Recommend Church Point Site Of Community Cultural Centre

A Community Cultural Centre at a cost of $450,000 has been proposed to be built on the site of College Saint Anne, Church Point, according to a report presented to Education Minister, Peter Nicholson, by Dr. A. Thompson, chairman of a three-man planning commission whose duty was to look into the future prospects for St. Anne's as a religious college complex is expected to be opened in 1974.

In a similar approach to a study of the problem of the existing buildings be used such as the residence, science building and school but that the main educational building be replaced. There are approximately 25 acres of land which can be utilized and a further proposal is to have a wildlife park and camp site to attract tourists.

The Clare community cultural centre's unique purpose is to provide an educational program that will include training for the youth, continuing and adult education, leadership, recreation and leisure time activities for the entire community of western Nova Scotia. The future community college will offer only the first two years of any college degree and two-year terminal program. Continuation of studies for a degree would generally be at Moncton, N.B., or Acadia University. The existing degree program of St. Anne's in 1971 so no students will be enrolled in the degree program in 1971 fall opening.

St. Anne's college in the new religious complex is the site of higher learning in Nova Scotia. The college will provide a program of total immersion in French, with the geographic setting of the college seeming ideal to meet the objectives of such a program.

R. Louis Connors, M.P., a town, recently stated that he had been asked to submit a report on a future position of federal government with St. Anne's and the Cultural Centre.

Work on the approach would begin in a few days, and work on the bridge structure would begin as soon as the contractor's equipment is assembled.

Mr. Brown said the contractor's bridge will be the largest of its type in North America.

MILLION CHILDREN HAVE EMOTIONAL AND LEARNING DISORDERS — CROOK

Twelve per cent of the population of Canada up to 19 years of age suffer from emotional and learning disorders, said Andrew Crook, in addressing the annual meeting of the Digby County Mental Health Association on the 700 page volume and 144 recommendations of the CELCUD report. Mr. Crook is executive director of the Atlantic Mental Health Association.

Mr. Crook said the report found that the divisions between children and adults are becoming less distinct, the lack of coordination between different departments and different levels of government all combine to render present efforts to meet the needs of these very million children both confusing and ineffective.

As a result, many thousands of children get no help at all. He recalled a case of a child who took their own lives. He said that the child was not helped before they even had a chance to get help.

Further, he remarked, the report declares the way our present services lack and divide children as students, patients, and offenders, thereby overlooking important strengths and emphasizing apparent weaknesses.

Only parents are concerned with the child as a total human being.

One Million Children's problem when more than many systems in the school in eight children under twenty years have emotional and learning disorders. Mr. Crook said that the report suggests reorganization of the helping resources to the school and to the community should be made. Learning disorders so that it is carried on in the regular classroom rather than in separate segregated classes and schools.

It was found that Canada has neither the manpower nor the finances to handle the problem when more than many systems in the school in eight children under twenty years have emotional and learning disorders.

It asked for significant changes in teacher training. (Please turn to page 6)

Part of the wharf went into the Basin last summer and has to be replaced. The 35 foot construction will be replaced but for the most part the fishermen's wharf will remain as before.

Bridge Contract Signed

The provincial highways department signed a contract for construction of a new bridge over Bear River, Digby County.

Highways Minister Brown told the legislature that Beaver Marine Ltd. had received the contract, after public tenders were called.

Work on the approach would begin in a few days, and work on the bridge structure would begin as soon as the contractor's equipment is assembled.

Mr. Brown said the contractor's bridge will be the largest of its type in North America.

Casey Speaks Out On Tidal Water Issue

Dr. Joe Casey, Digby's M.D., wants more public access to tidal water in Nova Scotia.

He said that large tracts of land are being sold off to private interests, and that the public is being denied access to the water. He said that the public should have access to the water for recreation and other purposes.

Doucet Addresses Education Classes

John Doucet, Church Point, Regional Representative of Continuing Education for Digby, Yarmouth, Shelburne and Queens, was guest speaker when the Digby Continuing Education Classes held their closing at the DRHS Multi-Purpose room on Monday.

Pressing at the closing was Mrs. Evelyn Egan, administrator. The classes were under the direction of Mrs. Louise Ryan, secretary; Mr. Egan, typing; Gordon, Turnbull, bookkeeping; and Victor, Crouse, oxyacetylene welding. Graduating in home sewing was Sister Doris Babin; typing, Sister Valerie Owens; Vivian O'Hall, Pervet, Naia Connors, and Judith Leman; bookkeeping, Daniel Connors, Jean Jefferson, and Jerry Stark; welding, David Allen, Fred Gibbs, William Potter, Rodney Pryce and Richard Ramsay, welding. Because of the lack of interest, the classes were not short-handled classes in the 1970-71 term. Ten are required for a class.

Mr. Doucet was introduced by C. C. MacInnes and thanked by Gordon Turnbull. In his address Mr. Doucet said the purpose of Continuing Education is to help people live better. The meeting with others, too, he said, is an important aspect of the program. The meeting with others is an important aspect of the program. About This and That

$25,000 Worth Of Publicity For Digby

What would a half hour time on T.V. over entire Canada cost, we queried someone who should know. The reply was "about $25,000". Other than the program didn't do one earthly bit to enhance the beauty of the Courier's editor before thousands and thousands of viewers, the "Take 30" program on Thursday and Friday was excellent, simply excellent for Digby town and Nova Scotia in general. Some of us are not too photographic so we can't hold that against CBC. What's a little personal beauty compared to some good publicity for the town anyway?

We've had phone calls from the immediate area, from outside the County and we've had letters on Friday's program sent East of Montreal and every comment ran from good to excellent. One or two local people said they would like to have seen a few more pictures of Digby. It is no easy chore to squeeze a three hour interview into a half hour and if it were noted, all the pictures corresponded with the various topics in the interview. Besides, the commentary between Paul Soles and his partner at the end of the program did a real sales job for this friendly town of Digby. We must remember that these few minutes were not used by Editor Edith Wallis, Mayor Glen Smith, Board of Trade president Russell Stonhouse, Warden Ronald Morehouse, or any other person from the Digby area who might be expected to put on a sales program. These were two strangers telling thousands of viewers what they found in Digby and saying in fact "go there and see for yourselves."

The Digby Courier was proud to have a stake in Friday's program. We want to thank our three correspondents for their contribution to the program although we know they spent a much longer time sitting in the August afternoon sun than appeared by the program. Thanks to the staff and news boys and girls. We thank CBC-TV Paul Soles, Hamish Livingston and others of the crew for their kindness and consideration.

Captain Morse Haynes did a tremendous job in explaining in such an interesting manner about the scallop fishing industry. That in itself would attract many people to Digby.

Ten preachers on brotherhood couldn't do the amount of good that Mrs. Eleanor Elms did when she stated that as the first Negro member of the Digby Municipal School Board she was not concerned only with the advancement of the black people but she was interested in promoting that which is of benefit to all the children, black or white. With the talk of discrimination in various parts of our country of recent years we think that comment coming from Mrs. Elms is most significant and an indication that brotherhood of the highest order can exist. Thousands of people throughout Canada heard Eleanor's words. After all, that program, we understand, was viewed in Toronto and West of Toronto on Thursday and East of Montreal on Friday.

The CBC-TV program centred around The Digby Courier and the town in which The Digby Courier operated made us very proud because of the service The Digby Courier could be to the town in this yet another avenue. We were happy, too, to see fleshed out the screen before thousands, maybe a million, viewers the particular issue of the Digby Courier which the program designers chose to use. It, too, might have had its own impression on some false impressions which have gone long miles throughout many of our Canadian provinces. We liked the CBC-TV program on the Digby Courier and we shall make it a point to let Paul Soles know about it. We hope others will, too.

Twenty-five thousand (?) dollars worth of publicity for Digby shouldn't go unnoticed.

Worst Town Seen

Digby is the worst town ever seen for cleanliness in driving habits. This is what we've been given to understand by somebody who should be in the know. It is deplorable the poor example which is set by older persons for the youthful drivers to pick up. These are some of the opinions expressed to us and we pass them on.

One misdemeanour which has on several occasions been brought to our attention is parking illegally at the stop sign on the Church St. - Water St. corner while the occupant dashes in the Post Office for the mail. Drivers around Digby take this for granted so much now that they automatically swing around a car stopped at the sign, expecting it is a car parked as an occupant can pick up the mail. One driver in particular had this brought home to him in no uncertain terms recently. While we are at it, we might mention there is also a fire hydrant nearby.

Another misdemeanour cited by our informant was regarding cars passing another car on our railway tracks in town. Drivers should be looking both ways for train traffic, we were told, not passing another car. Of course, the double parking in Digby (not found in other towns?) comes in for a lot of justly adverse criticism.

Sometimes a gentle reminder by our police force is all that is needed. We are such creatures of habit and we are so busy thinking about our own affairs we forget we are driving cars. To be frank, we recall a couple of years ago being told by the police that we had failed to slow down at a cross walk and some children were about to cross. It was news to us but we welcomed the fact that our misdemeanour was brought to our attention. We haven't committed the same offence since. We hope all drivers accept their criticism in the same manner and realize that the law must be imposed when traffic misdemeanours occur.

Besides setting an example for our youthful drivers and those being tested for the Educational Driving Courses, we should be remembering the safety of all our people and the lives of our visitors who will soon be coming to Digby in great numbers.

Can we be the "best town" instead of the "worst town" in our driving habits?

What A Crying Shame

Twelve per cent of the population up to nineteen years of age, about 1,000,000 children and youth, in Canada have emotional or learning disorders. This is a discovery revealed in the Celdic Report. Although the Celdic Report was announced in June of 1970, only the professionals and educators around this vicinity seemed to have knowledge of it. The laymen are just now being advised on the report. This newspaper has carried articles on the report just recently and Andrew Crook spoke on it at the Digby Mental Health Association meeting last week. Celdic simply means Commission on Emotional and Learning Disorders in Children and came about because educationalists, psychiatrists, psychologists and social workers became alarmed that services for these children in urban areas were fragmented and in rural areas were almost non-existent. To say non-existent would be probably an understatement for we are aware of schools and other agencies in all areas making some attempt of recent years to give persons with learning problems an opportunity. In fact, the very bright and the not-so-bright have both been receiving some special attention.

There was a time when slow learners or children with learning problems came to school for a few years, sat with the other children in their grade and floundered along. Nothing more was done than to say "He is just not bright," he will get no further than grade six-and-a-half. Grade IV was really the stop-and-go for often children didn't get beyond the first grade. Often they were, because the teacher wanted to be kind, pushed ahead into the next grade with the other children. After all, teachers had an average of 40 pupils. No special attention could be given to a "He is just not bright."

We have in mind a particular lad who started school like other children. He was considered "just-not-bright" and left to flounder in the race of others. He didn't get beyond the primary pinning stage in all the years he spent in school. After all, he had to learn to write, to spell words and use a dictionary. It was plain to be seen that there was potential there not recognized by either parent or teacher. All the lad needed was special attention for his special case and "what a crying shame" he never did get it.

Today the trend has been to segregate the children with learning problems into special classes. After all, we had gotten so far as to recognize these children needed special attention but only ordinary teacher could not teach the class and give special attention too. Segregation was the best under the circumstances. This, however, was not as good as it ought to have been. These children, then, were in a different category from others.

The Celdic Report advocates treating handicapped children in normal surroundings and carrying out their education in regular classrooms and not in separate schools, as far as we can gather from the report. This for the child with learning disorders is an ideal situation. It is good for the handicapped child to be part of the whole. Of course, one teacher would not be able to cope with the situation unless to the neglect of either the child with learning disabilities or the regular students. A specialist in the field would be a necessity still. We can see the child with learning problems in regular classes for subjects of which he is capable but separate classroom or special attention by another teacher in the regular classroom for other subjects. These details would need working out.

What we want to do here is to bring to the attention of our readers that there are one million children in Canada with emotional and learning problems. What a crying shame if their most potential isn't utilized. Further, we want to bring to the attention of our readers the fact that the children in Digby County with emotional and learning problems help make up that one million. What a crying shame if these are not given the best opportunity possible to be as normal as possible and be as much as possible a part of this whole community.

Hodge Podge

— Courtesy car! Now, that's a misnomer, that ever was one. Nothing courteous about it! Give us a hefty horse any day! At least you can get a horse credit in having sense enough to know and understand his rider in the first place we would have been driving the muddy Buick if it hadn't been that to get out of the left front door to have to slide under a wheel, over parcels, newspapers and passengers, big or small, to the right hand front door. There was the less dignified, "unofficially" alternative of climbing out the window or into the back seat to make an exit. Using a not-so-courteous courtesy car should be better than that, so we did. But right here one might be excused in using expressions of our prime minister's renowned expressions. After some ten minutes we found how to get in the left front door of that dang courtesy car. Next we were faced with a stick near the front dash bearing numbers 1, 2, 3 & 4 which surely meant something. With a little manoeuvring it was soon found that stick was important to getting going. But, dam it, that hood wouldn't stay put. Getting out and slamming down the hood every once in a while wasn't doing much for blood pressure and dispositions either. After a six mile ride to Smith's Cove and a bit of general information from a kind, gentle member of the family it was learned that lever left under the dash of the Buick released the brake but on this not-so-courteous courtesy car it released the hood. Supper over, the courtesy car had to come back to town and by 7:30 o'clock too. After wasting five minutes looking, we swallowed our pride and enquired where under-the-dash we might find the lights. Under-the-dash would have been a more appropriate expression. Away we go, full-beam ahead, until we were a few hundred yards from R.C. Corner to towns down when suddenly plunk, just right at the double line, that so-called courtesy car knocked out the hood. Freeport Downs Digby In Badminton

On Tuesday evening, March 30th, fifteen members of the Freeport Badminton Club visited the Digby players who fielded ten players to host the visitors.

A total of twenty-eight team matches were played under very poor lighting conditions at the DRHS auditorium, home ground for the Digby Badminton Club.

Freeport won 19 and the host Digby club won only nine. On a points basis, the visitors totaled up 341 points to 263 for Digby.

Playing began at about 7:00 p.m. and concluded at about 9:30. At the end of play room was made at the school to entertain the guests with coffee and sandwiches, the latter being prepared by members and wives and served under the guiding hand of Mrs. John Nichols.

During the lunch, the hosts were thanked for their hospitality by Parker Thibault, who is president of the Digby Club.

Freeport for a return match. Mr. Thibault stated that the Freeport Club had come to Digby to win if they could and have a good time.

MARRIAGES

Finigan — Runnes
A pretty wedding took place in Holy Rosary Cathedral, Vancouver, B. C. on Saturday, February 27th at six o'clock, when Linda, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Barrow, Manito, B.C., was united in marriage to Lawrence Eugene Finigan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Finigan of Hampden, New Brunswick.

Padre Luthack officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride's maid of honor was Miss Bell Tan, bridesmaid was Miss Maria Par Dixon and the groom was supported by Albert Lent and Kenneth Seto. The flower girl was little Betty Seto and the ring bearer, Andrew Marceno. The ushers were John Martin and John Ammerman.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for 60 people at the "Edinboro Hotel".

After a short honeymoon, the happy couple will reside in Vancouver, where the bride is with the Standard Oil Company, and the groom is on the staff of Canadian Pacific Airlines.

Dixon — Kempton

Cohabitation of All Saints, Halifax, was the lovely setting for the marriage of Patricia Rose Kempton, Halifax, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Victor Kempton, Smith's Cove, to Richard Frank Dixon, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Dixon, Clinton, Ontario, on Saturday, February 27, at 5 p.m. Don Graham officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was radiant in her full-length, flower-embroidered gown with a high collar and sheer sleeves. A long train was attached to her headpiece. Her bridegroom was in a tuxedo of red and white.

Mrs. Edward Corvino, matron-of-honor, was attired in a full-length pink taffeta gown styled with empire waist and long, opaque sleeves. She wore a headpiece of pink netting, and carried a nosegay bouquet of pink carnations.

Edward Corvino was best man.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Clarendon Inn, Halifax, where the toast to the bride was given by Mr. Corvino and responded to by the groom. A three-tier wedding cake centered the bridal table.

Out-of-town guests were her sister, Miss Sandra Kempton, Mount Saint Vincent, Fribourg and James Kempton, Smith's Cove, brothers of the bride; Jeffrey J. Dixon, Clinton, Ontario, brother of the groom; James Hayden, Seabrook.

IN MEMORIAM

RAXTER — In loving memory of my dear wife, Alberta Gertrude Raxter, who passed away April 28, 1964. She was a wife so very dear. Content in her home and always there. From hospital bed to a heavenly rest. God took her home to be His guest.

I lived in hope, I prayed in vain

That the world soon be home again. But God decided he must part.

He eased her pain and broke my heart;

Always smiling, always content. Loved and respected where-ever she went.

Always so good, unselfish and kind.

What a beautiful memory

— Always remembered by husband Charles Raxter.

NICKERSON — In loving memory of our dear Mother and grandmother, Mrs. Nellie

Nickerson, who passed away

March 30, 1970.

"Through a and lonely

year has passed.

Since our great sorrow felt.

The shock that we received that day.

No one can ever tell.

God gave us strength to meet it now.

And courage to bear the blow.

But what it meant to lose you.

No one will ever know.

It's lonely here without you.

We miss you more each day.

For life is not the same to us.

Since you were called away.

You had no one to take care of.

As time unfolds another year.

We are still here.

And only God knows why.

— Sadly missed, and lovingly remembered by son Harold, granddaughter Carol, and grandsons Edmer and Ronald.

HERSEY — In fond and loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Arthur Hersey, who passed away March 28th,

1965.

Treasured memories keep you near. Dear Dad,

As time unfolds another year.

No need for words, except to say,

So I remembered and missed in every way.

— Lovingly remembered and very missed by daughters, and sons and grandchildren.

33:1c

POTTER — In loving memory of my dad, Mr. Solon

Potter, remembered by his son who passed away March 24, 1967.

Through the years side by

Fond memories linger on.

Love for him will always last.

For the dear one gone.

In silent prayer I give my thanks.

For this wonderful one I had lost to me always high in heaven.

May he rest in peace — My

— Lovingly remembered by

been appointed to draft a suggested format for the Council organization and to prepare an outline of suggested goals and aims.

In order that this next meeting might have an indication of the intentions of the organization in Digby regarding their participation in the proposed Community Services Council, I would ask that you write me as soon as possible following your next meeting to let me know of the intention of your organization. If there is any further information you would like concerning the proposal for the Community Services Council, I would be happy to try to provide this.

Yours sincerely,
Victor Cardus,
Chairman,

Tiverton

During their visit with their daughter, Mrs. Maxine Frost at Bear River, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Gray attended Sunday evening church service in the Baptist Church, Mr. Frost was soloist, and sang, "Jesus Will Walk With Me" and accompanied Arnold MacCounagh of Bear River, in a duet "Using The Bible For A Road Map". Mr. Frost was accompanied by his daughter, Mrs. Maxine Frost, who was soloist, and sang, "Jesus Will Walk With Me" and accompanied Arnold MacCounagh of Bear River, in a duet "Using The Bible For A Road Map".

Mr. Frost, native of Tiverton, is leader of the Youth Group of the Church there.

A number of young people in the Tiverton area, enjoyed an evening spent at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Art. Tiverton, Tiverton. Said one young fellow, "We had a great time. He took us all through the house, showed us slides and gave us a lunch, and invited us, as many fellows of our age that would like to, to come back in about two weeks." Mr. and Mrs. Lagour are former residents of Lyme, Mass. They have resided in Tiverton for the past several years.

Ladies/Gentlemen:

I, too, enjoyed the "Digby" very much. (Second only to Bear River News) ... I am a new subscriber, so I am used to say how honey and warm and friendly your newspaper is.

Cordially,
Mrs. R. E. B.

Apri. 8th,

Tiverton 7,

Dear Mrs. Wallis—

We were so interested in seeing you on TV the other evening on the 8th anniversary of the Digby Courier.

It brought back memories of the party we had of meeting you about 20 years ago—when we were home on furlough from India. Now we are both retired—spend our winters in Toronto and we are happy about Mrs. Gandhi's election, but I trust over affairs in Pakistan.

Sincerely,
Dr. Catherine L. Whitte and Dr. M. Jean Whitte.

Call Minister To Christian Church

Dagone Osbourne chaired the special business meeting held in the Christian Church building.

Mr. Osbourne read a letter received from Rev. Robert Johnson, student at University of Waterloo, at Kitchener, Ontario, which expressed his desire to assume pastoral duties of the Christian Church building.

In view of the fact Mr. Johnson accepted these duties during his summer vacation from college activities in the summer of 1970, and so willingly applied himself to all phases of church people, it was unanimously agreed that Mr. Johnson be invited for a possible two-year term beginning in May, 1971.

Next on the agenda was the restoration of the Church building.

Members of the Christian Church, Tiverton have a general "fencing" planned for their Church which will begin, they hope, in the very near future.

When the members of the Women's Group of the Church suggested painting the side walls of the interior of the main church building, and the idea was accepted, ways and means of obtaining the materials and getting it installed were discussed.

Since the walls were covered with plaster, originally, it was deemed necessary to apply stucco to the walls as a foundation for the paint.

Modeling, carving and the windows will undergo change as well.

Mrs. Vivian Cosham, president of the Women's Group, was appointed to prepare the quote. John P. Osbourne was appointed chairman of the building committee. It is understood the work will be on volunteer basis.

 families of existing efforts, SAVE MILLION CHILDREN recommends that all services be planned locally. Priorities should be set for population units of between 25,000 to 50,000, because services provided or administered provincially or nationally are so remote that they are often inappropriate to local need. The report calls for the establishment of Community Service Centres to co-ordinate the various helping efforts of a community. It also recommends coordinating Cabinet Committees of relief of Ministers at both the Federal and Provincial Government levels. These would have responsibility for providing leadership, setting standards, and providing funding for local services. The report also demands that Federal and Provincial Governments develop and fund programs of research to seek new ways to prevent and treat emotional and learning disorders in children.

Growing of several different vegetables was discussed including beans, corn, cauliflower, cauliflower, tomatoes, cucumbers, turnips, also the many kinds of attack-resistant bacteria and insects to be overcome. Mr. Halliday illustrated such of his address by slides.

 They are given to adults of 19 years and over who have been out of school at least one year. One dollar is paid for a history of five visits and the demonstration of knowledge gained will provide certificates of Grades IX, X or XI standing. He told of one man who was able to obtain a $27 a month more income by passing the tests. The passing of the GED tests admitted one man to Carleton University, Ottawa, some at St. Anne's Church, Pointe Tremblay, Quebec and another to Acadia University. If a student fails the GED test, he can write the tests again after a year.

Mr. Doucet also advised the audience on the accelerated academic program when such courses in English, Mathematics, Science, Social Studies, French, Geography, Family Living, Nursing Assistant, are offered. There is a basic education program where special text books raise the level of education from illiteracy to Grade VI. Any subject taught in the public school education program can be obtained through adult classes.

Certificates of Confirmation were received at a Coffee Hour reception in the Parish Hall for Bishop Davis and Mrs. Davis, the newly-ordained, their parents and the other members of the congregation. Refreshments were provided and served by members of Trinity Guild.

CONFIRMATION

Before the Service on Confirmation, Bishop Davis dedicated the organ which had been acquired through the efforts of the congregation and Memorial donations. Names of those in whose memory special donations were made were read by the Treasurer, Ernest Rish.

At the conclusion of the Dedication prayers, a Hymn of Praise, "The Gloria" from the Twelfth Mass by Monty, was played by the organist, Mrs. Isaac Butler.

Fire Destroys Home

Fire of undetermined origin early Monday morning, completely destroyed a 1½ story house at Weymouth Mills, N.S., owned by Harold Journeay. When Mr. Journeay, who was at home alone at the time, was awakened by the fire reaching his bedroom, he had time only to flee the flames. He was unable to phone for assistance from his home and had to take his car and go to a neighbor's house.

Within minutes of receiving the alarm, the Weymouth Volunteer Fire Department truck was enroute to the fire about four miles from the Station, but the fire was too far advanced for anything to be saved. Mrs. Journeay and a small grandchild were staying with her mother in DeLacourville.

The amount of loss is not known, nor if any of it was covered by insurance. Mr. D. Anthony, President of the Weymouth Branch of the Canadian Red Cross advised that personal assistance is being given to Mr. Journeay, who expects to return to hospital this week, and that Mr. Thomas O'Brien of the Weymouth Branch, Royal Canadian Legion, announced that the proceeds of a future Bingo, to be announced, would be given to the family.

Centre; 2nd Vice-President, Paul, Combs, Saint-John; Secretary, Paul Gaudet, Saint-John; and Treasurer, Omer, Omer, Combsville.

Directors appointed were: Anthony Devesa, Salmon River, representing Les Dames; cures Academics square dance club; Philip Combs, Combsville, Knights of Columbus; Jimmy White, Salmon River, Youth Club of the same village; Miss Jennifer Yroegog, Salmon River, representing the recently organized Conseil Communautaire de Clare de Meteghan. Le Conseil des Arts de Church Point, the Meteghan Lions Club and Les Dames Patrimoine have been asked to select a representative from their club to act as director.

The outgoing president, Albert P. Melanson of Church Point, advised the gathering to have a representative of each larger service club or organization to act as director of the Academics Festival Committee. Each club, organization or group should become involved in the Academics Festival of Clare because it is in their interest that such a program exist, said Mr. Melanson. The aims of the Academics Festival was made known to the new members to the meeting, which is to make the area of the Municipality of Clare known outside our region. The Municipality of Clare is principally populated by descendants of the Academics of Port Royal and Grand Pre of the 17th century, stated Mr. Melanson. It was originally planned to present the culture of the Academics of Clare to the visitors to the area during the Festival.

Jimmy White of Salmon River has been selected to take charge of the souvenir booklet to be presented before the Festival which shall contain also the program that will be followed. The program will consist of handicraft sale and demonstration, bazaar, square dance jamboree sponsored by Les Dames Academics square dance club which will be held on at the Clare District High School. Mr. Devesa, who is president of the club, stated that it is expected that an invited guest caller will be obtained in congregation, schools and universities with the New England States.

Les Dames Academics held their first jamboree last year at the Academics Festival and it proved to be a very successful one. Parades of floats, chicken barbecue, bazaar in the open air, will be on the program and it is expected that the Academics group Le Choral de la paroisse, Marie (St. Mary's Bay Church) which was organized and sponsored by Le Conseil des Arts de Clare is rounding into shape under the guidance of Rev. Ronald Cote C.J.M. of St. Anne's College of Church Point.

It is expected that the new program will be finalized shortly as meetings are planned.

Smith's Cove

Mrs. Hattie McWilliam and Miss Jennie Mills spent several days visiting relatives in Granville Ferry last week, their niece, Mrs. R. P. Ryan and their nephew, Maurice Mills, and Mrs. Mills. They also visited their cousins, Mrs. Enelle Mills and Mrs. Ovee Cummings in Amherst, Nova Scotia.

Friends and neighbours of Gordon Landers are pleased to learn that he is now convalescing at home after spending several weeks in Digby General Hospital.

Mrs. Alma Henshaw, Bear River, was the Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer B. Weir.

Mr. and Mrs. Neil Adams and family, attended the Ice Cream Social in Halifax on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Chester Robinson and son of Halifax, spent a weekend recently with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Robinson.

Miss Brenda Young and her brother Carl, both of Halifax, were home recently to visit their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Young.

PO William Johnston has returned to duty aboard the HMCS Undertaker after spending two weeks at home with his family.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilles Ousson and daughter, Michelle, visited Mrs. Ousson's parents and friends in North Sydney over the March 12th weekend.

Mrs. Eric Kinman accompanied Mrs. Bruce Baxter of Digby on a visit over the March 12th weekend with Miss Lina Baxter, Dartmouth, and Miss Dorelle Baxter, of Halifax.

The Smith's Cove Jugglers' Band Women's Institute held its March meeting at the home of Mrs. N. S. Morehouse. In addition to the regular business meeting, a Penny Sale was held.

Mission Band Held

The Mission Band of the Smith's Cove United Baptist Church held its monthly meeting on Sunday, March 21, following the Sunday School hour. Miss Sue Winchester presided. After the singing of "What A Friend We Have in Jesus," Mrs. Vera Foster led in the opening prayer. The Scripture was read by Miss Winchester.

"My Cup Is Running Over" was sung by Cheryl Robbins, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ois Robbins.

Mrs. Hattie Weir and Oshbert E. Welch chose as their duet number the lovely old hymn, "Sweet Hour of Prayer."

Following a short talk on the "Seven Words of the Cross" given by Miss Winchester, Ronald Harrison presented a piano solo of "Rock of Ages."

Mrs. Laurie and Mary, and Gray sang "Praise and James in the Salloot."

The closing hymn, sung by the members was "Amazing Grace" with Ronald Harrison giving the benediction prayer.

brochure will be printed to be placed in congregation, schools and universities with the Valley Presbyterial area.

The Maritime Conference U. C. W. executive will meet in Amherst April 15-18. Delegates named to attend this and to do so, with a director meeting slated for Wednesday, March 24th to be held at the Clare District High School in Meteghan River.

Mr. Doucet has given some idea to the items that will be added to the program which with the best items of the other year's festival, should make this year's festival the best yet.

Mrs. James Parker, Windsor; Mrs. Harold Murray, Kentville; Miss Donald Fraser, Bridgetown; Rev. Hope Jackson, Kingston; Mrs. Vaughn Lingard, Watton; Mrs. John Scott, Wolfville and Mrs. C. Goldwell, Mrs. John Shaw and Mrs. Fred Hoyt, Bridgetown, were named alternates.

Rev. Hope Jackson reported that two leadership training events, "Think-ins" are scheduled for early May, dates and places to be announced.

At 11:30 the meeting took the form of two discussion groups: Group 1 for the U. C. W. Presbyterians, leaders and Area Vice-Presidents. Group 2 for the Portfolio Secretaries and committee chairmen.

At noon a luncheon was served by the Wolfville U. C. W. Rev. Grant Wallis, Canine, President of the Valley Presbyterial brought greetings from Presbyterial and introduced the special speaker, Dr. R. C. Chalmers, President of Maritime Conference. Dr. Chalmers' topic was "The Church in Relation to Some Important Issues Facing Humanity at This Time." He spoke on three issues — The Church should retain the value of the individual person, the Church must proclaim the word has a moral order and the Church must recover the spiritual dimension of life. He closed with Scripture Isaiah 40:1 — "But they that wait upon the Lord shall renew their strength; they shall mount up with wings as eagles; they shall run and not be weary; and they shall walk and not faint."

Dr. Chalmers was thanked by Mrs. Harold Murray, president and Rev. Lloyd Archer, Wolfville.

Mrs. James Parker extended a vote of thanks to the Wolfville U. C. W. for the coffee on arrival, and the enjoyable luncheon, and to the Session for the use of the Church facilities for this meeting.

The afternoon session opened with prayer. Mrs. Jeanne Cressie presented the treasurer's report which was accepted.

Mrs. Parker reported on the sale of the Edna Cookbook.

Barbara Hiron, minister of music at Beaton United Church, Yarmouth. The two soloists for the production were William MacCon-Bell of Yarmouth and Father Alway of Digby.

In a very dramatic and in some ways, soloists and choir told in song the story of the arrest, trial, crucifixion and resurrection of Christ. Two of the choir selections were to especially tell the story of the Resurrection, "Praise Him Who Lives" and "For God So Loved the World". During the offering, Mary Choir of Yarmouth, sang the lovely and impressive duet "Were You There When They Crucified My Lord".

Following the Cantata an enjoyable social hour with refreshments was enjoyed.

Who provided an opportunity for good fellowship and the folk from Digby were able to get better acquainted with the visiting friends from Yarmouth.

On Easter Sunday morning the church was again filled to capacity. The front of the church was beautifully decorated with flowers and bibles. The service closed with the hymn "Rejoice, the Lord is King".

The Church School program for Easter Sunday was presented under the theme "What Does Easter Mean to Me?" It opened with a lively chorus sing under the leadership of Vera Robertson. The Scripture was read by Anthony Robertson, prayer was given by Jeanne Franklin, and Edna Hayes presented a reading, "What is Easter?"

There were two solos in the program, "What A Friend We Have In Jesus" by Karen Robertson and "Were You There?" by Jeanne Franklin. Mrs. Boyd Hayes presented a reading, "What Does Easter Mean To Me?" and Mark Appleton, Charles Mac-Carrie, Rebecca Brown and Mrs. George Kinney told briefly what meaning Easter had for them.

Vera Robertson then presented a gift to Dwight Franklin, teacher of the boys' class. Dwight has just been accepted for training with the R.C.M.P. Dwight in turn presented bibles to three boys in his class for perfect attendance. Charles Jeffrey, Mark Woodcock and Michael Burnham.

The program concluded with a devotional address, "The True Meaning of Easter," by Muriel Franklin, Superintendent of the Church School.

The Church and Sunday School are planning for a series of special events for the spring and summer. A Community Musical Evening is planned for Mother's Day in the evening; the Good News Singers from New Brunswick will be present for special events on Saturday and Sunday, May 23 and 24; Rev. Keith Churchill and the entire Lunenburg United Baptist Junior Choir will visit Digby for a concert on Saturday, June 19 and all services on Sunday. A third Church School Camp will be held at Johnson Christian Park the last week in July. Even at this early date the church is laying plans for a family centered Deeper Life Conference in the fall.

GRACE UNITED
Flowers were placed in the church in memory of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Milbury by Emily and Boyd, and in memory of Mrs. Sadie Turnbull, Rosa Perry and Ken by Annie Wambach.

The pastor, Rev. Donald Stevens, took his text from St. Luke "Why seek ye the living among the dead?" One of the proofs of the risen Christ is the church of today. If we think Christianity is no more than a code of ethics or a set of rules, then we are looking for the living among the dead, he ministered. If we depend on material things for our living, then we are looking for the living among the dead, he ministered. In the departure of loved ones, Mr. Stevens in- stilled hope not in the grave, but in the Resurrection and to those looking for the living among the dead.

WESTPORT CHURCH OF CHRIST
Dwight was organist. Several of the young people took part in singing. There had been with the theme, "The offering was received by Misses Betty McDermott and Pam and Len."

Flowers placed in the church were in memory of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Moore, Capt. Albert Moore, Mrs. Madeline Welch, Joseph Davis and Leonard Garrison, by their families.

Easter At Smith's Cove

Pre-Easter services, beginning on Palm Sunday, April 11, at the evening service of the Smith's Cove United Baptist Church and continuing through Good Friday, were conducted by the pastor, Rev. Charles Milbury. Elder Smith of Saint John, N. B., was guest organist and Kenneth Blacklock, intern of the church, was guest soloist for the week. The average attendance at these services was 68.

The Palm Sunday special music was provided by the Senior Choir, directed by Mrs. R. M. Winchester, and presented a Cantata to worship entitled "Blessed is He That Cometh in the Name of The Lord," and anthem "The Palm" (Psalm - arr. Percy).

A solo "Open the Gates of the Temple" was sung by Mrs. Winchester. Mrs. George Blacklock, intern of the church, was the accompanist.

Pastor Milbury's message was on "Christ: Prayer for His Persecution".

Monday evening the Senior Choir again presented special music directed by Mrs. Winchester as they sang "The Captain is Calling" and "What Did He Do?" Mrs. Blacklock accompanied. The message for the evening was "Stranger in a Strange Land".

The Men's Quartet of the Bear River Baptist Church presented special music on Tuesday evening. Members of the quartet were Lawrence Hendshaw, Byron Dushane and Everett McCormick. Pastor Milbury's message was "Christ: Cry from the Depths of Sorrow".

Wednesday evening song services were the Weymouth Falls Choir who presented several numbers including a solo by George Langford and a duet by the Mrs. Sidney Cromwell. The message of the evening was "Christ: Cry of Human Suffering".

Following the service the congregation was invited to join in a songfest in the Vestry where a good time of fellowship and refreshment was enjoyed by all.

Thursday evening the Men's Choir of the Deep Brook area under the direction of L. E. R. "Bud" Winchester, presented special music. Mrs. George Blacklock was accompanist. The evening message was "Christ: Cry of Triumph".

The Good Friday service was held at 2:30 p.m. with special music provided by the Church of God Choir, accompanied by Dennis Brown. Pastor Milbury spoke on "Christ's Cry of Soul-Comfort".

H. & S. APPROVES

once that the purpose of the Community Services Council was not to set up a paper organization but to be a vehicle through which greater service can be rendered to the community. Mr. Carleton felt much manpower is wasted in a town of less than 3,000 with 40 organizations, some overlapping and a entailing much work. He said a study of services will be made to see what needs are not being met and to see what problems each organization is able to handle. Sometimes one particular organization may need to see what other organizations are doing. He mentioned the case of a child.

One of the proposals made by the steering committee was that all age groups should be involved.

The matter of students playing cards in the school was left in the hands of the Home and School executive to take action to get opinions from parents and report back at another meeting. There had been a time when the School Board regulations allowed no card playing by students in the school, but the staff has recently altered this position on a trial basis if the privilege is not abused. Fred Giles, who had brought the subject up, reported that they had no trouble applying to the school, but the staff has the subject which would express parental permission or otherwise. Jack Rieley, principal, said that if anybody feels strongly to contrary of what the teachers permitted, they would like to hear about it.

Three Home and School members had undertaken to look into the new Young Offenders Act. They reported progressing slowly.

Mrs. MacLeod Rogers reported that the Home and School had been asked to assist with the Digby Music Festival. She also reported that $78.83 had been raised at a recent party sale.

A nominating committee to bring in a slate of officers for the 1971-72 term consisted of Mrs. James Wood, Gerald Hoce, Wynn McDermott and Arnold Trank.

minated in Grade VI. Mr. Chappell said, he would be furnishing in June 1971, the Junior High School authorities with information so that there can be continuous progress in reading and language development. There will be for each child entering the Junior High School in the term 1971-72 a reading profile revealing the pupil's strengths and weaknesses in the general areas of vocabulary, word attack skills and comprehension and the student's present reading level. He will also give information on the recommended reading program most suited to the pupil's needs and ability. In see under the sponsorship of the Windsor Luncheon. There is a slight possibility that this may be an outdoor concert, but nothing has been decided in this respect as yet, much of the weather conditions.

Members of the festival committee and interested individuals are invited to come to Wolfville on the evening of April 20th (Tuesday) for a meeting of the full festival council. This meeting is most important so that the committee knows what plans the various committees and towns have made. The time for this meeting will be at 8 p.m., and the location the Wolfville town hall.

The program for the festival was scheduled to be one of the most effective instructional schools in Canada is sponsored by the Department of Municipal Affairs. The Honorable William Gillis, the minister, will officially open the school and speak to the audience on the importance of their role in local government.

C. M. Davies, formerly of Bridgewater, who is now director, the first priority re-education program in Prince Edward Island will lecture on rural property and summer property.

J. F. Whigham of the Nova Scotia Survey Institute, Lunenburg, formerly of St. John's C.E. will conduct special class for new graduates, who are at present engaged in the making of maps.

Harold B. Cleaves and Murray A. Harris, senior associates of the Annapolis Digby staff will be study group leaders, giving instruction to junior associates who on the last day of the school will be writing answers to some examinations at Dalhousie University.

In addition, as opportunity and funds permit, the Supervisor of Curriculum, Mr. Chappell, said, may supply some appropriate reading materials, and may offer a small measure of consular services.

VANDALS

consolidation it was found to have been dismantled or taken apart with the various sections nearby.

Signage monument is on the site where the remains of Rev. Joan Mandy Signage have been laid to rest. His remains formerly and originally had been placed in a cemetery which existed near the first church which had been built where a small chapel once marked the site near the lighthouse. The chapel was burned down several years ago because vandals had busted the windows and a portion of the interior. There was a landmark of great value.

Rev. Joan Mandy Signage was the first R. C. priest to take up residence in the area, which was previously served by missionaries who stayed but a short while, without a large district to cover. It was Rev. Signage who established the first Roman Catholic church in St. Mary's at Church Point and later established the parish of Stella Maria of Miramichi. Rev. Signage also served in the mission in Yarmouth County.

"The Degenerate One"

More goes into a Volkswagen than just hard work.

No, this picture isn't a cheat. The luggage in the photograph will go into the VW in the photograph. How?

First of all, that's no ordinary Volkswagen up there. It's a Super Beetle. With a trunk that carries twice as much as any beetle ever.

(That takes care of 1 suitcase, 2 overnight bags and an attaché case.)

And in case you'd forgotten, every Volkswagen comes with a rear seat that folds down to create a cavernous 141 cubic feet of luggage space.

(That takes care of the other 4 suitcases, 5 overnight bags, 4 travel bags, and 3 train cases.)

Also, all these years we've been known mostly for our uncanny dependability. Not for our uncanny luggage story.

But, as you can see, more goes into a VW than just a fierce attention to detail.

A good deal all around, considering you only have to put $2,249* into one in the first place.

Comeau Announces Angling Regulations

Lands and Forests Minister Benoit Comeau recently announced 1971 angling regulations for the province including seasons, bag and size limits.

The minister also announced that resident fishing licenses are available for the same $1 fee as last year while non-resident licenses are now $10.

The season for speckled trout and gray trout in all waters of the province west of No. 2 Highway from Halifax begins April 1 and closes September 30. In all waters of the province east of No. 2 Highway from Halifax to Truro and 91 waters of the counties of Cumberland, Colchester, Pictou, Antigonish, Guysborough, except the tidal and non-tidal waters of the Guysborough River, Inverness, Victoria, Cape Breton and Richmond counties, the season opens April 15 and closes September 30.

The season in the tidal and non-tidal waters of the Guysborough River, Guysborough County, but not including its tributaries opens May 1 and closes September 30.

The season in Sunset (Sunset) Lake, Kings County, Runcney Lake in Antigonish County, Levers Lake in Cape Breton County, Clearwater (Bright) Lake in Digby County opens May 15 and closes October 31.

Hon. Benoit Comeau

Seasons for landlocked salmon are the same as those for trout. The season for black bass extends from April 15 to October 31 while there is no closed season for striped bass.

The season for Atlantic Salmon in the waters of Antigonish, Digby, Yarmouth, Shelburne and Queens counties opens April 1 and closes July 31. The season in waters of Lunenburg, Halifax (except the Shubenacadie River), Guysborough (except the rivers that flow into Chedoke Bay) and Kings counties opens May 1 and closes September 9.

The season for Atlantic Salmon in the waters of Antigonish, Pictou, Colchester, (including that part of the Shubenacadie River in Halifax County), Cumberland, Hants, Inverness, Victoria, Cape Breton, Richmond and Guysborough Bay opens June 15 and closes October 15. Fly fishing only is permitted in the following rivers as noted: Medway River; Queens County; Lallave River; Lunenburg County; Musquodouit River; Halifax County; Gold River, Lunenburg County; St. Mary's River, Guysborough County; North River, Cape Breton Island; Pettie River, Lunenburg County and West River, Halifax County; from May 25 to the end of the season.

In the Musquodouit River on Cape Breton Island the season opens June 15 while in the Stewiack River the season opens August 15.

Bag limits for speckled, brown, grey and rainbow trout are limited to 15 in any one day with 30 being the maximum possession. No more than 10 landlocked salmon and black bass can be taken in one day while the limit on Atlantic Salmon is three in any one day. There is no bag limit on striped bass.

While there are no size limits on trout, landlocked salmon of not less than 14 inches in measure from the end of the nose to the centre of the tail can be taken.

Jugging sport fish is prohibited at all times. White and yellow perch can be taken in all waters during the legal trout fishing season and there is no size or bag limit on the species.

Miss Teen Canada Pageant '71

Monday April 19 on CBC Television

Lovely 17-year-old Jana Jorgensen from Coquitlam, B.C., is the reigning Miss Teen Canada who will crown the new 1971 Queen on Monday, April 19. The Miss Teenage Canada Pageant will be carried live and in color on CBC-TV at 8 p.m. with host Alex Trebek and commentator Lorraine Thomson joining the beautiful and bright young ladies who will be representing their various regions across Canada. There'll be music, dancing and special guest artists to complement the show as well.

No Tax Rate Increase In Clare

In spite of speculation that Clare Tax Rate might go up as did many other Municipal units, the Municipal Council maintained their 1970 Tax Rate.

Adult or Continuing Education will be phased out at the end of the current school year, it was decided by Council. Cut backs were made by the Municipal School Board especially in Substitutes. Teachers, no additions will be made but there will be cuts in the present teaching staff. The Secretary of the School Board and the Superintendent of Schools will be working in close co-operation to see that a minimum in maintenance and a teaching aide is strictly observed.

The Council was told by the Warden that the Tax Payers should not have to pay higher property taxes at this time and that all new constructions should be suspended at least for the current year.

In his closing remarks, the Warden requested his fellow Councillors to combine Council and Committee Meetings as much as possible in order to hold the line on expenses and thanked them and especially the Clerk for their co-operation and valued effort in keeping the affairs of the Council in a healthy state.

Total estimated expenditures for 1971 are $592,028. Estimated revenue $217,254, leaving $374,774 to be raised from the 1971 Assessment of $7,032,870.

The Way, The Truth, The Light

Dark clouds, dark shadows on a darker world,
Symbolic of the earth of long ago,
He showed mankind the lighted way,
But men preferred the shadows.
So they took the light and put it out
Upon a cold and barren hill called Calvary.
Hate and distrust buried love within a tomb,
But love was strong and rolled the stone away,
As He would roll the stones away, from hearts today.

Dark clouds, dark shadows still haunt our lives today,
While the rumblings of distant wars rock a troubled world.

Man sees the light but turns his face away,
He knows the Way but sets it on the pleasure-path,
He waits the Truth to a mis-shapen form,
While the crosses he has made are crushing him,
And yet he will not heed the earnest plea,
"I am the Way, the Truth, the Light,
I am the Risen Lord."

Shortage Of Youth Counsellors

Nova Scotia School counsellors were to reconvene Friday night. Mrs. Pratt said, expressing concern over provincial government's expressed a task of counselling "human element" from school programming.

Counsellors from across the province were strong in their condemnation of cutbacks. They made their feelings known during sessions of the Nova Scotia School Counsellors Annual Conference, held Friday and Saturday, April 2 and 3.

"Development of children as a whole person will suffer drastically if cutbacks are not remedied," Mrs. Katherine Pratt of Truro said following Friday sessions. Mrs. Pratt was elected incoming president of the Association.

She defined the role of guidance counsellors as assisting students not only in preparing for vocational pursuits, but also as someone the students could confide in with personal, educational and vocational problems.

"Counsellors in today's system are called upon to help students with difficulties in the classroom, adjusting to new and larger schools, and adjusting problems between students and teachers."

"I feel someone in the provincial government should be made aware that there is a drastic shortage of counsellors in the provincial education system."

"Our association feels strongly that government action should be taken, and action soon, to see more counsellors are added to the system, certainly not delayed," Mrs. Pratt said.

Present Easter Cantata

Youth of the Weymouth South Range Churches of Christ, presented an Easter Cantata entitled "The Resurrection" on Sunday, April 11, to a capacity audience.

The story, narrated by Richard Wagner, dealt with Christ's passion, from the time of the Passover feast through to His victorious resurrection.

Solists Colleen Comens, Brenda Marshall and Sandra Hatt rendered the following numbers respectively: "He Suffered Alone," "O Hill of Silence," and "O Living Rock."

The quartet, "The Trial of the King," was composed of Mark Zimmerman, David Stewart, Neil Zimmerman and Richard Wagner.

Linda McCullough and David Stewart brought the Cantata to a close with "The Lord's Prayer" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Other duties were "Gethsemane" by Scott Zimmerman, "The Lord's Prayer" by Scott Zimmerman, and "The Lord's Prayer" by Scott Zimmerman.

Returned From Europe

By Frances Adams

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Emerson have returned home, after spending the winter in Kerbyra (Corfu), one of the Ionian Islands of Greece. It is 30 miles long and 16 miles wide, about 10,000 people inhabit this island which is different from the other Greek islands. Different because it is green, not rocky and barren. The streets of this island are very narrow.

Someone has said 4 million olive trees grow in Corfu and some of these grow to a height of 20 feet or more. We understand the Greek people do not harvest the fruit until it falls to the ground. Many of the olives are put into a press and made into olive oil.

In Greece, it is a custom the people who are travelling, especially if the weather is stormy, to stop at a home handy by. Even if a stranger, they are asked in, fed and treated with great hospitality. It is not uncommon for the folks of this country to give a passing stranger fruit grown on a tree in their yard. They like to make gifts to strangers and are very kind, friendly and happy folk.

While abroad, the Emersons had visits with two of their former foster children, Yvette, now married and living in Paris, France, and Irving in Ingolstadt, West Germany, now working. They also visited their present foster child, Malanetina, 11 years old. She has blue-black hair, expressive blue eyes and is an engaging child. She lives with her mother and three brothers, and goes to

Rose Graft Aids Denture Wearers

For you denture wearers who are constantly nagged by loose-fitting plates, here appears to be on the way.

A new bone imbedding technique carried out by oral surgeons has been used successfully on 10 patients whose complaining jawbone deterioration prevented a good fit of their dentures.

A temporary metal plate imbedded hard with a filter membrane is grafted to the bone.

The Emersons visited the Bay of Palaeostrina, in every shade of blue and green, and that the sand on this beach is all pure white.

They saw most unusual rock formations here.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Emerson returned via Athens, Frankfurt, Bernau, and Sarnerville, New Jersey.

Easter Vacation In Spain And Portugal

Anne Emerson and her friend, Deborah Crimmins, of Washington, D.C., are spending their Easter holidays in Spain and Portugal. Their plans include visits to Madrid, Toledo, Seville, Lisbon, and a small fishing village in Portugal.

bone which has been recording. This gives the support needed to keep dentures steady in place.

The filter permits tissue liquids to pass through, but stops the grained area where it could interfere with the marrow and bone regeneration.

The metal implant is secured into the lower jawbone and covered by layers of soft tissue. It is removed some 10 to 10 weeks after surgery and dentures are fitted immediately. In all cases, the bone grew to the height and contour of the implant and provided solid and comfortable support to the dentures.

The principle is undergoing long-term examinations to see if the natural bone will grow back. But so far, the results have been most encouraging.

About This and That

What Possibilities!

A bit of concern was voiced at the Digby Board of Trade meeting last week when it was learned the Saint John Harbour for the new ferry across the Bay of Fundy has now surpassed the Digby terminal in readiness. Somehow, we do not feel that same concern and still have faith in the word of the power-houses that June the 1st will arrive with all necessities in readiness. As for rates and schedules — well, like a man, he's innocent until he's proven guilty. We'll just have to wait and see what figures the C.P.R. comes up with.

The other big story which came out of the Board of Trade meeting last week was the favorable position which Digby holds for a Deep Water port. Did you notice that one of the disadvantages cited about Digby was the fact that highway No. 101 is not complete. Well, ladies and gentlemen, what do we do to rectify that? Simply ask get behind and urge the government to get the highway completed right away. Oh, the highways department is making progress but many bridges were built in quick time because of necessity. That J.B.C. report on Deep Water makes highway No. 101 completion a necessity.

Now considering for one moment that we are favored with a Deep Water port and what follows (stealing ideas from J.B.C.): There will be needed tug and pilot facilities, repair stands for ship, radio, moorings, refrigeration, etc., immigration, etc.; housing; business houses (underwriters, etc.); doctors; dentists; airport services; recreation; shops with varied merchandise; banking facilities; garages; service stations; theatres; car dealers, etc. Jobs for seafarers will be created. With Deep Water shipping, Digby would probably never be the same again but there's no need to worry, there's many a bridge to cross. In the meantime, we can think about the possibilities (and, what possibilities) and keep in close contact with the right people.

Now, for a bit of history about this Deep Water harbour talk and the sudden necessity for Deep Water harbours. According to the J.B.C. report the concept of Bulk Redistribution Terminals (BRT's) for extremely large liquid and dry bulk carriers (over 100,000 D.W.T.) has come into being only within the last three years. As recently as 1967 there were only 28 tankers and one bulk carrier in the world over 100,000 D.W.T. and only one tanker, the "Idemitsu Maru", over 200,000 D.W.T.

The era of the 100,000 tons plus capacity ship has all come about since 1967. At the present time no fewer than 255 tankers and 36 dry bulk carriers or combination ships which can carry either liquid or dry bulk of over 100,000 D.W.T. are in service. By 1974 there is expected to be 475 such ships. Some of these ships will be more than a half mile long. The largest ships the world has ever known — 325,000 D.W.T. tankers, with overall length of 1,133 feet, beam of 175 feet and a loaded draft of 81 feet — were ordered in 1966 to shuttle in crude oil service. Shuttle carriers of 60,000 to 70,000 tons will likely be operated from a site in Nova Scotia.

No Bad Ones In Music

It was a whole year ago when an adjudicator at the Digby Music Festival made the remark "I never knew of a person interested in music to locate a problem: a child that continues interest in music won't be a bad boy or girl." We have not gone so far as to check out the validity of that statement but it is a comfort to parents which they might adhere to with profit.

While we have not checked the thoroughness of the statement we have reason to believe there is some soundness to it. There is the old cliché "satan finds work for idle hands to do". When hands are tickling the piano keys, or the mouth is busy with voice or instrument and the mind concentrating on good music, few ideas of poor behavior can be thought up. Besides music itself is known to have psychological and soothing effects for those faced with problems and frustrations and has a tendency to promote better production of work. There is the beneficial sense of self achievement to be considered as well as the enjoyment and satisfaction of being able to bring pleasure to others.

What does this all add up to? A reminder that next week is Digby Music Festival week and our readers can help promote all these good things by talking music festival, urging music festival, encouraging music festival and attending music festival. If there are no bad ones in music we can have a lot of good people.

What Fire Might Have Done

Had it not been for the quick and efficient response of Digby firemen, a number of buildings in Digby might be in ashes today. Some unthinkable, careless person, knowingly or unknowingly, or in some way started a grass fire on the property behind the home of Dick Vidrio, Warwick St., on Wednesday last week. Fire long a conflagration began in a shed which burned to the ground completely. Threatened was the Vidrio home and consequently a threat would have hung over the Children's Home and Brad's Store. Firemen from Digby, who have been named for years for their efficient performance, saved these establishments.

No matter how efficient the firemen are, they need to be aided in their efficiency by the help of others. For example, if people would try to remain calm and clear thinking they could be of assistance. Clear thinking will call the Fire Department immediately a fire is discovered, even before an attempt is made by inexperienced people to fight the fire. Because of last week's fire the Digby Fire Department called a news conference and recommended a few codes of behaviour when detecting a fire. The story is found elsewhere in these columns.

There are two points we wish to make here. When are people going to realize that fire is a menace and a destroyer? When will people learn that fires must be dealt with as such and only prevention can be given a hundred per cent efficiency? That takes in you and me. Those who set grass fires are usually the worst offenders. The other point is, as this editor stressed in a talk at the Bear River firemen's annual, more emphasis should be put on what the firemen saved than on what was lost. True, the latter is so much easier to put into concrete figures but have you ever stopped to think "what the fire might have done"? Think only of the fire so recently at last week and you can come up with an impressive figure. Credit goes to the Digby firemen.

Digby Library Association

The Trustees of the Digby Library Association met at five o'clock on April 15th. Miss B. Kinard had been invited to be present for a discussion of the first year's operation of the Regional Library Service.

Before introducing the speaker, the chairman, John R. Nichols, mentioned the distinctive new sign on the building which has attracted attention with very favourable comments. This Admiral Digby Library sign has been designed and painted by Graham McElroy who donated it to the library.

Miss Kinard, the Western Counties Regional Librarian, gave her report of a survey which had been previously circulated to members of the Board and an outline of hopes of development with long-range planning for the next five years. This planning would involve making best possible use of space, with new arrangements and additional shelving for a large supply of books. A separate room for a children's house can be provided by opening up an unused room where puppet shows based on books in the library could be an added attraction.

It was explained that, when the added shelving allows a larger number of books to be displayed, publicity will be increased and circulation will be expected to grow. Some readers are finding library loan service very useful and Miss Kinard hopes that more people will become aware of it as a particular benefit of Regional service.

Five essays from the school had visited the library during March and there was a resulting increase in registration from these pupils. At present a high percentage of these registered are children and many of these have been continuous borrowers since the library was started with volunteer service five years ago. The Mayor, Glen W. Smith, addressed the meeting pointing out the constructive ideas which had been brought out in the discussion. Mr. Smith made helpful suggestions about extending the use of the library and strongly recommended adopting the program of development to the possibilities of the building. This was also the opinion of the Trustees.

The Chairman of the Western Counties Regional Board, Mr. A. B. McCabe, has been invited to attend a future meeting for further discussion. Also invited is Miss A. Leitch, Director of Provincial Libraries, who had as-

Easter At Smith's Cove Baptist

The Easter service of the Smith's Cove United Baptist Church was held at 10:30 a.m. and opened with the singing of "I Am He That Live" (Barks) by the senior choir. The choir, directed by Mrs. R. M. Winchester, also presented two anthems, "Were You There" (Spiritual) and "The Dawning of the Day" (Love-lane) which featured Mrs. George Brinton and Miss Cathy Adams in duet. Miss George Blacklock, intercommunionist was the accompanist.

Rev. Charles Millar's Easter message was entitled "Christ Is Risen" and his text from verse 20, "But now is Christ risen from the dead."

and become the first fruits of that sleep."

At 5:30 p.m. on Easter Sunday members and friends of the Church joined in a special service observing the Ordinance of Baptism held at the Bear River United Baptist Church. Those baptized were: Mrs. George Tibbets and her daughter, Winifred, Miss Darlene Thompson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Thompson, who are of the Smith's Cove Church, also Nancy Eckert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Eckert, of Deep Brook.

Brother Murray chose as the text for his message "Change Changes Men," the scripture passage, Luke 9:18 verse 4 "And he fell to the earth and heard a voice saying unto him, Son, Saul, Saul, why persecutest thou me?"

He said in his message that "Christ is Risen" and his text from verse 20, "But now is Christ risen from the dead."

The Fisherman's Lament

Oht blow ye winds, ye western winds,
 Ye northern winds blow more,
 And foul up all our lobster pots
 On the Bay of Fundy shores.
 Ye blow all night, ye blow all day,
 And then ye blow some more,
 The east run fish, an' twill the tide
 On the Bay of Fundy shores.

Our poks smash up, we can't give up.
 We have to build some more,
 And set them in the waters of
 The Bay of Fundy shores.
 Ye winds blow high, the breakers rise,
 Our buoys fine the shore,
 Our labour and our money's worth
 On the Bay of Fundy shores.

The waves roll in, Oh what a sin!
 There's nothing we can do;
 But watch the angry, angry bay,
 We know what she can do.
 She can pile the seas to mountains high,
 And dump them on the shore,
 And foul up all our lobster pots
 On the Bay of Fundy shores.

Oht blow ye winds, ye winter winds,
 Ye get what you demand,
 Our spoil may drift across the bay
 To the isle of Grand Manan.
 If we eat a jink, our spirits sink,
 We're breakers of the law,
 We can't compete, we're in defeat,
 Big business has the dew.

Notes from Bird Haven

BLACK MONDAY

You have often heard of Black Monday but this one was Black Monday.

I looked out the window and a square of the town was absolutely black, a flock of about 200 Brant's Geese, a tundra or so Cowbirds, some Red-winged Blackbirds and our ever faithful Starlings and in the middle of the group were two Crows picking on a dove bone. After a few minutes they all flew, apparently they had just arrived and landed for a rest.

The highlight of last week was the sighting of a beautiful Evening Egret at the marshland at the foot of St. John's Bay.

I received a call from a friend saying he had seen a beautiful white bird on the shore of the bay. It was a Blue Heron only much smaller and pure white. A couple of us went right down to see it. It was a beautiful sight, the following words by James Russell tell us why this visit is so special.

The bird belongs to the Heron family and is known as the bird with the golden clippers. It is between 20 and 30 inches long black tail, long black legs and bright yellow feet. The bird is pure white with crest of loosely webbed feathers.

This bird was marked for extinction by plume hunters but this was finally corrected by National Audubon Society, and the bird is making a good comeback.

The Evening Egret is a Sag. Their home is as far as New Jersey but there have been several sightings in Nova Scotia in recent years.

Very few new birds around yet, maybe they are keeping their heads down for the winter or maybe they know enough to stay further South where it is warmer. However, we do have a few Robins in their Southerly voices, the following words by James Russell tell us why this visit is so special.

ran away a drowsy ill,
with an unrelenting hand, crowd, he fell upon the east, trench one single there away,

Public Lacks Information On Fire Reporting

The Department also suggests that no fires of any type be started until 5 p.m. when the wind has dropped and more help is available. The public should keep in mind the fact that the Digby Fire Department is a volunteer organization and most of the firemen hold regular jobs in town during the day.

The Fire Department in Digby hopes to have a "Fire By-Law" adopted by the Municipality which would prohibit the lighting of any type of fire in the open air before 5 p.m. This By-Law has been adopted in Annapolis County and the final paragraph reads:

"The main purpose of the above by-law is to prevent the irresponsible lighting of fires, which are of considerable nuisance to the volunteer firemen."

Permit for burning are available from the Fire Officers. Digby and can be obtained free of charge, when required.

One interesting fact that was given to the press by the Fire Officers is that not one of the persons who took the time and a small amount of effort to obtain a permit, has been irresponsible with their fire. It seems, firemen stated, that those persons who take the trouble of obtaining a permit, also take the trouble of looking after their fire.

Other points to ponder:
1. There have been 15 fires during the month of April, this year (as of April 15th) while last year there were only 15 calls for the whole year of the firemen.

2. The fine just in Digby this year has already surpassed that of the past two years combined.

Hurry down to your Chevy dealer
Moneymiles Sweepstakes!
(And a chance to drive the big new Impala.)

Make a move that could make you a winner two ways. For a start, drive the '71 Impala and see how the changes we made give you more of what you want in a car.

Always a smooth ride, Impala is even better this year. Thanks to its longer 121.5" wheelbase, improved suspension, wider stance and wider wheels.

And a car that moves as well as the Impala also needs to be able to stop very surely. So power front disc brakes are standard equipment.

There's also a dual master cylinder, warning light and corrosion-resistant brake lines. We made 15 meaningful improvements to the '71 Impala. Most of them, just for you.

But one of them is for everyone's benefit. A new control system helps cut down fuel evaporation into the atmosphere. And to further fight air pollution, all 1971 Chevrolet engines have been designed to operate efficiently, and with lower exhaust emissions, on low-level, no-leak or regular fuels.

Inside and outside, Impala has the look of leadership. Gives you a very good feeling when you're behind the wheel.

What about the $30,000 Sweepstakes? Look for this Moneymiles Sweepstakes sign at participating Chevy dealers. You could win up to $30,000. The dealer has all the details. Hurry on down!

Some of the equipment illustrated is optional at extra cost.

Digby Regional High Featured
In 'The Teacher'

Digby Regional High School teachers and Digby Regional elementary teachers were featured in an April issue of "The Teacher," a paper put out by the Nova Scotia Teachers Union and edited by Les Walker.

Mr. Walker and Emma Currie were in Digby in connection with the teachers' special features.

Mrs. Nela Jeffrey told of her experience in Digby. D. K. Scott, music and R. J. Roca, photography, from Weymouth (they interviewed Wilfred Chapman and Mr. Gage in Digby, Mrs. Helen Matheson, Rupert Hiley, Clyde Boudonigh, Mrs. Lois McKinn, Mrs. Gloria Macdonald, Rosemary McKay, Rev. R. E. Winstanley and Mrs. Davine Hannan).

Cartography (map making) is probably taught in no other school in Nova Scotia and is an optional subject for students between 10 to 16 students being to the hands under Mr. Scott.

The hand, or hands, have collected a hand-made variety of instruments, all new, including flutes, clarinets, and other instruments, including combinations, percussion, euphoniums and French horns.

"The pick-up instrument for a student, one has to take in consideration size of hands, and physical structure of the individual and personal preference."

In order to play in a band, you have to be able to sing, thinks Mr. Scott. So there is a severely noisy school day.

Mr. Jeffrey, Director of Guidance, told The Teacher about the new ideas introduced into Digby this year, especially in the elementary schools during teacher-referentials of students with difficulties in behaviour.

Mr. Jeffrey, having told of his experience, said that the new ideas introduced into Digby this year, especially in the elementary schools during teacher-referentials of students with difficulties in behaviour.

H. & S. Hears Talk On Pollution

A. D. Pickett, Deep Brook farmer, with the N. S. Department of Agriculture in ethnology and biology, addressed the Digby District Home and School Association on Pollution. The address on Wednesday evening at the Digby Youth Centre (Sanctuary) depicting many after spots within the town and immediate area.

Mr. Pickett congratulated the youth who were taking an interest in the community. While after books, usually, it can be cleaned up, the speaker said, but pollution is bad, unhealthy, housekeeping. It continues to degrade the environment and makes an unsatisfactory habitat for plants and animals.

Referring to the film, Mr. Pickett said that for a town which professes to be a centre for tourists, the lack of the waterfront could stand improvement.

Fred Porter Trask, Halifax, above, has received a license and is a deputy provincial fish and game officer. He is also a member of the Police Services Act.

Fred is a son of Harry Trask, and the late Mrs. Trask, Digby, (adv.)

Gilmour's Albums

Columnist, critic and CBC broadcaster, Clyde Gilmour, really does play only his own records on Gilmour's Albums - now heard Sundays, 11:03 p.m. on the AM network and Saturdays, 7:03 p.m. on the CBC-FM network. He is seen here relaxing in his own music room where ten thousand records are carefully arranged and catalogued. The program has been on CBC radio without interruption since October 2, 1956.

RECRUIT NIGHT TRAINING AT GRANVILLE

The Base Commander, CFB Cornwall, has announced that the Canadian Forces Recruit School will commence both day and night training in the Granville Ferry Training area within the next few weeks. The night training will be an all-night exercise, teaching personnel the skills required to perform at night with a minimum of noise. This training may be accomplished by the use of a minimum amount of blank ammunition and pyrotechnics. The training will create an accurate noise and with the exception of the passage of military vehicles, will probably go unnoticed by the residents of Granville Ferry. The firing range now under construction is not expected to be ready for use until mid-summer. No live ammunition will be fired until the range is ready for use.

ARVS TO HOLD OPEN HOUSE

The Annapolis Regional Vocational School will hold an "Open House" on Wednesday, April 28, from 7:00 p.m. to 9:30 p.m. All parents and relatives of students and the general public are most cordially invited to attend. The purpose of the open house is to demonstrate vocational education and the vocational offerings of the school. The public will see many demonstrations and displays relative to the 21 trade courses offered by the school. All Industrial Shops and other facilities will be open with students present or at work in order that visitors may get a first hand view of a typical day in the school. All shop instructors will be present to answer any questions pertinent to each shop course and guides will be available to direct any person who may wish their services in viewing the school.

Ties, coffee, and doughnuts will be served continuously in the cafeteria from 8:00 to 9:30 p.m. by members of the cooking class. The Annapolis Regional Vocational School serves the region from Auburn to Weymouth. The school particularly will welcome a visit from the parents of students or the students themselves who may wish to enrol for September, 1971. The following trade courses are offered by the school: Beauty Culture, Brick and Tile, Carpentry, Cooking, Commercial Art, Drafting, Architectural, Drafting Mechanical, Electrical Appliance Repair, Electrical Construction, Welding, Electronics, General Mechanics, Intermediate Industrial, Industrial Electric, Machining Shop, MVR Mechanical, MVR Body, Plumbing and Heating, Retail Merchandising, Service Station Attendant, Stationary Engine Operator and Welding.

Sunshine Sister Party

On Wednesday, March 31st, Mrs. Wallace Mullen, New Tuxford, entertained members of the Sunshine Sisters at her home. Twenty-three members enjoyed a luncheon prepared by the hostess, who was assisted in serving by Mrs. Roland Mullen, Mrs. Ivan Shaw and Miss Mrs. Shirley Mullen, daughter of the hostess.

Gifts in keeping with April Fool's Day were exchanged, resulting in many laughs and surprises. Each Christmas, each member becomes "Sunshine Sister" to another member, whom she secretly and without her knowledge remembers with imaginative, low-cost gifts each holiday on her birthday and wedding anniversary, and other occasions during the year. The secret is often difficult to keep and many stratagems are tried to reveal the identity of the current Sunshine Sister.

A toast to the hostess was made by Mrs. Mildred Clayton and a gift of champagne was presented to Mrs. Mullen by Mrs. Wilbur Salmon on behalf of the group.

Five O'clock

Morning Service

The Easter season service began at Annapolis Baptist Church with a Good Friday service at 8 o'clock in the evening, led by Deacon Wallace Bailey, Deacon Whitfield Banton and Deacon Bradford Banton, led in prayer. Scripture reading was by Shelly Bailey and others gave testimony and prayers. The spiritual "Were You There" was sung.

Again a good attendance was on hand for the 5 o'clock Sunrise Service on Sunday morning, when Deacon Wallace Bailey, Deacon Whitfield Banton and Deacon Bradford led in the service. Scripture reading was by Mrs. Mary Borden and an Easter story was told by Mrs. Irving Cremwell. These were followed by prayers.

At 11 o'clock the B.Y.F. led the service which opened with the hymn "Chorus the Lord is Risen Today." The prayer was made by the B.Y.F. leader, Mrs. Mary Borden. Sherry Borden read "On Easter story and Lillian Slams took part in the service. The closing prayer was by Deacon Wallace Bailey.

At 7 o'clock on Easter Sunday, evening, the pastor, Rev. Donald Robertson, delivered the message to a large audience. Three children were dedicated. Flowers were placed in the church by Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Banton and Sarah in memory of their son Michael Banton. Flowers were also placed by Mr. and Mrs. Harry Miller and family in memory of their son Eugene Miller.

The choir sang an appropriate Easter selection and at the close of the service, the Lord's Supper was administered by the pastor.

SECOND SECTION

Poetry Corner

To April

Dear month when azure skies and passing storms abound
When raindrops like a baby's tears
Or leafless tree and windowpane run down;
Tis then your frosty nights and sunny days replace
The biting winds and stillen skies
As March moves back again
When snowflakes gently fall on sleepy daffodil
While some fondly touch the golden curls
Of alders on the hill.
When winter touches pussywillows
With a last farewell embrace
And melts into time's long night -
Then in man new hope is born
As lovely April takes her place.

A quiet wedding was solemnized in St. Theresa Roman Catholic Church, Porters Cove, Halifax, on Sunday, March 27, at 11 o'clock, when Wendy Rose Fitzhugh, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Cromwell, Danvers, became the bride of Joseph Allen, son of Mr. Mattie Bright, Riverside. Father Lauder officiated at the double ring ceremony.

The bride was charming in a blue brocade dress with shoulder-length veil and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Charlene Oliver was bridesmaid and wore a street-length dress of blue and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Alex Marman was best man.

Following the wedding breakfast was served at the church hall for the immediate family by Mrs. Everett Puel, Mrs. Fred Nielsen, Mrs. Arthur Puel, and Mrs. Edna Tene, of Porters Cove.

A reception was held in the evening at the church hall.

Out of town guests were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clements and family, Dennis Bright, Lincoln, N. B., and Mrs. Mattie Bright, Riverside.

Foley — Johns

A quiet but pretty wedding took place at the Baptist parsonage when Rev. Mr. Richard Puel united in marriage for a second time, Miss Agathe with her son, Mrs. Vera Johns, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Johns, of Porters Cove, and Mrs. Clark Johns, of Porters Cove.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Puel, of Porters Cove, and Mrs. Clark Johns, of Porters Cove, were the bridesmaids.

The bride looked charming in a blue dress of tulle and carried a bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Object To Transporting Students Across Grand Passage

Wilfred Swift, councillor representing Westport in the Municipality of Digby, told the Council on Tuesday that he had strong objections to pupils from Grade VI up of the Westport School being transported to the Islands Consolidated School. Further he requested the idea that "transportation should not be a factor" in this consideration. Mr. Swift was informed by members of the Municipal School Board that there was no complaint, but it was recommended that those students be given an opportunity to attend the Islands school at Westport.

Referring to the report given by Keith Munroe to the School Board "because nine grades are being taught in three classrooms in Westport school an inferior brand of education is being received by students and teachers are being overworked." There were two solutions. One, invite Grades VII and VIII students to the Islands school; but Mr. Munroe felt that transportation would be a problem in that the Westport Ferry is already loaded to capacity. The other was to equip Westport school with another teacher and only two classes in each room. At the school board meeting where the question arose, the first suggestion received favor. Mr. Swift objected to the suggestion and stated that eighteen pupils from grades IX to XII are crossing, and recently one girl fell. She said of herself but lost her books

SOD TURNING FOR BEAR RIVER BRIDGE

Sod turning ceremonies for the $3,362,570 Bear River bridge crossing over the Annapolis Valley will take place at 11 a.m., Friday, April 23, at the west bank of the river.

The bridge will be located approximately mid-way between the existing highway and railway bridge. Steel "T" piles will be driven through the mud bottom and into the rock. These piles will range in length from 60 to 157 feet, depending upon the bed-rock depth.

Once in place, the piles will be encased in corrugated steel piers, forming a cofferdam which will be made water-tight by use of Tremie concrete, an underwater sealant. After dewatering, permanent piles will be constructed inside the cofferdam under dry working conditions.

Segmental concrete units will be precast, probably at the scene of the project. Each of the units, which are technically known as "voicers," a French word meaning units that join to form an arch, will be lifted into place to form a bridge superstructure measuring some 1,900 feet in length, sitting on a total of seven piers.

There will be 153 of these units in the bridge, each measuring thirty feet in width, fourteen feet in length and twelve feet in height.

The structure will be erected in cantilever fashion, balanced on either side of the pier until a keystone is poured to join the two ends of the structure. The precast blocks will be threaded with reinforcing cables and post-tensioned to make them act as a continuous span.

The bridge will consist of two end spans of 200 feet in length and six interior spans of 265 feet. Total width will be 39 feet six inches, consisting of a 21 foot roadway, a six foot sidewalk and a two foot six inch curb. Approximately 2,200 yards of concrete will be required for bridge superstructure and 6,000 yards for approach and decking. Concrete for the segmental units will be cast to a strength of 5,000 pounds per square inch, and boulders interbedded. They will be interwoven with numerous steel cables fed through 3 inch diameter holes cast into each unit. More than one million pounds of reinforcing steel will also go into the project. Because of its concrete construction the new bridge will be relatively maintenance free and will not require painting.

PUBLIC MEETING PLANNED FOR LEO

The Digby Lions Club will hold a public meeting on May 4, 1971, to provide complete information about their new "Leo Club." The meeting will be held at the Lions Hall starting at 7:30. On April 27, the Lions Club announced plans for the Leo Club, open to all young men and women, ages 15 through 20. Many people have contacted the Lions expressing interest in joining the Leo Club.

The purpose, goals and activities of the Leo Club will be explained in detail at the meeting on May 4. Information folders and application forms will be distributed. Continuity of growing and the Leo program is acceptance and a large turnout at the meeting is anticipated.

Lions International has authorized the sponsoring of Leo Clubs for each of its 23,446 Lions Clubs. The program is designed to give young people the opportunity to develop leadership and gain experience in community service activities. Leo Club members will be allowed to develop and carry out community service projects of their own choosing. They will elect their own officers and operate from their own budget. The Lions Club will act in an advisory capacity only.

Information about the Leo Club is available now by contacting Ted Nicholson, Leo Club Chairman for the Digby Lions Club, at 245-2423, or 45 Warwick Street in Digby. Others who can be contacted are Jack Walker, president. (Please turn to page 3)

Spring Carnival Starts Tonight

The Digby Regional High School Spring Carnival will be held on April 23, 24, and 25, this year's theme being "Mother Nature's Realm."

Today the judging of the Queen and the Senior and Junior Princesses will take place along with a fashion show. In the evening, the Queen and Princesses will be crowned following a variety show.

On Friday, a pep rally, a bazaar, refreshments and contests will be held starting at 1 p.m. A parade is scheduled for 6:30 p.m. and a coffee house and a concert will complete the evening's activities.

On Saturday, May 1, the first day of the Carnival is a pie-eating contest, a brouillard race, a head-on race and various other games are scheduled. A coffee house will be open from 2:00 until 4:00 p.m. and a concert will be held that evening, music provided by the "Melody Fair" of Halifax.

Accused Of Changing Position

The Digby Municipal Council on Monday took exception with the content of a letter from Alphonse B. Gaudet, Ph.D., chairman of the Planning Commission which deals with Saint Anne College and authorized the secretary to reply to the letter regarding the same. The Council felt a reply was in order despite the fact they felt Mr. Gaudet must have had areas confused where he accused the council of changing its position from what it appeared to be initially since "our Planning Commission received a proposal from the Digby group we must have the Bilingual Community College situated at Digby." Mr. Gaudet's letter stated that there must be some extraneous factors regarding this sudden change of position by the Council which ought to be explored. It is equally interesting, he wrote, that all researchers on College St. Anne (except one) have suggested removal of College St. Anne from Church Point and be located where it would become a respondent to needs of citizens of South West Nova Scotia.

Mr. Gaudet's letter said that it is a false assumption to state that College Saint

Resigns From AVABT Post

John W. Logan, secretary-manager of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, has resigned from that post effective June 15 to enter a business enterprise. AVABT president H. L. Woodman announced Tuesday.

Mr. Logan has been an AVABT executive for 15 months. His work was highly praised by Mr. Woodman.

"He recognized problems and took positive action about them," said Mr. Woodman in announcing a meeting of the executive soon to deal with the appointment of a successor to Mr. Logan.

To Visit Gettysburg

Miss Connie Adams, the former Princess Cornwallis and now Queen Annapolis XXXVIII, will attend the Adams County Festival in Pennsylvania, U.S.A. She will be accompanied on her visit by Mrs. Shirley Ortel of CFB Cornwallis. (Please turn to page 3)

Municipality To Negotiate On Digby Airport

The members of the aviation committee from the Digby Municipality were given authority on Tuesday to negotiate, study and negotiate with the Town of Digby and the Department of Transport regarding the purchasing of the Digby airstrip at Church Point from the Digby Air Services Company.

The subject was placed on the floor by Councilor Mrs. M. P. Galt by request of Dr. J. R. McCleure, who has an interest in the airport and is desirous of it being promoted for the benefit of the community. Mrs. Galt said this was a great investment which would bring Digby transportation up to that of the present era. She felt this action could be an ultimate to Yarmouth.

which is handicapped by the fact that it could be a link with Halifax. Many business men are now planning for transportation, she remarked.

Russell Storchow, president of the Digby Board of Trade (standing left above), presents to A. L. Robinson, Digby, on behalf of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, a framed certificate in recognition of being a past president of the A.V.A.B.T. Seated left to right are Mrs. Jeanne Galt, wife of Hon. Dr. J. R. McCleure, and Mrs. Richard Davis, treasurer and wife of Transport; Mrs. Woodman, wife of Harold Woodman, president of the A.V.A.B.T. and Mrs. Robinson. The presentation was made at the banquet following the annual meeting, held at the Cornwallis Inn, Kentville, when Hon. Mr. Jamieson was guest speaker.

In making the presentation, Mr. Storchow referred to the many projects attempted by the Valley organizations, which Mr. Robinson was president of the A. V. A. B. T.

Much Paving In Clare

The Benoit Cement has announced that there will be an extensive paving program in Clare this summer. Tenders will be called within a few days. The road in question from Little Brook Road to the St. Mary's Station; from Metegon Station to Bangor and to continue to No. 1 Highway at St. Lawrence Church; and No. 3 Highway to Metegon. The Minister in his announcement stated that this year's paving in Clare will surpass all the road paving that was carried out in the last fourteen years by the previous administration.

Support Resolution On Lobster Fishing Season

Digby Municipality Council in regular session on Monday, supported a resolution from the Yarmouth Chamber of Commerce to have the lobster season open two weeks prior to December 1, while good weather still prevails. The resolution was to be sent to the Minister of Fisheries, Jack Davies. It was noted that some areas of Digby had been closed to lobster fishing since October 15. The resolution referred to these areas from Digby to Halifax which opened Dec. 1.

The municipality adopted a five percent on by-law which prevents persons from lighting, lighting, starting or allowing to be set before five o'clock in the afternoon. Certain provisions were made which do not apply from April 1 to October 15 in any year in which there are six rods of any woods or any areas dealt with pursuant to provisions of the Land and Forest Act. Unusual Seal Abode

A large seal found its way to Bear River and lurked for a couple of days at the fork of the river at the branch adjacent to the Power Station in Bear River. This is the first time anyone had known of a seal coming up the Bear River to that distance and the moment attracted many observers.

Minister Of Transport Addresses AVABT

Harold Woodman presided over the annual banquet of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade held at the Cornwallis Inn, Kentville, on Saturday when Hon. Mr. Jamieson was guest speaker. A welcome was extended by His Worship Mayor Frank Digby who also introduced the speaker. Mr. Jamieson was thanked by Edwin Elliott, Laureate.

Speaking of the new Digby Saint John ferry in respect to rates, schedules and safety of beginning operation on time, Mr. Jamieson said you can never satisfy everybody but every indication is that the facilities will be ready on time and that every effort is being made to find satisfaction.

Why spend money and then not have it work out to satisfaction, he questioned. The

Woodman Heads AVABT

Harold Woodman, Kentville, formerly of Digby, was on Saturday re-elected president of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade. Mr. Woodman was first elected president in 1970. Others elected at the annual meeting held at the Cornwallis Inn, Kentville, were Claude Durand and Marcel Voltaire, vice presidents; Richard Davis, treasurer and wife of Transport; Mrs. Woodman, wife of Harold Woodman, president of the A.V.A.B.T. and Mrs. Robinson. The presentation was made at the banquet following the annual meeting, held at the Cornwallis Inn, Kentville, when Hon. Mr. Jamieson was guest speaker.

The annual meeting of the Maritime Occupational Association was held in the Legion Hall, Caledonia, Saturday last, with a record attendance of 86.

The meeting decided to hold the first O.O.I. of the season at Caledonia in late May. Size of prizes to depend upon size of the gate.

It was recommended to the Executive of the Bridgewater Exhibition that a qualifying fund be raised to enter the International Handicrafts be held with the qualifying distance of the last three feet instead of eighteen inches. Three feet is the International distance while eighteen inches is the present Canadian one. Bridgewater officials present agreed to arrange this extra haul.

While the financial statement showing over $500 in assets was very satisfactory, it was felt that each director might promote a fund-raising drive. More competitions and better prizes could then be offered.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting in Shelburne.

The annual meeting of the Maritime Occupational Association was held in the Legion Hall, Caledonia, Saturday last, with a record attendance of 86.

The meeting decided to hold the first O.O.I. of the season at Caledonia in late May. Size of prizes to depend upon size of the gate.

It was recommended to the Executive of the Bridgewater Exhibition that a qualifying fund be raised to enter the International Handicrafts be held with the qualifying distance of the last three feet instead of eighteen inches. Three feet is the International distance while eighteen inches is the present Canadian one. Bridgewater officials present agreed to arrange this extra haul.

While the financial statement showing over $500 in assets was very satisfactory, it was felt that each director might promote a fund-raising drive. More competitions and better prizes could then be offered.

It was decided to hold the next annual meeting in Shelburne.

Community & Civic Leaders Meet

Recently the Community & Civic Leaders met at the Annapolis Royal Academy, giving reports on progress and discussing issues at stake. Among them were left to right, John Comeau, Digby Municipal Councillor from Weymouth; J. W. Mosher, Chief Warrant Officer, Greenwood; K. Zigler, Warrant Officer, Greenwood; Dr. K. R. Morley, CFB Cornwallis; John Ricey, supervisor Digby Regional High School; Sam Joseph, MLA for Digby; Fred Fry, supervisor Annapolis schools and Sam Boney, social development director with the Department of Welfare, Digby.

SUPPORT

Forests Act. Persons wishing to fight outdoor fires before 5 o'clock p.m. shall apply for leave in writing to the municipal clerk. The purpose of the by-law is to prevent irremediable lighting of grass fires which are a nuisance to volunteer firemen.

In a letter from Philip Donahue, director of assessment for Digby and Annapolis, the advantage of the transfer tax was pointed out. Assessment figures for transferred property in Digby Municipality in 1970 were $729,300 with market value of $802,750. At one-half of one per cent of the purchase price the transfer tax would have yielded $4668.75.

Stuart MacNeishon of the Digby County Power Board presented a report covering the periods to the end of February and March. It was decided that when money becomes available to do so, right street lights requested by Prescott should be installed. The municipality will continue to look for a dog catcher and if not successful they will hire a dog catcher.

WOODMAN HEADS

John Logan, executive secretary, C. D. Snow retired as vice president and chairman of the transportation committee.

While the Board had made financial gains during the year, it ended with a deficit position of $4,881. One of the disappointments financially will consider resorting again to having the dog tax placed on the property tax forms.

The municipal councillors supported Councilor Rice in an attempt to have an unsightly dredge-barge removed from the beach at Weymouth. North and strident enforcement of certain laws about garbage collection will be made. One of them is covering of garbage trucks by notices and of not burning garbage outside the incinerator.

The municipal councillors on their own initiative supported CKDY radio station. Digby, in requesting the extent of their coverage on Digby, by Jack and Islands and on the shore route to Weymouth.

It was the fact that a number of local Boards had not paid their per capita fees for a number of years. Nearly $300 was raised on Saturday to secure a publicity booth on the new Prince of Fundy for May 16 and 17 when the ship makes a special trip.

Paul Comeau, Saultierville, chairman of the tourist committee, reported on the $5,000 run of a tabloid newspaper being put out by the AVAST for tourist promotion. The map was drawn by Miss Elaine Potter, a student at the Annapolis Regional Vocational School. The tabloid contains community information by word and picture. Road signs and other tourist promotion was reported. Mr. Comeau also arranged posters of tourism information for the benefit of members and visitors at the meeting on Saturday in which he divided the tourist dollar to gift shops and 64 per cent for entertainment. The posters were arranged with other information material and samples of products and industrial life of the Valley.

Referring to subsidies in transportation the speaker said the whole question is open for assessment. He came to the conclusion, he said, that the longer we subsidize inbound products the more we make it easier for others to compete with the local producer. There is also the matter, he noted, where some believe subsidy monies should go to the shipper and not to the carrier.

He referred to the new and growing highways and non-rail transportation including smaller transportation. He said every maximum should be made of every natural advantage and said that continuation holds a good place for Halifax and Saint John. The Atlantic provinces have access to oceans around the world and opportunities at home are often overlooked. In the next ten years he anticipated much newer and larger ports.

In industry the minister felt the strategy was to develop natural resources. He advocated upgrading the raw materials like fruit, fish, etc. One industry he said has a tendency to attract another and few industries want to be in isolation. They want to be close to supplies and have a large and diversified work force available. Secondary industry is attracted to

Kiwanians See Slides On Greece

At the regular meeting of the Kiwanis Club of Digby, held on April 22, the Club enjoyed a triple-decked program. First came a singing session led by Fr. d'Entremont, with piano accompaniment by Mrs. Donald Robertson. Following the Atlantic provinces, Mr. Jamieson noted, and then draw on raw materials of the area.

Raw material is not the end of the line, he intimated. The Atlantic provinces, he suggested, must have one fairly large metropolitan area as a core from which to expand widely.

He also referred to sociological aspects which attract industry. Educated people with capabilities want opportunity for culture and recreation. He commended the Atlantic provinces on the intangible assets at their disposal. People can live in an enjoyable atmosphere with an easy pace of life. They have more than they realize although not in economic terms, he commented. There is a difference, he said, in a standard of living and a way of life.

New Tusket

Mrs. Lillian Mathew has returned from Matane, Bay where she has spent the past two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. James Trach and family of Cambridge, and the songs, Russell Stonehouse, observations of Board of Trade Week, told of the Board's accomplishments over the past year and of aims for the future.

The third part of the program was a talk by Harold Emson, illustrated with slides of Greece. The history of the Greek island of Corfu was briefly outlined from legendary days to events occurring during the Second World War. The turbulence of the history with the many invasions and occupations by foreign powers was emphasized.

The physical aspects of the island were described, and some of the social, political, economic, and gustatory customs explained.

The evening concluded with the singing of "God Save the Queen."

On the previous Thursday, Dr. Cameron showed slides of the construction of a type of bridge which will be built over Bear River and for which a sod turning ceremony will be performed on Friday at 11 a.m.

Mrs. Walter Prime of Wolfville and Mrs. Elsie Gaudet, who has been visiting her daughters, arrived Saturday, and were weekend visitors with relatives. Mrs. Gaudet, who spent part of the winter with her son Cheley and Mrs. Gaudet, is again at her home for the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Prime of Bear River, were here Sunday visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Broadbent were visitors Saturday at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Ford. They were en route to their home in Yarmouth from Halifax, where they had spent several days.

Verona Sobush was a visitor in Halifax over the weekend. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford and baby of North Wilmiston, were visitors here on Sunday.

Gord and Sandra and Wayne Smith and friends of Ayerford, were visitors Saturday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Prime and baby Kimble, also Mr. and Mrs. Donald Manzer of Ashmore, were supper guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Prime, Hassett. Get well wishes are extended to Arthur Hill, New Tusket, who is a patient at the Digby General Hospital. Mrs. Hill is staying with Mrs. Thomas Mulken while Mr. Hill is away.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Comma of Digby, were supper guests Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Sabourin. Mrs. Jean Spauld of Grandville, is visiting friends here at time of wedding.

Mrs. Alvin Marr was hostess Wednesday evening last to the Ladies' Guild.

Miss Carol Nickerson, who spent last week in Digby, has returned home.

Digby Educational Requirements As Forseen A Year Ago

The news media throughout the province of Nova Scotia has been expressing views on the effect of the 1971-72 limited budget for education as announced by Education and Finance Minister, Peter Nicholson in recent months. The Minister's announcement, has had its impact in education in practically every nook and corner of the province and Digby is no exception. Although the impact on Digby seems to be of much less degree than other areas where the number of teachers has had to be reduced to meet the limited budget, a look into the future as seen a year ago by the then superintendent of Digby schools is of interest.

Some of these suggestions, noted, have been implemented. Others would take time to put into effect on the most part. Many will remain a vision of the limited budget.

25th Wedding Anniversary

Friends and relatives from Digby and Hallowick of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cook, gathered at Hallowick on Saturday evening, April 17th, to help celebrate the occasion of the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Cook. They have been married at Hallowick, Nova Scotia, for 25 years ago, by Rev. Ronald Salomon, now of Moncton, N.B. Mr. Cook was the former, Glenna Mullen of Hallowick.

After an enjoyable evening, the honored couple opened the many gifts presented to them. Their nine children presented them with a platform rocker.

During the retirement hour, setting with Mr. and Mrs. Cook were the bride, maid of 22 years ago, Mrs. Priscilla Gavel and her husband, the late John Gavel, and the bride, Mrs. Mary Gavel, who was the best man. Also at the table were Rev. Charles Bain and Rev. Meridith of Digby. In the center of the table was a 24-cake, beautifully decorated for the occasion.

At the May 1970 monthly meeting of the Digby Regional School Board a special survey of future educational needs of the Digby School System was presented for study and careful consideration by the members of the school board, and hopefully for the implementation of the basic recommendations contained in the survey. Unfortunately, that was the end of the survey as to present knowledge it has never been discussed at board level. The preparation of this special survey on the educational needs of the Digby School System was prompted by comments and recommendations contained in the Educational Survey, on the Digby School System, carried out by a special commission set up by the then Hon. Minister of Education, Mr. J. R. Macphail.

The survey of requirements as presented last May was made public. The report now made public.

FERRY LAUNCHING AT METEGHAN

A new "flagship" for the Nova Scotia Highway Department ferry fleet will be launched this afternoon at the Meteghan River. Shipments of A. F. Theriault and Sons in Digby County.

The 120 foot long ferry, powered by twin 365 horsepower Caterpillar engines will be the largest ship in the fleet of double-ended ferries built to provide a floating highway linking a provincial highway system of the future.

The new boat, which will remain in service until the official launching ceremony, according to tradition, will serve on the Bras d'Or lake at Bras Strait, linking links and Grand Narrows.

Highways Minister Garon Brown will officiate at the ceremony which is scheduled to take place starting at sharp 1 p.m. in order to facilitate launching of the big ferry at 1:30 p.m. to coincide with a flood tide condition.

Further he emphasized that no member of the existing administrative staff has any knowledge of his personal decision to release this information to the local press. Many times it has been brought to my personal attention that the decision was taken by the administration or school board to implement the basic recommendations of the Educational Survey. Innumerable requests coming from members of the teaching staff and citizens generally make it desirable that the chief recommendation of the survey should be made available to parents and taxpayers. As the chief administrative officer of the school board in 1969-70, it was a greatly suggested that I was more interested in financial considerations than in educational progress. I now feel the time has come, without any desire to open up a controversial issue, to set the record straight with whom it is his proper perspective.

Since the Digby Regional School Board in good faith and no doubt with good and sufficient reasons decided to take no positive action with regard to the recommendations contained in the survey, as the chief author of the survey and no longer in the employ of any school authority, it is perfectly free to release certain sections of the survey for publication. What has, unfortunately, been overlooked is the fact that the survey was prepared with the intent that it should be presented for the consideration of all three school boards, the Regional, the Urban and Municipal. To my certain knowledge, the survey report was never brought to the attention of either the Urban and Municipal School Boards.

Finally, it must be pointed out that the survey has been carefully edited to remove any controversial sections which could possibly revive the controversial issues of last year.

Referring to the Educational Survey on the Digby School System, it should be made clear that the school administrative staff members are wholeheartedly in agreement that the services recommended by the Educational Survey Committee are educationally sound and should be implemented. Speaking from a purely personal point of view, it would have been a matter of great satisfaction for the superintendent of schools to have initiated an even broader program than now exists in the Digby Schools. Unfortunately, it now appears that the superintendent may have been overly cautious and far too conscious of the budget. It is also possible he was motivated by too strong a desire to effect (Please turn to page 10)

Award Winner

Mrs. Fran Tupper is featured in the magazine "Key To Toronto" as winner of the Metro Ambassador of Hospitality for the month of December, 1970. She is at the information desk at Holiday Inn, Don Valley. She was nominated by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Peckham of Margate City, N.J., guests at the hotel.

The monthly hospitality award, a sterling silver engraved medalion, is given as a commendation to men and women whose work is to do visitors to Toronto and in doing so, it's just a little beyond the call of duty to make guests of the city relaxed and happy. In making the presentation, Edward V. Mer, general manager of the Convention and Tourist Bureau of Metropolitan Toronto, remarked "It's people like yourself who are helping this city live up to its slogan 'Toronto - affectionately yours'."

The nominating couple said "We prolonged our vacation as a result (being a chertie good wife and mother) and will return frequently." Fran is the former Frances Dickson, daughter of A. R. Dickson, Digby and the late Mrs. Dickson.

Digby Educational Requirements

rigid economies in the school system. It is now more fully understood that "financial considerations while an important factor, should only be a matter of major concern after all educational implications have been studied." School Boards must project the educational needs under a comprehensive school system without undue emphasis upon financial considerations which are really the responsibility of the elected councils through their boards of education and not that of school administrative personnel, or so the Digby Survey Report on the Digby School System so informs us.

Recommended Extensions of the Local School Program

After a careful survey of all aspects of the local school situation and in light of recommendations contained in the Educational Survey Report, it is our well considered opinion that this survey of educational needs for the Digby Schools should express the total essential needs of our educational system as to ensure that our children shall enjoy equal educational opportunity with those who live in the more favored areas of the province.

With this thought in mind, we would respectfully suggest that the School Board of the Digby Area give careful consideration to an up-grading of our total school program to include the following additional services:

(a) The provision of a school psychologist as a shared service of the three school boards in the Digby Municipal and Urban School System. This individual should be responsible to the employing boards through the superintendent or supervisors of schools and should serve on a full time basis;

(b) Planned expansion of the physical education program to eventually provide three additional instructors, one of whom would be employed full time in the Digby Urban Schools (primarily);

A similar plan should be worked out for the consolidated schools of Barton, Smith's Cove and Sandy Cove as a shared service among these three schools;

(c) An extension of teaching of music in our schools to include two teachers in the urban area and full time program at the Weymouth Consolidated School, part time in the rural area and a full time teacher as a shared service in the municipal elementary consolidated schools (partially implemented).

(d) An up-grading of guidance services in all urban schools;

(e) The employment of a director of guidance for the urban schools is desirable;

(f) Art education has long been neglected both in the urban and municipal schools. Consideration could be given to the employment of not less than two art teachers in the municipal schools, one of whom should serve as the art supervisor of the municipal school program;

(g) Immediate consideration be given to the initiation of a French program in the elementary grades of both the urban and municipal schools. To initiate the program probably a fairly effective program could be established with two instructors operating as a shared service between the urban and municipal schools;

(h) Active consideration be given to the establishment of Department Heads in the Digby Regional School and other areas where possible under the provisions of the Foundation Program;

(i) The establishment of a planned health program for both the urban and municipal schools. This would involve the employment of a full time nurse, eventually two, one for each of the urban and municipal schools;

(j) The establishment of a reading program as a shared service operating under the direction of a qualified administrative aspect. We respectfully suggest that the administrative establishment be suitably changed in the future with consideration given to the following administrative organization:

(k) Appointment of a full time principal who should be the school's chief administrative official responsible to the board through the supervisor and superintendent of schools;

(l) The appointment of two full-time vice-principals directly responsible to the principal of the school with each responsible for specially designated areas as junior and senior grades;

(m) The appointment of half-time department heads each of whom would be expected to teach half-time and be responsible for the program in the respective department areas, as mathematics, language, science, English, etc.

(1) The provision of a man projector with sound track, preferably Kodak at an estimated value of $750;

(2) The provision of a Super 8 - 30mm lens camera, such as manufactured by Canon (Japanese) at an estimated value of $350;

(3) A good supply of Super 8 film - yearly budget figure of $500;

(4) Not less than two first class T.V. instructional sets at an estimated cost of $1,000;

(5) Provision of a large multi-purpose visual aid screen at an estimated cost of $300;

(6) Provision of a Bell & Howell movie projector 16mm at an estimated cost of $500;

(7) Construction of a projection booth at the rear of the multi-purpose room at an estimated cost of $1,500;

(8) Installation of a television set in the multi-purpose room with front mounted speakers connected with turntable and tape deck. Estimated cost $2,000;

(9) Provision of adequate stage lighting equipment for the production of drama and other cultural programs. Estimated cost $2,000.

Total estimated cost of this equipment - $9,300.

It should be clearly understood that the suggested up-grading of existing educational services as recommended for the Digby School System are additions to the existing program with the introduction of these services, Digby area citizens could be assured that they have the provision of full educational services but that Digby's tradition, a part of which tradition will be maintained and up-graded.

Thought must be directed to another facet of our school problem, namely, the administrative aspect. We respectfully suggest that the administrative establishment be suitably changed in the future with consideration given to the following administrative organization:

(a) Appointment of a full time principal who should be the school's chief administrative official responsible to the board through the supervisor and superintendent of schools;

(b) The appointment of two full-time vice-principals directly responsible to the principal of the school with each responsible for specially designated areas as junior and senior grades;

(c) The appointment of half-time department heads each of whom would be expected to teach half-time and be responsible for the program in the respective department areas, as mathematics, language, science, English, etc.

Further if the superintendent of schools is to be an educator, not overly concerned with "financial considerations", then serious thought must be directed to the needs of proper financial control over the school system. We would suggest that the board consider the appointment of a full-time administrative director who would serve as the chief executive director of the school system assisted with adequate clerical assistance.

We further suggest that the duties of such administrative officer should include:

(a) responsibility for installing and maintaining a satisfactory accounting system and the exercise of control over all financial transactions of the school boards;

(b) the preparation of the annual school budgets for the entire school system;

(c) serve as the chief purchasing agent for the Digby School System;

(d) establish and exercise proper budgetary controls for the Digby School System;

(e) carry out the business of the boards between meetings and serve as the administrative officer of any future amalgamated school board;

(f) be responsible for ordering and maintaining buildings, equipment, supplies and conveyance for the school system;

(g) assume all such duties that may from time to time be delegated by the school boards.

Projection of Cost

Estimates for the three new

Services

It would be difficult, if not impossible, to accurately forecast the costs of these additions to our school program as it applies to the entire school system. However, a reasonably close approximation can be made for the implementation of the program in the Digby Regional and Urban Schools. This projection has been determined and is now submitted for board consideration:

(1) Department Salaries

Actual salaries involved in the implementation of the up-grading services would of course depend upon several variables such as teacher qualifications, experience and the changing salary scales. The current foundation scale was employed in projecting salaries noted below:

School psychologist - $12,000

Physical education instructors (3) - 25,000

School nurse - 7,500

Full-time Teachers of perceptually handicapped (2) - 10,000

Music instructors (2) - 10,000

Guidance counselors - 18,000

Director of Guidance - 12,000

Art teachers (2) - 7,500

French specialists (P.E.) - 7,500

Total Heads 8.9 - 3,500

Reading Specialist - 3,500

Clerical Assistance - 3,500

(2) Administrative Salaries

Chief administrative officer - $10,000

Clerical assistants (2) - 7,000

Equipment - $14,000

Equipment for home Economics Center - 35,000

Regulations for old gymnasium - 15,000

Equipment for science laboratory - 20,000

Paving Project - 35,000

Books - 10,000

Urban share of project - $275,000

Estimated at - $1,000

Municipal share - $200,000

Projection of Annual Capital Cost to Urban & Municipal Taxpayers

The following annual operational costs are projected on the premise that the suggestions contained in this survey report were to be implemented in full. The school boards in each area are projected for assistance in the cost of the capital equipment in the following manner:

Total Urban Share

Departmental Salary - $140,000 $275,000

Administrative Salaries - 17,000 7,000

Administrative Expenses - 9,500 4,000

Capital Charges - 20,000 20,000

Total - $186,500 $326,000

Probable share on the tax rate - 67 cents.

Conclusions

While as educators, we realize that we should not be overly concerned as to the financial involvement arising from the Digby educational needs, nevertheless, conservative judgment suggests that a program of this magnitude is an onerous task in the financial ability of the taxpayers of the Digby area to provide. Possibly, a joint regional educational program could be devised in consultation with the provincial educational authorities which would make it possible for the Digby area to achieve. This may be something of an idealistic dream, but it should be understood that this survey report was prepared only as guide for the Digby area educational needs. These needs, however, are not educational needs, but are financial needs. These needs, however, are not educational needs, but are financial needs. These needs, however, are not educational needs, but are financial needs.

(a) The erection of an educational services centre as a separate unit to serve the needs of all urban schools. The centre should include one double floor gymnasium adequate for two full-time instructors working together. Provision should also be made for an audio-visual area capable of accommodating 200 people. Locker space and shower facilities should be adequate for the accommodation of the largest class. Two or three more conference rooms and office space would be desirable.

(b) Conversion of the present Regional School gymnasium facilities entirely to the use of physical education activities. The stage area to be converted into storage area and dressing rooms. These structural changes would greatly enhance the facilities of the Physical Education department;

(c) The setting up of a language laboratory and reading clinic for use of urban classes especially, at the primary elementary levels;

(d) Purchase of equipment for the three new laboratories to bring these facilities to more acceptable standards;

(e) Purchase of equipment for the three new laboratories to bring these facilities to more acceptable standards;

(f) Paving and landscaping project to be completed as a project.

active measure for our classroom floors.

It should be noted that the foregoing suggestions designed to improve the curriculum offerings of the Digby Schools do not include all the items that should receive consideration.

There are, however, sufficient projects to provide food for serious thought and the implementation of these projects would provide Digby with an educational program of which our citizens could be justifiably proud.

Projection of Capital Costs

It must be emphasized that the projection of probable costs at the best be no more than an educated guess. Certainly, the cost of providing such facilities would not be less, and quite probably more, than the projection indicated. The projection of estimated costs is submitted without any assurance as to its accuracy.

Estimated Capital Costs of the Proposed Program

Construction of Educational Centre - $250,000

Equipment of Language & Reading Clinic - 15,000

Implementation of Recommendations of Department of Health & Education - 35,000

Equipment for home Economics Center - 35,000

Regulations for old gymnasium - 15,000

Equipment for science laboratory - 20,000

Paving Project - 35,000

Books - 10,000

Urban share of project - $275,000

Municipal share - $200,000

Projection of Annual Capital Cost to Urban & Municipal Taxpayers

The following annual operational costs are projected on the premise that the suggestions contained in this survey report were to be implemented in full. The school boards in each area are projected for assistance in the cost of the capital equipment in the following manner:

Total Urban Share

Departmental Salary - $140,000 $275,000

Administrative Salaries - 17,000 7,000

Administrative Expenses - 9,500 4,000

Capital Charges - 20,000 20,000

Total - $186,500 $326,000

Probable share on the tax rate - 67 cents.

Conclusions

While as educators, we realize that we should not be overly concerned as to the financial involvement arising from the Digby educational needs, nevertheless, conservative judgment suggests that a program of this magnitude is an onerous task in the financial ability of the taxpayers of the Digby area to provide. Possibly, a joint regional educational program could be devised in consultation with the provincial educational authorities which would make it possible for the Digby area to achieve. This may be something of an idealistic dream, but it should be understood that this survey report was prepared only as guide for the Digby area educational needs. These needs, however, are not educational needs, but are financial needs. These needs, however, are not educational needs, but are financial needs. These needs, however, are not educational needs, but are financial needs.

(a) The erection of an educational services centre as a separate unit to serve the needs of all urban schools. The centre should include one double floor gymnasium adequate for two full-time instructors working together. Provision should also be made for an audio-visual area capable of accommodating 200 people. Locker space and shower facilities should be adequate for the accommodation of the largest class. Two or three more conference rooms and office space would be desirable.

(b) Conversion of the present Regional School gymnasium facilities entirely to the use of physical education activities. The stage area to be converted into storage area and dressing rooms. These structural changes would greatly enhance the facilities of the Physical Education department;

(c) The setting up of a language laboratory and reading clinic for use of urban classes especially, at the primary elementary levels;

(d) Purchase of equipment for the three new laboratories to bring these facilities to more acceptable standards;

(e) Purchase of equipment for the three new laboratories to bring these facilities to more acceptable standards;

(f) Paving and landscaping project to be completed as a project.

Mrs. Fred White was a visitor in Saint John over the weekend. Misses Lynn and Cathy White were guests of their aunt, Mrs. Helen Hayes.

New Dessert Star For Your Diet

Even if you're on a diet you can have desserts, provided you have special recipes that are low in calories. Strawberry Chiffon is made with a diet-disposed recipe that makes you forget you're dieting. It is a fluffy dessert that is moist and holds form with unadorned elegance. Because it has no flour, this gelatinous treat is all the natural flavors of low-calorie fruit. It is a delicious treat for those who desire diet desserts. Enjoy Strawberry Chiffon - a deliciously diet dessert, too.

Strawberry Chiffon

1 envelope Knox Unflavored Gelatin
1/2 cup cold water
1 teaspoon salt
Non-nutritive sweetener equivalent to 1 cup sugar

1 tablespoon lemon juice
1/2 teaspoon vanilla
1 pint strawberries, washed and hulled
2 egg whites
1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar

Sprinkle gelatin over cold water in saucepan. Place over low heat; stir constantly until gelatin dissolves, about 3 minutes. Remove from heat. Stir in salt, non-nutritive sweetener, lemon juice and vanilla. Mash berries, or puree in electric blender; add to gelatin mixture. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture is consistency of unbeaten egg whites. Beat egg whites with cream of tartar until stiff. Fold into gelatin mixture. Turn into 10-ounce mold. Chill until firm. Unmold.

YIELD: 6 to 8 servings.

Digby General Hospital Plans $14,000 Equipment Purchase

The Administrator of the Digby General Hospital, Ralph G. Stacey, was guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Auxiliary of the Digby General Hospital, held in the Hospital Board Room. The president, Mrs. H. B. Warren, introduced Mr. Stacey, said she had invited the Administrator to speak to the Auxiliary primarily to supply the answer to a question that has arisen as to why the Auxiliary should be so concerned about the hospital. Mr. Stacey, in his comprehensive report, stated plans were underway to purchase equipment for two beds for coronary intensive care and two beds for pulmonary intensive care. It was noted that hospitals having this equipment have a lower mortality rate than hospitals where such units are not in use. Heart monitoring is the basis of an intensive care unit and the cost involved could be as high as $14,000 to equip two coronary care units and two pulmonary care units. Several years ago the Auxiliary had agreed to purchase a heart monitor and since this machine proved unsatisfactory and was returned to the company, the Auxiliary expressed willingness to pay whatever difference there would be between the original machine and a new one which would be in the vicinity of $5,000. After a question period, the president, in thanking Mr. Stacey, assured him of the Auxiliary's support and financial assistance in purchasing the heart monitoring equipment but that the extent of their contribution would have to be determined by the members when final figures were available. The Auxiliary now has approximately $2,500 invested in bank certificates and with the balance in both regular and current accounts, over $10,000 could be made available. Mrs. Warren said.

The treasurer's report showed a cash balance of $672.44 and the current account $1,496.69. Hospital visits made by the convener, Mrs. E. J. Theodanis, assisted by Mrs.

Bile Comen, totalled 121 with 31 visits made by various Auxiliary members. The secretary, Mrs. E. Comen read a letter from Mr. Macleone of Southville confirming the intention of Southville, Berwick and Devers to sponsor a booth in the Hospital Fair. The president expressed the Auxiliary's appreciation to all outside groups sponsoring both the fair and the hospital.

to sell tickets and Mrs. Macleone. Leonard will sell tickets as a framed watercolor by the late Captain Paul Desautels. Mrs. Macleone Smith, Supervisor of Nurses, donated a framed watercolor by the late Captain Paul Desautels for use on each patient's bed and a watercolor will be purchased up to $5 at the cost of approximately $10. Refreshments were served by Mrs. John Englehart and Mrs. Muriel Smith as hostesses.

Long Island Needs

One of the most extensive and finest displays at the recent Language Arts Fair held in the Digby Regional High School under the supervision of the Supervisor of Curriculum, K. H. Chappell, came from the Islands schools. Above, left, is David Outhouse, of Tiverton, admiring a poster from Long Island which under "Language Arts" tells a number of things which Long Island needs. Below, right, is a poster from Westport school, explaining to Mr. Outhouse the idea of the Language Arts involvement is Mrs. Outhouse, a teacher, Helen Outhouse and Darlene Clelland express interest in work submitted by their pupils while Mrs. Wilson Outhouse, Island teacher, examines work done by students of Smith's Cove school.

Petition For Petite Causeway Or Bridge

A petition is expected to be circulated by the Fundy Board of Trade on the Islands for the construction of a causeway or bridge and harbour facilities across the Petite Passage between Tiverton on the Island and East Ferry on Digby Neck. The petition will be presented to the House of Commons, Ottawa, in the near future. The petition is a demonstration of the great concern of the people in the area to have this project brought to a successful conclusion. The petition states that the "only means of public passage from Tiverton to East Ferry across the Petite Passage, connecting the seaward waters of the Bay of Fundy with those within St. Mary's Bay, has been and is a very narrow and inadequate to the needs of the residents of southwestern Nova Scotia by reason of its small size and the limitation upon its hours of operation as well by reason of the increase in passenger and vehicle use, both private and commercial. It further states that the inadequacy of the ferry causes great inconvenience and financial loss to the residents of southwestern Nova Scotia by impeding travel to and from Long Island and Digby Neck to the increasing detriment of the operations of the fish plants on Bear Island and Long Island, the development of the tourist industry, the commercial fisheries at Tiverton Harbour and East Ferry Harbour, and generally to the detriment of each and every one of the residents of southwestern Nova Scotia who move on at all other of their lawful occasions they must cross the Petite Passage where the great tides have ebb and flow. BLAST-OFF FOR BEAR RIVER BRIDGE

A heavy dynamite blast, creating a sound to be heard for miles was the actual start of the new Bear River bridge, which will be situated between the DAB bridge and the present Victoria Bridge. Donning workmen's hard hats, Hon. Gernert Brown, M.P., Peter Nicholson, M.P., Benoit Comen and Captain Joseph Casey, M.L.A., stood in ceremony for the Blast Off. The ceremonies began when Rev. Martin G. Butler, United Church at Annapolis Royal, led in prayer and Mr. Brown made his welcoming remarks. Others who spoke were Mr. Nicholson, Mr. Comen and Mr. Casey. The benediction was pronounced by Father Albert de Baetramont, of St. Patrick's Church, Digby. The new pre-tensioned concrete bridge of segmental type construction is one of the first of its kind to be constructed in North America. The cost will be in the vicinity of $3,362,970. The length of the bridge will be 1,900 feet with 29% feet, including 31 foot roadway, 6 foot sidewalk and a 2% foot curb. There will be 18 spans each of 20 x 14 x 12 feet. The piling for piers will be 60 to 70 feet. Mr. Brown, in his address said that similar bridge have been constructed most efficiently and have opened most effectively in Europe, with reductions in maintenance costs. Its sweeping beauty will blend with the magnificent scenery which Bear River possesses and provide a panoramic view for everyone who uses it. The new bridge, he said, marks a vital link in the new trunk highway system between Halifax and Yarmouth, and the new highway will extend from both ends of this link and part of the approach highway system is in fact, in the bridge contract. FIRE DESTROYS THREE BEAR RIVER BUSINESSES

Four fire departments, Bear River, Digby, Annapolis Royal and CPR Campville, worked to save Bear River between five and six-thirty o'clock on Sunday afternoon in an effort to stop a fire which eventually reduced three businesses to ashes. The fire apparently began in the rear of Bernard Fraser Store and spread to the winter closed store of Mrs. Grace Hanco and the Mabelle Diner or amusement place. The loss was estimated by Bear River Fire Chief at approximately $25,000. Materials saved amounted to $4,500 and efforts of the firemen saved the Irving Service Station on one side and the Harris Meat Market on the other. The fire jumped the last of the burned grass on the adjacent bank and the fire department had a 26-hour duty was kept by the firemen. No loss of life or injuries were sustained. In an apartment above the Fraser building was Mrs. Pauline Lee, who has been a patient invalid since a car accident, living in the apartment. The fire apparently began in the rear of Bernard Fraser Store and spread to the winter closed store of Mrs. Grace Hanco and the Mabelle Diner or amusement place. The loss was estimated by Bear River Fire Chief at approximately $25,000. WOODEN SHIPS AND IRON MEN

A. F. Theriault and Sons Shipyard, Meteghan River, Digby County, N.S., were builders of the recent ferry boat, C. Monty Macmillan, launched at Meteghan River on Thursday. Above is A. F. "Gus" Theriault, president. (Please turn to page 6)

Shortly after the C. Monty Macmillan ferry boat was christened by Kimberley Macmillan and slid down the docks, she was moved to the A. F. Theriault & Sons wharf for continued fitting. The Department of Highways double ended twin propeller ferry specifications are: 230 tons; length, 121 feet; width, 30 feet; twin 365 horse-power Caterpillar engines; modern electronic system steering; wooden hull (oak); Douglas Fir deck beams; planking of five inch square Douglas fir; steel girder engine bed, runs full length of hull; shaft, propellers and rudders of stainless steel; in-board for propellers; capacity, maximum 20 vehicles depending upon cargo and approximately 40 passengers in cabin. The $375,000 ferry boat will operate at Bear River between the Grand Narrows and Long serving Route 223, Cape Breton, with a crew of four, captain, engineer, deckhand and purser.

Notes from Bird Haven

THE SWALLOWS RETURN

The swallows have returned. A few are looking over the house situation in the south end of town, but the most of them are over the lakes and marshes, where there are more insects flying. They do all their feeding on the wing.

Whiteley has gone to the woods with the rest of the White Throats. I held him on my hand outdoors for several minutes before he took off. The house seems very empty without his sweet Canada - Canada - Canada song.

I was walking through the field the other morning and met a big red Robin with his bill plastered with mud. I watched him and found where he was setting up house-keeping. Since that time I have seen him carrying mouthfuls of grass. No doubt by this time he has a good sturdy nest all built and ready for four or five bluish green eggs.

When the Robins first arrive they claim certain sections for their own and won't allow another pair to settle in their territory. I watched one tussling with a worn in the ground. He had won out, but in the meantime another robin had come along and lit fairly close. The first one laid the worm down and took after Robin number two and drove him away. He then returned to his worm and had a good breakfast.

I still have a few Grosbeaks coming. When the first came to these parts they usually left early in April. My latest record of one lone female was May 11th. Recent ly they have been staying on through the summer and nesting here as I have seen them several times with their young. They either like our warmer weather or are saving on travelling expenses. Their usual nesting location is the far north.

The lovely Snowy Egret is still with us. He or she similar spent last summer in the same place.

The Weebles will soon be coming back. I have noticed the Yellow Warbler arrives just about the time the leaves are opening on the forsythia bushes and a few yellow blooms are still there. The little Warbler catches the many insects flying around it. His colour blends in with the bush and you can hardly see him. He keeps up a steady song and I call it my singing bush.

All for this time.

The Bird Lady.

IN MEMORIAM

BAIN — In loving memory of a dear Dad, George R. Bain, who departed this life May 4, 1954. He has passed through death's valley To that beautiful mansion above.

Starting God's blessed glory And the sunshine of His love. Some day we too, must travel. We know not the hour or when. Then God will link the broken chain.

As one by one we meet again. — Lovingly remembered by Daughter Sylvia and son-in-law Doreen Lewis. 38:1c

SMALL — In loving memory of Sidney N. Small, who passed away May 5, 1964. Memories of you we hold so dear. In thoughts we keep you near. Time and years will not fade, But loving memories never die. — Always remembered by wife, Mabel. 38:1c

COLLINS — In loving memory of my dear wife, Christina Sophia, who left me suddenly May 10, 1970. One sad and lonely year has passed. Since that great sorrow has passed. The shock that I received that morning. No one can ever tell. I was given strength to carry on. And courage to bear the blow. But what it meant to lose you, no one will ever know. — Always remembered by husband, Lyndon. 38:1c

COLLINS — In loving memory of a dear mother, Christina Sophia, who left us suddenly May 10, 1970. Memories are treasures no one can steal. Death is a heartache no one can heal. Some may forget you, now that you are gone. But we will remember no matter how long. For those who have a mother, treat her with love and care. For you will never know the heartache until she isn't there. — Always remembered by daughter, Elizabeth, son-in-law, Victor, grandchildren Lyndon and Sherry. 38:1c

THURBER — In loving memory of my husband, Frank Thurber, who passed away May 11th, 1970. Some where back of the sunset. Where no sadness never dies. He lives in a land of glory. Amid blue and golden skies. To be his last rest place. Nor has he travelled far. He has entered God's lovely garden. And left the gate ajar. — Sadly missed by wife, Grace. 38:1c

BRIN — In loving memory of our son and grandson, Billy Brin, who passed away May 11, 1970. We love to think of you, dear Billy. In moments bright and fair. There Jesus reigns in glory. There is no sorrow there. — Always remembered and sadly missed by Mom, Dad, Sister and Grandmother. 38:1c

STANTON — In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. Susan Stanton, who passed away May 20, 1960. It's someone here without you mother. We miss your helping hand. And why you had to go so soon. We cannot understand. So many things have happened. Since you were called away. You were so called away. So many things to share with you. Had you been left to stay. It took our hearts to lose you. A part of us went with you. The night God called you home. — Sadly missed by her children: Stella Pirkin, Pearl Newey, Frances Prime, Elaine Newey, Cliff Stanton, Arthur Stanton, Albert Stanton. 38:1c

THURBER — In loving memory of my husband, Frank Thurber, who passed away May 11th, 1970. Some where back of the sunset. Where no sadness never dies. He lives in a land of glory. Amid blue and golden skies. To be his last rest place. Nor has he travelled far. He has entered God's lovely garden. And left the gate ajar. — Sadly missed by wife, Grace. 38:1c

BRIN — In loving memory of our son and grandson, Billy Brin, who passed away May 11, 1970. We love to think of you, dear Billy. In moments bright and fair. There Jesus reigns in glory. There is no sorrow there. — Always remembered and sadly missed by Mom, Dad, Sister and Grandmother. 38:1c

THURIAULT — In memory of a dear father and grandfather, Edgar Thuriault, who passed away May 9, 1960. Your death was very sudden. It made us weep and cry. But the sunniest part of all, Dad.

You never said goodbye. But I see you every day. It seems to smile and say, "Don't cry, I'm only sleeping. You'll see me again some day." For you were with us, dear. For you never knew the heartache.

"I'll know he isn't there. — Always remembered by son, Newman A. Thuriault, daughter, Mary, grandchildren, Valerie, Wayne and Paul. 38:1c

DOUCETTE — In loving memory of a dear father, Clifford Doucette, who passed away Nov. 27, 1954. Thinking of you, Dad, then that is nothing new. We thought about you yesterday. And the day before that too. We still think of you today. And each day through the year. Still loved, still missed, and very near. — Always remembered by daughter, Beatrice, grandchild, Shirley-Rae, Beverly. 38:1c

HATTFIELD — In loving memory of a dear mother and grandmother, who passed away May 7, 1970. This month comes back with tears and hearts. You fell asleep without goodbye. But my memories of you will never die. I miss you more than anyone knows. As each day passes my emptiness grows. — No one knows the grief I bear. When our family meets and those who visited me, the nurses and staff for their kindness during my work weeks at the Royal Victoria Hospital in Montreal. I also wish to thank those who accompanied me to and from Montreal, those who helped take care of my body while I was away, and a special thank you to Dr. Bulman, Dr. Igor Blisac, Dr. Norman Bulman, and to Capt. and Mrs. Richard Blisac, who have done so much for me. — Mrs. Emily Robichaud, Bellevue. 38:1c

WALKER — The family of the late William A. Walker, of Waterville, wish to express heartfelt thanks to all those who sent floral tributes, cards of sympathy, fund donations, or in any way assisted during our recent sad bereavement. Special thanks to Doctors Waterville, who were on duty staff on the first floor at Blanchard Fraser Memorial Hospital; Jay's Funeral Home; Le. Jackson Willett, organist, choir and pallbearers, who were so kind during our time of sorrow. — Wife and family. 38:1c

LITCHFIELD — The family of Mrs. Laura Litchfield wish to express sincere thanks to the staff, nurses, and doctors on the first floor of the Digby General Hospital for their wonderful care and kindness shown, during her illness, there. 38:1c

STANTON — In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. Susan Stanton, who passed away May 20, 1960. It's someone here without you mother. We miss your helping hand. And why you had to go so soon. We cannot understand. So many things have happened. Since you were called away. You were so called away. So many things to share with you. Had you been left to stay. It took our hearts to lose you. A part of us went with you. The night God called you home. — Sadly missed by her children: Stella Pirkin, Pearl Newey, Frances Prime, Elaine Newey, Cliff Stanton, Arthur Stanton, Albert Stanton. 38:1c

VIEWS ON EDUCATION

By: Charles Haldorson
(These views are not expressed on behalf of the Board of School Commissioners of which Mr. Haldorson is Chairman. They are personal views.)

Education is a topic which has been much talked about over the past few weeks, particularly with reference to budget considerations. It is a topic which will no doubt be the centre of a great deal more public discussion in the future than it has been in the past. A phase in the development of education in this Province and, indeed, in North America, has apparently come to an end. The past few years have seen far-reaching innovations in the cost of the so-called education system, increases which governments, and I think the public, are finding insupportable. It would seem that the education system must now be facing a new phase of its development.

ment, a phase in which there will be rationalization of facilities to use an old town in a modern school and a hand-on look at the objectives and the effectiveness of current educational philosophy. Education, the method of achieving it, and the importance of possessing it are at the core of the central concern of public comment, and some of the most fascinating subjects which one can discuss. Public attention is drawn to the subject because of the enormous cost. Over one-half of the entire tax monies raised in the Town of Digby is devoted to education, but that amount, enormous in terms of the Town's revenue, pays little more than half the expenses of the Board of School Commissioners. In fact about 55% of the cost is borne by the Town directly while the remaining 44% is borne by the Province under Federation of Schools Programmes. To put it another way, if the Federation programme were abandoned (and we may see a tendency in that direction) so that the Town would bear the entire cost, the total present tax levy would be required to support the current expenses of the "Urban Board".

Can we afford it? Are we getting our money's worth? Those two questions are the ones which are usually heard when the subject is raised without answers. I have been asking them and I have reached my private conclusion that "education" held views on these subjects which are equally as various as "mymen". Any educator who presumes to know the answer makes himself immediately as ridiculous as any lawyer who presumes to know all about law or any mechanic who pretends to know all about machines. The question, however, that most interests me is one that runs something like this: "Are the objectives of our present educational system valid in the present day?" Or, put another way, "Is the entire thrust of the educational process misdirected?" Again, is a personal matter, my concern has been growing rapidly about the future of that question. Once it has been answered, the answers to the earlier questions become merely mechanical. My concern has been growing for several years, one of the foremost being that more and more frequently I hear educators quoted with

Farewell To Frank

On Wednesday, April 28, 1971, Sergeant Frank Pawlick, poet, sports reporter and broadcaster, passed away. He was 50 years old. He was born in the town of Digby, Nova Scotia. He was a member of the Public Information Office, left CFB Cornwallis and military life. He boarded the ferry at Digby for Saint John, N.B., there to take up a new life as the Sports Director of C.I.B.S., better known to this area as the Valley in Channel 4.

Poetry Corner

Mother

Her gentle face I remember well,
So warm, so touching warm,
And the kind blue eyes were dancing eyes,
Sometimes happy, sometimes sad,
Depending if her day was filled with care,
And I hope I never put the sadness there.

Her hands, warm by years of toil
Were strong though weary hands,
Like a cup that could depend to guide me,
Soothing hands, giving, doing, serving,
Hands doing everything they touched just to know,
Hands, that sadness never came to know.

And her smile, her laugh, her joyous laugh,
These filled my days with happiness,
Like a cup that over flows and spills
Into my life today.
So . . . this is why I say,
Blessed are these memories of my Mother.

Human Relations

During Mental Health Week, May 1st to May 8th, as well as throughout the year, it might be well for all of us to refresh our minds with regard to the Ten Commandments of Human Relations. These are not hard to follow and if they are applied to our individual lives as well as our corporate life, we might all be happier because of it.

No Cause For Undue Clam Alarm

Reports of widespread pollution of clam beds around the province are creating unnecessary alarm among commercial fishermen dealers concerned for the future of the $500,000 a year industry. Fisheries Minister Brundt Comans said recently.

These are not hard to follow and if they are applied to our individual lives as well as our corporate life, we might all be happier because of it.

Human relations play a great part in the maintenance of good mental health. The development of improved relations can therefore be an important part of the advancement of mental health.

The Ten Commandments of Human Relations, as they were published some years ago in "Trees Magazine," are as follows:

1. Speak to people. There is no one who is not interested in you.
2. Listen to people. There is no one who is not interested in you.
3. Be kind to people. There is no one who is not interested in you.
4. Be honest to people. There is no one who is not interested in you.
5. Be fair to people. There is no one who is not interested in you.
6. Be clean to people. There is no one who is not interested in you.
7. Be brave to people. There is no one who is not interested in you.
8. Be loyal to people. There is no one who is not interested in you.
9. Be respectful to people. There is no one who is not interested in you.
10. Be helpful to people. There is no one who is not interested in you.

April Events At Smith's Cove Baptist Church

During the month of April, several special events were held by organizations of the Smith's Cove United Baptist Church.

Pastor Whitney was guest speaker at the North Brookfield Baptist Church during Easter week. On Easter Monday, the Senior Choir of the Smith's Cove Church provided special music under the direction of Mrs. R. M. Winchester.

In addition to choir numbers, W. C. Gerold Young and his father, Clifford A. Robbins, presented a duet, also Misses Cathy Adams and Elaine Blacklock. Mrs. George Blacklock, Clementsport, interim organist at Smith's Cove, was the accompanist. The Men's Choir of the Deep Brook Pastorate presented special music on Wednesday evening of that week, accompanied by Mrs. Blacklock.

Sunday morning, April 18th, following the Sunday School hour, the Mission Band held its monthly meeting with Miss Sue Winchester presiding. The opening prayer was given by Outboard E. Weir and was followed by the reading of the scripture in St. John 16:7-10.

The Praise and Comfort, Evening special music for this program were: piano solos, Peter Freeman and Ron Harrison; vocal numbers, Miss Cathy Adams, Laurie and Margaret Gray, Mrs. Harley Weir, C. E. Weir and Mrs. R. M. Winchester. Mrs. Brenda Robinson presented a reading entitled "He Had No Song."

Sunday evening, April 18th, the Rev. Earl Waterman of Deep Brook, conducted the service in the absence of pastor Murray who was in Nova Brookfield. Mr. Waterman's message was on "Running Away from God" using as his text Ps. 139.

The W. M. S. held its meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Winchester. Miss Sue Winchester, president, presided. An interesting and of floats and decorated cars will take place. The theme will be "After Holidays" which will include all national holidays along with the Acadia's special holidays. The Festival committee asks those entering floats and decorated cars to follow the theme of this year's festival but those who wish to enter floats of any kind are welcome.

The Western Nova Scotia Handcraft Sale and Exhibition will be a two-day affair at the high school taking place on Friday and Saturday which will start Friday morning. An exhibition of work will be displayed, showing the various degrees of pastels shades raised in Clare. A handcraft display will also be on the 411 Club will also have an exhibition at the Festival where you may see the very fine work done by the 411 Club members. They had a very successful exhibition in last year's Acadia Festival.

First will be shown sponsored by the Department of Fisheries and an open golf tournament at the Clare Golf and Country Club starting on July 18th and continuing until the 18th will take place on their golf course at Comesterville.

The committees already appointed are: Souvenir booklet, James White chairman, and Philip Connor; Dance, Oneil Blinn and Don Connor; Entertainment and Games, Mrs. Blanche Gaudet and Mrs. Jennifer Young; Contest, Mrs. M. J. Walker; Concert, Paul Connor and Robert Lobb; Babcock, chairman, Paul Connor.

Members of the committee to be selected by Mr. Connor; the Parade committee; the Knights of Columbus of Clare; the St. John's parish; the church members on the committee; last year the Melchior Lions Club was in charge of the parade. The St. John's parish committee chairman will be appointed shortly.

The Elementary Schools of Clare drawing and painting exhibits will be held during the Acadia Festival at the Clare District High School. This year 21 students who have entered the contest will have their work on display. This year's work was displayed and only the winners' work was displayed. All exhibits have been asked to participate.

This year's Acadia Festival promises to be the best festival to date. A complete program will be shown at a later date.

Impromptu music was led by Mrs. Ada Winchester which involved the participation of all members present.

The Ladies' Auxiliary held a successful Spring Supper in the vestry of the church on Saturday, April 24th. Proceeds for missionary projects were approximately $150.

During the month of May, and June special music will be provided until May 10th by the Men's Choir; Miss Amanda Cromwell of Conway will be guest soloist on May 20th; Louise "Bud" Winchester; and on June 25th a Choir Festival entitled "Singing Evangelists" will be presented by the choir of the Clementsport, Deep Brook and Smith's Cove Baptist Churches and the Men's Choir. Also on June 18th a special youth program will be presented by the children and youth of the church.

CONCERNED ABOUT
tion of buses and bus drivers in some areas.

Due to the nearing completion of the school year the Municipal School Board declared it would be impractical to try to apply these regulations at present until further study and discussion has been carried out by the Board, and proper planning has been completed. The regulations will be put into effect in Digby County next fall.

Since the new regulations are in effect at present under provincial law, no assistance will be forthcoming from the government for this year's bus routes which do not meet the regulations.

The Municipality therefore must pay for all bus routes less than two and one half miles and also for any time that the buses travel without students aboard.

Cleveland Heads Curling Club

The annual meeting of the Digby Curling Club was held in the Clubrooms, with 27 members present.

Adler, a buffet meal attended to by the Ladies' Curling Club, the retiring president, A. L. Adler, thanked the ladies for the excellent food that they had made available to the men's club.

Club secretary, C. E. Hay-benton, read the correspondence and committee reports were made. H. G. Webster presented the report of the foreigner brought committee, listing the places visited and the representatives of the teams, as well as the results of outside teams visiting Digby.

J. J. Brittain reported on the Building and Grounds committee and spoke highly of the efforts put forth by many of the club members in helping to renovate the clubrooms. He expressed that during the summer or only half the renovations would be completed.

Kelsey Raymond presented interesting statistics on the club's successful Saturday night curling. There were 51 games at these mixed plays, which played for twelve weeks, playing a total of 558 ends and the ending 6,086 stones.
Raymond gave special thanks to the many people who had helped to make this activity so successful, giving special thanks to Carl Thomas who so often was found in the kitchen on the "buzzer" holding.

Stuart MacNaughton gave an history of the ice committee and told of strenuous actions taken by the committee, but he was corrected by Jack Brittain who stated that Stuart had probably put in a more likely 216 votes. Mr. Mac-Naughton received an ovation from the members for his efforts in maintaining the ice surfaces at the club.

Gerard Horne of the match committee presented five inquiries to winners as follows:
WRIGHT TROPHY: Skip,
Stu MacNaughton; Mate, Gerry Horne; Second, Bob Whitman; Lead, Wilson Collins.

SAUNDERS SHIELD: (this shield is missing, but the individual trophies were presented anyhow.) Skip, Austin
Alger; Mate, Muelton Leeson;
Second, Dr. Lewis; Lead, Carl Thomas.

MADOLIAN TROPHY: Skip,
Jack Brittain; Mate, Muelton Leeson; Second, Bob Whitman; Lead, Carl Thomas.
PRESIDENTS' TROPHY: Skip, Austin Alger; Mate, Ted Dal-kin; Second, Don Cameron; Lead, Jimmy O'Rourke.

A special award called The Stingie Not Award, was presented to Stu MacNaughton, by Jack Brittain. This award is symbolic of the greatest effect put forth by any one member for the success of the club.

"De John" was summoned to tell a tale in such a manner by club president Austin Alger that the Dr. felt he was unable to top the remark just made by the president.

Following the story the president then made a special award to Kelsey Raymond whose conscientious effort has made the Saturday night curling such a tremendous success. The recipient then made a special award to the club president, Austin Alger, for his time and effort and support to the club during his term of office.

A special Yesso award was presented to Jack Brittain by the president for extra special effort in club support in the meeting.

respecting to this award Jack stated that it was a pleasure to bring to this good friend by club, and said he was sure that the future of the Digby club was a bright one.

The results of the elections were that Tom Cleveland had been president; Charles Hall and Vernon Wessel, first and second vice-presidents respectively; and Charles Hall and Don Cameron as treasurer or.

Before the president gave his report, a one minute silence was observed for Martin
H. Barnes, long-time member and one time president of the Digby club.

The outgoing president was high in his praise to all those who made the year a successful one, particularly those who gave so much time to the club renovation.

Considerable discussion was given to a summer events program to raise funds, and to a scheme proposed by Stu Mac-Naughton for a "Debut-Tri-

Islands Hosts

Weymouth In Badminton Play

On Thursday evening, May 6th, sixteen members of the Weymouth Badminton Club travelled to Freeport to engage in some friendly badminton competitions. Fourteen games were played in all, and while the scores were very close, the Islands Club emerged with a winning margin of 9 games to 5. Weymouth, however, is in its first year of operation as an expanded club and shows excellent promise for development of twenty competitive badminton players.

Helping to lead the margin of victory for islands, was
B. Campbell, Senior High student from the Islands Consolidated, who won all 4 games in which he played. For Weymouth, B. Thurler was top performer, winning both his encounters.

Following the evening's action, refreshments, featuring lobster chowder, were served for all in the House Room, evening, Weymouth, president, Mr. Sauter, extended the appreciation of his club for the invitation and the interesting evening provided by the host Islands Club. Jack Truitt, Islands Club president, responded by thanking Weymouth for coming. Also, while this would generate further enthusiasm for the sport on the Island and the future competition with Weymouth could be arranged next year. (The club this year has permitted on the Island without the participation of any of the ladies who used to attend regularly). Also, while refreshments were being served, Islands Club tournament director, K. H. Munger, presented in outline form the operation of a Badminton League within the Digby-Annapolis-Pictou District for the future coming year. It was felt that most clubs in this region were either newly organized ones or not establishing a culture of play much in advance of the new clubs. Formation of a League, with each club engaging in a "round-robin" series with each other club, was thought as being a potentially good way of promoting this sport and maintaining interest in it for years to come.

Within future weeks, members of clubs from the following areas will be contacted for further discussion on the topic of a "League" formation, Weymouth, Digby, Islands, Bear River, Chate and Orenville. People from these areas or others showing interest, might contact D. Scott of Digby, Bay Station, Rene LaFrance or Mel Sauter of Weymouth and Keith Munger of Freeport for further particulars. It is important that all "groundwork" be done now so that we are ready for commencement of League play in the coming autumn.

Program On Mother's Day

The North Range Baptist Women's Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. Millen Bragg for their April meeting. The president, Rev.
Mortie Ingersoll, greeted.
The theme of the devotional program, her topic, was Mother's Day, and was presented by Mrs. Hec Kianey.

The Spiritual Life comer, Mrs. E. Shortt, concluded that program, her topic being, Hannah, the mother of Samuel.

Special hymns for the service were—Mother's Bible, and Mother's Prayer.
Mrs. Milton Bragg had change of the program, Missions in the Congo.
The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. E.
Shortt.

During the business session it was decided to take the annual offering for the Christian and Emergency Fund at the June meeting.

A kind deed is never lost, although you may not see its results.

Brownies Receive Stars

All Bear River Brownies received one year stars at the Mother and Daughter Banquet held at the Bear River Legion Hall on Thursday evening. The Brownies were organized in Bear River within the past year. Mrs. Hyson Sutherland, Digby, Digby Divisional Commissioner, who was guest speaker, presented the stars. Left to right from row above are Sandra Wagner, Jolene Parker, Judith Williams and Dianna Chute. Back row are Julie Harris, Faye Longmire, Mrs. Sutherland, Mrs. Rose Berkeley (Brown Owl), Cindy Dunn, Theresa Hershaw, Cathy Bartel and Jane Porter.

He drives a VW Station Wagon.
Among its many saving graces is the 27 hugs it gets.

And since the engine's air-cooled, it'll never need oiling.
It'll also never boil over. Or freeze up.
And in Moncton's 37° below winters, an engine that won't freeze up is indeed a blessing.

The inside is out-sized. With almost twice the space of other station wagons. And enough seating to accommodate 7 adults. Comfortably.
Slide back the big easy-loading side door, remove the seats—and to and behold 141 cu.
ft. of cargo space appears.

Behind the rear seat is an additional 35.0 cu. ft. of luggage space.
Parking is a breeze. That's because the Wagon's only one foot longer than our beetle.
It'll also never foul over. Or freeze up.
You might want to avoid.

"On one particular occasion, had I been in an ordinary car it would have stuck completely in the mud and snow," relates the Reverend. "But the Wagon, with its rear-mounted engine, pulled right through. Of course, I can't give VW all the credit," he added with a smile.

"I may have had some outside help."

Digby Baptist Has Successful Musical Evening

An enjoyable and inspiring evening of music was enjoyed by a large and appreciative audience Sunday evening at the Digby Baptist Church.

The program consisted of a wide variety of vocal and instrumental selections, all local Digby area talent.

Father Albany d'Entremont got everything off to a most auspicious start by leading in the rousing spiritual "He's Got the Whole World in His Hands". During the program he also sang "It's a Long Road to Freedom", "He", and "Amazing Grace".

The program included the following solos: Margaret Levy, "Jesus Loves Me"; Joanne Frankland, "He Touched Me"; Karen Robertson, "Mother, Mary's Winchester"; "My Mother's Faith"; Judy Haines, "In the Image of God".

Joanne Amick sang "Midnight Before the Boat Aboard" to guitar accompaniment, leading the congregation in the choruses. Sherry Mose and Joanne Frankland sang "How Great Thou Art". Sherry's guitar accompaniment.

The following songs were: "Praise the Lord", "One Moment in Heaven", and "Nanny Nanny". Pat Wilson, "Whispering Hope" and "God Hates Not Penance". Nancy Rice, Laura Brown and Joanne Frankland did a trio selection, "Heaven Came Down".

The following groups presented selections: Digby Junior Church Choir, "The Good Old Gospel Train"; "Oh, Say, But I'm Glad"; and "Mother".

Yvonne Church Group, "Praise Him" and "He's Everything To Me".

Elnie Hersey presented a piano solo and four young ladies, M. Rice, L. Brown, J.

Juliette's Talentscope

There's no mistaking that beaming smile — it belongs to Juliette, host of a brand new CBC Radio series, Juliette's Talentscope, heard Saturdays at 7:03 p.m. EDT. It's intended to provide a showcase for new talent with professional experience who have had little or no network exposure. Co-hosting the show is John O'Leary (left).

Frankland and D. Wilson rendered a recorder ensemble number. Most inspiring organ arrangements were presented by Dietre Merrell and Dennis Brown.

In addition to the singing and instrumental, Alice Haines Sr. recited a lovely poem appropriate for Mother's Day.

After the program many remained for the informal social hour with coffee and doughnuts.

This has been one of a series of Community Concerts designed to bring the churches and people of the town more closely together through the common medium of music.

The aim is to foster more fellowship and to share together in the deeply inspiring spiritual resources of the faith.

JOGGIN' BRIDGE

Master Todd Crosby, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Crosby Jr., had the misfortune to fall and break his leg one day last week. He was a patient at the Digby General Hospital, but is now back home.

Visitors in Halifax during the past week were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Brinton and son Bruce; Mr. Wade Woodman, and Mr. and Mrs. Chester Brinton. They all visited Mrs. Woodman, who is a patient at the V. G. Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harrison also visited her on Sunday, May 2nd.

Mr. Larry Woodman, Wolfville, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Woodman, last week.

Triple Graduation

On Saturday, April 24th, the Bridgetown High School was the scene of a Square Dance Graduation, the three classes, Pandy Frolickers, Champion Steppers and Nixons Promenaders, having completed their lessons from east by Hugh Nixon.

The caller's wife, Marg Nixon, was presented with a beautiful cushion of red velvet, knitted on behalf of the three classes by Avey Sime.

Gifts were given to class dancers having perfect attendance. They were Anna Cross, Lovis Bent and Emma Bent of the Nixon Promenaders; and Marion Hanford, Leon and Arlene Longmore of the Champion Steppers.

Each class presented the caller and his wife with a gift. Arlene and Leon Longmore of the Champion Steppers presented them with an electric clock. The Nixon Promenaders represented by Audrey and Hank Postman, presented them with a set of bowls; while Steve and Joanne LeBlanc of the Pandy Frolickers presented them with a foot stool.

A spot dance was held with returns going to John Gordon, Elizabeth Chisholm, Marg

Mrs. Glen Stoddard and family, in the passing of Mr. Stoddard on Thursday. They just recently moved to Conway, after being residents of this area for quite a few years.

Sorry to report that Mrs. Norman Joudrey is a patient in the Digby General Hospital. Her many friends wish her a speedy return to good health.

The Society of Friends Club held their regular meeting on Tuesday evening, with Mrs. Lloyd Adams in Digby.

Mrs. Percy Abiel, Halifax, spent several days last week visiting her mother, Edith Kempton.

Unveil Historic Memorial Tablet

An Historic Memorial Tablet will be unveiled at the Old Stoney Beach United Baptist Church, Granville Beach, on Sunday evening, May 16th, at 7:30 p.m. The unveiling and dedication of the Tablet is part of the planned program of the Atlantic-Right United Baptist Association. Services to be held May 15th and 16th in the historic old site.

Rev. Danah Holmstead, Digby, Minister of the Association will preside over the Saturday services and conduct the Sunday unveiling and dedication ceremonies assisted by Rev. Edna Richardson, pastor of the Lower G. M. Baptist Church, and by Rev. Howard Harkin, Port Wolfe, Dr. George Levy of Wolfville.

Long, Frank Harris and Arlene and Leon Longmore.

Many clubs from Western Nova Scotia were present and during the "grand march" there were twenty-five sets on the floor.

The graduation came to a close with a lunch served in the school cafeteria.

W.M.S. Has Mother Theme

The Little River W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Sidney Trank. Mothers were the theme.

Due to the president's absence (Mrs. Rupert Trank), the vice-president, Mrs. Mary Wough, had charge of the meeting. The meeting opened by singing the hymn "Trust and Obey", followed by the missionary covenant. Two members were appointed as nurses to visit the Senior Association at Granville Beach. Mrs. Susan Denton and Mrs. Stanley Denton.

A duet by Mrs. Bernard Denton and Mrs. Clary Denton called "Mother", was sung.

Miss Ellen Frost had the privilege of reading the Sermon. Music will be provided by the Young Ladies' Chorus.

The Old Stoney Beach Baptist Church was the site of the organization of the Nova Scotia Baptist Association June 12 and 24, 1900 A.D. This was the first Baptist Association in Canada. The Memorial Tablet will not only mark the site of the first Baptist Association in Canada, but will also pay homage to the first Baptist work in the Atlantic Provinces.

Baptist missionaries in the Lower-Granville area began in 1770 and last year a "History of the Lower Granville United Baptist Church 1770-1970" was written for publication by Mrs. Roy Casey to mark 190 years of Baptist work in the area.

The Saturday sessions of the forthcoming Association will be held at 9:30 a.m. and 2:30 p.m. with Rev. Donald Robertson, Digby, presiding and Rev. John Beers, clerk. Speeches will be given through the day.

While you're at it, ask also for Dr. Atner Langley, Wolfville; Rev. Daniel Dryer, Saint John; Mrs. Norman Moore, Wolfville; and Mr. Kenneth Kenny, Bridgetown.

Dealing With Mental Problems

Emotional upsets, like physical upsets, are very common. Both are signs that the system is reacting to a "stress" or "strain" which disturbs the equilibrium.

Simple, minor emotional disturbances are a part of everyday life and everyone is subject to them. But there are disturbances that don't go away "just like that", which linger on for hours or days, or even weeks and become quite deep and intense so that they affect overall behaviour, feelings and thoughts.

When this situation is reached it is no longer just an upset or a disturbance, but an actual mental or emotional illness. For more information on the problem of dealing with mental illness, write the Canadian Mental Health Association, P. O. Box 71, Weymouth. Just ask for the free booklet "How to Deal With Mental Problems".

While you are at it, ask for the many other free booklets on health problems available through your local branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association.

Stress - And Your Health

There are varying degrees and different forms of stress — mental, emotional, physical and all have impact, sometimes good, sometimes bad, on health. Stress can often be the sign of life, or it can have damaging side effects which may lead to disease, cause us to act impulsively, or sometimes even shorten life.

For further information on Stress and Your Health, write today for a free booklet to the Canadian Mental Health Association, P. O. Box 71, Weymouth, or P. O. Box 72, Digby.

While you're at it, ask also for other free booklets on health problems, available by writing the Canadian Mental Health Association, P. O. Box 71, Weymouth.

Digby Born Minister Visits Scotland

Housing Minister, Scott Macmillan of Nova Scotia and three senior officials visited the new Scottish town of East Kilbride near Glasgow Monday.

They made the visit to study Scottish new town planning and housing, and after looking at several reconstructed 18th-century workers' cottages in the centre of the town, Macmillan said that he would probably be sending some features of the new area.

"Monty" Macmillan

Above is Dr. Carleton La Mont Macmillan, Baddeck, N.S., after whom the new high way ferry built by A. F. Theriault and Sons, Meteghan River, was named. She was christened by the doctor's granddaughter, Beverly Macmillan, Halifax, to the name "C. Monty Macmillan".

Dr. Macmillan was elected to the Provincial Legislature for Victoria County in 1959 and served as M.L.A. for 18 years before retiring.

Dr. and Mrs. Macmillan have a son, Dr. C. "Monty" Macmillan, Halifax, and a daughter, Mrs. Gaye Johnson, Fredericton, N. B. Mrs. Macmillan and the four children, along with Dr. Macmillan, attended the special fund-raising for the commission at Meteghan. The Macmillans of Baddeck were unable to be present. Mrs. E. G. STUDENTS WILL SEEK SUMMER EMPLOYMENT

Summer vacation time for many — but not for the thousands of students who will be making their way onto the Atlantic Provinces labour market in the next few weeks.

Manpower and Immigration Canada officials estimate the number of university, college, technical and high school students seeking summer employment this year will exceed 60,000.

"Although the Atlantic Region's current economic situation is expected to improve this summer, the student job situation will remain serious,"

Ten Miles For Ten Reasons Walkathon

The Weymouth Branch of the Canadian Red Cross Society will hold a Walkathon on Saturday, May 29th. Local Red Cross officials are hoping for 100 walkers to join in the 10 mile hike. The Walkathon route will wind through an area surrounding the Village of Weymouth and begins at 9 a.m.

The Red Cross is sponsoring the Walkathon and encouraging people to walk. They call it "10 miles for 10 reasons," ten important services carried out by Red Cross Societies.

Walkathon Sponsorship Red Cross forms are now being distributed throughout many areas.

The "10 miles for 10 reasons" Walkathon is designed to raise money to help continue valuable Red Cross programs.

The Walkathon is part of a province-wide Red Cross Walkathon Campaign on Saturday, May 29. On that day thousands of Nova Scotians will be walking for the Red Cross. President of the Weymouth Branch Douglas Anthony and Mrs. Wilfrid Mullen is secretary.

according to W. C. Stewart, Director General, Manpower and Immigration, Atlantic Region.

"Students need summer work to help finance next year's rising education costs," he continued. "Especially important, however, to those who find summer work in areas related to their studies, is the successful work experience which results."

Mr. Stewart suggested that community involvement will once more play an extremely important role in the success of the annual summer campaign.

"The federal government will be spending approximately $57.8 million this summer on a variety of programs for students but a great deal of the summer job-finding task remains with the community as a whole."

Last year nearly 28,400 post-secondary students in the Atlantic Region found some type of summer work. Canada Manpower Centres were responsible for the placing of nearly 14,000 students. The placement figure was up 35 per cent over 1969's figures. Only Quebec had a percentage increase of 30 per cent, was higher in all Canada.

"The private sector of industry will still have to come forward with the bulk of jobs for students," Mr. Stewart emphasized.

"CMC staff are co-operating with local groups in developing projects related to the Opportunities for Youth program sponsored by the Department of the Secretary of State," Mr. Stewart explained.

The youth program provides financial stimulus to non-profit youth, citizens, voluntary, religious, etc., organizations, societies, and agencies, public bodies and student groups, to plan, organize and initiate projects which will create new or expanded productive summer employment and meaningful activities for students.

"To inform students of the availability of militia, cadet and civilian training CMC staff are also contacting local Canadian Armed Forces units to establish liaison for this purpose," he stated.

Mr. J. J. Pottier, Manager of the Digby Branch CMC felt this year's serious summer employment situation will provide communities with an even greater opportunity to show what can be done by working together.

Various student groups have been in contact with the local CMC for information on the "Opportunity for Youth" program whereby they create their own projects and can request assistance from the Federal Government.

The regular meeting of the Interdenominational Bible Class met at the home of Mrs. Esther Marshall on Tuesday Evening, April 27th.

Mrs. Marshall was in charge of the devotional period, when she read "Two Way Forgiveness" and "Loving Ourselves."

The topic for discussion was Communion, and an article entitled "Favorable Bring Up Your Children" was also read.

Alice Haynes read "Juvenile or Parental Delinquency" which was very giving to a topic which was discussed during the lesson period, regarding the care of children.

May 11th is the date of the next meeting, which will be held at the Seabrook residence of Mrs. Gerald Budd.

Previous to the serving of refreshments, the leader of the class, Mrs. Carmen Frankland, opened the class with prayer.

Area Students Receive Degrees

Two honorary degrees of Doctor of Humane Letters was awarded to Sister Marie Agnes White, Ph.D., and 188 valedictorian students received degrees at the 44th Annual Convocation of Mount Saint Vincent University on May 11.

Degrees were conferred by the Most Rev. James M. Hynes, D.D., Archbishop of Halifax and Chancellor of the University. The Valedictory was given by Miss Janet Kline of Halifax who received a Bachelor of Arts, magna cum laude.

The honorary degree to Sister Marie Agnes was the first ever awarded by Mount Saint Vincent University and it is the climax of a promising career at the Mount which spans 50 years.

Among those who received degrees at the Convocation were, Gail Pearl Hersey, B.A., of Digby, who received a Bachelor of Education and Adele Argente-Willing, Cambridge Ferry, Bachelor of Arts.

Choral Group Praised

La Choro de la Baie Ste. Marie, which received so much acclaim at the Digby Festival, consists of approximately 50 voices led by Rev. Renald Oude, C.J.M. of St. Anne's College of Church Point.

The choral group, which was organized last fall, has plans to present a concert at St. Anne's College on Friday, May 14th at 8 p.m., and on Sunday, May 16th at 2 p.m.

The group has presented but one concert to date and it was presented in the St. Bernard R.C. Church in the village of the same name at Christmas time. Christmas carols and hymns were the theme of the concert and a very large audience attended.

The winter months present (Please turn to page 12)

Real action went into the project on Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock p.m. when twenty-five members of the C.Y.T. group at C.Y.E. Cornwallis made a raid on the garbage bags and other debris left on the beach.

The cleanup was organized by Lyle Moody and Sandy Pavick, teenagers, under the leadership of Captain Keith Mosley.

Poetry Corner

Salute To Digby

To Digby — a gem — a beautiful town
(We take it all for granted)
With our endless beauty and its Nearly missing beauty show
Where water, mountains, sky and all

Do make a picture beyond compare,
Birthplace of many captains
Who helped to build the town,
When the days of sail were the "good old days"
And in adventure, the chips were down.

Now days of schooners have long since gone
And the Princess boats have come;
And larger wharves are needed now
To accommodate the ferry run.
But even in the pangs of birth
Mildred's life is lovelier still.

So — have faith in the future of our town
As did stalwart men of days of sail,
To us they throw the flaming torch —
To carry it we DARE NOT fail.
'And so to Digby — we make this toast —
And to lady Progress — HAIL!

Tiverton

We are pleased to report Mrs. Ella Sallows, Mrs. Doris Messenger and Clarence Outehouse have returned from the Digby Hospital.

The Raccoon Came Tumbling Down

Normally, a raccoon doesn't attract any more than its usual share of attention, but when it is sitting peacefully on a telephone pole, well, that's a raccoon with a difference.

All day the 'coon had sat on its lofty utility perch on top of the telephone pole in the yard of Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Outehouse, hardly moving its hips, ringed tail. Compacitly he watched the traffic coming and going in the street just a few yards from him, and with apparent interest stared right up at him.

Occasionally the raccoon would climb to the top of the pole to nibble its precious position continued all day, but to no avail. It apparently knew what it wanted and was determined to hold onto it.

However, there came a time, even in the life of a raccoon, when it is realized that a seemingly immovable object can be moved. The raccoon, forced forever, along came a telephone lineman with a ladder and a long pole. Up went the pole and produced a pole at the raccoon's, by now, open, by break-lash. Unable to withstand the onslaught, the raccoon was forced to relinquish its exalted position from the top of the pole and went tumbling down to the ground.

Undaunted, the raccoon jumped up and skidded to escape its admiring public. Across the road it came, through a nearby field and to the brook with children and dogs in hot pursuit.

However, the 'coon had reached the safety of the brook and bushes lying the road where it soon lay in wait for its next meal.

With any luck at all it probably made it home in time for supper.

How Does Your Garden Grow?

Gardening can be fun. Even if you've just been a reluctant puller before, with the wealth of materials at hand today, gardening can be a breeze.

And the rewards are blossoms from the first buds to spring right up to frost. Here are some gardening tips to help you, whether you're a beginner or a pro.

• The secret to a beautiful garden is in the planning. For instance, if strong color accents are your goal, they must be planned.

• Flower beds and borders should be in a definite overall pattern. One blossom here and another there makes no "show" at all.

• Plan accents in your garden. One way is with an expandable Rubbermaid border fence. The sturdy white fence won't rust, warp or break. Your gilded staked stakes come with each, to its easy to install and it holds to just a few inches for compact storage.

• Other interesting additions might include a small fountain, colorful pots of flowers for extra outdoor lighting for enjoying your garden in the evening.

• If you're planning ahead, you can cut the lawn time, too. Make Westport

Presenting Petite Passage Petition A Rare Procedure

A petition is being circulated in Digby town and vicinity on Long Island and especially on Long Island and Bristol in requesting the federal government to construct a causeway or bridge between Tiverton and East Ferry on Digby Neck.

Inadequacy of ferry services causes great inconvenience and financial loss to the residents of southwestern Nova Scotia by impeding travel to and from Long Island and Digby Neck, the petition stated. They are increasingly detrimental to the operations of the fish plants on Brierley and Long Island, the development of the tourist industry, the commercial fisheries and by their dispersal, are such as to imperil and make hazardous the lives and safety of the fishermen who use them, the petition reads.

The petition, drawn up by Louis R. Connel, M.P., South West Nova, is unusual in that it will be presented to the third petition to be presented to parliament since the year 1800.

The Digby Courier satisfied its curiosity about presentations of petitions to parliament by contacting the person concerned, Mr. Connel, who advised that petitions are the whole basis of parliamentary system. Before there was a Parliament as such, in England, petitions were sent to the King by the common people. When the Parliamentary system came into being, petitions were then presented to Parliament instead.

By the year 1810 the British Parliament was being asked to debate 20,000 petitions a year. It was in the year 1810 that a group called the Chartists presented a petition to Parliament in England asking for salaries for Members, and demanding a secret ballot. That particular petition with signatures was so long that it had to be cut into smaller sections in order to be read to the House of Commons. It was shortly after the year 1800 that British Parliament ruled that petitions could not come before the House of Commons and be debated unless it was proven that they were of an urgent nature. Therefore, the practice of presenting petitions was dropped virtually. The last one to be presented was in 1800 with the year 1900 when one was brought to the House in Canada, and last year when one was also presented.

Therefore, only two petitions have been presented to Parliament since the year 1800. That of R. Louis Connel can will be the third. The petition was drawn up by lawyer and will, as Mr. Connel has received all signatures, be presented to the House of Commons. This is an ordinary petition, Mr. Connel advised.

MAYOR AND COUNCILLORS ATTEND CHRISTENING

Mayor Glen Smith and Mrs. Smith, Digby, attended the christening ceremonies of the new CPB Bay of Fundy ferry Princess of Acadia at Saint John, N.B., on Saturday.

Mayor Smith took part in the special function. Addressing the audience, Mayor Smith referred to the great significance of the new ferry in that the new ferry schedule had improved crossing services and fare reductions (see story elsewhere). Others from Digby who attended the ceremonies were Capt. Joseph Casey, M.L.A., and Mrs. Casey; Deputy Mayor Paul Winchester and Mrs. Winchester; Councillor Mrs. Ian Dillon and Councillor Willard Kinney. Digby, more than 250 were in attendance.

The new ship was christened by Mrs. G. E. Benoit, at the Saint John Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co. Ltd. where the new ferry was built. The inaugural trip across the Bay to Digby will be made on May 27 and the ferry will begin regular trips on June 1. The ship was blessed by Rev. L. J. Galey.

G. E. Benoit, vice-president, Atlantic Region, for CP Rail, said he was particularly pleased the contract for construction of the 6500 ton, $8,000,000 ferry had gone to a Maritime shipyard.

He said "it is a ship built in the Maritimes by Maritime shipbuilders."

Mr. Benoit praised all those involved in construction of the ferry, which he described as "a team effort". The new vessel will be named "Princess of Acadia". The present ferry will revert to its former name "Princess of Nanaimo" and be used elsewhere by CP Rail.

K. C. Irving, president of the Saint John Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co. Ltd., in his remarks, stressed the need for a long-term federal shipbuilding assistance program.

Canada is to have a competitive shipbuilding industry.

Deputy Mayor of Saint John, N.B. Arthur L. Gould, in addressing the audience, advised the city's part in providing for a better ferry service and expressed appreciation of the time and labour of the shipyard.

The new Princess of Acadia will be able to carry 650 passengers and 150 automobiles or 40-45-foot truck trailers and seven tractors or combinations of both. Hydraulically-operated bow and stern doors will allow a roll-on, roll-off system which cuts out the necessity of

Presented With Pins

Hospital Board Meets

Rowing business occupied Digby General Hospital Board members for the most part on Tuesday evening at the regular Board meeting.

Plans were made to set up a meeting with Dr. Graham Simms, Halifax, with anticipation of receiving extra funds to enable the Board to meet more nearly the requests by staff in wages.

Over One Hundred Attend School Workshop

On Monday, May 17, a writing workshop composed of the three grade eleven academic students was held in the multi-purpose room at the Digby Regional High School. The three guest speakers, Mrs. J. M. Wallis, editor of the Digby Courier; Mrs. MacLeod Rogers, librarian; and Mr. Victor Cardozo, president of the Digby Mental Health Association and with the Harvard School of Public Health, were introduced by Rebecca Brown.

The three groups of over one hundred students related from one speaker to another for forty minute intervals. The last session was an involvement period when students chose the group in which they were particularly interested.

Mrs. Wallis presented journalism as one of the aspects of English. She outlined the various features of this media, including the early history of newspapers and their importance in everyday life. Her experience in the newspaper field enabled her to instruct the students in the basic procedure of news reporting. In the last session, the students composed their own newspaper reports and by using the facts previously presented, they were able to determine a good report from a poor one.

The groups, through discussion, listed the responsibilities and importance of a news-

Preaches On 60th Anniversary Of Ordination

On Sunday morning, May 16, Dr. Thomas Roy preached in the Digby Baptist Church on the 60th anniversary of ordination in that church back in 1911. Despite his age of 87 years, Dr. Roy spoke with youthful vigor and moving power that warmed and inspired the hearts of his listeners.

His text for the morning was 2 Peter 1:5-7: "Add to your faith virtue; and to virtue, knowledge; and to knowledge, temperance; and to temperance, patience; and to patience, godliness; and to godliness, brotherly kindness; and to brotherly kindness, love." The sermon was entitled "Additives," and began with a humorous reference to the "additives" which manufacturers add to soap powders, gasoline and food products. Dr. Roy went on to talk about "additives that REALLY make a difference."

To be sure, faith is com-

VON To Call Public Meeting

The Digby Local Association Victorian Order of Nurses will hold a public meeting in place of its next regular board meeting in June. The purpose of the meeting is to decide the future of the Digby branch V.O.N. This decision was arrived at in the regular session held on Tuesday.

The resignation of Miss Marion Iversen, effective June 25, 1971, was regrettably accepted by the Board on Tuesday. Mrs. Lawrence Banks, former Miss Dianne Fawcett, who had been nurse-in-charge prior to Mrs. Iversen, will take over as Mrs. Iversen's successor.

The meeting on Tuesday was presided over by Mrs. MacLeod Rogers, vice-president, Charles Halliburton.

Transferred To New Brunswick

Earl Victor Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Ross, of R.R.3, Cullodon, Digby Co., N.S., engaged in the RCMP on 19-10-70. Having successfully completed Recruit Training on 5 May 71, Cst. Ross is being transferred for duty to the Province of New Brunswick.

— ABOUT THIS AND THAT —

Your Hospital Cares

In recent years the centre of community health care has shifted rapidly away from the doctor's office or the patient's home to the community hospital. Today, the doctor relies on the hospital's up-to-date equipment and facilities to help him diagnose and treat his patients. Along with his shift to a much larger, more complex system has come the public's rapidly-growing awareness that the community hospital — the place that never closes down, 365 days a year — is truly a remarkable institution. Among those who are conscious of the important place which hospitals serve in the area are the young people. We draw your attention to the pictures of Digby General Hospital candy-stripers in this issue of The Digby Courier. These young volunteer workers were recognized last week at the Western Nightingale Tea sponsored by the Ladies Auxiliary at the Digby General Hospital, a highly appreciated arm of the Digby General Hospital and Board. The tea was held during the week on which a special day was set aside as Hospital Day in Canada.

Despite an unflinching Board and ladies Auxiliary, the Digby General Hospital is like most other hospitals in Canada. They are experiencing financial problems continuously. Ten years ago satellite hospitals were still relying on donations from wealthy citizens, corporations and members of the community to sustain their progress and their standards of health care. With the federal — provincial hospital insurance schemes, the burden of financing hospitals turned toward the public purse. So, in effect, we are all providing funds to keep our hospitals growing, despite the expenses which keep rising.

It is interesting to know that a half million more patients were hospitalized in Canada in 1970 as compared to 1960, hospital construction costs rose by nearly 400% during the same 10-year period, since 1960 the daily cost per hospital patient has risen by about 500%, spiraling inflation is also tabbed by hospital officials as another reason for the great concern about hospital costs today. About 70 cents of each dollar a hospital earns is paid back to personnel in salaries, a substantial imbalance figure when compared to the many sectors of private industry, where only about 10 or 15 cents of each dollar is expended on labour costs. Our local hospital experiences all these same problems in proportion to its size.

With the development of modern medicine, every small hospital today has equipment far in advance to that found in large hospitals only 25 years ago. New drugs, diagnostic services, emergency treatment, out-patient care, therapies, geriatric and psychiatric care and treatment — all these and many other highly expensive services are commonplace to hospitals today where just a few decades ago they were practically unknown. Some hospitals hold family planning clinics, diabetes testing, speech therapy, venereal disease clinics, TB tests and maternal and child-care clinics. Others are providing dental care, child day-care services, senior-citizen care and alcoholic and drug abuse treatment. Because of the recent Canadian Hospital Association-sponsored symposium on the hospital handling of drug users, future "crash pads" and "half way" houses could be set up near or within the hospital itself.

Despite all the advancement, computerization systems and elaborate audio-visual equipment in some hospitals, they all have one thing in common, the hospital still looks to the community for its very human support. People aren't computers, but many of them in the cities and towns across Canada are behind their hospital as volunteer temps and board members. The hospital never stops encouraging this and repays these people by providing even better health care service in the community.

The message is simple — Your Hospital Cares.

Feminist Backlash

Militant feminists are beginning to feel the uncomfortable draft of backlash.

For half a century they have shouted for their "rights" — the vote, equal pay for equal work, equality of opportunity — all the while damning men for their plight.

By now, most men have been persuaded that women have had a raw deal and are enthusiastically making up for lost time by swinging the doors of business and the professions much wider.

Men have even gone so far as to suggest that women should not get alimony — or that women should pay alimony after a divorce. They rub their hands together at the prospect of the little woman helping out with the family income.

Psychiatrists have rosy prophesied fewer heart attacks, ulcers and hypertension among men. But they forecast more of these predominantly male ailments turning up in women as they assume a more active role in the working world.

Some husbands are gleefully cutting down on the burden of their insurance coverage as they realize that their mates are quite "capable of looking after themselves."

It is not surprising then that the worst backlash to feminist ideas is springing up among women who are safely married to husbands who provide bountifully. These women have no intention of getting a job or "fulfilling themselves through a career."

They find their identity in motherhood and homemaking; also all the interesting things that not being career women, they are able to do in community service and creative activities.

Working against the feminists is fear felt by many women that in gaining their "rights" they may be losing many of their cushy little "advantages."

Ruining Our Earth

Through world-wide pollution, we are gradually ruining our earth. The U.S. Government, for instance, estimates that 62,000,000 tons of waste, ranging from DDT residues to old mattresses are dumped off coasts annually.

And this is but one aspect of pollution. It does not take into account the fifth pumped into the air every day around the world, industrial pollution of rivers and lakes, oil pollution of the seas and beaches, thus killing fish and wild life.

The only way to combat pollution is to fight it with every means at our disposal — propaganda, high fines, even imprisonment for the worst offenders, and long-range planning aimed at preventing pollution.

The Japanese, for instance, are

Elizabeth Sampson, program assistant to host Johnny Yezzo on CBC Radio's Our Native Land, proudly holds a picture of her great-grandfather, Chief Big Bear (Malahmuquah), a Cree from Saskatchewan. He was at Frog Lake during the Riel Rebellion of 1885. The painting, done in the early 1900's, was located in the Royal Ontario Museum in Toronto. Our Native Land, heard Saturdays at 6:10 p.m. on the CBC Radio network, is a national forum for Indians, Metis and Eskimos, and a source of information for other Canadians about native peoples.

Graduate From Acadia

Among the graduates from Acadia University on Wednesday was Harry Simmons, David Allen Hayden, Granville Perry, Carolyn Margie Jeffrey, Sandy Cove; Myrtle Louise MacBeath, Woodport; Johann Lois Outhouse, Digby; Larry Robert Froese, Smith's Cove.

Bachelor of Science graduates were Bryan Ernest Davis, Peter Eugene Baker, Kevin Reid Graham, Gregory Russell Stonehouse, Digby; Margaret Anne Jacqueline Glinney, Sandy Cove; and Malcolm Ray Munzer, Weymouth.

Those graduating in Bachelor of Education included Martin Rosalinda Adams, Weymouth; Rene Lambert Bellevue, Bellevue Cove; Avaril Crawford Darcy, Bryan Ernest Davis, Guy Joseph LeBlond, Church Hill; Mary Olivia Wilhelmina Lois Outhouse, Digby.

Working on an almost visionary plan of having only electric cars in the centre of Tokyo and eventually other cities so as to reduce air pollution.

But one of the problems with pollution is that talk is far easier than action. The dreamers can draw up all kinds of plans, yet unless there is a national and indeed a global will to change things, pollution can only get worse. All of us must be prepared to spend time as well as money to fight a menace that is as bad as warfare and global overpopulation.

Hodge Podge

— How can an editor tell who's who when they look like twins? I forgive you, Wellington, that was too nice a blue lobster, to credit by error even if Victor is a fine brother.

— Guy, we'll have to do some scratching to keep up our spiritual lady (in church, too, she said this) told us the other day that she took two other newspapers until she read Hodge Podge in The Digby Courier. After that she dropped two newspapers and took on the one with Hodge Podge in it. We believe her, too!

— You sort of need to be an octopus in this place said one of our customers at an extremely busy time.

— Want the ultimate in imagination? From Australia comes a postcard, complete with stamp. What's so different? The postcard is made of real kangaroo hide, all soft and furry. Now who could let a thing like that go to waste? So we'll stick it up on two sides, adapt a hook and eye, and lo, behold, we ought to have a change purse made! Just imagine picking out the dimes and pennies all the time you're bragging about a kangaroo hide postcard from Australia. Had an invitation recently to a dinner for the High Commissioner from Australia which we had to pass up because of pressure of work. If that dinner turns up again we'll see to take our kangaroo hide postcard along.

— You wouldn't think that the Nova Scotia Women's Institute would have been reading The Digby Courier. Now, would you? Anyway their May-June issue of Home and Country introduces their own Hodge Podge. Welcome welcome, to our Hodge Podge. We're glad to have you along. We always did have a warm spot for W.I. Why shouldn't we? There's one in Bear River — a fine one too!

Spend Night In Woods

Irvia Boudreau and son Tommy, age 8, of Weymouth Mills, spent Sunday night in the woods, apparently with few if any ill effects.

The father and son, along with John Morell, Burton, left for a fishing trip at the Branch Brook of Doucetville on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Morell, it is said, returned home leaving Mr. Boudreau, who because of physical reasons kept a strict pace, and the young boy to return at leisure. Apparently, the couple took a longer route than planned and found the journey burdensome and confusing and Mr. Morell, it is understood, could not remember exactly where he had left the two fishermen so that he was not able to direct aid to his companions.

A search party consisting of the R.C.M.P., Digby detachment, assisted by the Department of Lands and Forests and Donald Brown and volunteers was organized to begin search at five o'clock on Monday morning. The father and son were found with few ill effects at 8:30 a.m. although the weather had turned cold, wet and windy by morning. Because of a general physical condition Mr. Boudreau was carried home instead of being allowed to walk, but his experience of the night had not caused too much difficulty.

DRIVE CAREFULLY

Grant Stonehouse thanked the speakers for taking time from their work to become involved in the workshop sessions.

There was a display of front pages from newspapers including ones from overseas, the United States, Halifax and Digby. The purpose of the workshop was to give the students an opportunity to work together within a whole academic group, to gain new knowledge in various phases of writing, to participate and become involved in a situation more flexible than a classroom, and to become aware that writing extends beyond the school and into everyday life.

The writing workshop project was under the direction of Mr. Carolyn Brown, grade eleven English teacher, Inspector Clifford Edwards and Mr. C. C. Macdonald, Supervisor of Digby Schools.

Under Mrs. Rogers' direction, the students in her group discussed how to set up a business meeting, the procedure needed to elect officers and how to make motions and amendments. She stressed the point that motions must be seconded in a positive way. Also discussed were the order of a meeting such as the parts of the meeting, the agenda and the function of the officers.

During the fourth session, in which the students most interested in Mrs. Rogers' topic attended a mock meeting was staged. The students of the group elected officers and carried on the business of a hypothetical club, in this case the Digby Hiking and Reading Club. As the meeting progressed, the students learned from their mistakes and by the end of the session, they began to grasp the fundamentals of parliamentary procedure.

Mr. Cardona suggested the way to organize introductions, speeches and the writing of resolutions. He showed how introductions should be prepared and brief, telling the speaker's name, title, special achievements, qualifications and other interesting personal information as well as the subject upon which he is going to speak.

Mr. Cardona also stated that the speaker should be simple and brief and the purpose of the speech is to thank the speaker on behalf of yourself and the audience. The person doing the thanking should be brief and use clarity of speech and also express how the organization or group may be helped by having listened to the material presented.

On the subject of speech writing, Mr. Cardona stated, "good speaking requires thorough preparation." The topic should be of interest to the speaker and one in which he is knowledgeable. A good outline is important as well as plenty of research material to use. Personal experiences, comparisons, contrasts and brief quotations can be used.

The three main parts of a speech include the introduction which can captivate the audience's attention and interest and tell the subject of the speech. The body must present the main two or three points in a logical order and the conclusion summarizes what the speaker has said.

During the last session, Mr. Cardona talked in depth as to how to prepare and present speeches and then he answered questions.

Grant Stonehouse thanked the speakers for taking time from their work to become involved in the workshop sessions.

There was a display of front pages from newspapers including ones from overseas, the United States, Halifax and Digby. The purpose of the workshop was to give the students an opportunity to work together within a whole academic group, to gain new knowledge in various phases of writing, to participate and become involved in a situation more flexible than a classroom, and to become aware that writing extends beyond the school and into everyday life.

Annapolis Co. Wants Regional Library

The council of the Municipality of the County of Annapolis at a special meeting, held recently rescinded a resolution passed on March 15 to withdraw from the Regional Library Service. The motion was made at the meeting that the Municipality of Annapolis not withdraw from the Regional Library Board, provided that the headquarters of the Regional Library remain in the County of Annapolis. This decision was arrived at after more than 43 letters and petitions had been received by Warden M. C. Baldwin and the municipal clerk, protesting the discontinuance of the library service. Interested members of the public were present at the meeting when Mrs. Nixon and Mrs. J. C. Willett, Bellevue, acted as spokesmen.

By resolution a contract was to be entered into with Gurnel Palmer for the pickup and disposal of garbage in zone 2, 4 and 4 a sum of $24,228 and with William Holt in zone one for $15,000.

A sum of $2,000, part of a grant of $10,000 to the Soldiers' Memorial Hospital, Middleton was passed for payment.

A motion made at the March meeting to install street lights at Upper Clementine was rescinded. A petition by a number of residents had requested the motion to be rescinded because of difference of opinion in the community on the installation.

Eaton Signed By Philadelphia

Rick Eaton, former captain of the Acadia University Astoria Basketball Team, has been signed by the Philadelphia 76ers and will report to their camp on June 12. Mr. Eaton is the second Acadia basketball player to be recruited by an N.B.A. team in the past three years. In 1969, Brian Hickey signed with the Baltimore Bullets.

Rick is a native of Verena, New Jersey and just completed his last season with the Acadia Astoria where he averaged 22 points a game in 22 games. He has played in the past three years. In 1969, he served as co-captain. During the 1970-71 season he earned six all-star positions and was named M.V.P. on three occasions. He has captured the Tom Rennie Award for rebounding for the last two years at the Annual Blueshoe Classic. The highlight of his basketball career came recently when he was named unanimously to the All Canadian and All Conference teams.

Both Rick Eaton and Brian Hickey have proven that they are the opportunity to develop along with determination and hard work a person can reach the professional level. During his high school basketball career Eaton scored only 20 points while Hickey did not even make the high school team.

At the conclusion of the first game of the Canadian Intercollegiate Basketball Championship, Acadia University Head Basketball Coach, G. H. Chapman made these comments about Rick Eaton, "He is by far the best player I have ever coached."

BUILD THEIR FUTURE

Before children can go to school, the school must be built. The first step in the construction of a village school is the job of a Care-Ram block-making machine. In CARE, with the addition of some cement to the local soil, village can produce sturdy blocks for building structures such as community or nutrition center, fresh water facilities or even a family home. Thus CARE helps build self-reliance and hope for the future.

Morgan League President

Robert Morgan was on Thursday evening re-elected president of the Digby and District Softball which was re-organized for 1971. Terry Dorsey was elected secretary-treasurer.

Five teams have entered with prospects of two more. Anyone wishing to enter a team in the League is requested to enter before the deadline date of June 22. One new team has registered, the high school and teacher combination and one of the old teams, Weymouth is not sure of entry until a later date.

Dismissal on league rules and umpire's for the league was held and each team's opinion and recommendation will be presented at the next meeting, the date of which has not been set.

Dragger For Little River Firm

A stern dragger being constructed at Snyder's Shipyard for Clyde Denton, president of Clyde Denton Ltd., of Little River, is expected to be launched before the end of May, president Ted Snyder said Monday.

Measuring 65 feet in length, with 28-foot beam, the dragger will be equipped with a 425 H.P. diesel engine and all the latest in electronic equipment.

The Lunenburg County shipyard is one of several in the county continuing production of the traditional wooden ships, keeping alive the skills that has made the county famous the world over.

MUSEUM OF RELIGIOUS ARTICLES AT CHURCH POINT

A museum of religious articles of interest has been opened in a special room on the right side of the main altar in St. Mary's Roman Catholic Church at Church Point. Walter Concan, Gaston Thibodeau, Paul Thibodeau and Rev. Noe Aronson, pastor, have been working feverishly to have the museum ready in May. Large glassed-in display cases have been installed which will contain the various items of interest.

A large 9 x 11 foot book-rug will be an interesting item and will hang from the north wall of the museum. It was made in 1890 to be used on the altar steps of the new church which is presently in service. A group of ladies gathered in a small building owned by the late Miss Thibodeau which was situated near the home of Captain Charles Burke.

It would appear that each woman had her work cut out on the rug as Mrs. Thibodeau (Mary Rose), of Church Point, has been able to recall most of the persons who worked on the rug. The book of the rug was the work of Mrs. Mary Rose Thibodeau herself who, by the way, is the only living person who worked on the rug. The flowers were made by Mrs. Lorraine Melanson and Mrs. Annie Belliveau (Clifton), the dying of cloth (woven) was done by Mrs. Lorraine Melanson; background of the rug was made by Mrs. Maggie Thibodeau and Mrs. Alda Lafrance and several other ladies whose names are unknown.

The background of the rug is maroon in color with yellow or orange border stripes of about one inch wide, the grapes are their natural color as well as the flowers and vines. The rug is over 65 years old and was made in 1906 in readiness to be used when the present church was ready for service. The previous church was in what is now the cemetery and was built on the site where the second church was built in Church Point after the 1820 fire which destroyed the church. The first church was built near the lighthouse in 1786 by Rev. Bourg, a missionary. The second church was built in 1806.

In the new museum room will be displayed a beautiful silver chalice with the twelve apostles in bas-relief on the cup portion and four scenes of the Passion on the base also in bas-relief. Other chalice, robes of religious nature, an altar stone dating to 1800 and many other religious articles too numerous to mention.

as well as the flowers and vines. The rug is over 65 years old and was made in 1906 in readiness to be used when the present church was ready for service. Other distinguished guests present were Past Grand Matron, Edna Kinnear of Wolfville; Past Grand Matron, Agnes Haliburton of Somerset; Past Grand Matron, Helen Weston, West Grand Patron, Douglas Horton, and Past Grand Patron, Winthrop Doty, all of Yarmouth; Past Grand Patron, Joseph Sheehan, of Digby; Grand Chapter Committee Member, Kenneth Paul of Bear River; Grand Representative of New Hampshire, Eva Wendell of Wolfville; Grand Representative of Puerto Rico, Parker of Kenilworth; Grand Representative of North Carolina, Grace Baker of Bewick; Grand Representative of Tennessee, Ruby Rogers of Digby; Worthy Matron, Edna Melanson of Kenilworth; Worthy Matron, Dorothy Miller and Worthy Matron, Clifton Miller both of Bear River, as well as several Past Members, Past Patron, officers and members of Pacific Chapter, Windsor; Blondeville Chapter, Wolfville; Evangeline Chapter, Kenilworth; Laurel Chapter, Bewick; Mayflower Chapter, Aylesford; Cherry Blossom Chapter, Bear River, and Keystone Chapter, Yarmouth.

Plan Work Of Woodlot Owners Association

Mr. A. E. Mahoney, a prominent Yarmouth farmer, reacted strongly to comments on a recent radio station C.B.S. open line show, which identified the proposed Woodlot Owners Association. Mr. Mahoney, who is a member of the Marketing Board with the Extension Department of St. Francis Xavier University, "This plan has been proposed and is being promoted by the Nova Scotia Woodlot Owners Association," he said. "The Federation of Agriculture was instrumental in obtaining the plan to establish the NSW. I was a member of the Marketing Board which promoted this program and can definitely state that the St. F. X. Extension Department simply responded to our request to take on the tremendous job of organizing woodlot owners. Other universities were approached but refused."

Women Meet

The regular meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Baptist Church, Westport, was held on Tuesday evening, May 4th in the home of Mr. Fred Denton, Mrs. Lawrence Shaw presided.

Mrs. Arthur Tinsley led the devotion and was assisted by Mrs. George Clements, the Lord's Prayer was the theme. The Circle of Prayer was led by Mrs. Bert Webber and concluded by the group reciting the Lord's Prayer in unison. The roll was called by which members responded with scriptural verses containing the word "Light".

The Spiritual Life Lesson was given, this lesson stressed of sacrifice of selves and also that influence should come for good always, in the church and community, and throughout the world. People can improve others to greater service to Christ or they can hinder them.

Mrs. Earl Webber presented the program which was entitled "Kenya Calling". An informative program of the work in Kenya, one of our Mission Fields.

Mrs. Wickstein Lent was co-hostess with Mrs. Denton at the social hour which followed.

Mother And Daughter Banquet

Mrs. Hyson Sutherland, Digby Divisional Commissioner, was guest speaker on Thursday evening, when the Bear River Girl Guides and Brownies held a Mother and Daughter Banquet in the Log Hall. Mrs. Richard Harris, President of the Girl Guides Local Association, presided.

It's being the 60th anniversary of Guiding, a special dinner was donated by CFB Cornwall's, and its event by 'Twins Cities Daily'. Mrs. Sutherland presided. Guiding and spoke left the value of such an organization to the girls.

A toast to the Queen was given by Julie Harris. Carol Jones proposed the toast to the mothers, and Mrs. Betty Parker, responded. Miss Barbara Wagner proposed the toast to the Guides, and Miss Leona Peck thanked the guest speakers.

Presentations were made to Mrs. Debbie Williams and Miss Janet Copeland, Town. Other mothers who were awarded were Mrs. Shirley Williams, leader, Mrs. Rose Parker, Brown Owl, and Mrs. Patricia Lacey, secretary of the Local Association.

One year service stars and five year service stars were awarded and presented by Mrs. Sutherland. Miss Debbie Williams received a 5 year star and skating badge and a gold pin was given to Joan Parker. Julie Harris received a special award for projects.

Mrs. Lawrence Dore, Mrs. Titus Dore, Mrs. Soudman and Mrs. Marshall Wheelhouse, grandmothers of the Local Association leaders.

Before the close of the function, the Brownies presented a musical program, consisting of Rocky My Soul and John Brown's Baby. The Guides presented My Chisel. No Man is an Island and I'm a Girl.

Poetry Corner

Selfless Creeds

Purity, love, and selfless creeds,
Must to man in his hour of need,
Find reflection in word and deed,
Ere his thoughts take root from seed.

Go hitch your wagon to a star,
Where Heavenly things beam from afar,
Where light can n'er its beauty mar,
Nor truth with truth set things ajar!

The higher thought on lofty plane,
Must always in our minds remain;
If we those blessings would retain,
And evil thoughts on earth diadain!

Noble and true life's blessings run,
From him who rules the stars and sun,
Lessons we learn, yes one by one,
Until our tasks on earth are done!

Figure 1. A schematic diagram of the experimental setup. The subject is seated in a chair and views the target through a video camera. The target is a small object (e.g., a ball) that is suspended in the air. The subject's hand is positioned near the target. The video camera is positioned above the target and the subject's hand. The video camera is connected to a computer, which displays the video feed on a monitor. The subject is instructed to move their hand towards the target. The video camera captures the movement of the hand and the target. The computer processes the video feed and displays the target's position on the monitor. The subject is instructed to move their hand towards the target on the monitor. This setup allows for the study of the relationship between the visual feedback and the motor response.

The groom's mother chose a blue dress with white accessories and white outfit with white accessories.

PECK — TAYLOR

A quiet wedding was not omitted at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edmund Taylor, Bear River, when their youngest daughter, Joyce Ella, was united in marriage to Edward Keith Peck, son of Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Peck, Greenfield, on April 24, 1971. Rev. John Barlow performed the double ring ceremony.

For her wedding, the bride chose a floor-length gown of off-white brocade tulle and she carried a bouquet of red roses and English lily.

The bride's only attendant was Mrs. Franklin Hovey, sister of the groom. She wore a mauve satin floor-length gown, and carried a bouquet of white and yellow mums.

The best man was Franklin Hovey, brother-in-law of the groom.

After the ceremony, a reception was held for fifty guests. Friends of the bride served. The happy couple then left for Dartmouth, N.S., where they will reside.

Notes from Bird Haven

MORE BIRDS RETURN

The birds are coming back, the first Hummingbird, Yellow Warbler arrived on May 16th.

A pair of Baltimore Orioles arrived on a feeding tray on Sunday and are back this morning having their breakfast. I will be releasing my prize one the first Tuesday day now — haven't the heart to turn him out a day like this.

At time of writing there is a rare White Crowned Sparrow feeding on my tray. This is a bird a little larger than our common English Sparrow with a puffy crown striped with black and white bands. The song is similar to our beloved White Thrush.

The robins have completed their nests of mud graciously donated by the firemen and are busy incubating their four or five bluish green eggs. A word of advice to anyone who finds young Robins unable to fly — either leave them on the ground or put them on a branch out of reach of a cat. Do not disturb the parents know where they are and will look after feeding them.

I had to buy more sunflower seeds last week as a pair of Purple Finches and a pair of Evening Grosbeaks are still coming regularly to the feeder. Looks as though they might be setting up housekeeping in the vicinity.

In planting your flower garden put in some nasturtiums and scarlet runner beans — the Hummingbirds love the blossoms.

A beautiful pair of Ring Necked Ducks have settled back in a pond where they spent last summer.

I am reading an interesting book from our library on animal behavior and bird behavior, "Wild Heritage", by Sally Camphair, well worth reading.

We had a funny show here in the yard the other day. A Crow was smoking around to see where he could get a free meal from some other bird's nest, when he was spotted by another fellow, a Grackle. He was chased from the yard followed by the Grackle, then a Starling and was dive bombed by two Swallows. We hope he got the message — not wanted here.

I had to turn down the care of two Gulls lately as I have no place to keep them. Am sorry but I believe a young man is taking care of one.

All for today,

The Bird Lady.

CHRISTIAN CORNER

Answer the Pastor

Ques.: What is the SOUL, has anyone seen it?

Ans.: Yes and No. According to K.J.V. the word SOUL used to express YOU, I, etc. Instead of saying I, I, YOU, YOU, ambiguously, we say I soul, you soul, etc. Both words point to the person or personality dwelling in a body of flesh.

I soul (myself) am SPIRIT and cannot be seen. Like the wind in the tree tops the effects of the wind can be seen. So can the person or personality of the SOUL, be seen by looking in a mirror or at another person. I SOUL, am not in the blood, the lungs, heart or mind. I soul dwell in my body and am connected with every atom of it by the Breath of Life or Spirit of Life (not the breath in my lungs) that is given me of God at birth and returns to God at death (not the soul). I soul do not go to God at death but I soul depart from my body, still dwelling in a ghost body, a duplicate of my earthly body (1 John 3:24). Saints who had been dead several years was seen of the vitch and described what and who saw, to Saul the King.

When Jesus died on the cross his soul left his body and descended into the LOWER PARTS of this earth (1 P. 3:19-21, EPH. 4:9) and took the thief down into a place of PARADISE existence below and preached to people who had been dead around 2,000 years. A tomb on top of ground would not be in the lower parts of the earth.

Joso

Music in the European manner is becoming increasingly popular with Canadians. Part of the reason is CBC radio's Continental Holiday, heard Sundays at 1:30 p.m. EDT on the CBC Radio network. Ivan Romanoff, his Orchestra and Chorus and guest artists perform the haunting folk music of Europe. Joso, shown here, is a member of the Chorus, but is featured as a regular soloist. A classically trained tenor, he can sing in many languages. The Chorus as a whole can sing in 44 languages.

Now Is The Time

The hardest part of getting ready for the new fishing season is... getting ready! If you're like most of us, the fishing tackle is still in the corner where they were left last fall, and the tackle box is still in the same unorganized condition it was after last year's final fishing trip.

If this is your situation, here are a few "top" tips from Red Fisher, the fishing expert at Mercury outdoors, who, by the way, is probably in the same boat as you—unprepared.

Lures are the first order of cleanup business. Metal and plastic lures should be washed in a warm—not hot—soapy solution to remove grime and grease which dulls the finish, making them unattractive to fish.

Flies and feathered jigs should be checked for loose threads, rusted hook eyes, loss of leader, and general condition of the body materials.

Wipe rods clean with a mild soap solution, check ferrules and guides for frayed or broken threads, and test the reel seats for firmness. If a rod is several years old, it is a good idea to revarnish the thread windings. Special rod varnish is available from the supply houses.

Steel and dirt have a way of getting into any reel, and now is the time to clean them before serious damage occurs. Follow the manufacturer's directions for cleaning.

Don't forget to replace spinning and bulk casting line, especially if they're more than a year old. Check last year's line for frayed and rough places. Dry fly lines should be treated with dressing recommended by the maker.

One other pre-season tip recommended by the boys at Mercury is to spend an evening handling the lures on all your lures.

VOLUME XCIV, NO.

ARRIVES AT 2:30 TODAY

Princess of Acadia, the C.P.R.'s new 650 passenger/vehicle ferry vessel built by the Saint John Shipbuilding and Drydock Ltd., is scheduled to arrive at the Digby new terminal at 2:30 p.m. today. According to an announcement by C. E. Benoit, vice-president, Atlantic Region, C.P.R. Rail, it is expected that the Princess of Acadia will be the first of a new series of ferries to be built as well as other ferries and provincial dignitaries will attend shipboard ceremonies marking the important occasion. It is expected thousands of persons will be on hand to witness the arrival of the ship from Saint John, N.B., and to hear the remarks of officials who will speak from the podium erected at the terminal. The public, it is understood, will be welcomed from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturday in Saint John, N.B., and during the same hours in Digby on Sunday. The regular autos from the Bay trips begin on June 1.

While official ceremonies will take place to meet the ship before invited guests on board ship at 3 p.m. the official party, it is understood, will make an appearance on the podium erected for the occasion. M.H. Leary, vice-president, will extend a welcome by means of speeches, ceremonies and concerts.

Peter Macdonald of the Nova Scotia Travel Bureau, informed the Digby Courier that a parade will take place at 1 o'clock p.m., starting at Irving's Service Station on Montague Row and end at the Nova Scotia Liquor Commission corner. The Digby and New Brunswick will appear at the rear of the parade. The parade will be piped off and on the Princess of Acadia.

Prerequisites for the new ship will be made by H. W. Ward, Mayor Glen Smith, Warden Ronald Morehouse and Mr. Camp.

The ship leaves for Saint John, N.B., at 4:45 p.m. and will arrive with her guests to Saint John at 8:45 p.m. She returns with her Nova Scotia guests at 7:30, arriving in Digby at 10 o'clock p.m.

Those who take advantage of touring the largest vessel of its type ever built in Canada, will find the passenger facilities on the "Princess" to include self-service cafeteria for 120, a bright spacious lounge for 300 persons, a well stocked specialty shop and an attractive lounge/bar for 200 persons. There are two deluxe and six day cabins and there are complete nursery facilities. The spacious decks include promenade and sightseeing spots accommodate 48. There are rest suites and plenty of room for 650 passengers to dine, stroll, relax in comfortable surroundings.

The new Princess of Acadia has been described as looking like a cruise liner, but features also making the boat attractive, are the lower rates and the two trips a day include. Time saved in handling with the roll-on/off system, time saved in faster tie-up and departure system and faster drive with modern controllable pitch propellers all add up to quicker and better service with the new ferry.

The new Princess of Acadia will arrive at the Digby terminal at 2:30 p.m. today on her inaugural trip across the Bay of Fundy from Saint John, N.B., to Digby. She replaces the Princess of Namana. Some features of both ships can be read about in columns sponsored by J. Margolin & Co. Ltd. on page 18 of this issue and in the Canadian Pacific advertisement.

Tourist Information Bureau Moves

The Nova Scotia Tourist Information Bureau at Digby, situated near the bandstand on Montague Row, will be vacated in July and located on the Shore Road enroute to the new CPR Princess of Acadia ferry terminal. Above, left, is the present Bureau overlooking the Annapolis Basin and Digby Harbour. To the right is the new Bureau under construction. It, too, has a scenic location overlooking the same sheets of water from a different angle. The new location is a short distance from the provincially owned Pines Hotel in the direction of the terminal. Ample parking space for convenience and as a look-out is being provided at the new location. The new building being constructed by Ron Rennehan, Halifax, for the Nova Scotia Department of Public Works, is being made of wood and glass with stone pillars. The building 49 x 25 ft. will house the public information space, men's and women's wash rooms, staff lunch room and storage. Behind the new Tourist Information building is a high slope which will be landscaped and terraced, providing a promenade and walk directly to the provincially owned Pines Hotel. The new building is expected to be completed by July 15; it will be finished on schedule, remarked Mr. Rennehan. The present tourist bureau, it is understood, is under negotiation for a town hall. A news coverage in 1970 states that the second floor has the town clerk's office, council chamber, stipendiary magistrate's office and a private room. A stairway lead to the tower but the attic had not been completed. Contractor was S. M. Comeau, of Meteghan River. Designer was D. F. Young, Digby.

Where The "Princess Of Acadia" Docks

Although the waiting room, C.P.R. offices and several other services will have to be housed in temporary quarters, the main part of the terminal has been completed and ready to receive the Princess of Acadia when she docks from her inaugural trip across the Bay at 2:30 p.m. today. The main part of the construction, as seen above, has been under the contract of Beaver Construction Company with Rene Brazee as superintendent. The concrete cribs containing a total of 22,000 cubic yards of concrete were laid by floating in position and then filled with rocks. The cribs have walls 70 feet high. A half million tons of rock has been used in the building of the terminal. Some of the cribs can be seen right in the picture above and to the left can be seen the control tower or lift bridge used for loading and discharging vehicles. Fenders weighing 42 tons each with a height of 73 feet have been erected. At low tide there is a 22 foot depth of water and at high tide there is a 50 to 60 foot depth. The terminal is approximately a quarter of a mile past the Pines Hotel on the Shore Road. Across the "Gut" from the terminal can be seen the beautiful village of Victoria Beach, while the terminal nestles under the hills, surrounded by the Racquette and Bay View.

Digby Lions Anniversary

Digby Lions celebrated their 15th Charter Anniversary with a Testimonial Dinner for District Governor of Nova Scotia Lions, David J. Waterbury of Kenilworth, Saturday evening, May 22nd. Guest speaker was Lion Joe Mansel, International Council of Darnmouth. Mayor Glen Smith extended greetings from the Town of Digby. International Councilor Ron Humphrey, Middleton, presented 15 year membership certificate to Lion Norrie Gill.

people, King Lion Jack Webster presented. President of the Association Awards to seven members of the Club: Torrey Jones, Reg. Goodrich, Norrie Gillespie, Bob Ellis, Art Thomas, David Daley and Art Everett. All clubs of Region Five were represented. Kingston, Middleton, Bridgewater, and Annapolis Royal, Saint John, E. Albert, and Digby, sang to the accompaniment of organist. Steward, Master of Ceremonies for the meeting was Lion Arthur Everett.

Flag Waving Students Greet "Princess"

Five or six bus loads of flag-waving, vociferous youngsters of the intermediate grades will join the parade group at 1 o'clock p.m. and proceed at Jack's B.A. and proceed with the parade on out to the ferry terminal. Because of the transportation of youngsters to home after school hours, it will probably be necessary for the buses to leave the ferry terminal before the ceremony will be over. Because of the significance of this event, should parents wish to pick up their own children of the elementary grades, the school will be willing to excuse them for the afternoon.

Local Fishermen Find Body

Andre Comeau, fisherman out of Meteghan, N.S., was found Thursday afternoon when Richard McRobb and Peter Titus in the lobster boat Sauter, out of Westport, were coming from Meteghan. They were about 10 minutes outside Meteghan Bell Bay and spotted the body of Mr. Comeau. They contacted the C.C.G. 102 in Westport and reported they would stand by the body until it arrived. The body was found aboard C.C.G. 102 and they proceeded to Meteghan.

Islands Continue Search For Doctor

On the evening of May 19, 1971, a special meeting called by the Fundy Board of Trade, was held in the auditorium of the Islands Council School, with people from the three villages of Tiverton, Westport and Freeport in attendance to further discuss the procuring of a resident doctor for the islands.

The chairman, Mr. Outhouse, brought up to date all matters as far as previous attempts at obtaining a doctor are concerned. It was an unusual decision of all present at the meeting that no decision had elapsed since Dr. McRobb had left the islands and his practice here and that

Further Plans For Community Services Council

A general meeting of representatives of all organizations in Digby will be held at 7:30 p.m. at the Digby Baptist Church Hall to finalize arrangements for the formation of a Community Services Council for Digby. It was decided at an organizational meeting, held at the Digby community mental health centre last week.

Sponsored by the local mental health association and the mental health centre, the proposed Community Services Council is designed to strengthen existing organizations in the area by providing an avenue for greater co-operation and co-ordination of the proposed council will be to provide a catalogue of local resources.

— ABOUT THIS AND THAT —

We, Too, Welcome Her

As far back as 1949, more than 20 years ago, when the Princess Helene was less than 20 years old, The Digby Courier copied from the Chronicle-Herald an editorial which urged the Canadian Pacific Railway to connect Saint John, N.B., with a car ferry across the Bay of Fundy to Digby. This would link the rail route from Saint John, N.B., by many miles. Even before this suggestion had been made and organizations such as Boards of Trade, locally and regionally had taken up the torch. The C.P. dutifully looked into the proposition but foundy ideas made such a service almost prohibitive financially. The Helene was replaced in 1963 by the larger ship, now reverted in name to Princess of Nanaimo.

In the meantime, since 1949, transportation has undergone changes along with many other changes on this planet. Large transportation trucks, mobile homes and many different types of vehicles exist in large numbers and require up-to-date accommodation by road and ferry. The C.P. in conjunction with the federal government have seen fit to supply such a type of transportation across the Bay of Fundy from Saint John to Digby by means of the new 6,000 ton ship, Princess of Acadia.

At time of writing this editorial we have not had the opportunity of seeing the finished product or to enjoy her beauty and comfort. From those who have we understand that the Princess of Acadia does not have to take a back seat. We are impressed, however, besides with reports of her functional capacity. The new ship has new, modern drive-on-drive-off loading facilities doing away with much expense of time.

What does this mean to Digby and vicinity? Of course, there are going to be the curiosity seekers to see as passengers are concerned. This summer, at any rate, many will want to use the NEW boat. But we have far greater visions for the new Princess of Acadia. Her more attractive rate schedule will entice many people to use this short mode of travel from Digby to Saint John. Tourists will see the saving as well as to have the desire for the ferry trip and will continue to use this means of transportation. It takes a short time for good news to travel.

We look forward to industry in Digby, up the Valley, down the Neck and Islands and the Clare district to use this new, reasonable, functional and convenient mode of travel. We anticipate accelerated industrial, tourist and cultural development in the area with the materialization of better transportation. More industry always provides more employment and more employment has far reaching effects into the material, mental and physical and cultural lives of the people in the area. The new Princess of Acadia can mean the nucleus of transition and growth for Digby.

With prospects of such a future, we at The Digby Courier are proud to welcome her — the new Princess of Acadia — into Digby. We congratulate the Canadian Pacific and the federal government for their forward look in building such a fine craft and the up-to-date terminals. We feel fortunate to be situated in a town where the fine ship docks. The terminals will always be located at the wharf. We admire those in civic, community and business organizations who encouraged the project which has now grown to fruition and hope that we might all be blessed because of the effects.

We are proud to offer our contribution by this special edition of our newspaper to commemorate the occasion of the inaugural trip of the new Princess of Acadia and to record for history the building of a brand new modern vessel for this long time traversed Bay of Fundy.

Our best wishes go to the owners, the captain and the crew of the new ship. To the passengers we say welcome aboard — welcome on disembarkation at Digby. Tell your friends.

Your V.O.N. - Do You Want It? - Is It Needed?

We, by chance, opened the 1949 Courier file to January while looking through the volume for other material for this week's special issue. There facing us was this annual V.O.N. report. Our eyes caught this quote in the nurse's report. "Only four deliveries were made in 1948. This is a reflection of the recent trend of hospitalization for obstetrical cases."

"Yes, assisting in delivering babies had been the many-time occasions for the V.O.N. but by 1949 there was a change. And by 1971 there has been so much change in the Digby V.O.N. that a public meeting will be held in June to see if you want Your V.O.N. to operate here any longer. Actually it should not be a case of 'do you want?' but 'do you need?' the V.O.N. to operate in Digby after 1971?"

Before we analyze the situation we might mention that in 1948 two hours each week had been spent at H. T. Worne Ltd. in industrial nursing. Well, Health Clinics were well attended, Girl's Health League was functioning, the total revenue for the year was $7,642 and the nurse's salary was $1860. The balance at the end of the year was $652. There is no need to make comparisons. Life has changed and we know it. We might add also that the reports were advertised very balam, whether or not that provided good V.O.N. publicity we, fearing a prejudice, fear to say.

There are cases where the V.O.N.

is a necessity. There are elderly persons who need nursing care and who do not want to go to a hospital. Indeed, they are really not sick enough to be utilizing a hospital bed when more urgent cases are waiting. These people probably do not want to go to a nursing home, yet the family is not skilled enough in patient care to tend the patient at home. Here is where a V.O.N. nurse comes in with her service. But, are there enough of these people around Digby to warrant continuing the V.O.N. health service in the area? A few persons had recently written this newspaper that the service was needed but they came in a few. This is, where You come in. Be at the public meeting in June and voice your opinion or write to us if you wish.

The V.O.N. service is one for which you pay, if you can pay. There is a set fee reckoned on the cost per visit in the area but any fraction of or no-payment is accepted according to the ability of the patient to pay. No one is denied the service for lack of finances or other reason.

M.S.I. and the extension of government public health nursing services in the area have brought changes in the service of the V.O.N. Yet this is a service which should not be denied if there is a need. Only your presence and voice at the public meeting will aid the Digby V.O.N. Board to come to the proper decision on an old established nursing service in the area. It is Your V.O.N. The decision is important.

Above is K. C. Irving, president of the Saint John Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Co. Ltd., which built the new $8,000,000 ferry Princess of Acadia which arrives in Digby today on her maiden voyage across the Bay of Fundy from the Saint John terminals to the Digby terminals.

Letters To The Editor

Weymouth, N. S. May 15, 1971

To Mrs. Wallis, Editor, The Digby Courier, Digby, Nova Scotia.

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

It is with a deep sense of appreciation on behalf of The Weymouth Garden Club members, that I desire through your gracious columns to express a hearty response to that sense of loyalty, devotion, and co-operation, so beautifully expressed by members of The Digby Garden Club on the occasion of the joint Garden Club Meet, at the Anglican Church Hall in Digby—Friday evening, May 14th.

It was truly an inspirational occasion and reminds me of all who were privileged to attend, that through loyalty and devotion to the SAME measure of co-operation, this beautiful County of Digby, second to none in this fair Province of ours, shall continue in its outstanding beauty as never before.

We all, can our part-cooperation and loyalty linked with dedicated devotion has the answer. It is up to us.

Yours sincerely,

The Weymouth Garden Club

Lloyd H. Potter, President

Saint John General Hospital May 10th, Room 465-71

Editor, The Digby Courier,

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

Will pen you a few lines to day as I want to send you some more money to pay for my subscription to your paper. Believe me, when I say I enjoy reading news from my own native land, the members of my own birth place and my native Province is intensely interested to me.

In connection with your paper, I find it most interesting and most especially those dear folks on long Island and Brier Island, who are suffering hardships due to inadequate transportation facilities. A matter that should have been looked after long ago. On one of my recent visits to the Islands, I had extreme difficulty in jumping from the boat to the shore. However, I hope your government members will give this matter some real deep thought and act accordingly, as the lives of these young people are certainly an important factor that demands prompt action.

Leaving this subject to another etc, I want to thank you for your kindness in publishing my article. I have others of my own composition I may send later. I sent your picture out of last issue, the one relating to Mrs. Anne Kaye. I have written to her and sent her some of my writing. I am sure she will appreciate your help. So, in closing may I extend to you my very best

The Digby Society Hosts N. S. Garden Clubs

The Annual Digby Horticultural Bloom as well as annual district meeting of the N. S. Association of Garden Clubs, on May 14th at Trinity Parish Hall, Digby, N. S.

Jack Harris, Director of the Western District, was chairman and Miss Marjorie Taylor, vice-president, Digby, N. S., extended a warm welcome to officers and members from the various clubs.

Bea Riter and Weymouth Garden Club, were represented. Attending were Miss Jean MacDonald, Halifax, president of the N. S. Association of Garden Clubs; Clara Ferguson, Chairman of Program and Library, N.S.A.G.C. and Richard Morton, Department of Agriculture, Horticulturalist and Ornamental, Truro, N. S. and Lee Everett, Radio Station CKDY, Digby.

Miss MacDonald presided over the meeting and expressed the hope that many members would attend the annual meeting of the N.S.A.G.C. at Truro in July. Miss Tupper presented on behalf of the Digby members.

Mrs. C. Frankland, president, Digby Garden Club, presented a paper on preparing a garden.

Mrs. Cameron, secretary of Weymouth Garden Club, reported that the group had a membership of forty-five, with eight new members and had a successful year with new colorful beauty added to their district through having been planted in the garden. Much appreciated advice had been received from Mr. Igoo.

Mrs. Burns, secretary, Beavertown Garden Club, reported that during the past year, twenty-five rose bushes had been planted in the garden. A rose show held in July, 1970, earned in the 1970 Cherry Festival Parade, sales and prizes and the group had sponsored a contest for Christmas lights and trim.

Miss Mary Marshall, secretary of Digby Garden Club, stated there had been an increase in membership over the past year with work being carried on at the Admiralty Digby Park, Cemetery, flowers and shrubs in street planters along Water Street, window boxes cared for at the library, a plant at the Hospital and a Christmas party and penny sale.

Miss Marshall thanked Mr. Harris and Mr. Taylor for the helpful information given on many occasions and also the local press and radio for publicity covering the various activities of the Digby Club.

A Quiz on general gardening was held with Mrs. Davies, Mrs. Rice and Mrs. Purdy, Beavertown Garden Club, Miss L. Tupper, Miss L. Daley, Mrs. L. Stevens, Mrs. P. Davidson, Digby Garden Club, taking part. Miss MacDonald, Mrs. C. Ferguson, C. Gernsey and R. Morton, participated in an unofficial capacity. Beavertown had high marks.

Clara Ferguson spoke on annuals stating that years ago many seeds originated in South America, Asia and Africa, then brought to our country and are now mainly distributed from the Southwestern California Valley and Mexico, as well as varieties from England, not so varied in Canada. She made good flowers for cutting for bouquets, landscaping around new homes, for brightening up property, she said.

New annuals as splendid for a touch of color after spring rains are through blooming. The speaker recommended some to be started in the house from six to eight weeks, but hardy plants could take a colder temperature, she continued.

Mrs. Ferguson advised that annuals should be sown in warm soils, nasturtiums, cantaberry bells, wild columbine, hardy pansies and pansies with plenty of color and bloom. The smaller plants are best for edging borders, window boxes and study plants, although certain varieties need sunshine, she commented. Zingiber was given plenty of color. Bloom as well as annuals, petunias and snap dragons. Petunias give better results with little expense. Smaller plants produce brighter colors. When planting use a good fertilizer and transplant on a dark day, was the advice of Mrs. Ferguson.

Miss MacDonald gave a good forecast of what to expect on growing African violets. These plants, she said, require normal house temperature, not too dry or overcast. Garden Clump — Galley 2, watered. Top soil should be healthy dirt and plants kept in indirect sunlight in summer to prevent burning on leaves, she stated. Pots should be turned often to avoid uneven growth. Mrs. MacDonald advised that each person use their own ideas and motifs which provide interest.

A social hour followed with refreshments served from an attractively arranged table, with Mrs. Frankland and Mrs. Morton, for attending the meeting and assisting in making the event a most successful one.

Miss MacDonald, Mrs. Morton, Mrs. Ferguson, Mr. and Mrs. Harris and Mr. Taylor, for attending the meeting and assisting in making the event a most successful one.

Donald was the guest of Miss Mary Marshall.

FURTHER PLANS

Allen Harris and R. MacLeod Rogers.

The latest move in the effort to improve the Community Services Council is the approval last week of the recommendations of the steering committee. Monthly meetings of a committee to draft a constitution and by-laws and a proposed social plan for the executive committee. Members of this committee are R. MacLeod Rogers, Ronald Harris, St. John's, and Stevens, Philip Threlkeld and Victor Cardenas.

The Executive of the Community Services Council will be looking for membership of nine who will be elected on a rotating basis, according to the recommendations of the steering committee. Monthly meetings of the executive will be held and general meetings of the full council will be held at least semi-annually.

The Community Services Council will act as a co-ordinating, investigating and advisory body, collecting information about community services, needs and opportunities and communicating this to organizations and associations to that action might be taken.

It is hoped that needs that are revealed as not being met through present services will be taken care of by an expansion of existing services or development of new resources. An eventual aim of the Community Services Council will be to develop a "one stop" referral centre to which people can go to consult advice, get help and assistance with their problems.

It is understood the hope is that all organizations involved in providing services to persons in need, regardless of their form of reference, will become a part of the Community Services Council and these groups, numbering more than forty, have been circulated to this end.

La Chorale Presents Fine Program

La Chorale de la Baie St. Marie presented two concerts during the weekend. The first concert was presented at St. Anne's Anglican on Friday evening, May 14th, with over 200 attendees and the second concert was given at West Point on Sunday evening, May 16th, with approximately 150 persons attending.

In both areas the choral group received warm applause by those present and was appreciated kindly by the audience. The choral group was led by Rev. Ronald Cote, C.J. M. of St. Anne's College. Despite rain in West Point, the audience braved the elements to attend the concert. Rev. Cote was pleased with the reception given by the interested audience and it made the journey to such a distance more appreciated by the group.

Shower Held

A kitchen shower was held on Wednesday evening of last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Wetternman, Pleasantville, in honour of Wright, whose marriage to Roy Wetternman will take place in the near future. Many useful gifts were received and expressions of good wishes extended to the guests of honour.

Granville Centre Honours Librarians

A farewell party was held at the home of Mrs. Ralph Wagner, Granville Centre, for two members who have resigned from the staff of the Annapolis Regional Library. Miss Isabel Abernethy, head librarian, presented gifts to Mrs. Yen Daniels, on the staff for 15 years, and Mrs. Marion Moffat a member for 11 years. A buffet supper was served.

Spring Rally And Think-In

A Spring Rally and "Think-In" was held by the Valley Presbytery, United Church Women on Thursday, May 13, in the Bear River United Church and on Friday, May 14, in Upper Canada United Church. In Bear River, Mrs. May Stokoe conducted the devotion. A welcome was given by Mrs. Leslie May, president of the local United Church Women.

The program was under the charge of Rev. Hope Jackson, Waterville, N. S., and included "Think-In" on Literature, Stewardship, Community, Friendship, and Visiting, and a general question and discussion period. Mrs. Grant Walls, Canning, Miss Douglas Fraser, and Mrs. A. Jefferson, Bridge town, formed the committee for this portion of the program. A film strip, "BEYOND THE BELLA," was also shown.

The Bear River ladies served supper in the church hall during which Mrs. Ralph Bent, Tupperville, and Mrs. Leon Hoyt, Bridgetown, gave reports from the Maritime Conference, United Church Women, which they attended in Valley delegates.

The evening session took the form of an historical sketch, commemorating the one hundredth anniversary of the Berwick Camp Meeting and was presented by Mrs. Reginald Turner, Kentville, N.S. Interesting anecdotes about happenings over the years at the Berwick Camp were related. A booklet, "Chapel Chimes," prepared and written by Mrs. Ellis, has been printed as a Centennial project, and is available or use by United Church Women and other groups.

The Berwick Camp School or women was announced as being held July 26 to 30 and each United Church Women's group was asked to send a delegate.

Miss Azila Rose, formerly a missionary, commented favourably on a controversial hymn, "Lord of the Dance," which is contained in the new hymn books.

In Upper Canada United Church on Friday, Mrs. Gayle Lewis of Windsor led the devotion and Mrs. L. W. Parker gave the report from the Maritime Conference, United Church Women.

May Meeting On Evening Service Motherhood Features Panel

The May meeting of the Centerville B.W.M.S. met at the home of Mrs. Harley Dakin, under the leadership of the president, Mrs. Ronald Marchbanks. The devotional, "The possibilities of Motherhood" was read by Mrs. Harley Dakin. The message stated that, "As Christian women the first responsibility is to God and secondly to husbands and children. It is not known what position children will take in life, but each mother can lay the foundation by example and the foundation of a good home. Mothers should not take responsibilities lightly and among the duties of a Christian mother, her most important daily activity being prayer.

The Spiritual Life message was read by Mrs. Guy Outhouse, followed by a time of prayer.

Mrs. Jennie Seale was appointed as a delegate to attend the Association meeting at Granville Beach. The offering amounted to $28.25.

The program was presented by Mrs. Jennie Seale. Mrs. Surtie read an item, "New Ventures in Bolivia in the last decade," written by Hazel Parent, one of the missionaries in Bolivia. She told of the great need for a doctor for medical work in the Chapare area. In 1963, Canadian Baptists sent Rev. John and Dr. Margaret C. Surtie to Bolivia to answer the call for help, and opened up the Bethesda Clinic, which consists of a small hospital, an office and examining room. Here Margaret attends to the physical needs while John takes care of the spiritual needs. Margaret also carries on a teaching program for a limited number of girls who want to become nurses.

Mrs. Farnet also told of the church-sponsored schools, the Baptist Seminary Extension program and of the Extension of Radio work. Two great concerns for Bolivia are for the medical and evangelistic work in the Chapare and the need for a home for the old people of the churches who have no families to care for them.

Mrs. Surtie also read an item written on Bolivia by the central character of Dr. Earl Merrick's book, "Paco of the High Country."

At the close of the meeting, refreshments were served by Mrs. Harley Dakin, assisted by Mrs. Roy Cameron. A birthday cake was presented to Mrs. Guy Outhouse.

What Does It Mean To Be A Christian In The Seventies? was the theme of a panel featured at a special Sunday evening service at Grace Church. Moderator of the panel was Jack Riley and panelists were Wynn McDonald, Mrs. J. M. Wallis, Miss Nancy Lee Rice and Mrs. Vivian O'Neill. Mrs. O'Neill opened the discussion by referring to Christianity of early years and Miss Rice and Mrs. Wallis concurred that the basic principles of Christianity remain the same but a different age makes the carrying out of these principles in different forms. Mr. McDonald considered the necessary outward approach, getting involved and willingness to go forth with beliefs. In the time at disposal, a few specific features of being a Christian in the seventies were discussed.

The service was conducted by Clerk of the Session, Sherman Rice. The C.G.I.T. choir, under the direction of Mrs. E. Arnold, Mrs. Ronald Hand-spiker and Mrs. Meldrum presented two special numbers, "He" and "The Whole World In His Hand," besides leading in praise with Miss Susan Turnbull directing.

Grant Stonehouse read the scripture and prayers were led by Donald Clark and Barry Snow.

At the morning service, Mrs. C. C. Macmillan gave a short sermonette on the Stewardship of Money. Rev. Ronald Stevens, pastor, preached on Paul and Silas, who "turned the world upside-down" with the teaching of Jesus. Today, he said, Communism with its devotion and determination is having a greater influence in many respects than Christianity and turning the world upside-down. He felt the Christian Church should always be a disturbing and challenging factor in the world.

A combined congregational meeting, and evening service will be held on Sunday at seven o'clock. Rev. Kenneth Bennett of CFB Cornwallis will be the guest preacher for the anniversary service on June 20.

— WELCOME — "PRINCESS OF ACADIA"

Aerial view of the Town of Digby, Nova Scotia.

To The TOWN OF DIGBY

SPEND YOUR HOLIDAYS IN DIGBY: Situated in the most historical area of North America, the Town of Digby boasts excellent accommodation and wonderful opportunities for bathing, boating, fishing, golf. — Sight seeing is a must!

The Town of Digby, renowned for its scallop fleet, is served by modern hospital and educational facilities, radio, television and newspaper services and an abundance of electrical power, making the area ever challenging for new industries. Churches and Service Clubs are exceptionally active in the town.

Greetings Princess Of Acadia

Today is a day to be long remembered in the history of Digby. It is a day of great celebration and festivity marking the inaugural trip of the new Princess of Acadia across the Bay of Fundy from the Friendly port of Saint John, New Brunswick, to the town of Digby. It is a day of pride for all of our 2000 population in this beautiful little town as well as a day of pride for our summer visitors who return each year to enjoy our magnificent summer climate.

Such a day as this could culminate only through co-operative efforts of all levels of government, industries, Chambers of Commerce and private citizens. On behalf of the councillors and citizens of Digby I congratulate the owners and builders. I sincerely extend best wishes of success in all the experiences of the Princess of Acadia and heartfelt thanks to all those who shared in bringing to fruition this modern means of transportation across the 40 miles which link our two fair provinces. The new service is comfortable, it is spacious and luxurious, but it is more than that; it fills a necessity for the growth and expansion of the immediate area and that of all Western Nova Scotia. It is a tremendous step forward bringing with it a day of rejoicing for Digby.

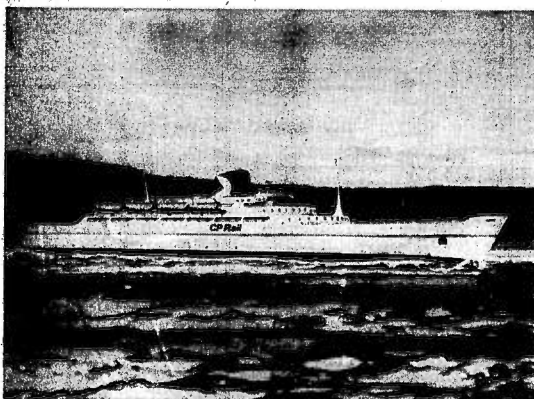

I am sure the presence of the new Princess of Acadia in our midst will be a morale builder for our people. The newly announced schedule and fee has already lent encouragement to businessmen of the whole area. I am sure results will show by an increase in business activity, brighter appearances, both physically and mentally, within the town, all garbed by the incentive engendered by our modernized and efficient transportation. Anticipation is that increased numbers of visitors will come within our gates, not only for this special Princess of Acadia day festivity but also because they will take advantage of the conveniences and pleasures offered by the trips of the Princess of Acadia in the days ahead. A warm and cordial welcome is extended to all. May you return frequently to enjoy the pleasant, wholesome life of a country town and each time your length of stay be prolonged in our midst. We have much to show you in scenery and arts, there is recreation to enjoy, good air to breathe, good food to eat and a comfortable abode awaits you. Our civic and community people are always willing to inform you and serve you.

Glen W. Smith,
Mayor of the Town of Digby.

The new "Princess of Acadia", built at Saint John Shipbuilding and Drydock Company Ltd., in Saint John, will arrive today at the new docking facilities at Rattling Beach, Digby, at 2:30 p.m. The 6500 ton $8,000,000 ferry will make two trips per day between Saint John and Digby, and can accommodate 650 passengers, 159 automobiles or 40 forty-five foot truck trailers and seven tractors or combinations of both. Hydraulically-operated bow and stern doors will allow a roll-on, roll-off system which cuts out the necessity of manoeuvring vehicles on the ferry.

PRINCESS OF ACADIA

Now that the continuation and expansion of the Digby-Saint John Ferry facilities are an actual fact, it may be as well to contemplate for a few minutes and possibly we will understand that events, far beyond our control of influence, brought about this devoted connection with the port of Saint John.

To make our point clearer we must refer to a few crucial periods in the history of the Digby-Saint John Ferry. In all cases, later quoted, the revealed dollar determined the course of that history and, if we are realistic, it will be so for many years to come.

When in 1920, James Wilcoxon found he was losing money, he applied to the Nova Scotia Government for a subsidy, that his steamer "Saint John" would return him a profit, and he received subsequent increased grants from the Provincial Government.

By 1923 the $200 subsidy provided initially to James Wilcoxon had been increased by the Province to King Brothers' company to $3,000 for the services on the two Bay of Fundy routes — Annapolis-Digby-Saint John and Windsor-Saint John.

The Nova Scotia S.S. Company, even with assistance, failed from the Bay of Fundy seven through lack of profits to its shareholders in 1928.

The Bay of Fundy S.S. Co. also ceased operations when its shareholders found they were losing money on their operations, although their company was receiving a subsidy of $10,000 per annum from the Federal Government.

The City of Montserrat could not compete with the D.A.R. "Prince Rupert" and her owners retreated from the shipping lists.

After the Bay of Fundy S.S. Co. withdrew its service from the Bay, the D.A.R. was in law for Federal subsidies and, from 1925 until 1932 a total of $37,025 were paid to the Dominion Atlantic Railway and to the Canadian Pacific Railway in subsidies that the service be kept in operation.

Those who have frequented the boat wharf during the winter season could not avoid passing the small flow of passengers, freight and automobiles which came from the "Princess of Acadia" as she discharged at the Government pier. It did not require a course in new math, or a computer to realize that the C.P.R. retained the Company's link with Halifax, even though at an annual loss to her owners.

Still we, you and I, felt the service was inadequate for present demands. It was for the needs of Western Nova Scotia. Politicians talked, civic bodies added various groups put forward. That was the thing to do. But do we feel that the letters to the editors, the speeches we made, the trips to Ottawa and the screaming we did influenced the case? Let us be realistic.

The C.P.R. is a corporate body answerable to its shareholders. It is business and always has been to make profits for its investors. When the day comes it does not accomplish this we will find it a mere record only in our history books.

This hard economic fact was demonstrated by the three summer hotels in Nova Scotia. The C.P.R. was under no obligation to continue operation of the tourist resorts at Yarmouth, Digby and Kentville after their output was greater than their input.

When the "Princess Helene" could no longer contend with the "Princess of Acadia" which the C.P.R. had at its disposal and could be commissioned for the Fundy service without a great expenditure of money. It retained the Company's link with Halifax, even though at an annual loss to her owners.

True she had greater tonnage capacity than the "Helene" but this was only in demand for three months a year, with no prospect of future increase.

We feel that if matters had remained at the same stage of development in the Province, the C.P.R. would have faded out of the picture in Nova Scotia and Saint John would have been the terminus of its influence in Eastern Canada.

Don't let us be blinded with self-appraisal as we view the new "Princess of Acadia" as she makes her daily trips to Digby. We are afraid that our influence has had no effect on the arrival of this modern ship in our port. Instead of trying for credit, let us thank our lucky stars that certain events in Halifax prompted the C.P.R. to place the new steamer on the Bay route.

Until early in 1969 all the feed back from Digby and other sources indicated we may be without a C.P.R. ferry on the Bay, let alone a ship such as the excellent one we now welcome into the basin.

So we can thank the "Min Fates" which came to our aid. Halifax began to develop its container facilities, and the C.N.R. had the only available means of carrying those containers out of the City and across the continent. The C.P.R. was left on the side-lines with no means of transporting, with its own facilities, those packages efficiently once they were landed on the dock of the city.

There was one avenue open to the C.P.R. if it wished to bid for some of this traffic. A fleet of trailer trucks could wheel between Halifax and Digby in three and a half hours over an all-weather highway, cross the Fundy in two hours and, in six or seven hours from time of discharging in Halifax, the containers could be leaving Saint John either by rail or by highway, headed down the Atlantic States or to the Central Provinces.

The C.P.R. was alert to this challenge and conscious of the possibilities for the future. True, the port of Saint John may adopt its container potential, but for ships inbound from Europe, Halifax offers a closer port of discharge and time is money with these ships. Not many will want to clean to Saint John with a couple of days extra sailing time added to their schedule.

The fates have been good to us. The container shipments could not have better timing to deliver us an efficient ferry service to Saint John. So, instead of feeling we had a part in this development, let us thank our lucky stars for the opening of the Halifax container port into the seventies.

What can we expect now that the ferry service is assured? When a consignment of containers are loaded through by way of Digby, the "Acadia" will be a busy little job with her chores on the Bay. At such times there will be two and possibly three trips per 24 hour period between the ports of Digby and Saint John. When the pressure from the containers slack off the three trips will likely drop back to one scheduled sailing. It will be sufficient to handle normal traffic outside of the tourist season.

We hope otherwise, but it is likely that in certain seasons of the year the new vessel, on a single trip per day schedule, will be going across the Bay with much less than her vehicle capacity occupied.

The only way it can be otherwise will be a shift of our local demands to Saint John from Halifax as was once the case when eight coastal steamers brought their cargo to the Nova Scotian side of the Fundy from Saint John. These coasters fell victim to the competition provided by the trucks and their portal to portal service. The clock has gone full circle and it is the truck which has provided the incentive for the second "Princess of Acadia".

The only main problem now is the unfinished sections of Highway 1. It is imperative that these areas be completed with dispatch, so the flow of traffic can be kept going with a minimum of tragedies and with ease.

The new ferry offers a larger market to prospective industry seeking location in the Digby area. The bottle neck which formerly existed in truck transportation is now removed. A more convenient exit now is open for our processed fish, and other commodities.

The threat of the Saint John-Digby ferry following the fate of all other Saint John boat connections with Western Nova Scotia is over for a period of time. Trucks will now be able to have easy access to New Brunswick and as a side issue Highway 1 will be upgraded from Digby to Halifax faster, to meet the demands of the C.P.R.'s ferry. Incidentally that upgraded highway will benefit all of the Valley and Western Nova Scotia. We will also be able to welcome our tourist with a smile instead of a grin. We will know that they have enjoyed their trip across the Bay.

"PRINCESS OF ACADIA".*

We congratulate these groups along with the CPR on this memorable occasion.

IGA FOODLINER

Montague Row Digby, N. S.

The arrival of the new vessel will be heralded in years to come as a much needed step in the right direction as a vessel of this type is of the most importance in securing coastal and economic improvements in the area.

To all those who have contributed in making this day a point of history may I add my deepest thanks and congratulations.

I feel certain that the travelling public will be greatly impressed with all the Digby area has to offer and also certain that stops will be taken to offer the travelling public a friendly and warm welcome.

Ships have travelled the waters of the Bay of Fundy for many years now and they have long been a familiar sight to local citizens; however, despite the familiarity I'm certain the Princess of Acadia will be afforded the hearty welcome it well deserves.

The arrival of the new vessel marks a needed step in the promotion of the tourist industry and it is my hope that every tourist will find a piece of home in our area.

Ronald Storehouse

Joseph Cawey, M. L. A.

It is a distinct pleasure to join with all those who are extending their good wishes and congratulations on the occasion of the inaugural voyage of the new and very modern, "Princess of Acadia."

This is an event to which many in this area have looked forward with keen anticipation. It also marks the successful culmination of a great deal of effort on the part of members of government at both the provincial and federal level, Boards of Trade, civic governments and other like organizations.

Everyone, I am sure, is grateful to the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Government of Canada and those other agencies and organizations which have made possible the provision of this fine new service across the Bay of Fundy between the ports of Digby and Saint John.

In my view, it marks the beginning of a whole new era

an important highway

For 58 years ships bearing the Canadian Pacific house flag have cruised the broad highway of the Bay of Fundy. It is one of our important highways and last year brought more than 7,000 cars to our province from other parts of Canada and the United States.

The "Princess of Acadia" is the latest in a long line of proud ships which have linked Nova Scotia with her neighbours in New Brunswick and Maine. It offers visitors a fast and comfortable link with our own network of modern highway facilities.

Message From Annapolis Warden Malcolm Bakom

It is with a great deal of pleasure that I welcome the new Princess of Acadia to the Bay of Fundy Ferry Service. The residents of this Municipality are much interested and vitally affected by improved transportation facilities in the western part of this province. Indeed, improvement of highways and ferry connections are a must if western Nova Scotia and, in particular, Annapolis County, is to realize its potential. We, the people of Annapolis County, feel that we have much to offer the visitor or the permanent resident. Our countryside is still relatively unspoiled and uncrowded. I think we, who have resided in this area for many generations, are beginning to appreciate the attitude of visitors who remark upon our good fortune to be living where we are. So much for our natural assets. It is our duty to preserve what we have and to continually seek ways to improve services to the public. We can soon spoil a good thing by being indifferent to the pressing problems of modern living. Thus, this Municipality seeks to keep abreast of current and future demands by upgrading Municipal services.

The improved transportation facilities afforded by the new Princess of Acadia will unquestionably assist this area of the Province both from the convenience which it will afford and from a business and commercial point of view.

Messages From AVABT

The Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade welcome this opportunity to greet the new ferry, Princess of Acadia, as it enters the Digby-Saint John service.

Among the principal reasons for the AVABT's existence are the promotion of improved transportation and tourism. This bright new boat certainly falls into both of these categories.

The AVABT has, from its inception, been aware of the need for a Fundy ferry service that could truly be regarded as the CPR's link between the main line, which terminates at Saint John, and its subsidiary, the Dominion Atlantic Railway which serves the Annapolis Valley and Halifax.

We believe that we have played some part, at least, in convincing the railway company and the governments of Canada, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia that there was a need to substantially upgrade this service.

This fast ship with large cargo capacity, making two trips daily, should go a long way towards fulfilling this need.

We offer our sincere congratulations to the Canadian Pacific Railway who, having recognized the need for better Fundy service, has taken this step to meet it.

H. L. Woodman
President, Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade.

On behalf of the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, may I express our appreciation at this opportunity to welcome the new "Princess of Acadia".

In cooperation with the Municipality of Digby County, the Town of Digby, and the Digby Board of Trade, the AVABT has worked for many years to improve the ferry service between Digby and Saint John. It is our sincere belief that a better ferry service will benefit each and every one of us in Western Nova Scotia.

We are proud to welcome the new Digby-Saint John ferry, bringing a most modern and efficient service to the travelling public. We congratulate the Canadian Pacific Railway Company, and wish them every success in the years to come. To the Captain, the crew, and the passengers, God-speed and good sailing.

John Logan,
Executive Manager.

DIGBY TRADE BOARD EXTENDS WELCOME

It is indeed a pleasure as President of the Digby Board of Trade to extend a sincere and hearty welcome to the Princess of Acadia and all who may sail on this fine ship.

This inaugural run is the realization and fulfilment of a project that has over the past twenty years been the prime project of the Digby Board of Trade. We of the present Board say thanks to the past members of the Board of Trade who also had initiative and determination to have this day realized.

It is our hope and desire that this new transportation service of a valley/route ferry plus the greatly improved rates and scheduling will be the catalyst to greater development of our area and not allow us to remain dormant.

Through surveys, by our provincial government, Digby has been shown as the number two natural deep water or harbor in Nova Scotia. With this knowledge and the many millions of dollars that has been spent by our federal government in building the very modern docking facility; the provincial government with expenditure on highway approaches; and the modern ferry, built by C.P. Rail we must now push forward to increased development of not only Digby and its harbour but all of South Western Nova Scotia.

As a Board of Trade we want it to be known that our efforts will always be to make this part of Nova Scotia a better place in which to live and work. In doing so we can only say to the federal government, the provincial government, the Canadian Pacific Railway and all concerned, a hundred thousand welcomes.

Russell Stonehouse,
President.

Clare Warden Bernard LeBlanc Welcomes New Ferry

I would be remiss if I neglected to welcome the fine new ferry, the Princess of Acadia and be certain it at the same time I neglected to inform all her passengers of the beautiful country through Clare. So, welcome and congratulations!

Clare has had a share in urging an up-to-date transportation service across the Bay of Fundy from Saint John to Digby and Acadia had we had hope that our efforts would not grow to fruition. That day has now come with the proper words with which we can fittingly express how valuable this modern transportation will be to our district and, indeed, to all South Western Nova Scotia.

To all of you, I extend my best wishes personally and also on behalf of the Clare Municipality. Clare stands ready with open arms to greet the visitors who come her way. We are proud of many things in Clare, proud of our ancestry and culture, proud of our scenery, our churches and schools, our college and social events. We are proud of our tourist accommodation and our eating establishments. I take this opportunity to invite you to

INTO THE GUT WE COME

Digby Gut or Digby Gap, on the left is the picturesque, other with do for the name. What's in a name anyway when the beauty of scenery is so superior and the transportation is so lush? Passengers enroute from Saint John, N. B., to Digby on the new Princess of Acadia, will have much to remember is comfort, charm and beauty.

Leaving Saint John, N. B., behind, the ship gradually approaches a narrow gate way of water sometimes called Digby Gut and sometimes called Digby Gap. It leads into down the shore to the Clare Digby Harbour and Annapolis Basin. To the right is the beautiful village of Bay View and Already, it has been taken for granted that the Town of Digby will be explored, enjoyed and remembered for a return visit.

Digby was founded in 1783. Loyalists, settlers left New York in May 1783 by the ship Atlanta in command of Admiral Sir Robert Digby. They arrived at Conway and built houses of logs, later covered with shingles. These had stood for more than a hundred years today. Digby with name changed from Conway in 1784 gave for the first time. While Digby remains almost stagnant in population figures, it remains beautiful in scenery and is a progressive hamlet, excelling in schools and hospitals and a number of other admirable institutions.

Tourism, fishing, lumbering and farming sustain the town and beautiful surrounding villages. There are places of interest like Admiral Sir Robert Digby well and other points.

Before heading toward the Valley or along the French Shore, all visitors should be sure to visit the picturesque Digby Neck and Islands. But, they must be sure to have plenty of time. Every side road along the Neck, whether to the right or left, leads to a beautiful scenery. The Bay of Fundy across which the Princess of Acadia sailed, is to the right. St. Mary's Bay is to the left. The Neck is 20 miles long and not more than two miles wide. Such villages as Roseway, Calverton Cove, Centerville, Sandy Cove, Little River, White Cove and East Ferry are a photographer's haven.

Once the visitor reaches East Ferry, gets a glimpse of Tiverton across the Petit Passage and crosses the unique ferry service he becomes captivated by a sense of adventure, obsessed with good far more and more grandeur, and genuinely friendly curiosity about what is on the other side. So he finds the motor boat pushed scow leads his car to twelve miles of pavement on Long Island to Freepoint. Do you like fishing? Or just loafing? Take your choice, but you'll enjoy it. And as if that weren't enough for one day, there's a similar ferry to Westport on Beier Island and just as much beauty to see, once you are there. You do not need a car. There are three miles of roads on the island and all good paved roads. Don't be mistaken. It's not exactly a small village and you will probably find the people of this fishing village owning summer homes elsewhere besides living in fine, comfortable and modern homes on the island. It was the birth place of Capt. Joshua Slocum who went on a solo trip by boat around the world. A citizen tells the story. Do you enjoy bird watching? Westport is the place. Digby Neck and Islands history also dates back to the Loyalists.

Suppose the tourist, who leaves the Princess of Acadia has viewed the town and is now enroute to Halifax, Nova Scotia's capital and largest centre. They, no doubt, will go the Valley road passing through Conway and Smith's Cove before they reach the site of the new bridge to be built over Bear River. It would be a shame however to omit the village of Bear River, so nestled in the folds that it is called the Swissland of Nova Scotia. Bear River has its own charm and own interests. Recently it suffered loss by a serious fire but even this will not dampen the spirits of the lovely people who will stage their annual Cherry Carnival in July and sponsor the Digby County Exhibition in August.

(For the history of Bear River, read another column or write the Digby Courier).

Leaving Bear River will be with reluctance but the road through Deep Brook, then southeast into Annapolis Royal also has much charm to compensate and history in future. We must not neglect to mention that this road goes right past CFB Cornwallis, one time the largest naval training base in the British Empire. Port Anne of Annapolis Royal is steeped in history and the Habitation 2 Port Royal, seven miles west after crossing the river has even more. Even to the very end of the western road at Victoria Beach we see a cairn commemorating the "pony express." And no visitor speaking of Annapolis Royal and Port Royal, would want to miss out on boondoggling, for accommodation. An information bureau is situated days or more in Nova Scotia qualifies for membership and is cordially invited to join The Order of the Good Time (this issue of the Digby Courier will likely have the history of the Order. If not write to us).

Now that the appetite of the tourist has been whetted, we will turn back from Annapolis Royal to Digby in this story, but not before we give a boost to the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival during the coming weekend and remark that the trip through the Valley to Halifax should really be completed. Not that from there on East is East and West is West and neither the twin should "Oh, no. Simply that there is one corner in which this newspaper has a special duty to shine and we do not want to spread too wide and thin Digby in any one direction.

Going West from Digby on Highway 101 we pass through Brighton, Boston, Gilbert Cove, Plympton. Before we come to Weymouth, a small town or incorporated village. Weymouth settled by Loyalists in 1783-1784 was once one of the most important centres in Digby County, having thrived on lumbering and shipbuilding. The town is situated on the Seabrook River, the Loyalist name for Weymouth, and continues to have a forward-looking outlook. A stranger is not a stranger for long in Weymouth as noted by a number of summer people who become just part of the community.

Continuing West, immediately after Weymouth, we come in the district of Clare, the longest mainland in the world. It is also noted for its fine churches. Clare people are descendants of the same race of French Acadians who for accommodation. An information bureau is situated Joseph Dugas, moved from the Valley and settled at Doucet's Point, the first settlement in Clare. Actually there is one continuous French Village all along this St. Mary's Bay shore, but for the sake of records there are the villages of St. Bernard, Belliveau's Cove, Church Point, Meagan, Greenes Cove, Little Brook, Concessionville, Saint-Alexandre, Cape St. Mary, all in Digby County, which is divided into two districts or municipalities, Digby and Clare. Digby, the Acadian people are proud of their origin and show it in flying the Acadian flag.

Shipbuilding is a chief industry in the Metepennessi where wooden craft continue to slip into the water and ride the waves. In general, the whole district takes on an air of prosperity. The people enjoy cultural life and education is important to them. More than twenty-five from the immediate French area graduated with a Bachelor of Arts from St. Ann's College in their own midst at Church Point. Visitors to Clare will not have too much difficulty finding recreation, golfing, fishing, etc. nor will they need to look long and hard for good eating and sleeping places.

Here that boat blast! It's the new Princess of Acadia docking at the Digby terminals. Where will all the people go and what will they do? Well, there is the government owned Pines Hotel near the terminal. It has swimming and golfing and other games and the scenery too. And if there is an overflow of persons of a different mind, there are other small hotels and motels.

For accommodation. An information bureau is situated near which usually accommodates tourists and like information sheets. What is there to do? A few ideas had already been mentioned. And it might be wise to pick up the local newspaper, The Digby Courier, to scan the List Your Events. In through the Gut she comes. It is yours to enjoy from there.

MANY SHIPS HAVE PLOWED THE BAY OF FUNDY

By. V. G. CARDOZA

The sleek new Canadian Pacific ferry, Princess of Acadia, which is scheduled to make its inaugural run between the Bay of Fundy ports of Digby and Saint John, is the latest in a long line of ships which have plied this run since 1783, each an advance in service over its predecessor.

The first vessel to make regular trips between Digby and Saint John was the "Sally," captained by Robert Thornhill of Digby. This ship began its regular service shortly after the arrival of the United Empire Loyalist settlers in Digby in 1783. At the same time two other vessels began regular operation of a service between Annapolis Royal, Digby and Saint John. All three vessels carried mail, passengers and freight. Weekly trips were made when weather permitted.

The "Matilda" continued regular service between Digby and Saint John until 1814 when she was succeeded by the ship, "Hiram" in 1815 after the close of the war of 1812. She was owned by William Taylor.

It was on Wednesday, July 27, 1827 that the "Saint John," schooner rigged, with fore-sail, masted and jib, became the first steam driven vessel to cross the Bay of Fundy from Saint John to Digby. She made regular weekly trips between Saint John, Digby and Annapolis until 1831 when she was succeeded by the steamer, "Honoria". This vessel was succeeded in 1833 by the "Maid of the Mist" and in 1834 the "Gastelle" took over the run.

In the summer of 1836 the "Royal Tar" came on the run and was the first steamer to ply between the ports of Annapolis, Digby, Saint John and Boston. She was later burned under tragic circumstances in Penobscot Bay. The "Maid of Erin" followed the "Royal Tar" and was herself followed in 1849 by the "Fairy Queen".

The "Pilot" came next and also covered the run until she went aground on Condon's Point off Digby Gut. In 1851 the "Crook" owned by King Brothers took over the route and continued until she was replaced in 1857 by the "Empress", which was a steamer of 500 tons, owned by Harbottle and Small. The "Empress" was sold in 1871 and was wrecked sometime later that year in Prescod Bay. In 1865 the "Empress" was replaced by a steamer of 650 tons was built for the run and she continued until 1871 when the "Scout" was purchased for the Saint John-Digby route.

The "Scout" was a steel plated sidewheeler. She was originally built for the Dover-Calgary run and was very fast, making 21 knots an hour. She was built in England and it is recorded that on her trip to take over the Saint John-Digby route she ran out of coal and many of her fittings had to be torn out to provide fuel to finish the trip.

An advertisement for the "Scout" in 1880 states the vessel made three trips a week from Saint John to Digby and Annapolis. Fare was $1.50 from Saint John to Digby and $2.00 to Annapolis. Like her predecessor, the "Empress", she was connected with the Annapolis and Windsor railway at Annapolis and the Western Coast line railway at Digby for Yarmouth. There was no connecting rail link between Digby, Annapolis and Saint John in 1880 and the steamer "Scout" was added to the run between Digby, Annapolis and Saint John in 1885 and the steamer "Evangeline" made regular trips between Digby and Annapolis. The "Evangeline" was owned by the Annapolis Steam Packet Company which was managed by George E. Covert of that town.

In the winter of 1883-85, the steamer "Dorcas" went on the run between Digby, Annapolis and Saint John, making three trips a week. In April 1888, the "Dorcas" was replaced by the "City of Monticello". That summer the "Cleopatra" made two trips a week between Digby, Annapolis and Boston with the fare being $3.50.

The summer of 1889 saw a rate war between the Bay of Fundy Steamship Company, which operated the "Monticello", and the Annapolis Steam Packet Company. The "Monticello" advertised rates from Annapolis to Saint John of 75c with a single at 75c. She made daily trips each week day except Tuesday. The "New Brunswick" was also making two trips a week from Digby to Boston.

The "Princess Rupert" replaced the "Monticello" in 1886 but was off the run for two months that year because of a broken shaft. The "Princess Rupert" was perhaps one of the most favorite boats ever on the route. She was a sidewheeler with beautiful lines, built like a yacht, and very fast. She was originally intended for the Pacific coast but was purchased by the D. A. R. and completed for the Digby-Saint John run. She made a trial run from Saint John to Digby in a time of two hours and 35 minutes. At this time the original "Yarmouth" was used as a winter boat and for a time trips were increased to two a day in the summer. The "St. George" was used as a second vessel for the summer run. She was an English Channel boat and was very fast. Several other ships plied the "Princess Rupert" service until the "Princess Helen" was brought to Digby from the Gulf of St. Lawrence by the C. P. R. She continued on the run until 1922 when she was succeeded by the "Princess Helen", which was built expressly for the run.

The "Princess Helen" was later replaced by the "Princess Naima" which was brought here from the west coast by the C.P.R. and renamed the "Princess of Acadia". She retained her old name with the commissioning of the new ship which makes its initial run between Saint John and Digby on May 27th.

Welcome To The "Princess Of Acadia"

Louis R. Connon, M.P.

It is my honour and pleasure to take this opportunity to welcome the new "Princess of Acadia".

The "Princess of Acadia" is more than just a new ferry. It is the result of the hard work over the past several years, of many, many persons who have dedicated their services to the advancement of southwestern Nova Scotia.

I am sure the coming of the "Princess of Acadia" will mean a great deal to the area and especially, to a concern shared by all of us... the tourist industry.

And so I want to take this opportunity not only to welcome the "Princess of Acadia", but to thank each of those persons who made it possible. It is to those who contributed to its being we owe our debt, and I am proud to be among the first to extend appreciation for their efforts.

Saint John Mayor James E. Calvin, has hailed the new, continuing revitalization Bay of Fundy ferry service as program of Saint John and the Atlantic region.

"For the last several years we in Saint John, have shown that we are very ambitious about building a better, more improved community and this new ferry service is indicative of the major strides we have been making toward that goal," Mayor Calvin said.

"In addition," said the Mayor, "it is representative of the attitudes of our friends in Digby and south western Nova Scotia to improve and build their communities."

"There is no doubt this new service holds untold benefits for the areas it will serve and I am sure it will only be a short time before these benefits begin to be realized," he said.

In paying tribute to C. P. Rail, Mayor Calvin said, "They are to be commended for recognizing the need for an improved Bay of Fundy ferry service and taking the necessary action leading to the reality that has been realized."

"At the same time," he said, "we owe much to those people who have worked behind the scenes for many years toward fulfilling the goal of a better ferry service between Saint John and Digby."

"The Common Council of the City of Saint John, the Digby Town Council, the Annapolis Valley Affiliated Boards of Trade, and many other groups and organizations should be recognized at this time and paid tribute for their very significant roles in this achievement."

Mayor Calvin said introduction of the new ferry and schedule is a vital, important step in upgrading a major transportation link. "Let us hope this project helps lead the way toward recognition of the need for improvement of the general transportation situation in eastern Canada," he said.

"As Mayor of Saint John or as a citizen of our fine, growing city, I am proud to welcome."

Welcome Princess!

The Digby County Power Board congratulates the CPR for this fine modern addition to its transportation system.

The Digby County Power Board, originating under the 1926 Statutes of the Province of Nova Scotia, and which owns and maintains both 23 kv and 12.5 kv transmission lines in all of Digby County, obtained certification from the Board of Commissioners of Public Utilities in September 1934: "to proceed with the installation of the 12 kv line and transformer station to supply the elevators at the Government Wharf in Digby, operated by Canadian Pacific Steamships."

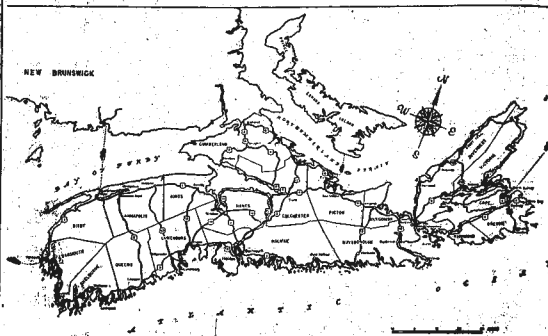

When it was decided to locate the new Ferry terminal near the Rattling Beach on the Shore Road, the Digby County Power Board, after correspondence with Whilman, Ben & Assoc., Consulting Engineers for the Wharf, proceeded to replace the Municipal owned 2400 volt 3 phase distribution line, on the Shore Road with a new 12,500 volt 3 phase transmission line, a distance of 2½ miles. At the request of Beaver Construction Co. Ltd., prime contractors for the terminal, the final change over in voltage was effected on March 2nd of this year. Capital expenditure by the Digby County Power Board of $18,000 was required for the increase in voltage, and an additional $900.00 was expended by the Municipal Utility for metering equipment at the Wharf. The new terminal will be a customer of the Municipality of Digby Electric Utility.

This new, modern transmission line ensures the availability of "power with a punch" to those customers present — or in the future, who will have occasion to employ it both in commercial as well as in domestic use.

Valley Extends Welcome For Weekend Apple Blossom Festival

A welcome to the new Princess of Acadia and a welcome to those travelling to the Valley for the 39th Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival, May 28 to 31, is extended.

It is also the weekend when one becomes aware of the fact that the Valley has its quota of beautiful girls, who will be showing their charms on Friday, competing for the highest honour, Queen Annapolis XXXVIX.

Princesses have been chosen to represent their communities. Those are receiving final touches of paint and decorations appearing in the last hour, Wolfville.

Since the festival's commencement it has increased in size, but still retains its original message of being a tourist attraction for the Valley and to publicize its history and scenic beauty. It also finds the festival's first president, Mr. Frank J. Barnes of Kennebec still active in festival events.

In keeping with the change of location adopted in 1969, the events of this year's festival will evolve around the town of Wolfville.

Weekend activities open with a public reception for the Princesses at the McConnell Dining Hall, Acadia University, Wolfville at 2:30 p.m. on Friday. Followed by a tea sponsored by the Wolfville Ridge Club.

Queen Annapolis XXXVIX, will be crowned at coronation ceremonies in University Hall, Wolfville, at 8:00 p.m. during a Folk Arts Concert.

Following the coronation the Royal party will attend the annual Queen's Ball in War Memorial Gymnasium, Wolfville.

Saturday, May 29 Raymond Field, Wolfville will be the location of the Children's Parade, which will begin at 10:00 a.m. under the direction of the Wolfville Lions.

The Grand Street Parade will move off from the Eye Road, Lower Wolfville and proceed along the Main Street, terminating at Raymond Field. The arrival here has been set at 3:00 p.m., but previous to this a program will be underway at Raymond Field to entertain those who take advantage of the shaded grandstand to view the parade and other events.

The Royal Party will visit various communities in the evening and attend the Princess Dance at the Cornwallis Inn, commencing at 9:00 p.m.

Sunday, May 30 On Sunday, the Royal Party will attend two church services, 11:00 a.m. at the Wolfville Baptist Church and at 7:00 p.m. at the Anglican Church, Hantsport.

In the afternoon at 2:30 p.m. the Royal Party will be at Grand Pre Memorial Park, where a program is planned by the Horton District High School Band and a 65 voice choir from the Ellerslie Junior High School, Dartmouth.

Come fans are invited to bring along their cameras as the Queen and Princesses will stroll around the grounds prior to official photographs by the professional people, at CFB Greenwood.

Come, bring your camera and have your picture taken with your favourite Princess or Queen Annapolis.

In the evening at 8:15 p.m., weather permitting, an outdoor concert will be held in Windsor with the Royal Party in attendance.

Monday, May 31 Queen and Princesses will commence a western Valley tour, calling at communities from Cambridge to Digby, returning for the Blossom Ball at CFB Greenwood.

Port Royal Habitation

Forming a link with many "find events" in Canadian history, Port Royal National Historic Park at Port Royal, Nova Scotia, is one of the notable points of interest in the Maritime Provinces. Here, on the shore of Annapolis Basin, the Government of Canada has erected, on the original site, a replica of the Port Royal Habitation built in 1605 by Champlain and DeMonts. Located on a good harbour, the group of buildings sheltered the first settlers in Canada, and formed the first permanent trading settlement in North America south of Spanish settlements on the Gulf of Mexico.

At Port Royal the first road in Canada was constructed, the first hydraulic development carried out, and the first Christian baptism performed. Here, too, was formed the first social club in North America, the Order of Good Cheer, to keep alive the spirit of fellowship and goodwill among the members of the little settlement. On the waterfront also was enacted the first play written and staged in North America.

The original Habitation, which comprised a group of buildings arranged around a courtyard and fortified at two corners by a cannon platform palisade, was destroyed by an invading English force from Virginia in 1613. The restoration has been carried out as faithfully as practicable from plans and descriptions left by Champlain, and from data secured from French and elsewhere. The location of the original buildings was determined by intensive research, including a process of salsification.

Port Royal Park is accessible by motor road from Annapolis Royal, 8 miles distant on Highway No. 1. The latter is also served by the Dominion Atlantic Railway (C.P.R.).

Back in 1963 the Princess of Namimoo (Acadia) was escorted into Digby by the Department of Fisheries boat Lieutenant Captain Desiree Doucette, who exchanged greetings by radio.

John M. Buchanan

"The arrival of the Princess of Acadia is a very special occasion for the people of not only Digby, but indeed, the whole of Nova Scotia. This new ship is to be capable of making up to three daily return trips between Digby and Saint John, and this will boost tourism, assist the export of farm produce and fisheries, and as well, bring all of Southwestern Nova Scotia in much more convenient contact with New Brunswick and the Central Canadian Provinces.

This is another fine institution in the fine future of Southwestern Nova Scotia, an area with which I am most familiar, and an area to which I am deeply attached.

Many have shared in the introduction of the newly improved service which the Princess of Acadia is capable of providing — the CPR, the previous provincial government, and the people of Digby town and county. To this latter group, especially those who worked long, hard hours at obtaining this new vessel, may I say well done, and offer my sincerest congratulations to all concerned.

From The President Canadian Chamber Of Commerce

"There is no question that up-to-date methods of transportation, like modern communication technologies, can only result in an improvement in the services which the people in Nova Scotia can enjoy and the quality of life which follows as a natural result.

In my travels during the past several months representing the Canadian Chamber of Commerce, I have been a witness to many such examples of progress and development, and the introduction of the new and improved ferry service linking Nova Scotia just for stop forward in the progress of our Province."

A. Gordon Archibald

believe that we can ever underestimate the importance of good, modern sound transportation to the Province of Nova Scotia, and particularly to the Western part of the Province. There is no question but that the benefits both to all sectors of industry in Nova Scotia, and to the growth and development of tourism, especially in Western Nova Scotia, will be with us for years to come.

On behalf of The Chamber, I extend to you best wishes and congratulations on a well-just stop forward in the progress of our Province."

The growth of New Brunswick and Nova Scotia,

Westport's Famous Captain Joshua Slocum

Captain Joshua Slocum, who grew up in the village of Westport on Brier Island, Digby County, was the first person to circumnavigate the world alone. Leaving Fairhaven, Conn., on April 24, 1893, the captain sailed 46,000 miles around the world, completing the voyage over three years later on June 27, 1896.

The captain in his little craft "Spray" made his first international port of call during his historical feat, at Westport.

Captain Slocum was 51 years old when he pushed up his small craft and departed.

signs of love for the excitement of the sea and the sense of freedom that it presented. In later life in his book "Sailing Around The World" he declared, "It is known that a Brier Islander, fish or no fish, never flinches from a sea."

Joshua Slocum had left his home in Westport to earn his living sailing ships at the age of sixteen. His father, John Slocum, came to Westport from Wilnot Township in 1852. His mother was Sarah Southern, daughter of John Southern, third lighthouse keeper on Brier Island. John Slocum was a devout Methodist and piloted his trade as village cobbler in Westport. Joshua, in early life, showed ed signs of love for the excitement of the sea and the sense of freedom that it presented. In later life in his book "Sailing Around The World" he declared, "It is known that a Brier Islander, fish or no fish, never flinches from a sea."

The Captain and the "Spray" disappeared at sea in November of 1906, but the Brier Islander left behind three books that he had written about his sea adventures: "Sailing Alone Around The World", "Voyage Of The Destroyer", and "Voyage Of The Liberator". The books became more impressive when we recall that the author never reached high school in his academic education.

On a southern point of Brier Island today stands a monument erected in his memory, bearing a plaque with this inscription: "In Honour of Captain Joshua Slocum, the first man to sail around the world alone, April 24, 1893 to June 2, 1896. He was born on North Mountain, February 20, 1844. Lived at Westport until he went to sea in 1860. The Captain and the Spray were lost at sea in November 1906." — The Slocum Society.

The "Marie Celeste Mystery"

During its long history as a sequestered town, Digby has had a close connection with many stirring sagas of the sea. One of the most interesting is the mystery of the "Marie Celeste".

In December of 1870, the Digby brigantine "Dei Gratia", Capt. Morehouse arrived at Gibraltar with the American brig, Marie Celeste, found abandoned at latitude 35.30 N, longitude 17.15 W.

A special survey ordered by the Admiralty Court revealed that the ship's hull showed no damage. There was no evidence of her having struck a rock or of being in a collision. The stern, stempost and rudder were in good condition.

A thorough examination of the interior proved conclusively that no accident had befallen her and that she had not encountered heavy weather, for the pitch of her waterways had not been started and the hull, masts and yards were as perfect as could be. The stowage of chests and sundry articles, aboard were quite dry; moreover, a small bottle of rum, machine oil, and a reel and thimble over it had not been upset.

No bills of lading, no manifests, rewarded the industry of the active searchers. They found, however, abundant evidence of a lady and a child. The last entry on the log showed that at 8 a.m. on the 24th of November, she had passed to the north of St. Mary's, one of the Azores, but for diverse reasons it was inferred that she was not abandoned until some days later.

Why had the Marie Celeste been abandoned? A terrible answer was suggested by the finding of a sword, appearing as though it had been stained by blood and afterwards wiped. The top gallant rail bore marks of the same ominous character while both sides of the bow had been cut by some sharp instrument.

One writer maintains that Ruff pirates swooped down on the vessel making captives of all on board. The marks on the bow of the ship are explained as slashes resulting from vain attempts to repel the pirates.

Turning their attention to the cargo, the pirates hoped to fill their craft with plunder.

der, lifting a hatch and flinging it on deck they found to their disgust that the ship carried a cargo of alcohol. That was enough to render them furious, for alcohol is a curse and is banned by the Modern Moor.

By this time it was probably daylight and having caught sight of the sails of the Dei Gratia in the distance they hurriedly left, not daring to set fire to the ship knowing that the blaze would attract attention from other vessels in the vicinity.

Could this be the true version of what happened to the Marie Celeste? It is possible — as are many of the other theories that surround such mysteries, but it is doubtful if anyone will ever truly know what became of Captain Briggs, his wife, daughter and crew of the Marie Celeste.

Welcoming The New "Princess Of Acadia"

For only a few years short of two centuries people have been crossing the Bay of Fundy from Digby to Saint John by ferry. Never has the crossing been made with the speed and comfort enjoyed by those making the initial voyage of the "Princess of Acadia".

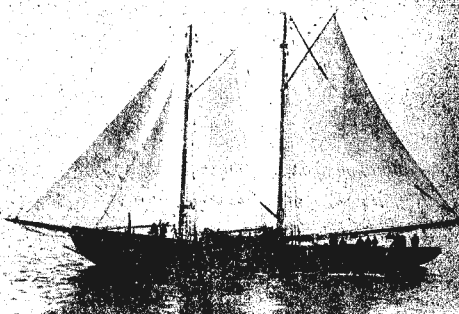

Operating on a two and one-half hour schedule, the new ship will provide a faster, more effective service both for passengers and those using the service to get their goods to market.

The "Princess of Acadia" is the newest and the finest in a long line of CP ships which have been linking Nova Scotia with their sister province since 1912. The route and the familiar CP house flag have been well known to generations of tourists from both Canada and the United States. The inauguration of this latest ship of the line comes at the beginning of our tourist season and in a year when, it is hoped, new records will be set for the number of visitors to our province.

For the importance of this means of entry to our province can be illustrated by the number of automobiles using it. During the summer season last year some 7,255 automobiles entered Nova Scotia through Digby. This was an increase of 11 per cent over the previous summer. This summer we expect to record a still further increase.

The Canadian Pacific Railway has operated this important service for 58 years, which must surely make CP one of the most experienced ferry operators in the world. To them and to the captain and crew of the "Princess of Acadia" we offer congratulations and the wish that this

Preparing for the festivities in connection with the inaugural trip of the Princess of Acadia across the Bay of Fundy today recalls the days of "wooden ships and iron men". No place had this been more true than with the trawl fishermen of Digby and their schooners of the early 1900's. Above is a picture of a typical fishing schooner which spent three months of the summer fishing on the Grand Banks of Newfoundland and returning with their salted catch to dry on the "flakes". Shipments of the dried product were frequently made by schooner to the West Indies. Crews of the schooners numbered about 25 and the fishing was done by the men from dories which were kept stacked on the schooner when not in use. Usually two men were in one dory setting trawl more than a mile in length in the wee hours of the morning. After checking the trawl the catch for the day was brought to the schooner. In the earlier years Grand Bank fishing depended solely on wind and sail. Later the schooners were powered. Today the schooners as fishing craft have been entirely outmoded by mechanized and more efficient craft. Modern facilities preserve the fresh state to that salting is unnecessary.

Approximately 1,000 school students welcomed the Princess of Acadia on April 29, 1963. Streets were gaily decorated for the occasion. Signs were made by Mrs. J. R. McNeave on behalf of the Digby Board of Trade to extend a welcome.

The building of the fine, large Princess of Acadia in Saint John, N.B., and the recent launching of the ferry, Henry MacMillan at Miramichi, N.B., bring to mind that in 1848 there were three ships in Digby. One was at the Jacques, one at the Juggin and one near the old Dacin blacksmith shop.

The new ship will set new records for travel over this historic route.

The landing of the first sea plane at Digby is recorded as taking place September 15, 1923. It was an RCAF plane taking photographs.

A gun salute by HMCS Cornwallis (CPR) crew members marked the end of the Princess Helene's thirty-three years service on the Bay of Fundy in April 1963.

After the announcement of the new Saint John-Digby ferry in 1963, Charles McBride began advocating that the Princess Helene be retained for the Princess of Acadia. Did it ever happen? Anyway, once is enough and by this time all are agreed that the Helene is sentimental as they might have been.

Meet a real Princess.

The one that will make Fundy just 2½ hours wide. The fabulous new "roll-on roll-off" Princess of Acadia is open to the public from 1 to 5 P.M., May 29th, in Saint John at Pugsley 'A' Pier; same time May 30th, at the Digby Ferry Terminal. The 6,800 ton "PRINCESS OF ACADIA" first began ferry service from Saint John, New Brunswick, to Digby, Nova Scotia, on April 29, 1963. The first "PRINCESS OF ACADIA" has again adopted her maiden name of "PRINCESS NANAIMO".

K. R. Pew, C. P. Superintendent in Saint John in 1963, welcomed the Princess of Nanaimo at Halifax when she came from the West Coast. The ship arrived complete except for her whistle. Her tool, a hand saw, was found in the West Coast residents' possession. It was originally from the Princess Victoria. It was installed in the Princess Patricia for the Alaskan cruise service.

A rival by pirates on a Digby vessel took place in September 1962, according to reports. The vessel was the Lucille B. of Meteghan. The captain reported on his arrival at Meteghan that he had been run down by another vessel off the Massachusetts coast and boarded. At the point the cargo was transferred and the Lucille B. allowed to proceed.

Way back in 1680, it was advocated in the files of The Digby Courier (The Digby Weekly Courier) that the Princess of Nanaimo. Not one of us will complain if the fax by the International Andia is fitted to capacity through Meteghan is 278 miles for seven days of the week. We'll even do with half that while through Digby it would be only 180 miles. It still holds true today and more so.

The passenger capacity of the new Princess of Acadia is 650 as against 1750 of the Princess of Nanaimo. The Princess of Acadia, of us will complain if the fax by the International Andia is fitted to capacity through Meteghan is 278 miles for seven days of the week. Premier Welcomes "Princess of Acadia"

Honourable Gerald A. Regan

(Statement of the Honourable Gerald A. Regan, Premier of Nova Scotia).

The maiden voyage of a new ship has always been a cause for great celebration and festivity, in Nova Scotia, and I am sure that the initial run of the new C. P. ferry, the Princess of Acadia, will be marked with the usual excitement and enthusiasm. In fact, aside from this being the Princess' maiden voyage, there are a number of reasons, if one needs a reason, to celebrate the occasion.

Not only will the Princess of Acadia provide a continuing and improved ferry service between Digby and Saint John, but will also be a tremendous boost to the tourist industry of both provinces. Indeed, I feel that the new ferry will be an added attraction to an already popular tourist area of Nova Scotia and I am looking forward to May 27th when the Honourable Premier Richard Hatfield and myself will make our maiden voyage on the Princess.

Also, at this time, I would like to welcome the Princess.

of Acadia to Digby and to extend to the owners and crew my best wishes for success in the future.

New Song Written For Blossom Festival

Anne Kaye

A brand new apple blossom song has been written by Anne Kaye of Digby and set to music by a group of young people from Avenport and will be heard during the Coronation program Friday evening, May 28, at University Hall, Wolfville.

The Coronation program will be in the form of a Folk Arts Festival. Groups representing the following, Scots, Germans, Yugoslavs, French, Acadians, Negroes, Czechs, Philipinos, Dutch, will be performing songs and dances of their native lands in full costume. A Nova Scotian family group will also be singing Nova Scotian songs.

The Ukraine Folk Dancers from Ontario will also be appearing on the program.

Jerome — Digby County's Man Of Mystery

Time and time again the story of Jerome has been repeated. No magical occasion around Digby ever seems to be complete without it. Undoubtedly, it bears repeating, though the repetition brings the mystery no nearer to a solution.

It was in the summer of 1898 when a ship resembling a ship-of-war or a pirate ship was sighted in the Bay of Fundy off the coast of Digby.

The next morning two fishermen of Sandy Cove, Elbridge and Albright, coming to the Bay of Fundy shore to gather rockweed, found, not far from the ring of seaweed that marked high tide, the huddled form of a man.

On closer inspection they found that the man's legs had both been amputated just above the knees, and only recently had the job been done for the stumps were bandaged and were still bleeding.

Unconscious, he was carried to the home of a Mr. Gidney, at Mink Cove. After regaining consciousness he was questioned as to who he was and where he had come from but an answer was forthcoming. All that could be understood from what he said was a word that sounded like the name Jerome, and by that name he was henceforth called.

Because it was felt he understood French, he was taken to Meteghan to the home of John Nicholas, a Corsican, who spoke several languages. Nicholas was convinced he couldn't understand both French and Italian. In more than 50 years Jerome uttered only a few words. Asked suddenly where he came from, he muttered "Trieste" and on another occasion he gave the name of his ship as "Colombo". He spent seven years at the home of John Nicholas. After the death of Nicholas' wife he was boarded with Mrs. Delier Comeau at St. Alphonse (then known as Cheltenham).

At this home he seemed to enjoy watching the children play and would mingle with them quite freely, but would revert to his taciturn manner with the approach of grown-ups.

It is reported the children on one occasion asked him why he would not speak to his parents and he replied with a shake of his head and the words, "no, no". Further proof that he could speak English was found on the occasion of a visit from someone who wanted to see him. Mrs. Comeau, trying to coax him to come out of his room was told by Jerome, in perfect English, "I'll bite you".

Jerome was a man of extraordinary strength but never at any time offered to help with the chores or work about the Comeau home. He also was possessed of a violent temper, but his outbursts were short-lived except when the word "forban" (meaning "pirate") was mentioned, when he would fly into a rage that lasted for days. Jerome's appearance, his knowledge of several European languages, living forty-two years in the district, he carried his secret to the grave with him. He was buried in the Roman Catholic cemetery at Meteghan.

Near the spot where Jerome was found, on Digby Neck, is a large headstone, appropriately named "Jerome Rock".

Capt. Roy Conley Made 21,000 Crossings

Of those who rejoice in the new Princess of Acadia which makes her inaugural trip across the Bay of Fundy today, none will have more interest than Captain A. R. Conley. His early love for the Bay has not passed. Roy Conley spent 30 years at sea and his hobby since retiring is

Hail and Farewell

For approximately eight years Captain A. Blinn has commanded the Princess of Nanaimo over the sometimes choppy, sometimes smooth waters of the Bay of Fundy on regular trips from Saint John, N. B., to Digby, N. S. Captain Blinn took over as master of the new Princess of Nanaimo (Princess of Acadia) reversioned to her former name shortly after her inaugural trip on April 29, 1963. The Princess Helene, her predecessor, had been under the command of Captain A. R. (Roy) Conley from 1946 to 1963. He remained for a few months as captain of the Princess of Nanaimo (Acadia) before retiring. Incidentally, Captain Conley had served the Canadian Pacific for 45 years, having begun with the Empress, the predecessor to the Helene. To the Princess of Nanaimo, there will soon be farewell bids, her last trip on the Bay being May 31.

Today Captain Blinn brings the new Princess of Acadia to new terminals in Digby, the former docking wharf having been replaced by other terminals suitable to the new ship and located at deep water down the Shore Road past the Pines Hotel.

The new Princess of Acadia is a different ship from that of the Nanaimo. The 6,800 ton Nanaimo had 22,500 square feet of parking space and two decks which could accommodate 120 automobiles. She was equipped to handle 1750 passengers. The length of the ship was 358 ft., breadth 62 ft., draught 14 ft., speed 18½ knots and power 8,000 S.H.P.

The new eight million dollar Princess of Acadia (the name being representative of two provinces, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia) has a weight of 10,100 gross tons and can carry up to 650 passengers. The vehicle deck, over 15 feet high, holds 159 standard automobiles. While the new ship built by the Saint John Shipbuilding and Drydock Co. Ltd. is the largest vessel of its type ever built in Canada, her main feature which characterizes her from the Nanaimo, the Helene and former Bay of Fundy ferries, is her capacity for handling forty four trailers or trucks. Other features are her reduction of time across the Bay by 15 minutes (speed 18½ knots) and the reduction of handling time because of her modern roll-on, roll-off facilities. Total h.p. is 11,500 B.H.P.

The new ship arrives here today at 2:30 p.m. There will be an official ceremony on board the ship and on the podium before she leaves for Saint John, N. B., at 4:15 p.m. But she will return again at 10 p.m. to bring home invited guests who make the trip. The public is invited to the terminal and on Saturday, May 29, visitors will be welcomed aboard the new CP Rail ferry in Saint John, N. B., and they will be welcomed aboard in Digby on Sunday, May 30, from 1 p.m. to 5 p.m.

Thousands will greet the new ship in Digby today and Sunday and many will bid farewell to the now Princess of Nanaimo which has served here for practically eight years.

Blood Donors Needed To Overcome Provincial Shortage

Thursday, June 30, has been announced as the date for Digby's Spring Blood Donor Clinic, to be held from 10 to 12 o'clock in the morning, 2 to 4 in the afternoon and 6 to 8 in the evening. The Digby Lions Club will again sponsor the clinic, according to the announcement made by E. B. Tufts,

Chairman of the Blood Donor Service, who stated that the usual arrangements had also been made for assistance from the Lions and members of the Digby Red Cross Branch.

With a shortage in the Provincial Blood Bank, as recently stated in a press release from Halifax, the access of all clinics now being held, or by persuading your friends and relatives to do so.

It anyone wonders if he or she can become a blood donor, the Canadian Red Cross Transfusion Service has provided the answer in a recent questionnaire, the answers to which supply a host of information for everyone. Although it is too lengthy to quote in full, and many points are highly technical, a few of the more general facts should be of interest to all:

1. WHO CAN GIVE BLOOD? (See attached list for answers.)
2. HOW OFTEN CAN I GIVE BLOOD?
3. HOW MUCH DO I GIVE?

4. HOW LONG CAN A UNIT OF BLOOD BE KEPT?
5. WHAT ARE THE BLOOD GROUPS?
6. WHAT IS THE RH FACTOR?
7. HOW MUCH ARE PATIENTS CHARGED FOR BLOOD TRANSFUSIONS?
8. Who Can Give Blood?
Most persons in good health, between the ages of 18 and 60 can become regular blood donors.

2. How Often Can I Give Blood?
Four times a year but not more frequently than every three months.
3. How Much Do I Give?
Slightly less than a pint—only one fifteenth of the average body content. The 10 portion of the blood is placed within 24 hours in the red cells within 3 to 4 weeks.
4. How Long Can A Unit of Blood Be Kept?
Blood is collected in a special pack containing an additive mixture of citrate for storage. (Please turn to page 3.)

12,000 VISIT PRINCESS OF ACADIA

An estimated twelve thousand persons including hundreds of children from Digby County, visited the Princess of Acadia on Sunday. Planned tours were arranged to meet the demand which from reports exceeded by far the number of visitors on the Princess of Acadia in Saint John, N. B. on Saturday.

On Thursday the Princess of Acadia made her inaugural trip to Digby from Saint John, N. B., where she arrived on Sunday morning.

Princess of Acadia, a 100-foot ship, docked at the new docking facilities at Digby and Saint John — to "tie the two provinces together".

Mr. Loring suggested a transportation link like the $8 million ferry, owned by Canadian Pacific Railways, would let Canadians meet other Canadians which is required to achieve only the taxpayers' money — $16 million.

CPR President Receives Gift From Province

Approve Home For Aged

On Tuesday of this week, the Digby Municipal office received word that complete governmental approval had been given to the site chosen for the proposed Home for the Aged and Infirmed to be built on hospital property which was offered for the purpose. With the approval of the site was given authority to proceed with arrangements for construction.

Terry Gray Banquet Guest

Clarence (Terry) Gray of the Montreal Voyageurs, who visited the Digby Minor Hockey League banquet held at the Digby Legion Hall on Saturday evening. He advised the young players to see their sites and goals and "go get it". He reminded them that nothing is won without hard work and also outlined that there is no substitute for a good education. His advice was to stay in school as long as possible.

Ottie As Stewardess

With the Princess of Acadia docking out into the Municipality of the District of Digby, down the Shore Road instead of within easy walking distance of town, the frequent visits upriver by members of the crew and staff will be missed by many.

Mrs. Roland Theriault Heads Ladies Bowling

Mrs. Roland Theriault was on Saturday evening elected president of the Digby Ladies Bowling, succeeding Mrs. Victor Kynock. The election was made at the annual banquet.

Digby Greets Lila And Queen Annapolis

Though dampened by rain which began shortly before Queen Annapolis XXXIX, Digby's Princess, Lila Wong; Queen Annapolis 2988, Camille Adams of Digby and others of the royal party arrived in Digby on Monday. Digby citizens were on hand to give a rousing welcome. The Digby Majorettes who had won third place among ten at the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival which began Friday, were on hand to form an "honor guard" for the royal party as His Worship Mayor Glen Smith escorted Queen Annapolis XXXIX, Lavina Belle Parrish of Berwick, to the bandstand where the party was greeted by town officials.

Mrs. Mered Grant and Mrs. Thomas Seban returned recently from visiting their sons in Germany. Mrs. Grant spent three weeks in Soest with her son, Walter, Mrs. Grant and children, and visited Paris, Austria, Luxembourg, Switzerland, London and Holland.

First Lobster Shipment Made On Acadia

Tuesday was the first regular trip of the Princess of Acadia across the Bay of Fundy from Digby to Saint John and the first time that the Clyde Dunlop Ltd., Little River, shipped their truck loads of lobsters by that route. A truck containing 12,000 pounds destined for Boston, Mass., was shipped across the Bay on Tuesday by the Princess of Acadia. The shipment was able to leave six hours later and still be in route. (Please turn to page 4.)

Calls For Permanent Crossing

John M. Buchanan, Progressive Conservative Leader John M. Buchanan asked yesterday for an immediate commitment on the part of the federal government to construct a permanent crossing from East Ferry on the mainland to Long Island, Digby County. He coupled his remarks with a strong request that the provincial government extend the hours of operation for the Long Island-Brierley Island ferry to a full 24 hour service.

Will Request Booths At Fairs

Permission will be sought, by the Digby Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association to operate information booths at the Digby Natal Day celebration; the Dominion Day celebration in Weymouth and at the Digby County Exhibition in Bear River on September 1st, 2nd, 3rd and 4th. It was decided at the June meeting of the executive of the branch, held Tuesday evening at the home of Miss Marjory Tupper.

Winchester Family Loses Mail Contract

The first Winchester to handle the mail for this route was Charles, a man who had never shaved in his life and sported an exceptionally long beard. He began carrying the mail from the "Empress", Digby-Saint John route, to the west office.

Her Last Sailing From Digby

It was in June 1962 when Andrea Chappell was born. The Princess of Nanaimo made her inaugural trip as Princess of Acadia in April 1963 (not yet nine) knew no other ship on the Digby to Saint John Bay of Fundy run. She gazes at the "Princess" Saturday, May 29, just a few minutes before her departure for the last time from the old CPR wharf. The new Princess of Acadia which started her regular trips from Digby to Saint John on Tuesday, June 1, docks at the new terminal down the Shore Road past the Pines Hotel. To the right is seen the HMCS Fraser which made a four day visit to Digby.

Pass Taxi And Sewage Resolutions

The Digby Municipal Council in special session on Monday evening passed a resolution whereby no person shall transport passengers for hire in or through any public place in the Municipality in any motor vehicle unless he is in possession of a taxicab license issued in respect of such vehicle. Other stipulations regarding taxi service and taxi licenses were also involved in the resolution.

Saturday

Something happens that we can't explain on the anniversary of the festivities today, because on that day at the museum in the evening the sister and I have to enter banquet.

Warm days, just right for the day at the appointed hour we packed our guests, plus Gordon Macdonald, the son of our Stanley who had just earlier in the afternoon, plus Elizabeth, into our Volkswagen bus to about forty miles away. Counting over thirteen people and a dog.

When we arrived, to see, a lot of people in swimming, or sunbathing. We were not at all that we took off their shoes and socks and end of the year.

We hid lifesavers, books among the rocks and had intended to have a baseball game, but the weather was so bad that we just enjoyed the view of the water. We were not at all that we took off their shoes and socks and end of the year.

We went up to the car to see if the car was to bring the kids up. "I need them to push the car," he gave a dejected, upfacing.

We went up from the beach. All of us — Dan was in the car — pushed garage. Nothing happened. We happened. We pushed it down.

Weymouth Classes Close

The closing exercises for the Adult Education Classes were held in the Audio Visual room at the Weymouth High School on Tuesday, May 18, at 8:00 p.m.

The program was as follows: Welcome and Administration Report—V. K. Soban. Presentation of Certificates—Mr. Morehouse, School Board Chairman.

Guests from Municipal School Board—Mr. Morehouse. Greetings from Regional Representative—J. R. Doudou.

Guest Speaker—Mrs. Hele White, Information Officer, Continuing Education, Halifax.

Flowers and displays from the sewing and nursing classes were on display at the pleasure of the occasion. Mrs. White's talk was inspiring, interesting and enjoyable.

After the exercises, everyone gathered in the Home Economics room for coffee, doughnuts, and friendly conversation. The small stand was somewhat disappointing; however, we look forward to more active participation in the year to come.

People receiving certificates were as follows:

Bookkeeping I and II — Robert Thibault

Erma Blinn, Diane O'Connell, Elaine Coonan, Ann Doucet, Jacqueline Gaudet, Edna Hill, Marilaine LeBlanc, Annabelle MacLennan, Florence Muller, Jean Mulren, Lennie Sabine, Davis Wray.

Sewing—Betty Robicheau

Gretia Cromwell, Lena Cromwell, Gladys Thibault, Linda F. Weaver, Helen M. Wray.

Home Nursing — Joye Gaudet, R. N.

Dorothy Amos; Gladys Amos; Louise Barr; Nancy Brittain; Mollie Doran; Victoria Gaudet; Shirley Mullen.

Physical Education — Rene LeFort

Walkers Aged 7-75 Years

A successful Walkathon for the Red Cross Society, Weymouth Branch, was held Sunday, May 28. Under ideal weather conditions 150 participants gathered at Weymouth Mills to begin a ten mile trek, turning left at the well, through Weaver Settlement, along the old Weymouth Road, down across George's Bridge, Weymouth Mills, up Bunker Hill to the main highway and finishing at the D.A.R. grounds. Along the route there were 10 refreshment stands to assist the walkers.

The youngest walker to complete the route was 7-year-old Karol Beliveau, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Desi Beliveau. The eldest walker was Mrs. Sam Cooman, 75, of Digby, who is visiting relatives and friends in the area and so willingly joined the walkers.

When the monetary pledges are collected by the 151 participants, the total will be $1,510.

To Hold "Miss Weymouth" Contest

Mrs. Douglas Anthony ordered a group of girls at Weymouth High School to hold a "Miss Weymouth" contest in the interest of the Kiwanis Club who is sponsoring a "Miss Weymouth" contest in connection with the Weymouth Day held on July 1st.

All girls between the ages of 15 and 18 years inclusive are eligible to enter and Mrs. Anthony explained the requirements and an excellent evening was spent.

Plans are being made for the judges to meet the girls on June 19th when each will be interviewed. The contest forms may be obtained from Weymouth Consolidated School.

A patient is being planned for the girls who will model three outfits, including sport attire, and evening wear. Prizes will be awarded to the winning girls.

Mrs. Weymouth, assisted by two ladies-in-waiting will enter over the festivities planned for the day, and also take part in the parade and distribute prizes for the various events.

trifurcate cause for the high cost of hospitalization has been one of the unnecessary utilization of hospital beds which is essentially a geriatric problem — the care of the aged and infirm for which no provision is made under the Hospital Insurance Act. Active treatment hospital beds are becoming more and more frequently used for geriatric patients who are for the most part long stay patients. This is difficult to control due to family and social pressures upon the medical staff. Probably the most effective control over this situation would be the introduction of different fees. Certain provisions have more or less successfully introduced such fees to cut back over-

Memorial Tablet Dedicated

A highlight of the annual sessions of the Baptist Association of Annapolis and Digby counties held at the Granville Beach church on May 15 and 16, was the unveiling and dedication of a Memorial Tablet in tribute to the memory of the pioneers and founders of Baptist work in the Maritime provinces.

The Granville Beach church grounds, formerly known as Stony Beach, was the site of the organization of the first Baptist Association in Nova Scotia, which took place on June 23 and 24, in the year 1800. This was also the first Baptist Association in Canada.

Approved by the Executive of the Association, responsibility for the preparation and erection of the tablet was placed in the hands of Rev. H. S. Hartin, interim pastor of the Annapolis Royal parsonage, and Rev. Edgar Richardson, pastor of the Lower Granville churches. Mr. Kenneth E. Hudson, a deacon of the Lower Granville church, assisted in the construction of the tablet, while the printing of the tablet was done by Mr. Maurice Gosselin of Wilmot. Suitably prepared and inscribed, the tablet was unveiled and dedicated at the Sunday night session in the presence of a large crowd that had gathered to witness the ceremony.

Those taking part in the service included the Moderator, Rev. Donald Robertson of Digby; Dr. George Allen of Bridgetown; Rev. H. S. Hartin; Mr. Donald Armstrong, a deacon of the church, and his daughter Shirley, drew the veil from the Tablet.

ating, as it does, an act of historical significance, it is expected that the Tablet will be viewed and read by many visitors traveling along the historic highway to the Champlain Habitation.

Following the dedication services, which were held outdoors, the meeting was continued in the church auditorium. Dr. George Levy of Wolfville was the guest speaker, and presented the report of the churches. Important matters of concern to the Association and Convention were introduced by the chairman of the Advisory Committee, Rev.

H. S. Hartin, and were discussed. The afternoon service included a meeting of the Women's Missionary Societies of the Association with Mrs. Norman Moore of Wolfville as guest speaker at the evening session.

Chosen as the new Moderator of the Association was the Rev. John Ledford of Margareville. The meetings enjoyed the largest attendance at sessions of the Association seen for many years. Meals on Saturday to delegates and visitors were served at the Lower Granville hall.

The certification of medical personnel, equipment, and other facilities of the local hospital as well as plans for future expansion of services. We are living in a technological society — the age of computers, xerox machines, the artificial kidney, the cardiac pacemaker and the heart monitor, to mention only a few of the dozens of highly technical and expensive life-saving devices introduced into our hospitals over the past ten to fifteen years. These items have already become indispensable to the practice of comprehensive medical care. Yet medical opinion differs regarding the use of many of these life-saving devices. Some medical authorities question the wisdom of prolonging life through the use of these very costly methods, especially because of the very low percentage of success and an extremely high cost of operation. The remainder of their lives is in a state of vegetative — living death. Considerable thought is current as to whether it would not be the answer?

Admires Painting

B. L. Conway of the Safety Division of the CPR, a guest on the inaugural trip of the new Princess of Acadia, admires the painting presented by the Town of Digby to N. R. Crump, president of the CPR, at the special ceremonies at the Digby terminal. The presentation was made by His Worship Mayor Glen Smith. The picture is the work of a local artist, Mrs. Ruth Graham, and shows the Princess of Nanaimo. Also a presentation of a picture, done by a local artist, Mrs. Kaye Courhouse, was made by Warden Ronald Morehouse, on behalf of the Municipality of Digby. Both pictures, it is understood, will hang in the new Princess of Acadia.

Tiverton

Sympathy is extended to the members of the family of the late Delma Banks who passed away at his home in Grand Manan, N. B.

Members of the community regret the departure of Clarence Outhouse from the area. He is now residing at a 'Home in Middleton.

Mrs. Peter Muir and family, of Dartmouth, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Emerson Outhouse.

Gregory Perry, Brian Perry, Frank Outanger and Les Outhouse accompanied their school teacher, Robert Pooley, on a camping trip to Weymouth. While in the area the boys visited their former teacher, Mr. Vasan, and Mrs. Vasan, and attended the movies at the Capital Theatre at Middleton.

Wayne Buckman and Mark

Ruggles accompanied Robert Pooley to his home near the new ferry "Princess of Acadia". They noted the tremendous changes taking place on the highways in the surrounding area of Digby.

FIVE FORMER CLASSMATES MEET

The five classmates, Mrs. James Hunter (nee Deanna Thimot, formerly of Tiverton), of Digby's Harbour, Mrs. Fanny Crocker, Freeport, Mrs. Robert Wood, Halifax and Mrs. Doris Hooper (both formerly of Freeport), met together at the home of Mrs. Albert Soloway, at Tiverton recently.

Members of the Chi Rho group and their leader, Rev. Robert Johnson, held a dinner at the home of Mrs. Albert Soloway, at Tiverton recently.

Mr. and Mrs. John Outhouse and sons motored through Digby recently. While in the area they toured the ship "Fraser" and viewed from a distance the sleek lines of the new ferry "Princess of Acadia". They noted the tremendous changes taking place on the highways in the surrounding area of Digby.

ies and was assisted in distribution of the trophies by Wilfred Blinn, operator and owner of Blinn's Alley, where both the ladies and gent leagues were held.

Blinn's Alley are the only five pin bowling league in operation in Western Nova Scotia and it is very popular in the St. Bernard and Weymouth areas. Originally the first bowling league in the Municipality of Clare was organized a year or two after the last war, when several alleys popped up in Clare, Ayles, in Concession, Little Brook, Sambroville, parish hall, Metephan parish hall and Blinn's Alley in St. Bernard were in operation.

Blinn's Alley are the only one of the last still in operation. The concession alleys were closed and moved to Little Brook and are now known as the Acadia Lanes. Ten pins are bowled in the Acadia Lanes. Last fall Blinn's Alley in calling automatic pin-setters for five pins.

The following teams and players received trophies for the 1970-71 season, which started in September and ended in May.

Gent's Section Champions, the Bombers, captain Ed LeBlanc, First Place winners, the Bombers. The champions are crowned when they win the elimination series or playoffs, as some may call it.

Winners of the Boy Vantage Trophy, the Kangaroos, second series held among the boys to keep up the interest to the end. High team averages, the Hillbills, with 1,200 points; High team triple score, Bombers with 3,254 points; Gent's individual 1/8 mile, Larry Mullen (Bucks) 220; individual high triple score, Robert Wrayman 809; Highest average of the league, Adrian Belliveau (the Animals) 217.

The highest average by teams, individuals: Adrian Belliveau, Animals, 217; Larry Mullen, Bucks, 212; Lawson Robitshaw, Kangaroos, 207.

WESTPORT STUDENTS

Perhaps even more than for his counterpart elsewhere in the world, for the medical student in Latin America the acquisition of suitable lab techniques is frequently a major problem.

In many cases that is so because he simply cannot afford to buy them, but also because libraries are generally unable to provide him with the services he needs. Medical texts on slaves are frequently out of date, or published in a foreign tongue with no translation available. All of which forces the student to depend heavily on lecture notes or on mimeographed outlines — makeshift measures at best.

A measure of relief however is in sight — thanks to a new $2.5 million medical textbook program launched by the Pan American Health Organization, and supported, up to now, by medical educators and schools in 17 Latin American countries.

The program's chief aim is to make it both inexpensive and easy for students to obtain the texts they need. That is achieved through bulk purchases of books from publishing houses in turn, makes it possible for the texts either to be sold or rented at low prices.

Moreover, if buying the student may do so in installments, in from four to eight payments if purchasing on the right, he pays about half the going price. To take one example, a text on pathology retails for $25. Published under the program, it sells for $11, and rents for $5.50 per course.

It is also the support of universities that makes the program work. Day-to-day operations of selling and accounting for instance, are handled by medical schools as no charge to the program.

Add to that the expertise of members of committees and up to recommend texts suited to Latin American health conditions. They choose from the world's best medical literature.

So far some 47,000 books have been distributed in pathology, biochemistry, physiology, and pharmacology. More than half have been sold, 60 per cent for cash. Next on the list to be published is a pocket text, and after that texts on internal medicine, anatomy, histology and zoology.

By then, a total of 70,000 Spanish and Portuguese texts in 22 undergraduate medical fields will have been purchased, published, and distributed to some 100,000 students in Latin America's 150 medical schools.

A Focus on Medical Texts

Under $2.5 million plan, the Pan American Health Organization aims at providing 100,000 Latin American students at prices they can afford.

Perhaps even more than for his counterpart elsewhere in the world, for the medical student in Latin America the acquisition of suitable lab techniques is frequently a major problem.

In many cases that is so because he simply cannot afford to buy them, but also because libraries are generally unable to provide him with the services he needs. Medical texts on slaves are frequently out of date, or published in a foreign tongue with no translation available. All of which forces the student to depend heavily on lecture notes or on mimeographed outlines — makeshift measures at best.

A measure of relief however is in sight — thanks to a new $2.5 million medical textbook program launched by the Pan American Health Organization, and supported, up to now, by medical educators and schools in 17 Latin American countries.

The program's chief aim is to make it both inexpensive and easy for students to obtain the texts they need. That is achieved through bulk purchases of books from publishing houses in turn, makes it possible for the texts either to be sold or rented at low prices.

Moreover, if buying the student may do so in installments, in from four to eight payments if purchasing on the right, he pays about half the going price. To take one example, a text on pathology retails for $25. Published under the program, it sells for $11, and rents for $5.50 per course.

It is also the support of universities that makes the program work. Day-to-day operations of selling and accounting for instance, are handled by medical schools as no charge to the program.

Add to that the expertise of members of committees and up to recommend texts suited to Latin American health conditions. They choose from the world's best medical literature.

International Square Dance Exchange

The seventh Annual International Square Dance Exchange between dancers from Maine and Nova Scotia, held at the Bluebonnet Twirlers and the Danes Acadiens, started off in grand style when 250 Maine dancers were greeted at the terminal, transportation was provided for the Maine dancers to the Hiramouth shopping area. While some enjoyed shopping, others joined in a second dance which was held at the uptown area.

At 8 p.m. approximately 650 dancers assembled at the Dr. George Burridge Vocational High School where dancing was enjoyed until midnight.

M.C. for the evening was Dan Banks, caller for the host clubs, who introduced 14 guest callers from Maine and Nova Scotia, all of whom participated in the calling. Many through the evening a ball was presented by members of the Fundy Frolickers from Digby.

Sunday afternoon visiting dancers were picked up by private cars and were taken on sightseeing tours. At 6:00 a.m. church services were held at the Clare District High School followed by a chicken barbecue supper. After private entertainment was provided by the host clubs during which time the Order of Good Cheer certificates were presented to many of the visiting dancers.

On Monday morning the exchange was concluded when final farewells were said at the Blomeste Terminal.

On Friday evening, May 28, the Apple Blossom Jamboree was held at a good start with dancers from several clubs.

The hall was decorated with apple blossoms which put the dancers in a festive mood.

Saturday proved to be another successful evening of the Jamboree with 16 clubs in all attending the dance. Twenty-five squares filled the hall and dancers danced to the calling of Don Haley, Beag Nunn, Pat Harris, Lloyd Ellis, Jack Pennell and Marg Keighan.

The speaker for Saturday evening was Paul Crosby, president of the Atlantic Baptist Board of Men. Music was provided by a mass choir from the Acadiaville and Weymouth Falls men's groups.

Sunday's sessions got underway at 9:30 a.m. with a prayer service led by Deacons Cyndy Middleton and Bradford Barton. Acadiaville Guest speaker for the 11 a.m. worship service was Pastor Wilbur Coleman, of the Zion United Baptist Church, Truro.

Guest choir for the Sunday afternoon was the laymen's choir from the Victoria Road United Baptist Church, Dartmouth.

The closing sessions of the conference began with a 1 p.m. worship service. Speaker was Rev. D. D. Sklar, pastor of the Cherrybrook and Preston area Baptist Church.

Dance For Home Guests

A group of tap dancers of the club under the guidance of Mrs. Francis Peters of Digby, which were held at St. Alphonsus parish hall during the winter months, will be the Bluebonnet Twirlers and the Danes Acadiens, started off in grand style when 250 Maine dancers were greeted at the terminal, transportation was provided for the Maine dancers to the Hiramouth shopping area. LADIES' AUXILIARY PLANS HOSPITAL FAIR

Plans for the Hospital Fair to be held Wednesday, August 18, were the main topic of the monthly meeting of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Digby General Hospital, Mrs. H. B. Warren, president and convenor of the fair, reported on donations of money and merchandise received in response to letters sent out by her to manufacturers, firms and service clubs. She stated that $80 has been received so far and gratefully acknowledge a contribution of $50 from the Kiwanis Club of Digby. Last year, cash donations totaled $637 and Mrs. Warren appealed for more contributions this year to cover the town and county, due ing the month of July. Mrs. Warren pointed out the tremendous task of raising funds for the Digby Hospital and carrying the work load should not be the responsibility of only a small group of dedicated Auxiliaries and the Hospital Fair creates an opportunity for all, old and young, to contribute to THDR Hospital. Donations of cash, fancywork, home cooking, plastic, articles for Fish Pond, bric-a-brac, old glassware or china, books (hard covers and paperback) are needed and comic books would also be greatly appreciated, as there is a demand for these from the youngsters. The Auxiliary members will gladly pick up any such contributions.

Mrs. Warren asked for more workers, as many of the faithful volunteers are unable to carry on their usual duties at the fair, this year, because of ill health or absence from town. Mrs. Carrie Clarke volunteered to assist at the Home Cooking table. Permission has been granted by the Town to hold a tag day in conjunction with the fair.

The treasurer, Mrs. K. Woodman, reported a last balance of $672.00 and the cashew convenor, Mrs. Ralph Elsey, showed a balance of $1,035.57 in the bank at count. A total of 85 hospital visits were made by the convener, Mrs. E. J. Theriault, and other members of the Auxiliary.

Proceeds from the Florence Nightingale Tea were higher this year with $73.45 being received as compared to $60, last year. The president thanked the convenor, Mrs. Hyson Sutherland and Mrs. MacLeod Rogers, also their committee of workers. Mrs. Sutherland stated she had compiled a new list of fifteen night workers to the end of the year. The current is now open three nights a week, including Monday, Wednesday and Friday, as well as six afternoons.

The Acadiaville members exhibited a beautiful afghan, crocheted by a donor in the States. Tickets will be sold at the Hospital Fair on this article and proceeds given to the Auxiliary.

Refreshments were served in the Hospital Cafeteria by hostesses, Mrs. Corrie Clarke and Mrs. Ernest Ryan.

Digby Wharf - 1900
 (As remembered by my father)

And the seagulls glided down the airways.

The wharves and ships were busy that day -
 With the bustling of skippers and seamen -
 Men, eager for the hunt - the challenge -
 Men, born with the salt seas in their veins -
 Men, created from oak and iron
 And as tough as the elements.

The decks were cleaned and made ready,
 Sounds of loading, squeaking pulleys
 With sails being hoisted aloft
 And the bumping of oars in the oarlocks
 Of smaller boats,
 Drifted up across the fields of flakes
 Where the shore hake and haddock lay to dry.

And the seagulls rested at their posts
 And on the ridgeboards.

Vessels nudged the pilings of the wharf,
 Others strained at their moorings
 Awaiting the signal of "anchors aweigh"
 Straining like hunting dogs on a leash -
 Restless as thoroughbreds impatiently waiting
 For the signal to surge forth
 With all the love and movement in their being.

The wake from the departing ships was seen
 As the cool spray was felt on the faces
 Of those who watched.
 Scent of bilge, rockweed and empty seashells
 Found a draft to the shore
 As the sails, with strain and trembling Took the breeze and Heeded down to the sea -

And a seagull screamed on the wind.

Juanita Morehouse
 Sandy Cove, N.S.

P.S. - My grandfather, Capt. John W. Shaw, dealt and owned in from seventy-five to one hundred vessels out of Digby and my father, Horace, often recalled those days when as a little boy he watched the ships in the harbour. The steeple for the barrel heads of hake and haddock to Havans from Digby is in my possession. - J. M.

Armed Forces Day At CFB Cornwallis

Once again on Saturday, June 12, CFB Cornwallis will be open to visitors in celebration of Armed Forces Day. This time the display at Cornwallis will be the only one in the Annapolis Valley and there will be several improvements over previous years.

In the air there will be a bigger show including aircraft from Greenwood, Shearwater, Chatham and Bagbyville. On the parade ground, the 84th Independent Field Battery from Yarmouth will fire a 21 gun salute commemorating the 100th anniversary of the formation of the two original artillery batteries in Canada. A new feature will be a demonstration of the jacking transfer of equipment and personnel between simulated ships at sea. Visitors will be invited to experience the ride for themselves but over land only.

On this occasion it is appropriate to recall the contribution made by Cornwallis to the economy of the region. Last year the Base Commander, Captain H. R. Tilley, predicted the base population would vary between 2500 and 3500 servicemen and civilians. These figures were exceeded at times. This year it is expected there will be a smaller recruit population and therefore overall numbers will be reduced by about 500. However, prospects for the following years are good and overall numbers should remain at better than 3,000 after April 1972, with a payroll of over 8 million dollars annually. The annual maintenance budget is approximately 1.5 million dollars.

Although there will be a temporary reduction in numbers this year, expansion is planned. Of particular interest will be the Granville Ferry Range and Training Area. The Training Area is now in limited use. Property acquisition is expected to be completed by the time this is read so that the range will be in operation this summer. There will now be eighteen lanes in place of the original twelve. This increase plus a further programme of barracks renovations is planned in preparation for next year's larger numbers of recruits. CFB Cornwallis continues to change and improve.

The Base Commander extends to everyone in the area a cordial welcome to Cornwallis to see what is being done, to take in the show and to observe some of the training facilities. Gates are open at 12:30 p.m.

Besten - Progress at the Christian Science Center will be viewed this week by Christian Scientists attending the Annual Meeting of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass. Shown steadily in the 25-story new Administration Building (left) and the five-story Colorado Building (right), which joins The Christian Science Publishing House. The new Sunday School (top center) is all but completed. The project was designed by J. M. Pei and Partners.

Attends Conference

Chester M. Outhouse, Twerton Post Master, attended the 27th annual and the 2nd Biennial Conference of the Maritime Branch, Canadian Postmasters Association held recently at the Cornwallis Inn at Kentville, N.S. The Conference closed Sunday, May 16 with a luncheon given by the Branch.

Approximately 200 attended the three-day sessions and the following Branch officers, delegates and alternates in the 2nd Biennial Conference scheduled to be held in Regina, Sask. in October were elected:

President - D. O. Mattinson
 Lower Sackville
 Vice President - Amos "Bud" Ewing

Return

Mr. and Mrs. Ira Davis have recently returned from a three week vacation to various parts of Canada. During their trip they attended the graduation of their son, Bryan, who received his B.Sc., B.Ed. from Acadia University in Wolfville. Following this Mr. and Mrs. Davis attended the marriage of their son Bryan to Yvonne Gaudin in Noranda, Quebec on Saturday, May 22nd. On Tuesday, May 25th, Mr. and Mrs. Davis returned to Acadia University in Wolfville to attend the graduation of their other son, Randy, at the R.C.M.P. Training Depot in Regina, Sask.

Discusses Social Functions

A general meeting of the Conseil Communautaire de Digby was held at the Clare Parish High School at Digby on Wednesday, May 19th with Sister Georgina Christie presiding. E. Newell of Newstead, Yarmouth, was guest speaker for the evening. Approximately 40 persons attended the meeting. Various clubs and organizations of the Municipality of Digby had been invited.

Mr. Newell spoke on the social functions of the Community. Community planning is not limited to zoning, building permits, street and housing projects. In order to be real and worthwhile, it must encompass all facets of community life. It must include economic, social, and as well physical planning, said Mr. Newell.

It is very important to think of community planning and citizen involvement as going hand in hand said Mr. Newell. There should be opportunity of all citizens to become involved in the planning process. Citizens can be drawn from Municipal government, retail establishments, education, council of churches, health systems, welfare, four peoples' organizations and other groups.

Representatives from these groups with vast interests, meeting together under the umbrella of one organization can have in many communities planned for action to bring about a better community, said Mr. Newell. The Conseil Communautaire de Digby must establish goals and when met and implementation of the plans must follow. It is also valuable to evaluate the results, which is very important. Deep Brook

Mr. and Mrs. Norman D'Eon and family of Pictou, have recently visited with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnston.

Joseph Johnston returned home on Saturday, May 22, after having taken a five weeks training course at Camp Gordon, Ontario.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Glen Peck on the arrival of a new son, Shawn Lee, 6 lbs. 4ozs, at the Digby General Hospital on May 11.

We are sorry to report that Mr. Peck is now a patient in Digby General Hospital, having undergone surgery on May 21st, but are pleased to add that he is making a good recovery.

John Pettipas was the victim of an accident while using an electric saw last Thursday evening. He is now hospitalized, having undergone surgery in an attempt to save his left hand and middle finger. The femur was entirely cut off. The community wish to express their concern and regrets to Mr. Pettipas, one of Deep Brook's best known and highly regarded citizens.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Murphy have spent the long weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Pettipas. Mrs. Murphy made a midnight trip here from Halifax, to be with her mother, following Mr. Pettipas' confinement to hospital. She was accompanied by Mr. Murphy.

Paul Law of HMCS Nipigon, spent the long weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Johnston on May 23.

Mrs. Doris Thomas and Mrs. Edith Banks visited several friends in Digby hospital on Sunday last.

Miss Helen Henderson and Lincoln Longley of Halifax, were recent visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnston. Miss Miltie Keary returned home on Saturday, after having visited her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Carey of Springfield; their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Corkum of Bridgewater; relatives in Annapolis, and then to visit a cousin in Pleasant Hill, Windsor, N. S., accompanied by Mrs. Gordon Banks sister from Nictaux Falls, with whom she spent some time.

Mrs. Hilda Nelson is visiting her daughter, Mrs. Eugene Messer, and Mr. Messer of Yarmouth.

Mrs. Gordon Banks of Nictaux Falls and Miss Miltie Keary, enjoyed lunch with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Adams at their cottage at Trout Lake, Annapolis Co. Mr. and Mrs. Adams were former long-time residents of Deep Brook and with many daughters, grandchildren and many friends living in this area.

Mr. and Mrs. Clair Martin, son Ross, and friend Carolyn visited with Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Johnston on May 23.

Mrs. Dorothy Crowell, Mrs. Hilda Nelson, Deep Brook, Mrs. Gordon Banks, Nictaux Falls, noticed Sunday with Mr. Walter Crowell and son Paul, to visit their brother, Mr. Howard Carey of Springfield, who is entered Camp Hill Hospital this week.

Many of the community availed themselves of the privilege of visiting the guest ship HMCS Fraser in Digby on Monday, May 24, and the new Princess of Acadia on Sunday, May 30th.

Mrs. Bertha Clayborne moved to Liverpool on Monday, May 31 for medical consultation.

Miss Donna Scott, Physiotherapy student in Halifax, is spending her vacation at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fulton Stark, before returning to the home of her parents at Kingston, Ontario.

LeRoy Stark, student at Dalhousie University, has completed his year's work there, and is now at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fulton Stark. LeRoy is employed for the summer at CFB Cornwallis.

Dr. and Mrs. A. J. Langley, President of Acadia Divinity College, Wolfville, were overnight guests the past week of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Milbury at the Deep Brook Baptist parsonage.

On Monday, May 24th, Miss Ruth Speech, teacher at Caledonia, was a guest of Rev. and Mrs. C. Milbury.

Over the holiday weekend, friends from North Brook, Queen's Co., Misses Hilda and Stella Harper, were guests of Rev. and Mrs. Milbury.

Recent dinner guests of Rev. and Mrs. Charles Milbury were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Mullen, New Tusket.

Rev. Charles Milbury conducted a Deacons' Conference at New Tusket Baptist Church during the week of May 24-30 inclusive.

A variety show staged in the Parish Hall, Deep Brook, on Tuesday evening, May 18, proved successful from the viewpoints of performance, attendance and financial results. This show in which participants were all volunteers was sponsored by Deep Brook's Neighbourly Club, motivated by the financial need to maintain Rev. Charles Milbury's parsonage. Sunday 8 a.m. Victory Through Christ program heard over CKDY, Digby, weekly.

Highlights of the program included a Square Dance demonstration by Clements' House of Ruth, and later on the program, Gloria and Johnnie Roth presented a Waltz number under special lighting. An amusing skit was acted out by two Neighbourly Club members, and then Highland Dances by Miss Shelley Morrice, accompanied by Corporal Mel Curdy, of CFB Cornwallis, with appropriate bagpipe music.

Other instrumentalists included Miss Elaine Backsop of Clementsport, who sang a solo with her guitar accompaniment; Gary Mallman of Upper Clements, who rendered an accordion selection; piano solo by Paul Irving, 9-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Irving, and his 15-year-old uncle, Brian Veron, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Veron.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Sel's two daughters rendered a duet with their own accompaniment. Miss Diana Anderson of Clementsport also gave a solo. Nancy White, Brian Lincoln and David Foster sang a trio with their own accompaniment.

Franklin Thompson, of Clementsport, and Mrs. Verge Fountain, presented an amusing skit. Mr. Kenneth Johnson, of Upper Clements, rendered a sacred solo with Mrs. George Blacklock's piano accompaniment. The Five Dutchmen of Bear River contributed songs with their accompaniment. Mrs. David Parker, who also assisted the Froemen's Choir of Bear River.

Mission Band Attends W.M.S.

The regular June meeting of the W. M. S. of the Bear River United Baptist Church gathered in the vestry of the church with 25 members, 15 adult guests, and 20 members of the Mission Band in attendance.

Mrs. Joyce Porter, the president, opened the meeting with a hymn and prayer. The devotional period, using as her theme "Faith" with scriptures taken from St. Mark 5:21-42.

The biography of Miss Mildred Gooding, Baptist missionary in Bolivia, was presented by Mrs. Marjorie Tibbette. The Mission Band, in charge of the leader, Mrs. V. Henshaw, sang several choruses. A fine series of slides depicting native life and the influence by Christian missionaries in the Congo, entitled "Lila goes to School," was shown by Mrs. Carol Bartol, using a tape for the dialogue.

Mrs. Henshaw then presented each Mission Band member with a membership pin. To Kathy Bartol she gave a life membership certificate and pin from the Bear River Mission Band, mentioning some of the ways in which Kathy had been so helpful in the Band over the past five years. Her younger sister, Carolyn, was given a book "Oxygen" as a token of appreciation for her helpfulness and attendance for the same length of time. Mrs. Bartol was then called to the platform where the President, Mrs. Porter, presented her with a Dominion Life membership pin as a gift from the Society. The citation was read by Mrs. Myrtle Selig to which Mrs. Bartol very graciously responded.

Refreshments and prayer brought the meeting to a close.

Paul Harris, Truro, spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Edith Harris. Mr. and Mrs. Carl McCormick, Rowley, Mass., spent the past week with Mrs. How and Gress.

Baptismal Service

At the close of the Sunday evening Baptist service, Bear River, the pastor Rev. J. Bartol administered baptism to eleven candidates.

The pastor used as his subject, the question, "How Old Should a Child Be Before Becoming a Christian?" giving several reasons why the early years are the best time to become a Christian.

The music was led by the men's choir and the special numbers were "Seeking the Lost," and "Spangs of Living Water."

Summer CLEARANCE SALE

Starts Friday, June 18. — Come Early For Best Selection.

Soccer Program Started

In recent weeks many of Digby elementary students have had the opportunity to participate in soccer games at the high school field. At first, only St. Patrick's Elementary School and the Digby Elementary School were involved, but so many youngsters wanted to get in the game that the idea of a regular league seemed reasonable. On Saturday, June 5, after teams of boys thirteen and under were selected and organized with the help of local high school students, the bulk of the players are from the 1912 age group and if interest keeps growing in the future, two divisions will be set up to encourage younger players.

Adds Promotion Contest

Many youngsters show a natural football talent at an early age and the Addis-

Company in co-operation with the Canadian Soccer Association is sponsoring a Canada-wide competition for 10 and 11-year-olds. Each county can select their best prospect who will receive a free kit-bag and a trip to Halifax to compete with others in August. The winner receives free shoes and a trip to Toronto to compete with other provincial winners. The Canadian winner receives a free 5-day trip to Europe.

The Digby youths selected the names of Raiders, Tigers, Ravens and Bombers for their teams.

Standings

| | | | |
|---------|---|---|---|
| Tigers | 2 | 0 | 7 |
| Raiders | 1 | 1 | 4 |
| Bombers | 1 | 1 | 3 |
| Ravens | 0 | 2 | 2 |

Until school closes, games will be held at 3:30 on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays. Later it will be rearranged to prevent conflict with other programs and to make it possible for the maximum of players to compete. At present the players need coaches, so any volunteer help would be greatly appreciated. New players, especially the younger ones, will be welcomed at any time during June. More information, call David Banks at 245-2056.

STARFISH FLOAT BACK

As in the front float position, stand in chest deep water feet wide apart, arms outstretched over head in the shape of a star. Take deep breath and lean back, back, back, gently on the water. Body will float and feet will rise to surface. When breathing out, body will gradually sink again, and try to relax the body at all times.

HORIZONTAL FLOAT BACK

Stand in chest deep water feet together, extend arms over head and back together. Take deep breath, lean down gently on back, body will float. Practice breathing in and out quickly. In all float positions try to keep arms and legs straight but not stiff, and try to relax the body at all times.

HORIZONTAL FLOAT BACK WITH ASSISTANCE

Pupil stands in chest deep water, help places hand under head holding pupil's neck. Pupil then breathes in deeply, remove hand from under head slowly and pupil will float. Help may be used in need float position by placing hand under pupil's back or holding the hands.

Flotation may also be learnt or taught with the use of any artificial aid, such as floating plastic toys, rubber rings, or the universally used kick boards. These may be held in the pupil's hands for front or back positions.

A quick and simple test to prove the importance of air in the lungs may now be performed. Take a deep breath, lie in a flat position and breathe out. The body will gradually sink below the surface of the water. In learning how to float, it must again be stressed, it is breathe in deeply before trying to float. 2. relax the body as much as possible 3. practice often.

Marriage

Cossabon — Morrell

Weymouth Church of Christ (Disciples) was the scene of a quiet wedding on May 5, 1971, at 7:00 p.m. when Mary Susan, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Morrell, Preport, N. S., was united in marriage with Roy William Cossabon, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cossabon, Tiverton, N. S. Rev. Merle Zimmerman officiated at the double ring ceremony.

They were attended by Mr. and Mrs. Graham Saunders, Digby, N. S., cousin of the groom.

The bride was dressed in a white lace over tulle and veil, with corresponding accessories and carried a bridal bouquet of red sweetheart roses.

The happy couple left immediately for Prince Edward Island, where they spent a short honeymoon and returned to Tiverton, where they will reside. The groom is employed by the Department of Highways as ferryman, and the bride is a hairdresser.

REV. KEITH CHURCHILL
(Continued from page 1) adult audience. One of the saddest trends of the times, he said, is to categorize as "young," he's old, he's black, he's white, he's rich, he's poor, etc. He advised the audience that the common humanity must be emphasized and not common difference and quoting Dr. Martin Luther King said "we've got to learn to live together as brothers or we've all going to perish as fools."

Rev. Mr. Churchill showed concern for the precarious balanced existence of man. Pollution of air, water and food, forests and wildlife, steadily being encroached upon and other shadows of life were cited by the speaker.

To cope with these problems the speaker said, it will be necessary to work together despite our date of birth, our colour of skin or length of hair.

What we do about these things and what we are, he said, depends on our convictions. He remarked that young people seem to be passionately concerned about the issues. He hoped to see them freed from conviction and that their concern was not a fad.

He hoped, he said, that their concern came from their strong conviction of justice, peace and equality, but that they strike and picket lines over cafeteria food and the dress of students could not be taken seriously. There are more moral issues like racism, pornography, pollution and a whole field of human relations to be dealt with. To live responsibly and fully as a human you must, he said, stand for justice and ultimate truth and then stand for it.

The speaker was introduced by Dr. D. G. Black, Mayor Glen Smith, chairman of the Digby Regional High School Board, and Rev. Charles Milbury, pastor of the Digby Baptist Church.

Valdeterian was Mrs. Susan Doucette, who thanked those who were instrumental in providing for the students education.

Awards were presented by Dr. C. MacInnes, school supervisor Mrs. Shirley Woodley, D.R.H.S. Board; Mayor Smith; J. E. Riley, principal; St. John's Baptist Church, D.R.H.S. Board; Warden Morehouse; Allen Denton, Board School Commissioners; Glen Pittman, secretary of the School Board and D.R.H.S. Board; and Dr. D. G. Black, Board of School Commissioners.

The certificates were presented by Mr. Riley and Mr. MacInnes.

Graduates marched to the platform to Land of Hope and Glory march played by the D.R.H.S. Senior Band under the direction of the D.R.H.S. music teacher, Donald Scott. The Junior Band played the Queen and the Senior Band played O Canada, preceded the singing of "Adeste Fideles" from which she retired.

Funeral service was held from Brennan's Funeral Home, Saint John, N. B., on Wednesday. Interment was in Cedar Hill Extension Cemetery.

VETERAN
(Continued from page 1) as well as the other crew, were rescued. Also during the war Capt. Theriault received a certificate of merit from the U. S. government for his part in rescuing the crew of an American tanker torpedoed by the Germans off the La Have Banks. He also received a certificate from the Eastern Sea Frontier in recognition of his posthumous service as a confidential observer in the Atlantic waters during World War II.

On December 12, 1945, through the intervention of his experienced skipper, 17 men were rescued from Sable Island Bank when the Boston beam trawler "The Gale" ran aground.

One vessel "The Annapolis" owned and operated by Capt. Theriault, is now at Lobster House Docks, Cape May Harbour, N. J., where it serves as a restaurant, lounge and stands as a tribute to the hardy men who sailed America's sea decades ago.

Capt. Theriault retired to N. S. to retire in 1950, but once again the sea beckoned, and for two more years he fished out of Digby in his vessel the "A.M.D.".

He was the son of the late Capt. and Leta (Conson) Theriault. He leaves to mourn his wife; one son, Professor H. J. Theriault, Port Louisbourg; one daughter, Eleanor Scott Laurie, of Boston; two grandchildren; and two great-grandchildren; also two brothers, Oscar and Winifred of East Ferry; and one sister, Lilian, of New York.

Service was a 32-degree Mason, belonging to several Lodges in Boston and Gloucester.

Service was at the Wesleyan Methodist Church at East Ferry, conducted by Rev. Charles Bain, assisted by Dr. W. Hodgson. Also funeral services were held at Digby on Saturday night at Jayne's Funeral Home.

He was a member of the Grace United at Digby. He was laid to rest at the East Ferry Cemetery.

ACADIAN FESTIVAL JULY 16 - 18

The sixteenth annual Acadian Festival of Digby will be held from July 16 to 18 inclusive this year. Starting from a humble beginning in 1956, the festival has improved greatly in late years when continuation of the program was made. Mr. John R. Doucet, of Church Point, has been appointed president, which is his second term in successive years but he also served in 1961.

The Acadian Festival is unique in more ways than one by the fact that it takes place in the country and unlike other such activities does not take place in any town. Digby is a municipality in the County of Digby which has the eastern boundary at the west end of Weymouth village and extends for approximately forty miles to Beaver River.

From the village of St. Bernard, near the Weymouth boundary, to Beaver River, over fifteen villages about one another and each village is from two to two and a half miles long. One cannot tell when you are leaving one village and entering another due to there being no break between villages. Only the sign posts along the main paved highway indicate where a village commences.

The Acadian Festival of Digby will be held in its main portion at the Clare District High School at Meteghan River, where there is ample room for parking and space for the various items on the program which will include:

arts & crafts exhibition and sale on July 16th and 17th; opening of the festival by the festival dance; 4H Club exhibition; wild life display; pleasure dance jamboree sponsored by Les Danseurs Acadiens square dance club on Saturday night, which has become an annual affair to take place in the high school auditorium during the festival; parade of floats and decorated cars on Sunday afternoon and also at the same time a grand bazaar will be held at the high school grounds sponsored by the various clubs and organizations in the Municipality; a golf tournament will be organized at Concessionville by the Clare Golf and Country Club on their grounds for 3 days; a concert featuring Les Talents de Chez Nous will be presented on Sunday evening to terminate the festival. Other items of interest will be added to the program, which will be made to interest both the old and the young spectators. Special programs will be organized for the youths of the area.

The following have served as president of the Acadian Festival of Digby committee: 1956 - 57 - 58 - 59, Dr. Julius Concession, Meteghan; 1960, Edouard LeBlanc, Saultierville; 1961, Jean R. Doucet; 1962 - 63 - 64, Albert P. Melanson, Church Point; 1965, J. Marcel Valade, Church Point (now at Meteghan); 1966 - 67, Edouard LeBlanc, Saultierville; 1968 - 69, Jean R. Doucet; 1970, Albert P. Melanson and this year, 1971, Jean R. Doucet. Dr. Julius Concession, Albert P. Melanson and Jean R. Doucet each have served four years as president.

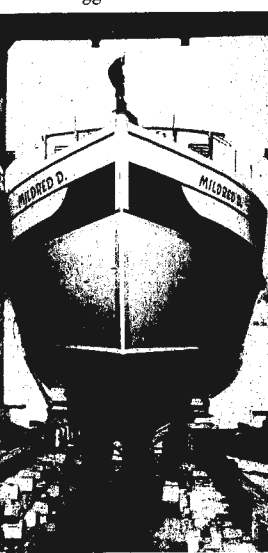

The Evangelines and Gah-nahs dance troupes selected for the last fifteen Acadian Festivals are: 1956, Edouard LeBlanc, Beliveau Cove and Clara Doucet.

Concession; 1957, Roy Concession, Meteghan and Miss Caroline Concession, St. Albert; 1958, Emilie Melanson, Church Point and Miss Caroline Concession, Meteghan; 1959, Norbert Robichaud, St. Bernard and Miss Jacqueline Concession; 1960, Renal Concession, Saultierville and Miss Anne Marie Robichaud, Meteghan; 1961, Clayton LeBlanc, Concession and Miss Claudette Desautels, Meteghan; 1962, William Melanson, Lower Saultierville and Miss Lorraine Concession, Saultierville; 1963, Gerald Blum and Miss Anna Thibodeau, both of Church Point; 1964, Felix Concession, Meteghan Station and Miss Carmela Concession, Meteghan River; Richard Saultier and Betty Ann Saultier, both of Saultierville; 1966, Alan Desautels of Concession and Miss Caroline Concession, Meteghan; 1967, Gabriel Concession, Meteghan River and Miss Louise Desautels, Meteghan; 1968, Emilie Concession, Saultierville and Carmel Concession, Little Brook; 1969, David Concession and Denise Concession, both of Meteghan Station; 1970, Rodrigue LeFort, Weymouth and Miss Suzanne Concession, Meteghan.

Representatives of Gahraet and Evangeline are sponsored by various clubs, organizations and firms in the Municipality of Digby and the Evangeline and Gahraet selected reign over the activities of the festival.

New Dragger For Little River

Walkathon - Over $1,000.00

On May 22 Digby Neck staged its first Walkathon. Under the auspices of the Little River and Sandy Cove Ladies' Auxiliary the walk began at Seawall and ended at Little River corner - a bout but exciting walk. From age seven to some "oldsters" they trudged the fifteen miles and ended up with over a thousand dollars. Enthusiasm became so great that parents were calling in from East Ferry and Waterford asking if they could participate. So began the enthusiastic thirty-five.

Dr. Kildare (Gordon Jay) and Nurse Cheryl Denton met the walkers on the way, all dressed in uniform and cheerfully ready to rub aching muscles, bandage blistered feet and soothe tired aches. All added to the fun and gaiety of the day.

Clayton Denton Jr. provided transportation with his three-ton truck. Mrs. Clyde Denton and Miss Peggy Martin were there with vehicles, ever ready to provide with food and drink.

Wins $25 Math. Prize

Wayne Boudroodine won the County prize of $25 for Digby in the Canadian Mathematical Congress according to an announcement released by K. D. C. Haley, chairman of the mathematics competition committee of the C.M.C.

Honored

Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Connolly were honored June 1st on the twenty-fifth anniversary of their marriage when twenty-five friends gathered them at their home. A Silver Anniversary Book was compiled by the guests during the evening and presented to the honored couple. Refreshments were served, highlighted by a three-tier cake topped with silver bells, made and decorated by Mrs. Paul Winchester. Following lunch, gifts were presented by Ralph McFadden.

On the preceding Saturday, May 29th, the Connolly home was the scene of another surprise party when a family gathering was arranged in their honour. Included were the couple's six children and a daughter-in-law; Mrs. Connolly's brothers from Little Brook, Digby Co., and Mr. Connolly's sister, Katherine (Mrs. Bill Holland) and Mr. Holland, Summerside, P.E.I. Gifts were also presented on this occasion. A special gift received was the Papal Blessing sent by Father Fred McWade, formerly of Digby. Mrs. Connolly is the former Catherine LeBlanc, R.N., of Little Brook. She trained at the Hotel Dieu, Campbellton, N.B. Mr. Connolly has been stationed in Digby with the C.P.R. Police for 27 years. They are the parents of four sons and two daughters.

SALVATION

THE GIFT OF GOD

In the name of Jesus:

I want to testify to all the world that God is not dead but very much alive. I lived at Seabrook not knowing how I could get to a place of worship, so I thought about God's help. I knew that if I could only get to a place of worship, I could get to a place of worship. I knew that if I could only get to a place of worship, I could get to a place of worship. I knew that if I could only get to a place of worship, I could get to a place of worship.

Last winter I earnestly prayed to God in tears for an answer to a prayer. In time God did give me the answer I prayed for. Wonderful how God can talk to us in a dream. God showed me things past, present and future. He showed me two roads, one easy, the other narrow, dark and cramped. The one I went to ride away on tomorrow, and then I heard the words "Blessed Assurance Jesus is Mine".

At that moment I was lifted up to a bright and glorious spot where I saw a great high wall reach up to heaven with an open window at the top. The light coming from that window all around me. Praise God. The light of God's love fell on me and led me to his place of worship. By the land and lead me wherever he wanted to place me. He led me to the Pentecostal Church at the 100th Hall. As I entered church morning and evening with some of God's people I kept coming a little nearer to God and God kept coming a little nearer to me. I could hear the Saviour calling to me that I should come until one Sunday afternoon, the twenty-eighth of March, as I was sitting in my living room, I experienced one of the most wonderful happenings of my life. God came and touched me around about four o'clock. God's peace washed over me. My heart became so full of love that I overcame. Then I became so very happy that I wanted to reach back to God's place of worship to humble myself before the throne of Jesus, my Saviour and my God. When these wonderful words were said to me by Jesus it sounded to me as though there were people all around me, singing with their voices. Praise God. Later on Pastor Tapley asked us all to pray to God to help us to have a church building.

As I was praying and crying my heart out to God in prayer to make it possible for us to have a house to worship in, I had faith to believe that God would answer this prayer, too. As I finished praying one afternoon and started to get up from off my knees, there came a little child. This may be hard for some people to believe but it is so true. Pastor Tapley said I was a perfect picture. I described to him, color and all. Praise God for all his wonderful gifts.

Come all and worship with us at seven o'clock Sunday evening and receive some of God's blessings, even the Holy Ghost as some have here in this congregation. I am not ashamed to shed tears for Jesus. Jesus cried for me and some of the brothers to take away my smoking habit. After about thirty years that evening I went home from church and threw my cigarettes away on the eighth of November, 1970. Never to touch them since. And I trust in Jesus I never want to. Praise God, God bless you all.

Rebekah District Meet At Bear River

The annual meeting of the Rebekah District Association, District No. 2, was held at Bear River on May 26 with Eta Rebekah Lodge as hostess. The officers Sister Jean Cann, Precept, president; Sister Marion Dunn, Bear River, vice-president; Sister Patricia Moore, Westport, Secretary; and honoured guest Mrs. Bertha Henderson, Midleton, were each presented with a corsage.

The afternoon business meeting showed that each Lodge in the District is active and doing many good deeds. Pair Isle Lodge, Precept and Unity Lodge, Annapolis, put on presents in the afternoon. A public Memorial Service was presented by Sunset Lodge, Westport, in the evening, followed by an impressive degree, put on by Zelma Lodge of Digby, in which two candidates from Annapolis were initiated in the Rebekah Degree.

A cold supper was served by the Ladies' Auxiliary and coffee, tea and doughnuts at the close of the evening.

at 7:00. Rev. Keith Churchill will preach at all three services. The visitors from Saint John will be entertained for the weekend in various tourist homes in the Digby area.

The Youth Choir of the Lancaster Baptist Church, Saint John, has an interesting history. The choir has been in existence for over 25 years. Directors have been Mrs. John Nesbitt, Miss Frances Prime, Mrs. Hilliard Nason and the present director, Miss Carol Harris. The present pianist, Miss Diane Cummings, is herself a graduate of the choir.

Over the years the Youth Choir has given service to both church and community. Churchwomen, the choir is responsible for a special selection at each Sunday morning worship service. In addition, the choir has presented Christmas and Easter Cantatas, and an annual concert of sacred and secular music in June, when the 15-year-old members graduate.

Community-wise, the choir has been entered in both competitive and non-competitive Music Festivals. For 18 consecutive years the Juniors sang at the local Veterans' Hospital on Christmas Eve, carolling through the wards as Legion members distributed treats to the patients. The choir has presented a Christmas program as guests of the Saint John Kiwanis Club, and has twice presented worship services of sacred music at the Baptist Church in Robbys, N.B.

Miss Carol Harris, Director of the choir, writes: "By far the outstanding event and the greatest thrill for our Youth Choir was their initial trip to Digby three years ago, and the prospect of this forthcoming visit has enthused and excited us all. We look forward to another interesting and delightful week-end in the Digby area, where we will again see their hearts and homes to us."

Pupils Visit

Fort

Grades 5 and 6 of Island Consolidated School and their teacher, Mrs. Bertha Ruggles, recently went to historic Fort Anne. Among the items to receive comment were the Penny Farthing, the battle suit, "with mud still clinging to the kilts" and the guns which were estimated by the youngsters to be "at least 100 years old". The group also enjoyed a visit to the great mill at Leguille.

As part of a history project, twelve of the thirteen pupils of grade 7 and their teacher, B. Pooley, visited Fort Anne on Friday.

Minister And V.B.S. Teachers Meet

"Vacation Bible School is important to the children because it provides them an opportunity to have fun learning about God; they will learn about things pertaining to Christianity and will receive and respond to the answers we will be able to give them. VBS is important to us the teachers because it gives us an opportunity to help mold the lives of the young." people and will help us understand better the meaning of this year's theme of VBS - "God Speaks To Our World Today," as you teach it to others. VBS is important to the mothers of the community because for five mornings out of the week their children from one year old to thirteen will be taken off their hands; they will have an opportunity to relax while their youngsters are being constructively taken care of at church. This is my second year with you and I am anticipating the following: crafts, fun, singing and everything associated with VBS. It is a special pleasure to hold VBS in this area because the children attend because they want to, while in some areas they go only because they are sent."

Rev. Bob Johnson was addressing prospective teachers for VBS when they met at the United Baptist Church to discuss the varied activities of the approximate seven classes, and to temporarily appoint teachers for them. This year's classes will include a one to one and a half year old group and will have sessions in the parsonage under the capable leadership of Lynn Outhouse and Barbara Outhouse.

Another meeting is scheduled for June 23. VBS classes are expected to be held the first week of August in the Tiverton Christian Church.

A reception was held in honor of new teachers, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cosaboon in the L.O.O.P. hall at Tiverton on Friday evening. The couple displayed the lovely gifts they received during the evening, and Mr. Cosaboon thanked the young married couple who organized the event, those who assisted in serving the guests and the people for the wedding gifts.

The remainder of the evening was spent in dancing with music supplied by the local group, "Old Monday" and recasts. Roy, oldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Cosaboon and Mrs. daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Marcell of Freeport, were married at Weymouth with Rev. M. Zimmerman performing the ceremony.

The couple reside in Tiverton, where Mr. Cosaboon is employed as a ferryman and Mrs. Cosaboon is hairdresser for the Island area.

Public Meeting
A public meeting to discuss a swimming pool for Digby is being held at eight o'clock on June 30. This meeting is the first of a series of public meetings of the Digby and Area Swimming Pool executive committee, which met at the Digby Town Hall on Wednesday evening.

The executive adopted a constitution on Wednesday evening and made plans to speed up the sale of tickets which was done during the

Youth To Use Facilities At Digby Regional High School

Permission was granted to the Lions Club to use a room in the Digby Regional High School to set up an arts and crafts workshop and to make use of the gym for recreational purposes, both in the interest of the Opportunities For Youth program. The application to the Digby Regional High School Board was made at their regular meeting on Monday by Ted Nicholson, who is in charge of the Youth Program for the sponsors. In the absence of Mayor Glen Smith, chairman of the Board, Dr. D. G. Black acted in this capacity. Also present and welcomed Mrs. Philip Woolaver, newly appointed government representative on the Board. Four visitors, a supervisor and one principal, were in attendance. The arts and crafts room, Mr. Nicholson explained, should accommodate forty. The other Opportunities For Youth program in Digby for which $33,000 federal money has been granted, will provide employment for approximately 100 town and municipal high school students. This project will last for six weeks on an eight-hour day basis and has several branches: video arts and recreation. Wages will vary from $50 a week to $75 per week. Among the other branches to the project are clean-up, anti-poverty, beautification, social and religious culture and park development. The project will finish by the second week in August.

In his report, supervisor C. C. MacInnes reported that student teachers from the Nova Scotia Teachers' College, Truro, would begin teaching practice at the beginning of the year and would have five to six weeks practice during the year with terms September 1 to 25 and January 26 to February 18, 1972. Coming here in September will be Miss Wanda Elms, Julie Roberts, Mona Ryan and Miss Barbara Black.

While no major summer maintenance jobs are expected to be done on the school premises, this year, Mr. MacInnes gave a detailed description of work which should be attempted in each of the town schools. These include new first class, roof repairs, painting classroom walls, fire escape repairs, repairs to lavatories and workshops.

Bills for the month of May were passed for payment including one for a plaque which was put on the Composite Wing at the time of its official opening.

Mr. Haley appeared before the Board on behalf of the Digby Nova Scotia Teachers' Union regarding the completion of teachers' contracts. An opportunity had not presented itself to discuss the terms, thoroughly so no report was given.

Letters were read from Sheryl Officer, expressing her appreciation to the Board for her presence to attend a conference in Midland for an Janet Cope-

SCHOOL COMPOSITE WING COSTS LESS THAN BOARDS ANTICIPATED

Final report of the building committee for the Composite Wing at the Digby Regional High School were completed and presented this week to municipal and town officers and School Boards concerned. The final costs were less than anticipated both on the municipal and town levels, it was discovered. The town had issued cheques to the amount of $102,000, with actual costs $101,744, less than anticipated by more than $3,000.

The building and equipment costs were $875,017.95 less federal and provincial assistance grants of $469,682.53 and less tax rebate of $46,187.82 making total local costs $339,148.00. This latter figure was shared by municipality and town on a 70 percent - 30 percent basis with Digby municipality share being $237,403.60 and the town share $101,744.40.

On the building committee were Warden Ronald Morehouse, Mayor Glen Smith, the late Hubert Shortliffe, councillor; Councillor Aubrey Forrest, Dr. D. E. Lewis, chairman, Donald Brown, Regional School Board member and F. C. Pardy, former superintendent of schools.

According to the report presented by the six members of the committee, their final projection of construction and equipment costs under the Foundation Program included Cameron Contracting Ltd. $783,000.00; work ordered by Mayor Glen Smith, the change $257.33; architectural fees $47,037.56; purchase of non-commercial equipment $39,007.19 with net cost $355,944.76.

The final report of the building committee stated that when the Digby municipal and town councils finally agreed upon the joint expenditure required for the construction, the authorization was for an expenditure not to exceed $349,000 shared $244,000 municipality and $105,000 town. The committee further stated in

Walkathon Adds $500

Bernard Bell has announced that the recent Walkathon held for the benefit of the Digby Recreation Commission raised $500.

Dr. Goddard will begin his practice as resident medical doctor for the Islands ending a long search for a doctor to succeed Dr. John Meahan, who moved to Peterborough, N.H. in January.

Enjoying Lounge At Senior Citizens Home

There are in all twenty-one units to the Senior Citizens Home in Digby, but our visit took us to two of the units only. The first point of call was at the "bachelor apartment" occupied by Mrs. Wilson. It was on the ground floor, easily accessible and just as easily stayable with the cordial and friendly atmosphere created by Mrs. Wilson herself as she played hostess to the Digby Courier. That Mrs. Wilson was happy in her surroundings was outwardly quite evident and confirmed by word of press from Mrs. Wilson herself.

The bachelor apartment is designed for one person and consists of kitchenette, bath, living room and bedroom arrangement. The furniture, including T.V., and decorative art, all supplied by Mrs.

Wilson, were comfortably and attractively arranged to complement the colour and pleasing decor of the apartment and created a homely appearance.

Leading from the buzzer system entrance to Mrs. Wilson's apartment, one stepped softly on the indoor-outdoor carpeting in soft green shade. Necessary areas were tiled. As visitors moved to the second floor, the eye admires the carpeting in a pleasant shade of deep blue. Walls are in most cases of beige to blend the cordial and friendly atmosphere created by Mrs. Wilson herself.

There are five applications for the job. The director will be a college student of at least one year. Bookkeeping and financial advice will be from the Royal Bank of Canada, Digby Branch.

Prospects Of Good Season At Pines

Ray Forhan, manager of the Pines Hotel is looking forward to a good tourist season and his prediction is right if the season continues as indicated by the opening day. There is every indication of a good season with an excellent start and a gratifying looking, he remarked. There is already a sizable increase over last year, he said. People want to leave the large cities, to breathe our unpolluted air, enjoy our mild temperatures and relax in a casual way of life. Of course, he also gave credit to the promotional effort of the province for the hotel.

Committee Set Up To Handle $33,000

A committee has been set up by the Digby Lions from among their own members and others to administer the $33,000 received from the federal government to provide employment for Digby students or youth. Ted Nicholson, head of the Leo Club, a youth club sponsored by Lions, and head of the Digby Opportunities For Youth program made it clear to the press that the jobs are open to all Digby County residents youth and not just those in Digby. This includes River River area too, he said.

On the committee are Mayor Glen Smith, Mr. Nicholson, Mrs. Kenneth Connors, John Black, Victor Thompson, Russell Stonhouse, John Walker (Lions president), Mrs. Donald Brown, David Banks and Lawrence (Sonny) Banks. These will be resource people for supervisors to turn to and they will be co-ordinators of the program.

To date eight-five have been employed in the project. There will be eight supervisors and seventy-seven workers. There will be one overall director, who has not yet been named. It is understood

Digby County Ambulance On Duty

John Gray of the Digby County Ambulance feels a responsibility to the town and municipality which satisfied him through grants and therefore will not let them down by joining the province-wide strike by members of the Ambulance Operators' Association of Nova Scotia.

The strike began when Municipal Affairs Minister J. W. Gillis rejected the Association's claim to a government grant of 75 per cent of the cost of ambulance service plus equal representation on a proposed board to administer the services.

On Wednesday Mr. Gray's Digby County Ambulance service was the only one of the Association members not on strike.

Emergency Measures Organization is supplying emergency services over the entire province since the strike began. It is understood that Hall's Funeral Home has been operating a makeshift service in Bridgetown, and the Annapolis Fire Department are giving similar service in that town.

Digby School Pilots Oceanography Course

Digby Regional High School will participate in one of the provincial pilot courses in the subject of Oceanography. This was the decision made by the DRRHS Board at their regular meeting on Monday evening.

A motion to start the course was made by Mrs. M. P. Gidley and seconded by Warden Ronald Morehouse. The course will be offered to Grade XI and XII and the Board is anxious that the students take an interest and enroll in the course.

Under the oceanography course the vast subject of the ocean is expected to be studied. There is a large amount of material in the course which is contained in a textbook which will be used for the students in the future.

Questioned as to the cost of the course to the Board, C. C. MacInnes, supervisor, stated that he understood it would be practically nothing. The province will supply text books and larger laboratory items which will also be used for other purposes and the new program will be commensurate with that of biology.

Miss Colleen Campbell, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Campbell and niece of Mrs. L. F. DeLancey, Digby, received her Bachelor of Laws Degree from the University of Ottawa on May 30, 1971. Miss Campbell is a graduate of Saint Francis Xavier University, Antigonish, N.S. and of Acadia University, Quebec, in Education. She will be working with the firm of Gear and Roy, Ottawa.

Public Meeting June 30th

A public meeting to discuss a swimming pool for Digby is being held at eight o'clock on June 30. This meeting is the first of a series of public meetings of the Digby and Area Swimming Pool executive committee, which met at the Digby Town Hall on Wednesday evening.

The executive adopted a constitution on Wednesday evening and made plans to speed up the sale of tickets which was done during the winter. Prizes through the sale of tickets will be announced on National Day.

Application for financial support has been made to the provincial government. It is understood that this support is in the form of a grant of 75 per cent of the cost of ambulance service plus equal representation on a proposed board to administer the services.

On Wednesday Mr. Gray's Digby County Ambulance service was the only one of the Association members not on strike.

Emergency Measures Organization is supplying emergency services over the entire province since the strike began. It is understood that Hall's Funeral Home has been operating a makeshift service in Bridgetown, and the Annapolis Fire Department are giving similar service in that town.

— ABOUT THIS AND THAT —

Sense Of Responsibility Still With Us

In a day when the old-time sense of responsibility, courtesy and what not seem to have been discarded, it is encouraging to hear of someone who feels a duty to fulfill certain obligations.

Those who have gone on strike in the ambulance service must have their own reasons for doing so. We won't attempt to dispute their cause here or justify their action. Our main purpose in these few written remarks is to draw attention to the responsible service and dedication shown by John Gray of the Digby County Ambulance Service in not going on strike with the majority of ambulance services in Nova Scotia, whether or not a strike was justified. Mr. Gray is conscious of grants received from town and municipality and for this reason, if for no other, feels an obligation to the people of Digby County to supply bulldog service. We need to commend such a sense of responsibility which has stayed with us in a generation which emphasizes "give me" instead of "what can I do?"

We will not attempt to assess the ambulance strike situation which has hit the province. There are pros and cons in every strike but in every strike, who is it who loses most? Usually it is neither the striker or those against whom the strike is aimed. It is the innocent outsider who depends on a particular service which is being denied. For want of a nail a shoe was lost and so was the rider. Fortunately emergency measures are set up in this case but for want of an ambulance a life could be lost.

We bow to Mr. Gray and any other ambulance service which might have considered responsibility above self interest.

Too Late, Too Late

We heard a radio comment, or opinion expressed last week which depicted this spirit of gloom, ruin and disaster which is being circulated in Digby regarding the new Princess of Acadia passengers not coming to Digby town, the time the ship stays in Digby being too short, the hour of departure being too late and in general a warning of conditions with the new ship service and location. Along with the commentator we, too, decry this spirit of gloom. Don't forget it is contagious, it amplifies and multiplies in its circulation and the backlash could have more devastating effects than the miseries experienced in the first place. Having written that, we want to quickly add that we, on the other hand, have more than normal sympathy for those showing concern.

The first petitioning for a new ship came possibly from the Board of Trade and definitely long before the seventies appeared on the horizon. The chief reason was for a transportation service which would accommodate trailers, trucks and large vehicles besides cars and passengers. We have it. The point we want to make here is that most of the people we hear registering complaints had never set foot inside a Digby Board of Trade meeting. Had they done so, we might not now have to cry "Too late, Too late!" there is any just cause for tears. We still have to weigh the total assets, however, against the liabilities.

Of all the meetings we attended where promotion of a new ship was heard, few envisaged the terminals "out-of-town" or considered effects, the town of the port-calls outside the town limits. But no one can deny that the disembarking of visitors from the ship at the present site certainly reveals a much more pleasant and picturesque sight than that which greeted the passengers landing at the old CPR wharf. This has its merits. Digby's image has been enhanced for few admit that the ship lands at Bay View or Shore Road. It is still the "Digby boat" and always will be.

We are not denying that there may be a few pieces to pick up, there always are with changes, but it might be wise to look the situation over, pick up those few pieces, make adjustments and move forward to the best advantages which our present ourselves. At least, let us not cut off our noses to spite our faces, when it comes to spreading a spirit of gloom which will prevent others from coming to our town. Instead, let us find the things which might attract people to our town.

We do not see the new Princess of Acadia in its new overall situation as not being an asset. Indeed, we hail it very much an asset but we think that now is a good time to suggest a caution — let us not be in too much of a rush to discard the old for the new, let us consider well all advantages and disadvantages, let us be ready to accept change that is inevitable or beneficial and readjust to it and let us personally interest ourselves in situations before it is "Too late". Most of all, let us not spread an attitude of gloom so detrimental to any cause.

Celebrations Galore

Beginning with Weymouth Day early in July, Digby County is likely to be a busy area in celebrations of a while. We are keenly aware of all that is going on in most of them and all indications are that the fairs this year will be outstanding.

Another celebration in July is the Bear River Cherry Carnival. By all indications cherries will be in season but if cherries are not available in large quantities we have been assured of a good time for every person anyway. Bear River Cherry Carnival has always been outstanding for its parade and we understand that entries have for some time been coming in for this feature of the special occasion. The Children's Parade is being given a new lease on life this year and is guaranteed to attract many. Bear River regals, always something to look forward to, is another attraction and the usual contests on land and water will continue to bring the people to the Swifeland of Nova Scotia.

Right on the heels of the Carnival comes Digby's Natal Day which last year was a tremendous success and already this year entries for the grand parade have been coming to Mrs. Gerald Stark and for the children's parade to Mrs. Wayne Graser, Digby. The Citizens of the Year has been chosen to be Dr. J. R. McCleave, a man who is known throughout the entire County and further for his concerns with community life and humanity in general and who is bound to have influence on the attendance for Digby's Natal Day. It is fitting that Digby should honor this man on its special day. The entire program for Digby's special day is one which should bring thousands to town.

The next in line is the Acadian Festival and this will be followed by the Digby County Exhibition, another event which is getting some new blood infused and is being planned well in advance. We cannot emphasize too much that this Digby County Exhibition is just that,

Variety Show At Freeport

Teenagers and adults in the Island area combined their talents in a variety show held in the Community Hall at Freeport and sponsored by the Freeport Fire Department.

Ernest Powell, Freeport, M.C. for the event, said in a brief address "I believe this is the first time a program of this type has been held in Freeport for the benefit of the Fire Department. There has been some talk about raising money for equipment for the Fire Department — some agree it is a good thing and others feel it is a waste of money. We've been fortunate that only one or two homes in the area have been destroyed by fire but we can't guarantee there won't be more and it's a good feeling to know that if a dwelling did catch fire we are equipped to handle the situation."

The speaker in his genial manner introduced the acts on the program by saying "We have a varied cast here tonight — I almost seem to have some from Sing-Sing Jailhouse, County Jailhouse and a few from The Pig and Whistle, so sit back and enjoy it."

Starting off the entertainment was the newly-organized band, The Village Cats, Oshroff, drums, Lee Oshroff, rhythm guitar and vocalist Lou Oshroff with their guest singer Christopher Thurber, Freeport, and his tambourine accompaniment. Later in the program Lou was joined by Christopher to sing Canadian song writer Gene MacClelland's "Put Your Hand In The Hand."

Mrs. Betty Galt in her song selection "There Must Be More To Love Than This" with her guitar, was accompanied by Lester Thimot, violin, and Paul Elliott, guitar.

PLANKED WHITEFISH

- 2 to 3 pound pan-ready whitefish frozen or fresh
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 3 slices unpeeled apple, halved
- 3 slices unpeeled lemon, halved
- 3 slices fat bacon
- 2 cups duchesse potatoes (recipe follows)
- 4 tomato slices
- 1 cup grated Cheddar cheese

Remove wrapping from frozen fish. Wash, wash and dry it. Sprinkle it on the inside with salt. Stuff it with half slices of lemon and apple. Measure stuffing thickness at the thickest part. Place fish in a greased baking pan or on a greased, bake-and-serve platter. Top with bacon slices. Bake in a hot oven at 450 degrees F., allowing 10 minutes cooking time per inch of stuffed thickness.

About 15 minutes before the allotted cooking time is up, remove fish from the oven and transfer, if desired, to a preheated, oiled platter. Border with four rounds of duchesse potatoes. Top each mound with a slice of tomato. Sprinkle tomato slices with grated cheese. Brush exposed wood-areas of the plank with additional oil, then place plank in the oven. Continue baking at 450 degrees F. until fish flakes easily on testing with a fork and its flesh down to the backbone is a milk-white color. At this time the potatoes will be tinged with brown. Mix tomato slices soft, and the cheese melted. Garnish platter with lemon and parsley and bring to the table in a holder or on platter or tray. Makes 4 servings.

Take Us Home", accompanied by Paul Elliott, guitar.

Duets were sung by Heather Crocker and John Small with their guitars. Heather also sang "Cool Moon's Daughter" and "Keep On the Adventure Since You're Gone", with Paul Elliott, guitar.

Stephen Guler, with guitar, sang "Tears On Her Brightest" and "There Goes My Everything" and "Green, Green Grass of Home".

The Old Timers, John Oshroff, guitar, and young son Lee, played "Wreck Of The Old 99" and "Coming Round The Mountain". Lester Thimot, violinist, joined them. The announcer, Mr. Powell, delighted the audience with a bit of step-dancing.

Paul Elliott, guitar, and Lester Thimot, violin, set toes tapping with some old-time fiddle tunes. Mrs. Lloyd Galt and Mr. Powell featured a bit of step dancing.

Duets were sung by Heather Crocker, with guitar, and Paul Elliott, guitar, and Lester Thimot, violin.

One of the special features highlighting the entertainment was a solo by Mrs. Harry Crocker, with glasses (no lenses) and a wide featuring long black hair, captivated the audience with her imitation of a fiddle player while on a record player playing back-stage. Her movement and fiddle "playing" drew rows of laughter from the audience.

The program closed with the cast singing "Now Is The Hour". A dance followed featuring the music of the "Old 99" group and several records.

Proceeds from the evening will be used to purchase equipment for the Freeport Fire Department.

Teacher Graduates

The name of Miss Patricia Rudolph, Smith's Cove, was inadvertently omitted last week from the list of teachers graduating from the Nova Scotia Teachers' College. Miss Rudolph, who took the general teachers course for two years, graduating in June of this year, will return to Teachers' College to further her education and obtain a higher degree.

Gramophone Entertains At Anniversary

Mrs. Basil Outhouse of Medford, Mass., was surprised by a birthday and Anniversary party held in her home at the home of her daughter, Donna, Mrs. Edwin Oshroff, Tiverton, on June 16.

Mrs. Outhouse, who is visiting her daughter, observed the fifty-third birthday of her thirty-ninth wedding anniversary on June 16 and received sixteen of the twenty invited guests who displayed their esteem of Mrs. Outhouse, by presenting her with gifts for both occasions.

During the evening, Mrs. Outhouse received congratulatory messages from her husband, Basil Outhouse and son Wilfred of Medford, and their daughter, Mrs. Dolores Outhouse of Salem, Mass.

Hubert Oshroff, father-in-law of Mrs. Oshroff, provided part of the evening's entertainment by playing a gramophone, popular in the 1920's and earlier while records of the 1920's and earlier style records tumbled-style records.

Among the records played were "I'm Gonna Get That Man" and "I'm Gonna Get That Man" which were popular at that time.

Featured also was a scrapbook which contained photographs for the guests. The book featured items of interest to the Tiverton community and the local area was compiled by the late Mrs. (Annie) Hober Outhouse of Tiverton during the years 1920-30, etc. The book of home life and events in the book the depiction of the account of her wedding day, the birth of her children and many other events surrounding her friends.

Refreshments, including a cake made and decorated with cupid and his bow and arrow by Mrs. Oshroff were served by the hostess, Mrs. Outhouse. Former Mrs. Chalmers of Digby, N. S.

IN MEMORIAM

CAMPBELL - In loving memory of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Campbell, who both passed away in 1964.

We do not need a special day To bring you to our mind, For the days we do not think of you.

Are very hard to find. Now looking back with memories

Upon the path you trod, We miss the years we had with you

And leave the rest to God. Lovingly remembered by the children and grandchildren.

45:1c

AMERO - In loving memory of a dear mother, Mrs. Bernice E. Amero, who passed away June 26th, 1970.

No one knows how much I miss you

I have suffered since I lost you, My heart has never been the same.

In my heart your memory lingers.

Sweetly tender, fond and true. There is not a day, dear mother

That I do not think of you. -Always remembered by her daughter Leola Amero, 45:1p

FROST - In loving memory of husband and father, Walter H. Frost, who passed away June 27, 1964.

You have gone across the river.

To the shore of evergreen, How we often long to see you, But the river lies between.

Jesus met you by the river, And gently took you by the hand, Bid you come and live for ever.

Over in that promised land, When the roll is called up ponder.

As this life on earth is e'er there we'll meet you some glad morning.

Over on that golden shore. -Sadly missed and always remembered by wife Wilma and family. 45:1p

COCMAN - In memory of husband and father, Scott Cocman, who passed away June 28, 1969.

His weary hours and days of pain

His troubled nights are past, And in our aching hearts we know

He has found sweet rest at last. -Remembered by wife Vera, daughters June and Anita. 45:1p

with, color testing of each of the tenants. After conditioning in both upstairs and downstairs corridors is a welcome relief for hot summer days.

On the second floor, the editor made a call on Mr. and Mrs. Robert Haines in their reasonably spacious and most attractive apartment. They arrived in Digby on October 1, 1970 from Freeport, Long Island, Digby County, with the intent purpose of avoiding the rigorous winter on the island, especially when medical assistance on the island was exceedingly lacking. Mr. and Mrs. Haines found life more convenient in the Senior Citizens' Apartment and enjoyed better health because of lesser winter strain in apartment life. Two T.V. sets, their own personal belongings including their holidays, made this large bedroom apartment a real Haines home.

Tiled floors in shades complementary to the light room walls made an easy setting in which to blend special pieces of furniture. The bath in this apartment leaned towards the yellow shades.

Time did not permit other individual visits, but the Courier editor happily met a number of the tenants, both men and women, in the lounge on the second floor, where an attractive gold carpet covers the entire floor. Chesterfields and chairs in harmonizing shades give the lounge an air of comfort, accentuated by the soft lighting of floor lamps, table lamps and wall lighting. Kitchen service is available in the common room where the tenants and their guests can enjoy a spot of tea together after a game of cards or a conversational social hour. A public lavatory is located on the floor for convenience of visitors at the Home.

Off the lounge can be found a sunporch and place from where a scenic view of the Annapolis Basin and Digby Harbour can be enjoyed. Below is a spacious yard fitted with benches and convenient outdoor furniture.

On each floor of the Senior Citizens' Home is a laundry containing a n. auto matic washer and dryer for the convenience of the tenants.

A peek into the furnace room on the first floor reveals a system of instant domestic hot water and other means many heating equipment.

Frank Macintosh is janitor for the Home. The janitor's room is on the first floor where the exhaust system controls, electric meters for individual apartments and common areas, fire alarm system, drying room and counters. Each floor has its own fire station feature.

There are storage rooms on the ground floor, where tenants can store items not in use as well as storage room for the Home accessories. Here are also found two sprinkler systems, emergency lighting facilities, telephone system and a master TV antenna.

HOONER MEMORY

Mrs. Gidney was a valued member of the DEHS Board from 1967 to her death in the fall of 1970. She was born in Annapolis County and before her marriage, was a school teacher.

Mrs. Gidney had a great depth of understanding, Mayor Smith said, and gave freely of her time and ability in the service of others whether in community, welfare, church, education and other activity.

Mrs. Gidney had established an award known as the Gidney Memorial Award in memory of her husband. The award is now known as the Gidney Memorial Award.

GRANTS

Summers upgrading a summer school course will receive a $100 incentive grant from the DEHS Board for the year 1971. This includes teachers who will be new on the staff in the term 1971-72, as well as teachers who have been on the staff. The decision was made at the regular meeting of the Board on Monday evening.

To date, fourteen teachers have indicated their intention of taking the summer school course, but supervisor C. C. MacIntosh expects the number will be 18 to 20.

Previous incentive grants by the Board had been $125 per teacher but the previous year's grant had been $50 which had only $100 which had been $50. Monday night's decision of the Board. The previous year's $43 of each $100 leaving $57 to be paid by the Board.

Tuesday, June 15, was opening day at the Pines, which brought the first bus party via Bay of Fundy through the new Princess of Acadia.

Mr. Forhan spoke highly of his complete staff, mostly university students and remarked that the guests were most pleased with their appearance, particularly mentioning that they admired them for not being the "hippie" type. The staff at the Digby Pines has many return persons, some for many years at the Pines and some having retired after many years under similar establishments. Mr. Forhan speaks with pride of the ability of those with such a wealth of experience to relate and communicate so easily with the "vigorous, ambitious and strongly constituted youthful staff."

The manager showed a note of sadness as he spoke of the death of the head diningroom waiter, Joseph Brunette, who had been with the Pines for three years and who died at MacDonald Hotel, Edmonton, Alberta during the winter. Mr. Forhan spoke with confidence and enthusiasm for "Mr. John" (John Wronkowsky) and for the late Mr. Brunette. "Mr. John" retired from Chateau Laurier, Ottawa, where he had been in the food service from 1928 to 1971. His assistant is Miss Betty McCree, with Department of Trade and Industry.

Others who have had long experience at the Pines or come with long years of service in other places are Mrs. Alvin Stark (about 30 years); Mrs. Allyn Kaye (20 years); the chief engineer, Bob Hemm; chief maintenance, Irving Amer; golf pro, Charles Nickerson; greengrocer, Richard Amer; executive chef, "Bill" Schmidt, who had been chef with the C.N.R. Hotel system for 40 years; John Hinzol, 40 years experience and George Campbell, who is at the Pines for the fourth season following his retirement as chief steward on the M.V. Bluebird and employed with Wagner's Restaurant.

Richard Wrenn, head bell-boy has been at the Pines for six years. He is the son of Gwyneth Wrenn, who served with the Digby R.C.M.P. and Mrs. Wrenn. He is married to the former Miss Shirley McLennan.

The party chef is Roy Rice of the Goodwin Hotel, Weymouth, who has been at the Pines for several years. Chief butler is George Gerhardt with experience at Hotel Nova Scotia before coming to the thought should be given to engaging such a person.

Truancy, it was felt, is a problem to the teaching staff and parents although many parents give consent for the students to be away from school during school hours. Truancy, it was stated occurs when there are free periods. The habit has become "contagious" but parents do not seem to be concerned. It was remarked. Truancy has its side effects, too, it was noted, this including a huge problem and students returning not in a condition to cope with the subjects of the day.

Letters go home to parents regarding truancy, teachers advise students of the consequences, pupils go before the staff council and the fourth step is suspension.

It was felt that since free periods add to the truancy problem, more compulsory subjects might be the answer. Among other suggestions were the issuing of cards for absence or return from parents. The difficulty is generally in the Grade XI class. Grade XII is permitted to leave school during free periods on the same level of responsibility credited to university students.

It was announced that a special federal grant can be obtained for equipment for a French course which will be of no cost to the town.

of John MacIntosh from MacDonald in Edmonton. Assistant manager is David Ryan, who has moved to Digby with his wife Owen and children, David and Diane. He succeeds Mr. Falls, who has been transferred to Kellie in Cape Breton.

The exterior of the Pines property has been landscaped and seeded following the reconstruction of the highway. The landscaping extends beyond the new tourist bureau. The Legion property has been purchased by the government, owners of the hotel but the Legion will occupy the building until they are able to complete their new construction in town.

A new fire detection system has been installed in 368 rooms, all the cottages, and public areas. This demanded the redecoration of all the areas including the lounge where rope effect in gold has been added to the ceiling and gilded moldings enhance the pillars near the ceiling. Orange, brown and greens continue to adorn the lounge.

Twelve of the 32 cottages have been completely redecorated and renovated with the new flooring, tile, built in bath, enlarged bedrooms with double beds, electric heating, green and gold rugs and blending draperies featuring pine trees. Major work programs are also planned for the fall.

Mr. Forhan emphasized that the Pines was not in competition with private tourist businesses in the area but acted as a supplement and as a "drawing card" for the benefit of private concerns. The manager spoke of the combined promotion of Nova Scotia tourism which takes place at Boston by Air Canada and the federal and provincial governments. The Pines, he said, has reasonable rates and tries to keep the hotel as "home" for visitors. The rates appeal to all circumstances. Twenty-one dollars per day per person will provide meals, room, bath (double occupancy) or if visitors wish to splurge the prices are still realistic.

Getting brings many visitors, the manager ventured, and told of promotion through Golf magazines which have brought visitors during the past few days from as far south as Sarasota, Florida. There is what is known as the six-day package which includes golfing. There is also a three day, part of Friday, Saturday and Sunday, including meals, room and golfing (double occupancy) for $46 per person.

Clare District Students Graduate

Seventy-three students of the Clare District High School in Grade XII and twenty-four of the Commercial Class graduated at special exercises held in the auditorium of the high school.

Considerable change in education has taken place in the Municipality of Clare in the last 15 years since the high school was built in 1957. At that time only 50 Grade XII students were registered in the public schools.

Miss Ghislain LeBlanc was awarded the Honor Trophy offered by Dr. Julius Comau, of Meteghan. This trophy is presented to the student who excels in sports, cooperation, participation in activities of the school and who is successful in having above average points in her exams.

Michael German received the trophy for Excellence in Sports in the boys' division, offered by Bernard Comau.

Miss June LeBlanc received the trophy offered by the school to the girl student for Excellence in Sports, Rene Seintier, Grade IX, was awarded the trophy donated by the Excellence in Sports, junior division.

Prize offered by Fred Devau awarded to the student with highest average in Commercial Class, was awarded to Miss Paulette Gaudet, with an average of 88.3. Miss Yvonne Comau, Grade XII, received the prize for the student in English speaking studies who made the greatest progress in French (speaking) prize given by Mr. Maurice Belliveau.

Vernon Anirault received the trophy for teams which received the highest points during the school year, donated by the teaching staff of the high school. Miss Ghislain LeBlanc and Vernon Anirault were presented with a trophy awarded to the student who is captain of the team which received the greatest number of points during the season.

To Employ 558 Students
In reply to Louis Comau, M.P., who questioned on special summer works program the minister said the works program of the Department of Public Works traditionally is at its peak during the summer months and consequently no plans have been formulated to date for a separate summer works program as such. In addition to staff engaged by consultants, contractors and suppliers in relation to the current year's Public Works program, the Department expects to engage approximately 550 students and 517 casual employees during the summer months in addition to its full time establishment.

Class Closes For Season
Mrs. Gerald Boud was hostess for the Interdenominational Bible Class which met at her home in Seabrook under the leadership of Mrs. Carman Franklin.

The next meeting of the group was at the home of Mrs. Nellie Hinman, which was the final meeting for the season.

During the early part of June it was expected the group would gather at Mallett's Lake for a pot luck supper at the summer cottage of their leader, Mrs. Carman Franklin.

The following received scholarships from St. Mary's University of Halifax: Felix Comau, $600.00; Allan Theriault, $150.00 and Victor Thibodeau, $100.00.

Those who received $100.00 scholarships from the Foundation, Stignee were: Argyle Municipality of Yarmouth County: Charles T. Boudreau, Edward L. Couture, Yvette M. d'Entremont, Lenore M. d'Entremont, Patrick d'Entremont, Michel G. Doucet, Thomas M. Doucet, Gerard V. LeBlanc and Peter E. LeBlanc.

Attend TOPS Convention
Charlotte Denton, Margaret Andrew, Alma Hersey and Frances Marchbanks from the Slimmer Skimmer TOPS Chapter at Digby motored to Sydney recently to attend provincial Recognition for TOPS.

At the convention Charlotte Denton was recognized as a KOPS alumni for staying with in a certain weight bracket for one year.

Frances Morehouse graduated from TOPS (take off pounds senseibly).

Frances Morehouse was also honored twice, for a weight loss of over 40 lbs. and also for being Queen of the Slimmer Skimmer with a total weight loss of 50% lbs.

SELF CLEAN OVEN
The building was formerly a workshop for the handman of the college and later used by the Church Point Youth Club.

Another project which will get underway in July is the Nova Scotia Indian Colony in Maxwellton, a village several miles east of Meteghan and several miles from the shores of St. Mary's Bay. The Meteghan Lions Club lodge will be used for the colony headquarters. The colony will have ten college students as instructors and supervisors.

Children from 8 to 12 years will attend a two weeks stay at the colony and a well planned program is being prepared. Lakes are handy to the colony.

The playground for young children at Church Point is expected to continue this year as one of the youth projects. This recreation program for children from 4 to 12 years of age has been a successful one for the last two years. The program planned is for the St. Anne's College campus grounds in general but outings are also on the program. This program was created by the Church Point Youth Club.

Another project is the Acadia Museum which will be called "Musée de la vie Acadienne" which will be in a building already existing at the entrance to the proposed Le Petit Bois park and owned by St. Anne's College. This project is in charge of Wayne Boudreau of St. Bernard and will give work to four students, formerly of St. Anne's College.

The project calls for finding material to put in the museum as well as to prepare the building for such a purpose.

Chi Rho Group Holds Service
An interesting service, entitled "Dear Bones Gonna Rise Again" was presented by the Chi Rho group in the Thru Christian Church on Sunday evening, under the direction of their leader, Rev. Robert Johnson.

The service, divided into three parts, First Confession of Sin, an Affirmation of Faith and Second Confession of Sin was read by members of the group and featured songs, Dear Bones Gonna Rise Again and Go Down, Stone.

Elected Director

Blanc, Grade XII students of the school.

Twenty-four students of the school participated in the exchange program and will spend a week in Montreal.

Mrs. Titus Entertains Women
The June meeting of the Women's Missionary Society of the Westport United Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. Arthur Titus. The president, Mrs. Lawrence Shaw, presided.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Arthur Titus and was entitled "A Prayer for Christian Life". Circle of prayer was led by Mrs. Earl Webber and conducted by Mrs. Shaw. The roll was called by the secretary, Mrs. George Sharpe, to which each one present responded with a verse of scripture containing the word "Know".

The program was presented by Mr. Wickham Lent and her theme "Hands of Human mercy are not unlike the hands of God."

Mrs. Titus was assisted by Mrs. George Clements at the social hour which followed the meeting.

FINDS OLD COURIER
While renovating his home at Weymouth Falls, Dickson Smith discovered an old copy of The Digby Weekly Courier of 1898.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR YOUTH IN CLARE
Three projects by students of St. Anne's College under the Opportunities for Youth Program of the federal government are taking place this summer in the Municipality of Clare. Two of the projects are already underway.

Le Petit Bois (little woods) project consists of a restoration program of what once was a little private park of the Eudiste Order of priesthood who operated St. Anne's College. This project is in charge of Ernest Dugas and in which ten students will participate during the summer vacation months.

A good start has been made in cleaning up the underbrush in the wooded area, grounds cleared and flowers planted to the original point of entrance. It will require considerable work in doing the restoration work as several areas of interest have been demolished during the late years. Two separate grottoes will be rebuilt and the plans call for the construction of several former small buildings in the same style in which they were made. Some of these buildings had no front but had seats and roof and three walls, so a person could sit and meditate.

Mrs. Dugas stated that he hoped the project would be sufficiently advanced by midsummer to allow visitors to the park. It is understood that benches and tables will be placed in the park. The project gives summer work to ten students, six of whom are young ladies who are St. Anne's College students. Le Petit Bois was once a well kept private park with various interesting small buildings and well kept pathways.

Another project is the Acadia Museum which will be called "Musée de la vie Acadienne" which will be in a building already existing at the entrance to the proposed Le Petit Bois park and owned by St. Anne's College. This project is in charge of Wayne Boudreau of St. Bernard and will give work to four students, formerly of St. Anne's College.

The project calls for finding material to put in the museum as well as to prepare the building for such a purpose.

Weymouth Falls Has Outdoor Baptism
A large number of relatives and interested friends gathered at Gale's Bridge, Weymouth Falls, at 2:30 on Sunday, June 13, when eighteen people were baptized into the fellowship of the Mount Beulah United Baptist Church.

Rev. George R. Bell, pastor of the church, conducted the service, assisted by Deacons Walter Wainwright, Sidney Wainwright, George Landford, Cecil Simmons, Cyril Middleton and Ernest Robart. The church choir was present and assisted with music.

The candidates who were baptized were Sanford Cromwell, James Sparks, Michael Sparks, Kathleen Sparks, Scott Cromwell, Karen Simmons, Brian Simmons, Raymond Simmons, Eugene Simmons, Arnold States, Cecil States, Sonita States, Alta States, Librian States, Allen States, Sherry Pleasant, Claudette Pleasant and Alice Falls.

At the regular evening church service on the same day these people were welcomed into church membership by receiving the right hand of fellowship and their first Communion.

Adopted Child Marries

Word has been received from India by Mrs. Laurence Atkinson, of Bay View, of the marriage of her adopted daughter, Leah Dulla.

In a letter from Leah's parents it states: "You will be extremely glad to know that we have proposed to perform Leah's marriage on the 12th of May this year. The wedding cards are being sent to you shortly."

Mrs. Atkinson and the late Rev. Atkinson adopted two children in 1960 when Rev. Atkinson spent some time in that country conducting evangelistic services. Mrs. Atkinson has continued to support these children since Rev. Atkinson's death in 1968.

Leah is now 22 years of age, a high school graduate and is a qualified seamstress able to earn her own livelihood.

The wedding cards are written in beautiful Telugu language. Leah attended the Girls Boarding School at the Mission in Akividu, India.

MARRIAGES

Couple - Dukeshire

A quiet but pretty wedding was solemnized in St. Paul's United Church, Fredericton, on May 22 when Cheryl Anne Dukeshire, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cleveland Dukeshire, Bear River, was united in marriage to James Cougle, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cougle, Bristol, N.B. Rev. Ian McLean officiated at the double-ring ceremony.

The bride looked lovely in a peasant style dress of white rayon blend with yellow and brown trimmings at the neckline. Her floor-length veil and crown was held in place by a band of white and yellow daisies. She carried a spray of browned roses.

The bride's only attendant, Miss Joan Geldart, wore a peasant-style dress of green and yellow and carried a spray of white daisies.

Jay Selerman, friend of the groom, acted as best man. A reception for twenty-five guests was held in the lounge at the Student Union Building, U.N.B. campus.

The bride, a graduate of St. Patrick's Business College, Digby, is on the secretarial staff at U.N.B. The groom, a graduate of U.N.B., is employed by the federal government as a naturalist.
After a brief honeymoon at Harvey Lake, N.B., the happy couple returned to Fundy National Park where they are both employed for the summer months. They will return to Fredericton in the fall to resume their former vocations.

Graham - Titus

A pretty house wedding was solemnized in Westport on May 29 at eight o'clock in the evening at the home of the groom's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Graham, when Rev. George E. Sharpe united in marriage with the double-ring ceremony Marilyn Ann, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Titus, and Ricky Frederick, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Graham, all of Westport, N.S.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length dress of pink silk with long sleeves and decorated with white daisies on the sleeves and front and back of dress. A pink ribbon adorned the waist and her headpiece was a rhinestone tiara. She wore white accessories and carried a bouquet of pink roses.
Her attendant, Mrs. Gary Frost, chose a long sleeve street-length dress of pink crepe textured tulle knit.

Grant - Murley

The Hill Grove United Baptist Church was the scene of a pretty summer wedding on June 5th, 1971, when Doris Elaine, younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reginald Murley, Acadiaville, and Shepherd Falls, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Grant, Glace Bay, were united in marriage. Rev. D. E. Robertson performed the double ring ceremony, assisted by Rev. H. S. Hartlin. Mrs. Doris Roop played the wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Mrs. John Murley, who sang "O Perfect Love" prior to the ceremony, and "I'll Walk Beside You" during the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a traditional floor-length empire gown of pink and white with bodice and full bishop sleeves of imported chintilly lace. A double tuck skirted the empire waist from which fell the detachable chapel train lavishly embroidered in matching lace. The short, bouffant veil of imported silk illusion tulle was held to a half profile cap of matching lace petals trimmed with green and white crystals. She carried a cascade of pink roses.

Mrs. John Roop was her sister's only attendant. She wore a floor-length gown of mint green crepe with short sleeves and bodice covered with ruffled lace. She carried a nosegay of pink carnations and white chrysanthemums.

Jack Grant, brother of the groom, was best man, and the ushers were James Fletcher, of Glace Bay, and Ernest Frost of Arichat, nephews of the groom.

The mother of the bride chose a light blue crepe dress and lace knit coat with matching hat and white accessories. The groom wore a suit of varied shades of blue and white. The mother of the groom wore a dress of blue lace over crepe with white and white accessories and a corsage of varied red and white carnations.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the church hall. Serving the bride party were Mrs. Oakley Frost and Miss Paty Grant, sister of the groom. Other serving were Misses Helen Grant, Jacqueline Grant, Brenda Grant, Cynthia Fletcher, Marjorie Murley, Janice Height and Mrs. Kenneth Roop. Misses Sheila Roop and Joanne Roop were in charge of the guest book.
Rev. H. S. Hartlin proposed at the home of the bride to which the groom responded.
For a wedding trip to the Annapolis Valley and South Shore, the bride chose a two-piece blue suit with white milk collar, pink and white accessories, and a corsage of pink roses.
On their return Mr. and Mrs. Grant will reside in Glace Bay where Mr. Grant is employed by the Cape Breton Post.
Out of town guests were from Port Wells, Glace Bay, Millville, Halifax, New Glasgow, Windsor, Tremont, Cambridge Station, Somerset, Cumberland, Moncton and Sydney.

Harris - Haines

A quiet wedding was held at the Freeport Baptist Church on Saturday afternoon, May 8, 1971, at 2:30 p.m. when Dale Heather Haines, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Haines, Freeport, N.S., became the bride of Raymond Lawrence Harris, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Harris, Grand Manan, N.B.
