our dear one has gone. We know he will be with God in peace. Little we knew when we awoke that morning that sorrow would bring a sudden call. Which was a sad and lonely part to part with us all. God gave us all strength, courage to face the blow. No one will ever know what it meant to lose a son so dear and there will be a vacant seat in our home. — Sadly missed and always remembered by parents, Alton and Lola Tidd and family. 12:1p

AMERO - In loving memory of mother, Mrs. Esther Amero, who passed away Dec. 18, 1968. Our hearts cannot tell how we miss her. God alone knows how we miss her. In a home that is lonesome today. Always remembered by daughter Mrs. Phyllis Vantas, son-in-law, Gordon and granddaughter, Mary. 12:1p

MERRITT - In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather Kenneth L. Merritt, who passed away on December 25th, 1968. We lost a father with a heart of gold. A man more true to us than words could tell. Without farewell he fell asleep. With only memories for us to keep. He was a father so very rare. Content in our home he was always there. The wound is deep it will not heal. Only those who have lost know how we feel. There are others, yes we know. He was ours and we loved him so. God takes the best for reasons divine. But memories will last till the end of time. We mention your name and think of you often. God bless and keep you are never forgotten. — Sadly missed by son Elmer, daughter-in-law Pat and family. 12:1p

THIBAUT - In loving memory of a dear daughter Merritt who passed away Dec. 22, 1967. You suffered so much in silence. Your spirit did not bend. You faced your affliction with courage. Until the very end. In tears I saw you sinking. I watched you fade away. My heart was almost broken. You fought so hard to stay. But when I saw you sleeping. So peaceful from your pain. I could not set you back. To suffer that again. — Sadly missed by mother, Sarah Amero, sisters and 12:1p brothers. 12:1p

NEWELL - In loving memory of a wonderful brother and Uncle, Ralph Eugene, who passed away December 19, 1963. So many things have happened. Since you were called away. So many things to share with you. Did you been left to stay. You never said goodbye to us. Perhaps it's just as well. We never could have said goodbye. To the one we loved so well. 12:1p

BAKER - In loving memory of my mother and father, Ois C. Baker passed away Dec. 26, 1968 and Noah F. Baker, passed away Jan. 20, 1967. Only a cluster of memories Sprayed with a million tears. ### 38 Percent Drink

One of the most flagrant violations on our highways is driving while under the influence of alcoholic beverages.
Our records indicate that drinking is a factor in some 38% of fatal motor vehicle accidents so far this year. A study conducted in one State of the U.S.A. reveals that three-fourths of the drivers killed in single vehicle accidents during a five-year period had been drinking.
(RCMP Release)

Slow, Careful Faster Way

Excessive speed on highways takes its toll each year.
Statistics show that three out of ten of the fatal accidents to date in 1968 involved vehicles exceeding the speed limit or going too fast for road conditions. The irony of excessive speed is that usually it accomplishes very little of what it is supposed to do — save time. A 1,000-mile test by officials in a foreign country demonstrated that a fast driver, speeding and taking certain risks, arrived at his destination only 35 minutes ahead of a driver who observed the speed limits, avoided all risks, and moved with the flow of traffic. Certainly, a mere half-hour saved in a time span ex-

Slaughter On Highways

The R. C. M. Police, Halifax, N. S., report that during the month of November 1968, 26 persons were killed in a total of 21 fatal motor vehicle accidents throughout their jurisdiction in Nova Scotia. This compares with 18 killed in 18 fatalities during November 1967.
In 1967 some 257 persons died in traffic accidents in Nova Scotia. Statistics show that chronic violation of traffic laws is a serious factor in the number of traffic fatalities each year.
In addition to the alarming number of traffic fatalities in 1967, some 3,835 other persons were seriously injured, and motor vehicle accidents cost our province more than $11-000,000. Once again, December was the leading month with 36 fatalities, and Friday was the most dangerous day with 4 fatal crashes. (R.C.M.P. Re-

Digby District Federation Of Agriculture Starts Winter Programme

At the regular monthly meeting of the Digby District Federation of Agriculture held December 10th, considerable discussion took place as to what topics should be studied in detail during the winter months in the form of short courses. As a farm bookkeeping course had been planned for December and January it was decided that an intensive study on Soils and Soil Fertility should start in February, and this will be followed by a course in Marketing, especially suited to small fruits and vegetables. During the period that the short courses are held, which will be weekly January through March, the monthly meetings will be dispensed with unless special business arises, at which time a meeting will be called.

The first class of six sessions of the Farm Bookkeeping Course was held Thursday, December 12th, with 12 enrolling. Mr. Arnold Rivers, of the Farm Management Branch of the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, in Kentville, is the instructor. Several of the farmers' wives are also taking this course.

It is anticipated that a good number of the farmers will plan to take advantage of the courses planned for study throughout the winter months.

Stationed in Germany. Eric Albright, who has spent the last ten days of November at his home in Freeport, N. S., is now stationed in Germany with the Armed Forces.

My Daughter Was On Strike For St. Ann!

(Barbara Rjvee)

Five minutes before eight, Auditorium of the College St. Ann was filled to the last seat and still there were more and more coming in.

It was the night of the Christmas concert. Suddenly the lights turned off, the curtain opened and the college filled with the Christmas melodies put us all into a Christmas spirit. Still, you could feel some kind of fever in the air, and when the intermission started nobody moved. Everybody expected something, and it came — a student speaker told us that a group of clergy made the front page story, telling their counted opinions — 18 for Yarmouth, 3 for the college to stay in Church Point. But this didn't prevent the opinion of the clergy and professors of the college, still less of the students and their parents and friends of the college to show us the college is a cultural centre and all sentiments — the girls students walked in with the posters: College for ever in Church Point, Do Not Sell school students in Metehun River, Yarmouth, Digby, to support their plea.

At home after the concert I came to my daughter's room to say good night. Her cheeks were red and there was something in the air, too! It came from I am not going to school, tomorrow, I am going on strike: "Mala — o — think about Ocksa (father)!" Mounter do you think you could demolish rock by rock, the church of St. Bernard because it would look built up again very good in Yarmouth? You just could not do it! People put just too much work donations and their soul in this masterpiece and the same is with the college! Why should it be moved to Yarmouth? In case if it would be new maybe then you could find some students from Yarmouth in the college.

Right now I checked the list of the students — Anne, 18, 68-69. They are from everywhere except from Yarmouth, except two who are originally from India and are as the college is everything. Music — playing in the performance is fun, visiting, theatre. Do you remember how excited me and my brothers were when you told us the Neptune Theatre from Halifax is giving a performance, and the performance of the French group from Paris with Mouliere: "The Tariff". Could you understand anything, Mala? I asked her. Hardly a couple of words but their costumes were so nice and with their mimics I could understand what this Tariff was. It was great! And weren't you surprised when you recognized people coming from every corner of the western part of Nova Scotia, even as far as Kentville. "Oh yes," I answered. What a wonderful evening. And do you remember how many people came from Yarmouth and Digby area to the first season concert of Jeunesses Musicales. The little singers from Mount Royal from Montreal sang like little angels.

But for me the seasonal concert with the French pianist, Andre Gorge, was something I still can't forget. I like it when a concert is in the chapel. A holy place and the beauty of the music makes us feel like living in another world — where all disappointments, heartaches and struggles melt away. How nice would be a world without pain and war. The next concert is 20 of January. Do you think it could be as nice?

I hope Mala — but don't you think it is time for you to go to sleep.

Not yet mother, let's talk about the college we wish would but I see now the stage and a big gymnasium with a swimming pool like in Wolfville. Then we could have not only hockey games but also athletic events — swimming races and maybe even some ballet dancing.

To each event school classes would bring high school children from as far as Pubnico and Digby. Yes and on each point concert there should be also one performance from those high school students.

So the college would really mean to all — our cultural centre. I wish the main building would stand on the other side of the highway to have enough room to expand — even to have a couple shops where a student could buy a pair of slippers if she has a run or a student could buy a present for birthday for his girl friend.

Don't forget a little restaurant for the one who would like some French fries and pop after visiting or between their lessons. Yes, and a service station. First bilingual and first in South Western part of N. S. Let's stop. This is just too big to wish for.

When I was walking from Mala's room down the steps, I suddenly remembered an early evening in the year 1962 or '63. Somebody knocked at our door in Richmond Co. in Cape Breton. When I opened it a young niece looking man stood at the door. I am Gerard Doucet. I came to meet you because I am running as a Conservative representative for our county. Having a cup of coffee at the end I asked him why would he go into politics. Having a family, being a successful lawyer, wouldn't that hurt his practice.

And the life of a politician is sometimes such a heart-breaking one. I still see his

Home For Christmas

There's a solemn hush on the world tonight,
And the stars seem bright and still,
While a silver light gleams blue and white,
On a distant snow-clad hill.

While the candle-glow in the windows shines
On the day of His wondrous birth,
As they glimmer bright with a shimmering light,
So I feel I am not alone.

Then I think of the Christ Child long ago,
On the day of His wondrous birth,
With no place at all but a humble stall,
To welcome Him here on earth.

And a tenderness warms my happy heart,
All this love that is my own,
Just a little while a glad mother's smile,
In that precious place called Home.

Change in Renewal Dates Chauffeurs' Licenses

Commencing December 1, 1968, all Nova Scotia Chauffeurs' licenses will be issued with an expiry date coinciding with the birth month of the applicant.

The change is designed to facilitate the issuing of Chauffeurs' licenses and provide more efficient service to applicants through use of our new computer system.

During the implementation period it will be necessary to issue Chauffeurs' licenses for variable periods based on the applicant's birth month. In the case of license applicants whose birthdays occur during the months of January to April inclusive in 1968, the license will be issued for periods ranging from one year and one month to one year and four months respectively; whereas persons whose birthdays occur during May to November will receive licenses for five months to eleven months respectively.

Fees for Chauffeurs' licenses will be calculated on the basis of 40 per cent. A Schedule of Fees and renewal dates similar to that shown below will be forwarded to all Chauffeurs with a Renewal Reminder Notice. The Renewal Reminder Notice will show the exact fee required for renewal of the Chauffeur's license. Your current Chauffeur's License expires December 31, 1968. The new license will specify the new expiry date.

Following the Initial Implementation period, all Chauffeurs' Licenses will automatically be issued for one year period, expiring in the applicant's birth month, for a fee of $5.00.

Be sure to include your medical certificate (if applicable) when submitting your application.

Let your liver bile relieve irregularity

It's a proven fact that a sufficient flow of liver bile will relieve irregularity. How does this work? Bile is the digestive fluid in the digestive tract. The best way to break down these unwanted fat globules is with a sufficient flow of liver bile. And Carter's Little Liver Pills has proof... clinical proof that it improves liver bile flow by breaking down unwanted fat globules and unblocking the digestive tract. So whenever you feel sluggish, headachy, nervous and need relief from irregularity get Carter's Little Liver Pills. See.

Profit From Book For College Ste. Anne

(Albert Melanson)

"La Ville Française" is the title of a new book by Charles Deveau, author, J. Alphonse Deveau, of Salmon River, which officially went on sale to the public on Friday, December 13th, at College St. Anne's, which sponsored the official presentation. Approximately 1500 copies were printed, which are in the French language.

The author has written two other volumes relating to the Acadians: "Le Chef des Acadiens" (The Chief of the Acadians) and "Le Journal de Colette Murat", which appeared in the form of a diary kept by Colette, which makes interesting reading. An English translation appeared in the Yarmouth paper, either the Light or the Herald, some years ago. "La Ville Française" recounts the history of the Acadians from their first arrival in 1708, when Joseph Dugas arrived with his wife and a small daughter, up to the present time. The book relates the colonization of the area of Clare which was formerly called "La Ville Française" (The French town), the first inhabitant, the Indians and their influence on the life of the population of the area; the first dwellings, businesses, the founding of the several villages of Groves, Coques, Church Point, Concession, Moncton, St. Alphonse, Salmon River, Gourette, Concession and Bellevue Cove, also St. Bernard.

The economical organization in the area is covered by chapter III, in which it speaks of the material life, agriculture, fishing, sawmills, shipyards, fur farming, secondary industries, cooperatives and mutual societies and the evolution of the Ville Française in the economic domain. Other chapters relate to the religious life of the population, school organizations, Acadian culture, and the great events to have taken place in the early days. The new book has 296 pages, and was published by Les Editions Francaises of Quebec City. J. Alphonse Deveau, member of the Conseil de la Ville Française, explained that the aim of the organization was mainly to preserve the French language in North America. The council has had several editions of various volumes in French language published by Les Editions Francaises. The profits from the sale of the new book, by the author J. Alphonse Deveau, will go to St. Anne's College, named after the author.

Mrs. Boudreau-Nelson, of the "Association Historique Acadienne", of Moncton, spoke briefly and said that the book "La Ville Française" is something beautiful and it signifies that Mr. Deveau put in a lot of work in writing the book. It is a full life of the author makes known the region of Clare and makes us like it. It is our duty to see that this French language book is sent to all libraries where the population is French, also to schools. We should be proud to have someone like Mr. Deveau to present such fine work for us to read, said Mrs. Boudreau-Nelson. Mrs. Boudreau-Nelson is professor at the Moncton University and came to Church Point especially to be present at the presentation of the new book to the public.

Professor René LeBlanc, of St. Anne's college staff and resident of Little Brook, told the audience that the new book, "La Ville Française", was presented by a special event and ceremony as this is a great event, because they are so rare. Mr. LeBlanc explained the great research work that was necessary to obtain the material to put into such a book by Mr. Deveau. When Mr. Deveau started to search for material for the book, many of the past events were beginning to be forgotten and now will be preserved. Professor LeBlanc stated that it is hoped that the author, J. Alphonse Deveau, would continue his fine work and hoped that a sort of archives of Acadian culture would be organized in the area.

Judge Currie, president of the Nova Scotia Historical Society, also spoke to the group at the presentation, stated that there were three reasons why he was glad to be present at Church Point, one was to be here as representative of the Nova Scotia Historical Society, the first time that this Society ever was in this area; secondly, to accept Mr. Deveau's new book, and thirdly, visit my many friends. If it wasn't for a Sister of 'Saulnierville', I couldn't be here, he said. This man encouraged me to work to earn money to go to college. I followed her advice, and I owe her very much.

The Nova Scotia Historical Society endeavors to keep in mind what is known as culture. You can build with bricks, stones and mortar, but it will not build a university. It is very easy to kill culture and it is practically impossible to bring it back, said Justice Currie. My ancestors had been scattered, who spoke Gaelic, and today there are but 30,000 people who speak Gaelic.

You'll not find 100,000 persons who are bilingual. The English language was the only language that was allowed to be spoken. The purest culture in Canada is the Ukrainian and the Acadian French. It has not yet been contaminated, said Judge Currie. I want to congratulate Mr. J. Alphonse Deveau for publishing such a fine book which relates the history of the Acadian people. I have come here out of sheer love and I want you to feel the same of your country.

Rev. Raymond LeBlanc, Dean of St. Anne's College, presented a volume of "La Ville Française" to Dr. Currie and the following received copies also: Mrs. Alain Doucet, wife of the late Mr. Doucet, author of "La Littérature Orale de la Baie Saint-Marie", published in 1965. Edmond Dugas, of Groves Coque, a descendant of the first settler, Joseph Dugas, who arrived in 1708 on the shores of St. Mary's Bay from Port Royal; Conseil de la ville Française; Mgr. Gosselin, and to others.

His Excellency Mr. Augustin Burke, Bishop of Yarmouth, was in attendance and congratulated the author, J. Alphonse Deveau, of Salmon River, in the name of the Diocese for the wonderful work in publishing a book of great interest to the Acadian people.

N. S. Strawberry Growers Organize

Nova Scotia Strawberry Growers elected last week to abandon the Maritime Strawberry Growers Council in favor of a newly-formed Nova Scotia Strawberry Growers Association which they established at a well-attended meeting in Kentville with adoption in principle of a set of by-laws and appointment of officers and regional directors.

At a later meeting of the Council it was suggested that purposes of the former council could be achieved by agreement that the Nova Brunswick Strawberry Growers Council and the newly-formed Nova Scotia Strawberry Growers Association could hold at least one joint meeting each year to exchange ideas and discuss common cultural, harvesting and marketing problems.

The N. B. delegates attending reported their growers next year would build twelve picker machines of a type previously built and used in the U. S. and Mexico. They also reported they would increase the plant box to the local N. B. market in 1969.

Ralston Ripley, of River Philip, Cumberland County, was elected President of the new N. S. Association and acting as Chairman of the founding meeting.

In seeking the support of N. S. Strawberry growers a membership fee structure was proposed meeting each grower $5.00 for 5 acres or less, with an additional $1.00 for each additional 5 acres. Officers appointed to act until the new association's first meeting expected to be held early next spring, was Ralston Ripley, President; Allison Woodworth, Secretary; Secretary-treasurer. Both were also elected directors along with other regional directors.

Merry, Christmas!

Trefry House

In reply to Mrs. Saulnier's request about the Trefry House, Mrs. H. B. Bishop reports that it is the Melbourne Concom apartment house on Montague Row and had formerly been the Fairview Hotel operated by the late Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Cousaboon.

The old Trefry House had been added to by the Cousaboons but this addition had been later removed and what is now being used was the original Trefry House.

Help Retarded Children

Some time ago the pupils of the Westport Intermediate School were busy working on a project to earn money for the Retarded Children's Home in Digby. They sold apples from door to door, earning $15.00, which was sent to help buy something to put in the play room. They also sold fudge to other pupils in the school, from which they earned approximately $6.00. This they donated to their Junior Red Cross funds. Their teacher, Mrs. George Garson, supervised the work.

Children can accomplish much when given a job to do, and they know there are children more unfortunate than themselves in the world.

Choirs Combine In Christmas Music

The combined men's choir and girls' choir of the five Lower Granville United Baptist Churches, joined together at the Port Wade Baptist Church on Sunday evening in Christmas, singing "Carol of the Stars" by John W. Peterson. Rev. David Turner led the service and Mrs. Turner organist. The junior choir opened the service. Their organist was Miss Wagner, Port Royal.

Circle of Prayer. Mrs. Shaw reported the circle by the Lord's prayer in union.

Election of officers took place with all being re-elected for 1968.

The White Cross convener reported a box of hospital supplies will be ready for mailing early in the new year. Money to be sent for Hospital Fund was voted. Hospitals to be supplied in 1969 are Star of Hope, Serango and Son-peta.

The program consisted of Christmas readings. Mrs. Albert Moore. Mrs.

Women Aid Mental Health

The ladies of the Westport Church of Christ Christian Women's Fellowship held their December meeting in the church vestry. Instead of the usual form, it was held as a Christmas Party. A short devotion was given by Mrs. Harold Thompson and the group spent the evening in Bible scripture readings, playing quiz and scrambled games.

The vestry was tastefully decorated for the occasion, with a poinsettia plant, candle holders and a decorated Christmas tree, under which was spread an array of gifts, that were to be sent to the Mental Health Association in Dartmouth as gifts to the patients. This is an annual project conducted by the ladies.

At the close of the evening refreshments were served by the ladies present.

Thank-offering Service

The annual Thank-offering Service of the Women's Missionary Society of the Westport United Baptist Church was held on Sunday evening, December 16.

The president, Mrs. Lawrence Shaw, conducted the service.

Scripture was read by Mrs. Albert Bailey, prayer was made by Miss Luie Repoul and the devotion was given by Mrs. Earl Webber.

The special music by the church choir, under the direction of Mrs. Richard Welch, organist, included a solo by Miss Barbara Frost and a duet by the Misses Mary Webber and Marilyn Titus.

Mrs. Shaw gave an interesting resume of the year's work, making special mention of Miss Maria Norris, whose memory all societies of the Atlantic Provinces are honoring for her contribution as an organizer of societies in the Atlantic region. The first to be organized was the Canso, N.S. society in 1870. Miss Norris set out to represent these provinces on the foreign mission field. The years 1968-1970 carry special projects by all societies in memory of Miss Norris. The work has grown from small beginnings 100 years ago to 1017 organizations at the present time, with 15,616 members. During Circle of Prayer Mrs. Gilbert Ingersoll, Mrs. Wickerson Lent and Mrs. Wylie Poole offered prayer.

The message of the evening was given by Mrs. George Kenney. Her theme was "Stewardship" and was ably presented and a timely challenge. Offering was received by Mrs. Howard Titus and Mrs. Clyde Titus.

Benediction was pronounced by Mrs. Shaw.

Honored On Birthday

Birthday parties in Westport have been prevalent in December with the Birthday Club meeting at the home of Mrs. Albert Welch in honor of her birthday. The evening was spent in playing cards and at the close delicious refreshments were served by the ladies.

On December 6 a surprise party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Richard McDonald in honor of his mother, Mrs. Charles McDonald. A delicious chicken supper was served. Others present were Mr. McDonald and daughter Betty, Mr. and Mrs. James McDonald, Mrs. Leonard Garrison and Mr. and Mrs. Rupert Trask.

Faye Lent, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wickerson Lent, entertained at a birthday party at her home at Western Light on Tuesday, December 10. The children enjoyed themselves by playing games during the afternoon. Mrs. Lent served refreshments, including a birthday cake with nine candles centering it.

Miss Rickie Robicheau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Robicheau, entertained at a party in the 100P Hall on Saturday, December 14, when about 75 young people from Westport, Freeport, Tiverton, Middleton, Annapolis and Digby gathered to wish Rickie a belated wishes. A

65 Years Married

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Deveau, Plympton, recently celebrated their 65th Wedding Anniversary. A mass was celebrated for this occasion by Bishop Burke of Yarmouth and Mr. T. LeBlanc, parish priest. Mrs. Clifford Doucette was organist.

Mr. and Mrs. Deveau were married on Dec. 26, 1903 at Holy Cross Church, Plympton by the Rev. Father Luest. Mrs. Deveau was the former Annie Amers of Doucetteville. The bride and groom made their home at Doucetteville until 24 years ago, when they moved to Plympton.

Mr. and Mrs. Deveau have five children, Lennie, Mrs. John Thibault, Digby, Joseph, Essex, Mass.; Irene, Mrs. Philip Jacob, New York; Bill, New Hampshire, and Lena, Mrs. Payson Robicheau, with whom they reside at Plympton. They have 6 grandchildren and 9 great grandchildren.

During the day friends from near and far called on the "bride and groom." Visiting them in a group were the Sisters of Charity from Weymouth, Digby and Plympton. The evening was spent in singing and playing games.

Mr. and Mrs. Deveau were presented with an anniversary cake with 65th Anniversary decorations as well as useful gifts. They were happy to receive a telegram of congratulations from Nova Scotia Premier, G. I. Smith, as well as many phone calls from friends and relatives and congratulations by mail. Refreshments were served at the close of the evening. Mr. Deveau is 89 years and Mrs. Deveau is 85. They are both enjoying good health.

Victoria Beach

(Mrs. W. K. Haynes)

Your correspondent takes this opportunity to wish the readers and staff of "The Digby Courier" a very Merry Christmas and a happy and prosperous New Year.

Ladies Auxiliary met for the first time this fall on Monday evening in the newly purchased "Church Hall" formerly the Victoria Beach School. Plans for a Christmas tea were discussed, also the usual shift in boxes. A busy winter is anticipated.

Mrs. Percy Johnston, Cathy and Kenneth, spent a few days with her husband in Saint John, N. B.

Milford Johnston, Halifax, and Donnie Johnston, Middleton, spent the weekend at their home here.

Several men from Victoria Beach are attending the evening classes on Navigation held in the Annapolis Royal Regional Academy two nights weekly.

Marriages

Howard — Crocker

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Crocker, Freeport, on Saturday, December 7 at 1:30 p.m. when their daughter, Linda Lou, was united in marriage to Caleb Vincent, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Howard, Tiverton, at a double ring ceremony performed by Rev. W. Ideson. Mrs. Franklin Thubert, aunt of the bride played the Wedding March.

The bride given in marriage by her father was lovely in a stately length dress of white nylon lace over taffeta. Her shoulder-length veil was held in place by a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses.

Miss Heather Crocker, sister of the bride was bridesmaid. She wore a stately length dress of gold brocade satin, with matching accessories and carried a bouquet of yellow and white mums.

Roy Coushomb, Tiverton, was best man. Mrs. Crocker chose for her daughter's wedding a two piece terra cotta lace dress over taffeta, white accessories and corsage of white roses. The grooms mother wore a tangerine lace dress over taffeta, with brown accessories and matching corsage.

A reception was held following the ceremony. The bride's table was very attractive with white linen cloth, lighted candles and centered with a three-tiered wedding cake which was cut in the traditional manner. The toast to the bride was proposed by Roy Coushomb and responded to by the groom. Misses Loretta Crocker and Mary Morrell served the bride's table, Mrs. Grafton Outhouse, Tiverton, and Mrs. George Crocker served the guests. Mrs. Leslie Powell, sister of the groom had charge of the guest book.

For a wedding trip to various parts of Nova Scotia the bride wore a blue wool suit with brown accessories and corsage of white roses tinted with blue.

The happy couple will reside in Halifax. The bride is employed with Regional Treasury, Federal Dept., and the groom is employed with Pilkington Glass Company.

Sayen — Woolaver

The marriage of Julie Eugene Woolaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas M. Woolaver, Digby, and Charles Michael Sayen, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Sayen, Cardinal, Ont., was solemnized in Saint Patrick's Church, Digby, Rev. J. Hennessy, Saint Mary's University, Halifax, of located at the double ring ceremony.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white silk cloud satin and lace trimmed with pearls and matching train. Her shoulder-length veil of net was held by a headpiece of pearls. She carried a cascade of tiana roses and leather leaf.

Miss Janet Robertson, Halifax was maid of honor, and bridesmaids were Mrs. Peter Oland, Halifax, and Miss Lynne Sayen, sister of the groom. They wore identically-styled dresses of floor-length rose velvet and carried colonial bouquets of junior miss roses. Their headpieces were fashioned of junior miss roses.

Best man was Frank Archambault, Pelham, N. H., and ushers were James Forsyth, Burlington, Ont., and Fred Sayen, brother of the groom.

by, was organist and Mrs. Jean Marshall, Halifax, was soloist.

The bride's mother wore a dress of rose wool with matching hat and the groom's mother wore an emerald green velvet dress with matching accessories.

The reception was held at the Knights of Columbus Hall.

On Friday, 12th, she left via Air Canada for Saint John and Montreal to visit the homes of her children.

Mrs. Murray Doucette celebrated her birthday recently. Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cook and daughters, of Weymouth Mills, were guests.

Get well wishes are extended to Miss Alma Thibault, who was involved in a car accident in Halifax recently and is a patient in the V. G. Hospital.

Hunters Encouraged To Register Deer Kill

Robert Nisse, of Corberrie, was the lucky winner, of a $100.00 prize offered to the hunter who would be lucky to have his ticket drawn at the end of the deer hunting season. The prize was offered by the Clare Fish & Game Association for the purpose of encouraging deer hunters to register their kill at the Little Brook Fire Department hall in Little Brook.

The Clare Fish & Game Association, in cooperation with the Department of Lands & Forests, wildlife division, established a deer check station in Little Brook this fall. Each hunter who registered received a numbered ticket, which he played in a special box. The lucky hunter would win the $100.00 prize. The president of the Clare Fish & Game Association stated that he has learned, since the deer season closed recently, that some hunters misunderstood the project and believed that a prize was offered for the biggest deer killed and they did not register their kill.

Despite the misunderstanding, over thirty-five deer kills were registered at Little Brook. A hunter registering his kill, was to allow for the removal of the pawbone so that biologists could study the condition of the deer herd in the province. Mr. Nisse's kill was a 155 pound, 7 point buck. The smallest deer registered was a 55 pound one and the heaviest was a 224 pound deer.

Art Patton, wildlife biologist of Kentville, assisted in the drawing, with president Gerald Comeau present, as well as a number of association members attending, at the Little Brook fire department hall in Little Brook.

The Clare Fish & Game Association was organized in 1948 and in recent years a clubhouse has been constructed on the shores of Spectacle Lake in Concession. The association salvaged 90% of the pheasant chicks raised and which were later released in different parts of Clare. Mr. Gerald Comeau, president, stated that the association was fortunate in having had the pleasure of having Mr. Hugh Fain, of the Nova Scotia Wildlife Federation; Mr. Merrill Prime, Director of Wildlife in Nova Scotia; Art Patton, Big Game Biologist; and Paul Tufts, Regional Biologist, at their semi-annual meeting.

Dances were held on Saturday evenings for the members of the association and their friends during the summer months, which were held every second week. Thirty percent of the profits will go to the association's special fund for Fish & Game activities in the future.

Dandelion Vies With Poinsettia

There is more novelty in having a fresh blooming golden dandelion for Christmas than an imposing red poinsettia. Mrs. Nelson Prime, Triveton, found a full blooming dandelion on December 13 which is likely to add to the Christmas trimmings along with the poinsettia. The find was reported to The Digby Courier by Mrs. Prime's neighbor, Mrs. Lottie Fingman, who also enjoys the out-of-season bloom.

Royal Canadian Legion Branch #20 again elected Jack Nichols as President for the year 1969. Past Vice President and former President Guy VanTassel installed new executives as follows: President, Jack Nichols; 1st Vice President, Tom Cleve; 2nd Vice President, Norman Kennedy; Treasurer, Carl Melanson; Secretary, Edward Wain; Padre, Dudley Cummings; Sgt. at Arms, Harry Press. All were elected from the floor after the nomination Committee was ruled out of order by the president.

The newly elected executives will meet before the next regular meeting and bring in new slate of Executive Committee Chairmen for the year 1969. The general meeting to carry on the activities for the coming year. President Nichols thanked those of the Executive and committees for the help received but stressed that much more help and cooperation must be forthcoming if they expect the Legion to go ahead and be a well-ed group and not a group of men through the work of a few loyal members alone.

He also stated that from January 1st a move decision would be made. The understanding would have been reached among the members to put their own fees in order before taking other existing problems. On adjournment the men on a lobster chowder. On Saturday, December 14th, a Christmas Party was held for the benefit of the Christmas welfare for veterans at which time some 130 people attended. A profit of approximately $400.00 was realized with individual gifts of children and food was collected. Gifts and food were all turned over to Carl Melanson, treasurer for distribution at Christmas time. Thanks was extended to the Auxiliary members Associate members.

Jack Nichols Re-elected President

Nova Scotia Legion Branch #20 again elected Jack Nichols as President for the year 1969. Past Vice President and former President, Guy VanTassel, lost to Nichols in the election. Nichols, 41, is a resident of Digby. He was elected to the position after the nomination committee was ruled out of order by the president.

The newly elected executive will meet before the next regular meeting and bring in a slate of members for the committee of the general meeting to carry on the activities for the coming year. President Nichols thanked the members of the executive and committees for the help received but stressed that more help and co-operation would be forthcoming if they expected the Legion to go ahead and be a well liked group and not a group that only existed on paper.

He also stated that from January 1st a more definite understanding would have to be reached among the regular members to put their own offices in order before taking over the existing problems.

On Monday, December 23, a Christmas Party was put on for the benefit of the Christmas welfare for veterans at which time some 130 people attended. A profit of approximately $4.00 was realized with many gifts of childrens toys and food were collected.

The party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melanson, treasurer for distribution at Christmas.

Garage And Two Vehicles Total Loss - No One Hurt

No one was hurt in a freak accident at their home which totally wrecked two vehicles and a garage. A half-ton truck, owned by Fred Manson, went out of control while backing up its own driveway and screamed across the highway into the yard of a neighbour, Walter Wright. Here it crashed into a garage containing Wright's car, pushing the car through the roof of the building. The truck followed the car through the garage and over a fifteen foot embankment, landing squarely on top of the car. Both vehicles and the garage were totally wrecked. The car and truck were both 1969 models, the truck only having 22 miles on it. Investigation was carried out by Digby detachment of the RCMP. Manson received a slight scratch on his face. It is understood that both vehicles carried adequate insurance.

WINS MEDAL IN DIGBY COUNTY

Mrs. Thomas G. O'Neill, formerly Miss Vivian MacLennan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hewer, Smith's Cove, was winner of the 1968 Legion-Governor's medal for Digby County. The announcement was made last week by the Lieutenant-Governor, Victor deB. Oland.

For the past seven years 20 medals have been awarded annually to the students of the province who made the highest marks in selected provincial examinations in grade 11.

Since the writing of the provincial examinations of grade 11 has been made in 1968, beginning in June 1969, there will be a change in the condition of the award, and since the writing of the provincial examinations of grade 12 has not been made optional, the level at which the award medal will be changed from grade 11 to grade 12.

Other conditions will remain the same. Winners of the medals in grade 11 in 1968 will not be eligible for a similar award in grade 12 in 1969. The medals for 1968 will be formally presented by the Lieutenant-Governor at a luncheon.

J. Alphonse Deveau Writes History Of French Shore

"If culture dies, much else dies with it," Hon. L. D. Currie, President of the Nova Scotia Historical Society, said at an audience at College St. Anne Friday evening on the occasion of the presentation of a new book, "La Vie Française," a history of the French Shore of Digby County, written by Prof. J. Alphonse Deveau, of the college faculty.

Former Chief Justice Currie, who was introduced to the large gathering by Rev. Sister Joseph Camille, said that it was easy to kill a culture and cited what had happened in the history of Scotland as an example. He said that the French were used to destroy the ancient Celtic culture. Universities were taken away, only the English language put in its place. The French and English culture continued, today, he said, there are not 30,000 people in a population of three million who speak the Gaelic, the oldest continuing language in history, and not 100,000 who are bilingual.

Speaking of the Acadian culture, Hon. Mr. Currie said, "It is as pure as the driven snow and as clean as the wind in the morning." He said that the Acadian culture has not yet become antiquated and stated he was anxious to see it retained. He said that the Acadian and Ukrainian are the two purest cultures alive in Canada today.

In his address the former Chief Justice congratulated Prof. Deveau on his new book. He said that the style is free, easy, accurate and informative and the book shows capable research. He said the order of the book is good and should be a pleasure to the reader.

Prof. Rene LeBlanc, of the history department of College

St. Anne, also spoke at the gathering. In his remarks Prof. LeBlanc stressed the importance of the historical research done by Alphonse Deveau and by the late Alvin Doucet, of the District of Clare, who some time ago published a book on the folklore of the Acadians of the French Shore.

Prof. LeBlanc said these two books, through their research had uncovered an abundance of material in the field of local history which had been left almost unexplored with most of its facts preserved.

He expressed the hope that the work of Prof. Deveau would stimulate more research into the past and that a nucleus of historical works would become the basis for development in the District of Clare, a centre of research with a museum and archives to house and enrich the local Acadian ethnic traits. He said it is significant that the publication of Prof. Deveau's new book celebrates the 200th anniversary of the arrival of the first Acadian settlers in Clare following the expulsion.

Other speakers at the session included Madame Louise Boudreau-Nelson, of the Acadian Historical Society of Moncton; Alphonse Comeau, of Le Conseil de la Vie Française en Amérique; Rudolph Doucet, principal of St. Anne du Balaieu School, and His Excellency Bishop Burke, of the Diocese of Yarmouth.

All of the speakers congratulated Prof. Deveau on his new book and on the contribution he has made to the preservation of the history of the Acadian peoples of Clare. Rev. Raymond LeBlanc, President of College St. Anne, who presided over the session, also added his congratulations.

In responding to the remarks, Prof. Deveau said that his writing of the history of the French Shore was a duty, something that had to be done because it was there. He said that "this should be the highest moment of my life, the realization of my dearest ambition and the repayment of a debt owed to my common ancestors, the pioneers of 1768 and 1769."

Speaking of College St. Anne, Prof. Deveau said "I am proud to be here and to see you here to see that before the founding of the college there was no Acadian clergy."

or professionals in the area and very few business men. The College has enabled the Acadians of the area to fill all these positions and to export clergy and professionals to serve other areas and other cultures."

He said that in the historical year of the arrival of Joseph Dupas, the first Acadian settler in Clare, St. Mary's Bay and on the occasion of the dedication of the school, he would like to see all Acadians and non-Acadians join together to keep in this area an institution which has become an integral part of it.

Prof. Deveau said, "We shall need more courage than even Joseph and Maria Dupas ever had when they faced the most forbidding solitude of 'White's Cove' in 1768. Our future is as uncertain as theirs was two hundred years ago."

In his remarks Prof. Deveau said that the remarks of the course and devotion of Joseph Dupas and his wife, Mary-Joseph Robichaud, "we would not be here and this story would not be written."

CHANGE IN TEACHER ENTRANCE

Education minister Gerald J. Dooley recently announced changes in entrance requirements to the Nova Scotia Teachers College.

"While candidates for admission are required to hold a Nova Scotia provincial pass certificate of Grade XI in the sciences, the new program, they no longer need to write provincial examinations in Grade XI to secure admission to the Teachers College."

A Nova Scotia high school certificate or a Nova Scotia provincial certificate or its equivalent for Grade XI that meets the above standards is acceptable.

Mr. Dooley said that entrance requirements have been broadened in some other details.

Full particulars of the revision in entrance requirements may be obtained by writing to the principal of the Nova Scotia Teachers College, Truro.

DIGBY LOSES PROMINENT CITIZEN

After having received his early education in Hartford he attended College St. Anne at Church Point, where he studied commerce and later law. He then went to Dalhousie University, graduating with a degree in law in 1927 and was admitted to the Nova Scotia Bar the same year.

His first law practice was with the Digby firm of Landry, Pothier, Judge and Theriault, but he soon opened a private practice, which he continued except as a law partner of John R. Nichols between 1962 and 1964. In August of this year he formed a partnership with R. MacLeod Rogers.

He was organist of St. Patrick's Church for 30 years. He also served as secretary of the Digby Board of Trade, was a charter member of the Digby Kiwanis Club, and the Knights of Columbus.

Mr. Theriault was appointed to the Senate in April, and before leaving for Ottawa in 1964 was honored at a luncheon dinner and functions which testified to the esteem in which he was held.

At the large funeral were members of government, barristers and organizations both political and civic who attended in bodies or were representatives of the bodies. They included Louis R. Comeau, MP, St. John's, Nfld.; John Stewart, Ottawa; Leader of the Nova Scotia Opposition, Gerald Regan; Roy Lawrence, Clerk of the House; Peter Nicholson, N.S.A.; Hon. J. B. A. D. Powell, West; Hon. J. B. A. D. Powell, West; Hon. J. B. A. D. Powell, West.

Readers were Misses Delphine Hally, Gloria Hally, Donut King and Heather Halliday. Candelights were Misses Susan Turnbull, Fay Gurnee, Sharon O'Neill, Pamela O'Neill and Phyllis Essex. Miss Nancy Lee Rice was soloist and the C.G.I.T. choir sang a special number. The senior choir assisted in singing the hymns.

Special parts were taken by Grace Stenhouse as Joseph, Public Brenner, Mary; Barrie Snow, Donald Black and Mark Milbrury.

George King, Eric Milbrury and Mark Milbrury, who were soloists were Susan Turnbull, Sharon O'Neill, Debbie Brenner and Phyllis Essex received the offering. Rev. Mr. Hughes thanked the C.G.I.T. and pronounced the benediction.

UNITED BAPTIST Carolyn Brown. The choir sang three appropriate numbers, "Beneath the Lullaby", "Through the Olive Tree", and "And We Have Heard On High". Two young people, Donna and Barbara Macleath, also and Barbara Macleath, were welcomed into church membership during the service.

The message by the pastor was titled, "Kind Hearts and Christmas", and was based on the text, "Let all bitterness and wrath and anger and clamor and slander be put away from you, with all malice, and be kind to one another, tender hearted, forgiving one another as God in Christ forgave you." Rev. Donald Roberson stressed the fact that unless Christmas served in some way to change a person's heart through the indwelling of Christ's love, its purpose was lost.

Christmas In The Churches

GRACE UNITED

"The Christmas Star had a message of light for everyone yet not everyone saw it because they were not looking for it. They were too busy with other things," said Rev. R. Hughes at the special Christmas service at Grace United Church on Sunday morning.

He spoke on the three things which make Christmas the order of star, angel, child. The shepherds saw the wonder and followed the star to the wonderful gift of man's joy, hope and love.

Dick Milbrury and Miss Heather Halliday led in scripture and prayer. The choir under the direction of Norman Wright and Mrs. Elton Arnold, sang the Christmas Anthems "A Star In The Sky" by Bruce Carleton and "Come Little Shepherd" by Joseph J. D. G. Black and Mrs. J. M. Wallis who rendered "The Little Old Manager".

The church was tastefully decorated by the C.G.I.T. and flowers were placed in the church in memory of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Turpin.

Christmas Sunday was a memorable one at Digby Baptist church. A great deal of advance preparation went into preparing the service and lighting, and Mrs. Elva Levy did an excellent job on decorating the sanctuary. The decorated platform built by Murray Kaul was installed, trimmed with bows of fir and pine, and covered with red velvet to match the platform rug. On the platform were four beautiful poinsettia plants plus other flowers. Some of these were memorials dedicated in loving memory to Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hersey, Mrs. Geraldine Baxter, and Mr. and Mrs. Ross Franks. At the centre of the platform four candles in a "Noel" setting burned brightly.

The special Christmas message was provided by the Junior Choir under the direction of Queens Counsel and in 1955 received an honorary degree of doctor of civil law from College St. Anne. He was a member of the college's board of governors at the time of his death.

During his career in Digby he served as a stipendiary magistrate, registrar of probate, solicitor and town prosecutor for the municipalities of Digby and Clare.

He served on the Digby town council for several years and as mayor from 1959 to 1963.

He was organist of St. Patrick's Church for 30 years. He also served as secretary of the Digby Board of Trade, was a charter member of the Digby Kiwanis Club, and the Knights of Columbus.

Boat Lands 600,000 Lbs. Salt Cod

The "Sonia D.", a freighter from Quebec City, arrived at Westport on December 23rd loaded with 600,000 pounds of salt cod. The load came from West St. Madras, Labrador, for R. E. Robichaud of Westport.

The fish is to be processed, dried and bled at Westport and shipped to the West Island market. The boat was discharged on Saturday for Port Hawkesbury.

Mr. Robichaud told the Courier that this amount of fish will be sufficient to keep ten men steadily employed for six months.

STUDENTS GO ON STRIKE, AGREE TO TRIBUNAL METHOD

Students at College St. Anne have accepted a provincial government proposal that an independent tribunal decide on the long-term future of the predominantly French speaking college, and have voted their strike.

A spokesman for the 174 college students, who went on strike Dec. 8, said "we described the students who were not on strike Dec. 8 as 'president' of the striking students said although students wanted the tribunal to come in its decision as soon as possible, they felt "it should not work under any pressure."

Mr. O'Brien said the government action last week had been mainly urged by the views of the students who had consulted with Education Minister Gerald Doucet during the strike.

Mr. Doucet announced Wednesday the government will ask the University Grants Commission to recommend ways and means, by special assistance if necessary, to allow the college to function properly by a final decision is made by the tribunal.

The grants commission recommended last May that the college move to Yarmouth and become a bilingual institution, offering the first two years of university education.

The recommendation brought strong protest from residents of the Acadian Municipality of Clare which includes Church Point, the college administration, faculty and student body.

Mr. O'Brien said the student strike has ended.

He said the students also wanted to thank Education Minister Doucet "for the sacrifice he put out" and all university students who sympathized with the College St. Anne students' strike.

He added he hoped they would accept, as we do the tribunal that will decide on the future of the college.

The tribunal will be appointed "in consultation" with Acadian president, Rev. Raymond LeBlanc, faculty and alumni representatives, and will have their decisions on educational reforms.

He said the students will be permitted to "sit and participate" in all discussions leading up to the appointment of the tribunal which the minister of education said may include more than three men in its composition.

Those who sit on the tribunal, he said, would be educators "recognized for their professional and objective qualities" and will have their decisions on educational reforms.

CHRISTMAS IN CHURCHES

had not been achieved. If Christ be truly born again in human hearts, kindness, tenderness, compassion and forgiveness must be an inevitable result, he said.

In the evening at 7:30 the church presented the pageant
"A Christmas Story". It was prepared by Carolyn Brown, who also directed the Junior Choir that provided the background music. It was based on the pageants that were performed in medieval England in the churches by the craft guilds. The productions, based on biblical scenes and stories, were assigned to the guilds according to their work. Thus, the shipbuilders might act out the building of the ark.

The pageant portrayed the Christmas story from the time when Jesus was presented to the Lord at the Temple. The pageant, Jack Brittain, related the story as the pageant players appeared on the stage and the choir sang many well-known carols and other Christmas music including
"For Unto Us a Child is Born" from Handel's Messiah.

The cast of players included:
Mrs. Donna Levy, Gabriel, Barbara Kambach, Elizabeth,
Robert Frankland, Zacharias, Roger Spiller; Joseph, Richard Levy; Simon, Bernard Bell;
the three Kings Jack Whalley, Fred Goodwin, Dwight Frankland, Rachel, Amelia Whalley; Shepherds: Michael Hove, Robert MacFarlane, Michael MacFarlane, Rodney Spiller; Angel: Richard Warner, Douglas Warner, James Warner.

The choir members were:
Kathy Abbott, Nancy Apple-
john, Dayle Baxter, Rachael Brown, Rebecca Brown, Sandra Dakin, Judy Haynes, Susanne Haynes.

And that's why I decided our carols and Christmas ditties had to be brought up to date, with words that relate to the 1960s. Thus, I will remember the words better, and won't have to fill in with stuff like
"Ho Ho Ho" or "Bah Hum-Bum".

These songs are both sacred and secular. For enter into the spirit, and you'll see how actually the up-dating is. Now,
I haven't the time, energy or talent to write complete versions. I'll just give you my first verse. Then you'll see your own, and the whole fun of it will be in the doing.

All together now. The first is the time of Joseph Bell.
From there on I won't give you a clue. And don't mind the odd extra words. That's half the fun.

Let's sing, my friends, and let's sing with a joyful heart.
Oh, what fun it is to sing
on an old December day.

God rest ye merry, gentlemen,
Let nothing you dismay.
You'll have your Christmas hills all white.
By the 24th of May.

Good old St. Nicholas looked out
At the Christmas trees all
And the first line of all Deep and deep and even a Little ashamed of themselves.

Heck, the Herald's all the thing.
Don't be scared to ask for it.
Cuckoo just will please the ton.

Oh come, all ye faithful,
Hopeful and glad,
Christmas has come to us,
And we'll sing to the Lord.

Deck the halls with holly
Get all you're tempted to
Then all warm and soft of love
And end up in a cold, domestic war.

See what can be done? We
Three Kings of Orient are...
What rhymes with "Hark"?
That's right, "Hark" not
"Hark" Go to it.

Oh come, all ye faithful,
Hopeful and glad,
Christmas has come to us,
And we'll sing to the Lord.

Deck the halls with holly
Get all you're tempted to
Then all warm and soft of love
And end up in a cold, domestic
war.

See what can be done? We
Three Kings of Orient are...
What rhymes with "Hark"?
That's right, "Hark" not
"Hark" Go to it.

Oh come, all ye faithful,

M.S.I. REGISTRATION RESULTS

97.5% of the population of Nova Scotia have been registered for Medical Services Insurance (MSI).

Registration for Medical Services Insurance has been termed "highly successful" by chief registration officer, Ian McDermid.

Results of the November 1 to 16 door-to-door canvass of Nova Scotia residents for MSI show that 737,500 persons have completed registration.

"This enrollment figure would have been even higher except for the fact that single members of the armed forces and other persons not qualified were not registered and, in addition, a number of residents were out of the province during the registration period," said Mr. McDermid.

He attributed the success of the registration program to the cooperation of residents and the "excellent job" done by the 43 returning officers and 2100 registrars who canvassed the province.

The next phase of the preparatory program will mean an intensive period of activity for Maritime Medical Care Inc., which has the responsibility for MSI administrative functions.

Now that all the registration forms have arrived at the Corporation's Halifax office, the mammoth job of sorting, checking, and processing will begin. The heavy volume of data will then be fed into a computer.

A very busy period is foreseen for the Maritime Medical Care staff during the next few months.

Distribution of MSI Registration Identification Cards showing the name of the holder and their dependents will be started during the latter part of February, 1969, and will be completed by April 1.

Keeping basic information up to date is expected to be a major task. The public will be asked to advise Maritime Medical Care of any changes such as new address, marriage, births and deaths. Those persons under 18 who are on full-time employment as well as all persons attaining their 18th birthday will be required to re-register.

It was stated that the high percentage of returns from the registration program will ease many of the administrative problems which would have occurred had the returns not been so complete.

Individuals who were missed during the initial registration period may be registered by simply contacting the nearest Maritime Medical Care office or by writing MSI, c/o P. O. Box 500, Halifax, N.S.

Improvements in the service provided by the MV Bluenose Harbor, Dalnis, are recommended by the Nova Scotia Voluntary Planning Board.

Daily service is asked for during peak fish export periods, with lobster shipments in November-December particularly in mind; and it also requested that one of the sailings be on Sunday throughout the year.

The recommendation came to the Board from its Fisheries Sector.

The Sector, in advocating the Sunday sailing from Yarmouth, said it is very important that products reach the New England market in good condition for sale on Monday morning. At present, to meet this requirement, products must be shipped by truck through New Brunswick.

The Bluenose operates daily in both directions between Yarmouth and Bar Harbor from June 15 to September 15, but at other times provides service from each terminus three times a week with sailings from Yarmouth on Monday, Wednesday and Friday.

Another Fisheries Sector recommendation approved by the Board asks that a program be initiated for certification of fishing vessel deckhands, under a system which includes verbal and practical tests conducted aboard ship while in port.

The Sector said it is hoped that such certification would increase the remuneration of the more skilled, and encourage greater productivity.

A further approved recommendation asks that the Federal Department of Public Works study the need for better harbor facilities, particularly in the Miqtegan-Saint-Nicolas area of Western Nova Scotia, with particular emphasis on protection for existing fields.

Yuletide

Bright was that star of the long ago,
That shone o'er the Judean hills;
That beckoned wise men from afar,
And all men of good will!

O Yuletide, blessed Yuletide,
How yonder star doth shine;
O'er all the world this blessed night,
To cheer your heart and mine.

Can such a beam, so pure and holy
In transient flight to earth, not see
The need of men and nations,
In their extremity?

Eternity still marches on,
The handwriting is on the wall;
With the ineffable shape of things to come,
God stands over all!

In that lowly manger at Bethlehem,
Where the hope of the world was born;
God's richest blessing to us He gave
On that first Christmas morn.

Did He not give that star to guide,
For all mankind to see?
That all might know His saving grace,
Through the Christ of Calvary?

New Industry For Amherst

The world's biggest clock-maker will build a new manufacturing plant in Amherst, Nova Scotia, to produce Big Ben alarm clocks and a host of other time pieces whose names are household words in North America.

General Time of Canada Limited expects to begin construction of its new 15,000 square foot plant in this northern Nova Scotia manufacturing town in April. It's planned within a period of three to four years to work up gradually to a production level that will employ several hundred persons.

Announcement of the new Amherst plant was made jointly by R. L. Shaw, president of the Canadian firm, and Frank H. Sobey, president of Industrial Estates Limited, the Nova Scotia crown development corporation which will participate in the financing.

Mr. Sobey, president of Industrial Estates Limited, said General Time of Canada is the 600 company to establish or expand manufacturing facilities in Nova Scotia under the IEL program since its inception in 1957.

The new plant will be erected on a 14-acre site in Amherst Industrial Park. It's the fifth new industry in the town and the third to locate in the industrial park in the past two years.

GABRIELLE'S Flower Shop in Digby has a most stunning array of potted plants and flower arrangements for Christmas. You will also be amazed at the variety of exciting gifts from the Seven Seas and from the four corners of the earth. The shopping is easy at Gabrielle's where the selection is great, prices are right, and the sales staff friendly.

WCHS HI-LITES

Students in Weymouth Consolidated High School had a busy week — exam week. Starting on Monday, students from Grades VII - IX reported to the gym to start writing. At the same time, pupils from Grades X - XII went to the audio-visual room to put down on paper the knowledge they have attained so far this year.

After completion of the exams, the teachers' work book — marking, scoring, averaging and recording the grades, which will keep them busy for many hours.

Report cards will be released after the holidays, informing parents and students of the successes and failures derived from the exams.

Adult Classes Closed

The Weymouth Adult Education Classes were stopped in Weymouth, as well as Westport. Classes were just getting underway when word was received here that the subsidy could not be given in this area.

However, the Home Nursing Class is still being continued at the home of Mrs. A. C. Hankinson, who is instructress. This is being sponsored through the Red Cross Society.

Mrs. Francini is also continuing with her lessons in Conversational French.

Christmas Hymns Go Back To 5th Century

Christmas caroling is almost as old as Christmas itself — though not in the form we know it.

An early historian wrote that in the Second Century the bishop of Rome urged his people to sing in celebration of our Lord's birth.

No one knows who wrote "The First Noel". It first appeared in print in 1803 in a book called "Christmas Carols Ancient and Modern" and is believed to be very old.

The author of "God Rest Ye Merry, Gentlemen" also is unknown but he lived before Shakespeare.

So if you should go caroling this Christmas season think of other carolers of years gone by, of the people of Charles Dickens' time in their heavy hats and calico coats, of English villagers in hose and jerkin, of good St. Francis, and of the priests of the time of the Christian Roman Empire who, before caroling as we know it existed, sang "In celebration of our Lord".

After this many churches began displaying a Nativity scene at Christmas and soon the people began acting out the Christmas story. The actors composed carols to sing with their Nativity plays and after no plays they would stroll down the street caroling was born.

Joseph Mohr, a pastor in Oberndorf, Austria, composed "Silent Night" in 1818. Franz Gruber, the local schoolmaster and organist composed the music the same day, and the hymn was sung for the first time at Midnight Mass that night.

Charles Wesley, brother of John Wesley, wrote "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing" in 1739. Philip Brooks, a noted Boston clergyman, wrote "The Little Town of Bethlehem" in 1908 after visiting Bethlehem.

"Though not a carol, Handel's noble 'Messiah' is a Christmas tradition. It first was performed in Dublin in 1742. 'Joy to the World' written in the early 18th Century.

So if you should go caroling this Christmas season think of other carolers of years gone by, of the people of Charles Dickens' time in their heavy hats and calico coats, of English villagers in hose and jerkin, of good St. Francis, and of the priests of the time of the Christian Roman Empire who, before caroling as we know it existed, sang "In celebration of our Lord".

After this many churches began displaying a Nativity scene at Christmas and soon the people began acting out the Christmas story. The actors composed carols to sing with their Nativity plays and after no plays they would stroll down the street caroling was born.

Joseph Mohr, a pastor in Oberndorf, Austria, composed "Silent Night" in 1818. Franz Gruber, the local schoolmaster and organist composed the music the same day, and the hymn was sung for the first time at Midnight Mass that night.

Charles Wesley, brother of John Wesley, wrote "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing" in 1739. Philip Brooks, a noted Boston clergyman, wrote "The Little Town of Bethlehem" in 1908 after visiting Bethlehem.

"Though not a carol, Handel's noble 'Messiah' is a Christmas tradition. It first was performed in Dublin in 1742. 'Joy to the World' written in the early 18th Century.

A club you can join

Well, is that old Christmas spirit just bubbling inside you? Do you chuckle away with awe, blinning love of your fellow man as you do your shopping? Are your eyes gleaming with awe as you look at your Christmas card list?

What? It isn't? You don't? They're not? What's the matter with you, anyway?

Have you organized your door-to-door carol singing group yet?

Have you made plans for a family of eight, on welfare, to share your Christmas dinner?

You haven't? You say you grant and hunt and sweat and curse as you stagger through the store? Your eyes are shining with pure hatred as you look over your Christmas card list?

Welcome to the group. We're growing with increasing rapidity. One of these years, we'll have a majority, and will rise up with one mighty shout: "Christmas! Bah! Humbug!"

And if the current Tiny Tim, that creature one sees these days on television, shakes back his long, curly locks, opens his make-up mouth and starts warbling, "God bless us, every one," he'll probably get in right between the eyes with one of these castles Christmas tree stands that never work.

We mustn't carp. The great day will arrive when Christmas is torn out of the grasp of the hucksters and returned to the people.

After all, Christmas is a time of good cheer. Even though much of it comes out of a crack. And after all, 'tis a season to be jolly. And most of us are jolly well sick of the whole business by the time the sacred day itself arrives.

One of the founding members of ACMA, the Anti-Christmas-Spirit-Association, was King Wenceslaus. The "good" was taken on by the court minister on the explicit orders of Wenceslaus himself, who was trying to bring his imbecile son back to his senses.

He looked out one night and shuddered within his ermine robes. The snow lay round about, deep and crisp and even. A great night for Kiers and snowmobile friends. But Wenceslaus was neither, and he had the gout. He saw a poor man gathering fuel, though the frost was cruel. And what he actually said was, "Get that lousy hunk off my property. He's stealing Christmas trees." And so a legend was born.

Another prominent member of ACMA was Charles Dickens. Dickens really hated Christmas, because he always had a wretched struggle getting the wife invariably said sweetly, "It's crooked dear. It's leaning over."

So he wrote a sardonic parody of the whole starry-eyed Christmas myth. He cast himself as Scrooge, a jolly old gent, but one who didn't believe in Santa Claus. Bob Cratchit, Scrooge's semiliterate clerk, was stealing from the petty cash so that he could get bombed on Christmas Eve and go and watch his son, Tiny Tim, lie one with the phony limp, play his ukulele and sing for pennies at the Gap and Tickle, a sordid London pub.

In the original version, King Tim, the one with the phony limp, played his ukulele and sang for pennies at the Gap and Tickle, a sordid London pub.
