GRASP THE OPPORTUNITIES

Christmas Day has come and gone. Tomorrow begins another year, 1976, so on this last day of December 1975, we look both back to the past and forward to the future as we add to our usual greeting to one and all, Happy New Year.

As we write these lines, we are anticipating a 1976 review and - or greetings to you from our leaders in federal, provincial and municipal governments. They will probably bring to you some of the progress, maybe some of the disappointments which occurred during the year. We, in this issue are making an attempt in reviewing 1975 by means of pictures. These, of course, do little in covering the entire 1975 story. Pictures are stored by the hundreds but there would be little room to accommodate so many and besides many of the important events do not have pictures to accompany their script. Few of the sorrowful events have pictures to tell the depth of grief. To these people involved we can only extend our sympathy and assure them they have been on the minds of many. Similarly, during the year many of our readers have been able to enjoy with relatives and friends many happy events as recorded in these columns.

As one looks over the Town of Digby and the County of Digby, one can see they have not been exactly standing still. Take the construction, for instance, on Digby's South End. Construction of Senior Citizen's Apartments, small enterprises and private homes have taken place in other parts of the town. The Municipality of Digby, has witnessed considerable construction as well as the Municipality of Clare. A few small industries or businesses have crept up, although not as many as might be desired. We can only hope that any opportunities might be grasped to add to these in 1976. With that in mind we can see the urging of a sardine factory for Digby, now in the "talking" stage.

Speaking of industry, we think it can be noted here that Agriculture has advanced considerably in Digby County in 1975. The Digby County Exhibition, itself, indicated this trend but more so it is noticed by the young people grasping opportunities in this industry.

As far as we can see the fishing industry made no leaps ahead in 1975 except in the talk of the sardine factory. Trading with the Caribbean looked hopeful when Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau met a delegation from that country in Digby in the summer of 1975. Nothing further is known to have developed there.

Tourism seems to have held its own in Digby County in 1975. The prospects of an airport in use at Hill Grove looks promising for tourism here and for the locating of small industries. There might possibly be 1976 opportunities to be grasped in 1976.

Education and Health have always been "industries" in Digby. However, we are not so concerned here in that regard as we are in that they serve their purpose. In education we find that one or two of our schools were hindered in operation by phone calls on bomb threats. It would seem that authorities did very well in doing "the best they knew how" to lick the problem and we should extend our thanks to them for finding a solution.

Following the school news in 1975 (other than the bomb calls) would reveal much activity among the students and in most cases well directed. Boards, supervisors, teachers and students regretted to see departure from the staff of Sister Rita O'Keefe, Miss Marie Dugas and Mrs. Evelyn Winchester, but all felt they had earned a happy retirement. Events at school would be too numerous to mention, such as band education debating, sports, etc., but we feel that those who have moved from Digby County schools should be recognized as the grasp opportunities and continue what they have acquired here. The year 1975 saw Arnold MacCallum become the first minister of education in the N.W.T. Also a man of whom we can be proud is Bradford Barton, Jr., who achieved so well in sports.

Special mention should be made of the big effort made in the Digby Neck area to provide themselves in 1975 with admirable fire fighting equipment.

Congratulations go to Judge V.G. Cardoza in being selected Citizen of the Year 1975; to those who became Citizens of the Month by the Digby Kinsmen and R.C.M.P. and to Sister O'Keefe as the Lions Citizen of the Year. Congratulations are also extended to those who so efficiently represented communities on Natal Day, Cherry Carnival, Acadian Festival, the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival, Good Times Day, Scallop Day and Westport Old Times Day.

As usual the many organizations in Digby came forth with their donations and leadership in providing for youth and age. Possibly the most extensive in 1975 was the construction under the Digby Kiwanis Club leadership of the Digby Swimming Pool.

Truly Digby Town Fathers had their problems and their disappointments but hopefully 1976 will see better days for our municipal government heads and happier days for citizens of the town. No community can be at its best under frustration condition.

And so we enter into 1976 by urging you to seize the opportunities which the year presents both personally and on each government level. Quoting from the Royal Bank of Canada newsletter of September 1975, "The world is well stocked with people who enjoy knocking things down, but changing one small thing for the better is worth more in satisfaction of achievement than proving a thousand things faulty". Further quoting, "To make the best use of opportunities requires several qualities: alertness to see, quick comprehension, initiative, patience and industry. Vigilance in watching for opportunity, tact and courage in seizing upon opportunity, force and persistence in crowding opportunity to its utmost of possible achievement these qualities promise successful living."

The best to all in 1976.

OUR ATTITUDES

Do you remember when "money is the root of all evil" was heard as an expression of reprimand in the combined circumstances of evil and wealth. The expression was wrong. Money in itself is not evil. Far from it. It is our love of money, our attitude towards it, which makes evil in connection with money. The love of money by the not-so-rich as well as by the rich has its equal evils. Unemployment Insurance is good in itself. It is only its misuse that is wrong.

Last week we wrote on the violence on T.V. and its effect on our young children. No one will deny the fact of this effect but a theory advanced indicates that it is not the act of violence itself which is so wrong as the enjoyment of watching T.V. violence which is wrong. Watching violence becomes a means of participating in an act of violence. The theory was expanded to the thought that violence and crime on T.V. will continue as long as this type of program has following. So long as people "enjoy" watching it, it is worthwhile for advertisers to sponsor such programs.

Enjoyment is contagious and so canned applause and canned laughter are used to have actual viewers join in and support the violence and crime and possibly time wasting trivia on some of the T.V. programs. "Unchurched Editorials" suggests that parents and concerned citizens can do much to change this violence and unsuitable programs in expressing their disgust and horror by refusing to purchase products manufactured or sold by its sponsors.

Our attitudes as parents and adults towards programs and ways of life mean much. Quoting from Dr. David Loye of the University of California and found in the Canadian H and S and P.T. Federation.

"Violent television shows tend to breed aggression, while family-type programs, with moral-intellectual premises, tend to bring more moderate behaviour."

This thought should influence our attitude

Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:

All who have bought or sold property in Digby during the last thirty months are aware of the property transfer tax, passed by the province in 1968 and adopted in Digby by your town fathers of 1973. - Mayor Smith and Councillors Robertson, Ellis, Hattie, Dillon, Winchester and Kinney.

No deed may be recorded unless it bears a certificate signed by the clerk, stating that the tax has been paid in full, or stating that no tax is payable. Further, the buyer must file with the town clerk, the names of the parties, the location of the property, THE SALE PRICE OF THE PROPERTY, with full details of the consideration, including the amount of any lien or encumbrance subject to which the transfer was made. The minimal revenue from this tax, based on 1/2 or 1 per cent of the sale price, in the

A story in this issue tells of the reaction of Tom Wilkins of Killarney, Manitoba, to his visit to Nova Scotia. The Nova Scotia Communications and Information Centre informs us that Mr. Wilkins was most impressed and thought Nova Scotia would make a fine place to retire. Of Digby he said "the home of the famous Digby scallops is all that has been claimed for it." About 45 Killarney New Horizons members visited Digby and Digby New Horizons returned the visit. Quite a fine relationship seems to have grown. And all to the good!

The Nova Scotia Highway Safety Council urges you not be a menace on the highway. Please permit other vehicles to pass if traffic builds up behind you. Your action will show your good driving manners, your respect for the law and plain good sense. It could also save your life.

Wonder it hadn't been thought of before. International Women's Year (1975) is just about over. The first reference we've seen to discrimination against Princess Anne's position was in Wednesday's daily newspaper. If it were not for the fact that Princess Anne happens to be a princess instead of a prince she would be second in line for the throne instead of fourth. Woman's Lib or not, we doubt if Princess Anne objects to the ancient law of succession which decrees the male heirs to be in line to the throne.

Maybe Acadian Lines Bus wanted to even the score. Going East recently we almost forgot to get off at our Upper Granville destination because a power failure had taken all the illumination from the houses for some distance and you just didn't know where you were. But, the bus drivers are "getting to know us" since they travel the Granville side of the river so that particular driver slowed down, turned on the lights and took for granted we wanted, as usual, to stop at the house where the sign says "The Chappells Population 5". However, what we really wanted to remark about was the exceptional courtesy shown in so many ways by that driver. Boxing Day saw us standing by the side of the road waiting for the West bound bus but with the somewhat lack of visibility, it took that driver some time to realize there was a passenger and stop the bus. Even if we had a flag we didn't have a spare hand for flag waving with a bag in each hand. This particular driver, too, deserves special commendation. The roads were terribly slippery and it was plain to be seen that the driver was taking every caution for the safety of his passengers. Accidents can happen to the best but you can ride in confidence when you know the driver caution protects your safety. We were so impressed with the cautious driving that we forgot to ask what color flag would be best for hailing down an Acadian Lines Bus.

From Maine we read in our correspondence "I enjoy the Courier. Am especially interested in the Island news and the Bird Woman's Report (Bird Haven) as I have a sanctuary."

Read in the news this week where somebody had an ice cream party. What fun to revive. Remember when ice cream parties were the order-of-the-day for young people. Remember the old crank freezer and each person taking turn at the grinding (sometimes hours). The resulting product was usually worth the effort and the getting together was most enjoyable.

vicinity of $5,000 a year in Digby, cannot possibly justify such an exercise in "snooperacy," (a term fittingly used by the eloquent John Diefenbaker!) - and we can only assume that it was designed and promoted primarily to provide easy information to assessment offices.

Digby County Council, which adopted the tax in 1973, decided, in it's wisdom, to abolish it on January 1, 1975. I had hoped for similar action by the town council, but such was not the case.

However, I have given notice of motion to abolish this discriminatory and controversial "invasion of privacy" at the first meeting of the new year on January 5.

Visitor Reaction

Nova Scotia would be a fine place to retire, believes Tom Wilkins of Killarney, Manitoba, after a summer visit, his opinion of Canada's "Ocean Playground" is very high.

"If we were looking for some place to retire other than where we are now, Nova Scotia would stand a good chance of being that place," Wilkins wrote in a recent issue of The Guide, Killarney's weekly newspaper.

"From the traveller's point of view there is just about everything one could wish for."

Upon his arrival from Newfoundland, Wilkins stayed at Sydney's Isle Royale Hotel.

"This fine old hostelry was one that had been kept up by its owners," he said.

After visiting Louisbourg National Park, the old French fortress in the process of complete restoration, Wilkins retraced his steps through Cape Breton and spent the night at Truro.

His next stop was the Annapolis Valley.

"The land of Evangeline and the Annapolis Valley have long been known for their scenic beauty, a fact which we can verify," Mr. Wilkins writes.

"Every little town or hamlet seemed to have something to offer the tourist whether it be a museum or a restored building."

He likes Annapolis Royal, "whose history goes back to 1605, and which claims many firsts, among which are: it had the first garden north of Florida; the first apple orchard in North America; the first Masonic Lodge in North America and the first grist mill in Canada."

He then drove to Digby, the home of the famous Digby scallops, is all that has been claimed for it."

Wilkins headed around the Bay of Fundy to Yarmouth, "a bustling seaport community loaded with visitors and tourists either arriving or departing." He sailed on the M.V. Bluenose.

Thank You

Happy New Year to all our friends.

1975 Review In Pictures

Testifying to progress in Digby, the Victoria Senior Citizens Apartments was opened in 1975.

Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau visited the Acadian Festival in 1975.

Not often do entire families have an opportunity to get together, especially when the families are large and widely scattered. Above is Mrs. Minnie Bishop, Weymouth (centre) who had this delightful experience of her family in the summer of 1975.

Mrs. Desmond Woods and Mrs. Victor Kynock took an active interest in Digby Minor Hockey.

In July Judge V. G. Cardozo was selected Digby Citizen of the Year 1975.

Mrs. Freda Balser, president of the Western Nova Scotia Multicultural Association, and her son, Eric, sing at a Multicultural Concert at Weymouth Falls. True to their heritage they sang in Dutch and English.

After 24 years in Digby Sister Rita O'Keefe retired from Commercial instruction at D.R.H.S. and moved to Vancouver. Many functions were held in her honor. She was in 1975 made the Digby Lions Citizen of the Year.

The memory of Digby's noted artist, Maud Lewis, was renewed in 1975 when exhibits of her works were held at Mount Allison University and at Mount St. Vincent.

Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau visited Digby in the summer of 1975. Shown here is the Prime Minister and Premier Gerald Regan with delegates of the Caribbean government officials at the Pines Hotel.

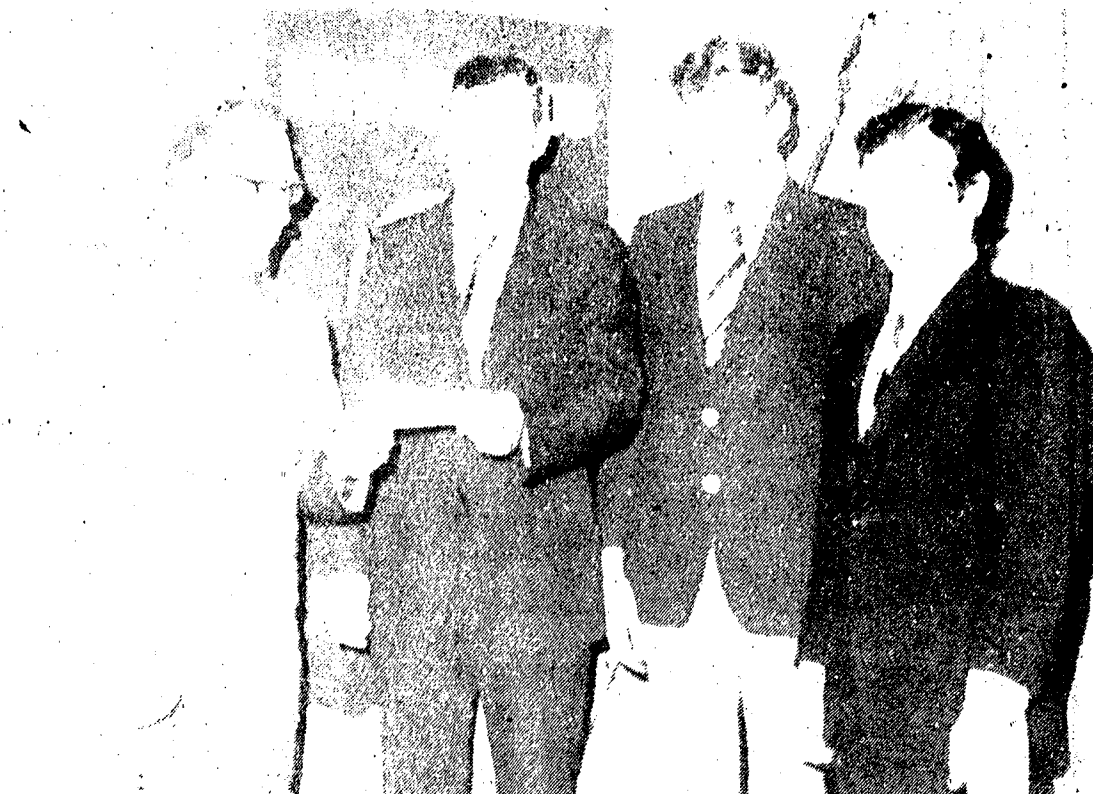

Retiring from the D.R.H.S. teaching staff was Miss Marie Dugas (right). In June and December she was honored by the D.R.H.S. Board.

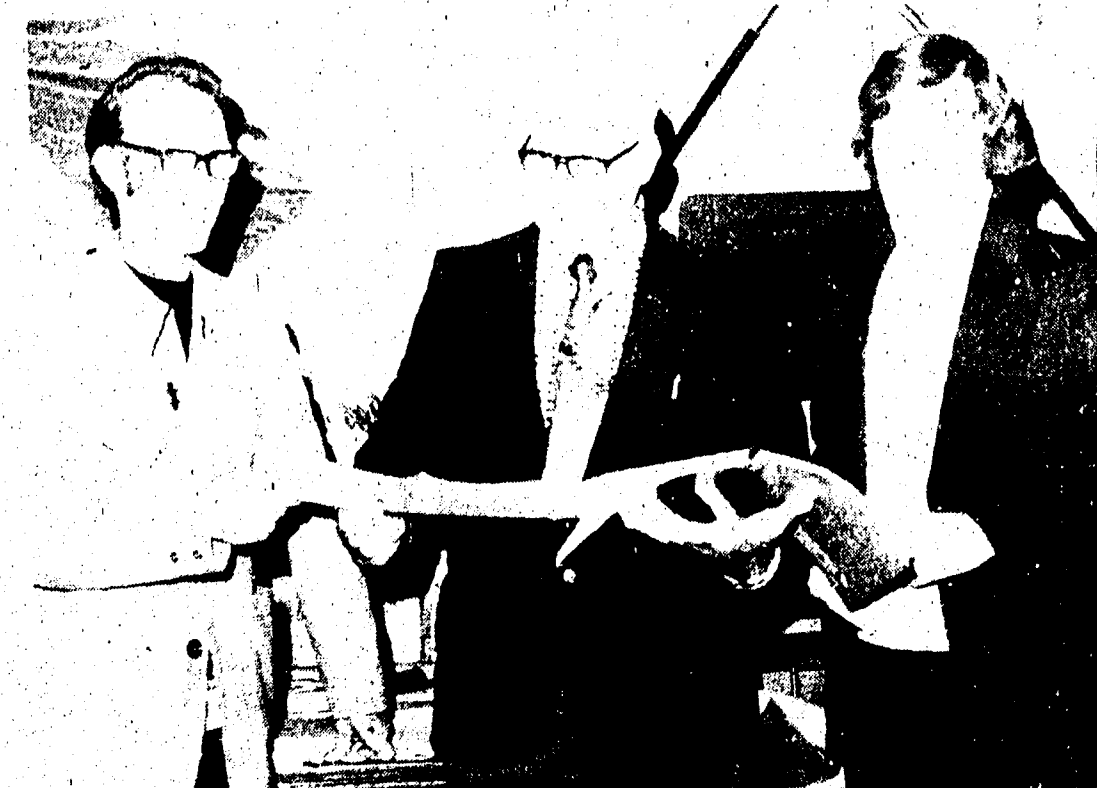

Sainte Anne's College gets a new swimming pool. Hon. Peter Nicholson and Hon. Faulkner turned the sod.

Garden Clubs of Western Nova Scotia met in Digby in 1975 when Dr. Milford Jackson, North Sydney, Centre, was guest speaker. Dr. Jackson is now past president of the Nova Scotia Association of Garden Clubs; left is Jack Harris Bear River, president of N.S.A.G.C. and right is Richard Morton, Provincial Horticulturalist for the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture and Marketing.

Digby Kiwanians gratefully received donations towards their Swimming Pool project. The pool was officially opened in 1975.

Barry Dixon explains to Robert Benson and Councillor Byard Marshall the purpose of the Bear River survey and seminar.

Thane Miller of Acaciaville receives the McBride Cup from Judge J. R. Nichols, President of the Digby Branch of the Navy League of Canada. The award was presented in May '75 to the best first year cadet by Digby Branch of the Navy League of Canada.

Education is more than school book learning. The Net and Gear School held in Digby in 1975 provided useful knowledge in the fishing industry.

IN MEMORIAM

ROBICHEAU - In sad and loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, William Robicheau, who passed away December 30, 1970.

The blow was great, the shock severe,
We little thought the end was near,
And only those who have lost can tell
The pain of parting without farewell.

More each day we miss you, father,
Friends may think the wound is healed,
But they little know the sorrow
That led within our hearts concealed.

Sadly missed and lovingly remembered by daughter Alma, son-in-law Chippy, and grandchildren, Bernice (Pookie), Shirley, Rosalind, Karen and Gary

So He closed her weary eyelids
And whispered peace be thine.

MELANSON, ANNABELLE (BELLE)

In loving memory of my dear Mother who passed away January 6, 1975. One year has passed Since that sad day,
You closed your eyes
And slipped away.
Not from our memory
Only our view
For those who loved
Still think of you.
Ever remembered, daughter Mae.

MERRITT - In loving memory of a dear father and grandfather, Kenneth L. Merritt, who passed away on December 25, 1966.

Beyond a smile there lies a tear
For a father who we loved so dear
Our hearts still ache as we whisper low
God bless you Dad, we still miss you so.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by son Ellery, daughter-in-law Pat and family.

ORDE - In loving memory of our dear sister, Beatrice Orde, who passed away January 5, 1973.

Sweet are the memories that never fade

Of one we loved but could not save

Always so good, unselfish and kind

What a beautiful memory she left behind

At the close of each day we think of you often

God bless you, dear sister, you are never forgotten.

Lovingly remembered and sadly missed by her sister Ivy, and brothers Harry and Bennie.

Leasing Becoming More Popular

The General Manager of the Nova Scotia Liquor Commission, D.W. Pulsifer, has said that approximately 50 per cent of the retail liquor stores in the province are operated on a leased arrangement.

"The leasing of a building instead of owning it is not something new to the Commission but is a practice that has been accepted as Commission policy for many years," he said.

Mr. Pulsifer said that over the past five years the Liquor Commission has had an active program of upgrading liquor stores throughout the province with the objective of providing modern, self-service facilities. In each case where a new or upgraded store is to be provided, the Commission conducts extensive studies related to building cost factors including the cost of land for the structure and parking, as well as capital costs.

"Our policy is to compare such figures with the costs for leasing in that particular area and base our decision on this comparison," he said.

Mr. Pulsifer said that in recent years, with land and building costs constantly rising, the Commission had found that in most cases it was much better off leasing rather than building.

The Commission spokesman cited two examples to illustrate how costs have risen over the past few years. He said that the Oxford store had been built in 1966 at a total cost, including land and building, of approximately $93,000, providing 3526 square feet of floor space.

The Commission opened a new store in Amherst providing 6000 square feet of floor space but the total project cost had risen to $285,000.

"While it is true that the Amherst store is larger than Oxford," said Mr. Pulsifer, "it should also be noted that the total costs for construction had increased tremendously during that four year period from 1966 to 1970. Escalation of both land and building costs have been even more dramatic during the past five years," he added.

Mr. Pulsifer said that the lease arrangement entered into for the new Springhill store is in keeping with Commission policy. He said that all factors were studied and considered and the Commission was satisfied that it would be better off leasing the facilities which will provide 7200 square feet of floor space, along with ample off-street parking.

"It has been our experience," said Mr. Pulsifer, "that lease arrangements, especially during this period of high building costs, make good business sense. We have set specific standards for our stores throughout the province and to meet that standard in Springhill we were far better off leasing premises."

"Mr. Red Cross" Retires

Charles L. Ilsley, who has been the Commissioner of the Nova Scotia Division of the Canadian Red Cross Society, for thirty years, recently announced his retirement. Mr. Ilsley is well known in Digby where his Red Cross counselling frequently brought him in contact with Digby people.

Mr. Ilsley accepted the appointment of Commissioner in 1945 and in the past thirty years has guided the development of the services of the Nova Scotia Division of the Canadian Red Cross to what it is today.

Mr. Ilsley became the Commissioner of the Division at the time when

Red Cross was in a sink or swim situation. It was the feeling of many people that Red Cross was a wartime organization and that the end of the war meant the end of Red Cross. There was a good basis for this reasoning because Red Cross was most active in World War I and almost ceased to exist in the period between the two wars and had risen to heights of great activity from 1939-45. The end of the war meant the end of many relief programmes and activities, but it did not mean the end of the Red Cross. It was to begin a new growth under the direction of Charles Ilsley which would continue for thirty years.

Since 1945, many programmes have been developed, such as Homemaker Service, Water Safety and Blood Donor, to mention only a few. Mr. Ilsley, in his term as Commissioner has seen a great jump in the number of volunteer workers active in the Society and the number of Red Cross staff people has increased twenty times.

C. L. Ilsley was born in Somerset, Kings County and after graduation from the Normal College and Acadia University, taught for several years. Before accepting the Red Cross position he was in the Armed Forces as an Education Officer.

Mr. Ilsley has many fond memories of his doings as Commissioner of Red Cross in Nova Scotia. They can range from numerous disaster relief operations to the daily administrative duties of the Society which means so much to him. During his time with Red Cross in Nova Scotia, he also found time for many outside activities and was once President of the Halifax North West Rotary Club, an organization to which he donated much time and talent.

Charlie Ilsley won't be bored in retirement, he knows too many people and has several hobbies. There are also fond memories of the days as Commissioner of the Nova Scotia Division of the Canadian Red Cross - memories that only "Mr. Red Cross" can have.

Baggage Needs An ID Tag Beginning January 1st

If you're planning to travel by plane in the near future, you'd better ensure that all of your checked baggage is properly identified. Effective January 1st in Canada (and right now for U.S. and transborder flights) all checked baggage requires an exterior baggage identification tag.

Baggage tags are available free of charge from Eastern Provincial Airways ticket counters and from all airline companies. The airlines recommend that you fasten an identification tag containing your name and permanent address to each piece of luggage. You should also have your name, address and telephone number on a sticker inside each case.

The move by the airlines towards uniform regulations on baggage identification is meant to cut-down on "lost" bags. Clear and reliable identification will allow the airlines to trace mis-directed luggage faster and will also reduce the incidence of baggage "look-alikes" on airport carousels. All too frequently passengers pick-up someone else's luggage when a baggage tag provides some sure identification.

When you fasten on the new identification tag, why not tear off old destination tags so your bag won't be routed to a previously visited city. Status seekers, who collect tags on their globe-trotting expeditions, should keep the tags elsewhere than on their bags.

With Christmas and New Year's upon us, air travellers shouldn't gift-wrap presents they intend to take in the cabin as carry-on baggage. If there's no x-ray machine at the airport security gate - or if it's broken - those carefully wrapped presents will just have to be unwrapped for a visual inspection. Either leave the gift wrapping unfastened at one end for quick and easy access to the Security Officer, or better yet, place the presents in your checked baggage.

Safety Messages

The hazards of winter driving are here and the Nova Scotia Highway Safety Council warns all motorists to be doubly alert to increased accident situations.

Icy streets, particularly at intersections, reduce your stopping distance. Slow down sooner and maintain that safe following distance. Don't ride the bumper of the vehicle ahead. Watch out for pedestrians. Be mindful of approaching bridges and overpasses. Their driving surfaces may be covered with frost while surrounding road surfaces are dry.

Remember - if you drive so as to prevent accidents in spite of the incorrect actions of others and adverse conditions, you will be practising Defensive Driving.

That is what it's all about, says the Nova Scotia Highway Safety Council.

The Nova Scotia Highway Safety Council urges all drivers to turn on their low beam headlights when driving at dusk or during inclement weather. Parking lights are for use when parked and not while driving. By turning on your low beams you are obeying the law and protecting yourself. It doesn't cost you a cent.

Officers Elected At Christmas Meeting

"A Christmas Meditation and the hymn 'Joy to the World'" opened the Christmas W. M. S. meeting of Freeport Baptist Church, December 2, 1975. The President, Miss. Eleanor Thurber, presided.

The devotional was prepared by Mrs. Avery Finigan and Mrs. Harold Crocker. Under their direction a pantomime "The Treasures of Christmas;" was also presented. It told the story of the cobbler who looked for his Saviour to come and as he did his daily work he shared his gifts of shoes, a loaf of bread with an old man who passed by and an old crane and a young child was returned to the arms of her mother. Still thinking his Lord had not come he had willingly shared his gifts thus illustrating the scripture treasure "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto me."

At the end of the pantomime, Scriptural passages were given to several W. M. S. members to read. A prayer of thanks was given by Mrs. Charles Young. Mrs. W. Ideson closed with prayer. Those taking part in the devotional besides Mrs. Crocker and Mrs. Finigan were Mrs. Allison Morehouse, Mrs. Luella Finigan, Mrs. Theodore Teed and Miss Angela Thruher.

The nominating committee submitted their list of new officers for 1976 - President, Mrs. Alida Tibert; 1st Vice-President, Mrs. Ernesting Hewitt, 2nd Vice-President, Mrs. Lillian Haines; Treasurer, Mrs. Elsie Young; Secretary, Mrs. Eleanor Teed; Musician, Mrs. Mary Finigan; Assistant Musician, Mrs. Ruth Ideson and Baby Band President, Mrs. Christena Cann. Roll Call showed 14 members present and at the supper hour, eight guests arrived. At the close of the meeting, all sat down to a table gaily decorated for the Holiday Season and once again enjoyed the fellowship of old friends.

The president was presented with a bone china cup and saucer by Mrs. Lillian Haines on behalf of the Society. Miss Thruher thanked the group for the gift as well as for their support throughout the year.

Along with these, the Federation will press for a home nursing program for Seniors, and some form of assistance with home repairs and heavy maintenance.

The Federation, representative of all areas of Nova Scotia will also call for free prescription drugs for a spouse who is under the age of 65, since in many cases it is this family member who retires expensive prescription drugs which can quickly eat into limited, or fixed incomes. Fred Wildsmith of Port Hawkesbury, Federation President chaired the meeting, and representatives of the Continuing Education Program, Department of Education assisted in a supporting role.

The Nova Scotia Federation of Senior Citizens and Pensioners is attempting to bring all Senior Citizens groups into the organization, so that more persons will provide a strong involvement that will add both vitality and power to the Federation. Assessment Up 300 Percent

SNOWMOBILERS & TRAVEL TRAILER ASSESSMENT ABOLISHED FOR 1976

The reassessment of all real estate properties in the Municipality of Digby, which was undertaken in 1975, has now been completed, and the 1976 Assessment Roll filed with the Clerk. The taxable assessment shows a 300 percent increase over the previous total assessment for 1975.

Figures released by Philip Dondale, MSIA, Director of Assessment for the Annapolis-Digby Assessment Region, show a total assessment of $86,572,365 for the current year, an increase of $58,420,220 over the 1975 total assessment which was $28,152,145.

Based on the 1975 tax rate of $3.00 per $100 of assessment, the extra $58,420,220 in property values would have resulted in a tax rate of approximately $1.00 compared to last year's rate of $3.00. However, no projection is yet available for the 1976 rate as budgets for the municipality are not yet completed. It is expected, however, that due to increases in costs for the municipality, the rate will be somewhere between $1.00 and $1.25.

A breakdown of figures shows increases in real property and personal property of $53,003,005 and $1,438,255 respectively. Occupancy assessments rose $4,735,615 and exemptions to eligible persons totaled $1,615,535, up $747,655 from 1975.

In accordance with an Act to Amend Chapter 14 of the Revised Statutes, 1967, of the Assessment Act, passed on December 13, 1975, the assessment of snowmobiles and travel trailers has been abolished.

Reassessment programs are carried out every five to six years. During 1975, revisions have been completed in the Municipality of Digby and the Town of Middleton. The work has been done by the staff of the Annapolis-Digby Assessment Region, based at Annapolis Royal. In the continuing process of assessment, plans are already underway for the revision of the Municipality of Annapolis County during 1976.

Assessment notices for the Municipality of Digby were mailed on December 31, 1975. Ratepayers who require more information on their new assessment valuations can contact one of the Regional assessors at their office in the Court House, Digby, Monday through Friday, from 10:00 to 12:00 a.m. and 2:00 to 4:00 p.m., until January 21, 1976.

The new assessments should be reviewed by taxpayers in comparison with other similar properties. The reassessment of 300 percent does not mean that the dollar payout per property will increase by 300 percent. It is anticipated that there will be little or no increase in most residential properties, while taxes on bulk land may increase somewhat.

Construction Permits Granted

Permits were granted from May to December 1975, for new construction in the Town of Digby amounting to $467,800, according to the report submitted by Carl Niemeyer, building inspector for the town. There were 29 building applications presented to the inspector, 11 new construction; eight alterations, three repairs, four demolitions, one mobile home and two refusals. There were no applications in the month of December. The total amount for construction, renovations and repairs came to $507,100 which realized $326 in permit fees. Mr. Niemeyer reminded the councillors that there is no by-law referring to mobile homes in the Town and the Town has no demolition permit fees.

Mr. Niemeyer also reported that he had checked into the wiring at the Digby Town Hall, as requested and found much to be the original wiring and the system obsolete. There has been no provision for added service. If the Town Hall remains then it is necessary to rewire, if the Town Hall is to be moved then it would be not feasible to rewire for demolition wiring is of little value.

Mr. Niemeyer said the electrical entrance is on the first floor and the meter and fuses are on floor two. Overfusing causes fire problems for if the fuse can't blow the heat builds up until hot enough to burn. Insurance collection then becomes a problem.

By regular motion the Council requested the Public Properties and Tender committee to call tenders for re-wiring after estimating the number of outlets required.

The report of the Town Clerk, Glen Pitman, revealed the allotment for Digby financing of the Western Nova Scotia Regional Library is $8,412 an increase of $1465 over 1975 with the Town's total share being $4290 after grants provided provincially.

Mr. Pitman reported that a meeting regarding the control of the Dutch Elm Disease is called for January 27.

The report of Webster Dunn, parking meter reader issued 18 tickets in December, one ticket was cancelled and 44 collected. Fines amounted to $430.55.

Auditors for the Town for 1976 were appointed at Monday night's meeting. H.R. Doane Ltd. was re-appointed with one nay vote by Councillor Chipman who felt the appointment should have been left to make when

A barn located on Warwick Street, adjacent to an apartment building owned by Bill Ross, went up in flames on Monday. Mr. Ross had some uninsured building materials in the building at the time. Deputy Fire Chief Joe Doucet reported the building was too far gone to be saved when the department equipment arrived. Probable cause as determined by the RCMP, - kids sneaking a smoke.

Seminar On Health Services Tax

Hubert LeBlanc, President, Clare Co-operative Shipping Limited, announced today that a PROVINCIAL HEALTH SERVICES TAX SEMINAR for Digby County farmers will be held at the Royal Canadian Legion Hall in Weymouth on Thursday, January 22nd. The seminar will begin at 8:00 p.m. and Mr. Eric Lavers, Supervisor, Interpretation and Rulings, and Mr. R.G. Skinner, Interpretation and Rulings Officer, from the Provincial Tax Commission, Halifax, N.S. will be the speakers for the evening.

The Health Services Tax has been a topic discussed many times by farmers and at farm meetings, recently during a meeting of the Clare Co-operative Shipping Limited it was felt that a meeting with the Provincial Tax Commission would be a help to iron out some of the problems and questions that relate to tax payment on purchases made by farmers.

There has been a great deal of confusion in some areas as to what farm equipment, building, supplies, etc. are exempt from hospital tax. Also, questions arise as to the registration of farmers under the new tax exemption card system. Such questions as to who is a bonafide farmer and will the returns from his woodlot be included as income, etc. these are just a few of the many questions asked by county farmers.

There will be ample time for farmers to talk with either of the representatives at the meeting and during the meeting farmers will have a chance to ask any questions as to whether certain items are eligible or not.

The meeting is being sponsored by the Digby County Federation of Agriculture and the Clare Co-operative Shipping Limited and is OPEN TO ALL FARMERS in the county or neighboring counties, which include, hog producers, mink ranchers, beef producers, poultrymen, small fruit and vegetable producers and any other people engaged in any type of farming business.

"I would like to invite any commercial businesses, farm equipment dealers, etc. who are selling items to farmers that they are most welcome to attend this seminar on January 22nd," Mr. LeBlanc said.

Ratepayers Vote Tonight

Digby mayor and town councillors are looking forward to a much larger turnout tonight for a ratepayers meeting when the proposition of completing Digby's sewage system will be placed before them for voting. A ratepayers meeting on December 4th for the same purpose saw only 78 votes cast with a possible 800 eligible voters in the town. This low percentage of ratepayers making use of their right to vote and an apparent lack of interest in town affairs was a great disappointment to those responsible for the meeting, irrespective of which course the vote took. Hopes are high that a much greater number will be present at the meeting tonight as the ratepayers have had an opportunity to become better informed or are wanting to know more about the question of Digby's sewage proposal.

The proposal is to complete phase three of the system and the ratepayers will be asked to approve a resolution to borrow up to the sum of $1,840,000 for the purpose. Unlike the December meeting, tonight's meeting will have a second proposition should the first fail to bring a positive vote. This resolution will ask for approval to borrow up to $1,147,000. The first figure includes installation of a treatment plant while the second figure excludes a treatment plant. Another difference for consideration is that the government has seen fit to add another $50,000 to complete the town's sewage system with stipulation that it include the treatment plant. This new arrangement has been made since the December meeting.

Digby Mink Shown In Truro

A number of Digby County mink producers participated in the Nova Scotia Mink Producers' Association's mink show which opened in Truro on Tuesday.

Donald Mullen of Havelock, Digby County, president of the Association, said Digby County producers pelted 85 per cent of the province's total during 1975. Mr. Mullen made his statements at the Association's two-day mink show which began at the Agricultural College on Tuesday.

Last year's mink production was worth $2 million. More than 100,000 mink were pelted. Aside from Digby County, mink is also raised in Yarmouth, Cape Breton, Hants and Colchester Counties.

About 15,000 mink are housed at the Brookside Fur Farm, owned by Mr. Mullen. The mink pelts are marketed each December at a public auction at the Hudson's Bay Company Fur Building, Montreal. Buyers from all over the world, including the most important German and Italian representatives, attend the auction where nearly 90 per cent of the Canadian production is sold, he said.

The top price paid at the 1975 auction was $45 for males and $38 for female dark mink owned by Mr. Mullen.

The females advanced more in percentage price this past year because of fashion's demand for smooth, finer coats, he said. Please Turn To Page 2

Town Assessment Decreases

LAND TRANSFER TAX REMAINS

The new assessment in the Town of Digby is set at $16,501,560 a decrease of $250,250 from the 1975 assessment of $16,768,810. In order to raise the same amount of revenue as in 1975 with the assessment decrease the taxation rate would have to increase by five cents. The decrease was accounted for by exemptions to Tideview Terrace, the Legion and Digby Recreation. Snowmobiles taxation has also been abolished as of provincial regulations.

This information was given in the report presented on Monday evening by Glen Pitman, Town Clerk, at the regular meeting of the Council presided over by His Worship Mayor Charles Haliburton.

Digby will continue with a land transfer tax, it was decided on Monday evening. Councillor Eileen Chipman had previously given notice of motion but the motion to abolish land transfer tax in the Town of Digby in 1976 died because of the lack of a seconder. Mrs. Chipman felt the revenue from such a tax was small and that form of taxation was not used in any other area in Annapolis and Digby. With her motion defeated for want of a seconder, Councillor Chipman remarked that this shows little concern for the taxpayer and that much tax could be made up by less waste in the Town Hall. Land transfer tax collected in Digby in 1974 was $7000 and in 1975 it was $6,500.

After the welcome by the Mayor the meeting was open to those who wished to address Council. Randy Cumming took advantage and placed one grievance when given permission to speak. He objected to the raise in frontage for installing sewers in town from two dollars to five dollars as decided at the recent special Town Council meeting. He hopes, he said, to have the sewer on First Avenue where he lives but he felt the price should have been raised for Phase one and phase two of the system or not raised to such an extent.

The Mayor explained the situation to Mr. Cumming in that the present frontage tax is not now realistic and that the rate had not kept pace with the costs as they arose.

Bills for December to the amount of $27,018.76 were passed for payment.

Pines Hotel Manager Completes Stay In Digby

After ten years serving as manager of the Pines Hotel in Digby, Roy Farhan, early this Spring will sever his managership at the hotel here and take up other duties in Halifax. Prior to his arrival in Digby at the Pines in 1966, Mr. Farhan had served Canadian National Hotels in Halifax, Newfoundland, Charlottetown, Jasper Park and Ottawa.

During the ten years in which Mr. Farhan managed the Pines, the hotel facilities came under a continual upgrading and climbed from the bottom to the top in the American Auto Listing Priorities. The hotel was highly regarded throughout the years in which Mr. Farhan was manager. One of the latest additions under his jurisdiction was the construction in 1975 of a Recreation Centre which proved most helpful in providing an enjoyable stay for the hotel guests.

While in Digby, Mr. Farhan and Mrs. Farhan, who spent the summers here, made many local friends and participated in a number of Digby functions. Mr. and Mrs. Farhan have a daughter, Cheryl, Mrs. Don Dinn and a grandson Michael. Mr. and Mrs. Dinn and Michael reside in Bedford.

Ship Loads 6000 Barrels

The Polish motorship "Piast" arrived in Digby last Friday to load empty barrels, and some filled with salt, for shipment to Poland. The "Piast," registered in Poland, arrived in port last Friday and was scheduled to leave this week.

The motor-ship Piast, a Polish ship here from Boston was at Digby wharf this week where she took on a cargo of 6000 barrels.

The barrels in question are some of those belonging to the Canpol plant (Canada-Poland) which have been stored on the Cannon Bank and have caused much concern of nearby residents because of their detracting from the beauty of scenery.

According to information given at Digby Town Council on Monday evening there are 1500 barrels, many filled with salt, which will be left after the Piast sails with her cargo and these are reported to be no longer of use to Canpol. Complicating matters still further, the Government of Poland, it is understood owes the Town of Digby taxes on the barrels. Canpol and Comeau Sea Foods which has interest in the business, according to reports, have paid their taxes to the town. Only the Polish government seems to be backwards in this regard.

BUDD - In loving memory of our parents, Mr. and Mrs. E.K. Budd of Digby Neck, Nova Scotia, who passed away January 4, 1955 and November 30, 1955.

Treasured memories, keep you near
Time unfolds another year;
No need for words, except to say
Still loved and missed in every way.
Always remembered and loved by six sons and four daughters. 22:1ip

IN MEMORIAM

FARNSWORTH - In loving memory of our dear son and brother Donald McCleave whose life suddenly ended on January 10, 1937, aged 3. Wonderful memories of one so dear.

No wonder our hearts were broken.
It was something we could not understand.

Our hearts still ache with sadness,
Our secret tears still flow,
What it meant to lose you, dear,

No one will ever know.
The sunshine of your smile,
Are the things we still remember

And will treasure all the while.
But love and memories never die,
We loved him too dearly to forget.

Though we must travel to the end of life's journey
It will be a wonderful day
When we get to God's beautiful garden
To say "Hello Donald."

Always remembered with love Mother and Dad and Family.

FORD - In loving memory of a dear wife and mother who passed away January 9 1964.

The depth of sorrow we cannot tell
Of the loss of one we loved so well,
And while she sleeps a peaceful sleep,
Her memory we shall always keep.
Always remembered by husband Stephen and family. 22:1ip

Canada And Soviets Agree On Fisheries Matters

The Secretary of State for External Affairs, the Honourable Allan J. MacEachen, today announced the conclusion of an agreement between Canada and the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics on fisheries matters.

The agreement was negotiated at meetings held in Ottawa from August 25 to 27, 1975, and in Montreal from September 23 to 26, 1975. The Canadian delegation was led by Mr. L.H.J. Legault, Director General, International Directorate, Fisheries and Marine Service, Department of the Environment. The Soviet Delegation was chaired by Mr. A.A. Volov, Deputy Chief of External Relations Department, Ministry of Fisheries.

The agreement, signed today by the Secretary of State for External Affairs and His Excellency A.N. Yakovlev, the Soviet Ambassador to Canada, comes into force at once. It provides for the establishment of a Canada-USSR Joint Fisheries Consultative Commission and the appointment of a Soviet fisheries official in Halifax. Among the functions assigned to the commission will be the facilitation of coordination of statistical and scientific information, the improvement of bilateral cooperation under the scheme of Joint International Enforcement of the International Commission for the Northwest Atlantic Fisheries (ICNAF), a regular exchange of information with regard to areas of concentration of fishing operations of both countries, and the promotion of other cooperative measures for the purpose of preventing damage to fishing gear and facilitating the settlement of any claims arising from such damage.

The commission will consist of four members, two appointed by the Soviet Union, and two appointed by the Government of Canada.

Arrangements are now being worked out in connection with the appointment of the fishery official of the USSR who will reside in Halifax. Among the functions which he will carry out will be the regular exchange of statistical and other information with regard to fishing operations conducted in the Northwest Atlantic off Canada's coast and the comparison of such information with estimated catch data by species, sub-areas and statistical areas, as well as the regular provision of data concerning the number of Soviet vessels operating within the area.

Reflecting To 1946

It was this week thirty years ago when Dan and Jim Marvin of Montreal, and formerly of Bear River, nephews of Peter MacGregor, made a flight across the North Atlantic together. Dan, a Captain Navigator for the government of Iceland, and Jim, Flt. Sgt. D.F.C., who was released by the R.C.A.F., took off from Dorval Airport in a Catalina for Reykjavik, Iceland. A number of amphibians had been purchased by the Icelandic government to be fitted for passenger service between Iceland, Norway and Sweden.

Brigadier Edward C. Plow C.B.E., D.S.O., (later Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia) came back to Canada from overseas to take up a new military appointment in 1946. He visited with his wife, the former Mary Nichols Lynch and her mother in Halifax over the Christmas holidays. Battery Commander with the R.C.H.A. when he went overseas prior to this unit, Brig. Plow received his previous rank in April 1942, as Commander Corps R.A. at headquarters of the 1st Canadian Corps, as artillery advisor to General H.D.G. Crerar.

Andrew Merkel a writer and tourist promoter, was advocating a tourist centre in connection with the Port Royal Habitation. He felt that the opportunity to purchase potteryware made from native clay and of native design and other Nova Scotia handicrafts would attract tourists. The Habitation, he regarded as one of the most impressive memorials in North America, but comparatively isolated (1946). He advocated regular motor launch sailings to the site from Digby.

In the Weymouth news of 1946 we see where Mr. and Mrs. John Shaw, Wendy and Michael left to reside in Victoria, B.C. Mr. Shaw was a member of the R.C.N. Mrs. Shaw and her sister, Mrs. S. T. Richards, were entertained at the home of Mrs. E. E. Gates, Weymouth Mills, and by St. Peter's Guild.

Concert At Training Centre

On Wednesday afternoon, December 17th at 2 p.m. the Children's Training Centre held its annual Christmas Party and concert which, as usual proved to be a happy occasion. Parents and friends came to all the children perform and to have a tea in the main dining room after the concert was over.

The whole of the Centre was decorated, both inside and out. The dining room was a delight to see. Many beautiful cakes, some made by the Kitchen staff of the Centre and others a donation from Save Easy Bakery.

The concert was delightful. The children taking part were dressed in clown suits of colors red, green and white. Although some of the star performers of the past year were not present due to being transferred elsewhere, the children who took part did well. There were recitations, songs, rhythm bands.

To the surprise of all Frosty the Snowman,

Principal of Clark Rutherford school and Santa the maintenance man of the school, gave a short entertainment at the end of the concert. Frosty did a tap dance and Santa provided the music on his guitar.

The Santa from the Centre arrived after the concert and gave treats to all the children both from the Centre and visitors in the audience.

Once again all reports from parents and friends were most favorable and a hearty thank you to the staff was given from the audience.

UNDERTAKES PHASE THREE

Digby Town ratepayers voted 84 to 80, at a meeting held at the Digby Fire Hall on Thursday evening in favor of completing the sewage system to the end of phase three, the final phase. Phase one and phase two had previously been finished but change in location for out-fall, escalation of costs and other factors delayed the implementation of phase three.

The ratepayers meeting was presided over by His Worship Mayor Charles Haliburton and Town Clerk, Glen Pitman read the resolution to approve the borrowing of a sum not to exceed $1,840,000 for the purpose of constructing, altering, extending and improving public sewers. The vote approving the resolution was moved by Miss Heather Steeves and seconded by Robert Caswell. Mrs. Graham Saunders and Norman Wright were scrutineers. The voting time was set by motion for nine p.m.

Mayor Haliburton in addressing the audience mentioned the few changes made and additional information available since the ratepayers meeting defeated the same resolution by a vote of 42-36. Council had decided on a user charge similar to the water rate method, Mr. Haliburton said, and the frontage rate was increased from two dollars per foot to five dollars per foot. Mr. Haliburton also announced that the provincial government had seen fit to add $50,000 to the grants to be expected for the project. An arrangement to serve the Montague Row residents by installing the system at the rear of buildings had been worked out.

W. H. Horner of W. H. Horner Construction consultants explained to the audience where the various grants were derived from. Before embarking on the financial figures he gave a general outline of the sewer system evolution from the time sewage was disposed of by dumping into the nearest body of water.

Today, he said, sewage must be treated. You can have one or more treatment plants or one or more pumping stations. Here there will be six pumping stations, gravity flow is extensively used, and the treatment plant will be situated to avoid unnecessary pumping. The plant, he said, is made of concrete, open at top and oxygen from the air is transferred into it. There is not disturbing noise or odor, he remarked.

Basing the total estimated cost at $2,000,000. Mr. Horner said there were three grants from Central Mortgage and Housing Commission as follows, phase one and two, $9,000; estimated phase three, $173,000 and high cost grant $261,000. From the Department of Environment there were grants of 30,000; 269,000 and 100,000 dollars (special relocation of fall-out). From the Department of Municipal Affairs and Department of Fisheries $111,000; $50,000 and $40,000.

Total grants $1,284,000 leaving $716,000. Loans available from C. M. H. C. $562,000 leaving $154,000 for other financing. With other cost sharing, the figures worked out to a new annual amortization cost to the town of $40,000. Add to this estimated operation and maintenance costs of $15,000 and the total annual cost was figured at $55,000.

Should the resolution for $1,840,000 including treatment plant have failed to get a majority vote, a resolution containing a figure of $1,147,000 (not including the treatment plant) would have been placed before the ratepayers.

Several persons presented questions and made comments which were replied to by those responsible. Former Mayor Patrick Comeau briefly spoke on a phasing plan he had formulated before he resigned in 1975 as mayor of the town and which he had understood had been looked upon favourably by government departments.

Councillor Eileen Chipman, just before the vote was taken made her position clear as to why she would not support either of the resolutions planned for the evening. She also remarked that the Town Council meeting which decided to call Thursday night's ratepayers meeting had three absent members. (Those absent were Mrs. Chipman, Councillor Gordon Ellis and Councillor Guy VanTassell. Present were Mayor Haliburton, Deputy Mayor, Philip Robertson, Councillor Reginald Hazleton and Councillor William Reid.) To avoid any misunderstanding, Mayor Charles Haliburton advised the audience that notices had been sent to all the councillors for the special meeting referred to by Councillor Chipman.

Co-ordinator Reports

Rev. George Bell, co-ordinator for the Western Nova Multicultural Association reported on his year's activities for the organization when the regular January meeting was held at the New Horizons building on Warwick St., Digby on Tuesday.

Mr. Bell reported that a survey of the area designed to locate the people of different cultures was carried out during the summer. This survey was made possible by a Student Community Service Program with a grant from the Department of the Secretary of State. In the ten weeks of the program with four students employed this area became better acquainted with this Association and information about people of different cultures was gained by the Association. Also the well attended Inauguration occasion, held in Bridgetown October 2-1975, provided an opportunity for people of different cultures to meet and share in Multicultural Entertainment.

The Citizenship Court of Canada, held in Digby on June 4, was attended by the Co-ordinator who participated in the welcome extended to those who received their Citizenship Certificates.

A time of cultural sharing and entertainment was enjoyed in the Weymouth Falls Community Centre on November 20, 1975.

The Western Nova Multicultural Association was conceived back in September 1973 as an outcome of a conference and also through an Inter-faith Conference held during Brotherhood Week in 1975. Then followed a promise of a grant from the Department of Secretary of State.

In the General Meeting held February 28, 1975 the Constitution was adopted. With the Constitution the new title "Western Nova Multicultural Association" was adopted.

The Nova Scotia Multicultural Conference was hosted in Digby on May 3, 1975. The association presented a Multicultural Entertainment as the closing session of this conference. As a result of Task Force study and the action of the conference, the Multicultural Association of Nova Scotia was organized. Three delegates from the Western Nova Multicultural Association are members of M.A. N.S. and have had a share in its development.

The meeting on Tuesday evening was presided over by the president, Mrs. Frieda Balser. George Barton presented the treasurer's report and the budget for the coming year was adopted. The request for approval from the M.A.N.S., Executive that the Nova Scotia Folk Arts Council join M.A.N.S. and the membership of M.A.N.S. be increased by one delegate appointed by Nova Scotia Folk Arts Council. was passed by motion.

Fire Destroys House

A house in Gullivers Cove was destroyed by fire on Friday evening.

The blaze was fought by both the Digby Neck and Digby volunteer fire departments but nothing could be done to save the structure.

The Digby Neck department headed for the scene around 7:30 p.m. Friday evening. According to department member, John Jago, the flames were "all the way up-no way of saving any part of that building".

Business Management Seminar Held In Digby

A Business Management Seminar held at the Fundy Restaurant in Digby on Tuesday attracted 18 participants from the Digby business community.

The day-long seminar (from 9 a.m.-4:30 p.m.) was presented by the Federal Business Development Bank in co-operation with the Digby Board of Trade.

David H. Faloan, Management Services Officer with FBDB, was in charge of the seminar. He was happy with the turnout which he termed "average" as compared with seminars held in other parts of the province.

The program is best suited for a small working group. Those of 15-25 participants are preferable.

Mr. Faloan termed this seminar part of the Bank's continuing effort "to extend its services to smaller communities". The FBDB is a Federal Crown corporation, offering various services to the business community. This area's regional office is in Halifax. Approximately 500 seminars are presented by the Bank across Canada annually. Mr. Faloan is directly involved in about 20-25 of these (95 percent of these held in Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island).

The basic topics discussed at Tuesday's seminar included financial statements and forecasting for expansion. About 30 percent of the program time was spent on a case study. A part of this study saw the participants working in small groups to solve the case. Each group presented its solution and general discussion followed.

The meeting started off with an introduction to the program and an explanation on what FBDB is all about. A slide show followed on the elements of the balance sheet and the financial statement. These segments of the program, along with others, were all intricately prepared a forecast.

The program presented in Digby was one of a series of seminars to be held here within the coming year, according to Mr. Faloan.

That idea meets with Board of Trade President, Ernie Ryan's approval. Mr. Ryan said he, and a few others he had talked to were pleased with this seminar. "I thought it was a very good seminar...I thought before we had it - it would be a good thing," Mr. Ryan commented.

The Digby Home Furnishings owner is hopeful more seminars in this series will be held in Digby with possibly one being held before May.

Expand V.O.N. Board

Speakers Outline Drug Dependency Resources

The bulk of business discussed at last week's meeting of the Digby Local Committee on Drug Dependency was postponed in order to provide time for remarks by two guest speakers.

However, the group's secretary treasurer, Rev. George Bell, did take time to announce that a grant cheque of $900 had been received in mid-December from the Nova Scotia Commission on Drug Dependency for use by the local committee.

The two speakers for the evening were Ross Ramsey, co-ordinator of Human Resources with the Nova Scotia Commission on Drug Dependency and Co-ordinator of Local Committees in Nova Scotia and Joe Power, co-ordinator of Treatment and Rehabilitation with the Nova Scotia Commission on Drug Dependency.

Mr. Power served on the commission for four years and previously was a staff member of the Nova Scotia Hospital for Alcohol Treatment Services.

Alcohol Treatment Services in the province was Mr. Power's topic. He noted the beginning of such services came in 1963 and that great progress has been made since that time.

The five programs in alcohol treatment include detox-service short-term treatment (28 days), Half-Way House (three to nine months - patients must be

New Furnace In Library Building

A meeting was held at the home of Judge John R. Nichols on Wednesday afternoon, January 7th, when fifteen members of the Board of Trustees of the Admiral Digby Library and Historical Society discussed the purchase of a furnace for the Library Building. An emergency situation had occurred when the outworn furnace failed to provide enough heat and a pipe on the upper floor had burst, with considerable damage in the west fiction room below.

It was fortunately found that a new furnace could be installed the next day and the order for it was given during the meeting. A used furnace had been put in eight years ago, when the building was bought and renovated, and this was of no further service.

Other business was chiefly concerning means of payment for this expense. Recent inside redecoration of rooms for both Library and Museum use had exhausted any grant or surplus funds. A number of possible ideas were discussed, including an appeal to users by letter and fund-raising events. The need is immediate and urgent; early contributions to the Society would be of great assistance in meeting this extra expenditure along with general maintenance.

The meeting was adjourned until next regular date of a Board meeting, January 22nd, at 8 p.m. at the Library. Any further plans will be announced.

The Society has now been in existence for ten years and is progressing in plans to add Museum service to the Library service begun in 1966.

Regular Meeting Held

The regular scheduled meeting of the Digby Neck Volunteer Fire Department - January 9 - was cancelled because of fire at Gulliver's Cove. As the men were assembling in Sandy Cove the call came in that a house was burning. The men responded immediately and it was reported that they did a fine job with the equipment on hand. Digby Fire Department also assisted and were given a special "thank you" for their advice and counsel.

The postponed meeting took place on January 11 at

Clamming Out - Troutng Hopeful

Larry Amero, Plympton, is a clam digger who has earned a good living for years in this one-time profitable occupation. Larry does not intend going back to clamming this year. In an interview with The Digby Courier we have the reason for his decision that many beaches were closed and clams are becoming scarce.

Larry is also interested in other fishing. As a sports fisherman (his favorite sport) he ranks one of the best and brings home the prize winners. Above is Larry as he proudly had displayed the trout he caught on June 7, 1975. It weighed three and three-quarters pounds and was 28 inches long. Larry looks forward to the Spring of 1976.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Trask of Little River celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at home on Saturday, January 10. A number of visitors were welcomed and telegrams received to mark the occasion.

Mr. Trask is a retired fisherman. Mrs. Trask served as postmistress in Little River, retiring in 1968 because of illness. For many years Mrs. Trask was the Little River correspondent to The Digby Courier.

Friends and relatives were welcomed between the hours of 2-4 p.m. and 7:30-10 p.m. Mrs. Trask wore a corsage of yellow roses for the occasion; Mr. Trask's boutonniere was a yellow rose.

Several telegrams of congratulations were received. These came from Governor General Jules Léger, Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau, P. C. leadership hopeful Leonard Jones of Moncton, and Opposition Leader Robert Stanfield.

Out-of-town guests for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Russell Stonehouse of Digby, Mrs. Burton Ellis of Digby, Mrs. James Lewis and daughter, Mrs. Blaine Andrews of Digby, Mr. and Mrs. William Carter of Digby, and Mr. and Mrs. Brian Denton of Digby.

LOWER SPEED AND SEATBELT USE

Haven't heard much argument at all recently on either subject, reduction of speed limits on the highways nor on the compulsory use of seatbelts. Likely Highway Safety will be one of the discussions to come up during the winter session of the Legislature. So far there seems to be no unanimous opinion on their benefits of either one.

"Drive Slowly" used to be a highway safety slogan. We were drilled on the fact that the greater the speed, the greater the impact and the greater the resulting injuries and deaths. If this theory still holds good, why don't we try to save even one life by reducing speed limits. Saving costs and energy is a worthwhile reason for reducing speed but reducing highway speed limits for saving life and limb is still a higher consideration.

We agree that fastened seatbelts can save lives in case an accident does happen but non-use of seatbelts rarely, if ever, directly caused a highway accident. (We are not discounting the fact that seatbelt use might prevent driver tiredness and thus avoid an accident). Both reduced speed and use of seatbelts might save lives. Why should one be made compulsory and the other disregarded, so to speak.

WHAT CAN WE DO TO FIGHT INFLATION

The whole country seems to be up in arms about the speech of Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau in which he is supposed to have said or meant that the traditional free enterprise system which we have been accustomed to for so long, no longer works in our country. He seemed to give the impression that a new form of society should be established to meet the country's needs and combat inflation.

Yes, the whole country is up in arms about the Prime Minister's statements in one way or another. Some are up in arms defending the Prime Minister with the belief that he was misquoted or misunderstood. Some defend him on the grounds that the people needed a shaking up. Political opposition sees all kinds of dangers to our democracy in Trudeau's statements and what they might mean. Some feel that the only way to settle the issue is to call an election and have the people decide on price controls, their length of duration and what kind of a society Canadians want to live in. Still others are not making any accusations or any efforts in support of the Prime Minister's remarks for they are not sure what he meant. These awaited the time when the Prime Minister would come out clear and strong in what he really did mean. The fact that Mr. Trudeau has not done this, either by refusal or delay, is a great disappointment and they, too, are up in arms.

Few, if any of us from our own Premier and Lieutenant-Governor down are convinced that the free enterprise of this country cannot work even though it has suffered neglect at our own hands at times. Few, if any, would want to see lengthy or severe government controls. We like our freedom too well and we are entitled to it.

Freedom, however, is always accompanied by responsibility and on this score we are probably a little guilty. Life became too easy. We no longer reasoned as the Kennedy sentiments "not what can my country do for me but what can I do for my country". Sure, governments have been remiss in their financial responsibilities but the people also have been demanding without feeling obliged to contribute. Governments have succumbed to these demands not always because of need but sometimes for the assurance of votes.

It has been no secret that "even respectable" people have abused unemployment insurance, they have sought shorter hours of production yet want higher wages and fringe benefits when they should know that productivity more than any other factor spells economic success. These misdoings by less productivity and higher pay causes an increase in the consumer price and then there is inflation. What next? Just a vicious circle. We hope we have in some measure answered our title question "What can we do to fight inflation" and particularly as it applies to the younger generation new coming into the responsibility of running the country.

We admired the recent address of our Lieutenant Governor, The Honorable Clarence L. Gosse and his message to the young people. In it we saw every sincere desire to do and lead in what is best for Nova Scotia - no more, no less.

Prime Minister Pierre Elliott Trudeau might have been just as sincere when he uttered words which have caused so much commotion. How can we know unless he makes himself clear. It would greatly help in answering our question more fully "What can we do to fight inflation".

TRUTH IN ADVERTISING

The liberalization of alcoholic beverage consumption is coming back to haunt our Canadian society with a vengeance.

A number of years ago it was considered progressive to bring down the ages of majority for legal, voting and drinking purposes. The error of that sort of thinking (at least where drinking liquor is concerned) is becoming increasingly apparent. The rate of drinking, overall - but notably among teenagers - has climbed remarkably. The rate of traffic fatalities and alcoholism among youths is alarming. Alcohol consumption has become increasingly common also among teenagers below the legal drinking age of 18 years.

All these things were warned against when the drinking age was legally lowered, but governments (seeing the extra tax revenue available from liquor taxes) went ahead with the law change. After all, they said (and many of the population agreed), if one is old enough to fight for one's country, he is old enough to drink liquor.

The trouble is that many citizens are never old enough (or self-disciplined enough) to drink liquor sensibly. Now it turns out that police are finding higher liquor-related crime and accident rates, especially among the young people who seem unable to cope with the relaxed laws, and the resulting easy availability of booze.

There is a growing unease with the liquor problem. Premier Ed Schreyer and Tourism Minister Rene Toupin, for instance, have publicly said that liquor advertising should be prohibited. A good idea, because there is no doubt that glossy ads showing whisky and beautiful people makes readers associate the two as synonymous.

Why don't the distillers show whisky and a drunken man beating his common-law wife in a dirty apartment with the children cowering in a corner, or a greusome traffic accident with bodies and beer bottles scattered about the scene?

You know why. And yet such ads would show the other side of alcohol consumption. They would help put the two aspects of drinking into perspective. It would be fairer to those who are making a decision to drink or not. (PVP) Red River Valley Echo

Hodge Podge

Even Pierre Elliott Trudeau could be misunderstood, misread or misquoted. It could happen to anybody. We at The Digby Courier often get misread and not always because of our own failure to make it plain. Recently we were accused of giving one member of a board all the credit for achievement and the efforts of the complainant and the other associates on the Board were ignored. Undisturbed, slowly and carefully we looked up and read aloud the paragraph referred to. Lo, and behold, the complainant had to admit that the rest of the Board hadn't been discriminated against at all. The person referred to in the story was not mentioned as "the one" but as "one of those" who did so much. We do not mind listening to complaints about news and editorial matter brought to the editor. We said "editor". Then they can usually be straightened out to satisfaction.

The only use this editor has for a typewriter is to distinguish between the letter r and the letter n. If the word or doesn't make sense, try on and vice versa. There's somebody who cannot decipher our hieroglyphics.

What some people do not understand is that as assessment goes up the rate of taxation should come down. We say 'should'. That depends on budgeted expenditures and a few other things. This won't be known until the budget is drawn up. In Digby town the total assessment has decreased which could mean a raise in the rate of taxation. We'll wait to see.

— If you got a letter on Monday, January 12, telling you that if you are worried about fire this Christmas, watch that plastic tree. The letter was written we note, December 22, 1975 and mailed on December 29th. What we want to know is whether the Environment Canada letter refers to Christmas 1976 or not. We could save it until we need it. More clutter and more clutter.—

—They probably do not know it but more people are going to love your editor than ever before. First, we mention the firemen. Oh, we've always been kind to our firemen when it comes to publicity. That isn't the reason they should love us more. It is simply that should we ever need their firefighting services at 16 Birch (and we sure hope we don't) at least, we'll have a straight path cleared from where they can hose down flames if they have to. Next, we mention our insurance companies. Our relatives, too, might be glad we are attending to that third floor. While there were two good size bedrooms with beds, mattresses, sheets and pillow cases kept made up, it was difficult to navigate around the books, the boxes of papers, reports and what-not to locate the beds. The guest list had to be confined to the number, along the household, which could be accommodated in the four second floor bedrooms. Making a raid on a third floor, such as in an editor's house (we guess they are all alike) can have its misgivings and nostalgic moments. Suppose, just suppose, that the editor falls down on editorial writing because that never-ever-used material is no more packed in boxes on the third floor. By the way, we didn't throw out the Royal Bank of Canada Monthly Newsletters. They were most sensibly geared to everybody's intellectual level and we used them a lot. (We note they terminated in December 1975. More is the pity). Anything which couldn't demand immediate attention seemed to migrate to the third floor. If you couldn't find what you were looking for in the safety deposit box at the chartered bank you were pretty safe in looking in some sort of a deposit box (safe or not) on that obliging third floor. Papers, magazines with newspaper ideas for Christmas, Easter, seasonal events and review were carefully filed for the day they might be needed. There was material and copy of speeches from being president of the Nova Scotia Weekly Scotia Weekly (Community) Newspapers Association, such Boards as Digby Board of Trade and being on V.O.N. Boards, and different levels of church, school and other community organizations. Treasures, too, can find their way to boxes on third floors. Some bring a touch of nostalgia only and others are accompanied by a touch of pride also, such as the menu brought home from the State Dinner in Halifax for Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth II and the Duke of Edinburgh. The thought of such gracious persons generates pride. Not everything will leave the third floor, we fear, but we're sure of being loved by more and more.—

According to a release from Jeremy Akerman M.L.A., leader of the Nova Scotia New Democratic Party, he claims it to be grossly unfair that increases given to a number of senior civil servants in late 1975 should be greater than the yearly take home pay of many of the Nova Scotia highway workers. Their pay of $5,554 to $6,240, he said, falls well below the poverty line when it comes to supporting a family. All you in this category, raise your right hand!

Don't let the mild weather fool you. Is your car ready for winter?

We expect to hear a positive answer to that question. The Safety Canada publication asks "Are you, the driver, ready for winter? Well, are you?"

keep our free enterprise system and self-preservation in today's economy. Mr. Trudeau stated that our free enterprise system is disappearing and changes should be incorporated. What changes are these? Without the system what would we have? How will business get along? The people should have a right to know what plans the government has for the economy for the future. They are spending more money this year for items and plans that have no benefit for the people.

I am sure that others feel as I do, that more controls should be directed towards spending. There is wasted spending in welfare and unemployment insurance, where misuse is apparent. There are jobs to be found if one is to go out and look for them. I think the government is pressuring inflation far beyond its limits and is trying to control as much of the Sandy Cove Community Hall with nineteen men responding to roll call. Reg Comeau, Fire Chief, presided.

Much discussion was held regarding the fire and how to use the equipment to better advantage. It was felt that everyone did a good job and that you learn by doing.

Other matters were discussed, especially the building of the firehall-recreation center. Garfield Trask reported that men would be on the job on Monday, January 12 and work would proceed according to weather. In any case, the project must be finished by June 26 in order to fulfill the requirements of the L.I.P. grant. This writer came by the site of the new firehall complex at 8 a.m. on January 12 and the men were hard at work with the clearing of the land. The L.I.P. sign was prominently displayed so that all will know that this is a Federal-Provincial-Community project.

Discussion of equipment and budgets took the rest of the meeting. Next meeting will be Friday, February 13th, Sandy Cove Community Hall, 8 p.m.

Present at the regular meeting were seven Board members and Mrs. Phyllis Brennan, V.O.N.

Expenses for the month of November were $4055.28 with a debit balance of $201.66 at the end of November. One hundred and twelve patients were served.

Canada's economy as possible.

Assessors have come under government control now and it is obvious on the 1976 assessments.

Assessments have really increased this year and a lot of people should make their views known by appealing. Lets show this government that it can't push the people around. Lets show this government that we have a democracy and we want to exercise our rights. If we protest enough and have enough people protest then maybe we can change the views of government or replace them.

Speak up and let them know.

two to five years).

Mr. Power pointed out that the alcohol treatment service is being used by the department of highways in the Impaired Driving Program.

The money supply is having an effect on the development of alcohol and drug treatment programs, according to Mr. Power. An attempt is being made to save money by cutting down on in-patient time and replacing it with detoxification in out-patient day-care and home-care treatments. But, he said, each of these methods has some limitations although they are being used when possible and by a doctor's decision.

Mr. Power also described the Treatment Centre which is being developed in Pictou County and some of the activities and information which got it started.

He said concerned people in any area can assist the Commission by accurately identifying the problem and carefully documenting information for the area. Then they should present the findings to the Commission, MLA's in the area, and the provincial minister of health.

Mr. Power concluded that the future looks encouraging. A lot has been done in the last 12 years.

Mr. Ramsey reviewed the work of the Nova Scotia Commission on Drug Dependency, pointing out that the commission is part of the department of health.

He noted that a library of informational material - pamphlets, documents, books and audio visual - is maintained within the department of human resources. Material from the library is available to the local committee. Suzi Morgan is Librarian.

The speaker also described the regional development in the province. The regions are the North Shore, Cape Breton, Metro South Shore Valley and Western. Regional Boards with full-time active programs operate in the first three areas.

A regional board of Western Nova is under active consideration, the speaker pointed out. When a regional board is set up, it takes over assessing and planning as needed in an area.

The next meeting of the Dig by Local Committee will be held on Tuesday, Jan. 27, at St. Patrick's Parish Hall.

Farewell To Pastor

The Church of God congregation in Digby tendered a farewell coffee party for the Rev. Francis Burnett, who left on Monday to return to his work with Christian education in Illinois. Mr. Burnett has been serving in Digby since the death of the Rev. Raymond Brown in November 1974.

While the permanent minister for the Digby Church of God, Rev. Dale Swartz and Mrs. Swartz will not arrive until September 1976, an interim pastor, John Carr of Macomb, Illinois, and his wife, Rachael, arrive today.

The Church of God was filled to capacity on Sunday evening to hear Mr. Burnett's sermon and honor him by a farewell party. A Nova Scotia tartan shirt and a sum of money were presented on behalf of the congregation by Mrs. Eunice Pearson. Mrs. Albert Challoner read a tribute to Mr. Burnett.

Auxiliary Project Furnish Fire Hall Kitchen

A regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary, Digby Neck Volunteer Fire Department, was held at the Sandy Cove Community Hall at 8 p.m. on January 5, with Carol Addington, president, presiding. Twenty members answered to roll call. It was felt that the bad roads and cold weather kept attendance at a minimum.

A report was given on the show that was held at the Sandy Cove school on December 13th. This was a financial success and all those who took part were commended on their efforts.

The meeting on Monday was the first meeting of the New Year and plans were made to raise more money for the department. The ladies expect to do more catering this year and their first effort will be to serve at the open house, for Maritime Tel & Tel, on January 27th.

The big project for the year will be the furnishing of the kitchen at the new firehall-recreation centre. Other projects will be the making of quilts and hand-crafts, to be sold at a special table next summer.

A canteen committee, for bingo nites, was formed and Mrs. JoAnne Brown will be chairman. Four teams are needed and each will work one night a month.

The resignation of Bonnie Trask, Secretary, was accepted with regret. Debbie Titus, Centerville, was appointed to fill the vacancy.

1975 YEAR-END REVIEW

NOVA SCOTIA HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION

By George F. McCurdy
Director of Human Rights

This past year marked the second year of the "Decade for Action to Combat Racism and Racial Discrimination", proclaimed by Premier Gerald A. Regan in December, 1973. There are more Nova Scotia citizens, private organizations, agencies, public officials, labour-management officials, educators and church people involved in human rights and implementation of affirmative action programs in the vital areas of employment, housing, education and community life than at any other time in the Commission's history.

Although we should avoid the pitfall of assuming that prosperity and full employment are the only keys to resolving racial injustices, employment has been the major hurdle in the struggle for equality for visible minorities, ethnic groups and women. Therefore, it is important to note that an unprecedented number of jobs have been created through affirmative action in employment programs in 1975.

By direct and indirect referrals, the Commission has helped fill more than 200 jobs from entry level to management positions with people from predominantly visible minorities. If sustained on a permanent basis, these jobs will represent better than $1 million flowing annually into the province's minority communities.

The affirmative action agreement signed with the Cape Breton Development Corporation this year was the first to be signed in Cape Breton and, like the provincial agreements, is applicable to minorities, women, physically handicapped and older workers. Other major agreements are being negotiated. Many human rights affirmative action committees are reviewing and examining employment policies and practices, in co-operation with employers, with a view to initiating new programs in the new year.

International Women's Year was welcomed by the Commission at a time of increased activities in the implementation of policies designed to promote equal opportunity. Complaints from women increased by 18 per cent in 1975 and the Commission sponsored two major studies: one on sexism in school textbooks and the other on women and credit. Both will be released in the new year.

The Commission continued to build bridges between education and human rights in 1975, in co-operation with the Department of Education and boards of education. Affirmative action in education is reflected in the student conferences on human rights held in six provincial high schools and involving more than 4,000 students.

Teachers and resource persons from ethnic and racial groups, together with Commission staff, have played key roles in promoting student dialogue on human rights. The major student recommendation has called for human rights to be included in the school curricula. VTR presentations on the conferences are available from the Commission. Eight secondary schools have indicated an interest in presenting student human rights conferences in 1976.

action committees operating in 11 communities held an evaluation conference in 1975 and designed guidelines in co-operation with the Commission to help officials and leaders to better understand the application of affirmative action in the total community effort to improve human rights. The principal elements of the committees' efforts include public education, economic opportunity, housing and residential discrimination, community tensions, municipal policy and practices.

Hon. Allan E. Sullivan, minister in charge of the administration of the Human Rights Act, hosted the second conference of human rights ministers in January that led to the December federal-provincial conferences on human rights, the first of its kind.

Ministers and officials discussed the federal Human Rights Act (Bill C-72) and the respective roles of federal and provincial commissions; federal-provincial affirmative action programs; a decade of action to combat racism and racial discrimination; accession to and implementation of international covenants and agreements under the Universal Declaration of Human Rights.

1975 YEAR-END REVIEW

NOVA SCOTIA DEPARTMENT OF DEVELOPMENT

By Hon. George M. Mitchell
Minister of Development

The Nova Scotia economy displayed remarkable stamina in 1975 against the advancing forces of a recession which has spread throughout the industrialized world. Output and incomes held firm in most sectors with the result that the shocks felt within the province were less severe than those experienced in the Canadian economy as a whole.

The strength evident in our manufacturing shipments and exports has been particularly impressive being 11 per cent and six per cent respectively over 1974. The primary sector has also fared better in 1975 than might have been expected. Agricultural output increased, fish prices escalated slightly while inventories fell, pulpwood production attained a new high, mining output increased with a rise in coal output. A sizeable drop in ocean fish catches and a slump in logging and lumber production were the main areas of concern. The annual rate of inflation reached 10 per cent for the first time in many years. By comparison, prices at the national level advanced by 11.3 per cent. The level of employment held steady in 1975, with an average of 279,000 Nova Scotians at work. Although the number of unemployed averaged 4,000 higher than last year, the Canadian rate rose much faster, so that the difference between the national and provincial rates dropped to less than one per cent.

Two significant events in the Department of Development's activities in 1975 were the negotiated Metropolitan Subsidiary Agreement and the Subsidiary Agreement for the Strait of Canso. The Metropolitan Subsidiary Agreement has funding of $87,710,000 and is in effect for the period March 31, 1975 - March 31, 1980. A few of the projects receiving funds under this agreement include the completion of the Pockwock regional water supply, further development of Burnside Industrial Park, establishment of a computerized traffic management system, the development of the Halifax Dartmouth Waterfront. Loans authorized through the Resources Development Board for the nine month period ending September 30, totalled $14,319,344 for 367 loans and created 262 jobs while maintaining an additional 160 jobs.

Under the Agriculture and Rural Development Act (ARDA) and specifically the Assistance for Rural Industry, 55 firms received grants totalling $362,809 and created 53 jobs immediately with a total of 121 projected when these firms are in full production. All of these industries are located in rural Nova Scotia.

In 1975 the department made several presentations to private sectors regarding the General Agreement on Tariffs and Trade (GATT), as well as liaising with the other Maritime Provinces, the provincial Departments of Fisheries and Agriculture and the federal Department of Fisheries to prepare an over-all position paper.

A new division in the Department of Development, the Nova Scotia Design Institute, had a very encouraging seven months. Three shows in particular, "2D + 3D", "The Look of Books" and "The Shape of Things Now", received very favourable attendance. Under the new Product Design and Development Program funds of $67,180 were committed to assist approximately 21 companies in sharing the cost of employing independent product designers.

During 1975, approximately 75 companies were assisted by the Marketing Assistance program. Trade fairs-shows included the Spring and Fall Toronto Gift Shows, the Fish Products Mission to New England, the Marseille World Fishing Exhibition, the Offshore Oil Exhibition and Conference in Aberdeen, Scotland, and the trade missions to Japan in the Spring and South America in November. These visits have already resulted in sizeable orders for Nova Scotian producers. Through the initiative of the Marketing and Trade Development Division, both the 1976 International Power Transmission Show and the 1977 World Fishing Exhibition will be held in Halifax - both large and widely regarded international exhibitions. This year the newly established Transportation Branch liaised with the federal government in developing a new national transportation policy. This Branch has been actively involved in obtaining interim assistance for Nova Scotia producers shipping to Central Canada and in the development of a proposal for an integrated regional air network.

The first national conference on incentives was hosted by the Department of Development in May. During this three day conference 90 delegates met to effectively upgrade communications between private and public agencies concerned with industrial assistance in Canada.

Key factors in the outlook for 1976 include the strength of the upturn in the American and Canadian economies, and the anti-inflation policies being implemented by all levels of government. Markets for Nova Scotia products are expected to remain strong, and will expand again if our major trading partners are able to ride the tide of world recession. At the present time and throughout 1976, the Department of Development will be continually reviewing its programs to effectively strengthen the over-all economy of Nova Scotia.

Baker which bore his own name. The steep run is known as "Gordie's Gulch" because Gordon Goodwin was one of the few skiers who could negotiate the difficult slope.

Gordon was born June 21, 1950 in Digby, Nova Scotia, Canada and the family made their home in Bear River, Nova Scotia, Lawrence Mass., Iberia, Missouri areas prior to moving to Nootsack, Washington in 1965. Rev. Goodwin had served Pastorates in the Advent Christian Churches in those areas.

ternational exhibitions. This year the newly established Transportation Branch liaised with the federal government in developing a new national transportation policy. This Branch has been actively involved in obtaining interim assistance for Nova Scotia producers shipping to Central Canada and in the development of a proposal for an integrated regional air network.

Surviving besides his parents are four brothers: Herbert in Alameda, California, Robert in the Schofield Barracks, Hawaii, Steven and Roger both at home, sister Mrs. John Forbes in Seattle. Maternal grandmother: Mrs. Ruby Mann in Rossville, Indiana. Paternal grandmother: Mrs. Mollie Goodwin in Biddeford, Maine. Also numerous aunts and uncles, 2 nephews and a host of friends.

Funeral services were held in Veroske's Bellingham Chapel, Monday, January 5 at 2 o'clock with the Revs. Earl Wright and Earl Crouse officiating. Concluding services and interment followed in the Nooksack Cemetery.

A Gordon Goodwin Memorial Scholarship Fund has been established at the Nootsack Valley High School, 3326 E. Badger Road, Everson, Wa. 98247 as well as a Fund by the Mt. Baker Recreation Company to place a Memorial Plaque on the Mountain in memory of Gordon.

Winter Notes From Bird Haven

A Happy New Year to All

There may have been a scarcity of winter birds last year but there are lots here this year; also hawks—never have I seen or heard of so many so early in the winter in town. They don't usually come in town until the woods are full of snow and the rabbits, moles and such are scarce.

Have had a scattering of evening grosbeaks but Saturday I had several bags of sunflower seeds sent me and I think they must have smelt them. Sunday morning there must have been at least a hundred arrived. They were a beautiful sight on the white snow.

Feeding on the window tray most of the time are chickadees, white throated tree and one song sparrow, three purple finches and one lone male goldfinch.

A few cowbirds were here for several days and, of course, my tormented pigeons are here everyday.

A funny thing happened Sunday morning. Cindy was outside looking up at the elm tree barking. Two tree sparrows were feeding on the tray and a church service was on the radio, the choir singing, "His eye is on the sparrow". I went out to stop the dog barking and sure enough a hawk was at the top of the tree with his eyes on the sparrows. He left in a hurry with eight crows chasing him. Don't forget to put out your discarded Christmas tree, pour a little melted fat over the boughs and it will serve as a good shelter and hideout for the little birds.

I now have a mourning dove brought up from Freeport in rather a battered state. She is in a separate cage and is doing very well. Sometimes they survive during the winter but have a hard time.

One has been seen at the north end of town. Mine will be released come spring.

So long,
The Bird Lady

Church Point Man Gypsum King Captain

Captain J. A. Blinn, 51, Church Point, Digby County, skipper of the multimillion dollar Gypsum King, took his ship into the port of Hantsport on Tuesday, this being the first trip to this port for the new carrier which has a crew of 32.

The Gypsum King replaces the Gypsum Queen, so well known in this area and on which a number of Digby County people have found employment.

The "King", 495 feet long, was built in Collingwood, Ont.

She has a loaded draft of 28.5 feet with 17,500 tons as compared to about 12,000 tons for the older craft in the fleet.

Gypsum Transportation Company of Bermuda are the owners.

The gypsum is hauled by Dominion Atlantic Railway 10 miles from Wentworth quarries to storage at Hantsport.

Minutes after the carriers dock, huge conveyor cranes are lowered to the holds so loading can be completed in time to allow the boat to leave on the same tide that brought her into port.

Bags Big Rabbit

We hear often of the person shooting the biggest deer or moose during their respective hunting seasons - and who hooks the largest tuna off our coasts. Maybe it's time rabbit hunters got in on a bit of the publicity.

Last week, for instance, we got word that Donny Amoro of Marshalltown shot a rabbit that weighed nine pounds and measured close to 25 inches in length.

We're not sure that's a record. But it certainly can't be termed an average-sized rabbit.

Donny bagged his prize on Hunts Hill in his home community.

Murray Shaw welcomed the large congregation attending the service, and thanked all who had taken part in the program, and after the singing of the closing hymn "Joy To The World" he pronounced the Benediction.

Want Change In Appeal Board

On motion of Arthur Rice, Weymouth, and seconded by Richard Daley, Roxville, at a ratepayers meeting on Friday evening sponsored by the "Municipality of Digby Committee for Orderly Protest" the ratepayers will ask for a change in the Municipal Appeal Board with the change to be made in time for the 1976 assessment appeals. Instead of the one-man appeal board, the motion suggested an appeal board of three as previous with one from the province, one from the municipality and another selected by these two.

More than 400 ratepayers attended the meeting held at the Digby Legion Hall and it is estimated approximately 200 others could not be accommodated. The meeting was chaired by Keith Potter, Plympton, by appointment, and attended by Joe Casey M.L.A. Members of the Council of the Municipality of the District of Digby were present in the capacity of personal ratepayers but were open for questions if desired. Mrs. Helena Comeau was named secretary.

The meeting came about following the mailing out recently of assessments which saw most of the 1976 assessments in the municipality increased by 300 per cent over 1975 and in some cases the assessment took a jump of 500 per cent, it is understood.

The meeting of Friday evening, by regular motion, decided to continue the protest group and broaden the scope to include five from each municipal district. Councillors present at the meeting promised their support.

Friday night's meeting was brought to order by Mr. M. P. (Penny) Gott, Smith's Cove, who explained that the meeting was non-political but represented irate ratepayers standing together to solve the assessment problem. She felt it was time long past to activate the old Digby Ratepayers Association. Harry Lewis, Weymouth, led in prayer prior to beginning the business of the evening.

The chairman, Mr. Potter, Mr. Casey and Municipal councillors agreed that anyone who feels that he or she is over-assessed should make an appeal to the municipal clerk before the deadline which was to be on Wednesday, January 21. Mr. Potter, in urging the dissatisfied ratepayers to make appeals made it plain that he did not advocate appealing just for the sake of appeal but only for a just cause. Assessment, he said, has to be cash value, what a person is prepared to sell his property for or what he can get for it. Mr. Potter referred to the assessments as "weird" and done by "ouiji board".

Councillor L. E. R. Winchester, speaking as a ratepayer referred to the municipal assessment and the one-man appeal board as only one small phase of erosion of government into municipal business. He felt local problems should be handled by local people by local means. He felt people had to stand on their rights or there would be constant inroads to take power out of the hands of the municipal government.

Mr. Casey referred to the Graham study of three years ago after taxation had become a problem and of the government's attempt to put the Graham suggestions into effect. By bill 127 the hiring and paying for an assessor became a reality; bill 141 was designed to take over commercial assessment and undertake the total cost of education but municipalities objected and bill 146 requested seeing the year end completed statements of council. He said that the assessment in the Digby Municipality had not been done within the past few days but was done while the assessor was employed by the municipality.

During the discussion of the hike in assessments several Island people complained about poor quality land being over assessed, such as scrubland at $156 to $158 an acre. Herbert Cossaboom of Tiverton had purchased a piece of land in 1967 for $200. In 1975 he was assessed $5,600 and his 1976 assessment is $36,300. What is termed his shoreline, he remarked has a drop of 50 to 100 feet.

The difficulties in which fixed income people find themselves was brought up at Friday's meeting on the exorbitant assessments. The effect such assessment might have on attracting new industry also gave concern.

Special Municipal Council Meeting

A few days before the meeting called by the Digby Municipality Committee for Orderly Protesters, Warden Wilfred Swift convened a special meeting of the councillors regarding the 1976 assessment for the municipality increasing by 300 percent and creating many dissatisfied ratepayers.

Points of discussion at the special meeting were that properties are to be assessed on current market values and this assessment has ignored that by increasing in many cases five times and in some nine times the value.

The escalating property values have contributed to the inequality that already existed. Councillors have been denied a copy of their district assessment rolls by a order of Province. This denies ratepayers the privilege to compare. "Is this step No. 1 to Dr. Graham's report?" was asked.

Council reminded the ratepayers that January 21, 1976 is the last day to appeal what is considered unfair assessments. If such conditions exist, council decided to urge each and every ratepayer to appeal prior to January 21, 1976.

The Council of the municipality of Digby is endeavouring to rectify the inequality that exists, council agreed and they suggested that a more democratic system of appeal be set up before any appeals are heard.

Some questions around the council table were:

What is fair market value?

Is our market in a slump?

What right has government to take away the liberties guaranteed for us by the B. N. A. Act?

Is government attempting to take over all lands in Nova Scotia?

Ladies Guild Active In Trinity Parish

An active year for the Ladies' Guilds of Trinity Parish was reported at the annual Parish Meeting Monday evening.

Reporting for Mrs. A. T. Grimmer, Guild Secretary, Mrs. P. A. Robert informed the meeting the Guild had held 23 afternoon meetings during the year in addition to evening sessions. In the field of church work the Guild had also supplied the choir with 19 new gowns. Boxes for shut-ins had also been provided at the Christmas season.

In their out-reach programs the Guild had sent monies for needy families in the Artic and had contributed $150.00 toward the rebuilding of a burned church in the North West Territories. Parish support by the Guild during the year included a contribution of $1,700 toward general parish expenses. In its fund raising activities the Guild held a

The delegates include Charles and Pat Haliburton of Digby, Marion and Gifford Lewis of Weymouth, Keith and Freda Raymond of Digby, Owen Hankinson of Weymouth and Jack Nichols of Digby.

Monday night's meeting was chaired by Richard (Dick) Levy.

DRHS Start Dial-A-Student Program

A Dial-A-Student program is being set up at the Digby Regional High School for the purpose of pooling all junior and senior high students interested in part-time work and to create more job opportunities by soliciting the community (private citizens as well as businessmen).

DIAL-A-STUDENT operates as follows: A telephone number is published via posters, newspaper, and radio. Anyone who needs extra help can call the school example: manual labour; secretarial work running errands; snow shovelling; baby sitting; painting; unloading freight; typing and cleaning garages, etc.

The caller will be asked for a brief description of the job to be done, time, place, and wage. This information is posted in a special place. Also for more specialized types of work a file system has been developed in which jobs are matched

Ice Rental Boosted To $20

Ice time charges at the Digby Arena have taken a hike to $20 per hour in an effort by the Digby Recreation Commission to bring financial operations into the black.

The new rate went into effect on Monday. Prior to the increase the ice-time cost was $12 for minor hockey, $12 for the high school, $14 for game time, and $16 for all other rentals.

The increase was judged necessary because of a loss experienced at the rink during the months November and December, 1975.

During that period, expenditures totalled $9,960 while revenue amounted to only $8,434 including one-third of grants receivable from the high school, town school board, recreation committee and the Municipality of Digby. The net loss for the two-month period amounted to $1,526.

The decision to raise the rates was made during a Recreation Commission meeting Thursday night.

In another decision taken during the meeting, the commission will sell its $16,000 debenture to whichever bank offers the best terms.

The debenture was approved at a ratepayers meeting last year and must be used for outstanding bills incurred when a new ice plant was installed at the rink.

Digby Minor Hockey Week Planned

January 24th, to 31st has been set aside across Canada to honour the boys men and women who are part of the vast organization known as Minor Hockey. During this week each association endeavours to have the boys participate in various programmes to demonstrate their abilities on the ice, also to raise funds with various projects to finance the programmes arranged for the boys.

In Nova Scotia alone there are approximately 15,000 minor hockey players ranging in age from 4 years to 18 years.

The Digby Minor Hockey Association has set aside Tuesday January 27th as Minor Hockey Night in Digby. A full evenings programme has been arranged commencing at 6:30 p.m., when all boys, coaches, referees and executive will be on the ice to hear messages from President Mrs. Pat Kynock and Mayor Charles Haliburton. Every boy in the Digby Association will have a chance to be on the ice during the evening to demonstrate to parents and friends his abilities. It is hoped that all parents, friends and other interested persons will be at the rink to give the boys their support.

Friday January 23rd has been planned for a pantry sale at the Mall, and on Saturday January 31st, a tag day will be held.

Digby School Board Asks Advice

The Digby Municipal School Board on Tuesday evening decided to up the contract between the Province of Nova Scotia and the Nova Scotia Teacher's Union with the Nova Scotia School Board's Association. The question of the contract came up following the reading of a letter from the Digby Local Teachers Union requesting the Board's policy on Teachers Aides. In the discussion following the motion, school board members expressed the view that they were not prepared to assume any increased costs which are not shareable under the foundation program. They were disturbed over the fact that the Boards had no voice in the contract, remarking, "It is not our contract, it is the provinces".

James Hanscomb, supervisor of schools at Weymouth, placed a capital budget of $46,000 before the Board meeting for equipment. It was placed in the hands of the Municipal Council of the District of Digby for their approval.

Mrs. Nola Jeffrey is on the committee to look into the number of children, 5 year to 18 years, in the area who are handicapped, mentally or physically and not already enrolled in a school. New regulations within the past two years require school boards to prepare for educating these children unless they are already attending a school.

Mrs. Jeffrey found nine children from the Weymouth area who are already in school and five who are not in school, making a total of 14. In Digby area, it was found that there were nine in school and six not in school making 15 found handicapped in Digby for a total of 29 found to date. The Islands and other areas have not yet been surveyed.

Jack Ritcey, supervisor of curriculum for Digby Municipal Schools, reported on the meeting held on Monday in Bridgetown to discuss and give information on amalgamation of school boards. Present at the meeting from Digby area were Mr. Ritcey, Mrs. Helen MacNeil, Glen Pitman, Mrs. Eleanor Elms and Mrs. Seretha Sabine. Mr. Ritcey said that people are going to take a longer look at the Annapolis-Digby amalgamation and he felt it behooves all to become involved, be informed and know what kind of decisions should be made rather than being forced into a decision. It was felt that a special get-together of Digby Boards should be arranged.

On motion following Mr. Hanscomb's report the maintenance man for the Digby Municipal Schools would work in Weymouth on the first three days of the week and in the other schools for the other two days. This is subject to change in case of emergency work or to facilitate functions. Maintenance work for all the feeder schools was approved.

Mr. Hanscomb was given permission to speed up his pursuit for teachers for the year 1976-77.

By motion the Board decided to grant the Weymouth High School students $200 for gas for educational regular trips over and above those already allowed.

The meeting on Tuesday evening was presided over by the chairman, Warden Wilfred Swift. E. C. Edwards, inspector of schools for Annapolis-Digby, attended.

Third Jeunesses Musicales Concert At St. Anne's

On Wednesday, January 28, will be held in the College Sainte-Anne chapel the third Jeunesses Musicales concert, featuring the Danish pianist, JOHN DAMGAARD MADSEN.

This young and talented pianist has been widely acclaimed by critics in Germany, Holland, Austria, Italy, France, Belgium, the United States and Scandinavia. Having studied in Denmark, England and the United States, he obtained his diploma in 1965 from the Royal Danish Conservatory of Music. He is now enjoying remarkable success in both Europe and America. A Beethoven specialist of note, his program for our JMC audiences will comprise a series of lecture-recitals centering on the great musician.

JMC season ticket holders may attend the concert. Anyone still wishing to purchase a season ticket at the door may do so the night of the concert. The concert will begin at eight o'clock.

The dates for the coming events during the second term are mostly all set. On Saturday, February 14, the author of "Viens voir l'Acadie", DONAT

LACROIX, will give a recital. MINOR HOCKEY WEEK

Beginning Saturday, January 24, the yearly observance of Minor Hockey Week begins. Plans have been made by the Digby Minor Hockey Association to bring the week from the 24th to the 31st to the attention of parents and adults in general.

Minor Hockey boys are ages four years to eighteen years. These are formative years which can mean so much to the boys. First of all, Minor Hockey gives the boys fun and encourages a bright and happy outlook to life. They learn to co-ordinate body and mind, making the body strong while exercising their mental powers. Minor Hockey enables a boy to mix with other boys of his own class or other grades and schools and with boys of other creeds or color. Lasting friendships are made and boys learn to take their places socially.

Probably one of the greatest virtues derived from participation in Minor Hockey is habit of honesty and fair play.

The boys need parents and sisters and brothers and relatives to boost them in their activity. Minor Hockey is a family affair. It is also a community affair in that the Minor Hockey boys of today are our citizens of tomorrow.

Those who are trying to instill the virtues of Minor Hockey into the young of the land also need to hear your appreciation and encouragement.

In Digby the leaders have set aside Tuesday, January 27, for Minor Hockey Night. Parents and friends are invited to the Forum to support the boys and see their accomplishments. On Friday, January 23, a pantry sale is planned and on Saturday, January 31, there will be a tag day. The Minor Hockey players and the Association look for both financial and moral support.

V. O. N. STILL SERVES PURPOSE

Our Digby Courier files of 1946 contain the full reports of the Digby Branch Victorian Order of Nurses for its 25th year. Well, can we remember those years when a twenty person Board carried on some sort of fund-raising activity each month or co-operated with the Digby General Hospital Auxiliary by using alternate months. Other than from a town or municipal grant, this was the only means by which the organization could survive.

Back in those years the V. O. N. was needed. M. S. I. was not heard of and while hospitalization costs at that time were small compared to today, they were staggering to those who had to dip deep into their own purses to pay the bills. Here is where the V. O. N. came in. Following release from hospital, the V. O. N. could be called in to give the necessary care under medical supervision at a cost which anyone could afford i.e. full rate or amount the patient could afford or entirely free visits if the need was there.

Since then hospitalization has been taken over by the province. For some time there were those who had doubts about the value of the V. O. N. following the institution of the Hospital Insurance plan. Financing became difficult for V. O. N.

Once again the V. O. N. is coming into its own. For instance, what do you do when elderly persons are ready to be released from hospital but need more than the portion of time allowed for nursing care at a nursing home and not able to care for himself or herself at home. One solution, of course, is to make use of V. O. N. services. This is one area where V. O. N. serves a purpose today. While the program has changed somewhat here, in the area of school and industrial visits, the V. O. N. still carries on its bedside nursing, educational and preventive care.

Digby V. O. N. has been in a unique and enviable position in the past couple years in that it is under a pilot project of co-operation with the Public Health Services which seems to be working out well. However, Digby Branch V. O. N. had previously extended its borders to take in part of Annapolis County and to arrange its Board membership to include personnel from the Annapolis area. The Annapolis area of the V. O. N. district is not under the pilot project as yet and so the Digby V. O. N. Board is still under obligation to raise funds for financing in order to keep the organization operating. While the entire Board has an obligation, it might be in order to draw particular attention to the Annapolis area Board members to arouse interest in V. O. N. fund raising activities in their particular areas. So doing, not only earns necessary money for the V. O. N. but also serves to keep the organization and its cause before the public.

The benefit of the Victorian Order of Nurses has been seen by the Nova Scotia government. Public Health Minister William MacEachern announced in the fall of 1975 that more government support would be given to the Victorian Order of Services. In his presentation to the Legislature Hon. Mr. MacEachern said (quote) "Throughout the years, and especially in years when public involvement in, and financial support for, health care was modest, or non-existent the V. O. N. provided an essential and welcome and indeed, a life-sustaining service to thousands of residents of this province."

"With the advent of medicare and hospital insurance, this role, of bringing nursing care to the home continued, although with a changed emphasis.

"It has been argued that a good home nursing care program is a money-saving operation, because it permits many ill people who might otherwise be hospitalized to receive treatment at home—either because the service makes hospitalization unnecessary or because persons hospitalized can be reached earlier.

"This is perhaps a valid argument, in so far as such a service will enable existing hospital facilities, existing active treatment beds, to serve an expanding population without being added to.

"The stronger argument, and the one we should be making about the V. O. N., and about the Public Health Nurses who carry out similar duties under the aegis of my department, is that they provide for a better health delivery system, and they enable us to have a range of services available to the people of this province which is in keeping with our needs, and in line with modern health concepts." (Unquote)

The Digby Branch Victorian Order of Nurses annual meeting comes up March 9. It will be held in Annapolis Royal at the United Church of Canada Hall. The Board is urging as many as possible from Digby and Annapolis Counties to attend and we do not mind confessing that we are making a special pitch towards Annapolis County. They are newer at V. O. N. services and all information tends to facilitate the work. Definitely, as we have seen, the V. O. N. still serves a purpose.

YEAR ROUND TOURIST SEASON

Cross country skiing, according to the Nova Scotia Department of Tourism, is becoming a popular winter sport in North America and Nova Scotia is expecting local and visiting skiers to enjoy the healthful exercise for the next few months according to the information from the department. We haven't heard of too many from our area interested in cross country skiing but like snowmobiling (given the proper weather conditions) enthusiasm could be worked up and, maybe, built up to attract tourists here in our winter season as well as summer.

The Department of Tourism in its recent circular on cross country skiing says:

"Nova Scotia offers very good natural cross country skiing. Much of the province is forested and farming country. Wood trails and service roads cut through private and public woodlots, forests and parkland. Many of these natural trails have been marked and others are available for cross country skiers who like to combine orienteering or map reading with their sport.

Cross country ski clubs have been formed throughout the province and these Nova Scotia clubs are designating more and more trails through public and private land.

Snowfall in Nova Scotia is generally heavy enough to provide good cross country skiing conditions from December to April in specific parts of the province.

One of the enjoyable ways to have a cross country skiing holiday in Nova Scotia is to stay with a rural family and ski the natural trails in their area. The Nova Scotia farm & country vacation program, sponsored by the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture, offers weekly and weekend holidays with rural families in various parts of the province. Many of these hosts have trails and roads on their property which are ideal natural cross country trails.

In addition to the natural trails, marked and rated trails are being created at a great rate throughout the province of Nova Scotia. From commercial operations to trails in provincial and national parks, the trails range from the very easy to expert."

Digby County is part of Nova Scotia. Might be a way to help build up a year round tourist season.

Hodge Podge

The Association of Canadian Advertisers says that Canada's conversion to the metric system will mean big changes in the ad business (communications too!) It also means changes to standard cliches, and ACA compiled the following list:

Peter Piper picked 8.81 litres of pickled peppers.

It hit me like 907 kilograms of bricks;

A miss is as good as 1.609 kilometres.

All wool and 91.4 centimetres wide.

A decigram of salt.

He missed by 1.609 country kilometres.

Kilogram for kilogram he's the best and

Cent wise and dollar foolish.

For the prevention of whiplash there is great need for a public campaign to ensure that cars are designed with the seat so shaped as to support the neck and head—this is well done in buses and aircraft; why not cars?

I know you believe you understand what you think I said, but I am not sure you realize that what you heard is not what I mean." How appropriate!

There is little that is not insurable. In a homeowner's policy, trees, shrubs and plants are insured up to a maximum of $250 per individual items. This coverage protects basically against fire and vandalism but excludes such perils as theft, windstorm, smoke, water damage and falling objects. When a man at Christmas time lost a fir tree from his hedge, i.e. it was cut off, and taken for Christmas decorations, is that vandalism or theft or both?

Hon. Bernie Danson in address to the Canadian CClub of Montreal said that the 1946 dollar is now worth 38 cents and in another ten years, at the present rate of inflation, its value will be down to nine cents.

meeting called to determine whether a $2,000,000 sewage system, complete with treatment plant, should be installed in the town of Digby when important priorities remain neglected such as water one can drink twelve months of the year without boiling; a Town Hall citizens will not be ashamed to direct any visitor to; sidewalks on streets such as the postoffice hill, before someone is killed or badly injured.

Certainly snow and icy conditions, illness, etc., made it difficult and even impossible for many to get to the meeting but I would venture to say those who were absent for any justifiable reason were in the minority. When a meeting to determine whether a $2,000,000 expenditure should be approved competes with a hockey game on TV, the meeting comes out a poor second, unfortunately.

Some of us attending were appalled to have a vote taken at the beginning of the meeting to set the cutoff time at 8:30 for a question and answer period, and since much of this time was devoted to W. H. Horner, taxpayers had little more than half an hour to ask questions. Questions went unasked and unanswered resulting in those who did not attend the December meeting, (when the resolution presented was turned down) not having a comprehensive picture of the proposed system, before the vote was called.

More than a few of us are guilty of not voicing dissatisfaction with what turned out to be a totally unsatisfactory response to the sewage system proposal, and certainly a vote of 84-80 can in no way be accepted as full approval of the plan as presented.

How many of us are concerned enough to protest except from our armchairs and, as a result, expenditures go unchallenged and we pay through increased taxes, already too high? Our Town Clerk announced at the January meeting of the Town Council the taxation rate would need to increase by five cents just to raise the same amount of revenue as in 1975. This has become necessary because number of suppers, teas and smorgasbords. In addition the Guild provided coffee and refreshments following church services during the summer months. This had proved very successful in making visitors feel more a part of the church family during their stay here.

Mrs. Sydney Hall, Guild Treasurer, reported that the Guild had earned $548.50 during the year with expenditures for projects and parish support totalling $465.72.

Rev. Isaac Butler, who retired as Rector at the end of 1975, reviewed the past year in Trinity Parish. The life of the church had remained stable during the year, he said. He noted that for the first time in his ministry a layman, Warden Ernest Ryan, was serving as Chairman of an annual Parish meeting. This, he said, was good and he expressed the hope it would be a part of the increasing ministry of the laity in the Anglican Church.

These included the Planning Committee, Historical Committee and Lobbying and Scallop Day Committee.

A brief discussion was held on the old Bear River bridge abutments. A motion was passed that someone would determine for certain who is responsible for upkeep - and if the burden falls on the Council, recommend how that responsibility should be handled.

A council delegation was informed in Halifax recently by Highways minister Leonard Pace that the abutments were left on the condition that the Tour-Rec council look after them.

Scallop day

Although actual planning has not yet been started, there was some discussion on Scallop Day. Ideas tossed around included incorporating Digby Natal Day into scallop festival, and making it a week-long affair.

Lack of support from municipal governments was also brought up. In return, Charles Haliburton suggested perhaps the council could co-ordinate brochures put out by the municipalities.

The Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival was also discussed. Dave Irvine questioned whether this area should be associated with that festival since it is not physically or emotionally part of the Valley. Mayor Haliburton took an affirmative view on participation.

Membership

A report from the Membership Committee recommended that a $5 fee be charged to all members, whether operators or not. Anyone, it stated, can become a member.

Other recommendations were for a membership card along with a larger plaque or sign for public display, and suggestions for building up membership. Attendance at council meetings has not been satisfactory it was remarked and representation from Annapolis County has become scarce.

the wider church, Mr. Butler noted that the matter of church union with the United Church and the Church of Christ is for the present a dead issue. On the question of the ordination of women, Mr. Butler said that while progress is being made and approval in principle has been given in Canada, unanimous approval of the full House of Bishops would be required.

Referring again to the parish, Mr. Butler paid high tribute to the ladies. Not only have they given marvellous support to the work of the church in Trinity Parish, he said, but they have also supported the missionary church outside the confines of the parish.

In closing his remarks, Mr. Butler said the past year had been one of progress in the Parish. He expressed the hope this would continue and expand in the years ahead. He thanked the people for their support and kindness during the years of his ministry, especially for the marvellous retirement reception.

During the evening a letter was read from Mr. Butler, who was unable to attend the meeting, expressing her thanks and appreciation for the support given her as Guild President, for the friendship extended to her and her husband and for the parish and choir gifts as well as other remembrances extended at the time of Mr. Butler's retirement. She said the friendships enjoyed here had been the motivation for their decision to retire in the Digby area.

Reports of various committees and departments presented at the meeting indicated an active year in the local church. Reporting for the Properties Committee, Kenneth Connell told of repairs and renovations carried out. Ernest Tufts, Chairman of the Grounds Committee, reported on work done in caring for the church and rectory grounds. No report was received from the Cemetery Committee. A vote of commendation was unanimously passed, however, for the excellent work done in maintaining Forest Hill Cemetery over the past year.

The financial report, presented by Mrs. Kenneth Connell, showed the parish had enjoyed a successful year financially. Collections were slightly above the previous year and a small surplus was reported.

Miss Mary Marshall, reporting for the Altar Guild, paid tribute to the members who had served during the past year. She said there is a need for additional volunteers and asked that persons who would be willing to serve on the altar guild contact her. Mr. Butler, commenting on the report, said it is the work of the altar guild which serves most directly the Rector. He paid tribute to the faithfulness and dedication of those who served on the guild.

At the election of officers, F. C. Purdy and Ernest Ryan were re-elected Parish Wardens. Elected to the Vestry were Mrs. Dorothy Bishop, Miss Marjory Tupper, Frank Collins, David Daley, Harold Dunn, Harold Emerson, A. T. Grimmer, Kenneth Harris, Judge J. R. Nichols, Harold Sulis, Hyson Sutherland, Victor Thompson, Vernon Wessell, Kenneth Woodman, Mrs. P. Robert. Honorary members of the Vestry are Judge Victor Cardoza, Mr. Fritz Dakin and Dr. G. V. Turnbull.

Officers elected included Mr. P. Robert, treasurer; Victor Thompson, envelope Clerk; Kenneth Connell, Property Committee; Ernest Tufts, Grounds Committee; Hyson Sutherland, Mrs. Bishop, Kenneth Woodman, Harold Emerson, Cemetery Committee. The Wardens, Messrs Thompson and Emerson, and the Treasurer were named to the Finance Committee.

Peter Nordeen, Parish Clerk, acted as secretary for the meeting and the opening prayers and benediction were pronounced by Rev. Mr. Butler.

Digby, N. S.

Dear Mrs. Wallis,

Should 10 percent of the ratepayers of a town be permitted to commit the other 90 percent to borrowing a sum of $1,840,000? Was it because of lack of concern or responsibility on the part of 80 percent of the ratepayers in the town of Digby (20 percent voted) that the majority of taxpayers must now go along with a project they may not fully approve?

How can this 80 percent justify their absence from a

Scallop Day Highpoint Of 1975

An annual report from past-president Dave Irvine was one of the highlights of last week's meeting of the Annapolis Basin Tourist and Recreation Council. The four-page report named Scallop Day as the highpoint of 1975 and attendance as the chief frustration. Mr. Irvine urged that planning be started now on Scallop Day-1976 and expressed hope more individuals and groups would become involved.

The retiring president noted that The Basin was "again widely acclaimed as an excellent publication," but noted that some articles should be up-dated, and new articles and pictures added for the coming season.

He also recommended that ways be sought to raise money to increase the press run since more copies are needed for local distribution.

Mr. Irvine stressed the need for long-range planning, noting that when the council was formed "we all agreed that long-range planning was necessary to determine what was needed in the area and what priorities we should observe."

"I believe all data collecting and determination of goals and priorities can best be done by those who actually live and work in that area."

He noted that the group is progressing on the inventory state but where we go after that depends on this Council. We can either sit back and congratulate ourselves on what we have done or we can use what we have developed as a basis for prodding local municipal governments into action in planning, zoning and intelligent control of development before it is too late.

Mink Show Digby Rancher Is Top Exhibitor

Donald Mullen of Havelock, Digby County, was the top aggregate exhibitor at the two-day live mink show which ended in Truro on Wednesday. He edged out runner-up Donald Urquhart of West Bay, Richmond County.

A jet male owned by Mr. Mullen won the grand champion honours. Reserve grand champion went to a white female owned by John McInnes of Victoria County.

Praise was given to the high quality of the mink by the show's two judges. "The whites, darks and jets here are as good as can be found anywhere in the world," said Murray Hillard, a mink rancher from Waterloo Ontario.

Leopold Fournier, Hudson's Bay Company representative from Mon-treau, who has been coming to the Maritime shows for 15 years, said Nova Scotia mink are a fine product and are getting better every year.

The champion pastel mink was owned by Alphee and Benoit LeBlanc, Little Brook, Digby County, with reserve going to Donald Urquhart.

Two champion and reserve awards in the dark brown class were won by a mink owned by Charles Wright, Valley, Colchester County.

A female mink owned by Mr. Urquhart was selected champion in the standard dark class. Mr. McInnes' male mink was chosen reserve in the class.

The awards were presented to the winners at a banquet at Keddy's Motor Inn.

Spectrum '75 Art Show

The Atlantic Winter Fair Fine Arts Travelling Exhibition, called spectrum '75, will be on display in the Digby Branch Library February during the library's open hours. Twenty-seven artists and thirty works, representing the best in both amateur and professional categories from the annual Atlantic Winter Fair, have been chosen for this travelling exhibition. There is no admission fee for the exhibition.

The exhibition will be on display in the Lockport Branch Library January 27-31; Clark's Harbour Branch Library February 3-7 and is presently on exhibit in Shelburne.

Lobbying

Mr. Irvine recalled that various meetings and discussions were held with various government departments, federal and provincial, during the year. He urged that this lobbying effort be stepped up in the future since trying to convince all levels of government that we know better than they do what is best for the Annapolis Basin area, should be one of our prime endeavours.

During 1975 dialogues were held with the department of tourism, Parks Canada, department of Highways and local municipal governments.

He noted that representations to town and municipal councils for financial, or moral support, were a "miserable failure. He was critical of the apathy thus displayed.

Mr. Irvine then went on to list several of the causes the council has taken a stand on.

Frustration

"By far the greatest frustration of the past year for me has been the lack of attendance at meetings of the council and the resulting lack of membership action between meetings," Mr. Irvine stated.

He was equally disturbed with poor representation at the meetings by those in the Annapolis Royal area and concluded that membership must be increased and more activity carried out between meetings.

Reflecting To 1946

As one reads The Digby Courier issue of January 24, 1946 an immediate panorama of smiling faces surface. It says that at the annual meeting of the Digby Municipal Council the tax rate was decreased from $7.50 per $100 assessment to $6.00. The reduction was due to an increase in assessment. The same Council passed a resolution to reduce the 25 cent each way passenger fare across Petite Passage which was in excess of charges by any other ferries.

The January 24 Courier in 1946 showed the Digby Electric Distribution Service to have a 1945 surplus of $2,929.40. Revenue was $28,260.57 and expenses $25,331.17. The Digby County Power Board general operation had a surplus of $14,026.59. The Council authorized extension of power lines to Gulliver's Cove, South Range, Doucetteville, Jordantown and Weymouth Falls. Street lights were authorized for Conway and Freeport.

At least we can be sure that one councillor was present at the annual meeting of the Municipal Council. It was Clarence Cornwall, Rossway, 83 years old. The temperature registered four degrees below zero, his car would not start so he walked six miles. A kind motorist took him part way. Mr. Cornwall had been elected to Council for the first time forty years previous and between 1906 and 1946 had served twenty-six years.

Lethargy showed its disturbing head in Town Council in 1946 according to The Digby Courier. Nomination Day only a week away and no indication of who would run for mayor and councillors. Even the posters were not out while the Act required them to be out ten days before that.

Ice formed in St. Mary's Bay and lobster fishermen were unable to get to their traps. Lobster fishing was not considered to be lucrative when making a 35 to 100 pound haul, traps seven dollars each and suitable boats $800 to $1000.

The Y's Men's Club is past in Digby. It was in January 1946 that the Club met at the Jersey Farms Hotel and received their charter, the presentation being made by T. A. M. Kirk, Yarmouth. Elton Arnold was president.

In the two years and seven months the Digby Branch Navy League had operated the Hostel, nearly a million boys had been served, it was reported at the annual meeting in January.

Thirty years ago this week the municipality of the District of Digby held its annual session which reported a surplus of $3,685.97 for the year 1945. Forecast of a reduction of municipal tax rate from $7.50 to $6.00 was made by Warden Harvey Chisholm. This reduction came about, the warden said, through the effort of the Assessment Committee in making a complete revision of the municipal assessment.

At the same municipal meeting, it was noted from the Courier files, that because of war conditions there was a shortage of linens and blankets at the County Home. They looked forward to a remedy as soon as goods and labor became available.

Interesting to read in January 1946 that Victorian Order Nurse's salary in Digby for the previous year was $1748.33, including income tax deductions of $271.29. The relief nurse for the year was paid $60. An amount of $371.55 was paid for taxi hire which probably influenced the Board to consider the purchase of a car. The Digby Kiwanis Club took up the challenge of assisting. On the committee from Kiwanis were G.H. Peters, H.M. Warne and Paul Yates. Expenses for stationery, records and office supplies amounted to $5.51, postage and excise stamps $11.18. Telegraph and telephone for the year was $12.45. (And that was a mere 30 years ago.)

And what was the state of the weather in January, 1946. The Courier, January 17, says "The spring-like weather which Digby has enjoyed since the beginning of the year came to an abrupt end over the weekend when the temperature dropped from the Sunday reading of 45 degrees above zero to zero by Monday morning. In some places the temperature on Monday went as low as ten degrees below zero. (All the 1976 Celsius readers can figure the modern interpretation.)

It was on January 15, that F.C. Purdy addressed the Grace United Church Brotherhood organization on a special R.C.A.F. overseas trip to contact King Leopold of Belgium, who was in Salzburg, Bavaria and to Berchtesgaden.

Want to know the average Nova Scotia worker weekly wage in September 1945. The Jan. 1945 file reports $31.10.

Thirty years ago January 13, there wasn't any evening service at Trinity Church, Digby. The rector, Rev. F.B. Gaskill, just before church time was bitten by his wounded dog when he tried to attend to its injuries.

What do you suppose they grieved about in the Opinion column in The Digby Courier thirty years ago? Freight rates and the lack of merchant co-operation on the matter. The Opinion writer felt the C.P.R. would think differently if all merchants had goods shipped to Bear River station (at cheaper rate), unloaded there and trucked back to Digby.

That Opinion column writer also expected a town election to come up and he didn't want to see Digby made a nationwide joke by having too many candidates run for office but neither did he feel acclamation was desirable. Town government he wrote was the first step in democratic government and ensures the whole democratic system.

Christmas Daddies Give To 845 Children

The Christmas Daddies program for Annapolis and Digby counties was a success this year, as it has been in past years.

In all, 248 families including 845 children enjoyed a happier Christmas because of the generous response of all who made donations for food hampers and gifts.

To those who gave of their time and talents, and to those who made generous donations, the Christmas Daddies Fund Committee extended a heartfelt "thank you" for their efforts. The real joy of Christmas lies in bestowing happiness upon others and it is hoped the donors have derived some feeling of contentment knowing that they have contributed to a worthy cause.

Hawk Drops In On Local Home

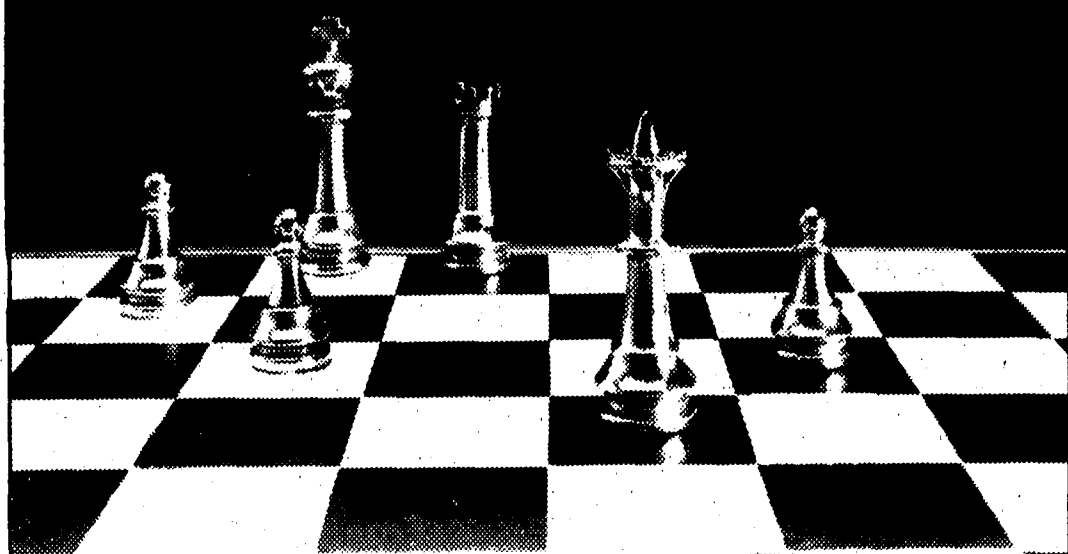

Thursday, January 9, will long remain in the memory of Miss Elizabeth Winchester, Smith's Cove, for that was the day a hawk literally dropped in for a call! As she was working around the house, Miss Winchester was startled by a loud crashing noise, shattering glass and, upon checking the source, discovered a hawk fluttering around on her sunporch. A call to her brother, Bob, next-door, ascertained that the hawk had crashed through the window on the end of the porch. Mr. Winchester donned heavy gloves and encountered the "denned" bird of prey and, after opening the outside door, managed to catch the bird and release him to the great outdoors. Later, Mr. Winchester discovered the prey, an Evening Grosbeak, dropped by the hawk when crashing into the window. To date the species of hawk is unidentified.

Mechanical Problems On Princess

The Princess of Acadia Ferry was idle on Sunday because of a mechanical problem.

The ship was tied up in Saint John N.B. at 6:45 p.m. on Saturday as repairmen worked around the dock to find and solve the problem, according to Digby Ferry Terminal manager Charles Hersey. Regular service was resumed at 10:30 a.m. on Monday. Only Sunday's scheduled trip was scratched.

Plan two strategic moves.

Planning for the day you retire or buy your first home means having a master plan for your investment in the future. So we have two plans to help. A Registered Retirement Savings Plan, and a Registered Home Ownership Savings Plan. They both earn you valuable tax savings, and when you subscribe to either one, or both plans your contributions can be applied to any one, or a combination of these investment vehicles:

1. Royal Bank RRSP and RHOSP Deposits. Interest-bearing deposits with The Royal Bank of Canada, offering a high interest return, geared to the general deposit rate structure. Because of the long-term nature of these deposits, it is possible to pay a higher rate of interest than on conventional savings deposits.
2. Income Fund. High-yield bonds, deposit instruments and mortgages insured under the National Housing Act make up this portfolio which is actively managed by professionals. The policy is to achieve as high a current income as is compatible with maintaining reasonable price stability as well as moderate capital appreciation.

3. Equity Fund. Investment mainly in Canadian common stock portfolio which is actively managed by the same professionals. Long-term capital growth with reasonable current income is the objective of this fund.

It's all in how you plan your strategy. Your Royal Bank manager can help you work out a master plan. Why not call or visit today. Now it's your move.

PROCLAMATION MINOR HOCKEY WEEK Town of Digby January 24 to 31

It is, indeed, a great pleasure to proclaim the WEEK OF JANUARY 24 to 31 as MINOR HOCKEY WEEK IN DIGBY and to draw to the attention of our citizens the different functions planned by the Digby Minor Hockey Association in recognition of the week.

Minor Hockey Week is geared partly toward the parents of Minor Hockey players. These young players need the interest and encouragement to do their best in playing the game. Managers, coaches, referees and leaders need the support of the parents and family. It is my wish that you as citizens enter into the spirit of Minor Hockey and aid the boys in their endeavours.

The fun of hockey endows the boy with a strong body, agile limbs and mental alertness. It teaches honesty, fairness and justice and fosters friendships and brotherhood.

CHARLES HALIBURTON
Mayor of Town of Digby

Serenity

A military officer was at sea, in a dreadful storm. His lady who sitting near him, and filled with alarm for the safety of the vessel, was so surprised at his composure and serenity, that she cried out, "My dear, are you not afraid?" He arose from a chair lashed to the deck, and supporting himself by a pillar of a bed place, he drew his sword, and pointing it to the breas' of his wife, he exclaimed "Are you not afraid. She instantly replied, "no, certainly not", "Why"? said the officer. "Because" rejoined his lady, "I know the sword is in the hand of my husband, and he loves me too well to hurt me." "Then (said he) remember I know in whom I have believed, and that he holds the wind in his fist and the waters in the hollow of his hand."

Cubs Describe Hike In Own Words

The White Six of the 4th Digby Cub Pack was the winner of a Six competition which lasted for five weeks. Their treat was a hike to Porter's Lake which took place on December 26th. The drizzle and rain didn't dampen the spirits of these young boys, as the reports following show.

CUB TRIP
(Paul Sautnier wrote about his Cub Trip)

"Our Six won the Cub award for December, so Akela took us on a trip. It was a lot of fun. What I liked best was the walk we took. We also saw a field mouse and a porcupine and then we had supper and the food was good."

(Mark Fletcher wrote)

"On December 26, White Six of the 4th Digby Cub Pack went on a hike. First we took a 20 minute drive out past fish and game and then walked about a mile. We stopped off at a camp and took off our knap sacks. I lit a fire in the stove and we went out to look around. While we were looking we saw a field mouse, a porcupine and some tracks. When we got back to the camp Mrs. Amiraault had boiled some water for hot chocolate and hot dogs. On a table were cups filled with chocolate, donuts, bread to serve as hot dog buns, ketchup and mustard. While we were eating we told jokes and sang songs. When we were done eating we packed up the knap sacks, got dressed up again, took the lighted lantern and started back to the car."

THE HIKE

Was described by Jeff Learn as follows:

At first we passed the Fish and Game. We went a little farther and went on a one mile hike. We came to a cabin and went in. Mark lit the fire and we went on a little hike and Mark and I saw a mouse. We went a little farther and saw a porcupine. Then we went back to the cabin. We had some hot dogs and hot chocolate and Akela said we were going to stay overnight. We didn't stay overnight. We came out. It was dark. It was fun!

Closing Catalogue Sales Offices Effect Seven Employees

Five employees in Digby and two in Weymouth will be effected by the close of the T. Eaton Company catalogue sales offices early this Spring. Digby has two full time employees, Mrs. Muriel Parent, employed for six years, the last two being supervisor and Mrs. Judy Learn, Mrs. Audrey Van Tassel has been a part time employee for ten years and other part time workers are Mrs. Ellen Bell and Mrs. Florence Grimmer.

Miss Margaret Murphy, Digby, who took an early retirement more than a year ago, had worked at the Eaton catalogue sales office for 29 years, heard the news of the closing with much concern both for the employees who would be out of work and for the people who had depended on the service for their shopping.

Two at the Eaton office at Weymouth, Mrs. Josephine Weaver and Claudette Coldwell will be effected by the closing of the Weymouth office. An effort will be made by Gaudet's General Store where the Eaton agency is located to find employment for the catalogue salesladies within the establishment. Richard Gaudet will not be effected because of employment but the closing of the catalogue office will be a loss, he said for many people used the office and this brought many to the stores. Mr. Gaudet was not sure what would be done about the Eaton's Clearance Centre operating in the store.

To many of the older people or those incapacitated catalogue shopping was their chief method of securing their needs. The Eaton Catalogue service has been in operation, inaugurated by Timothy Eaton since 1884. There are 279 catalogue sales offices across Canada and all will be closed effecting 4000 full-time employees and 5000 part-time. The reason for closing the catalogue sales offices was because of heavy losses in that department. Eaton stores will continue to operate.

Meet Your Operator

Remember those days when you cranked a handle or pressed a button and a pleasant voice said "number please". Usually you got in a few words of conversation. Then came the impersonal dial system-progress. And how some people missed the friendly chat, especially the alone and lonely aged.

There is a way to meet your operator today. You'll probably find her picture on the cover of your phone book.

Digby is represented by Mrs. Pat Griffiths, Manager of the Operating Service; Miss Lynn Morrell, Digby Operator and Frank Harvis, Smith's Cove, facilities.

Another well known person on the cover is Ferber Marshall who was with Maritime Tel. and Tel. for a number of years in Digby and Halifax. He has now retired. Mr. Thurber and his wife, Jean, were valued members of the United Baptist Church choir in Digby and of Choral groups. Mrs. Marshall who gained T.V. prominence as a soloist has frequently returned to Digby to sing.

Also pictured on the 1976 Tel and Tel directory is Miss Deloris Langford, Halifax, formerly of Weymouth.

Assessments Being Appealed

The number of Digby municipality residents appealing their assessments this year as compared to other years is "up considerably", according to municipal clerk Bill MacMillan. "You can bet your life on that," he added.

Those filing appeals had until Wednesday of this week to do so. As of Tuesday morning 522 had been received at the Municipal Office. The final total, which will include letters received after Wednesday but which are postmarked on or before the deadline, was not available at press time.

Mr. MacMillan noted that about 100 appeals were made last year.

The large number of appeals follows a property reassessment this year which carried an average assessment-value increase of 307 per cent.

J. Margolian & Co. Ltd., Digby

Council Decides On 1975 Assessment

Keith Potter, meeting chairman for the Municipality of Digby Committee for Orderly Protest, advised the Digby Courier that the committee's objective of having some constructive action taken by the municipal council, District of Digby, and the Department of Municipal Affairs for the Province of Nova Scotia to correct the values on the 1976 Digby Municipal Assessment Roll appears to have borne fruit.

The municipal council, through its spokesman, Councillor Richard Daley, for Dist. No. 3, advised the meeting, held Monday, January 26, at the Canadian Legion Hall, that the council was endeavouring to make arrangements to use last year's assessment roll again this year. The meeting was attended by several councillors, as well as the M.L.A., Joseph Casey. Both Mr. Casey and the council have given the best of support to the cause, Mr. Potter said, therefore the committee's work has been completed and it is now disbanded.

One good by-product of this whole exercise has been the setting up of committees in each of the nine districts comprising the municipality of Digby, Mr. Potter claimed. These committees will continue at the district level to complete their organization and many of them have done so already.

Stanley Boudreau of District No. 2 was named acting chairman for the District committees and in due course will convene a meeting of the chairmen from each of the nine Districts to plan for the future. This committee will deal with future civic concerns affecting the various segments of the Municipality of Digby and hopefully will be able to deal in an orderly manner with them when the occasion arises. In the meantime, it will keep a watchful eye on the success or otherwise of the steps being taken by the two levels of government to deal with the abandoned protest committee's objective, namely, the unreasonable and excessive values placed on some of the properties covered by the 1976 assessment roll, Mr. Potter informed.

More than 500 ratepayers met at the Digby Legion Hall on Friday evening, January 16, when an organization known as the Municipality of Digby Committee for Orderly Protest was formed specifically to deal with what they termed exorbitant increases in property assessments in the municipality. The meeting was brought to order by Mrs. P.M. (Fenny) Gott, Smith's Cove and Keith Potter, Plympton, was elected chairman. The whole committee was divided up into committees of five from each district in the municipality. One of the items of business passed at the January 16 meeting was to request the one-man assessment appeal board changed to a board of three as had been an earlier policy in the municipality.

Protesters at the January meeting objected to "scrubland" being assessed at $156 to $158 an acre. One protester said he had bought property in 1967 for $200, was assessed in 1975 for $5,600 and in 1976 for $36,300. His "shore-front" has a drop of 50 to 100 ft.

Municipal Council Rejects New Assessments

The Digby Municipal Council has rejected the new property assessment values arrived at this year by assessors from the Digby-Annapolis Regional Assessment Board.

A motion passed at council's annual meeting on Monday states that the municipality will resort back to the 1975 tax assessment—adding proper inflationary allowances on property and new construction, etc.—thus giving the provincial government a chance to adopt a more suitable assessment formula—and that with the aid of our solicitor, draft proper documents notifying the proper authorities of our decision.

The motion was made by Councillor Richard Daley. It received unanimous approval.

The move came after Phillip Dondale, Regional Assessment Director, had appeared before council's annual meeting to present his annual report.

In his written presentation, Mr. Dondale noted there were 927 appeals of assessment received by the deadline for appeals on Friday, 758 of which were against property values.

"Over 500 of these appeals were received during the last three days of the appeal period following 'protest' meetings, appearances by councillors on radio and television, and by politicians from the various levels of government and ex-politicians advising ratepayers through the press, radio and television, to appeal," Mr. Dondale noted.

Commenting on the assumption of assessment responsibility by the provincial government, Mr. Dondale stated that "most will agree that the new legislation will provide a provincially-operated service operating uniformly in all municipal units."

Mr. Dondale also stated that "this is the first complete revision (of assessed valuations) since 1967. The increases reflect the appreciation in the market values over a period of time rather than, as has been suggested, during the past year."

Much questioning and criticism followed Mr. Dondale's presentation. Several councillors referred to individual cases in an attempt to point out that the assessment is unfair.

Some councillors were concerned that the responsibility for the new assessment was being placed on them. However, Mr. Dondale pointed out that he, as regional director, has the "total responsibility" for assessments.

Mr. Dondale explained some of the process involved in setting assessment values. He noted many motives were considered when placing a value on a property. These include the recent sale price of a similar property, location, accessibility, etc.

Some of the harshest criticism came from Councillor Eric Vantassel who stated at one point, when invited to the assessment office to discuss one piece of land he felt was over-assessed: "I've proven you to be wrong so many times...you always say come to the office."

Vantassel mentioned the case of a mobile home on which the assessment value had dropped for a couple of years. Then, this year, it took a hike of $4,000 above the purchase price.

Mr. Dondale advised that such cases felt to be unfair should be settled in court. "Let the court decide. I'm not saying I'm right."

Questioned by Councillor Winchester as to what guidelines are used in

Farmers Study Tax Changes At Seminar

A provincial Health Services Tax Seminar, was held at the Legion Hall in Weymouth on Thursday.

Guest speakers for the occasion were Eric Lavers, Supervisor of Interpretation and Rulings; and R. G. Skinner, Interpretation and Rulings officer. Both work from the Provincial Tax Commission in Halifax.

Agricultural Representative Bruce Gilliat termed it "one of the better meetings we've had", as far as information is concerned. The meeting also attracted a "reasonably good attendance."

Mr. Gilliat said it was the first time such a meeting had been held with a farmers' group. He noted the visitors are interested in getting feedback from the group as to changes which could be made in the hospital tax.

Eric Lavers touched on how the act affects the farmer, farm supply companies, farm equipment and any commercial business dealing with farmers. He noted that basically, the tax should not add to the cost of farm production as it relates to farm equipment, farm implements and supplies.

"When the retail sales tax was first introduced in the province, broad exemptions were extended to the farming industry. These exemptions are still in effect and have not been altered in the least bit," he stated.

On April 1, 1975, a regulation changed in that a bona-fide farmer is now identified by use of a card system rather than the former certificate system.

Mr. Lavers' address was on a number of other aspects of the tax, and the structure and operation of the Tax Commission as it relates to the Health Services Tax.

The address by R. G. Skinner centered on the Farmer Registration Program which started in 1974. He explained the requirements necessary to qualify as a commercial farmer.

His discussion also included a talk on which items are taxable and which exempt, etc.

The seminar was sponsored by the Digby County Federation of Agriculture and the Clare Co-operative Shipping Limited.

Applications for registration under the new tax exemption card system are now available at the local agricultural office in Weymouth.

Alex Leighton Gets Achievement Award

Professor Alexander Leighton of Harvard University today was awarded the Mental Health Association Research Achievement Award at the organization's 1975 annual meeting here.

Harvard professor Erik Erikson, 1974 recipient, presented this year's award to Leighton at a research dinner in the Del Coronado Hotel, San Diego.

Today's event marked the fourth annual presentation of the MHA Research Achievement Award. The recipient is the researcher who, in the eyes of the NAMH Research Committee, has made an outstanding contribution through research to the prevention of mental illness.

Dr. Leighton's work in the mental health field has been notable for establishing the relationship of socio-economic factors to the prevalence and intensity of mental illness. He has demonstrated that patterns of mental illness can be changed by altering the socio-economic environment of a community.

Author of numerous articles in professional journals and several books, Leighton taught and practiced at Columbia University for 20 years. He currently is a professor of social psychiatry and head of the Department of Behavioral Sciences at the Harvard School of Public Health.

The 76-year-old native of Philadelphia holds degrees from Princeton, Cambridge, Johns Hopkins, and Harvard (honorary) and is a Life Fellow of the American Psychiatric Association.

The MHA Research Achievement Award originated as a result of the generous support and devotion to mental health of the late William P. McAlpin of West Hartford, Conn. It includes a $10,000 stipend and a plaque representing the McAlpin Medal, which is on permanent display in the Washington offices of NAMH.

Other recipients of the award have been Seymour S. Kety and Robert Coles both of Harvard University.

The National Association for Mental Health is a nationwide voluntary, non-governmental organization dedicated to informing the public about mental illness and mental health, while helping the mentally ill and their families.

Dr. Alexander Leighton is well known in Digby where his influence in better mental health has been widely felt. Dr. Leighton who, with his parents, spent summers as a child in Digby has maintained a home here throughout the years.

Robertson Re-Appointed Deputy-Mayor

Committees for the coming year were set up during a special Digby Town Council meeting on Tuesday, January 20. Other matters dealt with included appointing a Deputy-mayor, parking meter attendant, dog catcher, building inspector and public works superintendent.

The building inspector, Carl Niemeyer, of Rossway, was reappointed without debate as was Phillip Robertson to the Deputy-mayor's position.

Victor Vidito was appointed dog catcher for 1976. He will be paid the same salary as in 1975 ($950) and the town will pay his phone bill.

Councillor Eileen Chipman stated that the motion made to hire Mr. Vidito last year committed the town to pay only $50 toward the phone bill.

Councillor Chipman requested the Town Clerk to produce the last year's council minutes. According to the minutes, the town was responsible for paying the entire phone bill. Councillor Chipman said she had a copy of minutes at home which stated differently.

Councillor Chipman then suggested that since the town is paying for the phone, Mr. Vidito should be listed in the phone book as town dogcatcher. She also noted that a lot of complaints about dogs are still being received from the town's south end.

The appointment of a parking meter attendant (Webb Dunn), and the superintendent (Frank Robinson) met with lengthy discussions.

Webster Dunn was appointed for three-month period and Mr. Robinson for a one-year period while council investigates the positions.

Some time was spent discussing the value of having parking meters in the town. An approved motion saw Mr. Dunn appointed for a three-month period while the parking meter question - to have or not to have - and the conditions of employment for the attendant are reviewed. Only Councillor Bill Reid voted against the motion.

The previous motion, to appoint Mr. Dunn for a one-year period was defeated by a 3-2 count. Councillors Reid and Robertson in favour of the motion while Councillors Hazelton, Chipman and Vantassel voted against it.

The appointment of the council committees was completed in relatively orderly fashion. However, Councillors Chipman and Reid came close to verbal blows on a couple of occasions. During the appointment of representatives to the school board four names were proposed, including Councillor Chipman who insisted that only three can be members and felt a decision should be made now. Councillor Reid, who has been a school board member for two years, was also included on the list.

"I think two years is enough to serve on a school board for a Councillor," offered Councillor Chipman in apparent reference to Councillor Reid.

Maybe two years is enough for any councillor to serve period," Councillor Reid retorted.

Councillor Reid made a motion that Councillors Chipman and Hazelton be appointed to the Board. One member from outside the council will be appointed at a later date. That motion was

Freeport And Sandy Cove Go On Telephone Dial System

Monday night marked a new era in the village of Freeport and all areas of the Islands when the Maritime Tel and Tel changed over from the manual operating service to the dial system in the district. Similarly, Sandy Cove recognized the district's change over in that area on Tuesday evening.

The occasion was marked at Freeport by an Open House at the Canadian Legion Hall. Joe Casey M.L.A. was on hand to put in the first call by dial system from Freeport to Miss Coline Campbell, Ottawa, but the call had to be delayed because Miss Campbell enroute from Digby to Ottawa on Monday, was delayed by plane on account of a sleet storm. Mr. Casey, being scheduled for another meeting in Digby, the call was later made by Struan Robertson, President of the Maritime Tel and Tel.

The Open House at Freeport had Raye Billard, area local manager, Yarmouth as M.C., and the address was given by Mr. Robertson. Mr. Casey, in his remarks, and Mr. Robertson, as well as Miss Campbell by phone, remarked on the loss of personal red services and friendly atmosphere by the operators but this was replaced by quality of transmission and fast, efficient and automated service. Nothing can be done about this loss, Mr. Robertson said, and talked on progress in telephone services evolving continually all sorts of computerized systems, memory capacity, direct-dial-your-own, etc.

Mr. Robertson had much praise for the agents and operators who had served so faithfully at the switch boards during the submarine cable days and later since improvements were made in service in 1945 when some fifty to sixty thousand dollars was spent on equipment.

Mrs. Dale Harris, agent and operator for the past seven years, was presented with a bouquet of red roses by David Symonds. Mr. Symonds remarked on the importance of the work the operators did, getting through to doctors, sometimes in frustrating times of storms or in the early hours of the morning when fishermen began their day. Also at the head table with Mrs. Harris was Mr. (David) Harris.

Another who was recognized on Monday evening was Mrs. Charles (Elsie) Young who had retired in 1967 after serving as agent for 30 years. Others mentioned were Mrs. Maude

LANDSLIDE OF APPEALS

Praise be the news media! We note where the news media is being given "credit" for the landslide of appeals presented to the Digby Municipal Assessment Appeal Board. The appeals followed the completion of re-assessment (full assessment) and the distribution of notices. Not that the media wants to take credit or blame for causing all that extra work for the Appeal Board, but we do take pride in the fact that the media can (if it did) make such an impact. If the media can make such an impact in this case, whether right or wrong, it can certainly do so in other areas and be a tremendous power for good. At any rate, the media scores.

Whether or not the media gets the credit is not the important question. Important, for instance, is the question of how many appeals filed were justified. We do not know. This can be judged better after a just decision on the appeals has been made. It is well remembered that municipal councillors, the chairman of the Municipality of Digby Committee for Orderly Protest and Joe Casey, M.L.A., urged ratepayers to appeal if they had a reason but not to appeal just for the sake of appealing. In ordinary circumstances, with the overall assessment, 1976, higher than 1975 and budget on a par with 1975, there could be a reduction in the rate of taxation, resulting in taxes on such properties being less than 1975. However, glancing at the assessments this would be likely in few cases and certainly impossible in most cases. Ratepayers are disturbed. It is difficult to convince them that he was "getting away" with anything in previous years.

Be that as it is, and whether or not the media can take credit, the Committee for Orderly Protest deserves credit for getting the ratepayers together to discuss their mutual grievances. Much good could come out of the meeting. Some injustices might be found. One of the most glaring is when a neighbouring property has been sold to a wealthy non-resident for an enormous price, how is that likely to effect the value of the next property when it comes to taxation purposes. The fisherman or the farmer might not be able to afford taxes of that nature out of his meager income. Does he lose his property and is it right? He might also sell to a non-resident but with a shortage of food, is it a good policy to tie up land that should be in the production line? These are not easy questions to answer. Nova Scotians, especially in Digby County, highly regard the non-resident friends and neighbours as such but there comes a time when these questions have to be faced and given thought.

What should cause a property bought for $200, in 1967, be valued at $5,600, in 1975 and assessed for $36,300, in 1976?

What constitutes a shoreline?

To have a landslide of assessment appeals might be an expensive way to cause ratepayers and municipal leaders to think on some of these questions but who knows, the overall result might be worth it and the Digby Municipal Committee for Orderly Protest could well be thanked for their initiative.

'Tis a landslide of appeals, without a doubt.

The world famous moon walks of 1969 are helping blind people today. According to R. C. Purse, Managing Director, The Canadian National Institute for the Blind, the technology developed for the lunar landings has since been put to work for man on the ground. "The new focus on science resulted in the production of many electronic aids for blind persons," he said.

One of the most recent is the Phonic Ear, a sophisticated hearing aid for the training of deaf-blind children. The instrument has 36 different frequencies and enables the deaf-blind child to hear sound that normal hearing aids miss.

Another aid is the Optacon which permits a blind person to read the printed page directly. When the blind reader tracks a small camera across the print, a series of tiny rods, discernible by touch, move into play. They duplicate the shape of the type face seen by the camera.

Years away yet but at the testing stage, is an artificial visual system that will permit a blind person to see objects and read print.

"Electronic aids are wonderful things but they will never replace human assistance so essential for blind Canadians," Mr. Purse said. He reminded readers that blind persons will always welcome assistance in the supermarket, reading the menu in a restaurant, finding the right platform at a bus station - any of a hundred and one details where sight is really necessary.

"This year our White Cane Week slogan says it all," he said. "You Can Make the Difference."

White Cane Week is the annual education project of The Canadian Council of the Blind and The Canadian National Institute for the Blind.

—While we editorialized on Minor Hockey last week we draw your attention to this issue's advertising page and the Premier's proclamation heard on the T.V. where Saint John was having a dickens of a time to get parents out to minor hockey games. Cheer up, Digby. Your efforts are not in vain.

—Well, we could have taken our choice on Tuesday evening. There was the Minor Hockey at 6:30 p.m.; the Tel & Tel Open House, Sandy Cove, 7 p.m.; Dutch Elm seminar or meeting at 8 p.m.; Drug Dependency meeting, also at 8 p.m. and more or less in the personal area, a special meeting of Grace United Church Women. We hadn't forgotten the Council of the Municipality of the District of Digby which meets this week. Even two persons cannot attend each and every one of the meetings. Monday was a full day, too, and Wednesday brought its share. Prospects for today, tomorrow and weekend, not bad at all.

—Why is it that people do not seem to be motivated to a restraint life-style today like in the war time. Is it that people feel this has been so needlessly brought on or are we just that much more selfish or used to too much of an affluent life?

FREEMPORT AND SANDY COVE GO ON TELEPHONE DIAL SYSTEM

Powell, Mrs. Marie Thompson, Mrs. Dale Haines, Mrs. Burton Welch, Mrs. S. Harris, Mrs. Janna Lombard, Mrs. Marguerite Welch and Mrs. George Haines.

Refreshments were served by the Freeport Royal Canadian Legion Auxiliary under the president, Mrs. Virginia Crocker, and Mrs. Viola Thurber, caterer. A film of the mechanics of the new telephone service was shown and a guided tour of the new building containing all the equipment.

Mr. Robertson in his address gave a brief outline of the history of the Freeport and Sandy Cove telephone exchange systems which began back in 1888. A partnership was formed at that time, capitalized at $2,000. The Federal government laid submarine cables for the Company's use across Petite Passage, connecting the main peninsula with Long Island and across Grand Passage connecting Long and Brier Islands.

During the fifteen years the Company operated, these cables were repeatedly broken by the dragging anchors of vessels until finally the government declined further replacements. The Company's fortune thereafter declined and partner R. W. Ford sold out to the other, Samuel Gidney. In his report to the federal Select Committee in 1905, Mr. Gidney stated there were 40 telephones, 14 of them one party, on 40 miles of single conductor iron line between Digby and Westport, on Brier Island. The section between Digby and Sandy Cove was paralleled by a copper wire and telephones in use were of a wide variety of manufacture.

During the next decade Mr. Gidney more than doubled his station count and by the time his listings first appeared in the Valley directory in 1914, he had 95 subscribers including the "centrals" at (in order from Digby) Rossway, Seawall, Centreville, Sandy Cove, Little River, Tiverton, and Freeport.

By 1945, the system had grown to serve 125 subscribers with central offices at Rossway, Tiverton, Freeport and Westport although the latter was later abandoned. Little modernization had been carried out and deteriorating plant caused complaints to the Public Utilities Commissioners. They requested a survey of the system by MT&T and on April 26, 1945 a hearing at Digby found the system inadequate. By further ruling of August 14, 1945 the Westport and Digby Tel. Co. was sold to MT&T for $3,000. A further investment of $50-$60,000 was made by MT&T and standard magneto exchanges opened at Sandy Cove and Freeport in September 1945 with 45 and 48 subscribers respectively. An additional 12 were connected to the Digby exchange.

The first agent at Sandy Cove was Miss Gertrude E. Warne and Mrs. Charles Young (Elsie) was the first agent at Freeport. Elsie Young retired on June 20, 1967 and Gertrude Warne retired on May 25, 1967.

In the thirty years since that time Sandy Cove has grown to 315 subscribers and Freeport to 434. Dial service was provided to both exchanges on January 24, 1976.

Further tracing of history and forecasting of records by Mr. Robertson revealed that in 1970 Freeport had 337 phones, in 1975 there were 434 and in 1979 there is expected to be 631. In Sandy Cove there were 249 in 1970, 315 in 1975 and a forecast of 546 in 1979. Mr. Robertson also traced the incline of individual phones as years went by and the decrease in party lines.

The newly installed equipment in Freeport for the change to dial service totaled $679,555 made up of land $3,675; buildings and power and standby generator in case of power failure, $200,000; central office equipment $140,800; cables, poles, etc. $231,800; long distance facilities $71,280 and action phone sets $32,000.

later rescinded and Councillors Chipman, Hazelton and Ellis were appointed.

When appointments to the Hospital Board came up for discussion, Councillor Chipman brought up the matter of a letter which she received stating that her 1975 appointment to the board was not official.

The letter was signed by Mr. Pitman, but Councillor Chipman undertook to find out who had authorized it. Under questioning, Mr. Pitman stated, "No, I'd have to say no. I can't recall who brought it to my attention." Mr. Pitman said he had been

"I wasn't invited," was Mr. Dondale's reply when asked by Councillor Vantassel why he didn't attend last week's protest meeting at the Legion Hall.

Mr. Vantassel then noted that close to 700 people are "involved in an appeal to protect their heritage. The time required, he said, would amount to about two days work for each individual, or it would equal 'about 5-2 years of work for you.'"

Mr. Dondale did not directly criticize the public appeal that ratepayers appeal their assessments.

Committees

Representation on the Finance Committee will consist of Councillors Gordon Ellis (chairman), Phillip Robertson and William Reid.

Councillor Ellis was also appointed representative to the Digby County Power Board and Chairman to the town electric utility. Named to the Fire committee were Councillor Guy Vantassel (chairman), Robertson and Reid.

Councillor Eileen Chipman will chair the Police and License Committee.

Councillors Ellis and Reginald Hazelton are the other committee members.

Councillor Vantassel took chairmanship of Streets, Sewer, Pollution and Public Property. He will be assisted on that committee by Councillor Robertson, Reid and Ellis.

Councillors Robertson, Chipman and Vantassel were named to the Home for Aged and Infirm.

Membership of this committee remains the same as last year.

The Welfare Committee will consist of Councillors Ellis (chairman), Chipman and Mayor Haliburton. Representatives to the Board of Health are Councillors Reid (chairman), Hazelton and Robertson, along with Dr. Ian Anderson and Robert Wignmore.

Representatives on the Board of School Commissioners will be Councillors Hazelton, Ellis and Chipman. Those on the Hospital Board are Councillor Chipman and Mrs. Patricia Haliburton.

Councillor Robertson was appointed to the Library Committee while Mayor Haliburton and Councillors Chipman and Vantassel were put on the Arbitration committee.

The Board of Fire Escapes is made up of Fire Chief Vaughn Vantassel, Deputy-Chief Joe Doucette and Guy Vantassel. Councillor Robertson was appointed to Digby County Mental Health.

The By-law Committee consists of the Council as a whole.

He termed it "healthy" to get things out into the open. He noted, however, that the affects of the public appeal had spread even into Annapolis County.

Councillor Rice also criticized Mr. Dondale for not attending the public protest meeting. He suggested that since the meeting was open to all "interested" people, Mr. Dondale was not "interested" if he had no invitation.

"Blame me for that," was Mr. Dondale's reply when asked by Warden Wilfred Swift who should be blamed.

Councillor Walter MacAlpine expressed concern about the effect land purchases by tourists, or Americans, was having on the high assessments. But Mr. Dondale said he is not concerned about who pays the money.

Councillor Parker Thurber noted that houses in his area seemed to be assessed fairly but some land, however, was not.

What would happen if council rescinded this year's assessment? Councillor Byard Marshall asked.

Mr. Dondale advised council would have to contact its solicitor on that. The only way to fight, he said, is to appeal.

Warden Swift soon renewed his concern that the municipal council was being blamed for the assessment. He felt the blame should more properly be placed on the provincial government.

"Personally, I'm not going to take responsibility from the ratepayers for this high assessment. I had nothing whatever to do with the assessment," he stated.

Mr. Dondale suggested that councillors, when called by ratepayers, give the assessment office phone number to them.

The Warden noted that if the government wants to put the responsibility for assessment on council, he will accept it but would revert to the old assessment. "You'd never get permission for that," Mr. Dondale stated.

"If it's our responsibility, who's going to stop us," the Warden questioned.

"I think you've got a political football going here," Mr. Dondale noted, adding he was not interested in playing along.

At this point, discussion was being carried out in an argumentative mood. However, it concluded with laughter when Councillor Vantassel questioned, "Was the assessing done at the Ouija board?"

How to avoid the 25¢ charge for Directory Assistance which goes into effect Feb. 1st.

It's easy. The 25¢ charge is only for obtaining numbers already listed in your directory. And even at that, you, as a customer, are allowed three such calls a month before you start paying 25¢ per call.

If the number isn't in the book, there's no charge at all. So all you have to do is "look in the book" first.

Your directory lists all local numbers, as well as numbers for many other communities that you call by long distance. So, except for new or changed numbers, there's generally no need to call for Directory Assistance.

More than 70 per cent of the 17 million calls for Directory Assistance last year were for numbers already listed in the directory. And most of these calls were made by a small percentage of customers while costs of the service were borne equally by all customers, whether they used it or not.

The purpose of the 25¢ charge is therefore to discourage those who call local Directory Assistance unnecessarily.

The charge does not apply to calls for Directory Assistance from hotel/motel telephones, coin telephones, hospitals, mobile telephones, calls for emergency numbers, or from residence customers or members of the household with "Special Problems" such as blindness or other disabilities and who have registered with the Company.

Look in the book!*

It can now save you money as well as time

*Customers without a current telephone directory may obtain one by dialing 1-469-5300 (Monday to Friday: 9:00 a.m. - 4:30 p.m.) toll free; or by dialing the operator to ask for the toll free number.

If you have a "Special Problem" that prevents you from using the telephone directory, here's how you can help us — to help you:

Obtain a Directory Assistance Charge Exemption Form from the local organization representing you because of your particular disability or by mailing the coupon at right direct to the Maritime Tel & Tel Business Office nearest you. After the form is completed and returned to MT&T, you will be notified of the exemption status of your residence service.

Want A Top-Notch Town Crier

Does Digby have its own town crier? If not, perhaps it can take a leaf out of the book of Halifax, whose own town crier is making a name for himself. In fact, if Digby wants its own town crier, Halifax's town crier might consider setting up a training course.

In the midst of the Athletic hurly-burly of Canadians preparing for Olympic greatness the lonely training program of Mr. Peter Cox has gone unnoticed.

Mr. Cox's achievement of fame, if his sincerity is rewarded, will come in the town square of Hastings, England, and not in the great Olympic stadium in Montreal. The lack of notice hasn't been due to Mr. Cox's unwillingness to stand up and shout but because he goes about his regular business while he trains.

Mr. Peter Cox is the official Town Crier of Historic Properties, Halifax and a Choir Presents Program

On December the 14 on Sunday evening the Little River choir presented a cantata, Joy to the World. The Cantata was conducted by organist, Mrs. Bailey Gidney who gave generous hours of time and training.

The choir of men and women were outstanding, each one taking their part in a pleasing manner.

Mrs. Lauriston Tidd was narrator and also took part in singing. Mrs. Allen Denton was soprano soloist and Mr. Royce Elderkin baritone soloist.

The attendance was good and the offering generous.

Rev. J. Kaulback closed the service with a few fitting words and service and prayer.

On Sunday evening December 21st, the Baptist Sunday School, presented a pageant, "And it came to Pass". This pageant included all the Sunday school with Rev. J. Kaulback as director and Eileen Frost as narrator, Mrs. Bailey Gidney as organist.

Special numbers were given by the junior choir-trio by the little Tidd girls solo by little Melanie Elderkin.

This program was closed with prayer.

principal reason why a visit to the restoration development is truly a trip back in time to the end of the 18th Century. Mr. Cox expects to represent Halifax in the 1976 World Championship Town Crier competition which is held annually in England.

While fellow Canadians are seeking to top the speed, height, or distance of the last record holder in their event, Mr. Cox is matching his efforts against those of a legendary figure born about 1770 and reputed to be the finest town crier in North America. Peter Cox's historic mentor and nemesis, George Charker, was said to have the birthdates of 2,000 Haligonians on the tip of his tongue and, as needed, could come up with hundreds of wedding anniversaries. To start, Mr. Cox has had to give at least a hundred pounds away to Charker who was built like a weightlifter and who could be seen and heard by everyone in the crowded street around him. "I can't do anything about the height and very little about the weight", Mr. Cox says, "but I'm not willing to concede anything on voice." Those who have heard Mr. Cox on duty at Historic Properties are willing to bet at least even money against the fabled Charker shouting Mr. Cox. "Twenty years as a scout master either gives you an indestructible voice or turns you into a whisperer. I decided against whispering when I was four."

Peter Cox is now a man with a mission: to give Halifax the most authentic descendant of the famous town criers of North America and Great Britain and to win the town crier championship for Canada. He spends hours of his own time digging up the tiny bits and pieces which are in print about Town Criers and talks, when he can, to historians who specialize in the social

New Federal Minimum Wage April 1

The recently announced new minimum wage for employees in industries under federal jurisdiction will become effective April 1, 1976, Labour Minister John Munro announced.

The minimum wage will go from $2.60 an hour to $2.90 an hour, while the minimum wage for employees under the age of 17 will be increased to $2.65 an hour from $2.35.

The present minimum wage has been in effect since July 23, 1975.

About 20,300 workers will be affected by the increase, which falls within the federal anti-inflation guidelines.

Drugs Are Here To Stay!

Over the last decade in Canada, people's use of chemical substances has increased phenomenally. We have fluoride in our toothpaste, vitamins in our cereals and hundreds of tiny little time pills spilling over our TV screens.

Our way of life has programmed us to expect prepackaged solutions to everyday problems. Stress and tension are no longer seen as part of a normal life, but rather as ills to be treated or cured by ever-increasing numbers of chemical miracles.

The Chemical delusion Because we insist on quick relief of uncomfortable physical symptoms, other discomfort - such as loneliness, frustration, or anxiety - are also seen as diseases to be treated rather than as the natural ups and downs of modern life.

SWIFT - In living memory of husband, father, grandfather Frederick A. Swift who passed away January 28, 1970.
There is some one who misses you sadly,
In a home where you used to be.
There is someone who wanted to keep you
But God willed it not to be.
You left us some beautiful memories
And sorrow too great to be told,
But to us who loved and lost you Your memory will never grow old.
There is always a dear face before us
A voice we would love to hear,
A smile we always remember
Of one we loved so dear.
Friends may think we have forgotten
When at times they see us smile,
But they little know the heartache
Our smiles hide all the while.
God saw you getting tired
When a cure was not to be,
He clasped you in His arms Whispered "Come with me"
Always loved and sadly missed by wife Geneva, daughter Audrey and grandchildren. 25:1ic

FARNSWORTH - In memory of our dear son and brother, Victor James

Wonderful memories of one so dear.
I remember the look on your face if I cried,
Your memory grows sweeter as time travels on,
And I long for your face
And voice that is gone.
Memories are treasures
No one can steal
Death is a heart-ache
No one can heal,
But love and memories never die.
Precious forever my memories of you.
Today, tomorrow and all life through.
Always remembered and sadly missed

THE METRIC KITCHEN

Canadian kitchens are going metric.

Already, the Canadian Government Specifications Board has approved new standards for measuring utensils, based on the millilitre (ml). The millilitre is one-thousandth of a litre and one litre is a bit smaller than a quart.

The four familiar measuring cups will disappear when metric comes into the kitchen. They will be replaced by three metric measures.

The largest will have a capacity of 250 ml (a quarter of a litre and about the size of the present one cup measure). For liquid ingredients, the 250 ml measures will be graduated in 25 ml divisions.

The two other metric measures will have capacities of 125 ml and 50 ml.

Metric measuring spoons will come in sets of five. The largest spoon will be about the size of the one now used to measure ground coffee and will have capacities of 15 ml, five ml, two ml and one ml.

"It's easy to use the metric measures when following a recipe written in metric units," says Catherine Sinnott, a home economist with Agriculture Canada's Food Advisory Services.

"Converting present recipes to metric units will take a bit of juggling with numbers and some kitchen testing."

For instance, a standard chocolate chip cookie recipe calls for 1 1/4 cups of flour and 1/2 teaspoon of baking soda.
Converted to metric units, these become awkward-to-measure amounts of 437.5 ml and 2.5 ml. These amounts need to be rounded out to whole numbers, preferably multiples of 25.
Home economists have revised the recipe to call for 425 ml of flour and two ml of baking soda.

Most of the other ingredients have to be adjusted accordingly. But the amounts of some ingredients such as gelatine and cooking chocolate probably will not have to be changed when converting recipes to metric measures. And of course an egg will remain the same size.

"It's a good idea to learn some common capacities when beginning to think metric," Mrs. Sinnott says.
"For instance, a tea kettle holds about two litres. A bowl of soup amounts to about 250 ml and a glass of juice, 125 ml."

The new metric measuring cups and spoons are not yet available in retail stores.
But glass measures graduated in both ounces and millilitres have been around for some time.

"Practise a little with one of these measures and you'll soon get the hang of cooking
metric," Mrs. Sinnott says.

DIGBY TIGERS TAKE SOLE POSSESSION OF FIRST PLACE

In a game that was rescheduled from January 19 and played on January 26th the Digby Tigers coached by Greg Coogles defeated the Digby Cats by the score of 4-1, thus taking over first place in the Digby-Cornwallis Atom League. Mike Goguen with two goals and singles by Robbie Kynock and Jeff Learn rounded out the scoring for the Tigers. Kimball Nesbitt was credited with the lone score for the Cats. Both teams gave their all and it was very noticeable towards the end of the game that the players were running out of steam. There are four teams in this league, two from Cornwallis and two from Digby and on any given night any team could win, the teams are so even.

Both teams battled on even terms until midway through the third period when Kimball Nesbitt stole the puck in his own zone and on a sole rush beat Cornwallis goalie with a shot to the left hand corner of the net. This was the first time the Cats had defeated the Bruins this season.

Jawbone Draw

Hon. M.E. DeLory, Minister of Lands and Forests, reaches into a barrel in his office to draw the names of three winners in the Department's jawbone contest. These were successful hunters who returned deer jawbones to checking stations. With Dr. DeLory are two officers of the Nova Scotia Wildlife Federation, R.H. Parker, (left) president; and Joseph Y. Hickman (right), vice-president. (N.S. C.I.C. Photo)

Halifax-- Three Nova Scotians won some new equipment for hunting or camp, g. Hon. M.E. DeLory, Minister of Lands and Forests, drew the names of three of the 2,175 hunters who returned deer jawbones to department checking stations.

First prize of a 15-foot canoe went to Everett Reeves, of RR No. 2 South Ohio, Yarmouth County. Rhoda Kelley, of North West Harbour, Shelburne County, won the second prize, a hunting rifle. Third prize, a sleeping bag, was won by Cherie Russell, of New Ross, Lunenburg County.

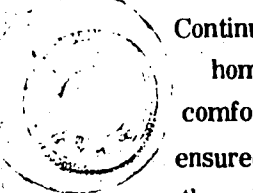

With Dr. DeLory at the draw were two representatives of the Nova Scotia Wildlife Federation, R.H. Parker, President, and Joseph Y. Hickman, Vice-president. Successful deer-hunters in Nova Scotia were requested to return the lower jawbone of the animals they killed to a department checking station. From the rings in the teeth of a deer, Biologists from the Wildlife Division can determine the age of the deer.

With knowledge of the age, sex and location of the kill, the Department's Biologists can determine much about the condition of the province's deer population. This information will help to maintain deer hunting and the necessary deer habitat.

The only combination furnace burning wood, coal and oil that can pay for itself.

SAVE by burning your own wood and trash whenever it is convenient and still enjoy the advantages of a forced air system - even heat distribution - and automatic thermostat controls.

Convenient home comfort

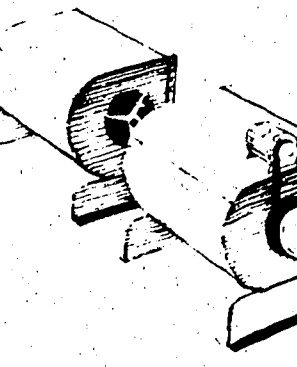

Continuous home comfort is ensured by the dual furnace featuring two combustion chambers and separate thermostat controls. A furnace that lets you sleep uninterrupted; as soon as the temperature drops, the thermostat for the oil furnace takes over and your home continues to be heated to your thermostat setting. This way you can leave your home unattended without risking frost damage, or enjoy year round home comfort with the addition of a central air conditioning unit at the time of installation or at a later date.

Efficient, quiet and trouble-free operation

A powerful high capacity twin blower has been designed for smooth, quiet operation and maximum heat distribution. You'll enjoy even heat distribution and maximum use of the fuel, which only a forced air system can provide. The extra large heat exchanger delivers more heat to the air flowing over it, than heat exchangers in most other furnaces. The wood burning section of the furnace has an added precaution feature: The heat limit control prevents excessive temperatures by closing the damper, thereby avoiding overheating.

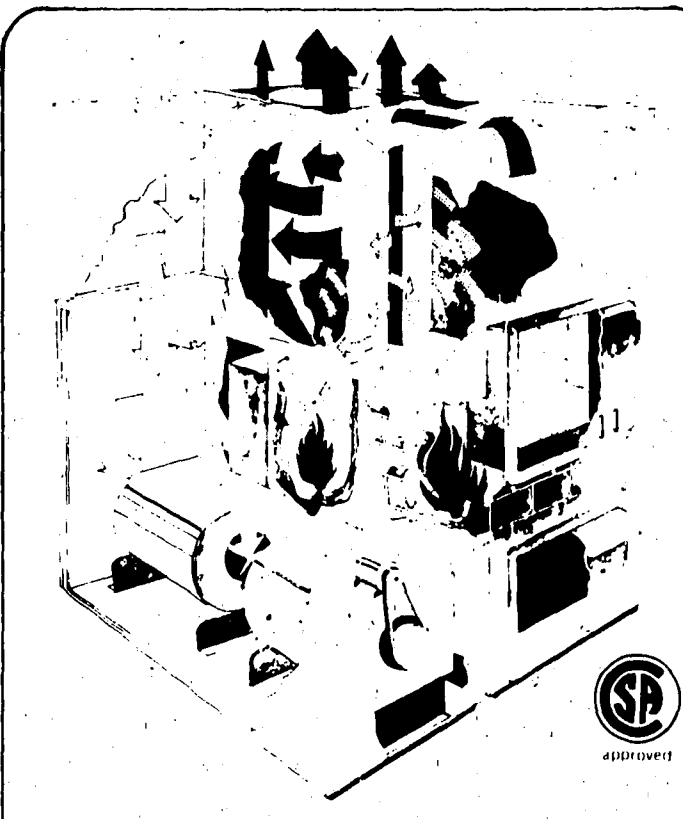

The best insurance against power failures and missed oil deliveries

If ice, storms, or fallen trees, cause power failures, or snow drifts make roads impassable and your fuel oil supplier cannot reach you, you still receive heat from your wood or coal furnace, which can function without the electric blower on the gravity principle.

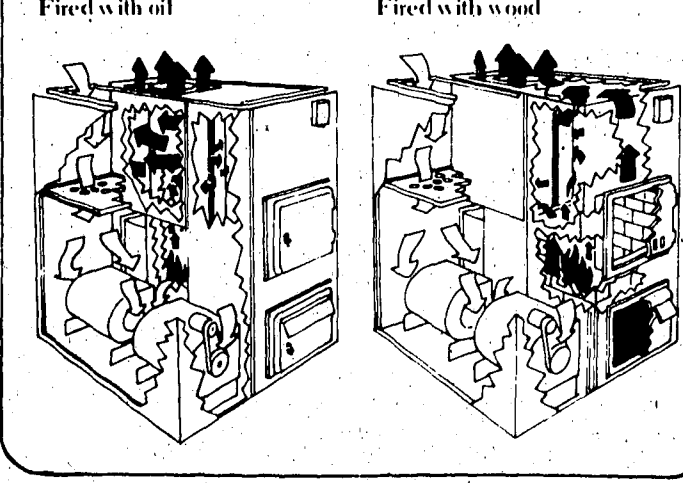

Easy to clean and maintain

The oil burner has been skillfully engineered to exacting tolerances and is built by Duo-Matic for dependable and carefree operation. The two combustion chambers are entirely separate, so that the oil burner does not get fouled by creosote, soot, or fly ash from the wood or coal burner. The furnace is especially designed to allow ready access for cleaning and servicing. REGULAR

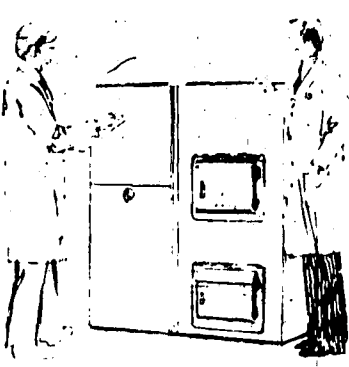

How the furnace works.

SIZE SPUN GLASS DISPOSABLE FILTERS trap air-borne dust particles and allow only dust-free air to circulate throughout your home.

Quality built to last

The entire heat exchanger is made out of heavy gauge steel, electrically welded. The oil section's refractory combustion chamber has been tested to 1427 degrees C (2600 degrees F) to ensure a long life and maximum operating efficiency. The efficient oil burner incorporates an up-to-date flame retention head for the most complete and money saving oil combustion. The solid fuel section has a tough, special fire-brick lining and durable, well designed cast iron grates. The outer casing is made of heavy gauge steel with a baked-on lasting, and decorative finish. The extra large fire door, measuring 14 1/2" x 12", is designed to accommodate large lots.

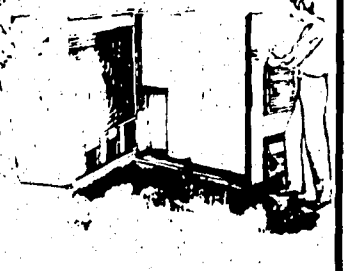

Our continuous quality inspection ensures that you receive a uniformly quality built furnace for years of trouble-free operation. It has full CSA (Canadian Standards Association) approval, after undergoing the most rigorous tests.

Factory guaranteed

The most important part of the furnace, the heat exchanger, carries a ten year warranty. All other electrical or mechanical components are guaranteed for one year against defect.

Easy to install

The furnace comes pre-assembled and pre-wired. For ease of handling it is crated in two modular - easy to fit together main sections, with three accessory packages, complete with simple, easy to follow and fully illustrated instructions for assembly and maintenance.

Christmas In Foreign Lands

The December 18, 1975 copy of Siesta Key Pelican was sent to The Digby Courier office with page 11 marked. That was the page which portrayed Christmas in Foreign Lands. One of the "foreign lands" referred to was Nova Scotia. The description of Christmas in Nova Scotia entitled "Featherbeds and Barley Sugar Animals in Nova Scotia" was written by Constance E. Washburn and refers to Christmas Eve 1913. Connie Washburn is a professional writer who lives in West Hartford, Conn., and is a twin sister of Mrs. Eileen Holcomb. Mrs. Eileen Holcomb was the former Mrs. Eileen Jones of Weymouth. Her son, John, Mrs. Jones and family reside in Weymouth. Mrs. Holcomb knew throughout Nova Scotia and Florida for her talents in painting and related arts has illustrated the Washburn story with one of her prize-winning paintings on gold foil. A scenic pastureland, the picture caption reads, "Somewhere Across the Pasture Our Christmas Tree Is Standing". Mrs. Washburn tells of

BIRD NOTES

No unusual birds around the yard, have my regulars at the feeders, they are up early and eat now until five-thirty. The pigeons are late arriving in the morning and leave early in the afternoon. Had a letter from a friend who is keeping a Barred Owl. It was brought to him with a broken wing, shot. This was mended by a vet and is completely healed, but will it will not be released until food is more plentiful. He had been very quiet but one night he surprised his keeper with two loud hoots. Our old faithful Lesser Black Backed Gu! is still with us, feeding in his usual place. It is now five years that he has been with us. Several flocks of Bohemian waxwings are living around the town. They are feeding on hawthorn berries. How the robins survive is a mystery to me with so much cold weather. If you have any rotten apples or even good ones, cut them up and clear a space on the ground and they will find them. The hawks are still with us, both Red Tailed and Sharp Shinned. I must admit they are beautiful birds but I would rather see them out over open meadows watching for moles and mice than watching for our little birds at our feeders. Had a call from a gentleman last week very upset over finding a frozen puppy. Whether it had died and was left outdoors or just neglected, I do not know. Try and keep your dogs and cats in these cold nights. These little verses will fit in here taken from National Council for Animals Welfare in London, England. It's wrong to be mean to a person, But worse to a dog or a cat; For people can tell a policeman, But animals cannot do that. The birds and cats and the horses, And all other animals too, Are longing for friendly attention And they want to receive it from you. So Long— The Bird Lady.

Legion Officers Installed

A new slate of officers was installed during the regular meeting of the Digby Branch (20), Royal Canadian Legion, on Monday night. The new President is Joe Tanner of Deep Brook. He replaces Gerry Campbell in that capacity. Other executive members include Charlie Francis, First Vice President; Carl Melanson, Treasurer; Ed Knowlton, Secretary; Ralph Wright, Welfare Officer; Jim Webb, Sergeant-at-Arms; Jim Simms, Building Committee Chairman; Freddy Smith, Sports Chairman; Gerry Campbell, Bar Chairman; Norman Kennedy, Membership; Dr. Victor Turnbull, Bursary Committee; Irving Cromwell, Chairman of Ways and Means; Eugene Dexter, Padre and John Igoe, Welfare Committee Chairman. In other meeting business, the Legion decided to offer its hall should its use be desired for Red Cross blood donor clinics. A request was received from Ernest Tufts, District Chairman of the Red Cross Association. Two awards were presented during the evening. A hand gun was presented to Past President Gerry Campbell by Joe Tanner in appreciation for his service as president; and Carl Melanson was presented with a plaque in recognition of his 16 years of service as treasurer.

Digby County Dance Students Chosen For Presentations

Six Digby County dance students from the class of Mrs. Francis Peters successfully competed with students from throughout the Maritime Provinces when auditioned recently in Halifax to perform at the Stage Production entitled "The World of Dance" to be held at the Queen Elizabeth High School on February 29 at 8 p.m. The production is staged by the Canadian Dance Teachers Association and the students were auditioned by Mr. MacNeil, Toronto. The Digby County students did the puppet dance for the audition. The six girls Evette LeBlanc, Renette Belliveau, Evette Belliveau, Jacklyn Gaudet, Karen Thibault and Suzette Muise have entertained senior citizens in Digby and other areas of the county with their dancing skill. There is an approximate total of 100 students in Mrs. Peters' classes held at St. Alphonse School, Joseph Dugas School and St. Bernards. The original choreography was done by the teacher, Mrs. Peters, with the music of I've Got No String from Walt Disney.

Turks And Caicos Welcome Correspondence

Residents down in the Turks and Caicos Islands are looking for friends in Nova Scotia. Their search became known through Derek Hawkins, manager of Conch News, a typewritten weekly newspaper of the British Colony in the West Indies. "From time to time we hear news of continued interest in the Turks and Caicos Islands," Hawkins writes in a letter to the Nova Scotia Communications and Information Centre. "We at Conch News are endeavouring to expand our small business and to increase the number of our friends who are regular subscribers to the newspaper," he continued. "It's difficult from here to make contact, so perhaps you might be able to help us by letting as many people as possible know our address." The address is simply: Conch News P.O. Box 33 British West Indies We welcome correspondence from anybody with a kindly interest in our Islands and would point out that there can scarcely be a better way of keeping in touch than by receiving regular copies of our little newspaper," Hawkins concluded. Both ocean paradises in their own right, Nova Scotia as well as the Turks and Caicos Islands have much in common. And distance, in this case over 3,000 miles, makes friendly hearts grow fonder. Discovered by Ponce de Leon in 1512, the Turks and Caicos Islands lie southeast of the Bahamas, of which geographically they form a part, and north of the island of Haiti and the Dominican Republic. The islands, with a total area of 166 square miles, remained uninhabited until 1678 when Bermudians arrived and established the salt-panning industry. While much of the population of 6,000 is engaged in the production (by solar evaporation) and shipping of salt, it has been replaced as the principal industry by that of frozen crawfish and conch. Only two of the eight Turks islands—Grand Turk (the seat of government) and Salt Cay—are regularly inhabited. The Caicos Group, lying northwest of the Turks and separated from them by a 22-mile deep-water channel, consists of six principal islands: South Caicos, East Caicos, Middle (or Grand) Caicos, North Caicos, Providenciales, and West Caicos. Temperatures in the colony range between 15.5 and 32 degrees centigrade (60 degrees and 90 degrees F.), the hottest months being April to November.

ROBICHAUD-PRIME

On Saturday, September 6, 1975, a lovely fall wedding took place in Pleasant Valley United Baptist Church when Darlene Sharon Prime, eldest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Prime and Raymond Gerard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Robichaud, Meteghan, exchanged marriage vows. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. K. Daw of Tiverton United Baptist Church. Organist was Mr. Eddie Madden, friend of the groom, and soloist was Miss Monette Robichaud, sister of the groom, who rendered several beautiful selections before the ceremony and "The Wedding Song" just prior to the entry of the bride party. She sang "When the Snow Is on the Roses" during the signing of the register. The guest pews were decorated with paper doliies, white and green ivy. The bride entered the church on the arm of her father, who gave her away, while the wedding march was being played. She was gown in a Victorian styled floor length dress, trimmed in lace and long train which fell from the waist. Her shoulder length veil was held in place by a cap style head piece of brocaded flowers with seed pearls. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses, ivy and baby's breath. Miss Margaret Reeves was maid of honour, gown in a floor length dress of yellow, with short puff sleeves and daisy trim. Mrs. Stanley Churchill, and Miss Karen Prime, sister of the bride, were bridesmaids dressed in identically styled gowns of green. They carried arm bouquets of yellow, white and green gladiolus. The flower girl, little Miss Twyla Bethune, wore a long yellow gown, identical to maid of honour. She carried a basket of flowers. The ring bearer was master Brian Goudey. The groom was attended by Thomas LeBlanc. Yvon Robichaud, brother of the groom, and Arthur Prime, brother of the bride, were ushers. The groom and his attendants all wore white tuxedos with black trousers, white shirts with black bow ties. The grooms boutonniere was a yellow rose and the attendants wore a yellow carnation. The mother of the bride wore a floor length gown of green polyester, with a corsage of yellow roses. The grooms mother wore a floor length gown of blue polyester with a corsage of pink orses. A reception followed in the Carleton School where around 200 guests gathered with all good wishes for the newly weds. The brides table was centered with a three tier wedding cake trimmed in white and yellow. The toast to the bride was proposed by her great uncle, Dwight Sabean, of Yarmouth and responded to by the groom. Mrs. MacIohn Bradshaw poured, Mrs. Murray Clements and Mrs. Earl Goudey served the brides table, Miss Hilda White was in charge of the punch table and Miss Rachel Ford was in charge of the guest book. Out of town guests were from Windsor, Lawrencetown, South Range, New Tuskent and Meteghan area. Following the reception, the happy couple left on a honeymoon trip to Prince Edward Island, New Brunswick and Maine. They are residing in Pleasant Valley. The bride is on the staff of the Yarmouth Regional Hospital and the groom is with Inter-Provincial Engineering.

MOREHOUSE-MACDONALD

The marriage of Deborah Ann MacDonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alex MacDonald, to David Embree Morehouse, son of Mrs. Grace Morehouse, Noel, and the late Dr. Charles N. Morehouse, formerly of Sandy Cove, Digby County, took place in the home of the bride's parents, Castle Hill Drive, Birch Cove. Judge M. North officiated at the ceremony. Soloist was Cathy Condron. The bride wore a gown of white silk with marabou trim on the sleeves. Her head-dress was a tiara of pearls and she carried a cascade bouquet of red roses. Bridesmaid was the brides's sister, Karen MacDonald, who wore a gown of pastel green silk and carried a nosegay of green and white mums. The best man was Sandy Amey. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the bride's home. The toast to the bride was proposed by Charles Reardon. The mother of the bride wore a floor-length gown of floral green silk.

STORM HIT AREAS MOP UP

Monday of this week saw much of the debris cleaned up which had been left in the wake of the 118 mile an hour gale which hit most of Nova Scotia and especially Digby County on the Monday previous. While the storm did extensive damage from Clare to Digby, the worst havoc from the storm was felt on Long Island and Brier Island.

While detailed reports are here added of those places which suffered most, scarcely an area within the County escaped. Weymouth flooded with four feet of water through the centre of the town causing loss in many of the stores, garages and service stations. At Riverdale and other areas back of Weymouth trees fell to the ground and mink had to be transferred to safer quarters. One gentleman said he could see 50 trees uprooted as he sat in his kitchen watching the storm. A fishing boat owned by Eldon Doucette, Plympton, was lost and a boat owned by DeMille Raymond damaged.

Trees falling and mobile homes upsetting follow-up the Bay to Digby and on into Bear River. One tree fell on the garage at the Mrs. Hugh Lovering place in Bear River, causing her to make a trip from U.S.A. to take care of the devastation.

Many trees, one after another, toppled in the Fairview (United Church) Cemetery and at the Pines Hotel. Roofs, chimneys, sidings, poles kept tumbling and fires kept police and firemen on the move.

Trees fell on the Neck and at Tiddville, these two lost boats and equipment in the storm belonging to Llewellyn and Elmer.

Miss Coline Campbell, M.P., for South Western Nova and Joe Casey M.L.A., Digby, along with an engineer from the Department of Lands and Forests flew to the Islands to assess the damage and make recommendations to the government for assistance. Hon. Glen Bagnell, Minister of Environment; Hon. Mr. MacEachern, and Hon. Fraser Mooney were also viewing the ruins. Both Miss Campbell and Mr. Casey found more devastation than they could ever imagine. What they found can be read in detail from the accounts submitted to The Digby Courier by the Correspondents in the area.

MORE THAN 40 BUILDINGS GO

by Mrs. Charles MacDormand

February 2nd, 1976 will be well remembered in Westport, for a storm even worse than the hurricanes with winds of 100 plus hitting the tiny island village. Early in the morning the wind hit the dome of the Fire and Recreational Hall and that was completely demolished. All that is left is a jumbled pile of steel. From that time on the wind and sea continued to build up and by noon or shortly after the water front was ravaged. From Southern Point to Dyke Cove the shoreline was a shambles. Of the fishing stands that lined the shore only a few are still standing and they are badly damaged. Over 40 buildings were pulled from the shore.

The sea started picking up around 9:30 a.m. Looking out toward the Southern Passage one could see the towering seas breaking on Dartmouth Point, looking higher than Peters Island. At times the wind picked the water up and blew it across the harbour. The tide which normally at half tide would only be up the beach a short ways was much higher and before high water at 1 p.m., was along with the high wind tearing at the water front - seas towering 100 ft in the air were pounding in, tearing the 10 by 10's from the breastwork as if they were mere shingles. There seemed to be a giant hand reaching out and taking the buildings, first the outer part, and then the rest would just seem to slide right off into the water. There was a tremendous undertow that pulled and tugged.

There have been times in the past when the seas and wind have been high, but most always before high tide they have calmed down without too much damage. Not this time. They howled and pounded with the result that the seas rolled up, washed over the roads, and looked just like a tidal wave rolling up to the front door of many homes on the front street. Cellars were flooded, windows broken, hydro was disrupted until Saturday night. Most phones were in working order, so contact was kept with others.

When Monday night came, unless one had seen the place before and after it could not be imagined what it looked like. It seemed unreal. Traps, buoys, rope, nets, bait barrels, 10 by 10's, rowboats, parts of buildings were all piled up in the streets and front yards. Debris from Raymond Robicheau's general store were piled on the road with merchandise scattered around. It was completely demolished.

The road going into Irish Town was completely washed out. It is said that the water from Pond Cove came up the meadow and ran out this end, but for sure it was just like a river coming over the road. The residents were isolated until the tide went down and then the only way they were able to come and go was on the beach. Only the back street was passable.

A travel trailer owned by Henry Porter was turned upside down, barns were damaged, trees uprooted and windows broken.

After the storm Mr. Bagnell; Mr. Mooney; Mr. Joe Casey, M.L.A.; and Miss Coline Campbell, M.P. came by helicopter to view the damage. A photographer from ATV-News took pictures which were seen on T.V. news. Numerous others have been on the island looking around. One day Mr. Bob Brooks of Provincial Government took pictures to present to officials in Ottawa.

The fishermen have lost their fishing gear, trawls, traps, bait and their fish stands and at present all work is at a standstill and they have no idea at present what they are going to do. The majority of them are veterans of 30 years or more and at this time of life it presents a problem.

Bulldozers were brought in as well as big trucks. The dozer managed to push the debris back to make a one lane road through part of town and the trucks dumped earth in the parts of road washed out, making them barely passable. If another south east wind should come the fill is very likely to go as there is nothing there to hold the earth in, as parts of pavement are in resident's front yards.

The residents of Westport were fortunate that no lives were lost as the air was full of flying objects, each trying to see which could fly through the air the fastest or so it appeared. During the afternoon Mr. Lloyd Frost was hit by a door and had a slight concussion but he is out now.

FREEPORT SEES HARDSHIPS FOR FISHERMEN

by Virginia Crocker

In the wake of the unexpected severe storm that hit Nova Scotia last Monday, the Village of Freeport was left reeling under the impact of the heavy winds and waves that raised havoc around the waterfronts as well as damage throughout the Village. One really needs to make a tour of the community to realize the extent of the damage. Although some of the debris is being cleared up it will take considerable time before it can all be removed from the roads, fields, etc. It is quite likely that some of the buildings, fish houses in particular, will never be replaced.

The damage to the Connor Bros. fish plant is a major disaster to the area as many local residents are employed there. This along with the fishermen losing their boats, gear, etc., will certainly cause hardship to many families depending on the fishery for their livelihood.

If the news broadcasts were viewed the latter part of the week on the CTV network the scenes shown reported to be at

The Connors Bros. fish plant at Freeport was severely damaged during the Feb. 2nd storm. The fish located there were totally destroyed.

High tides resulting from the February 2nd storm left low-lying roads and properties around Freeport in piles of rubbish

Province Requests Aid From Federal Level

The Nova Scotia Government has requested Ottawa to participate with the Province in an over-all assessment of the extensive property damage caused by Monday and Tuesday's storm with a view to obtaining financial assistance.

Hon. Glen Bagnell, Minister-in-Charge of Nova Scotia Emergency Measures Organization, and Joe Casey M.L.A., Digby, have said that Premier Gerald A. Regan has sent a telegram to Prime Minister Trudeau requesting federal assistance. The text of the letter was "As reports came in from remote communities of this province we recognize that massive damage has occurred as a result of high winds and water during a storm February 2nd.

Community disaster conditions exist in parts of Digby County where major parts of communities were flooded or swept away by high seas. Forestry and farm building losses are severe. Major loss of employment is feared due to large scale loss of fishing boats, traps, gear, wharfs and fish plants in the Southwestern area of the province.

The magnitude of damage is so vast that assistance could only be considered in cooperation with the Federal Government.

We respectfully request immediate consideration of assessment and financial assistance.

Our provincial efforts will be coordinated through the E.M.O. Agency of our Government."

In Digby County a number of communities were hard hit by the storm. "Disaster conditions exist in several centres," the Minister said.

"In other areas of the South-Western region the fishing industry was extensively damaged, including boats, traps, gear, wharves and fish plant facilities," the Minister said. "Farming operations were similarly affected."

Because of the prospect of high unemployment in the region as a result of the damage, Mr. Bagnell said "The Cabinet has decided that assistance to restore the communities affected and reduce unemployment could only be undertaken with Federal assistance."

Any Provincial involvement in the provision of financial assistance would be contingent upon federal participation. Assistance under the Federal formula with respect to property damage into consideration such factors as whether insurance was carried, whether the property was insurable, and whether it was public or private property or large business.

EMO will co-ordinate the Provincial Government's program to assess damages.

The agency's first undertaking will be to request all Provincial and Municipal departments and organizations to provide damage estimates regarding their respective areas of responsibility.

Fishermen! Take Heed!!

The Fishermen's Services Branch of the Fisheries and Marine Service, Environment Canada has set up co-ordinating centres for the purpose of taking affidavits of losses for damage to fishing vessels, fishing gear and inshore installations caused by the hurricane-force storm of February 2 1976. The co-ordinating centres are at the following locations:

In Digby County, at the local Fisheries Office, Tiverton and at the Federal Department of Fisheries offices in Digby. The centre at Tiverton will accept affidavits of losses from fishermen on Briar Island and on Long Island, including East Ferry. Fishermen throughout the remainder of Digby Co., and fishermen from Annapolis County should file affidavits of losses at the Digby office. The offices will be open and fishermen may begin filing Wednesday morning, February 11 at 9 a.m.

A co-ordinating centre will also be established in the Fisheries and Marine Service office at Yarmouth and fishermen in Yarmouth County may begin filing affidavits of losses on Wednesday, February 11 at 9 a.m.

An office will be established at the Fisheries Protection office at Barrington Passage to handle affidavits of fishermen in Shelburne County and they can also begin filing on Wednesday, February 11 at 9 a.m.

In the Province of New Brunswick, an office is being set up on Grand Manan Island where losses were also heavy. Fishermen in Grand Manan may file affidavits at the Federal Fisheries office at North Head beginning Wednesday, February 11 at 9 a.m.

Co-ordinating centres in all areas mentioned will remain open daily, including Saturday in most cases, until Tuesday, February 17, 1976.

Indian Dugout Found At Westport

After the storm on Monday, while residents were walking the shore at Little Pond Cove, they were surprised to see sticking out of the wall, the bow end of an Indian dugout. The wall was washed back quite some distance which made the object uncovered. On Sunday a couple of men, with picks and shovels, dug out the rest of it.

The boat is approximately 17 feet long and is in good condition, all intact.

The dugout can be seen in the front yard of John Graham. To date many pictures have been taken by the numerous visitors to the island as well as local residents.

The storm has brought a page of history to the little Brier Island and if it could only talk many are the stories the dugout could tell. In a local history, it is said there were Indians living on the island when the white men came here in 1769 at the time of Champlain. It might be that they were settled at that end of the island. Even if they were not, it is certain now that they were here at some time.

When digging the boat out, the men also dug roots of trees, showing just how far the shore has been eroded by the sea.

GREED

As Ottawa unveiled the details of its anti-inflation program just before Christmas -- a program designed to regulate the earnings and spendings of most Canadians -- consumers continued to push their way through the turn-styles and crowd the escalators of the nation's stores, buying as if there were no tomorrow.

In our greed we have demanded more from the system we live under than it is capable of producing -- high wages, high profits, more goods and services and, above all, more gadgets and comforts than we can possibly use.

The work ethic has become an object of ridicule. The family is under constant assault. Morality is antiquated, if not obsolete and evidence of a lack of self-discipline is everywhere.

In its belated attempts to restrain rampant consumerism, the federal government has attempted to legislate inflation and greed out of existence. But government controls at every level of our existence only serve, too often, to divert us away from attacking the social sins that are manifested by greed and waste.

Restore some sense of discipline in all areas of our lives, a discipline motivated by a sense of co-operation and responsibility and we would be in a better position to attack the awesome problems that are facing us in the last half of the 1970's.

To continue to have all restraints on our lifestyles legislated from above gives us no motivation to do some honest soul-searching and to reaffirm man's essential need to practice his own self-discipline and constraint.

PRAYER OF THANKFULNESS

Many will say "How can you say a prayer of thankfulness when means of livelihood has been wiped out, the accumulation of years of hard work has gone down the drain and outlook on life is grim." Such would be the impression of those who saw the terrifically disastrous results of the storm which hit the province on February 2 and especially in our own County of Digby. The villages on Long Island and Brier Island looked destitute and desolate when the residents attempted to pick up the remnants on Tuesday while handicapped for heat and light.

The amazing thing about the storm of such intensity is the fact that no lives were lost or no who saw the terrifically disastrous results of the havoc otherwise, this cannot help but call for a prayer of thankfulness. There was much opportunity for the sea to claim a life on February 2 and the land was certainly not safe either with debris transported by the force of the gale for hundreds of feet.

There is no need here to comment on the destruction. Our Courier issue of February 5 included much of the facts and this issue is filled with copy and pictures of the storm. We would like to comment, instead, on the stable, mature attitude with which the people, particularly on the Islands faced up to the disaster which happened to them. The "storm of '76", the like of which cannot be remembered at anytime by the oldest residents of the Islands, has once again shown the neighborliness of Digby County people and others in nearby areas. It shows the diligence of hydro workers, E. M. O., Firemen and others who turned to with help above the call of duty.

The storm, too, has put emphasis on the importance of the fishing industry in Digby County and the necessity of planning ahead for such circumstances which occurred on February 2, 1976. For instance, we have heard fishermen at Freeport say that if a good rock breakwater had been built at the Cove, much of the destruction along there would have been eliminated. This and other plans for making the fishing industry more attractive, more comfortable and more safe for humans and property should be kept in mind.

In the meantime, we commend Miss Coline Campbell, M. P. and Joe Casey M. L. A. for moving the machinery to start the ball rolling for establishing the fishermen once more by means of government assistance. Certainly this won't meet everything. There will still be losses. There is also the factor of property insured, property insurable and property not insured which must be figured in the decisions. This takes time. In the meantime, families must live. At least, they have the blessing of no lives lost or physically handicapped because of February 2 events.

Letters To Editor

Lansdowne, Ontario
KOE II.O
February, 2, 1976

The Editor,
The Courier,
The Wallis Print Ltd.,
Digby, N.S.

Dear Sir:

Your readers are probably only too well aware of the problems that can arise with Parks Canada, since you are close to Kejimikujik National Park. We in the Thousand Islands have long enjoyed the presence of the St. Lawrence Islands National Park, established in 1904: 18 islands and a mainland base. The balance of the Thousand Islands, large and small, are privately owned, in some cases for many generations by the same family, and the mainland is a well-settled area also.

You can imagine the reaction, then, to Parks Canada's recent announcement that since they considered the entire area suitable for a "showcase" National Park, they intended to spend $30 million expanding the present holdings from 1.6 to 30 square miles, taking over all the islands and a substantial chunk of the mainland along some 20 miles of the St. Lawrence River. The pronouncement descended on us from Ottawa but no-one in the Federal Government had bothered to consult with the Province, the municipalities, the local planning board, or even the people themselves.

Right across the St. Lawrence is New York state and our property, once we have been bought out and our houses removed, will no doubt provide a lovely playground for American tourists. Parks Canada notes that the region is within a day's drive for 80 million people, and we all know what Canada's population is.

An association, Thousand Islands Area Residents' Association (TIARA) was formed to protect the interests of the local people, and the Minister of Indian and Northern Affairs, Hon. Judd Buchanan, promised them not to expand until a study of the park's impact could be made. A month later, in spite of this promise and with no study in sight, Parks Canada announced that expansion had started anyway; they were sewing up deals for 1,000 acres of island property! Having promised "public participation" to wheedle us into acceptance of the park plan, they then expand with no participation at all in violation of their promise to the people.

If this is the first milestone in our dealings with Parks Canada, what can possibly follow? I thought your readers would be interested to know that the federal government is setting up shop once again with empty promises dangled in front of us like so many coloured beads.

Yours truly,
Mrs. D. Macintosh

To the Editor,
The Digby Courier,
Digby, Nova Scotia

Dear Sir:

I am undertaking a genealogical search for the descendants of Waitstill Lewis, Jr., (1755-1838) of Barrington and Yarmouth, Nova Scotia. Waitstill Lewis, Jr., was the eldest son of Waitstill Lewis, Sr., who married Sarah Bliven, daughter of Edward Bliven, in Westerly, Rhode Island, in 1754. Waitstill Lewis, Sr., ran an inn in Halifax, Nova Scotia before 1775, but returned to Boston to fight in the American Revolution. Some of his children became Americans. Waitstill Lewis, Jr., was a Loyalist. He may have had brothers or sisters in Boston or in other parts of Nova Scotia. His immediate descendants centered around the Nova Scotia counties of Shelburne, Yarmouth and Digby. Some of them went to Boston, and the migration to Boston and the United States continued to the present generation.

A news article in 1964 in the Halifax Chronicle-Herald told of a Lewis Family reunion held in 1878. A reunion is planned for the descendants of Waitstill Lewis, Jr., in 1978, one hundred years after the early gathering, and a preliminary reunion will be held on July 25th of this summer, 1976, at Glenwood Park, Glenwood, Nova Scotia, (near Yarmouth). I invite correspondence from all Lewises or related families with a view to compiling a history of the Lewis Family in Nova Scotia. I would ask most specially for information about Waitstill Lewis, Sr., the American Revolutionary, prior to his marriage to Sarah Bliven in 1754.

Thank you,

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I should like, through your paper, to extend a personal note of thanks to the men of the Digby Co. Power Board and I know that I speak for many others in this area.

If it were not for their tireless efforts this past week, many of us here would have had to lose our winter's supply of freezer food, or a good part of it, on top of the great losses suffered in shops and fishing gear. We were told we might not get power for five more days, but the men came down and worked all day Saturday to repair the cable and fix the lines when they must have been exhausted. As a result, we opened our freezer on Saturday, and had not lost so much as one package of food! Four more days would have been fatal.

Such men and their efforts give us one more thing for which to be thankful in this difficult time. We are certainly thankful to God that not one life was lost, and so few boats.

Thanks also to the Telephone Company which loaned the equipment to enable this job to be done.

We hope these men are getting a well-earned rest this week.

CITIZENSHIP'S HIGHEST HONOUR

In his remarks the Judge reviewed the meaning of citizenship and traced the history of the application of the term "citizen" from the days of the Greek and Roman city states until recent times. He noted that, in the words of a one-time popular song, "People need people" and said that citizenship provides a sense of belonging; of sharing with others.

Judge Cardoza urged his listeners that in equating patriotism with citizenship they should not be guilty of that kind of patriotism or chauvinism that seeks to place one's own land at the top at the expense of other lands. He said love of one's own nation does not imply a downgrading of other countries any more than love of one's family implies despising the families of others.

During his remarks Judge

Westport were views of the Freeport waterfront showing the factory etc., a day or so after the storm.

This fish plant was pounded to pieces by the heavy seas and parts of the building were blown many feet across the waterfront. The machinery, freezer and stored fish were totally lost. Other buildings along this shore front were destroyed and the ferry slip blocked by wreckage for some time. Of course, the ferry was unable to cross during the heavy winds but the Life boat stationed at Westport managed to pick up Capt. Henry Prime and his crew at the wharf. At the height of the storm the dragger "Lady Cindy" owned by Capt. Prime broke loose and was blown up the Passage. The Life boat managed to get along side the boat and Capt. Prime and men scrambled aboard the dragger, started the engine, and took the boat to a safe anchorage.

The road around the entire Cove area was gutted out in places by the force of the heavy winds and water. Debris of all kinds was left in the roads when the water receded. The road was closed to traffic from the Bridge around the Cove until Wednesday when repairs were made and a bulldozer cleared the rocks, etc., to make a lane for cars.

The front road along the water front was completely blocked with boats, rocks, logs, etc., and had to be cleared by bulldozer also before traffic could move. Before that about two feet of debris had to be walked over before people living along that road could get to and from their homes. Most of the front yards were left with buoys, lobster bait and all manner of debris. Even some had buoys hanging in their trees and bushes. Many cellars, 100 feet or more from the water front, were flooded with salt water and some wells around the Cove filled with the salt water from the waves. One of the residents that lives near by stated that "Round Rock" was moved somewhat by the force of the waves.

Fish houses on the front road containing fishing gear, bait, etc., were lost or damaged. The only buildings left standing along here are the "Old Barber Shop" Wm. Haines' home, somewhat damaged, the Legion Hall, damaged somewhat, the Mason Hall and one fish house belonging to Mr. E. Powell. These are what is left standing from MacIntyres' store to the new breakwater. One hundred feet was lost off the end of this breakwater and the fishermen of the area felt that the damage done in the Cove area happened as a result of the end of this breakwater going. Until this is repaired, in the event of another storm the Cove area will be threatened again. They feel that a rock break the same as across the Cove is needed to make a safe shelter for the Cove boats. Walter Ryan Jr., has a fish house in his yard that was pushed undamaged about 100 feet from the water front onto his property.

Lobster cars owned by Mr. Ernest Powell, Lloyd Prime and Edward Young were damaged and lobsters were lost.

Boats belonging to Clifton Thurber, Raymond Harris, Melvin Tibert Sr., Hugh Haines and two boats of Raymond Thurber's were smashed up. One boat of Raymond Thurber's had just arrived new from the boat yard a few days previously. The boats of Farrell Monroe, Eugene Titus, Melvin Tibert, Jr., were damaged. Kevin Guier's, Joe Sullivan's and Walter Ryan's boats ended up in the road in front of MacIntyre's store, all damaged considerable.

At the Islands Consolidated School, the building was evacuated at noon. Teachers drove many of the students who weren't being bussed to their homes as walking was too dangerous. The buses couldn't get around the cove because the wind and waves had washed out the road and damaged the bridge. The students affected were taken to other homes and put up until it was fit to get to their own homes. Westport students couldn't get over to Freeport school in the morning since the ferry was not operating. At 12:45 when the janitors went to close the school, the entire roof of the elementary department wing blew off, scattering insulation, shingles, and other materials for about 1/2 mile. About 25 villagers came to the aid of the janitors and supervisor and carried all desks, books and materials from the four classrooms and the hall library down to the high school section. Ceiling and light fixtures are still intact but snow or rain could damage what is left. Mr. Crocker, the janitor worked at the school through the days and nights until power was resumed keeping an auxiliary generator operating to prevent the pipes from freezing. The supervisor, Keith Manzer states that school will be resumed this week on a shift basis with the elementary students starting classes at 8:00 a.m. until 12:00 and the high school from 12:05 until 4:35.

On Friday a temporary covering of tar paper and lathe was placed on the roof. It is hoped that a contractor will be on the job repairing the roof as soon as possible with the weather permitting.

Many trees were uprooted, buildings blown down, roofs and barns damaged. A barn owned by Howard Prime was flattened. The cattle and a horse were saved but a badly injured pony had to be destroyed. A garage owned by George Howard collapsed on his truck and he is having a difficult time trying to free it from the wreckage. Chimneys, T.V. antennas were blown down, windows smashed by blowing debris and many wires down.

The hydro was off in our area from Monday morning until Thursday afternoon. Many homes experienced frozen water pipes due to the power failure and business was booming for those people who had auxiliary generators to sell to those who

Dr. A. H. Leighton, who was recently presented with the U.S. Mental Health

Cardoza explained the process of securing citizenship in Canada and outlined the requirements for Canadian citizenship. He noted that a Bill to create a new Canadian Citizenship Act is at present before the Parliament of Canada and said the provisions of this Bill will greatly alter citizenship requirements if the legislation is passed in its present form.

Following his direct presentation, Judge Cardoza answered a number of questions from students. He also explained that persons who are Canadian citizens can secure proof certificates and outlined how this is done.

At the morning session on Monday Judge Cardoza was introduced by Mrs. Carolyn Brown and the thanks of the students were expressed by Gertrude Melanson Association Research Achievement Award, has also been honoured recently by the American Public Health Association with its Lapouse Award for research in epidemiology.

In connection with the MHA Research Achievement Award, the $10,000 stipend which accompanies the award was presented by Dr. Leighton immediately upon its receipt to Harvard University where it will be used in support of further research in the field of mental health.

Dr. Leighton, who is well known in the Digby area, is Professor Emeritus of Psychiatry at Harvard, having retired from the faculty early last year. At present the 67 year old former Philadelphian is Professor of Psychiatry at Dalhousie University in Halifax, and has a home at Joggins Bridge.

could afford to buy them. Families who had heat were sharing their homes with neighbors until the power was restored.

Older residents say that never in their memory was there ever a storm such as this one and it will long be remembered by all of us who were here on Monday. One wonders how all the wreckage will be cleared away and if Freeporters will like the altered looks of their Village.

On Friday the M.L.A., Mr. Joe Casey and Miss Coline Campbell, M.P., viewed the damage via helicopter. Mayor Haliburton of Digby plus many more interested people have been on the Islands to see the havoc raised by the elements.

Members of the media have been on both Islands taking pictures and gathering facts concerning this storm in our disaster area.

TIVERTON FISHERMEN TO CARRY ON

by Mrs. John Outhouse
Islanders who witnessed the worst, the most destructive and disastrous elemental storm ever to hit the area, say they will be a long time recovering from the sights, sounds and destruction it produced. They say there has never been a storm in the Islands' history to compare with that of Monday, February 2nd.

Winds which were reported to have reached 118 knots uprooted trees which lodged against hydro wires, plunging the two Islands into an existence without lights and warmth from Monday at 10:45 a.m. until Thursday afternoon. Telephone service in some areas of the Islands were disrupted also.

The heavy winds and tides which far exceeded the usual height of 24-27 feet caused more destruction and havoc at one time than has ever been known in the history of the Islands.

Imperial Oil dealer, Mr. Shirley Elliott and his assistant, Mr. Fraser Outhouse of Tiverton were scheduled to make deliveries at Westport that morning, but because of the rough seas between Freeport and Westport, the ferry was not crossing. Mr. Outhouse said they sat in the truck, some distance back from the ferry landing watching the seas roll in. He compared them with a tidal wave, they were so powerful and tremendous in size. As they swept over the land, he was horrified to see Connor Brothers fish plant being pushed in ahead of the wave and one after the other of the fish houses literally tossed aside by the powerful stroke of the sea.

At the same time, the "tidal" wave rushed up through the centre of Westport leaving destruction in its wake and completely demolished a store belonging to Raymond Robicheau. The remains of the store were found on Freeport beach the following day.

At the "Cove" at Tiverton, fish houses fell before the impact of the tide and wind. Hilton Sollows, who with his wife was visiting on the mainland, was unaware that his boat had tossed loose of its moorings and drifted out to sea beyond Boars Head. His new fish house and several others were ripped to destruction. Nothing was salvaged.

Further up the beach, a building belonging to Leonard Small and leased by fishermen, Bradford Perry Jr., Edgar Outhouse and Murland Outhouse for the purpose of baiting trawl, storing fishing gear, etc., was swept off its foundation. The upper story of the building is said to be one of Tiverton's oldest landmarks. It was said to have been established during World War One years, and served as an office for a fish buyer at that time. It was later used as a barber shop by the late Fred Outhouse and later his son, Milton Outhouse.

The platform leading to the fish house of Kendrick Outhouse was completely wiped out leaving the building intact.

The Islands have been described as a "a pitiful looking sight." These men who have spent a lifetime accumulating and establishing a livelihood have seen it wiped out in seconds. They feel they can never replace the value of what they have lost. Some are not sure they will rebuild because of the tremendous expense involved, and others will have to find a new location where they can carry out their trawl baiting, etc. However, in this area, fishing is the main occupation which in turn gives employment to workers in fish plants and factories and keeps the general stores in operation. Most of the men feel they cannot just sit back and regret their unreplaceable loss but say they will seek assistance from the government and attempt to carry on.

WAVES TAKE LIGHTHOUSE

by Mrs. J. Cosman
Weymouth and area on Monday, witnessed a tidal wave, high winds and heavy seas which smashed fishing vessels against rocks, or drove them from the sea to the road by Ray Thurber's. Some were destroyed in the storm.

The Lighthouse at New Edinburgh was washed away from its foundation and broken in two, and the wharf damaged.

The Village of Weymouth was flooded with water about five ft. Stores were flooded, leaving wet groceries, clothes, etc., on the floor.

Mr. and Mrs. Israel Melanson were rescued to safety by a boat.

A Shell Service Station owned by Walter McAlpine, suffered serious damage as half of the station was blown away. Weymouth Motors also suffered serious damage to their cars and window damage, also all electrical equipment.

Many trees fell on buildings, and uprooted near the homes. A power failure was experienced from Monday until Thursday leaving homes without heat, water and lights. In most areas the power has been coming on and off.

Mayflowers In February

It can rain and it can blow but such weather elements cannot phase the modest little mayflower. While tall stately trees bend and finally break with the gale the little mayflower thrives. Clifford (Kippy) Vidito brought to the Courier office one of a bunch of mayflowers he had picked last week in the budding stage. They were found in the moss near the track in what was known as Abramson's pasture. Rain water opened the buds.

DEATH

Mrs. Gertrude Amero of Plympton Station, N.S. Age 80 years expired the 23rd January, 1976.

Mrs. Brenda Campbell of Conway, N.S. Age 51 years expired the 24th January, 1976.

IN MEMORIAM

MULLEN-In loving memory of our dear son Brady Neil Mullen who passed away January 31, 1962.

In our hearts your memory lingers
Sweetly, tender, fond and true;
There is not a day dear Brady
That we do not think of you.

Treasured memories keep you near
As time unfolds another year;
Memories are treasures that no one can steal,
Death is a heartache that no one can heal.

Unseen, unheard, you are always here.
In the house where you used to stay
There is someone who wanted to keep you
But God planned it another way.

Always loved and remembered by MUM, DAD, FIVE SISTERS, FOUR BROTHERS AND UNCLE NEVINS. 27:1ip

TRASK-In loving memory of husband and father Spurgeon Alfred Trask who passed away one year ago, January 27.

Calm and peaceful he is sleeping
Sweetest rest that follows pain;
We who loved him sadly miss him
But trust in God to meet again.

Always remembered by WIFE GERTRUDE AND FAMILY. 27:1ip

the feeding of roots or culled vegetables with the use of straw as a roughage, any adjustments that are to be made should be made gradually and should be very carefully calculated to give adequate nutrition with minerals and proteins that are necessary for a balanced ration.

Farmers should also calculate the value of the feeds that they have available to them. Grain may be substituted for hay, but this depends on price. Again, culled potatoes or other vegetables can be used as a very adequate feed, providing there are supplements given to make up the nutritional shortages that occur when there is a major change in your feeding program.

Farmers who have hay for sale should advertise it and farmers who have to purchase hay, should look for it close to their home community, because transportation costs will be a significant factor in deciding how best to utilize your present stored feed and what is the best and most economical way to supplement it to meet your requirements for the remainder of the winter.

All residents of Annapolis Royal will be receiving interim tax bills amounting to 50 percent of taxes paid in 1975.

Taxes will be due on April 1 with a discount of three percent allowable until April 30.

Interim billing is being necessitated because of proposed Provincial legislation regarding education costs.

TOWN OF ANNAPOLIS ROYAL

More Flexible Maternity Benefit

Working women eligible for maternity benefit under the Unemployment Insurance Act will have a more flexible period to collect this benefit as a result of legislation which becomes effective today.

The provisions are contained in Bill C-16, known as the Omnibus Bill on the Status of Women, which was passed last June by Parliament.

It permits women to collect up to 15 consecutive weeks of benefit during a period beginning as early as eight weeks before the expected birth of the child and ending as late as 17 weeks after the actual birth.

Under the former legislation, maternity benefit was payable for 15 consecutive weeks. However, the period during which it was payable was restricted to eight weeks before the expected week of confinement, the week of the birth and the following six weeks. As a result, women who wished to take a shorter pre-natal leave, or who gave birth before the expected week of confinement, were unable to receive benefit for the maximum period.

Women may now choose when they wish to receive their 15 weeks of maternity benefit within a 26-week period. Also, the new legislation is in line with flexible maternity leave provisions of labour legislation in some provinces.

CTV FEATURE FILM—Why Rock the Boat?—Montreal's newspaper world of the 1940's in ribald retrospect, with Stuart Gillard (above) as the bashful fledgling reporter Harry Barnes, eager to move from academia into the mainstream of life and love. Henry Beckman plays the penny-pinching glowering tyrant of an editor who hires Harry to work for the hopelessly antiquated Daily Witness. Also starring Tili Leek as Harry's romantic interest and Ken James as the inevitable office cynic and chief romantic advisor.

CROSS-COUNTRY SKIING is a growing sport that provides excellent family fun and exercise. It also produces healthy appetites that can be more than satisfied by roasting delicious and nourishing hot dogs over an open fire.

BOOTS:

Boots should feature moulded soles that are standardized to fit bindings.

When the boot is laced, it should feel snug with 1/2" to 3/4" free space at the toe. Wear one very light pair of wool socks and or regular pair of wool socks to fit boots when you buy them.

BINDINGS:

Toe bindings with a set of pins which are clamped down by a front lever are the most popular. There are many excellent brands.

CLOTHING:

As you ski cross-country, you increase your circulation and need an adjustable clothing system. The answer is layers of light clothing that can be removed and that will not restrict free arm and leg movements.

Wool (for socks and sweaters) and cotton (for underwear) are fibres that breathe and allow moisture to escape.

Synthetic stretch blends are ideal for outerwear. Pullover tops with large centre pockets (for snacks, wax, etc.) are a good design. Gloves make it easier to grip poles.

FOOD:

Cross-country skiing is a continuous form of exercise and you are continually burning calories. In order to provide the body with quick energy, foods such as raisins and other dried fruit sweetened chocolate, and nuts are often brought along.

If you are planning to enjoy more than two hours on the trail, you will need a more substantial food supply, and this can include ready to eat wieners or other nutritious cooked sausage products.

Hot drinks can be made from instant plus boiled snow (if clean snow and fire are available).

And a word about fires if you are doing outside cooking. First, make sure that local regulations permit them. Start them in well-ventilated areas where there is no danger of carbon dioxide inhalation. Be prepared to damp down or extinguish your fire if it seems to be spreading. Make sure your fire is completely out after you are through with it. Also, be sure and clean up your camp site. If there are no refuse cans about, tote your own plastic garbage bag and drop it off at the nearest disposal point.

Lightness should be the overriding factor in determining what kinds of foods and containers are brought along. Of course, nothing tastes better under the open sky than a lunch loaded with homemade goodies — and roasting wieners over an open fire.

House Of Roth's 8th Ball

On Saturday evening, Feb. 14th, House Of Roth will hold its 8th annual Sweetheart's Ball. At that time, a square dance couple will be awarded the honor of serving as House Of Roth's Sweethearts for a year's time. Retiring as the 1975 Sweethearts, are Lewis and Beattie Bent of Belleisle.

On March 6th and 7th, there will be a Provincial Exchange with New Brunswick. Sponsoring the event are House Of Roth callers, Gloria and Johnnie Roth, with Beaux and Belles of Saint John, N.B., and their caller, Ron Lowe, formerly of Clementsport, now of Saint John.

Nova Scotia dancers will travel to Saint John via the Princess of Acadia on March 6th, and be met by a 'Buddy Couple' who will take them to the Dance, called by the three callers mentioned above.

The dancers will then go to homes or motels, and visit with Saint John dancers until time on Sunday the 7th, to return to Nova Scotia via the Princess again.

Any dancer couple desiring to go, may contact House Of Roth for further information.

Reverting To 1975 Assessment Is Out

Hopes by the Council of the Municipality of the District of Digby to revert to the 1975 Assessment Roll for figuring 1976 taxes for the ratepayers is out. Hon. Fraser Mooney, Minister of Municipal Affairs for the Nova Scotia government, made that clear to councillors who met with Mr. Mooney at the Court House in Digby on Monday afternoon for two hours. With just as much definiteness Mr. Mooney gave the Council the understanding that he was unable to do anything to have the 1976 assessments lowered.

Concern of the ratepayers of the Municipality of Digby was aroused when the 1976 assessment notices were released in January which revealed that properties (principally land) were assessed by an increase of 300 per cent and in many cases much more than 300 per cent over 1975 assessments. Total assessment in 1975 was $28,152,145, in 1976 it was raised to $6,572,365. These properties were supposed to be assessed at market value. The last complete re-assessment was in 1967, it is understood.

Warden Wilfred Swift presided at the meeting and placed before the Honorable Mr. Mooney, the concerns of the ratepayers and the hopes of the council to revert to the 1975 assessment figures instead of using the 1976 figures which were considered unfair. Mr. Mooney classified this as illegal and told Council that it was neither in his power nor in the power of the Digby Municipal councillors to revert to the 1975 assessment. Mr. Mooney remarked that it is all laid out in the law and the only recourse is for ratepayers to appeal before the assessment appeal board if they feel their assessment is wrong or unfair.

Councillors tried to reason and plead with Mr. Mooney at the meeting to see their position and what they termed as unreasonable assessment valuations without equality. Mr. Mooney repeated over and over again his stand which expressed that there was nothing he could do as "it is all provided in the assessment act." There is nothing he can do, Mr. Mooney advised, to change the assessment act unless discrepancies charged by the councillors are proven by the Appeal Court to be true and the Appeal Court be advised is their answer. Mr. Mooney reminded Council that a complete re-assessment had not been done since 1967, land values had gone up, especially land with water frontage. His remarks supported the Nova Scotia Assessment Act, its procedures and its process of training assessors. He compared them to the best anywhere.

Where does the man of the street turn, asked Warden Swift when satisfaction cannot be obtained from the Appeal Board. What good is there for them to appeal when they can't buck up against such as the assessors?

Councillor Arthur Rice replied to a remark by Mr. Mooney that politicians should not interfere. What happens said Mr. Rice if something is wrong with the assessment, must not someone act? Mr. Mooney's reply was that they could go to the judge of the County Court.

Councillor Rice, supported by other Councillors, suggested that a three-man appeal board as in some years back should be revived.

Councillor L. E. R. Winchester advised the minister of increases in assessments during each of the years from 1967 and he had figured over the nine year period that there was an 800 per cent increase in assessment. He asked the minister to account for the difference when the Farm Land Board values an agricultural property at $175 per acre and it is assessed at $340 an acre. He also asked for an explanation why land in Smith's Cove of interest to the Provincial Government has decreased in assessment evaluation. He also wanted information on what can be expected on grants in lieu of taxes with the new assessment.

Warden Swift told of land on the Island which two years ago was in great demand but now no one is coming to buy land. Mr. Mooney felt that as long as the buyer was getting a bargain he bought up land but after the Islands realized the value of land and charged it the market dropped.

Councillor Rice asked Mr. Mooney just what sort of information would satisfy him to prove the councillors, elected representatives of sound mind, would have to give to prove they are right. What can we do so we'd show a glimmer of right. Mr. Rice charged that the local people have lost local contact over local problems and Council would like to see the Appeal Board back to its local place.

Councillor Helen MacNeil told Mr. Mooney that Council had hoped to get some advice and direction from the minister but no matter what local situations were presented he had no assistance to offer nor could he be convinced. Both Mrs. McNeil and Councillor Ervin Marshall asked what will happen to property on which the people cannot pay taxes. Only by the good graces will people be able to retain their homes and properties. Mrs. MacNeil said that anything which he might do to resolve the problems would make Council grateful.

Councillor MacNeil felt that Council had a first duty to the people they serve. She said common sense shows something is wrong. She remarked that "we are honest people" and the intent was to ask you (Mr. Mooney) what in all conscience can you do.

Heated arguments still flew back and forth between minister and Council, especially, when the suggestion was made that an outside assessor be asked to appraise the properties. What would happen one councillor asked if 99.9 per cent of the ratepayers signed a petition that they were not in favor of the assessor.

Judge H.B. Dickey Dies In Kentville

One of the province's widely-known jurists, Judge Horace Blair Dickey, K.C., 80, died at his home, Webster Court, Kentville.

Although he had officially retired some years ago, Judge Dickey was active until his death as a substitute judge in provincial magistrate's court.

Judge Dickey was a native of Kings County.

He joined the Canadian Army in 1917, serving with the Canadian Garrison Artillery in France and on his return to Nova Scotia, he re-entered Dalhousie University Law School and graduated in 1925.

The young lawyer articulated with the late right-Honorable J. L. Ilesley in Kentville. Judge Dickey was admitted to the Nova Scotia Bar May 26, 1925.

Judge Dickey, who was unmarried, retired in 1961. In addition to his continued activities as a provincial magistrate he was a replacement in family and juvenile court.

Judge Dickey was active in many community groups and a keen participant in curling as a member of the Glooscap Club. He was a member of the Royal Canadian Legion, branch 6.

In the Masonic Lodge, Judge Dickey was past master, Kentville Lodge; past district deputy grand master, Kings District and a member of the Order of Scotland. He was trustee of the United Church of St. Paul and St. Stephen for several years.

The funeral service was held Wednesday at 2:30 p.m. from the United Church of St. Paul and St. Stephen, Rev. Ian MacDonald officiating.

A Royal Canadian Legion memorial service was held 7 p.m. Tuesday at the funeral home, followed by a Masonic service at 7:30 p.m.

Appointments Made To Water Commission

Seven appointments to the Digby Water Commission were made at the meeting of the Digby Town Council. Two stipulated from the Council are the mayor and one other councillor. Those chosen were Mayor Charles Haliburton and Deputy Mayor Philip Robertson. The members at large are Thomas Cleveland; Guy VanTassell; Vaughn VanTassell, Fire Chief; Robert Morgan and Duane Kenley. These are required to be residents of Digby and own property.

Councillor Gordon Ellis felt that those on the Commission should have knowledge of the situation and know what they are there for as water is so important to the town.

A resolution to borrow $31,000 for constructing water lines as in the sewer contract was carried with two dissenting votes, those of Councillor Ellis and Councillor Eileen Chipman. Councillor Chipman moved that the telephone be removed from the Tourist Bureau. The motion was lost for want of a seconder. Councillor Ellis felt figures should first be obtained for it might cost more to remove the phone and have it installed again in the summer than to pay the charges for retaining it.

Finale

And hands of those long-lost shall beckon me away
If, in compassion, Thou would'st grant me one Last tender boon, dear Lord, then would I pray:

Warrant Officer Carl STARK, CFB Greenwood, 39, (right) is receiving the first clasp to his Canadian Forces Decoration. Base Commander, Colonel A. Pickering, made the Accounts Section at CFB Greenwood. He is married to the former Joan Marie LeClair of Summerside, P.E.I., and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sydney STARK, Culloden, Digby County, N.S.

Resolution Ready For Minister's Approval

By regular motion at the meeting of the Digby Town Council on Monday, February 2 the Minister of Municipal Affairs, Hon. Fraser Mooney, will be requested to pass approval on the sum of money authorized by ratepayers for construction of the third phase of Digby's sewer project. The vote was not unanimous. Two negatives votes, those of Councillor Eileen Chipman and Councillor Gordon Ellis, were recorded. Councillors felt the resolution should be dealt with as soon as possible to avoid delay in construction.

Councillor Chipman felt that since the resolution has not yet been approved by the Department of Municipal Affairs there is no rush and suggested that having called two ratepayers meetings for the purpose, a third could be called. Neither a nay vote of 42-36, nor a positive vote of 84-80 had indicated the voice of the people she remarked. "This is an unjust society," Councillor Chipman said.

Under discussion of tax bills Councillor Chipman expressed the opinion that ratepayers taking care of their tax bills within the stipulated time should be getting more than two percent discount. She suggested five percent. She felt that if wastes were cut down, enough could be saved to give the people five percent. It was decided that the Finance Committee bring in recommendations regarding any discovered waste.

Watch Out For The Flu Bug

A growing number of Nova Scotians are being stricken with influenza. Dr. J. J. Stanton, Chief Administrator of the Department of Public Health said the experience here is in keeping with what is occurring all across Canada.

He said the outbreaks are traceable to a fairly common influenza "B" strain of virus.

Dr. Stanton advised that people begin to suffer the common symptoms of influenza—chills, sore throat, soreness in the bones, nasal congestion and coughing—should immediately go to bed. Attempting to continue to work and carry on a normal schedule will only lead to the further spread of the virus and possible complications, he said. He advised that if the condition continues for a long period of time, or complications set in a doctor should be consulted.

There is really no effective way of combatting the influenza, with the exception of bed rest, and forcing of fluids into the body.

The Public Health Official also said the Public should curtail visiting at Hospitals, and especially senior citizen and nursing homes. Elderly occupants of these homes are more susceptible to catching the influenza virus and developing complications.

Dr. Stanton also suggested that people who are currently in poor health or suffering from chronic conditions should avoid public places and public gatherings until the high incidence of influenza has passed.

Brooks, Mrs. Lillian Clayton, Benjamin Height, Mrs. Anne Kaye, Mrs. Del MacInnes, Mrs. Helen Matheson, Mrs. Jean Raymond, Mrs. Lois VanTassell.

Trustees are Rev. R. L. Stevens, Chairman; Donald Fleet, Secretary; Boyd Ellis, Roscoe Handsaker, Gerald Hoare, Reigh Jayne, Richard Milberry, George O'Neil, Sherman Rice, Clayton Snow, Russell Stonehouse and Dr. D. G. Black, newly elected.

It was decided to retain the special Debt Retirement Committee to be activated if the necessity arises. On the committee are Mrs. D. G. Black, Mrs. Florence Snow, Mrs. William Clayton, Mrs. A. Lawley, Sherman Rice, Russell Stonehouse and C. C. McInnis. The committee was praised for their excellent work.

Mrs. Rae Stevens' report for the Foster Parents Plan was presented by Rev. Mr. Stevens. Wider distribution of Foster Parents Plan information to the church members will be attempted. Mrs. Venetta Snow's report on the United Church Observer showed a gain of ten subscribers in the church in 1975.

It was decided to order the Upper Room by the year's supply.

Reports were presented for the Session by Mr. Wright, clerk; Milton Atkinson, church treasurer; Mrs. Snow, Manse; Donald Fleet, trustees; Mrs. Gloria Reid, United Church Women; Mrs. Bryson Denton, U. Elm Tree Protection

Dutch Elm Disease, spreading in a westerly direction along the Annapolis Valley, has been spotted as far west as Paradise.

Despite the advance of the disease-spreading elm bark beetle, no great concern is yet appearing in Digby County. A Dutch Elm Disease Seminar held in Digby last week attracted only a small turnout. If this indicates the interest in saving the elms, commented disappointed Ag. Rep. Bruce Gilliatt, "I wonder how concerned we should be about them."

Mr. Gilliatt expresses fear people will only become concerned when the trees are diseased - when it's too late. If the elms are to be protected, he warns, it must be done before the disease appears.

As far as the Digby County agricultural representative is concerned, the onus is on the town council whether any money is spent to do anything to protect the elms.

Prior to the seminar, Mr. Gilliatt and Don Marks, Tree Pest Extension Office, Canadian Forestry Service, met with town Clerk Glenn Pitman to discuss the disease and its implications.

Mr. Gilliatt said the importance of doing something before the disease appears here, was brought out in the discussion.

The desirability of having a complete tree sanitation program, specifically aimed at trimming deadwood out of trees, was also brought up in the discussion. The elm bark beetle is attracted to trees with dead materials.

The danger of dead tree limbs was also brought up. It was noted that law suits can result from dead limbs falling on people. The discussion continued as to how dead limbs can be removed (hire local firm etc.).

Mr. Marks considered the tenders which the town received or tree removal are extremely high. He felt the work could be done for less money.

After the discussion, Mr. Marks, Gilliatt and Frank Robinson, took an inspection tour of trees in the town. Mr. Marks noticed that the trees which have been pruned were not done properly. Long limb stumps lead to rot and disease and, on elm trees, are a good spot for bark beetles, says Mr. Gilliatt.

At the seminar, Mr. Marks gave a talk and slide presentation on the problem. His address began by outlining some of the disease's history. He then analysed the disease and outlined some sanitation procedures.

"There is no known cure for Dutch elm disease," Mr. Marks stated. "Infected trees usually die, provide additional breeding material for bark beetles and soon become hazardous. Although it is impossible to completely eradicate this disease, from an area, there are control measures which can significantly reduce the number of new trees infected each year."

The object of the control program, according to the speaker, is to prevent breeding and feeding by elm bark beetles. Although he noted, control measures are costly "and can only be justified where individual trees have a high value..." a continuous control program is most likely to cost less than the eventual removal of the enormous number of dead trees which will accumulate if no control is practiced. In addition, it removes trees which otherwise can become hazardous to life and property."

Dutch elm disease is caused by a fungus chiefly transmitted by the elm bark beetle. The first infection in Canada was discovered in 1944. Within 15 years it had killed between 600,000 and 700,000 elm trees in 55 Quebec counties.

Donat Lacroix Acadian Folk Singer At Ste. Anne's

The author of the song "Viens voir l'Acadie" (Come and see "Acadie") DONAT LACROIX will give a recital of Acadian folk songs, Saturday February 14 in the College Sainte-Anne chapel.

Please take note that the concert will start at 8:30 p.m., a half hour later than usual, because of the evening church services.

This is not DONAT LACROIX's first visit in the area. Born in the fishing town of Caraquet, New Brunswick, he is familiar with the sea, he is familiar with the fisherman, and these are the main topics of his songs.

He is also a full-fledged

Acadian. He loves his "Acadie", he loves to sing his "Acadie" and invites everyone to sing along with him. This makes him most popular and sympathetic to his audience. We know ahead of time that on the French Shore of the Saint Mary's Bay he will be at ease just as much as in Caraquet or in Shippagan in New Brunswick, because he will discover the same kind of people, people who sing, who feel, who breath the same way....

Well, this Acadian folk singer, DONAT LACROIX, will be in Church Point at The College Sainte-Anne on Saturday February 14. Do not miss him.

Seeking Apple Blossom Festival Princess

On motion of Councillor Gordon Ellis, the Digby Town Council decided on Monday evening to contact the social clubs, Board of Trade or other organizations to sponsor a Digby Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival Princess for 1976. A letter was read from the A.V.A.B.F. requesting participation from Digby.

Councillor Eileen Chipman felt that this was one place that the Town could save finances by not entering the Festival. She advocated using the same money to promote Digby Scallop Day. Others felt that it is traditional that Digby enter the Valley Festival and that the publicity for the town is valuable.

Telephone Era Closes In Sandy Cove

The Maritime Tel and Tel era of having operators at the switch board in Sandy Cove came to an end on Tuesday when the company held Open House to mark the change over to dial system. A similar occasion was held in Freeport on Monday evening to mark the change over on the Islands.

Mrs. Frank (June) Jeffrey, Sandy Cove, had served as the last operator for the Digby Neck system, making a total six year service as operator and agent for the company.

She was presented with a bouquet of red roses. Also especially recognized was Miss Gertrude Warne who retired in 1967 after being operator and agent for twenty-two years. Others recognized were Mrs. Gloria Trask, Mrs. Fenwick Jeffrey, Mrs. Susan O'Neill, Mrs. Carol Denton, Mrs. Harold Cromwell, Mrs. Betty Merritt and Mrs. Kendra Ross.

A highlight of the program on Tuesday was the conversation by Joe Casey M. L. A. with Miss Coline Campbell M. P., Ottawa. Both wished every success to the Maritime Tel & Tel, taking cognizance of the progress and benefits for the system but also regretted the disappearance of the friendly voice of the operator.

The Open House was catered to by the Firemen and Auxiliary of Digby Neck under the presidency of Mrs. Carol Addington. Mrs. Addington and Mrs. Jeffrey were presented with two yellow "Tollies".

Following an enlightening address by Struan Robertson, president of Maritime Tel & Tel, a film was shown of the operation of the dial system and guests were given a guided tour of the new building and equipment installed at Mink Cove. The tour was guided by Bernard Bell and Avery Sears, Digby.

Others assisting the host were Raye Billard, Yarmouth; David Symonds and Seymour Kenney, Yarmouth director of Maritime Tel & Tel.

As at Freeport on Monday evening, Mr. Robertson traced the history of the Islands and Neck telephone systems from the early ownership by R. W. Ford and Samuel Gidney in 1888 and later by Gidney alone.

By the time his listings first appeared in the Valley directory in 1914, Mr. Gidney had 95 subscribers including the "centrals" (in order from Digby) Rossway, Seawall, Centreville, Sandy Cove, Little River, Tiverton, and Freeport.

By 1945, the system had grown to serve 125 subscribers with central offices at Rossway, Tiverton, Freeport and Westport although the latter was later abandoned. Little modernization had been carried out and deteriorating plant caused complaints to the Public Utilities Commissioners. They requested a survey of the system by MT&T and on April 26, 1945 a hearing at Digby found the system inadequate. By further ruling of August 14, 1945, the Westport and Digby Tel. Co. was sold to MT&T for $3,000. A further investment of $50 - $60,000 was made by MT&T and standard magneto exchanges opened at Sandy Cove and Freeport in September 1945 with 45 and 48 subscribers respectively. An additional 12 were connected to the Digby exchange.

The first agent at Sandy Cove was Miss Gertrude E. Warne and Mrs. Charles Young (Elsie) was the first agent at Freeport. Elsie Young retired on June 20, 1967 and Gertrude Warne retired on May 25, 1967.

In the thirty years since that time Sandy Cove has grown to 315 subscribers and Freeport to 434. Dial service was provided to both exchanges on January 24, 1976.

Further tracing of history and forecasting of records by Mr. Robertson revealed that in 1970 Freeport had 337 phones, in 1975 there 434 and in 1979 there is expected to be 631. In Sandy Cove there were 249 in 1970, 315 in 1975 and a forecast of 546 in 1979.

Capital expenditures for the recent change of system at Freeport was $679,555 and at Sandy Cove, $583,785.

The only combination furnace burning wood, coal and oil that can pay for itself.

SAVE by burning your own wood and trash whenever it is convenient and still enjoy the advantages of a forced air system - even heat distribution - and automatic thermostat controls.

Convenient home comfort

Continuous home comfort is ensured by the dual furnace featuring two combustion chambers and separate thermostat controls. A furnace that lets you sleep uninterrupted; as soon as the temperature drops, the thermostat for the oil furnace takes over and your home continues to be heated to your thermostat setting. This way you can leave your home unattended without risking frost damage, or enjoy year round home comfort with the addition of a central air conditioning unit at the time of installation or at a later date.

The best insurance against power failures and missed oil deliveries

If ice, storms, or fallen trees, cause power failures, or snow drifts make roads impassable and your fuel oil supplier cannot reach you, you still receive heat from your wood or coal furnace, which can function without the electric blower on the gravity principle.

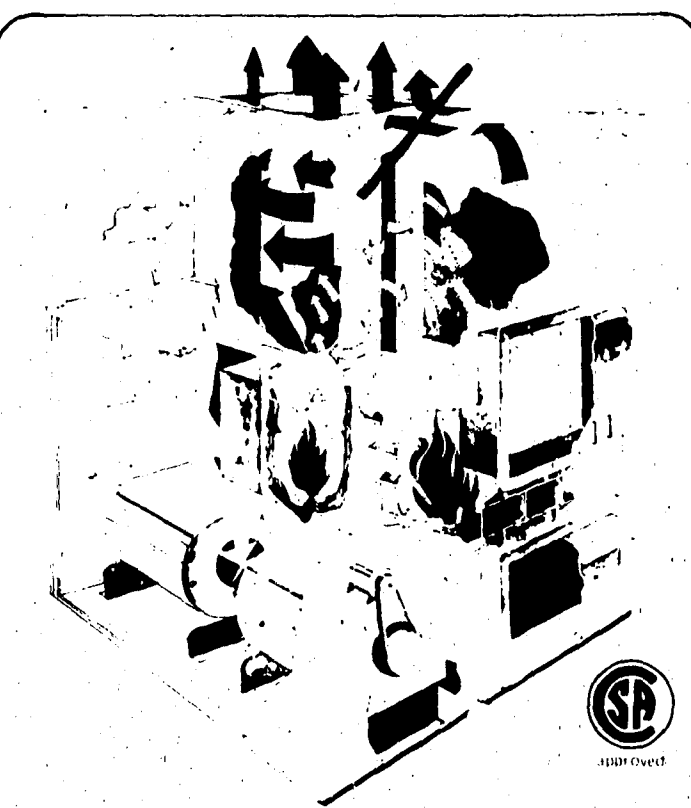

Efficient, quiet and trouble-free operation

A powerful high capacity twin blower has been designed for smooth, quiet operation and maximum heat distribution. You'll enjoy even heat distribution and maximum use of the fuel, which only a forced air system can provide. The extra large heat exchanger delivers more heat to the air flowing over it, than heat exchangers in most other furnaces. The wood burning section of the furnace has an added precaution feature: The heat limit control prevents excessive temperatures by closing the damper, thereby avoiding overheating.

Easy to clean and maintain

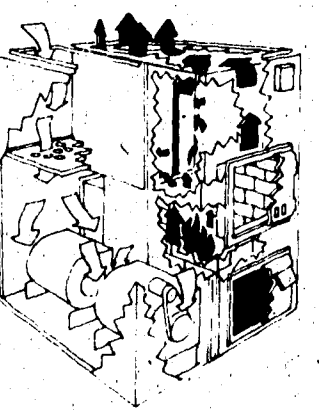

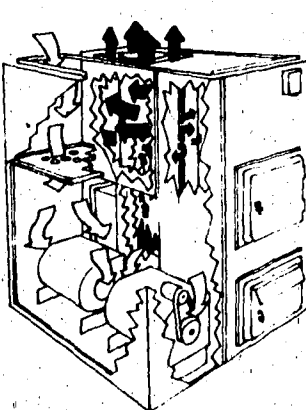

The oil burner has been skillfully engineered to exacting tolerances and is built by Duo-Matic for dependable and carefree operation. The two combustion chambers are entirely separate, so that the oil burner does not get fouled by creosote, soot, or fly ash from the wood or coal burner. The furnace is especially designed to allow ready access for cleaning and servicing. REGULAR SIZE SPUN GLASS DISPOSABLE FILTERS trap air-borne dust particles and allow only dust-free air to circulate throughout your home.

Quality built to last

The entire heat exchanger is made out of heavy gauge steel, electrically welded. The oil section's refractory combustion chamber has been tested to 1427 degrees C (2600 degrees F) to ensure a long life and maximum operating efficiency. The efficient oil burner incorporates an up-to-date flame retention head for the most complete and money saving oil combustion. The solid fuel section has a tough, special fire-brick lining and durable, well designed cast iron grates. The outer casing is made of heavy gauge steel with a baked-on lasting, and decorative finish. The extra large fire door, measuring 14 1/2"x12", is designed to accommodate large lots.

The damper control automatically opens the draft port when the solid fuel thermostat calls for heat.

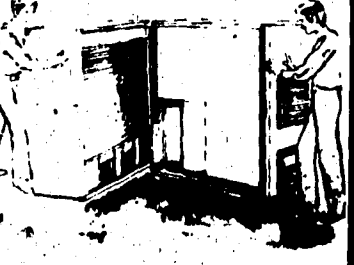

Our continuous quality inspection ensures that you receive a uniformly quality built furnace for years of trouble-free operation. It has full CSA (Canadian Standards Association) approval, after undergoing the most rigorous tests.

Factory guaranteed

The most important part of the furnace, the heat exchanger, carries a ten year warranty. All other electrical or mechanical components are guaranteed for one year against defect.

Easy to install

The furnace comes pre-assembled and pre-wired. For ease of handling it is crated in two modular - easy to fit together main sections, with three accessory packages, complete with simple, easy to follow and fully illustrated instructions for assembly and maintenance.

Coline Speaks On Inflation

SPEECH BY COLINE CAMPBELL, M. P. TO THE YARMOUTH CHAMBER OF COMMERCE JANUARY 21, 1976

I want to thank you very much for inviting me to speak to the Chamber. I realize there is a question and answer period after and my remarks will be short, however, I would like to say a few words on inflation in Canada. There is no need to tell you about the ravages of an inflationary economy or the effects that it has on the individual businessman and the wage earner's pocketbook. In the last number of years, we have experienced shock after shock in the increasing price of basic commodities - food crop failures, dramatic increases in the price of oil, for example - all resulting in a general conditioning of our thinking - that prices tomorrow will be higher than they are today. This consequence of ever increasing prices has made the problem of "The Inflationary Psychology" a force to be reckoned with. This psychology is prophetic in character and its prophecies tend to be self-fulfilling.

Until the Prime Minister announced the program of controls on wages and prices last October, the Federal Government's policy tried to cushion Canadians against the ravages of inflation by compensating the individual against increases in the cost of food and energy caused by factors beyond our control. The government also endeavored to assist the individual by reducing his taxes proportionate to the rising cost of living - hence the indexation of personal income tax.

These measures could not in themselves deal with the problem, they were designed to cope with the international problem of inflation, over which the government of Canada had little control. The inflationary psychology, on the other hand, can be controlled by domestic measures - at least the government hopes that this is so. Hence, the program of wage and price restraint outlined by the Prime Minister last October and enacted by Parliament last month. You have all heard about the government's program. But I think it would be worthwhile to outline the basic elements of that program and the way in which it is being operated.

The program composes two distinct organizational elements - the board and the administrator.

The board, headed by Jean-Luc Pepin, with Mrs. Beryl Plumptre as vice-chairman, will carry out the most important part of the anti-inflation program, in that it will combat inflation by controlling income and prices. It will do this by monitoring increases in incomes and prices and by monitoring the incidents of compliance with the government's regulations. The regulations which are very complex and technical are based upon the fundamental guidelines that state that increased income should be held between 8 and 12 percent and, increases in prices should reflect only those increases necessitated by higher production costs.

All of us are asked to adhere to these guidelines. Those most economically powerful are required by law to observe them, that is to say, all companies with 500 or more employees, all construction firms with 20 or more employees, all professional individuals and professional companies and the entire public sector, including the three levels of government have been asked to observe the guidelines.

For the majority of Canadians, this is a voluntary program which I feel will be vulnerable if sabotaged. There is no way, short of the creation of an expensive army of inflation monitors to do the job in a non-voluntary way - we would no doubt audit ourselves nationally to the poorhouse. (Finding loopholes on a large scale or avoidance) Gimmicks will make it fail - this is how it differs from the Income Tax Act which expects just so much and allows for loopholes.

This voluntary approach - that is to exercise moderation and restraint in their economic demands - it won't be easy. Most Canadians have become accustomed to living extremely well - we've been asked to stop and see where we are going.

Perhaps a return to some of the old virtues - thrift, self-discipline and making do with a little less.

The second element in the government's program is constituted by the administrator who, as you may know, is Mr. Donald Tansley. The administrator is empowered by parliament to enforce the regulations. His office is distinct from the board. The board itself investigates, monitors, suggests, persuades and ultimately rules as to whether particular wage and price increases fall within the guidelines. Where persuasion fails, the board has the power

Merrill Prime Blames Dogs For Deer Toll

Packs of roaming dogs are taking their toll of the provincial deer herd once again, reports Merrill Prime, the Department of Lands and Forests' Director of Wildlife.

In some instances, according to reports to various offices of the Department of Lands and Forests, deer, weakened by winter weather and depleted supplies of food, have been chased through the snow to the point of exhaustion, and then abandoned. In other instances, they have been chased, attacked, chunks of flesh torn from their living carcasses, and left to die.

As Mr. Prime reports: "It's not a pretty sight."

What is so often the case, Mr. Prime says, is that the dogs who do the damage are family pets whose owners not only do not know that they are absent but, who, also, would be highly incensed were their dogs accused of being involved.

The bare facts—as has been proven time and time again—are that pet dogs are the dogs who do the damage. They have been caught in the act—many times.

In fact, dogs have a natural instinct to chase and to kill and, because this is so, Mr. Prime says, these roaming packs have earned, and deserve, the reputation of being "the worst killers in the woods."

Trained hunting dogs, on the other hand—used by their owners at certain seasons of the year to hunt rabbits, birds or raccoons—are rarely found to be involved. Rather, as officials of the Department of Lands and Forests have found, it is the unsupervised dogs which are the culprits.

These, quite often, are the dogs which are let loose in the morning when the children go to school, and which are always around when the children return in the afternoon. Between these times, they could be anywhere—and often are. Such dogs band together to play. Chasing deer, to them, is real sport.

There are other dogs, too, Mr. Prime said, which have been found to be responsible.

These are the dogs which have been abandoned by their owners—far from home, sometimes—and left to fend for themselves. Such dogs however, are not a majority.

to refer cases to the administrator. The administrator is empowered by parliament to subpoena company records and audit them, to issue court orders, to levy fines and impose jail sentences.

The third component of the government's program is an appeal tribunal, before which decisions of the administrator may be appealed. A final safeguard provided by parliament enables the decision of the Appeal Tribunal to be appealed in turn to the Federal Court of Appeal.

These then are the essential elements of the Anti-inflation Program. Although the law, the Anti-inflation Act, adopted by parliament, has plenty of teeth, the program ultimately depends on the voluntary compliance of all of us in accepting the need to restrain our demands of the economy. The government itself has set an example for all Canadians in restraining its own programs. A cutoff of one billion dollars, was made last summer and, as we know, the government has followed this cut with the further 1.5 billion dollars worth of cutbacks in federal spending this past December.

These cuts have been exceedingly difficult to make and they affect every single person in this country in one way or another. We must all tighten our belts.

Let me stress, however, that the government is determined to continue its programs of self-help to Canadians and will not permit the exercise of restraint to enforce a passive, unimaginative role upon the government at a time when initiative and imagination in the development is so needed. In short, the government is determined not only to restrain its spending, but to spend the funds that it has in as productive a manner as is possible for the realization of its economic and social priorities.

I said a few moments ago that the success of the Anti-inflation Program depends upon each one of us - each individual, each company, each union. The machinery for its implementation - the board, the administrator, the appeal tribunal - does not itself ensure the curbing of inflation. I would like to think, however, that Canadians will make this program work because it is the right and sensible thing to do.

Rebuilding confidence - that is the essence of the task - that is the objective of the policy.

The above tide table is based on the 24-hour clock. All times are Atlantic Standard. Read DOWN rather than ACROSS. The large number is the date, the 4 digit number is the time. The third number in the column is the height of the tide in feet.

To convert times shown to the 12-hour clock, subtract 1200 from the number shown for all times over 1300 hours. (Included), up to and including 2400 hours. This will give you p.m. time Example - 1300 hours is 1:00 p.m., 2400 hours is 12 o'clock midnight. For a.m. time, simply disregard zeroes at the beginning of the number. Example - 0135 hours is 1:35 a.m., 0020 hours is 20 minutes past midnight.

The 24-hour clock begins at 0001, which is 1 minute after midnight on the 12-hour clock.

St. Peter's Annual Shows Successful Year

The annual meeting of St. Peter's Parish was held in the Guild Hall on Tuesday evening. John Shaw opened the meeting with a welcome to the Rev. R. N. Savary, who has retired as a missionary to Japan and has bought a home in Weymouth North. Mr. Savary is at present interim priest of the parish. He also welcomed Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ruggles and family, who have also moved to Weymouth North, and to Miss Sherry Thomas, who recently moved here and has accepted an appointment as organist in St. Peter's Church. The meeting was then turned over to Mr. Savary.

Owen Hankinson read the minutes of the last meeting, and Mrs. Keith Potter was appointed secretary for the meeting. Mr. Savary, as interim priest, had no report on the work of the parish, but mentioned several of the parishioners who had died during the past year.

Mr. Shaw gave the treasurer's report, which had been audited by Donald Filleul. This report showed a higher percentage of givings than last year, and a healthy financial standing. Mr. Shaw said that during the year, St. Peter's Church had been painted, and other work had been done on the building. He mentioned that St. Thomas Church was in need of a good deal of work, and a vote was made to contact the parishioners of St. Thomas' Church, with a questionnaire to find out their wishes for the building.

A Sunday School report from Mrs. Rebecca Williams was presented, showing many activities with the young people during the year. Due to ill health, Mrs. Williams has had to give up as superintendent and to date, the Anglican-United Sunday School is inactive. A vote of thanks was moved for Mrs. Williams, and the young teachers who had assisted her during the past year. It was also moved that a Christian Education committee be appointed from the vestry to look into the possibilities of a Sunday School or study group for our young people.

Mrs. Jane Shaw gave a report of the work of the ACW, showing a good financial standing and that the group had been active in many capacities during the year.

St. Matthew's Church reported that a new Sunday School had recently been started there and Miss Evelyn Jarvis gave a report from their Guild, which showed much activity during the year.

It was moved that the church obtain the new Anglican hymn book—at least enough for the organist and choir, with the possibility that memorial donations from the congregation be given, in order that the congregation and choir become more familiar with the newer tunes and hymns. Mr. Savary was asked to make a note of this in the weekly bulletin.

A committee to welcome newcomers to the community, and church was also suggested to be appointed by the vestry.

Votes of thanks were given to Mrs. Jane Shaw and Miss Doris Godet for their untiring efforts in the altar guild. To Mr. Shaw for his work as treasurer and personal efforts in the church work; to the wardens, Mr. Hallett and Mr. Walker, and Donald Filleul, as auditor. A special thanks was voted for Mrs. Beulah Jarvis who had been so faithful as organist in the past few years, and to Mrs. Eleanor Hankinson for helping out as occasions needed her. It was also moved to thank Mr. Herbert Tooker for the fine conditions of the church grounds and his care of the church.

Mr. Savary, in his remarks, said that he felt the church had had a good working year from the reports, and a vote of thanks was moved for work that both the Rev. and Mrs. Butler had done during Mr. Butler's pastorate here. Best wishes for their retirement were given from the parish.

Stan Hallett and Harry Walker were reinstated as wardens. Keith Potter, Ruberta Potter and Richard Godet were appointed honorary vestrymen, and the vestry appointments were Donald Filleul, Dorothy Billworthy, Sid Billworthy, David Cottréau, Eileen Cottréau, Owen Hankinson, Ralph Jarvis, Nelson Cronwell, Arnold Jarvis, and John Shaw. Mr. Billworthy was appointed Clerk of the Vestry. Mr. Filleul and Ralph Jarvis were appointed delegates to Synod.

A lunch was served following the meeting.

standardized housing.

The fat level of rabbit meat is one of the lowest of the domestic meat food groups. The liver is delicious and mild tasting, rich in protein and iron.

The appearance of raw rabbit meat is a fresh pink color; there is no visible skin or fat layer; it is firm and fine grained, having a high meat to bone ratio. When cooked, the taste of rabbit is mild and makes it suited to all types of meat cookery.

Domestic rabbit production is a relatively new industry in Nova Scotia and began with a few producers growing rabbit for their own needs and that of their neighbors—a very select clientele. As the industry developed, the rabbit producers organized shipments of rabbits to a plant in Ontario, and this has continued.

During the month of February, the Nova Scotia Rabbit Producers are running an advertising program to make Nova Scotians aware of this delicious meat. A number of stores throughout the province are co-operating and will be offering an adequate supply of rabbit meat during the month of February.

When it comes to cooking, rabbit can be cooked with dry heat methods, such as broiling, frying, roasting, or barbecuing. The roaster rabbits are more satisfactory if roasted by moist heat method, such as stewing, braising, or simmering. Marinating in a highly acidic broth such as vinegar and spices will tenderize the roasters before cooking by other methods. Many casserole recipes use moist heat which helps to tenderize the roaster type of rabbit.

Rabbit tastes great in barbecue sauce, or sweet and sour, baked with spicy bread coating. If you are looking for a new way to try rabbit meat, and excellent pamphlet, "Nova Scotia Rabbit", has been prepared by the Home Economics Branch of the Nova Scotia Department of Agriculture and Marketing, and is available from that branch at P. church, from which direction the heavy gale of wind was coming.

Two trailers were badly mauled by the raging winds, moving them from their foundations and damaging them considerably. These two trailers were on the shore side of the highway, next to Ben F. LeBlanc residence, on the Weymouth side.

The wind blew the office building of the fish plant at Church Point wharf about fifty feet towards the dune and the heavy surf blasted its way over the dune and moved a small building which formerly was a canteen to a point near where the small office building stood, washing away about 40 or 50 cords of drift wood used for smoking fish of the Frankland Canning Co. Ltd. The factory building of the company was gashed in on both sides probably by the onrushing wood being driven by high waves of water to go over the wharf into St. Mary's Bay waters. A portion of these were nestled on the wharf behind the fish plant. A portion of the small wharf on Tikin's Cove side had the top removed and it drifted into the bay. At this point a bridge swung over from the main wharf to enable the fishermen to cross over what is called "Les Pelles" at the inner end of the wharf.

One fishing boat owned by Albert Melanson of Grosses Coques, which is used for dragging purposes and was hauled up on the dune, was floated by the extreme high tides on Monday morning and floated back into deeper waters in the artificial lake made at high tides but fishermen helped Mr. Melanson to prevent his fishing boat from moving out from the wharf.

A boat shop building owned by Adolph LeBlanc of Grosses Coques was partly damaged when the wind blew off the roof from a portion of the building and

Storm Drains Lake In Clare

The storm of Sunday night, February 1 and Monday caused considerable havoc in the village of Church Point. Besides putting a large section without hydro power, the lac-a-Seraphin (Seraphin's Lake) disappeared when the pounding of the heavy surf cut a channel in the dune allowing the water to go into St. Mary's Bay when the tide went out leaving practically the whole lake high and dry.

Seventy years ago the same thing happened to this lake following a severe storm, so states Willie LeBlanc of Little Brook who is in his eighties. The R. A. Belliveau Ltd. building supplies company at the further end of Church Point (towards Yarmouth) found that some of their lumber had been hurled into Seraphin's lake and a portion was salvaged when the lumber remained on the shores of the lake when it receded.

A gang of men were busy on Wednesday morning cleaning up the debris washed up into the lumber yard leaving it high and dry when the tides subsided. Along the paved highway facing the residence of the former Alphonse (Isaac) LeBlanc in Church Point, was covered with debris of drift wood with the water going over the pavement carrying some of the drifting wood to the other side of the road leaving the debris strewn all along both sides of the highway when the water lowered with the lowering of the tide.

A portion of the roof of the residence owned by Jules LeBlanc was damaged and his brothers and sisters had to move out. The roof on the new gymnasium was damaged considerably and carpenters were busy removing part of the roof remaining so a new roof could be placed on the building. The wood grill in St. Mary's R.C. Church in the village was shoved in but remained intact more or less. The grill work faced the southeastern side of the the walls caved in. This building was in use at the time.

Broken hydro poles on the wharf road cut out that branch of the hydro line and on Thursday afternoon, power had not returned on this road with seven homes and the fish plant requiring power for heating and lighting. The old fashion lamps had to be trotted out and put to service. Some homes had wood stoves in the cellar but some were electrically operated and others had propane stoves.

It has been a great number of years since a storm of such proportion has visited this area and a return visit has not been requested by anyone in the area. Lighting has been restored in the village on the main highway and on the portion of the Patrice Road running towards Concession, from the main corner onwards. This road runs across the main highway and continues to Church Point wharf.

We can be thankful that the storm took place when mild weather prevailed as it would have caused more inconvenience and suffering if colder weather had existed at the time.

Being Repaired

The National Building Code currently employed in Annapolis County has a few flaws according to solicitor W. Bruce Gillis.

Mr. Gillis brought the matter up during the January session of the municipal council. Among the weaknesses pointed out in the code are; no penalty provided for, no provision to bring a case to the Supreme Court, and no effective date.

Council decided last year to prosecute a number of people in contravention of the code, but, according to Mr. Gillis, the county can't do so under present conditions.

A specific penalty is called for by the by-law, he said, but it's "blank". He recommended that a penalty

Public Industrial Relations Limited

The insurance industry is extremely busy but managing to cope with claims arising out of the severe wind storm that hit Nova Scotia and New Brunswick earlier this week, says a spokesman for the Insurance Bureau of Canada.

"Although our adjusting and claims personnel are working at what might be described a peak capacity, we foresee no particular problem in coping with the situation", said Mr. Gordon Brady of the Prudential Assurance Company and Chairman of the Insurance Bureau of Canada Atlantic Advisory Committee.

The industry official said that early estimates of the number of claims in Nova Scotia might run at between 6,000 to 7,000. The industry is capable of dealing with up to 10,000 before outside assistance in the form of adjusting staff from other provinces would be required.

"The Insurance Bureau of Canada has an organization and plan to cover various contingencies in situations where extra staff are needed. So far, it appears that local offices can deal with claims by using overtime and some re-allocation of staff", he said.

"We are certainly very busy, because the damage was both wide-spread and considerable. In some communities it has had a very serious effect but by-in-large the vast majority of claims appear to be for relatively less serious problems", he added.

The official commended to efforts of private citizens who effected temporary repairs to prevent any further damage to property while awaiting arrival of insurance claims adjusters.

"This was the same

Reflecting To 1946

It was thirty years ago (issue February 14, 1946) the columnist for Your Town and Mine had heard reports that a Commission was to be set up to draw up a Digby Master Plan for zoning of certain areas as residential, prohibiting the erection of business establishments in certain areas and generally supervising building. The columnist advised to move with caution. Any attempt to make Digby "Town Beautiful" must take into consideration that in order to live and prosper, the town must have industries and these industries must have facilities and land on which to locate. It must be land that is near railways, wharves, water supply. First, thought the columnist, income must be secure and then the ideals of civic beauty. The columnist warns many cemeteries are wonderfully well planned and are beautiful to the eye but are inhabited only by the dead. (Thirty years might change anybody's mind).

A scallop sloop, Gonac, owned by Captain Roland Wormell and skippered by Arch Ellis was totally destroyed by fire. She was filling her gasoline tanks at the time.

Back in 1946, the Digby Board of Trade was reporting $2,600 earned at a Board Fair. They had spent $1,657.43 on the rink project.

We shall have to call Judge V.G. Cardoza to learn what the duties of a presiding councillor are. In 1946, he was appointed presiding councillor for the Town Council. Did he preside only if the mayor was not present or did he preside full time. Was a presiding councillor, a Deputy Mayor.

Who remembers an Ever Ready Club at Mount Pleasant. They disbanded the week prior to February 14 after organizing five years before. Their $25.67 on hand was to be used for a welcome-home party for service men and women.

There was acute housing shortage in Digby even with the war over and service personnel had moved out.

The week of February 14, 1946 must have been mild. "Little seven-year-old Valerie, Deep Brook, sent the Courier pussywillows and Mayflowers.

Protest Group Restructured

The protest group which started out as the Municipality of Digby Committee for Orderly Protest is now the Municipality of Digby Ratepayers Association.

The new name was adopted during a meeting of the group at the Digby Legion on February 11.

The main objective of the meeting was to select a new slate of officers. Those elected were Stanley Boudreau, president; Ernie Ryan, vice-president, Alston MacAlpine, treasurer and Glen Dunn, secretary.

One motion passed at the meeting resulted in an executive group being formed. This includes the chairman of each of the 10 districts in the municipality. The five representatives of each district were asked to choose a chairman.

The main objective of the organization is to protest tax assessments for 1976. Over 500 residents attended the first meeting of the Organization for Orderly Protest after the new assessment figures were mailed out.

The organization under that name had been dissolved during a previous meeting. Keith Potter served as Chairman until that time.

Anyone wishing to discuss their assessments is asked to contact their area representatives.

A meeting of the executive group is expected to be held sometime this week.

Mark Connell and Rachel were selected King and Queen of the D.R.H.S. Winter Carnival.

Winter Carnival Variety Show Has Standing Room Only

The fun and activities associated with Digby Regional High School's Winter Carnival have ended for another year.

The variety show on Thursday night was one of the carnival highlights. That event drew a capacity crowd leaving a number of the estimated 500 spectators without chairs.

A total of $467 was raised at the show. That money, along with all other revenue, is divided between the junior and senior school parliaments.

Mark Connell and Rachel

Wagner were selected King and Queen respectively for this year's carnival.

The judging was done during a tea held on Thursday afternoon, but the winners were not announced until the variety show ended that night. The prince and princess (Grade 9) are Bruce Andrews and Jill Ellis.

Judges for this event were Jim Webb, Austin Morehouse, Vivian O'Neil, and Helen McNeil.

The first activity associated with the carnival was held on Wednesday at noon. This saw a group of female students defeat the female teachers in a broomball game.

At 3:00 p.m. a ribbon-cutting ceremony was held during which Mayor Charles Haliburton officially opened the carnival.

A junior girls' basketball game played after school rounded off Thursday's events.

Friday activities included a slave auction, a bazaar, fashion show, coffee house, male's basketball game in which the boys beat the teachers, boys and girls senior basketball, and junior girls' basketball.

A hockey tournament was played on Friday evening and Saturday afternoon. Saturday's activities also included a coffee house from 12 noon to 8 p.m. and a dance on Saturday night.

Ellen Cann of Bear River was in charge of planning for the carnival.

Trailer Lost By Fire

Digby Volunteer Fire Department was called out at 3:15 a.m. on Monday when the trailer occupied on the Lighthouse Road by Mr. and Mrs. Martin D'Ambrose and two children caught on fire. The firemen fought the blaze for two hours but the interior of the trailer was completely gutted.

Firemen remarked that the family were fortunate in escaping as the furnace had exploded. One fireman, Robert MacNutt, had been taken to hospital because of gas injuries to his eyes, it is understood.

Mr. and Mrs. D'Ambrose are visiting with relatives since the fire.

position in a similar capacity at Frobisher Bay.

Mr. Pitman answered an advertisement in a magazine after which Mr. and Mrs. Pitman made a trip to Frobisher Bay for an interview. They were much favorably impressed and look forward to new adventure and a new way of life.

Mr. and Mrs. Pitman and three sons, Clarke 8, Christopher 6 and Colin 3, leave for Montreal on March 10 and fly out to Frobisher Bay on March 12.

Goes To Frobisher Bay

Glen Pitman, town clerk in Digby has resigned his position to take up a new weather with light breezes from the southwest. As the day advanced, however, the breeze grew steadily stronger, and the heat became oppressive, a recognized sign of high wind. To the south the sky was a dull, leaden grey, becoming darker and more threatening momentarily. By five o'clock a veritable hurricane was blowing. At Saint John rain began falling at six, and by nine o'clock the raging, terrifying Saxby Gale was at its height.

The night was one of horror on land, as well as at sea. The extreme darkness, constant roar and tumult of wind, the lashing rain, the groaning of great trees, the hail of debris, shingles, slates, branches, objects large and small falling everywhere, roofs carried aloft, whole buildings collapsing, all gave a paralyzing sense of insecurity and calamity.

Where now is restful St. Andrews, the storm that night raged with demon force. There and in the neighborhood — around Calais, Machias, and Eastport, Maine, one hundred and twenty-one vessels were driven ashore. From one alone, The Genii, eleven lives were lost.

The story goes on to tell of railway bridges in New Brunswick falling, barns falling and cattle killed, churches levelled with more than 80 buildings swept by the path of the storm in Campobello. Grand Manan and Deer Island fared likewise.

In Saint John, N.B. buildings were flooded to their upper floor, warehouses destroyed, wharfs and ships devastated in the path of the wind. At Lewisville a schooner was caught by the wind and left stranded in an orchard.

of Florence Elder Miles in the issue of January 8, 1936. This piece from the Family Herald and Weekly Star has been closely guarded and we give extracts here from it. The account written by Florence Miles says "It was in December of the year 1869, that Lieutenant S. M. Saxby, a young officer in the Royal Navy, and an earnest student of astronomy, published in the London papers his observations and his prophecy. He said in part: "With regard to 1869, at seven a.m. on October 5, the moon will be at that part of her orbit which is nearest to the earth. Her attraction will, therefore, be at its maximum force. At noon the same day, the moon will be on the earth's equator, a circumstance which never occurs without marked atmospheric disturbance. At two p.m. of the same day, lines drawn from the earth's centre would cut the sun and the moon in the same arc of right ascension. The moon's attraction and the sun's attraction will therefore be acting in the same direction. In other words, the new moon will be on the earth's equator when in perigee, and nothing more threatening can, I say, occur without miracle....In the meantime, there will be time for the repair of unsafe sea-walls, and for the circulation of this warning, by means of your far-reaching voice, throughout the world."

The prophet who read the skies with such remarkable accuracy is not without honor in the Maritimes. The "marked atmospheric disturbance" which devastated the lands about the Bay of Fundy on the night of October 4, and the early morning of the 5th, 1869, has since been known as the "Saxby Gale," and the unprecedented tidal wave which accompanied it, is still talked of, far and wide, as the "Saxby Tide."

Lieutenant Saxby's prediction had been that the storm would devastate the earth. Fortunately for the rest of the world at least, its range was, however, limited. The hurricane swept with maximum fury along the most northerly part of the Maine coast, and along the shores of Charlotte County, New Brunswick, where the loss of property and of life was fearful. In its north-easterly advance it gradually decreased in intensity, but even in regions protected from the direct fury of the sea, uncounted damages were inflicted by the tide. In the upper reaches of the Bay of Fundy, that tide rose 57½ feet above extreme low water mark, without doubt a record for Fundy, famed far and near for its phenomenal tides.

The day before the storm had been like many others in that region, an early morning fog, which later gave way to warm and clear

Residents Protest Projected Exits From 101

About 50 residents of Bear River and Smith's Cove gathered at the Bear River Fire Hall Thursday night during an open portion of the Bear River Board of Trade. The topic under discussion was the Department of Highways' plan to close off the present intersection at the Bear River Bridge and replace it with two level crossings farther west.

Those at the meeting wanted to know how the Department's planning committee had come up with the projected plan. However, M.L.A., Joe Casey and Regional Manager, Clive Sinclair, were unable to provide all the sought-after answers.

As a result, the meeting was called to a close after about 1½ hours of discussions. Attempts will be made for the group to meet with a representative of the planning committee.

A map set up in front of the meeting area showed the proposed plan. The present intersection would be closed and replaced by two level crossings, one a short distance from the bridge and another at the Sunset Hill. From the Sunset Hill, one exit road would lead into Smith's Cove. Another would run parallel to the 101 toward the River Road, cutting toward the village to meet the present road on an angle.

Mr. Casey urged that ideas and information on the matter be gathered now, "so we don't have to go back to the minister in several years and say he was wrong." The M.L.A. said he tried to get someone from the planning committee to attend this meeting but no one was available at the time.

One alternative idea presented was for an overpass at the Bear River Bridge to eliminate the dangerous intersection. Bill Cox noted that a previous meeting had passed a resolution in that regard.

Questioned by Mr. Cox as to whether it is too late to stop the Department's present plan, Mr. Casey thought not. He said the Department has indicated the road will start in the Fall at the earliest.

Mr. Casey had to leave the meeting early to help get a large ship out of Annapolis Royal. Before his departure he stated that any ideas the group comes up with would be taken to Halifax.

Mr. Sinclair noted that the previous proposal from the group was sent to Halifax. He described himself as a field man, adding that any input from tonight's meeting would go into planning.

Mr. Cox noted that a previous meeting passed resolutions on three items, the people of Smith's Cove don't want a road running from that community to Sunset Hill, they don't want the intersection closed off, and they want an overpass as near as possible to the bridge.

The main argument then, he noted, was that the present intersection is a level crossing. But now, he added, the things we did not want (level crossings) are back. He charged that none of the previous alternatives seem to have been even suggested.

Mr. Cox questioned how two level crossings can be better than one from a safety standpoint.

While not having a lot to offer in the way of direct answers, Mr. Sinclair did suggest that the group is almost at the point where it could have a committee to really "talk turkey" at Halifax. "There doesn't seem to be too much dissention," he said.

Before the meeting closed, "Bud" Winchester explained his idea for constructing an overpass near the Bear River Bridge. Such a move, he said would save lives and save breaking community connections. An additional advantage, he added, would be that the Department would not have to buy additional properties.

Mr. Winchester suggested the present plan would transfer a hazard to another area and add a new one. He warned that the hills in the area are full of water which will result in the proposed roads breaking up because of water under the pavement.

If the section of road running to meet the River Road is undertaken, he said, a steep slope would result on the upper end. He doubted the slope could be banked because of water veins in the area.

Smith's Cove and Bear River have a great deal in common according to Mr. Winchester. He noted that the River Road is the only easy access Bear River in the winter.

Five Generations

Mrs. Annie Deveau, age 92 years, of Plympton, Digby County, can boast of five generations. Mrs. Deveau, in fairly good health, can be seen relaxing in bed while her great-great-grandson, Trevor McInnis, sits on the bed near by. Standing right to left from Mrs. Deveau are her daughter, Mrs. John Thibault, Digby; her granddaughter, Mrs. Donald Robicheau, London, Ontario, (daughter of Mrs. Thibault); her great-granddaughter, Mrs. Donna Joan McInnis (daughter of Mrs. Robicheau) London; and her great-great-grandson, Trevor, son of Mrs. McInnis.

Mrs. Deveau lives with her daughter, Mrs. Plympton.

THE POINT WAS THE LAW

"The point of the law was" or "the point was the law". Put it as you like but the point of the meeting definitely was the law when the Councillors of the Digby Municipality met with Hon. Fraser Mooney, then Nova Scotia Minister of Municipal Affairs, in Digby last week. The councillors, as we understand it, were anxious to obtain from Mr. Mooney some advice or some procedure to deal with property assessment situation which had caused such a commotion throughout the municipality. The assessment figures, of course, had in most cases been considered out of line by the councillors themselves and they lent their support to the general municipal taxpayers in their grievances.

Possibly the Hon. Mr. Mooney knew that this week he would no longer be Minister of Municipal Affairs for Nova Scotia and the Digby Municipal property assessment would no longer be his "baby". (It has been passed on to Hon. Glen Bagnell). Anyway, it was plain to be seen that Mr. Mooney was not diverting one iota from the point of the law and the point of the entire meeting was "the law." The assessors had followed the rule of thumb (the law) in arriving at the figures which were produced. When councillors tried to point out what they thought were discrepancies in values such as property assessed at x dollars per acre while the same kind of property next door was assessed y dollars per acre, the same reply was forthcoming, "You have the appeal court (the law)". We cannot think of one question which did not have an answer relating to "the law."

Definitely the point of the meeting of the Municipal Affairs Minister and the Councillors of the Municipality of the District of Digby was "the law." While we wholeheartedly believe in obeying "the law", some questions do come into mind. Is the law always just? Is the law always right? If a law doesn't apply justly to all circumstances should it not be changed? For example, is shoreline for one property as valuable as the shoreline of another? Is "the law" flexible enough to take care of such?

Editors are not assessors. We claim no authority. We are just puzzled about "the law". Maybe Hon. Glen Bagnell can put us all straight.

Hodge Podge

Spring is here. Grass fires were burning in the Annapolis Valley on Sunday evening.

It looked like summer at Peggy's Cove on Saturday afternoon, but it sure didn't feel like it. The sun was high and the spray was high and along with it the wind was high and cold. But Peggy's Cove is Peggy's Cove so probably about 35 cars were in the Cove at any one time during the day. The restaurant was doing a booming business and so was the gift shop.

Generally fishermen have reported there are no lobsters left to catch. How, then, could hundreds of pounds be washed up to shore in the storm. They know enough not to go in traps. They go in schools.

There would have been nothing left to the Islands if there had been a 28 foot full moon tide at the height of the storm, so they say.

Our many thanks to Mr. Albert Melanson, Church Point; Mrs. Virginia Crocker, Freeport; Mrs. Charles MacDormand, Westport; and to Mrs. John Outhouse for their detailed accounts of Monday's storm.

Good neighbours can be further away than just a few doors down. They can live on mainlands and islands miles apart. Like John and Andy DeBoer of Berwick who went to the Islands to help Raymond Robicheau to get his general store re-established in the Pugh Building after the storm smashed up the store on Monday.

Don't lock the door when the horse has gone. Nevertheless, a good rock breaker might have saved some of Freeport waterfront from the storm's worse disaster. Should be thought about.

Rabbit for the table is not entirely new. It is being pushed a bit right now which is probably a good way to combat inflation and add to the farmer's revenue. We remember the day when it was alright to eat a rabbit that was shot but not one snared. Or, was it the other way around. Don't hear much about it now.

The seasons of each year seem to run similar patterns. This week in February we have Mayflowers and thirty years ago this week we had Mayflowers brought to the office.

What did our threat-of-bomb-scarers get for offences in Digby? We see where a 16 year old girl in Bridgewater was fined $200 and placed on two years probation when the call she made was traced. Judge John Nicholls handed down the sentence.

Would that come under moonlighting? We see where Fisheries Minister Romeo LeBlanc wants no moonlighting in the lobster business. It is to be a business as such and anyone using it as a second job will have his lobster fishing license cancelled. Wonder if he approves of the "Act of God" which washed up hundreds of pounds of lobsters, nice fresh live ones, for the people to take home and enjoy rather than see them go to waste. Would that be moonlighting?

"Why should one want to advertise. Who wants people from other places come into our store and pick things over?" One thing sure, all people do not think alike.

Birch Street, Digby, might go wanting when it comes to sidewalks but there is one thing of which they can brag. They have one of the best lighted streets in town and do the Birch Street residents appreciate that convenience and comfort!

Thirty years ago a storm took its toll in lives. Read "Reflections." We still claim there is something left to be thankful for after the 1976 storm.

ABUSE BY SOME DENIES PRIVILEGES FOR ALL

Time and time again many are denied privileges because of the stupid actions of a few persons. It has happened again.

This time the abuse is at the Federal Building where people have been given the advantage and privilege of an open lobby until nine o'clock in the evening to pick up their mail. This privilege will likely be denied simply because of a few disrespectful persons.

When additional lobby space for box accommodation was provided, it was done so by a jog built into the rear of the lobby which, unfortunately, hides the area from view of passers by. This jog in the wall is being used as an ural, it is understood from Post Office authorities. A strict watch, it is believed will be kept and if the abuse persists the lobby will be closed at 5:30 p.m. when the regular staff leaves.

Certainly, no one could expect less than the denial of the privilege to pick up their mail at convenience. The culprit or culprits also deserve their "reward."

Dear Editor:

I am very interested in the note and picture of the old dugout Indian canoe found at Westport after the big storm. I only hope that someone with authority will prevent it from being carried away to the Halifax Museum. It would be a most interesting article for the Digby Museum that is being planned and more people would see it there than if it were left at Westport. In the report of the finding date 1769 was mentioned for the time of Champlain. He discovered the Annapolis Basin long before that and in fact set up the Order of Good Cheer at the Habitation in 1606. It is well known that the Micmac Indians were living in Nova Scotia at that time and for many years earlier. Artifacts have been found at their old camping sites on St. Mary's Bay that date back 3000 years. Perhaps some authority can date the canoe approximately and the place where it was found could be a good spot for local residents to look for other evidence of Indian residence on Brier Island.

Yours faithfully,
E. W. H. Gray

Dear Editor:

On learning of the recent provincial cabinet shuffle I would like to comment on the performance of the Honourable Fraser Mooney during his term as Minister of Municipal Affairs.

While criticism and publicity are running high at present in the area of assessment, the more praiseworthy areas seem to have been dealt with, particularly by the daily press, rather sparingly.

It has been my privilege in the past year to have an inside view of some of the unsung efforts of the recent minister towards reforms, which were designed to benefit every taxpayer.

Legislation proposed last June requiring that yearly budgets of town and county councils be approved by the municipal affairs department was a worthy step towards the protection of the taxpayer against unnecessary and imprudent spending, but this was met with hostility and eventually killed by municipal officials across the province, who clung to what they considered their right to hold complete control, rightly or wrongly, qualified or unqualified, in deciding on expenditures and priorities. One town council last August, in its submission to the law amendments committee of the legislature, stated that "any municipal government can only be effective if it has the sovereign right to raise taxes and make expenditures in the interests of the taxpayers of the municipality."

There are many councils in Nova Scotia which perform with sincerity and competence "in the interests of the taxpayers," and these councils should have no fears of an annual inspection. In fact, review and approval of budgets of municipalities by the department is not entirely new. The municipalities to special aid in re have already, protest, and destruction of their been subject to such. There are others, however, where irresponsibility, ignorance and waste have been repeatedly demonstrated and where the "interest of the taxpayers" has been sacrificed to private interests. It is in these areas of local government that a need for surveillance of budgets exists.

We who are close to local government are aware that grants intended to benefit the taxpayers have not been used as directed. Questions asked about the disposal of the 23.8 million in equalization grants to Nova Scotia municipalities in 1973 ($13.00 per capita), the $7.00 per capita grant from the province in 1974, 21 million in 1975, (which the minister stressed was to reduce property tax burden and not to finance new projects), and others intended for the reduction of the tax rate, have failed to produce satisfactory answers from some town and municipal councils. At a meeting in Yarmouth last September, the recent minister pointed this out to municipal officials, citing one case where a council had set aside a grant, intended to benefit taxpayers, to apply to a pension fund for the town clerk.

In 1974 the Minister announced another step by the provincial government to help alleviate the burden of the home owner. Retroactive to January 1, 1974, legislation enabled municipalities to deduct $4,500 from the assessment of pensioners 65 and over, as well as widows, etc, whose incomes were less than $3,500. Once again, some councils showed reluctance in passing this benefit on to the taxpayer, and after considerable debate, limited the exemption to $3,500. In Digby town the taxpayers were not given the benefit of this exemption until 1975, (limited to 3,500 dollars), and even then the finance committee chairman suggested that it be "tabled" until 1976! How many taxpayers in Nova Scotia today, who fall within this eligible category, are receiving the $4,500 exemption to which they have been entitled since 1974?

Another step towards reform, approved by the minister and shot down by municipal leaders, was an amendment to the Towns Act which would have allowed any eligible voter to stand for election to the council of the county or town in which he or she resides, and to vote at ratepayers meetings and plebiscites.

As the Minister for Municipal Affairs, Fraser Mooney has had the vision to see, and the courage to act upon the needs of the little man in Nova Scotia - the unknown taxpayer. In so doing, he stands apart from the covetous politician, as he follows the lonely road to statesmanship.

Dear Editor:

1976 is a great year for Canada, having the Olympics in Montreal, and this being America's 200th Birthday, it could be a slow tourist season for Nova Scotia.

May I suggest something that could, and would, be profitable for Digby County - a reunion the last week in August and the first week in September, inviting everyone back and honoring a town and a village at a time, covering all of Digby County. There should be a roll call in the Churches, Boy Scout Troops, Schools, Legions, etc., of all those who were active prior to 1939. The Digby Courier would be the instrument used to publicize this great event. May I suggest also, that Baden Powell be appointed General Chairman, starting now to inform everyone that all the old residents of Digby County will be returning home. How wonderful for all those who return every year to come at the same time and have a chance to renew old friendships.

Winter Carnival

I repeat again, this would be profitable for Digby County, and a lot of our departed brothers and sisters seeing the beauty of Digby County, may want to retire there in the great Province of Nova Scotia.

Sincerely,

L. Comeau

The Digby Courier
Digby, Nova Scotia

Dear Mrs. Wallis:

Recently a letter appeared in The Chronicle-Herald which, perhaps, summed up what is wrong with this part of Nova Scotia. The writer moved to Granville Ferry from Victoria, British Columbia, a year ago, and, like many others who have lived in various parts of Canada, finds the apathy of the people here rather appalling.

Why is it so few of our people are willing to "rock the boat" when rocking may be the only hope of getting off the shoal that threatens to break up the boat? Even when victims of outright injustice, few will get behind and actively support those who are attempting to correct a bad situation.

If our representatives in government, at any level, are guilty of errors in judgment, or stupidity, then those who do not voice their disapproval are as guilty as they are. If there are inadequacies in our system then we should let those who are responsible know we are not happy with their performance.

Since 1972, Digby has been guilty of the questionable practise of employing a double standard when collecting water rates. Approximately 250 water users without water meters, or non-functioning ones, have been charged a flat rate of $5.50 (for two month period) or $33 a year for unlimited water usage while those with operating meters have been paying a basic charge of $4.50 plus 40 cents per month for every drop of water used.

Why were water rates increased in 1972 before functioning meters were installed in all homes? Until such time as this is accomplished a maximum rate of $33 a year should have been charged all households, not a favored 250!

Perhaps it is time the moral and legal rights of our town to impose such an arbitrary system of collecting water taxes should be challenged by those paying the piper or is indifference to prevail, once again, breeding still more indifference toward our town's affairs?

Silence gives consent and acceptance of what should be unacceptable. Only by exercising our privileges as taxpayers will our dissatisfaction become known to those in control.

(Mrs.) Enid Warren - (A dissatisfied taxpayer)

BOUNDARIES COMMISSION UNATTUNED

The Editor
Digby Courier
Digby, Nova Scotia

Dear Sir:

It has been reported that the Nova Scotia Boundaries Commission had recommended in their report to Ottawa that Annapolis East will be joined with Digby and Yarmouth Counties in a federal riding along with Annapolis West which is already part of the riding and will be called South Western Nova.

The Commission said "a series of public hearings was held around the province last September, but none of the representations expressed serious concern about the proposals." Naturally I am disappointed to learn the Commission did not make the report in our favour, but I cannot understand how the Commission could be so unattuned to the fact the residents of Annapolis East are totally opposed to going in a federal riding with Digby and Yarmouth Counties and that they feel they have closer ties with Kings County socially, economically and linguistically and wish to remain in a federal riding with Kings County. Our Member of Parliament, Mr. Patrick Nowlan, had a formal hearing on September 30 at the Court House in Halifax and voiced his objection to the proposal. Some of us were granted informal hearings in Digby at the Court House on Sept. 25, opposing the proposal but apparently the hearings carried no weight. The Chairman of the Commission personally received mail against the proposal, and at the informal hearings he suggested people write to their MP which resulted in Mr. Nowlan's office being flooded with mail, even after the mail strike and all had expressed objection to the proposal. In fact, I was told he had more mail on the issue than what he has received on any other matter. Surely, in a democratic society it is more important what people want than what somebody tells us what we must have whether we voiced ourselves formally or not.

In the hope of encouraging ten MPs to object in Parliament to the recommended boundary changes which would trigger a Commons debate and reconsideration by the Boundaries Commission, I have written the 11 MPs from Nova Scotia along with a few others and I have asked for their support in objection to the proposal that Annapolis East be in a federal riding with Digby and Yarmouth Counties. February 26 is the 30 day expiry date in which the objections have to be made before a debate would ensue.

Those of us who had informal hearings felt the Commission was just and fair in allowing us to have the informal hearings but naturally we are dismayed with the Commission's report but we are hoping all is not lost. We do not foresee constituents here living in a harmonious way when we are completely hostile to the enforced set-up of a riding in which we will lose our identity. With some good fortune, and with the wholehearted support of ten MPs, perhaps Mr. Castonguay, the ex-officio member of each provincial commission, will be convinced in reconsidering the Boundaries Commission's recommendation.

Yours truly,
(Mrs.) J. M. Johnson

MRS. WALLACE BISSELL
Mrs. Etta Parks of Port Wade, Annapolis County, received word of the passing of her sister, Helen, Mrs. Wallace Bissell of High Prairie, Alberta, which occurred on January 6.

She was the former Helen Snow, born at Digby, N. S., youngest daughter of Captain and Mrs. John W. Snow. Captain Joseph Snow, Captain William Snow and Captain Ansel Snow, three uncles of Mrs. Bissell, were well-known sea captains of the Digby area, where they resided most of their lives.

After a teaching career in Nova Scotia, Mrs. Bissell went to Alberta where she followed her chosen profession. On December 28, 1920, in Edmonton she married J. Wallace Bissell, who at that time was a member of the Alberta Provincial Police stationed at Waterhole (now Fairview). After the Alberta Provincial Police was absorbed into the R.C.M.P. in 1932, the Bissells engaged in farming north of High Prairie, until Mr. Bissell was appointed police magistrate in 1947, a capacity in which he served on the eastern Peace River circuit for twenty years.

Hazelton Chairman Two School Boards

Captain Reginald Hazelton was on Monday evening elected chairman of the Digby Regional High School Board, succeeding Austin Morehouse of Sandy Cove who completes a three year term at the next meeting. George Barton was elected vice-chairman. The election of Captain Hazelton, a Digby town councillor, puts Mr. Hazelton in the capacity of chairman for each, the Digby Board of School Commissioners and the D. R. H. S. Board.

Approval was given at the D. R. H. S. Board on Monday evening for several student trips. Rupert Haley and Steven Dumphrey were given permission for two days absence in March when they will chaperone twenty Grade XI and XII students on a trip to Paris and London. The trip is taken during the March break.

Permission was given for student exchange visits to U. S. A. and Grade IX students will enjoy a trip to Louisburg. Approval was given to the transportation expense of $220.40 for sports trips since the beginning of the term.

January accounts passed for payment amounted to $6,089.38 and capital invoices passed amounted of $1,642.

D. R. H. S. had been closed one day due to the severe February wind storm but no damage of any extent occurred at the school. A chimney blew down at St. Patrick's Elementary School but no other damage was done to schools with the town.

Clementsport Legion Names Haviland Room

A special meeting was held in the Legion Hall, Clementsport, at 8:00 pm on 6 February, when Com. Pres. A. J. Smyth installed Warren Balcom as an Ordinary Member of Branch No. 122.

The regular meeting was held in the Legion Hall at 8:30 pm on 10 February, 1976, Com. Pres. A. J. Smyth presiding. There were thirty-five members present. During the Silence the name of our late Comrade A. Gus Windsor, was remembered, he having passed on since last meeting. Gus was a member of Clementsport Branch for sixteen years and will be greatly missed.

Applications for membership to the Branch were read and approved for the following: Associate; Graham Wile, Lexine Wile. Ordinary: Gary Tibbo. Two transfers to the Branch were read and approved: Ronald Head and Charles Cameron.

Past President Com. Charles Long took the Chair and installed the following to full membership in the Branch: Associate; Shelly Windsor, Danny Potter, Wile and Lexine Wile. Ordinary: Charles McDonald, Ed Robert, Douglas Allison and Robert White.

It was regularly moved and seconded that the new lounge on the lower floor be named the "Haviland Room". Motion carried.

The meeting endorsed the motion that a Suggestion Box be set up by the Bar for suggestions as to a name for the new extension on the upper floor of the Legion Hall.

Plans are to be made for an official opening in the form of a Banquet and dance for the new extension early in June.

A Zone Meeting of Zone 9 is to be held in Branch No. 33, Bridgetown on 17 February. At this time Clementsport Branch will re-submit a resolution with regard to Legion Members in the Armed Forces retaining their membership while on duty overseas. A number of members are planning on attending this meeting.

The meeting endorsed a motion that H. R. Doane and Company, be engaged to Audit the Accounts of Clementsport Branch No. 122.

Com. Mason Wamboldt gave a report on the construction of the Hall extension. Work was well ahead of schedule and expenditures well within moneys borrowed for this project. The auditorium seating area is complete except for the floor covering and is being used for the Saturday night dances. This allows a much larger increase in admissions.

A donation of money was approved for one of the members whose mobile home was damaged in the hurricane of 2 February.

At the Executive Meeting it was agreed that Coms. Anderson, Rosen, C. Long, Miller and Stager represent the Branch at the Command Curling Bonspiel to be held in Bridgewater on 15-19 February.

A Committee was set up to recommend recipients for the Centennial Legion Service Medal. Com. Ed Riley was named to set up this Committee.

The co-ordinating centres are at the following locations:

In Digby County, at the local Fisheries Office,

Tiverton and at the Federal Department of Fisheries offices in Digby. The centre at Tiverton will accept affidavits of losses from fishermen on Briar Island and on Long Island, including East Ferry. The offices opened and fishermen began filing Wednesday morning, February 11 at 9 a.m.

Truck Brakes Fail

The first week of February, Weymouth witnessed a terrible storm, the following week on Thursday at 11:00 a.m. Weymouth witnessed a runaway truck by which three persons were injured.

A tandem trailer truck of loaded lumber suffered brake failure coming down the Campbell's Hill going toward Yarmouth and sheared off a power pole, collided with a car and smashed into the front of Blinn's Fina Service Station.

The drivers were taken to the Digby General Hospital by ambulance, and the next day released.

There were nine other vehicles involved before the truck came to its stop. One of the trucks, in the collision was "Dave's Transfer" from Digby and another a half-ton truck of Brian Ford's of Weymouth. No lives were lost.

Scout-Guide Week

Honor Memory Lord And Lady Powell

Scout-Guide Week is held each year from the Sunday before February 22 to the following Sunday. Why February 22? The answer is simple. Both Lord and Lady Baden-Powell were born on that day. The date, therefore, is a memorial to the late Chief Scout of the world and a day on which to honour the Chief Guide of the world - two people whose work has affected the lives of millions of people throughout the world.

By observing this week, we can help Scouts and Guides better understand the principles which 25 million active members throughout the world share in common.

If you haven't talked to a Boy Scout or Girl Guide lately, you don't know what you're missing. They're the ones who help out in hospitals, visit old folks homes, and help to preserve our natural heritage; they're the ones who know the excitement and adventure of being involved in their community's activities, they're the ones who hold our futures in their hands.

First Meetings For 1976

The Interdenominational Bible Study Group held its first meeting for 1976 with Betty Dennison as hostess on January 27 with 13 people in attendance.

The Devotional period being an appropriate one for the Bright New Year was conducted by Mrs. Frances Adams. It was entitled "You Can Begin Again".

Five guide lines for the New Year were given with the Scripture references.

They were:

We may attempt Great Work for God; We may perfect our Faith in the Heavenly Father who cares for us; We may increase our love; We may learn to pray and We may find our rest in God.

The Bible Study and discussion period was under the leadership of Mrs. Carman Frankland and since it was the first of a Bright New Year the leader centered this study period around some thoughts for the New Year with scripture references.

The second meeting of the New Year was held at the home of Mrs. Oakley Turnbull. Ten present.

The Devotional period was under the leadership of Mrs. Carman Frankland and her message was entitled "Worried Sick". The group was admonished not to be "anxious about tomorrow, don't be worried sick." And remember that those who brood over their troubles hatch even greater problems.

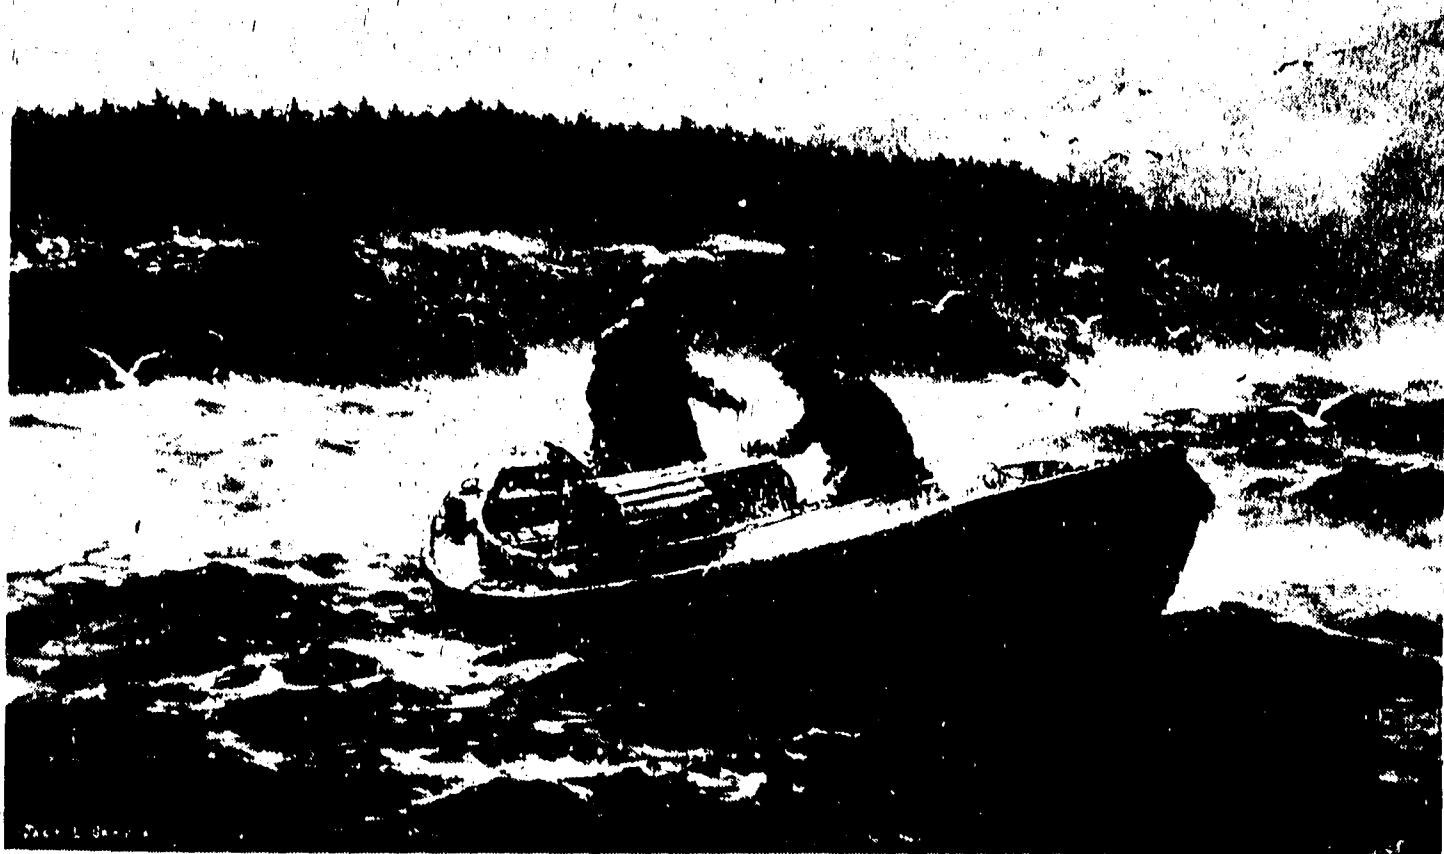

The regular study period continued from the previous meetings with thoughts for the new year. The Scripture references appropriate for these thoughts were read and discussed by the group.

Prayer partners for the year 1976 were chosen.

The members present participated in telling and sharing with others some experiences in their lives which happened during the past two weeks and for which they could say "Praise the Lord".

The next meeting will be held at the Seabrook Home of Mrs. Gerald Budd on February 24th.

"East Ironbound Winter"

One of Maritime painter Jack Gray's favourite compositions "East Ironbound Winter", which has now been made into a limited, signed edition of a 30 x 50 lithograph, processed by the Dutch firm of Henkes Senfelder.

The original painting is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Rel

Carta of West Palm Beach, Florida.

Gray's paintings now command a figure approaching $35,000 each. His painting of the internationally famous Bluenose was referred to by its captain, Angus Walters, "She's more like Bluenose than Bluenose".

Baptists Observe Youth Week

The Youth Week on the Deep Brook Baptist Pastorate got off to a good start, this past weekend, when a Gospel Team from Acadia Divinity College conducted services at Deep Brook, Clementsport and Smith's Cove churches. The team, under the direction of L.C. John Jay, ADC, led in the singing of hymns and provided special music throughout the service. Members of the team were: Beverly Logan, Acadia Divinity College; Ann Garland, Janet Savage and Michael Patton, students at Acadia University.

Miss Logan, in her inspiring message on love, as expressed by the Good Samaritan, told of how our neighbor is not those whom it is easy to love, but also those who are not easy to show love to and assist in time of need - loneliness - sorrow, etc. - that neighbor who doesn't think as we do, whose actions may upset us - to these, we as Christians need to show compassion in Christ's name.

Rev. Wallace H. Jordan, pastor, closed the services with a benediction.

Sunday evening, the youth of the Pastorate, under the leadership of L.C. Dick Moore, counsellor, conducted the service at the Deep Brook Baptist Church. They opened the service with the singing of "I Don't Know Why You Came, But I Came to Praise the Lord!" and continued throughout the service to present special music of praise, testimony and meditation. The congregation also joined in singing several hymns and choruses.

Testimonies were given by Donna Dittmars, Joanne Frankland, Marlene Potter and Gary Selig.

Mr. Moore spoke briefly on 1 John 4:19 and Pastor Jordan gave a short message at the close of the service on the danger of trying to live the Christian life on our own without relying completely on Jesus Christ.

Gary Selig, Wade Selig and Billy Hall were members of the instrumental group providing music for the youth and Joanne Frankland was at the piano for congregational singing.

Certificates Presented

Mrs. Earl Webber was hostess on Monday evening February 9th to the Womens' Missionary Society of the United Baptist Church, Westport. Mrs. Lawrence Shaw presided. Provincial Life Membership certificates were presented by Mrs. Shaw to Mrs. Lloyd Frost, Mrs. Kingsley Denton and to Miss Eileen Sharpe.

A presentation of a Dominion Life Membership Certificate and pin emblematic of the United Baptist Women's Missionary Union was made to Mrs. Albert Bailey. Mrs. Shaw was assisted in this presentation by Mrs. George Clements and Mrs. George Sharpe, with Mrs. Webber accompanying at the piano for the group to sing "Blest Be The Tie". The program was given by Mrs. Albert Bailey, her subject being on the work among the Indian people of Ontario.

Devotional was given by Mrs. Kingsley Denton reading the Spiritual Life lesson and other members reading some of the "Precious Promises" and the first one being "Honor Thy Father and Mother", which is the first commandment with "Promise".

Prayer Time was led by Mrs. Sharpe. The roll was called to which members responded with scripture containing word "Repeat".

The secretary read a letter regarding White Cross work.

In the absence of Mrs. Bradford Deloney, the hostess was assisted at the social hour by Mrs. Albert Bailey.

Form New Organization

The Christian Prisoners Association is an organization of people who are concerned about the spiritual welfare of those incarcerated in local jails, penitentiaries or other correctional institutions. This organization in Digby came into being due to the efforts of Eunice Pearson, Elaine Handspiker, Digby, and Walter Johnson, then an inmate in Stony Mountain penitentiary. After three years in which much work was done and many letters written the (C.P.A.) Christian Prisoners Association was officially recognized by the Canadian government, and a Charter issued, September 1, 1975. As far as is known the Digby organization is the only one in Canada.

The purpose of the C.P.A. is to present the gospel to those in correctional institutions, to visit them when possible, to encourage them with letters and Christian literature and to show kindness and love that they may know that others care.

The spokesman, said that anyone who would be interested in joining the C.P.A. should write to Christian Prisoners Association, Box 803, Digby, Nova Scotia, Canada, B0V 1A0.

There is much that can be done such as writing letters, visitation, making contributions to the organization for literature distribution and kindred other things, Mrs. Pearson and Miss Handspiker remarked.

Inspiration for forming this organization came about through finding an interest by prisoners in wanting correspondence with those in every day life. Also, from the promoting of the Systematic Theology Bible study course. Several have taken the course and others are being continually enrolled, the organizers told The Digby Courier.

They hope the readers will get the basic concepts of the organization and they ask them to consider becoming a part of a growing spiritual fellowship dedicated to the idea of sharing Christ and his teachings with men and women behind bars and show them that he cares for and loves them and wants their love in return.

Did You Know ?

What Is A Drug?

A drug is a substance that by its chemical nature alters structure or function in the body.

What Effects Do Drugs Produce?

Changes in the functioning of your body may cause changes in your behavior. The effects of drugs are usually predictable, but since no two people are exactly alike the same drug can have different effects of different people. For instance, some people can not be treated with penicillin because they suffer a bad reaction.

Of particular interest is a group of drugs less familiar to most of us - the mood-modifiers.

Mood-Modifying Drugs

Broadly speaking, you can obtain three different kinds of reactions from mood-altering drugs, and thus they can be divided loosely into three categories - stimulants, depressants, and hallucinogens.

Stimulants speed up your mental processes and therefore make you more alert - giving you a kind of "lift" or "high". When you drink too much coffee, for example, you sometimes feel excited and jittery.

Depressants, and this includes tranquilizers and alcohol, make you relaxed and less conscious of events around you. Perhaps that is why many people have a drink to unwind after a trying day.

Hallucinogens are sometimes called "mind-altering" drugs. They mainly change the kind of sensations you have, although they may also speed them up or slow them down.

How Do Drugs Produce These Effects?

In order to understand how these drugs work, we must first examine the normal functioning of the brain. What happens when you are startled by a loud noise?

The sound waves hit your ear and are changed into nervous impulses. Impulses go along sensory pathways to your brain. In the brain they go in two directions - to the reticular formation and to the sensory cortex.

1. Reticular Formation: When impulses arrive here, the rest of the brain is alerted so that it will respond to the impulses. But it does this selectively, directing your attention to the new sound and damping out the background.

Mood-modifying drugs can change the normal function of the reticular formation.

2. Sensory Cortex: When impulses arrive here you "hear" the sound, and new impulses go out to other parts of the alerted brain.

As a result, you may react to the sound automatically - eyes turn toward the sound, you jump, you sweat, your heart thumps.

Or you may react by recognizing the sound and reacting deliberately in a manner of your own choosing.

Stimulants act on the reticular formation so that impulses from it to the rest of the brain are increased. Thus, your brain reacts faster to the messages it receives. But high doses make your brain respond to more impulses at the same time - new sounds as well as background - and your brain may be flooded with more than it can handle. This can give rise to delusions and other mental disturbances.

Depressants act on the reticular formation so that messages go more slowly to the other parts of your brain and slow you down. High doses can slow you down completely so that you fall asleep or "pass out."

Hallucinogens act in three possible ways: they can act on the reticular formation; they can alter perception and physical sensation; they can disturb thought processes. While their actions have not yet been completely explained by scientists, they probably affect other parts of the brain, as well.

Smith's Cove Native Dies At 100

Clarence James Letteney, 100, died Monday at Yarmouth Regional Hospital.

Born in Smith's Cove, he was a son of the late Greeman and Florence (Snow) Letteney.

He was a seaman.

Surviving are: three daughters, Dorothy (Mrs. Ray Skinner), Pleasant Lake; Thelma (Mrs. Harvey Moulaison), Florence (Mrs.

Freeman Rhyno), both of Yarmouth; two sons, William, South Cheggogin; Douglas, Pubnico; 18 grandchildren; 39 great-grandchildren and a great great grandchild.

Funeral service was held 2 p.m. Thursday in Notre Dame Church. Burial was in Our Lady of Calvary Cemetery.

Digby Native Commended

Four crew-members of the Halifax based helicopter-destroyer HMCS Annapolis have earned commendations from the chief of the defence staff, for working in exceptionally hazardous conditions during the salvage of a Sea King helicopter in the North Sea off Holland in June, 1974.

Lieutenant Gerald J. Mailloux, 27, Halifax; Master Corporal Hugh Livingstone, 43, Dartmouth, N.S., 22 year old Able Seamen David A. Dubois, Redvers, Sask., and Roger T. McCullough, Digby, N.S., worked together and in conjunction with The Netherlands naval supply ship HNLMS Poolster, to keep the foundering, 10-ton helicopter afloat after it was forced to ditch with an engine malfunction. There were no injuries.

Soon after the helicopter ditched safely at dusk, Lieut. Mailloux swam to the helicopter, which was rolling gently on fuel-slicked swells 7-10 feet high.

Once aboard, he jettisoned the aircraft's external smoke generators, which had ignited on impact, posing an explosive threat and pouring dense, white smoke into the area.

He then entered the gradually-sinking helicopter and cleared out moveable gear, which was recovered by AB McCullough, a diver who swam to the aircraft's side along with AB Dubois. They helped Lieut. Mailloux secure a lifting-sling to the helicopter, disregarding danger of the helicopter capsizing.

M/Cpl. Livingstone, though a weak swimmer, swam in a life-jacket to assist in the salvage.

Climbing on top of the helicopter, he and Lieut. Mailloux worked in darkness for nearly 1 1/2 hours, sawing off rotor blades with hacksaws. The blades had to be removed in order to complete the salvage.

All four were in danger of being trapped, possibly drowned, if the 50-ft. long aircraft capsized.

The helicopter later was picked up by the Dutch buoy-tender Breevertien and taken to Den Helder, The Netherlands. Annapolis, at the end of its NATO deployment as flagship of the Standing Naval Force, Atlantic, at the time, later brought it back to Halifax.

Lt.-Cdr. Michael Hodgson, Annapolis' executive officer, reported later that "Lieut. Mailloux's drive and bravery in hazardous circumstances inspired the other men in the salvage."

He added that "due to the conspicuous bravery of M/Cpl. Livingstone and others, the helicopter was successfully salvaged."

Digby Elementary vs St. Patricks

The Digby forum was the scene of an exciting hockey game on the afternoon of February 5th. The grade six boys of Digby Elementary and St. Patricks met for an afternoon of fun and competition. The game was arranged by Miss McCormick, the physical education teacher for the Digby Elementary schools.

Observing and encouraging the players were the grade five and six classes of both schools. Needless to say, the walls of the forum vibrated with cheers for both sides. The Digby Elementary girls were especially well organized with stimulating cheers to spur their classmates on. Doing an excellent job of refereeing was Mr. Reg Hazelton, who willingly responded to the challenge. Both coaches are also to be congratulated for their excellent job. Coaching the St. Patricks' team was Sister Stolar, while Mr. R. Jeffrey coached the Digby Elementary boys.

Action was lively as each team strove to do their utmost. In the first period Kirk MacKintosh of St. Patricks scored the first goal. This was almost immediately followed by a goal scored by Randy Gidney for Digby Elementary. The score tied, the players rallied their best efforts to obtain the winning goal. The last remaining seconds of the game were at hand when Kirk MacKintosh scored the winning goal for St. Patricks bringing the score to 2-1 in their favour.

Good sportsmanship was exhibited throughout the game. At the end of the game each team met on the ice to congratulate the other on a job well done.

Sister Stolar set an excellent example of good sportsmanship by congratulating the goalie of the Digby Elementary, Brian Haynes, on a job well done.

Junior Girls Basketball

For the first time a junior girls basketball league has been formed in the Digby and Annapolis county area. The league consists of Lawrencetown Consolidated

Digby Pee Wee Redwings Eliminate

Wolfville 12-11

In the second game of a two game total goal series, the Reg Hazelton Brian Hazel coached Pee Wee Redwings eliminated the Bill Leask Wolfville Pee Wee's by taking the game by the score of 5-3 and the series by 12-11. This game was played in the Digby Forum and the game was very even from start to finish (as the score indicates). It took the Redwings only seventeen seconds to tie the series up (they lost the first game by the score of 8-7) when Burnell Burgoyne assisted by Paul Ritchie netted the twine for the first of three goals scored by Burgoyne. This goal held up into the third when Joey Hattie assisted by Chuckie Woods made it 2-0 at the forty-eight second mark then Burnell Burgoyne assisted by Paul Ritchie made it 3-0 for the Redwings. The Wolfville team came back with two quick goals by D. Hancock and Mapplebeck but Joey Hattie assisted by Chris Frost made it 4-2 at the 10:36 mark and Burnell Burgoyne assisted by Kirk Mackintosh got what proved to be the winning goal of the series. Kevin Mapplebeck scored his second for Wolfville at 14:34 to come within one of tying the series, but although they came close the Redwings were able to hold them off. Incidentally Paul Scott in goal for the Redwings pulled off some solid saves especially in the earlier part of the game. The Redwings will await their next opponents in the Provincial play-downs but in the meantime they will entertain a team from the U.S.A.

Digby Cats Defeat Digby Tigers 3-1

The Digby Cats coached by Lawrence Comeau in the absence of Louise MacDonald defeated the Gougee coached Digby Tigers by the score of 3-1 in a game played on February 9th. David Comeau, Mark Fletcher and Kimball Nesbitt got the scores for the Cats while Robbie Kynock got the only goal for the Tigers late in the third period. This game was played in the Digby-Cornwallis Atom Division.

Cornwallis Bruins Lose 5-2 To Digby Tigers

In a regular league game played at the Digby Forum the Cornwallis Bruins went down to defeat at the hands of the Digby Tigers by the score of 5-2. Mike Goguen opened the scoring for the Tigers and Robbie Kynock added four to put the game out of reach of the Bruins. Robbie Cullen drew an assist on one of Kynock's goals. Mike Chmiel and Billy Strange scored for the losers. In another league game played in the Atom Division Cornwallis Leafs shut out Cornwallis Bruins 4-0.

Windsor Atoms Down Digby Sabres 11-0

In the first of a two game total goal series played in Windsor the Digby Sabres were outclassed by a well coached and hungry Atom team by the score of 11-0. As Windsor were unable to make the return trip to Digby at the appointed time allotted for the game it was decided to forfeit the series. In all fairness to the boys this was indeed a long trip to make and especially after spending most of the day in school. The score does not tell the complete picture for the lads played well and only gave up one goal in the third period.

Digby Bantams Oust Berwick From Further Provincial Play-Offs

Digby Bantams handled by Rick Daley took the second game of the total goal series with Berwick by the score of 12-2 and won the round 20-8 as they won the first game played at Berwick. The Bantams now meet Newport in the next round of the Bantam Provincial play downs this coming week-end. Incidentally, this is the team Paul VanTassel coached until he broke his leg playing with the Digby Ravens against Cornwallis Cougars roughly a week ago. To Paul our sincere best wishes for a speedy recovery and we will watch your Bantams "do their thing" from here on.

Tideview Administrator Reports Excellent Occupational Therapy

Russell Stonehouse, administrator of Tideview Terrace, presented a report at the Board for the institution on Wednesday evening when special mention was made of the excellent occupational therapy program carried on at Tideview. The program includes handcraft work which is rewarding to the planner and the patient. Mr. Stonehouse reported that working closely with this department and also added plus to the whole of the operation is the auxiliary of the Home known as "Friends of Tideview". The auxiliary has been most active and the fruit of their efforts are beginning to show. During 1975 they applied for a New Horizon grant which they received. This resulted in the purchase of a sound movie projector, musical instruments for a rhythm band, handcraft supplies and equipment to carry out the handcraft work. Beyond this grant they have provided bus trips for the patients and in general have improved the setting of the Home to make it a better place to be a Top Generation person requiring special care.

Mr. Stonehouse also made proposals about expansion in his report. He said that realizing inflation period has caused concern to all levels of Government from Municipal to Federal, plus revenue and high expenses of maintaining a Home for Special Care, the only way of alleviating this would be through additional beds. He made a preliminary survey on the number and type of beds that would best serve the Corporation and found that an additional 20 beds are needed. He felt that in order to properly begin negotiations there should be a certain amount of involvement by the Board of Management with the Federal and Provincial members to make them aware of the situation.

Mr. Stonehouse's report revealed few changes in the nursing care staff in 1975. Monthly meetings discuss any problems arising and have been found to be most successful. An In-Service training program was carried out in 1975. Patient days within the Nursing Care Wing were 9,583. Personal Care Patient days in 1975 were 10,041. The Personal Care Section of the Home, Mr. Stonehouse said is always under close surveillance on the above situation for having the proper patient in the proper setting so that they receive the proper level of care. Audits, according to Mr.

Stonehouse's report have found a high degree of office procedures implemented, followed and approved.

Dietary and Nursing Departments work very closely with one another. Patients being at the average age of 80, come with a diet prescribed by their doctor and naturally this has to be maintained at Tideview Terrace. During 1975 the Dietary Department was most fortunate to have at its disposal the services of a Nutritionist re diets and menus at large. Close liaison with the Department of Social Services re menu planning and general dietary department management will be held in 1976.

The housekeeping department and laundry operation of the Home comes under one supervisor and the past year has been maintained at an efficient level. Sessions have been held with the Department of Health and films shown on proper procedures of institutional cleaning. The supervisor has been away on two seminars in Housekeeping Procedures concerning institutions such as Tideview Terrace and has found them most informative with certain new practices put into effect as the result of such meetings.

The Maintenance and Stores Department the report said, is a key section within the whole operation. at Tideview. All other Departments depend upon the maintenance section for optimum efficiency within their departments and during the past year the maintenance department has been most active.

Good Turnout

Almost 200 spectators were on hand for Minor Hockey Night in Digby on Tuesday, January 27.

Mrs. Pat Kynock, president of the Digby Minor Hockey Association, was pleased with what she termed a "good turnout" of parents, relatives and friends of the boys.

The audience was treated to a full evening of entertainment beginning with the introduction of players at 6:30 p.m. The introduction 34 points, while Beverly Elliot of Freeport scored 19 points.

At the end of the day, Lawrencetown and Digby were locked in a tie for first place with identical 2-0 records.

The next tournament will be played in Freeport on March 5.

Messages were brought from Mrs. Kynock and Digby Mayor Charles Haliburton. Mayor Haliburton expressed hope that people would support Minor Hockey on a year-round basis, not just during Minor Hockey Week.

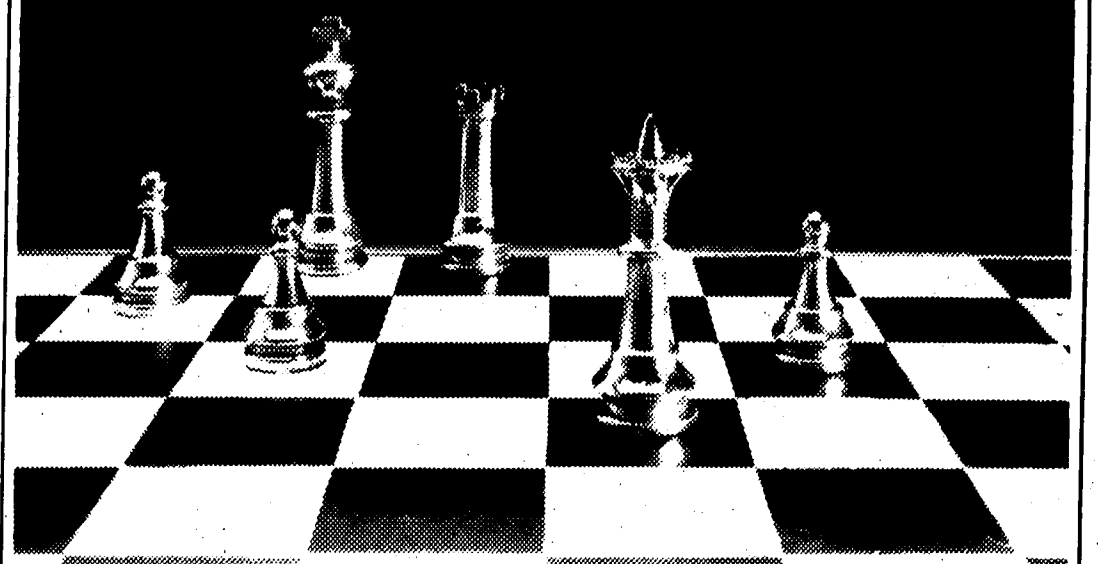

Mr. Haliburton was welcomed by Mrs. Hazelton. Mrs. Kynock welcomed the parents and boys, and thanked all those who worked on Minor Hockey Week activities including the pantry sale, tag sale, Minor Hockey Night, and the advertising page in the Digby Courier. Her thanks also went to the coaches for the fine job done all year - and to those who donated to the advertising page but did not wish their names listed.

After the messages came a skating demonstration by the Novices. The Novices are a new group this year taking in youngsters from the ages of three to eight. Basics, such as skating skills are taught at this level.

At 7:15 p.m., two Atoms House League teams took to the ice for a game. That was followed by a practice demonstration by the Pee Wee Red Wings.

The Bantams and Blues, Bantam House League teams played three 10-

Plan two strategic moves.

Planning for the day you retire or buy your first home means having a master plan for your investment in the future. So we have two plans to help. A Registered Retirement Savings Plan, and a Registered Home Ownership Savings Plan. They both earn you valuable tax savings, and when you subscribe to either one, or both plans your contributions can be applied to any one, or a combination of these investment vehicles:

- 1. Royal Bank RRSP and RHOSP Deposits. Interest-bearing deposits with The Royal Bank of Canada, offering a high interest return, geared to the general deposit rate structure. Because of the long-term nature of these deposits, it is possible to pay a higher rate of interest than on conventional savings deposits.
- 2. Income Fund. High-yield bonds, deposit instruments and mortgages insured under the National Housing Act make up this portfolio which is actively managed by professionals. The policy is to achieve as high a current income as is compatible with maintaining reasonable price stability as well as moderate capital appreciation.

- 3. Equity Fund. Investment mainly in Canadian common stock portfolio which is actively managed by the same professionals. Long-term capital growth with reasonable current income is the objective of this fund.

A Missionary Rally will be observed on the weekend of February 21-23 at the Clementsvalle United Baptist Church with Mr. Joe Jenkins as guest speaker. Rev. Paul Legge, pastor.

Mr. Jenkins and his family served as missionaries for fifteen years in Central India. From there they spent a short term in Hong Kong. For the past four years the Jenkins have been labouring in Surinam, South America, where Mr. Jenkins has been doing translation work on a Surinam Hindi New Testament.

The Jenkins have been serving as missionaries through the years with International Missions, Inc., which is an interdenominational faith mission. It was with the same mission in India that Rev. and Mrs. Legge served as missionaries for ten years.

Mr. Jenkins will be speaking at the following places during his visit here with the Legges:

Saturday, February 21, 8 p.m., at the Missionary Rally, Clementsvalle Baptist Church. He will show slides pertaining to his work in Surinam. Youth and adults are invited to attend.

Sunday morning, February 22, 11 a.m., he will speak at the morning service at Clementsvalle.

Sunday evening at 7:30 p.m. he will be guest speaker at the Bear River Baptist Church.

Monday night, February 23, 7:30 p.m., Mr. Jenkins will show slides and speak at the W. M. S. meeting on the Shore at Hillsburn Baptist Church.

Utterly Devastating Assessment

Utterly devastating is the way in which the Board of Directors of the Innkeepers Guild, the voice of the Hotel and Motel Industry of Nova Scotia, describes this morning's report on the property assessments in Digby County.

At the time when the Industry is fighting desperately to attract business in competition with the United States Spirit of '76 Celebrations, having the assessment in Digby County, the point of entry for many United States visitors, increased by 307 percent rings like a death knell throughout every county in the Province, threatening the demise of many establishments which, on a seasonal basis, form part of the fabric of what hitherto has been the Number Three export dollar earner for Nova Scotia.

This, a spokesman said, piles on top of the restraints being applied by both the Federal and Provincial Governments and the loss of much useful promotional and development aid for Nova Scotia, is going to create business casualties, not only in Digby County, but throughout the whole Province.

Apparently, the Government, in its desire to gather in more tax money, is prepared to take a calculated risk on how many casualties will result and little regard, it would appear, is being paid to the fact that establishments in this labour intensive industry will, if forced out of business, be removed as employers in an area of Nova Scotia which sorely needs more employment opportunities, not less.

The Innkeepers Guild of Nova Scotia, the spokesman continued, must make its own members and all other small businesses aware of the crushing long-range effect of this type of assessment increase and warn that the assessment is only the tip of the iceberg. The Innkeepers Guild Board of Directors, meeting in Halifax, places the full support of its membership behind those of its members in Digby County and the "Committee for Orderly Protest" which is attempting to stem the tide of this iniquitous system.

Grant

The Victorian Order of Nurses has received a grant of $20,000 from the provincial government to help offset a deficit in the past fiscal year and meet expenses in the current year's operation. Presentation was made by Health Minister Bill MacEachern. Left to right are Mr. MacEachern, Doreen Havey, Dartmouth, secretary of the provincial V. O. Board Pushes For Loitering, Tire-Squealing By-Law

Loitering, and noise resulting from squealing tires, were two of the topics discussed during the Bear River Board of Trade's February meeting.

Rev. Foster Hall was requested to appear before Tuesday's meeting of the Annapolis Municipal Council to present a brief from the Board on these problems.

(Rev. Hall presented his brief on Tuesday morning. The matter is already under consideration by that council and is expected to be considered by Digby Municipal Council at a later date.)

The February meeting was held at the fire hall under the Chairmanship of the board's new president, Allister Milner.

Correspondence to the board included a letter from Industrial Estates Ltd. advising that representatives of its small business financing division would be visiting various areas of the province during the year to meet with local businessmen and discuss their financial requirements.

Another letter was received from the Atlantic Provinces Chambers of Commerce seeking the board's thoughts on possible student-teacher ration changes.

The letter indicated that the Nova Scotia Teachers Union is requesting a ratio of 14 students to one teacher. The Atlantic Provinces Chambers of Commerce and Boards of Trade are conducting a study on the matter. The present ratio is 18-1.

The Board of Trade passed a motion in favour of retaining the ratio as it is.

William Cox advised that a group is anxious to establish a day-care centre in the community. The Board decided to have a member of the group appear at a future meeting to explain the plan.

As the meeting drew to a close, Rev. Hall brought members up-to-date on attempts being made to form a legal organization which would serve as a launching point for the community project. He noted that planning requires a "valid" organization.

He termed a meeting to be held on that matter this week a "critical one", noting that a decision will be made on what type of structure will be adopted. A Board of Directors will also be elected, he said.

Without a community structure, Rev. Hall said, all the work for planning "will just go down the drain."

Robertson presented the reports for sewers, water and streets when councillor Gordon Ellis inquired into the amount of chlorine going into the water. He was informed that the density was due to the fish plants needing a lot of chlorination.

Carl Niemeyer, building inspector, was not present to give his report. When the question came up regarding the Town Hall wiring, Glen Pitman, town clerk, reported that the special committee was to contact the superintendent and himself but they had not been contacted. It was reported the wiring situation is getting worse instead of better.

Councillor Gordon Ellis found it necessary to be excused from both the Social Services Board and the School Board. Deputy Mayor Philip Robertson was appointed in his place to the school board.

The Admiral Digby Library and Historical Society were granted permission to hold tag days, May 28 and May 29.

A joint meeting of a Municipality committee and a town committee on the provincial-municipal tax assessment is to be held tonight at 7:30 at the Fundy Restaurant.

Interest In Dugout

It would be not quite fair to say that the Indian Dugout found at Westport after the storm last week received as much attention as did the storm itself, but it is surprising how many calls came to this office about the story. One error was pointed out and is mentioned this week in our issue where the time of Champlain was given as 1769. That date is more near the founding of Digby while the Champlain dates go back to 1600's.

One who was interested in the dugout was Richard McEwan, Bear River, a former Indian Chief at the Bear River. He feels the dugout could be centuries old or made somewhere where there were no birch trees. Indians, he said, were making birch bark canoes when the white man came here. The dugout, he said, required much more work than the birch bark and were done with primitive tools.

Community Band Receives Recreation Grant

Don Scott, director of the Digby Community Band, has announced receipt of a grant from the Nova Scotia Department of Recreation to help with expenses for a Band Clinic and Vocal Workshop to be held at the Digby Regional High School on February 28 and 29. Program for the clinic will consist of Brass, Reed, Percussion and Choral Clinics Saturday morning and afternoon. Sunday afternoon there will be individual performances by participating bands and choirs, to which the public is invited at no charge.

Clinicians involved in the clinic will be: Bill Bartlett, University of P.E.I. - Reeds and String; Brian Unvericht, University of P.E.I. - Brass; Bill Brousseau, Halifax, N.S. - Percussion and A. G. Scott-Savage, Music Advisor, Fine Arts Service, Department of Education, Halifax - Choral Workshop.

Adult bands and choral groups from Bridgetown to Yarmouth are being invited to attend the Band Clinic and Choral Workshop and an enthusiastic response is expected.

Defaga Snowmobile Club Has Another Pot-Luck Supper

Sunday was the scene of another successful pot-luck supper and monthly business meeting of the Defaga Snowmobile Club. Approximately 60 members and their families attended. The supper was a big success. A large array of foods and desserts covered two tables. A Fudge Sale was held to raise funds for the club. Over $20.00 was realized at the supper and the balance of the fudge will be sold at the Mall. Mrs. Fred (Gloria) Spechts conducted the sale. Over 40 machines left Defaga Lodge for a 52 mile trip. It was well enjoyed by all except for one mishap. "No it wasn't serious," said a spokesman, "but you would think out of 40 machines just one operator could earn his merit badge for fire making. Well, after many attempts a kettle was brought to boil," he said, and a thankful sound to some cold enthusiasts, "Lunch is served."

It was moved at the meeting that an official Club crest be ordered for members. This was passed and a design chosen.

It was also moved, that a regular schedule of trips be set up, weather permitting as follows:

Saturday and Sunday trips will leave the Defaga Lodge on Saturday between 9:00 and 10:00 a.m.; Sunday, between 9:00 and 10:00 a.m. and leaving at 2:00 p.m.

The Defaga Lodge has invited all members to a games night held on Thursday night at the Lodge. Darts, cards, and crib are

Tie-Downs For Mobile Homes

The severe damage suffered by owners of mobile homes in many parts of the province in the last 24 hours once again points out the necessity of tie-downs for these structures, says George H. Emerson, Director of Nova Scotia Emergency Measures Organization.

Mr. Emerson said this afternoon his office has learned that a large number of mobile homes were overturned and extensively damaged as a result of the high winds.

Tie-downs that secure a mobile home to the ground or a footing would provide the type of protection required to combat winter storms, high winds or hurricanes.

Mr. Emerson suggested that municipalities consider enacting bylaws requiring mobile home owners to apply tie-downs to their homes.

"Such precautions" would probably result in lower insurance costs as well as providing greater protection," Mr. Emerson said.

Mr. Emerson said the severe wind and snow storm of October, 1974, also resulted in extensive damage to mobile homes, particularly in Cape Breton.

A booklet is available to owners of mobile homes explaining the importance of tie-downs and how they are applied. Copies of the booklet may be obtained from the EMO office in Halifax, or the N.S. Government Bookstore, P.O. Box 637, 1683 Barrington Street, Halifax.

CLOSED BOOKS OPEN DOORS

When a Community Club in Saskatchewan closed its books, it sent the balance of funds to the USC of Canada. The donation was enough to provide a High School scholarship for a child in Southern Africa. USC headquarters is at 56 Sparks Street, Ottawa.

FROM SMALL BEGINNINGS

"Enclosed is my annual contribution to the USC" wrote a house wife from Shelburne, Nova Scotia. "It represents one Friendship Dollar for each month until next September. I would like it to go for food and blankets." USC programs are funded by small contributors across the country. USC headquarters is at 56 Sparks Street, Ottawa.

and stop signs was brought up with an estimated 42 being needed. Police were requested to look into the matter and have the town employees place them where the police thought best.

The meeting on Monday evening adjourned at 11:30 p.m. with fourteen reports on the agenda not having been presented. The Council will meet on February 17 in special meeting and will also complete the business of Monday evening.

The report of Webster Dunn, parking meter attendant showed fines collected $359.15, tickets issued 53 with 29 collected and three cancelled. Councillor Eileen Chipman complained to Council that merchants were allowed parking for their vehicles down town when the meter time had expired. Mrs. Chipman also requested to know to whom the meter attendant was accountable and if it was permissible to leave work for an hour, six hours, a week or whatever and no one know about it.

Mr. Dunn in his defense said he checks the meters six times a day when necessary, he is lenient with trucks loading and unloading down town and he has never gone away without discussing it with the mayor or clerk. "He has never taken more days than entitled to," said Mr. Dunn.

The question of whether a committee can set policy was brought up and it was figured that a committee can recommend but does not have power to set policy. Council does that.

The report of the Dog Catcher disclosed that four dogs were picked up in December and eight in January. Seven in January were claimed and one sold. Superintendent Frank

Looking Ahead

"Looking Ahead, without rose colored glasses" was the theme of a most successful Senior Citizens' Seminar held in Coldbrook last week, sponsored jointly by the provincial departments of education and recreation. Co-ordinated by Fred Barrett, some seventy-five Valley Senior Citizens attended the three day session.

Mayor Roy McIsaac, Bridgetown, chaired the housing panel when the pros and cons of the senior citizens' housing were discussed.

Information Canada Closes Centre

Information Canada's citizens Enquiry Centre at 1683 Barrington Street, and its mobile program closed Friday, January 16, at 5 p.m., it was announced at a news conference by Nova Scotia Manager, G. R. Patterson.

"The Book Store will continue its operations, but the Centre with its staff trained to answer queries, and the free publications from governmental departments will no longer be available from us," Mr. Patterson said.

"Our mobile officers who work from their homes in Barrington Passage, Meteghan, Dartmouth, Guysborough, Port Hawkesbury, Amherst, and Sydney, have also been advised to cease operations tomorrow," he said. "Eddie Comeau was the mobile officer in Meteghan, Digby Co."

The Nova Scotia Enquiry Centre opened as a small operation in the fall of 1972, expanding gradually to its present trained staff of five. It acted as a centre for governmental information, responding to enquiries received through telephone calls, letters, and personal visits.

"Young and old citizens used the centre, including school and university students, journalists, businessmen, and voluntary groups," he said. "The Centre kept a good supply of brochures, published by departments, ranging from 'Federal Funding for Citizens Organizations' to '100 Ways to Save Energy and Money in the Home'."

The mobile program began in March, 1973, as a means of reaching citizens outside of cities, and people who do not have easy access to government information. Mobile officers frequently served as a bridge between groups in a community, informing each about the other, and making government resources known to them both for joint projects.

"We felt that Information Canada's operation in Nova Scotia made it easier for citizens to know about programs especially designed for them," Mr. Patterson said. "It helped to close the gap."

"We handled about 5,000 enquiries each month," he said. "I think that it is a pity to see it eliminated."

"There will no longer be a central access to government information, thereby, making it particularly difficult for citizens in rural areas especially to have meaningful contact with the federal government."

Beginning Monday, enquiries about government programs and services should be directed to individual departments.

The following poem was sent to the Digby Courier by a subscriber to the Courier for 56 years. The poem was written as a farewell to King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, parents of the present Queen Elizabeth II, on their last trip to Nova Scotia together.

A FAREWELL TO THEIR MAJESTIES

From coast to coast your people with elation
Have given you gladly all their loyal praise;
At last fades out the welcome of a Nation,
And into story pass these noble days.

Take from our hearts these faithful words in parting,
When from our shore the lordly ship goes free,
While the last, swift Canadian gulls are darting,
And the long harbour opens to the sea.

May many a lovely memory never perish,
Scenes of our glorious country; far above
All the land's peerless beauty may you cherish
The crowning glory of a people's love.

While the King reigns from ocean to ocean,
Under the wide, serene Canadian sky,
We whom you leave in ageless, deep devotion,
Can never to our Sovereign say good-bye.

Master of Life whose power is never sleeping
In the dark void or in the hearts of men, Hold them, our King and Queen, safe in Thy keeping
And bring them to their Western realm again.

And for their Canada be watchful ever,—
Grant us this boon if there be one alone,
To do our part in high and pure endeavour
To build a peaceful Empire 'round the Throne.

DUNCAN CAMPBELL SCOTT.

The above poem was especially written for the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation by Duncan Campbell Scott, nationally-known Canadian author and poet. It was read over the CBC's national network from its Halifax studios, as the Empress of Britain, bearing Their Majesties, steamed out of Halifax.

Hill Climbing

Unlike driving a passenger car, operating a snowmobile is not a passive exercise. Skill depends on the driver's ability to blend himself with the characteristics of his machine.

For example, climbing a hill calls for a combination of good judgment, a game plan and proper positioning of your body, according to the Mercury Marine snowmobile people. When approaching a fairly steep hill, accelerate before you start to climb. And do it smoothly so you won't cause your track to lose its grip on the snow. The standing position will give you good control of your machine and enable you to get your weight well forward. Release your throttle slowly as you gain the top of the hill.

Use of the standing position is preferred by many drivers when going downhill as well. Release the throttle and allow the machine to run down on the engine compression. If you go too fast, use the brake a little to slow your momentum. Avoid panicky jamming of the brake in these circumstances; you could lock the track and lose control of the machine!

If a hill is too steep to allow you to go straight up or down, traverse it diagonally. The technique preferred here is to lean "into the hill" from the standing position. When traversing, keep your speed as nearly constant as possible for best control of your snowmobile.

Makes Extensive Visit

Mrs. Hubert Shortliffe, North Range, returned home last week from an extensive motor camper trip with her daughter, Mrs. Paul Schneider and Mr. Schneider of Raymond, Alberta. They spent a few days in Florida where she visited her brother, Harold, and Mrs. McNeill. While there they visited Disney Land and the Cypress Gardens, home of Richard De Haan's "Day of Discovery" television program. From Florida they travelled the coast of the Gulf of Mexico through Texas and New Mexico and the Western states and from there to Raymond, Alberta where Mrs. Shortliffe spent Christmas with the Schneiders. They were accompanied on the trip by Mrs. Paul Schneider, Sr., and grandson. In January, Mrs. Shortliffe returned to the Maritimes and visited her son, Alfred, and family before returning home to North Range.

Primary Industries Made Some Progress In 1975

The Nova Scotia Economy, a review of 1975 with an outlook for 1976, has been published by the Economics and Statistics Division of the Department of Development.

This publication provides an in-depth analysis of the state of the provincial economy against the backdrop of the most serious postwar recession in the industrialized countries of the western world. In relation to the performance in the Canadian economy as a whole, key indicators reveal a remarkable stamina in the Nova Scotia economy during the past year.

Major Goods-Producing industries in Nova Scotia were again successful in tapping external markets in 1975, in spite of the slowdown experienced by major trading partners. Exports and manufacturing shipments showed steady gains, reflection the province's ability to fend off the advancing forces of the world recession.

The primary industries of agriculture, fishing, forestry, and mining witnessed some notable pluses in 1975. Farm output, fish prices, pulpwood production, and mining output all improved from the previous year. The main problem areas were a sizable decline in fish landings and a huge fall-off in logging and lumbering.

Employment levels held steady but the rate of unemployment moved up significantly. The Canadian rate of unemployment rose much faster, however, so that the difference between the national and provincial rates dropped to less than one per cent.

Price increases in Nova Scotia continued to be moderate in light of the experience elsewhere in Canada. The annual rate of inflation at the provincial level measured 10 per cent, whereas the national rate of inflation hit 11.3 per cent.

The weakest elements in the provincial economic performance in 1975 were investment and construction activity. Combined capital spending by businesses, government, and households is estimated to be lower this year than last year, with manufacturing outlays showing a steep decline. Construction work levelled off after a boom year in 1974. Residential housing in particular remained sluggish although noticeable improvement occurred in the latter part of the year.

Looking ahead to the end of 1976, markets for Nova Scotia products are expected to remain strong, with the strength of the upturn in the United States and Canadian economies being the most critical factor. The anti-inflation program being implemented by all levels of government should bring some moderation in price and wage increases, but

Ground Search And Rescue Exercise Kejimikujik National Park

The importance of an efficient search and rescue capability is critical in Canada's National Parks. Consequently, when the opportunity arose to establish a co-operative arrangement with the Canadian Armed Forces Search and Rescue Team for a training school, Kejimikujik National Park's staff were quick to act.

In attendance at the Joint Winter Ground Search and Rescue Course held at Kejimikujik National Park from January 12 to 16, 1976 were personnel from five Atlantic National Parks (Kejimikujik, Kouchibouguac, Cape Breton Highlands, Fundy, and Terra Nova). Also present was one member of the RCMP detachment at Bridgetown, Nova Scotia, and one representative of the Department of Lands and Forests at Bridgewater, Nova Scotia. The course was put on by the Armed Forces Search and Rescue Team from Sydney and Barrington, Nova Scotia.

Overall news of the course were very favourable. Many new techniques were taught that should assist us a great deal in any future search and rescue efforts. Course topics included ground navigation (map and compass), searching procedures, first aid, and evacuation of the injured.

On the final day of the course a simulated lost hunter search was carried out, employing techniques used in the training course, with considerable success. Most notable was the fact that Parks Canada Warden Bill Hussey of Kejimikujik was first to find his man "lost" in the bush.

Congratulations should be extended to the parties concerned on the fine service and accommodations provided by Parks Canada to the instructors and to all those who made this fine course possible.

The Canadian Forces staff was most impressive, and expressed their willingness to assist Parks Canada in future endeavours.

Should Learn More On

School Board Amalgamation

School Board amalgamation was one of the topics discussed during the monthly meeting of the Digby Board of School Commissioners on January 26.

School's superintendent, Clinton MacInnes reported on an information meeting held in Bridgetown recently on amalgamation of Digby and Annapolis area school boards.

It was confirmed by those who attended the meeting that there are several items concerning amalgamation which are not yet clear. The feeling was, however, that the school boards and councils should learn as much as they can about amalgamation and be

PLEASE HELP!!

The Canada Safety Council is seeking the answer to a difficult question.

Like a great many agencies that depend on grants and donations for survival, the Council is caught in a squeeze between rising inflation-born prices on the one hand, and fairly steady contributions on the other. It takes a year or two, usually, for the latter to catch up. Meanwhile, the Council says, safety programs that are desperately needed are held up or curtailed due to lack of sufficient funds to get the job done.

The Council would like to reach a select group of people. Those who might be encouraged to make a memorial tax deductible contribution to the work of the Council in its accident prevention programs.

Such contributions could be placed into any form of safety program - traffic injury prevention, child safety at home or school, water safety, or whatever is most preferred.

The Council says that if such donations were commonplace, the accidental loss of one life could be the beginning of a means of saving many others. However, the subject is delicate, and the Council is hesitant to make an all-out appeal which some might consider as being in questionable taste.

Obituary notices sometimes ask for donations to a medical research body. With accidents being the third largest cause of death in Canada, a similar suggestion in support of accident research and prevention would not seem inappropriate.

A registered charitable organization that does not have "fund drives", the Canada Safety Council is located at 1765 St. Laurent Blvd., Ottawa K1G 3V4.

cautious of being pushed into it with another area which might not be acceptable to those concerned.

Mr. MacInnes advised that an assessment of contents revealed there is about $40,000 worth of equipment and supplies on hand at St. Pat's School, but the insurance only covers $5,000. The board decided to call tenders on insurance coverage for 100 per cent of the content values.

A tender for fuel from Imperial Oil was accepted at a discount of $0.56 off the tank wagon price.

A motion was passed giving one member of the board permission to attend an emergency meeting of the Nova Scotia School Boards Association in Halifax on January 30. The purpose of the meeting is to consider a recently negotiated agreement between the department of education and the Nova Scotia Teachers' Union.

A letter was received from the Regional High School Board advising that the weekly cost of security effective January 1, amounts to $250 per week.

Discussion took place on the need of security at the school. It was agreed that board representatives pursue the matter further with the regional school board.

The Board also agreed that the first meeting between the Digby local of the NSTU and the school board would be held on February 10. This is for the 1976 group contract.

Tabulating Losses At Tiverton

Fishery officers, Herbert Cossaboom, Tiverton, D. A. McClafferty of Digby, and V. Halliday, representatives of the Fishermen's Indemnity program, also of Digby, have begun tabulating losses inflicted on the fishermen of Digby Neck, Long Island and Westport, Digby County, by the great hurricane-force winds and high seas of February 2.

Mr. Cossaboom, speaker for the project, said that fishermen met with the officers at Tiverton fisheries office where they tabulated the losses of about 30-32 individual fishermen during the first day. He said the project will take a week or more to complete. The speaker explained that two or three hours per fisherman was sometimes required to complete the arrangement process.

When asked what he felt to be the greatest loss to the fishermen, Mr. Cossaboom Calvin Ossinger on Sunday brought to Tiverton's attention the fact that no seagulls have been seen in the area since the storm of February 2nd. He called a party at Digby Neck who also noted the absence of the gulls.

One suggested the wind might have blown them to a different area, or perhaps they just could not survive the wind's force. Another suggested there might have been chemicals of some sort said their loss could not be limited, or tabulated to any one thing specifically. Some lost trawls, some their boat, some lost buildings, some lost all these things, some lost their boat but no gear, some lost gear but saved the boat, some lost everything, and most of them lost all their lobster traps, buoys and even the wharf from where they fish. The informant said further that he would judge the Islands' loss to reach the million dollar mark or perhaps even greater. They will not know exactly until the total amount of the losses are all calculated at the completion of the tabulation.

The spokesman was asked what action will be taken with the results of the tabulation, and if they would be sent anywhere. He said likely they will be forwarded to authorities at Halifax and from there to Ottawa. He said if the government does assist the fishermen in

Salesmen To Be Licensed

Consumers who deal with unlicensed door-to-door salesmen are taking unnecessary risks with their money, the provincial Consumer Affairs Department says.

As of October 2, 1975, all direct sellers contracts must contain provisions outlining the consumer's rights to cancel and must state whether a warranty or guarantee applies and its terms. Harry M. McIlroy, chief executive officer of the Consumer Services Bureau, warns consumers that if they are dealing with a salesman who has not been licensed, chances are that his contract is not going to offer them the same benefits.

The cancellation provisions under the Direct Sellers Licensing and Regulation Act entitle the buyer to cancel the contract within 10 days if signing by delivering a notice to that effect either in person or by registered letter. Notice to this effect must be included at the top of the first page of the contract, Mr. McIlroy says.

If the salesman does not deliver notice of the right of cancellation to the buyer after the contract is signed, the Direct Sellers Act allows the buyer to cancel the contract within 30 days of the delivery of the goods or performance of services.

In addition, in the case of a licensed salesman, a contract may also be cancelled if the goods or services are not delivered within 90 days of signing or if the salesman has failed to live up to any of the terms or conditions to which his license is subject. Such a contract may be cancelled within six months. If the salesman is not licensed, Mr. McIlroy says the contract may be cancelled as well.

If a notice of cancellation is delivered by the buyer in accordance with the above, he is entitled to retain possession of the goods until his money is refunded or his trade-in or a sum equal to the value of the trade-in allowance are returned to him.

Complaints and enquiries should be directed to Consumer Services Bureau offices in Halifax, New Glasgow, Sydney, Springhill, Port Hawkesbury and Middleton.

The above tide table is based on the 24-hour clock. All times are Atlantic Standard. Read DOWN rather than ACROSS. The large number is the date, the 4-digit number is the time. The third number in the column is the height of the tide in feet.

To convert times shown to the 12-hour clock, subtract 1200 from the number shown for all times over 1300 hours. (Included), up to and including 2400 hours. This will give you p.m. time Example - 1300 hours is 1:00 p.m., 2400 hours is 12 o'clock midnight. For a.m. time, simply disregard zeroes at the beginning of the number. Example - 0135 hours is 1:35 a.m., 0020 hours is 20 minutes past midnight.

The 24-hour clock begins at 0001, which is 1 minute after midnight on the 12-hour clock.

Fisheries Assistance Program Modified

The Federal Government announced today a modification in its assistance program for the Atlantic coast groundfish industry.

Effective February 16, 1976, redfish (ocean perch), pollock, haddock and Greenland turbot are removed from the list of species eligible for the deficiency payments to fishermen and the conditional grants to processors.

In making the announcement, the Hon. Romeo LeBlanc, Minister of State for Fisheries, said that it has now been determined that 1975 landings of redfish, pollock, haddock, and Greenland turbot have exceeded those of 1974. The assistance program announced last April included the provision that groundfish species would become ineligible for the program when their landings reached the level of the previous year.

The modified program will start to come into effect. All other terms and conditions for the program on the Atlantic coast remain unchanged. There is no change for the program on the Pacific coast where reductions in eligible species were made last November.

(Groundfish are those fish species which feed near the seabed.)

Multicultural Conference

A Multicultural conference, sponsored by the Western Nova Multicultural Association, will be held at College Ste. Anne in Church Point on Saturday, March 6, 1976, it has been announced by Mrs. Frieda Balser, President of the Association.

One of the purposes of the conference will be to further the Association's efforts to create a wider understanding between the various Cultural and Ethnic Groups that make up the population of the area between Middleton and Yarmouth. It is understood speakers from the various groups will address the conference gathering and that discussions of matters of concern to the groups will be highlighted.

In order that the general public of this area might have opportunity to learn more about the various Cultural Groups included in the population, there will be cultural displays of art, handicraft, literature, etc. that will be open to public display. Representatives of each of the groups will be present to explain exhibit details and answer inquiries.

It is understood some of the matter to be dealt with at the conference will include problems faced by peoples of minority ethnic groups living in the area. Such matters as orientation, language and settlement programs for new immigrants will also be included in the program.

Rev. George R. Bell, Co-ordinator for the Western Nova Multicultural Association, stated one of the objectives of the conference is to increase the effectiveness of the association's program for meeting the needs of immigrants, new citizens and members of the many cultural groups in the area. Another important objective, he said, is to increase the understanding and co-operation between peoples of different cultural and ethnic backgrounds in the area served by the association.

Gilbert Cove

(Mary Doucette)

The community of Gilbert Cove was quite fortunate in the unexpected storm on February 2nd 1976.

A boat belonging to Mr. Al Doucette of Plympton was taken out to sea and is reported destroyed. The bridge going to the light-house was washed away. A few barns were badly damaged and a few trees felled.

Our sympathy goes out to the village of Weymouth which was severely damaged also to those who lost their mobile homes and also to Westport and Freeport residents who underwent severe property loss.

The tide was reported as the biggest tide known in Gilbert Cove completely covering the wharf and up on the road coming from the wharf. I certainly made people realize that they too,

Married 50 Years

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Simpson of Arlington, Mass., celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on November 11, 1975, at a banquet in their honour at the Woburn Country Club. Over two hundred and fifty friends and relatives attended the dinner and dance which began with the Blessing being given by the pastor of St. John's Episcopal Church.

The music was furnished by the Club's orchestra which did a wonderful job on playing some of the most popular songs of the last fifty years.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Simpson were both born in Nova Scotia and are very proud of their Nova Scotian heritage. Mr. Simpson was born and raised in Bear River, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Cornelius Simpson. As a young man he went to the United States where he started a furniture moving business in Somerville, Mass., which he ran for forty-five years until his retirement a few years ago.

Mrs. Simpson (Dorothy) was born and raised in Bridgetown, the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Avarad Gillis. She still maintains the old home of her childhood where she and her husband spend the summer and fall months each year.

They have five children and eight grandchildren, all living in the town of Arlington, Mass. They are still both active in local affairs and are thankful for the everyday blessing of life. All their relatives and friends wish them much happiness in this important event in their lives.

Reflecting To 1946

"It's too much," the woman moaned from her cramped place in the ice-sheeted lifeboat. "I can't make it." Unhearing, her husband was dead beside her. He was the second to go.

The first, the captain, had slipped away nine hours earlier. When the 17 foot boat soared to the crest of a wave, land could be seen in the distance and the nine men still alive feebly tried to cheer, but only strange croaking sounds came from their throats. With a muffled sob, almost lost in the shrieking wind, she turned her head towards the distant land and died. And one by one, her companions died too, until the tossing lifeboat alone on the black sea carried 11 bodies, one dying man and one other who lived to tell his grim and terrible tale of how the coastal steamer Robert Cann went down early Saturday, (February 16) and how her 13 crew members, all Nova Scotians, fought a losing 19 hour fight against the merciless mid-winter elements. The sole survivor was Captain Arthur Ellis of Port Greville. The Robert Cann, regularly sailing from Saint John to the Islands, sunk some eight miles off Swallowtail Light, Grand Manan Island, New Brunswick, after leaving Saint John, N.B. at 3:30 on Friday afternoon in good weather and bound for Tiverton. A sudden storm came up. Such was the story in the February 21, 1946, edition of The Digby Courier. Among those who lost their lives were the Captain, Emery Frank Peters, a native of Westport.

The lifeboat came ashore at Riley's Cove on the Bay of Fundy side of Digby Neck near Lake Midway. The craft was found early on Sunday morning by RCMP. Capt. Ellis walked by light of the moon through a trail from Riley's Cove to the village of Lake Midway. One other man who arrived to shore alive, died on the way to the Digby hospital. Ship had been abandoned only eight miles from land but the storm swept the lifeboat thirty miles and more across the Bay.

Miss Elizabeth MacWhinnie, vice-principal and for a time principal of Digby Academy resigned to take effect at the end of the school term.

What more do we know about the weather thirty years ago last week? A gale on Friday evening took the roof off a barn owned by Miss Nettie Belliveau, Church Point. Wires were blown down. It appeared that a hurricane was on the way but the wind remained in the intensity of a heavy gale. Weather changed suddenly from mild to extreme cold and thunder was heard.

Mrs. Toby O'Neill and Shawn Peck accompanied them. While on Brier Island they visited with Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Ingersoll and Mr. and Mrs. Wickerson Lent at Western Light.

Little Melanie O'Neill spent Wednesday afternoon and evening visiting with her grandmother, Mrs. Phillip Robertson and family, at Digby.

LEGAL ASSISTANCE AVAILABLE FOR APPEALS

Good news for those in Digby Municipality appealing their 1976 assessment values - assistance is available for legal services.

A motion to that effect was passed during Tuesday's sitting of Digby Municipal Council. However, there is a chance the financial burden need not be borne by the municipality. According to unofficial information presented by Councillor "Bud" Winchester, the provincial government may have appointed a solicitor to act on behalf of the assessors. If so, the municipality wants the same treatment.

Municipal Clerk Bill MacMillan got in touch with Opposition Leader John Buchanan by telephone on Tuesday. As a result, Mr. Buchanan agreed to question the government on the matter during that day's sitting.

The question should be worded something to this effect - "Has the government appointed a solicitor to work on the appeals, and will the taxpayers be given the same opportunity to have a lawyer at the government's expense?"

The matter of whether legal aid would be provided by the municipality was almost postponed until after the results of Mr. Buchanan's question were heard, however, Councillor Richard Daley urged that a decision should be made now. Councillor Ervin Marshall made the motion.

"Just the minute you single someone out, everybody else has got a beef," commented Councillor Arthur Rice.

Solicitor John Comeau was present during the assessment discussions. He expressed dissatisfaction with the manner in which the Appeals Court is conducted, feeling the appeals should be heard in a more court-like fashion.

The St. Mary's Bay Marshland - to save, or not to save. Part of the erosion damage resulting from the February 2 storm may be noticed here. Farmers are concerned for the many acres of rich farmland protected by the dyke.

Digby First Class Fire Prevention Awards

Labour Minister Walter R. Fitzgerald announced the Nova Scotia winners of the 1975 National Fire Prevention Contest.

Winners in the Nova Scotia municipal division were:

Class "A" - Halifax first place; Class "C" - Sackville - first place; Class "E" - Bible Hill - first place; Westmount - second place; Scotchtown - honourable mention and Class "F" - Digby - first place.

Winners for the province of Nova Scotia in the national ratings were: Class "A" - Halifax - Honourable mention; Class "C" - Sackville - honourable mention; Class "E" - Bible Hill - third place; Westmount - honourable mention and Class "F" - Digby - third place.

Special recognition was awarded to the fire marshal's office of the province of Nova Scotia. The fire marshal is Robert Kerr.

The National Fire Protection Association Contest is an international competition to provide recognition for positive efforts in the field of fire prevention as indicated by contest reports and exhibits submitted by competing fire departments.

In the municipal division, the contest is intended to measure the success of the fire department in enlisting widespread public support with the aim of stimulating universal fire safety consciousness and to encourage a wider use of modern techniques in public and private fire prevention efforts. The 1975 contest is the 49th year of competition.

In making the announcement, Mr. Fitzgerald extended his personal congratulations to the winning municipalities.

support in your actions because only then will your job be made easier.

So on behalf of myself and my family I say good bye and wish you all the best in the future.

G. A. Pitman

After much discussion it was decided to form a committee of three along with Mayor Charles Haliburton, ex-officio tourism has on this area during the February 11 meeting of the Annapolis Basin Tourist and Recreation Council. The gathering was told that $3,300,000 was spent in

Municipal Council Backs Efforts To Have Dyke Repaired

A motion of support for Digby County farmers in their effort to have the dyke protecting the St. Mary's Bay Marshland repaired was passed during Monday's sitting of the Municipal Council of the District of Digby.

The motion was made by Councillor Helen McNeil. She said the farmers feel the marshland will be ruined if something is not done immediately.

The dyke, which was repaired to the tune of $75,000 last year, was damaged during the intense storm of February 2. An estimated $200,000 would be required to put it back in shape.

Farmers dependent on the 713.6 acres of marshland are concerned that the marshland may be allowed to return to the sea. In such a case, at least two of the area farming operators have indicated they will have to give up farming.

The marshland owners recently met with officials of the provincial agricultural department on the matter and are expected to have a hearing with Agricultural Minister Jack Hawkins in the near future.

The department would rather not fix the dyke if land can be bought to replace the marshland, Councillor McNeil said.

The farmers, however, feel there is no land available to replace the quality marshland.

Last year the farmers spent about $100,000 improving their land.

The marsh has been used to grow hay and straw and pasture for cattle. Grain production was not extensive in importance.

About 350 cattle were pastured on the land while about 900 were supported by hay grown there. Councillor McNeil said the land is one-third more productive than upland areas, without the use of fertilizer.

An alternative to repairing the dyke would be to construct a new one about 400 feet in back of the present one. Councillor McNeil noted this would result in the loss of 100 acres of land. The cost would run from $300,000 to $400,000.

The farmers feel the dyke has to be repaired before the coming high tide on March 29, said Councillor McNeil.

She said the farmers feel the damage would not be serious if repairs are made now although salt water is laying on some of the land.

Accept Resignation Digby Town Clerk

Though not coming as a surprise to councillors, the resignations of the Digby Town Clerk, Glen Pitman, was accepted at Tuesday night's Town Council meeting with many feelings of regret. Mr. Pitman, Mrs. Pitman and family leave shortly to take up residence at Frofisher Bay, N. W. T.

The text of Mr. Pitman's resignation was as follows: MAYOR AND TOWN COUNCIL

It is with mixed feelings that I write this my letter of resignation.

On the one hand, I regret writing it because it means that I and my family will be leaving Digby, a place and people my family and I have learned to love and respect.

On the other hand, I am writing it because I feel it is something I must do in order for me and my family to broaden our knowledge and appreciation for this country of ours. I have been accepted for the position of Secretary-Manager for the Incorporated Village of Frofisher Bay, N. W. T.

I am, therefore, requesting you, the Council, to accept this letter of resignation to be effective March 5, 1976.

At first I was tempted to use this letter of resignation to justify some of the accusations which have been made against me by Councillor Chipman, however, I have decided not to do this. I am aware that all citizens in the Town of Digby know Mrs. Chipman and know what she stands for so no further rebuttal is necessary. I only hope that the citizens of this town will keep it in mind at the next election.

Digby needs not only representative government but also responsible government in order for it to grow and provide a future for its citizens. Since the large majority on Council still realize this I am sure that Digby will progress and will continue to be a fine place in which to live.

I have enjoyed working in Digby these last 5 1/2 years and my family and I have always been made to feel we belong here. Digby will always be considered as our second home.

The people of this Town and area are friendly people, easy to get to know and to love. I hope that it will always be that way because it is one of the largest and best assets Digby has.

For those of you who do not know much about Frofisher Bay, I can only say that it is a growing Village of 3,000 people, situated on the side of a hill overlooking the Bay. Possibly this similarity with Digby attracted me. Frofisher is the main communication link with Baffin Island with a very modern atmosphere. My home will be open to any who venture our way in future years.

I must say thank you to all the Mayors and Councillors with whom I have had the pleasure of being associated over the past few years. I only hope that the people of the Town will show more

Impact Of Tourism Revealed

Members of the Annapolis Basin Tourist and Recreation Council were given an idea of the impact tourism has on this area during the February 11 meeting of the Annapolis Basin Tourist and Recreation Council.

The gathering was told that $3,300,000 was spent in the tourism sector in Digby County during 1975. The tourism sector includes hotels, motels, restaurants and gift shops.

Over 80,000 out-of-province automobile parties travelled through Digby County between June 1 and October 31 of last year.

This information was made available by the department of tourism employees Paul Crawford and Allan Rodgers. They were present to discuss the current status of tourism in Nova Scotia and show a film on tourism in Canada.

In regular business, the group decided to instigate membership fees of $10 for business operators and $1 for interested individuals. Membership Committee chairman Errol Gaudy requested that a decision on the matter be made at this meeting.

A proposed set of by-laws were tabled until the Council's next meeting on March 11 at the Hedley House in Smith's Cove. The by-laws were drawn up for the By-Laws Committee by Ed Knowlton.

Approved appointments during the meeting saw Mike Casey take over co-ordination of the Scallop Festival and Bevis Turnbull named co-ordinator of committees.

There was some discussion on the department of highways' plans for closing off the present exit to Smith's Cove and Bear River from Highway 101.

Fear was expressed that plans for closing the present roads and constructing an interchange at Joggin Bridge would be a devastating blow to both communities. Harold Riley suggested having an overpass at the bridge to keep the roads open.

Further discussion on the matter can be expected at a later date.

During discussions with the visitors, some of the positive and negative aspects of tourism were outlined. The guests also provided figures of visitor numbers and expenditures, outlined ideas on how to increase a visitor's length of stay in an area, and urged the group to decide what will work toward.

The two guests were from the Planning Development section of the tourism department. Mr. Crawford explained that part of its job is to ensure that the tourist gets what it is promised, and to try to keep him a little longer.

Mr. Rodgers' address touched on the economic aspects of tourism as well as tourism's advantages and disadvantages. Tourism, as an industrial alternative, does have disadvantages he noted, but these can be minimized.

The speaker noted it is "significant" that last year one of every three American tourists entering the province did so via Digby or Yarmouth. This compares with one in six six-seven years ago.

His talk also touched on ferry service. He noted there is no responsibility on anyone's part to keep ferries operating. This is something to think and work on, he suggested.

CANOE GOES TO MUSEUM

The 500 pound 12 foot, Indian dug-out canoe found at Westport following the Groundhog Day storm was taken to Halifax on Wednesday, February 18 by Niels Jannasch, curator of marine history at the Nova Scotia Museum, Halifax.

We appreciate Mrs. E.W.H. Gray's letter in The Digby Courier last week on keeping the relic in this area for our own museums of the future. We, too, felt the canoe should be left here but changed our minds after talking with Mr. Jannasch who was enroute to Halifax with the article. We feel Mrs. Gray and all the other interested people who telephoned will agree with Mr. Jannasch.

The fact that the Indian dug-out canoe was preserved by nature for many years (maybe hundreds) does not assure us that the item will remain in the same preserved state when exposed to the air. In three months, Mr. Jannasch said, the dug-out would deteriorate rapidly unless given special attention. Bits were beginning to fall already, the wood becoming spongy, and Mr. Jannasch was being extremely careful in transportation and in guarding sight seeing visitors from leaning on the found prize. Mr. Jannasch was most complimentary to John Graham, Westport, and those who assisted him, in their careful excavating to expose the canoe and in the removing of it. The Nova Scotia Museum, especially the Marine section, is properly equipped to deal promptly with the preservation of such an article as an Indian dug-out canoe and time is important. It must be cleaned with care, the salt washed out, carbonated for age and other research and have preserving chemicals applied.

Westport's cherished find has gone to Halifax but most of us would rather see the treasure well preserved at the Nova Scotia Museum than to have it deteriorate in our own hands. We shall all be anxiously awaiting authentic information as to the historical importance of the dug-out. This may take some time but knowing the exceptionally high interest shown in the dug-out canoe here, Mr. Jannasch is willing to keep us informed of developments and discoveries.

ACCEPTANCE WITH REGRETS

We know of no other resignation accepted by Digby Town Councillors with more sincere regrets than that which was accepted from Glen Pitman, Digby Town Clerk on Tuesday evening at the special council meeting.

Digby has seen a number of town clerks in that responsible position during the many years and it is safe to say that Glen Pitman took a high ranking place in ability and prestige in that capacity. We have in this column on several occasions expressed our admiration for one who has had such a store of knowledge and information so readily available to those who asked advice or sought assistance. Probably no other Digby Town Clerk had a more difficult five and a half years to serve as town clerk as did Mr. Pitman. He served under four different mayors, two of whom had resigned within a year. There definitely were times when there was either no mayor or an inexperienced mayor diverting much responsibility on the town clerk. This responsibility was taken by Mr. Pitman in his usual humble but effective manner. Through frustrations and gruelling experiences Mr. Pitman continued undisturbed. An amazing trait coupled with capability.

As editor of a newspaper we found Town Clerk Pitman most cordial and co-operative in supplying information we found necessary to obtain for the benefit of our readers and we feel it is fair and right to express our appreciation here.

Glen Pitman and Mrs. Pitman have been valued members of church and community organizations in Digby and while they will be missed in many areas of town life their many friends wish them the best in their new life at Frobisher Bay, N.W.T.

VALUES IN EDUCATION

Quite a debate goes on in the realm of public education as to whether schools have any responsibility for the training of pupils in terms of ethical and moral values. The issue is assuredly timely when one considers the widespread prevalence of crime, dishonesty, sexual looseness, double-talk and double-dealing in business, and all the rest. The creeping paralysis which threatens the survival of democracy has its origin in a slow but sure attrition in recent years of the values which fashioned democracy and which it is expected to sustain.

But to come back to the schools -- of course public schools must accept some responsibility for the values which their pupils will honour, or the indifference to values which they will exhibit. To begin with, values are "caught not taught" in the long run. Children and youth are disturbingly perceptive. They know, deep in their thinking, when their teachers are exercising their high calling worthily or otherwise. They know when teachers are "getting by" with a minimum of effort and excellence. They know when teachers are more interested in the almighty dollar than in their pupils, or in the welfare of the community of which they are a part. They know when their teachers are guilty of selfish buck-passing and cynical alibis. They know, on the other hand, when their teachers are honourable, fair, hard-working, self-disciplined, interested in the finer aspects of school, home and community relationships. So, whether "values" are identified and commended in school curricula or not, "values" are imparted, for better or for worse, in any school. Indeed, in consequence of the time spent in the schoolroom by young people from five to seventeen years of age, the school system must accept a major chunk of responsibility for the way boys and girls think about the dominant issues of living. If teachers succumb to the personality-destroying pressures of our times, great damage will result for our communities and for our nation.

If history, literature and social studies -- these three in particular -- are taught by teachers with an instinct for high moral and ethical values there will be constant opportunities for underlining the importance to individual and social well-being of such values and virtues as honesty, unselfishness, compassion, justice, respect for personality, citizenship responsibilities and high regard for the Christ-faith. Only good men and women, in the best sense of that time-honoured term, can make good teachers in terms of the conscious and unconscious inculcation in boys and girls of the values which must be cherished and lived by if the worthiest elements in our democratic society are to survive.

NATIVE LAND SETTLEMENTS WEEK IS MARCH 7-13

The native peoples of the N.W.T. are currently preparing to negotiate land settlements with the Federal Government. They are seeking land settlements which give them a voice in deciding the future of their homeland and how it can be shared by all Canadians. Native people from the N.W.T. and Nova Scotia will attend various events in Sydney, Antigonish, Truro and Halifax to discuss "Native Land Settlements" on March 9, 10 and 11.

Who says assessment is a problem of the seventies? Looking through Courier copy of forty-six we see this remark "The inequalities in assessment in the Town of Digby should not be tolerated. The total assessment should be scrapped, rate books hidden and assessors appointed to start from scratch." At least the municipality of the seventies can take comfort in the fact that others have faced assessment problems and who knows what is to come. Any hope for the 1976 Department of Municipal Affairs scrapping!

Education Week begins March 7. We draw your attention to an appropriate guest editorial and to submissions by high school students in this issue and issues to come. - Courier Malcolm

Letters To Editor

Letter

(The Digby Neck Dire Commission held a combined meeting with the Digby Neck Volunteer Firemen and the Ladies Auxiliary. Meeting was to explain the dilemma in which the Commission finds itself. I. I. P. funds are woefully short and the provincial grant is in limbo. As a result the Commission needs to borrow money to complete the firehall-recreation complex. A petition to obtain signatures, to have a fire-rate struck on the assessment of District 3, is being circulated by volunteers. The volunteers are hand-carrying the following letter (complete with explanation of the costs of sharing --)

Dear Friend and Neighbor: This is a letter about an opportunity all of us who live in District 3 - from Timpany Lane to East Ferry - have a chance to share - now - and maybe never again.

It's a chance to do something valuable for ourselves, for our children and for the future. A chance to be part of something big and exciting - and to do it, right now, on our own terms, in our own way, without being told by government or anyone else how we ought to do it!

If we take it we can, by the end of this summer, have in Sandy Cove a modern, well-equipped volunteer fire department and a full-scale recreation facility capable of handling any social or sports event from bingo to basketball.

TO THE EDITOR

Enclosed please find my cheque in the amount of $8.50 for one year's subscription to the Digby Courier.

I have a great interest in the country side covered by your paper as my grandmother was born some where near Bear River.

I made a journey to Digby last October and tried to trace the old family place but to no avail. I visited the late Mrs. McCormick of Bear River but she did not seem to be aware of my branch of the family.

Family name Barr. My grandmother, Hattie Jane Barr, was born around 1858 the youngest of 12 children of Brock Barr and Margaret Smith Barr.

Brock Barr was from England and his wife from Scotland.

It seems as though from 12 children, some one should be left of the family.

I plan to return late April or early May to your town and any information would so help me in my search.

Sincerely,
Doris M. McKenna

DEAR EDITOR:

FARMERS FIGHT FOR DYKE REPAIRS

Unfortunately for owners of Marshland at the head of St. Mary's Bay, and for Agriculture generally, the February 2 storm did considerable damage to the dyke that protects the piece of land from the salt water. About 1200 feet of dyke is now below the needed elevations. Consequently, unless work is done quickly all the progress in recent years to make this land available for agriculture, will have been washed out to sea. In fact, time is so short that unless at least temporary work is done to fill the holes, it may be too late after the predicted high tide in April. Such are the problems facing a few quite resourceful and ambitious Digby Co. farmers. The farmers in questions have planned the farming operation around the production of hay and pasture by the St. Mary's Bay marshland. Without the dyke several hundred head of cattle for beef and milk would have to be sold.

Too Costly

But the engineers representing the N.S. Department of Agriculture have told us at a meeting on February 18th that they do not recommend rebuilding the dyke.

The main reason is that the cost would be too high. Dave Milligan states that the dyke will cost about $200,000.00 the repair and moreover he fears that it will not stay in the event of similar storm. Tides are predicted to be especially high over the next 5 or 6 years reaching its peak in 1977-78. Therefore the danger of another washout is compounded.

Be that as it may, the farmers are determined to make agricultural industry vital to Digby Co. Storms and risks are inherent to primary industries that produce food. Fishing for example, has always had a very high risk factor. But we go on catching fish. The sea is unpredictable. That is no reason however, to give up.

The land at the head of FERTILE LAND St. Mary's Bay is so fertile and high in organic matter that crops can be grown with at least double yield per acre by comparison with other Digby Co., agricultural land, and at about 1/2 the cost. So in spite of the risks involved, the farmers want action immediately.

It is not in the interest of agriculture and food production generally to let go of what has been started. The social economic conditions are bad enough in Digby Co. Why add to the welfare lists by putting ambitious farmers out of business and losing valuable food for hungry men?

Rev. Lester Mullen is secretary of the Marshland Body.

this year in other parts of the continent include the American bi-centennial and the Olympics in Montreal. Mr. Rodgers felt the Olympics would not have too much effect on tourism in this area although bi-centennial celebrations could.

The department, however, is planning a campaign to lure some tourists away from the expected human congestion on the American east coast.

The council was told the average tourist spends $17 per day. As well as benefiting the area in which it is spent, it also results in significant tax revenues to the province and municipality.

The visitors stressed the importance of encouraging visitors to stay in the area a little longer. A lot of things can be done to make a visit more memorable, said Mr. Rodgers.

Mr. Rodgers noted there are a tremendous number of attractions available in this area and urged they be made available to the tourist. Such things as day trips to Bear River and Brier Island are possibilities.

The speaker also noted that the department is trying to get people on bus tours to spend their time in a particular area rather than try

Radio Program Of Interest

The CBC Radio program "The Bush and the Salon" on Sunday, February 29 at 4:03 p.m., will salute the famous Cape Breton doctor, Dr. Lamont MacMillan. Dr. MacMillan is author of a book entitled "Memoirs of a Cape Breton Country Doctor."

'Twas a dark, dirty and stormy winter night in the Cape Breton of 45 years ago, when a doctor was called to come to the bedside of a frightened laboring woman whose pain was compounded by a temperature of 104 degrees. Dr. Lamont MacMillan responded to the call, advising the household to "Hang the lantern on the gate", so that he might find them.

"Hang the Lantern on the Gate" is the story of a sensitive dedicated young man who left Dalhousie University and took his M.D. to Baddeck, Cape Breton in 1928. Presented through the eyes of his patients, his contemporaries and through his own reminiscences, it's the saga of a fervent man who accepted and lived the Hippocratic oath.

One of his most harrowing reminiscences is the story of the pregnant woman during that dark night of 1929.

"There were no hospitals in those days," he says, "and when I got to the house, and found she had a temperature of 104, and a pulse you couldn't count, I knew it would be a difficult one, so I went to get the midwife out of church. As the patient was so weak, and couldn't help us at all, we prepared for an instrument birth. She was totally unconscious on the bed when the midwife, who was holding the lamp, dropped it...and oil spilled all over the rug. Instantaneously there was a fire...spreading from the floor right to the ceiling. I was able to lift the mat out from underneath the bed, and then under the window, and then went back to deliver the patient, using only the light coming in the window from the fire outside. That was a frightening experience...but you couldn't walk out and leave her there, supposing you burned yourself.

"It's nice to look back about some of these episodes you've had, with death staring you right in the face, and realize that particular person lived for 45 years after that, and has a very happy life."

Just one of the many memories of a man who traversed the length and breadth of Cape Breton on snowshoes...by sled...horse and buggy, and during the latter part of his 40 years there, driving his car across the treacherous ice of the Bras d'Or lakes...as the Cape Breton Country Doctor. He recalls these and other similar experiences during Sunday afternoon on "The Bush and the Salon." C. L. Lamont MacMillan is also the author of the McLelland Stewart book, entitled "Memoirs of a Cape Breton Country Doctor."

And then, there's the other side of the MacMillan coin...MacMillan the Politician...but that's another story...one that traipses back over 18 years of service as the MLA for Victoria County. Today? Now a man in his seventies...having reached out and snatched back his health from a debilitating heart-attack, Lamont MacMillan has a full time...therapeutic hobby...prospecting the hills about his Baddeck home.

Dr. Lamont MacMillan was honored recently when a Nova Scotia Bras d'Or ferry boat was christened with his name. The ship was built at a shipbuilding plant in Meteghan, Digby County. Mrs. Elton Arnold, Digby, is a niece of Dr. and Mrs. MacMillan.

Bill Fulton who has shared respectful moments with this seeming indomitable man, prepared the script for the Bush and the Salon's "Hang the Lantern on the Gate"...this Sunday afternoon at 4:03 on CBC Radio. Produced in Halifax by John Douglas.

Aid To Storm Victims

A resolution asking the federal government to give immediate aid to areas of Nova Scotia that suffered severe losses in the February 2 storm was unanimously approved by the legislature Monday.

Finance Minister Peter Nicholson said Ottawa has indicated it will classify the storm as a disaster, meaning victims can take full advantage of the federal provincial cost-sharing formula under the Emergency Measures Act.

The provincial government is ready to do its part and contribute its full share under the formula, Mr. Nicholson said. The resolution was moved by Hugh Tinkham (L-Yarmouth) in whose riding some of the most substantial damage was sustained. Mr. Tinkham said damage suffered in Yarmouth and Shelburne counties and the District of Clare "has not been seen in living memory."

Immediate federal assistance is needed to get the economy back on the road, he said.

Joe Casey (L-Digby) said "heaven only knows" what the long-term effect on the lobster fishery will be. The storm stirred up to a "considerable extent" the bottom feeding grounds of the lobster.

In a light-hearted reference to the severity of the storm, Mr. Casey said some seagulls that were "blown out of the area just got back last weekend."

Attorney General Len Pace hailed those who suffered losses and went back to work the next day as "great Nova Scotians."

George Henley (PC-Cumberland West) cautioned against forgetting small businessmen in the compensation procedure. He said greenhouse operations in his riding were hit hard and without adequate aid the jobs of 80-85 persons would be placed in jeopardy.

Earlier in the week, Pierre Comeau, of the federal fisheries, Halifax, had estimated claims in excess of five million dollars. He said Yarmouth and Digby counties were the worst hit areas of the province.

Compared to the destruction in those two counties, damage caused throughout the rest of the province was "light."

Mr. Comeau said Digby Neck, a fishing-oriented area, was hit harder than any other region in the province.

THANK YOU

I would like to express my grateful thanks to the people of the Weymouth Area for their help, kindness, and the support of their understanding sympathy in the recent disaster in our Village.

I am especially grateful to those who worked and dried the wet merchandise, day after day, and to those who helped clean up the debris left by the flooding.

In the past two decades I have had three major hardships, and each and every time the kindness and helpful support of the people has been overwhelming.

L.I.P. Grants Given

Local Initiative Program (L.I.P.) projects for the South Western Nova constituency have recently been announced and include eight for Digby County and immediate area.

Five jobs will be created when an L.I.P. contribution of $10,140 spurs on the New Tuskett Community Centre project. Work to be done is to raise the existing 24 x 39 building, build a cement wall and return the building to it and build a 24 x 25 single-storey wood frame extension with cement wall foundation under it and construct entrances to the ground floor and basement.

Sandy Cove Storm Damage

Sandy Cove is gradually getting cleaned up after the worst storm in history ever to hit this area. A spokesman said it is doubtful if the fisherman can be ready for the fishing season because they have so much work to do, wharfs, and fish-houses to re-build traps, buoys, rope, nets, bait barrels, all piled up along the shores and roads to beaches, to be untangled and repaired. It reminds one of the book by Frederick William Wallace "Wooden Ships and Iron Men". Iron men indeed!

The damage to the road around St. Mary's Beach which was impassable for a time has now been repaired (except for pavement). Many lovely trees are lost and can never be repaired or reclaimed.

Damage to chimneys, broken windows, shingles from every roof, and homes which were flooded due to the extremely high tides driven by gusts of wind over one hundred miles an hour. "It will be a storm most will never forget," the correspondent said.

Explain Lobster Policy

To clarify reaction to the new policy with respect to participation in the lobster fishery, the Director General of the Federal Fisheries Service, Maritimes Region, J. W. Carroll, reiterated today the returns of those dependent upon the lobster resource.

The part-time fisherman who is involved in other primary industries such as agriculture and forestry, or the individual who is employed part-time or seasonally during the year will not be affected by the policy, even though some individuals in these categories have apparently received letters calling their privilege into question. Those individuals that may be affected are those who enjoy full-time, continuing employment which corresponds with the lobster season.

Mr. Carroll again emphasized that individuals, for example, who had participated in part-time farming and part-time fishing would continue to hold licenses. Individuals in

Windstorm Hits Maritimes

Dean Turnbull, 11 No. 6 English, Room 227 D. R. H. S.

The storm caused the town of Digby and the people of the residing areas some cause for concern. Some damage occurred in Digby. Buildings lost shingles and portions of their roofs. Many signs and trees, as well as hydro and telephone poles, were blown down in the gale-force winds.

The worst hit areas of the county were probably Weymouth, Seawall and the Islands. Weymouth and Seawall were flooded by the high tides. Freeport lost fishing buildings and boats were destroyed in many areas. The village people in Weymouth believed that the dam had broken; but the flooding was caused by the rising of water behind the dam. Most of the businesses in the lower part of the town were flooded by three or four feet of water. The amount of damage to the areas of the county is not known yet; but, it appears that the area was more fortunate than Saint John and Moncton, New Brunswick, which were named disaster areas. From the news films on television, Saint John appeared to be an area which had just gone through a war; a war with the wind.

In the New Brunswick area, the news related that there was a considerable amount of flooding. Numerous buildings intermittent employment would also continue to hold licenses. An individual, who held full-time employment during 1975 but does not have that full-time employment when applying for his operator's license in 1976, will have his license reissued as in the past years.

Appeals are now being filed with District Offices by those who feel that they still qualify for the issuance of a lobster license. Hearing of these appeals is expected to start almost immediately with the districts in which the seasons open in the spring having priority.

Those who will retain lobster fishing privileges after the appeal process will be notified immediately in order that they may commence their preparations for the next fishing season.

collapsed and Moncton City Hall lost a portion of the roof.

Fires were a problem leaving some families homeless. Two families were left without homes in the Digby area and a number of mobile homes were destroyed as well as automobiles which were battered by flying objects.

The storm was spread over a wide area and not only the Maritimes was hit; but the storm also struck Quebec and New York. Officials said that the storm winds lasted for a longer period of time than is normal and that the storm was similar to hurricane force with the 100 mile-per-hour winds.

Power failures were also a problem across the provinces. Nova Scotia sent some hydro crews to Saint John to help.

The Smith's Cove area was without power; however, there was only a minor damage caused by the storm.

What havoc the forces of nature can perform!

The above tide table is based on the 24-hour clock. All times are Atlantic Standard. Read DOWN rather than ACROSS. The large number is the date, the 4 digit number is the time. The third number in the column is the height of the tide in feet.

To convert times shown to the 12-hour clock, subtract 1200 from the number shown for all times over 1300 hours. (Included) up to and including 2400 hours. This will give you p.m. time Example - 1300 hours is 1:00 p.m., 2400 hours is 12 o'clock midnight. For a.m. time, simply disregard zeroes at the beginning of the number. Example - 0135 hours is 1:35 a.m., 0020 hours is 20 minutes past midnight.

The 24-hour clock begins at 0001, which is 1 minute after midnight on the 12-hour clock.

over an your there was no transportation through the village of Weymouth—the new bridge was covered nearly to the rails—the highway had water raging through it from Riverside Motors to the Beatson House on the other side. Both these buildings were fortunately high enough to escape the huge waves. Stores were flooded inside, doors blown open—taking goods along with the high waves and 112 mile per hour wind. Most stores had water rising three and four feet, which saturated everything up to the second shelves with sandy, salty water. Three weeks later, goods are still soggy, and a white salt debris is being left on everything that was touched by it. Electrical equipment is shorting, telephones still cutting out, caused by salt.

Stories of happenings are still very prevalent. One business woman tells of seeing a throng of wharf rats running across the bridge just before the tidal wave. Another woman tells of standing on a table waiting until the water went down.

Another was helped from a store after two men fought to get the door open, and both men helped her through the swift current to safety. One man held on to a hood ornament on a car when he began to be swept away in water to his waist.

Two people were rescued from their home by boat. Stories, which now can be laughed at, were very serious at the time. People helped each other—there was no communication throughout the area—the phones and power were gone—so was transportation. Cars at a local garage floated around the lot from the back to the main road; larger ones rocked like boats. People said the ground was heaving wherever there were trees and it reminded them of moving floors in fun buildings at fairs. Trees were mostly uprooted, rather than broken. A garage in Weymouth North was practically demolished, not by a tidal wave, but by wind. Boats were washed up on lawns—debris of logs, stumps, seaweed, fish, lobsters, mussels, even tropical fish, was washed up on lawns and roads.

One man in New Edinburgh claims he saw one of the most eerie spectacles of his life when a huge whirlpool was formed in St. Mary's Bay. People there and along the shore watched the gigantic waves come up the Bay, and apparently, when it reached the mouth of the Sissaboo, it gathered all its force and height, rushing in to destroy everything in its wake. Much has been said of the destruction done on the Islands. Digby Neck, Clare, Yarmouth, Wedgeport, Pubnico—and this damage is tremendous and can be seen by car or by air. The destruction done in Weymouth could not be seen an hour after the wave had passed through—that is, to an outside onlooker. The devastation was inside the buildings for the most part—damage to inventories which cannot be insured and which can never be replaced. Indeed, some of the businesses have been wondering how they can carry on, their losses were so great.

Mankind is so powerful in many ways, so egotistical—but how minute in the fury of the elements. The storm is past, but the reconstruction, the renewing, the estimating of losses will continue for some time. One thing the community has discovered is the warmth and understanding of friends—and the understanding and help of many whom they had not thought of as friends before. The help, the handshake, letters, phone calls have been beyond imagination! People can be so wonderful in time of need—and indeed, the people of Weymouth, and, we feel sure, of the other areas of destruction, have shown a deep concern for all those who have suffered such tremendous losses.

Witnesses Stress Fellowship

The organization known as the Watch Tower Bible and Tract Society provides a continuous training program of activity for young and old alike. A featured part of that program was the two day semi-annual convention of Jehovah's Witnesses which concluded on Sunday afternoon at the Annapolis Regional Vocational School in Middleton.

Their spokesman, Mr. Irvin McKenna, Presiding Overseer of the local congregation, said "since their beginning, Jehovah's Witnesses have been a preaching fellowship. The faith of each believing Christian in the organization is tested by his participation in the most important Christian activity - propagation of faith". Mr. McKenna went on to say "As a stimulation to the preaching methods of the Witnesses, the weekend program carried the theme 'Become Doers of the Word'."

Peak attendance of 754 was reached Sunday afternoon when Mr. Harold McCallum, District Overseer for the Witnesses, delivered the public address entitled "Are You Doing What God Requires of You?". Numerous aspects of this question were considered in the light of the scriptures, including the need to give serious thought to God's requirements.

Addressing the gathering, Mr. McCallum said in effect, "We are sincerely interested in understanding God's will, that is why we came to this meeting. Whether long time students of God's word or newly interested, we do not agree with the outlook of persons who try to ignore God. It is evident to us that relying on human philosophies has not brought happiness to mankind. The deplorable condition of human society emphasizes the need to turn to God's word and consider it seriously. That word," he continued, "does not encourage us to be complacent, or to be content simply if we can say we believe in God. The lives of many persons who profess a belief in God give no evidence of serious concern about his requirements, yet Jesus stressed the need to be doers of God's will." In conclusion Mr. McCallum encouraged his audience to continue making progress in the doing of God's will.

In line with the theme of the two day program "Become Doers of the Word", nine persons gave evidence of the progress they had made by submitting to public baptism by complete immersion in water to symbolize the personal dedication of their life to their god Jehovah.

Reflecting To 1946

Like the present Digby Community Band, the Digby Civic Band of February 1946 had its financial problems. They had lost their leader, Paul Yates, by death and more revenue was necessary for someone to take his place. The spirit of the 25 members was willing and they voted to carry on. Their revenue was $200 town grant and collection from concerts.

The Pi lis Nes column in The Digby Courier February 26, 1946 reminded Board of Trade members not to forget the Shelburne Road project and push for a road to connect Shelburne with Digby so that South Shore fishermen could save miles of travel and hours of time in reaching Canadian markets. It would also give easy access to valuable timber land. We are still looking in 1976 for that Shelburne Road. It was way back there, too, that the Digby Board of Trade was investigating the high freight rates. A letter was sent to the Saint John Board of Trade, to wholesalers and manufacturers who supply Digby explaining the situation and seeking a remedy. How some evils have the capacity to persist! Two scallop sloops collided in February, 1941. Captain Irvine Longmire, Hillsburn, of the "Smiling Water" was thrown by the impact from the deck of his sloop to that of the other sloop. Stanley Lewis was in the galley. Considerable damage resulted.

Winds blew the Joggin, completely full of ice, out past Gilpin's Point. This was the earliest that ice had been driven into the harbour. Margaret Harnish, age 16, of Rossway, received the highest Girl Guide honor at the School for the Blind Halifax. She received the Blue All Round Cord, the first time it had been presented in the Maritimes.

See where someone bought a six room house and was renting it for $30 a month. They were seeking information from the Wartime Prices and Trade Board on rules governing raising of rent and wanting to know if the tenants were "frozen" and could not be given notice to vacate. They were still using coupons for purchasing some items of food. And that was thirty years ago.

Why A Recreation Center And A Fire Station??

Two reasons:
1. Anyone who has had to deny a child a chance to participate in volleyball, basketball, school social events, any older person who would like to attend given affairs, any one of us who has to pay up to a dollar a gallon for gas, knows that a lot of people have to deny a lot of pleasure because there is no good facility between here and Digby.

2. A Fire Department 20 miles away isn't a lot of help as we all know. But a Fire Department needs maintaining and improving. That takes money. The Department, to date, operating its bingo and the Ladies Auxiliary (who have already proved they can do the job by raising $1000.) can return enough money from all kinds of events to support the building without outside help. The whole operation can be self-supporting once it is there.

HOW DO WE GET IT THERE???

By taking the opportunity we have, right now, one that may disappear in the near future. A lot has already been done:

1. Under the legal association known as the Digby Neck Fire Protection Society, empowered to do business with any level of government we have:

a. A Volunteer Fire Department of 43 men, 26 of whom have had professional fire-fighting training.
b. A Fire Truck, bought and paid for.

c. A piece of land big enough for a 60' x 100' building with ample parking and outdoor recreation area.
d. L.I.P. grant from the Federal Government for $25,000 for labour in putting up the building.

e. A probable grant from the Provincial Government for $30,000 in uncommitted funds.

f. A plan and firm estimates for a prefabricated building of the above dimensions with 2100 square feet for the two-bay Fire Station - capable of handling three pieces of equipment, a Chief's office, washrooms and a meeting room; 3000 square feet for a recreation hall with kitchen and washroom facilities capable of handling sports and of seating 200 people for banquets, bingo and other social events.

2. By working with our Municipal government, as five of the ten other Districts in the Digby Municipality are doing, to finance the

Digby East Fish and Game
Saturday, February 28
Sundowns
MEMBERS AND GUESTS

balance of the funds needed.

HOW DOES THIS FINANCING WORK???

It works like this:
1. Our present situation:
Money required for the total facility...$135,000.
L. I. P. grant...$25,000
Projected provincial funds...$30,000

Total $55,000
Balance needed...$80,000

2. We borrow the balance needed.
3. We repay, in a given period, that balance, plus interest, by each of us sharing part of the load, making it light and possible for all of us to do together.

WHAT IS EACH PERSON'S SHARE???

A percentage of his assessed taxes added onto his Municipal Tax - and before you run for cover, let's see what this means to other Districts now doing it:
Culoden (2 areas) .075 per $100 of assessment
Weymouth .10 per $100 of assessment
Smiths Cove .075 per $100 of assessment
Bear River .10 per $100 of assessment
Marshalltown .10 per $100 of assessment

HOW DOES THE REPAYMENT WORK???

With the money collected this way, the Municipality makes the payments on our loan each year UNTIL THE LOAN IS PAID OFF - BUT NO LONGER!!!! After that, the facility is ours - FREE AND CLEAR. And we support the Fire Department and pay our running expenses out of the income from the use of the Recreation Facility.

WHAT ARE THE ALTERNATIVES??

The most probable one is one we don't like to think about. It is this:

It is more than possible that the Municipality, under pressure from several Fire

Wedding

Edna May Haynes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Haynes, Digby, on December 1, 1975, became the bride of Robert LeRoy Halliday, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merle Halliday. Wedding vows were exchanged at the United Baptist Church, Digby, with Rev. Ernest Topley of the Pentecostal Church, Digby, officiating. The double ring ceremony was used. Organist for the nuptial music was Miss Joanne Frankland, friend of the bride and groom.

The bride looked lovely as she entered the church on the arm of her father attired in a floor length gown of white satin overlaid by nylon. The gown designed and made by the bride featured a high neckline, long full sleeves, lace cape collar and full flowing skirt. Her headpiece consisted of flowers and lace to correspond with the dress and the veil formed a train to the floor. Her bouquet was of red roses.

Miss Marilyn Haynes was maid - of - honor for her sister, looking attractive in a floor length red velvet gown, red nylon net veil to the shoulder, long puffed sleeves, and high neckline. Her sister, Judy, as bride's maid, wore a floor length dress of red velvet top while the skirt was of white eyelet. Michelle Newman, Digby, charming cousin of the groom, was flower girl and was attractively attired in a floor length dress of red velvet skirt and white bodice similarly made as that of the brides' maid.

Best man was Stephen Wade, Lighthouse Road and ushers were Phillip Halliday and Jack Pulsifer. There were three junior ushers, Kevin Haynes, Leonard Silnette and Robert Silnette.

The mother of the bride wore a floor length dress of rose patterned cream polyester with fashionable long sleeves and matching accessories. Her corsage was of pink carnations. The groom's mother donned a gown of similar fashion in forest green accented with gold coloured roses. Her corsage was of yellow carnations. The groom's grandmother, Mavis Newman of Campobello, N.B., wore a silver shade street length dress adorned by a corsage of pink carnations.

A reception was held for 175 guests at the Digby Branch Royal Canadian Legion Hall, Mount St. where Miss Dorothy Halliday, sister of the groom, was in charge of the guest book. Guests came from New Brunswick and Nova Scotia.

The couple spent a honeymoon in Saint John, N.B. and Campobello. They reside at the Lighthouse Road, Digby. The groom is employed at the Digby General Hospital and the bride is on the staff of Wallis Print Ltd.

WE SO BADLY NEED:

Fire Protection within a few miles of our homes AND a place where we can enjoy ourselves...where our children don't have to feel like second class citizens, our older folk don't have to miss a great deal in their lives, and we don't have to

Finance Committee In Disarray

Conflict within Digby Town Council is not yet a thing of the past. This was demonstrated during Monday night's regular Council session.

The latest incident occurred during Councillor Gordon Ellis' presentation of the Finance Committee Report. "I will not work with Councillor Chipman," he stated at the end of his report and subsequently left the council chambers.

Someone has to leave the committee, according to Councillor Ellis, either himself or Councillor Chipman.

Mr. Ellis said he was told to "shut my mouth" by Councillor Chipman during a recent Finance Committee meeting. He said he didn't think Councillor Chipman had approved of a bill throughout 1975.

The third member of the Finance Committee is Guy VanTassel. He came out in support of Councillors Ellis' stand and said he's in the same boat.

Given a chance to comment on the situation, Councillor Chipman said she is "very dissatisfied" with the way the committee has been operating.

She said the committee should avail itself of advice on finance from the Department of Municipal Affairs. We can all benefit from professional assistance, she noted, but it "seems the chairman does not feel we need assistance from anyone".

Mrs. Chipman also objected that committee meetings are held on the evening of the council sessions. She noted this does not give her the chance to prepare her own report, which she says she has the right to do under the by-laws if she disagrees with the committee report.

Mayor Charles Haliburton concluded that perhaps the situation can be ironed out at the next Finance Committee meeting.

METER ATTENDANT

Parking Meter Attendant Webb Dunn was hired for the remainder of the year with no dissenting votes. Earlier in the year he had been appointed for a three-month period which was to expire at the end of March.

BUDGET

The town's first budget meeting will be held on Monday night. Mayor Haliburton suggested work should begin on the budget and a decision should be made on interim billing. Town Clerk Glenn Pitman noted he and the deputy clerk are preparing a budget which can serve as a guideline. Mr. Pitman will be leaving for Frobisher Bay on March 12.

The auditor's report is not yet available. Mayor Haliburton said he would discuss the statement with the auditors and report to the Finance Committee.

NATAL DAY

The last Monday of July has been reserved for Digby Natal Day.

Councillor William Reid brought the matter up, noting that some people on last year's committee wanted to get planning started on this year's event.

There was some discussion on combining Natal Day with Digby Scallop Day. Mayor Haliburton said he had attended a meeting of the Annapolis Basin Tourist and Recreation Council and found some interest in such a move there. He said it would be a way of splitting the workload.

Councillor Reid is to contact those on the Natal Day committee regarding a combined meeting, and report back.

PLANNING

Mayor Haliburton reported on a meeting held with Development Officer Malcolm Burgess and Planning Officer Terry Crowe, both employed with the Annapolis County District Planning Commission.

The Mayor termed planning a "very professional field" but said representatives of the town and municipality considered the effort worthwhile.

Mr. Haliburton said planning is something the town should move on but said it should move very carefully and as a joint effort with the municipality.

TREES

Mayor Haliburton suggested Council will have to deal with establishing a Tree Commission to look after pruning trees, ensuring new trees are replacing old ones, etc.

Councillor Chipman noted no one in Digby has taken an interest in preserving good trees.

EXEMPTION SUPPORT

Council decided to give its support to the Digby Kiwanis Club's effort to have a bill introduced into the legislature to exempt its swimming pool project from taxation.

Jim Gillis appeared on behalf of the club. He noted that last year's financial situation was aided by a $7,000 OFY grant which is not available this year.

Operating expenses for the pool this year are expected to amount to about $10,000. Revenue from the pool should bring in about $4,000 while the remainder must be raised by the Kiwanis Club.

Taxes for 1975 amounted to $537. This year's figure was estimated at about $1,000.

R. MacLeod Rogers, Q.C., town solicitor and Kiwanis club member, said application for exemption is being made because a precedent has been set, i.e. Legion, rink and Tideview Terrace.

Mayor Haliburton noted there are signs of growing "unease" in Council with the exemptions which have been granted. He said all such requests need not be granted.

Only Councillor Gordon Ellis voted against the motion.

MINI-NOTES

Approval was given to the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Digby General Hospital to hold a Tag Day on May 26 and 27.

Building Inspector Carl Niemeyer reported no building activity during the month of February.

According to the Fire Report, 14 calls were answered during February, five of which were in the municipality. There was no loss in the town, but $2,600 in the municipality.

Completes 25 Years Hospital Board President

F. C. Purdy completed on Wednesday evening, twenty-five years service as president of the Digby General Hospital Board of Trustees when the presidency was taken on for 1976 by MacLeod Rogers, Q.C., the former vice-president.

Wednesday marked thirty-one years service on the Hospital Board by Mr. Purdy, 25 of which were in the president's chair, and the annual meeting on Wednesday evening saw Mr. Purdy continue on the Board for the coming year.

Mr. Purdy reminisced to the time when the old Digby General Hospital, built in 1931, became inadequate for serving the medical needs of the community and was replaced in 1965 by the new 90-bed hospital, which even today is experiencing problems with respect to space, especially in the Out Patient Department, he said. The construction of the new hospital was undoubtedly the greatest achievement of the past 30 years, he remarked. One recalls, he continued, the hard sell campaign necessary to convince provincial, and local authorities as well as citizens at large, back in 1960, a 90-bed community hospital was essential to provide for the medical needs of this area. Few people at that time felt that the board proposal for expansion was realistic and advocated a 50 to 60 bed construction. Fortunately, the Board, through a vigorous, well managed publicity campaign was able to sell the proposal to local councils that a 90-bed construction program was realistic and essential to future hospital needs of the community. While many board members played a significant role in the development of the program, Mr. Purdy referred especially to the late Ernest B. Richardson, who for a great many years was an active and valued Board Member. He offered in tribute to the late Mr. Richardson, "He built for better than he was ever to know and today we are grateful for his wisdom and foresight as well as his determination to let no obstacle stand in the way of the 1960 to 1966 construction program."

Staffing of the hospital with highly qualified medical men in the past 30 years was cited as another achievement by the retiring president. He referred particularly to Dr. J. R. McCleave, who is still active and is Honorary Chief-of-Staff.

Technical services and equipment have been upgraded, Mr. Purdy said, so that the Digby General Hospital has a standard of medical services, facilities and equipment that is quite outstanding for a hospital of its size.

Other medical services recognized by Mr. Purdy as a valuable asset to the program of medical services was the regular visitations of medical specialists from Halifax, providing services in Orthopedics, Gynaecology, Neurology, Surgery, and Arthritis. These specialists visit the area on a more or less regular basis and thus eliminate costly visits to Halifax for consultations now available in Digby. Along with these services recognition was given to the Crippled Children's Clinic held regularly at the Digby General Hospital through the auspices of the Digby Kiwanis Club.

The upgrading and provision of expensive medical and technical equipment in the Special Care Area, Laboratory and X-ray Departments was made possible, he said, largely through the interest, efforts and financial contributions of the Hospital Ladies Auxiliary. He gave credit to this group which has made financial contributions towards the purchase of special equipment far in excess of one hundred thousand dollars.

In a less happy note the speaker reminded his audience that the Government of Nova Scotia, along with the nine other provincial governments, has become increasingly concerned over the rapidly spiralling cost of delivery of health care programs, more especially hospitalization costs. Across Canada there are increasingly more financial cut backs in hospital services. The Federal Government has placed a definite limit upon its contribution to the provinces in support of hospital programs. This has created a critical situation for the provinces in the financing of hospital and medical expenditures, he claimed. It now seems inevitable that Nova Scotia will soon be faced with some fairly drastic reduction in money available for financing hospital services. This, he said, could create a situation in which it might become necessary to close hospital beds, reduce staff establishments and cut backs in other services.

Council Decides Against Weed Inspector

The municipal council of the District of Digby decided against hiring a weed inspector at its regular meeting on Monday.

For some time, the Digby County Federation of Agriculture has been attempting to get the municipalities of the District of Digby, Digby town, and Clare to jointly hire a week inspector.

Clare was the holdout last year. Digby town and municipality were each willing to go along with it provided the other two municipal units agreed.

But that situation changed on Monday. Councillor Helen McNeil, herself a farmer, led the movement against hiring the weed inspector after council received a request by letter to state its position. The letter stated Clare has indicated interest in the move this year.

The first Councillor to comment on the request was Arthur Rice. He took the position that the Federation had not given council sufficient proof there is a problem.

Councillor "Bud" Winchester noted the Weed Control Act states "we shall" appoint a weed inspector, but Councillor McNeil felt the department will not go against Council's wishes.

Councillor McNeil termed it an "expensive venture" and felt it is not the most important issue facing farmers today.

She said she had spoken with a councillor from Kings County, which has had a weed inspector, and did not get a favorable report. "I think the farmer today is facing enough expenses," she concluded.

A weed inspector's main task is to determine when a problem exists. Onus is then on the landowner to clean the weeds up.

Councillor McNeil did not think the provincial department would "go over our heads and appoint one!"

Marshland Farmers Take Plight To Hawkins

Farmers concerned with the future of the St. Mary's Bay Marshland are continuing their efforts to have the dyke protecting the valuable farmland repaired.

A delegation of 10, representing the farmers, the Digby County Federation of Agriculture and N.S. Federation of Agriculture met with Agricultural Minister Jack E. Hawkins in Halifax on Tuesday. Others present included Walter Grant, Deputy Minister; M.L.A. Joe Casey; and Dave Mulligan, head Marshland Engineer.

The meeting lasted about two hours. Lloyd MacNeil, one of the delegates, said the visitors were given a "good hearing."

Government officials have not yet come to a decision as to whether or not the dyke will be repaired. Further study is forthcoming.

Officials will be meeting with a committee from the St. Mary's Bay Marshland body next week.

After the Feb. 2nd storm, Marshland Maintenance

Division of the N.S. Department of Agriculture recently did a survey of the damage caused. As a result, it recommended against repairing the dyke because of the high cost involved.

The marshland owners were informed of that decision about a week ago. They then prepared a brief supporting their case to have the dyke repaired. That was forwarded to the Minister earlier this week.

The delegation consisted of Wayne Comeau, acting Chairman of the Marshland Body; John Roope, representing the Digby Community Pasture Ltd.; Stanley Boudreau, representing the Digby County Federation of Agriculture; Hank DeBoer, President of the Nova Scotia Federation of Agriculture; and farmers Lloyd MacNeil, Marshalltown; Mrs. Elizabeth Chisholm on behalf of her husband, Chipman; Otis Robbins of Smith's Cove, Lawrence Lambertson of Barton; Bill Johns of Brighton; Nora Comeau; Adelbert Van Buskirk of Bloomfield; David Thomas of North Range; and Lester Mullen. Several meetings were held in preparation for the delegation's visit to Halifax.

Local farmers are concerned that the dyke may not be repaired before April's high tides. About 650 acres of valuable farmland are at stake.

Last year about 20,000 bales of hay were produced on the land. Ten acres were planted in grain. Altogether about 1000 head of cattle are supported by the land. Should the dyke not be repaired, the majority of these animals may have to be disposed off.

The estimated cost of repairing the dyke is $200,000 to $250,000. Last year, repairs to the value of $75,000 were done.

The farmers are suggesting that if repairs are undertaken this year, pilings should be used on the water-side of the dyke and ar-

To encourage amateur musicians in south-western Nova Scotia, the Digby Community Band with the assistance of the Nova Scotia Department of Recreation, held a two-day Band Clinic and Choral Workshop at the Digby Regional High School, February 28 and 29. Registration got under way at 8:30 a.m. Saturday and more than one hundred people, from Middleton to Yarmouth, registered for the event.

After words of welcome from Don Scott, Digby Community Band Conductor, the participants were divided into their various interest groups. These were Reeds and Strings, directed by clinician William Bartlett of the Fine Arts faculty, University of P. E. I.; Brass, directed by Brian Unvericht; also of the Fine Arts faculty, University of P. E. I.; Percussion, directed by Allan Gaskin, Mount Allison University; and the Choral Workshop conducted by Mr. A. Scott-Savage, Fine Arts Director, with Continuing Education in Halifax. The clinics and workshop continued morning and afternoon, with a break at noon for lunch in the school cafeteria.

Sunday afternoon from 1:30 the community bands and choral group performed in the multi-purpose room of the Digby Regional High School, in half hour concerts for the public. Among the performances were those of Annapolis Royal, Bridgetown, Yarmouth and Digby. Digby's "band within a band" - the Digby Stage Band also performed.

A REAL JOB FOR CANADA

The tumult and the shouting has died and a new Leader of the Opposition in the federal government is down to serious business. Joe Clark, a 36 year old man from Alberta became the national Progressive Conservative Party leader on Sunday, February 21. He won the leadership by a 65 majority over Claude Wagner, Quebec, on the fourth vote at the weekend convention held in Ottawa. Eleven candidates had entered the first ballot, including Pat Nowlan from Wolfville, Nova Scotia (the Nowlan name is well known here in Havelock) and Flora MacDonald, born in Cape Breton N.S.

It is not the convention itself that prompts these lines. We have left that story and are still leaving it to the big dailies, the radio and the T.V.'s wide coverage. Definitely we should all be interested in national affairs (each individual helps to make up a nation) but a newspaper cannot cover everything and our particular role here is on the grass roots level. It is the grass roots level of village and towns like ours by which the whole national community thrives.

Our chief purpose for these remarks is to pay a few words of tribute to the man who on Sunday vacated the now occupied by Mr. Clark Truly, Mr. Stanfield was at his best oratorically on that Friday evening. However, regardless of oratory, which is important, the opposition has a big role to perform in government no matter what side of politics and Hon. Robert Stanfield did his role well. This man, recognized as a great leader and premier in Nova Scotia never did become Prime Minister of Canada but as a person he has had an opportunity to make his influence felt and show to the world his own brand of greatness.

In these days, generally recognized as frivolous in many respects, the Stanfield man moved along in a steady, unruffled and studious manner. His manner and conduct, without doubt had its much needed and steadying and sobering influence on Canadians, especially young Canadians of the day. His down to earth philosophy is presently being proven as Canadians are being beseeched to tighten their belts in protection of the economy.

Mr. Stanfield is a man of perseverance, honesty and courage; a man highly respected, especially in his home province. He is a lover of humanity and his country. In his own role he has done a real job for Canada and is being set up as a fine example for future leaders on all levels irrespective of whatever or any political affiliation. His retiring-as-leader speech verified these comments and added even more to the stature of a great man.

PEACE AND SECURITY LAW AND ORDER

The Highlights of the Peace and Security Program, the Criminal Law Amendment Act 1 and also Act 2 have just been released from our Canadian Department of Justice. Our readers have seen and heard the proposals through news media and in many cases have discussed the issues. Others will turn them aside as too big to tackle. Be that as it is the ordinary person can find many ways to assist in the peace and security measures of our country - on another level of society, the near home level.

This is Education Week and while law and order are upheld by the principles of democracy and good government, education can and should be counted on to also play a big role in shaping the destiny of our village, town and urban centres. Here people of all walks of life can lend encouragement. While we encourage serious consideration of the law and order proposals adults, parents and teachers can by example and precept make known their trust and respect for peace officers and that for which they stand. Peace and Security come well within the bounds of Education Week and this is a good time to avow interest in proper training of youth and provide better protection for ourselves and others.

The pattern of law-breaking among the younger generation seems to run similarly. In an interview with the Dartmouth Free Press, Sgt. H. A. MacKenzie, R. C. M. P., Bedford (incidentally a son-in-law of Councillor and Mrs. L. E. R. Winchester, Smith's Cove) he named in order of frequency disturbances, thefts, property damage, break and entry thefts. That sounds similar to this area. Disturbances he found related to alcohol but did not discount the influence of other drugs. Shoplifting has become a habit with the malls coming into vogue, he told the Press.

It is well to keep in mind the law enforcement officer and assist him in his work but Education Week might be an opportune time to treat this "subject" as another special course. Have you thought of giving R. C. M. P. or other officers an opportunity of address youth adults or citizen clubs and groups which might spark mutual understanding and trust between the law and the populace. That in itself is a step forward in a world riddled by prejudice and discord.

BROTHERHOOD

Brotherhood Week probably slipped us by at this office; however, whether Brotherhood Week was last week or this week does not really matter. Brotherhood is every week.

Brotherhood in our area is not entirely untended. We have in Western Nova Scotia a Multicultural Association which is quite active and does much to create better understanding and friendship between races in our own country but is one small glimmer in a global peace and understanding. We take this opportunity to remind our readers of the Multicultural Conference and Concert at College St. Anne, Church Point on Saturday.

However, one need not wait for the day nor opportunity for a formal multicultural association to present itself to practice brotherhood. Your brother is your family, your next door neighbour, the hungry and ill, the colored race, the white race. Wherever is mankind there is the opportunity to practice brotherhood. Whenever there is the opportunity, that is Brotherhood Week.

VIOLENCE IN T.V. PROGRAMING

According to C. E. Edwards, Inspector of Schools for Digby and Annapolis Counties, in his circular letter, the concerns of the National Parent-Teacher Federation regarding violence on T.V. has resulted in the following resolutions WHEREAS, Children spend countless unsupervised hours watching TV; and WHEREAS, The choice of program offerings often is less than desirable, with much emphasis on violence; and WHEREAS, Children are known to imitate observed behavior and actions; and WHEREAS, Statistics reveal an alarming increase in crime committed by younger and younger children; and WHEREAS, The Surgeon General's report states that there can be a cause-and-effect relationship between watching violence on TV and aggressive behavior in children and young people; and WHEREAS, At this time TV programing is self-regulated by the broadcasting industry through the National Association of Broadcasters (NAB) TV Code, a voluntary code not subscribed to by all stations and the provisions of which are repeatedly violated; be it therefore

Resolved, That the National PTA urge its state congresses, districts, councils, and local units to observe and monitor TV programing and commercials in their areas; and, where an excessive amount of violence in programing is seen, to make known their views with documented reporting to sponsors of the program, with copies to the local TV stations, to the TV network, to the NAB, to the Federal Communications Commission, and to their elected representatives; and be it further

Resolved, That the National PTA demand from networks and local stations reduction in the amount of violence shown on television programs and commercials during the entire day, with particular attention to viewing hours between 2:00 p.m. and 10:00 p.m. and weekend morning hours, when impressionable children and young people are most likely to be watching; and be it further

Resolved, That the National PTA through its state congresses, districts, councils, and local units demand, if the self-regulation of programing and commercials by the broadcasting industry does not result in better TV programing with less emphasis on violence, that the Federal Communications Commission establish and enforce regulations limiting the number and percentage of programs of violence to be presented each day.

Hodge Podge

Digby and around seems to have a number of ambitious poets and poetesses. Wonder if they know about the World of Poetry contest with its $1500 grand prize award. Second place is $500 and there are almost fifty other prizes. Each winning poem will be included in the prestigious World of Poetry Anthology. The contestants can get rules and entry forms from World of Poetry, 801 Portola Dr., Dept. 211, San Francisco, Ca. 94127.

— Running the risk of taking the punch out of our Reflecting to 1946, we must note that on March 21 of that year serious consideration was given to a Memorial Town Hall in tribute to the war veterans. Do you know what they said thirty years ago? "Digby is badly in need of a new Town Hall."

No wonder I couldn't find the church. A stranger came to town one evening recently and looked for a church of a particular denomination. One small portion of his mission was to find out what other denominations served the town. His reply on finding out was "No wonder I couldn't find the church."

Social Services Program Under Scrutiny

Digby Municipal Council is unhappy with the present social services program and intends to seek changes.

Those drawing social assistance who are able to work are the main source of concern. Councillor Ervin Marshall felt these people should be required to work even if a job pays less than social assistance payments. He suggested social assistance could make up the difference in such a case.

Councillor Arthur Rice maintained that local programs should be made available to keep welfare people employed. All a recipient should have to do, he said, is call and ask where to report for work. Council intends to have a resolution drawn up which will be forwarded to the Minister of Social Services and other municipal units.

The municipality finished 1975 with a $30,000 surplus in its social services department. But according to Councillor Winchester, that occurred because the province had cut the budget by $35,000 and later gave back $30,000.

The municipality had 61 social services recipients in January.

101 EXITS

Council came out in support of a group of Bear River and Smith's Cove residents seeking provincial plans for having the Bear River bridge intersection altered.

Letters To Editor

Dear Editor:

The recent storm (February 2, 1976) was the worst in living memory. Its intensity and the destruction left in its wake makes one recall stories of the Saxby Gale which occurred on Monday night, October 4, 1869, and did not abate until late the following day.

This was predicted by Lieut. John Saxby of the British Navy ten months before it occurred. He repeated his warnings again a few weeks before the storm. Many seafaring men heeded his warning and remained in port while others scoffed at the idea and put boldly forth.

The storm arrived as predicted and caused damage across North America in the hundreds of millions of dollars. The "Saxby Gale" was used as a comparison for many years. The winds were of hurricane force and tides the world over rose to unheard of heights. In Nova Scotia tides rolled in in great walls of thundering water, reaching heights of 100 feet or more.

The Westport correspondent describes seas towering 100 feet in the air so the storms sound very similar.

Perhaps there are newspaper accounts of the Saxby Gale which would make an interesting comparison.

Yours very truly,
Shirley Morehouse

Editor's Note - Our February 19, 1976 issue contained some of the Saxby Gale story. More as it effected New Brunswick but few details about our own area. Any further information would be appreciated.

mourstone should be placed. These suggestions were made before but nothing was done on them.

Meanwhile, the department of Highways has started work on the dyke road. A report from the delegation to Halifax is being awaited before much more work is started.

Yield on the marshland has been three-four times higher than on the uplands. Local farmers have invested much money and effort on the marshland; to the point where several may cease farming operations if the land is not saved.

another on communications in time of emergency. Councillor Rice noted that telephone service goes out "almost without fail" when the power goes off.

Councillors Ervin Marshall, Arthur Rice and Richard Daley were instructed to look into various communications systems and bring back a report.

PLANNING

Councillor Richard Daley reported on a meeting held to look into planning. As a result, council passed a motion to have a planning advisor from Annapolis County appear to present information.

"I think it's a step in the right direction," Councillor Daley commented. But Councillors Eric Vantassel and Helen McNeil questioned whether the municipality is ready for it.

OTHER NOTES

Council decided it would be willing to meet with the town to discuss use of Court House space as a Town Hall.

It was announced that the EMO is setting up an office in Halifax to handle claims from those who suffered uninsured property damage from the February 2nd storm. The date and location were not yet known.

Some interest was expressed in EMO training course available to councillors.

A grant of $1,250 was approved to the Digby County Livestock Health Services Board for 1976.

Hospital Boards have already been advised of the Government's restrictive policy regarding hospital expenditures, the president remarked. These restrictions include the purchase of new equipment, staffing policies, and rigid control over all aspects of spending. Hopefully this restrictive program will not result in the closing of beds in our hospital or any serious reduction in staffing establishments. However, it is essential, he said, that all hospital personnel become aware of such a possibility and exercise restraint if such a contingency is to be avoided. Only through co-operation of the entire medical, professional, administrative and non-professional staffs can a proper control of expenditures be effected, he added.

Mr. Purdy also felt that patients could help in curbing unnecessary expenditures by not unnecessarily utilizing hospital beds and by cutting down on out-patient department facilities. Too many patients are making use of the Out-Patient Services as a substitute for visits to the doctor's office, Mr. Purdy argued. Out-Patients should be used only as an emergency service, he said, and this does not include the treatment of respiratory problems or minor infections. If this over-utilization of out-patient services continues unrestricted, the Board may be forced to curtail certain services because of lack of funds, the retiring president ventured. There is one way in which over utilization of the Out-Patient Department could be controlled, he felt. This control could be effected by a deterrent fee of $2.00 to $3.00 for each visit to the Department. More patients would then go to the doctors office with a substantial reduction effected in the cost of operating this service.

The above tide table is based on the 24 hour clock. All times are Atlantic Standard. Read DOWN rather than ACROSS. The large number is the date, the 4 digit number is the time. The third number in the column is the height of the tide in feet.

To convert times shown to the 12 hour clock, subtract 1200 from the number shown for all times over 1300 hours. (Included), up to and including 2400 hours. This will give you p.m. time. Example — 1300 hours is 1:00 p.m., 2400 hours is 12 o'clock midnight. For a.m. time, simply disregard zeroes at the beginning of the number. Example — 0135 hours is 1:35 a.m., 0020 hours is 20 minutes past midnight.

The 24 hour clock begins at 0001, which is 1 minute after midnight on the 12-hour clock.

Marion B. McCormick - Gone But Not Forgotten

by Larry Duchesne

Marion B. McCormick is no longer here? Of course she is! Her physical being passed away early this year, but Marion will always be with us. The products of her lifelong dedication to Genealogy and community history are guarantees of that.

Prior to her death at the age of 62, Marion lived alone at her home on the Bell Road in Bear River. There she spent much of her time gathering and dispensing genealogical information thus gaining international recognition.

Before further describing this unique woman, a little personal history on our subject is perhaps in order.

Marion was born in Smith's Cove on April 13, 1913, to Burton Thomas Frude and Jeanette Elizabeth (Chute) Frude. She was the eldest of two daughters born in the family. Her sister, Alice Darres, still resides in Bear River, the wife of Louis Darres.

The Frude family was living in Bear River when Marion began her education at Oakdene School. After her graduation (grade 12), she left for Saint John, N.B. to take a stenographer and bookkeeping course.

Marion then returned to Nova Scotia and joined the army. She served four years at the Men's Supply Depot in Halifax and was discharged as a Sergeant at the end of the war.

In 1942, Marion married Edmond Francois Ivens of the Belgian Merchant Marines. She went to Belgium in 1946 where she lived for 18 months before returning to Bear River with her husband in 1948.

About a year after their return, Eddie died from injuries received in an accident at Joggins Bridge. He was painting the old bridge when he slipped and fell backwards onto the rocks below. He died several hours later at the Digby General Hospital.

In 1950, Marion married Ira McCormick. During this marriage, she spent a number of years working as an accountant at CFB Cornwallis and for several years operated McCormick's gift shop, as many local residents will recall. Marion lost her second husband on February 13, 1970.

Although she had several pastimes during her life, Marion's love of Genealogy was unmatched. This occupied much of her time, especially during her later years.

When she passed away, Marion's collection of genealogies was the envy of any Genealogist. It includes about 350 books of family histories, including families from A to Z.

In spite of the recognition she earned through genealogy, Marion did not die a prosperous woman. She worked at genealogy only because she loved it.

Monetary reward, if it can be called that, came only through voluntary donations from those she had done work for. She was never known to ask for compensation.

People from everywhere used to contact her to trace their family trees, Alice recalls. And through Marion's records, many found they were related to her in some way.

Genealogy occupied much of Marion's time and effort, but she enjoyed it to the point where it became a part of her.

She wrote it; she talked it; she lived it. This could no more clearly be exemplified than the fact that although she could not really afford it, she hired a secretary one day a week for about the last six months of her life in order to keep up with her work on genealogies.

Her devotion to genealogy caught the attention of the television media as well as radio and the press. Many will recall her appearance with Laura Foster on Magazine.

As might be expected of a genealogist, Marion took a deep interest in community history, as her records will indicate. When anyone wanted information, Marion had it available or knew where to find it. "She could remember anything she ever read," says her sister. Marion not only enjoyed writing history, she loved to talk it, as anyone who may have questioned her on earlier life would have discovered.

In 1974, Marion attended a historical seminar sponsored by the Historical Society of Nova Scotia. She was unable to attend another one held last year, due to ill health.

Over the years, Marion wrote numerous poems, many of which appeared in various publications, including the Digby Courier and the Montreal Standard. She also wrote historical articles for various publications.

In addition to her other hobbies and pastimes, Marion was adept at putting words on paper as many discovered during 1975's incorporation debate via the Digby Courier. In recent months she authored a weekly column in The Mirror, providing readers with an interesting blend of history and genealogy.

Although genealogy was her first love, she also took great pride in her stamp collection, as well as her crocheting, embroidering, tatting, quilting, knitting and collecting antiques. This covers many of her hobbies, but many more could be mentioned. Her interests

Bear River Guides And Brownies Celebrate Week
With Specials

The Girl Guides and Brownies of Bear River celebrated Scout-Guide Week beginning with a joint meeting on Feb. 19th at which time all parents and friends were invited to attend. The Brownies opened the meeting with their traditional Brownie Ring. The Guides marched in and went into Horseshoe formation. At this time three Guides were informed that they had been chosen to represent 1st Bear River Co. at the summer camp to be held in Yarmouth during the first week of July. From this camp, Guides will be selected to attend the International Camp to be held in Cape Breton during the summer of 1977. Judy Williams, Sandra Wagner, and Jolene Parker were chosen as representatives and it is hoped one or all will be selected for next year's camp.

Several interest badges and five Emblems were presented. Three Guides-Debbie Harris, Marieca Harris, and Donna Turcotte were enrolled and received their Tenderfoot pins. Tina Jefferson was sick and unable to be enrolled at this time. Mrs. Williams presented Mrs. Marshall with her Captain's Appointment and Mrs. Harris presented Mrs. Williams with her Appointment as Commissioner of the Triangle District.

After the formal ceremonies were finished, Medody Peck gave the special Thinking Day Opening which was followed by a Panel Talk which explained about Thinking Day and International Guiding. A candle-lighting ceremony combined with presentations or money gifts was next. Each Guide had arranged her money gift in the shape of her own hand and offered it to the Guides of another country. Mrs. Williams showed slides of France, Germany and Our Chalet and Miss Beryl Henderson showed slides of India. Miss Henderson also brought along a sari and other items of interest to show the girls.

The meeting was closed with an International Campfire followed by a special Thinking Day Prayer by Judy Williams. A beautiful cake decorated in the shape of the trefoil was cut.

Thanks were extended to all the many people who helped to make Thinking Day Celebration a success.

On Sunday, Feb. 22, the Guides, Brownies, and Cubs joined together for Church Service at the Advent Church. Rev. Mr. Waterman spoke on a Thinking Day theme with the emphasis on Thinking not of ourselves. The sermon was very interesting and of great appeal to the young people present. The Girl Guides sang two selections accompanied by Lexie Peck at the piano. Mrs. Williams spoke on the meaning of Thinking Day.

On Monday, the Guides, Brownies and Cubs wore their uniforms to school and in so doing were joining fellow Guides, Brownies and Cubs all over the world Feb. 23 was chosen as the day all would wear their uniform.

Glass Blowing And Silk Screening Demonstrated

At the extreme left is Mr. Leance d'Eon of Meteghan Centre, formerly employed in the U.S.A. and presently retired with some samples of his glassblowing technique which he displayed at the Clare Arts Council on Monday, February 16th at College Ste Anne at Church Point. Mr. d'Eon stated that he took up glassblowing so he would have something to do during his retirement.

The Clare Arts Council held its general meeting on Monday, February 16 at 7:30 p.m. at College Ste Anne, in the large study room in the wooden building. A good turnout of members and interested persons were on hand. Special guests for the evening were, Leance d'Eon of the Acadian Glassblowing, of Meteghan Centre and Robert Mezerole, print maker and on Ste Anne's college staff as printer.

Mr. Leance d'Eon stated that he had taken up glassblowing as a hobby to be used during his retirement. He recently retired, having been employed in the United States and established himself in the home, formerly that of his parents. He had many items made of glass on display for the meeting and he explained how glassblowing and working with glass was accomplished. Mr. d'Eon said he was sorry that he was unable to bring his equipment to the meeting to give a demonstration but he was unable to do so as it was too difficult to transport propane and oxygen tanks in his car. Mr. d'Eon stated that he will use his hobby to make gifts for the tourist trade.

Mr. Robert Mazerolle followed and explained and demonstrated how silk-screen painting was accomplished. He had a silk-screen printing frame on hand. To demonstrate he made the stencil, placed it in the position for silk-screen process of printing and printed several sheets to show the results.

The meeting was presided over by Gerald Boudreau, president of the Council. He told the group that the Council has arranged jointly with the Francophone Acadien de La Nouvelle Ecosse (Acadian Federation Francophone of Nova Scotia) to engage an animator for the province of Nova Scotia. He announced that Mr. Jules Chiasson, formerly of Cheticamp, Nova Scotia, had been appointed in January and is presently visiting various areas of the province at his new task.

Mr. Boudreau announced to the group that workshops in glassblowing and silk-screen painting would be organized if a sufficient number would register for the courses. He also announced that an oil painting workshop had been arranged by the Clare Arts Council and will commence on Friday, February 20 in the evening and will continue until Sunday afternoon at College Ste Anne. About 12 persons have registered for the oil painting course, which is continuing course and not for beginners.

Mr. Boudreau also stated that the Arts Council of Clare had presented $500 to the Regional Band of Clare committee chairman recently. This was a grant that they had requested especially for the Clare Regional Band from the government.

He also stated that a Kiln had been purchased and is at the disposition of anyone requiring such a kiln and it can be loaned at a nominal fee. It will be placed at the Saulnierville school for the time being. It has been used by the Community school program of the Saulnierville for some time on the same basis. At that time it was installed in a private home of the chairman of the program.

Lapidary (stone polishing and cutting) equipment owned by the Arts Council was formerly at the Meteghan Stella School where the Clare Senior Citizens Club of Comeauville had made use of it in a course given to members of the club from Meteghan, numbering approximately 12 persons. A record player is presently on loan to the Joseph Dugas school. It is believed that a pottery wheel owned by the Council is nearby.

The Clare Arts Council of Clare has for its main aims, to work for the development and appreciation of the Arts and craft shop for the region of the Municipality of Clare in Digby County. To obtain these aims, the Clare Arts Council will work jointly with the Continuing Education branch of the Department of Education of the province and the Clare Municipal School Board. Its headquarters shall be at College Ste. Anne at Church Point.

DECIDES AGAINST WEED IN-

blow to Agricultural Representative Bruce Gilliatt and the Digby County Federation of Agriculture.

The municipal decision left Mr. Gilliatt "very much disappointed". It came, he said, at a time when efforts are being made to encourage agricultural development, get young people involved and get things rolling.

Mr. Gilliatt termed Council's decision "a giant step backwards". He said it is "unbelievable" that council would change the decision it made last year after the local Federation of Agriculture had done so much work towards having a weed inspector hired.

The representative said the decision is particularly disturbing when one considers that the Town of Digby had agreed to go along with the move and hopes existed that Clare would go along with the plan. Clare rejected the idea last year.

Another consideration, he said, is the 50-50 cost-sharing arrangement through which the province pays half the cost of a weed inspector while the other half is shared among the three municipal units.

Mr. Gilliatt said an inspection has shown there are a number of bad weed areas in the municipality which need attending to.

Statements concerning Kings County are "unbelievable as far as I'm concerned," Mr. Gilliatt commented. At its last meeting, the municipal council heard unfavourable reports about the program there.

Visitors From The North

Mr. and Mrs. Arnold McCallum, Fort Smith, North West Territories, were visitors last week of Mrs. McCallum's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth (Ted) Woodman, Conway, Mr. and Mrs. McCallum's visit was prompted by an Interprovincial Ministerial Conference on Manpower held at Fredericton, New Brunswick. As Minister of Education for the North West Territories, Mr. McCallum represented the area in relation to education and labor.

This was the first time an elected person from the Territories was able to sit with ministers from the provinces. The ministers in the Territories are in a similar capacity to the ministers of the provinces here but the Territories are not divided into provinces, Mr. McCallum said. At this Conference they were treated on a parallel basis and entered into proposals which were to do with negotiations between provinces and federal governments regarding amounts of money available and authority to carry out programs. Prior to this conference, the N. W. T. only sent observers to federal-provincial conferences, Mr. McCallum said and this is another move toward responsible government for N. W. T.

Mr. and Mrs. McCallum and family have been in the North for the past twelve or more years where Mr. McCallum was principal of Fort Smith School for nine years.

ARNOLD MCCALLUM

He became an elected member of Council and the North West Territories' first Minister of Education two years ago. Their eldest son, Ross, is a Grade X high school student who enjoys debating, representing the school on National Debates and also hockey which often takes him on 175 mile and return trips in one day. Scott is an eighth grade student and Nancy grade 5. She enjoys figure skating.

Mr. McCallum had recently finished a three-week session, January 26 to February 13 held in council and a two-week session will be held in May. His position takes him all over the North West Territories in travel. There is a 15 man elected council and an executive committee to administer the government. This first time having an elected committee on council is a move toward more and more responsible government, Mr. McCallum said.

The three big things facing the Territorial government presently are Responsible Government, the Pipe Line and the Native Land Claim which is in the news so much today. Development, Mr. McCallum said, however, must go on, it cannot wait until these questions are finalized. He notices an improvement in social economy.

While in Digby, Mr. McCallum visited the D. R. H. S. where he had been a teacher. In the N. W. T. the government took over education in 1967. Prior to 1954-55 education there was administered by the Roman Catholic and Anglican churches. There are no universities in N. W. T. There are Technical and Vocational Schools at Fort Smith and they are trying for a two year Junior Community College towards higher education.

The educational ministry develops their own curriculum to Grade IX in N. W. T. and from there on use the High School curriculum from Alberta. Further advances in curriculum will be made in consultation with wishes and ideas of the people.

Orderlies and Ward Clerks. There are 30 Registered Nurses, excluding Head Nurses and Supervisors, and 37 Certified Nursing Assistants, Aides, Orderlies and two (2) Ward Clerks. This number should be reversed but it has always been very difficult to entice Registered Nurses to the Digby area, Miss Smith reported.

Miss Smith reported all departments busy with 276 babies born in the obstetrical ward, an increase of 34 over 1974.

made during 1976 to improve this condition, he hoped.

To improve patient care $52,752 worth of new equipment was obtained for the hospital viz an x-ray table, gastroscope and monitors for two extra special care beds.

Mr. Stacey's report showed there were a total of 2079 admissions with an average length of stay of 10.46 days for a total of 21,764 patient days. 271 newborns with an average length of stay of 4.93 giving a total of 1362 newborn days. There were 38,278 visits to the combined services of X-ray, laboratory, Emergency room physiotherapy, and EKG Departments.

The nursing report given by the superintendent of nurses, Miss Muriel Smith, showed a nursing staff of 78. There were Three Supervisors, five Head Nurses for the Wards, on Operating Room Head Nurse, and one Head Nurse for the Central Supply Room and Out Patient Departments. The remaining 67 are Registered Nurses, Certified Nursing Assistants, Nursing Aides.

Notes From Bird Haven

SPRING SUGGESTIONS

I feel the birds think Spring has really come, most of them have left me. I hear the white throats in the tree tops but they only come for their supper.

However, Sunday I had a brief call from seven Evening Grosbeaks, three Goldfinches and a Tree Sparrow.

One of my little White Throats in the kitchen cage is practicing his song. He goes over and over the first part. Some day I hope he will finish it. He is the little fellow that sings Oh! Cannada, Cannada, Cannada.

Speaking of birds singing, a Chick-a-dee was heard, one of our fine days, singing his spring song of Feed-me, Feed-me.

Now that the seed catalogues are in how about planting flowers, shrubs, and trees to attract birds to your garden.

Now, for the trees, evergreens, such as fir, spruce and pine, the cones supply seeds for Crossbills, Siskins and Chick-a-dees.

Maples of all kind and Ash supply the Grosbeaks with the little winged seeds Hawthornes supply the late Robins with food at times when worms have gone below frost.

Now for shrubs, Barberry, Wild pear, Multiflora rose, make good hedges, hide ugly spots and supply wonderful food for all kinds of birds. The wild rose and Sweet briar can be dug up from the roadside.

The flowers I would recommend are Bachelor-buttons, Colendula and Sweet rocket, and by the way I have lots of plants to give away from wonderful seeds beloved by Purplefinches, Gold finches and all kinds of Sparrows.

Humming birds like flowers of bright red such as Scarlet runner beans. You not only supply the bird with nectar but you can use the bean green or baked.

Mainida and Cardinal flower are also red and, course, we all know how they love a nasturtium patch.

As for vines I think Bitter Sweet is the best, all types of birds seem to enjoy the bright orange-yellow berries.

Don't be too fussy about clearing up the garden in the fall, leave a few weeds for the little ground feeders.

So long

The Bird Lady.

The Digby Genreal Hospital Ladies Auxiliary report was given by the secretary, Mrs. David Gordon. President is Mr. Eva Cromwell. Mrs. Gordon reported the Auxiliry purchasing a gastroscope costing $75.00 for the hospital. They re-upholstered canteen chairs, donated $100 to C.A.R.S. and hope to purchase a cassette player for the doctor's use in continuing medical education. Balance shown on the books, January 1976 was $10,293.85 Total funds raised in 1975 other than canteen funds was $1700.

Dr. D.E. Lewis, chief of the medical staff, expressed special thanks to the Auxiliary for the gastroscope in his report. He said this piece of equipment is used two to three times a week. He also expressed appreciation for the monitoring machines for the special care units and said it was difficult to stress enough the value of these machines for intensive care. Dr. Lewis spoke of the audio visual machine to come to Digby hospital. There are 100 in Canada, three in Nova Scotia, one of which is Digby, because, he felt, that Digby is known to use the equipment to fullest extent.

Dr. Lewis extended ap-

Celebrates 50th Wedding Anniversary

On the evening of November 21, at Chegoggin Hall, West Yarmouth Baptist Church, observed the 50th wedding anniversary of Rev. and Mrs. G. D. Brydon. Mr. and Mrs. Brydon are well known in the Digby area where Rev. Mr. Brydon was pastor of the Deep Brook Smith's Cove Baptist Church and where they operated the Brydon Motel in Deep Brook.

It was an occasion when two people deserved the best, and every effort was made by the people of the pastorate and Gavelton to honor them. Miss Valerie Adams was in charge of the guest book.

A touching re-enactment of the original marriage ceremony was performed by a very close college friend, Rev. Herman Spinney as the couple re-affirmed their nuptial vows and exchanged rings.

They were attended by their daughter, Gena (Mrs. G. Dukeshire) of London, Ontario and grandson, Keith Brydon, of Deep Brook.

In well chosen words, Rev. Sidney Whitehouse proposed a toast to the bride of 50 years, to which the groom responded with words of appreciation to his wife for her help and inspiration throughout the years.

An appropriate musical selection was rendered by Miss Diana Von Der Hiede, accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Ivan Sweeney.

The beautiful wedding cake deserves special mention as it graced the bridal table which was tastefully decorated with flowers and gold appointments.

The love and good-will of their many friends was expressed by Mr. Jack Throp, as he presented many nice gifts, including an engraved silver tray, a handsome sum of money, and a colored T.V. set.

The bride was assisted in opening the gifts by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Donald Brydon, of Deep Brook; and the numerous cards were read by granddaughter, Mrs. Gary Harris, of Halifax.

Mr. and Mrs. Brydon fittingly responded as they thanked the people with eyes overflowing for this manifestation of their kindness and generosity.

With happy memories of this occasion they move forward, hand in hand, to face the days that lie ahead.

Sorry to report that Emile Amoro is a patient in the Digby General Hospital again.

On Wednesday Mrs. Mazie Thibault and Mrs. Reg White of Gilbert's Cove motored to Yarmouth.

Mr. and Mrs. Fulton Stark and Mrs. Edna Rice of Deep Brook visited their mother, Mrs. Beatrice Robicheau, and brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Robicheau.

Mr. and Mrs. George McCulley and family of Salmon River spent the weekend with her mother, Mrs. Lillian Sprague, and brother, Arnold Sprague.

On Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. McCulley and family were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Thibault.

MacLeod Rogers Q.C. New President

MacLeod Rogers Q.C. was elected president of the Digby General Hospital Board at the annual meeting held on Wednesday at the Multi-purpose Room of the Digby Regional High School. He succeeds F.C. Purdy who completed 25 years as president.

Other officers and committees named were Hyson Sutherland, vice president; secretary-treasurer, Ralph Stacey; buildings and grounds committee, Mr. Sutherland, Ray McCleave, Joseph Hattie; finance, Victor Thompson, Bruce Hutchins; Mrs. Helen MacNeil and James Gillis; standards, Mr. Rogers, DeMille Raymond, Miss Muriel Smith, Leigh Jayne, Mr. Stacey and Mr. Sutherland. Members of the executive with the officers are Mr. Thompson, Mr. Jayne, Warden Wilfred Swift and Councillor Parker Thurber.

The financial report of the hospital was presented at the annual meeting by Mr. Hutchins of the finance committee. Mr. Hutchins noted that expenses in general had increased in 1975 but drew particular attention to that of fuel which in 1973 was $17,911, in 1974 it was $28,050 and in 1975 cost $33,764. The total net earnings for 1975 was reported to be $1,813,842. The total expenses amounted to $1,847,219 a sum of $307,000 more for operating the hospital in 1975 than in 1974. Nursing services in 1975 were $675,820 and in 1974 they $546,000; general services $379,494 in 1975 and $338,854 in 1974 general administration $138,492 in 1975 and $114,565 in 1975; dietary $66,817 in 1975 and $57,910 in 1974.

In his report the hospital administrator revealed that one of the greatest problems at the present is the utilizing of beds for long-stay geriatric patients that should be in some other type of institution or looked after by their families. Since all the nursing beds have been filled in the area, the situation is getting worse, he reported, to the point that it will be more difficult to be admitted to hospital. Some concentrated effort will be made during 1976 to improve this condition, he hoped.

To improve patient care $52,752 worth of new equipment was obtained for the hospital viz an x-ray table, gastroscope and monitors for two extra special care beds.

Mr. Stacey's report showed there were a total of 2079 admissions with an average length of stay of 10.46 days for a total of 21,764 patient days. 271 newborns with an average length of stay of 4.93 giving a total of 1362 newborn days. There were 38,278 visits to the combined services of X-ray, laboratory, Emergency room physiotherapy, and EKG Departments.

The nursing report given by the superintendent of nurses, Miss Muriel Smith, showed a nursing staff of 78. There were Three Supervisors, five Head Nurses for the Wards, on Operating Room Head Nurse, and one Head Nurse for the Central Supply Room and Out Patient Departments. The remaining 67 are Registered Nurses, Certified Nursing Assistants, Nursing Aides.

Minister Of Education

Education Week Message

March 7-13th is Education Week 1976 in Nova Scotia. The theme for Education Week this year is "Schools Serving the Community."

Following is the text of the Education Week message from Hon. Maynard C. MacAskill, Minister of Education:

Why do we have Education Week? Why do schools and other educational institutions extend a particular welcome to parents and other members of the public at this time? Why should we look out this week for special displays, lectures and panel discussions on education, and 'Open House' in our local schools?

We all went to school.

We had the benefits of a 'free education'. What more is there to know? Why should the public become more involved in this annual event - Education Week?

A simple answer to these questions would be that $236 million of public money is being spent on public school education this year in Nova Scotia. That should be a basic reason for public interest in education.

Beyond that, however, there is the fact that the schools have changed enormously in recent years. They would like the public to know about these changes and to understand the reason for them. For example, many high schools now have cafeterias and vending machines. That is why school lunch programs, canteens and nutrition are among the topics suggested for special attention in lectures and panel discussions during Education Week.

The old saying 'A Healthy Mind in a Healthy Body' may have become trite. Yet educators and parents alike are concerned about the nutrition of our children and the effect that poor dietary habits can have upon their educational progress and general health. Education Week provides a valuable opportunity for them to share their concern and to discuss the remedies that are to be found.

I note that other topics suggested by the provincial Education Week Committee for discussion include Canadian Studies in the schools; career guidance; sex education; educating children who are hospitalized; developing greater public appreciation of the role of the vocational school and the education and training of teachers. Over 50 topics are listed and even a limited selection such as I have given shows how the schools are changing to meet the needs of our society.

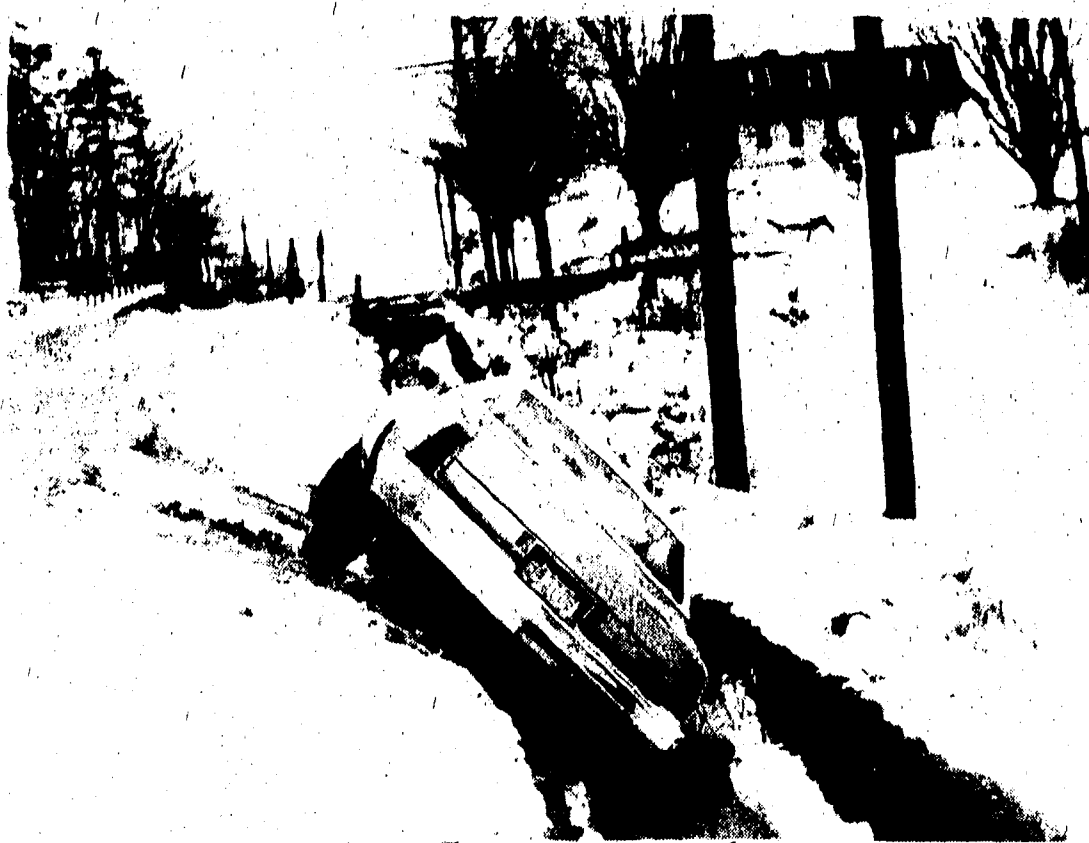

This year the question that is regarded as being of primary importance is that of how the schools can—and do—serve the community. It is encouraging to know that more and more schools throughout the Province are open in the evenings for continuing education classes and for meetings. Long before my quite recent assumption of the responsibilities of the education portfolio, I was aware of this development—as are other interested members of the public.

Mayor Charles Haliburton shakes the hand of soon-to-depart Glenn Pitman during Monday night's town council session. Mr. Pitman was presented with a town crest and a desk lamp. He has accepted a new position as secretary-treasurer of the Village of Frobisher Bay, N.W.T.

Slippery driving conditions greeted motorists early on Thursday morning, February 11, as temperatures dropped following a rainfall. The hill on Church Street this driver was attempting to conquer didn't help matters any.

Decide To Pick Up Property Option

After much controversy from Councillor Eileen Chipman on procedures relating to an option on Jeffrey Properties Ltd., Digby Town Council by regular vote at special meeting decided to pick up the option which was due to expire within a few days. Voting against the motion were Councillor Chipman and Councillor Gordon Ellis. The option was on a piece of land 169 feet x 335 feet (36,000 square feet) at the South End of Digby which was deemed necessary for the sewer treatment plant for the proposed Digby sewer system. Because of a change in instructions from the Department of Environment regarding the outfall location as the sewer project progressed, councillors had deemed it necessary to purchase additional property, it is understood. Motion to pick up the option was made by Councillor William Reid, seconded by Deputy Mayor Philip Robertson.

Appearing before Council were Lister Hannah of the Digby Recreation Committee and Alfred Warner, teacher of special classes at the Digby Regional High School.

Mr. Hannah added information to Councillor Reid's report that fourteen applications had been received for the position of a recreation co-ordinator for Digby. By motion of Councillor Gordon Ellis of engaging a co-ordinator for recreation was tabled until further information might be obtained on the costs, the position of the town budget and what needs have priority in the budget.

According to Mr. Hannah's information the salary of a qualified recreation co-ordinator is a shareable expense and that other grants might be possible. Budget for the town itself for a co-ordinator was estimated at about $10,000 of which $5000 would be salary. Mr. Hannah looked hopefully towards co-ordinating recreation from other clubs and their contribution towards the engaging of a co-ordinator.

Mr. Warner's appearance before Council was to obtain permission to use certain signs on the pavement in town to aid in his work with special school classes in teaching driver

Toronto Visitor Honored On Birthday

A birthday party was held at the home of Joan Claghorne, Shore Rd., on Saturday night in honor of Mrs. Elsie Handspiker (Stark) who celebrated her birthday on Friday the 13th.

The evening was spent playing games, listening to country and western music, dancing and reminiscing old times, with thirty or more of her relatives present. Three of her sisters and her two brothers were present for the occasion.

Ontario, has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Gladys Stark for the past two weeks.

Many gifts and much money were received with many thanks by Mrs. Handspiker.

Study Church's Needs And Resources

Rev. Lloyd Archer, pastor of the United Church of Canada, Wolfville, was a guest at Grace United Church, Digby, on Thursday evening where he met 15 members for making a survey of the physical and human resources of the church and its needs.

The survey is being made on behalf of the Maritime Conference of the United Church of Canada and Mr. Archer will visit four churches, one of which is Digby, within the Valley Presbytery.

Among topics discussed on Thursday evening, were worship, music, education, evangelism, mission, stewardship, properties, ecumenical work, duties of Boards and departments, communications, groups (youth and adult) structure and the many and varied phases of church life.

Rev. Ronald Stevens opened the meeting by prayer.

Invites Buchanan To Hear Problems

Councillor L.E.R. Winchester reported to the Council of the Municipality of the District of Digby in regular session on Monday morning that he had asked the clerk to forward a letter to Hon. John Buchanan, Leader of Nova Scotia Opposition, under the signature of Warden Wilfred Swift in reply to a release in the Chronicle Herald on February 14 in which he stated that he wished to meet with the executive of the Union of Nova Scotia Municipalities and each

Think Before Selling Refund Rights

Taxpayers who want to spend their income tax refunds before receiving them, are warned to think twice before they sell their rights to them.

This warning comes from Nova Scotia Consumer Affairs Minister, Hon. Glen M. Bagnell, in view of the establishment of tax refund discount services in the province. These operations purchase income tax refunds at a discount from their owners.

Although the operations are within the law, Mr. Bagnell warned consumers that they stand to lose up to half of their expected refunds, if not more, by dealing with such organizations.

"Their chief virtue," Mr.

Bagnell said, "lies in the fact they will give you money to enjoy now, rather than having you wait for it for two or three months. But the amount you end up with does not come close to the actual refund expected. Consumers would be further ahead to borrow the money they need from a reputable lender."

A person who is expecting a refund of $200, or instance, Mr. Bagnell said, may accept cash of $100 in exchange. If this transaction were viewed as a loan, the consumer would be paying 400 percent interest for three months, if it took this length of time to process an income tax refund. The interest would be even higher if it takes less time to obtain your refund. Faced with an interest rate this high when looking for a loan, most consumers would go elsewhere.

"The wise thing to do if you want to spend your refund now," Mr. Bagnell said, "is to shop around for a short-term loan at a reasonable rate of interest. That way you get to spend more of your own money."

Such operations are not unique to Nova Scotia, Mr. Bagnell said. The problem exists in all parts of Canada.

"However," the minister added, "we are working with the Federal Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs in an attempt to find a solution. One area we are exploring is a borrowers and depositors protection act which would provide protection to consumers in such transactions, by putting a ceiling on the rates that be charged."

In the meantime, however, Nova Scotians are cautioned that they stand to lose most of their income tax refunds if they sell their rights to a tax refund discount service.

Consumers should bear in mind the exact amount of that loss before they sign away their rights, Mr. Bagnell said.

Honored On 40th Anniversary

By Frances Adams

Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Haynes of Digby recently celebrated their 40th Wedding Anniversary and were honoured.

The first time they were honoured by their children on their anniversary, Sunday, February 22. They were entertained at a dinner at the House of Wong with 14 family members present.

The bride and groom of many years were presented with an engraved silver tray from their children who were married in 1975.

The Anniversary cake for this occasion was made and decorated by a daughter, Edna, Mrs. Robert Halliday.

The second time the bride and groom of 40 years were honoured was by the Interdenominational Bible Study Group on the evening of February 24. The group met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Carman Frankland, Bay View, following their regular meeting. The bride and groom of many years were entertained during the social hour. Seventeen people were present.

Mrs. Frankland on behalf of the class members presented the honoured couple with a cream and sugar set and Mrs. Harry Adams read a poem especially composed for this memorable occasion.

The two tier anniversary cake in white and silver and placed on swan shaped pillars was made and decorated by Frances Adams.

Mr. and Mrs. Haynes were married at the home of the bride on February 22, 1936, by Rev. Pearl Henderson. The bride was the former Alice Morine, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Morine, Bear River.

Mr. and Mrs. Haynes are well known citizens of Digby and are members of the Digby Baptist Church.

Mrs. Haynes is a faithful secretary and one of the charter members of the Bible Study Class. She is especially well known for her beautiful readings which have brought so much pleasure to so many people in Digby and the surrounding areas.

Mr. Haynes was employed with the C. P. R. for about 39 years. He was an employee of this Railway from 1935 until his retirement at the end of 1974.

The bride and groom of 40 years have a family of ten children, all living. The four boys and six girls are: George, Mount Pleasant; Fred, Shelburne; Robert, Middleton; Richard, Prince Edward Island; Marilyn, Kentville; Betty, British Columbia and Edna (Mrs. Robert Halliday), Digby. The other three girls, Judy, Susan and Alice Mary, age 14, are all at home.

There are four grandchildren, Debbie, Kevin, Kathleen and Sylvia Grace Haynes. The fourth grandchild, Sylvia Grace resides with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Boyd Haynes.

There are three step-grandchildren, Brenda Sivret, also Leonard and Robert Sivret.

Sentenced Under Unemployment Insurance Act

On 24 February, 1976, Nelson McCullough, of RRI, Digby, appeared before Judge Philip Woolaver for sentencing after having pleaded guilty on 10

February 1976 to 12 offenses under Section 121 (1) A of the Unemployment Insurance Act.

Mr. McCullough had been drawing benefits during 1974 and working at the same time, not reporting his earnings as required.

The defendant was sentenced to 36 days in the Kings Co. Correctional Centre without the option of a fine.

Deadline March 31

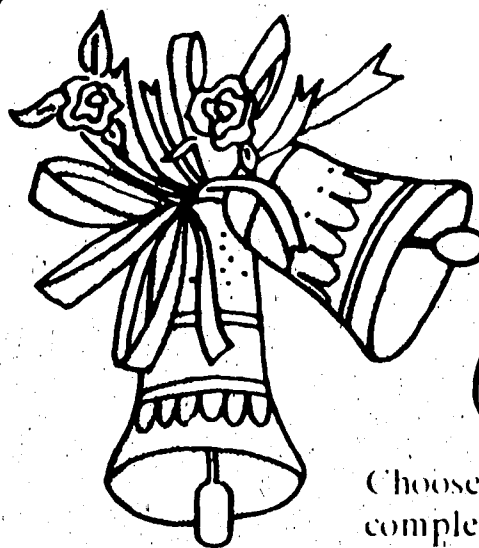

Motorists are urged to avoid being "embarrassed" by having an expired vehicle registration on April 1, when they are no longer valid. Those driving vehicles, as of April 1, with expired 1975 validation stickers and registrations will be subject to prosecution under provisions of the Nova Scotia Motor Vehicle Act.

About 126,000 have yet to be processed. Deadline for processing of applications is March 31.

There will be no extensions.

warden and mayor in the province before June. Mr. Winchester suggested that Mr. Buchanan and Roland Thornhill make Digby their first place of meeting with wardens and mayors to discuss such matters as assessment and bring them to the floor of the Nova Scotia Legislature.

Discussion at the adjournment of Monday morning's session also centred around the possibility of having legal advice available free of charge at the assessment appeal for those who might need such assistance in making their assessment appeals. Appeal Court is expected to be held in Digby within two or three weeks. At time of going to press the discussion had not brought a final decision.

Cats Edged By Bruins 4 - 3

Bruins jumped out in front by a score of 2-0 early in the first period on goals by Billy Strange and Larry Shipp but hard work and persistent forays into the Bruin end paid off with two goals by Mark Fletcher, one unassisted and the other on a pass from Phillip MacDonald thus the first period ended in 2-2 deadlock. The period showed one penalty and this went to Greg MacDonald of the Bruins. In the second period Billy Strange got his second goal and put Bruins out in front again at the eleven minute mark. Kimball Nesbitt scored unassisted a short while later to again tie the score. There were three penalties called, all against the Cats, John Waterman (2) and Dick MacDonald but no scoring resulted. Both teams battled on even terms, if anything Cats had the play down in the Bruins end the greater part of the period. At 14:06 Strange lugged the puck from his own end all the way into the Cats territory and centred a pass to Joe Riley waiting in front of goal and Riley beat McVeigh for what proved to be a winning goal. This game was one of the better played games of this league. Incidentally, no penalties were called in the third period.

Digby Bantam "B" Sideline Newport 11-8

In the second game of a two game total goal series the Digby Bantam "B" team coached by Paul Vantassel and Rick Daley won the game 6-5 and the series 11-8 (having taken the first game played in Newport 5-3) thus advancing to meet Wolfville for the right to represent the Valley Zone in the Bantam "B" Provincial play offs. Quick goals by Cochrane and Purcell tied the series early in the second period 5-5 but Digby battled back to take the lead on goals by Barry Vantassel, Dale Stewart and two of three goals scored in game by Kevin Locke thus at the end of second period it was 4-3 for Digby, Cochrane scoring his second for Newport at the 11:44 mark. Purcell tied the game at 4-4 when he took McCann's pass and beat Turnbull cleanly. Digby went ahead on two quick goals by Locke and Hazelton within a space of seventeen seconds, Raymond assisting on Locke's goal and Earl Vantassel and Barry Vantassel assisted on Hazelton's goal. Kevin Reed gave Newport their fifth goal of the game at the 13:57 mark but Newport were unable to score from then on although they gave it their all. A total of eleven penalties was called six against Newport and five against Digby.

Leafs Take Tigers 2-1

The Remi LeFort coached Cornwallis Leafs edged the Greg Gough coached Digby Tigers 2-1 in a regular game played at the Digby Forum on February 28, thus going into first place by a one point lead in the Digby-Cornwallis Atom League. The game from all reports was a thriller from start to finish. Shannon with a goal and assist and Carvery with the winning goal were the scorers for the winners. Kynock got the lone goal for the Tigers. There was a total of six penalties called (four against Tigers, two against Leafs). During the week Cornwallis Leafs defeated Cornwallis Bruins by the score 5-4.

Honored Back By Bay Community

Mrs. Lovette Bremner of Digby was guest of honor on Friday evening, Feb. 13th, in the Community of Back Bay, N.B. when approximately 75 people gathered in the Pentecostal Church Hall to honor the Bremner family. The pastor of the Church presented a cheque to Mrs. B. Bremner of the family on behalf of the congregation. A variety of refreshments were served at the social hour.

Mrs. Bremner was honored when Mrs. Carman Frankland and Mrs. Bremner spent the weekend at the home of Mrs. Bremner's prents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Matheson of Back Bay.

The Bremner family received gifts of linen, china and other gifts during the weekend. Some of these gifts came from visitors to the Matheson home who were unable to be present when the Church of Back Bay honored the family. The New Brunswick Community also was hard hit on Monday Feb. 2nd during a winter storm which brought hurricane winds, destroying hundreds of dollars worth of equipment. The fishing industry was especially had hit. It was during this same storm that the Bremner home on Lighthouse Road was levelled by fire.

It was through the Digby Wesleyan Church, and the fine Co-operation of CKDY Radio and the wonderful response of the people in Digby and the surrounding area that this family is once again settled. They are presently residing in an apartment on the Lighthouse Road owned by Jack King. Many acts of kindness to this family were shown with calls being received fun as far away as Middleton. The family expressed their appreciation to all who helped in any way.

Grade XII Drama
DRHS

The grade 12 English Drama class of Digby Regional High School will be presenting Oscar Wilde's famous play The Importance of Being Earnest at 8 p.m. on March 8 and 9th in the Multi-purpose room of the high school. This play was written in 1895 and is a comedy depicting the lives of upper class English in Victorian times. Generally considered to be a farce, the play pokes fun at the conventions of a frivolous society. Digby audience will find much to laugh at in this full evening of thoroughly enjoyable entertainment.

The play shows how each of the main characters in his own right is not satisfied with his life. Each one of the characters strives to make his life more interesting and this often produces hilarious results. The two main male characters each manage to live two lives, one in the country and one in the city.

This enables them to have the best of two worlds. It is when their "Country" lives cross that complications and fun result. The confusion that results as their true identities become known produces a comedy that has amused audiences throughout the world for many years.

The grade 12 Drama class has been preparing their production for several weeks. Original set design and antique furniture will make their production pleasing to the eye as well as the funny-bone.

Taking parts in the production will be: Robert Dugas as Jack Worthing; Claude Pothier as Algernon Moncrieff; Joseph Marzouca as Rev. Canon Chasuble; Alan Frankland as Merriman, the butler; Mark Connel as Lane, a manservant; Pam Graham as Lady Bracknell; Gail Smith

Opening our files to March 7, 1946, the first item which caught our eye was a beautiful picture of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Melanson. They were signing the register after their wedding at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Windsor, Ontario.

The very next column told of the decommissioning of H. M. C. S. Cornwallis now referred to as CFB Cornwallis. It was on March 1, the Naval Standard flying at the masthead was hauled down, marking the closing of the Naval Base, the largest Naval Training Base in the British Empire. The story speaks of the pleasant memories the Digby people would have of thousands of fine young men who were stationed there. Many fireships were formed and the town had found the Base Commander, Captain J. C. I. Edwards, and the men willing to cooperate in a worthwhile town project. Reference was made particularly to the Base personnel who helped in training the Sea Cadet Corps and to the Base's generosity in supplying equipment for the Cadets.

We see in the March 7, 1946, file where Digby Town tax rate remained as the previous year at $5.80 per $100 with an outside school rate of $1.90. Expected revenue from other sources was estimated at $3,697 leaving $54,355 to be raised by tax levy to meet the budgeted expenditures. The town expected to be called upon to raise $18,513 for school purposes, $1,300 increase over the previous year.

Of course, the editor of 1946 in Pi Lines had something to say about assessments.

(They did have assessment problems 30 years ago.) The editor said "The inequalities in assessment in the Town of Digby should not be tolerated. The whole assessment should be scrapped. The rate books at the town hall should be hidden and assessors appointed to start from scratch." The editor recommended full value assessment and, if so, the rate would reduce by half.

"Until the rate is reduced, there is no way of expecting new industry in the town. The tax rate scares them and the matter of low assessment is not considered, the column read." Thirty years later assessment around here continues to be a lively topic.

Bands (musical) are much in the news in Digby County in 1976. Back in 1946 they had just lost a leader in the person of Paul Yates and funds did not warrant the hiring of a new leader. The Courier files of the day attempted to interest clubs and organizations and presented the case before its readers in a precise manner. Benefits from a band were the providing of musical en-as Hon. Gwendolen Fair; Ellen Cann as Cecily Cardew; and Rachel Wagner as Miss Prism.

Stage Manager for the production is Bruce Isles; set design is by Ben Elms. Assistant Directors are Deborah Rice and Judy Trask and Wardrobe and Make-up are designed by Denise Purdy and Gail French. Director of the class is Mr. Hal Theriault.

As with the very successful production of the senior class last year, The Matchmaker costumes for The Importance of Being Earnest are being graciously donated by Neptune Theatre of Halifax and Mermaid Theatre of Wolfville.

Watch for posters and advanced ticket sales. Remember, the ultimate success of all this work by we students depends upon you, the public. We are looking forward to seeing you there.

tainment for the town, giving the young people an opportunity to get musical education and providing an outlet for surplus energy possessed by young people and channelling it in profit rather than in anti-social activities. (Couldn't be any truer in 1946 than in 1976.) And so it was in 1946. The war was over. Columns were written on receptions for the returned men and women. By June 1946, it was expected that some 60,000 Nova Scotians would be seeking jobs. Public works programs were being initiated in such areas as paving streets, building new schools, etc. The writer of Your Town and Mine warned that while such projects were essential to provide employment in the transition period they were only stop gaps. Permanent employment must come from private resources and local industrial development.

How much that column sounds as if it might have been written in 1976.

Cultural Sharing Stressed

A practical demonstration of the bilingual and multicultural nature of Canada will be given at College Ste Anne in Church Point, on Saturday, March 6, when the Multicultural Conference, sponsored by the Western Nova Multicultural Association, gets underway.

Scheduled to begin with registration at 9:30 a.m. on Saturday, March 6, the conference will feature a gathering together of representatives of most, if not all, the cultures and ethnic groups that make up the population of the area of Nova Scotia between Yarmouth and Middleton. Sponsors of the event are hopeful that there will be a bumper attendance so that the event can really be a cultural sharing experience.

The whole program for the day has been geared to provide a maximum opportunity for cultural sharing. During the day presentations will be made by representatives of some six cultural groups included in the population of the area. A common day in the lives of each of the ethnic groups has been chosen for description. Hopefully those making presentations will be dressed in the traditional costume of their culture. They will describe the life style of their culture, including traditional dishes. It is understood efforts are being made to provide recipes for some of these dishes.

There will also be displays of traditional costumes, arts and crafts and other items from a number of cultures and the participants will provide commentary and answer questions, both regarding the displays and during the presentations. In the evening a "concert-in-the-round" will be featured. This will also be multicultural in nature and may also provide for audience participation.

Since with many of the cultures represented in the population of the area, the family unit is of extreme importance, the sponsors of the conference are making arrangements so that entire families may be able to attend the day-long affair. A nursery-playroom is being provided for the tiny tots and films will be available for older children.

Mrs. Frieda Balser, President of the Western Nova Multicultural Association, and George Bell, Association Coordinator, have both expressed the hope there will be an overflow attendance for the conference. They stress the value of cultural sharing and the need for the development of a greater understanding about and among all the cultural groups that make up the total population of Western Nova Scotia. Such increased understanding, they state, will help to dissipate prejudice and discrimination.

An invitation has been extended to the general public to visit the displays that will be a part of the conference and to attend the multicultural concert Saturday evening.

Mrs. Balser stated invitations are being extended to representatives of service clubs, church organizations, civic groups and others to attend the meeting Wednesday evening. Opposition Brought In Though a wide range of subjects were discussed on Monday afternoon when John Buchanan, Q. C., Leader of the Opposition in the Nova Scotia Legislature and Roland Thornhill, M. L. A., Municipal Affairs critic, met with Councillors of the Municipality of the District of Digby at the Court House, most of the time focused on the dissatisfaction of ratepayers in the municipality with the 1976 property assessments, particularly land assessments. The municipal councillors invited the Opposition Leader following information released that Mr. Buchanan wanted to meet as many municipalities in Nova Scotia as possible regarding municipal problems. Digby was their first visit for the purpose in the province.

By request of the councillors, Mr. Buchanan will bring their questions to the minister, Hon. Glen Bagnell, on the floor of the Legislative House. They urged that municipal governments should be strengthened and not weakened as the local councillors represent the basic grass roots, they know ratepayers personally and their needs. They felt assessments were wrong if not based on facts pertaining to the local area. They were disturbed over the fact that councillors were not individually supplied with 1976 assessment rolls and they felt that ratepayers were entitled to free legal aid if the Assessment Board was entitled to such for the Appeals. Other matters which Mr. Buchanan was asked to take to the legislative assembly dealt with interim financing and the need to have elected school boards.

In his introductory remarks, Mr. Buchanan said they view with alarm the changing assessment in Nova Scotia, especially in Western Nova Scotia and they came to discuss first hand the problems for the Digby and Annapolis landowners who are concerned about the increased assessment. The concern of 1975 regarding the government take over of the industrial and commercial base depriving the municipalities of taxing power has now gone by the board because of the objections raised by the Opposition and the Union of Nova Scotia municipalities, Mr. Buchanan said.

Mr. Thornhill said that over the next four or five years the most crucial problems will be the relationship between the municipalities and the province. He felt that if the government had acted on the report of the Graham Commission, municipal government would have been eliminated in Nova Scotia. He said the confrontation between province and municipality should get over, people of the community know what they want and the municipality should be made strong.

Mr. Thornhill enlarged on the bills introduced into the legislature within the past few days, the most significant being the two tax rates, one for business and one for residential tax. There are weaknesses, he said, but they are better than what the previous minister had brought in. The key is the formula which the government intends to use for education.

In expanding on the assessment increases, the dual tax rate and other factors, Mr. Thornhill wondered how this might effect the cost sharing and cause dangers for ensuing years. With the assessment in the vicinity of twenty-eight million set at a three dollar taxation rate, the capability to pay under an eighty-seven million assessment might change considerably and cost sharing for the municipality could be increased.

Councillors were reminded that municipalities have the provision of appealing for a revaluation of assessment.

According to information placed by Councillor I. E. R. Winchester, the actual count of appeals on 1976 property assessments in the municipality is 2500. There are 7100 accounts altogether in the municipality.

Further to the the councillors' complaints in not being provided with 1976 assessment rolls, Councillor Arthur Rice noted one reason for needing this is to use them in establishing a fire rate in the district. Mrs. Helen MacNeil, councillor, went so far as to suggest that the assessment roll should be hung in a prominent place for ratepayers to see. Mr. Winchester said this is one of the strongest evidences a ratepayer can bring to the Appeal Court. One frustration that councillors complained about was the fact that assessment notices were sent out too late for some people to file their appeals by January 21.

Councillor Winchester said that their greatest contention is the inequities in the assessment. He said that in one district assessments had been raised by 26 percent in 1974 and in one district the jump at that time was 57 percent. In 1976 the assessment raised by an average of 307 percent and in some cases more than 900 percent.

The question of fair market value was raised. Assessments here are often rated according to similar properties in other parts of the province or by the maximum price paid by outside buyers for prime property.

Mrs. MacNeil felt there were inaccuracies in assessing farmland and woodlands. Woodlands that are stripped are not capable of producing revenue to cover taxes. Farmlands with road frontage are not capable of producing more than other farm land she ventured.

The visitors questioned councillors as to whether they had any response from the government on their assessment problems. The answer in chorus was "none". "It falls on deaf ears."

Councillors elaborated that they are not arguing legalities nor that the assessment is wrong but they argue on the methods being used. Another question posed was what position does Joe Casey, M. L. A., take? The answer was "He seemed sympathetic to our cause when with us alone but it would be interesting to know what he would do at a meeting such as with former minister of municipal affairs, Hon. Fraser Mooney, who met here with councillors."

Opposition Leader

Buchanan felt that the assessors must have been given directives from the Department of Municipal Affairs and at that time the government had the implementation of the Graham Royal Commission in mind. Warden Wilfred Swift said the government could not pay the education costs from the $28,000,000 assessment and needed the extra $58,000,000 to make up the difference.

Councillor Winchester remarked that he knew of only two properties which were lowered in assessment value and those were purchased or to be purchased by the government.

According to a statement by Councillor Helen MacNeil, assessors are presently going into homes of people who have filed assessment appeals and are carrying out re-assessment before bringing the matter to the appeal board. This she considered to be an illegal practice. In some cases she had understood that assessors were trying to convince people not to continue the appeal.

Conference An Experience In Cultural Sharing

A most successful multicultural conference was held at College Ste. Anne in Church Point over the weekend. Sponsored by the Western Nova Multicultural Association, the conference involved representation from the area between Middleton and Yarmouth.

Greetings were extended to the participants at the opening of the conference by Mrs. Frieda Balser, Association President. Mr. Louis Comeau, President of College Ste. Anne, also welcomed the conference to the college. He spoke on the value of promoting understanding between peoples of various ethnic and cultural backgrounds and commended the association for their efforts in this direction.

Also speaking at the opening of the conference was Mrs. Barbara Campbell of Halifax, Coordinator for the Multicultural Association of Nova Scotia. James Walsh and Sam Baney of the Department of the Secretary of State, which has provided funding for the work of the association, also addressed the gathering. Regrets at their inability to attend the conference and good wishes for the success of the event were presented from Miss Coline Campbell M.P. and from Mr. Greg Donovan, Regional Director, Department of Secretary of State.

Master of Ceremonies for the day-long program on Saturday was Citizenship Court Judge, Victor Cardoza. In his opening remarks he stressed the need for people in Canada of all ethnic and cultural backgrounds to get more closely together and to work more in harmony and association with each other. If prejudice and discrimination are to be eliminated in this country, he said, it must be done through creation of understanding of each other's customs, heritage and background and this can be realized through association.

During the day on Saturday presentations were made by representatives of six cultural groups included in the population of the area. Each person described the life style of his or her homeland, explained its history and geography and described the traditional observance of the sabbath. Each one also demonstrated a favorite traditional dessert food item and samples were distributed among the audience. Many of those making presentations were dressed in traditional native costume.

Mrs. Barbara Erjavec, representing Slovenia, explained the history of her native country and described the life styles. She also gave the recipe for a traditional cake and distributed tasty samples.

Dr. M.A. Khalik-Kareemi outlined the history of Pakistan and described the life style. He explained in detail the customs of the country and their origin. Dressed in native costume, he told of the foods of the country and distributed samples of several dishes. Noel Knockwood of Shubenacadie traced the history of the Micmac Indians in the Atlantic provinces and explained the customs and life style of the Micmacs. He noted they were very practical and conservation-minded in their use of resources and said they had a strong belief in a supreme being and paid homage to the forces that provided for them their livelihood and protection.

Following the luncheon break a presentation was made by Mrs. Frieda Balser who described the life style of Holland and told of its history and development.

She also described a typical Sunday in her native land and explained a traditional dessert customarily provided only on New Year's Eve. Samples of the delicacy, which is similar to the doughnut, were provided to the audience.

Bal Kapur, Dr. Shahib Ahmad and D. Screenivasan each described the life style and customs of portions of India and told of a typical Sunday in their native country. They also described traditional dessert dishes and distributed samples to the audience.

The closing presentation was given by Mr. Fred Emin, representing the Lebanese. In a most interesting manner he described the home life of the Lebanese and told of the customs of Lebanon. He also outlined briefly the political situation there and pointed out some of the factors influencing this. He provided also an interesting display of some of the traditional dishes of Lebanon and explained their preparation.

Following each of the presentations discussion was held and at the close of the program of presentations the questions and further discussion were featured. It was explained that time did not permit more than the six presentations but it was hoped a series of conferences could provide opportunity for further groups to tell of the life style and customs of their native land or cultural background.

At the close of the presentations several speakers commented on the value of the program in the creation of understanding of the customs and habits of at least some of the cultural groups that make up the population of the area. Among those speaking were Lance Hale of the Atlantic Council of Christians and Jews; George Barton, Treasurer of the Western Nova Multicultural Association and others.

Following the presentations there were displays of arts and crafts, costumes and other items from all of the cultural groups represented at the conference. Many beautiful items were on display and at each booth there were representatives of the cultural group involved in the display who answered questions and explained the items on display.

The feature of the evening was a multicultural concert. Master of ceremonies for this was Neil Boucher of College Ste. Anne. Included in the program were Acadian folk songs sung by Norman LeBlanc; an East Indian solo sung by Bal Kapur; puppet dancers under direction of Mrs. Frances Peters; the Acaciaville Junior Choir under Miss Sherry Borden. Also included were the Missionaires; dancing by Richard McEwen; a reading by Michael Balser and a tap dance solo by Miss Jeannine Comeau who holds gold, silver and bronze medals as well as a blue ribbon for her dancing. At the close of the concert a social hour was held. Coordinator for the program was Rev. George Bell.

Cyclethon Scheduled For Mental Health

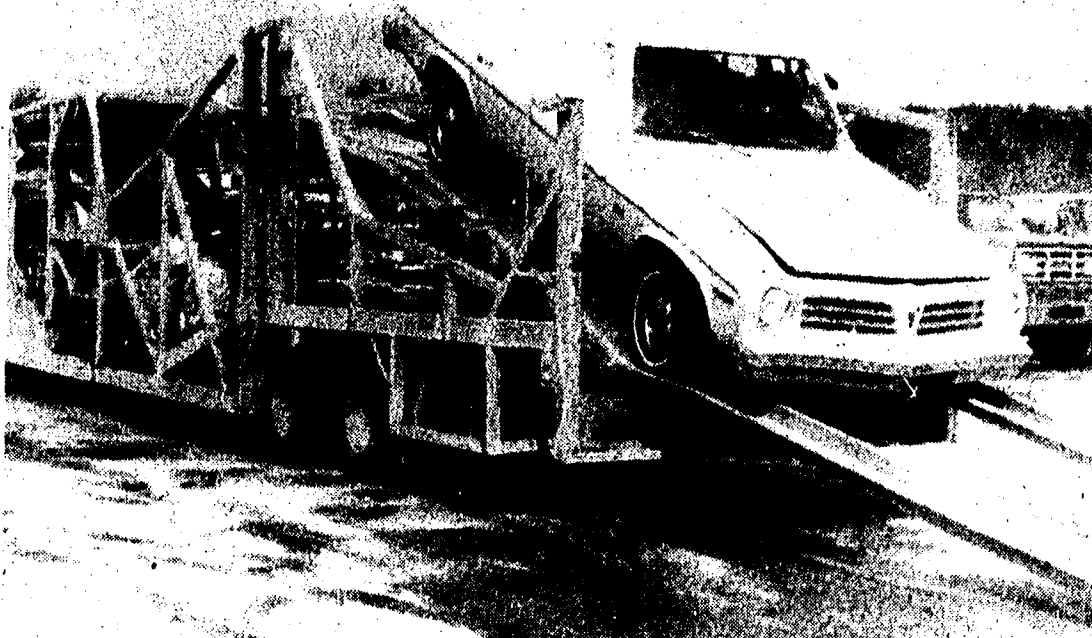

The Digby Branch of the Canadian Mental Health Association will hold its cyclethon for mental health on Saturday, May 8th, it was learned following a meeting of the Board of Directors.

The cyclethon is being held both as a fund raising activity by the local branch and also to direct public attention to the work of the Mental Health Association, particularly in promoting the positive aspects of maintaining good mental health.

Route for the cyclethon, which will cover a twenty mile distance, will be from the Knights of Columbus Hall to the Ferry Terminal with several laps required to make the total distance. It is understood a number of prominent local people will be involved, as well as high school students. Participants are being asked to secure their sponsors and it is hoped sizeable pledges will be realized as the contest nears.

The date for the cyclethon, May 8th, marks the close of Mental Health Week in Canada. During the week the Digby Branch of the Mental Health Association will conduct its fund raising canvass in Digby and the municipality. A house-to-house blitz type of campaign will be used and the week will also provide an opportunity for distribution of informational material on mental health.

New Car Loss At Weymouth Motors - $354,000

Thirty-three new cars and trucks left Weymouth Motors via car-transport on Monday. All are destined for the General Motors plant at Oshawa, Ontario, to either be crushed or used for test purposes.

Road-life has ended for all the vehicles as the result of salt-water damage suffered during the Groundhog Day storm.

The damaged vehicles include a $40,000 diesel and seven other big trucks. The total value of vehicles being shipped out amounts to $354,000. This includes 80 percent of the new cars in stock when the February 2 storm hit.

During the storm, wind-whipped water reached heights of approximately five feet both in back of the Weymouth Motors service station and on the new car lot.

Since that time, personnel of the company have been tearing out the insides of the cars...something G. M.

wanted done to ensure they would not be used.

Weymouth Motors spokesman, Owen Hankinson, felt the most serious damage to the vehicles was to the electrical systems. However, motors, transmissions and rear-ends were also damaged.

Some replacements have already arrived for the damaged vehicles and more have been ordered. Mr. Hankinson reports the situation is now "pretty-well back to normal."

Inservice Training Held

On Saturday, March 6th, the Elementary teachers of Sandy Cove, Barton, Smith Cove, St. Patrick's, and Digby Elementary met in the cafeteria of the Digby Junior High for a day of inservice training. This day had been planned by the teachers of the various schools to meet their needs.

A variety of topics was offered on the program ranging from art to school law.

The day began at the early hour of eight thirty as the teachers examined educational material displayed by the following companies: Encyclopaedia Britannica, Scholar's

Choice, Knowlton's, H. H. Marshall's, and Grollier's. The teachers were next presented with many practical ideas for classroom art, by Mrs. Boudreau, art teacher at Weymouth Consolidated School. This was followed by

LOSSES HIDDEN FROM VIEW

We'll agree that the Village of Weymouth, although unintentionally, came off on the short end of the stick when it came to news coverage of the Ground Hog Day storm damage as it affected the little town and especially, the destruction caused by the tidal wave which seemed sort of a phenomenal happening there. That lack of coverage was simply because the damage was hidden from view. The tidal wave came, it did its damage and in a short time was lost from view. Behind it was left water soaked merchandise in basements and first floors of the down-town business section. Unlike loss of buildings, boats, trees, utility services, etc., which are plainly visible, the destruction at Weymouth was not readily seen by passers-by.

On Monday of this week a more vivid portrayal of the storm's havoc in Weymouth could be seen as approximately $350,000 worth of brand new cars at Motors Ltd. were returned to the factory in Oshawa for demolition. As a result of the storm damage they had been pronounced unsaleable. These and other storm damages in Weymouth were hidden from view but they were real, none-the-less.

Hodge Podge

Sickness and death seem to be taking their toll this winter of 1976. Reading newspapers verify that fact. That these casualties in many cases are of close friends throughout Digby County can readily be seen when the 12 items in one of our letters from correspondents contained three about people visiting, two extending get-well wishes and seven being sympathy to bereaved friends.

Letters To The Editor

The Editor
The Courier
Digby, N.S.

Dear Madam:

It was with great pleasure, that upon looking from my window this morning I beheld two red-tailed hawks feeding among the seagulls, bluejays, chickadees, the chattering little sparrows and a red headed woodpecker in the garden. The lawn was alive with activity, each doing his own thing.

I have been turned off many times by references of your readers to the "horrible hawks", and last year due to someone's unrelenting efforts through the Courier, a pair of beautiful broad-winged hawks who were constant visitors at our door were shot on our beach the day following yet another letter to your paper.

I should like to refer these killers to a pamphlet issued from the Dept. of the Secretary of State, National Museum of Canada pp's 18 and 19 in which it is said that of the large variety of hawks in Canada most are valuable destroyers of rats and mice and lists only three species which are truly harmful, one being the Cooper Hawks which I have never seen in Nova Scotia. All species however, are indiscriminately shot or trapped thus doing great harm to the beneficial birds.

God must sigh and turn away sadly at the sight of his wayward children so bent on their own destruction, his beautiful world and everything in it.

Gun control? Mans greed, indifference and ignorance are the factors to be controlled!

Yours truly
Josephine Curry.

Dear Editor:

This isn't a letter of complaint as such, but it is an appeal to those who are pestering and harassing me, asking them to have the decency to stop and to think of the hardship and worry it is causing me.

I am a woman 76 years old, in very poor health. I have a small place around which I love to plant flowers, shrubs, etc. and to work in the earth where I am able. In the summer, when the flowers are in bloom I have been told numerous times that my small surroundings "is a thing of beauty" - all because of my love of flowers and working in the earth.

Now, this is my appeal to the person or persons in a truck who is using my two driveways as a turning place for the past three years. Both my driveways are downhill so the truck that backs down and tries to start off again up hill makes nothing but deep ruts in the driveways as well as damaging my flowers, shrubs and my scallop shells which I have around my gardens.

I have had to hire bulldozers to level the driveways and get more gravel after the trucks do the damage. I do so much hard work that it grieves me to know there are people who are so thoughtless. Opposite my driveways, there is an old road which could be used as a turning place instead of mine and no damage would occur.

I am hoping whoever is doing this may see this letter and have a change of heart and stop turning in my driveways.

Remember - "kindness done to others, always returns to you."

Yours truly,
Mrs. Alma Melanson

People

There's people like me
There's people like you
But there's no one the same
There's people that work
And people that don't
And some little people play games.

There's people I like
And people I don't
And some people are nice to me
There's people I love
And people I don't
And there's some people quite nice indeed.

Love is Jesus, who is our brother.
Love is a gift two people give each other.
Love is the Lord's famous plan.
Love is here all over this land.

a look at Glasser and some of his theories of education. Resource person for this topic was Mrs. Nola Jeffery, who gave an introduction to a film dealing with Glasser's ideas, entitled "Schools Without Failure" and conducted a discussion of the film. One of the most important ideas to come from this part of the inservice day was that all of Glasser's educational ideas were based on the need for love and to feel worthwhile.

After a short coffee the teachers gathered again to listen to Mr. C. MacInnes, Superintendent of Schools, deliver remarks re: "The Teacher and the Law".

Following this, group discussions were held after which reports were presented to the group as a whole. Ideas arising from this discussion were stimulating and provided "food for thought." One such idea was the desirability of having young elementary students spend as little time on school grounds awaiting bus transportation as possible. During this busy day the

Former Digby County Woman

She was a life member of WMS and a member of New Tusket United Baptist Church.

Volunteers Wanted Making Fish Nets For Lobstermen

Dominic Melanson, John Swift, Holland Titus and Mrs. Annie Raymond are the only ones in the New Horizons Club who can make fishnets. And they need help. They have taken on a project to help the lobstermen to replace their storm damaged fish nets.

It was a result of the Groundhog Day storm, February 2, 1976, the lobster fishermen of Digby Neck and the Islands lost most of their traps. The Mayor of Digby,

Charles Halliburton, travelled throughout the Digby Neck and Islands the following day to assess the extent of damage. At Westport, where extreme losses occurred, Mr. Halliburton was given an appraisal of the lobster man's plight. It was learned new traps could be constructed, but the time involved would make it impossible for the lobstermen to make bait bags and heads for their traps. Furthermore, the materials required are not available at this time.

The 'New Horizons Club' of Digby have been making fish net shopping bags and suet bags, which are similar in material and construction to the "bait bags and heads". Members of the club demonstrated the making of fishnet at the Western Nova Scotia Arts and Crafts show held in Annapolis Royal last summer.

Mr. Halliburton being aware of the club inquired as to the possibility of assistance to the lobsterman. The club had just received a large order of number 15 cotton seine cord and construction of "bait bags and heads" is now in progress. To date over three hundred such items have been completed. This material will be used until the preferred material can be obtained. The club would greatly appreciate any volunteers who could assist in this worthwhile project.

Film On Milk Industry Available

A new release of a popular educational film "From Cow to Carton," the story of Canada's dairy industry, is now available for school and community groups in both French and English language versions, it has been announced.

The new film, produced in Canada by Dan Gibson Productions Ltd., traces the history of the dairy industry from its infant beginnings to modern times.

The full colour, 28 minute film utilizes a combination of charming puppet spokesmen, actors, and documentary footage to tell its tale of how milk literally gets from the cow to the carton.

It is sponsored by Pure-Pak, the standard for dairy industry packaging, and is available free to all groups through Modern Talking Pictures Service film libraries in Toronto, Vancouver, and Montreal.

In addition to showings to the school market, for which the film is particularly well adapted, Modern Talking Pictures suggests that it will make excellent programming material for meetings of service clubs, women's groups, parent-teacher organizations and other community and social groups.

Complete St. John's Ambulance Course

A regular meeting of the ladies auxiliary, Digby Neck Volunteer Fire Department was held at Sandy Cove Community Hall on February 9 at 8 p.m. with Carol Addington, President, presiding. Twenty-five members answered roll call.

It is reported that the auxiliary members, Debbie Titus, Nola Titus, Virginia Shaw and Ruth Jogo, have completed the St. John's Ambulance course that was given at the Digby High School. Firemen Doug Brown, Rod O'Neil, Steve Morehouse, Grant O'Neil, Larry Walcker and Donald Ad Addington also completed the course.

The Maritime Tel and Tel tea was discussed and the ladies who helped with this were thanked.

A Flower Committee was formed, and Joan Gidney, Little River, was made chairperson.

After the meeting a penny sale was held which realized $11.00. This was given to the Flower Committee.

A lunch prepared by Virginia Shaw, Centerville, was served. Next meeting will be at Sandy Cove Community Hall on March 1.

Wedding Shower

On Wednesday evening a miscellaneous shower for Miss Rebekah Merritt and James Todd was held at the home of Mrs. Glenn Merritt. Mrs. Walter Robar and Mrs. J. Allen were co-hostesses. The evening was pleasantly spent playing games. Mrs. Irene Potts was the winner of the song contest.

Beautiful gifts were received and opened by Miss Merritt. Miss Heather Robar read the cards.

Miss Merritt graciously thanked her guests for coming and for the gifts.

Refreshments were then served including a shower cake made and decorated by Mrs. Allen.

Sincere sympathy is extended to relatives and friends of Mrs. Weston Ringer who passed away suddenly Wednesday afternoon. Also sincere sympathy is extended to relatives and friends of Rev. A.F. Sheward who passed away at the V. G. Hospital on Monday. Mr. Sheward was one time minister here but has been a resident of Lower Sackville.

There is a startling surprise for every child of God when he arrives in Heaven. The redeemed will likely exclaim with gladness, "This is better than I had dreamed. Like the Queen of Sheba declared of Solomon's Kingdom, "the half was not told me." I Kings 10:7.

No language of ours can begin to describe the delights up ahead for those who love their Saviour.

Honored Before Leaving For Chicago

Pastor Douglas Hapeman and family left on Monday, February 23, for Chicago. He will be guest speaker in Oaklawn Wesleyan Church where special services were held this past week, February 24 to 29. The first week of March the family will visit with his mother who resides near by.

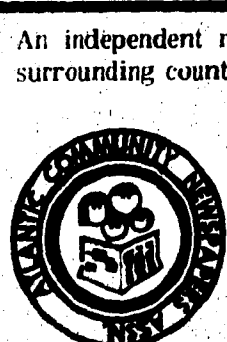

Rev. Douglas Hapeman, Pastor of the Digby Wesleyan Church, and his family were honoured at a social hour following the regular evening service on Sunday, February 22.

Robert Wilson presented the family with a purse of money on behalf of the church congregation and good luck and well wishes were extended to the Hapeman family before their departure to the Mid West.

Pastor Hapeman came here from this church in the Mid West in the summer of 1973 and this will be their first trip back since that time.

Three Digby postal employees are shown in the new uniforms introduced into the postal service last month. The mauve and blue suit jackets are worn with white shirts and blue-mauve or blue-mauve-white ties. Those in photo are (front to back) Jurgen Griegschewski, Joe Boone and Peter Cramwell.

60th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Howard G. Yorke of Bear River celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on Saturday. The occasion was marked with an Open House at the Oddfellow's Hall which attracted about 100 friends and relatives.

The reception was sponsored by the I. O. O. F. Friendship Lodge of Bear River. Mr. Yorke is one of its senior members.

Community activities occupied much of Howard's time after he and his wife took up farming on the outskirts of this community in 1932.

His community interests saw him involved with such organizations as the Bear River Fire Department, Digby County Exhibition Association, Board of Trade and the School Board. He served in an executive capacity for periods of time with each organization.

Howard, 81, and Mary

(Sampson), 80, were married in Halifax by Rev. A. S. Rogers at the United Church in Mulgrave Park in 1916.

Mr. Yorke was serving in the army at the time. Mary, born in Cape Breton, was working in Halifax.

Prior to beginning a farming career, the Yorkes spent 10 years in Boston where Mr. Yorke was employed in the milk business.

The Yorke farming operation included both beef and dairy cattle. Mr. Yorke recalls when eggs sold for 12 cents a pound and butter for 15 cents. Wages at that time were $1 per day. But we got a long "just the same" he recalls.

The first pork sold from the Yorke farm went for nine cents per pound. The best of cornmeal was available at 60 cents a bag.

Howard also used to cut pulpwood for which he received $3 per cord delivered. The first ship-brought in $5 per cord. About 65 acres of woodland are included on the Yorke farm.

Although not involved in full-scale farming now, both Mr. and Mrs. Yorke remain active. Howard finds plenty to do around the property and still keeps a vegetable garden.

Hard work is what keeps the couple going according to Mary. "We like to keep active if we can."

In the line of direct descendants, Mr. and Mrs. Yorke have one daughter, three granddaughters and one grandson. Their daughter, Virginia (Pearson) lives in Truro.

Those assisting in the Saturday reception included Mrs. Alden Prime, Mrs. Theibert Read and Mrs. Mary Darres. Those pouring tea were Mrs. R. R. Win-in worship and the Memorial Service was conducted by Mrs. J. D. Archibald, Wolfville.

Digby Horizons Observe Birthdays

At the February birthday party there were about thirty-five attending at the New Horizon Centre. There were not as many as usual due to so many being away and sick. However, all present enjoyed themselves either playing cards and games or just socializing. At three thirty as usual cake and ice cream were served and the six "February birthdays" were presented with a special individual miniature cake with lighted candle. It is hoped all Senior Citizens remember that the Centre is open every day except Saturday and Sunday with Tuesday a "special day." Macrame and fish net knitting as well as lamp shade making are all participated in and ceramics will soon be starting. Even if one doesn't care to participate in any of these things it is hoped they will feel welcome to drop in and spend a while in the friendly atmosphere talking, playing cards or games, and enjoying a cup of tea or coffee.

The above tide table is based on the 24-hour clock. All times are Atlantic Standard. Read DOWN rather than ACROSS. The large number is the date, the 4-digit number is the time. The third number in the column is the height of the tide in feet.

To convert times shown to the 12-hour clock, subtract 1700 from the number shown for all times over 1300 hours. (Included) up to and including 2400 hours. This will give you p.m. time. Example - 1300 hours is 1:00 p.m., 2400 hours is 12 o'clock midnight. For a.m. time, simply disregard zeroes at the beginning of the number. Example - 0135 hours is 1:35 a.m., 0020 hours is 20 minutes past midnight.

The 24-hour clock begins at 0001, which is 1 minute after midnight on the 12-hour clock.

Easter Seal Campaign

The 1976 EASTER SEAL CAMPAIGN which raises funds to provide services for disabled children in Nova Scotia will be held from March 15 to April 18.

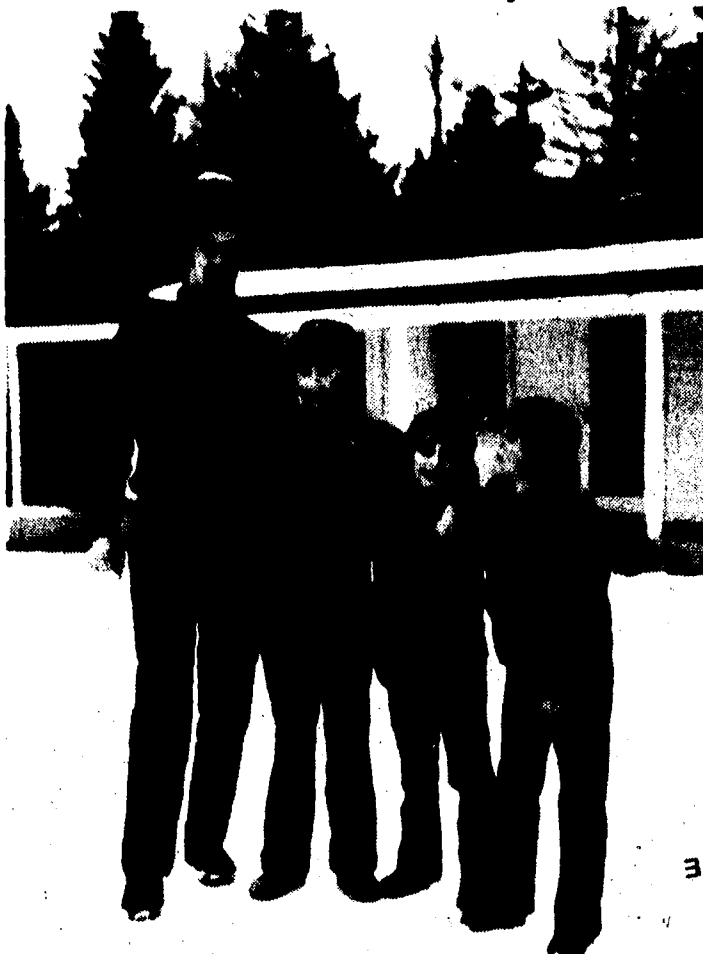

The first major event will be presentation of the 1976 Easter Seals by "TIMMY" to Lieutenant Governor Clarence Gosse at a luncheon meeting of the Halifax Rotary Club on Tuesday, March 16, at Hotel Nova Scotian.

"TIMMY" who represents all disabled children in the Province is eleven year old Tom MacSween, son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael MacSween of Mabou, Inverness County. Since infancy Tommy has been followed by the Clinic Service operated by the C.R.C.D. with the help of EASTER SEAL FUNDS. He has had many trips to the I.W.K. Hospital for treatment recommended by his own physician as well as consultants for the Clinic.

His parents made sure he wore his boots and braces (even if he sometimes rebelled) and that all other instructions regarding treatment were followed.

Today, thanks to loving parents and family, teachers, I.W.K. Hospital staff and EASTER SEALS Tommy is gaining increasing independence and enjoying every minute of it. Last year he spent a two week holiday at CAMP TIDNISH, a camp owned and operated by the Rotary Club of Amherst for disabled youngsters and this experience is one he thoroughly enjoyed and wants to repeat.

There are thirty-five service clubs in Nova Scotia working on the current campaign and many busy people volunteer their time for this event. This year the campaign objective is $125,000, an increase of some twenty-five thousand dollars

(L. to R.): Camp; Alan Wilcox, Akela; Mark Selig, Bruce Brinton, Darren Sarty.

Clements Cub Pack

The 1st Clements Wolf Cub Pack and Leaders, last Thursday, March 4, visited the CFB Cornwallis Fire Department. After a tour of the Fire Hall, a film was shown depicting the different types of fires and fire extinguishers. The boys also witnessed a false alarm and a demonstration of the fireman in action.

Recently, the Cubs enjoyed an overnight camping retreat at Johnson's Christian Camp in South Range. Both leaders and Cubs enjoyed this experience.

This Saturday, March 13, the 1st Clements Wolf Cub Pack will have a bottle drive in the Clementsport, Deep Brook, Smith's Cove - Joggins Bridge, Lansdowne and Waldec areas, between 10:00 a.m. and 4:00 p.m. Bottle contributions will be appreciated.

Postmistress Retires After 32 Years

A number from the community of Clementsvalle gathered on Thursday evening, February 5, in the vestry of the United Baptist Church, for a party in honour of Mrs. Ronald Perkins, who retired from the position of postmistress in December.

The pastor of the church, Rev. Paul Legge, led a hymn sing, playing the piano accordion. By request, he sang a solo, "I'd Rather Have Jesus". A humorous poem, composed and read by Isabel Siley, brought out the fact of how much the community relies on Mrs. Perkins in so many areas of activity.

Games were under the direction of Mrs. Frances Long, and brought lots of fun and amusement, as did stories told by Mrs. Barbara Larkin, Mr. Des Cooper, and Mrs. Richard Demester. Mrs. Des Cooper presented Mrs. Perkins with a money tree, bearing fruit of $123.00. The evening concluded with refreshments and more singing.

Doucetteville (Louise Comeau)

Charlie Burbidge of Truro has returned home after spending two weeks with Mr. and Mrs. Elisee Thibault.

"Valley People Are" Theme Of Blossom Festival

Applications are now being received for entries in the Grand Parade of the 44th annual Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival, according to parade committee chairman Alex MacAulay of Centreville.

The 1976 festival is scheduled for June 3 to 7 and the Grand Parade is on the afternoon of June 5 from New Minas to Memorial Park in Kentville.

Noting that the festival theme for '76 is "Valley People Are...", Mr. MacAulay said application forms for entry in the grand parade may be obtained by contacting him at P. O. Box 25, Centreville, Kings County, telephone 765-3139. The Grand Parade of last year included a record entry list of over 100, and Mr. MacAulay said he anticipates an even larger entry list this year.

In elaborating on the festival theme for 1976, Mrs. Verna Eaton of Port Williams said it is hoped "Valley People Are..." will be used by all the Towns from Windsor to Digby, Service Clubs, Youth Groups, other organizations and business in the Valley to show the rest of the country just what kind of people we are.

It goes without saying, she said that the most important product produced in the Valley (excepting the apple) is its people—so let's show ourselves off a little!!!

Mrs. Eaton said the field for using the theme is wide open but these suggestions may help you.

Valley People Are...Farmers, Fishing Folk (Digby Area) Apple People (using the idea of the popular apple doll), Number 1, First Class, Tops, perhaps using the Olympic theme here as well.

Many people (Our Valley has been chosen to be the home of many nationalities—Dutch, German, French, etc.), Happy People, Singing People, Senior Citizens are...Golden People, Valley Lions are Serving Lions, Valley Scouts are Prepared, etc.

Mrs. Eaton said she would hope that Valley residents are getting prepared for this festival of people now.

In order to avoid duplication, Mrs. Eaton said she would appreciate receiving your float theme as soon as possible at R. R. 1, Port Williams, Nova Scotia.

Storm Leaves Trail Of Destruction

Raymond Davies 11 No. 6 English, Room 227 Digby Regional High School

On February 2, 1976, a wind storm hit the Maritime Provinces. The storm which came up from the eastern seaboard, left the area of Digby and then turned and headed west towards Montreal, leaving behind, disaster!

The tides are said, by the natives of the area, to have been the highest ever recorded. Many basements were flooded and the floors of many low buildings were covered with water.

Gusts of wind, 118 m. p. h., blew over many mobile homes, trees, hydro and telephone poles. The poles went over like match sticks and left hydro and telephone wires in a spaghetti-like mess. The downed wires caused many small fires as well.

On the waterfront scene, boats were swamped and sunk; or smashed against the wharves. The wharves were torn apart as well as fish plants and other waterfront buildings. A forty-five foot fishing boat went aground at the head of St. Mary's Bay, where it smashed to pieces.

Signs from stores flew off the landed on the sidewalks or on cars, causing damage. In Bear River, one sign shattered a windshield in a parked car. Windows were blown from the frames and several doors were blown off the hinges of houses and cars in some areas.

Many stories have been related about people having to hang onto telephone poles to keep from blowing away, propane tanks floating out with the tide and others. Truly, this storm will be remembered for many years to come.

MT&T Announces Building Program

Steady growth in the number of full-time jobs—already totalling 120—are key factors in an estimated $7.4 million building program for MT&T telecommunications facilities in the Shelburne, Yarmouth and Digby County area.

Details of the four year program, which will result in expansion of many existing services, were announced today by D. R. Billard, Local Manager, Yarmouth.

The three-county program is part of a province-wide construction program—to cost $70 million this year—to provide all dial-all DDD service as well as meet growth and an ever-increasing demand for service.

In Shelburne, Yarmouth and Digby County area the Company plans to invest $2.1 million this year in new service improvement projects. Its continuing plans to meet growth and modernization and demand for service in the next three years calls for an additional investment of $5.3 million. In 1977 the figure will be $2.5 million, in 1978 $1.6 million, and in 1979 $1.2 million.

In 1977 one of the major projects will be the installation of additional telephone switching equipment in the Digby office at a cost of $170,000.

Induction Ceremony Held

Two new members were inducted during the regular supper meeting of the Digby Lions' Club on Wednesday, February 25, before a good turnout of regular members.

The induction service was performed by Lion Art Everett after the meal. Lion Pat Fletcher read the Code of Ethics while the Objects of Lionism were given by Lion Orren Peck.

The new members are Donald Dudley, sponsored by Lion Norm Kennedy, and Murray Baxter, sponsored by Lion Art Everett.

Regular business followed the induction ceremony. Following some discussion, a decision was made to purchase four pairs of eyeglasses for needy area residents.

Mention that the club had pledged $500 to the Digby Swimming Pool was also made during the business meeting.

The Westport Church of Christ held their annual business meeting recently with Mrs. Carol Delsey as Chairwoman. Reports were read by Mrs. Stan Moore, Clerk; by Mrs. Sidney Morehouse - Church Treasurer; Mrs. James McDormand - Sunday School; Mrs. Harold Thompson - C. W. F.; Mrs. Charles McDormand - Sunday morning.

False U.I.C. Claims Lead To Jail

Unlawfully receiving money from the Unemployment Insurance Commission proved costly for Nelson McCullough in court last week.

McCullough was sentenced to 36 days in the Kings County Correctional Centre on 12 charges contrary to section 121 of the Unemployment Insurance Act.

In another case which came before Judge P. R. Woolaver on February 24, Thomas Lucas was placed on a $100 peace bond for a period of six months. He was charged with common assault.

The offence took place in Digby on January 30.

Westport Rebekahs Take On Worthy Projects

Sunset Rebekah Lodge in Westport recently put on a colorful and inspiring ceremony to welcome three new members into the Lodge.

The efforts of a seven-member team directed by degree mistress, Sister Pat Moore, provided an enjoyable evening for all members present as well as a pleasant beginning for the new members—Mrs. Lorraine Bezzant, Mrs. Leitha Glavin and Mrs. Patsy Guier.

The position of Noble Grand for the degree was taken by Sister Crystal MacDormand Junior PNG. She was assisted by Sister Diane Titus as Vice Grand; Sister Ruth Dakin as Past Noble Grand; Sister Lilian Titus as Conductor; Sister Mary Graham as Warden; Sister Wanda Graham as Chaplain and Sister Margaret Glavin as Guardian.

Following the meeting the new members were personally welcomed by the members present and treated to a lunch.

During the business meeting a number of planned projects of the Lodge were also discussed. A public relations officer was appointed to see that events of importance or interest are reported to the appropriate news media and to Rebekah Assembly. The officer filling this role will be Sister Carol Delsey, Recording Secretary.

A fund for "World Hunger", organized by Grand Lodge, is also to be supported and two money-raising events are being planned in order to contribute to this worthy cause. Another special project, aimed at attracting new members to the Rebekah Lodge, is being headed up by Sister Elda Titus in the form of a "galloping tea", which sounds most interesting.

Members are as well, considering ideas for a project which would be of benefit to the community at large. The new members should not have any problem keeping busy in their new interest.

To wind up the evening,

Noble Grand Brother, Glendon Titus, thanked the degree team for their efforts in the beautiful ceremony. Special thanks were extended to Sister Crystal for her role as Noble Grand and for the special contribution which she, along with Sister, Mary Graham, made in singing for the ceremony. Thanks were also extended to Sister Helen Welch who acted as musician.

For the next Lodge meeting, Sister Ruth Dakin is heading a committee to provide entertainment for the Lodge in honour of our new members. A penny sale will also be a feature of this meeting to which all were asked to bring a member who has not been our recently. We hope for a busy and rewarding spring for Sunset Lodge.

Digby Flyers Win Valley Championship by Eliminating Wolfville 15-4

The Legion sponsored Digby Bantams took both games of a two game total goals series from Wolfville by scores of 7-2 and 8-4 to clinch the Valley Zone Championship and represent it in further Provincial Bantams "B" playoffs. In the first game played in Digby the score at the end of the first period was 4-1, goals by Butch Wong (David Ritcey-Michael Trask); Sean Raymond (unassisted); Kevin Locke (Sean Raymond-Danny LeBlanc); Michael Trask (Butch Wong) accounted for the Digby scoring. The lone goal for Wolfville was scored by Marshall Davidson (Ron Mapplebeck-Greg Allen). In the second period Sean Raymond got his second goal for Digby on a perfect pass from Danny LeBlanc, this was the only scoring in the period. Digby added two more goals in the third period, Darren Daley (Sean Raymond); Barry Vantassel (Vance Hazelton-Kevin Locke). Wolfville scored its second goal of the game at 14:33 of the third period on a three way passing play, Ron Mapplebeck (Jim Williams-Malcolm Keith). A total of nineteen penalties were called by referee Ernie LeFort, ten to Digby and nine to Wolfville. In the second game played in Wolfville on March 6, the Vantassel-Daley coached Flyers came out on top 8-4. Sean Raymond led Digby attack with four goals and three assists, other going to Kevin Locke (2), Barry Vantassel and Danny LeBlanc. Ron Mapplebeck (2), Greg Allen and Trent Conrad did the scoring for Wolfville. Now, the Flyers await the winners of the South Shore Zone. In the meantime, the Flyers will host the Bantam "A" Greenwood team on Sunday, March 14, at 4:15 p.m. Incidentally, as mentioned above, the Flyers are sponsored by the Royal Canadian Legion, Branch 20, Digby.

Leafs Trouce Cats 7-1

On March 6th, the Cornwallis Leafs fired seven goals to take a onesided victory from the Digby Cats. Goals were scored by Watson (2); Von Schmeling (2); Carvery, Quigley and Gamble for Cornwallis and Nesbitt got the lone goal for the Cats. Incidentally, the Cats were short a number of players and this put the pressure on the rest of the team.

Bruins Beat Tigers 5-2

In a game played at CFB Cornwallis the Cornwallis Bruins took the measure of the Digby Tigers by the score of 5-2. They outscored the Tigers 2-1 on goals Joe Riley (unassisted); Larry Shipp (Mike Chmiel) in the first period, the Tigers goal was scored by Mike Goguen (Ricky Kynock), this all happened in the first period. There was no scoring in the second period. Mike Chmiel (Greg MacDonald); Kirk Lynds (2) from Mike Chmiel were scored in the third period for the Bruins, while Robbie Cullen (Mike Goguen) made it 5-2, when he scored the Tigers second goal at 14:40 of the third period.

Dear To My Heart

CKDY
FEBRUARY

Dear to my heart are the ways of a child, with a smile and with laughter gay, for childhood is life's merry time, joy-filling every day. And sweet to me is a child's gay song, fills the earth with melody, to brighten up a weary world, for a child from care is free. Tender to me is a child's sweet words, questioning everything I do, arrived on Sunday to visit with Mrs. John Murley for a few days.

Mrs. William Silver of Springfield and Mr. Robert Hogg of Bridgewater were Thursday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Earl Haight.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Murley visited Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Roscoe at Cambridge on Sunday.

Messrs Willis Minard and Clayton Corkum of Kempt were Saturday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Orbin Minard.

Mr. and Mrs. John Fisher of Bridgetown and Mrs. William Hall of Deep Brook visited at the homes of Mr. Glendon Haight and Mr. and Mrs. Earl Haight on Saturday.

and warm and sincere is his gentle kiss, when he says, "I sure love you."

For no cares beset a happy child, no clouds can hide his sun, He only sees the good in all, finds no fault in anyone. Dear to my heart is a child at play, doing things that he loves to do, and warm to my heart is a child at prayer, as he says, "Bless me and you."

Joy to my heart is a child's glad shout, in a playground all year long, and empty my heart in a silent world, when the last, bright voice is gone.

Two-Day Curling Bonspiel Held

THE DIGBY COURIER

Nine ladies' curling teams gathered in Digby for the Moir's, double knock-out curling bonspiel on March 1 and 2. All the clubs between Digby and Windsor were represented.

The team from Windsor took top hours in the bonspiel, beating out Middleton in the final end of play. The consolation winners hailed from Berwick. Digby was the runner-up for that distinction.

Following play the Windsor team was presented with the Moir Trophy, donated by Graham and Joan Moir of Windsor. Joan made the presentation.

The bonspiel was officially opened on Monday with remarks from Mayor Charles Haliburton and Ernie Ryan, president of the men's club. A banquet was held on Monday night.

The Windsor team was represented by Audrey Lions, skip; Wendy Woodworth, mate; Mildred Schofield, lead; and Sheila Lee, second.

Digby's representatives in the two-day Moir's curling bonspiel were (left to right) Flo Grimmer, lead; Vera Morgan, second; Pat Wilson, mate; and Jean Brittain, skip. The local team was runner-up in consolation play.

Digby was represented by Jean Brittain, Skip; Flo Grimmer, lead; Vera Morgan, second; and Pat Wilson, mate. Pat Wilson, president of the Digby club, was convenor for the bonspiel.

This bonspiel is an annual event which previously was referred to as a Hubble Bonspiel. This is the first year it has been sponsored by the Moirs.

The teams will assemble in Windsor for next year's contest.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Kinney, Ashmore Digby Co., who on February 26 celebrated their 63rd wedding anniversary at their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Kinney of Ashmore celebrated their 63rd Wedding Anniversary on February 26th. Mrs. Kinney was the former Della Mullen of Weymouth North. The happy couple were married in the bride's home by the Rev. Mr. Nightingale. The attendants were Roland Kinney, brother of the groom and Dolly Taylor, friend of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Kinney recall a lovely winter day and perfect for a sleigh ride.

They have two sons, Ronald and Scott and two daughters, Lucy and Katherine, also ten grandchildren and sixteen great grandchildren.

They both enjoy good health. Mr. Kinney is a retired fisherman and still operates a small farm though 84 years of age.

A buffet supper was held at their home with the immediate family present for the first time in several years. They were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Kinney of Ashmore, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Forsythe (Lucy) of Wolfville, Mr. and Mrs. Scott Kinney of Ashmore and Mrs. Katherine Fitzgerald of Ashmore, formerly of Nanaimo, B.C.

Mr. And Mrs. Howard Rice

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rice quietly observed their 63rd wedding anniversary at their home in Bear River on Saturday.

Howard, 86, and Maude (Harris), 83, were married by Rev. J. Loward at the Anglican Rectory in Clementsport in 1913.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Rice are lifetime residents of Bear River. They live about one mile from the business district on the old crossroad.

The couple engaged in farming for most of their lives. Much of Howard's spare time during the growing season is now spent in his vegetable garden.

Although no celebration was held to mark this special occasion, Mr. and Mrs. Rice did receive a number of gifts, flowers and cards. One gift which hasn't arrived as yet is a gardener's delight - 12 tall-bush blueberry bushes. Howard looks by the sun.

"We led a very busy life," Maude recalls looking into the past. The Rice's were charter members of the Home and School Association when it was first formed in Digby County and took an active part in the crossroads school. Howard was also active in the Digby County Exhibition.

Mr. and Mrs. Rice are parents of four daughters, three of whom now reside in Toronto. The Ontario residents are Doris (Mrs. Brooks), Barbara, (Mrs. J. L. Ramsey), and Gwendolyn (Mrs. Fred Peterson). A fourth daughter, Eleanor (Mrs. Edward Smith) resides in Dartmouth.

Mr. Holland Titus motored to Westport Saturday. He was accompanied by Mrs. Geraldine Peters of Hillside Apts, Digby, Mrs. Oda Pyne and Mr. Ern McDormand. They called on Mrs. Fanny Poole, while Mr. McDormand called on Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Bailey. They found a drastic change has taken place and considerable damage on the water front, with the fish stands washed away, the paved road, now only a dirt road since the storm of February 2th.

Successful Open House

A successful Red Cross Open House was held on Thursday afternoon, February 26th in the IOOF hall.

A number of the ladies of the community attended and spent an enjoyable afternoon viewing the work on display and taking part in quilting and folding of wipes.

The sale table was successful financially and several baby quilts were sold.

Al Goodwin, of the Water Safety Division, of Red Cross was present during the afternoon.

Tea was served and thanks extended to all those who attended and made "Open House" such an enjoyable event.

Finds Old Receipt

A receipt for a subscription to The Digby Weekly Courier has been around for 86 years. The receipt made out to Jacob Hannam Esq. was signed by F.B. Jones and paid the subscription price $1.00 for the year November 12, 1888 to November 12, 1889 in advance. The rate was $1.50 if not paid in advance. Proprietor of the Digby Weekly Courier at the time was C.E. Farnham.

The receipt was imprinted with the following "Only advertising medium in the County. Advertisers will find it to their advantage to patronize this paper, as it reaches every part of the County and Province." Advertisers continue to find it advantageous to advertise in the same paper.

The receipt was brought to The Digby Courier by Coleen Winchester, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Winchester, Warwick St., Digby. It was found in a box of old items such as letter opener, postage stamps and other historical articles.

Auxiliary Reports

Goodwill Deeds

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Digby General Hospital has continued its goodwill through the fall and winter months. The members placed decorated trees and plates of treats in the patients hospital rooms for Christmas. $100 was donated to CARS. An engraved silver spoon was given to the first baby born in the New Year in Digby - a girl born on January 1st to Mr. and Mrs. Lonny Comeau of Digby.

Early this year a gastroscope was purchased by the Auxiliary for the hospital. This is a useful piece of equipment costing over $7700.

A Pantry Sale was held last month. Tickets were sold on a Valentine Cake, made and donated by Mrs. Bryson Denton, and won by Mr. Frank Titus of Centreville.

In the near future plans are to purchase a video-cassette player for the doctors' use, a coat rack for the Physiotherapy Department, and grab bars for the patients' bathrooms. A Tag Day is scheduled for March 28 and 27, and the Annual Florence Nightingale Tea will be held May 11th in the hospital.

New members are a definite necessity if the Auxiliary is to continue its work in the hospital and the community.

Reflecting To 1946

What was the Digby Board of Trade up to in 1946? Well, they hit the news columns on three different occasions on March 14. We wouldn't say they hit with a bang but they were alive preparing for the summer Fair with W.L. Troop, manager; they donated $200 to the Digby Civic Band and were making attempts to get the HMCS Cornwallis artificial ice rink which was to be sold by War Assets.

Seiners from Grand Manan were coming over to Digby fishing for herring. Four hundred hogshead valued at $6000 were taken at about 100 feet from the government piers.

The Clare Lobster fishing was poor. Lobsters scarce and weather bad.

H.M.C.S. Cornwallis donated $1000 to the Digby General Hospital in appreciation for care given to the wives and families of service men.

Yarmouth Air Services were inaugurated March 11 by Maritime Central Airways, connecting Western Nova Scotia centres with urban areas. Planes arrived from Halifax 11 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. and departed 11 a.m. for Greenwood and Halifax and at 4:40 p.m. for Moncton. Planes were the Lockheed type.

John MacKinnon drafted up a map of Digby streets to aid the V.O.N. with unfamiliar locations.

Postmaster Leaving Town

Digby will lose its postmaster by early April as Marc J. Savoie moves toward higher goals within the postal service.

Mr. Savoie was successful in a recent promotion competition. As a result he moves on to Summerside, P.E.I. around early April. Summerside is a larger town with a more extensive postal service.

At the age of 36, Mr. Savoie is a 16 year post office veteran. Ten years were spent working in 10 different post offices in Toronto.

Before his move to Digby on January 11, 1973, he spent three years working in New Glasgow.

Mr. Savoie is a native of Lower Neguac, N.B.

Summerside is his wife's hometown.

The couple have two daughters. Donna is now in her third year at Acadia University; Nicole lives at home and attends school in Barton. The Savoie family resides in Brighton.

Mr. Savoie leaves Digby with warm feelings. "I've enjoyed my stay here," he comments. And promotion-wise "Digby has been very good to me."

Summerside is a step in the right direction but Marc has his sights set on a higher senior level of management within the postal service. He hopes experience gained in Summerside will serve as a "stepping stone."

Memorial Bursary To Queen Annapolisa

An annual bursary to the new Queen Annapolisa will be inaugurated in 1976 as a memorial to the late Apple Blossom Queen Miss Cathy Welch, according to Lloyd K. Hill, President of the Annapolis Valley Apple Blossom Festival.

Miss Welch of Auburn was the 44th Queen Annapolisa and died in a highway accident in Prince Edward Island within a few weeks of her coronation last year.

Mr. Hill said the festival committee will finance the first memorial bursary this year, but a trust fund has been established to ensure that the bursary will be a continuous, annual presentation.

Mr. Hill said substantial contributions have already been received from Valley firms and individuals, and others are invited to support the bursary by forwarding their contributions to the attention of Mr. Don Morash, Manager, Bank of Montreal, Kentville, Nova Scotia.

Mr. Hill said it is felt by many that the annual bursary to each new Queen will be a fitting memorial to a gracious and beautiful Apple Blossom Queen who lost her life so soon after her coronation.

Plans are being made to acknowledge the contributions in the local press.

Church Choir Special Guest

An inspiring program of Gospel music was presented by the Smith's Cove Baptist Church on Saturday evening, March 6, sponsored by the music ministry of the Church.

The Pastor, Rev. Wallace H. Jordan, opened the service with a word of welcome and led the audience in singing "Wonderful Story of Love," "Redeemed" and the chorus, "God Is So Good." Rev. John Carr then offered prayer.

Special guests were the members of the Church of God Choir members. The Choir presented "Yesterday, Today and Tomorrow," and "He Washed My Eyes with Tears" accompanied by Mrs. Rachel Carr, pianist.

The Deep Brook Baptist Youth Group chose as their musical selection: "Jesus and Me," and "I Saw the Light." Members of this group were Shelley Anderson, Nancy Ecker, Lori Moody, Diana Moore, Marlene Potter, and Gail Selig. Gary Selig, guitarist, accompanied this group.

Mr. Jordan sang two songs "Thanks to Calvary" and "I'm Free."

The Smith's Cove Choir presented selections "The Circuit Rider" Preacher," "His Name Is Wonderful" and "If That Isn't Love."

Miss Elaine Handspiker, RN, kept the rapt attention of those present as she skillfully drew "Christ My Pilot" - a picture of a young lad at the helm of a ship in a storm which, when the blacklight is turned on, reveals Christ standing behind the lad guiding him. Background music of "My Lord and I" and "I Will Pilot Thee" was sung by Doris Brown, Rachel Carr and Phyllis S. Winchester.

The service closed with the Ladies Quartet, Smith's Cove, singing "He's Still the King of Kings." Quartet members were Alice Brinton, Kinda Carty, Joanne Frankland and Phyllis S. Winchester.

Joanne Frankland was organist for the evening and accompanied the Choir and quartet.

Following the benediction, given by Mr. Carr, a lunch was served in the Vestry by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Church.

Small Business Help

David Parsons, Assistant Manager of the Halifax Branch of the Federal Business Development Bank, was guest speaker on Wednesday evening when the Digby Board of Trade held its annual banquet at the Digby Legion Hall. With Mr. Parsons were Rod Tobin, Credit officer, and Peter McInroy, barrister for the F. B. D. S. The speaker was introduced by Ernest Ryan, president of the Digby Board of Trade, who presided at the evening function.

The F. B. D. B. is a new Crown Corporation of the Federal Government established in October 1975 to take over and expand the activities of the old Industrial Development Bank (I. D. B.). I. D. B. had been established by the Canadian government in 1944 to fill what was considered to be a gap in the financial structure of Canada in that there was not then any regular source from which a small or medium sized enterprise could obtain long-term or mortgage financing. By September 30, 1975, there were about 2,600 loan customers on the books of F. B. D. B. in Atlantic Canada for a total commitment of some $90,000,000. Mr. Parsons told his audience that they have made loans for less than $5,000 and several for more than $5,000,000. The average is about $40,000. Have of the loans are $25,000 or less and three quarters are $50,000 or under.

Loans, Mr. Parsons said, are given for the purpose of manufacturing, retailing, primary industry, equipment, machinery, service industry, tourist, lease holds but not for charitable organizations, other financial businesses nor speculations.

Loans are made for working capital, Mr. Parsons said, for the purpose of reducing bills payable, for increasing inventory, although they do not loan if there is a constant loss in the business. Change of ownership might require financing. New fresh personnel in the business might help it grow.

When making a loan, F. B. D. B. considers management competence, other prospective loans; security, how much the borrower is committed to the business, whether or not other satisfactory loans were available and the current position of the borrower to pay bills each month.

Mr. Parsons said that the program provides loans for up to 75 and even 90 percent of the project on terms of 12 to 13 percent interest.

They are anxious to help the "little guy" was the speaker's remark and it is geared to the ability of a business to repay. Interest, he said, must be paid monthly but the principal is flexible, it can be changed to payments of one a year, two a year, one a month, one every two years, etc.

Mr. Parsons told those present that the F. B. D. B. did not need an audited statement nor a lawyer but simply a forecast of what might be expected of the business. There are two broad guidelines. Since it was set up to supplement and not to provide assistance to those, who, in the opinion of the Bank, could not obtain financing from other sources on reasonable terms and conditions. There is a stipulation that the investment in the business to which assistance is extended, should be such as to ensure a continuing interest by the owner. Officers are instructed not to be overly concerned with security but to be more concerned with management and future prospects and not to shrink from risk if a venture seems worthwhile.

The F. B. D. B. has 80 branches and 1,500 employees from coast to coast. While it took about 45 days to find out whether a loan would be granted or not, today it takes about 14 days to process the information needed and give an answer.

Mr. Parsons enlarged on the Bank's Management Services Department commenced about three years ago. This is designed to counsel and assist small businesses in managing and often uses a retired person for the purpose. Under this heading also come the seminars, publishing of newsletters and pamphlets and a directorate on where to find government financial assistance and other information.

Mr. Parsons was thanked by Mayor Charles E. Haliburton who also welcomed guests to the town. In his word of welcome, Mr. Haliburton stressed the need of a Merchant's Association in Digby and felt that the Digby Board of Trade was the most logical organization to sponsor such and to generate co-operation between the various business and trade districts.

Mayor Haliburton also brought up the subject of a town election in October when a mayor and three councillors would be up for election. The choice will be open to vote on at that time, he said. He felt there should be people on the Council who are willing to support the Digby Board of Trade.

Rev. Ronald Stevens gave grace at the beginning of the dinner. No regular Board business was carried on nor election of officers carried out.

Urges Pre-Retirement Education Program

Although many of the needs of the elderly and retired in this area are being met through volunteer and other programs, there is still a real need for a pre-retirement education program for older citizens, Citizenship Court Judge Victor Cardoza said in an address at the inauguration meeting of "Operation Friendship" at the Digby Horizons Centre last week.

Judge Cardoza, who has played an active part in the development of a number of programs for the elderly and retired in this area through his involvement with the mental health movement, reviewed in his address the projects so far initiated. There is still a need, he said, to prepare people for the sometimes abrupt and drastic changes that come with retirement, whether that retirement is through age, physical or other disability or some other cause. He urged the representatives of the many local service clubs, church groups and other organizations present for the meeting to give thought to the development of pre-retirement education projects. A source of help in this, he said, might be the Continuing Education branch of the Department of Education.

In his address the Judge complimented Mrs. Emma Balser, President of the Willing Friends Society which is the organization responsible for the Operation Friendship project, for her initiative in moving the project ahead so rapidly. He paid tribute to the board of directors and the many other volunteers who have so far enrolled in the project.

Special tribute, he said, was due Major Paul Stehelin, former Director of New Horizons for Nova Scotia, for his continued interest in efforts undertaken in this area for the elderly and retired. Without the support of the Department of Health and Welfare through New Horizons in getting projects underway, he said, it would not have been possible to launch the programs.

Reviewing the aims and objects of the Operation Friendship project for the audience, Judge Cardoza said it is an outreach program, designed to initiate and maintain supportive contact with people who through age, infirmity, cultural difference, geographic distance or other cause had become isolated from their fellows. He pointed out the serious effects of loneliness on the well-being of people and said one of the real aims of the project was to try to overcome the loneliness and isolation which does effect people separated by any cause from their fellows.

A special concern of the Operation Friendship project, he said, is the plight of the elderly and infirm who are living alone and who are handicapped in maintaining contact with others. Some of the services to be provided include provision of a system of telephone and personal contact on a regular basis, a friendly visitors program and provision of help through light home making chores, letter writing, errands, reading and transportation. The emphasis of the program will be the restoration of social contacts and, where possible, getting the isolated and lonely person back into active involvement in community life.

No project such as Operation Friendship can accomplish its aims utilizing only its own resources, Judge Cardoza concluded. He urged the representatives of other organizations present for the meeting to consider how the resources of their groups might be used to aid the program. A closer coordination of all the helping resources of the area is a necessity, he said, if programs for troubled people are to be effectively undertaken. Experience has shown that in almost every case of need the services of more than one agency has been required to deal with the problems faced.

Major Stehelin, former Director of New Horizons for Nova Scotia, said the Operation Friendship project is a very imaginative one. It is a pilot project, he said, and one that will be watched with great interest by many concerned with needs of the elderly. He paid tribute to Mrs. Balser and the others involved in the program.

Chairperson for the gathering, Mrs. Emma Balser, president of the Willing Friends Society, outlined for the meeting the operating format of the project. She also introduced Mrs. Daneen Robbins who is acting as Coordinator. She and Mrs. Balser answered a number of questions from the audience concerning the role and duties of the volunteers and other details of the operation. Mrs. Balser noted that the project would not only serve the needs of the elderly and isolated for service, but would also provide opportunities for these people to serve. She said young people would be recruited as volunteers to help in carrying out the project.

At the end of the meeting a social hour was enjoyed. This provided further opportunity for discussion of the proposed project.

Judge Cardoza was introduced by Rev. George Bell, Co-ordinator for Western Nova Scotia Multiculturalism. Messages of congratulations and wishes of success were received from Hon. Marc Lalonde, Minister of National Health and Welfare; Miss Coline Campbell, Secretary to the Secretary of State, who was unable to attend and Joe Casey, M.L.A.

Dondale Assesses The Assessment Issue

Those expecting financial assistance for legal aid in presenting their cases to the assessment Appeals Court, should not consider municipal-aid a foregone conclusion.

"There is no provision I can find in the statutes which could permit public funds to be spent for such a venture," Regional Director Philip Dondale said Monday in an interview.

At its February council meeting, Digby Municipality passed a motion which would see financial assistance - either at provincial or municipal expense, - made available to appellants during the appeal process.

Our discussion with Mr. Dondale also touched on several other topics, especially in those areas he felt some clearing-up was required.

Mr. Dondale said figures being tossed about regarding appeals had been molested.

Figures Mr. Dondale gave on Monday reveal there are 963 registered appeals involving 1,640 properties (including 35 mobile homes).

That makes the percentage of appealed properties 18.89 per cent when one considers there are 8,684 accounts in Digby Municipality.

In a case where an appellant had more than one property and did not specify which he was appealing the assessment on, all the properties were considered to be under appeal. This, he said, is to protect the appellant from being barred from a hearing since he is required to specify which property he is appealing.

ILLEGAL PRACTICE?

There have been some charges that assessors are carrying out a re-assessment before cases are brought to the Appeal Board. According to a quote in an area newspaper "assessors" in some cases are attempting to talk residents out of appealing."

"No one ever came to this office to find out what the procedure was," Mr. Dondale said, dismissing the allegation.

The assessment director described the procedure thus; A clerk is required to take an appeal, copy it, and within seven days provide the assessors with a photo-copy of the appeal. That copy goes to the assessment director or his representative. At that point the director can review the assessment and for that purpose, he may, at his discretion, confer with the appellant.

If the appellant requests it, or if in the interview it is clearly evident a clerical error has been made, or acreage has been incorrectly listed, there is provision that it be reviewed.

If an assessor reviews an appeal with an appellant and something is clearly wrong (i.e. acreage, clerical error, property sold, etc.) the assessor, can send the appellant a revised notice, make the change on the assessment roll, date and initial it. If the appellant is satisfied on receipt of the notice, the appeal is over. If not satisfied, he advises the clerk and the appeal will be continued.

DEFINITE IMPACT

"I think they did have a definite impact upon the number of appeals," Mr. Dondale stated, referring to radio broadcasts and publicity given to assessment criticism.

He notes there were about 400 appeals filed up to the last three days of the 21-day appeal period. At the end of the three-day period the number had risen to 963.

After hearing there were "hundreds" of calls against assessment values to radio station CKDY. Mr. Dondale spent 1 1/4 hours on an open-line show. Of nine calls received, he recalls, four were from ratepayers in Annapolis County, one from Digby town and only four from the municipality.

Municipal councillors were put on the air later, Mr. Dondale noted, and discussion got into the appeals procedure, something which should be explained by an assessor. He was asked to participate in the show and did.

The appeals procedure is not complicated, according to the director. No special forms are required although the time limit is important.

The 21-day time limit has come up for criticism but Mr. Dondale says it "seems to be adequate." Some time ago the limit was 4 days, he said. And it's not as though the Regional Assessment Office had a choice, "It's laid down in the statutes and we're governed by it."

As for the number of appeals, Mr. Dondale notes; "This is not unhealthy. If a person wants to appeal he has every right to. All appeals will be scheduled and heard." Mr. Dondale noted the number of appeals will result in some scheduling problems.

APPEALS COURT

The Appeals Court will move into Digby Municipality on March 30th. The director estimates the hearings will continue well into July or early August.

The court will sit for four days weekly except for Easter and a few days of assessors' school in April.

BACKGROUND

The Regional Assessment Office is located in the Municipal Building, located in Annapolis Royal. The assessing personnel pay rent for their floor space.

Fixtures and equipment required were funded by the Annapolis-Digby Regional Assessment Committee. The assessment office operates with a full complement of 12, including six assessors, two cartographers, three office girls

Locals Attend Young Farmers' Conference

Three couples from Digby County attended the Young Farmers' Conference '76 in Truro on March 2, 3 and 4.

Mr. Butler left by the Princess of Acadia on Saturday, March 13. En route he will visit his brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Butler, in Montreal and his sister and family, Dr. and Mrs. Kenneth Mackenzie, in Ottawa.

Mr. Butler studied at the Art Students' League, New York, and spent a year in Kingston, Ontario, painting and also teaching an evening class in Art at St. Lawrence College before returning to Nova Scotia.

He is also working part time as Speech Therapist at Digby General Hospital. He obtained his Master's Degree in Speech Pathology from Syracuse University. He is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Isaac Butler, Digby.

The purpose of the conference, for those between the ages of 19 and 35, was to provide an opportunity for young farm people to get together socially; to encourage them to examine their role in the rural community; and to inform them of opportunities and services available to them.

Those in attendance were Wayne and Nora Comeau of Brighton, Mike and Linda Como of Roxville and David and Mrs. Thomas of North Range.

Ag. Rep. Bruce Gilliat took pleasure in the fact three of the 20 couples at the conference were from this area. "This gives a good indication of the interest our young people have in agriculture," he noted.

The conference was held at the Nova Scotia Agricultural College. The program included tours, lectures, a banquet, buffet, etc.

DIGBY ORGANIZATIONS READY FOR DIAGNOSIS

Twenty persons were on hand Wednesday evening for the annual meeting and banquet of the Digby Board of Trade held at the Digby Legion Hall. Had twenty been present at any regular meeting of the Board, all would have been encouraging. But the dinner and the annual meeting and election of officers was something far different again. Dinners have to be paid for and officers need to be installed and plans must be made for the year ahead. Then, too, there is the matter of courtesy to the speaker who has put himself out to drive 130 to 150 miles for the occasion.

Definitely those who did not show up for the dinner missed a most worthwhile address by David Parsons, Assistant Manager of the Halifax Branch of the Federal Business Development Bank. In clear, concise and easily understood language Mr. Parsons explained all the details about F.B.D.B., the former I.D.B. No one needed to be a mathematician to follow the step by step explanation. In fact, he made loans through F.B.D.B. sound like a simple transaction. Any present or prospective industrialist or business person could well benefit by the talk given by Mr. Parsons, whether they had plans or prospects of using F.B.D.B. or not.

Boards of Trade or Chambers of Commerce seem to be the logical organizations to sponsor such business type evenings as was held on Wednesday, March 10. That is the type of organization a Board of Trade is. If the members of the very organization sponsoring the "help to business" don't turn out to attend, it is scarcely expected that the town and the people will show too much interest in business advancement. It looks as though our Digby Board of Trade is ready for a diagnosis. What are its ills?

There were several things which contributed to the small attendance at the Digby Board of Trade banquet. One was "flu" (although not epidemic), another was a multinumbr of meetings and gatherings in town and still another was the fact that some people are fortunate enough to have winter vacations down South. Also, did Wednesday night choice rob another group of a night? Considering these facts, we cannot put all the blame on the Digby Board of Trade as an organization. The Board of Trade is not necessarily the only organization needing to have its symptoms diagnosed. Would it be that the more than 50 organizations should go through the mill and let only the strongest and fittest survive. Are we organized to death? It is a good question to ask when regular meetings of organizations turn out to have three and four in attendance at times.

Mark you, individually, each organization has its merits. They are all worthy in their own ways. There might be a tendency in this town to over organize all these worthwhile projects, though. Can another organization take on other duties? It has been suggested. Suppose, for instance, that some other organization took the place of the Board of Trade. One would have to consider before dissolving a Board of Trade that the years of age are important, it is an organization known throughout Canada and has strong backing in its efforts. It is a non-political but united body to carry needs and wishes straight to heads of government. Its concerns are varied.

Yes, it is time to diagnose our case. Is it the organization at fault or are the members not living up to the standards necessary for any one particular organization, Board of Trade or any other. Is there time to effectively live up to the standards set or are there too many organizations.

MARCH RED CROSS MONTH

March is Red Cross Month... the one month when you are asked for funds to support the activities of volunteers.

Did you know that volunteers are the backbone of the Red Cross, that they supply 90 per cent of its labour and are responsible for the scope and success of the whole Red Cross movement?

When you give blood, (making yourself a volunteer), other volunteers assist with your reception and registration, serve in the canteen and supervise the restbed area at the blood clinic. The volumes of clothing used in disasters are made by volunteers. Volunteers assist at swimming classes, camps or local beaches. Registered nurses volunteer instruction for home-nursing courses. Teachers supervise Red Cross Youth groups. Volunteers in some areas handle the Red Cross sickroom equipment loan service. Volunteers provide visits, transportation and drop-in centres for seniors. Combined with professional staff, volunteers provide emergency welfare and help in the reunion of families. The materials and facilities utilized by these volunteers are financed by your dollars.

The most famous volunteer, of course, was the Swiss banker-business man, Henry Dunant (1828-1910) who conceived the idea of the International Red Cross and involved himself so deeply in its founding and fostering that he went bankrupt.

Not many people would care to devote their lives to voluntarism as Dunant did. Not many are able. But the people who knock on your doors this March share his ideals. They are volunteers-unpaid workers of all ages, all races, all religions, joined in the common urge to help.

Because of the many services Red Cross performs, the help these volunteers give in energy and the help you give in contributions is help that will be freely extended to you and to them when the need is there.

Give to your Red Cross.

Hodge Podge

One mark of an educated person is his degree of open-mindedness. That is a good thought for Education Week.

It isn't our policy to give out free advertising but we mention the name Greenberg's for we wonder if the closing of the store here means anything. Within a few weeks the store will close, the manager has told us. Cost of freight, transportation seems to be a big factor in their decision to close. Could it be that food is increasing in price and there isn't the same amount of cash in the purchasers hand to spend on clothing? Was the fourth down-town store dealing in clothing more than the traffic could support? Or are people just not spending. Anyway, Greenberg's in Digby has decided to close. Does it give us a hint as to the trend of the day. Greenberg's in Bridgewater is also closing, we understand. There will be no Greenbergs in the Atlantic provinces.

Convention Will Bring 250 Kinsmen To Town

The Kinsmen Club's Spring Zone Convention will be held in Digby on March 26, 27 and 28.

The purpose of the gathering will be to elect a Deputy-Governor. The two candidates are Jack Bunting of Kentville and Red Hurst of Sackville.

This marks the first time a zone convention has ever been held in this area. Kinsmen President George Churchill said the club is "quite honoured they chose our club this year."

It is considered "quite an award" when a club is chosen to host a convention in spite of the involved.

The convention is expected to bring about 250 Kinsmen into the town for the convention's duration. The convention centre will be the Kinsmen's Hall on Maiden Lane. The Admiral Digby Inn and Kingfisher Motel have been rented for the occasion.

The convention will include a business meeting at the high school; a luncheon at the Legion Hall; a banquet at the Fire Hall and a curling bonspiel at the Digby Curling Club.

Chairman of the convention committee is George Churchill, president of the local club; Edward Dunn, vice-president; Gerald Walsh, director; Brian Coker, treasurer; Glen Dunn, Gordon Handspiker and Wilson Ford.

In spite of its short five-year lifespan the Digby Kinsmen Club already has a past-Deputy-Governor. Jerry Walsh served in that capacity during 1973-74.

Those attending the convention will come from the 12 clubs between Dartmouth and Yarmouth.

The present Deputy-Governor is Mac MacKenzie. The election will be held during the banquet on Saturday night, March 27.

DONDALE ASSESSES THE ASSESSMENT ISSUE

and the assessment director.

Office accounts number 26,035 of which 8,684 are in Digby Municipality, 14,246 in Annapolis Municipality, 805 in Middleton, 725 in Bridgetown and 553 in Annapolis Royal. Occupancy-tax accounts are included in these figures.

PROCEDURE

For each property, the assessment office has a record card. This holds details on such particulars as building sizes, construction type, materials used, depreciation, degree of obsolescence, zoning, date pertaining to land and classification, values of the portions making up the assessment, and the final assessment on land and buildings.

Assessment procedures used are those accepted by appraisal people across the country.

For residential properties, the real cost less depreciation, and the market data analysis is used. On revenue-producing properties, consideration is given to replacement cost less depreciation, market date approach and the income approach.

Assessors are trained in determining the value of a property through a three year course called Assessment Principles and Practices. This is sponsored by the Department of Municipal Affairs and provided by the Dalhousie Institute of Public Affairs. The course is mandatory.

Mapping at the assessment office is as far or further advanced than in any other area of the province, says the director.

The Regional Assessment Committee saw the need for such four years ago, while some other areas never got started until last year.

When the province provided further funding to accelerate mapping two years ago, areas which already had one draftsman got a second, those which had none got their first. "We're fortunate in this regard," Mr. Dondale noted.

Explaining the need for cartography, Mr. Dondale said a property must be located before a value can be placed on it. No other department, is doing property mapping.

The field card is an important part of the assessor's equipment. Along with other pertinent information this contains a plan of the land if mappers have been there. When a card is completed it goes through the calculators, then back to the field for approval of the final figure.

The card is then taken back to the office where the information is put on the assessment rolls and entered on a metal plate which becomes the permanent record.

Procedures at the assessment office have been speeded up in recent years through mechanization with such machines as the Addressograph.

MARKET DATA

The only way an assessor can obtain market data is through contact with a property owner, according to director. "Assessors should be provided with all market data."

He notes that Digby Municipality had a Municipal Land Transfer Tax Act in effect for about a year. Through that tax, used in about 50 per cent of municipalities, market data becomes more available to the assessor. The tax amounted to about one-half of one per cent of the property value.

Municipal councillors had expressed concern that property values in some areas are escalating because of high prices paid by the American buyer.

"One sale does not make a market," Mr. Dondale stated. But when there are several sales in a given area, the situation must be analysed. Assessment is a "continuous operation analysing and determining what values exist in an area." The important factor is "location, location, location."

"If the non-resident market becomes the dominant market then we must use it."

The situation which has developed in Digby Municipality this year resulted in a postponement of re-assessments in the three towns of Annapolis County. These were scheduled to be done this year, but now are set for next year, Annapolis Municipality will follow.

Snowman

Parents who visited the Digby Elementary School Class of Mrs. Anne Kaye, Grade II, during 1976 Education Week saw a display of many teaching aids and projects correlating the many new ideas in education. There are 32 scholars in the Grade II class and Mrs. Kaye had 28 visitors.

One of the winter projects was a snowman as above being shown by Mrs. Kaye and three of the pupils (left to right) Maureen Weir, Darlene Halliday and Heather Frost. Other projects included a dog house and dog reading a book to illustrate the reader "Dog Next Door; Pussy Willow, Disneyland, Charlie Brown Happy Kids, Tulips and other subjects coordinating science and reading.

There were large painted cut-outs, made by the pupils representing a new personality study kit, called "Duso". The letters "Duso" means "Developing Understanding of self and others." This is a new concept in education and involves the children in the study of their lives and their relationships with others. It contains pictures, stories, record-tapes, dramas and follow-up discussions. Another display was the large book made of the pupils on the new Social studies program. This includes the study of the life of the pupils, as it concerns their family, school, town, community, and all matters pertaining to the life of the child.

The kit uses animals such as turtles and life such as the dolphin, octopus, clam etc to represent personality traits.

There are charts on Social Studies and homes of other children such as Japanese, African etc. Mrs. Kaye has found many interesting projects to make her class enthusiastic about their reading and language work.

The children's original stories, scribbles and art work were all neatly and colorfully displayed.

Wins Trip South

Job-dedication has paid off for George Churchill of Marshalltown in the form of a cruise to points of interest in the Caribbean and South America.

George and his wife, Lorena left Digby by air on Friday, destined for Puerto Rico. From there, the week-long cruise was scheduled to take them to such places as Venezuela, Martinique, Trinidad, Caracao and the Virgin Islands.

Mr. Churchill was one of three Household Finance employees in Canada to win such a trip this year. The award is based on performance.

George has managed the Digby H.F.C. office for almost five years. The couple expect to get back to Digby around March 23.

Rev. Earl Waterman World Day Of Prayer Speaker

The churches of the Digby community are uniting in calling for a Day of Prayer on March 19, 1976. There will be a community service in the evening at the Wesleyan Church, Victoria Street. The service will begin at 7:30 p.m.

People of all the churches are urged to set aside this day for prayers, fasting, and seeking the Lord. This time is needed to be spent in introspection and humiliation, confessing individual and corporate sins, and asking God to heal personal lives, community and nation. God promises many blessings to those who would pray according to the conditions set for us in II Chronicles 7:14. Blow the dust off your Bible and check that one out.

Families are invited to join in the community evening service. Folks from all churches will be participating in prayers, Bible readings, and dramatizations. The guest speaker will be Reverend Earl Waterman of the Bear River Advent Christian Church, and featured soloist will be Robert Wilson of Conway.

Following the community service will be a time of friendship and fellowship in the church basement.

Let's join together as the people of this community in setting aside March 19th as a Day of Prayer, and let's expect good things as a result of seeking our God Lord.

Morehouse Guest Speaker

By Frances Adams

On Sunday, February 29, Rev. Ronald Morehouse of Sanford was guest speaker in the Digby Wesleyan Church for both services.

Mrs. Oakley Turnbull and Mrs. Darrell Brewster rendered a duet entitled "Leaning on the Everlasting Arms." The guest speaker, while addressing the congregation on Spiritual Hunger and Thirst, reminded them that one cannot be neutral in spiritual things.

Rev. Ronald Morehouse was guest speaker again on Sunday a.m., March 7, filling the pulpit in the absence of the regular pastor who is due back from the Mid-West early this week.

WEDDING

SWIFT-TITUS

A pretty spring wedding was solemnized in the Westport Church of Christ on Saturday afternoon March 13 when Miss Irma, Jennie Titus, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glendon Titus was united in marriage to Mr. James Frederic Swift, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Swift, all of Westport. Lic. David Keith officiated and organist was Mrs. Carol Delsey. A double ring ceremony was performed.

The bride entered the church with her father who gave her in marriage. She wore a white floor length fitted satin gown long sleeved with a trailing train. Her veil was shoulder length and was fastened with a bow. The semi-cascade bouquet was of red escort roses, gypsophelia and variegated pittisporum.

Attending the bride was Mrs. Gordon Thompson who wore a floor length dress of flowered sheer, a large white hat and carried a nosegay bouquet of variegated mums. The groom was attended by Mr. Gordon Thompson.

The mother of the bride chose a floor length gown of blue with a corsage of white mums. Mother of the groom wore a two piece suit of beige and a corsage of white mums.

Following the wedding members of the family gathered at the bride's parents for refreshments. The bride and groom left for a trip to Cape Breton Island. On their return they will reside in Westport, where the groom is a fisherman.

Church Sponsors Film "The Gospel Road"

The story is ageless, but the perspective is up-dated and brought into sharp focus by the film THE GOSPEL ROAD to be shown at the Digby Wesleyan Church on Sunday, March 21st. The showing will begin at 7:00 p.m.

THE GOSPEL ROAD, was conceived and produced by Johnny Cash and his wife, June Carter Cash, whose desire was to tell the story of Jesus Christ in a realistic and meaningful way.

The film is a unique blend of scripture-based narrative, an abundant supply of specially written songs, and a series of in-depth character portrayals, with Israel itself as the mixing bowl.

You are there, walking beside the Jordan and the Sea of Galilee; you are there, seeing Him in many human situations that establish a practical and personal rapport with every viewer. You are there, being introduced to the disciples, and gaining insights into their varied personalities. You are there, experiencing the highly charged emotional impact of the trial before Pilate, and becoming so personally involved that you feel sympathetic pain when Jesus suffers the physical attack that precedes the Crucifixion.

Adding to the effectiveness of the GOSPEL ROAD are: the fascinating treatment of the Crucifixion, the songs and background music of Johnny Cash and other outstanding musicians, whose style enhances the story, and a message that reveals that Christ's darkest day has become our brightest. A cordial invitation is extended to everyone in our community; please feel welcome to attend this showing.

hospital supplies for overseas and a group will meet on Monday of the following week to start this work.

Neck To Have Fire Tax Levy

A regular meeting of the Digby Neck Volunteer Fire Department was held at the Sandy Cove Community Hall on Friday, March 12, 1976. Reg Comeau, Fire Chief presided when the department was informed, by the Digby Neck Fire Commission, that the petition for a fire tax levy was approved by more than 80 percent of the resident taxpayers. This was good news because it means that the building of the firehall-recreation center can proceed.

Discussing community affairs, the department decided to inform the people that they will assist in the burning of land around houses. Call the Secretary, J. Jago, at 834-2199 and he will relay the request. The department will gladly assist any of the residents in District 3 in this necessary task.

Five fire-phones are linked to form safety in case of fire. The number is listed in the new phone books and the public is assured that someone will be available for their safety. Next meeting will be April 9, 1976, at the Sandy Cove Community Hall. At this meeting the rolls of firemen will be brought up to date and all are requested to attend.

Wesleyan Quarterly Meetings At Havelock

By Mrs. Harry V. Adams
The Wesleyan Churches of the Atlantic Zone District were hosted by the Havelock Wesleyan Church during a recent three day meeting. Rev. Lawrence Corey is church pastor.

The meetings began on Friday evening March 5th, with Rev. Budd Fancy addressing a large congregation. This service which was primarily for the younger generation was well attended by the young people from the various churches in the zone. The Yarmouth Church was well represented with approximately 35 young people present.

The business session for this quarterly meeting was held at 2:30 p.m. on Saturday.

The Saturday evening service was held at 7:30 p.m. and a duet "When we see Christ" was rendered by Mr. George Landers and his son of the Sandford Church.

The Pastor of the Port Maitland Church, Rev. Perry Ingersoll, was the guest speaker for this service. "Occupy Until I come" was the title of the message with which he challenged those present. He reminded them that their influence might and should be counted for God. They were told they should not only occupy His Kingdom until He comes but work in it for Him and help to build it up. The message concluded when the speaker told his audience that we do have a task before us and will be rewarded according to the work we have done.

On Sunday a.m. March 7th, the Quarterly meetings continued with 103 people present for the 10 a.m. Sunday School Class. The regular Sunday a.m.

Rev. Jack Stevens was the speaker and his scripture was taken from 16th chapter of II Galatians.

The speaker remarked it is not and should not be considered old fashioned to sing. Testify or Praise the Lord if we so desired. Rev. Stevens also said "We are living in a pleasure seeking world with time on our hands."

The Church was filled to capacity for a Love Feast on Sunday afternoon. Six churches of the Atlantic zone were represented. A layman, Douglas Churchill, was in charge of the service which opened with the singing of the hymn "O How I Love Jesus". A Special solo number was rendered by Terry Stone who accompanied himself with a guitar. The scripture lesson was taken from Romans 8. Mr. Churchill spoke on Bruised Christians.

The Love Feast continued with a solo number by Mrs. Douglas Churchill entitled "More of His Love".

The Sunday evening service concluded the three day quarterly meetings at Havelock. The special music for this service was rendered by Mrs. Smith and Mrs. Douglas Churchill who sang a duet also Mr. George Landers who gave a solo number. The youth choir participated in the service and two girls from the youth choir participated again when they sang a duet number and were accompanied by Terry Stone on his guitar. Miss Addean Stairs, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. Arnold Stairs gave a beautiful rendition of "I am Willing Lord."

Rev. Arnold Stairs was the speaker at the evening service. He is the Pastor of the Sandford Church. The message was entitled "Holiness as a personal experience."

The guests who needed lodging were accommodated in the homes of the Havelock Church folk and an opportunity for a time of fellowship with guests was enjoyed when meals were served in the Church Hall.

The next quarterly meeting is expected to be held in June and Liverpool is being considered as the place for these meetings.

Weymouth Students Make Videotape On Metric

On Thursday, March 8th, at 1:00 p.m. a videotape entitled MARCH TO METRIC will be shown at the Weymouth Consolidated High School. The videotape is one of the many displays and projects which will be open to the public during Education Week.

The videotape, hosted by Dean Gaudet, will include the history of the metric system, the effects of metrication on clothing, grocery shopping, tools and machinery, as well as give basic information needed to assist in the conversion to metric units. One of the most interesting segments of the videotape will be a consumer report which will tell how the general public feels about the conversion to the metric system.

The videotape was prepared by the Grade 12 Academic Math class, under the supervision of Mr. D. Sreenivasan, The Program Co-ordinators were Sheryl Mullen and Dean Gaudet. Appearing in the videotape are Sylvia Wagner; Sheryl Mullen; Shelley Clayton; Wanda Mullen, and Jim Ruggles. The Roving Reporters are Linda Gould and Bonnie Thurber. Special thanks go to Mr. Bal Kapur, Cameraman, and the Grade 12 General Math class for assistance in the preparation of posters and setting up.

The "Teenagers" organization gave a Welcome Home Party for the men who returned from the war zones. The veterans were welcomed by Richard Turnbull. The late J. W. Merkel was mayor. In his Welcome Home address he told the veterans he favored a New Town Hall as a memorial to those who served in the war. This was endorsed by V.G. Cardozo, chairman of the rehabilitation committee. Presenting the evening's program for the veterans were Shirley Snow, Barbara Underwood, Billy Winfield and Aileen Winchester.

Your Town and Mine column notes that town authorities have been having favorable discussions on a new Town Hall as a fitting war memorial, adding that it is badly needed, the present structure is a disgrace, a fire hazard and it is unservitable for business with the interrupting shunting railway engine.

The scallop sloop, Clynda D., belonging to Captain Roland Wormell and skipped by Joseph McDormand caught fire at the Maritime Fish wharf and was badly gutted. This was the second of Captain Wormell's boats on fire within a few weeks. The other was the Gonac.

The herring vanished and the New Brunswick seiners left for home after a profitable catch. Fish scales were a great source of revenue. The fleet included seiners, collectors and scalars.

Bad weather in 1946 hampered scallopers. There were about 45 boats in the fleet employing some 300 men and leaving approximately a half million dollars in the area. Boats cost in the vicinity of $4000 to $5000. Good catches were reported when boats were able to go out in the weather. Scallopers seemed to be smaller and further out into the Bay.

A Catholic Youth organization was formed at St. Patrick's Church, Digby.

Plans were being made to construct a recreation centre in St. Mary's Parish, Church Point.

Way back 30 years ago The Digby Courier was urging people to attend the Town Council meetings. It's Your Town and Mine column read, "No news account of the proceedings published in the press can give the full picture of a matter, the circumstances surrounding it and the background material as can be obtained in attending the meetings. Expressions of opinion and constructive criticism on the part of the people of the town is good only if that opinion and criticism is fully informed and is in accordance with the facts." The same holds true in 1976.

Romeo LeBlanc, Minister of State for Fisheries announced today a $44 million temporary assistance program for Canada's troubled fishing industry. The new program takes effect on April 1, 1976.

This assistance for fisheries rehabilitation provides direct payments to inshore and offshore fishermen owning vessels. Groundfish fishermen owning vessels will receive deficiency payments on first quality food fish. This is designed to maintain operations of fishing enterprises facing the problem of low resource availability and rising costs.

The new assistance program will also provide conditional grants to groundfish plants on fillet products produced from first quality groundfish.

Assistance to processors will be conditional upon their maintaining July 1974 prices to fishermen as a minimum.

"I believe that this program will assist fishermen and processors in upgrading the quality of fish and in avoiding wastage of this valuable resource. To achieve this, I am introducing a payment differential for quality both at the fisherman and processor level", Mr. LeBlanc added.

Payments will be subject to quarterly review and adjustment by species based on resource management considerations, landing levels and fishing and processing costs. Payments will be conditional upon the submission of cost and earnings information.

"I would ask the fishermen to maintain accurate records of their fishing operations and provide, on request, such information on a regular basis in order to enable me to develop and manage useful programs of assistance", Mr. LeBlanc said.

effort agreed to last September by foreign nations fishing the northwest Atlantic will reduce the decline in catches that contributed to this industry's problems. The government is fully conscious of the groundfish industry's importance: with 20,000 fishermen and 12,000 plant workers, it is the main employer in the Atlantic fishing industry and the main support of hundreds of communities. Pop Hanson - Curling Into History

The "Pop" Hanson annual curling bonspiel has been held for two years now. And one of the biggest stars on each occasion has been none other than William A. (Pop) Hanson.

Pop's devotion to curling has failed to diminish over the years despite the fact he will turn 92 in July. He has no plans to end his long involvement; "I wouldn't give it up," he commented in a recent interview.

This year's bonspiel was held on Friday night and Saturday. Pop played the leading stone for the winning team composed of Hymie Webber, skip, K. K. Nichols and Zena Miller.

Pop has been a regular at the Digby Curling Club since the rink was built about 26 years ago. In his earlier days he skipped many winning teams. But now he doesn't skip and has given up sweeping on his doctor's advice.

Commonly referred to as the oldest active curler in Nova Scotia, it might be even more proper to call Pop the oldest active curler in Canada.

Whether this be the case or not, Pop has earned himself a spot in curling history and is worthy of increased, probably even national, recognition.

For the past 7-8 years, Pop has been living in an apartment in the Basinview on King Street. Prior to this he lived on Maiden Lane for about 20 years.

For anyone visiting Pop at home, it is impossible not to realize where his interests lie. Memories of past bonspiels abound in the form of pictures and trophies.

Pop began his curling career in Amherst, N.S. About 40 years ago he moved to Digby to take employment as a grounds-keeper at the Pines Hotel for the CPR.

His first 17 years in this town were spent painfully curling-free. But Pop recalls that when the rink finally opened he "skipped the first game ever played in Digby."

Pop says he's not sure about his curling future. But it's a safe bet we can look for him among the top contenders at next year's Pop Hanson Curling Bonspiel.

programs for the growth and development of our fishing industry on both coasts are being formulated. As these programs are implemented, we will have a stronger and better industry returning more benefits and security to fishermen", Mr. LeBlanc said.

Ninety-one year old "Pop" Hanson doesn't let anything stand in the way of his curling activities. He participated in the Pop Hanson Bonspiel on Friday and Saturday nights. Here he is shown attentively watching action on the ice.

There were over 20 ladies present when Mrs. D'Ambrose was the recipient of many useful household items. She expressed her appreciation for the gifts and for the many acts of kindness shown to the family who lost their mobile home on February 16 as a result of fire.

A two-Saturday cribbage tournament concluded at the Digby Legion Hall on Saturday.

The tournament trophy was awarded to Greg Handspiker, top player among the 26 contestants.

The first part of the tournament was played on Saturday, March 6.

In other Legion sports notes, a pool tournament will be played this coming Saturday between Bear River and Digby. The match will be held at the Digby Legion Hall.

Municipality Will Get Chief Constable

Digby Municipal Council has decided to hire a Chief Constable for the municipality. The decision came during Monday's monthly council session.

The aim of the appointment was to have someone with authority to enforce municipal by-laws. But according to legal advice obtained by Municipal Clerk, William McMillan, the appointment, in effect, means the municipality is establishing its own police force.

Only Councillor Walter MacAlpine, who acted as by-law critic during the session, voted against the motion.

The matter was brought up by Councillor L. E. R.

Winchester, as the result of a discussion between himself and present constable Ivan Bain.

Councillor Winchester said Mr. Bain's present title 'Municipal Constable', is not sufficient to allow him to carry out his duties. In addition, the constable reportedly feels combining this duty with that of dog control officer, is more than he can handle.

Mr. Winchester said Mr. Bain's suggestion was that each district could have a dog control officer, possibly paid for out of licence fees.

He said if the appointment is not made, the municipality may as well throw out its dog by-laws, building by-laws, etc.

The need or lack of it, for by-laws, and planning came in for discussion at this point. Councillors Ervin Marshall and MacAlpine slung hot words at each other during a table-thumping discussion on a building inspector.

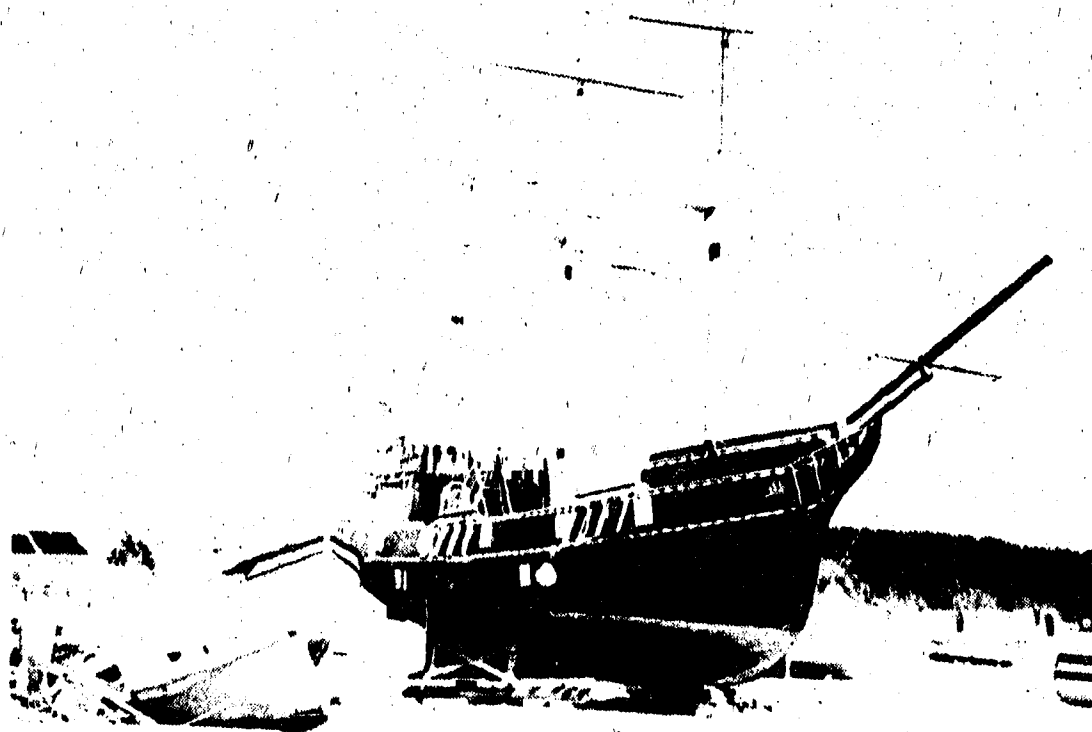

Councillor MacAlpine summed up his feeling on building by-laws thus: "I think they're nonsense things." However, several councillors, including Winchester, Ervin and Byard Marshall, Rice and Daley, expressed opposite opinions.

Moving back to dog-control, Councillor Thurber said no more licences would be paid in his area unless a dog-catcher is appointed for each district. It's no good collecting in some areas and not in others, he said.

After Councillors Ervin, Marshall and MacAlpine had another little discussion on enforcing by-laws, Councillor MacNeil brought up the point that Councillors should have a copy of meeting agendas at least two days before council sessions.

This, she felt, would give councillors time to gather knowledge on items to be voted on and might cut down on discussion time. However no definite plans were made in that direction.

A three masted square rigger in the A.F. Theriault and Sons Ltd shipyard at Meteghan River is awaiting to be transported to Bridgewater to serve as an attraction for a new shopping centre being constructed in that town. The hull is from an abandoned fish dragger which has been transformed into a pirate ship and a new superstructure and with square rigged sails. This particular square rigger should not be confused with another type of old sailing vessels which was completely constructed at this ship yard as the latter boats are not square riggers and carry two main sails of conventional type of later sailing vessels.

The square rigger is near the main highway and is attracting much attention from those passing by. (Photo by Melanson)

Council Opposes Gun-Control Legislation

Digby Municipal Council has gone on record as opposing proposed federal gun-control legislation included in the "Peace and Security" Program now before the House of Commons.

Councillor Walter MacAlpine described the proposals as "just a mess of junk as far as I'm concerned." His feelings had general support around the table.

Councillor Arthur Rice suggested that once the legislation is passed, it is reasonable to assume they'll further elaborate on it.

He said he would almost assume "the mafia is behind it." Laws are made for law-abiding citizens, not criminals according to Mr. Rice. He felt such legislation would put the criminal in an ever better position - where he would have the gun but the good citizen would not.

Councillor Ervin Marshall was concerned that if someone stole a gun and committed murder, the owner would be responsible under the proposed legislation. He also charged it would give authorities a Carte Blanche to enter someone's property to pick up a gun.

Councillor Rice was also critical of Solicitor General Warren Almond's suggestion that MP's vote according to their consciences - and pay no heed to the desires of those they represent.

Proposals

According to the proposed legislation, all firearms possessors will have to license their guns every five years. Two guarantors will be required to state that the applicant is fit to possess a firearm.

Dealers in guns and ammunition will have to keep records of sales for government inspection. Minors will need special permits to carry guns.

Criminal penalties of up to five years will be imposed on those guilty of carelessness in the ownership of firearms.

The program also includes extra sentences of up to 14 years for those convicted of committing a crime while carrying a gun; police seizure of weapons with no warrant where human safety is endangered; tougher handgun control; an educational program to teach the responsibilities of gun ownership.

The measures are expected to be phased in over a three-year period.

Playground Equipment Turned Down

A motion that council replace playground equipment at the Smith's Cove School, or allot a sum of $200 for other school supplies, was defeated by Digby Municipal Council on Monday.

Councillor Helen McNeil noted it has not been the council's policy to buy playground equipment.

Councillor Winchester, however, noted that policy was shot when playground equipment was given to the Barton school.

Council has already turned down requests from some schools this year, Councillor McNeil said.

The motion was defeated 5-4. Voting against were Councillors McNeil, Thurber, Byard Marshall, MacAlpine, and Rice. In favour of the motion were Ervin Marshall, Winchester, VanTassel, and Daley.

A proposal to provide a scrubber-polisher to the Sandy Cove school was included in the original motion. But a new motion on this matter was made and approved. Councillor Winchester voted against it.

People Who Care For Our Mentally Retarded How Much Do We Care?

by Sister Rosa Johnson

Students at the Digby Canadian Association Training Centre Courses led by Mrs. Josephine LeBlanc (rear).

The Canadian Association for the Mentally Retarded, Digby Branch received its official charter on February 9, 1972. After a few months of group study by interested persons, the Association purchased a building in Conway (building formerly used by Weymouth Motors as a show room for their cars). With support from various Church Groups, Service Clubs, and other benevolent organizations (Knights of Columbus, Kinsmen's Club, Kinettes, Lions), and personal donations from individual benefactors, this became the Hope Fellowship Activity Centre. The Association also sponsors the annual "Flowers of Hope Campaign" during the month of May.

In summer, 1973, the Hope Fellowship Activity Centre was opened, and a program for the development of mentally handicapped adults were started by volunteer workers.

In winter 1973-1974, the program was operated for six months by a LIP (Local Initiative Program) grant.

In summer 1974, the trainees attended Special Olympics in Halifax, and also a summer camp in Camp Kiwanis, Brookfield.

In winter, 1974-1975, the program was carried on two days a week by volunteer workers.

In summer, 1975, an Opportunity For Youth (OFY) grant was obtained and a joint group of volunteer adult and youth workers ran a course and a one week camp at Camp Hillies in West Paradise.

In September, 1975, the program was organized on a five-days a week basis, headed by Mrs. Steve (Josephine) LeBlanc who had completed several Training Courses, Courses for Sheltered Workshop Personnel and Management - Levels I, II, III - given by the National Institute of Mental Retardation, Downsview, Ontario; as well as Precision Teaching for the Mentally Retarded, given at Dalhousie University.

The Centre is still continuing to be operated on volunteer basis. Mrs. Josephine LeBlanc gives full time, five days a week. Other ladies assisting on volunteer basis: Mrs. Stella Murley, a retired teacher with experience in auxiliary classes, four days a week; Mrs. Shirley Grace, a former teacher, one day a week; Mrs. Angela Francis (Smith's Cove), and Mrs. Marjorie Minard and Mrs. Irene Specht also give of their free time. Occasionally other women offer their services. At the present time, six trainees are benefiting from the services of the Hope Fellowship Activity Centre - ages ranging from 17 to 28 - all from Digby, Smith's Cove, and Bear River area.

The aims of the Centre are to establish and operate a work-oriented training program for the mentally retarded adults of this area, emphasizing the maximum social, emotional, physical, and vocational development of each individual involved. This would enable each person to prepare for community living and lead as normal a life as may be possible with the goals of full or part time employment, and independent or partly independent living situations.

Parents of trainees deserve congratulations for their efforts to provide transportation. There are several more in the area who could benefit from the same services. Hopefully, the program will be expanded to reach out and to accommodate all those in need of a special program. Sincere gratitude and appreciation should be extended to all those who are so generously contributing to the development of mentally retarded people, helping them to fulfil their whole person to the maximum.

The person managing the Activity Centre is responsible to the Local Board of Directors of the Association which comprises ten members, namely: Mr. Steve LeBlanc (president); Mr. James Outhouse, Barrister (vice-president); Mrs. Irene Specht (secretary); Mrs. Josephine LeBlanc (treasurer); Mrs. Eleanor Elms, Reverend Earl Waterman; Dr. David Gordon, M.D.; Mr. David Banks; Mr. Hall Theriault; and Mrs. Shirley Grace. There is also a committee appointed to supervise the progress of the Activity Centre: Miss Heather Steeves, Mrs. Daneen Robbins, and Mr. Gerald Wade.

In winter 1974-1975 a survey of Digby County was conducted with the help of a grant from the Department of Continuing Education. This survey was to determine the number, location, and needs of persons requiring this special service. Result: One hundred eighty-nine (189) children and adults! This survey also served to determine how many children of school age were at home without services provided for them through the school system. As a result, a brief was presented to the Digby Municipal School Board to make them aware of the necessity to provide facilities for these children. It is understood that the School Board is studying the possibility of providing the necessary services as soon as possible.

In summer, 1975, the Association acquired a grant through the Students' Community Program from the Secretary of State's Department. This grant was used for a public relation program, in other words, to inform the public and discover the needs of each area including the District of Clare. From this, a new Association was formed in

Thieves On The Prowl

A string of break, enter and theft has plagued the Digby RCMP detachment during the past week. Five occurred in the Weymouth area alone.

Two cars were stolen during a Saturday night break at Weymouth Motors Ltd.

One was recovered from water near the Bear River bridge the following day; the other was found damaged in South Range. Total damage was estimated at $7,000.

A break into Weymouth Home Furnishings, also on Saturday night, resulted in loss of three rifles and two shotguns.

Ameriault's Riteway was a Monday night target.

There thieves made off with a safe containing between $400 and $900.

Other Weymouth breaks under investigation include those at Gaudet Home Furnishings and Weymouth Pulp yards.

Doug's Irving Service Station in Conway was broken into on Thursday night. Loss was under $20 in cash.

Another break during the week occurred at Abbot's Irving in Smith's Cove. About $5 in change was lost in that incident.

All incidents were still under investigation at presstime. Police feel several of the Weymouth breaks may be related.

Grain And Grass Variety Trials Planned

A directors' meeting of the Digby County Soil and Crop Improvement Association was held in Bear River recently. Perry Freeman was in the Chair.

Visitors present included Alex Henderson, Agronomist with the Department of Agriculture in Truro; Greg Cox, soil and crop specialist; Ag. Rep. Bruce Gilliat and Dean Cole, Livestock fieldman with the department's livestock branch.

Directors present included John Roope of Hillgrove, Lawrence Lambertson of Barton, Stanley Boudreau of Concession, and Peter Balzer of Shelburne Road. The annual membership is open to anyone engaged in farming in the county.

The main part of the discussions centered on projects and variety trials for 1976.

Possible trials include variety trials with oats using agricultural ground-gypsum on the St. Mary's Bay marshland (five acre plots); weed control trials - spraying on a herbicide to kill grass so direct seeding can be done without plowing.

COUNCIL SUMMARY

War On Assessments May Continue

Digby Municipal Council's battle against 1976 assessment values has not yet concluded. The next move is to seek a meeting with the new Municipal Affairs Minister, Glen Bagnell.

A decision was made during Monday's council session to invite Mr. Bagnell to meet with it to discuss financial and assessment problems.

Councillor Winchester reported there has been a misunderstanding of Clare's position on obtaining a weed inspector to serve Digby Municipality, Clare and Digby town.

He said Warden Omer Blinn has made it clear to him Clare has not changed its position taken last year against hiring a weed inspector.

While on that topic, Councillor McNeil said the municipality could fall heir to bills for pesticides when a resident couldn't pay the shot.

Correcting a possible public misunderstanding, Councillor McNeil said the town has agreed to go along with the municipality and both pay $15. toward the rent of an office downtown. She served notice of motion on the matter.

Mrs. McNeil noted there is a qualified search and rescue team in this area and that the local organization may be able to obtain a trailer for its use.

She also said the St. Mary's Bay marshland farmers are seeking a grant through EMO and the site had been visited by federal and provincial E.M.O. officials.

Councillor Winchester informed Council that a meeting on municipal fire protection would be held on Thursday night (March 25th). He expressed personal optimism that a solution in this area can be worked out.

During this discussion, Councillor McNeil expressed concern that the Digby Fire Department may raise its coverage rate to her area. She felt notification should be given prior to any increase. The residents of her district would not be happy if an increase is forthcoming, she noted.

Referring to a visit by the provincial opposition members last month, Councillor McNeil said there has been a misinterpretation as to the reason Mr. Buchanan and Mr. Thornhill came to Digby.

She said they were invited as the result of a Halifax Herald editorial which stated they would be visiting municipal units to get reactions on municipal reform.

She discounted suggestions the two gentlemen were invited for political reasons. Councillor L. E. Winchester backed her up.

No interim billing policy has yet been set up by the municipality and "the finance committee isn't worrying about it," according to Councillor Winchester, if they don't pay their bills to us we won't pay our bills to them.

A request from the Weymouth Kiwanis Club for support in a private member's bill to exempt that club from taxation was turned down.

A letter was received from the Kings County Warden apologizing for any misunderstanding which may have resulted from comments from a councillor there on the Weed Inspector issue.

TIME TO BE THINKING

His Worship Mayor Charles Haliburton, in speaking before the Digby Board of Trade at the annual banquet this month, made two observations which are timely for repeating now.

In the fall of 1976, the office of mayor for the Town of Digby will become vacant. Mr. Haliburton, it was noted, is filling the unexpired terms of Patrick Comeau and Willard Kinney. Besides the mayor's seat becoming vacant the terms of three councillors also expire. Mr. Haliburton drew these facts to the attention of his audience and also remarked that there should be persons on the Town Council who are also vitally interested in the Board of Trade. So many of their concerns are similar and each needs the support of the other in their efforts.

We repeat Mayor Haliburton's remarks here because it is time to be thinking now about candidates for these town positions. We have not inquired about Mr. Haliburton's intentions. He was concerned enough to pick up the threads to finish out the unexpired term and we do not hesitate in saying that the residents of Digby are hopeful that he will see fit to offer for the new term. Realizing the difficulty which Digby has been experiencing the past few years in keeping the mayor's seat filled, it is none too early to begin thinking, nor is it too early to begin thinking of prospective candidates for the positions of three town councillors.

The load of mayor and town councillors today is not an easy one. Of the entire council in Digby town only one, if any, can be considered on the retired list. Other than one, we are sure that the mayor and each councillor goes out day after day with the intent of earning their daily bread and butter. The leaves very little time left to devote to town affairs. At least, the town affairs must certainly infringe on their recreation and rest. There is no use in bringing up the suggestion that someone who has time should be given the opportunity to serve. That is just the trouble. Nobody will do so. It is only those who feel a responsibility for OUR town who tackle the tremendous job.

Year after year, the job of running a small town (or municipality) becomes more and more of a tremendous responsibility demanding more and more time from councillors' own affairs and bringing more and more mental exertion with it. All that can be asked of the councillors is that they do their best under any circumstances. Remuneration certainly cannot make their jobs as councillors a financial venture.

Probably the general public does not always appreciate the position of mayors and councillors but one area where greater appreciation for these factors might be shown and is important to be shown is within the Council itself. Each councillor might have his own pet ambition for council. That is well and good. Diversities of opinions, talents, and abilities are actually necessary. They are most desirable. Having opinions and facts to express are good traits but no opinion can't do much more than good opinions not accomplished or instigated because of lack of ability to get along with others or because time is used up on trivial matters making the whole night's council proceedings a fruitless, frustrating, and unprofitable business.

It is important to save the taxpayer's money, it is important to be a friend to the so-called underdog as well and the sophisticated and elite but it takes time and clear thinking in any case in attending to these matters. Even a hawking eye to every minute detail has its merits but the merits disappear when frustrations come in. Some otherwise capable persons spoil their entire effectiveness by just not being able to appreciate the point of view or circumstances such as time limitations with which others are plagued.

We would say the time to be thinking about filling those vacant chairs, mayor and three councillors in the Town of Digby for the coming term in October is NOW.

DRIVE SAFELY IN WINTERIZED CAR IN SUMMER CONDITIONS

The first day of Spring, officially is March 20th. Throughout Canada the first day of Spring comes in many forms. Rain, snow, sun or sleet, the weather can, and usually does throw a variety of conditions at us. Don't be in a hurry to have your car summerised. It is a lot safer driving in Summer like conditions in a winterised car, than driving in Winter like conditions in a car that is ready for Summer.

At the same time, don't let the little things go, because it looks like Summer is just around the corner.

Mr. R. W. Trollope, President of Dominion Automobile Association points out, "so many drivers let the little things go, feeling that they can leave it for a while longer, until they have their cars summerised. This can make for some very serious problems, as these little things continue to get worse, causing possible accidents if left any length of time."

It's recommended that you take a quick check of your vehicle now. Have the repairs done that are necessary for safe driving, until Summer is really here, and you can have your vehicle summerised.

Snow tires, leave them on your car until you are sure the wintery snowy weather is gone for the season. It's a lot safer to drive with snow tires on dry pavement than to be caught in a sudden wintery storm with your Summer tires on your car. Anti-freeze, while acting as a safe guard against Winter freeze-ups also acts as a rust inhibitor all year round. Check it, and keep it at a safe level for year round safe driving.

Exhaust problems. Get them fixed now. Don't wait until you're ready to have your car summerised.

Defrost, if it isn't working properly, fix it now. Don't assume Summer is here. Weather conditions at this time of year are unstable and you never know when chilly weather will cause your windshield to fog up.

Road conditions can be very hazardous. With the frost coming out of the ground, pot holes and chewed up sections of the highways and streets can happen almost anywhere. Hit one of these at high speed, you can damage your car and the result may throw your car into a spin. Watch for over night freezing conditions as this can cause serious driving problems early in the morning.

Check your whole car, anything that needs to be done now... do it. Don't leave your family safety to the, "I'll get it done when I have the whole car done." By that time it could be too late.

In an accident, the whole family suffers and that is why the Dominion Automobile Association safe driving slogan is "Safe Driving Is a Family Affair."

Hodge Podge

Some writers will go to any length, it seems, to prove a point. A young magazine writer with a young wife some years ago wanted to write an article on how easy it was to get a marriage divorce in a certain State. For proof of the point he was making he took his young wife along and succeeded in getting a divorce. They did return home later to live more happily after but his point had been proven and his story accomplished. When the Ridgefield (Connecticut) Press came in this week we noticed one of their reporters wanted to write an article but also wanted to have a proven point to base it on. He wanted to write an article on how some home kitchens should be required to pass inspections by Health Departments. Do you know what he did? He invited the health inspector to his own home without breathing one word to his unsuspecting wife. As far as we know, the reporter and his wife are living happily ever after. At least the wife's written observations on the "raid" were in the best of spirits. Such methods might be fine for reporters. Just don't expect editors to let health inspectors go searching in their private kitchens and pantries. We're against that.

Folded up in one of the editor's old books was volume 4, No. 52 of "The Church Witness and Monitor" published by J. and A. McMillan of Saint John, N.B. and Halifax. The date was January 27, 1869. It was mainly of religious copy but also contained ordinary news copy and advertising. It was a large six double column page publication of four pages. In it we saw where public notice was given that all mails for Annapolis and Digby were to close on Wednesday morning at 7:00 o'clock and were to be forwarded by the steamer "Conqueror" and on Saturday they would close at 7 a.m. and be forwarded by the schooner "Active". Heavy tweeds for men's and boy's were advertised for 38 cents per yard. Fancy sleigh robes and also skates were advertised, skates advertised as Ladies', Misses' and Gents' brass mounted $1.50 per pair; silver mounted $2.00. Skates of all kinds, English, German and American. Then, how about a walking stick from T.B. Barker and Sons? You could get them in Malacca, Ebony, India Rubber, Hazel, Snake Wood, Thorn, White Wood, Rajah, Briar, Crab, Oak and other woods. Evidently, coughs and colds were going the rounds, so much that it was difficult to hear a lecturer at a meeting because of the coughing. One advertisement said that people who cannot refrain from coughing had better stay away or else take a bottle of Johnson's Anodyne Liniment with them. Then there was the one which told of the death of an eminent physician and the selling by auction of his effects. One of the effects was a sealed envelope marked "Advice to physicians", which brought a great price. The advice was "Keep the head cool, the bowels open and the feet warm. If physic is necessary use Parson's Purgative Pills. There has been nothing better proven for the past hundred years."

A wise-crack suggestion was that the upgrading School premises might be an appropriate place to hold Tuesday evening meetings. There's where you'll find the people and lectures come free of charge. Traffic laws are no respecter of persons whether concerned about the driver's age or the sacredness of mission. Fifty dollars and costs, however, would make a fine contribution to the care for the needy.

Letters To The Editor

The Editor,

Dear Sir:

I should like to bring to the attention of you and your readers some details of Bill C-83 (Peace and Security), now before Parliament, which may be unknown to you and undoubtedly are unknown to most of your readers.

This "package bill" cannot serve Canadians well - lumping as it does such divergent issues as electronic surveillance, gun control, crime inquiries, parole, etc. into one bill, to receive one vote for or against by an M.P.

I personally feel that the gun control section is unnecessary and will do nothing to reduce or prevent crime.

Section 106.3(16) - places arbitrary and unrestricted powers in the hands of an appointed official, who can restrict and control in any manner he wishes, even if

June 11-13th. School Board chairmen and secretaries have been notified by special letter announcing the meeting, and preliminary work has commenced.

Registration forms will be going out shortly, and those attending the conference are asked to get reservations in early.

Last year's conference at Keltic had an overflow attendance and recent developments involving school boards would indicate that every board would want to be represented this year.

not prescribed by regulations, how a person may use, carry, possess, handle or store any firearm or ammunition.

Section 99.2) - every one who stores any firearm or ammunition in a "careless manner" is guilty of an indictable offense and is liable to imprisonment for 5 years.

Section 100.1 - every person in a business concerning firearms or ammunition must keep a record of every transaction and a running stock inventory.

Section 88.1) - an "unlicensed person" possessing firearms or ammunition is guilty of an indictable offense and liable to imprisonment for 2 years. A "firearm" includes "any frame, barrel, receiver, breech block, firing pin or hammer". This means that your wife or a friend, unless licensed, could make no purchase or delivery on your behalf, deliver a part of a firearm to a gunsmith for repair, or even temporarily, store or transport a firearm for you in home, automobile, trailer or van.

Section 95.1) - same penalty as above, but covers "every one who sells, barters, gives, lends, transfers or delivers any firearm or ammunition to an unlicensed person". What do "transfer" or "deliver" mean in actual practice? It is ominously vague.

"Explanatory Notes", page 13 - "entire costs of this program" are to be borne by the gun owner. No fee is stated - will it rise annually to prohibitive levels?

Section 108.8 - anything omitted, or more probably, felt to be a hindrance to passage of the bill, can be brought in later by Cabinet order overnight - no notification of Parliament - no debate - no vote.

- 900 new "registrars" are to be hired. So much for holding down government expenditure.

I hope that you may see fit to communicate, in some measure at least, this information to your readers.

An informed public will, at least, be able to make a sensible decision about the merits of this bill, and I hope, make their feelings known to their M.P.

Yours very truly,
T.F.B. Phillips, M.D.

The Editor,

How cheaply society is held by our Prime Minister and his cohorts! To suggest a 25 year prison sentence to replace the death penalty is a "tough approach" to enforcing justice is beyond credibility, especially since such cases could be reviewed in 15 years.

How infuriating it is to hear abolitionists repeat over and over with great emphasis and to the point of boredom, that hanging is not a deterrent. If hanging is not a deterrent, it is totally unrealistic to believe a 25 year prison sentence would be more so!

It is doubtful if any bill could be introduced that would deter vicious killers or rapists but why are so many of our elected representatives obsessed with saving the perpetrators of heinous crimes at any cost to society and why are abolitionists not more concerned with the victims and their families, thereby lending support to punishment to fit the crime?

Experimenting with rehabilitating some of these less than human killers will cost the taxpayers millions of dollars and for what purpose other than to encourage violent criminals to break out of prison to commit murder or rape or both again, something that has already occurred in Canada too frequently and, certainly, there is no reason to believe this would not continue. With the passage of the so called "justice bill" the law-abiding citizen would be the victim, once again!

There are those who are convinced if it were not for an over abundance of "bleeding hearts" in our government today, Canada would be a better place in which to live. Permissiveness continues to erode our society even to the administration of justice. Rehabilitation of the criminal is of primary importance to many of our Members of Parliament rather than punishment for evil committed, an attitude

Continued From Page 1 or harrowing (marshland); an oats and barley trial on two farms where one variety of oats is planted beside a variety of barley, using two varieties of each; a corn variety trial on two farms for soilage, done with varieties, a trefoil and timothy trial on two farms; an alfalfa and timothy trial and a rye grass trial.

A rockpicker demonstration is being planned for when the weather is fit. It is hoped machinery dealers will be available to demonstrate them.

The directors spent some time discussing the serious situation at the St. Mary's Bay marshland where some of the variety trials are to take place. They were very much concerned that the dyke may not be repaired.

The association is anxious to get the trials underway. The results could better enable farmers to produce their own grain rather than depend on high-cost feed.

A general meeting of the Digby County Soil and Crop Improvement Association will be held on March 30.

which is both alarming and disturbing!

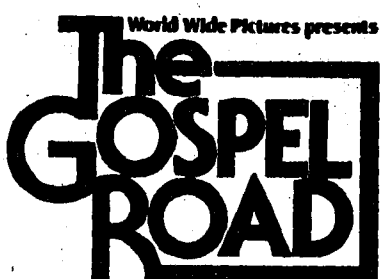

Would our Honorable Members still hold to their views on capital punishment if their families were the victims of vicious killers? It would be difficult to imagine our Prime Minister standing meekly by while a 25 year prison sentence was meted out to the murderer of his wife or children. He is not a man one can easily visualize in the role of a forgiving widower or father!

Why do we not hear more of alternatives to hanging such as the gas chamber or injections? Far too much stress is being placed on the gallows when it is not the abolition of hanging retentionists oppose but they are opposed to replacing the death penalty with a prison term that is not even a life sentence!

The Liberal caucus would be well advised to listen to public opinion and to ponder on the thought they are in the House of Commons only because the electors put them there to carry out their wishes not those of individual Members of Parliament. A vote taken in the House of Commons on such a crucial issue is both undemocratic and unfair to the citizens of our country, as the decision to retain or abolish the death penalty should be that of all Canadian voters not an elected few who, too frequently, are influenced by their leader rather than the people they represent.

The weak and unconvincing arguments put forward by the Justice Minister and Solicitor-General only serve to strengthen one's conviction that this new bill is a travesty of justice and with polls indicating over 60 percent of Canadians are in favor of retention of capital punishment, our Members might do well to heed the will of the people and be forewarned of the possible consequences in the next federal election. Democracy cannot be ignored and it is time members of the Liberal party asked themselves if this is not what is happening in Canada under our present leadership.

PEOPLE WHO CARE FOR OUR MENTALLY RETARDED

HOW MUCH DO WE CARE?

The District of Clare: charter officially granted on March 10, 1976. It was gratifying to see so many interested people in that District, at least fifty people attended each meeting.

The annual meeting of the Association is held before the end of March each year. Everyone is invited to attend and is most welcome. Let us watch for future announcement! It should be understood that this Association is a community affair, not just the concern of parents of the mentally retarded. As Christians, is it not the concern of all of us? "Let us stop just saying we love people; let us really love them, and show it by our actions." (1 John 3:19)

The DIGBY PAX CLUB (Youth Organization) have shown a beautiful example of Loving and Caring by holding a party with the Activity Centre trainees on March 10th in the Youth Hall. Congratulations to our beloved youth! May we (of a riper age...) find also our own relevant ways of sharing love and life especially with our less fortunate brothers and sisters. Let us show how much we care!

Education Week - "Schools Serving the Community" - to be meaningful, then it is crucial to have parents make their views and concerns known to school boards.

He said the Teachers' Union held the impression that the province and the Education Minister were flexible regarding the cutbacks, and strong representation by school boards on behalf of the students they serve would receive an open hearing from government.

The minister was invited to attend sessions of NSTU annual council opening in Halifax next week. "He was receptive to the idea and will confirm the times," Mr. Henry said.

The question of cutbacks, the NSTU president said, will receive thorough airing, both in a special meeting of the NSTU provincial executive on Monday and will also form a predominant part of council deliberations.

Bills Include Split In Assessment Rolls

Hon. Glen M. Bagnell, Minister of Municipal Affairs, introduced seven bills in the legislature.

Of greatest immediate importance to the municipalities are the provisions for the 1976 split in the assessment rolls and authorizing all municipalities to levy dual tax rates. Once the bills are passed most municipalities will be able to strike the 1976 tax rate.

Property will be split in 1976 into two classes: Residential including resource (farm and other land), and commercial property (business and industry).

The dual rate provision allows a municipality to set a higher tax rate on commercial property. This is in part required so that the full benefit of the provincial government's recently announced grant program can be given to the residential property taxpayer.

Other important provisions in the amendments to the Assessment Act are a provision to permit a council to exempt all or part of the property of a charitable organization from taxation, and improvements in the assessment appeal process for persons subject to residential occupancy tax.

Interest For Cyclathon

Vernon Wessell, President of Mental Health Digby, stated this week a good deal of interest is already being shown in the mental health cyclathon, scheduled for May 8.

A number of volunteers have already signified their willingness to participate in the 20 mile course and are contacting pledges. Pledge forms will be ready later this week. Mr. Wessell said, and may be secured from the basement area of the Mental Health Centre.

The cyclathon course will include a return run from the Knights of Columbus Hall and several laps around the ferry terminal parking lot. Volunteers are being sought to patrol the route and provide refreshments for the bike riders.

Competition is expected to run high for the cyclathon and rivalries are beginning to develop, both for distance and pledge amounts.

Black Student Association Considered

A number of Digby students and six visitors from St. Mary's University in Halifax met at the Conway Community Centre on Saturday to discuss formation of a Black Student Association for this area.

The visiting students brought a constitution upon which the local students drew up their own. "This will be presented to the D. R. H. S. principal and vice-principal.

During the meeting the St. Mary's students discussed university life for black students in Nova Scotia and encouraged the local students to form groups and organizations within and outside the school to promote black-oriented educational and cultural goals.

He was predeceased by two sons, a daughter, and a brother and two sisters.

Funeral service was held 10 a.m. Monday in St. Vincent de Paul Church, Salmon River. Rev. Edouard Theriault officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Teachers Union Concerned About Cutbacks

Nova Scotia Teachers Union president Dominique Henry, Thursday night, called upon school boards in Nova Scotia to exercise educational leadership in dealing with the current call for teacher cutbacks.

His comments followed a meeting held in Halifax with Education Minister Maynard MacAskill and representatives of the teachers' organization.

"At a time when it is tempting to 'go with the tide' which makes cutting costs popular," Mr. Henry said, "the Teachers' Union has a responsibility to make the public aware that schools starting in September may suffer overcrowded classrooms and a reduction in education services which boards have implemented because of parents' demands."

The NSTU president stressed the greatest danger over cutbacks comes at a time when a great number of quality programs are being implemented and that it would "be very unwise to cut a swath across the provincial education system with an axe, when a scalpel would do."

Mr. Henry said the Teachers Union realized the provincial student population has diminished slowly in some regions and at certain grade levels "The situation is not uniform throughout the province; however, and if cuts are applied indiscriminately severe difficulties could occur. There are growth areas in the province where programs which are now at a critical level must be protected."

"It is very disheartening for the Nova Scotia Teachers Union to see the quality of education endangered in Nova Scotia," Mr. Henry said, "especially in the middle of Education Week. If we want the theme of

BRUINS DEADLOCK SERIES 1-1

In the second playoff game between the Cornwallis Bruins and the Digby Tigers, the Bruins came out on top by the score of 2-1, thus deadlocking the series at a game apiece. Goals by Bell and Ripley in the first period stood up for the Bruins, the lone score for the Tigers was an unassisted effort by Ricky Kynock at the 11:33 mark of the second period. This game was played at CFB Cornwallis.

CATS ELIMINATE LEAFS BY SCORE OF 3-1

Digby Cats took the second game of their series with the Cornwallis Leafs by the score of 3-1, thus eliminating the Leafs in straight games. This game was played at the Digby Forum on March 11th. Nesbitt, Fletcher and Irvine notched the twine for the Cats while Pat Aldon got Leafs goal. The Louise MacDonald coached Cats now await the outcome of the Bruins-Tigers series.

DIGBY TIGERS SHUTOUT BRUINS 4-0

The third and deciding game of this series was played at the Digby Forum on March 17th and the Coogle coached Tigers eliminated Bruins from further play when they shut them out by the score of 4-0. Ricky Kynock with a hat trick led the Tigers scoring. Mark Hersey added another and John Ritchie assisted on Hersey goal, while Mike Goguen assisted on one of Kynock's goals. This was a real team effort and the Tigers deserved the victory.

CATS DROP FIRST OF FINALS 3-0

In the first game of the finals played on March 20th the Tigers came up with their second shutout in as many games when they downed the Cats 3-0. This series is for the Championship of the Atom Digby-Cornwallis League. Once again, it was a real team effort by the Tigers, and the breaks were not falling for the Cats. The score does not indicate the play and anything can happen before this series is over in the opinion of writer. Kynock (2) and Mike Goguen did the scoring for the Tigers.

THANKS TO CFB CORNWALLIS

Our sincere thanks for the fine way in which the coaches of the two Cornwallis Atom teams handled their players and also the cooperation given by these gentlemen. The Digby-Cornwallis Atom League was one of the best leagues writer has had the privilege to work with, the competition and sportsmanship displayed by all goes well for the future. To Remi Lefort and F. Relf our sincere thanks.

DIGBY FLYERS TAKE FIRST 8-5

In the first game of a two game total goal series to decide the Championship of Western Nova Scotia Bantam "B", the Digby Flyers defeated Lunenburg by the score of 8-5, this game was played in Digby on March 20th. Digby led at the end of the first period by the score of 5-1, Danny LeBlanc got a hat trick and Kevin Locke and Earl Vantassel added singles. Lohnes scored the first of three for Lunenburg. In the second period Locke (LeBlanc and Mullen) and Tanner (Lohnes) Munroe (Lohnes) did the scoring for Digby and Lunenburg, the period ending with the score of 6-3. Penalties were a factor in scores by both teams, each scored while short handed. Digby and Lunenburg scored two each in the third at 2:30 Sean Raymond (Locke) and again at 8:40 Locke (Goguen) put Digby out in front by an 8-3 score but two assisted goals by Lohnes within a period of two minutes at the 9:25 mark brought Lunenburg within three, the game ended 8-5. The next game of the series will be played in Lunenburg on Saturday, March 27th at

Lawrencetown Wins Congress Basketball Championship

On March 6 the Congress Junior Girls Basketball championship was held in Digby. The winners from the west, Digby, defeated the second place team from the east, Annapolis, by a 28-25 score. It was a closely fought match with Annapolis ahead 8-3 at the half. They increased their lead to ten points midway through the third quarter; however, at the end of the third quarter, Digby had narrowed the score to 21-15 for Annapolis. In the fourth quarter, Digby scored 13 points to only four for Annapolis to pull out the victory. Kim Roy scored seven points for the winners while Mary MacLean and Heather Goucher scored six points each for Annapolis. The winners of the east, Lawrencetown, defeated the second place team from the west, Freeport, 44-24. Again most of the scoring was in the second half. The score was 16-10 for Lawrencetown at the half. In the third quarter, Lawrencetown increased the score to 26-15. The final quarter saw Lawrencetown outscore Freeport 18-9. Tanna Mann scored 12 points for Lawrencetown while Beverly Elliot scored a like number for Freeport. The Championship game saw Digby go down to defeat at the hands of the high scoring team from Lawrencetown 40-31. Digby's starting lineup got into foul trouble early in the game as both starting guards received four fouls early in the second quarter. At the half Lawrencetown held on to a slim 13-12 lead. The Lawrencetown team opened up in the third quarter to destroy an already weakened Digby defense. Tanna Mann led the way by scoring 13 of the 21 points that Lawrencetown scored in the third quarter. Digby could only reply with 4. Digby pulled together in the fourth quarter to score 13 points to Lawrencetown's 6, but it was not enough for the victory. Pam Locke scored 8 points for Digby while fouling out early in the 3rd quarter. Tanna Mann did most of the damage for Lawrencetown as she single-handedly destroyed Digby's defense by scoring 27 points. As a result Lawrencetown wins the Congress championship for the fifth straight year.

The World Day of Prayer service for the Smith's Cove-Joggin Bridge areas was held at the Smith's Cove Baptist Church Vestry on Friday, March 5. Convener for this special program was Miss Katherine Weir with committee members, Mrs. Edna Adams, Mrs. Angie Francis, Mrs. Eva Rice.

Mrs. Rice opened the service with the Call to Prayer and led in the first portion of the responsive readings. Other leaders taking part were Miss Wier, Mrs. Adams, Mrs. Francis, Mrs. Alta Berry, Mrs. Annie Raymond, Mrs. Phyllis S. Winchester and Miss Sue Winchester who presented the offering prayer. Pianist was Miss Hilda Winchester.

Mrs. Edith Wallis, editor of the Digby Courier, guest speaker, brought a thought-provoking message on the theme, "Education For All of Life." In her talk, she mentioned that not only on this World Day of Prayer were we thinking specifically on education, but that shortly after this service, Education Week would be observed with its theme, "Schools Serving the Community."

"Education is an ongoing thing, a continuing thing as we hear from our Continuing Education program in the Department of Education and from the newly formed Life-Long Learning Program under the Department of Secretary of State. It is that, life-long, but it is also an all-encompassing thing and so we have our title...

"Education For All of Life." Mrs. Wallis continued to bring out many points how education, secular and religious, are interdependent and includes more than school and university education. "Home, school and church work hand-in-hand, in the field of education. Every day of our lives we meet with what we might term 'church education' including ethical and moral standards."

Continuing, the speaker mentioned the many aids now available for presenting any subject, whether at home, school or church, including the values taught by parents by their actions or way of life, leaders and teachers also. She quoted widely from Dr. T. B. McDormand's editorial written for Education Week. As leaders, teachers, homemakers or whatever, our witness should shine out these deepest and most sacred values," repeating the words of Dr. McDormand, "Values are caught, not taught."

In bringing her talk to "The Responsibility of the Church," Mrs. Wallis asked, "What is the Church?" "Is it the church building? No, as much as we admire our high church steeples, how holy we might feel in the sanctuary, the Church's message of the Gospel of Jesus Christ can be proclaimed from under a palm tree shelter, an African thatched roof or under the open Atlantic sky. In the New Testament days there were no church buildings, no denominations, no Christian institutions as such, no church officers. There were Christians assembled in groups, large or small, usually at the home of a group member. No, the Church is not the building. The Church is actually the people. It is you. It is me. OURS is the responsibility we are talking about. It is up to us to educate, to spread the Gospel in whatever method is best for the situation and the needs.

Yes, we, the people, the Church, have an educational task to handle," the speaker continued, "I am sure we all agree that the primary work of the church, the Church's chief responsibility, regardless of denomination or size is the proclamation of the Gospel, 'Go tell.' For this we need to know the Gospel truths, be educated in them, believe in them and abide by them. To us the message must be clear in order to speak with authority to others."

"As education opens each door to better understanding, we should become better Christians and become better able to come face to face with the many realities of life and concerns for others

Prayer is our witness to our faith. Today, our prayers, joined with the petitions of others around the world witness to our unselfish love for all men, our firm hope for peace among nations and our confidence that the realities of life are met with strong resistance. Witness assumes many forms as preaching the Gospel, supporting hospitals, aiding the needy, upholding justice and righteousness in the community, attending church, being involved in the world, 'but not of it,' spreading the message and caring for our friends, not as 'little children' but as our brethren."

In her concluding remarks, Mrs. Wallis said, "The Church must witness by a Christ-like life lived 'Down here among His people'...to lead men and women, boys and girls throughout the world into fellowship with Jesus Christ and to help them live the abundant life. That is the purpose of education and the responsibility of us, the Church."

Mrs. Rice closed the program with heart-felt thanks to Mrs. Wallis for her inspirational message and then asked the group to close with the singing of "Blest Be the Tie" in a circle of entwined hands.

Convention Will Bring 250 Kinsmen To Town

The Kinsmen Club's Spring Zone Convention will be held in Digby on March 26, 27, and 28th. The purpose of the gathering will be to elect a Deputy-Governor. The two candidates are Jack Bunting of Kentville and Red Hurst of Sackville.

This marks the first time a zone convention has ever been held in this area. Kinsmen President George Churchill said the club is "quite honoured they chose our club this year."

It is considered "quite an award" when a club is chosen to host a convention in spite of the work involved.

The convention is expected to bring about 250 Kinsmen into the town for the convention's duration. The convention centre will be the Kinsmen's Hall on Maiden Lane. The Admiral Digby Inn and Kingfisher Motel have been rented for the occasion.

The convention will include a business meeting at the high school; a luncheon at the Legion Hall; a banquet at the Fire Hall and a curling bonspiel at the Digby Curling Club.

Chairman of the convention committee is George Churchill, president of the local club; Edward Dunn, vice-president; Gerald Walsh, director; Brian Coker, treasurer; Glen Dunn, Gordon Handspiker and Wilson Ford.

In spite of its short five-year lifespan the Digby Kinsmen Club already has a past-Deputy-Governor. Jerry Walsh served in that capacity during 1973-74.

Those attending the convention will come from the 12 clubs between Dartmouth and Yarmouth.

The present Deputy-Governor is Mack MacKenzie.

The election will be held during the banquet on Saturday night, March 27th.

Positions To Be Reduced

Nova Scotia school boards have been informed by the Minister of Education, Hon. Maynard MacAskill, of a reduction in the number of teaching and supervisory positions which will be cost-shared under the Foundation Program for the school year 1976-77.

The action will reduce the total number of school personnel and conform to the need for restraint in all government spending, Dr. MacAskill stated.

The department estimates a reduction of not more than 500 teaching positions across the province as a result of the new policy. Dr. MacAskill said that the annual attrition rate due to normal retirements and resignations is approximately 800 teachers.

Dr. MacAskill said that he does not anticipate any reduction in the quality of education because of the new policy.

The action was recommended by the Education Assistance Committee, which advises the Minister on grants after studying the budgets submitted by school boards.

A review of requests for teaching staff revealed that most school boards now employ a greater number of teachers than are provided for by the regulations, Dr. MacAskill said, noting that school enrolments are dropping and this decline is expected to continue.

It is anticipated that the result could mean a saving of approximately $3 million in the next fiscal year. The few school boards operating under exceptional circumstances of enrolment growth may appeal to the Education Assistance Committee in the usual manner.

"As predicted decreases in enrolment of pupils materialize, school boards will be expected to make further reductions in school staff in subsequent years," Dr. MacAskill said.

There is an obvious implication in this government move for teacher education institutions and university departments, the minister suggested.

When the decrease in school enrolments first began to be felt in the late 60's and early 70's, these institutions were reminded by government of the need to take this fact into consideration in their future enrolments. Enrolment at the government-operated Nova Scotia Teachers College was limited accordingly, and government incentives to education students were eliminated. A further review of future enrolments may again be required by all institutions involved in teacher education.

The Annual Meeting of the Digby-Annapolis V.O.N. took place in the dining room of St. George and St. Andrews United Church on Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 with an excellent representation from the various areas.

The President, the Rev. M. G. Butler, chaired the meeting and welcomed all those who had taken time to attend. He introduced the V.O.N. nurses, Mrs. Phyllis Brennan, Mrs. Monique Hiebert, Mrs. Pauline Gates, Mrs. Cora Amberman, and the Provincial Director, Mrs. Marlene Grantham. Mr. Butler asked for the minutes of the last annual meeting which were read by Mrs. J. W. Christie. After one small correction, the minutes were approved.

Mr. Butler spoke briefly of the V.O.N. work and the need for a new type of funding before the V.O.N. services can succeed.

Mr. Butler stated that the day of "hit or miss funding" was past. The service needs to be extended and this will require a better type of funding.

He also spoke of a Homemaker's Service which would be invaluable in the care of senior citizens, many of whom are in their own homes. There are many people who are not sick enough to require hospitalization but are sick enough to need the services of the V.O.N.

Mr. S. McNaughton gave the Treasurer's Report. Copies were distributed to the meeting and a lively discussion followed with many questions being asked about the report. The Board is ending the year with an actual deficit of approximately $1400 dollars. The questions asked showed a keen interest in the welfare of the V.O.N. and what could be done to overcome the deficit in the coming year. It was explained in answer to a question from the floor that a tentative budget has to be made up before the board can ask for funds. This year they intend to budget for a $12,000 deficit. Payment for mileage has risen considerably due to the exorbitant rise in gasoline and oil. Cars must be maintained in order to give the service necessary.

Charles Haliburton, Mayor of Digby and Publicity for the V.O.N., stated that he felt there must be more publicity and that it could come from actual cases provided by the nurses themselves.

J. J. Brittain, Digby, gave the report of the Nominating Committee with the following officers and board members for 1976: Members - Mrs. Dillon, Mrs. Bishop, Mrs. Christie, Mrs. Emerson, Mrs. Lawley, Mrs. Englehart, Mrs. Rogers, Mr. MacNaughton, Mr. J. J. Brittain, Mr. Charles Haliburton, Digby; Mr. Lawrence Snell, Deep Brook; Rev. M. G. Butler, Mrs. Allan Dill, Karin McArthur, Mrs. A. L. Anderson, Mr. James Kearns, Annapolis Royal; Rev. C. W. Foggo, Rev. Walls, Mrs. Marie Robinson, Mrs. Maxine Ruggles, Bridgetown; Dr. Gerald Sheehy, M.L.A., Mrs. M.W. Harvey, Mrs. E. W. Elliott, Middleton; Mrs. Floyd Wilson, Lawrencetown.

Officers
President - Rev. M. G. Butler
1st Vice-President - Mrs. Christie
2nd Vice-President - Mrs. Allan Dill
Treasurer - S. MacNaughton
Secretary - Nancy Manderson

The meeting adjourned and delicious refreshments were served by the U.C.W., Mrs. W. D. Wetmore, Mrs. George Parker and Mrs. William McGinnis.

Following the tea break, the Nurses' Report was given by Mrs. Phyllis Brennan of Bear River. The report was of great interest both to the board and to new people present for the first time. The full report will be printed elsewhere in this issue.

Mr. Butler introduced Padre James MacIntosh (Capt.) of CFB Cornwallis as the guest speaker.

Padre MacIntosh said his family had fond recollections of the V.O.N. who visited a member of his family twice a week for a year giving therapy. His talk was on the theme, Treating the Whole Being, and he said it was fair to say that the change in the 20th century is in both religious faith and physical healing. Often one cannot just treat the physical aspects of an illness when the mental attitude needs counselling. He cited a story from the Bible in which a woman plagued by illness tried all the remedies she was told about. She was finally cured by touching the tassel on the robe of Christ.

Padre MacIntosh also spoke of the sexual freedom and pornography available today. He spoke of "the very real need for preventative measures against the physical and mental degradation of our young people. These are the times when the church and medical men must work together to treat the whole being".

Mr. Butler thanked Padre MacIntosh for attending the meeting and for his inspiring talk.

He then introduced Mrs. Marlene Grantham, Director of V.O.N. for Nova Scotia. Mrs. Grantham congratulated the V.O.N.s and the board for the co-operative work they do in this area. She demonstrated the free literature which is available to the board and all interested persons.

Mrs. Grantham said, "Not all the sick and elderly should be pushed into nursing homes. Some senior citizens are much happier in their own homes. This is where the V.O.N. service comes in and where a Homemaker's Service could be invaluable. Someone to go in and prepare a nutritious, attractive tray for a pleasant change of menu. A visit to write letters, to wash and set hair, and just to sit and talk for a few minutes. There is also a place for men in a Homemaker's Service. Screens to be fixed, windows washed, a wheelchair ramp to be built."

Mrs. Grantham announced that the National Meeting will be held for the first time east of Montreal when they will meet in Halifax on June 3 and 4. They will be discussing the future of the V.O.N. service.

Mr. Butler thanked Mrs. Grantham for taking time to attend the meeting and talk to the board.

Mr. Butler was appointed to attend the National Meeting in Halifax. Mrs. Pat Dill was asked to attend the Provincial Meeting in Berwick. A report was read on contributions to the V.O.N. in the Digby-Annapolis area as well as that of Middleton.

Annapolis Royal received 61 visits from the V.O.N. in 1975. The contribution from the town-zero. Bridgetown received 234 visits and contributed $100.00. Middleton received 201 visits and contributed $500.00 with additional contribution to be made in the near future. The Municipality contributed $5000.00. With the ever-rising costs, the Towns should give more thought to making a worthwhile donation to the work of the V.O.N.

Karin McArthur was appointed to approach the Town of Annapolis Royal for a contribution to this worthy cause.

Perhaps someone in the area would like to contact the V.O.N. and start a Homemaker's Service. Even though New Horizons keeps busy, Lions give to help needy and support sports as does the Legion, there must be a group, even Senior Citizens who could mend screens or build and plant an attractive window box for a shut-in. Take in a dozen cookies, wash out lingerie, tidy a kitchen or change a bed or just sit and talk for a few minutes. You could make someone very happy with very little effort.

The meeting was adjourned with the next meeting set for May 20 in the evening.

Reflecting To 1946

(March 28)
A one-day inquiry into the foundering of the S.S. Robert G. Cann off Grand Manan Island on February 15, when 12 Nova Scotians lost their lives, was held at Saint John, N.B. by counsel for the Department of Transport. Two survivors, after 19 hours in an open lifeboat, landed on Digby Neck (Bay of Fundy side) near Lake Midway. According to the result of the inquiry two errors in judgement possibly contributed to the loss. They were the decision to head for Tiverton instead of Grand Manan and also not putting shutters on the ship's stern windows, it was understood. J.J. Wallis, editor of The Digby Courier, was guest speaker at the Y's Men's Club, taking as his subject "Wrecks I Have Known". He spoke on the sinking of the City of Monticello, the loss of the Cobequid and other marine disasters he had covered in his newspaper career up to and including the foundering of the S.S. Robert G. Cann a few weeks previous.

According to March 28, 1946, issue of The Digby Courier, children playing aboard Victor Halliday's scallop sloop Monday afternoon started what might have been a serious blaze, had it not been for quick action on the part of the boat's crew. They upset a five-gallon drum of gasoline and later dropped a lighted match.

The combination store and residence, also the barn owned by Joseph H. Gaudet of Concession, was completely destroyed by fire. The loss was estimated at $15,000.

Assessment issues were not in the 1946 news to the same extent as assessments will be in the 1976 file. An appeal against the $90,000 assessment on the C.P.R. Hotel property was filed by town clerk, C.W. Smith.

See where Your Town - and Mine was urging both the formation of a Garden Club in the interest of beautifying the town and also they were advocating a softball league.
